FATAL DROWNING ACCIDENT AT KELOWNA.

The drowning accident which took place on the lake at Kelowna last week, by which Thomas Wardlaw and Mark England lost their lives, was a shock that was felt by all and cast a gloom over the lake towns for some days. The Courier gives the following details: Thomas Wardlaw, Mark England and Robert Lloyd were sailing across the lake from Mr. H. Chaplin's ranch, where they were engaged in the erection of his new house. A squally south wind was blowing, but Mr. Lloyd is an experienced navigator, having sailed the deep seas for years, and in his capable hands the boat seemed to negotiate the squalls without trouble.

According to Lloyd, he was steering the boat when a large wave unshipped the rudder and he asked Wardlaw to hold the sheet-rope while he put it back in place. Wardlaw, probably through inexperience, instead of holding the rope in his hands took a turn or two round a cleat, and when a sharp squall came up, there was no chance to ease off quickly and bring the boat up in the wind, so she went over at once. She did not completely capsize, but went over on her side and shipped some water. England then seems to have lost his head and jumped over the windward side. The water must have numbed him at once, and he sank almost immediately, shouting "I am done, boys," or words to that effect. A wave then rolled the boat over and the survivors had to cling on as best they could, shouting meanwhile for help, until they lapsed into semi-consciousness. Lloyd does not remember being rescued but has a dim recollection of something coming alongside him.

While efforts will be made to recover the bodies, there is little chance of success, as the depths of the lake are too cold to allow sufficient decomposition to raise a body to the surface.

Both the drowned men have lived here some years, and were well-known and respected. They were carpenters and were employed by Mr. H. W. Raymer. England leaves a widow, two small children and a brother and Wardlaw is survived by his father, mother, and two brothers. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved relatives in their terribly sudden loss, and should any financial assistance be required, no doubt the people of Kelowna will make a liberal response.

The rescue of Lloyd made by Frank Bastier was a most gallant one, and should make the name of Bastier live long in the minds of our people as a synonym for courage and gallantry.

Mr. Frank Bastier, who was handling some logs at Mr. H. F. Dain's place, saw the boat capsize in a strong gust and heard the men shout for help. As soon as he saw the accident he ran in hot haste to the brewery, and with Messrs. W. A. Dimmock and O. S. Jones, put off in the brewery launch to the rescue. A heavy sea was running and it was not possible to keep the launch within reach of the men long enough to effect their rescue, as they were absolutely powerless to help themselves, being unable to grasp oars thrust out to them. Lloyd seemed to be in the weaker condition, and seeing no other way of saving him and believing Wardlaw could hang on until his turn for rescue came, Bastier gallantly sprang into the icy water, clothes, shoes and all, and swam to Lloyd holding his head above water until the launch could be brought close enough to take them both aboard. Just then a big wave struck the sailboat and rolled it over and Wardlaw lost his feeble grasp, and sank immediately. Nothing could be done to save him. The plucky rescuer of Lloyd had run all the way to the brewery in his shirt sleeves, not stopping to put on his coat, and the spray dashing over the bows of the launch had wet him to the skin, so that he was shivering with the cold when he made the plunge to go to Lloyd's assistance. The chill of the water pierced him to the bone and he could not have kept up much longer when the launch picked him up and his burden.

CORRESPONDENCE.

NOTE.—We admit no responsibility regarding the opinions expressed by our correspondents.—Editor.

The Editor,

Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:

I notice in the issue of your last week's paper that in commenting on the application recently made to the council for a rebate of an irrigation rate levied on the property held by the Anglican Church in Summerland, that you assumed that the application was a request for charity on behalf of the church.

Allow me to disabuse your editorial mind from any such inference. The fact that the property is held by the church is merely an incident. The plea on which the application was based is that the property in question is a building lot and not an orchard, and that the occupier of the property already pays an irrigation rate for water used on the grounds. Consequently, the Council have no right to charge the second rate. The application, therefore, was a demand for right and not a plea for favours.

While heartily agreeing with the sentiments expressed by the writer that churches should be kept up by their congregations, and not be objects of charity to outsiders, your editorial would have carried more weight had it been written in better taste. The gratuitous insult offered to ministers of religion who may or may not be worth their stipends, and which insult of course extends to the congregations who pay them we can I think well afford to ignore.

Yours truly,

H. A. Solly.

The Rectory, Summerland.

MR. BORDEN'S NAVAL POLICY.

There could be no justice in opposing the naval policy of Sir Wilfred Laurier without submitting what one believes to be a better policy. This Mr. R. L. Borden, Conservative leader, has done. In a speech made in the House last week, Mr. Borden has clearly set forth a permanent policy which he believes should be carried out on the question of a Canadian navy. "I think that the people have a right to be asked about that. I think that the question of Canada's co-operation upon a permanent basis in Imperial defence involves very large and wide consideration. If Canada and the other dominions of the empire are to take their part as nations of this empire as a whole shall it be that we contributing to that defence of the whole empire, shall have as citizens of this country absolutely no voice in the councils of the empire relating to the choice of war or peace throughout the whole empire? I do not think it would be a tolerable condition. Should the members of this House representing the 220 constituencies of this country from the Atlantic to the Pacific no one of them have the same voice with regard to these enormous imperial issues that humble taxpayers in the British Isles have at this moment. It does not seem to me that a condition of the kind would stand for the integrity of the empire, for the closer co-operation of the empire, and I for one think that these issues would have to be taken into consideration and a permanent policy would have to be worked out. And when that permanent policy had been worked out and explained to the people of Canada, to every citizen in this country they would say it would be the right of any government to go to the people of Canada to get them to pronounce their mandate and their disapproval or approval of that policy."

FRUIT ARRIVES IN GOOD CONDITION.

Mr. E. Bullock-Webster writes from England to the department of agriculture saying that the fruit sent from British Columbia for exhibition in the old country arrived in practically perfect condition only one pear and two apples of the whole shipment being slightly bruised. This gratifying showing is due to the shippers of the province having gained the increased knowledge of proper methods of packing. Some time ago the province instituted packing schools for the purpose of instructing growers in this matter, and the good results are now becoming apparent.

A Communion Service will be held at the conclusion of the regular service at the Baptist Church, West Summerland at 10.30 a.m. next Sunday morning.

Rev. G. O. Fallis of Penticton, one of the speakers at the recent Sunday School Convention in Vernon repeated his splendid address on "Evangelism in the Sunday School" to the Young People's Society in the Methodist Church on Monday night. He had a most appreciative hearing, many of the local Sunday School workers being present.

The young people of the Excelsior Bible Class held their first annual banquet at the hotel last Monday evening. A bounteous repast was served and plentifully partaken of. At the conclusion of the banquet a few toasts were proposed and honored, officers were elected, and other business was discussed. The gathering was pronounced a success and will be repeated in the ensuing years.

The college boys beat the town at basketball 9-3 last Friday evening in the college gym. It was a hard though not a very scientific game, and the play was marred by frequent fouls—which the college turned to account and the town could not—and also by the pleasantries between the two centres. The college won by their superior shooting. Let us hope the play will improve during the succeeding games.

A pleasant social evening was spent at the home of Mrs. J. R. Brown on Tuesday last by the members of the Tuckabatchee (Add to and stick together) Young Peoples' Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday School. The programme was furnished by the losing side in the contest for members. A splendid Class spirit exists among the members and the result was a splendid time enjoying the games arranged by the losers.

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Men's Club will hold a Bazaar in the Club Rooms on Thursday December 8th. Women's and children's aprons, fancy work, candies, dolls, and useful household articles will be on sale at moderate prices. Tea will be served in the afternoon and a light hot supper at 6 o'clock. Donations of cake and other articles will be very acceptable if left at the Club Rooms or the Methodist Parsonage on or before December 8th.

Rev. Dr. Bryce of Winnipeg, paid a visit to Summerland friends last Sunday. The genial Doctor is a member of the Royal Commission on Technical Education, which is investigating that question in Canada, and had been hearing evidence in Vernon. Speaking to a Review representative, Dr. Bryce said that the Commission had thus far visited over eighty towns in Canada and were now on their way to the coast. The Commission has heard over nine hundred witnesses, and will afterwards visit the United States, England France, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and Denmark. After their return home in August, their findings will be presented to the following session of parliament, and will no doubt form an important digest of all that is known on the subject of technical education.

Kaleden Comments.

Mr. B. Hatfield of Summerland has been a visitor here for a few days.

Mr. D. D. Lapsley had a visit during the week from Mr. Foster of Vancouver.

Road construction and improvement have progressed this week. The main street has been shaled for a considerable distance.

The thermometer actually registered 6 degrees of frost one night this week, but descended as rapidly as it went up, and mild conditions again reign. A little snow also fell only to disappear within two days.

Mrs. Bulyea, from Peachland, and Mr. Babbit of Summerland, though leaving shortly are still with us. We rejoice that we have had so many friends from the Okanagan Valley staying in our midst for so long this year.

The Vernon Fruit Co. has been packing fruit across the lake from Mr. Matthew's orchard, and bringing the boxes over on the scow daily for temporary storage in Kaleden. The packers report the fruit to be of very high quality and eminently satisfactory.

Rev. F. W. Auvache, the Baptist minister here, returned to Penticton from the conference at Winnipeg, on Thursday, and will now re-conduct the Kaleden services after a fortnight's absence. During this time his place has been filled by Rev. G. J. C. White of Summerland, and a local helper.

Though we cannot yet boast of a brass band, we are not without music. The Central store presented an animated scene on Saturday evening, the unwary passer by being lured in by the strains of Mr. P. Simpson Edison's Phonograph. Nor was that all. The wayfarer leaving town and walking south realized that the air was once more filled with harmony, for on approaching the Meal House, stirring notes from a large mouth-organ in the capable hands of Mr. Pitman, the cook, stayed the hurried step for a few minutes of further enjoyment. Yes, we are only walking yet.

WHERE EATING IS BELEIVING.

Nearly a dozen cars of apples from the Okanagan Valley B.C., are on exhibition in Winnipeg. The fruit growers of the west having decided that Manitoba people should eat "Big Red Apples" instead of little green ones, took this means of providing the city and its visitors with an apple show such as was never before seen on the prairie provinces. In this case "seeing is not believing," but eating is. The editor of this paper saw the apple show, and ate of the fruit of temptation, and is now wise enough to know that although Okanagan apples are as large like pumpkins, the resemblance stops there.—Hartney Star.

Pop (looking up from the paper) I see there is a new baby hipotamus at the zoo. What are you laughing at, Johnnie?

Johnnie (who is almost as bright as he looks) I was jus' laughin' to think of the stork carryin' a hipopotamus!

THE REAL DEFENDERS.

The real "Defenders of the Faith" are the babies. These are they who furnish the fresh supplies of belief, hope, love and all the other viril ingredients of our religion. They come to the race of men like rain from the infinite and water our optimism. All churches, learned doctors and divines, organizations, missionaries, priests and books float on the tide: the tide itself is a deep and hidden power which moves in the instincts of men; and with every baby that is born, a new impulse of this tidal dynamic is received.

B.C. FRUIT IN THE LEAD.

Official notice has been received that the province of British Columbia won the gold medal at the last exhibition in Toronto.

"No other exhibit in our Provincial Government building attracted such attention as yours," writes Dr. J. O. Orr, the secretary.

"The visitors from England, who were specially directed to your exhibit, were astonished that such fruit could be produced in British Columbia."

Dr. Orr adds that the number of visitors to the Toronto Exhibition this year was 825,000 or 80,000 in excess of the previous year.

VENTILATION AND HEALTH.

The vital connection between house ventilation and health is strikingly established by the investigations that have been made in connection with the carrying out of the work arranged for at the recent Town Conference held in London. It is shown that the death rate among people of the same age is materially lower in the tenement houses of the manufacturing centres which have windows or openings on three sides or more, than those which are open on only one or two sides, as many of them are. Particularly deadly are the numerous tenement houses which are built back to back with a common wall for each at the rear, and which are often without side openings. Fresh air and sunlight are a bsolutely requisite for health.

PARTS OF HIM WERE SCOTCH.

An Englishman was one day speaking to a Scotchman. The Scotchman said "It is not mere national pride if I say what is a matter of fact—that my country is the finest in the world!" "Well," said John Bull, "if it is the finest it is not the biggest. I suppose you will allow that England is bigger than Scotland?" "Deed, Sir," answered Sandy, "I'll allow nae sic a thing; for if our grand hills were rolled out as flat as England is, Scotland would be the bigger o' the twa!" "Well," retorted John Bull, "you'll acknowledge that Shakespeare was not a Scotchman?" Discomforted at this home-thrust, but not disheartened, he once more replied, "I'll acknowledge that Shakespeare had parts (parts) that would justify the inference that he was a Scotchman."

Peachland Paragraphs.

Born.—To Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCall, a son. Congratulations!

Mr. Paul Brown left last week for Penticton to take a contract for stonework.

Mr. William Someyville has been seriously ill for a couple of weeks, but is now considered out of danger.

Mrs. C. G. Elliott was a passenger south on the Okanagan Thursday afternoon to visit friends in Summerland and Penticton.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church are holding a sale of work prepared by the Ladies' Aid of their Church, on Thursday afternoon and in the evening there is to be a reception to Rev. Mr. Lewis to which all are invited.

Mr. Claude Jamieson of Clarenceville Que., spent Monday night in town, visiting a couple of his old time public school pupils, C. G. and J. L. Elliott. Mr. Jamieson is at present shipping hay from Quebec Province to British Columbia, and is sending a number of cars to the Okanagan.

Hunters have been particularly successful lately in their quest for deer. Nearly everyone who has been out has secured one or more. Mr. David Kirby came across a cougar on one of his trips but failed to connect with him although he fired a couple of shots at him.

Already the different Sunday Schools are preparing for Christmas entertainments. The Methodists have decided to hold their's on the evening of December 23. We have not heard the dates of the others, but understand that preparations are well under weigh.

GYMNASIUM EXHIBITION.

On Friday evening, December 9th, the College Gymnasium will be formally opened. Physical Director McLeod is preparing a fine programme for that occasion which will include a Dumb-Bell Drill, work on the Flying Rings, Horizontal, Vaulting, and Parallel Bars. During the evening two Basket Ball games will be played, one in particular which ought to prove extremely interesting, between the Senior team of the College and Ex-Students of that institution. The exhibition will open at 8 p.m. No admission fee will be charged and a cordial invitation is extended to all to be present at that occasion. Evening classes for men will be held until further notice every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings from 8 to 10 p.m. A ladies evening class will be organized to meet on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings, for which the fees will be $10 per year, entitling the ladies to all the privileges of the institution. All ladies desirous of joining this class can register at the gymnasium any afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m., or can procure tickets from Mr. C. S. Stevens, Bursar of the College. The class will begin when ten members have registered.

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctillious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. At the conclusion of the service at the Baptist Church last Sunday evening, a brief gathering was held as a farewell to Miss H. M. Bartholomew. On behalf of the church and congregation, Pastor Pattison, with a few well chosen words, presented to Miss Bartholomew a purse of gold. As a token of esteem from her fellow members of the choir, Mr. L. R. Williams then read and presented her with a signed address of appreciation of the loving services she had so freely bestowed during her connection here. Miss Bartholomew briefly replied thanking her donors.

Her departure on Monday morning leaves a gap in the circle of Summerland's young people that will be hard to fill, and in musical circles her loss will be equally felt. At all times she has given freely of her song, and her audiences have ever been appreciative of her talent. The good wishes of her many friends follow her on her journey with a hope that one day Summerland may see and hear her again.

The comedy "Joshua Simpkins" was played in Empire Hall on Thursday evening to a very small audience. The show was one of the mediocre and not of the class that draws a crowd in Summerland. The music was the redeeming feature of the program.

In eastern parliamentary circles the general opinion is that the Laurier Government will not be sustained at the next general election.

Another issue of the Okanagan Lyceum is in the printers' hands, and in point of literary excellence and style promises to excel its predecessors.

There cannot be any difference of opinion as to the wisdom of the Municipal Council in deciding to increase the capacity of the electric lighting and power plant, to enable the extensions to be made to Prairie Valley, Garnett Valley and Jones Flat. It had to come sooner or later and the sooner the ratepayers in these sections of the municipality are given the convenience of the electric light, the better satisfied all should be.

POLITICS IN THE MOTHERLAND.

"It is useless to continue the farce any longer," said Premier Asquith, in the British House of Commons in announcing that parliament would, on Monday of this week, be dissolved. And he spoke boldly, if not in defiance, when he continued:

"To reform the House of Lords and simultaneously to permit them to retain the right of veto simply makes the government a farce. The suggested compromise has not been in the interests of the people. The Government has a distinct program which must be carried out."

However great may be the difference of opinion on the question of doing away with the second chamber, there can be no two opinions as to the straightforwardness and bravery of Premier Asquith in boldly throwing down the gauntlet in this fashion and asking that the question be fought out on these clearly defined lines. It is now up to the electors of England to say whether this time-honored, though generally admitted troublesome appendage of the British House of Commons is to be continued.

If we are to judge from the vote polled at the last election, and the general trend of opinion at the opening of the present campaign, the House of Lords will be sustained, and the Liberals will be down and out after the coming election. There does not seem to be any hope for Premier Asquith and his party, and this is not because the people have lost faith in Premier Asquith or Mr. Lloyd George, but because they are becoming afraid of the socialist tendency of the reforms proposed by these leaders.

The electors of England, as a general rule, are prepared to submit to any kind of hardship rather than change a time honored custom policy, and even rank Free Traders will be seen flocking to the support of the Unionist candidates rather than submit to the Asquith-Lloyd George proposals. This is apparent from the manifesto issued a day or two ago by the executive of the Constitutional Free Trade Association, presided over by such Liberals as Lord Cromer, George Hamilton, Goschen, Robert Cecil, Hugh Cecil and Balfour of Burleigh.

It is but natural for these men to oppose any policy looking toward the curtailment of the power of the House of Lords. But that they feel that they have a considerable following is apparent from the wording of this manifesto:

"While adhering to the opinions on the fiscal question which we always held we think in the present crisis it is the duty of all who are opposed to a single chamber constitution, the adoption of which would involve among other serious consequences, the destruction of the Union, to throw the weight of their influence in the scale against the dangerous policy of the present government. We therefore venture to appeal to all moderate men, whether Free Traders or not, to support the Unionist candidates in every constituency in the impending election."

That there is to be no compromise and that the campaign will reach the highest point of bitterness, is apparent from these opening remarks of Mr. Balfour and Mr. Lloyd George delivered even before the dissolution of the House, in speeches made before enthusiastic audiences in either case. Mr. Balfour said: "What duty is thrown upon those who call themselves as I am proud to call myself, a democrat? When a man tells me he is a democrat, when he goes from that interview to the platform, where he makes speeches that can illumine no intelligence, add nothing to anybody's knowledge, but which only inflame passion, and set one citizen against another, then I say he is no democrat, but a traitor to every cause of democracy. He knows not what popular government is nor has he grasped the very conditions under which alone can it be made a success in this or any other period of history. Let us treat differences of opinion as men, with reason and moderation. Let us appeal to great principles rather than to the violent passions of those who have had little opportunity of considering the problems upon which we are asked to decide."

Mr. Lloyd George retorted:

"The people's grievances against the House of Lords are not to be redressed by unctuous vapid irrelevances like those of Mr. Balfour. Lord Lansdowne's plan is simply to keep democracy at the end of a long pole so that it shall not bite. If Mr. Balfour is a democrat why do he and Lord Lansdowne place hurdles, ditches and wire entanglements in the path which government by the people must travel along?"

COMFORTING ASSURANCES.

The Winnipeg correspondent of the London Economist expresses the opinion that the United States will within the next fifteen years have to become dependent upon Canada for supplies of beef and bread. While we are delighted to hear all these big things said about Canada, and are overjoyed to learn in millions how great are our resources and an unlimited demand on them, still we are inclined to believe that those eastern newspaper correspondents are inclined to overstate things. The present limit of the wheat consumption in the United States is six hundred million bushels per annum—the figures given as the annual yield of our neighbors to the south. The United States could as easily raise three billion bushels, if the country wants so much and offers a paying price for it. And the present supply of beef cattle could be readily increased if it were found to be necessary.

However, if Canada is to be called upon to grow wheat and beef for our Uncle Samuel and his children, we can do it—if we get the price. It is claimed on official authority that in the Canadian West about two hundred million acres of wheat land with a capacity for three billion bushels still await the plow, and that two hundred and fifty million acres more are suitable for cattle raising, besides a vast acreage classed as of doubtful value or as belonging to the sub-arctic areas. There is not, however, any likelihood of the United States having to call upon Canada to give wheat and beef to supply the demands of the markets there. But of this there is no doubt: Canada will excel in wheat growing in quality and product and for years to come she will occupy the first position, although not so pre-eminently as to have a rival.

In all this talk about Canada's greatness and Canada is great indeed—it might be just as well to recognize that there are others on this North American continent. And as long as there is a market for wheat and beef and if the price is right, there will be wheat and beef raised in abundant quantity by the farmers across the border, who will not only supply the home market, but will send their surplus across the border and dump it upon the Canadian market whenever the opportunity offers or the exigencies of the occasion require it.

BRAVERY IN FACE OF DEATH.

Of course no man ever performed an act of bravery in the hope of reward. The men who do big, brave things are not the class of men to look for reward. But the man who is brave enough to risk his life to save another, not in the stress of hot fighting where the spirit of indifference to danger has been roused by the excitement of the game, but in the cold chill of a winter gale on the treacherous waters of a lake—the man who in the face of death, will plunge into the cold waters of a storm-swept lake as did Mr. Frank Bastier last week to save the lives of Robert Lloyd and Thomas Wardlow, who were clinging exhausted to a capsized boat—is one of Nature's noblemen, though he may never wear a crown or have his name emblazoned on the scroll of Time. Bastier may never get more than a medal for bravery from the Royal Humane Society. He deserves more, and we should be pleased to learn that the citizens of Kelowna have in some tangible way conveyed to him their appreciation or his bravery and recognition of his courage.

The Summerland Review

OUR GROWING BANK DEPOSITS.

There can be no surer index to the growth and prosperity of Canada than the increase in our bank deposits. Compared with those of the United Kingdom, Canada's bank deposits are away in excess, per capita, and our general condition more prosperous. Exclusive of private banks, the total estimated deposits and current accounts held in the banks of the United Kingdom in July 1900, were eight hundred and thirty to eight hundred and forty million pounds sterling. In the same month of 1905 these amounts were increased to eight hundred and sixty to eight hundred and eighty million pounds. In the same month 1910 the amounts were nine hundred and seventy to nine hundred and eighty million pounds. The increase for the first period of five years was about 3.6 per cent, and in the second period about 12.8 per cent. In July 1900 the total deposits in the chartered banks of Canada were $303,796,000; in 1905 they were $532,104,000, being an increase of 70 per cent. The estimated bank deposits per head of population would be for the United Kingdom $98 in 1900, $97 in 1905 and $104 in 1910; for Canada, $57 in 1900, $86 in 1905 and $121 in 1910.

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

Go back tonight in memory to the old home, far East, far West—across the seas maybe, and take a peep at mother. There in the old home she's waiting to greet us on our return from the office, shop or the busy streets. Supper is over; the dishes are washed, Mother picks up the piece of work laid down when supper was announced. Adjusting her glasses, she bends low to see the stitches are right, and proceeds in silence. Brother and sisters are there. They take up their books to read, and stretch out for a lazy evening. Perhaps it is the first evening they all have been home in many. A busy day at the office or in the shop makes the quiet rest needful. They do not want to be disturbed. Mother has been alone all day, with nobody about with whom she could talk. And she wants to talk now. A question or two is asked, but, receiving only a disinterested yawn for an answer, she concludes to not say any more, and silently works on.

A sigh from the heart tells of a load there, but she chokes it back and bends closer to her work. Her thoughts turn to the son or daughter far East, far West—across the seas maybe—you and I. Green fields are always over there. Angelic daughters and affectionate son are too. If she could only have one of them by her side! The word of love and confidence that her ears have so long wanted to hear, would in love be spoken, and the tears of anguish now suppressed would give place to tears of joy. Yes, indeed!

Her mother love ignores distance and starts out upon the sea of miles like a Marconi tick, to be picked up by the sympathetic heart attuned to receive it. Into the hills of the lumber and mining camps, in the orchard home nestling close to Mother Earth 'mid climbing vines and trees now entering upon their winter sleep; up and down the village streets, and into the heights and depths of the city dives, the vibrant love from the signal tower of Mother's heart flits and flies, quivers and falls. She calls and signals for the love of the boy and girl away from home; she longs to get in touch with just the one person who can bring joy to her lonely heart.

Do you not see her, listening of with ears love so delicately attuned that the faintest wave of love flowing from you will be picked up by that herat of hearts! There is something so tender in Mother's love. Something we feel almost divine—yes, quite. There is not a manly man or a womanly woman that breathes who does not feel it—and is the better for it. Get in touch, there, brother. All it costs is a thought—just a thought. For this is the month of Christmas and we are far away.

MORE MEMBERS FROM B.C.

The Dominion census to be taken next summer, probably in June, will show that British Columbia has at least 300,000 people. The census of 1901 showed the B.C. population to be 190,000. British Columbia is at present represented in the Dominion House of Commons by seven members. The British North America Act provides that the number of members in the house may from time to time be increased by parliament according to a fixed proportion calculated from the last census. The census of next summer will, in all likelihood, give British Columbia twelve members in the House of Commons.

DEATH OF MR. W. H. TAIT.

It is with great regret that we have this week to report the death of Mr. W. H. Tait of Prairie Valley on Thursday morning, the 1st inst.

Mr. Tait has been in our midst for about 18 months and during that time has made many friends. Being a chronic sufferer of Asthma he came here from Alberta with the hope that he would recover from the dread malady, and certainly he did feel relief at times, but during the spring, he met with what nearly proved a fatal accident from which he made a splendid recovery, but he had not got back to his ordinary health, and a break down occurred a few weeks back, and typhoid set in a little over a week ago, and his death took place rather unexpectedly on Tuesday. The body was sent to Renfrew Ontario, his native place, on Saturday morning.

He leaves a wife and daughter, with who the whole community mourn and sympathise with them in their great loss.

Captain and Mrs. Languedoc have removed to their home on their fruit lot after residence down town.

Mesdames Boothe and F. H. Rounds were recent visitors to Summerland on the quests of Mrs. F. Goodman.

Mr. and Mrs. Schreck started on Wednesday morning on a few months vacation visiting their folks down east.

The two inches of soft snow that fell on Tuesday night was the second fall of the season. But the weather still remains delightfully mild.

The Orillia went down—or up—the lake on Wednesday bringing the pile-driver to Chute Creek, where a new wharf is in course of construction.

The preparations for the entertainment during Christmas week are proceeding splendidly despite the frequent interruptions which are accustomed to occur on such occasions.

Mr. C. Grimaldi has set up a camp at Prof. Hook's former rendezvous with the avowed intention of cultivating the acquaintance of one or more deer. We wish Charlie success.

Mr. C. W. Johnson who had his shoulder dislocated on Monday during a mix-up with his horse and rig, is again in commission and looks as though nothing serious had happened.

Owing to numerous difficulties that have arisen since actual building operations began on the new Methodist Church it is probable that the structure will not be completed for some months yet.

In last week's issue the names of Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie and also that of Miss Ruth Chambers were inadvertently omitted in mentioning the guests at the Thanksgiving Dinner at Mr. Well's.

The local bandsmen paid Summerland an official visit this week where much business of interest to them—and others—is said to have been discussed. But we'll leave it to the editor to discuss as he sees fit the questions at present in dispute.

The third in the series of whist parties being held by a number of interested married couples was held at the home of Mrs. Gillespie on Tuesday evening. A very enjoyable two hours without a hitch or any long waits was spent after which the hostess assisted by Mrs. Wells dined a delicious luncheon prior to the dispersion of the guests. The next party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rounds in two weeks time.

The Vernon City Council are experiencing considerable trouble in connection with the installation of their new reservoir and storage basin. Both have been condemned by Inspecting Engineer Kennedy as being faulty in construction, and apparently the difficulties will not be smoothed over for some considerable time.

ANOTHER SUCCESS FOR B. C.

That British Columbia's fruit now on exhibition in the Old Country is destined to sweep this year's honors is indicated in a cablegram summarizing the first results, received by Hon W. J. Bowser as minister of agriculture. At its despatch nine of the twenty-four Old Country exhibitions were matters of history, and at these nine British Columbia succeeded in winning seven gold and two silver gilt medals the highest aggregate that any district or colony has yet achieved in a similar number of shows. The gold medals were won at Southampton, Bristol, Bradford, Leeds, Chester and Bolton, and the Silver gilt at the Crystal Palace and Birmingham. It is anticipated that the provincial exhibit will score proportionately at the remaining exhibitions.

Advice from Toronto state that the Bank Clerks' Association of Canada is being organized with the object of uniting all the employees of the different banks into an association for mutual benefit, protection, improvement and advancement. The promoters claim that the association has no hostile intentions toward the banks, but would be of assistance in dealing with employees. One condition is that membership shall be kept secret so long as desired. The membership fee is $10, of which about $5 will be required for organization purposes.

HARD ON JOE.

The London Daily Telegraph says that in east St. Pancras Joe Martin is faced with a suffragette candidate, and if the latter goes to the poll there is little doubt but that the seat will be lost to the government. The figures at the last election were; Martin, 4726; Preston, (U), 3560.

FARMERS INSTITUTE MEETING.

The opening meeting of the Farmers' Institute for this season was held in the Municipal Hall on Monday evening and proved a large and enthusiastic meeting. President C. J. Thompson was in the chair.

A communication from Deputy Minister Scott was submitted to the meeting reporting the action taken by the Government on last year's resolutions presented by the Central Farmers' Institute.

The appointment of a delegate to the annual meeting of the Central Farmers' Institute, to be held in Victoria on January 10th., was then considered, and Mr. C. J. Thomson was unanimously elected to represent the local institute.

An active discussion followed as to the resolutions to be forwarded to the Annual Meeting of the Central Institute, and a Committee appointed with instructions to frame some important resolutions relative to the interests of the fruitgrowers in this district.

It is intended that there will be another meeting of the Institute very early in December to consider these resolutions, and, as they are of vital importance to the interests of the community, all members are urgently requested to make a point of being present. Announcement of the meeting will be made in usual form.

SCOTCH CONCERT.

A very successful and well attended Scotch Concert was held in the Central Schoolhouse, West-Summerland, on Friday evening December 2nd. The artistes were all local, and this speaks well for the talent of Summerland. The proceeds, amounting to about $30, was for the purpose of installing the electric light in the new St. Andrew's Church. The audience appreciated every item on the program which was as follows:

THE RENARD POWER TRAIN

The Latest Method for Transportation to be Used in The Okanagan Valley.

During the last week, Mr. H. B. Blanton, special representative of the Canadian Renard Road Transportation Co. was in Summerland in the interests of his company. He informed our representative that it is the intention of his company to place several of these trains in various parts of the western provinces, the Okanagan Valley being one of the many districts.

Similar trains are in use in California, South Africa, Australia, Great Britain, France and Germany, and at present there is one being satisfactorily used in Vancouver, and the probability is that two more passenger trains will be in use this next year as sight-seeing cars through Stanley Park.

Capt. Renard, an officer of the French army, is the inventor. The principal is as follows: The locomotive or locomotor is connected by a driving shaft to the wagons, on each of which there are six wheels, the middle ones in each case being the driving wheel. By this means the locomotor is, therefore, not merely a hauling engine, and the train is enabled by this means to make grades which otherwise would be a impossibility. A 30 per cent. grade can be taken with this remarkable invention.

It is purposed to run one of these trains between Vernon and Penticton on the west side of the lake, and on the east side, between Vernon and Kelowna.

The usual train consists of locomotive and four followers, each of the latter having a carrying capacity of five tons or twenty tons to the full load, capable of making ten miles an hour at a cost of less than four cents per ton per mile.

The introduction of this method of transportation would be of great benefit to the district, and to the valley as a whole, and we look forward with pleasure to the time when it will be in evidence.

A gymnasium exhibition will be held to-night, Friday, at 8 o'clock in the College Gymnasium. A splended programme will be given, admssion—free.

THE MENS'S CLUB AUXILLIARY BAZAAR.

The Ladies Auxillary of the Men's Club held a most successful Bazaar on Thursday afternoon in the gymnasium of the above institution, which was prettily and tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The numerous tables were laden with fancy work, and useful articles, made almost entirely by members of the auxillary—to whom great credit is due.

The Bazaar opened at 3 p. m. when an animated and brisk sale commenced, and by evening practically all was sold.

Afternoon tea was served, and a hot supper at 6 p.m. both being well patronized. The proceeds amounted to $155.00.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL MEETING.

The council of the Board of Trade met in the secretary's office, on Monday December 5th., at 3 p.m. Those present were Messrs. James Ritchie, Adam Stark, J. L. Logie, H. C. Mellor, R. Clouston, R. H. English, E. B. May and C. H. Cordy, secretary.

When the minutes of the last meeting had been adopted, some corresponsence was read. A reply from the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, re the liability of nurserymen on account of stock not true to name, enclosing a copy of the Horticultural Board Act was read and the secretary was instructed to publish certain clauses of the Act for general informaton. A letter was also read from Mr. Maxwell Smith, thanking the Summerland exhibitors at the First Canadian Apple Show, for sending him a beautiful box of apples, and to express his hearty appreciation of the interest manifested py them in "the greatest apple show the world has ever seen."

It was decided to recommend to the new council that they consider the advisability of procuring and placing in every box of fruit shipped a well written slip advertising the district.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the issue of business envelopes, but owing to the illness of Mr. Collinge no prices could be given and the matter was left over.

OKANAGAN APPLES IN WINNIPEG.

British Columbia apples were brought forcibly before the notice of the people of the prairies at an exhibition of this orchard product a short time ago at Winnipeg.

A communication from Mr. W. B. Lanigan, assistant freight traffic manager of C. P. R. western lines, Winnipeg, gives particulars of it and the impression which it created at the prairie capital. The exhibition was under the auspices of the Okanagan Fruit Union and the apples were shipped on October 28, arriving in Winnipeg four days and seven hours later. There they were loaded on fourteen magnificent two-horse drays and taken in procession through the streets of the city to the department store of T. Eaton & Company, the drays being decorated with banners proclaiming the British Columbia origin of the fruit.

Forty-two display windows of the Eaton stores, covering a block and a half on Portage Avenue, were filled with the luscious product of British Columbia. The beauty, perfection and appearance of the fruit was the subject of remarks on all hands. Horticulturalists and others pronounced it to be the finest display of apples ever seen in Canada. Every apple was of exhibition quality, beautiful in color and of delicious flavour. On the third floor of the store extensive pyramids of apples had been erected and attendants were on hand splitting up the apples and demonstrating their superior flavour to all comers.

The Canadian Pacific Railway company had supplied large views of the different orchards in the Okanagan and other sections of British Columbia which were displayed with the fruit. Thousands of enquiries were made by visiting foreigners as to the district in which such superb fruit had been raised. A western man, who had attended a similar show of Washington apples in Minneapolis, admitted that it could not hold a candle to the British Columbia display. A Belgian said that he had never seen such apples in Europe. Thousands of enquiries were made as to the source of the fruit. The apples were a revelation and a surprise not only to the people of Winnipeg, but to hundreds of visitors from Ontario and the United States who visited the building during the week that the display was on. It is estimated that fully 100,000 people visited the T. Eaton building while the show was in progress. It is impossible to estimate how many surveyed the wonderful exhibit extending along Portage Avenue and the side streets of the Eaton store. Every apple in the exhibit arrived in perfect condition and perfectly packed, and was displayed just exactly as it was received from the cars, without any polishing or handling.

The following is a copy of a letter received by Mr. Sampson of the Okanagan Fruit Union Vernon, from the T. Eaton Company, Winnipeg.

Mr. Sampson, Okanagan Fruit Union, Vernon, B.C.

Dear Samson:—At last we have got out of the rush of the apple exhibition and it is now left to you to state as to whether we carried out your every wish in the matter.

We are forwarding under separate cover a set of photos taken of the various exhibits in the window fronts while the exhibition was on; and have sent down to Mr. Lanigan, also, cuts of these pictures. He intends to make a write-up and send to the Vancouver papers and also to the British Columbia Fruit Magazine.

In addition to the exhibition here we had a large full page advertisement which we sent out through Manitoba. We have forwarded you a copy under separate cover. We also forwarded 2,700 papers to the residents of the seven or eight towns on the border of the Okanagan Lake, accompanied by a letter giving full particulars as to what we had done. Therefore, we have utilized every effort to spread the information broadcast advertising Okanagan apples.

We must also compliment you on the great care given to, packing in the large cases as well as the small exhibition cases, and which was much commented upon by many prominent fruit growers and shippers who happened to be in Winnipeg in transit to other points. One man, I just forget the name of the place, but from the Old Country, left money for us to ship a case over there to him. We also had many Southern men interested in the fruit business admiring the display—the quality, cases, labels and packing. We trust that all arrangements were carried out to your satisfaction, and if our endeavors have pleased you as much as your product pleased us, there is very little more to be wished for. With best wishes to yourself, I beg to remain,

Yours sincerely,
C. E. BAND.

MR. LLOYD HEARD FROM.

In the report of the sad drowning accident at Kelowna last week there were a couple of inaccuracies due to second hand information. We are informed by Mr. R. Lloyd, the survivor, that the rudder of the boat did not become unshipped, and that it was England, not Wardlaw, who held the sheet-rope. Mr. Lloyd is unable to explain why the boat capsized other than that the sheet-rope jammed, but whether because England took a turn round a cleat or if it got caught in something else he cannot say. In any event, the boat should have answered her helm and come up into the wind, and he cannot understand, even with the sheet-rope jammed, why she refused to do so. It is interesting to learn that Mr. Lloyd was the sole survivor of the crew of the s.s. Bessarabia, of which he was second mate, when she capsized and foundered within two or three minutes, in the Bay of Biscay, due it is thought to a water ballast tank bursting. Mr. Lloyd floated for two and a half hours on a raft composed of a hen-coop and a ladder, and was unconscious when picked up by a steamer.

At Sunday dinner the other day a little fellow was picking the drumsticks of a chicken and swallowed one of the tendons. After much difficulty it was removed from his throat when he looked up and said: "Oh, mamma, it wasn't the chickabiddy's fault; it was because cook forgot to take off its garters."

Messrs. James and George Bailey, from Saskatchewan, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. George Needham for a few days.

Mrs. Bulyea arrived home from Kaleden last week, where she was called by the death of her brother-in-law, the Rev. N. K. Simpson.

Mr. George B. Phillips left on Tuesday morning for Nelson to take charge of a route for a coast firm. George is an old hand at the job and has been very successful in that line of work.

Mr. Harold Hardy is making extensive improvements to his house this fall. A coat of siding and a verandah add much to its appearance and comfort. Of course, it may not mean anything, but some people are suspicious.

It is not every place in Canada, perhaps, that apples can stay on the trees until this date and not be frozen. Your correspondent picked some this week that had been missed by the pickers, and found them in as good a condition as ever.

Mr. William Somerville, who last week was reported recovering from his illness, took a turn for the worse and passed away early on Wednesday morning. The funeral arrangements are not yet made as they are waiting to hear from a son living in Winnipeg.

Much regret is expressed over the resignation of Miss V. Milne from the junior department of the public school. Since coming here last September, Miss Milne has proven herself a most efficient teacher, and the parents are anxious to have her remain in charge at least until the end of the year.

The work of setting up the poles for the electric light system about to be inaugurated is in progress.

This week and last several of our local marksmen made successful trips to the mountains back of town. Of these mention can truthfully be made of Mr. H. J. Wells, Mr. C. Grimaldi and Mr. W. Armour.

The program for the Christmas entertainment is now taking on definite form and will be ready for publication possibly next week. Regular practices are being held under the supervision of Mrs. Gillespie in the Opera House. And you can take your scribe's word for it: There's going to be some fun when the curtain rises on December 29.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Gillespie delivered a unique, comprehensive, intelligent and forceful address on "The Meaning of Christmas." That is the address as a whole, while at certain intervals were passages of wonderful pathos and beauty. One of her illustrations, taken from that inimitable story, "The Other Wise Man," was particularly fitting. At the close Miss Wells played "Love and Devotion" most effectively while the offering was being received.

Quite a busy week this at Naramata, socially. A surprise party last Friday night took Mr. and Mrs. Mulford by storm. About thirty young people chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Wolsencroft and Mr. and Mrs. Dean, put away several hours in a most enjoyable style. Then on Tuesday evening Harold Mitchell entertained a juvenile crowd in honor of a returning birthday; while on Thursday evening the regular monthly dance given under Athletic Club auspices was carried out with its usual success.

NOT HIS HAT.

The story is told of an old Scotchman who never missed an opportunity for attending a funeral in his district. Possessed of exceptional unclion, it was his custom to arrive early on those melancholy occasions, in order that, in the event of the clergyman failing to turn up in time, he might have a chance of being asked to offer prayer. This petition he had stuck in the crown of his hat, and it is related that in one instance, in the hurry and excitement of the moment, he picked up the wrong hat, and started off with the exclamation that sent a shudder through the company, "Oh, Lord!—this is no ma hat!"

OKANAGAN COLLEGE.

The local news item last week telling of the return of Principal E. W. Sawyer from the east, and conveying the good news that negotiations will soon be completed whereby Okanagan College will be granted complete affiliation with McMaster University, should mean much to Summerland, particularly from an educational standpoint. Under the able guidance of Principal Sawyer, the Okanagan College has steadily advanced in its importance as an educational centre, and is drawing students from all localities to this favored spot in the now famous Okanagan Valley. There is every reason to believe that this now complete affiliation with McMaster University, will be an educational inducement to students desiring a completer education, for there is none better than McMaster's, with the authorities of which the affiliation will give our students a standing. This is the hoped-for affiliaion, an affiliation that will give Okanagan College a standing as a national institution.

REV. MR. SOLLY'S EXPLANATION.

It always is a pleasure to receive sharp criticism of the editorial expressions of this paper. That printed last week from the pen of Rev. Mr. Solly was particularly acceptable, for Mr. Solly's explanation of the action of the Council makes clear the fact that, so far as the Anglican Church of Summerland is concerned, there was no cause for our editorial criticism. However, it has been the means of bringing out more prominently than before the important fact so characteristic of all our churches in Summerland, that they maintain their position in the pride of their calling and stoop not to secure for themselves special privileges at the expense of the community. Mr. Solly's letter makes this plain. We are pleased—very pleased—to be put right in the matter. It should be the pride of all that such is the case, and let us hope that this position always will be maintained.

There is just one point in Mr. Solly's letter which calls for any criticism from us, and that is with reference to the insult which he seems to feel owing to our remarks on the relative positions of the men in the ministry and men in other callings. We fail to see how anyone could take these lines as an insult. Certainly an insult was never intended when they were written. "At the present day, churches are well maintained by the community, and the general run of men in the ministry are paid stipends quite as large as are paid to men in other callings, and some of them a great deal more than they could earn at any other calling, therefore we see no reason why these men should not pay their proportion of the expense of the maintenance of the public institutions and the upbuilding of the community."

"PRACTICAL POLITICS" IN ENGLAND.

Just now we see what strange bedfellows "practical politics" will make, even in England. If the campaign of January last was a "mix-up," then the campaign now being waged is nothing short of a "pudding." We see the "fussy, foolish, frantic suffragettes" throwing bad eggs and stones at Ministers of the Crown and hitting Unionists who wish to be Ministers of the Crown. Then we see tariff reform—protection—promised for England and denied to Ireland. We see ardent Free Traders working for protective tariff candidates, and men who want neither tariff reform nor home rule fighting for the party that promises both. The bitterness of the present contest, while deplorable, shows how keenly its importance is felt. The old aristocracy has taken Winston Churchill's advice to his own followers to "draw the sword and throw away the scabbard;" and "the Monocle Man" in the Canadian Courier is led to remark that there is no band of fighters in existence half so hard to vanquish as a company of English gentlemen with their retreat cut off. The Unionists were despondent before the bugle blew; but now they are fighting as only a besieged British garrison can fight. To begin with, they had the courage to fling that Jonah—the hereditary legislator overboard. Lord Lansdowne has committed them to abandon the rigid hereditary basis for the House of Lords, even if they win. Next, they pushed Tariff Reform into the background. A year of prosperity was no time to fight that battle. Still the Tariff Reformers are a well-organized lot, and will poll solidly for the Unionist candidates. Then, at the time of writing, they seem to be making converts among the Whigs, who do not want to see the Second Chamber destroyed utterly.

PROTECTION AND RECIPROCITY.

Theodore Roosevelt said in 1908: "Every measure for honesty in business that has been passed during the last six years has been opposed by these men on its passage and in its administration with every resource that bitter and unscrupulous craft could suggest and the command of almost unlimited money secure. The methods by which those engaged in combinations have achieved great fortunes can only be justified by the advocacy of a system of morality which would also justify every form of criminality on the part of a labor union and every form of violence, corruption, and fraud, from murder to bribery and ballot-box stuffing in politics.

Their wealth has been accumulated on a giant scale by all forms of iniquity, ranging from the oppression of the wage earners to unfair and unwholesome methods of crushing out competition and to defrauding the public by stock jobbing and the manipulation of securities."

He was speaking at the time of the heads of the vast combines that have been made possible by the protective tariff policy in vogue in the United States. Andrew McPhail, writing, under the caption "the Tariff and the People" in the Canadian Courier, says this critical spirit given expression to by Mr. Roosevelt, spread to Canada; and if no such evils were encountered the resolution was increased that they should not gain entrance here. It does not help matters for the protectionists to protest that it is a pure assumption that these economic and social evils are in any degree created by social conditions, because the public always deals in assumptions.

Thirty years ago they assumed that the benefits from protection would be immense. If now they assume violently to the contrary is there no one to gainsay them with any chance of enforcing conviction? The people always go too far, once they are on the move; and in the attempt to do justice to themselves they care little for the injustice that is wrought to others. Their ways are rough when finally they take their own case into their own hands.

"Those who enjoy the ineffable joys of protection in Canada would do well not to misinterpret the significance of this lack of enthusiasm for reciprocity in trade with the United States. If they assume that it is due to a love for the present fiscal system they are liable to be undeceived at a moment inopportune for themselves. The objection really is that reciprocity is a more vicious form of protection. It involves the surrender by a community of the right to manage its own affairs, and binds it to another. Interests which are now mutual may become hostile, and the bond too strong to be broken or broken only at the cost of destruction."

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

To grow, man must serve. The Master Man Jesus sacrificed nothing when he gave his life upon the tree. It was the only way left to him by which he was to demonstrate his love for mankind, and he gained as much as we in the exercise of hat love. The lover always is the winner, whether his love is reciprocated or not. If I love you I gain more than you do by my giving expressi on tothat love.

When you feel that you are sacrificing for another, do not do it. Real service knows no such thing as sacrifice. There can be no love where sacrifice is felt.

FIGHTING HARD IN THE HOMELAND.

Press reports from London indicate that the political campaign now on is the bitterest ever fought. Mr. Balfour has announced that the Unionists, if returned at the elections, will institute a referendum on tariff reform. The Liberals are nonplussed by this move. Winston Churchill, the home secretary, was pelted with eggs and stones by an angry crowd on the streets of Colchester one day last week. Irish Unionists declare that civil war would probably follow the granting of home rule.

The political agitation attending the pro-roguing of parliament brought to light the cause of a split between King George and Winston Churchill, secretary for home affairs. His Majesty is understood to have told Premier Asquith that positively never again will he meet Churchill, either officially or socially.

According to those who vouch for the truth of the story, Churchill roused the royal wrath in this way: The King is in the habit of reading carefully every state paper submitted to him. This irked Churchill owing to the delay involved, so one day, it is said, the home secretary entered the palace and placed a batch of documents on the King's desk, remarking significantly that they were merely routine and need not be read. King George made a few remarks on his own account, which contained a solemn rebuke for the secretary's un-businesslike methods. Churchill, whose worst enemy never accused him of lack of confidence in his own judgment, responded that the King's business was to sign what his ministers asked him to sign, and that it really made no difference whether he ever read anything. The King is said to have practically ordered the home secretary from the palace.

CUTTING DEATH OUT.

One publication—the Ladies' Home Journal,—has abolished death—at least from its columns. It prefaces its resolution to do this by the question, 'Can we not get away from the universal use of the words "dead" and "death," and even the harsher sounding words "die," "dying" and "died?"' Aside from the harshness and cruelty of the words themselves, the objection is taken that they no longer express our belief. 'We are fast reaching the belief,' it is said, 'that we do not die; that we are not dead. We pass from one state to another and so why should we not say what we believe of ourselves and of those dear to us; that we simply pass away?' Many people will think that it is a mere matter of words, but the Journal is of the opinion that any usage, and contributing element, no matter how seemingly small, that will help in the slightest degree to remove the old-fashioned gruesomeness that has so long been associated with the completion of our work here and the beginning of our work in another stage is worth adoption.

THE WEARY WORLD.

You say the world is a weary place, where man is selfish and mean and base, where words are hollow and hearts are cold, and life is only a race for gold. Ah how I pity your state of mind! Whatever you seek in this world you will find! If you look for men that are base and mean, you'll find them thick in your neighborhood. If seeking virtue, just take a walk—you'll find a sample on every block. I say the world is a bully joint! Each day that I live I am more impressed by the goodness housed in the human breast. There are kindly hearts, there are helping hands, as thick as the blooming seashore sands! There are open doors for the soul astray, and cheerful pilgrims to point the way. The world no doubt is a dismal place, if you are seeking the mean and base; but it's all O. K. and it beats the band, if you are hunting the good and grand!—Walt Mason.

Kaleden Comments.

The weather continues as mild as September, occasional rain showers falling, but principally during the night time.

The ladies in our community continue active in their preparations for a bright happy Christmas gathering on December 23rd.

Miss Harrison, daughter of Mr. Frank Harrison, has been seriously indisposed for some days, but we are glad to hear she is somewhat better.

Shaling the roads continued until the end of November, and that work has now closed down for the winter. Ditch digging in one section still progresses.

Mr. Jas. Ritchie's handsome new motor car arrived in Summerland from the coast during the week and will visit Kaleden as soon as the roads become drier.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Bulyea and Mrs. Lapsley left Kaleden together, the former returning to Peachland, and the latter to visit friends in Kelowna and Summerland for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hatfield and son who were expected back some days ago have been delayed in Winnipeg, their little boy apparently being very unwell. No particulars however are yet to hand.

A start has been made on the basement of the annex of Mr. Jas. Ritchie's handsome hotel here. Two cellars being dug out, one of them immediately behind the present cook house, which building is to be considerably enlarged. Cement mixers are already active.

We are exceptionally fortunate in having a soil so much lighter in texture than generally prevails throughout the valley north of us. The volcanic ash and sandy loam admixture is such that no matter how hard a rain storm we may have (a rare occurrence by the way) or how sudden a thaw, the pedestrian can walk the road and hill side with ease, suffering no discomfort occasioned by sloppy and sticky mud.

FRUIT-TREE PRUNING.

Professor Thornber gives these pointers on the pruned of fruit trees:

1. Prune heavily when the tree is young, so as to give it the framework desired.
2. Quit pruning when the tree gets older.
3. Cut off the fruit spurs from the main branches just as soon as they form.
4. Practice summer pruning on the older trees.
5. Do all you can to discourage wood growth.

Do not be afraid of taking the fruit off the trees when you are summer pruning. Prune down until you have a reasonable amount of fruit left, and do not leave too much. Thin after you prune. The pruning is used largely as a thinning.

You can advantageously prune the pear tree during the first summer. Select and cut to the 'outer buds' on the branches, so as to throw the framework of the tree outward. Save twelve inches of clean, clear stem. Select a good strong bud on the inside of the middle limb, and seek constantly to turn the growing branches outward, so as to make an open, strong top through which the sun's rays will penetrate and the air circulate freely.

DEPARTMENT OF RAILWAYS.

The Provincial government has decided to create a department of railways and a bill for that purpose will be introduced at the next session of the legislature. There are now many railways such as the Canadian Northern Pacific, the Portland Canal and the V. & S., as well as electric lines which will naturally come under the jurisdiction of such a department, and its work will doubtless increase rapidly. No new portfolio will be created for the present. The new department of railways will be attached to that of public works and will be under the Hon. Thomas Taylor.

AN AWFUL WARNING.

The lack of harmony between man and wife has caused many a tragedy. Crippen had a wife who constantly nagged him with her insane jealousy and suspicions, added to her slatternly habits, and love of boasting how other men loved her. Hell hath no demon worse than a woman of that kind. Evidently, she drove Crippen insane from her manners of speech and action, judging from the way he killed her and disposed of the remains. No sane man would have committed such a diabolical deed for which Crippen passed in his checks by the enforced rope rout. His terrible end should be a warning to all men and women who do not live together like turtle doves.—Greenwood Ledge.

THE ESSENTIAL COLLABORATION.

"Understand that your wife collaborates with you? "Yes, her work aids me immensely." "I don't believe I have ever seen any of her writings." "She doesn't write; she prepares my meals."—Houston Post.

GRADUATE FRUIT GROWERS.

Three young women, graduates of the Horticultural College for women, are leaving England for the Okanagan Valley, where they will devote themselves to the life for which they have been specially trained — fruit growing. They will be followed by others who are to flee the prospect of the indigent gentlewoman in England to grow fruit in British Columbia. They think this is better than to struggle with the men for positions that are open to women in England.

Mrs. and Miss Tait wish to thank their many friends in Summerland for their kindness and sympathy tendered to them in their late bereavement.

Mrs. D. L. Young who has once more migrated to her Virden home for the winter, dropped in our office previous to departure, and had a little chat about fruit and Summerland. Four years ago she came here fully intending to dispose of her interests in this district, but sizing up the situation she wisely refrained from so doing, and placed her orchard in the capable hands of Mr. J. L. Logie with the result that this year in conjunction with T. E. Moore, she has shipped peaches, plums, cherries, etc. to the C. P. R. hotels and prairie cities, which same have been commented upon most favorably. Mrs. Young will be back here early next spring, and she is looking forward to great things in store for the fruitgrowers of Summerland.

RICH RED BLOOD.

You Will Never Have It as Long as You Have Dyspepsia.

Just as long as you have dyspepsia your food will not properly digest, and the nutritious elements in the food will not be extracted or absorbed, and impoverished or watery blood will follow.

This condition may not be apparent at first, but it will come just as sure as the sun will rise again.

Any stomach ailment, including all forms of indigestion, can be promptly cured by using Mi-o-na tablets, a scientific treatment unsurpassed.

It stops fermentation, belching of gas and taste of sour food almost at once.

The mighty power of Mi-o-na to invigorate and restore the stomach to perfect condition is known everywhere.

Mi-o-na cures by building up—by banishing the cause. For thin people it is a great flesh builder, because it causes the stomach to give more and purer nutrition to the blood. ### GYMNASIUM EXHIBITION.

On Friday evening last, December 9th, the college boys gave an exhibition showing the work they are doing in the physical culture line. In the few weeks they have been at it they have done well, and under the able direction of Instructor McLeod did some good work. The exercises, though elementary, form a necessary foundation for the more advanced work, and at the closing exhibition, some months hence, something startling may be looked for. On the rings, the horizontal and parallel bars, and in the dumbbell drill, the boys shewed a zeal that spoke the interest they have in their work.

About 100 people watched this gratis demonstration, and went away convinced that the college gymnasium is out for business.

Two basketball games were played. One between two well matched college junior teams; and in the other a scratch quintette of old students met the first college team. From the first throw-up the old boys were outplayed both fore and aft, and the game degenerated into a shooting practice for the collegians, until the final score stood at about 37-6. More "hasbeens" are expected after Christmas, and then a better team will once more try conclusions with the "are nows."

SCHOOL BOARD MATTERS.

On Wednesday last, the children of the Town School, under Mr. Harris informed him that they had subscribed to a petition like the following, and presented it to the Trustees. In the face of the attitude of these same kids a few weeks ago, it makes interesting reading.

Dear Sirs,

We would like very much to have Mr. Harris for our teacher after Christmas. He is a splendid teacher and well liked by all of us. We sign this with the consent of our parents.

Yours truly,

(Signed by all the children attending the school with two exceptions.)

ORANGEMEN ELECT OFFICERS.

(Held over from last week.)

The local Orange Lodge elected a full board of officers at its regular meeting last Tuesday week. The Board is an exceptionally strong one, and no doubt the Lodge will make good progress during the coming year under their direction.

The officers are as follows:

W.M.	Dr. Smith.
D.M.	R. H. English.
Rec. Sec.	T. C. Stinson.
Fin. Sec.	C. N. Borton.
Treas.	J. Blewitt.
Lect.	A. B. Elliott.
Asst. Lec.	H. Walton.
D. of C.	H. Sylvester.

Committee:—George Loomer, John McDougall, Harry Sylvester, R. H. English and Hugh Walton.

The meeting was enthusiastic and the offices were all contested two or more candidates standing for each. Bro. A. B. Elliott conducted the installation.

HOSPITAL BOARD MEETING.

A meeting of the Summerland Hospital Board was held on Saturday, December 10. There were present Messrs. W. J. Robinson, R. Clouston, A. Richardson, J. C. Robson and Major Hutton.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and adopted, and accounts amounting to $181.50 had been passed for payment; it was moved by Mr. Clouston, and seconded by Mr. Richardson, "that all employers of labor in the Summerland district be notified that the Hospital Board is willing to guarantee free hospital service to their employees at the rate of $1 per month, the names of those so insured to be forwarded with subscription on the first of each month to the Treasurer of the Hospital Board."

Owing to the absence of Mr. May the Hospital Board Committee did not report. The committee appointed to look after a suitable site for the proposed new hospital asked for another month in which to report.

Mr. Henry Austin, the gymnasium instructor for the Men's Club, arrived in town on Tuesday last and since his arrival he has made the following arrangements for classes in the gymnasium. Junior boys Monday and Thursday afternoons 4.30-6 o'clock. Young ladies classes will be formed during the coming week. Men's classes Tuesday evenings 8 to 10 o'clock. The work for the boys and men's classes will consist of marching, frearm and body movements, mat work, etc. The ladies class work will consist of marching, frearm and body movements, and fancy steps. Mr. Austin is well able to undertake the work, he having been connected with the Vancouver Y. M. C. A.

Under the auspices of the Okanagan Lyceum, the college students held a very successful promenade topic reception, in the ladies residence, on Thursday evening. About one hundred and fifty students and friends were present and all spent a pleasant evening. The rooms were tastefully decorated and all the arrangements were such as reflected credit upon the executive committee in charge of affairs. The following morning, about fifteen students left Summerland to spend Christmas at home and with friends. College reassembles on the 4th of January.

College 13, Town 5. On Saturday night, the college and town engaged on the Men's Club floor in the second game of the season. The above score being the result, keen, fast work characterized the entire game. The score being close until the last few minutes when the students displayed dazzling accuracy in shooting and netted nine points in rapid succession.

A SUGGESTION WORTH FOLLOWING UP.

We received the following letter this week. Coming as it does from one in a position to know whereof he speaks, we hope it will receive the careful consideration it merits. Anything which tends to increase the outside demand for our staple product deserves serious thought from all growers, and we would suggest that the Board of Trade go into the matter at its next meeting.

The Editor,

Summerland Review,

Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir:

Let me offer you a suggestion that I believe would be worth putting before the fruit growers of the Okanagan.

An increasing number of boxes and crates of fruit are being sent to outside markets. Thousands of trees are annually coming into bearing, and it is obviously in the interests of fruit growers to increase the demands for fruits, and especially for those grown in the Okanagan.

How would it do then, for the dealers there to have some literature prepared, suggesting methods of using the different fruits, and put a printed sheet with the right recipes into each box? I am sure that the idea would be popular among buyers, and would increase sales. For instance many housewives have never used apricots. One of these goes to the store, and the merchant says, "I have some splendid apricots. Wouldn't you like a case or two?"

"Oh, no," says the good lady, "I know nothing about apricots. I have never used them."

"Well," says the merchant, "you need not worry about that. The packers have enclosed half a dozen recipes in each case."

You see what the results would be. The same idea would work with every kind of fruit. As I write I have before me Bulletin 184, published by the Women's Institute Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. It contains 24 recipes for the use of apples, also a corresponding number for other kinds of fruits. There are plenty of methods. The point is to get the ideas right under the housewife's nose at fruit growing time. By putting a sheet presenting a dozen recipes for using peaches into each peach crate, and another sheet with apple recipes into each apple box, etc. the results should be satisfactory.

Another idea would be to put in another sheet telling of the prize winnings of Okanagan fruit. It is of little use to ask people to use Okanagan fruit simply because it is Canadian grown. The average buyer does not care two cents whether his fruit is grown in his own country or elsewhere. But he will buy the same kind right along if he can get it, and if he has once been convinced that it is the best. Wouldn't the suggestion I make be easy to carry out and prove effective?

Yours truly,

George Batho,

Editor, "Nor'-West Farmer."

The Sale of Work that was to have been held by the ladies of the Anglican Church this Saturday, December 17th., has been postponed indefinitely.

The last in a series of evenings at whist by the married folks' club was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rounds. At the conclusion of the games and after the service of luncheon followed the reading of the tally for the entire series. Mrs. Wells, the book-keeper, apparently had not the 'nerve' to read the results so she enlisted the co-operation of the biggest man in the room—Mr. George Cook—to read the score, and he pronounced the winners as follows: Mrs. George Cook for the ladies, and Mr. George Wolsencroft for the gentlemen, and both were presented with handsome souvenirs. Thus far everyone looked serious and satisfied, but when the consolation prizes—a miniature brown donkey and white billy goat—were handed out to Mr. Rounds and to Mrs. Boothe respectively, the enjoyment of the crowd was immense.

DIDN'T HAVE A CHANCE.

The other day we heard a young man complain that he did not have a chance to make anything in the Okanagan; that it was all hard work and little pay. And we were quickly reminded of the remarks of the manager of a big publishing institution in Vancouver:

"I heard a man complaining today that he didn't have a chance. And he has been here nearly twenty years.

"In that twenty years I have seen dozens of rank outsiders come in here, find a chance, take it and go to the top of the shop or out of it to do better elsewhere.

"While this man was complaining that he didn't have a chance I came here and found a chance that has led to my promotion to my present place at the head of the establishment.

"I know a man that used to work for this never-had-a-chance man as an office boy, and who was used pretty roughly when his boss happened to have one of his grouches against fate.

"The office boy found a chance to be a clerk, then he found a chance to be an auditor. Pretty soon somebody left a chance to be manager lying around and the office boy snapped it up.

"He got too big for the place before long and began looking for chances outside. Now he is with a larger concern and has just found a chance to be president at a salary of fifty thousand dollars a year. That is how scarce chances have been around here during the twenty years our complaining friend has stayed in his original place."

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY,

 its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND.

In a speech at a great Dublin gathering a night or two ago Mr. John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish Home Rule party, made a significant remark when he said; "I, and I alone, am master of the situation. Trust me." His speech is regarded as one of the decisive events of the hour. "Although we are only halfway through the election," he said, amid tremendous cheering, "we can say tonight with absolute certainty, the veto of the Lords is gone. As an Irish nationalist, I thank God that British democracy has been enabled to destroy this veto, which was an accursed thing for them and for us.

"Mark you," he went on with a threatening finger outstretched; "this is a decisive election, a final election. The Prime minister pledged himself before the world that he would not dissolve parliament unless under such conditions as would make it certain that if he came back again the will of the people would prevail." And, regardless of how much or how little stress we are accustomed to put on Mr. John Redmond's remarks in particular, and the heat of campaign speeches in general, we are forced to agree that the great Irish leader has stated the case as it is. Mr. Asquith and his party have been returned to power, contrary to expectations, perhaps, but as strong, if not stonger, then when he asked for the dissolution of parliament and appealed to the country. And there can be no mistaking the issues upon which the election was fought; the abolition of the House of Lords, and Home Rule. The fate of the latter depended entirely upon the dispositions of the former, for Ireland could not expect Home Rule while the House of Lords existed. Of course the question of tariff played some part in the campaign now closing, but the tariff was brought in, as it is always brought in, to blind the electors to the real issue. The real issue was the abolition of the House of Lords. This Mr. Asquith made clear at the very commencement of hostilities.

Mr. Balfour's campaign suggestion, to submit the question of Home Rule to a referendum, while it was looked upon with favor at first, could not be taken seriously after it were given a moment's consideration. If his proposition was to leave the matter of Home Rule to a vote of the Irish people—the people directly interested—it would be reasonable; but to submit the question of Home Rule to a vote of the electors of another part of the Empire as to whether the Irish people shall or shall not have the same privileges as are extended to other parts of the Empire, cannot be looked upon as either reasonable or just. It is quite absurd. What would Canadians think if their right of home rule were to be submitted to a referendum of the English electors of the British Isles?

The old, old cry that Ireland is not capable of self government is about as absurd as it is unfounded. It is absurd because it reflects upon British intelligence, for as early as the reign of James I. the English system was introduced into Ireland on a grand scale, and English law was pronounced the sole law of the land. If, from the time of James I. up to the present time, the English laws and systems have not yet succeeded in bringing Ireland up to the point of self government, then the English system and laws are a failure. But this, of course, is a mistake. History, modern and ancient, proves Ireland to be as capable of home rule as any other part of the British Empire. Then why, it may be asked, has England so stubbornly refused to give Ireland home rule? The answer will be found in the House of Lords.

In the union with Great Britain, Ireland became burdened with a share of the responsibility for a large national debt, which it had no hand in making. The Irish generally maintain, and many financiers admit that the burden which the imperial revenue inflicts upon the country is out of proportion to its wealth, and this claim constitutes one of the most serious grievances of the Irish Nationalists. According to the royal commissioners' report (1896) on the financial relations of Ireland to Great Britain, the taxable capacity of Ireland was only one-twentieth that of Great Britain or less, whereas the revenue collected was about one-eleventh of the amount raised in Great Britain.

The question of home rule, which Mr. Redmond now believes is soon to be in the stage of fulfilment, dates back some fifty years. Pitt, in the Act of Union in 1800, ignored the question of giving to Ireland a local legislature. The failure of O'Connell's agitation for repeal, in 1848, saw hostility to British rule pass from the field of constitutional exertion to that of violence and revolution. After twenty years of conspiracy and secret crime, the concession by Gladstone of Church disestablishment and land reform revived the thoughts and hopes of the Irish people, and in 1870, a year after the Act of Disestablishment was passed, the first step was taken in the movement for home rule. On the 19th of May of the same year, a number of Irishmen of the better class met and, after free discussion, resolved, "that the true remedy for the evils of Ireland, is the establishment of an Irish Parliament, with full control over our domestic affairs."

The history of home rule from that time to the present has been divided into four periods. First, the leadership of Isaac Butt, second, the merging of home rule into the land agitation; third the adoption of the principles by the Gladstonian Liberals, and fourth, the Conservative policy of "killing Home Rule by kindness." Without going into a recital of the events leading up to the present struggle in England between the House of Lords and the Nationalists and the Liberals, it is only necessary to point to the one action of the Lords which has made them the foe of every home-loving Irishman.

In March, 1893, Premier Gladstone introduced a bill granting home rule to Ireland. It provided for an Irish legislative body of two houses, the members of the Upper House to be chosen by the electors having a property qualification, and for complete self-government in all local matters. The bill passed, but was overwhelmingly defeated in the Lords, receiving only 41 votes out of a total of 450.

The Balfour Local Government Bill of 1898, was the next step made to satisfy the demand of Ireland for Home Rule. This law, which was passed under the cry of "killing home rule by kindness," was on the point of success, when the Boer War broke out. Under the impulse of this war, the warring Irish factions came together and selected Mr. John E. Redmond as a common leader. The demand for an Irish parliament was revived, and from that time to this Redmond and his 80 followers in the British House have blocked legislation whenever they can and whenever it will aid their cause. This they will continue doing until the British people and Parliament are forced to accede to Ireland's demand for home rule. With the House of Lords out of the way, or their veto power taken from them, the Nationalists believe they can force the Asquith government to pass a Home Rule bill. It looks as if it might be. And why not?

SUMMERLAND'S GREAT FUTURE.

Familiarity oftentimes breeds contempt, where it should breed honor and love. In the building of a community we sometimes forget the big, the essential, things in focusing too closely our attention upon some petty difference of opinion or predominant fault. And oftentimes it is wise to consider the conclusions of the casual visitor, for he is more apt than not to be right, he having reached his conclusions from conditions as he finds them, uncolored by any local prejudice.

In the "Fruit Magazine," that progressive publication edited by Mr. Maxwell Smith, at Vancouver, Summerland receives the lion's share of an article in which the editor gives his impressions of the fruit raising districts of the interior. Without reproducing the article in its entirety we are making a few excerpts to show the high opinion of this provincial fruit expert of the possibilities of this district.

"Soil sunshine and irrigation, supplemented by intelligent cultivation, have made of Summerland a flourishing orchard district in a short seven years. Today there are over three thousand acres of thrifty orchards, the trees varying in age from one to seven years. Many of these have begun to bear—some heavily, some in part only. The peach trees and apricots coming to maturity earlier, have borne more in proportion, but the apple trees are beginning to make themselves felt, as witness a solid car at the National Apple Show from these same Summerland orchards.

The quality of the fruit can be judged by the fact that the apples from these orchards have won many of the highest awards at the Royal Horticultural Show in London against all the colonies.

"The soil of Summerland is particularly well adapted to fruit-growing. It is a finely divided silt or sandy loam, rich in nitrates and phosphates and other mineral elements of value.

"The wonderful Okanagan sunshine is a powerful element in successful fruit-growing at Summerland. The atmosphere is remarkably clear at all times of the year. In 1909 there were 280 days of sunshine. Long, clear, cloudless days succeed each other week on week, in the season when the fruit is on the trees, and it is this absorption of sunshine which gives the Okanagan apple its color, flavor and texture.

"Every year from this out there will be an increasing area in bearing, it is safe to estimate that Summerland will be shipping over 1,000 cars of fruit.

PREMIER McBRIDE AT FORTY.

On Thursday of this week Premier McBride, "the youngest premier under the British throne" celebrated his fortieth birthday. Regardless of party affiliations, British Columbians take pride in the phenomenal success achieved by Hon. Richard McBride and with one accord to him will go the heartiest congratulations of his people. Premier McBride has proved himself more than a politician; he is a leader of men and a man strong in the virtues that go to make a country great. He has done, and is doing, great things for the province of which he is a native son, and it does not yet appear what he shall be or do in the upbuilding of the Dominion of Canadian.

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

I would rather know that I have the confidence of one friend who understands me, than be pestered by the applause of the multitude, tickled to-day and plucked to-morrow. The applause of the multitude means so little; the confidence of a friend so much.

I have stood in immense gatherings of people where many went almost mad in their applause of the man before them, and it seemed to me that the man who was the loudest in his applause knew least about the question or the person applauded. And I could not but think how empty it all was. To-morrow the people so tickled would in all likelihood be plucked by the person so tickling them and then they would turn and rend him limb from limb. The multitude invariably goes too far in its likes and dislikes, its whims and follies. Only the friend who knows stands back; is sober and is kind.

CANADA'S PACIFIC NAVY

W. R. Plewman, writing in the Canadian Courier about the battleships recently purchased by the Dominion government as a nucleus for Canada's navy, does not enthuse to any appreciable extent. "When in England last July," he says, "the writer made a trip from London to Portsmouth with the express purpose of inspecting the Rainbow. A letter from Rear Admiral Kingsmill enabled him to pass through the Admiralty dockyard to the tidal basin where the Rainbow was secured. Earlier in the week she had been turned over to the possession of the Canadian government. Rows of submarines and torpedo boats were roped together in the vicinity, and at right angles to the Rainbow were the Barfleur and the Centurion, her old comrades on the China station. Both of them are more powerful than the Niobe, but they have been sold for a mere song to the junk dealer, while the Rainbow, which rusticated for four years at Mother Bank, a sort of Admiralty's 'home of the aged,' has blossomed out in a fresh coat of paint as the first ship of the Canadian navy. Such are the tricks of fortune!

"Neither the Rainbow or the Niobe could take her place in the fighting line. Each belongs to a type which is practically obsolete. Modern naval science has discarded intermediate types and developed the extremes—the all-big gun ship to fight and the multiple-turbined ship to scout and run. Some of the latest vessels are strong in both departments. The Rainbow is too slow to be a scout and too weak to be feared by anything more powerful than a poacher. Nor can the Niobe run or face the fire of a battleship. An 850-pound shot from a twelve-inch gun would pierce her as it would a pack of cards. The warship now building in England for New Zealand could whip a whole fleet of Rainbows and Niobes before breakfast.

"This is the 'obsolete' old junk ship which can 'neither fight nor run,' for which Canada paid over $1,000,444 as the 'first ship' of a navy to 'protect' Canada from the United States, Japan and all the pirates of the rest of the world."

DOUKHOBORS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A few days ago John Sherbinin the manager of the Doukhobor colonies in British Columbia consented to be interviewed, and told something of the progress of their various colonies. Quite recently 800 more Doukhobors came to join their brethren already in the Province.

"About two hundred will go to Grand Forks," said Mr. Sherbinin, "and the remainder will go to Brilliant. At the latter settlement we are putting up a large number of double tents for their immediate accommodation. Twenty frame houses have been completed there this summer, the lumber for which was sawn at our settlers' mill, and we now have forty carpenters at work upon the houses. All will be comfortably housed by the time the snow flies. Brilliant is our main colony, that at Grand Forks numbering four hundred and fifty persons. There are about six thousand members of the Doukhobor society in Canada, and the arrival of this last contingent leaves about 4,000 Doukhobors in Saskatchewan.

"Our total land holdings in British Columbia number about ten thousand acres. There are 2,900 acres in Brilliant, 2,500 acres at Pass Creek, 1,100 acres at Slocan Junction, and 3,500 acres at Grand Forks. At Brilliant we have 600 acres cleared, 250 acres being planted to fruit, while 50,000 trees have been ordered for spring planting. We have fifty colonies of bees, which are doing well."

The foregoing statement hardly gives an adequate idea of what the Doukhobors are really doing. The writer recently had the privilege of going over their colony at Brilliant and was amazed to see the progress that had been made. Land that was all heavy timber a year ago is now clean and as free from root or stone as a prairie farm that had been cropped for years. Everywhere there were bustle and industry, and when the trees already planted begin to bear they will have a garden spot. —Farmers Advocate.

CARING FOR THE PUBLIC HEALTH

One of the principal subjects dealt with at the recent Dominion Health Conference at Ottawa, at which Dr. J. C. Fagan, provincial health officer of B.C. was a delegate, was the report on the pollution of water ways. Dr. Fagan repeats the recommendation advanced by the committees on this matter to the authorities of the different provinces:

"No bylaw providing for the raising of money for the construction operation or extension of any system of waterworks or common sewer or system of sewerage disposal shall be submitted to the votes of the electors by the council of any municipal ity, until the consent of the commissioner of public health, or of the provincial board of health, as the case may be, to the proposed construction, operation or extension has been obtained, and the preamble to every such by laws shall declare that such consent has been duly obtained; no debenture shall be valid if issued under any by-law passed in contravention of this section."

THE VICTORY OF SILENCE.

The victories of speech have been many but the victories of silence have been more. The man of silence is the man of power. Manly comrades may help; good women may inspire; science, business, music, art, all may give their impulses and send you this way or that. All these are concerned with speech and are good and beautiful and necessary. But to be an individual, something more than a marionette pulled on the strings of everyday tyrannies, you will have to absorb all these surrounding things and then transform them in the quiet, persistent working of your own heart.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

FINAL MEETING ON THURSDAY LAST

Deputation From Ratepayers Meeting - Big Show of Accounts Passed

A meeting of the Municipal Council was held in Summerland on Thursday, December 29th, when the following business was transacted:

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Letters were read from Mr. W. Wright, Mr. H. Cancellor, Mr. G. Morgan, and Messrs. Richardson and Co.

A special report from Medical Health Officer Dr. Smith was read, upon the septic tanks on the lake shore. In each case the tank had been tested. Two were condemned, others were passed as being fairly good, but septic tanks as a whole were not desirable methods of dealing with sewage. Dr. Smith was instructed to see to it that each owner uses formaline regularly to prevent the spreading of germs and disease.

An account was received from the Vernon Hospital in regard to Mr. Doll of Summerland, at present an inmate of that institution. It was decided to refer the whole matter to the Government.

A deputation from the Ratepayers' meeting waited upon the Council in regard to increasing their number. This matter was talked over, and it was decided to refer it to the public meeting called by the Council.

Mr. Campbell of the Garnett Valley Saw mill waited on the Council in respect to a telephone service to his mill. The Council directed the Clerk to write the Telephone Company regarding this matter.

A PUBLIC MEETING.

On Wednesday evening a public meeting of ratepayers was held in the central school at West Summerland. About seventy ratepayers put in an appearance. The Trout Creek district was not represented at all, the town by two, a few from Peach Orchard, and the rest were from West Summerland, Dalcome, Jones Flat and Garnett Valley. Mr. H. Sutherland was appointed to the chair, and Mr. Cordy acted as secretary.

After calling the meeting to order, the chairman expressed his pleasure at seeing such a number present. He stated there was interest taken in Municipal affairs. Before he threw the meeting open for discussion he wished to remind them that criticism was an easy matter everybody could be criticized, and it would be well before launching to consider the difficulties and pioneer work the council had had to contend with during the past twelve months.

After a little while a remark was made about the pipe line contract and the price paid for pipe, etc. This was soon answered by another ratepayer who said that he knew that the pipe had been laid down at Summerland at a far cheaper price than at any other place in the district.

To open up some more discussion, an account of the previous meeting was asked for. This was given, but did not lead up to discussion.

A question was asked why had a professional man been engaged, and then at the finish, a foreman placed on to do the work his own way. No answer could be made to these questions, for the simple reason that the council had not been invited to be present.

Upon a vote of the ratepayers, by 38 to 21, it was resolved that in the opinion of this meeting the council ought to be increased to the maximum number allowed by law, viz., seven councillors and reeve.

A committee of three was appointed to wait upon the present council and see if it was possible for this increase to come into effect at once.

The inauguration of a Ratepayers Association took place, a committee of four being appointed to go farther into the matter.

POULTRY POSSIBILITIES.

Another very important industry which will thrive unusually well in the Summerland district is that of poultry raising. Our poultrymen are exerting themselves to bring poultry to the front and this winter we are to see a first-class poultry show.

No better example of what can be done with poultry is furnished than that of Petaluma, Cal. It is found that Petaluma, Santa Rosa, Healdsburg, Cloverdale, and other smaller towns in Sonoma County supply San Francisco with about one half of her annual receipts of eggs. Petaluma alone sent out last 7,159,481 dozen eggs and 120,018 dozen fowls. It is a city which has been built by the hen, and its future depends upon this common fowl. Statistics show that the hens of Petaluma convert from the raw materials the much demanded finished product, the egg, at the rate of $457 worth per hour, for ten hours a day, for 365 days in the year. This is the result of a gradual process of development. It might be interesting to note that poultry raising has taken the place of potato raising, which in turn took the place of wheat growing, one of the first occupations of the early settlers in California.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held in the Club rooms on Monday, Jan. 2nd, 1911, at 3 p.m.

Mr. F. Richter, of Keremeos, aged 76, passed away on Monday, the 26th inst. at Victoria. He will be interred at Keremeos on Tuesday next. Mr. Richter has been in this country for about 45 years, and many in Summerland were well acquainted with him.

The Fourth Annual Potlatch of the Summerland Bachelors and other orphans will be held in the College Building on Tuesday evening the 3rd of January at seven o'clock. All those men having no home ties are cordially invited to be present. The Band is expected to be present and a good time is assured.

Mr. J. W. Harris, who for some time has been master of the town school in Summerland, has been offered, on the recommendation of Mr. Miller, the district government school inspector, the position as headmaster at the school in Rutland, near Kelowna. Mr. Harris has accepted this position, and will commence his duties on the 3rd of January. Rutland is a growing district, and a new school will be erected there in April next, of which Mr. Harris will have control.

Christmas was spent in the good old-fashioned way in Summerland. There was just enough snow to make good sleighing, and during Monday several parties took advantage of this to help out the festivities of the day. Skating was indulged by a goodly number, the ice at Balcomo being in splendid condition for this healthy pastime. In the evening, King Turkey held sway, and many a pet of the poultry yard was served up with due honors, the sentiments of the late dear departed not being taken into consideration at all.

WHERE OLD SAYINGS CAME FROM.

The Honeymoon.— For thirty days after a wedding the ancient Teutons had a custom of drinking a mead made of honey.

The Bridegroom.— In primitive times the newly wedded man had to wait upon his bride and the guests on his wedding day. He was their groom.

Sirloin of Beef.— King Charles I., being greatly pleased with a roast loin of beef set before him, declared it good enough to be knighted. It has ever since been called Sir Loin.

A Spinster.— Women were prohibited from marrying in olden times until they had spun a full set of bed furnishings on a spinning wheel. Hence, till married, they were spinsters.

Cabal.— This word was coined in the reign of Charles II. and applied to his cabinet council. It was made out of their names, which were: Clifford, Arlington, Buckingham, Ashley and Lauderdale.

CHRISTMAS AT THE POST OFFICE.

A few observations concerning the volume of the Christmas mails at Summerland may be interesting.

From Monday, December 19th. to Monday, December 26th. inclusive, the incoming mail received at the Summerland Post Office from the north amounted to 101 bags. This does not include mail from the south or from local points. The number of registered articles passing through our post office from December 15th. to December 27th. ten days exclusive of Sundays was 422.

The sale of postage stamps for the month will approximate the sum of $350, to which add $150, estimated for the outside offices, making a total of $500 for the district. One hundred dollars seems a liberal estimate for the proportion of this amount used for packages, and you can figure out for yourself how many letters and postcards the balance of four hundred dollars will represent.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Methodist Church.— At the front every Sunday alternately at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday School at 11.30 a.m. At West Summerland every Sunday alternately at 11.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday School at 10.30 a.m. F. W. Hardy, Pastor.

Baptist Church.— At West Summerland every Sunday at 10.30 a.m. Sunday School at 11.45 a.m. At the front in Elliott's Hall 7 p.m. Sunday School at 11.45 a.m. H. Pattison, Pastor.

Presbyterian Church.— Services in the Methodist Church at the front and in the Schoolhouse at West Summerland, every Sunday alternating with the Methodist Church. James Hood, Pastor.

The hockey club met on Wednesday last in the public school at West Summerland, and the following officers were appointed: Hon. Pres., R. H. Agur, Esq., and Jas. Ritchie, Esq.; Hon. Vice-pres. Col. R. Cartwright., Pres. Dr. Andrew., Vice-pres. O. F. Zimmerman Esq., Manager, G. Craig., Sec.-treas., H. C. Howis, Ex.-Com., G. Johnston, R. Tingley, and Captain (to be appointed). The colors of the club are green and red, and Balcomo is the rink on which practises will be held at present. Membership ticket $1, and to this has to be added the sum necessary for membership of the skating club.

Kaleden Comments.

Mr. Jas. Ritchie and the Rev. F. W. Patterson were in town on business on Monday last.

The store this Christmas was beautifully decorated with Oregon Vine and other evergreens, nuts, candies, and many such things as please the hearts of young and old alike at this festive season. Mr. Lapsley, our genial manager spares no trouble to please and gratify the reasonable tastes and wants of his customers.

On Friday evening, the much anticipated "social" organized by the ladies, was held, and attended with marked success. Practically everybody turned out to this event and the snow alone prevented some from attending the animated gathering. The schoolroom presented an attractive appearance, especially to the children, a large Christmas tree charmingly decorated and loaded with presents occupying a considerable space in one corner, while evergreens softened and beautified the naturally hard features of the room. The program was varied, most enjoyable, and a great success. The first part of the program consisted of a short kindly address of welcome and cheer by the chairman, Mrs. A. S. Hatfield, preluded by the dulcet strains of the favorite dance music from Mr. P. Simpson's gramophone. Then followed a series of well rendered recitations by the children, choruses and recitations by seniors interspersed with gramophone selections. Silhouettes next created much merriment, the three winners in the guessing contest being Gertie Preston, Jack Steven and Leonard Gray. The Christmas tree next absorbed the interest of the little ones, followed by a "grab bag" for everybody, which caused much merriment. Varied and delicious refreshments were then served, much care and attention having been given to the preparation of the many good things provided, and then after much handshaking and exchange of good wishes, the happy company separated.

CARD OF THANKS.

On behalf of Mrs. W. A. Hanington, and at her request, I wish to thank all who so kindly assisted her in her sad bereavement. And as she journeys east with the body of her late husband, she feels that the sympathy of many kind Summerland friends is with her.

C. H. Gayton.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WORK.

Summerland — a wide awake community, eager to take advantage of anything that will be to the benefit. A splendid lot of ladies took up the Institute work and the society should progress rapidly. A good meeting in respect of interest and numbers.

This is the brief report of Miss Rose, of Guelph, Ontario, who recently visited Summerland in the interests of the Women's Institute.

:: Naramata Notes ::

Mr. W. Armour is away to Calgary on business. He is expected back in a few weeks.

The presence of a light covering of snow is contributing much to the enjoyment of the youths who coast on the hills near town.

Mrs. Gillespie will deliver a New Year's message next Sunday evening at 7.30. All are welcome. Subject: Visions and realities of 1911.

Miss Orca Williams, a student at the Provincial Normal School, Vancouver, is holidaying at her parents' home. She reports an attendance of 120 students, of whom only 3 are men. Comment is unnecessary.

Rev. Mr. Allan, of Winnipeg, is visiting at the home of his son Mr. A. B. Allan, of this place who is at present seriously ill. The reverend gentleman will conduct the Methodist service next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Preparations for the third annual ball conducted under the auspices of the Athletic Club are now practically complete. This is the big mid-winter social attraction and will doubtless be well attended. Tickets may be obtained from the Secretary, Mr. Howard Rounds. Price $1.00.

Where did the folks spend their Christmas? Most of the families sort of doubled up for the day so as to share the good things together. Quite a number, however, were with friends or relatives elsewhere! Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie were at Summerland, the guests of the latter's son, Mr. M. Manchester, of Hotel Summerland. Mr. and Mrs. Block visited the latter's folks in Kaleden. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and daughter, of Summerland, were guests of Mrs. Salting.

Mr. W. Nuttall has purchased a choice five acre lot south of town, also a small block of town property. These and others that could be mentioned are indications of solidity as regards our real estate proposition. It is the men who are living here, that are acquainted with ALL the conditions, that are doing so much to build up our community. They point the way to others.

Mr. and Mrs. Hancock were at home on Tuesday evening of this week to a long list of invited guests to celebrate the opening of their fine new dwelling. All things considered this was one of the brightest social events of the season. A series of twenty four hands of whist of an ever changing character proved a pleasing departure from the regular routine games in the local card clubs. Midway in the series after the serving of a delicious luncheon Mrs. J. S. Gillespie led in the singing of a number of favourite songs. At the close of the games, close examination of the score cards showed Mr. A. McCulloch the leader with a score of 206. Miss F. Mitchell was the leading lady with a tally of 200, while the gentleman scoring the fewest points was Mr. George Cook, and Miss Minnie Block bore the palm for this position for the ladies. Handsome prizes were awarded to each of these contestants.

The Council has called a public meeting for the discussion of municipal affairs, to be held in the Council Chamber, Summerland, on Tuesday afternoon next, at 2 o'clock. This is an important meeting, and all ratepayers should make a point of being present. Members of the Council will attend and will be prepared to answer any questions or give any information regarding the past year's work. A large attendance is looked for.

A GENUINE SENSATION.

Exhibition Commissioner E. E. UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.

ENTER WITH GLADNESS THE YEAR 1911.

Taking the past year as an indication of what the future has in store, we of Summerland and district may enter with gladness the race promised for the year 1911, knowing positively the outcome. We do not know of another district in this great Dominion with a future as bright as ours so assured. We have so much in our favor and so little against us. It rests entirely with the individual whether he shall go forward or go backward, and it may almost be said each sets his own pace in the direction he is headed. Fortunes are to be made here, but, best of all, there is in the making here the ideal home for the ideal individual under ideal conditions.

THOUGHTS ON ENTERING THE NEW YEAR.

The Summerland district is primarily a fruit district. With its fertile aluvial benches under the present perfect irrigation system, can produce the choicest peaches, apricots, nectarines and plums in the world, and, as was proven at the National Apple Show, when it comes to apples, the King of Fruits, Summerland ranks with the highest.

It is conceded that ours is the Peach Belt of the far-famed Okanagan; we have also demonstrated that we can raise the best apples in competition with the best of the great apple growing localities. We can, in fact grow in abundance the best of anything that can be grown in any temperate zone, and a great deal that other districts cannot produce at all. Therefore, if other localities under less favorable conditions, can succeed, how much greater must be the measure of our success.

And, what is more to our advantage, in addition to having as near perfect conditions as can be found anywhere in the matter of climate, irrigation, soil and men, we have our lands cut up into five and ten acre blocks—the ideal acreage for the greatest success in fruit raising. And upon each block we have successful men by successful means developing their orchards to produce QUALITY.

These facts are patent to residents of the district, and are only mentioned to indicate to others, in a measure unfamiliar with the locality, the reason for our optimism. We feel that the words of Mr. Roosevelt on irrigation have been made true in the experience of Summerland fruit growers, and they will be even more fully appreciated as our orchards come to maturity.

"I believe," said he at the recent irrigation congress, "the purchase of irrigated land to be the best for the man of small means to make himself independent. And I believe I am qualified to pass judgment as I have been interested in irrigation matters locally and nationally for fifteen years. The results are simply astonishing to those unfamiliar with the great subject of irrigation. And I believe the happiest man these days is the man with the little ten-acre irrigated farm—even five acres is enough to support a family and keep it busy. The owner of a ten acre irrigated farm doesn't have to knuckle to the boss nor strain his conscience in the intense commercialism of the day. His income is practically untouched by financial depression. His living and peace of mind are not dependent upon the whim of any man. He is king of his own domain. He can make his ten acres earn as much as a quarter section (160 acres) unirrigated will produce as much as between $20,000 and $80,000 in cash would bring, loaned out at six per cent."

A single orchard in Vermont has advertised that state before the world as one where fortunes may be made in apples; and if fortunes are to be made there in apples, what may we say of this locality? The crop of this Vermont orchard for 1909 realized $20,000 and crops of previous years also brought large sums. And the area of this Vermont orchard is only 100 acres. The owner of this orchard, Mr. Chas. T. Holmes, has refused an offer of $50,000 for it.

This price to everyday farmers would seem to be extravagant, but on analysing it is found to be very modest. Supposing the trees of the orchard are set 30 feet apart each way, an acre contains 50 of them, and who would hesitate to pay $10 a piece for apple trees such as these in full bearing, with the land thrown in? A number of acres in this 100-acre apple orchard paid a clear profit of $500 an acre.

But of all the legitimate get-rich-quick farming propositions, there is none to compare with celery farming, and there is no land better adapted to this industry than the black meadow lands south of Summerland, now in the hands of the Lakeside Stock and Dairy Ltd. Company. At Armstrong, some of the celery raisers, realize as much as $800 to $1000 per acre for a single crop, and the land is not one whit better than that of the Dairy Company's. And in the Garden Magazine for January, we see the letters of eight celery growers of Sanford, Fla., who state that the annual profit from their celery farms is not less than $1000 an acre, and many seasons it is more.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING.

At the ratepayers's meeting which was held on the flat on Wednesday, a lot of dust, not unlike a thin filmy mud was thrown around, and rumors—they were legion.

As to business, very little was done. In the first place, no councillor being present, it was not possible to ask them any questions, the reason for their absence being presumably because they were not aware of the meeting, or had not been informed that their presence was expected.

It was thought an opportune time also to make suggestions as to suitable ratepayers for councillors in the event of a change being necessary. But everything was so beautifully indefinite, so indescribably vague that nothing of moment was done, with the exception of the last resolution of the evening, viz. the inauguration of a Ratepayers' Association. Such an Association would be beneficial if it merely saw to it that such meetings as Wednesday's were carried out in a businesslike manner and with despatch. A proper agenda should be drawn up, and adhered to, and when finished, the meeting thrown open for discussion. By this means, maybe, something would be accomplished and we would not feel that an evening had been wasted.

SPLENDID WORK DONE.

Mr. J. C. Metcalfe, who kept an eye on the fruit markets of Manitoba and the north-west the past season for the provincial government, has issued his final report of the season's work, and in this report Mr. Metcalfe has made many valuable suggestions. In part he says: "All that was last year said as to the need of increasing supplies may be said with equal truth this year. The proof of this is that much of the success of the season just closing was due to our being able to supply fruits of one variety in larger quantities than was possible last year. Fewer varieties and larger quantities must be the motto of British Columbia fruit growers for many years to come, always bearing in mind the varieties suited to the different districts and the markets to be supplied.

"Competition from the American side and Ontario will be just as keen as ever, but the past season has given British Columbia a grip on the trade which she did not have before, as the persistent advertising of our fruit is beginning to have results, and wherever our fruit was given a fair trial it made good. The largeness of our crop this season was a factor also in making jobbers more willing to trade with us than formerly.

"While, as stated in my report last year, the fruit houses of the prairie provinces are largely controlled by American capital, the claim which they made last year that they were free to buy the best fruit in the cheapest market has been made good in a great measure as many of them this season bought more than the independent houses.

"The season just passed has marked progress along many lines for the British Columbia fruit growers, and the success of the future is largely in their own hands. With a corresponding improvement in each coming year the prophecy of Earl Grey will be fulfilled, and our province will find that she has a greater asset in her orchards than in her mines."

HOME RULE ALL ROUND.

Commenting on the final result of the British elections, the London correspondent of the Canadian Courier, after pointing out the certain gradual giving way of the House of Lords, asks: "Where does Home Rule for Ireland come in?" He then proceeds to answer his own question: "Well, I hold to the view that it will be included in a general scheme of Home Rule all round—home rule for Ireland, for Scotland, and for Wales—home rule in domestic affairs, as it exists in Canada, in Australia, in New Zealand, and in South Africa. When? That is not easy to say. No doubt the scheme will be prepared and submitted to the next Imperial Conference. Whether the decision is left to the conference or not, their ruling will undoubtedly have a great influence on the future action of the Government on this wide subject. Events will probably show that the excitement of the limiting of the Lord's veto will be followed by a period—perhaps extending to a couple of years—of comparative calm, during which a fair amount of domestic legislation will go through. Then Mr. Asquith may take his courage in both hands again, and go to the country once more, with the Reform Bill and the Home Rule all round as the principal items of his new programme."

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

Silas, my dear; leave croaking to the frogs. If your doorway is dark to-day, and your foresight poor; if you cannot see the bright side of the clouds overshadowing your pathway, go and immerse yourself in a bathtub; then go to bed and take an Epsomized sleep. To-morrow you will awake with radiating cheer, and prosperity will be budding on every bush. Boost yourself higher. Of course, the world could get along without you; but not so well as with you. It's up to you, Silas dear. If things are not coming your way, catch them as they fly by; hold them to you—they are yours as much as they are others. How lopsided your life would be if all that is were yours and came to you without any effort on your part! Why, bless you dear old grumble bug, if you have to make no effort for what you have you lose the very source of preparation for the next good thing in the line of accomplishment. There isn't anything else for it. Adam started his sons off wrong. The fault is yours, not Eve's.

THE OKANAGAN BOOSTER.

Many are the wonderful stories told of the productive nature of the soil in the Okanagan valley, and the optimism of the inhabitants measures well up to the high quality of the land.

A gentleman from the east, travelling through B.C. recently, made the acquaintance on the train of a booster from the Okanagan. The talk travelled over the Portuguese situation and dwelt on the possibilities of the C.P.Ry., but the Okanagan man finally brought it round to the, to him, only topic; the way things grew where he came from.

"I hear they grow tobacco at Kelowna," remarked the stranger who had seen an exhibit of the weed at New Westminster exhibition.

This gave the Okanagan man his opening.

"Yes," said he, "they grow tobacco there and good tobacco, and there is going to be money made on the smokers in the Okanagan. Why, there is a chap named Tait at Summerland who last year had some Calabash seed sent to him. You know what Calabash are? Those gourds they make the big yellow pipes of. Well, he planted the seed and grew some of the finest Calabash this year you ever saw and next year he's going to do a little bur-banking between his Calabash plants and the tobacco plants at Kelowna, and all the people will then have to do is to cut off a Calabash gourd, stick a straw in the other end and smoke up, for it is figured out that the pulp of the gourd will be full of fine cut tobacco."

Since then the man from the east is getting his information of the country from government pamphlets and personal observation.—Pontin Advance.

SNOW AND THE GARDEN.

Snow on the ground is useful and welcome as a mantle. It is the best kind of mulch and helps the bulbs and everything else that is living over the winter.

If you have specimen evergreens or very fine shrubs that hold the snow on the branches or in the foliage, it is an entirely different proposition. Sometimes the weight of the snow will cause a tree or a limb to bend over and if it remains any time its original upright position is never regained. Therefore, after heavy falls of snow, take a stick or a broom and knock all the snow off from all the specimen evergreens. Do not bother about removing the snow from beds and do not worry if you have to throw the snow over the beds when clearing the walks. It is much better to have the snow there than on the bare ground. Bare ground lets off moisture in the sunshine and in the wind.—Garden Magazine.

PARTICULAR AS TO BRAND.

As the "Okanagan" came into port on Friday morning extraordinary groans, grunts and screeches smote upon the ears of the people gathered on the wharf, the thudness of which was soon explained by the musicians laying aside for the time being their unmusical instruments and bursting into an elaborate college yell of the Yankee type. It was about a score of the boys and girls of Okanagan College, Summerland, homeward bound for the Christmas holidays. Bedecked with gorgeous ribbons bearing the name of the college, they invaded the town for a few minutes while the boat lay at the wharf. All things are forgiven to the young and the joyous, but we do wish the students would make a Canadian kind of a noise, those American importations of the yell order do not represent any Canadian characteristics, and are neither clever nor musical.—Kelowna Courier.

Dominie Paul, a Siwash Indian who, at the Garnet Valley mill this week caused trouble with a gun, through the liquor he had imbibed, was tried on Thursday, and fined $20 and costs, and suspended sentence for twelve months.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

The officers of Summerland lodge, No. 56, A. F. & A. M., were duly installed on Tuesday evening the 27th inst., J. C. Robson, P. M., assisted by C. M. Smith, P. M. performing the ceremony. The following officers were installed:

After the Installation ceremonies were over the members and visitors enjoyed an oyster supper, followed by a short but interesting programme of music and speeches.

The annual meeting of the Farmer's Institute will be held in the Municipal Hall, Summerland, on January 3rd, at 8 o'clock. The business will be the election of officers for the ensuing year, the presentation of various reports, and other matters. The festive season was duly celebrated at the hotel in the good old fashioned way. The dining room being specially decorated, and looked very pretty with its arrangement of asparagus fern, oregon grape, and crimson ribbon. Many tables were reserved by private parties for dinner, which was excellent, and fully up to the standard of first-class hotels.

Mr. and Mrs. Manchester entertained a few friends Saturday evening to a midnight banquet, and a very merry, joyous time was spent, Santa Claus being very generous and very much in evidence. The genial Mark, wearing a broader smile than usual, which may be due to his being the recipient on this occasion (which by the way is also his birthday) of a handsome gold watch. The host and hostess were ideal, and left nothing to be desired for the happiness and comfort of their guests, who unite in wishing them a Happy and Prosperous New Year.—A Guest.

RICH RED BLOOD.

You Will Never Have It as Long as You Have Dyspepsia.

Just as long as you have dyspepsia your food will not properly digest, and the nutritious elements in the food will not be extracted or absorbed, and impoverished or watery blood will follow.

This condition may not be apparent at first, but it will come just as sure as the sun will rise again.

Any stomach ailment, including all forms of indigestion, can be promptly cured by using Mi-o-na tablets, a scientific treatment unsurpassed.

It stops fermentation, belching of gas and taste of sour food almost at once.

The mighty power of Mi-o-na to invigorate and restore the stomach to perfect condition is known everywhere.

Mi-o-na cures by building up—by banishing the cause. For thin people it is a great flesh builder, because it causes the stomach to give more and purer nutrition to the blood. It cures sea and car sickness and vomiting of pregnancy almost immediately. The Summerland Drug Co. sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box, and guarantees it to cure or money back.
