ELECTORS CARRY 'PHONE BY-LAW

Company is Granted Franchise for Ten Years--District Protected as to Rates and Efficiency.

Summerland Polls Largest Vote in the Three Interested Municipalities---Only Six Votes Recorded against the By-law---Council Holds Session and By-law Becomes Operative--Ratepayers hold Meeting prior to Polling Day and Pass Resolution of Approval.

Summerland, 74 votes cast, 72 for and 2 against.

Penticton, 57 votes cast, 54 for and 3 against.

Peachland, 52 votes cast, 51 for and 1 against.

Total number of votes cast, 183, of which 177 were for and 6 against.

Such was the result of Wednesday's vote on the Telephone by law, and the users of telephones are drawing long breaths of relief on account of the danger of being compelled to run out in the cold every time they want to know the correct time or to make their apologies for not attending their neighbor's tea party, being obviated.

There were rumors afloat of considerable opposition to the granting of the franchise and many were in doubt as to how the vote was going to pan out. It is a curious fact that the majority of the votes polled were by those who lived farthest away from the polling booth. A large proportion of the down town voters did not think it worth their while to exercise their powers of franchise.

On Thursday a special meeting of the Council was held and the Lake Shore Telephone By-Law which had been approved on the preceding day received its final reading and became operative.

In connection with the "public" meeting for the discussion of the telephone question, is it not a pity that meetings of that description are not called in a little more business-like manner. So far as can be learned, the meeting to discuss the question was called on the spur of the moment by unofficial persons all of whom were not qualified to vote on the measure, and as a result many who would like to have heard the matter fully discussed, knew nothing about the meeting until it was over.

It is true that the bylaw was published in the papers, but only a small proportion of readers care to wade through legal documents, as they are usually couched in terms hard for the untrained mind to comprehend, and more than that, at the meeting in question, facts came to light which did not appear in the by-law and which every voter should have been conversant with.

On Tuesday evening an impromptu meeting was held in the Municipal Hall, and a number of business men met together for the purpose of discussing the Telephone By-law question. There were about twenty-five gentlemen present and Dr. Smith was voted to the chair. After a short time spent in debate Mr. J. L. Logie, municipal clerk, was called upon to give his explanation of the by-law and its workings. After having gained the consent of the Reeve and Council he carefully outlined the situation, and in reply to one of the speakers who had advocated the owning and operating of the telephone system by the municipality, stated that it was beyond the jurisdiction of the municipality to own and operate a telephone system. Private individuals within the municipality might operate a telephone system, but all that could at the present time be operated by a municipality was its water and light systems. The Consolidated Municipalities had attempted to get their privileges extended so as to own and operate telephones.

The matter was very freely and fairly discussed and Mr. Logie pointed out very clearly that if the by-law was defeated it would mean that on the day following the whole telephone system would be compelled to shut down until such times as a new company could be formed to carry on the work.

The meeting eventually passed the following resolution: Moved by B. C. Moore--H. Cancellor--That the meeting approve the action of the Council in preparing and submitting of a by-law to the people, and agree to support the same.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS CELEBRATE XMAS

METHODIST AND BAPTIST CHILDREN ENJOY SPLENDID EVENINGS.

Christmas Trees of Surprising Magnitude Grace the Platforms—Santa Claus Makes Usual Appearance—Delightful Programmes.

On Christmas Eve the Methodist S. S. gave a Christmas tree entertainment in the Men's club which was thoroughly enjoyed by old and young alike.

The hall was beautifully decorated under the management of Martin Beavis. On the front wall on a dark blue background, bordered with Oregon grapevine, was a large gilt star, beneath it, worked out with true artistic taste were the words "Merry Christmas" the line beneath this had at each end a cross and in the centre a heart. Chains of tissue paper being around the hall and intermingled in the tree with flowers, which showed to advantage with the aid of electric lights of different colors strung in the tree.

The tree was large and symmetrical and presented a splendid appearance, laden down with the numerous gifts.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the Superintendent, J. R. Brown took the chair and in a neat opening address called upon the children who under the direction of Miss Robson gave a most enjoyable and varied programme.

There were nineteen short numbers, everyone of which was good. Special mention cannot be made of any without mentioning all. Old Santa put in an appearance by the gallery door and climbed down a ladder beside the tree to the great delight of the children. Santa Claus then presented the gifts, not forgetting any of the children and remembering many of the grown up folks in such a manner as to call forth peals of laughter. When his pleasant task was done, he waved a farewell to the children and wished them God speed until another Christmas time.

The Christmas entertainment in the Parkdale Baptist Church was a very enjoyable affair and the Church was filled with the parents and friends of the children. The two Sunday Schools were united for the occasion, and judging by the general spirit of the gathering, all had a good time. The programme was just the right length and the boys and girls who participated acquitted themselves in a very creditable mauner. The superintendent of the Parkdale Sunday School, Mr. J. J. Wallace, filled the office of chairman and heartily welcomed the guests of the evening. The schools united in singing three excellent choruses under the leadership of Mr. J. F. Faulkner, assisted by the orchestra of the down town Sunday School. The following items were then rendered by the scholars and friends:

Violin Solo	- - - -	Mr. Hunt
Recitation	- - - -	M. Phinney
Drill	- - - -	Mrs. White's Class
Recitation	- - - -	Gertrude Angwin
Candle Drill	- - - -	Miss Raleigh's Class
Recitation	- - - -	Hugh Estabrook
Violin Solo	- - - -	Mr. Hunt

Trial of Santa Claus.
Miss Chute's Class, Mr. Williams' Class, and others.

The latter exercise was entitled "Is Santa Claus a Fraud," and the plot was very amusing and the costumes appropriate to the occasion.

Then came the arrival of Santa Claus and the unloading of the immense tree which occupied a conspicuous place on the platform. All the scholars were remembered as well as the teachers, and there were candy bags galore. The decorations were very tasty and appropriate. The windows and pillars were festooned with evergreens and a large motto above the platform wished all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

BONNIE BRIAR BUSH.

"Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush" will be presented here on Thursday next, Jan. 6, in Empire hall.

It appears as though Ian McLaren's story of the Bonnie Briar bush as dramatized by Jas MacArthur would never grow old. Its success has been and is still phenomenal but it is not a success which cannot be accounted for. Of all the good plays that have graced the stage, the Bonnie Briar Bush is the best and purest. It is a story of human interest, unfolding a life in the simple Scottish glen, so true to nature and life as to appeal with irresistible force to the audience. It is a comedy drama which like good wine improves with age. It is fragrant with the heather of Bonnie Scotland, and is enlivened with pointed yet harmless Scottish wit.

AMATEUR DRAMATICS.

On Wednesday evening in Empire Hall, the members of the Amateur Dramatic Society reproduced two farcical comedies in exceptionally good style.

The first, "Turn Him Out," was very laughable and ludicrously funny, and the characters throughout were well chosen, each filling their part with ease and confidence.

"Uncle," a three act comedy, came next and occupied quite the larger portion of the evening. The piece was full of "situations," awkward and otherwise, which were all overcome, and the principals lived happy ever after. It was particularly noticeable how each member of the cast played up to the other, especially so in the case of Messrs. Helmer, Knox and Pares—a better trio it would be difficult to secure.

The Dramatic Society are to be congratulated upon their productions, and their further efforts will be looked forward to with great interest.

At the Balcom Rink on New Year's Day there will be a Hockey Match between Prairie Valley and Town.

Mr. J. H. Stanton, manager of the Massey-Harris Co., for New Brunswick spent a day in Summerland this week and renewed the acquaintance of Reeve Agur and Rev. R. J. McIntyre. There is a possibility of Mr. Stanton becoming a resident here in the near future.

DEATH OF LACHLAN McDONALD.

One of the oldest residents in this section of the Okanagan in the person of Lachlan McDonald, better known as "Lachie" died at the Summerland hospital on Monday last after a short stay at that place.

Lachie had been in poor health for a long time, but through it all he had a gentle and a courteous word for everybody. He was one of the first employees of the Summerland Development Company and during the irrigation season always had charge of the headwater gates. He had considerable property in the valley as well as in the east.

The deceased while in Summerland usually batched with George Loomer in Peach Orchard. While many knew that he was in poor health, the news of his death was totally unexpected. He had reached the age of 67.

The funeral service was conducted in the Methodist church by Revs. McIntyre and Hood, while Rev. Mr. Hood conducted the service at the grave side.

The pall bearers were Messrs. C. Thomson, R. H. English, F. Munro, H. Gallagher, G. Loomer and Wilson. The remains were interred in the local cemetery.

TREE CENSUS.

All orchard owners will have received a form with an explanatory letter, asking for full details, or as full as can be given, of all trees owned by them.

This census, when complete, will be of inestimable value not only to the individual grower but to the district as a whole, as when facts and figures have been tabulated it will be known to a tree the number of each sort of fruit, and in addition to this will be able to say positively that there are at least a certain number of each of the leading varieties of apples, peaches, etc., knowing that there are more of these varieties which the owners have been unable to classify.

This is the sort of thing that the wholesale buyers need to know, and knowing that the district has large quantities of certain varieties will lead to an increased demand for those varieties.

Mr. G. L. Parker departed on Friday's boat for Vernon on a few days' trip.

On Thursday morning Mr. W. J. Robinson left for a trip to the coast.

Mrs. Anderson, Sr. who has been staying with her son George for a few weeks, departed on Wednesday's boat for Kelowna, where she goes to reside for a little while.

Mr. J. C. Robson went to Kelowna on Wednesday morning to represent Summerland at a Laymen's Missionary Banquet there.

The Lake Shore Telephone Company is now able to guarantee a very much improved service between here and Vernon on account of having just completed the installation of a metallic copper circuit between Kelowna and Vernon. The line has also hitherto been used conjointly for telegraph and telephone service and the telegraph service is now run on a separate line.

The Junior Bible Classes of the Methodist and Baptist Sunday Schools have issued the invitations for the annual bachelors' dinner which is to be held in Empire Hall this (Friday) evening. The committee in charge has secured as many names as possible and the invitations have been sent out very freely. The committee is aware of the fact that some may have been overlooked, and throws wide the door for all bachelors not enjoying the comforts of a home who may not have received an invitation by mail. The spread will be of the best as it has been on former occasions, and an all round good time is anticipated.

It will be noticed by the advertisement in another portion of this paper that the pound man is getting busy and that there will be a big sale of impounded animals very shortly unless the owners also get busy and redeem them. Those who value their stock would be wise to run over the descriptions of the animals in pound if they have not seen their strays within the past few weeks.

W. Arthur Battye, of Vernon, the piano-forte tuner, wishes to convey his thanks to his numerous clients in Summerland for their patronage in the past and to inform them that he has severed his connection with the Mason & Risch Piano Co., believing that his reputation as a tuner will be more assured by that course. He is now entirely free to visit only such territory as he deems advisable. He will pay particular attention to Summerland, and possessing as he does the confidence of the musical portion of the community, trusts that they will be loyal to him.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1910.

THE YEAR 1910.

The Review wishes its readers, every one a bright and blessed New Year.

We have at least set foot upon the threshold of the year 1910; let us trust in Providence for the days to come and console ourselves with the reflection of that Irishman who said he observed that if he only managed to reach the month of January he always lived through that year.

The year nineteen hundred and ten is the product of the years that have gone before it and in turn it will contribute something by way of seed thoughts and deeds which ripen into the events of the future. This is true both nationally and individually. Heaven grant the sowing may be of the right sort.

The year 1909 was one of more than ordinary meaning nationally, it has launched us on a naval policy, the end of which no man can tell. By Imperial press and trade conferences it has helped very materially to "knit up the ravelled sleeve" of Empire. By the failing of the natural resources of the United States; the widening advertisement of our own and the prestige in Washington of a British Ambassador who has an eye sharp enough to see the form and destiny of Canada, we have risen to a diplomatic height and influence never before reached.

Internationally the troubled rumors of absorption of Corea by Japan, and that of further absorption of the Canal zone by the Americans are full of meaning for the future. Nearer yet, and more full of deadly meaning to us is the social turmoil in Britain, coupled with the tremendous war-like activity of Germany. The death list of last year, large as it was, is of comparative insignificance beside these. They are birds of ill omen for the future, though 1910 will scarcely witness their full fruition.

Coming nearer home our province seems to have been prospered. A surplus of over five million in the treasury; a credit re-established; the inauguration of a vigorous campaign for the singeing of the liquor vampire and the launching by almost unanimous consent of a policy of railway expansion, make the year stand out in provincial history as one of no mean quality.

What the year that is on us shall reveal, who can tell? "Heaven from all creation hides, the book of fate." But with that healthy optimism which seems to be the quality of sanity, we look for better things than ever before. The good times are come once more. We expect to ship from 150 to 200 cars of fruit from Summerland this year; our markets are expanding at home and abroad; no fell diseases are rife among us, and so from a parochial standpoint we are pleased to be here on Jan. 1, 1910.

May it fare equally well with the rest of the world. May commercial difficulties be adjusted, war be obviated and the poor find their lot improved by wiser legislation. May honest politicians receive the heartier support; grafters be discouraged; government and municipal ownership increase; taxes grow less and the sheriff lose his job through lack of business, while the delinquent subscriber comes up with his sub., and the editor in consequence, lays him down to sleep unappalled by drafts as long as a clothes tape to be met on the morrow.

LOOKING FORWARD.

In looking over the conditions extant in the Summerland district, some have been inclined to believe that the day of great development has passed and that the future simply calls for the development and enlargement of things already begun.

Without doubt the growth and increase has been marvellous, but it is also very apparent to those who look beneath the surface that only the borderland has been skirted. The increased acreage of improved land; the vast amount of tree planting; the growing demands upon the water and light systems is pleasing to all who have Summerland's best interests at heart, but if Dame Nature is kind and seasons are favorable, it will be but a short time until the task of handling the fruit of the district will be such a prodigious one that the resources of the manipulators will be taxed to the uttermost. The present boat service is good and efficient according to present needs, but is at the same time cumbersome and with decided limitations, besides entailing a vast amount of labor upon those residing on the upper benches in getting the product of their orchards and gardens down to the front for shipment.

A vote in favor of the proposed electric power and light bylaw will go far towards meeting the needs and with a line of cars running from end to end of the lake, connecting with the C. P. R. at the north and the G. N. R. at the south and with the prospect of speedy connection with the west via Nicola, Summerland will shortly be ideally located in every respect.

Then again, the advent of an electric railway into Summerland means that with the amount the municipal council proposes expending on local improvements, in the neighborhood of $200,000 will be spent in the Summerland district during the coming year.

Then again there is every probability that large as the building of residences in the district has been during the past year the coming year will mark a decided increase in that regard. The greater the development, the greater the need for assistance in the construction of orchards, and thus the residential population will increase by leaps and bounds.

There is no doubt but that the real Summerland is only just coming into her own. There is no need for blue glasses even supposing a few with disordered livers were inclined to feel blue. The prospects were never better. The district is ideal from a fruit grower's standpoint. Pests which are cursing older sections are unknown in Summerland except by name, and the experience of others, brought to bear on the situation obviates the possibility of such dangers gaining a foothold. Articles in fruit growers journals, coupled with personal experience and the counsel given by experienced lecturers provided by the government, are opening the eyes of fruit growers as to what to look for and thus causing any new pests which might appear to be nipped in the bud.

It does not require much of an optimist to recognize the fact that with improved railway connections with the main line for eastern trade and direct connection with the south and the Nicola branch, that there is nothing in the world to prevent Summerland from being the equal, if not the peer of all competitors.

A vote for an electric car service will be a step towards bringing to pass such a condition of affairs.

WHAT WE HAVE WE (SHOULD) HOLD.

EDITOR REVIEW :

Sir:—It appears from the clear, comprehensive and courteous explanations made by Mr. J. L. Logie at the ratepayers' meeting on Tuesday night that the majority of our legislators are in collusion with the corporations which on every hand and every day of the year (not excepting Sunday) are trying to grab all the water powers, charters and franchises not already thrown away by the people for a mess of pottage or less.

It is high time that the electors should bring the strongest possible pressure to bear upon our law-givers to amend the Municipal Clauses Act in accordance with representations already made by Summerland and other councils—to their credit be it said.

These amendments should empower municipalities to acquire, own and operate, or elect commissioners who may purchase, own and operate public utilities, such as tramways, power, telephone and light lines located within the boundaries of such municipalities. Also that in all cases when franchises and licenses to locate and build such works should be granted, the power should be reserved to alter, amend, modify or repeal any charter granted to individuals. That all charters and franchises should be received with the distinct understanding and agreement that any amendment, alteration or repeal of such charter, franchise or license strictly belongs to, and may be exercised by the province or municipality whenever the legislature or municipal council in their wisdom may deem it necessary for the public good, and no claim of equity, vested rights or other contention shall interpose to prevent such action.

This would put an end to the bartering and renewal of franchises, which, in the case of railway corporations at least has been a most infamous scandal in this and other provinces, as well as in Uncle Sam's domains.

Yours truly,

Summerland, CHAS. M. SMITH.

:: Naramata Notes ::

Mr. T. Wellband spent his Christmas holidays at his home in Naramata returning on Tuesday morning to the coast.

An event in Kaleden this week of special interest to our readers was the marriage of Mr. Louis J. Block of Naramata to Miss Hatfield of Summerland. The ceremony was attended only by the immediate relations of the contracting parties.

Mr. C. E. Craig, manager of Niblock properties is busy this week placing on the ground material for a new brick cottage to be constructed early in the season. The cottage will be occupied upon completion by Mr. and Mrs. Niblock.

From fresh tracks in the snow it was judged that a deer had been down through the town one night this week. Possibly Santa Claus has let loose his team of former days and has taken to aerial navigation.

On Christmas Day quite a number of visits were exchanged with friends in Summerland: Mr. and Mrs. Mark Manchester spent week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie here; Miss Chisholm was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stark for the week-end, and Mr. and Mrs. Wolstencroft and Mr. Hy. Mulford amongst others also spent Christmas over the lake.

The concert by the schools on Wednesday night under the able direction of Mrs. A. L. Gillespie was fully up to the standard and the large crowd of enthusiastic supporters were well pleased with the performance. The following is the programme:

Song and Ch., "Hail Starry Night," School Rec. "Missionary Kid" Lois Wells Illus., song "Picnic for Two" Violet and Willie Mitchell.

"Mother Goose and family in Xmas wishes" Miss Hazel Wells assisted by 18 others.

COURSE IN FRUIT CULTURE.

The Department of Horticulture of the Washington State College, located at Pullman, Wash., will give a special short course in Horticulture, commencing Jan. 31st and closing Feb. 12. This will be in part a repetition of last year's very successful course, but the work will be materially improved and many valuable new features will be added.

This course is given in response to the many requests from practical fruit growers of the west and northwest. It will be a rare opportunity for any interested in horticulture to become familiar with the best methods of growing fruit.

The course will consist of from four to six lectures per day and one field demonstration. Persons attending should come prepared to take part in pruning, spraying, grafting, packing, budding and laboratory exercises.

The lectures will deal with the problems as they are found in the west and not as writers in the east say in books. The subjects of propagation of plants, planting of orchards, pruning of fruit trees, cultivation of orchards, cover crops, packing of fruits, insect pests, plant diseases, fighting frost, grape growing, selecting orchard lands, and in fact every phase of fruit growing will be handled by specialists.

The course will be free and open to any one who may desire to take advantage of it. The only expense connected with the work will be the necessary railway fares and board and rooms while at Pullman.

An attempt is being made to secure a fare and one-third rate for the term.

For further information write to W. S. Thornber, Prof., of Horticulture, Pullman, Wash.

The Methodist choir will render the Cantata "The Shepherd King" on Monday evening at Penticton.

OKANAGAN FRUIT GREATLY PRAISED

SILVER GILT BANKSIAN MEDAL COMES TO THE VALLEY.

Province Honored by Okanagan's Display---Fruit Reaches England in First Class Shape---Packing Very Highly Commended.

Mr. W. E. Scott, in charge of the Provincial Government fruit exhibit sent over to the old country last October, in communicating with the Okanagan Fruit Union from England in connection with the exhibit writes:

"The fruit I received from your union for exhibition purposes in the old country has been very satisfactory, the packing of the fruit being remarkably good. It has opened up in almost perfect condition, and hardly a bruise can be seen.

We have been very successful in our exhibition work up to the present date, having secured the highest honors wherever we have exhibited."

In writing to the Union on Dec. 6th he says:

"I am pleased to inform you that your Union was awarded the Silver Gilt Banksian Medal at the Royal Horticultural Society's Show, Vincent Square, London.

Allow me to congratulate you on the particularly fine showing made by your fruit which was a credit to the Province."

A PRIVATE OPINION.

Mr. J. M. Sutherland furnishes the following extract from a letter received by him from a friend in England:

I saw the exhibit of British Columbia at the Edinburgh Flower Show. I really never saw anything so good in my life. The stand was packed with people all day, and some of the wholesale dealers from Covent Garden told me the fruit was far and away the finest on the London market."

Coming from an independent source such praise is encouraging, and helps to prove that Okanagan fruit "makes good" wherever it is found and is an evidence of the wisdom of the local government in yearly sending a good fruit exhibit to the old country.

BACHELORS ENJOY ANNUAL BANQUET

Empire Hall Scene of Festivity---Choice Spread of Good Things Provided---Programme of Music, Wit and Humor Participated in.

On Friday evening, Dec. 31st, about 70 batching bachelors and friends sat down to a glorious spread in Empire hall, at the invitation of the junior bible classes of the down town Sunday schools.

The ladies of the two classes acted as waitresses in a very pleasing manner, taking the merry jests of the guests in the same manner as they were given.

Mr. C. S. Stevens acted as chairman, and made a few remarks upon the origin of the banquet and the way in which it had grown. He hoped that it would become a standing institution, and he had no reason whatever to doubt but what that would be the case, seeing that this the present one was the third during successive years.

Revs. Estabrook, Hood, Elmhurst, Sawyer, McIntyre, Solly, and Mr. Browell, were called upon for a few remarks, which were all very well received and had bearing upon the work of the Sunday schools and a welcome to any of them.

Intermixed with the speeches was a little programme consisting of readings, violin selections, etc., to which the following contributed: Solo, Miss Bartholomew; Pianoforte solo, Mr. Jones; Reading, Mr. Robson; Violin solo, Mr. Dewar; Solo, Mr. Derrick; Solo, Mr. Collinge.

The proceedings were brought to a close about 9 o'clock p. m., with a toast to the ladies, by Dr. Smith, which was responded to by Mr. Robson.

The guests then retired amid mutual expressions of good will.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL MEETING

Agitate for Experimental Farm---Want Privilege of Issuing Marriage Licenses Locally---Appoint Delegates to Meet Associated Boards.

A meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade was held in the Secretary's office on Monday, Jan. 3rd, 1910, at 2 p. m.

There were present Messrs. R. H. Agur, A. Stark, R. H. English and Sec., Treas., C. H. Cordy. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed and correspondence was read.

Arising out of the minutes and correspondence, the Secretary was instructed to write to the Associated Boards, re copy of resolution in connection with the proposed Experimental farm, of which he was instructed to send a copy to Mr. Martin Burrell, M.P., asking him if a reply has been received.

To Mr. F. W. Peters asking for a reply re cannery.

To send photographs as selected to the Hon. J. H. Turner, agent general for B.C., Messrs. Bulman Bros., Winnipeg, and the Mail Publishing Co., Vancouver, and also six photos to the Dominion government which will be used throughout the Dominion in illustrated lectures.

Stark-English-That Messrs. Cordy and English be delegates to the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade to be held at Kelowna on Wednesday, Jan. 26th.

Stark-English-That the Secretary be instructed to write to the Hon. Price Ellison asking that an Issuer of Marriage Licenses be appointed at Summerland and stating that while such an appointment has been in force for some years at Penticton, there is no issuer of licences here.

Stark-English-That the account for $50 from Heaton's Agency for half page ad'vt in "The Commercial Handbook of Canada" and "Opportunities in Canada" be paid.

In connection with the above the President explained that this was one of the best advertising media in Canada, and that as the agent was only in for one day he therefore took the space.

CRUCIAL POINT IN LOCAL AFFAIRS

Eventful as the past year has been in municipal affairs, the coming year is so pregnant with great issues that 1909 is dwarfed into apparent insignificance and few who are familiar with the situation will feel like taking upon themselves the responsibility of directing public affairs. It is a fact that a member of a council, whether city or rural must be a man in whose heart is a strong desire for the well-being of the district in which he lives, and one who is prepared to make personal sacrifices for the benefit of his fellow men.

The lot of a councillor is no sinecure. The eyes of his fellow men are upon him and his every action is interpreted according to the degree of friendliness or enmity with which his critic regards him. That of course is the penalty to be paid by every man who allows himself to be elected to a public office, but none the less hard to bear when the position held by the one criticised puts neither dollars or doughnuts in his pocket and he just holds his office out of pure interest in the well-being of the constituency in which he lives. Neither the Reeve or the members of the council draw any remuneration for their services, the positions being purely honorary, therefore those who hold them practically place themselves beyond criticism in that respect.

Summerland has no need whatever to be ashamed of her public men. The members of the Summerland Municipal Council rank high as men of integrity, business ability and all round intelligence and few districts or cities of far greater pretensions can boast of as capable a body of legislators.

The past year gives evidence of an all round development. Those who compare the condition of the roads of the district today with the roads of two years ago will notice a splendid advancement. The old roads have been placed in first class shape and new roads and bridges have been built, which have shortened distances, reduced grades and lessened the wear and tear upon both horses, vehicles and pedestrians. In roads and bridges alone, a sum approximating $13,800 was expended. In all in the municipality during 1909, the sum of about $17,300 was invested. Of this amount, $9,500 came from the previous year's taxes. Taxes last year, amounted to about $5,000, and it is a gratifying fact that practically the entire taxes of the district were paid in time to secure the rebate, thus proving in a satisfactory and irrefutable manner that the people of Summerland are not only solvent but prosperous in spite of the disappointment attendant on last year's crop situation.

Great as was the responsibility attendant upon the administration of affairs last year, the task will be vastly more onerous during the year upon which we have just entered. So important are the issues in sight that it would be difficult to assign them places according to their relative degrees of importance in the municipality.

First however may be mentioned the probable assumption, according to the will of the electors, of the Summerland Development Co's water franchises, recently valued by expert engineers, which will involve the issuing of debentures, the expenditure of great sums of money, and the undertaking of a contract which will be a tax upon experts, to say nothing of men who are possessed simply of a high order of intelligence.

By way of for a moment lifting the veil of the future, the vast interests at stake in the community may before long lead to the handing over of the management of public affairs to an expert board of control instead of by the present system.

Upon the waterworks proposition the electors will be asked to express themselves by means of the ballot on the 15th, and upon them rests the burden of deciding—"To be or not to be."

Whatever is done must be done quickly as the irrigation season is not far distant and much must be done in order to have things in readiness for it.

Then again there is the possibility of an electric Railway coming through the district and upon that question also the people must decide. The admission of such a line will without doubt be of incomparable value to the district but will entail the deeding of certain rights and privileges over to a corporation, and there are those who are on principle opposed to such action.

The meeting which is to be held in Municipal hall on Monday morning, commencing at 10 o'clock will be an important one and it will be well for all interested to be present and doubtless an opportunity will be given the electors to express themselves. The Reeve and councillors will give an account of their stewardship and so far as can be learned, when the hour for nomination comes, will accept nomination at the urgent request of their friends.

The general opinion seems to be that it would not be merely a pity but a decided menace to the public interests if the affairs of the municipality were taken out of the hands of the present administrators and placed in the hands of untried men. The members of the present council have launched the schemes now awaiting the voice of the people, and it would be unfair if they were not given a chance to demonstrate their ability still further.

Several names have been mentioned as probable candidates for the Reeveship. Mr. B. C. Moore was mentioned as being in the field, but on being approached on the question, denied it emphatically. He had no intention whatever of mixing in municipal affairs as he considered that the members had the experience which he lacked.

Mr. H. C. Mellor's name was also mentioned. On being interviewed, Mr. Mellor stated that he had been urged by a number of his friends to stand for office, and he felt himself that a change would be beneficial, but the forthcoming year promised to be such a full one, both for the council and in his own business that he hardly saw his way clear to make the sacrifice. He would not say however as to what his action would be, he would be guided entirely by circumstances.

Councillor C. H. Thomson was also mentioned as a candidate for the Reeve's office and on being approached stated that he had been approached along that line but was positively not in the field. He considered the present Reeve by far the ablest man available. One or two other names have been mentioned, but in a very indefinite manner. The nominations on Monday may however contain a few surprises and it would be well for every elector to be present and get in touch with local politics.

COLLEGE GYMNASIUM.

There is every prospect that this year will see a large and well equipped gymnasium added to the college plant. An idea sprang up among some of the students that if the people interested in Okanagan College were approached with a sensible and reasonable scheme to put up such a building, it would meet with a generous response. Rough plans were formed and the scheme submitted to the College Board for approval, on obtaining which immediate steps were taken to bring the matter before the public. The students started the subscription list with nearly $200, and sent Mr. Ward Duncan to the coast as their representative, whose efforts were very successful. He raised somewhere in the neighborhood of $1500, and with the money raised and expected to be forthcoming in Summerland and elsewhere, the project has passed the doubtful stage. Indeed, definite steps were taken at a recent meeting of the Board of Governors to hasten plans as much as possible, and it is expected that work will start with the spring.

The site for the proposed building is at the foot of college hill.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Farmers' Institute will be held in Municipal Hall on Monday evening, January 10th, at 8 o'clock.

After the business of the evening has been disposed of there will be a discussion on Peach Culture and the most profitable varieties to grow in this district.

The subject will be opened with an address by Mr. H. S. Lewes, who is well able to handle such an important theme. All fruit growers are cordially invited to be present and take part in this discussion, which should prove very interesting and instructive. All members of the Institute are urged to endeavour to bring their friends along with them to this meeting.

Opportunity will be given to receive new members. The annual fee is only fifty cents, and members are entitled to receive free copies of all publications issued by the Department of Agriculture at Victoria.

Mr. J. McCurdy, one of the old timers of the Fairview district arrived in town this week and brought with him one of his sons who is now enrolled as a student of Okanagan college.

Those who are ambitious to catch a place on the team will do well to bear this fact in mind and turn out to practice as promptly as possible.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor; are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. BONNIE BRIER BUSH.

Yon wis a rale treat for the Scotties on Thursday nicht whan this play o' Ian MacLaren's was pit fornenst the folks o' this toon in the Empire Ha'. It's juist an auld fashioned story o' the lives o' simple folks in ane o' oor Scottish glens.

The actors, the maist feck o' them bein' Scotch thirselves, played their pairts gey weel, an' the pawky humor o' that awfu' reprobate, an' frien' o' a' the weans, Postie, an' the pathos an' solemnity o' puir auld Lauchlan Campbell were juist "the rale Mackay."

There wis a guid when o' folks cam' tae the play, but et the start they didna a' juist seem tae get a grup o' the natur' o' the Drumtochty folk an' were a wee bit inclined tae treat the hale thing as a joke. Maybe they hadna read Ian Maclaren's book an' sae didna ken whit a pickle puir bonnie wee Flora had gotten hersel intae, or whit a serious character auld Lauchlan wis. But by the feenish o' the sacond act maist o' the audience had gruppit the root o' the maitter and were in sympathy wi' the players, an' they, feelin' this, juist wired in tae their wark an' gied us o' their best, in a vera life like mainer.

There wis some rale wise sayings in the play, as whan Dr. MacLure, that fine auld man, prescribed for the puir frichted lassie "A' the lassie's needin' is less piety an' mair peety." An' than Postie, wi' his failin' for the bottle," "Train up a child to hate the bottle an' when he is auld he will never depart frae it," says he. He wis a rale divert. A'body understood auld Postie an' a' his jokes got the laugh they deserved

It wis a rale enjoyable nicht an' every ane went hame feelin' mair nor ever, hoo vera nearly "laughter is akin to tears."

Ferdie Brent had the good fortune to bag a couple of fine cougars last week. He noticed the tracks in the freshly fallen snow and followed them with but little difficulty. One of the animals was a very fine specimen.

Mr. Seaman Hatfield of Kaleden paid Summerland a visit this week. He appeared glad to get back to a populous centre of civilization once more. He says however "You wait awhile and Kaleden will show Summerland a thing or two."

Mr. L. Sutherland, a nephew of Mr. Jas. Sutherland lost a valuable horse this week through being bogged in Prairie creek on the flat. The animal which was valued at $250 was found dead and was hauled out by the aid of a team.

EXIT DR. COOK.

Dr. Cook of Polar notoriety appears to have been finally discredited. Copenhagen University to which he rushed with his tidings on his return from the north, has, after careful examination of all his data, declared that his records do not sustain his pretensions. He is therefore down and out so far as the learned world is concerned at any rate.

This incident furnishes one of the most pitiful exhibitions of the weakness of human nature which the world has seen for a long, long time, probably because it has come from such an unexpected quarter. When professional thieves dupe their victims in one way or another, they but play their part, vile as it is, as might be expected of them. If it be particularly well played there may be even with the administration of judgment, a very secret and subtle smile of appreciation, a kind of reflex of the approbation we pay the winner of a game who has outwitted his fellow.

But in the case of Dr. Cook we feel nothing of the sort. His deluding of the world through a falsehood was about as glorious a feat as the plundering of the apple cart of a blind, feeble and helpless old woman on a street corner.

It was essentially a case in which the world had no chance to defend itself. It never had and never will have anything but the explorer's own word for it, since records can be made for anything beyond the limits of previous discovery in a man's study and no one be able to disprove them. The world has been helpless, utterly dependent on the integrity of the men who hazarded their lives in Arctic seas.

Hitherto no breath of suspicion has attached itself to the men who have gone forth in quest of the pole; hereafter every candidate will require cast iron credentials. This is one of the consequences of Dr. Cook's sin.

The officials of Copenhagen university who were so quick to honor Dr. Cook with a degree largely on his own testimony that he had reached the pole but his records were not in shape for presentation, have been severely criticized by people who for the most part are very wise after the fact. The doubtful part was not so much that the data were not in shape as that Dr. Cook should seek first a foreign strand with his fuller tidings instead of his own kith and kin. The question is, did the dons ignore that little fact through vanity, the desire to be to the front in the coming procession, or did they do it out of that charity, "that thinketh no evil?" We rather think the latter was the determining motive. As men of science, they were too honest and ingenuous themselves to suspect another and that is to their credit. The very baseness of make up in Cook that does so much to shatter the credit of human nature, is largely redeemed by the uncalculating welcome he received at the hands of the gentlemen in Copenhagen; but if they feel sore over the swindle they may at least console themselves with the reflection that the degree they have conferred will never be used, for in selling them, Dr. Cook sold himself. There is no place in the civilized world where Dr. Cook can live comfortably in his own right. Wherever known, even if he live to be a hundred, he will be known as the Judas Iscariot of science.

What was his motive? Just lust of gold, evidently, since he must have known his fame could not endure. He saw possibilities on the lecture platforms. As a matter of fact he was making $4000 a night when the exposure came. Had not Mr. Peary arrived early from the north he would soon have amassed a fortune and retired to that obscurity from which it is unfortunate that he ever emerged.

Kaleden, like all other places is having its ups and downs. Among the ups are a number of new houses which have been erected lately. Others will be rushed along as spring approaches. Among the downs might be mentioned the good ship Kaleden which recently went down near the shore and is bedded in the ice, or at least was, according to wireless despatches.

DEATH OF MRS. DARKE, SR.

Another death has to be recorded this week, that of Mrs. Darke, Sr., who for a considerable length of time has resided with her daughter, Mrs. George Graham on Jones Flat.

A few weeks ago the deceased lady, who had reached the advanced age of 72 had the misfortune to slip while walking outside, and break her hip. The injury was carefully attended to and was progressing as favorably as could be hoped for, considering the advanced age of the unfortunate lady. She had, however, been suffering from diabetes for a considerable length of time, which was the immediate cause of death.

The deceased was much beloved and respected by those who knew her, and the funeral was one of the largest ever held in the district. She was a life long adherent of the Baptist faith, and with her husband was one of the most valued supporters of the cause in Stonewall, Man., where they located in the early days, removing to the west several years ago.

The funeral service at the house was largely attended and was conducted by Rev. H. G. Estabrook, assisted by Reys. Jas. Hood and T. Ritchie. The pallbearers were Messrs. James Welsh, J. L. Logie, Thos. Dale and Rev. G. J. Coulter White.

The deceased leaves a large family of sons and daughters, among whom are Messrs. James and Robert Darke and Mrs. Graham who live in this district, Mr. Joseph Darke of New Westminster, and Dr. Darke of Diamond City, near Lethbridge.

The remains were interred in the local cemetery.

LAYMEN TO MEET.

It is expected that the pastors of the local churches will address their congregations on Sunday the 23rd instant on the subject of "World Wide Missions."

Following these services there will be held in Empire hall on Tuesday evening Jan. 18, a men's meeting in the interests of the Laymen's Missionary movement.

An interesting programme is now being arranged. The different phases of this important movement which is now engaging the attention of the Christian Laymen of this continent, will be dealt with by a number of speakers. Music will be provided and an interesting evening is anticipated. Fuller particulars will be given later.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Presbyterian Church will be held on Tuesday, the 11th instant, in the Methodist Church, commencing at 2 p.m. All the members and adherents of the church are urged to be present as the business discussed promises to be the most momentous in the history of the body.

On the evening of Monday, January 17th the Summerland Baptist Church will hold its annual meeting in the Church at Parkdale. It is proposed to have the members out in force at 5 o'clock when dinner will be served by the ladies, to be immediately followed by the business of the year. By this means it is hoped that the business to be transacted may be accomplished in the one evening.

The boys and girls of the Presbyterian Sunday School held their annual Christmas entertainment in the school house at Parkdale on Friday evening of last week. The schoolhouse was well filled with a merry crowd of youngsters with their parents and friends, and the entire company indulged in a real old fashioned good time. All the customary games and a whole lot of mirth provoking new ones were played, and the evening closed with choice refreshments in abundance.

THE PHILO SYSTEM.

Mr. Neeve, who has adopted the Philo system with his hens is well pleased with his experiment and claims that 40 per cent of his hens are attending faithfully to business.

The plan is to keep six hens confined in a space eighteen feet square, giving them plenty of light and air, and the opinion of experts, substantiated by results, is, that the hens produce more eggs and keep in better condition than where they are allowed unrestricted liberty.

In a section where to eat eggs is almost equivalent to eating money any pointers as to how to keep hens in the line of duty will be valuable.

Mr. Neeve is always ready to talk "hen" and any who are desirous of knowing more about the business will do well to buttonhole him on the street or elsewhere and have a chat with him.

:: Naramata Notes ::

Mr. I. B. Fulton of Summerland was in town on Tuesday transacting business

Mr. Wilkins family, who have been laid up for the past two weeks are making a satisfactory recovery.

Mrs. Caldwell spent a few days in Penticton last week. We are sorry to learn that she has decided to leave Naramata and carry on business in Penticton.

Congratulations were in order last week end. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Block arrived on Friday evening, and took up residence at their home on the benches.

Mr. Nuttall left on Tuesday morning for Victoria, where he has accepted a position with a cement company. Many gatherings were held in his honor, and a farewell dinner on his behalf was given on Monday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wolstencroft.

The ball given under the auspices of the Naramata Athletic Club on New Year's Eve was a decided success. There was a good attendance in spite of the unfavorable weather. At midnight the entire company joined in the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and a general handshaking and wellwishing then took place.

During the severe storm of Friday last the Mill boat, "Orillia," was wrecked at Naramata, coming from Penticton. Mr. McCullough was severely cut about the ears and badly bruised about the head, but notwithstanding this, he remained at his post as long as he possibly could, after which friends took him in hand and attended to his injuries. An effort to raise the boat has been started with every possibility of a successful issue.

Mr. Myles, a member of the Bonnie Brier Bush Company, who played the pianoforte selection so cleverly during one of the intervals, injured his ankle a few weeks ago, and believing it to be a simple sprain went about his duties in the usual way. As the pain continued to increase on arriving at Summerland he consulted Dr. Andrew and discovered that the ankle was badly broken and that the splintered bone had begun to work outwards. The bone was set and placed in a plaster of paris bandage, and it will be some time before Mr. Myles will be in his best form.

SUMMERLAND, B.C., JANUARY, 15 1910

Whole No. 76

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

REMAINS UNCHANGED

Reeve and Aldermen Give Account of Past Year's Work and Discuss Future Plans—Full Discussion of Local Issues by Representative Men—Old Council and School Trustees Re-elected by Acclamation.

Another milestone in civic drama has been reached and past. The scenery is unchanged; the plot is laid in the same place; the personnel of the players remains unchanged, but a new life and action is coming into the play, and the coming year will no doubt be the most eventful in the history of the Municipality of Summerland which may justly be termed the gem of the Okanagan.

At Monday's ratepayers meeting the following motion was put and unanimously endorsed: Moved by C. H. Cordy, seconded by R. H. English—That in the opinion of this meeting it would be advisable to re-elect the present council.

Monday's meeting was the largest of a civic character ever held in Summerland. Over a hundred interested electors, representing every section of the municipality assembled in Municipal hall shortly after 10 o'clock. A motion was passed electing Mr. Hector Sutherland to the position of chairman.

After a short address in which Mr. Sutherland alluded to the good work of the past and the important issues of the future, Mr. J. L. Logie, Municipal clerk was called upon to give a financial statement of municipal affairs, which will be published just as soon as it has finally passed the hands of the auditor. The report was a gratifying one, speaking of large expenditures on public improvements and a surplus to the credit of the council.

Reeve Agur was then called upon for a statement, and on arising to his feet received somewhat of an ovation. He stated that the activities of the council had been directed along four specific lines. 1st, Good roads; 2nd, Destruction and suppression of fruit pests; 3rd and 4th, the acquisition of the water and light franchises.

In connection with the improvement of roads. The council recognized that the welfare of the district depended very largely on the condition of its roads and every dollar that could be spared had been devoted to that work, and another three years would be required to complete the plans outlined and make the roads what they should be. As it was, although Summerland was one of the youngest places on the lake, it still was in the van when it came to good roads. Much had been done during the past year, and those who were able to compare the roads of to-day were compelled to wonder how so much had been accomplished in so short a time. The council proposed keeping on with that work and putting every available dollar into it.

In connection with the question of fruit pests. The council planned a forward movement in that direction, and was making arrangements for the engagement of a thoroughly trained and widely experienced man to take that matter in hand and devote his time to looking after that department. (applause.)

The welfare of all orchardists depended on the elimination of pests and every care must be taken to keep the orchards clean and kill out every new arrival immediately on its appearance.

The other items of vital interest were the taking over of franchises held by the Summerland Development Co., and the Garnet Valley Land Co. Two or three years ago the ratepapers had gone to the Council and stated that they wanted to get control of the water and light systems at any cost and although the council had gone into the matter carefully, the task seemed absolutely beyond them, but the time had now arrived when it seemed as though it was practicable and that in a short time the necessary legislation might be secured to carry the matter to a successful issue. By the valuation of the franchises by a competent engineer, engaged by the council, a saving of $41,000 had been affected.

The municipal clauses act made it necessary to secure special legislation before the purchase could be made, and if re-elected to office he would make it his business to get the matter put through as expeditiously as possible so that the matter could be placed before the electors at an early date.

The electric light question, within the past few weeks had been placed on a different basis, since the interview with Mr. Warren, representative of the Coteau Power Company. This Company was not a mere money making scheme. The promoter was Mr. Ricardo, the manager of the Coldstream ranch, and the Company was floated with the idea of harnessing the Shuswap Falls and supplying electric energy for light and power to the whole of the Okanagan Valley. He would guarantee personally that it would be no hold up, money making scheme, but a fair and equitable proposition. The Company was willing to take over the local electrical plant at the recent valuation.

In connection with the assumption of the water systems, the ratepayers must not jump to the conclusion that it would mean a reduction of rates, but on the contrary, it would possibly mean an increase. The rates charged had been altogether too low, compared with older sections where irrigation was necessary. The users however would have ample water for all purposes and the system would be perfected as nearly as possible; and for that purpose the council would employ a specialist on water matters to control the situation, and existing irregularities would be promptly done away with.

In connection with the water agreement in use here, he had, while at the irrigation convention last year shown the agreement to one of the best known American experts who had taken it home and examined it carefully and had then pronounced it as one of the most fair and equitable he had ever seen. Mr. Agur took his seat amid prolonged applause.

Councillor Ritchie, chairman of the Board of Works was the next to be called upon. He said the council had had a pretty steady year of it. They had held 31 meetings in all and the history of their work covered 41 pages of the minute book. It meant that every councillor had given the municipality one month out of the twelve. He briefly reviewed the past, endorsing the Reeve's words. The great question before the people was the taking over of the various franchises. He rejoiced that a thing which had appeared impossible a year or two ago, was apparently within sight. Personally he had intended to drop out of the Council for this year on account of the demands of his own business, but he had concluded that as the retiring council had set the ball rolling it was up to them, if the people so desired to see the thing through. The members of the council did not pretend to have a monopoly of brains, and there were lots of men in the district just as well, if not better able to handle affairs, but they would have to acquire the knowledge which the present council already possessed, and the work ahead was too large to allow of any backward steps being made. Therefore, if the electors were pleased to nominate him, he would be prepared to stand another election.

Coun. Brown, Chairman of the finance committee was the next speaker and dealt at some length with the finances of the district and the various ways in which public monies had been spent, all of which will come out in the auditor's report. He agreed with the words of the previous speakers and with them realized the importance of the situation and the relation which the assumption of the various franchises bore to the welfare of the district.

Councillor Thomson spoke strongly in fa-favor of going ahead and securing the various franchises. He regarded it as of the most vital interest to the district.

Councillor Gartrell was unavoidably absent.

Road Commissioner H. C. Mellor was next called upon to tell of the work done in the district during the past year, but somehow he forgot all about that phase of the question and proceeded to unfold a few grievances. Although he had been approached by a number of friends to stand for higher honors in connection with municipal affairs, he thought with the previous speakers that it would be unwise to change the personnel of the present council. There were a few things however which he believed ought to be changed. He considered that there was altogether too much secrecy in the conduct of the affairs of the council and felt that everything should be open and above board. Many meetings of a special character were held of which the public had no knowledge until they were past, and he was of the opinion that a proper notice should be posted in a conspicuous place before such meetings so that the ratepayers who so desired might be present. He made other charges which however were freely discussed and explained by gentlemen present and the atmosphere soon became perfectly clear again.

An all round discussion of public matters followed and items of interest were brought before the notice of the council. Among them, the regulating and oversight of the size of a cord of wood, the tampering with water locks, gates, etc.

In connection with Mr. Cordy's motion to return the present council it is reported that Mr. Cordy "queered" himself with a number of his friends who were anxious to have him run in ward 2. He felt however that it would be wiser to have things remain as they are and thus save the work and expense attendant upon an election.

Sharp at 12 o'clock the returning officer, Mr. Logie, called for nominations for the offices of Reeve, Council and School Trustees, with the following result:

Reeve, R. H. Agur, by D. H. Watson and F. J. Tingley, accla.

FARMERS INSTITUTE.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Farmer's Institute was held in Municipal Hall on Monday night. The attendance was the largest since organization and the interest good.

President C. J. Thomson occupied the chair and after explaining the object of the meeting, regular business was taken up.

The Treasurer's report showed a balance on the right side.

Election of officers resulted as follows :

President, C. J. Thomson,

Vice-Pres., H. S. Lewes,

Sec.-Treas. I. B. Fulton.

Directors—Messrs. J. L. Logie, S. M. Young, S. Bartholomew, G. L. Parker and C. H. Cordy.

At this stage in the proceedings Mr. Lewes was introduced and read a paper on the varieties of peaches grown in this district, noting some of their peculiarities,

This was followed by a very able address by the same speaker, on Peach culture and soils. Discussion on this subject which proved very profitable engaged the attention of the meeting for about an hour after which a very hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Lewis.

The profitableness of peach growing was gone into very carefully. One gentleman, experienced in fruit culture considered that there was piles of money to be made in peaches at 50 cents a box. The unanimous opinion of the meeting was that peach production in Summerland was destined to become very profitable.

The following was considered an ideal layout for a five acre peach lot :

Alexanders, 25 trees.

Triumphs, 100 trees.

Hale's Early, 50 trees; and the balance equally divided between Early Crawford, Yellow St. John and Elberta.

The next meeting will be held in Municipal Hall on Jan. 17th. On this occasion some resolutions which it is proposed to forward to the Central Institute will be presented for discussion. The Central Institute will meet in Victoria on Feb. 1 and 2, C. J. Thomson being the delegate.

LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT.

The services of the coming Sunday will be utilized by the ministers of the district as a time for laying before the members of their congregations the work of the Laymen's Missionary Movement. The movement in question has been gaining foothold in a marvellous manner for several years past, and to-day looms large as the most important forward movement made by the Christian world during the present decade. The plan is to give the whole world the gospel in this generation, and it looks as though that ideal might be accomplished. On Tuesday evening, the 18th inst., a mass meeting will be held in Empire Hall in connection with the same work, and representative laymen from all the churches in Summerland will address the audience.

The College will also be represented.

BAPTISTS' ANNUAL MEETING.

There is a considerable amount of new business to be discussed and all the members are urged to be present. Heads of the various departments are requested to have reports ready for presentation.

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.

Not a little excitement has been the order of the day during the past week, it being preparation for municipal elections. However, things have gone off very satisfactorily and the Councillors have all gone in by acclamation as follows:

- Ward 1. L. D. McColl,
- " 2. M. N. Morrison,
- " 3. J. L. Vicary,
- " 4. Geo. Keyes.

For Reeve, W. A. Lang and W. J. Garrway were nominated. On Tuesday, Mr. Garrway withdrew, leaving Mr. Lang re-elected for another term.

Quite an array of men are interested in our scholastic matters and the following have been nominated: Dr. Crompton, Mr. Clarence, G. Lang, Dr. Nash and Mr. Logan. No doubt the electors will be able to choose three capable men to fill the vacancies on our trustee board. It is rumored that there may be no election as two of these have indicated their willingness to retire so that the bother of an election may be avoided.

Miss Verna Irene Town gave a birthday party on Monday last, which was a very decided success. About 20 young people were present. One very noticeable feature was the birthday cake which was illuminated by candles, one for each year. During the evening the guests were entertained by various games and at the close everyone wished Verna had two birthdays every year.

THE WINNIPEG FAIR.

It is otherwise known as the Selkirk Centennial and the Selkirk Centennial means that Canada is asked to put up five to seven million dollars in an attempt to dazzle the universe with a world's fair in 1912 in Winnipeg, by way of commemorating the first attempt to colonize the great west under Lord Selkirk, a Century ago.

To this ambitious proposal we are opposed not because we want to have the show in Summerland, but because we think the affair one that is somewhat too ambitious for the youthful west as yet. We are aware that "knockers" are not in good repute in the west, and as a general thing it is well that they are not, since every man should have a right to work out his honest schemes and destiny without gratuitous hindrance from others.

The present instance however differs from those in this respect, that the scheme is in some measure our own, since we are expected to help pay the piper, and should the fair be a failure, it must react unfavorably on us as on all other parts of Canada. Our government will be expected to put up a quarter of a million or so should the project carry; Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta like amounts, and the Dominion government a matter of two or two and a half millions. Winnipeg and the railways, with the gate receipts would put up the rest.

Now, if Winnipeg wishes to celebrate the Centennial, let her do so by all means. Some small contributions from outside might be made.

It might be arranged to have the Dominion fair held there that year as the Selkirk Centennial and that would bring a subsidy from Ottawa without question as there is a precedent established; but when it comes to challenging the attention and probably the admiration of the civilized world it is another matter.

We do not believe, to begin with that the heavy weights of Winnipeg are in sympathy at heart with the movement. We do not hear them cheer, and of course it would look bad for them to hiss.

They are in a tight place. The government and the great newspapers are in a somewhat similar predicament. But what they could not do without prejudice to their reputations and interests, the rest of us may be able to do for them and for ourselves. Mr. McBride had an "if" in his promises; Alberta turned the promoters down flat; didn't see why they should contribute $250,000 to build university buildings in Winnipeg while having none of their own; Saskatchewan is apathetic, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier with commendable caution, remembering that Halifax is a long walk from Winnipeg, could only consider it, while the manager of the Seattle fair tells responsible citizens it would be a mistake to attempt it.

And so it would. If Canada must go into the world's fair business, Winnipeg is not the place to hang out her sign. That city has not the natural advantages. Where in Winnipeg would they get such sites as were afforded by Seattle, Portland and St. Louis? If a thunderstorm came up as it would come up, and elegant tourists found themselves floundering in the gumbo, what kind of a reputation would they give us when they got home?

World's fairs must have millions pass through their gates. In a sparsely settled country, where most of the people are struggling to make homes, where are these to come from? Notwithstanding the very great interest of the western states, we cannot expect them to be interested as they would be if the affair were their own; only a small part of their population thinks of emigrating anyway, and the rest of the world is so far away that only the rich can come. The capitalist doesn't go to fairs looking for investments, and the settlers Canada is looking for may be reached far more effectively, as Sir Wilfrid Laurier points out, by taking Canada's exhibition to them. Two or two and a half millions so spent in Britain and the states would mean much much more than building something to attract idle curiosity seekers from distant parts.

A world's fair that failed would be a poor advertisement for us all; as there is no general and spontaneous enthusiasm such as is required, it very likely would fail in Winnipeg and therefore in all kindness to the ambitious city of the plains, we say, let the matter rest for the next twenty-five or fifty years and then we shall be glad to help show the world what we can do.

VISITING DIVINE DELIVERS LECTURE

DR. PERRY, OF VANCOUVER, SPEAKS ON RELATION OF BUSINESS AND RELIGION.

Lecturer Condemns Those who Save Their Religion for Sundays, and Scores Crooked Work in Religious Matters.

A large audience greeted Rev. Dr. Perry of Vancouver in the Parkdale Baptist Church on Monday evening to hear him unfold the theme "Business is Religion and Religion is Business."

At its close all present felt that the time spent had been well worth while, in spite of the hills and the snow, and that they had received a distinct benefit by the lofty ideals presented by the lecturer.

As the lecture was being held under the auspices of the College the chair was occupied by Rev. Dr. Sawyer, who wasted no time in a long introductory speech, but in a brief and fitting manner introduced and welcomed the lecturer.

Dr. Perry stated at the outset that his address was at once a protest and a motto. Many people affirmed that business and religion were as far apart as the poles, and how many times had the remark been made that "Business was business," and that oftentimes when the man in question had some transaction in hand which would not quite bear the searchlight of God's law. Many men had two complete sets of morals. One set they used six days in the week, and the other set they used on the seventh. As an illustration of the managing of affairs of the Church on ultra business lines, he told of a church which could not see its way clear to meeting its liabilities, and the proposition was made to declare itself insolvent, put the church into the receiver's hands, and then buy it back again at 20c. or 30c. on the dollar. The minister objected, and as a result resigned rather than be a party to such a transaction. The trouble sometimes arose from the fact that the ministers of the churches were not, as is often charged, sufficiently well versed in business methods to properly direct affairs, and the church should be run in a straight, pure, business like method, adopting only the most honorable phases of twentieth century business life. Men were ordained to preach, and he would be glad to see young men ordained to business life, so that they might carry on their business in the light of God's eyes. Many christian men were, he feared, something like the old negro who said, "Ise broken all de commandments, but I hasen't lost ma religion."

He gave the following aphorism as a guide for life: "If we would do what we could, we could do what we would." He unfolded his subject under the following heads: 1, The simple life; 2, The steadfast life; 3, The solar life; 4, The sacrificial life.

In closing he spoke of the reward for work well done as follows. It meant: 1st, More work. 2nd, Other people will believe you because you believe what you claim. 3rd, You will approximate the position God wants you to hold.

God's word was the only infallible business guide, and all business must be transacted in the light of God's truth.

The lecture was well sprinkled with apt illustrations of both an amusing and striking character, and all went away after singing the National Anthem, delighted with the highly interesting and intellectual character of the lecture.

On Sunday last Rev. Dr. Perry preached in the Baptist Church at Parkdale in the afternoon, and in Empire Hall in the evening. The sermons on both occasions were of more than ordinary interest, and the good Doctor will be welcome whenever he chooses to make a return trip to Summerland.

What a difference between the weather this year and the weather at the same period last year. A year ago ice breakers were at work. Penticton was tied up, and the lake boats had a big problem to get in to some of the wharves on account of the ice which sometimes seemed to be trying to block up the whole of the lake. The ice breakers on their daily trip were almost unable to fulfil their mission in keeping traffic open. This year there is practically no ice at all except in the coves where the wind does not strike. The kiddies are deprived of their skating on the lake edge, and there has not up to date been snow enough for the purpose of running a sleigh. The thermometer has not yet gone below zero.

:: Naramata Notes ::

Mrs. J. Lyons was a visitor to Summerland this week.

Mrs. C. W. Johnson is at home again after spending two weeks as a patient in the Summerland hospital.

Mrs. A. L. Gillespie who has been ill for the past week is much better, though still confined to her room.

Mrs. Lewis J. Block will receive on Thursday afternoon, January 20th, at "Huddersfield," Naramata.

The monthly dance of the Naramata Amateur Athletic and Aquatic Association was held Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance and a pleasant time was spent.

On Saturday evening a number of the friends of Miss Hazel Wells surprised her the occasion being her birthday. Cards and games made the evening pass pleasantly.

This week the "Orillia" was hauled up out of the water for a sufficiently long period to rid her of her boilers, after which she again settled to the bottom of the lake. Mr. McCulloch has recovered so far as to be able to attend the operations.

The ladies' Unity Club met at the home of Mrs. Hayward on Friday, the 7th inst., Mrs. Hayward and Mrs. Caldwell being the hostesses. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gillespie, through illness, the chair was taken by Mrs. T. R. Wellband. After the regular meeting tea was served, and a pleasant social hour spent by the ladies. The club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Block.

On Thursday last Mr. Percy Tuttle died at the home of his cousin, Mr. Allen, of Naramata. Mr. Tuttle, whose home was in Manitoba, arrived here on Christmas day on a visit to his cousin. He had been in poor health for some time, but until a few days before his death, had seemed stronger. The funeral took place on Saturday, the interment being made in the Naramata Cemetery. The service was conducted by the Rev. G. A. Fallis.

A number of young men around town have opened up a boarding club in Mr. Bartholomew's building on Shaughnessy Avenue. They have furnished the place to suit themselves and have hired a cook to supply their needs. They are running the establishment on the co-operative plan and report it as being O. K.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

The Annual Meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Congregation was held on the 11th inst., when very satisfactory reports were made showing the progress during the past year. The Financial Statements were particularly gratifying—the ordinary revenue being in excess of the estimates for the year, while the Ladies Aid Society cheered the hearts of all by announcing a surplus for the year almost worthy of a government. The congregation appreciates very highly the energy and faithfulness of the Ladies of this branch of the Church work and wish them every success for the future.

Mr. Alexander Frazer and Mr. J. Steuart were nominated as additional members of the Session, while all the retiring officers were re-elected to their various posts for another year.

Good progress is being made with the building of the church which will be completed in the early spring and opened, it is hoped, free of debt.

LOOKING THIS WAY.

Mr. W. J. Robinson returned this week from the coast where he apparently caught the prevailing spirit of optimism which has so strongly gripped the Terminal city.

Vancouver is booming with a healthy boom. Real estate is soaring, and property is continually changing hands at advanced prices. Many of the old timers and not a few of the more recent arrivals at the coast have made their plunge, and with it their pile and are now on easy street. Their money is now in the "sure-thing" investment pot and all they have to do is sit down and watch it grow. Many questions are being asked about the dry belt, especially the Okanagan Valley and about the prospects for the speedy introduction of a railway, giving direct connection between the Okanagan and the coast.

The present deterrent to the investment of Vancouver dollars in this section is the time it takes to reach here via Sicamous, but when the railway is in operation, the poor rain-soaked Vancouverite will be able to put off his slickers as he boards the train at Vancouver at night and after 10 hours sleep, get off the train in the dry at Summerland station and forget all about rain, fog and rubber boots.

There is no doubt but that real estate in Summerland is on the verge of such a boom as has never been witnessed before and it will be a fortunate man who is on the ground floor.

BISHOP STRINGER'S NARROW ESCAPE

ANGLICAN BISHOP AND SECRETARY FIGHT DEATH FOR NEARLY A MONTH.

Lived on Mocassins, Muckluck's, and Fibres of Snow Shoes—No Game Procurable, and Supplies Ran Out—Almost Exhausted.

Battling for nearly a month, and so reduced in resources that he had to live for days on his mocassins and mucklucks and the fibre of his snow shoes, is the remarkable experience of Bishop I. O. Stringer of the Church of England, who arrived here from Fort MacPherson yesterday, says the Dawson Daily News of December 28th. With him during the trying trip and suffering the same privations was Charles F. Johnson, a missionary of the Mackenzie Valley.

The two men were so weak during the awful experience that they could walk only five to ten miles a day the last few days, and each man lost 50 lbs. in weight.

The hardship was encountered in trying to make the portage from Fort MacPherson to the head of the Porcupine river in September, and failing and having to return to MacPherson. They were out just 51 days. Getting on the Bell river at the head of the Porcupine, they could make no further progress because of the ice freezing, and then turned back. They could have made Indian camps below them by walking, they learned later, but they took what they thought was the safest course, and walked back. The game was scarce and their supplies soon ran out.

Living toward the last on a few mouthfuls of food daily, this became exhausted. Then they took their muckalucks and moccasins, and soaked them. After a time they were soft and glutinous. Even in this state the men toasted the strips on sticks over the fire. Bishop Stringer says that the muckalucks and moccasins were palatable, especially the muckalucks. The toasted effect made them palatable and very nourishing to the starving men.

Staggering into an Indian camp when they had a few monthfuls of the footwear food left, the men were safe. They then were 20 miles from MacPherson, and were back to the post in a few days more. They regained their strength, and twelve days after were again in good form. The cold weather having frozen the streams, and the route being safe, the bishop started for

BOARD OF TRADE ANNUAL MEETING

Reports of Past Year's Work Received, Showing Much Work Accomplished for Benefit of District—Plans Discussed for the Advancement of Local Interests—Reeve Agur Re-Appointed President—Officers and Committees for 1910.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade was held on Tuesday afternoon with a gratifyingly large attendance both of business men and fruit growers. The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. R. H. Agur, who in the course of his introductory remarks referred to the difficulty that had been experienced in the past year in getting anything like a full attendance at the quarterly meetings of the Board. The members of the Council had been very faithful in their attendance, and the business transacted as a result had been of a most gratifying and useful character. Of the services of the secretary, Mr. C. H. Cordy, he also spoke very highly, and to his untiring efforts attributed a large measure of the success attained.

However, the tree was no stronger than its roots, and if the parent body was not strong the reflex action was bound to be felt by the whole tree. He hoped that the Board would, during the coming year, turn out in full force at the quarterly business meetings, in order that by the interchange of ideas the Board of Trade might be even more useful in the future than it has been in the past.

Some were inclined to think that the Board of Trade did not amount to much, but nearly all the greater benefits that had come to Summerland and which were coming had emanated from the Board. He looked forward to a period of still greater usefulness.

After the disposal of the minutes the secretary read the following report from the Council:

Gentlemen—In presenting our report for the year 1909 we beg to call your attention to the fact that the general meetings throughout the year were very poorly attended; at two of the three quarterly meetings there were not sufficient members present to form a quorum, and it was with difficulty that a quorum was secured at the remaining meeting.

Many matters of importance to the Municipality have arisen and been dealt with by the Board, as will be shown later, and we feel sure that members will be well repaid for the time spent in attending meetings.

Amongst other matters dealt with, all more or less successfully, may be mentioned the daily boat service, correction of time tables and maps, cannery, fruit marks act, railway and express rates, petty debts court, pamphlets, various advertising, experimental farm, fumigation of coast grown trees, tree census, selection and distribution of photographs, and many other minor details. Referring more particularly to some of these items we may say that the daily boat was assured until the end of the year and probably continuously. Errors in time tables causing land seekers to miss the connection at Sicamous, and so miss the valley, were pointed out and corrected. The fact that Summerland was not on the C.P.R. map was laid before the proper authority, and corrected in next issue. The petty debts court was established after considerable correspondence. Every effort has been made, both directly and indirectly through the Associated Boards of Trade to secure the establishment of the experimental farm here, or at least in the valley. Booklets have been issued, paid for and distributed. Last and by no means least the question of a tree census has been taken up and the work is now progressing as fast as returns will allow.

We feel that anyone looking over the above list will, without hesitation, conclude that the work of the Board is worthy of more attention and consideration than has been given to it by the ratepayers in the past, and should encourage better attendance at the meetings.

Correspondence was read as follows from The Farmer's Advocate, asking information re. the weather and its bearing on the crop prospects. To this the secretary stated that he had replied and read the letter which was approved by the Board.

From Mr. White, 2nd vice-president of the C.P.R., acknowledging the receipt of letter from the Board of Trade thanking him for the continuance of the daily boat service. Mr. White expressed his pleasure that the action of the Company had been appreciated.

From Mr. Dixon, secretary of the Associated Boards of Trade, notifying the Board of the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade at Kelowna on the 26th, and asking that delegates be sent and that resolutions be forwarded for discussion, re. the request recently made by this Board that the Associated Board write Mr. Martin Burrell re. the experimental farm question. Mr. Dixon stated that Mr. Burrell had the matter in hand and would do all he could in the matter. He also gave a list of resolutions which had been received by him from the different boards for debate.

From Mr. Ruddick, Dairy Commissioner for Canada, asking for particulars re. fruit trees planted in the district, and south of Summerland.

From Mr. Lannigan, head of the C.P.R. freight department, stating that all the necessary data re. the placing of slips and docks at Summerland had been placed in the hands of Mr. White, and expressing no doubt but that the matter would be approved and that the work of construction would be proceeded with as soon as spring opened.

A number of short addresses appreciative of the work done by the president, secretary and the council were made, and a number of suggestions were offered for consideration along the line of aiding in the development of Summerland and the rest of the valley.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, R. H. Agur. Vice-president, James Ritchie. Sec.-Treas., C. H. Cordy. Council, Messrs. A. Stark, E. B. May, R. Clouston, R. H. English, J. L. Logie, H. C. Mellor.

Committees: Civic Improvements—Messrs. English, Stevens, Mellor.

Finance—Messrs. May, Stark, Clouston. Immigration and Advertising—Messrs. Clouston, Hayes, Cancellor.

Transportation—Messrs. Ritchie, Logie, Wallace.

Conventions—Messrs. Logie, Sutherland, Moreland.

A considerable amount of controversy followed as to the best methods of advertising the district, and several wise suggestions were made which will doubtless be taken up in the sessions of the council and put into operation.

PARLIAMENT AND AGRICULTURE.

During the week commencing the 31st of January, matters pertaining to agriculture will be up for discussion at the Provincial capitol. On Monday the 31st, a meeting of the secretaries of the Agricultural Fairs and associations of the Province will take place. The main objects of the convention are to arrange about judges for the future exhibitions so as to compile a circuit that will enable fairs to be held on dates which will not conflict with others situated in the same district.

Other matters pertaining to the more effective carrying out of the annual exhibitions throughout the Province will be considered.

On Tuesday Feb. 1 and the following day a meeting of the Central Farmers' Institute will be held, when all proposals, resolutions and matters for important consideration will be placed on the agenda and finally dealt with during the Convention. It is anticipated that many of the institutes are furnishing their representative delegates with proposals to submit to the Convention and which, if carried out, cannot fail to bring about good results.

The C.P.R. Railway company is issuing special excursion tickets at single rates.

FIRST MEETING FOR 1910 HELD AND MUCH BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Committees for Year Duly Appointed—Applications for Positions Received—Assessment Values May be Increased This Year.

On Monday last the first meeting of the 1910 council was held, all being present except Councillor Thomson who was detained at home through ill health. After the formality of swearing in the members of the council had been complied with the business of the hour was taken up.

The Reeve appointed Coun. Ritchie, as chairman of Roads and Bridges, with Councillors Thomson, Brown and Gartrell associates. Coun. Brown chairman of Finance and Assessment, with Coun. Gartrell as associate. The appointments were approved on motion of Coun. Brown and Ritchie.

The following communications were then read:

From R. M. Winslow stating that he would be present at the proposed packing school.

From H. Sutherland, applying for the position of road superintendent, as he had been informed that H. C. Mellor had resigned.

From J. McDougald, applying for the position of electrician when the council assumed control of the electric light plant.

From W. B. Fison applying for the position of Superintendent of the water department at a salary outlined as follows: For the first year, $150 per month, $175 for the 2nd year; $200 for the 3rd, and $250 per month for the 4th and succeeding years.

The Reeve spoke very highly of Mr. Fison, stating that he had been recommended by Engineer Ashcroft and others as a particularly capable man in connection with water matters. The clerk was instructed to write Mr. Fison and inform him that an engagement would be affected just as soon as council had the power to do so.

Mr. D. H. Watson, manager of the band waited on the council and laid before the board the plans made by the band for the coming season's work. The council expressed its willingness to aid the band as fully as possible and a resolution was passed of a character satisfactory to the manager.

The following resolutions were passed: Ritchie—Brown—That J. L. Logie be re-appointed as clerk, treasurer and collector at a salary of $50 per month and that he be paid $100 for the work of assessor.

Brown—Gartrell—That the Reeve and treasurer be authorized to effect a loan with the Bank of Montreal in one or more sums, in all not to exceed $10,000 for the purpose of meeting the current expenditure of the municipality, which sum or sums shall be repayable out of the annual revenue for the year 1910, when the same shall have been collected from the rate-payers.

Gartrell—Ritchie—That the assessor commence the work of assessing the Municipality of Summerland on the 1st of Feb. and that the roll be returned to the Council on the 31st of March, and that the Council sit as a Court of Revision on Monday the 2nd of May at 10 a. m.

Ritchie—Brown—That Dr. Smith be and is hereby appointed Health Officer for the Municipality at a salary of $25 for the year.

That the reeve and clerk be, and are hereby authorized to follow up the amendments to the water clauses act and if necessary in the interests of the Municipality, to go to Victoria to hasten the matter, and that the council guarantee the necessary expenditures.

The question of assessment was brought up and the opinion of the council was that in order to meet the needs of the district in connection with the greatly increased expenditure which would have to be undertaken this year, it would be advisable to increase the assessment rate at least 50 per cent all the way round, in preference to increasing the rate of taxation. The matter was left over for further discussion.

The meeting adjourned at noon.

The upper portion of the bank block is being pulled to pieces. The roof is being raised an additional six or eight feet, and rooms will be fitted up for residential purposes.

On Tuesday morning the Okanagan carried away eight of the local curlers who are prepared to uphold the honor of Summerland at the Vernon bonspiel. They will doubtless give a good account of themselves and bring back fresh trophies to place among Summerland's already large collection. The gentlemen were Rev. R. J. McIntyre, Messrs. Fetherstonhaugh, J. F. Faulkner, J. E. Phinney, W. H. Milligan, Wellington Watson, M. Beavis, and J. McDougald.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ADDRESS.

Rev. I. W. Williamson, Representing the International S. S. Association Speaks to Workers.

A good sized audience assembled in the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening for the purpose of hearing an address on Sunday School work by Rev. I. W. Williamson, the representative of the International Sunday School Association.

The chair was occupied by the Rev. H. A. Solly, and after the opening exercises and a selection by the Methodist S.S. choir, the lecturer was introduced, and for an hour or more he kept his audience as he spoke on the theme "The Sunday School the golden opportunity of the Church." His address was in reality a plea for the boy, and for the fuller comprehension of the boy's life by the parents. Some homes were so good that the boy was worried to death as to where he should stand or sit, and was suppressed and "don'ted" until he got out of the house in order to have a little freedom and peace. Prevention was better than cure and the boy who was made the companion of the parents, especially the father, was not very likely to go far astray, and statistics went to show that in the majority of cases the criminal instinct was developed before the boy reached the age of twenty, and it cost vastly more to reclaim a boy who had gone wrong than to prevent the boy from making the first false steps. He spoke highly of Judge Ben Lindsay's methods and commended them to the consideration of all interested in boy life. He gave some interesting statistics with reference to the vast advancement of the adult Bible class movement, and outlined some of the methods adopted by workers throughout the world to secure and retain the interest of the men.

An executive meeting to make arrangements for a S.S. convention in the valley was held at the close of the address.

Miss Fowler, of Peachland, was a visitor in town this week.

The annual Local Option Convention of B. C. will be held in Broad Street Hall, Victoria, on Thursday, Feb. 10th—all day. Persons attending from the mainland should leave by the boat from Vancouver at 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday, Feb. 9th. Single tickets and standard certificates should be taken. Arrangements for reduced rates are made on all railways. Matters of great importance will be discussed by able speakers.

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.

DOES SUCH A PROPOSITION APPEAL TO YOU? If it does write us and we will only be too glad to give you all the desired information.

Western Canada is every day becoming more evidently the cynosure of the world's gaze and the hope of those whose failing eyes turn towards it as the land of promise for their children. Abroad the magnificent fruit exhibits of this province have dazzled the horticulturists of the old land. In the United States the government exhibits in the western states, and especially the handsome front put up at the Seattle Exposition have aroused an intense and eager curiosity on the part of well-to-do Americans to know more about Canada. They are sufficiently near the limit of their own natural resources to appreciate the meaning of free and fertile land under a friendly flag and among people of like color, speech and institutions. The trekking spirit that led their fathers through the wilds of the middle west is upon them, and each year shows an enlarging stream of financially competent agriculturists leaving for the north.

With such men, skilled in agriculture, and possessed of wealth that to their fathers would have been a fortune, a rapid career of development lies before the prairie provinces. In many instances steam plows have been introduced, and with a truly characteristic Yankee energy day and night shifts were put on whenever possible. The result has been such an astonishingly rapid transformation of the raw prairie that High River, Alberta, a place but a few years old, was able to lead all points of the north west in wheat production, not excepting the famous Indian Head, of Bell Farm repute, with its dozen or so of large elevators.

The old slow days of settlement seem for ever gone, and American rushes, like those for Oklahoma when it was thrown open, are beginning to appear. For instance, when twenty-one townships were thrown open for settlement on Monday, Jan. 10th last, one thousand men and women lined up before the Registration Office. Many of them had been camped outside the office in the snow from the previous Saturday, being fed and "spelled" by their friends. It is a tribute to Canadian law and order that the attempt to rush things was nipped in the bud by the police detailed to protect the rights of the weak against the rapacity and brutality of the strong.

One of these days there will be such a rush for the Peace River country as will astonish America. There is a great agricultural belt of beautiful land up there, 350 miles north-west of Edmonton, with a climate as good as that of the capital city, and when the first signs of railway construction in that direction begin there will be such a rush for homesteads as the west has never seen.

It is said on good authority that there is as much arable land in the Peace River district as is now under cultivation and producing over 200 million bushels of cereals in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

This kind of thing makes the Okanagan orchardist feel good, for it spells competency for him in his declining years. Moreover if he wants to sell out many of these same wealthy farmers, learning of the better things beyond the snow-capped Rockies, will make one more trek before they die and pay any price for a small corner on one of these ten acre lots on which to end their days under our genial skies.

The accident of Monday evening, when a passenger on alighting from the Okanagan at the wharf narrowly escaped losing his life by falling into the lake, calls attention to the fact that that section of the wharf is very inadequately lighted. An extra light or two might be the means of preventing the loss of life.

Piles of cordwood and other obstructions on the public thoroughfare do not tend to give visitors of a transient character a more favorable opinion of the place.

A meeting of the executive of the local Liberal-Conservative association was held in C. H. Cordy's office on Wednesday afternoon.

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP.

Within the next few weeks the electors of the district will be called upon, by way of the ballot to express their views on the advisability of the municipality taking over the franchises held at present by the Summerland Development Co., and the Garnett Valley Land Co. There is very little doubt but that the by-laws will carry with scarcely a dissentient vote, as the people are wide awake to the advantages to be derived from public ownership of utilities, and themselves, in the first place approached the council in the matter:

The council is composed of men of business integrity and experience, and with vested interests sufficiently large to make the interests of Summerland their own. With Summerland they rise or fall, and any mistakes would militate against their own interests.

Thus far they have shown wisdom and caution and the electors are satisfied that they will continue to exercise those virtues.

The acquisition of water and light systems will mean a greater feeling of security among the ratepayers, as, no matter how honest or upright any private company may be, the primary object of the investors is to secure dividends on their investments, while municipal ownership means a community of interest in which all are called upon either to benefit or to suffer, and in which wise management will lead to the lessening of individual burdens, and securing the maximum of benefit for the minimum of expenditure.

In Glasgow, Scotland, where all the public utilities are owned by the Corporation, the rates charged for commodities and taxation are among the lowest in the British Isles.

Following closely on the footsteps of the proposal to assume the various franchises comes the proposition of the Coteau Power Company to take over the power plant and to supply the "juice" for light and energy at a rate satisfactory to the council.

The electors have been assured that the company is not entering the electrical business for the sake of making money, but with a primary object of benefitting the valley and assisting in its development. On the face of it however, it would simply mean the cutting adrift from one corporation to tie up with another.

Some who have been turning the matter over in their minds have expressed themselves as in doubt as to whether the relinquishing of the electric light plant would be wise or statesmanlike. The retention of control of such a plant would not have an ill effect in coming to an agreement with a large corporation, and would be of inestimable benefit in lighting up the nasty spots on the roads and benches on dark nights, and would in the long run cost the municipality less than paying out light bills to a private company.

The long headed ones say—Give the Coteau Power Company running rights through the district by all means; give them all the encouragement and assistance possible, but do not place all the eggs in one basket. The retention of the local light plant would always be a valuable asset and would not in any way add to the difficulties in dealing with the Coteau Power Co., or any other company.

LAYMEN AND MISSIONS.

Representative Men from the Local Churches Speak on the Subject of the Hour.

On Tuesday evening there was a fair attendance of the laymen of Summerland in Empire Hall. The chair was occupied by Rev. G. J. Coulter White, chairman of the local committee in connection with the work. The scriptures were read by Rev. H. A. Solly, and the opening prayer was offered by Rev. James Hood.

The chairman gave a short outline of the origin of the movement, and called upon J. R. Brown, who gave the first address on "The Need of Christian Missions."

R. H. English: "The Laymen's Missionary Movement from a Canadian or National Standpoint."

C. S. Stevens: "Missions and Commerce."

I. B. Fulton: "Prayer and Missions."

W. Watson: "College Students and Missions."

F. J. Nixon: "Our Share in Mission Work."

A. L. Moreland: "Business Methods as Applied to the Movement."

J. C. Robson: "Our responsibility in connection with Missions."

At the close of the addresses a short time was taken in debate, and the feeling was expressed that it would be wise to have such gatherings more frequently, and a motion was passed, agreeing to hold quarterly mass meetings, and placing the matter in the hands of the committee.

A male quartette was well rendered by members of the Methodist Church choir, and a much appreciated solo was rendered by Mr. T. Beavis.

:: Naramata Notes ::

Mrs. Williams and Master Gerald Williams, from Lindsay, Ont., arrived on Friday to visit Mrs. Lyons.

Mrs. Gillespie is still confined to her room through ill health.

Mr. Fred Manchester drove to Penticton on Sunday where he took part in the musical services of the Methodist church that evening.

Work has been going forward on the greenhouses, which will open in the spring.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

The residents of the little town of Naramata are in mourning over the tragic death of one of their most esteemed young men in the person of Mr. Harry Hill.

On Thursday morning last, Mr. Hill in company with others was at work clearing land for the Trust Company. He along with another young fellow was working with a team hitched to one of the largest logs which has been cut down in that section for some time. The log started to roll and Hill tried to ease it; the thong of his glove caught in the hook of the logging chain, throwing the unfortunate man completely over and in front of the log, which rolled over him. When the log stopped the deceased was on top of the trunk with the glove thong still caught in the chain. Life was extinct, death having been instantaneous.

The deceased was 26 years of age, and came from Accrington, Lanc., England. He had been about three years in Naramata and was very much liked by all who knew him. He was close allied to the social and church life of the community and for a considerable time held the position as Sec. for the Sunday School, and was a valued member of the Athletic Association and one of the crew of the war canoe team of last summer.

The funeral takes place to-day (Saturday) at Naramata, the Rev. Mr. Fallis of Penticton officiating. The ferry will leave Summerland at 1 o'clock which will enable all those who desire to be present to do so.

The local hockey experts will meet the Kelowna boys on Thursday next, on Kelowna ice. As many are interested it is probable that the Aberdeen will be chartered for the occasion and excursion rates offered.

POINTERS FOR KNOCKERS.

- If you want to hurt the town or district in which you live—
- Run the place down to strangers.
- Oppose improvements.
- Refuse to advertise in your local paper.
- Fight shy of the Board of Trade.
- Do not invest a cent near home; invest elsewhere.
- Be particular to discredit the motives of public spirited men.
- If a man wants to buy your property, ask him two prices for it.
- If he wants to buy anybody else's, interfere and discourage him.
- If he is a newcomer and pays cash for his goods, charge him 10 to 25 per cent extra, he won't tumble to the game, but he may leave town suddenly and locate in a place where one man's dollar is as good as another's.
- Refuse to see merit in any scheme which does not exactly benefit you.
- Oppose any scheme which will raise your rates and taxes. Never mind how much it will benefit the district at large.
- Don't take your local paper, run it down and call it a rag.
- Talk loudly in public places of how bad times are and how everybody and everything is going to the "demnition bow-wows."

LORD DUNDONALD'S SCHEME.

A new suggestion as to peopling the West has been made by Lord Dundonald. It is that large estates in Canada should be acquired as municipal enterprises by each town or county in the Old Country and that to these big farms should then be sent the men out of work at home. The London papers regard this suggestion favorably.

PRINCELY DONATION.

The Massey estate of Toronto has donated $50,000 towards the erection of a Methodist theological college in connection with Alberta college on the university grounds.

The college will be erected next summer on a free site granted by the university senate and will cost $100,000.00.

SUCCESSFUL ANNUAL MEETING.

Baptists Receive Gratifying Reports From all Departments and Elect New Officers.

The annual meeting of the members of the Summerland Baptist church was held at Parkdale on Monday evening. The members and a few friends, numbering in the neighborhood of a hundred met in the church early in the evening and took dinner together. The tables were elegantly laid, under the supervision of the ladies, and the spread might be justly termed a banquet. About 7 o'clock, the gathering was called to order, the company retaining their seats at the tables, and the business of the hour was proceeded with.

The best kind of fellowship prevailed and the business was transacted very expeditiously, the gathering dispersing shortly before midnight.

Rev. Dr. McIntyre was voted to the chair and after the minutes had been disposed of, reports were received from the various societies and church organizations and the finances were discussed.

The financial statement was of a satisfactory character, receipts from all sources totalling $2854.44, of which $669.25 went to missions.

The estimates for 1910 for current expenses called for an expenditure of $2136.83, and at the meeting it was unanimously decided, in addition to current expenses to raise a thousand dollars for missions.

The number reported on the church roll was 104.

Election of officers resulted as follows:
To replace retiring trustee, J. J. Wallace.
Church Clerk, W. Ritchie.

Treasurer, J. F. Faulkner,

Fin. Sec., I. B. Fulton,

Hon. S.S. Supt., J. J. Wallace.

S.S. Supt., Parkdale, Rev. G.J.C. White,

S.S. Supt., Town, I. B. Fulton.

Tellers, W. Ritchie, E. Locke, F. Williams, J. M. McDougald.

Ushers, Rev. Dr. McIntyre, A. Armstrong, W. Watson, I. B. Fulton, J. E. Phinney.

Choir leader and organist, Parkdale, F. T.C. Lever and Mrs. Thos. Dale; Town, Miss H. Bartholomew and Miss Faulkner.

Finance Com., Messrs. Stevens, Faulkner, Phinney.

Missionary Com., Dr. Sawyer, Revs. Estabrooke and White, Mesdames Wallace and Hayes.

Deacons to replace those retiring, T. Dale and J. J. Wallace.

A motion was passed causing the church fiscal year to close on Sept. 30th to correspond with the fiscal year of the Convention.

BATHING STARTS EARLY.

Bather Keeps on Fur Coat for Comfort and Retains Suit Case for Life Buoy.

A gentleman well known in the valley had the misfortune to fall into the lake on Monday evening last. On account of the squally water, the boat simply squared across the end of the wharf, and on alighting the victim of the accident apparently found himself in the way of one of the truckers, and on stepping aside, tripped and tumbled into the lake.

He kept his head above water, hanging on to his grip like a pup to a root, until a lifebelt was thrown to him. The water was rough and it was difficult to reach him with a line, so the fireman on the boat dived in and carried the rope to him, aiding him to safety.

The victim received a severe shock, but at the hotel, every attention was paid him and after a good rub down and a square meal was fit as a fiddle.

Miss E. Auvache returned home to Pen-ticton on Thursday evening, after spending a few weeks in Summerland.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Since college re-opening, five new boys have been enrolled as residents and several from the town are now enrolled as students. Altogether there has been an addition to the enrollment of about 12.

The students are looking forward to the opening of the baseball season in order to try out some new material in that line of sport.

We were sorry to report that Gordon Clay of Revelstoke has been compelled to return home through ill health.

The apparatus for the physical laboratory has arrived and being put in shape for work. The laboratories are now well equipped for all the work required.

A class in free gymnastics has been started and classes are held three evenings a week. All the boys are enrolled and are enthusiastic. Good results are looked for.

PACKING SCHOOL.

The Provincial Department of Agriculture, in conjunction with the Okanagan Fruit Union, will open a packing school at Summerland on Monday, Jan. 31st, provided that 15 students attend.

Mr. Berkley, head packer of the Okanagan Fruit Union will be in town on the Saturday previous, to make final arrangements. At the close of the session it is the intention of the government to send in a first class man to lecture on packing and grading.

Further particulars as to the course may be obtained in the meantime from C. H. Cordy, to whom also names of those desiring to participate may be sent.

A meeting of the members of the Summerland Band was held on Wednesday evening and the members had a general talk over the condition of things, and laid a few plans for the future. Among other matters up for discussion was the resignation of the secretary, J. W. S. Logie, which was accepted with regret. The duties of the secretary were laid upon C. N. Borton, in addition to those of treasurer. The boys are quite enthusiastic over the advent of a leader, and look forward to doing big things in the future.

Mr. A. R. Muirhead of Kelowna, the agent for the Layritz Nurseries at that place was a visitor in the district during the past week. He was accompanied by Mr. S. Hume, a recent arrival from Scotland, whom he is introducing to the beauties of the Okanagan Valley.

LOCAL HOUSE GETTING BUSY

MEMBERS ASSEMBLE AT VICTORIA---PROCEEDINGS IN PRELIMINARY STAGE.

Speech From Throne Presented by Lieut-Governor Patterson--Trouble over Selection of Leader of Opposition---Jardine Joins Socialists.

The work of legislation goes merrily on at Victoria and the 12th session of the local house promises to be the most eventful in the history of British Columbia politics.

The House assembled at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Thursday, Jan. 20. In his inaugural address, His Excellency, Lieut. Gov. Patterson congratulated the house and the country at large on the healthy and substantial progress evinced on every hand and impressed upon the House the fact that a continuance of such prosperity would be materially aided by wise and progressive legislation.

He referred to the work of the last session and outlined the important issues to be dealt with by the present Legislative Assembly. Among other things of peculiar interest to the people of the Okanagan Valley, he said:

"It is also a pleasure to note that the organization of a department of agriculture, undertaken a year ago, is already producing gratifying results.

I am pleased to observe the honors won by B. C. fruit at the exhibitions in Canada, Great Britain and the United States, and to congratulate our fruit growers on the success which has crowned their efforts. The fruit exhibited from this province again won the highest honors and the gold medal at London, in competition with the whole Empire."

Shortly after the Lieut.-Governor's retirement, Hon. W. J. Bowser, minister of finance presented the Treasury statement which showed the net revenue to be $4,664,500, with a net expenditure of $3,745,170..

Friday's session was short, the house only sitting for 45 minutes. The re-appointment of Mr. Eberts (Saanich) as speaker of the house was expected and consummated. In connection therewith, the nomination was made by Mr. McPhillips (Islands).

Custom calls for the seconding of the nomination by the leader of the Opposition and considerable interest was evinced as to who would be "It." The nomination was seconded by Mr. John Jardine (Esquimalt) in a short but appropriate speech. The surprise came on the following day, when Mr. Jardine undertook to retain the position of Opposition leader. Mr. Brewster (Alberni) declined to recognize him as such, and the socialists declined to admit of any such leadership. Mr. Jardine was compelled to take his seat according to alphabetical order of precedence.

The mover and seconder of the reply to the speech from the throne were Mr. E. Miller (Grand Forks) and Mr. J.F. McKenzie (Delta), in lengthy speeches.

Upon the telegraphed request of the minister of lands, Hon. Price Ellison, Mr. A. S. Goodeve, M. P., represented the British Columbia minister at the conservation congress then in progress in Ottawa.

This congress, which is of very considerable national importance, completed its labors on Monday last.

The situation of affairs in the ranks of opposition was somewhat clarified in what transpired in the House while standing committees were being formed. Mr. Hawthornthwaite positively assumed the recognized leadership. Mr. Brewster in his own behalf, as a matter of privilege, asked to have his name placed upon three committees. The socialist member from Nanaimo submitted the names of himself, Mr. Williams and of John Jardine for the various committees. This was taken to indicate and in a parliamentary sense did indicate that the member for Esquimalt recognized Mr. Hawthornthwaite as his leader, and that he had joined forces with the Socialists. In other words there is one straight Liberal in the House and three Socialists. Thus, contrary to some predictions, instead of the Government forces beginning to disintegrate as the result of an unwieldy majority, the Liberals have disintegrated, and this fact may be accounted for by an entirely opposite reason, their numerical weakness.

FRUIT PACKING SCHOOL.

The action of the Provincial government in instituting a series of packing schools in the various districts interested in the fruit growing industry is much appreciated and will tend to advance the popularity and value of the B. C. product in no small degree.

The Okanagan has gone far beyond the experimental stage when it comes to fruit growing, and the advancement along the line of packing has also been most pronounced, but the majority of the growers are men who are feeling their way. They are reading widely, all they can get hold of which has any relation to fruit growing and there is scarcely a home where the fruit journal does not occupy a prominent place on the reading table.

In this way they are learning many things theoretically, and in the prosecution of their labors are applying their theory to practice. Many are learning by their failures or profiting by the past experiences of those who were the pioneers of the industry and planted their orchards years ago. It is a fact that the older settlers in the district are in reality the benefactors of the new comers as they are so willing to tell of their failures and to unfold the remedy to meet the need.

It is true that the whole welfare of the fruit crop depends upon the care with which it is packed and placed upon the market. Fruit improperly packed will not stand the shaking and jarring which is sure to be attendant upon a lengthy train trip, and as distances are great in Canada, it may be safely said that both the price and the reputation of the product depends upon the manner in which it is placed in the boxes.

The older fruit districts across the line which have reached the straight business stage have been working on the question of fruit packing for years and have now got it down to an exact science, a fine art.

This art, Summerlanders, in company with all the Okanagan Valley orchardists must acquire just as surely as the art of spraying and irrigating, sowing cover crops and using fertilizers. A watch may be perfect all through, but if one hand is lacking, it will be a poor affair to tell the time by. The packing school will supply the missing hand, and all careful and progressive orchardists will do well to be on hand from Jan. 31st to Feb. 12 to take advantage of the courses of instruction to be afforded in connection with the proposed packing school.

The government has appointed Mr. Berkley, the head packer of the Okanagan Fruit Union to act as instructor at the school and it would be hard to have made a wiser selection. He spent many years on the other side of the line in the best fruit growing districts, where he filled the positions of packer and instructor in packing schools. Unfortunately the Summerland school will have to be limited to fifteen pupils so that it will be a case of—first come first served.

On the afternoon of Feb. 3rd, there will be a demonstration of packing to which all who are interested will be welcome, and in the evening Mr. Berkley will give an address on "Packing and Handling," and Mr. Hoy will give some "Timely Cultural Points."

On the evening of Feb. 9th, Mr. E. E. Samson, the manager of the Okanagan Fruit Union will give an address on "Marketing Methods" and Mr. R. M. Winslow will speak on "Where we Stand in Fruit Growing."

The movement is along right lines and without doubt as the years go by will become as settled an institution as the winter stock judging fairs of the prairie provinces.

The Okanagan Valley is bound to keep on growing, nothing but the interposition of Providence can stop it. The fruit produced cannot be beaten in this world, and it is more than likely that if an angel came from the other world and tasted a Summerland peach, he or she would find an excuse before the season was out, to come along for another bite. We have the land, we have the water, we have the climate and the right kind of people. People who are willing to be taught and able to learn, just as rapidly as a teacher can hand out information. The appetite for knowledge is still uncloyed and the ranchers of the valley are like a healthy bunch of youngsters with wide open eyes, crying for more. With such a spirit in the air who would dare to speculate as to the limitations of the future.

The ferry will make a special trip to Naramata on Sunday in order that those who so desire may take in the Harry Hill memorial service. The Maud Moore will leave Summerland at 9:30 a.m., returning after the service.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS UNDER DEBATE

BOARD OF TRADE REPRESENTATIVES ASSEMBLY AT KELOWNA.

President and Secretary-Treasurer Re-Elected by Acclamation—Many Resolutions Passed in Connection With Valley Interests.

The annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Okanagan Valley was held at Kelowna on Wednesday the 26th inst. The attendance was good, every section of the Valley being ably represented. The election of officers being the first business, Mr. Henderson of Vernon was unanimously re-elected to that office, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him for past efficient service. Mr. Dickson was re-elected sec-treas.

The committee on resolutions had anything but an easy time of it as resolutions dealing with pretty well every matter of interest to the valley were fired in on them from all quarters, even the ladies not being forgotten.

Among the most important matters dealt with were the following:

A request to the Provincial government to appoint an inspector, or otherwise provide for the inspection of bees and the destruction of those already infected with foul brood, as it was pointed out by Mr. Sutherland that this was fatal to bees and would mean their total destruction, to the detriment of the fruit crop.

A petition to the government to increase the representation for the Okanagan in the Provincial house. Asking the Postmaster General to appoint a mail clerk on the steamer Okanagan. Appreciation was expressed in connection with the daily boat service. A resolution requesting the Minister of Agriculture to establish experimental farms in the Okanagan Valley.

A resolution urging the C.P.R. to place a sign board at Sicamous reading "Change here for the Okanagan" and to insert in their time tables after Sicamous the words "Junction for the Okanagan." This was urged as the C.P.R. has declined to change the name of Sicamous to Okanagan Junction.

A resolution recommending that the government arrange for a uniform system of municipal book keeping and appoint an inspector of audits who shall be available when required.

A resolution urging the C. P. R. to change the time of departure of the southbound train from Sicamous, in view of the present delay and inconvenience caused the travelling public, as well as delay in delivering mails.

The Summer and Review

A resolution petitioning the government to insert a clause, or clauses in the proposed railway agreement as will ensure not only the completion of the different lines within a given time, but the completion of a minimum mileage in each year.

Other resolutions dealt with express rates on canned goods to the coast; sleeper from Landing to the coast; the secretary was instructed to write the C.N.R., and G. N.R. companies, pointing out the benefits which would undoubtedly accrue to them from bringing in their respective lines into Okanagan Valley.

It was decided to appoint a standing Transportation committee who should have power to deal with certain resolutions re rates brought up at the meeting and others which might arise. Such committee to be permanent and to consist of two members from each board, to be elected by the different boards.

The committee also recommend that a committee be formed to formulate a scheme of advertising more particularly in England. The committee to consist of one member from each board to be elected by the different boards. The committee when selected to be called together by the secretary.

The question of the next place of meeting being raised, a cordial invitation to Summerland was extended by Mr. James Ritchie. The invitation was accepted with thanks and the meeting adjourned.

BROUGHT HOME MUG.

Local Curlers Cover Themselves With Glory and Capture Burns Trophy.

The local knights of the stone and besum came out better at the Vernon Bonspiel than was indicated by first reports received from the scene of action.

The first word was that Summerland took second place in the Burns series whereas they were first and brought home the handsome cup, with buckhorn handles to sit in state beside the other evidences of Summerland's prowess.

The win is particularly gratifying as of all the rinks entered the Summerland bunch had had the least chance for practise. They won second in the grand challenge. Had they not been of a peaceable disposition and willing to waive their rights rather than scrap, the Grand Challenge Mug might also have been in Summerland.

BRITISH POLITICS.

England has just come through the trough and wallow of one of the mightiest elections the nation has known for many a day. No stir comparable to this one has been made since Mr. Gladstone introduced his home rule bill nearly a quarter of a century ago. The vote polled was the largest in years; the fiercest passions were evoked and every weapon of printer's ink and artist's brush was used to defame, ridicule or laud as the case might be.

To overseas people some generations removed from the life of the old land, the most striking thing about English politics is the variety of factions involved and the pertinacity with which each one presses its own particular claims on the public. The Nationalist doesn't care a hoot for anything save Irish autonomy; the Labor party knows nothing but the woes of the under dog; Unionists are for war, and Liberals are for readjusting the constitution, particularly in the matter of the ancient and honorable, but somewhat effete House of Lords and the responsibility of its wealthy component members to share more heavily in the burden of taxation. Incidentally the suffragette came along with demands for the enfranchisement of their sex, but in the whirlwind issues of war preparation and the proposed upheaval of the constitution as represented by the House of Lords, their cause found itself suddenly relegated to the inglorious rear of public interest.

Of course it is hard at this distance to give an opinion that can be said to be worth much, but it does seem to us that the labor party at any rate has been short sighted, or will be if it does not follow the Liberal party through thick and thin this time. A half a loaf is surely better than no bread to them.

If the Lloyd George budget forces the great Landed proprietors to pay their proportion of the taxes, instead of going almost Scot free as at present, that means that the common people now taxed to the limit of endurance, will not be squeezed again to keep up with the German naval procession. One would think the laboring class would be the first to forsake all to follow the man who proposed thus fearlessly to strike at the hand that has so long oppressed them while scorning to touch them in pride of noble birth. Lloyd George is, in our opinion, a moral hero. He has done what probably no other politician of England had the moral courage to do—he has belled the cat: he has boldly laid the axe to the root of a tree hoary with age. One whose roots in 600 years have grown about the very pillars of the throne itself, viz, the House of Lords, with all its opprobrious memories of class legislation, crown grants, rack rents and notorious disregard for legislative duties.

Opposed to the Liberal policy were the strongly entrenched liquor interests whose plethoric revenues were to be tapped to save the pockets of the poor; the aristocracy with all their prestige of position and power over tenants, and last but not least, the spectre of the German war of aggression. The Unionists have ever been the party to which England looked for salvation in war. The Liberals are pre-eminently men of peace. Many a man therefore, whose eyes were on the 28,000 men perspiring in the Krupp gun works and the day and night shifts in the German navy yards, found a reason just now for voting the super-Dreadnought party, important though he deemed the issues of the budget to be. Domestic differences can wait for a solution when foreign foes menace the life of the nation.

Since there are four parties, and only one can be in at a time, politics is worked on a basis of compromise, and no leader who is not a good juggler need apply. But through all the juggling, let us hope there will come little by little the emancipation of the burdened and the safety of the state.

Attention has again been called to the prevalence of the tumble weed in Summerland. A quantity of it has been torn loose from its roots and is a terrifying object to horses as it goes bowling and tumbling along, impelled by the gentle zephyrs which occasionally visit Summerland. The stuff has to a large extent seeded, but an abundance of seed still remains in the cells, and it would be the part of wisdom to have a man cut down the weeds by the roots, pile them up in bundles and burn them on the spot. There is but little doubt that in a short time the pest will become too large to handle. It has already assumed too large proportions and the sooner something is done the better.

NEW BAND MASTER.

The new band master, Mr. A. C. Pearce, has arrived in town accompanied by Mrs. Pearce and child. The first practice will be held on Saturday evening and the members of the band are looking forward to having the best band in the district.

Mr. Pearce comes highly recommended as a man of experience and ability. He spent twelve years as a member of the Royal Marine Band of England, and after that travelled for two years with the D'Oyley Carte Opera Company and eighteen months with the Moody Manners Company, both of which are counted among the best in the world. On leaving the Moody Manners Company, Mr. Pearce held the position of leader of the Durban Military Band of Natal, South Africa, and comes to Summerland from the Walker Theatre, Winnipeg, where he has been filling the position of cornet soloist.

He has come to the west for health and climatic reasons, and the members of the local band are prepared to meet him more than half way and co-operate with him for the good of the organization.

A new store is to be opened on the Flat by Mr. T. Moore. He is erecting a building for that purpose on his property adjacent to the main road a short distance above the head of the Gulch road.

Rev. A. T. Robinson writes that he and Mrs. Robinson are meeting with gratifying success in their work for the advancement of the Industrial Guild of the Great Commission. Throughout Alberta they are being greeted by large audiences, and the scheme for raising missionary funds is greatly appealing to the people. In every place they advance their plan there is a large enrolment of members. When last heard from they were at Claresholm, Alberta.

News from Peachland

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Elliott and Miss Dorothy returned last week from Dryden, Ont.

A fairly well attended masquerade ball was held in the Orange Hall Monday evening last. Some very pretty costumes were worn and a good time generally enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tickell left last Monday morning for Vancouver where Mr. Tickell has secured permanent employment. Their many friends in Peachland wish them every success in their new home.

Mr. B. S. Brown, our enterprising butcher has leased Mr. J. A. Miller's building on 1st street for a term of three years from April 1st. Mr. Miller is to wire the building for electric light and make other changes which will make it a first-class shop. Mr. Brown is to be congratulated upon securing so desirable a stand.

The Baptists are busy excavating for their new church at the south end of Beach Avenue. It is to be an octagonal structure sixteen feet each side. This will give a good-sized building with good seating capacity. The Methodists are following in line, and decided last week to proceed at once with the erection of a church, just where it will be situated has not yet been decided, several sites being under consideration.

A crowd of fifteen young skating enthusiasts went up to Gellateley's last Saturday to enjoy a day's skating. The ice was in fair condition with a little water on top, this, however, was kept fairly well mopped up by the novices, who apparently took this way of contributing to the enjoyment of the other members of the party. One young man was unfortunate enough to step into an air-hole up to his waist band. But in spite of these little drawbacks everyone enjoyed the outing and returned by the Okanagan at night voting it a fine day's sport.

The Ranchers' Glee Club gave their second annual concert in the Orange Hall on Wednesday evening. Under Mrs. Geo. Kellogg-Mitchell's careful training, a high state of proficiency was reached and the large audience was greatly pleased with the rendering of the different numbers. The program consisted of choruses by the club interspersed with solos, duets and trios. Lack of space forbids criticism of the separate items, suffice it to say that the BOOM IN SHIRT-WAISTS.

The shirt-waist girls on strike to-day received the best piece of news that has come to them in several days. From Wellesley, Mass., came the announcement that Wellesley College girls have raised $1,000 to help the cause of the strikers, and have given also an order for 1,000 shirt-waists to be made at the proposed girls' co-operative factory.

This order, it is said, insures the immediate starting of the factory, which, according to the announcement, is to be built, equipped, and financed by Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan. Miss Morgan offered to provide the money for the enterprise as soon so an order for 1,000 waists was obtained.

PALESTINE THROWN OPEN.

A cable despatch to The Times says that the proclamation of the constitution in Turkey has thrown open the doors of Palestine to the incoming Jews from all parts of the world. In Jerusalem alone four-fifths of the population of 100,000 now belong to the Jewish faith, while at Jaffa, Tiberias, Safed and Hafi, Jews are reckoned by tens of thousands. Almost the whole extensive plain of Estraelon has been bought by them. Their prosperous colonies spread from Dan to Beersheba, and even south to the outskirts of Egypt. Thousands are escaping from Persia to find shelter and protection in the Holy Land, while every ship from Odessa carries hundreds of them.

LIVING AT KELOWNA.

The Kelowna Courier says: Dr. Huycke stole a march on his friends by returning on Friday with his bride (nee Miss Davison) and as his arrival was not expected for several days he escaped the deluge of rice which would otherwise have been his fate."

It is good to know that Mrs. Huycke is to be such a near neighbor. She has a host of friends in the district who will always have a warm welcome for her when she comes to Summerland.

Thousands are homeless in Paris as a result of a great flood which is devastating the city. Bridges are tottering and being blown up to prevent their damming up the Seine. Buildings are falling on every hand and the water and light systems are out of commission. The greatest suffering prevails and the death rate will be enormous.

The most difficult portion of the work on Okanagan River bridge is now completed. The piles have all been driven and a considerable part of the upper structure laid. Foreman W. A. McKenzie, is now anxiously awaiting the arrival of timbers with which to build the framework across the stretch of ice before the thaw sets in. Penticton Press.

LAI D TO REST.

There were about a hundred present at Naramata on Saturday last when the remains of the late Mr. Harry Hill were laid in their last earthly resting place. The Rev. Mr. Fallis of Penticton conducted the service in a very affecting manner, in fact the service throughout was strangely impressive and solemn, doubtless on account of the tragic nature of the accident which caused death, and the popularity of the deceased.

The funeral service was conducted in the Sunday School room. The hymn "Rock of Ages" was sung by the audience, and was followed by a solo "Into Thy Hands," by Mr. J. Crawshaw. The favourite hymn of the deceased, "Just as I am without one plea" was followed by the reading of a portion of scripture from the Gospel of St. John, by Rev. Mr. Fallis. Then came the hymn "Nearer my God to Thee," and the funeral address by the minister, and a prayer. The sacred duet "Good-night" was then very tastefully sung by Messrs Gillespie and Fred Manchester.

The pall bearers were Messrs. G. Wolstencroft, Jas. Crawshaw, Thos. Kenyon, T. P. Thornber, A. Dawson and H. Endicott, the first four being boyhood friends of the deceased.

The remains were then laid away in the little cemetery at Naramata. The memorial service will be conducted at Naramata on Sunday next at 10 o'clock.

The only trophies our curlers brought home from Vernon bonspiel, were their brooms. However, they had a very enjoyable outing and report splendid treatment by Vernon curlers.—Armstrong Advertiser.

Leonard Bliss, better known as "Baby" Bliss, at one time supposed to be the largest man in the United States, has been taken to the Peoria hospital at South Bartonville, hopelessly insane. Bliss weighed 525 pounds when placed on the scales in the asylum. During the bicycle craze he rode a wheel over the United States and Europe as a demonstrator of the strength of the machine. He is thirty-seven years of age.

JIM'S STORY.

Jim started in with wisdom rare and thought and planned and read,
One day a notice met his eye and this is what it said:

And he who finds he really must, would rather advertise than bust."

COUGAR VS. DEER.

War of Extermination on Former Leads to Increase of the Latter.

Three thousand mountain lions slain in California in two years explains the plentifulness of deer this season, according to County Game Warden Morgan who is just back to Los Angeles from his ranch at Rosamound, Kern County. There Morgan bearded the lion in his den, but failed to get him, though the animals abound in that vicinity.

Venison has been more abundant in Los Angeles this season than in 20 years. People have wondered at it. Morgan has the solution and figures to prove it.

While humans may hunt deer only a few months in the year, the mountain lion is obliged to respect no season, it hunts every month. Sportsmen estimate that an active mountain lion kills and devours an average of twenty-five deer a year.

Thus by killing off 3000 of the "varmints" the lives of at least 75,000 deer have been preserved in the last two years.

Little interest was taken in the killing of the lions until the state fish and game commission, realizing the need for greater protection of deer and other game offered a bounty of $20 for each lion killed.

At $20 each, the dead lions have cost the commission $60,000 though it has been said the bounty has not been claimed in each case. Some of the animals are of great size, measuring 12 feet from tip to tip. Eight footers are common in the sparsely settled mountain districts.

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny, southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.
