On Saturday October 29 the voting on the School Loan bylaw took place and the result was in favor of the proposed bylaw. In comparison with previous polls this one was exceedingly small, less than 75 votes being recorded. The following was the result:

For the bylaw	34
Against the bylaw	18
One spoilt ballot.

DROWNED AT PENTICTON.

Dragged in by the weight of water in a pail she was filling, Lily Wilkins the five year old daughter of Robert Wilkins of the boat building firm of Oliver & Wilkins, was drowned in the Okanagan River at Penticton on Friday last. Mrs. Wilkins heard her daughter cry out as she stepped from the bank, and hurried to the scene. The current dragged the body under, and it was some time before the lifeless body was recovered. Mr. Wilkins came to Penticton from Naramata this spring with his family.

The local automobile met with a slight mishap last Wednesday evening on the road to Penticton by hitting a rock. The spindle and connections were badly damaged with the result that it will be out of commission for about a week. The occupants were fortunate in escaping but had a good constitutional walk of about two and one half miles to Penticton.

OKANAGAN FRUIT AT THE APPLE SHOW.

The Principal Prizes are captured by Kelowna, Summerland and Vernon.

That Okanagan fruit is the best in the world was again proved by the awards granted at the national Apple Show in Vancouver this week. The district captured the sweepstakes, three first and two second prizes. The list of winners are as follows: The premier prize in the apple show—the Grand Sweepstakes of $1000—goes to Kelowna, whose car of Jonathans has been pronounced by the judges to be the finest car of apples ever shown at any exhibition. In practically every respect the apples were perfect. Out of a maximum of 1000 marks possible, the exhibit was awarded 970. In the mixed carload class there was keen competition, with six entries in the field. The prizes offered in these classes were $500, $250, and $150. Mixed first and second in sweepstakes, Summerland Agricultural Society; second Vernon Board of Trade; third, M. Moran, Wenatchee, Wash.; Northern Spy first; Goldstream Estate, Ltd., Vernon. Grimes Golden first; W. W. Sawyer Land Company, Sunnyside, Wash.; Tompkins King; First Victoria Fruit Growers' Association. Yellow Newtons: First, and third in sweepstakes: E. Renshaw, Medford, Oregon; Second, C. Starcher, Yakima Valley.

In the second sweepstakes prize of $500, Summerland secured 984 points with its mixed car of Spitzenbergs, Yellow Newtons, Winter Banana, Spys and Grimes Golden, while E. Renshaw's Yellow Newtowns took the third award of $250, with 891 points.

PENTICTON FAIR.

The labors of the Horticultural Society in connection with the fair which came off on Wednesday of last week were crowned with success, and the officers of the society are to be congratulated on the fact that Penticton's first essay in this direction proved in all respects so satisfactory a beginning, auguring well for future efforts. The weather was everything that could be desired; in fact it was a perfect autumn day, with glorious sunshine and that tonic quality in the atmosphere that is peculiar to Indian summer. It was one of Penticton's great days, and the whole population thoroughly entered into the spirit of it, and enjoyed it to the full.

The foundation for the extension of the Supply Company's down town store is now well under way. When it is complete Summerland will have one of the finest business blocks in the valley.

Summerland had the largest representation of any town in Eastern British Columbia at the recent Sunday School convention in Vernon, a fair indication of local interest in the modern educative movement that is transforming the Sunday School into one of our most effective moral agencies.

Mr. Thos. Beavis, Mr. Martin Beavis and Mr. W. J. Docking, with their families, have returned from their recent holiday trip to Crystal City, Man. They report a most enjoyable summer.

The new Baptist Church at the south end of Shaughnessy Avenue is rapidly going ahead. It is hoped it will be ready for use before the end of the year.

The physical department of the college is now in full swing and the boys are enjoying their exercises under a competent instructor. A college basketball league has been formed, and a silver cup has been donated locally for the winners. We hope the town boys will soon get their team together ready for another series of town and college games.

Fruit from the orchards of Messrs T. J. Smith and F. Osler gained prizes at the Penticton Fair last week.

Geo. Ross, late C. P. R. agent here has been in the hospital this week suffering from a slight attack of appendicitis.

A contingent of twenty-nine Summerlanders went to Vancouver to see the fruit at the National Apple Show. They report that Okanagan apples made a fine show.

A mock trial will be held in the college chapel tomorrow (Saturday) evening. Four young ladies are charged with "disturbing the peace of his majesty's subjects in his majesty's domains." All are welcome.

OKANAGAN FRUIT AT THE COAST.

Indications point to an increasing demand in the Coast Cities for the product of this district.

"Nothing succeeds like success."

True of fruit growing as in all things else. When the demand for Okanagan fruit becomes insistent in one section,—the prairies, for instance—it will be heard as insistently in other sections. Just now it is beginning to be heard at the Coast Cities. The wholesalers in Vancouver never have favored Okanagan fruit—have not, in fact, given it fair treatment with the result that Okanagan fruit has sought friends in the localities where it was treated more friendly. Now, Vancouver wholesale fruit dealers are seeking to encourage Okanagan fruit to come that way.

In the Vancouver Saturday Sunset, 'Bruce' throws some light on the question which will interest our fruit growers. He says: "That greater transportation facilities will have to be provided for the Okanagan in the very near future is patent to the most cursory observer. While the figures for the present season are not yet complete those in position to know estimate that at least 450 carloads of fruit will be shipped before the season closes. Conservative estimates are that these figures will be doubled every two years as orchards come into bearing.

"Other estimates are somewhat over this mark. For instance at Summerland 400,000 trees have been set out. In five, or at the most, six years these vast orchards will be in full bearing. At an average of six boxes of 20 pounds per tree that district alone in peaches will produce over 2,400 carloads. Yet Summerland is only one district of several and even Summerland is only at the beginning of its development. Peachland will come a close rival and so also will Penticton. Other districts on the Lake are being opened also. There is apparently no limit to the tonnage possibilities of those lake districts. And at present all their freight is handled by boat and transferred. That is all right today but what about five or six year from now?

"Then too these are peach districts. Kelowna also on the Lake, and Vernon and Armstrong and Enderby are apple and vegetable districts whose tonnage per acre will run higher than the peach orchards, in the case of vegetables many times higher, and whose acreage will be greater as well. It will readily be seen that the Okanagan will in a few years be producing a tonnage to be coveted by all the railways. The Kettle Valley will help some, so will the C. N. R. which Premier McBride has unequivocally promised will tap the Okanagan from Kamloops.

"The Okanagan is most concerned however about transportation facilities to the East. The Coast has not been a good customer for Okanagan fruits while the prairies eagerly take all that can be produced. That is why the V. V. & E. will be welcomed for it will afford another highway to the east through the Boundary district. That too is why the Kettle Valley line to Midway tapping Penticton and Summerland, and through those points all the lake ports, is regarded with satisfaction in the valley. It is not connection with the coast which causes joy in the breast of the fruit grower in the Okanagan. What is wanted is more railways to the prairies and then some more. It is the prairie farmer who uses and will continue to use the bulk of his product.

Right here arises a question which is of prime interest to Vancouver householders. It is one I have asked of many leading growers and others interested. Why do we not get more Okanagan fruit on the Vancouver market? Most of the fresh fruit which comes on the tables of Vancouver householders is insipid, flavorless trash from the United States, shipped green and ripened in the crates and for which we pay enough in all conscience.

"In all Vancouver we are told the C. P. R., charges higher freight rates on fruit to the Coast than to the prairies. We are given some ingenious reasons for this alleged discrimination. The C. P. R., we are told, wants to cheapen fruit on the prairies. However, you hear a different story in the Okanagan. Shippers here tell me the Vancouver wholesalers will not pay the price for "fancy" stuff which is the only kind shipped out of the Okanagan. I was told that it is the custom among Vancouver wholesalers when one house brings in a car of Okanagan fruit for a competitor to get to the long distant 'phone to Seattle and order a car of cheap American stuff with which he demoralizes the market and either forces the Okanagan fruit to a temporary low level or discourages other dealers from bringing in any more.

"Inquiry as to the freight rate discrimination in favor of the prairies resulted in utterly exploding that story. Here are figures taken from the C. P. R. tariff which apply to practically all the points in the Okanagan. Freight rates in carloads of 24,000 lbs. apples and pears; to Vancouver 45c per cwt., to Calgary 70c., to Regina and Winnipeg 75 cents. Fresh fruits,—peaches and small fruits,—in carloads of 20,000 lbs., to Vancouver 53 cents, to Calgary 85 cents, to Regina and Winnipeg $1.00. Vegetables in carloads of 30,000 lbs.; to Vancouver 23 cents, to Calgary 33 cents, to Regina 48 cents and Winnipeg 53 cents.

"In less than carload lots the difference is as great but in the case of fresh fruits no freight rate is quoted to prairie points who are therefore forced to ship by express at a cost of $2.25 per cwt. to Calgary, $2.55 to Regina, and $2.65 to Winnipeg against a freight rate to Vancouver of $1.14 or an express rate of $1.80.

"Complaint is however made that Wenatchee growers got a rate to Vancouver of 35 cents per cwt. on pears and apples in carload lots. This however is brought up to 48 cents by the duty, or 3 cents higher than the rate from Okanagan to Vancouver.

"There is no comparison between the quality of Okanagan fruit and the average trash that is offered on the Vancouver market. It is not because the householder of Vancouver does not want good stuff nor because he is not paying high enough prices for what he gets. Neither is it indifference to the Coast market on the part of the Okanagan fruit grower. The figures which I have quoted above show that it is not the fault of the C. P. R. as is frequently stated. The trouble undoubtedly lies with the wholesale fruit dealers of Vancouver. The wholesalers of Vancouver seem to be in conspiracy to shut provincial fruits and vegetables out of the Vancouver market. I have heard the same story at Lytton and all through the Okanagan.

"A remedy suggested and one which will doubtless be put into effect in the near future is the establishment of a distributing depot in Vancouver for the various products of the different districts. Fruit and vegetables could then be shipped in car lots, cold-stored and distributed fresh every day. If it were found that the retailers of the city were in the hands of a wholesale combine, as is frequently alleged, and were restrained from selling British Columbia products, the next step would be to open retail stores in the various parts of the city and go direct to consumer. By an intelligent campaign of advertising and the proper introduction of the goods it would not be long before the home producers could dominate the markets of all the Coast cities. The result would not only be a material reduction in the cost of living but would give the consumers of the Coast cities a much superior class of fruit than they are now getting from the United States.

GOVERNMENT TELEPHONE SYSTEM.

The following letter has been addressed to the Vernon Board of Trade by Superintendent Stevens in reply to a complaint that body had lodged regarding the efficiency of the Telephone System between Vernon and Penticton:

J. T. Reid Esq.,

Secretary, Vernon Board of Trade,
Vernon, B. C.

Dear Sir:

I have for acknowledgement your favor of October 14th, relative to our line between Vernon and Penticton.

I note that your resolution says that the line is practically useless between Vernon and Penticton. I have gone very carefully into the matter and am obliged to advise that you have to look somewhere out of our line for the cause of the trouble. Our line is in perfect condition between Vernon and Penticton. I am working over this section of our line every day and some times many times a day, and have not the slightest difficulty in doing business between my office and Vernon, or my office and as far north as Nicola. I would, however, point out that our line only runs to Mr. Muir's office at Vernon and that any service or any equipment over which your people are working between their offices and Mr. Muir's office or between the Kelowna or Penticton local Government offices, are entirely outside of our jurisdiction. In other words, if the local instrument, being used at Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton or any other local exchange, is in trouble, the owners of various local exchanges are the ones to whom relief should be looked for. I have no hesitancy in asking any of the members of your Board to come to our local office at Vernon and satisfy themselves by calling any of our offices between Vernon and Hedley.

I hope this will make it clear that the trouble does not exist upon the Government line. I will be glad to assist you in any way that I can in the furnishing of a better service, if within my power to do so.

Yours truly,
(Signed) C. S. Stevens,
Superintendent.

THAT AUTOMOBILE

Last November a certain city on the Pacific Coast bought an Automobile Ambulance.

It was a very beautiful ambulance, painted white, with a big red cross on the side. It had a big bell on the front that clanged and clanged, and smote terror to the heart of teamsters and pedestrians.

Now on the very first day that the ambulance arrived it was run out and tried.

Down Main Street it sped, hell-to-split. The citizens stood on the curbs and congratulated themselves on owning such a beautiful and useful machine.

The ambulance could go all right!

The driver had a new blue uniform with brass buttons and a jaunty cap.

In the ambulance were two young doctors, ambitious, with pointed whiskers. They wore spotless uniforms of white duck.

As the ambulance shot around the corner a admiring citizen who hadn't figured on the turn tried to get out of the road. He ran the wrong way, and the ambulance lifted him twenty feet into the air and slammed him into a telegraph pole. The two doctors jumped out, and friendly hands lifted the injured man into the beautiful ambulance.

Then they started for the hospital. They had got one all right, all right!

An Irishman who witnessed the affair remarked, Well, begorrah! It's a dam lucky thing we had that ambulance or he would have had to go to the hospital on a dray.

As it was, the man died ten minutes after he reached the hospital.

AVIATOR'S WINNINGS RUN INTO THOUSANDS

A tabulation of prizes won by aviators in the United States and Europe since the opening of the first international meet at Rheims a year ago, shows that $712,650 has been divided by the airmen in twelve months. The figures include only official meets competed for under rules of authorized organizations. Paulhan is credited with being the largest individual winner, with slightly more than $82,000. Morane is next with $53,000, and Latham close behind with $32,000. Rogieri, who comes next on the list, abandoned flying after a bad fall. Curtiss heads the list of American prize winners, with $16,000, with Brookins next. Bleriot is down on the list with only $8,400 although he has made a fortune by exhibitions, as have Latham, Paulhan and others. Paulhan's exhibition tour in America, which is said to have netted him nearly $50,000, is not counted. The only woman in the list of winners is the Baroness De La Roche.

The list of casualties during the twelve months' period shows that 24 aviators lost their lives in flights.

:: Naramata Notes ::

The Penticton Lumber Syndicate has recently purchased the timber on a number of pre-emptions east of town and this week have sent in a gang of men to erect a camp. It is possible that another saw-mill may be erected on the lake down at Four Mile Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilkins have been called to mourn the death of their little six year old daughter Lily. The child was drowned at Penticton on Friday morning last. The funeral service was held here in Naramata on Sunday conducted by Rev. G. O. Fallis assisted by Mrs. Gillespie. It was truly a sad procession which followed the remains to the cemetery.

The dance in the Opera House on Monday under the Ladies Club's Auspices was the crowning event of Thanksgiving Day's amusement. A genuinely good time was spent by those who enjoyed dancing or cards. At eleven the ladies served an extra tasty luncheon and shortly after twelve the final numbers were concluded. At the close three hearty cheers were given the ladies and the musicians who were responsible for the splendid programme.

Mrs. Julius Block entertained the ladies of the Unity Club last Friday afternoon. An agreement was reached at the gathering, that the various organizations unite at Christmas in one Grand Entertainment to be held in the Opera House on Thursday Dec. 29th. Mrs. Gillespie has very kindly agreed to take charge of the programme, for the occasion and all who know anything of this lady's ability to train performers to appear on the stage, will say a splendid evening's entertainment is assured.

Capt. Languedoc received a pretty bad shaking up on Monday afternoon as a result of a fall from his rig. It appears that his horse got scared at the noise of the rig coming down the hill near T. I. Williams lot and springing forward was soon beyond control and the Capt. finding it impossible to pull the animal into the fence threw himself out before the rig reached the high embankment a few rods further on. It was fortunate that he did for shortly after the buggy was overturned and pretty badly demolished. Dr. Andrews, who examined the Captain's side says there are no broken ribs but that it will be a question of a while in bed.

Was there a Turkey Shoot in Naramata on Thanksgiving Day? Has there ever been a year that there was not a shoot of some kind? Why no. Whether there was a turkey or not. This year was no exception. There was a good crowd and plenty of turkeys and plenty of shooting and plenty of poor scores. No one shooter had the field to himself although Allen Hill in the men's class won out a second time. In the Juvenile Class Roy Boothe surprised himself and his friends by making the highest score of the afternoon. In the ladies competition Miss Ruth Chambers

LACK OF SENTIMENT IN CANADIANS.

"I am not in favor of fire cracker patriotism such as we find in some countries, but the time has come when we, as Canadians, must realize that our indifference to the development of a national sentiment is fostering conditions which are a menace to our national life."

Such was the loudly applauded statement of Judge McInnes at the Trafalgar Day celebration at Vancouver on Friday last.

"It is impossible," went on the speaker, to visit cafes and theatres in Vancouver without having the flags and the rulers of other countries thrust upon you. Yet when we as Britishers have an opportunity of asserting our patriotic sentiment, our attitude has been almost invariably one of indifference."

"All this must change," declared Judge McInnes emphatically.

POOR ADVERTISING.

Every circus has its hawkers. Vancouver, in its phenomenal growth of the past few years, has added to its publicity department a number of advertising agencies which are presided over by a lot of dubs; at least, it would seem so judging from the amount of childplay emanating from these agencies and styled "advertising." Of course, there are a number of legitimate advertising agencies doing business in Vancouver. And there is no enterprise more deserving of appreciation than a reliable advertising agency. But "everything that glitters is not gold." Neither is everything that jingles good advertising.

Some of the literature put out by the Canadian National Apple Show management was the poorest stuff we ever saw circulated to advertise an affair of this magnitude. Much of it sent to the Review for publication promptly found its way to the wastebasket.

A writer in an Eastern Horticultural journal very wisely calls attention to some of it in the following criticism: "Literature issued by the management of the Canadian National Apple Show, to be held in Vancouver in November, states that "a grand total of 9,000 apples" will be comprised in the plate display. It is added that these apples will average three inches in diameter and that if placed in a single row touching one another they would extend five and one-ninth miles. Isn't that wonderful? Just think! 9,000 multiplied by three represents 27,000 inches, which is equal to five and one-ninth miles. Eh! what? There are 5,280 feet in a mile or 63,360 inches. That seems funny. "Next, however, we are informed that the secretary estimates that 'there will be a grand total of 12,600 boxes of apples on display. A box of apples is approximately 20 inches long. If all of these boxes of apples were placed end to end and a little boy told that he could have the last box in the row, if he would go after it, he would have to walk 47 and three-fourth miles to get it." Gracious! Wouldn't he be tired? But let us see. If we multiply 12,600 by 20 we will have a total of 252,000 inches. There are 63,360 inches in a mile. Thus, 252,000 inches is a fraction less than four miles. Oh dear! Oh dear!

"But, it never rains but it pours! Here is another. After being told that there will be total of 1,680,000 apples in the entire show," we are further informed that "these apples will average about two and one-quarter inches in diameter and if they were placed in a single row it would be 698 miles long." Isn't it wonderful—to think that 1,638,000 multiplied by two and a quarter equals 3,276,000 inches, which on a basis of 63,360 inches to the mile equals 58 and a fraction miles, not 698. We hate to say anything that may detract from the magnitude of this great show, but these figures take our breath away. They astonish us. We are overcome. Do you wonder that British Columbia is sending to Ontario for school teachers? We hope that our teachers will show them the difference between feet and inches and help to make the show a credit to Canada. But really, this is too good to let go by without comment."

A HINT TO A FORTUNE.

The horticulturist possessed of a liberal sprinkling of initiative in his makeup is the man who will run into quick money. To have a crop of something similar to that of all your neighbors is poor policy. To grow something different from your neighbors, and get it on a barren market is the highest kind of horticultural business.

Thimbleberry culture in the Peach Belt should make big money for somebody. "A hint to the wise is sufficient."

John Wilson of Oakville, Ont., gives some timely pointers on Thimbleberry culture. "A light, dry, warm soil and plenty of manure are the essentials to success with a crop of thimbleberries," says he: "The berries grow small and do not give the yields. A limited district only of the country is adaptable to the culture of thimbleberries. And only a limited area of any one farm ordinarily will produce them to advantage, hence there is always a very fair market for them once the crop is ready to be picked. A fair yield is 35,000 quarts to the acre. Oftentimes the yield is higher.

"Since the lightest, sandiest soil seems to suit the berries best, it follows that this soil must be liberally supplied with manure. The plantation should be manured about every year. I would prefer to give a light application every year if the manure was available.

"As soon as the canes are through bearing for the year, even before, if the market has gone bad, we go through the plantation and take out all old wood. This allows all strength and growth to go into the new wood for the crop of the following year. The soil is kept cultivated throughout the summer and the rows plowed up too during the fall.

The Kittatinny and the Snyder are favorite varieties. They are the best shippers. The Kittatinny is a little tender and is inclined to winter-kill. The Snyder is very hardy. It is a good shipper and may be sent anywhere.

The Erie is a magnificent berry, both for flavor and size. It is a softer berry, however, and is very tender, killing out badly in winter and hence only cropping about every other year. I much prefer the Snyder. It beats the other varieties with us almost every year. We are trying the Mercereau. It is of good quality and size but is going to be a very shy bearer."

MUCH TO LEARN FROM ONTARIO.

Sometimes we are inclined to believe that we of the West have been spoiled by Nature. In the Okanagan Valley, especially, Nature is so kind and so generous in providing such an abundance of everything which comes from the soil, that we are disposed to complain mightily if, perchance, a "hitch" should occur to upset our plans or bring us loss.

It is not an unusual thing to hear this or that one complain that the early frosts caught his potatoes or other garden crop; the snow came early and caught his vegetables still in the ground; or the late frosts caught the early bloom and destroyed the fruit-bearing trees. From another we learn that the market is so far away and difficult to get to that much of our harvest is sold at a loss owing to its poor condition when reaching its destination. Again we are told that, while Summerland and sister districts in the Peach Belt, arable to produce the finest peaches, apricots, nectarines, prunes and plums in the world, still the crop cannot be made as profitable as apples because of the difficulties in the way of getting these soft fruits to market.

We believe the time is coming and is close at hand, when our fruit growers will stop their talk about the difficulties in the way and set to work to overcome them. That they will disappear with the effort we feel sure, for other fruit growing districts have been confronted by the same conditions and have overcome the difficulties—and what the fruit growers of other districts have done, our fruit-growers can do.

We sometimes hear men speak unknowingly about the fruit-growing conditions of Ontario fruit-growers are behind the times, and are not capable of competing with the fruit-growers of the west, either in the quality of the fruit or in the packing. Never was a greater mistake made. It is true, the fruit-growing conditions in Ontario up to within the past year or two were not the best; but the conditions in the Ontario orchards and packing houses to-day are not the conditions of even a year ago.

In The Canadian Horticulturist we learn that "the marketing end of the fruit business is a very live and burning question today in Ontario generally, and in the Niagara District in particular." And it would be wise for us to study Ontario's development in this connection, that we might profit thereby. It is particularly interesting to read what Ontario's peach growers are speaking of the shipments of peaches to England from Niagara the past season a writer says:

"I have recently had the privilege of inspecting the packing at the St. Catharines Cold Storage Company's packing house, of one of the shipments of peaches for England. Mr. Dobson, of Hamilton, who has an extensive orchard at Jordan Harbor, and the St. Catharines Cold Storage Co., are sending several considerable shipments of peaches to England, under the superintendence of the Dominion and Ontario Governments. The ships are guaranteed a certain price for this fruit by the Government. Mr. Dobson's first shipment of early Crawfords, made on the 10th of September arrived in London in good condition, and excited favorable comment there. The box adopted is similar to the South African box, and is 18 inches long, 11 inches wide and 3½ deep. Wood wool made from the aspen willow is used for packing material, and a good layer of this is placed at the bottom, top and sides of the box. Every peach is first wrapped in paper, then in wool, and carefully fitted to its place; the boxes are then nailed up, and every three boxes are placed on top of one another and nailed top and bottom together, thus making a very handy crate weighing 25 pounds. Each of the boxes weighs slightly under nine pounds. Girls are employed to do the packing. They pack from 60 to 100 boxes in a day in this manner.

The Summerland Review

"Each box contains from 20 to 25 peaches, the number contained being stamped on the outside of the box. The ends have an attractive label pasted on them, entitled "Canadian Grown Peaches." The paper in which the peaches are wrapped is also stamped "St. Catharines Cold Storage Co., Ontario, Canada."

"Great care is taken in preparing and loading the cars. The bottom and sides of each car are slatted, and the crated boxes are placed in tiers seven high and six wide, and a space of about three inches left between each tier, and over every tier narrow strips are run across the car to keep them from moving. All these precautions are taken to ensure good ventilation between the packages. A car will hold almost 1,200 of these boxes, or 400 crates; but the shipment I am describing only contained 700.

"The car is iced 12 hours before the fruit is placed in it, and the fruit itself is also pre-cooled. A thermograph is also used on board ship, and the temperature is kept well down till a day or two before landing, when it is allowed to gradually rise to the temperature of the outer air to avoid the condensation of air upon the fruit.

"In shipping fruit long distances by car from California and elsewhere, pre-cooling of the fruit and the pre-icing of cars have been found to be of vital importance. The St. Catharines company is wisely adopting similar methods. This package would seem to me to be a very good one for the western trade. The St. Catharines Cold Storage Co. is, however, using a large box for its trade, holding about 60 peaches, and weighing about 26 pounds. These boxes are, in my opinion, far superior to the Georgia carrier crates."

The Similkameen Star has celebrated its tenth birthday and Editor James Wright is still wearing good clothes and eating three square meals a day.

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

Perhaps you will not agree with me, but that does not matter. We shall be friends just the same. I never look out upon the sparkling waters of Okanagan Lake and view the hills rising from either shore, without feeling that it has been good for me to be here. I believe people make the atmosphere in which they live. In other words, the atmosphere of a community will be broad, tolerant, gracious, unselfish, in exact ratio to the magnanimity of the individuals composing that community. We cannot hide our faults; neither can we hide our virtues, and the bigger we are as individuals, the bigger we shall be as a community. The moment self-interest creeps in, that moment generosity slides out, and the very rocks and trees and hills and rills will tell about it.

One cannot visit Summerland without thinking better of himself and the whole human race.

Perhaps I am wrong—I most times am—but it seems to me that here we have a type of the universal men and women whom live and do, and work the reformation of the world by minding their own business.

Peachland Paragraphs.

Miss Ethel McIntyre spent Thanksgiving in Summerland.

Mr. W. J. Garraway returned on Monday evening from a visit to Revelstoke.

Mrs. Chas. M. Smith of Summerland is visiting her relatives in Peachland for a couple weeks.

Mrs. O. H. Pollard and family left on Saturday for Winnipeg where they will spend the winter.

The three local pedagogues were all out of town for Thanksgiving. Mr. Murrey and Miss Milne visited friends in Revelstoke, while Mr. Barker ate his turkey in Vernon.

Mr. H. Hardy took nine local entries of apples to the Penticton exhibition and secured eight first prizes and a special. A very good showing indeed for one orchard.

The services last Sunday in connection with the dedication and opening of the new Baptist Church here were particularly impressive and inspiring. The dedication sermon was preached in the morning by Rev. H. G. Estabrook, Provincial Superintendent of missions, who gave an able and scholarly discourse. In the afternoon there was a Sunday School rally addressed by Revs. T. N. Ritchie, Estabrook and Pattison. In the evening Rev. Mr. Pattison of Summerland, preached a splendid gospel sermon to a crowded house, ending up with a most powerful appeal to the unsaved. The Methodists and Presbyterians withdrew their services for the day to give their congregations a chance to attend these services. On Monday evening a Thanksgiving service was held at which addresses were given by Revs. Hood, Knox and Pattison followed by light refreshments in the basement. The most interesting part of the function was the reading, by pastor MacDonald, of the financial statement in connection with the building of the church. Counting volunteer labor and all gifts the church was worth $2800. Of this all was provided for but $593. After an earnest appeal by Mr. MacDonald a subscription list was passed around and all but about $100 of his sum was raised. Naturally, Mr. MacDonald, who has superintended the work of building with such untiring zeal was jubilant over the result. The style of building is entirely new for a church edifice in these parts being octagonal in shape gave rise, during erection, to some amusing remarks, it is now admitted by all that it is a very artistic, as well as serviceable building. All join in congratulating the Baptists on their new church home and wishing them much prosperity in that for which their churchstands.

(Too late for last week's issue.)

Mr. H. Hardy is attending the Penticton Horticultural Exhibition this week. He took with him a few exhibits of apples.

Mrs. Vivian was delighted by the arrival last week of her mother and sister from Toronto to spend the winter with her.

Mr. Turner of Vancouver, arrived this week to take charge of the Northern Crown Bank, which will be opened here the first of the month.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. are holding two sessions of their organization on Thursday afternoon and evening to be addressed by Mrs. Livingstone of Toronto.

Rev. D. J. MacDonald is suffering from stepping on a nail standing upright in a board this week. While very painful it is not thought that there is danger of any complications as the nail was a new one.

A good many from here attended the funeral of Miss Eliza Gallately last Sunday. The young lady was well known and highly thought of by many in Peachland. The parents and brothers and sisters have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Mr. J. W. Rogers, of the Rogers Realty Co. Winnipeg, spent a few days in town last week, the guest of Mr. C. G. Elliott. He was very much pleased with the appearance of the region, and especially with being able to gather strawberries from the vines in sufficient quantity for table use.

Miss Jennie Lewis is suffering from a particularly bad felon on a finger of her left hand. It was so serious at one time that it was feared that blood poisoning was setting in, but now all danger from that source seems past. But as it is Miss Lewis says she prefers to have a felon to being a felon.

Last Thursday evening the Presbyterians gave a banquet in their church in honor of the presence with them of Rev. Mr. Wilson, Superintendent of Missions, Rev. Principal McKay of Westminster Hall, Vancouver and Mr. D. H. Gibson of Vancouver. A bountiful repast was furnished by the ladies of the congregation and after ample justice had been done to this the visitors were called on for addresses and each gave a very able discourse on some phase of Home Mission work. Altogether it was a most enjoyable and profitable meeting.

VICTORIA WILL HAVE BALL TEAM.

"Papa" Dugdale, the doyen of baseball magnates on the Pacific coast, has written to W. A. Wattalet, one of those Victorians who is interesting himself in the enterprise of giving Victoria a professional baseball team, informing him that it is a sure thing that Victoria will get the sixth franchise in the Northwestern baseball league for next season.

Mr. Dugdale is in the know. He does not speak without knowing whereof he talks. He goes to the length of advising Wattalet to complete the local organization to begin the signing of players as soon as suitable players can be found, and to take the other required steps to assure Victoria being able to toe the mark with a pennant winning nine with the opening of the season.

THE EDITOR'S SNAP.

Bob Lowery contributes the following: Every once in a while some cheerful individual remarks to us "Well, now that the paper is out, I suppose that you can take it easy for three or four days." Yes, how delightful it is that a country editor has nothing to do between press days. Business runs along automatically. When paper bills become due money drops off the trees with which to pay them. Subscribers vie with each other to see who can pay the furthest in advance. Advertisers beg for additional space. And the way the news hunts up the editor is also pleasant to contemplate. There is really something strange about the way news items act. When the paper is out the editor simply goes to his desk and leans back in his easy chair and looks wise and waits for next week's press day. The day before press day the people line up in front of the office door and then they file past the desk and tell him all the news of the week. He writes it up in fifteen or twenty minutes, takes it back and hangs it on the hook. The compositors take the copy and shake it over the type cases, say a few mystic words, the type flies into place, and after a few passes by the foreman the forms are ready for the press again. And the editor goes down and deposits some more money in the bank. It is the greatest snap in the catalogue. Now if the editor could only do away with press day his job would be complete.

NATIONAL APPLE SHOW

Vancouver Attracts Fruit Growers and Purchasers the Wide World over.
Summerland Gains 6 Firsts, 4 Seconds and 3 Thirds.

The National Apple Show at Vancouver is now history, though very recent, and is to be referred to as such. For the Okanagan district it will ever remain as a pleasing memory—one that can be referred to with every credit. We hope it may be the forerunner of many such events, for that they help greatly the orchardists of this vast and pleasant fruit growing centre is an acknowledged fact.

From year to year the orchardist has worked: spraying, cultivating, pruning, and the usual round of the fruit growers lot and at last, so far as Summerland is concerned, the products of his labors has received world-wide recognition and this in competition with the fruitgrowers of the western states, as well as those of our own province.

An exhibition of this vast character, not only helps along the fruit industry, but also greatly helps to cement the fruitgrowers in one huge union, which is a very desirable thing, as it enables them to command a far higher price for their product, and at the same time enter into competition with the wholesale fruit houses which at the present time totally ignore the fruit growers of B. C. preferring rather, to purchase scrub fruit at a ridiculously low rate, and foist it out to the pub-

OKANAGAN APPLES AT WINNIPEG.

A remarkable sight was seen on the main streets of Winnipeg a few days ago when fifteen large drays filed along the thoroughfares loaded high with cases of Okanagan apples. This display was a hint that the valleys of British Columbia are able to furnish fruit in large quantities to Manitoba.

EXCERPTS FROM COMMISSIONER METCALFE'S REPORT.

Calgary.— When I interviewed retailers here they reported the large fruits that came from B. C. this season as most satisfactory in every respect. The pack has much improved over former years especially was this noticeable of peaches in the latter part of this season's pack being much tighter and more weight to package.

In Stockton Hallison jobbers warehouse here I saw American apples which they stated cost 60 cents and 65 cents per box f.o.b. point of shipment comprising Wolf River, Snow and Kings, not graded as to size, or well colored, lic at the highest prices.

As one journeyed round the exhibits, the vast display of color and variety of apples bewildered the visitor. Here a vast array of Yellow Newtons and immediately alongside the glorious red of the Johnathan-blazed forth; next in order a district display probably with a few apples and a highly ornate set out, or maybe a beautiful balanced exhibit.

The crowds of visitors and they were mostly visitors, very few citizens of Vancouver turning out—after journeying over the exhibition, sat down in the gallery and listened to the strains of the splendid military band—the largest exhibit from the eastern part of the Dominion, but one which would be hard to beat on this continent.

In the prizes, Summerland was well to the fore—in the mixed carload lot we came out first—this against four competitors is a very creditable win—then in the sweepstake for the best carload exhibit in the exhibition we figured second, Kelowna, our sister town gaining the first in this class.

In the window display, we were also first, Messrs Spencer having their windows decorated with fruit from Summerland. They get were not holding up well, cost laid down Regina $1.15 to $1.20 per box. I also saw a car of apples and pears from Vernon B. C. shipped to the Vernon Fruit Co. here part of car was shipped in large crates holding 75 lbs. net, these are not subject to inspection not being in closed package, claim they sell well at prices asked, and compete successfully with Ontario cheapest apples in barrels as to price, although lessening the sale of regular box apples, they certainly were good stock for selling by that method.

Winnipeg.— The McNaughton Fruit Exchange here stated they had one car of apples and one car of plums and prunes from the Victoria Fruit Exchange, Victoria, B. C., sold by auction at following prices:

Apples per box No. 1.	$1.35
Apples " " No. 2.	$1.00
Plums per case	.69
Prunes " " " " " "	.68

These were certainly very low prices. They further report selling 60 carloads of mixed fruits and vegetables this season to date for the St. Catharines Cold Storage Fruit Co. of St. Catharines, Ont.

$100 medal for this win. The list of prizes coming to Summerland is as follows:

Mixed car	1st
Sweepstake	2nd
Medal and $500 cash or $750 in land.
10 Boxes Spitzenberg	2nd
$50 cash C. J. Thompson
Single Box Northern Spy	3rd
$5.00 J. Gartrell
McIntosh Red	1st and 3rd
J. Bartlett $35.00 A. Stuart $5.00
Cox's Orange Pippin	1st
A. Stuart $35.00
Rhode Island Greening	2nd
J. Gartrell $15
Wealthy	1st
A. Stuart $35
Winter Banana	3rd
C. J. Thompson $5.00
Ribstone Pippin	1st
PLATES.
Scarlet Pippin	1st
A. Stuart $3
Cranberry Pippin	1st
A. Stuart $3
Wagener	2nd
A. Stuart $2

To Summarise. Although prices given in this report of American apples by jobbers apparently seem low they all admit the quality is far below the B. C. fruit being offered and quoted at higher prices this season, and are all prepared to buy if solicited, by our shippers more particularly if they are called on by solicitor personally it is far the better method to insure sales; would advise growers and shippers to hold firm to present prices asked for good varieties of No. 1 grade and pack as prices are ruling high everywhere for No. 1 stock of good winter varieties.

AMERICAN APPLE SHOWS.

The third annual Apple Show of the United States will be held in Spokane, Nov. 14 to 19, and will be followed by an exhibition at Chicago, Nov. 28 to Dec. 4th. The first show in 1908 cost $41,000. Last year's show cost even more. The People of Spokane have been contributing about $25,000 a year to the show. This causes the Canadian Horticulturist to remark that the citizens of Toronto contribute about $1,000 to the Ontario Horticultural Exhibition.

Preaching Service at 11.30 followed by Communion Subject: "The New Commandment." Methodist Evening Service, West Summerland, Subject, "Increase Through Use."

The Ladies Auxillary of the Men's Club will hold a bazaar in the Club Rooms on Thursday Dec. 8th This has been in preparation for some weeks and will offer fancy and useful articles suitable for Christmas gifts. Proceeds for the Men's Club.

A real estate deal comprising the sum of $10,000 went through the week—this is the first big deal since the Apple Show, and no doubt many more such deals will soon be going through.

It is expected that the Fair to be held next Tuesday in the College Gymnasium will be one of the events of the season. The ladies in charge have spared no pains in procuring the articles which will be offered for sale. New York has contributed doll clothes, and the cherry blossom of the Japanese tea booth has come from Honolulu. Practical people will find aprons, sweeping caps and sewing bags in profusion while those on a still hunt for Christmas presents will not be disappointed. The Arts and Crafts department will be well worth a visit, the Fish-pond will yield your money's worth in small bundles and the candy booth will supply many delectable sweets. A musical programme will be rendered during the evening. No admission fee.

W. J. Robinson left for Winnipeg on Friday morning. He expects to remain there some time.

The hospital ball on Friday evening next should prove a very popular affair. Everybody should come along and help the popular institution of the town. It is not necessary by any means that you should be wearing immaculate evening suit—just come in the togs you feel most at home in and join in an evenings fun.

Mr. W. E. Smallfield, editor and proprietor of the Mercury, Renfrew, Ontario, spent Friday visiting friends in Summerland. Mr. Smallfield is on a tour of the West and is well taken with the prospects of B. C. in general and Summerland in particular.

SOAKING THE TEACHER.

According to the Rossland Miner, one of the teachers of that city was to be treated to an apple shower by his pupils on Friday last. The teacher, getting wind of the presentation, requested all pupils having apples in their pockets to deposit them on his desk until after school. As soon as school was dismissed the pupils gathered their fruit, and waiting outside for the teacher presented them to him on the head, neck, face, or wherever they happened to strike. Some of the scholars not being satisfied with the ruin they wrought with the apples, proceeded to secure a few ancient products of the hen house, and further disfigured the appearance of the teacher. An appeal was made to the trustees, who descended upon the youths, making them supply a new suit of clothes for their teacher, and also replace the panes of glass broken in the revolt.

AMERICAN RAILWAYS KILL 3804.

"Killed, 3804; injured, 82,374." This is the casualty record of the railroads in the United States during the year ended June 30 last, according to the Interstate Commerce Commission. It is an increase of 1103 in the number of killed, and 8454 in the number of injured over the previous year's figures.

HAY AND SPUDS FROM QUEBEC.

Ten trainloads of hay, fifty cars to each train, will pass through Winnipeg during the next few weeks bound for lumbering districts of British Columbia from Quebec. In addition to hay, large quantities of potatoes are being despatched west to British Columbia from Quebec.

A NEW INDUSTRY IN SUMMERLAND.

Mr. Clark, who for some few years was foreman and designer for the Kootenay Motor Boat Co., has gone into business with Messrs. Shields and Hatfield and is building first class motor boats at reasonable rates.

In style and finish their launches will be second to none in the Okanagan. At present they have on hand orders for about eight launches, and as they have extra wood working machinery coming along they will soon be in a position to get through quickly with their orders. The Fairbanks Morse engines are handled by this firm, also the Watermen high speed light weight marine engine. They are prepared to build launches complete for $250 up and this is the time to prepare for next seasons run.

APPLE SHOW DIPLOMAS.

All these will be on view in the Summerland Supply Co's store for a few days also some interesting photographs taken of the various exhibits. Much has been said of the many exhibits, but we have heard very little of Summerland's particular win in the mixed car class—a class in which, outside of the sweepstake, there was the most competition, and Summerland won out an easy first.

The Peachland exhibit of McIntosh Reds, exhibited by J. Bartlett, was entered from Summerland, and took first in the class. Since printing the first sheet we have been informed of three more wins in the plate section.

Hubbartsons Nonsuch	1st	J. Steuart.
Fameuse	2nd	C. J. Thompson.
Ontario	1st	J. Steuart.

This makes a total of 8 firsts, 5 seconds and 3 thirds for Summerland, and 1 first for Peachland.

The coronation of King George has been definitely set for June 22nd., of next year.

CRIPPEN WILL HANG.

It was officially announced that Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, would not be executed on Nov. 8 as originally arranged, for the reason that the law provides that two weeks must elapse between the dismissal of an appeal and the carrying out of the sentence. November 23 has been fixed upon as the date of the execution. Meantime Solicitor Arthur Newton, Crippen's counsel, is drafting a petition for a reprieve.

HOSPITAL BALL

The first Annual Ball in aid of the Summerland Hospital funds will be given in the New Packing House (by kind permission of the Fruit Union) on the C.P.R. wharf on Friday evening, Nov. 18th, commencing 8-30. Tickets $2.50, admitting lady and gentleman.

Extra ladies one dollar each. Tickets can be obtained at Hotel, Supply Co., Drug Store, or at the door.

The Maude Moore was unable to cross the lake last weekend on account of the gale. The York and car barge were also compelled to stay over Sunday night for the same reason.

Three carloads of coal from the Nicola have arrived in Summerland since the new slip dock was completed. In the near future coal will supersede wood as fuel, since the latter must get more expensive as the distance to haul to town gets greater.

Principal E. W. Sawyer of the College and Mr. C. S. Stevens left on Monday morning to attend the Baptist convention in Winnipeg. Rev. D. J. Welsh of Kelowna has temporarily undertaken Dr. Sawyer's duties at the College, and Mr. A. W. McLeod is supplying at Kelowna in Mr. Welsh's absence.

For the second time within a few days O. Vaughan's team driven by Ed. Hayward got beyond control on Monday evening. Ed. was delivering groceries at Mrs. Locke's when the team started off of their own accord. They were seen galloping down the gully towards Mr. Hespeler's. The wagon was smashed and the team separated and one horse was found grazing amid scattered groceries while the other was found about half a mile down the road. The following day the team repeated their escapade and demolished a borrowed wagon. A chapter of accidents.

Summerland will this year witness its first Winter Poultry Show. The local Association is already getting things into shape to make the affair a great success. Correspondence is being carried on between the poultry associations of other localities and the secretary of the Summerland Association with the object of attracting bird fanciers from other places. The secretary of the Northern Okanagan Poultry Association has offered the Summerland fanciers all the help they can give, as a result of the knowledge gained by them in the two winter poultry shows which have taken place at Enderby. And the poultrymen of Summerland are prepared to reciprocate. Further details will be given later as to date of show, etc.

SOUTHERN OKANAGAN POULTRY ASSOCIATION.

The above association will hold a poultry and pet stock show in January 1911 at Summerland and are asking for subscriptions, special prizes, etc. The management, hope to make this Poultry Show the best that has ever been held in the Okanagan. A meeting will be held in the Municipal Hall down town on Monday Nov. 14th. They hope for a large meeting.

COMMON SENSE.

Build up the agricultural communities, keep the farming population of every township growing and the first step will be taken toward building up the declining towns and villages. The next step will be to make the towns and villages help themselves in other ways. Perhaps it might be wise to have a Provincial Board of Trade, Presided over by a Cabinet minister, to whom any discontented and discouraged town or village could go for advise and assistance. It could maintain a staff of experts, who were well up in industrial and commercial possibilities, and these could be sent out to give expert advice as to methods best suited to each community. One town might be advised to put in a huge cheese factory, another a butter factory, another a canning factory, another a knitting factory and so on.

"The other day I bought some apples in a Toronto grocery store," says the editor of the Canadian Courier, "which had come all the way across the continent from Washington Territory. United State apples from a Pacific coast state selling in Toronto stores in competition with apples grown in the greatest, or what should be the greatest apple province in North America—think of it. I asked the grocer why. "Honest selection, scientific packing, and co-operative selling," was the answer.

"What value has education for the farmer and the villager if it unfits him to compete with producers and packers two thousand five hundred miles away? What value has physics, and trigonometry and algebra and geometry if they do not fit us to take from nature that which she is prepared to give us if we have but common sense?"

PROGRESSIVE B.C. FRUIT-GROWERS.

Ontario fruit growers did not send any great amount of fruit to the Canadian Apple Show at Vancouver, "owing to the long distance of travel." Speaking about the British Columbia exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition recently held in Toronto, the Canadian Horticulturist says:

"The British Columbia exhibit attracted much attention, and demonstrated the possibilities of British Columbia as a fruit growing province. Fruit of all kinds was shown, the early varieties being preserved in glass jars. The whole exhibit was displayed in a rustic booth of attractive design, which showed off the exhibit to perfection. The fruit in this exhibit was not packed especially for exhibition, but was exhibited as packed by the growers for ordinary commercial purposes.

"Crab apples, peaches, plums, pears, apples and other varieties of fruit were shown in commercial packages, and judging by the display in other sections of the hall, Ontario growers can well learn a few lessons from British Columbia growers concerning the art of packing fruit. Considering the fact that it had travelled across the continent, both the condition of the packages and the quality of the fruit was excellent.

LOW AVERAGE CROP THIS YEAR.

The Corn Reporter, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, reports that on the first of September the average condition of apples throughout the United States was 46.8 as against 44.5 on September 1, 1909, and a ten year average on the same date of 54.7. The average of white potatoes was 70.5 as against a ten year average of 79.8. Peaches showed an average condition of 64.0 as against a ten year average of 56.6. Grapes were 77.2 against a ten year average of 83.8. Pears showed an average condition of 63.9 as against 53.6 on the same date last year. Tomatoes averaged 78.6 against 81.3 a year ago. Onions 83.8 against 86.1 a year ago and cabbages 85.8 against 78.2 last year.

It is expected that upwards of $500,000 may be invested in this way. The work is to be conducted on a cooperative basis. It is intended to market the fruit in London, England.

CROSSING THE ATLANTIC IN BALLOON.

The Wellman expedition was a failure. The great airship "America" put out to sea and stayed in the air 71½ hours. It travelled 1,008 miles over the ocean and the crew were picked up at sea without any loss of life, or the loss of anything except the airship itself when it had to be abandoned.

The initial trip was a failure, but as all great achievements are built upon repeated failures, we may hope to see in a few years the crossing of the Atlantic in an air ship an accomplished fact.

Much has been learned from the experience of the members of the Wellman party. It is a wonderful tribute to the skill of Mr. Vaniman, the engineer who designed the Wellman airship, that on its first voyage, without any preliminary trial, it broke all previous records.

It has been said that the failure of the expedition was due to the equilibrator, or tail, suspended below the balloon, but Mr. Vaniman, who was engineer of the expedition, states in the Scientific American of October 29th, that without the equilibrator the airship could not have kept afloat a single day.

The airship left its hangar at Atlantic City in a dense fog, which continued for two days and nights. The airship had started out with an extra supply of gasoline aboard, which was attached in tanks to the equilibrator, so that the airship hung very low over the water, all but six tanks of the twenty-nine in the equilibrator being submerged. The night grew very cold, shrinking the balloon and making it necessary to throw out more gasoline.

"Then," writes Mr. Vaniman, "a peculiar motion began to manifest itself. The purpose of the equilibrator was to hold the airship at a practically constant level above the sea; in other words, the airship and the sea were to divide between them the burden of supporting the two-ton equilibrator. If the ship showed a tendency to rise, it would be weighted by having to lift a greater weight off the sea, and if it showed a tendency to descend, it would be lightened by letting more of the equilibrator be floated on the sea, with the result that the airship would be held at a practically uniform elevation above the water. However, when the wind freshened, the drag of the equilibrator began to set up a surging motion.

It would pull the airship down slowly but surely until it almost touched the water, then the airship would rebound with gathering momentum, pulling the equilibrator out of the water tank by tank and block by block until it was lifted clear of the surface. The equilibrator would now swing forward like a pendulum, and as its weight gradually overcame the buoyancy of the balloon, it would strike the water, and the dragging action would again commence. In this way the airship kept constantly oscillating up and down, the period of the oscillations being about ten minutes.

On one occasion the big balloon swung so near the water that the waves struck the lifeboat cradled below it. There seemed to be no way of preventing this.

"Sunday was a night of grave apprehension. It was found necessary to throw over a large quantity of precious gasoline as well as the damaged engine in an effort to prevent the airship from being dragged down into the water. Monday morning however, the sun rose clear and hot, and beat upon the huge gas bag. There was no wind to counteract the heating effect, because the vessel was drifting with the wind, and the gas heated rapidly and expanded so quickly that it lifted the balloon despite its heavy equilibrator to an altitude of 3,000 feet before it could be checked.

The rise was so rapid as to make the crew dizzy and affect their ear drums. Mr. Vaniman operated the valves to let out the hydrogen, in the meantime watching the statoroscope for the first warning of the beginning of descent. Despite the utmost precaution and the most careful handling of the valves, the descent took place quite as suddenly as the ascent.

As the balloon fell it gathered momentum and also lost buoyancy, due to the contraction of the gasbag in the increasing density of the lower strata of air. This contraction of the gasbag produced a constant downward accelerating force, greatly increasing the speed of the descent. However, there was nothing to fear, because of the great equilibrator suspended below them. This served as a cushion to ease their fall. It entered the water at enormous speed, and sank until the last can was submerged before the airship relieved of its weight, could recover and rise again. This one experience was sufficient to show the value of the equilibrator. Had there been no such device provided, the airship must inevitable have been carried into the sea at the end of its downward plunge, striking the water at such velocity as to crush out the lives of all on board. Had the airship started out without an equilibrator, it would frequently have been necessary to throw over ballast to prevent such descents, and it would as frequently have been necessary to open the gas valves to prevent ascension to dangerously high altitudes.

It will be seen from this graphic account of some of the experiences of the crew, that there is much yet to learn about ballooning across the Atlantic. Reports have it that the Germans have a secret which they will not divulge, but as no serious attempt has been made by them to make the voyage across the ocean, their secret may not be any more successful than the equilibrator. It would be folly to even hope for success in the first attempt at this ocean voyage. But somebody had to make it, and we are pleased that our cousins to the south were the ones to take the initiative.

SUMMERLAND AT THE APPLE SHOW.

Anyone who enjoyed the pleasure of seeing the Summerland apple show a few weeks ago, will not be surprised to learn that our car of mixed apples carried off the first prize and also secured the sweepstakes of $500 cash and silver medal at Vancouver. The best of the fruit displayed at the Summerland show went to make up the car that carried off the prize at Canada's big show. It was a great victory, and one well earned, for there were many strong competitors.

To the men who were active in getting together such a splendid exhibit with such signal results, Summerland and district owes a vote thanks. But we know they are just as well pleased without it. The winning of the prize by the district is honor enough for all. They showed to the outside world and our sister apple districts in the Valley what Summerland can do when she takes a notion.

The words of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, "It is a GREAT exhibit!" expressed as he looked over the apples at the Summerland show, will now be better appreciated by all of us.

We should be particularly pleased to learn of the phenomenal success of Kelowna in carrying off the grand sweepstakes and so many prizes for district and box exhibits. The car of Jonathans exhibited by our sister town was a carload of the most perfect apples ever placed on exhibition in the world. So said Professor Van Deman, the premier judge of apples in America.

"You certainly have the apples and you know how to show them," was his terse summing up.

Here's to Kelowna; and here's to Summerland!

But again, to quote the inimitable Dave Watson: "Oh, yes, it was good. But wait till next year!" Summerland may have a few straight carloads then in addition to her mixed carloads.

A PEEP INTO THE FUTURE

One of the greatest aids to an editor of a district paper such as the Review is to have reliable correspondents. This paper has been particularly fortunate in the past, and we wish to express our appreciation of the efforts of the friends who so faithfully have handled the field for us at Naramata and Peachland. In all the months they have been sending in their weekly budgets of news they have never let slip a thought that was not for the uplift and betterment of the community.

The Summerland Review

Recently the Review added a Unitype to its mechanical department. Our men are now getting acquainted with its splendid parts and the execution of it and when they have mastered the machine so as to permit of it, the Review will be enlarged and the field it is destined to fill will be covered in a manner not yet attempted. But we shall hold to our correspondents for certain work which heretofore they have covered so well.

As a further means of enlargement, and to place the Review office at the lead in all classes of working the printing art, we have now on the way an Optimus press, which will be installed by the first of the year.

And so, when Nature begins her unfolding in the spring, and the hills and valleys of this favoured district become clothed in the beauty of flower and foliage, and all life takes up its burdens anew, the Review will lay aside its swaddling clothes and take on its new dress to cover the district in a manner justly fitted to its importance and its resources.

In the past each in his way has filled his niche, but before us the future opens wide a bigger and broader life and we imagine we see Summerland, Peachland and Naramata—sisters all, and interests locked hand-in-hand, yet each boasting of its particular charm—striving each to assist the other to achieve its truest and best and thus combined in one big family to make of the Peach and Apple Belt a district that will be famous the world over, not alone for its fruits and climate, but the people who help to make it.

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

Everything was made to attain perfection. Everything must grow into perfection, and by a natural and rational order of things. There can be no mystery about it. There is but one way of development in all life, and that through the exercise of the faculties which are ours.

The flower is taken from its wild state and by a succession of plantings and buddings is slowly brought to a higher state of beauty and usefulness. A similar process characterizes the growth of every form of life. The dross is taken with the gold and by a succession of burnings and siftings the pure metal is brought forth.

Why should there be this continual striving of Nature with man and without man, through him and independent of him, towards the goal of perfection? Is it because the power we call God is made happier by seeing it done, or is it because Nature is the Power Itself, and that we as men, and our brothers the trees, the plants, the birds, the beasts, and the things that crawl and creep and swim, all are expressions of the same Life through which He or It or whatever it be—God—is striving for great expression? If all Nature is the seen—the tangible—expression of the Power that Is, and man is but a part or phase of that expression, then man is as near God today as he will be in any future state, and heaven then will be what heaven is today—now—and here.

Truly, the kingdom of heaven is within you.

PROMISES EASILY KEPT.

A magazine editor to whom O. Henry had promised a story many times without delivering it, sat down one day and wrote him thus: "My Dear O. Henry: If I do not receive that story from you by noon today, I am going to put on my number eleven shoes and come down and kick you down your own stairs. I never fail to keep my promises." Whereupon O. Henry replied: "I too, would keep my promises if I could do all my work with my feet."

ONE ON MARK.

The very young traveling salesman was registering at the hotel the other day. He wanted to do it right. "I want a room with running water in it," he remarked. "Running water," politely cackled Mark in a subdued voice; "what do you want to do mister—practice indoor fishing?"

WORTH A MILLION.

I'd fain be so successful that people, when I pass, will say: "He's worth a million—he puts up lots of grass!" The men who're worth a million find people bowing low, and there are smiles and greetings wherever they may go. I'd fain be worth a million, and so I'll do my best, to help along the luckless, and comfort the distressed; so portion off my income I'll hand out to the poor, and keep the wolf from howling at some old woman's door. I'll utter no complainings, or moans or useless whines, but pack around the villiage a mug that fairly shines. I'll stand up strong for virtue—the good old rugged sort; I don't believe in making an angel of a sport; I don't believe in virtue so horribly severe it frowns on all the follies of this old dizzy sphere. I'll boost my native village until my senses reel; I'll keep my shoulders ready to put them to the wheel; I'll knock all day on knocking, and kick the knockers down, and try to be an asset in this three-cornered town. And then I'll hear a murmur from 'preciative folk: "That man is worth a million, although he's going broke!"—Walt Mason.

RICH RED BLOOD.

You Will Never Have It as Long as You Have Dyspepsia.

Just as long as you have dyspepsia your food will not properly digest, and the nutritious elements in the food will not be extracted or absorbed, and impoverished or watery blood will follow.

This condition may not be apparent at first, but it will come just as sure as the sun will rise again.

Any stomach ailment, including all forms of indigestion, can be promptly cured by using Mi-o-na tabets, a scientific treatment unsurpassed.

It stops fermentation, belching of gas and taste of sour food almost at once.

The mighty power of Mi-o-na to invigorate and restore the stomach to perfect condition is known everywhere.

Mi-o-na cures by building up—by banishing the cause. For thin people it is a great flesh builder, because it causes the stomach to give more and purer nutrition to the blood. It cures sea and car sickness and vomiting of pregnancy almost immediately. The Summerland Drug Co. sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box, and guarantees it to cure or money back.

After same was read, the council deemed it advisable to go further into the matter of cost, and requested him to prepare same and meet the council on Saturday the 19th, so that the proposed extension could be talked over.

It was resolved that extra help be engaged to relieve Mr. Gray in his duties at the electric light station so that he may have shorter hours there and the plant be run for a longer period during the winter months.

This was all the business.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM PENTICTON.

Summerland also is entitled to the highest praise for the exceedingly creditable showing made. Although this was practically its first fruit producing year, it captured the first prize for mixed cars in competition with a half dozen other cars from other points; and the uniformity of the fruit, its color, freedom from blemish, and the careful packing shows that Summerland possesses the soil and climate necessary to produce apples that take first place and that the growers know how to prepare the fruit so that it will command the highest prices on the markets. To both Kelowna and Summerland Penticton extends heartiest congratulations recognizing the immense benefits that will accrue to the Okanagan Valley by the magnificent exhibits shown.—Penticton Herald.

OKANAGAN APPLES IN WINNIPEG.

The Summerland Review
Summerland,
Gentlemen,

Probably your readers will be pleased to know of the splendid advertising at the present time being given Okanagan apples in Winnipeg through the display of the consignment recently put in by the T. Eaton Co. The T. Eaton Co. devoted a full page in one or more of the Winnipeg dailies announcing a consignment of four carloads of Okanagan apples recently received by them. The next morning after the advertisement appeared the entire window display space of the T. Eaton Co. store (with the single exception of one small out-of-the-way window)—42 windows in all—was occupied with a magnificent showing of Okanagan fruit.

This Apple Show as they call it, has now been in their windows five days, and I do not know how much longer it will remain without being removed.

The windows I would think, occupied an aggregate space of about 360 feet in length, extending from street to street on the front and away down the sides on either side street. The display is extremely attractive and is being very much commented on by the whole of the city of Winnipeg. Each variety and there are several displays of each variety, is marked by a placard "Okanagan Apples — Jonathon" Rome Beauty or what ever variety it may be. Also very large and artistically gotten up window cards bear such legends as these: "These apples all grown in the Okanagan Valley." "British Columbia finest apples." "The pride of B.C. "Apples from the Okanagan Valley." The varieties exhibited are Jonathon, Wagener, Salome, Rome Beauty, Northern Spy, Baldwin and Sutton Beauty.

Whilst not in any sense wishing to boost for the T. Eaton Co., it would seem to me that if the Okanagan would utilize this concern for a few more exhibitions of this kind they would do a great deal to popularize the Okanagan fruit in Winnipeg.

The apples were first of all put on sale at $3.00 per ordinary box and $1.25 for single tier boxes of "fancy" grade apples, but this price was afterwards reduced to $2.50 per ordinary box and $1.00 for single tier boxes.

Yours truly,

(Signed) George Batho.

Editor, "Nor' West Farmer."

ELECTRICAL ADVERTISING.

A very striking electrical sign has been set up in Denver. The sign represents a sky rocket shooting from the ground to a height of 150 feet where it explodes into hundreds of sparks that fall in a shower to the ground. This effect is produced by successively illuminating a string of lamps running up the side of the building to the top of a small framework on the roof. Over a thousand lamps are used to produce the effect.

SUCCESSFULLY FIGHTING THE FROST KING.

Mrs. J. L. Elliott spent a few days in Naramata last week.

Mesdames Watson, Brown and Conway of Summerland were delegates to the W. M. S. convention which met here last week.

Mr. James Carmichael of Arnprior Ontario, spent last week in this place looking it over. Mr. Carmichael has been all over the Valley, and has now decided to settle in Peachland. He will return in two weeks with Mrs. Carmichael and let her decide on either of two places which suit him equally well.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell were in town for a couple of days last week and renewed acquaintance with old time friends. It looked quite natural to see them driving around with Topsy and Nellie.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Vicary and Miss Mary, Dr. Crompton and H. W. Arbuckle is leaving for England on Friday morning. All join in wishing them "bon voyage." It is likely that the party will be increased by one or two on the return journey.

The W. M. S. Convention held here last week was well attended by delegates from up and down the lake and very interesting sessions were held. One very interesting item on the program was the missionary address given by Rev. J. P. D. Knox.

Mr. L. D. McCall commends to our attention the fact that the apples that won the prize at the Summerland Fair were grown on his lot in Peachland and not in Summerland. We congratulate Summerland on her success at Vancouver but want all that is coming to us.

MEDICAL DEGREES.

It is reported that soon after the opening of Parliament a bill will be introduced to insure the recognition of degrees by all the provinces.

This will mean that the recipient of a medical degree from the medical council of any recognized university in Canada, will be able to practise anywhere in the Dominion, without having to pass a provincial examination.

ROBINSON-PEACOCK.

At Winnipeg on Wednesday the 16th. inst., W. J. Robinson of Summerland, was married to Miss Peacock, who until a few months ago resided at Naramata.

Sooner or later the fruit growers of the Okanagan will have to take up the question of orchard heating to save the crops from the early spring frosts. For the fruit men of this favoured Valley to expect to raise fruit of the best quality and at the same time not have to fight against the ravages of the frost king, is as absurd as it would be for the men of Grand Valley Colorado, or of Rogue River Oregon, or, for that matter the fruit men of any other district noted for its high class fruit. To get quality into the fruit—flavour firmness and color—it is essential that we have sharp frosty nights. We cannot have one without the other, but it no longer follows that the fruit crop should be lost every few years to the frost king. We will have to do as the fruit men of other districts do—fight the battle against the frost.

Last April, when every district north south east and west was swept by frost, the ranchers of Grand Valley Colorado fought and won a hard battle, and from this fight comes a number of important lessons.

Lewis Mayer, in the October Better Fruit magazine, tells a very interesting story about the importance of these lessons.

"First was demonstrated," says he "the success of the smudge pot, or orchard heater, as a profitable protection against the freezing temperatures.

Second that smudging to be a successful process, must be carried on in a business-like practical and systematic manner.

Third that while it is simple enough to maintain an even temperature above the danger point in an orchard, it is exceedingly difficult to raise the mercury in the thermometer to any appreciable extent once it begins to fall rapidly in the tube.

In other words, while smudge pots are proven to be scientifically sound as an insurance against a freeze, with the temperature dropping as low as seventeen above in isolated spots, it is essential that intelligence system and hard work be combined to get the results which the manufacturers and inventors have claimed for them.

While the system of orchard protection from frost is far from having reached perfection, the experience of this spring has taught the ranchers of the nation many valuable lessons. Chief of all which the Grand Valley learned is that the use of smudge pots—"heating all out of doors"—as has been said, is eminently practical. The scoffers who claimed that orchard heating was more expensive than the profits from the fruit saved have been silenced. One rancher who saved his entire crop of apples, and finds it necessary to thin, told me that it cost him six dollars an acre to insure his crop, smudging three nights. This of course did not count in the original cost of the pots. It is considerably less than the average cost over the valley.

Oil is more expensive. It costs six cents per gallon delivered at Grand Junction this year, an increase of one cent per gallon. In the Grand Valley coal can be had at a slight cost, the ranchers being in a position to haul direct from the mines. Oil is much easier to handle—it takes less labor when labor is hard to get—the pots can be started quicker and the fire burns longer and at a more even temperature. The oil men claim that by use of the regular pan, and taking the labor question into consideration, their pots are just as economically operated.

But whatever sort of fuel be used, it can readily be seen that the cost of insurance is trifling when compared to the value of the crop saved. In the Grand Valley the rancher considers that he has had a bad year if his returns are as low as $200 per acre. This year, by reason of the general destruction of the fruit crop of the nation, the ranchers who smudged will be paid ten times over the cost of the insurance by the increase in prices in consequence of the shortage.

The most vital lesson taught by the April freeze is the necessity of starting the pots in plenty of time and maintaining an even heat—not permitting the temperature to drop in the heated area for an instant. Local authorities differ as to when the fruit buds are in danger from a hard freeze, and how much cold they can stand without damage. It is safely asserted, however that when the pink begins to show up it is well to be prepared to light up when the mercury registers at thirty. Thirty will not cause an injury to the buds, but there is always the danger of the temperature dropping still further, and, although with the buds still well covered, the weaker ones only would be killed, it is, perhaps, just as well not to take the chance of loss. I have talked with a score of fruit growers, some of whom lost their crops and many who did not, and they all agree that the principal loss was due to the failure to light their pots at the right time. With the mercury going steadily lower, these orchardists were unanimous in their opinion that it is useless to attempt to stem the tide and recover lost ground. Some of them did succeed in raising the temperature four or five degrees, but not where they had waited too long before firing the pots. Where the temperature was kept around twenty-nine and thirty all night, and the fire stirred at the critical time before dawn, the heat was maintained within one or two degrees beyond the danger line, even with the mercury at fourteen to fifteen outside the heated zone. In some cases where coal pots were used, briquettes were thrown on the fire when the thermometer registered the alarm and buds and blossoms passed safely through the critical period.

The important lesson is that the fruit grower has finally demonstrated by actual practice, that he can successfully cope with the forces of Nature—that frost, the one danger that has always threatened the industry, can be prevented from exacting its usual toll and that even a heavy freeze such as destroyed fifty millions in cotton, fruit, grain and other agricultural products, can be so neutralized as to insure practically full crops every year."

TWELFTH NIGHT.

This favourite Shakespearean comedy will be presented in the Mens Club on Wednesday evening next by the Walker Repertoire Co. headed by Mr. Wm. Yule and Miss Violet Eddy. Those who attended 'As You Like It' last year will be to the fore again this year, knowing as they do the abilities of the many artists and those who are not acquainted with the company should book their seats early for it will be worth their while and they may rest assured they will never regret their outlay.

REGULATING AERIAL TRAFFIC.

The International Convention for the purpose of regulating international aerial traffic has now proceeded so far in its work that at least fifteen of the questions which were assigned it for consideration have been definitely answered. Most of the governments have agreed to distinguish two classes of airships, public and private, the first including airships in military and other governmental service. Private airships must first be inspected before they can be licensed. The convention has unanimously decided that the transportation of arms and explosives, photographic apparatus, and wireless telegraphic apparatus shall be forbidden, no doubt for military reasons. All airships must be able to signal audibly and visibly in order to give warning of their approach. Germany has expressed a desire that definite land-marks should be provided for the aerial navigator. In landing, airship pilots are to avoid military fortifications, and camps. The delegates will meet for their last meeting in Paris.

A GAS BURNING ORCHARD HEATER.

Next season will see a new type of orchard heater tested out in Grand Valley Colorado orchards. This is a gas-burning device, the invention of A. D. Ward, a Clifflino, Colorado, rancher, who has been experimenting with smudge pots for several years. Tests of the pot which have been made by various experts demonstrate that the heater will burn continuously for thirtysix hours without refilling, which is quite a consideration during muddy seasons, when it is impossible to get into an orchard. The heater is shaped like a square bread pan and has somewhat the appearance of the ordinary camp stove. It is built to hold ten gallons, five gallons and three gallons, and with one three and five openings for the fire. The gas burning apparatus is in a double cover, perforations permitting the consumption of gas, oil smoke and oxygen. In the double cover are set individual bottomless circular pots, which will all burn at one time or can be lighted as needed. Another advantage claimed for this pot is the fact that the flame burns low, avoiding the possible danger of scorching the trees, while the consumption of smoke eliminates the danger of depositing soot on the trees.—Better Fruit.

MEN'S CLUB.

The Men's Club was re-organized this week. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. H. C. Mellor. Vice-President Dr. C. M. Smith. Secretary, Mr. S. Angove. Treasurer Mr. J. Tait. Reading Room and Literary Dept., Mr. J. C. Robson. Other officers will be elected in due course.

It is the desire of the executive to make the club efficient in all its branches, and endeavour to run the same on Y. M. C. A. principles as far as possible. Mr. McLeod of the College will be the physical instructor at the club.

Membership tickets may now be obtained of the Secretary.

John Galatly received very painful injuries last week whilst riding through the bush after some horses. He was in a battered condition when found, his face being fearfully bruised and cut. He was unable to say how it had happened, except that at first he must have struck a limb and been knocked off his horse.

GETTING RICH QUICK.

Sheldon, a Montreal broker, now capitalist at home any where, recently defrauded his investing clients out of something over two millions. His clients were business men, professional men, farmers and laborers generally, scattered throughout Ontario and Quebec. These men lost their money trying to get rich quickly. Sheldon shewed them how to do it, but made it impossible for them to practise the art. Now many of these men are too ashamed of themselves to permit their names to be made public, and it is not at all probable any serious effort will be made to catch Sheldon.

It is a story that is not new. It has been told so often that we wonder that men can be found so foolish as to bite. The eastern cities have furnished a lucrative harvest of easy people. Whether it has been mining stock, oil stock, or wireless telegraph stock, the number of otherwise intelligent people who were found ready to take the bait has been out of all reason.

Isn't it strange. Men who have to work hard to earn a dollar honestly are ready to take any old bait put forth by any old fake on any old skate or flier that comes along, if they are shown where they can earn forty cents on the dollar with a two-cent risk. Any promoter can show how this can be done, but it is worthy of note to observe that the promoter is prepared to put only the other fellow's money into the scheme.

It was ever thus and as we grow more civilized is becoming more so. Too often, from pulpit, from rostrum and the stage, we are instructed by inference if not by word, that the poorest way to get rich is to earn it. There is a debasing tendency to be insincere and a lack of that business acumen which teaches that the only real progress is made through merit. Even the children are laughed at if they shew too strong a leaning toward simple honesty and sticktoitiveness. The crude notion that one can practise deception in the business and social life and win honor, still prevails. And we fear our churches and colleges and society in general do not recognise their duty in the matter.

A PEEP INTO THE FUTURE.

Yesterday, the Okanagan Lake District was an unknown quantity; it had possibilities, but nothing was positive. To-day we who are here KNOW; and others are hearing about it. Tomorrow we shall have the most productive and wealthiest district in the Dominion of Canada, and for the next century at least, Canada will be the most prosperous and progressive country in the world. Do you not see, therefore, what the future of the Okanagan is to be?

The man who is content to measure the Okanagan of the future by what we have and are today, has not yet awakened. The men who came hither and builded these beautiful homes on the then parched hillsides overlooking the lake, builded not for what we see to-day, but for what is to be to-morrow. Perhaps many did not know it. In that case they builded better than they knew. Men of all times and climes have done this, and why not we?

Every test the Okanagan Valley has been put to has terminated favorably. The valley has "made good" in every trial; it has sustained every claim made for it; it has more than fulfilled every requirement. It has made the rosy stories of its promoters look sickly by comparison with the rich red actualities in its development. It is to-day but starting in its growth—it has but left off its swaddling clothes. It is now fairly started on the race it is to run—it's but in the making.

Lift your eyes off the dim past and fasten them upon the bright future. HER greatness, OUR greatness, YOUR greatness, is yet to be.

Men who have come to the Okanagan and left it again because their vision was so undeveloped that it would not permit them to look into the future and see what is to transpire, and those now here yet in the dark, are to be left behind. As in the advance of an army, the weaklings must fall out and go to the rear, so in the advance of a district, so rich in resources as this. There can be no holding back. Forward, ever forward, is the motto.

Yesterday's best is not good enough for to-day.

The only man who can fail in the Okanagan is the man who has not the capacity to succeed. We have some of them; we may have more; but the proportion is small and growing smaller.

AFTER THE SHOW—WHAT?

Canada's first apple show is a thing of the past. There was never a place in the Okanagan for the pessimist, and there is less room for him now. It was a magnificent victory for the Okanagan, and particularly for the Okanagan Lake district. The people of the coast cities are still talking about it, and the fruit dealers are wondering why they did not realize it before.

The winnings of Kelowna and Summerland placed the district of which these cities are the centre in the limelight, and are attracting more attention than anything we have done heretofore. It was to be expected that Kelowna would make a good showing, for that town's citizens have had considerable experience in preparing fruit for similar exhibitions, and it would have been a great disappointment, indeed, had Kelowna failed to carry off the big prizes. But scarcely less noteworthy were the winnings of Summerland. This was, in a sense, a great surprise, for the reason that it was Summerland's maiden effort at exhibiting at an apple show and our first year of the apple yield on so large a scale. There would have been reasonable cause for failure if we were disposed to make excuses.

But the fact that Summerland led all comers in the mixed car class, and in addition carried off many of the best prizes in the smaller exhibit classes, and this in competition with such experienced exhibitors as M. Horan, of Wenatchie, Wash., the 'Apple King' of that state, and the Yakima and Rogue River growers and exhibitors, makes it all the more to our credit, and augers well for future big things. Next year let us hope that we shall have a carload or two to enter in the straight one-variety class. If we can do so well in competition with the old experienced growers and exhibitors in the mixed-varieties class, perhaps—perhaps—shall we do it? SHALL WE DO IT?

THE WORLD IS ADVANCING.

Once it used to be the custom of ministers of the gospel to ride on half-fare railway tickets, and in settling accounts they received special discounts, and it was no uncommon thing for plump turkeys and chickens and other delicacies to be left on the doorstep of the manse or parsonage. At the same time country editors were given passes on railways, complimentary tickets to concerts, big pumpkins and bouquets of roses. Now all this has been changed. Ministers pay their way like other people, and the only favors country editors get is a snub for an honest criticism, or a slight for a compliment. And we thank the Lord for it.

It made Kelowna very impatient, cross, peevish and petulant to have the Shaughnessy special run by with out giving them a look in, but the sun Rose as brightly the morning after, and then, you know, the apple show!

There does not seem to be any thing of importance in the complaint that comes from Kelowna to the effect that Salmon Arm won out in the two-two exhibit with a duplicate of Mr. DeHart's Spokane exhibit. What is of importance is the real cold fact that Salmon Arm won out; and Kelowna's winnings were made one prize less thereby. That seems to be the rub. Our neighbour doesn't want much only in spots—big spots and many of them.

We have in preparation an article shewing the progress of Summerland's public work this year. It has been a large undertaking the installation of the new water system, and when put into print will make comprehensive reading.

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

It has been said by someone that all strong men begin by worshipping at a shrine, and if they continue to grow they shift their allegiance until they know only one altar and that the Ideal dwelling in their own hearts.

I knew a young man of some ability and great promise who refused to continue in a vocation which would yield him a large income, lest the temptation to become mighty eat up his desire to help his fellow men. He feared that the frantic struggle for wealth and self being waged by the majority of the men with whom his position was forcing him to associate would insensibly draw him into the same vortex of selfishness, and he felt that his ideals would be tarnished and aspirations starved in such an atmosphere. He therefore chose a vocation which would enable him to render the greatest service to humanity. And it wasn't preaching. He was just a business man; but his business threw him in contact with men at their best and at their worst, and out of it he was able to gather the source of all true development and to weave into life's loom something of helpfulness and good cheer.

I have met many such men in my time—and they were not all young men in years but all were young in spirit; and no man is any older than he feels. It is a refreshing thing, in a material age; to meet such people—people who are ambitious to be useful rather than rich, and more eager to "take up the whiteman's burden" than to shirk it. These are nature's noblemen: the characters which enrich life and make things worth while. They are the men who have pushed civilization up from the savage to the Florence Nightingales and the Lincolns. They are the men who have transformed the bleak and barren deserts and parched hills into Edens of rest and luxuriant fields of labor and harvest. One of the most promising things I see in our civilization to-day is that, side by side with the greed for gold, is the ever-growing passion of humanity for good. The number of people who prefer to be useful to their fellows rather than make money is constantly increasing. This passion for good is humanity's salt; it is what makes us believe in the future of the race.

AGED LADY SUICIDES.

At about eleven o'clock last Sunday morning Dr. Keller was hastily summoned across the lake to attend Mrs. Attelle McDougal, widow of Aeneas McDougal a one time famous hunter and trapper of the district, who the messenger said attempted suicide by shooting herself through the head. The woman was in a bad condition on his arrival, having evidently been shot through the mouth, the bullet coming out at the back of the neck, and in spite of careful attention died the next morning. Nothing could be extracted from the witnesses to account for the act and a verdict of suicide was returned. —Kelowna Record.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY CONFERENCE.

The women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held their annual convention for the Okanagan district at Peachland on Thursday November 10th.

Sixteen delegates were in attendance, as well as local members and visitors.

The reports of the various Auxiliaries and Mission Bands were encouraging and shewed the progress of the work.

An address on "The Progress of Missions" was given by Mrs J. M. Elliott of Peachland in which she said— We cannot dodge the command "Go ye into all the world" for it rests upon us to fulfil. A most interesting and instructive "Map Talk" was given by Mrs. J. W. Davidson of Kelowna, outlining the work in general of our missionaries in the field. She urged us to surround these people and our missionaries there with our love and prayers. Greetings were extended by the W. C. T. U. and the Baptist Mission Circle.

After a discussion as to how we can help the foreigners of the Valley, a resolution was passed "That we, the Auxiliaries of the Okanagan District, think upon the needs of the foreign element in our valley and endeavour to devise some way of bringing the Gospel to them." Mrs. D. H. Watson, of Summerland, was re-elected District Organizer. Supper was then served in the church and a social time spent.

The address of the evening was given by the Rev. J. P. D. Knox of Peachland, his subject being "The relation the Church bears to the great uncivilized, unchristianized masses."

Solos were rendered by Mrs. J. L. Elliott of Peachland, and Mrs. Mitchell of Penticton, and music by the Peachland choir. Mrs. J. B. Robinson gave the address of welcome and was replied to by Mrs. Cox of Kelowna.

A vote of thanks was tendered the ladies of Peachland for their kind hospitality, and to all who had helped to make the convention a success.

Armstrong was the place chosen for the next convention.

Kaleden Comments.

The ladies of our community have already held a meeting to make preliminary arrangements for a bright and happy time at Christmas.

Tent life here is still quite a feature with many, and a healthy feature too. Whole families will be living in comfort under canvas this winter in Kaleden.

Mr. Lapsley our highly esteemed storekeeper, has been laid up with internal rheumatism for a few days. He hopes, however, to be all right again in a day or two.

A rye cover crop was planted in some of the orchards this fall; its growth however has been prodigious, and even now there is considerable difficulty in plowing it under. Potatoe crops this year have been large and very satisfactory.

Our first snow fell lightly on Tuesday 8th of November, but did not settle. The latter part of the week was like late spring. Kaleden bids fair to take her turn in carrying off the Grand Sweepstakes at the Vancouver Apple Show later on.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaman Hatfield and son are expected back home again about the month end, after a three months visit among friends in the east. During Mrs. Hatfield's absence Mrs. Babbit of Summerland has kindly discharged her duties at the Post Office.

Last Tuesday Mr. Pitman and a friend went out deer hunting a few miles back in the hills and succeeding in shooting skinning and carrying in a portion of a deer. The first secured here by anybody since Kaleden came into being. Wild ducks on the lake fall an easy prey to our young sports.

Fall activities have not yet ceased so mild and almost free from frost are the conditions here that potatoes are still being dug and pitted, land is being cleared and plowed, and building is proceeding undisturbed. One or two frosts there have been but by no means severe.

The Government road from Penticton to the Falls, which passes through Kaleden just above the townsite, is finished with the exception of one bridge on the Kaleden proposition, which is now nearing completion, under the direction of Mr. Tom McAlpin. A considerable amount of roadwork has been done here this year, greatly adding to the appearance of the place as well as facilitating getting about.

Alec Cameron's store on the main road from the centre to the benches, has been completed and in its new white coat of paint looks very creditable. It is temporarily used by both the Day School and the Baptist Church, the latter holding Sabbath School and worship on Sunday afternoons. Rev. F. W. Auvache of Penticton is the minister. In spite of numerous temporary removals for the winter the attendance at the service is very good.

Your correspondent after a prolonged visit of nearly three months, spent at Vernon and Kelowna, returns to find the place of his adoption settling down to a quiet winter with large anticipations before her in 1911. Certainly Kaleden will share to a considerable extent in the many advantages and greatly increased popularity of her sister town Penticton, even exceeding her as a residential and fruit growing centre. But we must walk before we can run.

A few members of our community have been compelled by unfortunate circumstances to leave us, but we have our compensations. Others have come in. Mr. R. H. Melville's mother and sister from New York have come to live with him. Then, too, among the last batch of friends to leave us this week returning home to Summerland after spending the whole summer and fall with us was Mr. W. Grieve who was brought to Kaleden by his mother some three or four months ago in practically a dying condition but returned home again looking like his old self, bright and cheerful, a living testimony to the health giving properties of our climate. With him returned Mrs. T. McAlpin and two children, also Mrs. Babbit's two little girls.

LARGE PRICE FOR AN APPLE.

Messrs. Garcia, Jacobs & Co., the fruit auctioneers of Covent Garden Market, offered for sale last week the largest apple in England. After brisk bidding it was knocked down to Messrs. Adams Bros., fruiterers, Bond Street, for $70—the highest price ever paid. The apple was a Gloria Mundi, weighing 27oz. and was grown by the King's Acre Fruit Tree Nurseries, of Hereford, from whom it passed into the hands of Mr. Sampson Morgan, of Sevenoaks. The proceeds of the sale were given to a Covent Garden charity.

On Thursday evening the Williams Jubilee Singers occupied the boards at the Men's Club before a full house. They are great favourites in Summerland and well deserve their popularity, for they provide a most entertaining evening's amusement, and in their many varied selections they held the attention of the audience. The most simple airs which they sing are beautifully harmonized, and the voices of the company blend in with such a true and melodious sound. Whether it be a plantation melody, a heavy chorus, or an epicurian ditty upon the merits of Chicken Pie, it was all one to them, they have a thorough knowledge of music, and into each of their numbers give just that touch of life, pathos or fun which makes it palatable to the audience.

DEATH OF MRS. JANE MOORE.

Last Saturday morning, word came to town that Mrs. Jane Moore had passed away at the home of her daughter in Saskatoon, at the advanced age of 79.

Up to about twelve months ago Mrs. Moore had been residing at Peachland with her daughter Mrs. Town.

She leaves a family of eleven, to mourn her loss, Mrs. A. D. Ferguson and Mrs. Town of Peachland, three daughters in the prairie provinces, four sons in Detroit, one in Calgary, and Thos. E. Moore in Summerland.

Rev. N. K. Simpson thrown from His Horse.

It is with great regret that we have this week to report the sad death of an old resident of Peachland and also of Summerland in the person of the Rev. N. K. Simpson.

On Wednesday, he was attending to his duties, and wishing to make time, was riding rapidly along when his horse stumbled and threw him to the ground with great force, crushing him so that he never regained consciousness, and only lived about six hours.

Mr. Simpson was born in Gagetown, New Brunswick, in 1857; for several years he was acting as minister in the Free Baptist community. Owing to the ill-health of his wife, he came to Peachland and, when Summerland opened up he settled in our midst, occupying the position as first superintendent of the irriagtion system. After staying here for about three years, he left for his old church in Kansas, feeling that he should once more be at work in his calling, but came back again to the Okanagan last spring. He settled in Kaleden, where he acted as water commissioner for Mr. James Ritchie.

Mr. Simpson was one of the few men who was quite at home with everybody—a man whom it did one good to meet, and a splendid citizen in every respect.

The Review extends its sympathy to his sorrowing widow and daughter, and the whole of the community grieves with them in their time of trouble.

You Will Never Have It as Long as You Have Dyspepsia.

Just as long as you have dyspepsia your food will not properly digest, and the nutritious elements in the food will not be extracted or absorbed, and impoverished or watery blood will follow.

This condition may not be apparent at first, but it will come just as sure as the sun will rise again.

Any stomach ailment, including all forms of indigestion, can be promptly cured by using Mi-o-na tablets, a scientific treatment unsurpassed.

It stops fermentation, belching of gas and taste of sour food almost at once.

The mighty power of Mi-o-na to invigorate and restore the stomach to perfect condition is known everywhere.

Mi-o-na cures by building up—by banishing the cause. For thin people it is a great flesh builder, because it causes the stomach to give more and purer nutrition to the blood. ## SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.

On Saturday last the Council met in the Municipal Building at West Summerland, all the members being present.

The chief business was the reading of the report of the proposed electric light extension, prepared by T. P. Thornber.

He proposed pole line extensions from the Flat to Prairie Valley, from Giant's Head to Trout Creek, from the Flat to Garnett Valley, from Peach Orchard to Jones Flat. The total length of the proposed extensions is about nine miles.

The Power Station to have an addition built on to it, with an oil engine, generator, exciter, switchboard, etc., an allowance being made in the plan for an addition of similar or larger units as required.

Value of the present plant	-	$17,500
Value of proposed extensions	-	15,655
		$33,165

Estimated revenue	-	7,000
Approximate cost of fuel	450
Wages,	-	2,160
Repairs etc.,	-	250
		2,860
		$4,140

Shewing an estimated return of about 12½ per cent. without allowing for sinking fund.

To increase the plant as suggested, it will be necessary to raise the assessment another $50,000 before the Municipality can borrow money for this purpose. This means that a by-law will have to be submitted to the ratepayers, embodying the improvements suggested in the report, so that some little time must elapse ere the proposed improvements can be proceeded with.

It was resolved that T. P. Thornber be placed in charge of the electric light plant, and that he be requested to investigate the same, with a view to increasing the working capacity, as well as taking charge of plant and running it from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. as directed.

Also resolved that C. P. Nelson be engaged to audit the books of the Municipality for the year.

NOT A SUFFRAGETTE.

Lord Cromer.—“The British Empire was made by men, and should in future be governed by men and not by women. We look to women to preserve our family life on which the greatness of any nation must rest but we do not want them to govern us.”

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. William Millford East desires to thank the friends of Summerland for their kind sympathy and help during her hours of sorrow.

THE HOSPITAL BALL.

On Friday last the first annual ball on behalf of this popular institution was held in the packing shed near the wharf. The top room of this building made a splendid ball-room, with the walls and supports decorated with muslin the colors of the Empire, and Oregon vine, and each end of the building partitioned off. The dining room occupied the farther end of the hall and the dressing rooms were just behind the entrance.

About 150 people put in an appearance, and a very happy party they made. Everybody seemed possessed with a desire to be as agreeable as possible, and to make the affair go along with a real hearty swing. This feeling made the ball the best that has yet been held in Summerland. The organizers and all the hard workers—and they were legion—are to be complimented upon the success attained. The hours seemed to chase each other, trying to get through the work with the utmost despatch, and it was midnight ere one realized that the ball had begun, and the happy dancers and the many who did not dance trekked along to the supper room where tables were spread with cold viands of every description provided by the many interested citizens and citizenesses. Anon the band struck up again and once more the fascinating waltz held sway. It was in the late hours of the early morning that the program came to an end, much to the sorrow of a good many devotees of the light and entrancing dance.

The committee wish to thank very sincerely the many who donated refreshments for the evening, and especially those who, though prejudiced against this form of amusement, still gave of their store to help along the good of the hospital. Also the Supply Company, who, with their usual generosity kindly provided all the crockery, and thanks are also due to Mr. J. M. Sutherland for so kindly lending his piano.

HOSPITAL BALL RECEIPTS.

The following is a financial statement of the Hospital Ball:—

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute met in the parlors of the Men's Club, last Friday. The following officers were elected:

President Mrs. G. J. C. White.
Vice-president Mrs. W. H. Hayes.
Secretary Treasurer Mrs. G. Anderson.

Directors: Mesdames Logie, Robson, Morgan, Hogg, and Downton.

After the interesting and encouraging talk given by Miss Rose, it is hoped that a large number of the ladies will attend the meetings this season and help to interest others in this work. As this is the beginning of another year the time is due to pay the annual subscription, which is only fifty cents.

Miss Rose spoke of one Institute that was started last year, and when she returned recently had a membership of 65. We are not quite up to that yet, but hope to be before another year. The next meeting in December will be mostly for Christmas cooking.

THE COLLEGE GYMNASIUM.

The gymnasium is now equipped and ready for business. The College classes are now running full blast, and the young people are very much interested in the work. It is proposed to organize classes for school boys which will be conducted on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons beginning at 3.30, and on Saturday afternoons from 2 to 4. Evening classes for men will be organized on Tuesday evening the 29th inst., at 8 o'clock, and will meet every Tuesday Thursday and Saturday evenings from 8 to 10. The fees for the boys' classes will be $5 per year, and for men $10 per year. The gymnasium is pretty well equipped with apparatus including horizontal and vaulting bars, parallel bars, flying rings, punching bag outfit, Indian clubs, dumbbells, wands, mats, Basket ball and indoor baseball outfits. The Physical Director, A. W. McLeod, is well qualified by long experience to prescribe work to suit all ages and conditions. It is proposed in the near future to give an exhibition illustrating the work in the gymnasium.

IMPROVING THE SERVICE.

Extensive improvements to the service given at present in Penticton are planned by the Lakeshore Telephone Co. and the Government Telegraph system, and early next spring the work and arrangements in connection with these improvements are expected to be completed.

A copper line will be strung from Vernon to Penticton and take the place of the present iron ground wire which is not so satisfactory a medium of transmission for the voice as the other lines. A telegraph service will also be instituted here and the wire now in use for telephone communication will probably be utilized solely as a telegraph wire. —Penticton Herald.

TWELFTH NIGHT.

Local News Items.

The Women's Guild of St. Stephen's Church will hold a Sale of Work in Empire Hall on Friday, the 16th of December. A supper will be served.

T. P. Thornber, who has been placed in charge of the Municipal Electrical plant, will have on test some Tungsten and carbon lights at the Power Station, and anyone interested in the matter of current consumption of the two lamps should call any time between 3 and 10 p.m.

On Monday evening next the 28th., there will be a meeting of the Farmers' Institute in the Municipal Hall at the lakefront. The subject for discussion is the past season's work in the orchard, and its general results. Everybody is welcome and should make a point of being present if they are at all interested in any phase of the fruit industry.

Mr. William Millford East passed away early last Saturday morning. Mr. East was born in Ontario thirtyfour years ago. After farming at Innisfree Alta. for five years he came to Summerland a year ago last June in search of health. He was a member of the Church of the Disciples, and was also an Odd Fellow. His wife, mother, four sisters and six brothers survive him. The loving sympathy of the Summerland friends is extended to the family of Mr. East whose geniality and patience were an inspiration. The body was taken to Innisfree for interment.

The Siwash Flat Debating and Literary Society purpose holding their first discussion on Tuesday November 29th, Rev. H. A. Solly has kindly consented to open the discussion by presenting one phase of the subject. Members and others have the privilege of expressing their views after the discussion has been opened. Subject: The Drink Question. Meeting to be held in the Public School building on the Flat, at 7.45 p.m. Doors open 7.30. Everybody welcome.

The sensational rural comedy drama "Joshua Simpkins," will be produced at Empire Hall, Thursday December 1st. The play has an interesting and intelligible plot, but it is not allowed to interfere with the fun, which is said to be in abundance. During the run of the play, some startling scenes and situations are seen the principal of which is said to be the saw-mill, in the third act, shown in complete operation, cutting up real timber. The saw used is the genuine article the same as usually seen in average country saw-mills. An excellent band and a fine orchestra accompanies this attraction. The band will parade at noon, when some good music may be looked for, and all the musicians will be dressed as farmers. Seats on sale at the Drug Store.

H. A. Solly, Rector.

On Wednesday last in the Men's Club, Mr. Walker's Shakespearean Repetitoire Company presented the above play to a well-filled house, and a thoroughly appreciative one. Although the lights went out, and the play was one and a half hours behind the advertised time, and even the players were very heavily handicapped both as regards dressing and stage room; with all this, which must have surely have tried their tempers, they gave a splendid reproduction of this favourite comedy by the Bard of the Avon. As Jacques says in "As You Like It," Each man in his time plays many parts, and while this may be truly said of all people, yet it is especially so with those who follow the stage as a profession, but it is given to few to fill the many parts so admirably as do Mr. Wm. Yule and Miss Violet Eddy.

These were the only two we recognized of the old company, and they are ever welcome; the other members of the company were well adapted to their many parts, and on the whole it would be a good combination which could excel them. In the part of Orsino, Mr. McAllister was quite at home, and his rich round voice was given full scope as was also his histrionical talent. Miss McHugh as Maria, made an excellent serving women, and Malvolio in the hands of Mr. Edwards was splendidly played—a most difficult part, and one which would mar or make the whole play.

The whole caste was strong, and it is with great pleasure that we look forward to many entertainments in our town presented by Mr. Yule and his company.

SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRY.

The Raymond Hustler, in a recent issue, presents some good points in favour of supporting home industry. It says: "protect your own town, and thereby show that you are in favor of protection. If protection is good for the nation it is good for the town. As townspeople we should favor our town above every other town as the growth and the development of it will enhance the value of all property in and about it. Then buy your dry goods, groceries, hardware, furniture, etc., at home; have your printing, your blacksmithing, your shoemaking done at home. Patronize home in every instance that you can. The success of our merchants and mechanics means new business houses and residences, additional demands for labor of various kinds. To the farmer a first class town affords a better market for his grain, a better trading point and such a town is bound to increase the value of his land. Unquestionably 'in union there is strength'. Let us protect our town.

Mr. Alex. Miller of Peachland spent a few days last week end visiting his invalid daughter here. Mrs. and Miss Miller have left the Anderson house and now occupy the residence recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wallace in Peach Orchard. Miss Miller continues to make excellent progress toward complete recovery.

:: Naramata Notes ::

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Schreck expect to leave next Thursday on an extended visit to their former home in Buffalo.

Mr. Howard Rounds entertained a party of young folk last Saturday night at his home on the benches. The time passed pleasantly with a few hands of cards at first and later on with a few familiar parlor games. The dainty luncheon served toward the close of the evening was an enjoyable feature.

Two whist parties in one week is a record. But that is to make up for the absence of fun next week. On Tuesday evening the Married couples club played whist at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnson. Thursday evening the Athletic Club entertained at whist at the home of President H. J. Wells.

Thursday being the date for Thanksgiving with our friends south of the border, a number of our American friends celebrated at a big dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wells. Amongst those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rounds, Master Wesley Rounds, Mrs. Campbell, Messrs. H. Rounds, H. Endacott, T. Kenyon, W. Nuttall, W. Land.

Sometimes we hear talk about dear meat but this week and last the cry is from the man who dispenses the needful. He was heard to exclaim "Oh the DEER meat!"

Kaleden Comments.

Mr. James Ritchie returned to Summerland after spending several days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Preston, with their baby daughter, have returned here, after spending some months at Penticton.

The Government road through Kaleden from Penticton to the falls, is now complete, a very substantial bridge—the last piece of work, being finished.

Some heavy rain and cold south winds have broken upon our spring-like weather. But we all say let us be thankful: it is doing some good. The atmosphere generally keeps mild, and building operations are likely to be lively for the next few weeks.

Mr. James Ritchie has given instructions for an early start to be made on his handsome large hotel here, the main block of which is to be 100 feet in length. Work will commence as soon as labor arrives on the ground, and we shall be proud to give the details of the unique nature of the details of the structure in the immediate future. The hotel will occupy a commanding position in the centre of the town, the property reserved extending to the lakefront. Mr. Purvis is also building himself a house on the gentle slopes of the hill to the south of town, overlooking the lake.

Last Wednesday, one of our best beloved and most highly esteemed residents, was called Home to higher service. Rev. N. K. Simpson, formerly of Peachland and Summerland, was riding horseback along the main street at a rapid pace shortly after 4 p.m., in the performance of his duties as Superintendent of the Kaleden Water System. He was carrying a long handled shovel over his shoulder. Suddenly, owing to his horse stumbling, good horseman though he was, he was thrown with terrific force to the ground, his horse rolling and dragging him a considerable distance. When picked up he was found to have suffered considerable injuries, and was unconscious. He was carried on a stretcher as quickly as possible to his house 200 yards away, where by the able assistance of Miss McWille, a trained nurse lately from New York, every means was resorted to to restore consciousness and maintain the circulation. Dr. White of Penticton arrived at 5.45 and discovered a displacement of the left shoulder which he rectified, but found more serious injuries had been received internally. Ice was sent for to Penticton to stop hemorrhage, but all in vain. Mr Simpson never recovered consciousness and passed beyond the veil at 10.30 p.m.

He indeed had fought a good fight, and kept the Faith; His was the Master's "well done, good and faithful servant." Loved by young and old alike, wheresoever; his beautiful Christlike influence extended, his departure means irreparable loss, not only to his widow and daughter, but also to the Baptist Church at Kaleden and the community as a whole. The funeral which took place on Friday the 18th., was largely attended, many friends, including the following, coming from the north:—

Mrs. Bulyea, of Peachland.

Revs. Pattison and Ritchie, Mrs. James Ritchie, Dr. and Mrs. Lipsett Mr. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. English.

Rev. F. W. Auvache being in Winnipeg was represented by his son Will. Jack Steven, Leonard Grey, and Harry Pitman also came from Penticton. Mr. J. Ritchie was present also. After a beautiful service in the home of Mr. Simpson, conducted by Revs. Pattison and Ritchie, during which Mrs. Bulyea sang "Goodnight Beloved" the funeral cortege proceeded to the local cemetery where the remains were reverently laid to rest.

Mrs. Bulyea, Mrs. Simpson's sister, is remaining with her for a few days.

McLellan--Garnett.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Gartrell, when Mr. Murdock John McLellan, popularly known as 'Bert,' and Miss Edna May Garnett, one of Summerlands' most popular young ladies, were united in bonds of holy matrimony. Rev. James Hood, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. After the ceremony all sat down to a lavishly filled table and afterwards spent the evening in social fellowship. About seven o'clock, the happy couple amid showers of rice and old boots, left for their new home in Okanagan Falls. The bride looked charming in her dress of cream silk, inset with eyelet and insertion, with the customary veil and orange blossoms. Her travelling gown was of brown cloth, trimmed with silk. She wore with this a beautiful set of brown furs, with a fur hat to match. The presents were pretty and numerous, and testify to the esteem in which the young lady is held by her friends. All wish for Mr. and Mrs. McLellan a long and happy life.

INSANITY AND DIVORCE.

Further interesting evidence on the subject of insanity and divorce has been given before the Divorce Commission by Sir James Crichton-Brown. It will be remembered that a number of well-known medical men have given evidence in favor of granting divorce on the ground of insanity of any duration. Sir James said that to recognize this would, in his opinion, encourage imprudence in marriage, conduce to the instability of the matrimonial state, and still further impair the sanctity of family life. Insanity was simply a bodily disease, manifesting itself in mental derangement, and if it was to be recognized as a sufficient reason for divorce, he did not see why many other bodily diseases should not be also. Let them once admit that any kind of disease might justify divorce, and they might ultimately come to have small-pox and lupus as disfiguring diseases, epilepsy and angina pectoris as alarming diseases, and leprosy and ozena as disgusting diseases, pleaded as grounds for emancipation from the matrimonial bonds.

CRIME IN CANADA.

The annual report of the minister of justice shows that crime like everything else in Canada, is on the increase, though apparently the growth is much slower than in other and better things. There were 15,350 charges and 11,449 convictions for indictable offences during the year ending September 30, 1909, an increase of 110 charges and 115 convictions during the year. Both charges and convictions have increased during the year in Prince Edward Island, Saskatchewan and Alberta, while they have decreased in New Brunswick, Quebec, Manitoba and British Columbia; as for Ontario and the Yukon, the figures show a decrease in charges and an increase in convictions; whereas in Nova Scotia the charges are higher and convictions lower in 1909 than they were the year before. The percentage of acquittals for 1909 is lower than the general average in New Brunswick, Quebec, Manitoba, British Columbia and the Yukon and higher in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, Ontario Saskatchewan and Alberta.

In proportion to population the share of criminality is lower in the Maritime Provinces and Quebec than elsewhere, while it is highest in British Columbia and the Yukon. Through out Canada there were forty two and eighteen convictions for murder; attempted murder twenty-eight charges and fourteen convictions; manslaughter, thirty-six charges and twenty-four convictions.

Of the forty-two charges for murder, fifteen were tried in Ontario, eleven in British Columbia, five in New Brunswick, three each in Quebec and Saskatchewan, and one in Nova Scotia. There were 7,404 charges of theft and 5,761 convictions, and 1,125 charges of burglary and highway robbery, with 848 convictions. There were 274 convictions for perjury, and nine convictions for usury. There were 711 pardons granted, including 578 tickets of leave.

The Board of Valuators appointed to decide upon an equitable sum for which the Kettle River Valley Railway should purchase the old Midway and Vernon right of way has decided upon a figure in the neighborhood of $62,000. The valuator went thoroughly into the accounts of the road and have notified the Kettle Valley Railway of the award. It is stated on authoritative information that the amount of the award will be forthcoming within a few days. The valuator hope to be in a position to make payments in the matter of various claims for wages and supplies incurred by the defunct railway company and assumed by the Kettle Valley Road sometime between now and the end of the present month. The claim for labor, and accounts of that description so far as they appertain to the ten mile right-of-way between Midway and Rock Creek are likely to be paid in full. This was the portion of the road on which actual construction work had been commenced, and was the only portion with which the board of valuator could deal. The other claims in connection with that portion of the road will, it is stated, receive substantial consideration.—Orchard City Record.

MILITARY AIR CORPS.

There is every indication that the Army Council has at last awakened to the fact that aerial craft will play an important part in the warfare of the future, says "The Standard of Empire." A British military air corps has been formed and two junior officers and about a dozen sappers are now under canvas at Durrington, Salisbury Plain, conducting experiments with a Bleriot Monoplane, a present from the Duke of Westminster to the Army Council. The experiment will be of an extensive nature. Flights by night and the reading of flashlight signals, wireless telegraphy and despatch carrying will all form part of the program of the new corps. It is also proposed to form a dirigible branch of the Air Corps.

OVERDOING A GOOD THING.

We believe there is very often more harm than good done by good people very sincere in their advocacy of a good thing. Perhaps this is not seen more in anything than in the fight being made by intemperate temperance advocates for local option. We are told by the provincial press that it is now the intention of the local option leaders in B.C. to send to Victoria early next year 3,000 school boys to petition the government to enact local option law to apply in every district in the province.

This sounds very pretty. It would be so nice to have three thousand schoolboys who could not tell a gin fizz from a glass of salt sea waves going to Victoria to tell the government how to run the country, but it also seems an awful waste of effort, with a touch of child-play. If we mistake not, the present policy of the McBride Government in dealing with the liquor traffic will do far more practical good than a thousand thousand temperance advocates who would send an army of school boys on a mission the working out of which would clearly be beyond their conception. There is no way quite so effective in injuring a good cause as that of overdoing. Temperance in Canada is coming quickly—as quickly as the people are educated to receive it. But it has not been brought about and never can be brought about by these spectacular displays on the part of the over-zealous. A case in point in case comes from Auburn, Wash., where an undertaker sought to influence voters in the local option ballot in that town last week by displaying in the window of his premises the corpses of two drunkards standing bolt upright in their coffins, with labels stating that one was the body of an ex-soldier of the British Army, who had died of acute alcoholism, and the other that of a man who had been killed by a train while drunk. The ghastly exhibition had the opposite effect to what was intended, as the voters viewed the sight with horror and indignation and in resentment voted "wet," local option being defeated.

MAKING THE CHURCH CHEAP.

The action of the Municipal Council at the last meeting in not allowing the request on behalf of the Anglican Church for exemption from irrigation rates, will without doubt meet with the approval of the vast majority of thinking people. Men who have given the matter much thought, and good churchmen, too, are firmly convinced that it is a very serious mistake to exempt church property from the payment of its just proportion of the expense of the upkeep of the public institutions maintained for the welfare of one and all. It is the consensus of opinion that it is not only unjust and unreasonable to make the church a charitable institution, or an institution requiring special privileges, but that such a policy is a grave set-back to the church's work. At the present day, churches are well maintained by the community, and the general run of men in the ministry are paid stipends quite as large as are paid to men in other callings, and some of them a great deal more than they could earn at any other calling, therefore we see no reason why these men should not pay their proportion of the expense of the maintenance of the public institutions and the upbuilding of the community.

We believe that the time is close at hand when the churches of Canada will ask to have the exemption from taxation clause in the municipal statutes removed, and that all church property be made to pay the same as any other public or semi-public institution. When the church—any church—gets more property than it can pay taxes on then let it do as the private individual has to do—release some of the property. To release the church from the payment of any just tax, and at the same time levy the tax on the poor man, who can less ably afford to pay it, is to make the church cheap, and in a very large measure will reduce its influence for good in the community.

THE PASSING OF TOLSTOY.

Perhaps no greater character in literature has ever lived than Count Leo Tolstoy, the famous Russian whose dying days have been depicted in despatches from Tula, Russia for the past ten days or more. A man of the most marvellous personality and brilliant mind and yet a pessimist of the most pronounced type, cruelly truthful and of unyielding logic, he has left an impress upon the world of letters that will never wear off. Few writers have had such power of expression as has characterized the works of Tolstoy. His life has been an eventful one, and filled with trials and tribulations which we may almost say were self-inflicted. He was born on his father's estate on the government of Tula, and he was wending his way thither to die when overcome by a severe cold in the lungs which he contracted en route, after stealing away from his home and aged wife in his desire to be alone when the end came.

Tolstoy served in the army of the Danube in the Crimean War, and also took part in the defence of Sebastapool. His sketches written of his experiences at Sebastapool placed him among the pen masters of the day. In these he painted the horrors of war, with its show heroes and real heroes, in the spirit of that real coldblooded realism which is the chief trait of all of Tolstoy's work. He has given the world naked truth and little else. He has laid bare life as he saw it, and Tolstoy was equally at home in all walks of life. He draws with the same firm hand and correctness, the rulers of men's fates, courtiers, generals, petty officers, common soldiers, great noblemen, peasants, prisoners in the dungeon and on the road to Siberia, men, women and children—everywhere he strikes the very bottom of human character. In all of Tolstoy's later works the elemental forces of the common people are lovingly contrasted with the artificiality of the upper classes. In his colossal prose epic, War and Peace, he artistically intertwined a new philosophy, which in the last analysis is but the old fatalism in a new guise. Two of Tolstoy's most powerful works are "Anna Karenina" and his "Resurrection." A brief study of these will give a touch to the author's nature. In the former he deals with the unlawful relations of the social lion Vronski and Anna the wife of Karenin. The great questions of human life which centre around marriage are treated with unapproachable mastery, force and directness. The novel has a second plot—the life of the rationalist proprietor, Kronstantin Levin, and his wife Kitty. Amid perfect home surroundings, he is discontented, and even thinks of suicide until he is "regenerated" through contact with the common people, and finds new strength in manual labor. In "Resurrection," the central figure, Nekhlyudoff, while acting as a juror, recognizes in the culprit the woman whom he had betrayed in his youth. Torn by remorse, he finally comes to the conclusion that he is the real cause of the woman's guilt and downfall. He wishes to expiate his former wrong doing by accompanying her to Siberia and sharing with her all the hardships of the exile. The book is a powerful arraignment of existing conditions, as the author seems to have given free expression to all the bitterness that had been collecting in his heart for years.

Tolstoy carried the doctrine of evangelic humility to an extreme end. All teaching not coming from Christ Himself he ruthlessly discarded. In his later years he came to defy all unnecessary comforts of life. All human institutions—kingly power, state, church, judiciary, jury, army, and even marriage—were in turn anathematized as standing in the way of the individual. As a result of his free lance and the great power he wielded with his pen, he was excommunicated by the Greek Church, and later exiled by the powers that sit in ignorance over Russia.

The passing of Tolstoy will be much felt by the literary world. His pen spoke truth all the time, though his expression of it was unnecessarily cruel sometimes, and perhaps caused him to be misunderstood.

What about the public meeting concerning which there has been so much talk?

The Summerland Review

BETWEEN ME AND HANK

One day I looked in upon the home life of Luther Burbank. There was no great pompous, sputtering, bombastic, swelling, boastful or stilted man there. Just Luther Burbank and his mother—and a servant or two. It was in a little rose-covered cottage, nestling snugly in an arbor of pepper trees and flowering vines, there was not anything about the place to indicate that there lived one of Nature's Noblemen. There was no high fences to keep out the gaze of passers-by, no arbitrary notices posted about, no pomp, no factitious glory. It was just HOME.

But in that home there was a man who made the whole world think. Simple, kindly, thoughtful and earnest; studious, penetrating, loyal, steadfast and true—that is Luther Burbank. And he's at work early and late all the time. He never is tired; he never is ill; he never knows what it is to be without a job to do. He does not stop to quibble, gossip, shuffle or debate. He has his work to do, and day after day, Luther Burbank is at work in his experimental fields and budding houses, mating plants, pinching the buds, engrafting the stalks and developing in plant life types that were never known before.

"Disturb the life habits of the plant and you are sure to get a new plant." That has been Luther Burbank's theory and practice. The world knows what Mr. Burbank has accomplished. For seventeen years he has been developing new forms and combinations of plant life. "The life forces are constantly pressing forward to obtain any space that can be occupied, and if they find an open avenue, always make use of it, as far as heredity will allow."

This Mr. Burbank has demonstrated. And what he has discovered in plant life, is equally true of human life. The scientist sees God in everything. And heaven for the scientist is here and now. He does not care to know another. "Only one kind of effort to please counts with plants. Intelligence, keen understanding, absolute honesty are required."

And it is this kind of effort that Luther Burbank has put forth.

Is it any wonder that he has succeeded as he has? Is it any wonder that he has found in plants an intelligence but very little below that of human intelligence?

And this man—the wizard of the ages—has but one mission in all of his experiments: to make man better. Not by preaching and fidgeting about it, but by changing his environment by making the world more beautiful and more kind. Plants respond to kindness much the same as man does. More beauty and more kindness, then, and plant and man will see God—here and now.

At the Hospital Ball the following articles were lost: one purse, one hat, and one new serviette. Will the finders kindly return them to the Review Office. Found on the same occasion — a new pair of ladies white kid evening gloves.

CONSERVATIVE CONVENTION AT NELSON.

If there ever was a doubt as to the strength of the Conservative party in British Columbia, or the loyalty of the party to its splendid leader, the Hon. Richard McBride, that doubt must have been removed by the enthusiasm of the convention held at Nelson last week. The Premier received such an ovation as is the lot of few men. From every district of the province there was the gathering of delegates, and one and all reported good news. Premier McBride has characterized the convention as the best ever held in the province.

Musical honours greeted the Premier when he arose to address the convention.

"Never in the history of our conventions has there been assembled under one roof a more representative gathering than that which is here today" said the Premier when the cheers had died away. "Your presence shows that the party heartily and enthusiastically endorses the government of the day, and pledges its confidence in the administration. Your presence is a strong compliment and a stronger commendation.

The Premier referred to the pleasure it gave him to meet the men behind the Conservative guns and he laid stress on the beneficial results of the convention. The business of the Conservative party was the business of the province and of the country.

Referring to the record of the government the Premier said that the financial position was such that if the occasion demanded the administration could go to the banks and secure sufficient funds to pay off every cent owed by British Columbia. This, he continued, was in striking contrast to the situation found by the minister of finance, the late Captain Tatlow, when he assumed the portfolio in 1903. Then the credit of British Columbia was a negligible quantity. Today the chartered banks were proud to work with the government of British Columbia.

"The history of representative government in Canada will not disclose a more gratifying record than that achieved by the present administration of British Columbia. The result of the administration has been to make this province well and favourably known throughout the Empire."

Referring to the recent visit of Sir Wilfred Laurier to British Columbia, he said that it gave the Conservatives the opportunity of showing that they put country before party.

"A Conservative government, backed by a Conservative people, was given the opportunity to show a Liberal prime minister backed by a federal liberal party that we were big enough to recognize that he was the first Canadian and that it was our duty to show him the honor he was entitled to as the representative of the people."

The next federal election will show Sir Wilfred that he will be unable to return a single supporter from British Columbia. The minority vote will go to Sir Wilfred's party, and will serve us an excellent illustration to the rest of Canada of how British Columbia views this question. Premier McBride emphasized the determination of his government to keep British Columbia a white man's country.

Peachland Paragraphs.

Rev. C. W. White returned on Friday evening from a trip to Arrowhead.

Miss Olive Young, who has been visiting her sister in Saskatchewan, returned home here last week.

Rev. Mr. Lewis, of the Montreal Theological School, arrived here last week to take charge of the Presbyterian work here.

Mr. Neil Martin of Kelowna is spending a few days in town, visiting his friends and incidentally having a hunt with Mr. S. F. Calendar.

Mr. N. S. Davidson spent a couple of days in Vernon this week in connection with his suit for recovery of wages against Mr. H. B. Cossar. As the case was postponed he returned on Wednesday.

Mr. Alex Miller returned on Wednesday morning from a visit to his family in Summerland. Peachland friends are delighted to hear that Miss Aggie Miller is making such a splendid recovery from her illness.

The Williams Jubilee Singers played to a capacity house here last Friday evening. They again delighted their audience with their melodious rendering of Darkey songs as well as their other selections. They certainly excel in producing harmonious blendings, some of the effects being remarkably fine.

The local nimrods were busy last week, scouring the hills for deer, and with a very fair measure of success, too, for nearly every one got something for his trouble, even Hugh Williams who got lost, and had to spend the night nuder a pine tree. He reached home the following afternoon in a somewhat forlorn condition.

The news of the fatal accident to the Rev. N. K. Simpson last week cast a gloom over this place, for he was so well known here and so highly thought of by all his old neighbours, that it seemed as though he still belonged to us. No man in the whole community was held in higher respect and esteem than Mr Simpson and expressions of regret over his death coupled with sympathy for Mrs. Simpson and Marjorie are heard on all sides.

THE PLAYGROUND OF THE WORLD.

Dr. Longstaff, the well known Alpine climber:—"Switzerland may be called the playground of Europe, but the Canadian Rockies will be the playground of the world. When Canada and what she offers becomes better known to the sportsmen, there will be a rush in that direction."

SALMON ARM AT SPOKANE.

A telegram sent to Salmon Arm conveyed the pleasing intelligence that R. H. Fortune succeeded in capturing the second prize for "limited display" at Spokane, this being the same as that for which he secured 100 points at Vancouver. He also took first in the foreign country special.—Salmon Arm Observer.

CLOSER SETTLEMENT SCHEME.

Says the 'Standard of Empire' — "It is stated that the closer settlement of British Columbia will be thoroughly gone into by the Hon. Price Ellison, Minister of Agriculture during his present visit to London. The Minister will confer with Hon J. H. Turner, Agent-General for the Province, and with the various emigration boards in England, and endeavour to find ways and means whereby the Provincial Government may at the approaching session of the Legislature, introduce legislation on the same lines which proved so successful in settling the North West provinces.

The settlement scheme will prove one of the most important measures to be considered at the forthcoming session, and it is understood that the survey of desirable lands in various parts of the province will be shortly undertaken.

CUDDLE THE LITTLE ONES.

The school authorities in Kelowna have pointed out the lack of wisdom shown by the parents in permitting their children to go to school too early especially in the cold weather. The school doors are not opened before 9.15 as a rule, and sometimes for an hour before that there poor little mites shivering on the steps waiting for admission. The child who has been standing there so long begins his morning task cold, wet and miserable.

THE PLACE FOR A WHITE MAN.

Mr. F. Wolridge is in receipt of a letter from Brandon, Man., acknowledging the receipt of a box of apples which he had shipped to there. It is stated that they were beautiful apples, that people were determined to come this way after seeing what the climate will grow, and that any country that grows fruit like those apples must be the place for a white man to live in. —Kelowna Courier.

SAVE THE BABIES.

Sir George Reid on infant mortality: "I would say to the people of England — save your babies. They are Imperial babies. Every baby that dies might one day become a useful citizen of the Empire, and we want all the citizens of Empire we can possibly get."

GET BUSY!

Eastern fruit growers spend considerable time discussing the wonderful strides that have been made by the fruit growers of British Columbia and the Pacific coast states. "When we realize that as soon as we show the same spirit of enterprise, push and confidence, says the Canadian Horticulturist, "we can accomplish even greater results we will begin to bestir ourselves more than we have".

LOST. — On the road between English Church, and entrance to Prairie Valley, a soft tan leather bag containing letters and money. $5.00 reward to anyone returning same to Miss Higgin, Balcom.

Dr. Matheson will be in attendance at his Dental Parlor until Monday December 5th.

WHAT WAS IT?

Somebody wrote E. Brainerd the able and alert editor of the Post Intelligence asking what he thought was the cause of the recent Democratic landslide throughout the United States. Brainerd is a wise man and he keeps his ears close to the ground. Here was his answer: "Bacon has been selling at forty cents a pound." That is the explanation in a nutshell. When the poor man, or the man in poor circumstances has to pay forty cents a pound "There is something rotten in the state of Denmark," as the little girl in the shop was heard to remark to a friend.

LABOR TEMPLE.

A building permit taken out in Vancouver this week sanctions the construction of the labor temple on Dunsmuir Street. Plans for the block cover a six story building involving an expenditure of $127,000.

DR. CRIPPEN HANGED.

Dr. Hawley H. Crippen was executed at nine o'clock on the morning of November 23. The Times immediately published what purports to be a full confession, but its authenticity is denied by both the police and Miss Ethel Le Neve. Miss Le Neve takes passage on the Majestic for New York on the morning of November 25.

RICH RED BLOOD.

You Will Never Have It as Long as You Have Dyspepsia.

Just as long as you have dyspepsia your food will not properly digest, and the nutritious elements in the food will not be extracted or absorbed, and impoverished or watery blood will follow.

This condition may not be apparent at first, but it will come just as sure as the sun will rise again.

Any stomach ailment, including all forms of indigestion, can be promptly cured by using Mi-o-na tablets, a scientific treatment unsurpassed.

It stops fermentation, belching of gas and taste of sour food almost at once.

The mighty power of Mi-o-na to invigorate and restore the stomach to perfect condition is known everywhere.

Mi-o-na cures by building up—by banishing the cause. For thin people it is a great flesh builder, because it causes the stomach to give more and purer nutrition to the blood. It cures sea and car sickness and vomiting of pregnancy almost immediately. The Summerland Drug Co. sells Mi-o-na for 50 cents a large box, and guarantees it to cure or money back.
