Associated Board of Trade.

Third Annual Meeting. Splendidly Represented. Good Sheaf of Business Done. Delegates Entertained to Supper.

The third annual meeting of the Associated Board of Trade of the Okanagan district was held in the Council Chamber, Summerland, on Wednesday of this week. The various delegates arrived in town on Tuesday, and were accorded a reception on Tuesday evening and the association formally opened for business the same evening and committees on credentials and resolutions appointed.

The following were present:—

G. A. Henderson, Vernon, President.

P. Dickson, Vernon, Secretary.

Delegates:— Armstrong: D. Graham, L. W. Patten.

Vernon: S. C. Smith, C. C. McRae, K. C. McDonald (proxy.)

Kelowna: Mr. Pitcairn, F. R. E. DeHart, Mr. Sutherland.

Peachland: Messrs. Bachelor, Cutbill and Lang.

Summerland, Messrs. R. H. Agur, C. Stackhouse, and C. H. Cordy.

Penticton, E. Foley Bennett, and F. H. Latimer.

Mr. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist, and a few members of the Summerland Board were also present at the Convention.

On Wednesday morning the Resolution Committee of the Board met at 10 a.m. to consider the various resolutions which were before the committee for consideration and framing such resolutions in as brief and practical a manner as possible.

The meeting was called to order by the president at eleven o'clock, and business was proceeded with at once. He called upon the secretary to read the minutes of the last meeting, and after a little discussion, these were duly approved and adopted.

The financial statement was next presented and shewed the Board to be in a very healthy condition. The statement was duly accepted and passed.

The officers were next elected, and the following were duly named:—

G. A. Henderson, President, P. Dickson, Secretary-Treasurer. Vice-presidents consist of the presidents of the various Boards affiliated.

Mr. Henderson, before bringing forward the resolutions, explained the rules governing their presentation; viz. they should be in the hands of the secretary twenty days previous to the annual meeting. The Board is an association not so much for creating measures for resolutions, but rather to carry out the wishes of the combined Boards of Trade of the Valley. The resolutions before the meeting were all read previous to adjournment for lunch at noon.

Upon re-assembling, Mr. Henderson being prevented from being present for a short time, Mr. R. H. Agur was appointed to the chair during his absence. Mr. Henderson upon his arrival taking up his position at the head of the table.

The following resolutions were read and passed:—

That the secretary be instructed to again bring to the attention of the Provincial Government that, in the opinion of this meeting, additional representation in the local legislature required more than ever in the Okanagan electoral district.

That, whereas the passenger service between the Okanagan Valley and lake points to the coast is very unsatisfactory and slow be it resolved that the secretary write to the General Passenger agent at Vancouver urging the necessity of alteration and improvement.

That the secretary write again with a renewed resolution to the Postal authorities and the C.P.R. affirming the necessity of placing a mail clerk on the S.S. Okanagan as urged by the Associated Board of Trade last year.

That the matter of having the words "Okanagan Junction," inserted in the C.P.R. time tables under the name "Sicamous," be again strongly brought to the attention of the C.P.R.

Whereas the express rate on less than carload lots from the Okanagan to Calgary is $2.25 per hundred; and from Lower Mainland points $2.40 per hundred; from Vancouver Island to the same point $2.65 per hundred; and, whereas, the rate on less than carloads by express to Winnipeg is $2.90 from the Islands; $2.65 from the Frazer, Okanagan and Kootenay districts; and, whereas, the rate on less than carload lots by express from Vernon to Vancouver is $1.80; from Nelson and similar points $2.40; and whereas, all express charges on fruit carried from the British Columbia producing districts to markets, are in proportion, and the rate to even less distant points is even higher, be it resolved, that this convention strongly urge on the Dominion Express Company the necessity for a general reduction in the express rates on less than carload lots of fruits and vegetables.

"That the Associated Board of Trade of the Okanagan Valley (which represents at least 60 per cent. of the fruit industry of B.C.,) at their annual meeting now assembled urge in the strongest manner upon the Dominion Government the absolute necessity of maintaining the present import duty on fruit as from the United States. The fruit industry in B. C. is in the infant stage with great possibilities which has been stated by responsible men will equal the lumber industry of the province and at the present stage requires careful handling and fostering. There are millions of dollars invested in the fruit industry in the province more than in the farm-implement business of Ontario which has been nursed and protected, by so doing these factories of Canada are classed in this line as the leading industries of the world. Without this protection through their growing years, these magnificent plants which are now employing thousands, would never have existed. The same applies to the British Columbia fruit industry in which the growers have invested many millions of dollars besides the very large investments of capital in irrigation systems running into millions of dollars. The necessity of a protection duty outside the fostering of a young and promising industry, is the undeniable fact that the natural market for B.C. "The N.W. Territories" is made the dumping ground for surplus fruit from the North Western States which already possess a large and fully developed fruit industry and the pernicious action of consignment is resorted to a large scale. It is well taken that the fruit growers are entitled to have their rights guarded the same as has been the case for other enterprises."

Having regard to the many advantages possessed by this Valley as a suitable resort for tourists and motorists during the summer months, more particularly with reference to residents in Vancouver and Coast cities, it is very desirable that first class road communication be established between Vancouver and points in the valley at an early date—That to this end, the Provincial Government be strongly urged to complete, at an early date and render fit for motor traffic, the existing systems between (1) Vancouver and Okanagan Lake via Peachland and Summerland. (2) Between Penticton and Vernon along the lake shore and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Hon. Price Ellison, Minister of Agriculture and Finance, as also to the Hon. the Minister of Public Works, Victoria, B.C. That the attention of the Government be called to the fact that in view of the serious damage which may be, and sometimes is caused by the breaking of dams, it is of the utmost importance that the inspection of dams be fully and carefully attended to.

That, whereas a large area of land held as Indian Reserve is distributed throughout B.C., and, whereas a large amount of capital will be required to make these lands valuable, particularly in the drybelt, and whereas the present holders of the lands are not able to introduce the necessary improvements to make this land valuable. Therefore be it resolved that the Dominion and Provincial Governments be approached with a view to acquiring the said lands from the Indians and opening up the same for settlement.

That whereas the initial charge for icing of carloads by freight is at the rate of $5.00 per ton in B.C., usually for seven or eight tons, and whereas the initial icing charge in Oregon and Washington is $20 to $25 per car, be it resolved that the C. P. R. be asked to adjust their icing charges so as to be on a more equal basis.

That there is unreasonable delay in forwarding freight from Okanagan Landing, and too great damage and breakage caused by rough handling in the transshipment, therefore the secretary be instructed to write to the proper authorities regarding this matter.

That the Dominion Government be requested to go into the matter of telegrams and letters in the Okanagan district, and in the letter forwarded the fact be emphasized that such a service would be of great benefit.

Whereas the labor needs of the fruit districts cannot be permanently provided for by the importation of temporary labor (though the latter is essential,) be it resolved that the Provincial Government be urged to arrange with the C. P. R. for special rates from eastern Canada as now granted during harvest season in the prairies, and that they also adopt an immigration policy to promote immigration of the desirable class of agricultural workers from the farming communities of Great Britain and other points.

That the Dominion Government be asked to establish an experimental farm at an early date, and that a letter from the secretary accompany the same.

Whereas it has been brought to the notice of the Associated Board that there is some intention on the part of the Government of giving up the idea of establishing Demonstration Orchards in the Okanagan Valley, therefore, be it resolved that this board is of the opinion that the establishment of these orchards would be of inestimable value to the fruit growers of the Valley.

That the Provincial Government be again urged to have the municipal act revised, and a universal system of book-keeping adopted, and a Government auditor be appointed to audit the books of the various municipalities from time to time.

Many of the resolutions were passed with little comment, but on a few of them there was much discussion ere they were sanctioned to go forward.

On the resolution about freight there was also a great amount of discussion. This item of expenditure is a very sore point in the Okanagan, as was evidenced by the number of delegates who spoke anent this matter. Mr. Pitcairn, Kelowna, gave many facts and figures on this subject, and was listened to attentively. Messrs. Graham, Bennett and Smith (Vernon,) also had some interesting facts to relate along this line.

The resolution re the road from the coast to this district was commented upon and discussed fully. Mr. Bachelor, (Peachland), as proposer, introduced the subject, and the original motion was slightly amended and then passed.

The labor question—how are we going to get at it? This vital subject was discussed pro and con, and for half an hour or more occupied the attention of the meeting. Labor must be procured, and to make the province go ahead as she ought, this labor question must be settled in one way or another. The president called upon Mr. Winsow, (Provincial Horticulturist), to make some remarks on this subject, and he spoke for a few minutes. In his remarks he made mention of the fact that at present he had applications for about 1,400 laborers to assist in the development of the fruit industry, and the department were doing all in their power to arrange a method.

In proposing the most lengthily and probably the one of most importance, Mr. Agur stated that the protection of our fruit industry, at the present time, was necessary. As yet, it was not sufficiently nurtured to withstand competition in the open market. Mr. Graham, Armstrong, in support of this resolution, remarked that to the south of us there was a large and fully developed territory, and we, as a young community, are not as yet prepared to fight them in the open market. Mr. Bennett, Penticton, said that he believed that the Board and the district were in full accord with the resolution, and he heartily supported it. Copies of this important resolution are to be forwarded to Messrs. Pattinson, Fielding, Bostock and Burrell, and also to the Associated Board of Trade in the Kootenay.

Votes of thanks were accorded to Messrs. T. Eaton & Co., and the C.P.R. (Mr. Lanigan,) for the excellent work in connection with the fruit exhibit at Messrs. T. Eaton's in Winnipeg. A similar motion was accorded to the Okanagan Fruit Union.

An invitation from the Penticton Board of Trade to hold the meeting of the Associated Board in that town next year was unanimously accepted. Emergency meetings, if necessary, will be held at Enderby.

A vote of thanks to the president and secretary was ably moved by Mr. R. H. Agur, and Mr. Pitcairn (Kelowna,) seconded same, and both were heartily accorded.

Mr. Henderson briefly replied, and Mr. Dickson (Vernon,) the able secretary, in his reply drew attention to the various boards that they were never to forget that the Associated Board was ready for work, and that practical suggestions for the good of the whole community were always welcome. To get enthusiastic once every twelve months and lie dormant the remainder of the year, was not a satisfactory method of doing business, and he would again emphasize the fact that the Board could work, was willing to work and not afraid of it.

This was all the business, and the convention adjourned at 4.30.

During the evening, the delegates were entertained to supper by the Summerland Board of Trade and both an excellent menu and toast list was gone through in a business like manner. A splendid orchestra was present and a good time generally was spent.

The annual meeting of the Conservative Association will be held on Monday evening in the Central Schoolhouse at eight o'clock.

The Summerland Amateur Dramatic Society played "The Brixton Burglary" at lake points this week, on Thursday at Penticton and on Friday at Kelowna. When the new hall is finished down town, they purpose producing this play in Summerland.

THE OVERSEAS CLUB.

A branch of this world wide club has just been formed in Summerland. At a meeting held last Saturday in the Central School, Mr. G. A. Marshall gave a few particulars about the club, its aims and objects, etc. Although it only commenced last August there is now a membership of over 13,000 and it is still growing rapidly. The club is open for every British subject and ladies are interesting themselves in the movement, which is purely patriotic.

The next meeting of the Summerland branch will be held on Thursday the 9th at 8 p.m. in the Central School. Officers will be appointed and the broad outlines of the club stated.

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.

IMPORTANT MATTERS DEALT WITH BY FRUIT GROWERS.

The B. C. Fruit Growers in annual convention assembled at Victoria this month strongly objected to the proposal of the United States fruit growers that the duty on fruit entering Canada from the States be removed and a resolution was passed stating that the Association was absolutely against any reduction of the rates, and asking on the contrary that the duty on fruit coming into Canada be raised to conform with the duty imposed by the United State on fruit entering the United States from Canada.

Another matter which came up for discussion at the Fruit Growers convention was the question of establishing a labor bureau for the province. The secretary of the association, R. M. Winslow, made a statement of how this matter stood at present. He said that a committee had been appointed to wait on the provincial government on the necessity for action regarding labor and the appointment of a labor bureau. Conditions in the fruit industry had reached such a pitch that either values would have to go up, or else the cost of production would have to come down. In his capacity of secretary he had been instructed to find out, if possible, the number of laborers wanted by the fruit growers of the province. He had circularized them all, or as many as he could get in touch with, and up to date he had received data which showed that there was a demand for nearly 1,300 laborers. These men could be employed at current wages during the coming season, and over half of them could be employed for eight months of the season.

A resolution was passed unanimously asking the provincial government to promote immigration from the British Isles and with this end in view to establish a bureau of labor and set aside receiving farms for the training of such immigrants. It further recommended that assisted passages should be advanced by the provincial government.

The express service came in for some strong criticism, both on the question of rates and the manner in which the fruit was handled.

The following delegates were appointed to attend the Dominion Fruit Conference to be held in Ottawa, probably next December. For Vancouver Island, Mr. Thomas A. Brydon; for the Lower Mainland, Mr. Maxwell Smith; for the Similkameen, Okanagan and Thompson Districts, Mr. R. H. Agur; and for the Kootenays and Boundary District, Mr. T. Abriel.

NEWS FROM THE EAST.

(From our own correspondent.)

Montreal, Jan. 30.—Although Canada's losses by forest fires was far less this past year than on any previous year, and although her record through many years has been better than her neighbors in the United States, concerted efforts are now under way to minimize in a practical manner the many dangers which, from one source and another, beset her timber wealth. At the Forestry Convention, which was presided over by Earl Grey in Quebec, many opinions were expressed by noted foresters from all parts of the country on the part of those who are vitally interested in and partly responsible for timber destruction would do more for conservation of this kind than any law ever promulgated. Therefore it may be safely said that it will not be many months before the Province of Quebec will have a plan of campaign drawn up in which the railways, contractors, settlers, hunters and the general public who make use of the forest areas will play their parts for safeguarding against fires. The railways have been asked to figure out the cost of replacing steam with electricity, and Sir Lomer Gouin has hinted that he would be in favor of granting no charters for new roads in Northern Quebec unless they were equipped with electricity.

Although the reciprocity negotiations at Washington are over, and interest in the subject is not so much as to fore as it was some weeks ago, it hardly seems out of place to call attention to some of the prophecies which were made at the banquet of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here, when some of the best known men of the country sat down to dine together. That there are subjects of agitation in the country was evident from the tone of the speeches. Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Mr. R.L. Borden, Sir E. B. Walker, Mr. Donald MacMaster and Mr. Chas. M. Hays, each had something striking to say, and each expressed his opinion frankly. The reciprocity negotiations, the divergency of interests between the farmers of the west and the manufacturers of the east, the closer linking of Imperial bonds, and Hon. Mr. Lemieux's eloquent description of harmony under the British flag in South Africa were all subjects of keen interest to the more than 300 captains of industry who attended the banquet.

As the result of a seizure of something like seventy-five thousand gallons of Russian eggs here the other day, a rigid investigation as to how Montreal gets her food supply has been started by the Board of Control. Dr. E. P. Lachapelle, one of the controllers and also a member of the Provincial Board of Health, says he believes that Montreal has been made the dumping ground for bad food refused by other cities, for years. The eggs were put up in tins for sale to the bakers and samples of them tested by the city's analysts showed that one dose of the mixture killed a guinea pig in less than a day.

The cocaine clause of the opium bill which will be introduced in the House of Commons by the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King is a direct result of the investigations made by a little band of workers in Montreal, who have found that the cocaine snuffing evil has reached large proportions in the city and country, and is doing untold damage to the boys and girls of Canada. Mr. King will ask for cast iron legislation setting an absolute ban on the sale of cocaine in the Dominion of Canada except for medical purposes and providing heavy punishment for violators of the law. The present laws have proved totally inadequate in coping with the evil and Chief Carpenter of the Detective Bureau, has made the startling announcement that fully four-fifths of the young boys and girls who fall into his hands have the habit in a greater or lesser degree, and that he and his men are almost powerless to check the sale by unscrupulous druggists.

REMARKABLE CHANGE OF FRONT.

Perhaps nothing shows more conclusively the high estimate the statesmen of the United States place upon Canada and Canadian resources, than the terms of the reciprocity agreement just made public between these two countries. In previous agreements of this type Canada has been dealt with in the same spirit as the large brother with the big apple would deal with the small brother and the core. But in the agreement now causing so much stir and such a divergence of opinion, it seems to us as though Canada as a whole gets the best of it, the States apparently recognizing that Canada is important enough to tie to. While at first sight it may appear that the fruit growers of British Columbia will suffer by the duty being removed from orchard products, still we must recognize that the markets of the States are open to us as our markets are open to them, and if, as we hold, and have good reason for it, that British Columbia fruit is so much superior to the fruit of other sections, the removal of the duty would be in our favor, since it opens more—and nearer—markets to us. If we had the fruit our shippers could go into the middle and western States and capture the business. We all know what the price is in the markets across the line for first-class fruit. In fact, the prices are better than those in our home markets, for the reason that the fruit growers are better organized and are better prepared to keep the home prices up. At the same time they have, under duty, shipped fruit into Canada and undercut what our growers have maintained was a fair price. We do not believe it is so much a question of duty with our B.C. growers as it is one of quality and quantity. The total amount of the duty it is proposed to remit in the agreement, on fresh fruit, is $262,000.

It would be impossible in our limited space to give the agreement, even in part, sufficient to permit a clearer understanding. The value of the articles imported into Canada which are affected by the agreement is $47,828,000, and the value of articles remaining dutiable is $85,198,000. The amount of duty remitted by the United States on leading Canadian articles is: sawed lumber $1,292,000; fish $464,000; hay $386,000; flax seed and linseed $352,000; wood pulp, $308,000; live animals $276,000; vegetables $257,000; printing paper $165,000; oats $142,000; mica $110,000; dairy products $105,000; gypsum $101,000; telegraph poles etc., $99,000; wheat flour $91,000. The amount of duty remitted by Canada on leading articles imported from the United States is: coal bituminous $455,000; fresh fruits $262,000; fresh vegetables $242,000; cotton seed oil $180,000; live animals $162,000; paper $161,000; meal $147,000; agricultural implements $140,000; fish $100,000; meat products $93,000; motor vehicles $91,000.

Showing the wide divergence of opinion on the merits of the agreement we quote as follows:

W. H. Rowley, president of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, says: "Reciprocity of any kind at present is a mistake, we were beguiled into the thing." Mr. Rowley's principal contention is that the time is not yet ripe for any reciprocal trade relations with the United States.

"London, January 28.—The scope of the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada came as a surprise to the British public. No one had expected so many changes to the free list or such important tariff reductions.

The Liberal government is favorable to the proposed measure. Several ministers point out that under the agreement we lose some advantages heretofore enjoyed under the American tariff, but that the government is gratified that the Liberal party in Canada is achieving some measure of its policy of give-and-take. At the offices of the Canadian High Commissioner here satisfaction was expressed. Tariff Reformers and Imperialists are not enthusiastic. The former consider the proposed measure demonstrates that while the United Kingdom remains a free trade country, Great Britain cannot compete with foreigners for the trade of its colonies.

The Times is impressed with the deep and enduring significance of the agreement. The United States has considerably sacrificed its historic attitude in regard to continental trade and Canada has so far modified her ancient fears as to meet the United States half way. The Times is not surprised that the agreement was well received in the Canadian parliament as the arrangements provide tangible benefits.

The Leader declares that the agreement is another Canadian free trade step, and denies that British trade will be unfairly prejudiced.

The Express, in an article, says that the more that it looks on the agreement the less it likes it. "All we retain is equality in treatment. We are no longer the most favored nation. It is a heavy blow to our trade with the Dominion.

Glasgow, Jan. 28.—The Glasgow Herald today says:—"It would be a good thing for Canada if all her food-stuffs and raw material could secure free entry into the American market.

The Pall Mall Gazette says:—"While we may deplore signs of Canadian absorption into a non-British confederacy we have no title to superimpose censure or regret

The Spectator says:—"It is only those who accept the fallacy that trade depends on political relations who urge the policy of linking the Empire by artificial bonds. If Canada gradually approaches something like free trade with the United States, all round, so much the better."

Sir William MacKenzie, interviewed regarding the reciprocity agreement, said: "I am dead against any such agreement and feel convinced that such a reciprocity agreement is antagonistic to the best interests of the Dominion.

HORTICULTURAL LECTURES.

Two Days' Course by Provincial Officers Given Here Last Week.

The series of lectures during Friday and Saturday of last week were fairly well attended.

The first lecture was delivered by Mr. C. C. Clark, who, in the course of his remarks on "Types of Soil in Relation to Practical Fruit Growing" emphasized the fact that the best results were often obtained in clover orchards, plowed under at regular intervals. He recommended a sowing of about 3 sacks to the acre, but not too close to the trees in a young orchard. Vetch and hairy vetch also were recommended as cover crops rich in nitrogen.

Mr. Middleton followed with a short discourse on pruning, and gave a practical demonstration on this vital part of the fruit growers' art in Mr. J. M. Robinson's orchard.

In the evening Mr. Ben Hoy spoke at length on "Orchard Pests." He said in dealing with any pest in the orchard the grower had to use a great deal of common sense and judgement. If any insects were in the orchard the first thing one did was to find out if they were of a harmful nature, and if so, the spraying must be carried out at once, and the insects eradicated. Spraying was a branch of fruit culture on which a great many were ignorant, some spraying was useless, and where one grower has overdone the thing, another has fallen short.

Mr. Carpenter followed with his lecture on "Sprays"—the most useful he found to be arsenate of lead for biting insects, blackleaf for sucking insects and lime and sulphur for fungus. He explained carefully the preparation of the various sprays, the cost of the same and the spray outfits, which he had found to be the most beneficial.

One of the most interesting of the lectures delivered in the course was that given by Mr. C. C. Clark on Saturday morning on "The Management of Orchard Soil in Relation to the Conservation of Moisture and Fertility." The lecturer introduced his subject with a talk on the irrigation problem, and, as many of the methods described and illustrated by him were similar to those practised in the older fruit growing sections of the United States, his remarks were followed with the keenest interest.

Speaking on the irrigation of rough and broken land he strongly advocated that steps should be taken to have all such land levelled up as much as possible before planting so as to effect the greatest economy in the labor of irrigating in after years. He gave several instances where it had been found to be imperative after planting such ground in its natural state, to have the trees taken out and the land levelled up and the trees re-planted.

Passing on to the irrigation of young orchards he maintained that it was quite unnecessary to give the trees more than one irrigation in the course of the first year. From one to two inches the first year, and from two to three for the second and third years was an ample supply of water for any orchard, provided of course the orchard was properly cultivated according to the latest and most approved methods of horticulture. Until the trees were six years old they did not, he stated, require so much water, and, from six to eight years old, from four to five acre inches was all they required—these figures being for a clean cultivated orchard. In the course of his remarks the speaker contended that it had been the practice to irrigate too late in the season, especially in the case of young orchards, which, he said, ought never to be irrigated after the first of August, to enable the trees to thoroughly mature before the winter season. To apply more water than was necessary was, he asserted, not only an unnecessary waste of water but if practised year after year continually would have the tendency to wash the plant food from the soil.

He strongly recommended that, as soon as possible in the early spring, whenever the condition of the soil permitted it, the ground should be thoroughly cultivated with the disc harrow, then ploughed and immediately harrowed down, so as to conserve the moisture in the soil as much as possible. By this means the trees would get a good start in the early spring, and make considerably more growth than if the soil were allowed to dry out until the commencement of the irrigation season. He admitted that a cover crop would interfere with this method, but pointed out that if the seed for the cover crop were sown early enough, and the cover crop ploughed under in the late fall it would afford as much protection for the trees as if ploughed under in the spring.

In reply to some questions regarding the time to irrigate he said that as a rule, one should be guided by the condition of the soil, and to judge of this it was only necessary to dig down and see how much moisture was already in the soil.

Regarding the various systems of irrigation he favored the furrow method, and in sections where the soil had a depth of four feet and over, he recommended that the furrows should be run from ten to twelve inches deep, and in shallower soils from three to four inches deep. He strongly advocated instead of the usual practice of irrigating close to, and only on each side of the tree, that furrows should be run all over the orchard at an equal distance of four feet apart, and that in soils up to a depth of four feet the water should run in the furrows until it had penetrated at least two and a half feet. By this system, combined with deep cultivation between the rows of the trees, the root system of the trees would be deepened and widened, thereby enabling the trees to make a greater growth.

Discussing the conservation of moisture by cultivating and maintaining a mulch on the surface soil, the lecturer advocated a clod mulch in preference to a dust mulch. He admitted it was a difficult matter to get a clod mulch where the soil was light, but maintained that this could be remedied by ploughing in cover crops to add humus to the soil, and, as was well known, the more humus in the soil the better condition it would be in to hold the moisture.

In reply to a question as to the cheapest form to add nitrogen to the soil, he recommended the application of barnyard manure or any good commercial brand of fertilizer, and also the growing of such legumes as hairy vetch and field peas.

Speaking of shade crops he advocated the growing of such green crops as red clover and field peas to assist in the coloring of the fruit, although he admitted that this was not so essential in this section where there is such an abundance of brilliant sunshine.

He also recommended inner cropping with such lines as tomatoes, potatoes and other vegetables, and in orchards of five years and over he thought it would pay to have a crop of red clover, in view of the high price of hay, irrigating for an acre and a half a foot of water for this crop.

In the afternoon Mr. Carpenter spoke upon "Plant Physiology" and Mr. Hoy took for his subject "Winter Injury" both of which lectures were listened to with marked attention.

The final lectures were given on Saturday by Mr. Middleton and Mr. Winslow. Mr. Middleton gave a lengthy discourse upon the selection of nursery stock. He urged upon the importance of only planting first grade trees, recommending one year trees on a two year root, as being the best. In spring, immediately after planting, he would recommend that all laterals be left, cutting just beyond the top bud within six inches of the trunk.

Mr. Winslow on "Economy in the Orchard" gave a very interesting talk, full of points figures and facts. He said that the Okanagan was, no doubt, one of the best fruit producing districts on the continent. But the orchard could not produce the best unless they had the best of attention, therefore the growers should be well versed in the fundamental principles of fruit growing. It was necessary that the best varieties only be planted and their cost of production should be worked out in an ordinary business manner, not only to ensure a living, but also to be able to strike a rock bottom basis on which to compete with the American growers.

The marketing of the fruit was as important as the growing of it, prices today were lower than they were a year or so ago.

Reviewing the whole fruit situation and taking into consideration the prices received last year and the conditions prevailing this year, Mr. Winslow felt sure that the grower would be compelled to grow inner crops between the trees to help pay expenses of working the orchard. On this matter he gave prices and much information regarding these crops, instancing Armstrong as being a place where they had big returns from the inner crops. It would be necessary to grow in large quantities so that the products could be shipped in carload lots.

The growers of B. C. were in a particularly favored position and if they found it hard to make ends meet the utmost economy should be exercised and the cost of production carefully gone into, as the experienced growers below the line are now competitive with us and are likely to be more so in the very near future.

This is a country of high freight rates, and the matter of finding a market for our fruit is just now beginning to be a question of some magnitude. Up to the present time almost, British Columbia has only produced enough fruit for its own consumption, but now this point is just beginning to be surpassed, and the growers have to look for an outside or foreign market.

So forcibly did Mr. Winslow impress market conditions upon his audience that he drove home the urgent need for strict economy in production. With a production just now beginning to exceed our home consumption, with high freight rates here, and with American fruit in competition with our own in the prairie provinces so that prices will go down rather than advance, the British Columbia grower needs to look to conditions at home, if he would have a fair margin between his cost of production and the price at which he must sell, which of course is his profit and upon which he must live, and especially as he has to wait four or five years before getting any returns from his land, he needs to see that his orchard is working up to its maximum when it is at a bearing stage.

Summing up, Mr. Winslow said that it is the same in fruit growing as in anything else, the man who does most work, and has the greatest energy benefits the most. A man has all sorts of chances to reduce his costs of production by means of small fruits, garden stuffs, cover crops, clover, rye, corn, etc., and with poultry as a side line. All these things take a vast amount of time and care, however, so that a man needs to be industrious. A man who works hard and long, both physically and mentally, need have no fear of making a good living.

Mr. Agur's son, Athol, we are pleased to report, has fully recovered from his attack of Scarlet Fever, and quarantine has been raised from their residence at Balcom.

The results of the basketball matches played last Tuesday between the College and Club snrs. and jnrs. resulted in a win for the former, jnr. 10-6, snr. 17-16. As there are pennants up for the members of the winning team, competition is going to be close.

Peachland Paragraphs.

Too Late for Last Week.

Mr. H. Westbrook, of England, is visiting his sister Mrs. A. J. C. Clarence.

The Baptists are holding evangelistic services this week. The meetings are being very well attended.

Mr. K. S. Hogg, of Summerland, was in town last week completing his work as auditor of the municipal books.

The new council took the "oath of office" last week, all but Reeve Garroway who is at present in Los Angeles. Mr. Douglas was chosen chairman in the Reeve's absence.

A number of the boys held a meeting Wednesday evening to arrange for a volunteer fire brigade. This is a step in the right direction and we hope to soon have a brigade ready to cope with any fire which may come our way.

Messrs. H. A. Lang, N. A. and Harry Pope left Monday morning to take part in the Vernon bonspiel. The fourth member failed to catch the boat. How the boys will manage with only three players is hard to say.

There was a fairly good turnout at the meeting of the local branch of the Farmers' Institute here Monday afternoon. Next Monday and Tuesday should be two very interesting and profitable days for the fruit growers of this place, as experts on soil, tree planting and pruning and spraying will be here to conduct meetings and give demonstrations on these and other subjects of interest to the fruit grower.

Sleighting parties, winding up with a jollification at the home of some of the party, are all the rage lately. The last one was on Wednesday evening and after a drive of an hour or more the crowd repaired to the home of Mrs. Seaton where a very jolly evening was spent.

Messrs. J. Sutherland, A. Agur, C. Fetherstonhaugh and M. Beavis composed the rink which represented Summerland at the curling bonspiel in Vernon last week. They report good games throughout, close contests and a very enjoyable week's sport. In the various events they came out very well, winning the Pat. Burns Cup (for 2nd time) and in the Grand Challenge they took second place.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the Jeanne Russell Company gave two excellent performances in the Mens' Club. The first show was "David Harum" and "Jesse James" was the other. Taken as a whole, the artistes of this company are away ahead of the vast majority of similar companies, and, given every convenience in stage, hall and dressing rooms, would we feel sure, deport themselves in a manner creditable to theatres in the large cities. Miss Jane Dorsey as Widow Cullum presented the difficult character of a feeble old lady to perfection. Miss Dorsey is one of a talented few it has been our pleasure to see, who thoroughly portrays this exceedingly difficult role, and at times on Tuesday, she worked the audience into a rare sympathetic mood. Most of the members of the caste were excellent, and Carl Caldwell, as David Harum, was splendid. We hope to see this splendid company in town very frequently in the coming season.

Whole No. 131

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL MEET.

The Council met on Monday last, February 6th., in the Municipal Building, West Summerland, at 9.30 a.m. There were present Deputy Reeve Thompson in the chair, and Councillors Lewes and Dunsdon.

After the routine business had been disposed of, the Clerk read two communications. The first, an application for work on the water line during the coming season, from W. Morrison, was referred to the Board of Control. The other, from Mr. Bentley, drawing attention to the bad condition of the roads leading to his property above Crescent Beach. Mr. Bentley also waited on the Council and explained in detail the defects he wished remedied. The Council finally decided to inspect personally and judge for themselves when the snow has gone.

Mr. R. S. Munro, of Peach Valley, waited on the Council in regard to irrigation conditions in his district. He explained that the acreage of cultivated land in that vicinity had of late been greatly increased, but complained that the irrigation facilities had not been increased correspondingly. Consequently, the present system of fluming, constructed some years ago, was now hopelessly inadequate. Peach Valley property owners, therefore, asked that their irrigation system be enlarged till it satisfy all the demands at present called for. The Council referred Mr. Munro to the Board of Control, but informed him that the Municipality were planning extensions to their irrigation system, and that the Consulting Engineer would advise them in the matter as soon as he was able to go over the ground.

The reports of the Board of Control and of the Municipal Auditor were laid on the table, but after a little discussion it was decided to leave the final consideration of these documents till a subsequent meeting.

Two by-laws were read, a first, second and third time. The first authorizes the assessment of improvements to property, for the purpose of raising the loan value of the assessment roll. Improvements, however, will still remain exempt from taxation. The second by-law gives authority to the Reeve and Clerk to raise a loan at the Bank of Montreal to the amount of $10,000, to meet current expenses, this sum to be repaid out of the 1911 taxes when collected.

Upon the report of the Clerk the Council decided to purchase a safe for the storage of municipal books and documents, at a cost of between $300 and $350. It will be installed in the Water and Light offices at West Summerland.

Verbal authority was given the Clerk to sign a contract agreement on behalf of the Municipality between the School Board and Contractor Harvey, covering the construction of the new school buildings.

Authority was granted the Board of Control to fence the 35 acres of municipal property surrounding the Balcombe Reservoir, and in addition, if found necessary, to fence also the ditch line.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid:

Irrigation, Light and Water Dept.	$121.40
do	28.50
C. P. Nelson	50.00
J. L. Logie	75.00
Wallace Wright	4.00
Vernon Hospital	150.00
W. H. Hayes	3.20
King's Printer	2.50
Agricultural Society	400.00
Poultry Association	150.00
Total	$984.60

The Council then adjourned till Monday, February 13, when they will convene at 9.30 a.m., at West Summerland.

CHAMBER CONCERT

A Good Audience in Attendance at the Musical Evening on Thursday Last under the Auspices of the Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary.

A few weeks ago, Mr. C. P. Nelson informed the ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary that he was prepared to organize a program, if they would place it under their auspices, and arrange for the sale of tickets. Having pleasant recollections of the last concert for which he was responsible, the ladies were pleased to accept, and on Thursday evening the arrangement culminated in a Chamber Concert in the College Gymnasium, about 250 being present.

Mr. Nelson had provided no mean fare, having procured the services of Mrs. S. E. Owen, of Sicamous, Mr. W. K. Chorlton, of Penticton, and Mr. R. B. Berks, of Vancouver. Mr. Berks as a solo pianist is too well known to a Summerland audience to require an introduction, but both Mrs. Owen and Mr. Chorlton were total strangers to us, but ere they left the hall, they had made many friends unknowingly amongst the musical coterie of Summerland.

The programme was as follows:—
1. Piano.—(a) Morceau en Forme D'Etude. Op. 22. Wollenhaupt.
(b) Prelude.—Agitato. Op. 28. Chopin.
(c) Les deux Alouettes. Leschetizky.
2. Violin.—Scene de Ballet. Op. 100. Ch. de Beriot.
3. Cello.—Meditation. Bach-Gounod.
4. Violin.—(a) Thais, Meditation.
(b) Morceau de Concert, Op. 33. M. P. Marsick.
5. Violin.—Faust. Op. 47. D'Alard.

7. 'Cello.—Characterstucke. Ignaz Lachner.
8. Violin.—(a) "Legende." Op. 17. H. Wieniawski.
(b) "Serenade." Franz Drdla.

All the selections were exceptionally well rendered, and encores were very much in evidence. Mrs. Owen is a very clever exponent of the violin—and with such a lovely toned instrument as that which she possesses, the pleasure of the listener is greatly intensified. Mr. Chorlton's selections on the cello gave great pleasure. He is a splendid player and the audience listened to his performances enraptured.

Mr. Berks, at the piano, we all know, and his name on the program ensures the audience that the instrument will be well attended to. In every way Thursday evening was well spent, and though the programme presented was of the severely classical type, the audience seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves, and many expressed regret that a trio had not been possible. However, at some future time, when we are again favored by these three artistes, this may be arranged, and we can assure them, that in Summerland they will ever receive a welcome.

PACKING SCHOOL.

The household effects of Mr. R. E. White of Saint John, N.B., were recently shipped to White. On Friday the 10th. (yesterday) a packing school was opened in the Council Chamber, which will continue for the next two weeks. Mr. Jack Lawler, whom everyone will remember was packing for Messrs Stirling and Pitcairn last season here, is in charge, and pupils should hustle and be in attendance for the whole course.

Mrs. W. J. Robinson will receive for the first time since her marriage on Friday, the 17th inst., and afterwards on the first Tuesday of each month.

On Friday the 17th inst. the regular meeting of the Women's Institute will be held in the Ladies Parlor of the Men's Club. The subject, 'First Aid,' will occupy the afternoon, and will be ably discoursed by two nurses. All are welcome.

Throughout British Columbia at the present time, where irrigation is necessary, there are petitions going around, asking the government to consider the advisability of taking over the whole of these systems and conserving the water in the province. Mr. C. H. Cordy has such an one in Summerland, and it is open for the signatures of all fruit growers and others interested.

Naramata Notes.

Peachland Paragraphs.

A number of our ladies enjoyed the pleasure of a sleigh drive to Penticton on Wednesday.

Mr. J. S. Aitkins and son, Mr. Carroll Aitkins, arrived from Winnipeg on Monday evening.

There was a large attendance at the last assembly of the Unity Club held at Mrs. Mulford's home

Reports of the entertainments of both Thursday and Friday of this week have been crowded out of this issue.

The protracted period of good sleighing is being taken advantage of by the boys coasting on the hills east of town.

Miss Edith Hayward of Penticton is spending a few weeks under the parental roof holidaying at Naramata.

It is probable that Mr. J. M. Robinson will return from his trip to Europe about the first week in March.

Mr. W. Miller of the Naramata Supply Company has disposed of his interest in the firm to Mr. Bartlett. It is Mr. Miller's present intention to remove shortly to California.

Mr. F. H. Rounds whose house was recently destroyed by fire, has decided to rebuild on the former site. Once the lumber is on the ground the work is to be rushed with expedition.

The household effects of Mr. R. E. White of Saint John, N.B., reached here recently. It is understood that Mr. White will shortly arrive to assume charge of development work at North Naramata.

The splendid success of the whist drive of last Thursday at Mrs. Gillespie's home in aid of the band has led Mrs. Fred Simpson to offer her home for a similar purpose at a near date.

The "Naramata" is at present undergoing extensive improvements. After having twelve feet added to its length it will then be thoroughly overhauled and put in first class shape ready for a heavy season's run.

Mrs. Boothe entertained the Married Folks' whist club on Tuesday evening. The next and concluding evening's play of these pleasure seekers will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wolstencroft on February 21st.

The Sigma Delta Club has gotten out a very neat and suggestive programme for their Valentine party to be held in the Opera House, on Tuesday evening next. The Young ladies are to be congratulated on their progressive spirit and it is expected that a large attendance will grace the floor on the occasion of this the first Valentine party in Naramata. Mrs. Boothe has consented to act as pianist for the evening.

A meeting of the ratepayers of the municipality is called for Saturday afternoon by the Council to hear the auditor's report for last year, and to discuss the same. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance.

Mr. T. Beavis has removed from Trout Creek to the house recently occupied by Jack Conway.

The plumbers shop has fitted, and Cliff is now situate in the fine new premises next the bakery.

The Ladies' W. C. T. U. will celebrate the Frances Willard Anniversary by arranging a good program on the 23rd. inst. Further particulars later.

It is intended to form a quadrille club at West Summerland, and with this in view, a meeting of all interested is called for Wednesday next at 8 p.m. sharp in the Central Schoolhouse. A large crowd is anticipated.

Sleighting this winter, as we all know, has been excellent and it is evident that many think it will continue a little longer, as new sleighs are quite the order of the day, and Messrs. Shields, Hatfield and Clarke have been quite busy building many of these handy and comfortable contrivances.

Sheldon is still a real live issue. It will be remembered that Sheldon was the get-rich-quick gentleman who fleeced the public of a good round sum and then made his escape to parts unknown. Sir Lomer Gouin, speaking in the House at Quebec the other day, practically admitted that the authorities were unable to locate him, and that although the detectives have been sleuthing him for weeks at the cost of some three thousand dollars, they had never brought in any results. A newspaper now makes the offer of a thousand dollars reward and all legitimate expenses to any newspaper reporter who will trace Sheldon and cause his capture for trial.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on

RESOLUTION AGAINST RECIPROCITY.

W. H. Hayward, member of the Provincial legislature for Cowichan, has introduced a resolution into the provincial parliament that is this week receiving the attention of the members. It is said that the resolution has received the endorsement of every member of the government, and will no doubt pass in the House.

The resolution reads: "Whereas a provisional agreement has been arrived at between Canada and the United States, having in view reduction in the tariff on certain commodities and the free exchange of others;

"And whereas, the proposed tariff re-adjustment will be highly detrimental to the agricultural interests by the flooding of the Canadian markets with American grown produce of all kinds;

"And whereas, the arrangement will enure to the disadvantage of B.C. in several important respects, without any compensating advantages in other respects;

Therefore, be it resolved that a respectful address be presented to his honor the Lieutenant Governor, praying that he will be pleased to move his excellency the Governor-general, to take into his serious consideration the effects of such proposed changes in the tariff, and that his honor be requested to telegraph the contents of this resolution to his excellency."

In support of his resolution, Mr. Hayward made a strong speech. Referring to the position of our fruit growers Mr. Hayward said:

"I wish to show why British Columbia cannot compete with fruit coming from the other side. From statistics gathered by the Department of Agriculture of this province, that the cost of labor, boxes, wrapping paper and transportation is about twenty five per cent higher on this side than on the American side. It is safe to say that we have in this province, an absolutely infant industry. It is true, we are creeping up year by year, but at the same time it is true that many of our orchards have hardly yet come into bearing, and our picking, packing and shipping arrangements are as yet in very crude shape. But on the other side you will find their orchards in full bearing and their machinery exceedingly well organized for packing, shipping and selling their fruit. Another fact is that in Washington and Oregon being to the south of us, their fruit ripens earlier than ours, and they are able to glut our markets when we are shipping our first fruit. It appears to me that what the late Captain Tatlow called 'the orchard of the empire, is likely to go down in history as a myth, because of the competition of the farmers to the south of the line."

The enormous inflow of capital to Canada from different parts of the globe, but particularly from the land of John Bull, shows no sign of cessation and with the development of our own great resources keeping on apace it looks as though the preachment of the Bull element ought not to be far wrong, even if it does appear a little over-enthusiastic to the moderate "man in the street."

HOCKEY.

Penticton versus Summerland.

On Friday evening last, at the skating rink, the above teams met. The rink was brilliantly lighted by acetylene gas, the crowd of 150 in a good humor, and the ice in splendid condition.

From the commencement Penticton had the game well in hand, and during the first half placed the puck through their opponents' goal five times. In the second half Summerland seemed to liven up a little, realizing what they were up against, with the result that each team scored one goal, leaving the game 6-1 in favor of Penticton.

The Summerland team were out of practice, but even though one could excuse this, the play of point, and to some extent that of right wing, was weak, very weak indeed, and the team would be considerably strengthened by a change in these positions. Rover had to play defence by far too much, and had not goalie played such a splendid game, the score would easily have been doubled in favor of Penticton.

If one (or more) of the Summerland team would realize that hockey does not require any ornamental display, the game, from the spectators' point of view, would be much more interesting, and the final score more satisfactory.

OUR FRUIT CANNING POSSIBILITIES.

While visiting the Okanagan Valley last week Mr. R.M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist, repeatedly drew attention to the great possibilities offering in the Okanagan for fruit and vegetable growing.

Attention was also drawn by Mr. Winslow to the splendid opportunities for fruit canning companies to operate in the Okanagan Valley. The Valley could have marketed at a good price fifty carloads of canned fruit in British Columbia and not one carload was shipped. The cannery business required careful management and practical knowledge, and it was the lack of these qualities in their administration which had caused so many concerns to go to the wall.

Mr. Winslow emphasized the urgent necessity of the Okanagan fruit growers sending vigorous protests to Ottawa against the reciprocity arrangements with the United States.

When Sir Edward Grey stated at the Royal Horticultural Show in London that there must be a lot of sunshine in Canada to produce such a color in fruit he unconsciously gave a new name to Canadian apples. "Concentrated Sunshine," is the name applied to British Columbia fruit now being exhibited in London and the title has found its way into Covent Garden where "Concentrated Sunshine" means Canadian and particularly Okanagan apples. This may seem a little thing but it is likely to remove the false impression held over there as to the icy blasts of "Our Lady of the Snows," and to prove a trade mark more valuable than any protected by the trade marks act.

THE BRIXTON BURGLARY BY THE SUMMERLAND PLAYERS.

The Brixton Burglary, presented by the Summerland Amateur Dramatic Society, on Thursday night in Stewart's hall was well worth the price of admission.

The farce was splendidly staged and reflected great credit on the Summerland players, who must have taken a great deal of trouble and time in preparation to render the play as they did.

This was made doubly difficult by the extraordinary small house who witnessed the performance, only some twenty-seven people being present. This seems to be a common failing of Penticton audiences, that they practically ignore local people who take a great deal of pains to give them a good clean show while outside companies, whose only merits sometimes are unlimited assurance, are accorded a full house.

Mr. Tremlett Knox, as Septimus Pontifex was the personification of a distracted husband.

Mrs. C. Fetherstonhaugh as Alicia Green differed considerably from the popular conception of a mother-in-law and one could see that this was not her first appearance in such a role. Mr. Chas. H. Cordy, who, as Fraser Green, enacted the part of the father-in-law was an actor of ability, and exhibited a masterly style throughout the entire performance. Miss M. Sutherland, as Petunia Perkins, the house-maid, charmed and delighted the audience with her interpretation of the part and her every appearance on the stage was greeted with applause.

Other characters were:—

Millicent Pontifex, Miss Evelyn Higgin; Jessica Green, Miss Higgin; Richard Diggle, Mr. H. Vivian Acland; James (manservant,) Mr. H. Jervoise Collas; Inspector Sharples, Mr. H. Reynolds; K 10001, Mr. T. Collins.—Penticton Herald.

It is the intention of the society to produce the above play in Summerland at an early date. Full particulars next week.

At a meeting of the Saint Catherines, Ontario, Council last week, $500 was voted toward the expenses of the big delegation of fruit growers which will wait upon the Dominion Government next week, to protest against the removal of the duty on fruits. The grant was opposed by members from portions of the country where little fruit is grown, while others held that it was not the duty of the Council to assist private enterprises. The argument that the fruit industry benefitted the whole country, and that it would be ruined by reciprocity finally prevailed.

SOBER SECOND THOUGHTS.

When the people of Canada have overcome the scare many have apparently been driven into in connection with the reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada, we believe that the general opinion will be that the agreement is one of the greatest achievements of statesmanship to be recorded in the Laurier regime, in fact, something too good to come to pass, for the American Senate will hardly pass it. This may sound strange coming from a newspaper essentially Conservative in its politics, particularly in view of the fact that many of our politicians see in the agreement much out of which to make political capital.

In matters so great as this, where the interests of the whole dominion are at stake, and Canada is getting that for which the Dominion has worked hard since 1865, we believe the matter of politics should be laid aside and the question studied soberly so as to be fully understood.

Going back to 1854, a treaty of reciprocity in natural products was entered into between the United States and Canada. This was the result, largely, of the personal work and influence of Lord Elgin, then Governor-General of Canada. This treaty proved of great value to both countries and under it Canada revived in a marked degree. That treaty covered the navigation of the St. Lawrence, the fisheries question, and provided for mutual free trade between Canada and the United States in the products of the two countries. For six years the Elgin treaty worked particularly advantageously to Canada. Then the strained relations between England and the United States over the Alabama claims, brought on the question on the part of the United States of the abrogation of that treaty. For five years more it was continued, then in 1865 the American Senate cancelled the agreement.

Since that time numerous efforts have been made to renew the reciprocity trade relations between the two countries. In 1866 a Canadian delegation went to Washington to negotiate a treaty; in 1869, Sir John Rose made the effort; in 1873 George Brown and Sir Edward Thornton repeated the effort, and in 1890-92 Hon. Robert Bond did likewise, with no result.

While these prominent Canadians were making the effort on the part of Canada, various bills and resolutions for reciprocity with Canada were tabled or voted down in Congress from time to time. After this came the "Joint High Commission," which was to settle all points of difference between the two countries, including reciprocity.

From this brief history of reciprocity and reciprocity negotiations, covering half a century or more, it will be seen that Canada is now getting something our statesmen, at least, have believed all along the Dominion was in need of, and, whether we can all agree as to what should and should not be placed on the free list, we must recognize this, that reciprocity is something our greatest statesmen have fought hard to bring about.

OUR FRUIT HAS NOTHING TO FEAR.

Without wishing to disparage the argument sincerely made by many against the removal of the duty on fresh fruit and vegetables to and from the United States, as provided in the proposed reciprocity agreement, we object to the underlying thought which bottoms all such argument, that Canadian fruit growers are not able to compete with the American fruit growers in the matter of picking, packing and selling their fruit.

British Columbia fruit, such as peaches, pears and apples,—particularly apples,—could be sold at the highest price in the best markets in America alongside of the best fruit from California, Colorado Washington and Oregon. We have seen Colorado Jonathans push the California Belleflower off the market at Los Angeles, the greatest fruit centre in the world. And, under reciprocity, British Columbia fruit growers could ship apples to such centres as this and find a market already built up. For our fruit growers have nothing to fear in competition with the fruit from any of the American districts.

Speaker Cannon, of the American House, spoke significantly at a banquet of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers a few evenings ago.

"We have lately had sent to Congress a commercial agreement in name, but a treaty in reality, but one that goes primarily to the House. In a month's time we shall be called upon to enact it as law. I do not know what we are going to do with it. Ask the fruit growers of California what they are going to do when Canadian fruits are free. What answer are we going to give one third of the population of the country—the farmers?"

And are we to fear the American apple on our markets when our fruit is so much superior? If our fruit growers could produce the quantity, the product from the other side would not stand any chance here, for our fruit would command the market. Until we do produce the quantity the present tariff or any other tariff is but a superficial remedy.

:: Naramata Notes ::

(Too late for last week's issue.)

We note with interest that Percy S. Hook, our talented musical friend, has opened a studio for pianoforte teaching in Calgary. In training and ability Percy is in every way well fitted to fill his place in the musical world, and we wish him every success.

The dwelling house belonging to Mr. F. H. Rounds with its entire contents was destroyed by fire last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Rounds and her mother, Mrs. Campbell narrowly escaped with their lives. Mrs. Campbell, though severely burned about the head and face, is already in fair way toward recovery. There was no insurance and the loss includes a fine piano and a violin and one of the new instruments belonging to the band.

The band boys held their first practice on Tuesday evening at Mr. Mulford's.

Mesdames Gillespie and Wells held a card party on Thursday of this week at the home of the former, in aid of the band, an organization which bids fair to become the most popular organization in town. It is probable that other ladies in town will follow suit, and thus maintain the spirit of enthusiasm created for the support of first class music.

In an announcement in last week's Naramata Notes, concerning Messrs. Niblock and Endacott, these gentlemen disclaim most emphatically having had anything to do with the resignation of the gentleman mentioned.

BORN.—To Mr. and Mrs. G. Brodie, at Naramata, on Monday January 30th., a son.

A practical pruning demonstration was conducted here on Wednesday by Mr. Ben Hoy. The work was spread over several orchards, and was witnessed by practically every resident fruit grower in town. The lecture announced for the evening was called off on account of the non-arrival of the boat, and consequently of the lecturer.

The Valentine Party by the young ladies on the 14th inst, is likely to prove one of the most attractive social evenings of the month.

MARTIN BURRELL, M.P. ON RECIPROCITY AND THE FRUIT INDUSTRY.

Ottawa,
January 31st., 1911.

The Editor,
Summerland Review,
Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir:

The abolition of the fruit duties comes to us all as the most startling and painful feature of the Reciprocity proposals recently laid before the House by Mr. Fielding.

I cannot believe that the Government is unaware of the immense importance of this industry in Canada, or that the ministers did not know that very serious injury must result by the removal of the duties on U. S. fruit, for these things have been pointed out to them on many occasions. I am therefore driven to the conclusion that free fruit was insisted on by President Taft as a quid pro quo for certain other concessions wanted by Canada. That such a step was absolutely unjustifiable goes without saying, and the greatest indignation has been aroused through the large fruit growing districts of Ontario, where the blow will be a serious one.

It is possible that there may be an attempt made to justify the step on the ground that, while the industry in the far West is hurt, that of the Maritime provinces is greatly benefitted. Such, however, is not the case. For early apples and berries Nova Scotia may obtain slightly better prices in the New England States but I have received a telegram this morning from an authoritative source stating that the abolition of the duties is a matter of great indifference to the great apple industry of Nova Scotia as their markets are altogether in England. In New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island the fruit industry, though a growing one, is not so extensive. Quebec does not grow sufficiently to count in the export market. There remain Ontario and our province, and in both cases, especially our own, the disastrous effect of the proposals is at once apparent. It is evident from the references in Mr. Taft's message that a free market in Canada was coveted by both the Southern and Pacific Coast States, and I cannot believe that when the true facts are known that so grievous an injustice to a national industry will be allowed to disfigure our fiscal policy.

Ontario growers are organizing a very large delegation to come to Ottawa and protest against the removal of the duties, and I have been asked to suggest to British Columbia the advisability of taking a similar course. I might point out however, that the Minister of Finance has explicitly stated that the scheme must go through in its entirety, and there is not the slightest possibility of remedying the matter at the present stage. As far as the Dominion Government is concerned the proposal will undoubtedly pass intact through this Parliament. Some action, however, either by delegation or otherwise, will show to the government the unanimous feeling of British Columbia fruit growers as to this great injustice, is highly desirable.

It is not necessary for me to say that, having the honor to represent a constituency in which fruit growing plays so enormously an important part, and also from the fact that all my personal interests are wrapped up in the fruit industry, I shall take every possible step to impress the House and the Government with the baneful and injurious effects which must necessarily flow from such a step as the one proposed.

It is not likely that the measure will pass through Parliament for two or three weeks, and what action Congress may take is a matter of guess work. Should the arrangement be ratified by Congress and the U. S. Senate, (which is extremely doubtful) it is open either to Congress, or to our own Parliament, to alter any specific feature of the proposals which may seem to work disastrously for either country. It is probable that some such feature will be amended by the Congress next year, and in any case the overwhelming representations of Canadian growers should make it obligatory on our own Government to amend the evil in connection with our own industry.

I shall welcome any suggestions from the growers of Yale-Cariboo and British Columbia, and beg to assure my own constituents that I shall exert every effort on their behalf both now and at all future times.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
Yours very truly,
MARTIN BURRELL.

PACKING SCHOOL FOR PEACHLAND.

Department of Agriculture,
Victoria, B.C. 2nd. February, 1911.
The Editor, Summerland Review,
Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir,

I have pleasure in advising you that the Department of Agriculture has been able to arrange for a packing school to be held at Peachland, with a maximum of 16 pupils, commencing February 28th., and terminating March 6th.

Mr. Zerener, whose experience as a packer has commended him to the Department, will be in charge. The Peachland Board of Trade has kindly arranged the matter of local accommodation. I trust that the liberal offer made by the department for packing schools will be taken full advantage of by the people of the Peachland district.

I hope before long to be able to arrange a date for a double packing school at Summerland with a maximum of 32 pupils. I have the honor to be,

Yours respectfully,
R. M. WINSLOW,
Provincial Horticulturist.

On Wednesday last, Mary Isabel, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Garnett passed away to her eternal home. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved parents.

CO-OPERATION THE SEQUEL OF SUCCESS.

It has been repeatedly said the farmers, as a class, are the most difficult to combine co-operatively, and, if the matter were to be decided by the experience of certain sections not a thousand miles away from the Okanagan, we should have to agree with this statement. However, the Bureau of Statistics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, estimates that there are 85,000 different farmers' co-operative organizations in that country alone, with a membership of 3,000,000 farmers.

There is in fact scarcely a branch of agricultural interests into which co-operative associations have not already penetrated.

Industrial co-operation seems to be particularly marked in certain regions. Thus we see co-operative fruit growing in the west, vegetable raising in the middle States; milk in New England; and wheat in the Northwest.

It is said this localization of co-operation is not because of local conditions or that it is impracticable in other sections, but largely because it is untried, or if tried failed because of bad management or lack of co-operative loyalty by the members.

And strange as it may seem, it is a fact that co-operation has proved most profitable among the more quickly perishable products. The success has been more marked with fruit than with wheat, with vegetables than with live stock. It need not be inferred that co-operation cannot be as effective with one as with the other, but merely that it is more easily successful when the section is small and when competition is eliminated because of distances and times.

The chief aim of most co-operative societies in the marketing of their product has been to cut out the middleman, but they are now discovering that in eliminating one middleman they must substitute another—one of their own—as it has been found impossible to market their product without the aid of a skilled salesman.

Perhaps the greatest success of co-operation has been in the buying of commodities for the use of the farmer. Fertilizers, seeds, coal, feed, flour, etc., are sold at cost to members by the organization, which is able to buy in large lots.

The fruit and vegetable marketing associations have been most successful where they were able to control a large part of the output.

Sections which were able to market strawberries, for instance, by the carload, were able to raise the price two or more cents per quart, by sending their berries to points which could keep the demand up to the supply and so prevent glutting the market.

JOHN BULL WITHOUT BRAINS.

Listen to what Louis Wayne says in "John Bull," an English publication with a venomous tongue: "Western Canada is no place for the gentlewoman. The woman population is composed largely of half castes of a degenerate type. Often redeemed women who have been sent out by rescue societies fall back to a worse state than that from which they were drawn and the lowest class of domestic servant, if she is at all good looking soon falls. The men of the west are a poverty stricken class, utterly incapable of helping themselves, and if they survive one winter, travel to a charitable home to await the coming of another winter which will relieve them of their sufferings. The thermometer goes down to fifty below and stays there. The utter impossibility of living is obvious."

Wouldn't you like to tap Wayne on the head with a tack hammer?

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. W. Fosbery left on Thursday morning for Vancouver, at which city they intend to reside in the future.

NEWS FROM THE EAST.

(From our own correspondent.)

Montreal, Feb. 6.—The industrial and commercial world has had ample time to digest the reciprocity announcement, and it is now much easier to get a clear and concise view from those vitally interested in the way the affairs of the country are shaping, than it was directly the agreement had been made known. Much to the surprise of many, Montreal, the centre of manufacturing in the Dominion, is not so heavily hit as might have been expected.

The millers are angry, at least most of them are, and are preparing for battle. They declare that the proposed facilities for shipping Canadian wheat to American mills will have a detrimental effect on the milling industry which will result in substantial loss to the Dominion.

The fish trade is delighted with the prospect of the free handling of fish between this country and the United States, which, it is declared, will be a boon both to the consumers and fishermen alike.

The asbestos interests, who were as apprehensive as anybody because Canada turns out over eighty per cent of the asbestos of the world, are breathing sighs of relief.

Although opinions differ amongst the lumber men, the feeling seems to be that Canada is not giving away anything that will hurt her although fear is expressed that Americans may build so many mills on this side of the border that over-production will result.

Local manufacturers are not affected to any great extent, although it is said that if the bounties on steel rods are withdrawn on account of reciprocity or any other account, the results will be disastrous to the trade.

The confidence of Europe in Canada's growth, her natural resources, her developments and her activities in many spheres, is becoming stronger every day, and it is likely that this spring the influx of foreign capital, of foreign investors and of foreign settlers to this country will surpass all records. Montreal capitalists are justly proud of this reputation, and are very anxious to have it kept spotless. To this end, a group of well-known business men have put a plan into operation which, with the co-operation of the people, should prove of immense advantage to the country in continuing to obtain the capital required to finance new industries and new undertakings. Briefly, it is to be a Statistical Bureau, operated by Corporation Agencies, Limited, whose duty it will be to collect accurate information concerning all financial institutions. In this way a man who has money to invest, but who does not personally have the knowledge necessary to discriminate, may get all the expert information he requires before parting with his money. It is a safety valve on promoters and will keep Canada's name clean.

TO IMPORTERS OF NURSERY STOCK.

Vancouver, B.C.,
30th January, 1911.

The Editor,

"The Summerland Review,"
Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir,

I would take the liberty of requesting you to grant me the use of your valuable columns to direct the attention of all importers of nursery stock to section 4 of the Horticultural Regulations, which provides that certified invoices of all shipments of nursery stock, trees and plants, must be furnished to the Inspector of Fruit Pests, at Vancouver, at the time when such shipments are delivered for inspection.

The reason for this is that when a case of goods arrives, we know by the invoice what it should contain, and are prepared to check the contents over with the invoice. This greatly expedites the business of inspection and enables us to deal promptly with all importations.

It is clearly in the interests of the importer that we should be able to detect any mistakes that may have been in shipping the goods. All this was carefully considered when the Horticultural Rules were adopted, but unfortunately many of the importers neglect to comply with this regulation.

I would therefore urge that a general observance of this be adopted.

Our staff will be doubled this year so that whatever delays may have occurred in the past may be avoided in the future, if the importers comply with the regulations above referred to.

INTERESTED IN CANADA.

"It is almost impossible now-a-days," says an Old Country writer, "to pick up a newspaper or magazine and not find something worth reading concerning Canada and British Columbia in particular. Never before in the history of the Dominion has so much attention been given in the press of the British Isles to Canadian affairs. A feature of this attention is the general tendency to describe things as they exist, and highly colored and imaginative articles are now taboo.

The wonderful development of British Columbia, the strides railways are making in the West and the general prosperity come in for many comments, and now that settlers from the British Isles are being shown more consideration at the hands of the authorities the Dominion may bank upon receiving, during the coming spring, thousands of desirable persons, the majority of whom have means, and who intend to throw in their lot with the Land of Promise. Canada has now a formidable rival, as Australia is making a bold bid for more settlers. All manner of inducements are being held out and a leaf has been taken out of Canada's book, by the appointment of a high commissioner, who never loses an opportunity to place before the public facts and figures of interest. However, Canada has the start—a long lead—and she has only to be true to herself and the people of the old land to still attract the cream of those seeking new homes.

Thanking you for your assistance,
I am, Yours faithfully,
THOMAS CUNNINGHAM,
Inspector of Fruit Pests.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL MEET.

On Monday last there was a special meeting of the Council held in the Municipal offices at West Summerland. Present: Acting Reeve C. J. Thompson, Councillors J. R. Brown, H. S. Lewes, and H. Dunsdon.

Notice was received from the Vernon Hospital to the effect that Alex Doull, who at one time resided in the Trout Creek district, had died on the 31st. of January, 1911, having been there since October 21st., 1910.

The Auditor's report was received and discussed clause by clause. The Council not being quite clear on the matter, requested the presence of Mr. Nelson, the auditor, who explained his report in full.

Dr. Smith, Medical Officer of Health, waited upon the Council reporting on the condition of Prairie Creek, and proposing the removal of the wooden tanks near the Mountain House, and the clearing out of the stream near its source. He also condemned two piggeries and a slaughter house, as not being in accordance with the health bylaws.

The bylaw re the assessment was finally approved by the Council. The bylaw re the Bank loan on the 1911 assessment for the sum of $10,000 was also finally approved and passed.

A deputation from the Gartrell district waited upon the Council in respect to the irrigation system at that point. It seemed that the deputation were not at all willing to concede certain privileges which they allege, they control, and if they have the first water right on the creek, they may be within their rights in taking that stand; but the Council pointed out that they would all have to sign an agreement like unto that signed throughout the municipality, as in the distribution of the water, it was not possible nor yet by any means right to discriminate and when they had all signed the agreement, then the Council would take over their system.

Mr. D. H. Watson asked that a grant be made to the Board of Trade for advertising, etc. and $400 was voted for this purpose.

The following accounts were passed and authorized to be paid:—

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION MEET.

Elects Officers and Passes Strong Resolution Against Reciprocity.

At the well attended annual meeting of the Liberal Conservative Association of Summerland, held at the Central Schoolhouse on the 6th. inst., Mr. Hector Sutherland was again elected President, Mr. R. H. Agur first Vice-President, and Mr. C. H. Cordy Secretary. A strong executive was also elected.

Mr. Fosbery, who has been Secretary of the Association continuously for the past seven years, tendered his resignation, stating that he was leaving for the coast. His resignation was accepted with regret, and a resolution, expressing the regret of the Association at losing Mr. Fosbery's services, and thanking him for the constant care he had given to the work, was passed with acclamation.

Amongst other important business, the following resolution was passed. Copies of this resolution have been forwarded to Martin Burrell, M.P., and others interested.

"WHEREAS a provisional agreement has been arrived at between the governments of Canada and the United States, having in view reductions in the tariff on certain commodities and the free exchange of others including fruit:

WHEREAS such an agreement, to be equitable, should be reciprocal in the advantages it affords for doing business, and adding to the prosperity of the parties thereto:

WHEREAS the staple production of the Okanagan Valley is fruit of a quality equal to, or superior to that grown in the United States:

WHEREAS the markets therefor are principally in the provinces of the middle west and the coast cities:

WHEREAS the existing transportation facilities are such as to give the fruit growers of the Okanagan and the north-western States access to the said markets, but no facilities exist whereby the fruit growers of the Okanagan can avail themselves of the markets in the United States, particularly referring to perishable fruits such as peaches which grow in the Okanagan to great perfection:

WHEREAS owing to the difference in latitude the fruit of the north-western States ripens earlier than in the Okanagan, the fruit products of the Okanagan will, if the free entry of American fruit is permitted, reach the market when it is in a glutted condition:

WHEREAS the cost of labor, wrapping paper and transportation is about twenty-five per cent. higher in the Okanagan than is paid by the American growers:

WHEREAS the American orchards are in full bearing, with picking, packing and shipping in a highly organized state, while in the Okanagan, fruit growing is practically an infant industry, although several million dollars have been invested in irrigation systems, and the planting and care of orchards, and wonderful progress has been made while looking forward to a continuation of the staple conditions which have prevailed in the past:

WHEREAS under the conditions cited, which will undoubtedly prevail if the proposed agreement becomes law the people of the Okanagan will not gain increased facilities for carrying on their business, but will have to compete in a restricted market with competitors having the advantages herein detailed:

AND WHEREAS the proposed agreement will tend to disturb the trade relations with Great Britain and to retard progress in the effort to obtain a preferential tariff, and generally closer commercial relations with our mother country, which latter will tend to bind the various parts of the Empire more closely together:

BE IT RESOLVED THAT in the opinion of this Association, the proposed agreement is unfair as it places a foreign competitor in a more favorable position in a Canadian market than Canadian producers, although upon the prosperity of the latter the existence and development of Canada primarily depend, and because it places an uncalled for obstacle to the effort to obtain the consolidation of the Empire."

Several things have occurred within the past few months to give additional strength to Canadian credit abroad, and nothing could have been finer in that respect than the recent demonstration of the wonderful earning capacity of the Canadian Pacific Railway as shown by the decision of the directors recently to place the stock on a ten per cent. dividend basis.

The Government Library is still incomplete. Would members having books out kindly return them, as a new library cannot be had until the present one is complete.

PROVINCIAL ESTIMATES.

Victoria, B.C., February 13.—The estimates presented to the legislature during the just closed week show that in the financial apportionments of the British Columbia Governments for the coming year, the necessities of the great Okanagan district have obtained full recognition, strictly local votes aggregating almost a quarter of a million having been included in Finance Minister Ellison's provisions for the ensuing twelve months. A considerable portion of this very large sum is necessarily hidden in the large general votes for education (provincial contributions to city and rural schools not being specified), hospitals, government service, administration of justice, etc. Aside from these altogether, however, the general Okanagan vote for roads, streets, bridges, and wharves has been increased from $120,000 to $156,000, and now takes place as the second largest in the province, only exceeded by Skeena, (including Prince Rupert and Stewart). The supplementaries also include a general Okanagan vote of $19,000, augmenting the $120,000 voted last session. In addition, the Okanagan will share in the general appropriation of $600,000 for bridges, and $75,000 is specially provided for the new courthouse at Vernon. There is also provided $2,928 for provincial police service in the Okanagan district with a chief constable stationed at Vernon and officers at Enderby and Kelowna. The hospital for the insane at Vernon is granted $6,500; the Kelowna ferry, $1,000; the Government agency at Vernon, $6,012; and that at Princeton, $13,680. In the hospitals and charities vote is included $300 for a resident physician at Princeton, while new assisted schools are provided for at Hidden Lake, Richland and East Kelowna. Provincial teachers salaries generally are increased from $2.50 to $10.00 per month, according to the success demonstrated by the school reports and pass lists.

Roughly speaking an increase in revenue of about fourteen per cent is anticipated for the ensuing twelvemonths in the estimates for the fiscal year ending 31st March, 1912, the prospective receipts from all sources being placed at $8,192,101.06 as compared with $7,000,026.66 for 1910—11.

As plainly fore-indicated, the intention is to expend this revenue and a considerable portion as well of the handsome surplus with which the province finds itself blessed, in reproductive public works necessary to enable the machinery of government and facilities in education, transportation, etc., to keep pace with the growth and general progressive movement of the province, the House being asked this session to provide in both main and supplementary votes, a total of $12,103,597.19 as against $9,019,559.57 constituting the total of last years' vote. In connection with the apparent disproportion between estimated revenue and estimated expenditure two significant facts must always obtain consideration—that the disposition of the present government is always toward safe conservatism in estimates of prospective contributions to the Treasury, and there remained in hand at the close of last year a surplus of no less than $2,224,747.18, the actual revenue during the last year having exceeded the estimates by upwards of thirteen per cent, while actual expenditures were two million dollars—$2,369,564.81 to be exact—within the provisions made in the money votes of last session's supply.

:: Naramata Notes ::

Mr. F. H. Rounds has had his new house rushed up with truly western expedition. The foundation was laid on Saturday and on Wednesday the last nail was driven in the roof. The family will probably move in early next week.

Miss Lina Duthie, a talented singer, gave us an evening in Scotland and Ireland last Thursday week. The audience though not large showed their appreciation in a manner very complimentary to Miss Duthie. Miss Margaret Daniel ably accompanied on the piano.

At a recent gathering of growers of this district called to discuss the proposal in the reciprocity agreement to place fruit on the free list, a strong resolution was passed against the proposed changes, and a copy forwarded to the secretary of the Fruit Growers' Association in Vernon. At this gathering the idea of organizing a local Board of Trade met with the approval of all, and the initial steps were then and there decided upon. Another meeting will be held in two weeks' time.

The young men in the camp back of town entertained their friends at a ball at the Opera House last Friday evening. The tone of the evening's entertainment was of a high order. The music was furnished by Messrs Dennison and McKay, violinists of Penticton, supported by Mrs. T. H. Boothe at the piano. Toward the close, a vote of thanks proposed by Mr. Gillespie was extended in right royal fashion to Foreman Miller and his able assistants for the excellent entertainment, special mention being made of the superb luncheon put up by these bachelors.

The Valentine party given by the "Girls' club on Tuesday evening, as predicted by the "wise ones," proved up in fine style. Many friends from Summerland and elsewhere helped to swell the numbers. Unique programmes the artistic decorations, the excellent quality of the music to say nothing of the unusually tasty luncheon—consisting of fruit punch and wafers—all combined to make this by long odds the finest event conducted here for some time. During the intermission the Naramata Band by special arrangement put on two numbers, and local singers, Miss Vera Palmer, and Messrs. Hill, Steers and Brown sang most acceptably. A piano duet by Misses Wells and Williams was well received. Mrs. T. H. Boothe at the piano accompanied by R. L. Boothe with drum and trappings received many compliments for the sympathetic rendering of the various numbers.

NEWS FROM THE EAST.

Montreal, Feb. 13.—The immigration rush to Canada for 1911 is on. The advance guard from England will arrive some time this week. Scouts have already put in an appearance to look over the ground. The Grand Trunk, the C.P.R., and the Canadian Northern have all carried on an unprecedented campaign this winter to secure immigrants in Great Britain for their respective territories in Canada, and this is already showing its effect in the tremendous rush of bookings for all boats coming to Canada this spring. The starting of the rush of immigrants the first week in February is eloquent of the popular feeling in England for Canada as a land of opportunities, for the immigration agents discourage as much as possible the coming of new settlers to this country before March.

Shipping interests in Montreal, both ocean going and inland navigation, are very much upset just now for two reasons, and, if one may judge from casual observation, their alarm is just, for the causes of their worry are of national importance. One is the attempt of the Aluminium Company of America, a subsidiary company of the Standard Oil, to obtain permission to dam the Long Sault rapids near Cornwall. Permission in the shape of the passing of what is known as the Maltby bill through the Harbour and Rivers committee of Congress has already been obtained in the United States, and it is understood that any amount of lobbying is being carried on at Ottawa to prevent any move on the part of Canada's parliament which would delay the scheme. Shipping interests contend that if the dam were built the St. Lawrence would be ruined as a navigable waterway from the head of the lakes to the sea. There is one consolation, however. Sir Wilfred Laurier has promised that before the Government would agree to the damming of the St. Lawrence from shore to shore there would be a full investigation of the project. Then there is another proposition on the tapis which also affects the St. Lawrence, and which, so far, has been kept mighty quiet by those who are anxious to have the work done. It is the building of a dam on Lake St. Francis which will give a larger flow of water into the Beauharnois power canal. The Canadian Light and Power interests who have the water rights at Beauharnois have found that they require more water. The navigation interests claim that if the plan they have in view is carried out, the water in Lake St. Francis, the Lachine rapids, and even further down the river, will be lowered by at least twelve inches. This project will also be investigated by the Government before any further work is allowed. As may be seen both are of great interest to the whole of the Dominion, as anything which may affect the St. Lawrence route will affect practically every city, town and village in the Dominion in one way or another.

has caused no end of talk, especially in military circles. It has also recalled the fact that Canada, with the exception of her Corps of Guides, has no secret service of any account. The Dominion Police, of course, in times of peace, do all the Government sleuthing, but they are not numerically strong enough nor have they the time or the proper training to obtain military intelligence. It is interesting to note that, in 1907-08, officers of the Corps of Guides received instructions from headquarters at Ottawa to keep their eyes open for Germans who might be nosing around trying to get information about the Dominion. As far as can be recalled only one man was under suspicion and he turned out to be a travelling agent for a patent electrical lamp.

Clergymen from all over the country turned toward Montreal this week when the annual meeting of the diocese opened its fifty-second session. In the routine of business which was discussed there is one of particular importance to all churches of the English faith, although if carried out, it will be somewhat of a blow to the business community. It is a motion presented to the synod by Mr. J. M. Fisk suggesting that the church undertake its own fire insurance. The motion reads: "That this synod, recognizing the advantage that would accrue to the various parishes of the Church of England in Canada, by forming a mutual fire insurance union, to co-operate in carrying the risk on all church property, such as cathedrals, churches, rectories, parsonages and their out buildings, colleges, church schools, halls, etc., throughout the Dominion of Canada (or such dioceses as may desire such union) recommend and authorizes it delegates to the General Synod to bring the subject before that body at their next meeting, with a view of forming such a union."

TUESDAY'S CARNIVAL.

Saint Valentine's—this festival was recognized in Summerland by a splendid carnival at the rink. A big crowd travelled up the hill, and it was well worth while—the ice was in splendid condition, the costumes many and varied, and the assembled skaters in a good sporting holiday humor. There was keen competition in some of the classes, and the judges finally decided on the following list as winners:—

First Ladies' Helen Phinney (Indian Maid.)
Second do. Miss Bateman (Cowboy Girl).
First Gents' Mr. Merrill (Little Lord Fontleroy). Second do. Mr. Fader (Hobo.)
First Girls' Gertrude Angwin (Fairy).
Second do. Kathleen Elliott (Flower Girl.)
First Boys' Rich Estabrooke (Witch.)
Second do. Roscoe McWilliams (Chinaman.)
Comic First S. Sharp (Uncle Sam.) Second Miss C. Simpson (Come to Summerland for sunlight.)

The gramophone helped out, and "skating to music" was a treat out of the ordinary. No one attempted to waltz nor yet to give a highland fling on the ice, but a few tried to keep time in the number of falls they had. The music, however, was too quick for them, and the ice too hard, and they retired, for a rest but not by any means defeated.

WHERE THE BLAME LIES.

The proposed reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada was denounced in unmeasured terms by Lord Lansdowne and Mr. A. J. Balfour, leaders of the opposition respectively in the House of Lords and the House of Commons, the other day. The launching of the subject the very day parliament assembled suggests that the matter may have a conspicuous place in the deliberations of the present session.

Lord Lansdowne characterized the agreement "the most momentous in the history of Canada and the British Empire." It meant, he said, a diminution of the advantages enjoyed by British trade under the preference now given by Canada and also the deflection of wheat supplies to the United States.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Balfour spoke on much the same lines as Lord Lansdowne. He regarded the agreement as a great Imperial disaster, due entirely to the Government's refusal to listen to the offers of Canada.

Speaking at a Unionist dinner, he said that the Canadian statesmen had lost "The people I am disposed to blame," he went on, "the people do blame, are the British politicians who decade after decade, turned a deaf ear to their Canadian brethren. Canadians have not merely preached preference, but have practised it. We enjoyed it, and profitted by it, but gave nothing in return for it, save an empty expression of goodwill. It is what has been prophesied. The fault does not lie with the Canadian statesman; it lies at Westminster. However, while there is life there is hope. The party in Canada maintaining the old policy is still strong. Our primary duty is to let all those agreeing with us on either side of the Atlantic know that our faith is unwavering and unchanged, and that we do not intend to abandon the imperial idea.

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its soil, is our new fruit land proposition
on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.

UNDOING GOOD WORK.

One could not have watched the policy of the provincial government for the past few years, without admiring the deep, abiding faith of Premier McBride and the men associated with him as his ministers, as evidenced by the hundreds of thousands spent in opening up the province, and advertising its great resources. One would have to be blind to all virtue not to recognize the good work done in this direction. And now, on the eve of the opening of what is believed will be the greatest year in the history of the province for the incoming of homeseekers from the Motherland, we cannot but view with disappointment the order-in-council which makes vaccination compulsory in this province.

The vaccination question is old enough, and it has been fought out often enough and the people fooled by it long enough to have impressed upon the government soon enough the fact that in England and America at least half the population have strong conscientious scruples against it, and will not comply with the law in the face of any effort made to enforce it. Hence, to bring the law down and publish broadcast that everyone living in the province or coming to the province will have to be vaccinated, will do more to undo the good work of the Government in its efforts to encourage desirable immigration than anything that could be done contrary to the interests of the province.

Compulsory vaccination was discontinued in England thirteen years ago. An English writer says: "As an indication of its uselessness while in operation it is only necessary to quote the Registrar-generals returns. During the first fifteen years after passing the Compulsory Vaccination Act, there died of small-pox 55,204 people; in the second fifteen years, under a more stringent law, the deaths rose to 66,979, and the greatest small-pox epidemic in England on record, when 10,000 deaths resulted from the disease in one year, occurred after thirty-one years of compulsory vaccination." In view of this, in 1898, England passed a law recognizing the rights of the parents in the control of their children, and permitting anyone having conscientious scruples against vaccination to escape the ordeal without having to pay the penalty attached thereto.

The dangers from vaccination are so much greater than the dangers from small-pox, to a healthy person, that is exceedingly unreasonable, unjust and cruel to force anyone not wishing to be vaccinated to be compelled to take what Sir Thomas Watson, the great surgeon, has described as the "ghastly risk." Tuberculosis, syphilis, cancer and lock-jaw have all been credited to vaccination in a great number of definitely ascertained cases. And we have but to take the word of such an eminent authority as the British Medical Journal, which says that "in addition to the fact that people are often ill after vaccination, it is important to remember that people die after the operation, if not from the disease itself (cowpox) at least from its sequela, notably erysipelas."

Whenever lock-jaw or tetanus follows as a sequel of vaccination, it is customary for the attending physician to deny that the vaccination caused the tetanus, but lays it to the improper care given by the parent while the victim was ill. But we have it on the authority of Prof. William Osler, that eminent Canadian-American physician and author, that tetanus is sometimes the inevitable result of vaccination. Prof. Osler was educated at Trinity University, Toronto, and at the medical faculty of McGill University, Montreal. He also studied at University College, London, England, and at Berlin and Vienna, and he should know whereof he speaks. In Osler's Modern Medicine, Vol. 2, p. 324, we find:

"1.—Tetanus is not a frequent complication of vaccination. 2.—The cases occur in small numbers after the use of the various viruses. 3.—An overwhelming proportion occurred after the use of a particular virus. 4.—Tetanus bacilli may be present in the virus in small numbers, derived from manure and hay. 5.—Through carelessness or accident the number may be greater than usual. 6.—Avoidance of the complication is to be sought in greater care in the preparation of the virus.

"Wilson (1902) first found tetanus bacilli in vaccine virus, and Carini, out of four hundred examinations of fifty different specimens of lymph, found tetanus bacilli five times. He concludes that they belong to the normal flora of lymph, but occur rarely and in small numbers, because in a series of specimens of the same lymph he found the germs in only one tube.

"Reading the accounts of the separate cases, and still more those of epidemics of complications, gives one an unfavorable view of vaccination."

This is a frank admission on the part of the best authority in the world that vaccination may and does cause tetanus. In view of this, forgetting the many other complications which everybody knows are a result of vaccination, it seems cruel and cowardly that whenever such unavoidable accidents occur, the doctor doing the vaccinating will seek to place the responsibility of the accident upon the parents.

Compulsory vaccination with the possible result of tetanus, is the greatest crime against humanity ever committed by blind but legalized bigotry. That vaccination makes us immune from small-pox, is an assumption; for the small-pox germ has never been discovered and no specific is known for the disease; that vaccination is the direct cause of much sickness, the occasional maiming of the victim and sometimes death, is a fact which no sane physician will deny.

Under the circumstances, and knowing from personal observation as well as abundant indisputable authority that cowpox from vaccination is quite as dangerous in many cases as smallpox itself; and knowing, further, that "to introduce disease (cowpox) into a healthy body under the plea that you are fortifying the individual against disease (smallpox) is the very acme of scientific stupidity," we feel like repeating the advice given by an eminent writer some years ago:

"There is nothing resists disease equal to health—keep it, prize it, work for it, pray for it! And when a doctor, or anybody else talks to you about inoculating the beautiful body of your child with the dead matter from a diseased cow, in the interest of health, tell him to go to—India, where dried grasshoppers and snake tongues are considered a cure for cholera."

If you believe in the efficacy of cowpox, then take it and enjoy the filth of it in your system, but in the name of God and decency, do not compel one who does not believe in this loathsome, putrid thing, to lend his body and the healthy bodies of his children for the propagation of the varilous filth that has been run through a heifer, to protect (?) you against a disease that kills fewer people than almost any disease in the calendar.

The effort to make sick the entire community of well people in fear that a small portion of the community may get sick, should be defeated. To denounce the idea that a healthy person is a menace to anybody, is every man's privilege. It should be every man's privilege to select his food, his religion, his politics and his medicine. With these things the State should have nothing to do.

COME WEST.

While in the East last year the editor of "Better Fruit" visited a large apple orchard which produced its first crop at twelve years of age, and was told that generally apple orchards in that section, with the exception of very few varieties, do not begin to bear until they are twelve years old. This gave the editor of "Better Fruit" an opportunity to do some mental arithmetic, and he adds:

"If land in the east costs $100 per acre and it costs $25 per acre per year to care for an orchard, expenses being about the same in the East as in the West, and you have had to care for it eleven years before it begins to bear, it would cost a man $375 per acre at bearing. This would not include living expenses, taxes or interest Good fruitland in the Northwest can be bought for $200 and less per acre. Care for six years at $25 per acre would be $150, making a cost of $350 at the end of six years. Net profit has been on an average, and will be in the future, in all probability, in good fruit districts:

The Summerland Review

Net profit at six years of age	$100
Net profit at seven years of age	200
Net profit at eight years of age	300
Net profit at nine years of age	400
Net profit at ten and eleven years of age	500

Total profit at beginning of twelfth year $1,500
Less the cost of the land and caring . 350

Leaving a profit for the eleven years of $1,150

On the other hand, in the east at the beginning of the twelfth year you would be out on your investment and care $375, whereas in the West, at the beginning of the twelfth year, you would have all the money invested out, and $1,150 to the good per acre."

These figures apply with equal force to conditions in British Columbia, and particularly the Okanagan.

In this connection the Portland Oregonian makes editorial comment which covers the case so well that we feel disposed to reproduce its suggestion: "The New York Fruit Growers' Union is holding its tenth annual meeting at Rochester, and according to news despatches, the main point under discussion is 'how to meet the inroads of Western apples in markets until now held by Eastern Orchardists.' The remedy suggested is that the Eastern growers be taught to produce apples that will compare with the Western fruit in appearance as well as quality. It may not have occurred to the New Yorkers, that the best method by which this desired end can be reached is for them to come out West and here grow Western apples."

At the Canadian National Apple Show, Eastern fruit growers in conversation with Okanagan apple growers frankly admitted that they could not produce such fruit in the East. And we know that they were telling what is only too true. The thing to do then, is to follow the advice of Horace Greeley. And the Sunny Okanagan offers opportunity for thousands yet

Burglary in Summerland

Several of the householders in Summerland are concerned in the above and they will tell you all about it on Thursday next in the Men's Club at 8 p.m. Don't forget to be present.

Alfred Johnstone, son of J. D. Johnstone of Trout Creek, whilst waiting for the opening of school on Monday last was playing around, and in climbing a tree, missed his footing and fell, sustaining a broken wrist. He was immediately driven to town, and his injury attended to.

WOULD LIKE TO KNOW.

Summerland, B.C.,
February 10th., 1911.

The Editor,
Summerland Review,
Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir:

I was pleased to learn from your editorial in this week's Review that our peaches, pears and apples could be sold at the highest price in the best markets of the United States.

Although you did not say so, I presume that you meant that they could be sold at a profit to the producer.

Before writing the article referred to you doubtless studied the details upon which this question of profits depends. Such, for instance, as the available routes, cost of transportation, and time taken in transit from points in the valley to the American markets you had in view, as compared with similar details in connection with shipments from the fruit producing centres of the North Western States.

I write to ask you to favour us with his information. It will, I am sure, be read with great interest by your many readers.

Yours truly,

J. A. KIRK.

(The point made by Mr. Kirk is a good one, but is it well taken? It will be some years before the fruit growers of the Okanagan will be able to supply the quantity of these fruits sufficient to control even our home markets. And until this is done it would be useless to seek a market elsewhere.

Our contention in this matter, while earnestly desiring to assist any movement looking to the advancement of the interests of our fruit growers, is this: That the present tariff on fresh fruit from the States is ineffective. It is not high enough to keep out the fruit of our competitors, and we cannot reasonably expect it ever to be made high enough in view of the demand for it to be lowered, which comes from the buyers of fruit in the northwest. And yet it is high enough to keep our fruits off the markets of the states.

With no tariff either way, we believe our fruit would stand a better chance. Its superior quality and nearness to the Coast and Northwest markets would be a factor in the control of these markets (when we have the quantity) and after, quality would again count and would be the one great factor to enable our fruit men to get into the highclass market of the states at a profit.

Naturally in this connection there will be obstacles to overcome, and no doubt serious ones, but the matter of details, such as routes, mode of shipment, pack, etc., are not usually worked out in a newspaper office, nor yet by the Government. This is a problem that is up to the Shippers' Union.—Ed.)

Mr J. Gartrell arrived back on Monday evening after an extended trip in Ontario and Eastern parts. Jim thinks there is no place like the Okanagan and he was well pleased to get back once more.

Peachland Paragraphs.

Mr. William Douglas, acting Reeve, went to Vernon on Thursday on business connected with the municipality.

Mr. Chas. Pope is spending a couple of weeks here at his home recuperating after an attack of rheumatism.

The Misses Brown, G. and O. Gummow, spent last Sunday in Penticton, visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell.

Mr. G. A. McWilliams, of Summerland, was in town on Wednesday with a party looking over some real estate propositions.

The meeting of ratepayers called for last Saturday to hear the Auditor's report was well attended, and a lively interest was shown in the figures. After discussing the report for some time, it was decided to ask the Council to issue debentures for $6,000 to cover electric light extensions and render further ones possible.

Quite a few prominent Orangemen are at the Coast this week, attending the meeting of the Grand Lodge. The party left Saturday, and consisted of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. McCall, John Robinson, and James Micheal. For the first time in more years than most of us can remember, Mr. Robert Michael was unable to attend on account of sickness.

The keen frost makes coasting down the Glen road a most exhilarating form of exercise these evenings but the pastime is attended with considerable danger and several of the young people have to muse over bruises and sprained ankles as a result of being unable to negotiate sharp corners at a high speed.

Rev. D. G. McDonald is attending the Local Option League Convention in Vancouver this week. After the Convention he goes to Nanaimo to take charge of the Baptist congregation there. While there Mr. McDermid of Nanaimo will preach here. A farewell gathering for Mr. McDonald was held on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dosland.

Frances Willard Day will be celebrated in the Methodist Church on the evening of Wednesday, February 22nd., by an interesting programme comprising vocal music by local talent, and attractive addresses by Rev. J. P. D. Knox, of Peachland, and Dr. Sawyer, of Okanagan College. Silver collection. Everybody come.

The Senior Hockey team visited Kelowna and Vernon this week, playing one game in each town. At Kelowna after a hard game, the score stood 3-3, but at the head of the lake, the home team won out getting the odd goal in five. Our local puck-pushers have not had the most successful of seasons, but they should not be discouraged. We hope the return game with Kelowna in the Summerland rink, on Monday evening will show them up in their true colors—as winners.

Persons requiring men for the season's work may be supplied by consulting A. A. Derrick, at the Hotel every evening.

RATEPAYERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Ratepayers' Association of Summerland held a well attended and interesting meeting on Monday evening. A number of important subjects were brought forward. They were discussed freely. As different points of view were urged, the value of the Association to the Ratepayers as a medium for obtaining a proper understanding of the questions affecting the municipality, was apparent. The conclusions reached, as set forth in the motions carried, represented the opinion of those present after a full and free discussion. It is not too much to expect valuable results in the working of our municipal system from the work of the Association. The members expressed themselves delighted by the earnest way in which the work of the evening was carried on, and went home feeling that an evening had been well spent.

The following motions were passed:—

- 1.—In favor of increasing the number of Councillors to the maximum number required by law.
2.—In favor of the Ward System being abolished.
3.—Instructing the executive committee to draw up a petition for presentation to the Council asking for the abolition of the Ward System and to procure signatures thereto after the assessment for the year had been completed.
4.—The secretary was instructed to write to the Council asking if it is the intention of that body to enforce the penalty clause of the Waterworks Contract against the contractor for not carrying out the provisions of the contract.

5.—The secretary was instructed to write to the Council stating that it is understood that the trenches in which the water mains have been laid were not excavated to the depth required by the specifications, and asking if a deduction is to be made from the contract price because of this when settling with the contractor.

An informal discussion took place respecting the deficiencies of the telephone service, particularly to the lack of a Sunday service. The closing of the Drug Store came in for a share of remarks. It was considered that an open Drug Store was as necessary in Summerland as in any other place.

The meeting then adjourned.

So great was the success last season of the English Opera Singers and Orchestra and so insistent the demand for return dates that the management of the Walker Company has arranged for their appearance as principals this season in the sparkling musical comedy "Managing Mildred," written especially for them by Walter Lockwood the clever young Chicago author. During the action of the play, musical numbers including most of the latest and popular successes will be introduced. The company retains their complete orchestra which greatly adds to the musical strength of the organization. This company will appear in the Men's Club on Tuesday the 28th inst.

SUMMERLAND, B.C.

A very interesting game of hockey between the junior teams of Summerland and West Summerland was played in the rink on Friday night, the latter team winning with a score of 8-2. The Summerland team was out-classed both in speed and stick handling ability. Both teams showed lack of practice. In the second half, the town team rarely got control of the puck, and the whole team was obliged to play defence. D. Rutherford as referee gave impartial decisions, and was kept busy calling "offsides," and he put one player off the ice for a few minutes for roughness. The goals were scored by Lorne Sherk, three, B. Tingley, two, H. Phinney, two, A. Gayton, one, for West Summerland, while Brown and Elliott were the only members of the town team who succeeded in locating the net. About fifty spectators witnessed the game.

The regular monthly meeting of the Womens' Hospital Auxiliary will be held in the Parlor of the Men's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, February 21st., at three p.m. After the general business the meeting will take a social form, when donations for the hospital, such as table napkins pillow cases, curtains, spreads, bath towels, bed macintoshes, leggings, dressing basins, gauze, small trays, couches, vegetables, etc., will be received. FINANCE MINISTER'S BUDGET SPEECH.

Hon. Price Ellison, Minister of Finance, is certainly to be congratulated on the clearness, conciseness and thoroughness which marks his first budget speech.

While it is impossible for us in our limited space to give anything like a complete report of his speech, we are pleased to be able to reproduce parts of it which will give a general understanding of its importance.

First. Taking up the estimates of 1909—10 and comparing them with the public accounts which were laid before the House a few weeks ago, we find that the estimated receipts fell short of the actual receipts by nearly $3,000,000, or to be accurate, $2,926,115, this despite the fact that twelve months ago the finance minister did not anticipate any surplus at all, owing to the special demands that had been made on the treasury by works of urgent necessity, and which were authorised by special warrant and provided for in the supplementary estimates of last year. This extraordinary difference between actual and estimated receipts does not indicate that the estimates were not carefully prepared, but rather that the remarkable increase in the business of the province, and of the various departments, could not be anticipated. The principal items which account for the unexpected increase were: Land sales and land revenue in which the estimate was exceeded by nearly $2,000,000; succession duties, showing an excess of $73,495; registry fees, $233,826; revenue tax, $60,683; real property tax, $60,774; land taxes, including wild, timber and coal lands, $50,905; income tax, $60,984; royalty on coal, $82,720; the government printing office, $29,174; Chinese Restriction Act, $156,200; interest, $37,493; cannery licenses, $213,40; and miscellaneous, $23,633. All of these items with the exception of succession duties and the revenue from Chinese immigration, which are more or less accidental sources, are the direct result of increased activities and the expansion of business.

X X X X X X X

As to the present financial position of the province I need not tell you that it is excellent. The surplus for the fiscal year 1909—10 was in round numbers $2,500,000. I cannot tell you what the surplus of the present year will be as the fiscal year does not end till the 31st of March, but I have no hesitation in predicting that there will be a surplus, and a very substantial one. We have at the present moment deposited in the banks doing business in British Columbia $7,500,000 bearing interest, and I may say further that at the end of the fiscal year our available liquid assets, including cash, will be sufficient to wipe off our present indebtedness of $9,000,000 odd. I think we may congratulate ourselves as a province and a government in having achieved such a result in seven years.

In the matter of fruit the Finance Minister said:

"We exported not more than $1,000,000 worth of agricultural products, made up mainly of fruit. The fruit growing industry of the province is developing at a very rapid rate and bids fair soon to become the most important branch of agriculture. The total production of fruit was far in excess of any previous year and amounted to about $2,000,000. The quality of the fruit was all that could be desired and a marked improvement was shown in the packing and grading of the same. Prices were however lower than usual.

"The estimated area of fruit trees under cultivation in the province for the year 1911 is about 100,000 ares, of which there is some thing like 60,000 acres of bearing trees."

In a general summing up, Mr. Ellison said the manufacturing and commercial business of the province is in a very satisfactory condition.

"In fact, at no time in the history of the province have we experienced such prosperity and such increased production and volume of business. The present year the Dominion census will be taken and it is, therefore, a more or less hazardous task undertaking to make estimates which are liable to a severe checking up at the hands of the census officials. I shall, however, venture to give an estimate of production of last year based on the best available information:—

Manufactures	- - -	$35,000,000
Mining	- - -	26,183,505
Timber	- - -	17,160,000
Agriculture	- - -	14,399,090
Fisheries	- - -	8,000,000
Total	- - -	$100,742,595

or an increase of nearly $14,000,000 over the previous year. As actual production is the test of a people's potentiality, we have the largest per capita production in the world. The outlook is promising in every respect and we cannot reasonably ask for more than we already have."

FRUIT PROSECUTION.

At the Victoria, B.C., police court last week, before Magistrate Jay, George Hick, fruit grower, Swan Lake, Maywood, B.C., pleaded guilty to having violated three separate sections of the Inspection and Sale Act; firstly by facing his boxes of apples, thereby giving a false representation of the contents of the boxes; secondly, by not having his boxes marked in a plain and indelible manner, in letters not less than one half inch in length, with his full name and address, the variety and the grade; and thirdly, by overgrading his fruit. On the first count defendant was fined ten dollars and costs, and was let off on suspended sentence on the other two.

THE VALUE OF THOROUGH SPRAYING.

It would seem that many of the orchardists of Ontario have sadly neglected the art of spraying. And the orchards, in consequence thereof, have in many cases degenerated into unprofitable pest-breeding fruit patches. The Canadian Horticulturist is devoting much space now and then to offering encouragement to those farmers who are showing some inclination to better their fruit conditions. In the February number that excellent magazine shows the value of thorough spraying, and quotes the experience of the men who have and are devoting some attention to this important phase of orcharding. The example of Messrs. Porter Brothers, of Appleby, is put forward prominently.

Messrs. Porter Bros. decided last spring to take care of their orchard in an approved manner. They had been spraying for some years with Bordeaux, but in an indifferent way and their results were anything but satisfactory. Their crops of apples for several years had been poor, and it was with difficulty that they could find a purchaser at any price. Last spring they started at their orchard early. They pruned and scraped their trees. They ploughed early and applied about half a ton per acre of commercial fertilizer. They discarded their old hand pump and purchased a gasoline power sprayer. They used commercial lime-sulphur, diluted at eleven to one for the dormant spray, and commercial lime-sulphur, diluted at one to thirty-five, with arsenate of lead added for their summer sprays. Messrs. Porter sprayed very thoroughly. They had gone to considerable expense purchasing fertilizer and power outfit, and they concluded that if the job was worth doing at all it was worth doing right. They applied their spray at the proper time, and never stinted the quantity. The results were very gratifying to them. They produced the largest and best crop they had ever known. Their varieties consisted of Spys, Baldwins, Seeks, Russetts, Snows and Ribstone Pippins, principally. Apple scab was entirely controlled, and the codling moth to over eighty per cent. Their snow apples had never been fit to pick before, and this year they were a sight to behold. Not one spotted or blemished apple could be found on the trees. They were besieged with apple buyers and succeeded in disposing of their crop at a price double the best they had ever received before. Messrs. Porter claim that as an investment, this spraying proved the best they had ever made.

The regular monthly meeting of the Rate-payers' Association will be held in the School-house, West Summerland, on Friday evening, March 3rd, at 8 p.m.

THE BRIXTON BURGLARY.

After performing this piece at Kelowna and Penticton, the Summerland Amateur Dramatic Society presented it to a large and appreciative local audience in the Men's Club on Thursday evening. As a rule, the "first night" of an amateur show is looked upon more or less as a dress rehearsal, but this being the third production, the Summerland people had the benefit of the practice gained at the other lake points.

We presume the piece was chosen for the number of effective situations, and awkward predicaments resulting in most amusing efforts to wriggle out of the ludicrous positions in which the characters find themselves. A piece so full of humor and stage effects naturally gave the stage manager plenty of scope, and to Mr. R. M. Knox, who occupied this important post, there is no doubt the success of the play was largely due. Every position of the various players had been well studied, the details well worked out, and "the wings" followed closely the progress of the play, giving the actors the "cues" when necessary, and never missing once.

To mention individual players is not necessary, each one had studied well his own part, and played it in every way to the satisfaction of the audience. In our midst we undoubtedly have a first class Amateur Dramatic Society who devote much study and attention to the play, and it is to be hoped that ere the summer comes along we shall again have the pleasure of seeing the Summerland Amateur Dramatic Society.

REVIVING OLD ONTARIO ORCHARDS.

For some months past experienced representatives in Ontario of British capitalists have been leasing neglected orchards at a fair rental and for a period of years from fruit growers who have not appreciated the change that is coming over the apple situation in Ontario or the earning power of their orchards. The parties interested in this movement propose leasing some 6,000 acres of neglected orchards. Their intention is to introduce modern methods in the management, and their expectation is that they will obtain a liberal profit on the outlay.

WORK OF B. C. GOVERNMENT.

The government of British Columbia is doing more to develop the fruit interests of the province than is being done by any other provincial government. The Chief of the Horticultural Division has under him four assistants who devote special attention to the requirements of the fruit interests in specified districts of the province. With such an organization and by means of its demonstration orchards, box packing schools, spraying regulations, and in other ways, including the sending of a market commissioner during the shipping season to the markets of Western Canada, it is doing invaluable service for its fruit growers.—Canadian Horticulturist.

Spray! for 'tis a goodly thing to do.
Spray! as if the crop depends on you.

Spray! and do it with a will,
Spray! until you've had your fill—
Of the odorous lime and sulphur.

The W. C. T. U. Frances Willard Anniversary meeting held last Wednesday evening in the Methodist Church was a decided success. About sixty people were present and listened to stirring speeches by Principal E. W. Sawyer, of Okanagan College, and Rev. J. P. D. Knox, of Peachland, and to a pleasing duet rendered by the Misses Brown. Mrs. D. H. Watson ably presided during the evening.

A meeting will be held in the Hotel Summerland on Wednesday evening, March 1, for the purpose of re-organizing the Baseball Club. A full attendance of enthusiasts is hoped for.

An indoor Inter-Class Track Meeting is to be held this (Saturday) evening at 7.30, in the College Gymnasium. Admission will be free, and all are welcome. A further demonstration of gymnastic work is in contemplation for the near future, full particulars of which will be announced later.

On Tuesday, the "Managing Mildred" company will give a performance in the Men's Club. This is one of the famous Walker Company productions.

The Southern Okanagan Poultry Association held a meeting the other evening, and are pleased to find themselves with a clean balance sheet—a few dollars to the good, a fact which is very satisfactory.

Yes, it is still winter yet, but soon the spring will be here, and then the 24th of May. Why not hold it a Crescent Beach and have a good old-fashioned Summerland time, with horse-races, and leave the regatta part out?

Did you notice the lights at Naramata on Wednesday evening? Our sister town looks quite pretty now during the evening, and the lights are a decided improvement.

CLIPPING.—Having a power clipping machine, I am prepared to clip horses. D. L. Sutherland, Peach Orchard.

THOROUGHNESS PAYS.

A recent bulletin issued by Cornell University shows that there are a million apple trees in Niagara County, N.Y., which produce a net income of $100 per acre. This is not a large yield, still it is way ahead of any Canadian apple growing county, says the Canadian Horticulturist. But few Canadian apple growers clear $1,000 out of a ten acre orchard every year. More could and should. The average, including that of the good, bad and indifferent fruit grower, is much less. In Niagara County an average of forty trees an acre would mean that there are 25,000 acres which at $100 per acre would mean the tidy sum of $2,500,000 revenue that this county produces from its apple orchards. These results are due to the careful attention Niagara county fruit growers give their orchards. Corresponding efforts by our Canadian apple growers would produce corresponding results in our best apple districts.

J. A. KIRK REPLIES.

Reciprocity and the Fruit Industry.

Summerland, B.C., 18th Feby, 1911.
The Editor, Summerland Reveiw,
Summerland, B. C.

Dear Sir:

In reply to my request for details respecting transportation facilities that would allow Okanagan fruit being sold with a profit to the produce in American markets you say that such details are not usually worked out in a newspaper office. But you give instead the argument upon which you base the contentions of your editorials of the 11th inst in favor of the proposed agreement between Canada and the United States. Using your own words I would ask "Is it well taken." Having this question in my mind as I read your reply to my letter I made the following notes thereon.

Respecting the arguments used against the renewal of the duty on fresh fruit and vegetables to and from the United States you say "we object to the underlying thought which bottoms all such arguments that Canadian fruit growers are not able to compete with the American fruit growers in the matter of picking, packing and selling their fruit," and "British Columbia fruit such as peaches, pears and apples—particularly apples—could be sold at the highest price in the best markets in America."

I understand from this that you consider that in the event of the so-called reciprocity agreement becoming law that Okanagan fruit growers will stand upon an equal footing with American producers in both the Canadian and American markets.

You then say "It will be some years before the fruit growers of the Okanagan will be able to supply the quantity of these fruits sufficient to control even our home markets. And until this is done it would be useless to seek a market elsewhere."

If this be so I would ask what advantage would accrue to us if we give the American the freedom of our market in exchange for similar privileges in his, when we are not in a position to avail ourselves of it for "some years," and how are we going to sell for the best price in the best market on the other side?

My answer to this is that we have gained nothing. The American market must be as effectually closed against us as if we were prohibited from entering it, while our home market will be restricted and we will be subject to a fiercer competition than we contend with under existing conditions. That instead of being on an equal footing with Americans in a continental market we will be bound hand and foot in our own home market.

In your next paragraph you find fault with the present tariff on fresh fruit from the States as ineffectual because it is not high enough to keep out the fruit of our competitors. In other words, because it is not prohibitive. You conclude by remarking "And yet it is high enough to keep our fruit off the markets of the States."

There appears to be a misconception here.

Our tariff does not deal with the export of fruits. It cannot, therefore, make shipments to the United States prohibitive. That is the function of the American tariff. Our tariff was not intended to prohibit imports, but is protective in its nature. It was designed to ensure to Canadian industry and its products in Canadian markets conditions not less favorable than those enjoyed by foreign competitors. Such conditions are manifestly fair, and advantageous to buyer and seller. That the present tariff does fulfil these conditions fairly well cannot be questioned.

It is therefore a logical conclusion that until the time elapses during which you consider we cannot be in a position to avail ourselves of the American market, even if we have the right to free entry therein, that a protective tariff fulfilling the conditions mentioned will ensure to us prosperity, that is fairly won—and that the proposed so-called reciprocity agreement not only cannot do so, but will subject us to a competition that will be unfair, and against which we will have no redress.

I am, Sir,

Yours truly,

J. A. KIRK.

(If the conditions are as serious as this correspondent appears to believe, though we are not prepared to admit it, and the American fruit growers can bind us hand and foot in our own market, isn't there something wrong with our method of selling; and if the fate of the fruit industry hangs on the tariff thread, is it not in rather a precarious position?—Ed.)

A general meeting of the Liberal Association will be held in the central schoolhouse on Monday evening Feb. 27, at 8 p.m.

Deputations from the Ontario and Quebec Vegetable Growers' Associations waited on Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in Ottawa recently and asked that standard weights per bag for vegetables should be established as follows, thus doing away with the lack of uniformity now prevalent; Potatoes, eighty pounds; onions, seventy-five pounds; turnips, seventy pounds; artichoke, seventy-five pounds; beets, seventy pounds; carrots, seventy pounds; parsnips, sixty pounds.

The 1911 edition of "5,000 facts about Canada," an indispensable collection of concrete, crisp Canadian Facts, edited by Frank Yeigh, of Toronto, the well known lecturer and writer, and author of the new book, "Through the heart of Canada," has been issued, and is filled with fresh data of a most interesting and illuminating character. It is a marvel of condensation, presenting in small space some striking figures relating to every phase and department of Canada's natural resources, trade and national life.

Its popularity and wide sale can easily be understood, in fact, it is, as has been said, "worth its weight in Cobalt silver or Yukon gold." The booklet may be had from the leading newdealers, or for twenty-five cents from the Canadian Facts Publishing Company, 667, Spadina Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

UNRIVALLED IN ITS BEAUTY, its location, and the excellence of its
soil, is our new fruit land proposition
on the west shore of Dog Lake in the sunny southern Okanagan Valley.

Here fronting on one of the finest inland sheets of water, with a full eastern exposure, and on which the sun shines forth in all its glorious splendor, are to be found hundreds of acres without stones, without timber, without alkali. Here the most punctilious fruit grower can be satisfied in the way of orchard land. One of the great outstanding features is that all irrigation and domestic water supply will come through a pressure pipe system.

BUILDING A FRUIT MARKET.

In all of Canada today, there is not what can be called a fruit market. This is a broad statement, but one that will prove itself when our meaning is understood. In past references to the effect upon the fruit industry of the reciprocity terms agreed upon between the United States and Canada, we have had in mind the benefit that would accrue to our fruit through our fruit growers being permitted to get into a real high-class market duty free. At the present time we have no such market which we can call our own. There are buyers of fruit in the Northwest and Manitoba, and at Vancouver. They buy fruit. They buy fruit for its bulk rather than quality. They buy the fruit on the market at the time they have the money to buy, regardless of where it comes from, and with very little consideration as to merit or keeping qualities. There is no stability on the market, no stability in the quality, and no stability in the demand. The Canadian Northwest is the dumping ground for the fruit growers of the southern and western states. It is the territory in which they slough all the fruit not wanted at home, for there they have a built up market, a market of stability and quality where the fruit shippers make the price and maintain it and the wholesalers have to take what is offered at the price demanded or go without.

British Columbia fruit growers have always been at a disadvantage in the Northwest, for the reason that the fruit market there is always more or less demoralized, and always will be until our fruit supply is sufficient to control the market, regardless of fruit tariff or no fruit tariff. The fruit tariff, in fact, amounts to little, for it is only a superficial remedy for a complaint that is the outcome of our limited crop and poor selling facilities.

The problem of a market for our fruit is one that must be solved, and we confess that it should be the one thought uppermost in the mind of everyone interested in the district or the province. Any solution other than the right solution will bring only temporary relief. The editor of the Review does not pretend to know the only RIGHT solution, but he has seen the fruit men of various districts across the line solve the same problem there and believes the same methods must be adopted here if any permanent good is to come of the effort. The tariff on fruit from the States may be as high or as low as you like, and the effect will be the same. When the American fruit growers have more fruit than they want to put on the market at home, they will send it to the Canadian Northwest, tariff or no tariff. And they will not sell that fruit for a cent less than they have to in order to get rid of it. It is the home market they are particularly interested in, the market in which they have no competition and can make their own price. If our tariff is high they raise the price at home to let them out with a profit on the fruit sent to Canada to get off the home market.

The fruit growers of British Columbia must build a fruit market at home. This we all will admit. They must also get into the high-class market already built up by the shippers of the States. At the present time, under a protective tariff, we are compelled to sacrifice our best fruit on a market which demands nothing better than the sloughed article shipped from the States to get it off the home market there. We may think at the present tariff enables our fruit shippers to get a higher price for their fruit than they otherwise would. Perhaps it does but we doubt it. For three years or more the apple growers of Hood River have not sold a box of No. 1 fancy for less than $2.00. At the same time, the fruit shipped to the Canadian Northwest from Washington and Oregon was bought by the Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver wholesalers at from 85 cents to $1.25 per box.

We are not going to say anything about the fruit grown outside of the Okanagan Valley in British Columbia for the reason that we do not know, but the fruit grown in the Okanagan—apples, pears, peaches and plums—cannot be surpassed by Hood River or any other fancy-fruit district in the world; and yet, our fruit men have had to put their fancy fruit on a demoralized market in competition with the 85 cent and $1.25 article shipped in from the States. Has the tariff been of one whit benefit? Could any reasonable tariff be of any lasting benefit in view of the conditions above referred to?

Strictly high-class fruit, such as that produced in the Okanagan, should be sold only on a strictly high-class market. Steinhardt and Kelly, of New York, the most extensive operators of high-class fruit perhaps in the world, buy the entire output of apples of the noted Hood River, and the price paid, we understand, is $2.00 per box to the Hood River Apple Growers' Union. Apples from the Hood River do not have to seek a market, for there is a high-class market built up, where the demand for this quality of fruit is in excess of the supply and buyers seek the fruit and pay spot cash on delivery.

If our fruit growers are to pin their faith to the tariff thread and prefer to waste their product on a sloughed market in competition with the fruit from the southern and western States, then we shall cry with them for the retention of the tariff, and more tariff. But we are convinced that they are on the wrong track, and their future success in combatting the sloughed fruit on a sloughed market can be measured accurately from their experience in the past.

Without a tariff either way our fancy fruit could find a home on the fancy market of the States at a fancy price, and the product of our orchard which is not up to the fancy standard could be put upon the slough market of the Northwest and Manitoba. There is, after all no sentiment in the matter of markets. The producer will sell in the market where he can get the most for his product at the least cost to him, and the consumer will buy where he can get the quality desired at the least cost to him.

We must understand that the matter of market, and success in fruit culture, is more than a question of government wet-nursing and tariff walls. If we are to continue to sacrifice our fancy product on a market which does not demand anything better than the sloughed article we cannot hope to achieve that success which should be the aim of all.

We are in receipt of a lengthy and well written communication from Mr. Julius W. A. Block, of Naramata, anent reciprocity with the United States, in which Mr. Block complains of the extreme political view generally taken in British Columbia on the question and intimating that it might be better for all concerned if the question were studied without political bias. We feel that to publish Mr. Block's letter would be granting to him a privilege which he complains of in others, as his communication is largely foreign to the point at issue and is ultra-political, with a strong Liberal leaning. The Review desires to treat the question of reciprocity from a distinctly non-political viewpoint, believing this to be a question of too great importance to Canada to be passed upon with a purely political eye, and we would ask Mr. Block and other correspondents to assist in so doing by confining their correspondence to the real points at issue.

NEWS FROM THE EAST.

(From our own correspondent.)

Montreal, Feb. 20th.—The reciprocity controversy is now in full swing through the land. From the Atlantic to the Pacific it is the chief topic of discussion, not only to the north but also to the south of the international border, and the question has even invaded the legislative halls of Great Britain. No doubt the storm will continue to rage around this bone of contention for some weeks yet, and not until the matter is decided by the Canadian parliament and the American congress one way or the other will it let up. Deputations are heading for Ottawa to oppose the agreement while those who agree are very little heard from. One of the weightiest pronouncements against the agreement was made by the Montreal Board of Trade, an organization which generally gives the cue to similar bodies, at least in Eastern Canada. Yet this pronouncement was by no means unanimous. While Montreal is the king pin of the protected interests and shouts loudest when vested interests are in danger there are yet many able men who do not see eye to eye with their business brethren and do not hesitate to say so.

A great deal of interest centres around the action of the government in connection with the steel industry. Steel rods are placed on the free list by the agreement and the bounty which was given to create it expires in June. The Dominion Steel Corporation which is the chief industry affected, claims that with this class of their product exposed to American and other competition, and no bounty, it will be wiped out completely. They want the bounty extended to enable them to get on better footing. It was thought pretty sure that with the eastern political pressure which was brought to bear on Mr. Fielding, that he would agree to the proposal but the matter has been decidedly complicated by the sheet steel people at Morrisburg who went to Ottawa with a big deputation, and practically demanded that if the Dominion Steel people were given a continuance of the bounty they wanted a bounty, too. Mr. Fielding's reply was not a very cheering one, but the matter is still under advisement.

The farmers of Canada are not worried because the crops in certain sections of the Northwest were not up to the mark last year, if the extent of their purchases of farming implements can be taken as a guide. For instance, the Sawyer Massey Company, of Hamilton, Ontario, shows net profits for the year of $184,731, an increase of $29,502 over the previous year, making the common stock, after an allowance for the preferred, a 5.3 per cent. issue. Even at that, the output was curtailed because of delays incidental to the formation of the new company. So favorable has been the showing of the new company, by the way, that arrangements have been made to list the stock on the Toronto exchange. The preferred selling at 87, returns 8.04 per cent. and has a particularly bright future as there are no bonds ahead of it and the assets amount to more than $150 for every $100 of preferred stock. There is every reason to believe that 1911 will be a very favorable year for the makers of farming utilities and that the holders of industrial stock will profit accordingly.

The Masonic Grand Lodge of the Province of Quebec is holding its annual session here and the opportunity has been seized to make a formal disavowal of any connection with the Grand Lodge of the Orient, the French organization, whose members in this city, members of Enacipation Lodge, are just settling down after a great stir which commenced last summer prior to the Eucharistic Congress and lasted for several months. Antagonism to the Roman Catholic Church is a specialty of the French organization while quite the reverse is the case with the English Free Masonry. They do not want to be mixed with such a crowd and do not hesitate to say so. In the meantime, the Roman Catholic Church authorities make no distinction.

The rather unusual spectacle has been presented of a rather sharp decline in the approximate earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway during January, due to the smaller crop last season, while the price of the stock in the market is going up, and everyone seems bullish. The rise is also the more remarkable in face of the prophecies of dire disaster if the Reciprocity agreement goes through, one of these to be the hardest hit being the Canadian Pacific. The newspapers favoring reciprocity naturally ask how this can be in view of the fact that much has been said of scaring British capital away by the agreement while it is well known that the price of Canadian Pacific stock is practically fixed and controlled by the London market. If the business of the company was likely to be utterly destroyed as suggested they think the stock would not advance in the face of such a prospect. The heaviest decline in earnings shown yet this year was for the first week in February, the decrease being $278,000 compared with a year ago. The maximum earning capacity of the company is reached in October and the minimum comes in February. It is to be remembered that this year's record is being compared with a banner year and some further expansions will have to take place before the records created in 1910 can be beaten. In the meantime the company announces its intention of invading a new field by running steamships to the West Indies and creating a link of hotels.

While Canada is seeking fresh capital abroad and is getting it in large quantities from England and France, Canadian banks and financiers are backing heavy traction, power and other enterprises in foreign countries, more particularly Mexico and the South American Republics to say nothing of the concerns in the United States which is using a lot of Canadian capital. Mr. R. Forget, M.P., thinks this is all wrong and he voices his sentiments in the course of reasons why another bank in Canada would be a good thing. He thinks there are lots of good propositions at home and that Canadians should have enough faith in their own country to put their money in them instead of expecting outsiders to do it while they go off somewhere else with their capital. The bank Mr. Forget is organizing is the Banque Generale du Canada but the word "Generale" will be dropped if a charter can be secured for one designated the Bank of Canada. Its capital will be $10,000,000 and of this amount the promoter states that French capitalists are willing to put up $7,500,000 and Canadians the balance. Mr. Forget leads the public to believe that his new bank will set the other banks a good example and that as a result there will not be such an outcry about the tight money market in future.

HOCKEY.

Kelowna versus Summerland.

On Monday last, at the Summerland rink, the local team met Kelowna. Last week, at Kelowna, the same teams met, but there was a dispute as to the result, Kelowna claiming a win, and Summerland a draw. On Monday however, there could be no such dispute, as the score was sufficiently definite, and could not be mistaken, Summerland being the victors by 7-1.

The commencement was not so good, the players had not warmed up to their work, but in the second and third periods of the game it was fine hockey, and both teams played well. The locals played a splendid game, and the changes which had been made in their team had surprisingly beneficial results.

There was a large crowd in attendance, and Kelowna had a large following. It is rather a pity that the last game of the season for Summerland was the only win, had they only had such a team to meet both Penticton and Vernon, maybe the results would have been different. Certain it is, had the form of last Monday's match been in evidence earlier in the season, the Summerland team would have been a hard nut to crack.

J. Downton begs to intimate that he has made arrangements for the delivery of meat every Tuesday and Friday to Jones Flat, Garnett Valley, West Summerland, Balcomo and Peach Valley. This delivery will commence with the first Friday in March. All orders to be delivered should be at his shop on Monday or Thursday evening.

The Women's branch of the Farmer's Institute met last Friday in the Ladies' Parlor of the Men's Club. There was a very good attendance and an essay on First Aid was read by Mrs. Downton, who handled her subject in a very capable manner. The advice she gave on how to meet emergencies was sound and couched in very simple language. She gave thoroughly practical instructions and if the ladies remember all they listened to that afternoon, they should be well equipped to deal with most of the little accidents demanding prompt attention which are liable to happen in any household. At the next meeting there is to be a practical demonstration on the cutting out and making of a shirt-waist.

The last meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary held in the Men's Club on Tuesday afternoon, took the form of a Donation Party, and a large number of useful articles, mostly linen, were brought by the members and friends, who, after the usual business was over, were entertained to tea and cake. Altogether a very enjoyable afternoon was spent and the hospital will be the richer by a goodly stock of household requisites.

Miss Florence Hayes left on Monday morning last for Vernon, where she has taken charge of the telephone office.

The third of the pennant series of basketball games played in the College gymnasium last Friday evening went to the home team by a score of 19-13. The town team have yet to win their first game, and at present the pennants look like going up on to the hill.

SOCIALISM.

Organizer Desmond, of the S. P. C., Lectures in Summerland.

It was a small audience in a cold hall that attended the meeting of the local branch of the Socialist Party of Canada on Wednesday evening last in the Men's Club.

Shortly before 8.30, Mr. W. Nelson, of Vancouver, was voted to the chair, and in introducing Organizer Gerald Desmond, the speaker of the evening; made a few remarks, telling how and why he became a socialist.

Mr. Desmond took for his subject "The Struggle for Existence." He traced the gradual development of the methods of production, from the crude hand machines of the ancients to the huge steam driven plants of the present day. There was no problem to face in the line of production; enough was produced at the present time to satisfy all demands. The problem that needed attention was that of distribution. Competitive distribution, he said, must be eliminated. In its place must be substituted a system whereby everyone was given enough, and if possible, to spare. The remedy for the one-sided commercial conditions at present existing, lay in regarding every worker, from the manager down, as an economic unit. The relation of the capitalist to the worker must be changed, and both placed on an equal footing by holding each responsible for a share in the great work of production.

Rev. A. W. McLeod followed. He pointed out that the workers alone were to blame for the continuance of the present industrial system. They must be aroused from their apathy, and shown that the remedy is within their reach if they will but grasp it, and the work for socialists at present is to awaken their comrades to a sense of their potentiality.

Several questions were asked of Mr. Desmond and he replied to each at length. They dealt with government ownership, co-operation, deposition of the capitalist, and other subjects which naturally arise in the enquiring mind when such sweeping changes are proposed.

Arrangements have been made for the following further meetings:—

Sunday afternoon, February 26, at 1.30 p.m., in Elliott's Hall, Subject, The commodity, labor-power. Wednesday evening, March 1, at 8 p.m., in the Schoolhouse, West Summerland, subject, Wages and Profits. Thursday evening March 2, at 8 p.m., in Elliott's Hall, Subject, The history of the working class.

Mr. J. Lawler, the packing school instructor, has had printed on sheets of a convenient size, descriptions with illustrations of the various commercial packs, in apples, peaches, and pears. The sheets are for sale not only to members of the school but to all others interested, price ten cents, and can be had from either Mr. Lawler or from Mr. R. Pollock, secretary of the Agricultural Society.

It is reported that the surveyors of the Kettle Valley Line are at present working between Penticton and Trout Creek. Their camp is situated near to the old camp used by the road gang, and stakes are fixed for some considerable distance this side of Penticton.

Some of the many joys of the Canadian Winter form the predominating feature of the February issue of the Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, of Woodstock, Ontario. A snowshoe tramp is not only enjoyable but likewise health-giving and as a recreation cannot be surpassed. Hunting in the land of the cariboo—Newfoundland—well describe the attraction of that island to the big game hunter; while an illustrated description of a portion of the mountain section of the Grand Trunk Pacific goes to show that in scenic beauties Canada's new transcontinental is going to rival any other route. Altogether this number has only to be seen to recommend itself as the finest exponent of outdoor life in its many phases now published.

PACKING SCHOOL.

During the last two weeks a very successful packing school has been held in the Municipal Hall, and a good many in Summerland are the better equipped to deal with the forthcoming fruit crop. Mr. J. Lawler, the Government instructor, has drilled the students thoroughly in the many and varied packs and every student is thoroughly pleased with Mr. Lawler's methods. He is an expert, but what is more, he is able to impart his knowledge to others.

Out of the thirty-eight pupils who have been in attendance at the class in Summerland, there are many, who, with practice, will no doubt become experts—the grading of fruit alone requires long and constant practise, and this has to be done simultaneously with the packing, so that speed in the work necessitates unwavering attention.

These packing schools throughout the Dominion are a great boon to the fruit growers, and the government is to be complimented upon going into this work so thoroughly.
