Along The Line Of The Kettle Valley Railway.

A Glimpse at the Construction Camps

A representative of the Review visited the various railway camps from Trout Creek to the Summit a few days ago and found great activity all along the line. There are ten camps at present but the number of men employed is away below expectations—in fact the shortage of labor is getting to be a serious matter, entailing heavy loss on the contractor and sub-contractors. Supplies were contracted for on the basis of 1,500 or 2,000 men, and at present there are only about 350 men at work. The minimum wage paid is $2.75 per day. Ninety cents per day is charged for board and it must be said that everything in that line at all the camps is of the best. The cooks one and all know their business and make the most of the first class material provided. The men in charge of the camps refer to this feature of camp life with considerable satisfaction, and tell with great gusto how the teamsters carry baskets of provisions with them when duty compels them to enter the poverty-stricken precincts of Summerland. The hospitality at all the camps is unbounded, and acceptance of all the invitations to eat and drink (nothing stronger than tea or coffee guaranteed, except in emergencies) would put a severe strain upon even iron-clad digestion.

Cosmopolitan is the proper word to characterize the men employed. You find Swedes predominating, and a sturdy bunch they are; then a sprinkling of Norwegians, Danes, Austrians, Bulgarians, Italians, and a few—very few, English, Irish, and Americans. Scotchmen are conspicuous by their absence. It may be because the sawbees are too few and Trout Creek too much in evidence.

The absence of serious accident to the men employed is a notable feature, and presents a pleasing contrast to the record made in the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern construction camps. The hospital, the only one for the line, is situated not far from Richardson's mill, but so far very few men have been compelled to take advantage of the accommodation provided.

The work of the committee representing the various churches of Summerland in providing reading matter and religious services for the camps is very much appreciated. In addition to papers and magazines which will be needed in large quantities for at least a year, the plan is to provide a library of fifty books for each camp and move them around from one camp to another as they are read. For this purpose donations of readable books of the best fiction, travel and adventure are earnestly requested. Donors may rest assured that the books will be used to the best advantage.

Considering the number of men employed, and the natural difficulties of construction, splendid progress has been made and everybody seems to be in an optimistic mood.

K.V.R. CONTRACT TO BE AWARDED.

The Kettle Valley Railway will award a contract within the next fortnight for the construction of a twelve mile section from Coldwater Junction westward to the summit of the Hope mountains. Clearing of right-of-way has been in progress for over a month. A survey party is now in the field revising the location for a twelve-mile section from the Summit westward down the Coquihalla river. This work will also be let as soon as the engineers report.

The section referred to is east of a thirty mile section down to Hope, which has been located but which has been the subject of a dispute with the Great Northern, which also located a line through the same narrow valley.

W. A. Lang, of Peachland, is reported to have sold $36 worth of cherries from one tree this year.

A paper mill recently established in New Westminster is working two shifts, and turning out fifteen tons per day. The mill cost a million and a quarter dollars. Its product is in great demand.

SUMMERLAND HOSPITAL.

The following donations to the cottage hospital are gratefully acknowledged by the Matron:

Mr. Lind—wood, Boy Scouts' provisions.
Mrs. R. H. Steuart—raspberries.
Mrs. W. Atkinson—vegetables, fruit and jam.
Mrs. A. L. Moreland—lettuce.
Mrs. R. C. Lipsett—bottled fruit.
Mrs. Pineo—jelly.
Mrs. F. H. Hole—apples.

Of late there have been very few patients in the Hospital, and on Wednesday there was only one. He is a little lad, a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Howard Hole, and is suffering from an injured eye. While throwing stones against a rock one of them rebounded, inflicting a nasty wound.

The Okanagan Fruit Yield.

Car Shortage Seems Inevitable.

Mr. F. W. Sterling, Travelling Freight Agent of the C.P.R., has just returned to Vancouver from the Valley, and states that the fruit crop this year will be in excess of any that our famous fruit growing region has ever produced. In fact, so heavily are the trees laden, particularly the peach trees, that it looks as if there will be difficulty in getting sufficient labor to harvest the crop in time.

Some of the ranchers have already been importing laborers from the prairies to handle the tomato crop and a large number of men for the orchards and women for the canneries will be needed for the peaches and apples. The Kelowna cannery proposes to get nearly one hundred women for its work and more will be needed for the other canneries. It is proposed to secure this help in Vancouver, and the women will be needed within the next two or three weeks.

The fruit men of the Okanagan estimate that they will need about 1,500 cars to meet the demands for moving the fresh fruit and the vegetables which will be shipped, largely to Eastern points, between the middle of August and the end of October, while the requirements of the canneries are put at 100 cars for the first estimate.

TRANSPORTATION DIFFICULTIES.

The provision of refrigerator cars to handle this traffic is one of the transportation difficulties which the C.P.R. has to surmount in providing for the needs of this country. The ordinary refrigerator cars coming West with meats cannot be utilized in carrying back the fruit, as they are not ventilated, and the company has to haul in from Manitoba and other of the prairie divisions empty ventilated refrigerator cars that have been used in carrying westward fruit from Ontario and the Eastern States. The assembling of these cars on the prairies in the numbers required during the comparatively short season for delivery in British Columbia comes at the time when the company is called upon to start the big movement of grain eastward on the prairies, and the business comes also at a time when the company is trying to clean up the prairie deliveries of the lumber industry in British Columbia just previous to the grain movement.

The cars for the fruit are delivered at Okanagan Landing and distributed by barge to the different centres for loading. This year to handle the traffic an extra barge has been arranged for on the Lake.

FIGHTING FRUIT PESTS.

Ottawa, July 31.—Dr. C. Gordon Howitt, Dominion Entomologist, who carries on his work at the experimental farm here, has left for England to represent Canada at the International Congress of Entomologists, which is being held at Oxford from August 5 to 10. Subsequently he will attend a conference which the Secretary of State for the Colonies is arranging at the Colonial Office for the purpose of working out a scheme for Imperial co-operation in the prevention of the spread of the insect pests and the more extended investigation of the noxious insects which occur in different parts of the Empire.

NEW CABLE LAID.

The Government's new marine cable was successfully laid across the bed of Okanagan Lake from Kelowna to Westbank on Thursday. The copper wire for the new telegraph line has arrived in Summerland, and the construction gang begins work on Saturday the 3rd inst. The poles are also here, all prepared ready for erection. It has been found best to work out from here and the first actual construction will begin at the north end of town and continue northwards.

FOR PICNICERS.

The enterprising manager of the Okanagan Lake Boat Company has another scheme in mind which will probably be carried out immediately. On the shore of the cove on the north of Naramata, and northeast from Mr. Wolstencroft's cottage, is a very nice grove which has suggested itself to Mr. Roe as a very desirable place for private picnics. It is Mr. Roe's intention to fit up the place with picnic requisites, and a tent for bathing. Picnic excursions will then be run from Summerland whenever required. Already every Thursday there are private picnic parties on the 11.30 a.m. ferry, who return on the 5.30 p.m. The idea now is to make a special trip, leaving Summerland at 1.30 p.m., and returning in the evening. No doubt this plan will prove very popular.

VICTORIA GARDENS.

Victoria Garden lots which have been advertised in the Review for the last two weeks, have been selling rapidly. Among those who have bought are: Ralph Kent, Jas. Smith, E. R. Butler, Thos. Beavis, D. Thompson, the Presbyterian Church, Alex. Smith, John Ritchie, T. Ramsey, J. Weeks, R. Verrier, T. Blaikie, J. Pacey, R. Callan, J. Tait, C. W. Haddrell, J. Mutton, J. N. Merrill, E. Houghton, J. Rowley, Miss A. E. Williams, F. A. Williams and H. Tomlin.

Bacterial Blight of the Apple and Pear.

By W. H. BRITAIN, B.S.A. Pathologist and Entomologist.

The bacterial blight of pears, apples and quinces, also called "fire blight," from the appearance of trees affected with the disease, is a source of heavy loss annually to the fruit growers of Ontario, and in many parts of the United States. If the growers in districts where the disease occurs wish to avoid such a continuous tax upon their profits, they must adopt stringent measures to stamp it out.

CAUSE OF THE DISEASE.

The disease owes its origin to a minute bacterial organism about one-sixteenth thousandth of an inch long, and about one-forty-five thousandth of an inch broad. This germ, entering the plant by way of the blossom, or through the cuticle, by the aid of some sucking insect or other injury, passes down the twig, feeding upon and destroying the cells of the inner bark and cambium. The bacillus winters in a few affected branches that are sufficiently protected against drying out, to enable the organism to remain alive, though not very active until another year.

Besides apples, pears and quinces, certain other plants may be attacked by the disease. These are the hawthorn, the June berry and the mountain ash.

THE SYMPTOMS.

The disease will usually first be noticed shortly after blossoming time. The tips, blossoms and leaves will be seen to wilt, becoming black or dark brown, and finally shrivelling up, presenting a scorched appearance. The bark at first has a moist, water-soaked appearance but later it, too, will become hard and dry. The blighted leaves and blossoms will frequently remain clinging to the affected leaves throughout the winter. Water sprouts and other growing

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

The Board of Trade held a special meeting last Friday afternoon to appoint delegates to the Western Canada Irrigation Association Convention, which meets at Kelowna on the 18th, 14th, 15th and 16th insts. C. H. Cordy and H. C. Mellor were appointed, with A. L. Moreland as an alternative.

Immediately at the opening of the meeting a resolution of condolence to the family of the late R. H. Agur, who at the time of his death was President of the Board of Trade, was carried unanimously.

A motion was made by Mr. A. Stark to the effect that the secretary write the various Boards of Trade of the Valley, asking that they instruct their Kelowna delegates to convene while there and pass a resolution to have the lake level lowered. This was carried.

A motion suggesting to the Associated Boards that Mr. J. M. Robinson be appointed on the committee to deal with the railways in reference to an exhibition car of Okanagan fruit for the prairies, in the place of the late R. H. Agur, was also carried unanimously.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.

A moonlight excursion was enjoyed by the citizens of Naramata last Saturday evening. The Ferry Company's newly built barge was called into service, and some seventy-five people enjoyed a perfect moonlight night on the water. Music was furnished by a piano at one end of the barge, and a refreshment counter provided cool drinks at the other. Speech making, dancing, etc., helped to make the evening more enjoyable. Among the speakers were Messrs. J. M. Robinson and J. S. Gillespie, who each complimented the enterprise of the management on providing the increased ferry service and accommodations. Mr. Peter S. Roe, the manager, fittingly replied, and he was followed by Mr. F. L. Roe, who had charge of the catering.

James Ritchie, Adam Stark and W. H. Hayes were visitors at Kaleden this week.

A C.P.R. IMPROVEMENT.

To travellers northward bound there has invariably come to mind a query as to why the C.P.R. did not make better connection at Okanagan Landing. The boat usually reaches that point about 10.30 a.m., and passengers desiring to go to Vernon have had to wait until 1 p.m. for the departure of the train, or else drive through at an additional expense. Recently a change has been made, and is noted for the first time in our Traveller's Guide in this issue. Immediately the boat docks at the Landing, passengers may now board a car which is immediately run up to Vernon by one of the yard engines. This gives those who wish to do business in Vernon much better connection, and for those who are continuing further the waiting is not so unpleasant at Vernon as at the Landing.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE FLOWER SHOW.

An Explanation.

The decorated table mentioned in the prize list does not mean a table "laid" with knives, forks, glass, etc., but merely decorated with flowers.

The Flower Show will be held in the building formerly occupied by the Summerland Supply Company, kindly lent for the occasion by Mr. J. M. Robinson.

HIGH SCHOOL EXAMINATION RESULTS.

The results of the High School examinations held last month throughout the province have been announced by the Department of Education. Local results are as follows:

SUMMERLAND CENTRE.

Summerland High School.—Preliminary Course, Junior Grade. Maximum marks, 1,000. Number of candidates, 8; passed, 4: Alexandra G. Thomson, 575; Marjorie E. Tingley, 570; John G. MacLeod, 518; Madeline Elsey, 503.

Advanced Course, Junior Grade. Maximum marks, 1,000. Number of candidates, 1; passes: 1: Robert P. Munro, 528.

Full Course, Junior Grade. Maximum marks, 1,200. Number of candidates, 1; passed, 1: Annie N. Blair, 774.

PEACHLAND CENTRE.

Peachland High School.—Preliminary Course, Junior Grade. Maximum marks, 1,000. Number of candidates, 8; passed, 4: Clarence G. McDougald, 599; Elizabeth M. Chapman, 589; R. S. Walter, 527; Geo. A. Robinson, 501.

FOR THREE NIGHTS.

Ethel Tucker and her company will be at the Empire Hall for three nights only, in "Queen," the great emotional drama, "Are You a Mason?" the popular farce comedy, and the three act comedy, "Baby Mine." This comedy is aptly described as "a scream—a riot of fun."

The company, numbering ten people is one of the brightest, neatest little companies playing in Western Canada. Full of enthusiasm and spontaneity they fairly rush into the good graces of their audience. A number of bright and pleasing specialties are introduced during the action of the play. If you want an evening of laughter, music and song, don't miss "Baby Mine."

Those who are most jealous of their rights usually have the most trouble maintaining them.

In a letter to the press, Premier Mathieson, of Prince Edward Island, says that the government which he leads stands for the strict enforcement of the prohibitory liquor law, and will not attempt to justify failure with the excuse that under former governments the law has been violated with impunity. If any person can show that the law is being violated, that any public officer is unfaithful to his trust, his complaint will be heard, and the wrong will be righted.

Improved Regulations For Fruit Inspection.

Dominion Government Protecting Home Growers.

The Dominion Fruit Department is completing arrangements so as to greatly extend the work of fruit inspection, and domestic fruit will be given as close an inspection as the foreign product. Particular attention will be given to the West, where the number of inspectors has been doubled; and the consumer of the West will be given protection in their purchases of Eastern and Coast fruit.

ONE-SIDED INSPECTION.

For a number of years there has been a strong agitation for inspection of fruit sold to the domestic trade. The inspection of exported fruit has been very stringent, but there has been no protection to the home consumer.

Hon. Martin Burrell has given the matter his personal attention and has given orders to nearly double the staff of inspectors, and every effort will be made to see that fruit sold to the home markets is up to the high standard of the Canadian fruit exported to Great Britain, and that it is not fraudulently packed and graded.

Arrangements were made some time ago for the reorganization of the inspection of fruit all over the Dominion. Operations under the Fruit Marks Act have hitherto been directed towards the inspection of Canadian grown fruit intended for export. By legislation the grading and marking of closed fruit packages were standardized. On the other hand, the fruit growers in the United States were under no such handicap. They could enter the Canadian market under easier conditions than the home grower. It is to remove this unfairness that Mr. Burrell is directing his attention.

THE SCHEME OUTLINED.

The duty of inspectors will be to see that no inferior fruit is allowed to enter Canada, thus not only safeguarding the Canadian consumer, but putting the Canadian consumer on the same plane as his foreign competitor.

Plans have been concluded for the furtherance of the scheme of fruit inspection throughout Canada, and people in British Columbia are deeply interested in what is to be done in the prairie provinces as well as in this province, because of their close relationship with regard to fruit.

A chief inspector is to be appointed in each of several districts. British Columbia is one district, the prairie provinces are another, and there are three in Eastern Canada. In British Columbia there will also be three inspectors under the chief, one on Vancouver Island, one at Vancouver or New Westminster, and the third at some point in the interior. That will be four altogether, as against one at present.

In the prairie provinces there will be many new appointments. The chief inspector is Mr. C. W. Baxter, and he is at present making a tour of inspection of the Okanagan and Kootenay districts. The greatest work will, of course, be with regard to the importing of American fruit, and the object is to keep the American fruit men from getting an undue advantage. The Eastern fruit, which comes West, also, will be closely watched to protect the West from the East, and vice versa.

In this province, also, there are three Customs Officers who are acting as fruit inspectors at Nelson, Grand Forks and Prince Rupert, and they will continue under this new arrangement. Altogether seven new inspectors will be appointed in the West, three in British Columbia and four in the prairie provinces.

A certain popular young Indy went into a store for a bath sponge. In asking for it she made the ludicrous mistake of requesting the clerk to give her a sponge bath. The clerk swooned and his recovery is doubtful. In order to get this item in we promised to mention no names.

The number of applications received from university graduates who desire to be enrolled as members of convocation of the University of British Columbia is 717. Of these 215 are McGill university graduates, 200 Toronto University, 77 Queen's university, 66 University of Manitoba, 35 Dalhousie university, 25 Acadia university, 23 University of New Brunswick, 30 from Other Canadian Universities, and 46 from British Universities outside Canada.

The first organization meeting will be held in Victoria on the 21st inst.

The following from Summerland have been registered as members:—E. E. Hutton; Principal H. D. Hunting, of the High School; W. C. Kelley; Prof. A. J. Perry, Okanagan College; Rev. T. N. Ritchie; Dr. E. W. Sawyer, Principal of Okanagan College; Rev. G. J. C. White; G. V. White. Miss A. J. G. Purdie, late of Kaleden, is also a member.

APPLES FOR INSOMNIA.

(From the "Family Doctor.")

People ought to know that the very best thing they can do is to eat apples just before retiring for the night. Persons uninitiated in the mysteries of the fruit are liable to throw up their hands in horror at the visions of dyspepsia which such a suggestion may summon up, but no harm can come even to a delicate system by the eating of ripe and juicy apples before going to bed. The apple, proceeds this authority, is excellent brain food because it has more phosphoric acid in easily digested shape than any other fruit. It excites the action of the liver, promotes sound and healthy sleep and thoroughly disinfects the mouth. This is not all, for the apple prevents indigestion and throat diseases.

THE APPLE CROP.

The Chief Fruit Inspector of the Dominion Government reports that there is every indication of a splendid apple crop throughout the country. The British Columbia crop is especially large, that in Ontario is fair, while the Nova Scotia crop promises to be the largest on record.

OKANAGAN APPLE SHOW.

The resolutions passed by the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade held at Armstrong on June 19 were taken seriatim at the last meeting of the Vernon Board of Trade. The first, that a central apple show for the whole valley be held on a definite date each year, this year at Vernon on October 23, and that the corporations be asked to declare a legal holiday on the first day of the show. This resolution was confirmed.

The second, that the question of freight rates be left in the hands of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association till the next annual meeting, was also confirmed.

The action of the associated Boards in appointing a committee with regard to the sending of an exhibition car of fruit to the prairies was approved.

The Board also commended the suggestion of the committee that information be gathered as to water power in the Valley for advertising.

The resolution passed at Armstrong recommending the lowering of Okanagan River to the advantage of the inhabitants in the southern end of the lake and the drainage of Kelowna, received considerable discussion.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

The monthly shoot over the long ranges took place last Saturday, with the following results:

	300	800	900	Total
A. E. Nelson	32	33	31	96
J. Dunsdon	32	30	30	92
O. Smith	29	24	32	85
F. Gartrell	29	29	27	85
G. Loomer	29	31	25	85
F. J. Nixon	26	31	27	84
G. Barkwill	28	25	29	82
H. Dunsdon	31	30	19	80

On the next two Saturdays, 3rd and 10th of August, class firing will be got through, and every member is requested to attend. The Price Ellison Cup will be competed for on these days on the class firing scores. Free ammunition will be issued both days, and the rig runs from Gartrell through town and West Summerland to the range as usual.

The deepest hole in the world is in South America, 6,001 feet; the next is in Pennsylvania, 5,420.

Kaleden Comments

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Nelson are the guests of Mrs. J. Lock.

Mrs. J. C. Findlay has returned from her visit to Summerland.

A large party motored down from Penticton last week, and registered at the Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Henderson have removed into the tent lately occupied by Mr. H. Tomlin.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Lapsley have removed into their residence above the new store, which is pleasantly situated near the lake.

The young people of Kaleden made an excursion by boat to Okanagan Falls last Saturday evening to visit the Girl Guides from Penticton who are camping there.

We are pleased to report the recovery of Mrs. O. E. Tomlin, Miss Gertrude Angwin and Mrs. Leonard Preston, who have all been on the sick list for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tomlin, after residing here for the past year, have gone back to Summerland. Mr. Tomlin will be remembered for the excellent work he has done while here.

Mrs. Hatfield, sen., has returned from her visit to Naramata and Summerland. Her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Block, of Naramata, accompanied her and will remain in Kaleden for a visit.

Mr. Elsey, with his son and daughter and Mr. Jas. Wilson drove down from Summerland last Tuesday. They were all delighted with the appearance of the place, and expressed a wish to reside on their property here.

The Hotel Kaleden registered this week among others, Mr. H. S. Keating, Edmonton; Mrs. P. H. Size, Mrs. B. A. Shattford, W. E. Welby, J. Goodman, Miss Helen Mutch, Miss Valerie Size, all of Penticton; Chas. Fraser, Keremeos; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kay, Miss Huntley, Miss Price, of Penticton; Mr. R. G. Belveden, Okanagan Falls; Messrs. A. Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

WOMAN was made out of the rib, taken from the side of man; not out of his head to rule him, but out of his side to be his equal, under his arm to be protected, and near his heart to be loved.

GIRLS, listen to your mothers; you will never regret it. No matter what your advantages are above what hers were, you are no better. You can rest assured that it is not book learning or knowledge of fashions that will keep your feet away from the many pitfalls that she can warn you from, in a tender, loving fashion, that you would do well to heed. No matter how mothers may speak, you may rest assured their hearts are in the right place, and that they want their daughters to be innocent and good, rather than fashionable.

IF YOU would gather up all tender memories, all the lights and shades of the heart, all banquettings and reunions, all filial, fraternal, paternal and conjugal affections, and you had only just four letters with which to spell out that height and depth and length and breadth and magnitude and eternity of meaning, you would, with streaming eyes, and trembling voice, and agitated hand, write it out in those four living capitals—H-O-M-E.

WHAT a different world this would be if only all of us would cultivate the grace of good nature! It is the best tonic for nervous disorders, and the surest preservative of home happiness. He who has learned how to take even the most disagreeable things and grievous disappointments good naturedly may never be a millionaire, but he will be what is much better, both happy and a source of happiness, and the atmosphere he carries with him will be like a bit of sunshine in the mammoth cave.

THERE is no earthly need of so much poverty and grumbling, as seems abroad in the world to-day. There is plenty of food in this great and glorious world for all its people. It is the fault of the education of our children. They are brought up wrongly. The children should be broken in to some useful labor and taught to respect and honor the useful more than the ornamental. Every boy and girl should be made to work at something that would be of profit, till the second nature forms with them. A man or woman so educated becomes actually fond of labor, or at least pleased with the results of labor, and then it becomes a pleasure to perform it. All children at an early age should have a bank and be taught to save its money, or, at best, the larger part of it. They should not be allowed to waste anything, food, clothing, or any article of value. It is the early impressions formed on the mind that are enduring. Very few children trained in the right direction will become paupers, unless caused by sickness, or some unavoidable accident.

ONE REASON why some men do not get along better in this world is because they have not the proper stimulant in their homes. Their homes lack those little touches of refinement which bring the best out of them. Neatness and taste are possible in the poorest homes. Let a woman make the atmosphere as dainty as her means allow, and she will raise her husband to the same standard. And as she elevates him the effect is felt upon herself, her children, her home, and her future. Some men respond more slowly than others to the touch of a woman's hand displayed in their homes and upon their surroundings. The task may seem hopeless to the wife at times, but sooner or later the effect will show itself. There is something in every man which responds to a higher and gentler influence. Let his home be rough and he will be rough. But infuse into that home a softening touch, be it ever so simple, and the man feels it even though he may not directly notice it. He imbibes it unconsciously, and its effect is sure upon him.

DON'T REPROVE AT BEDTIME.

To send the children happy to bed should be one of the mother's most ordinary tasks. No little one should dread the bedtime hour, nor fear the dark, nor be allowed to go to rest under a sense of disgrace or alienation from household love. Whatever the child's daytime naughtiness may have been, at nightfall he should be forgiven, and go to rest with the mother's kiss on her lips and her tender voice in his ears.

Hardly anything could be worse for a young child than to be scolded or punished at bedtime. The mother does well to be a little blind sometimes, remembering that a good deal of childish culpability is superficial only, and washes off almost as easily as does the dirt which the evening bath removes from the skin.

The main thing with children is to have them well started with good principles, which they will carry through life. Obediency, truth, unselfishness, purity are essentials, and these can all be lovingly cultivated, and will flourish in the right home atmosphere.

CITY ATTRACTIONS.

The illustration of the seabird drawn to its doom by the glare of the beacon light finds no truer phototype than in the case of the country girl lured from her home by dreams of fortune to be realized in the great city. As ignorant of the wiles of evil as a mouse is of the mechanism of a trap, unsophisticated in the blandishments of sin; holding blankly to the belief that sheep and goats never mingle, she drops into the maelstrom of a city existence as a snowflake settles into a river—"one moment white, then gone forever." There lie in wait for innocence, the wide world over, a legion of plotting devils arrayed in livery of light, honest appearing advertisements that are toothooks with which the devil angles for souls; employers who scarcely take the pains to hide the fangs of wolves behind their smiling lips; boarding houses infested with other and more hideous vermin than the rat and the roach; companionship of more fatal effect to the soul than hydrant water to the health; counsellors who spin viewless webs and plot ruin as the spider works destruction to the unwary fly. All these, and a great many more, pitfalls lie in the way of the country girl as she turns her light step from the cowslip and the green turf to take her place in the ranks of those who walk the path of daily toil.

THE NEWSPAPER LAW.

HERE ARE some extracts from the regulations governing the relations of the publisher of a newspaper to the subscriber, which we publish for general information:

1.—A postmaster is required to give notice by letter (returning the paper does not answer the law) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office and state the reason for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payments.

2.—If any person orders his paper discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made.

3.—Any person who takes a paper out of the Post Office, whether directed to his name or not, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.

4.—If a subscriber orders his paper stopped and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the Post Office. This proceeds upon the grounds that a man must pay for what he uses.

5.—The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals or newspapers from the Post Office, or removing, leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

From the Post Office standpoint a person ceases to be a subscriber to a newspaper or periodical when he refuses to take it out of the Post Office. In such cases it is the duty of the Postmaster to notify the publishers as required in the regulations in Sections 51 and 52.

THE CANAL QUESTION.

THERE can be no doubt that the bill now in Congress permitting American coastwise vessels to use the Panama Canal free of tolls violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. By that agreement we are bound to operate the canal "on terms of entire equality" for all nations, "with no discrimination against any nation in respect of charges, which shall be just and equitable."

Setting aside this solemn obligation, the bill also contemplates a wrong upon the American people. It is ostensibly intended to hit the trans-continental railroads by favoring their water route competitors. In fact, it discriminates against one monopoly by putting money into the treasury of another. It is a ship subsidy and nothing less.

Those who resent British interference in this matter should remember that there are at least two parties to every treaty and that a sure way to provoke complications is for one to violate the rights of the other. When the Hay-Pauncefote agreement was made it was generally conceded that the canal should be free to all, or, if not, that it should be operated on terms of equality.

That should be the policy of the American people now, no matter how noisy the lobby of the ship-subsidy people or how unpopular for the moment the representatives of the land may be.—New York World.

HOT WEATHER HEALTH HINTS.

TAKE things coolly.

Take a ride with mother and the youngsters.

Give "fire water" the cold shoulder.

Drink only water and butter milk.

Wear as little clothing as the laws of the land will permit.

Swat the flies.

Eat sparingly. Be a vegetarian now, if ever. 'Tis not meant to eat meat in hot weather.

Give the icy stare to the hot weather fusser. Hot talk makes one hot.

The man with the alpaca coat, linen trousers and canvas shoes may not be a thing of beauty, but the joy of physical comfort is his.

If thy tight collar grievously afflicteth thy neck, take it off. Why should the spirit of mortals be proud?

During the heated term, however, it is perfectly safe to indulge in a light exercise, such as swatting the flies.

KEEP THE BOY BUSY.

THE FOLLOWING, taken from an exchange, is meant for parents to read:

Vacation time is not a time for idleness for the boy who is large enough to attend school. He should be given the freedom that boyhood requires, of course, but not unrestricted license. He deserves more than that at the hands of his parents responsible for his bringing up. Give the boy something to keep him busy, even though it is a very small task. Let him feel that each day during his season of recreation something is expected of him. Give him a larger idea of his own importance and fit more nearly into line with what the school, during the longer portion of the year is trying to do for him. Over-indulgence is no more wholesome for a child than for an adult. Of course, the child is not the one to find this out and fortify himself against it. That is the duty of the parent.

WILL TRY TO CROSS CANADA BY AUTO.

New Westminster, B.C., July 31.

An attempt to traverse Canada from Halifax to Vancouver is said to be made this fall by Mr. Herbert Gilley, of New Westminster, who is making the trip in the interests of the Canadian Highway Association, flying the pennant of that organization on his Canadian built machine.

It is Mr. Gilley's intention to make Halifax his starting point, although he is a native of the Pacific coast. He is now on his way to his old home in Charlotte county, New Brunswick, to complete his preparations. In so far as possible, it is his intention to follow the outlined route of the Canadian Highway.

No man, perhaps, is better acquainted with the roads in the different parts of Canada than Mr. Gilley, for in addition to the many years spent in lumbering enterprises in British Columbia he has a wide knowledge of road conditions in the eastern provinces, where he spent the best part of his life. He believes that the most difficult trip for an automobile in all British Columbia is over the Hope Mountains, a journey which has never been attempted. A road is being built over this section at the present time, and it is possible that a temporary way may be made for an automobile, but it is a foregone conclusion that by the time any machine has travelled over the Hope Mountains it will be fit only for the scrap heap or for exhibition purposes.

Should this cross Canada tour be successfully negotiated, it will reflect considerable credit on the pathfinders, for neither Mr. Gilley nor his brother, G. Emerson Gilley, are practical motor mechanics, and the only knowledge they have of the interior of an automobile is gained through the use of machines for the past few years.

Valuable data is to be collected during this trip and later embodied in the archives of the Canadian Highway Association, which is to be the custodian of the log of this cross-Canada tour.

Local News Items.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Nelson and Miss A. E. Williams are visiting at Kaleden this week.

Miss Olga Watson returned from the Coast cities on Wednesday. She has been absent about a month.

J. G. Robertson has just completed the laying of a cement floor in the basement of Ellison Hall.

A. B. Elliot is now stocking his ranch store at West Summerland in the east half of the Campbell building.

Big stock of the famous Joseph Rodgers Superior Pruning Knives now to hand. The Summerland Supply Company.

T. E. Moore has removed his stock and fixtures from his old store into the new Campbell building at West Summerland.

D. H. Watson, who has been at Brandon for some weeks, is expected home to-night. Mr. Watson was at Vernon early in the week and from there went to the Coast.

Miss Edith Sharpe, who recently stood examinations for a School Teacher's License, has received notice of her appointment to the teaching staff of the city of Nanaimo.

Dr. F. W. Andrew arrived from the East on Saturday, and Dr. Coulthard, who has been looking after Dr. Andrew's practice during his absence, returned to the Coast on Tuesday.

Lloyd McWilliams started out on a vacation trip to the Coast cities this morning (Friday). Mr. D. Lister, of Balcom, is looking after Mr. McWilliams' business during his absence.

Mr. Donald Sutherland, of Winnipeg, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Nellie Sutherland, is visiting his son D. L. Sutherland, of Peach Orchard. Glen Sutherland, a cousin, is also a guest at the same home.

Mrs. C. H. Daly and Mrs. G. Davidson will receive for the first time at the residence of the former, West Summerland, on Wednesday, August 7th, from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m., and afterwards on the first Wednesday of each month.

Rev. C. H. Daly asks us to state that Dr. Milligan, of Toronto, who had signified his intention of preaching in St. Andrew's Church, West Summerland, next Sunday, has found that as the time approaches he is still physically unfit to make the effort.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Tomlin have returned from Kaleden to again take up their residence in Summerland. Mr. Tomlin has recently sold his cottage at West Summerland and has purchased a lot in Victoria Gardens where it is understood he will build at once.

W. F. Shouldice and bride are expected to arrive here this week, either on Friday or Saturday. Mr. Shouldice went to Ottawa some weeks since where he was married at the home of his bride. Friends have heard from him in Winnipeg, where he was on the 18th ult.

Mrs. R. C. Lipssett left for Victoria this morning where she has been summoned to attend a meeting of the Advisory Board of the Women's Institute. The province is divided into three or four districts, and Mrs. Lipssett was appointed by the Government to represent the Okanagan District.

At the Fruit Growers' meeting held last Tuesday evening, mention was made of the local telephone office, to the effect that it was not open after 7.30 p.m. We have learned upon further enquiry that the office is open every evening until eight o'clock. While this is not much later it is well that our readers understand this, as they might refrain from attempting to file a telegram after 7.30 if not correctly informed.

Sad news for the anglers is conveyed in the report of Game Warden Williams, that Lake Osoyoos, in the South country, is full of carp. The coarse and greedy fish have killed all the trout and are eating up the woods in the lake. The latter is a great grief to the duck hunters, for the woods form the chief food for the wild ducks. Fortunately the carp are too sluggish to get past Okanagan Falls into Okanagan Lake. The falls will prove an effective barrier to the fish and prevent them injuring the trout in Okanagan Lake.

SUMMERLAND TELEPHONE CO.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Summerland Telephone Company, Limited, held this week, the following officers were all re-elected:

H. C. Mellor, President.
Dr. F. W. Andrew, Vice-President.

A. L. Moreland, Secretary.

Another call on the subscribers to the capital stock will be made at once, and plans are being put under way for the early purchase and instalment of a local exchange.

PICNIC AT TROUT CREEK.

The Ferry Company's new picnic barge brought over on Thursday morning a large load of Naramata people to the Trout Creek grounds. Thursday was Naramata's day, and general invitations were issued to all the citizens of that town and district to join in the day's pleasure. The Unity Club were the hostesses, and Mr. J. M. Robinson voluntarily provided the transportation. The barge has been fitted with a canopy over the full size, and on board is a stove, tables, etc. With the "Maude Moore" on one side of the barge and the "Naramata" on the other the trip across the lake was quickly made. A number of Summerland citizens joined the picnic party at the grounds.

Fruit Yield Of The Western States.

Crop Will Not Reach Proportions Of First Estimates.

From "Better Fruit."

In the June edition we published statistics as compiled during the month of May. At the time these statistics were published the estimate was generally considered to be a reasonably fair one of the crop expected this year. Cold weather prevailed during the blossoming time, interfering to a greater or lesser extent with pollenization. More recent estimates indicate that the crop will be considerably less than shown in the June edition. For instance, Hood River was put down for 1,500 cars. A number of prominent people have made careful inspection of a number of orchards and are now placing the estimate at 1,000 cars. Yakima Valley was put down for apples and pears, 6,000 cars. The last estimate, appearing in the Yakima Republic, put the crop of apples and pears at 5,100 cars. Other districts have not been heard from with definite figures, but more or less shedding has been reported from a number of sections, and therefore, it would seem that the estimate given in the June issue of "Better Fruit" was an over estimate in some sections. However, it is still difficult to give estimates of a really definite nature, as quantity will in a large measure depend upon the size of the apples.

Mr. H. M. Gilbert, in the Yakima Republic, has furnished a very interesting estimate of the crop in that valley, as follows: Apples, 4,600 cars; peaches, 1,300 cars; pears, 500 cars; plums, 150 cars; plums, cantaloupes and cherries, 450; a grand total of 7,000 cars. "Better Fruit" has always given statistics or estimates for the actual number of cars that will be shipped out of the different districts, which does not include home consumption. While there is a difference of opinion whether or not the home consumption should be included, still, as far as the East is concerned, it is the quantity that is shipped East and the Eastern demand that affects prices. We make this statement so that there may be no misunderstanding, and we desire to say in addition that it is not only difficult, but next to impossible, to ascertain any reasonable estimate of the total amount of fruit consumed in any one state. The number of cars of home grown fruit that are shipped to anyone of the cities in the state, of course, can be determined, but the total quantity of fruit that is grown and hauled to town in wagons, the quantity of fruit that is consumed by the fruit growers themselves, and that peddled out to the different towns and cities in the various fruit sections, is a quantity which is impossible for anybody to determine definitely.

The Gurney-Oxford is prompt

No matter what comes or goes—meals we must have.

The preparation of meals comes round three times a day.

Every housewife wants to know that she can depend on her stove absolutely; she wants to know that there is no element of chance or likelihood of mishap in her cooking arrangements; that meals will be ready promptly on time.

The Gurney Economizer is an assurance against accident and mishap in cooking. It is a simple device and found only on the Gurney-Oxford. One lever controls everything. The fire can be slowed down for hours and revived in a few minutes. An arrangement of flues makes the Gurney-Oxford Oven always uniformly heated—the Gurney-Oxford Oven is never to blame! It will make a good cook a better cook; it does more than its share towards making every meal a success and a pleasure.

Naramata Notes.

Mr. G. Nankrugust, of Calgary, is registered here on a two weeks' outing.

Mrs. M. K. McQuarrie, of Revelstoke, is registered at the Hotel for a short holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnson went out on Tuesday morning en route for Victoria, where they purpose residing.

Miss Took, after a fine holiday here with her sister, Mrs. Reid, has returned to her home in Calgary by way of the Arrow Lakes.

The "joy ride" last Saturday, on the new scow was a splendid success in every way, and Mr. Roe is to be congratulated for his enterprise.

Miss Irene Morgan, of Penticton, was in town for a few days: this week the guest of her friend, Miss May Robertson, at Rakadome Ranch.

Mrs. Price, of Calgary, with her two daughters, Miss Alma and little Miss Thelma, are visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. J. Wells.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Stockton with Mrs. S. Stockton, and Mrs. H. W. Baird and Miss M. McGugan, of Edmonton, are visitors for a short while in town.

Hotel Naramata is crowded to the limit, but fortunately quite a number happen to be more or less transient, and it is hoped to be able to pass the second season without having an additional wing added.

What about a regatta this year? Probably Mr. Robinson will say that it is up to the people to run the sporting end from now on. The season is too far advanced to think or plan for a regatta now, but it is to be hoped that Labor Day will be set aside for a day of local sport.

A packing house in Naramata has at last become a reality. The business opened out on Monday of this week with Mr. H. J. Wells in charge. Mr. Lawler, of Summerland, is over occasionally to give us the benefit of his wide experience in the packing business. Up to the present the heaviest shipment is that of tomatoes, but the peaches next week will be giving considerable space.

The social evening held in the Unity Club building last Thursday week, conducted by the girls' club was a complete and unqualified success. It was the hit of the season so far. The program, though fairly long was neither monotonous nor draggy, but spicy and interesting throughout, ending with a grand flourish. Amongst the chief contributors were Miss Kathleen Robinson, who was, as usual, well received in a very choice reading and a snappy encore. A girls' chorus, in which Mr. Jack Robinson and Mr. Gillespie assisted was splendidly given, and a song by little Miss Margaret Mitchell was decidedly "cute, and reflects credit on Mrs. Gillespie for careful training. The special "hit" and surprise of the whole program was—what shall we call it?—a speech or a recitation, or a reading? But none of these quite fit. Shall we call it a monologue?—in which it was discovered that one of our newcomers, Mr. F. L. Roe, proprietor of the Bottling Works, is a brilliant wit, a humorist, who far outshines the ordinary professional actor. Mr. Jim Turner, who favored us once before with a whistling chorus was again well received. Mr. Turner has a rare gift, that of being capable of whistling two parts simultaneously.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

TOBACCO CROP IN THE OKANAGAN.

This year promises to be the most prosperous in the history of the tobacco industry in British Columbia. Under the direction of experienced men, capitalists are planning to develop this business in a way that will add materially to the commercial prosperity of Western Canada.

At the central plantation, Okanagan Mission, in the vicinity of Kelowna, experimental work in plant breeding, plant selection, etc., is carried on. A large number of seed beds provide the hundreds of young Havana seedlings, which will eventually furnish the necessary material for the manufacture of full-flavored, high grade Canadian grown Havana cigars. Here also is a large shade tent for growing the highest grade of imported Sumatra seed plants, the leaves of which make the best cigar wrappers grown.

At the company's plantation No. 3 a short distance out on the main road towards Vernon, where planting is completed, the plants are making remarkable growth; owing to recent timely rains.

The transplanting is all done by machinery, and a much more uniform stand and growth is obtained than by hand.

Very little irrigation is necessary in tobacco growing. In fact, the best results are secured by getting the soil into good condition by a single irrigation just before planting. Good cultivation does the rest.

In all about one hundred acres are planted in the Kelowna district this year. Next year, however, this acreage will be largely increased.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

Mr. Thos. Cunningham, the provincial inspector of fruit pests, has ten experts engaged in a campaign of orchard inspection and cleansing in the Okanagan Valley.

In addition to this work, Dr. Bonquet, recently from Pullman Agricultural College, has been giving some lectures to the farmers. A hundred farmers form a double ring around a sick apple tree, and the learned Doctor tells them what is the matter with it and what sort of medicine to give it.

The fruit growers are so eager to know all about it that they drag the Doctor from his hotel after dinner and make him tell them some more until bedtime.—Chase Tribune.

THE BLOWING SOIL.

ANOTHER PROBLEM FOR THE ORCHARDIST.

In some of the dry-farming districts the problem of successfully preventing the blowing of soils is one that demands a great deal of attention from the farmer, and causes considerable discouragement where the operator has been unable to overcome the conditions.

It is only where there is excessive blowing of the soil that damage occurs. It is a well-known fact that if one can prevent the soil from starting on the windward side, the problem has been solved. When once the wind begins to move the soil from the windward side of the field, the moving dirt acts like an auger working and twisting, loosening and lightening the soil in front of it, until the wind sweeps freely through or across the field, taking the loosened soil and leaving the exposed roots to wither and die.

LIGHT SOILS MORE LIABLE.

The movement of soil is natural. Both wind and water serve as vehicles for the continual carrying of dirt from place to place. It would be quite impossible to prevent absolutely the movement of soils, but it is by no means an impossibility to prevent dangerous movement.

A light soil, sand or sandy, is more apt to cause trouble in a thoroughly cultivated field than elsewhere, because tillage tends to break up the heavier clods or balls of earth and to make them more easily portable. Some soils blow very easily, and even light winds cause damage to the farmer. Ordinarily, however, the soil, even though fairly well tilled, has been ground into dust sufficiently fine to allow an ordinary wind to move any except that portion which has been accidentally pulverized.

It is not always the velocity of the wind that creates the damage. A direct, constant, hot, dry wind is more apt to create damage than is a quick wind of high velocity and of short duration. The reason for this is the wind of high velocity is apt to be variable in its direction, hence in its action upon the soil it is less injurious. It is also apt to be more powerful a few feet from the ground than directly at the surface line. The long, pulling, dry, wind is more apt to hold to an unvarying course and to hug tightly to the earth's surface, and in this manner the boring motion against the dirt in the field becomes a movement, which, with the continued suction of the wind, may destroy immense areas. Compact soils, that is, soils where there is a certain percentage of clay or gumbo to create a cohesion are not in such danger as are the light, sandy soils. If a farmer is able to prevent the wind from starting at the edge of the field, and he usually is, there is little probability of serious loss.

HOW TO COPE WITH THE TROUBLE.

Various cover crops are being tested, all more or less successfully. Windward breaks on the windward side of the field have also been shown to be especially efficacious. The careful addition of humus or vegetable matter to the soil by ploughing under crops for green manure, or the application of barnyard manure, has been found to be most valuable. But in the plains region and upon the new farms where wind-breaks are not easily established, and humus cannot be quickly added, a cropping system should be followed whereby the movement of the wind near the surface can be retarded and movement of soil prevented.

Get humus in the soil. Care should be taken in the districts where soils are apt to blow to study the conditions and requirements of the soils. Some soils will stand rolling, some harrowing, some a coarse and some a fine mulch. Fields that are apt to move under high-wind pressure should be plowed transversely to the wind.

Perhaps the most important suggestions of all are to get humus into the soil as quickly as possible, to use the disc harrow freely on windward side of field, if soil begins to move, and to plant corn, etc., in long, alternating strips with small grain crops and with fallow.

ETHEL TUCKER, in "Baby Mine," "Queen" and "Are You a Mason?" at Empire Hall, three nights, commencing Saturday next, August 3rd.

PENTICTON WILL RECEIVE DELEGATES.

The program of the Western Canada Irrigation Congress at Kelowna this month includes a steamer trip to Penticton, and in addition, the Board of Trade and the Municipal Council have extended a hearty invitation to the delegates to be their guests at a banquet to be given at the Hotel Incola.

Upon the arrival of the steamer the visitors will be met by a committee consisting of members of the Board of Trade and the Municipal Council. They will then be taken over the benches in automobiles and shown through the various peach orchards which will be at their host in the height of the fruit harvest. Upon their return to town the banquet will take place. The Penticton Council have voted a generous sum for the entertainment of the delegates and an energetic committee is sparing no pains to make the event a conspicuous success.

If you know of anything we don't know and which the public ought to know; if it is worth knowing don't you know that it is your duty to let us know it, that the people may also know? You may know, but they don't know, unless you let us know the things which you know. That will be good for all the people, don't you know.

in bad cases the result may be accomplished in a single season. Few cases of true body blight have appeared this season in the Okanagan.

The disease also causes a rot of the immature fruit, entering by way of the stem, or through an insect puncture. Fruit so affected is brown or black, as if bruised, and frequently a light colored, slimy substance oozes from the affected part. The disease, at first, spreads very rapidly on the fruit, but when the spur which bears it dies, it shrivels up, becomes dry and hard, and frequently remains clinging to the tree throughout the winter.

SPREAD OF THE DISEASE.

Among the foremost agents in the spread of the disease are bees, wasps and other insects that carry it around from flower to flower, at the blossoming period. It is probably due to these insects that all blossom infection is due. More important than the bees, for it seems impossible to exercise any control over their work, are the green and woolly apple aphids. Aside from the direct injury these insects do to the tree by sucking the juices of the plant, it has been abundantly proven that they are most fruitful sources of the spread of the blight. A large percentage of twig infection may be traced directly to their agency. The leaf hopper, doubtless, also plays a part. These insects, walking over the gummy exudate, as it oozes from the bark of the diseased twigs, which is swarming with the germs of the blight, carry it to other trees, which in turn become infected. The disease may also be spread by the use of infected pruning tools. To avoid this, the knife used in cutting diseased wood must not be used again until properly disinfected.

CONTROL OF THE DISEASE.

The work of the various investigators has shown that the disease may be controlled, if not entirely eradicated. No great alarm need be occasioned by its presence, if directions for control are faithfully carried out. The disease should be cut out immediately it appears. Where it is rapidly progressing, the limb should be cut a foot below the infected part. Where it has passed down a shoot into a limb, the bark around the cankered area should be cut away four or five inches. After each cut the tool used should be disinfected. Formalin is good for this purpose, and will not rust the tools. Corrosive sublimate, in the strength of one to one thousand is also satisfactory. The cut surfaces of the wound should also be swabbed with the disinfectant, and large wounds painted over to prevent the entrance of wound parasites. All twigs which are removed must be collected at the time of cutting and burned. As new infections may constantly be taking place, it is not possible to control the disease entirely in this way. It is, therefore, necessary to further go over the trees after the leaves have fallen, for at least three times, and carefully prune away and destroy all blighted parts. To detect all cases of the disease when it is no longer active is not always easy. Usually, however, quite a clear line of demarcation exists between the diseased and the healthy wood, the former being dark brown and the latter a pale green. Where the disease has formed a "hold-over" canker at the base of a water sprout or twig, this can usually be detected by the crack which forms around the diseased area.

As a measure of precaution, it is well to remove all suckers from the trees in infected districts, as these long sappy shoots are particularly liable to attack. Last, but by no means least in importance, the grower must practice systematic and continuous spraying for aphids and leaf hoppers. The presence of numbers of these pests in infected orchards is a menace to others which are still free from the disease. Spraying with black leaf, or black leaf 40, should be resorted to as often as necessary to hold them in check.

SUMMARY OF CONTROL MEASURES.

- 1.—Cut out the disease as it appears. 2.—Cut out again after the leaves have fallen. 3.—Spray for aphides and other insects. 4.—Destroy wild plants when found to be affected with disease. 5.—Carefully disinfect tools and the cut surfaces of wood. 6.—Destroy by burning all prunings from diseased trees.

Peach Season Commences.

Three Packing Houses Busy. Straight Carloads Being Shipped.

The Packing Houses are busy places this week. Fruit is now coming in freely and the packers are working overtime. Triumph peaches are the principal commodity this week, and for the first time straight carloads have been shipped. One carload went out on Monday for the prairie—this was a straight car of Triumphs. Two cars of Triumphs were shipped on Wednesday in addition to about another car of mixed fruit for transshipment at the head of the lake. Each day from one half to a carload of fruit goes out in this way. One carload of Triumph peaches (small sizes) goes to the Vernon cannery today (Friday), and another car is being prepared for the same destination for shipment on Tuesday. The Packing House at West Summerland is now receiving a considerable quantity of fruit which is being transferred to the down town Packing House for shipment from here.

Messrs. Stirling & Pitcairn are also busy in a smaller way. This firm makes straight purchases from the grower, and their prices this week have run about 1 1/2 cents per lb. for peaches, plums, and early apples. They report peaches coming in in good shape, with the exception that some of the early varieties are a little small.

TO RE-ORGANIZE BAND.

A public meeting has been called by Reeve Thomson, to be held in Elliott's Hall to-morrow (Saturday) at eight o'clock, to consider the advisability of re-organizing the Summerland Citizen's Band. All those who are in any way interested are asked to be present.

TEAMSTER GETS LEG BROKEN.

An accident resulting in a broken leg occurred at Richardson's Mill on Monday night. Fred Lynch, a teamster, while about his work in the stable, was kicked in the leg by one of the horses, breaking the bone. He was brought by automobile to the Cottage Hospital, where the bone was set on Tuesday evening. The patient is doing well.

CHERRY SHIPMENTS.

The cherry season is now over and very satisfactory crops have been harvested. The greater part of the output of Summerland orchards was marketed through the Okanagan Fruit Union. It is understood that more than thirty tons of cherries were shipped from this point this season.

He sat in his door at noon-day, lonely and glum and sad; the flies were buzzing about him, led by a blue-winged "gad," not a customer darkened his portal, not a sign of business was there, but the flies kept on buzzing about the old man's hair; at last in misery he shouted, "Grant Scott, I'm covered with flies," and the zephyrs that toyed with his whiskers, whiskered, "Why don't you advertise?"

CHEAP FARES FOR FRUIT PICKERS.

In order to secure sufficient help to handle the record fruit crop of the Okanagan, the C. P. R. will give special passenger rates amounting to single fare, for the round trip, to fruit pickers coming to the Okanagan from the Coast or other points.

An arrangement to this effect has just been secured by Mr. D. Gellatly, the well-known fruit grower, who went to Vancouver to represent the fruit growers of his district, and to interview the C.P.R. passenger officials with a view to securing some concessions in that respect. The pressing need of assisting the fruit growers of the interior, by giving special rates to pickers seeking employment during the busy season, at once appealed to the C. P. R. officials, especially as there is a prospect of a considerable amount of the crop being lost or damaged if there is not sufficient help to pick it in time.

Mr. W. H. Brodie, C. P. R. Passenger Agent, has accordingly instructed his assistant traffic manager by wire, to issue a special tariff at once, putting in a rate of single fare for the round trip, tickets to be second class, good going August 1st to 30th, limited to return to November 30, for the benefit of the fruit pickers.

As the fruit harvest will be very heavy this year, this concession to the fruit pickers by the railway will be of great advantage.

CONSTRUCTION CAMPS INSPECTED.

A report having been circulated that the waters of Trout Creek, the source of the domestic water supply for Summerland, were being polluted by the employees of the Kettle Valley River Railway contractors, Dr. Smith, Medical Health Officer, visited the camps on the 3rd inst., and found them well situated and sanitary arrangements carried out in good order. He was shown every courtesy by the contractors, and speaks highly of the care evinced by those responsible. The occasional muddying of the water by blasts and dumps can hardly be avoided.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

There was a good attendance on Saturday, when the first stage of the Price Ellison Cup was shot off. During one part of the shoot, there was a heavy shower of rain which affected the scoring slightly. This week the final stage will be shot of this competition, and from Saturday's scores the event is quite open yet. Leading scores:—

Regular School Board Meeting.

Conveyance Contracts and Town School Matters Most Prominent Features.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of School Trustees was held in the Municipal Building, West Summerland, on Monday evening, instead of in the morning as usual. All the members of the Board, with the exception of Trustee Robinson, were present, with Chairman G. J. C. White at the head of the table. The chief business was the drawing up of the contracts for the conveyance of the children, and personal interviews with the contractors.

COMMUNICATIONS.

After the reading of the minutes the communications were read. One was an application from Mrs. C. G. Lister for a position on the municipal teaching staff, and another was a letter from Miss A. E. Williams, the teacher of the Town School, asking for some necessary repairs, etc.

Only two tenders were received for the caretaking of the Central School, one from John W. Campbell at $24 per month, and the other from Alexander McLean for $290 per year; the latter undertaking, in addition to the usual janitor work, the care of the grounds, trees, etc. The Board decided to give Mr. McLean a trial. He claims to be an experienced man in this line of work. The Italian who looked after the buildings last year was paid $275. Some of the Board expressed surprise at the fewness of tenders, saying that they expected there would be a good number. The Secretary, upon being asked if he advertised in the Review, replied in the negative, saying that he had posted typewritten notices about West Summerland.

THE CONVEYANCE CONTRACTS.

The contractors for the various routes were present by request, the contractors being A. H. Steven, J. R. Campbell and H. Dunham. They were each given a copy of a contract form, which they were asked to approve of, or point out any objectionable features.

As there was much criticism expressed last year of the form of contract, it will be of interest to our readers to have now a copy of the agreement between the Board and the various contractors for the coming year, of which the following is an outline:

"WITNESSETH that the Contractor, for the consideration hereinafter specified has agreed to convey to and from the Central School, in the Municipality of Summerland, the school children, in a rig furnished by the School Board, on each and every school day for the term of one year, commencing July 1st, 1912, on the following route, known as No. ... being further described as follows:

"The said contractor hereby guarantees to take the children to school on each and every day at least five minutes before the opening of the school, and from the school immediately after the close of the school. The rate of travel on route, team, driver and rugs, when necessary to be furnished, must all be satisfactory to the School Board and approved of by them.

"The rigs furnished by the School Board must be properly cared for by the Contractor, and kept under cover when not in use and not to be used for any other purpose without the consent of the School Board. The Contractor to be responsible for order on the rigs by the children and for any accident to the rigs.

"The said contractor shall be liable in the penal sum of Five Dollars for each and every day that the said contractor shall fail to fulfil his part of this Contract.

"For which causes and on the other part, the School Board agrees to pay to the Contractor or his heirs or assigns, for the due carrying out of said Contract, the price or sum of ... for each and every day said contractor shall convey the school children on said route to and from the Central School, which sum will be paid on or before the fifteenth day of the following month.

"Further, the Treasurer, of the School Board may demand exhibit of wage bills, duly attested, and vouchers for the payment of the same, before paying over the amount passed by the School Board, and he may pay any wages that may be found due, as a first charge on such funds so passed by the School Board, without any further or other warrant or authority, and that notwithstanding any orders or assignments that may be issued by the Contractor."

Mr. Steven said that it had been his custom during the last year to take back on the return trip any express parcels for West Summerland, and he would like to have the privilege of doing so this year, putting these parcels in the school vehicle, as otherwise he would have to make a special trip or have another wagon down town for the return and leave the school rig there. It was the general opinion of the Board that there would be no objection to such use being made of the wagon provided the privilege was not abused. Again, at the opening of each term at the College, Mr. Steven, after delivering the school children in town, had waited for the arrival of the boat, and taken a load of students up with him. This privilege also he would like to have with the Trustees' conveyance, and to this request no objection was made.

Two of the new vehicles which have arrived had not been inspected by all the members of the Board. One or two of those who had seen them doubted if they were the same as those pictured in the catalogue from which they were ordered. It was the opinion that the rigs ordered were closed in behind, while the two which had arrived were unprotected except by a drop curtain, and there was danger of the youngsters falling or being pushed out of the rear, which would give them a nasty tumble. The inspection of the vehicles, to see that they complied with the contract, and also to have the rear end made satisfactory, was left with Chairman White and Secretary Logie.

THE TOWN SCHOOL.

Miss Williams' letter was then taken up. The fact that water seeping from a leaky pipe was constantly present along the road and approach to the Town School, causing a nasty mud hole, as well as injuring the foundation of the building, was again called to the attention of the Board. In explanation of this, Secretary Logie said the matter had already been referred to the Council, and by them had been taken up with Superintendent Mitchell, who claimed that it was impossible to do anything with it.

In reply to a question to the Review's representative, who had already been speaking to some of the Board on the matter, it was explained that the reason for the water being present in such quantity was that the walk from the street to the building acted as a dam, and that by placing a small culvert under the walk the water would rapidly run off. The Chairman thought that this might be a good way to overcome the difficulty.

Another request from Miss Williams was that some repairs be made to the interior where plaster had fallen from the walls. This matter, according to the Secretary, had been already placed in the hands of Mr. J. G. Robertson, who had promised to make the repairs the first week in August.

The windows that would not open or needed hinges, the stopped up ventilator, the dangerous flagstaff, the dirty windows, and the unsanitary conditions of the lavatories, were other matters called to the attention of the Board in the teacher's letter. These matters were left with Trustee Robinson and Secretary Logie to be made right, as was also the advertising for and engaging of a caretaker for the same school.

A GOOD CROP.

One hundred and fifty pounds of apricots from a three-year-old tree seems like a big crop. But as an example of what can be expected from young fruit trees in Summerland's orchards the information given to the Review in reference to the crop of five three-year-old apricot trees on the property of H. J. Fenner, is furnished below. These three-year-old trees have been rather severely pruned with a result that the limbs are short and strong, enabling them to support a heavy crop of fruit. The fruit had been thinned at the proper time. A total of seven hundred and fifty pounds of apricots were taken from the five trees, and netted the grower three cents per lb.

H.R.H. THE DUCHESS OF CONNAUGHT.

Her Royal Highness will accompany the Governor-General on his Western trip, when he visits the Coast, the Okanagan, etc. It is anticipated that she will formally open the International Congress of Farm Women, at Lethbridge, Alberta, on October 22 next.

HANGED AT KAMLOOPS.

Unless reprieves were granted at the last moment, Walter Poelke, alias Walter James, who shot Provincial Constable Aston on board the steamer "Okanagan," on 19th of March last, was hanged in Kamloops jail to-day (Friday), as was also McDougall, of Westbank, the half breed who shot and killed another member of his tribe. While waiting for the consummation of the sentence on the murderer of Constable Aston, it has been found necessary to keep a constant watch upon him. Two attempts to escape have been made.

What is the daily round of woman? It is a round of self-sacrifice, of many acts, each one of which doth shine as a little star.—Leonardo de Vinci.

A suggestion by Miss Williams that the Board meet the teachers at the beginning of the term and discuss with them a better and more satisfactory way of providing the schools with the necessary supplies was favorably received. The Chairman suggested that the new Principal of the Public Schools be asked to meet with the Board at its next regular session in September, and this was adopted.

ACCOUNTS PASSED.

The following accounts were passed for payment:

Salaries	$427.50
Water Rates	0.00
Wm. Korr, microscope	12.00
G. L. McWilliams, supplies	3.90
Vancouver Province, advertising	12.45
J. G. Robertson	3.50
Rowley Co., advertising, etc.	12.48
Total	480.83

Another account passed conditionally was that from Wm. Ritchie for $600, for the two school wagons. The account will be paid if it is shown that the vehicles delivered are according to tender.

Another K.V.R. Contract.

Grading Will Begin South of Naramata.

Another contract has been awarded by the Kettle River Valley Railway Company. This is for the construction of 57 miles of line from the lower end of the Lake northward through Naramata and to Hydraulic Summit, not far from Kelowna. At Hydraulic Summit the line will join that already being projected northward through the Kettle Valley, and now some miles north of Carmi. Messrs. Grant, Smith & Co., of Spokane, have been awarded the contract for this 57 miles, and work will be started at once. Grading will commence on the benches south of Naramata.

More men have arrived from Vancouver to work on the Merritt section of the Kettle Valley Railway. They will be engaged in ballasting, lifting and surfacing the thirty miles of track on which steel is laid, and when the work is done there is every probability that the scene of operations will be moved to the other end of the line.

The track is already in pretty good shape and when the final dressing is completed, it is probable that an accommodation train will cover over thirty miles during the fall.

Six weeks should certainly see the end of the work on that section, or at the very most two months more will be needed. The telegraph lines and posts have yet to be installed, and also the section houses and the stations.

A party is now within one mile and a half of the loop near Merritt, having completed the work from the Coquahalla end. When the connection is made with the completed section of the road, this party will work down the Coquahalla into Hope.

The crew who are re-opening the road for ballasting are now nearing Merritt, and it is expected that ballasting can be begun in a short time.

LOCAL WATER SYSTEMS.

A branch of the water system is being extended to the Packing House and C.P.R. wharf, and already much of the pipe has been laid along the shore road from the Post Office crossing toward the wharf, along the side next to the hill. Why that side was chosen for the pipeline does not seem clear, as it is not probable that buildings will be erected on that side of the street, while the other side is likely to be completely built in, and every connection made will have to be by opening up the street and laying a lateral across. The question why the main has been placed where it is is being asked, but in the absence of Supt. Mitchell, who is this week at the head waters, his reason for so doing could not be ascertained.

Coun. Dunsdon, Chairman of the Board of Works, and Supt. Mitchell, are back in the hills this week investigating the proposed site for the conserving of an additional water supply.

Engineer F. H. Latimer has gone over the route of the proposed pipeline for the Paradise Flat domestic water system. At present that district is being supplied through the irrigation pipeline, but when the irrigation water is closed off, another source of supply will be required. Connection will be made for this purpose with two springs across Trout Creek. It is for the laying of the pipe that Engineer Latimer is getting the necessary details.

PENTICTON TELEPHONE STAFF CHANGES.

Mr. G. F. Layton, who for some time has been local manager at Penticton for the Okanagan Telephone Company, has severed his connection with that concern, and joined staff of the Government Telephone and Telegraph Service, and will be in charge of both branches at the south end of the Lake. Mr. A. J. Woodburn, who recently moved from Summerland to Penticton, succeeds Mr. Layton on the staff of the Okanagan Telephone Company.

Alfalfa is being cut for the third time this season.

Mrs. Lewis Block returned to Naramata last Saturday.

Miss Macaloney, from Nova Scotia, is the guest of Mrs. Hatfield.

Miss Parks went up to Penticton last Tuesday, where she expects to remain for several weeks.

Mr. James Parks has gone up to Penticton where he has taken a position with the Bank of Commerce.

The Boy Scouts passed through Kaleden on their way to camp at the Falls. They have taken over the tents lately occupied by the Girl Guides.

The ladies of the Mission Circle met at the home of Mrs. Hatfield last Wednesday afternoon, when a very profitable hour was passed in the study of mission work.

The young men of the town are arranging a delightful picnic for next Saturday afternoon in the country. Everyone is looking forward with pleasure to this outing.

We regret to report the continued sickness of Mrs. O. E. Tomlin. She is, however, in the charge of Nurse Harvey, and it is hoped that she will soon be amongst us again.

Mr. William King with his sister Miss Vera King, Miss Findlay, Mr. Judson Findlay, and Miss Iva Simpson drove up to Summerland last Saturday, returning on Monday evening.

The removal of stock has taken place during the week into the new store, which is a very commodious building. The enterprise and courtesy of our esteemed storekeeper is greatly appreciated.

A party from Summerland, consisting of Rev. F. W. Pattison, Mrs. E. Pattison, Miss Jean Pattison, Miss M. Dowd and Prof. C. D. Denton arrived last Thursday, returning home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Nelson returned to Summerland last Monday. Mr. Nelson was able to take some excellent photographs, and was greatly pleased with the prosperous appearance of this rapidly growing community.

By the invitation of the Girl Guides of Penticton, an excursion party went down to Okanagan Falls last Thursday evening to attend the farewell concert. About forty people availed themselves of this pleasure and pronounced the evening most enjoyable.

A large gathering took place in the Schoolroom last Friday evening in honor of the visit of the Rev. F. W. Pattison. An excellent supper was served at 6.30 p.m. which was well patronized. At eight o'clock the friends assembled to hear an address by Mr. Pattison on "The Strong Man and the Young Nation," which not only gave great pleasure but was full of strong and helpful thoughts for all. A collection of $16.80 was taken in aid of a projected church building.

The Hotel register for this week has the following names: J. Dayton Williams, Kelowna; H. S. Keating, Edmonton, Alta.; Jas. Ritchie, Summerland; R. B. Verner, Vasseau Lake; W. T. Jones, Summerland; Dr. and Mrs. McGregor, Penticton; Mrs. Pattison, Miss Jean Pattison, Rev. F. W. Pattison, Prof. C. D. Denton, all of Summerland; Miss M. Dowd, Orange, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Object Lesson in Practical Horticulture.

Excerpts from the report of PROFESSOR H. E. VAN DEMAN, Horticulturist, United States Department of Agriculture.

The eastern horticulturist has much to learn from the experience of his western co-laborer. In the orchard of the Stark Brothers, near Littlejohn, just south of Denver, Colorado, there are 93 acres, all ordinary upland, and it is neither flat nor hilly, but generally sloping in several directions, principally to the north-west. It was planted four years ago to apple, pear, plum and cherry trees. There are in all some twelve thousand trees.

THE SECRET IN THE CULTIVATION.

The remarkable thing is that there has been no irrigation in this orchard except a very little the first year, and the trees have made a fairly vigorous growth every year. I found on many of the trees a sufficiently heavy crop of fruit for trees so young, and although it was not so large as if irrigation had been practiced, it was by no means poor. There had been no rain of any consequence for several months, and yet the trees showed no signs of drought.

Just across the roadway from this orchard a wild prairie looked like a desert, almost devoid of anything like life. The ground was not naturally sub-irrigated, for a ditch ten feet deep in which to lay a Denver city water main, was being dug along one side of the orchard; it plainly showed no signs of seepage on the land where the orchard stood. The whole secret of success lay in frequent but shallow cultivation.

I was told by the foreman that the whole orchard had been cultivated once a week since spring. This was the regular order during the growing season unless the ground was too wet. The tools used are such as stir thoroughly but not more than three or four inches deep. A disc harrow and another harrow with a heavy slab-drag attachment, which at once presses and smooths the finely pulverised surface, are preferred. The smooth surface presents as little of the moist earth as possible to the evaporating influences of the sun and wind. Aside from suppressing a growth of weeds the express purpose is to keep in the earth the moisture which is deposited by the rains.

PREVENTING EVAPORATION.

With only about one-eighth as much rainfall as is common in a large part of our country, scarcely a tree would have survived any of the four years they have stood, except for the cultivation. It prevents evaporation in much the same manner that a blanket preserves a chunk of ice.

Accurate scientific experiment made at the State Experiment Station at Champaign, Illinois, has proved that an average tree extracted from the soil and dissipated into the air about five inches (in depth) of water in the course of one summer, and the Stark orchard seems to corroborate this theory on a large scale, and that, too, where the rarer air, and generally more intense evaporating influences prevail than at Champaign. The thin mulch of finely pulverised soil acts as a non-conducting stratum between the moist subsoil and the dry atmosphere.

One would be very dull who would not reasonably conclude that if this orchard has been safely brought through the trying summers of Colorado with only a very scanty supply of moisture from the clouds, other cultivators need have no fear from the short droughts they are likely to experience. If they will keep shallow but wide cultivators going, they will not only keep down the weeds by nipping them in the bud and at small expense, but they may defy any ordinary dry spell. Of course this method can be properly tested only where the soil is either naturally or artificially thoroughly under-drained. Especially after every rain should harrowing be done as soon as the ground can be worked.

This one lesson in practical horticulture, if heeded, will be worth millions to the country.

GROCERY STORE CHICKS.

Mr. R. J. Terry, Chief Poultry Instructor of the Department of Agriculture, issues a timely warning against exposing eggs in shop windows or other places where the sun has access to them. He has in his possession a photograph recently taken in Vancouver of a box of eggs, which, when he first saw it, was standing on the pavement in the full glare of the sun at a temperature of about 110 degrees. It was afterwards removed into a shady corner where the thermometer registered 82 degrees. Even at this latter temperature fertile eggs will hatch out in twenty-four days, and as many of the eggs for sale are fertile, any keeping of them in a temperature of 70 degrees for over six hours can safely be trusted to induce germination and so render them unfit for food.

CANADA'S FRUIT INDUSTRY.

According to statistics gleaned from the 1911 census of Canada, the total capital value of the fruit growing industry in British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces is, in round numbers $12,000,000. This is the estimate worked out by the Chief of the Markets Division of the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch of the Department of Agriculture, and published in the printed report of the proceedings of the third conference of fruit growers of Canada, held in Ottawa last February. This conference, which lasted three days, was a very important one from many standpoints, as it was busily engaged during its six sessions with matters of greatest moment to the great and growing industry represented. Among the subjects dealt with were co-operation, new fruits, refrigeration, fruit packages, amendments to the Inspection and Sale Act, transportation, crop and market reports, etc.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

SOLOMON did not set up one standard for the girls and another for the boys; he says—"train up a child." One child in the dear home nest is as lovely to us as another, and yet there are but few homes where the boys are as tenderly shielded as the girls. We are not quite as careful to watch their daily formation of habits and their conversation as we are that of the "girlies." They are more exuberant in spirit, and we send them out of the house for the sake of quiet—after that the girls may practice their music.

SAYS A FATHER of a small family to us, "My boys and girls do not leave the door yard after seven o'clock unless especially detained." We know of others that adopted the same rule years ago and their sons and daughters are to-day a credit to the town and community. There is nothing elevating in street education.

PLAN OUT your life on a big scale, whether you are a farmer's daughter, or a shepherdess among the hills, or the flattered pet of a drawing-room filled with statuary and bric-a-brac. Stop where you are and make a plan for your lifetime. You cannot be satisfied with a life of frivolity and giggle and indiscretion. Trust the world, and it will cheat you if it does not destroy you. The "Redoubtable" was the name of an enemy's ship that Lord Nelson spared twice from demolition, but that same ship afterwards sent the ball that killed him, and the world on which you smile may aim at you its deadliest weapon.

POOR, indescribably poor, is that girl who has gifts, a clear mind and active hands, and who has not been taught how to use them, wandering aimlessly through life, mediocre in everything, without definite aim, seeking vainly for occupations to amuse or distract, performing her body to gratify vanity, injuring herself by late hours and bad food, sparkling dimly in the struggle for a wealthy husband, and then as a wife realizing her weakness and lack of worth; as a mother, weeping bitter, stinging tears as she sees the results of her miserable life magnified in her children, and wailing piteously for help and strength when it is too late. No sarcasm this; the scientific man turns to his work with a heavy heart after studying such a case. But object teaching is Nature's teaching, and many repetitions are necessary before people will take the lesson and its full meaning to heart.

NOTHING is better calculated to ruin a small boy than for him to have two homes, to either of which he is permitted to go at will. If mother reproves him or chastises him for naughtiness, he takes his hat and goes over to grandma's or auntie's house. There he is received, cajoled, petted and permitted to remain a day or two, or perhaps a week. Then, because of some overt act, he is reprovved, and picks up his hat and goes off home, where he is kindly received and no reference made to his former misconduct. In this way he is permitted to oscillate between two homes, all the time developing his disregard of the restraints of rightful authority. Trained in this way, he grows up self-willed, has no regard for the rights or wishes of others, and unless some remarkable freak of grace interposes to check his wild career, he is pretty certain to land in the penitentiary.

IT IS EXTREMELY unpleasant for a sensitive woman who, before marriage, has been earning her own living and had been accustomed to spending her income as she pleased, to ask a man for money to buy everything she needs. It seems to us no more right that a man should give his wife, for her own necessities, at least half as much money as he would a servant. She keeps his house, provides for the comfort of himself and children, not for hire, but because she loves them, and she cares for her husband's interests as no hired housekeeper would, and is she not entitled to pay for her services? Yet some men would think it a hardship to have to pay a wife the amount he would be obliged to pay a servant girl. There is many a woman among the working classes who would think herself highly favored if she were sure of fifty cents per week of her husband's wages to spend as she pleased. The above hints are for the husbands who need them, and written in consideration of their good wives.

DON'T encourage the visits of a tattling and tale-bearing woman, who knows all the low, bad things that pass among your neighbors, but nothing good.

SOME persons foolishly imagine that the clothes makes the man. Fine feathers do not make a fine bird, except sometimes a jail bird. The insane love for fine and fashionable clothing has been the beginning of a downward life of many a boy and girl.

ADVERTISING PROVED AGAIN.

Mary had a little lamb, it's fleece was white as snow; it strayed away one summer day, where lambs should never go. Then Mary sat down and tears streamed from her pretty eyes; she never found her lamb because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John, who kept the village store; he sat down and smoked his pipe and watched the open door. As people passed along but did not stop to buy, John still sat down and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eye. And so the sheriff closed him out, but still he lingered near, and Mary came and dropped with him a sympathizing tear. "How is it, sister, that all the other merchants here sell all the goods and pay their bills and thrive from year to year?" Remembering now her own bad luck, the little maid replied, "The other fellows got there, John, because they advertised."

Foolish four doubles danger.

ALFALFA—A MONEY MAKER

FRUIT GROWING is not the only branch of agriculture undertaken in Summerland, and one of the most important, next to fruit-growing, is likely to be the growing of alfalfa. Particularly is this true of the bottom lands and irregular out of the way parts of the fruit ranches. It is wonderful with what ease a good stand of this valuable fodder crop is obtained, in fact it seems to grow as naturally as a weed when once established. The very best use that can be made of the bottom lands, notably in the Trout Creek district, would be to sow it into alfalfa.

There is already one ranch of some 77 acres in that part of the municipality being brought into the growing of hay of different kinds, and at the present time something over 40 acres is sown to oats, timothy, clover and alfalfa. We refer to the property commonly known as the dairy property. This year some 17 acres of oat hay is being harvested, as well as 8 acres of timothy, 4 acres of clover and 4 acres of alfalfa. Another 3 acres have this year been sown to clover and another 7 to alfalfa. While very satisfactory crops have been harvested in each case, the alfalfa produced the best results. The 17 acres of oats has produced over 2½ tons per acre, bringing $20 per ton in the field, while the 4 acres of alfalfa have already yielded two crops, which were sold at $20 per ton in the field, making a total return this season to the present of $400 for the four acres, and there is an excellent prospect for another crop worth $150 to $200. This is the first year for this field. Next season, even better results are expected. The cost of production is proportionately low and three or four crops a season is a practical certainty, and, what is equally important, there is a local market for all that can be produced. It does not require particularly good soil in which to grow alfalfa, and it does excellently with very little moisture. Especially does this apply where it is grown on bottom lands where the sub-soil is naturally moist. On the benches where there is natural drainage there is, of course, need for irrigation. We do not believe it will be long before there will be many acres of this most excellent dairy fodder grown in this district, much to the profit of the grower.

EUROPEAN FRUIT PROSPECTS.

THE CANADIAN Department of Trade and Commerce has received from the British Foreign Office through the High Commissioner for Canada the results of consular enquiries as to the prospects for the fruit crop in several European countries. In France there is, generally speaking, a great shortage in every kind of fruit for export, but more especially of plums, peaches and black currants. There will only be available for export to the United Kingdom this season, at most, one half of the ordinary available quantities in an average year for pears, cherries, apricots and apples; but for prunes, peaches and black currants there will only be available one third, if that of the usual supplies, and their price will probably be about one-third higher than last year. Fruit prospects in Belgium are very meagre. It appears likely that the Belgian fruit crop this year will be unsatisfactory and the fruit poor in quality and restricted in quantity. In Holland the fruit crop is generally satisfactory. Plums form an exception as they were affected by night frosts at the time of blossoming. Peaches under glass are moderate on the whole; those in the open air are reported to be bad with the exception of those in the well-known district of Westland where the condition is from good to very good. It is probable that in Germany the crop of almost every kind of fruit will be small this year, and considerably worse than in 1911. In the Berlin district it is expected that there will be a medium crop of apples and pears, a fairly small crop of stone fruits, a bad crop of all varieties of berries and a small crop of nuts. Considerable dissatisfaction existed amongst fruit growers with the prices obtained in 1911, and this year attempts are being made to fix a minimum price below which the growers will not sell. In Norway reports of the probable harvest of apples are somewhat discouraging, and the same applies more or less to pears. For cherries, plums and bush fruits the prospects are considerably better.

The Hungarian Agricultural Department reports that for Hungarian plums and pears show the best promise. Spring frosts injured other fruit trees and only an insignificant yield of peaches is looked for. Nuts also promise a poor yield.

LONG SCHOOL DAY UNNECESSARY.

THAT the long school day is not necessary for the end desired has been shown both by accidental circumstances and by experiment. In 1909 it happened that many thousands of children had to be restricted to half-day attendance because of the overcrowded conditions of the schools. A well-known authority in child hygiene made a thorough study of the progress made by these "half-timers," and was forced to the conclusion that in New York, at least under the school conditions then existing, a half-day was productive of better results than a whole day. It is interesting to note that the results of this study were never published.

Experience proves that by a half-hour of daily instruction for one or two years any intelligent mother can prepare her child to enter the third grade at the age of eight years. One hour of the daily private instruction continued to the thirteenth or fourteenth year would fulfil all the academic requirements for entrance into the high school.

The cry of the teachers is always "not enough time for the required work." To have each grade "cover the course of study" month by month delights the superintendent's heart. It is an end to work for. If he would spend half as much time and energy in searching for and cutting out the unnecessary work as he now devotes to the framing up of rigid prescribed courses he would have at the end of the school year a class just as brilliant mentally and with a good many more red corpuscles.—Lewis M. Terman, Ph. D., in "Harper's Weekly"

SWATTING THE FLIES.

IT IS EASIER to deal with the house fly by anticipating his arrival than by "swatting" him after he has arrived. If he can be put out of business before he emerges from the embryo stage there will obviously be no arrival. The fly is an active insect but he is not a long distance traveller. He rarely gets far away from the place of his nativity. He believes in sticking pretty close around headquarters and associating with his own particular clan. Half a mile is a tremendously long journey for a house fly and he will not go that far if good food happens to be plentiful in the locality he claims as his home and fireside. If all stables, pig pens, out houses and other places where filth abounds were thoroughly cleaned out at reasonable intervals, there would be but few flies to scatter disease and torment humanity.

BIG PEACH EXHIBIT FROM THE OKANAGAN.

WHAT, it is claimed, will be the largest exhibit of peaches ever shown in America will be a feature at the midsummer exposition of the Vancouver Exhibition Association. These peaches are going from Summerland, Kelowna, Penticton and Armstrong. It is still fresh in the memory of many that the greatest display of Jonathan apples ever shown anywhere in the world was made by the Okanagan district at the Vancouver Apple Show. Now this district proposes to give the world another astonisher. The fruit will go to Vancouver in three special refrigerator cars and will be unloaded right at the grounds.

Ice Plant Next.

Yet Another Industry for Naramata.

The Ice Plant which was initially planned in connection with the Soda Works at Naramata is to be installed this winter, and is expected will be in full operation by April of next year.

In addition to the manufacture of ice, the Carbonating company intend installing cold storage for the benefit of the local fruit growers, and they will produce as well a superior grade of ice cream.

Mr. F. L. Roe states that after a most thorough investigation of the various methods of producing artificial ice, he and his associates have practically decided to install the British-Linde system which produces a clear, transparent ice from filtered water. A ten ton unit will be installed first and this will be added to from time to time as the demand increases.

The promoters of this enterprise believe that an ice and cold storage plant in this section of the country is a real and present need, and they are prepared to promise delivery of high grade ice at a lower price than it costs to harvest and store it under the present method.

Work on the necessary buildings is to commence as soon as the plans are complete, and an ice machinery expert is now on his way West to prepare plans for the plant itself.

The Carbonating Company also plans to build a boat for the transportation of their various products, thus making it possible to give prompt and satisfactory service. Naramata is to be congratulated on her progressiveness.

Mrs. Redman, of Vancouver, is visiting her niece, Mrs. James Ritchie.

T. Wilson, Inspector of Indian orchards, is making an official tour of the Okanagan.

T. J. Smith of Vancouver was a visitor in Summerland and Naramata last week end.

W. H. Mallett, Brandon, a Summerland property owner, registered at the Hotel early this week.

Professor I. G. Matthews of McMaster University, Toronto, was in town for a day or two early this week.

A. L. Moreland is acting as assistant Dominion Express Agent, giving his time to the heavy fruit shipments now being made.

Miss A. McDougald, who has been assisting Postmaster Hayes for some time, returned to her home in Peachland last Saturday.

A. G. Campbell, formerly a teacher in Okanagan College, has recently returned from Chicago University, where he has been taking a post graduate course.

Invitations are out to the marriage of Miss Georgina Logie and Mr. Campbell Robinson. The wedding will be held at the bride's home on the 21st of August.

James Ritchie's auto met with an accident on the Eneas Gulch road last week. While nearing the top of the hill the car backed off the side of the road. No one was injured.

C.P.R. Agent, George Ross, has been confined to his home for some days through illness. Early this week it was feared he was developing typhoid, but later indications are that this is not the case, and that he will soon be able to resume his duties. In the meantime another man has been telegraphed for.

A tall, distinguished looking gentleman visited the Carbonating Company's factory the other day, minutely inspected the methods of production, and said he had been sampling the goods at the Hotel Naramata, considering them the finest he had ever tasted. Before leaving, he ordered a barrel sent to his home in Victoria.

Mr. Rowley's new speed boat the "Lil" performed excellently at the Kelowna Regatta Wednesday and Thursday, taking the free for all, also winning the race for the fastest open gasoline boat on the lake. While making the fastest time Mr. Rowley, however, lost the handicap race because of his making better time in the race than his handicap would allow.

Beginning next Thursday the Maude Moore will leave Summerland at 2 o'clock for the purpose of carrying picnics to the newly arranged picnic grounds of the Ferry Co. on the shore at Naramata. The return trip will be made leaving Naramata at 7.30. Picnic tables, bathing tents, etc., will be provided free. Arrangements may be made either with the Manager, P. S. Roe, or Norman Alexander.

APPLE SHIPMENTS.

As the apple shipments have now ceased for the season, the following figures may be of interest. Total shipments for the season 1911-12 were as follows: From Nova Scotia, 1,150,000 barrels; from Ontario, 875,000 barrels; from the United States, 1,072,051 barrels; total, 2,607,000 barrels.

Of the lot from the United States, probably 100,000 were pears. The total number of boxes shipped from the United States was 480,961, which were shipped to the following points: To Liverpool, 134,213; to London, 192,237; to Glasgow, 47,782; to Hamburg, 59,767; to various ports, principally Scandinavian, 45,962.

As a rule these figures are seldom dissected, and many Americans, seeing the total of 2,607,000 barrels, might think that they were all shipped from the United States. As will be seen from the above figures, Nova Scotia shipped out more apples than the United States.—Exchange.

Better Dinners

"Is dinner ready, Mary?"

"Yes, Madam—it is ready, and, I think, a great success."

"Your cooking is improving."

"Well perhaps it is, and I hope so, but really, Mrs. Housewife, I think our new Gurney-Oxford is partly responsible for the success I have had lately. I was never able to cook roasts and fowl so well on our old stove, and as for bread and biscuits, I used to tremble when I went to take them from the oven—they were so often soggy and heavy. Now they are always light and beautifully brown, and, if I do say it myself, something to be proud of."

"That's true, Mary, my husband has said almost the same thing. I'm awfully glad you approve of my choice of a Gurney-Oxford. He approves because of the saving in coal since we got it, also because of the better meals he is getting."

"Indeed he's right, Madam—and it requires so little attention."

"That's fine, Mary. Will you serve dinner in a few minutes please."

Naramata Notes.

Mr. Frank Palmer has gone to the prairies to engage in harvesting operations.

Miss McLellan, of Okanagan Falls, is spending a short vacation here with Miss Mitchell.

Mr. Reg. Boothe was home to spend the weekend, returning to Penticton on Sunday night's boat.

A large party went in Mr. Robinson's house boat to the Kelowna Regatta, and report having had an enjoyable outing.

Mr. T. J. Smith, of Vancouver, into the Valley on a trip of inspection of his Summerland interests, took time to spend a few hours in Naramata.

The Packing House is doing the only rushing business these days. The shipments of apricots, peaches and tomatoes are very creditable indeed.

Mr. W. H. Mallett, of Brandon, who has a fine orchard in Summerland, spent Monday evening of this week in town the guest of his sister Mrs. W. H. Mitchell.

A special meeting of the qualified electors of the district is called to meet in the School on the 17th of August, to elect another Trustee instead of Mr. Hancock, who has declined to accept the appointment.

Hotel Naramata is certainly receiving a large share of the tourist patronage this season, and if the prairie people could only be put wise to the possibilities of Naramata as a winter resort there would certainly be things doing here soon.

The new steam laundry, opened for business on Monday, with Mr. Frank Edgar, an expert laundryman, in charge. This institution is another indication of the progressive character of this community. The machinery is all first-class and is run by water power, supplied by the Trust Company's irrigation and domestic water system.

Amongst the tourists recently registered at Hotel Naramata are: E. J. Manchie, Vancouver; Miss Sampson, Winnipeg; Mrs. J. R. Mitchell, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. L. Rush, Ottawa; W. H. Mallett, Brandon; Mrs. Jno. Lawson, and Mrs. McQuarrie, Goderich, Ontario; J. A. McFadden and Dr. Smith, of Stratford, Ontario.

The Unity Club picnic on Thursday of last week at Trout Creek drew almost the whole population of Naramata. The ferry, "Maude Moore," with the large picnic scow, and led by Mr. Robinson's own launch, the "Naramata" conveyed the big crowd in good time across the lake to the well-known camping grounds. In the course of the afternoon a program of sports was conducted by Miss Gladys Robinson and Mr. Gillespie, and a thoroughly enjoyable time was spent indeed. A fine meal was served to the crowd which with the visitors from Summerland numbered about two hundred on the wharf.

B.C. POULTRY ASSOCIATION.

There will be a meeting of the executive and directors of the British Columbia Poultry Association in Vancouver at the Exhibition Grounds, on August 14, at which the government grants to poultry associations holding shows during the winter will be allotted. On the following day a special general meeting of the association will be held to consider a revision of its constitution and by-laws.

Six new associations have become affiliated to the parent body since the last general meeting in April: Maple Ridge, Abbotsford, Chilliwack, Greenwood, Penticton and Kelowna, and the following associations are holding shows during the coming season: Vernon, Abbotsford, Mission City, Sidney and Sooke, Summerland, Greenwood, Kelowna, Maple Ridge, and Ashcroft.

The Trail Association, which has been purchasing grain from the prairies on a co-operative system since its inception, is now taking up the co-operative marketing of eggs.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior. N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Care of Green Lawns Easy If Done Aright.

It may be useful to point out under what conditions really good turf may be expected.

Watering is only a palliative measure at best; all the water in the world will not produce good turf or even keep it in good condition. It is the texture of the soil that must be looked to. Until that is right there will be little hope of a lawn that will withstand a summer drought.

Very often the garden is ruined at the start by the dumping of quantities of subsoil on it from the excavations of the new house, and in such cases it must be a matter of several seasons' "weathering" before the soil grows anything satisfactorily. But the usual light, dusty soil of the neighborhood is the more common problem, and here the remedy is to transform it into a good loam.

This may be done in various ways; by removing the turf and bringing the right kind of soil to the ground before relaying the sods; or—and this is the method more preferable where turf already exists—the ground may be improved as it stands by mulching, steady, persistent mulching throughout the year. The commonest form of mulching is the leaving of the cut grass on the ground. This will protect the roots from the sun and retain moisture and should be practiced wherever the lawn is not required for games.

To renovate the soil itself, mulching with well rotted manure mixed with wood ashes and rich loam should be resorted to. There should always be a heap of this maturing in the corner of the garden, and by sifting it and mixing with seed bare patches may be dressed at any time of the year. The rain washes the earth downwards and gradually the top spit is removed. Heavier dressings may be spread on in the autumn and left for the winter rains to wash in. Grass grows best in a firm surface, and to attain this it may be necessary to augment the natural soil with a dressing of clay. This can be applied in finely sifted particles of soil, but another method is to dissolve the clay in water and spray the ground with that. A surface is obtained in this way that will resist much wear and tear.

Two rules should be observed in connection with water. If watering is once begun it must be kept up, and the more given at a time the better. Little dribbles do nothing but harm; the ground must be well soaked, and it is astonishing what a great deal of water is necessary to do this in comparison with what a couple of hour's rain will achieve. The second point is that watering should never be done when the sun is shining. Breach of this will lead to worse scorching than anything else. The evening is preferable to the morning for watering.

MUNICIPAL COMMISSION.

The Provincial Government has appointed Messrs. H. A. Maclean, K. C., Victoria; W. H. Keary, New Westminster, and A. E. Bull, Vancouver, as a Municipal Commission which will enquire fully into the working of various forms of municipal government in the province, will listen to any complaints and be pleased to receive any suggestions looking to the betterment of civic administration. The commissioners desire all who are interested in these matters to be in attendance at the meetings and present their views.

The commissioners will then go east, visiting the principal cities in eastern Canada, and afterwards will go to Des Moines, Galveston, and other points in the United States where government by commission is in operation, for the purpose of ascertaining how it is working. Boards of Control will be a subject of inquiry in eastern Canada.

The Commission will hold its first session in Victoria on August 12 and 13, its itinerary as at present arranged is as follows: Victoria, August 12 and 13, Government Buildings, ten a.m.; Nanaimo, August 15; Vancouver, August 26, 27, 28 and 29; New Westminster, August 30 and 31; Kamloops, September 2; Vernon, September 3; Kelowna, September 4; Summerland, September 5; Penticton, September 6; Grand Forks, September 7; Rossland, September 10; Nelson, September 11; Cranbrook, September 13; Revelstoke, September 16.

AMERICANS STILL COMING.

The movement of farmers from the United States into the three Canadian prairie provinces—Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan—continues and increases. Last year more than 131,000 came, and the immigration officials say that they have advices which lead them to believe that the number of incoming American settlers this year will not be less than 175,000. Immigration, banking and railway officials agree in estimating that the average American settler brings with him at least $1,000 in cash and this seems to be a conservative estimate.

DON'T LEAVE THE FARM.

Come, boys, I have something to tell you.
Come near, I will whisper it low,
You are thinking of leaving the homestead;
Don't be in a hurry to go.
The city has many attractions,
But think of the vices and sins;
When once in the vortex of fashion,
How soon the course downward begins.

You talk of the mines of Australia,
They're wealthy in gold, without doubt,
But, ah! there is gold on the farm,
boys,
If only you'll shovel it out.
The mercantile life is a hazard,
The goods are first high and then low,
Better risk the old farm a while longer,
Don't be in a hurry to go.

The great, stirring world has inducements,
There is many a busy mart,
But wealth is not made in a day,
boys,
Don't be in a hurry to start!
The bankers and brokers are wealthy,
They take in their thousands or so;
Ah! think of the frauds and deceptions,
Don't be in a hurry to go!

The farm is the safest and surest,
The orchards are loaded to-day;
You're free as the air of the mountains,
And monarch of all you survey.
Better stay on the farm a while longer
Though profits should come rather slow;
Remember you've nothing to risk,
boys,
Don't be in a hurry to go.

—The Fruit Magazine.

KELOWNA ADOPTS SINGLE TAX SYSTEM.

The single tax principle has been endorsed by the members of the Kelowna city council, and it is probable that this year improvements will be exempted from taxation. The returns of the city assessor show the land values of the city tax roll to be $2,484,200, and the improvements $845,450. The portion of the school district outside the city limits totals $379,800, and the non-taxable property, including many young industrial plants, is assessed at $511,600.

It is probable that the tax rate this year will be about 20 mills on land values only. Heavy expenditures will be necessary for the sewerage system and other purposes, but with the adoption of the Henry George principle it will be possible to place a share of the burden on the large land owners and speculators, who are in many cases living outside the district.

The city is very busy preparing for the crowds of visitors which are expected. Five members of the city council have been appointed delegates to the Irrigation Convention, which promises to be a most elaborate and practical session.

TO PROTECT CANADIAN FORESTS

Ottawa, August 3.—Mr. James Lawler, of Ottawa, Secretary of the Canadian Forestry Association has just returned from Montreal and the City of Quebec, where he was making arrangements for the Dominion Forestry Convention to be held upon the invitation of the Government of British Columbia, in Victoria, B.C., on September 4, 5, and 6. He found great interest being taken in this convention, in which Sir Richard McBride and Hon. W. R. Ross will personally take part, and which will be held in the best time to see the Pacific Coast and the Prairies. Hon. Jules Allard, Minister of Lands and Forests for Quebec, has consented to attend and he will be accompanied by some of the officers of his department. Eastern lumbermen and forest engineers will also be well represented. The railways have granted greatly reduced rates for the return trip to Victoria to delegates. Mr. Lawler, who is looking after the arrangements, states that everything is looking well for one of the largest conventions ever held on the coast.

Penticton's Council is discussing the question of having that community raised to the dignity of a city.

Essentials In Making Good Alfalfa Hay.

Written by JOSEPH E. WING,

Author and Contributor to the Breeders' Gazette, Chicago, Illinois, for "DRY FARMING."

In the making of alfalfa hay there are a few simple but hard and fast rules that should be observed. Alfalfa should never be pastured in the spring nor cut too early. If this rule is broken the resultant loss is considerable. It should, however, be cut as soon as it is ready, as cutting too long delayed injures the quality of the hay and the succeeding crop as well.

THE TIME TO CUT.

The rule for cutting alfalfa is to allow it to begin to bloom, then carefully watch to see when small shoots appear at the crowns. When these shoots are an inch long, or thereabouts, the alfalfa is ready to cut. One must never cut before these shoots appear. They are a far more important sign and guide than the stage of blooming.

It is usually best to mow in the morning, as soon as most of the dew is off. If the tedder is used it should be handled with care, not to shake off the leaves, and one should discontinue its use in time. Rake the hay into small windrows while yet tough. The side delivery rake is best. Sometimes when the weather is favorable the hay may further cure in the windrows. Let it dry before raking as much as possible and not lose its leaves when handled.

It will pay to cock the hay in small cocks, not wide at the base, but as high as is convenient. This work is rapidly done by experienced men, and any man is soon taught. In these cocks the tough hay will withstand much rain with little damage. The next day, when the sun is strong and the outside of the cocks is dry, at ten o'clock or a little earlier, open the cocks in several small forkfuls, laying them out to dry in the sun. After it is opened set one or two swift men to turning over the forkfuls again. When it has had enough sun it is piled up again in cocks. This will now be done as rapidly as piling up buckwheat cakes, as the flakes of hay, if they have been set off nicely and not torn all to pieces, will lay rapidly up again in piles. This can be done after alfalfa has had two to four hours of sun.

TEST OF ITS DRYNESS.

Now we hurry the stuff into the wagons and into cover. We practice loading all available wagons the last thing at night and letting them stand in sheds until morning. We do not leave partly dried alfalfa in the swath over night to take in the dew, as this will seriously blench it. The final test of whether it is dry enough to go to the barn is to take a wisp of the cured hay and twist it violently. If no moisture exudes it is dry enough for the mow. If drops of juice are seen, it must cure further. In good weather the hay loader can be used, taking hay from the windrow left by the side of the delivery rake.

The second cutting will be ready in approximately 35 days. One should observe the same rule in deciding when it is ready, watching the buds or shoots. The same rule applies to the third cutting. I advise against cutting after September. At least one must be sure to leave growth of a foot to protect the plants from winter killing.

One more fact is important to remember; it is that when alfalfa is ready to be cut it should be cut, be the growth no more than six inches. It will hardly make growth again until it is cut. Cutting at the proper time has a marvellously stimulating effect on the plant; cutting at the wrong time is very depressing to it.

Winter Killed Fruit Trees.

Severe Pruning Is Necessary. Cause Is Too Late Growth.

During the past winter reports have been received by the Horticultural Experimental Station of a great many young orchards that have been more or less injured by winter-killing of the young trees. This has not been due in each case to excessive cold but more frequently to the trees being permitted to grow rapidly until checked by frost. The wood was not properly matured and ripened before the trees went into winter quarters. In some cases the temperature in the winter has fluctuated rapidly from several degrees below freezing to above freezing, and this condition working in combination with the fall weather, has produced the winter killing. The winter killing of young trees is usually indicated by dark colored splotches on the bark and sap wood. It is most common near the tips of the young shoots, but in many cases it is found in irregular splotches over the entire tree top and trunk. Trees that have been severely winter killed should be severely pruned, cutting away as much as possible of the injured wood and leaving only fresh, clean wood. Improve the process of cultivation and tillage the following season and usually the plants will to a large extent overcome the injury within a year or so. If the trunk of the tree is severely injured it can be cut back and permitted to send up the sprout which can take the place of the original top. In the case of a few isolated trees in an orchard, the sprout renewing the top may come from below the union of the scion and stalk, and in this case it will be necessary to bud or graft this stalk at the point where it is desired to have the framework of the tree developed. This is a successful method if carefully practiced and will produce results in less time than could be accomplished by digging out a three year old tree and replanting. There is no treatment in the form of a fertilizer or special application that can be given that will be more beneficial to the trees than simply good tillage with a good supply of water in order that the trees may make full normal growth during the summer. - Washington State Experiment Station Bulletin.

SIMPLE EGG PRESERVING.

Dr. N. Hanika, of Landwirth, Bavaria, says that he has found in the pores of even newly laid eggs micro-organisms which cause decomposition, and that as it is evident from this that methods of preservation which aim only at the exclusion of the atmosphere must consequently be useless. He proposes in place of the various processes now in use the following novel method—one which he says attains the desired end completely. The egg to be preserved, which should be as fresh as possible, must be examined closely by tapping and otherwise to guard against cracks or breaks in the shell. They are then laid in water of about 95 degrees Fahrenheit for about 15 minutes or until they are warm throughout. Every particle of dirt should be removed from the shells by wiping with a sponge wet with warm water. The eggs are then put in suitable quantities on a sieve net or a loosely woven basket held for five seconds in boiling water and removed from thence as quickly as possible into cold water. The eggs, still wet, are laid on a clean cloth and let dry off spontaneously by exposure to the atmosphere. Under no circumstances should they be dried off with a cloth or towel. As soon as they are quite dry they are packed in a box with either ground peat, sifted wood ash, wheat chaff, wood wool, or wheat bran; the packing material to be made thoroughly dry by heating before using. The hands of the packer should be well scrubbed before going at the work with soap and hot water, a brush being used to make sure of cleanliness. The boxes should be stored in a cool, dry place out of reach of the frost. Eggs thus preserved in June and July have been found to be absolutely and perfectly fresh the next February and March, no deterioration in taste, odor or general appearance being detectable. The philosophy of the process is simple and easily understood. The five seconds' dip in boiling water was sufficient, not merely to kill the microbes in the shell substance, and between it and the inner skin, but to cause the coagulation of a thin but all-sufficient skin of albumen lying next the skin, and thus forming an impossible barrier to the exit of water and entrance of air with the microbe of decay.

OKANAGAN VALLEY FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

There is only one game more to play in the league schedule, Vernon versus Penticton. The analysis of the games, however, show that even were Penticton to win, the result of the game would not materially affect the standing of the teams composing the league.

Summerland is Vernon's nearest rival for the honor of possession of the Austin Cup. Vernon has a clear lead over that member of which any team might be proud. While Vernon has only had its defence broken four times, that of Summerland just touches two figures. Vernon has scored twenty goals, Summerland 12.

Efforts are being made to have the last game of the season played off in Vernon, and not at Kelowna as at present arranged. If this plan is carried out arrangements will be made to have the Penticton boys pick up representatives from the other towns of the league, Summerland and Kelowna, and thus to have enough members of the league in Vernon to mark the close of a Valley League season which has been a social and athletic benefit and an enjoyment to all who have taken part in the successfully played off games that have led up to a result so gratifying to the northern team. - Vernon News.

HANDY ARTICLES FOR THE KITCHEN.

There are several little things which seem to be absolute necessities in the kitchen, as the women trot after them into the other rooms several times a day, and that are not found in the majority of kitchens. One is a pin cushion stocked with pins and needles near at hand on some convenient shelf, a box with black and white thread and twine to be used in the sewing together of roasts. Some women who have kept house for twenty-five years and are still trotting into the sitting room and back into the kitchen whenever they want a pin or needle and thread to take an emergency stitch. They should read about the conservation of energy.

A pair of scissors hung on a convenient nail is another of the necessary little things. There should be a separate pair for the kitchen, and not the one taken from the sewing basket. It should not be a dull, cast-off pair, either, but a good, sharp one, for the scissors are used so many times in the kitchen. They are always handy in cutting vegetables, too.

Another kitchen comfort is a big rocking chair with a cushion. That saves many a backache, for a tired woman will drop into a rocker right behind her just for a moment when she is watching something cooking on the stove, but she would not think of going into the next room to rest in a comfortable chair for a short time. And if she will sit down in this restful chair a number of separate minutes during the day her rest will amount up to a pretty good sum by night, and she may be surprised that she feels so much less tired than usual when she has done a big day's work.

A big palm leaf fan should have a place in the kitchen. A few waves of that after bending over a hot task for a long while will work like magic and will be a lightener of the day's toil.

A rubber hose long enough to reach from the water supply to the stove will save lifting of heavy pails of water on wash day. In this manner the boiler and tubs can be filled and emptied without any strain on anyone's back.

Anti-fat remedies are seldom needed by the man who leans on hope.

Early Morning Blaze.

Store and Contents Razed to the Ground in few minutes.

Fire early Monday morning completely destroyed T. E. Moore's store, together with the remaining stock. The blaze was noticed about 6.45 by Mr. Shouldice, Mr. Moore's assistant, who gave the alarm, but at that time the fire was coming through the roof, and there was no possibility of saving either the building or contents, and it was not long until nothing remained but the concrete foundation.

The cause of the fire is not known. Two theories are advanced, one being that bush rats had ignited some matches, and the other that some railway navvies had been sleeping beneath the building, and in lighting their pipes had set fire to it. The latter is not very probable, as it is not thought that the men would have been about the building much after daylight, and, besides, the fire was first noticed and seemed to originate in the upper part of the building. In further support of the theory that rats were the cause it is stated that some time ago matches were found in the attic which could not have gotten there in any other way than by rats carrying them for the purpose of building their nest.

Much of the stock had been removed to the Campbell building at West Summerland, but it is said that about one-third yet remained in the building. Full particulars are not obtainable as Mr. Moore, who left for the Coast early on Monday morning, has not yet returned. Insurance offices state, however, that both building and stock were insured. The amount of the loss has not been ascertained. An inventory of the stock transferred is now being taken.

MR. ROBSON GOES TO ROSSLAND

J. C. Robson has been appointed to the Principalship of the Rossland schools. Mr. Robson, who was Principal of the Summerland Schools until a year ago, was in charge of the schools at Revelstoke during the past year. The last three or four weeks he has spent at the Teachers' Summer Camp at Victoria, which was under the jurisdiction of the Militia Department. He reports the drilling and discipline all that would be expected in a military camp. Soon after he arrived in Victoria, he wired an application for the Rossland position. Mr. Robson, accompanied by his wife, have been here on a visit to their daughter, Mrs. E. R. Butler, and it was not until Wednesday that a telegram found him advising him of his appointment. Mr. Robson will leave here at once to arrange for the disposal of his home in Revelstoke.

WILL BUILD HERE.

Senator Kirchhoffer, who owns an orchard adjoining the "high flume" has decided to build a home on his property, and purposes spending the summer of each year here. The Senator has made frequent but usually short visits to Summerland, but this year he has made a longer stay, and is so delighted with climatic and other conditions as he finds them that he has decided to summer here henceforth. Last year Senator and Mrs. Kirchhoffer were at Banff, but they pronounce Summerland away ahead of that town as a summer resort. This is Mrs. Kirchhoffer's second visit, and no doubt her delight in finding conditions so ideal has helped them to decide to make their summer home here.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

We have this week to chronicle another change among the business firms of Summerland. Mr. T. C. Stinson, one of the members of the Angove and Stinson Company, Limited, has this week severed his connection with that firm, his interests having been taken over by Messrs. Angove and Limmor. The new management are closing out the ladies' and children's boot and shoe department, and will probably carry only staple dry goods. While it is understood that Mr. Stinson goes to the Coast soon, he said that matters had not sufficiently matured to make a statement this week.

CONDEMNED MAN ATTEMPTS ESCAPE.

James, the man who shot Constable Aston, was hanged last Friday morning. He walked to the scaffold unconcerned, after partaking of a good breakfast, saying, in a careless manner, "So long, fellows."

Thursday noon James tried to escape from the gaol. When being served with dinner he made a dash through the cell door as it was opened to hand-in a tray. He then threw pepper in the eyes of Constable Simson, and tried to hit him. James' object was to overpower Simson, seize the keys and unlock the door of the office within which the death cell was located. That door once opened left a clear field for liberty. Simson, who was half blinded with pepper, felled James with a blow of his baton on the head.

James had abstracted quantities of pepper from day to day and had placed it in a paper tube gummy together with oatmeal porridge. Two other guards in the room at the time got out of the way of the pepper shower. James' real name was Walter Poelke, and he came from North Dakota two years ago.

GOVERNMENT TELEGRAPH LINE.

The government telegraph service men have been busy all week on the new telegraph line. One of the C.P.R. barges took a load of the poles, which had been creosoted and cross-armed, for distribution along the lake, and more poles are being received and made ready. Post holes have been dug and a number of poles already set. The line runs directly west up over the face of the hill from the Post Office to the street in front of the residence of Mr. W. J. Robinson; where it turns northward and follows the road in front of the Gagner cottage, continuing north down across Peach Orchard.

Already two wires have been run out some distance from the Post Office.

NARAMATA HEAD-QUARTERS FOR RAILWAY WORK.

Naramata is to be the base of supplies, and the headquarters of the contractors for railway construction work on the east side of the Lake. Further confirmation of the report in last week's issue has been received to that effect.

Messrs. Grant, Smith & Co. have already arranged for the erection of a large warehouse on the Government wharf at Naramata, and lumber is now being put on the ground for that purpose. As rapidly as possible gangs will be organized, sub-contracts let and other preliminary work completed. Naramata will be similarly situated with reference to construction work on the east side as Summerland is on the west. Summerland is now the base of supplies and the headquarters for all construction work from Penticton to Osprey Lake, while the work on the east side handled from Naramata will be from Penticton north-eastward to the Summit.

IMMIGRATION TO CANADA GROWING.

During the three months, April 1 to June 30, of the current fiscal year, 175,341 immigrants arrived in Canada. Of this number 121,998 arrived at ocean ports, and 53,343 from the United States.

These figures show an increase of 15 per cent. as compared with those for the corresponding months of last year, which were 109,316 at ocean ports and 43,802 from the United States, making a total for the three months of the previous year, 153,118.

During the month of June this year there were 45,388 arrivals, 32,140 at ocean ports and 13,748 from the United States, as against 40,000 for June of last year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sutherland entertained a number of friends with a trip across the lake and dinner at Hotel Naramata on Friday evening last. Among those present were Senator and Mrs. Kirchhoffer, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Garnott, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Cooper, Miss Sheila Sutherland, and Mr. Snuter.

Council Meets on Monday Evening

Much Discussion but Little Enactment.

Coun. Dunsdon Reports on His Trip in Search of Additional Water Storage.

The Municipal Council met on Monday night of this week instead of on Tuesday morning, the regularly appointed time for its monthly meeting. Some of the members wished to attend the Irrigation Convention at Kelowna this week, and it was concluded best to hold the meeting on Monday evening, as the gathering of a quorum on Tuesday morning was not probable. The change in the time of meeting caused disappointment to some citizens, including a delegation from the Board of Trade, who purposed waiting on the Council on Tuesday. At Monday night's meeting every member was present. Much general discussion took place but motions were scarce.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A number of communications were read by the Clerk, including a report from Dr. C. M. Smith, Medical Health Officer; an application for domestic water from J. W. S. Logie; from the Associated Boards of Trade asking the Council to declare one day during the Annual Valley Fruit Show a civic holiday, making it a permanent thing, to be known as "Okanagan Apple Show Day." The Government Telephone Service wrote asking for instructions for the placing of telegraph poles; John G. Robertson asked for a rebate on domestic water rates; the general outline of the work done by his department was submitted by Supt. Mitchell; I. E. Gifford, G. R. Raincock and Jas. Ritchie asked for refunds on water rates; Harry Tomlin, and J. Weeks asked for domestic water on their recent purchases in Victoria Gardens; C. P. Nelson applied for electric light for his cottage which is being erected on Beach Avenue. An acknowledgment of the letter of condolence to the widow and family of the late R. H. Agur was received from Mr. R. V. Agur.

WATER AND LIGHT MATTERS.

The matter of placing water on to the new sub-division, Victoria Gardens, was referred to the Board of Works. The Reeve said that the irrigation ditch there was too low and that it would be necessary to put in a pipeline.

Mr. Nelson's application for electric light brought forth considerable discussion on electric light matters. The need of more power was recognized and an auxiliary plant or a duplicate of the present service was suggested by the Reeve. Coun. Robinson thought that possibly another plant taking pressure from the Prairie Valley pipeline might be advisable for use during the winter months. No definite action was taken, however, and the Clerk was instructed to advise Mr. Nelson that applications would be dealt with in their turn, and his getting service would depend on whether there was any available power when the earlier applicants had been connected.

J. W. S. Logie's application for domestic water was granted after he had consented to pay for the extra length of pipeline required.

No definite action was taken in reference to "Okanagan Apple Show Day," this being left over for the next monthly meeting.

Mr. John G. Robertson, having shown to the satisfaction of the members of the Council that he had called at the Municipal Offices before six o'clock on the last day of grace with a cheque to pay his water rates and found the door closed, the cheque which accompanied his letter was accepted in full.

The applications of Messrs. Gifford, Raincock and Ritchie brought out some considerable discussion. The reason that the first-named gave in asking for a rebate was that there was no water on his lot. It was shown that water was available whenever he might need it, and, accordingly, his request was not granted. Mr. Raincock said that his house had been vacant for some months, and the reason he had not asked to have the water cut off when leaving was that if this had been done a neighbor's service would also have been cut off. Mr. Ritchie's request was that he be rebated for charges for water for the skating rink for the quarter ending June 30th, as no water had been used after March. These were similar cases, and it was felt that a bad precedent would be created if rebates were granted. It was evident that no water had been used in either case, but both had failed to notify the Department in due form, and it was the unanimous opinion of the Board that the charges would have to stand.

Another claim which was discussed was that of A. A. Derrick, who had paid for only six months' trade license in 1911. It was shown to the satisfaction of the Council that this covered the time during which he was doing a confectionery business in that year, the charge for the other six months was ordered written off.

Tenders for the hauling of pipe had been called for during the month, and the Clerk advised the Council that R. H. English's tender for the delivery of wood pipe to the Robson lot was accepted at $2.00 per ton, and 75 cents per ton for delivery along the lakefront. The Reeve reported to the Council that he had received a telegram advising him that the Governor-General would spend a short time in Summerland on October 5, arriving at 11 a.m.

Three accounts which were received too late to be included in the regular list were passed for payment, namely, J. J. Mitchell, gasoline, $17; Mr. Sullivan, guide and pack horse service, $14; Robertson-Godson Co., $45. This last amount was withheld from a previous payment because of supposed difference in prices. The firm's letter calling the attention of the Council to the fact that there had been a rise in price since the previous purchase was accepted as satisfactory reason for the higher charges.

A complaint had been made by a resident of Trout Creek that some railroad contractors were using narrow tyred wagons for the hauling of heavy loads over the lake-shore drive injuring the surface of the road. This was considered out of the jurisdiction of the Council, and the complainant was asked to notify the Provincial Public Works Department.

THE RAILWAY AND THE COUNCIL.

The progress of the work of the Kettle Valley Railway on the alterations to the water system above the reservoir was brought up. Engineer Latimer has recently inspected the work, but his report has not come to hand. Supt. Mitchell has refused to take over the work, claiming that it was not satisfactory, and the question as to whose report should be taken brought forth different opinions. Coun. Robinson contended that the work was to be done to the satisfaction of the Superintendent before being taken over by the Council. There was an impression that Engineer Latimer's report might be favorable and it was thought by some that if this were the case his report would overrule that of the Superintendent. No motion was made, the matter being left till the Engineer's report was received.

Coun. Lowe reported that a meeting had been held at Trout Creek, and that the people there were now desirous of having the pipeline extended, and that they would be willing to pay frontage tax, etc., which would follow.

NEW RESERVOIR SITE.

Coun. Dunsdon made a verbal report on the inspection made by him and Supt. Mitchell of a lake some miles north-west of the Sullivan pre-emption. They found the lake covered some eighty acres, but the outlets were not very satisfactory, one being very broad, the outflow through it being practically all seepage. This depression would require a dam of several

PENTICTON CANNERY MAY EXTEND OPERATIONS.

The Western Cannery Company's plant on Ellis and Front Streets at Penticton, has just commenced operations. It is housed in a building 100 feet long by 50 feet in width. The plant is modern in every way, and has a capacity of 30,000 cans per day. A forty horse power boiler and a twenty horse power engine supplies hot water, steam and power.

It is rumored that the owners have in contemplation an amalgamation with a large company in Kelowna and another in Enderby. The question was broached to the Penticton management, who admitted that negotiations were in progress, but that nothing definite had been settled. The great advantage of amalgamation would lie in the fact that the proposed company would be able to handle anything which came their way in the line of canned fruit or vegetables. Penticton grows chiefly peaches, Kelowna apples, and Enderby largely vegetables. It is true that all kinds of fruit are grown at all three points, but not always to the same degree of success. While a local firm might lose an order through only having peaches and apricots in quantity, such would not be possible if the proposed merger goes through.

A supplementary list of those registered as members of the first Convocation of the newly established University of British Columbia, contains the name of Prof. R. P. Baker, Vice-Principal of Okanagan College.

hundred feet. The outlet from which the water would be taken if used would require another dam about 150 feet long, and seven feet high in the middle in order to raise the level of the water four feet. He advised against any expenditure at the present time, but said that it might be well to get a record on the water for future use. He thought money could be spent to better advantage on some records the Municipality already holds. At the suggestion of Coun. Robinson, Coun. Dunsdon was asked to submit a written report of his inspection, together with a diagram of the lake and tributaries, so that the information may be available to future Councils.

A Progressive Home Industry

An Enlarged Plant and Increased Facilities for the Jam Company. A Bright Future.

One of the busiest places in Summerland at the present time is the Jam Factory, Peach Orchard. Although ten employees are now kept on the hustle to take care of the fruit, an early and substantial increase in the business is proposed, and already a large addition has been made to the plant. A new building some forty by sixty feet has just been erected, and a steam boiler and three large steam jacket kettles are expected to arrive this week and will be installed immediately in the cooking rooms between the old building and the new, where a cement floor has been laid. Recently a car of sugar was received by the Company and also a shipment of cans. There were in all some thirty thousand cans in five and seven pound sizes, and the Review is informed that to fill this lot of cans they will require some 75 tons of fruit.

This business, which was started in a small way last year, has a promising future, and has already met with marked success. Some $4,000 worth of fruit was put up last year and the local market has taken all that has been offered.

The first year's business having given promise of a good future, the management has decided to go into the business in an extensive way and will look to outside markets as well for the disposal of their product. The establishment of such an industry here means much for the district, creating as it does a reliable local market for all kinds of fruit, especially the small fruits, and it would appear from the prices offered that satisfactory profits can be made by producers in the growing of strawberries, raspberries and other small fruits for sale to the Jam Factory. In addition to jams, the local factory will also make jellies, marmalade and pickles. A considerable portion of this year's output has already been sold.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

The second stage of the shoot for the Price Ellison Cup, which is shot under class firing conditions, took place on Saturday last, with the following scores:

THE RISING GENERATION.

"Well, my son," said the major, endeavoring to be nice and polite and chummy to the newly-joined subaltern, "I suppose it is the old, old story, don't you know—the fool of the family sent to join the army—what?" "Oh, no, sir," said the newly-joined subaltern. "Things have quite altered since your day." And the major thereupon decided to revise his ideas as to cordiality.

Naramata Notes.

T. H. Boothe and wife were visitors to Penticton on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. King and children spent the week-end with friends in Penticton.

Miss Orca Williams has accepted the position of teacher, and will enter upon her duties on the 26th of August.

H. M. Bodly, a prominent official of the Manufacturers Life Assurance Company was in town last Thursday on business.

Rev. J. Myers after a season's rest on his ranch here returned to Edmonton accompanied by his wife and little boy on Friday.

Rev. G. O. Fallis conducted the usual sabbath morning service here on Sunday last, taking for his subject "Our Conception of God."

Naramata is to be used as a base of supplies during railway construction, and already arrangements are under way for building accommodation.

The annual Sunday School Picnic is to be the feature of next week. At a meeting held on Tuesday evening at the home of J. C. Lyons arrangements were made for carrying the matter forward.

The houseboat party that picniced for a week or so near Kelowna, returned on Tuesday. Mr. Robinson, Mr. Gillespie and Mr. J. O. Robinson remained over till Thursday to attend the Irrigation Convention in progress at the ambitious town up the lake.

Miss Brunton, the popular manageress of Hotel Naramata left for Vancouver on Wednesday morning, having severed her connection with the Trust Company. During her stay here Miss Brunton proved herself a very capable official, and her departure from the town will be recognized as a distinct loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland entertained a number of their Summerland friends to a delightful dinner party at Hotel Naramata. Those in the number, besides the host and hostess, were: Senator and Mrs. Kirchhoffer, Mr. and Mrs. Garnett, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sutherland, Mrs. Sauter, New York, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Cooper, Miss Sheila Sutherland.

Amongst those from a distance registering at the Hotel this week were Mrs. J. Eakins, Okanagan Centre; R. B. and C. J. Wilkinson, Calgary; J. E. Paulin, Vancouver; Miss Hawser, St. Paul, U.S.A.; Miss Gordon, Ottawa; Messrs. D. J. Morgan and F. C. Mount, Penticton; H. W. Cavers, Winnipeg; F. H. Latimer and wife, Penticton, T. W. Skirrow, Lower Nicola.

WILL CELEBRATE ROYALLY.

From 1812 to 1912 is a far cry for a Western city and there are few places on this side of the Rockies where a modern, up-to-date town is able to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of its founding.

The citizens of Kamloops have not let so unique an opportunity pass unnoticed and a three day fete has been arranged which will eclipse anything heretofore attempted in the interior of British Columbia.

Pageants and parades, sports and races fireworks and fun will be the order of the day and night, and the gathering will break up with a confetti carnival when King Frolle will reign supreme throughout the city.

Single fares have been arranged on the Canadian Pacific Railway to cover the 17th, 18th and 19th of September.

ASSURED OF MANY EXHIBITS.

Mr. D. E. MacKenzie, Manager of the New Westminster Fair, has returned to the royal city from his visit to the interior with the assurance that the exhibits sent from various points to the provincial exhibition in October will be more representative than ever.

WARD FOUR BENCH ROADS.

The Editor, The Summerland Review,

Dear Sir: I desire to avail myself of the privilege of your columns to make a statement and a protest.

The statement is that I believe that if the residents of any other section of this community were forced to bring their products to the shipping point over roads such as the residents of the benches of Ward Four have to use, there would be a riot; and in making this statement I do not wish to be considered as making any reflections on said residents of the other sections of the community, but rather to approve of their ability to look after their interests and to deplore the apparent inability of the producers and shippers of this section of Ward Four to do the same.

My protest is, as a tax payer, against being forced to use such wretched and dangerous roads. The section of road from the residence of Rev. G. J. C. White passing the east side of his lot, and along the north side of the Cancellor lot is in point.

After striving for some years to have this road put in proper condition, the job was this year passed and ordered to be done, and the way it has been done is a disgrace to every one connected with it, barring, probably, the workmen engaged on it, who quite likely did it as they were told. I do not propose to go into a detailed description of this piece of road but if any of those fortunate people who bowl along with their loads of fruit so smoothly over the splendid roads which prevail in our municipality, would only drive around this way just once, I think they will uphold me in all I have said.

And then there is the section of road leading from my residence down to what is so appropriately named the nuisance ground, which, while in Ward One, is a continuation of the road first mentioned, and used by the same people. This road is narrow, and positively dangerous, and it is only a question of time until an accident occurs on it, which will make the whole community sit up, and also probably let the municipality in for damages, because the insufficiency of the road in its present condition has been recognized by the Council inasmuch as twice its being put into proper shape has been authorized, and for some reason the work has not been proceeded with.

I am prepared to give particulars of this if necessary. Yours truly, W. H. HAYES. Summerland, B.C., 14th August, 1912.

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

THE SECRET OF A VULGAR IDEA OF MARRIAGE.

The treating of young girls as objects of ornament, and bringing them up in luxurious idleness—this habit of excessive outlay upon young girls, runs through every grade of society. The daughter of the blacksmith is as likely to be dressed extravagantly in proportion to her father's means as that of the millionaire for whom he works. The income which the successful professional man earns by his brains is equal to the interest on a large bulk of capital; it gives him the feeling of affluence. But in rearing his daughter he is apt to wholly forget that his brains die with him. For how many of the pretty, innocent butterflies who brighten our city streets to-day is any provision made to insure them; five years hence, one tithe of the luxuries which they now enjoy? How many of them are qualified to earn their own living? The effect of this cruel neglect of parents strikes deeper than mere poverty. Luxuries are made necessities for the girl. She knows that on the death of her father she will lose them. She cannot earn them; there is but one way to secure them—by marriage with a rich man. There is the secret of the vulgar idea of marriage which is debasing our social life; of the market for women which fashionable society has become; of the voluntary sale of themselves of the prettiest girls of each season to rich, old men; of the wretched homes; and of the innumerable divorces that end this lamentable history. What is the remedy?

A WOMAN'S NEW SHOES.

When a woman has a new pair of shoes sent home she performs altogether differently from a man. She never shoves her toes into them and hauls until she is red in the face and all out of breath and then go stamping and kicking around, but she pulls them on half way very carefully, twitches them off again to take a last look and to see if she has the right one, pulls them on again, looks at them dreamily, says they are just right, then takes another look, stops suddenly to smooth out a wrinkle, twists around to survey them sideways, exclaims, "Mercy! how loose they are!" looks at them again square in front, works her foot around so that they won't hurt her quite so much, takes them off, looks at them, looks at the heel, the bottom and the inside, puts them on again, walks up and down the room once or twice, remarks to her better half that she won't have them at any price, tilts down the mirror so that she can see how they look that way, backs off, steps up again, takes thirty or forty farewell looks, says they make her feet look awful big and will never do in the world, puts them on and off three or four times more, asks her husband what he thinks about it, and then pays no attention to what he says, goes through it all again, and finally says she will take them.

GIRLHOOD.

To be a girl is to be in the happiest state possible to humanity; but girls do not know it. They are always looking forward to something, or wanting something—a diamond, or a beau, flattery or new gowns. They rather envy women a little ahead of them, who have more self-possession, and are sometimes jealous of some married woman who flirts and makes a dash. "I'm only a young girl," we heard one say. Only a young girl! Oh, be glad of it; delight in it! Thank heaven every morning that you are still a young girl. We cannot stop time. The years will slip through your fingers like the beads from a broken necklace after a while, but now they linger while you are still a girl—a girl in the home of parents, yet in the prime of life, with young brothers and sisters for companions. There will never be anything better than this in all the world. There are no skeletons in your closet, no ghosts in your reveries. Your future is full of hope. You can fill in the distance as you like. You can fancy a lover coming to you who is perfect in all things; and every young man is interesting; because he may be the other half of your soul. And every new girl may be the lifelong friend and confidante all girls hope for. As for beauty, the idea of a girl of seventeen thinking herself plain, as some do! In a few years she will look in the glass and see those fine horizontal lines on her forehead, on which Time scores down our troubles, and at the corner of her eyebrows three little pencil marks, and a little fall in her cheek, and a mouth that does not smile as readily as it once did; not an old face yet, but not a girl; and then she will realize what it was to have a girl's face! Oh, how few the years are! How they whirl away! Girlhood is gone so soon! But, while you have it, envy no woman her diamonds and laces, her carriage or her palace, her fortune or her admirers. While one is in one's teens, nothing else is necessary except to realize the fact and thank heaven for it.

TOLSTOI'S HYGIENIC MAXIMS.

Tolstoi's maxims on hygiene are now being distributed throughout the Russian Empire. The code of health which brought him to such a hale old age may be summarized as follows:

- 1.—Fresh air day and night.
- 2.—Daily exercise.
- 3.—Moderation in eating and drinking.
- 4.—One hot bath weekly and a cold one daily.
- 5.—Comfortable and not over heavy clothes.
- 6.—A dry, spacious and sunny dwelling.
- 7.—Scrupulous cleanliness.
- 8.—Regular and intensive work, which acts as a preventive against ills of body and mind.
- 9.—Rest after labor must not be sought in distractions. Night was intended for sleep.
- 10.—The chief condition for good health is a life fruitful in labor and ennobled by good actions.

A THROUGH LINE.

THAT THE Kettle Valley Railway is eventually to be the principal line of traffic between the Coast cities and the Prairie is frequently stated, and judging from the present activity the completion of that line will be at no distant date. That there is a difficult connection yet to be made does not, however, seem to be generally understood. If one were to take a map of southern British Columbia the line of route as now surveyed can readily be followed. Coming east from Vancouver, the present C.P.R. line is followed to Hope. From Hope directly east is a difficult piece of engineering, which is being overcome and will, when completed, quickly put the trains into the Nicola country. Without following closely the route through that Valley other than to touch at Princeton, we come east to Osprey Lake. From there the line follows Trout Creek to Okanagan Lake, where it turns south, continuing in that direction for a few miles, till it again turns east and then north between Penticton and the lower lake. The route then lies northward for some miles till the summit of the divide between the Okanagan and the Kettle River districts is reached. Thence the course is south-eastward to Midway where connection is again made with the Canadian Pacific.

Were the Kettle Valley Railway now quite completed, trains could not proceed further east than Nelson, where the line from Midway ends. The Crow's Nest line reaches west only to Kootenay Landing. Between Nelson and Kootenay Landing the map shows a dotted line, indicating the route of a proposed railway, but as much of the route is along the lake where the shores are perpendicular rocks, the probability of such a gigantic task being undertaken is, to say the least, not good.

A train running from Vancouver through Midway may not then go beyond Kootenay Lake, contrary to a general belief that trains are now running through from the Prairie west to Midway. Some more familiar with that part of British Columbia have predicted that it may be years before Kettle Valley trains can go beyond Nelson because of the almost insurmountable piece of engineering work required to connect Nelson by rail with the Crow's Nest line at or near Kootenay Landing, the lake being the only connecting link between these points at present; and those holding that view have discounted the report that we are soon to have another transcontinental via the southern Okanagan and Kootenay route. That the difficulty of making the through connection in the south Kootenay, though a serious one, has not been considered impracticable by the C.P.R. seems evident, and their purpose to make this a through route is shown if we are to believe a news item appearing in the dailies this week saying that it is stated on excellent authority that the C.P.R. has secured an option, expiring on August 31, for the purchase of those sections of the Great Northern system extending from Northport to Rossland and from Northport to Nelson, the two roads being known respectively as the Red Mountain and the Nelson and Fort Sheppard Railway; and that the lines in question were recently inspected in detail by a Canadian Pacific official designated for the task by President Shaughnessy. The motives of the C.P.R. in seeking these short sections is said to be in connection with plans for making one of them a link in an alternative through line to the Coast via the Kettle Valley line. By constructing a new road connecting the Corbin line with the Nelson and Fort Sheppard, easy grades would be secured and the transfer of through freight to boats on Kootenay Lake would be avoided. The Corbin line connects with the C.P.R. system at Kingsgate on the boundary line in East Kootenay, and is controlled by the Canadian road.

FOURTH MINISTER FOR THE WEST.

IT is very possible that next session an additional portfolio will be created and the West will secure a fourth minister. Strong influence is being brought to bear by the mining interests to have a Minister of Mines appointed. Formerly the Department of Mines was under the Minister of Inland Revenue. Last session this branch was transferred to the Department of the Interior. It is one of the heaviest departments, and the Minister of the Interior has under him, Immigration, Lands, Indian and Forestry Departments, as well as Mines. It is felt that under a full-fledged minister the mining industry could be given far more encouragement than it has received in the past. British Columbia is particularly anxious to see a Minister of Mines appointed. The names suggested for the position are: Messrs. R. B. Bennett, Calgary; J. D. Taylor, New Westminster; Robert Green, the new member to succeed Mr. A. S. Goodove, Kootenay. Mr. Green was formerly Minister of Mines in the B.C. government.

WOMEN SCARCE.

THE MEN greatly outnumber the women in Canada, and the difference is becoming more marked at each census taking. The 1911 census shows a majority of males over females of 437,296, while in 1901, the difference was 132,101. Last year there were 3,821,007 males and the females totalled 3,387,771.

When considered by provinces it will be seen that there are relatively much fewer females here than in the older provinces, though not one province has as many females as males. British Columbia fares the worst, for she has only 140,861 of the gentler sex to 251,619 males, or almost two to one. When the children are omitted (with them the difference in the proportion would not be great) there would probably be three or four men to every woman in the province.

Here are the figures by provinces:

	Males	Females
Alberta	223,989	150,674
British Columbia	251,619	140,861
Manitoba	250,056	205,558
New Brunswick	179,867	172,022
Nova Scotia	251,019	241,319
Ontario	1,299,290	1,223,984
Prince Edward Island	47,069	46,659
Quebec	1,011,247	991,456
Saskatchewan	291,730	200,702
Yukon	6,508	2,002
North West Territories	8,673	8,523

SCIENTIFIC authorities are well agreed that 90 per cent of the house flies which infest the world are bred in stables and pig pens. If such places are cleaned as often as once a week it will prevent the hatching of millions of flies. Much can be done in every household to suppress the fly, and to cleanse the premises in the best way possible to safeguard against the annoying, dangerous, and oftentimes deadly pest. The necessity of screening against the fly is now pretty generally understood, but there are many people in the world who look upon flies as a nuisance rather than a menace. In disease an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure; so in guarding against the house fly, prevention is the best antidote—the surest prescription. Keep the premises clean that he may "die a-borning," for, like the good Indian, the fly is best when he is "good and dead."

ANCIENTLY dog days extended 40 days from August 4. They were so called by Egyptian astronomers for the reason that Sirius, the dog star, rose with the sun during that period, causing extreme heat and sickness. In England, dog days are from the third of July until the 11th of September; in America from the 25th of July to the 5th of September.

WE WOULD LIKE to make a suggestion to the directors of the Summerland Telephone Company—that they arrange early for the services of the gangs now at work on the Government telegraph line to erect for them the new poles required for the local exchange. We are informed that experienced men are hard to get, and as these men are on the ground and will be available about the time men will be needed for the local work, it would be well to deal with them before they make arrangements to go elsewhere.

ONE OF THE crying needs of this young community is a public weigh scale and the need will constantly become greater and greater. Large platform scales conveniently placed would not mean any further expense to the municipality after the initial cost of installation. No doubt any one of a number of business men nearby would gladly do the weighing for the nominal fee which would be charged, and would perhaps pay a lump sum in advance for a year's tolls.

IT SEEMS A SHAME to see such promising and healthy young trees as were planted about the public schools last spring suffering during the summer vacation for want of water. Some of them have died because of this since school closed. If asked to do so, no doubt nearby neighbors would be willing to give them an occasional application of water during the vacation.

NEW BRUNSWICK TAKES UP FRUIT GROWING.

The New Brunswick movement to attract fruit growing on a large scale seems to be developing favorably, though not quite so rapidly, perhaps, as some of its promoters would like. But the fact remains that some satisfactory sale of fruit lands have been made and the business shows signs of sound, healthy development.

Fruit has been raised for a long time past in many fertile New Brunswick valleys, but not to an extent sufficient for regular and profitable export. It seems that apple orchards down there are usually small and intended only for family use. They are not regarded as a possibly prolific source of revenue. Wherever apples have been well cultivated in New Brunswick, however, by men who seriously propose to convert their orchards into money making investments, they have made good returns for their outlay. Now that attention has been called to the successful growth of apples and other fruits of superior quality, new men who have made themselves acquainted with the fruit areas of the province are taking up land for fruit growing purposes, and prospects are good for practical fruit developments, not only in the St. John Valley region, but in many other districts equally favored by nature for the purposes referred to. Until recently comparatively few of the farmers in New Brunswick planted more than half a dozen or a dozen apple trees round about their homes, and in very few instances have these been cared for as in Nova Scotia and Ontario. Now that practical apple growers are coming out from the Mother Country under the auspices of such pioneers as Sir Wm. Van Horne and other capitalists interested in the development of unoccupied lands, we may look with confidence to a general waking up in the fruit growing regions of New Brunswick.—Eastern Correspondent Fruit Magazine.

Local News Items.

Mrs. J. W. Angwin and Mrs. D. D. Lapsley, from Kaleden, are visitors in town to-day.

Some additional electric light poles are being erected in Peach Orchard to supply current to a number of cottages there.

Mr. David Lister is reported to have bought lot No. 3 in Victoria Gardens. There are only one or two lots now remaining unsold.

Miss Ethel Brown has received the diamond ring won by her in the Vernon News competition. She is of course delighted with it, and it is certainly a beauty.

A number of Summerland Odd-fellows paid a fraternal visit to the Penticton Lodge last Monday evening. Some special degree work was the reason for the visit. The trip was made in Dan. Williams' launch.

These are busy times in the orchards. From time to time we hear of big days of work being done. One family early this week picked two and a half tons of peaches in one day, another two and a quarter, much of which was also packed and shipped.

Not enough citizens to transact business came together at the call of the Reeve last Saturday night to discuss the advisability of re-organizing the Summerland Citizen's Band. Other than a few musicians and the Reeve the attendance was nil.

W. P. Kearns, well known throughout the Okanagan Valley, but now of Vancouver, paid Summerland a visit early this week as advance agent for Dr. Elliott S. Roe who is to address the Board of Trade on Saturday night in the interests of "Community Building."

Jas. Ritchie's bid for the Paradise Flat property of the Okanagan Commercial Orchards Company, Limited, now in liquidation, has been accepted. It is understood that the monies which had been owing to employees—in some cases a considerable amount—have all been paid.

Miss V. Sydney, representing J. S. Redmayne, M.A., London, B.C. Information Bureau and Agency, paid this district an official visit on Monday. Miss Sydney had a look about Summerland and also visited Appledale. She pronounced herself surprised and delighted with the progress being made in the fruit industry here.

The Summerland Supply Co. have been further enlarging their store space. The upper floor of the Angove & Stinson building has been taken by them, and an opening to their present store now gives connection by a stairway to considerable additional floor area. It is understood that the new department will be used for a furniture store.

Mr. G. H. Bates, until recently manager of the Regal Shoe Store, Toronto, is the guest of A. A. Derrick. Mr. Bates will probably spend some weeks in Summerland, and may possibly decide to remain here indefinitely. Mr. Bates is very favorably impressed with conditions here, and it is understood that it is his purpose to make some investments perhaps business as well as real estate. Mr. Bates already owns an orchard lot at Naramata.

A DELUGE.

Prairie Valley experienced a miniature cloudburst yesterday, and for a time it was feared that serious damage would result. Residents of that district are unanimous in declaring that they have never seen such a deluge of rain. Wherever there was a small furrow the flood soon converted it into a big gully. Potatoes were washed out and the roots of a number of trees were laid bare.

The flood flowed from both sides of the Valley toward the middle, and soon made a huge torrent of Prairie Creek. Such proportions did the creek attain in a short period, that it was feared at one time that the Gulch Road would be washed out, and the Hospital washed away. This would probably have been the result had the Creek not become blocked, retaining much of the water and causing it to spread over the meadows at the east end of the Valley.

A Quick Thinker—Boss—"Young man, this is the third time, to my knowledge, that you've buried a grandmother." Roy—"Well, you see, boss, my grandfather was a Mormon."

BORN.—On Monday, to the wife of W. R. Shields, a son.

Miss Quig, and Miss Mannering, of Winnipeg, are the guests of Mrs. W. J. Robinson.

Captain Cecil Banbury, from England, is reported to have bought a 28 acre unimproved orchard lot at Kaleden.

Mr. B. L. Hatfield's family are at present at Kaleden with Mr. Hatfield's parents, Captain and Mrs. Hatfield.

The Misses Gillies of Calgary arrived here Wednesday night, and are the guests of their uncle, Mr. J. Gillies, Balcom.

Mrs. R. C. Lipsett returned last Saturday night from Victoria, where she attended a meeting of the Advisory Board of the Women's Institute.

The ground has been prepared and work has started on Mr. C. P. Nelson's cottage to be erected on Beach Avenue opposite the residence of D. H. Watson.

Mrs. Hood, wife of Rev. James Hood, and her sister, Miss Urquhart, of Peachland, arrived here Thursday night from Peachland, and are the guests of Mrs. R. C. Lipsett.

Posters are now out announcing Peachland's Fourth Annual Regatta for Thursday next, August 22. A good day's sport has been arranged, and those Summerlanders who can attend will have an enjoyable outing.

R. Pollock went down to Vancouver on Tuesday morning on a combined business and pleasure trip. While there he will represent the Southern Okanagan Poultry Association at the annual meeting of the B.C. Poultry Association.

Councillors Dale and Dunsdon, representing the Municipality, Mr. C. H. Cordy, representing the Board of Trade, and Messrs. G. J. C. White and G. W. McLaren, representing the Fruit Growers' Association, went up to Kelowna to attend the Irrigation Convention.

Mr. J. M. Robinson has been at Kelowna since the opening of the Regatta, where, with his family, he has been occupying his houseboat. The Naramata returned some days ago with some of the party and went back on Thursday afternoon to bring down the houseboat.

THE FLOWER SHOW.

The First Annual Flower Show, held under the auspices of the Women's Institute, is in every way a success. In spite of yesterday's showers there are entries in every class, excepting the greenhouse potted plants, and in many cases the entries are numerous. The array of flowers is particularly pleasing, and, judging from the enthusiasm of some of the ladies, there is evidently much high-class work being shown in section 2, hand work, art needlework, etc.

An effort was made to get the list of prize winners compiled in time for to-day's issue, but lack of both time and space compels us to hold it over until next week.

Mrs. George Wolstencroft's display of flowers is certainly magnificent, and brings forth many remarks of praise. Mrs. Wolstencroft had a large number of entries, and led in all classes, taking also the following special prizes: T. E. Moore's prize for the best collection of roses; R. H. English's for the best collection of asters; Department of Agriculture's for the best collection of garden flowers, and Mr. A. Stark's first prize for the best exhibit of cut flowers grown out of doors.

Mrs. J. J. Mitchell again leads in the bread exhibits. A full list of the prize winners will be published in next week's issue.

During the afternoon the "Okanagan" landed a large party from the Western Canada Irrigation Convention, held at Kelowna, and all visited the Show, later boarding the boat and proceeding to Penticton to attend the banquet given to the delegates at the new hotel there.

(Too late for last week) Miss Isa Chapman visited Kelowna on Friday last. A musical afternoon was held on Monday by Mrs. Harold McCall.

Mrs. Wm. Dryden left this week to visit her brother at the Coast for a short time.

Gordon Whyte left on Thursday last for Montreal. He will spend some time in Winnipeg and Ottawa on the way.

On Friday Mrs. A. W. Miller left for Vancouver to spend a month with her daughters, Mrs. Crisp, and Miss Kate.

Miss Alice McDougald has returned from Summerland where she was assisting in the Post Office during the absence of the assistant.

The Cannery is now running full blast. The managers were compelled to employ Chinamen owing to the scarcity of other help in town.

Mr. Vincent Young, of Caron, Sask., arrived last night, called hither by the serious illness of his father, who is at present very low.

The reception of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hogg on Monday was well attended. About forty people called during the afternoon and evening.

Rev. C. W. Whyte and Thos. Powell, who have been appointed by the Aquatic Club as collectors, are meeting with a liberal response on the part of the people.

About half of Peachland is attending the Regatta at Kelowna this week. Miss Nancy Buchanan has again won the swimming championship for the 60 yds. course.

Mrs. and Miss Urquhart had a few friends in on Tuesday afternoon to meet Mrs. Hunt, of Winnipeg. A pleasant hour was spent in the interchange of sociabilities.

Facts About British Wealth.

Within the last twenty years over one hundred and twenty millionaires have died in the United Kingdom. Between them they left over £230,000,000, or an average of nearly £2,000,000 each.

These are huge sums, but the income of even the most indulgent of millionaires is a trifle compared with the income of a nation as a whole. Official figures show that the inhabitants of the United Kingdom are making some £2,000,000,000 a year.

The national capital works out at the useful sum of £11,500,000,000. The £11,000,000,000 represents private property; the half billion—$500,000,000—is the estimated value of public property, such as government and municipal buildings, warships, public parks, etc., down to the post office inkpots.

How does Britain's wealth compare with that of the Britain of a century ago? The answer is simple. The Britain of 1912 is worth just six times as much as the Britain of 1812. The official estimate of that year made the nation's wealth rather less than £2,000,000,000.

Like a prudent nation Britain is adding to her riches every year. The national wealth increases annually by 2 per cent.

How much does the kingdom possess in hard cash? Very little in comparison. If an Englishman as rich as Rockefeller decided to turn all his wealth into golden sovereigns and half-sovereigns, nobody else in the kingdom would have one. There is only £13,000,000 in sovereigns and half-sovereigns in circulation, only £24,000,000 in silver and only £3,000,000 in copper—a total in all of £150,000,000, which is a trifle in comparison with the nation's capital and annual income.

The explanation is that paper—in the form of checks, drafts, bonds, etc.—plays a very great part in the national finance. Its importance is shown by the fact that though Britain possesses only £100,000,000 worth of gold, some £13,000,000 worth of checks go annually through the London clearing house.

As for the wealth possessed by Britons individually, there are, according to the official estimate, nearly 300 people who are receiving over £40,000 a year; some 800 people are the lucky possessors of incomes between £20,000 and £40,000; nearly 3,000 people have incomes of from £10,000 to £20,000, while those who get from £5,000 to £10,000 a year number about 7,000. In all, between 11,000 and 12,000 are in the enjoyment of over £5,000 a year.

To deal with less fortunate people, there are some 1,200,000 income tax payers—1,200,000 people, that is, who are in receipt of incomes or salaries of over £160 a year. For every person in receipt of an income of over £5,000 a year there are 29 who are making between £160 and £170.

The great majority of people, of course, have to earn their own living. The lucky few who live on their means amount to some 550,000. In a word, those who do not have to work for their living could easily be put into the city of Leeds.

A curious fact shows the difference between the Britain of to-day and the Britain of 1812. In 1812 the era of manufacture had scarcely begun; the rich class was practically confined to the great landowners.

AUGUST "ROD AND GUN."

An interesting description of Gatta Day, Newfoundland's great national summer fête day is contributed to the August issue of Rod and Gun, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ontario, by W. Lacey Amy. Following this one is interested in the reproduction of the photographs or rude paintings made by the Kootenay Indians on the rocks of their native province, and in their story as told by Chas. D. Ellis. The same author also contributes the story of a trip on Toby Glacier and up Mount Glenison, the illustrations accompanying which help the reader to forget the hot weather. Mosers, Croft, authors of the Culture of Black and Silver Foxes, have still another article in the August number which, as usual, is well illustrated. Many other articles deal with summer vacations in Canadian territory.

The Range is the Soul of the Kitchen

The modern housewife knows the important part the range plays in the household economy. She knows how vitally important it is to eliminate from the kitchen all possible work, worry and waste.

And the range is the soul of the kitchen. Its influence is felt every day and all day by the entire family.

The Gurney-Oxford Range is a strong advocate of modern household economy. Not only does it cook and bake without disappointment or failure, but it is a positive influence for economy. It burns less coal—it requires less attention—it conserves time.

Modern woman demands in her work modern time and labor saving ideas, and modern woman is right. The Gurney-Oxford Range is the fruit of constant effort, research and experiment to make and keep abreast of modern ideas of efficiency. The Gurney-Economizer (which is licensed for use only on the Gurney-Oxford range) for regulating the drafts by one action: the Gurney method of distributing heat to all sides and corners of the oven: the improved Gurney grates, combine to make the Gurney-Oxford range the standard of efficiency and the foremost exponent of modern household economy.

To Address Board of Trade

B.C.'s Big Booster Will Give Interesting Address on "Community Building." Has Practical Scheme to Advertise Summerland.

Dr. Elliott S. Rowe, Publicity Commissioner of the Vancouver Progress Club is at present making an extended tour of the interior, and on the 17th will visit Summerland. Dr. Rowe is to-day recognized as the most progressive and certainly the ablest of the publicity men on the Pacific coast. For the past seven years he has been superintendent of the Vancouver Tourist Association, and when that organization amalgamated with the Vancouver Ad. Club, under the name Progress Club, Dr. Rowe was retained by the new organization as its Publicity Commissioner. Since the re-organization of these associations in March of this year Dr. Rowe has been busy laying the foundation work for a publicity scheme, which embraces the entire province. In brief it is this:

Vancouver, in the course of the year, is visited by at least 175,000 tourists. These people come from the four corners of the globe, and needless to say they are heartily interested in the province they have taken the trouble to visit. In short, every one of these visitors is a prospective investor, provided we British Columbians show him that our own province offers him better profits on legitimate investments than his own homeland. Then, too, there are natural advantages which help to make this province the ideal dwelling place of Canada. We, who are already residents know the charms that British Columbia possesses, but a great many of these tourists never know. Why, because the vast majority of them never leave the main line of the C.P.R., and as a result about all the province that they ever see is the scenery of the Rockies, the Canyon of the Fraser, and the Harbor of Vancouver.

Dr. ELLIOTT S. ROWE.

Publicity Commissioner, Progress Club, Vancouver.

The Progress Club, made up of 900 of Vancouver's leading business men, realize that this is a bad condition of things. They are pleased, as well they might be, that the tourists become familiar with Vancouver, but these men want visitors to the province to see the whole province, not only its greatest commercial centre.

Vancouver has arrived at that stage of the game when the prosperity and development is going to be gauged by the prosperity and development of the interior, and particularly the development of the Okanagan district. Because of the absolute dependency of this coast metropolis upon the producing districts of the mainland, the Progress Club is sending Dr. Rowe on this trip, that he may meet the people of the interior, familiarize himself with governing conditions, and talk to the different Boards of Trade concerning the scheme of co-operation between Vancouver and the smaller towns of the interior.

Dr. Rowe, besides being a publicity specialist, is known from coast to coast as an orator second to none, and his services are in constant demand at all public gatherings along the Pacific seaboard.

While in Summerland on Saturday evening he is going to address a special meeting of the Board of Trade in the Men's Club. His subject will be "Community Building and What it Means to Summerland."

Dr. Rowe is making provincial development his life work, for he believes he has a big mission to fill, and he is putting every ounce of his enthusiasm into his work.

When he comes before the people of Summerland on Saturday evening, they are going to hear a magnificent address, dealing with an important topic, discussed in a clear masterly way that cannot fail to give that kind of inspiration which leads to the doing of better deeds. Dr. Rowe has that magnetic personality which breaks down and destroys every barrier of opposition, besides his originality is so novel, and his delivery so certain and intense, that even the most passive of men cannot remain unmoved by his celtic eloquence. Dr. Rowe, please remember, is no ordinary platform speaker, but absolutely the best orator that has ever visited the interior at any time, and to miss hearing him is to miss the greatest treat that will be offered this year, miss the greatest empire builder in Western Canada.—Contributed.

OUR PROSPERITY.

The big jumps in bank clearings shown so far this year are something worth talking about.

The two financial centres, Montreal and Toronto, alone show a gain of upwards of $102,000,000 for July.

When the seven months of the year come to be figured up, the enormous gain of more than $454,000,000 for the two cities is attained.

This averages about $65,000,000 increase a month for the two centres, approximately $35,000,000 for Montreal, and $30,000,000 for Toronto.

These figures afford plenty of proof—if proof be needed—the character of our prosperity.

MY LADY'S GARTER.

The Christian County Republican says that a young woman entered a store a short time ago, and asked the clerk whether he had any of those "elastic bands, capable of being elongated and adjusted at pleasure, and used by the feminine portion of mankind for putting around the lower extremities of the locomotive members to keep in their proper position and altitude the habiliment of their tibias.

UNCLAIMED FUNDS GROW.

Unclaimed balances of $676,147; unpaid dividends of $3,659; and unpaid drafts or bills of exchange totalling $49,851 were in Canadian Banks at the end of the last fiscal year, according to a statement just issued.
The unclaimed balances increased by $38,000 during the year, and the unpaid drafts by $10,000. The Montreal City and District Bank heads the list with $127,071. The Bank of Montreal is second with $119,000 unclaimed money. The Bank of British North America has $93,000 of such funds; the Bank of Commerce $18,000; the Bank of Hamilton $52,000; the Union Bank of Canada, $41,000. The rest of the amounts are scattered among all the banks.
It is a question as to whether these balances may not be made to revert to the custody of the government. This course was strongly suggested two sessions ago in the Commons' Committee on Banking and Commerce, and may quite possibly be dealt with when the Bank Act is revised next winter.
At present the banks have the use of the money, and in many cases it is extremely doubtful if a claimant will ever put in an appearance. In other instances the balances are so small that proceedings in the Probate Court to claim them would cost more than the amount due.

WEDDING.

ROBINSON-LOGIE.

On Wednesday afternoon August 21st the wedding of Miss Georgina Wells Logie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Logie and Mr. Robert Campbell Robinson youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robinson was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents here. Rev. A. G. Campbell officiated.

The house was transformed into a bower of cut flowers and green foliage. To the soft strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Kathleen Robinson, the bride entered on the arm of her father attended by her sister, Miss Grace Logie as maid-of-honor, and little Miss Isabel Hogg niece of the bride as flower girl. The bride's costume was a white charmeuse satin draped with algonquin lace, her veil being caught with a spray of orange blossom. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas, and her only jewels were a beautiful pearl and emerald necklace presented her by the groom. Her maid-of-honor was daintily gowned in pink charmeuse, and she carried sweet peas of the same hue, while the little flower girl, with her white robes, carrying a quaint basket laden with sweet blossoms made a pretty picture.

They were met at the floral altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Will Robinson, brother of the groom, where their troth was plighted in a most impressive ceremony. After congratulations, all repaired to the lawn where refreshments were served at small tables. The bride's health was drunk by all, and short congratulatory speeches were made by Mr. J. M. Robinson, Mr. J. L. Logie, Prof. A. J. Perry, Rev. F. W. Hardy and Mrs. J. S. Gillespie.

The young couple were conveyed to Penticton in the launch "Naramata" to take the steamer "Okanagan" on Thursday morning. They will visit Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, returning to Naramata, where they will take up their residence. The newly wedded pair have the love and respect of all who know them, and all join in wishing them a long and prosperous life.

The splendid array of wedding gifts bore testimony to their large circle of friends. The groom's present to the bridesmaid was a pearl brooch, to the best man an opal and pearl pin, and to the little flower girl a gold and sapphire brooch.

The guests included the relatives of both families and a few immediate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will be at home at Naramata after October 1st.

CHEAP FUEL SOON.

Mr. S. Angove paid Princeton a visit last week-end, leaving here on the Okanagan on Friday evening, and proceeding west from Penticton, returning again on Tuesday. Mr. Angove is quite enthusiastic over Princeton's future, which, he said, is assured by the immense quantities of coal, etc., to be found there. All through the district large areas of coal are only awaiting the advent of the railway before extensive development is undertaken. Satisfactory progress is also being made with the building of the immense Portland Cement works at East Princeton. With the completion of the K.V. Railway between the Okanagan and Similkameen two extensively used commodities, coal and cement, should be available at greatly reduced prices.

SPLENDID EXHIBIT.

A lot of interest is being created by the excellent display of Summerland fruit being shown at the prairie fairs. Mr. J. L. Hillbourn, late of Lemington, Ontario, who has just arrived here with his family and household effects, says that he visited the Saskatoon Fair, and was delighted with the display of fruit which was being shown there by the B.C. Agricultural Department. Particularly was this true of the peaches, cherries, apricots, and apples, making up the Summerland display, and Mr. Hillbourn said that great credit is due to Mr. W. J. Brandroth and Mr. H. McClure Johnson for the excellent manner in which the fruit is arranged and cared for.

C.P.R. Meets Fruit Shippers Of Interior.

Discuss Freight Rates at Important Meeting at Vernon.

A meeting of great importance to the fruit shippers of B.C. was recently held at Vernon when W. B. Lanigan, of Winnipeg, and R. E. Larimour, of Vancouver, in the interests of the C.P.R., met a representative gathering of the shippers of the district, comprising D. G. Gellatly, of Gellatly; F. T. Jackson, of Daykin & Jackson; Armstrong; R. E. Barber of the Salmon Arm Farmers' Exchange; Mr. Johnstone of Nelson; Mr. Nickerson, of Salmon Arm; J. Rooke, of Grand Forks; R. M. Winslow, secretary B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, and representatives of the Okanagan Fruit Union, and the Vernon Fruit Company. Mr. Scott Allan took the chair.

It will be remembered that at the meeting of the Fruit Growers' Association in Ottawa last February the C.P.R. granted a reduction in freight rates at the same time cancelling certain privileges that the shippers had formerly enjoyed in the make-up and minimum of mixed cars. It was afterwards found that by a misunderstanding the new tariff resulted in a greater cost to the shipper than the previous arrangement. After a great deal of correspondence therefore this new tariff was held in abeyance till the C.P.R. freight authorities could meet the shippers, and find out exactly what their wishes were. This meeting was the outcome of the misunderstanding. Mr. Lanigan promised that the new tariff, to be published in fifteen or twenty days, should include the reduction in freight rates as previously published, which amounts to a considerable sum on all the fruit shipped out of B.C. in a season, and also the mixed car privileges which the shippers asked for, slightly modified. It is impossible to state even approximately what figures will represent the enormous saving this concession on the part of the C.P.R. will make to the province until this revised tariff is published and duly considered.

A BROKEN LEG.

George Craig, one of Summerland's popular young men, met with a painful and rather serious accident last Monday. While riding near the Packing House at West Summerland, he had the misfortune to be thrown from his horse and suffered a compound fracture of the leg just below the knee. When turning a corner at a fair speed his horse came in contact with a hitching rail, catching Mr. Craig's leg between the horse and rail and throwing him forcibly over the rail, making a very bad break of that limb. Medical assistance was fortunately close at hand, and the fractured member had prompt attention. The patient was afterwards removed to the Hospital where the fractured bones were set. Mr. Craig is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

ACCIDENT.

Mr. J. Avarad Black had an unpleasant experience when returning home from the Flower Show last Friday night. The night was dark and his horse turned into the wrong road at Trout Creek, and tilted the carriage over sufficiently far to throw Mr. Black out between the body and the wheels. The other two occupants, Miss Evelyn Brown, and Roy Black, were able to stay in the rig. The horse realizing that something was wrong, made a bolt to get free, and dragged Mr. Black along for some distance, until he fell and the wheels passed over him. Fortunately Mr. Black was not seriously injured. He received some nasty bruises, however, which will somewhat hinder his activities for some days. In addition to some scalp wounds he is suffering from a lame shoulder and various bruises.

Gilbert V. White left for the East on Monday morning's boat. Mr. White will spend some time at Ottawa, and from there will go to Harvard University, where he purposes taking a post graduate course in business administration.

Flowers, Fruit and Fancy Work.

List of Prizes Awarded at Last Week's Fine Display. An Assured Annual Event.

That the efforts of the Women's Institute to give Summerland an Annual Flower Show is appreciated is evident from the large attendance at the first event of this nature held here last week. There were entries for practically every class and there is sure to be a very material increase in the number at the next annual show. Many refrained from entering not being sure of what was required, but now that they have seen the first show, quite a number have expressed their determination to enter the competition next year. We may therefore look for greatly increased competition in every class.

Great credit is due those who had the responsibility of managing the Flower Show, both for the excellent way in which it was conducted, and for the tastefully arranged displays. That Naramata captured so many prizes is not to the discredit of Summerland, but much to the credit of the exhibitors from that side for the excellent quality of their exhibits, and the neatness of their arrangement.

No doubt many ladies are already preparing fruits, jellies, jams and pickles for entry next year.

Below is a complete list of the prize winners as furnished by the secretary of the Women's Institute.

Kelowna Retains Foresters' Cup.

Tie for Robinson Shield. Interesting Account of Peachland's Regatta.

The Fourth Annual Regatta of the Peachland Amateur Aquatic Association was held at Peachland, yesterday. Ideal weather conditions prevailed, there being just sufficient breeze to prevent the heat from becoming oppressive.

There was a fair attendance at the morning events. Owing to a delay in starting, the morning events were cut down to three. The first was the Boys' Swimming Race, twelve years and under. As there were only two entries, only one prize was awarded, this going to W. Weddall. The Boys' Swimming Race, fifteen years and under, was a good race, and was won by White, with R. Keating second.

The main event of the morning, however, was the Senior War Canoe Race, Kelowna and Peachland being the contestants. In the first stretch both crews paddled well, and approached the first turn together. Peachland lost the race on the turns, Kelowna making some neat sweeps around the flag. The visitors gained a lead of five lengths on the second stretch, but Peachland cut this down a little on the second stretch. The handicap was too much, however, Kelowna finishing in the good time of 5 minutes 57 seconds. By winning this event Kelowna retained the Foresters' Cup.

In the afternoon the "Orchard City" brought a second contingent of Kelowna visitors, the "Maude Moore" arrived with a Naramata crowd, Mr. G. W. Morfitt in the "Calgary" and Mr. J. Rowley in the "Lil" brought goodly representations from Summerland.

A long delay was caused by the fact that the entries to the events had not been completed. But the crowd was patient, and the refreshment booths did a land office business.

In the single sculls G. Scholl took first place, although his only competitor, Barkwill, was severely handicapped through having to use a strange boat at the last moment.

The open swimming event for men provided a fine race, Errington and Beale finishing in a dead heat. Later in the afternoon Beale won out. The diving competition attracted much attention—Beale 1st; Bachelor 2nd; Burn 3rd.

In the junior war canoe race the excitement ran high, Peachland winning out by two and a half lengths.

What proved to be the battle royal of the day was the senior war canoe race for the Robinson Shield. Long before the finish the spectators were at fever point. Peachland set the pace, but at the half way point Kelowna settled down, and began to crawl up, inch by inch. At the finishing line the judges pronounced the race a dead heat. If the race had been six feet longer it would have been Kelowna's, if six feet shorter, Peachland's.

RAILWAY ACTIVITIES AT NARAMATA.

Preliminary work in connection with the railway construction on the east side of the lake is proceeding as rapidly as possible. Mr. C. H. Griffin, representing Grant, Smith & Co. the contractors, has been on the spot getting everything in order. A large warehouse is now in course of construction and will be used as a supply depot by that company. It is understood that some fifty-seven miles of line will be built by them, and already work that will occupy a year and a half has been laid out. The coming of the railway will also mean a great extension to and improvement in the roads on that side, and it is stated on good authority that some $30,000 or $40,000 will be expended at once in road work, much of which will be for new roads, while some of it will be spent in widening some of the present highways.

A very large apple was brought to the Review Office on Thursday afternoon. It is of the Wolf River variety, measures 16 inches in circumference, and weighs 27 ounces. It may be seen in the Review window.

DISTRESSING EXPERIENCE.

To be almost parched by thirst and footsore with tramping was the unpleasant experience of two men connected with the railway construction work at Naramata. Mr. C. H. Griffin, the local representative of the contractors, accompanied by another, started on a tour of inspection of the surveyed route. They rode for some distance northward, and started to tramp the rest of journey, being guided by a map of the railway route, which they took with them. After walking for some time they became very thirsty and kept a look out for water, but there was none to be found. Their map, however, showed that they would soon come to a creek which crossed the right-of-way, and they accordingly pushed on. Finally the creek was reached, but to the dismay of the two it was dry. Studying the map they found that some distance further along another creek should be crossed, and rather than go back the long distance without water they determined to proceed, though by this time being in considerable distress. After weary plodding the second creek was reached, only again to find it the same as the first—completely dry. Feeling that they must soon find water they determined to push on to a third creek marked on the map, hoping that there they would find relief. Great was their dismay, therefore, when the third creek bed was approached and found empty. Now, indeed, they were in a dilemma, and matters were beginning to look very serious. They were a long way from any known supply of water, and it was well into the afternoon. Becoming desperate, and remembering the broad stretch of water in Okanagan Lake away below them—for they were now well up in the hills back of Squally Point—they determined to make an attempt to reach the lake, though with feet blistered and suffering greatly from thirst, and at once started on their downward course. It was a long journey to the lake, and when it was finally reached they dropped there exhausted, practically tumbling into the water. There they were found and picked up by M. G. Wilson, of Paradise Ranch, who returned the two men, weary and sore, to Naramata in his boat.

GENERAL BOOTH DEAD.

London, Aug. 20.—General William Booth, head of the Salvation Army, died this evening in London after a severe illness lasting about a week. General Booth celebrated his 83rd birthday on April 10 last. Shortly after he underwent a serious operation for cataract of the eye. The operation was unsuccessful, and the aged General was left in total blindness.

Drowned in Osprey Lake

First Fatality Among Railway Navvies. Gilbert Anderson, Scandinavian from Spokane, Loses Life While Fishing.

The first serious accident among the men employed in railway construction work here, occurred last Sunday at Osprey Lake, where five men had gone for a day's fishing. It resulted in the death of Gilbert Anderson, one of the party. The first news of the accident came on Monday afternoon, when it was reported that a drowning accident had occurred, and that the body was being brought to Summerland.

It is required that when a fatal accident occurs, a Coroner be immediately summoned, and he visits the scene of the accident before permitting the removal of the body, deciding whether an inquest is necessary. In this case, probably due to ignorance, the Coroner was not notified, and when the body was brought here and he was advised of the accident, he considered an inquest necessary, and ordered a post mortem examination. The autopsy was made by Dr. C. M. Smith, and the inquest was held on Tuesday afternoon in Elliott's Hall. The following comprised the jury: C. N. Borton, foreman; T. C. Stinson, Martin Beavis, A. B. Elliott, George Loomer and Daniel Williams.

The only witnesses examined, other than Dr. Smith, who per-

Irrigation Convention at Kelowna.

Sixth Annual Gathering Brings Two Hundred Delegates to Orchard City.

The Western Canada Irrigation Association held its sixth annual convention at Kelowna last week, on the four days commencing Tuesday, the 13th inst.

The attendance was the largest in the history of the Association, and included some forty delegates from Alberta and Saskatchewan, and nearly one hundred and twenty from various parts of British Columbia, besides many distinguished visitors from Eastern Canada, the United States and foreign countries.

The first gathering was held on Tuesday evening, in the Opera House. Hon. W. R. Ross first expressed regret at the unavoidable absence of Premier Sir Richard McBride, and read a telegram from him in which he extended best wishes for the success of the Convention, and referred to Kelowna as affording a splendid object lesson of what could be achieved by irrigation.

Mayor J. W. Jones, on behalf of the city, welcomed the visitors, saying that the delegates would see much that was interesting to them in the many important irrigation works which had been and which were being undertaken in the neighborhood. He regretted the absence of the Premier, but was glad to see Hon. W. R. Ross, and also Hon. Price Ellison present, whose absence would have been a great loss to the Convention, as few took so great an interest in irrigation work.

The president read a brief report of the work of the Association during the past year, comparing it with similar organizations over the border, and declared it was a credit to Canada to have worked up such an organization in such a short time. The influence of the Association, too, had grown enormously, and he was glad to note that nearly all of last year's resolutions had been taken up by the government, and many of them acted upon.

Hon. Price Ellison, Minister of Finance and Agriculture for British Columbia, said he was glad to be present as representative of the district at a convention of so much importance to it. The government were devoting considerable attention to the subject of irrigation, and were endeavoring to get the very best men available to assist them.

He pointed with pride to the side of the stage where stood the beautiful Stillwell Trophy, valued at $1,000, won by British Columbia at New York, for the finest exhibit of potatoes, a triumph of which the province should be proud. Touching upon the important matter of the government taking over the control of the water supply, he hoped some scheme would be forthcoming whereby the government could take advantage of the billions of gallons of water available around them sufficient to water the whole valley. There was no risk in the government putting money into such a business, as land now not worth a dollar an acre would come to be worth three to four hundred. It would be a moneymaking business for the government and mean increased prosperity to the country.

Five years ago he had declared his belief to Premier McBride that there would come a time when fruit growing would dwarf all other industries in the province, and at its present rate of growth it bid fair to do so. It was, moreover, bringing intelligent, wide-awake people into the province, who were putting their money into developing the land.

Mr. J. S. Dennis, C.P.R., assistant to the president, indicated briefly some of the results of the work of the Irrigation Association, which although young in years, had accomplished much. As a result of

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

the Vernon meeting four years ago, the government had begun to take steps to deal with the laws relating to the use of water. There were many difficulties in the way. No law dealing with such matters as the Water Act did could be enforced without causing friction, and he hoped that as a result of the present Convention those vitally interested would see that every possible support was given to the Minister of Lands in the working of the Act.

Mr. R. H. Campbell, Director of Forestry under the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, dealt with the general progress and development of the Dominion, and more particularly with the policy of the Federal Government in dealing with the conservation of its forest wealth.

Wednesday morning's session was given up entirely to the business of the Convention. The secretary made special mention of the widespread interest taken in the Convention not only in Canada, but all over the continent.

In the afternoon, Professor Atkinson, of the Montana State Agricultural College, lectured upon "The Irrigation of Alfalfa," an interesting topic, which aroused a good deal of discussion.

Mr. A. E. Ashcroft, engineer for the C.N.R., read a paper on "Public Ownership of Irrigation Systems," a question which was probably the most important one under the consideration of the Convention.

In the evening, Dr. Samuel Fortier, Chief of U.S.A. Irrigation Investigations, read a paper on "Irrigation," a general survey of the subject and the laws which regulate it.

Mr. John T. Burns, executive secretary of the International Dry Farming Congress, Lethbridge, Alta., gave an address on the subject of "Dry Farming."

A number of important resolutions came under discussion. It was decided to form a special British Columbia Committee with a local secretary, which will give special attention to the particular needs of the province. A special meeting was also decided upon for December next. Resolutions to amend the Railway Belt Act, to submit water agreements used by companies for the approval of the Water Commissioner and Lieutenant-General in Council, to compel water users to keep ditches free from weeds, all received the support of the Convention.

Rain interfered considerably with arrangements made for Thursday. Motor excursions into the surrounding country were planned, but the persistent downpour of rain robbed the outings of much of their pleasure.

Friday the delegates went to Okanagan Mission, at which point, after an inspection of the bench lands of the Kelowna Land and Orchard Company, they boarded the "Okanagan" for Penticton, where they were banquetted at the new hotel. A short stop was made at Summerland to visit the first annual flower show then in progress.

The people of Vernon met the delegates at Kelowna on the return journey on Saturday morning, and conveyed them by automobiles to the metropolis of the Okanagan.

WHERE THE TYRES GO.

The old maid sister was watching her married brother patch a motor car tyre.

"I have always been interested," she said, "in the utilization of waste. Now, Charlie, where do you suppose all these burst tyres go in the end?"

"I don't know," replied the home-ward brother, "but if they go where most people consign 'em there must be a terrible smell of rubber in the great beyond."

Bargain sales in Summerland, especially from an advertising point of view, are none too frequent. T. B. Young, however, is announcing in his advertising space in this issue a one week sale that is sure to make him better known to the buying public of this district.

LITERATURE FOR THE RY. CAMPS

The committee having in charge the work among the railway camps are sending out a strong appeal for an immediate and large supply of books and magazines, particularly the latter. The number of men employed is constantly increasing, and reading matter is greatly appreciated. As the supply is now very low, an immediate response to this appeal will be greatly appreciated by the committee.

A GOOD OLD AGE.

A good old age is a beautiful sight, and there is nothing earthly that is as noble—in my eyes at least. And so I have often thought a ship is a fine object when it comes into port with all its sails set from a long voyage. Many a thousand miles it has come, with the sun for guidance and the sea for its path; and the waves that might have been its grave, a thousand fathoms deep, have yielded it a ready way, and winds that might have been its wreck have been its service. It has come from another meridian than ours. It has come by reefs and banks that have been washed for centuries by the restless waves, but not a plank has started nor one timber in it did prove rotten. And now it has come like an answer to the prayers of many hearts—a delight to the owner, a joy to many a sailor's home, and a pleasure to all ashore that see it. It has been steered over the ocean, and been piloted through dangers and now it is safe. But still more interesting than this is a good life as it approaches its three score years and ten. It began in the century before the present; has lasted on through storms and sunshine; and it has been guarded against many a rock on which shipwreck of a good conscience might have been made.

When a man passes the thirtieth mile post and has loved no good woman, he has lost his best chance of life for happiness, and the sooner he calls a halt and thinks it over the better.

UP THE HILL OF LIFE.

Some forty years ago and more, we stood as it were, a barefooted boy at the base of a rugged mountain, and cast our eyes far up the rugged hillside, where nearly, or quite half way up the winding pathway we discovered you—and you—and you as, toiling along the rough, uncertain mountain side; you sought to gain the hill top. We gazed a moment and then with childish joy, we started forward in gleeful pursuit and began to climb the steep ascent. As we travelled on, many passed us on the journey, while many others, footsore and weary, fell out by the way, and we saw them no more.

It was not long until we observed that those of you who were in advance, but still in view of us, climbed a little more slowly, and your gray hairs thickened and whitened as the years went flying by; and hoping to undertake and journey with you we pushed forward with renewed courage and vigor, until we found our own strength going and our own steps growing shorter, and slowly but at last we reached the summit almost as soon as those of you who were already half way there when we started on the toilsome journey. And we pause for breath just within the shadow of our declining years.

Well, here we stand upon the very apex of life's weary way, and as we glance backward down the slope we have just ascended, and think of the bright days which shone upon the highway spread out before us, and made it look so pleasant and inviting when we first began the march with those who tarried or journeyed with us at the foot of the hill, or bivouacked by the wayside, we almost wish we could begin the journey over with those other younger folks we see just now coming up the highway. Our gaze is backward; downward; their eyes are forward, upward and fixed with glowing hope upon this spot where we are now resting, waiting. We are living in the past, they, away out in the future. Hope beckons them onward, while memory calls us back.

GRAY LOCKS.

PENTICTON'S PEACH CROP.

Penticton fruit growers are harvesting the heaviest peach crop in the history of the district. It is estimated that the total crop will run about one hundred cars. Of this amount the well-known Munson ranch, owned by a prominent Winnipeg lawyer, will contribute about ten carloads, or ten thousand boxes.

The majority of the growers are shipping through the local packing companies—the Vernon Fruit Company, the Kelowna Farmers' Exchange, and the Okanagan Fruit Union. The new Penticton cannery are absorbing their share of the crop and have about thirty people employed.

Prices for early apples have been fair, netting the grower about $1.10 per box. Peaches have been a little less, netting around two and one-quarter cents per pound.

The proportion that the packing company gets for their services in comparison with the work of the grower in producing the fruit is an element of the situation which is coming in for considerable criticism. The selling commission is ten per cent., the cost of packing is twenty cents per box, and the box itself costs about eight cents. This applies to peaches. This makes a total of thirty-five cents, so that when peaches are worth seventy cents f.o.b. Penticton the grower only receives thirty-five cents. Many have expressed the opinion that a co-operative organization would be the means of saving a good many dollars to the fruit grower.

As an evidence of their faith in the industry the Okanagan Fruit Union are making preparations to put up a large warehouse near the depot, at a cost of fifteen thousand dollars. The Vernon Fruit Company already have their own building.

OUR MARKET.

FROM the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean the only areas suited to commercial fruit growing are to be found in British Columbia. To put it another way—the fruit belts of this province are the only portions of this vast area that will be producing the fruit to supply the 100,000,000 people who will be citizens of Western Canada. According to statistics the people of this part of our great country consume more fruit per capita than any other people, and it is likely this will continue to be the case. It is up to the people of the fruit districts to meet and keep abreast with the demands of this wealthy and rapidly increasing market.

British Columbia at the present time supplies only about fifteen per cent. of the fruit necessary for the present population of Western Canada; though by virtue of its soil, climate and transportation facilities, the province is in a peculiarly satisfactory position to supply the demand for fruit products. That she has not done so to date is primarily due to the fact that it is only a short time since her fruit growing potentialities have been realized to any extent, and because the creation of a fruit growing industry takes time.

A QUESTION OF INTERNATIONAL FAITH.

THE one outstanding national characteristic of the people of the United States is their greed for material gain. That this characteristic has developed is not strange when it is remembered that it was for material gain that most of the citizens of that country or their parents migrated there; and that desire for material betterment has predominated in the lives of many—so much so that it has become generally recognized as a national trait, and is as evident in the dealings of the nation with other peoples as it is in the dealings of the individual citizen.

Probably this trait has never been so flagrantly and shamelessly displayed as in the recent enactment by both Congress and Senate of the laws pertaining to the Panama Canal, which seemingly also have the approval of both Taft and Roosevelt.

In order that the way might be opened up for the building of the Panama Canal by that nation, certain rights of other nations had to be considered or acquired, and an agreement was entered into between the United States and Great Britain, the latter representing, as she frequently does, the interests of several nations.

At this period of civilization, when world-wide brotherhood is so much talked of, and by none more than by the people of the United States, the breach of faith by that nation with another, by wholly ignoring its treaty obligations as entered into by the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty is much to be regretted, more from the position in which it places that nation in the eyes of the world than because of any material and temporary injury it may by its unfair dealing put upon other nations.

That a large portion of the people of that country regret the stand taken by the nation's leaders is certain, and it has been hoped that the better element would predominate. Latest dispatches from Washington, however, have been a disappointment. Let us hope that the spirit of manly, straightforward honor will in some way prevail, and redeem that country from national dishonor. That there is such an element at work is evidenced by the editorials of many of the nation's leading journals. The attitude taken by the Scientific American in an editorial written just previous to the passing of the bill approving of rebating to American ships, well defines the case from the point of view and honor and fair play. We quote the Scientific American in full:

"Article 3.—The United States adopts as the basis of the neutralization of such ship canal the following rules, substantially as embodied in the Convention of Constantinople, signed the 28th of October, 1888, for the free navigation of the Suez Canal, that is to say: 1.—The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules, on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation, or its citizens or subjects, in respect to the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise."

"The above quotation is from a treaty concluded in 1901 between the United States and Great Britain, known as the 'Hay-Pauncefote Treaty,' in which, in consideration of certain concessions made by Great Britain the United States agreed, among other things, to operate the canal under similar conditions as regards the ships of all nations making use of the canal.

"There is now before Congress a bill which proposes to remit the tolls on ships flying the flag of this country.

"It does not take a legally-trained mind to see that such exemption would be a distinct breach of faith on the part of our Government. The question is one of simple, everyday morality. Questions of moral right are universal in their application, and the code of honor is as strict in its obligations on a powerful Government like our own as it is upon the individual citizen. Is it not indeed more binding? A breach of faith on the part of an individual concerns himself only, whereas a breach of faith on the part of the United States Government reflects upon every one of the ninety-five millions of people who live beneath its flag.

"The porif of the present invitation to a breach of good faith lies in the fact that the issue is being clouded by sophistry. Specious catch-words and misleading phraseology may easily divert the minds of a busy people from the real points at issue in a controversy of this kind. "We built the canal; why should we not make the other people pay for it?" "The United States has invested nearly $400,000,000 in this enterprise; and why should we be called upon to play the part of philanthropic benefactor, by charging our own ships the same rate of toll as we charge the ships of other nations who have contributed not a dollar to the great work?" The answer to all this is, that our Government, after a careful review of the whole situation, and in view of the collateral advantages to be secured in the way of the abrogation of previously existing treaties affecting the Isthmus, and the pledge of Great Britain that the Canadian and Suez Canals shall be operated upon terms of equality; did enter into a solemn agreement to operate the Panama Canal upon terms of equality; and if the United States should now violate that treaty by operating the canal upon terms of inequality, it will stand condemned in the eyes of the whole world as having committed an act of international dishonor.

"Furthermore, the exemption of United States ships from payment of tolls would be to divert a portion of the reasonable profits of the canal into the pockets of certain private corporations. We cannot shut our eyes to this fact. The remission of these tolls will not mean the return of any profits of operation back into the National Treasury; and no amount of argument can possibly show that it will. It is urged, of course, that the remission of tolls will serve as a powerful stimulus to the upbuilding of our merchant marine. But we are not by any means prepared to admit that it would. What we do claim, however, is that whatever collateral benefits might be secured, it is impossible to overlook the fact that the gain would be made at the cost of our national reputation for honor and square dealing.

"The Scientific American, as our readers know, is an earnest advocate of the upbuilding of our shipping industry; but upon mature consideration we feel that this expedient of remitting Panama tolls is not, and in the nature of things can never be, the legitimate way to secure this object.

"The construction of the Panama Canal must rank as the greatest achievement of a physical character that has ever been undertaken and successfully put through by the United States. We have gained an enviable reputation thereby, and in this particular field our prestige as a great engineering people has been immeasurably increased. It would be a lamentable commencement of the operation of the canal, if we were to cloud this great project by following a course which would bring down the condemnation of the whole civilized world."

BRAINS FURNISHED.

THAT INSANE people have been restored to health by the injection of healthy brain tissue seems almost unbelievable, but Dr. William Maule Smith, of the British Medical Association, is the authority that such has been accomplished. His paper, read before a meeting of that association, the title of which was, "On the Uses of Extract of Brain Tissues in the Treatment of Various Forms of Insanity," has created no small sensation even in that scientific gathering. In his paper, bristling with technicalities, he quoted actual cases in which he had obtained healthy brain tissue, extracted the cerebrin and cholesterin, and injected these substances into insane persons. This treatment, he declared, caused delusions to vanish and grave disorders were cleared up.

ACCORDING TO Dr. Sam Wallace, lecturer in dental surgery and pathology at the London Hospital, there are two great causes of dental disease—one the "sloppy nature of the food on which very young children are compelled to subsist," and the other "sweets." He says that the eating of sweets is the cause of fifty per cent. of the disease of children of the present day.

ONE hundred and seventy-five thousand, three hundred and forty-one immigrants arrived in Canada in April, May and June. Fifty-three thousand of these were from the United States. This is an increase of fifteen per cent. over the corresponding period in 1911.

THE census of 1911 revealed the fact that there is a total capital of $1,245,018,881 now employed in Canadian manufactures. This is an increase during the decade of 175.58 per cent. while at the same time the value of their products has increased by 182.11 per cent.

IT doesn't make much difference how good a Good Thing is, you can't expect to sell much of it if no one knows about it.

In fact the better the quality of a commodity the more it should be talked about.

This applies to our Carbonated Beverages.

We do not believe you ever tasted any better or purer Soda Water than we manufacture, and we would like to have you call at our factory and let us prove this to you.

After that you'll boost for it yourself.

Concrete Well or Tank

THE FARMER, above all others, appreciates good water. He drinks more water than the city man. The city-dweller is dependent upon the public water-supply for the purity of his water, while the farmer can have his own private source of water, and thus be sure that it is pure and healthful.

MAN hasn't found a better drink than cool water, properly collected and stored. But in order to keep water fresh and pure, a tank or well casing that will keep out every possible impurity must be used.

CONCRETE IS THE IDEAL MATERIAL FOR TANKS AND WELL-CASINGS.

IT is absolutely water-tight, protecting your water from seepage of all kinds. It cannot rot or crumble. It is easily cleaned inside. Time and water, instead of causing it to decay, actually make it stronger.

THERE are scores of other uses for concrete on your farm—on every farm. If you would like to know of them, write for our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." The book is absolutely free.

OUR Farmers' Information Department will help you to decide how to build anything, from a porch-step to a silo. The service is free—you don't even have to promise to build. When in doubt ask the Information Department.

Only Results Count

The one thing above all else that you want to know about the range you buy is this—that it will cook and broil and bake with absolute satisfaction.

Other features of a range, such as convenience, economy and appearance, are, of course also indispensable, but the prime necessity in a range is results in cooking. The Gurney-Oxford gives results—not now and then, but always.

Every Gurney-Oxford is a source of continual satisfaction to its owner. Day after day, year after year, it enables her to produce pastry, bread, roasts that contribute to the pleasure of housekeeping. That is why the Gurney-Oxford finds its strongest support among those who have had actual and intimate experience with it. You too will number your Gurney-Oxford among your best friends.

Mr. H. A. Turner, Commissioner of Roads for British Columbia, was in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Seaman Hatfield have gone out to their ranch beyond the Falls for a short time.

School will be re-opened next Monday morning, when it is hoped that Miss McLaughland will take charge.

Miss Rodehouse went up to Pentiction last Saturday after spending her vacation with her parents at their ranch.

Mrs. L. N. Mackechnie, of Vancouver, who is a frequent visitor in Pentiction, has been staying here during the past week.

A small, but very pleasant party went up to Sandy Point for a picnic last Monday at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Henderson.

Mr. Adam Stark, of Summerland, brought a party down on Sunday in his motor launch. They stayed at the Hotel for a few days.

Rapid progress is being made with the new road on the other side of the lake, which when completed will add greatly to development, and will also facilitate travel.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornwall, of Kamloops, with an automobile party, called here on their return journey after touring in the States. They report the roads over the border in very bad condition.

The marriage took place at Pentiction, in the home of Mrs. Baker, on the evening of August 14, of Miss Florence Preston, to Mr. Harry Prentice. This was the first marriage at which the Rev. Chas. Britten officiated, since his induction as pastor of the Baptist Church there. On the Friday evening following, Mrs. Goodwin gave a linen shower in honor of the bride.

The Hotel registered the following this week: Mr. H. S. Huycke, J. S. W. Anderson, Miss Herbert, all of Pentiction; Colin C. Brown, Vancouver; J. R. Stander Osage, Sask.; W. C. Baskin, Pentiction; L. B. West, Vancouver; H. A. Turner, D. Carnahan, Fairview; Mrs. L. N. Mackechnie, Miss Edith M. Farming, Vancouver; Miss Jessie A. Davidson, West Summerland; Mr. J. B.C. EXHIBIT AT SASKATOON.

The Saskatoon Star makes the following complimentary reference to the B.C. exhibit at the fair just closed at Saskatoon:

"While the exhibit as a whole in the horticultural building are extremely fine, that of the British Columbia Government in particular is a mouth-watering one. All through the fair, thousands of visitors have gaped at the wonderful exhibits of fruit there from the farthest west province, and there is no doubt that a large number of people, to whom the succulent cherry and apple appeals as well as hundreds of other fruits which are reared there, have felt a strong inclination to set forth to that paradise and see it for themselves. The exhibits as seen at this booth look almost too good to be true, for there are gigantic apples, one of which would surely satisfy even the most voracious of small boys. A large part of the fruit which is not obtainable at present has been shipped in preservatives, and it can be seen in tall glass jars just as it was plucked from the tree. Across the end of the horticultural hall is a pleasingly laid out collection of British Columbia fruit. W. J. Brandreth, exhibition commissioner, and H. McClure Johnson, are in charge of it. They have shown their province's products at Winnipeg, Brandon and Regina, and will also visit Edmonton, Toronto, London and Ottawa fairs. The apples, plums, peaches and berries they show were grown in the Okanagan, the Kootenay, the Similkameen and Lower Fraser Valleys, and on Vancouver Island. They have several varieties of each kind of fruit, and all are of a size and lusciousness to impress the newcomer with a good idea of Canada's resources as a fruit-growing country."

formed the autopsy, were the four men who, with the deceased, made up the fishing party.

HIS COMPANIONS' EVIDENCE.

The first witness, Martin Libak, in his evidence, stated that he was employed in Construction Camp No. 18, on the Kettle Valley Railway, twenty miles west of Summerland. He had known the deceased for some years, being acquainted with him in the Old Country. With four others he went up to a lake fishing last Saturday night. The lake was about seven miles from the camp, and they stayed there all night. Early Sunday morning they fished for several hours. Witness said he was on a raft, and when he left it to help prepare breakfast, Anderson asked to use it, and witness told him to do so. The meal was made ready and the others called. Anderson answered that he would come. Breakfast was proceeded with and later Holeman, one of the party, went out and found Anderson lying face down on the raft, and called the witness. He saw the deceased lying on the raft with his head and body to the waist in the water, and his legs across the raft. With Holman, witness took the body off the raft on to the landing. There they tried to shake him and worked for about two hours trying to get the water out of him. Where the body was found the water was three and a half to four feet deep. After working over him he was taken to the cabin, and the party then went back to the camp and got help to take him down. This was on Sunday afternoon.

Replying to questions, the witness said he did not report the accident to Dr. Davidson. He did not know Dr. Davidson. There was nothing in the hands of the deceased when taken from the water. Anderson used quite a lot of Copenhagen snuff. He never knew him to have fits. He was a healthy man, and there was no liquor in the party. The raft was close to shore, and a man could have jumped from the shore to the raft. The body was on the shore side of the raft when found. Deceased had been fishing out further.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY.

Dr. Smith was the next witness examined. He had held a post-mortem examination on the body of Gilbert Anderson at nine o'clock that morning (Tuesday). The skin showed evidences of drowning. There were no marks of violence, and no injury to the scalp or skull could be found. The brain was about normal, the chest cavity well filled with the lungs, which, although deeply congested at the base and the posterior portions, did not show the usual signs of drowning. To the best of his knowledge death was due to asphyxia. The deceased did not seem to have breathed after his head was in the water. His heart was normal. If deceased had been subject to fits, he would have thought this was the cause of death. There were no traces of liquor. His appearance corresponded to one subject to fits.

FURTHER EVIDENCE AND VERDICT.

John Holeman, upon examination, said that after fishing for a time, he prepared coffee and called the others. Anderson replied to the call saying that he would come right away. Witness saw him on the raft fishing. The others started breakfast and waited half an hour, then went for Anderson. He was found with his head in the water and his legs across the raft, and he called to the others. Replying to questions witness said that deceased was not ill that morning, but had been singing and dancing, and was in the best of spirits.

The examination of Ole Gundersen, the next witness, brought out nothing new, nor did that of Gus Olson, who said that he came to breakfast about an hour and a half after the accident, and at that time the body was outside the cabin.

The jury were then addressed by the coroner, and under the charge of Provincial Constable MacDonald, retired to discuss the evidence. After being closeted for about twenty minutes, the jury brought in a verdict that death was accidental, no fault being attributed to any person or persons.

E. C. Graham, undertaker, who had charge of the body, wired to Spokane, the former home of the deceased, for instructions as to its disposal. No reply was received, and shortly after the coroner issued the burial permit, and a quiet funeral service was held. This was conducted by Rev. F. W. Hardy, and interment was made in the Summerland cemetery.

Naramata Notes.

School again! The schools of the province open their doors again on the fourth Monday in August. Miss Orca Williams has been appointed teacher here.

The recent rain came as a sort of parting blessing for the season to gladden the hearts of the orchardists, and to set aside the necessity for further irrigation.

W. H. Lyne, a provincial government horticultural expert, has been in the district on a trip of inspection, looking especially for any traces of disease in the orchards.

Mrs. A. Town, of Peachland, in company with her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. M. McCutcheon, of Winnipeg, in the course of a short tour round the lake stopped off at Naramata for a day.

The marriage of a well-known young man of our town to a popular young lady of Summerland was the one big event of the week for Naramata. A fuller account is to be found elsewhere.

The patronage of the Hotel by tourists continues still to be of the very best, and it has now become imperative to consider the necessity of adding another wing to the building next year.

The Unity Club after a spell of holiday met on Friday afternoon at their own cozy home on the lake shore, and were entertained by Mrs. Morsch, and Mrs. McGann, recently of Ottawa.

An effort should be made this fall to extend the electric light's sphere of operations to the benches. There are difficulties in the way, of course, particularly on account of the distance, but if it can be done, it should be done and done soon.

Mr. John M. Empey, of Calgary, while in here for a holiday in company with his wife, secured two pieces of orchard property. One lot is in the rough, right north of T. H. Boothe's, and the other is partly improved, belonging at one time to Mr. Brodie.

Mr. C. G. Griffin, of Spokane, now a guest at Hotel Naramata, is here in the interests of the Grant Smith Co., who recently took the contract for the first 57 miles of railway north from Penticton. Mr. Griffin assures us that the actual construction work will begin in the immediate future.

The shipments of fruit and vegetables, of which latter tomatoes are the chief, have been particularly heavy this week, and Mr. H. J. Wells, of the Okanagan Fruit Union appears to be on deck night and day. The demand for our product is keen enough to satisfy the best of us—or shall we say the worst of us?

The Flower Show held in Summerland last Friday drew quite a number of people and several exhibits from our town, and to the credit of Naramata, all of our exhibits were high class, and a number of firsts and seconds were awarded to our exhibitors, mention of details being made elsewhere in this issue.

The Smith Lumber Company's scow "Kelowna" is putting in a busy season's work this year, despite the difficulties in the way of keeping the logs towed from points north in sufficient quantities. The intimation made some time ago that the mill might be moved nearer the base of supplies appears to be well founded.

T. E. Moore, the well-known store keeper of Summerland, while in here on Tuesday, reports having visited Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnson now in Victoria. Mr. Johnson has taken quite a dip into Victoria real estate, and has bought two residential lots in the capital city, and purposes having a dwelling erected thereon.

N. Latham Collins, representing the well-known prairie paper, the Calgary Herald, made a thorough canvass of the town and district looking towards establishing a publicity correspondent in Naramata. Mr. Collins was charmed with what he saw of the orchards, and assured us that our town would be given the publicity it deserves.

REVENUE INDICATES PROSPERITY.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Unexampled prosperity is indicated in the financial statement for July and the first four months of the fiscal year, just issued. The revenue for the latter period aggregated $152,477,317, an increase of $12,000,000.

This constitutes a record. In July the aggregate revenue was $14,619,207, an increase of three millions.

The principal sources of revenue in the four months were: Customs, $36,649,574; excise, $5,520,620; public works, $4,488,000; post offices, $3,000,000.

Expenditure on consolidated revenue was $28,398,071, an increase of five millions, and on capital, $4,987,354, a decrease of $800,000.

Since the beginning of the fiscal year Hon. W. T. White has decreased the debt by $20,000,000.

NETT EARNINGS OF C.P.R.

The annual financial statement of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the year ending June 30 last, has been made public. It shows the immense earning for the year of close to $125,000,000, more than one third of which is net earnings. The usual quarterly dividends were declared at the monthly meeting a few days since at which Sir Thomas Shaughnessy presided. Those present included Sir William Van Horne, Hon. Robert Mackay, R. B. Angus, C. Hosmer, D. McNicol, E. B. Osler and W. D. Matthews.

The statement for the fiscal year to June 30 was as follows: Gross earnings from railway and steamship lines, $123,390,541; working expenses, $80,021,298; nett earnings from railway and steamship lines, $43,298,243; nett earnings of steamships in excess of amount included in monthly reports, $1,104,449; deduct fixed charges, $10,524,987; surplus, $33,877,754; deduct amount transferred to steamship replacement account, $1,000,000; deduct contribution to pension fund, $125,000; net revenue from railway and steamship lines available for dividend, $32,752,754.

Special income from interest on land, sales and from other extraneous assets not included in the above, $5,158,585.

WILL BRING EXCURSION.

Dr. E. S. Roe, Publicity Commissioner of the Vancouver Progress Club, met the Board of Trade here last Saturday night, and gave a very pleasing address, urging the advisability of co-operation with this Club in the obtaining of settlers and making known the many advantages of this district.
Our report, which we have prepared of this address, is unfortunately crowded out of this week's issue.
So favorably impressed is Dr. S.
Roe with what he has seen during his trip through the Okanagan that he intends to try to get an excusion of the Vancouver business men to visit this valley at the earliest possible date, that they may become acquainted with the wonderful resources of the district, which, to many of them, are as yet unknown and unappreciated.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A serious accident occurred last Friday evening to the driver of one of the four-horse freight teams belonging to the Kettle Valley railway contractors. It appears that while descending the long and dangerous grade into Nelson's camp No. 1, about thirteen miles west of Summerland, the man was thrown from his loaded wagon, the hind wheel of which passed right up his left side, breaking several ribs and bruising him severely. Fortunately the scene of the accident is close to the camp, and some having observed the occurrence at once hastened to the assistance of the unfortunate man, doing what they could to alleviate his suffering. A mounted messenger was at once dispatched for Dr. Davidson, who on his arrival had the man removed to the railway hospital near Meadow Valley, where he is now lying.

Immediately after the teamster lost his seat on the wagon, the horses began to increase their pace down the hill with the result that by the time they reached the foot of the grade they were going at a considerable speed. They failed to make the turn and dashed into a tree, one of the horses being injured.

Upon enquiries being made, the driver is said to be making satisfactory progress towards recovery.

K.V. RY. FORTY-SIX MILES FROM HOPE.

The Kettle Valley line is losing no time in its progress towards Hope. It is now announced that the track is within twelve miles of the summit from the east side, and that is within 46 miles of Hope. The surveyors' camp was three miles west of the summit. Within a week the construction work of the Kettle Valley will have reached the long debated ground between the summit and Hope.

A party of surveyors are now working in a canyon five miles from Princeton. The line already located crosses the Tulameen at Granite Bridge. Traversing the fertile steppes of Welldo it swings around the porphyry bluffs where supposedly rich mineral claims are situated, and thence to the celebrated Roanite camp. Fair progress is being made, although the country is full of precipitous "draws," requiring careful scaling and nice measurements. In about three weeks the line will be at Princeton, when some forty miles will be ready for the contractors, reaching from Princeton to the end of steel on the west fork of the Otter. The Kettle Valley is expected to give Princeton connection with the Coast via Merritt within eighteen months, saving about four hundred miles with the route now used via Spokane.

It is learned that a camp of Kettle Valley engineers will be established in about two weeks in Coquahalla Pass, about two miles from Hope. Messrs. Grant, Smith & Co. have the contract grading from the present Merritt end of the track to Hope. The work will be pushed vigorously.

PRE-COOLING PLANT ASSURED.

The Provincial Horticultural Department who, it was announced some time ago, proposed experimenting with pre-cooling systems, have selected a site for their plant, which they propose to erect in Summerland. Ice will be used, and the pre-cooling will be done in the big fruit warehouse at the C.P.R. Wharf. The ice will be stored on the hill above the fruit shed and on the opposite side of the road. From the ice-house a chute will be built across the road to the top of the warehouse. In this way the ice can be handled cheaply and delivered as needed. The large ice shed which will be needed will be built either on the road allowance below Anderson's corner, or on Mr. Ritchie's property adjoining.

The one place where duty always comes before pleasure is in the dictionary.

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN.

With varied feelings of anticipation and regret the pupils of the various schools have taken up their work, the fall term beginning last Monday.

There is not much change in the teaching staff. Miss Hunter is missed from the Central School, while an addition, in the presence of Principal Brown, has been made to that staff. Mr. H. D. Hunting, Principal of the High School, has returned to the High School building, and will devote his time wholly to High School work. With Principal Brown of the Consolidated School there are Misses Rothwell, Watson and Lewis, all three of whom taught in the same school last year. Miss Williams again presides over the Town School.

Only two of the new school wagons ordered have yet been delivered. One of these was put on the Trout Creek route, and the other on the Town route. The one ordered from Mr. Shields has not yet been received. This was intended for the Garnett Valley route. At present that route is being served as last term.

There is a good attendance this year at the Town School, where some thirty pupils are already enrolled. The opening day, however, found the building wholly unprepared for use. Of the repairs ordered only the patching of the plaster has been done, and the building had not been cleaned, and accordingly school was dismissed. It is understood the carpenter work has since been done, while on Monday the teacher and pupils made a temporary clean-up so that no more time might be lost.

OUR BIG APPLE SHOW.

The prize lists for Summerland's big annual Apple Show have now been distributed. Everything now points to a very much bigger show than has yet been held. Arrangements are being made for the bringing in of a number of exhibits from across the line, and from various fruit districts of the province. It is anticipated that especially low express rates will be granted to all exhibitors, and also that the railways will grant low fares to all who wish to attend the Summerland Apple Show, which is now the principal apple show in the province, and one of the big annual events to fruit growers.

Anyone not receiving a prizelist may obtain one on application to R. Pollock, secretary of the Agricultural Association.

C.P.R. AGREES TO FARMERS' FREIGHT RATES.

A mutually satisfactory arrangement has been reached between the British Columbia Fruit Growers Association and the Canadian Pacific Railway as to the rates charged on carload lots of mixed fruits and vegetables.

When the rates were readjusted several months ago this point was not urgent, but the vegetable season is now in full swing and the Association wished to reach an understanding without further delay. Consequently a conference was recently held between representatives of the Association and Messrs. W. B. Lanigan, R. E. Lamour and F. Sterling on behalf of the C.P.R. The conference was of a most amicable character, and all outstanding points were settled without difficulty. It was agreed that the reduced rates should apply only to vegetables in boxes or cases; that is to say, a farmer may ship a carload of fruit and vegetables provided both commodities are boxed. The reduced rate will not apply to vegetables in sacks, nor to vegetables in bulk. The agreement also stipulates what proportion of the load shall be fruit and what proportion vegetables in order to secure the lower rate; the proportion depending to a large extent upon the degree to which the fruit is perishable or otherwise.

Schedules revised according to this understanding were taken by Mr. Lanigan to Winnipeg, and an intimation has since been received from him that they will be put into force within a few days in time for the fall and winter trade.

One hour to-day is worth two tomorrow.

An Extra Council Session.

Growing Inadequacy of Public Utilities is Receiving Attention.

The Municipal Council met in extra session last Saturday evening, with all present with the exception of Coun. Robinson. The meeting was called by the Reeve with the evident purpose of discussing the financial needs of the district. Other matters placed before the Council were also dealt with, however.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Correspondence had first attention. H. Atkinson, of Ottawa, wrote complaining of the lack of water on his lot in Peach Orchard, as reported by his local representative, D. L. Sutherland. Mr. Atkinson said that he had been advised that as a result of the lack of water his peaches were so small as to be unsaleable. This letter was received with surprise, as the Reeve and others of the Council stated that they were under the impression that water was at all times available for this particular lot, and could be had either from Eneas Creek or from the pipe. This was confirmed by Supt. Mitchell, who was present. The Reeve said that the water had not been asked for, though it was always available, and that the smallness of the fruit was because of lack of thinning. He knew that some of the trees were broken down with fruit.

Further communication from G. R. Raincock in reference to the charge made for the second quarter's water supply was read.

S. N. Roley and Miss Ethel Brown each made application for electric light connection. These applications will be dealt with in their turn.

F. Neve and Mr. Sairburn waited upon the Council to ask for an extension of the domestic water system to their orchard lots south of Giant's Head. This brought up the financial situation of the domestic water department of the municipality, and it was shown the applicants that there was no money appropriated for such a purpose and that until more bonds were issued none would be available.

MORE MONEY NEEDED.

The Reeve here raised the most important question of the evening, namely, the need for the raising of funds for the extension of the irrigation, domestic water and electric light systems. There are many applications now in the office for connection with these systems, and it is realized that the time has come when material extensions must be made. While many in the district are enjoying all the conveniences of pressure water in the home and an electric light service, others are deprived of both, and it was urged by the Reeve that something must be done immediately to extend these services, as well as to provide for the further storage of water and the extension and improvement of the irrigation system. It was decided by the Council that a careful estimate be made of the needs of these three public utilities, and that the matter be placed before the ratepayers.

The Superintendent reported that he would this week be putting electric light into Peach Orchard, and also that he would change the position of the light at the foot of the gulch road, and put an additional light at the horseshoe bend on the same hill.

The Reeve reported that he had received an application from the Provincial Horticultural Department for permission to build an ice house on the road allowance extending from Anderson's corner to the road in front of the fruit shed. This piece of public property is the side hill opposite and above the fruit shed and cannot be used as a road. No objection was made to this request.

A DOMESTIC WATER IMPROVEMENT.

An improvement to the present domestic water service was suggested, this improvement being the changing of the source of supply from Trout Creek to Eneas Creek. It was stated that the water from Eneas Creek was more satisfactory for drinking purposes and that since railway construction had begun the water from Trout Creek is roily, causing complaint. The Reeve thought this change should be included in the estimate of the needs of the department, and that the best route for the pipe should be ascertained, and right-of-way obtained if needed. This pipe through Garnett Valley would be a large main, serving that Valley, and also connecting with and supplying the present water system.

It was resolved that this matter be taken up at once and that Engineer Latimer be asked to make a report on the Eneas Creek water supply at the earliest possible date.

IMPORTANT ADVICE TO SHIPPERS OF FRUIT.

The Editor,
The Summerland Review,
Dear Sir:

I have to-day received a consignment of peaches expressed to me from Summerland last Wednesday, and which, when they were delivered to my home in Winnipeg on Monday at noon, were nicely on the way towards decay. They would have been practically worthless after another day with the express company.

My reason for writing is not to find fault with any one. It is simply to point out that in expressing such fruits a little study of time tables might avoid many losses. Fruit packed and billed on Wednesday, would, I presume, come out to Seacombe on Thursday, and reach Winnipeg on Saturday evening. This means two nights and a day at the express office waiting for the Monday delivery. If shipped to Calgary or Medicine Hat on Thursday's boat, delivery would be effected on Friday or early on Saturday. Then ship the day following to Winnipeg. One shipper sending fruit to Winnipeg on Thursday's boat and then to Medicine Hat on Friday's boat would in both cases reach its destination on Saturday evening—the worst possible time; while another shipper, reversing the order of these shipments would in each case have his deliveries made at the house the morning after the fruit reached its destination.

This is not the first experience of this kind I have had. Two years ago I completely lost several cases of peaches that were sent at exactly the same time of week, although in each case the shipper could easily have seen that the shipment was wrongly timed for this particular destination. A little study of time tables just before the shipping season would enable any person to tabulate a list of wrong days to express for each railway line.

Yours truly,
GEORGE BATHO,
Editor,
"Nor'-West Farmer."

LABOR DAY.

Monday, September the 2nd, is Labor Day, a public holiday throughout Canada. The banks, stores, and other places of business will be closed.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30, instead of Monday as usual.

MUCH BUILDING IN PROGRESS.

There is a very satisfactory amount of building going on about Summerland at the present time. Carpenters and building mechanics of all classes are hard to get, and the lumber yards report good business.

W. H. Hayes has been making an extension to his house, as has also Gilbert Thornber, of Trout Creek. E. R. Faulder's house at Upper Trout Creek is now about completed, as is also L. C. Woodworth's on his orchard lot. Workmen are now busy on C. P. Nelson's new house on Beach Avenue. Ed. Garnett is building a new house on his ranch, and B. L. Hatfield has been making an addition to his home. J. Pacey is having a one and a half storey house built at Victoria Gardens. H. J. Agar and John Weeks have also put up small abodes in the same district. R. E. White's new home is now nearing completion. Thos. Whitfield is building on his acre lot at West Summerland, and E. R. Simpson is putting up a home on Paradise Flat. Harry Tomlin is now living in a small building he has erected on his Victoria Gardens property, while Jas. Smith has the foundation built preparatory to erecting a house on his lot there. It is further reported that J. N. Merrill and E. R. Butler will at once build on their lots in that vicinity, while John Ritchie has ordered a ready-made house through A. Richardson, to be put up at Victoria Gardens.

FERRY SERVICE TO PENTICTON.

The increased activity in business in the Southern Okanagan is, perhaps, not better revealed than in the increased demand upon the ferry. Not only is the business between Summerland and Naramata much larger than formerly, but there is also a marked increase in the business between those two points and Penticton. For some weeks past the "Maude Moore" has been making almost daily trips to the town at the foot of the lake, and the management have now decided to include that town in their schedule. Beginning Monday, September 2, the Okanagan Lake Boat Company will run three round trips per week from Summerland and Naramata to Penticton. These trips will be made on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Trips on any other days will be run as extras. These tri-weekly trips will be as follows:

dep.	arr.
11 a.m. Summerland	3.30 p.m.
11.30 a.m. Naramata	3.00 p.m.
arr.	dep.
12.30 p.m. Penticton	2.00 p.m.

These Penticton trips will necessitate a slight change in the Summerland-Naramata schedule. Beginning next Monday the mid-day trip will be made leaving Summerland at 11 instead of 11.30, leaving Naramata at 3 instead of 2.30.

MUNICIPAL COMMISSION HERE SEPTEMBER 5th.

Under the "Public Enquiries Act," a body of Commissioners was recently appointed by the Provincial Government to enquire into the operation of the present system of municipal government in the province; whether such system is authorized by special act of the legislature, or by any general law relating to municipalities. The Commission will include within the scope of its enquiry the constitution and powers of municipal Councils, the qualifications of voters and the administration of justice within municipalities, and a general enquiry into municipal matters. The Commissioners held their first meeting in Victoria in August 12th and 13th. This week they are meeting at Vancouver and New Westminster, on Monday next they meet at Kamloops, Tuesday at Vernon, Wednesday at Kelowna, and Thursday in Summerland.

The meeting here will be held at 7.30 on the evening of Thursday, September 5, and it is important that all persons interested in municipal matters and who desire to be heard will be at this meeting.

The Commissioners are William H. Kenry, of New Westminster; Hugh A. MacLennan, K.C., of Victoria; and Alfred E. Bull, barrister, of Vancouver.

THE FIRST PRISONER.

The jail received its first prisoner last Saturday night. T. H. Oilver, of Penticton, was arrested for drunkenness and kept a prisoner in the jail until Monday morning.

Oilver came down the lake on the boat Saturday night landing here intoxicated, and made himself much of a nuisance about town. Constable Graham removed him from the street on two or three occasions, but he persisted in returning, and there was no alternative but to lock him up.

Although the building has been completed for some time it is not yet equipped for the purpose for which it is intended. There is nothing whatever inside. The two cells are without any conveniences whatever, not even a bench on which to sit down, or a couch on which to lie; and the office is not yet fitted with desk, chairs, etc., for the holding of court.

The prisoner was brought before Magistrate English at his office at ten o'clock on Monday morning, and pleaded guilty. Being on the interdict list, the magistrate said that he could not fine him less than $30. This fine, which included the costs, was accordingly imposed, but the prisoner was without funds. He stated to the magistrate, however, that he had that much coming to him from his employers, one of the sub-contractors on the railway, and that if he was permitted to return to the camp, he would have his employers pay the fine for him.

He was allowed to return to camp and has since paid his fine.

50 to 100 Tons of Strawberries Required.

Jam Factory's Needs for Two Years.

During the past two years I have continually tried to persuade growers to see their opportunity in growing strawberries for the jam factory, but delay is still the order of the day. The principal objection appears to be the difficulty of getting the crop picked. I cannot help thinking that this is more an imaginary difficulty than a reality. Why can currants, raspberries and cherries be picked, and not strawberries?

They pick fewer to the pound, and therefore, if raspberries pay, most certainly strawberries will pay better.

To obviate this difficulty of picking it has occurred to me that a scheme on the following lines could be arranged.

The jam company would organize the picking for growers on certain conditions, as to the size of the beds to be planted, both individually and collectively, and possibly one or two other details, these details being arranged after a consultation between growers interested and the management of the company.

The position is this—Summerland wants other lines besides apples, the difficulty of growing small fruits and vegetables is the marketing. Here is a business which requires all small fruits now and will require vegetables at any moment, thus giving a market on the spot. Besides this, it is a business which requires other fruit as well, and the more strawberries and small fruits it can procure the more of the larger kinds can it deal with.

Strawberries must be looked upon as the sellers of other fruits, and at the present moment money is being lost to Summerland because of the absence of strawberries.

Don't let this continue. Grow what is required, and help to get the market there now is for Summerland, delay is fatal. Others get ahead and leave you with your regrets at being too late, which doesn't pay. Now is the time to put in strawberries. Do it, don't talk about it, act.—C. F. Garnett, Manager, Okanagan Jam Company, Ltd.

THE VANCOUVER MARKET.

Latest advices of market conditions in Vancouver are to the effect that the peach market is much overdone, and that at present it is almost impossible to sell peaches. Plums are bringing from $1.00 to $1.25; tomatoes, 90 cents to $1.00; Bartlett pears, $1.50; apples, $1.00 to $1.25; cranberries, $1.30. Auction sales are being held daily.

British Columbia's Apple Prospects

Okanagan Crop of Fall and Winter Varieties is a Heavy One.

Reviewing general conditions of the apple crop and its prospects, the August Bulletin of the Fruit Division of the Ottawa Department of Agriculture has this to say of the lower Mainland and Islands of British Columbia:

The crop will be only fair in quantity. Certain orchards will have very fine apples, and the color and size will, perhaps, be better than usual.

Of the valleys of the Interior of this Province the report is very satisfactory: An especially fine crop is promised in this district. The apples have colored well and, though the season was late in starting, the excellent growing weather has pushed the crop so that the early apples are now on the market, and of fair quality.

Treating generally of the Dominion's cherry crop the following bulletin, again complimentary to our district, is published: For the first time in several years, the crop of sour cherries appears to have reached the limits of the demand, and considering the heavy plantations that have been made for the last three years, it would seem that some new outlet must be sought for these fruits if over-production is to be avoided.

British Columbia sweet cherries impressed the market most favorably, and no doubt any obstacles in the way of the industry will be overcome so as to make provision for a very large output of this favorite fruit.

It is unfortunate that this year the wet weather rendered the later cherries much too soft to ship. The canning factory at Vernon served the interests of the neighborhood well, and is said to have taken something over 75 tons of cherries from the growers.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

A Visit to the Railway Camps.

Good Work Being Done in Sunday Services.

(Contributed)

The work in the Kettle Valley Railway camps goes busily on, the number of men engaged is increasing, and rapid progress is being made. The social and spiritual needs of the men are being looked after as well as their bodily needs. Rev. A. W. MacLeod is busily engaged among the camps, leaving magazines and other literature for the use of the men as he goes along, and holding meetings whenever suitable opportunity occurs, and for several Sundays Rev. C. H. Daly has conducted an open air meeting in Crandall's camp.

The drive up past the sawmill and over the Bald range is a most enjoyable one, and many expressions of delight escape the lips of the visitors as the wonderful and majestic panorama of landscape passes before them.

Arriving at Nelson's first camp the horses were at once taken care of, and the three gentlemen were heartily received by Mr. Nelson and his son. Dinner was soon announced and everybody sat down to a first-class repast. The men in the camps no doubt have hard work to do, but if the bill of fare in all the camps is as generous as in Nelson's, the men ought to be fit for any task set before them.

Another meeting on similar lines was conducted at Nelson's second camp, the same kindly attention being given.

The visitors learned with regret that two accidents had occurred since their previous visit—one to Mrs. Koch, who, the previous Sunday had ridden along with her brother from No. 1 to No. 2 camp to attend the meeting there, and who, on the return journey had been thrown from her horse. Though rather severely bruised and shaken, fortunately no serious damage was done.

The other accident was more alarming. On Friday a teamster coming down the steep incline near camp No. 1, lost control of his horses. He was thrown violently from the wagon and severely crushed about the chest. He was immediately removed to the railway hospital and attended by Dr. Campbell Davidson, who found that several ribs had been broken. The horses, too, suffered some injury.

On their return journey the visitors called at the hospital and visited the man whom they found suffering a good deal. The only other inmate of the hospital was a cheerful young Irish-Australian from Ross' camp, who is suffering from an attack of mountain fever.

Such visits as these being made to the camps by representatives of the various churches are highly to be commended. Though the men do not say much as a rule, yet several have expressed their pleasure at such meetings being held, and if the meetings have been appreciated by the men, as apparently they have, they have none the less been a source of pleasure and instruction to the visitors, who have been impressed with the kindness which they have met among these sons of toil.

THE HOME CIRCLE.
Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

HINTS TO WRITERS.
Be brief. This is the age of telegraphs and stenography. Be pointed. Don't write all round a subject without hitting it. State facts, but don't stop to moralize. It's drowsy business. Let the reader do his own dreaming.
Avoid all high-flown language. The plainest Anglo-Saxon words are the best. Never use stilts if legs will do as well.
Make your sentences short. Every period is a milestone at which the reader may halt and rest himself.
Eschew prefaces. Plunge at once into the subject like a swimmer into cold water. If you have written a sentence which you think particularly fine, draw your pen across it.
Condense. Make sure that you really have an idea, and then record it in the shortest possible terms. We want thoughts in their quintessence.
When the article is complete, strike out nine-tenths of the adjectives. The English language is a strong language, but it won't bear too much "reducing."
And last, but not least, write legibly. Don't let your manuscript look like a spider half drowned in the ink.

RIGHT HERE is the secret of awkwardness. It is self-consciousness. A girl who thinks about how she is going to look when she extends her hand will hold it out as stiff as a pump handle. If she is worried about the appearance of her walk she will walk over the landscape like a wooden dummy. What is done gracefully is done unconsciously. So if a person would learn grace she must first learn how to do things unconsciously, and she can only learn to do things unconsciously by doing them often.

- HOW TO SPOIL IT.
- To spoil steak—fry it.
 - To spoil a farm—rent it.
 - To spoil your temper—fret.
 - To spoil tea or coffee—boil it.
 - To spoil custard—bake it too long.
 - To spoil your friends—flatter them.
 - To spoil an appetite—eat every half hour.
 - To spoil an opportunity—let it pass.
 - To spoil a home—fill it with family "jars."
 - To spoil influence—do one thing and say another.
 - To spoil business—let others attend to it.
 - To spoil good intentions—never carry them out.
 - To spoil an office—get above your business.
 - To spoil eggs—convert them into "egg-nog."
 - To spoil time—retire late and sleep in the morning.
 - To spoil house plants—water them too much.
 - To spoil butter—do not work out all the milk.
 - To spoil pancakes—bake them on a luke-warm griddle.
 - To spoil a breakfast—grumble all the time you are eating.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1912.

AN EXPLANATION.

LEST A WRONG IMPRESSION may have been conveyed, and a faithful public servant thus possibly injured, we are glad to be able to transmit later information on a matter which at one time gave us some surprise.

One of the rebates recently allowed by the Council was upon the request of a ratepayer made by letter, in which the applicant stated that he had called at the municipal office on the last day of grace, at just about the closing hour, to present his cheque in payment of water rates, but found the office closed. The rebate was allowed on this plea, seemingly without reference to Mr. Nixon, the accountant.

Later, when the matter was brought to the attention of Mr. Nixon, it was found that he remained in the office that evening until some time after six o'clock, and that therefore, the failure to connect must have been due to a difference between the municipal time and the watch of the applicant.

PROTECTION AGAINST TYPHOID FEVER.

OWING TO THE PREVALENCE of typhoid fever in many parts of the Dominion of Canada, the attention of the general public is being called by the Provincial Board of Health to the protection afforded from this disease by the inoculation of typhoid vaccine.

The vaccine may be injected by a doctor, or in the case of a doctor not being at hand, a trained nurse could carry out the procedure. The first injection of vaccine, amounting to a few drops of a sterile liquid introduced under the skin, is followed in ten days time by a larger injection, and for greater security a third may be given ten days after the second.

A few hours after the first injection, a little headache and slight malaise may be experienced, with tenderness about the point of inoculation. This is seldom sufficient to cause a man to stop his work, and by the next morning he usually feels as well as usual. After the second and third injections no reaction is produced, the person seldom experiencing any discomfort whatever.

It is significant that many large employers of labor have gone into this subject deeply, with gratifying results, statistics having shown that of those properly inoculated practically none have taken typhoid within a year, and protection is probably afforded for a much longer period.

This method should appeal especially to friendly societies and labor unions who pay benefits to their sick members.

Typhoid vaccine may be obtained on application to the Provincial Board of Health or from drug stores.

ALL MUST WORK TOGETHER.

IF YOU SAW a man throwing sand at your plate glass window, it would not worry you very much, would it?

But if you saw him massing the particles of sand into an adhesive ball with the aid of a little lime and water, you would know that the sand thus cemented together, would go through that window. And you would immediately begin to figure on your insurance.

If all the men in this country were to start out each on his own responsibility to conquer another nation, that nation would not have much to fear, would it?

But if these same men went out together under efficient leadership, they would be practically resistless.

So it is with the community.

A single individual, however earnest and ambitious in his desires to advance the welfare of his community can do little more than agitate.

An entire community of individuals prompted by the same desire but acting each on his own initiative, and without regard to what the others are doing, will accomplish little more.

But, actuated by the same desire, and working for the same purpose—ah, that is another story.

Our town is entitled to the confidence, loyalty and hearty support of everybody in the community.

BRITISH AND GERMAN WORKMEN.

THERE WAS recently enabled to this country a summary of the observations of Dr. Carl von Tyszka, a German economist, who has been studying the position of the German workmen as compared with that of workmen in other countries, particularly Great Britain. The German economist decides that the workman in Great Britain is in a very much better economic position than the workman in Germany, France or Belgium. In the first place, the British workman earns twenty-five per cent more than the German, and thirty-six per cent more than the Frenchman, and his rent and doctor bills make up a smaller percentage of his wages than is paid for similar purposes by the workmen of France and Belgium.

The necessities of life, the German authority says, are seventeen per cent higher in Germany, and eighteen per cent higher in France than in the British Isles. This difference in wages and the cost of necessities, expressed in tabular form, is as follows:

	France	Germany	Britain
Price of Necessaries of Life	100	100.85	85.47

"As between the economic position of the British and German workman," says a contemporary, "the same general result as obtained by Dr. Carl von Tyszka has been obtained by previous investigators. But this latest comparison of figures will add emphasis to the difference and will amplify the information available. The figures will supply an argument against fiscal change in Great Britain which the Tariff Reformers will find it difficult to meet."—St. John Telegraph.

TO SEE WITH ANOTHER'S EYES.

IS IT REALLY POSSIBLE that a blind man's eyes may be removed and another pair put in with which he may see? It seems unbelievable—yet a Denver, Colorado, physician has declared that such an operation can be successfully performed, and has supplemented his patients' requests for the new orbs with a statement to that effect.

William J. Abraham, the blind man, has made the strange request that the state authorities and the present owner, who is condemned to die this week, grant him the use of the condemned man's eyes. The report is that "Abrahams has forwarded his petition to Governor Shafroth, Warden Thomas J. Tynan of the state penitentiary, and to Wetcher, condemned to die on the scaffold for the murder of Clifford J. Burrows in Denver last year.

His petition is supplemented by a statement from a Denver physician who, after an examination of Abraham's eyes, declares that the operation can be performed successfully.

If Abraham's request is granted, the physician and surgeons will be in the death chamber when the trap is sprung. Immediately after Wetcher is pronounced dead the eyes will be removed before the removal of the body from the death chamber.

They will be placed in a saline solution after which the surgeons will rush to a hospital nearby, and Wetcher's eyes will be grafted into the sightless eyes of Abrahams."

ABOUT THE BIBLE.

THERE ARE those so cruel as to imagine that the average editor gives but little time to the study of the Bible. To convince all that we are not in this class, we will tell you some things about the Bible that perhaps you didn't know.

The Bible contains 3,566,480 letters, 773,746 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters, and 66 books.

The word "Lord" occurs 1,855 times.

The word "reverend" occurs but once, in the ninth verse of the one hundred and eleventh Psalm.

The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except the letter "j."

The middle verse is the ninth verse of the one hundred and eighteenth Psalm.

The nineteenth chapter of the second book of Kings and the thirty-seventh chapter of Isaiah are alike.

The longest verse is the ninth verse of the eighth chapter of Esther.

The shortest verse is the thirty-fifth verse of the eleventh chapter of the gospel according to John.

There are no words or names of more than six syllables.

INSTEAD of asking what other men are going to do for their town, let every man ask himself the question what he can do. If he considers it honestly he will be surprised to find in how many ways he can help boost his town. And this is what everyone ought to do. It is a thousand times better to be a "booster" than a "bunter."

ADVERTISING SUMMERLAND.

The Board of Trade held a special meeting in the office of the secretary on Thursday evening. The principal object of the meeting was to discuss means of municipal advertising, and to meet with the members of the Municipal Council who were invited to be present.

The proposition to advertise through the Vancouver Progress Club, which had at one time been practically decided upon, was reconsidered and for the time rescinded. It was thought that with the funds available it would be better to have a quantity of pamphlets printed for enclosure in each box of fruit leaving Summerland. This was ordered done, and the copy for the pamphlet has already been left in the local printing office.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Williams returned from the Coast last Saturday.

Rev. F. W. Avasche, of Penticton, will preach to the Baptist congregations next Sunday.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS.

The eighth car of peaches for the Vernon Cannery is being shipped to-day. The Union have a straight order for two cars of peaches from the T. Eaton Company, Winnipeg. One of these will be shipped early next week. The shipments to date have been much larger than from any other point south of Kelowna. Account sales of cherries have been received, and from what we can glean so far from those interviewed, the returns have not been so good as usual—five cents per lb. being about the average reported. From prices which are being received by the Union for peaches, a fairly good return may be expected. Shipments to date will probably net from 1 1/2 to 2 cents per lb.

A massive dahlia was left at the Review Office this week by Mrs. Arnett. The blossom was produced by a plant grown from a seed planted this year. Mrs. Arnett is meeting with great success in the amateur flower garden work and declares that almost anything will grow in Summerland if given a little care.

A citizen has asked the Review to call the attention of the authorities to the fact that some persons who evidently have had an abundance of over-ripe fruit, have been making a dump of the roadside while on the return journey up the gulch road from the Fruit Union with their refused peaches. This is not only unsightly, but as much of it gets into the creek, and is lodged there and along its banks it may soon become offensive.

A complaint has been made to Dr. C. M. Smith, Medical Officer of Health, that the spring above the hospital, from which a number of households are supplied with domestic water, is in danger of being contaminated, and that the spring has been uncovered and left exposed. It would seem that the contamination, if any, would be as much through the box flume leading from the spring as from the spring itself. No doubt, now that the matter has been called to the attention of the authorities any danger of pollution will be guarded against.

Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Hardy are planning to spend a month's vacation at Bathfield in the hills back of Summerland. During the absence of Mr. Hardy, Rev. J. M. Harrison, of Clarosholm, Alberta, will supply the Methodist pulpit, and with Mrs. Harrison will occupy the Methodist parsonage. When Rev. Mr. Harrison began his ministry, 88 years ago, there were four Methodist ministers in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Now there are 600 Methodist clergymen in these two provinces. Mr. Harrison will occupy the local Methodist parsonage, and supply the pulpit during September. He has spent previous holidays here, and is always a welcome visitor.

Another Publicity Scheme.

Dr. E. S. Rowe in Eloquent Address Outlines Vancouver Progress Club's Plan.

In an eloquent and impressive address on the aims and purpose of the Vancouver Progress Club, Dr. Elliott S. Rowe, its secretary and publicity commissioner, addressed a gathering of the Board of Trade and others at the Men's Club, on Saturday evening, August 10. Dr. Rowe, who had visited this district about four years ago, was greatly struck with the advancement made since that time.

Entering immediately upon his subject he stated that he was here as the representative of the Progress Club of Vancouver, with the object of securing the co-operation of the Board of Trade in advertising and helping to develop and advance the interests of this with other sections of the Province. Speaking of the Progress Club he said the Premier had assured them that he recognized the fact that the time had come to launch a legitimate provincial advertising plan, and he was certain that their scheme was a good one. He also assured them of the co-operation of the Government in every possible way. The Progress Club was not a "boosting" organization, but as the successor of the old Tourist Association, held its ideal and purpose—assistance in making British Columbia as prosperous and progressive as its enormous resources and great attractions made possible. The purpose of the Club was to make the assets of the Province more available, and to assist in removing all impediments to production, manufacturing and commercial activity. It recognized the relationship of the city of Vancouver to the rest of the province, the city's prosperity being dependent on the prosperity of the Province. The Club's proposition was purely a business one, neither generous nor suppliant, its desire being to establish a relationship of mutual benefit to the various sections of the province through organized, intelligent and effective co-operation. Its primary duty is to encourage productive investment in our soil, mines, manufactures and other industries. Various committees had their different work to perform and were all inspired with the idea that it was their duty to get after the best class of settlers and investors, furnishing them with the specific information which they required. The Government had given a grant to aid in securing information and statistics regarding the resources of the province. Practical and specific information was what the Club needed, so that if an enquiry were made of the Club there would be ample information at the central office to satisfy that enquiry. The Club aimed to publish and disseminate accurate and up-to-date information and to make known these facts to the thousands of people who visit Vancouver. The government was furnishing them with data respecting the lands available for settlement, and this could be greatly augmented by information furnished by the Boards of Trade. The Club wanted to be in a position to intelligently inform an intending settler how many acres of land were available in this vicinity, the prices, the value of its produce per acre, marketing facilities, means of transportation, in fact everything an intelligent investor might desire to know. In Vancouver the Club had entered into possession of large premises on one of the best and busiest corners in the business portion of the city. There they had a large Convention Hall, Committee Rooms, Reading Rooms and a large Exhibition Room where specimens of the products of the province will be displayed, a section being given to each district that desired to co-operate with the Club in this way.

At present most tourists arranged their trips over the C.P.R. so that they might see the mountains by daylight and they see little else. They could hardly be brought to believe that there were extensive and fertile valleys hidden from their view, but if they could be shown specimens of our fruits in the Club's Exhibition Rooms, their ideas would be greatly enlarged. The Progress Club, as thus planned, would be a clearing house in Vancouver for the whole province. It was also his object during his trip to get first hand and personal opinions which would be of service. "If you," said the speaker, "will supply us with exhibits and information you may judge of the probable results." The men behind the Club were moved by one impulse only, they are loyal to the Province, and proud of its wonderful wealth of natural resources, and believe that it is destined to become one of the most important portions of the British Empire.

Dwelling upon the necessity and privilege of doing all in our power to build up a strong, loyal community made up of the best possible class of settlers, Dr. Rowe brought his most interesting address to a close.

AN AIR LIFT PUMP.

For some years experiments have been going on with a new system of lifting water by means of a revolving drum, with coils of piping inside, into which air and water are taken alternately with each revolution and subsequently discharged into a vertical pipe.

By this means the sections of air successfully lift the sections of water one foot vertically for every four feet of coil in the drum.

A representative of The Fruit Magazine, Scientific Farmer and Canadian Citizen had the pleasure of inspecting a small machine of this type recently in actual operation near Vancouver. In this case paddles had been attached to the outside of the drum, which was being driven by the force of the current in the Capilano river and lifting water some sixty feet, without the expenditure of any other mechanical power whatever.

The system is novel, but the principal is undoubtedly sound, and promises to revolutionize the lifting of water, in many instances making the irrigation of lands possible where no gravity system is available. In this invention the natural forces of air and water are utilized to great advantage in a new and thoroughly practical manner. Simplicity is its strongest feature. We understand that a factory will soon be established in or near Vancouver for the manufacture of this machine, which is called a pump, but which in reality might be more appropriately named an air water-lift.—Fruit Magazine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison went up to Summerland on Friday's boat.

Rev. W. H. Redman and wife left last Tuesday evening on their way back to Vancouver.

Mr. Robert Pollock, of Summerland, spent the week-end with Mr. H. Corbett, returning on Sunday evening.

Cement sidewalks are now being put in, and the entrance to our town from the wharf begins to look in fine shape.

Rev. W. H. Redman, of Vancouver, and Mrs. Redman, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Findlay for the past week.

Mr. Leonard Preston and Mr. Hartley Simpson left for Saskatchewan last Tuesday, where they plan to do some homesteading.

Messrs. F. McWilliams and F. A. Williams rode down from Summerland last Saturday afternoon, returning by Sheep Creek and Shingle Creek on Monday morning.

A visitor to our town recently accomplished the unique feat of swimming across the lake from here, covering the distance of more than one mile in about forty-five minutes.

Miss McLaughlin, who is a sister of Mrs. B. L. Hatfield and Mrs. A. B. Elliott, of Summerland, arrived on Monday evening to take charge of the school here, which commenced on Tuesday morning.

Rev. W. H. Redman, pastor of the South Hill Baptist Church, Vancouver, preached a very impressive sermon last Sunday evening in the School house. There was a good congregation present, and Mr. Redman was listened to with close attention.

Registrations at Hotel Kaleden last week were: F. H. Latimer, Penticton; Rev. W. H. Redman and wife, Vancouver; W. C. Butler, R. Pollock, Summerland; S. Swan, F. C. Harris, Mrs. E. O. Size, Miss Size, Haydy Size, Frances Size, Penticton; T. J. McAlpin, C. L. O'Brien, H. D. Suckling, Jas. Ritchie, W. T. Jones, Summerland.

GRAND FORKS TO BE DIVISIONAL POINT.

By a vote of 227 to 5 property owners of Grand Forks have made an agreement whereby the Canadian Pacific and Kettle Valley Railway Companies are to make that city a joint passenger terminal and divisional point, and build machine shops and a ten stall round house. An initial appropriation of $180,000 has been made for immediate construction work. Plans have been completed for a large union depot in the centre of Grand Forks with office for divisional railway officials, as well as for the car shops and roundhouse. Work on the new buildings will be started at once in order to be completed before winter sets in.

The Three Guardsmen

The Gurney-Oxford Range is fitted with three devices which constantly and uncompromisingly stand on guard to see that the fire is always under perfect control—that the coal bills are sheared down to the lowest figure—that the oven is always evenly and properly heated—that no clinkers obstruct the free burning and proper ventilation of the fire.

The Gurney-Economizer, fitted on the smoke pipe, is the only draft you have to attend to; a small lever put up or down entirely regulates the fire. It saves one ton of coal in six. It carries little heat up the chimney—only the smoke. It feeds the gases which burn to the fire-box, and it cannot be had on any other range than the Gurney-Oxford.

The Gurney-Oxford oven is surrounded by flues that carry an equal amount of heat to all sides. This almost guarantees results in cooking by providing an oven evenly heated, without cold corners or variation.

The Gurney-Oxford Grate is the result of exhaustive tests to find the proper carrying surface for the fire. The fire has abundant air to breathe, and the less amount of coal burned is all consumed. So then, the housewife who has the "Three Guardsmen" watching over her range, will experience security and satisfaction in cooking that is not provided by any other range.

Naramata Notes.
Additional dining room accommodation has been provided in the Lakeside Hotel.
Miss Sharp, for some years a missionary to South Africa, came across from Summerland this week to see the beauties of our town.
Messrs. Will and Jack Robinson, and sister, Miss Gwen, and Miss Firstbrook, attended a dance at Hotel Incola, Penticton, given by Mrs. Warren.
Mr. J. M. Robinson and son, Mr. Jack Robinson, went on Friday morning en route to Calgary to be present at the Stampede-Frontier Day Celebration.
The saw-mill having finished the visible supply of logs has closed down, and it is probable that a new site farther up the lake may be selected for next year.
Railway matters are very much to the front this week as the buildings for stores and offices are being rushed to completion, and gangs of workmen are being established in camps in preparation for active construction work.
Recent registrations at Hotel Naramata include the following: J. C. Kirk, Major and Mrs. Hutton, Mr. and Mrs. Acland, Miss Higgin, Mr. Rowley, all of Summerland; R. D. Wolfe, Montesano, Wash.; Chas. Akers, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bishop, Penticton; Glen Sutherland, D. Sutherland, Miss Sutherland, all of Winnipeg; Louis McDonald, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Townshend, Winnipeg; Miss Helen Regual, Coburg, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Kendall, Penticton; Mr. Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. Morfitt, Mrs. Bond, all of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Logie, Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Hogg and daughter, Summerland.

FOLIAGE OR FRUIT?
The Kelowna Board of Trade has sent to the Department of Agriculture a request that a greater amount of experimental orchard work be done in that district. What the people of Kelowna are particularly desirous of having settled is the proper rate of growth for young trees. Until recently the theory was that the faster the young tree grew the better, but of late it has dawned upon cultivators that a tree which puts all its energy into wood and foliage has none left for the production of fruit. The problem is one to which the Department has given much attention, but no general rule of cultivation can be laid down, since it depends largely upon the conditions of the district in climate and soil.
There are now fifteen demonstration orchards in the province, all of them having been established within the past two years. These all start with the planting of the young tree and in the course of time they will teach the neighborhood the ideal method of handling an orchard from its inception to its old age. There are also a number of experimental orchards which deal, as the name indicates, with the problems that arise in the districts where they are located. It is in these that an answer is being sought to such questions as that raised by Kelowna. The Department has promised to do its best to comply with the wishes of the Kelowna Board of Trade.

BRITISH COLUMBIA WILL NOT EXHIBIT.
The province of British Columbia will not send an exhibit this year to the New York Land and Irrigation Exposition in November. It was at this exposition last year that British Columbia won the Stilwell trophy for the best exhibit of potatoes on the continent. Having scored this triumph the Minister of Agriculture sees nothing to be gained by again entering the competition. The reputation already gained, the minister thinks, should not needlessly be placed in jeopardy.

THE 1912 APPLE CROP.
Dominion Government Bulletin Points to an Extended Market.
The conditions of the markets, so far as Canadian apples are concerned, are fairly re-assuring. The apple crop in Europe is universally short, and this shortage, though it may be in countries such as Austria-Hungary, Switzerland and Italy, to which Canadian apples are not exported, has a direct influence upon the export price of Canadian apples. Germany imports an average of three million barrels of apples from the surrounding countries annually. The imports from Canada and the United States so far have not been large, but there seems no reason why there should not be a splendid opening this year in Germany and probably in other countries on the continent. The prospect for improved transportation from Canada to Germany direct is good. If the proper commercial connections can be made at once, there would seem to be a possibility of making up by exports from Canada the shortage that Germany will have in her imports from Continental Europe. France may be expected to take fairly large quantities of late winter varieties. Russets and Ben Davis have been the favorites for this trade in the past.
The British markets offer more than ordinary attractions this year. There is undoubtedly a general shortage of fruit. The industrial conditions, while not without disturbing elements, are not such as to discourage generous buying on the part of the English wholesale merchants.
Some uncertainty surrounds the condition of the American apple crop. It is undoubtedly only an average crop in any particular locality, but this average crop is so widely distributed that many large markets will be supplied locally with the great bulk of fruit supplied. The class of fruit that most concerns the Canadian grower is the supply of winter apples or the quantity that will go into cold storage that may come into consumption during the months of December, January, February and March. This grade of fruit is not abnormally large in the United States this year, and if good industrial conditions continue to exist, the greater part of this will be absorbed by the home markets at fair prices. Nevertheless, should there be a special demand from European markets, a large portion of this fruit would be immediately available to meet it.
The prospects, therefore, would seem to be for a fair to medium demand in Great Britain for fall and early winter fruit, and perhaps a somewhat better market for winter fruit. Should Canadian apples, suitable for late winter shipments, pass into strong hands, prices may rule fairly high in Great Britain.
One of the disturbing elements in the Canadian apple market is the large crop of the American Pacific states. These apples compete at a disadvantage in the English market, but are practically on even terms in the Northwest markets. It is quite possible, therefore, that the Northwest will receive this year a very large quantity of imported apples. It is possible, too, that the British Columbia shippers, having their first large crop for export, may not be so well organized as to meet with advantage the competition of the American growers. — August Fruit Bulletin, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Water Notice
FOR A LICENCE TO TAKE AND USE WATER.
Notice is hereby given that S. A. Donike, of Balcom, B.C., will apply for a licence to take and use one cubic foot of water out of Denike Creek, which flows in a southerly direction through Lot 3774 and empties into Leona Lake. The water will be diverted on Lot 3774 and will be used for irrigation and domestic purposes on the land described as Lot 3774. This notice was posted on the ground on the 20th day of July, 1912. The application will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Vernon, B.C.
Objections may be filed with the said Water Recorder, or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C.

KELOWNA'S TOBACCO HARVEST.

A start has been made in harvesting the Kelowna tobacco crop, the first cutting being at the Dickson Ranch, about ten miles from Kelowna. The tobacco has made an exceptionally rapid and vigorous growth this year, and besides being of extra good quality the yield will be above the average.
The shade-grown Sumatra tobacco has made the remarkable growth of over eight feet, and so far this experiment has been successful. It means a great deal to the district, since Sumatra is the most expensive tobacco on the market, bringing from $2.50 to $4.00 per pound. The other experiments being carried on by the British North America Tobacco Company, of Kelowna, is plant breeding and plant and seed selection, will have the effect of improving still more the high grade Havana and Comstock Spanish tobaccos at present grown.
Some one hundred and ten acres have been planted in tobacco this year the principal varieties being Havana and Comstock Spanish. The average profit per acre will likely be in the neighborhood of two hundred dollars.
Kelowna grown and manufactured cigars met with favorable comment during the Irrigation Convention.

Peachland Notes.

Mrs. Hood visited friends in Summerland last week.
Mrs. D. H. Watson, of Summerland, spent Thursday of last week in town, and took in the regatta.
Miss Elliott left for Vernon on Saturday morning to take up a position in the Public Schools of that town.
Miss Minnie Smith left on Saturday morning for Okanagan Landing near which place she has been engaged as teacher.
The scholars of the Presbyterian Sunday School intend visiting the Methodist Sunday School next Sunday afternoon. They will take their places in the classes corresponding.
Mr. Thos. Powell has purchased Mr. A. E. McKenzie's ten acre lot overlooking the lake, and takes possession this fall. Mr. McKenzie has not decided anything definite for the future yet.
A demonstration of the efficiency of the Minimax Fire Extinguisher will be given on Saturday at 6.30, at the Orange Hall, by Jno. S. Chapman, the company's representative in British Columbia.
Mr. Paul Murray, Principal of the Public School came home on Monday morning, and opened school that day. Miss Pentland is in charge of the Primary Department and Mr. Forsythe of the High School.
