

MAIL ORDERS beaten to a "Frazzle."

How nice—how alluring—these mail order catalogs are. To believe them they are in the business merely for the pleasure it affords them to assist you to escape the exorbitant prices imposed on you by your home merchants; but when the goods arrive, you usually find that you have been Handed a Lemon. The mail order houses pay nothing towards the upkeep of your churches, schools, and roads.

ARE YOU ALIVE

TO THE FACT THAT

PRICES BACKED off the Map.

And then some. The people of the Okanagan country never have been offered the opportunity to buy goods of the superior quality and at the beginning of the season when most needed, at the astonishingly low prices offered now. The old marks are left on the goods, and marks on colored tags show the relative difference between retail and Sale Price. Every item is an economy, the entire Stock a deluge of sacrifices offered at necessity's altar.

VANCOUVER'S OKANAGAN EXHIBIT

Mr. John D. Kearns, a director of the Vancouver Progress Club, returned recently from a trip through the Okanagan Valley, where he interviewed the different boards of trade in the interests of the club, and found the business men and public generally enthusiastic over the prospects of a permanent exhibit in Vancouver of the products of the fertile valley.

As a result of his work final arrangements have been arrived at with the towns of Vernon and Kelowna for representation in the exhibit which the Progress Club proposes to have in its new quarters at the corner of Hastings and Richard streets, and other towns, Pentleton, Summerland, and Armstrong have expressed themselves as favorable to the project, and are only waiting for a meeting of their respective organizations to take action on the matter. Everywhere he went Mr. Kearns found that the sentiment was strongly in support of the idea. Pending its removal to the permanent headquarters the Progress Club will take temporary offices at 652 Granville Street. The club expects to be in its new home on August 1.

UNPRODUCTIVE FRUIT TREES

Great luxuriance in growth of fruit trees is often the cause of unfruitfulness. No tree commences to flower and fruit until its vegetative exuberance has been partially checked. Those who understand the art of fruit culture thoroughly can bring these wayward trees into bearing by root-pruning them. This may be done by digging a trench round the tree and filling it up with the earth that has been thrown out. Cutting off the ends of the roots causes a check to the extreme vigor, and the result is the production of flowers instead of branches. The distance from the trunk that the trench should be dug, will, of course, depend upon the age and size of the tree, and also its degree of luxuriance. The aim should be to dig so as to cut off about one-third of its roots. Root-pruning may be done at any time during fall or winter.

ALFALA MAXIMS

By Prof. L. R. Waldron, Superintendent of Experiment Station, Dickinson, N.D.
Alfalfa cannot be inoculated.

Alfalfa cannot stand wet feet. Alfalfa needs a well drained soil. Alfalfa is a poor weed fighter the first season. Alfalfa does not thrive when not cut. Alfalfa should be cut when one-tenth in bloom. Alfalfa should not be cut too late in the season. Alfalfa roots go deep. Alfalfa is the prince of drought resistors. Alfalfa needs a deep, well-packed seed bed. Alfalfa does best on manured soil. Alfalfa is best seeded without a nurse crop. Alfalfa should be seeded with a drill. Alfalfa should not be pastured in the spring, when starting growth. Alfalfa boards itself and pays for the privilege. Alfalfa adds humus to the soil. Alfalfa sod plows hard. Alfalfa sod produces good crops. Alfalfa yields are large. Alfalfa hay represents quality.

TEN TRADE COMMANDMENTS.

I. If thou hast aught to sell, go thy way and sell it.
II. Thou shalt speak good of thy wares, but thou shalt not decry the goods of thy competitor; for if ye destroy each other, what doth it profit thee?
III. Thou shalt ignore thy competitor, even as thou prayest to be ignored.
IV. Thou shalt not wash thy soiled garments in the temple of trade, for in so doing thou deprivest the laundryman of much business.
V. Thou shalt not lie about thy competitor's goods, lest he prove a more plausible liar than thou.
VI. Thou shalt be a gentleman if thou canst; if thou canst not be, thou shalt exert thyself to give a plausible imitation.
VII. By the merits of thy wares shalt thou sell them. If thy tongue rejoiceth in slander, leave thy trade and go into politics.
VIII. If thou wouldst sell thy goods, thou shalt advertise; and thou shalt pay money for it; for, lo! the printer is entitled to his reward.

IX. Thou shalt not deceive thy customer. Thou shalt not fill his belly with strong drink. For the wine fadeth away, but the memory of the next day lingereth.

X. Thou shalt be rewarded according to thy merits; the sin of thy competitors shall avail thee nothing; for what thou dearest as faults may be virtues, which make thee envious.

KEEP THE ORCHARD HEALTHY

So feed the orchard as to maintain a healthy tree growth and to supply needs for a bountiful yield of fruit. The quantity of plant food to be added will depend, of course, upon the fertility of the soil. It is an excellent plan, when the trees are in bearing, to apply broadcast each season, preferable during July or August, from ten to fifteen big loads of good stable manure, per acre, if it can be obtained, or its equivalent in commercial fertilizers. Applied at the time suggested it matters little whether the fertilizer is left on the surface or cultivated into the soil. Water from subsequent rains sinking into the soil will carry the plant food down to the tree roots.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

IT IS VERY HARD to convince young people of eighteen or twenty years of age that their tastes are not as fully matured and judgment as ripe as is that of a person of forty.

WHAT A WONDERFUL GIFT to be blessed with the attractiveness that makes every one wish to know the owner better, and yet it is a gift easy to possess or cultivate. It is about as elusive as the perfume of a flower, the bloom of the peach, or the song of a bird's twitter. It is only a smile, a courteous deed, an unselfish act performed just at the right time and place.

THE CAPACITY to enjoy life is one great thing, to be able no matter what happens to wear a serene face. If things are not as we would wish, enjoy what we can, and hope for better times. There are no more unattractive persons living than those who never enjoy life, who look upon it as a vale of tears, who, if they do take pleasure in anything, do so under protest. The most unpromising conditions of life, may be made to yield us some good even if we do not find it; the dwelling on the disadvantages not only sours, but shuts off all hope of our seeing any possible good if it should be there. So, if we would make ourselves attractive in the best sense of the word, cultivate a capacity of pleasure in the little things, the bird songs that waken us in the morning, and we will never lack material to interest us, for our lives are made up of little pleasures, little troubles, and small things generally.

CULTIVATE a little more sentiment, indulge now and then in a little romance, open the windows of your soul to the south, and let the soft breezes blow through and perfume up your rusty old heart a bit. It will not harm you, and it will make you an infinitely more pleasant companion than you are now.

HOW GIRLS MAY SUCCEED.

Some of you are out in the world earning your own living; you have had to do it to help some one at home as well as to take care of yourself. You are up on a huge stool looking at tiresome figures in black and white; you are ringing out the changes of a letter or a document on a typewriter; you are standing behind a counter catering to the whims and wants of hundreds of people; you are working away reading proof, and wondering why people don't write plainly. But no matter what you are doing, you will never succeed in this world and you will be of no worth to the people who employ you unless you do the best you can. Do it for your own sake. Don't slight any work, no matter how poor it may seem to you—the work becomes great and noble the very second you put a great and noble determination into it. Of course you get tired, but every time you feel that tired feeling coming over you, stop for a minute, and give your eyes or hands a rest, and remember that the work done in the right spirit is the only work fit to offer God himself, and that is the way and spirit in which you ought to work.

By doing the best you can, by being just as patient as you can, your work is sure to receive recognition and that may mean more money and less work to you, because after a while the toil that seems so hard at first is going, from mere force of habit, to become easier, and you yourself, by doing good work are always smoothing out the pathway of the future. Make the drudgery divine and do not call it drudgery. Do what your hands find to do with a glad heart and don't think that you are the only woman in the world that has to work to earn her daily bread, but be thankful that God has given you ability with which to do it.

TO BE A MOTHER, to be some man's inspiration, to live in the heart of the children, to be the center about which cluster life's holiest associations, surely this is the greatest blessing heaven can give, the greatest honor earth can bestow. When the sorrows and sacrifices, the loves and joys, dreams, hopes, ambitions, of prerogatives of motherhood are thine; woman, thou hast come into thy kingdom.

THE IDEAL HOUSEHOLD is one where the parents manifest that fine courtesy that is to marriage what aroma is to a flower. Springing from mutual consideration, in time it grows to be involuntary as the act of breathing. To enumerate and classify such tokens of good breeding and fine manners is as impossible as to define music. They gild every action, they soften every vocal chord. From "morn till dewey eve" they appear and re-appear.

FROM THE MORNING when the Creator first called into being woman to be man's helpmeet, on down through the centuries until this eventful period in which we live, in all the hopes and aspirations which have stirred man's souls in all the struggles and crises in the great drama called life, struggles with self and sin, with passion and pride, woman has ever stood by man's side, his noblest, his truest, purest, most disinterested friend, pleading, praying, whispering words of encouragement, lifting him in strong arms of love towards heaven; and 'tis not her fault if he enters not its golden portals.

NO INDIVIDUAL in the world can do a mother's work for her.

STEWED CUCUMBERS.

Take two or three sound cucumbers, peel and cut them into quarters lengthways, remove the seeds, dry them and dip in flour and fry in hot butter till they are a light brown. Lift out of the frying pan with an egg slicer, and drain them, put them in a saucepan with a teaspoonful of good gravy. Season with pepper and salt and stew till tender. Just before serving add a dessertspoonful of chilli vinegar and a lump of sugar.

FRENCH ARTICHOKE.

Wash, trim and boil the artichokes in plenty of salted water, with the tops downward, and allow to cook until the leaves can easily be drawn out. Then remove the chokes and the leaves, leaving only the tender part. Cut them into about half a dozen pieces, dip in batter and fry in hot fat till lightly browned. Serve with dried parsley.

The Thermometer in the Kitchen

Indispensable for the Housewife.

The Rural Home Section of "DRY-FARMING."

IN THE MODERN, up-to-date bakery the thermometer controls the working of the plant, water, flour, dough, fermenting room and oven—all are gauged by the thermometer. If the flour and the room be so warm, then the water must be of a given temperature so as to produce the dough when ready for the setting trough at a certain temperature. Every move is dependent upon the thermometer.

The baker has learned that with dough kept at a temperature between 85 and 90 degrees Fahrenheit, the yeast will act in a certain way, and by keeping his room and temperature at a certain number of degrees means uniform bread.

In the olden days and even yet, where old-fashioned methods prevail, the thumb of the baker was the guide as to temperature of water, flour, dough and oven. In the home the word "tepid" covers the ground, each woman to decide for herself what may be tepid or otherwise.

No dairyman would think of conducting his business without a dairying thermometer, and this same thermometer, costing from 25 to 30 cents, should be in every woman's kitchen who pretends to be a good bread-maker and who wants her bread the same every time.

NO GUESS WORK.

Making bread by rule of thumb in the kitchen is the cause of much of the "bad luck" you hear discussed, and why this baking was so much poorer than the last.

There need be no guess work about how hot your dough will be if a simple rule be followed. Let us presume you wish to set your dough at 90 degrees Fahrenheit by the thermometer. You ascertain the temperature of the room, not a difficult thing to do, inasmuch as the thermometer is hanging upon the wall, close at hand and in plain sight. You then place the thermometer in the flour you are to use for a minute and that tells you how warm it is. Let us suppose your kitchen is 70 degrees Fahrenheit and your flour 70 degrees. Now, how hot should the added water and milk be to bring the dough up to 90 degrees? Multiply 90 by three and that gives 270 degrees. Add the flour and the room temperature together and you get 140. You heat your liquid to 130 degrees by the thermometer and test your dough and you will find it close to 90 degrees, the temperature required. Room, 70, flour, 70; water, 130; total up to 270.

THE WORRIES OF BREAD-MAKING.

It is said that the insane asylums of the Northwest are harboring more farmers' wives than any other class of women; overwork because of lack of kitchen and domestic facilities generally, and many other reasons, not the least of which is worry, worry, worry!

How much has the making of the daily loaf to do with this worry? What effect has the chilling of the sponge or the dough and perhaps the subsequent souring of the dough, and no bread for a meal or two on the table, unless baking powder biscuits are made, upon the nerves of an over-burdened, over-worked housewife, with farm help to feed, and a horde of husky, hungry children?

She sets her bread at night, wraps the bread pan with quilt and blanket and puts it in a warm corner and is confident that all is well. But a blizzard comes up in the night, or one or another temperature change takes place; the kitchen stove goes out, and in the morning the half-raised dough is all but stone cold. A little thing, perhaps, a bread setting gone wrong, but no little incident in the kitchen life of the farmer's wife with a hundred things to do and but one pair of hands to do with. It is nothing short of a domestic disaster!

THE FIRELESS COOKER.

Few women in the land but have heard or read of the Swedish oven, the fireless cooker. There is not much mystery about it other than keeping the inside hot air in the box beyond the influence of the outside air, done by insulation. When storing ice in a house for the summer care is taken that the house is so constructed that insulating material surrounds it. Double walls well packed with shavings or lined with felt, etc., are in evidence. The hot air of summer is kept out and the ice keeps because of the cold air inside.

Hay is a good insulator, and a well-made hay-box capable of taking in the bread pan may solve many problems. A box into which the bread pan will fit, a box each way three to six inches larger, the intervening spaces well packed with hay, a suitable cover, also insulated, to fit snugly, and all would be well—a sort of bread insurance policy. The pan of dough snugly tucked away in such a box means far more certainty in the face of rapid changes of temperature than any quilt or blanket.

So with a thermometer and a haybox added to the kitchen equipment of the farm kitchen, life for the users may be robbed of the uncertainties of bread-making.

DRY-FARMING CONGRESS.

Fifty-Nine Nations Are Invited.

Invitations have been sent by the Government of the Dominion of Canada to fifty-nine nations, inviting each to send two or more official representatives to the Seventh International Dry-Farming Congress, at Lethbridge, Alta., the week of October 21st next. The invitations were handsomely engraved and embossed, and were signed by His Royal Highness The Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada.

The handsomely embossed invitation to President Taft has been delivered through the Canadian Government at Ottawa and Ambassador Bryce at Washington, and an official acknowledgment has been received in which the President expressed a hope that Congress would make an appropriation of $10,000 for the purpose of gathering a federal exhibit. Since the receipt of the acknowledgment the United States Congress has inserted a $10,000 appropriation into the Agricultural Bill, and it is believed that it will be passed in season to permit of the gathering of a large exhibit from some twenty-five dry farming demonstration farms and experimental stations. The President has already designated Hon. James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture, as his personal representative at the exposition.

OKANAGAN'S FRUIT CROP.

AN OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK.

The following article, from the Magazine Section of the Victoria Colonist, is indicative of the interest the Coast has in the Okanagan and her fruit prospects:

Unless something unforeseen intervenes between now and the ripening season in the fall, the fruit growers of the Okanagan district will harvest by all odds the largest fruit in the history of this fast developing section of the Province. At no time previously has the Okanagan shipped more than five hundred cars of fruit in one season. This year there seems to be a prospect that the output will be very far in advance of that figure.

There are a number of circumstances that have brought about this happy condition. In the first place the past winter has been comparatively mild, and the season has been favorable. There have been no severe spring frosts.

Then, again, new orchards are coming into bearing every year to swell the output. Further, the various growers, largely under the guidance of a splendid department of agriculture, are employing the best known methods of cultivation and scientific horticulture, the results of which are easily apparent.

EXTENSIVE DEVELOPMENTS.

A short time ago the writer in company with several others motored from Vernon to the Coldstream ranch and out into the White Valley. On every hand for miles and miles there was nothing to be seen but a veritable sea of orchards, with almost every tree covered with bloom. Further up the Valley new orchards are being planted, all of which will be watered by the Grey canal, perhaps the longest irrigation ditch in the Province.

To the north of Vernon a Belgian syndicate under the management of Mr. Heggie are planning another Coldstream. During the past year they received some eighteen or twenty thousand trees from one nursery firm alone. Another firm in the Oyama and Wood Lake country are developing their properties on an extensive scale. Further south, in the vicinity of Kelowna, the same thing is being repeated, while in the lower country below Penticton, tracts at Kaleden and Okanagan Falls have recently been placed on the market. On every side there are many instances of growth and development.

And the men of the fruit country have learned how to cultivate on a big scale. During the past few years it has become quite a common thing for the wheat farmer on the prairie to use a high power traction plowing outfit, yet they have been comparatively unknown in British Columbia. However, the Coldstream Estate Company are using one in their orchards—a sixty horse-power, six-gang outfit, which turns over about ten acres per day, or about the amount of ground that would require the labor of five men and teams for the same period of time. A much greater acreage could be got over, but for the fact that the operator must go very carefully, in order to avoid destroying any of the growing trees.

The work that the Coldstream people have accomplished leads one to remark that too much credit can hardly be given to those pioneers in a field that now has many competitors. Twenty years ago it took something of a seer to foresee and plan the development that has taken place. And their present activities are not confined to fruit growing alone. Their nursery is one of the largest in the interior; they have herds of horses and cattle, while in the vegetable line about two hundred acres planted in potatoes will emphasize their interest in growing "spuds."

AN ENORMOUS CROP.

While conversing in Vernon with a man who claimed to be in touch with the whole fruit situation of the Valley, he estimated that there was a probability that not less than five thousand cars of fruit would be shipped out of the Okanagan this year. As this is ten times the amount that has been shipped in the best year previous, his estimate would appear to be a very optimistic one. Nevertheless, there can be no doubt that the crop will be tremendous in comparison with former years, although it seems hardly possible that this figure can be reached.

But supposing that it is less than half this amount, say 2,000 carloads, this would mean eighty trains of twenty-five carloads each. Estimating the value at $600 net—this is a fair estimate, as a car of apples will run about six hundred and thirty boxes, and one dollar per box is a fair net price—we find that one million two hundred thousand dollars will be paid into the pockets of Okanagan fruit growers this year as a reward of their industry.

CAN THE CROP BE HANDLED?

One of the first questions an outsider naturally asks is—will the C. P. R. and the various packing companies be able to handle such a large crop with their present equipment? And in this connection it is gratifying to know that the C. P. R. divisional superintendent has been looking over the ground recently, and although he admits the problem, he stated that everything possible would be done to cope with the situation.

The packing companies are also making preparations to properly handle the large crop that is expected. Aside from the various experts in their employ, there are a large number of new packers who have been trained in the government packing schools. These can be called into service if necessary. Everybody realizes that the only way to keep up the Okanagan's reputation for high-class fruit is by careful packing and grading.

In the light of the facts mentioned it is not hard to understand why the C. N. R. and the Great Northern have their eyes turned upon the Okanagan. Present appearances would indicate that the time is not far distant when the fruit output will tax ability of all three roads during the fruit shipping season. Competition in railroads will be of inestimable value to the fruit grower. The building of the Great Northern to Penticton, and competing with the Canadian Northern, by steamer or otherwise at Kelowna, will give a competitive rate to all points on the prairie touched by either these two roads or either one of them or the C. P. R. As this takes in practically all the leading jobbing centres, it will mean a fair and reasonable rate for the shipper.

Some time last fall a prominent Coast newspaper man paid a visit to the Valley and in conversation with an old time in the fruit business, the latter expressed the belief that when the time came, that if all trees at present planted were in full bearing, it would take an annual cut of forty-five million feet of lumber to provide boxes to ship the apples. Allowing five feet of lumber to each apple box, this would mean nine million boxes of apples, or fifteen thousand carloads. This period is still some years in the future, but a glance at these figures gives an idea of the important place the fruit industry bids fair to take in our commercial and industrial life.

AND NOT ONLY FRUIT.

This applies to fruit alone. In the northern section in the vicinity of Enderby and Armstrong, a large trade is being done in vegetables. The latter point has become famous as a colery centre, and instances are on record where growers have made as much as $1,000 per acre from colery alone. To give an idea of the extent of this vegetable trade, it need only be mentioned that within a few months last fall over two hundred and fifty cars of vegetables were shipped from Armstrong alone.

APPLES, THE STAPLE CROP.

Practically everyone seems to be agreed that the future of the Valley as far as fruit is concerned depends on the apple industry. Even the most optimistic peach growers in the southern and admit that the peach business is largely a gamble. In a year when the crop is good, the price is low. The American peach, being earlier, has already glutted the prairie market before the Okanagan peach comes on. When the price is good, the high price invariably caused by a shortage on the other side of the line, there is as a rule, a short crop here, as the same climatic conditions prevail to a large extent.

Past records seem to prove that a heavy winter frost hits Yakima and Wenatchee about the same way as Summerland and Penticton.

But with the apple crop there is no such hazard. It is a rare season when a winter frost does serious damage. When the fruit is ripe it does not have to be marketed at any specific time, but may be held in cold storage for weeks and months, if the market and transportation facilities are not wholly favorable at that time.

ORCHARD AREA STILL INCREASING.

Although vast areas have been planted in orchard during the past few years, there does not appear to be any sign that the same ratio of increase will not continue for some years. There is not a nursery in the Province but is increasing its output, and the Okanagan is taking the bulk of it. While talking with a nursery agent, he said that twenty and thirty thousand tree orders were quite common.

ONE NEED OF THE OKANAGAN.

One thing the Okanagan needs more than anything else at the present time is a big central fruit fair. All the towns have good local fairs, but at no point is a fair held which can be said to be representative of the whole Valley. In this respect the Kootenay is far to the front with its big fair at Nelson. An agitation was started last year with a view to promoting a big central fruit fair, and moving it from town to town from year to year. Unless the larger points can agree as to the best place for such a fair to be held yearly, perhaps this is the best remedy that can be found at the present time.

College Notes.

Dr. E. W. Sawyer left for the Coast yesterday on a trip in the interests of the College, and expects to be away till after the Baptist Convention of British Columbia, to be held at New Westminster June 25th to 28th.

The McGill Matriculation examination is now being conducted in the college chapel under the supervision of Rev. H. A. Solly. The following is a list of students writing this examination: Miss Ruth Dale, Summerland; Walter Middleton, Kelowna; Wilfred Ryan, Vancouver; R. Cunningham, Vegreville, Alta.; William Robinson, Summerland; Jos. Graham, Summerland. These are College students. Miss Grace Logie, of the High School, is also writing.

Dr. Sawyer will be in the Coast cities in the interests of the College for the greater part of July. Prof. R. P. Baker will tour the Kootenay country, Prof. D. H. McIntosh the Okanagan and Similkameen Valleys, and Prof. A. J. Perry will cover the main line of the C. P. R. from Field to North Bend. These tours will be in the interests of the College, looking especially for new students.

Mrs. N. K. Simpson, the Matron, Miss Marjory Simpson, and Miss K. C. McLeod, late Lady Principal, will spend most of the Summer at Peachland at the home of Lieut. Gov. Bulaya.

Prof. and Mrs. A. J. Perry spent the week-end as guests of Mr. J. M. Robinson, at Hotel Naramata. Mr. Perry reports great expansion in Naramata since he camped there three years ago.

TO ELECTRIFY RAILWAY LINE.

The directors of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company have seen fit to authorize their manager to extend their No. 2 plant at Bonnington Falls, to take care of an additional load, in anticipation of the electrification of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Castlegar to Rossland. In the No. 2 plant there are already two units of 6,600 horsepower each, and the additional unit to be installed will be of 8,000 horsepower, which will make the total horsepower available, when this last proposed addition is made, 21,200. When the plant was built, arrangements were made for two additional units to the ones above mentioned, and all that is necessary is to put in the large turbine water wheels and generators.

With the increased power all of the trains now being operated on the Columbia and Western branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway can be handled, and there will be power to spare.—Grand Forks Gazette.

LATEST PICTURE OF BORDEN.

The recent change of Government has made R. L. Borden the central figure of our Canadian public life. Many would like a good picture of him. We can supply one FREE. We will send anyone our paper for one year, and The Weekly Mail and Empire, (the regular rate of which is $1.00 per year), for the same period, the two together, to include the free picture of the new Canadian Premier, for $2.50.

The Borden picture is on fine paper suitable for framing, in photo tints, 18 x 24 inches, and is in itself a work of art, easily worth the price of a year's subscription to either paper.

DO IT NOW!

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

HOME is the residence not merely of the body, but of the heart; it is a place for the affections to unfold and develop themselves; for children to love, and learn, and play in; for husband and wife to toil smilingly together and make life a blessing. The object of all ambition should be to be happy at home; if we are not happy there we cannot be elsewhere; it is the best proof of the virtues of a family circle to see a happy fireside.

MAN is naturally a home loving animal. In fact, most animals are home loving. And when a man asks a woman to share his life, it is usually taken as a gentle hint that he wants her to make him a home and take a sort of general oversight of his affairs and a special oversight of himself. He likes to know that she does things for him just for the reason that she loves him, and is interested in him and his well-being. He loves his home more if there is some impress of her personality upon it. He likes best the meal she prepares for him. Of course, he says very little—perhaps nothing—of all this, being a man.

IN TOO MANY families the mother assumes the care of everything and her daughters are but genteel loungers in the household. The work which could be so easily and quickly done if each bore a share, is left for the hands already weakened by heavy burdens, and when at last the poor household drudge dies at her post, she is remembered with pity not unmixed with contempt because she resigned the post of ruler of the household to become its slave, and her daughters are left to ruin other homes with idleness and ignorance.

A MAN and wife when irritated will often say things to each other for which they are sorry the next morning, but pride keeps them from confessing their faults, and the little differences grow until a divorce suit or an assault and battery case results. When you make a mistake, be man or woman enough to ask forgiveness, and you will sail along on flowery beds of ease instead of jolting over rocky beds of discord.

NO BOY, no girl can ever come to be utterly bad who remembers only love and tenderness and sweetness as associated with father and mother in the old-time home. Give them manly and womanly example, give them training, give them the inspiration of devoted lives, give them higher, deeper things. Do not care so much whether you are accumulating money, so that you can leave them a fortune. We really believe that the chances are against that being a blessing for a boy. But leave them an accumulated fortune of memories and inspirations and examples and hopes, so that they are rich in brain and heart and soul. Then if you happen to leave them a fortune besides, if they have all these, the fortune will be shorn of its possibilities of evil, and will become an instrument of higher and nobler good.

AFTER ALL that has been said about rare treasures of art and nature that may lend attraction to a home and its surroundings, it remains that the fairest home ornaments are bright, joyous faces; and where these are wanting, all else goes for little. Bright and joyous faces always accompany warm and loving hearts which all true home-makers must possess. Hence all who intend making homes should look carefully into their own hearts; for only when these are right can they expect their home-making to prove satisfactory. Warm hearts make bright and cheerful hearths, but the warmest hearth cannot thaw the icy heart. Love is the great home-maker, that makes even the drudgery of housekeeping a pleasure, and home life a foretaste of the bliss of heaven. One cannot get too much love into one's home-making, but easily too little.

VOLUNTARY obedience in the home, and not compulsion, is what is wanted; and the parents that are even tempered, not harsh or unjust, are teaching this lesson most successfully. A mother and father that have not learned self-control, are not capable of controlling children. It is a burdensome thing to many to lead the child the way it should go, for it is very necessary that the parents follow the same path; we can't preach any more than we live, and the sermons from which the child draws his ideas take place in the home—no teacher, no minister, can do the parent's work. Your child has a body, mind and heart, all in your keeping; if you do your work well, when life's fitful fever shall have passed for you, the memory of your children will go back to you, with gratitude that they were sent out in the world with sound bodies, cultivated minds and pure hearts.

BE COURTEOUS AT HOME.

WHY NOT be polite? How much does it cost to say "Thank you?" Why not practice it at home—to your husband, to your wife, to your children, your domestics? If a stranger does you some little act of courtesy, how sweet the smiling acknowledgment! If your husband or wife—ah! it's a matter of course—no need of thanks. Should a visitor or acquaintance tread on your dress—your best, very best—and by accident tear it, how profuse you are with your "never minds," don't think of it, accidents will happen." If a husband does it he gets a frown; if a child it is punished. Ah! those are little things, you say. They all toll mightily upon the heart, let me assure you; and little as they are, they disturb peace or create pleasure in the family circle. A man stops at a friend's house and finds it in confusion. He does not see anything to apologize for—"never thinks of such matters." Everything is right, cold supper, cold room, crying children—"perfectly comfortable!" Goes to his own home, where his wife has been taking care of the children or attending the sick, and working her life almost out. Then he does not see why things cannot be kept in order; "there never were such cross children before!" No apologies accepted at home. Oh, why not look at the sunny side at home as well as abroad, and try pleasant words instead of surly ones! Why not be agreeable at home? Why not use freely that golden coin of courtesy? How sweetly those little words sound, "many thanks," or "you are very kind." Doubly, yes, thrice sweet from the lips we love, when smiles make the eyes sparkle with the light of affection! Be polite to your children. Be courteous to your servants. Do you expect them to be mindful of your welfare, to grow glad at your approach, to bound away to do your pleasure before the request is half spoken? Then, with all your authority, mingle kindness and cheerfulness. Brothers and sisters, be amiable, be courteous among yourselves, and your servants.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.

SUMMERLAND must needs do something at an early date to improve on its electric light service. It is but a few weeks now before the present lame outfit will be taxed to its fullest capacity, and will be liable to fail at any time. One of several plans for a better service might be adopted. It was at one time suggested that a hydro-electric plant established in the hills might be the best. The water, after generating power, could be used for irrigating purposes. Another suggestion was to double the capacity of the present plant. Yet another would be to install an oil engine, making it the principal plant and the present one an auxiliary, or vice-versa. The plan of building a hydro-electric plant in the hills above Penticton was adopted by that town some months ago—we believe upon the recommendation of Engineer Latimer—and much equipment for same ordered. Later developments have shown the scheme to be too expensive, and Penticton's experience will be of assistance to Summerland.

The hydro-electric scheme which was originally proposed does not now appear to be feasible, and alternative propositions have been suggested. The Penticton Council has already purchased a considerable amount of piping which will not now be necessary. The pipe company has agreed to take $18,600 worth of piping off the hands of the Council on payment of $2,500. With this amount refunded the Council would have $22,000 in hand for lighting purposes; An estimate for a 200 horse power Deisel oil engine had been obtained. This would cost about $24,000. Other propositions were heard, but it was decided by the committee appointed to consider this matter to recommend the purchase of the engine. Vernon has also adopted the oil engine as the means for generating power.

NEW SCHOOL RIGS.

THE DECISION of the Board of School Trustees to purchase proper wagons for the conveyance of the school children we believe to be a wise one. While those in use this year served the purpose fairly well and filled the need temporarily while the consolidated school plan was in its initial stage, they were far from being as comfortable as they should be. Their one redeeming feature as a makeshift was their safety due to their lowness. This same feature renders them dusty or muddy according to the weather, and in many other ways they are not as comfortable as could be desired. Another objection to the present outfit in its unsightliness. Its appearance is not at all in keeping with Summerland's standard and we really feel ashamed to have a visitor inquire, "What is that going along the street" and to hate to tell him its purpose. An advantage of having a wagon owned and controlled by the Board will be that they can enforce the rule that it be used for no other purpose. At the present time the contractor or his employees, if they so choose, are at liberty to use the vehicles for the conveyance of Japs, railway navvies, grain, or anything else they choose. The regulation wagon is wide between wheels, and is well enclosed with a solid front containing a glass window, and has detachable sides with a substantial top, and is entered from the rear. With these we know that our children may ride in comfort and safety and we will not be ashamed of them, but rather they will be another means of advertising the progressiveness of our community.

CAPITAL FOR THE PROVINCE.

PREMIER McBRIDE, of British Columbia, has returned after a short trip to England, where several important provincial matters engaged his attention. One of these was the necessity for the erection of a building in a prominent place in London for British Columbia offices. This necessity is due to the extraordinary growth of interest in the Province and the immense increase in the business of the Agent-General's office. British Columbia never stood so high in financial circles as to-day, and undoubtedly suitable quarters for offices are greatly needed. The site has been practically decided on in the most central location. Plans for the buildings are now in course of preparation.

One most important feature of the visit of Premier McBride was his invitation by the First Lord of the Admiralty to visit the fleet at Portland, when he was given a private audience with the King, who is much interested in the Pacific Province.

Mr. McBride has had an exceedingly busy time. Prospects for the investment of capital in British Columbia appear to him to be the greatest on record. The Agent-General's office is doing splendid work, for everywhere British Columbia appears to be in people's mouths, and Mr. Turner is most enthusiastic in his efforts for the Province he represents.

GOOD ROADS.

ONE of the greatest needs of this Province at the present time, is the building of good roads. Railroads are necessary to serve large interests. Good roads are essential for the happiness and comfort of the settlers who are doing the work which will tell most upon the future stability and wealth of the country. There should be a system of main highways connecting the more important settlements of the province which would be kept in comparatively perfect order. The telephone and good roads do more than any other conveniences to make country districts really attractive. The problem of making agriculture more attractive may be solved when we afford the man on the land some privileges which the townsman enjoys so freely. If this province had a system of good roads it would prove a wonderful impetus to the tourist traffic. The motor has come to stay and will increasingly divide the traffic with the railways. We have the forests, the streams and the mountains to make this Province one of the most attractive tourist haunts in the world. All we need is good roads. The Government is doing much in this direction, but they may be assured that they will receive the fullest support in the liberal expenditure of money for good roads.

We regret to learn, upon enquiry, that while nearly all winter spray for fungus diseases, many do not spray for aphids, etc., evidently considering any gain by so doing not worth the expense. While green aphids may not do a great deal of injury, directly, to the tree, it is an active, probably the most active, agent in the carrying of disease germs, and, if for no other reason the orchard should be kept free from them. It would seem that the only effective assurance against it will be a law compelling summer spraying with Kentucky black leaf or a similar spray.

THE Penticton Telephone Company is now acting in the role of a Citizens' Defence Committee. The company, which was primarily organized to install and operate a local exchange, advised the people of Penticton rather to make a deal with the Okanagan Telephone Company. Recently a complaint of an increase of rates was made to the Council of that town, and it was referred to the directors of the erstwhile Penticton Telephone Company.

GREAT ENTERPRISE has been shown by the fruit growers of British Columbia in establishing an industry under new conditions. A great deal of capital has been invested in lands and extensive plantings are being made. The advantages the "Dry Belt" has to offer are set forth in some detail in a book recently issued by the Times Book Club, of London, England. It will afford the kind of information sought for by the Britisher who is casting his eyes toward the fruit ranches of the British Columbia valleys. At the same time the writer of the book points out that the young man with no previous knowledge of fruit growing will find himself out of place if he sets up with limited capital. Efforts are being made to establish a training school at some point in British Columbia to prepare new arrivals for the work they are about to undertake.

Eighty-five per cent of headaches are the result of eyestrain. If you are troubled that way consult S. L. Taube, Eyesight Specialist, of the Taube Optical Co., on his visit here on Monday, June 17. Dr. Nash's office, Peachland, Tuesday, June 18.

Very little reading matter has as yet been left at either G. A. McWilliams' or G. L. McWilliams' offices for the construction camps. The committee are very desirous of obtaining a considerable amount of literature for this purpose. Will our readers kindly keep this in mind?

Walter Wright went to Vancouver boarding the boat on Friday evening. From Vancouver he will travel east to Ontario, his former home. Mr. Wright expects to spend most of the summer in his native Province, returning in time to resume his duties at the college. He also expects to look into the latest and ideas in accounting etc.

Some very fine fish are being caught, chiefly silver trout. They are very gamey fish and afford lots of sport. Frequent reports of fish from 7 or 8 lbs. up to 10 or 12, and occasionally 14 are heard. Anything below 7 lbs. is not considered worth mentioning. Fish are caught from row boats some distance from shore.

The Okanagan Jam Company announces that it will receive quantities of the following fruits at the factory, Peach Orchard, this season, paying current prices: strawberries, raspberries, black and red currants, English morella cherries, greengages, damsons, crab apples, apricots, plums and gooseberries. It will be seen that the company is considerably extending the scope of its operations.

W. C. Kelley, of West Summerland, and H. D. Suckling, of the Bank of Montreal, have been making an exchange in building lots. Mr. Suckling has taken two lots between Dr. Smith's and Mr. Limmer's which were formerly the property of Mr. Kelley in exchange for the corner lot at West Summerland just east of the Bank of Montreal. The difference in values, if any, was not learned.

The schools are already beginning to prepare for the examinations which bring to an end the summer term, and with it the school year. According to the School Act the entrance examinations must take place in the last three days of the school term. The high school course of teachers examination commences on the Tuesday following, July 2. The summer vacation lasts till the fourth Monday in August.

Mrs. J. S. Gillespie, of Naramata, will address the Women's Institute on the afternoon of June 21st. It is also expected that a number of the Unity Club members will accept the invitation which has been extended to them by the Women's Institute to be present at that meeting. Only a few days ago the members of the Women's Institute were present by invitation at the regular meeting of the Unity Club in their new club building, Naramata.

STEEL FOR THE KETTLE VALLEY RAILWAY.

Nine cars of steel, for trackage on the grading from Penticton wharf to the Lumber Mill, arrived there last week. The work of laying is being proceeded with, and will be continued to the edge of Okanagan river over which a steel bridge is to be built to connect up the line from the Indian Reserve, which runs to Trout Creek and Summerland.

Contracts for the 40 miles eastern section still to let from Penticton to the Kettle Valley Summit, will be awarded within the next few days.

In this connection Mr. Warren left for the East on Monday, and, it is understood, will place several tenders before his company for consideration.

Construction work will be carried forward from Penticton. This will give another era of prosperity to the town, as all material must be shipped through this district.
Grading and steel laying will be carried out simultaneously in order to facilitate the carrying of supplies to the camps ahead. There now appears every probability of Mr. Warren's prediction being correct, that is, that the line will be finished to the east in time to handle the 1913 fruit crop.—Pen-ticton Herald.

SWEET RICE.

Make a syrup by adding a cupful of sugar to as much water as will be required to cook the rice. Fry the rice in a tablespoonful of butter until it is slightly brown.
Then add the syrup and a few blanched almonds, two tablespoons-ful of shredded raw coconut a few stoned raisins and a quarter of a teaspoonful of saffron; cover tightly and cook till the rice is tender, when all the moisture should have been absorbed. Turn out and serve.

The Kelowna Record says that
"west of Knafo the deer are eating up the fruit trees." That's nothing. The bear around Merritt are eating huckleberries and strawberries.—Merritt News.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

TO HONOR the memory of the departed mothers and enrich the ever ennobling lives of those who are living, an "International Honor Day" has been designated in the civilized nations of the world. The general object of this "Mothers' Day," is a simultaneous observance of the love and gratitude men, women and children and nations owe their good mothers. The special object is to honor and uplift motherhood, and to give happiness to "the best mother that ever lived"—your mother.

WE ARE NOT all born with the sunshine in our hearts, as the Irish people prettily term it, but we can all coax some of it in there if we only try.

WHY SOME WOMEN GROW OLD.

One reason why the average woman wears out, grows old and plain before her husband, is that, through a mistaken idea of duty, she lays out for herself at the beginning of her married-life a scheme or plan of duty and employment for time, every hour filled with work, with rare and short periods of relaxation.

This she follows religiously for years, feeling that she has done her duty, because every household event occurs regularly and on time, while she soon becomes merely a machine, a thing without life of itself or volition. She settles into her rut and goes round and round on the same track everlastingly.

Can any woman keep brightness, originality of thought and speech, or even mere prettiness with such a life, and without those things how can she keep her husband and growing children full of loving admiration, which is the strongest chain by which she can bind them to her? How bright and jolly the neighbor's wife seems when she calls! In nine cases out of ten it is because the surroundings and talk of your home are variety to her and rouse her to originality and brightness of speech. In her own rut she may be as dull as dishwater.

WRITE HOME OFTEN.

"My boy," writes a white-haired mother to her son, a busy man in a distant province, "write home often. You do not realize what your letters are to me, and how long it is between them." No, he had not realized it, and unhappily there are many sons and daughters who need a similar reminder. They would be indignant at the suggestion of waning filial devotion, but in the stress of business, in the society of new friends, in the happiness of a new home circle, how rarely they spare an hour for a good long letter to the aging mother in the old home—the loving mother whose heartache, as the passing days fail to bring the longed-for letter, is one of the most pathetic tragedies of old age. The decline of the letter writing habit of an earlier generation has often been deplored; but this feature of the decline can neither be excused nor defended. The post card substitute for letters is little less than a mockery when the cards are sent to the mother who wants, and should have, so much more than that. As youth lives in and for the future, so does old age always look back over the slope as it nears the summit. The parent is wrapped up in the son and daughter; but as the son grows to manhood and the daughter to womanhood, they are absorbed in the plans and processes of building the structure of the coming years. Such is the law of life and the basis of all progress, but it is a pitiful thing when the son and daughter fail to keep in mind their obligation to the loyalty and love of their parents. Blessed are the absent ones who write long and frequent letters to the old-home. Soon, they cannot know how soon, the precious privilege will no longer be theirs.

A THOUGHT FOR THE BOYS.

We do not see much written about the poor, wild, reckless boys, who deserve the sympathy, tears and prayers of every Christian woman and man. There is a period in the life of a boy when, if he makes a mistake, people—or some classes, at least—are apt to magnify the same, and having the tact of being more critical than correct the matter is announced to all the world, or to that portion in which the culprit dwells. That most angelic Christian grace, Charity, fails to come to the trembling balance and weigh the burden upon the side of mercy, and so the boy is hooted and reviled as he goes "slipping down the ladder rung by rung," till he is eventually lost to love and trust. There is not a good Christian woman on earth who cannot do good if she will only speak kindly and encouragingly to those wild boys and try to draw them into something that is good and noble. Make them realize that they have one true and sympathetic friend at least; one that will assist and defend in their darkest hours. Select some wild boy, give him good advice, lend him good books, arouse the spirit of true manhood and try to impress upon his mind that "It is not all of life to live, nor all of death to die."

THE well-informed woman may generally be known not so much by what she tells you, as by what she does not tell you; for she is the last to take pleasure in mere gossip, or to make vulgar allusion to the appearance, dress or personal habits of her friends and neighbors.

LET THERE BE refinement and culture in every thought you utter. Never speak in harsh, loud tones, but cultivate a clear, sweet voice; and never laugh while trying to talk.

THE PATH is easy that is paved with love.

BETTER sweetness in the heart than greatness in the mind.

LIFE is not measured by length of days, but by depth of deeds.

IT IS of no consequence how good a man is abroad if he is really mean at home.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE LECTURES

The lectures given by Mrs. Davies in the Parlors of the Men's Club on Monday, the 17th inst., under the auspices of the Women's Institute were well attended and much appreciated by those present.

In the afternoon Mrs. Davies spoke on Market Gardening and Floriculture for profit. In a fluent and interesting way she showed that a good living could be made from either with but a small amount of capital, if undertaken with intelligence and perseverance. Mrs. Davies answered many questions concerning plants, bulbs, mushroom growing, and other subjects.

In the evening the lecturer spoke to an attentive and enthusiastic audience on poultry raising from a commercial standpoint. From practical knowledge and experience she explained how money could be made in the business if strict attention was paid to details and some business capacity shown. Mrs. Davies explained how a large duck farm was managed, what rations were given, and spoke of the profits to be made from duck-raising by proper and intelligent methods. At the close of the meeting a hearty vote of thanks was extended to the speaker for her interesting and instructive lectures.

Small faults indulged in are little thieves that let in greater.

Naramata Notes.

R. Gammon left on Tuesday for Vernon.

Ross Price has gone to Kelowna where he is going out with a railway survey party.

Hotel Naramata continues to attract numerous groups of pleasure seekers. Just now it would be hard to find another place quite so inviting to the tourist or to the traveller in search of a quiet, restful Sabbath.

Mrs. J. M. Robinson returned on Tuesday from Toronto after several months absence. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Marguerite, who has been a student at Moulton Hall, Toronto, for the past two years.

Mrs. Peffley, a new resident of town, wife of our former citizen, reached Naramata on Monday. She was accompanied by her two children. The family have taken up temporary residence in the Gibboney house, opposite D. McKay's.

Road Foreman W. Nuttall has commenced on the extensive task of widening the main travelled road from Four Mile Creek to Chute Creek. This is welcome news more especially since the presence of autos on the numerous curves has made life for the drivers of rigs by no means pleasant.

Even a blind man would be aware of a big stir in our town this season, for one would know by the merry ring of hammer and saw that the town is "going some." This week will about see the completion of the store buildings and next week the large warehouses will be finished. The new sidewalk to connect up with the store will be another fine improvement.

Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Wolstencroft entertained the Unity Club at the home of the latter upon the occasion of the last gathering, on Friday. One of the decisions arrived at was to hold the next social evening on the Club's own grounds upon the evening of July 4th—the American's day, to which the public is most cordially invited. The admission will be a nominal one, 15 cents, more to defray expenses than a mere money getter.

Bank Pay 108 Cheques Will be Distributed Among Canadian Farmers. Will You Get One of Them?

In addition to the twenty-seven first prizes of $50 each, there will be eighty-one other cash prizes, ranging from $10 to $25 in our 1912 PRIZE CONTEST FOR FARMERS

This contest is along the same lines as the one which was so successful last year, except that there are three times as many prizes, and therefore three times as many chances for each contestant to win. Every farmer in Canada who uses "Canada" Cement is eligible to compete. The conditions are such that large and small users of cement have equal opportunities to win a $50 prize.

The contest is divided into three classes, and there are first, second, third and fourth prizes ($50, $25, $15 and $10) in each class.

CLASS "A"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who use most "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912.

CLASS "B"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send photographs of the best concrete work done with "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912.

CLASS "C"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send the best description, telling how any piece of concrete work was done with "Canada" Cement. (Entries for this prize must be accompanied by photographs of the work.)

In addition to thus being divided into classes, so as to give small users of cement an equal chance with those who use more, the Contest is also divided into nine divisions, one for each province. So you see you need only to compete with the other farmers of your own province, and not with those all over Canada.

Don't think that because you have never used cement, you cannot win a prize. Many of last year's prize winners had never used cement before they entered the Contest. We will send you a free book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete," that will not only help you in the Contest, but will tell you everything you could want to know about the use of cement on the farm.

Don't delay, but send us your name and address to-day and get this free book and full particulars of the Prize Contest right away. Use a letter, postal or coupon.

should carry. It is a small matter then to determine how many fruits there should be left on the tree.

Another rule which might be taken in connection with the previous one is to thin plums to about 2, 2½ or 3 inches, peaches 4 to 8, depending on the earliness of the variety; pears and apples, 5 to 7 inches apart. In thinning pears and apples, it is only with early varieties that more than one should be left on any fruit-spur, and with these early varieties part of the crop may be removed in one picking and the balance later. With winter varieties of apples it is a good rule to leave fruit only on each alternate spur, to encourage annual bearing. On slender twigs and on wood of the past season's growth, where many varieties bear heavily in British Columbia, it is well to thin to a greater distance than on strong fruit spurs in the body of the tree. On the outside twigs and shoots the fruit will average smaller than at the stouter branches; they are unable to grow a close crop of fruit to perfection.

A very important point, well illustrated by the Yellow Newtown apple, is that the centre apple of the cluster, and not one of the side apples, should remain. The centre blossom of the cluster comes out first; its stem is usually shorter and stockier than those of the outside blossoms, and at the time of thinning the apples is usually much larger than the others and on a shorter stem. The centre apple usually hangs better to the tree, is the typical apple of the variety, is less liable to variation in shape, and having a shorter stem, is better for packing and for appearance sake.

Fruit spurs vary greatly in size and vitality; the best spurs bear the best fruit; the weaker spurs should be given a chance to develop into strong ones before next year's crop.

In the production of fancy fruit, thinning pays, and pays well. It means much in the assurance of crops of only high-class fruit. It is not likely to be of value unless the orchard is right in the matters of variety, fertility, cultivation, pruning and spraying; it is not likely to give good returns unless the high-class article produced is properly packed and marketed by businesslike methods. Thinning is an essential feature of the new orchard culture.

Present indications are that this year will see the largest crop of tree fruits British Columbia has yet had. Throughout the Province, from Vancouver Island to the Kootenays the apple, prune, peach, pear and plum trees have been full of blossom, and there has been no loss from frost or unfavorable weather. Most of the trees are certain to have a heavy load of fruit, of which very much will be undersized unless thinning is practised. It is hoped that fruit growers will grasp the situation rightly. The prices for undersized fruit are never very remunerative. It is always the good, large, perfect fruits that bring paying returns. This year the difference in price between fancy and low grade fruit will be emphasized. Large yields of fruit are promised in Ontario, in the Middle States, Colorado, California, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, as well as in British Columbia. The North-Western States, in fact, have the bumper crop of their history; and they look to the Canadian prairies to buy a great deal of it, as times are good in Canada, while money is scarce in the United States. This means that there will be plenty of poor fruit for sale in our markets without any from British Columbia, and the returns from this class of fruit are bound to be low. Neither do the canneries want small fruit; there is no money in pie peaches for anyone. Every grower should resolve that he will not grow any peaches smaller than "90's." Any shipper knows that there will be no market for the small stuff, and that even in the earliest varieties we can grow, returns will be unsatisfactory for the small grades. Fortunately there is no good reason why any grower should have any percentage of the small sizes to market.

It is unlikely that any fruit grower will thin too much. It is quite certain that most growers will not thin enough. While the average man may know about thinning, he is short the nerve necessary to carry it out. Most of the growers in British Columbia have not yet had enough experience to realize the difference in profits on large and small sizes. Those men who see the situation clearly and who recognize the fundamental necessity for adequate thinning should use their influence by getting their neighbors to take it up.

EXTENSIVE PROVINCIAL EXHIBIT FOR LETHBRIDGE EXPOSITION.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 18. - The provincial display of British Columbia will be one of the most attractive features of the big Dry Farming Products Exposition here next October, reservation having been made by Deputy Minister of Finance and Agriculture, W. E. Scott for one hundred lineal feet space and a depth of at least twenty feet.

It is planned to bring to Lethbridge one of the finest exhibits ever gathered in Western Canada of an extensive and diversified nature, the feature of which will be fruit grown without irrigation and specimens of the timber for which the Province is famous. The fruit exhibits will probably be sent from here to Chicago and New York land shows, and it is expected that fully a carload of choice apples will be collected for this exhibit.

R. M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist, writes that he is arranging to collect an unusually large exhibit of fruit, and that he has advised all commercial organizations in the various districts of British Columbia to make a display and will personally supervise the gathering of the fruit exhibit.

Hon. Price Ellison, minister of Finance and Agriculture of British Columbia, has accepted an invitation to address the great International Dry Farming Congress in Lethbridge, October 21-26th, and he has notified the officers of the organization that he is making every effort to have one of the largest exhibits of fruits ever gathered in British Columbia for display.

POTATO REQUIREMENTS.

The measure of success in potato growing is the yield per acre and quality of the harvested crop. From the failures as well as the successes of potato farmers the following are found to be the seven most important potato needs:

1. - A potato soil is a prime requisite for profitable potato culture. This consists of surface soil with a sufficient admixture of sand and silt or clay to be responsive to tillage operations. Beneath this surface soil should be a well drained subsoil, capable of plant food renewals, to upper soil, from time to time.

2. - Plenty of air is needed, hence porosity in the soil. Potatoes must have air, especially after the setting of the tubers during the period of their maturity.

3. - There must be plenty of available plant food. Soils rich in potash with plenty of vegetable mold - humus - are usually well supplied with all the other desirable elements in available form for the growing tubers.

4. - A fine, well-firmed, but porous soil has an evenness of texture which enables it to receive moisture and feed it to the potato plant through capillarity as its root system has need. An earth-mulch at the surface prevents too rapid evaporation of this desired moisture, conserving this essential for the growing plant needs. Thus other essential requisites are provided for that encourage a well-developed root system by means of which the growing tuber plant draws its sustenance from soil and air.

5. - Deep plowing and thorough stirring of the soil at the proper time insure soil aeration, so essential in successful potato culture.

6. - Careful systematic seed selection is all-important in maintaining quality in potatoes. A seed plot will furnish the desirable quality of seed for next year's general field crop. A definite system of using hill-selected seed pays rich dividends this year from hill-selected seed of last in increased yield per hill and desirable type sought. One should plant for seed the type and character of potato he desires for market. A tuber with but few and shallow eyes, with skin free of fungus diseases which prey upon it, and of the form typical of its breed, is the type of potato most to be desired for seed. Unknown grocery potatoes, run outs and culls, must or should be discarded from seed; if we would hope to improve the crop or obtain satisfactory profits in potato culture.

A well ordered rotation of crops is important for potato success. Potatoes should not be grown more than twice in succession on the same ground without rotation to insure freedom from fungus diseases. We should plant potatoes in the rotation after the legume crop which pays best to grow upon the farm.

Naramata Notes.

Mr. Jas. Hayward has gone to Saskatoon and expects to be absent some little time.

Mr. D. McKay has gone to Vancouver to receive expert medical treatment for his throat.

Mr. Jack Robinson has completed his law studies, and expects shortly to open a law office in Summerland.

H. J. Wells, manager of The Naramata Supply Company and his staff are putting in a busy week moving to their new store.

"Roses" and rose bushes are not at all uncommon in and round Naramata, but those at present in bloom at the home of C. W. Johnson are especially fine.

Mrs. Schreck, of Buffalo, mother of our Mr. J. M. Schreck, accompanied by a young grandson, Master Harold Schreck, came in on Saturday night's boat. The visitors will probably spend the holiday season at Naramata.

The Unity Club social presided over by Mrs. Lewis Block, Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Edgar was the feature of special interest here last week. The attendance was large, the entertainment was fine, and the luncheon served up at the close was a credit to the ladies.

Mr. W. Steele has joined the ranks of the benedicts. The happy event took place on Friday last at the residence of the Baptist pastor at Revelstoke in the presence of the immediate friends of the bride, Miss Townsend, of Glasgow, Scotland. The young couple have taken up residence in the little cottage recently built by E. Steers.

Thos. Cunningham, Provincial Inspector of Horticulture, paid Naramata an official visit this week inspecting local orchards for the presence of fruit pests. With Mr. Cunningham came others to have a look at our picturesque townsite, W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, K. R. Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McHardy, of Nelson.

Rev. G. O. Fallis occupied the pulpit on Sunday morning at the usual hour, giving an effective and forceful address directed more particularly to those who for various reasons might be wavering in their faith. The announcement at the close that a mid-week meeting would be held on Thursday evening came as a pleasant intimation to Naramata churchgoers.

College Notes.

Vice-Principal R. P. Baker went down to the Coast on Wednesday.

The position of Instructor in Piano, held last year by Miss Scheeler, has not yet been filled.

Mrs. N. K. Simpson, who has been acting as Matron at the College, with her daughter Miss Marjorie, returned to her home at Kaleden.

Prof. C. D. Denton, who has had a year's leave of absence, will resume his duties at the College next Fall. Prof. Denton has spent the winter in California and is reported to be greatly improved in health.

Miss Kathryn C. McLeod, the lady principal of Okanagan College has severed her connection with that institution. Next year the ladies will be under the charge of Miss Elizabeth S. Colwell, a Bachelor of Arts of Acadia University, 1900. Miss Colwell is a native of St. John, N.B., and for a time taught school in her native province. Later she took up missionary work and spent five years teaching in Honolulu. Returning from the mission field, she accepted a position in the Pennington Seminary, Pennington, N.J., as Preceptress of the Department of Expression. Leaving there she again took up work in the foreign field as Supervisor of English in the Practice School of the University of Porto Rico.

ONTARIO FRUIT CROP

Ontario is anticipating a good fruit crop. No time will be lost by the Ontario Department of Agriculture in arranging to keep Ontario fruit growers posted concerning the prairie markets.

"It is the expectation to appoint a man this summer," says Mr. Roadhouse, deputy minister of agriculture. "We shall be able to look up markets, keep in touch with conditions and keep in touch with the shippers at this end."

Will you be one of the 108 farmers who will receive our Prize Contest checks?

THERE will be twelve cash prizes in each of the nine provinces (108 in all) in the 1912 Prize Contest for Canadian Farmers. The 1911 Contest was so successful in awakening interest in the use of Concrete on the farm, that a second contest, in which three times as many prizes are offered, was decided upon for this year.

The Contest this year is divided into three classes, "A," "B," and "C," and there will be four prizes in each class. (First prize, $50; Second prize, $25; Third prize, $15; Fourth prize, $10.) Thus there are three $50 Prizes, three $25 Prizes, three $15 prizes, and three $10 Prizes, for each province.

DESCRIPTION OF CLASSES

In Each Class there will be First, Second, Third and Fourth Prizes ($50, $25, $15, and $10) for Each Province.

CLASS "A"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who use most "Canada" Cement on their farms in the year 1912.

CLASS "B"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send photographs of the best concrete work done with "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912.

CLASS "C"—Prizes to be awarded to the four farmers in each province who send in the best description, written in their own words, of the use of "Canada" Cement on their farms in 1912. (Entries for this prize must be accompanied by photographs of the work.)

Don't think that you must use a large quantity of cement in order to win a prize. The quantity of cement used does not count in Classes "B" and "C." Many of last year's prize winners used very little cement.

When you enter the Contest, you have a chance to win a cash prize of $50 as well as the certainty that you will add a permanent improvement to your farm. If you haven't a copy, be sure and ask for our book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." It will not only suggest many improvements that you can use in entering the Contest, but will tell you all about the use of concrete on the farm.

Just write your name and address on the attached coupon, or use a postal card, and we will send full particulars of the Prize Contest and a copy of "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete" to you absolutely free.

DO IT NOW!

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

IF YOU WANT cheerfulness in your home, you must have sunshine and genial hearts. Plan to live in the sunshine; if there is a pleasant room in your dwelling, live there; if there is a dark room, shut it up; keep the children out of it; if you have troubles shut them up there—never take them into the family circle—give home the sunniest thought and plans of your whole life and fill it with love, joy, peace, gladness—sunshine.

TAKE THE TROUBLE to get well acquainted with your children, and to interest yourself in their pastimes. By this means they will learn to trust and confide in you, and are not easily led away by outside influence.

HOME AS HEAVEN.

The earthly home is only a type. Our town is "a city of homes." "In my Father's house are many mansions," said the homeless one of Galilee. Birds of the air had nests; foxes had holes in the ground, but He had not where to lay His head. John Howard Payne, who wrote, "Home, Sweet Home," was also an exile, like his Master. In a little village graveyard a tombstone to a mother has this homely epitaph: "She made home happy." Sounds like Christ's "She hath done what she could." A real home is surely a happy place built on the hilltop of cheerfulness. No shadow rests there. Morning comes early; evening stays late. Life is a stormy sea, home a harbor.

BABIES OR DOGS?

A SOCIETY in one of the American states organized to find homes for homeless children, says that there are women so bereft of all womanly feeling that they actually give their dogs the care that thousands of babies are starving for.

Fashionable London boasts a sumptuous new toilet parlor for dogs. There a dog can be washed, brushed, perfumed, manicured and have its teeth brushed.

It is a disgrace to humanity and an insult to honest dog nature. Dogs can be the most faithful of friends and can inspire great devotion in the hearts of their masters, but they are honest, doggy, dogs, not pampered, spoiled pups.

The woman who has so little maternal love left in her heart that she can lavish such admiration on a dog is a pitiable object.

Every good woman is at heart a mother even though she may never bear children. Every little life is to her a wonderful, precious thing, a thing to be cherished and loved.

There are alas—alas! that it should be so—thousands of hungry, neglected, babies in the land. These babies would think themselves in the lap of luxury if they had half the care that many a pet dog gets. They have no soft bed, no petting, no good food.

Think of a baby's little, soft, tender body lying on a squalid, wretched bed while in some luxurious house a poodle lies on softest down and satin. It is monstrous and cruel.

All women are not blessed with children, but the woman who spends on a dog the money that she might give to the aid of some starving baby is a disgrace to womanhood.

It is not only for food that some of the babies are starving. Some of them have plenty of bodily luxury but their baby hearts are starving for love and comprehension.

Thank goodness that the women who spend their time and money on the pampering of dogs are rare, and that the good mother is to be found in every corner of the earth, from the throne and the mansion down to the humblest home of the peasant or toiler.

PEOPLE who have been bolstered up and liveried all their lives are seldom good for anything in a crisis. When misfortune comes they look around for something to cling to or lean upon. If the prop is not there, down they go. Once down they are as helpless as capsize turtles or unhorsed men in armor, and they cannot find their feet without assistance. They are like summer vines which never grow even ligneous, but stretch out a thousand little hands to grasp the stronger shrubs; and if they cannot reach them they lie dishevelled in the grass, hoof-trodden, and beaten of every storm. It will be found that the first real movement upward will not take place until, in a spirit of resolute self-denial, indolence so natural to almost everyone is mastered. Necessity is usually the spur that sets the sluggish energies in motion. Poverty is therefore oftener a blessing to a young man than prosperity; for, while the one tends to stimulate his powers, the other inclines them to longer disuse.

OUR SENSE of the value of the family needs to be revived and roused. The family, the great institution of Paradise, the scene of true love, the nursery of infancy, and the stimulus and shelter of all the virtues! Each man and woman has a duty to this end. A homeless civilization is sure to be a stunted one; the vices will flourish and the virtues be nipped by the untimely frost. Back of the good man must needs be the good household. Here and there may be a saint and an apostle won from the dens of vice; but, unless the den be reformed, a miracle only can insure the safety of the new convert. In the future, as in the past, the solid and reliable men and women, the leaders in business and society, will be found in the quiet and holy homes of the land.

FOURTEEN FEET OF CATER-PILLARS.	B.C. FALL FAIRS FOR 1912.
The Massachusetts State Ornithologist said recently that each young fledgling in a robin's nest consumed every day in bugs, worms, caterpillars and other food, the equivalent of fourteen feet of caterpillars. This means for a man, about the same thing as eating sixty-seven feet of bologna sausage every twenty-four hours. One sees by this something of what it means to kill a robin.—Our Dumb Animals. Jas. Ritchie narrowly escaped what would probably have been a serious accident early this week while climbing the hill on the horse shoe road. Mr. Ritchie was driving his car, and in some way the machinery was reversed. The car backed off down the side of the road near a steep incline, but fortunately backed squarely into a flume, which stopped its downward course. By moving the proper lever the car regained the road without assistance none the worse for the mishap.

Messrs. Coles & Weeks did not sell their bakery business to J. C. Arkell as was reported in last week's issue. They had been offering the business for sale, and a proposition had been made by them which was practically accepted. It was later withdrawn, however, and though they are not now doing business, their bakery is still for sale.

James Fyffe, B. L. Hatfield and Jas. Clark were passengers on Thursday morning for Vernon to attend the trial of suit of James Fyffe against Baron von Hagen, involving upwards of $200. The cause of action was over a wood sawing outfit. W. C. Kelley, of West Summerland is acting for the plaintiff and W. H. T. Gahan for the defendant.

Messrs. Markle and Cook, who have leased Empire Hall, put on their moving picture show Monday. A belt did not work properly the first night, and the pictures were not the success they might otherwise have been. Everything is now in good order and pictures are shown nightly with a change of films three times a week. The local showhouse is one of the circuit whose films are supplied from Vancouver. These must pass a government censorship before being put on the screen.

Rev. F. W. Auvache has resigned the pastorate of the Penticton Baptist Church. He will be succeeded by Mr. C. A. Britten, a graduate of Acadia University, class of 1911. Now there are two self-supporting congregations in the one church organization with forty-eight members in Penticton and twenty-one in Kaloden. The ordination of Mr. Britten into the ministry is expected to take place on Tuesday, July 9, at Penticton.

The Secretary of the Farmers' Institute has been advised to draw the attention of the Members to the Noxious Weeds Act, 1911, so that they may assist in the carrying out of the provisions regarding the eradication of noxious weeds to be found growing on lands throughout the Province. Any member being aware of the existence of noxious weeds on any lands should give immediate notice to the Provincial Police or Fire Wardens in this district, so that steps be taken to have said weeds eradicated at the earliest possible moment.

"A Benevolent Autocrat."

A Study of Sir Richard McBride, K.C.M.G.

By T. P. O'CONNOR, in "T. P.'s Magazine for June, 1912.
THERE DWELT for a few weeks lately in London one of the most remarkable of the true Empire builders of our time. Doubtless he passed through many scenes unknown and unnoticed; and that, to him, must have been an experience as welcome as it was novel. For it is quite unlike his ordinary experiences in his own country. There, for every moment of every day he has rows of people standing outside his door, eager to win his ear, to excite his interest, or even to have the pleasure of shaking him by the hand and of exchanging a few words with him. In passing outside his office through the streets of his city there is not a man, woman or child that does not recognize him, few who do not greet him with a word, none who do not give him a kindly smile as he passes. Many of them, simple as well as gentle, address him as "Dick," and, in turn, he addresses the most of them by their Christian names. No man ever had in a greater degree that terrible gift of familiarity which so exasperated the father of the great Mirabeau; no man was ever so endowed by nature with those gifts of kindness, simplicity, good fellowship, which are among the chief requirements of the ruler of those great, young communities, monarchical to the heart's core so far as the old mother country is concerned, but within their own sphere and towards their own public men democratic to a degree undreamt of even in the philosophy of countries that call themselves republic.

AN IMPRESSION.

Yet, though his name and personality might be strange, this dweller for brief space within our gates could not appear anywhere without attracting attention. He looked what he was; the born ruler of men. Very tall, and at the same time very robust, with the great shoulders of an athlete, the strong, firm walk of a giant in good form, he looks the man who could shoulder his way through any crowd however dense or however strong. He is the embodiment of massive physical strength and of inflexible will. The head and face are the worthy culmination to the splendid figure. The face is round and somewhat short—the face of one who is mainly Celtic. The jaw has the strength of the man of action, of the fighter, of the man who knows no fear. The mouth, is, curiously enough, small and delicate, but again firmness is its chief indication. The brow is high and broad, and the eyes, bright, blue, piercing and vigilant, reveal the man who has had to look into the depths of myriads of human souls and find out whether gold or mud are at their unfathomed depths. And then comes a massive head of hair—thick, curly, but all white as snow. Therein he bears some resemblance to that other great Canadian of whom he has been the personal friend and political opponent all his life; for the massive man of Sir Wilfrid Laurier has become historic in Canada, and by his enthusiastic friends used to be compared to that oriflame of the French king which always led the way in battle and always rallied the French soldier to courage and to victory. Shrewdness, kindness, good nature and yet vigilance, keen insight, indulgent but thoroughgoing instinctive knowledge of human nature, and above all inflexible will; these are the different qualities of the inner man that are expressed in his physique. Mr. Winston Churchill, once addressing a meeting in his honor, said of him that "high destinies" were written in his face, and that is a true as well as an eloquent expression of what this man suggests even at a cursory glance.

HIS EARLY YEARS.

Such is "Dick" McBride. I call him "Dick" for nobody calls him anything else. It is one of the many signs of the extraordinary hold he has on his people; it is symptomatic of the spirit of the community he rules. Of that community he is the child in every sense of the word. His parents were among the many who left Ireland to find a freer and more prosperous home in the New World. And in the circumstances of his parentage, as in so many things in his prosperous life, fortune smiled upon him, for it was a mixed parentage both as to race and creed; and this accounts largely for the singular combination of qualities that has made him so ideal a ruler for a young and democratic community. His father came from Ulster and was an Orangeman; his mother came from Limerick and was a Catholic. From the one came strength, from the other the gentleness, the kindness, the fraternity of feeling that makes him a popular idol. Mr. McBride's parents gave him a good education, and he was sent to the other end of Canada—that is to say, to the law school of Halifax, to be trained as a barrister; and then he set up for himself in the small office in which in primitive communities men have to open their struggle for existence. But he was not left long to study briefs; his natural gifts as a political man asserted themselves early. Before he was thirty he was a Cabinet Minister, and he soon made it quite clear that he was a man so strong, so fearless, so astute, that he had to be counted with. A ministry brought in a railway bill giving a big concession; he, with a small group of members fought the bill all through a session, not to be bullied, or tired, or cajoled into surrender.

AS A PREMIER.

Then, having felt his feet, he fought for a new principle in official and political life in his native province. The Ministerial and Opposition parties were then settled on the simple and good old system of the "ins" and the "outs"; Mr. McBride resolved that party government was the cure for the sordid and mean personal motives which influenced political contests so primordial, and fighting his way through tremendous obstacles and over-powering interests, he established a party government, and soon he was himself at the head of a ministry. He was Prime Minister at thirty-two—the youngest Prime Minister in the British Empire.

It was a dazzling eminence; but also a perilous one. The Province was not in a healthy condition; its finances were suspect; and when the young Prime Minister went to the banks for backing, the cautious managers had politely to refuse him aid. Here, then, was a strange and paradoxical problem. Nobody could doubt that the Province had gigantic and varied resources; time only was required to make the world and the Province itself realize its immeasurable potentialities. Population has to be attracted, and that is not an easy task. When you get to British Columbia you reach one of the fairest and most attractive lands in the world. Do you want scenery of the same appalling magnificence as that of the Zermatt district of Switzerland? You will find it almost immediately after you enter its borders. Do you want fertile land bearing the most beautiful fruit in the world? It is to be found in the famous Okanagan Valley. Are you a mining prospector? You can ramble through British Columbia with the certainty that in time you will reach gold or copper, or some other of the metals for which the world is calling out.

SOME ATTRACTIONS OF OUR PROVINCE.

These form the material attractions of British Columbia; but if you seek for other things, for a lovely and healthy climate, for scenery soft, or spots that nestle under the gigantic mountains, and bring vigor and the joy of life back again; these also you can find, they come to you without the asking. And, finally you get the Pacific, spread before you, one of the loveliest sheets of waters the world can show. Around and about it are growing those gigantic buildings, those mighty wharves, those docks that are attracted by a great world centre and depot, and the tall funnels or the spreading sails of ships from every land are crowded in by the water side. A city whose growth is like a tale from the "Arabian Nights," in its suddenness and its opulence, has grown up around the magnificent depot. Vancouver, one of the marvels of the world, has increased in a few years by fifty per cent. of its population; and here, at the end of the world, you will find a city as modern as if it were in the heart of British Columbia London; with plots of land—nay, with square feet—selling at prices such as sometimes equal those that ten centuries of civilization and of the central and supreme position as capital of the world of commerce and finance have given to the core of London.

Fertility of Soil should be Preserved

Productive Soil is the Greatest Asset
Possessed by Canada.

The most important source of this country's wealth is in her soils.
Upon their continued productiveness will depend in large measure, the density of her population and the future welfare of the people. If they are maintained in fertility, the coming generations will be prosperous; if they are depleted by unwise soil management, it will bring disaster to great numbers of people. Unfortunately, the present methods of soil management on many of our farms are not maintaining the fertility. They are exhausting it. In the prairie provinces the single cropping system to a large extent prevails. Grain follows grain, with little or no thought of the effect upon the soil.

THE SOIL ROBBED
OF ITS GOODNESS

This excessive cropping to grain robs the soil of the available plant food, and surely and steadily diminishes its productiveness. A very good example of this was brought out by the Agricultural Survey of the Committee on Lands of the Commission of Conservation, in 1911. In Manitoba, one hundred farms in three representative districts were visited. In comparing the yields of to-day with those of ten and twenty years ago, it was found that not a single farmer reported an increase, but that 46 per cent. reported their yields to be 11 per cent. less than ten years ago, and 50 per cent. reported their yields to be 14 per cent. less than twenty years ago. Nearly every farmer in Manitoba stated that the farms were not giving the yields they did or should.

In the older provinces there are very few who are following a systematic rotation of crops. The tendency is toward a system having too many years of hay and pasture in it with not enough roots or other hoe crop. Grain followed by hay and pasture, for from six to eight years, is the system too often followed. This long grain, hay and pasture rotation, where the hay is sold, does not maintain the fertility of the soil and has the additional advantage of allowing noxious weeds of all kinds to make great headway.

There are two principal ways in which our soil is being abused.
The first is by the use of the single-cropping system of grain after grain, and neglecting to fertilize the soil by some wise means. We may well include under the single cropping system the long course rotation of grain followed by hay for many years. The two principal remedies for these abuses are the systematic rotation of crops, and paying proper attention to the production, care and use of manures and fertilizers of various kinds.

THE VALUE OF
CROP ROTATION.

Rotation of crops means that the crops grown on each field are changed from time to time, so that there will be a succession of crops that will regularly repeat itself each time the course is run. It is desirable to arrange the rotation so that the same land will not have the same crop in succession.

All crops do not use the same amount of the various plant foods found in the soil. Some are shallow feeders, some are deep feeders.
Some crops use up the nitrogen in the soil, while others have the power to store up nitrogen.

The great essential of crop rotation is the planting of crops that feed on different food. Another essential is the planting of crops that will allow or assist Nature to repair her waste places. An example of this is to be found where continuous wheat crops have, to a large extent, exhausted the nitrogen. The soil will no longer give good yields of wheat, but will grow a leguminous crop, such as cow peas, beans or clover, which do not require as much nitrogen as the wheat, and which also has the power to get it for itself from the air and store it in tubercles on its roots for the benefit of succeeding crops.

The Hons. Martin Burroll, and F. D. Monk, of the Department of Public Works, Ottawa, promise consideration of the proposal to dredge Okanagan River, thus lowering the level of Okanagan Lake.
A government engineer will be sent to look into conditions.

The by-laws of the city of Vernon to borrow $8,000 for an auto chemical fire engine and $5,000 for cemetary extension were carried by large majorities.
