British Labor Leader's Prosecution Causes Indignation.

JAMES LARKIN, THE BRITISH LABOR LEADER, AT HIS DESK.

British workmen have professed great indignation over the prosecution of Larkin for labor disorders while "King" Carson, of Ulster, has openly equipped an "army" with which to revolt in event of the passage by Parliament of the Home Rule Bill. Government officers, however, assert that Carson has not yet been prosecuted because he has not openly rebelled, but has only said what would be done, if the Home Rule Bill passed. Larkin, it is asserted, has already incited to riot.

CO-OPERATION HERE TO STAY.

Mr. R. Robertson, of Okanagan United Growers, Very Confident of Future.

INTERESTING FACTS AND FIGURES GIVEN.

Interesting and Optimistic Report, But Not All Sunshine.

Though slow in assembling it was a good sized and appreciative audience that listened to the straightforward talk from Manager Robertson of the United Growers, Ltd. in the gymnasium of the Men's Club on Tuesday night. The hour was set for 7.30, but it was not until well after 8 that President White of the Summerland Fruit Union called the meeting to order. Mr. White explained that the purpose of the directors in calling the meeting was to ascertain from the shareholders their attitude toward the livestock question, and to place before them the directors' recent resolution relative thereto, and asked that it be acted upon either by ratification, amendment or otherwise.

The first business taken up was a communication from Mr. R. M. Winslow, suggesting that the Union affiliate with the B.C. Fruit Growers Association so as to be represented in that organization. This might be done, said the chairman, in different ways; either all members join, thus replacing the local Fruit Growers Association, and those few who would remain out of the Union could join directly with the Provincial Association; or the Union might join the Provincial Association and pay its fee of $10 and not interfere with the local. No definite action was taken.

UTILIZATION OF BY-PRODUCTS.

A communication was read from Pentiction calling attention to the fact that a new evaporating plant, under a recently patented process, had been installed there, and asked any interested to attend demonstrations on Friday and Saturday of this week. Manager Robertson was asked what he knew of this, and said he had heard nothing but favorable comments, and that the plant was inexpensive. He thought it well worth looking into with a view to local Unions adding evaporating to their other duties.

Chairman White then reviewed the history of the agitation for loans through the Union for live stock purposes, and called upon Secretary Logie to read his letter to the Minister of Agriculture with reference to this question and the Minister's answer. Mr. White had also written later and independently, and was also in receipt of an answer from the Minister. Both letters and answers were read. Mr. White had stated the case very fully and impartially, and the Minister's answers to both enquiries were as described fully noncommittal.

After quite a lengthy and rather heated discussion, participated in by Messrs. Higgin, Watson, W. J. Robinson, White, Logie and others, the directors' resolution was put to a test. The only disputed phrase in the resolution was that requiring all members to "ship through the Union if a fruit grower." Apart from the question of entering the Union for this purpose, Chairman White thought it not advisable to ask for a temporary loan of $100 through the Union, as to get it $20 must be invested, and interest paid on the $100. He thought it would be a much better scheme if the government could be persuaded to grant short term loans to farmers. In this province particularly it would be not only a help to the farmer but to the consumer through the increase of production. Such loans are being made in other provinces, and it is not improbable that the Royal Commission of Agriculture may recommend something of this sort. For a time the opposing views of those shipping through the Union and those disposing of their fruit through other channels created an interesting battle of words, and the distinction was clearly drawn.

MOTIONS RE LOANS.

A motion, proposed by G. W. McLaren that the directors' action be confirmed, with the exception of the clause as mentioned above, was seconded by D. H. Watson. An amendment that the question be left over until a regularly called meeting of the shareholders was lost by a small majority, and Mr. McLaren's motion was then put and carried, also by a small majority.

Mr. White then gave a summary of the shipments made by the Union to November 30th, totalling 32,859 packages, with yet a quantity of apples in the warehouse. During September, October and November $11,872.49 had been distributed among the members. A good deal of money would yet be distributed, as there had been very few final settlements.

The report of the season's business, though largely verbal and not complete, given by Mr. Robertson, was received with a great deal of satisfaction by those who have been supporting the Union, and with some surprise and perhaps equal satisfaction by the independent shippers who were present. The growing confidence in the organization, both here and elsewhere, was illustrated by the recent expression of delight made by a Vernon banker, as told by Mr. Robertson. Knowing the history in the past of shipping organizations in this Valley the banker referred to had not shown an abundance of confidence in the Okanagan United Growers, and had withheld judgment awaiting developments. Last week he had given his first expression of endorsement. This was when the Growers' Secretary had transferred $11,000 from current account to savings account.

CENTRAL FINANCES.

To October 31st Mr. Robertson reported having shipped 536 cars of fruit, 354 of vegetables, and 51 of hay. This did not include less than carload shipments. To that time $23,420.00 had been retained from the locals in addition to all expenses, and beside a reserve fund of 3 per cent. to be returned in

School Board

Regular Monthly Meeting.

The last session but one of the 1913 School Board was held last Monday morning. There will be another meeting on the 22nd to pass December accounts and clean up any business that accumulates before that date.

All the members were present at Monday's session, which was rather uneventful.

The confirmation of the arrangement whereby a Manual Training Instructor will devote three days to Kelowna and two days to Summerland was received from the Inspector, classes to begin next August.

Some time was taken up in the considering of the unsatisfactory temperature of the Central school-rooms, for which a number of theories were advanced. It was reported that the class-rooms were colder when school opened than was the outer atmosphere, and that not until well into the afternoon did the temperature reach a comfortable point. Built as it is, there are many long lengths of pipe under the floors in the basement, offering a large radiating surface from which a lot of heat doubtless disappears. "Beam filling" was not used when the building was erected. This, and other causes, keeps the basement cooler than it otherwise would be.

It was also declared that the attic is very open to the passage of air from the outside, and that the ceilings are as a result constantly transmitting the warmth of the room below. With a view to remedying what was believed the greatest waste Messrs. W. Ritchie and C. N. Borton had been asked personally to submit tenders for the covering of the boiler and basement piping. These tenders were received and considered at Monday's meeting, and the contract awarded to the Borton Heating & Plumbing Co., their price being $142 for the wrapping of all the basement pipes with asbestos and, outside this, with three quarter-inch hair felt, and putting an asbestos cement coating over the boiler. It is anticipated that this will result in a large saving of fuel and make it possible to make the rooms comfortable.

Manual Training again came in for some discussion. Trustee Docking suggesting that the matter be again put before the people at the next election. Chairman Robinson replied that the question had already been put before the ratepayers and had met with their approval. Trustee Shields declared that the people often change their minds, and asked when it was the board's purpose to introduce Domestic Science. The chairman thought that if Manual Training were introduced next fall, and Domestic Science a year later, it was as much as could be expected. With the small expenditure required in providing a building, and the fact that the province bears most of the expense of equipment and teacher, the increased cost to the ratepayer would be very small.

Dr. McIntyre, in speaking of the High School, said that with the increased number of students that is expected it would be necessary to have a second teacher next year. In confirming this Chairman Robinson said that the people should know that school rates must continue to advance steadily for some years.

After dispensing with some other minor matters the board adjourned to meet on Monday, December 22d.

Following is the report of the attendance received from the various departments:—

APPROACHING WEDDING.

A second linen shower was given in honor of Miss Ethel M. Brown on Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. N. Merrill, and the bride-elect was again the fortunate recipient of a number of beautiful and daintily worked pieces of linen.

Some twenty ladies enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon of music and social intercourse, and when all were assembled a prettily decorated wagon, loaded with the presents was drawn into the parlor by Miss Marjorie Merrill. The afternoon's entertainment was concluded by the serving of a luncheon.

LADIES' BASKETBALL CLUB.

At an enthusiastic and well attended meeting in the Ladies Parlor of the Methodist Church last night, a Ladies' Basketball Club was formed for the coming season.

After Miss L. V. Mills had been voted to the chair, the election of officers and general business for the formation of what promises to be a most successful and useful organization occupied the meeting with most satisfactory results.

Practices are to be held every week, and by the kindness of the men's basketball club, baskets, ball etc., are to be placed at the disposal of the ladies.

The result of the election of officers was as follows:

President, Miss L. V. Mills;
Secretary-Treasurer,
Miss McAlooney;

Captains, Miss G. Limmer and Miss Helen Phinney.

The team will consist, beside the officers, of the Misses A. and L. Brown, the Misses Conway, Miss Clay, Miss E. Bristow, Miss Clubb, the Misses Babbitt, and Mrs. J. Lawler.

IN MEMORIAM.

At the evening service in the Methodist Church on Sunday, sympathetic reference was made by the Rev. R. W. Lee to the death of Miss Ruby Tiffin, and the condolences of the church and its members were offered to Mrs. Tunstall, Gilbert Thornber and relatives. It was his sad duty, said Mr. Lee, to remove the name of one universally esteemed and liked from the roll of the church in Summerland, and their hearts went out in sympathy to the bereaved relatives, and especially to their friend and member, Mr. Gilbert Thornber, who was even then on the sea hastening to the side of the one who had pledged her life to him, and who had been called so soon to lay it down.

The beautiful trio, "Gone to her Rest," was then very sweetly and sympathetically sung by the Misses E. and L. Brown and Mae Conway, as a tribute to the memory of Miss Tiffin.

Settlers are coming to British Columbia in large numbers, according to Hon. W. R. Ross, Minister of Lands, who says that this year the province has received more than Alberta and Saskatchewan. During the past year 8600 pre-emption records were granted, and 9800 during the past three years, involving 1,500,000 acres.

Rural Mail

Service To Begin Monday.

Next Monday morning, December 8th, Mr. L. Gregor Blair, the successful tenderer for the rural mail route, will inaugurate that service. The conveyance leaves the post office at eight o'clock, going northward through Peach Orchard, up the switchback, past Capt. Webb's, along Jones Flat to Garnett Valley, thence across to and through Prairie Valley. From there the rig goes through Peach Valley, around south of Giant's Head, and to G. J. C. White's corner, thence south again, and down to Trout Creek, returning from there to the post office. The route is expected to be covered within six hours.

A large number of the patrons of the new service have taken advantage of the opportunity offered to procure neat and durable posts which have been placed and now support the convenient and substantial device of which the private mail box is a part.

The full advantages and the large saving of time which the service affords will scarcely be realized until used for some time. Practically all the advantages of living next the post office will be enjoyed. Each patron is furnished with application blanks for postal notes, and money orders, and official receipts for the money will be given the courier who also carries a supply of stamps. If, however, it is found inconvenient to meet the courier, or it is otherwise desired to purchase a supply of stamps from the post office the money, with a requisition, is placed in the box and the amount of stamps ordered brought on the next trip. Only such parcels as can be put in the box are sent out on the route immediately. The addressee of larger parcels is, according to the regulations, advised that the parcel awaits him at the post office, when he may give the courier an order for it. This delay, however, can be overcome by giving the postmaster a blank order instructing him to forward all parcels at once. These will be left near the mail box unless some other receptacle is ordered or the courier is met by one of the household.

The new service is sure to entail much more work at the distributing office, requiring more night work and an additional hour or two of work in the early morning. When asked by the Review if this increase of work meant an increase of salary, Postmaster Hayes made the reply, surprising to us, that it did not, and that the only remuneration that would come to him for the larger volume of work would be wholly from the increased sale of stamps, to patrons by the distributing office or the courier.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES.

The special services now in progress in St. Andrew's Church will be continued until the end of next week. Rev. Fergusson Miller of Pentiction will conduct the Sunday services, and will be the preacher the first part of the week. Mr. David Lister arrives on Monday, and will co-operate in the services till the close. Mr. Lister obtained some fame as an evangelist in the mother land. He is a great favorite with St. Andrew's folk. The students of Okanagan College, who conducted a splendid meeting on Wednesday evening, will have charge of next Thursday evening's meeting. Good bright singing is a feature of all the meetings.

COWS AND PIGS.

Editor,
Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,—
Considerable discussion is now being given to the subject of live stock, and the part it should play in our orchard operations. I would, therefore, like to say a few words about this feature of farming which has always been of great interest to me.

Almost as long ago as I can remember I had something to do with horses, cows, pigs and poultry. I was trained in the care of them, in the feeding and breeding of GOOD animals. But, that was not all. Important as good stock might be, all depended on something else. All must be fed. Higher life depends upon a lower form of life for its sustenance. Nature is always turning the great wheel. That which is taken from the earth must be returned to the earth.

We never sold anything from our farm except live stock or its products, except possibly some seeds. We bought tons of grain to feed our stock. We did indeed raise hay and grain and roots and corn. Each year our crops averaged better. Why? Because we not only returned to the soil all that was taken from it, but added the feed that was bought in the form of manure.

When I came to Summerland I noticed how rich the soil seemed to be in inorganic substances. But it lacked something which I had seen in other soils. It lacks life. The soil particles were locked up because of the absence of decaying organic matter. I added some nitrate of soda and got good results, but not as good as I expected, showing me still more plainly that it needed a vegetable substance. Hence my reason for keeping cows.

What kind of stock shall we keep?
Is my neighbor going to keep cows because I fancy them, or pigs because some other does so? Nearly all kinds of live stock are equally profitable, depending on the man who handles them. But let me repeat what I say every time I get a chance, viz., get GOOD stock. I do not think I have seen more than two or three fairly good cows in Summerland. Poor cows will not pay anywhere.

If one has really good cows it matters little whether the feed is raised or bought, except that succulent feed, so essential to success with cows, cannot be bought. It costs from $125 to $150 per year to feed a cow here when feed is bought. This might be reduced $25, or possibly $50 per year if corn were raised, and neighbors combine in purchasing an engine and cutter to put it into silos. If this were done, any man who owns one cow could build a silo to advantage.

What is a GOOD cow?
A good cow is one that yields enough milk or butter, fat to give a profit over cost of feed and care.

Milk is worth here 4½ to 5 cents per pound. Most of the cows of Summerland give about 3000 pounds of milk per year. It is easy to figure out what a cow should give to be profitable as a milk producer. Butter is worth here from 40 to 45 cents per pound. A cow must therefore give at least 800 pounds of butter to pay for her feed and care. Most of the cows of Summerland give enough fat to make about 150 to 200 pounds of butter.

But what are good cows giving elsewhere? Eight or ten thousand pounds of milk is quite common in good herds, and quite a number of Holstein cows give double that amount. Four hundred to five hundred pounds of butter is not uncommon in good herds.

I saw a good Holstein cow not long ago which was giving, under official test, over 40 lbs of butter per week. Her milk tested between 6 per cent, and 7 per cent, fat. I might add that this cow was being fed only about eight pounds of grain per day, but had all the corn silage and alfalfa hay she wanted.

I would say here, that I do not like buying stock through the government agents. No agent is likely to know the needs of a place as well as a resident, and then I think it is generally understood that advantages are taken which would not be when dealing with private parties. Borrow the money, if need be, but do your own buying.

Regarding hogs, I prefer the Yorkshire bacon type, particularly for feeding green stuff. They will also give nearly double the increase. It must not be supposed, however, that hogs can be raised and fattened on green alfalfa alone. Alfalfa is a great help, but much disappointment will be the result if grain is not fed, particularly during the early life of the pig.

I have not mentioned some other things in mind, realizing that I have already taken considerable space which I thank you for granting me.

Yours truly,
A. A. DERRICK.

Xmas. Mail.

Mails for Great Britain close at the local post office on Friday, December 5th, and Monday, December 8th. The latter is the last mail that can possibly reach the Old Country in time for distribution before Christmas. It would be safer to send by the earlier boat. The latest date for Christmas mails to the Maritime Provinces is December 16, and for Ontario and Quebec December 18th.

B.C. POULTRY ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting and convention of the B.C. Poultry Association will be held in Davis Hall, Grand Forks, on Thursday, December 11. The program of the convention is as follows:

8.00—Address, "What Has the Fancier to Contribute to Commercial Poultry," Mrs. Helen Dow Whitaker, Haven Heights Poultry Ranch, Tracyton, Wash.

9.00—Address, "Poultry Keeping in High Altitudes," R. W. Grigor, Rossland, B.C.

9.30—Address, "Poultry and Fruit," Benjamin Hoy, Assistant Provincial Horticulturist, Grand Forks.

Farm Accountancy.

A series of articles on Agricultural Book-keeping, written for the Review by Walter Wright, Commercial Instructor, Okanagan College.

Last week we considered the matter of figuring up the cost of growing certain crops, and now we wish to look for a while at the methods used in order to get these items of cost in the busy season, so in leisure moments they can be entered in their proper accounts. Some people who start to keep accounts, and not being able to make all the entries that would have helped, have dropped the whole business. It is better far to keep on and use information you have, even though the result will be only approximate, than to drop the keeping of accounts altogether.

The great factories used in their cost accounting a time card, many of the most practical and prosperous agriculturists are now using this same method, and it is a splendid plan if one will bind oneself to fill in this card every day. The big trouble with the daily time card is that it is forgotten. One farmer has his card with a pencil tied to it, hung on a nail where he hangs his working clothes, so that when the day's work is done the time card confronts him and he can fill it in. Below is a sample of a time card that is being used by several of the most prominent agriculturists. Another method that is often used, and was referred to last week, is to time the work, such as hoeing, for once or twice during the season, and then put down the dates, on which successive hoeings are done. One farmer who used this method has at the gate going into his field a tin biscuit box, nailed to a post. A card with a pencil is hung inside, the box being upside down keeps the rain off the card. In these fields he times the hoeing, etc., once or twice during the season, and each time after the work is done, as he leaves the field the box confronts him, and is a gentle reminder to mark down the time. All that he does is to jot down the date and mention if it is a full day's work or part of the day, and the number of men at the work. In the slack time he takes these various cards from the different fields and charges the time marked on them against the different field or crops to which they belong.

That "Time means Money" is now becoming recognized by farmers. Factories and Labor Unions have long since recognized it; hence the adopting within recent years of paying, by the hour, not by the month; paying for overtime, and paying more for it. Farmers are gradually changing to pay by the hour, and soon what is now chore time for us will be our over time, and charged up where it belongs, either to expense, crops or stock.

Bills for material of all kinds, such as lumber, paints, machines, fertilizer, stock, trees, etc., are received from time to time. If they are filed as they are received, then at any time they can be charged up against the crop, or account, and do not need to be handled when the busy rush is on. One thing that makes this difficult, in farm work particularly, is that these bills are likely to have items on them, not merely for the crops and general farm accounts alone, but also for the supplies of the household. Where this occurs the items belonging to the farm accounts of course must be picked out. This requires a little patience, but is well worth the time. At the end of the season all these items should be entered in the accounts to which they belong, and thus form part of the cost of growing the crop or increasing some farm account.

When returns are received a note must be made of what proportion of this belongs to the individual accounts. For instance, suppose a man were selling his crops to the Fruit Union here, he receives a check for his produce disposed of, and can file this. From it pick out the various returns that belong to each individual crop, also on this will be a considerable number of charges, packing, crating, commission, etc.

The many friends of Mr. Havelock Babbitt, private secretary of Lieut.-Gov. Bulyea of Edmonton will be sorry to hear that he died very suddenly of angina pectoris at his home there some weeks ago. Mr. Babbitt spent two summers here, and was a general favorite with the boys, acting for them, often, in the capacity of umpire.

The "Shingle" Tea given by the W.C.T.U. in the Baptist schoolroom on Thursday afternoon and evening, in aid of the Rescue Home, Vancouver, was well patronized, and tables covered with fancy articles, home made cookery, and candies, called for a generous amount of attention, and were soon cleared. The tea, consisting of brown and white bread and butter, baked beans and cake, were brought by the waitresses on a shingle, thus giving the name to the tea.

FRIDAY, DEC. 5, 1913.

SOME REASONS WHY.

Many reasons have been advanced for the present tightness of money, but none seems better substantiated than that of war and preparation for war. Just now more enormous loans are being sought in the London market, nearly all of which are required for war purposes. That market is, however, so thoroughly cleaned up that these loans cannot be issued during the current year. France, Turkey, Austria, Bulgaria, Greece, Servia, and Roumania have applied for a total of $146,000,000. Such a huge sum removed from use in the peaceful pursuit of industry and development must certainly have its serious results. Another reason, and one of which we hear but little, is suggested by "Broad-streets" New York, which says that India is taking measures to promote gold deposits in banks at a lucrative rate of interest, in order to arrest the burying of gold treasure as silver has been buried in India for more than 100 years. Sir George Paish (of the London Statist) now in New York, estimates for the Wall Street Journal that the record for the present calendar year will show another $100,000,000 of gold buried in India—lost to the civilized world of the present time as though it were thrown into the ocean. In each of the two preceding years, or for 1912 and 1911, more than $100,000,000 of gold disappeared into India, a total for the three calendar years to 1914 of more than $300,000,000 of gold lost to the world. It is no longer safe to talk about the output of South African gold as the cause of rising prices, when another arm of the British Empire is burying 60 per cent. of the gold South Africa is producing.

ST. ANDREW'S DAY OBSERVED BY LOCAL SOCIETY.

St. Andrew's Day, November 30, the great Scotch national anniversary, was not allowed to pass by without due observance by the Caledonians of Summerland.

On Friday evening last, the local St. Andrew's Society held a most successful musical social, followed by a dance no less enjoyable. Well over a hundred guests had received invitations, and the Campbell Hall, West Summerland was well filled by a happy crowd—predominantly Scotch. A program of local talent consisting of songs, quartettes, instrumental music and readings was excellently rendered, frequent encores being demanded. While the floor was being cleared for dancing, which was carried on until an hour quite late, tasty refreshments were served by the ladies.

On Sunday evening the members of St. Andrew's Society paraded in a body to the Presbyterian Church. Rev. C. H. Daly, chaplain to the Society, preached a strong sermon appropriate to the organization and the day. Special music and an exceptionally large congregation gave to the service an unusual interest.

THE LATE LADY STRATHCONA.

A writer in a Montreal paper says of the late Lady Strathcona: She was always the quiet, reticent, unassuming wife and mother. She never acquired any "society manner" or any "small talk." It was always her genial husband who made the stranger within the gates welcome, and this he did—as thousands of Canadians can testify—in no uncertain manner. This aloofness on the part of Lady Strathcona did not arise from any lack of kindness or hospitality, for she possessed both, but from the instinctive shyness and reserve which she never succeeded in conquering. Besides her affection for her children, Lady Strathcona possessed unbounded affection for Canada. When I last saw her in London the only thing that seemed to arouse her interest was when I talked to her about Montreal. "I'd like to see it again," she said, obviously from her heart. "I'd like to go back and live in Canada." There is little doubt but that she would have preferred a simple life on this side to the life of endless entertainments and entertaining in England and Scotland.

The self-made man doesn't have to carry a union card.

W.C.T.U. MEETING.

At the home of Mrs. McAlpine on Monday afternoon, after the pros and cons of a business session, Mrs. D. H. Watson led in a discussion on "Child Culture," during which many interesting and helpful thoughts were presented. The discussion revealed an awakening conscience relative to giving young people truer ideals of life.

At the next meeting, to be held the first Monday in January in the parlors of the club rooms, there will be a debate by a number of ladies on one of the leading questions of the day (if not the leading one, namely, woman's franchise. This debate promises to be entertaining as well as instructive, and it is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity to be present, whether members of the Union or not. Young people will be especially welcome.

B.C. EXHIBIT SAID TO BE THE PRETTIEST.

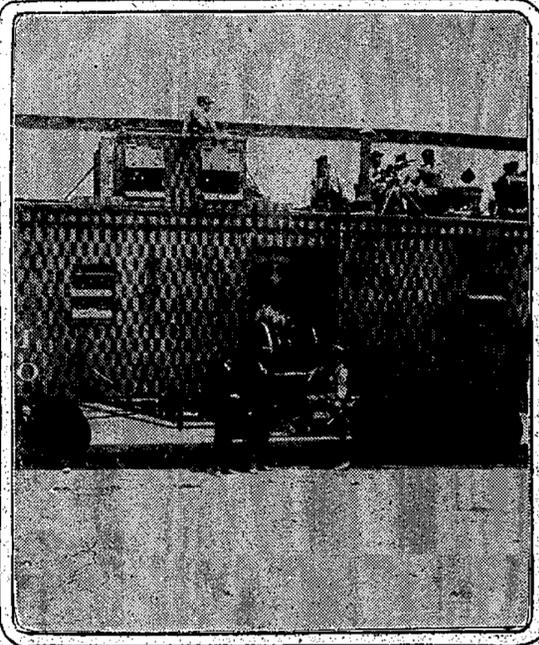

Perhaps the prettiest Canadian exhibit at the World's Show at Chicago, in the opinion of the Chicago Tribune, was the one from British Columbia, according to Mr. D. C. Alexander, Industrial Agent there of the C.P.R. The joint exhibit of the B.C. Government and the C.P.R. covers an area of more than 8,000 square feet, and considerable space was given over to a wheat field. Green and red apples were so arranged as to show two big letters, B.C., and other fruits from the province were beautifully displayed. That section was crowded all day and until late at night.

Canada has the largest display of agricultural products of any section of the continent represented at the show. Patriotic Canadian and Scottish airs were played by the orchestra, and flags of the empire were arranged all about the exhibits from His Majesty's dominion.

A miniature railway train, climbing up mountain grades and again shooting at top speed through long tunnels, part of the Canadian Government exhibit, attracted the attention of countless boys and girls, who stood and watched the electrically propelled train. The background is painted to represent a section of the Selkirk Mountains, and was said by many to be one of the best exhibits.

To see life clearly you must learn to see it for yourself. Thought is life, and as no one else can live for you no one else can think for you.

Mexican Armored Train Carrying a Machine Gun.

The armored train shown in the picture gives an idea of the precautions that the government troops take when going from one point to another. Where the rebels have the railroads they use like methods. This photograph was taken on the Mexican National Railroad, and shows how an old freight car has been covered with iron to turn hostile bullets. In the doorway is mounted a machine gun, which can either be used against an attacking force from its interior position, or rapidly dragged into the open. On top of the car is a searchlight with which the soldiers sweep the track ahead, and the surrounding brush. Attacks on the railroad trains are frequent, and dynamiting troop trains is a favorite pastime of the rebel forces.

St. Stephen's Church Bazaar.

There were many pretty things to be bought and quite a busy crowd of buyers and sellers at the Christmas Sale of Work and Bazaar held in connection with St. Stephen's Church in the Men's Club on Wednesday afternoon and evening. Quite a "Christmassy" air of festivity was lent to the big light rooms by the seasonable greetings in crimson and white which hung on the walls, and by the tall Christmas tree, a fine young Jack Pine, whose branches held a variety of glittering trifles at five cents each, in charge of Mrs. Page.

Afternoon tea was served at daintily set little tables in a warm and cozy screened corner, lit with Japanese lanterns, under the charge of Mrs. Cartwright, while the Misses Cooper, and Young, the Misses Blair, the Misses Harvey, and the Misses Thomson, acted as waitresses.

Mrs. Vaughan, assisted by Mrs. Ottley, presided over a very attractive Doll Stall, where one could buy waxen beauties in lace and silk or homely rag babies.

At the Bag and Cushion Stall, Mrs. Nixon and Miss Board sold beautiful specimens of this merchandise for Christmas gifts; the most delectable home made candies were quickly sold out from the large white table in the centre of the room by Mrs. Markoe and Miss Young.

Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. May were very busy selling at their attractive Fancy Stall, and many cozy and comfortable utilities were obtainable from Mrs. Clouston and Mrs. Brewer, assisted by Mrs. Merrihew.

Later on in the evening there was a merry gathering to enjoy the bountiful menu of supper, charmingly served. The vicar, Rev. D. E. D. Robertson and Mrs. Robertson, heartily thanked those members of the congregation, especially the ladies, who worked so hard to make the Christmas Sale a success.

Mrs. Harold Rivington's younger sister, Miss Willans, has arrived for a short stay with Mr. and Mrs. Rivington. Miss Willans has been visiting friends on a ranch near Calgary since September, and will presently be proceeding to the Coast for a term of study at one of the Women's Colleges.

On Tuesday the last of the Women's Institute dressmaking classes for the lakeshore was celebrated by a little farewell tea given by the ladies to Madame Grohe, their instructress. Mrs. Lipssett and Mrs. Coulter White as officials, voiced the pleasure and profit which the members felt they had derived from Madame Grohe's skillful and patient methods. Classes are being held this week at the High School Building, West Summerland.

A Fair December.

The tale of December roses and gentle airs on the lakeshore is apparently not yet all told, for mid-summer flowers persist in blooming in our gardens with sweet disregard to the calendar, and Jack Frost is obviously afraid to approach or touch such beautiful trustfulness. In a cottage garden on Shaughnessy Avenue there is a perfumed hedge of pink and white and mauve sweet peas blossoming almost as thickly as in June, and close by the delicate petalled petunia raises her head. Stock, mignonette, and pansies are quite as fresh and sturdy as ever, and the rose, red and white and pink yet queens it with all the proud royalty of her own month. A green garden on Beach Avenue is full of roses, foliage, bud and blossom; the foliage of the rich red and green that is generally only seen in the height of the season, and the blossom still firm and well shaped, though a little less perfumed than a month ago—La France, Devoniensis, and a dear old-fashioned crimson rose, a Carolina, Mrs. John Lang, and a Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, were all cut there this first week in December.

An evening lake crossing one day this week was like a page torn out of a summer diary. The ferry rocked gently on the still bosom of the deep waters, brown and silver in the evening light; overhead a silver crescent moon, gleamed through the gray cloud wrack, and the home lights of Summerland and Naramata twinkled hospitably on either shore. The soft blue wreaths of the evening wood fires floated lazily out on a nightfall as calm and wonderful as though winter were an unwritten word.

The successful man never tells you what he is going to do next.

Mrs. P. S. Roe and Mrs. J. Rowley were the guests at dinner of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson last night (Thursday).

Madame Grohe, Anglo-Parisian School of Dressmaking, instructing the Women's Institute classes in the High School building this week, is staying with Mrs. McLaren.

A shipment of cable arrived some days ago for the Summerland Telephone Company, and already more than 1000 feet of this has been buried beneath the surface of the streets, thus dispensing with unsightly poles, and further removing the wires from the possibility of induction. The wire and other pole material arrived here to-day, and as soon as possible it will be strung, and the work of connecting the houses of subscribers with the cables or central will commence.

F. A. Gibbs was incorrectly reported in these columns as having left here for a trip to the Old Country. He is instead on a visit to Victoria.

Mr. F. F. Hanington and his mother are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hankey, Vernon. They will probably return to Summerland to-night or Saturday.

There is not a lady in Summerland who will not be interested in Madame Grohe's announcement in her ad. on page 5. Real Irish hand made lace made under Royal patronage.

The fact that the Review has a long list of excellent publications which is offered at special prices clubbed with the Review should not be overlooked when making up your Christmas list.

Some important alterations in the post office lobby and the position of the boxes and wickets is being made this week which will be of convenience both to the post office staff and general public.

Mr. Clubb of Clubb & Stewart, Vancouver, is spending a few days here this week with his family who are occupying the McWilliams house for the winter. Mr. Clubb arrived on Sunday night, and from here will go to Calgary before returning to the Coast.

Complaints are again heard of the dog nuisance. It is claimed that it is a general practice of dog owners to allow the animals to run at large at night, and that they rove about in groups causing annoyance, frequently killing fowl and doing other damage.

A luncheon party of 'welcome home' to Mr. J. M. Robinson was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson on Tuesday, the guests being Mr. J. M. Robinson, Mrs. J. Robinson, senr., Mr. John Firstbrook, Mrs. Geo. Gray, and Mr. J. O. Robinson.

A party of friends and relatives met the Sunday night's boat and welcomed Mr. J. M. Robinson at the wharf, before he proceeded across the lake to Naramata, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Lipsett, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Clay, Miss Clay, and Mr. Kent.

Delight 'Dad' with a Christmas present of a package of neatly printed letterheads and envelopes bearing the ranch name, address, etc. He will find it useful the year round. A large stock of paper and variety of type faces await your selection at the Review Office.

Sunday next is the last day of the ministry of Rev. F. W. Pattison. Morning service will be held as usual at the Upper Church, but in the afternoon the united congregations will meet for a special baptismal and communion service of farewell at the Lakeshore Church at 3.30.

When a $5 up-to-date boot, selected at will, out of a large fresh stock can be had for $3.75 cash, the saving is a profitable investment even if the boots are purchased ahead of time. Drop in and see the fine Ladies' and Gentlemen's footwear in the Leather Store to-morrow.

The Review's special vote offer for subscriptions is still open, and due notice will be given of its withdrawal. Here is an excellent opportunity to pile up votes, and should be immediately taken advantage of. Many residents would find the Review a most satisfactory Christmas gift to make to friends living elsewhere, and there are a number of new subscriptions and renewals to be picked up right here.

Our profound apologies are due to Miss Rothwell for a mis-statement appearing last week. While expressing our sympathy with her on her anxious journey to her father's sick-bed we announced that her father's death had taken place before she could reach Regina. We had this information on what we believed to be most reliable authority. It is happily the case that Miss Rothwell's father is on the high road to recovery, and we can only express our regret for any pain that the mistake has occasioned. Miss Rothwell has now returned to her duties.

Miss Myrtle Conway paid a visit to Kelowna last week-end.

T. H. Hocking left on this morning's boat for a visit to England.

Mr. W. J. Robinson, Mrs. J. Robinson, senr., and Mrs. Geo. Gray spent Monday with the members of their family at Naramata.

Sunday, December 14, is Communion Sunday in St. Andrew's Church. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning service.

Norman Alexander moved his household effects across the lake on Thursday, and will make Naramata his home while with the Ferry Company.

The many friends of James Ritchie will regret to learn that he has been confined to his home this week with a severe cold. Latest information is that he is rapidly improving.

The first basketball match of the season will be held next Thursday evening at the club gymnasium at 7.30. There will be two matches, junior and senior, played between town and college.

Presbyterian services will be conducted in St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning, and in the Methodist Church in the evening. Rev. Fergusson Millar of Pentiction will conduct both services.

The whole West is awaiting with keenest interest and anticipation the decision of the railway board on the question of western freight rates. The counsel for both sides are arguing the case before the commission this week.

The National Fruit Growers Association (Canada) are convening at Toronto. This organization was largely promoted by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, which is represented at that meeting by two official delegates.

News of a very liberal response to a call from the finance committee of the Baptist Church has come to our ears. The committee are endeavoring to raise $1000 to clear up outstanding liabilities. One of our citizens responded with a cheque of $150.

Mr. W. C. Kelley, who has been lying ill at his residence for some weeks is making slow progress towards recovery. Though very weak after a sharp attack of pleurisy, hopes are entertained that Mr. Kelley's restoration to health is now but a matter of time and care.

The organization meeting of a sporting club was held last night, and arrangements made for December. For that month at least Campbell's Hall will be used, and the club will meet every Thursday evening, beginning next week. Boxing, fencing, and wrestling will be taken up, and all interested are invited to attend.

At a recent meeting of the Farmers' Institute President Hillborn mentioned the Market Grower's Journal as most helpful to those engaged in growing vegetables and small fruits. Clubbed with the Review this paper can be had at a very reasonable price. It is published twice a month. Full particulars upon enquiry.

The twenty-six shareholders in the United Growers, Ltd., representing the various locals are meeting to-day at Vernon. Among other things to be discussed is the utilization of orchard by-products and means and methods for disposing of next year's fruit crop. Messrs. White and Logie, the Summerland members, are attending. A meeting of the directors will be held to-night or to-morrow.

Methodist Church services will be held on Sunday next as follows: morning service at 10.30 will be held in the church and will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. W. Lee. In the afternoon at 3.30 service will be held in the Schoolhouse, Prairie Valley, when Rev. R. W. Lee will speak and the soloist will be Mr. T. G. Boavis. At 7 p.m. Rev. R. W. Lee will preach in St. Andrew's Church, when Miss Ethel Brown will sing.

B.C. Apples Again Win Important Awards.

Hon. J. H. Turner, Agent-General in London for B.C., cabled Sir Rihcard McBride on the 14th November that the biggest awards offered had been won by British Columbia, in open competition at Sheffield and Edinburgh, for display of apples.

Mr. Cunningham, B.C. Fruit Inspector, states that B.C. apples are in big demand, and that 100 carloads could have been sold now, had they been obtainable.

The United States fruit growers filled the orders. B.C. fruit growers and prospective fruit growers, act promptly, and enlarge your orchard plans.

We can supply you with all kinds of fruit tree stock to suit the special climatic conditions of each district.

Our prices for fruit tree stock this year are cheaper by nearly one-half, than heretofore offered to B.C. fruit growers, viz., $8 to $12 per 100; all grown in our own province, such as Jonathan, Spitzenberg, Baldwin, Northern Spy, and more than 20 other choice varieties.

Patronize home production, and make our province the fruit granary of the West.

Don't forget the beautifying of your home plot. In our stock of over $100,000 we can meet the most cultured and aesthetic taste, to make home environments a centre of beauty. Evergreen stock, shade trees, roses, flowering shrubbery, bulbs, flowering plants etc. Catalogues mailed free on application.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Immigration Detention Hospital Building, Vancouver, B.C." will be received at this office until 4.00 p.m. on Monday, December 29, 1913 for the erection of the above named building.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department, at the office of W. Henderson, Esq., Resident Architect, Victoria, B.C.; and on application to Mr. A. J. Chisholm, caretaker, Public Building, Vancouver, B.C.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheques will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order,
 R. C. DESROCHERS,
 Secretary.

December Flower Garden.

The most wonderful weather for early December even in the Southern Okanagan is a matter just now of universal comment and congratulation. The sunny little town as yet has scarcely any outward evidences of winter. Roses and chrysanthemums, and quite a number of summer varieties of flowers are blooming in the gardens. One day this week a beautiful bouquet of red and white roses was gathered in the flower gardens of Mr. Carrol Atkins, and even the frail wild flowers have not disappeared on the rocky roadsides up the hills. The wild aster and Michaelmas daisy, mauve and white, and feathery trails of "Traveller's Joy" (wild clematis) may still be gathered, although there are no leaves left on the trees. The green of the Douglas Fir is still as yet uncontrasted with the gleam of snow.

Return of Mr. J. M. Robinson

Mr. J. M. Robinson, accompanied by Mr. John Firstbrook of Toronto, arrived home at the Hotel Naramata by Sunday night's boat, after his prolonged stay in London, England, and short tour since on this continent. A group of friends and relatives welcomed Mr. Robinson at the Summerland wharf, and he was met by his sons and Naramata friends on this side of the lake.

Mr. Robinson, who expressed his satisfaction at being "home again", has journeyed via Chicago, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Calgary, stopping off at these cities for a short stay.

On Monday morning Mr. J. M. Robinson, accompanied by Mr. Firstbrook, Mr. R. C. Robinson, and Mr. Warrington Strong went out for a twenty mile drive over the railway lines and fruit lands behind Naramata, enjoying a day that was exceptionally mild and genial even for an Okanagan December. Wild flowers are still lingering on the hillsides, and the snow far removed from the line of construction. The party dined at Davenport and Gray's camp, and later returned to the hotel reporting a most delightful day. Mr. Robinson is probably leaving for California on or about December 12th.

Methodist Church Bazaar.

The Naramata Church Bazaar, held on Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the Methodist Church, was a very successful and enjoyable little function. For weeks past practically all the ladies in town have been busy stocking the various stalls with pretty, useful, and very saleable articles, and at the opening all the available population turned up to admire—and buy! The large room was very gaily decorated, the windows curtained with pale pink and pale yellow crepe paper, and flags draping the walls.

An apron stall, candy and cookies, fancy work, underwear and miscellaneous, were all laden with charming goods, and as the day wore on, the stalls were rapidly emptied. At the miscellaneous stall many pretty Christmas gifts were obtainable; the "Apron Stall" was an especially attractive feature, and well patronized, while the most beautiful needlework was for sale at the fancy stall. Tea was served, and later on an excellent supper was obtainable at a moderate sum, which was an inducement for many visitors to remain until the finish.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN.

If you think your town's the best,
 Toll 'em so!
 If you'd have her lead the rest,
 Help her grow.
 When there's anything to do,
 Let the fellows count on you,
 You'll feel bully when it's through,
 Don't you know.

If you want to make a hit,
 Get a name.
 If the other fellow's it,
 Who's to blame?
 Spend your money in your town,
 Thusly keep the prices down;
 Give the mall concerns a frown—
 That's the game!

A week-end visit from Kelowna was paid by Mr. Howard Rounds to his parents at Naramata.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smith on Friday last, November 28th.

Week-end guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wells were Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Watson.

At the Vernon Poultry Show last week Mr. A. H. Mulford took a first prize for cockerel, and a fifth for a pullet.

Mrs. Dempsey of Penticton has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Young, on the benches this week.

Transferred from Messrs. Griffin & Hunt's camp to Kelowna, Mr. Chester Davidson left town on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Clubb of Summerland broke the ferry journey to Penticton, by lunching at the Hotel Naramata.

Captain Languedoc is now nearly off the sick list, and is getting about quite gaily, though not yet able to return to duty.

Recent changes and removals in connection with the construction camps has brought considerable activity into the town.

Spending the week-end at Penticton, travelling by the S.S. "Okanagan," Mr. G. Eckstrom reports an excellent time in the lake-end "city."

Some folks evidently have been having their photograph taken for Christmas cards, for we have noticed Mr. Rowley landing here with his portrait camera.

The Syndica House has been very full during the past week, and some two hundred men from the railway construction camps have been passing through it.

A Whist Drive will be given at the Unity Club next Monday evening, December 8th, by Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Languedoc, and the proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Club.

The Okanagan Lake Boat Company is arranging a special day trip to Penticton soon for the advantage of Naramata residents who would like to spend a whole afternoon for social and business purposes in that town.

A dance will be held to-night by the Unity Club at the Hotel Naramata. We are asked to state that refreshments will be included in the price of tickets, and that a special trip will be made by the ferry for guests from Summerland.

Dr. W. Robinson went down to Penticton in the "Okanagan" on Monday night in company with Dr. Ker, the medical officer in charge of the hospital work for the K.V.R. Both returned to Naramata on Tuesday morning's boat.

After a most enjoyable trip to Kamloops Miss Blanchard has returned to her duties at the Hotel Naramata. Miss Blanchard found it snowing heavily and very cold at Kamloops, and came back from a world of winter to find fall still lingering in the Valley.

Among the guests at the Hotel Naramata this week were Sister Justina and Sister Cordone from the Catholic Orphanage and Home at New Westminster. The two sisters have been collecting for the benefit of the Orphanage, and have received some generous contributions from the workers at the camps.

It is with great regret that we hear that Mr. P. S. Roe has had an accident to his injured foot. Mr. Roe had cast aside his crutches and was perhaps not as careful as he should have been, and in helping last Friday night with the unloading of a scow, slipped and again injured the scarcely set bones of his foot. With a little care and rest he hopes soon to be about again.

Construction work still goes on very ardently in connection with the K.V.R. Mr. E. H. Johnson, of Grant Smith & Co., is spending a good deal of time at Penticton just now supervising timber work, and the report from most of the camps is that the open weather has everything to do with the splendid progress being made as late as the first week in December.

A Notable Thanksgiving Dinner.

Universally voted as the most successful and delightful entertainment of the season was the lavishly hospitable Thanksgiving Dinner given by Mr. Pete Stewart at Davenport & Gray's camp on the American Thanksgiving Day last week. A party of eighteen, of whom thirteen were gentlemen and the remaining five were ladies, from Naramata, including Mrs. Jack Logie, the Misses Baker, and Mrs. Brons, drove up to the camp to enjoy a menu that would have done credit to Delmonico's, and an excellent program of gramophone music.

The mess-house was gaily decorated with flags that well suggested an international entente cordiale—the Stars and Stripes on the walls, and the table decorated with the Canadian flag and the Union Jack. The menu was carried out by cooks who might well qualify as chefs, and included such delicacies as Saddle Rock Oyster Soup, "Local Barnyard Turkey," Queen Olives, "Ham Cured Halibut a la Creme," "Oyster Stuffey Cranberry," and a wonderful collection of rich cakes decorated with the Canadian flags in miniature was included in the dessert. It may perhaps be mentioned that "Mum's Dry" figured not inconspicuously on the wine list.

The Naramata guests drove and rode home, expressing themselves delighted with what was certainly an evening typical of the hospitality of the Last Best West.

Mrs. Elliott of Kelowna has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Jas. Hayward, this week.

After a very pleasant summer visit to Naramata Mr. and Mrs. McSwain have returned to their home in Prince Edward Island.

Passengers to Penticton on Monday afternoon ferry were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Burnett, Mrs. F. C. and Mrs. M. D. Manchester and Miss Mason.

A prolonged stay of six months or probably a year will be made by Mrs. Raymond and her daughter to Mrs. Hans Saiting, a daughter of Mrs. Raymond.

The engineering camp of Mr. Burnett having completed one task, has now gone on to Engineer Prowse's, which is near Gilbert Brandt's, number one camp.

Miss Etta Johnson, who has been the guest of Mrs. F. J. Young for some months, has now returned to her home in South Edmonton, Alberta, after enjoying a delightful Naramata summer.

Mr. J. M. Schreck, the expert in bird life and natural history, was around with his camera on Tuesday, and after lunching at the hotel, secured some snapshots in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, assisted by her daughter Violet, was the hostess at the Unity Club's Friday afternoon meeting, and tea was poured out by Mrs. Julius Block. The hostesses for Friday, Dec. 12, are Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Noyes. These afternoon meetings are fixed for 2.30 in future.

There is to be festivity at the Syndica next week. The twentieth anniversary of their wedding day, December 9th, is to be celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Roe next Tuesday. Invitations are being sent out to all their friends to come and rejoice with them at Syndica House. We add our congratulations and wishes for years of health and happiness yet to come, to those of Mr. and Mrs. Roe's many friends.

Tea parties around a blazing fire of pine logs are exceedingly pleasant little festivities for a December afternoon. On Tuesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Atkins, Mrs. Burnett, Miss L. V. Mills, Mrs. Schacht, Mrs. Languedoc, and Dr. W. Robinson discussed tea and toast and the merits of fortunes in the teneups, in the rotunda of the Hotel Naramata. The two or three babies present slumbered peacefully in the firelight and completed the fireside picture by their presence.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon
Territory, the North-west Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.
Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal
mined and pay the royalty thereon.
If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.
The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10
an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any agent
or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

three years. This fund would have been considerably increased at November 30.
That he was confident of being able to refund practically half of the charges at the end of the shipping season was heard with both satisfaction and surprise, as was Mr. Robertson's further remark that he did not believe that the cost of marketing through the Central would exceed 5 per cent, which was below the average on this continent.

His straightforward, unreserved treatment of the business, his readiness to admit error, and his suggestion of practical remedies for mistakes made this season, delighted the local shareholders and confirmed their reasons for the exceptional confidence which is placed by them in Manager Robertson.
That there must be more care in picking, in packing, and in inspection was nicely emphasized in a few remarks built on an appropriate text he had picked up at Spokane a few days ago. "Real co-operation, a test of civilization." This, Mr.
Robertson said, contained a great altruism, which we must recognize.
He complimented the people of Summerland for the spirit shown in this movement, and the general lack of fault-finding and readiness to co-operate.

POOLING PROBLEM.

Mr. Robertson went quite fully into the question of pooling, which is perhaps the most serious problem before the organization. For this, too, he proposed a plan which had every appearance of being a vast improvement over the system now in general use. The practice of buyers frequently deducting sums, some small, some large, from invoice totals had given much annoyance. Allowances have been taken that should not have been,
and will never be taken again.
He had entered into an arrangement at the first of the season and had lived up to it. The buyers had not. "Next year they will pay before they get their hands on a car, and any adjustments will be from our end." These heavy allowances that were demanded this year had materially reduced the selling price.

WASHINGTON PRICES.

That growers in B.C. had little of which to complain was shown by figures obtained by Mr. Robertson while attending the Spokane Show.
Last August Yakima sold thousands of boxes of peaches at 38.1 cents gross, from which all charges were deducted. Hundreds of cars were later sold from 30 to 25 cents gross, and thousands of peach trees

One of those present criticized the Central for not keeping growers informed on market prices. Mr.
Robertson declared that this year the Central had not had the human capacity to hand out information to which the growers were entitled.
He hoped that next year it would be possible to keep them better informed.

The Central this year shipped 5 cars of McIntosh Reds to Montreal, and Eastern Canada will want at least 20 cars of this one variety next year.

That something should be done to prohibit importation into Canada or from one province into another, of fruit infected with codling moth and San Jose scale, was the declaration of Mr. Robertson in some remarks on imported fruit. One box of this fruit had come into Vernon literally alive with moth larvae, and the scale could be scraped off
the fruit with a knife.

OKANAGAN vs.
WASHINGTON.

That the co-operative movement is here to stay was the emphatic declaration of the speaker. "Nothing can stop it." And he is not afraid of the future, but he expressed himself as a little afraid of going too fast. All our provinces are studying co-operation in its many forms including financial assistance. Our people are just beginning to realize that this province and its resources are ours to use, and to use together. Five or ten years hence will witness a marvellous change.

Mr. Robertson had just returned from a visit to Washington and had words of encouragement for some of our growers who are disposed to grumble. Much is heard of the districts of Wenatchee and Yakima, but the speaker declared that he would not give the Okanagan Valley for the whole State of Washington if he had to live there.
Our growers know nothing of the obstacles and discouragements confronting the Washington grower.
To use a rather vulgar expression he said the famous districts of that state were lousy with codling moth, and he urged that the orchards of B.C. be carefully protected.

J. M. ROBINSON REVIEWS ENGLISH MARKETS.

Early in the evening Chairman White had extended a greeting to Mr. J. M. Robinson who was present, and at the close of Mr. Robertson's address, though the hour was late, Mr. Robinson was listened to with the closest attention for some time. He gave words of appreciation of Mr. Robertson's work and expressed confidence in the co-operative movement.
Though absent from the Valley for many months, Mr. Robinson had been active in its interests.
He gave a very interesting account of an investigation he had made of the methods of the Covent Garden market and why better prices had not been obtained there for Summerland fruit last year.
He pronounced that market to be in the hands of wealthy Jews, and that their auctions were a farce.
Of even more interest was a proposition described by Mr. Robinson for obtaining a foothold in the English market in co-operation with New Zealand and Australia, and for the preserving of soft fruits in natural condition for sale over-seas.

Rebels Swarm Over Federal Trenches.

Among the chief bones of contention in the Mexican situation are the valuable oil fields there, which are among the richest in the world, and upon which the rebels are slowly closing in. General Huerta is filled with rage at the defeat of his Federal generals in the north, and has threatened to court-martial them. If the rebels keep advancing on the oil property, and he court-martials the responsible Generals, he will not have many Generals left to do his fighting.

The above photograph shows the rebels advancing and sweeping over the breastworks behind which the Federal trenches lie.

REV. F. W. PATTISON'S FAREWELL SERVICES.

The valedictory services in the Baptist churches here on Sunday last, when Rev. Frank W. Pattison concluded his ministry as pastor, will always be memorable in the local church history. Both at the West church in the morning, and at the lakefront in the afternoon, unusually large and appreciative audiences faced Mr. Pattison, who gave his people farewell messages of strength and helpful encouragement. At the afternoon service the ordinance of baptism was administered to six candidates, and at the united communion service which followed, nine others were received into church membership.

At the conclusion of this service, Mr. and Mrs. Pattison were made recipients of an inscribed address, which was read and presented by Mr. T. N. Ritchie. This address was couched in terms of the warmest estimation, and to it were appended the signatures of the advisory board of the church. Mr. Pattison made suitable acknowledgment. One short sentence sums up the spirit in which the church made this simple presentation to its late pastor: "In omnibus fidelis"—in all things faithful—"we esteem you."

Mr. Pattison's ministry has extended over three years, during which time he has led the activities of the church to a high water mark. He has won for himself also great estimation in the eyes of the community generally. During the past few months Mrs. Pattison has been a faithful coadjutor to her husband, and those who have met the charm of her Christian personality feel keenly the severance of such a friendship.

Mr. and Mrs. Pattison went out on Monday morning's boat bound for the Eastern States, where they will spend the Christmas season. They are sailing for their new sphere of work in London, England, on the 26th inst. Many friends were at the wharf on Monday morning, and as the boat pulled out, the feelings of the college students, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Pattison had formed a thorough and sympathetic intimacy, found voice in hearty cheers and a college yell.

Have You Applied?

The Summerland Telephone Company representatives are now receiving applications for the installation of telephones, official application forms now being in their possession, a duplicate of which is left with the subscriber.

It is the purpose of the directors to instal instruments in the order in which the applications are received so that the earlier the application is in the quicker the service will be begun. Only a limited number of phones were ordered, and it now seems probable that the supply will be exhausted before all intending subscribers are supplied, making it necessary, for a few at least, to wait for the arrival of another shipment.

The only things that matter are the things that last.

Council of 1913 Winding Up Business.

Final Session on 23rd inst.

The regular monthly meeting of the Council held on Tuesday morning last was decorous and not protracted. The present Council will hold but one more session, and consequently at Tuesday's meeting efforts were made to leave such matters as could not be given final disposition in such stages that the incoming Council could readily take up the threads.

All the councillors were present when the minutes of the last meeting were read and declared approved by the Reeve.

COMMUNICATIONS.

The Clerk then read the communications.

R. S. Monro drew the attention of the Council to the bad condition of the Peach Valley road near Alkali Flat. He pointed out that procrastination would mean increased cost of repair. Later in the morning the Superintendent reported that work had been done on this stretch of road since Mr. Monro had written.

O. F. Zimmerman of Trout Creek sent a letter of protest against the seeming inaction of the Council in improving conditions in that district. Irrigation water had been as scanty this season as in former years, and the loss he had sustained from this cause and from the bad roads over which he had to haul his produce amounted to several hundred dollars. In previous years he had been prompt in the payment of his rates, but at this time he felt justified in withholding payment until he could be given a guarantee that there would be improvements for next year.

Coun. Lewes will confer with Mr. Zimmerman regarding his grievances.

The request of A. G. Campbell from London, England, claiming discount on his water rates because of delays in the notification of the amount reaching him, was granted.

Wm. Weaver informed the Council that he had no use for irrigation water on his lot on the east slope of college hill, and asked for a rebate of the charge.

RESIGNATION OF SUPT. MITCHELL.

J. J. Mitchell, Municipal Superintendent, tendered his resignation, to date from the 31st inst. Upon representation from the Council, Mr. Mitchell consented to extend this date one month, not desiring that the incoming body be inconvenienced. Accordingly Mr. Mitchell's resignation will not take effect until the 31st prox.

E. B. May, of the Bank of Montreal, wrote the Council regarding the advances made by his institution on current rates and taxes. Mr. May quoted instructions from superiors that may mean a curtailment of past financial assistance. The letter was filed.

Jas. Ritchie applied for water and light for the new skating rink on the College Campus. Later Mr. Roas Rae, who has been constructing the rink, supported the application in person. Water will be supplied to the rink at a flat rate of $5 per month for a season of three months. The application for light was not entertained. The feeling was that not only would the installation of another transformer be necessitated, but other regular users of the current might suffer.

Applications for electric light from the Summerland Telephone Company in their exchange building, and F. J. Nixon, for his new residence, were considered and held over.

J. A. Kirk, surveyor, submitted a report on the Hespeler road difficulty in Prairie Valley. This matter will still be in abeyance pending communication with the Land Registry Office.

Constable E. C. Graham submitted his monthly report which was filed.

DELINQUENT RATES, TAXES & TRADE LICENSES.

F. J. Nixon, Collector of Taxes, submitted a list of rates and taxes past due, and asked for instructions regarding their collection. Motions have been passed in former years recommending the discontinuance of the domestic water and electric light services to delinquents, but this had never been carried out, definite instructions to the Collector being wanting.

The question provoked considerable discussion. Councillors Lewes and Dunston favored enforcement if any reasonable arrangement for payment could not be reached. This course was not favored by Councillors Robinson and Dale, however, who advised against the adoption of drastic measures which would work hardship in cases of genuine inability to pay. In this the Reeve concurred. Eventually the matter was left over.

Trade License By-law, No. 40, was given its final reading and passed, Coun. Dunston voting nay. This by-law provides a graduated scale of nominal charges, due half yearly, for business concerns carried on within the municipal limits. Mr. Nixon reported that no collections had been made for the current half year on account of the indefinite trade license enactments. No action was taken regarding the collection of overdue license fees.

COMPLAINTS FROM TROUT CREEK.

L. R. C. Douglas Hamilton, who owns property near the extreme end of the south main, waited upon the Council to complain emphatically of the shortage of irrigation water he had suffered during the past season. He pointed out the injustice which fell on lot holders on the Lower Rates For Okanagan Fruits

Proposal Made by Supt. Stout to B.C. Growers.

Concessions offered by Superintendent Stout of the Dominion Express Company in the way of lower rates on express carloads of soft fruit are to be laid before the executive of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Assoc. at a meeting to be held in Victoria on Dec. 15.

Messrs. R. M. Winslow, secretary of the association and provincial horticulturist, and W. C. Ricardo of Vernon, have just returned to the province from attending the sessions of the National Fruit Growers' Association of Canada in Toronto. While in the East they met Mr. Stout and pointed out to him that a number of Ontario fruit shippers enjoyed a special rate for the shipment of soft fruits by carload express. Mr. Stout, it is said, offered to give British Columbia fruit men similar rates.

The British Columbia representatives met Hon. Martin Burrell and discussed with him a number of questions relating to the fruit growing industry.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The usual monthly meeting of Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church which was held at the residence of Mrs. D. H. Watson on Thursday afternoon had an added interest in the presence of the District Organizer, Mrs. J. W. Jones of Kelowna, who read the report of the October convention held in Vernon. The report was a brightly written and exceedingly interesting paper, and was received by the ladies present most enthusiastically. The gathering which took the form of a very pleasant drawing room meeting, and presided over by the hostess, Mrs. D. H. Watson, was well attended. After the usual business had been transacted, the ladies enjoyed a dainty tea and a pleasant little social time. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. Jones.

MOCK PARLIAMENT.

The attendance at the first session of the Mock Parliament on Friday evening last was somewhat disappointing. This social enterprise is being launched by the St. Andrew's Society, but membership is not restricted to that society. Meetings are held in the Campbell Hall, every alternate Friday. Lack of knowledge of parliamentary procedure need not prevent anyone from feeling free to participate. Some preliminary steps were taken at last Friday's meeting, and the matter has been left in the hands of Rev. C. H. Daly and Prof. D. H. McIntosh. The next session will be in charge of the College Lyceum. Owing to the approaching Christmas holidays it has been decided to hold the meeting on Wednesday evening, December 17th, at eight o'clock. The Land Reform Bill of Chancellor W. Lloyd George will be under discussion.

The public are cordially invited to be present.

GEORGE H. VAN HISE.

We very much regret to record the death of Mr. George H. Van Hise, which took place at the Kelowna Hospital, on Saturday last, following an operation which was performed on Thursday. Mr. Van Hise made a good recovery from the anæsthetic, but succumbed as a result of shock late on Saturday. The interment took place at Peachland on Monday last.

Mr. Van Hise, who was fifty-four years of age, has been a much respected resident of the district for the past ten or eleven years, and a brother, Mr. W. E. Van Hise is also a property holder in the neighborhood. Another brother, Mr. Charles R. Van Hise, is the President of the University of Wisconsin. The deceased gentleman also leaves three sisters to mourn his loss. Much sympathy is expressed with the widow, Mrs. Van Hise, in her sad bereavement, and also with Mrs. J. W. S. Logie, on the loss of a step-father to whom she was much attached.

Canadian Order of Foresters.

For the past two years Court Summerland (No. 1053) has been practically dormant, but is now alive and flourishing again. Organizer Bro. Rand came into town early in the week and shook the old Court from stem to stern. He brought in some sixteen applicants, of whom fifteen were initiated at the meeting held in Elliott's Hall on Wednesday night, after which the election of officers took place as follows:

C. R.	Bro. W. C. W. Fosbery.
V. C. R.	Jas. O. Smith.
Fin. Sec.	H. Kennard.
Rec. Sec.	J. N. Merrill.
Treas.	Geo. Anderson.
Chap.	J. Steuart.
S. W.	J. J. Mitchell.
J. W.	E. R. Butler.
S. B.	R. J. Milne.
J. B.	Alex. Smith.
Phys.	Dr. F. W. Andrew.
Aud.	T. G. Beavis.
Trus.	J. J. Mitchell.
	W. C. W. Fosbery.
	F. W. Andrew.

The Organizer then proceeded with installation of officers.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Bro. Rand for his good work in securing such a number of new members for the court.

The court then closed to meet again the first Wednesday in January.

Basketball Season Opens.

Town versus College.

The first basketball match of the season came off on Thursday night at the Men's Club Gymnasium, and the pitted forces of the College and Town teams brought together a big and enthusiastic crowd. Penticon and Naramata contributing a considerable force of very interested spectators.

The gymnasium was full to its utmost capacity—or rather more—and amid the din of megaphones, College yells of the one side, and the ringing of team bells and stentorian roaring of the townsmen, a capital game was played. Play was rapid and straightforward, and a very close game was fought right to the finish with tremendous energy. Both teams naturally showed a little lack of practice, and force rather than team play was somewhat marked. Town did splendidly, and the club looks forward to a most successful season, so excellent an opening being a great encouragement. Though College was the victor, the scoring of 8-11 evidenced a very fine struggle. The boys from the hilltop have a strong fast combination, and their quintette will not be easily vanquished.

No Asiatics.

At last week's meeting of the shareholders of the Okanagan United Growers Ltd., a resolution was prepared to be presented to the government showing that the growers are opposed to the ownership or leasing of land in B.C. by Asiatics. This resolution was unanimously supported by shareholders from this end of the Valley.

Next Thursday afternoon, December 18th, the Summerland Supply Store will not close for the usual half holiday, but will remain open for the benefit of Christmas shoppers. From that date until Christmas also the store will be open every evening.

Okanagan United Growers, Limited

Hold Special Meeting Outlook Bright

Among the matters dealt with at the meeting of the shareholders of the Okanagan United Growers Ltd., held on Friday last at Vernon, was the size and shape of the apple box, and after careful consideration they decided to adopt the so-called Washington box, measuring 18 x 11 1/2 x 10 1/2 inside, capacity 217 3/4 cubic inches. The box at present used is 20 x 11 x 10, 2200 cubic inches, and is the legal box for export.

It is the intention of the Growers to apply for legislation to make their newly adopted box legal. Some reasons for the change are that the trade is familiar with and like the American box. Being shorter and stouter it is stiffer and stronger. Shooks for making this box are nearer those used in peach and other boxes, and it is the aim to make these as uniform as possible, as with shooks of uniform size the cost would be reduced and uniformity of box would facilitate in loading of cars.

The C.P.R. had offered to build a warehouse and office for the Growers, either at Vernon or at the Landing. Vernon was favored by the shareholders from the southern lake points. These men claimed that it was necessary that soft fruits and mixed carload lots from the South Okanagan be assembled and dispatched from this end. For the purpose of discussing the better handling and shipping of soft fruits it is proposed to have a conference of directors and managers of the Unions of Summerland, Peachland and Penticon. This conference will be held shortly.

The manager's office reported carload shipments to November 30th as follows: fruit 536; vegetables 354; hay 51; with 200 to 250 carloads of fruit and vegetables, and about 100 cars of hay yet to be shipped.

The Central office expects to have the year's business all wound up by the end of this month, and practically all the receipts will be in the hands of the growers or at least with the locals ready for distribution. The end of the fiscal year of the Union was fixed at the end of the calendar year.

Future policy was given much attention at the shareholders' meeting, and the future on the whole looks very hopeful. There are some huge problems to be wrestled with, but while it is not wise to publish the plans at present it is stated that there are good prospects for the coming year.

SPECIAL SERVICES CONCLUDE.

The special evangelistic services at the Presbyterian Church will be concluded to-night (Friday). Rev. F. Millar of Penticon, and Rev. C. H. Daly, exchanged pulpits on Sunday last, and Mr. Millar was assisting at St. Andrew's Church at the beginning of the week. Mr. David Lister came in on Monday evening, and has also been taking part in the services. The theological students of the College conducted the meeting on Wednesday. On this evening the week-night service of the Baptist Church was withdrawn, and an inspiring united service gathering was held. The meetings all through the two weeks have been well attended, and bright music with earnest speaking have combined to make the services helpful and encouraging.

Some Tricks Of The Trade

Interesting Report On Marketing Conditions in Great Britain.

Result of Investigation by J. S. Gillespie, Commissioned by J. M. Robinson.

The following report covers my investigations during the winter of 1912-13 and, the fall of 1913, of the market conditions obtaining in England for Okanagan fruit (chiefly apples), and the possibility of securing a permanent profitable market for a portion of our best fruit both fresh and canned.

During my stay in London in December 1912, January and February of 1913 as a Canadian farmer delegate, I was most fortunately placed in connection with the British Columbia Fruit Exhibition in the window of the Canadian Emigration Department at 11-12 Charing Cross, and came in contact with many people engaged in the fruit business; first with those in retail lines inquiring where fruit could be bought for re-sale, and later through my own efforts with those in wholesale and commission lines, and found the difference in price paid to our growers and that paid by the consumer to be out of all proportion to what should obtain provided business-like methods were employed by our growers assisted by our governments both Dominion and provincial.

Other Dominions and Commonwealths of the empire have realized perhaps to a greater extent the necessity of this assistance, and I intend to show what South Australia has done for her settlers and producers in this direction.

It may be argued that there is a market for all our British Columbia products at home without shipping to England, and while this may be true, yet there is the other argument that the best possible publicity as to the desirability of any country as a place of residence and future homes is to show what it produces superior to or equal to what is produced elsewhere. No better indication of the climate, soil, and people of a country can be found than in its products. It is the final test and proof necessary to induce other settlers to emigrate, knowing they can do what others of their countrymen who have preceded them are doing.

In order to make the lesson "sink in" it must be given year after year, and not spasmodically by exhibition of a carload of fancy apples or other produce—the people want a chance to purchase and sample our fruit at a fair, not a fancy price, as has been the case when a few small shipments have been offered in the London market.

In such cases growers got little over the cost of production, plus freight, and the consumer had to pay generally twice, and in some instances three times, the price paid to the grower. B.C. apples were sold in Covent Garden market, December 1912 for from 6s. 6d. ($1.50) to 8s. 6d. ($2) per box, according to variety, and this fruit was actually sold in the London fruit stores within 48 hours at from 10s. 6d. ($2.50) to 18s. 6d. ($4.50) per box.

Some of these apples reached Glasgow, and I found the price per box there at Christmas time one guinea ($5), or 8d. per pound, equal to $6.50 per box.

Our growers would be very well satisfied to receive from $1.50 to $2 per box f.o.b. point of shipment, add $1 actual freight per box and the price is $2.50 to $3 per box f.o.b. London, and with proper marketing and distributing facilities the consumer should purchase at $1 increase, or from $3.50 to $4 (14s. 6d. to 16s. 6d.) per box. These prices are below that generally obtained for English grown fancy fruit, which is generally sold poorly packed at from 12s. 6d. ($3) to 16s. 6d. ($4) per bus., and at 4d., 6d., and even 8d. per lb.; this works out at from $3.20 to $4.80, and $6.40 per 40 lb. box or bushel.

MARKETING.—This phase of the question has been very carefully investigated since my return to England September 1st, and I have come to the conclusion that the only successful way to open up a steady reliable market for our growers and producers in any line is to have a representative operate in the markets. In no other way is it possible to get absolutely the market price and make the commission men and dealers realize that they have to play the game straight or be blacklisted and barred from handling the products we have to offer. This does not bar the individual grower from doing business direct with the dealer if he prefers, but it does ensure him getting a square deal because the representative's reports of prices actually received for what he had to offer are recorded and reported back to the producers, in some cases cabled daily where the shipments are considerable or important, and always weekly being confirmed by letter giving full details of market conditions. It will be obvious that these operations are a check on prices and on the honesty of the dealer doing business with the individual grower or shipper, and the entry to the market is obtained and ensured for authentic information as to prices, regardless of whether or not produce is being offered for sale. The dealer from whom quotations are solicited does not know but that he may be taken at his word, if the prices are artificially inflated for purposes of securing increased shipments.

FARMERS BOYCOTT MAIL ORDER HOUSES.

It is stated on good authority that there will be an effort made by the merchants and farmers in Alberta to stop trade with the mail order houses at Winnipeg and other parts of the Dominion. The News-Telegram has been given to understand that a resolution will likely be brought before the convention of the U.F.A., to be held at Lethbridge next week, strongly urging the farmers of Alberta to trade with the merchants of their own districts, town or city, and not order a single article from the mail order house.

PAY FOR YOUR PULLMAN.

On account of the recent decision given out by the Railway Commission in respect to a Salvation Army Officer travelling on a tourist car with a first class ticket, the C.P.R. officials say that the decision has been misunderstood, and that no passengers are allowed to travel on any Pullman or Tourist car with a first-class ticket, without paying additional amount as required by their schedule.

Maps to assist pro-emptors are being issued by the Lands Department. These show colored areas that are open to settlers as well as lands already taken. These maps show Northern British Columbia, where the movement of settlers is now heavier than elsewhere in the province.

Farm Accountancy.

A series of articles on Agricultural Book-keeping, written for the Review by Walter Wright, Commercial Instructor, Okanagan College.

We have seen what part our Capital Account must play in Book-keeping; we have seen what place the gains take; where the gains come from; how to segregate cost from gains, and several ways of computing cost fairly accurately. Now we want to look at the losses and depreciation of values.

When any account at the end of the season shows a loss the proper thing to do is to find out what causes the loss. Suppose it is a field crop that has not paid. Do not discontinue the growing of the crop simply because it has not paid. Find out the cause of the loss. It may be that one particular thing is causing this deficit. One of the reasons, and one of the main reasons, why we keep accounts is to find out if every crop is paying. In an account any item that is over large, or keeps recurring too often, intrudes itself upon our notice, and then we can get at that item and see if we can put it out of the way, or reduce it so that it will permit us to show a gain. Losses are a good thing where one is keeping accounts, they tend to make good farmers better farmers, for they check up our methods and force us to improve where improvement is possible.

The treatment of the depreciation of capital is as different by accountants as pruning is by orchardists. Like pruning, one thing they all agree upon is that it should be reckoned with. A rule is used that is best explained by an example, for treating such depreciation as loss by fire, etc. Suppose a farmer has a splendid horse, he has charged it up against his capital, where it rightly belongs. This horse dies. In his capital account it had appeared at a value of $400. He buys a new one at $350; then arises the question shall he leave the $400 in the capital and add the $350? Certainly not. The $400 is lost; take it out and replace it by the new $350. The same applies to machinery. A new machine bought to replace the old one should be put in the capital, and if the old one is a complete loss take it from the capital.

In some businesses a depreciation of capital is allowed for by taking off a certain percentage of the amount shown at the end of the season. That is better than nothing, certainly, but not what it should be. One hour on most farms would permit of a thorough analysis of the account, and a very accurate placing of the cuts for depreciation. Treatment of depreciation presents a different proposition from the treatment of loss. Take for instance fences and flumes—two cases where capital depreciates very rapidly. Here fences go down very quickly on account of the dry ground, and 20 per cent. per annum will not meet the demands, 33 and one-third per cent. would be nearer. Flumes do not go so rapidly. Here we have two examples that show the lack there is in the 20 per cent. method. Perhaps an account kept with such portions of capital as fencing and flumes, etc., would show where a saving could be made, and would certainly show the proprietor how much he must allow for depreciation on like parts of his capital.

With these parts of capital account such as fences, etc., (where the proprietor keeps everything repaired) his capital account would not change. Then comes the question how are we to treat this case. For instance, we say a farm fence was put up for $100. In two years it is thoroughly overhauled and left as efficient as new, at an outlay of $25. The fence is worth no more than it was, hence we can't increase the capital, but it is worth no less, and we cannot decrease the capital; what is to be done? The $25 is an expense, and we must charge it up as a loss. These general principles should be sufficient to guide us in treating almost any farm loss or depreciation.

Afloat Money.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Sir: I have decided to request you to devote some of the valuable space in your paper to publishing, for the advantage of the Summerland business community, some remarks by Sir H. V. Meredith on the probable financial outlook of the future, which he put forward on the occasion of the last annual meeting of the Bank of Montreal. I consider a careful study of them will serve to explain many of the whys and wherefores that must often come to the minds of our business people; in fact, a well-known Vancouver paper says in regard to them—

"It is strongly hoped that the trenchant comment of Mr. H. V. Meredith, of the Bank of Montreal, on the occasion of the annual meeting of that institution the other day will be pondered carefully by the business community of the entire Dominion. After a general review of the affairs of the Bank and a careful statement of the condition of the Dominion by provinces, he strongly recommends to the business man a policy of retrenchment in everything that savors of a speculative nature. This involves not only retrenchment in speculation, such as land, from which hardly any nook or cranny of the Dominion has been exempt; stocks, new enterprises that will require years to bring to a paying basis, and those not warranted in the circumstances; but all forms of speculation that have been so rampant in business itself during the period of the present forward march. Merchants, jobbers, retailers, manufacturers, have all over-bought or over-manufactured in order to keep abreast with the business demands. It has become a habit to view increased business too much as a matter of course. This policy has in the vast majority of instances been fully warranted.

"The consequence has been that many small farms have grown to enormous size in a very few years, and many concerns have started and enjoyed great prosperity. The banks have aided this growth with great liberality, and, in fact, with considerable prodigality. The danger to the business community is manifest. At the first tightening of the purse strings of credit the business man feels the pinch. All over the new country, which has experienced this rapid growth, the merchant has been found to be doing too much business for the amount of capital in the business. The situation has been intensified by the ready speculation of the merchant. Since the merchant could obtain such a large amount of credit from the bank, he was also too liberal with the credit he extended to his customers. When settlement day drew near as it did last fall, the trouble commenced. Collections were found to be slow, outstanding accounts were found to be out of all proportions to the line of credit to which the customer was entitled, and a variety of abuses were patent in the warp and woof of business. Great pressure has been brought to bear to reduce these accounts, and on new goods bought a much shorter time was allowed for settlement.

"Weaknesses have developed as was expected. The weaker firms were assisted so long as they showed any prospect of being brought into the safe and sane zone, and others were wound up. Many merchants reputed to be wealthy found a considerable slice must be lopped off. More experienced difficulty in meeting the shortened credits and still carry their customers. The effort to convert, really into cash resulted in a depression in real estate, and a still further shrinkage in the merchant's wealth. So the process is continuing. While failures and commercial troubles have been larger than in past years it is remarkable that more serious results did not follow, which is really high testimony to the adroitness of the bank managers and the business acumen of the average merchant.

"However—and this is the warning that Mr. Meredith seeks to impress on the business community—the money stringency of last fall, which has operated with more or less rigor all year is not a temporary contingency as was confidently expected; but so far as can safely be seen ahead, a permanent condition for the next few years. The clearest answer and the quickest way to bring business back to its former condition of prosperity, is for a thorough and wholesale liquidation in business, and a stop to all forms of speculation, with a retrenchment in business methods."

Yours truly,
 E. B. MAY.

Canada took first honors at the Chicago International Livestock Show the past week, a Brandon steer being given the blue ribbon as grand champion of the show. James McGregor, owner, also won this prize last year. British Columbia horses took honors in competition with a strong showing, defeating entries by both Armour and Swift, the Chicago packers. The show this year is said by experts to have included the largest and best entries ever gathered at any livestock competition.

A new bulletin is now available at the Forestry Branch, Ottawa, describing some simple and inexpensive methods of preserving fence-posts from decay. It has been found that the generous application of hot creosote to well-seasoned posts stripped of bark, even when only painted on with a brush, will add at least ten years to the life of the least durable woods. Many common Canadian woods which hitherto decayed too rapidly to be so used are thus made available for fence-posts. The saving in first cost and transportation more than balances the cost of treatment, while the cost of placing the post will be much less when considered as an annual charge.

There are now twenty-seven technically trained foresters in the permanent employ of the Dominion Forestry Branch.

Ventilation of Stored Fruit

As fruit-raising is limited to a few regions enjoying favorable climatic conditions, the widespread consumption of its perishable product is regulated by the efficiency of transportation and storage facilities. If fruit can be put on a distant market in the best conditions, its excellence creates an enlarged demand. If it can be stored for any length of time without deterioration, the season is lengthened to just that extent. While recent progress in the art of cold storage has been the biggest factor in the upbuilding of large centralized fruit industries, the frequency of carloads spoiled in transportation indicates that there is still room for improvement in the present methods of packing, loading, and car refrigeration.

Recent scientific investigations on the subject emphasize more than ever the necessity for ventilation at all times for mature fruit in transportation or in storage. Carloads of peaches leaving the point of shipment in first-class condition, well-packed, with individual wrappers, and loaded on board with air space around each box, have been known to suffer seriously in comparatively few hours in an iced car at 45 degrees. When fruit deteriorates rapidly in refrigerator cars the damage is usually most marked in the top tiers, especially in the centre of the car.

A study of the physiological changes that occur in ripe fruit will aid in realizing the importance of ventilation. All plant and animal life breathes, taking in air or oxygen and giving off carbon dioxide, an inert gas. This process of respiration is carried on by ripe and ripening fruits as well as by the leaves, with this difference, matured fruit will continue to give off carbon dioxide long after it has ceased to absorb oxygen. The practical application of this scientific truth is that in a sealed refrigerator car the fruit will soon use up the pure air and fill the enclosed space up with the excreted gas. In a few hours when all the oxygen in the car is used up, an unnatural physiological action called anaerobic respiration, (breathing without air) begins. This results in several important tissue changes.

In any kind of breathing oxygen is required. If this is not supplied by the outside air, the fruit takes it up from its own body cells; feeding on itself, as it were. This brings about changes that result in a general breakdown in texture so that when the fruit reaches the grocery store and becomes warmed to the street temperature, a rapid softening occurs. In the case of peaches the fruit may appear first-class, but is brown in flesh underneath the normal skin, tasteless and mushy. Among dealers fruit of this kind is said to be affected with ice-scald. Cherries and bananas are also species that suffer considerably from anaerobic respiration. Some fruits like apples lose their beautiful red color and become bleached by the inert gases.

Besides the destruction of texture, anaerobic respiration frequently produces alcoholic fermentation within the fruit. Of all the fruit experimented with this is most noticeable in the case of cherries. When fruit is allowed to ripen in pure air, any alcohol that may be formed is converted into volatile oils. These oils are the source of the distinctive flavor and aroma associated with fruits, and are not produced when the ripening is checked by the accumulation of carbon dioxide. Hence poorly ventilated fruit may have the snappy, sharp, taste of alcohol or be bitter and repugnant because of other chemical changes set up.

The scientific researches which pointed out the loss in texture, flavor and aroma of ripe fruit from anaerobic respiration, also reveals the fact that green peaches may be kept considerably longer than in air. In all the green fruit there is a stiff gummy constituent called pectose, which makes the cells turgid and the fruit hard. In the sunlight and air this is changed into thin jelly, soluble in the cell sap. Green fruit does not respire readily without oxygen, and hence anaerobic respiration checks all the processes of life, including the transformation of pectose. When put in fresh air again respiration slowly comes back to normal, and ripening takes place. If some gas may be found which will retard these life processes and still not destroy the flavor, the fruit may be picked greener, transported and then ripened.

The practical upshot of the scientific investigation is that all refrigerator cars should contain provision for allowing carbon dioxide to escape, and for the admission of fresh air. Certain companies, appreciating this need of plant tissues for air, have conducted experiments with car ventilators. The results have been so satisfactory that one large company is putting on a special ventilator, which can be opened or closed as the shipper prefers, over the doors of its refrigerator cars.

The question of wrappers for fruit is worthy of an extended investigation from the standpoint of ventilation. The good points in favor of separate wrappers for peaches, apples, and pears are numerous, but such wrappers only allow a very small air space around each fruit. This limited supply of oxygen is used up in a few hours, and air circulation is practically impossible. Some type of perforated or porous wrappers has been suggested as a possible means of combining the desirable features of wrappers with the better ventilation of the fruit.

A Big Deal.

The amalgamation of forces and reorganization into a large company with a capitalization of $1,000,000 will probably be the outcome of negotiations now pending between the Summerland Development Company and the Bayne's Lake Land Company. The latter is an English company, with some thousands of acres on the Elk River near Elko in the Kootenay. Mr. J. M. Robinson has been asked to assume the management of the new company. While no definite plans have yet been worked out it is quite probable that large new development work may as a result of the amalgamation, be undertaken here, including the establishment of new industries, etc.

Peachland Notes.

Miss Kate Miller was the hostess at a delightful party on Friday evening at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Logie of Naramata were in town on Monday attending the funeral of Mr. Van Hise.

The funeral of Mr. George Van Hise, who died in the Kelowna Hospital on Saturday, took place here on Monday afternoon.

Mr. Hebert Logan left on Monday morning for Regina, where he purposes spending a few weeks, returning with Mrs. Logan for Christmas.

Miss Leone Morrison is spending the week at Westbank, where she is relieving Mr. B. Gummow of his school duties, he being on the sick list.

Mrs. Wm. Urquhart returned to her home here on Friday night from Cumberland, Vancouver Island, where she spent the summer with Rev. and Mrs. Jas. Hood.

Miss Montgomery and her sister, Miss Helen Montgomery, at one time teachers of the primary department here, are visiting in town the guests of Mrs. A. D. Ferguson.

Messrs. R. C. Lipsett of Summerland, J. M. Robinson of Naramata, and J. Firstbrook of Toronto, were in town on Friday on business connected with the cannery and the water works.

Miss Mildred Wilson of Kelowna is the guest of Mrs. L. D. McColl this week. She is combining business with pleasure and taking subscriptions for the Sun and the Sunset of Vancouver.

Mr. Frank Callender of Vancouver came in with Mr. and Mrs. Brown of North Bend who are looking at properties with a view to buying. They proceeded to Summerland the following evening but he remained with friends until the end of the week.

On Wednesday evening Rev. and Mrs. Cavallier, of London, England, returned missionaries from India, gave a very interesting account of work in the Zenanas. Two young ladies were draped in native costume, which, although picturesque, looked decidedly uncomfortable.

A pleasant afternoon was spent on Tuesday when the Woman's Institute held a thimble tea. After the business on hand had been settled, work bags were opened, and a variety of needlework displayed, at which the ladies worked assiduously (excepting at such times as the talk became so interesting that work was suspended to listen more attentively) until the refreshments were served.

Stopping ground fires in the forest by trenching can now be easily and quickly done by planting a long string of dynamite cartridges in advance of the fire, at intervals of two feet. When these are exploded simultaneously by means of an electric current, the result is a ditch four feet wide and two feet deep, which effectually stops the fire.

Mr. Morley Donaldson, vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific, expects his company will complete its track across British Columbia to the Pacific by next June. It is now being predicted in the Interior that the new railway will reach Prince George by January.

Canada's exhibit at the Chicago Land Show, now in progress, has been praised for its wide scope and general excellence. It will undoubtedly attract many people to Canada. British Columbia has made an especially strong showing of the various food fish caught off its coast and in its rivers.

Enforcing Law.

A recent decision to enforce a section of the range law which has been on the statutes for many years, but almost forgotten, brought two of our local men, who probably both were innocent of any intentional wrong doing, into the hands of the law.

The section of the law referred to is for the purpose of guarding against cattle stealing and to assist in the tracing of cattle thieves and stolen animals. It provides that monthly reports must be made by meat dealers and butchers. The dealer, even if he does not do his own slaughtering, must report the number of carcasses he purchases, and from whom purchased. The butcher must report the number of cattle he kills, the color, the brands they bear and from whom each animal was purchased. It is said that for some time there has been much cattle stealing practised at the head of the lake, and hence the enforcement of the law. Practically every butcher and meat dealer has been caught unawares and fined for neglecting to make the required monthly report.

It is not the purpose of the authorities to do more than enforce upon those concerned the necessity of complying with the act.

Both Messrs. Woodworth and Downton pleaded guilty before Magistrate English and were fined one dollar and costs.

Deemed Worthy.

A Romance of Local Interest.

A good many years ago a young man set out from the north of England to the land of the Southern Cross to seek a fortune. Continued prosperity was his lot, and soon he found himself the proprietor of a large estate worth many thousands. He was left a childless widower, and in due course of time took another wife, who was also well supplied with this world's goods, with relatives in good circumstances. She was the mother of two sons by her former husband.

The man from the north of England had given expression to a desire before he died that his estate might remain in his family and that a worthy successor bearing his name might be found. However, the property and fortune was bequeathed to his wife.

Later her two sons died, and remembering her deceased husband's wish the faithful widow sent an agent to the Homeland to find some relative of her dead husband to worthily possess his riches. The agent returned reporting having found two relatives. One he described as wealthy, and would doubtless not consider a removal to Australia. The description of the second did not satisfy the widow.

Again the agent was sent forth commissioned to Canada in further search of one to whom the estate might be bequeathed. Landing at Vancouver the envoy proceeded to the Okanagan. Arriving in Summerland enquiry soon satisfied the agent that a relative of the deceased was living here and bore a reputation for industry and sagacity, and was looked upon as one of Summerland's most worthy and honorable citizens. Only then did the agent make himself known and continue his enquiry. Satisfying himself he returned to the Antipodes.

The recent receipt of a cabled invitation to our fellow citizen to make the widow a visit, taking his wife and daughter, is proof that the answer to her question "Is he worthy of the stewardship?" has been satisfactorily answered.

Over 780,000,000 shingles, one half of the entire shingle production of Canada in 1912, were manufactured in B.C. Western cedar was used exclusively.

BETTY BOTTER'S BOUGHT BUTTER.

Betty Botter bought some butter, but, she said, this butter's bitter. If I put it in my batter, it will make my batter bitter, but a bit o' better butter would make my batter better; so she bought a bit o' better butter than the bitter butter, and it made her bitter butter better; so 'twas better Betty Botter bought a bit o' better butter.—Exchange.

skating soon. Two large two hundred candle power lamps will be placed in position over the ice.

L. C. Woodworth returned a few days ago from a business trip to Calgary, Medicine Hat, Moose Jaw and Winnipeg. Mr. Woodworth while away bought a quantity of sheep, hogs and cattle, five carloads of which will probably reach here during this week. Of this total, two cars will be beef cattle, one milk cows, one hogs, and one sheep. Mr. Woodworth finds a market for dressed meats not only here, but at Naramata, Penticton and other lake points.

A good contingent of dancers went over to the dance at the Hotel Naramata on Friday last, a special trip being run by the ferry. The Misses Conway and Myrtle Clay, the Misses Bena and Grace Logie, and Messrs. J. Craig, C. Lavis, Neve, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lawler report having thoroughly enjoyed the evening. The crossing then and after midnight over the quiet lake, and by moonlight, with perfect weather was delightful.

The annual public meeting which the Municipal Council convenes for the discussion of its past year's work will be held in Empire Hall, on Tuesday afternoon, the 30th inst., at 2 p.m. A financial statement will be presented to the ratepayers at that time. This is an opportunity provided for open discussion of municipal matters. A large attendance will ensure a greater number of taxpayers becoming conversant with the situation as it really stands at present.

Our housewives have suddenly plunged into Christmas preparations this week. The odor of Christmas puddings and mince meat in preparation has been very obvious during the last few days, and made a lot of people hurry round looking for Christmas cards and other necessities. There is time left yet to get your private greetings printed before the last rush begins. Have you seen the Review selection? It is a charming and artistic one, and some very dainty new designs are still available.

During the last week of the pastorate of Rev. F. W. Pattison here, the members and adherents of the Baptist Church put forth special endeavors to raise the sum of one thousand dollars in order to clear the church of an accumulation of immediate debt, apparently an unavoidable encumbrance of modern church finance. Most eloquent testimony to the sterling regard in which the church held their pastor is seen in the total amount which found its way to the church treasury by Sunday last—upwards of eight hundred dollars.

is steadily though somewhat slowly regainng strength.

The Ferry Company will, beginning next Monday, omit the 8 o'clock trip from Naramata, and the 8.30 trip from Summerland.
Otherwise the schedule is unchanged.

Alex. Bentley of the Bank of Montreal here has been transferred to the main office at Vancouver.
He will be succeeded here by a Mr. Spraggon, who comes from the Coast metropolis.

Some neat and pleasing Christmas Greeting blanks may yet be had at the local Printing Office, not yet too late to order for mailing to points in Canada and United States.
Can make deliveries on Monday and Tuesday.

The Methodist Christmas Tree and Entertainment will be held on the evening of 26th inst., at 7.30 at the Men's Club. An operetta entitled "Cinderella and the Prince" will be presented. All will be welcome.

Presbyterian services will be held in St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning and evening. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the morning service. Mr. David Lister will preach at the evening service.

Roy White, who drives the meat market delivery, was brought before Magistrate English on a charge of furious driving entered by Constable Graham. The young man pleaded guilty, and at the request of the constable only a nominal fine of $1 and costs was imposed. Complaints of similar offences are heard of, which may likewise be brought up unless this example suffices.

Though we have not been able to get confirmation of the report it is said that a deal has been recently completed whereby Mr. W. J.
Robinson exchanges his present home for property in Peachland.
It is stated further that Mr. Robinson will shortly remove to that town. This of course means his withdrawal from civic life here, and that he will not be a candidate for either municipal or school board honors.

Methodist church services will be held on Sunday next, December 14th, as follows: at 10.30 a.m.
Divine service will be held in the church, when Rev. R. W. Lee will give the first of a series of four addresses on "Character from Pilgrim's Progress." At 3.30 p.m.
Rev. R. W. Lee will conduct service in the Prairie Vailley schoolhouse, while at 7 p.m. he will preach in the Methodist Church, the subject being, "Balaam or his ass?
Which?"

The Sporting Club met in Campbell's Hall on Thursday evening when a number of boxing and wrestling matches were put on.
There were matches in boxing between J. Lawlor and Bert Nelson, T. Hewitt and E. R. Stimpson, Roy White and Laurie Hatfield; wrestling between T. B. Young and H.
Coles, G. R. Hookham and J. Lawlor. T. B. Young, who has charge of the wrestling, gave a few demonstrations in holds, and R. W.
Deans, instructor in boxing, gave a few pointers in his line. The evening closed with some stories by F.
A. Miller, and gramophone selections.

Mrs. Evans was making a call on Mrs. Francis, and they were enjoying a chat about some of their neighbors. "Mrs. Green," said the hostess, "is a woman who suffers much for her belief." "Indeed," replied the caller wonder-ingly; "and what is her belief?"
"Why," continued the hostess,
"she believes she can wear a No. 3 shoe on a No. 6 foot."

PROPOSED SLATE.

There has not yet been much stir in local election matters. However, one citizen's slate has been prepared, but at the time of going to press we have not learned that the suggested members have consented to nomination. The new council, to accomplish the most for the municipality, should be a strong one, comprised of men who have the confidence of the banks, and are able to undertake and economically carry out the necessary public works. Those suggested for the new council should collectively embody these qualifications and are: James Ritchie, Reeve; Thomas Dale; Isaac Blair; R. H.
English, and Adam Stark.

Blessed is the thorn that has a rose to justify it. Did it ever strike you that living is an unsatisfactory job?

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon
Territory, the North-west Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

A Wedding Anniversary.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Roe spent a delightful evening with them at Syndica House, on Tuesday last, celebrating the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. As this anniversary of a happy day is known as the "China Wedding" many dainty and acceptable offerings of china were brought by the guests. As well as all the warm personal congratulations received by Mr. and Mrs. Roe, their mail from absent friends was also pretty weighty, so that Tuesday was altogether a pleasant and happy day. Syndica Hotel was quite en fete for the occasion, and the dining room was charmingly decorated with beautiful trails of greenery brought in from the hills, spruce boughs and chrysanthemums. A choice supper was served, and congratulatory speeches alternated agreeably with the enjoyable menu. Music and social intercourse made the rest of the evening pass all too quickly, and it was growing late when the guests dispersed with hearty wishes for many years of good fortune and good health still ahead of their host and hostess.

Mr. Roe is doing well after his recent accident and was in much of his old, cheery form, as with his wife, he made his guests welcome.

Dance at Hotel Naramata.

There was quite a pre-Christmas air of festivity pervading the Hotel Naramata last Friday when the for-nightly dance promoted by the Unity Club took place. Merry music, all the latest and newest dances, the shining floor of the big, white dining hall in perfect condition gave an evening of delight to some forty couples of dancers, and not much less was the pleasure of a large party of chaperons who enjoyed the pretty scene and the cozy comforts of the fire-lit rotunda.
The dance room was gay with crimson and green Chinese lap-terns, and spruce boughs suggested Christmas just a little further. A daintily spread buffet occupied one corner of the room where Mrs.
Mitchell and Mrs. Lewis Block presided and served refreshments to wearied dancers. The good boat
"Rowena" brought over a big contingent of dancers from Summerland, a few of whom spent the night at the Hotel, others returning by the midnight trip home, which was not the least enjoyable part of the fine December evening.
We hear rumors that there are dancing enthusiasts "taking steps" to make themselves proficient in the fascinating "Tango," so that in all probability all Naramata, in addition to all Europe, Asia and America will be Tango-ing very soon!
Perhaps the New Year's Eve ball at the Hotel, which promises to be a very brilliant affair will introduce the new Argentine dance amongst us. We have some accomplished dancers in our town, and there should be much grace in the Naramata Tango.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to
the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for
are situated.

In surveyed territory the land
must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and
in unsurveyed territory the tract
applied for shall be staked out by
the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied
for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on
the merchantable output of the
ton.

The person operating the mine
shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full
quantity of merchantable coal
mined and pay the royalty thereon.
If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should
be furnished at least once a year.
The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever
available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10
an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any agent
or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

vertisement will not be paid for.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

One of the week-end visitors to Penticton was Mr. E. Johnson.

Mrs. Geo. Van Hise is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jack Logie for a few days.

Mr. E. Johnson is very busy at Penticton this week checking bridge material for the K.V.R.

Mr. C. G. Griffin came down by Monday's boat from Keowna, and is on a visit of inspection to the Summit.

Mr. George Wolstencroft, Mr. R.
C. Robinson, and Mr. H. J. Wells took a business trip to Penticton on Wednesday.

Mr. J. Blair and family are leaving Naramata for Vancouver, and will probably move out next Monday for that city.

Grant Smith's No. 1. camp has closed down on the completion of its work, and some forty men have gone to work elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay and Miss Myrtle Clay were the guests of Mr. J.
M. Robinson at luncheon at the Hotel Naramata on Saturday last.

Visitors across the lake to Summerland on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred and Mr. and Mrs. Mark
Manchester, and Mr. H. J. Wells.

Dr. W. Robinson will be the guest for Christmas on a visit extending into the New Year with Mr. John Firstbrook and family at Toronto.

A pleasant little card party was held at the Unity Club on Monday, the hostesses for the evening being Mrs. Cash and Mrs. Languedoc.

The serious illness of her brother's wife, Mrs. A. Wilson, has called Mrs. Armour away hurriedly to Vancouver. Mr. Armour will join his wife there in time for Christmas festival.

Mr. Ted Logie spent the weekend with his sister, Mrs. R. C.
Robinson, at the Hotel Naramata, and Mrs. J. L. Logie had a day there on Tuesday last.

Visitors from Summerland on Tuesday were Mr. G. A. MacLaine, and Mr. Gordon Dinning, the latter having some business to transact in connection with the Bank of Commerce.

The Syndica Hotel has been very full of guests for the last week or two, the coming and going of so many workers and officials at the camps being responsible for a great deal of activity.

Work is now completed at Blair's Camps No. 1 and No. 4, and at Griffin Hunt's No. 1. This means change of work and removal of about two hundred men, most of whom have gone on to employment at other railway points.

News of the marriage of Miss Vera Palmer, daughter of Mrs.
Dan McKay, to Mr. Anderson of Hamiota, Manitoba, has just reached Naramata. Miss Palmer who was a resident here for some time, has been living for the past two years with her brother at Ham-iota.

A business trip to Penticton was taken by Mr. Mark Manchester on Wednesday. On the still and frosty days which we have been enjoying lately the trips on the steady little "Rowena" up and down the lake, partake of all the outdoor enjoyment of summer boating on our beautiful lake.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson are very busy preparing for their first trip to Europe. They are leaving Naramata on Wednesday next, December 17th, and will be very much missed by their many friends here. They are sailing for London on December 24th from Halifax with Mr. J. M. Robinson.
Their stay in London will be a prolonged one.

We are glad to see Captain Languedoc out again. Though looking ill and shaken after the severe shock he sustained, and with his foot still helpless, Capt. Languedoc can get about a little with the help of crutches. He spent most of the sunny hours of Monday and Tuesday on the lake, taking the trip to Penticton on the "Rowena" on Monday and again on Tuesday.

New Post Office.

The reconstruction of the post office is a very great improvement to First Street, and now instead of being at the back of the building which was formerly the Supply Store, Mr. Bartlett, post-master will transact government business in much more commodious premises in the front of the building. The Okanagan Trust Company will still occupy the same space, but a separate entrance will lead into their offices, the post office being on the left. The "move" was accomplished this week without any disturbance of the usual routine, and the post office is now ready to cope well with the Christmas mails and rush of business, which has already begun, and is keeping our genial and popular postmaster very much occupied.

Off To England.

After a brief, and very busy visit to the Valley, Mr. J. M. Robinson is returning to England immediately before Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Robinson and their tiny daughter accompanying him.
Mr. Robinson left last night for Vancouver and Victoria, and also visits Silver City, Idaho. On Dec.
24th he plans to sail from Halifax with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson on the s.s. "Corsican," which goes to Liverpool, reaching there very early in the New Year. Mr. Robinson hopes to return to the Valley some time in the early spring with Mrs. Robinson and his daughters, when they will probably take up their residence at the W. J. Robinson homestead.

A Winter's Day In The Southern Okanagan.

It was a day of sparkling silver from the bright moment that the sun climbed over the blue eastern hills of Naramata and set all the frost flowers glittering till, it sank in clouds of rose and saffron in the darkening West, and a great silver moon, with attendant silver stars, swung up in the night blue of the sky. The glorious exhilaration of the air held an iced sweetness, while the golden sun glowed and warmed. The most perfect June day in the Old Country holds nothing of the incomparable beauty of a silver frost and sun in the Valley. All day long the lake slept, a luminous surface unstirred by the faintest ripple. Far above, the rich purple wavered and deepened on the rugged hills, and the summits lay, pure fields of shining snow outlined against the edge of the hollow turquoise of the sky. The brilliant clarity of the atmosphere at this great height sharpened every sound and the edge of every shadow to a polished perfection, till there was not the commonest object untouched by its magic. At noon the sands of Naramata beach were warm with the intensity of the sun's vertical rays, and as they declined, a soft rosy light suffused sky, and lake, and hills, and even night drew no veil of darkness over the wonder and beauty of it all.
The electric globe of the moon near its full, and great glittering star jewels shone out. Tiny ripples ruffled the lake, and as they washed up sleepily, gently, each was a delicate line of liquid silver, and the crisp, sharp silver of thin broken ice just edging the shore, tinkled and rustled lightly, the only sound to break the splendid silence of wonderful night.

STAND BY YOUR TOWN.

If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your style;
Throw bouquets instead of rocks,
For awhile;
Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost,
Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.
When a stranger from afar Comes along;
Tell him who and what we are—
Make it strong.
Needn't flatter, never bluff,
Tell the truth, for that's enough;
Join the boosters—they're the stuff,
We belong.

Diplomacy is the art of backing out with dignity after you have gone too far.

The Hotel Naramata will be, after the departure of Mr. R. C.

ter boarders now resident are much enjoying the winter comforts and the sheltered sunny situation, for the sun to his last rays shines on that particularly favored corner of the lakeshore.

A hurried trip to Kamloops was taken on Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs.
Geo. Burnett, news having been received that Mrs. Burnett's younger brother, Mr. Moore, is lying at the hospital there seriously ill with typhoid.

The splendid weather of Tuesday and Wednesday was responsible for quite a number of pedestrian and equestrian expeditions up and down the hills, and our citizens were very much out and about. So warm is the sun and still the air that outdoor wraps and coats were much too heavy and warm, and many of us are dispensing with headgear altogether.

It was in a train belonging to a certain railway in the East which is noted for its rough roadbed.
Just as the train struck one of the rare smooth stretches a passenger exclaimed: "Thank heaven, the train is off the track!"

B.C. Apples Again Win Important Awards.

Hon. J. H. Turner, Agent-General in London for B.C., cabled Sir Richard McBride on the 14th November that the biggest awards offered had been won by British Columbia, in open competition at Sheffield and Edinburgh, for display of apples.

Mr. Cunningham, B.C. Fruit Inspector, states that B.C. apples are in big demand, and that 100 carloads could have been sold now, had they been obtainable.

The United States fruit growers filled the orders. B.C. fruit growers and prospective fruit growers, act promptly, and enlarge your orchard plans.

We can supply you with all kinds of fruit tree stock to suit the special climatic conditions of each district.

Our prices for fruit tree stock this year are cheaper by nearly one-half, than heretofore offered to B.C. fruit growers, viz., $8 to $12 per 100; all grown in our own province, such as Jonathan, Spitzenberg, Baldwin, Northern Spy, and more than 20 other choice varieties.

Patronize home production, and make our province the fruit granary of the West.

Don't forget the beautifying of your home plot. In our stock of over $100,000 we can meet the most cultured and mathetic taste, to make home environments a centre of beauty.
Evergreen stock, shade trees, roses, flowering shrubbery, bulbs, flowering plants etc. Catalogues mailed free on application.

outsirts, who though invariably suffering from lack of water, still paid their rates promptly; while others whose service was perhaps more adequate, allowed their rates to run on apparently indefinitely. Mr. Hamilton read legal advice he had received showing the liability of the Council for loss resulting from an insufficiency of irrigation water under certain circumstances. Verbal complaints during the summer had always elicited a continuous reply—no money in hand for improvements which would remedy the trouble. An inexpensive course suggested by Mr. Hamilton, that would at least ensure the equal distribution of the available water, was the equipment of all gates on the ditches with padlocks. This would assist the water men in their work, and would unquestionably benefit the orchardists near the end of the main ditch lines. In view of his desire to put the whole of his acreage under intensive cultivation next year, Mr. Hamilton asked that the Council take steps to prevent a recurrence of the water shortage. He also urged that the Council press for the payment of uncollected rates. Such a complaint did not fall on the ears of the Council for the first time, by any means, but they were sympathetic. The Reeve informed Mr. Hamilton that all measures short of invoking the law were being employed in dealing with unpaid rates. In view of financial conditions now prevalent, they did not favor inexorable enforcement. It was also pointed out that to remedy matters would call for the flotation of debentures. The rates were fixed so low as to provide only for operating expenses, and not improvements. The Reeve advised Mr. Hamilton to present his case in writing to the new Council.

Coun. Robinson expressed the opinion that cement lining the main ditches and the partial use of iron fluming to prevent seepage would stop a loss of water that was at present unpreventable. It seemed imperative that next year such work be undertaken. The present Council, so soon completing its tenure of office, would be ill advised to embark on this work. Most orchardists of the front section received an insufficient water service. Mr. Hamilton's application for domestic water was not given encouragement.

D. L. Sutherland also made personal complaint in the same strain as Mr. Hamilton, mentioning particularly the indiscriminate use of water in the absence of the water men by orchardists higher up the ditch line. He, too, advocated the introduction of padlocks on the flume gates.

REPORT OF WORKS COMMITTEE.

The Clerk read the report submitted by the Works Committee, which was adopted. One clause excited discussion. It refuted any aspersion which might have been cast on the Works Department by a remark, credited to Coun. Robinson, appearing in the report of the last Council session in the columns of the Review, to the effect that the municipality was not receiving full value of the work it laid out. Supt. Mitchell took strong exception to that assertion. Coun. Robinson explained that his remark applied to work which had to be carried on continually with some of the wooden pipe lines and unlined ditches. The money to put these into the best possible condition could not be expended just at this time, and so incessant repair work seemed necessary.

Messrs. F. R. Gartrell and G. Morgan waited upon the Council regarding a plow which they state to have been removed inadvertently from the roadside at Trout Creek about two years ago. The matter is being enquired into.

J. L. Logie was appointed Returning Officer to preside over the forthcoming civic nominations and elections.

ADDRESS PRESENTED TO REV. AND MRS. F. W. PATTISON.

The desire has been expressed from several quarters that the address presented to Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Pattison by their church on Sunday last be reproduced. The presentation was made by Mr. T. N. Ritchie, chairman of the board of deacons, at the close of the communion service. Following is the text of the address:

To Rev. F. W. Pattison and Mrs. Pattison on the occasion of their leaving Summerland, December, 1913.

Mr. and Mrs. Pattison—
We feel that we cannot let you go from us without some positive expression of our goodwill and best wishes for the future.

To you, Mr. Pattison, as our pastor for more than three years, we are under a large debt of gratitude. From the first day of your ministry until now, your work as a man and as a Christian has become increasingly evident. You are more than a preacher of righteousness; you are a living exponent of the power and sweetness of the Christ in the daily life of a man. Your ministry has been one of great helpfulness and strength. You are held in appreciative regard in all our homes, and have always been a welcome guest—or rather have always seemed a loved member of the family. In times of sorrow and perplexity your words of comfort and cheery hopefulness have meant much to anxious, grieving hearts. In times of joy your presence has always added to the happiness of the occasion. You have ever been the true, faithful pastor, sparing nothing that seemed to deserve reproof, commending all that was worthy. In omnibus fidelis—we esteem you.

Mrs. Pattison, you have been known to us but a comparatively short time, but in that time you have won all hearts. Your home has been always open, and the spirit of true hospitality generously manifested, and you have entered into the activities of the church and community in the spirit of real service. We had hoped, in our selfishness, that the Master might spare you both to us for a long time, but since it is His will that you go elsewhere to labor for Him, we gladly bid you go, rejoicing in the thought that he has deemed you worthy of the larger service. May his richest and abundant blessing go with you both. Our prayers and thought will follow you, and we trust that we may not be forgotten.

In behalf of the Summerland Baptist Church and Congregation:
Signed by all the Members of the Advisory Board.

Chorus in "The Beggar Prince," Empire Hall, Tuesday, Dec. 10th.

The Boston Opera Company, which comes to Empire Hall, is a comic opera company (not a musical comedy), and one that delights the music loving public.

Some twenty odd singing numbers are used in the three acts of "The Beggar Prince," and they are interpolated by a cast that was selected on account of their singing voices, and supported by a strong chorus of girls that can sing and dance delightfully.

Mr. Jack Leslie and Mr. Ray Southard are two well-known opera comedians who stand away up in their profession, and their comedy permeates the entire three acts.

Miss Hortense Travers, the prima donna soprano, Miss Jessica Clement, mezzo-soprano, Mr. George M. Perkins, tenor, Mr. L. Barton Evans, baritone, and D. Carr MacDonald, basso, go to make up the principals in the cast.

The Beginning Of The End.

Wholesale Removal Of 'Phones Will Cripple Okanagan System At End Of Month.

New Local Service Early In New Year.

The actual clash between the rival telephone interests striving in this community is due to occur in the very near future. At the end of this week the Okanagan Company will receive a deluge of written notices requesting the removal of 'phones. Over a hundred subscribers are thus terminating their telephone service at the end of the year, including all the business houses. This step will effectively take the wind out of the sails of the Okanagan Company — which have already shown grievous signs of flapping.

This development brings close at hand the parting of the ways. The policy which the new company has laid out will not permit the installation of an instrument where the Okanagan Company still gives service. The wholesale demand being served on the big corporation will enable the Summerland Telephone Company to proceed with the installation of their instruments early in the new year.

Just how long the community will be without an effective telephone service cannot be stated definitely. Much inconvenience will result and perhaps some loss, but this state of affairs should hold only for a short time. The firmer the people's attitude during the 'phoneless period the more they will hasten to consummation the plans of the Summerland Company for the provision of a modern service.

This will be a bitter pill for the Okanagan Company. Their system in Summerland will be crippled beyond hope of recovery. What their answer will be is not apparent. The visit of Messrs. Dobie and Webster to Summerland last week did not shed light on any impending moves of the corporation, and reports to hand since are contradictory. The unlimited offer of free 'phones to old subscribers will not assist them, since so many are voluntarily ending their service. Further developments will be awaited with interest, but, come what may, it seems that the Summerland Telephone Company will soon be in complete control of the situation in this municipality.

END OF TERM FESTIVITIES AT THE COLLEGE.

A long program of hilarity was the "breaking-up" entertainment last night with which the College students marked the end of term. It took the form of a reception given by the "boys," who welcomed the "girls" and the Faculty to Ritchie Hall with great ceremony. The guests assembled in a class room where a tall Christmas tree, sparkling with lights and gay trifles was erected. Through the open window behind it came the sound of sleigh bells, and as Santa Claus clambered in laden with the College mail, which he had mysteriously acquired, and presents, there was a great outburst of applause. The gifts were distributed amidst much merriment, for every tiny parcel was arranged with an eye to an individual "joke," enjoyed alike by professors and students.

After the tree was stripped a most delectable supper of oyster stew, and fruit was served, and later there was a great crowd around a huge bonfire built on the College hill. An impromptu concert of chorus and solo, by the light of the blazing logs followed, and before the company separated they joined hands in a great circle around the fire and made the Giant's Head and the surrounding darkness ring with "Auld Lang Syne."

The pursuit of knowledge has been temporarily suspended at the College for the Christmas vacation. Studies ceased on Thursday of this week, and a number of outside students went up the lake this (Friday) morning, bound for home. Those remaining in residence at Ritchie and Morton Halls have given themselves over to seasonal relaxation — excepting such whose gaiety is overshadowed by the mid-term university examinations, which commence early in the new year. Several new faces are expected among the student body when it reassembles.

The municipal schools have now entered upon the Christmas vacation. Varied exercises were carried out by the children of the Town School on Thursday afternoon, and at the Central School this (Friday) afternoon. The school session reopens on Monday, January 5th.

Pressing calls on our space compel a hold over for one week of the continuation of the illuminating review of the English fruit market by J. S. Gillespie, and also the third of the series of articles on "Farm Accountancy," by W. M. Wright, of the College.

Acquitted of Ritual Murder He Replies to Congratulations.

Mendel Beiliss, acquitted of the charge of ritual murder in the "Holy City" of Kiev, Russia, at his desk in his home answering with personal letters the many messages of congratulation received by him from sympathizers in all quarters of the globe. Following his acquittal, letters, telegrams, cables, and even marconigrams poured in upon him. His task of replying to them is by no means a simple one.

LLOYD GEORGE'S LAND POLICY.

The tense situation in circles of imperial politics will probably feel great relief now that the Chancellor's great land reform scheme has been passed upon locally.

Parliament House—better known, perhaps, as the Campbell Hall, was crowded to the door on Wednesday evening when the College Lyceum resolved into a Mock Parliament, discussed this burning question.

The members marched into their places in stately procession, led by A. McDougall, Sergeant-at-Arms, in a picturesque costume.

Ed. Armstrong was in the Speaker's chair, and guided the deliberations of the House along the proper channels. Some more or less weighty matters of College and local interest were disposed of before the big discussion of the evening was brought up.

W. M. Armstrong presented the Land Reform Bill in a speech that would have done credit to a practised politician. J. F. Leitch replied for the Opposition with a rebuttal of argument. The debate was continued in spirited speeches by John Marshall and Chris. Riley for the Government, and C. G. Johnson against the Bill. H. C. Packham, leader of the Opposition, displayed the characteristics of an orator born, as he declaimed Demosthenes-like on the weaknesses of the scheme. His speech was interspersed with snatches of humor that kept the House attentive. Wm. Armstrong followed with a short summary of the argument, and the Bill was passed by a narrow majority of three.

The ubiquitous suffragette squad was in attendance to heckle the speakers, and aroused much hilarity by their continual antics, as they endeavored to draw the attention on to the ever-present subject of "Votes for Women."

The session was highly successful and entertaining, and not without profit for the many listeners. The Parliament will gather again on January 16th.

WEDDING.

MacLaine - Brown.

A charmingly pretty wedding took place at Trout Creek yesterday (Thursday) when Miss Ethel Margaret Brown, second daughter of Mr. J. R. Brown, Indian Agent, became the bride of Mr. Gerald A. MacLaine of Canoe, Nova Scotia. Much local interest was felt in the marriage, for the bride has grown up here and is exceedingly popular in the community, where her father, one of our earliest settlers, is so well known and respected.

The ceremony took place in the drawing-room of the Trout Creek homestead, and the only guests were the relatives and one or two old and intimate friends. The bride made an exceedingly pretty picture as she stood beneath a great bridal veil of Oregon grape foliage and snowberries, in a floral and fir-decked corner of the drawing-room, which was also gay with pink carnations. Her gown, of the utmost simplicity, was of soft white satin charmeuse, with fichu of mellow antique lace. A chaplet of orange blossoms confined her veil of very fine Brussels net. She wore the bridegroom's gift, a diamond brooch, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and asparagus fern.

The officiating minister was Rev. R. W. Lee, and Mr. George Craig supported Mr. MacLaine as "best man," the bridegroom presenting him with a diamond scarf pin.

Miss Evelyn Brown, sister of the bride, acted as maid-of-honor, and wore a draped gown of pale rose satin, trimmed with satin of a deeper shade, and caught up here and there with knots of tiny satin flowers. Her bouquet was of roses to match her gown. Her gift from the groom was a pearl blouse set.

Mrs. G. Morgan, sister of the bride, wore a dainty draped gown of pale blue messalino, silk yoked with lace.

Mrs. Brown, mother of the bride, was gowned in shot blue and black taffetas, with touches of soft lace; Miss Amy Brown, another sister, was pretty in satin charmeuse of wild violet mauve, veiled with the same pale shade of nylon, and trimmed with pearl and crystal passementerie, while Miss Lillian Brown looked charming in shell pink satin, made pannier fashion, with looped skirt and corsage trimmings of Malta lace, and Miss Kathleen Brown's frock was of simple white embroidery, with pale blue silk ribbons.

An informal reception was afterwards held, and later Mr. and Mrs. MacLaine drove off amid a shower of confetti to catch the evening boat. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue serge, with dainty white satin blouse and toque of black velvet with knots of burnt orange velvet.

The honeymoon will be spent in Seattle and the Coast cities.

Among the bride's numerous and handsome wedding presents was a silver entree dish from the choir of the Methodist Church, and a set of sterling silver teaspoons from her Sunday School class.

RESERVOIR AND WATER WORK PROCEEDING APACE.

The supplementing of the open stream inlet from Trout Creek to the Balcomie Reservoir by pipe is being pushed ahead rapidly. All the cement pipe has now been laid. Some difficulty was anticipated in laying the iron pipe through a sand pit not far from the Kettle Valley track, and close to the reservoir. This has been overcome by an arrangement made with the railway company whereby steam shovels will excavate this portion. The sand and gravel obtained will be used for ballasting the track which has now all been laid up to Osprey Lake summit. When the trench has been made steel and iron pipe will be laid through the sand pit. It is expected that this work will be completed in about two weeks. A large and uninterrupted flow will be ensured for the Reservoir: which the most extreme winter weather will not affect. The new pipeline will serve to meet the constant drain on the water supply that the huge tank at the K.V.R. station in Peach Valley will entail.

The Poultry Association officials are desirous of receiving entries at the earliest possible date, and it is urged upon all who anticipate showing to make their entries at once. Bird owners who have not thus decided should give the matter some thought. It is worth much more than the price of entry to have birds rated by an expert. A number of the show officials stand ready to assist novices in picking out probable winners. Have them rated thus, and support your show.

ASIATIC OWNERSHIP IN THE OKANAGAN.

At the general meeting of the shareholders of the Okanagan United Growers, Limited, held recently in Vernon, a strong resolution aimed against the ownership of agricultural land in the Valley by Orientals was unanimously endorsed. The resolution was submitted by the representatives of the Armstrong Fruit Growers' Association. Copies have been forwarded to the Provincial Government, the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, and the Boards of Trade in the Valley towns. Efforts are being made to arouse interest in this matter which has such vital bearing on the agricultural interests of the Okanagan.

The resolution will be submitted to the annual meeting of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association early in the new year. It is worded as follows:—

That whereas the ownership of agricultural land in this province is increasing, and

Whereas, owing to the lower standard of living of Asiatic races, the marketing of crops grown under such conditions constitutes unfair competition when sold in the same markets with crops grown by white owners, and

Whereas such ownership of land by Asiatics tends to depreciate the value of surrounding land in the possession of white owners, and

Whereas it is undesirable that Asiatics should be allowed to form a large and permanent part of the population—

Be It Therefore Resolved that we, the members of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, in annual meeting assembled, respectfully petition the Government of British Columbia to use every means at its command to prohibit persons of Asiatic race from owning land within the province, and that the Provincial Government endeavor to replace the Asiatics with white labor.

Revenge is sweet—so is a sugar-coated pill.

Christmas, 1913 - New Year, 1914.

Our Greetings at this season, when the "peace on earth, goodwill to men" sentiment pervades business and private life, are two-fold.

To All — may this season of Yule be one of unshadowed happiness; and the coming year crown all your efforts with success. So may the year that wanes pass in happy memory, and the year that comes fulfil abundantly the promise it presages.

To Our Advertisers, Subscribers and Customers — our thanks for your patronage throughout the past year. The twelve months have not been of unexcelled business brightness, but your patronage has helped us and helped your town. We thank you, and solicit a continuance of your goodwill. We shall endeavor to merit it.

Stores All Bright In Christmas Attire

Some Pleasing and Original Window Displays

Both Goods and Prices Prove Folly of Buying Afar.

The spirit of Christmas is abroad in Summerland, and our enterprising storekeepers have done much to make us realize the festive season, with their brightly-filled windows gay with color and pretty and useful things to tempt the dollars out and about. "It is Christmas in Summerland," says the visitor, noting the picturesque aspect of the stores, where anything and everything for the true and orthodox observance of Yuletide may be admired and bought.

A most attractive meeting place for shoppers is the Summerland Supply Co.'s main store. The Christmas greeting window with its pendant crimson bell presiding in a frame of Oregon grape foliage and crimson, silver and white drapings encloses what is a mere suggestion of the wonders within. The fruit window is charmingly arranged, and the cozy firelit "interior" of the other with its tea table daintily set is most inviting. From fashionable garments to ingredients for the Christmas pudding—lovely party frocks to Wedgwood tea services, all the goods are there—and the special Cash Sale is an excellent opportunity to supply all your needs at these "Universal Providers."

It is bewilderment of prettiness to choose from the Christmas present stock of the Summerland Drug Store. Is it a dainty bottle of perfume, a picture box of delicious candies, a new book, some well-made novelty for the pleasuring of your house, a mechanical toy of the very latest freak? All are there, and because all the usual good stock of the store is re-enforced for the season, it is a capital place to buy the "particular person's" Christmas present. The children find special delight in the department reserved for them.

There is a comfortable air of luxury about A. J. Beer's Christmas stock. The great grey fur carriage rug that hang invitingly beside the beautiful leather novelties, the snug and useful footwear, and dainty ladies' shoes and gloves, all hint of Christmas plenty.

Christmas without its glowing fire is an impossibility, so at Borton's Store there is a selection of all the best appliances for heat, and with the glittering window full of shining heaters and stoves makes a pleasant and seasonable picture, with promise of ample warmth.

"Christmas goodies" is the message of O. Vaughan, and his store provides for the careful housewife so bountifully that there is no excuse for anything lacking in the store cupboard this holiday. Fresh and candied fruits are stacked in piles up here, and there is indeed "no lack."

A net of rich red ribbons and sparkling silver draws the eye to Mrs. Milne's store of dainty and pretty things. Laces, veiling neckwear, and the hundred and one charming trifles of a pretty woman's dress are made to enhance the great centre note of attraction—Millinery, in this tempting storeful.

Beautiful jewelry and the choicest gifts gleam and dazzle in the finely stocked window of J. Rowley. From handsome lamps and clocks to the most artistic gemmed trifles there is wide choice of the most desirable of Christmas presents. Lovely souvenirs of the country we live in are a special feature. Mr. Rowley's brassy store contains just as much charm and value, and there is a most tempting window glittering with all that is best in the jeweler's art.

The windows of the Supply Co.'s upper store call the instant halt of every passer by, for they are two fascinating moving pictures in miniature. The one window is the Merry Christmas window, and the other for a Happy New Year, and both are snow scenes, which at night are electrically lit, and set in motion, with brilliant effect. The Christmas window is a happy forecast of the future—a perfect model of the K.V.R. Station! Buildings, station-yard, platforms and trains complete, set in a snowy scene—an exceedingly clever bit of mechanical work. Equally good is the beautiful little tobogganing scene in the New Year window, with its tiny fur and scarlet clad figures, a frost-coated lunch and "hot coffee-house," and the background of pines and snow. The tiny electric lamp-posts whose colored head lights are birds, beasts, and Father Christmas are quite charming. Inside the green decked store the Christmas stock is as attractive as its choice is bewilderingly full.

McWilliams' Drug Store has an enticing exhibition of Christmas chocolates and candies of all kinds, in addition to all the other good things always on sale in this picturesque and pleasant store. It is like a pretty and well-stocked arcade wherein to spend a pleasing hour or two choosing Christmas gifts.

J. E. Phinney's fruit display is a really beautiful one and this window is a glowing mass of ripe fruits—apples, oranges, lemons, grapes, with figs and dates, and crystallized and preserved fruits of every variety; canned fruits are a specialty, and the Christmas dessert chosen at Phinney's will be a rich one.

If at this Christmas-time you intend to become the possessor of a new set of buggy or Democrat harness, or want to furbish up and smarten your present possessions, you could not do better than look in at J. S. Ritchie's—everything of Parkdale Saddlery is reliable and good.

There are plenty of things, which perhaps you will not find elsewhere, at A. B. Elliott's two stores, and both the lakeshore and west depots are making a fine display, from Christmas groceries and fruits to many kinds of Christmas gifts, including something as useful as smart or heavy boots, fur-lined slippers or dainty dancing shoes. At this admirably stocked General Store cash reductions in all lines are in force for a month.

What would our Christmas be without the meat market? That chef d'oeuvre of the menu, the finest and fattest of turkeys, can be found at Downton's, who is also stocking plump poultry of all sorts, beef and mutton, and a special brand of ham and sausages. The Christmas fare here is bountiful and plentiful and good.

they will stay for the winter months with Mr. Henry Knight, who is a brother of Mrs. Foss.

HAS DUG ITS OWN GRAVE.

WE must admit to a certain amount of satisfaction in being able to publish in our news columns this week a marked step by the people of our community toward the reclamation of a public utility which our municipality had never intended should fall into the hands of a monopoly, and equal satisfaction, with perhaps some exultation, in witnessing the handing out to the would-be oppressors a part of that which is their due.

The Municipality of Summerland has always stood in a peculiar and unusual measure for freedom and local ownership of its utilities, and we have absolute faith in the ability of her people to stand together and carry this fight to a successful finish. Hints of free phones, re-building and improving the foreign company's plant, and intimations of trouble making for the home company are to be taken from whence they come, as no doubt if there is any way left open, and the manager can get the consent of his directors to throw away more money in the attempt to save a bad investment, he will do so. The people of Summerland are not so easily deceived as to bite at any bait that may be thrown out, no matter how tempting, knowing that later they would suffer the sting of the hidden hook. If the same mysterious and apparently suicidal policy as practised here is enforced elsewhere we may safely predict an early conversion of the Okanagan Telephone Company's various exchanges and its trunk line into so much junk.

AS ELECTION TIME APPROACHES.

THE civic elections are now within hailing distance. Phlegmatic public interest will soon bestir itself to be heard probably—and customarily—in dull criticism rather than in approbation. Throughout the year it is difficult to arouse municipal enthusiasm, excepting when grievances give rise to lurid recitals of real or imaginary shortcomings of the civic authorities. Interest usually begins to manifest itself just prior to election time, but it is scarcely reasonable to expect to gain an intelligent hold on the municipal situation from the eleventh hour onwards.

There are problems enough in pickle for the Council of nineteen fourteen. The work of the present body has been more to mark time than to step forward. The dictates of the world of finance, louder in speech than the voice of the people, commanded retrenchment rather than expansion. The legacy of difficulties which this Council inherited it passes on unsolved. To its credit let it be said these are not more involved; for a financial stringency does not lend itself to municipal expansion any more than to growth in lines of commercial endeavor.

Of paramount importance is the need of improvement to the irrigation system. This is essential and imperative. The backbone of this community are the men who tend the orchards. Just what an efficient irrigation service means to these men can scarcely be expressed in cold dollars. The limitations of the system are admitted by the Council, and also the necessity for improvements.

The reason given for not making any substantial effort during the past year that might have increased the efficiency of this branch of the public works, has been the inability to advantageously market debentures. To sell at the prices that the money market has been offering would have meant loss to the ratepayers. But the question presents itself, whether the loss the orchardists sustain in the aggregate from the insufficient irrigation service now being given is not greater than the loss that would result from unloading an issue of debentures to satisfy the crying needs of the system.

The domestic water and electric light services may easily be good dividend payers. Little acumen is needed to commend the policy that will extend these utilities. Both are in good demand. To leave the growing sheaf of applications unsatisfied means not only loss to the municipality in returns that would be profitable, but it also fosters a false impression that the Council is not awake to the community weal.

The foregoing is not in criticism of the tenure of the present Council. Men who give of their time voluntarily to serve the public good, as it appears to their eyes, for no honorarium are above criticism. There is room for honest difference of opinion, but that fundamental of popular government need be carried no further. To the new Council can aptly be commended the truism that a satisfied people will pay willingly for their satisfaction.

PEACH POOLS AND PRICES.

The Yakima Valley is Okanagan's principal competitor in peaches, and a knowledge of results of the pooling and prices obtained there will be of interest to our growers. The following despatch was published in the "Daily Produce News," Seattle, on December 6th, and was dated North Yakima, December 4th:—

"One large pool is still open awaiting final remittances from the Distributors. Two other peach pools were closed out within the past few days, the net returns to the association upon which were as follows: No. 128, half-week ending September 10, 61,677 boxes Elbertas, 28 cents; 705 boxes Crawfords, 17 cents; 802 boxes Late Crawfords, 26 cents.

No. 158, half-week ending September 17, 57,078 boxes Elbertas, 28 cents; 003 boxes Late Crawfords, 25 cents; 28 boxes Crawfords, 35 cents; 17 boxes Solways, 32 cents."

From these returns must be deducted an association charge of .5 cents and a packing cost of approximately 15 cents, or a total of 20 cents. It can be readily ascertained what will remain to the producer.

1913 was considered by the growers in the Yakima and Wenatchee districts as an extremely favorable season, but they are now convinced as the result of the year's experience that there is no prospect of making any money on peaches, and hundreds of acres of peach trees are being pulled out. Figures quoted by Manager Robertson of the United Growers Ltd. and published in these columns two weeks ago show conclusively how much better situated are the growers of the Okanagan.

THE YELLOW PERIL CLOSE AT HAND.

CALIFORNIA was in the limelight a few weeks ago by its drastic action in the matter of the ownership of land by Orientals. The same problem is abroad in the Okanagan. In the north end of the Valley the situation has reached an acute stage. In unclouded verbiage, it resolves itself into a struggle for very existence by the white agriculturists. The Orient is underselling the Occident. The lower standard of living which characterizes the eastern races undermines the organization which the whites have effected, and the Chinese market gardener is enabled to sell his produce below the price of the United Growers.

Elsewhere in this issue is printed the resolution, by the enforcement of which the central marketing organization of the Valley seeks to uproot the snag. The problem has grown in the years, but there has previously been no all-embracing body which has felt the force of the menace. Our legislators are awake to the situation, for parallel conditions are to be found in the Coast districts. Prompt action is the response the all too tardy agitation calls for. At stake is the well being of agriculture in the Okanagan.

BOARDS OF TRADE AND FREIGHT RATES.

SOME turgid oratory was indulged in last week at Ottawa, during the hearing of the western freight rates case before the Railway Commission. Mr. F. H. Phippen, speaking on behalf of the Canadian Northern Railroad, unleashed his sarcasm on the Boards of Trade in the West that watch the community interests in a wide way—and seemingly in a way which makes itself felt. Here is an extract from Mr. Phippen's speech:

"You will recollect that this investigation was started by a resolution which was passed by the Winnipeg Board of Trade. I do not know if it is the same in Eastern Canada, but in the West, Boards of Trade have become almost a disease. There is not a hamlet from Winnipeg to the Rocky Mountains, which boasts two stores and a curling rink, that has not a Board of Trade. This disease was evidenced by the sheaf of resolutions which filtered down to Ottawa, reminding one of a bunch of handbills chucked from a balloon, because they were all in the same words, all printed in the same type and all said the same thing, asking the government to do something for the reason that the country westward from Manitoba sweltered under rates seven and a half times higher than in Manitoba. The resolution had its origin in Winnipeg. The Winnipeg merchants, having made enough money so that they didn't need to pay attention to their own business, are able to give a little to that of the railways, and conceived the idea of lowered rates, so that they could make so much more profit on the goods sold to the public. That agitation, declared Mr. Phippen loudly and aggressively, was an agitation of the Boards of Trade, backed up by some newspapers, and because the representatives of the railways had refused to give a commodity rate on the paper used for their press work."

Such argument defeats itself. So long as such unbending corporations as that which Mr. Phippen represents are abroad in the land, just so long will there be a large field for the activities of the rural Board of Trade. In attributing the origin and early development of the historic western freight rates case to the work of these bodies, Mr. Phippen unwittingly pays a tribute to their far-reaching influence.

CASE DISMISSED.

"The case need never have come before the Court," was the comment of Reeve Thomson, in dismissing a charge against an itinerant insurance agent, of obtaining insurance money by fraud. The case was heard at the jail on Wednesday afternoon. Capt. F. J. Langueoc was also on the bench with the Reeve. The amount in question was $6.75. The complainant had signed the necessary papers, but when his employer had paid out the first premium from current wages owing, objection was made. It transpired during the hearing that the complainant had evidently no clear conception of what the forms he had signed meant, although the wording was in no way ambiguous, nor did the agent make any misrepresentation. When complaint was made to Constable Graham, he traced the insurance agent to Naramata, where he was canvassing among the railway workers, and brought him to Summerland, where he underwent the odium of a short stay in the jail. The hearing was short, and the defendant was released without even the payment of costs.

Mr. Archibald Ferguson of Winnipeg arrived on Saturday evening last, and will spend Christmas and possibly the winter season at the home of his sister, Mrs. D. L. Sutherland. Mr. Ferguson came here from Transcona, near the prairie capital, where he has lately completed a $125,000 school building.

An inadvertency last week caused the announcement in the change of the ferry schedule of the Okanagan Lake Boat Company, that the only alteration made was the cancellation of the early morning round trip from Naramata. Further change was made by which the ferry now leaves Naramata at 9 a.m. instead of 9.30 as heretofore.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

Mrs. J. B. Robinson from Peachland has been visiting with Mrs. R. C. Lipsett for a few days this week.

Mrs. Buchan Reesor, with her young son Hedley, has moved into the pretty furnished cottage on the lakeshore at Peach Orchard, the property of Mr. J. W. S. Logie.

"If Santa Claus has corns the same as grandpa," said a wee girl the other day, "I fink he'd be 'fraid to come down the chimney over a hot fire for fear his corns would pop."

Guests at dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson were Mr. and Mrs. Hall, who are now occupying their new house on the Fulton lot at Crescent Beach which they acquired this year.

The College students presented Miss K. C. McLeod, their popular Lady Principal, with a very pretty Christmas gift in the form of a solid brass salver at their breaking up entertainment last night.

Mr. George W. Lang came in from Calgary on Saturday evening last and will, with Mrs. Lang, proceed to Victoria for Christmas. Later they, with Mr. and Mrs. Morfitt, will return to their home here.

Here are a few suggestions from the Leather Store about that Christmas present:—Fancy slippers, dancing pumps, handbags, club-bags, suit-cases, gloves and mitts, purses, etc. Call and see our stock.

Mr. T. E. Clay went up on Tuesday morning's boat to the Landing. He is sailing for the Old Country from Halifax on the "Allan liner "Corican" on December 24th.

Mr. J. M. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson will be on the same boat.

"It's good to get back to the warmth of the Valley," was the comment of Mr. Wm. Sauter on his return from a fortnight's visit to Revelstoke, where there is a snow world and everyone sleighing. Mr. Sauter came down on Saturday night's boat from Kelowna where he has spent a few days on his way home.

The fire fiend did fell work at Penticon on Monday last. A blaze was discovered in Welby's livery stable in the darkness of the early morning hours. In the spectacular conflagration which followed seven horses were burned to death and four rigs were also destroyed. The total loss will amount to some thousands of dollars, half of which is said to be covered by insurance.

There was a farewell "family" Christmas dinner at the J. L. Logie ranch on Sunday to mark the departure of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson for England this week. Mr. and Mrs. Logie had around their table Mr. and Mrs. J. W. S. Logie, Mr. and Mrs. Hogg, the Misses Bena and Grace Logie, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson, but the merry gathering had the shadow of farewell.

It is strange to contemplate the great variety of forms the Santa Claus custom assumes in different countries. In Belgium the little ones fill their shoes with carrots and oats and hay for the white horse St. Nicholas is supposed to drive. Very early in the morning they run to the room in which their shoes have been left and find that the provender has gone, and in its place candles and presents are found.

The Garnett Valley Mill, whose ad. appears on page 5 of this number, has recently been undergoing a number of improvements and enlargements. The motive power has been increased by the addition of another boiler and engine, and some new machinery has been added, and the mill is now in excellent shape for producing all kinds of building material, properly milled, as well as box shooks in any sizes and quantity.

An uninvited hunting party from West Summerland occupied Mr. S. A. Liddell's cabin at Bathford for several days toward the end of November. They considerably left their names, and if they will replace and pay for the things destroyed and mislaid, nothing more will be said of the way they must have "pigged" it, judging by the state in which the cabin was found after their departure. Mr. Liddell has made a practice of leaving his cabin at the disposal of hunting parties, during the season, and it is regrettable that his generosity should thus be imposed upon.

Rev. R. W. Lee will be the special preacher at the Methodist Church, Kelowna, on Sunday, next, December 21st.

We have welcomed back to Summerland Mr. L. R. Dunrobin, who has returned from Kelowna, and will spend the winter here with Mr. Douglas Hamilton.

Miss Evelyn Brown came in from Port Moody by Wednesday night's boat to attend her sister's wedding yesterday, and will spend the Christmas holiday with her parents.

Mr. W. Sauter goes up the lake to Kelowna this week-end, and intends to reside in the Orchard City for some months, returning to Summerland in the course of the coming summer.

Mrs. G. W. Morfitt went up the lake at the end of last week. She joined her husband at Sicamous, and together they proceeded to Victoria where they will pass the Yule tide.

Christmas not being more than fourteen rods off and rapidly coming in this direction, it is incumbent on everybody to get a hustle on and attend to his holiday shopping without further delay.

The date of the annual public meeting for the ratepayers of the Municipality has been changed. It is now fixed for Saturday afternoon, the 27th inst., at two p.m., in Empire Hall. Plan to be there.

Little Miss Eva Hilborn celebrated her third birthday on Tuesday. A party of her young friends gathered at her home on Jones Flat in the early afternoon, and spent some happy hours in birthday jollifications.

Mr. D. Sutherland, and daughters, the Misses Berta and Nellie, arrived in Summerland from Winnipeg on Saturday last. They are occupying the house of Mr. Sutherland's brother, Mr. J. M. Sutherland, in Peach Orchard.

Presbyterian services will be held in St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning, and in the Methodist Church in the evening. Rev. A. L. Burch, B.A., of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, will preach at the morning service. Mr. Daly will conduct the evening service.

Keremeos has taken up the question of opening a local telephone exchange, and preliminary steps have been taken for the formation of a company there. One thousand dollars was subscribed early in the week. The exchange will not be large. Perhaps forty instruments will have connection with the switchboard.

Messrs. McKenzie, King & Co. of Penticon lost a valuable horse on Monday under peculiar circumstances. The animal was taken to the wharf in that town with a load of lumber. For some unaccountable reason the horse backed the wagon over the edge of the wharf and was pulled into the water. Despite all efforts at rescue it was drowned. The animal was valued at nearly five hundred dollars.

The car of "Christmas apples" shipped from here on November 3rd met with quick dispatch all along the route. It was shipped from Montreal on November 18, and the fruit had been distributed throughout England and Scotland by the first three or four days of December. "Received box of apples in good condition, they are really beautiful and good." This is one of the acknowledgements received by the Union from Glasgow this week.

The classes in Dressmaking by the Anglo-Parisian system, which Madame Grohe has been conducting in the High School Building, concluded on Tuesday of this week. The classes were conducted morning and afternoon for ten days, and many ladies availed themselves of the unique opportunity which the Women's Institute offered to gain instruction in this important branch of house-craft from a competent authority. The two classes combined on Tuesday at noon time, and during an informal lunch party made expression of their indebtedness to Madame Grohe for the practical information she has imparted to her scholars during her visit to Summerland. Madame Grohe was the guest of Mrs. R. C. Lipsett for a day or two at the close of the classes. She went up the lake on Thursday morning's boat, and will spend the Christmas holiday at Victoria.

C. N. Borton returned from a short visit to the Coast at the first of the week.

Vice-Principal S. Everton of the College will conduct the Baptist services on Sunday next, the 21st inst.

Mr. J. L. Logie went up the lake on Wednesday morning on a short business trip along the main line to the west.

Miss Hurachmann went up the lake on Friday's boat, en route to her home in Granum, Alberta, for the Christmas holidays.

The glass house on "The Maples" ranch, up above town, the property of Mr. W. J. Robinson, is being increased in dimensions by an addition to the southward about equal to its present length.

There will be no service in the Prairie Valley schoolhouse on Sunday next owing to the absence from home of Rev. R. W. Lee. Mr. Lee will preach, however, on the following Sunday, December 28th.

Divine service will be held in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning, December 21, at 10.30, when the preacher will be Mr. John Marshall of Okanagan College. Mr. Marshall will also conduct the evening service at 7 p.m. in St. Andrew's Church.

"Should Asiatics be excluded from Canada?"—truly a pressing question—was debated at the College on Saturday evening last. More thorough preparation gave the negatives the better presentation of argument, and the verdict went accordingly.

Mr. David Lister returned on this morning's boat (Friday) to his mission charge at Lumby, accompanied by his two youngest boys, Ernest and Fraser. Mr. Lister has enjoyed a visit of nearly two weeks with his family here. He preached at the Presbyterian service in St. Andrew's Church last Sunday evening.

The managers and directors of the local Fruit Unions of Summerland, Penticon, and Peachland met this week at the foot of the lake in conference. Future policy was largely under consideration. It is understood that the question of assembling the fruit from the southern end lake points at a central venue for carload shipment was also discussed. No information was given out for publication.

The Quadrille Club held their first dance on Wednesday night in the Empire Hall. A company of between fifty and sixty enjoyed a capital program of dances, round and square. The club has been formed among those in our town who are devotees of the dance, and it is proposed to hold a dance at the Empire Hall every other Wednesday from henceforward. The next fixture would be for New Year's Eve, but the members have not yet decided whether to call the dance for that night.

Several of our local huntsmen went out fully equipped this week in the hope of bringing the season to a grand finale! Alas, realizations did not come up to expectations—bear and deer remarked, "nothing doing," when they saw them coming from afar, and hid! The huntsmen say there is nothing up in the mountains at all. What ever really happened—one thing is sure—there was no sport. Two of our citizens at least spent two or three days in a vain search and returned empty.

A four horse team from R. H. English's stable with a load of lumber gave rise to some excitement on Wednesday in a short runaway exploit along Rosedale Avenue. The wagon had been loaded at the Greenhow Lumber yard, and the driver was in the office for a few moments. During that time the horses started off by their own accord, heading in the direction of the Anglican Rectory. They gained speed down the slight grade, such that in attempting the sharp turn the wagon was overturned, throwing the horses down. The animals were extricated from the melée of harness and lumber and found to be free from external injury. Mr. L. R. C. Douglas Hamilton, driving in the opposite direction with a light conveyance, narrowly escaped becoming involved in the accident. That there were not more serious results seems providential.

WAS KNOWN HERE.

The Coast dailies recently contained reports of the accident in shooting to Carnot McCurdy, a dry goods merchant, hailing from Sydney, N.S.

We learn that Mr. McCurdy has a number of friends both here and at Penticon, and is a cousin of Mrs. A. G. Munn. He spent Thanksgiving here with Mr. and Mrs. G. J. C. White, and was at one time a pupil of Professor W. H. A. Moore at Sydney. For a short time during Mr. King's absence he was employed in W. R. King & Co's. store at Penticon.

He was a young man of about 28 years of age, and his untimely death was caused by accidental shooting, having been mistaken for the quarry by his companion, while hunting.

GET ON YOUR SKATES.

The Summerland Skating Club, whose initial announcement appears on page 8 hopes to have ice ready for skating in a few days. Everything possible is being provided for the comfort and pleasure of patrons.

Two brilliant lamps of 2000 candle power each are to be placed in position over the ice. A typographical error in our last week's issue made it appear that these would be 200 c.p.

The Summerland Skating Club has been in existence for five years or more, and until last winter their rink has been at the Balcom reservoir. The Municipality no longer permits the use of the reservoir, and accordingly the Tennis Club grounds were leased. There is no capital investment, and the club's members and officers are not in it for any monetary gain, their sole object being to give the public cheap skating, and to encourage the youngsters in this healthy sport.

The officers this year are: President, Allan Agur; Secretary-Treasurer, P. G. Dodwell; Executive Committee, E. R. Simpson, W. H. Milligan, M. E. T. Collins.

CHRISTMAS IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Christmas Entertainment of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Sunday School will be held in the church on Tuesday next, the 23rd inst. There will be a good program. All are heartily invited. The entertainment will begin at 7.30.

The Methodist Sunday School are holding their Christmas Tree and Concert in the Men's Club on Saturday evening, the 27th inst., at half past seven. An operetta entitled "Cinderella and the Prince" will be the big feature of the program. An admission charge of 25 cents will be made to all adults, but children will be admitted free.

The Upper Baptist Sunday School are gathering on Monday evening, the 29th inst. for the annual Christmas festival. Each class will contribute one item to the program, which will thus be made up of pleasant variety. The Lakefront Baptist Sunday School have not yet decided upon the date for their Christmas gathering. Announcement of this will be made next week.

Mrs. Buchan Reesor, Mr. W. Sauter, and Miss L. V. Mills were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fosbery on Sunday evening for supper.

Among the passengers on the boat last night (Thursday) was Miss Ida Rivington, sister of Mr. Harold Rivington, who has come from Atholmer on Windermere Lake in the Kootenay, to spend the Christmas season with Mr. and Mrs. H. Rivington at their residence near the K.V.R. bridge.

Once an old Scotch weather prophet at Whittinghame informed Mr. Balfour that "it's gann to rain seventy-two days, sir."

"Come, come," said the statesman, "surely the world was flooded entirely in forty days."

"Aye, Aye!" was the response, "but the world wasn't no wool drained as it is noo."

Farmers' Institute Meeting at Naramata.

The local Farmers' Institute held a successful and well attended meeting in the basement of the Methodist Church, Mr. H. J. Wells in the chair.

It was resolved that an endeavor be made as early as possible to import a carload of hay and grain for members, and this is held as an evidence of local activity and enterprise.

A committee was appointed to draw up resolutions to present at the fifteenth Provincial Convention which is to be held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the 26th, 27th, and 28th of January at Victoria.

Secretary J. H. Pushman was chosen as the Institute delegate to appear at the convention, with Mr. J. M. Schreck to be "the alternative delegate."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Farewell to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson and their tiny daughter, Catherine Isabel, who left by Tuesday evening's boat, en route to England, has left a blank among their friends here, and there was a scene of farewell and a cheery send-off on the wharf on Tuesday night. The travellers spent Tuesday with Mrs. Robinson's parents at Summerland, and embarked there in the evening, crossing again to Naramata, and spending the night on board at Penticton.

On Monday night at a most enjoyable dinner a presentation was made at the Hotel Naramata to Mr. and Mrs. Robinson. Twenty guests assembled at a table beautifully decorated with colored lights and masses of pink and white chrysanthemums, and trails of simlax. The menu was a festive and choice one, the piece de resistance being an English plum pudding carried in ablaze in good Old Country Christmas fashion.

At the close of dinner Mr. Stanley Wright, in the name of the boarders and staff presented Mr. and Mrs. Robinson with a very handsome travelling rug of Gordon plaid. Mr. Wright made a very happy little speech, wishing the voyagers Godspeed and good fortune and a good time in England, and Mr. R. C. Robinson returned cordial thanks to their friends for the good wishes and beautiful gift in the name of his wife and himself.

Miss Blanchard was accorded an informal and very hearty vote of thanks for the arrangement of a capital menu, the pretty floral decorations, and last but not least for her culinary skill in the manufacture of the delicious Christmas pudding!

Signs of Christmas are not lacking here, and though the snow lies but lightly, in this perfect pre-Christmas weather, we have the spirit of the season busy in our midst. Active scenes of preparation are going forward in every household, and the nimble fingers of the ladies are at work finishing off all manner of dainty needlework till late hours at night. Everyone is in league with Santa Claus, and the excitement of the children is at fever pitch.

A girl doesn't consider herself a full-fledged woman until she has knocked a corner off at least one man's heart.

Current Events - OF - Town & District

Messrs. Grant Smith's mess hall is closing on and after January 1st.

A business trip to Kelowna was made by Mr. M. D. Manchester last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Manchester made a business trip to Penticton on Wednesday.

Returning to his home in Spokane Mr. Clark was a passenger up the lake on Wednesday's boat.

Mrs. Van Hise went up the lake on to-day's boat to Kelowna, where she is spending Christmas.

A week-end visitor to Mrs. Jack Logie was Mrs. Brons, and Mrs. Hogg also spent Friday with her sister-in-law.

Miss Bessie Mitchell of Penticton came up the lake for a week-end visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, last Sunday.

Mrs. Van Hise is still a visitor at Naramata, partly with Mr. and Mrs. Morsch and sometimes with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. S. Logie.

We are glad to note that Mrs. T. Doswell who has been ill for the past week is now mending rapidly, and will be again in her usual health for the Christmas season.

The departure of a family for Vancouver depleted our population this week to the extent of four, Mr. and Mrs. James Blair and their two sons, George and Frank, leaving for that city on Friday morning.

A "thimble" party was given by Mrs. Hugh Davies at Syndica House on Thursday afternoon last, and the ladies occupied themselves busily with the dainty work of Christmas present finishing before tea was served.

There is still grave news from Kamloops of the condition of Mrs. Burnett's brother, Mr. Moore, who is seriously ill of typhoid. The crisis is expected this week, and much sympathy is being expressed for Mrs. Burnett who is at her brother's bedside.

An informal farewell tea party was given by Mrs. P. S. Roe at Syndica House on Monday afternoon to Mrs. R. C. Robinson. Twenty Naramata ladies met and tendered their good wishes and "au revoirs" to Mrs. Robinson, and spent a very pleasant afternoon together.

Week-end visitors at the Hotel Naramata taking part in the farewell to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schacht.

Mrs. J. L. Logie spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. R. C. Robinson, and on Wednesday accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Robinson on their journey as far as Okanagan Landing, taking care of her tiny grand-daughter.

Dr. Will Robinson joined his brother and sister-in-law on the "Okanagan" on Wednesday morning, and proceeds as far as Toronto with them. He is spending a three weeks' Christmas vacation at the home of Mr. John Firstbrook in that city.

A very pleasant whist drive was held at the Ladies' Club House on Monday last by Mrs. S. Cash and Mrs. F. Languedoc. First prizes were carried off by Miss Freda Mitchell and Mr. John Schreck. Mrs. Julius Block and Mr. F. Rounds were awarded consolation prizes.

Work is now completed at Brandt's Camp No. 3, and the men have gone out to other work. In consequence of the closing down of the several camps lately Mr. H. Endacott's team is off the road, and has thus completed winter work while the roads were in perfect condition.

To-night (Friday) is the long anticipated Children's Christmas Entertainment, and the little ones are very excited over their program of music of vocal solos, choruses and recitations. The rehearsal was held last night under Miss Orca Williams, their teacher and Mrs. Fred Manchester.

Important business was discussed at Friday's meeting of the Unity Club, and after it was despatched Mrs. Noyes and Mrs. Hughes were hostesses for afternoon tea. A significant New Year meeting will be held on January 2nd, and the social hostesses will be Mrs. F. C. and Mrs. M. D. Manchester.

This afternoon (Friday) there is a "shaver" to be given at the Unity Club for a former member, Miss Vera Palmer, whose wedding at Hamiota, Manitoba, we noted last week. The bride's fellow members are planning to send along a charming little collection of gifts as a result of to-day's shower.

A splendid horse belonging to another resident who wishes to dispose of it is being raffled by Mr. Pete Stewart at $1 and $2 shares. There is eager entering for the prize and the list has been closed down at $200. Anticipation of the drawing is at a pitch of excitement this week, for the animal is a beauty and much admired in the district.

The resignation of Miss Orca Williams, the public school teacher, takes effect at the end of this term, next week. It is said that her successor has been chosen and is from Vancouver. Much regret is expressed at the resignation of Miss Williams, who has been a popular and most capable teacher, and who is relinquishing her duties in order to have a necessary rest.

Peachland Notes.

Mr. B. Whyte was a passenger to Kelowna last Saturday.

Mrs. Miller and Miss Miller visited Kelowna last Saturday.

Mrs. Morrison and daughter were visitors to Kelowna on Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Douglas attended the Fruit Growers meeting at Penticton on Tuesday night.

Miss Leone Morrison is teaching Miss Cousin's room this week, the latter being laid aside with a severe cold.

Messrs. Hardy, Vicary, Powell, and McLaughlan visited Penticton on Tuesday night in the interest of the Fruit Union.

The sale of photographs conducted by the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church on Thursday afternoon was very successful.

Miss Olive Gumow returned home on Sunday evening from Vancouver, where she has been attending the Provincial Normal School.

If it is the right kind of a home a boy will never run away from it.

RE-FITTING OF "SKOOKUM."

There are hopes that in the near future the "Skookum" will be on ferry service again, and the gallant little boat, lately so cruelly crippled, will be very welcome back on the waters of our lake. Capt. P. S. Roe is busy getting her fixed up sufficiently to float her either to Kelowna or Summerland, where the work of rebuilding can be begun. All going well she will be renovated and refitted for the road again at the earliest possible moment, and so the Okanagan Lake Boat Company expect to have their full service resumed. To have the "Skookum" back in her old form is being anticipated with pleasure by both patrons and owners alike.

Mr. T. H. Boothe, real estate and insurance agent, has just opened an office in the lakeside block for the transaction of business. The premises are cosy and well arranged.

B.C. Apples Again Win Important Awards.

Hon. J. H. Turner, Agent-General in London for B.C., cabled Sir Richard McBride on the 14th November that the biggest awards offered had been won by British Columbia, in open competition at Sheffield and Edinburgh, for display of apples.

Mr. Cunningham, B.C. Fruit Inspector, states that B.C. apples are in big demand, and that 100 carloads could have been sold now, had they been obtainable.

The United States fruit growers filled the orders. B.C. fruit growers and prospective fruit growers, act promptly, and enlarge your orchard plans.

We can supply you with all kinds of fruit tree stock to suit the special climatic conditions of each district.

Our prices for fruit tree stock this year are cheaper by nearly one-half, than heretofore offered to B.C. fruit growers, viz., $8 to $12 per 100; all grown in our own province, such as Jonathan, Spitzenberg, Baldwin, Northern Spy, and more than 20 other choice varieties.

Patronize home production, and make our province the fruit granary of the West.

Don't forget the beautifying of your home plot. In our stock of over $100,000 we can meet the most cultured and aesthetic taste, to make home environments a centre of beauty. Evergreen stock, shade trees, roses, flowering shrubbery, bulbs, flowering plants etc. Catalogues mailed free on application.

Holly for Hedges, up to 12 inches, $20 per 100; Privet, 2 1/2 ins., $30 per 1,000; Laurel, 2 to 2 1/2 ins., $20 to $30 per 100.

EXECUTION OF THREE REBEL OFFICERS BY FEDERAL FIRING SQUAD.

Federal firing squad executing three rebel officers, which, under Mexican law they are allowed to do. All officers in the rebel army above the rank of captain are held to be traitors, and are summarily executed when captured. The officer at the right had just raised his sword, and pronounced the words, "Take aim," when the photograph was taken. At the extreme left may be seen the priest who but a moment before had given the condemned men the last rites of the Catholic Church. Two of the prisoners declined the privilege of being blindfolded. The man in the centre, with less nerve than his two fellow rebels, asked to have his eyes covered so that he might not be compelled to look down the barrels of the guns that were to end his life.

CASH and Business Philosophy

The following Letter, which explains the principle of our Cash System, has been mailed to the general public of Summerland:

Trade conditions make it imperative that we adopt a Cash System in our Stores, which we purpose putting into effect on January 1st, 1914.

In making this change we will allow a discount of 10 per cent. on all Cash Purchases, and at the same time retail our Merchandise at as close a margin of profit as is consistent with economic management.

To our Monthly Account Customers, and any others who would prefer it, we will sell Coupon Books ranging in price from $5.00 to $50.00 at a Cash Discount of 10 per cent.

With these Coupons so conveniently at hand, every cent spent gets its share of Discount.

Produce purchased from our customers will be paid for in Coupons.

It is respectfully requested that a settlement of all accounts due, be made as promptly as possible, in order to assist us in closing our books.

Thanking our customers for their liberal patronage in the past, and soliciting a continuance of same, believing a Cash System will mutually benefit one and all.

NEW GOVERNMENT WHARF. West Summerland, Dec. 10, 1913.

Dear Sir, Would you mind telling me through the medium of your paper why the government is erecting this wharf. I have asked several people not only the same question but also to what use it will be put when finished, and each one says, "ask me another," or words to that effect. I know it is useless kicking now, but I should have thought that the money would have been better placed if it would have been possible to use it say for CLEANING UP the place a bit.

Awaiting your reply, and thanking you in anticipation. Yours faithfully, INQUISITIVE.

EDITORIAL NOTE. We are sorry we cannot greatly enlighten "Inquisitive." It may be that some of our citizens know to what use the wharf is to be put. Had it been of crib construction the wharf would have served excellently for a breakwater, against south-east winds, and would have been of value to boating, and small craft generally. Built on piling it will be of no use as a breakwater. Here's a guess: some of the passenger and freight boats which are talked of as soon to be put on in opposition to the C.P.R. may lease the structure.

Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 17 (Special)—British Columbia's salmon pack this year promises to be far ahead of any former season. The total is approximately 1,353,901 cases, with a value of $7,619,742. When to this figure is added the money received for the halibut, cod and herring taken in Northern British Columbia waters, returns from fisheries of the province will show an immense total for 1913.

Business men of Prince Rupert and Northern British Columbia are planning an excursion across the continent to the Atlantic terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific upon the completion of the new transcontinental early next year. A special train will carry the excursionists east either in July or August.

PROVINCIAL POULTRY SHOW A GREAT SUCCESS.

At Vernon in 1914.

The B.C. Poultry Show which closed last Saturday after a five-day exhibition at Grand Forks, was one of the most successful shows ever held in this Province, according to advices received by the poultry division of the Department of Agriculture.

Nearly 1100 birds were exhibited, and the number of silver cups and shields offered in addition to the regular and special prizes, was far in excess of the number given at any previous poultry show given in British Columbia. The high standard set in previous years was again reached, if indeed it was not surpassed at this year's show, and the number of entries and the splendid condition of the birds exhibited made the task of the judges no light one.

The annual convention of the B.C. Poultry Association took place on Thursday last in the Davis Hall. Addresses of welcome were made by the Mayor and the President of the Board of Trade, and Mr. F. W. Lang, president of the association, made a suitable reply. At the evening session, addresses were given by Mrs. Helen Dow Whitaker of Tracton, Washington, and R. W. Grigor, of Rossland, while Benjamin Hoy, assistant provincial horticulturist, gave an address on poultry and fruit.

Vernon was chosen as the scene of the next provincial show, and officers of the association were elected for the coming year.

The convention was the best ever held by the association, twenty-six delegates being present out of a possible twenty-seven.

British Columbia shingles are finding a wider market in the United States since the new tariff law went into effect, and shipments have much increased with benefit to the Canadian manufacturer. The demand across the line promises to grow largely in future.

A mine of silver and copper in its dooryard is the distinction claimed by the new town of Smithers in Northern British Columbia. The vein runs under the Grand Trunk Pacific freight yards in the town and work of development has been begun not over 200 yards from the railway station.

Rebel Army Advancing on Mexican Capital.

General Francisco ("Pancho") Villa, rebel chieftain who has led the Constitutionalist troops to many victories over the Federals, snatched as he was about to depart at the head of a column to take possession of Chihuahua, evacuated by the Federals as soon as they heard of the rebel advance. Villa and Carranza are concentrating their armies at Chihuahua for an advance on Mexico City, where Villa says he will eat his Christmas dinner.

According to Villa, who is a very business-like person (he used to be a bandit before he became a Constitutionalist) the rebel army will total 20,000 men when the start for Mexico City takes place. If Villa's prediction proves correct, the biggest battle since Porfirio Diaz abdicated is due to take place shortly. Villa says that besides the men he will take to Mexico City, rebels from the south will join him outside the capital, greatly strengthening the Constitutionalist army. It is possible that President Constitutional Don Victoriano Huerta will not wait for a battle to take place, if he observes that the Villa-Carranza army actually totals 20,000, and that the southern rebels are ready to ally themselves with the two northern leaders. He may conclude to absent himself from Mexico. It would be very dangerous for Mr. Huerta to fall into the hands of Carranza or Villa, for he probably would be executed as a traitor.

CLEANING UP 1913 BUSINESS.

COUNCIL HOLDS LAST MEETING BUT ONE.

The Municipal Council met on Tuesday for the purpose of cleaning up December's accumulation of accounts and other business. All members of the Board were present.

Communications which were taken up after the approving of the minutes of the previous meeting included a letter from Billings & Cochrane, solicitors for the K.V.R., with reference to municipal debentures taken by that corporation in order to provide the municipality with funds with which to make the pipe connection between Trout Creek and the reservoir. The legal firm required a by-law enacted by the Council amending the money by-laws so that the desired portions of the debenture issues might be legally cancelled. The railway company will take in all $3000 debentures at 10 per cent. discount. Already $2,822.89 has been expended on the reservoir pipe line, with the steel and cast iron pipe, trenching, laying, and back-filling yet to be done.

The Union of B.C. Municipalities asked the Board to remit $20 as its portion of the Municipal Attorney's salary. This was left over for the next board as the request was understood to be for next year's salary.

Robert Hill of Glasgow, who has been in communication with the Board for some time with a view to installing a new set of recent debentures, in a letter to the clerk requested that the Board cancel the old debentures, but as most of the interest had been cancelled he would make no further effort at present.

Free light was granted the Country Association for its Annual Show to be held in Empire Hall next week.

By unanimous motion the clerk was instructed to have the Okanagan Telephone Company's instrument removed from the Municipal Office after the end of the year.

Further progress was made on the enquiry into the claim of Messrs. Morgan and Gartrell for a sidehill plow. It was shown that Supt. Mitchell had instructed a municipal employee to go to Trout Creek and get such a plow from the roadside. This employee states that he sent two men to get the plow which was taken to the job on which he was then working. The teamster identifies a plow now at the municipal shop as the plow he used on the job. Messrs. Morgan and Gartrell state this is not their plow. It is claimed by some of the members of the Council that the plow taken was an old one, the property of the provincial government, and that in all probability the government men took the new plow, the property of Messrs. Morgan and Gartrell. That these same men had themselves taken a municipal plow from Jones Flat was a statement made before the Council. Further information brought out was that the Municipality is also short a couple of plows. It is probable that the new Council, to whom the evidence already in hand will be turned over, will have to straighten out the tangle.

No written agreement has yet been drawn up between the Municipality and the K.V.R. with reference to supplying the railway with water. The president, however, has agreed to pay $25 per month for a 20,000 gallon daily supply, and a reasonable rate if a larger quantity is used.

The following accounts were passed for payment:

Pay roll	$740.11
T. B. Young, feed	23.50
J. J. Mitchell, horse hire	36.00
Freight and Express	42.70
Can. Westinghouse Co.	11.80
Nor. Elec., street lights	14.28
Sundries	35.74
Fr. R. Gartrell, roadwork	6.00
School Board,
Doc. requisition	990.07
Total	$1915.80

In addition to the above a pay roll of $212.58 and sundries provision bills for $15.65 were passed upon as December's outlay on the new pipe line.

Hon. William Hespeler and Mr. A. E. Hespeler waited upon the Board with reference to their claim for road laid across Prairie Valley lot. After some little discussion a motion, proposed by Coun. Robinson, seconded by Coun. Dale, was carried authorizing the payment to Mr. Hespeler of $219.48 for the right-of-way, being at the rate of $300 per acre, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. for three years.

J. R. Tate applied for electric light connection which was granted. The by-laws necessary to make the amendments in the money by-laws referred to above were given their first, second, and third readings, and will be finally considered on January 5th.

Robert Mitchell was allowed to take ice from the reservoir at 23 cent per ton, with the understanding that he is not to charge the public more than $1.15 delivered on the bank.

The Council adjourned at noon to meet again on January the 5th.

The New Wharf.

The work of building the government wharf, the contract for which was recently let to Andrew McCann, is well advanced. It is understood that the wharf will be completed by the middle of January. The wharf will be built on the site of the old wharf, and will be a substantial structure, capable of handling the largest vessels.

Just how much local labor will be employed has not been learned. Judging from the fact that enquiries have been made for housing accommodation it seems probable that at least some outside labor will be employed.

PRESBYTERIAN CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT.

There were no vacant seats in St. Andrew's Church on Tuesday night when the Presbyterian Sunday School held its Christmas Tree and Concert. There were two tall trees, one on either side of the platform, prettily decorated and laden with presents, garlands, foliage, and a Christmas motto gave a seasonable air to the church.

A program of considerable length was participated in by members of the Sunday School with the exception of one item. The "family scene" was made up by three adults and a number of scholars. They were an expectant and happy party whose songs, readings, and dialogues gave much pleasure to those who witnessed the "family gathering" for Christmas.

The first part of the program consisted of contributions from some of the tinstest of the school. Their recitations, action songs, and dialogues were heartily enjoyed by the shareholders as well as the other children.

The greatest interest attached to an item given by about eighteen boys and girls. It consisted of proly singing and effective dialogue. Father Christmas appeared to the jingle of sleigh bells, and joined in the revelry and music. He made a happy figure surrounded by the boys of clamorously happy young people.

The two Christmas trees could not hold all the seasonable ingresses which Santa Claus distributed. Everyone was remembered by some Christmas gift, from the youngest to the oldest.

Rev. C. H. Daly had personally arranged the program and the success of the entertainment was in a large measure due to his efforts, as well as to the heartiness of all the performers and helpers.

Secretary J. Tait of the Farmers' Institute is receiving orders for stamping powder which will be imported by the Institute and distributed among members at cost.

Switchboard Here In Three Weeks.

Local Company Rushing the Work on Telephone Lines.

Dissatisfaction Elsewhere.

Other towns in the Valley are watching the workings of Summerland spirit of independence in combat with the coercive measures of the Okanagan Telephone Company. The interest of the Valley is more than that of spectators. The promised success of Summerland in establishing an independent local company will inspire other towns to action likewise, and concerted steps in this direction would sound the death knell of the Okanagan Company throughout the length of the Valley.

The city of Enderby has come to grips with the problem. The rates were raised and hours of connection shortened. Sufficient phones were ordered out to impair the usefulness of the system. The city Council took up the question, obtained legal assistance, and are putting up a bold resistance to the bluster of the company.

The municipality of Coldstream is also in the toils. The rates were raised in spite of protest. The municipal authorities suggested arbitration, but with an eye single to its own greatness, the Okanagan Company saw no difficulty that called for such sensible procedure. It thus excavated another potential of its own grave.

The new policy adopted by the Okanagan Telephone Company, which is one of high handed domination, bids fair to eventually put the company out of business so far as the Okanagan Valley is concerned.

A telephone system is only valuable to a community when there are enough phone users to make it worth while. Any policy adopted by the company tending to reduce the phones in use simply places a further tax upon the few subscribers the company retains and forces them to pay the maximum charge for the minimum service. It is all very well for the company to take the stand that it will eventually compel the acceptance of its arbitrary policy, whether the people like it or not, but the company cannot compel the people to do anything. A telephone company, like any other company handling a public utility, must meet the wishes of the people if it hopes to hold the people friends.

The old days of compulsion in business are gone, and gone for ever. If a business house, a transportation company or a telephone company refuses to meet the public on an equitable basis, the people will soon find a way to put the company out of commission.

"The people of Summerland are the first to have taken up the matter in a practical way. They are now installing a thoroughly up-to-date telephone system of their own, which is certain to drive the Okanagan telephone monopoly out of our southern sister town. Poles are being dispensed with, underground cables being used to convey the wires along the streets, thus doing away with much unsightliness, and at the same time further removing the wires from the possibility of induction.

"There is no doubt the other towns in the Valley will do likewise. Indeed, an independent company is already seeking to get a foothold in the Okanagan. Perhaps it will have been the best thing that could have happened, if the attitude of the telephone company eventually forces the people to establish their own municipally owned telephone systems. The wisdom of this has been demonstrated in hundreds of instances where systems have been installed by the people, and the rate lowered to a nominal figure so that everybody made use of it. Under such a system, instead of being put in touch with 30 or 40 local users, at $3 and $4 per month, Enderby users would be in touch with 100 or 200 users at $1 or $2 per month. It has worked out this way elsewhere, Rich Mexican Being Examined By U.S. Immigration Authorities.

The lure of gold in Mexico, where so many men have reaped a harvest is not sufficient to hold some of the rich men who value life and liberty higher than wealth in Mexico. Luis Terrazas, Mexico's richest citizen, is among those who have sought the protection of the stars and stripes. However, he found on reaching the border that the United States authorities are showing no favoritism. The customs inspectors went through his luggage pell-mell, and the above photograph shows him being given the same medical examination by immigration authorities as that received by the lowest peon. This picture was made at Presidio, Texas, just after the Mexican millionaire had crossed the Rio Grande.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES HOLD LAST MEETING.

RETIREMENT OF CHAIRMAN ROBINSON

The last meeting of the 1913 School Board was held on Monday at the Council Room, all the members with the exception of Trustees Caldwell being present. There was but little more than routine business, and the session was a short one.

The Manufacturers' Association of B.C. in a form letter to the Board reminded them of the fact that many articles of every day use, including supplies usually purchased for school purposes were being manufactured in B.C., and asked that home industries be supported.

Trustee McIntyre reported progress on the arrangement with the College for hours of study for music pupils that would not conflict with public school studies. Dr. McIntyre will take this up again with the Principal and teachers in that department at the College.

One of the members of the Board reported complaints of pupils in Division III, being deprived of their noon hour and recess by the teacher, and he claimed that the law did not permit the detaining of children either at noon or recess, and only after school in extreme cases. The children attending this department were very young, and should be given all recreation possible, and he further objected to the assigning of home lessons to pupils of this age, which he said was being done by the teacher of that department.

Chairman Robinson thought that and there is no reason to suppose it would work out differently here.

Very satisfactory progress is being made by the Summerland Telephone Company on its various lines. The cable, with the exception of but a few feet, has all been placed, and the work of splicing the ends begun. Wires are being stretched out in all directions ready for connection with the homes and business houses.

The Kellogg Company, who have the contract for furnishing the switchboard and instruments, has guaranteed to have these delivered before the 15th of January. Upon the arrival of this equipment the Kellogg Company's men will take charge of the plant, which they guarantee to complete in a first-class manner.

Division	Enrollment	Boys	Girls	Average Age
I	44	18	26	39.6
II	50	19	31	28.8
III	31	28	3	29.5
IV	32	16	16	29.5
V	30	10	20	26.6
VI	18	8	10	22.2
Totals	170	97	73	28.3

It was decided that a public meeting for the purpose of discussing school matters would be held on Saturday, January 3rd.

Chairman Robinson announced that because of the changes in business he would not be a candidate for next year's board. During his two years on the Board he had worked for the betterment of the schools, and he thought something had been accomplished, and he urged that as soon as possible Manual Training and later Domestic Science be added to the school curriculum. He found it a pleasure to work on the Board as now constituted, and thanked the members for their support during his chairmanship and for the unity which had existed.

Dr. McIntyre in speaking for himself and the other members said he was sorry to see Mr. Robinson go, and if he were on the Board next year would regret his absence from the chair. He had learned to know him better than he had known him before, and found him agreeable and ready to work along lines not quarrelsome, in co-operation with the other members, and showed ability in being able to smooth over any difficulties and make peaceful adjustments of which his recommendation during the morning that parent and teacher be brought together was an example.

The Board then adjourned sine die.

The following is a summary of the attendance of the six divisions of the public school. Nos. V, and VI, are the Primary Departments, Town and Garnett Valley respectively. The High School report was not received.

"REVIEW" Offices.

Farm Accountancy.

A series of articles on Agricultural Book-keeping, written for the Review by Walter Wright, Commercial Instructor, Okanagan College.

There are many different ways of keeping books, and consequently many ways of keeping farm books. The two classes into which accountants place the forms used, are Single Entry and Double Entry. Double Entry is a little intricate, and without some study as to its workings is not to be recommended. There is no question but that it is the best system, but more space would be needed to explain it than it was intended these articles should use.

Outside of Double Entry books the form that appeals most for farm work is the Ledger-Journal where the entries and the explanations are made together.

Below are given several accounts with typical entries that would occur in farm accounts where a Single Entry Ledger-Journal is kept.

Note—always head accounts with the year date, it saves trouble.

The Progress Club of Vancouver, in order to broaden the scope of its work, has changed its organization into the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce. The new body starts with over 500 members, and this number will very likely be doubled within a very short time. The Chamber of Commerce will not only work for the advancement of Vancouver, but will co-operate fully with every public-spirited organization of the whole province.

Winter lectures before the Farmers' Institutes throughout the province are planned by the Department of Agriculture. Experts on the various phases of agriculture and horticulture stationed at Victoria will travel through the fruit and general farming districts during the winter months, and will discuss the subjects of greatest interest to the farmers. This work will be much more extensive this year than ever before.

Some Tricks Of The Trade

It is quite a common thing in these markets for dealers to actually pay abnormally high prices when the supply is very limited in order to induce shippers to rush in larger quantities than the market really demands, which knocks the bottom out of prices. The shippers lose, the dealer gains by securing his requirements for weeks, perhaps at ruinously low prices. Unless one has opportunity to peep behind the scenes it looks like a bona fide case of over supply, whereas it is one of any tricks of the commission man or dealer who laughs up his sleeve at the foolish farmer trying to market his own products, getting beaten "to a frazzle" at a game with which he is not familiar and in which he had no business to enter.

The only way is for the producers to co-operate and pay men who know the game and how to play it, and in this I think the government ought to protect and assist the farmer producer, who is the man to be encouraged and protected because he is the corner stone of all activity, wealth and development, and while governments in the past have not undertaken this most important work except in exceptional cases such as Denmark in dairy produce, South Australia chiefly in fruit, wine, honey, mutton and canned goods. Yet the marvellous successes made by those countries in doing so is ample proof of the desirability or perhaps I should say necessity of doing so. Denmark under cooperative principles and government patronage has within a few years increased her shipments of butter 231,000,000 lbs. annually, viz. from importing 31,000,000 lbs. to exporting 200,000,000 lbs. annually, value 70,000,000 dollars.

I will now endeavor to show how important the assistance of the government is by describing the methods of the South Australian Government in assisting their growers and shippers to secure a reliable and permanent market for their products.

Their Trade Commissioner, Major Norton, is attached to the Agent General's office nominally, but in reality acts on his own initiative and judgment in securing the best market the country affords. His system is based on hard common sense and business acumen, and is, in my opinion, well worthy of being followed. His general rules are about as follows:

GENERAL RULES.

(1) Wherever possible dispense with the services of the commission man by selling direct to the wholesaler, or if necessary to the large retailer.

(2) When forced to deal with commission men, deal only with those who have proven themselves to be as honest as the trade will permit them to be, and then sell only by private sale or treaty and never by auction unless under pressure of over supply or deterioration of produce.

(3) Regular commission is charged on all sales made varying from 2½ to 10 per cent. according to the class of product; the quantity sold; and whether initial or repeating sales. The object of charging the regular commission is to defray the cost of handling the business which is properly a first charge against each transaction. These commissions should cover the pay roll of the additional force necessary to properly carry on the business, salesmen, book-keeper, etc.

ADVERTISING.

This is done chiefly through Trade Journals. Major Norton is an honorary member of the Federation of Grocers of the United Kingdom, and is one of the Executive Committee as well as one of their lecturers.

EXHIBITIONS.—A comprehensive exhibit of all products grown but chiefly of those to be pushed into prominence is made at all important exhibitions. Printed matter is distributed and questions answered. Directions are given to enquirers where the products can be purchased in their own town or city.

DISPLAYS.—A number are made in each exhibition town and neighboring towns in shop and store windows, and the merchant is also induced to stock the goods for sale, the display being attractive and unique with artistic descriptive cards and products in attractive packages arrests attention and creates interest and so makes a demand for the goods; as a natural sequence repeat orders are received and a permanent market is established. In the city of Belfast recently thirty such displays were made during the exhibition period.

LECTURES.—The Federation of Grocers arranges for lectures during the time or preceding the exhibition periods to instruct their members and shop assistants in regard to the uses of particular products, their market seasons, proper handling and storage, extent of shipments expected, and giving any information of value thought desirable or profitable.

RING OUT THE OLD—RING IN THE NEW.

IT IS NOT WELL, as nineteen hundred and thirteen passes into the latest page of the book of years to dwell unduly upon its shortcomings. Nineteen hundred and fourteen faces us with a challenge. Those who have courage to take up the gauntlet, to take profit from experience, and to make past failure but steps up to success; to these the passing of nineteen hundred and thirteen will bring the satisfaction that so many feel is wanting at this season.

Those who read the omens for the coming fruit season have not a story of foreboding as twelve months ago. The coming year shines with promise for the Okanagan orchardist. His first concern is for marketing facilities. Here the situation has a phenomenal clarity. The Okanagan United Growers has gained a hold on the problem that the approaching season will show up in all completeness. A square deal is in sight for the fruit grower, and the measures that spell relief for the orchardist hold similar promise for the consumer. A closer manifestation of the spirit of co-operation will hasten this end.

The imperceptible merge of fall into winter has put the orchards into the best possible maturity for the short-lived thraldom of our world in the grip of the frost. A cloak of snow will complete nature's preparations for the sleep of summer's fecundity. The well kept trees are showing fruit buds in plenty, the first indication of promise for the season.

Individual fruit growers have the opportunity to make success or failure of these bright prospects. There is work for the winter days. Pruning and spraying are duties every man owes to his trees. Intelligently and systematically practised they pay dividends in an augmented output of unblemished crop. Neglected they hasten bankruptcy, for poor fruit is no asset. Later in the season the thinning of prolific fruit is another undertaking which calls for thoroughness essentially. Judiciousness is needed in all three operations. Haphazard has no place in the glossary of horticultural terms.

Prune moderately, spray thoroughly, and thin vigorously; let this be the slogan of Summerland orchardists all in due season; then in the harvest fulness there will be the quality and quantity that makes the culture of the apple and the peach of profit to the man with the hoe.

THE FLAVOR OF B.C. APPLES.

THE November number of The Canadian Horticulturist contained this paragraph:

"A comparison of the quality of the fruit of British Columbia with that of the product grown in Ontario, has often been made. The answers which we have received by those on the spot in regard to this particular point assure us that while British Columbia apples are generally of better size and almost invariably of better color they cannot compare favorably with Ontario fruit when flavor is considered."

It would be interesting to enquire if samples of the same varieties of apples grown in British Columbia and also in Ontario have been compared side by side, and these conclusions as to flavor arrived at?

The great trouble in British Columbia is that by far too many varieties are grown, and that the highly-colored, flavorless kinds, that please the eye only, were, as a rule, given the preference when the orchards were first planted. In a new country, the original planters, often without any experience, and consequently nothing to guide them, were almost bound to make mistakes of this kind, which as time goes on will have to be rectified. Numbers of trees are now being yearly headed back, and approved varieties grafted thereon.

It is stated that the Kootenay Fruit Growers' Union shipped out eighty-four varieties of apples this season, and the manager is most emphatic in drawing attention to the absolute necessity for reducing the number. There can be no doubt whatever that the most satisfactory plan would be for the growers in each district to ascertain which of the few good marketable varieties succeed best in their localities, and to specialize in these kinds only, and weed out all others.

There is very little in this question of the superiority of flavor. Of course, it may be true to a certain extent, especially when the trees have experienced a check of any kind, but there are apples grown in British Columbia of such varieties as Gravenstein, Cox's Orange Pippin, and Northern Spy, Delicious and Wagoner, of superb flavor, that it is certain would be hard to beat in Ontario or anywhere else. As to size and color, it goes without saying they could not be excelled.

THAT the Canadian Government has decided to prohibit all Oriental immigration for a period of at least three months is the substance of an unconfirmed despatch which a London paper published last week from Tokio. It was stated that the Imperial Japanese authorities had been so notified. No invidious discriminations are to be made, so objection cannot be forthcoming from the Rising Sun Empire on that account. No mention was made of the date this ordinance goes into effect, nor has it been authenticated.

LETHBRIDGE, Alberta is the first city in Western Canada to come under the commission form of municipal government. The new order goes into effect on January 1st. The personnel of the commission is the mayor, who is also commissioner of finance, and two others, who are respectively commissioner of public works and public utilities.

The new charter contains such advanced legislation as the initiative, referendum, recall, and woman suffrage. Many eyes will be focussed on Lethbridge as the experiment is worked out. Its success will with out question, inspire emulation on the part of other western cities.

OLD LONDON has land values that makes even western assessments on this continent pale into insignificance. The Duke of Bedford lately disposed of about nineteen acres of the very heart of the British metropolis for a consideration said to amount to $50,000,000, or about $241.50 per square foot. The property which has changed hands includes the historic Covent Garden fruit market site. Much comment has been aroused by the gigantic deal, the press generally connecting the sale with the Chancellor of the Exchequer's activity in land and housing reform.

NEW K.V.R. PASSENGER BOAT.

From an unquestioned source of information, the Review learns that it is the purpose of the Kettle Valley Railway to put a passenger boat into service on the lower end of the lake at an early date.

Plans have been drawn up for a seventy-five foot speedy passenger boat on which tenders have been asked. It is said that a Penticton firm are the successful bidders. This boat will ply between Kelowna and Penticton, calling at Peachland, Summerland and Naramata.

felt and closer will be the prices the stores are enabled to give. The buying public are receiving the coupon system with general favor, and as its advantages become more widely known, the "Trade at Home" spirit will grow in Summerland.

Lake Traffic.

The C.P.R.'s new steel tug, a duplicate of the "Castlegar," excepting that the hull of the latter is of wood, is now all but completed. Another week's work will add the necessary finishing touches, when the craft will be ready for launching, which will be about February 1st.

The new steel passenger boat is also rapidly getting into shape. The hull has been set up, and the machinery installed. The main deck is now being put on. There remains, of course, much work in construction of the superstructure, but everything looks promising for the launching of the new ship early in the summer. It is understood that this new boat will for some weeks replace the steamer "Okanagan," which will be pulled out and given a thorough overhauling.

Both vessels are being built at the Canadian Pacific yards, Okanagan Landing.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

The Christmas season is being spent by Mr. and Mrs. Lang at Victoria.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Lipsett spent Christmas at Kelowna, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Moreland.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Morfitt returned from the Coast in time to spend Christmas in their Summerland home.

Rev. Father Verbeke of Kelowna will officiate at a celebration of Holy Mass in Empire Hall on Saturday morning, the 27th inst., at eight o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hatfield and family went down to Kaleden on Wednesday to spend the Christmas season with relatives. They expect to return early next week.

Mr. K. N. Van Allen went up the lake in the morning boat on Christmas Eve, en route for Toronto where he is joining the family for a trip in the Mediterranean.

Manager E. B. May of the Bank of Montreal, who has been confined to his home for some days with an attack of the grippe, is rapidly recovering, and hopes to be out the latter part of this week.

Mrs. J. Lock came up from Kaleden at the end of last week and is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Williams, Peach Orchard. Mrs. Lock will remain in Summerland over the New Year.

Arrangements have been made with Mr. Roe whereby residents of Naramata will be brought across the lake to the special musical service in the Methodist Church on Sunday night, returning after the close of the service.

The engagement is announced of Miss Ada Raby, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Raby (late of London, England) and Mr. Clarence E. Craig, eldest son of Mr. John Craig of North Gower, Ont. The marriage will take place during 1914, date to be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. MacLaine were at Victoria when last heard from by friends here. After spending some time in that and other Coast cities they will return to Wallachin, in the Kamloops district, for about two months, after which they will permanently reside in Victoria.

Among the many family gatherings which were held yesterday was one at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Hogg. Every member of the family resident here having their Christmas dinner together. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Logie, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. S. Logie and the Misses Bena and Grace Logie.

Christmas services will be held in the Baptist Churches on Sunday next, at Parkdale in the morning at 10.30, and in the Lakefront Church at 3.30 p.m. There will be no Sunday School session in connection with either church. The choir of the upper church will render special music on each occasion. A short address will be given both morning and afternoon. All will be welcomed to these bright services.

How many people depend upon the camera for their impressions of Summerland would be too exhaustive to compute. The Christmas work of our local photographer, C. P. Nelson, cannot fail to diffuse much knowledge of local topography, not only throughout the near or distant, but over the continent and across the seas. Calendars with well executed local views and neat legends of the days have found ready acceptance among those who have wished for an inexpensive Christmas reminder. Their wide sale has made a name for their originator—"The Photographer in Your Town."

Few know the two-fold profit of the apary. Entomologically bees are of assistance in a fundamental way to the orchardist. Delectably they give a by-product which agricultural communities in particular should foster. The honey on sale at Elliott's stores from the apiaries of Mrs. Phillips prove the possibilities of beekeeping in Summerland. Especially welcome to the table stores of the housewife as a panacea to the jaded palate, its sale could be developed into a wide and profitable "side-line" for the fruit grower. Delicious extracted honey in attractive glass jars is worthy evidence of Mrs. Phillips' enterprise in this neglected line of orchard-adjunct work.

Some 300 Christmas trees were shipped by one of our enterprising citizens this season.

Don't miss the "Shepherd King" at the Methodist Church on Sunday night at 7 p.m.

Rev. R. W. Lee will conduct Divine service in the Schoolhouse, Prairie Valley on Sunday next at 3.30 p.m.

The "Maude Moore" has been pulled out for the winter and now lies near the old millsite at Naramata.

Up to the present space has not been available for the publishing of November's weather report. It appears in this number on page 3.

To encourage cash business Mr. Beer will in future offer the following terms: 10 per cent. off for cash down, 5 per cent. off if paid within thirty days, after thirty days net.

Reeve Thomson made the statement at last Tuesday's Council Meeting that he planned on leaving here on January 20th for a trip round the world. He will sail from Vancouver.

Miss Josie Moke of Cornwall, Ontario, but recently of Lacombe, Alberta, niece of Mrs. Fenner, arrived in Summerland on Friday evening last, and expects to remain here for some time.

Presbyterian services will be held in St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning and evening. There will be special Christmas music at the evening service. Alexander's Hymns will also be used at this service.

The friends of Prof. W. H. A. Moore will be glad to learn that he is now convalescent. For a time Mr. Moore's condition looked rather serious, and was the cause of some alarm on the part of his family. It is expected that he will be able to resume his duties at the College when the winter term begins.

The prospects for a large and successful Poultry Show are exceedingly bright. Entries so far are much larger than ever before at this time. Preparations in the cement block have been going on apace, and the management are confident that next week's show will be one of the best, if not the best, ever held in the Valley.

Mr. F. F. Hanington, local manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who has, for some months, been more or less on the move relieving managers at other points, will probably remain in charge of the Summerland office. Mr. Gordon Dinning, who acted as manager during Mr. Hanington's absence, has this morning received orders to remove to Kelowna, where he will act in the capacity of teller. The Kelowna branch will occupy the new premises just built after the first of the new year.

The Christmas Tree and Entertainment of the Parkdale Baptist Sunday School will be held on Monday evening, December 29th, at 7.30. An attempt has been made to secure a contribution from each class, making a program of interest and variation. The Lakefront Sunday School are holding their Christmas gathering on Tuesday next, the 30th inst. The younger scholars will meet at four o'clock in the afternoon at the church for a time of children's games. A light tea for all will be served about half past five, at the conclusion of which a short program will be rendered.

Whispers are going the rounds in regard to the personnel of the new Council and School Board to be elected in January, but there is little definite feeling to guide in a forecast of the make-up of the two bodies. Couns. Dunsdon and Lewes, and Trustee McIntyre have all expressed a willingness, though not a desire, to stand for re-election to their various positions. Other prominent names have also been mentioned. In the meantime, it is incumbent upon all ratepayers to put in an attendance at the public municipal meeting, to be held to-morrow afternoon (Saturday) at two o'clock, in Empire Hall. The financial statement covering the past year will be presented. This is everyone's opportunity to ask questions, air grievances, and to guide the Council by an expression on public matters. A further meeting for the discussion of school matters in particular will be held the following Saturday, January 2nd.

Rev. H. A. Solly went up the lake on Saturday morning last.

Rev. Charles Britten, of Penticton, spent Christmas Day with his parents here.

Hockey players are asked to meet at the Parkdale Rink on Monday next, the 29th inst., at 8 p.m., for the purpose of organizing a Club.

Hon. Wm. Hespeler of Winnipeg spent this week visiting his son, Mr. A. E. Hespeler of "Eberstein." He returned on this morning's boat (Friday).

Mr. A. Vickery has secured an appointment in the office department of the Provincial Police at Vernon. He assumes his work there on the first of January.

"Cinderella and the Prince," an operetta, will be the big feature of the Methodist Sunday School Christmas Concert, to be held in the Men's Club, on Saturday evening, the 27th, inst., at 7.30. Adults, 25 cents; Children, free.

A number of theological students from the College filled Valley pulpits on Sunday last. Mr. W. M. Armstrong preached in the Baptist Church at Kelowna in the absence of Rev. D. J. Welsh, who was at Vernon. Mr. John Marshall conducted the Methodist services here. Rev. R. W. Lee also being in Kelowna for the day. Mr. E. W. Armstrong preached at Peachland in the Baptist Church.

Special Christmas services will be held in the Methodist Church on Sunday next. In the morning at 10.30 a.m., Rev. R. W. Lee will preach. In the evening at 7 p.m. the choir will render the sacred cantata, "The Shepherd King." The soloists will be Mrs. George Ross, soprano; Miss Evelyn Brown, contralto; Mr. T. G. Beavis, tenor; Mr. J. O. Smith, bass. Mrs. E. R. Butler will be the accompanist. A special offertory will be taken. This will be a rare musical treat which should not be missed.

E. J. Rowley, who has been spending some weeks with his father, Mr. J. Rowley, leaves on Monday for a trip to southern California. It was Mr. Rowley's intention when he came here to make San Francisco his home, but he now plans on returning to Summerland to engage in business here. Already Mr. Rowley has made a name for himself as an artist in home portraiture, which work, we understand, he will continue here. Mr. Rowley is also contemplating engaging in the motion picture business as a side line, showing two or three nights a week. In this venture he will be associated with Mr. P. S. Roe.

WHY SEND YOUR MONEY OUT?

The other day one of our citizens who had in some way acquired the habit of buying his groceries in a distant city, took up with the Review's suggestion that he give the local dealer a chance. He had prepared a long list of groceries on a prescribed mail order form with quantities and prices complete. A list of his needs was then handed to one of our advertisers with request to quote. The merchant submitted his prices and they were carefully compared with the mail order list. There were some articles priced at figures with which the local store could not compete, but on the whole order, when freight and other expenses were added to the mail order list it was found that the local prices were indeed satisfactory, and our advertiser got the business.

If more of our people would do as this citizen did and at least give the local institutions a chance to bid for the business, there would be much less of our money sent to foreign houses, where it is forever put beyond the possibility of being again put in circulation in our community.

K.V.R. APPLIES FOR EXTENSION OF TIME.

The full meaning of the following press despatch from Ottawa will be awaited with interest:

"The Kettle Valley Railway Company will apply to Parliament at the next session for an extension of time for construction, also for the right to build a branch line from Otter Summit by the most feasible route to Aspen Grove mineral district, a distance not exceeding thirty miles."

Does this mean that we are not to have the promised connection with the Coast via Spence's Bridge next fall, and through Coquihalla Pass in 1915?

CHRISTMAS AT THE ANGLICAN CHURCH.

The Christmas Day services at the Anglican Church of St. Stephen's were beautiful and impressive, and there were very large congregations present at the three services, Rev. D. E. D. Robertson, vicar, officiating. Pale sunshine, a clear sky, and the shining garment of pure snow covering the entire landscape made an ideal Christmas morning scene and worshippers were early astir, a-foot and driving, to the picturesque stone church on the hill.

The interior was decorated with fir and spruce, great branches of the former standing in the chancel, and garlands of green interspersed with crimson berries outlining the electric light rods. The windows were filled with the red-dened foliage of Oregon grape and the whole effect was pretty and seasonable. The decorations were the work of three bachelor members of the congregation, and reflect great credit on their skill and industry.

Early celebration at eight o'clock was followed by matins at eleven, and Choral Eucharist at half past eleven. The old nativity hymns were sung to the familiar tunes, and the choral portion of the services well rendered by a full choir, Miss Logie presiding at the organ.

The Christmas Tree and Treat for the children, and general social gathering of the congregation of St. Stephen's Church is taking place next Tuesday, December 30th, in the Campbell Hall, from two o'clock till six. Rev. D. E. D. Robertson and Mrs. Robertson will welcome any helpers, and all members of the congregation who will come and help to entertain the little ones and distribute the gifts.

Carol services are being held in St. Stephen's Church on Sunday both morning and evening, the choir singing some old and new favorites in the music of Christmas-tide. It is hoped that these services will be well attended, for the message of the Christmas carol is one holding special appeal for those here who are far away from their friends in the Old Country.

The annual Vestry Meeting of St. Stephen's Church will be held in the Church on Monday evening, January 5th, at eight o'clock. All officials of the church are requested by the Vicar to attend to hear the important business to be discussed.

G. Clark, late of Aberdeen, Scotland, spent a day last week with Mr. and Mrs. A. Milne, former fellow citizens in the Scottish city. Mr. Clark is pleased with what he sees here, and it is not improbable that he will invest in orchard property and become one of us.

Naramata School Christmas Entertainment & Concert

The children's Concert and Entertainment marking the end of term held in the Opera House on Friday night last, was a very bright and successful little affair. The big room was beautifully decorated by the hard work of the helpers, and the children. The crimsoning foliage of Oregon grape fashioned into wreaths and tied with red, white and blue crepe paper, hung on the walls, and many colored chrysanthemums were additional brightness.

Mr. J. Pushman was in the chair and the little ones under the guidance of their teacher, Miss Orca Williams, and Mrs. Fred Manchester as accompanist rendered solo, chorus, and action songs very prettily. Musical drill and childish dialogues were also an interesting part of the program.

A pleasant interlude was the presentation to Miss Orca Williams, the retiring teacher, of a handsome brass fern dish from her pupils as a mark of esteem and affection.

Mr. Pushman voiced the regret of the Trustees at the loss of Miss Williams who has been so popular and efficient a teacher, and wished her a speedy return to complete health.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Okanagan Lake Boat Co.

The "Rowena" has come out this week with a small and cosy little wooden shelter over the fore-deck, a much needed protection for the man at the wheel, now that the north wind season is ahead. The shelter of wood has been built on by A. J. Jones of Kelowna. Capt. P. S. Roe is hoping soon to have the "Skookum" ready for towing up the lake for rebuilding, and is doing the necessary repairs to hull and steering gear which must be accomplished before she can get into the water.

The company is issuing a most artistic calendar to its customers, a typical B.C. pine forest in colors being the picture.

Christmas Day at Hotel Naramata.

Christmas Day was celebrated with due ceremony and picturesque festivity at the Hotel Naramata. Fir branches and spruce decorated the rotunda, and hung over the little white electric lamps, and tiny green trees in pots added to the gay air of Christmas everywhere. At dinner time the scene was very merry, and the table with its flowers, fruit and bonbon crackers prettily laid. The seasonable menu concluded with a good old English plum pudding carried in ablaze.

A beautiful Christmas tree for the guests and the children was hung with glittering silver balls and bells and white garlands of popcorn, and there was a present on it for every one.

Quite a party of entertainers went down to Pentiction to the Veteran's Banquet held at the Incola Hotel on Saturday night, a special trip being run by the "Rowena." Mr. Fred Manchester sang and others who took part in the program were: Mr. F. Roe, Mr. Stanley Wright, and Mr. Mackie. Messrs. Harmount, Johnson and Doswell were among those also attending the banquet.

Mr. Ken Griffin went up the lake on Tuesday morning's boat to spend the Christmas season at Kelowna.

Guests for Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Fred and Mark Manchester were Mr. J. O. Robertson and Mr. Bartlett.

Miss Lois Wells will be in charge of the Naramata Drug Store after the departure of Mrs. J. W. S. Logie early in the new year.

The next meeting of the Unity Club will be on Friday afternoon, January 9th, and this first gathering for the New Year promises to be an interesting one.

Mrs. Schacht of Kamloops visited her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schacht this week, and the party spent the week-end at the railway camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schacht with Mr. Schacht's mother, who arrived here on a visit from Kamloops on Thursday are spending Christmas at the camp, and report having a delightful day yesterday.

Mr. Bartlett, postmaster, spent Tuesday in Peachland transacting government business there. The post office has been a scene of much activity all the week and the newly finished and enlarged premises have proved a great boon.

No bachelors were left solitary on Christmas Day in hospitable Naramata, and nearly every home entertained one or two such guests at the festive board. Christmas dinner parties were being held in nearly every residence in town and upon the benches.

Christmas Day at the Hotel Syndica was a very jolly one. Good cheer was provided for a crowd of guests, and a special welcome was extended to all the "lonely" camp workers, who are a goodly number. The hotel was gaily decorated with spruce branches and garlands of Oregon grape, and Christmas Eve and last night was full of light and merriment.

Mr. K. Hause is now stationed on points around Naramata and Kelowna on his railway work.

Mr. W. Steele is proceeding to Garnett Valley on Monday next to work there in connection with the mill.

Rev. D. E. D. Robertson spent Tuesday in Naramata making a round of pre-Christmas pastoral visits among the members of the Anglican Church over here.

The Children's Christmas Tree will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church on Tuesday next, December 30th. A number of pretty and useful gifts are already in possession awaiting the children, who are eagerly anticipating their treat.

Mrs. Burnett returned to Naramata Hotel on Thursday night from Kamloops with the good news that her brother is now on the road to recovery from his serious illness at the hospital there. Mr. Moore is coming to Naramata to recoup as soon as he is able to travel.

A specially excellent menu marked the closing night of Messrs. Grant's mess hall on Monday. Roast goose, and a wonderful Christmas cake, with other seasonable cheer was served. The mess is closed for the winter and the boarders will now meal at Syndica House.

Ploughing was going on busily up on the benches on Monday last, December 22nd. This is remarkable evidence of a wonderfully mild winter. The earth is still soft and workable for preparation; and as yet when it has frozen on the surface, a thaw soon comes. With ploughing accomplished before Christmas our spring work will go with a rush.

The shower given at the Unity Club for Mrs. John Anderson (nee Miss Vera Palmer) on Friday was a very enjoyable and successful little function. Mrs. McKay, the bride's mother, and Mrs. Mitchell, were the hostesses for the afternoon, and a number of very dainty presents were brought by Mrs. Anderson's fellow members. These were packed and despatched at once to her in her new home at Hamiota, Man.

Children's Progressive Lyceum Christmas Tree.

In the absence of Mrs. Gillespie, the founder of this happy little organization, the Christmas Tree for the little members was given by Mrs. Mark and Mrs. Fred Manchester at their residence on Tuesday. Seventeen children had a delightful afternoon, and when dusk fell and the big tree in the parlor was lighted up, their excitement was great. The rooms were beautifully decorated with the brown and red of the Oregon grape, and great branches of fir, and green garlands tied with brightly colored crepe paper. The tall tree in the corner of the parlor was hung with glittering tissue and gilt pendants with garlandings of white popcorn. When the little ones in their party frocks were all assembled the distribution of pretty and useful gifts was made, and afterwards a bountiful tea was served to them by their kindly hostesses.

"Joan of Arc" of Mexican Rebels.

The above photograph shows the heroine of the Battle of Juarez, Guadalupe Candelaria, a fifteen year old Mexican girl, who dashed into the midst of a fierce engagement to drag rebels that had been wounded away from the firing line. She is here shown rolling a cigarette.

A prominent man returning from Mexico has declared, "If the world knew what was going on inside Mexico, the Powers would intervene immediately." A hint of what happens there daily is evidenced in the following brief news item:—General Villa has confiscated $500,000 worth of provisions and clothing from Juarez merchants, and $100,000 from the Bank of Mexico, to support the rebels. The storekeepers, mostly Spaniards, appealed to United States Consul Edwardson, but he said he could not guarantee the safety of their property, and returned keys that they offered him.

B.C. Apples Again Win Important Awards.

Hon. J. H. Turner, Agent-General in London for B.C., enabled Sir Richard McBride on the 14th November that the biggest awards offered had been won by British Columbia, in open competition at Sheffield and Edinburgh, for display of apples.

Mr. Cunningham, B.C. Fruit Inspector, states that B.C. apples are in big demand, and that 100 carloads could have been sold now, had they been obtainable.

The United States fruit growers, filled the orders. B.C. fruit growers and prospective fruit growers, act promptly, and enlarge your orchard plans.

We can supply you with all kinds of fruit tree stock to suit the special climatic conditions of each district.

Our prices for fruit tree stock this year are cheaper by nearly one-half, than heretofore offered to B.C. fruit growers, viz., $8 to $12 per 100; all grown in our own province, such as Jonathan, Spitzenberg, Baldwin, Northern Spy, and more than 20 other choice varieties.

Patronize home production, and make our province the fruit granary of the West.

Don't forget the beautifying of your home plot. In our stock of over $100,000 we can meet the most cultured and catholic taste, to make home environments a centre of beauty. Evergreen stock, shade trees, roses, flowering shrubbery, bulbs, flowering plants etc. Catalogues mailed free on application.

Holly for Hedges, up to 12 inches, $20 per 100; Privet, 2 1/2 ins., $30 per 1,000; Laurel, 2 to 2 1/2 ins., $20 to $30 per 100.
