The Home Circle

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

ONE fault in the way of living of not a few people is that they never make company of their own families.

AN obliging disposition may keep your wash tub and flat irons floating around the neighborhood eleven months in the year, but the same reason will bring in chicken broth and kind words in case you have a run of bilious fever.

NOWHERE is a woman's character more clearly shown, or her talents given more scope for cultivation than in home making, and in no sphere is the true woman more content and happier than in house-keeping. Home is indeed the "dearest place" on earth when rightly made, and the memory of which remains with us until death, and will do more to protect and restrain its inmates than the grandest and most eloquent sermons from the most gifted ministers and orators. In short, home is the kindergarten of all Christian work and influence, the starting point of all beautiful thoughts and deeds.

LET THE BOYS HELP. WHY is it that boys are allowed to sit in the house doing nothing while their over-worked mother is struggling against nature and fate to do about half the work waiting for her hands? Only the other day we saw three large able-bodied boys, lounging about the house, not knowing what to do with themselves, while mother, alone, tired and pale, was trying to do the work for a large family and company. Not a boy to help about the house? Why not? Is there anything about washing dishes that will injure him, or about making the beds, or sweeping, or setting the table, or washing, or ironing, or cooking a plain meal of victuals? On the contrary, there is too much to benefit him in such work, the most important of which is to gain the idea that it is not manly to let the weaker "vessel" carry all the burdens, when it is possible for strong hands to work. Most boys would gladly help in the house if they were asked to do so, and were taught how to do the work properly. Many a smart boy wants to help his tired mother, but he doesn't know how, beyond bringing in wood and water. This done, she tells him to go and play while she plods wearily on. Not a boy's work? For shame! It is positive harm to his moral character to allow him to think it is right to be idle, while mother is struggling under her burdens. Let the boys help, and those who can't get help "for love or money" will see their troubles disappear.

PHYSICAL TRAINING COURSES FOR TEACHERS.

Under the Strathcona Trust Fund for providing physical and military training to school teachers, instruction has been given by the Provincial Government for the past two years, and instructional camps will be held again this year. Physical training courses are compulsory where none of this work has been taken before, but if a teacher holds a certificate of physical training, cadet instructors courses only must be taken.

Teachers taking the cadet instructors course will assemble at Victoria on July 7, and will remain in camp approximately four weeks, at the end of which time examinations will be held, which if passed successfully lead to a commission of lieutenant in the corps of instruction, a recognized branch of the Canadian militia. The militia department undertakes the expense of transportation, camping, equipment, blankets, cooking utensils, and camp cooking stoves, and allows $1.50 per diem to cover necessary expenses, including the supplying and cooking of rations. This sum leaves the teachers with a fair amount as spending money, as, by combining in one mess the expenses for food and cooking are materially reduced.

Last year there were about fifty teachers taking this course in Victoria, of whom fourteen were from Vancouver.

The physical training course is to be held at Victoria, Vancouver and Nanaimo for four weeks, commencing July 2, and at Vernon and Nelson for a month, commencing July 30. In this course teachers are not placed under canvas, but are allowed $1 per day to enable them to pay for food and lodging. Teachers may elect as to what point they will take the latter course.

STEAMER STEWARD DROWNED FROM BOAT.

Nelson, April 26.—Robert Abbott, steward of the C.P.R. steamer Moyle, was drowned to-day in the Kootenay Lake near Ainsworth. He fell from the stairway into the water. As soon as the accident was noticed, the lifeboat was launched. Abbott was then swimming strongly, but before the boat reached him he sank in the ice cold waters of the lake. No sign of the body was found, although the boat was rowed over the spot where he sank for half an hour. He had been in the C.P.R. service in Nelson for six years.

FIRST STEAMER TO MONTREAL.

St. Lawrence Now Attracting Attention

The early opening of Navigation on the St. Lawrence this year is attracting a great deal of interesting comment on the possibilities of extending the season of navigation.

The White Star Line "Teutonic," which left Liverpool on Saturday April 19th for Quebec and Montreal with 510 cabin and 900 third class passengers, is the first passenger steamer to Montreal this season.

On the return trip she sails on Tuesday, May 6th, instead of Saturday as formerly, the Canadian Government having designated the White Star-Dominion Line to carry the Tuesday mails.

This company is planning to give persons of small means an opportunity to go abroad for four weeks this summer, visiting England and the Continent, at a total expense of $167.50, including cabin accommodation on the steamer and all expenses ashore. A considerable number have already signified their intention of making the trip.

ANOTHER WAY TO PRESERVE EGGS.

When eggs begin to get plentiful it is well to know how to preserve them for eating when they are scarce.

The fresher the eggs in the first instance the better they answer for keeping purposes. If possible, date the eggs on the day they are laid as a guide, which to use first later on.

Boil them in the usual way for about two and a half to three minutes, then store them in a dry but airy place. They can be kept for several months in this condition, and when they are required it is only necessary to put them in cold water and let this water get quite hot over the fire. They are then ready to eat. This method is one very much used by the French.

Another French method for raw eggs that is very successful is as follows:

Dip the eggs into a fairly strong solution of gum arabic and put them into a box filled with powdered charcoal. Keep this firmly closed. The charcoal is easily washed off when they are needed for use. The gum arabic closes the pores of the shell.

FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1913.

EXPRESS RATES MUST BE CUT.

THE decision of the Dominion Railway Commission that the present express rates in Western Canada must be cut 20 per cent. is of the greatest importance to the Okanagan. The enormous rates which have been and are yet being charged has been a great handicap in many ways, and when forced to use express transportation merchants and other business men have always paid the charges with the feeling that they were being "soaked." The cut ordered to take effect July 15th is one step toward the removal of the oppression. It is in the matter of our fruit that the express rates have caused the greatest hardship, making it prohibitive to ship perishable fruit in mature condition. With the one-fifth reduction it is altogether probable that our growers will find it to their advantage to allow many peaches and other soft fruits to remain on the tree until they obtain their best flavor and color and then ship by express. This feature should be a great help in reclaiming the Coast markets now so strongly held by Washington and Oregon, particularly since there has been awakened in the Coast cities a spirit of loyalty to the home grown fruit. It is only reasonable to suppose that since the Railway Commission have found the western rates too high they will also find cause for ordering a reduction in western freight rates. Already evidence has been brought out to show that the west is suffering as a result of the freight charges, and we have now learned enough of the man, H. L. Drayton, now Chairman of the Commission, to know that he will not spare the transportation companies if he finds they are charging unnecessarily high freight rates. A well-known western Liberal paper says editorially that "Mr. Drayton's concise statement in favor of the west, and against the express companies, goes to show that he was wisely chosen for his present position. It was Mr. Drayton's first important decision, and does him great credit."

MANUFACTURED WAR SCARES.

RECENT revelations as the result of an investigation obtained by the leader of the Socialist party in Germany would lead one to believe that if the government of that country, and perhaps the governments of some of the other European nations, were to take over from private individuals and corporations the manufacture of the munitions of war, including the building of the ships, there would be little likelihood of the frequent revivals of "war scares" such as has been dealt out at frequent intervals during the last few years. These revelations, which are of the most scandalous nature, show that international distrust and jealousy has been purposely fostered through illegitimate means by those capitalists to whom the building of ships of war, armaments, artillery, and kindred supplies bring direct and large profits.

One private firm of Germany has been accused of employing agents in France to provide the French ultra-loyal papers with material intended to increase the popular agitation in that country against Germany, and thus give excuse for more and larger orders from the German Government to this and other private firms. The employment of secret agents to bribe the war office officials and many other underhand means have been employed to increase the demand for the implements of war.

Army and navy societies with the financial assistance of armor plate firms have been established for the purpose of popularizing the war spirit, and other pensioned officers are travelling the country preaching war. These same firms, through their bribery system, have been able to get fat prices yielding immense profits thus putting the people's money, collected by excessive taxes, into the hands of those whose business exists on the increasing demand for armament. With this business nationalized this greed for selfish gain would be removed, and the frequent "war scares" would as quickly subside.

LOSING MILLIONS.

THE damage done to timber in North America is from $25,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually, according to experts who have made a study of the question. From 1880 to the present time, the annual loss is estimated to be $50,000,000. These figures do not include estimates of the losses sustained in the destruction of young growth and forest litter, in which lies the hope of future timber crops. The burning of the forest litter has the effect of making streams flow irregular, eroding river banks and destroying the fertility of land over which useless earth is deposited by swollen rivers.

Of recent years there has been a remarkable change in the attitude of the public towards these losses. Newspapers and magazines discuss questions of fire protection all the year through, rather than in the periods of danger exclusively. Governments are adopting advanced legislation, the number of fire rangers is constantly increasing and over sixty forest protective associations on the continent are actively engaged in efforts to reduce the fire loss.

With half the timber wealth of Canada within her borders, and an annual revenue from the forest which can attain a total of at least $100,000,000, British Columbia's interest in the protection of forests from fire is almost beyond estimate. The Forest Branch is taking active measures to place the whole province under efficient protection, to the end that no such losses as have occurred in the past in other parts of the country may take place here.

THE express companies are not going to lose by the enforced reduction in their express rates. That this will be particularly the case in their connection with the fruit business is assured. The reduction in rates will no doubt greatly increase the volume of business and the larger business being done at a smaller ratio of expense will in all probability mean greater profits for the transportation companies. Much fruit which has become too ripe for shipment by freight will no doubt henceforth be delivered by express. It is not improbable that an even greater reduction in express rates as applied to fruit would be justified by a still greater increase in business.

THE prosperity of a town is not guarded by the wealth of its inhabitants, but by the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a thousand dollars at his command, and a love for his town in his heart, can do more for its upbuilding than the millionaire who locks up his capital and snaps his fingers at home enterprise.

Our Philosopher

A COMMUNITY like ours, unlike a city, is no place to foster jealousies or nourish contentions. All should learn to know that what ever will conduce to the welfare of the municipality cannot injure any of her citizens. The disposition made manifest by her citizens point either to her downfall or to her rise. The character of the people make the town, not her business blocks, fine houses and modern utilities, and when people lose interest in the promotion of their town they need not hope to thrive. Harmony among the people of a community is indicative of its progress. Farmers cannot be at variance with one another and prosper; merchants cannot, churches, nor can any similar organization or community.

led through because of other members who stood by loyally. Now, when organizing, one of the features most strongly impressed is to make the contracts between the organization and the members who expect to sell through it, binding; yes, not only binding but they also attach a penalty to the breaking of the agreement so that this temptation to leave is to a large extent removed.

NO STANDARD FOR GRADING GOODS.

Another difficulty is that there is no uniform methods of putting goods up for sale, being particularly true of fruit. The plan usually followed is to have each man pack his fruit at home then bring it and load same on to the cars, while the organization look up buyers and attends to the shipping. The plan brings trouble at once. What one person regarded as No. 1 fruit would compare with another's No. 2. Careful growers who give their trees care would have a fair per cent. of good fruit which they would designate as belonging to the best grade, and that properly. Others, through carelessness and ignorance, would have fruit that uniformly graded low; but, as would be natural, their best fruit would also be graded as belonging to the best grade. All parties, perhaps, mean to be honest in their packing. They do not plan to cheat but some of them do, and this becomes apparent when consignments are heard from. Purchasers of this fruit are disappointed. They could not depend upon its uniformity and consequently do not care for more.

To overcome the difficulty mentioned it becomes necessary to have the grading done where it could be properly supervised. This requires a central packing house. By installing such an institution it places the organization in such a position where the fruit could be absolutely guaranteed as marked. This is a long step forward, since the products can be readily disposed of at good prices when buyers learned the quality of the fruit put up, and that they could rely on the information placed on the outside of the pack.

INEFFICIENCY OF MANAGER.

Many failures are the result of the selection of an incapable manager by the board of directors. A knowledge of crop conditions and the best markets for sending the goods, as well as an ability to open up new avenues for distribution are essential in a manager. Then, over and above all of these is that other quality which is more important than all the others, since it is native to the individual and not so readily acquired, and that is the quality of being absolutely honest, and loyal to the concern for which he is laboring.

STARTING WITH THE WRONG ATTITUDE.

Another difficulty is that the average member approaches the association with the wrong attitude. Usually it becomes necessary, in order to get a sufficient number of persons in a community interested in a movement of this kind to picture its advantages rather highly. These pictures usually cling to their imagination and when it becomes necessary to take up the regular duties of co-operation they make no allowance whatever for deficiencies in human nature, with the consequence that should the manager or anyone else officially connected with the concern make a mistake such members are apt to be discouraged. In order to make such an association a success the members who co-operate should go into it with the expectation that mistakes will be made. If they approach the real work in this frame of mind they will not be disturbed when things fail to move according to an ideal program. They will rather be encouraged with every success and thereby have an increased loyalty toward the institution.

Friend, help the editor in his wild-eyed search for news. When your friends come to see you, if you are not ashamed of it, tell him; when your wife gives a tea party, if you have recovered from the effects of the gossip, drop in with the news; when a new baby arrives, fill your pockets with cigars and call; if you go to a party, steal some of the good things and leave them at our sanctum.

The ocean-going freight carried to and from Canadian seaports during the year ending March 31, 1912, was 7,324,126 tons weight. 10.5 per cent. was carried in Canadian, 56 per cent. in British, and 33 per cent. in foreign bottoms.

Mr. Billings says everybody is in the habit of bragging on Job, and Job did have considerable pashance; but did he ever keep a district skule for 8 dollars a month and board around, or run a kun-tree newspaper?

The Canadian area of the five great lakes of 100,000 square miles forms only one-fifth of total area of the fresh water lakes in Canada.

FARSIGHT IN CAR SELECTION

THE measure of your pleasure in motoring depends on the discrimination you use in purchasing your car.

Not alone should you investigate the worth of the car itself. You should be particular about the firm that makes the car. Look a little ahead—ask yourself whether the car you're about to purchase is likely to have a factory at all behind it six months hence.

There's sure satisfaction in the choice of a McLaughlin Car—not only are McLaughlin Cars trustworthy in themselves, but they come from a factory that has been producing high-grade cars for five years, and was making high-grade carriages nearly half a century before that—a factory that is the keystone of a big organization, with completely-equipped sales depots all over Canada.

FRUIT LOTS

W. J. Robinson

NOTARY PUBLIC

Naramata Notes.

Miss Freda Mitchell was visiting in Penticton the latter part of last week.

Gardener Aveson purchased a horse in Summerland and had it brought over on Tuesday.

Mr. Peter Roe's house has been greatly improved by the addition of a verandah and dormer window.

Mr. Gordon Hayman and Mr. Harold Steers were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wells.

The tennis talk has materialized into a meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Noyes on Friday night.

The dance given on Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Walters was very well attended and enjoyed very much by all.

Mrs. Languedoc went to Summerland on Friday in order to attend a reception given for Mrs. Solly before her removal from Summerland.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Ellwell will reside in the Lyons' place after Mr. and Mrs. Lyons move to their fruit lot for the summer.

The Mason family is expected to arrive here from England the latter part of the week. They will take their residence in their new home above the Young residence.

One of the workmen at Brandt's camp was hurt quite badly last Thursday, and the "Skookum" made a special trip to the hospital at the Mission to take the man there.

Rev. G. O. Fallis will be with us but four Sundays more. It seems but fitting to show the deep appreciation which we all feel for his work here by giving him unusually large congregations during his few remaining Sundays among us.

The new pulpit for the Naramata Church will be in its place for this coming Sunday's service. A pulpit has long been needed and will be a valuable addition to the church interior. It is local handiwork and reflects much credit to its maker, Mr. George Cook.

At the last meeting of the Unity Club, officers for the coming year were elected. By a unanimous vote the presidency was given again to Mrs. Gillespie. Mrs. Mitchell, who presided so efficiently during the absence of the president, was chosen for Vice-President. Mrs. Hayward, who has taken the duties of Secretary for the past three years and who wished to give up the office, will be succeeded by Mrs. Salting. (Later a vote of appreciation for Mrs. Hayward's faithful work was passed by the Club.) Mrs. Cook was again given the office of Treasurer. The Club's Board of Advisors were elected as follows: Mrs. Cash, Mrs. Hancock, and Mrs. Davies. A very satisfactory year's report was submitted by the Treasurer, showing the earnings of the Club to be well over $200. Two new members, Mrs. David Hughes and Miss Emma Davies, were added to the roll. The next meeting, on May the 9th, will be given over entirely to properly "showering" Miss Hazel Wells.

It was an event very much enjoyed by the girls who were formerly loyal members of the Sigma Delta Club. We are speaking of the tea given by Mrs. Gillespie in honor of Miss Hazel Wells. For a time the guests earnestly endeavored to solve some problems given them, the aim of which was to enlighten the bride-elect in some future perplexities; then followed some bits of sound advice to her from each one. Later the girls passed into the dining-room, which was very prettily decorated in green, which color has much significance to Miss Wells. There, by a very clever arrangement, each person was introduced to the company, with some "inside facts" attached to each introduction. Mrs. H. J. Wells presided over the tea and coffee, and the Mesdames Manchester very ably served the refreshments. Toasts were proposed and responded to by Miss Ruth Chambers, Miss Edna Reid and Mrs. R. C. Robinson. Miss Wells responded to calls for "Speech!" After some well-chosen remarks from Mrs. Gillespie the girls gathered to give "Auld Lang Syne," and finally to depart after spending a very pleasant afternoon.

"The Dream Girl."

Empire Hall was well filled, though by no means crowded, on Wednesday evening when the operetta "The Dream Girl" was presented. The Juvenile Bostonians are becoming well known to Summerland, and will always attract a good house. Their entertainment was of a high order, full of fresh, clean humor, with a few local references that went home. The acting was always natural and easy, showing a control that could well have fitted older actors. The singing was also effective, and met with a good response. The principal parts were sung by voices of exceptional tone and strength, and all the choruses were full and clear. The dancing was graceful, varied, and never overdone, making great effect from the variety of pretty costumes. The humor was constantly sustained by "Bill" the farmer boy, and "Mike" the soldier, whose jests and antics made a continual flow of healthy fun throughout the play. Not every travelling company presents such sterling entertainment, and the Bostonians fully maintained the worthy reputation their previous appearances in this town have made for them.

Save One Ton of Coal in Every Six

The Economizer will do it. While the cost of living has undoubtedly been growing greater, at the same time it is true there are some inventions that will offset this increased cost of living, and the careful housewife takes advantage of these inventions. On every Gurney-Oxford range there is an Economizer which controls not only the drafts but also the entire combustion or burning of fuel to create heat. This Economizer will save 1 ton of coal in every 6 that you would use with the ordinary range. The Economizer is a simple device, absolute in its control. By merely moving the lever you can obtain any degree of even heat in the oven. This insures the satisfaction of always having light, delicately crusted bread and biscuits. The kitchen fire ceases to be a worry if the Economizer is on your stove. The Gurney-Oxford is the final result of experimental thought. Science has given it a Divided Flue, a new Special Grate, and a Broiler attachment. This Gurney-Oxford range is primarily a saver of money, time, and energy.

Delivery of rural mail by motorcycle has been tested with apparently satisfactory results in parts of the United States. It is much quicker, less cumbersome, and, where tried, less expensive, than the horse and carriage method. Rural free delivery has done much to make farm life more attractive. Improvements in the service will add to its usefulness.

It is remarked that the mail order houses have not relaxed their efforts to get business just because a few dull months in the year appear. They overlastingly keep at the advertising end of their business. An exchange says that gossipers have motor cars benton to a frazzle when it comes to running people down.

Kaleden Comments

Mr. William King went up to Summerland last Saturday on a business trip.

Mr. Fred Ford has returned from a visit to the Old Country where he has been for the winter.

Miss Baskin of Penticton has been the guest of Mrs. Rourke for the last few days, and is now visiting with Mrs. A. B. Hatfield.

Mrs. T. C. Preston, who has been staying for the last two weeks with her daughter Mrs. Baker in Penticton, returned home last Sunday.

A new industry is being started at Okanagan Falls by Mr. Waterman. Lime kilns are being built, and the enterprise is to consist in the making of cement brick.

A special trip of the Cygnet took a party of twelve or fourteen up to Penticton Wednesday evening, April 23rd, to see the performance of "Charlie's Aunt" there.

Mrs. Seaman Hatfield went up on Thursday to Naramata to visit with Mrs. Lewis Block. Mr. Hatfield and son Harley joined her on Saturday, all returning on Monday evening.

Preparations are being made for the building of a wharf on the opposite side of the lake, and the pile driver will soon be at work, as we understand it is to be completed shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Burbridge of Penticton have recently come into town, and have rented the house belonging to Mrs. N. K. Simpson. Mr. Burbridge will be employed in the making of cement brick at the Falls.

We understand that Mrs. James King with her two daughters is now on her way from the Old Country to join the rest of her family here. Her husband and son are very busy preparing for her reception.

Mr. H. G. Bowser and wife, of Kelowna, who were making an automobile tour in the southern part of the Valley called here, and stayed at the hotel for a day or two. They expressed great pleasure in their visit here.

Mrs. Philip Fox, with her son Teddy, who has made an extended visit in the Eastern States of U.S.A., and has spent a part of the time in the city of Denver, visiting her parents, returned home on Thursday, the 24th ult.

The Hotel Kaleden register contains the following visitors' names: J. Fraser Campbell and wife, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Riordan, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. A. Thompson, Penticton; W. Bowser and wife, Kelowna; E. L. Bogart, Vancouver; W. G. Baskin, Penticton; W. B. McCormack, Penticton; W. C. Limpatt, Penticton; James Prather, White Lake; A. Comber, Penticton; C. J. Carr, Penticton.

CHILDHOOD'S OBSERVATION.

Visitor (who has taken small girl on his lap): "Now, my little pet, what do you think I've taken you on my lap for?" Small Girl: "To give me candy." V: "No, but to give you something almost as good as candy—a real sweet kiss." S. G.: "I'd rather have the candy; you can go and kiss my governor. That's what papa does, and he gives me the candy every time I see him do it."

MIGHT HAVE YELLOW FEVER.

A New York lady not feeling well caused the family physician to be summoned. After looking at her tongue, feeling her pulse, etc., he said: "I do not wish to alarm you, Miss B., but your symptoms are plainly those of scarlet fever." "Oh, no," she exclaimed in consternation; "surely not, doctor!" "Yes," he said, "you are certainly threatened with scarlet fever." "What shall I do, what shall I do?" she moaned in great distress. "Oh, doctor, couldn't you throw it into some other kind of fever. Scarlet is so trying to my complexion."

Peachland Notes.

(Too late for last week.) Rev. J. Marshall of Summerland conducted service in the Baptist Church on Sunday.

On Saturday morning Mrs. Ed. Lang left for Armstrong where she will spend a few days with friends.

On Monday morning Mr. Norman Pope left for Victoria where he has secured a position. Norman will be much missed by everybody, especially the girls, to whom he was a most attentive swain.

The road men in charge of the rock work under the supervision of Mr. Jas. Michael, left on Monday for Penticton, where they will improve the lake road between Summerland and Penticton.

In connection with the opening of a pool room in town two petitions have been circulated within the past week, one in favor of the room, and one against by the W.C.T.U., who have the future welfare and morality of our boys at heart. Let us hope the latter will win.

Peachlanders were both pleased and surprised when Mr. Paul Murray, late principal of the high school here, arrived in town on Tuesday evening to look after his lot here. After a few days spent as the guest of Mr. Grant Lang, he left for Nelson, where he has been offered a position on the public school staff.

The concert given on Tuesday evening under the management of the reading room committee was a complete success. Mr. Powell took the chair and introduced Rev. Mr. Hatt, whose ability as an entertainer is well known, and Mr. C. C. Inglis, whose musical voice we were all so pleased to hear again. If preaching fails with those two divines they have something else to which to turn their talents, for as entertainers they form a combination difficult to beat. Miss Jessie Henderson played all the accompaniments in her usual pleasing way.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

"My dear fellow, delighted to meet you. Just the very man I wanted to see. I wish you would kindly lend me $20. I unfortunately left my money at home, and I haven't a cent on me." "I'm awfully sorry, old chap, but I haven't that amount about me just now. I can fix it, though, so you can get it almost immediately." "Ten thousand thanks, dear boy." "Here's ten cents. Take the street car and go home and get your money."

Some Temperance Facts.

In Prince Edward Island no retail liquor selling is permitted. Of 991 parishes in Quebec 671 are under local option; 320 under license. In New Brunswick the Canada Temperance Act is in operation in 9 of 14 counties. Nova Scotia's provincial prohibitory law is applicable to all the province, except Halifax. Of Manitoba's 148 municipalities 44 are under local option, and in 27 no licenses are issued, or 71 under prohibition; 72 otherwise. Canada is a comparatively sober country. Its per capita consumption of intoxicating liquor is less than 7 gallons; United States, 20 gallons; England, 30 gallons. In Saskatchewan and Alberta the powers given under the local option laws are exercised to only a limited extent, but few licenses are granted, however, outside of cities and towns.

Did you ever notice how beautiful gum chewing makes a girl appear? Take her do face, and gazing steadily, one cannot find a more ideal picture. With a sharp click, clack of her teeth so white and pearly, and clashing together as with cowish gloo, she masticates her cud. Then, too, one can note her health-tinted, well-rounded cheeks as they grow a little more rotund, through the material assistance of a big 'hunk' of gum.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Notes on Sporting Events.

The Gymnastic and Musical Concert, given in the Penticton Opera House on Friday night, 25th ult., by the students of Okanagan College, assisted by Summerland artists, was very successful. This may not seem the most appropriate place for a report of that event, but as all concerned are known as good sports in the best sense of that much-abused word we will proceed.

The musical and literary features were fine. Misses Colwell, Ethel Brown, and Anna Hayes, and Messrs. Bentley, Alex. and James Smith were in good form and their work was highly spoken of. The accompaniments of Miss G. Hurschmann were most acceptable. The young ladies fancy marching and Indian club drill were much admired, noticeable improvement being in evidence over their work in the local gymnasium. The class work on the bars lacked the ginger the boys put into it here, but was good. Messrs. J. McLeod, T.
 Young, W. Middleton, and J.
 Graham excelled themselves in the special work and were loudly applauded. The tumbling and pyramids were fine, and the concert as a whole merited the many good things said about it by an appreciative audience. The Snake Dance, and the awe-inspiring College yell, seemed to mystify the Pentictonites, and were evidently associated in their minds with tomahawks and scalping knives. Not the least interesting and attractive feature was the splendid lunch served by the ladies of the Penticton Baptist Church to the big crowd of Summerlanders who made the trip on the "Skookum."

The base-ball team of Okanagan
 College visited Kelowna on Thursday afternoon to play a return match with the Kelowna ball team.
 The College boys were defeated by the score of 7-3. Up to the fatal seventh innings Kelowna only secured one run. Morlock was pitching in good form for the College and his support was good. Wolverton in centre field making sensational plays, pulling down long drives that seemed to be three bag-gers at least. When the Kelowna boys went to bat in the second half of the seventh innings it looked like another victory for the College; for they were leading 3-1. Two Kelowna men were down, and then the fireworks began. Nicholson muffed a grounder to short, and as one good turn to Kelowna deserved another, threw the ball anywhere from three feet to half a mile over "Frenchy's" head, who was holding down first sack in great shape. Everybody hit safely and before the agony was over Kelowna had five runs up, and the score was 6-3 in their favor.
 They secured another run in the eighth, the College being blanked in the last two innings. For Kel-

LAKE FRONT PRE-EMPTION FOR HORSE BREEDING.

A tract of land, 160 acres in extent, lying north of Paradise Ranch on the east side of the lake, has recently been acquired by D. A.
 Good, formerly of Greenwood, and until recently known as Chief Pack-or for the K.V.R. In the course of his duties Mr. Good saw this piece of land lying unoccupied and went about to secure it. Just how this has been done is not quite clear. It is said that this, as well as much of the land lying east of the lake was railway land, but had been taken over by the Government, and it does not seem to be generally known that it is open for pre-emption—which is said to be the method by which Mr. Good is acquiring the property.

The pre-emption, which lies about Canoe Creek, has an abundant water supply, and according to undoubted authority, Mr. Good, who is an expert horseman, purposes to make a specialty of horse breeding and hog raising.

 It might be added that the hen-pecked husbands will vote as their wives do.

London's Theatres as Seen by a Canadian.

Society Life in a Metropolitan Suburb.

Another Interesting Letter From Mr. J. O. ROBINSON.

London, England.
April 9th, 1913.

London is rag-time crazy. The conductor on the motor bus as he gives you your ticket can very often be heard humming "I want to be in Dixie" under his breath. Boys riding bicycles, men driving coal wagons, clerks in the smaller shops, guards on the underground and District trains, nearly everyone it seems is either singing or whistling a rag-time ditty. One night in Piccadilly, after the theatres came out, I heard several men, garbed in the finest of clothes, singing "The Robert E. Lee." It is extremely funny to hear a costermonger singing a coon song in his broad accent.

Minstrel shows are all the rage and large posters of "Hullo, Rag-time," can be seen on bill boards all over the city. As a matter of fact that is one of the first things I saw on arriving at Liverpool. At the high-class theatres, between the acts, selections of rag-time are played by the orchestra. Songs which we sang to death at Naramata last Summer hold London spell-bound at the present time.

In the music halls quartettes and octettes by American exponents of rag-time predominate. Unfortunately their shouting, gestures, slapping of hands are somewhat exaggerated, having a tendency towards horse-play which one is not liable to see in the first-class vaudeville houses in the United States and Canada. However, it seems to tickle the fancy of the audience and that is what they are playing for.

There must be a dozen first-class music halls in the centre of the city and as many more round the suburban districts. I should judge that there would be more than double that many theatres, each one putting on a play that will run for months without a change, and most of them playing to crowded houses. Thus the London theatre-goer can pick a play for any mood or taste, and he is assured that the acting is of the very best.

A few days after our arrival I went with a young American whom I had met on shipboard to the Gaiety Theatre to witness Mr. George Edwards' new production, "The Girl on the Film." He has been successful for years in catering to the tastes of society in light opera, and more than once his young leading ladies have married into the nobility. The outside of the theatre is imposing to look at, being situated on the corner of the Strand and Aldwych. The furnishings inside are magnificent, the carpeting being of the best, and the stalls large and comfortable. The decorations show extremely good taste for a theatre. On the ceiling, which is very high, there is a simple design with a somewhat elaborate border, and the walls are draped in a deep red or maroon with the same colored curtains hanging in the boxes, giving a comfortable or cozy effect to the interior. As the title of the piece implies, the plot deals with a modern industry being woven around the moving picture business. The amusing situation of a cinematograph company trying to make a film of a story entitled "Napoleon and the Miller's Daughter," fairly makes the audience scream with delight. The climax comes at the end of the second act when, in the absence of the former, the company is performing before the camera near an old mill. With Napoleon is a company of soldiers in full uniform with nicely polished muskets, and on returning to his farm the farmer thinks the Germans have invaded England, and being a loyal Britisher calls in the farm hands, who with scythes, pitch-forks and bludgeons, drive the soldiers helter-skelter. The music has a quality of "freshness" which is lacking in the modern musical comedy, and brings one back to the days when "Floradora" was in its prime. Perhaps the excellent orchestra of from forty or fifty skilled musicians lent that quality to what might otherwise be styled the popular music of the day.

Another evening two of us went to the Wyndham Theatre to see "Diplomacy." It proved to be an intensely interesting drama, dealing with the life of the diplomat and his work in straightening out tangles for the nation which he represents.

This is not such a large world after all, because between the acts in the lounging room I asked a young man nearby if he knew what time the last train for Richmond left. He asked me if I was from Toronto. I then recognized him as an old friend of early college days. Naturally we renewed old times and made arrangements to meet again. I might add that we caught that last train as he was well versed in such matters, having lived in London for the last few years.

Last Friday evening, mother, father, and I were honored by the Mayor and Mayoress of the borough of Richmond by being invited to a reception in the Council Chambers, given on the occasion of their silver wedding. On entering we walked up a stairway banked with flowers and were shown to the cloak rooms. We were then ushered into a brilliantly-lighted room where about a hundred guests were sitting around listening to a musical program. The sight was a striking one, the men in faultless dress and ladies in gorgeous evening gowns, the cost of any of them I would not attempt to estimate, not being a connoisseur on such lines. At any rate they were brilliant enough. The people proved to be quite charming to talk to, and all manifested a deep interest in Canada in general and British Columbia in particular.

When we arrived a lady with a rich contralto voice was singing a solo. Then followed a solo by a gentleman, with piano and cello accompaniment. The first half of the program came to a close by an Old English folk dance, performed by six little girls all dressed in white. They looked very quaint with small bells around their ankles and rings of flowers in their hands. The dance was simple but very striking in its effect, and made quite a hit with the spectators. The guests then assembled in the committee rooms for refreshments, where champagne, lemonade, and cakes were served. About three quarters of an hour was spent in the committee rooms, where we met some very charming people of Richmond.

A presentation of a large cabinet of silver was made to the host and hostess by the members of the Council. I would gather from the speeches that the Mayor is popular, and very highly thought of as the chief executive of the borough of Richmond. At any rate he showed himself to be a gifted orator in his speech of thanks to his colleagues. He is a tall, well-built man, and as he rises to speak his stage appearance is enough to make many a friend for him, and his stature enough to cow an enemy, and woo unto that enemy if he turns the force of his oratory on him.

The musical program was resumed in the Council Chambers, and the outstanding feature of it was a monologue given by Barclay Gannon, a man who has attained the distinction of playing before royalty time and again. He is sometimes called the funniest man in England. Judging by the performance he gave that evening, it seems that he would have a right to that title.

Towards the end of the program we took leave of the host and hostess, for it was getting late, and drove home through the rain, for, as per usual, it was raining.

Bitter experiences are sometimes productive of sweet results.

NOTARY PUBLIC

Naramata Notes

Mr. Noyes is expected to join his family here in a short time.

Mr. Howard Rounds of Kelowna spent the week-end in town.

The shack vacated by Mrs. Morsch is now utilized as a bunk-house.

Mr. J. C. Williams and Mr. Hornsey are now employed as deputy police on the K.V.R. line.

Mr. J. Lyons is ill again after enjoying a great improvement in health for the past few months.

Mr. Douglas intends to move from the Bartlett house soon to take up contract work at Blair's Camp.

Mr. G. Green, one of the proprietors of the Svea Hotel, returned on Saturday night from a trip to Vancouver.

Mr. Frank Hayward and Roy Boothe are home after completing the work of the Spring Term at Okanagan College.

Mr. Johnson of the Grant Smith Co., has purchased the property recently improved and built upon by Mr. Walter Land.

On Tuesday night of next week, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins expect their younger child and nurse to arrive from England.

Mrs. Morsch has moved her dry goods into the rooms vacated by the Mitchell family, and is getting in readiness to sell her goods again.

Mr. A. H. Mulford will, in the near future, build a small shack on his lots adjoining those of Mr. Dean, and move there to be nearer his shop.

The small building being put up beside the Svea Hotel will be a restaurant, conducted by Mr. Cruthers, formerly cook at Brandt's Camp No. 2.

The ferry is now making Sunday night trips to Summerland at a very reasonable rate to allow of attendance at evening church service at that place.

We are glad to report that Mr. and Mrs. J. W. S. Logie are now Naramata residents. The 15th of this month will find Mr. and Mrs. Logie conducting the Naramata branch of the Summerland Drug Co.

The meeting held last Friday night for the purpose of electing a School Trustee to fill the place left vacant at Mr. King's removal, was well attended and resulted in the choice of Mr. Pushman for the place. A very wise selection we think.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason and daughter arrived on Saturday night from their former home in England, to become Naramata residents. They were met by Mr. and Mrs. Languedoc, Miss Lillian Mason and Mr. E. Mason, and will soon be located in their new home on the benches.

The apprehended strike has come off, under the supervision of the I.W.W. organization. The local pay-office issued over three hundred cheques last Saturday. (Some of the men have left town, others are scattered about the flat, while over 100 are quartered at the old mill property. The "Skookum" is working overtime taking crowded boatloads of strikers to Penticton and Summerland.)

We are very sorry to hear of the sudden decision of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Edgar to leave our little town for Summerland. Mr. Edgar has accepted an offer from the Summerland Supply Co. to take charge of their hardware department, and, is leaving on Saturday night of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar will be greatly missed, especially among the young people, among whom they have made many friends.

The tennis meeting called last Friday night had a very enthusiastic attendance. A club was formed, and since then a lot, large enough for two courts, has been secured, and the tennis outfit has been ordered. The number of members is very encouraging, but the club is desirous of securing all who would have any interest at all in the game. It is hoped that the grounds will soon be in condition for playing.

Mr. T. H. Boothe will, in the course of a few days, leave for Victoria, where he will be employed in the insurance business for a time, at least. Mr. Boothe has proven a very valuable man to his company since taking up that line of work, and is offered a wider field. If the situation proves satisfactory, he is contemplating moving there with his family later. We would be very sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Boothe, but still they have our sincerest wishes for success.

as the revenue would give good returns on the outlay. Mr. Ritchie said he would willingly take the water if he was given to understand early enough in the season that it would be supplied. Alfalfa or some other crop would then be put in. Mr. Ritchie also appeared on behalf of his company holding Paradise Flat properties, and asked for a re-adjustment of the assessment. Up to now considerable land that was unfit for planting had been assessed at the full rate. He had had the assessor go over the lots with him recently, and he upheld Mr. Ritchie's claim. The assessment was accordingly reduced as re-adjusted.

The next ratepayer to support his claim in person was Mr. R. Clouston. His home lot of 10 acres was assessed at $3,000 while no adjoining property was assessed higher than $2,250. The railway had taken a half acre, and there was another half acre in gulch, and he asked for a reduction in the assessment to the value of an acre. A reduction of $150 for the half acre appropriated by the railway was made. His appeal against the assessment of $1,300 on lot 15, on the opposite side of the road from the above, was not entertained. On the Hosmer lot Mr. Clouston asked for a re-assessment. $450 was taken off the valuation of this property because of that part taken by the K.V.R.

A petition, signed by a number of lot owners at Victoria Gardens, was presented by H. Tomlin, setting forth the large profits that might be had if the Council would comply with their demands, and lay water mains for that section. The justice of the petition was admitted, but no funds were available for an expenditure of that kind. The lot owners undertook to pay their rates in advance to be applied against the cost. Mr. Tomlin, and the several other interested parties present were assured by the Reeve that they would do their best to supply water at an early date.

A similar petition was received from the lot owners at Hillpark Gardens, which, no doubt, will have attention at the same time as the other.

John Stewart, who has a lot north of Jones Flat, above the flume, asked that the assessment be reduced from $1,650, and upon the suggestion of Coun. Robinson it was changed to $800.

J. D. Rice & Co., owners of the Coal Mine property, asked for a reduction from 10 to 7 acres, which was granted.

Reduction from $2,000 to $1,750 was made on lot 25 of the Dodwell property in Frarie Valley.

A $500 reduction in assessment was made on the Chadwick property which had been assessed at $8,000.

A reduction from 10 acres to 8 acres, making the assessment $2,400, on the Angove property, now held by Mr. Douglas Hamilton.

M. C. Kendall owns 40 acres of range land lying northwest of Jones Flat. He objected to the assessment of $7.50 per acre, but this assessment was sustained.

Appeals against rates, irrigation or domestic water, were made by Messrs. Stewart, Male, R. Mitchell, Brewer, Woodworth, an Italian, and several others, where no service was given the rebate was made.

Coun. Robinson said that his was the only greenhouse against which a separate water rate was charged. This was admitted by the Board to be an error, and a rebate was ordered.

The Reeve was not well pleased with the complaint made to him personally by a lot owner in Victoria Gardens that notice had been served by the Municipal Office not to allow another lot owner to draw water from their pipe, the second party not having a water connection. He did not know who was responsible but he thought it very poor judgment. The Clerk replied that he knew nothing of the case, but supposed this was one of several notices that had been sent out as a warning, and thought that in cases of this kind permission should be asked before granting neighbors such privilege.

A motion was then passed fixing the assessment roll as revised by

Control Your Coal Expenditure

In the Gurney-Oxford range you will find more exclusive features, more essential improvements that appeal to the thrifty housewife than have ever before been found in any one kitchen range.

But most important of all is the Economizer.

This clever device for regulating the drafts saves 1 ton of coal in every 6 that you would burn in the ordinary range. It takes the smell of cooking out of the kitchen and sends it up the chimney. You know what that means.

The Economizer enables you to absolutely control the amount of coal you wish to consume and still have a perfect heat for cooking. It will enable you to keep your fire going while you go out shopping or visit your neighbor, and all that is necessary for you to do on your return is to press the small lever and you are assured of a hot fire in a very few moments.

A Gurney-Oxford stove is sanitary—no dirt can accumulate on its beautifully smooth surface.

Its top is polished steel which abolishes forever that dreadful operation—blackening the stove.

Of paramount interest also are the other remarkable and exclusive attachments—the Special Grate, the Divided Flue and the Broiler.

Every woman who knows owns a Gurney-Oxford.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

HOTEL TABLE LICENSE WILL BE APPLIED FOR.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:

There is a rumor on foot that the Hotel may have to close, and it is presumed it is because it cannot be made to pay. How we can get along without a hotel it is hard to realize. Nobody will come here because there will be nowhere to put up, which would have a very serious effect on the whole community.

It seems strange that while in other places with more than one hotel, they are not only made to pay but pay well, so much so that they are sought after as a lucrative form of business.

Here we have only the one, and it is apparently a poor business proposition. The only difference between them, it seems, is that one has a license, and the other has not. The one holding the license makes a good living and the other grows poor, and eventually is forced to the conclusion that he must close.

The fact that the license makes all this difference is a nasty pill to swallow, but it appears to be true.

It would undoubtedly be an eyesore, and probably a great nuisance, if not offensive, to have a public bar on our main street, but why not resort to half measures and grant the Hotel a table license? This should turn the balance between a profit or a loss to some extent, and should be a system capable of complete control.

It should make little difference to our community as a whole, while the closing of our one hotel would affect it adversely from end to end. It is said by those who are in the best position to know, that such good hotel customers as commercial travellers will run past Summerland overnight, come up from Penticton on the early morning boat, wait about until the stores open, do their business in a rush and catch the boat for Penticton again the same day. This does not say how many other people do the same, but it gives a little insight into the almost impossible task the hotel-keeper has, to keep his house full here, and we are given to understand it is only because Summerland is so hard and fast on the temperance idea. There is a saying that half a loaf is better than none.

E. B. MAY.

Summerland, B.C.,
 May 7, 1913.

When seen by a Review representative with reference to the above Mr. W. J. Robinson, proprietor of the hotel, said that he regretted the necessity of taking this step, but that the hotel has not been paying, and he did not believe it could be made to pay without a table license. It was known to the Editor of the Review that previous to selling the hotel the Summerland Development Company were seriously contemplating a similar step, and one of Mr. Robinson's reasons for purchasing, as stated to the Review at that time, was to avoid this, as he then believed the hotel, under his personal supervision, could be made a profitable business proposition. He now declares that he must either close the hostelry or have the necessary license to serve liquors in the dining room. Ed.

the local Association shall loan money at 4 per cent. in proportion to the number of shares they hold in the Central Company, and this money shall be credited to their accounts.

CONTRACT.—The delegates are in favor of a close self-continuing contract, and all patrons of the Association shall sell all their fruit and vegetables through their Association, and the Central Selling Agency, except by special permission of the Board of Management of the Central Selling Agency.

POOLING.—The delegates recommend that it shall be the policy of the Central Agency to pool all fruits and vegetables of like grades, sizes and varieties in like packages, marketed through the Central Agency. Pools to extend over such time as may be agreed upon in order that all may share in the distribution of as large a tonnage as possible, thus securing an equitable distribution of the proceeds derived from sales. Some of the arguments in favor of pooling being as follows:

- (a) To prevent local jealousies by reason of one district getting a slightly higher price than another because of a special market at the time, or some special sale, and to do away with the suspicion that the management gives one district any advantage over another when sales are made at specially high prices, thus also relieving the Manager of the difficulty of deciding who shall get the benefit as to price.
- (b) Simplifying book-keeping and lessening expense to an enormous extent.
- (c) Ensuring the average price where there is a loss in any shipment.
- (d) The reputation of the local districts will be conserved by having a large portion of their crop grade the highest grades and by the local brand.

INSPECTORS.—The Central Selling Agency shall appoint one, or more, inspectors to help bring the pack and grade of all the Associations to a high and uniform standard, and those inspectors shall be empowered to approve or reject all fruit and produce sold by the Agency.

CANNING AND BY-PRODUCTS.—The Central Agency shall seek to place all fruit and vegetables, whether to be marketed in the regular ways, or disposed of for the manufacture of by-products, and to this end shall endeavour to make arrangements with such manufacturers.

SALES.—The policy shall be as far as practicable to make all sales on an F.O.B. cash basis, and to make payments on account to local Associations twice a month.

IT IS RESOLVED that the thanks of the delegates be expressed to the Government for their hearty co-operation in the establishment of the Central Selling Agency, and also to Mr. Robertson, as representing the Government, for his valuable advice and assistance.

These Plans and Resolutions are brought to the local Associations in the hope that they may be accepted by them. It is understood that they may need to be modified in practice, as experience dictates. It is hoped that all the Valley will work together for the common good, believing that the best interests of each and all will be sought, and that all will be willing to give and take, in deference to others.

Notes on Sporting Events.

'Is Peachland a place or a disease?' queried the College wag as the Peachland ball team was being pretty badly beaten by the College team. These days seem to have passed, as Peachland is playing good ball, and the College—well that is a horse of another color.

On Saturday afternoon, the 3rd inst., in the quiet little town of Peachland there was tragedy, comedy and baseball, and it only cost the spectators 25 cents. To be brief, after making a flying start, playing fast ball, making 6 runs in one innings, the College team suffered a slump in pitchers, Morlock was knocked out of the box, Frenchy ditto, and McDougall a double ditto, and Peachland sewed the game up with a score of 17 to 9. Great enthusiasm in Peachland! Men who have been preaching and practising blue ruin for years forgot their worries, stood up or lay down, as the mood seized them, and "hollered." The New York Giants for Peachland!

Just to keep in practice for the teams of the major league Peachland will repeat the performance on the College Campus on Saturday afternoon.

The juniors are playing good ball every week. If the games were duly announced the public at large would be more interested and attend in larger numbers. The last game was won by the High School with a score of 7-6.

The Penticton Juniors tried conclusions with the College on Thursday afternoon. With the exception of one fatal innings, when everybody from our neighbor town did their best to throw the game away, the game was fast. Penticton has a great pitcher in Webbeck. Weir caught well, and the infield was good. Phinney pitched in fine style for the College, and Ralph Brown did wonders behind the bat. The score was 9-4 in favor of the College.

And now—no matter what the Asquith Government may say—let everybody pull hard for a big day on the College Campus, May 24th. The committee in charge are working well, and a fine program of sports has been arranged.

FRUIT IN NIAGARA BELT.

Prospects Never Better for a Great Crop.

St. Catharines, Ont., May 8.—The leading fruit growers in the Niagara district declare that prospects were never better for a bumper crop. The cool weather has kept back growth. The peach orchards are all in pink and white blossom just now, and the growers say there is little likelihood of frost damage.

"We should have the biggest peach crop in our history this year," said one leading peach grower.

Co-operation in Farming.

Its Advantages for the British Columbia Farmer Outlined.

IN AN ADDRESS on "Co-operation," recently given by Mr. Hayward, M.L.A. for Duncan, B.C., some pertinent remarks as to the loss to farmers caused by their attitude of isolation. "If farmers joined together, they could rule the world," he said.

"I would not like to suggest that agriculture is flourishing any too well in the province of British Columbia. My honest belief is that agriculture is doing as well as might be expected under the circumstances; the circumstances are rather hard, I may say, and in that connection there are five or six matters over and above the question of co-operation that I would like, if time permitted, to discuss with you. Co-operation is not the only thing that will make for success in farming, but at least it is one of the chief things that will bring agriculture into a better state in the Province of British Columbia than it enjoys at the present time. I say better, because I believe that one of the greatest difficulties we have is that we are sending out of the province annually $14,000,000 to bring in that which might very well be produced within our own borders. You will understand, therefore, what a very serious work the agriculturist has before him. Speaking as a supporter of the government, I say that the government intends to do everything possible to assist you.

"In regard to co-operation, I would just call attention to the fact that, so far as I have been able to see, it has operated very successfully in our district and in many other districts. It has done much to put dollars and cents into the farmer's pocket; it has created a friendlier spirit among the farmers, due to the closer association which the effective operation of the idea entails. In the past, it cannot be denied that the petty bickerings and little jealousies between the farmers, due largely to their isolated condition and individual effort, resulted in pecuniary loss, a loss that has since been transformed into a gain by the adoption of the co-operative idea. It is true, in my opinion, that if the farmers joined together they would rule the world. It is absolutely true; but it is likewise true that it is a very hard thing indeed to get the farmers to join together.

"I regard that, the breeding of a spirit of confidence among the farmers—as one of the chief works of co-operation. Wherever you have a co-operative creamery, or wherever you co-operate in any shape or form; you not only increase the quantity of the produce, but you also raise the standard of quality, both of which performances being coincidental with an all-round reduction in the cost. There are hundreds and thousands of farmers who would make butter—and that would be a good thing for the butter and the consumer of butter—if it could be produced on a co-operative principle. The fact that at the present time they have not only to make the butter, but find a market for it, is one of the reasons why so little of that commodity is made. If butter was made on the co-operative principle, that is, if all the farmers centralized the production of butter or the elements of butter, it could be done at a greatly reduced cost to that which at present prohibits them from making that very necessary commodity.

"It is in the details of the work that the farmer loses, and it is in these same details that the co-operative creamery would make those losses gains. If you increase the quantity and raise the quality of dairy produce, you at the same time increase their monetary value. The monetary values of butter and eggs have altered wherever you have a co-operative society controlling the industry. It is not very many years ago when I, who have been farming here for the last seventeen years, used to peddle butter and eggs around this town, and be glad to take from the grocer just whatever he would give me—and I am sorry to say, take it out in trade. To-day, I send my products to the creamery, and the grocer has to pay what we ask, and not what he chooses to give.

"I am going to give you a few figures regarding our Cowichan Creamery. Now, the Cowichan Creamery is a purely co-operative concern. It started out to make butter. As far as my connection with it went, I started in with the hope that the creamery would start an egg-station. We have now gone beyond that into a poultry station. We have got a pig-feeding station; we buy our feed in car-load lots; we have a siding from the railway. Everything is mixed up by the association, and the farmer brings in his produce and takes out his feed. The one offsets the other, and at the end of the month he has paid for his feed and is due to receive the balance on his product. During the year the creamery produced 158,000 lbs. of butter. It shipped 82,000 dozen eggs, and it placed on the market no less than 20,000 lbs of dressed poultry.

"With regard to the feed, it is an enormous amount, somewhere in the neighborhood of $40,000 to $50,000 per annum. Everything is increasing by leaps and bounds. Last year the egg product was doubled; the feed product was also doubled. All these things are paying. In 1906, before we started an egg station, I used to have the greatest difficulty in getting rid of eggs; and when I did, I was selling during the spring of the year at 18 cents a dozen in the case. In 1907 we started the egg station, and from that day to this the lowest price I have received in the spring of the year for such eggs was 27½ cents.

"I would call your attention to the fact that a co-operative creamery can do things that an individual cannot do. A creamery can have a cold storage and take care of its own eggs. It can sell eggs in the market in September and October against what are called fresh eggs from Manitoba and the Prairie Provinces, and these will sell at 35 cents and bring to the producer his 27½ cents. There are many other things in which the farmer might co-operate. Our creamery is considering the installation of a fruit-packing station, and acting practically as commissioner or agent to sell anything—vegetables, potatoes, or anything else. I venture to say that there are not many here who, having had dealings with a commission house, have not felt that the commission men got more than they were entitled to get."

Peachland Notes.

Thompson Elliot of Summerland spent last Wednesday in town.

W. A. Jeffries, who is gathering material for a directory of the Okanagan, spent Thursday in town.

Mr. R. J. Hogg has again received an appointment as fire-warden for this season, his district being between Dog Lake and Bear Creek.

A baseball match between Kelowna and Peachland was played here on Thursday afternoon last, when the visiting team won by one run.

On Monday afternoon word was received by the Express Agent here that an express car had been destroyed by fire at Medicine Hat. Several parcels addressed to Peachland were in it, so we have some disappointed ones in our midst.

The "Skookum" came up on Saturday and took the baseball team and many of its friends to Summerland, where a game was played with the College, resulting in a victory of one run for the latter. Jno. Santon umpired to the satisfaction of all.

On Tuesday morning, as the steamer "Okanagan" was passing Mr. Jno. Drought's ranch, a man jumped overboard and was drowned, his body being lost in spite of the immediate and earnest efforts of the crew to rescue him. No particulars are to hand as yet.

Those connected with the choir in the United Methodist and Presbyterian Church, under the leadership of Mr. R. J. Hogg, are making preparations for giving an entertainment in the near future. As the object (to procure new music for the choir) is a worthy one, it is to be hoped it will be well patronized.

The Summerland Boat Works, which has been operated by Messrs. Hatfield & Clark, has undergone a change of ownership.

"THE PLAYERS" IN A VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT ON MAY 24th.

The program arranged for the evening of May 24, is of a varied nature, and evidently designed for a holiday audience.

This will be followed by Scotch songs in costume—Mr. George Fisher. Mr. Alex. Bentley will then sing the "Prologue" from Paganini.

Mr. Knox, who has proved himself a genuinely funny comedian—a truly rare bird—will tell us "How Bill Adams won the Battle of Waterloo."

W.C.T.U. CONVENTION.

The Okanagan District Convention met in the Baptist Church at Vernon on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 29th and 30th.

The educational part of the program proved very interesting. A paper on "The Economic Waste of the Liquor Traffic" by Mrs. D. J. Welsh of Kelowna, revealed some astonishing facts.

A paper on "The Duty of W.C.T.U. Members to the Child, the Girl, and the Mother," by Mrs. E. Freeman of Armstrong, showed deep thought and careful preparation.

Mrs. Livingstone, our provincial field worker, was present throughout all the sessions and proved herself very helpful.

The next convention is to meet in Summerland in April 1914. The officers elected were: President, Mrs. Fenner of Summerland; Vice-President, Mrs. Hunter of Vernon; recording secretary, Miss White of Summerland; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gray of Summerland; Treasurer, Mrs. Ball of Armstrong.

The Summerland Union held its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. R. E. White on Monday afternoon of last week. After disposing of considerable correspondence, the election of officers for the ensuing year took place.

Mrs. Lipssett, the retiring president, is to be congratulated on her efficient conduct of affairs during the year that has just closed.

More people go to church because they think they ought to than because they want to.

Cigarettes are now said to cure the drink habit.

MUCH B.C. FRUIT TO AUSTRALIA

Prospects Good for Big Sales in that Market.

Vancouver, May 13.—Good prospects for the fruit growers of the province to market successfully the whole of their crop this year, are held out by Inspector W. H. Lyne of the Provincial Fruit Inspection department.

"Last year," said Mr. Lyne "the fruit growers had a good crop, but they suffered from the congestion in marketing their crop. They were not represented in many of the markets, as were the American growers."

"It is expected that a large quantity of our fruit will find their way to the Australian markets. The Australian laws prohibit fruit being imported from districts infested by codling moth, or even from orchards within many miles of an infested district."

"When our commercial system is perfected, there is no reason why we should not be able to supply any market in any part of the world," said Inspector Lyne.

EMPIRE DAY SPORTS.

The entries for the five-a-side football must be handed to one of the Secretaries, accompanied by the necessary fee, on or before the 22nd of May.

SCOTT MEMORIAL FUND.

Already some $50 have been collected in small amounts by the Overseas Club and St. Andrews Society for the purpose of erecting permanent drinking fountains as memorials to Captain Scott and party of Antarctic fame.

Biggs—"I wonder if Diggs has much money behind him?" Diggs—"He had the other day when I saw him; he was leaning against the Bank of England."

OKANAGAN UNITED GROWERS, Ld.

The movement for organizing the fruit growers of the Okanagan into one combination, which has been so ably engineered by Mr. R. Robertson, is now nearing a most successful conclusion.

The Vernon Fruit Union, the new cooperative organization for that district, has decided to take over the assets of the Vernon Fruit Company, and it is said that an agreement has already been reached with that company.

FOREST BD. FIRE REGULATIONS

Victoria, B.C., May 14.—Settlers throughout British Columbia may with advantage be once more reminded that, according to the regulations of the Forest Board, it is now illegal to burn slash and general debris accumulating as a result of clearing operations.

DANGEROUS HOUSE FLY.

Now is the opportune time to begin the raid on the flies—before they have scarcely made an appearance. Prevention is the surest cure.

Remember that the exposure of any kind of refuse near a dwelling furnishes a breeding place for flies, and if food is exposed the flies will deposit germs upon it.

Burn pyrethrum powder in the house. It will kill most of the flies, and those it does not will fall stunned.

"FRUIT AND FARM."

Fruit and Farm for April comes in a handsome two-color cover by Malcolm Charlson, a rising young B.C. artist.

Asking the beekeepers present how many colonies of bees were required for an eight acre orchard, Prof. Crow elicited the reply from Dr. Burton N. Gatos, Ph.D.

Canada comes second among world rivals in percentage of trade growth since 1900, Argentina coming first.

Canada had (July, 1912) 850 rural mail delivery routes and 52,000 delivery boxes. 250 were established in 1911.

The Influence of Bees on Orchards.

W. White, Brantford, Ont.

Every fruit grower realizes the importance of good methods of cultivation in the orchard. It is doubtful, however, whether he appreciates the fact that in spite of all his improved methods his yearly income would be reduced to a minimum were it not for the labors of the hive-bee.

Fruit pollen, being heavy and more or less sticky, is not carried by the wind to any extent. Although a few wild native insects may assist in the pollinating process, fruit growers are dependent almost entirely upon the hive or honey bee.

Apple scab was usually found on the smaller half of a deformed fruit, because that side was weaker and incapable of withstanding disease attacks. The malformation of the apple was due to imperfect fertilization.

SUMMERLAND GROWERS ENDORSE CENTRAL SELLING AGENCY REPORT.

complaints of pooling as heretofore practised had been made. The grading of one district had been marketed with the grading of another not as good as the first to the natural detriment of the higher graded fruit. With a Valley inspection by the Central Agency there would be a uniform standard which with time, pooling would remove any of the objections to Valley pooling. Some difficulties that would arise under this method were suggested, and the speaker suggested yet others, but for each of these he proposed a remedy as one that might be applied to the case.

METHOD OF POOLING.

Time pooling and the option of staying out of the pool, together with the fact that the time of these pools would be announced in advance seemingly removed any prevailing objections to Valley pooling. Mr. Robertson declared that experience in the older districts had shown that on the average it was found to be an advantage to remain out of the pool. With this pooling method no suspicions would attach to the Central of favoring certain districts. In Yakima a pooling committee fixes the dates of the pools for the different varieties, which are published before July first. Any member may be permitted to withdraw from a certain pool by giving notice. He then, of course, assumes the risk of getting poorer prices by the sale of his fruit separately. It would be the duty of the locals to say just when the fruit is to come in. The manager should be a horticulturist who knows fruit and can handle the growers, and preferably one who can advise on orchard methods, etc.

A CRITICAL PERIOD.

Speaking of the situation in the Valley at present Mr. Robertson declared that marked progress toward organization had been made, and that a crisis had been reached, and asked his hearers, "Are you prepared to go a step further and try to work out the details, or are you going to step back and go into chaos? The bridge has been burned, and I am one of those who believe you will go forward. Never again will there come such a juncture in B.C. as there is now." Mr. Robertson then outlined conditions which made it comparatively easy for the growers to co-operate, emphasizing particularly the advantage to be derived from the government's offer of an 80 per cent. loan, stating that he thought it would be a poor business that could not pay back $80 in twenty years with 4 per cent. interest. He believed if the organization goes through this year that the association will save more in the buying of supplies for 1914 than will pay the cost of selling the fruit. Mr. Robertson said further "We want all to come in with us and make a success of the organization. I know you can do it, and know you will do it, because YOU CAN'T TURN BACK."

PLAN UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED.

Messrs. White and Logie's motion was then put to vote, and unanimously carried by more than one hundred growers present.

Mr. White announced that as soon as the Articles of Association were returned to the solicitor a meeting to formulate rules would be called.

First freight, according to Mr. Logie, would be of even greater advantage than local express rates, and he urged that the C.P.R. should be shown the need to the fruit growers of such service, and also that the minimum charge should be reduced. Just here C.P.R. Agent Ross advised that a lower minimum had been fixed by the railway which would be in operation this year.

The announcement from Mr. Robertson that, from Sir Thomas Shaughnessy down, the C.P.R. are anxiously waiting to hear what the united Valley wants, and that every assurance had been given that all possible would be done to foster the fruit industry of the Valley was received with applause. The future of that company's business in this district depends upon the progress of the fruit industry.

DELEGATES TO THE CENTRAL.

The meeting was then asked to appoint two delegates to the Central Selling Agency, one of whom will be a director of that organization. Only those who had already taken stock in the local association were permitted to vote, which was done by ballot. 58 ballots, each bearing two names, were cast, the count showing 45 for Mr. G. J. C. White, and 23 for Mr. J. L. Hilborn, with Messrs. Logie and James Ritchie next in order. Mr. Logie immediately asked permission to withdraw, and thought the choice of Messrs. White and Hilborn a wise one. Mr. White had closely identified himself with the movement, and had made a study of co-operation, while Mr. Hilborn had had years of experience in just such line of work. Mr. Ritchie wished to withdraw and recommended those first named as being fully capable of performing the duties placed upon them.

Mr. Hilborn, in thanking the meeting for the vote given him said he was not surprised at the large vote for Mr. White, but was surprised at the vote given himself, and thought it must be because he was a stranger here. He promised to do his best for Summerland. A motion that there be no more balloting was put by Mr. Logie, and unanimously carried.

THE NEW EXPRESS RATES.

A letter from Mr. R. M. Winslow, Secretary of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, was then read stating that the transportation committee of that association were arranging to meet Mr. Stout, Manager of the Dominion Express, and asked for any suggestions that the local association had to make. The letter also contained the good news that the express company did not propose to wait till July 15th to inaugurate the new rates ordered by the railway commission, but that they would be adopted at as early a date as possible.

Mr. Tait announced that two lectures had been arranged for the Farmers' Institute, one on veterinary science, the other on poultry, both to be given the same evening.

Mr. D. H. Watson made the suggestion that Okanagan fruit should be graded higher for color, stating that he found on the prairies that color was made a prominent feature with American fruit. Mr. Robertson announced in reply that an amendment was being made to the Fruit Marks Act, and that color would be considered in the grading which heretofore had not been the case. In any event the Central should set its own standard and uniformly adhere to it.

To a very hearty vote of thanks for Mr. Robertson's work and interest on behalf of the fruit growers he replied that if he had had a small share in making the lot of the fruit grower better he would be satisfied, and urged that the growers remember that their managers would be only human, and would make mistakes, but stand by them and give them your support."

One of the most successful and unanimous meetings of our fruit growers was then brought to a close, and all went home with renewed optimism and fresh courage for the future.

LIFE AT CAMP 9.

Special to the Review.

(Spokane papers please copy.)

Dears Sirs,—Bridge and trestle headquarters at Camp 9 is in deep mourning on account of the sudden death of the splendid and shapely two days old colt of "Black Mary Ann," Mr. McCarthy's beautiful thoroughbred driving mare.

Burial took place at 2 p.m., May 6, the Rev. Dr. Alfred Anderson of Spokane, a suburb of Cheney, Wash., officiating, ably assisted by Mr. S. J. Smith of Hoopior, Wash., chief mourner, while Mr. Andrew Nelson of Collilo, Or., acted as embalmer and undertaker. A beautiful fragrant spot was chosen for burial, surrounded by mushrooms, popples, and other beautiful flowers, resulting from the stable refuse.

The services, as rendered by Dr. Anderson, were touching indeed (I missed several things after they left), and many a strong man wept and blinked his eye. Chof Olaf and blacksmith Fogelson did their best to render fitting music on the triango and anvil. After a cup of Chof Nelson's special Moccia and Java our friends departed for pastures green, to take a rest, and incidentally to hunt up some old lost skaton, after which they will return to their native home somewhere in Ireland.

Yours truly,
"Romoo."

The English Football Cup Tie.

A Crowded Day at the Crystal Palace.

Another Interesting Letter From Mr. J. O. ROBINSON.
The great English football tie has come and gone. For weeks it has had the English sporting public "by the ears." On the way across the Atlantic some young enthusiasts whose homes are in various parts of the British Isles pleaded with me to see the great game at the Crystal Palace, which was to take place in the latter part of April. I never was very fond of association football, but their powers of persuasion were so great that I found myself looking forward to the event with some enthusiasm. Like baseball in the United States, and hockey and lacrosse in Canada, all the young enthusiasts over there know the full biographies and fame of every footballer of any account. They painted vivid pictures of Thompson of Sunderland dashing through his opponents' defence, and great saves by Butler, the mighty goalkeeper.

Consequently Saturday morning, the 19th of April, my father and I started our sojourn for the Crystal Palace grounds, which, although in the City of London, must be twenty or twenty-five miles away from where we live. We went to Kew Gardens station and boarded the district train for Westminster station. By the time we reached Hammer-smith we could tell by the size and nature of the crowds that something unusual was going on in old London. Many having arrived early were spending their time sight-seeing, and were, perhaps, having their first ride in an underground train. Not being accustomed to strap-hanging, and all the seats being taken, their gyrations and gestures were wonderful and amusing to behold when the train got up speed. One chap, looking uncomfortable in a high collar, carrying a rain-coat over his arm, when the train swung around a curve shot across the aisle and landed in a lady's lap, causing much hilarity among his companions.

We got out at Westminster station to walk up to Trafalgar Square and the crowds on the streets was a rare spectacle. London surely was in the hands of the cup-tie invaders. It was estimated that over 80,000 had taken advantage of the excursion rates, not all intending to see the game. Forty special trains were run from Birmingham alone, most of them arriving early on Saturday morning. The great majority of these methodically went about to see the points of interest. One newspaper said that London had become a city of rubber-necks. They swarmed on the foot-paths, choked the roadways in char-a-bancs and brakes and motor buses, filled St. Paul's and Westminster Abbey with a moving throng, filed through the Houses of Parliament, crowded out the Tower, stared into the doors of fire stations, took possession of restaurants—in short "did London" with all the zest and enthusiasm of which the day tripper is capable. Every conceivable sort of a conveyance was pressed into service, some might have been in their prime when Sarah Bernhardt was a youngster. These, fairly overflowing with human cargo, rumbled along to Hyde Park, Hampton Court, Richmond Park, Kew Gardens, and all the beauty-spots of any historical interest.

We made our way towards Victoria station shortly before noon, and after fighting our way through the crowd got to the platform where special trains of from ten to fifteen coaches were pulling out every few minutes for the Crystal Palace, the Mecca of the English sporting fraternity for the day. The game was not scheduled to start until 3.30, yet at 12 o'clock we were fortunate in getting seats in one of the compartments. Every few minutes empty trains would whizz by us on their return trips for more passengers, so we could see that we were by no means the first to get to the grounds.

It certainly is an eye-opener the way these trains of compartment coaches can handle a large crowd, because I should judge no more than three minutes had elapsed after our arrival before the train was emptied and most were on the way for the football grounds. They just simply open the doors on the side and step from their seats out of the train on to the platform, which is nearly on a level with the floors of the coaches.

On paying a shilling each we passed through turnstiles, right in amongst a horde of merry-go-rounds, swings, revolving air-ships, and contraptions of all sorts, to satisfy every taste of the pleasure-seeker in a holiday mood, and furthermore, these contrivances were in full operation, going at top speed. A little farther on, near some artificial lakes and beautiful little gardens, a sight came before our eyes that almost made me home-sick. It was an exact reproduction on a small scale of the main building of the Canadian House of Commons at Ottawa. The reproduction is almost perfect, and judging from the remarks dropped in passing, it is also a mighty good advertisement for Canada.

Near by stands that immense, building in height and length and breadth, built almost entirely of glass, the Crystal Palace. In passing through the gardens in front of this famous building one could almost imagine himself in a dream, with a riot of color in flowers, trees, lawns, fountains, statuary, and great stone steps in all directions, leading up to the palace.

Although it was not one o'clock by the time we reached the enclosure where the match was to be played, we were quite ready for luncheon. The Lyons Restaurant Company had erected stands under large tents where refreshments were served. We headed for the nearest one. Here the people were lined up around the counter about ten deep, fighting and struggling for something to eat or drink. We joined the merry throng and for ten or fifteen minutes fought our way up to the counter. Just as we got there, we were informed that all the catables were sold out, the man to my left getting the last precious sandwich. This had the effect of aggravating rather than appeasing the hunger, so we made haste for another refreshment booth. Here we repented the performance at the first place. It was not until we had gone through this experience three times that we were successful in getting anything to eat. Then we were only successful in getting bread and cheese, but the finest of fowl never tasted better than that morsel did to me that day.

All the tickets in the stands had been sold out last June, so we had to content ourselves with standing room. We took up positions near one end of the field on the side of a hill to wait for about two hours for the kick off, and to watch the crowds stream in. For over an hour before, thousands had taken their places for a long wait, while trainload after trainload was rushing in. For hours they just simply poured through the gates. By the time play commenced they filled the entire enclosure to overflowing. Every tree and post in sight was black with human beings. It was a sight not soon to be forgotten. Everything was a soothing mass of humanity that day. The attendance was about 122,000. Just think that over, the population of a large city! It went beyond the bounds of my imagination altogether. Two years ago, at a base-ball match in Toronto I thought 32,000 was just about the limit, but it would easily have been lost in that mighty throng at the Crystal Palace last Saturday.

We surely witnessed a battle royal that day. The way the players handled that ball with both their feet and heads was simply marvelous. The teams worked just like clock-work, and especially when close in the goal, they displayed great skill, both in offensive and defensive play. Another feature which is quite noticeable to a Canadian is the absolute freedom from rough play, and the absence of disputes with the referee. There was also an absence of "rooting" by the spectators, the most prominent noise being the clapping of hands in recognition of a good play. I could not help but think what a noise that crowd could make if it once turned loose.

I happened to be amongst Aston Villa supporters, and there was great rejoicing when they scored the one and only goal of the game. After standing there for nearly three hours, I secretly rejoiced, and was thankful to get out of that awful jamb alive, and to get a seat in the train on the return journey home.

Boon To Okanagan

Placed on Equal Footing With Wenatchee For Vancouver's Trade.

Railway Commission and Express Company Quickly Agree on Special Rates Between Okanagan and Coast.

(From the Vancouver Province.)

The proposed express rates reduction on the carriage of fruit from interior points to Vancouver is virtually 17 per cent. It will go into effect within a few weeks. It promises to prove of immense assistance to British Columbia fruit growers in meeting American competition. For instance, the rate from Vernon on every variety of fruit shipped into Vancouver will be $1.50 per 100 pounds, instead of $1.80 per 100 pounds as formerly.

This new figure is the exact equivalent of the rate from Wenatchee—the centre of the Washington fruit growing industry—to Vancouver. That a substantial boon has been conferred on the Okanagan Valley is evidenced by the fact that Wenatchee is nearer Vancouver by one-third than the distance that separates Vernon from Vancouver.

So impressed was Mr. H. L. Drayton, chairman of the Railway Board, with the necessity of granting immediate relief that the new rate will come into effect without the usual formal delay of thirty days following the issuance of the formal order of the Board. The order is now actually being prepared and the new rates will become operative the moment the various schedules are printed. Brief reference to the situation has already been made in The Province, in connection with the reports of interviews between representatives of the Dominion Express Company and the fruit growers.

MR. GOODEVE'S VIEW.

Mr. A. S. Goodeve, a colleague of Mr. Drayton, and former member for Kootenay, in conversation with a representative of The Province, expressed the belief that the reduction in rates would prove of substantial benefit to British Columbia fruit growers, and would relieve them of the handicap of which they have been complaining for years past. He expects to see the industry henceforth be in a position to meet foreign competition, especially from the States of Oregon and Washington, which geographically are much nearer to Vancouver than many of the important fruit growing districts of British Columbia. In reviewing the steps that led to the granting of relief, Chairman Drayton was as emphatic as Mr. Goodeve in praising the generosity that prompted the Dominion Express Company to meet the wishes of the domestic fruit growers, even although the traffic in some instances might prove anything but profitable.

"In the recent general order of Chairman Drayton reducing the rates of the general merchandise schedule and schedules K and N, local fruits were not affected as they are embraced in a special tariff," said Mr. Goodeve. In the East some time ago the general fruit schedule was discussed by Mr. Drayton with Mr. W. S. Stout, general manager of the Dominion Express Company, and as a result also of representations made by Mr. Winslow, provincial horticulturist of British Columbia, and others interested in the British Columbia fruit growing industry, Mr. Stout arranged to go West to take up with the producers the question of a fruit special rate.

READY TO TAKE PART.

"The Railway Board followed soon afterwards, being prepared to take part in the conference, if necessary. The result of the discussions between Mr. Stout and the producers is that a new scale has been prepared, reducing the existing fruit special very substantially. For instance, the rate from Vernon to Vancouver, formerly $1.80 per 100 pounds, has been cut to $1.50 per 100 pounds. An order of the Board is being prepared to validate the agreement reached at that conference, and without waiting the usual 30 days' stay, as the Board desires that the fruit growers shall enjoy the benefit of the reductions as soon as the new rates can be printed. Mr. Stout, who has shown himself sympathetic towards the British Columbia fruit growing industry, has already gone East to have the four schedules printed and distributed without a moment's delay.

WENATCHEE IS CLOSER.

"Here is one illustration of the reductions. Wenatchee, Wash., is one-third less distant from Vancouver than is Vernon, but the new express rate for fruit from Vernon to Vancouver will be equivalent to the rate from Wenatchee to Vancouver. The boon to the British Columbia grower is obvious, as the reductions from other interior points are proportionate. I feel confident that an important domestic industry will now be in a position to meet foreign competition that was almost ruinous. The Washington State grower had the advantage of proximity to our Coast market, and the American express companies do business through a region that is relatively more densely populated than British Columbia," Mr. Goodeve concluded.

The early fruits of the Okanagan and other districts, including berries and cherries, will be shipped this year under the advantages afforded the growers by the express company's reduction.

The combined results of an unusually heavy crop last year and of considerable frost damage this spring will mean that the Yakima Valley will have a crop of some three thousand cars less than last year. Five thousand carloads is now the estimate for that Valley. About three thousand of these will be apples and 1,600 peaches. Pears and apricots suffered most from late frosts.

Will be First "Public" Wharf on Our Lakefront.

Included in the supplementary estimates brought down on Tuesday in the House of Commons is an appropriation of $23,400 for the building of a wharf at Summerland.

Some time ago the local Liberal-Conservative Association, realizing the need of a publicly-owned wharf, petitioned the Government through our representative at Ottawa to build such a wharf at the point near Dr. Smith's residence, such wharf to be an extension of the public street which extends to the shore. This request was also supported by a similar petition from the Board of Trade. These were favorably received and promises made that early attention would be given. The above mentioned appropriation is a prompt answer to Summerland's request.

Another Forward Movement

Post Office Dept. Stands Ready to Assist

The Post Office Department is prepared to establish a daily free rural mail delivery for all the outlying points of Summerland. This is the conclusion arrived at after an inspection of the district by an official from the Provincial Post Office Inspector's Department at Vancouver, who recently visited this district for that purpose.

Acting upon the recommendation made by the Review some weeks ago the residents of Balcom petitioned the Inspector's Department for such a service for their district, and as result of this petition an official was sent to look over the ground. He found the particular field referred to too small, but quickly realized the need of and advantages to the residents distant from the Post Office of having a daily courier service. Accordingly a route was laid out as follows:—

Starting from the Summerland Post Office the Courier will go through Peach Orchard, up the switch-back, past Capt. Webb's, on to Jones Flat; continuing west to Garnett Valley, up that road as far as the Campbell property, returning proceeding straight to Prairie Valley, which will be served on both sides, thence to Peach Valley, and around south of Giant's Head, coming in the old Penticton road, turning off this in front of Pollock's, passing G. J. C. White's, and thence back to town. This route is something over 20 miles in length, and along it many people are living, who will find the service a great convenience.

At the request of each citizen a specially devised receptacle is placed at his gate in which he will deposit letters and in which the Courier will place all mail matter for the household. In addition a full service is given by the Courier, including the sale of postage stamps, postal notes, money orders, signing for registered letters.

Now that the Inspector's Department has reported favorably it is up to the residents along the route to say whether they want the service. Circulars descriptive of the service have been mailed to practically all those who would be interested, with the request that they sign and return the regular application form.

In older districts Rural Free Mail Delivery is looked upon with great favor, the establishing of which considerably enhances the value of property along the route. It is to be hoped that the applications will be signed and returned promptly, as after these are gathered the Inspector must lay the proposition before his superiors at Ottawa, and prompt attention will greatly facilitate matters.

Pre-Cooling Plant

Ready August First.

Department of Agriculture to Operate Test Plant Here.

As a result of a recent visit here of Mr. Edward Smith, of the Provincial Agricultural Department, who has made a specialty of the pre-cooling of fruit, our fruit growers are to be provided with a pre-cooling plant which will be ready for operation about August 1st.

There will be two rooms fitted up for this purpose, one of which will be for rapidly cooling the fruit; the second to hold the fruit after cooling until the time of shipment.

This plant, which is expected to greatly facilitate the shipping of mature fruit, will be established in the big packing house at the C.P.R. wharf. A special device will be installed whereby ice will be used, the cold air being driven through the packages of fruit by fans. Electric power is generally used in this system for forcing the cold air through the packages, and this power is what the Department prefers to use here. When asked by the Review if the Municipality could supply the necessary power the Reeve's reply was that they would be supplied with anything they want if they would give us a pre-cooling plant.

Robertson Manager

Okanagan United Growers, Limited Appoint Officers. Organization Completed at Vernon To-day.

Summerland Fruit Union is Granted Charter.

And Shareholders Meet Next Thursday

Some twenty-six shares held in trust by twenty-six fruit growers for their respective local associations is the basis upon which the Okanagan United Growers Ltd. is formed. Two of these shares held by Messrs. White and Hilborn for the Summerland Union were represented by Mr. White at a meeting at Vernon this week, he having Mr. Hilborn's proxy.

By telephone at noon to-day the Review learned the names of the officers of the new organization. These are: President, J. E. Reekie, Kelowna; Vice-President, F. B. Cossitt, Vernon; Manager, R. Robertson.

Mr. Robertson was the unanimous choice, receiving the support of every shareholder. Asked as to whether recent newspapers reports had militated against Mr. Robertson's appointment, Mr. White said they had not, finally. The matter was brought up for discussion, and Mr. Robertson's explanation was so entirely satisfactory that even those who were not at first disposed to vote for him believed he was in the right and gave him their approval.

Information has been received to the effect that letters of incorporation have been granted the Summerland Fruit Union. These will arrive at once, and the local association will then be duly qualified to transact business. A meeting of the shareholders will be held next Thursday evening in the Men's Club, when organization will be completed, and permanent directors elected.

A meeting of the provisional directors of the Summerland Fruit Union was held last Monday evening when much routine business was discussed. A committee was appointed to inspect and value the local stock-on-hand of the Okanagan Fruit Union, with a view to making an offer for it. Another committee was given the matter of box hooks to look after. The local mill and outside manufacturers had submitted prices. The committee will interview the local concern to ascertain if they can deliver the quantity needed at a little lower price than quoted, and will give bonds for delivery of the quantity required and at the time needed. Still another committee will report on the engaging of a head packer, accountant, etc.

HOLIDAY ATTRACTIONS.

Empire Day is generally conceded by the lake towns to be Summerland's day. There will be the usual sports on the College campus on Saturday, and a large crowd is expected.

A special excursion to Kaleden and Okanagan Falls will be conducted by the Lake Boat Company and the Southern Okanagan Transportation Co., connection between the two lakes being made by stage. Full particulars will be found in advertisement on page 2.

For theatre goers there will be the Vaudeville in Empire Hall, which begins promptly at 8.30. A pleasing and varied program is announced. See advertisement on page 4.

On the same evening the Overseas Club will have a bonfire at the rear of Alex. Stevon's home, one of a series of globe encircling fires commemorating the day.

The sports at Kelowna will probably induce a few to catch the early morning boat.

There will of course be the usual number of private picnics, boating parties, etc.

Dominion Cannery will Operate Wharf Cannery.

Herewith is an exact copy of a telegram received at noon to-day by Mr. H. C. Mellor, President of the Board of Trade and the information which it contains will be exceedingly good news to all.

While the directors of the Dominion Cannery Co. had authorized the operating of the old cannery on the T. J. Smith wharf, at the same time the erection here of a plant of their own was agreed upon, this news was quickly followed by information from the company's manager that they could not spare a process man. The Board of Trade did not despair, however, and believed if the sit-Telegram to Board of Trade brings Glad Tidings. Mr. Suckling's Errand Highly Successful.

Hamilton, Ont., May 22.
President Mellor, Summerland,
Mr. Suckling here. We have arranged to send back with him next week a first-class man to take charge at Summerland. We will depend on your good self and other growers giving him all support possible as on this year's result our future action will largely depend.

uation was properly put before the company the provision would be made. Thereupon, Mr. Suckling, to whom credit is principally due for the company's coming here, volunteered to go East representing the Board and interview some of those most concerned, and also go before the directors. The accompanying telegram testifies just how successful his mission was.

The wharf plant will be materially enlarged, practically doubling its capacity, to fill as far as possible the need for this reason.

The success of Mr. Suckling's mission will mean thousands of dollars saved to Summerland.

Woman Fruit Grower Makes Good Here.

Mrs. G. L. Young, in Interview at Coast, Praises Summerland and its Possibilities.

Speaks of Her Own Success.

The following article, which appeared in a recent number of the Vancouver Province will be read with interest:

Herself a prominent and successful fruit grower in the Okanagan, Mrs. G. L. Young of Summerland, B.C., who is in the city on a trip, is enthusiastic over the prospects ahead of orchardists in the Okanagan Valley. Mrs. Young has some authoritative knowledge of the fruit business, as she takes a close personal interest in her own Summerland orchard, and supervises work during the picking and packing seasons. She also attends to the matter of arranging for markets, and for some time past has disposed of part of her annual fruit crop to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. She has recently made arrangements to sell fancy fruit this year to the Vancouver Club.

The advent of the Kettle Valley Railway line, the reduction in express rates on fruit, and the assistance of the Provincial Government in the formation of a Central Selling Agency for the Okanagan will greatly benefit that district, declared Mrs. Young.

She has been a guest for some time at the home of her sister, Mrs. P. Singer, 3575 Third Avenue West, and will probably leave in a short time for her fruit ranch at Summerland.

"I believe that Summerland is the best part of the province for fruit growing," she declared. "I am an enthusiast when it comes to singing the praises of the peach belt, possibly because I have had splendid success for several seasons there. Last year I got good crops from over 1200 trees on ten acres.

"Summerland fruit has won many prizes at fruit shows, both against American and other Canadian competitors. As to quantity of production one instance will serve as an indication. From one tree in an old orchard 47 boxes of select apples were obtained. Success is quite as marked with tomatoes, cherries, peaches, apricots, plums, pears and berries. The important question with the fruit ranchers of Summerland, and indeed of the whole Okanagan district, has been that of proper marketing. Now that the Provincial Government has come to the assistance of the growers in the formation of selling agencies for the individual district, and one central agency for the whole valley, there should be little or no trouble along that line in future. With the completion of the Kettle Valley line, Summerland and Penticton will be only about eight or ten hours' ride from Vancouver. The advent of this line will be a boon to the growers in contrast with the present day-and-a-half shipping distance from Vancouver."

THE CALL TO THE MINISTRY.

An elderly woman now living in the west, formerly a resident of Princeton, New Jersey, not long ago visited her relatives in that town. She was especially interested in the progress of a nephew who had entered the ministry. She had not seen him since his boyhood, and was, therefore, anxious to attend service at his church.

At dinner, subsequent to the Sunday sermon she heard delivered by her nephew, it was observed that the old woman was singularly reticent.

Suddenly she broke her long silence by asking her nephew: "William, why did you enter the ministry?"

"Why, aunt!" exclaimed the young divine. "What a question! I entered the ministry because I was called."

Just a suspicion of a smile came to the old woman's face, as she responded: "Are you sure, William, that it wasn't some other noise you heard?"

Crude Thoughts From the Editorial Pen.

TEAM WORK IN THE HOME.

WHEN two horses work well together we say they make a "good team," or that they do good "team work." In a game we say that certain players make a good team or that they do good team work. So a household should make a "team," if its members are to save time, labor and money in doing housework.

The members of a family should play the game of living together in harmony, says Charles Barnard in "Dry Farming," in a spirit of mutual helpfulness, arranged on the basis of team work. Suppose there are five beds in the house which must be every day made up for the night. There may be in the family three girls beside their mother. Now to let mother make all the beds every day is not right and no unselfish daughter would allow her mother to do it. Of course, every one of the girls should help—but how?

Just what is done when a bed is made up? Every girl over six years old knows or should know just how it should be done. Get pencil and note-book and sit in the room while someone, who thinks she knows how to do the work of making a bed, does the work as quickly and neatly as she can. Let the one with the note-book observe the work carefully, note how many times the one at work walks round the bed and note how long the work takes. The next morning let the same notes be kept while two girls make up the same bed. From start to finish let each girl keep on one side of the bed. This time the work is done in about half the time and with a great saving in steps. This is what is meant by team work. The two girls make a team, they are doing team work.

This is very simple, but it is not real team work. A high class team, first of all, has the "team spirit." They must not merely work together—they must think together, plan the work together, study every motion, count the motions and write out every step in the game of making a bed in the note-book, and then, after the bed is made, go over the note-book and see if the order in which the work is done is best or whether a different plan of the work would not gain a minute or more in the time required to make the bed. These things are not so simple as they seem. We are too apt to say: "Oh, anybody can do a little thing like that. You just make it, that's all."

Why, then, do the great schools of domestic science have real bedrooms, real dining rooms and real kitchens as actual practice rooms in which girls can be real students of efficient housekeeping? Team work planning and team work practice help to save labor in the home, but, better than all, it trains the housekeeper herself in efficiency and makes her a more competent wife and mother.

It is easy to make fun of dish washing. Only a man who never did it would laugh at the Sunday paper picture of a man making himself useful in the kitchen. We must remember that the kitchen is a workshop, far more complicated, far more scientific than many a machine shop. Team work in dish washing is far more important than team work in a saw mill, and the saw mill would be bankrupt in a month without the most perfect team work.

Two hands are better than one, and two pair of hands still better, because with each pair is a head, and two brains both working for the same end make team work easy.

What we all need in the home is a new way of looking at housework. It is more than work; it is science applied to work; it is a science made up of the best of all the sciences. Team work in the home is only one of the many ways in which housekeeping is to be made more simple, less laborious, more interesting, less costly, more efficient.

Try it. Make your household a high-class home team.

What is the use of hurrying? There is time enough for all work, and they who worry and scurry through, day after day, vainly endeavoring to do a little more than any mortal ought to do in a day, are injured physically and mentally, and do not in the end accomplish as much as the quiet, steady worker who keeps on serenely hour after hour until weary, and then has the good sense to rest.

THE MAN MAKES THE HOME.

I am inclined to think that men are fonder of homes than women. It is the wives who are so keen on "going out." Of course there is the obvious retort; namely, that the masculine mind has never realized the never-ending worry of housekeeping; to him home is the place where he can do more or less as he likes—a haven of refuge, where he can smoke and wear old and easy slippers.

To his wife home is more or less of a battlefield, where a never-ending war is waged against lazy servants, independent shop-keepers, and last, but not least, against that malignant demon known as "wear and tear."

The man merely makes the money for the home, but on the woman falls the harder task. She makes the money so that the short ends of their income meet.

And perhaps that is why her outlook on home life is more practical than sentimental, and why, when her husband likes to spend Saturdays muddling about the garden or reading by the fireside, she frankly says it is a dull way of spending a holiday, and votes for "a change," such as a visit to the theatre or a meal at a restaurant.

But weariness of housekeeping only partly accounts for this, and I stick to my own theory that women are naturally not homo-lovers at all.

Woman is too curious to "stay put" in one place. At heart we are one and all adventurers—perhaps gypsies is a happier phrase; we want new worlds to conquer and new friends to envy our new clothes.

Yes, it is the man who makes the home, for a home must have a man in it. A woman by herself cannot make one. If it were not for the scent of tobacco which lingers around the curtains and that shabby old pair of slippers under the smoking room sofa, and the muddy print of a very big boot in the hall, the house might be tidier, but it would be "no place like home" after all!

Naramata Notes.

Miss Irene McCullough of Penticton was in town last Saturday.

Mr. Will Robinson is expecting to arrive on the 27th of this month.

Mr. Frank Hayward is now employed in survey work at Prowse's residency.

Mr. Bacher of the Bacher & Harmount Co. is now in the Mission Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Atkins are this week starting on an auto trip south into the Columbia River Valley.

The electric meters were taken out of the various homes last Friday and tested by the government electrical expert.

The dance which was scheduled to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Walters on May 24th has been postponed until one week later.

Mr. MacCarthy the head physician of the K.V.R. is acting in the place of Dr. Whitehouse in the local hospital. We understand that Mr. Cruikshank may take the position later.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bain of Prince Rupert, together with their two children, arrived on Saturday night. They will remain here for the summer. They are at present staying with Mrs. Bain's mother, Mrs. James Hayward.

Mr. James, who has been acting as time-keeper at Hildebrandt's Camp No. 1, was taken ill with pneumonia and removed to the Mission Hospital on Monday morning. Mr. Guy Brock is temporarily taking his place at the camp.

Mr. Reginald Boothe, who has been clerking for some time in Hill's Store at Penticton, will accept a much better position at Fort George, B.C. He will be connected with a large wholesale concern and leaves soon to take up that work.

The Hon. Walter Scott, Premier of Saskatchewan, spent Wednesday in Naramata visiting his fruit lot and the big tunnel along the right-of-way. He evidently was pleased with the place for he intends to bring his wife and children and spend a couple of weeks here later on in the season.

On Tuesday night Mrs. W. H. Ellwell and Miss Adelaide Hayward entertained a few of their friends in honor of Miss Hazel Wells. The affair was a costume party in which the guests thoroughly carried out the various arrangements. A chaffing-dish luncheon was served during the evening and one of the best of times was had by all.

On Wednesday afternoon Miss Wells was entertained at the home of Miss Ruth Chambers. Twenty-four guests were invited to a cafeteria luncheon party. The cafeteria idea was carried out, except that the money, with which each one was to select and purchase a lunch, was furnished by the hostess. Several "stunts" were done and each guest given money (or what passed as money) according to her success in the stunts. Unheard of economics were practised in order to obtain more of the entables.

A very pretty tea was given last Thursday by Miss Lois Wells in honor of her sister, Miss Hazel. The company was provided with some very clever guessing contests arranged by Mrs. J. S. Gillespie, which required a great deal of ingenuity to prepare, and nearly as much to solve. After the refreshments, the guests formed themselves into a "Follow Your Leader" procession, which finally led to the store of beautiful things Miss Wells has in preparation for her coming marriage. These brought forth many expressions of admiration and just a little pardonable envy. Then followed some of the girls' old chorus songs, and the end of another very enjoyable afternoon with Miss Hazel.

The departure of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Manchester was delayed one day by the illness of Mr. Manchester on Tuesday. They are now leaving on Thursday morning, accompanied by Dr. Whitehouse. They intend to stop in England for a time and then leave for a small town in Rhodesia, Africa, where Mr. Manchester will engage in the drug business and Dr. Whitehouse practice medicine. It is very imperative for the state of Mr. Manchester's health that he leave this climate, and it is hoped that South Africa will soon prove beneficial to him. The very best wishes of the community go with them, and hopes of welcoming them back in the near future. Dr. Whitehouse, though a comparative newcomer, is a man his many friends regret to lose.

On Monday morning Purley Simpson, with Ernest H. Lock and others went down to Vassaux Lake to bale a large quantity of hay, which is to be sent up to Penticton.

Many of the apple trees are showing a quantity of bloom now, and a large crop of fruit is well set on the apricots, which means there will be some shipping from here this year.

It is reported that Mr. H. H. Whitaker has bought the house and property lately owned by Mr. Trewitt, now of Winnipeg, and proposes to plant and grow asparagus on a large scale.

BENVOLIO is a brown horse 16 hands high bred in Bend Or, a son of Doncaster, and he a son of Stockwell. BENVOLIO is out of Sierra Madra by Bramble, a son of Bonnie Scotland, and she out of Glengary by Thormanby, thus possessing some of the best crosses in the world. BENVOLIO was raced four years and was as fast as horses ever show. He won miles in 1:38 and two-fifths, 1:30 and one-fifth; 1 1/2 miles in 2:05, 2:05 and two-fifths, 2:06 and one-fifth, and has set records for two, three and four mile races. A Glimpse at the Intricacies of a Wonderful System.

Another Interesting Letter From Mr. J. O. ROBINSON.

This country, at least London, is cursed with that abominable custom of legitimate begging, or what is popularly known as "tipping." The objectionable feature to it is not so much the cost as the "bother and the thought that the public more than the employer is directly paying the man wages for him." It seems that nearly everywhere among the tradespeople, hands are reached out toward you until you get sick and disgusted with them all. You meet this evil in the most unexpected places, the coalman, when he comes to the house, will hang around until he is tipped, and you will be lucky if he gives you the full measure of coal. The telephone men work painfully slow in installing an instrument, and you are lucky if you get it in working order within six weeks after sending in your application. We, however, have been extremely lucky, because Mayor Bisgoode of Richmond on hearing of our application dropped a hint here and there among them and things have worked like a charm.

Last week we received, with the compliments of the Assistant Superintendent of Emigration for Canada, Mr. J. Obed Smith, tickets to admit four into the head telegraph offices and General Post Office to see the inside workings of these famous institutions on the first of May. Thus last Thursday four of us took a bus for Notting Hill Gate, and from there the Tube to the Post Office on King Edward Street. We first went to the Telegraph Office nearby and on showing the invitations to a uniformed man at the door, were ushered to the waiting room upstairs to await a guide to show us through. In a short while a young man appeared and told us to follow him. He soon showed an intimate knowledge of the various departments and a thorough acquaintance with the mechanisms of the many machines and appliances used in sending and receiving messages over the wire. Furthermore, he was a master of the art of conversation, thus making our tour a very enjoyable as well as an educative one. We first were taken into a large well-lighted room where men, about two hundred and fifty in number, were seated at long tables, operating the various machines. This is the foreign room, and they were sending and receiving messages to and from the different European countries. We stood near a man and watched him communicate with Berlin, Germany. In front of him was a keyboard resembling that of a piano, only being much smaller. Each key denotes a letter, the touching of which automatically makes the required dots or dashes to form that letter. I do not know what he was saying but he certainly rattled it off in great shape on that machine.

We were next taken to the Press Dispatch Department, which is in a room of the same size but on the next floor. Here we saw instruments in operation which almost seemed to possess human intelligence, the object of which apparently being to use the wires for the minimum space of time. The principle on which they worked was to reproduce the message on long strings of paper, then running the reproduction through a machine thus automatically sending the message. One instrument in use has three keys, one representing dots on the Morse code, another spaces, and the third dashes. By working on these, holes are punctured in the strips of paper running through the machine. Then this string is run through an instrument which is on a wire connected with another city, automatically making impressions on another piece of paper on a receiving machine at the other end of the line. The instruments are speeded up to send messages at the rate of from two to three hundred words a minute, consequently a lot of work can be accomplished on one wire in a day. For receiving the messages the ingenuity of the inventor is again shown. This strip of paper, which is automatically indented with holes from perhaps hundreds of miles away, is run through another instrument attached to a typewriter which types the messages off at the rate of one hundred and twenty words to the minute.

In another room we were shown an invention of a Frenchman, who on the completion of his work was placed in a lunatic asylum, where he afterwards died. By means of his machine eight can work on one line at the same time, four sending and four receiving messages. The guide explained that by means of revolving wheels and brushes, at different fractions of seconds each operator was given access to the line. He tried to explain the intricate working of the instrument but I must confess that I could not fathom it.

We must have been taken through at least six more departments, each one being fully as large as those we had been through, but what was the most amazing of all was the number of operators required for the service in the city alone. But then, when you stop to consider, it is only natural that this means of communication would be largely used in a city with a population greater than that of the whole of Canada. In this building alone there are about four thousand employees, including porters and domestic servants, and in the basement their big machinery generates enough power in a year to last a borough of six hundred thousand inhabitants for the same space of time. It must also be remembered that this is only the headquarters, there being other branches throughout the city.

Their system of delivering messages is a wonderful thing as a time and labor saver. In all directions for some miles they have brass pipes running under the ground, and by means of a vacuum, telegrams are shot to different parts of the city. Where will the ingenuity of man ever end! In the last department which we visited was revealed perhaps the most wonderful invention of them all. Here a pencil attached to a couple of pieces of wire was writing down a message directed by a hand perhaps two hundred miles away. How it is done is more than I can say, but it gives one a spooky feeling to see it work. At the same desk we watched the operator write down a question with a pencil attached in the same way and immediately saw the answer written and duly signed.

An incident which came before our notice and which would seem strange to a Canadian is that about half past four afternoon tea was served to the employees. Attendants carried large baskets of sandwiches and cakes while the tired operator complacently sipped his tea thus having a short but very beneficial relaxation from his work. The virtue of this custom cannot be doubted, because he is always on the alert, and the strain connected with his duties must be very tiring.

Our visit to the Central Telegraph Office was certainly enough to think over and properly digest in one day, but our ticket of admission to the Post Office was marked for five o'clock on that day, so on leaving we immediately made for that institution. What we saw there I shall try to describe in next week's issue.

A preacher who went to a Kentucky parish was asked to invite the prayers of the congregation for Lucy Grey. He did so. They prayed three Sundays for Lucy Grey. On the fourth he was told that he need not do it any more. "Why?" said the preacher, "is she dead?" "No," answered the man, "she has won the Derby."

A little boy had prayed continually for several weeks for the Lord to give him a little brother. Finally he said, "It's no use, the Lord doesn't hear me." Within a week or so he was called into his mother's room where he was shown not one little brother but two. He said: "I'm awfully glad that I quit praying when I did, 'cause if I hadn't there would have been three of 'em."

Equal Heat In Every Part of The Gurney-Oxford Oven

Every woman well knows the bad results from constantly opening the oven door to move a cake to another shelf or turn a pan of biscuits. Often the shifting or the cold air striking in proves utterly disastrous to her baking.

The Divided Flue on the Gurney-Oxford range equally distributes the heat to all parts of the oven which is regulated to the exact temperature required by means of the Economizer.

This wonderful time-labor-and-money-saving device controls the heat of the whole range.

It is worked by a small handle which moves around a series of six notches. The housewife soon learns that by moving the handle to No. 1 she has a very hot oven, to No. 3 a moderate oven, and that No. 6 checks the fire so as to burn scarcely any coal while she goes out shopping. On her return she simply moves the handle to the number that gives the required heat and the result is prompt.

Of inestimable value also is the Broiler Attachment and the Special Grate.

But a most delightful feature about the Gurney-Oxford is its constant bright and shining appearance.

It has a smooth polished top that never requires black lead and is thoroughly sanitary.

For years stove experts have been working out woman's problem in the kitchen and the Gurney-Oxford range is the solution.

Notes on Sporting Events.

The committee, to which has been delegated the onerous and responsible duty of making arrangements for the Empire Day Sports, has worked faithfully and well. The prizes now on exhibition at Mr. John Ritchie's harness shop are certainly worth competing for, from the lowest standpoint of sportsmanship and a full list of athletic events has been announced. The success of the day will depend on the measure of patronage accorded by the people of Summerland, the promptitude with which races are run off, and all contests staged, and the accuracy of the judging. The five-a-side football contests should be interesting, if there are not too many teams. If the contest is drawn out to an interminable length it will spoil the day's sport and prove a weariness to the flesh.

The recently organized Amateur Baseball League, which takes in the towns at the northern end of the Valley, with Kamloops and Revelstoke, is attempting to solve the umpire difficulty by giving that long suffering and much-abused official authority to fine refractory and abusive players five dollars, and to expel them from the game. The experiment will be watched with considerable interest.

Kelowna won a fast game of baseball against Revelstoke on Thursday the 15th inst. by the close score of 3-2. The spectacular playing of Hennings at short saved the day for Kelowna. The latter team has been strengthened, has practised assiduously, and is now a strong aggregation.

The College juniors will drive to Penticton on Monday the 26th to play a return game with the Penticton intermediates.

The contest for the Mann Cup, emblematic of the Amateur Lacrosse Championship of Canada, is going to be too exciting for good sportsmanship unless the right kind of referees are handling the games. Free fights of a disgraceful character were features of the game between Victoria and Vancouver on Saturday the 17th. While the two referees were engaged in prying two fighters apart Vancouver put in the tally which virtually won the game. From this distance it looks as if Victoria has good grounds for their protest. When the rejuvenated and re-installed amateur teams from the East come after the cup there will need to be first-class playing on the part of the B.C. champions to keep it on the Coast.

The closing game of the season was played between the College and Public School baseball teams on Thursday afternoon 22nd inst. The school team won by the score of 5-4. Although the latter team won eight out of the ten games played, the interest on the part of the spectators never flagged. As a general thing the contests were close. It was anybody's game until the very end. Good feeling on the part of the opposing teams helped in the general result, and the strictly impartial and able manner in which Alex. McDougall umpired the games gave the public confidence that both teams were getting a square deal. Hence these bouquets!

The building of immense auditoriums in the neighborhood of Vancouver for the staging of professional fights, all the boating of tom-toms about the National Commission for the control of Lacrosse, emphasize the danger of professionalizing sport. The Vancouver Athletic Club has degenerated under the management of Chot. McIntyre into a close corporation, run apparently in the interest of tin horn gamblers and euro thing men, a consummation to be regretted. The Y.M.C.A. Athletic Department presents a refreshing contrast.

The tongue is a little thing, but it is mighty in power. It can make or mar the happiness of a life or of a home. It should be closely guarded. The saying of one unkind or unselfish thing makes the next easier, and so on, until a habit is formed that can never be entirely overcome.

How Burbank Would Treat a Child

Luther Burbank thinks that the training of children should be in many respects like the training of plants. He says:

"Do not be cross with the child; you cannot afford it. If you are cultivating a plant, developing it into something finer and nobler, you must love it, not hate it; be gentle with it; not abusive; be firm, never harsh. I give plants upon which I am at work in a test, whether a single one or a hundred thousand, the best possible environment. So should it be with a child, if you want to develop it in right ways. Let the children have music, let them have pictures, let them have laughter, let them have a good time; not an idle time, but one full of cheerful occupation. Surround them with all the beautiful things you can. Plants should be given sun and air and the blue sky; give them to your boys and girls. I do not mean for a day or a month, but for all the years. We cannot treat a plant tenderly one day and harshly the next; they cannot stand it. Remember that you are not training only for a day, but for all the future, for all posterity.—Michigan Grange Bulletin.

The Teeth of the Child

Dr. Greenwood, for some two score years head of the Kansas City Public Schools, says: "Each child, by virtue of its being a child, is entitled to the opportunity of making the most of itself. Upon no other theory of human rights can a free public school system be defended either in law or morals. If any of the avenues of the mind be obstructed, enfeebled or diseased so as not to perform their normal function the child is handicapped and cannot do its work except at a great mechanical disadvantage."

"If I were asked," says Prof. Osler, "to say whether more physical deterioration were produced by alcohol or by defective teeth, I would unhesitatingly say defective teeth."

Dr. H. R. Watkins writing in "Dry Farming" says: "A clean mouth and sound teeth are absolutely essential to normal development. It is also important that the temporary teeth, with crowns intact, remain in place until the permanent teeth displace them. The troubles that come to school children from decayed and aching teeth are almost too numerous to mention. Blood poisoning due to neglected teeth; inflamed gums which prevent chewing; pus which is continually mixed with the food and swallowed; deformed faces, bad breath due to adenoids, and many other unsanitary things would be disclosed by dental inspection."

"We are at present in the midst of a crusade on oral hygiene in the state of Oklahoma. The chief reason for its being is the condition found in the mouths of the children of our public schools. The examinations of these children have made some shocking disclosures, statistics that we may well be alarmed at, with percentages of disease that seem impossible. The inspections of the past have largely been made under the head of medical inspection: We can but contemplate what conditions a dental inspection would have disclosed. These inspections are within the scope of the dentists, and we hope the school board will see to it that dental inspections are inaugurated in every public school in the state where it is at all possible."

The Ten Commandments of Health

In a recent Y.W.C.A. bulletin from Gatesville, Texas, was the report of a field day for the rural school girls, a part of the program for which consisted of talks on the Ten Commandments of Health. All of the athletic clubs for girls were to be asked to subscribe to them.

So pertinent does this code seem that it is given herewith to our readers, with the hope that it may be adopted in many other places than Texas.

1. Thou shalt keep thy backbone straight.
2. Thou shalt drink a half gallon of water each day.
3. Thou shalt walk three miles a day or play a game for 45 minutes.
4. Thou shalt use all thy lungs all the time.
5. Thou shalt take sufficient nourishment.
6. Thou shalt masticate thy food properly.
7. Thou shalt brush thy teeth twice each day.
8. Thou shalt sleep eight hours of each twenty-four.
9. Thou shalt think pleasant thoughts, and banish unpleasant ones.
10. Thou shalt thank thy Creator for the blessings which the keeping of these laws bring, and tell thy neighbors.—Ex.

LADY SCOTT APPROVES MEMORIAL FOUNTAIN.

When the Summerland branch of the Overseas Club first considered the proposition of raising the Memorial Fund in honor of Capt. Scott and his party, there were some who thought that at least a portion of the amount raised should be added to the Mansion House Fund for the widows and orphans. In order to get an expression of opinion from the chief organizer, Mr. F. A. Miller, on behalf of the local club, wrote stating the facts, asking him to advise them. The letter was handed to Lady Scott who courteously replied as follows:

Sir,—In answer to your letter concerning the Summerland memorial to the Antarctic party, I hasten to reply that I think the secretary is quite right in presuming that the Old Country is amply providing for their widows and orphans. Such being the case, I think the people of Summerland are fully entitled to use the money collected according to their own judgment and erect just such a memorial as will suit their site.

Thanking you for your courtesy in consulting me,

I remain,
Yours truly,
KATHLEEN SCOTT.

WHY WE HARROW.

Some farmers are content with one or two harrowings or merely enough to break up the largest lumps and enable the seeds to germinate. But that is not enough.

We harrow to increase the feeding area of the roots all through the season by giving them finely divided soil in which to spread. We harrow to put the soil in the best possible condition to catch and hold the rains. We harrow to warm the soil, to aerate it and to promote the activity of the germ life that is so essential to its fertility. This means that the ground should be gone over more than is necessary to merely break up the lumps so that the seeds will germinate. It means harrowing and cross-harrowing, three times, four times, six times, if necessary; or until all of the upper four or five inches of soil returned by the plow has been made as nearly like an onion bed in mellowness as the texture of the soil will permit.

It does not pay to skip harrowing in the rush of the farmers' busy year. A farmer once told me that every time he went over a certain piece of land with his cutaway harrow, in preparing it with corn, he received more than seventy-five cents an hour for the work when the ears were husheled.—Dr. W. S. Fletcher in "Soils."

IRRIGATION RATES AND THE K.V.R.

AT NONE of the deliberations of the Municipal Council have we heard any mention of the K.V.R. right-of-way and its relation to the irrigation rates. The land now included in the railway property was, previous to the coming of the railroad, all subject to the conditions of the water agreements under which all our properties are acquired, and the total rates collected therefrom have been considerable. To permit this total area to be permanently withdrawn from such obligations without compensation being made to the Water Department for the shrinkage in revenue which such withdrawal would cause, would mean an annual loss of a considerable amount.

The K.V.R. has applied for a water service at its station site, offering for same a monthly payment of twenty-five dollars. This amount would probably not more than pay for the cost of delivery of the water, and would not recoup the Department for the loss to it that the exemption of the right-of-way will incur.

At Penticton, President Warren is said to have consented to the charging of the irrigation rate on the right-of-way, but objected to such a charge against the shops and yards. Six hundred dollars has been offered that municipally by the railway company for water at the yards, and the company will also take a block of municipal six per cent. debentures at par. The offer of six hundred dollars (notwithstanding the consent to the irrigation rate) has not yet been accepted by the council, but an early adjustment will probably be made.

It would seem but right that an annual amount equal to what otherwise would have been received as irrigation rates should be paid by the railway into the coffers of the Municipality of Summerland.

LET'S MAKE SUMMERLAND BEAUTIFUL.

The time of the year has now arrived when every citizen should take pride in making our town beautiful. We are all equally interested in this matter. Every citizen who improves the appearance of his property does not only increase its value, but to a less extent increases the value of every piece of property in the place, and also makes it a more desirable place in which to live. A contemporary says:

"A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, nor can a city be really beautiful unless the people individually and all together decide to make it so.

"Hence the importance of the movement of which the Rotary Club is the sponsor and financier. It is offering cash prizes of $300 to citizens who take the best care of their home properties through the coming summer. There are no strings to the prizes, but the offer is hedged about with protection for the renter and the person of moderate means, so that free and fair competition is open to all with taste and industry.

"There ought to be two or three hundred entrants in this contest. It ought to result in hundreds more of home properties being beautiful with grass and shrubs and vines, for such improvement is contagious."

While we have no $300 to offer as a reward for the neatest kept premises we believe our people have local pride enough to do their best along this line without a money reward. However, to make it a little more interesting, we will state that the best kept premises in our community this season will be given a $300 write-up in this paper free. Now get busy.

CHEAPER MONEY.

HON. W. T. WHITE, Canadian Minister of Finance, is authority for the statement that the next few months will see the return of less stringent financial conditions. Mr. White is in a position to know, and his announcement will be heralded with rejoicing by the dozens of Canadian communities that are now experiencing much trouble in marketing bond issues at reasonable rates of interest.

While there have been other financial stringencies of more marked severity than the present one, it is doubtful if any has exerted equal pressure for so protracted a period over the markets of the entire world. Every borrowing community has felt the pinch of what, though commonly designated as a stringency, was little more than a tightening of purse strings. There was plenty of money available, but the uncertainty of European stability in the face of the Balkan war caused tremors to circulate up and down the spines of the great magnates. The funds stayed into the strong boxes to be pried open only by exceptionally high rates of interest, and as we had to have the money we had to pay the piper.—Calgary Herald.

DON'T be a knocker. Hide your little hammer. What is to hinder you from speaking well of your own town on all occasions? It is just as easy to tell your visitors that our town is composed of as good people as inhabit the earth. You will break none of the ten commandments in saying this.

OKANAGAN GAINS GREAT ADVANTAGE.

During the last fiscal year more than a million dollars' worth of fruit was imported from the United States into Vancouver alone. The exact figure for the goods of that class entered at the Vancouver customs house was $1,076,340.

Officials state that one-third of this may safely be put down as apples and peaches from Wenatchee and Yakima in Washington State. This shows the volume of trade, and the great increase which is now expected to come to Okanagan growers by the reduction of transportation rates announced last

HOLIDAY VAUDEVILLE.

The program of the entertainment staged in Empire Hall on the evening of May 24th, under the direction of "The Players," fully maintained the excellent reputation that Mr. W. Sauter and his associates have established locally. The indisposition of Mrs. Harry Reynolds caused a hurried change in the program, the last number, a play "Good For Nothing," being withdrawn. The disappointment this change caused, however, was largely compensated for by the pleasure the local artists who stepped into the breach—Mrs. G. M. Ross and Messrs. A. W. Stanley and Alex. Bentley—gave the audience.

The hall was well filled with a holiday crowd in the mood to appreciate good entertainment. In spite of the praiseworthy efforts of the management to keep to time the curtain was not raised until twenty minutes later than was advertised.

Mrs. G. M. Ross and Messrs. Stanley and Bentley were all heartily encored for their vocal numbers. Mr. Sauter expressed regret that the last number on the program had unavoidably to be withdrawn, and also gave a graceful appreciation of the willingness these three popular vocalists had shown in helping out of a difficulty.

The first item, "In Honor Bound," was a bright one-act playlet, well presented and all too short. The small caste was excellently filled, the acting of Mr. Sauter, as usual, being particularly praiseworthy for its naturalness and ease. Miss Heber-Percy made her debut before a Summerland audience and created a very favorable impression.

The Scotch songs sung by Mr. George Fisher were so well received as to call for two encores.

The Prologue from "Paggiacci," rendered by Mr. Alex. Bentley, to the accompaniment of Miss Phyllis Higgin, gave good scope for Mr. Bentley's voice of unusual power and expression.

"How Bill Adams Won the Battle of Waterloo" never fails to bring laughter to the most serious face, and as given by Mr. T. F. Knox brought the house down. His extra number was equally well received.

LOST ON THE HILLS.

A Summerland citizen, who had occasion to make a business visit recently to some of the camps along the line of railway on the Naramata side, had a most unusual and unpleasant experience.

Leaving the wharf at Naramata in the early evening he expected to arrive at one of the camps in time for supper, and was directed to the camp by one of the employees. He now declares that he must have been wrongly directed as the road he was told to take did not lead to the camp which he wished to visit.

While journeying in the direction indicated darkness overtook him and he soon discovered that he had entirely lost his way, and did not know his whereabouts. He, however, continued to walk on until quite exhausted, and about midnight started a fire and lay down to sleep. By this time the wanderer was very thirsty, as well as hungry, not having had any supper.

Whether he had slept a few minutes or an hour he does not know, but he was suddenly awakened from his sound sleep by a most unearthly yell which, needless to say, gave him considerable fright, in fact it so startled him that further sleep was impossible; the remainder of the time until daybreak being largely occupied in wondering what monster was responsible for the hideous cry. Later reconsideration of the event has led the wanderer to believe that a coyote had been pursuing smaller prey, and had come across the slumberer by surprise, and was so alarmed as to cause the howl. When daybreak came a number of deer were observed quietly grazing close by. Starting again upon his journey he was not long in reaching the desired camp, from which he had not been separated by more than half a mile during the night.

The Okanagan-Vancouver rate has been reduced from $1.80 to $1.50 per cwt., the latter being the exact rate from Wenatchee. The duty will now work altogether to the advantage of the Okanagan grower, for he will have the same freight rates as the Wenatchee man, but the latter will be under a handicap of having to pay the duty of 40 cents a barrel, which comes to about 15 cents per box on boxes now in use in Washington.

W. A. CALDWELL SCHOOL TRUSTEE

Nominations for a candidate to fill the vacancy on the School Board caused by the removal of Mr. J. D. Johnston to Alberta, was held on Monday at noon in the Council room. Seemingly there were not many who were hunting for the job, and the hour for the closing of nominations was rapidly approaching with no candidates offering. Ex-Trustee G. J. C. White was telephoned to by some friends and asked to permit his name to be used, but he declined, feeling that he had as many public duties as he could now attend to. Mr. W. A. Caldwell was suggested, and consented by phone to being nominated. No other names were received, and accordingly Mr. Caldwell was elected by acclamation, and took his seat at the Board that same afternoon at the special meeting of the Trustees.

"IT'S A BEAR."

Naramata, May 29.—Last Sunday a very exciting incident occurred at Bacher, Harmount & Co.'s tunnel camp. Mr. Harmount, the well-known contractor, was peacefully resting in his hammock when he heard a frightful rending and tearing in the bushes nearby. Looking up he saw a large brown bear in mortal conflict with his favorite wolf hound "Slim." Mr. Harmount reached for his 30-30 rifle, which was loaded at the time, and made haste in the general direction of the bear. After getting within range he took seven shots in quick succession, at which time the bear toppled over in a dead faint. Mr. Harmount, accompanied by his laborers, including his partner the famous "Montana Rock Eater," "Dutch Louie," seizing all the available pick handles approached the bear with great stealth and dispatched him without further ado.

Mr. Harmount is very proud of his capture, which is the finest specimen of its kind killed in this district for many years. It measured seven feet six inches from tip to tip, and weighed 450 lbs. when dressed. Mr. Harmount has already refused $150 for the hide, which is indeed a beauty.

REV. F. W. HARDY GOES TO WESTMINSTER.

Other Ministerial Changes.

By a strange co-incidence practically all the resident ministers will be absent from Summerland at one time, some permanently, others for a shorter time.

Rev. F. W. Hardy, who has so acceptably filled the pastorate of the Methodist Church for the past three years, has been appointed to the Sapperton Methodist Church at New Westminster, and leaves on Tuesday morning with his family to take up residence in that city. Mr. Hardy, in addition to his pastoral duties, will teach one or two subjects in Columbian College, a denominational institution.

Rev. F. W. Pattison will be leaving on June 9th for the East, accompanied by his mother. While in the East Mr. Pattison will be one of the principals in an interesting event, and upon his return in July will bring a new companion to share the parsonage with him.

Rev. C. H. Daly is, as has already been announced, attending the Assembly at Toronto, and will be absent for two more Sundays.

Rev. Robert E. Led, until now pastor of the Hazelton Methodist Church, has been appointed to the local church, and is expected to arrive here about the middle of June, and will probably occupy the pulpit for the first time on the 15th. During the interim and Rev. Mr. Daly's absence, Rev. A. W. MacLeod will preach at both churches. On Sunday morning, June 1st, he will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church, and in the evening will speak in the Methodist Church. For the 8th practically the same arrangement has been made.

For the remaining Sundays in June, after Mr. Pattison goes, the Rev. S. Everton will preach to the Baptist congregations. But recently Rev. H. A. Solly took over now duties which practically removes him from citizenship here.

Every mother knows that her own child is superior to any other child in the neighborhood.

J. E. Phinney is confined to his home with a severe attack of appendicitis. Mr. Phinney went to Kelowna on the holiday and while there was stricken with the malady, which seems to be quite the fashion just now in Summerland. While removing some logs from a pile near Vaseaux Lake last week, for the purpose of stripping the bark from them, Coun P. H. Erant, of Penticton, had a very narrow escape from death. Some of the logs of the pile fell upon him crushing him badly. Coun Erant was entrapped beneath the logs for four hours before he succeeded in releasing himself. He was then of necessity compelled to crawl for nearly two miles on his hands and knees before he could secure his horse to return to Penticton. Mr. Erant is terribly bruised and suffering as well from a badly mangled ear.

The W.C.T.U. "At Home" on Thursday last was a very enjoyable affair. Some interesting features of the program were recitations by Miss Kathleen Merrill, Miss Muriel Wilson, Miss Marjorie Merrill and Miss Kathleen Brown. Mrs. Robins sang a solo, very sweetly. Miss E. Colwell gave a very realistic rendering of "When Albani Sang" from Drummond, by which we were made to feel the very heart throbs of nature. She also gave "My Financial Career" from Prof. Lenock's "Literary Lapses," which was very much enjoyed. At the close of the program refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed.

THE RUDD CASE.

More than the usual interest in the Assizes now being held at Vernon is shown by the average citizen. W. H. Rudd, who was arrested on the charge of abduction and pleaded guilty in the Police Court here, comes up for trial at this session. There are a number of criminal cases, including a murder charge. Those summoned from here as witnesses in the Rudd case include Mr. and Mrs. Van Hise, Francis and Miss Van Hise, and A. A. Derrick. The Review learned by phone enquiry this (Friday) afternoon that the Rudd case had not come up yet. The murder case is now being tried.

BUYS ORCHARD HERE.

The Christie orchard, a ten acre property on the benches overlooking Trout Creek, has been purchased by Mr. Alfred Cottrell. This property is considered a very desirable one, and is on the corner at the junction of the road approaching the new bridge with the road running west into Peach Valley, and lies just north of Mr. Douglas Hamilton's lot (formerly S. Angove's). The sale was made by Mr. W. J. Robinson. The purchaser, Mr. Cottrell, is a brother of Mrs. W. Limmer, and has been in Summerland for some weeks studying conditions here and looking over a number of properties.

Messrs A. G. Jackson and James Bennie, two young Scotsmen who have been guests at Hotel Summerland, have purchased the ten acre lot in Peach Valley recently occupied by construction camps. It is understood that Messrs Jackson and Bennie will go quite extensively into the poultry business.

FARSIGHT IN CAR SELECTION

THE measure of your pleasure in motoring depends on the discrimination you use in purchasing your car.

Not alone should you investigate the worth of the car itself. You should be particular about the firm that makes the car. Look a little ahead—ask yourself whether the car you're about to purchase is likely to have a factory at all behind it six months hence.

There's sure satisfaction in the choice of a McLaughlin Car— not only are McLaughlin Cars trustworthy in themselves, but they come from a factory that has been producing high-grade cars for five years, and was making high-grade carriages nearly half a century before that—a factory that is the keystone of a big organization, with completely-equipped sales depots all over Canada.

NOTARY PUBLIC

Naramata Notes.

Mr. T. H. Boothe returned from Victoria on Tuesday night.

The Robertson families from Penticton motored to our town on May 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. S. Logie and the Misses Thea and Rubae Mason spent the week-end in Summerland.

Miss Edith Hayward of Prince Rupert is expected in soon to spend a considerable vacation here with her mother.

Many and varied are the snake stories brought down from the right-of-way, but all exaggeration aside, the snakes are there and in abundance.

The vacancy left by Rev. Geo. Fallis will be filled by Rev. Bunt, who will be with us on June 15th. Mr. Bunt will reside in Naramata we are glad to hear.

Those who came from out of town to attend the Wells-Watson wedding were: Mr. Gordon Hayman and Harold Steers of Summerland; Mr. Howard Rounds of Kelowna; Miss Bessie Mitchell, Mr. Swan, and Mr. Graham from Penticton.

Mrs. Anna L. Gillespie will give a lecture in Naramata Hall on Monday, June 2nd, in benefit of the Unity Club. Her subject will be "A Night in London." Mrs. Gillespie needs no recommendation here, we are all sure of a very entertaining evening.

Mrs. Hildebrandt, and Miss Hildebrandt who is visiting here now, went to the hospital at Mission last Saturday to pay a short visit to Mr. James, who is confined there with pneumonia. They report him improving but slowly, and nothing is sure of his return here as timekeeper.

Hotel Naramata, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Robinson, will be opened for business on Saturday, May 31st. The housekeeper, maids and porter have arrived during the week, and now the town has what she needs most—a splendid tourist hotel, of which she can be proud.

On Wednesday evening the church basement was the gathering place for a farewell social time with the Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Fallis before their departure for new fields of work next Wednesday. All Naramata turned out to show their appreciation for the work Mr. Fallis has done here, and to express to him their sincere regret for his leaving. Our town has been very fortunate in having a man of Mr. Fallis' calibre as its pastor, and his splendid Sunday address will be greatly missed. Kamloops, where he will act as pastor of the Methodist Church, is to be congratulated on obtaining a man of such ability and likeable personality. Mr. Fallis will be with us one more Sunday, June 1st, before leaving for his new work.

WEDDING.

WATSON—WELLS.

On Saturday, May 24th, at the home of the bride's parents, was witnessed the beautiful wedding of Miss Hazel M. Wells to Mr. Victor L'Estrange Watson.

Thirty-two guests gathered at the appointed hour, 8 p.m., and soon, to the strains of "Oh, Promise Me," as sung by Mr. J. S. Gillespie, the bridal party appeared, Miss Lois Wells and Mr. Gordon Hayman as maid-of-honor and best man.

The impressive English Church service was conducted by Rev. J. A. Cleland of Penticton. Soon best wishes and congratulations were showered upon the very popular young couple. Then the guests were seated at small tables and a delicious three-course lunch was served by the Misses Bessie and Freda Mitchell, Adelaido Hayward and Ruth Chambers.

Later most of the party accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Watson to Penticton by way of the launch "Skookum."

Mr. and Mrs. Watson left on Monday for a week or ten day's visit to Seattle and Vancouver.

Mrs. Watson has always been one of the foremost in social affairs here, and the young people will not be willing to lose her part in this; while Mr. Watson has formed many friendships during his connection with the K.V.R. survey of this place.

Their many friends will often "take the trail" to their future home at Alexander's Residency, about two miles above the town.

Their popularity was perhaps shown by the beautiful gifts which came from their many friends, and if the best wishes of the community count for anything then the bride and groom should be most happy.

The Green Grass.

My garden's my pride and my glory,
 It gives me employment from dawn,
 But the part that is turning me hoary
 Is the bald-headed state of the lawn.

With grass I proceeded to sow it
 And longed, unsuspectingly blithe,
 For the time when I shortly should mow it,
 And looked up the price of a scythe.

Though I rolled it, and watered it daily
 With tears and the sweat of my brow,
 Discouragement shadowed me greyly,
 The grass wouldn't grow anyhow.

My dogged endeavors were routed,
 My patience was shattered to shreds,
 The seed of the lawn never sprouted,
 But came up in weeds on the beds.

Then I scattered the seed, growing wary,
 Round my bedded-out seedlings at night,
 Convinced that, still being contrary,
 It would grow on the lawn out of spite.

Not a chance! The bed fostered its powers,
 It grew with an impudent growth,
 And rooted so strong round the flowers
 I had to pull neither or both.

So I think this well-proved information
 Should be added to gardener's books
 For the amateur's edification:
 "Grass isn't as green as it looks!"

—Punch.

"Madam, are you a woman suffragist?" "No sir, I haven't time to be." "Haven't time! Well, if you had the privilege of voting, whom would you support?" "The same man I've supported for ten years." "And who is that?" "My husband."

The World's Largest Post Office.
Mail System of the City of London.

Another Interesting Letter From Mr. J. O. ROBINSON.

On entering by the main entrance of the General Post Office, like at the Telegraph Office, we were ushered into the waiting room to wait until a guide appeared. Our escort this time proved to be a middle-aged man of a very kindly disposition, and extremely obliging in every way. He was also somewhat of a wit, judging from some of his remarks during his sojourn. He first conducted us to the office where the mailed bags are checked up, and showed us small brass tablets which the postman hands in, one for every bag of mail he collects. Next he showed us large heavy bunches of keys, each one being two or three times the size of our ordinary key, which he carries with him on his rounds to unlock the mail boxes. Of all the thousands and thousands of mail boxes throughout the city, no two keys, so far as they know, are alike. The object of their weight, so we were told, is that in case they should be dropped their absence would be immediately detected. There have been occasions, however, when they were lost, and in such a case the government offers a reward of half a crown for their return.

The mail service in this city is just about as good and convenient as one could wish for. Every hour the postman delivers mail at your door, and every half hour the mail is collected from the letter boxes. I might also add that there is no "dilly-dallying," but letters are rushed with all haste to their destination.

We were informed that two million articles pass through this office in one day. You can well imagine its size, the number of employees and the speed at which they are marked, sorted and distributed into mail bags which are bound for all parts of the globe. We passed along many rows of men who were busy sorting letters into large pigeon-holes on tables in front of them, there being one for each district of London. These men were handling the incoming mail, and getting it ready for the postmen to deliver. Much practice has made them very dexterous, and it is interesting to watch them fling the letters with unerring aim to their right places. Our guide then took us over to show us the procedure through which the outgoing mail goes. It is first taken out of the bags and placed on large rubber bands, and is carried to a long bench where a large staff of men stand the letters up on edge in preparation for being stamped. Here a man puts them through a machine which marks them at the rate of six hundred a minute. By this machine each letter is marked and shot out to another table about two feet away, and it is done so quickly that the letters simply pour out in a continuous stream. From there they are carried to another department where they are sorted and put in large mail bags, and these bags are carried to the outside of the building on moving belts where they are put in automobiles which take them to the trains. We casually examined the addresses on a few of the packages lying in a large basket. The first one was marked Shanghai, another Melbourne, another one Calcutta, another Capetown, another New York, while the last one we looked at had Montreal for its destination. The fact was strongly brought home to us that we were surely in the centre of the civilized world.

After witnessing some of the employees sorting His Majesty's personal mail we were conducted to that part of the building where packages broken in transit were being mended. All kinds of truck was piled up in baskets, while a man was trying to bolster up frail and insecure fastenings as best he could. While we were there he was struggling with a badly damaged small cardboard box containing a piece of wedding cake. A wooden whistle, a small chunk of coal, and all kinds of bric-a-brac were near at hand awaiting their turns to be fixed up.

A tremendous amount of work each day is made for the post office officials by the ignorance or gross carelessness of people in not addressing their letters or packages properly. We saw several experts busily engaged in perusing city directories and trying to decipher bad handwriting. It is marvellous the way they chase them up, only a few of the thousands of articles that come in each day not reaching their owners. Sometimes "London" is written in the address when it should be "Liverpool," and these men are so well acquainted with the streets in other cities that they instantly detect the mistake. His task is a difficult one when the address is, for example, "Church Street, London," their being perhaps forty or fifty Church Streets. One person had the nerve to address a letter, "Mr. Brown, London." Needless to say the chances of finding him were very remote. We were shown a newspaper addressed to a man and were told that that paper has been coming addressed like that for the last ten years and as yet the subscriber has not been found, that man's chances look pretty slim too. It has been said that it is cheaper to move than to pay the rent. A great many people move, whether for that reason or not I cannot say, at any rate, in order that they may receive their mail, a great deal of work is entailed in locating their new places of abode, and the way these men do it almost makes them deserving of the hero's part in Conan Doyle's detective stories.

By this time it was getting late, being after six o'clock, and we just had time to have a glance in the room where the empty mail bags are stored, and a hasty look at the public writing room on our way out. Although we did not anticipate much in our trip through the Central Telegraph and General Post Office, it proved to be full of wonders difficult to describe on paper, and is worth anyone's while to see if the opportunity ever presents itself.

The same afternoon, the rest of our party, on invitation of Sir Edwin and Lady Durning-Lawrence, attended the annual meeting of the "Central Emigration Board," held at their palatial home, once the residence of Mr. Gladstone. Many interesting addresses were listened to, where Canada's virtues were fully set forth. The Board's objects are to encourage and promote emigration of desirable and suitable persons from the United Kingdom to the British Dominions overseas; to co-ordinate emigration work; to press upon the government the necessity of establishing a Board of Emigration directly responsible to some department of the state, and to bring about a true Imperial scheme of emigration and immigration, conducted and financed by the home government, in conjunction with the governments of the British Dominions overseas. After the speeches refreshments were served when they met many charming people, and they returned home that evening to compare notes with our party as is our custom.

THE SWEET GIRL GRADUATE.

Oh, for the truly grand ideal
 That makes one's life sublime!
 Oh, for a quaff of spirit bliss
 Beyond all space and time.
 Oh, for the boon of a passing glimpse
 Of the vast infinitesimal!
 In this, and only this, that can
 My longing soul appease.

TWO YEARS LATER.

Oh! for a safety pin that's safe!
 It would make my life all joy.
 Oh, for a food that will not give
 The cramps to my little boy!
 Oh, for the boon once more of a night
 Of solid square repose!
 'Tis this only that I want
 Oh! give me an old-time doze.

Little Willie was missed by his mother one day for some time, and when he reappeared she asked:
 "Where have you been, my pet?"
 "Playing postman," replied her "pet." I gave a letter to all the houses in our road. Real letters, too."
 "Where on earth did you get them?" questioned the mother in amazement.
 "They were those old ones in your wardrobe drawer, tied up with ribbon," was the innocent reply.

The Hand That Moves The Lever Saves 16 2-3 Per Cent. of Your Coal Bill

Here is the opportunity for the housewife to deal the high cost of living question a hard jolt without any effort on her part.

The way is to make sure that her new range is controlled by a Gurney Economizer, which will save 1 ton of coal in every 6 burned in an ordinary range.

The Economizer is to the stove what the control lever is to the engine or automobile. Without control neither is efficient.

With the Gurney Economizer it is possible to quickly vary the heat of the oven. Various foods require different temperatures. The Economizer keeps this desired temperature absolutely uniform.

It also means that when cooking is over, you may have a cool kitchen and still have your fire going—while you can have the fiercest heat in a few minutes by a slight pressure on the lever.

If you possess a Gurney-Oxford your advantages are innumerable. The Divided Flue means heat for every hole on the stove. The New Special Grate guards the lowest fire. The Broiler exposes every inch of the coals.

These features are exclusively "Gurney-Oxford."

It will furnish your kitchen handsomely—it will do your work adequately.

FAR ENOUGH.

A young man had called upon his best girl the night before. As a result he had but poorly prepared his Virgil lesson. In spite of this fact he translated fairly well for a short time but after reading "and I put my arms around her" he suddenly stopped unable to translate farther and said: "That is as far as I got, Professor." The instructor's reply was, "That is far enough, young man."

EMPIRE DAY SPORTS AT WEST SUMMERLAND.

a fine race, which was won by a close margin by the College.

The Pillow Fight was a most amusing event. It was won by R. Callan, with S. Donaldson a close second. In this event some of the greatest broncho busters in this section of country ignominiously bit the dust.

The Tug-of-War contests—particularly between the College and St. Andrew's teams, were heart-breaking affairs. After a long pull St. Andrew's won the first try. The College yanked their opponents over the line in jig time when they tried again, but the brawn and beef of the Scotsmen won for them the third pull against the College, and the first two against the Overseas team. In the open Tug-of-War contest the St. Andrew's team was outclassed by a picked team captained by R. H. Helmer—that prince of good fellows—and coached by Harry Bristow. Helmer's team yanked their opponents—fighting every inch of the way—over the line twice in succession.

The Shot-Putting and Hammer Throwing of D. Donaldson are worthy of special mention.

The junior races were well contested. The running of W. Gayton, in style, stride and action, was a revelation to the experts present. That boy is going to make a great runner.

The committee of the joint societies is to be congratulated on the splendid arrangements made for providing such an excellent and varied list of events.

The fencing of the enclosure was a decided improvement, both from the spectator's and competitor's point of view.

The committee wish to acknowledge their indebtedness to Mr. A. W. MacLeod for the able manner in which he discharged the onerous duties of judge.
