

Summerland Pre-eminent in Poultry as in Fruit

St. Andrew's Night

Local Scots Gather To Commemorate National Anniversary.

The memory of St Andrew, patron saint of Scotland, was given due honor by the local St Andrew's and Caledonian Society, on "The Night," Monday, November 30. The invitations had been sent broadcast throughout the district to all and sundry of Scotch descent or connection, and the large majority responding by their presence, the Campbell Hall was very well filled. What few vacant seats there were could have been more than filled by those who were standing at the rear end of the hall.

The flag decorations of the previous gathering had been amplified and made still more effective. In addition to the walls and platform being draped, there was also a line of flags strung across the front. The blue and white cross of St. Andrew had the place of pre-eminence in the centre of the end wall. The President of the Caledonian Society, Mr. J. G. Robertson, presided over the gathering. He welcomed the company as guests of the society with his customary genial and hearty words, and announced the numbers of the program. At the conclusion of his remarks Mr. Robertson read the greetings to the society composed yearly by the bard of the fraternity, Mr. David Lister, now of Okanagan Landing. These greetings are in poetical form and reveal a poet's talent innate. Space will be found in the immediate future for the publication of this really creditable effort in these columns.

The artistes of the evening were all performers whose talent has already given pleasures at previous gatherings. Without exception, all more than maintained their reputations. Most of the numbers were of a Scotch nature, and so especially pleasing to the listeners. Mrs. J. W. Clark's songs were especially well received, their familiarity adding to their appeal. The accompaniments were all in the able hands of Mr. John Smith, who came from Kelowna specially for the occasion. His pianoforte selections were also far from being the least enjoyable of the program.

In the interval a quantity of genuine Scotch purple heather was brought to the chairman by Misses Atchison and Armstrong of the Hospital, tied up ready in small sprigs for sale at ten cents each, for the benefit of the institution. On this night of all nights the Scotch folk evidently hungered for some memento of their native shores, for Mr. Robertson had disposed of the entire supply before passing down many rows. The hospital must have realized a good return from this innovation.

At the close of the program, refreshments were dispensed, and the company passed a half hour or so in an enjoyable exchange of socialities. Dancing was then heralded by the clearing of the floor, and many couples engaged in what has been termed one of the most enjoyable of dances, to good music provided by Mr. J. Smith. The concert program was as follows:

- Pianoforte Solo, John Smith
- Scotch Selections.
- Song (Parody), Alex. Smith
- "Scots Wha Hae."
- Songs, Mrs. J. W. Clark
- "Jessie's Dream."
- "Yo Banks And Braes."
- Scotch Reading, Dr. J. P. McIntyre
- From "The Window in Thrums."
- Songs, Mrs. O. Smith
- "Robin Tamson's Smiddy O."
- "Tipperary," by request.

- INTERVAL
- Pianoforte Solo, John Smith
 - Patriotic Selections.

 - "Jessie, The Flower o' Dunblane."
 - Song, Mrs. J. W. Clark
 - "Comin' Thro' the Rye."

NO CONVENTIONS.

That there will be no annual convention of the Farmers' Institutes this year because of the war and financial depression, is announced by Deputy Minister William E. Scott. It is understood that this decision applies to all such gatherings.

Institutes have been asked to forward any well considered resolutions with the assurance that they will have the most careful attention and consideration of the Department.

Quality of Birds at Show Cannot be Excelled.

Fifth Poultry Show Bigger and Better Than Ever. Keenest Kind of Competition in Many Lines.

It seems certain that outside a few immediately connected with the Poultry Show, the people of this district have little conception of the really excellent quality of the birds that now inhabit many of our poultry yards. It was with much satisfaction that we were able to state in these columns a few weeks ago, upon the excellent authority of Chief Poultry Instructor J. R. Terry, that we had here a greater proportion of pure bred stock than any other place in the province. Now pure stock, though always better than scrub, may be good or otherwise. Those who visited the fifth annual show of our local poultry Association held Wednesday and Thursday in Ellison Hall, were soon able to satisfy themselves as to the quality of the birds gathered there from all over the district. Yet we don't believe many had much idea of really how good they were. The result of an interview given the Review by Judge Coats on this question will be pleasant reading.

According to Mr. Coats, the Summerland birds in the Brown Leghorn, Silver Spangled Hamburg and White Wyandotte classes, and there were many of them, are as fine birds as can be found anywhere, and would make an excellent showing in the hottest of competition in any of the big shows. Nowhere in Western Canada or the Pacific States, with the possible exception of Portland, Oregon, could such Brown Leghorns as were shown here be found, and Portland would not show as many. Judge Coats knows every chicken yard of importance from northern British Columbia to southern California, as he spends eight months of every twelve scoring birds all through the West, and so is well qualified to make such an assertion.

Another breed of very high average scoring qualities are the beautiful Silver Spangled Hamburgs, which were highly commented upon by the judge.

Perhaps the "hottest" class in all the show was the White Wyandotte, with seventy birds. The scorings in this class were also excellent with a high general average. The birds capable of taking prizes in this class against such hot competition could, the owners may be confident, qualify wherever shown.

Another strong class, ranking second to the White Wyandottes in the number shown, was the White Leghorn, the Browns being third in point of numbers. Many excellent birds were entered in other varieties, but not all classes were strong. The Rhode Island Reds are capable of much improvement; Barred Rocks were rather weak as a class, as were some of the less popular varieties.

There were this year 492 birds and pot animals shown, being 58 more than last year, which was a record. Here again Mr. Coats expressed surprise as he had been experiencing greatly reduced exhibitions everywhere, mentioning only one exception where there had been a slight increase. 125 entries were from outside points.

Waterfowl have come up wonderfully, there being a large number of entries, particularly of ducks. Of the Buff Orpingtons ducks the judge said there was nothing better to be found anywhere.

The official list of prize winners is as follows:

FORESTERS ELECT OFFICERS.

Court Summerland, No. 1053, Canadian Order of Foresters, among other business at its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday of this week elected officers for the ensuing year. These were named as follows: Chief Ranger Wm. C. W. Fosbery Vice-Chief Ranger Jas. O. Smith Recording Secretary W. J. Beattie Financial Secretary F. A. Williams Treasurer L. McLaughlin Senior Woodward H. L. Gallagher Junior Woodward T. H. Ramsay Senior Beadle L. W. Pacey Junior Beadle W. J. Tullett Chaplain Chas. A. Marshall Representative to High Court W. C. Fosbery, C.R.

An initiation was also included in the evening's business, and preliminary arrangements made for another lodge social to be held in Elliott's Hall on Thursday evening, December 17th, when a number of possible candidates are likely to be introduced.

A letter of condolence from the Court will be sent to Bro. K. W. Kinnard of Vernon, who was recently bereaved of his wife.

A DASTARDLY ACT.

Though competition may be the life of trade, that it is also an incentive to crime is the expressed opinion of a member of the Poultry Association. A fine white wyandotte cockerel, the property of its high scoring qualities, has been put out of the running by some one, who evidently recognized a probable successful competitor. Quite unsuspecting, the owner caught the bird Tuesday morning to prepare him for the show, only to find with great surprise that a flight feather of a wing had been clipped, disqualifying him as a show bird.

Changed Attitude

Coast Fruit Dealers Seem to Have New Views on B.C. Orchard Products.

That there is a very marked change in the attitude of "the trade" in Vancouver towards Okanagan, or perhaps better, British Columbia fruit, is the statement of Mr. S. B. Snider, who returned from the metropolis last Friday night. While there Mr. Snider naturally looked about him to ascertain the effects of the recent vigorous campaign for the home grown fruit, and he says that the change wrought seems permanent. Dealers, now realizing the extent of the industry in this province are confident of an ample and constant supply that will make it no longer necessary to import.

Mr. Snider has been appointed general agent of the Confederation Life Association for the interior.

WEDDING.

TURNER-DICKSON.

Dr. T. B. Turner, of Pentiction, has many friends in Summerland who will be interested to learn of his marriage on Friday evening of last week to Miss L. Dickson, whose home has been in Bremerton, Washington. The bride only reached Pentiction last Friday, and the ceremony was performed that evening by Rev. Ferguson Millar, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in the manse.

Mrs. Turner accompanied her husband on his professional visit to Summerland on Monday and Tuesday of this week, they being guests at the Felix. They are postponing the regulation honeymoon trip till the summer months of next year, when they will travel south.

By doing more than was expected of them, West Summerland routed the College five last Friday evening, getting the biggest showing in a score of 17-12. It was the first time these teams had met in a league encounter; and few expected the game to go this way, since in previous practice games the College had always been victorious.

The game started out very auspiciously for the West, the ball finding its way into their basket a few seconds after the first throw-up, by some very pretty and fast passing. Morelock and McLeod got in some of their usual good combination, but Morelock was too closely checked by Fisher to be as effective as usual. That the guards on both sides worked hard was shown by the interval score of 7-7.

In the second half Charlie Stewart's good shooting helped to run the score up for the West, and Ross Rae also showed up well in his usual good game at centre. Fisher got a phenomenal basket from a long throw away back near the centre. Some clockwork passing among the Wests made the game a real joy to the spectators. The College did well up against superior weight and reach, and the game was always in doubt. Though closely checked their forwards got in some fine shots which missed by very narrow margins. They did not seem able to get points from the fouls as easily as usual, and dropped several points in this way. C. McWilliams refereed the game, and the teams lined up: Wests—R. Rae, c., C. Stewart and R. Darkie, f., D. Stewart and G. Fisher, g. College—J. McLeod, c., L. Morelock and M. Cochrane, f., C. Riley and Vanderburg, g.

16-6 was the score by which the West intermediates overcame the College second team in the game played off first last Friday night. The game was by no means as one-sided as the score would seem to indicate. Both teams played hard, and the play was at no time anything but exciting. For the winners Darkie and Stewart were the chief basket getters. Armstrong and Elliott worked hard for the College, and Dale also played a great game. At half time West Summerland made one or two changes in their lineup. Harvey Phinney refereed this game, and the teams were: Wests—C. Elroy, W. Mumm, W. Higgs, R. Callan, B. Stewart, R. Darkie, College—G. Dale, K. Elliott, E. Armstrong, Bent and Jennings.

The West Summerland basketball boys met with a check in their hitherto victorious career, when the Town team won their first game in the league series on Monday night in the Mon's Club. It was a grueling game through both halves, and the vigor of the play sometimes bordered on roughness. The final score was 17-11 for the Town. West Summerland was unfortunate in losing two baskets by Ross Rae. Morelock's decisions in regard to inadvertent interference on the part of spectators around the basket, in the second half, if those had been allowed, the final count would have stood 17-15, which would have been a very fair representation of the play.

In the first half the Town got in some splendid combination, and secured no less than 13 of their points.

CHANGING THEIR BUSINESS.

OTTAWA has put the quietus on the campaigns for and against the establishing in this province of some of the breweries that are being forced out of Washington as the result of the recent plebiscite. The Dominion Government has announced that it will grant licences to no more breweries in this province, doubtless realizing that there are now sufficient manufacturers to cater to the demands of the market, and that to admit others would work a hardship on those now established here.

To the capitalist who had his money in the doomed breweries of Washington and Oregon the outlook is not necessarily discouraging. Their plants may be converted to other and better uses. Already, we read of one large company, with head office at Spokane, planning to utilize a brewery building in the manufacture of pulp and paper, an industry that will give employment to a staff of skilled and unskilled laborers greater than employed by many breweries.

THOSE of our readers who are engaged in the fruit industry as well as those who have learned to know and respect our venerable chief fruit inspector will join with us in offering congratulations to Mr Cunningham and life partner upon the attainment of the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Their golden wedding was celebrated at their Vancouver home on Saturday last. Half a century ago Mr Cunningham married at Victoria Miss Emily Woodman of Nanaimo, who had come out to the province with a missionary party as a teacher for the Indians. Four of their five children celebrated the day with their parents. One of the sons, Dr Henry Cunningham, came all the way from Michigan for the celebration, another son, Dr Thomas Cunningham, also a well-known physician in Michigan, being unable to make the trip. A third son, Mr Alexander Cunningham, is manager of the B.C. Refinery Co., while the two daughters, Misses Mary and Ethel Cunningham are at home. Mr Cunningham came to the province in 1859, via the Isthmus of Panama. At one time he served the public as member of the Legislature for Nanaimo. His life work, however, has been largely devoted to the preservation and development of the fruit industry in the province. He was a member of the first board of horticulture in the province.

"NO WAR ON THE OTHER SIDE." (Pittsburgh Dispatch).

There is pathos and philosophy in the story that comes from France of a French soldier who lay wounded on the battlefield and passed his canteen of water to a wounded German officer who lay near him. The German, after a sip of water, kissed the hand of his friendly enemy and said, "There will be no war on the other side." True: and why should there be war on this side, except for the barbarity of man?

The regular monthly meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute will be held next Friday afternoon as usual, in the High School Building, at 2.30.

Mails for the Old Country close here on the 9th. Orders placed at once for Christmas greetings can be executed in time. Large line from which to choose. — Review Office.

F. A. Smith, more familiarly known around town as "Frank the Indian," goes out to-morrow morning, Saturday, bound for his Winnipeg home, where he will spend the winter, returning again in the spring.

Presbyterian services will be held in St Andrew's Church next Sunday morning and in the Methodist Church at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs G. N. Gartrell will sing at the afternoon service.

John Smith came down from Kelowna on Monday evening to act as accompanist at the St Andrew's Concert that night. He spent two or three days with his parents, Mr and Mrs J. O. Smith, and returned up the lake on Thursday morning.

Rev. H. A. Solly returns tonight from attending the Anglican Synod at Nelson, convened for the election of the first incumbent of the newly created bishopric of the Kootenay. The choice finally fell on Rev. A. J. Doull, Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria.

Principal Everton of the College, is in Winnipeg attending important meetings of the Board of Education of the Baptist Union of Western Canada. Mr T. N. Ritchie, a member of the Board of Governors as well as secretary of that institution, had intended to attend also, but indisposition prevented him.

LECTURE COURSE.

The third evening of the Lecture Course—arranged to be held in the Men's Club, will be on Tuesday night next.

For this gathering the social and literary element will be combined. At 7.30 p.m. the Rev. and Mrs R. W. Lee will hold a reception, at which music will be rendered and refreshments served.

This will be followed by a lecture by Mr L. V. Rogers, B.A., the principal of the Kelowna High School, the subject of the lecture being "Imperial Co-operation." Mr Rogers is an eloquent lecturer, and the subject chosen is one of special interest at this time, when Imperial co-operation is certainly being manifested. Mr Rogers is also well known to many as the District Deputy Grand Master of the I.O.O.F., and in this capacity has many admirers.

The high standard of the lectures already given, will certainly be maintained on Tuesday evening next. The lecture by Mrs Lashley Hall will be held during March. On Tuesday evening, December 22, the Rev. R. W. Lee will give an eloquent recital of Charles Dickens' "Christmas Carol," ever popular at the festive time of Christmas.

NEW PROPRIETORS "AT HOME" TO CITIZENS.

One of the most pleasant social events of the week was that at Hotel Summerland last evening when Mr and Mrs Marshall, the new proprietors, were "At Home" to a goodly number of guests. The well-known hostelry had recently been given a thorough renovating, and everything looked bright and pleasant. Dancing and cards were the chief source of entertainment the spacious dining room being given over to the former, the floor being in excellent condition, while tables for those who played cards were placed in the ladies parlor. Convenient resting places were provided about the big fireplace. Refreshments were served about midnight, and before the jolly gathering dispersed many expressions of appreciation and good wishes were extended the host and hostess.

The Summerland friends of Miss Heber Percy will be pleased to learn that she is now doing Red Cross duty as a nurse in the Hornsey Hospital, London, which has put 50 beds at the disposal of the War Office.

Completely successful in every way was the "ten cent" tea held on Thursday afternoon when Mrs S. Angove was the hostess. A throng of not less than forty ladies filled the parlors at her home, and the afternoon was passed in a thoroughly enjoyable fashion. The proceeds were to be devoted to the funds of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary. A ten cent guessing competition, the object of which was to discover twenty-nine hidden words contained in a given word of seven letters, was entered into by all the ladies present, the prize going to Mrs H. A. Solly, who obtained all but three. Mrs Angove and Mrs Limmer received the guests, and delightful refreshments were served from a pretty table set off with violet decorations, by Mrs F. A. Williams, Miss Gladys Limmer, and Miss Anna Hayes, tea being poured by Mrs F. D. Cooper.

"FATHER OF THE OKANAGAN" VISITING WINNIPEG.

(From The Winnipeg Free Press)

"The father of the Okanagan" was at the Royal Alexandra Hotel this morning, and will be there for a week. Old timers in Winnipeg will remember him. He is J. M. Robinson, the man who published the Portage la Prairie Review away back in 1882, and who founded the Brandon Times in 1886. He is the man who put Peachland and Summerland on the market. He is now interested in a similar venture at Naramata, British Columbia. He is a man with a magnetic personality, and he looks as hale and hearty and vigorous as he did in the olden days.

Mr Robinson went to British Columbia on a mining venture and when that failed he turned his attention to the land. He observed that the people of the prairie provinces were going to the milder climate of California, and he conceived the idea of turning their attention to fruit raising in the Okanagan. He first established Peachland on his own hook, but later Sir Thomas Shaughnessy supplied the necessary capital to finance the Summerland proposition.

Just now he is interested in a mining venture at Silver City, Idaho. He stated this morning that he grubstaked a man to find the lost lead to a gold mine, himself to get a half interest in the event of a find. The scheme was a success. He received a letter this week from his son, who is at the property, stating with boyish optimism that he thought his father was worth from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000.

Further Extension of Government Telephone Service.

Kootenay and Boundary Soon to be Connected up With Okanagan.

Before 1915 is announced people of the Okanagan may converse by telephone with friends and business acquaintances in the Boundary and Kootenay districts. The work of extending the Government Telephone system southward and eastward, which has already had mention in these columns, has been proceeding satisfactorily, the southern extension, which terminates at the International Boundary at Osoyoos, having already been finished. Running east from a point just south of Fairview is another line which will be carried through to Midway where connection will be made with the E.C. Telephone Co's. system, which covers all the south-east portion of the province. This connection at Midway, it is expected, will be made by Christmas.

Oroville has watched, with much satisfaction and pleasure, the approach of the Government Telephone line to the Boundary, and is evidently anticipating much benefit from the linking up with the Canadian system connection with which will be given that town by a private system now being extended northward to Osoyoos.

This is what the Oroville Gazette says:—The poles are now set, wires strung, and the line in working order to the spot on the earth's surface representing the division between Canada and the United States, directly north of Oroville. And it is only such a line as marks the perfect finish of all public work performed on the Canadian side of the Boundary. It is not a piece of contract work where contractors line their own pockets by shirking, glossing over, and substituting inferior material, as is too often the custom in this country where a public contract is generally a private gift graft. The line is put in to stay and perform its functions to the highest stage of possible efficiency. There are 85 cedar poles to the mile, with No. 10 double copper wires. No line in use is any better.

Now that the Canadians have carried out their promise according to contract, those at this end of the mutual understanding are getting busy, and the extension of the connecting link between Oroville and the Boundary will commence next week. The line from here to connect with the Canadian line will be exactly in accordance with the one just completed from Fairview. The completion of the line will place Oroville in touch with ninety-eight offices in Canada, and will be of inestimable advantage to the public on both sides of the Boundary.

War Means Economy

SCARCITY OF MONEY is one of the first effects of war. Fortunately we in Canada are in no danger of feeling the "pinch" of hard times to any great extent, but we do feel that we must get good value for every dollar expended, and confine our food requirements largely to the realm of necessities. The following list of staples has been carefully compiled with a view to conveying valuable suggestions to the citizens of Summerland. The prices are consistent with our usual quality standards.

OUR NARAMATA SECTION

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Last week, owing to unavoidable circumstances, two of our regular meetings, one on Thursday evening and the other on Saturday afternoon, had to be cancelled. We were requested to cancel our Thursday meeting so as to enable any Scouts who so desired to attend the Elocutionary Recital given by the Rev. D. E. Hatt, and Saturday afternoon, on account of Dr Robinson's temporary absence from town, our First Aid meeting was also put on the sick list. Upon consulting our schedule you will find that this leaves only Tuesday evening to be accounted for. Owing to these cancellations our series of route marches has suffered neglect for the time being, and we have not as yet decided as to when and where our next one will occur.

We have received a letter from the B.C. Scout Headquarters, at Victoria informing us that Scoutmaster Tait of the Summerland Scouts had been commissioned to inspect and report on our troop.

Tuesday evening, November 24th, was employed in the occupation of brushing up our intellects in preparation for this inspection, or in other words we had a general review of the Tenderfoot and Second-Class Tests.

A SCOUT.

Mrs Dean Walters provided a splendid program at a musical given under Unity Club auspices on Tuesday evening. It has been frequently remarked that few towns of its size can boast of possessing amongst its residents so high a class of really good entertainers. But this evidence was certainly well displayed on this occasion. The opening number by the Naramata Orchestra, an organization but little advertised, was like the best of good news from home and fairly lifted everyone from their seats with delight. The two wee daughters of the hostess Alice and Lois Walters were decidedly cute. Mr Tom Kenyon provided a cornet solo, and Miss Gladys Robinson a cello solo, while a trio by the Misses Foster, Whitworth and Robinson proved a harmonious number. Mrs W. L. Robinson and also Miss Kathleen Robinson appeared to splendid advantage in well selected readings. The closing number provided by the orchestra gave a pleasing finale to an altogether pleasing program.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Rev. R. M. Thompson conducted divine service at the local church on Sunday morning.

Mrs E. P. Roe and Miss Emma Davies spent the week-end at Penticton, guests of Mrs R. J. McDougall.

Miss Clouston and Miss Cooper of Summerland spent the week-end in Naramata as guests of Mrs Carroll Aikins.

Mrs E. H. Hancock entertained at the tea hour on Monday, only a few immediate friends being present.

BORN—To Mr and Mrs A. H. Mulford, on Tuesday morning, December 1st., at their home on Ritchie Avenue, a son.

Miss Lois Wells returned on Monday morning's boat from a pleasant holiday spent with her sister, Mrs V. L. Watson at Penticton.

Mrs R. C. Robinson and baby daughter came across the lake on Thursday to spend the week-end with her relatives at Hotel Naramata.

"Symptoms of Conversion" is the subject announced for discussion on Sabbath morning, upon which occasion a larger turn out is expected.

A public meeting has been called to meet in the church basement to discuss further the water problem, and to complete arrangements for putting the pound law in force.

Mrs W. L. Robinson is in receipt of a generous donation of wool from her mother, Mrs John Firsirot of Toronto. The wool is sent as a donation to the Unity Club ladies who are still employing their spare time knitting socks for the soldiers.

"Salvation Bill," a story by a local author, Mr Carroll C. Aikins, appears for the first time in the December issue of the Canadian Magazine. Mr Aikins' fiction has the breezy western style that wants life painted in its true colors, and shorn of all cant and high browed hypocrisy.

Mr and Mrs J. S. Gillespie went out on Saturday morning last, en route for Battle Creek, Michigan. It is believed the trip and change of air may have a beneficial effect in restoring Mr Gillespie's former rugged health. Mrs Gillespie goes to fulfil an engagement with the First Spiritualist's Church, for a year or so.

Last Thursday evening, Nov. 26th, guests to the number of about forty assembled in honor of their native national Thanksgiving day. A delightful time is reported. The evening's entertainment consisted of cards and dancing. The dancing included in its numbers some of the old time dances that had the desired effect of bringing to the floor those who ordinarily sit thinking of their weight of years. At this time everything was forgotten but the fun of bygone days. Talk of fun being hilarious! Even Uncle Josh himself would and could have danced in such a jolly crowd. Toward the close of the evening light refreshments were served, and the party broke up at "lights out" time, which in Naramata is midnight.

A LITERARY TREAT.

Ever notice that the patient thoughtful and persistent minority very often walk off as winners in the worth while prizes in this life? It was this way "for sure" when last Thursday night Rev. D. E. Hatt of Summerland put on a Drummond Recital in the Methodist Church in aid of Okanagan College. It is to be hoped that we may some time soon be able to induce Mr Hatt to weather the gale on the lake some other night even if it is to assure him and to prove to him that there is a very much larger crowd in Naramata that can and do appreciate a really good elocutionary recital such as he put on here. Fact is there was a counter attraction in our community that evening that accounts to a large extent for the mere handful of listeners. Those of us, however, who were there listened to a genuine literary treat as the talented reader portrayed in vivid style the varying characteristics of the French-Canadian habitant. Not the least pleasing features of Mr Hatt's portrayals is his sympathetic introductions to the several numbers, showing an intimacy all too infrequent with one's favorite author.

It would be a mere matter of opinion to say which of the ten or twelve numbers was the best. There was no best. They were all excellent—but doubtless "Johnny's First Moose" and "The Stovepipe Hole" drew an added portion of applause. The program was given added variety by vocal selections, Mrs Allen singing as a prelude, and the Misses Robinson, Foster, and Whitworth at the conclusion of Part I. of Mr Hatt's readings.

Rev. J. I. Beatty occupied the chair for the evening, and Mrs Langueoc aided as accompanist for the singers.

THE UNITY CLUB.

The Unity Club gathering on Friday afternoon last was attended by an unusually large number of the Naramata ladies. The gathering was presided over by Mrs W. Mitchell. Mrs Gillespie, whose departure the next morning was then pretty well known, was called upon for a short address. Mrs Gillespie spoke of the quite unique place the club has always held in the community, and said that it compared most favorably with other organizations along similar lines in much larger centres throughout England and Scotland. She encouraged the members to believe that so soon as the Club is free from their now rather light financial obligations they might look forward to a time of even greater things—to a time when they will be more philanthropic than it is at present, and when it can be in a truer sense a community builder.

Toward the close Mrs Cook, as hostess for the occasion, served an appetizing luncheon. The next and final meeting that will be held this year will meet next Friday, a week from to-day, at which Mrs H. T. Davies and her daughter will serve.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs Boothe wishes, through these columns, to convey her sincere thanks to the many friends whom she cannot see personally, for their many kindnesses shown in her recent and bereavement caused through the sudden death of an only sister.

Salmon Arm is to vote on a by-law providing for an annual payment of $250 for the mayor and $150 for each of the Aldermen.

There are but few editors in our province who have not made a vigorous and continuous fight against the city mail order house. This has been done in the interest of the home merchant, and without money and without price. If the editors of the land had received regular advertising rates for all they have said against these enemies of the country merchant, they could now be wearing diamonds. Now the department store man appreciates advertising space, and is willing to take all the average country editor has for sale, and at a good price. What other would refuse business to help their class of business or professional men friends, especially as many of said friends never seem in the least disposed to return the compliment or even appreciate it.

A birthday party given by Masters Steuart Allen and Frank Hughes, and held in the church basement last Friday evening proved a delightful outing for some thirty youthful guests, who had been apprised of the function through tastefully gotten up invitation cards. The two mothers, Mesdames Allen and Hughes, should go right into the business of getting up evenings of amusement if they could assure us of equally delightfully varied and interesting programs. The whole evening from the curtain raiser till the farewell song passed all too quickly, due largely to the fact that nothing seemingly had been left to mere guess work. Game followed game in ever increasing fun and frolic, and everybody had the time of their lives.

One decidedly interesting feature was a miniature play set up with full stage effect in one corner of the room. The title of the picture show—shall we call it—is "Babes in Toyland." The whole executed by Mr Groinly Reesor, speaks volumes for the skill and imagination of the young artist. For it is a fact that the entire work of making the miniature stage and miniature actors is the boy's own work. You should see it!

Toward the close of the evening's amusement the tables were spread and a dainty luncheon was served, which was followed by a short toast list in which a few of the coming local orators were duly located, and at the conclusion of the final "Our King and Country" proposed by Rev. J. I. Beatty, the whole gathering responded with the singing of the National Anthem. After which the merry gathering dispersed, with further cheers to their hosts and hostesses.

BASKETBALL.

Cliff McWilliams at centre for the Town found the basket very neatly more than once, Glenn and Lavis ably supporting him, and also doing some scoring. There was a marked improvement in the shooting of the fouls for the Town, most of them finding their objective. Charlie Steuart and Darkis for the West also made good use of most of their free shots.

In the first half the Town seemed to have the game well in hand, but after the cross over West Summerland, changing their tactics some, put up a little stronger defence. Ross Rae at centre played well back, and had some genuine hard luck in not finding the basket with some of his long shots. At one time it looked as though West Summerland were going to tie the score in spite of being at the small end of the 13-5 at the interval. They drew up slowly, getting very near their opponent's figures, but Cliff McWilliams was again on hand with two more baskets for the Town and closed the scoring. There was some fine shooting on both sides during the game, greatly adding to the excitement of the good crowd of rooters, who as customarily, did not fail to make themselves heard.

The teams:
Town—C. McWilliams, c., C. Lavis and Glenn, f., H. Snider and H. Phinney, g. West Summerland—R. Rae, c., C. Steuart and R. Darkis, f., G. Fisher and D. Steuart, g.

The intermediate game played off first gave the Town second team their third victory with a very decisive score of 17-6. At the commencement of the game there were two or three interruptions due to minor mishaps, but when the teams warmed up, the play waxed fast and furious. W. Angove had most of the Town baskets to his credit, Slamay and Clay making up the balance. The West forwards did not get very many opportunities to get to the basket, but B. Steuart secured one and A. Pentland two, which accounted for the West's score. Owing to a shortage on the Town team, the services of R. Callan were enlisted for guard. By their victory the Town intermediates maintain their undefeated record. The teams faced Roforo Murray Cochrane as follows: Town—C. Clay, c.; C. H. Slamay and W. Angove, f.; R. Callan and F. Williams, g. Wests—C. Elsay, c.; B. Steuart and A. Pentland, f.; W. Mumm and W. Higgs, g.

Two league games are on for next week, the Town playing in both up at the College Gymnasium. Tonight, Friday, they meet the College, and on Monday, they will oppose West Summerland once more. If the Town succeed in winning both those games there will be a general shuffle in the league standing. In any event the situation is likely to be made more interesting.

It was our privilege some weeks ago to record the excellent scorings made by one of our Naramata subscribers, Mr J. Aldridge at the Kelowna Fall Fair, where he showed several varieties of poultry. He has again met with marked success at the 3rd annual exhibition of the Kelowna Poultry and Pet Stock Association, held at the Orchard city last week. On this occasion, Mr Aldridge showed only Orpingtons, bringing back with him 1 diploma, 4 specials, 18 firsts, 9 seconds, 8 thirds and 8 fourths. The specials were firsts for utility birds given by the British Columbia Poultry Association. Mr Aldridge says there were not quite as many exhibits at the Kelowna Association's show as last year, but that there was a decided improvement in the general quality of the birds exhibited.

The Eckhardt Company, a well-known and highly reputed stock company, paid Summerland a visit on Saturday, and played that evening in Empire Hall. They presented "The Great Divide," a robust comedy-drama, with its setting mostly in the American West. The play centred round the unwilling marriage of a girl to a former suitor, following through the vicissitudes of her married life to the final happy climax where all is well. There was a fair sized audience, though by no means a crowded one. A good many who attended found their pleasure marred by the noisy misbehavior of the youthful occupants of the back rows.

Daly preached earnestly and appropriately, recalling in his sermon many names prominent in Scottish history, particularly in regard to religious achievement, and showing to the Scotsmen of this age the high ideals those of their forebears had left in the story of their lives. ORCHARD AND RANCH LANDS at greatly reduced prices

I am a large holder of excellent Orchard Properties in the Okanagan Valley, and necessity compels me to dispose of much of it. To do this quickly I have decided to offer such as have never before been given. My offers include Planted Orchards, Land Ready for the Trees, Ranch Lands, and Town Lots.

THE OKANAGAN IS BRITISH COLUMBIA'S MOST FAVORED district, and with direct railway connections with the Coast and the Prairies that will be given early next summer, Property values will materially advance, and farm holdings will be in great demand. The ready access to the markets thus afforded, will largely increase prices of fruits and produce. Even now, with the longer haul and "hard times," the man who goes about it right is making good money.

Some of the best Planted Orchard Lots in the districts of Summerland and Kaledon are now on my Bargain List. Properties planted within the last few years, mostly to apples, of good varieties.

Prices and terms are now surprisingly easy. Former prices wholly disregarded. My necessity is your opportunity. If you or your friends contemplate settling on the land, CALL OR WRITE ME NOW.

FRUIT SHIPPERS' MEETING. A meeting of the growers who shipped their fruit through the Union will be held in the Men's Club on Wednesday next, December 16th, at 1:30 p.m.

WORK AT EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Those who have visited the Experimental Farm describe it as being as good as a picture. The nearly one hundred acres of ploughed land certainly looks good.

Farmers' Institute Members Touch on Vital Questions.

'The Past Season's Experiences,' and 'Conditions as They Are, and How They Can be Improved' were two heavy topics presented at the meeting of the Farmers' Institute held in the High School building last Monday evening.

Though the discussions were interesting and instructive the subjects were little more than touched upon, and the discussions could well be continued at later meetings.

President Hilborn was in the chair, Messrs Logie, Thos. Dale, Helmer, and Bain taking a leading part in the discussions.

Of the past season's experiences one speaker said that after paying hired help, who did all the work on the property, he himself being too busily engaged elsewhere, he had cleared $100 per acre over all expenses.

On the question of fire blight both Messrs Helmer and Bain declared that it could be controlled and eradicated by diligent care. They urged the growers to get into their orchards now, search for and cut out cankers, and during the summer keep careful watch for any sign of disease, and as soon as it appeared, the infected part should be cut out, using disinfectant.

Dr McIntyre introduced a new subject to be dealt with later, suggesting that express shippers should establish a uniform price. In the past it has been frequently pointed out by buyers that they can procure the same fruit at a lower price from some other grower in the district.

There were lots of questions put and answered, and the thirty members in attendance found the evening a very interesting and instructive one.

It was announced that pruning and packing schools will be held here, the fees for both of which have been reduced, pruning from $2 to $1, packing from $3 to $2. The Institute will hold its annual general meeting before the end of the month, and members are requested to have any suggestions or resolutions ready for that meeting.

Directors of Locals Meet at Vernon

Fruit Men Discuss Season's Operations With Management Of Central Agency.

The United Growers have this season handled 1,089 cars of fruit and vegetables, and 160 cars of supplies, according to information laid before the boards of the various associated organizations, which met last week in Vernon.

A rather surprising bit of information was that nine of the seventy earloads of crab apples handled by the United Growers had been exported to the United States. The average f.o.b. price realized for crabs was, Hyalor 78c, Transcendent 67c.

Apple returns to the first of December, including the export trade, averaged 97 1/2 cents per box for No. 1, and 73 cents for No. 2's. Nos. 1 and 2, not including the export apples averaged 88 cents.

Hon. Price Ellison, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, came up from the capital city to address the conference of Boards of Directors of the affiliated locals. That as much progress in the two years' operations had been made, as in California after many years, was the declaration of the Minister. While criticizing some of the things in connection with the fruit business, he held out the hope that money would yet be made in fruit growing, but he emphasized the fact that the growers must not have their eggs all in one basket.

The Summerland Fruit Union was represented by Messrs G. J. C. White, E. R. Simpson, R. V. Agur, C. Napier Higgin, Philip Dodwell and Wallace Wright.

Complaint of the lack of promised information on market conditions from the Central was made, and a committee appointed to investigate and suggest remedies. Another investigation which will no doubt enlighten many, will be to ascertain exactly between whom and in what proportions the difference between the price received by the grower, and that paid by the consumer, is distributed.

Craig - Raby. St. Stephen's Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday last. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. C. E. Craig, eldest son of Mr. Craig of North Gower, Ontario, to Miss Ada Raby, second daughter of Mr. G. Raby of West Summerland. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Solly, was daintily gowned in white satin with an overlay of white tulle, trimmed with cut beads, with bridal veil and orange blossom, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Miss Dorothy Tingley, who wore a cream silk dress trimmed with pale blue, and also carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. G. Raby, the bride's mother was attired in a costume of light fawn, and wore a black hat with black feathers. Mr Craig was attended by Mr. J. Steven as best man. On conclusion of the ceremony Mr and Mrs Craig left on a short driving trip visiting Pontleiton and Naramata. The bride's going away dress was a dark blue serge tailor-made costume. They will reside for the present on the Trowse lot, and will be at home to welcome their friends from Monday week, December 20th. - Com.

KILLING OUR OWN PRICES.

THAT the present selling organizations must in some way get closer together if disaster is to be avoided is the decision of the American fruit growers and representatives of the fruit industry in its various phases at the conference held during the Spokane Fair. No doubt this decision was not arrived at until after the situation had been discussed in all its phases, even to abolishing all the present methods and beginning afresh on sundry other proposed lines. If closer operation, in other words, truer co-operation, is necessary in Washington, it is equally necessary in British Columbia, and we believe much more easily brought about.

The trade throughout the north-west is unanimous in the opinion that many thousands of dollars were lost this year to the Okanagan through internal competition. Particularly in apples, competition was not, this year, from across the line, but among ourselves. This is serious, and if continued will be a disastrous situation. Instances of one Okanagan organization making heavy consignments to dealers handling shipments at a fixed price from another organization, have been given circulation, and the shippers instructing the consignees to re-consign the fruit to retailers. At one time not less than thirty retail stores in Calgary were handling Okanagan consigned fruit, making it impossible for the other shippers to make sales. Under-selling and other methods of competition, ruinous to the producer, is current news among those more closely in touch with the selling end.

Responsibility for this deplorable condition cannot be fixed on any one organization, each doubtless having its own idea as to the best methods, and endeavoring to carry those ideas through to a successful conclusion. The fact remains, nevertheless, that Okanagan fruit in competition with Okanagan fruit has been beating down the price. Our growers, our business men, in whatever lines they may be engaged, and, yes, those of our citizens who are making a business of selling our crops, are all equally concerned in this question and all should unite their efforts in bringing about if not a union then a close working arrangement among those who are putting the products of our orchards and fields upon the market in order that the best prices the markets will warrant may be obtained.

WHERE FRIENDS DISAGREE.

EVEN intimate friends do not always see eye to eye and it is well that it is so. Otherwise we might become a world of freaks. The question of loyalty—loyalty to one's neighbor to one's home town and province is a matter on which two Westerners apparently old acquaintances at least hold directly opposite views. One of these men whom Summerland counts among her newer citizens evidently does not take kindly to the community spirit which he finds here. In fact conditions are so much at variance with his own ideas that he must "write to the papers" about them.

The Cochrane (Alberta) Advocate of December 3rd contains an extract of his letter and a pointed editorial comment thereon. We give the editorial in full:—

"LIVE AND LET LIVE."

We quote below part of a letter received at this office from Mr H. M. Lumaden now of Summerland but formerly a resident of Grand Valley under date of Nov. 27th:

"I have been 'breaking' all week and it rains at nights; no frost as yet. Stores here are fair, goods are dearer than in Cochrane. Just imagine that if you can! An organization similar to the U.F.A. has been put in shape by yours truly, and we will now soon get a fair deal. They have such at Penticton, where, I hear, storekeepers are on the howl, their period for robbing customers being now over. The editor of the paper here is hot on the 'support your own town' idea, and give him all your printing, etc., and pay for it too. Put surplus cash in storekeepers' pockets, which should be in your own. In other words 'support your own town.' It is too funny, but these blokes will have their joke."

Poor old Lumy, he is a hopeless case. The West would be a queer place to live in if it were overrun with his breed. If his ideas of keeping store were compulsory there would not be one west of Toronto. Yet he likes to come into town occasionally and "spend a pleasant afternoon." But where would the towns be without the business men and merchants? He cannot see anything in the doctrine of "live, and let live." Of course the storekeepers of Summerland charge more than Cochrane does because of the longer haul, and also because mixed cars go all the way through to the Coast, where they break bulk, and are then hauled back over the same road as far as Sicamous, and then run down the S.&O. by rail and steamer to Summerland. It ought to be apparent even to as dense a man as Lumaden that hauling freight costs money, and the C.P.R. is not in the hauling business for its health or pleasure. If the profits from storekeeping are so enormous, why does Lumaden not quit "breaking" and buy himself a string of stores. We have not the slightest doubt but that he could easily buy up any store in town. Experience is the only teacher for men who have no reasoning faculties, and whose upper story is clogged with fool ideas about the easy money made by merchants. There are people who imagine that a merchant ought to be able to send to the wholesaler and buy an article for 90c, and sell it for a $1, and out of that profit the merchant should support his family, pay rent, insurance, wages, light, fuel, freight, credit to the farmer till his crop comes in, advertising and office expenses, trade licenses, donations for all kinds of charities, including farmers picnics and prize pumpkins, etc. Oh, storekeeping is a cinch all right; let us all get into the game. It is a darned shame that a man should be compelled to be in the business of raising oats at 50c. a bushel, wheat at $1.04, and meat at $8 to $10, all of which is bought for spot cash. Kick the merchant out and hog the whole show!

WAR BRINGING PROSPERITY.

FORTY MILLION DOLLARS! That is the amount spent in Canada by Canadian British, French, and Russian Governments to December first for war supplies. Every few days press dispatches tell of huge orders being placed with our eastern manufacturers, and for a large and varied list of articles. Our hosiery mills are now tested to the limit with orders for millions of socks. Several million dollars worth of sweater coats have been ordered, and similar requisitions for boots, underclothing, blankets, and wearing apparel have been made. Horses, flour, grain and military equipment, including arms and even hot water bottles, 500,000 of which were ordered last week. The war has brought prosperity to the eastern part of our country. May it flow westward till it levels up against the Pacific.

Now that the scare, caused by the outbreak of war, has subsided, business in the United States, particularly in the East is rapidly assuming normal conditions, and a period of good times is looked for immediately.

Of industrial conditions in England a recent cable says:—Things continue to improve, and returns come from nearly every district showing that the main trouble to-day is not a shortage of employment, but a shortage of skilled labor.

The Lancashire cotton trade, which suffered most from the war, shows marked improvement. Three quarters of the cotton spindles at Oldham are now running full time, while some of the mills supplying yarns required for government contracts are running overtime.

The Midlands, South Yorkshire, the south of Scotland, the Clyde, Tyne and Thames are enjoying trade booms, mainly owing to Government orders.

WITH coal at $6.50 per ton, what is wood worth as fuel? This is a question that many of our citizens will be asking before many months. With the coming of the railway, giving us close connection with the coal beds of the Nicola and Similkameen to the West, and the Crow's Nest country to the east, it should be possible to have coal delivered here in car lots for not more than $5 per ton, so that a retail price of $6.50 will not be impossible for good coal. Looks as though the heavy demands on the rapidly disappearing forests about us will soon let up.

SUMMERLAND WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

Besides listening to two very interesting papers, the members of the Summerland Women's Institute held their annual election of officers at the regular December meeting, when quite a number of ladies assembled at the Men's Club at 3 p.m. on Friday last.

Immediately following the reading of communications election of officers was taken up resulting as follows:

President—Mrs. W. H. Hayes
Vice-President—Mrs. W. Watson
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. G. Morgan

Directors—Mrs. Angwin, Mrs. G. Gartrell, Mrs. R. M. Ross, Mrs. H. Solly, and Mrs. M. Tait.

Visiting Committees as follows:—
Town—Mrs. Lipimer, Mrs. Gray.
West Summerland—Mrs. Solly,
Mrs. Elsey, Miss Campbell.

Peach Orchard—Mrs. Estabrook,
Mrs. A. B. Williams.
Upper Trout Creek—
Mrs. G. J. C. White.

Trout Creek—Miss Thornthwaite,
Mrs. Verity.

"A Woman's Public Duties" was the subject of an excellent paper given by Mrs. Everton, which was greatly appreciated. The desire on the part of women to be something and do something was commendable, but they should not neglect their homes and children while yet, keeping in touch with things going on outside the home, particularly such things as pertain to municipal matters, charitable institutions and women's clubs. The power and influence of women for good has recently been demonstrated in the temperance movement in the United States, resulting in several more states adopting prohibition. Women could improve the school conditions as well as suggest improvements in the beautifying of municipal grounds, roads, etc.

The second paper was written by a member of the Salmon Arm Institute and was read by Mrs. Lipssett. It contained some helpful suggestions in the way of handmade Christmas presents, which could be produced at a small cash outlay, and would be much more appreciated than a present selected hurriedly from the store.

The daffodil and narcissus bulbs provided by the Institute to be sold in the Spring were distributed to the members present just before the meeting adjourned.

APPLES TO NORWAY.

In many of the districts of Norway the apple crop this year is short, and in some places half of the apples are imported. Inquiries have been received suggesting a possible demand from British Columbia. Inasmuch as this province has now direct steamship communication with Norway exporters will probably make a bid for this new business. Up to date the shipments from America to

OKANAGAN APPLES GET BIG BOOST.

There has been this week on display in the Review Office window a series of excellent photos showing some of the fine displays made at Vancouver and Victoria during apple-week. These pictures were nearly all taken in the wholesale warehouses of the Coast, and give some idea of their efforts to boost the home product. Six of these firms made large artistic displays in their warehouses, and five others showed very creditable arrays of O.K. apples. There were beside more than thirty-five window displays in retail stores, in addition to the public exhibit of B.C. fruits, which was visited by more than 12,000 people.

Much credit is due Mr R. R. Robertson, Manager of the United Growers, for the splendid success of apple-week at the Coast. It has been stated that as a result of his efforts fully $2,000 more was realized on the apples placed there by the Central Selling Agency than they would have brought otherwise. The apples retailed at $1.50 in Vancouver, and $1.40 in Victoria, and every wholesaler contributed 3c. per box on all his sales that week, whether Canadian or American, for publicity purposes.

STOPPING OF ROAD WORK CAUSE OF GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT.

The stopping of work on the lakeshore road between Summerland and Peachland has caused much disappointment in both towns. The work was going on apace, and every effort was being made to make the most of the labor being expended with the hope that the Government would permit its continuance until a connection was made. There is considerable traffic between the two towns, and would be a great deal more if they were connected by a good highway. Nothing has been done on the dangerously narrow and crooked upper road along the mountain side to make that road safely passable, thus making the early completion of the lakeshore road all the more essential.

When it is considered that only a few more weeks of work at the most were necessary to open up the new road, and that already a good many thousands of dollars have been expended, which outlay is worthless until the road is completed, it is doubly regrettable that a halt has been called.

If it were a matter of financing we doubt if the ready cash is necessary, as there could be enough men found glad to have the work and anxious enough to have the road open to await the convenience of the Department for their pay.

Norway direct have been small compared with the London imports. The duty on apples imported into Norway amounts to $1.03 per barrel of 132 lbs.

OUR LITERARY SOCIETY.

The meeting of the Literary and Debating Society on Monday evening drew a full house and the crowd appeared to enjoy the deliberations of the various speakers.

The feature of the evening was extemporaneous three minute speeches in which the several participants were up against the problem of giving their opinion on a topic, most of which were on more or less live interest at the present day. One young man had to say whether he favored long or short engagements. Another was asked his opinion on the probable length of the war.

The speakers who opened the evening's program were Mr. James Hayward, who spoke for, and Mr. Bruce, a recent arrival from England, who spoke against Woman Suffrage. This was followed by a solo by Mrs. Dean Walters, after which the draws were made from twenty slips of paper on the half of which topics were announced upon which those who were so fortunate or unfortunate as to draw them had to speak. Mrs. Allan spoke of her favorite English poet. Mr. Salting said in two and one-half minutes why the war will be a prolonged struggle. Dr. Paton told us why life in Naramata is conducive to happiness. Mr. W. Morsch told in less than half a minute what, in his opinion, was the true meaning of education. While Mr. P. S. Roe expressed his opinion on our present system of education. The four most influential men in the world today, in Miss Dorothy Robinson's opinion, were named as Kitchener, Grey, President Wilson and the Kaiser. Mrs. Cash, in less than a minute, was emphatic in her opinion that the word "obey" be omitted from the marriage ceremony. Mr. Pitman decided in favor of short engagements. Mr. F. Li Roe says the war will result in a big influx of Europeans to the southern Okanagan.

R. H. King was a business visitor to Summerland on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. H. Pushman was "At Home" on Monday afternoon to a large number of friends.

Next Sunday Pastor Beatty will preach a special service on the subject "The Making of a Life," with special application to the Boy Scouts, who will attend in a body.

Wm. Armour is having a substantial addition put to his cottage on his fruit lot. The K.V.R. is having a house for the section foreman built on the railway property adjoining the Naramata siding.

What do you know about this? (Ladies' Aid members are forbidden to read this item.) It is asserted on good authority that the local Aid Society in connection with our church is the largest and strongest — not relatively either — in the conference. What's wrong with us?

Next Friday the schools will close for their Christmas two weeks holidays, when both teachers and scholars will enjoy a well earned respite from their books. Miss Whitworth will probably spend her holidays here. Miss Foster expects to visit her brother's home at Anacortes, Wash.

LADIES' AID HOLD BAZAAR.

The annual bazaar conducted by the Ladies Aid Society last Thursday week in the church basement, while drawing but a limited crowd of "shoppers" as compared with other seasons, particularly with that held a year ago during railway construction, when the town had a large floating population and when money was free, resulted in a drawing forth from some source, more coin of the realm than was expected. The total amounts realized from the sales at the various booths and the sale of tickets for the supper totalled a little over fifty dollars, so that taking everything into consideration the ladies have every reason to be proud of the crowning effort for their patient work during the course of their preparations.

SCHOOL REPORT FOR NOVEMBER

The following is the honor roll for the month of November:

Entrance Class—Stanley Stiff, Edmund Boothe, Harold Allen.

Junior Fourth—Willie Mitchell, Edmund Morsch.

Third Reader—James Bruce and Ira Hughes tied for first place, Ralph Boothe and Laurel Boothe tied for second place.

Junior Department—The names of those heading their respective classes are Donald Manchester; Stanley Allen and Malcolm Walters tied. Raymond Manchester, Lester Williams, Kathleen Mulford.

In connection with the list of pupils coming below the required standard for the honor roll it was pointed out that social functions in the town are allowed too much place in the middle of the week for the best progress. Many of the pupils spend too many nights out, and come to school with their minds in no fit state for serious study. This is a matter which should be brought in some way to the attention of the parents, to see if a remedy cannot be effected.

WILL ENFORCE POUND LAW.

The public meeting in the church basement on Friday night last, presided over by Mr. Geo. Cook, while in one or two ways somewhat disappointing, resulted in at least settling one item of business that has been hanging fire for months. We refer to the establishment of a pound law and regularly constituted pound and pound master.

The choice of a pound master finally settled upon Mr. W. W. Mitchell, one of the first settlers in Naramata.

The pound enclosure is being built on some unused property belonging to the Trust Company and will be ready by the time the thirty days' notice period expires which will throw the date for the actual enforcement of the law about the middle of January.

A law allows only 15 cents a day for the keep of an impounded animal and as the pound master could not obviously agree to feed a horse or cow for a less sum than 50 cts. per day it was at once decided that the deficit would have to be made up from some source. The source fixed on was a levy per capita of two dollars per man, which sum it was agreed should be paid in at once.

The disappointing feature of the evening's discussion was in the inability to get satisfactory responses from certain lot owners who agreed and promised to pay over a sum equal to one dollar an acre to help grub-stake those of our number who went up to the headwaters of the dam this fall. This money while by no means a staggering sum even in the aggregate, is sufficiently large to harrass the temper of the one man who appears to have gone sponsor for the several contributions. It all goes to show that in matters of this nature and especially of such interest to the community as a whole that the agreement should have been in writing, making a binding contract. But it does seem to most of us here that in a comparatively limited district such as ours where we all must stand or fall together, that each man of us should be willing to put his shoulder to the wheels of progress and do each his share of the pushing.

SCOUTS MAKE GOOD.

Successful Inspection.

Scoutmaster John Tait of Summerland paid the local Scout organization an official visit of inspection on Tuesday evening.

The junior members were successful in passing their "tenderfoot tests" and were duly decorated with appropriate buttons. These are now received as members of the Scout troop in a formal way.

In the course of the evening Dr. W. L. Robinson conducted an examination of the troop's knowledge of First Aid work. In the course of this test it was shown that the boys were prepared for almost any common emergency. For instance one group gave First Aid to one of their number whose thigh was supposed to be fractured, while another showed how to seek to restore respiration in the case of a drowning accident. The boys know how, where and when to wrap a bandage, how to test and treat for poisoning. Another feature of the test was an exhibition in signalling which to those of us who are older and who could see how useful such a knowledge could be if more generally known, seemed a splendid training.

Mr. Tait expressed himself as highly pleased with the general proficiency of the whole troop and with the training the boys are getting under Scoutmaster Harry Pitman in their knowledge of Scout law and practice, and in First Aid work by Dr. Robinson.

Summing up the work of the Scout organization as refers to our own body it can be said that the boys have had a good training so far, and if the pace set can be maintained for another year or so Naramata troop may be held up as an example of all round proficiency.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

At each of our meetings last week the time was devoted to reviews of the Scout work in preparation for Scoutmaster Tait's inspection. A full account of this inspection appears elsewhere on this page.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS FROM PEACHLAND.

Miss Rene Elliott spent Friday in Kelowna.

Mr. F. Tollman was a passenger to Kelowna on Tuesday.

Miss Beatrice Lang spent the week-end with friends in Summerland.

Mrs. D. White of the hotel served afternoon tea on Tuesday in aid of the Ambulance League.

Erskine Brown of the Kettle Valley Railway spent a few days last week at the parental home.

Mrs. Robinson, Sr., of Summerland, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. McDougald, last week.

Mrs. Hayward and her daughter, Miss Adelaide of Naramata, are visitors with Mrs. John Wright at present.

Inspector Anstey was in town last week examining the public schools. From here the Trepanier school was visited.

Another shipment of goods provided by the League, scarfs, nightgales, socks, etc., will be sent to headquarters on Friday.

As we write the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church is conducting a sale of useful and dainty articles, supplemented by afternoon tea.

Mr. Hamilton Lang, road commissioner, of Vernon, was in town on Tuesday inspecting the work being done between Deep Creek and Summerland.

John McKinnon left on Wednesday morning for a trip to the Coast cities. Chas. Van Seymortier is looking after his place during his absence.

Zing Lee and his son, Fou, left for Hong Kong, China, on Saturday morning. Zing's brother, On, will take charge of the laundry until his return.

Messrs Powell, Douglas and Williams, the directors of the local fruit association attended the general meeting of the Central Union, held at Vernon last week.

Tuesday, Dec. 8th, was Institute Day. As everything now seems to be given over to ambulance work, which holds so large a place in our hearts, a sale of Christmas cards was held in aid of the League.

Messrs Roy White, A. J. Beer, L. Hatfield, of Summerland, and H. Miller of town spent a week in the hills hunting. The Summerland huntsmen returned home with the proceeds of their holiday on Saturday evening.

On Friday evening the Women's Circle of the Methodist Church held a birthday social at the home of A. Town. Music of different kinds, recitations and games made up an interesting program which was much enjoyed by all. As each guest was expected to place a cent for each year of his life in a sock furnished by the circle; judging by the number present, there must have been a considerable sum to help pay the church debt.

Rev. D. E. Hatt of Summerland gave an eloquent recital to aid the Okanagan College Auxiliary of that place, in the Orange Hall here, on Thursday evening. A crowded house greeted him, Rev. A. Henderson of the Union Church acted as chairman. Mrs. Harrington, the Misses Harrington, Mrs. Mitchell, R. J. Hogg, and H. E. McCall assisted in the musical part, with which the program proper was augmented. As so much has been said by the Valley papers in praise of these entertainments it is needless to particularize, only to add that this recital was in no way behind the others.

Hon. Martin Barroll, who has been confined to his Ottawa home for several days with congestion of the lungs, is reported better, with prospects of being able to return to his office before the week is out.

Plans have been completed for a church parade on Sunday, Dec. 12th. The boys will parade in full dress, and will march to the church in a body. Rev. J. I. Bonty has promised to prepare an appropriate address for the occasion, and the Scouts are looking forward to an interesting talk from him. Plans have also been discussed for a parade in Summerland, in conjunction with the Summerland Scouts, but nothing definite has yet been settled in regard to this, although if it comes off it will likely take place about the first Sunday in the New Year.

College intermediates won their first game of the season last Friday night in their own gymnasium, and at the same time administered to their opponents from the Town the first defeat of the season. The losers were somewhat handicapped in being compelled to play a recruit forward who was scarcely able to make the most of his opportunities, so that extra work devolved upon their remaining forward and centre. The final score was 13-9 for the College. Most of the points were obtained in the first half, at the end of which the score stood 11-7, so that each team secured only one basket after the interval. The College forwards kept well on the move, and in the first half Jennings and Elliott were the chief basket-getters. The town defence was worked overtime in the second half trying to break up College combination and prevent scoring. For the Town W. Angove made the best showing, one basket of his, in the second half, from near the side-line at the door being especially noteworthy. Ed. Sawyer refereed the game, and the teams were: College—K. Elliott, c., Bent and Jennings, f., E. Armstrong and Elliott, g. Town—C. Clay, c., W. Angove and J. Butterfield, f., C. H. Sismey and F. Williams, g.

The College seniors emulated the feat of their second team by besting the Town seniors, giving the boys from the hill a double-header to be jubilant over. It was the hardest game of the league series played yet. At no time was either team more than about three points ahead. The half time score of 7-6 for the Town, and the final count of 15-14 for the College indicates well the ding-dong nature of the struggle through both halves. With in two minutes from the first throw-up both teams had a basket to their credit. The fast pace was kept up all through the game. Several times during the game some mild signs of fistic belligerency were apparent, but there was no studied roughness at any time, the pace of the play accounting in a large measure for some checking perhaps a little more than usually vigorous. Double foul decisions were awarded by Referee Sawyer in most of these cases. Morelock was closely checked for the most part, but made use of what liberty he did get by getting in some fine passing, and also finding the basket a number of times. J. McLeod was also prominent in the scoring, and combination, especially in the first half. Later he played back behind the centre aiding the defence, who were pretty well pressed. Cochrane was also well watched, but during the time he was able to loosen off from his check he also put in some useful work, figuring on the score sheet. H. Phinney at guard played the best game for the Town, preventing a good deal of scoring by holding down his man. Cliff McWilliams, the Town centre was the principal goal getter for his side, and sustained a fast pace throughout. With Glenn and Lavis, forwards, the three worked some passing that was of the best, giving the College basket some miraculous escapes, despite close checking by the guards. There was a big crowd of rooters, and neither team lacked supporting spectators. It is uncertain whether lusty lungs or bells and horns predominated. Certainly the referee had a hard time to blow his whistle loud enough to rise above the din. The teams lined up: College—J. McLeod, c., L. Morelock and M. Cochrane, f., C. Riley and Vanderburg, g. Town—C. Williams, c., J. F. Glenn and C. Lavis, f., H. Phinney and H. Snider, g.

On Monday evening the Town teams again journeyed up to the big gymnasium, this time to meet West Summerland. Once more they had to return without the satisfaction of getting at the right end of the score in either game. Referee John McLeod held the boys down to strict basketball, and was so compelled to blow his whistle with more than ordinary frequency. In the intermediate game the Wests were considerably strengthened by the return of Edward Logie to their forward line. He is a speedy forward, and accurate in shooting. He put the fouls to good account almost every time, and with some field baskets as well, almost accounted for the West Summerland score by himself, 16-14 were the final figures. In the first half the Wests seemed to have the best of the game, and before the interval had the score up to 11-6 in their favor. In the second half the Town boys gave a better account of themselves, and with Sismey piling on points well from his free shots, and some field baskets, they had secured eight more points to their opponents' five at the last whistle blow. The teams Wests—B. Stuart, c., E. Logie and A. Pentland, f., Higgs and W. Mumm, g. Town—C. Clay, c., C. Sismey and W. Angove, f., R. White and F. Williams, g.

The senior game following was the highest scoring encounter yet played, no fewer than 37 points being registered in all, in the proportion of 21-16 for West Summerland. The frequent fouls which Referee McLeod was compelled to call did not mar the game as much as if they had been intentional misdemeanours, but through C. Stuart's unerring skill with the penalty shots the Wests were able to run up a considerable part of their score in this way. The Town also got quite a few free baskets, but they did not have as many chances. At half time the score was 10-7 for the home team. Ross Rae was a good second to Stuart in getting baskets, obtaining several from the field. The whole five worked together in combination at times, but the Town were on to it, and made things interesting by getting in a good deal of quick passing themselves. H. Phinney put up his customary sturdy game at guard, and on both sides it can be said that the high scoring was due to good forward work rather than to ineffective checking from opposing guards. McWilliams, Glenn and Lavis for the Town all shared in the scoring, putting up a good game between themselves that kept their guards plenty busy. It was an enjoyable game to watch in spite of the frequent stoppages. A fair number of enthusiasts were on the platform and lined the sides, pointing to the fact that the sport is not likely to lose its interest this winter. The Town had the same line-up as against the College the Friday previous, and the Wests employed the same established squad that has done duty in their last three games.

After the game to-night, Friday, when the College and Wests clash, there is a lull in the fixtures for a week. December 18th brings another game down town, the College being the visitors on that occasion.

War Means Economy

SCARCITY OF MONEY is one of the first effects of war. Fortunately we in Canada are in no danger of feeling the "pinch" of hard times to any great extent, but we do feel that we must get good value for every dollar expended, and confine our food requirements largely to the realm of necessities. The following list of staples has been carefully compiled with a view to conveying valuable suggestions to the citizens of Summerland. The prices are consistent with our usual quality standards.

CURRENT COMMENTS

TEN DRY STATES (New York World.)

"Virginia's adoption of State-wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants brings the number of such Commonwealths up to ten. The others are Maine, Kansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Tennessee and West Virginia. In Virginia, as elsewhere, the issue was decided by the vote of the country districts, but of the seventeen cities having a population of more than 5,000, only four, Alexandria, Norfolk, Danville, and Richmond, voted in opposition to the amendment. Of the 91,000,000 of people in the continental United States at the last census, approximately 16,500,000 are now subject to State-wide prohibitory laws."

A MESSAGE TO THE KAISER. (London Daily Mail.)

"We rejoice that steps are being taken to circulate the Viceroys of India's message throughout the world, and we hope that a copy of it will be sent to the Kaiser. His Majesty might thus learn that empires may rest on other and nobler foundations than unbridled force, and that British justice has called forth in the hour of danger a glad and willing response which no German "culturo" based on "iron and blood" will ever evoke.

SERMON ON THE MOUNT.

No peace can come to the world in arms until it is settled for once and all whether the philosophy of the Sermon on the Mount is or is not to prevail. Nietzsche and the Prussian militarists have declared against it. The Christian nations, other than Germany, have declared for it. All other issues are subsidiary. It might be right, then, that the world's progress during the Christian era has been more retrogression—Canadian Courier.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

Miss Beatrice Lang of Peachland spent last week-end with friends here.

C. D. Hampshire of the local C.P.R. office left on Tuesday on a vacation tour which will include the Coast and Calgary.

W. A. Lang, Provincial Exhibition Commissioner, arrived on last evening's boat. Mr Lang recently returned from the capital.

Dr. T. B. Turner, dentist, will spend Monday and Tuesday of each week in Summerland. Crown, Bridge and Gold Inlay work a specialty.

Mrs Donald Munro of Winnipeg, who with her daughter, Donald, has been visiting here at the home of her sister, Mrs D. L. Sutherland, returned to the prairie capital on Thursday last.

Though in the best of health Thos. Hickey is not yet able to do without the plaster case on his injured leg. He is hoping to have it finally removed the middle of next week, and is looking forward to an early release so that he may join his friends now encamped at Victoria.

One of the best lectures that has been listened to in Summerland for a long time was that given by Mr L. V. Rogers, Principal of the Kelowna High School, being one of the series of lectures in the Methodist lecture course. Mr Rogers is an unusually pleasing and convincing speaker, and presented his subject "Imperial Co-operation" in a most instructive manner. It is a matter of regret that the attendance was not large.

Messrs R. H. English and J. M. Sutherland represented the Summerland Board of Trade at the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of the Okanagan held at Kelowna on Tuesday and Wednesday. The meeting was well attended, Enderby, Armstrong, Vernon, Kelowna Summerland, and Penticton being represented. New officers were elected as follows: S. I. Elliott, Kelowna, President; A. N. McTavish, Kelowna, Secretary.

Enderby will be the next meeting place. The proceedings terminated with an enjoyable banquet at which many excellent speeches were made, bearing on various timely topics.

At the W.C.T.U. meeting in the Parkdale Baptist Church on Monday afternoon the subject under discussion was "Child Training." Mrs Bent gave a short, but interesting paper on the subject, and Mrs W. Estabrook a reading very much to the point. Mrs Bent and Mrs McAlpine sang "My Mother's Prayer." Mrs Daly gave a report of the work she has been doing among the school children. After going to Penticton to address the school there on temperance, the local union arranged that our own school be favored in a like manner, so on different occasions Mrs Daly has given a talk on "The Houses We Live In," in the different departments of the Central School. In one department of the school the pupils were required to write essays on the subject in question, and some of these show that the children got a good grasp of the subject.

Have you been to the indoor shooting range; either to try a shot at the target or to see the work of some of the good shots that gather there? During the summer outdoor range shooting is popular, and would be more so were the range closer in. Through the commendable enterprise of Mr G. R. Hookham, Summerland now has a miniature rifle range in the long, spacious packing house at West Summerland. The range is well conducted, and will no doubt be one of the chief centres of attraction during the winter. The place is made comfortable by proper heating and lighting, and, as stated in his ad., real usefulness and real amusement are combined in this right occupation for winter evenings. Further particulars will be found in the rifle range ad. on the back page of this issue.

The Editor of B.C. Fruit and Farm, Vancouver, has sent word that the article on Okanagan Sun Dried Fruit which appeared in the November number, has brought a reply from Mr R. Grigg, Commissioner of Commerce, saying that there is a good market for dried apricots in France, and the firm of Messrs Pétin & Co., 103 Bd. de Sebastopol, Paris, France, would like to receive samples from the Okanagan.

Mr. E. W. Bateman, C. P. R. Right-of-Way Agent spent Sunday last with friends here.

Mrs and Miss Hawthorne of Medicine Hat, mother and sister of Mrs. H. Tavender, are spending the winter with her here.

Remember the date of the visit of Dr S. L. Taube, eye sight specialist. He will be at the Drug Store on Wednesday, December 16th. d4-11

Potted Plants and Pretty Xmas Gifts at the Knick-Knack Bargain Sale, Sat. Dec. 12th at the home of Mrs A. Steven, West Summerland. d411

Mr J. I. E. Corbett, Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Vernon, is in town on a business trip this week. He is accompanied by Mrs Corbett.

85 per cent. of headaches are the result of eye strain, so if you have any eye trouble at all, it would be to your advantage to consult Dr Taube at the Drug Store, Wednesday, December 16th. d4 11

Rev. R. W. Lee will go to Peachland tomorrow morning to remain over Sunday. He will preach in the Methodist Church there, exchanging with the pastor, Rev. Mr Henderson.

Another winter diversion has been put into definite shape at West Summerland in the form of a Quadrille Club, recently organized. It is intended to hold fortnightly dances in the Campbell Hall, the first of which was held on Tuesday of this week.

Two very fine thoroughbred Holstein cows, each with a calf beside her, reached here early this week, accompanied by the breeder from whom they were purchased by Dr Lipsett recently. One cow with a two month's old calf went up to the Balcom ranch, the other with her calf, two weeks old, will be kept by Dr Lipsett. Both the calves (heifers) are pure bred, and descendants from the very best strain of Holstein from this continent.

Friday evening was the occasion of a very enjoyable party given by Mr and Mrs G. Raby in honor of their daughter's approaching marriage. The house was comfortably filled, and a jolly time was spent with songs and games. Mr T. B. Young, on behalf of those present, and also the many friends in Summerland, tendered felicitations to the happy pair, and in this he was supported by Mr J. Steven and Mr Walter Wright.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Okanagan College are giving a reception on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 17, at the residence of Mrs W. H. Hayes. Tea and refreshments will be served, and an interesting program provided. The ladies wish to maintain the success they have had this season in raising funds for the College, and at the reception they will give an opportunity to all to make an offering, either large or small, to the College in the way of a Christmas gift.

By a tree which was being felled in Peach Orchard falling the wrong way a bad mix-up was made with telephone, telegraph and electric wires. The tall piece of timber crashed down across the electric light lines, the Government telegraph wires, and Government, Okanagan and Summerland telephone wires. It was not until after some hours' work on the part of the employees of the various concerns interested that service was again resumed.

The social hold last night in the Campbell Hall under the auspices of the local Ambulance League, did not appear to suffer from being postponed. The hall was about three-quarters full, with a company that thoroughly enjoyed the social time and the program provided. There must have been a good monetary reward for the work of the ladies of the league who thought out the evening. Mr Wm. C. W. Fosbery acted as chairman for the evening. The program consisted of a pianoforte duet by Mrs H. J. Collas and Miss Higgin, a song by Miss A. Hayes, songs by Mr G. D. Fisher and J. O. Smith, oratorical selections by Rev. D. E. Hatt, and a conjuring performance by Mr Spraggon. Those items all gave genuine pleasure to those present. At the conclusion of the program a social time was indulged in while refreshments were passed round.

Mr J. Rowley went up to Vernon on a business trip last Friday, returning Saturday evening.

Inspector Anstey is this week making his regular inspection of the schools of the district.

Christmas orders taken for Pure Home-made Assorted Candies. Mrs E. W. Markoe, Phone 762. d4-11

A fine deer captured on the hills near Naramata was brought across the lake on Saturday by George McLeod.

T. P. Thornber, whose proposed trip to England was mentioned in our last issue, got away on Saturday morning as planned.

A re-checking of the winnings at last week's poultry show gives John Tait 2nd and 3rd on Rhode Island Red Single Comb-pullets.

The Knick-Knack Bargain Sale will begin at 2 p.m. Sat. Dec. 12th every article a genuine bargain. Afternoon tea 15 cents. d411

The local association of poultrymen will henceforth be known as the Summerland Poultry Association, and not as the Southern Okanagan Poultry Association as in the past.

Services will be conducted in the Methodist Church on Sunday next at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. The preacher for the day will be Rev. Andrew Henderson of Peachland. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the close of the evening service.

Miss Amy Brown has received information of her acceptance as a probationer in the Toronto General Hospital. Miss Brown is to report for duty on the first of April, but she purposes leaving here a month earlier, making the journey by easy stages, visiting friends en route.

About 375 of the B.C. Horse stationed at Vernon, including a number of Summerland volunteers were transferred to Victoria last Friday, where they will put in some more drilling before leaving for Europe. About 75 were left at Vernon, a few of whom will join the large force shortly.

John Weeks went out on Wednesday morning's boat to reach the Old Country in time to pass Christmas there. He has been here about four years, and now returns to his former employment. Mrs Weeks and family have already been in England some time, leaving here in the summer.

The property near B. L. Hatfield's sold to Mr Hall by A. B. Elliott has again changed owners, an exchange for some Castor, Alberta, property having been made by Mr Hall. The new owners, Mr and Mrs C. N. Brown and their family of six boys arrived on Wednesday evening from the prairie town, and are now in possession of their newly acquired Summerland property.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated in St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning. The preparatory service will be held to-night, Friday. The evening service will be held in St. Andrew's Church. Rev. C. H. Daly will conduct both services. There will be no Presbyterian service held down town next Sunday afternoon, owing to the Communion service being held in the morning.

The social sleigh ride season was opened on Wednesday evening of this week, when members of St. Andrew's Y. P. Guild participated in one of these good times. If the snow was light in some places, and if some sleighs did go one way and some another, everybody without exception enjoyed themselves, and refreshments at the church to give the customary finish to the evening proved not the least pleasant part of the event.

A change in the Provincial Act respecting municipal voters is likely to make quite a change in the list of those who are eligible to vote at the coming Municipal elections. Heretofore those of our citizens recorded at the Municipal Office as holders of land within the Municipality were given a vote, now, however, the law requires that any person who has not yet obtained a deed of his or her property must make a declaration proving that he or she is the holder of the last agreement of sale, and also that the current year's taxes have been paid. Notice to this effect is published by the Municipal Clerk elsewhere in this issue.

The beautiful silver cup put up by E. N. Rowley, and won by E. C. Graham in the clay pigeon shooting, has been greatly admired this week, having been on exhibition in the window of the jewelry store. Beside it is a shield of ebony and silver, which will be presented by Mr J. Rowley to the winning basketball club in the league series now being played.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. Notes From College Hill

Principal Everton returned from Winnipeg on Saturday evening, the 6th inst.

Mr M. Cunningham, one of last year's matriculants, arrived from Alberta last week, where he spent the vacation teaching. He will take the Commercial Course this year.

The most exciting basketball game of the season was played in the College Gymnasium last Friday evening against the Summerland team. The final result was absolutely uncertain until the close of the game. After much hard work the College secured the winning goal but a few seconds before time was called. The splendid combination work of both teams throughout the entire game was very evident, very little individual play was observed. The swiftness of the play at times resulted in roughness, but on the whole the play was clean.

The College team play their next game with the Wests on Friday (to-night) in the College Gymnasium.

The representative of the British and Foreign Bible Society paid a visit to the College on Monday, and disposed of quite a number of Scripture to the students.

$500 Per Acre Nett Profit.

As Result Of Intensive Farming In Okanagan Valley.

The Okanagan is a counterpart of the Italian Tyrol. It is pre-eminently the land of the cherry blossom, and its orchards and vineyards and honey and creamery products already rank with the best on the continent, but this great sunny land has only been born, says P. A. O'Farrell in an extremely interesting descriptive article on our fair Valley in a recent issue of the Vancouver Province.

After telling something of the Valley's very early history of how it narrowly escaped being a part of the U.S.A., and then suggesting that a canal be cut to re-unite the Okanagan and Shuswap Lakes, Mr O'Farrell continues: "In the Okanagan Valley they grow ten tons of plums to the acre, and more apples, cherries, pears and peaches than probably any other part of the world. There are few vineyards and no wine growers as yet in the Canadian Okanagan, but vineyards will supplant the peach orchards when the Italians of Northern Italy discover this for their ideal region."

MILLION FERTILE ACRES.

There are a million acres of land in the Okanagan Valley that will yield the choicest vegetables, dairy products, as well as delicious fruit and honey. The soil is rich beyond description, will grow corn and alfalfa as well as fruit, but it must all be irrigated. Great tracts and many a tiny plateau overlooking the lake can be watered by streams flowing down the mountains, but many of the trenches will have to secure water pumped from the lake. This can be done at a cost of $5 an acre per annum. The cotton planters in the Sudan along the Nile are paying $5 an acre for their water supply, and glad to get it for that. Here you can cut four tons of alfalfa off an acre of irrigated land, and feed hogs on it besides, and $5 an acre is a bagatelle under such conditions.

INTENSIVE FARMING.

I visited a little farm of 4 1/2 acres about a mile back of the lake, run by a little Belgian farmer and an assistant, to whom he paid $50 a month. The Belgian and his wife and little son lived in a neat cottage, and the orchards and gardens showed the wonderful effects of intensive cultivation. He grew corn fifteen feet high, and sold 100 quarts of milk daily the whole year round, and had all the butter, cream and milk he needed in addition for the family. He showed me his wonderful flocks of chickens, some prize Belgian breeds and Leghorns, and he told me how he marketed 9,000 eggs a month at 40 cents a dozen in Penticton. He grows enough hay and grain and vegetables on his tiny farm to feed five milk cows, prize bull, two thousand poultry, and his yearly crop of a hundred hogs.

PROFIT OF BELGIAN FARMER.

Not counting his own wages, nor the interest on the capital invested, this little Belgian farmer can show a yearly profit of $500 an acre, even with his present inadequate transportation. One hundred thousand such farmers settled in the Okanagan Valley on five-acre tracts could grow yearly $25,000,000 worth of butter, milk, cheese, pork, poultry, eggs, beef, fruit and vegetables for Vancouver or the prairie provinces. Vancouver gets most of those from the States, probably $10,000,000 worth, but with proper transportation Okanagan can monopolize the Vancouver market for all these commodities.

The wealth and prosperity as well as the charm and the greatness of British Columbia depend infinitely more on settling the lands of the province with two or three million of small farmers like this Belgian, than on any number of millions drawn to its cities by the higher wages paid by municipalities and by commerce.

The Italian or the Belgian with knowledge of intensive farming, who owns and cultivates four or

BUSINESS OF UNITED GROWERS.

Following up the review of the operations of the Central Selling Agency for the past season presented last week, the rough analysis by carloads below will be found interesting.

Up to the end of November the Central had shipped from the Valley 455 carloads of apples, 71 carloads of crabs, 7 of apricots, 9 of cherries, 47 of peaches, 12 of pears, 45 of prunes and 56 of plums, which, with other small items, make a total of 706 carloads of fruit.

Of vegetables the Central has marketed 32 carloads of cabbages, 7 of carrots, 15 of celery, 88 of onions, 116 of potatoes and 45 of tomatoes, making a total of 316 carloads of vegetables. In addition 65 carloads of hay have been sent out, bringing the grand total to 1,087 carloads.

Last year, at the close of the season's business in February the Central had handled 954 carloads of fruit and produce, this year's business already exceeding that of last by 133 carloads.

Wide distribution has been attained for the 1914 crop, 302 carloads of fruit and 48 of vegetables going to Alberta, 181 of fruit and 46 of vegetables to Saskatchewan, 34 of fruit and 14 of vegetables to Manitoba, and 76 of fruit and 6 of vegetables to the Coast. B.C. interior points took 16 of fruit and 49 of vegetables. Export shipments this year of fruit totalled 41 carloads, being distributed to the United States, South Africa, New Zealand, Australia and England.

Five acres of fertile soil along the lakes and rivers of British Columbia, will have all the employment he needs from dawn to dark. He can raise the choicest fruits and vegetables, milk and butter and poultry for his own table, and market enough to put a snug little sum in the bank. Such a farmer rooted to the soil, and content with his lot and happy in the ownership of his home and in the society of his family, his garden, and his trees and flowers is a far better guarantee for the future greatness and prosperity of a nation than even a university.

In a few convincing paragraphs the writer then proves the value to a nation of its "peasantry." He concludes with this appeal for assistance for the tillers of the soil. "I want to see every miner, railroad employee, woodman, and fisherman in British Columbia acquire four or five acres of land and build a cottage thereon, and turn that land into pasture, garden, orchard and meadow, intensively cultivated."

GREAT NEED OF MODEL FARMS.

It is the first and paramount duty of the British Columbia Government to bring about the settlement of the province by preparing such holdings for intensive farmers. The Canadian Pacific Railway is doing great work along these lines to develop its own lands and traffic, but the Government of Alberta is the only government in Canada that has yet paid any attention to promoting the growth and development of intensive farming in a practical and enlightened way. It is far easier to procure a million dollars for a courthouse that is not wanted, than to spend a thousand to establish a model cottage farm, such as my little Belgian friend is operating in sight of Okanagan Lake.

Model farms and intensive farmers are needed now a hundredfold more in British Columbia than high schools, professors or professional men. The professionals are overstocked, and the cities are overbuilt, but British Columbia needs millions of farmers of the intensive variety, and she also needs money to root them in the soil or to give them a start.

The forest, fisheries, and mines of British Columbia will in time yield fabulous wealth, but the pressing need of the hour and age is intensive farming. The wealth of the forest and the mine and the sea will come in due time, but it is monstrous to see British Columbia buying beef and butter from New Zealand, and eggs from China, while the most prolific garden and dairy lands in the world are untiled, or overgrown with stumps or woods.

Adverse Conditions Strengthen Cause Of Co-Operative Marketing.

Substance Of Review Of Season's Operations As Given Local Shippers By Manager Robertson, Of The Okanagan United Growers, Ltd.

Interesting Afternoon With Heads of Valley Organization.

With the exception of a few winter apples yet to be sold the Okanagan United Growers have marketed their entire crop. This cannot be said this year of many marketing agencies, either in Canada or the United States.

Further, the money has been collected for everything sold by the co-operative organization; some others will be till Christmas, 1915, making their collections.

Always, the highest market price has been obtained.

Compared with prices generally the returns have been satisfactory, while, when compared with prices to Washington growers, Okanagan returns have been eminently satisfactory.

Competition between Okanagan Valley marketing agencies has been the principal cause of reduced prices.

A much wider distribution has been given Okanagan fruit and produce this year than ever before.

Okanagan fruit in 1914 for the first time captured and held the Alberta markets.

A very satisfactory arrangement has just been completed for a large business in export apples next season.

These are some of the points emphasized by Mr. R. Robertson, Manager of the Okanagan United Growers Ltd., who met local shippers here on Wednesday afternoon.

Others from outside points who addressed the meeting were President J. E. Reekie of the O. U. G., Mr. J. L. Vicary, President of the Peachland local, and Mr. E. Traak, a prominent and successful fruit grower of Oyama.

Mr. G. J. C. White, President of the Summerland Fruit Union, occupied the chair, and addressed the meeting at some length. While admitting that some mistakes had been made during the season's operations, and great difficulties had been met with, the chairman stated that there were other organizations having difficulties, and in an expression of confidence for the future declared their determination to obtain the highest possible success.

Mr. White regretted the tendency of a number to hold back, always ready to criticize, but never ready to assist, waiting for those now carrying the burden to make co-operation a success when they would be ready to come in and share its benefits.

The season started with very bright prospects, but things have gone against them resulting in hardship for many. The same was true in nearly all places and in many lines of business. The point was now to learn how to turn failure into success. We are face to face with the fact that we cannot expect big prices in any year in the future, but we may get good prices. The aim should be to lessen the cost of production, first with the growers themselves, second by practicing economy at the local unions, and bringing down the cost of selling. Growing, packing, and selling must all be cheapened.

The present prospects are that a good portion, if not all, of the 10 per cent. retained by the Summerland Fruit Union will be returned to the growers. While not yet positive of this Mr. White expected that the packing charges would at least nearly cover all expenses. He declared the local Union had been as well or better managed as any in the Valley. Mr. White dwelt at some length on the question of by-products as a subject yet to be grappled with, and intimated that already progress was being made in the investigation of the possibilities in that line. He believed the manufacture of syrup, juices and jams and evaporating and canning should all be carried on together, and if taken up by the Unions could be the most economically operated. He asked the consideration of the growers in making public statements and rather resented remarks against the directors which had come to his ear, saying that all were in to help one another. He urged all to stick to the Union and see it through. Changes of policy were necessary from time to time, and some are now contemplated for next year. Precarious conditions on the prairies had caused many failures, and he was satisfied that the method pursued by the Central this year was the wisest one. The growers were getting more possession of the markets, and their brands were becoming much better known, particularly in Alberta, Vancouver and Victoria, where consumers were now demanding our stuff.

In spite of some shocks in the year nearly gone, both the Manager and executive of the Central were yet alive and not suffering from paralysis, was the declaration of Mr. Robertson who was asked to review the season's operations. In the meetings here last winter the question of doing away with broker and wholesaler had been discussed. It was finally decided to work upon the same lines with the understanding that connections be made with the grain growers' organizations. Mr. Robertson showed how several attempts had been made to accomplish this, but keener competition from Ontario had captured that market.

At the beginning of the season an arrangement was made with the brokers to handle Okanagan United Growers' stuff exclusively, and a similar deal had been made at Vancouver, and the season opened with great promise. Much commendation was received on the Central's rapidity of handling the crop, and the good prices obtained. The first snag was struck in cherries. A short strawberry crop across the line made it impossible to ship in car lots, and cherries were pushed in to make bulk. The result was that Okanagan could not get in on the market when the crop began. He tried to arrange with a Kelowna competitor to ship together in car lots, but though he even offered to let the competitor handle the crop he could not carry it through. It finally ended in cherries being consigned and meeting shipments of other Valley cherries in competition. The season's operations in peaches, though beginning well, was seriously injured by consigning and underselling. The outbreak of war made matters worse. Although there were not hard times on the prairies the people would not buy, and preferred holding on to their cash. The Central had not then consigned, but the market was getting worse. The apple crop was looking heavy, and shippers were making inquiries and offering consignments. With consignments in sight dealers would not buy. The United Growers had an exclusive arrangement with the Nash houses, and they were buying only from them, but one day two cars arrived from the Valley consigned to them. Nash's did not want consignments, but if consignments continued they would not buy. Realizing what was ahead another arrangement was entered into with the wholesalers to take the Growers' shipments on consignment, handling their stuff exclusively. In this way the Nash houses and the Scott houses were bound to handle only O.K. brand, and, said Mr. Robertson, "we got the distribution." He regretted the shutting out of competition, but it was his duty to take care of the growers he represented. Had he not adopted these tactics the stuff could not have been sold. There was, however, no one more bitterly opposed to consignment business than he. By that method the seller absolutely lost control of the price. It was equally unsatisfactory for the wholesaler and retailer. One retailer pleaded with him to endeavor to control the price, as on a consigned market one dealer has no idea of what his competitor is paying.

This season's experience had proven that it was impossible for grain growers' associations to suc-

A CHANCE CONTRACT.

The Municipality entered into a rather unusual and somewhat unique contract with one of our citizens the other day to do a much needed piece of public work. It looked like a case of venture but the risk was all with the citizen, he undertaking to make a satisfactory job or no pay would be forthcoming.

For a long time the road running south past the E. Garnett property, just north of where it joined the road running east from Peach Valley, has been inundated and practically impassable, in fact traffic has been diverted for some time, and the rural mail service interfered with. The condition of the road has been brought to the attention of the Council a number of times and estimates of the cost of draining have been made, and it is said the Council believed the water could not be drained off for much, if any, less than $1,000.

Mr. J. L. Hilborn, who in years past has had much experience in underdraining, drove over to the site and came back to the Reeve with a proposition, to make the place dry within two months for $50 or no pay. His proposition was immediately taken up, and as quickly he set about the work. In four days he had a culvert across the road, two feet below the former water level, and the water has completely disappeared.

His method was a simple one. Some distance off to one side he dug a hole seven feet deep down to a strata of sand and gravel. From this a box flume underneath the surface was laid back to the roadside, this flume having the cover raised by about an inch, permitting the water to flow in over the sides, the open spaces being protected with hay and similar material. A ditch was then run along the side of the road to lead into this, and a culvert placed across the road to carry the water from the other side. Quite a stream of water is being taken care of in this way and disappears instantly.

The Reeve on Tuesday expressed much satisfaction of the job. The re-opening of the road to traffic will be greatly appreciated by residents of that neighborhood.

cessfully handle soft fruits. Mr. Robertson then spoke of the recent campaign at the Coast, and in Calgary, where magnificent work was done in the marketing and advertising of Okanagan apples. Continued consignments in Calgary lessened the success there, as far as O.K. sales were concerned. Valley fruit was being consigned with instructions to re-consign to retailers, and the speaker said, it was a wonder the retailers were not instructed to pass the apples on to the consumers to take and eat them and pay what they liked.

The campaign at the Coast was under the personal supervision of Mr. Robertson, and before he would consent to undertake it insisted on his fixing the retail and wholesale prices. In Vancouver the public paid $1.50, the retailer $1.25. Central received $1.07, the jobbers paying $1.13, the difference being contributed towards expenses of advertising.

The Vancouver jobbers stayed with him nobly, as while they were paying $1.13 for Okanagan fruit they could have gotten American at 80c. to 85c. Two American jobbers were selling to the retailers at $1.

Mr. Robertson is confident that as our fruit becomes standardized we will have an increasing say as to the cost of production, and only as we can standardize can we dictate prices. The reason why the contract price fixed early in the season for export apples was reduced was explained, and Mr. Robertson also told of an excellent arrangement made for next year's exports. By going personally to San Francisco to meet the buyer he had been successful in making a deal which would mean 10c. per box better price. Of late matters got so bad across the line that a price of 35c. was being quoted Vancouver jobbers; this meant 67c. in Vancouver. This he considered unscrupulous, and appealed to Ottawa. He had been successful, through Mr. D. Johnson, Chief of the Horticultural Department, in having the anti-dumping clause ap-

Entries Were Few, But Proportion Of Prizes Taken High.

Following as it did immediately after the Summerland and Provincial Shows, the Penticton Poultry Show was not as well patronized by our local fanciers as it would otherwise have been.

Among those who exhibited were T. J. Garnett, Percy Holder, W. J. Beattie, D. Thompson, F. W. Steuart of Summerland and J. Aldridge of Naramata. The prizes taken by these were as follows:—

White Rocks—1st and 2nd cock; 1st and 2nd cockerel; 1st, 2nd and 3rd pullet; 1st and 2nd pen, and special for 2nd best pen in show; T. J. Garnett.

White Wyandottes—1st cock; 1st and 2nd cockerel; 2nd hen; 3rd pullet; 2nd pen and special for best bird in American Class; W. Beattie. 2nd cock, P. Holder. 3rd hen, D. Thomson.

Silver Spangled Hamburgs—1st cock; 1st cockerel; 1st and 2nd hen; 1st, 2nd and 3rd pullets; special for best male and female; W. Beattie.

Rouen Ducks—2nd duck, W. Beattie.

Rabbits—2nd, F. W. Steuart. From Naramata, A. H. Mulford's White Leghorns were awarded the Somerton Cup, for best pen S. C. White Leghorns, 2 specials, 2 firsts, 2 seconds and a third.

In Orpingtons, J. Aldridge took five specials; 20 firsts, 11 seconds and 9 thirds. One of his specials was for best male bird in show. His utility pens took 1st and 2nd places with White and Buff Orpingtons, Barred Rocks competing.

By the death of a cow of exceptional milking qualities H.G. Estabrook has suffered a loss of over $200. The animal was purchased in the north end of the Valley during the summer, and was milking daily from eighteen to twenty quarts. A sudden seizure, which lasted only about twenty minutes, brought about the cow's end, and a postmortem indicated some stomach trouble.

pled against fruit for the first time. This means an additional duty of 15 per cent., and now that we had gotten better protection against dumping of apples, he saw no reason why we should not get it on peaches also. In very animated terms Mr. Robertson declared that by sheer virtue of necessity the Valley has got to do away with internal competition (infernal competition, he described it). "If we cannot do that I don't know what the growers are going to do." Mr. Robertson then gave intimation that encouraging progress was already being made along that line.

To satisfy himself as to the reason why his organization had not gotten better prices, a number of questions had been sent to dealers from Winnipeg to the Coast, asking for impartial, confidential answers thereto. Summarized, these answers were that, up to the time of recent dumping, competition from Washington was nil. The Growers' worst competition was from Okanagan Valley in the form of consignments and cutting of prices. The question of what firm or firms are doing this, pointed invariably to one particular firm, a second sometimes being mentioned. Were our prices lower than our competitors? No. Based on a $600,000 crop how much more would we have gotten if no internal competition? These answers ranged from $60,000 to $300,000. One expert put it at $120,000. "Got together, this is your only salvation," declared the speaker. Declaring he was no pessimist Mr. Robertson said "we are going to do it, the tempo of our people is along that line."

Sparking of by-products Mr. Robertson said he had no illwill against the canners in the Valley, but indications are that we will soon have to operate by-products plants along with fresh fruits and conditions may soon be ripe for taking over some of the existing plants.

The splendid results that were accomplished by co-operation in Now

CHRISTMAS OF THE PAST.

ONCE MORE we approach what ought to be the happiest day in the year, and yet for many of us it will be only the culmination of a period of mean worries, heart-burnings, and unattained hopes. Is it necessary that we so debase it?

Consider the Christmases that are past. Are any of them sweeter to remember than those of your childhood? And is it the multitude or the value of the gifts you received that made them dear? On the wonderful morning that you remember so well, there may have been some pop corn balls and home-made candy, or an orange or two, or a pair of mittens, or a set of paper dolls. Perhaps if you were a boy, there was a pair of stilts that your father had made, or a sled; or if you were getting into young girlhood, a little traveling toilet case or a jewel casket, or a workbox. There was nothing elaborate or expensive; only simple things, most of which were home-made.

Your happiness was owing not to the events of the day, but to the spirit of it; to the rosy light of imagination that lay upon you, and the feeling of mystery that lifted the day to a height far above all others; the mystery of a benign presence that had been working to make you happy, and, unseen and unheard had entered the house in the night to leave its tokens of an unselfish love.

In the story of the wise men who came out of the East, the words are these, "And when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts." It does not say that they gave themselves up to repining over what they could not bestow or went about searching anxiously for some that they did not have, but only that from their treasures—the things that they did have—they gave simply and with love. And the world has called them wise.

The old fashioned Christmas, the best that the world has ever known—the only true Christmas—goes back more than nineteen hundred years, to Bethlehem of Judea. Let us restore and keep the spirit of it.

DON'T KILL THE CALF.

NOTWITHSTANDING THE FACT that there has been during the last twelve months a very large proportionate increase in the number of cows in the community, Summerland is yet a heavy buyer of butter. There is no doubt that both the quantity and milking quality of our dairy cows must be further increased before the local market for milk and butter is satisfied. We have made a good beginning. We have now, here in our community an excellent foundation upon which to build a good dairy herd. No doubt a number of the cows we have been purchasing have been disappointments, but many of them are excellent milkers. With these and pure bred sires purchased with the help of the Department of Agriculture on which to build, Summerland should in a short time be as noted for its pure bred dairy stock as it now is for its fruit and poultry. To accomplish this persistent effort with good judgment and business foresight must be exercised.

We read not long ago of proposed legislation in some of the States of the Union making it criminal offence to kill off calves. Were it within the power of our municipality to enact such a law it would be justified in doing so, and in any event each farmer should set it down for a law for himself for, though he may at first be put to some cash outlay, yet later he will be the richer as the possessor of a cow that will increase his earnings or an animal that he may sell at a good price for beef. The calves, either male or female, should not be destroyed.

To find pasturage for young cattle will seem to many a problem. A suggestion recently made by one of our citizens seems to completely overcome this difficulty, provided there are a sufficient number to take up with this scheme, and that is that a capable herdsman be employed and put in charge of the young stock in the extensive rangelands in the vicinity. A nominal charge of say $1 per month for each head should be sufficient. Added to this would be some additional outlay for winter care, particularly for the heifers, so that they may receive no check or set-back.

With the exception of a few fancy pure bred cows no further importations should be necessary. Let us now produce our own dairy stock, and increase the numbers as rapidly as possible by keeping every heifer calf. It will, we believe, also pay to keep the males to be later turned into beef, particularly if summer pasturage at a nominal charge can be provided.

BOOZE ADVERTIZING.

A fellow editor recently was called to task because he inserted an advertisement for a "booze" palace in his town. In his next issue of his paper he replied to his critics in the following style:

He says he confesses to the act, but assigns two reasons therefor: First, because he needed the money, and he got fifteen cents a line for it. Second, he desired to ascertain whether his esteemed brothers and sisters read his paper. Both his curiosity and cupidity have been satisfied. He had talked of the evils of intemperance, devoted much space to the religious and temperance organizations, given the preachers complimentary notices, but no intimation had ever been given that his efforts were appreciated or even read. Now he knows that they are, and concludes that while all classes of business men are permitted without criticism to do business with a saloon keeper the country editor isn't, he must be "holy," undefiled, separate from sinners, and keep himself from the world.

Oh, do not pray for easy lives. Pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks. Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle. From it you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of life which has come in you by the grace of God.—Phillips Brooks.

LOCALS.

Mr F. F. Hanington, manager of the local branch of the Commerce Bank, returned last Friday from his vacation trip to Ottawa.

T. Ramsay has recently had completed an addition of two rooms and a verandah added to the front and back of his house, and electric light has been installed through the entire house.

The Board of School Trustees held their final session for this year yesterday afternoon. Fuller particulars will be given next week, time and space not permitting of anything more this.

Mr David Lister, now in charge of the Okanagan Landing Mission field of the Presbyterian Church, came in on Monday night, and spent part of the week at his home here, returning to his field this morning. He expects to spend New Year with his family here.

ADVERSE CONDITIONS STRENGTHEN CAUSE OF CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING.

Zealand, financed by the Government, was instanced, and the speaker declared that when our people got down on the rock where they could go no further, that would be the time they can build up co-operation.

Mr J. A. Reekie, President of the Central organization, who was next called on, congratulated the Summerland Union on its representative at the Central. Mr White, he said, was an earnest, untiring worker, particularly in the interests of the soft fruit shipper.

Of the policy for the future he said there were various changes contemplated. He believed if the brokers and jobbers could be controlled that would be the cheapest method of marketing. If they cannot be then the Central must go to the retailer. His acquaintance with the broker and jobber had convinced him that though they were keen business men, they, almost without exception, were inspired with the spirit of fair play. We must cut down the cost of production, and they must cut down the cost of selling, so that the produce might be got to the consumer at no higher price than at present, and to yield the grower better returns. Mr Reekie suggested the possibility of cheapening the pack, and intimated that at least part of the crop next year would be shipped in baskets. President Reekie was very optimistic as to the possibilities of co-operation, urging that all the growers of the Valley stand together and their aim will be accomplished.

A very interesting address from the producers' point of view, and one which contained a number of practical suggestions for the grower was that of Mr E. Trask of Oyama, who had come here by request. His address was largely on the cost of production, and as Mr Trask had been a fruit grower for twenty-five years, eighteen in Wenatchee and seven in the Okanagan, and had kept accurate records, he knew whereof he spoke. Mr Trask urged patience on the part of the growers, telling them that conditions were not the fault of the agency, and he emphasized the necessity of eliminating competition. He advocated fixing the prices to the consumer and dealers.

Mr Trask's comparison of Wenatchee and the Okanagan was wholly in favor of this Valley. We have cheaper land, lower taxes, cheaper water, better conditions, better fruit, and get better prices. Some details of the cost of production were given by Mr Trask. On a ten acre plot he has 500 ten year old trees (and just here Mr Trask said that if he were younger and planting an orchard he would put but $6 to the acre), which yielded ten boxes per tree. Below is his record of costs on land costing $300 per acre:—

HOME TOWN TALKS.

Building good houses builds a good town.

A nice front porch has prevented many an old maid.

When someone plans to help the town, plan to help the plan.

The best plans a man can have for the future are house plans.

If you really love your home town don't flirt with the mail order houses.

Don't spend all your time telling what you could do if you had some.

A good way to make the world better is to begin with the home town.

A good town will do more to keep the boys at home than good advice.

If you think a cow can't laugh for joy let the lumber dealer sell you material for a silo.

A town is like a girl; it's a wonder what a little fixing up will do for it.

with the selling charges of the local and central the cost is .64. If sold at $1. f.o.b. he would have a profit of 36c. per box, or $175 per acre above all expenses on a crop from ten year old trees.

Mr Trask said he had no cultivation, advising that all orchards over six years old be put under clover or alfalfa. He has an additional revenue of $30 per acre from his clover. Of the cost of selling he said the Okanagan had the cheapest selling agency in the Northwest to-day. He urged that all box material used should be of local manufacture and believed the price could be reduced. The cost of packing here was higher than in the south, and he thought, too, that salaries could be reduced. He did not mean this to apply to Mr Robertson, who, he said, had gotten the growers better prices than any in the Northwest.

Mr J. L. Vicary, who followed, said the ground had been well covered by the other speakers, but he had come as representative of a neighboring Union to give words of consolation and cheer. Peachland was practically a unit, the Union handling the crop of that district. While disappointed, they believed the Central had done the best possible. As against a published report of returns received by growers in another portion of the South Okanagan, Mr Vicary quoted a list of figures showing gross and net receipts. He claimed that these returns were, under present conditions, satisfactory, and indicated economical management of the Peachland local.

The Central Agency is now in a position to assure further reduction on the cost of material. Black leaf, which has been costing $14, will this year be $9. The price of arsenate of lead has practically been cut in half, and Mr Robertson said they hoped to do better in boxes.

The Chairman, after thanking the speakers, asked that the growers consider what had been laid before them, and if they had any ideas toward improvements to bring them to the annual meeting that all might profit by their united wisdom, and bring their organization to the highest possible standard.

LINES BY THE BARD.

The following lines from the pen of Mr David Lister, were read at the St Andrew's Night Concert last week by Mr J. G. Robertson. Many friends, outside as well as inside the Scottish circle, will be glad to see them in print, and thus get further opportunity to appreciate them:

Your letter, John, has come tae han',
An' g'led I was tae get it,
An' I'll jist dae as ye comman',
I'm shair I'll no regret it.

A wee bit screed jist noo and' than
Aye helps tae bind thegither,
Sae gie's yer haun', an' cheer up,
man,
I lo'e ye like a brither.

Convey tae ilka Scottish lad
The greetin's o' their Bardie,
I hope they're weel.—I'm nae sae
bad;
Jist keepin' fine and hardy.

An' as aince mair ye meet an' spend
A lightsome hoor thegither,
May a' yer herts and spirits blend
Wi' love tae ane anither.

An' as yer thochts flee ower the sea
Tae Scotia's hills an' cairns,
Jist sing again richt heartily,
'We're a' John Tamson's bairns.'

Hoots, aye, an' what for no, my friends,
'We're Scotch, an' glory in it,
We'll sing a sang o' Scotia's scenes
—I hear ye a' begin it.

'For Scots, wha hae wi' Wallace
bled,'
Their country tae defend it,
Are still prepared their bluid tae shed,
Should ony try tae rend it.

The Kaiser an' his armies bold,
Wi' arrogance amazin',
Has filled the earth wi' scenes untold,
An' set the warl' ablazin'.

I ken yer herts are beatin' fast—
Yer een wi' fire are sparkin',
Ye hear afar the cannons blast,
The vicious war dougs barkin'.

Oor Scottish lads, frae near an' far,
Hae gaen, as bold as ever,
An' in the fiercest place o' war,
They'll fecht wi' grim endeavor.

A honor tae oor sturdy sons,
Wha duty's slogan hearin',
Are facin' up the German guns,
An' nocht on earth are fearin'.

A' honor tae the glorious dead,
We bow oor heids in sorrow,
For King an' country they have
bled—
Their spirit we would borrow.

Oor herts, in sympathy, gang oot
Tae those they've left behind them;
God will draw near, we canna doot,
Their bruises He'll upbind them.

Shall we no pray tae Him wha reigns
An' rules ower ilka nation,
That He'll remove those bloody stains,
An' send us His salvation?
I'll say nae mair—my hert is sair
O, God, gie a' Thy blessin',
May we, in walk as weel as talk,
Thy name aye be confessin'.

West Summerland intermediates won their last game on Friday evening from the College by the same score by which they overcame the Town the Monday previous, 16-14.

The game between the Wests and the College was just as close as the score indicates. It was anybody's game right up to the finish. B. Steuart secured first blood for the Wests, and K. Elliott replied for the College. Logie made his presence felt for the Wests all through, and had most of the baskets of his side to his credit at the finish. Logie and Pentland worked well together, at times like Trojans. Jennings showed up well for the College, and proved the star shot, and got able support from Elliott at centre. The game throughout was clean, lively play, and Referee Harvey Phinney did not have to use his whistle very often on account of fouls, which made the game a good one from the spectators' standpoint. The teams faced each other: Wests—B. Steuart, c., E. Logie and A. Pentland, f., C. Eisey and Higgs, g. College—K. Elliott, c., H. Jennings and L. Bent, f., E. Armstrong and W. Elliott, g.

In the senior game last Friday the College team secured the most decisive victory of the league series when they piled up an aggregate of not less than 28 points against which the Wests could only put up 7. By their victory the College boys step into the premier position in the league standing. This season the College have suffered but one defeat, and that was from the Wests. They certainly repaid the compliments last Friday, and the score would indicate with good interest.

The game was by no means as one-sided as the final score. In the first half the play was not noticeably uneven, and when the score showed 7-5 for the College, no one expected anything unusual would happen. But it did, for in the second half the Wests secured but one basket, while the College got no less than eleven, or at the rate of one basket about every two minutes. It was not till about five minutes after the interval that the College started in to get baskets on the wholesale plan, and it seemed as though their success demoralized the West's defence. Morelock and McLeod seemed invincible with their combination, and in the last part of the game gave an exhibition of how to play good ball. Dale also joined in and helped the College along with some good work. The West defence worked hard enough, but they seemed outclassed, and unable to stem the rush of baskets from Morelock and McLeod.

The West forwards showed up fairly well in the first half, but in the second they did not get very many chances. Harvey Phinney, refereeing, did not need to call many fouls, so that Charlie Steuart did not have much opportunity to run up the West's score with his true eye. The Wests got one point from fouls, and the College two. All the other points came from field baskets.

Spectators were present in fair numbers, and succeeded as usual in making a noise like a basketball game. The teams:—College—J. McLeod, c., L. Morelock and G. Dale, f., A. Vanderburg and C. Riley, g. Wests—R. Rae, c., C. Steuart and R. Darkis, f., D. Steuart and G. Fisher, g.

Two more games are dated before Christmas. To-night's game, when the College play the Town in the Men's Club is certain to be an exciting encounter, and will arouse a good deal of enthusiasm. If the Town win, the College will be brought down to a level percentage with West Summerland in the league. Next Tuesday, the College and the Wests meet again in the big floor.

There is a good opportunity for some citizen who has the interests of good sport at heart, to give some further encouragement to local basketball this winter by providing some kind of a trophy to add zest to the strivings of the intermediates. Mr J. Rowley has generously catered to the needs of the seniors by providing the attractive shield now on view in his store window, and if some one would kindly do likewise for the intermediates much would have been done toward the encouragement of wholesome local sport.

EMPIRE HALL, SUMMERLAND
Christmas Eve, Thursday, Dec. 24th.

ENGLISH Y COMING.

F. Stuart-Whyte's all-star English Musical Comedy Company, that clever Old Country show known as "The Versatiles" has been given the significant sub-title of "John Bull's Sons and Daughters" this season, because they have proven their allegiance to the Mother Country by answering her call for aid in time of war in a very substantial way. They are giving twenty per cent. of their season's profits to the war fund. This amount does not come from the public through the box office alone, but each member of the company has voluntarily given up ten per cent. of his or her weekly salary to help swell this amount.

The "Versatiles" are offering a new musical comedy, entitled "Scottie in Japan" and it has been acclaimed by all who have seen it to be the greatest success which Manager Whyte has ever brought to Canada.

Not only is the piece itself a triumph, but the settings and costumes are said to be superior to anything of like nature ever seen outside of London. The wardrobe of the Plover first part alone cost a small fortune.

There are twelve numbers in this part, and the costumes range from the period of the square-cut and powdered wig down to the modern and on to the futurist fashions of 1900. This portion of the program, which is given as a curtain raiser to "Scottie in Japan" is called "Past, Present and Future," and is alone worth the price of admission.

There are also twenty-four sure-fire songs hit scattered throughout the performance, including many of the newest military songs which have come into prominence since the beginning of the world war.

The "Versatiles" will appear in the Empire Hall, Summerland, on Christmas Eve, Thursday, Dec. 24.

OUR NARAMATA SECTION

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

The preceding week has been a very lively and busy one for the local Scouts, and they have had a number of opportunities to do "good turns" which were eagerly seized. Our much talked of concert seems ordained to be kept in the future, and no sooner do we seriously start rehearsing than some other thing pops up and all our well-laid plans go smash. We have been requested by the Naramata Unity Club to take part in their New Year's Concert, so we have started rehearsing for a short sketch, which is to be our part of the program. But cheer up, we have to give our concert yet. The week's program was as follows:

On Tuesday, Dec. 8th, inspection of troop by Scoutmaster Tait. Thursday evening a rehearsal of the sketch for the Unity Club Concert was first on the program, and the rest of the evening was devoted to practising the semaphore signals.

Saturday was the busiest day the Scouts have had for a long time, and we are quite proud of our afternoon's work. The Scouts offered to pile the two cords of wood outside the Unity Club for the ladies, and this offer was gratefully accepted. About one o'clock an urgent phone message was received at the Syndica House from Penticton that the wife of one of the men working away up on the railroad was sick, and requesting him to come at once. At first the Syndica people were at a loss as to how to get the message sent away up to the grade, but Scoutmaster Pitman came to the rescue, and promised to have the note delivered in record time. A Scout left town post haste with the note, and with successive relays by other Scouts the message was delivered and the answer received back exactly 54 minutes after the first boy had left. The older boys later proceeded to Dr Robinson's for their weekly First Aid meeting. The doctor has now practically completed the ambulance course, and in our next meeting we expect to start work on the missionary's badge.

Sunday morning the troop paraded to church in a body, and were warmly welcomed by Rev. J. I. Beatty, who gave them a very interesting talk on what a Scout's ambition should be. In the afternoon a number gathered in the club room, and spent a quiet time sitting around a warm stove, reading and talking.

The Naramata Scout Council, officers and troop wish to tender their sincere sympathy and condolences to the three brother Scouts who have so recently suffered the loss of their mother.

A SCOUT.

The Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Railways, was advised last week that the Kootenay Central, the new line affording connection between the Crow's Nest and the main line of the C.P.R. at Golden, which has been under construction for some time, would be ready for operation on Tuesday. The last spike was driven on Thursday last, at a point twenty miles south of Invermere. The Kootenay Central is 162 miles in length, and extends from a junction point with the Crow's Nest branch of the C.P.R., near Fort Steele, through the Windermere Valley to Golden.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Mr Bert Brooks of Penticton was a business visitor to town on Friday last.

Mrs R. C. Robinson spent a few days here this week a guest with her relations.

Miss Foster leaves in the morning for her home near Seattle to spend the Christmas holidays.

Dr and Mrs W. L. Robinson spent the week-end in Summerland, guests of Mr and Mrs W. J. Robinson.

A few interesting details of the card party held in the Unity Club hall on Thursday is held over necessarily till next issue.

Basketball enthusiasts appear to have been adding to their lists of followers judging from the good attendances at the recent practices.

School closed this afternoon for a two weeks Christmas holiday, when both teachers will enjoy a well-earned respite from the grind of the class-room.

A number of the local fruit ranchers, members of the Union, attended the meeting of the United Growers held in Summerland on Wednesday afternoon.

The young ladies in the dramatic class contemplate putting a play on the boards the 31st of Dec., under Unity Club auspices, to which event we are looking forward with interest.

A ratepayer is curious to know why the School Board of Naramata is purchasing coal for the school furnace instead of buying wood which this year appears to be much cheaper.

The thermometer still hanging round 20 degrees has resulted in providing a few small sheets of ice round town, affording immense fun for the boys and girls who delight to try on their rusty skates once more.

Intelligence has been received of the death of Mrs. Stiff, who, it will be remembered, was removed some little while ago to the hospital at New Westminster. The sympathy of the entire community goes out for the bereaved husband, who is left with a family of five children, ranging from four to fifteen years of age.

This is the time for subscription lists to be passed round; but the experiences of our Summerland friends in handing out their precious coin to a certain self-named philanthropist, presumably bent on collecting funds for suffering Europeans, should teach a lesson—"Charity begins at home" is a wise old proverb which we should do well not to forget.

NOW IN NEW HOME.

Mr S. B. Cash and Mrs Cash, his mother, have taken up residence in their new and spacious bungalow home on the benches, situated immediately north of Captain Languedoc's ranch.

The building, when treated to all the outer decorations of the painters' art, promises to be one of the largest and best equipped of the fruit lot homes.

The main part of the house has a total length of 42 ft., with a width of 30 ft., added to this width, facing the south is a long low-hanging verandah 10 by 34. The summer kitchen and a wood shed at the north and rear adds another 10 ft. to the width, and parallels the main body for 17 ft.

The structure rests on solid cement, and is provided with ample cellar accommodation, floored with cement.

The interior is finished with wall board which is said to have many points of superiority over the prevailing lath and plaster. A specially attractive feature is a finely built open fireplace built into the west wall facing the lake. This has an outside chimney, and is believed to be the best of its kind procurable.

The erection of a fruit ranch home of this character is a splendid proof of faith in the community as a place to live, a place to build a permanent home, and sets an example which it would be well if many of the absentee fruit lot owners would do well to emulate.

LITERARY DEBATE.

"Resolved that the co-operation rather than competition in trade would achieve more uniformly satisfactory results" or words to that effect, is the subject of a debate slated for the next meeting of the literary and debating society, booked for next Monday evening in the church basement. The speakers for the affirmative are H. J. Wells and another, while the negative is championed by J. H. Pushman and T. H. Boothe. The chair will be taken promptly at eight o'clock, so that it behoves all who would not miss any part of what will doubtless prove an interesting discussion, that they line up for their seats a little on the sunny side of eight o'clock.

UNITY CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.

The Unity Club gathering on Friday last, Dec. 11th, partook of a Christmassy nature, the spacious parlour being tastefully and appropriately decorated with holly and tastefully-made artificial flowers. The short program provided was in keeping with the season, the whole concluding with a totally new departure in the way of a Santa Claus stocking. A huge stocking, evidently intended for the fabled old lady who lived in a shoe. This stocking was found to contain a present for each member of the Unity Club—either present or absent—each wrapped in a separate parcel. Upon opening her parcel each lady found a tastefully made "lifter," but no two were exactly the same. This generous gift is chalked up to the credit of the hostess of the occasion, Mrs H. P. Davies, who was certainly deserving of the many congratulatory words of appreciation for her thoughtfully prepared entertainment.

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED BY RESPECTED COUPLE.

Mr and Mrs John Pushman celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding which event was solemnized in Osgoode Township in Russell County, Ont., in 1864.

Mr Pushman was for many years a prominent figure in educational circles, and can point with pride to many men now or till recently in the fore front of public life who were either classmates or schoolmates of his.

The event of the golden wedding was made the occasion of quite a family gathering. One son, Alex., journeying all the way from Michigan to be present to perform the "ceremony," he being a regularly ordained preacher in the church at his home.

The wedding supper, wedding presents, the toasts and jokes which followed all played their part in making this celebration one long to be remembered, and the first anniversary of its kind to be celebrated in our young town.

BOY SCOUTS ATTEND DIVINE SERVICE.

The Boy Scouts under their leader, Mr Pitman, made an impressive appearance last Sunday morning when they appeared in a body at church, occupying reserved seats near the front. The lads were assembled at their headquarters on Robinson Avenue and marched to and from the service in splendid style.

The address by Pastor Boatty was a thoughtful and suggestive one indeed. He reminded the boys of the pledge which every true scout takes—the vow of loyalty to God and the King—and reminded them that the principals of religion and patriotism embodied the very highest ideals of life and conduct, and that to be a scout in the truest sense of the word was no small matter. That the making of a life was a great undertaking, and made an appeal to follow the example set by a scout of many years ago—the example of the child Jesus, who at 12 years of age was found in the midst of the doctors of the law, both hearing them and asking them questions.

Capt. F. J. Languedoc is credited with having secured his quota of deer for one season, getting a fine buck recently. Others whose luck and good marksmanship favored them with success of late are H. Mitchell and Wm. Nuttall.

Newsy Paragraphs from PEACHLAND

Mr Fleming of the High School has moved into the Pollard cottage, lately vacated by the Misses Sharpe.

Rev. A. Henderson and family removed from their hill house to Walter Coasar's house on the lakeshore last week.

Mrs G. Mitchell and Miss Bessie Seaton are working hard to make the Christmas entertainment a successful one.

Rev. R. W. Lee of Summerland preached to the Union congregation on Sunday morning last. Rev. A. Henderson was in Summerland.

Miss Montgomery, late of the Incola Hotel, Penticton, was the guest of Miss Nancy Buchanan last week. From here she went to Vancouver.

Mr McLaren of Vancouver visited the High School in his official capacity last week, and was much pleased with the work of the pupils under Mr Fleming.

Although ill for a long period, extending over the summer and autumn, death came rather unexpectedly at the last to Captain Tewart, who passed away on Tuesday at noon.

The Misses Sadie and Nan Sharpe left for Vancouver on Wednesday morning. After spending a few weeks with friends there, they will go to California for the remainder of the winter.

The young people of the district spent a delightful evening at the home of Mr and Mrs Ed. Taylor on Friday last. Cards and dancing made up the program, which was much appreciated by the assembled guests.

Mr John Chapman and son, Harry, of Osprey Lake, passed through on Saturday morning for Kelowna. They were joined here by Miss Bishop, Miss Chapman and J. Flemming. The last named were quietly married in the Anglican Church there, by Rev. T. M. Greene. They returned to town the same day, and are living in Mrs Wingate's house for a few months, when they expect to sail for the British Isles. We wish them a life of unalloyed happiness.

The Ambulance League of Peachland, although small in number, is yet composed of many energetic workers who last week sent off to the head office of the Red Cross Society, Toronto, the following articles: 2 dressing gowns, 11 nightgowns, 9 suits of pyjamas, 3 hospital shirts, 10 pair bed socks, 10 pair socks, 16 pair wristlets, 6 pair mitts, 7 Balaclava helmets, 7 scarves, 1 belt, 1 dozen cheese cloth handkerchiefs. Into the pockets of the pyjama jackets, and some of the socks and mitts were placed a bar of chocolate and a Christmas card, the gift of Miss Bessie Seaton to our soldiers.

The annual sale of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid took place on Wednesday afternoon. The fingers which had been busy fashioning dainty articles to tempt the Christmas purchaser other years, were this year employed in the more necessary work of making articles for the comfort of our soldiers, consequently the sale tables were not so heavily laden as formerly, still there was a goodly array presented. This, however, had almost all vanished when the hour for serving tea arrived. The refreshment part of the program was in charge of Mrs Miller, who, with a number of willing assistants, kept the tables well supplied. In the evening's young friend, Mr Preston of Trempanior, furnished excellent music on the organ. The proceeds of the sale amounted to somewhere in the neighborhood of $50.

AN EVENING OF DANCING.

The dance conducted last Thursday evening under Unity Club auspices proved quite up to the mark, both in point of numbers, attendances, and the amount of genuine enjoyment and real fun.

The floor is one of the best in town and leaves nothing to be desired—except when there is too big a crowd. Dr W. L. Robinson provided much of the music, as did also Mrs M. D. Manchester and others.

Mr H. J. Wells, as floor manager, had his work cut out for him when the party swung into some of the old time quadrilles. But if any one can keep a bunch on the line and in time, probably our veteran, H. J. Wells can turn the trick.

Resuming Egg Export.

The Poultry Association are desirous of knowing how many eggs their members can now supply for export.

The officials in charge of the Show purpose closing the accounts at once, and would like that any outstanding accounts be rendered immediately.

HOCKEY UNDER WAY.

A meeting of hockey enthusiasts was held on Thursday evening at West Summerland to organize for the season.

Several suggestions for the season's activity were brought up and discussed, and it was decided that outside teams should not be altogether relied upon to provide games.

Membership to the club was fixed at 75 cents. The election of officers was left over till the meeting next Wednesday.

RETURN OF THE DEER HUNTERS.

The hunting season closed down on Tuesday last, Dec. 15th, and all the local hunters returned from the hills.

Mr. Anderson, railway contractor, and two friends each had a buck, while Mr. H. Grant and Mr. A. Moyes also returned home with one deer apiece.

Mr. Roger Tingley, in a ten days' trip secured two deer, and ranchers living in the mountains have not lacked venison.

Altogether the fall of 1914 has been a good hunting season, and a large number of deer, including some fine bucks, have been seen by Summerland hunters.

With close attention to the game laws, hunting round the Valley should remain satisfactory for many years, and with local rifle and miniature rifle ranges now flourishing, and a summer trap shooting club, Summerland bids fair to become an active sporting district.

Oliver Smith and E. N. Rowley are among others who have lately brought in antlered trophies.

The local Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters met in a social session in Elliott's Hall on Thursday evening, and with a few invited friends passed some hours very pleasantly with cards and music.

The members themselves provided the musical items, which consisted of songs, and instrumental selections on several different instruments.

During the evening, Bro. T. H. Bain, spoke interestingly on the advantages of the Order offered as a benevolent and protective organization.

Refreshments were also a prominent and successful part of the evening's entertainment.

The team belonging to O. Vaughan, attached to his delivery wagon, took a fast run on their own account back of town on Monday evening, making a little excitement for a short time.

In spite of the busyness that almost every household feels when Christmas is only a week away, a good number of ladies attended the afternoon tea held by the Ladies' College Auxiliary at the home of Mrs W. H. Hayes, on Thursday afternoon.

In some exceptionally heavy windy nights of past winters, it has only been with considerable difficulty that the boat has effected its evening landing here, and sometimes both boat and wharf have suffered more or less damage.

The future it is highly probable that the new government wharf at the south end of town will be utilized by the "Steamers" whenever a raging south wind coming up the lake makes it a difficult feat to swing the higher and longer boat round broadside to the wind, and into position without ramming the old freight shed.

The government wharf is much longer, and gives plenty of scope to effect a mooring. When Captain Estabrook deems this course expedient, two long blasts instead of the usual one will be the signal of the boat's approach.

WHY AM I DOING IT? Necessity compels me to make this sacrifice! I must keep going. Sales must be made even if on Agreements and for little cash. That little cash and a negotiable Agreement of Sale is worth much more to me now than it will be later.

A GOOD LIVING under pleasant conditions is a surety to the man on an Okanagan farm who begins right. Buy right, my prices make that a certainty. Notes From College Hill

W. M. Armstrong conducted the service of the Kelowna Baptist Church last Sunday.

Several new students have made application already for entrance at the commencement of the new term. They will be residents of Ritchie Hall.

The Christmas vacation will commence December 23rd. Classes will be resumed January 5th. The University Mid-year Examinations will also commence on that date.

The University students are planning to hold a College Reception in Ritchie Hall during the vacation. December 28th has been set as the date for the event. There will also be a number of basketball games during the vacation.

The basketball game played last Friday in the College Gymnasium between the College and West Summerland was a revelation. From the very commencement of the game the College team was fully determined to wipe out their last defeat. Throughout the entire game they worked an excellent combination with the result that the score totaled 28-7 before time was called. The College team play their next game to-night in the Men's Club.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Experience has taught that it is not the best plan to plant peach trees as "fillers" between the trees which are later to be the permanent occupants of the orchard plot. Experience has also proven the necessity of careful selection and limitation of varieties. Other mistakes have been revealed by the past years of experimenting. Okanagan farm land is as good an investment to-day as it seemed to be to our pioneers. When one can make his selection from the choicest land at the prices and terms now being offered by Mr. Jas. Ritchie in his bargain sale of farm properties as advertised in this number, there should be many buyers not only among those who wish to establish orchard homes but among experienced men who buy to improve and sell.

KALEDEN RAISES $200.

Excellent Work of Red Cross Society.

Kaleden, December 15.—During the past week the committee of the Kaleden Branch of the Red Cross Society has sent to the head depot a case of 76 garments and useful articles for our soldiers and the hospitals.

This is the second supply of such comforts and necessities that has left this district since this branch was formed on October 2nd. It is most gratifying to find that the small effort made by two or three in this neighborhood to render some aid to this world-famed, indispensable society, which is working so courageously and with such self-sacrifice in the midst of great danger and hardship; has grown to considerable dimensions, and has the good-will and assistance of nearly every family living south of Penticton.

At Vaseau Lake, The Falls, and Kaleden we have many enthusiastic and energetic workers, through whose assistance we have been enabled to send such quantities of first-class articles of clothing and comfort.

A short resume of what we have accomplished in this period may be of interest, and may induce some who have not already subscribed, to send a contribution for this excellent cause. We have to date collected $200. Of this amount $70 has been sent to Red Cross Headquarters, and the remainder has been expended in materials and wools.

The following articles have been forwarded to Headquarters:— 22 night shirts, 5 day shirts, 8 entoric jackets, 3 pyjama suits, 10 nightgales, 14 cholera belts, 10 wristlets, 5 scarves, 7 pairs socks, 32 sleeping helmets, 5 towels, 18 wash cloths, 7 down pillows and slips, bundle of old linen.

We still have much work out and more ready to go out to anyone willing to help.

On Wednesday last a most enjoyable At Home was given by Mrs. D. D. Lapsley to the Kaleden workers, of whom about twelve assembled at 8 p.m., and were ushered in by little Miss Grace Lapsley and Miss Margaret Tuppor, who represented Red Cross nurses, and looked very sweet in their white dresses and aprons, and red cross armlets—that emblem which is now so familiar to us all, and which when one sees one mentally salutes—as one does our beloved flag—for the great and honorable deeds its wearers have done on so many battlefields, and for the memory of those members who have been treacherously killed or injured while rendering aid to the wounded in this dreadful war.

As the guests assembled, each was handed an elder down sleeping helmet, and asked to complete it, and so well did they work that by 5 p.m. 25 helmets were finished. Then tea was served, when Mrs. Lapsley was assisted by Mrs. C. Hatfield and Mrs. R. Rourke, after which the guests passed through to the dining room where the work was laid out for inspection, the different articles made up into bundles of ten, tied with tape, and ticketed with number and size. Many appreciative remarks were heard as the packages were inspected; some especial words of praise were given to the excellent quality of the needlework sent in by our kind helpers at the Falls, and some pyjama suits made by Mrs. Findlay were greatly admired. After the inspection the guests, expressing their thanks for the pleasant time, passed out to the hall gay with Union Jacks draped on screen and table, on which latter was a red cross collecting box and which no one overlooked, judging by the amount it was afterwards found to contain.

We tender our hearty thanks to the Southern Okanagan Transport Co. for their kindness in carrying our numerous parcels to and fro, free of charge, also to the Kaleden Supply Co. store which has assisted us so willingly in many ways, and has furnished much of our material at cost price.

A practical demonstration and advertising campaign to promote the sale of apples is being undertaken by the North Pacific Fruit Distributors, in co-operation with established commission houses in the cities of the east and middle west. The campaign will extend over the winter. $1,000 towards the campaign fund has been subscribed by the Spokane Sub-central, and it is expected that other sub-centrals will contribute a like amount.

CHRISTMAS AND THE WAR.

Kaleden, December 15.—How different will Christmas Day of 1914 be from those merry, happy days of Christmas time during the past years of peace and plenty! Christmas Day this year will be a serious one to most, and a saddened one to many who have their loved ones at the war. It is—it must be—the wish of all to have this war soon cease; in such a way as to assure the peace of the world for generations to come; to do this it is positively necessary to send more, and still more men to the front, and to keep all our soldiers and sailors in good fighting condition, which can only be done by supplying them with good clothing, warm enough and in sufficient quantity to protect them from the rigour of this severe winter, which is said to be on the European Continent more severe than for thirty years. No man, however willing and brave, can fight when paralyzed with cold, or in need of medical or surgical attention. Warm clothes, doctors, nurses, and hospitals are furnished by the Red Cross Society as everyone knows, but where does this ministering society get its, where-withal to carry on its good work? Money is needed, much money, and assistance in making garments, or the society's efforts must cease, and then, what lies before those who have left us to fight to save our empire and homes! Death from wounds, from cold, from disease and from starvation! With these terrible realities to face, can anyone sit down in ease and comfort to enjoy Christmas, ay, even to feast, while so much suffering and need is appealing for alleviation? Each can do something to help, so let every one exorcise a little self denial this Christmas, and give a donation to the fund of the Red Cross Society. Even the children will willingly spare a few cents from their pocket money to help send comfort to their Daddy and big brothers.

Donations, small or large, can be given to the local branch of this society, if one exists, or sent to Israel J. Rubincovitz, Esq., Hon. Sec.-Treas., Red Cross Society, 220 Rogers Building, Vancouver, or to the Sec.-Treas. of the Auxiliary branch of the Red Cross Society at Kaleden, either of whom will see that they are used for the purpose intended.

Municipal Council In Last Session of Year

Balance of Debenture Issue will be Sold at Par.—The usual Monthly Budget of Accounts.

The last session of the Municipal Council for the year 1914 was held on Monday in the Council Chamber. In the absence of the Reeve, Coun. Blair was elected to the chair.

The business of the session was largely routine, principally the passing of the month's accounts.

Among the communications placed before the Council were: Certificate of Approval of the recent money by-law, and a request from the Inspector of Municipalities for an alteration in the style of the debenture; some correspondence with the K.V.R. officials with reference to enlarging and altering a flume crossing the railway near the reservoir. The form of alteration has not yet been agreed upon.

The Municipal Solicitor advised the Council not to entertain Mr Hall's claim for damages resulting from a recent driving accident.

The Inspector of power plants and lines wrote the Board requesting some alterations, as further precautions against accident, at the power house and on the electric light poles and lines. These include some high tension wires at the plant, raising the rack supporting these just outside the building, putting insulators in the guy wires of the poles, and in places better securing of the high tension wires.

A. Moyes sent in a claim of $100 for alleged damage to his property by leaking pipes. This was referred to the Board of Works.

The Clerk was instructed to ask for an extension of one year of the Municipality's Shingle Creek record.

The incoming Council will be provided with the necessary funds to carry on early spring work, so that there will be no delay because of lack of capital. A telegram received at the Municipal Office on Monday morning, practically assured a market at par for the $8,000 of debentures yet unsold of the recent $10,000 issued for water purposes. In addition there will be part of the $10,000, all of which is yet to come from Ottawa, on the Experimental Farm water agreement.

The notice of the Board was called to the unsatisfactory condition of the fluming of the south and west of his property by Rev. H. G. Estabrook. Mr Estabrook asked for immediate assurance that this would be made satisfactory, as on this depended his plans for the future. As the present Council could not make the repairs before their term expired, Mr Estabrook was advised to meet the new Council at its first sitting.

R. Mitchell was again given the privilege of cutting and selling the ice from the reservoir, the price to the public on the shore being fixed at $1.15 per ton, Mr Mitchell to pay the Municipality 80c. per ton for the privilege.

The Clerk reported that a recent change in the election law would materially reduce the number of voters; the list which he had just completed had practically one hundred names less than last year.

The following accounts were recommended by the Finance Committee for payment:—

Pay roll	$787.01
Summerland Supply Co.	19.10

After fixing the date of the public meeting, which will be held in Campbell's Hall, and of the nominations, the place being the Municipal Office, the Council adjourned to reassemble on January 4th as the Court of Revision.

SCHOOL CLOSING.

The closing exercises of our Central Public School have been interesting events, carefully prepared for, and eagerly looked forward to. The exercises took place in all the departments last Friday between 10.30 and noon. All the rooms were tastefully decorated with Christmas greens and Christmas bells, and in all, different programs were carried out, about seventy-five visitors dividing their time as well as possible among the different rooms.

In Form One a sedate program was carried out, consisting of readings, solos and choruses, one of the pupils acting in the capacity of chairman. In Form Two, the physical drill, nature study lesson, and the exhibition of drawing hung at the back of the room were specially attractive features.

In Form Three, in addition to choruses and recitations, some striking lessons in mental arithmetic, early Canadian history, and the geography of North America, were taken. The bright answers given by so young pupils were worthy of special praise.

The primary room was, however, the centre of attraction. Here the drilling and choruses of over forty children were, one ventures the opinion, the most remarkable ever seen in Summerland. There seemed no single lapse of memory on the part of any.

At noon, the massed school, in the spacious hall sang spirited patriotic songs, then dispersed to their separate rooms, where candies and oranges were distributed before the final break-up of the year.

At the Town School the pupils were given a most enjoyable day by their teacher, Miss Lister, the afternoon particularly being a season of pleasure. Between 11 and 12, during which the parents were invited to be present, an exhibition of school work was given, reflecting much credit both on teacher and pupils. A number of mothers were also present, during the afternoon to watch the little ones in their games and hear their songs and enjoy with them the merry refreshments of sweets thoughtfully provided by the teacher.

OBITUARY.

SENATOR KIRCHHOFFER.

Mrs. James M. Sutherland received yesterday the very sad news of the death of her father, Senator Kirchhoffer, in Ottawa. For some years the Senator did not enjoy the best of health, but throughout the past year he was considerably stronger and better, enjoying frequent fishing and shooting trips in Quebec and Manitoba, consequently his unexpected death is a great shock, and creates much sadness in many homes in Summerland, where he was well and popularly known.

Senator Kirchhoffer, with Sir Thos. Shaughnessy and Mr J. M. Robinson, were the founders of Summerland, and perhaps no man in Canada had a more optimistic and abiding faith in the Okanagan than the Senator. Almost every summer since 1902 he has visited the Valley, and in 1913 he and Mrs. Kirchhoffer spent about three months on his fruit farm here. Summerland has lost in the Senator a good friend, and Canadian one of her best known and highly esteemed citizens.

For some years the deceased was a member of the Manitoba Legislature, and for the past twenty-two years a member of the Canadian Senate. He was a good entertainer, and did much to introduce and welcome to Canada many distinguished guests. Our present king, while Prince of Wales, was entertained at the Senator's shooting lodge in Manitoba as well as our Governor-Generals, and many other eminent British visitors to Canada.

The many friends here extend to Mrs. Kirchhoffer and her daughters their profound sympathy in their great loss.

Know all men by these presents — (Christmas presents) — that the milk of human kindness is still sweet.

It really requires a marvellous amount of tact to appear thankful at Christmas for something you don't want.

Fruit Marketing.

Experience has shown that, except in the larger cities, plums are preferred in prune crates. The four-basket market is limited, and it is probable that next season only the best dessert plums will be shipped in the latter package. The eleven quart basket, such as is used in Ontario so extensively, may be adopted in this Valley for plums, prunes, sour cherries, etc., according to information gleaned at last week's fruit growers' meeting.

Another matter discussed at that meeting mentioned in these columns last week, was the manufacture of by-products, which is being investigated. Some of the problems to be solved refer to the location of the manufacturing, whether they will be purely local, run in connection with the local packing house and managed by the local Union, or one or two plants to take care of the Valley and be operated by a representative organization, possibly the Central Selling Agency. But a probably more difficult question to decide is where the money will come from to buy or erect the plants and provide working capital. It would seem that Government aid would be necessary.

HOCKEY MEETING.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of hockeyists was held at West Summerland on Wednesday night when a local league was formed and other details arranged for the season's activities.

The following officers were elected:—

- Hon. President Dr. Andrew
- President Dr. Thompson
- Vice-President G. L. McWilliams
- Manager D. Rutherford
- Captain Ross Rae
- Treasurer H. C. Howie
- R. Taylor and M. Cunningham

with the above mentioned compose the executive committee. A schedule of games is being drawn up for three teams, West Summerland, Garnett and Prairie Valley, and the College and Town. The first game is to be played on Thursday, December 31st, at 2 p.m. between the first and second teams on the list.

R. G. Tait is captain of the West Summerland team, R. Tingling captain of the ranchers team. The captain of the third team has not yet been appointed.

School Bd. Meeting

The 1914 School Board held its last session on Thursday of last week, with all present except Trustee Caldwell.

There was very little business outside of the examining and passing of the monthly accounts.

The Board were advised that Principal C. W. Lees had accepted the principalship of the Central School, and would be on hand for the beginning of the term.

Some little needs in connection with the heating of the High School and Town School are to have immediate attention.

On motion an order was drawn on the Municipal treasury for the amount of the following accounts:

Teachers salaries	$625.00
Secretary	10.00
Janitors	33.00
Conveyance contractors	137.20
G. N. Borton	23.40
G. R. Hookham & Co.	39.00
Sundries	19.04
Total	$877.64

The Board then adjourned to meet, if necessary, at the call of the chair.

ICE CARNIVAL.

There are probably few in Summerland who have any first-hand knowledge of the making of maple syrup candy or sugar. An opportunity to see something of this as it is carried on in the maple groves of Quebec and New Brunswick will be given at the ice carnival announced elsewhere in this issue to be held on Tuesday evening next at Parkdale rink. Perhaps even better, samples of the product of the sugar maple will be distributed free to the patrons of the rink on that evening.

There is now an excellent sheet of ice at the Parkdale rink and everything possible to make the evening one of pleasure for the skaters is being undertaken by the management. Full particulars of the carnival will be found in the rink ad in our advertising columns.

An endeavor will be made not to interfere unduly with basketball. Several devotees of that game were present, and it is likely that some arrangement will have to be made to avoid a clash between the two games.

Christmas 1914: New Year 1915

CHRISTMAS TIME is the time of all the year when every one feels the spirit of good cheer within them, more or less. Some hold that the festivities of the Yuletide, and the customary exchange of friendship's wishes in tokens, should be curtailed on account of the overhanging war cloud, but surely every one can make it plain that they have the Empire's burden at heart, and still keep up something of the Christmas spirit? We could be gloomy, but would we not weaken ourselves?

SO WE FEEL it is not out of keeping with conditions of the time to give all our readers, advertisers, customers and patrons in any form the wish that this present Christmas may not be any less to-be-remembered than those of past years, and that the New Year of 1915, if it does not open with prospects of a rosy hue, may later bring its measure of success and prosperity.

IN COMMON with every other business we have felt the pinch of "hard times." But when large institutions, apparently trusted and tried, have gone to the wall, we feel that there is still plenty for which to be thankful. If our town were in ruins from German shells, our men killed and wounded in the fighting line, and our women and children centred as homeless refugees, we would have real reason to be doleful. But as it is, we are a part—small it may be—of a Dominion whose duty it is to help buoy up the Mother Country when so much rests upon her, and we can do that best by keeping cheerful and hoping and striving for the best.

And so—

A Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year to All.

NOVEL BASKETBALL GAME.

Fired by the spirited basketball games which the young fellows of the district are playing in the league series, some of the older men have been come desirous of making it clear that although a good many winters have passed since they were in the prime of their "young days," they have still enough energy and "go" to play basketball, and are not too old to break into the game. Consequently two teams of five lined up for a game in the College Gymnasium on Wednesday night representing the married men of the Town and West Summerland district respectively. These teams were:

- West Summerland Town
- T. Ramsay centre J. Lawler
- D. Thompson for. C. McCutcheon
- A. Rutherford W. R. Shields
- G. Hookham guard C. N. Borton
- A. B. Elliott G. N. Gartrell

The play was strenuous enough, even if there was not strict adherence to the established rules of the game. Referee John McLeod was very lenient, as perhaps like some of the spectators, he was laughing so hard, and unable to blow the whistle just when it should have been blown. The game seemed at times to combine several kinds of sport. A start was made on basketball, and then the game would seem to merge into association football, on into rugby, and sometimes into catch-as-catch-can wrestling before basketball would appear again.

There were not very many spectators, other happenings conflicting with it, but what few there were enjoyed the laugh of their lives. Some of the players may work hard every day, but on Wednesday a few of them, put in the most strenuous time they have known for long. A. B. Elliott put tremendous energy into his game, and for staying power would put many a younger man to shame. Messrs. Thompson and Ramsay got most of the points for West Summerland. W. R. Shields was the husky mainstay of the Town team, who were unfortunately enough not to get any score. West Summerland won by 10-0. It was certainly a moving sight to see some of our staid business men become young again, and it is to be hoped that the game did the players as much good as the spectators.

A small admission was charged, and the proceeds were to go to the benefit of the hospital. A second game is to be played next Wednesday night in the Town Gymnasium, and is likely to become more widely known, and so attract a larger crowd. Everybody should be there and see the old fellows become boys again.

POSSIBLE CANDIDATES.

Very little is yet being said on the street or among the groups of citizens who regularly gather for a chat as to the probable composition of the 1915 Council. There is, according to the present outlook, sure to be at least two new faces about the Board next year, both Reeve Ritchie and Coun. Stark having stated emphatically that they cannot offer for another year.

The names of two citizens have been mentioned as possible successors to Mr Ritchie, those being Mr Logie and Coun. Blair. Mr Logie was heard to state emphatically that he would not accept nomination. It is believed that Mr Blair will serve if requested.

The only one yet proposed as a successor to Coun. Stark, that has come to the notice of the Review is Mr R. H. English. If Mr Blair accepts nomination for Reevehip there will be a vacancy in his ward to fill, for which Mr H. C. Moller has been proposed. The name of Mr J. R. Campbell has also been mentioned in this connection.

SMASHING RECORDS ON TUNNEL.

Construction records are being broken by the contractors for the great Roger's Pass tunnel, which is likely to be finished many months before the specified time. In November, 815 feet of the pioneer tunnel was run, the best previous boring for 30 days having been 800 feet. Two-fifths of the pioneer shaft has already been driven.

Royal Commission on Provinc' Agriculture

Summary of Important Recommendations.—Among other things Adviser Wider Co-Operation.

The full report of the Royal Commission on Agriculture, appointed on December 4, 1912, under the Public Inquiries Act, has just been issued from the office of the King's Printer, Victoria. It is a very voluminous document, and upon the recommendations contained therein will be based the bill which, it is understood, will be presented at the forthcoming session of the Legislature.

The commission was composed of Mr W. H. Hayward, M.P.P., of Duncan (chairman); Mr Alexander Lucas, M.P.P., of Vancouver; Mr S. Shannon, of Cloverdale; Mr Wm. Duncan of Comox; Mr J. J. Campbell, of Nelson, and Mr J. Kidston of Vernon.

The full report now published is divided into two parts, the first dealing briefly with the findings and recommendation which were presented at the last session of the Legislature; the second part supplies more details of the information obtained which influenced the findings and recommendations, and other particulars bearing upon the subject of the inquiry.

Some of the more important conclusions arrived at are:

That it should be the duty of the organizers under the commercial branch of the Department of Agriculture to conduct educational work in the different districts in the direction of co-operation, and to advise the proposed agricultural credit commissioners on the feasibility and soundness of any proposed scheme.

That an advisory board of agriculture, consisting of nine members, be created; that with reference to marketing and co-operation three should be established a commercial branch of the Department of Agriculture.

That the Minister of Agriculture be relieved from the charge of any other department.

That it is desirable to promote co-operation among the producers and also among the buyers of agricultural products.

That the Government adopt a system of direct agricultural credit on the lines of the system in force in New Zealand.

That, as another means of attracting to the province a very desirable class of settler, viz., lads and young men intending to become agriculturists and with means to do so, government training farms should be established, in which fees sufficient to cover the cost of operation would be charged.

That systematic experimental work be done by the government in land clearing.

That registration and licensing of all persons, companies or corporations doing real estate business in the province, and the furnishing by them of bonds, would tend to reduce the evil of real estate misrepresentation, and would certainly be of service to injured parties in obtaining redress.

That, at as early a date as possible, improvements on farm lands be exempted from taxation, and that the basis of valuation of land for taxation purposes be made as nearly as possible the price that a willing purchaser would pay for if the land were in a state of nature.

Each year there is presented at Ottawa a number of bills asking for new railway charters and the extending of already existing charters of proposed lines. Among the latter recently presented are several relating to the Okanagan and southern B.C. The K.V. Railway, according to recent announcement, will apply for an act extending the time within which it may construct a line from Vernon to Penticton via Kelowna, and another from Penticton to Osoyoos Lake at the International Boundary. Other extensions asked for by this company cover lines running to coal areas out of Princeton, and from Grand Forks up the north fork of the Kettle River. A line connecting Midway and Hadley, and another Penticton and Nicola, are also mentioned in recent reports of desired time extensions.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1914.

CHRISTMAS ALL YEAR.

A SPIRIT OF GENEROSITY pervades the Yuletide atmosphere. It is known and practiced at no other season of the year as at Christmas. It is felt in every city, in every town, in every village, in the entire country.

People are prone to be more thoughtful. Men manifest desires to spread good cheer; women weave little acts of love, kindness and devotion into Christmas good will; children cherish their companions and fortunes. Persons unconsciously instill into each other a desire to distribute happiness everywhere. It all comes on the wings of that indefinable thing understood by few, but referred to by many as the Christmas spirit. It is invisible, but can be seen; it is not material, but can be felt. It comes every Christmas, but too often leaves to return perhaps next year, when the real holiday spirit again is felt.

Why does this fellowship of love and good will depart from the souls of so many persons on the wings of time? Why does not the same spirit remain in the atmosphere after men again assume their routine of work and women become normal after their Christmas cares and worries?

Would it not be a good thing if this same Christmas spirit could continue throughout the twelve months of the year? Would it not be an excellent thing for mankind if all stopped to think of others as they do during the Yuletide season, if all endeavored to fill the lives of their friends, acquaintances and the less fortunate with good cheer and happiness throughout winter and summer, spring and autumn?

Try this for next year. Make it one of your resolutions, and if one resolves to do all in his power to make others happy throughout the entire twelve months no other resolutions will be necessary to assure one of happiness. After all is said and done the only real happiness is derived from making others happy.

THE GROWERS' ONLY HOPE.

THERE IS some sound logic in an editorial which appeared in the columns of the Vernon News last week under the heading of "Marketing Fruit." The article reviews the situation as the Valley fruit growers now find it, and the final conclusion laid down is that the co-operative principle, properly worked out, is the only salvation for the fruit grower of the Okanagan. "Confusion worse confounded" is what would result if the co-operative marketing system now being worked out were discarded. This contention the News sets forth as follows:—

"We feel certain that if this plan were dropped to-day we would all, within a few years, be shouting for its re-establishment. The details of its working out may be and must be subject to improvement, but if co-operation cannot bring the producer and the consumer closer together—and therein lies the crux of the situation,—then all other plans for effecting this result seem hopeless. Of course, our present system of co-operation is, at its best, only a very partial one. As long as there are so many independent shipping concerns entering into ruinous competition the unions are faced by a difficulty of an extremely serious nature, which one can only hope that time and bitter experience will eliminate. Private enterprises have every right to operate as they see best. But self-interest will sooner or later bring some at least of these concerns to welcome a measure of co-operation that will do away with the cutting of prices, even if they do not desire to merge their identity with the unions who operate in their respective districts."

Farther on the News discusses some of the criticisms that have been aimed at the Central of late—high salaried officials, heavy local union charges, expensive and incompetent Central Agency, etc.:

"We are not prepared to say what degree of blame—if any—attaches to the management for the unsatisfactory returns received this season. We do not know whether any man or men could have done better, under the circumstances, than Mr Robertson and his associates. But it is only fair to them to state that the policy they have pursued is one that was mapped out and decided upon at the beginning of the year by the general executive of the unions. That conditions in the prairie markets, caused by short grain crops, general financial depression, and the outbreak of the war, would cause selling by consignment to the extent that has been the case was not expected, and no effective preparations to meet such conditions could be foreseen and effected by the most shrewd observers. There are times when every form of business and industry is confronted by adverse conditions. The troubles of the fruit grower are by no means peculiar to his particular occupation, and his position in the Okanagan is a good deal better today than that of the man in the same line of business south of the line. We are convinced that along the lines of a well conducted and comprehensive system of co-operation still lies the best hope for the future. Our faith in the soundness of this plan has not been shaken even if, so far, the results have fallen far short of our hopes and expectations. To forsake this scheme now would throw the whole business into a condition of chaos. To continue the system and work unitedly for its extension and betterment in details is, we believe, the only sane course to pursue."

SEVENTY PER CENT of the country to our south is now under prohibition.

Fifty-one per cent. of her ninety millions of people live in prohibition territory.

There is now before Congress a resolution calling for the immediate submission for ratification an amendment to the constitution, prohibiting the manufacture, sale or importation of liquor within the borders of the United States and its dependencies. It is generally believed that the resolution will carry, and, says one authority; "this is acknowledged by the liquor men themselves." The National Liquor Dealers' Journal says in part "to us there is a handwriting on the wall, and its interpretation spells doom," and again, "there are millions of dollars involved, but when the people decide that the truth is being told about the alcoholic liquor trade the money will not count."

Both College teams went under in their games with the Town last Friday, and the feat of the Town seniors was especially gratifying in view of the fact that their league percentage was badly in need of an upward boost. There was the customary fair turnout of enthusiastic spectators, who had plenty of good play to follow, and so did not lack excitement.

If the shooting had been a little more accurate in the intermediate game, the score on both sides would have shown higher, perhaps for the Town more than the College. H. Bristow appeared at guard for the Town sending R. White up forward in the place of C. H. Sismey, whose sprained finger put him up in the gallery with the spectators. In the first half the score was 6-1 for the Town, but the College made a spurt right after the second start-off and brought their score up to five before the Town began seriously to push their figures up. The scoring closed at 14-7 for the Town. The College made three of their points on fouls, and two field baskets completed their score, one from Bent and the other from Elliott. The Town baskets came from White and Clay who secured one each, and Angove three, as well as the rest on fouls. Armstrong was a hard worker on the College defence, but the Town got a good many shots at the basket which were hard luck misses. Edward Logie had charge of the whistle, making a satisfactory referee. The teams—

W. Angove	for. Jennings
R. White	gd. L. Bent
F. Williams	gd. B. Elliott
H. Bristow	gd. E. Armstrong

The senior game was one of the best. Always clean, there was enough good play to make looking on a pleasure. The Town made a slight change in their line-up; J. F. Glenn playing guard in place of Harvey Phinney who went forward. At the finish the score stood 22-16 in favor of the Town. Cliff McWilliams was the star shot for the winners, opening the scoring and finding the basket several times afterwards. C. Lavis and H. Phinney also got points, while Glenn though playing guard found opportunity to get in some good shots from a distance and was successful in finding the basket. He also put most of the fouls to good account. Morelock was in good shooting form for the College; Ilkewlee John McLeod and M. Cochrane. The best basket of the game came from McLeod in the second half from the side down near centre. There was some good combination on both sides, the Town showing a marked improvement in this respect. The College work at times was certainly good to the eye, and if the Town had not been playing up to their best, they would not have been able to hold on to the right end of the score. Edward Logie also had charge of this game, and the teams were—

Town	College

C. Lavis	for. L. Morelock

On Monday evening the College teams reversed their fortunes of the previous Friday against the Town, and when they met West Summerland the boys from the hill top took the honors in both games. This fixture had been scheduled for Tuesday night, but by mutual agreement was played off a night earlier for the convenience of some who intended to take in the Quadrille Club Dance on Tuesday.

The College seemed to have slightly the advantage all through the intermediate game. Their team was greatly strengthened by the presence of Murray Cochrane among its forwards. He was quick and elusive, and got to the basket no less than five times from the field. Jennings and K. Elliott wore the other College scorers. For the Wests Logie had three baskets and a foul to his credit the close, and Mumm and B. Steuart got the rest of the points between them. 19-14 were the final figures on the indicator. The game was good, and fairly fast, and it seems that all the intermediates are playing better ball than at the first of the season. John McLeod had the whistle, and the two teams were:—

College	West
Jennings	cen. W. Mumm
M. Cochrane	for. B. Steuart
K. Elliott	gd. E. Logie
B. Elliott	gd. Higgs
E. Armstrong	gd. C. Elsey

The score the College got in the senior game is the highest in local basketball that has been obtained for some time. In their previous game with the Wests the College ran up a good total of points when they got 28, but on Monday they outdid their own record and got on the right end of a score of 35-15. In the first twenty minutes the Wests seemed to hold their own well, so well, that at the interval they led with the score at 13-12. The Wests watched the College combination and the game was as close as the score—first one side would get a basket or two, and get into the lead, only to be overhauled and lose it very soon afterwards.

After the interval the College showed up with a piece of strategy that nonplussed the Wests completely. The team was reversed in position, the guards playing forward and the forwards going back to the defence. This change threw the Wests all out of gear, and the College collected 23 points in the last twenty minutes as against two by their opponents. The Wests were further handicapped by having to lose Ross Rae, their centre, whose injured instep gave out soon after the restart, W. Mumm replacing him. Rae had been playing a sterling game, and the team felt his absence. All five of the College team had baskets to their credit, Morelock five, and five points from fouls, McLeod also five, Dale and Riley two baskets each, and Vanderburg one. For the losers Ross Rae got four baskets before he had to quit, and Darkis secured three, the other point coming from C. Steuart on a foul. Edward Logie refereed this game. The two teams were:—

College	West
J. McLeod	cen. R. Rae and W. Mumm
L. Morelock	for. C. Steuart
G. Dale	for. R. Darkis
C. Riley	gd. D. Steuart
A. Vanderburg	gd. G. D. Fisher

The one fixture remaining before the New Year is on Monday when the College in their own gymnasium meet the Town. It would make the league table more interesting if the Town seniors could annex the game, and they will make the best efforts to get it, but since in the last two games in their own gymnasium the College boys have piled up not less than 65 points, no prophecy will be safe.

Christmas Services.

The Baptist and Methodist congregations in the lake section of the town joined forces last Sunday night in a united Christmas service. It was held in the Baptist Church, and the roomy building was well filled by worshippers who enjoyed all the pleasure and satisfaction that a hearty devotional service can give. Familiar Christmas hymns were sung, and an exceptionally strong choir from both churches rendered special music. This consisted of two hymns given as choir selections, a prayer response, and the well known "If With All Your Hearts" from "Elijah," Rev. N. McNaughton's sermon was earnest and thoughtful, centering round the Christmas thought of how the coming of the Prince of Peace had brought "a great light" to the people who had "been in the darkness."

Another Christmas service was held in St. Andrew's Church, where Rev. R. W. Lee conducted worship. His sermon directed questioning to the justification for the celebration of Christmas at this time when there seems to be such a flagrant violation of Christian principles going on, and a direct antithetical feeling to the Christmas spirit of peace and goodwill among men seems embodied in the war. Special music was also a feature of this service, solos being rendered by Mrs. J. H. Lee, "O, Rest in the Lord," Mr. J. H. Lee, "Incline Thine Ear," and Mr. J. O. Smith, "Nazareth," and also a duet by Mr and Mrs Lee.

LITERARY SOCIETY'S INTERESTING PROGRAM.

The debate on the subject of co-operation versus competition on Monday night at the Literary and Debating Society was spoken to by the two leaders, Messrs H. J. Wells as leader of the affirmative, and Mr J. H. Pushman as leader of the negative. Each speaker occupied his time limit of twenty-five minutes. The discussion will be continued and possibly concluded at the meeting in January.

Mr Wells spoke as a man speaks who is chock full of his subject, and absolutely convinced of the righteousness of his cause. These two factors, coupled with the fluency of the speakers, made the twenty-five minutes seem like a trip on an airship across the lake to Summerland. As Mr Wells' socialistic views are very pronounced, his arguments against the competitive system in trade are clearly pronounced, and those who can successfully combat his arguments will surely have to "go some," as we say out west.

Mr Pushman, though making no pretence to any special debating talent nevertheless had prepared a thoughtful campaign of opposition to the principle of co-operation, and a logical defence of the present competitive system. He showed how admirable the practical working out of the present plan was, and when the bell rang he was apparently decently warmed up to his subject.

An interesting three numbers to the program on the occasion of Monday night's literary was provided by the Boy Scouts, under the direction of one of the Scout Council. The first was a well rounded little speech by Ralph Boothe, better known as "Phimmie," a nine year old tenderfoot, who set forth three very good reasons why he became a Scout, in which he concluded with a tribute to the good leadership of the local Scoutmaster, Harry Pitman. The conclusion of the speech was made by the troop adding emphasis to the sentiment by singing "For He's a Jolly, Good Fellow."

Arthur Stiff next followed with a regular whirlwind speech on "What the Scout Organization Is, and What Benefit It Has Done Us, Right Here in Naramata." After touching briefly on the origin and aims of the Scouts, the young lad recounted rapidly the large amount of useful knowledge in First Aid, patrol work, and training in habits of obedience and order, concluding with an invitation to any parent with boys from 10 to 11 years of age to bring them along and have them join the ranks of the local troop.

The last number was a Christmas recitation, pronounced by Frank Hughes in a creditable manner. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

W. A. Robinson of Summerland spent the week-end with friends on this side of the lake.

Miss Whitworth spent part of her holiday season at Lakeview Ranch as guest of Mrs E. H. Hancock.

Miss Gwen Robinson was up to "Rekadome" ranch over Sunday, as guest of Mrs Carroll C. Aikins.

Mrs Hughes and Mrs Noyes spent Sunday afternoon and evening on the benches, guests of Mrs T. H. Boothe.

Mr Jack Firstbrook, a brother of Mrs W. L. Robinson, and who spent a summer here two years ago, has enlisted for the war.

Mr Ralph E. White of the Review paid the town one of his occasional visits for a few hours on Tuesday afternoon.

Rev. J. I. Beatty conducted a special memorial service on Sunday afternoon in memory of the late lamented wife of Charles E. Stiff.

Mr Harry Pitman, the energetic Boy Scout leader, is taking a week off to visit friends at the upper end of the Valley, boarding the boat on Tuesday evening.

The Sunday evening service was featured by a solo by Mrs Williams, a duet by Mrs. Allen and Mrs Williams, and a trio by Mr Harry Pitman, Mrs King and Mrs Allen.

Mr J. M. Robinson, who has been for some few days a business visitor at the dominion capital, is spending Christmas at Toronto, a guest at the home of Mr and Mrs John Firstbrook.

Naramata is fast becoming famous as the home of fancy fowl, and to our two local showmen, Mr A. H. Mulford, the breeder of pure bred White Leghorns, and Mr J. Aldridge, the Orpington fancier, belongs much of the credit.

The annual Sunday School supper and Christmas entertainment is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, December 29th, to which all the parents are cordially invited. The church basement is being specially decorated for this occasion. By special arrangement a real live Santa has pledged his word to be present, and to dispense the gifts to the fortunate ones whose names have been enrolled in that popular gentleman's good books.

Nurse Gordon returned from a seven weeks' professional visit at the Similkameen Valley town of Hedley. She reports the mining town as in a flourishing financial condition, owing to the steady output of the mine in the vicinity. The loyalty of the town to the Mother Country is almost intense. Every house floats a flag, and the contributions to the cause of the distress in Europe per capita amounts to the very creditable sum of $3.50.

Mr M. D. Manchester has been adding the finishing touches to the outer decorations of his tasty, commodious, and substantially built bungalow on Lily Avenue. Aside from the building of his house during spare time Mark has also made much of his own furniture, which is of the Mission type, and harmonizes with the interior finishing. The whole reflects most creditably on the skill, taste, good craftsmanship, and persevering energy of a fellow who is not ordinarily known as a carpenter nor yet as a cabinet maker.

The report circulated in town that we were to have a wireless station in Naramata is flatly denied by Dr Robinson and Fred Manchester. But nevertheless these two ingenious gentlemen have rigged up a little apparatus which answers just the self same purpose as a "wireless." The doctor has a small battery in his office working with a somewhat similar one in the power house where Fred and he can communicate quite readily by means of the Morse code. The doctor is at present touching the principles of electricity as applied to electric light, telephones, telegraphs, etc., to the Boy Scouts, and in a few days hopes to rig up a connection with the scout hall in order to facilitate the training of the boys who by the way are enjoying the sport immensely.

TEACHERS REMEMBERED AT SCHOOL CLOSING.

The school closing last Friday afternoon was featured by a presentation by little Miss Kathleen Mulford on behalf of the scholars in the junior department to Miss Foster, who replied briefly, thanking her scholars for their thoughtfulness and goodwill toward her.

In the senior department Miss Whitworth was presented with a substantially and tastefully toned box of stationery. The following presentation speech was made by Master Ralph Boothe, the youngest boy in the room:

"Miss Whitworth—The pupils of this room would like you to accept this box of stationery as a token of the good regards we have toward you, and at the same time on behalf of the scholars I wish you a very merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and hope you enjoy your holidays as well as we expect to enjoy ours."

The recipient replied briefly, in which she expressed her evident surprise and hearty appreciation of the goodwill of the several members of her classes.

A debate by six members of the Entrance candidates on the subject "Resolved that German culture is retrogressive rather than progressive" formed an instructive half hours' entertainment. The speakers for the affirmative were Edith Roe, Earl Hughes and Stanley Stiff, while Edmund Boothe, Vera Salting and Harold Allen upheld the negative end of the argument.

The judges, Messrs F. Lorne Roe, T. H. Boothe and Mrs E. B. Reesor, awarded the decision in favor of the former trio of rising young orators.

EPWORTH LEAGUE BANQUET.

The social committee of the Epworth League provided a pleasant evening in the church basement on Friday last.

The basement had been treated to a more than ordinary amount of tastefully arranged Christmas decorations, with special attention to the details of the long tables where covers were laid for the twenty-five.

Centrally on the table was a cute little Christmas tree with appropriate trimmings. In front of each plate was placed a miniature paper basket of assorted candy of the "made-in-Naramata" variety, with a small card bearing the name of the expected guest. The supper provided by the young ladies left nothing to be desired, to describe which would really exhaust the most elastic temper of the best printer in Summerland.

An interesting toast list followed, in which a favorite Brazilian beverage was used quite freely. In this function Pastor Beatty had his hands full in holding the young aspirants after parliamentary honors to their limit of time.

The evening closed with the National Anthem.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Both our Tuesday and Thursday evening meetings last week were devoted to rehearsals of the scene which we are to help put on at the Unity Club concert. The Scouts are not doing this act by themselves, but are merely supering in one of the scenes with the girls, who are supposed to represent Red Cross nurses. Thursday evening we also had a little physical drill, which has been rather neglected of late.

As our First Aid course is now completed, and as the Missioner's badge, which naturally follows the Ambulance badge, is along the ammo line, Dr Robinson devoted the time last Saturday afternoon in showing us how to take a person's temperature, how to ventilate a sick room, and giving us general hints on nursing and looking after sick people.

Next Saturday we expect to start work on the Electrician's Proficiency badge. Dr Robinson has sent for catalogues of electrical supplies, and the boys are eagerly looking forward to an interesting and instructive series of lessons. He has also installed a small telegraph outfit in his office, and connected it up with the power house, enabling messages to be sent between him and Mr F. Manchester, who is in charge of the lighting system. In connection with the electrician badge he is going to teach us the theory and practice of telegraphy. This will be killing two

Rev. A. Henderson preached an excellent Christmas sermon from the text, "Peace on earth, goodwill to men," on Sunday evening. The choir rendered special music very acceptably. I MEAN IT

I will sell you now TWO ACRES AT practically the former PRICE OF ONE and I have many acres of as good soil as can be found in the fertile Okanagan Valley. Land that is worth as much to-day as ever it was, and will soon again be in demand at the old prices.

WHY AM I DOING IT? Necessity compels me to make this sacrifice! I must keep going. Sales must be made even if on Agreements and for little cash. That little cash and a negotiable Agreement of Sale is worth much more to me now than it will be later.

A GOOD LIVING under pleasant conditions is a surety to the man on an Okanagan farm who begins right. Buy right, my prices make that a certainty. Plant right, profiting by the 10 years' experience of the pioneers. Plant a permanent orchard, make profitable use of space between rows by cropping instead of planting to fillers. This has been

A LEAN YEAR but those who have made proper use of their land have prospered. Tomatoes, cucumbers and other early vegetables and small fruits are good money makers.

YOUNG ORCHARDS properly planted, land ready for the trees, ranch lands, and town lots are here waiting for you. Make your selection, then learn my price and terms. They will surprise you. At least let me show you what I have. You will be under no obligation to buy. Then you will know that when I say I will give you a bargain

Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Notes From College Hill

The College quintette were again victorious in a basketball encounter with the "Wests" in the College Gymnasium on Monday evening. Superior combination play throughout the game secured the victory. The score was 35-15. The College team are now firmly established at the head of the league.

Dr Harrington left on Saturday for his home in Peachland, where he will spend the Christmas vacation with his family.

Miss Dorothy Wilson departed by Saturday's boat to spend the holidays at her home in Vancouver. She will return to the College at the close of the vacation.

H. Parkinson will spend his holidays in his old position on the mail service. He left last week for Calgary, and will return at the commencement of the new term.

Classes were discontinued on Tuesday. They will be resumed on January 5th at 9 a.m. The University examinations will commence on the same day. All the students in Ritchie Hall are remaining in residence during the vacation, part of which will be spent in review work for the coming mid-year examinations. Some fifteen students will present themselves for examination by McMaster University. Other four Okanagan students now at McMaster, Toronto, will make a total of nineteen Okanagan College students to write the McMaster Examinations. This is the largest number that Okanagan has presented for these examinations at any one time.

Strive to make at least one poor friendless lass or lad happy this Christmas. It is surprising what untold happiness a little gift will sometimes bring to childhood. Make someone happier and the old world will be the better for your having lived.

"Time is money." This ought to be echoing news to the man of leisure who has Christmas presents to buy and no ready cash.

SIMPLICITY.

(Contributed).

Mr Vere Import put down the paper to pass his cup a second time. The coffee was perfect.

"Ah," he sighed, "this terrible war. And one can do so little."

His wife agreed sympathetically. She also poured the coffee, putting in the last of the thick cream, tied the baby's bib, brought fresh toast from the warming oven, and answered the telephone.

Mr Import sipped appreciatively. "If I were only free to DO something," he murmured. "One's greatest efforts seem so small in comparison with the work of these splendid fellows out at the front."

The little woman at the head of the table thoughtfully stirred her lukewarm coffee, venturing to remark, "I don't mean to under-rate them, but after all, they are only making use of their professional training."

There was grave reproof in the tone of Mr Import's reply.

"Even if anyone is cold enough to think of it in that way, your suggestion only applies to the regulars. Look at the volunteers! If I were a young man I'd go myself. Splendid! Splendid!"

His wife excused herself to throw a stick on the kitchen fire, pop two pans of well-risen bread in the oven, and put on the irons. She let the baby out of his chair, and found his favorite toy before sitting down to finish her breakfast.

"Tom Beard onlied yesterday," she said. "He can now be accused of doing something."

This time Mr Import was severe. "Nancy," he said, coldly, "your attitude toward the really helpful in this grave national crisis surprises and pains me. If you would join one of the societies now being organized for the relief of our poor fellows at the front, you would find your sympathies enlarging and your outlook widening."

The smile which answered Mr Vere Import, for inscrutability, put the Mona Lisa in the shade.

"I shall probably be a bit late for lunch to-day," he continued, as he lighted a good cigarette, "I've a very busy morning. Must see about the hall for this evening's meeting, and arrange for these ambulance classes. If you want anything done about the place you'd better get the Board boy. We must see that the families of our soldiers receive all possible assistance. I don't think I'll have time to see about that wood on my way down. You'd better telephone."

"Very well," his wife answered, as she passed into the kitchen with a well-stacked handful of dishes.

In the next four hours she simply made use of her professional training.

She simply washed the dishes and made the beds, swept the kitchen and ironed the baby's frocks, bottled the jam and prepared the vegetables, cut the grass and tended the chickens, marked corn for next year's seed and watered the cow, put the baby to sleep and mended some socks, rendered efficient first aid to Mrs Alloway's twins, at the same time explaining to that lady's incompetent maid servant the principle of the kitchen range, answered the telephone seven times and cut out two pairs of little bloomers for the youngest Beard from the sleeves of some old fashioned blouses.

It was all quite simple.

Then she simply flew over to the Beard's with a loaf of fresh bread and a pot of jam, leaving hope and cheer with them quite without knowing.

When Mr Import sat down to his simple luncheon of delicious soup, fried ham and well cooked vegetables, he sighed impatiently.

"I've had an awful morning," he said. "People seem to have no idea of the value of a man's time. Everyone I met talked so long that I didn't get to the office at all. Oh, I saw Mrs Alloway. There's a bright woman; she's organizing a society to sew things for our wounded soldiers, and wants you to join. I wish you would. Of course, I know you're so busy you never get time to do anything for anyone else, but really Nancy, nothing is important compared with the sufferings of those poor fellows. By the way, old girl, I'm afraid we'll have to cut down expenses a bit, there's so little coming in from the office. Couldn't we manage the washing at home if we're all careful?"

"Why, yes, I daresay we can," Mrs Import replied cheerfully.

As her husband reached for his mid-day cigarette, his coat brushed a toe-cap over and the tablecloth was severely wounded.

But the smile which forgave Mr Vere Import, for inscrutability put

Sir Edward Grey, the Mona Lisa and the rest of the sphinx family into a state of total eclipse.

WHY WE HANG UP STOCKINGS.

The custom of hanging up the stocking on Christmas eve arose from an incident in the life of the good St Nicholas. One day, when he was overtaken by a severe storm, he took refuge in a convent, and the next day being Christmas he preached a sermon to the nuns which they liked so much that they asked him to come next year and preach to them again. On his second visit, which was also on a Christmas eve, before going to bed he asked each one of the nuns to lend him a stocking, and he filled the stockings with sugar plums in return for their hospitality.

B.C. SALMON PACK.

The British Columbia salmon pack this year was 1,100,000 cases, approximately half being sock-eyes. The Fraser River contributed one-third of the pack, while canneries on the Skeena and other northern rivers put up the remainder.

Do not worry; eat three square meals a day; say your prayers; be courteous to your creditors; keep your digestion good; exercise; go slow and go easy. Maybe there are other things your special case requires to make you happy, but, my friend, those, I reckon, will give you a good lift.—Lincoln.
