Transcontinental Traffic Will Be Pouring Through Summerland Early in the Coming Year.

By next June one will be able to board a parlor car from here to the Coast, according to the statement of President Warren to Reeve Ritchie.

The railway contractors in the vicinity of Princeton are organizing their forces to rush the completion of the unfinished portion of the K.V.R. line between East Princeton and Princeton, says the Star, Princeton. A number of extra men have already been put to work, and more will be put on in a few days. A steam shovel will be used on the heavy cuts to be made at that point.

At one time it looked as though the much desired direct rail connection between here and Vancouver would be delayed, but now the renewed vigor with which the work is being pushed and the various statements credited to C.P.R. and K.V.R. officials points to an early completion of the line.

There are many indications that the short cut from Coldwater Summit to Hope will be ready at an early date, thus making it necessary to use the Merritt-Spence's Bridge route for a short time only.

Already plans are being considered for the running of passenger trains through the Kootenay Boundary, Okanagan, and Similkameen districts over the new line. It is proposed that tourist trains between Vancouver and Medicine Hat, running only during the day, make night stops at Penticton and Nelson.

OKANAGAN NOW IN DIRECT TOUCH WITH KLONDYKE.

With the completion of the Government Telephone line connecting Kamloops and Ashcroft, which has just been officially announced, there is now through telephonic communication between the Okanagan and the Klondyke, and in fact a large portion of Southern B.C. is now linked up with the Cariboo country, Prince Rupert, the northern interior of this province, and even with Dawson City. When the southern extension, now being made, is completed, the country south to Oroville and the Boundary district will be included. It is very evidently the purpose of the Dominion Government to make their very extensive telephone system as complete and serviceable as possible.

INCREASE IN HOSPITAL STAFF NECESSARY.

Every Room in Institution Occupied.

A special meeting of the Hospital Board was held on Monday afternoon at the hospital, with the matron also present.

President Robinson reported seven patients then in the hospital, and pointed out the necessity of employing additional help. Two extra nurses had already been temporarily engaged. The matron suggested that another nurse and cook be added to the regular staff, making a permanent staff of four. The matter was given careful consideration, and a cook, Miss McKay, was engaged, the question of another nurse being left over till the next regular meeting of the board.

Awaiting Orders From Ottawa to Proceed With Plowing Work at New Experimental Farm.

It is confidently expected that considerable plowing and other work will be done this fall on the Experimental Farm, although orders to Supt. Helmer to proceed with the work are yet held in abeyance, awaiting the clearing up of some legal points with reference to the supplying and administration of water, and of the water records applying to that particular parcel of land.

On Tuesday Mr. C. D. Norrington, District Engineer of the Water Rights Branch, Major Megraw, Inspector of Indian Agencies, Indian Agent J. R. Brown, and Mr. R. H. Helmer, were busy about here on matters pertaining to the farm, principally its water records. Director of Dominion Experimental Farms, Mr. J. H. Grisdale, went from here to Victoria, and it is probable that he will be able to adjust matters there with Mr. Wm. Young, Comptroller of the Water Rights Branch, to the satisfaction of the Ottawa authorities. It would seem that just now those officials at Ottawa who are attending to the legal part of the business are asking for guarantees or agreements beyond the power of the Municipality, and when these officials are made acquainted with the laws and practices pertaining to water in this province, and are satisfied that sufficient water will be available, the work on the farm will be proceeded with at once.

Mr. Helmer's appointment of course depends upon and commences with the final adjustment of these outstanding technical points, which it is expected will be immediately adjusted.

Hickey Shot at Penticton

Summerland Volunteer Receives Bullet in Leg Evidently Meant For Another.

Was Saying Good-bye When Struck.

Believed That Missile Was Intended For Penticton Man Who Has Been Marked For Some Time.

It was a happy little group of four that left here last night to join others of the Rocky Mountain Rough Riders at Penticton to proceed from there this morning to camp at Vancouver. To-day one of the party, Tom Hickey, is lying in the Summerland Hospital with a bullet in his leg. The accident—it was an accident as far as Tom was concerned—occurred in the Aquatic Club building at Penticton last evening.

There had been speeches by the Reeve and Councillors and the ministers of the different Penticton churches, delivered from the bandstand, and after this the crowd followed the volunteers to the Aquatic Clubhouse, where a photograph of the group was taken. They then leisurely dispersed, and there were not many left in the building when a rifle shot was heard, and Hickey, who was just shaking hands with G. Harcourt, grasped the latter's shoulder, crying that he had been shot. He was near the front door facing the Incola Hotel at the time, and the shot was seemingly fired from a door on the opposite side next the lake.

It is currently reported that on several occasions a certain citizen of Penticton has been threatened, and that more than once he has had narrow escapes. This man so marked is said to have been one of the volunteers, and to have been standing close to Hickey when the shot was fired.

On enquiry this morning the Review learns that the Penticton police have not yet made any arrests, although they are actively engaged on the case. Certain footprints in the rear of the building were discovered this morning, and may lead to an early arrest.

The injured man was given First Aid treatment at Penticton, and brought up to the Summerland Hospital this morning. The bullet struck a short distance above the ankle of the left leg, and it was found that the bone was shattered and the bullet imbedded in the back of the leg. It was not until after considerable trouble that the missile was located. The attending surgeon says that Hickey has received a compound fracture, and will probably be laid up for six or eight weeks.

One of Hickey's first requests last night was that his position in the troop be kept open for him.

Summerland Rapidly Becoming an Important Factor in Poultry Industry of Province.

That the people of Summerland are taking a keen interest in poultry is evident from the attendance at both demonstrations given last Friday by J. E. Terry, Provincial Instructor in Poultry, and the numerous questions put to him on all phases of the subject. Had the lectures been given on Thursday, as announced, the attendance would have been almost unwieldy. As it was they were sufficiently large for a course of that kind. In all some thirty birds were killed and plucked, a number of them being done by local poultrymen. Mr. Terry himself was timed in one case, and including a number of pauses for explanation and talking all the while, he had killed and plucked a bird in two and one half minutes. The method of plucking the bird and bleeding through the mouth is preferred by Mr. Terry as at the same time the most humane and most satisfactory.

At the afternoon lecture in the High School building, ladies were much in evidence, and many questions were put and answered there, as well as at the Men's Club in the evening.

During the morning Mr. Terry was taken over the district by C. N. Borton, Secretary of the Poultry Association, and many poultry yards were visited. Mr. Terry made an estimate of 10,000 birds in the district, and says there is more pure bred stock here than at any place he has visited. While strongly advising people to go more extensively into poultry, Mr. Terry urges that they proceed carefully, beginning in a small way, and that accurate records of costs and returns be kept.

30th B.C. Horse To Mobilize For Active Service.

Vernon, Nov. 6.—Col. C. A. Bott this morning received a wire from Major Ogilvie, D.O.C., Victoria, asking him to accept command of a regiment of mounted infantry, and to come to Victoria immediately.

He will leave to-day. This is taken to mean that the 30th Regiment of B.C. Horse, including the detachment of the regiment at Victoria, will immediately be called upon to mobilize for active service.

WEDDINGS.

Stuart-Limner.

St. Stephen's Church, Summerland, was the scene of a very interesting event on Monday afternoon, November 2nd, when Miss Marjorie May Limner became the bride of Mr. Muir Stuart. The ceremony took place at four o'clock, Rev. H. A. Solly officiating. In the large number of friends and relatives who attended at the church to witness the service, was seen an eloquent testimony to the wide circle in which both have moved, and the high estimation in which they are held. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Limner, and has been resident in Summerland about three years, when the family came to the West from Hazel Hill, Nova Scotia. As the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stuart, who are numbered amongst the earliest settlers in this district, the groom has become widely known and respected, particularly in the last two years, when he has been in charge of the A. Stuart and Brownlee Orchard interests during the busy fruit shipping season.

The actual ceremony was very simple, but it lost none of its impressiveness or solemnity from being celebrated without elaborate preparation. As she walked up the aisle on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," played by Miss Robina Logie, the bride made a picture of radiance carrying a large and beautiful shower bouquet of white roses. She wore a tailored traveling suit of navy blue broadcloth, with a blouse of sage blue and a becoming hat to match. Bride and groom were unattended at the altar. At the commencement of the service the marriage hymn, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," was sung, and at the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn. At the church door Mr. and Mrs. Stuart stepped into a waiting automobile, and amid a shower of congratulations and good wishes, with a considerable quantity of the traditional rice rained upon them, they motored off to Penticton to board the steamer "Sicamous." Proceeding up the lake the following morning, they are now bound to Regina, with stop on route at Field and Calgary. Business will probably detain Mr. Stuart in Regina until the spring of next year, when they will return to take up residence in Summerland.

The bride and groom were the fortunate recipients of a large number of useful and costly gifts from friends in and out of Summerland, testifying to their popularity, among the most notable being a piano from Mr. and Mrs. A. Stuart, parents of the groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl and sapphire pendant, and to the organist a pearl pin.

At the outset of what is hoped will prove a long married life of unmarred happiness, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart have with them the well-wishes of their host of friends. When they return here in the spring, they are certain to find a warm welcome waiting for them.

Agur-Kerr.

A notable wedding was solemnized on Wednesday of this week at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, when Miss Margaret R. Kerr, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kerr was united in marriage to Mr. Eric R. Agur, second son of the late R. H. Agur and Mrs. Agur of Balcom Lodge. The ceremony took place at eleven o'clock, Rev. C. H. Daly being the officiating minister.

In the church a pretty decorative effect had been obtained with flowers and foliage of the rich golden hues of the fall. In addition to the wedding group composed of immediate relatives, there were in attendance at the church a good number of other interested friends. The bridal party entered the church as the Bridal Chorus was being played by Miss Logie, and at the conclusion of the service the customary Wedding March was rendered.

The bride wore a tailored suit of cream serge, set off with a hat of black. She made a charming figure, carrying a sweet bouquet of white carnations. Supporting her was Mrs. R. V. Agur as matron of honor, and Miss Marjorie Van Allen as bridesmaid. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Wm. Kerr. For the groom, Mr. Gordon Kerr brother of the bride, acted as best man.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a return was made to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kerr, where the wedding party, augmented by a few intimate friends, partook of a dainty wedding breakfast. In the early afternoon the bride and groom left on their drive out to the Agur pre-emption near Bathfield, about twelve miles westward, where they will spend a quiet honeymoon of about a couple of weeks.

From long residence in the district Mr. and Mrs. Agur have drawn about them an extensive friendship, and many voices of congratulation are being raised as they embark upon their married life. On their return from the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Agur will make their home in a bungalow on the Balcom estate.

dition. Mr. J. H. Grisdale, Director of Dominion Experimental Farms, during his visit here last week seemed much impressed by the convincing evidence of the absence of frost given by sweet peas, dahlias, etc., still in full bloom.

The school seasons have been curtailed to the short winter hours this week, opening at 9.30 and dismissing at 3. This holds from November to March, when the days begin to lengthen out appreciably.

OUR EQUABLE CLIMATE.

The weather report for October shows that during that month the mercury dropped to freezing point on two nights, namely the 22nd and 23rd. Being at a considerable elevation at the station would probably drop lower than at many other points in the district. In fact, upon enquiry we learn that a number of sections have not yet been touched. To read of those facts in print probably does not convey the same meaning as to see tender vines and delicate flowers still in healthy con-

Presbyterian Thanksgiving Anniversary.

Successful in no small measure the services held last week-end at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church commemorating the Thanksgiving Anniversary, must have brought gratification to all the members and adherents. Three services were held on Sunday, at which Rev. Fergusson Miller of Penticton was the preacher. His messages were eloquent and appropriate to the Thanksgiving season. He brought home especially to the people the reason for thankfulness, particularly in this district when compared with other localities more directly overshadowed with the war cloud. The platform of the Presbyterian Church had been decked with greenery, and some bright fall flowers made a pretty decorative effect. A strong choir assisted in the services of praise in the morning and evening, also rendering a full anthem, "O Taste and See," in the evening. The attendance at this service was particularly good, a crowded church making for great heartiness.

On Monday evening the church again held a good audience, when the Annual Concert and congregational Tea and Social was held. Rev. C. H. Daly, the pastor, presided, and announced the numbers of a good program that was thoroughly representative of local talent. Songs, choruses, readings, and recitations were all duly appreciated, and encores drew several performers back again to the platform. The enjoyment of those present was voiced by a hearty vote of thanks to all who by assisting in the program had helped to make the concert a success.

Rev. R. W. Lee of the Methodist Church was announced as the speaker of the evening, and delivered a brief address vindicating the Thanksgiving season in the eyes of those who saw little to be thankful for, and pointing to Providence, in whose mercy and graciousness all good things were enjoyed. He urged also a freer giving to the needs of the church in general, but in the true spirit of giving and not in the light of a charity.

The evening's program was brought to a close with the National Anthem, and afterwards the company enjoyed refreshments, which were passed around frolic to the accompaniment of social intercourse.

The program and refreshments had all been planned by the Ladies' Aid, who are deserving of the success of the evening.

The concert program was as follows:

Choir Selection, "Hail to the Chief,"
Songs, H. E. Grant,
"Louisa," "Jonny Mine."
Recitation, Miss Jessie Moko,
"The Children's Hospital."
Readings from Drummond,
Rev. D. E. Hatt.
Song, Miss M. Clay,
"The King's Own."
Song, Mrs. J. Clark,
"Jessie's Dream."
Reading, H. J. Troffry,
"Lady of Shallott."

Box Social Proves Highly Successful.

The old-fashioned box social is something of a rarity in this district, but that it has lost none of its popularity from disuse was amply shown last Friday night. It takes a big crowd to fill the College Gymnasium, and while the hall was not overcrowded, still there could not have been less than one hundred and fifty people present. The Ladies' College Auxiliary had organized the gathering, and in reviving the box social met with gratifying success in raising both fun and funds.

Hallowe'en decorations were arranged on the platform, lighted jack o' lanterns giving one an eerie reminder of the morrow. The lunch boxes were stacked upon a table and made a heap of very impressive size.

A short program of music was presented before the real business of the evening was entered upon. Principal S. Everton, of the College, acted as chairman, and at the close of the music made a short address laying before all present something of the work of the College and the needs of the institution. The musical program was not long, but thoroughly enjoyable. There were songs from Mrs. George Ross, and Mr. George Fisher who appeared as a kilted highlander, an elocutionary selection from Rev. D. E. Hatt, and a pianoforte duet by Miss Edna McLeod and Mr. W. H. A. Moore. All these items were deservedly well received.

Auctioning off the boxes provided fun in large helpings. Rev. D. E. Hatt held the hammer and dispensed the boxes with an abundance of humor. There was a two-fold element of uncertainty in regard to the boxes—as to the contents and the identity of the donor, with whom the purchaser was expected to share the refreshments. Some of the boxes were of quite novel exterior, and in the pile they presented a variety of appearances. Their contents were most dainty and delectable, the majority being very generously provided with brown or white bread, sandwiches, biscuits, cake, pie, and in some instances a dish of salad was even included. There were few indeed who did not get value for their bid. Tea and coffee were also put on sale, completing a very full menu.

The bidding for the boxes was in some instances quite spirited. The average price obtained ranged from .75 to $2.75, and a few went up to the neighborhood of $4.50. One that must have had some particular value went up and

BUYING APPLES CO-OPERATIVELY.

Mr D. Johnson, Fruit Commissioner of the Dominion Agricultural Department, has come to the conclusion that there is something radically wrong with the system of fruit distribution in Canada. He is forced to believe this for the reason that while seventy-five per cent. of the apple crop of Ontario is likely to rot on the ground, people in cities are forced to pay from $3 to $5 a barrel for this fruit.

Discussing the subject the commissioner says: "Taking 50 cents as the average cost or the price received by the producer, and $3.50 as the average price paid by the consumer, we find there is a difference of $3. How can this be accounted for? Are there any charges in the $3 that can be eliminated? In this must be included the following items: Cost of picking and packing, cost of the package (barrel or box), cost of transportation, and the profits of the wholesaler and retailer. The consumer is this year more interested in these items than is the producer, and consumers might through municipal or other organizations take this matter up with a view to cutting down this big addition of three dollars. Where 'distribution' costs six times as much as 'production' there would seem to be an opportunity for greater economy in the cost of food to the consumer."

Following publication of the commissioner's interview on the apple question, the city council of Ottawa has come to the rescue in that city, undertaking to buy apples by the carload from producers and pass them on to Ottawa consumers at a price sufficient to cover cost of handling only.

It is these emergency marches into the field of co-operative effort in selling and buying, by municipalities and others, that are doing more than anything else to focus the attention of the people upon sets of conditions that, though they have long existed, are as unnatural as they are unnecessary. The enquiring one may reasonably ask if, on emergency occasion it is wise and profitable for a city council to act for its masters, the people, as their buying agent, why not at all times?

Commissioner Johnson has struck the snag in the fruit business, east and west. There is in this Valley an organization for co-operative packing and shipping, but from the limitation of its present scope it has made clearer the great difficulty separating the fruit grower from his legitimate profit, as well as hampering what might be a larger consumption, which lies in the "unnatural and unnecessary conditions" mentioned above. These conditions seem to clog all the channels of fruit distribution, and not until co-operation which now has one hand extended helping the grower, reaches out with the other to the ultimate consumer, and establishes a direct connection from the orchard to the store or home, will the undesirable middleman begin to drop out.

KANSAS AND PROHIBITION.

THIRTY YEARS AGO the State of Kansas adopted prohibition. Something of the wonderful record now shown as a result of the thirty years abstinence are given by a careful investigator in a recent number of the Outlook, one of New York's well-known magazines. Some of these facts given here are certainly deserving of thoughtful consideration.

- In 87 of her 105 counties Kansas has now no insane;
  - In 54 of these counties there are no feeble-minded;
  - 96 of her counties have no inebriates;
  - 88 of her county poorhouses are empty;
  - 53 of her jails were recently empty, and 65 counties had no prisoners in the State penitentiary;
  - The entire number of paupers in the State falls short of 600;
  - Some counties have not called a grand jury to try a criminal case in ten years;
  - Not long ago Kansas had 200 millions of dollars in her banks; her farmers owned livestock valued at 225 millions of dollars, and in one year the people have added 45 millions of dollars to their taxable property;
  - Only two per cent. of the entire population is illiterate;
  - The mortality rate has dropped from 17 per 1,000 to 7 per 1,000.
- Does prohibition pay? Kansas certainly answers the question with wonderful figures!

IT HAS TAKEN a costly war to force Russia to the moral step that will result in largely freeing the country's peasantry from the grip of "vodka" slavery. The physical standard required for service in the Russian army is lower than that of other nations, and yet it has been found that the percentage of rejections reaches as high as seventy per cent, directly attributable in the majority of cases to acute alcoholism. This appalling condition has opened the eyes of the Czar's government, and following the recent closing of the state vodka dispensaries now comes the news of their total abolition. It is announced that the Russian government will never again embark in the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks. This statement, confirming previous reports, has been made in the name of Emperor Nicholas himself. The Russian Union of Abstinence, which devotes its energies to the combatting of alcoholism, addressed to Emperor Nicholas a solicitation that he forbid forever the sale of spirits in Russia. His majesty replied in a telegram sent in the name of Grand Duke Constantine, and addressed to the president of the Alliance, in which he said: "I thank you. I long ago decided to interdict for all time in Russia the sale of alcoholic drinks by the government."

W.C.T.U.

At the W.C.T.U. meeting on Monday afternoon, in the parlor at the Men's Club Rooms, some interesting discussions were held. Strong disapproval was expressed because intoxicants are to be furnished the Canadian troops at the front. A protest from the Union has been forwarded to the Provincial Executive, to join the general protest to the military authorities in England.

Mrs Estabrook gave a reading entitled, "Who is to Blame for the War?" which gave the impression that the people in general are the blind dupes of the military class, and suggests the lines of Longfellow's "Arsenal." "Were all the wealth bestowed on camps and courts given to redeem the human mind from error, there were no need for arsenals and forts."

It is all right to observe the mistakes our neighbors make and to avoid making them ourselves, but it is a mistake to laugh at them on account of their mistakes. Better speak to them in a friendly way, and possibly they may open our eyes to a few of our own.

LECTURE COURSE.

The first evening of the Lecture Course will be held in the Men's Club on Thursday evening next at 8 p.m., when Rev. D. E. Hatt will give an elocutionary recital of Dr Drummond's French-Canadian poems, etc.

Mr Hatt has a great reputation, and a great treat is in store for those who attend. Mr Hatt will be assisted by Miss A. Hayes, Mr T. G. Beavis, and Mr J. O. Smith. The popular price of 25 cents should also go a long way in ensuring a crowded house.

On Tuesday, Nov. 24, the Rev. G. R. B. Kinney, B.A., F.R.G.S., the celebrated mountain climber, will give an illustrated lecture on "Mountain Climbing in the Rockies and Selkirks."

That the prairie farmers are putting forth every effort preparing for monster crops next season is the recent statement made by Vice-Pres. Bury of the C.P.R. He says the prairie farmers intend increasing their acreage under crop next year by 30 per cent, and urges B.C. orchardists to do likewise, declaring that they should go in for clover crops, pigs, and poultry.

BASKETBALL

It was not altogether unexpected that the College boys would win out against the West-Summerland team on Saturday night in the big gymnasium, but the Wests made the Collegians run hard for their victory of 20-12. The winners made good from their good combination work, but did not convert every chance they had into a basket, their shooting not being what it might have been. It was a hard and fast game from start to finish, and for a team just getting into the game as against the College veterans the Wests have every reason to be proud of their performance. The teams were—

College	Wests
J. McLeod forwards	C. Steuart
M. Cochran	D. Steuart
L. Morlock centre	Ross Rae
C. Riley guards	A. Pentland
*G. Dale	*G. Fisher
*Vanderburg	*R. Darkis

*Changes at half time.

The services of Mr C. D. Denton as coach have been enlisted for the West-Summerland team, and he has been superintending their last practices. One can safely predict they will shape up well in the running for any local league championship.

The Rowley Trophy found a final resting place in the care of the College by their victory over the Town in the series of games last winter. By the generosity of Mr J. Rowley another trophy is likely to be the crown of the games of the three team league which has been arranged locally. Now that basketball seems to have taken firm root for the winter, this further stimulus will be very gratefully received. This second Rowley Trophy will be in the nature of a shield, and the conditions of its possession will likely be made such that the shield will probably not pass into the ultimate possession of any one team for a number of years.

The "Big Five" boys lost out again in another basketball encounter at the Men's Club on Monday night, and by a larger score than before. One change had been made in each team, and a hard game ensued, interrupted by fewer fouls than the game of a week previous, though Referee Ed. Sawyer still called a good number. For the town Glenn was the star shot, and made no fewer than ten baskets from the field. McWilliams made good in converting fouls, and Angove at centre also found the basket three times. For the "Big Five" Lavis and Clouston were the heavy scorers. The final count was 28-13 in favor of the town. The teams played were—

Town	Big Five
C. McWilliams forwards	J. Craig
J. F. Glenn	A. Clouston
W. Angove centre	C. Lavis
C. H. Sismey guards	T. Hickey
H. Snider	C. Kennedy

The West-Summerland and College teams meet in another clash on Saturday night, a second practice game having been arranged.

A schedule of games was drawn up this week by the connivance of the managers of the three teams. It calls for 24 games in all, the first on Monday week, the 16th inst, and lasting on through the winter till the final date is reached on March 5th. Space not permitting of the publication of the full schedule this week, this will appear in our next issue.

Be a booster for your home town. If you had nothing to boast but a store and a post office, you should boast just the same. If you let people know of the great opportunities your community offers, they will sit up and take notice, and finally see that you are right. There is no town, however small, but has some advantages. No town but what would be a good location for a factory or a mill of some kind.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

Peachland Notes

Miss Henrietta Gummow spent Wednesday in Kelowna.

A number of men were engaged in repairing the hill road on Monday.

Mrs McKay and daughter, of Naramata, were week-end guests of Mrs L. Mills.

Mrs Seaton was hostess at afternoon tea in honor of Mrs Silver on Tuesday last.

Mrs M. N. Morrison and Miss Leone were visitors to Kelowna on Wednesday.

Mrs J. Silver, of Vernon, who spent a week visiting friends in town, left for home on Saturday morning.

Word was received in town last week that Rev. Jas. Lang, father of W. A. and Grant Lang of this town, had died recently in Nelson.

Mrs Pattison and little daughter, Marjory, who have spent the summer with Mrs Clarence, left for their home in Winnipeg on Monday morning.

Mr Biggar of Kelowna motored over and spent the early part of the week with Mr and Mrs Gummow. On his return Miss Gummow accompanied him.

Mrs Alf. Town, who went to Winnipeg about a month ago to attend the marriage of her niece, Miss McCutcheon, returned on Thursday evening. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Verena, who had spent the summer in the city.

While Verner Winger was bringing the horses from pasture on Friday morning, the horse he was riding began to buck, throwing him off on his head and shoulder. He was carried into the house unconscious, but is now nearly quite well again, except for a natural soreness and stiffness.

On Tuesday evening, Misses Bina and Mary McLaughlan entertained the young people in honor of Miss Gertrude Powell, who leaves on Tuesday for Saskatchewan. The night was very unpleasant, so much so that Miss Powell who had been occupied with guests until a late hour, was unable to get there, but a large number of others who had come to wish her much happiness in her new life met and spent a few hours in fun and jollity.

Hallowe'en was celebrated by Miss Mary White with a birthday party. On arrival the guests were met at the gate by Jack o' Lantern, who grinned a hearty welcome. On approaching the entrance, the black cats vanished before them in all directions, everything seeming to make the surroundings more uncanny. The climax was reached when two witches began telling fortunes. Games of various kinds were indulged in. Miss Morrison and Mr Gummow succeeded in winning the prize in the "Menu" contest. Refreshments both dainty and appetizing were enjoyed by all.

On Sunday, November 1st, the Methodist people celebrated the anniversary of their church opening. Rev R. M. Thompson, of Penticton was the preacher for the day and delivered two eloquent, practical sermons. He also spoke at the entertainment on Monday evening. Special music, suited to the occasion was furnished by the choir. The decorations of flowers were very tastefully arranged by Mrs Ferguson. The collections were in aid of the church debt, and amounted to $120.00. The Baptist brethren cancelled their services for the day and worshipped with the other congregation.

On Monday evening the Methodist people held their anniversary entertainment in the Orange Hall. The program was very good, and consisted of solos, choruses, duets and addresses. Mr Leah, of London, England, told us about the great city in a very interesting and entertaining way. Solos by Mrs George Lang and Mrs Mitchell, a duet by Mrs Mitchell and Mrs Dryden, a violin solo by Miss Dorothy Harrington, and a recitation by Miss Irene Elliott were all very well done. The chorus "Tipperary", lost nothing by being repeated, neither did the song, "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground," reproduced by the girls. The anniversary services noted the Methodist brethren the neat sum of $120.

On the Coldstream ranch at Vernon this year 180 acres were planted in potatoes. The crop was sold for $20 a ton, and realized a total of $48,200.

Aids To Agriculture.

Good Results From Demonstration Work—Competitions Raise Keen Interest Among Farmers.

The Agricultural Department is well satisfied with the work which has been accomplished by the demonstration farm plots instituted for the first time this year. This work has clearly demonstrated that early varieties of fodder corn can be grown to the best advantage in every district of Southern British Columbia. It is easy to grow the most valuable crops for stock-raising purposes, thus encouraging the keeping of stock on the farm.

These demonstration plots were instituted under the provisions of the Agricultural Instruction Act, and are doing more than anything else to help along these lines. They are run on an eminently practical basis, and to show the farmer how to produce the biggest crops at the smallest expense.

A feature of the demonstrations has been instruction in dry-farming methods. Surprising results have been obtained on lands which would appear useless for farming to the uninitiated. There are probably not less than 100,000 acres of land in this province which could be made to yield large crops by the dry-farming process.

Another highly successful institution has been the boys' and girls' potato competitions, which have been keenly contested throughout the province by over 500 entrants. The children showed great interest in these competitions, and in many cases showed their elders how to grow good crops of potatoes.

The held crops competitions of the Farmers' Institutes have also been a great success. There were over 1,000 entries, three times as many as last year. The spirit of competition engendered by these competitions does excellent work in making men think, and thus leading them to the adoption of improving methods.

This winter the Agricultural Department intends to carry out short courses in connection with the different phases of agriculture in all parts of the province. These courses will be under the direction of the Farmers' Institutes, under the control of the department. Among the subjects will be lessons in pruning by practical demonstrations on the trees. A great difference in the healthy appearance of the orchards is already apparent in places where these demonstrations have been held. Fruit-packing schools will be held again this year, as already announced.

WAR AND THE DESTRUCTION OF YOUNG LIVES.

Writing to the London Chronicle, Harold Begbie says: "Armaments have broken the back of the laborer, and with the fall of the laborer all things fall, all things come to earth. Because of the war lords, and only because of the war lords, the man of science is paralyzed, and civilization stops. Humanity has been fooled. Too late it discovers it. Remember this, too. Among the young conscript soldiers of Europe who will die in thousands, and perhaps millions, are the very flower of civilization; we shall destroy brains which might have discovered for us in ten or twenty years easements for the worst of human pain, and solutions for the worst of social dangers. We shall blot those souls out of our common existence. We shall destroy utterly those splendid burning spirits reaching out to enlighten our darkness. Our fathers destroyed those strange and valuable creatures whom they called 'witches.' We are destroying the brightest of our angels."

B.C. APPLE WEEK IN CALGARY.

"Buy a box of B.C. apples and do it now," Red apples make red cheeks. "An ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure," "Try health's best way, on every day a B.C. apple, the best that grows, and slams the door on the doctor's nose," are some of the slogans with which J. Forsyth Smith, the British Columbia Market Commissioner is seeking to drive home to the people of Calgary the superior excellencies possessed by the apple as an article of general diet, the benefits derivable from its regular use in any one of the 200 delightful ways in which it can be prepared, and the special opportunities that have been offered to Calgary consumers during the present week, November 2 to 7, by purchasing this toothsome orchard product at the most attractive prices that have ever obtained in apple history.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

On Tuesday evening, October 27th, a number of Naramata Scouts met at headquarters in uniform for a route march. At 7.30 we started, and with bugle playing, a lively march, flags flying, and staves carried at the slope, the troop swung along in good style, and after marching through the town struck off into the hills. As soon as the town was left behind the command to "march at ease" was given, and the night air was filled with marching songs, war cries, mouth organ solos and all the diabolical noises that can be made by a normal healthy boy—which, as anyone who has had any experience with boys knows, is considerable. The ranchers living on the benches must have been scared out of their skins to hear a bugle sound the "charge" and to hear the "tramp of armed feet" sounding on the road, and if any Naramattan tells you a scare story of German forces marching through Canada on their way to attack Vancouver, you can reassure him that it was only us "kids." After about half an hour of marching, a halt was called at a ranch house, and after having "captured" the house, the scouts were treated to apples by their "prisoners." Every hill was a fortress to be attacked, and every ravine or hollow concealed countless hordes of foes who had to be overcome, and many sanguinary encounters took place with imaginary armies of the enemies. The march home was done mostly on the "double" and upon reaching the starting point about 9 p.m., the scouts were dismissed, and all agreed that they had had a jolly good night's fun.

Since our march several residents living on the benches have invited the troop to march up to their place some evening, and these invitations have been thankfully accepted by the boys. So we expect to have some more marches during the next few weeks.

Saturday, October 31st—First Aid meeting at Dr. Robinson's. For account of meeting, see last week's Review, and change date.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

The Hallowe'en party held on Saturday evening under Unity Club auspices at the club rooms, provided both fun and amusement for one of the largest crowds that ever attended a function of this nature in Naramata. The crowd was well nigh a crush, but the general good feeling which prevailed accompanied with the swing given to the evening's program enabled everything to pass off splendidly.

The forepart of the evening was spent, after each gentleman had discovered his partner, in solving the correct names for a lengthy list symbolized by various articles to be found on tables situated at different parts of the building. For example, a calendar represented "a bunch of dates," "The missing link" was represented by a lone cuff-button. By the time this was over each had forgotten all about being the least bit strange and was ready to listen to the mixed program of readings, music, etc., conducted by Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, vice-president.

At 10 o'clock refreshments were served in which pumpkin pie figured conspicuously along with other pies from the delicate cherry to the blushing apple—and not to mention the cake and the sandwiches of date bread and brown bread. Fact is, the luncheon was something way out of the ordinary.

This interesting ceremony over, a number remained behind, while the floor was cleared for a couple of hours' dancing, enjoyable music being furnished by Mrs. Dean Walters, Dr. W. L. Robinson and others.

Mr. John Noyes is in receipt of an interesting letter from her son Mr. Bert Noyes, who enlisted in the 1st contingent now at Salisbury Plain. The letter was dated from Plymouth, October 15, and was written before the boys had actually left the transport ships. He had not been on land, but had been close enough to certain dry docks to see abundant evidence that there was a war on in Europe, and that some of the ships of the British navy had been through some rough treatment. The thing that impressed itself most forcibly upon the boys was the genuine whole-hearted welcome accorded the Canadian overseas contingent. The crowds that choked the gateways was immense, and the cheering almost deafening. The letter was accompanied by an interesting lot of views.

Every week is "apple week" in the homes of the people of the Okanagan.

Mrs. Languedoc spent a short while recently in Summerland, the guest of Mrs. Solly.

Mr. Wheeler, of the Summerland Lumber Co., was in our district on Friday last on business.

Mrs. T. I. Williams is having a substantial addition made to her lakeshore cottage. The family will reside there for the winter.

The topic to be discussed next Sabbath morning by Pastor Beatty, "Peter's Sword," should draw more than the usual attendance. All welcome.

It is quite probable that a number of our young men may catch a place in the second contingent. Amongst the number who have been accepted for service are: Robert Gammon and Ben Newton.

Captain F. J. Languedoc has terminated his year's engagement with the Okanagan Lake Boat Co. and from now on will only appear at the helm on special occasions. During his tenure the captain established an enviable reputation for promptness and efficiency. So much so as regards the former, that many people have gotten in the way of adjusting their timepieces by the whistle of the ferry.

Two interesting visitors in town this week were recent arrivals from London, England, Mrs. Cave, whose son, Mr. T. Cave, is manager of the Inland Commercial Agency at Penticton, and Mrs. Griffith, her daughter. Both ladies walked up from Penticton in the forenoon to enjoy to the full the exhilarating air and to see the orchards at close range. After spending a leisurely afternoon at the Syndica House, the return trip was made on the "Sicamous."

The Review lays no claim to being the biggest paper in the Okanagan Valley, nor does it claim to be the oldest, but it does lay claim to be, for the communities whose interests it was primarily intended to promote a high class home paper. For this reason alone it is worthy of the support of the people whose interests are identified with its progress. Why not send in your subscription to-day for a year—52 copies—or even for six months? You'll get the worth of your money and incidentally help those who can do much to boost your own town and support the public's faith in your community.

Friday evening witnessed the second of the Epworth League's literary evenings. Upon this occasion, the lives of four British statesmen were intelligently reviewed by four members of the League. Edmund Bothe read a paper on the career of William Pitt the elder; Violet Mitchell read another on Disraeli; Stewart Allen was assigned Lloyd George; Marian Bruce showed a considerable knowledge of Premier Aquith, while Dorothy Robinson spoke on Sir Edward Grey. In the course of the evening, Harry Pitman sang a solo which was well received. Altogether it might be said that the young organization is now safely launched.

The improvements to the irrigation system as outlined in the program for the fall work have been completed and the committee have their report ready for presentation. The Chute Crook dam, an embankment of earth and crib work averaging four feet in height and has a width of six feet at the top and a foundation width of from ten to twelve feet, and extends a distance of three hundred and sixty feet. This dam will give, it is estimated, an area equal to 15 acres of water having an average depth of about 2 1/2 feet. The Mill Crook dam is more pretentious. It is similar in structure and is 312 feet long. The sluice way in this case is built of solid cement with an iron gate having an 8 inch spillway to carry off the overflow. This addition to this, the existing dam, will increase the area of water about 20 acres with an average depth of 4 1/2 feet and will thus, for all ordinary seasons, provide all the water that could reasonably be called for.

Naramata Current Events

Mrs. Julius Block entertained upon the occasion of the recent meeting of the Unity Club.

Amongst the visitors in town from Penticton were Mr. H. W. Gunn and Constable R. M. McDonald.

Special music is being arranged for the song service Sunday evening services, which are drawing ever-increasing crowds.

Nurse Gordon and Mrs. Hayward went last Saturday across to Hedley on a hurried call, and will probably not be back for some little while.

In accordance with government regulation, the local schools open at 9.30 and close at 3 instead of 3.30. These are the hours observed in B.C. during the so-called winter months, November, December, January and February.

The Boat Co. have this week inaugurated their winter schedule—a schedule which is gotten out to meet the convenience of the public. The first trip across to Summerland is made a half hour later and the return afternoon trip being made a half hour earlier.

BASKET-BALL TEAM FORMED.

As intimated in a previous issue a basketball club has been added to the list of social organizations of town. Mr. Guy Brock is the president and manager, and Miss Emma Davies is the secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Howard Rounds has been selected as captain of the girls' team, and Guy Brock will have at least for the outset to act as leader of the boys. There is a dearth of experienced players amongst the boys especially, but it is believed with a few months' intelligent work a number of good players will be developed.

The girls will be "set up" with players, and right from the outset feel confident of producing a fine team. The organization has secured the old school room at a nominal rental for the season. The building is already wired and had electric light turned on this week.

LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS SUCCESSFUL MEETING.

The literary and debating society held its first evening's series of debates on Monday evening in the church basement. A large and enthusiastic crowd had assembled to listen to the discussions which proved of general interest, and the speakers, most of whom having had but little time in which to prepare their arguments, certainly succeeded in entertaining—if not instructing—their auditors.

Instrumental music by Miss Gladys Robinson with her cello, accompanied by her sister Kathleen on the piano, provided an enjoyable "opener," receiving a merited encore to which the ladies graciously responded. Then followed a series of spirited discussions, most of them on more or less humorous vein. One for example, was the question as to which was the harder, "A day behind the plow, or a day behind the wash tub?" still another, "which causes the greater distress, mental pain, or physical?" At this stage of the program a vocal duet by Miss Foster and Miss Whitworth, who sang a taking lullaby song, provided a pleasant break in the evening's fun.

The closing discussion was a three-cornered fight on the oft-debated topic, "Which wields the greatest influence, the tongue, the pen or the sword?" The speakers for the evening included, amongst the ladies, Mesdames Allen and Walters, and the gentlemen were Messrs Salting, P. S. Roe, Frank Hughes, T. H. Boothe, while F. Lorne Roe occupied the chair during the program. The judges who handed out the various decisions as to the merits of each case were Mr. H. J. Wells, Mrs. Reesor, and Mrs. W. L. Robinson. The next meeting is booked for Nov. 10th.

BOX SOCIAL.

up till one, began to wonder where the bidding would stop. It climbed until the price was $24.75, and on to that Mr. L. C. Woodworth added 25 cents, and got the box for $25. Several men bid in more than one box and so gathered quite a lunch party round them.

In all the sum of $141.25 was gathered in during the evening, which, needless to say, surpassed the most sanguine expectations of the ladies responsible. If the subsequent entertainments the Ladies' College Auxiliary is planning show similar results, there will be reason indeed to be proud.

A Dramatic Recital will be given by Rev. D. E. Hatt in the College

Gymnasium under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary on the 23rd inst.

A representative committee of the local churches met on Tuesday evening in the Men's Club to further consider suggestions and plans for increasing general interest in church matters, and to maintain or improve on the attendance attained during the recent go-to-church campaign. Among other features will be a series of special meetings, details of which were left with a sub-committee, and full particulars of which will be announced immediately.

Mrs Harold Rivington left on Thursday for a visit to friends and relatives in Ottawa.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

Dr C. A. Jackson will be in his office West Summerland next Tuesday and the rest of the week.

Mr Fred Anderson has made such good progress toward recovery from his recent attack of pneumonia as to be able now to get about the house.

Dr. T. B. Turner, dentist, will spend Monday and Tuesday of each week in Summerland. Crown, Bridge and Gold Inlay work a specialty.

Bert Lipsett, who spent the summer at Naramata, and for the past few weeks has been here with his uncle, Dr. Lipsett, left for his home in Holland, Man., on Wednesday.

The Summerland Live Stock Association have exchanged their Berkshire for another of the same breed, which is expected to arrive this week. He will be kept at Thos. Dale's ranch, where the association's Duroc and Holstein are now stabled.

Further word is anxiously awaited by Baron and Miss de Thoren and Mrs C. F. Garnett regarding the reported sinking of the British cruiser "Monmouth," off the coast of Chile a day or two ago. Captain Frank Brandt in command of the "Monmouth" is their cousin.

The monthly general meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade will be held on Tuesday, 10th inst., at 3.30 p.m. in the Summerland Supply Co's. store. All interested are requested to be present as important business in connection with Annual Convention is to be discussed.

C. H. Cordy has now assumed personal charge of the Felix Hotel, of which he is the proprietor. All arrangements that can conduce to a satisfied clientele will be looked to, and the strictly first-class reputation of this house will be more maintained under Mr Cordy's direct supervision.

The First Aid Classes which have been meeting in both sections of the district during the past few weeks taking the St. John's Ambulance course from Drs Andrew and Kennedy, were given their final lectures this week. The examinations for the granting of certificates will be held in the forepart of next week.

Summerland friends have received the announcement of the engagement of Miss Gertrude Powell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs Thomas Powell of Peachland, to Mr C. C. Inglis, manager of the Beaver Lumber Company of Consul, Saskatchewan. The marriage is to take place at Maple Creek, Sask., on Sunday, November 8th.

Sunday next is the World's Temperance Sunday. Arrangements have been made for two special services on Sunday evening next. One will be held in the Lakeside Baptist Church and will be conducted by Rev. N. McNaughton and Rev. C. H. Daly. Another service will be held in St Andrew's Church, and will be conducted by Rev. Principal Everton and Rev. R. W. Lee.

A most successful afternoon tea was participated in by members of the Anglican congregation on Wednesday at the Rectory. The efforts of five ladies of the congregation brought about the arranging of the function, which gathered together not less than about seventy friends of the church. A nominal charge was made for the tea, and an amusing sideshow in the nature of a picture gallery was very extensively patronized, and proved a good source of revenue. Proceeds amounting to about $22 rewarded the ladies, which sum was devoted to the church fund.

The local Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters enjoyed two or three hours of fraternal relaxation following their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening last. Almost the entire resident membership was present, and business consisting among other items of nominating officers and an initiation was put through, following which the court listened to an address from Bro. T. H. Bain of Pentleton, who is now in Summerland. Card tables then appeared, and whilst was indulged in till well past midnight. Instrumental and vocal music was provided by members, and refreshments kindly sent by the members' wives were served, both greatly adding to the enjoyment of the evening.

Will Atkinson is now in Vernon seeking enlistment in the B.C. Horse with the second Canadian contingent.

Mr. G. J. C. White went up to Vernon this morning to attend an executive meeting of the Okanagan United Growers.

The School Board regular monthly meeting was held yesterday afternoon, but demands of time and space preclude further mention of it till next week.

Presbyterian services will be held in St Andrew's Church next Sunday morning and in the Methodist Church in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. N. McNaughton will preach at the afternoon service.

Mr and Mrs Foreman wish to thank the many inquirers after Mrs Foreman's health. Mrs Foreman left the hospital on Tuesday last, and is feeling well, although it will be necessary for her to take complete rest for some time.

Messrs Wallace and Norton's lease of Hotel Summerland expires next Tuesday, November 10th. Mr Wallace has already gone to the Coast, and Mr Norton and Mrs Wallace will follow next week. Mr and Mrs Frank Marshall take over the hotel at that date.

A road camp has been established at Crescent Beach to facilitate the work on the Lakeshore Drive to Peachland, which is now being pushed ahead, with H. C. Mellor in charge at the Summerland end. The grandstand building has been utilized for the purpose very satisfactorily.

Rev. R. W. Lee will conduct divine worship in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning next at 10.30. The subject of address will be "The Day of the Lord." In the evening Rev. Principal Everton and Rev. R. W. Lee will conduct the service in St Andrew's Church at 7 p.m.

LINE UP on the side of the majority and get a genuine footwear bargain at the Leather Store Shoe Sale. The sale continues until the end of November, and you will have a chance to win one of the three $5 pairs of boots (your own selection from the entire stock) which will be given free.

Mr and Mrs E. C. Graham entertained the members of Myrtle Rebekah Lodge, No. 32, to the number of about twenty-eight to an evening of social enjoyment at their Peach Orchard home on Saturday evening of last week. In honor to the night of Hallowe'en the grown-ups became young again, and in the juvenile costumes worn for the occasion there were effects distinctly cute and comical. The amusements of the evening, games and music, were also carried on in the juvenile temperament, causing much merriment and pleasure of an unusual nature. Dainty and inviting refreshments were served, rounding out the enjoyment of the evening.

The Hallowe'en prankers seem, with a few exceptions, to have confined their mischievousness to comparatively harmless tricks last Saturday night, perhaps finding their spirits somewhat dampened by the rain. A good many folks were compelled to spend some extra time on their vehicles the next morning, fixing on buggy wheels that had to be hunted for, and such like minor annoyances. On Shaughnessy Avenue the barber's sign and forry notice board found new resting places, and sundry obstructions on the sidewalks made walking a little slow. In the upper section of the town much the same tactics seem to have been employed, and in addition some seem to have gone out of their way to make the Central School the scene of their amusements, doing damage that the ratepayers must foot the bill for. When doors are burst open, a stove more or less broken, chairs and tables damaged, to say nothing of a general disarrangement of apparatus generally it would seem that the jokers somewhat strained their pastimes. The opening of school was delayed for about two hours on Monday in consequence. Another instance of indefensible damage was found in the interruption to the telephone service which was made by damaging wires at West Summerland. To do this necessitated a climb up a pole of ordinary height, so that the perpetrators must have been hard pressed to find scope for their joking intentions.

Quarter-Master Sergeant H. J. Collas of the B.C. Horse stationed at Vernon spent Wednesday at his home here.

With the bulk of the apple harvest now packed, the staff at the Fruit Union warehouse has been reduced considerably since the first of the month.

Determined to remove the last traces of fire blight in this and other districts of the province, Inspector Cunningham now has a large staff of experienced men searching the orchards tree by tree, and cutting out any evidences of the disease.

Father Le Chene of the Penticton Roman Catholic Church was in Summerland on Tuesday on a pastoral visit. A celebration of Holy Mass was held in the Campbell Hall in the morning, and attended by many of the Catholics of the community.

Miss Randall, who for several years has been Matron at Okanagan College, has received a cable from a widowed brother in Australia asking her to join him there. She will leave as soon as a successor can be found and sailing arrangements made. Her resignation was very regretfully accepted by the board.

In the Baptist Church on Sunday morning the address will be on "The One Talent Man." In the evening there will be a Union Service of the down town church people under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. Rev. C. H. Daly will give the address. Special music will be given by the choirs of the Methodist and Baptist churches.

Four more of Summerland's young men, Jack Craig, Thos. Hickey, J. C. Kennedy, and H. G. Murray left on Thursday night to join the second contingent. After about two months in camp at the Coast, they expect to proceed to England, and later to the Continent. At the Coast they will be attached to the Rocky Mountain Rough Riders.

A foreigner of Bulgarian birth, whose intentions were probably more harmless than they appeared to be, came into town from across the lake on Thursday afternoon and alarmed a number of ladies about town by his peculiar behavior. He was finally lodged in the jail for the night, and after a night's sojourn there was liberated with a broad hint to go elsewhere.

The West Summerland Women's Institute will hold their regular monthly meeting in the High School Building at 2.30 next Friday afternoon, the 13th inst., and it is the request of the secretary and executive that as large an attendance as possible be made on this occasion. Dr F. W. Andrew will give the Institute his postponed talk on First Aid, and in this connection members are asked to provide themselves with pencils and notebooks. An interesting and reasonable feature of the meeting will be a display of inexpensive Christmas gifts, which will be an exhibition of the members' own work. A paper will also be read on "The True Meaning of Hospitality." This comprises quite an extensive program, and one that should attract a good attendance.

Masquerade Social.

The monthly social gathering of the St Andrew's Y.P. Guild provided a most enjoyable evening on Wednesday in the Campbell Hall. It took the form of a Halloween entertainment, and the hall was picturesquely decorated with lanterns. In one corner, in the tent of the fortune teller, one could gain a peep into the mysteries of the future.

The members had been requested to come in masquerade, and the many pretty costumes made a bright scene in the soft light of the swinging lanterns.

Partners were auctioned off to the ladies, at times the bidding waxing very exciting. The couples then bent their energies to the solving of an interesting contest, Miss Moke and Mr Phinney carrying off the prize.

Five great nations—Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, and Belgium—then met in friendly contest, to see which group could evolve the best patriotic song. The Germans were unanimously declared the victors, and their chorus, to the tune of "Tipperary," certainly deserves to win fame.

The "Coon brothers" afforded much amusement with their music and jokes, and took good care during the interval to see that the company were not allowed to become dull. After the serving of refreshments the enjoyable evening came to a close, leaving everyone with a sense of regret that it was so soon over.

A new form of rural mail box has been recently adopted by the Post Office Department, and several of these are now to be found in this district. The box is much larger than the old style, and is somewhat differently attached to the post. The whole end of the box opens to permit the placing of parcels therein. No doubt the new parcel post regulations have made the larger box necessary. For $1.50 any rural route patron may have his old box replaced with a larger.

2nd Primer—Marjorie Atkinson, Arthur Dunsdon, Rupert Wright, Harry Dunsdon.
1st Primer —James Dunsdon, Janet Wismer.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

West Summeland, B.C.

Editor, Summerland-Review.

Dear Sir,
Under the heading "Tax Sale Lands" in your issue of 30th ult., you state the Municipal Council adopted a policy by which unpaid vendors will have first right to obtain tax sale deed, and the former owner the second right.

I think it necessary to say this is incorrect. It was merely agreed to permit a company to buy certain lands at a fixed price, within 15 days, if the Municipality became legal owner. The Municipality has no power to grant any lien or rights to any person or corporation merely because he or it formerly had an interest in land subsequently owned by the Municipality.

The point is that land owners, whether resident or non-resident, who let their lands be sold for taxes, and the statutory time to redeem elapses, do so at their peril, and after such time must be treated as new purchasers. Legally their old rights are ended when this time expires.

The above is merely written to prevent any owners relying on an incorrect position. I regret you should have any difficulty in being notified of Council meetings, as your paper has always been very free with its space for Municipal doings.

Yours truly,
Nov. 5, 1914. W. C. KELLEY.

As stated in our story of last week's Council Meeting our information was not gotten first hand, as we were not advised of the meeting, but we went to the best source we could reach, one who sat at the Board. Evidently there are different views among those who took part in the deliberation as to just what transpired. The Review considers the doings of the Council as of prime importance to all rate-payers, and has always given fullest reports possible. The fixing of Thursday afternoon as the time of regular meeting, just as we are looking forward for press, has made it impossible to give as much detail as we would wish.—Ed.

Will Shorten Distance To Vancouver By Half

Looks Like Early Opening Of Short Route.

When the K.V.R. gives us a passenger service to Vancouver we shall not long be compelled to travel via the Nicola Valley branch and Spence's Bridge, judging from the manner in which the Hope Mountain route is being pushed, that section will be completed very shortly after connection is given with the Nicola Valley branch.

Grading in the Hope Mountain section has been almost completed, and the line will probably be ready for traffic as soon as the bridge across the Fraser at Hope is completed. The construction work on this bridge is now well advanced, and it is stated that structural operations are proceeding briskly.

Judging from reports of renewed activity all along the unfinished portions of the K.V.R. it would seem that President Warren's prediction that it will be possible to board a parlor car here for Vancouver in June next will be well within the range of possibility; followed almost immediately by the opening of the Hope Mountain section, putting us within two hundred and thirty miles of Vancouver, practically half the distance which we now must cover to reach that metropolis.

Summerland Apples To Advertise Canada

Apples from Summerland will figure prominently in Canada's display at the Panama Exposition in San Francisco next spring. Two thousand boxes in all are being sent from this country of which one thousand go from British Columbia, and are being gathered by Mr. R. G. L. Clarke, Supt. of Dominion Fruit Inspectors for this province. Mr. Clarke spent several days in this district last week, when he selected about 400 boxes for the Panama Exposition. Another 200 will be sent from Penticton, and the balance of the thousand made up from other points.

Clearing and Plowing At Experimental Farm

Work Proceeding Apace.

With eight teams and nearly a score of men in all, actually engaged in the work of clearing and plowing since Monday morning Supt. Helmer has already wrought quite a transformation on the new Experimental Farm site.

All the land, some one hundred and twenty acres, which it is proposed to plow this fall has been cleared of its thick covering of sage brush, and quite a lot of plowing has been done. Mr. Helmer says the ground is in perfect condition for plowing, there having been just enough rainfall. It is quite possible that a topographical survey will be made this fall, and the superintendent is desirous of making at least a start on the fluming.

DONATIONS TO HOSPITAL.

Hospital Ball Exceeds All Expectation

Brilliant Society Event a Gratifying Financial Success

Once again the ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary have shown themselves capable of bringing to a successful conclusion their efforts put forth from time to time on the behalf of the local hospital. Along the line of social functions, the first annual ball held on Tuesday evening of this week may well be termed the crowning success of the Auxiliary. Perhaps the worthy object to which the proceeds of the evening were devoted was in part responsible for the agreeable air of friendliness that settled upon the crowd of dancers, but the happy way in which the ladies had anticipated all the conditions that go to make up a most enjoyable evening must also take a large share of the credit.

Empire Hall has seldom seen such a bright scene as the dance presented at its height. The many-hued dresses moving in rhythmic procession made indeed a pretty picture. The ladies looked their best, and many ball dresses distinctly chic were noted among the large number singled out for special admiration.

Considerable pains had been taken by the committee who had charge of the decorations, and the result of their labor was visible most strikingly in the appearance of the hall, bedecked with innumerable flags and sprigs of Oregon grape, forming a most appropriate decorative scheme. Flags of all sizes had been put into service, and the result made the room take on a gala appearance that fitted the gay attire of the ladies. Something new was effected in the sudden unfolding of a big Canadian flag from the ceiling in the middle of one of the dances, and the sudden outburst of patriotic music that showed the minds of those present were not set entirely upon pleasure. As a two step was being played, the music suddenly ceased, and by an unseen arrangement of strings, the flag of the Dominion unfolded itself above. The orchestra struck up the strains of "The Soldiers of the King," followed by the popular "Tipperary" song, and everyone sang as they danced. The incident made a striking and long-to-be-remembered effect. In all there were probably about a hundred couples on the floor, and in addition a few non-dancers were on the stage enjoying the spectacle. If the floor was a little crowded at times, everyone was in the humor to make light of it, and an occasional jostle just added to the fun. A good program of varied dances was gone through, and with a few extras called for, the concluding number was not reached till after two o'clock. The floor had been put in excellent condition for the dance. The music was of the best, adding not a little to the evening's pleasure. It was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Walters, who most kindly gave their services for the occasion, an offering which the Ladies' Auxiliary received with gratification.

Shortly before midnight an interlude was made in the dancing to serve refreshments, and this part of the program was carried out in the hall adjoining. Here again the arrangements of the ladies of the Auxiliary left nothing to be desired. They had anticipated the needs of a good crowd, and though their resources were taxed almost to the limit, the ladies rose fully to the situation. With an abundance of willing help, the company was served in two sections. The satisfying supper consisted of dainty portions of chicken salad, with bread and butter and cake of many kinds, accompanied by excellent coffee.

In addition to the large crowd of Summerlanders who gave their patronage to the ball, five automobiles came well loaded from Penticton, and still other dancers came up the lake and from Naramata by the special trip of the ferry. The pleasant mingling of the visitors from the outside towns with the local company was quite noticeable.

The Hospital Auxiliary will clear from the evening, it is expected, not less than about $175. This gratifying showing brings great satisfaction, and the ladies are justly jubilant over their achievement. The Auxiliary desires to place on record its appreciation of the help received from many sources contributing to the success of the function in large or small measure, and to thank all the helpers who worked so unsparringly to the same charitable end.

Elocutionary Recital In The Men's Club

Inaugurates Methodist Church Lecture Course.

Rev. D. E. Hatt already has a great reputation as an elocutionist, not only locally, but throughout the province and beyond. He is known best from his recitals of the poems of Henry Drummond. From Mr. Hatt's readings of the poems in the quaint French-Canadian dialect one gains something of the realism that inspired the poet as he wrote; the pathos goes home to the heart, the humor asserts itself clearly, and the pictures of Quebec life seem real just from the words. There are few who tire of Drummond, and this in itself is no small compliment to Mr. Hatt's talent.

The unpleasant evening militated somewhat against the complete success of the recital held on Thursday in the Men's Club. This concert inaugurated the series of entertainments planned to be presented during the next few weeks under Methodist Church auspices, under the general head of a Lecture Course. As it was, the body of the hall was well filled, and certainly the gallery would have been also, had weather conditions been more enticing.

Rev. R. W. Lee acted as chairman for the evening, and after a few brief remarks from him the program was proceeded with.

Music had a prominent place during the evening, the soloists being Miss Price of Naramata, Miss Anna Hayes, Mr. T. G. Beavis, and Mr. J. O. Smith. All gave great pleasure to their hearers, and were rewarded with hearty applause. Miss Price's selections were: "How Many a Lonely Caravan," "Rose in the Bud," and "Little Grey Home in the West"; Miss Hayes sang "Down the Vale," and "A Little Pink Rose"; Mr. Beavis two songs, "There's a Land," and "Song of Sleep"; Mr. Smith, "Richard of Taunton Deane," and "Off to Philadelphia."

Mr. Hatt's program consisted of eleven selections from Drummond, and at the close he also recited a national patriotic poem. The interest of the audience in the different selections was greatly height-

Capacity of Storage System Now Practically Doubled

Additions To Big Dam Finished.

Coun. R. Johnson is at the new dam at Trout Creek headwaters, having left here on Thursday morning. Mr. Johnson expects to finally pass the work done there by Mr. R. Mitchell. He made a trip to the dam a few days ago, but found one or two minor details that were not completed quite to his idea of the reading of the contract, and so notified Mr. Mitchell, who at once undertook to make the work satisfactory to the Council, and it is confidently expected that Mr. Johnson will be able to approve of the work this week.

With this new dam (or rather extensive enlargement of the old one) there will be practically double the amount of water held in reserve for next summer's dry season as there was this year.

BIRTHS.

WELDON—At the Summerland Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Weldon, on Friday, November 6th, a son.

SMITH—To Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Smith, on Sunday, November 8th, at the Summerland Hospital, a son.

ened by the brief explanation of their origin, which Mr. Hatt gave. Space forbids mention of them all, but in the fine program representative of all the emotions the poet has clothed words, there were two or three numbers that never fail to make a tremendous appeal. "Dominique" and "The Last Portage" are well-known as wonderfully touching, and in the opposite vein are "Johnny Corbeau," and the laughable "Stove Pipe Hole."

His whole program served to increase the liking of lovers of elocution here for Mr. Hatt's Drummond recitals, and he may always be sure of an attentive and appreciative hearing.

Mrs. H. Milner of London, England, is a guest at Felix Hotel. Mrs. Milner travelled by easy stages across the continent and will probably remain here for some weeks.

World's Temperance Sunday

Eloquent Pulpit Appeals For Banishment Of Bar.

Sunday last was set apart among the evangelical churches for a world-wide observance in the cause of temperance. Two services were held in Summerland that evening in connection with the movement, one in each section of the district.

In St. Andrew's Church Rev. R. W. Lee, pastor of the local Methodist Church, and Rev. S. Everton of Okanagan College, were joint leaders of the service. There was an unusually large congregation, and the evening's worship was of such character that would not only settle one more firmly in their convictions, but would also rouse into action any who had fallen into an apathetic attitude in regard to the temperance issue.

Rev. S. Everton's address has been pronounced by not a few of his listeners as the finest temperance sermon of their hearing. It set forth logically and lucidly the temperance position, and built up the justice of the cause with irrefutable argument. Rev. R. W. Lee also spoke at the conclusion of Mr. Everton's address. Mention was made of the proposed migration of the outlawed liquor interests from the American states of Washington and Oregon, which very recently voted in favor of prohibition within their borders. It was pointed out how derogatory to the best interests of this province it would be to allow these brewery and allied interests to entrench themselves once more in British Columbia.

In the Lakeside Baptist Church Rev. N. McNaughton, pastor, appeared on the platform with Rev. C. H. Daly of the Presbyterian Church. There was a good audience, and Mr. Daly's sermon was a strong set-out of the advance temperance sentiment has made in the last generation. He also added a direct application of the question to Summerland, setting forth the arguments advanced by those who favored the introduction of a licensed bar into this town, showing their shallowness, and giving their clear answer.

A strong union choir of the Methodist and Baptist Churches led in the singing, and rendered special music very effectively in an anthem "O, Worship the Lord," and a quartette, "Shepherd of Souls," by Mrs. G. M. Ross, Miss L. Brown, Messrs. S. F. Sharp and G. Thornber.

At the conclusion of both services a resolution emanating from the Women's Christian Temperance Union was put to the congregations and carried unanimously. It urged the co-operation of the churches with the Union in their common work of social service.

In the service at the Inko section Mr. G. J. C. White also made brief mention of the move proposed by certain American liquor interests to B.C., and the danger to the moral standing of the province that lurked therein.

November Session of School Board.

The regular November meeting of the School Board was held on the afternoon of Thursday of last week, when the business was mainly of a routine nature.

Some reference was made to the Hallowe'en pranks in the Central School, but it was finally decided to leave the matter open to give the culprits themselves an opportunity to make good what damage they have done. Their identity is known, so that it will be to their interests to take this step.

Dr. Andrew, Medical Inspector of the schools, submitted his periodical report on the general health of the school children and conditions pertaining thereto.

Inspector Anstey, after an investigation into the question of allowing children to continue at the Garnett Valley School as far as the Entrance Class, advised the Board that to allow this course would be unwise, and in effect a departure from the principle of the Consolidated School. The objection raised by some of the parents has been the distance to the Central School.

The tender of S. H. Adams for 34 cords of wood, true measure, at $5 per cord was accepted.

Accounts covering the previous month were passed as follows:

Salaries	$650.00
Conveyance contracts	205.80
S'land Drug Co.	66.55
G. L. McWilliams	15.65
Ok. Lake Boat Co., coal	184.02
Wood	29.00
Sundries	85.75
Total	$1206.87

Monthly Meeting of Hospital Board.

The monthly meeting of the Hospital Board was held on Tuesday when the usual monthly accounts were passed for payment.

Mr. Higgin reported the meeting of a committee of the Board with the Ladies Auxiliary to consider the wisdom of holding a bazaar. The Ladies Auxiliary advised against it, saying the returns were disproportionate with the work entailed, but they assured the Board of their continued energies in behalf of the Hospital.

The matter of professional help at the institution, which was held over from a recent special meeting, was carefully considered, resulting in an offer by telegram being made to Miss Warner of Vancouver. Miss Warner visited this district recently and came to the relief of the local Hospital staff a week or two ago when they were overwhelmed with work. No reply to the offer has yet been received.

Already the capacity of the new Hospital is inadequate for the demands upon it, and the need of having the upper story finished at the earliest date is very apparent. For the present, to provide additional sleeping accommodation for the staff, it was decided to rent the Millar cottage across the street at $5 per month.

A committee was appointed to wait on the Council to ask for a grant toward the building fund.

An X-ray equipment for the operating room is badly needed, and the Board are hoping that some generous citizen will make them a present of this now necessary outfit.

Drowned Near Home.

Little Son of Reeve Meets Accidental Death Under Distressing Circumstances.

Death entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ritchie very suddenly on Monday and took away their little son, James Findlay, sixteen months old, their youngest child, to the "Home for Little Children."

The little boy, scarcely more than a toddler, had been playing about the house outside with his two sisters. Shortly before noon the latter came in without their little brother, and being asked where he was, innocently replied they did not know. A hurried search outside failed to reveal the lost boy, and suspecting he might have fallen into the creek which runs swiftly a few yards from the house, a number of searchers hunted along its banks. Mr. Ritchie was away from home at the time, and being telephoned for hastened back, approaching the house from the east by a short cut, by which he would meet the creek some distance away. It was the father's harrowing experience to first see his son's inert form in the stream under some overhanging brush which might have hidden him from the eyes of searchers following the course of the creek from the house.

Just how the little one came to his end cannot exactly be known, nor just how long he was in the water. It is thought the child may have fallen from a little bridge near the house, or perhaps slipped on the bank. From the time he was first missed till the time he was found not more than about fifteen or twenty minutes elapsed. Doctors were hastily summoned, and though both local medical men worked for two hours over the inanimate form, trying to revive the little soul to consciousness, it could not be done.

The funeral was held on Tuesday. Rev. N. McNaughton of the Baptist Church conducted a short service at the house, and later on read the words of comfort at the committal service at the graveside in the Peach Orchard Cemetery. A large number of friends attended, bearing with the grieving parents in silent and sincere sympathy.

The pall bearers were two of little James' cousins, Cecil and Dwight, Hugh McIntyre and Ronald Phinney. To Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie in this their time of bereavement, the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes out, as they mourn the sudden removal of a bright little face from their family circle.

CARD OF THANKS.

So impressed was a business man of Chicago, who visited Vancouver recently, with the wonderful display of B.C. apples, that he ordered a shipment sent to his friends in Chicago. Nowhere, he said, had he ever seen such fine fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Jna. Ritchie wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to the many friends who have so very kindly remembered them in their recent bereavement.

MORE SATISFACTORY.

TO THE ALLIED ARMS the past week has brought success in varying degree from all the war centres of the world. First came the fall of Tsing Tau, the last German stronghold in the Pacific, on the Shantung Peninsula, China, which fell before a siege conducted by allied British and Japanese, with strong naval support from the Mikado's ships. Later came the cheery news that a cruiser of the Australian navy had run the German cruiser "Emden" to the end of that ship's career as a commerce destroyer. The "Emden" was put out of action among the East Indian Islands with heavy loss to her crew, driven ashore and set on fire, her assailant, the "Sydney," escaping almost unscathed. This incident puts another feather in the cap of the Australian admiralty. Another German sea-wasp, the light cruiser "Koenigsburg" was discovered by the British warship "Chatham" lurking in the estuary of an African river. The German boat retreated up stream out of reach of the Britisher, and a blockade of sunken ships now makes of the "Koenigsburg" an expensive ornament.

In Europe, the showiest success is the feat of the Russian army in Galicia, which has succeeded at tremendous cost in driving a wedge between the Austrian army and its German support. The Kaiser is reported to be sending strong reinforcements from the western war zone to aid the Austrians in their plight, but it will take hard fighting to rob the Russians of their advantage. There has been no decisive conflict between Russian and Turkish troops, but it is not unreasonable to anticipate the disaster that awaits the Sultan in the half-hearted German inspired campaign. The situation has not materially changed in East Prussia, though the Czar's troops are reported to be daily establishing their position more firmly, and expect to be making advances farther into Prussian territory before long.

Along the Franco-Belgian-German frontiers, decisive victory has yet to be declared for either side. The German move on Calais has been brought to a stop, and along the whole line east and south to Alsace the struggle seems likely to drag itself out into a "survival of the fittest" campaign. What little advantage either side can claim goes in favor of the Allies for their resources are greater and of more fighting weight than the German empire can call up. This is what the experts have in mind when they declare that every week the war drags on brings the scale down further for the Allies.

CANADIANS have taken more than a passing interest in the elections held last week in the United States. That the Democratic party would be sustained was fully anticipated. The principal interest centred in the plebiscites being taken on various national questions, principally prohibition, with perhaps woman's suffrage as a close second.

The two neighboring states, Washington and Oregon, have decided to prohibit the manufacture and sale of liquors within their boundaries, notwithstanding that brewery and other interests used every effort to defeat the measure.

There are now fourteen states in the union with laws prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages, not including a number of states portions of which are "dry" under local option laws.

Women now have full suffrage in ten states and in Alaska—Nevada and Montana voting in favor of woman's suffrage last week. In addition to these ten states granting full franchise, twenty-two other states give women a limited say in matters of state.

Will Take Up Mixed Farming.

Dr. A. A. Goldsmith Buys Garnett Orchard Property.

The man of ideas, and who is not afraid to put his ideas into practise, is always welcomed as a valuable addition in any community. Such a man is Dr. A. A. Goldsmith, who has just purchased an orchard property here from E. Garnett, and registered at the Felix Hotel last night.

The Review, given the privilege of an interview this morning, found Dr. Goldsmith a most interesting personage, a man who has always been closely identified with matters of agriculture, particularly live stock of all kinds. While a believer in diversified agriculture he does not approve of spreading out too much. On the other hand he strongly condemns adhering to either fruit growing or wheat raising exclusively. He has seen the cattleman of the prairies come and go, followed later by the grain grower. The third, the diversified farmer and builder of permanent homes, is the one who is making the prosperous west.

Dr. Goldsmith says he wants to work in conjunction with the people of the community, and to help them where he can, and at the same time to learn from them. To put it in his own words—in coming here to reside he hopes to be useful and to lead the simple life. He will at once take possession of the his newly acquired property, and intimated that he would as soon as possible stock the place with fowl, hogs, and a couple of cows. Thoroughbred stock only will be used, and the doctor is seriously considering undertaking the raising of ducklings and geese.

Dr. Goldsmith is a pleasing conversationalist, and our citizens will be glad to meet and welcome him, and will watch his experiments here with interest.

LOYAL JACK CANUCK. (New York Press.)

"The news that Canada has sent 32,000 men to the front is not at all surprising to those who know Canada. The Dominion is and always has been more loyal than the King. No Tory in London is more devoted to the crown than the average citizen of Toronto. If it did not interfere with his business he would set his clock by London time."

WHAT IS COMING TO HIM. (New York Press.)

"English persistence and French dash together have given the German War Lord a set back. He has had a taste in the last few days of what is coming to him even more completely at some future time. He will learn then that his military arm is just as much of a broken reed as his diplomatic arm already has proved itself to be."

LOCALS.

The Presbyterian Sunday afternoon service in the Methodist Church has been withdrawn for this week on account of the Methodist Harvest Festival services.

Mr and Mrs J. H. Lee of Cranbrook were passengers on the "Stamouis" last evening on a visit to Mr Lee's brother, Rev. R. W. Lee of the Summerland Methodist Church.

Sergeant F. A. C. Wright of the 88th Victoria Fusiliers came in on last night's boat to spend a week at his home here. Mr Wright, along with others of his regiment who have volunteered for the front, have been mobilized in the 30th battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, and hopes to leave for Europe next month.

The Summerland Women's Institute will hold their regular meeting in the Men's Club on Friday afternoon, November 20 at three o'clock. The ladies are looking forward to hearing Miss McLeod's paper on "A Woman's Duty to Herself." The subject of Christmas Cooking will be dealt with, and there will also be a Button-hole Demonstration.

Tom Hickey, the injured volunteer who suffered a shot wound at Pentleton last week, has been making good recovery from the fracture to his ankle. The bullet was extracted last week-end, and the injured leg will soon be put into plaster when Tom will be able to go outside a little and enjoy the verandah. He has had many visitors during his few days in hospital.

A large blue print of the Franco-Belgian frontier has been exhibited in the window of C. N. Borton's store this week, attracting much notice. It is along this frontier that the hardest fighting of the present war has been staged, and here the Allies have been meeting the German onrushes. The map has been prepared by Hamilton Lang, C.E., of Vernon, as a contribution to the Belgian Relief Movement. It shows very clearly every town, village, and river, which has been brought into prominence, and the position of the armies at present is also shown.

Wedding Anniversary Celebrated.

Mr and Mrs R. H. King-entertained on Tuesday evening in honor of the sixth anniversary of their wedding. Guests to the number of about thirty put in their appearance early in the evening—and came one and all apparently with the idea uppermost of having a good time. As but only a limited number were trained into the mysteries of tripping the light fantastic, it was agreed by way of amusement to play games instead, interspersed with the songs and stories. The huge wedding cake was cut by Rev Mr Beatty. A toast was proposed in honor of the young couple who were thus being reminded of their past history, and the groom was ordered to salute the bride after the manner of real marriages—an order which was obeyed with becoming expedition and grace. Toward the close the merrymakers, following up the toast, sang, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," and with Auld Lang Syne, the guests dispersed to their own homes feeling that the crane as still hung in the home of Mr and Mrs King, through whose hospitality a fine social evening had been spent. Amongst those noticed were: Mr and Mrs J. M. Myers, Mr and Mrs T. I. Williams, Mr and Mrs W. Armour, Mr and Mrs T. H. Boothe, Mr and Mrs O. Hughes, Mr and Mrs H. T. Davies, Mr and Mrs F. J. Young, Mr and Mrs J. H. Pushman, Mr and Mrs J. Young, Mr and Mrs J. C. Lyons, Mr Allen, Mrs Jno. Noyes, Miss Crabtree, Miss Edna Noyes, Rev J. I. Beatty.

Mr and Mrs Walters are being congratulated on the very fine quality of music furnished by them, upon the occasion of the Hospital Ball in Summerland on Tuesday evening.

Captain F. J. Languedoc was fortunate enough in a half day's hunt on Monday to secure a fine deer. As deer appear to be more conspicuous by their absence this season, the captain's streak of good fortune is all the more noticeable.

Did you ever stand in the golden sunlight of a warm day with your eyes turned upon a sheet of fly paper. If so you may have noticed how when one fly adheres to the sticky surface, its companions, instead of profiting by the horrible warning, immediately buzz down and go to destruction in the same manner, and in a little time there are hundreds in the throes of death. They are fools, to be sure, and so are men. Men see their associates caught in the nets of vice. There are examples and warnings all about human beings, but they treat them as lightly as do flies and step down to death just as insensibly.

Current Events OF Town & District

Mrs Hughes was a visitor to Pentiction on Wednesday.

Mr Frank Marshall of Summerland was in town for a short while on Monday.

Further word from Silver City, Idaho, gives encouraging news as to the prospects.

The Hospital Ball in Summerland on Tuesday drew an unusually large number from Naramata.

The members of the Farmers' Institute meet this evening, Friday, in the church basement.

Mrs W. Nuttall entertained on Saturday afternoon in honor of a number of her girl friends.

Mr Fred Roe took a trip to Fairview this week in order to look after some of his pre-emption claims in that vicinity.

Mrs Jno. Noyes entertained last Saturday evening in honor of her brother Gerald's birthday. Only the immediate friends were present and a genial time was spent.

A more detailed account of the card party held last evening under Unity Club auspices, presided over by Mesdames Mitchell and Cash is necessarily held over till next issue.

The Okanagan Trust Co. have further extended their electric light system down Fourth Street as far as Nurse Williams' new cottage and also to accommodate Mr Walter Land.

Mr Jno. Noyes has accepted a position as engineer with the Okanagan Lake Boat Company. As Mr Noyes is highly qualified by both a practical and theoretical knowledge the company may be said to be well set up as far as a first class crew.

Amongst the prominent soloists who contributed to the program in the Men's Club Concert last evening in Summerland was Miss Doris Price, of Naramata. During her short residence in town, Miss Price has established a place amongst the music lovers of the community.

The dramatic class under the direction of Mrs W. L. Robinson has in course of preparation one or two plays to be presented in the near future. The young people need not find the time dull with all the numerous attractions from day to day.

The Boy Scouts enjoyed a pleasant outing last evening marching out to the home of F. J. Young, where the lads were hospitably received by their hostess, Mrs Young. But let's wait till next week and hear "Boy Scout's" version of the event.

Mr Robinson went out on Saturday in response to a wire from Mr J. McPherson, C.P.R. Right-of-Way man, to meet at Golden, B.C., from which place they would go over the new line as far as Edgewater. Mr McPherson was at one time a printer, and worked on the Portage in Prairie Review.

The song services on Sunday evenings continue to hold their popularity. Last meeting was no exception. Mr Mackie again presided at the organ in his usual efficient manner and with the special musical numbers provided for the occasion made a delightful way of spending the fading hours of the day. Next Sunday Mrs Walters will sing a solo, and it is expected that one of the handmen will contribute a selection.

Next Monday night is the date set for the next meeting of the Literary and Debating Society. Now the committee announce that they have something up their literary sleeves and that it behoves all lovers of good "speaking" to be on hand. An effort will be made to get H. P. Salting to "speak" for 15 or 20 minutes on "Phronology." Mr. Salting has made a careful study of the subject and will be able to illustrate by appropriate drawings. The other speakers will still then be kept in the dark. Better come and bring a friend to help you enjoy the laughs. Don't miss Monday night—but come.

Visited Summerland.

Chief Provincial Poultry Instructor Returns to Coast From Okanagan Reporting Conditions Healthy.

Mr J. R. Terry, Chief Provincial Poultry Instructor, has returned from a visit to Summerland, where, says the Victoria Colonist, he was present at two well-attended meetings, at which a short course on killing and plucking poultry for the market was given. He reports that the live stock industry has made great headway among the orchardists in the last two years. Taking milch cows, for instance, Mr Terry pointed out that though there were less than half a dozen in the municipality two years ago, there were now over 250.

Mr Terry also paid a visit to Vernon. Whilst there he made the necessary arrangements for the fourth annual provincial poultry show, to be held from December 8 to 11. During this show the annual general meeting of the B.C. Poultry Association and convention will be held.

The "girls" feel so much encouraged by their success with the Ambulance League concert that they are now talking of giving a "barn dance" a "masquerade" or something, in the beginning of December.

Alex. Seaton, whose birthday came on the same date as King Edward's was very much surprised when on arriving at the house from work on Monday evening, to find a large number of his boy friends gathered there to congratulate him on having reached the 19th milestone in his life safely, and to wish him a happy and prosperous life. A jolly time was spent for a few hours.

Miss Gertrude Powell left on Thursday morning for Maple Creek, accompanied by her father, Mr Thos Powell. She was married on Sunday morning in the church there to Mr Charles Christie Inglis, of the Beaver Lumber Co., of Consul, Sask., where the happy couple will make their home. Before leaving town Miss Powell was waited on by a delegation from the Handicraft Club and presented with a very handsome salad bowl and servers, accompanied by the best wishes of the Club for her future happiness.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Vern, eight years old—"What does transatlantic mean, mother?" Mother—"Across the Atlantic, of course; but you mustn't bother me!" Vern—"Does 'trans' always mean across?" Mother—"I suppose it does. Now, if you don't stop bothering me with your questions I shall send you right to bed!" Vern, after a few moments' silence—"Then does transparent mean a cross parent?"

The West Summerland civilian soldiers carried out another route march on Thursday afternoon, but the turn-out was not so good as at the previous one. The "destination unknown" proved to be out beyond Crescent Beach. The squad marched from the Flat through Peach Orchard to Crescent Beach, and along almost to Van Hise's, where they scaled the cliffs, and got on to the Peachland road. The return was made via Jones Flat to Col. Cartwright's, where the marchers were kindly served with light refreshments before dispersing, just in time to escape the snowfall.

A largely attended tea social was held at the home of Miss Annie Dale on Thursday afternoon. The object of the gathering was to raise funds towards the annual donation of $50 which is raised interdenominationally among the ladies of Summerland, in support of a bed in the Kinnard Hospital, Lucknow, India. To this end a nominal charge of fifteen cents was made for tea, and with a few larger contributions, the gratifying sum of $80 was raised. During the afternoon papers and letters were read bearing on the work of the hospital, and music added further to the pleasure and profit enjoyed by the company of ladies.

What was to most people the first serious reminder that winter is close at hand, appeared last night in the shape of the first fall of snow. If it had been the dry crisp snow of real winter it would not have been quite so unpleasant getting around this morning. Possibly an inch fell on the lower levels, and correspondingly more on the higher altitudes. As if ashamed of its first appearance, the snow did not lie long, disappearing gradually as the temperature rose during the day.

Examinations were held on Monday of this week of the candidates who have been taking the First Aid courses during the past few weeks. Drs Andrew and Kennedy exchanged classes to make the examinations more thorough, the former putting large classes of about twenty-five men and women through their test at West Summerland, and the latter examining the two classes comprising twelve at the Men's Club. The candidates will not know of their success or otherwise in obtaining the St John certificate for about two weeks.

The doings of the Municipal Council are always of particular interest to the ratepayers, and yesterday's were no less so than usual. The session occupied all the afternoon, much of the time being taken up by the hearing of citizens' delegations and individual petitioners. The Review never misses an opportunity to publish the discussions and enactments of the Board, and was represented at the meeting, but finds it practically impossible to get the subject matter into type in time for this week's issue. The Council were in session while we were preparing to go to press with our first forms, the last forms being printed as early Friday as possible, and necessarily earlier than formerly, because of the changes in the mail service. Realizing the resulting depreciation in its news value because of the forced holding over of the report, as well as the disappointment to a large number of our readers the Review doubly regrets the necessity of the delay.

Mr Kenneth Kinnard was down from Vernon over last week-end.

Mr and Mrs W. J. Horn, who have been resident here for some months, coming here from Saskatchewan for the benefit of Mr Horn's health, left on Thursday for their prairie home. The sojourn here has greatly improved Mr Horn's condition.

As a result of a recent trip to Calgary and district from where he returned on Monday, Mr E. Garnett not only disposed of a carload of apples for himself and brother at very satisfactory prices, but also closed a deal for an exchange of his orchard property here for a half section near Calgary.

Announcement was made at the Hospital Dances on Tuesday of a similar affair to be held at Pen-ticton in aid of the Hospital there on Friday, Nov. 27th, in the new Roller Rink. It is expected that a good number of dance devotees will go down that evening, returning the compliment the Penticton visitors paid the local Hospital last Tuesday.

The second lecture of the Lecture Course will be held in the Men's Club on Tuesday, November 24th, when Rev. G. R. B. Kinney, B.A., F.R.G.S., of Vancouver, will give an illustrated lecture on "Mountain Climbing in the Rockies and Selkirk." Mr Kinney will show over 100 of the finest colored views. Keep this date open. This is one of the treats of the season.

The churches of Summerland purpose following up the aggressive work commenced by the Every-body-at-Church-Sunday campaign. There will be special evangelistic services conducted by the Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches. Careful preparation is being made along special lines. No outside help is being secured. The music will be in the hands of local exports. The meetings will begin on Wednesday, November 25th, and will be carried on for the first period in the Lakeside Baptist Church. The last period will be conducted in St Andrew's Church. It is expected the meetings will last a little less than two weeks.

Dr and Mrs W. L. Robinson and Miss Robinson crossed from Naramata on Sunday afternoon last to visit Mr and Mrs G. M. Ross.

The condition of Mr A. G. Simms has not improved within the last few days, and he is still confined to his bed. It is possible that in the near future Mr and Mrs Simms will remove to California, where the climatic conditions are more favorable to Mr Simms's ailment.

A wire to Mr J. M. Robinson was received on Wednesday from Fred A. Gerling, mining engineer, who is in charge of the mining claims near Silver City, Idaho, which are being re-developed largely by Naramata and local capital. Mr Gerling's good news was that another large ore body had been struck, specimens from which panned-out at about $1,000 per ton.

The high altitude of the city of Calgary seems to have been too great for Mr T. E. Clay, who, according to advice received by his family here, has been ordered to the Coast by his physician, under whose care Mr Clay has been for some time. He left here at the opening of the fruit shipping season, and has been doing quite a business in the Calgary City Market. Of late sickness has seriously interfered with business.

A wholesome sign during these times that are spoken of somewhat glumly as "quiet" and "depressing," is seen in the ample opportunity that has lately been provided for able-bodied men of the district to get employment in the various works being prosecuted within and without the municipal limits. Apart from the regular ranch work for this time of year, there has been a very heavy program of municipal work in progress for some time in the shape of headwater improvements, extensive cement lining and pipe laying. The road work under H. C. Moller, north of Crescent Beach, is keeping a good sized gang busy, and Superintendent R. H. Holmer has, during the last few days, had men and teams busy at the Trout Creek Experimental Farm "brushing out" the farm site preparatory to the fall plowing which it is hoped will be effected.

Miss Robina Logie left last Saturday morning for the Coast to join her sister now convalescent there. If Miss Grace's health permits they will return together about the end of next week or a little later.

A paper chase provided the best of exercise for the legs of the local Scouts on Saturday afternoon of last week, when about twenty of them participated in an event of that nature. The run proved too much for a few of the hounds, a depleted pack showing up at the rendezvous at the end of the chase. Two Scouts, Johnson and Snow laid the course over a good route, though they were favored somewhat by the breezy day. From the starting point at the crossroads near the Central School the hares made a dash down towards Peach Orchard, over to Jones Flat, westward towards the mouth of Garnett Valley, across back of the Flat, and down to West Summerland and home. Though the trail layers appeared to make good time the leaders in the pursuit succeeded in reducing the lead against them. The outing made a novel experience for the Scouts, and a variation from the customary exercises.

Another of B.C.'s industries to benefit by the war is the silver-lead industry in the Kootenay. All the bullets for shrapnel shell now being manufactured for Canada will be made of Canadian lead.

Messrs Castner and Bolos left on Saturday with an apple exhibit for the Spokane Show, which opens next Monday. The growers of the Okanagan have not manifested much interest in this event this season, only 118 boxes being forwarded. The display, though not large, will be a credit to the Okanagan.—Vernon News.

Council Given Surprise Party.

Large Delegation of Citizens Urge That Municipal Officials Stamp Out Illicit Liquor Selling. Assured That Constable Is Vigilantly Active.

New Work Makes Heavy Calls on Finances.

Usual Routine of Monthly Session.

The question of illicit trafficking in alcoholic drinks loomed large in the last regular session of the Municipal Council, and while current reports of blind pigs and pocket selling have come to the ears of a few, no doubt to many the intimation that the illicit traffic is being carried on will come as a surprise.

A large number of citizens came before the Council advising them that the law in this regard was being broken, and asked that the Council instruct the municipal constable to put a stop to it.

Mr G. J. C. White, as leading spokesman of the delegation, in addressing the board said they had come to give public expression to their sentiments, and to ask for action upon the part of the Council as the people's representatives and the executive of the Municipality. Continuing, the speaker declared, "We are proud of the fact that Summerland is a no license municipality, and believe it will remain so. The public sentiment against the liquor traffic is growing everywhere as it is in Summerland. Nevertheless there is some drinking going on, and some of our young men as well as old toppers have given way to the temptation of strong drink. While private importations of liquor may be responsible for some of this, we have indisputable evidence that liquor is being sold. We do not believe that the way to cure the evil is to license it, but rather to weed it out. It has been said that Christian citizens and all opposed to the license should see to it that the illicit sale is stopped, but we do not believe that private citizens should be called upon to enforce the law, or even to ferret out crime, believing this to be the duty of municipal authorities. Some might say that we are foolish in coming here and making this public stand. We have no desire to persecute nor persecute, nor no desire to punish, only that the crime shall be stopped, so we ask you, Mr Reeve and Councilors, to instruct your constable to be vigilant in this matter, and free us of blind pigs and pocket vendors. It should not be difficult for him to get the information, but if he cannot we can give it to him. He should know that the Council is behind him, and that the sentiment of the people is with him."

That the sentiment of the public is overwhelmingly in favor of the suppression of the liquor traffic was evident from the petitions recently circulated, was the expression of Rev. C. H. Daly. He fully realized the delicate position in which the constable was placed, and the latter should know that the people stand behind him in the carrying out of this duty.

Rev. R. W. Lee said that one has not to live very long in the town to know that there is considerable dealing in liquor. There was no desire to prosecute. Summerland has had the reputation of being a clean total abstinence place, and it is desirable to maintain the high reputation of the community.

That it is very important that the law be adhered to was the statement of J. L. Hilborn. If it is the duty of the constable to protect private property and the safety of citizens, surely the lives of our young men are as important. It will be a great benefit to the community if the illicit traffic is kept in check.

Mr Moyle believed that if the official was sincere he could readily get evidence. There was an inherent honesty in nearly all men, and his experience was that in very few cases would a man commit perjury to protect the law-breaker.

Mr White declared that he did not think it a feather in the constable's cap to have gotten only one case in the last two or three years.

Everybody at times needs to be stirred up in no matter what line of business. If any citizens were disposed to perjure themselves it were better to give them the chance, and he asked that the Council give the constable explicit orders to get after the business.

If an official feels that the body behind him means business he will get after things, was the opinion of Dr. Sawyer, otherwise it was the tendency of human nature to let things go easy. He thought it no great difficulty to get after the liquor traffic and clean things up, and it was up to the Council to so instruct their constable, then if that officer fails, try another. Mr S. B. Snider spoke along the same lines.

The Reeve, while assuring the delegation that the Council was equally opposed to the selling of liquor, said that he did not think it necessary to pass a resolution of instructions to the constable as he had already on several occasions of late been told to put a stop to the illicit sale of liquor, and he was satisfied that the constable was ready to prosecute, and that he already knew that the Council was at his back.

With this assurance from the Reeve Rev. C. H. Daly said that the Council could depend on it that the overwhelming sentiment of the community would be with the Council in enforcing the law.

Rev. R. W. Lee realized the difficult position of the constable, and assured the co-operation of the delegation and citizens generally.

There was in the earlier stages of the discussion an apparent misunderstanding on the part of the Council as to the object of the delegation in coming before the Board, and of the committee as to the attitude of the Council toward the liquor traffic, and the assurance from the Reeve that the constable had had definite instructions to stamp out the traffic was received apparently with some surprise by at least a few of the delegates. Though they in a measure did not attain their object in having the Council pass a resolution as suggested, which, according to the view of the Council, would have meant a vote of censure of the constable, and an admission of negligence on the part of the Board, the delegation retired with the assurance that the Council was ready to work with any committee the citizens might name to stop any illegal selling that may exist, and that at least the three councillors present were strongly opposed to the sale of alcoholic drinks, and that the Board would back the constable in enforcing the law.

Another group of citizens from the Morningside district asked that the right-of-way running from near Mr Snider's property to that of Mr Heepeler, be opened up and made passable for traffic. That it was through a mistake that this had not been done years ago was the Reeve's reply, who said that those citizens should be given the road immediately, and issued instructions accordingly after a short discussion by the Board.

Messrs. W. J. Robinson, E. B. May, and Dr. Lipsitt, representing the Hospital Society, waited on the Council, presenting a statement of the building account, and asked for a municipal grant. President Robinson stated that the society was short on its last payment, and had only come to the Council on a last resort. Mr May said that there was yet a little over a thousand dollars due on the building, $425 of which was covered by pledges yet unpaid. The proceeds of the dance would further reduce this, leaving about $450 yet to be provided for, and asked the Council for a grant of $250 as they did not like to again go to the people for ## Work Suffers Interruption.

Frosty Nights Stop Concrete Working. Much Already Done.

For a time at least there is a forced halt in operations in the different parts of the municipality, where cement work has been going on. The frosty nights of last week, followed by a light fall of snow, made the working of concrete impracticable. The snow was of short duration, and those in charge of the work are confident of an early return of soft weather, when concrete can be left over night without danger of freezing.

There remains but a day or two of work to complete the concrete ditch on Jones Flat, which work has been done under the direction of Supt. Mitchell. When completed this fine new ditch will be 4350 ft. long, and will save an immense volume of water that has been heretofore going to waste because of the gravelly soil through which the old earthen ditch carried the water.

T. J. McAlpine, who is putting a concrete lining in the South main ditch, which conveys the water from near the reservoir, along the south of Prairie Valley and into Peach Valley, has also been compelled to stop work for the time. Of the three thousand feet of cement work to be done there practically two thirds is finished. Mr McAlpine feels confident of having suitable weather to complete the 1,100 feet yet to be lined, but also to do considerably more if his contract is enlarged to cover the remaining portions of the big ditch yet needing cement lining. It will be remembered the municipality offered to give Mr McAlpine the additional work, provided he would take debentures in payment. He yet hopes to take up this offer.

The 2,000 feet of ditch lining south of T. J. Garnett's home was done by Supt. Mitchell before starting on the Jones Flat ditch.

DOING LAST OF GRADING.

Bridge Construction Progressing.

Bridge building, which, it was at one time said, would be left over till spring, is now being carried on at Siwash Creek and other points along the unfinished portion of the Kettle Valley line between Osprey Lake and Princeton. The only portion of grading of any importance is that between East Princeton and Princeton, and a big steam shovel and outfit are now at work there on the heavy cuts necessary to put the right-of-way in shape for steel.

With this grading done and the bridge finished, 'twill be quite a short job to extend the steel down to Princeton to connect there with the V.V. & E. Ry. running west.

Through connection from the Similkameen to the Coast via Spence's Bridge has been made possible by the recent linking of the K.V.R. with the C.P.R. branch line running south from Merritt, but it is not probable that this new portion of the line will be opened to traffic until spring.

A CLOSE SHAVE.

Hodley, Nov. 16—(Special to the Review)—One of the narrowest squeaks that ever happened to a party of automobilists in this locality befell a quartette from Pontiac about five o'clock on Saturday evening on the Princeton road, at a point 12 miles west of Hodley. The party, consisting of Messrs C. A. Stoward, E. C. Holden, C. W. Woodruff and "Bill" Mason, the hero of half a dozen similar smash-ups, were returning from Princeton in Mr Stoward's Cadillac and evidently taking the curves in pretty lively fashion when the car swung into the steep bank beside the road, careened outward and over the lower bank, partially turning turtle, but not in the least injuring the occupants.

How the entire party escaped death or serious injury is a mystery as the car landed among boulders lying thicker than apples in Potadam. In reality they saved the lives of the men by preventing

Summerland Hospital.

Aggressive Campaign For New Building Amply Justified.

For about three days after the opening of the new hospital on September 17th there were no patients entered, but since then the staff have been kept fully occupied. Up to the end of October fourteen patients had entered the institution, and in all 123 days' treatment was given. During that time two major and two minor operations were performed, and there were also two births at the hospital.

Financially, the outlook is encouraging, provided the building account can soon be cleaned up. Earnings for the month and a half totaled $375.00. Of this $252 was charged against the patients, and $123 will be asked from the province, being $1.00 for each day patients are in residence at the hospital.

Expenses on the other hand were practically $100 less for the same period. It is not expected that the yearly average will show proportionate profits, but that the larger institution is not going to be the burden on the community that was predicted by some citizens seems assured.

The responsibility of the cost of the building is yet heavy on the shoulders of the Board, there being yet over $1,000 due, $700 to the contractor, $125 for wiring and lighting and $240 overdraft on loan at the bank. Over $400 in pledges are yet to be paid in, and all who have not fulfilled their promise toward the building account are urged to do so at once.

Miss Warner, the Vancouver nurse who was offered the position at the Hospital, has wired her acceptance, and will arrive to take up her duties at the local institution next week.

SCOTS SOCIETY ANNUAL MEETING.

The local St Andrew's and Caledonian Society met in the Campbell Hall on Tuesday evening. An unusual importance was attached to the occasion, it being the annual meeting. The attendance of members was very fair.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was the main business of the meeting. It resulted as follows:

Hon. President John Stark
President John G. Robertson
Vice-President G. D. Marshall
2nd Vice-President D. Keen
Secretary W. J. Beattie
Treasurer John D. Wood
Chaplain Rev. C. H. Daly
Trustees—W. J. Tullett, John S. Ritchie, H. Scott, D. C. Thompson, J. O. Smith, D. Lister
Bard D. Lister
Auditors G. W. McLaren, D. H. McIntosh

It was decided to hold a church parade at St Andrew's Church, on Sunday evening, November 29th. St Andrew's "Night," the great Scotch celebration night, will be marked as usual by a "gathering of the clans" in the Campbell Hall. The society has again leased the Campbell Hall for the winter months.

A resolution of sympathy was passed by the members of the society condoling with John Stoven, one of their number, the death of whose mother occurred during the past week.

the machine from rolling over on them; but they wrought sad havoc upon the car. Both front wheels were demolished, the wind shield was smashed, the steering gear disabled and the entire front of the machine pretty well loupained.

Monday the ambulance corps, headed by Mr Stoward, proceeded to the scene of the accident to report on the extent of the casualties and remove the remains to Goodwin & Turner's repair shop at Princeton. The damage will probably amount all told to nearly five hundred dollars, and while this is a pretty rough blow to Mr Stoward, those who know the river road will agree that the party were lucky to get off without loss of life or limb.

Interesting Crop Cost Figures.

President Hilborn as Owner of the Provincial Demonstration Farm Gives Farmers' Institute Results of His Records.

Looks Profitable Under Good Management

Institute Holds "Experience Meeting."

"How much does it cost to produce a certain kind of fruit or vegetable? In other words just how much should I get to make good all expenses, and over, which figure actual profits begin?"

This is an important question, and the announcement that this was to be the subject matter for discussion by the members of the Farmers' Institute should have brought out more than the fifteen orchardists who were present at the first fall meeting of the Institute held on Monday evening last in the High School building. Those few who attended were given some facts and figures on the cost of producing various crops; the gathering taking the form of an "experience meeting," as had been announced.

The President, Mr J. L. Hilborn, gave figures showing his costs for growing tomatoes, peppers, and cukes; Walter Wright for tomatoes, peppers, and sweet corn; W. H. Milligan, tomatoes, and Clarence Craig some results of his experiments with potatoes.

Mr Hilborn's crop costs were given in detail, the figures quoted being those submitted by him to the Department of Agriculture as required from all demonstration farms. There is a deal of material for thought in these figures which are given here. An analysis and careful study of Mr Hilborn's report will be a help to any grower.

In explanation, Mr Hilborn said that with his soil, which was rather heavy, he believed better results would be had from plowing in fall as well as spring. While the full cost of the fertilizer was charged against the crop he believed that one-third of the application yet remained in the soil. He irrigated one side of each row of tomatoes each week, making ten applications and 10 cultivations on the plot, but to only half each time.

His yield of tomatoes was very low this year, but were particularly early, so that for quite a portion of the crop he got $2.25 per crate, and the total returns were very satisfactory. In fact all the crop returns for the three crops for which he has completed his records are satisfactory, and show profitable returns.

Mr Milligan's report on tomato growing as well as Mr Wright's on sweet corn show the possibilities in these lines.

It is likely that the next Institute meeting, two weeks later, will be of the same nature.

COST OF CROPS AT THE DEMONSTRATION FARM.

Hoing	6 " 6.50 39.00	5 " 6.40 32.00	5 " 5.70 28.50
Water rates	4.00	2.20	2.00

Crop	1,096 crates	406 peach boxes, 137 pear cannery and apple boxes	1,168 peach boxes

Without any desire to pick holes in Mr Hilborn's records, which we believe are very accurate, may we be permitted to suggest that to make his costs complete he should have added interest on capital invested in the land utilized, and also the taxes and any other rates against it not covered by the water charge which he includes.

Methodist Church Entertainments.

The second evening of the "Lecture Course" will be held on Tuesday evening next, 24th inst., at 8 p.m., when a great treat is in store. The celebrated mountain climber, Rev. G. R. B. Kinney, B.A., F.R.G.S., will give an account of his various mountaineering expeditions. This will be illustrated by over 100 colored views. Mr Kinney has given this lecture in most of the large Canadian cities, as well as in many of the large cities in the States. His name is a household word in the world of mountain climbers, and a great compliment was paid to him recently, when the Royal Geographical Society of England made him a "Fellow" of that society. The views are magnificent, and no one should miss seeing them. At a great risk, the price of admission has been kept at 25 cents so that all may have an opportunity of "seeing and hearing" something of a high-class order.

The third "evening" will be on Tuesday, Dec. 8th, when Mrs Lashly Hall, into president of the Women's Equality League of Vancouver will be the lecturer. On Tuesday, Dec. 22nd, the Rev. R. W. Lee will give an eloquent and dramatic recital of Dickens' Christmas Carol.

Okanagan Sugar Sunbeams will be on exhibition at the Panama Exposition, San Francisco, next spring. This "Made-in-Summerland" delicious pure fruit confection is rapidly attaining a wide and favorable reputation.

WEDDING.

Thomson-Dodwell.

A wedding was solemnized on Monday afternoon, very quietly and without ostentation, when Miss Evelyn Eleanor Dodwell was united in marriage to Mr William Stephen Thomson. The ceremony took place in St Stephen's Church, the rector, Rev. H. A. Solly, officiating. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr Frederick Dodwell of London, England, and from a residence of two or three years in Balcom, at the home of her brother, Mr Philip Dodwell, she now moves within a good coterie of friends. The groom is the only son of Mr and Mrs Chas. J. Thomson, formerly also of Balcom, and now resident in Peach Orchard.

The ceremony on Monday was quite simple and bereft of all due elaborateness, owing to the absence of the bride's father, and also on account of the war. In addition to the immediate relatives of the bride and groom there were also present at the church a number of friends. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr Philip Dodwell.

After the service was concluded the party repaired to the home of the bride where dainty light refreshments were enjoyed.

Mr and Mrs Thomson are making their home for the present in the Logie cottage, Peach Orchard.

"FIGHTING BOBS" GONE

NOT ONLY BRITAIN, but the whole Empire, joins in mourning the death of the veteran soldier, Field Marshal Earl Roberts. He died on Saturday night of last week in the service of his country, for whom, during his long life of eighty-two years, he had fought, bled, and nearly died in many campaigns. Earl Roberts had gone over to France to give personal greeting to the Indian troops, of which he was Colonel-in-Chief. He contracted a severe chill which his constitution, undermined by advanced age, was unable to withstand.

To all Britain the news of the great soldier's end came as a shock, for ever since the outbreak of war, he had been most active in the interests of the army. The doyen of the army, and the idol of the public, without question Earl Roberts was the most popular military man in Great Britain.

It was fitting that India, the land of his birth, should also be the scene of his hardest military experience. It was in the Indian Mutiny that Roberts won the soldiers' most prized decoration, the Victoria Cross, the simple "for valor" medal that rewards heroism on the field of battle. After a four years' campaign in Abyssinia, he saw service in India, on the Afghan frontier, where Khyber Pass, Kabul and Kandahar recall great exploits of his service. He held many administrative posts in India, before coming to England in 1893, and it was not long before he was again called to the colors to command in the Boer War of 1899-1902.

Earl Roberts was a soldier first and foremost. He lived to see his predictions of war with Germany come true, which he persistently foresaw during the last decade; but conscription in Britain, another of his dreams, has yet to materialize.

THERE IS GREAT COMFORT for those who get pessimistic as news comes to hand from time to time of the loss of occasional warships. It should be noted that these losses have been of ships more or less antiquated in type, the "Audacious," if the story of her loss be true, being the solitary exception. The oft-repeated statement, that with each week of waiting the chances of the British navy for ultimate triumph rise higher, takes on new meaning when it is understood that since the war first began, there have been commissioned into the imperial navy service no fewer than twenty-one warships of the latest types. These include four dreadnoughts, one battle-cruiser, four light cruisers, two flotilla leader destroyers, and seven large destroyers. Admiral von Tirpitz may have the best of reasons for postponing his conflict with the British navy, but every day he puts off the evil hour makes the German chances grow slimmer.

SOME IDEA of the amazing financial resources of Britain is conveyed by the almost incomprehensible figure given in recent dispatches telling of an additional war credit granted by the House of Commons, and of the huge loans being made to the self-governing dominions and to friendly nations. "Business as usual" is Britain's motto, and that it may be an actual realization throughout the Empire no less than $150,000,000 has been provided to meet the requirements of the borrowing countries within the Empire, who would in times of peace offer their securities in the open markets of London.

Apple Week Takes In Calgary.

That the people of Alberta are enthusiastic in their approval of rosy luscious apples of British Columbia is evidenced by the following editorial in the Calgary Herald: "B.C. apple week in Calgary was a wonderful success. Never before in the history of this city have the people bought apples in such quantity, and never before have they been given such splendid opportunity to make their purchases. In the results of the exhibition there are at least two lessons not likely soon to be forgotten. So far as the people are concerned, thousands have been converted to the apple eating habit—a habit they will not willingly abandon. As for the apple growers they have learned a wonderful lesson in the value of judicious advertising. The apple week campaign was wisely planned. Every agency necessary for its success was made use of, and there was no skimping at any point. Merchants gave their assistance, and the growers used newspaper space generously to acquaint the people with every detail of the scheme. It no doubt cost the growers a good deal of money to put the show on, but it was money well spent. Calgary to-day eats B.C. apples, and eats them in immense quantities. So long as the growers continue to ship in the fruit, and the price is right, Calgary will be a B.C. apple centre."

Sir Richard McBride arrived in New York from London on Sunday, and will proceed to Ottawa before returning to British Columbia.

OBITUARY

ANNIE STEVEN.

The death of Mrs Annie Steven occurred on Tuesday morning at the hospital, after scarcely more than two weeks of illness. Mrs Steven has been resident of Summerland for about three years, coming here from Scotland in company with her daughter, now Mrs H. B. Taylor, and her brother Mr John Stark, with whom she has lived since the death of her husband, when her children were but little tots, and it is upon Mr Stark that the blow caused by her demise falls most heavily.

Born in the district of Murkle, Caithness-shire, Scotland, 58 years ago, she was a life-long resident of that northern district until coming to Summerland. Until her last illness, Mrs Steven, with her brother and son John, have been making their home at the ranch house of her elder son, Mr Alex. Steven, at which home the funeral service was held, conducted by Rev. C. H. Daly, of St. Andrew's Church, followed by a short service at the graveside in Peach Orchard. The St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of which the deceased lady's brother is now honorary president attended the funeral in a body. The pall bearers were Messrs C. E. Craig, Geo. Armstrong, T. B. Young, John Dale, John Tait, and J. G. Robertson.

There are left to mourn, one daughter, Mrs H. B. Taylor, of Vancouver and three sons, William, in New Zealand and Alex. and John of this place, besides four sisters and two brothers, Mrs Steven being the youngest of a family of ten.

MARJORIE KINNARD.

A struggle against the seeming inevitable had its end about noon last Saturday, November 14th, when Marjorie, the wife of Mr Kenneth W. Kinnard, of Summerland and Vernon, passed away at the home of her aunts, the Misses Spencer, West Summerland. Although it was generally known that Mrs Kinnard did not enjoy full health few seemed to know of her real condition, which made keener the shock of her death.

Mrs Kinnard was a native of St. Catherine's, Ontario, where she was born in 1880, and married in 1910. She came to Summerland about two years ago, after a stay at the Muskoka Sanitarium, and with her husband and little daughter, her home here has been with the Misses Spencer.

She leaves saddened by her death, besides her sorrowing husband and little daughter, Jean, three years old, her parents, Mr and Mrs F. J. Nicholson of North Vancouver, a sister, Mrs Noyes of Vancouver, two brothers at Kamloops, John and Frederick, and another brother, Henry, at Toronto, and the Misses Spencer, her aunts, of this place. Mr and Mrs F. J. Nicholson, and Mr Fred Nicholson came in on Monday evening to be present at the funeral.

Rev. N. McNaughton of the Baptist Church conducted the funeral services on Tuesday afternoon at the home, and at the cemetery in Peach Orchard. The pall bearers were Messrs G. R. Hookham, G. L. McWilliams, E. R. Butler, and T. B. Young.

Among the many condolences which Mr Kinnard has received in his bereavement was a telegram from the Vernon Fruit Union, of which he is secretary-treasurer. (St. Catherine's Herald please copy)

BASKETBALL.

With an abundance of enthusiasm the local basketball league was inaugurated on Monday night, when the Town team met the West Summerland boys in the College Gymnasium. Spectators to the number of about seventy-five from both sections of the district witnessed the play, and the younger element took especial pains to make certain that the lustiness of the rooting was befitting to the occasion. The excitement of the lookers-on, as they followed the progress of the play, found expression in noise, and when one side or other scored a basket, the demonstration from the team's supporters was of what one might well call a hearty nature.

West Summerland have the first victory of the league to their credit, defeating the Town with a score of 18-10. The game was always hard and fast, but the Town were never able at any time to get the right end of the score. The Wests owe their victory to their knowledge of the floor and the superior brand of combination which they showed. Their opponents did not seem at home during the first half at all, and though soon after the interval they rallied and brought their tally up to one behind the Wests, it did not keep up, and they never got another point, while the Wests piled on seven more. Charlie Steuart was in great shooting vein, converting all the fouls called except one into points, besides scoring some nice field baskets.

Had the Town been able to get points for their fouls, the score would have been almost equal. While the Wests played well with each other, the Town forwards did not seem able to connect either with each other or with the basket. But they made game losers. Cliff McWilliams, playing guard, gave his ankle a twist in the first half, bad enough to have to quit playing at half time, when Will Angove of the intermediates came on. The teams were:

West—Ross Rae, D. Steuart, C. Steuart, G. D. Fisher, Roy Darkis.
Town—C. Lavis, H. Phinney, H. Snider, Glenn, C. McWilliams, W. Angove.

Previous to the senior game the intermediate teams of the same clubs played a lively game, when the Town boys set their seniors a good example which the latter did not follow—by securing the best end of a score of 14-6. The winners deserved the game for they had most of the play, and had their shooting been a little nearer excellent the score would have been higher. These teams were:

Town—C. Clay, W. Angove, T. F. McWilliams, F. Williams, C. H. Sismay.
West—K. Elliott, W. Mumm, Higgs, C. Elsey, G. Dale.

The two games made a fine start out for what promises to be a winter of good sport. If the same pitch of enthusiasm is maintained throughout the season, basketball will have a popularity locally it has never yet known.

The College team opens its league season to-night, when they meet the Town in the Men's Club. In theory the College boys should have the strongest team in the league, since they have already beaten West Summerland, who have in turn beaten the Town. But since basketball depends a great deal more on practice than on theory, it will not be safe to predict the result. Only one thing is certain—that there will be a hard-fought struggle. An intermediate game will precede the senior match.

FOR PANAMA FAIR.

The Hon. Price Ellison, Minister of Finance, has returned to Victoria from a visit to Vernon. He reports that Mr. R. G. Clarke, Chief Dominion Fruit Inspector for British Columbia, has just forwarded a shipment of 1,000 boxes of apples to San Francisco for the Federal Government's exhibit at the Panama Exhibition next year. One car of fruit was assembled at Summerland, and the remainder of the exhibit was secured in the Vernon district. Mr. Clarke is greatly pleased with the splendid quality of the apples, and believes that they will comprise one of the most attractive exhibits at the big fair. —Colonist.

CARD OF THANKS.

The Misses Spencer and K. W. Kinnard take this opportunity of expressing their sincere thanks for the many kindnesses shown during the past illness of Mrs. Kinnard, and also at this time.

Friday night's frost laid a blighting hand on the gardens in the vicinity. Until this time many were a forest of bloom, delighting the eye of the beholder, but now, alas, all are gone.

The Institute meeting last Tuesday again resolved itself into an ambulance meeting, at which considerable work was done. It being social day, refreshments were served by the hill people.

Mr Lee Mills lost a valuable horse on Sunday night at Jas. Michael's road camp. On going out on Monday morning to feed he found that the animal had hanged itself with the halter. We sympathize with him in his loss. The horse was a valuable one, for which $300 was paid a short time ago.

Word was received here last week that Mr Wm. Garroway had dropped dead on the street, about a block from his home in Winnipeg. Mr Garroway, who was at one time a resident of Peachland, had spent the summer here, and had returned to the city only a short while ago. He had many friends here who extend to the sorrowing relatives their sympathy in their bereavement.

Mr and Mrs Alfred Town entertained at dinner on Tuesday evening in honor of Mr and Mrs Leah of London, England, parents of Mrs F. Tollman, with whom they have been visiting for some time. Other guests present were Rev. A. Henderson and Miss Henderson, Mr and Mrs F. Tollman, and Mr and Mrs A. D. Ferguson. Mr and Mrs Leah left on Thursday morning on their return to their home in London, leaving many friends behind them.

The Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian Church here has a birthday box into which each member deposits a cent for each year of her life, when her birthday arrives. This box was opened on Monday afternoon at a tea given in honor of the occasion by Mrs Geo. Miller, the President of the society. Each one present made a guess as to the amount of contents, which the secretary listed, while the treasurer opened the box. Mrs George Lang's guess, $8.40, was closest, the amount being $8.45. Refreshments were served, considerable interest centered in the birthday cake, in which the usual charms were hidden.

DID YOU EVER THINK?

Did you ever think as a horse passed by That it would not be long until you or I Would be taking a ride in that black plumed hack, And never remember the coming back? Did you ever think as you strive for gold, That a dead man's hand can't a dollar hold? No matter how much you earn or save, You must leave it all when you go to the grave.

War Means Economy

SCARCITY OF MONEY is one of the first effects of war. Fortunately we in Canada are in no danger of feeling the "pinch" of hard times to any great extent, but we do feel that we must get good value for every dollar expended, and confine our food requirements largely to the realm of necessities. The following list of staples has been carefully compiled with a view to conveying valuable suggestions to the citizens of Summerland. The prices are consistent with our usual quality standards.

OUR NARAMATA SECTION

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

By some misunderstanding or error, last week's Scout news about the second of our series of route marches, which took place on Thursday, Nov. 5th, was not printed, much to the disappointment of the Naramata citizens who are interested in what the Scouts are doing. The victims selected on that occasion were Mr and Mrs R. H. King, and in spite of the rain and slippery roads which rendered marching very difficult, about twelve Scouts, accompanied by the Scoutmaster, braved the weather and reached their goal safely, where they were well repaid for their trouble by the good time they enjoyed. Mrs King entertained us by some lively music on the piano, and also treated us to some hot coffee and cake, which fortified us for our wet march home. After thanking our host and hostess, and accepting an invitation to "come again," the boys doubled most of the way back, wet, muddy, and tired, but all declaring that they had enjoyed themselves immensely.

Mr L. J. Block, formerly president of the Scout Governing Board, recently presented the Scouts with a number of good books for the foundation of a library. Mrs Geo. Wolstencroft also donated a chair for the Club Room.

The first snow storm of the season, which occurred on Thursday, Nov. 13th, was celebrated by the Naramata Scouts in their long-looked forward to, often postponed march up to Mr Young's ranch on the Penticton road. Every evening that week had been bright and fine, and so confident were we that Thursday would be the same that we had notified Mrs Young to expect us, and had made all arrangements for that night. It is superfluous to state that Thursday proved an exception to the weather rule, and about 5.30 p.m. it started to rain. But we were not again going to postpone that march. We left headquarters a little after seven o'clock. The night was as dark as a charcoal sketch of niggers loading coal at midnight, but thanks to the snow the marching was pretty fair, especially on the hills. After the "march at ease" command had been given many were the ways by which the boys beguiled away the time on the march. The poet in the front rank was murmuring something about the beautiful white soft snowflakes floating gently down through the midnight air

LITERARY AND DEBATING SOCIETY HOLD ANOTHER EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT.

The Monday evening's entertainment was featured by an instructive address on Phrenology and Mental Science, by H. P. Salting, of town. Mr Salting's remarks were made all the more clear through the use of blackboard drawings and showed a familiarity with the subject and should lead to a more widespread interest in the study.

The afterpart of the evening was taken up entertainingly by dealing with the four sentiments as follows: The Patriotic - Mr H. Pitman
The Pathetic - Mrs Walters
The Sublime - Mrs W. L. Robinson
The Ridiculous - Mrs Hughes.

The next will be the first of a series of debates, to commence on Monday, November 30th.

When a stranger drops in town, jolly him. Tell him this is a great little town—and so it is. Don't discourage him by speaking ill of your neighbors. Lead him to believe he has at last struck a place where good people live.

Only wind is needed to spread rumors, but for reliable news you must read your home paper.

(although it was only about 7.30), and covering the slumbering earth with a warm blanket of soft down. The bass singer beside him was making a noise like a dying elephant. Little four o'clock rooster in the rear rank was regaling all who cared to listen with gruesome and blood-curdling tales of pirates on the Spanish Main, the professor was engaged in trying to estimate how many snowflakes fell to a square inch per second, and the cynic, artist, and other characters were each amusing themselves in their own way. An amateur bugler was torturing our eardrums with a selection which sounded like the tune the old cow died on, but which he earnestly assured us was called the "Polka." A couple of the swiftest runners in the troop had been sent in advance to inform Mrs Young that we were on our way, and when, after about an hour and a quarter of steady marching, we reached our destination we found lanterns on the verandah, and a supply of old bags on which to clean the dirt from our boots. A very pleasant time was spent listening to selections on the Piano, and gossiping over the war news. Refreshments were also in order, and when we left we felt in fine condition to make a record trip home. The march back was practically the same as coming, except that the boys were more quiet and subdued, and more intent on reaching town than fooling. Snowball skirmishes were in order, and we dismissed about 10.30, triumphant and proud of our seven miles tramp, and glad to have so successfully defied the elements and upheld the tradition of the Naramata troop of being "game sports," and not only "fair weather Scouts."

The First Aid meeting on Saturday, November 14, was spent in listening to an interesting talk by Dr Robinson on Sanitation. All the tests for the Ambulance Badge have now been more or less thoroughly gone into, and after a few more review lessons any of the boys who desire it will be tested by an examination for their Proficiency Badge. Dr Robinson has offered to help us with the Missioner's or Electrician's Badges, and his offer has been gratefully accepted.

A. SCOUT.

Current Events - OF - Town & District

Mr and Mrs Carroll Aikins spent a few days at Kelowna this week.

The feminine enthusiasts of the basketball sport are putting in a grand time in their fine club room at the old school.

Mrs Cash entertained on Tuesday in honor of her niece, Miss Price, whose departure for the East on Thursday is elsewhere announced.

The Misses Robinson entertained their young lady friends to afternoon tea on Wednesday in honor of Miss Price, who was leaving for the East.

Mr Fred Roe returned on Monday from a few days jaunt down south as far as Fairview, whither he went on business arising out of pre-emption claims in the vicinity.

The Ladies' Aid have received a pleasing and generous gift of remnants of silk velvet and laces for their coming bazaar from the T. Eaton Co., and progress was made last Wednesday at their afternoon gathering.

'Should so-called 'Christian' nations go to War?' is the subject announced for next Sabbath morning's service—a subject of live interest at the present, and one on which Pastor Beatty is known to have pronounced views.

The advent of the first fall of snow was heralded with joy by the small boys, particularly so much so that in a few cases he was led into acts of indiscretion—not to say anything of rudeness—by using the snow as baseballs to fire at innocent and unsuspecting pedestrians, some of them ladies, which makes the matter worse.

District Engineer Norrington, of the Water Rights Department, came up on Monday afternoon for a few hours to confer with representatives of the Farmers' Institute in reference to the boundaries to be included in the proposed area affected by the irrigation project. It is likely that a public meeting will be called in the near future to further prosecute the work now so well under way.

The news that Mr J. S. Gillespie, who was at death's door several times during the course of an illness extending back several months, is now rapidly convalescing, and that he may soon be strong enough to appear on the streets will be gratifying news to his friends and neighbors—not to speak of the feelings of the anxious watchers through whose careful and unremitting care his life has been preserved.

The card party under Unity Club's auspices on Thursday evening of last week, owing probably to lack of sufficient emphasis by way of publicity and to the rather threatening weather conditions, was not at all well attended. It is to be hoped that the ladies may not hesitate to hold another such evening in the near future, as there are a good many Naramatans who are anxious to hear of such an announcement to add to their program of winter entertainments.

The Farmers' Institute held a council—sitting round the stove—last Friday. A quorum not having put in an appearance it was thought best to at least talk over the matters of most vital interest and if any decisions were arrived at, such decisions could be referred to any regular meeting for ratification or annulment. In the course of this fireside chat it transpired that all that Naramata needs now to put a herd law in full force and operation, was a real live pound master, and a really formidable corral. These two last requisites are likely to be provided for in the near future, and due notice will be published locally so as to give owners of animals running at large time to make further arrangements for their maintenance. This and the question of finishing the work on the water problem now so well under way were the only two matters dealt with at any length, and as these two problems are of general interest it was soon imperative to call a public meeting to further carry on the problems to a successful and final issue.

Mrs J. H. Pushman was in Summerland on Wednesday, the guest of Mrs Ralph E. White.

Mrs T. N. Ritchie and Mrs McIntyre of Summerland were in town on Monday, guests with friends at the Syndica House.

Mr Seth Davidson of Peachland paid Naramata a few days' visit last week, and while here was the guest of his friend, Mr Bartlett.

Mrs E. B. Reesor visited Penticton on Wednesday where she read by special request at a meeting of the Women's Institute, a highly instructive paper on "Personality."

Rev. D. E. Hatt, the popular Drummond reader is likely to visit Naramata some evening next week—probably Thursday, an announcement which will be of interest to lovers of good entertainment.

The first fall of snow for the season of 1914 has been followed by the first wave we might say of anything approaching cool weather, local instruments registering two degrees of frost. Not too bad for the middle of November.

Mr and Mrs Henry R. Hall of Summerland have rented the cottage belonging to Mr Steers on Gwendoline Avenue, and purpose taking possession in the near future. It is understood that Mr Hall will accept a position with the Naramata Supply Co.

Sh! Did you hear there was to be a new store started in Naramata? Sure thing, and quite a unique store, too. The Ladies' Aid are going into the store business, for one day only, in December. They don't like the business, well enough to stick at it all the year round, that's why they sell goods for one day only. Better post up the date above the door, December 2nd. More anon.

Miss Doris Price, after a little over three months' visit here with her aunt, Mrs. Cash, left on Thursday morning en route for England stopping off for a short while in Ottawa at her uncle's home, the Hon. Martin Burrell. During her stay in town Miss Price formed quite a large circle of friends who deeply regret her departure. Particularly will she be missed in musical circles.

The Epworth League continues to draw a goodly number of supporters to its bi-monthly Friday evening meetings. Incidentally the young organization is being used effectively to supplement the work of the church and Sunday School. Talents that would otherwise lie dormant are being used to good effect. If the old proverb is still true which says that "Well begun is half done," then the work of Pastor Beatty is at least well begun in this respect.

If Kitchener were in need of marksmen capable upon short notice of bringing a flying German aeroplane loaded with bombs intended to set London on fire, he should be advised of the fact that Naramata has such a sharp shooter. Call that hot stuff if you will but if one of your pet ambitions was to capture with your own gun and good marksmanship a really good specimen of a bald-headed eagle, and that you had waited and hunted long before achieving your quest, wouldn't you feel justly proud, if last week as if by mere accident, that your bird was half a mile above your head and that your careful aim and good nerve brought to earth one of the finest specimens ever seen in British Columbia, wouldn't you feel proud. Guess yes. If you don't know what the feeling's like, ask Mr Tom Kenyon. He knows.

The Unity Club's regular meeting on Friday afternoon, despite the cloudy weather and the muddy paths, drew almost a record crowd. The interest in the afternoon's proceedings centred round a highly profitable, interesting, instructive and withal practical address on First Aid work by Dr W. L. Robinson. The doctor's remarks were emphasized by demonstrations in which a number of the ladies assisted. The hearty appreciation of the address by the ladies was signalized by an enthusiastic vote of thanks at the conclusion. The hostesses for the occasion, Mrs Bruce and Mrs Booth, towards the close of the proceedings, served an enjoyable lunch, after which the farewells were said, and the audience departed with feelings of gratitude that such an organization had been incorporated into the Naramata scheme of town and community building.

Keeping your house in repair keeps its value in the same condition.

B. H. Waymire, who has charge of the Stirling & Pittcairn packing house each season left early in the week, bound for the fruit valleys of California. He spent the summer here at Hotel Summerland.

H. Cascadden of Davidson, Sask. is registered at the Felix Hotel from last night's boat. He is not new to Summerland, being here about seven years ago, when he owned a Prairie Valley property.

COMING—Dr Hirschberg, Eye-sight Specialist, representing Toric Optical Co. of Vancouver, will be in McWilliams' Pharmacy, West Summerland, Monday and Tuesday, November 23rd and 24th; the Naramata Hotel, Naramata, Saturday, Nov. 21st. See notice on page 4. n13-20

Capt. Mitchell of Penticton, visited this town early this week and arranged with the Hospital management for the care and needs of Pte. Thos. Hickey, who is making quick recovery, and hopes to join his fellow volunteers soon at Victoria, where a place in the ranks is being kept open for him.

Sergeant J. Major, of the 102nd regiment of infantry came down to Summerland from Sicamous on Wednesday evening. He has come to settle up his affairs here as he expects to go to the front with the second contingent. Mr Major is staying with Mr and Mrs A. B. Williams at Peach Orchard. He expects to return up the lake tomorrow morning.

The condition of the highway which runs south past the Ed. Garnett property, near where it joins the road paralleling Trout Creek, is the cause of much complaint from, not only those who need to use it, but from many others who feel they are in danger of losing the rural mail service because the flooded condition of the road is likely to force a change of route.

The Harvest services last Sunday in the Methodist Church saw a very pretty and fitting decorative effect wrought within the church. Fall fruits and vegetables, foliage and flowers made a varied and beautiful coloring on the platform and along the sides of the church. Besides being beautiful to the eye, the display also made a very potent reminder of some things we should be thankful for. Rev. R. W. Lee's addresses morning and evening were appropriate to the season, containing much that was helpful.

Mr and Mrs A. G. Simms boarded the "Sicamous" on Tuesday evening, bound for California. Mr Simms' condition is serious, and it was his desire to see his two sons again at their former California home. He was conveyed on to the boat still in bed, and arrangements for his accommodation at stopping points were telegraphed on ahead by Mrs Simms. While realizing the gravity of Mr Simms' condition, his many friends hope are hoping that the end can still be ward off.

At the invitation of Miss Kathleen Babbitt a party of about twenty young people gathered on Wednesday evening to join with her in a birthday social evening at the home of Mrs T. J. McAlpino, Beach Av. There was the customary merry business of hunting a partner after which the couples gave themselves over to the manufacture of telegrams from a number of letters. Some of the messages connected were extremely laughable. Other party games were indulged in with the heartiness of youth, to the evident enjoyment of all. Music interspersed the amusements of the evening. Birthdays and other kinds of cake, sandwiches and other dainties were included in the refreshments served, which made a happy climax to a most pleasurable evening. The party broke up soon after midnight, regretting that the flight of time could not be stayed.

Hamilton Lang of Vernon was in town at the Felix Hotel for a day or two this week.

Union evangelistic services in Lakeside Baptist Church beginning next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

Miss Amy Brown went up to Vernon Thursday morning to spend a week or two with her sister, Mrs G. A. McLaine.

Only eight more days of the Shoe Sale at the Leather Store. If you have not yet got those new rubbers, get them now. Save money, draw the lucky ticket and win one of the three pairs of $5 shoes of your own selection.

The Girls' Basketball Club had something of a good practice on Tuesday evening in the Men's Club. Sufficient girls put in an appearance to get two teams going against each other, and the enthusiasm of the girls found vent in some energetic play.

Dr W. W. Kennedy, who for some weeks has been associated with Dr F. W. Andrew in practice here, left for Vancouver Tuesday morning where he will join the Army Medical Corps. After about six weeks work at the Coast Dr Kennedy hopes to be sent to the scene of work in France or Belgium.

Two pure bred Holstein cows of dairy strain have recently been purchased by two of our citizens, and are confidently expected to be highly valuable additions to the local herds. The animals, which cost $350 each, were personally selected by Dr Lipsett, one for himself, the other for R. V. Agur.

That Summerland is not as completely free of undesirables as formerly is evident from occasional reports of stealing, and of late more than one instance of attempted burglary has been heard of. 'Twas not so long ago that one's personal property seemed as safe outdoors as indoors, and locks seemed superfluous.

Remember the special union services which commence on Wednesday evening next, Nov. 25th. Services will be held in the Lakeside Baptist Church from Wednesday the 25th to Monday, Nov. 30, and in the St. Andrew's Church from Tuesday, Dec. 1st to Friday Dec. 4th. The pastors of the various churches request your presence at these meetings.

Dr A. E. Thomson, a recent graduate of Edinburgh University, is a guest at the home of his uncle, A. Rutherford, Prairie Valley. Dr Thomson, then a medical student, taught in the Balcom school some three years ago, and again at a later date spent some months there with his uncle. Having recently obtained his license to practice in this province it is quite possible that Dr Thomson may locate here.

The appointment of Col. J. L. C. Bott of Vernon to the command of the British Columbia mounted regiment, which is expected mobilized in Victoria for training, preparatory to being sent to England for active service, has been announced. The B.C. Horse at Vernon are now about 850 strong. These men are expecting soon to be sent to Victoria, where their numbers may be increased to about 500. They will then be incorporated into the second contingent of Canadians now being mobilized for service.

In the absence of the president and vice-president, Mrs W. C. Kelley was in the chair at the meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute, held last Friday in the High School building. There was a very good turnout of members who got the benefit of a very profitable meeting. Dr Andrew's talk on First Aid was greatly appreciated by his listeners, and his accompanying demonstrations served to make it all the more interesting and valuable. He did not confine himself strictly to emergency hints but included in his talk much that should be common knowledge in regard to the sick room. The other outstanding feature of the afternoon's program was a carefully prepared paper from Miss Annie Dale on "The True Meaning of Hospitality." From literature Miss Dale drew some well-known and varying types of that virtue. In the incident the Bishop and Jean Valjean from Hugo's immortal "Les Miserables," Miss Dale found an instance of hospitality which rings clear as an embodiment of Christian charity.

Presbyterian services will be held in St Andrew's Church next Sunday morning and in the Methodist Church at three o'clock as usual.

Alex. Leitch of the Dominion Cannery, Vernon, was at Hotel Summerland over the week-end, proceeding down the lake at the first of the week.

Mr L. R. C. Douglas-Hamilton is another of Summerland's citizens who has gone to the war. Mr Douglas-Hamilton left for England the middle of the week, and will enlist there.

R. ROBERTSON SPEAKS AT VICTORIA.

Sketches Growth Of Industry In Interesting Address.

Mr R. Robertson, manager of the Okanagan Fruit Growers' Association, was the guest of honor and principal speaker at a recent luncheon of the Victoria Rotary Club. It was an "apple luncheon," the room and tables being attractively decorated with a lavish display of rosy red apples.

With Mr Frank Higgins, the president of the club, at the head of the table were Mr W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Mr W. C. Ricardo, Vernon, and Mr R. Robertson.

Mr Robertson opened his address by assuring his hearers that the apples which had been sent to Victoria from the Okanagan for this special campaign, were not specially selected, but a fair sample of the Okanagan growers' average pack.

He pointed out the good which could be done by associations of this kind by getting into touch with the grower and thus helping to broaden his outlook, which was inclined, from the nature of his occupation, to be rather narrow. Mr Robertson then gave some interesting statistics showing the growth of the fruit growing industry since 1900, when there were only 8,000 acres under fruit in all British Columbia. Now there are 88,000, and this year the Okanagan country had produced 6,000 carloads of fruit. The total amount of capital invested in the British Columbia fruit industry at present was $20,000,000.

This year they had had the best crop in the history of the country, the fruit was one of the best quality, and it had been an ideal season for its production. Hitherto they had shipped to the North-west market almost exclusively, and this year they had been able for the first time, to practically control the Albertan market, having shut out American fruit in that province for the first time.

Mr Robertson paid a tribute to the fine work done by the present government in aid of the industry, work which was free from any tinge of politics. This he could say without any qualification, though he himself was a life-long Liberal.

Mr W. E. Scott, in a brief speech on the economic side of the question, pointed out that the purchase in the Const cities of the 600 carloads of apples grown in British Columbia meant the keeping in circulation at home of some $300,000, which would otherwise go across the line. He strongly urged the co-operation of the producer, the merchant, and the consumer in the patriotic work of supporting home industries.

So far this season 89,338 boxes of B.C. apples have been shipped to Australia and New Zealand.

Spokane's seventh annual apple show is being held this week, Monday to Saturday. A number of meetings of interest to apple growers form part of the week's program.

COUNCIL GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY.

contributions. With this grant they could hope to be able to make up the balance. He claimed the Council must agree with them that we had a very satisfactory institution, it was a credit to the place. In this he was endorsed by Dr Lipssett, who pointed out that the Municipality had not given anything toward the building, and the grant they were now asking was small.

The Reeve, in reply, stated that the great difficulty was that the Council was short of funds. Many unforeseen demands such as replacing of pipe, etc., had made serious inroads on municipal funds. It would be impossible for the Council to decide at this meeting whether they could make any grant. Later, when the financial situation was gone into, this might be found possible. It was suggested by the Reeve that the society carry over their indebtedness into the next year, when he had no doubt the new Council would be glad to provide for the deficit in next year's rates.

The report of Medical Health Inspector Andrew with reference to seepage of water into basements on Fourteenth Street was supported by T. J. McAlpine, who said that since the creek had been temporarily diverted down that street last year he had been much troubled with water in his cellar, and his idea was that the water, flowing over the sandy soil there had caused a settling of the domestic pipe beneath, resulting in leaking. He thought if the pipe were uncovered and caulked the trouble would cease.

Among the communications read was a request from the Attorney-General's department asking for $25 annual electric light inspection fee. Another was from the Inspector of Municipalities with reference to the recent debenture issue, there evidently being some doubt on his part that all the formalities of the law had been adhered to. Some further communication from Mr Givdale written at Victoria on the question of water for the Experimental farm, and asking that contracts be sent to Ottawa for approval and signature was also placed before the Board.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR.

KEEP THE PIGS AT HOME.

Rural Route One,
Summerland, B.C.,
November 18, 1914.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:

While the keeping of pigs is no doubt commendable and should be encouraged, provision should be made to keep the animals on their own premises. Day after day we are having to drive our neighbor's pigs out of our lots where they busy themselves eating the feed for our own stock, and while we would not suggest that their owners are in any way dishonest in regard to the matter, the fact remains that the result is the same as if a visit was paid with a rig and a quantity taken away. In fact somewhat worse, as the pigs destroy as much as they eat. We have of course, the usual remedy of impounding the animals, but hesitate to do this unless absolutely necessary, especially as we feel sure that it is only needful to call attention to remedy the matter.

Yours truly,

C. E. CRAIG,
W. G. RABY,
J. F. GATES.

ANOTHER POPULAR HATT RECITAL.

Ladies' College Auxiliary Funds Benefit Materially From Entertainment.

There were close upon three hundred tickets sold for the elocutionary recital held last Monday evening in the College Gymnasium. The Ladies' College Auxiliary were responsible for the evening's entertainment, and even at the popular admission price of twenty-five cents there must have come to the ladies a splendid return for the energetic manner they had pushed the sale of tickets.

Actually attending the recital there were almost two hundred and fifty people, practically filling all the seating accommodation that had been provided, and making a very satisfactory audience. Rev. N. McNaughton acted as chairman throughout the evening.

The program opened with two musical numbers, a pianoforte duet by Misses Elliott and Wilson, of the College, and a violin solo from Miss Dorothy Harrington, to the accompaniment of her sister, both of which, exceedingly well rendered, gave great pleasure, and were generously applauded.

The elocutionist for the evening was Rev. D. E. Hatt, than whom in this role, there are certainly none more popular in Summerland. His program was very varied, including wonderfully pathetic and humorous selections, and it could but enhance the great reputation Mr. Hatt has built up here and elsewhere. The first of his selections was an impressive "Russian Hymn to God," by Derzhaven, a poem of considerable length, lofty in thought and clothed in magnificent language. It visibly impressed the audience from Mr. Hatt's rendering.

Two of Tennyson's best known poems, "Break, Break, Break," and "Crossing the Bar," are always favorites, and their inclusion on the program was a happy thought. Five Drummond poems were given by Mr. Hatt, and in all of them the power of the elocutionist drew its response from the audience. "Johnny's First Moose," given by special request, gets more popular every time it is heard, and "Charmette" and "De Bell of St. Michel" are two lesser known favorites. As usual Mr. Hatt prefaced his selections by a brief note as to the circumstances surrounding their origin, and especial application.

More musical numbers divided the program, being a second violin solo from Miss Dorothy Harrington, and a pleasing vocal duet by Misses Harrington and Clay.

The second part of the program has an especial interest in that the seven numbers comprising it were of Mr. Hatt's own authorship. The "Dorothy Doleful" poems were really humorous, but even more so were "De Toot Docteur," which tells very quaintly of an old French-Canadian woman who suffers toothache, and goes through the process of dentistry, and finally has an ecstasy of joy when she finds a gold filling in one tooth; also "The Homesteader," the story of a Quebec boy who comes west, sells his Alberta land to oil men at a high price, goes back east, and finally returns again to Summerland, the best place he could find. Roars of laughter told how this local allusion took. "Cosmopolitan Canada" is a patriotic poem, showing very clearly the varied nationalities that go in the make-up of Canada. Mr. Hatt imitated very cleverly the broken English of those colonists of foreign birth.

The recital was repeated at Naramata last night.

SUMMERLAND SCOUT NEWS.

The Summerland troop will not meet Nov. 27 nor Dec. 4th, owing to the Poultry Association then having possession of the hall for show purposes. Troop will parade again on the 11th Dec., when arrangements will be made for the annual shoot. The Borton Cup is the coveted trophy, which will be won by the patrol scoring highest points.

Scoutmaster Taft has been commissioned from headquarters at Victoria to inspect and examine the Naramata troop and report at an early date. "God Save the King."

POULTRY SHOW NEXT WEEK.

Perhaps the biggest event in the calendar of local poultrymen is the show which has now been held here annually for four years. The fifth show is on for two days next week, Wednesday and Thursday, December 2nd and 3rd, at the Ellison Hall, Peach Orchard. Shows in the past have been surprisingly successful, and as the poultry industry seems to be receiving more and more attention from the farmers in the district, this growth should be apparent in the annual show, both as regards the number of exhibits and their quality. The Southern Okanagan Poultry and Pet Stock Association is the local organization that is beginning to care for the poultryman's interests here more and more aggressively, and it is under their auspices that the show is held.

The public generally should not fail to visit Ellison Hall during the progress of the show, and especially those who have any interest in poultry raising, whether along strictly pure-bred lines, or for the purpose commonly spoken of as "general utility." No pains have been spared to gather entries, and make the exhibition as extensive and representative of the industry as possible. Admission to the public will be free as in former years.

A window full of special prizes on view at Borton's Store for the last two or three days shows there is something more than the cash premiums to be won. A handsome piece of mahogany furniture from the Supply Company, brass ware from the Drug Company, as well as the several cups, are among the special prizes to be competed for.

CANNERY SUSPENDS PAYMENT

Proposals To Go Into Voluntary Liquidation.

Claim Assets In Excess Of Liability.

"Will or will we not get our money for the fruit we shipped to the Western Cannery Ltd., and if so, when," is the substance of the query now in the minds and on the lips of those of our fruit growers who sold fruit to the Okanagan concern, with canneries at Kelowna and Penticton, the same company that tried to get a hold on this district just after it was reported last year that the Dominion Cannery Ltd. would establish here.

Coming right on top of reports of large sales made by the company their declared inability to meet liabilities was received with surprise.

Growers who furnished the canners with fruit and vegetables have recently received copies of a circular letter in which the company states its inability to pay its creditors at present, though claiming to be solvent. They report goods to the value of over $70,000 still unsold as against $79,000 disposed of. Much of the proceeds of the latter went to pay expenses and borrowings, leaving no ready cash to pay the growers. Evidently producers were promised payment in full on December 15th. Now the company advise that they expect to make a payment on account within two months, and they ask that no action be taken which might lead to the embarrassment of the company, and an extension of time for payment of liabilities is asked for.

That the company, whose shareholders will shortly meet to consider the situation, will go into voluntary liquidation seems probable. With a liquidator in charge the company could not be forced to sacrifice its assets. The time during which growers will need to wait for their returns will in this way probably be longer, but with better prospects of getting 100 cents on the dollar.

The directors hope that some means may be devised whereby the canneries at Kelowna and Penticton may be operated next and following seasons.

Latest information is to the effect that the Kelowna shareholders favor postponing any action towards liquidation until January. In the meantime every effort will be made to dispose of as much of the season's pack as possible. The result of the season's operations seems certain to result in a loss to the shareholders as did that of 1913.

Nine Prizes on Ten Exhibits

Splendid Achievement of Summerland Apples at Spokane Fair.

Every Possible One a First Prize

Hurriedly Prepared Exhibit Makes Clean Sweep In Keenest Competition.

Summerland apples have never yet been beaten, no matter where shown, nor how keen the competition. In fact, the winning of first prizes and gold or other special medals and prizes has become such an old story with our fruitgrowers that of late there has been a disposition to refrain from showing, the idea being that as our fruit has won all the honors it can win, it is only fair to let others have a chance. This has been given by several of our growers as their reason for not entering outside shows. Just here the value of constant and persistent advertising is overlooked, and it is well that the Summerland Fruit Union decided at the last moment to send a small display to the Spokane Fair.

Nine prizes, every possible one a first, were taken with ten entries, comprising twenty-one boxes.

Here are the entries, prizes and scores:

- 5 boxes McIntosh Reds, 1st prize, score, 96.5.
- 5 boxes Yellow Newtowns, 1st prize, score 96.
- 5 boxes Baldwins, 1st prize, score 94.
- 1 box McIntosh Red, 1st prize, score 94.
- 1 box Northern Spy, 1st prize, score 93.
- 1 box Northern Spy, 2nd prize, score 92.
- 1 box Yellow Newtowns, 1st prize, score 95.5.
- 1 box Yellow Newtowns, 2nd prize, score 94.
- 1 box Winesaps, 1st prize, score 93.

The fruit packed for this exhibit was not specially selected as might be supposed. Late on a Saturday afternoon, J. Lawler, warehouse manager for the Summerland Fruit Union received telephone instruction to send an exhibit, some to be shipped the following Monday morning. He immediately got busy, packing from the tail-end of the crop yet remaining in the warehouse, making up 22 boxes, one of which, of fall apples, was a doubtful one, but sent forward on a chance. It did not score.

In all thirty-four entries were sent from the Okanagan with which twenty-five prizes were captured. The Spokane Show always draws a very large number of fruit growers, and meetings at which the various phases of the industry are discussed are a prominent feature.

One of our Valley orchardists, a former Wenatchee grower came home more than ever thankful that he had come to B.C. His story of the financial returns to the fruit grower of Washington, which story was confirmed by another who was returning from the Fair, is pitiable. According to these men, the Okanagan may well be thankful that it is as well organized to deal with the marketing end as it is. While here the crop has practically all been marketed, and at fairly satisfactory prices, down there the warehouses are full of apples and they are glad to push them off wherever possible at 50 cents per box.

IN THE KING'S SERVICE.

There has been more recruiting activity in Summerland this week, and another quota of young men from this district are now enrolled for service with the colors.

Two recruiting officers connected with the 30th B.C. Horse were in town at the Felix Hotel on Wednesday, and gathered eight recruits for the regiment. The two officers were Lieutenant P. E. Colman, a medalled soldier of considerable experience, and Medical Staff Sergeant G. Bagnall, a South African veteran with no less than three medals. Their orders were to enroll single men only, for immediate service.

The local men who responded to the call were T. F. McWilliams, H. F. Bindley, J. S. Peters, and Richard O. Heron. Four others from outside points were Walter Talbot and Wilfred Le Roy Boothe, of Naramata, and M. L. Jacobs and Dan Dollimore, from Hedley. The entire party went up the lake on Thursday morning to headquarters at Vernon.

A small proportion of the men now enrolled with the B.C. Horse at Vernon will be detached for home service and it is confidently expected that the remainder will be sent forward to Victoria in about ten days, and included in the second Canadian contingent for active service.

LOCAL BRANCH OF AMBULANCE LEAGUE ACTIVE.

The Summerland Branch of the Okanagan Ambulance League are hoping to give a series of social evenings during the winter, in aid of the League.

The first of these will be given in the Campbell Hall, West Summerland, next Thursday, December 3rd, at 8 p.m. The program will be a most entertaining and varied one, and light refreshments will be served during the evening. An admission of 25 cents, and for children accompanying grown-ups, 10 cents, will be asked. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance, which will greatly help along the useful work which the League is doing for our soldiers at the front.

The second sale of material has been forwarded by the League to the Red Cross Society. This included:

- 17 hospital shirts, 18 pairs of socks, 6 convalescent jackets, 5 day shirts, 6 pairs of wristlets, 6 helmets, 6 cholera belts, 1 tablecloth, 6 hot water bottle covers.

There is material now on hand for willing hands to make into comforts for the soldiers. With the advent of winter warm clothing is badly needed, and the League are desirous that citizens undertake plain knitting and sewing. The material may be had either at the Rectory or at Mrs. Milne's. An old soldier told a league member the other day that if the members half realized how much the soldiers appreciate the warm clothing, their efforts would be redoubled.

RUMORED CURTAILMENT OBJECTED TO.

At a meeting of the Kelowna Board of Trade held last week the following resolution with reference to a rumor that the C.P.R. proposed giving this Valley a tri-weekly train and boat service was carried unanimously:

"That whereas it is currently reported that the C.P.R. have in view the cancelling of the boat and train on the S. & O. service as at present operated and substituting a service on every alternate day; and the Kelowna Board of Trade, are strongly of the opinion that the service should not be curtailed, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the proper officials of the C.P.R., and also to the different Boards of the Valley. We strongly protest against such a curtailment of service as it would seriously interfere with established business, and would be calculated to militate against the progress and development of the Valley."

A few of the many special prizes for the Poultry Show are now on display in C. N. Borton's north window. Better make a hit for some of them. Long list of cash prizes too.

CANADA'S ALPINE WONDERLAND.

Celebrated Mountain Climber Lectures Here.

An attendance of about two hundred in the Men's Club on Tuesday night showed that the efforts of the Methodist Church to provide really first-class entertainments for the townspeople are not altogether unappreciated. Both the entertainments of the wister series so far put on here have been of a very high order. The audience on Tuesday was large and enthusiastic, and they were thoroughly well rewarded for their attendance.

Rev. G. R. B. Kinney, celebrated in the field of mountaineering, was announced to lecture on "Mountain Climbing in the Rockies and Selkirk." For his achievements in this line Mr. Kinney has been made the recipient of several distinctions, among them a Fellowship of the Royal Geographical Society. He has lectured under the auspices of the leading mountaineering, geographical and scientific clubs and societies of the continent, so that his attainments seem to have met with due recognition.

The experiences which formed the basis of his lectures on Tuesday were met in the course of four three-months' exploration trips into the Canadian Rockies. Embodied in the lecture were the results of his expeditions, and a host of interesting experiences. Mr. Kinney made three attempts to scale Mt. Robson, a hitherto unconquered peak. Two were made in company with Dr. Coleman of Toronto University, geologist, one from a base at Laggan and the other from Edmonton. His third attempt in 1909 which was successful, was the culmination of an effort he organized himself, starting from Edmonton, with a pack-horse train and three months' provisions.

Another of Mr. Kinney's notable achievements was his discovery and ascent of what he afterwards named Mt. Chown, situated on the Smoky River, near Mt. Robson. His designation of this new peak was accepted by the government.

Illustrating his lecture on Tuesday were about one hundred colored views in the form of lantern slides, beautiful reproductions, and surely the last word in the art. They depicted panoramas among the mountain paradise, scenes and incidents from his expedition, and formed a most interesting collection of varied views. They were in themselves an entertainment, and a revelation to most of the wonderland that lies almost next door to us.

Preceding the slides, which Mr. Kinney explained as they appeared, he gave a short outline of his climbs which served almost as a preface for the wonderfully vivid, yet natural pictures.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Kinney obtained his collection of views through an offer on the part of the Grand Trunk Railway to provide them in return for literature which Mr. Kinney could furnish, concerning that part of the Rockies near their new line in the region of the Yellowhead Pass.

Rev. R. W. Lee acted as chairman, introducing Mr. Kinney, and closing the evening's program with a short address of appreciation, voicing the sentiments of all present.

Mr. Kinney reported his lecture at Penticton and also at Kelowna.

URGES GOVERNMENT LOANS IN AID OF AGRICULTURE.

The Boards of Trade throughout Western Canada are being asked to support a resolution to Ottawa asking that the Federal Government enact legislation with a view to loaning $50,000,000 to urban and rural municipalities in Canada on their own municipal debentures, repayable in five years at five per cent, the object being to assist agriculture. The resolution emanated from the Port Arthur Board of Trade. It is pointed out that New Zealand has lent $65,000,000, the Commonwealth of Australia over $80,000,000, the Argentine Republic $60,000,000, and Great Britain to the tenant farmers of Ireland over $330,000,000.

BASKETBALL

The second game in the local league schedule was played off last Friday evening, when the Town team met the College in the Men's Club. Once again the Town boys were outclassed, and the final blow of Referee Sawyer's whistle saw the College victorious, with the score at 25-16.

Neither side gained anything of an advantage in the first half. The score mounted up very evenly with first one side in the lead and then the other. At half time the tally was 11-10 in favor of the Town. In the second half the College shooting turned the tide more decisively in their favor, Morelock in particular making some spectacular baskets. The College showed splendid combination at times, Morelock and McLeod working together in a way that would have shown up even more brilliantly on the larger floor. The College boys have evidently put in pretty constant practice, and that counts every time. They drew away from the bunches, and the way they spread out invited combination. There were not an exceptional number of fouls called, but Morelock converted them all into points excepting one near the close. Although closely checked, George Dale got in three or four nice baskets in the second half.

The Town forwards worked hard enough, but their shooting was weak. They had a good many chances, and though the College basket had some miraculous escapes that was not sufficient. Phinney at guard played the best game for the Town, and in the second half secured a wonderful basket from beyond the centre. The Town boys are evidently out of practice on the foul shots, for a good many were missed.

College games are always fast, and this one was no exception. As the score indicated it was the forwards game, especially in the second half.

The College made a change in their team at half time, George

Dale replacing Murray Cochrane. The teams were: College—Morelock, Cochrane and Dale, f., McLeod, c., Riley and Vanderburg, g. Town—Angove and Glenn, f., Lavis, c., Phinney and Snider, g.

The intermediate game preceding the encounter of the seniors brought another victory to the Town's second line-up. Perhaps the game was a little more energetic than scientific, but it needs a good deal of practice to remedy that condition. In this game also the Town were weak on the shooting, or their score could easily have been doubled. The Town intermediates are thus far unbent, having met and overcome both the other teams. The players in this game were: Town—McWilliams and Sismay, f., Clay, c., White and Williams, g. College—Elliott and Bent, forwards, Jennings, c., Adams and Elliott, g.

LEAGUE STANDING.

Seniors.		Per-	Points

Wests	1	100	18	10

Wests	1	0	6	14
College	1	0	8	9

The Town are now the occupants of the cellar position in the league. Just for how long it is hard to say. It will probably depend on how much practice they are able to get in together, for they have a good selection of old hands who just need to work together to strike a winning vein. Two more league fixtures are scheduled for the near future. To-night, Friday, the College and the Wests meet in the big gymnasium, and on Monday evening the Wests play the Town in the Men's Club. In order to acustom themselves to the conditions of the smaller floor the Wests had a practice down town early in the week.

ANOTHER SUCCESS.

ALTHOUGH it is not new intelligence to anyone in the district that Summerland fruit is still the ne plus ultra product of former years, unexcelled by any grown elsewhere on the continent, still the announcement of the success of the local exhibit at the Spokane Fair made on the front page should not lose any interest on that account. It is refreshing in these times when all Summerland, in common with the rest of the Okanagan Valley, is so concerned with the perfecting of a successful scheme of fruit marketing, to be reminded of the fact that the product of our orchards is at all times unexcelled and worthy of the premier position in the country's markets, that is slowly but surely coming to it. It is of special note that the fruit sent down to Spokane was not picked out for show purposes a long time ahead, nor was the time spent on the grading and packing that very, commonly is. Both these considerations add lustre to the achievement, so that it equals the honor of any past prize-winning of Summerland fruit. It is inconceivable that there is not an assured future for the orchards that grow this blue-riband fruit, and every public display that is made at fairs and exhibitions helps to fix the fame of Summerland apples more firmly in the minds of the consumers.

"IF YOU WONT, there are others who will be glad to," is the pointed hint of the publisher of a Valley paper to his local merchants with reference to their buying space in his publication. Few, even of our business men, realize that a newspaper has a fixed amount of stock-in-trade which it must sell in order to continue to exist, and that buyers must be gotten somehow, somewhere. Here is how our contemporary puts it:—"Advertising space in a newspaper is the same to the proprietor of the newspaper as the stock of goods on the shelves in the merchandise store is to the proprietor of the store. It is the newspaper's stock-in-trade. Therefore, if the newspaper is to keep its head above water, it cannot afford to sit down and wait for customers. It must sell the goods it has to offer—advertising space. And if the local merchants do not buy space in the home paper, others will, and in so doing will offer inducements to the home merchant's customers that will attract them to the department stores in the large cities or in neighboring towns. And the few dollars the home merchants saves in refusing to advertise and thus hold the interest and the business of the home people are soon lost to him and the home town by being drawn elsewhere. The wise merchant sees this. And the wise merchant knows that in times like the present, one must get after the business and keep after it if it is to be had and retained."

IN THE VIEW of Mr J. R. Terry, Provincial Poultry Instructor, there is an unparalleled opportunity for poultry men in this province to step in and take complete possession of the markets the Coast cities provide. He points out that it is impossible at present to import live or dead poultry from the United States on account of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease across the line. The embargo will hold good he says, for at least six months.

WHERE BRITAIN'S NAVY HELPS. (Washington Post.)

"By cutting off Germany's commerce and by driving German ships from the ocean, the British fleet is doing more, in the long run, to defeat Germany than is being done by the allied armies. With an assurance of supplies and gold from abroad, and a market for her products, Germany could withstand indefinitely an assault by the Russian army, and probably could permanently annex Belgium and conquer France. But with her factories paralyzed, and the cold grip of the British fleet about her throat, Germany must fight with redoubled vigor to bring the war to a close before starvation conquers her."

Two Good Papers At Women's Institute.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was held on Friday last, November 20th, in the Men's Club. Mrs W. H. Hayes, president, was in the chair, and the session proved a most interesting one.

A splendid contribution to the meeting was the paper prepared by Miss K. C. McLeod of the College, on the subject "A Woman's Duty to Herself." Miss McLeod treated her topic in a scholarly fashion, which gave the greatest value to her paper. She treated her comprehensive subject under three main heads, showing that it was incumbent on every woman to guard and keep her health, her appearance, and not least to strive for the best development of her faculties of mind. The paper was greatly appreciated by all present, and Miss McLeod was tendered a most hearty vote of thanks.

Then followed a button-hole contest in which most of the ladies took part, the prize for which was a pair of embroidery scissors. Two button-holes were worked on material supplied, and many excellent examples of this work were examined by the judges.

A second paper was read by Mrs B. C. Lipssett, entitled, "A Trip to London from Kamooos." It was prepared by a lady from that town who had made the trip, and contained good descriptions of the sights of the great metropolis.

In the preliminary business at the commencement of the meeting the relation of the Institute to the Town School was touched upon, and a committee was named to take this interest in hand.

If this town had the liveliest citizens the citizens would soon have the liveliest town.

There have been heavy falls of snow both east and west of us, and citizens are hearing from prairie friends of bitterly cold weather as low as 20 degrees below zero in some instances. In the favored South Okanagan the mercury has scarcely gone below the freezing point, and those dips were of but short duration.

Naramata Current Events

A fuller account of last evening's Drummond Recital by Rev. D. E. Hatt is necessarily held over till next issue.

Mrs Carroll Aikins was At Home on Monday afternoon to a few friends upon the occasion of her birthday.

A wire from Toronto on Monday brought to Mrs T. H. Boothe the sad intelligence of the death at the General Hospital of her only sister, Mrs R. B. Welsh, of Markham, Ontario.

Mrs J. M. Robinson served afternoon tea to a wide circle of friends who assembled in honor of Mrs Anna L. Gillespie, who leaves shortly for Battle Creek, Michigan where for the present she will reside.

Basketball practice still continues with unabated zeal. In the excitement of the pursuit one evening this week one young lady came near suffering serious bodily injury in one of the numerous "mix-ups" that will occur in the best regulated matches.

This week has witnessed the departure from town of a few more young men intent upon entering the service of His Majesty's forces. Robert Gammon who has seen active service as an artillery man went direct to Vancouver. Russell Roe went to Penticton on Tuesday and was enrolled with the bunch that went out from that town the following morning, while Roy Boothe and Walter Talbot joined the force that left Summerland on Thursday morning. It is expected that these latter will go into training at Vernon for several months in order to fit them for active service abroad at a later date.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

On Tuesday evening, November 17th, another of our Council meetings was held in the club room. Owing to the many concerts and social affairs being planned by the several organizations in town, to be held between now and Christmas, it was decided to postpone our Scout Concert until after the holidays. This will give us plenty of time to prepare a good program, and rehearsals will take place steadily from now on.

Thursday evening, contrary to our usual custom, we did not either go out on a hike or have any physical drills or exercises, but spent the time in completely overhauling and cleaning the scout rooms. This does not mean, however, that we have any idea of abandoning our series of route marches, and another of our historical (or hysterical) hikes is being planned for next Thursday evening.

Our First Aid meeting on Saturday afternoon, November 21st, at Dr Robinson's was devoted to a study of and a talk on various poisons, their symptoms, and how to treat them. The lessons we are now having are in the nature of reviews of the work we have already had, and we hope soon to be able to pass the examination for our ambulance proficiency badge, which examination the doctor is going to prepare for us, and you can be sure it will be a good stiff test.

A church parade is being planned for the second Sunday in December, and the pastor has promised to prepare an appropriate address for the occasion. More details will be given later.

Every Tuesday evening from now on, two scouts, one a 2nd class scout and one a tenderfoot, will be detailed for fatigue work for the ensuing week. Their duties will consist of sweeping and keeping the scout building clean, keeping us in wood, and looking after things generally.

The preparations for the annual bazaar conducted by the Ladies' Aid are now rapidly being completed and by next Thursday afternoon it is expected that the harvest of good bargains may be garnered in by the bargain harvesters.

Mr. T. H. Boothe is in receipt of the intelligence that his oldest son, Reg. L. Boothe, of Quesnel, B.C., has also enlisted for active service.

Recent advices report that Mr J. M. Robinson in his business trip east has reached Winnipeg, and there is a possibility that he may go on as far as Toronto.

Mr Hall has moved across to Naramata and will enter upon his duties at the Naramata Supply Co's. store at the beginning of next month.

The commodious dwelling being erected for Mr Cash by Mr George Cook is being rushed along rapidly aided by the spell of fine weather this week.

An unconfirmed report is current on the street this week that Mr A. Augustein, formerly one of the proprietors of the Svea Hotel here during railway construction times, died recently in St Paul, Minnesota.

Lack of naturalization papers will prevent a number of likely recruits from this point ever joining the forces to fight abroad. We are beginning to see now why certain European countries made emigration to America a difficult and often an impossible procedure.

Mrs Ralph Hornsey and family went out on Tuesday evening's boat en route to Vancouver, where Mr Hornsey holds an important position in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway's police force. A large circle of friends were at the wharf to wish Mrs Hornsey bon voyage.

Mrs Gillespie accompanied by her husband, Mr J. S. Gillespie, who is now fairly well on the way towards complete recovery, leave to-morrow, Saturday, for Battle Creek, Michigan. It is hoped that the change of air may materially assist toward an improvement in the husband's health.

The service on Sunday morning at which Pastor Beatty dealt with the subject, "Is it a Christian nation's duty to go to War," drew a large number of ready listeners. Mr Beatty is of the opinion under the existing social conditions of the world war is inevitable and that till the heart of the nations as collective bodies of individuals is changed the present state of affairs may be expected at more or less regularly recurring intervals.

The Boat Company had their own time this week transporting a quantity of lumber from Pouchland to Penticton. The first attempt proved a failure and almost ended with the loss of the first scow load on account of the heavy sea that suddenly sprung up and wouldn't let up. The disaster was averted by running the scow ashore in a cove sheltered from the south breeze. When the lake calmed down on Wednesday the work was resumed and carried out quite readily.

WANTS TRAIN SERVICE.

Princeton Ratepayers Petition Railway Commission.

Immediate traffic service over the V. V. & E. and K. V. railways via Merritt to the Coast is the object of a resolution addressed by the ratepayers of Princeton, last week, to the railway commission. These lines, it is said, are now complete and connected at Coldwater junction and, it was suggested, should now be available for public convenience until the Coquihalla Pass link is finished next year.

Guthrie, McDougall & Co. last week completed their railway construction work at Coalmont, according to the Star, Princeton. There now remains only the Princeton portion of the Kettle Valley line to be completed, and it is confidently believed another two or three months will see this connecting gap finished.

FALSE MARKING GETS EXCHANGE INTO TROUBLE.

Fruit Inspector Clarke laid a complaint against the Salmon Arm Exchange recently, charging the Exchange with shipping No. 3 apples under No. 1 label. His attention was called to the box of apples in question by a Calgary retailer, and the inspector at once laid the complaint. The case was tried at Salmon Arm, and the Exchange manager pleading guilty, the minimum fine of $10 and costs was imposed.

It developed at the trial that the apples were packed in the orchards of Frank Black. The box bore a No. 1 label, but the figure 1 had been made into a 3 with a pencil, and it was claimed by Mr Black that he had sold the fruit for No. 3. However, the commercial label for No. 1 and No. 3 fruit is entirely different, and the Fruit Marks Act will not allow No. 3's to be packed in a No. 1-labelled box.

It was claimed by the Exchange manager that there had apparently been no intention on the part of Mr Black to get rid of No. 3 fruit for No. 1, though the Exchange could not escape the charge as laid.

HOPE MOUNTAIN ROUTE.

The Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Railways, is in receipt of a progress report which shows that, in respect to the Hope Mountain route, grading is nearly finished on the joint section to be used by the Kettle Valley Railway and the Victoria, Vancouver & Eastern Railway from Hope to Coquihalla Summit, and that shipments of steel for the 36 mile stretch of track are being delivered over the Coalmont-Otter summit portion of the latter road, which has recently been completed. Grading work will be finished, it is estimated, by the first of the coming month. Tracklaying will not be started until next spring. Already heavy snowfalls are starting to retard construction near the summit.

CANADA WILL BENEFIT.

London advices are that thousands of British people who annually go to the continent to spend the winter are revising their plans. The continent is, of course, impossible this winter, and it is not surprising to find that our people are looking up Canada. All anxiety as to the safety of crossing the Atlantic is over; and it is stated at the several steamship offices that bookings for the saloon during the latter months of the year show an increase over those of former years. Canada will see plenty of British tourists this year. The Alps of Switzerland will be exchanged for the Rockies of Canada. The big game hunters—those who are not in the fighting line—will hunt the Canadian moose instead of the bear in the Black Forest. The increase in travellers will not, however, come entirely from the pleasure-seeking classes. British manufacturers in plenty are making an autumn trip to survey the business opportunities. They have been shaken into activity by the war—an activity which will mean many more branch factories in Canada before long.

BIRDS AS SHEPHERDS.

Few know of the shepherd birds of South America. They belong to the crane family, and are known as yankamiks. These curious birds take care of large flocks of sheep, leading them to pasture early in the morning, and caring for them all day unaided. If any stray animals approach the flock the yankamiks attack them with backward wings. They are said to be much stronger than dogs.

This stand of timber is principally on the divide between Garnett and Meadow Valleys, and will mean an extension of operations for the mill. It is possible that a different location for the mill may be decided upon.

Wood, a tailor, now residing at Penticton, who will take possession on December first. It is stated that he is selling his business in the neighboring town and will remove here with his family.

Watson entitled "The Consolation of Ability," was read at the afternoon meeting.

At a meeting of the executive of the Poultry Association it was decided to recommend to the association that arrangements be made to make regular importations of feed in carload lots. The idea of the executive is that the association should have a regular place of business and carry a stock of sundries and that a man should be engaged to transact the business of the organization, both as regards its importation and the shipping of eggs, etc. A committee was appointed to work out plans and make definite recommendations to the association.

There were in all fully 15 candidates for the position. Two applicants were from Valley points, one from the Coast, the others, with one exception, from Alberta. Mr Colin W. Leos, an Ontario man, highly recommended, was finally selected, the casting vote of the chairman being necessary to decide between the two to which the list had been cut down.

The renewal of the mild fall weather has permitted of a resumption of plowing and other necessary preliminary work at the Trout Creek Experimental Farm, where Superintendent R. H. Helmer has been busy directing operations. The snow and frost of last week necessitated a halt in the work for a few days.

After several weeks over the harvest season spent on the Alberta prairies, Tom Blaikie returned to Summerland last Saturday evening. The touch of wintry weather of about three weeks back when snow and frost were mildly in evidence here, had their counterpart in that country in a temperature of about 18 degrees below zero, and fifteen inches of snow. "The favored Okanagan" is no false nomenclature climatically.

Penticton Wants Agency Warehouse.

Proposition to Make It The Centre Of Distribution For Soft Fruits.

At the request of the Penticton Fruit Union, directors representing the Union of that place, Summerland and Peachland, met at the latter place on Tuesday to consider the question of marketing soft fruits. It was proposed by the Penticton men that a central agency warehouse be established at that place to handle all the soft fruits of the South Okanagan, and perhaps eventually apples as well.

It will be suggested to the Central by a resolution submitted by G. J. C. White that special soft fruit salesmen be sent to the various prairie and Coast markets in the spring and early summer to stimulate demand for South Okanagan soft fruits. The matter will come up for discussion at the annual meeting of the Growers.
 The executive of the United Growers meets at Vernon on Tuesday, the directors on Wednesday, and the boards of the various locals on Thursday.

 The present financial stringency and the attitude of the banks came in for discussion, resulting in the formation of a resolution to be presented to the Associated Boards for consideration.

The evidence taken at the preliminary hearing in the Penticton shooting case was not considered sufficient to formally commit Elgin C. Myers, the suspect, for trial. He was, however, bound over to appear for trial. The next step will depend on the Attorney-General, to whom the evidence taken has been submitted.

A LUCKY ESCAPE.

Three local young men driving home on Monday night from the recital in the College Gymnasium, with three young lady friends, had a very unpleasant experience from which they were fortunate to emerge with no bad injury. The vehicle the six were occupying was a surrey, drawn by a team of horses, the whole outfit being hired from the livery of R. H. English. Outside the Gymnasium the horses were turned in the direction of the Anglican Church. It will be recalled that a large piece of rock projects out into the road near the dam, necessitating a careful turn at all times. A scraping was heard by some people nearby, and it is clear that the rig did not take a wide enough turn round this rock, with the result that it careened over on to its side, throwing all the occupants out into the muddy road. The team continued, dragging the surrey along on its side, and on the bridge a few yards ahead came in contact with a small democrat driven by Mr J. Doherty, proceeding in the same direction. This precipitated the final mix-up of the team with their rig, and when they were reached, one was entangled in the harness, and the other was mixed up among the wheels. Willing assistance was close at hand to extricate them, and it was found that the horses had suffered no injury, and the rig also escaped serious damage. Most fortunate of all was the fact that the six occupants came to no lasting harm from their experience.

Following closely upon the issuance of a book of apple recipes by the Department of Agriculture which was given wide distribution during the nation-wide advertising campaign to encourage a larger use of Canadian apples, comes a publication issued by the Department of the Naval Service on "Fish and How to Cook It." Copies may be obtained by applying to the department.

It is learned that the office staff of Guthrie, McDougall & Co., and two sub-contractors, Mutt. Glaven and Robt. Knowltn, were recent contributors to the extent of $10 to the College funds.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon.
