

Christmas In The Churches.

Christmas services were held last Sunday in the churches that did not emphasize the Christmas thought the Sunday previous.

In the Parkdale Baptist Church the morning service was given the character of a special occasion both by the music and the substance of Rev. N. McNaughton's discourse. There was a good attendance of worshippers, who derived much satisfaction from the hearty service. Mr. McNaughton, in his sermon, keeping the Christmas thought in the foreground, traced the growth of the people's idea of God down through time. A choir of good strength led in the praise service and rendered a Christmas hymn as an anthem, "The Angels' Story." A solo by Mrs. G. M. Ross, "A Dream of Paradise," was also a special enjoyment in this service.

In St. Andrew's Church in the evening, Rev. C. H. Daly conducted a Christmas service. Preaching on the text "On Earth Peace, Goodwill Toward Men," he showed that out of the apparent contradiction of the Christmas spirit to be seen in the great war now waging, might come inestimable benefit to the world. Seasonable hymns were sung, and the full choir rendered an appropriate anthem, "Oh, Zion That Bringest Good Tidings." Presbyterian service was also held in the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon, when the choir rendered an anthem, and Mr. Daly delivered a Christmas message.

In the evening the Methodist Church held about all it could comfortably contain when Rev. R. W. Lee and Rev. N. McNaughton conducted service. Mr. Lee's sermon dwelt upon the divinity of Christ, which, he said, has always been the master passion of the church. In the early gospel and right through the ages the exaltation of Jesus was shown. The divinity of Jesus Christ necessitates great intellectual problems, as to how Jesus could be man and God. If any plain man would steep himself in the gospel, and study the life and personality of Jesus, and follow Him to Calvary, he would be almost sure to say that Jesus was more than man. To-day, in the midst of war conditions, there is need to dwell upon the exaltation of Jesus. A greater than He has not yet come.

The united choirs of the Methodist and Baptist Churches were present in force and gave some special music, consisting of two Christmas hymns, a prayer, response, and an anthem, "And There Were Shepherds," in which Miss Anna Hayes was soloist.

In St. Stephen's Church the customary services were held on Christmas Day, at which the Rector, Rev. H. A. Solly officiated. Holy Communion was celebrated at eight o'clock, and Matins was said at 10.30, followed by a choral celebration of Holy Communion at 11.

"THE VERSATILES."

The English company known as "The Versatiles," under the management of J. Stuart Whyte, made an appearance in Summerland last week, playing in Empire Hall on Thursday night, Christmas Eve. They have been here before, and so the high quality of their show was already known. There was no disappointment in regard to their Thursday night performance except perhaps in point of the number in the audience. The hall was only about half full, but there is no doubt but that those who did go got their money's worth. The program was clean vaudeville, with the added attraction of being up-to-date, well-netted and topical. Many of the items it was pleasant to notice struck prominently on the note of patriotism—just what one would expect from a company that is giving a generous fixed proportion of all earnings to the national patriotic fund. There was also plenty of humor, genuine, well-sustained, and not at all forced, scattered throughout the evening's entertainment. One popular number was a song sung under a Union Jack banner, which showed the Canadian flag on the reverse side. Another that roused enthusiasm brought in the figures of John Bull and Britannia with her trident.

ANNUAL MEETING OF GROWERS' ORGANIZATIONS.

At the Men's Club on Wednesday afternoon the annual meeting of the Summerland branches of the Agricultural Association, the Farmers' Institute, and the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association were held jointly. It seems always difficult to secure a good attendance at meetings of this kind, and in view of this, the turnout of about thirty growers must not be deemed so very unsatisfactory. The chief business before the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year and the consideration of resolutions that will be presented to the Convention Committees of these bodies. Although, as stated some time ago, there will this year be no regular annual convention of any of these societies, the different branches have been advised that any resolutions forwarded to Victoria will be given due consideration by the responsible officials of the Provincial Government.

Officers for the Farmers' Institute were named for the year as follows:

- President - J. L. Hilborn
- Vice-President - R. Johnston
- Secretary-Treasurer - John Tait
- Executive - Messrs C. H. Tate, R. V. Agur, G. W. McLaren, R. C. Lipsett and R. H. Helmer.

For the Agricultural Association the officers appointed were:

- President - H. C. Mellor
- Vice-President - Dr. R. C. Lipsett
- Secretary-Treasurer - D. H. Watson
- Directors - Messrs R. H. English, G. W. McLaren, J. L. Logie.

The new officers in the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association are:

- President - S. M. Young
- Vice-President - Dr. R. C. Lipsett
- Secretary-Treasurer - John Tait
- Executive - Messrs W. M. Wright, P. Dodwell and J. L. Hilborn.

Five resolutions were considered and will be sent forward to headquarters from the meeting. These may be epitomized as under:

- 1—Urging loans from the Provincial Government to help the fruit growers inaugurate the establishment of the manufacture of fruit by-products.
- 2—Desiring to lessen the bad effects of competitive underselling among different fruit marketing concerns by the creation of a strong public sentiment that will learn not to tolerate price cutting.
- 3—Urging loans from the Provincial Government to settlers for farm improvements and the purchase of livestock.
- 4—Commending the efforts being made by the government to stamp out the fire blight, and promising all the assistance and co-operation possible.
- 5—Desiring that as soon as possible, particulars be made public of the probable charges by freight and express for fruit transportation over the new Kettle Valley line, since it may be expected that considerable benefit will accrue to southern Okanagan fruit growers by the inauguration of this line.

ICE CARNIVAL.

As advertised a skating carnival was held on Tuesday evening last at the Parkdale Rink, and excellent fun was enjoyed by the patrons. A crowd of 150 skaters was on the ice, about 40 of whom wore fancy costumes. Dutch and Indian maidens, soldiers, sailors, clowns and darkies sported together, and much amusement was caused in endeavoring to "spot" the various disguises. The ice, though a little soft, was in fairly good condition, and altogether the carnival provided a very pleasant and inexpensive evening's amusement.

Excellent maple syrup and candy was served gratis to skaters, and apparently was much appreciated.

An order from Vancouver for 750 boxes of Newtown Pippins has been received by the Summerland Fruit Union, and will be filled at once. The price obtained is $1 2.00, thus justifying the holding of the fruit for a better price than was possible a few weeks ago, when 85c. was the highest offer.

Bank Of Montreal Closing Their West Summerland Sub-Agency Temporarily.

Owing to business conditions, and the staff being needed elsewhere during the war, the Bank of Montreal has decided to close their sub-agency at West Summerland temporarily, on December 31st, 1914.

All accounts will be transferred to their main office at Summerland, both current account and Savings.

It is greatly regretted that such short notice is given, but a great deal of consideration was necessary before this move was decided upon, entailing much correspondence, which was only concluded decisively to-day.

It may be found necessary later to move the main office to West Summerland.

MARRIED MEN AT BASKET-BALL.

The second basketball game between married men of the front and west districts, was played off on Wednesday night in the Men's Club. There were a good many more spectators than at the game of last week, and the rooting was hearty for both teams.

There were some changes in the line-ups, and the two redoubtable teams faced Referee Harry Bristow as follows:

- Town - G. Gartrell forward, W. Shields, C. Borton centre, F. Gartrell guard, G. Morgan.
- West - D. Thompson, A. Rutherford, T. Ramsay, W. Beattie, A. B. Elliott.

At the end of the game the Town had got on top of the score, which stood 9-7; but they had a very narrow escape from being beaten, only a rally in the last few minutes, and some hot scoring by Geo. Gartrell, retrieving the game for them. The players were held down fairly close to proper basketball, the referee penalizing the unorthodox checks that were sometimes put into operation, and also the most flagrant of various other irregularities. West Summerland seemed to have the best of the encounter almost till the last, in spite of the stubborn defence put up by the Town's stalwart guards. Messrs Thompson and Ramsay accounted for the score of the winners, and A. B. Elliott was again very prominent for his team by his hard work. For the Town Geo. Gartrell did the scoring, and his final basket that won the game for the Town was made only a few seconds before the whistle blew for the end. With some minutes still to play, the Wests were three points ahead, and the fate of the game looked settled. Then a basket and foul for the Town evened things up, and the last basket came just in time, with not a second to spare.

Now that the married men are getting into the intricacies of the game, it would be aptly to drop it. They had better play some more games and let the worthy cause of charity they are helping with the ten cent admission be benefitted still more.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS.

About twenty members of the local Scout troop put in an attendance at the Ellison Hall, Peach Orchard, on Tuesday afternoon, and participated in the shoot for the Borton Patrol Cup. The weapons used were .22's, and firing took place over a range of about forty or fifty feet. The target was by no means big, the bull's eye not being larger than about one inch across. The boys had a very profitable afternoon under Scoutmaster John Tait. There were some Scouts who were fairly familiar with the little guns, and others who were new to the art of shooting, and all got some valuable practice.

The result of the competition gives No. 1 Patrol, led by Scout Dwight Ritchie, the honor of holding the cup for the next year. The other patrols in their order were No. 4, No. 3, and No. 2.

The best three individual scores were as under: Patrol Leader D. Ritchie, 28 out of a possible 30. Scout B. Taylor, 22 out of 30. Patrol Leader D. Ross, 21 out of 30.

This evening, Thursday, the Scouts are being entertained by Mr and Mrs H. G. Estabrook at their orchard home. It is a foregone conclusion that the boys will have a good time, and a large turnout will likely be on hand to enjoy the hospitality of Mr and Mrs Estabrook.

On the afternoon of Sunday next, January 3rd, the Summerland Boy Scouts and Naramata Scouts will unite in a church parade, attending the Presbyterian service in the Methodist Church at three o'clock, when Rev. C. H. Daly will give the boys an appropriate address. It is planned to have the local Scouts assemble and march to the wharf to meet the visiting troop, and from there march direct to the church.

University examinations commence January 5th at 9.30 a.m. in Okanagan College. Regular classes start the same morning at nine.

Sunday School Xmas Gatherings.

From three until six o'clock on Monday afternoon the children of the Anglican Sunday School and the adults connected with it, met at the Rectory in the customary Christmas gathering, and had a thoroughly enjoyable time. There was a bright Christmas tree laden with presents and candies, and the distribution of these good things was a feature that did not fail to bring great pleasure alike to the children and to the older ones. The gifts were handed out from the tree by three of the children, the Misses Dorothy and Veronica Solly and Miss Nellie Thompson. Games were participated in during the course of the afternoon, and a tea was also enjoyed. Great fun came to the children in the form of a large snowball that came from Mr D. C. Thompson. In it were hidden presents, numbered to correspond to tickets which the children drew, and the excitement of the children as this mystery was being unravelled can well be pictured.

In the Methodist Church the Christmas entertainment this year took the form of a congregational Sunday School social, which was held in the Men's Club on Tuesday evening of this week. A large company was present, and first sat down to an excellent repast with an abundance of good things, prepared by the ladies. After supper parlor games were played, and all kinds of amusement enjoyed by the company. Music during the evening was given in songs and duets by Miss Evelyn Brown and her sister, Mrs G. A. McLaine.

Complete success rewarded the efforts of those who were responsible for the Christmas tea and entertainment of the Lakeside Baptist Sunday School, held in the church on Wednesday evening of this week. The children gathered during the afternoon, and enjoyed an hour or two of games before partaking of a very bountiful supper. The adults of the school also enjoyed a good supper provided by the kindness of the ladies. This was followed by a program of more than twenty items, consisting largely of choruses and recitations. The younger children gave some very creditable performances, and evidenced the careful training that had been given them. There was also a dialogue in two scenes, and a camp-fire song by some of the older members of the school. The last item of the evening was the appearance of Santa Claus, who stripped the Christmas tree on the platform of its burden of little gifts and candies, for the benefit of the children, and greatly to their delight.

THE FARM INVENTORY.

THIS IS THE SEASON of the year for stock taking. All good business concerns take yearly an inventory of their business. It is equally as essential that the man on the farm should do likewise, otherwise he is working largely in the dark. A proper, but not necessarily complicated system of accounting is as essential to success on the farm as in the store. The merchant knows his costs, and thereby ascertains what he should receive for his goods. He keeps an accurate record of all his receipts and expenditures. At the end of the year he takes a list of all his possessions and of his liabilities. The balance is his worth. A similar method on the farm is the best guide available as to whether and what the owner is gaining each year.

In these columns a year ago a detailed system of farm accounting in all its phases was published for the benefit of our readers. Something might now be said bearing particularly on the making of an inventory. This inventory should include the land itself, all permanent improvements, all live stock and equipment, as well as any unsold produce. Articles held for sale should be valued at their market price while equipment should be valued at its worth to the farm, that is, its cost, less a reasonable depreciation annually divided over its life of usefulness. Buildings, fences, etc., if maintained in good repair, need not be depreciated. Trees, shrubbery, etc., should increase in value, and the annual capital outlay on these might properly be added to the previous inventory price.

Once carefully and properly taken, succeeding inventories are simple. A book should be used that will hold the inventories for several years. Several cash columns side by side, one for each year would simplify the work for later years. Each horse, cow or tool of much worth should be listed separately by name or number. Proper management may increase the producing value and therefore the true value of the farm, and this may be taken into consideration.

If you have never taken an inventory do it now at the beginning of 1915. Its real value to you will be apparent a year later. Once establish this practice and you will never abandon it.

WE RESOLVE

- To work—since we see no way out of it.
- To be on time, and give you the spiciest sheet going.
- To meddle with no one, and tell you about everybody.
- To give business men the best advertising medium possible.
- To make everyone that takes this paper so glad they'll recommend it to their neighbors and send it to their friends.

JUST BEFORE CHRISTMAS a vote was taken in the United States Congress on an amendment to the constitution, too make prohibition a national rather than a state issue. Just to show how the cause of the prohibitionists is progressing in the republic, a good safe majority of the votes were cast for the amendment. It was lost, however; as to change the constitution a two-thirds majority vote is necessary.

The Home Circle

Words of Helpfulness and Cheer for Old and Young in the Family Circle.

Do we take time during the hurry and bustle of the holiday season to review our work of the year, and see wherein we have made mistakes, jotting them down in our memory as to be avoided in the future? That boy would never have become a perfect workman if he did not avoid mistakes of yesterday. We must never make the same mistake twice, and in order to guard against doing so, we must look back and find the mistakes we have made.

Turn over the leaf. You may regret to place such a page on the record of past years, but to mourn over it will not change it. It is a page of your past life now, and must count for or against. Just one thing left, forget the past and press on. A clean page is before you, ready for the record of another year. The great thing is to start it right—and the greater thing is to keep it right. Keep the end in view, and as you start with a happy New Year it may be yours to be happy all the year.

Happy New Year. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid. Seek peace and pursue it. Be true to every honest conviction, and live to make the world better for passing through it.

We can wish no better thing for all our readers than that they begin the New Year animated by a firm resolve to turn all its experience into profit for themselves, mentally, morally, socially, and materially, and then to faithfully carry out the resolution.

A new year is here. It is a time for invoice. Business men take an invoice of their stock. Wouldn't it be business for you to take one of yourself. Life, each life, is a business. Have you gained or lost last year? Have you used the talents that have been given you so as to gain other talents? Is there any prospect of your being placed over ten cities or five cities or one city? Have you declared any dividends in the way of loving and helping others, and have you added anything to the capital stock of your character? These are pertinent questions that press us all for an answer.

If the old year has brought sorrow and desolation, and hung crepe on our doors, the new year will bring us the leaves and healing, and we are glad to part with the one and welcome the other. If, on the contrary, the old year has brought us only joy and comfort, we part from him sorrowfully, but meet his successor with the ardent hope, that he, too, comes with blessing. The sober, jollity of New Year's day is like standing for one brief moment on the threshold between time and eternity. Here is the world we know—yonder the world that is new and untried.

SWEDEN CARES FOR TEETH OF SCHOOL CHILDREN.

Great attention is paid to dental surgery in Swedish schools. Sweden, with five and a half millions of inhabitants, has about thirty complete dental surgeries for school children. In the dental surgeries for school children in Sweden a journal is kept in regard to every child. Surgeries are open every day, and the children are treated by a dental surgeon and his assistant. Hitherto dental surgery has been free of charge, but the idea has gained ground that those children who can afford it ought to pay a small sum yearly for the treatment of their teeth. Experience goes to show that both the children and their parents place greater value upon the dental treatment if they do get it quite free of charge.

In order to find out the effect of dental treatment upon school children, in different respects, a circular containing a series of questions was sent out among the teachers in one of the largest schools in Stockholm. From the replies it appears that absence from school on account of toothache since the establishment of dental surgeries, been almost nil. A good many of the replies also state that the children are quieter and more attentive since the setting up of the surgeries, and various other improvements from a hygienic point of view have been experienced.

RAPID INCREASE OF LIFE.

As illustrating the enormous powers of rapid increase exhibited by both the animal and vegetable kingdoms, which have insured the continuance of the various types of existing life from the earliest geological ages in unbroken succession, while being an important factor in the production of new forms by adaptation, the following instances may be cited:

A common weed, the Siumbrium Sophia, produces three-quarters of a million seeds, and these, if they all grew and multiplied, would in three years cover the whole land surface of the globe. Darwin calculated that the slowest breeding of all animals, the elephant, would in 750 years, from a single pair, produce 19,000,000 individuals. Rabbits would, from a single pair, produce 1,000,000 individuals in four or five years.

These were the intermediate teams that lined up in the Town and College game played off in the upper gymnasium on Monday evening. The game finally went to the Town by a score of 13-7. The College started off strongly and got the first score recorded, and though the Town boys warmed up to their work well they had the lesser end of the 6-5 half-time score. In the second half, however, the Town had the best of the game. The College forwards were watched well, and were able to get no field baskets at all, Jennings securing the sole College point on a foul. The Town on the other hand got four more field baskets, bringing their count up to 13 against the College 7. Will Angove and Roy White were the Town scorers, two particularly smart baskets standing to the credit of the former, one made with a single hand from an awkward position, and the other from a throw-up, the ball going straight into the basket. It was a good, clean game, always interesting and well contested, perhaps the best intermediate game that has yet been played. E. Logie refereed, and he did not have to call many fouls.

The senior game following also went to the Town by 13-9. The play in this game was also extremely even, no weak spots appearing in either team. C. Lavis opened the scoring for the Town, and two more baskets came along before the College got their first point from Morelock by a free shot. Glenn, McWilliams and Phinney all got single field baskets, and Lavis two in the first half, and for the College McLeod got two, making the half-time score 10-5 for the Town. After about ten minutes play Glenn and Morelock were released from the game for some mild signs of what might have been interpreted as something more than basketball antagonism, although it wasn't. However, there was no ill-feeling, and the teams played four men aside till half-time, after which Will Angove for the Town and M. Cochrane for the College came on. After the interval there was less scoring, each side only getting two baskets, the College two both coming from McLeod, and the Town's from Lavis and Phinney. Two pretty baskets came from Phinney and McLeod within two or three minutes of each other, both clean shots from a good distance back. The College were unlucky not to have a higher score, for the Town rooters had to hold their breath several times while the ball bounced around the rim of their goal. But the Town got about as many shots, despite fine guard work by Riley and Vanderburg for the College. There was great combination on both sides at times, the Town putting up their best performance so far in this line. If they keep it up they are certain to climb out of the cellar position in the league. E. Logie refereed this game also to the satisfaction of all. Fouls were not too frequent, and only one, early in the game, was turned to account, by the College. There was not quite as large a turn-out of spectators as usual, possibly sixty witnessing the two good games.

The two senior teams were:

Town		College
C. Lavis	for.	G. Dale
H. Phinney	"	L. Morelock
		M. Cochrane
C. McWilliams	cen.	J. McLeod
H. Snider	gd.	C. Riley
J. F. Glenn	"	A. Vanderburg
and W. Angove

The two games for the near future are College and Wests on Saturday night, and the Town and the Wests on Tuesday at the Men's Club. The Wests will be at something of a disadvantage in losing Ross Rae at centre, but will nevertheless make a strong bid for victory on both occasions. It is not beyond possibility that a change in the league standing may come out of these two games.

GILLETT'S LYE EATS DIRT

Naramata On Skates.

It is not often that Naramata has been favored with weather conditions of such quality as would result in a sheet of smooth ice of the size of a good-sized rink. But we've got the prime article this year. With the thermometer floating 10 to 12 degrees from the thawing margin for a week or two in December the shallow water in the bay immediately north of town, and near to the sawmill, is a really fine sheet of ice, giving to the sport-loving youths of town one of the finest of open air rinks anywhere to be found in B.C.

On Saturday evening an immense crowd turned out early and stayed late. The cheery bon-fire kept ablaze on the shore rendered the merry scene all the more enjoyable, and contributed not a little to the comfort of the on-lookers, for there were a few who preferred to do just that.

The slight snowfalls throughout the week have threatened to interfere with the quality of the ice, but with a first-rate ice scraper provided by Mr. Art Finzall the trouble has been averted.

It is to be hoped that the sport may be prolonged for at least another few weeks.

The Losing Side Of The Mail Order Trading.

A certain farmer in Iowa has discovered that the benefits which appear on the surface as attaching to the mail order plan sometimes spell disaster, and has written a very interesting story of his views in a certain farm paper. Here is a part of his story:

"We farmers need awakening to the fact that we have unmistakably reached the period where we must think and plan. I am one of the slow farmers that have to be shown, and I am now giving my experience that others may profit, for knowledge is more expensive now than ten years ago.

"Twenty-nine years ago I began my farm career. I had an old team and $50. Our furniture was mostly home-made chairs, cupboard and lounge made from dry goods boxes, neatly covered with ten cent crotonne by my girl-wife. We rented eighty acres. Being a boy of good habits I got all needed machinery and groceries off our home merchants on credit, until the fall crops were sold. The first year was a wet season, and I did not make enough to pay the creditors. I went to each on date of promise and explained conditions, paying as much as possible, and they all carried the balance over another year. They continued to accommodate me until I was able to buy a forty-acre piece of my own.

Current Events - OF - Town & District

A happy New Year!
Miss Bessie Mitchell was home for a few days visit at Christmas.
Rev. H. A. Solly conducted Christmas service on Sunday afternoon.
Mr and Mrs V. L. Watson were holiday visitors under the parental roof for a few days last week.

Miss McLeod of the Okanagan Telephone staff, Summerland, was a visitor here a few hours on Saturday.

Mr and Mrs V. L. Watson are spending the New Year's holiday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs H. J. Wells.

Miss Foster is expected back on Saturday evening from a holiday visit to the home of her brother, who lives near Seattle.

Next Monday night at the Literary Society the debate on the subject of co-operation vs. competition is to be concluded. A report of the committee on membership will probably be presented.

Family gatherings on Christmas Day and on the eventful evening prior to this one big day of general rejoicing was the general order issued by the King of Good Cheer at Naramata, and right royally was the response.

The Misses Robinson entertained quite a circle of the young folks of town at a dancing party on Christmas Eve in their spacious apartments at Hotel Naramata. The large dining hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion, as was also the rotunda. Mrs M. D. Manchester, Miss Kathleen Robinson and her brother, Dr Robinson, provided music for the occasion.

Santa Visits Sundry School.

The annual Sunday School Christmas tea and entertainment in connection with the local church was held on Tuesday evening.

As was fitting the children were in the limelight from first to last. They were first served to an ample feast, and afterwards treated to an enjoyable series of games. The games were followed by a pause in which a whispered announcement was made that Santa Claus was in town, and would appear at the close of the Christmas recitations. These recitations were soon over, and with a loud thump in walked the mysterious visitor whose trips to the Okanagan are now so favorably spoken of. Santa, though somewhat reticent, was there with the goods on him, which was the main thing, and distributed the same with amazing impartiality, but with a touch of uneasiness, indication of a desire to get away as soon as possible. Old Santa was, you may be certain, given a rousing good cheer as he slipped out the door and made off in the snowy night.

The management of the Sunday School are certainly to be congratulated for the very fine evening provided for the scholars, an evening apparently as much enjoyed by the parents who turned out in large numbers.

Mr Roy Boothe now stationed at Vernon as a member of the 30th B.C. Horse is home on furlough for a few days. He will probably return next Monday morning.

Merchants who keep the public most closely informed about their store news reap the largest business. Publicity is essential to commercial success. In some form or other every business that brought rich returns for the proprietor was extensively and persistently advertised. The history of business successes show it.

Newsy Faragographs from PEACHLAND

Mr Dan White returned last Monday evening from Vancouver.

To Mr and Mrs J. Wright, a daughter, on Christmas Day.

Mrs Clarence spent Christmas week with friends in Summerland.

On Tuesday morning A. Town left on a business trip to Winnipeg.

Another shipment of goods went out on Monday for the relief of the Belgians.

Mr Erskine Brown came in from Vancouver last week to spend Christmas with his parents.

The young men are making preparation for a patriotic dance in the hall on New Year's Eve.

Mrs John Baldock and children of Penticton, accompanied by Miss Reid, spent Thursday and Friday at the home of Mrs Seaton.

A number of the young people gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Ed. Taylor on Monday evening, and whiled away several hours, dancing and playing games.

Mr Harry Slater, whom the fruit growers have engaged as manager of the feed business lately undertaken, with the building purchased from F. Toleman, is taking stock this week.

Mr and Mrs David Kirkby and Miss Annie Maysant of Penticton spent the holiday week at the home of Mrs Kirkby's parents, Mr and Mrs John McLaughlan, returning home on Tuesday's boat.

The cement works are being flooded by the young men. All are living in hopes that the mild weather of the present may soon give place to more frosty nights so that they may enjoy some skating.

The annual congregational business meeting of the Presbyterian Church was held on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. C. H. Daly of Summerland presided. The financial standing of the congregation is very satisfactory, the debt slowly but surely diminishing.

The union Christmas entertainment took place on Wednesday night last. Mrs Mitchell and Miss Seaton had charge of the training of the little ones, and deserve much credit for the way in which the tots took their parts in tableau, recitation, and play. "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe." As it had been decided to do without a Christmas tree this year, of course Santa Claus being so busy elsewhere, did not put in an appearance. A collection was taken up in aid of Belgian children's fund.

HINTS FOR NEW YEAR'S CALLER.

Look not upon the wine list when it is read.
Don't eat pie with your fingers; try your mouth—it tastes much better.

In conversation, slide over the weather chestnut and talk about woman suffrage.

Don't ask how many calls the young lady's had; you should rather seek to discourage falsehood.

Don't enter the parlor with muddy boots; you may be taken for a carpet cleaner anxious to work.

Do not carry a cane; some of the ladies on whom you call may consider one stick at a call sufficient.

Have your boots nicely polished proving conclusively that if you can't shine at one end you can at the other.

Don't allow the young lady to help you to any one thing on the table more than twice; the third time help yourself.

Be sure that you have your own hat and coat when leaving; this may not be for your financial aggrandisement but it's safer.

WHERE REINFORCEMENT IS NECESSARY.

"I want a hammock that will not break down," said the fair maid, addressing the floorwalker of the department store.

"I'm sorry, miss," he rejoined, "but we haven't any in stock that we could guarantee in your case."

"What do you mean by my case?" asked the young lady.

"Just this," answered the party of the floorwalking part: "If you were a homely girl we could guarantee any hammock you might select."—Chicago News.

WHY EDITORS ARE SKEPTICS.

One of the greatest trials of the newspaper profession is that its members are compelled to see more of the shame of the world than in any other profession. Through every newspaper office, day after day, all the wickedness of the world, church bickerings, and all the mistakes that want to be corrected, all the dull speakers that want to be thought eloquent, all the meanness that wants to get its wares noticed gratis in the editorial columns in order to save the tax on advertising columns; all the cracked brain philosophers whose stories are as long as their hair and as gloomy as their finger nails in mourning because bereft of all soap, all the bross who come to stay a few minutes but stay hours. Through all the editorial and reportorial room all the follies and shame of the world are seen day by day, and the temptation is to believe neither God, nor man, nor woman. It is no surprise to tell me that in this profession there are so many skeptical men. I only wonder that journalists believe anything.—Talmage.

NO LOVE LIKE A MOTHER'S.

If boys are taught to be gentle and chivalrous toward their sisters they will treat all women in the same way. There is no necessity for formality in the home, but brothers and sisters should be just as polite to each other as they would be to strangers. The mere fact that they are closely related does not give them the right to treat each other like wild-little animals. It is hard for a busy mother to exact politeness from a large family of children, but if she begins from their infancy they will soon get the habit, and it will become second nature. Don't get too far away from your own people. Don't forget nor neglect them, for you can't afford to do without them; they are your best friends. No other woman on earth will fool for you as your mother does. She may not see you for years, but your place is there in her heart just the same. Blood is thicker than water, and no matter where you go or whom you meet your own people should always hold the first place in your heart.

HOME TOWN TALKS.

Be a live one and this town will never be a dead one.

Good roads lead not only to town but to business.

Why should a town muzzle the dogs and not the knockers?

Be like a ball player. The thing he is always working for is home.

Be one of the leaders of the town, if you can; but, anyway, keep up.

A town is like a perambulator; it isn't much use unless it is pushed.

Let's not be trying to stop something all the time; let's start something.

Don't be a grouch; everybody in this town wishes you well—even the doctor.

What some homes in this town needs isn't new tango steps, but new front ones.

The man who waits for something to turn up is always getting turned down.

Don't look for soft snaps; the hard snaps are the one's that have the ginger in them.

Don't spend so much time talking war that you haven't any time left to talk business.

It improves the soup to throw a little pepper in it; and it is the same way with a town.

Many a young man goes away to seek his fortune, when Fortune is seeking for him at home.

It isn't very long after a wise young man reaches the marrying age before he reaches the parsonage.

You have to be a citizen to vote; but you have got to do a good deal more than vote in order to be a citizen.

After four thousand years man has never found anything to make him happier than a wee house with a wee wife in it.

When a wagon gets into a rut there is nothing to do but to put your shoulder to the wheel; it is the same with a community.

The big things weren't done in the big towns; the greatest poem in the English language was written in a country churchyard.

The kicker should consider the bull frog, how he croaks; he has been croaking now for several thousand years, but nobody yet has ever taken him seriously.

Concentration

It is better to advertise intensively than extensively when the sum to be devoted to advertising is small. This means the regular use of THE SUMMERLAND REVIEW—52 messages a year addressed to the same constituency of readers.

Intermittent, or divided effort is not likely to be resultful. One full powered blow is better than two half blows.

Concentration of appeal will do a work of conviction and persuasion that will surprise you when the year's returns are totalled up.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC.

There's advice for you in this little homily to advertisers; it is: Reward with a full—not divided—custom the merchant who steadfastly solicits your good-will. The more you strengthen the hands of the men who serve you, the better will be the service returned

Vol. 7, No. 23

SUMMERLAND, B.C., JANUARY 8, 1915.

Whole No. 336

INTERCESSORY SERVICES LAST SUNDAY.

In conformance with the Royal Proclamation, the text of which was published on the front page of last week's issue, services were held in two of Summerland's churches last Sunday evening, during the course of which special prayers of intercession were offered on behalf of Britain and those fighting with her in the European war.

In St. Stephen's Church, the Rector, Rev. H. A. Solly, and Rev. R. W. Lee, Pastor of the Methodist Church, conducted the service. The customary evening service in St. Andrew's Church had been withdrawn in order to make the evening worship in the Anglican Church interdenominational in character, and the united congregations gathered in such numbers as to fill the church to overflowing. Mr Solly officiated during the first portion of the service, reading the scripture portions and special prayers appointed for the day. Frequent opportunity was afforded during the recital of the prayers for silent supplication on the part of the congregation. Familiar hymns were made use of and were sung very heartily. A short address was delivered by Mr Lee, savoring strongly of sound, patriotic sentiment, in keeping with the nature of the service. The empire, he said, wanted peace, but it must be peace with honor, not just for the sake of peace.

The other service was held in the Lakeside Baptist Church, where the pastor, Rev. N. McNaughton, had with him on the platform Rev. C. H. Daly of the Presbyterian Church. Here also there was an unusually large attendance, the church being full almost to its seating capacity. Divine intercession was implored for those engaged in the war, and upon whom its terrible burdens fall most heavily, in the special prayers that were offered. Hymns well-known had been chosen, and were well sung, the congregation joining heartily with the choir. Mr Daly delivered a thoughtful sermon eloquently and effectively, dwelling upon the dependence at all times of man upon his Creator, and so pointing out the need at this season especially of approaching Him by prayer. An exceedingly well rendered duet, sung by Mrs George Ross and Miss Anna Hayes, "I Waited for the Lord" (Mendelssohn), was a real enjoyment to all the congregation during the course of this service.

PARENTS, MAKE THIS CLEAR TO YOUR CHILDREN.

It is not from any desire to curtail the legitimate enjoyment of the children with their sleighs, that it has been found necessary to regulate this pastime somewhat, but from the standpoint of safety, it has been deemed wise to lay down a regulation that there shall be no coasting allowed down the Fenner Gulch Road nor on the sidewalks in town. On Monday there was a mix-up on the Gulch Road between a rig and a young coaster with his sleigh, and how there was no accident as a result is something beyond the telling of either the child or the driver. The sleigh went between the two horses and under the rig, and with no harm to anyone, but such would not always be the case. Moreover that road is tortuous, and on the turns there is every chance for a collision, since there is considerable traffic up that road now it is so well lighted.

Some parts of the sidewalks in town are also not as safe as could be desired, but in this case it is the pedestrians who might suffer. It seems that the board walk, particularly on the incline from the Moreland cottage down Shaughnessy Avenue is unpleasantly slippery just now, and since the walks are primarily for the citizens, and not for the children's coasting, it becomes necessary to protect the rights of the former, in which behalf several protests have been made to the authorities.

The Review is asked to make it quite clear, therefore, that coasting on the sidewalks in the town, and down the Fenner Gulch Road must cease, and that parents will be held responsible for the due observance of this regulation on the part of their children.

Good Start on Library for Boy Scouts.

Troop Entertained Last Week and Presented With Fine Books.

Twenty-six of the local troop of Scouts were entertained to a really royal time on Thursday of last week at the home of Mr and Mrs H. G. Estabrook from about half past three till after six o'clock. The boys were divided into small groups and engaged with boyish zest in playing various games, which sped the time most enjoyably and so all too quickly. Patriotic selections were given on the gramophone, and the appreciation of this fine music on the part of the boys was very evident. When supper-time came the boys were taken in two or three relays to a table well provided with the kind of good food that makes an instant appeal to the healthy boy's appetite. That the Scouts also got great enjoyment out of this part of the program was likewise self-evident.

At the conclusion of the supper something of a surprise came to the boys, and it gave them an opportunity to see that the interest of their host and hostess in Scout work and progress is real, and of the kind that is helpful to the boys. To form a nucleus from which a strong Scout library may be built up, Mr Estabrook presented to the Scouts seven substantial volumes. A touching significance attaches itself to this presentation, for the books belonged to Willard Rich, son of Mr and Mrs Estabrook, who died at Vancouver about a year and a half ago. He was an enthusiastic Scout, and had purchased these books with his own earnings. They will form a splendid memorial to his name, as they are passed around among the boy friends of their former owner.

The books are all upon the subject of natural history. There is a five volume set, "The Standard Library of Natural History," issued by the University Society, which is a magnificent, complete and exhaustive work, covering every phase of its great subject, compiled with good regard to the boy mind. Extensively illustrated, it is a set that would make a proud addition to any library, and between the covers there are a good many hours of useful reading for the Scouts who choose to take advantage of the generosity of Mr and Mrs Estabrook. The other two books were "The Call of the Wild," by C. G. D. Roberts, and "The Kindred of the Wild," by Jack London. These are also the best of their kind, and the seven volumes together form a most unique and valuable collection. Accompanying the books was a card which explains fully the spirit of the gift:

"Presented to the Boy Scouts of Summerland, from the library, and in loving remembrance of their friend and fellow Scout, Willard Rich Estabrook, now passed beyond the need of these things provided for our use and enjoyment along the way to that Higher School of Knowledge, to which he has gone."

In making the presentation Mr Estabrook said there seemed to be a need for a library for the boys, in order that their minds might be given something of a similar development to that being given their physical being. He made the suggestion that others might also have suitable books which could be put to no better purpose than to help build up the Scout Library.

On behalf of the troop Scoutmaster John Tait received the gift gratefully, giving Mr Estabrook the sincere thanks which all the boys must have felt.

Rev. C. H. Daly also spoke along the same line, appreciating the gift. Before they left the boys themselves made it quite clear to Mr and Mrs Estabrook that they had not only had a good time equal to the best, but that they also valued their kind gift.

On Sunday afternoon the Summerland and Naramata Scouts joined forces and held a joint church parade. The boys from across the lake landed at the old wharf, about sixteen or seventeen strong, and were met by the Summerland Scouts who were lined up to the number of about twenty. The rainy weather had prevented others from attending, and had the day been fine there would have been a good deal

A Big Step Towards Valley Unity

Messrs Daykin & Jackson Join Co-operative Organization.

Daykin and Jackson are selling out to the Armstrong growers and Mr Jackson, the active man of the company, will unite his forces with those of the Central Selling Agency, becoming the vegetable sales manager for the Okanagan United Growers. This is the result of an overture made to Mr Jackson some time ago by Manager Robertson.

At a meeting of the Central directors, held at Vernon this week Mr Robertson submitted to them his proposal and an outline of his arrangement with Mr Jackson. This was approved, and as the Armstrong local is conversant with what has been done it is reasonably certain they will agree to the arrangement whereby they take over the business of their former competitors.

In speaking of the pending negotiations while here last month, Mr Robertson told the Review that he considered Mr Jackson the best vegetable man in the province, and his appointment as chief vegetable salesman will be an excellent move for the Growers. Daykin & Jackson were very large shippers and their business will make a large increase in the volume of vegetables passing through the Central from the Armstrong local. It is stated that Mr Jackson also marketed last year a total of 125 cars of fruit for a Valley fruit shipping concern.

Other negotiations looking to the eliminating of internal competition are pending with reasonable hopes of success.

B.C. FRUIT GROWERS' CONVENTION

It was at first announced that there would be no annual conventions of farmer's organizations in B.C. this year. The executive, and other members of the B.C. Association, however, consider that present conditions in the industry make the holding of the Annual Meeting very desirable and necessary. Accordingly, the Twenty-Fifth Annual Meeting of Fruit Growers will be held at Victoria on January 26 and 27, 1915.

Meetings of the executive will be held on January 25th in the morning and afternoon, and the directors are called to meet the same evening. Following the general meeting the newly-elected directors for 1915 will meet in the evening of Wednesday the 27th.

The following have been invited to deliver addresses:—

W. H. Paulhamus, Manager Pu-yallup and Sumner Fruit Growers' Association—"The Fruit Marketing Situation in the North-Western States, and the Steps Taken to Improve it."

R. Robertson, Manager Okanagan United Growers, Limited, Vernon—"The Okanagan United Growers' Operations and Results in 1914."

J. Forsyth Smith, B. C. Fruit Markets Commissioner—"Report on Prairie Marketing Conditions."

W. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Victoria, B.C.

The Hon. Price Ellison, Minister of Finance and Agriculture.

The Hon. Sir Richard McBride, Premier.

stronger troop in evidence.

The two troops marched together to the Methodist Church where service was held at which Rev. N. McNaughton gave the address. He made a splendid appeal to the boys to keep strong in mind, that full bodily strength might come to them later on in manhood. It was a stirring address, admirably suited to the Scout listeners, who were very much impressed. The hymns were such that the boys could join in, and at the close the National Anthem was sung as the Scouts stood at the salute. Rev. C. H. Daly was also present and took a part in the service. The two troops formed up outside the church, and the Naramata boys were escorted to the head of the wharf on their journey home.

In connection with the donation of books by Mr and Mrs H. G. Estabrook, mentioned above, it is thought by those who are interested enough in the formation of a Scout Library to take the matter in hand, that there are probably many homes in Summerland where some good boys' books could be found that have either been outgrown by their owners, or are no longer in great demand. If there are any such books to be found, they will be most gratefully received, to be added to the fine nucleus which the Scouts now have. There was a Scout Library in existence a year or two ago, but through lack of a properly attended central home for the books, they have become scattered, although a good few of them are still in their proper ownership. This difficulty is to be remedied, as an

Forty-three Years a Ship's Master.

Captain Estabrook Retires From C.P.R. Service.

On Wednesday of this week Captain G. L. Estabrook made his last trip on the lake in command of the C.P.R. steamer "Sicamous." After seventeen years' service on the Okanagan, he is retiring from the B.C. Lake and River Service of the company, with which he has been so long connected. His successor on the "Sicamous" is Captain W. Kirby, who comes to the Okanagan from the Slokan Lake. He was with Captain Estabrook in the pilot house on Wednesday's trip, and also on board then were Captain Gore, head of the Lake and River Service in this province, and Supt. McKay of Revelstoke.

On arrival of the "Sicamous" at Penticton on New Year's Eve, Capt. Estabrook was requested to present himself in the ladies' aft cabin, where the entire crew of the boat were assembled. Purser A. H. McDonald, on behalf of the officers and crew, here presented him with a very handsome morris chair, and the address which is printed below. Captain Estabrook responded in a very appropriate manner, and the crew, before dispersing, sang "Auld Lang Syne," and gave three hearty cheers.

The address that accompanied the presentation read as follows:

Str. "Sicamous,"
Penticton, B.C.
December 31st, 1914.
Capt. G. L. Estabrook:

We, the undersigned crew of the Str. "Sicamous," beg to present to you this chair as a token of the very high esteem with which you are held by the crew of this boat. The ever constant kindness and consideration which you have always exhibited to the patrons of your employers has been shared in no less degree by us. We can assure you that it has at all times been highly appreciated and that your gentlemanly conduct and kindly advice will never be forgotten, but will be an inspiration for each one of us in the future.

While we deeply regret that the friendly relations we have enjoyed in the past are to be severed, we trust that the future will be to you brighter than the past.

With best wishes to you and your family for many Happy and Prosperous Years,

We remain,
Yours sincerely,
(Signed by the entire crew).

Captain Estabrook hails from New Brunswick, and his early years in steamship service were spent in the neighborhood of St John. He came to the West to the Slokan Lake, where he entered the employ of a railway and steamship company that was later absorbed by the C.P.R., whose service he thus entered. He was transferred to this lake in 1898, and has been in constant service ever since. For forty-three years he has navigated ships with a master's certificate, and during this long period he has maintained an unique record, in that he has never had a ship in his command aground, nor has he ever lost a man through accident in navigation. Captain Estabrook has made innumerable friends on his daily journeyings up and down the lake, and he retires with the good wishes of them all.

Council As Court Of Revision.

But one name was added to the voters' list as a result of the session of the Court of Revision held on Monday. The Council, which sat as the Court of Revision most of the morning had practically no routine business to transact. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed, and one or two communications were read, one of these from the managers of the Canadian Patriotic Fund stating that aid had been applied for from this district and that no action could be taken until these cases had been passed upon by a local committee. The Clerk was authorized to bring the matter up at Saturday's public meeting, and have a local committee named to consider such application.

SUMMERLAND POULTRY ASSOCIATION.

About twenty-five members of the Summerland Poultry Association responded to the call for a special meeting last Saturday night, to be held in Burton's store. The two big items of business to come up were the question of the association purchasing feed, etc., and the possibility of taking up again the egg export contract.

In regard to the feed question, it seems that the work in connection with ordering, collecting and all the details that are necessary has fallen upon the secretary, C. N. Barton, and it proves to be considerably heavier than it could reasonably be expected a secretary could do without some emolument.

Propositions were therefore invited from members to put the handling of the business upon a little different basis. At the meeting on Saturday three proposals were considered, from Messrs E. Garnett, H. Bristow and W. J. Beattie. They were all along the same lines, and the members decided finally to take up with the proposition of the first named. Mr Garnett will undertake all the work in connection with the bringing in of feed, hay, etc., gathering the orders, collecting money, placing the order, notifying the members when ready for delivery, everything in connection with the business, in fact, for a five per cent. commission. If the monthly commission amounts to more than $75, Mr Garnett will divide the difference with the association. He will also undertake to carry a small stock of standard poultry supplies.

For the present Mr Garnett will make his office headquarters in a corner of Burton's Store, in the Empire Block.

In connection with the export of eggs, Mr Garnett undertook to pack and ship eggs for the association for one cent per dozen, the Association to provide the crates and fillers. Now that eggs are becoming a little more plentiful, Summerland poultry men are ready to resume shipping. Three cases per week was stated to be the number that could be depended upon, and one case of the three will probably be made up by Naramata members.

LADY TRUSTEE PROPOSED.

It has been felt by some ratepayers for the past two or three years that a woman's voice on the Board of School Trustees might help in the solution of some of its problems, especially those connected with the welfare of the children at school. Last year it was only a technicality in the wording of the law that prevented the nomination of Mrs R. C. Lipssett being considered. This matter has now been remedied, and a name that is being mentioned as a possible nominee for the 1915 Board is that of Mrs W. C. Kelley. Her experience as a former school teacher is no small qualification in her favor, and it is not an improbability that if she were elected Mrs Kelley would match her conferees on the Board as a business head. Added to which is her nearness to the Central School, and it looks as if the ratepayers would have a good deal to gain and nothing to lose by electing Mrs Kelley if she finally consents to nomination.

Something of a sensation was caused locally when the news became known that Elgin C. Myers, the suspected assailant of Tom Hickey, had succeeded at Penticton on Sunday by putting a .303 rifle bullet into his heart. At the inquest on Monday the verdict of "suicide whilst temporarily insane" was returned. It will be recalled that some weeks back Hickey received a bullet in his leg intended for someone else, from an unknown assailant, and has been in the hospital here ever since. Circumstantial evidence led to the arrest of Myers, a young man connected with the K.V.R., and his suicide in his rooms over the station corner as a tragic sequel to a sordid story. There was said to be some unsavory revelations pending at the trial that was soon to be held, but Myers' death probably closes the book, so that those things will never come to light after all.

A BOY SCOUT LIBRARY.

THERE ARE NOT very many people to be found with really serious objection to the principle of the Boy Scout movement. Objection is heard occasionally to what is termed vaguely the untoward "militarism" that is said to permeate the movement. Those who have watched the Scouts in their work, however, need no convincing as to the genuineness of the work it is doing in making the boys of to-day understand that they are to be the dependable men of to-morrow, and fitting them better to bear the responsibilities that will come to them later on.

The routine of work that has been laid down by those at the head of the movement is admirably calculated to supplement a boy's school education. It teaches him some things that the schools do not, and helps him to remember what he does learn there. But Scout exercises run largely along lines of physical development, and it is being recognized that to round out the usefulness of the organization into its greatest reach, there must be added something of a recreative nature. The logical way to do this is to establish a circulating library for the boys, composed of books entirely above reproach, books that attract the boys, and give them healthy matter for their minds to assimilate.

We would direct the attention of all who have not read of it, to the generous donation of books made to the Scouts by Mr and Mrs H. G. Estabrook, recorded elsewhere in our news columns. These volumes make a splendid foundation upon which to build up a strong library. They are of such a nature that special care must be taken of them, and it is with the idea of providing a central place where the books may be found, a record of their borrower's kept, and everything connected with the library left in responsible hands, that the Review offers to make provision in its office to carry on this work. There are already some books remaining on hand from the former library, and to these we are confident could be added many more if citizens would undertake to look over their books and pass on those suitable for boys' reading. Details, such as the hours during which books may be obtained, and other arrangements necessary, will be announced after conference with the Scout officers. In the meantime, further donations of books will be gladly received at the Review Office, or they may be left with any Scout officer. Look out those books you have now, and pass them on for the boys.

A number of horse owners here are expecting to find a market for surplus horses next week with the remount purchaser who is covering the West looking for horses suitable for riding and for artillery use.

Mr D. Currell, of the firm of Crehan, Martin & Co., after a stay of some days in Summerland at work auditing the municipal books, left on Wednesday. He was a guest at Hotel Summerland while here.

Mr A. Vaughan arrived in Summerland at the end of last week, and spent a few days here with his brother, Mr O. Vaughan. It is by no means his first visit here, trips to the Okanagan being frequent in former years, when he travelled in commercial interests.

After an absence of nearly a year in England, Mrs George Anderson has returned to the Valley. She was met at Sicamous on Monday by Mr Anderson, but before coming on to Summerland, Mrs Anderson is making a short visit with friends in Kelowna.

T. T. Palmer will conduct a pruning school here next week. Mr Palmer has been giving lessons for some weeks in various places in the Valley and has had good classes in each district. So far barely one class of eight has been enrolled here.

According to mail advice lately received by the Okanagan United Growers, the ear of apples sent forward by them to the Old Country reached England on the 17th of December in the best of condition. There would thus be plenty of time for the apples to reach their various destinations in time to figure prominently on the Christmas dinner tables.

The Ladies' Aid of St Andrew's Church met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs Hector Sutherland. The principal business of the session was the election of officers for 1915. This resulted as follows:
Mrs Fraser • Hon. President
Mrs H. Sutherland • President
Mrs C. H. Duly • Vice-President
Mrs Alex. Steven • Treasurer
Mrs J. D. Wood • Secretary

After spending her vacation at home here, Miss Evelyn Brown left on Monday morning, returning to her school at Port Moody, B.C.

Mrs J. W. Clark was unfortunate enough to sustain a fall on the sidewalk near the Drug Store on Wednesday afternoon, the effects of which have necessitated her remaining in bed for several days. After attending her Dr Andrew drove her home in his automobile.

But little interest is being manifested in Council and School Board matters, and it now looks as if there would be difficulty in finding citizens who will accept nomination for the vacancies. There seems not much likelihood of Coun. Blair being opposed as a candidate for Reeve. In his ward the name of J. R. Campbell is the only one generally mentioned as Mr Blair's successor. R. H. English, who was talked of as a possible candidate for Ward I., now states that he will not accept nomination, thus leaving no one in sight for the present to represent that ward at the Council. The ladies, who are determined to be represented in the School Board this year have been working hard to get a candidate. Just as we go to press we hear that Mrs H. A. Solly has consented to have her name entered as a candidate for School Trustees.

The home of Mr and Mrs George Graham was very comfortably filled by a merry crowd at a social gathering on Tuesday night of this week. It was the first of the open socials being held under Ladies' College Auxiliary auspices, and the success of the evening is a happy inauguration of this series of gatherings. Owing to the fact that the College examinations commenced that day, there was not the number present from the institution on the hill that there might otherwise have been. The program of entertainment for the evening was of an informal nature, and consisting of various games, and music, instrumental and vocal, proved most enjoyable to old and young alike. Refreshments were partaken of by the guests before they dispersed, and in this feature the same happy standard was maintained. The proceeds from the fifteen cent donation realized the sum of $6.

The College boys won both their games last Saturday against the Wests, thus adding another double header to their list of victories.

The intermediate game showed the score of 26—15 in the College favor. In the first half they seemed to be in the ascendancy most of the time, and at the interval had the score up to 16—8. Cochrane was the basket getter-in-chief, getting four from the field, Jennings was a good second with two, and K. Elliott and Armstrong were each credited with one each. For the Wests B. Steuart had two baskets recorded against his name, Mumm one, and Logie made use of two fouls to get points. In the second half there was less scoring, the College adding ten points while the Wests got seven more. Cochrane was again strongly in evidence, and put two more good baskets in. Jennings also got two more, and K. Elliott converted two fouls. B. Steuart got the only two baskets from the field the Wests were able to make, and three fouls from Logie made up their score. The teams:

College	West
Jennings cen.	W. Mumm
M. Cochrane for.	B. Steuart
K. Elliott ..	E. Logie
B. Elliott gd.	Higgs
E. Armstrong ..	E. Bent

In the senior game following the Wests were swamped under a score of 31—8. This is the third game in succession between these teams in which the College have been able to make a runaway score. In Saturday's game they got going in the first half, and had piled up a 14—1 score before the interval. The Wests missed Rae from the centre, and never seemed to settle comfortably into a good game. College combination asserted itself strongly as usual, and in the scoring McLeod and Dale shared the honors, the former with three baskets, and the latter with four. The Wests lone point came from C. Steuart. After the interval the Wests managed to see a little more of the basket, and C. Steuart, Darkis and Pentland each scored, and another foul point brought up their total to 8. In the College behalf baskets seemed plentiful, Dale putting in three more, McLeod and Riley two each, McLeod one and a foul, which sent their total up to 31. Cliff McWilliams refereed this game, and the teams that faced him were:

College	West
J. McLeod cen.	R. Darkis
L. Morelock for.	A. Pentland
G. Dale ..	C. Steuart
C. Riley gd.	D. Steuart
A. Vanderburg ..	G. D. Fisher

On Tuesday night the Town and Wests were matched, and points were not scarce in either game. The Wests took the intermediate game with a score of 25—20, but it was never their game till the last few minutes. Referee Jennings did not let much pass that wasn't basketball, and so the whistle was blown somewhat frequently. The Wests made up a big part of their score by fouls, Logie accounting for no fewer than ten, seven in the first half and three in the second. Sismey got five points in the same way for the Town in the first half, but could not seem to connect in the second, and Angove got the only foul for the Town in the last half. One field basket from Logie and two from B. Steuart for the Wests, two from Sismey, and one each by Angove and White for the Town was the other scoring in the first half, at the end of which the count was 13—13. The second half was as close as the first, and the game was not lost and won till the final whistle. B. Steuart got four more points by taking long passes right under the basket and treating them in the right way twice, Mumm did the same thing once, and Logie got one basket in addition to his four fouls. Angove put in two baskets for the Town in the second half, and Bristow, at guard, also got one from a sally he made up into the forward's territory. From the closeness of the scoring the game was a good one, but the fouls were too frequent for the play to be good, though it certainly was hard. The Wests were considerably strengthened in their defence with D. Steuart playing. The boys lined up:

Town	West
C. H. Sismey for.	E. Logie
R. White ..	W. Mumm
W. Angove cen.	B. Steuart
F. Williams gd.	G. Higgs
H. Bristow ..	D. Steuart

The Town seniors did just what was needed of them when they overcame the West seniors by 27—12. By their victory they go up a step in the league, and the Wests drop into the cellar. A new face on the Wests' team was E. Bent, who played guard, and Pentland was in the centre. First score came for the Wests from Pentland, but Phinney soon equalled up for the Town, who then seemed to strike a rich scoring vein, and ran their score away up to 18 at half time, while the Wests could get only five points. Phinney was the Town bright star, and on his own account put in four baskets, besides two fouls. Glenn played a good guard game, and managed as well to secure two baskets, Lavis and McWilliams being responsible for one apiece. Pentland and Steuart got the Wests baskets, and Darkis a foul. In the second half, Ross Rae made an appearance at centre for the Wests, Bent dropping out, Darkis going back guard, and Pentland playing forward. The play degenerated a good deal in the second half, the bright combination of the first developing into a rougher every-man-for-himself exhibition, and so the scoring suffered in consequence. The whistle might have been blown more than it was to good advantage. Lavis and Phinney got baskets for the Town this half, and of the five fouls that scored, Phinney got four and Glenn one. Rae and Steuart put in baskets from the field for the Wests, and the latter also got in three foul that went right. E. Logie had the whistle in his charge, and the players were:

Town	West
C. Lavis for.	C. Steuart
H. Phinney ..	R. Darkis and A. Pentland
C. McWilliams cen.	A. Pentland and R. Rae
J. F. Glenn guard	E. Bent and R. Darkis
H. Snider ..	G. Fisher.

It was predicted last week that there might be a change in the league standing as a result of this week's games, and it has come about, the Town and Wests changing places. Whether the Town can hold their position depends on how they perform next Monday night, when they play a return game with the Wests in the upper gymnasium.

"Jack," a Japanese young man who has been in the district for a good while, and is well-known about the Flat district, started attending school this week, to try and get a better mastery of the intricacies of the English language. He has found a place in Miss Rothwell's room. Besides the nationalities embraced under the head of "British" represented at the school, there are now two Orientals, one of Chinese and one of Japanese extraction.

Though the Summerland Hospital was not as busy an institution during last month as it had been for the previous two or three months, it nevertheless fully justified its existence in the amount of sickness it cared for. HOCKEY

Local hockeyists played off the first game of the season on Thursday afternoon last week at the Parkdale Rink. The teams represented West Summerland, and Garnett and Prairie Valleys known popularly as the "Ranchers," and the game was the first of a league series which will be played as long as the ice holds.

The game went to the Wests by a 3-1 score, but not until extra time had been played. At the end of the three twenty minute spells the score was one goal to each team, and an extra five minutes also failed to decide the tie. Another five was then played off and almost at the close of this the puck was sent into the net for the Wests twice in quick succession, Reg. Tait and Ross-Rae being responsible. It was fairly good class hockey for a first game, though heavy body-checking was in evidence sometimes putting a little roughness into the play. Dr W. R. Thomson refereed the game and the teams were made up as follows:

Wests	Ranchers
G. Higgs goal	Adams
H. Snider point	H. Howis
Markoe cover point	B. Tingloy
R. Tait rover	D. Rutherford
H. Phinney right wing	R. Tingloy
R. Rae centre	King
W. Mumm left wing	E. Smith

The West Summerland stick handlers played their second game yesterday afternoon when they emerged victorious from an encounter with a team made up of Collogo and Town boys. This time the score was 6-2. The ice seemed to be in pretty good shape, and the brand of hockey was perhaps a little superior to that shown on the previous Thursday. Though the Wests had the better of the play through most of the time, there was some good combination in strokes on the part of the Town and Collogo bunch. The winners got five of their six goals in the first two twenties before their opponents could find the net at all. It was not until the third twenty that the Collogo were able to get a full team going, however, when they showed up much better, and netted the puck twice, the Wests getting through only once again. West Summerland played the same line-up as the previous week and the Town and Collogo team included: F. Walrod, goal; G. A. McLaine, point; P. Unsworth, cover point; F. L. Black, rover; M. Cunningham, left wing; L. Morelock, centre; H. Jennings, right wing. Dr Thomson again officiated as referee.

On Saturday afternoon of this week a game will be played between a Collogo team and a team made up of married men.

Next Thursday afternoon, weather conditions holding, there will be another game in the league series. The contending teams then will be the Collogo and the Ranchers. A ten cent admission charge is made to spectators of these games.

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATED IN UPPER TROUT CREEK S.S.

A most successful Christmas Sunday School gathering was held in the school room at Upper Trout Creek on Thursday last, eighteen children and thirteen grown-ups being present. The Rector, Rev. H. A. Solly and Mrs Solly drove out specially for the occasion. A sumptuous tea was provided, for which purpose Mrs Harris, kindly lent her rooms, and after the children had partaken they adjourned to the schoolroom, which to their surprise was gaily decorated. But still more to the point; in the centre of the room was a large Christmas tree, the branches of which were weighed down with toys, etc., and most artistically trimmed. Whilst the children's mouths were watering, and they were endeavoring to keep their eyes from dropping out of their heads, the older portion of the company had their tea, and judging from the laughter, they must have enjoyed themselves as much as the children. After the presents had been distributed and several games played, the Rector in a few well-chosen words thanked the ladies for the trouble they had taken in providing such a pleasant afternoon, to which the children responded with three hearty cheers. The entertainment closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Opportunity knocks once at each man's door; better be at home when it comes.

Summerland, B.C.
January 8th, 1915.

The Editor,
Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,
Since coming into the Okanagan Lake country I have been impressed with the lack of some staple and profitable industry besides the fruit industry. While the fruit industry is very good, it is subject to fluctuations. The question arises, what is the staple industry that is necessary? In talking this matter over with Mr. J. R. Campbell, who is very well posted on the industries of this and other countries, we have come to the conclusion that dairying is the lacking industry, and can be made profitable here if run by proper business methods. Our reason for believing this is, that we have here at our door one of the best, if not the best butter markets in the world. Also that every owner of a fruit lot in this vicinity is capable of raising enough feed, alfalfa and clover, to winter from one to six cows with what other stock they have. The difficulty, then, is summer pasture, and an economical system of running and handling dairy products. Our plan is as follows. First get the guarantee of enough men in this neighborhood to furnish about one hundred cows, and not more than six cows per man, or such other number as would later be decided on, then call a meeting and form a dairy association with officers, etc. We would then arrange to have a dairy camp built out about five or six miles, close to water and in the immediate vicinity of good range land. This camp to be a summer camp only. We would establish here a large shed in which to milk the cows. This shed will not need to be an expensive building, mainly good roof and floor, with cow stalls. It would be necessary to have at this camp facilities for separating milk, small gasoline engine for running same, and other utensils necessary for the milking of cows, including several sets of milk scales, so that each cow's milk will be weighed, and an account kept of same after each milking.

To run a camp of this kind would take about eight milkers, and one general manager, or about one milker to every twelve cows. Tents can be arranged for sleeping quarters for men employed at camp. We would need a team of horses, one wagon, two saddle horses to use for herding the cattle. The men employed as milkers could herd the cattle, and also do all necessary work around the camp. Then the plan is to establish a small butter factory, centrally located, some vacant house to be rented for this purpose. The cream would be hauled in every day from the dairy camp to the butter factory, also skimmed milk, which would be delivered to patrons who own cows. In order to avoid complications it would be better for each individual owner to care for their calves at home. The method of keeping track of the business would be that each cow's milk would be tested once per week so as to show the amount of butter fat and weight of milk having been registered at each milking, this will give a basis on which the dividends of each cow can be kept. Then the butter factory would pay so much per pound for the cream, so as to make each business separate. The method of figuring the expenses would be on the basis of the number of cows, so much to each cow, regardless of amount or quality of the milk. It would be found very profitable to feed a small portion of bran to each cow night and morning while in camp. So soon as cold weather sets in so that inside feeding is necessary, each holder could take their cows to winter at home, and deliver the cream to butter factory.

Should there be many people in this district who think that this plan would be a profitable one, and could be adopted, then by getting dairy catalogues we can figure out about the initial cost of this enterprise.

Yours truly,
EARL G. WELDON.

Mrs. L. C. Woodworth and young daughter, Marguerite, and Cyril, left on Thursday morning for Calgary, where they will rejoin Mr. Woodworth, who preceded them to that city by a few days.

I will sell you now TWO ACRES AT practically the former PRICE OF ONE and I have many acres of as good soil as can be found in the fertile Okanagan Valley. Land that is worth as much to-day as ever it was, and will soon again be in demand at the old prices.

WHY AM I DOING IT? Necessity compels me to make this sacrifice! I must keep going. Sales must be made even if on Agreements and for little cash. That little cash and a negotiable Agreement of Sale is worth much more to me now than it will be later.

A GOOD LIVING under pleasant conditions is a surety to the man on an Okanagan farm who begins right. Buy right, my prices make that a certainty. Plant right, profiting by the 10 years' experience of the pioneers. Plant a permanent orchard, make profitable use of space between rows by cropping instead of planting to fillers. This has been

A LEAN YEAR but those who have made proper use of their land have prospered. Tomatoes, cucumbers and other early vegetables and small fruits are good money makers.

YOUNG ORCHARDS properly planted, land ready for the trees, ranch lands, and town lots are here waiting for you. Make your selection, then learn my price and terms. They will surprise you. At least let me show you what I have. You will be under no obligation to buy. Then you will know that when I say I will give you a bargain

MORE LIGHT ON THE CENTRALIZED DAIRY IDEA

Summerland, B.C.,
January 20, 1915.
The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:
I was interested in the letter published in last week's issue of the Review from Mr. Weldon. Like many other men who have come to Summerland, Mr. Weldon has seen business and industrial opportunities, but for some reason these opportunities have not been developed.

I have several times suggested a centralized dairy, but capital is not easy to secure for business enterprises where so much is needed for home improvements.

The question of summer pasture which Mr. Weldon mentions as the one great problem, has never seemed to me to be a great drawback. Many of the most successful dairy enterprises have been handled where there was little or no pasturage available. I have always maintained that, in Summerland at least, the quality of our stock and the expense of labor and transportation difficulties were of greater consideration than the feed problem.

We can grow and buy feed much easier and carry it to a first class cow than the cow can gather it herself.

It requires a great deal of energy to produce a profitable flow of milk, and the cow that works all day cannot profitably milk all night, as we have heard of them doing in other countries.

I have taken enough time to sum up some of the expenses of running a dairy as Mr. Weldon suggested, and I find that even at the low price of $100 per cow, the capital invested would be about $17,000, and the daily running expenses about $35 and daily interest on capital invested about $3.75. The probable total daily receipts with butter at 40 cents per pound, about $47.00, leaving a total daily profit during full flow of milk in the summer from one hundred cows of $8.25.

I find that the maintenance of a dairy camp in the hills a very expensive proposition. Moreover I do not know where a range could be found that could feed one hundred head of cows and still keep the herd or herds within walking distance of a central stable.

The matter of raising calves at home is, I think, quite difficult, as proposed. The better way, it seems to me, would be to feed the calves where the skim milk is convenient and fresh.

Another feature of this proposition must be borne in mind, viz., that the cows would be all milking during the summer months, undesirable in itself, and they would be kept at home when there is most spare time to care for them, and they are giving the minimum flow of milk. Why not reverse the order of things, and having most of our cows dry during summer months, herd them in the hills until they freshen again? We could grow a wonderful lot of feed on our lots in summer to help out during winter; then, when orchard work is not so pressing, most of our time could be devoted to the cows when they are at their best. A much higher yield could be obtained in this way, a more valuable class of cows could be kept, and the big expense of a milking camp be eliminated. The cream could be gathered by a route drawer and taken to a creamery centrally located and managed by a good butter maker.

In this way the capital required is cut in two and double the quantity of milk could be obtained. I sincerely hope that every fruit grower in Summerland can become versatile enough to do a little winter dairying, and thus stop one of the greatest leaks in the wealth of our community.

Thanking you for this space in your valuable paper, I am,
Very truly yours,
A. A. DERRICK.

Newsy Paragraphs from PEACHLAND

Miss Leone Morrison returned on Friday night from Kelowna where she spent a week.

Mr. Biggar of Kelowna is the guest of his friends, Mr and Mrs Jno. Gummow, this week.

Keep the Scotch Concert on Tuesday night, 26th, in mind, and make no other engagement for that night.

Mrs R. C. Lipsett of Summerland spent a couple of days last week with her sister, Mrs J. B. Robinson.

Mr and Mrs Jos. Fleming left on Saturday for Osprey Lake, where they expect to spend some time. George Needham drove them over.

Mr. Upton, an experienced gardener of Glen Rosa, has rented the fruit lots of Miss Minnie Smith and Mr L. D. McCall for the coming season.

Mrs J. T. Long and family have moved into town from the Greta Ranch, and are living in the cottage lately vacated by Mr Fleming, on Dr. Crompton's place.

W. J. Whitlock of Vancouver, Orange organizer for B.C., was in town over the week-end, and attended a special meeting of the Judge here, held in his honor.

Miss Reid, teacher of Glen Rosa, was the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr and Mrs Alex. Reid, at E. Taylor's on Friday, and attended the surprise party at Jno. McLaughlan's.

J. C. Stewart of Angusville, Man., is the guest of Mr and Mrs Keating, and as he is invariably impressed by the town and its surroundings he may decide to remain here indefinitely.

Miss Alice Harrington, daughter of Mr Raymond Harrington of this place, was married to Mr Richard Spackman of Linoaham, Alberta, on January 5th. After a short honeymoon spent in Calgary they repaired to Linoaham, where they will live.

On Friday Arthur Henderson had the misfortune to crush and twist the leg which was recently broken. He went over to Kelowna on Saturday to have it attended to, returning on Monday night.

Roy Smith of Westbank preached in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening as Rev. A. Henderson was absent in Kelowna. Harold Etter, the Westbank teacher, accompanied him to town. As the electric lights were out of business it was rather quaint to have the place lighted by candles and lamps.

Surprise parties are the order of the day or night rather, the family of Jno. McLaughlan was the last one to be surprised. Nevertheless they rose to the occasion, and made their self-invited guests welcome, and several hours passed rapidly in games and dancing for which excellent music was furnished by home talent.

In the early part of the week a rumor was afloat to the effect that the new Council was going to prohibit coasting, but as this was news to some of the members of that august body we conclude that the rumor originated in the brain of one of the "Ananias club." Rather than debar the young people from enjoying to the full the pleasure of coasting (it cannot be for long) we would prohibit the passage of any other vehicle for a time.

Miss Bertha Livingstone, graduate of the Boston School of Cookery, at present employed by the Womens' Institute of B.C. to give a series of ten lessons in scientific cooking before the Institutes, began a course here on Tuesday afternoon in the Institute room. Over forty ladies were in attendance. Charts showing different food values were arranged on the wall. It would indeed be a boon to many were Miss Livingstone able to impart to others her ability to attend to the preparation of so many different dishes, without forgetting any one of them.

SOME GOOD ADVICE.

DON'T OVERLOOK the good services frequently rendered by your local newspaper. It may not be just as brilliant a literary effort as you would desire, but it serves the purpose, and does it to the best of its ability. Anyone reading your local paper in, say, a distant public library, looks at the advertisements to get an idea of the businesses in existence and their style. If your advertisement does not appear you are not in existence to the outside world. So, use the advertising pages of your local newspaper for bona-fide advertising, but don't sink to the level of the Cheap John, either by economizing on the space used or allowing unseasonable ads to appear week after week, or with a blare and flare of trumpets heralding something cut scandalously low that the public doubt both your sanity and the quality of your goods.—B.C. Pharmaceutical Record.

IT is a mistake to think that men capable of running a large business, like a co-operative fruit growers' association, successfully are plentiful. They are scarce. It is a mistake to underpay them. They should be given a remuneration that satisfies them, and their work will be better. If their work is not satisfactory they should be dismissed, but if it is satisfactory there should be no haggling over remuneration.—D. Johnson, Canadian Fruit Commissioner.

CHECKER MATCH.

That good old game of checkers—known as draughts on the other side of the Atlantic—is going to take a share in the occupations for these winter evenings. It seems that certain players in the west business section have been practising up, playing games in the lunch hour, and now a team of five players have challenged the Town men to meet their skill. The contest will be played off next Friday evening at Hotel Summerland. Men who are willing to uphold the honors for the Town have been busy playing games to decide their relative prowess, and the final team of five may be depended upon to give West Summerland some close matches.

The Summerland Lumber Company is just now centring its efforts on getting out logs for next season's cut. Besides employing a logging crew of their own, they are buying logs from nearby ranchers. One of these, Mr S. R. Darke, expects to deliver over half a million feet at the mill.

B.C. PORTLAND CEMENT COMPY.

Notice is given of a special meeting of the shareholders of the B.C. Portland Cement Co. of East Princeton for the purpose of winding up its affairs, to be held in the Davis Chambers, Vancouver, on Saturday, January 30th. All shareholders are invited to be present. Quite a number of poor people and workmen in Princeton have money invested in this company.—Star, Princeton.

Mr O. Villiers is another from Summerland now serving with the colors for the Empire in Europe. He has a commission in the Royal Naval Reserve, and is now probably stationed at Dunkirk, France, with his men.

Rev S. Everton, Principal of Okanagan College, is leaving tomorrow morning, Saturday, for Brandon, Man., where he will attend the sessions of the annual convention of the Baptist Union of Western Canada, which is meeting this year in that city. He will be absent for about ten days.

Review Want and Sale ads. give Good Results.

Mr and Mrs J. C. Findlay came up from Kaleden at the first of the week, and have been visiting since at "Parkdale," the home of their daughter, Mrs Jas. Ritchie.

A distinctly original idea in the mind of Mrs E. B. B. Reesor has taken definite shape in the announcement on the Naramata page of the inauguration of "The British Columbia School for Writers." The courses which Mrs Reesor has laid out for her scholars are those which her long journalistic experience has dictated as the most practical, not only for those who may be looking to journalism in some of its many phases, for a future profession, but for all who desire to gain a command of the English language, either in speech or writing. The idea of the school seems to commend itself to a good many across the lake, and we wish the commendable enterprise all success.

The erection of a parish hall is contemplated in connection with St Stephen's Church on the east end of the church property. Mr Bert Harvey is the architect, and the building operations will probably be commenced forthwith. The hall will fill a long felt want in providing a suitable place of meeting for denominational and semi-secular bodies.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Pure Bred Stock Association took place on Tuesday evening this week in C. N. Borton's store. The excellent financial standing of the association was shown in the balance now on hand of $88.75. Other important business up during the evening was the election of officers, which resulted in those holding office last year being re-elected, so that Dr R. C. Lipsett remains president, and H. Bristow, Secretary-Treasurer.

CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND.

By-Law No. 67.

A By-law to ratify an Agreement with the DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, OTTAWA.

WHEREAS, on the eighteenth day of January, One thousand nine hundred and fifteen, THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, entered into an Agreement with THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, OTTAWA, to convey to them water, held under their water record on Trout Creek, to be delivered at the North-West corner of Block Twenty-seven (27) District Lot Four Hundred and forty-one (441) in the Municipality of Summerland, which said Agreement is in the words and figures following:—

ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT

made in duplicate the 18th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

Between THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND, in the Province of British Columbia, hereinafter called the Municipality

OF THE FIRST PART,

And THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE OF THE DOMINION OF CANADA, hereinafter called the Department,

OF THE SECOND PART,

WHEREAS the Municipality is possessed of a waterworks system, through which it has agreed to convey to the Department water for the price and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned;

NOW THIS AGREEMENT WITNESSETH that, in consideration of the premises of the parties hereto covenant and agree each with the other as follows:—

1. The Municipality shall, from the fifteenth day of April to the fifteenth day of September in each and every year, during the currency of this Agreement, convey water through its water system to the north-west corner of Block twenty-seven (27), District Lot four hundred and forty-one (441), in the said Municipality of Summerland, from whence the Department may take same through its own pipes or flumes to their lands, two hundred acres more or less, in sufficient quantities to enable the Department to take, from time to time, during each week day, and as when required, in the aggregate not exceeding 60,000 cubic feet of water per day.

2. The Municipality shall, at all times during the currency of hereof keep and maintain the said water system in a good state of repair, so that the said quantities of water may be delivered, or such quantities, more or less, as the record or license of the Department shall furnish, and it is expressly agreed and understood by the Department that if, on account of drought, storms, washouts, breaks, disasters, or any other cause, over which the Municipality has no control, there should be a failure or deficiency of water herein agreed to be conveyed to the Department, the Municipality shall not be liable or accountable to the Department for such failure or deficiency, nor shall they have any claim for refund of any monies, or of the annual charge hereinafter referred to, or any part thereof; it being agreed that the Municipality is only liable for any failure or deficiency caused by its own fault or neglect.

3. The Department shall forthwith pay the Municipality the sum of Ten thousand dollars for the purpose of improving and enlarging the water system of the Municipality; and storing water to the extent of one hundred acre feet in their dam at the Headwaters of Trout Creek and the Department shall also pay the sum of three hundred dollars per annum for said conveying and the maintenance of the water system, a rate of one dollar and fifty cents per acre, for two hundred acres, and each payment shall become due and payable in the month of May in each and every year during the currency of this Agreement.

4. The Municipality shall forthwith submit to the electors of the Municipality, a By-law to ratify this Agreement in the same manner as is prescribed by the Municipal Act for obtaining their consent to by-laws authorizing the borrowing of monies not repayable within the municipal year.

5. This Agreement shall have no force or effect until the same is ratified by the electors as aforesaid.

6. This Agreement shall remain and be in full force up to the date of the termination of the present water rights and water records appurtenant to the said lands and the charge herein mentioned is paid by the Users on the dates mentioned, annually.

THIS AGREEMENT shall be binding upon and enure to the benefit of as well the parties hereto as their successors and assigns.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Municipality has caused these presents to be signed by the hands of its Reeve and Clerk and its corporate seal to be affixed hereto and the Department has caused these presents to be signed and sealed by its acting Minister, and its common seal to be affixed hereto.

SIGNED, SEALED AND DELIVERED by the Municipality in the presence of ISAAC BLAIR, Reeve, J. L. LOGIE, Clerk.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Last week's schedule was as follows: Tuesday and Thursday evenings, rehearsal for concert; Saturday afternoon at 2.30 p.m., sixteen of the boys met at the local headquarters, and after a half hour of drill in the gymnasium marched up to the baseball grounds for some outside work. Here a pleasant and beneficial time was spent by the Scouts under the direction of the Scoutmaster in going through various manoeuvres and scouting work. After they had been dismissed at the ball grounds the boys lined up on their own initiative, and under the direction of the patrol leaders, paraded back to, and around town, ending up at the scout hall. The parade was certainly unique in its formation, for the troop marched in a single long line, with fourteen paces between each boy, and when the first boy reached the hall and looked back out of the windows, the last one was just turning the corner a block distant.

A new custom that has been started here is that of having the orders for the following week posted up in the club rooms every Monday. This plan enables the Scouts to arrange their time accordingly.

Persistent endeavors are being made to have the Pentiction troop, which at present is defunct, reorganized and brought into active service again. A letter from Scoutmaster Pitman of Naramata appeared in the Pentiction Herald last week, in which, after asking the editor for the support of his editorial column, he appealed to the citizens of Pentiction to take steps to resuscitate the Scout movement in that town, and offered to attend a re-organization meeting for that purpose, and do all in his power to help the movement along. It is to be hoped that Pentiction will do something along that line, and help make the Scout movement a powerful influence for good in the towns on the southern part of the Okanagan Lake.

Our troop has secured for its club room a copy of the famous water-color painting by Fred Roe, R.I., entitled "The Boy Scout - The Nation's Hope."

THE UNITY CLUB.

Mrs Hancock was the hostess at the Unity Club gathering last Friday afternoon, and on Friday, the 5th of February. Mrs James Hayward and Mrs Lyons will serve tea to the members.

Last Friday's meeting was different from those of previous afternoons in that every member was expected to take part during the entertainment hour instead of but one. Questions were in order, and many were asked—and answered; the only hesitancy reply being evidenced when a query was made "How best can I make one dollar do the work of two?"

Upon the afternoon when Mrs Hayward and Mrs Lyons entertain, Mrs Mark Manchester is going to give a practical demonstration in the preparation and serving of a savory Italian dish made from spaghetti.

The Unity Club business meetings followed by a program and tea, are held every alternate Friday. On the Thursday evening of the intervening weeks there is always a social gathering to which every resident of Naramata, and guests, are invited. Card parties, dances, musicales, and plays have been given so far, a number of members undertaking preparations for each evening, and seeing to the entertainment of the others. This Thursday an "Old Fashioned Naramata Party" with games and music, but neither dancing nor cards was given, more of which may be written next week.

Current Events - OF - Town & District

Mrs Fred Manchester gave an afternoon tea and dance for the "going out" girls on Wednesday afternoon.

The Misses Robinson and Mr J. O. Robinson are giving a dance for the young people to-morrow evening.

The first meeting of the Ladies' Aid for the year 1915 was held in the Meeting House assembly hall on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr F. F. Hanington, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Summerland, spent Tuesday in Naramata.

Mr and Mrs Carroll Aikins spent Monday in Summerland. Mrs Somerset Aikins and her daughter, Miss May, are wintering in Montreal.

On Friday the Misses Robinson were among the Naramata guests who attended the skating party given by Summerland hostesses on the upper rink.

Dr. W. L. Robinson is as busy as he can be in the Toronto General Hospital, to the staff of which institution he was appointed almost as soon as he arrived in Toronto.

Mrs Carroll Aikins was hostess on Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Skiing Club, tea being served about the great stone fireplace in the living room of Reka-dome.

Mrs Russell Wells was one of the hostesses at a coffee and sandwich skating party on Wednesday evening, given for the young people, with supper served around a bonfire.

Mr H. T. Davies spent Wednesday bringing lumber down from the Big Tunnel for the purpose of building a bathroom and new kitchen on his cottage in "Outlook Orchard."

Mr and Mrs Boothe's two oldest sons, Reginald and Roy, were, some time ago, accepted for war service, and are in training, and Mr and Mrs Peter Roe's eldest boy, Russell, is serving his country at Victoria.

A Skiing Club tea was an event of enjoyment for the younger element one last week-end afternoon, with Mrs Davies and her daughter, Miss Emma, as hostesses, and Mrs Pushman and Miss Gordon, to help.

Mr Alexander Noyes has found a way to make uphill skiing easy. With a team of horses, a sleigh, and a long rope he can manage a string of a dozen or more skiers, he driving and playing out the rope to which every skier holds on.

Frank Hayward, son of Mr and Mrs James Hayward is another Naramatan whose name is on the list of the Third Contingent; in fact there are few young men left in town who are not ready to join the colors the moment the empire needs them.

Miss Whitworth, teacher of the senior grade of our school, entertained the eight boys of her Sunday School class at a skating party and supper on Wednesday, the supper being served at the home of Mr and Mrs D. O. Hughes, near the frozen inlet.

Mr and Mrs H. T. Davies, who recently moved to "Outlook Orchard" from apartments in "The Syndica," have had the interior of their cottage completely finished this week. Already their home has become a rendezvous for Naramatians of all ages.

Mr T. H. Boothe has again entered into active insurance business, having accepted an appointment as travelling representative for a well-known Life Company. He left town on Tuesday evening on his initial trip, but will be at home "between trips," when his Naramata interests will have his attention.

On Thursday of last week Mrs. E. P. Roe, with other members of the Baptist denomination in Naramata, attended a meeting of that church in West Summerland. Mr Bowering met the party with a sleigh upon the arrival of the ferry, and they were driven to the home of Mrs Ritchie for tea, and afterwards taken for an extended drive over the benches before the meeting.

On account of the change of date for the meeting of the Epworth League from Friday the 22nd to Monday the 25th, there was a very small attendance, and no business was transacted. Miss Dorothy and Miss Marguerite Robinson's absence in Toronto whether they have returned, to continue their school work necessitates the appointment of chairmen to fill their places on the program arranged for the year.

Mr and Mrs John Noyes entertained a large family party at dinner on Monday evening. A "Christmas-doings" letter from their son, Mr Bert Noyes—then in camp on Salisbury Plain, gives a graphic description of his visit to a fine old British county estate, where he was a holiday house guest. Mr Bert knows how to handle a gun, take aim and hit his mark better than most young men, and his tale of the shooting parties is most vivid, and makes excellent reading.

Mr John M. Schreck, formerly a renowned basket ball player of Buffalo, stepped into the game, after a twelve year absence, on Tuesday evening at Summerland. Others in the Naramata team were Messrs. Harold Mitchell, Edward and Frank Hayward, and Guy Brock. If a point was lost, a good game was played, and Naramata shouts "Three cheers for our team!" Among those who crossed the lake to watch the game were: Miss Lois Wells, Miss Adelaide Hayward, the Misses Robinson, Mr Alex. Noyes, Mr Gerald Roe and Mr J. O. Robinson.

The Literary Club will meet in the Church assembly hall next Monday evening at eight o'clock sharp. The executive committee will have a business session at 7.30 in Mr Beatty's study adjoining the hall. Those who have been asked to take part in Monday's program are Mrs James Hayward, Mrs Morsch, Mrs Lyons, Mrs Hans Saltling, Miss Gordon, Mr Frank Hayward, Mr Bruce, Mr Mackie and Mr Harry Pitman. The literary part will consist of short talks about authors with extracts from their works, each speaker to select his or her own subject. Mr Mackie and Mr Pitman will give the musical number.

A NEW PRIVATE SCHOOL.

The British Columbia School for Writers is in its formative stage in Naramata, but promises to develop into a desirable asset for the southern Okanagan. Shorthand, typewriting, general English, journalism (leading on to authorship), and advertising are the subjects mapped out. Already the classes in shorthand and English are regularly attended by enthusiastic pupils. On Monday, February 1st, time will be allotted for the use of the typewriter, and a second class in shorthand will be started. Those wishing to enrol for the study of journalism and advertising are asked to do so before the 3rd of February for the opening classes. General English includes the spelling, pronunciation and derivation of words. Their correct use in sentences, and the construction of paragraphs, leading on to essay writing. The reading and study of English writings; and drilling in mind development through observation and memory; i.e., the power to put into spoken or written words that which is seen, heard, read and imagined.

The course in Journalism includes lessons in general English, and goes on to the art of regular newspaper work, syndicate paragraphs, articles, biography and short story writing, teaching how to prepare copy and to create a market for writings. Advertising takes up both display and literary styles, and will include ideas for original designing. Another departure will be the preparing of outside manuscripts for publication.

WINTER'S PLEASURES.

A bean supper around the bonfire at the frozen inlet, and a musical skate, followed by a basket tea and hot coffee were the sports for two evenings last week. Good skating on the lake edge for six successive weeks has been made the most of by our town's people, and added to this, fine road sleighing, tobogganning, bobbing and skiing down the mountain slopes, has given Naramatians a further insight into the pleasures that may be offered to visitors to and future residents of the Valley. The mountains of Switzerland and other European countries have been the gathering places of lovers of out-door sports for years, guests going from this side of the Atlantic as well as from every country in Southern Europe and Northern Africa, every January to participate in the snow and ice recreations. Visitors are not welcomed in Europe this year. They are in the Okanagan!

HAS'N'T DONE IT YET.

A big eagle and two covens of ducks have given people in the Naramata side of the lake a keen interest and no little excitement this week. The big eagle hovers above, then, as it swoops, the ducks sail towards each other and dive. The eagle dives, and the ducks rise en masse and hover over the water. As the eagle soars aloft again to focus his bearings, the ducks divide and spread themselves into fan shaped battalions. Then swimming together again, dividing and turning into lines they baffle the big bird's vision until he apparently gives up the game. Like a flash the ducks assemble, and, as quickly the eagle appears overhead. Over and over again the clever play goes on, but at the time of writing the eagle has not been successful in nabbing one duck. Naramata sides, to the tiniest child, with the ducks, and woe be to the eagle should he be successful in capturing one of them.

Relishes

LIFE would be flat and colorless for both young and old without some pleasure to give it piquancy. So with food. A relish creates pleasure and appetite for your meals. It is oft-times as much of a tonic as the best prescription handed out by a physician. It is your duty as a careful housewife to get the best in relishes. Bad relishes spoil good food.

WE aim to keep the best in these as in everything else—delicious Jams and Jellies that are made with pure sugar, and keep the natural flavor of the berries. Pickles preserved in the finest malt vinegar. Sauces of the best brand—all the hundred and one delicacies that help to make your daily meals more pleasing.

If you want any Relish we have it. Come in and look over stock.

Naramata Current Events

Mrs Campbell Robinson, with her daughter Katharine Isabel, has been a guest at the "Naramata" during the week.

Mr Ray Anderson, a prominent life insurance representative of Vancouver, was a guest at the Syn-dien over last week-end.

On Wednesday of this week Mrs Cash, Mrs Langquodoc, Mrs Pushman and others spent the afternoon at "The Outlook," and on Tuesday Miss Aitchison, matron of the Summerland Hospital was Mrs Davlos' and Mrs Pushman's guest.

The women of Naramata feel strongly the need for a Naramata branch of the Women's Institute. Many of them are members of the Summerland Institute, but it is next to impossible to get across the lake to the meetings held there. Miss Livingstone's course in cooking appeals to every woman in town, but, so far, only two can see their way to attending them, and they are going across to Summerland to stay for the ten days.

"BURNS NIGHT" CONCERT.

source of pleasure to those who listen, and not less so on Monday than on any previous occasion. Most of the accompaniments of the evening were in his capable hands.

Prominent on the program was a Scotch character sketch, "A Visit to the Photographer's," in which there were some very laughable passages. The simple couple, unacquainted with the accomplishments of the pottingerdracht's art were highly amusing, and though the Scotch dialect in some parts seemed to be of the broadest, the humor was not lost on anyone. The local hit also seemed to be appreciated. The departure of the couple with their ire raised because the camera had failed to get their back view as well as their front, brought the curtain down on a very well carried out piece of amateur acting.

It was fitting that a patriotic number should conclude the program. This was an effective tableau depicting Britannia and five other girls grouped round representing her colonies offering to her the products of their lands in token of a loving allegiance. Five Boy Scouts holding up a large Union Jack made a suitable background, and as the tableau was shown, Mrs G. M. Ross sang a verse of "Rule Britannia."

Towards the close of the program Mr Robertson on behalf of the St Andrew's Society thanked the audience for their attendance, and also the different artists who had contributed to the evening's entertainment in any way. A ready second for his vote of thanks was found in Mr J. C. Findlay, of Kaledon, who remarked that he had come a long way to the concert, by buggy, hay wagon, boat and cutter, but he felt he had been amply repaid.

The complete concert program was as follows:

- Bagpipe Selections
- Chairman's Remarks
- Pianoforte Selection
- Song
- Readings

- Songs
- Violin Selection
- Songs, in character
- Scotch Character Sketch
- Gramophone Selections
- Pianoforte Selection
- Song
- Readings
- Bagpipe Selections
- Tableau and Song
- Tableau
- Boy Scouts
- Accompanists
- God Save The King.

When the floor was cleared for dancing shortly after eleven o'clock, about forty or fifty couples were in waiting, and enjoyed a good program that lasted till about two o'clock. The condition of the floor left little to be desired, and with Mr John Smith at the piano, the music was of the best. In spite of the somewhat chilly condition of the hall all the company got a great deal of pleasure from the dancing, and it was regretfully that they broke up after a final "home waltz." Messrs. T. B. Young and G. D. Fisher were acting as masters of ceremonies.

In the hall adjoining, Mr and Mrs Frank Marshall of Hotel Summerland, served excellent refreshments. They appeared to do fairly good business, and for the way in which this important detail of the evening's entertainment was looked after, no one has any word but praise. The proceeds of the concert and dance after expenses have been covered, are to be donated to the Hospital Fund. It is not possible to learn at this time what this will amount to, but at the meeting of the society on Tuesday evening next, it will probably become known.

The Wests continued their victorious career in the hockey league yesterday, when they vanquished the Town team by 12-4, at the Parkdale Rink. Playing with six men aside, the hockey was fairly good through the first two twenties, but in the third the Wests got half their score. After the first period, the Wests had the score of 2-1 in their favor, and at the end of the second the score stood 6-3. The scoring honors were pretty well divided up for the Wests, while for the College, Morelock seemed to do most of the goal getting. Dan Rutherford refereed the game. The players were:

- Town
- West
- G. Dale
- goal
- G. Higgs
- A. Vanderburg

- W. Mumm
- H. Jennings

Arrangements have been completed for bringing down the Kelowna team to play the local boys next Thursday, at the Parkdale Rink. The game will commence at three o'clock, and there should be a good attendance of spectators, as the local hockey club is being put to not a little expense in bringing on this attraction. A good game is assured, for though the Kelowna boys are in fairly good shape, there is no question, but that a strong bunch can be picked from the three local teams.

Rearrangement in the interior of the main store of the Summerland Supply Company is being carried out this week. The grocery and dry goods departments have been moved into the adjoining room, and where those have been will be utilized for hardware, furniture, stores, etc.
