Okanagan College Ends Its 8th Year

Graduates Awarded Diplomas At Friday's Exercises.

Another session of work at Okanagan was brought to a close on Friday, May 28th. The Exercises this year were held in the College Chapel on Friday afternoon. There was a good attendance of friends of the students and of the College, including a number of the members of the Board of Management. As there had already been recognition made of the closing of the university year, the Exercises this year were more informal than usual, but not less eventful to those immediately interested among the students.

Principal Everson also made the following announcement of results of the year's work:

In the Matriculation Class the highest standing was obtained by Christopher Riley, with 79 per cent. Two others obtained over 75 per cent; Murray Cochrane, 78 per cent., and George Howell Harris, 76 per cent.

In the Second Year the highest standing was obtained by Lena Elliott, with 78 per cent.

Harold Davison obtained the highest standing in the First Year with 89 per cent.

Of the University students three wrote upon the Second Year examinations of McMaster University, and all secured their standing. Eight students wrote upon the First Year and seven secured their standing. Three were partial students, two of whom were successful in the subjects written upon.

Reference was made to the fact that two of the members of the Faculty had completed six years of service in the College, Prof. D. H. McIntosh in Academic and University work, and Mr. W. M. Wright, Director of the Commercial Department. Prof. W. H. A. Moore, of the Music Department, has been in the service of the College for five years. None of the members of the Faculty have been associated with the College for less than three years. In commenting on the fact that the whole session had been carried on while the great war was waging in Europe the Principal called attention to the fact that several of the students past and present have enlisted for service at the front, among whom are Angus McDougall; Harry McLeod; Leverne McNeill; Roy Stevens; Finlay McWilliams; R. Boothe; H. N. Jennings; F. Hayward; A. W. Vanderburg; E. Bont; and J. Graham. R. Snider was wounded in action in France.

Christopher Riley, of the Matriculation Class, was then called upon as representing the students. Mr. Riley expressed the appreciation of the student body of the opportunities afforded by the College, and of the help given both in and out of the class room by members of the Faculty.

After a vocal solo by Miss Helen Sawyer, the Principal called upon Dr. Sawyer former Principal of the College, and so closely identified with its history throughout, for an address. Dr. Sawyer brought a strong and timely message to all. Recalling the first days of work in the institution, Dr. Sawyer spoke of the ideals and hopes of the early days as not having all been fulfilled, but they had not been forgotten, and the work done had not been ineffectual. Looking towards the future with its uncertainties, the Doctor emphasized one word that means much to-day—"Sacrifice." He referred to the large number of our students who had volunteered for service at the front, and of all that means to them and to us. The contrast between false and true culture was emphasized by the present conflict, and there was never a time when the ideals of our Gives Son In Defence Of Empire.

Mr and Mrs James Thompson, Victoria Gardens, have been advised of the death of their youngest son, George. The following communication, dated May 18th, written by Sister Matthews, in charge of a clearance hospital immediately behind the fighting line, brought the dreaded message:

"Dear Mrs Thompson, I am sorry to inform you of the death of your son No. 320, Private George Thompson, of Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. He was brought into No. 2 clearing station wounded through the abdomen. There was no hope for his recovery from the first. He did not suffer, as we do not allow them to do so, and he will be buried in the cemetery here. I am not allowed to disclose the name of the place as it is against all regulations to do so.

All four sons of Mr and Mrs Thompson have served or are serving in the army. George served for six years in the regular army, and was stationed at Malta and later in India. David, of this place, was through the South African War and served also in India. The eldest son was killed in an accident during manoeuvres after returning from South Africa. Another son, a reservist, was called up in August, and is now serving in Flanders.

The sympathy of the community will go forth to the bereaved parents. It is the mothers and fathers who are suffering most, and are making the greatest sacrifices in the great struggle for right and liberty.

Prices Will Be Fair.

Provincial Horticulturist Winslow Anticipates Satisfactory Season.

Mr R. M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist, who has been in the Valley for some days, boarded the K.V.R. train here on Thursday morning for Vancouver. Mr Winslow will address the Vancouver Board of Trade next Tuesday evening on "B.C. Fruit Importations and the Possibility of Replacing Them With Home Grown Products."

Mr Winslow speaks confidently of fair results from the coming season's operations. He predicts satisfactory prices for apples, apricots, and cherries, and a fair price for peaches. The peach crop in Washington will be probably 25 per cent lighter than last year. This fact, together with the earlier season here, should help the market for Okanagan peaches. Apricots should bring very satisfactory returns. Wenatchee, Okanagan's chief competitor, has a very light crop of this fruit while the crop here is well above the average. This Valley is expected to produce a good crop of apples, and already sales are being made at what must be considered satisfactory prices.

Under what they term "wounded soldier message," the C.P.R. Telegraph Company are granting relatives of wounded soldiers three free messages of inquiry. This free service is limited to those who receive messages from the Adjutant-General at Ottawa reporting relatives wounded in battle. These messages of inquiry will be addressed to the Adjutant-General.

schools for Christian education were more needed than to-day. In closing, Dr Sawyer strongly urged all present to stand true to the best ideals, and to give sacrifice a place in their lives. Miss Edna McLeod of the Music Department, assisted in the program.

After the program a social hour was spent, and refreshments were served by the Matron of the College, Miss Henwood.

Most of the students left for their homes on Saturday morning, the last going out on Tuesday morning by the first train on the Kettle Valley Railway to Vancouver.

The station of this new line is only twenty minutes walk from the College, and will give, when completed, a much more direct way to the Coast than the route by the C.P.R. main line.

Kettle Valley Railway Now Open To Traffic.

First Train From West Monday Afternoon.

Beginniug of New Era Duly Celebrated

Train Schedules For Present Season.

Arriving on time, one minute to four, on the afternoon of Monday, the first regular passenger train on the K.V.R. inaugurated the service between the Coast, Similkameen, Okanagan, Boundary, and Kootenay districts. There were gathered at the site of the station yet to be built in Peach Valley, a goodly number of citizens to witness the incoming and departure of the first train, with its load of passengers from the Coast and Similkameen, many of whom were going to Penticton, the official headquarters of the K.V.R., where the opening of the line was to be celebrated that evening. Several of our own citizens enjoyed the novelty of taking a ride on the first train over the line.

Coast passengers on this train left Vancouver the previous afternoon. The journey from Vancouver to Summerland will require 25 hours and 14 minutes, according to the present schedule. The journey to the Coast consumes 23 hours and 20 minutes. The time consumed is not materially different from that via Sicamous, but will of course be greatly shortened when the Hope Mountain cut-off is opened.

Going coastward one would board the train at Peach Valley at 8.40, it having left Penticton at 8. Princeton is reached at 12, where 40 minutes is given for lunch. Proceeding, Merritt is reached at 16.30, and after a wait of 3 hours there the train proceeds to Spence's Bridge, a junction point on the main C.P.R. line, reaching there at 21.30. There again, is a wait of practically another 3 hours, the through train passing that point at 24.20, reaching Vancouver the next morning at 8.

On the homeward journey one would need to leave Vancouver at 14.45, arriving at Spence's Bridge at 23, Merritt is reached at 1.15. The K.V.R. train pulls out of Merritt at 8, reaching Princeton at 12, where there is again a 40 minute wait. The train is due at West Summerland at 15.59, and Penticton 16.30.

The distance from West Summerland to Vancouver over the present K.V.R.-C.P.R. route is 348 miles, practically 100 miles shorter than via Sicamous. The distance will be shortened to something less than 250 miles by the Hope Mountain cut-off.

Trains from the west come in on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, while the coastward trip is made on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.

To reach Nelson over the new line, the train leaves Penticton at 6.30, Naramata Siding 7.09, and Midway at 14.30, reaching Nelson at 21.10. This is the Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday trip. Returning Nelson is left on Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday at 7.40, Midway 14.30, Naramata Siding 21.32, and Penticton is reached at 22 o'clock.

Penticton celebrated the arrival of the first trains over the K.V.R. line from the east and west by a banquet held at Hotel Incola tendered to over 150 invited guests by the Municipal Council and Board of Trade. Due to the late hour at which the train from the east arrives the first toast was not proposed until shortly after 11 o'clock, and it was after 4 when the national anthem was sung. The speeches throughout were most optimistic, expressing confidence in the future development of the Okanagan and Southern B.C. generally as a result of the opening up of the new avenue of traffic. The Mayor and President of the Board of Trade of each of the Valley towns were included among the invited guests. Among those present from this district were J. M. Robinson, and J. H. Pushman, Naramata; R. J. Hogg, Peachland; R. H. English, J. L. Logie and K. S. Hogg, Summerland. During the afternoon a party of 25 or 30 men from Summerland motored down to Penticton, returning early in the evening.

WEDDING.

LEMON-WATSON.

June weddings are proverbially pretty, and one which took place in Summerland on Thursday, June 3rd, upheld well all the happy matrimonial traditions of the month. On the morning of that day, Miss Myrtle Watson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Watson, became the bride of Mr. Verna Lemon, of Kelowna. The ceremony took place at 11 o'clock, at the home of the bride, "Watson Heights," Jones Flat, the officiating minister being Rev. C. H. Daly of the Presbyterian Church.

Relatives and guests were present to the number of about thirty-five, and these included Mrs. Lemon, mother of the groom, two of his brothers, and Miss Ethel Thompson, who acted as bridesmaid, all from Kelowna.

In the room where the wedding was held an extremely pretty decorative effect had been achieved by the use of Oregon grape and cut roses. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father as the "Wedding March" was being played by her cousin, Miss Olga M. Watson. In a dress of white organdie trimmed with hand made lace, and with the conventional veil caught with orange blossoms, the bride looked very charming. The bridesmaid, Miss Ethel Thompson, was also dressed in white. Supporting the groom as best man was his brother, Mr. Arthur Lemon.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, after the happy couple had received the congratulations of the guests, the company sat down to a wedding luncheon, served at tables decorated with yellow roses. During the course of the luncheon the customary toasts were honored, and the bride cut the three-tier wedding cake.

In the early afternoon Mr and Mrs Lemon left by automobile for Kelowna amidst showers of rice. They will make their home on Mr Lemon's ranch some miles back from the city. The bride's travelling dress was a very becoming suit of alic blue. The best wishes of all their friends both here and in Kelowna follow the young couple to their new home.

Mrs. Lemon, sen., Miss Thompson and the Messrs Lemon accompanied the bride and groom on their journey as far as the Orchard City.

Orders that will aggregate between $2,000,000 and $8,000,000 are being placed in this province for munitions of war.

Uneventful Session of School Board.

38 Applicants For Position on High School Staff.

The School Board met in regular monthly session on Tuesday afternoon.

The tender of George Hampshire to grade the grounds of the Town School for $12 was accepted.

G. R. Hookham reported that there were now 28 children being carried on the Trout Creek route, which was rather more than could be properly taken care of, and asked that the Board make some rearrangement if possible. It was found that the Giant's Head van, which for a short distance travels over some of the same road, was also loaded to capacity, carrying 21 children. Further investigation, however, showed that the Trout Creek van was carrying pupils that it was not intended by the government should be carried, and the matter was left with the Secretary to adjust.

This question revived that of opening a ward school at Trout Creek, Trustee Johnson saying that they would be ready for a ward school in that district after another year. Mrs. Ross suggested that perhaps a larger school in Town that would accommodate the children of Peach Orchard, Town, and Trout Creek might be preferable.

The Secretary was instructed to advertise for tenders for conveying the school children to the Central.

No less than 38 applications for the position of assistant teacher in the High School had been received, and were carefully considered. Some of these applications were accompanied by photos of the applicants. The names of several were selected as being the most likely, first, second, third and fourth choices being made, and the Secretary was instructed to treat with them in order.

The following accounts were passed for payment:

Glad He Enlisted.

Elmer Johnston, son of Coun. and Mrs. Johnston, writes his parents from France, just after the big battle in which the Canucks made themselves famous, saying the boys sure had a time of it, and played the game well. Though he had not been under fire he writes that he would not miss being there for anything, and if he were back in Canada would join again. The men are well fed, and get along well together. Many have sacrificed their lives trying to save their fellows. Of the Germans, he says, "These square heads are a bad lot, and it's up to everyone to stick to it, or be sorry. They show no mercy to anything, and nothing is too low for them. They are worse by far than savages, but that won't help them, they will get their. It will come to fighting them the way they fight us." Mr. Johnston's last letter was written on a Sunday evening. There had been a church parade that day, and a memorial service for those who had gone down in battle. The French peasantry are very kind to the soldiers.

Object To Dockage Charge

At a special meeting of the Board of Trade called to consider the recent increase in dockage charges by the C.P.R., a strong resolution was passed asking that this charge be eliminated. Until recently the C.P.R. has charged $1 on each car moved on or off the barge. The new charge is $2.50, and this applies to all carload traffic originating at or destined to lake points

An Aviator's Adventure.

A plausible explanation of the aeroplane lights which were reported to have been seen from lake points about three months ago has lately appeared in the daily press. A man who gave himself out to be a British military aviator has given out an interview in Buffalo, U.S.A., in which he states that the British authorities, having cognizance of an aerial attack which was to be made upon Pacific Coast towns by a German aeroplane, despatched him to combat the assailant aircraft. The German aeroplane was to have had its headquarters on the decks of a German cruiser out at sea, and the British aviator asserts he was hurried across the Atlantic also on a cruiser, and started off on his long flight when a few miles off the coast. The flight across Canada was made without incident, and in a spectacular battle in the air it is alleged that the German aeroplane was destroyed and the British hero so badly wounded that he is only now recovering from his wounds sufficiently to make his way back to England. This story is reproduced for what Review readers may think it is worth.

The inlanders on the Summerland-Peachland road interfered with traffic between the two towns on Thursday.

served by car barge. The resolution will be forwarded to the Railway Commission through the Associated Boards of Trade of the Valley, Kelowna and Penticton and taking like action.

Car Load Rates On Fruit To Coast Greatly Reduced

Rate On Apples Brought Down From 40c. To 30c.; Peaches 48c. To 30c.

An announcement that the C.P.R. would grant substantial reductions on fruit and vegetables in carload lots between Okanagan points and Vancouver, was made by Mr. W. B. Lanigan, assistant freight traffic manager for the C.P.R., at a conference at Sicamous this week, when with two exceptions every fruit shipping concern in the Valley met with Mr. Lanigan and Mr. R. E. Larmond, assistant general freight agent. It is understood that the conference is the result of the good offices of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, of which Provincial Horticulturist R. M. Winslow is Secretary. Mr. Winslow was present at the conference.

Under the new tariff, apples, soft fruits, and vegetables are given the same rate, and may be shipped assorted, the new rate being 30 cents per 100 lbs. as against the former rate of 40 cents on apples, and 48 cents on soft fruits. A crate of peaches can therefore be shipped to the Coast for 6 cents, and a box of apples for 13 cents. Favorable through rates to points served by the G.T.P. and C.N.R. were also arranged. In the past it has been necessary to pay a local rate on either of these lines, in addition to the C.P.R. charges, thus to a large extent limiting the market of the Okanagan to points on the C.P.R. system. A lower freight rate to Nelson, which will make it possible to ship soft fruits to the Kootenays, will also be given. Yet another promised special rate will be one on bulk apples shipped in carload lots.

The conference at Sicamous promises to result in a better understanding, and possibly a working arrangement between Valley shippers. This was strongly urged by the C.P.R. officials, and is also being encouraged by the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association. The shippers are to meet again at Kelowna on Wednesday of next week, when it is hoped some definite arrangements will be arrived at. Mr. Winslow will meet with the shippers. Among other matters to be considered is the question of an agreement under which shippers will sell only at prices f.o.b. shipping point, thus cutting out consigning entirely. It is expected, too, that some plan to eliminate internal competition will be proposed.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

"WHAT DOES IT COST to grow a barrel of apples?" is the subject of an interesting article in the Canadian Horticulturist, by Manning Ellis of Port Williams, N. S. The writer himself had kept fairly accurate records of three orchards which he names as orchards No. 1, 2 and 3. No. 1 had two and one-half acres of full bearing trees, and produced last year 267 barrels of apples. "Man labor" is charged at 20 cents an hour, and "horse labor" 15 cents. Pruning, plowing, harrowing, sowing cover crop, spraying, cost of fertilizer, seed, spraying material, and 267 barrels at 30 cents, picking and hauling three miles to the warehouse, making the total cost of this orchard $191.50, or 71.7 cents per barrel of apples at warehouse. Orchard No. 2, had five acres, one-third in full bearing, the remainder about equally divided between 10 and 15 year old trees. Crop last year 209 barrels, the average cost 82.8 cents. No. 3, 25 acres, 15 in full bearing trees, remainder 10 and 15 years set, crop 1124 barrels, averaging 67.6 cents. The average cost per barrel on the three orchards figures out 70.3 cents. To this, other items of cost must be added, including management, interest on capital invested, repairs for depreciation of equipment. He places the value of the orchards at $500 per acre. In adding this cost, he practically doubles the above cost, making the average per barrel $1.32. Last year's crop was a light one as compared with that of 1911, which totalled 2,700 barrels, and, figured on the same basis, cost 97 cents a barrel, as against 1.32, last year. The prices received for the past four crops were: 1911, $1.83 net; 1912, $1.60 net; 1913, $2.01 net; 1914, $1.15 net.

SOUND ADVICE.

THE CALGARY HERALD is a prairie metropolitan daily that frequently raises its voice on behalf of the B.C. fruit grower. In the following reprinted editorial which appeared in its columns last week there is advice that is unquestionably sound, and equally applicable to other lines of Canadian industry as well as fruit growing.

"We are thinking a lot of our country these days. Let us remember to act in accordance with our thoughts. One way to do is to buy the goods made or the articles grown in our own country. We have little patience for economic sophistries in behalf of free trade these days. What we want to do, and what we should do, is to encourage our own people in every possible manner, by buying one another's goods, assisting one another's production, and in encouraging one another.

"British Columbia is becoming a great fruit growing country. It is growing and packing various kinds of fruit, the quality of which is improving every year. The British Columbia fruit growers have shown great courage in their enterprise. They depend largely on the people of the prairies for the support of their industry, but the people of the prairie too often forget to notice whether it be B.C. or California that is printed on the side of the case or package that they buy.

"Let us encourage our B.C. brothers. They deserve it, and, like ourselves, they probably need it."

THE DRY BELT.

KANSAS has been alcoholically dry for 30 years, and the governor of that state says that it has worked out as follows:

"A half million young men and women in Kansas over 21 years of age have never seen a saloon in the State. Since Kansas adopted prohibition illiteracy has been reduced from 49 per cent. to less than two per cent. There is only one pauper in every 3,000 population. Eighty-seven of the 105 counties have no insane, 54 have no feeble-minded, and 96 have no inebriates. Thirty-eight poor farms have no inmates. In July, 1911, 58 county jails were empty, and 65 counties had no prisoners serving sentence. The county jail at Hugoton has not had a prisoner for two and a half years, and the county commissioners have rented the jail for a residence. Some counties have not called a jury to try a criminal case in ten years. In one Kansas county there has not been a grand jury called in 25 years. In 1880 the bank savings deposits in Kansas were $30,000,000. To-day they are $200,000,000. Kansas stands first among all the States in the per capita valuation of the assessed property. During the panic of 1907 Kansas sent $50,000,000 to New York to relieve the money market, while her wet neighbor, Missouri, sent nothing. The death rate in Kansas has dropped from seventeen to the 1,000 in 1880 to seven and a half to the 1,000. Kansas is the healthiest state in the Union."

EFFICIENT PUBLICITY.

THE IDEA IS ENTERTAINED by some of the older type of merchants that the good repute of their firm is spread from mouth to mouth in conversation, and that they do not need to advertise in the newspapers.

That condition may have prevailed many years ago when people had nothing else to do but gossip about their neighbors. In those times everyone discussed all of his home purchases with all his neighbors.

To-day a man who depends upon conversation and gossip to spread the news of his store will not find that his place of business is much frequented. People do not exchange information about their domestic habits as they used to. You have little idea whether your neighbors buy their goods of Smith, Jones or Brown, at home or abroad. The world is full of wide interests, and the bargains one may find in a certain store are ordinarily known only to those who find them.

The newspaper is the only efficient means of acquainting the public with the business news of the community. For one person that will learn something about a given store by word of mouth, a hundred learn about it through newspaper notices.

The advertising columns of a newspaper are read just as attentively as any sensation that may appear in the news columns.

The results of the two policies are obvious. In one case a merchant drags along, with only a small part of the community knowing anything about what is happening in his store.

In the other case, practically everyone knows when that merchant has special bargains, and what can be done in his store at any given time.

Can there be the least question as to what kind of merchants get the business?

BUSINESS MEN OPPOSE IT.

ON MANY OCCASIONS of late the world of business has declared itself as utterly opposed to the liquor traffic, and the large gathering of the business men of the city of Vancouver and district which recently pronounced in favor of total prohibition, is but another indication of the rapidly changing attitude of manufacturers, merchants, and financiers towards the use of alcoholic drinks. At this gathering, which included many of Vancouver's most prominent citizens, the question was discussed at much length, resulting in the following resolution:

"This meeting of 500 business men of Vancouver and surrounding municipalities, assembled at Dominion Hall, Vancouver, B.C., this 18th day of May, 1915 hereby places itself on record as being in favor of the total prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the Province of British Columbia."

BY A RECENT AGREEMENT between the Dominion and Provincial Governments the province will expend $15,000 this year for agricultural instruction in the public and high schools. Nearly $60,000 will also be spent in the usual demonstration work.

YOUR HOME PAPER is really a tireless letter writer, if nothing more. Week after week we prepare this printed letter for those living here and for those who have moved to some other locality, telling of marriages, births, deaths, the coming and going of people, of business efforts and progress, accidents, crops, improvements, meetings and so on. In fact, everything of importance and interest.

The Scouts have been extra busy just lately, working up their concert. All of Friday evening was taken up in running over the program.

Monday night and Tuesday night were both taken up in rehearsing the play, "Winning Recruits."

Last week was an unusually hard one for the boys. On Tuesday, the 25th, the Hon. and Rev. T. R. Henonge conducted a thorough examination of the Scouts. Dividing the troop into the patrols he gave each patrol leader a scribbler and a pencil. Then he gave his questions to the patrol leaders who put them to their boys (a question for each boy) and whatever answer was given was put down by the leader. The leader then put his mark by the side of each question, signifying whether he thought it was right or wrong. After 92 questions had been asked, the scribblers were handed in to the Commissioner for correction.

On Wednesday evening Mr Henonge came again for a talk with the Scoutmaster and patrol leaders. He took up with them the new rules and regulations of the Provincial Boy Scouts. The patrol leaders have now to take a good deal of responsibility off the Scoutmaster, in training the boys for "tenderfoot" and "second" badges.

We wish to thank Miss Marjorie Bentley for a donation to our Scout Library.

Bridal Shower Is Great Success.

Again this week Miss Olga Watson was the guest of honor at a shower party, this being given by Miss Bena Logie at her home on Jones Flat on Tuesday afternoon. The invited lady guests numbered not less than thirty, who spent an afternoon happily planned, and just as happily carried out. When the ladies had assembled, the first occupation of the party was an unique embroidery contest, the requirement being that the outline of a pig be embroidered on a piece of material, no pattern drawing having been made beforehand. Needless to say some peculiarly proportioned animals resulted, though the prize-winning effort was said to have been very creditably done. Exceedingly dainty and carefully prepared refreshments were served on the spacious and cool verandah of the Logie home, consisting of salads, cake sandwiches, and other delectables, with tea and ice cream. A second contest was later carried out, in which the names of kitchen articles had to be guessed. The shower was presented to the bride-to-be at the close of this contest. Piled up on a small wagon, drawn by two little girls, Margaret Hogg and Johanna Stevon, who were roined with pink ribbon, were packages which were found to contain a great variety of kitchen articles. It was a present of great usefulness, and Miss Watson made a gracious acknowledgment. Still further festivities awaited the guests on repairing ones more into the house, where on a gaily festooned table a bride's cake was found, to be cut by the honored guest. Candy favors in tiny hand-crocheted baskets were received by everyone. The whole affair made a busy afternoon for hostess and guests alike, and an exceedingly pleasant and eminently successful one.

The rainfall in Prairie Valley during May was 2.83 inches, as given in the official report published in these columns. The unusually heavy showers brought the total precipitation for the month fairly close to that of Vancouver City, which was 3.65. In May 1914 Vancouver's precipitation was

WINDOW ENVELOPES

Our new prices make it practical to use these for all ordinary purposes in which envelopes are used.

WINDOW ENVELOPES have a glazed opening through which the address of the enclosed letter or bill shows, when folded. Their advantages are numerous, and some of them may be quoted:

1. Great saving of time and labor, all tedious copying of addresses from the account, ledger or letter to the envelope being done away with.
2. Total elimination of wrongly addressed envelopes. It is impossible to put a piece of mail in the wrong envelope.
3. As complete privacy as with the use of an ordinary envelope. Only the address shows through the window.
4. Very slight difference in cost, as compared with the average business envelope.

Our New Prices.

Some kinds of window envelopes are expensive, but we have obtained a supply of good quality direct from the Canadian makers at a reasonable price, and can quote you for neatly printed stock:

$5 for 1,000; $8.85 for 2,000; $19.50 for 5,000

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years, at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined, and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessees may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Sentence Suspended.

After being arrested on a charge of theft and electing to be tried by jury at the next assizes, Frank Fox satisfied his accuser and has been allowed to go on suspended sentence for the costs of the court. The case came before Magistrate English last Saturday afternoon, when the accused pleaded "not guilty," and was committed to be tried at the next assizes. He, however, was given his liberty till Monday, when he was required to furnish bail.

According to the evidence, he had been given credit for groceries by O. Vaughan, and to cover his account with the latter, Fox gave an order on Government Road Foreman Michael. When Mr Michael was distributing the cheques he took Fox's cheque to Mr Vaughan. The cheque amounted to a little more than the order given Mr Vaughan, and the latter sent the cheque and change by a messenger to have the cheque endorsed by Fox. Getting possession of the cheque he refused to endorse and return it, stating that he would settle with Mr Vaughan when he got ready. Not receiving the settlement Mr Vaughan put the case in court.

When he came before the Magistrate on Monday, Fox, acting upon the advice of several citizens, had settled with Mr Vaughan, and withdrew his election of Saturday, to be tried by jury, and asked that the Magistrate dispose of his case. Sentence was suspended, and he was given a reasonable time to pay the debt, amounting to a little more than $6.

Origin of Foreign Eggs.

New Box Marking Regulations Declared To Be Inadequate.

With regard to the regulations just passed by which all cases containing imported eggs have to be stamped with the name of the country from which they come, it is pointed out that this does not help matters at all, as it fails to prevent eggs being taken out of these cases and retailed as locally produced eggs.

Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed by various agricultural societies and egg producers in general with respect to the recent regulations. It is said that as Chinese eggs, which are of very inferior quality, have been frequently mixed with local fresh eggs, and sold as such in the larger centres, there is justification for the adoption of more drastic clauses. Not only do the present conditions make it disastrous to the producer, but it is also unfair to the consumers, who are deceived by the display of imported eggs as local products.

It is felt that the eggs themselves should be stamped, and the stamping of the cases immaterial. The governments of the States of Oregon, Washington and California have all passed regulations covering the matter. Such measures mean no extra tax to anybody, but allows all eggs to be sold on a true basis.

LIVING ON BROWN BREAD.

Why It Is Preferable To That Made Of White Flour.

There are sixteen elementary substances in the human body. According to an expert in the employ of the Federal Government ordinary white flour contains four of these. Dark flour, ground from the entire wheat, contains twelve.

Men and women who eat white bread because it is pleasanter to the sight and perhaps a little daintier to the taste are throwing away a great part of the nutrition of the grain. This is going to cattle in the form of various feeds.

The whole wheat gospel has long been preached by health experts. It is now being preached by practical economists also. A bushel of wheat will yield forty pounds of dark flour, and only thirty pounds of white flour. Moreover, the grinding of the white flour is considerably more expensive. If wheat prices are to continue to advance these are matters of importance.

Anyway, why not try the experiment of eating whole wheat bread? If one gets considerably more food for considerably less money it is worthy of attention. And there are those who actually prefer it, and eat it regardless of its bearing on either health or the pocketbook.

Water Notice.

Take notice that the Department of Agriculture whose address is Ottawa, Ont., will apply for a license for storage of one hundred acre feet of water out of Trout Creek which flows south easterly and drains into Okanagan Lake about two miles from Summerland Post Office. The storage dam will be an addition to Summerland municipal dam No. 1 which is situated at the head of Trout Creek. The capacity of the addition is one hundred acre feet and flood about two hundred and fifty acres of land. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point one mile from S.W. Corner of lot 476 and will be used for irrigation purposes upon the land described as Experimental Station, being part of Ponticton Indian Reserve No. 1. The license applied for is to supplement a right to take and use water as per license No. 576. This notice was posted on the ground on the sixth day of May 1915. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the water act 1914 will be filed in the office of the water recorder at Vernon. Objections to the application may be filed with the said water recorder or with the controller of water rights Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper. The date of the first publication of this notice is May 14th, 1915.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Tuesday evening, after a short period of physical drill, a general review of Scout work in preparation of Mr Heneage's visit was the program, and the Tenderfoot and Second Class Scouts were put through a pretty thorough examination of their various tests. Instructions were also given for Thursday's procedure, and the boys were requested to invite their parents and friends to be present at the inspection.

Mr Heneage, who, in addition to his duties as Provincial Secretary is also Assistant Commissioner and Acting Chief Commissioner for the B.C. Scout Association, was met at the ferry on Thursday evening by Patrol Leaders Allen and Hughes, and was conducted by them up to the Syndica House. In spite of the severe showers and consequent muddy travelling a fair number of Naramata residents were present at the meeting, which was called to order at 7.30 p.m., and lasted considerably over three hours. Much interest was shown by the audience in the various questions asked and answers given, and Mr Heneage expressed himself as being very much pleased with the progress made since his last visit. After the business of inspection was concluded the ladies served refreshments, for which a hearty vote of thanks was accorded them. Mr Heneage then gave a short address on the useful work the Scouts were accomplishing in the Old Country, such as guarding bridges, telegraph lines, etc., and expressed himself to the effect that the Canadian Scouts would not be found wanting if they were needed. All through the evening the visitor kept the audience in good humor by his witty sallies and humorous stories. Mr T. H. Boothe, President of the local association also made a few remarks of interest. Mr Heneage remained in town over Friday, and was conducted over the benches and around the town. During the afternoon a conference of the Scoutmaster and Leaders was held in the Scout headquarters, and some useful information on Scout matters was obtained from the visitor, who left on the "Sicamous" for Penticton, where he was due to inspect the Scouts of that town on Saturday evening.

Mrs G. Wolstencroft has offered to donate a number of Scout Test Books to the troop, and we are grateful to her for same.

Our library has been enlarged by the addition of a number of good books donated by Scout H. Roesser.

On account of Mr Heneage being in Penticton on Saturday evening and the consequent inability of the Penticton Scoutmaster to be present the conference arranged to discuss the proposed Concentration Scout Camp has been postponed for one week, and will be held in Naramata on Saturday evening, June 6th.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Mrs Russell Wells has been confined to her room on account of illness.

A large number from here took in the festivities at Penticton Monday afternoon and night.

Next Sunday morning the annual church parade of Boy Scouts will take place to the Methodist Church.

Thursday being a national holiday the school was closed. The Entrance Class, however, met for a few hours' special drill in one or two backward subjects.

The Scoutmasters of Summerland, Kelowna, Penticton and Naramata are arranging details for the mammoth summer camp to be held in the vicinity of Four Mile Creek. More details of this will be published shortly.

A young lady from Grand Forks, now a guest for a short while with her aunt, Mrs Cash, has the honor of being the first to come over the K.V.R. to visit Naramata. True, there is no station built yet, but that makes no difference. That will come in time.

The sight of the first passenger train emerging from the tunnel immediately north and east of town on Monday night was to those of us who have been waiting and waiting for the railway, a truly inspiring and thrilling sight. The broad search light seemed to speak of brighter days to be; of days when thousands will be dwelling in comfort where mere scattered scores now dwell and toil many weary hours alone.

To the dance loving public, the management of the Naramata pavilion are now announcing that every detail has been arranged for the convenience of the patrons. Absolutely nothing has been overlooked. The position, right on the lake shore, will appeal to boating parties from neighboring towns who could enjoy a few hours in what is as near to open air dancing without any of the actual risks from exposure.

PROGRESSIVE ECONOMISTS MEET.

The gathering of representative citizens in attendance on Monday evening at the regular bi-monthly meeting of this new club—"The club of progressives"—came expecting a good, lively and instructive time and they got it. And those of us who are not "progressives" got it "in the neck" good and hard.

Besides two chief speakers, there was a short and taking program that proved refreshing after the hour's grind on the serious topic—already pretty well to the fore in our daily life—that of economics. The chairman, Mr Bartlett, opened ed the meeting with a few brief but witty remarks upon the time and the occasion, afterwards calling upon Mrs Mina Morsch to deliver the first address.

This talented speaker chose for her subject an unique and suggestive one, "The Calf Paths of the Mind." The speaker showed the tendency of one generation to follow the mental trails of its predecessor, and showed the wisdom of seriously examining one's own self and one's own belief with honesty and courage and faith. Mrs Morsch speaks with the earnestness born of conviction, and was accorded a full measure of applause.

Mr H. J. Wells followed, taking as his subject "The Ethics of Socialism." This was followed by a fine program of music, both vocal and instrumental, and a number of good humorous readings, as follows: Instrumental Solo, Mrs Dean Walters; Reading, Mr Fred Manchester; Vocal Solo and encore, Miss Gladys Robinson; Reading, "The Lucky Horseshoe" Master Joe Morsch; Piano Solo and encore, Miss Minnie Block.

PASTOR BEATTY TRANSFERRED.

Rev J. Irwin Beatty, upon the occasion of his return from the annual conference, delivered an interesting, instructive and suggestive report upon the deliberations of the church representatives. The report seems to indicate that the church is awakening to a fuller knowledge of its responsibility in regard to the physical well-being of its adherents and followers, as evidenced by the fact that the conference decided to organize a fraternal order in connection with the church, to do, in fact, the work hitherto relegated to outside clubs and orders. At the close of his address which was given a most careful hearing, Pastor Beatty announced that next Sunday he would deliver his farewell address, as he had been transferred to Enderby. The announcement came not as a surprise, as it has been felt for some time that the church here was far from being in a position to support even a student pastor. The field will in future be supplied from Penticton, by Rev. R. M. Thompson. During his stay in Naramata Mr Beatty has worked earnestly, and has created an impression of solid worth.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE TUESDAY MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the club room parlors on Tuesday afternoon. The president, Mrs H. T. Davies, presided.

A number of communications were read. Some of these dealt with matters of great public interest. One especially is worthy of mention. A certain women's organization, writing from Vancouver to all the Institutes, is seeking to establish in the hearts and minds of British Columbia women, housekeepers and would-be housekeepers, (Continued on page 5.)

SCOUT COMMISSIONER'S VISIT.

Rev T. R. Heneage, upon the occasion of his visit here last Thursday, conducted in the church basement a public examination of the local troop of Boy Scouts.

A fair number of the parents were in attendance, but the dark and showery nature of the night was enough to dissuade all but the most enthusiastic from coming. Had the parents known what a real treat they were missing by remaining away—but nuff said!

In all some 90 questions were given and answered by the Scouts, and their several patrol leaders. Some of the questions would make a Baden Powell, himself think he was forgetting a few of his own instructions. The examination of the boys in first-aid work would have delighted the heart of Dr. Will Robinson, who previous to his going to Toronto, had put the boys over the course. In one or two instances the examiner found fault with the boys' work because it was too well done, that is, too technical. One boy when asked how long he would work over a person to restore respiration, when he found that he had to give a definite answer, created quite a laugh by answering "twenty minutes."

Mr Heneage shows the qualities that fit him to handle boys. He seems to be in thorough sympathy with them, and while gentle is firm and strict to a point. He left here the following day for Penticton, where he hopes to see the club put again in good working order.

The Habit of Reading Advertisements

NEWSPAPERS would be much less enjoyable, instructive and valuable than they are if they contained no advertisements. Many persons read the advertisements quite as thoroughly as they read the news matter. This is just as it should be.

The more advertising, the more buying. The more buying, the greater the consumption of the goods or service advertised.	they advertised more, and if more of them advertised. Much business goes to the big city mail order houses because they advertise. These houses would cease to draw business from this community if they ceased to advertise.

To the Merchants of Summerland

Advertise more, and more of you advertise, and the big city mail order houses will get less and less business from this community, and you will get more.

"Jimmy" Clark, son of James Clark, a former citizen of Summerland, went up to Kamloops from Penticton last Saturday for the purpose of enlisting. His elder brother, Will, joined the ranks some months ago. Both boys until recently were residents of Summerland, and attended the public school here.

Duncan Woods returned to Hedley on Tuesday from California, where he has been attending the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco since the first of the year. Mr Woods reports that the general exhibit of the Dominion Government at the exhibition is by far the best on the ground. He will probably remain in Hedley for the summer. —Hedley Gazette.

That Miss Amy Brown who left here in March to take a course in nursing in the Toronto General Hospital is getting along well, is the news received by friends here. Miss Brown seemingly enjoys her work and is in love with her surroundings. That the duties of a probationer are no sinecure may be gleaned from the fact that seven in her class dropped out in that many weeks, finding the life either too strenuous or disagreeable to their taste.

The apple, peach, and cherry crops of Washington and Oregon are going to be very light this year, according to information gathered by Mr W. J. Robinson, during his visit to Spokane. Mr Robinson visited a number of places in Washington and the Boundary country, and says that conditions here can compare very favorably with those in any of the places visited. Everything is at a standstill waiting for the end of the war. Mr Robinson returned over the K.V.R. reaching Naramata on Wednesday evening.

Although he may have been without relatives in this district, it has been shown very clearly that the late Adam Blyth was very far from being without friends. The funeral held last Sunday afternoon was one of the most largely attended Summerland has seen for some time. A service was held in St Andrew's Church at three o'clock, and there was a preponderance of men in the large congregation which had assembled to show the estimation in which the man of quiet life and unobtrusive habits who had passed away, was held. Rev. C. H. Daly conducted the service with an appropriate order. A short address along a line of thought suggested by the occasion was listened to closely, and a solo by Mr J. O. Smith, "Now the Laborer's Task is O'er," gave added solemnity to the simple services. A large cortège formed outside the church to follow the flower-strewn coffin to the cemetery at Peach Orchard, where interment was made. Members of the St Andrew's and Caledonian Society attended in a body out of sympathy for the passing of a fellow countryman. Rev. C. H. Daly again officiated at the short but impressive graveside service. The pall-bearers were six friends of the deceased, all hailing from his own native Scotland, Messrs. M. Joyce, A. Smith, J. O. Smith, J. Tait, A. Rutherford, G. McLeod.

Mr G. N. Gartrell has sold his auto to Mr Adam Stark.

Mrs E. W. Sawyer, who entered the Hospital for an operation some time ago is making a good recovery.

Mrs K. S. Hogg was a passenger outward bound by the "Sicamous" on Thursday morning on her way to the Coast where she will visit for about a month.

The West Summerland Women's Institute's next meeting will be of a patriotic nature. A small fee of 10 cents will be charged, proceeds in aid of Canadian soldiers.

The Bishop of Kootenay will pay his first official visit to Summerland on June 14th, and will administer rite of confirmation in the evening, to some 15 candidates. On the following afternoon there will be a reception in the Parish Hall.

Mr and Mrs J. W. Wheeler and little daughter boarded Thursday evening's boat for Vancouver. Mrs Wheeler will remain at the Coast for some time, where she goes to consult a specialist. Her many friends will wish for her a return of health.

Methodist Church services will be conducted on Sunday next by Rev. R. W. Lee. At the morning service at 10:30 a.m. the subject of discourse will be "The Distinctive Note of Methodism." The evening service will be held in St Andrew's Church at 7 p.m. All are heartily invited.

The Stirling & Pitcairn fruit warehouse, suffered considerably last winter. The waters of the lake had washed the sand and gravel from under the supporting posts and allowed it to settle in many places. G. A. McLaine, the firm's representative, has now got it back into shape ready for the shipping season.

H. H. Elsey lost a fine mare at Kaleden a few days ago. The animal was out grazing, and in the attempt to capture her she became alarmed, and in trying to escape ran too near the edge of the cliff and fell into the lake about 100 feet below. It was but a short time ago that Mr Elsey lost a valuable cow.

Principal S. Everton of Okanagan College plans spending Sunday at Armstrong and Enderby, and will go up the Valley on tomorrow morning's boat. Returning on Monday he will remain here most of next week before proceeding to the Coast on College business, and to attend the Baptist Convention of B.C., which meets later in the month.

Mr and Mrs Wellington Watson left for the south this morning travelling by auto to Oroville. From there they will go by rail to Livingston, Montana. Mr and Mrs Watson have leased their cottage to E. C. Graham, who is expecting his wife back from a visit with friends in California and Seattle Monday evening. Coming with Mrs Graham is Mr Graham's brother of Seattle.

Though the evening was rather cool, there was a very good attendance last Friday night at the lawn social held in the home of Rev. and Mrs. N. McNaughton. The object of the social was to raise funds for the Ambulance League and financially it was as successful as it was as a social function, the treasury of the league being enriched by $30, the proceeds of the sale of the ice cream.

P. Duffy, the well-known large buyer of apples for Australian trade, met the executive of the Okanagan United Growers at Vernon this week, when final details of a contract for the sale of 35,000 boxes of apples were arranged. This order will be filled with Okanagan apples. The price arranged is for the apples delivered in Vancouver and while not yet made public are considered very satisfactory.

David Craig, a brother of George and Jack Craig, and known to many of our citizens, has been taken prisoner by the Germans. He was one of the first to enlist and went to the front in the 5th battalion. He and four others were working a machine gun at the time of their capture. Jack, another brother who went from here a little later, is reported as wounded. He has been in the fighting line since May 1st. A third brother, Barclay, joined at Montreal. A sister now at home in Renfrow, Ontario, has offered her services as a Red Cross nurse.

Mrs R. H. Steuart returned home last Saturday evening after an absence of two or three weeks.

Mrs W. R. Shields, who represented the women of the local church at New Westminster at the Methodist Conference, reached home on Saturday.

The West Summerland Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs J. L. Hilborn on Friday, 11th June, at half past two o'clock. A large attendance is requested.

After a visit to States, points including Webster City, Iowa, and extending as far east as Rochester, N.Y., Mrs G. M. Ross is expected to arrive back in Summerland on this evening's boat.

Mr and Mrs John Tait accompanied Mr and Mrs Wellington Watson this morning on the first stage of their journey to the south, which was a journey to Oroville by automobile.

Miss Ruth Engstrom, who has been studying at Okanagan College during the past winter, went out to Killam, Alberta, on Monday morning, where she will join her father.

Mr C. M. Woodworth, a property owner here, came in from Vancouver on Monday evening. He, with Judge Swanson of Kamloops were passengers westbound on the K.V.R. on Thursday morning.

Don't forget the opening date at the Aireodome Naramata, Saturday night, June 5th. Admission 50 cents a couple. Okanagan Lake Boat Company will run a special ferry, return trip 25 cents, at 7.30. tf

F. H. French and wife, accompanied by Mr S. L. Smith and daughter, motored over to Penticton on Sunday morning, and on Monday took in the Victoria Day celebration at Summerland. They returned on Tuesday morning. —Hedley Gazette.

Boarding the "Sicamous" on Wednesday evening, Mrs S. Angove has gone to Nelson for a visit of about four weeks at the home of her niece. She spent Wednesday night at Penticton, and travelled to Nelson the following day over the K.V.R.

President Nicholson and Manager Jackson of the Okanagan United Growers were in town part of Thursday. They motored up from Penticton where they had been discussing with the citizens the proposition to take over and operate the cannery there. They are visiting Peachland to-day on a similar errand.

The collection taken at the anniversary service of the I.O.O.F. recently in the Lakeside Baptist Church, has been turned over to the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary, to be applied to the X-Ray fund. The ladies are very grateful for this assistance, and state they will now be able to make up the final payment on the X-Ray machine.

The Young People's Guild of St Andrew's Church to the number of about 60 enjoyed a picnic last Saturday afternoon at Upper Trout Creek. The picnic was the result of a membership contest, the Guild being divided into two soliciting divisions. At the close of the contest the side bringing in the largest number of members were to be given a picnic by the other division.

A very pleasant and successful ice cream social was held on the lawn of the parsonage by the ladies of the Methodist Church on Thursday afternoon and evening. The night was an ideal one, and the comfortable lawn was brilliantly lighted during the evening. The ice cream tables were well patronized, and the ladies are very well pleased with the result of their efforts, and grateful for the liberal patronage extended by the public.

Further losses as a result of the stealing done during the dance on the evening of the 24th in Empire Hall are reported, one of these being a silk waist taken from the suitcase of one of the visiting players. Suspicion has rested upon two young women from Penticton, one at least of whom is said to have registered here under an assumed name. Constable Graham visited the neighboring town early last week, and obtaining a search warrant, searched the rooms of both the woman, but got little more than abuse for his trouble.

BIRTHS.
 HIGGIN.—To Mr and Mrs C. Noel Higgin, at Summerland Hospital, on Friday, May 28th, a daughter.

OBITUARY.
 Suddenly and without warning death entered the home of Mr James Hewitt last Saturday afternoon when his wife was suddenly stricken. Mrs Hewitt some days before had suffered an attack of heart trouble, from which she seemingly had recovered. Deceased was born in Scotland 57 years ago, and after spending some years near Calgary and later in Vancouver came to Summerland about two years ago, hoping the change of climate would be of benefit to ailing sons. One son, Walter, died a year ago. Beside the husband, three sons and two daughters survive, one daughter living at Victoria. The funeral was held on Monday morning, Rev. C. H. Daly officiating.

BOY SCOUT CONCERT.
 The Summerland troop of Boy Scouts held another of their popular entertainments on Wednesday night in Empire Hall. For several years the Scouts have adopted this method of raising funds to provide for their summer camp, and from a financial point of view in addition to presenting a really good program, Wednesday's event was equally as successful as those of previous years. The short play, "Winning Recruits," well suited to Boy Scout life, was well presented by the boys, and another number on the program, the camp fire scene, was equally well carried through. The boys were ably assisted in a flag drill by sixteen young ladies, who did splendidly. These young ladies were trained by Mr S. Sharp, and Miss McLeod accompanied on the piano. Others to assist with the program were Mrs Mitchell, Penticton, soloist, Mrs McGregor, Penticton, elocutionist, and Mr J. W. Harris and Mr T. G. Beavis, local soloists. Mr T. Leonard was chairman.

Buy B.C. Fruit.
 To further increase the home consumption of home grown fruits, as against the very common practice in the Coast districts of using imported fruits, particularly for preserving, the Horticultural Branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture has issued a card for kitchen use. This card gives the periods during which our fruits are in season and also the best time to buy for preserving. It bears the following good advice: "Housewives will find it to their advantage to do their preserving during the season when B.C. fruits are selling in quantities. The earlier foreign fruits are often lacking in quality, and are always higher priced."

Thursday of this week, the King's Birthday, was very generally observed as a holiday by the local stores, but there was no event of unusual importance carried out on that day. The picnic which was to have been held by the St Andrew's Church and Sunday School and the Caledonian Society was postponed on account of some uncertainty as to whether the school children would be given a holiday. The date now set for this picnic is Dominion Day, July 1st. Thursday brought a sample of ideal summer weather, and several private picnic parties were tempted out on excursions.

Ask for Business

ONLY one's most intimate friends go to one's home uninvited, and the extent of one's calling list is determined by the number of one's calls.

In business the same facts hold. Every merchant in Summerland knows scores of families here and the country round about, whose custom he does not possess.

Mutual acquaintance is the first step towards getting these families as customers, and acquaintances can most surely be developed by invitations or calls made through the medium of advertisements in the Review.

To the Merchants of Summerland

Show your desire for business by asking for it. A merchant who does not ask for business is supposed not to want business very keenly.

Women's Institute Tuesday Meeting.
The wisdom of buying "Made in Canada" goods—and where possible "Made in B.C." goods. The reading of the appeal is said to have struck home.

Two of the ladies present gave demonstrations. Mrs Mitchell showed how to make two different kind of cool and refreshing summer drinks; Mrs Fred Simpson showed how to make quite easily and economically a first class hard soap for washing purposes.

Two visitors were present from the West Summerland Institute. These were Mrs R. Cartwright and Mrs W. C. Fosbery. The latter outlined the efforts being made in our neighboring district to ship fruit direct to the consumer. As a number in Naramata have been looking for just such an opportunity, it is more than likely a large market may be secured for us through the Institute working in conjunction with the sister organizations on the prairies.

Toward the close, Mrs Cash introduced her niece, Miss Kerman, from Grand Forks. Miss Kerman is a talented violinist, and delighted and refreshed the gathering by playing a couple of selections.

The meeting was in every way a delightful one, and gives an earnest of greater and better times in the future.

Though there has not been any very great increase in the number of bees, there has been, according to the provincial bee inspector, a very great increase in the quantity of honey produced in this province. In 1910 the honey production of the province was probably 20 tons, but in 1914 it reached 150 tons, the difference being due to the increased skill of the beekeepers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

May 3rd, 1915.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

I should be glad to take advantage of your paper to answer some criticisms of the Sports which appeared in a letter in your last issue over the signature of "Kitchener."

Three of his points I disagree with for various reasons, but recognizing them as perfectly fair expressions of opinion, I do not intend to refer to them. As regards his criticism of the Government Farm and the Ladies' Race I should like to say a few words.

Mr Helmer, the Government representative, made a plain statement to members of the committee, that he was only showing a team to show his interest in the Sports, and incidentally, though he did not say so in words, to help from a spectacular and financial point of view. He refused to take any prize, the prize actually going to Mr Young's team. To "Kitchener's" query "Was this sporting or fair?" I reply, "Quite fair, and extremely sporting." I feel sure that, knowing the facts he will agree with me.

In the Ladies' Race, "Kitchener" shows a total ignorance of the facts, and, in my humble opinion, of the rules and conduct of racing.

The facts are these. One of the two competing ladies having fallen, the survivor pulled her horse to stop, but was instructed by the judges to proceed. I have my information from one of the judges.

The rules of racing provide, I believe, that when a race has been fairly started by the Official Starter it shall be run out, and shall

A Big Home Market.

That those who have taken up dairying as a side line need have no fear of the local market being overdone, may be gleaned from the fact that there is on an average one car load of canned milk per month shipped to the lower end of the Okanagan Lake, including Peachland, Summerland, Naramata, and Penticton.

That the importation has been much reduced seems a certainty, as there is now a considerable quantity of fresh milk being produced in the district.

Quite a few who are keeping cows are also converting the milk into butter, this being apparent from the recent sales of butter wrappers, which must, according to a recent act of parliament, be printed. Several of our makers are using wrappers which, in addition to describing the contents as being dairy butter, gives the name of the maker, thus showing the confidence of the maker in the quality of his or her product. Some of our local dairies are now producing a really excellent quality of home made fresh dairy butter, very tempting as compared with the imported article.

not be run over again unless at the pleasure of the judge.

A match is the running off of a bet between two individuals, privately arranged, and run off privately or not at the discretion of the competitors.

A race I need not define. It is obvious a race cannot become a match owing to there being a greater or lesser number of starters, or for any other similar reason.

Lastly, may I ask why "Kitchener" does not sign his own name? Surely the real Kitchener has been born to enough criticism without having criticism thrust upon him? It may be that the writer of the letter was himself a competitor. If so, it would have been more seemly for him to have come to the advertised Public Meeting and helped to organize the proceedings, than to criticize after showing his appreciation of them by taking part in them.

Yours truly,

G. R. HOOKHAM.

Summerland, B.C.,
June 2nd, 1915.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

In answer to "Kitchener," I would advise him in future to make sure of his facts before rushing into print.

The government team was entered for exhibition only, and this was understood by the committee long before the 24th of May.

All the decorations and fixtures on wagon and harness were bought by the teamster and are his property.

The single driver being the property of T. E. Pares, and entered by him, had nothing to do with the government.

My only reason for answering such a letter is to correct the very false impression Kitchener's letter might create in the minds of the people of Summerland.

Yours truly,

R. H. HELMER.

Tax Rate of Sixteen Mills Proposed

Council Aim To Keep Within Last Year's Rate.

Increase Only For Debentures.

By-Law To Be Finally Considered At Next Meeting.

The Council at its regular monthly session on Wednesday gave the tax by-law for the current year its first, second and third readings. The total tax rate proposed is 16 mills, an increase of 1 mill over last year, 6 mills for municipal purposes, 4 mills for schools, and 6 mills for debentures, the only increase being 1 mill to cover interest and sinking fund on the increased debenture debt. The employment of an additional teacher in the High School will increase the school expenses somewhat, but it is expected that the School Board will be able to keep within the 4 mills. It is possible that at the next meeting, the estimates having been carefully revised in the meantime, the Council may find it necessary to make some slight increase, but this does not seem probable.

Another request for a reduction of water rates because of a portion of the lot being untraversable, brought forth the suggestion that if the area is reduced, the water supply should also be reduced. How this was to be best accomplished was not decided.

W. C. Kelley, representing the Woodworth estate, and T. G. Marcham, vendor of the Victoria Garden lots, asked that the lots be grouped and taxed for water rates as acreage. The question involved was a large one, and was left on the table for further consideration.

Mr. Kelley was promised an extension of the domestic water main northward along the front of his own property, he to pay the cost of excavating and back filling, this cost to be refunded when the pipe is used for other services beyond.

J. Stewart Cambrell asked that his ten acre lot be assessed for water purposes as seven acres, its assessed valuation already having been reduced in that proportion. Having returned from the Old Country too late to be present at the Court of Revision, this appeal was entertained and referred to the Assessor.

The Okanagan Telephone Company consented to the removal of ten poles which are now in the way of constructing a cement ditch near the McKay property, the change to be made at the expense of the Municipality.

Another communication from the Okanagan Lake Boat Company with reference to lights on the government wharf was read, and the Clerk again instructed to take up the question with the Public Works Department, Ottawa.

A request from P. G. Koop for some road repairs was referred to the Public Works Committee. A statement received from R. Mitchell, showing that 286 tons of ice had been taken from the Reservoir last winter, was read and filed.

A motion was passed instructing the Superintendent to give the Experimental Farm a 1 1/2 inch connection instead of a 1 inch as at present. 4,260 feet of 1 1/2 inch pipe had been laid from near the Nove gate down one side and up the other side of Trout Creek canyon, and it has been found that the 1-inch connection, which is further reduced by a brass fitting, did not give sufficient pressure to overcome the friction in this long stretch of pipe.

Service of electric light and domestic water to two or three properties was ordered discontinued because of arrears.

Reference to recent police court cases brought forth the information that none of the fines imposed during 1915 had been paid into the Municipal Office. This met with a strong protest from some of the Councillors, who were of the opinion that the fines should be turned in promptly after being collected. Neither had any reports of fines imposed been furnished. Further discussion brought forth a statement that while the Council had been advised by the Provincial Government of the appointment of the Police Commissioners, there had been no notification received of the appointment of a police magistrate. Heretofore the Magistrate has been an appointee of the Council, but under the new law he is appointed by the Provincial Government. This question of fines and other matters pertaining to police court were left with the Reeve, who is also ex-officio a member of the Police Commission.

The matter of water in basements of several houses on Beach Avenue was again brought up by Coun. Borton. Nothing definite was done, in fact some of the Councillors, at least, are of the opinion that the water causing the trouble originated from springs or seepage from the hills, and not from pipe leakage as at first suggested.

Several more dairy licenses were granted, while three whose stable accommodations did not give sufficient air-space for the number of cows kept, were given temporary permits.

After passing the following accounts the Council adjourned until Saturday, July 10th:

A Story Of German Trickery.

That which seems nearly impossible of belief comes to us almost first hand and conveys an idea of the extremities to which the Germans are resorting in order to overcome Britain and the British Empire.

There has for some years been practising in the north of England, a specialist who has won considerable fame in the cure of troubles of eye, ear and throat, known as Dr. Scott Elliger, who has passed as a native of Scotland. While at home with his parents last winter Mr. T. P. Thornber was advised to consult this specialist, and it was merely by accident that another doctor was decided on. Recent developments have proven this specialist to be worse than a German spy and it was his fiancée who revealed his knavery to the British authorities. By that time he had obtained a position with the War Office as a specialist in the examination of the eyes of recruits, hundreds and perhaps thousands having passed under his hand. In his purported test the doctor injected some chemical into the eye of the soldier, always the left eye, and in doing so rendered each applicant unfit for service. It was not until the incriminating evidence at home, revealed by his fiancée, had been laid before the authorities, that his work in the service of the War Office was investigated, and the injuries done to the sight of the would-be soldier discovered. Naturally Mr. Thornber is grateful for his probable narrow escape, as revealed to him together with the above facts, in a letter just received from his wife now in the same neighborhood in which this German has been carrying on his practice.

Crop Prospects.

Summerland's Apple Yield Will Be Heavy.

Summerland's apple crop, proportionately speaking, will be the heaviest in the Valley, while most other fruits are promising a fair yield, according to L. L. Palmer, of Inspector Cunningham's staff, who is covering the Valley, watching for possible outbreaks of disease and pests. Mr. Palmer qualified his prediction with reference to the apple crop by saying that this would depend on the vigilance of the growers in keeping down fire blight. The recent wet weather has been very favorable to the development of this disease, and to the multiplying of aphides, active agents in spreading the disease germs. The Valley's apple crop, Mr. Palmer thinks, will be about 70 per cent of last year. Peaches probably 60 per cent. Some varieties of this fruit have been greatly affected by the peach leaf curl. Plums, while heavy in some sections, are light in others, and will probably average 60 per cent of last year. Cherries, which were a fairly heavy crop in 1914, will be about 75 per cent. Prunes 90 per cent, notwithstanding that last year's was a very heavy crop. Apricots and pears will be heavier than in 1914.

The 1914 fruit crop was relatively a heavy one, and though prospects are that this season's yield will be lighter than that of last year, this does not mean that the crop will not be at least an average one.

Get After The Fire Blight.

Fire blight has suddenly appeared over a large area of orchards surrounding Summerland, and is moving rapidly in some sections. Growers not already on the lookout, or cutting are requested to keep a sharp watch for blight, and to cut out immediately following discovery.

In face of the splendid showing on many of the young apple trees in the Summerland section, the prompt control of this disease is of great financial importance to the growers and community. All growers are urged to act unitedly to keep the section clean of blight, and to cut faithfully.

Keep in touch with your district inspector, Mr. R. Randall. He will gladly come to the assistance of any growers needing information.

Mr. L. L. Palmer, Assistant Provincial Inspector of Fruit Pests, states that the present blight movement is general over the southern Okanagan, and that Penticton growers are taking active interest in its immediate control.

The Canneries.

It has been definitely announced that the cannery at Kelowna will be operated this year. $10,000 has been subscribed by a local syndicate, which will take over the plant. The Penticton plant, on the other hand, is likely to remain idle. For many weeks a local committee has been endeavoring to organize a home syndicate to run the plant. Falling in this the Okanagan United Growers were appealed to, but this organization feel that they should not make a venture of that kind for the present at least.

GOVT. AGRICULTURISTS BUSY.

During the next few weeks the members of the various branches of the Department of Agriculture will spend much time in touring the various parts of the province for the purpose of holding meetings and examining the conditions in different sections. Mr. J. Forsyth Smith, Markota Commissioner, has gone to Washington, where he will spend two weeks in inspecting the orchards of the Wenatchee and Yakima districts. In this way he will be able to get a good idea of how large size the Washington fruit crop will be this year, and what marketing facilities exist. Mr. Harvey Thornber, assistant horticulturist, spent the last week in the Kootenay district examining the government orchards there and sup-

WEDDING.

KENNEDY - HUNTLY.

At a quiet wedding with a military atmosphere on June 1st, at Christ Church, Vancouver, Miss Kathleen Huntly, niece of Mr and Mrs D. Todd Lees of that city, was united in marriage to Dr. W. W. Kennedy, Medical Officer to the C.M.R., Victoria. Owing to the family of the bride being in mourning and military exigencies combined, the wedding was quietly celebrated, only immediate relatives being present. After the ceremony, Dr and Mrs Kennedy left by boat for Victoria. Dr Kennedy, who until recently practised here in partnership with Dr Andrew, expects to leave soon for the seat of war.

BIRTHS.

MCCUTCHEON - At the Summerland Hospital, on Saturday, June 5th, to Mr and Mrs C. E. McCutcheon, a son.

ARKELL - On Tuesday, June 8th, at the Summerland Hospital, to Mr and Mrs Joseph Arkell, a daughter.

Famed Lecturer and Entertainer to Visit Summerland.

The people of this district will, on Monday, June 21st, be given a rare privilege in listening to the wonderful readings of Rev. Herbert Piercy, the Toronto elocutionist, whose fame as a public entertainer has already reached from coast to coast. Mr Piercy is now touring the West, and through the efforts of the ladies of the College Auxiliary, the people of Summerland will be able to hear this gifted orator in the College Gymnasium on the date above mentioned.

An additional privilege, which but few centres are able to enjoy, will be two sacred readings in the Baptist Churches on the morning and evening of Sunday the 20th.

Speaking of his work the Yorkton Enterprise says: "Perhaps no better program was ever presented to a Yorkton audience or appreciated more than that given on Monday evening in the Town Hall. Though unassisted there was not a dull moment in the two hours of the recital. Through the splendidly combined humor and gravity, his interpretation of the best literature is at once uplifting and entertaining, and his more especially humorous selections are wholesome and funny."

Of his work in the pulpit, a Calgary critic says: "He held the great audience spell-bound for over an hour as he recited ten chapters of the Book of Genesis. He is at home in work of this nature. He is at once at ease with his audience, and holds the closest attention from the first word to the close. He is a man of fine presence, good voice, and pleasing manner. His powers in impersonating, his native humor, and his kindly disposition combine to make his work attractive, entertaining, and educational."

Experimental Farm Will Make Up Exhibit For Fairs.

It is probable that the Fall Fairs of the irrigated section will be enhanced by a special exhibit of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, through the local experimental station. The exhibit, which is of a special nature is a novel one, and, of course, does not enter into competition with the general exhibits. Besides a number of the usual farm products, there will be a display of noxious weeds effectively arranged, and probably a large array of insect pests in their various stages of existence. Miniature poultry houses, pigsties, fences and other models of farm buildings and equipment will be included.

Understanding the planting of fruit trees. He reports that the crops appear to be in very good condition, and the indications are that an unusually large harvest will be gathered this year.

Took Five Prisoners and Bayoneted One

Ronald Snider Writes Interestingly of his Experiences in Battle of Ypres.

Having taken part in the memorable charge against the Germans at Ypres, followed immediately by participation in two charges east of St Julien, in which he was overcome by gas and lay for a time inside the German lines, Ronald Snider was hit by a splinter while assisting a wounded comrade, and has been for a time in the hospital at Le Havre. In a letter, part of which is published herewith, he gives an interesting account of his experiences.

"Here we are almost fit to go back to the front again, although I am still suffering from gas poisoning. The wound was only slight, and has entirely healed, and I hope to be in the next draft.

"I shall try and relate my own personal experience in the part our battalion took at the Battle of Ypres. On Thursday afternoon, April 22nd, we were lying by the canal bank at Ypres, some of us swimming in the canal, others lying reading or talking, when all of a sudden we heard a terrific burst of rifle and artillery fire. We did not pay much attention to this, until we saw bunches of French zouaves come running over the ridge that separated us from the trenches. They were in quite a bad way from the gas. Realizing that the attack was serious, we got our kits together, and stood by for orders. These were not long in coming, and we soon fell in, extended along the canal bank and dug ourselves in, but our fellows had held on in the trenches ahead, so there was no need for a stand there. We fell in again, and started off for the firing line. By this time shells were falling thick and fast on Ypres, and on every cross road. We went through the city on the double, losing only a few men from flying bricks and splinters. We marched at top speed to St Julien, and there joined the 10th Battalion, who were waiting for orders. We deployed to the left in two long lines, and were told that the Germans had occupied a wood, and that they had to be dislodged with the bayonet. With the 10th Battalion, who were in a formation similar to ours, we began the advance. We were undiscovered by the enemy until we crossed the Ypres-Poelcappelle Road, when they began to shell us with a few shrapnels. It was here our Chaplain, Canon Scott, fell out to bind up a wounded man. Although men kept dropping, the long lines just closed up and never wavered. When we were within about four hundred yards of the wood, an awful fire was opened on us, but we lay down and advanced in short rushes, until we came to a thick hedge, which proved a veritable death-trap. At last we managed to get through with greatly reduced numbers, and rushed forward to the final assault, which was a pell-mell charge, by both battalions. As soon as the Prussian Guards caught sight of our cold steel they threw down everything and made a wild dash for "home and mother." After that the fight was merely a chase. What was left of us scoured the woods, bayoneted the ones who showed fight, and made prisoners of the others. We were fools to have been so lenient, for the next day they deliberately shot our wounded men trying to crawl to safety. Now, the whole Canadian force takes no prisoners, and neither give nor ask for quarter. The Germans started this inhuman warfare, and they can get better than they send. I brought in five prisoners, three of them wounded, and bagged one with the bayonet. It took an awful lot of moral courage to do it. I simply could not bring myself to run him through the body, so I bayoneted him in the shoulder. He had been sniping from behind some bushes when I came across him. We held the position with the aid of reinforcements in the shape of the 2nd Canadians and the "Buff's" (East Kents) until Saturday morning, 24th, when we retired to a position north-west of St Julien, in front of the village of Wietje. I lost track of my battalion during the retirement, and joined up with the East Yorkshires. We made two charges south-east of St Julien. It was here I was laid out by gas, and was for a short time inside the German lines, but they were driven back again, and we were able to get out. (There were five of us.) When I rejoined my battalion (the 16th) I was almost choking with gas, so started for the dressing station, and was hit in the heel by a splinter from a 17 inch shell while assisting a wounded comrade, and was put completely "hors de combat."

"How I escaped so easily I don't know, and strangest of all I was not the least bit frightened, except that I was nervous at the first. The last few days, however, my nerves were in a bad shape."

MORE RECRUITS.

The advance guard of the 54th (Kootenay) Battalion, for which Lieut. C. E. Bentley has been recruiting, went to Vernon at the beginning of the week to prepare the camp for the whole battalion, which now numbers just over 1,100, and who are to arrive in camp to-day and to-morrow. The recruits from Peachland, Summerland, Penticton, and Princeton will go up the lake on the "Steamer" on Saturday morning. The recruits enrolled from the Southern Okanagan and Similkameen are: D. A. Santon, C. W. Aitkens, E. J. Aitkens, A. J. Thobald, F. Topham, A. H. Houston, Peachland; J. R. Trofry, Summerland; P. F. Erout, W. Donald, H. R. Robertson, Penticton; N. L. Dickie, J. E. Ray, G. A. Matthewson, R. W. Mooran, Princeton; J. H. Richmond, C. R. Gay, Westbank.

Lieut. Bentley will accompany the men up the lake. "Koot," the mascot of the battalion, is a black bear cub from Nelson, and has already gone to camp. The Officer Commanding is Lieut. Col. W. Malhon Davis. It is said that more men are wanted for overseas service, and also for bridge duty.

For customs purposes Penticton has been made an outport of the Port of Greenwood.

Return Engagement.

A very welcome announcement in local playgoing circles is that of the return visit of the "1915 Follies" to the Empire Hall on Thursday, June 17th. This sprightly and original company are just concluding a record-breaking tour which can only be adequately described as a "triumphal progress." The Follies have visited a different city nightly, and in the majority of instances have played to capacity houses. This return visit is by special arrangement with the local management, which is confident that Summerland playgoers will relish the opportunity of hearing the Follies once again. A completely new program will be presented, the miscellaneous section promising to be brighter than ever. The second section of the bill will consist of "The Follies on Trial," a characteristic musical comedy, with an extraordinary sequel, in which the Follies (taking as their text the quotation from Burns, "O, wad the powers the gistle gie us, Tho' we oorsels as thers see us") will caricature one another mercilessly. The scene of the "Follies on Trial" is laid in the imaginary mayor's office at the city hall in the year 1916. Everyone with a sense of humor should see the Follies in this diverting program, which undoubtedly will make a big appeal to every local taste.

The ladies' committee who had charge of the "Sax Day" canvass here are delighted with the results. 111 pairs of socks were donated, and also $85.50 in cash for the purchasing of other socks for our soldiers at the front.

Miss Livingstone, having completed her course in cookery with the Women's Institute of the province, arrived in Summerland from Keremeos Wednesday, and is spending a few days with Mrs. Lipsett before returning to the Coast.

Mr. Wm. Carson, wife, and son, were visitors with Dr and Mrs R. C. Lipsett on Monday. Mr. Carson, who owns a fruit lot, at Naramata, is a Calgary grain dealer, and was at one time in partnership with Mrs. Lipsett's first husband at Treherne, Man.

Mr. W. J. Robinson and Mrs. Gray were visitors at Peachland early this week, making the journey by the new lake shore drive. Mr. Robinson was delighted with the condition of the road. According to Mr. Robinson, Peachland is evidently well in the lead in its shipment of early fruits, growers there being well into the cherry season.

A very fine piece of furniture which will be a source of great comfort to the staff of the Hospital, is a large medicine chest, the handiwork of Mr. Robert Langlands, which has just been finished by the painter, Mr. Barclay, with a coat of white enamel. The cabinet is a really fine piece of work, and has been greatly praised by the Hospital Directors and the ladies of the Auxiliary, who have inspected it.

Another promotion has come to Clarence Phinney of the Royal Bank of Canada staff. Clarence, who is a son of Mr and Mrs J. E. Phinney, is a graduate of Okanagan College. After obtaining his diploma, he entered the Kelowna office of the Royal Bank, and being industrious and diligent, has won his way upward until recently receiving the appointment of secretary to the provincial manager; having served in the main office at Vancouver, then in the Superintendent's Office, and for some time he has been covering the province with the Inspector.

REPLYING TO CRITICISMS.

West Summerland, June 9, 1915.

Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir: I read with interest in your last issue some rather scathing and what appear to me rather unwarranted attacks upon your correspondent signing himself "Kitchener." Palpably his letter was written from a sporting standpoint, and using an Irish nom de plume, no doubt he comes from the much-abused, but green and ever sporting Emerald Isle.

He does not say the Ladies' Race was a match, but that it "developed into one" as only two started: "Kitchener" was not aware, I am sure, that the Judge told the survivor to proceed. I did not observe this either, and am the owner of the horse that ran out. I consider "Kitchener" was a wise man to write under a nom de plume as events have turned out, and he has brought this hornet's nest about his ears, which no doubt will affect him as much as it would the great man whose name he borrowed. I heard Mr. Helmer was showing his team for exhibition and would not take the prize money, if won, and I asked the driver of the team if this was correct, before the class was judged. He said they were competing and if they won would take the prize money "sure."

This is a fact. Mr. Pares' horse was, I understand, fitted and fed at the Government Farm, so it was easy for "Kitchener" to think he was owned by some one there. To err is human. I tried to get some facts from the secretary of the Crescent Beach Show before rushing into print. I asked him if the Summerland Lumber Co.'s team got third, and he said, yes. I also asked him if the second team, Mr. Young's, got first money, and he said, yes. I then asked him if the Mill team got second money and who got third. It was, I admit, rather a hard question, and a stickler to answer. His reply was "Go and find out." I was trying to find out facts, which you will see, Mr. Editor, are not easily got, even from headquarters. I suppose third money will now be divided amongst the two other teams shown, Mr. James Ritchie's and my own.

Apologizing for taking up so much of your space, I am, Yours truly, H. M. LUMSDEN.

Reports On Fruit Crop Situation.

The varying weather conditions which have prevailed this spring seem to have hit United States fruit growers much harder than growers on the Canadian side, according to reports made to Ottawa by representatives of the Fruit Commissioner's Branch. Frosts and rains have in many cases wrought considerable damage to buds and fruit alike. Parts of Ontario, especially in the Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara districts, seems to the Canadian section most affected, small fruits and early vegetables bearing the brunt of the damage.

British Columbia is reported as increasing its yield in almost all varieties over 1914. The young orchards just entering upon the bearing stage are reckoned on to greatly increase last year's crops in this province. Neither insect pests nor diseases are causing a great deal of worry, the general situation in these respects being looked on as favorable.

Thus the general situation as regards the production of Canadian orchards is looked upon by the Fruit Commissioner's Branch as being bright in its outlook. Dealing with the important marketing prospects there is this to be said: "There is a general feeling throughout the country that the markets for fruit this year will not be good. The war in Europe, with its depressing consequences, has made fruit growers pessimistic."

"At this time it is only possible to make a prediction which must be more or less vague and speculative. So far as production is concerned, there seems to be every indication of a fair crop of all varieties. Whether prices will be satisfactory depends entirely upon the distribution, upon the quality of the fruit, and upon the extra demand which is created by publicity or by any other means."

"There seems to be no immediate cause for the producers to be discouraged. Later in the season will be quite soon enough for that, if there is any need for discouragement at all. In the meantime, growers will be doing themselves the best possible service if they take the best care of their crop. If the fruit is of good quality, and is well packed, there is no reason to doubt that there will be a demand for it at prices which will return the producer a satisfactory figure."

"Nothing can be accomplished without effort. Fruit growers have to realize that in such a year as this they must be prepared to devote extra energy and make extra sacrifices, to bring about the results they desire. "Agricultural conditions in the west are extremely favorable, and there is every indication that the farmers will receive good prices, and that money will circulate freely. Up to the present time there has been practically as much rainfall in the grain growing sections of the prairie provinces as there was during the whole of last season, so that the danger of famine districts is already eliminated."

"Under these circumstances it seems very probable that the fruit growers of Canada will have a successful season."

Another Son Falls In Battle. It was only last week that the death of George Thompson, of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, son of Mr and Mrs James Thompson of this place, was chronicled in these columns. At that time another son, Jas. Thompson, was mentioned as serving with the British army in Flanders. The parents had scarcely begun to realize their loss in the death of their youngest son, George, when the news came that James had also given his life in the cause of freedom and right. Thus within a week our respected citizens, Mr and Mrs Thompson, are twice stricken.

OUR NARAMATA SECTION: Everything of Business and Social Importance Transpiring in South Okanagan's Newest Town

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Tuesday evening from 7.30 to 8 p.m. the Patrol Leaders went over Mr Heneage's examination papers with their patrols, and pointed out and corrected any mistaken answers given by the boys. For the remainder of the time the Scoutmaster instructed the Scouts in the arm and whistle signals and other phases of Scout work.

Second Scout Stiff, of the Wolf Patrol, was transferred to the Eagles to act in place of its former Second, Arthur Stiff, who is away at work on the railroad.

Scout Earle Hughes has received the appointment of Second to the Wolf Patrol.

The Patrols have been reorganized in the following order:

Eagle Patrol—Leader, F. H. Hughes; Second, S. Stiff; No 3, H. Allen; No 4, W. Mitchell; No 5, J. Bruce; No 6, C. Roe; No 7, G. Williams; No 8, R. Boothe. Wolf Patrol—Leader, A. S. Allen; Second, E. W. Hughes; No 3, E. Boothe; No 4, H. Reesor; No 5, W. Rounds; No 6, A. Stiff; No 7, I. Hughes.

Fourteen of the Naramata Scouts accompanied by their Scoutmaster attended the Summerland Scout Concert on Wednesday evening as guests of the Summerland boys. The outing was enjoyed very much by all, and we are grateful to our brother Scouts for their kind invitation. The Summerland Scouts deserve much credit for the excellence of their entertainment, which showed that great pains had been taken to insure its success.

Saturday evening a conference of representatives from the Kelowna, Penticton, Summerland and Naramata Troops was held in the last named town, the main object of which was to discuss the proposed concentration Scout Camp for this summer. It was finally decided that the Naramata and Summerland Troops would go into camp at the southern end of the lake as advance guards on June 29th, and that the Kelowna and Penticton Troops would join them a couple of days later. The camp will come to an end on July 10th. It is to be hoped that all Scout parents will see their way clear to allowing their boys to attend this camp, as we would like to have as great a number present as possible, so as to make the project a successful one.

The representatives from the different Troops were as follows: Kelowna—Scoutmaster Waddell, Troop Leader R. Keller and Patrol Leader F. Buck.

Penticton—Acting Scoutmaster Roe, Patrol Leaders W. and B. McConnachie.

Summerland—Scoutmaster Tait, Scoutmaster Leonard, Assistant Scoutmaster Harris and Patrol Leader Ross.

Naramata—Scoutmaster Pitman, Patrol Leaders A. S. Allen and F. H. Hughes.

Scoutmaster Pitman was elected chairman of the meeting, with Patrol Leader Hughes as secretary. The conference was a very successful one, and a great deal of important business was transacted.

The Kelowna and Summerland delegates were visitors in town over Sunday, being the guests of Mrs M. M. Allen for dinner and of Mrs D. O. Hughes for the evening meal.

A church parade was held on Sunday morning, the visiting Scouts taking part. The pastor, Rev J. I. Beatty, spoke a few well-chosen words to the boys preceding the sermon.

Well, here's good luck to our camp, anyhow! A SCOUT.

J. H. Lowdon, of Calgary, with his son Hibbert, arrived in town on Wednesday, and will probably spend a month or so looking after his fruit lot.

Mr Geo. Craig, who last year gave such general satisfaction as manager of the local fruit packing house for the Fruit Union, has been engaged for the approaching season of 1915.

Hotel Naramata, though not thrown open to the public, is nevertheless being given the usual thorough springtime renovating. In this work the vacuum cleaner is proving of great service.

Mr R. B. Martin, with his wife and young son from Banff, have come to spend a month or so at Naramata. During their stay here they will occupy the Dean cottage at the corner of Third Street and Ritchie Avenue.

The spirit of optimism characteristic of a few worthy fruit growers appears to be spreading—let it spread to the last growth has worn a smile in his button-hole with which to greet every would-be Naramata resident.

As anticipated previously the fruit shipments from Naramata are this year very appreciably heavier than in any previous year. This is specially true thus far as regards strawberries, and will doubtless be true also when it comes to shipping peaches and apples and apricots.

Miss Dorothy Robinson and sister Marguerite are expected home shortly from attendance at Moulton College, Toronto. Dorothy has the honor to be among those graduating this year from the famous school of learning, while the younger sister will require another year to complete the course.

Our genial friend the scribe, artist, painter, printer, editor, advertising specialist and all round boater, F. Lorne Roe, paid the town a whirlwind visit over the week-end, coming up from Penticton on Saturday, and returning on Monday's ferry. Fred still wears the smile that even those days of stress and strain that won't wear off. Come again Fred!

Mr. Norrington of Penticton, district engineer, was in town between ferries on Monday conferring with the citizen's committee concerning the organization of a water municipality. His wife, Mrs Norrington, accompanied him on the trip to Naramata. It was her first visit and she expressed herself, as many another has done, as being charmed by the beauty of the place.

BIDS FAREWELL.

Sunday, June 6th was another red letter day in Naramata Church circles. The day marked the closing address by Pastor J. Irwin Beatty, who for the past year has occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church. The service itself was marked by the presence of the local troop of Boy Scouts in dress uniform and accompanied by the Scoutmasters with their Patrol leaders from Penticton, Summerland and Kelowna.

Pastor Beatty's address to the boys occupied a secondary place in the service, but nevertheless was very appropriate. He dwelt upon the advisability of boys early in life having a worthy ambition, and that they would do well to make the most of their opportunities.

The sermon proper was based on words found in the 21st chapter of St Luke's gospel, words uttered by the disciples as they walked to Emmaus, words almost of despair—"We had hoped." The central thought was this: that in the hour of deepest gloom, Jesus the Spirit of Truth and Life, is very near to those who follow after righteousness, just as Christ revealed himself to those discouraged followers in their hour of gloom.

An impressive feature of the service was the singing of the new national air, a prayer for the safety and success of the Empire's sons now fighting on land and sea.

Messrs Jack Lawler, George Craig, J. E. Phinney and J. H. Pushman, all representative Fruit Union men, made a tour of the whole district on Monday with a view to ascertaining a general estimate of the fruit crop of 1915.

Public School Inspector Anstey paid the local school an official visit on Friday last. His report to the school board has not been made public, but it is understood that the school was found to be in splendid form, reflecting most favorably on the work accomplished by the staff of teachers, and the scholars in the course of the year.

F. H. Boothe received word on Saturday from his eldest son Reg, who has been in Quesnel for the past two years, that he, with the other members of the hockey and lacrosse teams have all gone to Kamloops to join the colors. It is presumed that the boys will be enrolled in the 54th Kootenay shortly to be brought to Vernon for training. The younger son, Roy, now in the C.M.R. is at Vernon.

Evan Davies, a son of H. P. Davies of town has sent word home from Ottawa, where he has held a position in government printing office that he has started for England, going with a bunch of 2,200 mechanics on a six months' contract. The young fellow had previously been planning for a two months' vacation spent in Naramata, but has chosen the sterner part for the cause of the Empire.

Mr John O. Noyes, in honor of having reached another milestone—just how many we did not pause to enquire, but it is certain he is of age, for his name is on the list of those who vote—took an outing last Sunday. In company with his wife and his brother-in-law, Mr J. H. Pushman and his wife, the party took a drive south as far as Dog Lake, where they camped out for the day, enjoying to the full the beauties of nature at the well-known and popular camping ground at the head of the lake.

District Road Superintendent Hamilton Lang, of Vernon, accompanied by Mayor Jones of Kelowna, visited Naramata on Thursday last in order to look into the complaints that have been sent in from our section as regards the state of the highways. It is to be hoped that there will be "something doing" by way of improvement in the near future. The opening of the fall-way traffic to Naramata has created a necessity for an improved grade to the station grounds. The present road is altogether too round-about and too steep in one or two places. It is proposed to cut a road up Camp Creek from the upper bridge, below Simpson's, and switch back farther up so as to land on a level with the present station grounds, and then hit almost due south, north of the "Kenwood" orchards. If we succeed in bringing about even half of the proposed improvements, not a little of the credit will be due to Mayor Jones, who appears to be taking a really live interest in Naramata.

Mr E. C. Waddell of Kelowna spent the week-end at Naramata, returning on Monday's boat.

Mr and Mrs Carson and son, from Calgary were visitors for a few days this week. Mr Carson has been for quite a number of years interested in Naramata property, and was much pleased with the appearance of his fruit farm, at present under the care of F. H. Rounds and Son.

The continuous spell of damp cloudy weather has tended to foster the spread of fire blight as well as the increase and spreading of certain easily recognized bacteria such as aphid—both black and green. It is therefore being found necessary for orchardists to make frequent examinations of their holdings in order to check the initial stages of such growth.

A large number of visitors from Summerland and also from Naramata attended the opening dance held at the Ajredrome last Saturday night, and Mr Fred Manchester, the originator of the idea, received numerous expressions of commendation from the patrons for thus providing an evening's social enjoyment under such unique conditions.

As an evidence of the active interest being taken in Calgary in British Columbia fruit, the following resolution from the Board of Trade has been forwarded to the Farmers' Institute: "That the secretary be instructed to get in touch with the proper B.C. authorities, B.C. Boards of Trade, Fruit Growers' Associations, and any other parties actively interested in the fruit question, to see if a conference may be arranged between the grocers, wholesalers, retailers, consumers, etc., at such time and place as may be mutually agreed upon, to discuss the present fruit situation, with the ultimate object in view of relieving and correcting the prevailing menace of cheap Washington fruit." The resolution will be brought up for discussion here at the next regular meeting of the local Institute.

Registrations at Syndica House during the past week would appear to indicate a considerable quickening of summer travel, and that this popular resort is losing none of its attractiveness. Amongst those from outside points were: A. Anstey and wife, Vernon; F. D. Cooper, Summerland; F. Williamson, Penticton; Mac. Wilson, Paradise Ranch; H. Carson, wife and son, Calgary; J. W. Jones, Kelowna; Hamilton Lang, Vernon; P. Smith, Vernon; Miss Jean McLeod, Summerland; Miss Olga Watson, Summerland; K. S. Hogg, Summerland; E. C. Waddell, Kelowna; R. Keller, Kelowna; F. C. THE MINOR CRISIS.

We must of necessity still attend to the OTHER things of life which matter also, even though they are only secondary in importance as yet.

The Minor Crisis bids fair to assume threatening proportions unless dealt with intelligently and firmly at once.

We refer to the vexed question of WHITE LABOR only, in the handling of our private and personal wearing apparel.

Without fear of accusation that we are making Capital out of Patriotism

WE ARE SPENDING OUR MONEY WITH THE RELATIVES OF THOSE WHO ARE DEFENDING OUR EMPIRE

Have you thought of it in this light? We leave the rest to your intelligence.

A pair of shafts were the cause of a suit at law on Monday, when J. H. Bowering had Earl Weldon summoned before Magistrate R. H. English. Mr Weldon appeared in his own defence, while Mr Bowering had a witness with him in Mr D. H. Bentley. Mr Weldon was ordered to hand over the shafts in question and pay costs. The shafts had been borrowed, according to the story, by the defendant's father and later were used by the son. Mr Bowering advised the defendant that he would soon be needing the shafts, and their return was promised shortly. Later Mr Weldon asked that he might keep them a while longer until he procured a second hand pair if possible. When the time arrived that Mr Bowering needed the shafts, he was advised by the defendant that he would not hand them over until so instructed by his father, whose whereabouts, seemingly are in doubt. His patience exhausted, and needing his property, Mr Bowering resorted to the police court to obtain possession.

Numerous reappearances of fire blight, due to the favorable weather conditions, though not yet serious, is giving our diligent fruit inspector Randall, much concern. SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined, and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.
W. W. CORY,
 Deputy Minister of the Interior.

"The Customer is Always Right"

THIS is the text or motto of a great and famous department store in Chicago. It is an assertion of the customer's place of supremacy in the relation between buyer and seller.

Any retailer who slights his customer is committing business suicide. The customer wants those who serve him or her to use the newspaper as a vehicle for their announcements of goods or service. This is the modern and right idea. Newspaper advertisements give desired business news in the right place and at the right time. To ignore your customer's wishes in this matter is to commit a costly mistake—far more costly than newspaper space.

To the Merchants of Summerland

Keep your eyes on your customers and humor them. It pays to do so. Keep very close to them—by means of advertisements in the Review.

SUMMERLAND TROOP BOY SCOUTS

Scoutmaster J. Tait.

Headquarters — ELLISON HALL.

Meets every Friday evening 7.30.

Scouts— Ages 11—18

Cubs— Ages 9—11

Visitors cordially invited to attend.

All recruiting has been stopped for the next four months. After then recruits will be welcomed.

The Scouts wish to thank the people of Summerland and district for their splendid attendance at the Scout Concert.

On Thursday last the Patrol Leaders and Corporals met at the home of Mr T. Leonards, Jones Flat, to discuss camp. After a good feed of strawberries and candy the business was begun. Many suggestions were made and objections pointed out to most of them, but a central camp at Pentiction seemed to be the favorite plan.

On Saturday night the Scoutmasters and assistants of Pentiction, Kelowna, Summerland, and Naramata met in Naramata to discuss a central camp. A central camp outside Pentiction seemed favorable. All expenses will have to be "pooled" by the troops in this case. Summerland and Naramata will go down on the 29th to be joined by Pentiction and Kelowna on 2nd July. A doctor will be in camp all the time.

On Friday night, owing to the absence of Scoutmaster Tait and Assistant Scoutmaster Harris Mr Leonards took charge. Under the direction of the Senior Scouts the "Tenderfeet" were taken in groups and taught how to light fires, cook, signal and do ambulance work, each group taking a different subject. Mr Leonard superintended the work, which progressed favorably. Next Friday, it is hoped that several boys will pass some tests. New recruits must pass the Tenderfoot badge; all "Tenderfeet" must become "Second Class," and "Second Class," "First Class" before camp. The rules for this are to be kept strictly, as test passing has been rather slack up to the present.

As the Peach Orchard gives such fine opportunities for Scouting, plans are being made for tracking and raiding parties.

Rev. T. R. Henango, Scout Commissioner for B.C., complimented us on our Scout Hall, saying it was equal to any Scout Hall in B.C. We are grateful to the Municipal Council for their kindness in allowing its use gratis. The Scouts are caretakers of the hall at present.

Scout meetings as usual on Friday at 7.30 p.m.

THIS is the substance of a call that is being made by our Canadian Government, a call that will be heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific within a few weeks.

NEVER in the history of Canada has there been such a demand for the fruits of the soil as is expected next season.

Money for the Farmer

IS what this unusual demand will mean. Prepare now to take advantage of it. Giving steady employment, with at least a living at any time, Farming, for years to come, is going to be the most satisfactory and happiest of occupations.

START RIGHT by buying rich, fertile soil at right prices. I have many acres of the richest of soil in the wonderfully fertile Okanagan Valley, just ready for the plow, at war prices. Old prices have been quite forgotten, and terms are fixed to suit the buyer.

Score Cards Now Ready. First Judging Soon.

$150 or thereabouts, in prizes is being offered jointly by the Provincial Department of Agriculture and the West Summerland Women's Institute for the best kept lots. Lots will be divided into three classes: Lots under two acres; two acres to eight acres; eight acres and upwards. For the first the government grant is $25, and for each of the other two, $35, $95 in all. For each of the two larger classes, five prizes are offered, ranging about as follows: $20, $16, $12, $8, and $4. Somewhat smaller prizes are being offered on the home plots of two acres and less.

The score card which was drawn up by Messrs R. M. Winslow and J. L. Hilborn, has been arranged with the object of giving the man with limited means and small holdings an equal chance with the larger competitor. The value of the buildings do not score. For the two larger competitions the score is arranged as follows: Condition of fences and roadsides 10 points, of building surroundings 10 points, lawns, flowers, and shrubbery 15 points, home garden (vegetables and small fruits) 25 points, condition of orchard and other crops 40 points. On the small lot: Condition of fences and roadsides 10 points, tidiness of building surroundings 15 points, lawn, flowers, and shrubbery 30 points, home garden, etc., 45.

Already there have been ten of the larger lots entered for competition, eight of the smaller, and seven of the home plots of two acres or less. It is not yet too late to enter, and applications will be received by the secretary of the Institute. There is no entrance fee, the only requirement being that some member of the family be a member of the Institute.

When the Institute applied to the Department for assistance in the prize list, the Deputy Minister quite naturally asked for a share in the direction of the contest, including the appointing of one of the judges. The government appointee will probably be Mr R. M. Winslow, who has had considerable experience in this work.

Bishop's Visit.

The visit of the newly elected Bishop of the Kootenay to Summerland, in the course of a tour he is making through the territory of his bishopric, was in every way most successful, and the early part of the week, when the Bishop was here goes down as a memorable occasion in Anglican church circles.

On Monday evening a service was held in St Stephen's Church, at which the Bishop bestowed the rite of Confirmation upon fourteen candidates, twelve of them ladies and a girl, and two boys. There was a large attendance of worshippers, and the Bishop delivered a splendid address, eloquent and appropriate, based upon the text, "Another King, one Jesus."

On Tuesday afternoon a reception was held in the Parish Hall. Here again the attendance was large, and the Bishop met and spoke with almost all of the congregation, who were without exception very favorably impressed with the personality of their new Bishop. During the afternoon the ladies of the congregation served tea and light refreshments.

R. W. Tweedie of Upper Trout Creek, who went to England on the outbreak of war was later given a commission, and was last heard from in France. Others from that section are T. H. Bohan, now a sergeant in the C.M.R., Dr O. Domuth, attached to the McGill Hospital in France, H. S. Chapman, F. Chapman, R. Ludlow, R. Innis, T. Leader. Another resident of the Upper Valley, J. Fleming, is now engaged on His Majesty's service in England.

K.V.R. Will Benefit Similkameen As Well As The Okanagan.

Mr Thomas Cunningham, Chief Fruit Pest Inspector for this province, is never weary of well-doing for the fruit growing industry of B.C., and by his indefatigable energy and optimistic outlook he has unquestionably accomplished much for the orchardists of this province.

Mr Cunningham has made careful observation of crop conditions during his tours of the province this season, and in an interview given out at the Coast last week-end, reaffirms his opinion that the fruit crop outlook in British Columbia is the best in the history of the province. He had made careful calculations, and was of the opinion that the area under cultivation this year was 35 per cent. in excess of last year. Weather conditions had been ideal all over the province, and as a consequence the crops were in splendid condition, and a bumper harvest is anticipated.

According to Mr Cunningham, in addition to the Okanagan, there is another fruit district which is rapidly coming into prominence, and to which the opening of the Kettle Valley line will give a great impetus. This is the Similkameen district. Last year the growers there were compelled to sell their fruit at a loss, but now, with the line open to traffic, and with direct marketing facilities to the Coast, the fruit growers of that district should find conditions much better. The shippers are now within 21 hours of the coast cities. Under the old means of transportation it was necessary to make a circuitous route through the State of Washington to Vancouver and Victoria, by way of Seattle. The distance was 590 miles, and the running time 42 hours. The Kettle Valley line cuts the distance in half. Some of the finest orchards in British Columbia are situated in the Similkameen Valley.

Mr Cunningham expressed great satisfaction at the fact that there had been such a good response on the part of the people of British Columbia to the appeal issued at the instance of the Dominion Government for increased production. The people generally seem to have been seized with an appreciation of the need to grow more produce, and the results this year bid fair to be very satisfactory.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute held on Friday last at the home of Mrs J. L. Hilborn.

After the meeting had been opened by the singing of "The Maple Leaf," a circular was read from the Department of Agriculture asking the Institute to appoint delegates to a Women's Institute Conference to be held later at Salmon Arm. Miss Spencer, Mrs R. Cartwright and Mrs J. L. Hilborn were the ladies appointed. A list of subjects for competition was also sent.

Mrs R. C. Lipsett was present and explained her own circular letter, and Mr Hilborn also came before the Institute in connection with the garden competitions, explaining the score card which has been drawn up by Mr R. M. Winslow and himself. A number have already entered.

After the business was over, a social time was spent, a number of visitors coming in for lunch. A collection amounting to $6.70 was taken up and handed over to the secretary of the Ambulance League. Miss Livingstone was a visitor during the afternoon.—Contributed

The Peachland baseball team continues on their successful career. On Thursday afternoon of last week the Peachland nine visited Penticton, and defeated the Penticton team on their own diamond with a score of 5-0.

E. N. Rowley shot two brown bears recently near Spray Lake, one was brought down about one half mile east of the station site, and the next day he shot another while the K.V.R. engine was at the watering tank there.

18 Mills is Final Decision For 1915 Tax Levy.

Increase of Three Mills on Account of Recent Debenture Issues.

Council Goes Through Estimates of Expenditure for Current Year. Roads Will Receive More Attention Than For Past Two Years.

The 1915 tax rate has been fixed at 18 mills. The Council met in special session on Monday morning to vote on a by-law which required amending, and during the sitting gave the tax by-law its final consideration. The increase is wholly in the debenture tax, which has been raised from 5 to 8 mills. The two money by-laws put through last year, one for $20,000 in May, running 20 years at 5 per cent. and that passed in November for $10,000 for 5 years, at 8 per cent., make an increase in the levy for interest of $2,000, and for principal, $2,671.64. The three mills, if all taxes are paid, will yield an additional revenue of $4,800.

A detailed estimate of the year's expenses and revenue had been prepared and copies distributed around the Board. Each item was considered individually with a view to strict economy. The only item, other than debenture interest and sinking fund, that is likely to be increased is that of road maintenance. Coun. Simpson questioned the wisdom of neglecting the roads as they have been neglected during the past two years, believing that it would cost more in the long run to put the roads again in condition, than if they had been kept in good repair. He believed that if the district were organized into sections, there would be a lot of men willing to assist in the fall in the improving of the roads in their particular communities. From a purely selfish point of view, it would be good economy. In this he was supported by the other Councillors, and toward fall some movement of this kind may be started. In the meantime, it was pointed out by Coun. Johnston, people are coming constantly demanding this and that, and things only fair and reasonable, and hard to refuse. Coun. Campbell believed that it was only a matter of properly presenting the question to the public, when there would be many willing hands offered for the improvement of the roads. A small additional increase was made in the estimates for road maintenance. Some of the worst places will probably have early attention, notably that piece between Town and Trout Creek, and the Peach Valley road as far out as the station site. It was only with reluctance and regret that each member of the Council voted for the increase in taxes, the Reeve declaring that the community must either go ahead or go back, that the roads must be kept in decent shape, and money provided from taxes to take care of the interest and sinking fund instead of from the municipal fund. Coun. Borton said to raise the taxes was not pleasant, but they, as Councillors, were there to do their duty.

The reason for holding a special meeting was to put through another loan by-law in place of one passed recently. This was to authorize a temporary bank loan against current taxes, and a change in the Provincial Act required the by-law in another form.

A communication from the Bank of Montreal asked that the municipality's account be segregated into three to enable the bank to keep in closer touch with municipal financial matters. It was pointed out to the Board that the accounts were all kept under one heading at the suggestion of the Municipal Auditors. Chairman Simpson of the Finance Committee said he would have no objection to opening the other accounts if the bank so wished.

Another communication from the same institution was not received with quite the same grace. This conveyed an indirect message from a representative of the Toronto Bond Brokers, C. Meridith & Co., asking that the municipal tax rate be increased by 5 mills. The Councillors could see no reason for making such an increase, and an examination of the balance sheet of 1914 showed a safe margin. The communication intimated further that unless this request was acceded to the bank would not be disposed to give further credit when needed. The Board were unanimous in the opinion that the increase of three mills made, was quite sufficient to meet all demands.

The Collector asked for the ruling of the Council on an application from the Naramata Supply Company for a six months license, asking if the company should be given a regular license or the one issued to a transient trader. On the ground that the business may be a permanent one, and in any event the principal owner being practically a citizen of Summerland, no bond will be required to obtain the regular license, which the Collector was authorized to issue.

Bylaw No. 72, being an agreement with D. H. Watson for exchange of roads, was finally considered and passed.

Weed Inspector Graham was instructed to have the weeds along the streets in town removed, and the trees interfering with free use of the sidewalks trimmed back.

A ten or fifteen minute session was held again on Tuesday to give the bank by-law final consideration and enactment.

Docking Charges Sustained.

The Railway Commission, at its recent sitting at Revelstoke, considered the petition of the Boards of Trade of Summerland, Penticton, and Kelowna, asking that the recent increase in the C.P.R. charge to $.25 per car for docking and switching be not allowed. The C.P.R. defended the charges, arguing that they had built the docks and tracks at much expense, and were forced to hire teams to do the switching. No doubt the matter of barge transfer was also taken into consideration when the commission sustained the C.P.R. in making its increased charge.

As a result of the hint given our municipal fathers last week by this humble family journal, the town presents a considerably more tidy appearance. Unightly weeds have been cut, trees and shrubbery overhanging the sidewalks have been trimmed back, making it no longer necessary to walk in dunn fashion.

Split Over Cannery.

A split has occurred in the directorate of the Penticton Fruit Growers' Union, and is the outcome of the failure to obtain the assistance of the Okanagan United Growers in operating the cannery. President Anderson and Director Baxter of the Penticton Union were directly accused with the responsibility of the adverse decision given by the Central. These two gentlemen have put in their resignations, but on the vote of the Board they were not accepted. Whether the two directors will decline to continue in office remains to be seen.

A new freight tariff covering rates between Vancouver and points of the K.V.R. was issued a few days ago. There is not a very marked reduction in any of the class rates for less than car lots, as compared with C.P.R. rail and lake rates between Vancouver and South Okanagan points. The largest cut is on carlots of lumber and cattle, those being reduced by about one-eighth.

Scouts Will Need Aid In Carrying Out Summer Camp Project

The boys of Summerland who are members of the Summerland troop of Boy Scouts are to be given, according to present plans, a special and very instructive outing. It is proposed to go into camp with troops from Kelowna, Naramata, Penticton, and the boys will be under capable and careful seniors during the whole stay in camp. The head of Skaha Lake is favored as the proposed camp site. The proposition was considered at some length at the annual meeting of the Boy Scout Council last Monday evening, and fully endorsed. The Council expressed the desire that the boys be not put on exhibition on the Sunday in camp, and that public excursions to camp on that day be discouraged.

The proceeds of the Scout Concert are not sufficient to defray the troops expenses in camp. It was estimated that $2.50 in cash for provisions per head would be required over and above the amount already in hand. For a two weeks holiday this is after all a small cost, but it may be that some of the boys may not be able to get to camp for lack of necessary funds, and the Treasurer will be glad to receive any contributions from the public toward the camp fund. It is hoped that not less than 30 from Summerland will go into camp.

The Scout Council for the ensuing year is as follows: Rev. C. H. Daly, President; R. E. White, Vice-President; Rev. N. McNaughton, Chaplain; Geo. M. Ross, Sec. Treas.; Rev. H. A. Solly and Rev. R. W. Lee, and the Superintendents of the local Sunday Schools.

The Council are very grateful for the assistance given Scoutmaster Tait by Mr T. Leonard, a man of much experience in Scout work.

Okanagan Ambulance League.

The treasurer acknowledges with thanks the following contributions to the Ambulance League:

Sale of Roses, the roses being donated by Mr J. Ritchie, $11.25
Proceeds of Baptist Ice Cream Social, 34.60
Miss Cooper's Kindergarten, 2.00

Ladies will please note that on Monday next at 2.30 a meeting will be held in St Stephen's Parish Hall to cut up linen and cotton and prepare the ninth bale for the soldiers.

The treasurer has been able to send $150 in cash to the Red Cross Society from the Ambulance League of Summerland.

Sunday Boat and Train Service

Demanded By Some, While Others Oppose.

Are we or are we not to have a Sunday boat during the fruit shipping season? This is a question that is giving concern to a good many. In the summer schedule no provision has been made by the C.P.R. for a Sunday boat service, although it is believed that if it is demanded as being necessary for the boat handling of express fruit, the company will grant a seven day service. As the Fruit Union does not ship by express, the Union officials are not much concerned. There is already some kicking on the part of fruit shippers because a Sunday boat has not been provided for, and it is not improbable that some joint movement with the object of obtaining a Sunday train and boat service will be undertaken immediately. On the other hand there are many who express themselves as opposed to a Sunday service, and say that it is not at all necessary.

Asks For Investigation

Ministerial Union of Lower Mainland Make Serious Charges.

Rev. A. E. Cooke Addresses Two Meetings Here.

During the past two weeks Rev. A. E. Cooke addressed two gatherings here on matters pertaining to provincial politics; last Friday evening in Elliott's Hall, and on Wednesday evening in the College Gymnasium. With but short notice of his coming, it was arranged on Sunday morning to give Mr Cooke part of the evening at a meeting to be addressed by Rev. J. Knox Wright in the Lakeside Baptist Church. Before the hour of meeting there was some objection made to having Mr Cooke speak on political matters in the church, and it being impractical to have the two meetings on the same evening, matters were at a deadlock for a time, each speaker being ready to give way to the other. It was finally arranged for Mr Cooke to speak in Elliott's Hall, Mr Wright withdrawing.

Mr Cooke is the secretary of the Ministerial Union of the Lower Mainland of B.C., and is covering the province under the auspices of the Ministerial Union, speaking on alleged political corruption and graft. In no way, the speaker said, was he affiliated with any political party. He himself had always been a Conservative, and he believed the natural political leanings of the majority of the Union was toward the same party.

With an abundance of figures and instances of alleged graft and alienating of the province's natural resources, much or all of which is contained in the Ministerial Union's pamphlet "The Crisis in B.C." which has already had wide distribution, Rev. A. E. Cooke kept his audience under closest attention throughout the evening.

The attendance was not large, and apparently not satisfactory, as a second meeting was announced early this week to be held in the gymnasium which was better attended, and had an increased interest for those present because of the at times heated remarks of some of our citizens from both political parties.

Mr Cooke's purpose is to obtain signatures to a petition to the Federal Government asking that the charges made by the Ministerial Union be investigated. The ministers are financing their own campaign, and collections were made at both gatherings.

Thigh Bone Broken.

A. Britten Laid Aside as Result of Driving Accident.

While returning from the political meeting on Wednesday evening in company with his son-in-law, A. E. Traylor, and descending with his horse and rig a steep grade near where the road turns in to his lot, A. Britten was thrown violently from his rig to the side of the road, the accident being caused by a broken girth, permitting the rig to run forward against the horse. Becoming alarmed, the horse jumped and turned suddenly, putting the wheels over the side of the road, among a lot of boulders. Those tipped the rig, throwing Mr Britten out on the hillside below. Mr Traylor, who was able to keep his seat, soon got the horse under control, and went to the assistance of Mr Britten. It was soon apparent that he was suffering from a broken limb, and Dr Andrew was called in. Though the break is described as a simple fracture, Mr Britten will be forced to keep to the house for some weeks at least. For the present Mr Traylor is attending to Mr Britten's duties on the water distribution system.

If the Penticton Board of Trade is successful in its appeal to Ottawa, supported by Merritt and Princeton, the K.V.R. train, will soon include a mall car. At present communication between many points along the K.V.R. is possible only by a very circuitous and slow route.

HOW CANADA STANDS THE TEST.

THAT TRADE in Canada has passed the period of greatest depression and already exhibits signs of a sound revival in many lines, appears to be the opinion of the majority of representative business men throughout the Dominion, who have contributed their views to a comprehensive survey of conditions which has just been completed by the C.N.R. Less than ten per cent. of those responding, confess to a gloomy outlook; more than ninety per cent., numbering over two thousand, report themselves as optimistic as far as the immediate future is concerned. Practically all are agreed that trade conditions will rapidly return to normal after the restoration of peace. A large number are convinced that if the harvest of 1915 is up to expectation, domestic business will be satisfactory in all the provinces.

The reports indicate a keener perception by all classes of the importance of the position which agriculture occupies in the business life of Canada. There is evidence of a disposition to lean upon the crops of 1915, and to qualify expressions of optimism regarding the future with the remark that "the crop is the determining factor." According to the special reports sent in by the various Departments of Agriculture, prospects of a good yield on a largely increased acreage are bright throughout the Dominion. With the incentive of prevailing high prices, farmers have devoted more time and care to cultivation, and generally appear to have used this year, seed of higher germinating quality than ever before. It seems safe to assume that if only an average crop per acre is harvested, the total output will be larger than in any year since the growing of grain was commenced in the Western Provinces. The acreage in British Columbia is said to have been more than doubled—in the three prairie provinces it averages twenty-two per cent; no percentages are supplied by the Department in Ontario, but the acreage is reported to have been increased materially. A similar condition obtains in the Maritime Provinces. In Quebec the normal acreage is indicated.

Generally speaking, manufacturing concerns and the building trades are experiencing a reduced volume of business. War orders have given to some lines a condition of abnormal demand, but these have not always been spread evenly over the country. One line of business in which the reports appear to have been uniformly dismal as to future prospects is that of alcoholic liquor manufacture. The wave of temperance sentiment that is sweeping across the continent seems to the liquor interests to be lasting, and its effects are going to be permanent.

THE increased interest in birds is to be seen in the number of birdhouses that are being put up. People are beginning to realize that to have a variety of song birds nesting in their trees is as gratifying an asset as their homes can have. They are not so concerned about the utilitarian side of the matter which, nevertheless is important, as the birds are most valuable allies in our battle with the insect world. The beauty of the song birds and the charm of their songs is sufficient to claim a friendly interest on the part of an increasing number of people.

A GOOD deal of hard times are brought about by calling them hard. The times are something as coy and sensitive as a woman. Tell her she is ugly and she will pout and fret and be ugly. Tell her she is pretty and her face will assume a prettier expression. Give the times a little flattery now and then and see how much easier they will appear.

NO "pipe dream" about this. You may put it in your pipe and smoke it. The real goblin that will get you if you don't watch out is the great big Mall Order Goblin. This goblin has got the bulk of the business in many communities. Do not let it ruin our community. It is the greater detriment, and in the end will be the means of lowering property value. If you are loyal to your own community you will patronize your home merchant.

HOSPITAL SOCIETY MONTHLY MEETING.

Difficulty in collecting accounts is giving the Hospital Society some concern. While on paper the institution is showing satisfactory results financially, there is at present quite an overdraft with the bank.

The report submitted at the regular monthly meeting of the society on Monday afternoon showed that during May, 13 patients were given 171 days treatment. Accounts to the amount of $412.58 were passed for payment.

It was decided to purchase a wheel stretcher as soon as possible, and in the meantime prices will be obtained.

A communication from the Militia Department asked the society to cut their account, re Hickey, in half. This was considered an unjust demand, and the matter was left in the hands of the Treasurer to communicate with the Department.

The society propose asking for volunteers of teams and men to further improve the grounds.

DEATH OF MR. FREDERIC BILLINGS.

At the age of 48 years, the death of Mr. Frederic Billings of Vernon, occurred last Friday at Montreal. Mr. Billings was a prominent and most highly esteemed citizen of Vernon, and from his connection with the legal firm of Messrs Billings & Cochrane, came also to be well-known throughout the whole Valley. Death followed an operation for the removal of a growth in the neck, pneumonia developing. The body was brought to Vernon for interment. Mr. Billings was a graduate of Toronto University, where he was a classmate of President J. J. Warren, of the K.V.R. and where he also became acquainted with His Honor Judge Swanson, with whom he was later to have many business dealings. Besides holding the post of solicitor to the city of Vernon for 23 years, he was the legal advisor for other Okanagan cities and towns, and also watched the interests of many Valley corporations.

HERE TO RESIDE.

Ray J. M. and Mrs. Harrison and daughter, Miss Harrison, accompanied by Mrs. Harrison's brother, Mr. J. Phillips, of Winnipeg, came in on the "Sicamous" Wednesday evening. Mr. Harrison is well-known and has a large circle of friends here, and owns an orchard on Jones Flat and a smaller lot in Peach Orchard. For a few days the party are guests of Mrs. H. H. Eisey. Mr. Harrison, whose last charge was at Claresholm, Alberta, has been superannuated and comes here to reside. He plans building, probably in Peach Orchard. In their goodness of heart, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison have brought with them two orphans, children of a deceased Methodist minister. All friends here will wish for Mr. Harrison at least a partial restoration of health, and years of happiness in his retirement.

Visitors cordially invited to attend.

The meeting held last Friday was a successful one in every way. Many of the boys passed several tests, including "Tenderfoot" and "Second Class." Several of the boys were recommended for Proficiency Badges.

There seems to be a scarcity of material for uniforms nowadays, several of the boys being unable to obtain them. The boys are looking forward eagerly to the day for the beginning of camp. They all intend to carry through a successful camp.

A central camp has several advantages. Each troop, in trying to be the foremost, must strive hard, and thus give themselves better training. There will also be a better chance of passing tests, etc.

One day during the camp will be devoted to Field Sports, and it is hoped that a good number of Summerlanders will be present.

A combined concert will also be given by the troops, and everyone should make it a point to be present at this large concert.

The Pre-Cooling Plant

The pre-cooling plant here is not likely to be operated by the government this season. The Fruit Union are willing to run the plant this season, but have not yet been able to get what they consider satisfactory terms from the government. The latter are asking a rental which the Union does not feel justified in paying. They have, however, offered to operate the plant provided they can get it at a nominal rate. The Department wants a rental equal to 6 per cent. interest on the capital invested.

The entrance classes in the public school will have their examinations on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week.

Progressive Economics Club.

Monday evening's meeting of those interested in economics was slimly attended. Why, we don't know. But the fact remains. That isn't saying that this was a not-worth-while meeting, as a glance over the program would show. Besides two addresses bearing on the subject of economics there was some first-rate entertainment furnished by local musicians, and an admirable reading by Mrs Morsch.

Mr H. P. Salting spoke on the Principles of Economics, drawing upon the knowledge of his audience of plant and animal life to illustrate his subject.

T. H. Boothe pointed out wherein is the possibility of relating insurance to economics—dealing entirely with life insurance as it is promoted here in Canada. Mr Boothe is of the opinion that every man should be entitled to a certain amount of protection, and that as at present the business is conducted with close to fifty different companies in Canada the cost is often prohibitive.

The following is the program:
Piano Selection, Mesdames M. D. and F. Manchester
First Principles of Economics,

H. P. Salting
Reading, Mrs M. Morsch
Life Insurance in its Relation to Economics, T. H. Boothe
Piano Selection, W. D. Mackie
Speech by Chairman, H. J. Wells
Song, Harry Pitman
Piano Duet, Mesdames M. D. and F. Manchester

Farmers' Institute.

The Farmers' Institute met last Friday evening in the church basement, with President Geo. Cook in the chair.

The attendance, though considerably better than at the meeting a month previous, could and should have been improved.

Secretary J. H. Pushman said, in referring to the comparatively meagre attendance of members, that the postage in issuing notices now that the war tax is doubling the cost, was really something worth while.

Besides the ordinary routine business the special matter before the community was the repairing of the dam. It will be recollected that during the spring flood some fifteen feet was washed out and has now to be repaired before the need for this extra water is felt.

Volunteers were called for and resulted in a number responding right there and then to undertake to do at least a part of the work and certainly their share. It is proposed to send up a team and as many men as can be got to furnish their own grub for three or four days, and to start on Monday morning of June 21st. The chair named H. P. Salting a committee of one to interview a number of absentees to see what additional assistance could be obtained.

A letter from the Calgary Board of Trade dealing with the fruit situation in B. C. was referred to the United Growers at Vernon.

Mr J. H. Loudon and his son have leased the Hayward cottage for the summer. Mr Loudon will probably send for his wife and prolong his visit till after the fruit is picked.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Mr J. Craig of Naramata has applied to enlist as a member of an engineering corps.

Nurse Gordon returned from Penticton on Saturday last after several weeks' professional duties at the hospital.

Goronivy Reesor went over to Summerland where he will be introduced to a few of the mysteries of fruit ranching at the home of Col. Cartwright.

Mr Finzel has removed to Okanagan Falls, where he has leased the blacksmith's shop. He reports work in his particular line much more brisk than in Naramata.

In another week the schools will close for the summer vacation, and teachers and pupils in anticipation of this event are looking forward to the season with a good deal of pleasure.

Miss Emma Davies spent the week in Summerland, where she is being initiated, through the kindness of Miss Aitchison, into the duties and responsibilities of a trained nurse.

Mrs M. D. Manchester received on Monday afternoon of this week for the last time prior to her removal to Dawson City, which will probably be undertaken about the middle of July.

Mr H. P. Davies, our progressive grocery man, is succeeding in working up a considerable business in the sale of small fruits—and is thus performing an admirable service to the community.

The Boy Scouts have taken up new training quarters at the old school. The grounds are being used for their drill movements, now being emphasized in preparation for the opening of camp in July.

Though the attendance at the dance last Saturday was not as large as at the opening of the week previous, owing doubtless to the coolness of the weather, those who did attend report having an enjoyable time.

The Naramata Supply Co.'s experiment of renting a store in Summerland in order to run off part of an overstock of goods is working out so admirably that the Summerland business may be made a permanent one.

Miss Whitworth's class of twelve candidates for Entrance to the High School will go next week to Summerland to write upon their examinations. From the reports sifting through from official circles, this class goes well prepared for such an examination, and it is believed therefore that a high percentage should qualify for the senior work.

At the close of school our two teachers propose leaving for their homes for the summer. Miss Whitworth in Vancouver, and Miss Foster in Anacortes, Washington. The latter proposes to go via Princeton and Spence's Bridge over the K.V.R., while Miss Whitworth will take the C.P.R. via Sicamous. It is their intention to meet at Spence's Bridge and to breakfast together.

With the immediate prospects of three or four families removing to other parts in July or August, and with a large proportion of the senior class in the school being sent on to High School, there is a likelihood of one of the class rooms being closed next year for lack of scholars. The situation could be saved for at least a year by making application to the Department of Education for superior school privileges so as to enable us to retain a senior leaving class in our school.

Services on Sunday last were held at the usual hours of eleven o'clock, Methodist, and 8 o'clock, Anglican. Rev. R. M. Thompson of Penticton conducted the service at eleven o'clock, and Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland the afternoon service. Rev. R. M. Thompson came up on Wednesday afternoon and remained for the meeting for prayer in the evening. The new arrangement for working Naramata with Penticton promises well. Mr Thompson will in future preach in the afternoon, immediately after the Sunday School, which will for the present be held at three o'clock.

Early Mornnig Blaze

Naramata Citizen Loses House And Furniture.

Early Thursday morning fire, as the result of the explosion of a lamp, caused the total destruction of the comfortable home, with all its contents, of Mr G. H. Hodson.

Mrs Hodson was alone in the house, as her husband was engaged at contract work in Penticton, and in order not to be so afraid she had left a light burning in the passage way between living room and kitchen. Some time in the early morning Mrs Hodson was awakened by a noise as of glass cracking, and was alarmed by the smell of smoke and flame. Hastily snatching some clothing she made good her escape from the burning building. By the time she reached the back door—by means of the front door exit, the flames were bursting through the upstairs windows. It was a case of letting everything go, and the distressed woman hastened away to arouse her nearest neighbors, Mr Jas. Myers and Mr King.

The loss includes some valuable jewellery and a considerable quantity of cash, as well as the usual household furniture. The loss is estimated at $2,500, with $1,000 insurance in the Western, of which company, it is understood, T. H. Boothe is the local agent.

Mrs Jas. Hayward and son Ed, have gone to Peachland for the summer months.

Mrs T. N. Ritchie paid Naramata a visit on Tuesday as a guest of Mrs E. P. Roe.

Miss Minnie Block was in Summerland for a few days this week the guest of Mrs. H. A. Solly.

Mr George Cook has this week completed his cottage on his fruit ranch. They will occupy their new home next week.

Mr and Mrs E. H. Hancock returned on Wednesday evening from a ten days' visit at Kamloops. While in Kamloops they were guests of Rev and Mrs Fallis.

Probabilities are that a number of our bandmen may enlist for active service. It is too soon yet to mention the names but the news is authentic.

Mrs Dean Walters is in receipt of an interesting plan of a proposed bungalow at Atascadero, California, where her husband has been for the past couple of months. Mr Walters expressed himself as being highly pleased with the proposed move to the south.

The Candling of Eggs

The Poultry Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture is now distributing a very useful pamphlet on this subject, which should claim the interest of all egg users. The season is drawing near, the Department says, when an increasingly large number of bad and inferior eggs reach the larger centres, and come in the course of distribution to the smaller centres. Not only is the Department prepared to forward copies of their pamphlet free on request, but it has prepared a simple candling apparatus, suitable for either oil lamp or electric bulb, whichever is required, which will also be distributed free upon request.

Here are excerpts from the pamphlet:
Eggs are one of the most difficult of food products to grade. Their external appearance gives but little indication as to their relative fitness for food, and the contents cannot be sampled without destroying the fragile shell.

Fortunately an egg is semi-transparent when held before a light in a darkened room and permits, if carefully rotated, of even minor defects being seen. It is not necessary to use an extremely powerful light. The size of the air cell, the consistency of the albumen, the color and mobility of the yolk, and the general transparency of the whole egg are the factors most generally recognized as determining quality. The contents of an egg just laid, completely fill the shell, but as cooling takes place contraction occurs, and an air space is formed in the large end.

The yolk is only slightly perceptible, and should swing readily in the albumen when the egg is turned around.

A new-laid egg, or one which at least would grade new-laid when received in the candling room of a wholesale warehouse, should be of good size, clean, full (air space not larger than a ten cent piece) sweet and strong bodied (that is, the albumen should not appear watery).
A stale or shrunken egg may be detected by the size of the air cell. The shell is porous and evaporation takes place whenever the egg is surrounded by a temperature above freezing.

Even in the low temperature of a cold storage house a certain amount of evaporation occurs. The higher the temperature, and the more rapid the air circulation the greater is the evaporation. Accompanying the evaporation a staleness of flavor soon develops. As the egg grows staler the albumen tends to lose its consistency and often becomes quite watery. The yolk may also break down, and in extreme cases mix with the albumen.

In the case of a moderately stale egg, while the yolk is rather high-colored, it still retains the proper position and, although considerable evaporation has taken place, the size of the air cell indicates that while becoming stale, the egg is still suitable for ordinary domestic purposes, in other words a good cooking egg.

An egg, as laid, is practically sterile. The shell, however, is extremely porous, and if the egg has been laid in dirty nests and held in damp surroundings, infection is bound to occur. The albumen forms an excellent cultural medium, and the bacterial and mould growths readily develop. Development takes place rapidly when the egg is exposed to favorable conditions of warmth and moisture, but even in the low temperature of the cold storage house some growth occurs. It is for this reason that producers should keep their poultry houses clean, and under no conditions wash eggs. The presence of excessive moisture tends to break down the tough membrane, which is to a certain extent bacteria proof.

The candling of eggs is not a difficult process. It requires but little skill to tell at a glance the difference between good and bad eggs, and anyone with practice can learn to differentiate between the various grades of good eggs.

Neither the small amount of trouble required to secure a candling appliance nor the amount of labor entailed in candling, presents any valid reason why the public should be obliged to use or accept bad or incubated eggs. Storekeepers will find it to their advantage to acquire facilities in candling, and it is recommended that every housewife should provide herself with one of these simple candling appliances, by the diligent use of which she may safeguard her family from many unpleasant occurrences at the breakfast table. These appliances may be obtained free upon application to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa.

Something unusually attractive in the way of lawn socials is that announced in our advertising columns this week by the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary, to take place on the lawns of Mrs E. B. May, during the afternoon and evening of Thursday next, June 24th. From the proceeds of this social it is hoped it will be found possible to pay off the debt still remaining on the X-Ray apparatus recently purchased for the Hospital. Afternoon tea and cake, as well as strawberries and ice cream will be on sale, and a novel feature that is sure to draw considerable patronage will be tennis playing, a court for which will be available for games at an entrance fee of 10 cents per player.

Although rain interfered somewhat with the ice cream and strawberry social on Thursday afternoon of last week, on the lawn of Mr and Mrs T. J. Washington, it did not prevent the affair being carried out with a good measure of success. Showers were frequent during the afternoon, and at evening time the weather conditions failed to improve. Nevertheless there was a good number of people who came notwithstanding the uninviting weather to enjoy the luscious and plentiful strawberries with the tasty accompaniment of ice cream, served at small tables amid surroundings made gay with bunting, flags and flowers. The West Summerland Ladies' Aid of the Method-

 the social had been planned, were Considerable disappointment is felt locally that the expected visit to Summerland of an elocutionist of great reputation, Rev. Herbert Piercy, of Toronto, which was to have taken place this coming weekend, has had to be postponed. Mr Piercy was to have been heard in the local Baptist Churches on Sunday, and in a recital at the College Gymnasium on Monday, but sent telegraphic advice last week-end of his inability to fulfil the engagement.

A. Richardson, one of our old timers, but who has been at the Coast for some time, came in last Friday over the K.V.R. Mr Richardson has not spent much of the week in the district, however, being for a greater part of the time in Keromeos and vicinity. Down there he has been looking into the possibilities of the cattle growing industry, and has practically decided to engage in farming there, making cattle his chief line, taking the Pares ranch, about 5 miles out of Keromeos, for that purpose.
 Mr Richardson thinks that there are better prospects in cattle raising than in almost any line of endeavor.

Rev. F. W. and Mrs Pattison will sail from England on Saturday, June 26th, for New York, going to Mrs Pattison's home at Orange, N.J. Mr Pattison expects to spend much of the summer in and about
 New York. In a letter to a friend here Mr Pattison says it has been one of the privileges of his life to have those war times with "Tommy Atkins". Of the British nation at the present time, he says there is a deeper consciousness of God pervading the national life. A more seriousness is increasingly evidencing itself, especially among the troops in the trenches, and as one of the soldiers put it recently, "there is not a soldier in our trench who does not put up a prayer of some sort to God every day." Mr Pattison speaks very highly of the great work that is being done by the Y.M.C.A., both with the troops in England, and on the Continent.

 arriving on Friday evening's boat from Vancouver. He will probably remain for two or three weeks.

The Methodist services will be

Mr and Mrs J. L. Hilborn were on Wednesday evening, while Mrs Hilborn stopped off at Kelowna visiting friends, where she still remains.

As noted last week, R. F. Beaven, Government Remount Commissioner, will be through the Okanagan shortly on another horse purchasing trip. He will visit Summerland on June 30, Kelowna on July 1, and Vernon on July 2.
 Draft horses up to 1550 lbs., and officers' chargers are particularly required at present.

Jack Craig is now wearing the kilts, having been drafted with others into the 48th Highlanders.
 Jack, in a letter to his brother George, here, tells of meeting his brother, David, who enlisted in Ontario. This was shortly after the big fight, and the two brothers were delighted to find themselves billeted but half a mile apart, and both in prime condition. Since the writing of that letter both brothers have been wounded.

Four young men from Armstrong spent a forced visit in Summerland at the beginning of the week owing to a mishap to the automobile in which they were travelling. They have journeyed from the northern Valley town to San Francisco, and farther south to Mexico, and had reached the Okanagan again on the return trip. On the road between Trout Creek and town the rear axle broke and the car was drawn into town by a team of horses for repairs on Monday afternoon.

Increasing Your Prosperity

THE surest way to get rich is to increase the multiplier; which means for the merchants of Summerland—increase your customers rather than add to the lines you are selling, or the stock you are carrying.

Adding to the number of lines you sell or to the volume of the stock you carry is not the way surest to prosperity. Indeed, this has ruined thousands of men.

The surer way is to multiply customers. No business can prosper; or grow that doesn't add many customers each year.

Customers must be added by purposeful effort—by seeking them. Waiting for them to find you is folly. Seek them by the newspaper advertising. This is the only sure way to build up numbers.

To the Merchants of Summerland

You can multiply your customers through a series of good advertisements in the Review. Ask us about the cost of advertising.

"KITCHENER" NOT AN IRISH NAME.

The Crossways Rancho,
West Summerland

June 13, 1915.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

Referring to H. M. Lumsden's letter in your last issue, in which he alludes to "Kitchener" as an Irish name, I would like to point out to him, as he appears such a stickler for accuracy, that Kitchener is not an Irish name but a Suffolk one, as the Kitchener family for years resided at and owned Mildenhall Hall, Suffolk. Lord Kitchener merely happened to be born in Ireland as his father was quartered there at the time of his birth. Further, Lord Kitchener's mother was a Miss Chevalier of Aspal, in the County of Suffolk, whence Lord Kitchener takes his second title. These facts are easily proved by a reference to Burk's Peerage, and are not picked up by gossip round the ring, as Mr Lumsden seems to have picked his up for a veiled attack on Mr Helmer, a gentleman too well-known to be hurt by Mr Lumsden.

Yours truly,
RICHARD M. H. TURNER.

Emulsion For Mites.

Our dry climate appears particularly favorable to the propagation of insect life. With poultrymen, perhaps the worst pest is the insignificant little mite, so likely to thrive unnoticed until the vitality of the flock is seriously affected by the loss of blood taken by these blood suckers, together with the nights of discomfort which they cause the birds.

As a means of ridding the flock of these costly tormentors the following may be dissolved in water and sprayed or washed over the wall: Take one-half pound of hard soap and shave it into a gallon of soft water. Put it on the fire and bring it to a boil. By this time the soap will be dissolved. Then remove the soap solution from the fire and stir into it at once, while hot, two gallons of kerosene. This makes a thick, creamy emulsion, which is made ready for use by diluting with soft water and stirring well. If the bucket attached to the spray pump holds five gallons, one-half gallon of the emulsion should be taken and put into the bucket with four and one-half gallons of soft water, and the whole well stirred. It is then ready to be sprayed on the places occupied by the mites.

According to government report there has been a large increase in the number of bee-keepers in British Columbia.

Cement Ditch Breaks

Collapse of Bottom—Discovered Just in Time to Avert Serious Damage.

Concrete Work Effecting Large Saving in Water.

A portion of the new cement lining of the south main irrigation ditch gave way last week-end, and had it not been for the shutting off of the water at practically the same time, serious damage might have resulted, according to information furnished by Chairman Johnston of the Public Works Committee, who, with the Reeve and Supt. Mitchell motored out on Sunday to see the new steel flume at the west end of the ditch, which had just been completed under the direction of the Superintendent. With the water turned off, and the south main empty, Messrs Johnston and Mitchell took advantage of the opportunity to look over the new cement work, and to ascertain how it was wearing.

It was in the first piece built under contract last fall that the break referred to above was discovered. Before putting in the lining some of the worst curves had been straightened out somewhat, and it was at one of these that the break occurred. The floor and sides of the ditch had given way at the corners, and quite a large opening was found on the outer edge, with a smaller one at the inner edge, and Supt. Mitchell says fully 20 ft. of the side had moved out.

When asked if he could explain why this should occur, Mr Johnston ascribed it to the method of construction, and also said that numerous faulty patches found in the cement, justified the stand taken by some of the Councillors, that the work was not satisfactory. He has never been satisfied with the form of the ditch, and claims that the breaks, occurring where they did, uphold his contention that the new work was weak in the corners. He states further that at the particular place where the break occurred the concrete was not an inch in thickness.

Supt. Mitchell has been busy for the past two or three weeks putting in the big steel flume through the railway cutting close to the reservoir. This new piece includes 256 feet of steel fluming, 6 ft. 4 in. across, and also a section of concrete work at each end of the steel. The water was turned off last week end for a day or two to finish this work, and was not turned in on Monday until after the break in the south main had been repaired. There was also, according to the Superintendent, a crack of about 40 ft. in the bottom that had to be fixed.

The cement work done throughout the district is making a big saving in the water supply. Coun. Campbell says that the saving in Garnett Valley, as a result of the piece of concrete work there, is marvellous. The south main and the Jones Flat ditch are both carrying a great deal more water than before, and the saving in both ditches is very great. Some more cement work is to be done immediately near the McKay property south of Giant's Head.

WILL COOL SATURDAY'S CHERRIES

A considerable quantity of cherries are now being shipped daily by the Union. The cherries are of fine quality, and are coming in in excellent condition. Practically the only exception to this is the fruit received on Mondays, some of which is so ripe as to make it unfit for shipment. It is said at the Union that cherries are not being picked on Saturday because there is no means of shipping them that evening or the next day, and that much of the fruit brought in on Monday is the accumulation of three days' ripening. To overcome this the Union have decided to accept fruit on Saturday night. This will be put in the pre-cooler, which will be started on Saturday evening and run until Monday morning, when the fruit will be shipped. Fruit will be received from other town lake points for storage over Sunday.

WEDDING.

RACEY-WATSON.

Amid all the prettiness that could be contrived for a June wedding, and with a brilliance well set off by the loveliness of the day, a notable local wedding was solemnized on Thursday afternoon, June 24th, when Miss Olga M. Watson became the bride of Mr Percy W. Racey, of Roseland, B.C.

From a residence of many years in Summerland, the bride has come to be widely known throughout the district. She is the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs D. H. Watson, at whose residence on Beach Avenue the wedding took place. The groom is connected with the Consolidated Mining and Smelter Company of Roseland. He arrived in Summerland on Tuesday morning. The spacious rooms and porches of the bride's home lent themselves well to the occasion, and the effect achieved by the free use of mock orange blossom and roses was pretty in the extreme.

To the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Robina Logie the bride appeared on the arm of her father. She looked a picture in a dress of white satin of modified empire model, with garnitures of Marie Antoinette and pearls and square train. She wore a veil of net, caught up with orange blossoms and pearls. The bridesmaid was Miss Eula Watson, sister of the bride. She appeared in a dress of charming style in pink messaline with an overdress of shadow lace. The groom was unsupported, and wore the conventional black.

The couple stood under a pretty bower of asparagus fern in which mock orange-blossom was entwined. Rose petals carpeted the bower, and were also concealed in the floral bell which hung above, showering the bride at the conclusion of the ceremony. She carried a lovely spray bouquet of white roses and fern, and the bridesmaid, pink roses and fern.

Rev J. C. Switzer of Kelowna read the impressive service, and the invited guests in attendance numbered about forty.

After congratulations had been given and received, the company repaired to the wide verandah, where a luncheon, dainty and replete, was served at rose-decorated tables. The customary toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mr J. M. Robinson, and replied to by the groom, after having been duly honored. Other felicitous speeches were made by Mr J. L. Logie, Rev. R. W. Lee, and Rev J. C. Switzer. Several congratulatory telegrams were also read. The bride then cut the three-tier wedding cake, which stood on a table decorated with streamers of white ribbon, caught at the four corners with white roses.

Soon after five o'clock, Mr and Mrs Racey made their way to an automobile through profuse showers of rose petals and confetti, and started off on the first stage of their honeymoon trip, a journey to Oroville. They will proceed on to Seattle and San Francisco, where they will remain for about three weeks. The bride's going away dress was of a becoming blue silk, with hat to match. Miss Eula Watson accompanied the couple to Oroville.

Mr and Mrs Racey will make their home in Roseland, B.C. They will make a call again at Summerland on their return from the south. Many beautiful and costly gifts testified to the wealth of friendship the young couple can claim. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet watch, and the title deed of the residential property in Roseland, where they will make their home. To the bridesmaid the groom's present was a gold pin.

Canada has one of the largest single canal locks in the world at Sault Ste. Marie.

After nearly ten months of idleness the Greenwood smelter is to be again put in operation. One 800-ton furnace employing about 50 men, will be blown in about July 1st. The smelter is owned by the B.C. Copper Company, and to supply the smelter, work will again be resumed in two of the company's mines, the Mother Lode mine and the Lono Star.

Water Flowing Over Experimental Farm.

Distribution System Eminently Satisfactory. Carrying Abundance of Water.

With the completion of the long inverted siphon connecting the Experimental Farm with the municipal irrigation system, water is now being distributed over the farm. Through the courtesy of Supt. Helmer it was the privilege of the Review to inspect the system and to have a look over the farm recently, and both the farm and the system conveying the water from the municipal flume at the Neve Ranch, down into Trout Creek canyon and up the other side, are worthy of a visit. The latter is a highly successful piece of engineering work, and will continue to be a source of interest for a long time to come.

From the municipal system the water is turned into a large penstock about 10 feet deep. From the side of this the water flows into the mouth of the siphon, which is made of sheet steel strips in spiral form, closely riveted, and with special joints that need not be perfectly in alignment, and may be put together without the assistance of a skilled mechanic. This large pipe crosses under the K.V.R., continues across W. H. Hayes' orchard, and down to the canyon, where it takes a sharp dip, extending down fairly close to the creek, where a substantial wooden bridge has been suspended, and supports the siphon pipe and the domestic pipe running beside it. Continuing up the south side for the total length of 2,299 feet the siphon empties into a box on a high point, from which the water is readily distributed over the farm.

When asked if the system was giving satisfaction, Supt. Helmer was very emphatic in declaring that it was eminently satisfactory. In fact, as he proved to the Review, the municipality could, by letting more water into the penstock, cause the water to shoot out on the other side in greater volume than could be cared for by the distributing system.

The domestic pipe connecting with the municipal pipe system, also near the Neve property, follows the siphon, and is nearly 3,500 feet long, reaching to the site of the proposed farm buildings.

Just beyond the siphon two large measuring tanks have been built into the flumes, and to these will be attached water measuring and recording machines operated by clockwork. These will record all the water used, which leaves the head in two main flumes. Carpenters are still at work adding laterals. All fluming is of the most substantial nature, and wherever more than 4 feet above the ground is firmly held down by wire bracings fastened to buried boulders.

The building site selected by Director Grisdale when last here, is an ideal one. It is close to the railway, and affords a broad outlook not only of the farm but of the lake and hills beyond. Here will be the farm office, a large barn, a horse barn, and a third smaller barn, and nearby the superintendent's residence and other buildings.

A proposed feature that will add much to the beauty of the surroundings and will be particularly pleasing as viewed from the Summerland side is a large plot that will be laid out in lawns, ornamental shrubs, and flowers. This will slope towards the creek.

Through the uncertainty as to when water would be available, not as much work has been undertaken as the superintendent had hoped. However, a really wonderful transformation has taken place, acres and acres of sage brush land having been converted into fields now covered with a beautiful green of young oats, and with clover, timothy, etc. As an experiment, 100 fruit trees were set out to be grown without irrigation. There are also large plots of beans of many kinds, including a trial plot of the famous soya bean. In another place there are 72 plots containing one-fiftieth of an acre each. On these are eighteen varieties of forage plants, each being grown under different tests.

At the present time there are about 30 men employed on the farm, and for months employment has been given a large number of men, the pay roll at times reaching as high as $3,000 per month. The benefit to the community such a pay roll affords need not be enlarged upon.

A great source of pleasure even now in its beginning, the Experimental Farm will be a source of knowledge and delight when all the present plans are carried through, and the public will always be sure of a hearty welcome from the genial superintendent.

ORGANIZATION OF VERNON CAMP PROCEEDING APACE.

There are now nearly 2,800 officers and men under canvas in the tented city of Vernon's military camp, and when the new 62nd Battalion is organized and other recruits for the existing regiments come in, the numbers will be swollen to close upon 4,000 soldiers, eager to prepare themselves for effective service on the fighting line. This makes by far the biggest military camp ever assembled east of the Rocky Mountains, and the end is not yet. Near the entrance of the camp stands the tent of the commandant, surmounted by a big silken Union Jack. It is flanked by the tents of the staff officers, who behind it runs the line of the subordinate officers of the staff. To the east is the 47th Battalion under Col. Winsby, while further on are camped the 11th C.M.R., under Col. Kirkpatrick. To the north are the quarters of the Army Service Corps, the Army Medical Corps, the Engineers, and the cook tents. A further space is taken up by the latest arrivals, the 54th Kootenay Battalion, which is commanded by Col. W. Malhoun Davis.

Many of these men have already received a degree of training which places them in a high state of efficiency. A large part of the force of the 47th was detached for overseas work before the regiment left the Coast for Vernon, and the 11th C.M.R., who are a splendid body of men, also expect to send forward a big proportion of their numbers at an early date. As those men go their places will be supplied by new recruits, and a steady stream will probably be kept going and coming during the next few months. Under the supervision of Col. Duff Stuart, and his efficient staff, the soldiers in the big training camp are kept busily employed, and have settled down to hard work in fine shape. It is doubtful if a more perfect site for such purposes could be found in the whole Dominion, and men and officers alike are more than pleased with the arrangements that have been made for their comfort and convenience.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was fairly well attended last Friday. After the usual business and roll-call, Mrs Solly gave a brief history of the current events for the month, and also read a letter of interest to all from the Red Cross.

A letter was read from Deputy Minister of Agriculture Scott, asking for delegates to the conference at Salmon Arm. Mrs W. H. Hayes was the chosen official delegate, and Mrs H. A. Solly is to be sent by the Institute. The list of subjects for competitions also came before the meeting.

An invitation from Peachland Institute to join them in a picnic early in July was read at the meeting and accepted with pleasure.

Last week a bundle of 67 children's garments was sent off to the Queen Mary's Needlework Guild from the Summerland Institute.

Mrs G. Gartrell gave a pleasing change in the program by singing a solo, "Daddy."

A very instructive and interesting paper on "Parliamentary Law" was read by Mrs R. C. Lipsett. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs Lipsett, and several wished to make use of the paper at other meetings. It was agreed that the directors be responsible for the July meeting.

Acknowledgment of the donation of $25 sent in May for the Red Cross work was received from the Deputy Minister.

The motto for the day was: "If ye dinna see the bottom, dinna wade for it."

A Letter From The Front.

After nine days in the trenches, Elmer Johnston writes on the anniversary of his birthday, June 2nd, to his mother here. Mrs Robert Johnston, telling of some of his experiences. He says the particular part of France in which the Canadians are located is called the Garden of France, and is one of the richest places in the republic, and on the date of writing the orchards were in full bloom, and everything behind the lines looking fine. Of his nine days in the trenches he says: "I am pretty glad to be out for a day or so, a fellow gets shaken up every way on this job, but after a good night's sleep I am feeling fit again. We had mostly shell fire to put up with this time, shells of all kinds, little and big, Big high explosives do fierce damage to buildings or anything in that line. A big shell makes a hole in the ground like a collar, so it doesn't take very many of them to wreck a good sized town. The buildings here are nearly all brick with tile roofing. Low explosive shrapnel doesn't matter much if one can get to cover, but cover is something badly needed just then, and the dugouts come in mighty handy. One can, as a rule, hear them coming, so one soon learns to slide and duck for cover. A big one makes a noise like an express train roaring along at a distance. An 8 in. shell, weighing about 200 lbs. fell just behind our trench, but did not explode. It made a hole about 12 ft. deep and about 18 in. wide. The firing line is nothing but ruins and a labyrinth of trenches. This war is a cruel game, and we will all be glad when it's done, it's past all description." In closing, he says: "Don't worry, I am trying to play the game, but that's all, not taking any unnecessary chances."

BIRTHS.

HOOHAM—To Mr and Mrs G. R. Hookham, at the Summerland Hospital on Wednesday, June 23, a son.

CARD OF THANKS.

To all the friends in Naramata and Summerland whose sympathy has been so kindly tendered in our time of bereavement, we desire to extend our sincere thanks. J. O. Noyes and Family.

Clerk Served With Notice.

The Provincial Government is moving to enforce the Noxious Weeds Act, and is looking to the various organized districts to enforce the law within their limits. For this purpose, as noted recently in these columns, the Council appointed Constable Graham to see to the carrying out of the Act in this district. Most of the properties have been inspected, and where weeds have been found, owners served with a formal notice, instructing them to have the weeds destroyed within a given time. But the worst offender is the Municipality itself in permitting noxious weeds to grow in the streets, roads, and lanes. Accordingly, the Clerk, as representing the Municipality, has also been served with a notice. The need of action in this line is apparent to all. How to most economically remove the weeds, and before they are permitted to go to seed, is a problem that cannot be grappled with too quickly. There is but little use in enforcing the clearing up of the lots if the adjoining roadsides are to be used as seed plots for noxious weeds.

EXAMINATIONS FINISHED.

Teachers Disperse For Holidays.

All this week the pupils in the High School have been working hard over their examination papers. These papers, which are furnished by the Department, are described by many as being unusually hard, and the time allotted to each paper, insufficient for the work it covers. The last paper is being written this afternoon, and the papers will be at once sent to Victoria for marking. The results will be announced probably, about July 20th. For three days, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, the pupils in the Entrance Class were given their examinations, and each will wait in impatient suspense for the report of results.

All the other departments in the schools have been busy on their grading examinations, and as these are marked by the teachers the results will be known almost immediately.

Principal Forsyth of the High School, Principal Lees of the Central, and Miss Olive Gummow of Garnett Valley, plan on spending much of the summer vacation in study at the summer school for teachers in Victoria. Miss Rothwell, after first visiting Vancouver and Prince Rupert, will visit at her home in Regina. Miss Lister will also spend the summer in Regina with friends. Mrs Lister and Miss Ballantine will remain here during the vacation.

OKANAGAN AMBULANCE LEAGUE

Twenty-one ladies assembled at the St Stephen's Parish Hall on Monday last, and much good work was done in cutting up and stitching various articles for wounded soldiers. There still remains, however, much more to be done, so another meeting has been arranged for Monday, July 5th, at 2.30. Will everyone please note the time, and it is much to be hoped that there will be a good attendance.

Gifts of old linen, cotton, flannel, flannellette, and old blankets will be very welcome, and should be sent to the Parish Hall by Tuesday. The ninth bale has been made up and dispatched to the Red Cross Society. It contained the following articles: 10 doz. handkerchiefs; 10 dusts; 8 tray cloths; 9 table napkins; 3 hand towels; 3 stoups; 20 bundles mouth wipes; 6 triangular bandages; 25 cup covers; 9 dressing wraps; 3 shoots; 3 bundles face rags, unhemmed; 1 muffler; 3 pr. socks; 2 wristlets; 7 pr. pyjamas; 8 day shirts; 1 packet books.

LEG ON!

After undergoing the necessary treatment from the proper authorities the town or post office of Legoff, Alberta, has been put squarely on both feet and henceforth, according to official announcement, will be known as Lo Goff.

LOCALS.

The first freight train over the Kettle Valley Railway went west on Thursday.

A number of our down town citizens are singing the praises of the municipal authorities for providing them with nightly orchestral music, the special bandstand being opposite the Felix Hotel. This is in the form of a constant supply of water, perhaps a part at least from a broken hydrant, but believed by many to be all surplus water from the orchards above. Here frogs have congregated, and music as varied as frogs can make it is furnished the neighborhood nightly. Another source of delight is the stagnant pool that has been permitted to remain for weeks opposite the Fruit Union.

There seemed to be a good response to the generosity of Mr and Mrs E. B. May in opening their home and grounds to the public for a lawn social in aid of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary X-Ray fund, yesterday afternoon, Thursday. The weather was very pleasant, and conducive to conditions almost ideal for the social enjoyment of the occasion. Strawberries and ice cream were served on the lawns, and tea, coffee and light refreshments in the house and on the verandah. Tennis was an attraction for some who made use of the splendid courts which had been prepared. Among those ladies who assisted at the affair were: Mrs R. C. Lipsett, Mrs W. H. Hayes, Mrs E. Markoe, Mrs A. Hespeler, Mrs H. A. Solly, Mrs W. J. Robinson and the Misses Cordy, Sheila and Janet Sutherland. It is expected that out of the gross proceeds amounting to about $28, possibly $20 will be clear of expenses. Naturally the ladies of the Auxiliary feel grateful for this help made possible through the kindness of Mr and Mrs May.

Dominion Fruit Marks Inspector, J. G. Clarke and J. B. Castner, Inspector for the Okanagan United Growers, are in town today looking over the orchards for the purpose of getting a first estimate of the crops. They have visited Peachland, Greta, Naramata and Penticton, and Inspector Clarke reports crops of good size, and fruit in excellent condition in all these districts.

IT ISN'T YOUR TOWN—IT'S YOU.

If you want to live in the kind of town
Like the kind of town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start a long, long hike.
You'll only find what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new.
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town.
It isn't your town—it's YOU.
Real towns are not made of men afraid
Lest somebody else gets ahead;
When everybody works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead;
And if while you make your personal stake
Your neighbor can make one too,
Your town will be what you want to see:
It isn't your town—it's YOU.

"From where do cows get their milk?"
The little girl wished to learn.
"From where do you get your tears, my dear?"
Her mother asked her in turn.
And then with widely opened eyes,
Lifting her childish brows,
"Oh, mother," she asked in quick surprise,
"Do they have to spank the cows?" —Harvard Lampoon.

Words of Appreciation.

Special Farewell Resolution to Rev. J. M. and Mrs. Harrison.

For some years a property holder here, Rev. J. M. Harrison has resigned active work in the ministry and has come here to reside. His retirement came into effect at the annual conference of the Alberta Methodists held this month at Edmonton, during which this body paid their respected brother a glowing tribute in the following resolution proposed by Dr Riddell, and carried unanimously:

"Knowing that Rev. J. M. Harrison has been compelled by rapidly failing health to drop the active work of the ministry and seek a superannuation relation among us, this annual conference feels that it cannot let this occasion pass without expressing its keen regret that the wise and helpful presence of our brother will no longer aid us in the councils and work of our church. For years we have turned our faces in the hours of our perplexity to him for unselfish advice and sane guidance. When we recall the fact that for over 41 years he has toiled continuously between Winnipeg and the Rockies, filling the most important trusts and appointments in the gift of the church, we recognize in a small degree the far-reaching significance of his work in the formative days of the central west of our great Dominion. He has stood among us as a link binding the heroic and pioneer past with the organized and manifold work of today.

CO-WORKER OF EMINENT MEN.

"Entering the ministry in the days when such stalwart men as George Young and George McDougall planned the work and inspired the scattered people; he caught their spirit and cherished their zeal, and transmitted to our new age and new conditions much of their devotion and enthusiasm. During these long years of faithful service his voice has pealed forth in ringing tones, advocating every cause which promoted human welfare and elevated divine righteousness. He was the unrelenting foe of all that degraded men and destroyed our country, but the fearless champion of every institution, effort, and organization whose end was to secure for the new settlers peace, prosperity and progress. He loved his church, his nation, and his people, and counted no sacrifice too great, provided only he could advance the moral, spiritual and intellectual interests of those for whom he labored.

TOILED ON WITHOUT MURMUR.

"We found him a wise counselor, a helpful pastor, an inspiring preacher, and a tireless worker. In spite of a physical handicap in which many a brave man would have long since given up the struggle, he toiled on without a murmur in his chosen life work, undertaking tasks and achieving results which are, to say the least, wonderful in the eyes of his brethren.

"By his side during many of these eventful and important years, there has toiled with a devotion seldom equalled, his faithful wife, to whom we would now convey our heartiest words of appreciation and our kindest greetings.

"To Rev. J. M. Harrison, whose transparent honesty, clear vision, and kindly sympathy we have long since learned to admire, we would with faltering voices and trembling lips say good-bye as an active worker among us, with the added prayer that his health may be so restored that he may enjoy for many years his well-deserved rest. But if our Heavenly Father should see otherwise, then we shall always pray that our honored brother may feel around and beneath him the never falling arms of that God whom he has served so faithfully and so well."

Visitors cordially invited to attend.

On Friday night the Summerland troop met at their headquarters, Ellison Hall. As camp is so near all the Scouts were anxious to pass the required tests, so Scoutmaster Leonard and Assistant Scoutmaster Harris were kept very busy in passing them.

Scoutmaster Tait was also busy filling in the record book of badges passed by the boys. A complete list was taken, and upwards of 50 badges sent for, including two King's Scout and two "All Round" badges.

Preparations are being made for the big Central Camp to be held near Penticton. Each boy is expected to take some eatables along with him as the boys need lots of "grub." Donations of cash or eatables will be thankfully received by the Scoutmaster.

We expect to see a good many Summerlanders at the Scout Field Day and Concert to be given by the united troops at the camp.

A change has been made in the troop, D. Ross being made Troop Leader, Donald McIntyre taking his place as Patrol Leader of No. 4 Patrol.

For Pies and Cakes

SUCCESS is what you aim at.
S You want your pies, cakes and other kitchen creations to be as delicious as any woman can bake in this town. They have a right to be. ALL depends on the material you use.

ALL your skill in pastry making, icing, frosting, blending, filling and baking will not help you if your mince meat, raisins and other material are not exactly as they should be—absolutely the best for their purpose.

We have gained much knowledge from our customers on this delicate matter and have stocked only the most successful articles in the line. An inspection of our stock is invited before you again buy those goods—that inspection will surely make you a regular customer.

Mrs K. S. Hogg is expected to reach Summerland this evening by the "Sicamous" after a visit of three weeks at the Coast.

Leaving here on Monday morning Jas. Ritchie is spending the week in Alberta on business. He will probably return on Saturday.

By a mishap which occurred while entering the automobile early this week, Mrs O. Atkins suffered a sprained ankle, which has necessitated her resting since.

Mrs Scott Darkis was a passenger out by the "Sicamous" on Monday morning bound for Chilliwack as a delegate from the local Baptist Church to the annual B. C. Convention of the denomination.

A pure bred registered Holstein cow has been purchased by P. G. Dodwell, of Prairie Valley, from the herd of A. Robertson, Keremeos. This cow is pronounced as one of the finest, if not the best of that popular breed yet brought into Summerland.

Presbyterian services will be held in St Andrew's Church on Sunday morning and evening. In the morning the printed program prepared for the occasion will be used. Several appropriate recitations by scholars in the school will be given. In the evening there will also be a patriotic service. Rev. C. H. Daly will conduct both services.

Although slowly regaining strength R. V. Agur expects to undergo an operation before he can be fully restored to health. With Mrs Agur and little child, he is still at his Bathfield pre-emption, and latest information is that he is slowly gaining strength. When fit for the journey he plans on going to Rochester, Minn., for an operation.

Major Geo. W. Morfitt, accompanied by his daughter and son, Verda and Alfred, arrived from Calgary on Wednesday evening and are now at Mr Morfitt's orchard home, on Jones Flat.

The first shipment of early cabbage was received at the Fruit Union on Monday. These were grown by Messrs. Denton & McIntosh, and were four crates of as fine firm cabbages as could be desired.

The property immediately south of Mrs Campbell, recently purchased by Miss Dancer, is now undergoing extensive repairs at the hands of Mr Bert Harvey. The building will soon be ready for occupancy by the new owner.

Dr E. W. Sawyer went out to the Coast last Saturday morning to attend the Baptist Convention. He is expected to return at the end of this week. Rev. N. McNaughton left on Tuesday morning to attend the convention, travelling by the K.V.R. He will probably remain at the Coast till the first part of next week.

Mr Arthur Britten who suffered a broken thigh bone from a driving accident on Wednesday evening of last week, was taken to the Hospital on Saturday. The operation of setting the broken bone was performed by Dr Andrew on Monday. The patient stood the ordeal well, and is now making good progress on the way to recovery.

After a visit of three weeks with relatives at Nelson, B.C., Mrs S. Angove reached home again on Wednesday evening. Accompanying her to Summerland was Mrs J. C. Robson, who came from Rossland to visit with her daughter, Mrs E. R. Butler. They travelled by the K.V.R., and were met at Penticton, finishing the last stage of their journey by automobile.

Mr R. M. H. Turner, while entering Prairie Valley seated on a mowing machine, met with an accident which gave him quite a shaking up. The pole of the mowing machine, by the breaking of a ring in the neck yoke, dropped, and frightened the horses, which suddenly plunged forward dragging Mr Turner with them. The mower crashed against a telephone pole, and the horses broke free of machine and driver, and were not stopped until they reached Balcom Ranch.

A. L. Moreland came down from Kelowna on the boat on Monday evening, and on Tuesday entered upon his new duties at the Fruit Union. He will be joined later by Mrs Moreland.

The friends of Mr John Smith, son of Mr and Mrs Jas. O. Smith, will be pleased to learn that he has secured a responsible and lucrative position at Victoria, where he is now acting as pianist in the C.P.R. orchestra at the Empress Hotel. In this position, his well-known musical talent will find full scope.

Messrs J. Graham, A. Vandenburg, and H. Jennings, who enlisted from Summerland a short time ago into the Royal Army Medical Corps, spent the week-end here arriving on Saturday evening and leaving again on Monday morning. They left Victoria this week, being sent forward to see service either in Egypt or at the Dardanelles.

Mrs G. J. C. White expects to leave early next week on rather a lengthy journey. Travelling over the K.V.R. she will first visit Lethbridge. After a stay there, Mrs White will continue to Chicago, where her son, Gilbert, now resides, and from there will go to Saratoga, N.Y., and possibly may visit Boston, Annapolis Valley, N.S., and Montreal.

Next Thursday, Dominion Day, will probably witness a wholesale exodus from Summerland to Penticton where the annual program of festivities will make the day more than ever a gala one, if the weather continues in its real summery aspect. While many will drive down by rig and automobile the prospects of a pleasant lake journey is also likely to attract a good proportion of excursionists. Nothing of a public nature in the way of a picnic has been planned locally, but private parties will probably take advantage of the holiday to enjoy the relaxation of an outing.

Orders for fruit are coming in in goodly number from members of the Women's Institutes on the prairies to the West Summerland Women's Institute. These orders are the result of the recent issue of a quantity of printed fruit price lists, giving full particulars of the fruit offered, including size of package, date when ripe, price, and instructions with reference to ordering. Nearly all who have responded to the local Institute's request for orders express pleasure with prices quoted. With the opening of this new direct connection between the orchard and the consumer's table, the importance of supplying only the best fruit must be apparent to all, and the necessity of establishing and maintaining a high standard is being urged by those in charge of the work.

Representatives of the Presbyterian Church and Sunday School met with the St Andrew's and Caledonian Society on Monday evening at a special meeting held in the church vestry. The matter up for consideration was the proposed union picnic of the two bodies. It had been intended to hold this on Dominion Day, July 1st, but owing to the impossibility of securing sufficient conveyances, it was found not feasible. The majority of the meeting leaned toward the opinion that the outing should not be abandoned because of the difficulty, and another was accordingly fixed upon, Thursday, July 22nd. The picnic venue will be a spot on the bank of Trout Creek on J. Pierre's pre-emption, about a mile above the Balcom Reservoir. The detail arrangements were left in the hands of a committee to be worked out.

F. W. Clingan of Salmon Arm, has again joined his son, George, who has been on his father's orchard property here since spring.

The members of the Parkdale Tennis Club are planning a moonlight excursion for to-night. The "Skookum" has been engaged, and it is probable that a landing will be made for a short time at Chute Creek.

Mr Basil Steuart of Vancouver, younger brother of Mr Alex. Steuart, landed here from the "Sicamous" on Monday. After spending Tuesday here he went on to the prairies, where he will be with A. Steuart & Son for the summer.

Special trips leaving here at 9.30 a.m., 1 and 7.30 p.m. will be run to Penticton on Thursday next, Dominion Day, by the Ferry Company. Excursion rates will be given. Full particulars will be found on the Ferry Company's ad. on page 4.

A fire look-out that will give a clear view over a wide area is to be established back on the summit, between the Okanagan and Nicola Valleys. Fire Warden, R. J. Hogg, and others are now on the summit for the purpose of locating a suitable site.

Mr and Mrs Carberry of Cambridge, Mass., came in on Monday night accompanied by Mrs Carberry's friend, Miss McAdam of Boston. After a stay of two or three weeks Mr Carberry will return east; but the ladies will spend the summer with Mrs Carberry's parents, Mr and Mrs R. Clouston.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce here has just received acknowledgment of a remittance of $8.68 to the Overseas Club Aircraft Fund. Voluntary contributions were made to this fund by a number of our citizens through the local bank. The Overseas Club has already purchased an aircraft, a picture of which is shown in the latest number of the Daily Mirror.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. N. McNaughton, on Sunday next, the service in Parkdale Baptist Church will be led by Rev. D. E. Hatt. There will be no service in the Lakeside Church in the evening, the only service down town being that in the Methodist Church. During July, when Mr McNaughton will be on vacation, Parkdale Church and St Andrew's Church congregations unite, the services being held each Sunday morning in the Baptist Church, Rev. C. H. Daly in charge. At least two evening services will be held during the month by Rev. C. H. Daly in the Lakeside Baptist Church. During August the united services will be continued under Rev. N. McNaughton, during which time Rev. C. H. Daly will be on vacation.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined, and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 per acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
 Deputy Minister of the Interior.

A Lesson from the Clock

A CLOCK that strikes is better than a non-striking one. It tells us the time through our ears as well as through our eyes. It saves our steps. It signals, spurs us on, rouses us, speaks to us in the dark and from far away. It is useful far beyond the usefulness of the silent clock.

So with a business that advertises. A shop or store that sends out its message to us in the form of advertisements in our newspaper serves us far beyond the shop or store that is silent—that must be visited before its service or merchandise can be known.

The shop or store that advertises save our time and money, etc., speaks to us at the right time, rouses us to attention, and stirs us to action. We buy more as the result of advertising, and we buy from advertisers.

To the Merchants of Summerland

Put a striker — an attention getter, an arouser, a stimulator — on your business. In other words—advertise. Strike often and regularly by weekly advertisements in the Review.

Wood-Tick Makes Its Home in Young Girl's Head; Causes Trouble.

A case that will no doubt create widespread interest has happened in Princeton, in which Dorothy, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr and Mrs E. Waterman is the central figure. The other figure in the cast is a wood-tick of apparently the common variety.

About ten days ago the little girl practically lost the use of her lower limbs, and would stumble and fall when she tried to walk. Dr McCaffrey was called, and while the wood-tick theory suggested itself to him, an examination failed to reveal its presence. The condition of the girl became alarming, the paralysis extending to the rest of her body, even affecting her speech. One evening while Mr Waterman was soothing the child, and passing his fingers through her hair, he came across a little lump, and there sure enough was the tick firmly fastened on the back of her head. The tick was removed, and after a few days "Dolly" was out again with her playmates.

It is the first case of the kind ever coming before Dr McCaffrey, and he says there is nothing in the medical works dealing with it. He is confident, however, that the wood-tick caused the trouble, and that if it had not been found and removed the child would not have survived. Over at Nelson, some years ago, it is stated, Dr Rose had a similar case, and the affair occasioned considerable comment at the time.—Star, Princeton.

BEE DISEASE—FOUL BROOD.

Foul Brood, the highly contagious germ disease affecting bees, having made its appearance in different parts of this province it is important for the welfare of the growing industry of beekeeping that all beekeepers should exercise every possible care to prevent its spreading. It is also advisable that all persons intending to buy bees should write to the Department of Agriculture, Victoria, or to one of the Provincial Apiary Inspectors, Mr L. Harris, Vernon, Mr F. Dundas Todd, Victoria, or Mr W. J. Sheppard, Nelson, for information as to where the danger exists. The inspectors will be prepared to examine and report on hives it is proposed to move from one district to another.

DOES IT PAY?

If one poor burdened toiler o'er life's road
Who moets us by the way
Goes on less conscious of his galling load,
Then life indeed does pay.
If we can show one troubled heart the gain
That lies alway in loss
Why then, we too are paid for all the pain
Of bearing life's hard cross.
If some despondent soul to hope is stirred,
Some sad lip made to smile,
By any act of ours, or any word
Then life has been worth while,
—Sollected.

One who cannot obey is the most slavish—essentially and himself a slave.—Geo. Macdonald.
