SUMMERLAND, B.C., OCTOBER 1, 1915.

Vernon Next Convention City

Union of Municipalities Passes on Stack of Resolutions.

The Union of B.C. Municipalities will meet next year in convention at Vernon. This was decided towards the close of the convention held lately at Chilliwack, at which Summerland was represented in the presence of Councillors Johnston and Simpson.

Many resolutions framed by various cities and municipalities throughout the province were considered and voted on by the convention, many with no bearing at all on this particular locality. Among them were recommendations asking the government to regulate the weight of loads allowed on highways, and asking it to amend the Trustees' Act, authorizing the investment of trust funds in municipal debentures.

A resolution of Saanich municipality that the Provincial Government be asked for aid for the maintenance of trunk roads was passed. The present grants cover only the construction of such roads. It was proposed in another resolution to ask the government to allow municipalities to themselves license automobiles, the license fees to go for road maintenance, but the convention decided to ask the government to equalize the grants to municipalities instead.

A recommendation asking that the Municipal Act be amended to allow municipalities to exempt from tax land owned by men who had gone to the front was passed unanimously.

Vancouver sent in a proposal that cities and municipalities be given more control over school board funds. When about to discuss the local improvement act, the convention was informed by the provincial municipal inspector that the act was being redrafted.

Another of Vancouver's proposals that cities and municipalities be given power to accept 75 per cent. of taxes on account, after which the taxpayer would be protected from tax sale, was approved by the convention. A delegate from the terminal city advocated a new system of tax sale whereby three years' notice would be given delinquent property owners that a tax sale would be held. At the end of that period, complete title would pass instead of a conditional title for one year after a tax sale, as at present. The idea was to raise money in the meantime by the sale of tax certificates.

After concluding the business at one of the afternoon sessions, the delegates were taken for an automobile ride around the Chilliwack district.

OBITUARY.

Great grief came to Mr and Mrs Thos. Behan this week in the death of their little son, Gordon, which occurred on Tuesday last, September 28th. Born on the 12th of July last and so only about eleven weeks old, the baby seemed healthy at first, but of late it had ailed, and despite all efforts to bring back health and strength to the little body, life grew feebler till it passed away last Tuesday.

Mr Behan learned the sad news by long distance telephone and came in from the Coquihalla Pass on Wednesday morning over the K.V.R. The funeral was held that afternoon, Rev. R. W. Lee of the Methodist Church, officiating. A service was held at the home of Mrs Jas. Conway, Mrs Behan's mother, where she has been staying for the last three or four months. Interment was made in the cemetery at Peach Orchard.

Mr and Mrs Behan have many friends here, who feel unbounded sympathy for the bereaved and sorrowing parents.

American Fruit For Antipodes.

Over 20 cars of Wenatchee apples were sent last week to San Francisco to be shipped from there to Australia. There are 15,000 boxes in the shipment. Eighteen thousand more were assembled for shipment to Vancouver and Victoria, from which ports the boats for Australia sailed on the 28th and 29th.

LAST DAY FOR VOTING REGISTRATION, OCT. 4th.

Monday next is the last day upon which the applications of eligible persons to get their names placed on the provincial voters list can be entertained. As explained last week there are a number of men in Summerland who are authorized to deal with applications, among them being the councillors, notary public, and postmasters. Voters who imagine that their names are securely on the list will do well to make sure of the fact, and some who are not on will be found to be eligible. Every male British subject of 21 years of age, who has lived in the province six months, and in the constituency one month, is entitled to register whether he pays taxes or not.

Misses The Plenty Of S'land Fruit.

Norman Alexander, who left Naramata some time ago for Winnipeg, has gone to Quebec, where he has a position in the Rose Rifle factory. There are 3,500 employees, he says, and the machinery runs night and day. In a letter to the Review Mr Alexander makes some interesting comment on the fruit situation as he finds it.

"I was at the exhibition here a couple of weeks ago," he says, "and the display of fruit and vegetables was very poor after what one sees in the Okanagan. Apples were bruised and spotted, and would have only been culls in Summerland. Of course some were good specimens, but a few exhibits of poor fruit spoils the whole show. The vegetables were good, but poorly cleaned and arranged.

"Fruit here is a luxury, and is all from California. Pears sell retail at 30c. to 50c. per doz., peaches 30c. to 50c. per doz., apples 25c. a doz. for small inferior kinds, others go to 40c., plums were 25c. to 35c. per doz., apricots 30c. to 40c. I can tell you after the abundance of fruit we had in the Okanagan it comes hard, and I am looking forward to the time when I can get back and have some decent fruit at a decent price."

More Profitable as Grain Than as Hay.

That it pays to thresh grain rather than treat it as hay, as has been done here in the past, is evident from some recent figures furnished the Review, and which are believed to be authentic. In the Upper Trout Creek district, there was a certain field devoted to oats, and when cut the owner estimated that the crop would yield him $200 if sold as oat hay. He decided, however, to thresh the oats, employing the outfit recently brought here by Mr Jas. Ritchie. At the moderate price of $30 per ton, the result, not putting any value on the straw, was $480. Granting that the machine cost him $80, there was still 100 per cent. gain by separating the oats.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

The next regular meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute will be held on Friday next, October 8th. A most interesting and instructive program has been arranged, and will include several papers on timely subjects: "What to See and What Not to See," by Rev. C. H. Daly; "By-Products of the Fruit Orchard," by Miss I. Spencer; "Home Canning of Meats," by Mrs Dale, followed by discussions: "Home Curing and Smoking of Meats," by Mrs Cartwright. At next Friday's meeting those members who have prepared jam for the Red Cross Society will be advised where to leave it.

The first sale made by Mr B. L. Hatfield, the newly appointed Ford dealer, is a runabout of latest pattern, purchased by Dr Andrew.

Realized Almost Two Hundred Dollars

Success of Ambulance League Auction Surpasses All Expectations.

Success seems a mild term to apply to the result of the efforts of the ladies of the Ambulance League in their Auction Sale held on Thursday afternoon at the Men's Club. Just before the commencement of the event it was clear from the accumulation of donations that there was enough material on hand to assure the success of the event if the public were ready to go a step farther and do the buying. It turned out that the people of Summerland were quite prepared to do this, and the result was that at about 7 o'clock, when the sale terminated, the treasury of the League was the richer from the sale alone by about $184. The popularity of Mr Hatt, and the very able way in which, as the auctioneer, he conducted the sale, was without question largely responsible for the success of the afternoon and the League naturally feel deeply indebted to him for his untiring and arduous work on the behalf of their work.

Some idea of how the people of the district responded to the invitation to make donations for the sale may be gathered from a partial list of the gifts. These included all kinds of vegetables and fruit, livestock such as chickens, ducks, pigs and a calf, clothing, jewellery, chinaware, books, foodstuffs, and a whole host of miscellany that only a unique event of this nature could surely have brought together. The bidding was on the whole quite brisk, there being few things indeed that did not go readily.

Afternoon tea at the nominal price of ten cents served towards the close of the afternoon also helped to swell the financial results by some $13.

The League ladies also feel especially grateful to Mr O. Vaughan who besides making generous purchases, has returned for re-sale a quantity of his purchases.

Record Export Cargo of Fruit and Vegetables.

Vancouver. — The steamship "Niagara," which sailed at noon on Wednesday, carried a record shipment of fruit and vegetables for Australasian points. The shipment included 1,000 boxes of pears for Sydney, 21,500 boxes of apples for the same point, and 5,800 boxes of apples for New Zealand. The Okanagan United Growers are shipping about 10,000 of the boxes of apples, and 1,600 of these are for Auckland. The varieties include Jonathans, King Davids, Canada Baldwins, McIntosh Reds, and Canada Reds.

The "Niagara" also had all the potatoes that her space would allow. Of these, 2,000 crates were sent by the Okanagan United Growers.

Delegates Appointed Success With New Alfalfa Curing Method

Supporters of Prohibition Getting Ready For Campaign.

A meeting in support of the provincial movement was held in the Lakeside Baptist Church last Monday evening, the chief item of business for consideration being the selection of delegates to attend a meeting to be held at Kelowna in the near future for the purpose of organizing this constituency for the work of promulgating the prohibition platform.

The meeting on Monday evening was not very largely attended, but there were sufficient present to allow the business for which it was called being decided. Mr Henry Moyle, president of the local Social Service Council, was voted to preside.

He pointed out that there was a movement all over the American continent towards prohibition, and characterized as a duty in many senses for every man, the stamping out of the liquor business in this province. The great strengthening of temperance sentiment was one blessed result that the terrible European war seems to have brought about.

Referring to the Kelowna meeting, Mr Moyle said, that unfortunately the exact date was not known. Dr McGuire, the organizer, had not been able to make known his itinerary for the tour of the Interior, but as far as could be gathered, it would take place at the end of this week or early next.

After some discussion two first choice delegates were named in Messrs G. A. McWilliams and J. R. Brown. Possible alternates were arranged for, those being Rev. C. H. Daly and R. E. White. Mr Moyle himself may attend as an unattached delegate, preferring not to be officially appointed, since he may not be here during the prohibition campaign.

While there is no very clear understanding as to just what the government has promised in the matter, it is generally thought that a plebiscite will be granted on the question, but whether in conjunction with a provincial election or not does not seem to be known.

Another matter touched on was the question of the voters' list. An effort will be made to get all eligible friends of the movement on Many Advantages Apparent Over Old Method.

Some weeks ago the Review published an article relative to a new method of curing alfalfa hay. It will be remembered that briefly stated the method was to raise the hay slightly off the ground by stacking it onto a high triangular framework, allowing a free circulation of air underneath and through it. The advantages claimed were that the hay would stand wet weather without spoiling, and the leaves would be found to remain on the stalk better.

The Review was indebted to a farmer subscriber for the information concerning this novel way of dealing with alfalfa hay, and a few days ago this same contributor reported complete success as his experience in the matter. The writer had an opportunity to see the hay that had been put up in the new way, and it looked as though all that had been said for it was true. A day or two previously there had been some rainy weather, but the hay on the skeleton framework showed no traces of it, on the contrary, it was dry clear through. The leaves were also clinging well to the stalks of the plant.

Many ranches in the district now have an alfalfa patch, and whether it be large or comparatively small, it seems as though this method of dealing with the hay would well be looked into. We imagine that it might save a good many men worry to know that their hay crop is not altogether at the mercy of the weather. Some time is necessary for the preparation of the "skelotons" for the first time of using, but once made these are easily stored, and will do service for a good many crops.

the list before the closing date for registration, October 4th, and Mr Mr T. J. McAlpine undertook to see that names are put on if given to him, or he will see whether any names are on the list or not.

Up till the time of going to press no mention of the date of the Kelowna gathering has come to hand. Word from that city received on Wednesday night reported that it was still unknown then just when Dr McGuire could be expected, but that advice would be sent as soon as possible.

BRITISH WAR OFFICE NAMES COMFORTS WANTED

The National Service Committee at Ottawa, the executive body of all nationally organized women's societies in Canada, and under whose direction the collection of comforts for the troops overseas has been placed, has received an important announcement from the Canadian War Contingent Association in London. The message stated that the British War Office was contemplating the formation of a central organization for co-ordinating the work of various committees and individuals engaged in supplying comforts and luxuries to the British troops. Meanwhile the War Office recommended the women of Canada, as with other portions of the empire, to concentrate on the following garments:

Mufflers, 58 inches long, 10 inches wide, grey, kaki, or heather mixture.

Mitts, 8 inches long, short thumb, no fingers, stitches being cast off at the knuckles.

Socks, always essential, the leg at least 12 inches long, the foot 11 inches.

Prov. Ministers Make Brief Stop Here.

Last Friday afternoon, Hon W. J. Bowser, the Attorney-General of this province, and Hon. W. R. Ross, Minister of Lands, spent half an hour or so in Summerland. The distinguished citizens were touring through the Valley in a private way, the Attorney-General taking this opportunity to recuperate and to learn more of the Interior. Upon their arrival here the Ministers were received by a number of citizens, who took advantage of the occasion to point out certain local needs, the new piece of road at Trout Creek, the work on which suddenly terminated when nearing completion, being particularly noted. They asked that the necessary graveling of the surface be proceeded with at once. The Attorney-General replied that money was scarce, but that as Road Superintendent Lang, who was with the party, would be going over the new piece of road, they would take particular notice of it.

Mr J. M. Robinson, representing Naramata, asked the co-operation of the Ministers in the efforts of the towns on the east side of the lake to have an internment camp established at or near Paradise Ranch, so that alien labor might be used for putting through the twelve miles or so of road necessary to make a continued highway on the east side of the lake.

After visiting the Boundary and Kootenay districts, Mr Ross will visit his own constituency, while Mr Bowser will continue to Ottawa and New Brunswick, his home province.

United Growers Doing Bigger Business.

Up to a few days ago the Okanagan United Growers had shipped 546 cars of fruit and produce. This was 112 cars in excess of the shipments during the same period in 1914.

Having signed a contract to market his crop through the Okanagan United Growers, a member is expected to adhere to that contract. That this rule be enforced is necessary to the successful working of the organization. Seemingly there are but few members who have any inclination or desire to do otherwise. However, a suit has been recently entered by the co-operative organization against a Kelowna member for breach of contract. Through the Peachland organization another member has been threatened with similar action, but this will likely be delayed until the court has given decision on the Kelowna case.

The Amulance League will meet next Thursday afternoon in the Men's Club. The League has been furnished with a number of specimen pieces of work for samples of what are required, and these will be shown at next Thursday's meeting.

Much Okanagan Fruit At Coast.

Apples and Peaches In Considerable Quantities Shipped to Vancouver.

"Vancouver will get all the Okanagan apples this year that she can bake, stew, make into pies, or eat raw," said Mr R. C. Abbott, British Columbia Market Commissioner, in an interview at the Coast, one day towards the end of last week. "There has been a shortage of dessert apples up to the present, it is true. One reason for this was the preparation of shipments to go by the steamship 'Niagara' to Australia, and other Antipodean points. The big liner will take a large shipment of these. Leaving on the 28th of this month, she will carry away to Australia about 28,000 boxes of apples, the bulk of which are of British Columbia production.

"However, a car of Red McIntosh arrived this morning, and a car of the world-famed Jonathans was started rolling from Vernon last night. Last year Vancouver absorbed 50,000 more boxes of Okanagan apples than in 1913, and Okanagan apples supply Vancouver with 100,000 boxes this year. After November 1, Okanagan will be able to let Vancouver have unlimited supplies. Fifteen cars of British Columbia apples have already been received in Vancouver this month.

"As regards peaches," said Mr Abbott, "Okanagan has sent double the quantity to Vancouver this year than was shipped in any previous year. This has been in the face of heavy importations. There has been a car here for two weeks that I only got unloaded this morning. The car was kept iced, of course, and the peaches came out in perfect condition. They went direct to retailers through a local broker.

A Disappointment.

Proposed Visit of Calgary Business Men Called Off at the Last Minute.

There will be a general feeling of disappointment, not only in this district, but all through the Okanagan and Kootenay Valleys that the excursion of business men lately organized in Calgary, through these two great fruit producing districts, has had to be called off, apparently almost at the last moment. The trip was to have commenced to-morrow from the Alberta city, and many places along the route had arranged a welcome for the expected visitors. Summerland was to have been reached on Tuesday.

The first word that the proposed trip would possibly not materialize was heard last week-end from Deputy Minister of Agriculture, W. E. Scott, during his visit here. C.P.R. Agent Ross was asked early in the week if he had any information on the matter, but he had none himself. In touch with Pentleton, however, Mr Ross learned that the trip was off for certain.

No authentic reason has been advanced as to why the trip was cancelled so hurriedly, and the only one that can be imagined is that it was found enough business men of Calgary did not find themselves at liberty to spare the time and the expense. It was calculated that the trip would cost each member of the party in the neighborhood of $55.

Fruit Marks Inspector Clarke, who was in town on Thursday, says that there are rather more complaints coming to his department this season than usual. This, however, he considers no reflection on the honesty of shippers generally, but rather the Inspector looks upon it as the natural result of the wholesale enlisting of young men who in past seasons have been manning our packing houses and otherwise assisting in the marketing of the fruit crop. So many have gone that a large number of less experienced packers have been called in to take their places. While here Inspector Clarke took up a case of false marking of export apples, which he discovered when inspecting the first shipment of apples going from Vancouver to Australia about a month ago. The authorities insist that fruit lacking in color, though otherwise perfect, shall not be graded as No. 1.

MORE GOOD FRUIT NEEDED.

WE ARE GLAD to give space in another column to a letter from Mr S. J. Fee of the Vernon Fruit Co. The burden of his letter is that he has a market for many of the No. 2 peaches that have gone to rot under the trees here in Summerland. We are sure he will not take offence when we say that we cannot endorse all he sets forth in his letter, and there will be many fruit growers with us. It is a very live question for this district, and it is not in a wantonly criticising way that the Review takes issue with Mr Fee, but with a genuine desire to help sift this matter to the bottom, and so be of assistance to the people to whom peach growing, as conditions seem to obtain at present, brings not an increased bank account, but possibly a depleted one.

In making the twofold admission that consigning is a policy of ruination, and that second grade fruit has a depressing effect on the market, Mr Fee has a poor foundation for subsequent argument.

"Would it be such a bad policy," he asks, "to use your rejected peaches"—meaning the No. 2 fruit—"to so depress these markets as to keep American peaches out?" Decidedly, we think. In the first place, what profit is there for the grower in a depressed market? Under favorable conditions, Mr Fee, later on in his letter, says there is a SLIGHT profit for the growers in shipping No. 2 peaches to him on consignment, but it can easily be seen how this same slight profit will become so much slighter as to vanish entirely as quantities of inferior fruit come on to the market and depress prices. A drop of ten cents per box in the price would turn the "slight profit" promised the grower into a loss not quite so slight, but it would only lessen the jobbers' commission fee by a fraction. Is that good policy for the man with the orchard? It does not look it.

In the second place, how would the No. 1 fruit fare when second grade stuff has depressed the market? Price depression can never be localized, but becomes general. And the Okanagan has heard so much of this story in past years that repetition is sickening.

We maintain—and far from being alone in this contention, we know that most thinking orchardists are of like opinion—that the salvation of the peach grower lies in his ability to produce NO. 1 FRUIT and plenty of it. Many orchardists are inclined to think that even the finest peaches do not bring adequate returns to the grower, but if there is no money in growing good fruit, there is certainly less in growing inferior stuff. When prices are poor for No. 1 peaches, it is usually from the depressing effect of somebody else's No. 2 fruit. A uniformly excellent grade is called for, or as Mr Fee himself puts it, "to sell, it is absolutely necessary that a pack of recognized standard be put up."

The place for second grade peaches is not the open market, where they demoralize the retail trade. For the benefit of the section of the consuming public that Mr Fee mentions as being unable to pay the price of first grade fruit, a limited quantity of second grade may be shipped safely at an f.o.b. price, ensuring justice to the grower as well as to the poorer purchasing public. The right channel for the bulk of what second grade peaches are unavoidable, is some by-product factory—jam making, canning, and such like. This is the cheapest way to avoid the "public waste" that Mr Fee decries, without prejudicing the selling prospects of the grade 1 fruit. That Summerland is without these necessities is a great handicap to the district and a condition that it is hoped will soon be rectified. In the meantime it is poor policy to sit back and let the peach trees go to disease and revert to uncertain yields of poor fruit, and suicidal to unload that yield on to the prairie markets, or any other market for that matter.

A GOOD SIGN.

IN DECIDING to revive the Fall Fair this year, Summerland is living up to the "business as usual" slogan of the British Empire. The outbreak of war came very suddenly last summer, and in the general panicky feeling that resulted as the unexpected cropped up, many enterprises of this nature that flourished in normal times were dropped. It is a sign that we are regaining a natural and confident poise when the decision is reached to pick up these things dropped when panic overtook us.

A Fall Fair is something everyone can take a hand in. An extremely moderate financial responsibility distributed evenly over the district would satisfactorily take care of that part of the enterprise, with government assistance promised. Then if those who are able would support it by making what exhibits they can, a completely successful Fair is assured. There are a few who can do both, and there is scarcely anyone who cannot do one or the other.

Doubtless the promoters will see to it that the Fair is made as all-inclusive and up-to-date as possible, and not confined solely to fruit or fruit products. There has been no opportunity this year for an exhibition of household craft, and besides, such branches of farming as dairying and stock raising might with advantage be catered to.

Still another opportunity to accomplish a really useful purpose lies in the suggestion that the Experimental Farm prepare an exhibit of educational value, if not for competition. This is something that effort should be put forth to bring about. It is a question whether Summerland is taking full advantage of the asset it has in "The Farm," and this may be because people do not know enough of it.

The time is short, which is all the more reason why everyone should keep the Fall Fair very much in mind.

WARNS PEACH SHIPPERS.

SOMEONE LOST heavily through shipping to Vancouver from this Valley a car of badly graded and packed peaches. The following comment is from the New Westminster Columbian:

The importance of the fruit grower recognizing the requirements of a discriminating public in the matter of grading fruit, and the value of "perpendicular" honesty in every package are urged in the Dominion September Fruit Record. In marketing the abundant crop of fruit, of plums, and peaches this year, it states, any great increase in the amount of canning and preserving, which might have been done will in some degree be offset by the higher price of sugar. To overcome this condition growers are advised to make a special effort to increase the consumption of fresh fruit. Much can be accomplished in this way by better methods of grading. It is all too common, continues the report, to find packages filled with fruit varying from the small immature green cull to the over-ripe specimen. There is no better advertisement, growers are reminded, for their farm or district, than a well-graded well-packed basket of choice fruit.

The peach growers of the Okanagan should take this advice to heart. A shipment of peaches received last week proved to be wholly unsatisfactory. Green fruit and many culls filled the boxes. The consignment was promptly shipped back to the wholesale house by the local fruit dealers. It is probable that the fruit grower will lose his shipment, and be also out the cost of boxes and packing. It surely pays to be honest in the fruit business as in any other.

TALKS WITH THE BUSINESS MAN.

Merchandise well bought is only half sold. Your stock represents money, and it is money that is tied up. Make this money work for you as much as possible—and advertising is the key to the situation.

You have certain fixed expenses that cannot be materially reduced. Better sell 50 articles at a gross profit of 30 cents each, than sell 30 articles at a gross profit of 50 cents each, even though you have to spend two dollars in advertising in order to sell the 50 articles.

Nothing succeeds like success. People like to trade with a firm that is doing a good business.

To stop advertising because of a dull season is to lose momentum. Keep the ball rolling when you have it started, by using a judicious amount of advertising motive force.

The large department stores and the mail order houses are sending tons and tons of advertising matter into the short crop sections of the country. People have to buy some goods, so be sure to get your share of the business.

The steady drip will wear away the stone. Careful, stick-to-it, information-full advertising will bring paying results.

With the big merchants of the country advertising is an asset, not a liability, and you can make your advertising one of the most successful features of your business.

THE STATEMENT of Mr. S. J. Fee that far from wishing the Okanagan United Growers any ill will, he desires to work with that body, is to be welcomed in that it clears up in many minds wrong impressions as to what his standpoint is. The fact that the United Growers turned down his proposition to take over his business last spring is an indication that the central selling body did not consider the season ripe for launching out into the wholesale and jobbing branches. "Let us be our own jobbers," is what every grower says, and when the psychological moment arrives to step out into that line, the Okanagan United Growers may be trusted to do so. It would be disaster, however, to rush into the business without being certain masters of the situation.

Twenty Carloads Of Prairie Butter

Saskatchewan creameries are taxed to capacity these days, says a prairie exchange, to get sufficient butter ready for the filling of an order for twenty four cars of butter to be shipped to British Columbia. The order was received some time ago, the butter to be delivered during the months of September and October, and is the largest single order for butter ever given in Canada.

A special appeal has been made by the dairy commissioner to the managers of the different creameries to exert every effort in their power so that this order might be filled, and the local demand supplied.

The market created in the Const province for Saskatchewan butter, says the exchange, is a large one and very profitable. Farmers in the province have not been slow to recognize the development of the industry, and are strengthening their herds so as to increase the output of the creameries. Top prices for butter fat have prevailed all season; at no time was creamery butter selling for less than 80 cents a pound.

A MARKET FOR NO. 2 PEACHES, SAYS MR. FEE.

Calgary, Alberta.
Sept. 25, 1915.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,
I note in your issue of the 10th my statements re our markets for peaches. I regret the slight error, or my not having made it plain regarding the United Growers selling this season. They sold or consigned exclusively through one prairie concern only in 1913 and 1914. I do not think this can be denied. But this season they are selling to any jobber—and further—the markets considered, they are getting very good prices.

I do not wish a controversy with Mr G. J. C. White or other members of the United Growers. I have repeatedly expressed a wish to work with them—even going so far last spring as to offer them this business, which I have been so many years building up, without a cent of cash, and on terms that they would not only have gotten the business for nothing but a nice bonus in addition.

That consigning, such as has been done in the past, would soon ruin the fruit industry, is very true. And to sell, it is absolutely necessary that a pack of recognized standard be put up. This, however, throws back on the growers a lot of really good fruit, small, slightly speckled with mildew, or ill formed. That this fruit should be an absolute waste is a policy I do not agree with. Had you sufficient to supply all our demands, and this fruit cause a glut—of our own fruit—I should at once say, "Let it waste." But when you have not sufficient, and that shortage is supplied by American fruit, it seems to me had policy to let it waste and leave American fruit supply the deficiency.

It is true that second grade fruit will have a depressing effect on the markets. But if you have followed your market reports closely you will see that your two nearest and best markets—Calgary and Edmonton—have been supplied mainly by American peaches. Would it be such a bad policy to use your rejected fruit to so depress those markets as to keep American peaches out?

There is also another point of view—the consumers. There are a lot of people who will pay a good price for fancy fruit and fancy pack. But unfortunately there are an immense number who must have it cheap or they cannot buy it at all. Is it good business to throw away or let rot good, wholesome fruit that you could send at a slight margin of profit, and still be sold at prices that this great number of people could pay?

A car that Messrs Steven and Broad lately loaded, mainly peaches and largely so-called culls, were nicely colored fine flavored, juicy peaches. They could not have been packed in peach crates and marked No. 1, but put up in tin tops, which is an open package, and does not require any markings, small and large can be put in. Being unwrapped, they show up nicely when opened, and are a very nice package to retail to people who do not want a full crate. This car was loaded in a hurry, and unfortunately was sent light, which increased the freight charges. There were a few peaches that Mr Steven's men did not have time to pack in tin tops, so we put them—Early Crawfords—in apple and pear boxes. They were handled very carefully, and came through in nice condition. There is not so much weight in the tin tops as the peach crate, being about 17 lbs. net. This difference in price of the tin tops and peach crate is offset by the difference in weight. Then there is the saving in paper and the quickness these can be put up.

I am enclosing a copy of our returns to Messrs Steven and Broad. I am ready at any time to give the Press my returns to publish or not as they see fit. I am ready to give every item of expense from shipping point to retailer, so that the public may study the different items. Marketing is a public question and not a private one. The men working for small wages or large salaries each have a right to know whether they are paying too much for the food of their families. The man who produces has a right to know whether he is getting every cent which is due him. The time will soon come when there will be no speculation in the people's food, and when somebody will be held responsible for any waste or loss.

Just stop and think—Any waste is public waste, no matter what form that waste takes, increasing the cost of production or increasing the cost to the consumer. Any loss is public loss no matter what form of loss it is. These small peaches—wholesome and good—left to rot was a public loss. If the United Growers can market the No. 1's to Saskatchewan and Manitoba at good prices, why not let me market those small peaches in Calgary and Edmonton. The waste of these peaches was a public waste, a public question, and when the public realize what these wastes mean and seriously consider them, wastes will be reduced to minimum—to the greater prosperity of our country.

Yours truly,
S. J. FEE.

Milking Records of Pure Bred Cows.

Nine years ago the Live Stock Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with certain record associations representing breeds of dairy cattle, began to record the performance of pure bred milking cows. Each record association agreed upon a standard of yield for cows of its respective breed to qualify for registration, while the Live Stock Commissioner formulated regulations under which the tests were to be carried out. At the end of each year a report of the work has been issued, containing a list of the animals that qualified for registration during the year, their breed, age, ownership, milking period, production of milk and fat, and such other information as might reasonably be looked for in an official report. Each year the work has increased until the seventh report, just issued, contains no less than 152 pages of information. During the year 418 cows qualified for registration, including 106 Holsteins, 128 Ayrshires, 85 Jerseys, 9 Guernseys, 14 French Canadlans, and 30 Shorthorns. The highest records made were:—
Shorthorn, 15,585 lbs milk, 540 lbs fat;

Ministerial Union Endorses Pamphlet And Publicity Campaign.

Vancouver,
16th Sept. 1915.

The Editor,

Dear Sir,
In view of the misleading statements that have been circulated throughout the province regarding the motives and actions of the Ministerial Union of the Lower Mainland, in the matter of the publication of the pamphlet entitled "The Crisis in B.C.," I am instructed to forward the enclosed resolutions unanimously adopted at the last meeting of the Union, which meeting was one of the largest and most representative yet held. We hope that you will be good enough to publish these resolutions in your columns at an early date.

I am,
Yours sincerely,
J. R. ROBERTSON,
Secretary.

RESOLUTIONS.

In view of the repeated statements that Rev. A. E. Cooke and the others whose names are signed to "The Crisis in B.C." acted on their own responsibility, we submit the following facts for the consideration of your readers:—
1. That the Ministerial Union of the Lower Mainland approved of the policy of issuing a statement to the public on the exploitation of the natural resources of British Columbia.

2. That in pursuance of that policy a committee of investigation was appointed which represented us throughout. This committee met a great many times sent two of its members to Victoria for some days to consult the records on file there and to verify all copies of documents submitted and statements made about the situation throughout the province. As a result of these investigations they were convinced of the accuracy of the statements which were afterwards made in the pamphlet.

3. Their report was presented and discussed in detail at several of the most largely attended meetings of the Ministerial Union ever held, and was unanimously and heartily endorsed by everyone who was present at the last and most largely attended of all the meetings.

4. That the campaign of publicity carried on throughout the province by Rev. A. E. Cooke as Secretary of the Union was planned and directed by the Ministerial Union throughout and we desire to express our entire approval of his conduct of his part of the work.

5. After having carefully considered all the answers and explanations given on behalf of the government we are more than ever convinced of the necessity of the investigation for which we appeal.

In all these attempted replies the main facts set forth in the pamphlet "The Crisis in B.C." have remained entirely untouched. Our only desire is that the people of British Columbia should know the truth, and we feel that if a full and non-partisan investigation be held, every charge we have made will be fully borne out in all essentials.

(Signed) On behalf of the Union,
G. R. WELCH, Central Baptist Church, President.
J. R. ROBERTSON, B.D., St David's Pres. Church, Secretary.
JOHN MACKAY, D.D., Principal Westminster Hall.
J. K. UNSWORTH, D.D., First Congregational Church.
E. MANUEL, Robson Methodist Memorial Church, Consulting Members of Committee.

French Canadlan, 10,767 lbs milk, 458 lbs fat;
Guernsey, 11,445 lbs milk; 520 lbs fat;
Holstein 28,717 lbs milk, 884 lbs fat;
Jersey 15,211 lbs milk, 754 lbs fat;
Ayrshire, 10,090 lbs milk, 720 lbs fat.

This report for the second time contains an appendix containing the records of cows which produced sufficient milk and fat to qualify for registration but failed to calve within fifteen months after the commencement of the test, as required by the registrations. This report is of special interest to dairy farmers who are anxious to build up the milking qualities of their herds. Copies will be sent to those who apply for them to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, and anyone is welcome to come in and look through the copy now in the office of the Review.

Red Cross Whist Drive.

The Whist Drive on Thursday of last week, held at the home of Mrs. Cash, in spite of the inclement or at least uninviting weather conditions, proved a most enjoyable event to those who did attend. Some five tables were prepared for whist for an evening of twenty hands. The scores do not appear to have run especially high, but indicate that the ladies are the best players. Mrs. T. H. Boothe was awarded the prize with a score of 164, while Master Guy Ireland with 140 was found to be the leading scorer among the gentlemen. Guy's reward was a neat bundle of shaving paper enclosed in a dainty holder, and doubtless the lad will feel it his duty to next look up the prices on razors.

In the course of the evening's play a most appetizing luncheon was enjoyed. The ladies evidently had designs upon the pockets and generous feelings of the guests as the collection in aid of the Red Cross which followed, showed that more than the nominal sum of ten cents had in every case been paid. The exact amount taken in as reported by the secretary, Miss Robinson, amounted to $4.50.

From the success which marked this initial Red Cross party, it is probable that a number more will follow in due course throughout the season.

Postmaster Bartlett is in receipt of attractive recruiting posters from the government at Ottawa. These have been tacked up in places about town where, it is believed all may have a chance to learn that more and ever more men are needed to go into training. Already the percentage of recruits gone from this place is very high, but there are still some more young fellows who, as soon as their present contracts are completed, purpose enlisting.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated. In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Mrs. Ives of Penticton was a visitor in town for a few hours on Wednesday.

The Ladies' Aid met on Wednesday afternoon and made plans for their annual bazaar.

Mrs. Gillies of Penticton and three children drove up to town on Sunday for an enjoyable outing.

Mr and Mrs. A. Town of Peachland were in town over Friday night last as guests of Mr and Mrs. J. M. Robinson.

Mr. George Partridge and son, Bert, put in a profitable day's fishing up the lakeshore about a mile or two from town at a rocky projection much frequented by the lake trout.

The boxes of apples which you wish to have sent to Europe for distribution amongst the sick and wounded Canadian soldiers will be packed for you at the Union free of charge.

Harry Pitman returned to military camp, Vernon, on Sunday morning, after a most enjoyable holiday spent at Naramata, the town of his adoption. During his stay here he was the guest of assistant scoutmaster Stewart Allen, of Fairview Ranch.

A trio of rising young officers of the 11th C.M.R., Vernon, Lieutenants Jack Norris, Baker, and Jackson, were guests of Mr. J. O. Robinson over the week-end. On Monday evening a private dancing party provided a pleasing "send-off" for the lads prior to their again taking hold of the sterner duties at the Vernon camp.

Is my name on the voters' list? That should be the question on every citizen's mind just now, if he has not recently made absolutely sure about it. As the last day for attending to this important piece of business is October 4th, it leaves no time for dilly-dallying. Get your name down before it is too late. Next Monday will be, as you know, Oct. 4th.

Mr. Jack Lawler, manager of the Summerland Fruit Union, spent the greater part of Tuesday here on a trip of inspection. In the course of his observations he noticed the presence of a certain degree of water core amongst the Jona thans, and advised having the whole crop of that particular variety harvested at once. Mr. Lawler's keen eyes did not fail to notice the splendid samples of fruit now in evidence from end to end of the district.

League Meetings Resumed.

The organization of the Epworth League did not take place as was expected on Friday evening as announced, but the young folk did not fail in having an enjoyable social evening all the same. It was found toward the middle of the afternoon that Rev. Mr. Thompson, who fully expected to be here to conduct the re-organization ceremony, would be obliged to absent himself. He hopes to be present this evening, Friday, October 1st.

Last Friday's program included a song by Enid Rayner, a piano solo by Edith Roe, a duet by Margaret Mitchell and Ina Ireland, and recitations by Alice Myers, Marion Bruce, Laurel Pushman, Vera Salting and also by Miss Edna Noyes.

In the course of the evening Mr. H. Pitman spoke, especially to the boys, setting forth the thought, none too well emphasized these days that the best way to enjoy life is in devoting one's time to the service of one's home, one's community and one's country.

Dainty refreshments were served by the ladies toward the close of the opening evening for the season's League meetings.

F. W. Gordon McDougall, of the Royal Crown bank staff at Vancouver, was in town on Saturday between ferries, to pay a short visit to his relations prior to his departure for active service for his country.

Mr and Mrs. James Wells expect to leave early next week on a short visit with relations in Calgary and elsewhere, prior to the celebration of their golden wedding, which is to take place at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Hy. Price at Calgary.

The idea set in motion by our townsmen, Mr. Wolstencroft, of sending a number of carloads of apples for distribution amongst the sick and wounded at the hospitals, is a happy one. Hundreds of boxes have already been offered, and hundreds more are sure to follow. The Red Cross ladies are taking the matter up, and, it is understood, will interview each citizen very shortly to ascertain the wishes of each, and to give definite dates for shipment.

A party of excursionists from Naramata last Sunday, friends of Mr. Dunrobin, visited the latter's extensive ranch, situated up the lake a little way north of Paradise Ranch. The party consisted of Mr. Gerald Roe, Capt. and Mrs. F. J. Languedoc, Mr and Mrs. H. P. Davies and daughter, Miss Emma Davies. The weather conditions for the trip both coming and going was ideal, and the hospitality of the genial host unbounded. A feature of especial attractiveness of Mr. Dunrobin's landing place is a splendidly sheltered cove, protected by a breakwater made of a pile of flat loose boulders resulting in an ideal swimming pool, where the water is as warm as that in a bath tub. Other noticeable features spoken of were the neat and commodious cottage, surrounded by trailing vines in the midst of the garden of flowers.

Red Cross Notes.

The scope and work of the Red Cross has not begun to impress itself upon the minds of the great majority. That was to be expected at first, but to make matters still more awkward it is reported that misleading statements are being made concerning the scope and the official recognition. This official recognition implies that the British War Office has notified all belligerent and neutral countries that the Red Cross and St. John Ambulance Association are to be regarded as recognized voluntary assistants to the Army Medical Department. Therefore in saying that the Canadian Red Cross Society is in Canada the official source for collecting and sending forward auxiliary hospital supplies for the Canadian forces at the front, we are simply taking our place according to the instructions laid down by the imperial authorities.

Amongst the most recent noticeable gifts to this noble cause is one of a monthly contribution of one thousand dollars for the balance of the year, from the Hallinger Gold Mines, Ltd.

Still another of another quality, but none the less appreciated was that of a pillow-case of which the donor said: "This pillow case belonged to my great-great-grandmother, and is one hundred years old. It is parted with very reluctantly, but — the Lord loveth a cheerful giver." But just picture this: It took place at Red Cross Headquarters in Toronto recently: "A small boy called at the office this morning, July 28, and said that he was a Canadian and wished to help, and handed in five copers."

The Red Cross, under existing conditions, has undertaken to raise the necessary funds to pay salaries of all nurses asked for from England, but the Brigade undertakes the arrangements for selecting, equipping and transportation.

Then truly it may be said, after a perusal of the foregoing facts that those engaged in carrying on Red Cross work are engaged in furthering one of the greatest of beneficent of all benevolences.

It is probable that an old-fashioned Thanksgiving party may be arranged for October 11th, by the workers of the Society. But of this, more later.

Governor's Medal Presented To Stanley Stiff.

Master Stanley Stiff was presented with the Governor - General's medal last Friday afternoon. An attractive program of patriotic choruses and recitations had been prepared for the occasion, under the direction of the teachers, Principal Rayner and Miss O'Calligan. The School Board were officially represented by the secretary, Mr. T. H. Boothe who occupied the chair in the absence of Mr. Pushman who was unavoidably absent, and by Mrs. M. M. Allen, who on behalf of the Department of Education, presented the coveted medal. The young lad was visibly affected, and it is believed well deserved the honor, for a more diligent and promising student it would be hard to locate than Master Stanley Stiff.

In the course of the chairman's remarks, emphasis was laid on the fact that the honor thus conferred to the individual was also an honor to the whole school, reflecting credit on every member of the entrance class as a whole, not forgetting that a whole lot of credit was due the teacher, Miss Whitworth, who worked with such intelligent persistence to prepare the test.

Scoutmaster Harry Pitman of the 47th Battalion, Vernon, spoke also in eulogistic terms on the work and conduct of Stanley, as one of the active members of the scout organization.

The following was the program:
Chorus, "O, Canada," School.
Recitation "Somebody's Darling," Catharine Hancock
Recitation, "Little Boy Blue" Donald Salting
Chorus, "Rule Britannia," School.
Recitation, "Empire First," Stanley Stiff
Recitation, "Our Brave and Honored Slain," Marion Bruce

The war and war conditions notwithstanding, fruit growers here and citizens generally will be given the opportunity of sending friends and relatives in the Home Land a box or more of apples at a very low price with delivery assured. The Okanagan United Growers are now making a favorable offer for the delivery of apples as will be noted by reference to their advertisement in another column.

An effort to relieve the vegetable situation, which at this time is anything but satisfactory, is being made by the Okanagan United Growers with considerable hope of success. Just now very little in the vegetable line is being moved, resulting in considerable hardship to the growers of the northern end of the Valley particularly. The big co-operative organization now has negotiations pending, which, if successfully concluded, will greatly improve the whole situation.

Indications are that the concert dated for next Tuesday evening in aid of the Ambulance League funds, and arranged by the St Andrew's and Caledonian Society, is going to be a distinct success. A glimpse at the program that has been drawn up shows that it will be participated in by some of the best of local talent, and in the nature of the items, the program is going to be nicely varied. At the popular admission price of 25 cents, St Stephen's Hall should be filled to the doors. Children will be admitted for 15 cents.

Some of the advantages to a community of having in its midst a manufactory for the making of fruit products may be realized, when it is learned that the cannery at Kelowna has been since early in the season employing a staff of 75 hands, and that its output has averaged 25,000 cans daily. The general qualities of the exhibits at the Kelowna fair held on Monday and Tuesday last was excellent, according to Mr G. J. C. White, who spent part of Wednesday at the Orchard City, on his return from a meeting of the Growers' executive at Vernon. The fruit exhibit was not large, but what was shown was good. There was also a good display of vegetables. The live stock shown, all of which was of excellent quality, was an indication of the rapid increase in that district of this branch of agriculture.

Some stitches had to be put in to induce the cut to heal quicker.

Pretty nearly half the automobiles in town were out on Sunday on a trip to the Similkameen. The cars of Messrs A. Stark, Dr F. W. Andrew, G. M. Ross, J. Lawler, and E. C. Graham, made the trip to Keremeos, leaving here about noon, and on the return a stop was made at the Inco Hotel, where the party enjoyed dinner. The five cars carried in all, with their drivers, twenty-three persons. On the same day Mr O. Atkins left in the morning with a party of young men also for Keremeos, and continuing on to Hooley.

5,000 Boxes Okanagan Apples For Defenders Of Empire.

This Quantity Will Likely Be Donated To Red Cross By Valley Growers.

It now seems more than probable that nearly if not quite 5,000 boxes of Okanagan apples will be sent across the seas for distribution among our wounded soldiers as well as in the first line and other defences on the continent. Such has been the ready response to the proposal made by Mr Geo. Wolstencroft of Naramata, particulars of which was published in these columns last week. All the growers from Keremeos to Salmon Arm are to be given the opportunity to contribute, and the various local organizations affiliated with the Okanagan United Growers are all consenting to receive the fruit and forward it to Vernon for assembly and loading. Anyone, whether a member of the organization or not, is invited to assist.

From present indications there will be not less than one, and perhaps two, carloads contributed by Summerland. Naramata is also giving liberally, as are Penticton and Kaleden. Peachland will likely give a half carload at least, so that more than half the total estimated will go from the southern end of the lake.

The Okanagan United Growers have generously promised Mr Wolstencroft that that organization will absorb the freight from the various points to the assembling point, and will take care of the fruit on arrival, and load it into cars free of charge, up to 5,000 boxes.

Australia Takes Thousand Tons of B.C. Potatoes.

Chicago Also Wants Our Tubers.

Six hundred tons of choice British Columbia potatoes, including 2,000 crates shipped by the Okanagan United Growers were shipped out to Australia this week on the steamer "Waihemu." A further shipment of four hundred tons will follow immediately, making 1,000 tons of British Columbia potatoes for Australia. Great care has been exercised in the selection and inspection of the potatoes by Inspector Cunningham, Mr Lyne and their assistants, for the market in the Antipodes is regarded as a valuable one for the British Columbia growers.

Chicago, which is suffering from a shortage of potatoes at present, is enquiring for the British Columbia product, and there is every likelihood that the embargo on Canadian potatoes will be lifted so far as the British Columbia tubers are concerned, so as to enable large shipments to be sent in to Chicago. The expectation is that the embargo will be lifted in the course of a day or two. The embargo was temporarily lifted last season to permit potatoes to enter Washington, but owing to a few diseased potatoes from a Chinese ranch on the Delta finding their way into a shipment, the embargo was clapped on again with a good deal of unwarranted publicity.

Last Friday morning the fruit inspectors had to condemn a carload of apples and peaches from Washington, which was found to be badly infected with codling moth.

Short Line Ready Soon.

The completion of the Hope Mountain line, giving a direct route to the Coast over the K.V.R., will be realized in two months according to the Star, Princeton, which says:—

"From the two ends of track on the K.V.R. in Coquihalla Pass, a distance of eight miles separates. The big bridge across Ladner Creek is going on nicely, and the last railroad spike will be driven first of December. Ballasting is complete to end of tracks, and the snowsheds are well advanced."

Evaporating Plant Will Call For 250 Cars of Vegetables

Location of New Industry in the Valley Will Bring about $200,000 This Year Into The Okanagan.

Mention was made in last week's Review that negotiations were pending that would ensure a large demand for vegetables throughout the Valley. At that time the proposition was not far enough advanced to allow of a definite statement being made, but the arrangements that were in abeyance have now been completed far enough to allow of the welcome announcement being made.

The firm of R. J. Graham & Co., of Belleville, Ont., who have contracts with the British and French armies to supply large quantities of condensed vegetables, have leased the cannery at Kelowna, and may also secure a building in Vernon. They will put in a big evaporating plant, and are in the market for practically unlimited amounts of vegetables. Already, Mr. R. Robertson, late Manager of the Okanagan United Growers, who is acting for them, has contracted for nearly all the onions and carrots in sight. Manager Jackson states that he will dispose of 250 cars of vegetables to Graham & Co.

Between labor and sales, Mr. Jackson estimates that this will mean at least $200,000 to the Valley this season.

The machinery is now on the way, and the evaporated product will be shipped east where it is converted into the concentrated essence known as "Julienne," which makes an admirable vegetable soup with the addition of hot water.

A Close Call.

It was only by the closest shave that the home of Mr. H. G. Estabrook was saved from fire on Monday morning last. In fact had it not been that water had been turned on in the garden hose, and Mr. Estabrook was close by, and help was immediately available, the home would now be in ashes. A fire had been started in the kitchen stove, and Mr. Estabrook had gone outside, when he noticed trouble on the kitchen roof, and the fire had already gained considerable headway between the ceiling and roof. With prompt use of axe and hose, and the assistance of neighbors, the fire, after half an hour's hard work, was gotten under control. There being no doubt that the fire was caused by a pipe, Mr. Estabrook immediately set about to have a brick chimney put in.

OKANAGAN AMBULANCE LEAGUE.

The 13th and 14th sales from the Summerland and Naramata branch of the Okanagan Ambulance League have been dispatched to the Red Cross Society.

The one bale contained 123 bandages, and the other:
13 pr. socks; 5 pr. pyjamas; 3 bundles dressing wraps; 120 cup covers; 5 plate covers; 5 table napkins; 30 face cloths; 20 bundles mouth wipes (2,000); 8 laundry bags; 25 tray cloths; 3 sheets; 30 face towels; 5 slings; 4 tablecloths; 3 bundles face rags (800); 1 bundle old linen; 3 bundles old blankets; 30 handkerchiefs.

The treasurer has sent $50 to the Rutland Mills, Wakefield, England, for 40 lbs. of khaki wool for socks, and has also laid in a supply of other wool for immediate use. $25 has also been expended in material for surgical dressings.

The league meets again on Monday at 2.30 in St Stephen's Hall.

BIRTHS.

Apple Shipments.

Apples are now moving pretty freely, straight carloads of apples now being the rule. The Union are this season arranging to make shipments of carlots of one variety, instead of a number of varieties as in the past. This necessitates the holding back of the apples until carlots of each variety accumulate, and at one time this week there were not far short of a dozen carloads on the main floor of the packing house.

For the first time in the history of Naramata a shipment of a full car of Jonathans was sent from that point this week by the Union. It is estimated that there will be not less than 5,000 boxes of apples sent out of Naramata this season.

It seems harder to get an estimate of Summerland's output, but one figure, believed to be fairly accurate, puts the quantity at 60,000 boxes, or 100 carloads. A. Stewart & Son will, next to the Union, be the largest shippers of apples from this point.

School Board Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board was rather uneventful as a source of news copy. There was considerable routine work in the discussion of minor matters pertaining to the schools, and the inspection and passing of the accounts. A number of needed repairs were ordered. The Board has recently put in a quantity of Princeton coal at the Central School, which has cost $6125 a ton delivered, a considerable saving over previous years. The following accounts were passed for payment:

Teachers' salaries	$710.00
Conveyances	190.05
Princeton Coal & Lumber Co.	166.09
Janitors	30.00
Dr. Andrew	18.75

Appointed General Agent.

Mr S. B. Snider, representative of the Confederation Life, went up to Sicamous last week to meet several officials of his company; Mr. W. C. Macdonald, managing director and actuary; Mr. J. Tower Boyd, superintendent; and Mr. S. G. Cork, head of the loan and mortgage department, all of Toronto, and Mr. Chas. Mutch, superintendent of agencies for B.C. All of the party except Mr. Cork continued on to Vancouver while Mr. Cork made a tour of the Valley in company with Mr. Snider, this being his first visit to the Okanagan. Naturally he was delighted with what he saw, and went from Summerland much impressed with its possibilities, and satisfied that a larger measure of prosperity is now assured.

It is understood that as a result of his consultation with the company heads, whom he met at the junction by request, Mr. Snider is to act in a larger capacity as general agent for this district and that traversed by the K.V.R.

The managing director, Mr. Macdonald, evinced much interest in this Valley, and expressed regret that time would not permit his making a visit to Summerland.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute will be held in the parlor of the Men's Club on Friday, October 15 at three o'clock. The program: secretary's report; roll call, recipes for thanksgiving dishes; current events, Mrs. Solly; motto, Mrs. R. M. Ross; co-operation of parents and teachers, Mrs. G. J. C. Whites. Those of the members who have "Allied for Right" Buttons out yet are asked to kindly bring them, or the proceeds of the sale of them, in by October 15th. Anyone sending jam through the Institute to the soldiers is asked to have it in this week, as the ladies wish to send it all off next week.

Council and Contractor Come to Agreement on South Main Dispute.

Mr. McAlpine To Be Paid Small Sum Over Contract Figure To Finish Work In Accordance With Engineer's Latest Specifications.

Discuss Unfinished Link in Lakeshore Drive.

Total Taxes Collected Exceed 1914 Receipts For Same Period, But Percentages Less.

It now seems probable that the differences between the Council and the contractor over the lining contract on the south main ditch have been terminated. Mr. McAlpine, the contractor, met the Council last Saturday at a special session, and an agreement was finally reached.

Engineer Latimer had gone over the work and drawn up supplementary specifications of the original contract. Mr. McAlpine, however, refused to round out the inner corners according to these later specifications, describing the demand that this be done as an imposition. Being then asked by the Reeve if he would throw up the whole thing and let the Council finish the ditch, Mr. McAlpine replied, "Yes, if you are willing to give me what is coming to me." This he defined as being the balance of the contract price, less $100, this latter amount evidently being sufficient in the contractor's opinion to put the ditch in satisfactory condition. The Reeve, who has never been satisfied with the job, replied that the only way to make it satisfactory was to tear it out and put in new. Mr. McAlpine, on the other hand, places all responsibility for scaling, etc., because of frost, upon the Council, claiming that he received indirect orders from the Reeve to continue the work after cold weather last fall.

For a time the arguments waxed warm, and were not kept strictly to the matter in dispute. During the argument, when it seemed that no common ground would be reached, the penalty clause imposing $5 per day upon the contractor if not completed within the contract time was brought in. The contractor claimed that he was granted an extension of time, but there was no record in the minute book to this effect.

The engineer's report was that the $387 held back from the contractor would not put the ditch in as good condition as the specifications required. On the other hand, $375 would do the work as recommended in his latest report. Coun. Johnston said the whole mistake had been that the work was not done according to the contract. Some of the councillors felt that some portion of the blame rested upon the Board for not insisting, and also upon the Inspector for failing to report where the work fell short of the requirements of the specifications.

The differences in dispute were finally simmered down to that of rounding the corners between the bottom and sides, and upon the motion of Couns. Simpson and Borton, it was agreed to pay Mr. McAlpine $15 over and above the balance of the contract price to have this done. Mr. McAlpine gave his assurance that he would go to work on the ditch and finish it as soon as possible.

Among the communications was one asking the Municipality to fill out a form order to permit the admission of a patient to the provincial sanatorium. The patient in question was one who had come to Summerland as an invalid a short time before, and the Council did not think it just that the Municipality should be taxed for his sanatorium account.

The Council are considerably concerned over the unfinished condition of the new pieces of road, portions of the Lakeshore Drive crossing Trout Creek point. Coun. Johnston said that wet weather would make parts of it impassable, and the building of the new road had cut off any possibility of using the old portion. It would seem that unless the Provincial Government finish these pieces, it will be necessary for the Municipality to share them to make them passable. That an excellent job has been done as far as the work has gone, and that the road when finished will fill a long felt want, was generally recognized.

The Collector reported the collection of $500 more in taxes to September 30th, than was collected last year, but the percentage was less, being only 41 per cent of the total as compared with 48 per cent in 1914.

While all recognized the advantages of rebuilding the Dunsdon dam in Garnett Valley, other work has the precedent according to several of the Councillors. Coun. Johnston stated that it was useless to store further water unless they first prepared to distribute the water, particular reference being made to a portion of Siwash Flat on which the flumes must be replaced with larger. It may be that a dam from four to six feet may be put in, but the question was left over for discussion at another meeting.

Govt. Telegraph Greatly Extended

Linking Up With Continental Systems Adds Greatly To Usefulness.

Through a recent arrangement the Government Telephone and Telegraph system in this province has been given a very greatly extended connection in eastern Canada, also in the United States. The Western Union Telegraph Company, or its subsidiary, the Great North-Western, is to be found in almost every town and village in the east, while further west the Canadian Northern Telegraph system has come under the control of the Western Union, and it is through those systems that the new working arrangement gives users of the government system connection at the most favorable rates. The Western Union also has a working agreement of some sort with the Great Northern to the south of the international line, which gives an outlet in that direction. To all points in Manitoba and farther east, it is now said, the government rates are the same as between points on the C.P.R. system. To some points in Alberta and Saskatchewan served only by the C.P.R., the latter have a slight advantage, while to other points reached by the C.N.R., rates favor the government service.

Charged With Theft.

Willie Herron, a young Siwash of some sixteen years, is now lodged in jail here charged with stealing money from the home of Mr. S. Phillips. The theft, which it is said Herron admits, was made on Wednesday when $25 was taken from a purse hanging on a bureau in the Phillips home. The matter was reported to Constable Graham on Thursday evening, and an hour and a half later the lad was arrested in Pontleton. In the meantime he had fitted himself out at A. B. Elliott's store with a suit of clothes, a pair of boots, etc., and on the way south had purchased a second hand gold watch from Andy Florio. Besides these he had purchased some other trinkets, and only 20 cents of the money was left when he was lodged in jail this morning. The prisoner will probably come before Magistrate English this afternoon.

Prizes Awarded.

The final inspection of the lots entered in the competition for prizes offered by the Department of Agriculture and the W.S. Women's Institute, was made on Wednesday, Provincial Horticulturist R. M. Winslow, Reeve Blair and Mr. J. L. Hilborn being the judges. The lots were divided into three classes:—lots less than two acres, lots from two to eight acres and lots eight acres and up. Mr. Winslow expressed himself as well pleased with the appearance of the lots in general, and the marked improvement the competition has brought about. Many of the places were in excellent shape, and well worthy of commendation. The results of the contest are as follows: eight acres and up—1st, P. G. Dodwell; 2nd, R. V. Agur; 3rd, Mrs. Geo. Graham; 4th, Col. Cartwright; 5th, C. H. Tate. Two to eight acres—1st, A. McLachlan; 2nd, Wright Bros.; 3rd, C. H. Gayton; 4th, J. H. Bowering; 5th, W. Snow. Small Lots—1st, L. Pacey; 2nd, H. Foreman; 3rd, A. Martin; 4th, Jas. O. Smith; 5th, Alex. Smith.

Reeve Blair Directing Job of Draining Pond

Not the Source of J. R. Brown's Trouble.

A solution of the problem as to whether the water which has been causing so much trouble on Canyon Ranch, Trout Creek, was coming from the pond south of Giant's Head has evidently been found. As stated in these columns last week, Reeve Blair undertook to at least lower the water in that pond so as to make the road passable. A large hole was dug, and then an 8 inch auger was used, the hole being continued down 22 ft. through clay until rock was reached. The water is now being drawn off from the pond through a pipe into this hole. The face of the cliff below, from the bridge round to Mr. Brown's, was then examined to discover where the increased flow of water would appear. It is said there is very little coming out of the bank now at the Canyon Ranch, and the increased flow from the pond made no difference there. The water from the pond, it was found, comes out over a ledge of rock south-east of the pond, and trickles down into Trout Creek canyon below the Rivington and Hamilton orchards, covering a width of probably 40 ft. Reeve Blair feels confident that the work done will lower the water below the road level, and may offer a solution for the complete draining of the pond.

Good Enrollment in High School.

Figures furnished by Principal R. B. Forsyth show that the enrollment at the High School has now reached 33. With his assistant, D. H. McIntosh, four years' work is now being carried on with classes detailed as follows:

First Year	14
Second Year	8
Third Year	7
Fourth Year	4
Total	33

The regular matriculation course is completed with the third year, and the fourth year work is the senior matriculation course.

The relation of the new University of B.C. to the standing achievement of High School students has not yet been definitely decided.

Okanagan Apples For Saskatchewan.

Reports that 100 carloads of Okanagan apples had been sold for delivery in at points in Saskatchewan within the next few weeks have been confirmed. It is also learned that another large deal is pending for the sale of a further 100 cars in the prairie market. The latter sale will probably be closed in a few days.

There is still an urgent need for onions at the Hospital, and some empty fruit jars are still on hand which would gratefully be exchanged for full ones.

St. Andrew's Concert Further Augments League Funds

Scotch Society Responsible For Another Donation of Twenty-one Dollars to Ambulance League.

Not planning to present an elaborately prepared program but rather a thoroughly good evening's entertainment in aid of a good cause, the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society were well rewarded for their trouble in the attendance at their concert on Tuesday evening. The really creditable gross proceeds, amounting to $24.05, at the popular admission prices of 15 and 25 cents, show that the St. Stephen's Hall must have held upwards of 150 people.

Mr. J. G. Robertson, as president of the Society, was chairman for the evening, and before announcing the first number on the program, made a few appropriate remarks. We cannot all go to war he said, for there is much that must be done at home. Mr. Robertson spoke well of the Ambulance League and its work, characterizing its work as up-building and preserving, in contrast to the destructiveness of war.

Later on during the evening, Mr. Robertson handed the net proceeds, amounting to $21.05, over to Mrs. H. A. Solly, who made suitable acknowledgement, at the same time urging very earnestly greater support of the work of the League, in conjunction with the Red Cross Society. Were it not for the good work of this great organization, the lot of many of the wounded would be hard indeed, she pointed out. Often the hospital supplies and comforts provided by the War Office proved totally inadequate, and it was to augment these supplies that the Red Cross Society and the Ambulance League were directing their efforts.

Local concert talent in this place could be relied upon to provide many evenings of first-class entertainment. The program last Tuesday night was well up to the standard of previous local concerts.

In addition to a list of well-known local artists of established reputation, two new names were introduced to the audience in Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Duncan. The St. Andrew's Society have a happy knack of unearthing new talent, and should be congratulated on their latest achievement along this line. Mrs. Duncan, in two elocutionary selections, showed a mastery of her art that makes one wish she had been "discovered" before this. Mr. Duncan showed himself to be the possessor of a very pleasing baritone voice in the old favorite "Queen of the Earth." Many would recall the pleasure which his brother, Mr. Ward Duncan, gave to Summerland audiences some years ago.

Of the other and more well-known artists much could and should be said to do them justice. Miss Higgin's violin selections, played with a perfection of style and finish, justly earned for her an encore. Miss Hayes is known sufficiently to expect great enjoyment from her solos, and her song was quite up to the anticipated high standard. Messrs. T. G. Beavis and J. O. Smith were the remaining vocalists, the former with three splendid songs, and the latter with two more familiar selections. Rev. D. E. Hatt's elocution needs no eulogizing; for it is always all that can be desired. Additional interest attached to his first contribution to the program in that at least one of the selections is known to be

TO BE ORDAINED.

The friends of Rev. David Lister will join in congratulating him on his having successfully passed the final year of his college course, and secured his license as a minister of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. In Mr. Lister's two years in Westminster Hall, Vancouver, he gained the unusually high average of 88 per cent in all subjects, which was the highest in the college.

Rev. Mr. Lister expects to be ordained and inducted into the charge of Bonvillian in the near future. Bonvillian is in the Kelowna district, the church being some three miles from the city.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1915.

PROHIBITION FOR OUR PROVINCE.

SIGNS THAT GIVE stout heart to the prohibitionist are not wanting. On every hand, in our own land and abroad, evidences are to be seen that the great European war convulsion is bringing states, provinces and nations to a proper understanding of the uselessness and worse of the liquor business. It seems an awful price to pay even for so momentous a change of attitude, but alcohol has taken a toll of life during its reign that makes this war look like a Fourth of July celebration in comparison. It takes a big price to buy a big thing, and though the world will be the poorer for the loss of so many heroic lives, it will be infinitely better if the liquor business is buried beyond hope of resurrection. Apart from any other result of the war, the soldier heroes will not have died in vain if this becomes the case.

When the time comes for taking a prohibition plebiscite in British Columbia—and if public opinion is to be respected, this will be soon—the influence of the votes in Saskatchewan and Alberta will be felt. Manitoba will pass on prohibition in the spring of 1916, and there is little doubt, in view of the recent political turnover there, as to what result may be expected. Temperance people consider the battle there already won, and the only question is as to the bulk of the majority. Newfoundland is likewise falling into line, and the prohibition that this ancient colony contemplates may be said to be the genuine kind. It will allow no government dispensing, wholesale or retail selling. The use of alcoholic liquors will be sanctioned only for what medicinal and sacramental purposes are absolutely essential. In Ontario a large delegation recently waited on Premier Hearst, and asked that all retailing of intoxicating liquors be prohibited during the war. They pointed out that in this regard Ontario was far behind the western provinces. The government, they said, should take this step to bring about military efficiency.

Turning to the highest in the empire, what is the example of King George V? He has banished alcohol from his table. More than that, he recently affixed his seal to an order severely restricting the liquor traffic within the area of the metropolis and certain provincial districts. "It is expedient for the successful prosecution of the present war," His Majesty has said, "that the sale and supply of intoxicating liquors in the areas defined shall be controlled by the state, on the ground that war material is being made, loaded, and dealt with in transit therein and men belonging to his majesty's naval and military forces are assembled therein."

With these and other signs of encouragement in mind, it is easy to understand why the time is considered ripe to decide the question in British Columbia. When men break the fetters of party affiliation that have held them for years and align themselves in with prohibition, it may be taken for granted that strong convictions have taken form in the minds of these men. One peculiar feature of this new public opinion has been noted by those active in disseminating the prohibition propaganda. "I have been agreeably surprised," Dr McGuire, provincial organizer says, "at the encouragement and assistance I have received from unlikely quarters, especially from among the ranks of the moderate drinkers, who seem to realize that the present campaign is an economic campaign, designed to prevent industrial waste and to improve industrial conditions."

The time to take a stand on this question is not just before the election time, but now while one has time to reason the matter out rationally. For prohibition and prevention, or support and toleration, where do we stand?

A "GROWN-IN-CANADA" POLICY.

"WHY SHOULD our good money be sent abroad?" This from far-off Prince Albert, Sask. Thus the gospel of home patronage spreads. Not only are the "Made-in-Canada" products receiving something of their due recognition but those things which have been imported that might as well have been grown in the home soil will not find it so easy to overrun the home markets. The Prince Albert correspondent of the Saskatoon Phoenix writes thus:

"It appears from recent revelations that the price charged for fresh fruit by the local wholesale dealers has been higher, in some instances, than the retail price. It would seem that a carload of B.C. fruit was shipped to the retail merchants at Prince Albert, through a Saskatoon commission broker, and was retailed for about the same price to the consumer as the local wholesalers charged the retail dealers, a difference of probably 25 per cent. Naturally there was a big rush to secure some of this cheap fruit, the low price of which had set the people talking. The explanation, according to the local wholesale merchants, is that the fruit they were handling was grown in the State of Washington, and had to bear a customs duty, besides a greater freight rate for a longer haul.

"This explanation seems reasonable enough, but what many people want to know is, why not have a "Grown in Canada" as well as a "Made in Canada" policy? If fruit can be raised in any part of this Dominion and shipped to Prince Albert cheaper, or even as cheap, as the foreign grown product—even if it has to be ordered through a "Saskatoon Commission Broker,"—why, in the name of common sense, should our good money be sent abroad to help the foreign grower, when prices in the home market are more favorable to both the dealer and the consumer?"

THERE IS CONVINCING PROOF of Mr R. Robertson's interest in the welfare of the farmers of the Okanagan in the steps he has taken to bring to the Valley the big concern for the manufacture of condensed vegetables, to be used for military purposes. It is understood that the firm's representative had almost decided to locate at the Coast with the plant when Mr Robertson put a new aspect on the case. It means a good deal to the Valley to have an additional two or three hundred carloads of vegetables called for, and it brings a benefit that the entire Okanagan will participate in. If the plant is to operate right away, and it is believed it will, there will be an immediate call for vegetables, and next year, as the situation becomes more widely understood, there will likely be many ranches in this district that will change their plan of planting for the season to meet the demands the factories will create.

THE FALL FAIR has now been launched, and it is up to the farmers of the district to do their share and carry the enterprise along. About $1,000 is available for prize money, half of it subscribed locally. Doesn't $1,000 look good to be distributed throughout the district? Do your part and get the share that waits for you. It will be more encouraging to see $10 go to a hundred ranches than $100 each to ten. Just about a month remains to get your exhibits in shape.

TESTING APPLES FOR KEEPING QUALITIES.

Mr H. Thornber of the Horticultural Branch of the Agricultural Department, Victoria, has spent several days this week in this district selecting specimen apples for experimental work at Victoria. For several years the department have been experimenting on the storage qualities of our standard varieties of apples gathered from various sections of the province and grown under varied conditions. Two boxes each of fourteen varieties were collected here by Mr Thornber for this purpose. It is probable that a bulletin giving the results of the experiments for the past several years will be issued soon.

NO DATE ARRIVED AT YET.

Advice by mail from Kelowna last week-end stated that though it was still impossible to state definitely when the expected visit of Dr McGuire, of Vancouver, newly appointed Provincial Prohibition Organizer, would materialize, it was thought that it would be about the 9th inst. It now seems unlikely, however, that any meeting can be held before next week. Telegraphic advice is to be sent to the various towns in the constituency when it becomes known when Dr McGuire will reach Kelowna. Delegates have been appointed to attend a meeting to be held in the Orchard City, when steps will be taken to put the provincial constitution of South Okanagan into an efficient organized condition, in order that prohibition sentiment may be diligently extended throughout the smaller districts.

IT is not always the most expensive Teas that are the best to brew or drink.

The most important point to consider about tea is its suitability for brewing in the water of a particular district. Tea that would be good here, and brew into a splendid fragrant beverage, might be a rank failure somewhere else.

We buy our teas to suit the water of this district. You are therefore sure of getting tea that is all that tea should be—fragrant, refreshing and thirst-quenching. A trial will make you a constant user.

Every Home in Canada should have A UNION JACK

There are not enough Union Jacks in Canada

In other countries on days of rejoicing or National Anniversaries flags are unfurled from almost every housetop or window. Canadians are just as loyal, but unfortunately they find themselves short of flags.

In almost every place in Canada there is a movement on foot now to see that the Old Flag is floating from every Canadian home. The newspapers have been asked to assist in the distribution.

The Review has agreed to undertake the distribution in this district, and our readers can secure a real good Union Jack, in fast colors, size 5 x 8, for only

$1.10

At this price there is no reason why every home in the district should not have a Union Jack floating on all occasions in future.

Summerland, B.C.,
October 6, 1915.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,
It seems to have been inferred from my letter of a few weeks ago, that I am a dairy specialist and desirous of pushing that industry to the exclusion of fruit growing. My aim is quite the opposite.

I regret that I have not the available capital to enable me to demonstrate what I believe must be more generally practiced in Summerland. I believe we can grow fruit here unsurpassed in quality and attractiveness. But in full acknowledgement of wonderful climatic conditions and suitable soil I can see but one way to an independent and prosperous community here.

If we look we can see stories written all over the American continent of robbed soil. How many orchards in Summerland have been fertilized since the trees were planted? The mechanical condition of the soil has been improved in some lots by turning under green crops, but what has been done to replace the nitrogen, the phosphoric acid, and the potash transferred to the trees, and how long are the trees going to supply us with high class fruit, peaches or apples; either, unless we put back at least as much as we have taken away?

The example given in my former letter was mainly to show how a poor unproductive farm can be made to pay a profit by employing a remunerative—in our case side—industry, that will also increase the productive power of the soil and, with us, raise the standard of our fruit, and help us fight for better prices.

Everyone may not like live stock, but those who do like cows, etc., and can start "stocking up," should not be afraid to undertake keeping from two to five cows on ten acres or less. Cows do not have to run at large on pasturage in order to milk well. Many profitable herds never bit grass except when young or when not milking. In making butter we are selling the least possible from the soil. As Prof. Dean of Guelph has remarked in some of his student lectures, "When we sell butter we sell only sunbeams from the farm."

In Summerland to-day we have approximately 125 milking cows; and yet how many does it require to supply our own tables?

Granted we have 2,000 people living in our municipality; and allowing one pound of butter per week to each, it requires 104,000 pounds per year for our local butter supply.

If we had cows which would give 300 lbs of butter per year each—but we haven't—it would require 346 cows.

Then giving each person 3 pints of milk per week—which is only enough for breakfast—we would need 314,000 pts. in a year.

If our cows give 4,000 lbs. of milk per year it would take 98 more cows. Or to supply us with milk and cream and butter, about 450 cows.

With our ability to grow alfalfa and corn, even if we have to clear a corner of the lot to do it, was there ever a better opportunity for prosperous farming right here on our fruit lots, with a good home market for the products of a most substantial side industry, which will also support that for which we are all striving, viz., more and better fruit and larger profits.

Yours truly,
A. A. DERRICK.

NO EDITORS IN PENITENTIARY.

The Prison Mirror, published in the penitentiary of the state of Minnesota says: "Why is it that from the first inception of our paper we have never had an editor to sojourn in our midst? Other professions have been well represented. Of preachers we have had enough to furnish substance to an African chief for a year; of doctors sufficient in number to depopulate a state, and of lawyers enough to establish a good sized colony in Hades. But editors—not one.

IT'S A FORD!

Beat it, beat it, little car,
How I wonder what you are,
Climbing up the hill so high,
Passing all the others by;
As it passed the first man tussled,
While the second mildly cursed,
But the last man yelled and roared,
"You can't stop it, it's a Ford!"

James Mitchell, son of Mr and Mrs J. J. Mitchell, returned from Lacombe, Alberta, on Saturday.

Monday next, October 11th, is Thanksgiving Day, and will be observed generally as a holiday by the local places of business.

In connection with the Methodist Church a Sale of Work will be held at West Summerland on Wednesday, November 17th. Further particulars later.

Mrs J. B. Robinson of Peachland, accompanied by her son George, drove down on Thursday, and were guests with Mrs Lipsett until Friday afternoon.

After being laid aside for nearly four months with a broken leg, Mr Arthur Britten is again moving about. Though not yet able to dispense with his crutches Mr Britten is making satisfactory recovery.

Mrs C. F. Garnett, her sister Miss De Thoren, and three children board the boat this evening en route to England. They will sail on the American liner "St. Louis," from New York. Miss Sheila Sutherland will accompany them.

Friends here will be interested in knowing that J. W. S. Logie is just now making Chicago his headquarters, where he represents a house manufacturing surgical appliances. It is probable, however, that Mr Logie will return south this fall.

Under the direction of Mr Arkell, the culvert crossing the creek just above the power plant reservoir, has been thoroughly rebuilt. For some time the old wood bridge has been considered none too safe. As rebuilt the culvert is a great deal shorter, the sides being of stone.

Mr K. S. Hogg is this week enjoying a visit by his father and sister, Rev. Dr Hogg and Miss Anna Hogg of Winnipeg, who reached here on Saturday. The visitors plan on going to Peachland to spend a few days with Dr Hogg's son there, R. J. Hogg, after which they will proceed to Victoria.

Another car of horses, twenty-five in all, were shipped to Calgary on Wednesday evening. This makes the third carload of horses to go from Summerland to Calgary this summer. L. C. Woodworth went to the Alberta metropolis in charge of the horses, and it is understood that he will bring back a carload of beef cattle.

The Ambulance League has found a very energetic and helpful band of supporters for their work in the girls of Miss Rothwell's class at the Public School. Under the guidance of their teacher, the girls have taken up with their nimble fingers such useful work as knitting, and the preparation of other necessary articles that will bring comfort and relief to many a soldier hero away off "somewhere in France."

The Wright Brothers have started work on their new house. The building is to be a thoroughly modern two-storey bungalow, built on a concrete foundation, with full size basement. Men are now at work doing the necessary excavating on the site of the former cottage, and immediately the wall is ready Contractor H. Tomlin and a crew of men will rush the erection of the building.

The Ladies' Aid of St Andrew's Church began their activities for the season by holding their first meeting at the home of Mrs T. Ramsay on Thursday last. There was a large attendance of the women of the congregation and a fine spirit of enthusiasm for their winter's work was manifest. At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served, Mrs J. J. Mitchell assisting Mrs Ramsay in the duties of hostess.

Harvest festival services were held last Sunday in St Stephen's Church, conducted by the rector, Rev. H. A. Solly. The services were successful in every way, and the sermon and services will no doubt long be remembered by those who were privileged to attend. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the work being done by the ladies of the church, under the direction of Mrs Solly. Fruit and vegetables, mixed with flowers and foliage, were tastefully arranged across the altar and down the aisle, as well as at the rear. Following the usual custom the fruit and vegetables were later distributed among needy members, a portion also sent to the Hospital.

Dr T. B. Turner will spend Monday of each week here. pn5

Dan Rutherford has been laid up for some days with a bruised foot caused by his horse stepping on it.

It is understood that Mrs J. R. Tate, who left here last Thursday for Saskatoon, accompanied by her young son, has accepted a school in that district.

After Sunday next, October 10th, the Sunday boat and train service that has been maintained by the C.P.R. during the soft fruit season will be discontinued.

S. A. Liddell is among the more recent recruits from Summerland at the Vernon camp. Mr Liddell went up to enlist in the Army Medical Corps

Mr H. O. Hatt, brother of Rev. D. E. Hatt, who has been in Alberta for some weeks, has returned to Summerland, and, we believe, intends to make this his home.

During a short but rather severe gale early on Tuesday morning, the chimney which has been standing unsupported since the burning of H. C. Mellor's house, fell over into the cellar.

The second sale since his recent appointment as local Ford dealer, has been made this week by B. L. Hatfield, he having booked an order for a five-passenger touring car for Mr G. M. Ross for immediate delivery.

Mr A. D. Robertson of the Head Office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Philadelphia, reached here last night on a short visit to his sisters, Mrs W. H. Hayes and Mrs Wm. Kerr. Some seven or eight years ago Mr Robertson made a short visit to Summerland.

Mr C. Wright, son of Rev. J. Knox Wright, after some weeks spent with the Dominion Express Co. here during the rush of the soft fruit shipping season, left last Saturday morning for the Coast. It is possible he may return here a little later, if he does not go east to resume college work.

In the Baptist Churches on Sunday next, October 10th, services will be held emphasizing the thought of Thanksgiving. The morning service at 10.30 a.m. will be held in the Parkdale Baptist Church. In the evening at the Lakeside, 7 p.m. the united Methodist and Baptist choirs will lead in the singing.

A Naramata subscriber, Mr J. M. Myers, has brought into the Review Office an apple specimen that is something of a pomological curiosity. It is a double apple from a Jonathan tree, with two distinct cores, and two stalks that appear to have been connected with a single stalk on the tree. The apples themselves have grown into one another, or possibly formed from a double blossom.

E. Mountford returned from Vernon on Tuesday evening where he had expected to enlist with the Army Medical Corps. Some years ago Mr Mountford had the misfortune to suffer a broken ankle, and it was fear of this giving out again that caused the authorities to reluctantly reject him from entering the service, although Mr Mountford himself offered to take the financial responsibility any such breakdown might entail.

For many of the boys who were seen in last winter's basketball games, bomb-throwing into the German lines instead of ball-throwing into the net will be the winter sport. Nevertheless among those who are left, the shortening evenings have brought back thoughts of basketball, and one of the first games likely to materialize this season may be a fixture between teams representing the Town and the Wests. Proceeds will go to the treasury of the Ambulance League.

The special Thanksgiving Services in connection with St Andrew's Church will be held on Sunday and Monday, October 17th and 18th. The community is fortunate in having another opportunity of hearing Rev. A. Dunn of Knox Church, Kelowna, one of the brilliant preachers of the Presbyterian Church in the West. He will preach in St Andrew's Church morning and evening of Sunday the 17th, and will remain over for Monday evening when he will give an illustrated lecture in the church. Refreshments served by the Ladies' Aid of St Andrew's Church on Monday evening at the close of the lecture.

Mrs George Armstrong has gone to Viscount, Saskatchewan, where she will visit with friends for a few weeks.

On Friday last the members of the West Summerland Choir of the Methodist Church were entertained at the home of Mr and Mrs J. L. Logie.

Roy Darkis returned from Vernon on Friday, where he had enlisted. Being considerably under age he was given his discharge at the request of his parents.

Presbyterian services will be held next Sunday morning in St Andrew's Church and at 3 p.m. in the Methodist Church. Rev. C. H. Daly will conduct both services.

Miss Kate Findlay of the Winnipeg General Hospital nursing staff has been spending her vacation with her parents in Kaleden and here with her sister, Mrs Jas. Ritchie.

Dr C. A. Jackson, dentist, will pay his regular visit to Summerland next Tuesday, Oct. 11th, occupying Dr Andrew's office, West Summerland, and remaining till the end of the week.

Rev. Dr Hogg, for several years an honored minister in the city of Winnipeg, who is now visiting with his son, K. S. Hogg, will preach next Sunday morning in St Andrew's Church.

Mrs Newick of Hazelton, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs Lee, has returned to Hazelton, taking with her Eustace, the eldest son of Rev. and Mrs Lee. Mrs Lee accompanied them as far as Vernon.

S. R. Fraser is the latest who answers the call of the great vogue and becomes an owner of the "universal car." He has purchased the Ford runabout familiar all over the district as that formerly owned by Dr Andrew.

Two cars of lumber were being unloaded on Tuesday at the K.V.R. station for T. N. Ritchie. He expected a car of lime, plaster and cement to follow. Mr Ritchie is looking for a fair amount of building activity this fall and winter.

A shipment of cantaloupes sent to Vancouver from Summerland has, according to the Province, broken all records for size, weight and quality. These were on display in one of the leading grocery stores of that city. This, we believe, refers to some melons sent from here by Mr J. L. Hilborn. The weight of one is given as 9 1/2 lbs., with a circumference of 28 in.

Henceforth the plant of the Summerland Lumber Co. will be lighted by electricity. For some days past T. P. Thornber has been busy installing the electrical equipment which will be a part of the factory machinery. The generator will be driven by a separate engine, and will furnish light for the sawmill and box factory, also the bunk house, the eating house, blacksmith shop, stable, and the manager's house, and probably some of the cottages and shacks of the workmen.

Methodist services will be conducted on Sunday next by Rev. R. W. Lee. Sunday being Dominion Thanksgiving Day, the addresses will be suitable to the occasion. The morning subject will be "An Empire's Paradoxes."

At the evening service at 7 p.m. in St Andrew's Church, the subject of discourse will be "An Empire's Trials, Afflictions and Conquests." A hearty invitation is extended to all. The annual Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held on Sunday, October 24th, when the preacher will be the Rev. W. Laahley Hall, B.A., B.D., ex-president of the B.C. Methodist Conference. Mr Hall is a cultured, eloquent divine, and has risen to the highest positions in the Methodist Church in Canada. As an expert in sociology he has few equals, representing the B.C. Conference on the General Board of Social Service of Canada. He is an author of some reputation, his book on "The Continuity of Revelation," being a work which gave him a high place in theological circles. He has just completed, at the request of the Methodist Conference a biography of the late Rev. Dr Ebenezer Robinson, one of the pioneers of B.C. Mr Hall, who is an old friend of Rev. R. W. Lee, will preach in Summerland on the date mentioned Mr Lee occupying Mr Hall's pulpit at Revelatoko.

Vernon Camp As A Visitor Sees It.

One of the most disappointed men we have seen for some time was E. T. Mountford who returned from the Vernon Camp on Tuesday evening, having been turned down from the Field Ambulance through a weak ankle. Ernie thinks it only fair that the people of this district should know exactly how he found conditions at the camp in comparison to what he expected to find them from rumors and talk he heard before going up.

I. That there would be little to do except to attend to a whole group of men who were in hospital through association with prostitutes.

II. The men were not half or properly fed.

III. That the men lounged about half their time and did practically no drilling.

IV. Sanitary conditions fearful.

What he found was:
I. The first thing to be noticed was the exceptionally high standard of morality of the whole camp; that instead of wards full of patients they could be counted on the fingers, to be correct eight.

The Y.M.C.A. have three large tents made into one, and every night it is filled with soldiers from all regiments. The Y.M.C.A. provides free writing materials and games, the piano and songs going on pretty nearly all the time. Sunday evening the place was packed. The secretary of the Y.M.C.A. calling on the men for favorite hymns, and an address was given by a soldier named Bennett, which was a straight talk and very much to the point, after which the secretary asked all who had not written home to do so.

There is a certain amount of drunkenness, especially about pay time, but nothing to what one generally sees in a military town.

The M.P.'s (military police) are very much in evidence in the town, and there is not allowed any intoxicants in camp.

II. Mush, bacon, beans and potatoes or beans and onions, bread and butter and coffee for breakfast. Meat, sometimes soup and meat, potatoes, bread and jam for dinner. Meat of some kind, vegetable, bread and butter and jam for supper, being under canvas this is not served up with table cloths, etc., but the grub is there good, well cooked, and plenty of it.

III. The men average six and half hours drill every day, with perhaps a couple of route marches, from 8 to-15 miles, a week, thrown in.

IV. For such rumors to be spread about is really a scandal. He says whoever may be the responsible authorities in camp, it is a fact that they deserve great praise for the cleanly way things are run. Some difference between what was expected and what was actually found!

Miss Olive B. Gummow of Garnett Valley is spending Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr and Mrs J. N. Gummow of Peachland.

Will Angove of the Army Medical Corps, came down from Vernon on Monday on a surprise visit to his home here. He expected to return this morning, but was recalled to camp by telegram on Wednesday with the intimation that a detachment of medicals, himself included, would leave for England on Friday. He went up the lake on Thursday.

The show given in Empire Hall on Monday night this week by "Kingston and White, Komedy Entertainers," was good enough in itself, but it shared the fate of all other insufficiently advertised entertainments, empty seats predominating in the hall. The company of three put on a program of six numbers, of which the first and last might possibly be called the most entertaining, because of their unusual nature. In the first item, two small stands, two shallow dishes, three oranges, and a dancing skeleton were made to perform some weird convulsions at the behest of the lady magician, who finally disappeared herself very mysteriously in midair. The last act was a slack wire feature, in which an agile equilibrist went through some Blondin-like performances, such as sliding and dancing, treading a hoop along, climbing a ladder and swinging the wire while on it. Of the other numbers the trick violinist was also good. It did not matter in what position the violin was, on his head, behind his back, between his knees, or anywhere else, the tune seemed to come just the same. The intervening acts were full of jokes and crossfire with plenty of local point.

LOCALS.

Lawrence Hatfield, now of the Army Service Corps, Vernon, came down on Sunday night to visit his many friends in the old home town. He returned this morning. About the 15th it is thought that the bulk of the men at Vernon will be moved to the Coast.

G. R. Hookham, who was expecting to leave on Thursday for England, has been able to postpone his departure till to-morrow, Saturday, owing to an alteration in the date of the sailing of the White Star liner, "Adriatic," on which he has taken passage. Mr Hookham will enter upon military service in England, having reasonable expectations of qualifying for a commission.

OBITUARY.

Phyllis Mary Carroll Fosbery.

Death came very ruthlessly into the home of Mr and Mrs Wm. C. W. Fosbery, about midnight on Tuesday, and claimed for its own their only child, Phyllis. Sad news spreads apace, and it was with great sorrow that neighbors and friends throughout the district learned the intelligence on Wednesday morning. She had contracted whooping-cough, now so prevalent in that section, but it was not until Sunday evening that anything unduly alarming was noticed. A constitution none too robust made the way easier for any complications, and it was from the development of pneumonia that death was due.

She was six years of age on her last birthday in January, born in Summerland in 1909. Apparently always a bright child, she was often seen out driving with her parents, in which way many people came to know her. As late as last Sunday she was out, and that evening her illness took a serious turn. On Tuesday a trained nurse arrived from Kelowna, but the best of care from doctor and nurse could not avert the end.

The funeral was held on Thursday morning. A service was held at St. Stephen's Church, at which the Rector, Rev. H. A. Solly, officiated. Interment was made in the Anglican cemetery. The large concourse of friends who attended these services showed the depth of sympathy that is felt for the parents bereft so suddenly. The pall bearers were Messrs W. H. Milligan, A. McLachlan, R. H. Holmer, and Mm. Kerr. Many floral tributes in the form of wreaths, crosses and bouquets made another evidence of the mute sympathy of the many counting themselves also mourners with Mr and Mrs Fosbery, who are numbered among the pioneer residents of the district.

Apples For Trenches And Hospitals.

The movement to send from this Valley several thousand boxes of apples for our soldiers who are fighting in the trenches in France or Flanders is meeting with general favor. The Ambulance League here are interesting themselves in the work, and the Fruit Union has undertaken to receive and ship all apples brought in.

It is hoped to make up at least a carload from here, and this will be easily accomplished if each orchard contributes a few boxes. The ladies are making an effort to canvass the district, but do not hope to be able to see all. They would prefer that all who will contribute bring in their apples during the next week not later than Saturday, October 23.

There are 200 aliens in the internment camp at Revelstoke.

One half of the automobiles in the United States are owned by farmers.

Nearly 200 Cars of Pentiction Fruit This Year.

Summed up by a statistician in that town, fruit shipments from Pentiction for this present season are classified and totalled as follows:

Freight shipment of peaches	cars	30
Mixed cars of fruit		15
Cars of apples already shipped		35
Still to ship—estimated		30
Express shipments all fruits		29
Other shipments—miscellaneous		6
Fruit sold to cannery		50

Total 195

As far as can be ascertained this crop was grown on the orchard area in the municipality of Pentiction, and probably one thousand acres of orchards at Kaleden. This means that this crop was taken from less than five thousand acres of orchard, not a tree of which is more than ten years old, the majority of them not more than seven years old, and quite a number very much younger. It is possible that a few peaches used at the cannery came from Naramata and Summerland, but the total from these quarters would not exceed five or six tons.

Here are 1914 figures given by the same authority, but exclusive of cannery business:

Freight shipments of peaches	cars	27
Mixed cars of fruit		15
Cars of apples		43
Express shipments, all fruits		17

Total 102

Fall Fair Will Be One Week Earlier.

New Dates Nov. 3rd and 4th

To avoid any possible conflict with the course of nursing lectures to be held early next month by the West Summerland Women's Institute, it has been decided to alter the dates for the Summerland Fall Fair from November 10th and 11th to one week earlier. This will bring the Fair on Wednesday and Thursday, November 3rd and 4th. Exhibitors and others should take especial note of this, and bear in mind that it leaves less than three weeks in which to prepare their exhibits.

AMBULANCE LEAGUE

On account of the Sunday School Convention to be held in Summerland next week, the Ambulance League meeting which was to have been held on Thursday afternoon has been changed to next Monday afternoon, October 18th, in Elliott's Hall.

Tea will be served to any of the workers who care for it at a charge of ten cents.

Any citizens who have jam for the soldiers are asked to send it in at once, as the shipment of jam is to be sent off next week.

Meeting of Hospital Board.

The need for more room at the Hospital is so urgent that the Hospital Society at its regular meeting on Tuesday decided to finish one of the rooms on the upper floor.

To supply coal for the winter it was decided to hold a Tag Day during the Fall Fair.

The Hospital has been offered a wheel chair costing, when new, $80, at half price, the payment to be made in apples. The offer was accepted, and contributions of the apples necessary will be gladly received.

BIRTHS.

BEATTIE.—On Friday, October 8th, at the Summerland Hospital, a daughter, to Mr and Mrs Wm. Beattie.

THORNBER.—To Mr and Mrs T. P. Thornber, at the Summerland Hospital, on Saturday, October 9th, a son.

Better Irrigation Distribution Before Electric Light Extension

Electrician Makes Proposals For Largely Increased Light Service.

Council Urged To Help Towards Bringing Big Jam Concern Here.

Most of the accumulated business before the Council having been cleaned up the week before, the regular session on Saturday last was not a long one.

ASK EXTENSION OF ELECTRIC LIGHT.

There were present several citizens to interview the Council on various matters. J. H. Bowering, representing a group of about ten householders in his immediate neighborhood, came before the Council again asking for electric light, this time with a definite proposition. Estimates had been prepared showing a revenue of not less than $150 yearly. Considerable of the necessary material was already on hand, while to further induce the Council to immediately proceed with the work $100 cash in advance against rates, and a goodly portion of the labor were promised, making the net cash outlay for the Council, as given by the applicants, not to exceed $200. The Reeve expressed regret that the estimate and canvass had not included more territory, including his own neighborhood.

Coun. Borton, pronouncing it a good paying proposition, moved that the extension be made at once. The motion failed to carry, however, the Reeve and some of the councillors declaring that provision for better water distribution must first be made. The question was left over to be considered at a later date.

With reference to improving the service on Siwash Flat, Coun. Johnston proposed a public meeting to consider ways and means. The general opinion was that considerable cement lining of ditches must be done this fall, while the lateral fluming might be left till spring. The matter is receiving attention from the Public Works Committee.

WOULD INCREASE ELECTRIC SERVICE.

A proposal to materially increase the capacity of the power plant by utilizing the spring water now running to waste past the plant was made by Electrician James. He pointed out that the 12 h.p. represented in the spring if all converted into electrical energy and sold for lighting at 12c. would yield a revenue of nearly $10,000, or sold for power at 5c, practically $4,000 a year. Used as an auxiliary to the present plant a 24 hour service could be given, and the service greatly extended. Several appliances and instruments were asked for to put the plant in proper condition, including a governor, testing and recording instruments, etc. Trees at some places are touching the wires and drawing off power by grounding, as they brush against the high tension wires.

Further recommendations were that in future all house wiring be inspected by the electrician and those now in bad repair be put in condition to pass inspection by the board of fire underwriters and the local electrician, otherwise the service to be cut off. This would greatly reduce the danger of fires. That meters be placed on verandahs not higher than 7ft. 6in., and that where possible those now in less accessible positions be moved. Poles carrying high tension wires should have iron braces to support the cross arms. The power plant should be fitted with a lavatory, etc. Mr James also submitted estimates on the proposed Bowering extension and another extension to serve Messrs Wilson, Elsoy, and others in that district.

JAM MANUFACTORY.

A citizen interested in the establishing here of the much-needed industries subsidiary to fruit growing, came before the Council reporting what had already been done by private efforts to have a jam factory operated here by a strong financial concern, and urging that, as the Board of Trade was seemingly dead, the Council should take immediate steps to follow up this work to a successful conclusion. Influential co-operation was promised. Thanking the citizen for the information, the Council promised immediate attention.

The arranging with the owner of the adjoining lot, Mr Neve, for the placing of the flume (now on the K.V.R. property just outside his fence) on the inside of the fence, was left with Clerk Logie.

A very complete and interesting report of the Convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities was submitted by Coun. Simpson for himself and Coun. Johnston, Summerland's delegates to the convention which met at Chilliwack.

Paul Kalamalka was paid $15 for his services guiding Couns. Johnston and Borton to the lake, as already told in these columns.

Serious Fire Narrowly Averted

Fire in the brick chimney of the home of Mr and Mrs J. Arkell, next to the Municipal Building, nearly caused the destruction of the house in the early hours of last Monday morning. Shortly before seven o'clock that morning Mr Arkell kindled a fire in the kitchen stove, and soon afterwards it was discovered that the chimney was on fire. Heavy smoke poured from the chimney, and sparks showering down upon the dry shingled roof made a highly dangerous state of affairs. The fire bell of St. Andrew's Church was rung, so that there was plenty of help forthcoming at once, and the garden hose being handy was brought into service. The fire in the chimney seemed to work back into a stovepipe in the front downstairs room, in such a way as to make it necessary to play the hose into this room. The sparks from the chimney were dealt with by Mr Arkell himself with the hose upon the roof. While some damage from fire and water was done to the house, it was with a sense of relief that people learned how narrowly a bad conflagration had been averted.

The Okanagan Valley is included in the districts from which the C.P.R. will carry exhibits free of charge to the exhibition of soil products to be held by the Western Canada Irrigation Association, at Bassano, Alberta, November 23rd to 25th. The dates within which such exhibits must be forwarded are specified as November 10th and 22nd inclusive. The free return of exhibits may also be obtained under certain conditions.

Hon. Martin Burrell Appoints Official Packing Instructors.

Upon the recommendation of Mr R. G. L. Clarke, Dominion Fruit Inspector for B.C., Hon. Martin Burrell, the Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, has approved of the appointment of an official to travel about the communities and isolated ranches, where packing schools are not practicable, and give instruction in the commercial packing of fruit.

B. T. Boyce, who has been with Mr Clark, and made Summerland his headquarters during the soft fruit season, has been given these duties. Mr Boyce has been judging at the Nelson Fair, and will be present at the Grand Forks Fair, after which he will spend most of the month of October travelling through the Arrow Lakes district and the Boundary country.

It is expected that the instruction given growers in these outlying sections will greatly help in making a standard uniform pack from all parts of the province, and also greatly increase the quality of that standard.

The proper packing of fruit is considered by Mr Clark of such great importance in a fruit growing community that he feels that a course in this work should be added to the school curriculums in such districts. In discussing this he pointed out the value of a young lad, on leaving school, being able to grade and pack fruit properly and intelligently. He felt that this matter was such an important subject that all communities should make an effort to have a government packer give periodical instruction along these lines.

In classifying the donations for August the name of Rev. C. H. Daly, who gave four chickens, was inadvertently omitted.

Demand for Fruit in Australia is Unusually Heavy.

Brisk Trade Between Pacific Ports and Antipodes.

The annual fall movement of British Columbia and Washington apples from the Pacific Coast to New Zealand and Australia is opening with a rush that bids fair to establish a new high record. From the present indications the export of apples this season from British Columbia to the Antipodes will be unusually large. Nearly 30,000 boxes of British Columbia apples were shipped out a few days ago aboard the Canadian-Australian liner "Niagara," and the indications are that much larger shipments will be handled by the regular steamships of this line during the next few months.

The movement of Washington fruit via British Columbia ports to the Antipodes promises to be equally large. At least 8,000 boxes of apples were carried by the steamship "President," which sailed from Victoria last Friday night for San Francisco, where the consignment will be transferred to an Australian liner. Washington apples are also being shipped direct to the Antipodes from British Columbia ports.

DR. MCGUIRE NOT COMING TO KELOWNA.

Local prohibitionists will feel keen disappointment in learning that the recent provincial tour of Dr. McGuire, prohibition organizer, terminated this week without any stop being made in the Valley. This will mean that the expected meeting at Kelowna must be postponed indefinitely. It is likely that when the campaign shows some indication of being brought to a head at the polls, Dr. McGuire will make a more thorough trip through the Interior, but in the meantime local friends of the movement must by their own efforts and enthusiasm keep the issue from becoming anything like a dead one.

Sale Of Venison.

To-day, Friday, October 15th, is the last day on which it is lawful to sell deer flesh, and warnings have been issued to dealers and others to the effect that after this date they must have no venison on their premises for sale. The law allows no day of grace for disposing of any venison on hand.

During August 15, 121,500 pounds of fish, mostly salmon were handled at Prince Rupert. This beats any port on the Pacific for fish.

HELPING OURSELVES ALONG.

THERE IS LITTLE of benefit to us in this life that comes without we go after it. The way to advancement and expansion lies through effort. This is as true in regard to the community life of a district as it is of any private individual. Most of the institutions that are spoken of "community assets" to the district of Summerland can be traced in their establishment to some hustling on the part of some citizens representing the whole. The lack of an organized body whose business it is to watch the needs of the district closely has in the past resulted in some awkward situations cropping up that never would have been possible under the watchful eye of a wide-awake Board of Trade or some such body. There is little doubt also that golden opportunities for reaping community benefit have slipped by for want of grasping. Summerland is up against this situation right now. Influence is being exerted to induce a large jam manufacturing concern to establish closer connections with the Okanagan in the matter of securing the raw fruit required for its product. This influence has already been largely responsible for the shipment of a number of cars of soft fruit from Summerland to the factory. It is now at work to secure a larger benefit for the district, namely, a personal visit of some high executive officers with a view to investigating the possibilities of establishing a plant at the source of the supply of the raw material.

It was rightly pointed out at the Council meeting last Saturday that something to help the arrangements along might be done from this end. The district owes a good deal to its benefactor in the east who is putting in such sterling work for the general good of Summerland, and the best way of showing gratitude would be to bestir ourselves into some kind of organized activity. It is not the work of the Council to deal with such matters. The pressure of domestic affairs is sufficient to occupy that body well enough. Are there not enough public-minded men in Summerland who will sacrifice the small amount of time and energy that would be called for, in order to help the advancement of the district? Think what it means to Summerland, and then, decide whether or not it is worth while.

MUNICIPAL VOTERS LIST.

AN ADVERTISEMENT in this issue over the signature of the Municipal Clerk makes it clear that the mere fact of a person purchasing property in the district does not automatically put his name on the list of voters. A tenant or the holder of the last agreement of sale for any property is eligible, but there is the requirement with these conditions that certain declarations be made on prescribed forms to be obtained at the Municipal Office. We understand that one of the essential particulars this declaration calls for is that tax levies for 1915 are satisfied on property covered by any agreement of sale upon which registration is sought.

Without question it is a clumsy procedure to go through before one is entitled to a voice in municipal matters, but there is nothing that can be done now beyond accepting the conditions the government has set forth. Whether citizens are in sympathy with the law or not, they should not fail to register as required, and entitle themselves to go to the polls.

The time is fast approaching when, at the end of another municipal year, many mouths that through all the other months give little or no indication of interest in civic affairs will be unstopped, and criticism and praise—the former largely predominating usually—will be vouchsafed from these phlegmatically minded citizens. If these people do not take the trouble to register for a vote as outlined above, they will be less entitled than ever to make themselves heard. The time to manifest interest in what the Council and Trustees are doing is all the time. If you agree with what these bodies are doing, and with the way they are getting over their difficulties, it would do them good to have you tell them so, and if you do not see eye to eye with the responsible civic bodies, your opinion will always receive the consideration to which it is entitled.

The duty of every citizen is to see that he or she gets their vote. It cannot be forced on anyone, but in justice to themselves and the community it is something that no one should neglect.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

"GREAT BRITAIN has given 8 per cent. of its entire population to the colors. South Africa, with an European population of scarcely over 1,250,000, has given over 4 per cent. of its men to quell the rebels. New Zealand comes next with about 3 per cent., and then Australia with 2 1/2 per cent., and of all the self-governing dominions, the most populous, the most wealthy, and the one nearest to the Motherland, has given scarcely 2 per cent. of her population so far in this contest. I do not think we are doing our duty when we are coming up to only one-fourth of what the people in the Mother Country are doing, and not showing so well as South Africa, New Zealand, and Australia. If we had 8 per cent., such as the Motherland, we would have under arms over 600,000 men; if we had as many as South Africa we would have 300,000, as many as New Zealand, 250,000, and as many as Australia 200,000 men. If you say it is too much to expect the people of Canada to do what the people of Great Britain and Ireland are doing, I ask you this question, and ask it in all seriousness: Is it too much to ask the people of Canada to do in proportion one-half what they are doing, that is, 300,000?"

These were the earnest words of a prominent eastern politician at a recruiting meeting a few days ago. The position of Canada in furnishing men for the colors is not very enviable given out in this form and though there has been little evidence of shirking in any part of Canada, it is a fact, that on a population basis, Canada is not where many patriots would like to see her in the matter of recruiting. It is true that this country has had no difficulty in securing the number of men it called for, and if the call were sent out for additional men, no one will say there would be need to call more than once.

It must be admitted, too, that little has been done to undertake systematic recruiting in the rural districts. The cities have largely made up our Canadian regiments. In many cases men who have volunteered from rural districts have had to travel considerable distances at their own expense to reach a recruiting station, and while the ultra-patriotic do not balk at such little difficulties, it is a situation that many do not look upon with favor.

It is refreshing, therefore, to learn that a change in the recruiting system is contemplated by the militia authorities to take effect during the coming winter. The allocation of all troops at present recruited and mobilized throughout the Dominion has already been arranged for. Battalions in some cases have been divided up in order that all localities in which recruiting has been considerable will have an opportunity to billet a certain number.

So far as other centres are concerned it is anticipated that recruiting will be encouraged in them throughout the winter, as soon as authorization for troops is received. In this connection billeting will be permitted in the case of villages under 1,000 population, who raise a minimum of 20 men, in the case of the villages over 1,000 a minimum of 50; towns of 4,000 a minimum of 100, and towns over 4,000 a minimum of 250, or a half company. In other words those centres who desire men must undertake to raise them.

That Summerland will raise its quota for home billeting is not beyond the bounds of reasonable possibility. In fact, with intelligent recruiting methods it is quite likely that it will be achieved, for it is known that young men totalling a score or more are now seriously contemplating joining the colors when fall work is done.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessees may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

IT is not always the most expensive Teas that are the best to brew or drink.

The most important point to consider about tea is its suitability for brewing in the water of a particular district. Tea that would be good here, and brew into a splendid fragrant beverage, might be a rank failure somewhere else.

We buy our teas to suit the water of this district. You are therefore sure of getting tea that is all that tea should be—fragrant, refreshing and thirst-quenching. A trial will make you a constant user.

There are not enough Union Jacks in Canada

In other countries on days of rejoicing or National Anniversaries flags are unfurled from almost every housetop or window. Canadians are just as loyal, but unfortunately they find themselves short of flags.

In almost every place in Canada there is a movement on foot now to see that the Old Flag is floating from every Canadian home. The newspapers have been asked to assist in the distribution.

The Review has agreed to undertake the distribution in this district, and our readers can secure a real good Union Jack, in fast colors, size 5 x 3, for only

$1.10

At this price there is no reason why every home in the district should not have a Union Jack floating on all occasions in future.

While it is uncertain just how many delegates will arrive on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning for the Convention, billets have been secured for not less than fifty or sixty persons. On the arrival of the boat on Tuesday evening, the delegates will be escorted by the Boy Scouts to the Men's Club, where they will be allocated to their respective billets.

On Wednesday, when the convention sessions are to be held in St. Andrew's Church, lunch will be served in the Parkdale Baptist Church, and for supper that night the homes in the district are being opened to the delegates.

On Thursday the Convention is to meet in session at the Lakeside Baptist Church, lunch that day being arranged for in the Men's Club, while for supper, an arrangement similar to the previous day will obtain.

The program printed above indicates that the Convention promises sessions of great helpfulness and inspiration to Sunday School workers. It is hoped that the people of Summerland, who are interested will support the meetings as far as possible by their attendance.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

The regular monthly meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute held last Friday was very well attended. The roll call was answered by naming some thing for which to be thankful.

Rev C. H. Daly gave a very interesting talk on "What to See and What Not to See." He said we always see just what we want to. No matter how busy we are we must not crowd the good out of life. Don't let hardship and discouragement keep anyone down.

Miss Spencer spoke next on "Waste in Orchards," pointing out the folly of not caring for trees so as to get the best from them. She also outlined an ideal plant, to which all the fruit would be taken. The best fruit would be packed and shipped. Fruit too ripe would be made into jam. Vinegar would also be made and fertilizer manufactured from all refuse. The plant would be handled in the same way as the pork packing plants. She then suggested that ladies could make up fruit, pickles, candied cherries, etc. They could find a profitable market in the cities.

Miss Dale gave a good paper on "The Canning of Meats." One could buy while the prices were low, say in the winter, and lay up a supply for the summer. Mrs Cartwright followed with her own way to cure and smoke meats. Both were practical papers, with recipes. The Nursing Lectures will be held from the 11th to the 18th of November, in St. Stephen's Parish Hall. The lectures are free to members. Any person joining now will be a member of the Institute for 1916.—Contributed.

An effort is being made by the bond holders of the B.C. Portland Cement Company, the concern which recently built a large plant at Princeton, to re-organize the company. The desire is to straighten out tangled financial affairs with a view to being in readiness to manufacture as soon as business conditions warrant.

Citizens Say, Let's Run Our Own Union.

Committee Of Three To Look Into The Question.

The regular monthly meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held on Friday evening, and was attended by an even dozen or so enthusiasts. The main outcome of the discussions was a decision to call for a citizens meeting on Tuesday evening to discuss two matters not directly related to the work of the Institute. One was the question of repairs to the dam, and the other related to the Fruit Union. It was evident that there exists in the minds of the ranchers a spirit of discontent over the way the raw edge of things in general. Whether matters would be adjusted by withdrawing from the Summerland Union is just the question being debated here at present. In the course of the evening, the president, Mr George Cook occupied the chair, while the regular secretary, Mr J. H. Pushman held the recording pen.

There was a large attendance at Tuesday's meeting when it was decided to authorize a committee to ascertain whether or not it would be desirable and advisable for the Fruit Union members here at Naramata to run their own plant, instead of as at present, as a branch of the Summerland organization. This committee consists of Messrs Cash, Pushman and Schreck. These gentlemen are to bring in a report at an early date. There are certain outstanding difficulties to adjust. One of them is the orchard box problem; another is the question of a suitable packing house. The question too of a slip dock is soon to be a live issue. It was stated that already over twenty-five cars of fruit and vegetables have been shipped this season from Naramata. Future years are sure to be called upon to handle more. Thus the output from the wharf would amply pay for the extra dock service.

The decision in reference to the water problem was to go up to the dam a week from Monday, six or eight men and a team, and erect a big log cabin to provide shelter, and to undertake the improvements to the dam probably next May. The meeting throughout was con-

Thanksgiving Service.

The special service of Thanksgiving conducted in the local church by Rev H. A. Solly of Summerland, was one long to be remembered.

The service was featured by an exceptionally well decorated auditorium. The display of flowers, fruits and vegetables was rendered especially pleasing by the back setting of oregon grape, hop and grape vines, plentifully sprinkled with an assorted array of flowers. Especially attractive was an enlarged cross composed of trailing vines, dotted throughout with fresh flowers, hung directly in front of the pulpit. The whole scheme of the decoration was most pleasing, reflecting very creditably on the skill and taste of the Naramata ladies, who are directly responsible.

The message from the pulpit was a thoughtful interpretation of the harvesters' mission with especial application to the needs of the people at this epoch-marking period in the history of the world. Mr Solly's opinion is that an all-wise Providence is in control of events at the present; that the time for separating the wheat from the chaff has come; and that this can only be done through the agency of the threshing machine of time and events.

Runaway Accident.

Mr John Noyes and Mr D. O. Hughes are this week laid up suffering from injuries received as the result of a runaway accident last Friday, back of Summerland. It appears that the two men went across the lake on Friday morning taking a horse, and rig from Mr Noyes' livery barn, intending to drive to the pre-emption back near Oprey Lake. They had gotten well out of West Summerland when the animal they were driving took fright at the sound of another horse running loose by the road. To make matters worse one line got under the horse's tail. At this the beast started to kick as it ran, and the men had to jump to save their lives, landing heavily on rocky boulders. The animal tore away with the rig from which it eventually worked itself free after making a complete wreck of it.

Mr Noyes' injuries, while not at all serious, will certainly cause him much inconvenience, as his face is badly scratched and one small bone in his shoulder is splintered.

Mr Hughes, having lighted almost square on both heels on the hard rocky surface received a bad jolt which appears to have occasioned certain internal injuries of which at this time of writing little has been ascertained. It is hoped, however, that in a short time Mr Hughes will regain his usual strength.

"Rekadom" the noted ranch home of Mr C. C. Aikins has this week produced a limited quantity of the very choicest strawberries. Who wouldn't live in the Okanagan? Let him go where he's happier!

A carload of apples, intended for export, was loaded on the "Sicamous" Wednesday morning. Every box should have held a little story about Naramata—but they didn't, there's the only rub.

Miss Irene Morgan and her friend, Miss Gerlie Gobe of Penticton were visitors to town on Monday, and while here availed themselves of the opportunity afforded to renew several former friendships.

Mr R. J. McDougall, editor and manager of the Penticton Herald, paid us a brief visit on Monday, as did also his (and our) Mr F. Lorne Roe, who is continuing to work in the interests of the southern paper.

Christian Temperance Union met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs D. O. Hughes. As a provincial campaign is in progress the ladies are interesting themselves in the voters' lists. And when they get good and busy the men will have to look to their laurels.

The story published in this page last week about California growing tomatoes, whose stocks resemble trees can be pretty evenly matched by the stalks in the garden of Mr Mulford. These stocks had been kept trimmed down to the one parent stem which grew and grew, and produced no end of immense, well-formed tomatoes. So, for eight foot tomato vines, come to Naramata.

Mr J. C. Lyons was last week wearing a serious, if not a worried and anxious look. But this week, having had his valuable pair of horses, which had wandered astray, restored to him, he is now wearing the smile of the happy. The animals were found close to Keremeos by a couple of Indians and brought to Week's Stables in Penticton last Saturday, and from whence he brought them on Sunday.

Among the recent registrations at the Syndica House were F. L. McNeil and J. H. Hunter, of Vancouver; J. Lawler, Summerland; G. H. Packer, Okanagan Mission; Thos. Hewitt and Arthur Hewitt, of Penticton; Lance Corporal Grundy, of the 54th Kootenays, H. J. Pitman, of the 47th, Roy Danks and George Craig, Summerland; R. J. McDougall, Penticton; Messrs Fred and George Anderson, Summerland; and F. W. Rolt, of town.

The annual chicken shoot conducted on Thanksgiving Day in the afternoon by T. H. Boothe, was a fine success. The crowd while not large was plentifully dotted with crack shots, from "here, there and all over," resulting in having the birds pretty well distributed. The best scores of the day were made by Mr E. H. Hancock of Town, with close seconds in Fred Anderson and George Anderson, of Summerland, and Sherwood Davies of Naramata. The proceedings of the afternoon were greatly enlivened by the presence of the young boys of town, who conducted a "side show" all their own on another part of the grounds, away from the men.

The Whist Drive at the home of Mrs Dan McKay on Monday evening was marked by a record crowd and a record sum to donate to Red Cross funds. Mrs McKay was supported in her efforts as hostess by Mrs Ireland and Mrs A. Wilson. The spacious apartments had been tastefully decorated for the occasion. The ten tables were not quite sufficient to accommodate the number that came, so the overflow passed a pleasant time at a large table playing other card games. Not the least pleasing part of the program was the fine luncheon provided in the course of the play. The winners of the prizes were Mrs Mitchell for the ladies and Mr George Cook for the gentlemen, while the consolation prizes were won by Mrs Aldridge and Guy Ireland. Guy appears to have the good fortune to win something every time. On this occasion he received a miniature wooden set of miner's tools, shovel, axe and pick. Taken as a whole the evening was most enjoyably spent and the crowd went away wishing that they could have at least one such evening every week or so throughout the winter.

Taking Large Quantities of Vegetables

Dessicated Factories in Valley Already Out For Business.

Mention was made in the Review a week or two ago of the establishment in the Valley by the R. J. Graham Co. of Belleville, Ont., of plants for the manufacture of dessicated vegetable products. One plant is to be set up at Vernon, and another at Kelowna, where the canner building has already been leased. Machinery for both factories is now on the way.

The Graham plant in Belleville has orders for dessicated vegetable products from the French Government which their present plant can not fully supply. Local products have reached the maximum point, and it is cheaper to build other plants in the West than to ship vegetables in bulk to the parent establishment and increase its productive capability. Hence the determination to erect plants in this province, where there is an enormous production of various vegetables, which sometimes, for lack of a market, go begging for buyers. Two factories are also being established at the Coast.

Under the dessicating process, the surplus of water, amounting to upwards of 95 per cent. of the vegetables' weight, is eliminated, without the flavor and food value of the vegetables being destroyed. At the front, or on the trail, the water is added, and the food served in practically its original form.

The factories in the Valley are already demanding large quantities of vegetables. They will take all the onions available in the Valley, all the surplus potatoes, practically all the carrots and turnips and a large quantity of celery. While the prices offered do not seem very high, it is claimed that grown in quantity the vegetable growers will find the new market for their product well worth their attention.

The prices that are understood to be going are: onions, $13 per ton; potatoes, $8 per ton; carrots and turnips, $9 per ton. The price for celery has not been learned.

An instance of what can be done at these prices is seen in the case of a 5 1/2 acre ranch at Kelowna. The owner gathered a crop of 205 tons of onions as his crop, practically all of them grading No. 1. At $13 per ton, this means a total return of $2,665, or about $500 per acre. This may sound like a story out of a boosting booklet, but in reality it is another instance of "truth being stranger than fiction."

VISIT OF REV. A. DUNN APPRECIATED.

Very successful and interesting Thanksgiving services were held in St. Andrew's Church last Sunday and Monday. The decoration committee carried out a plan that involved considerable labor and manifested artistic talent.

The special preacher on Sunday was Rev. A. Dunn, of Kelowna. He is not a stranger in Summerland, and fully sustained his reputation as an interesting and forceful preacher.

On Monday evening a social gathering was held in the Church, when a program of songs and readings preceded a lecture on India by Mr. Dunn. Having lived in this most important British possession for several years, Mr. Dunn made his subject very real to his hearers. Good sized audiences gathered at each of the meetings, and all will carry pleasant memories of this last Thanksgiving celebration of St. Andrew's Church.

BIG PRICES BUT FEW EGGS.

Vancouver, Oct. 18. — Another five cents has been added to the retail price of strictly fresh eggs. Most of the stores are to-day quoting them at 65 cents per dozen, and the prediction is freely made that they will go above 75 cents unless the present supply is augmented, which is hardly likely owing to the fact that so many chickens were killed last spring when the price of feed was high. With the higher price the demand for eggs has fallen off, but this condition has failed to check the rising tendency.

RECORD DAY'S SHIPMENT.

Seven Cars Fruit and One Car Horses.

The C.P.R. is experiencing a big increase this year in shipments from Summerland, and on Wednesday the district made a record for itself in the volume of outward traffic. There were that night six cars of apples and one car of horses loaded on to the barge for shipment north. There was also delivered the same day at the C.P.R. wharf a car of apples billed for Kelowna for re-shipment. On Monday night of this week five carloads of fruit were sent out. Wednesday's record was made by the addition of the carload of horses, as during the soft fruit season six cars of fruit had been sent out on one day.

NOW AT COLUMBIA.

John McLeod, who so efficiently filled the position of Physical Instructor last year at Okanagan College, is now holding a similar position at Columbia College, New Westminster. Mr. McLeod is not the only one of Okanagan College faculty now teaching at Columbia. Miss K. C. McLeod is there as Lady Principal and instructor in English, duties identical to those she performed here at Okanagan. At least one former student of Okanagan, Miss Dorothy Wilson, is continuing studies at Columbia. There are besides some students there who purposed coming to Okanagan, had it not been temporarily closed. Columbia College is under the direction of the Methodists of B.C.

Rural Mail Service Will Be Interrupted.

Pond Refuses To Be Lowered.

Looking For Sources Of Supply.

The trouble with the pond that is flooding the road between the Dobbin and Rose properties south of Giant's Head has not yet been terminated. In fact it looks as though matters were becoming more complicated. This is the road traversed by the mail courier, and a number of residents of that section have been fearing that they would be deprived of their daily mail service. For some days the pond has been gotten around by going through the Rose property, this being a temporary arrangement pending the draining of the pond which was undertaken by the Reeve.

Though considerable preparation was made for the draining of the pond the result has not been satisfactory. Possibly not so much because of the failure of the opening made to take care of a considerable volume of water, as because the source or sources of supply are much greater in volume than was believed, thus keeping the pond up or nearly up to the same level.

Some of the residents of that section have maintained that the water main along the road was leaking, but the municipal officials have been working on the theory that the pond was caused by seepage from surrounding orchards, and perhaps from ditches. Recently, however, valves have been placed in the pipe so that the section in the vicinity of the pond could be cut out entirely.

In the meantime the question of the interference of the mail service is bothering the officials. Mr. Rose having forwarded instructions to his agent here to have his fences put up, and trespass forbidden. The law describes the offence of obstructing roads traversed by His Majesty's mail as an indictable one. It is said that although our municipal officials do not admit responsibility, they are endeavoring to arrange for the delivery of the mail by having the courier go round the block.

The Ambulance League meets in St. Stephen's Hall next Monday at 2.30. The League has asked the Rev. Mr. Dunn to express their thankfulness to the Methodist Church for the use of the Men's Club Parlors for sowing purposes, and also to Mr. A. B. Elliott who has so kindly offered the use of Elliott's Hall free of cost.

Sunday School Dist. Convention

Two Full Days of Helpful and Interesting Lectures and Discussions.

At the eleventh annual convention of the Okanagan District Sunday School Association, held in Summerland on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, the hard times may have been responsible for a slight decrease in the number of delegates attending from the more distant points in the Valley, but there was nevertheless a splendid enthusiasm at the gatherings, which shows how Sunday School work is a really live interest in the lives of many people. Fifty-three delegates from outside points registered with the secretary during the convention, and this number takes no account of the considerable number of local friends who were in constant attendance.

The meetings opened at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, and sessions were held morning, afternoon, and evening there. Local people naturally found it hardest to support the morning sessions by their attendance, but at the informal lunches prepared for the delegates about eighty partook on the first day, and on Thursday when the sessions were held in the lakefront section, over a hundred. On each day the climax of enthusiasm was reached in the evening meetings. It would have been hard on both occasions to find any more room, the churches where these were held being both filled to the utmost by interested and responsive audiences. Not more than half the delegates attending came in on the boat on Tuesday night, more arriving throughout the following day by road and by boat.

Although several of the speakers announced on the program were unable to fulfil their engagements, there was found in the addresses that were given more than enough to make the convention worth while. Prominent among the speakers was Mrs. C. E. Knapp, of Spokane, who is an outstanding figure in Washington state. She delivered in the course of the two days no less than five addresses, and all of them were rich in practical points by reason of her wide experience. It is safe to say that many workers found help for their difficulties in the able way in which Mrs. Knapp dealt with the problems of small schools alike. Her special department is junior girls' work, but her knowledge and experience embraces the whole field of Sunday School work.

Rev. I. W. Williamson, the provincial secretary, was in attendance, and his wonderful energy and spirit could not help but put enthusiasm into the whole convention. He reported on the general outlook for the work at the morning session on Wednesday, and on Thursday afternoon and evening dealt very effectively with the superintendency and general conduct of the Sunday School, and the relation of the Sunday Schools to the prohibition movement. The latter took the form of the gist of a debate, "Wet versus Dry," that has been put into wide use in the United States during temperance campaigns, and always with great results. In this debate a half-hearted License Commissioner advances all the stock arguments in the favor of the licensed saloon, and a complete rebuttal of them all is given by a reformed bartender, who very vigorously shows up the hollowness of the "wet" arguments. The debate itself makes a unique prohibition argument, and if anything in the nature of a campaign is in mind for this district the prohibition supporters could follow no better plan than to stage this debate in its entirety.

On Wednesday evening the feature of the meeting was a sterling address by Mr. Taylor Statton, of Toronto, Secretary of the Boys' Department Work, Y.M.C.A. It was just by chance that Mr. Williamson was able to induce Mr. Statton to attend this convention, and many who heard Mr. Statton owe a new conception of boy life problems to the keen and appreciative insight of the speaker into the boy nature. He showed how vital it is that the Sunday School keep a hold of the boys in their disturbing

Fair Opened by Hon. Price Ellison

Prov. Board of Horticulture Here Same Days.

The Fall Fair to be held on November 3rd and 4th, in which departments have been provided for fruit, vegetables, and live stock and women's handwork, will be opened by the Hon. Price Ellison, the acceptance of the invitation to do so having been received by the Agricultural Society.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Wm. E. Scott, has also intimated to the Association that he is trying to arrange for a meeting of the Provincial Board of Horticulture here on Wednesday, November 3rd, the opening day of the Fair. It is, therefore, practically a certainty that the members of the Board will have an opportunity of taking in the Fair.

The committee in charge of the exhibition are desirous of having entries for hogs sent in at the earliest possible date. It is necessary to build pens for the hogs that will be exhibited, and the committee wish to have sufficient of these but do not wish to expend more on this work than is necessary.

The age limit of the spring pigs has been extended to nine months, thus assuring a greatly increased number of entries.

In preparing copy for the printers, the Yellow Newtown apple was in some way omitted from the Two Box Class shown in the Prize List. This is one of our most important winter apples, and will of course be given a place in that competition.

A special prize of two sacks of oats has been given by John Pierre for best foal from his horse.

Prize Lists and Entry Forms are now ready for distribution. Copies may be obtained from the Secretary, Mr. D. H. Watson.

Want More Apples.

The carload of apples which the ladies of the Ambulance League are endeavoring to collect to be sent forward by the Red Cross for the use of the soldiers in the trenches and in the hospitals, has not yet been made up. There seems to have been some misunderstanding as to the quantity planned on, and several have given single boxes who would willingly have given more. It is necessary that the carload, or whatever quantity is going forward, be made up at once, and the League asks that all who will contribute bring in their apples on Saturday to the Fruit Union.

teen years; how frequently it happens that misunderstandings occur about this time; and how sympathetically it was necessary to approach these problems. Mr. Statton advocated the development of the boys along the same lines as it recorded that the Boy Jesus grew, characterizing those as intellectually, physically, morally, and socially. It was a splendid address on an intensely interesting theme, and the meeting duly showed its appreciation of Mr. Statton's willingness to come out of his way to give it.

G. J. Coulter White as president of the district association for the past year, presided throughout the convention. The election of officers for the new year was held on Thursday afternoon and resulted as follows: President, W. Murgitt, Pontleton. Vice-President, Jos. Ball, Kelowna. Secretary, Treasurer, H. McCall, Peachland.

A rearrangement of department superintendents was made, and divisions were made as follows: Elementary Department, Mrs. Carless, Pontleton. Secondary Department, Mr. H. P. Southam, Pontleton. Adult Department, E. Murgitt, Rutland. The next convention, to be held at a date not yet decided on, will take place at Pontleton.

Wm. Ritchie went out to Calgary on Thursday. He expects to be absent for ten days or two weeks.

Public School Inspector A. Anstey is in town this week making his regular inspection of the schools.

BILLET & TRAIN SOLDIERS HERE.

Movement Started To Get Sufficient Recruits.

If the efforts being made by Messrs. Borton, Watson, and others are successful, Summerland will have a military camp during the coming winter. The decision of the Department of Militia to establish training camps in centres where twenty-five or more recruits are enrolled, has met with instant favor all over the country. A telegram sent to Sir Sam Hughes by Mr. J. M. Robinson, at the request of some of our citizens, received a prompt reply, endorsing the proposition to establish a camp and barracks in Peach Orchard, provided the necessary number were enlisted. Messrs. D. H. Watson and C. N. Borton have interested themselves in the proposition, and have been doing some canvassing, and already have fourteen volunteers. Mr. Watson makes the somewhat surprising statement that after looking over the district, he finds that there are yet fifty eligible young men, so that it seems very probable that the necessary number will be enrolled without difficulty.

Fruit Market Report.

October 16th, 1915.

Vancouver.—Apples are moving freely here this week. In addition to the heavy consignments coming in, jobbers are buying more freely. Brokers state that No. 2 Jonathans from Wenatchee can be laid down here for $1.25 per box. One wholesale firm here that makes a specialty of B.C. fruits, complains that some of the Okanagan organizations are selling apples too low, and that this is having a demoralizing effect on the market, and, if continued, will have a tendency to break the market. There is no necessity for breaking prices for No. 1 grade apples here this season, and selling organizations should be looking toward a gradual advance rather than a lower price.

In sending cars of apples to this city some consideration should be given as to the percentage of sizes contained in each car. While the best selling sizes in Vancouver are from 112 to 168, jobbers are content to take a certain percentage of the larger sizes, but complain very strongly against having to buy large sizes, and pay the same price for these as they would for a larger proportion of smaller sizes.

(Lettergram).—Jonathans are quoted at $1.75, MacIntosh Reds, $1.75 to $1.90. A car of Jonathans lacking color is selling for $1.50. Some jobbers say that they cannot get a price on winter varieties, and that they are going to look to other districts for a supply. Ashcroft potatoes are selling at $15.00 to $18.00 per ton wholesale.

Edmonton.—There are on hand in the wholesaler here at the present time probably eighteen cars of apples, fifty per cent. crates, and the bulk of the rest No. 1's, with very few No. 2's. Of these apples six cars are imported, and the balance from British Columbia.

Apples are selling rather slowly, as there seems to be a feeling around the country that there will be a break in the market and that dealers will get cheaper apples by waiting. No. 1 wrapped apples are selling for from $1.05, Wealthies, Cox Orange, Peewaukoo, and some other inferior or soft varieties, to $1.00, for Jonathans, Spys, Wagners, Grimos, etc. The same price for the B.C. as for the imported apples. Crates are selling from $1.40 to $1.65.

Through a peculiar accident at the Mondow Valley Sawmill last Saturday, G. H. Bent lost a horse, the animal being injured so that all that could be done was to shoot it. Mr. Bent's team was standing beside the mill team whose load was to be taken off their wagon. When the load was loosened, part of it fell over the side towards the team standing close beside. The nearest animal tried to edge away from the falling lumber, but it suffered a broken leg, and had to be destroyed.

Executive Meeting Of United Growers

Planning Ahead For Next Year's Business.

Mr. G. J. C. White returned from Vernon on Saturday night after attending a meeting of the directors of the Okanagan United Growers. Plans which have been under way for the establishment of a capital or working fund were further forwarded.

A decision likely to find favor with a good many members of the different unions was that to put a quantity of apples in storage for winter and spring selling. With the fruit so treated it is possible that an arrangement for an advance to the grower will be entered into. It is not too early to plan for the 1916 crop apparently for the Okanagan United Growers, in the anticipation of larger crops than ever, have already started to plan for another year's business.

Wider markets and sustained prices are to be sought for the larger volume of business, and at the same time greater efficiency at less expense is aimed at.

Persons shipping apples to Great Britain which are not for sale are not compelled to use the regular export size apple box, but may pack their fruit in either sized apple box now in use in this province.

LOCALS.

Rev. C. H. Daly spent Sunday in Kelowna exchanging pulpits with Rev. A. Dunn.

Mr. H. O. Hatt went down to Vancouver on Tuesday. He will be away for about two weeks.

The sad intelligence of the death of her mother at Calgary has been received by Mrs. Chas. Gale, Paradise Flat.

Miss Winona Stewart entertained a few friends at a card party on Thursday evening in honor of her birthday.

It is understood that Sidney Foster and David Griffiths, now with the Balcom Ranch will leave almost immediately for the Old Country for the purpose of enlisting.

Municipal workmen have been employed this week cement lining part of the main Garnett Valley irrigation ditch, towards the upper end.

William Sauter, who has made Vernon his headquarters for some months, according to report, has returned to Summerland for the winter at least.

A few days ago about twenty-five citizens gathered in the orchard of Mr. A. Britten and made quick work of gathering of his apple crop and delivering it to the packing house. The assembly is described as being rather a unique one, a very large number of those present being university graduates entitled to add several letters to their names. The kindness thus shown in helping him at this time when he is laid aside was greatly appreciated by Mr. Britten, who, it is said, has not been making as much progress towards recovery of late as he seemed to some time after the accident in which he suffered a broken leg.

The Indian Ind. Herron, who has been held in the local jail for some time, is to be returned at once to Washington. Readers will remember the tragic death of his father, who came here from the Indian Reserve on the Washington side of the line. Soon after his death his two boys were taken back by the Washington Agency, and since have been on the Washington Reserve. Some time ago Antoine Pierre was visiting at Republic, Wash., and upon his leaving for home young Herron expressed a desire to come with him. This explains his reappearance here. Yesterday Indian Agent J. R. Brown received the following telegram from Agent Hail at Republic: "Superintendent forwarding transportation to St. Marie Mission, Omak, Wash., for Herron. Will see that he attends school. Send statement for claims against him and expenses incurred and same will be paid."

THE REWARD OF VIGILANCE.

IT IS A NOTEWORTHY FACT, that whereas, generally speaking, the fruit growers of this province are loud in their praise of the work of the provincial and federal fruit pest inspectors, the growers in some parts of Washington are censuring the men who are responsible for the inspection of their fruit. Scarcely a week has gone by during the season now nearly over when some Washington fruit, seeking entrance into this province, has been rejected, and turned back to the grower a dead loss. The fruit so treated this year must have represented a loss of a good many thousand dollars, and many people have wondered just what the system of inspection was in Washington to allow such fruit ever to be packed into a car. A news item in this issue shows the attitude of the Washington growers towards this loss. They lay the blame wholly at the feet of their fruit pest inspectors, who have the authority to condemn infected fruit, but who have in the past been far too lenient.

There could be no better testimony to the efficiency and value of the service being rendered to the fruit industry in this province at the present time by Chief Inspector Cunningham and his staff. Occasionally the remark is heard that these officials are too drastic in their treatment of the orchards to which infected fruit is traced. It is due to this severity, however, that the disastrous pest-ridden condition of some Washington fruit districts has no parallel in this province.

The items of news referred to give a very interesting picture of conditions in the horticultural districts of the American state to the south of the line. One would infer that not only have the inspectors been lax in carrying out their duties, but that they have little concern in helping to eradicate the pests from the orchards. This is in sharp contrast to the methods employed in British Columbia, where any infected fruit found is promptly traced to its source and the offending orchard dealt with adequately. The fruit growers of this province should learn the true value of the services of the men who are working so thoroughly in their interests, and who, with constant vigilance as the watchword, carry out their duties showing no fear or favor.

In connection with the large export movement of potatoes from this province to Australia, of which the Review made note lately, a firm of exporters at the Coast with a large share of the business, has made mention of the good work of the inspectors of the Horticultural Department. Without the co-operation of the inspectors, this firm wrote Premier McBride, "the consummation of this business would have been impossible, owing to the severe inspection in Australia on imported potatoes. The thoroughness of their work was an inestimable contribution to the success of the business in hand. We feel sure that from the good work of the Horticultural Department that British Columbia will soon have many thousand tons of potatoes annually of a quality suitable for export, and by a few shipments of a volume large enough to secure reasonable distribution in foreign markets 'repeat orders' are bound to come."

PROHIBITION STILL MARCHING ON.

THE TIME HONORED CUSTOM of inviting your friend to "have another one on me" is now a thing of the past in London, where an edict aimed against "treating" went into force last week. Paying for a friend's drinks in the Empire's capital is now an offence punishable by a fine of $500 and six months in jail. No evasion will be tolerated in the form of advancing a friend money to purchase drinks. Credit for drinks is also banned.

Commencing November 1st, and continuing till the end of the war, all the saloons in the province of Ontario must close at 7 p.m.; every day, instead of 11 p.m. each day except Saturday, when the closing hour was 7 p.m. Fourteen hundred hotels throughout the province are affected by this announcement lately given out by the Ontario government. This is the first result of the temperance crusade recently launched in Ontario. It is gratifying, but far from satisfying, to the friends of prohibition. They have embarked on what they style "war to a finish" against liquor, and the inauguration of this "final drive for prohibition in Ontario" was marked by a remarkably enthusiastic gathering of representatives from every church and temperance organization and the principal business interests in every part of the province. The meeting was apart from all political and religious persuasions. The demand formulated was the complete abolition of all liquor licenses, whether in the shape of hotel bars, club licenses or shop licenses. It was the opinion of the assembly that eighty per cent. of the electorate of Ontario would favor such a measure. If the government fails to heed this request, temperance candidates will enter the political field in every riding.

A week ago last Sunday, an almost unprecedented state of affairs existed in the city of Chicago, when by order of the mayor, all the bars in the city, 7,152 in number were closed that day for the first time in forty years. One satisfactory result apparent was a noted decrease in drunkennes. On Sunday there were only 16 arrests from this cause, as compared with 47 the previous day. The usual number of arrests for the two days is 243. This is the lowest crime record Chicago has ever known.

In our own province, Premier McBride has again been pressed for an answer by the prohibition party. The demands being made are for a referendum on an act similar to the Alberta Act, to be taken on a date apart from a general election; and for the early closing of all bars immediately, until the close of the war or such time as prohibition comes into force. The reply of the Premier was very brief. It merely stated that the government is considering the question in all its aspects. He did not state when a definite answer will be given, nor what nature of answer might be expected.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

THE VICTORIA COLONIST vouches for the following: "A certain retailer in this city had a quantity of Okanagan peaches. He said they were the best peaches he ever had in his store, but he could not sell them. Customers asked if he had California peaches, and because he had not, went elsewhere to buy. Not wishing the fruit to spoil on his hands, he placed a card on them reading 'California Peaches,' and then they were all readily sold. The prestige of the name California was worth more than the superior quality of the fruit. This will serve to illustrate how the reputation of a locality adds to the saleableness of its produce."

This is one of the difficulties which the Okanagan has to surmount before it can claim the Coast market for its own. The "Grown in B.C." campaign carried on this summer had this for its object, and from all that can be learned the results have been fairly satisfactory. It is a doctrine that must be preached for many years, however, before the object aimed at is anything like fully accomplished.

AN IMPORTANT national commission has been appointed by the government at Ottawa to deal with all phases of Canadian agricultural production; transportation, markets and kindred subjects. This commission is along the lines proposed some months ago by the fruit conference at Calgary, though its scope has been very greatly widened. Many questions of live interest to the fruit industry will doubtless be probed, and in the course of time results may be expected. Commissions are slow moving bodies, but in this case it is difficult to see how workable legislation can be framed without first gaining an intimate knowledge of the conditions that need to be remedied. Hon. J. A. Lougheed, of Calgary, Government leader in the Senate, will preside over the Commission, and prominently associated with him will be Dr. J. G. Rutherford, now of the C.P.R. farm department.

ENTRIES FOR THE FALL FAIR must be made by Thursday of next week. Short enough notice everyone will admit, but there is still time enough before the Fair to get good exhibits together. It will be worse than a pity should some of the $1,000 of prize money go begging for want of exhibits, and such a state of affairs would be a sorry comment on the enterprise of the district.

The most important point to consider about tea is its suitability for brewing in the water of a particular district. Tea that would be good here, and brew into a splendid fragrant beverage, might be a rank failure somewhere else.

We buy our teas to suit the water of this district. You are therefore sure of getting tea that is all that tea should be—fragrant, refreshing and thirst-quenching. A trial will make you a constant user.

There are not enough Union Jacks in Canada

In other countries on days of rejoicing or National Anniversaries flags are unfurled from almost every housetop or window. Canadians are just as loyal, but unfortunately they find themselves short of flags. In almost every place in Canada there is a movement on foot now to see that the Old Flag is floating from every Canadian home. The newspapers have been asked to assist in the distribution. The Review has agreed to undertake the distribution in this district, and our readers can secure a real good Union Jack, in fast colors, size 5 x 3, for only

$1.10

At this price there is no reason why every home in the district should not have a Union Jack floating on all occasions in future.

Chance To Go Into Camp Near Home.

Through the efforts of Mr Robinson and a number of Summerland supporters it is probable that a military camp will be established at Summerland. Ellison Agricultural Hall is to be barracks. On Monday Mr Robinson sent the following message:

Naramata, Oct. 18-15.
Major-General Sir Sam Hughes,
Ottawa.

Proposal to winter troops small towns very popular. Sure to accelerate enlistment and create deeper interest in military affairs. We want detachment at Summerland, Ellison Agricultural Hall in park splendid drill hall and barracks. Municipality dry. Mildest climate in Canada. Naramata enlisted 19 and three mechanics.

(signed) J. M. Robinson.

To which the Major-General replied the following day as follows:

Ottawa, Oct. 19, 1915.

Your telegram of 18th received. Every eligible man will be received at Summerland and Naramata and at every other centre large and small throughout Canada until further orders. It will take some time to get examinations and papers.

(Signed) Sam Hughes.

This will give the fellows who up till now have been unable to get into line to do so under the most favorable circumstances. To get a good deal of their preliminary training right near or at home. And if any further stimulus is necessary we'll have to go out into the woods to search. While nobody can point to British Columbia and say "You haven't done as well as other parts of the empire," we often are called upon to bear the burden of the weak and incompetent, and cannot always be saying, "Let the other fellow do it." This certainly is the time for every eligible young stalwart Canadian to line up for some definite work for the cause of the empire.

Learning To Make And Throw Bombs.

T. H. Boothe is in receipt of an interesting letter from his son, Reg. L. Boothe, written October 4, from Napier Barracks, Shorncliffe, Eng., in which are found some interesting paragraphs. He says in part: "I am taking a course for bomb-throwers just now. It is very interesting. I'll show you how to make all kinds of bombs when I come back. We make a lot of them ourselves. The bomb-throwers are known as the 'suicide squad'—either V.C.'s or death—which is quite interesting, ha! ha!"

"Nearly all the Cariboo boys are bomb-throwers. They picked them out, I guess for their dare-devil disposition. There isn't a quitter in the whole bunch."

"I had a most enjoyable time on Sunday. I went to Canterbury to see the Cathedral. It is only twenty miles from here. I was present at the Harvest Festival service, which certainly was grand. I was wishing mother could have been there to hear the music. It was grand. I saw the tomb of the Black Prince, and on top of his grave is all his armour, now nearly rusted through." We also saw the Falstaff Hotel "which is mentioned in some of Shakespeare's works, if I remember right. It was built in 1403, and is still going strong."

The W.C.T.U.

The regular monthly gathering of the W.C.T.U. was held last Tuesday week at the home of Mrs D. O. Hughes. There was a fine attendance and a fine program, and if there was anything finer than the luncheon served at the close by the genial hostess, then somebody will have to "go some."

In the course of the special program Mrs Boothe supplied an instrumental solo and Mrs W. M. Allen rendered a pleasing vocal selection. Instructive readings were furnished by Mrs Pushman, senr., Mrs Myers, and Mrs Davies. No fewer than three new honorary members were initiated into the ranks, and it is hinted that the ladies are hot on the trail of every

Red Cross Notes.

The regular Saturday afternoon meeting of the ladies here, of the Red Cross Society, was held in the club room parlors on October 15th. The attendance was large, and as everybody came prepared for work a whole lot was accomplished. The ladies report a shortage of linen, and would be grateful to anyone having some, to send same to the Unity Club rooms.

That the local organization has gotten down to real practical work is evidenced by the fact that they have already shipped their second bundle of garments to the central depot of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Vancouver. If you care to go into detail take a glance over this list of articles this bundle contained:—8 tray cloths; 8 slings; 24 hot water bottle covers; 14 pr. socks; 14 shirts; 3 suits pyjamas; 8 pr. slippers; 3 dressing robes; 8 bundles face cloths (80); 1 sheet; 3 laundry bags; 10 bundles mouth wipes (1,000); 8 bundles handkerchiefs (80); 2 bandages; 1 bundle face rags (100); 41 five lb. tins jam.

The Saturday afternoons all being given over by the ladies to this worthy cause—indeed many rightly look upon it as their imperative duty as those who have been at the hospitals can fully explain. It therefore behooves every woman with any time at all "on her hands," to devote a certain portion of it to the cause of mercy and righteousness.

Are We Picking Our Apples Too Green?

Manager Craig, of the Fruit Union, Says We Are—Many Of Us.

In conversation with Fruit Union officials the other side of the orchard box shortage referred to in last issue was obtained. It was pointed out that many of the apples were picked too soon, and had to go as cookers, or second's, apples, which if left on the trees another week or two, would have colored up sufficiently to have qualified as No. 1's.

Another thing is patent. If all the orchardists had had all the possible or probable recruit to follow the "lead" by the three fellows who joined as honorary members. Plans for work for the winter were talked over and laid on the table for decision at the next meeting. This meeting is to take place at the home of Mrs J. O. Noyes.

The British Government advises its people to practise the Strictest Economy in these war times.
This advice is good in Canada, too.
Right Buying is the first and most important rule of Economy.

You Want A SWEATER COAT, for the winter is at hand. SEE THAT YOU BUY RIGHT.

Take a look at our window exhibit of Sweaters bought before the rise in the prices of all woollen goods, and note the extremely low prices at which they are selling.

boxes they could possibly use at one time, the capacity of the warerooms would have been overtaxed. Fact is there would have been no room for the packers to work with economy or comfort. It therefore looks from the standpoint of the officials themselves that they have really worked or operated entirely in the best interest of the growers, a course which they are expected to pursue.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Miss M. Block was a visitor to Summerland on Wednesday.

Miss Robinson and her sister, Gladys, drove to Penticton on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs Allen and Mrs D. O. Hughes spent Wednesday of this week in attendance at the Sunday School Convention in Summerland.

Miss Emma Davies expects to leave for Vancouver the latter part of next week to enter the General Hospital to train for a nurse.

Mr and Mrs Geo. Ross were visitors over night on Wednesday of this week. The trip was made via Penticton in Mr Ross's new Ford.

Nurse Gordon is still in Summerland in attendance at the bedside of Mr Donald Ross, who is not yet over his fight for life against the dreaded typhoid.

Pte. Russell Roe of the 62nd Battalion, Vernon, after an extended absence in camp, was granted a short furlough this week which he spent visiting at his home here.

Mr D. O. Hughes and Mr John Noyes are slowly recovering from the effects of the bad shaking up they got as an outcome of their run-away accident, reported in these columns last week.

A car of Wagner apples was loaded on the "Sicamous" on Thursday morning. In another year, it is hoped, we may be able to obviate those lengthy delays in loading as a result of having a slip dock and car-hargo service.

The apple orchard of Mr R. H. King, with its long rows of heavily laden Winter Bananas is this week being stripped of its load of real wealth and beauty; for truly it is a sight worth seeing. The fruit is not only of a fine size, but it is finely colored.

Mrs J. B. Ireland, accompanied by her three youngest children, Master Guy Ireland and the little Misses Verna and Ina, after a protracted stay in Naramata of over three years, went away this week to Edmonton. During her stay here Mrs Ireland made many warm friends who very deeply regret to see her and her family take their departure.

Mr Garonwy Reesor who went out to the Coast a week ago, took advantage of the opportunity the trip afforded to take a day off to get more thoroughly acquainted with the City of Vernon. It is rumored that this decision was forced upon him as an outcome of missing the train, but it isn't well to pay too much attention to either idle or busy rumor.

This week the eyes of all active Sunday School workers have been directed across to Summerland where the Okanagan District Sunday School Association held their eleventh Annual Convention. Although our school was entitled to but two delegates, several more than these "regulars" were able to attend on account of the convenient ferry service. The two delegates from here were Mrs J. M. Myers and Miss Edna Noyes.

Next week a committee of eight citizens have planned to go up to the headwaters where it is proposed to erect a cabin for the comfort and convenience of the parties who early next season purpose entering upon the more serious undertaking of repairing the dam. It is to be hoped that the committee may be strengthened by the addition of one or two recruits whose presence would greatly facilitate the work under way.

The School Board met on Tuesday evening—their regular meeting night. The difficulty of securing an advance from the Department of Education, as an outcome of deferred payments on taxes, is still uppermost. It is hoped, however, that the situation may shortly be improved and that a sufficient advance will be obtained to meet the most pressing demands. The offer of Geo. Brodie to deliver wood to the school was accepted for a limited amount, as was also a tender from Geo. Wolstencroft for a quantity of dry wood.

The committee of citizens appointed some little while ago to look into the feasibility of Naramata establishing a Fruit Union entirely free from Summerland have all eyes upon them, and a report, it is hoped will be forthcoming in good time. If a necessary part of such a change would mean the erection of a slip-dock it were well to call for an early decision as, if the C.P.R. were asked for such additional accommodation, there would be greater likelihood of getting the railway to drive the piles for the dock this fall when work is more or less slack. Let's get busy and stay busy on this question.

The checker enthusiasts who last Saturday evening assembled at the Syndica House played a few lively games as a sort of preliminary bout, after which followed a general conversation relative to the advisability of having a club started for the winter season. It was practically decided to run such a club for four months, starting with the first Saturday in November. If there are still others who wish to join this group of serious faced mortals for a solemn hour's conclave one evening a week, they are requested to send in their names to either H. P. Davies or T. H. Boothe at the earliest possible date.

Is this a freak or a peculiarity common to the Okanagan? This week a limited quantity of the most luscious crop of red raspberries was picked off the bushes at "Redadam," the Atkins property, immediately south of town.

Mr. A. O. Atkins made a trip to Vernon in his Ford last Sunday with Mrs. Atkins and Mr. and Mrs. J. Rowley.

H. Whittaker of Kaleden went up the lake last Friday to enlist in the ranks of the Army Medical Corps. He had already passed the medical examination.

H. D. Suckling, formerly with the Bank of Montreal here, but more recently attached to the head office at Montreal, has enlisted. He lately completed his examinations entitling him to hold a commission.

James Gordon, left Summerland about six weeks or two months ago, to visit the prairies, enlisted at Vernon on his way back into the 54th Battalion. He got leave for a day last week-end, and spent Sunday here, coming down the lake on Saturday and returning on Monday morning.

A cluster of raspberry vine cut this week at Naramata has been in the Review window for a day or two, and shows a quantity of large, luscious, and inviting fruit ready for eating, just as though November were ten weeks off, instead of ten days. On Sunday last a quart of ripe raspberries were gathered at "Rekadom" Ranch, Naramata, where this specimen cluster was cut.

Wm. Beattie reports that one tree in his orchard bore almost a boxful of peculiar double apples, similar to the case noted last week from a Naramata orchard. In each case two apples are grown into one, and the two stems, while apparently joined to a single stalk on the tree, diverge at the opposite end of the core. Mr. Beattie can offer no explanation of the cause of the malformed fruit.

Almost every week, so it has seemed of late, there has been the story of an incipient fire to record. The house of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Prairie Valley, is the latest that narrowly averted destruction. While some paper was being put into the kitchen stove last Sunday afternoon, flames came into contact with the walls, which were covered with building paper. Very soon most of the walls and ceiling were denuded of this covering by the flames, and but for the help of neighbors which was close at hand, another home would probably have been in ashes. As it was the kitchen walls were little more than charred.

The Okanagan United Growers, whose offer will be found in our advertising columns, point out that the Christmas apples leave on the night of the 26th.

The third car of horses shipped from here this fall by L. C. Woodworth went on to the car barge on Wednesday evening. As were the others, these were billed to Calgary.

Miss Helen Phinney, who has been visiting for a few weeks past at Portland, Oregon, and Miss Myrtle Ritchie were homeward bound passengers on the Monday afternoon K.V.R. train.

H. Dunham of Trout Creek, has exchanged his property here for a prairie farm near Cando, Saskatchewan, south of Battleford, in the mixed farming district. Mr. Dunham leaves next Tuesday with his effects including some livestock.

C. S. Stevens, formerly of this place, has enlisted as a chaplain. Until his removal with his family to Edmonton Mr. Stevens was manager here of the Lakeshore Telephone Co. His son Roy joined the colors some time ago and is now in the trenches.

Mr. Tye, late Chief Engineer of the C.P.R., Chief Engineer Kennedy of the V.V. & E. Railway, and Messrs Alexander and Hunt, of Grant, Smith & Co., the railway contractors who constructed the portion of the K.V.R. on the east side of the lake, are now out on the hills with a pack horse train behind Paradise Ranch.

Electric light users have been made glad not only by the extension of the hours of the service which are now from 4 p.m. to 8 a.m., but by the frequent all day service being given by Mr. James. The all day Wednesday service has been made a regular thing and besides, Mr. James has been keeping the current on during dull days.

Clive Dent is a name that some of the older residents of Summerland will recall. He was here up till about five or six years ago, and at one time was connected with the Summerland Supply Co. Late news of him is to the effect that he was married two or three weeks ago, establishing his home in Seattle, where he has a responsible position as chief buyer for a lumber concern operating about fifteen yards.

"The farmers of Summerland" said a little paragraph noted this week in the Vancouver News Advertiser, "surprised the dealers, who should have become hardened by this time to products of the soil appearing at unseasonable times, by shipping some green corn that was in very fine shape. No difficulty was found in disposing of it at the old price of 20 cents per dozen ears." Green corn was also on sale in local stores last week-end.

Our Northern Spy trees are at last "making good." After many more years of waiting than has been necessary with other varieties, the Northern Spy trees in this district have for the first time yielded a good crop. It was with the knowledge that this variety was not an early producer that the trees were planted, but there were few who expected to be compelled to wait so long. It is now generally recognized by those who might be considered best informed on the subject, that the Spy will not yield well, even in this district, where trees come into bearing so early, until twelve to fifteen years old. It is now believed that the local crop of Spys, which has this year been of considerable volume, will greatly increase from year to year.

Mr. C. Noel Higgin, who has already lost a brother, Captain Higgin of the Indian Army, in service at the Dardanelles, has now himself practically decided to enlist.

The drafts from the 54th and the Medical Corps, which were to have gone from Vernon some days earlier, did not get away till Sunday. Will Angove was included in the draft from the R.A.M.C.

Local contractors are again invited by the Provincial Government to submit tenders on the erection of a small school building at Poplar Grove, Penticton, according to an advertisement in this issue.

Harry McLeod, Findlay McWilliams and Frank Hayward, three of Summerland's boys in the Canadian Expeditionary Forces are now in the fighting line in France. Angus McDougall, an Okanagan College student, is also there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Arnett and daughter Hilda were passengers out on the boat on Thursday morning. Mr. Arnett goes to Winnipeg, and Mrs. Arnett and daughter go to Vancouver. They expect to be away from Summerland for about a month.

Mrs. Bulyea of Edmonton is expected to reach Summerland by tonight's boat, and her husband, until recently Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, one day later, he having stopped off at Vernon. While here they will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Lipsett.

Charles D. Kerr, who was transferred from the Bank of Montreal office here to Victoria, has recently been removed to Vancouver. There he found both Bentley and Walker, two young men who had been in the local office of the big financial institution.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wheeler went out on Wednesday morning for a visit of a week or ten days at the Coast. While Mr. Wheeler goes on business, he is prolonging the trip hoping that the change will benefit Mrs. Wheeler's health, which is far from satisfactory.

To take care of its increasing business the Summerland Lumber Company finds it essential to have more power so that all their plant may be run at one time. To provide this increased power a large boiler to generate steam under high pressure will be installed.

There are three or four street light fixtures on the Smith wharf not in use, remaining from the time when that wharf was lighted. It would not take much trouble or expense to put these fixtures into service on dark corners on the roads, where pedestrians and vehicles alike would appreciate a little light during the winter nights.

Presbyterian services will be held next Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Church, and in the afternoon at 8 p.m. in the Methodist Church. Both services will be conducted by Rev. D. E. Hatt. Mr. Hatt will give by request his address on the "Christian Life and Teaching of Tennyson." This month being the anniversary of the death of Tennyson, many will be interested in his message of Christian faith and hope.

Jan. Darrach, who enlisted from here in the 2nd C.E.F., and now with the Canadian Forces in France, says in a letter to W. C. Kelley, dated September 30, that Summerland has done wonderfully well in the number of men sent from here. He speaks regretfully of the limitation put on the news which he is permitted to send, saying he has many interesting things on which to write. Though very satisfactory progress is being made and the men are all very optimistic he says more men are needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Solly have returned to Armstrong after a two months' stay in Vernon.

Mr. A. H. Stuart, who has been for some months attending to the distribution of fruit for his firm at Regina returned home on Thursday evening.

Scoutmaster J. Tait.
Headquarters — ELLISON HALL.

Visitors cordially invited to attend.

The local troop of Scouts is again on the hum. Though a few meetings will have to be called off on account of the approaching Apple Show, the work will be in no way hindered.

To-night, Friday, a route march is to take place. The boys will tramp out by moonlight and stay the night in camp, returning the next morning.

The Scouts are planning to have a Concert about Christmas time, and intend that it will be a good one. They hope to have a well-filled hall when they put it on.

Several things have been planned for this winter's Scouting. The annual "shoot" for the Borton Cup now in possession of Patrol No. 1, under Leader D. Ritchie, is to be held in the near future, and no doubt there will be a close contest.

The Scouts hope that if any people of Summerland have reading matter which they have finished with, that they will please donate it to the library.

SUMMERLAND WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was held in the parlor of the Men's Club on Friday, with a fairly good attendance. The roll call was answered with Thanksgiving recipes.

Mrs. Ross had sent the motto, "In life there is no greater blessing than affection."

Mrs. Solly gave briefly the current events for the month.

The ladies that had given jam handed in their names. Mrs. Lipsett then read Mrs. G. J. C. White's paper on "Co-Operation of Parents and Teachers." A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. White for her paper, and it was sent to the Department to be used by other Institutes. It was decided by vote that the nursing lectures to be held here on November 8, 9, and 10 by Miss Steed, are to be afternoon and evening sessions. These lectures are free to members. Those on the visiting committees are asked to report at next meeting.—Contributed.

Mr. J. C. Lyons will shortly take up residence in his town cottage, so recently re-modelled, enlarged, and tastefully improved in every way.

The Unity Club ladies held their monthly meeting at their cosy apartments this afternoon, but an account of the proceedings is of necessity held over till next issue.

Rev. R. M. Thompson came up from Penticton last Friday afternoon and in the evening succeeded in again getting the Epworth League under way for the season. The executive of the society met on Monday evening and drafted out a program for use up to and including the month of December. The officials, as far as can be ascertained, are: Hon. Pres.—Rev. R. M. Thompson; President—Miss Edna Noyes; First Vice-President—Mr. Stewart Allen; Second Vice-President—Mr. Hedley Reesor; Third Vice-President—Miss Violet Mitchell; Fourth Vice-President—Miss Vera Salting. The official to take the position of fifth vice-president has not been selected as yet, but will be chosen early next week.

The Okanagan Lake Boat Co., or at least their present manager, Mr. Gerald Roe, is, figuratively speaking, this week wearing a huge scalping knife fastened conveniently at his belt. On going over the lake on Wednesday morning, what was his surprise to see the company's scow adrift from her moorings, where the craft had only recently been fastened by stout ropes. The miscreants had simply lifted the ropes off the piles and allowed it to go pell-mell against the sand bar. Elsewhere in this issue a reward is offered for information which will enable the Boat Co. to locate the offender.

K.V.R. Agent Likely Next Year.

Volume of Summerland Business Exceeds Expectation

From high Kettle Valley authority the information emanates that if the volume of business originating at the local Kettle Valley station this season could have been foreseen, a resident agent would have been appointed. It can be inferred from this statement that another year will see an agent duly installed to attend to the business of shippers and consignees, the convenience of which, over the present arrangement it will be hard to overestimate. Promotion from the level of a flag station to the full dignity of a regular agent after a single season's business, is surely answer enough to any question as to the future of the K.V.R. line. By the time fruit begins to move again it is almost certain that the Hope Mountain cut-off will be completed, and the direct route to the Coast in operation, eliminating the vexatious delays now encountered of necessity in travelling westward by the K.V.R. This arrangement will undoubtedly mean increased fruit shipments to Coast points by the new line.

The same unimpeachable authority gives out the interesting fact that the amount of freight and express business handled at the West Summerland station during the past season exceeded that dealt with at any other point on this section of the line.

All of which speaks well for this district.

A Local Invention of Merit.

An exhibit which will attract considerable interest at the coming Fall Fair is that of a door recently invented and patented by Mr. H. G. Estabrook of Summerland.

The door is called the Utility Duplex Door, being a combination of the ordinary street door and the wire screen door, attained by means of the lower half of the door being hollow and so arranged as to receive an upper glass panel and an upper wire screen panel.

The Review has been favored with an opportunity to examine a model of the door closely. The first adjective in its name is fully justified, and in this country where summer and winter climates call for constant changing of screen and solid doors, this invention should prove a boon, taking the place of the two doors, and providing the use of either with an instant adjustment. The full size Utility Duplex Door will differ very little, if any at all, from the usual outside glass paneled door, in thickness or weight, the sliding panels fitting very compactly into the compartment contained in the lower part of the door. The change is so easily effected, and the adjustments for ventilating purposes possible will be so varied, that it is likely to appeal to most people who are able to discern a good practical fitting for their buildings, whether they be residence, business place, or barn.

The finished product to be exhibited at the Fall Fair next week, will give the people of Summerland a good idea of the usefulness of this local invention. The designing and workmanship of both models are the work of Mr. Bert Harvay, West Summerland.

The Duplex Utility Door has been patented in this country, and a patent for the United States is also pending. Some arrangement will likely be made for the manufacture of the new door for commercial purposes in the near future.

C. P. Nelson is now numbered among the Ford owners of the district, being the owner of a second-hand car brought down from Kelowna on Thursday afternoon by H. A. Burbank of the automobile firm of that name.

Last Spike on K.V.R. in About Two Weeks

What New Line Means to Southern Part of Province.

Sir Richard McBride was this week in receipt of a report from Mr. J. J. Warren, president of the Kettle Valley Railway, to the effect that it is hoped to lay the last rail in mid-November, and to have the ceremony of driving the last spike take place on the same date. It has been arranged that the interesting ceremony of driving the last spike shall take place at Coquihalla Summit.

Mr. Warren in his letter to Sir Richard states that construction work on the final sections of the line is proceeding apace, all of the work done being of the most solid and substantial character.

Sir Richard points out that it is a matter for congratulation, and one which can hardly be over-emphasized, that the Kettle Valley line will have such close associations with the C.P.R. in the development of the rich district through which the line runs. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, President of the C.P.R., has always expressed firm faith in the future of the Boundary, Okanagan, Nicola, and Similkameen districts, and his efforts to provide adequate transportation facilities have been duly seconded by Mr. Warren, President of the Kettle Valley line.

"I am quite sure," said Sir Richard, "that people living at the Coast cities have no comprehensive idea of the magnitude of the work involved in the construction of the Kettle Valley line, nor will they have until they take a trip over the line, and see for themselves just what Mr. Warren and his associates have accomplished. "Very shortly it will be possible for the people at the Coast to visit the very heart of the rich southern interior with a degree of comfort which has hitherto been denied them. It is really a remarkable achievement, the construction and completion of this line, at a time when the money markets of the world are disturbed by an unparalleled depression accentuated by the appalling war. Too great credit cannot be given Mr. Warren for his persistence with the undertaking in face of undreamt of difficulties."

Summerland Man Wounded.

Private William Atkinson, of the 2nd C.M.R., is the first Summerland man to appear in the casualty lists of the Second Canadian Expeditionary Force, which crossed to France some weeks ago from Shorncliffe. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, of this place, who also have two other sons serving with the colors, one of them, Robert, of Summerland, enlisting but a short time ago. Private Will Atkinson was listed last week-end as wounded, and the report later circulating that he had succumbed to his wounds fortunately proved untrue. His injury consists of a shot wound in the forehead. Further information, the telegram from Ottawa, promised, would be forwarded as soon as possible.

A government telephone exchange is to be established at Keramos.

Wednesday and Thursday of next week, November 3rd and 4th, all roads should lead to Ellison Hall, Peach Orchard, where the Summerland Fall Fair will be in progress. Dignity will be lent to the public opening of the Fair during the afternoon of Thursday in the presence of Mr. Price Ellison, M.P.P., late Minister of Agriculture for the province. Deputy Minister W. E. Scott is also likely to be present, and along with other members of the Horticultural Board, R. M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist will be another visitor of prominence.

Diverging from the practice of former years, there will be a wide variety of exhibits, and a visit to the Fair will likely be a revelation alike to those who think they are acquainted with the possibilities of the district, and those who are not familiar with what Summerland can produce. It is particularly gratifying to learn that the livestock classes, an innovation introduced this year, are likely to provide heavy entries, and keen competition. The exhibits in this section will be on view only on the second day of the Fair for obvious reasons, and to avoid disappoint the people of the district had better make sure of getting in at least one visit to the Fair that afternoon. The fruit section may possibly not be quite as extensive as in former years, owing to the somewhat short notice on which the Fair was organized; but the exhibits in these classes can nevertheless be expected to reflect the unexcelled capabilities of the local orchards. The women's section, and some miscellaneous exhibits, will also claim attention from visitors.

During the progress of the Fair on both days the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary will serve tea and light refreshments on the main floor, which will not only prove a convenience for those coming from a distance, but will also give everyone an opportunity to contribute to the support of a most worthy local institution. Ladies of the district are asked to contribute whatever food they can to help the Auxiliary in their undertaking.

Starting to Demobilize Vernon Camp.

The Vernon concentration camp will be demobilized almost immediately. Transportation arrangements already are being made, and while no definite date has been announced, it is probable that the movement of the troops to their winter quarters in Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, and Nanaimo will be started this week.

According to orders Victoria is to provide accommodation for one squadron, a strength of about 200, of the 11th Canadian Mounted Rifles. Another squadron is going to Nanaimo, and third will remain at Vernon.

The two infantry battalions which are to be sent to England in the very near future are to be quartered at Vancouver and New Westminster, the 62nd going into camp at Hastings Park, with the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders and the 47th spending the winter at Queen's Park, in the Royal City.

No mention is made of the 54th Battalion, the only other overseas infantry unit mobilized at the camp, and the presumption is that it will be ordered abroad at an early date.

Nothing is said about the Ambulance Corps, and the Army Service Corps detachments which are training at Vernon. Some time ago it was intimated that these branches of the services would be quartered at Work Point, Victoria.

Major E. E. Hutton came down from the Vernon camp about the middle of the week.

A special train of three or four cars went up the lake on the car barge last Sunday from Pontleiton, whence it arrived over the K.V.R. from the east. It contained Vice-President Bury of the C.P.R., who is out on his fall inspection trip, other officials in the party being General Manager Grant Hall, Assistant General Supt. Mather of Winnipeg, and Mr. Trautman, Publicity Agent. Supt. Peters of Vancouver and Supt. McKay of Revelstoke met them at Pontleiton.

During the progress of the Fair on both days the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary will serve tea and light refreshments on the main floor, which will not only prove a convenience for those coming from a distance, but will also give everyone an opportunity to contribute to the support of a most worthy local institution. Ladies of the district are asked to contribute whatever food they can to help the Auxiliary in their undertaking.

Summerland Wants That Winter Camp.

In the shape of a systematic canvass through the district, efforts are being put forth to get a sufficient number of recruits assured to allow of the establishment of a small winter camp right here in the home town, according to the scheme recently announced by the Militia Department for the home billeting of recruits. C. N. Borton has interested himself in the matter, and already has fourteen names of those who have definitely pledged themselves to enroll when the time comes. In addition, he has a list containing over seventy names of unmarried men of military age in the community. This list has been compiled without knowledge of any disqualifications that may debar some of these men; so it can scarcely be stated that there are seventy eligible single men in the district. The fourteen already assured are: C. N. Borton, G. H. Sismey, John Corner, J. S. Peters, H. W. Agar, James Mitchell, jr., C. Noel Higgin, H. C. Howls, G. H. Godwin, David Griffiths, T. F. Knox, H. D. Barkwill, H. Day, and Thomas Whitfield. Twenty-five is the number aimed at, and if this number of recruits is obtained, the winter billeting quarters will likely be set up in Ellison Hall, Peach Orchard.

Since the announcement of the scheme, in all parts of Canada between fifteen and twenty thousand men have enrolled themselves into the Canadian Army.

Travelling Freight Agent G. A. Staples of the C.P.R., and O. E. Fisher of Pontleiton, a K.V.R. official, were in town yesterday.

A visitor to Summerland this week at the home of Mrs. J. M. Harrison, was Rev. W. Peck of Chatham, Alta. He arrived on Monday evening's boat, returning homeward on Thursday morning. He took with him on his return his three young daughters, who were brought here in the summer when the late Rev. J. M. Harrison with Mrs. Harrison and Miss Harrison came here to reside.

Dominion Experimental Station.

J. H. Grisdale Outlines Establishment in Agric. Gazette.

In November, 1914, some 550 acres, of which about 275 acres are irrigable, were secured, through the Department of Indian Affairs, for Experimental Farm purposes. This land constituted part of the Pentiction Indian Reserve, and is situated on the outskirts of the Municipality of Summerland, B.C., in the Okanagan district.

A Superintendent, Mr. R. H. Helmer, was appointed without delay, and under his direction about 125 acres have been cleared, ploughed, and put under crop this season.

A pipe line has been put in for irrigation purposes. This takes its water from the municipal system, and from it the water is distributed through flumes to the irrigable part of the farm. About 256 acres have been graded and prepared to receive water, but as the system was not completed till June, it was too late to irrigate a large portion of this area this year.

While it is the intention to make fruit growing a main feature of the work on this Station, it is by no means to be conducted as a "fruit farm." All problems connected with field and animal husbandry, will be studied, as these are practised, or may best be practised, in the district.

Valuable data on irrigation will, in time, accumulate. The water requirements of various crops, the best methods and times to apply irrigation water, frequency of application, etc., will be given special study. The portion of the Station not susceptible of irrigation will afford comparative data of crops grown under "dry-farming" conditions.

It has not been found possible to commence building operations on the Summerland Station this year, but it is hoped that beginning will be made next season.

B.C. Fruit Is Favored

Consumption Of Home-Grown Apples And Peaches Has Largely Increased.

"The increase in the consumption of British Columbia apples in Vancouver for the month of September over that of 1914," says Coast Markets Commissioner R. C. Abbott, "is estimated at 57 per cent., while the decrease in imported apples is over 85 per cent. Taking into consideration the decrease in population in the city under that of the same month last year, the gain in the consumption of British Columbia apples is very favorable. "No stocks of apples are being stored, and the sales made here represent the actual consumption. "In the consumption of peaches there was a gain of 175 per cent. for British Columbia, while the imports show a decrease of 40 per cent."

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held in St. Andrew's Church, on Friday afternoon, November 5th, at 8 o'clock.

Councillor Borton Resigns Seat.

F. G. Barnard To Pipe Hilborn Lake.

At a special meeting of the Council held this (Friday) morning the resignation of Councillor Borton was accepted with regret. In pressing for the acceptance of his resignation Mr. Borton gave change in his business affairs as his reason. The question of whether to hold a by-election to fill the vacancy or allow the seat to remain vacant till the end of the year will be decided at the next regular meeting.

The pond or lake generally referred to in correspondence and conversation as "Hilborn's Lake" occupied much time. Correspondence from the Post Office Inspector, Mr. J. R. Greenfield, was read, as was also the clerk's interim reply. Coun. Johnston reported that Mr. Greenfield had arrived here and that he had made an appointment with him to meet him at the lake this afternoon. The Council were of the opinion that they could in no way be held responsible for the flooding of the road, but were determined to continue efforts to lower the lake and make the road passable.

Just here relief came in an offer from F. G. Barnard, representing the owner, F. Daubney, of one of the properties affected, that he would do the necessary excavation, lay the pipe and backfill for one hundred dollars, the Council to furnish second-hand wood pipe, give the levels, and provide for the right of way.

Progress At K.V.R. Station.

Two improvements recently effected at the Kettle Valley Station, Peach Valley, have been noted with extreme satisfaction. The first is the erection of a regulation sign-board announcing to the travellers, in big black letters, that they have arrived at "WEST SUMMERLAND." It is gratifying to know that the experience of other towns on the new system has not been ours, in finding the station named differently to the town it serves. The only improvement that will suggest itself to some is that the name might have been confined to the one word by which the entire district is known.

Teamsters and others who have occasion to load or unload cars at the station siding are more especially appreciative of another alteration by which access to the cars is greatly facilitated and without the jolting that has heretofore been necessary back and forward over the rails. A new road has been built by which the cars are approached from the west side, in a much more convenient manner.

Daily Train Service East Between Okan. and Kootenay.

The announcement has been made by Mr. Grant Hall, general manager of C.P.R. western lines, that a daily train service on this branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, extending from Nelson to Pontleiton, would be established November 1, taking the place of the tri-weekly service operated during the summer.

Another Record Broken.

It is expected that to-night will see another new record established in the volume of daily shipments over the C.P.R. from this point. Last week we reported in these columns the making of a record of 7 cars loaded on to the car barge. To-night there will be 8 carloads, 3 shipped by the Union, 3 by A. Stewart & Son, 1 by W. T. Broad, and 1 (onions) by A. B. Elliott. This record does not take into account shipments over the K.V.R.

EXTENDING THE MARKET FOR B.C. APPLES.

IN ACCORDANCE with the policy of the Dominion Government in always seeking to widen the market for Canadian agricultural products, B.C. apples may soon be expected to find sale in Siberia. A Trade and Commerce Commissioner just returning to Canada says that with regard to fruit, the importing houses in Vladivostock spoke encouragingly of the opening for fresh apples and pears from British Columbia, and for evaporated apples in rings and quarters. Canned (gallon) apples should also sell. With the assistance of the regular steamship service with Vancouver, a satisfactory trade in fruit could probably be built up.

Official returns show that the value of fruits imported into Siberia by way of the Pacific Coast ports is between $350,000 and $400,000 annually, a volume of trade worth a great deal of attention. The trade with this province needs to be organized, and when it has been there is no doubt that it would prove very valuable to fruit growers. It would be desirable to keep transportation charges on fruit from this province as low as possible, giving producers in this province a special advantage. There is not much that an individual fruit grower can do in connection with this opening for business until some enterprising firm arranges for the sale of our fruit in Siberia. When this has been done, the individual grower can do his share. It may be recalled that when a few years ago a very large acreage was being set out in fruit trees, some people objected that the supply would exceed the demand. The Siberian market can take a large part of any surplus fruit that may be raised in B.C. for years to come.

IS THERE TIME to think about sending Christmas puddings to the soldiers at the front? It can well be imagined how welcome they would be, and the folks at home would surely enjoy their own Christmas dinner all the more with the thought that they had helped to provide something good for the brave fellows at the front. Women's organizations in the other parts are taking up with the plan of making fairly small puddings to be sent forward in ordinary tin cans with tight fitting lids. Puddings shipped in this way keep for an indefinite period, and are certain to arrive at their destination in prime condition. If it is too late for any organized movement to take such a work as this in hand, there is still time for individuals to take up the cause. A taste of Christmas pudding would gladden many a soldier's heart away off "somewhere in France" on Christmas Day.

LOOK AFTER YOUR VOTE.

THE LAW may even be an ass, as Dickens wrote; it probably is in this case. Nevertheless it has to be respected. It is not improbable that when municipal voting time comes, early in the new year, many property owners in the Municipality who may think their names comfortably esconced on the voters' list, will find themselves not eligible to go on record at the polls.

The requirements of the law seem to be designed to meet the difficulties encountered at such centres as the Coast cities, where in prosperous booming times agreements of sale circulated almost as freely as newspapers. So it is required that the holder of a last agreement must register for a vote, when the current year's taxes are satisfied. In cases where property is held by deed, it is apparently not necessary to register from year to year, the desire being to keep the enfranchisement of property constantly changing hands from becoming involved.

Registration for the municipal voters' list must be made before the end of October, that is in this instance to-morrow, Saturday. The Municipal Clerk will be available in the lake section to-morrow afternoon, as announced elsewhere. It would be well for those who are in doubt to make sure of their position. Otherwise, if they find themselves voteless next January, there will be no one to blame but themselves.

NEXT WEEK is Summerland Fall Fair week. If you have done what you can to make the Fair something of the success it should be by making all the entries possible, there is still the duty remaining for everyone to visit Ellison Hall while the Fair is on. Go and see the good things your neighbor's ranch can produce, and then go home with the fixed idea to excel it next year. Community competition, particularly that kind which tends to build up the quality of its produce, is something that can do an inestimable amount of good for any district. To foster and encourage this spirit of neighborly rivalry is to help build up the reputation of the community. So make a point of visiting the Fall Fair.

Describes Progress With Fruit Marketing Plan.

In the issue of the Agricultural Gazette of Canada for October, there is a short article by Mrs Lily Fosbery, summarizing the results of the fruit marketing scheme originated by her, and taken up last summer by the West Summerland Women's Institute.

In the beginning of the project 190 preliminary letters were sent out to Institute branches in the prairie provinces, to which there were 120 replies. In most cases, the article says, the replies were enthusiastic, the only worrying point being the excessive transportation charges. Two Prairie Institutes were allotted to each member of the home body who desired to embark on the undertaking, price lists were forwarded, and orders solicited.

"This plan eliminates the central packing-house with its necessary handling charges, yet makes each shipper responsible to the Institute for the quality and pack of her fruit.

"The results to date are not large. Some of our members have had very good orders, some small orders, and several no reply of any kind. A start has been made, however, and it is reasonable to suppose that the satisfied customers will pass on the good word in the annual reports of the work of their societies, and next year will bring us a much larger business.

"When necessary to buy fruit to fill orders, preference is given to Institute members, and in this way some who have had no orders direct from their clubs are helping and being helped.

"One possibility to be guarded against is competitive price lists from other Institutes in British Columbia. Should other branches in British Columbia wish to follow this plan arrangements should be made regarding prices and districts in which to operate. Up to the present the best business comes from Saskatchewan."

Carload of Red Cross Apples.

There are now at the Union Packing House about 350 boxes of apples donated by local growers to the Red Cross for distribution among the soldiers in the trenches and those in hospitals. It is possible that this quantity will reach 400 before being shipped. The apples are being held awaiting instructions from the Central. It is understood that Naramata's contribution, as well as the apples from Peachland will be assembled here with the local contribution, making at least a carload.

Dr Paxton, Government Veterinary Surgeon, paid an official visit to the district this week.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated. In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

IT is not always the most expensive Teas that are the best to brew or drink.

The most important point to consider about tea is its suitability for brewing in the water of a particular district. Tea that would be good here, and brew into a splendid fragrant beverage, might be a rank failure somewhere else.

We buy our teas to suit the water of this district. You are therefore sure of getting tea that is all that tea should be—fragrant, refreshing and thirst-quenching. A trial will make you a constant user.

Visitors cordially invited to attend.

The "Route March" which had been planned by the Scouts was carried out successfully last Friday evening.

The boys met at the College Gymnasium at 7.30, and marched down to the Trout Creek bridge. Here they were met by another lot of Scouts and the march was begun.

Each boy had some blankets and enough "grub" to last him for two days. The trail, winding along the southern side of the canyon, was followed, and the view by the moonlight was fine.

Several stops were made here and there to enable the boys to see the canyon by moonlight, and to give them a little rest.

Soon the canyon was left behind, and the more wooded country began to appear. The march was continued to Shingle Creek where the boys temporarily camped while two Scouts went off in search of a suitable camping ground. Soon they returned and reported a suitable place. Another move was made and the camping grounds reached.

The chosen ground was a fine place. On one side it was sheltered by a high bank. At the foot of this bank ran the creek, and above its flood bed the camp was pitched.

A huge fire was built and soon the kettles were boiling and tea was indulged in before retiring. As the boys were about to retire the rain came.

This didn't dampen the Scouts' spirits in the least. A great fir tree stood by the fire and around this the blankets were spread and hardly any rain reached them. Preparations for retiring were soon made without many mishaps, except when some cactus got mixed up in one of the blankets, causing the boy who sat on it to jump up with a yell. These were soon removed, and after a careful inspection to see that there was no more cactus the Scouts were soon asleep in spite of rain.

Morning broke fine and it was hoped that it would keep so, but just as breakfast was about to be eaten down the rain came again.

Then "wigwams" were erected out of blankets (as they did not have to be slept on again that night) and the boys defied the elements. In an hour or so it had

Wenatchee Apples Ruined By Moth.

According To Manager Of Fruit Exchange Over Half Crop Is Lost.

Seattle, Wash.—Mr. Fred Rea, local manager of the Wenatchee Valley Fruit Exchange, who has returned from a visit to eastern Washington, compares the damage done to apple crop throughout the Wenatchee Valley by the codling moth to the ravages of the Kansas grasshopper.

"A person cannot possibly realize the extent of the loss caused by worms without a personal visit to the orchards," said Rea.

The shrinkage has been enormous, and not 50 per cent. of last year's fancy and extra fancy crop will be shipped. There is a cash buyer for almost every orchard, and prices are very firm. The infected apples, packed in half-barrel crates, are being sold in the Middle West at 75 cents per crate, f.o.b. shipping point.

Within a few days of each other John Lawton, a carpenter, and Donald McPherson, a timekeeper, fell from the cribbing on one of Kettle Valley snowsheds on the Coquihalla and were instantly killed.

stopped, and soon games were being played. After tiring of playing games some of the Scouts went out Scouting, and to take a general outlook of the country.

All returned by dinner time, and soon dinner was being made. Excellent cooking was done over the camp fire, and the boys enjoyed their meals fine, and you don't know how their appetites were sharpened by the mountain air. After dinner some more games were played, and then after eating all the rations that was left, the packing up and return trip was started.

The boys did not hurry themselves homeward, but rambled about taking note of everything that had been missed on the trip out. Home was reached about supper time by the party of happy boys.

This "tramp" will no doubt help some of the Scouts in their first class work, as they had to do their own cooking on open fire places, and the tramp is necessary for a First Class Scout.

OUR NARAMATA SECTION:

Everything of Business and Social Importance
Transpiring in South Okanagan's Newest Town

NARAMATA APPLES FOR SPOKANE EXHIBITION.

For the first time in our history exhibits from Naramata will be sent to the Spokane Exposition. Immediately after the close of operations here—which will likely be some day next week—Manager Craig will get together a limited display from the best products for the proposed exhibits. Mr Geo. Cook will test out his Grime's Golden, and Mr R. H. King wants to see his Winter Bananas placed with the best that's going.

This is an enterprising move on the part of Messrs King and Cook, and we all hope to see them score a success.

RED CROSS NOTES.

Contents of the 16th bale, sent from the Summerland and Naramata branch of the Okanagan Ambulance League:

3 shirts; 8 pr. socks; 170 handkerchiefs; 10 cup covers; 5 pillow cases; 30 wash rags; 300 face rags; 2,000 mouth wipes; 2 heel rests; 20 tea towels; 30 tray cloths; 1 bundle dusters; 5 laundry bags; 1 muffer; 1 bundle floor cloths; 1 bundle fomentation cloths.

The Ambulance League will meet next Monday at 2.30 in Elliott's Hall.

The Ambulance League have this week sent off thirty cases of jam containing over 1,270 lbs., to be forwarded through the Vancouver branch of the Red Cross Society for the use of the soldiers.

THE UNITY CLUB.

The Unity Club ladies held an enjoyable afternoon social function on Friday afternoon.

The chief item of importance of the public was a discussion on ways of entertainment for the winter months. The outcome of this was a series of afternoons devoted to literature and arts. The details of the program have been left in the hands of the program committee.

Final arrangements for the bean and pumpkin supper to be held to-morrow evening were completed.

Display of Local Products.

An attractive display of fruits and vegetables in the windows of the Naramata Supply Co.'s is receiving a good deal of well-deserved attention. One is a bunch of second crop apples (Wageners) found by Mr Dan McKay in his orchard. Another is a dish of tempting strawberries exhibited by Mr Fred Manchester. Truly fresh berries on October 25th is remarkable. Then there is a sugar beet weighing 23½ lbs. and a squash big enough to frighten you, and pumpkins that are a wonder. But the apples! Go back and take another look, and you'll ask: "Did these grow in Naramata?" and you'll be told, "yea, verily, these and many more like them." It certainly is a pleasing sight. The growers have kindly consented to donate the exhibit to Summerland Hospital.

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Have you subscribed for the Review?

Mr J. C. Lyons has taken up residence for the winter in his downtown cottage.

G. H. Packer of Okanagan Mission, game warden, was a visitor to town on Monday.

Mr J. H. Pushman was a business visitor to Summerland on Monday's afternoon ferry.

Mr F. H. Rounds has commenced the construction of quite a pretentious and commodious barn and stable.

Miss Bessie Mitchell spent the week-end here at her home, returning on Sunday afternoon to Penticton.

Mr and Mrs Geo. Cook expect shortly to remove from their fruit lot to their home down town for the winter.

Mr J. O. Noyes reports a yield of 132½ lbs. of potatoes from one spud planted last spring. This looks like a record breaker.

It is probable that a small party may be gotten together from here to take in the Spokane Exposition, but of this more later.

Those who miss this event will be on the list of The Less Fortunate Ones.

Owing to the Hallowe'en party to-morrow evening it was decided to hold the usual Red Cross weekly session to-day, Friday.

Roy Boothe of the 11th C.M.R. at Vernon is expected home for a few days soon, prior to his going with his battalion to New Westminster.

Mr F. C. Manchester's everbearing strawberries, producing ripe berries the last week in October is the subject of many congratulatory remarks.

The opening of the roller skating rink in Penticton on Tuesday evening attracted quite a large number of youthful enthusiasts from Naramata. The party reported having had an enjoyable outing.

Miss Emma Davies went out on Friday morning's boat en route to Vancouver where, as previously announced in these columns, she joins the staff of probationary nurses at the General Hospital.

The announcement by C.P.R. officials of inaugurating a daily train service between Nelson and Penticton should be gratifying news to all Naramatans. The change goes into effect on November 1st.

A party comprising Ex-Lieutenant-Governor Bulyea, Mrs Bulyea of Edmonton, Dr and Mrs Lipsett of Summerland, and Mrs J. B. Robinson of Peachland visited Mr and Mrs J. M. Robinson on Tuesday.

Mrs J. M. Myers and Miss Edna Noyes, delegates from the local church, returned on Thursday evening from the district Sunday School Association Convention in Summerland. The ladies speak in most commendable terms of the hospitality of our neighbors across the lake.

Evidences are many of the popularity of the new scheme for recruiting by agreeing to have soldiers billeted and trained at their own home towns and villages. So be sure Naramata has already sent a very high percentage of her young men, but still there are a few more who are ready to fall in when the next call comes.

A party of motorists consisting of Mr and Mrs G. W. Ross and Miss Logie of Summerland and Miss Gwen Robinson of Naramata left here early in the week on a holiday trip by motor through the Okanagan and Similkameen Valleys. They planned to visit Penticton, Princeton, Kamloops, Vernon, and to return via the Kelowna, Westbank route.

THE CANADIAN BUILDING with its wonderful display of Canadian products is one of the standing out features of the Pan American Exposition at San Francisco.

The Exhibition of Naramata Products contributed by the orchardists, and afterwards to go to the Summerland Hospital, now on display in our big show windows is a standing out feature in Naramata.

Mrs Aldridge was the guest for a few days this week of Mrs Kenyon and Mrs Hunt, at Rekadom Ranch.

"Let by-gones be by-gones," just about expressed our feelings on Wednesday evening when the boat gave Naramata the go-by.

Hunting parties from here report deer very scarce indeed, except at the very high altitudes. So a number have decided to content themselves with grouse hunting till the advent of a little fall of snow.

The Boy Scouts are to-morrow booked for doing a Hallowe'en stunt for the Red Cross ladies. They have volunteered to split and pile a cord of wood now dumped off at the club rooms. That's right, boys! Come again!

Mr Schreck's mother, Mrs Schreck of Buffalo, and sister-in-law, Mrs G. W. Schreck and son Donald, after an extended visit started on their return journey on Tuesday morning, going out over the K.V.R. via Nelson, Medicine Hat, Winnipeg, and Toronto.

The bunch of men that were to have gone up to the dam this week to erect a cabin for the comfort and convenience of the workmen next spring were unable to get away. It is now feared to be too late to go unless a greater number will immediately respond to the call.

Particulars of the golden wedding celebration of Mr and Mrs James Wells, now on a visit to their daughter, Mrs Price of Calgary, are not to hand, but it is understood that the 19th October was duly observed and that a large circle was formed by relatives of the aged couple.

Road Foreman Nuttall has his force of men busy this week on the bridge of Arawana Creek. The original frame structure is being replaced by a cement culvert, with the approaches filled with earth taken from the south bank. The grade, too, of the south hill is considerably improved.

Mr Geo. Wolstencroft is gratified to learn that such a splendid response to his call for "Apples for the Soldiers" has been made in almost every centre. Naramata has turned out a hundred boxes, which, considering the size of the district and the age of the trees, is somewhat remarkable.

The Ladies' Aid Society are making preparations for their annual bazaar. This year the date has been set for the first Thursday in November. The ladies have very generously decided to donate half the proceeds to the Red Cross. This should be an incentive from feelings of patriotism to encourage the furthering of this big annual event.

We understand that Manager Craig and his staff of packers will practically close out their busy season in the course of another week. The season has without any doubt been a highly successful one from the point of volume of output. No fewer than twenty-five cars of fruits and vegetables as against five cars of last year, and if the expectations of the growers are met, good prices will result in bulging pocket books, cheerful smiles, and a happy and contented community.

"Ten Years on Ten Acres," the leading article in a recent number of the Country Gentleman is the story of a woman's successful struggle against adverse conditions in the Okanagan that should prove of value to people from far and near who are asking for the cold facts about our country. This is the kind of article that should bring the proper class of residents to the Okanagan, because it shows that the two indispensable requisites to success are money and grit, with emphasis on the grit.

Rev. I. W. Williamson, who conducted the service in the local church last Sunday, will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to hear him. His address was along Sunday School lines, and he certainly demonstrated to a standstill that the Sunday School teacher's is the greatest mission on earth. It was quite noticeable that the boys forgot all about reading their Sunday School papers while the reverend gentleman was speaking, for, as one youngster remarked, "We couldn't help, but listen."

Wenatchee Growers Condemn Inspectors

Admit Their Fruit Is Seriously Infected
And Should Not Be Shipped.

Dryden, Wash. — At a recent meeting of the Dryden Unit of the Wenatchee North Central Growers' League a resolution condemning the action of the inspectors in permitting shipments of infected fruit was passed, and copies of it were sent to Governor Lister, Prosecuting Attorney Williams, fruit inspectors and newspapers. In part the resolution is as follows:—

"Whereas, by reason of the presence this season of an unusual number of codling moth infected apples in this district, and Be it resolved, that we protest against the ruling of the state fruit inspectors, permitting sale and shipment of infected fruit contrary to law, and that we urge upon the authorities upon whom rest the duty of enforcing the law that they rigidly enforce the law prohibiting sale and shipment of infected fruit to other than by-product factories, observing the spirit as well as the letter of the law.

Be it further resolved that we extend our sympathy to those growers who are so unfortunate as to have grown infected fruit.

SUMMERLAND, B.C.

Municipal Clerk Logie informs the Review that a number of the declarations accompanying applications of householders, holders of last agreement to purchase, or holders of trade licences, have come in to him incorrectly completed. Some citizens, too, have complained of having to pay a notary fee. This trouble is with citizens who are at some distance from the Municipal Office. Mr Logie has decided to be at the Summerland Drug Company's Store from 2 to 4 on Saturday to receive applications of those in that vicinity. Saturday is the last day on which citizens as described above can get on to the voters' list unless they are also holders of deeded property.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

Dr T. B. Turner will spend Monday of each week here.

Mr and Mrs S. Foster and family of Balcombe Ranch, will leave here in a short time for Calgary to stay with friends.

Miss Enla Watson left last Saturday morning in time to catch the eastbound K.V.R. train out of Penticton for Rossland, B.C., where she will make a short visit with her sister, Mrs P. W. Racey.

Next Sunday evening there will be no service in the Lakeside Baptist Church, the desire being to unite with the Methodist congregation on the occasion of the Harvest Thanksgiving service at that church. The Lakeside Baptist Sunday School however, will meet as usual at 11.45.

Commencing on Monday next, November 1st, the shortened winter schedule will go into effect at the local schools, holding good for the months of November, December, January, and February. Half an hour is chopped off each end of the school day, while the afternoon recess is eliminated.

Mrs C. C. Chittenden came up from Penticton on Saturday afternoon last week, and visited at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs W. Limmer, until she returned home on Wednesday. Mrs F. A. Williams was a guest of Mrs Chittenden for a day at the end of last week, returning to Summerland with her hostess.

The Okanagan is not the only district in which fruit growers kick against prices received for fruit. In a recent copy of the Overseas Mail a fruit grower in Shirell, health, Botley, England, complains of only receiving 4 shillings and 8 pence for 240 lbs. of Orleans plums, and that many of the jam factories in the district are only paying a farthing a pound for plums, which does not even pay the wages of the pickers. There are worse places than the Okanagan.

G. H. V. Bulyea, retiring Lieutenant of the Province of Alberta, has been appointed chairman of the newly constituted Public Utilities Commission of that province, a position which has attached to it an annual emolument of $7,200. Last week-end Mr and Mrs Bulyea were visitors at the home of Dr and Mrs R. C. Lipsett, while Tuesday was spent by them at Naramata with Mr and Mrs J. M. Robinson. They went up the lake on Wednesday morning, Mr Bulyea to Edmonton and Mrs Bulyea to Vancouver.

A series of lectures on such subjects as the "Prevention of Sickness," "Cure of the Patient," "First Aid in Small Accidents," "Practical Nursing," "Serious Emergencies," and "Maternity," will be given under the auspices of the local Women's Institutes next month, by Miss Fannie Steed, well-known lecturer. Miss Steed comes highly recommended by the Provincial Government. She will be with the Summerland Institute on November 8 to 10, and West Summerland on November 15 to 17, and Peachland on November 18 to 20.

Joe Lintern who enlisted from here into the 2nd C.M.R., and is now serving on the Continent, had a happy experience not long since, when through the instrumentality of J. Posythe, another Summerland soldier, he came to meet a brother, Harry, whom he had not seen for about five years. Forsythe and Harry Lintern are serving in the Mechanical Transport Branch, and when the former, encountering Joe Lintern, informed him that his brother was stationed about a mile and a half away, it can be imagined that a hearty reunion ensued.

With the names of the victorious Tawn team engraved upon it, the Rowley Basketball Trophy, competed for last winter in many hard and strenuous tussles by teams representing the Town, West Summerland and Okanagan College, was shown the Review this week. In the form of a shield the trophy is exceedingly attractive in appearance, and hung as it can be on any wall, it will prove a handsome souvenir of the interesting basketball series of last winter. The names engraved on the little panel at the bottom of the shield are H. Snider captain, C. McWilliams, H. Phinney, J. F. Glenn, and C. Lavis. The complete trophy was the gift of Mr J. Rowley. Three members of this redoubtable quintette, it is interesting to note, are now enrolled in the ranks of the Canadian Army.

Miss Armstrong of the Hospital staff is planning on taking a month's vacation during November.

W. T. Broad despatched a carload of apples to Calgary on Thursday, the fruit being gathered mainly from his own Jones Flat orchard.

Members of St Andrew's and Caledonian Society meet Monday first, St Andrew's Church vestry, eight o'clock. Dues collected. Important business for consideration.

On account of the special services in the Methodist Church next Sunday, the Presbyterian service in the afternoon at 3 o'clock will be withdrawn and also the evening service in St Andrew's Church.

The pupils of the High School are undergoing their Thanksgiving "tests" yesterday and to-day. These examinations are not so complete as those given at the end of the term, but offer a good check on the work being done by each pupil.

The inauguration of the "rolling" season—meaning roller skating—at Penticton, took a number of devotees down to that town on Tuesday evening, most of them taking advantage of the special trip made by the ferry.

To fittingly mark her ninth birthday, Margaret Ramsay, daughter of Mr and Mrs T. H. Ramsay, entertained a number of her school friends to a party at her home last Saturday. The young hostess received many dainty little gifts from her guests in recognition of the occasion.

Another large fruit shipping concern to take up the storage of winter apples, to be sold advantageously as occasion offers, is A. Stuart & Son. As in former years this firm has secured the frostproof basement of Ellison Hall for apple storage, and already the big basement is almost half occupied.

Although it is now seven weeks since Donald Ross contracted typhoid fever, his condition is still such as to cause some anxiety, progress towards recovery being extremely slow. His temperature still goes up frequently to a somewhat alarming height, and this in conjunction with his extreme weakness, makes his recovery far slower than was hoped for.

The high wind of Wednesday afternoon and night was the cause of the C.P.R. tug with two car barges going ashore just north of the car slip here. A sand bar extends out for some distance from the point above the wharf, and the strong wind forced the tug with her barges, one on each side, so far to leeward that they grounded on this bar, and were forced to stay there till helped off Thursday morning by the "Sicamous."

Evidence that the windstorm on Wednesday night of this week was something out of the ordinary was seen in the fact that the "Sicamous" did not attempt to make the customary call either at Summerland or Naramata. The presumption is that the high broadside of the boat might have caught the wind in such a manner as to make something serious likely to happen. It is a long time since Summerland has been passed by on this account, and it is hoped that it will be a long time before it happens again.

It was not without a series of experiences, some serious and some rather humorous, that a quantity of apples brought down to the C.P.R. wharf on Tuesday night for shipment to Great Britain, were finally sent off on their journey. While the wagon, loaded with properly packed apples, was in process of being backed into the freight shed, the rear wheels in some way went too near the edge, and the entire load slid off into the water. Strenuous exertions prevented the team from being pulled back into the lake by the slipping wagon, and with plenty of help at hand both horses and the rig as well were soon back into safety. Then three men from the Fruit Union volunteered to rescue the floating apples from the lake in a small boat. This enterprise went along well till one of the eager helpers reached over too far and upset the boat, throwing all three occupants into the water—and the bathing this time of year is somewhat cool. This made more excitement, and it was about a couple of hours before everything was put right. The apples did not suffer at all, and were dispatched with others in the shipment from Summerland.

A carload of box shoos shipped in from the Coast on a rush order for A. Stuart & Son, came in by the K.V.R. about a week ago.

Mrs C. C. Chittenden will receive at her home on Winnipeg Avenue, Penticton, on Tuesday, November 2nd, from three until six o'clock.

There have been sent from here recently, over 200 boxes of apples as Christmas presents mostly from local citizens to friends and relatives in the home land.

Two cars of Princeton coal were put on to the Kettle Valley siding at West Summerland at the beginning of the week, one for T. B. Young, and the other brought in jointly by Messrs Frank Marshall, for Hotel Summerland, and A. E. Hespeler.

Summerland will have a display of at least 50 boxes of apples at the Spokane Fair, according to present arrangements. These will be in charge of J. Lawler. Others may make entries which will increase the quantity sent from here.

In their Ford touring car, Mr and Mrs G. M. Ross, with Miss Robina Logie and Miss Gwen Robinson accompanying them, embarked on Tuesday on a trip through the Similkameen and Nicola Valleys to Kamloops, and returning down the Okanagan. They are expected to reach home again about the end of the week.

"I could not very well do without your valuable paper, it is just like getting a letter from home." These were the cheery words that reached the office this week from a former resident in Summerland, now living in Alberta, but who still cherishes a warm regard for this place. Equally welcome was the accompanying remittance for a renewal subscription, in advance. Would that we knew how to convert some of the names on our subscription list into cheerful payers like this!

Rev. C. H. Daly was at Penticton last Sunday, conducting Presbyterian services in that town, supplying for Rev. J. Ferguson Miller. In Mr Daly's absence, Rev. D. E. Hatt preached last Sunday morning in St Andrew's Church, and in the afternoon in the Methodist Church. His sermons dealt with the "Christian Faith and Teachings of Tennyson," and from Mr Hatt's rare knowledge and comprehension of his subject, many listeners got an added understanding of the well-known poet.

Word to Mr and Mrs S. Angove came this week from their son Will, who is now on his way to England with a draft of the Canadian Army Medical Corps. The letter was dispatched from Quebec, and tells of a most enjoyable trip across the continent, with splendid receptions from the towns en route. At the larger cities, where the stops were long enough, the men were allowed to stretch their legs by taking short marches, and in one case they got off the train and marched three miles to the next town on the line where they again boarded the train.

Messrs A. McLachlan and F. Hadrell went on a hunting expedition last week-end, making their headquarters in the vicinity of Fish Lake. They had intended to return on Sunday evening, and when Monday came and still no hunters had put in an appearance, there were slight misgivings in some quarters. They returned about noontime, however, much to the relief of friends. Snow fell back in the hills on Sunday night to the depth of six or seven inches, obliterating the trails, and prudence dictated that they remain in shelter for the night and await daylight before attempting to make the return trip.

The Trout Creek home of Mr and Mrs J. Troffry on Thursday evening of last week was the scene of a farewell party to Mr and Mrs H. Dunham and family, who have gone to take up residence in Alberta. A good number of friends enjoyed an evening heartily social in nature, and at the height of the gathering Rev. R. W. Lee, acting as spokesman for friends of Mr and Mrs Dunham, made a presentation to them in the shape of a silver butter dish and a case of silver spoons. In making the presentation Mr Lee spoke regretfully of the departure of Mr and Mrs Dunham, who both replied briefly. It was just about midnight when, after partaking of refreshments, the party dispersed.

Mr J. R. Brown and Rev. R. W. Lee had a two-day trip into the Similkameen this week in Mr O. Atkins' Ford car. They left on Wednesday, and spent that night at Hedley, returning on Thursday after visiting Keremeos and other points in that vicinity.

Mrs C. Chittenden, after a few days' visit here with her mother, Mrs Limmer, returned to her home at Penticton on Wednesday. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs Limmer and Mrs Angove, the former to stay for a week, while Mrs Angove returns to-day.

COUNCIL MEETING.

of way. This offer was readily accepted, and Mr Barnard will go to work as soon as preliminaries are arranged. He will go over the ground with the Public Works Committee this afternoon. This is expected to satisfy the Post Office department, and also the owners of property surrounding the lake. Mr Barnard proposes to pipe diagonally across the Rose lot, touch the corner of the de Renzy lot, cross the road and carry an open ditch across the lower corner of the Rivington property, and emptying into a flume.

T. J. McAlpine advised by letter that he had completed the south main, and asked for the balance due. This will come up at the regular meeting and in the meantime the Public Works Committee will inspect the work and be prepared to pass on the account.

Other matters left over to the regular meeting included a letter from the Chairman of the Board of Investigation on the municipal water records, a request from the Board of Fire Underwriters that the Council enact a by-law respecting the storage of oil and gasoline, another communication from A. E. Rose's solicitors and a claim for rebate of domestic water rates from the Dominion Experimental Farm.

W. C. Kelley, acting for C. H. Cordy, put in a claim for $50 on the plea that Mr Cordy had been given the contract to drain Hilborn's lake for that sum, and that before he had had time to do it the Reeve had undertaken the work. The Reeve said he had already advised Mr Kelley to tell Mr Cordy to go ahead and drain the lake.

Mr Kelley's account for services in 1912 and 1915 was again before the Council. Some of the items will be again discussed with Mr Kelley.

The Council unanimously endorsed a resolution from Peachland Municipal Council drawing the attention of the Provincial Road Superintendent to the necessity of improving the Lakeshore drive, particularly the surface, and asking that lower fares on the Kelowna-Westbank ferry be fixed.

There will be no more cement lining of ditches this fall.

The Clerk reported having arranged with Mrs Neve for moving of a stretch of flume from the K.V.R. right-of-way to the Neve side of the fence, $75 to be paid for damages to trees, etc. The flume will be moved this fall, the Reeve undertaking to arrange for it.

LOCALS.

A long list of names of Summerland men now serving the Empire has been unavoidably held over, and will appear next week.

H. Dunham left here on Monday night with a car of settler's effects, going to Sask. to engage in stock and grain farming.

Horses wandering in from the range have lately been of much annoyance to residents of Jones Flat. In conversation with the Review a citizen of that section protested most vigorously against the practice of allowing horses to run at large. This week eleven of the animals were gathered up and impounded by Constable Graham.

Mr C. Reed who is connected with the Vancouver World, came in at the end of last week, visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs R. W. Lee. On Sunday Mr Reed was taken ill with neuritis, and it was thought best to take him to the hospital. On Wednesday morning he left for his home at the Coast, and it is thought he will need rest for some weeks yet before he is able to resume his work.

The Harvest Festival services of the Methodist Church will be held on Sunday next at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. Unfortunately Rev. W. Lashley Hall, who was announced to be present, has been summoned to attend a special meeting of the Social Service Council in Vancouver, and cannot make the train connection to be here for Sunday. However his place will be taken by Rev. Andrew Henderson of Peachland, who is so well-known and highly esteemed by Summerland congregations. The church will be specially decorated for the occasion. Gifts of flowers, fruit, vegetables, etc., will be gladly received. Rev. W. L. Hall has agreed to visit Summerland at the beginning of the New Year. Rev. R. W. Lee desires to express his thanks to the Baptist and Presbyterian Churches who have withdrawn their services on Sunday afternoon and evening.
