PAYING THE COUNCILLORS.

THE IDEA of remunerating the Reeve and Councillors for their public services is not likely to receive general commendation from the ratepayers at this time, whether the sum to be expended in this way totals the maximum of one thousand dollars or less. The question as to whether they are not entitled to such considering the amount of time given to their work, does not enter into the proposition so much as the consideration of what degree of increased efficiency such a step would make for. Incidentally the proposal may be justly questioned from the standpoint of economy.

There exists throughout the district a strong feeling that a large part of the work which fell last year upon the shoulders of some members of the Council did not rightly belong there. This in no way discounts the splendid zeal and public spiritedness shown by these men in assuming the added duties. They deserve very whole-hearted praise for the sacrifices they made repeatedly in their zealous care of the ratepayers' interests. But the fact remains that a large portion of the work undertaken by the Reeve and Councillors belonged properly to the sphere of the Superintendent. He it is who should have charge of the progress of all public works, and while being strictly accountable to the Council, that body need do little more than act as the municipal executive. The superintendency carries with it a salary large enough to expect the assumption of responsibilities, and if the Councillors are going to take some of its worries away, there follows the natural expectation that the salary attached to this post will be reduced in proportion. There is no use paying two people to assume the same responsibilities.

It should be borne in mind that when a man receives payment for his services, those who pay him are entitled to the highest kind of efficiency. The man who gives his time and energy for nothing more than thank-yous—sometimes finding himself denied of even this paltry reward—is not open to the same criticism as the person in a paid position. If it is the opinion of the Council that the responsibilities attaching themselves to the superintendency of the District of Summerland have outgrown an eighteen hundred a year salary, then the best thing to be done would surely be to increase the salary and get a man with knowledge and experience, able to handle the larger job.

The superintendent is a permanent official, or reasonably so. The Councillors may be in one year and out the next. Which would appear to be the better place for the responsibility in connection with the progress of the municipality's public works and utilities to rest? The very constitution of municipal councils in this province shows that these bodies are not suited to take upon themselves any capacities but advisory and executive. There is not enough permanency about them to warrant anything else. The man who without previous experience takes a seat on the Council, no matter how able and interested he may be, cannot gain knowledge enough of the situation to allow him to direct things until he has held his seat for about a year.

This leads us at this point to venture the suggestion that the efficiency of the Council would be greatly enhanced if it were elected more after the fashion of the Board of School Trustees. The law allows municipal councils to consist of any number up to eight. A council of six or eight members from which only two or three retired every year could administer the public business to better advantage than as at present constituted. More committees would be available, and to these could go many of the trifling matters that have absorbed the attention of full Councils in the past. A body constituted in this way would be regarded as a more stable institution, and better results would soon manifest themselves.

Where is the money coming from to pay the councillors' salaries? We presume this expense would become a fixed charge payable out of the general revenue. The figures for the year just closed are not yet available, but at the end of the previous twelve months there was a cash balance on hand of $672. The year closing before that only showed $54 on hand. This means that with the revenue no greater, some pruning would have to be done in the civic estimates to make the money available, without raising the taxes, which everyone will concede is not desirable at this juncture.

The whole question is one that the Reeve and Councillors can afford to dwell on at the public meeting to be held to-morrow afternoon. If the ratepayers are expected to vote intelligently upon the matter they are entitled to hear all there is to be said on both sides.

THE RATEPAYERS' MEETING.

THE ANNUAL OPPORTUNITY given to the ratepayers of Summerland to enquire into the why and wherefore of the policies of their governing bodies, presents itself to-morrow afternoon, Saturday, January 8th, in the Campbell Hall. This is the one time of the year when discussion and even criticism is courted. It is the one public opportunity to praise our civic representatives up or call them down, and for all and sundry to air their grievances or offer suggestions. Incidentally the Council gives an account of its stewardship in the form of an annual statement.

Criticism, open and frank, is very desirable at a meeting of this nature. The Council have no skeleton in a cupboard to keep hidden, nor is there anything in their record that will not stand fair and unprejudiced criticism. With the kind that descends to personalities, clouding the real issues that are at stake, the Council need not be concerned. It is for every ratepayer to see that this open opportunity for the discussion of their interests is made full use of. Many misconceptions may be cleared up, lines of policy made plain and justified, and everyone may get better acquainted with the general attitude of the Council. At the same time the Councillors may be able to get a clear insight into the needs and desires of the people they represent, always most desirable.

There is one detail in connection with the public meeting in which improvement could be effected.—It is in regard to the presentation of the annual statement. The mere reading of figures cannot convey to the average mind a conception of their real meaning. To appreciate the real financial position of the district, it is necessary that the figures be presented in some printed form. Other towns make this their procedure, why not Summerland? How much more useful such a statement would be at this meeting than a month or so later when it is ready for distribution here.

MEAL ACCOUNTS FOR PRISONERS—AND OTHER MATTERS.

Summerland, B.C.
January, 7th, 1916.
The Editor, Summerland Review.
Dear Sir

May I ask the courtesy of your columns to further emphasize the complaints of your correspondents in last week's issue of the Review.

The facts in my case are as follows: On October 8 last the Municipal Constable requested me to supply meals for a prisoner in the Municipal jail, stating that I must only charge a certain price, as that was the maximum allowed for the purpose.

I supplied 42 meals to him, and furnished him with the account.

I understand that the prisoner was subsequently deported to some town across the border, whence he came, but, I contend, that whilst in charge of the Municipality they are liable for his keep, and all other expenses, if not, who is?

On November 8 I supplied three further meals for another prisoner, also at the request of the Municipal Constable. I also supplied four further meals for other persons, and rendered the account to the Municipality. It is a well-known rule in all hotels that meals are supplied for cash, and meal tickets payable in advance. After waiting three months I phoned the Municipal Hall to know when I might expect payment, and was informed that the two last accounts were in order, and had been passed for payment, but the first account for 42 meals was repudiated, and that "the Constable had no right to pledge the credit of the Council, and the Council would not stand for it."

Now if the two accounts are admitted, why not the other, which is in all respects similar.

On December 30 I forwarded to the Council the amount of my Water Rate and Electric Light, less the rebate and the amounts due to me from the Council, but to-day am in receipt of a registered envelope returning my remittance, accounts, etc., also a letter stating, on the authority of Mr Logie, that "it is necessary to remit the full amount by to-day's mail in order to secure the rebate on Light and Water Rates."

Apparently the matter has not been laid before the Council at all; is it therefore Mr Logie who wields the club of authority, or the Council? Further, is it fair that I should have to stump up on a cer-

Apples For San Diego.

B.C. Fruit Gets Honor Of Representing Canada At Exposition.

An order to ship one thousand boxes of British Columbia apples to the exposition at San Diego has been received by Dominion Fruit Inspector R. G. L. Clarke, from the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. These will be obtained from the Okanagan and Kereameos districts, and will include the widest variety available at this season.

Instructions are to have them carefully packed for exhibition purposes in accordance with the high standard usually maintained by this province.

Rev. J. Baker has returned from a trip to Calgary, and is again settled on his Meadow Valley ranch.

Mr Dow recently received a cheque covering the bounty on five coyotes, and has a number more to report. Nimrod had nothing on Mr Dow as a mighty hunter.

Miss Ruth Dale was home from Vancouver Normal School for the holiday season. On her return this week she was accompanied by Miss Annie Blair and Miss Madeline Elsey, who will both pursue Normal courses.

The Leap Year Party at the Parkdale Rink on New Year's night was a brilliant affair. No heads or hearts were broken, as far as we can learn, but much ice was broken by the winning ways of modern maids with men of bashful mein. The reservoir, not the rink, is the official place for cutting ice, but there were parties who cut some ice that night, and no mistake. All names reserved.

When you get mad at your neighbor's chickens, see that your own chickens are not making some other neighbor mad.

tain day, when an amount is three months OVERDUE to me from the Council? I have hitherto always paid my rates, etc., to time, and I may tell Mr Logie that I do not intend to be bullied by him, or any other person in office, dressed in a little brief authority. I would also take this opportunity of asking, is it justice or robbery to charge me $10 per quarter for power water and in the summer to cut off the supply between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., because the Council sell it to others for irrigation, and thus are paid twice for the same thing.

Thanking you for the use of your columns to expose such pettifoggery.

Yours faithfully,
FRANK MARSHALL.

Care of Poultry In Winter Months.

(From Dominion Government "Seasonable Hints.")

NOVEMBER.

Early in October the pullets should have been housed in their winter quarters, but if this has not been done do not delay any longer; have all the houses ready and the layers into them as soon as possible now. Make repairs, put glass and cotton in the openings and have everything ready for the pullets to go right ahead. Arrange the house so that the pullets may be divided from the hens.

All surplus cockerels should be disposed of by this time, as well as pullets which are not likely to be fit for laying or breeding purposes, and, of course, all old hens which are not suited for breeding next spring.

Select the pullets very carefully; do not retain for winter laying any but the very best. Market all pullets which are lacking in vigor, undersized or deformed in any way, and keep only those from which good production can be expected.

Do not move the pullets from house to house, or even from pen to pen, at this time of the year; they are very sensitive, and the least excitement will mean a loss of dollars by a decreased egg yield. Never allow them to be chased, and particularly do not allow the dog to amuse himself with them.

Adopt system in feeding; have a supply bin in each pen, and in this put a bag or two of mixed grain as required. The mixture may consist of almost any good grain raised on the farm. A very good combination is wheat two parts, corn one part, oats one part, barley or buckwheat one part; the corn may be cracked or given whole as desired. Feed this morning and night in a heavy litter, making the birds scratch for all the grain they get. In a dry mash hopper put some dry bran or crushed oats, depending upon the price; leave this before the birds all the time. In another hopper put beef scrap alone, or ten per cent. beef scrap mixed with bran. A supply of grit and oyster shell should be available to the birds; also plenty of water, though if milk can be obtained give them what they will take of it as well. Should there be plenty of table scraps and milk, the beef scraps could be left out, but give what will take its place to the pullets rather than to the old hens at this time of the year.

Feed regularly; not just when you happen to think about it; let some one person be responsible for the work. If it has not already been done, now is the time to see about a special egg-market. It is during the early winter months that consumers find it difficult to get new laid eggs, so that those who have new laid eggs have what others are willing to pay a good price for, if they can be shipped direct and with an absolute guarantee.

Go over the poultry house again; make sure that it is ready for cold weather; see that the cracks are all stopped, especially on the north side; provide for plenty of ventilation without draughts. The month of December should be a continuation of the work started and carried on in November. It would be well to market turkeys and geese a week or more before

DECEMBER.

Christmas; see that the breeding waterfowl and turkeys have a shelter they can call their own; don't let them mix with the hens. They do not require anything very elaborate; merely a shelter from the storm.

During this month the hens which were pullets last year—the best of which were kept for breeding purposes last spring—will begin to lay. They have not been housed with the pullets nor have they been fed quite as strongly. By the latter part of this month a little beef scrap can be added to their mash; but to keep hens healthy and not too fat, keep them hungry; that is, keep them working for all the grain they get.

JANUARY.

Go over the breeding pens; get ready for mating; see that there are no weaklings in the flock. Be sure that the male birds are healthy and vigorous, and it is well to keep one or two extra birds in case of accident. In the American breeds, mate at the rate of one male to ten or twelve females; in Mediterranean breeds, a vigorous male might be mated with fifteen to twenty females. If the males agree, several can be placed in the one pen; if not, it is better to have a coop for the extra males, keeping only one with the flock at a time.

FEBRUARY.

Upon the health and vigor of the breeding stock will depend largely the success of hatching and rearing during the breeding season. The safest plan is to keep only those with vigor and good constitution, and give them plenty of fresh air and exercise.

Remember that the urine, or liquid portion of the manure, contains a large proportion of the fertilizing elements voided by animals. Do not bore holes in stable floors to facilitate the escape of this portion, but rather use bedding to absorb it and carry it to the land. Don't apply manure heavily. It is better to treat the land lightly and oftener.

Never permit fermentation, or superheating of manure. It is easy to lose one-half of the original value of a manure heap in a few months if it becomes fire-fanged. In this country we have less loss through leaching than is the case where rains are heavier, but a manure pile under the eaves of a building may easily lose heavily from this cause.

Smoked Meats and Lard

YOU know our lard
and smoked meats—the best at the right prices—kept and sold under conditions of scrupulous cleanliness. You will now be interested in a recipe used by many of our local housewives for producing a delicious breakfast dish.

Cut this out and paste in your scrap book:
SLICE off some of our fine sugar cured ham or bacon, quite thin. After taking off the rind put the slices into a hot frying pan, turning them over till they are crisp, but taking care not to burn them. About three minutes will do but it is necessary that the slices be cooked till they are absolutely crisp. This method brings out the delicate flavor of our bacon and ham, and if served with eggs fried in the gravy, makes a dish fit for a king.

Unity Ladies At Home On New Year's Day.

The At Home conducted in the ladies' clubroom parlor on the afternoon of New Year's Day proved a very attractive event with which to punctuate the day. So successful in fact was the experiment that it will probably become an annual item on the year's program of the ladies' club of Naramata. There was a large turnout of the matrons, almost a full attendance of the young maidens, and a very fair sprinkling of the gentlemen. A contributing factor in the pleasure of the afternoon was the scheme of decorations which included a shower of Maple Leaves, clinging as by delicate tendrils to the folds of the draperies of the windows, and the sprays of evergreen leaves adorning the mantelpiece. The ladies took turns in receiving, and in pouring tea, and in serving the choice delicacies in which were included some choice varieties of home-made candy, whose flavor had much of the mercantile brands beaten several blocks.

Coincident with this were the strains of music from the piano tucked away in a quiet corner. These instrumental selections were alternated at times by a number of vocal solos. The program concluded with the ever new—the old favorite—Auld Lang Syne.

The Card Party.

The Whist Drive in the Unity Club Rooms on Thursday evening, conducted under Red Cross auspices by Mesdames Hancock, Aldridge, and Rayner, proved fully up to expectations. In all, except in point of attendance, the function was fully up to standards set on previous occasions. The lack of a full attendance was readily attributed to the fact that many of the folk were busy with their preparations for the celebrations on New Year's Day. Mrs McKay and Mr J. Bruce were the top-notchers on the score cards for the ladies and gentlemen respectively, while those less fortunate as to receive the consolation awards were Miss Edith Roe and T. H. Boothe.

Remembered joys are never past.

What The Women's Institute Has Been Accomplishing.

The Women's Institute held their annual organization meeting on Tuesday afternoon with their president, Mrs H. P. Davies, in the chair. Reports of retiring officers showed that the Institute has caught the hearts and minds of the women of Naramata. The most striking feature of the year's work is the truly practical nature of the things attempted as evidenced by the fact that during the year now closed two series of lectures were held, dealing with the problems of Home Nursing and with the ever-present needs of Home Cooking. In the first instance, Miss Stead, a practical and thoroughly trained nurse, spent two days here in the fall, and in the second instance, Miss Livingstone's instructions in the art of modern cooking, are still fresh in the minds of all who attended.

Plans are in progress for a still further extension of the scope of the work. It is too premature yet to speak at all definitely but it is not too premature to at least hint at some of the probabilities. For one thing, it is quite probable that a course in plain sewing, including the cutting and fitting of dresses will be one of the features of the 1916 lecture course.

Probable, too, that a flower show may be arranged for by the Institute during 1916. It would be a good plan, too—think some of the ladies—to have prizes offered for the best collection of wild flowers found growing in the district during certain months of the year.

Toward the close of the session Mrs J. M. Robinson, Mrs Davies, Miss M. S. Gordon, and Mrs C. C. Aikins, were selected to act as a Board of Directors for the present year. These four responsible ladies will be expected to select one from their number to act as President, and one to fill the office of Vice-President.

Mr Chas. Swanson, who recently arrived in town from his Alberta cattle ranch, after seeing that his wife and family of two boys were comfortably settled in a furnished cottage for the winter, returned to the prairies and the prairie winter in order the better to look to the welfare of his herd of cattle. It is understood that it is Mr Swanson's intention to eventually settle somewhere in the Okanagan, where in a less rigorous climate he may pasture his flocks.

Miss Robinson spent the week in Summerland as guest of Mrs Geo. Ross.

Mrs Cash and son S. B. Cash returned on Monday from a visit with friends at Grand Forks.

Miss Fairbanks of Penticton returned to her home after a short visit in Naramata as a guest of Miss Mitchell.

Mr Dan Breathwaite from Fairview, after a few days' visit with friends in town returned to his home on Friday.

Mrs Henry R. Hall left for Toronto on Friday, accompanied as far as Sicamous by her friend Mrs Geo. Aldridge.

The Okanagan Lake Boat Co. very wisely kept their boats safely anchored during the storm that prevailed on Monday.

Mr Jack Robinson is at present spending a week in Chicago and is expected back to Naramata about the middle of the month.

On Monday morning the schools were again thrown open, and the boys and girls dropped into line for another term of active study.

January 9th being the second Sunday in the month, Rev H. A. Solly of Summerland will hold Anglican service at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Miss Maud Walker of Vancouver, the recently appointed primary teacher, reached town by Saturday's evening boat, and commenced her new duties on Monday morning.

For the first time in years, the ice in the bay north of town in the vicinity of the mill has frozen sufficiently to warrant the hope that a really clear sheet of ice will soon be available.

The Liberal fathers held a meeting at the home of Mr D. McKay on Thursday afternoon last, upon the occasion of the visit of their candidate, Mr Rogers, High School principal from Kelowna.

Mr and Mrs Rhind, recent land-seekers from Alberta, after a few days' sojourn at Naramata, as guests at the home of Mr Mulford, started farther south with the intention of travelling at least as far as Fairview.

The "Skookum," after facing the storm of wind and ice-cold waves for a period of three days was pretty well coated with ice and on Wednesday was towed across to the wharf at the mill where a safer harbor was secured.

The government thermometer registered 6 degrees above zero on Tuesday morning, but several local instruments indicated from 6 to 8 degrees lower than this. It is probably the lowest registration there will be this season.

Mr Leslie V. Rogers of Kelowna, the Liberal candidate, who is to contest the electoral district of which Naramata forms a part, against Mr Jones, Liberal-Conservative candidate, was in town on Thursday afternoon and evening.

Inadvertently the name of J. A. Myers was inserted in last week's issue reporting that gentleman on the sick list. It was a mistake, one which Mr Myers will excuse. It was J. A. Noyes that had been the sufferer. Mr Noyes had a severe attack of pleurisy.

Thanks to the continuation of the cold snap and to the diligent work of the young ice-enthusiasts, the boys have a good sized open air rink in full swing. For their sake let us hope that the cold spell may continue yet a while in order that their labors may prove worth while.

When the lakeshore thermometers reach the zero mark as some of the instruments did on Monday night, we here in this part of the Okanagan Valley are inclined to believe that we are in the very midst of our annual cold snap. Fortunately for us it assuredly is—that these days of our so-called extremely cold are so few in number.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessees may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

In an interesting letter to her mother Miss Mayda Williams, now a deaconess in the Methodist Church, Montreal, tells of the work of the mission among the Syrians of the eastern metropolis. A perusal of the contents is evidence alone of the splendid work being done by the organization of which Miss Williams is now a very active member.

Sunday last, being the day set apart by His Royal Highness, The Duke of Connaught, as a day of Intercession for the success of the Allies, the service on Sunday afternoon was in keeping with the occasion. The address by the preacher, Rev. R. M. Thompson, had for its basis, "The eyes of the fool are in the ends of the earth." The thought specially emphasized was the necessity now, this day, this year, of setting our eyes on the duty right at hand, to avoid the mistake referred to in the text of dwelling too long on the past—either upon its successes or its repeated failures or of being either too sanguine or too despondent as regards the future. At the close of the address Miss Gladys Robinson and Miss Fairbanks sang "Sun of My Soul, Thou Saviour Dear."

The young people of town to the number of about a score spent a pleasant evening, New Year's night, at the home of Mr and Mrs J. M. Robinson. The floor of the large dining hall had been cleared of all unnecessary furniture, and with music furnished by Mr and Mrs Manchester there was nothing left wanting that could have added to the comfort and convenience of the merry guests. Amongst the number present were noticed in addition to the genial host and hostess and their daughters: Mrs P. S. Roe, Mrs W. Nuttall, the Misses B. Mitchell, V. Mitchell, Lois Wells, Edith Roe, Fairbanks, Vera Roe, Edna Noyes; and the following gentlemen, Messrs Nuttall, Steers, H. Mitchell, J. A. Noyes, J. H. Rounds, G. Hayman, W. A. Robinson.

Young Man, Do you know

that some of the best paid men right here in B.C. educated themselves for advancement at home, right in the village or on the farm, and that they had no better chances than you have, some, indeed, being extremely poor, and only having a knowledge of reading and writing? These men have, through the study of International Correspondence Schools' courses, and a determination to succeed, risen to where they are. Why not you?

Others with good general education have found that without special training along one line, they could not hope for much in exchange for their services, and have taken up the International Correspondence Schools studies and made good.

The International Correspondence Schools have contracts now with over two hundred railroads alone for instructing their employees, including the C.P.R., the C.N.R., the B.C. Electric Rly., and the Dominion Government railways in Canada, and the text-books of the School which have become famous for their clearness, practicability, and thoroughness, are now used in nearly 800

A GENUINE KNOCKER.

IT IS HARD to conceive there is anyone in this community so short sighted, and so ill-disposed towards their own home town as to go out of their way to "knock" it. But it is apparent that this is the case from the letter read last Saturday at the public meeting of the ratepayers, addressed to the Council by an eastern financial firm. Specific statement was made that their informant was resident here. If the letter that this januiced individual sent east was as dismal as the reply it prompted, what a jeremiad it must have been! Just what motives can anyone have had in sitting down to pen such a screed of undisguised pessimism, and then sending it to a quarter where it might do most harm to Summerland? What end does it accomplish? If public funds were being squandered right and left without due regard to the stringency of the times, and if there were internal evidences that the place was going to the dogs, there might be some ground for such distressing feelings. In any event we seriously question such underhanded methods of trying to remedy conditions.

Many of the statements the letter read last Saturday contained were obviously untrue. Others had in them just a suggestion of truth, enough to make them more difficult of explanation than if they were wholly false. It is to be hoped that the Council dealt with the communication as vigorously as it deserved to be. The balance sheet itself would be proof enough that the diligent pessimist distorted the true facts, magnifying his woë and belittling the cheering aspects of the case.

Conditions in this district as a whole are not half as bad as this person must have made out. If they were it would be an intolerable place to live in—which it is not. There are improvements which every one would like to see, but sending such epistles east is no way to help bring them about. If "knocking" must be done, let it be done out in the open, where it can be met and answered. We are thankful that for one such confirmed pessimist there are about one thousand equally confirmed optimists in the place.

FOR THE PATRIOTIC FUND.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that an individual canvass is to be made throughout this district immediately, with the object in view of getting a stated periodical contribution to swell the income of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. There is no question but that every one's heart is with this movement, and there will likely be few indeed who will not sacrifice in order to have some part, small though it may be, in making up a Summerland contribution. The bulk of the community already have local obligations to maintain, such as church, societies of one kind and another, and such like, and if the true spirit of sacrifice is exercised these will not suffer from any calls such as the one with us now. To throw up one's financial support of local institutions, to give more largely to war time needs is not the best kind of sacrifice, for it causes something at home to suffer. Let us give then, and give as liberally as possible to the needs of the Patriotic Fund, over and above what undertakings we already have in hand.

We recall that since the outbreak of the war at least two public collecting campaigns have been undertaken throughout the entire community, and in each case it is our impression that a surplus was left over at the bank. In the first instance Summerland was asked in the fall of 1914 to contribute $100 to the fitting out of a hospital ship. The result was that about treble that sum was gathered up, and the balance was to be deposited at the bank to meet any further emergency. Could this sum not be diverted to the needs of the Patriotic Fund?

In the other instance an effort was made to make up a Summerland contribution to the machine gun fund. A sum of something like $100 is understood to have been collected when the word from Ottawa that no more funds for this purpose need be collected somewhat upset the collecting campaign. Our impression is that this money was also deposited at the bank pending the wishes of the contributors.

We commend this suggestion to the public meeting this evening, when it is likely that contributions to both these efforts will be present, and their wishes could be learned.

PREMIER BORDEN'S New Year message to the Canadian people was an announcement that the Canadian army is to be doubled in strength, from two hundred and fifty thousand to five hundred thousand men. This points to a tremendous burden that our young nation will be called upon to assume during the days of this new year. That the country's manhood and the country's means will respond when the call comes there is no reason to doubt.

Summerland Hospital Society.

THE ANNUAL MEETING will be held in The Men's Club, on Thursday, Jan. 27, 1916, at 3 p.m.

BUSINESS—To receive the reports of the Board of Directors for the expired year; to appoint a Board of Directors and Auditor for the coming year, and generally to take into consideration the position and prospects of the Society.

THOS. H. RILEY, Secretary.

FIVE HUNDRED CLUB HAVE ENJOYABLE EVENING.

The second meeting of the Five Hundred Club at the Hotel Summerland on Tuesday evening last afforded a very enjoyable evening for those who were able to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Play commenced at eight o'clock, when 36 members sat down to commence the fight for the excellent array of prizes generously donated to the cause of the Red Cross Society, and some good scores resulted, notably in the case of one lady who secured four "Grand Slams." The twelve prizes offered consist of a cut glass and silver vase kindly presented by Mr O. Vaughan, a pair of moccasins by Mr A. J. Beer, a gold and pearl stick scarf pin and lady's blouse set from Mr J. Rowley, a beaten copper embroidery set in case, donated by Mr A. Stark, a lady's handbag and a gentleman's wallet, the gift of Mr K. Hogg, an electric iron from our municipal electrician, Mr Claud James, choice of a couple of chickens or a joint from Mr J. Downton, a box of special apples by Mr Rines, tea cosy worked by Mrs J. Downton, an embroidered pin cushion, the work and gift of Mrs R. H. Steuart, and a box of chocolate by Mr Marshall, the collection forming a very pleasing display on view in the Rotunda of the hotel, and which will be awarded to the respective winners at the end of the season.

Play finished at eleven o'clock and refreshments were served by the hostesses of the evening, Miss Aitchison, Mrs G. Anderson, Miss Clay, and Mrs Atkins, who were heartily congratulated on a very jovial evening which will benefit the funds of the Red Cross Society to the amount of $6.25.

The next meeting is fixed for Tuesday, Jan. 18, and each succeeding Tuesday at eight o'clock prompt.

MAJORITY FAVOR PAYING COUNCILLORS.

At the request of the Reeve the Clerk read a letter from W. L. McKinnon & Co, brokers, and at present holders of a block of Summerland debentures, setting forth a long list of questions based on information supplied by some one resident here. The statements made by that citizen were so false, so unnecessary, and so damaging that there was immediate resentment manifested all over the room. There were calls for the name of the maligning citizen with threats of violence if discovered. The Clerk had already had instructions from the Council to answer every question fully. The ratepayers felt sure that every one could be replied to in a manner to satisfy even the most wary creditor.

The question of remuneration was introduced by the Reeve, who said it had first been proposed by Coun. Simpson, not with the idea of paying the retiring Council but to induce others who felt they could not afford to give their time to offer for public service. Personally, Mr Blair did not favor the proposal, but he thought it only fair to pay those who had to hire a man to take their place in the orchard or leave the work undone.

A draft of a by-law to pay the Reeve $250 and each of the Councillors $150 was read by Mr Logie. There was a lengthy discussion on the subject, and after it was stated that other Valley municipalities were giving an indemnity, and that the Council could vote themselves indemnities if they so wished, the opposition, seemingly at first the strongest, waned, and when the motion of G. J. C. White, endorsing the proposed by-law was put to vote there were 30 to support it while 21 disapproved.

A matter of considerable importance but of rather a technical nature, the scientific mixing of concrete, was explained at some length by Mr J. A. Kirk, information interesting and no doubt valuable for future guidance.

Water, always the big topic at annual meetings, was almost wholly overlooked. A question from Col. Cartwright asking if everything in that line was satisfactory, brought certain recommendations from Coun. Johnston for improving the service on Sluash Flat. He did not favor borrowing to put in a larger and better distribution, but urged that water users make a special effort to pay up irrigation rates. A suggestion that ratepayers be given preference when employing labor was made by W. C. Kelley. O. Zimmerman recommended that all lands held by the Municipality be made productive and suggested leasing them. School matters were not touched upon.

PROUD OF HIS CONSTITUENCY.

Hon Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, in a private letter to a citizen in Summerland writes of the response given by the men of his constituency to the Empire's call:

"As to the magnificent response to the Empire's call for men in my constituency, it is not possible to satisfactorily express one's feelings in words, but the knowledge that so many fine fellows are in the battle line is a source of great pride to us all, and perhaps especially to myself, their representative in the House and in the Cabinet."

VANCOUVER'S MAYOR.

Alderman McBeath led with a majority of about 600 in the contest for mayoralty. Kirkpatrick came second and "Joe" Martin third.

Announcement is made elsewhere in this issue by the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of the Concert being put on in honor of "Burns' Night," Tuesday, January 25th, in the Campbell Hall. A program representative of the best local talent is being arranged for, and on this musical numbers and elocution will have prominent places. The Concert is to be followed by an informal dance.

Somewhat alarming reports as to the behavior of the "Sicamous" in the rough weather last Monday morning at Penticton simmer down on investigation to the fact that the big boat did give three or four pretty big rolls. It was as she pulled out from the wharf and turned, presenting her broadside to the high wind and rough seas that the rolling came, as it naturally would come to any boat in similar conditions. What seems to have given rise to some of the more startling versions of the story is the fact that the wind and seas kept the boat keeled over at one time, prolonging the duration of one of the uncomfortable rolls. A few dishes may have been dislodged during this time and people in their bunks disturbed somewhat, but, nevertheless, in the view of those who know whereof they speak there was nothing untoward considering the weather conditions.

Orchard and Farm:
 Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness
 in the complex Business of Farming.

Orchard Protection.

The Provincial Government has done a great deal in the past for the orchardist, both in instructing him in the different phases of orchard culture, and in keeping the province free from many destructive pests and diseases, which meant dollars saved from the annual cost of orchard spraying and operation. It is this saving—made possible by the stringent and efficient effort of the Department of Fruit Pests, through its chief inspector, Mr Thomas Cunningham, in preventing the entrance of diseases and pests costly to control, that has enabled certain orchardists to continue their operations with success and profit. This effort is being courageously continued, as evidenced by the carloads of pears and apples refused to Vancouver and Victoria markets, from Washington and California, due to the presence of Codling Moth and San Jose Scale.

However, there are sufficient pests and diseases within the orchard districts of the province to severely threaten the financial success of the orchardist, where they are not properly controlled. The peach grower must spray for the Peach Twig Borer, or Peach Worm as commonly called, when found in the peach—for Peach Leaf Curl and Peach Mildew. The pear man must spray for the Blister Mite, for the Oyster Shell Bark Louse, for Green and Rosy Apple Aphis, and particularly must he apply himself to the removal of all Fire Blight. The apple grower has a host of insect enemies which must be destroyed, or their presence reduced to a minimum before he can expect to produce a maximum crop of apples. He cannot overlook the Green, Rosy and Woolly Apple Aphis, the Oyster Shell Bark Louse—in some seasons and in diverse spots, the Lesser Apple Worm, the Tarnish Plant Bug the Leaf Roller dash into economic importance and require prompt attention. Many orchard centres have found Apple Scab and Powdery Mildew reaching alarming proportions, while in several varieties of apples Fire Blight has become a constant menace.

This is far from a complete list of the forces which nature rallies to test man's ingenuity and which attempt to destroy and mar the commercial value of the grower's product.

Where the orchardist happens to be growing a large class of deciduous fruits, such as peaches, cherries, apricots, plums, prunes, pears, and apples on a limited area, his problem of pest control is a complex one, and it is difficult to find a spray combination, applied at one time, which will effectively combat the diseases and pests which may attack the orchard.

We need not go further to conclude that the fruit grower's problem of pest control is even now a large one, and that no effort must be spared on the part of the grower, as well as that of the Government, to save our orchardists from facing possible liquidation through this cause.

COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION.

Whenever people wish to fight a common enemy, their first step is to get together all the forces which will aid the campaign or make for success, and decide upon a means of organizing those forces so as to most efficiently bring about desired action with least loss and expense. Our military units are trained and organized to machine-like perfection, so that they may act uniformly and together in destroying and opposing troops. Were the men in the army to act singly, without being organized into companies, without officers to lead them, they would present a lamentable front to the enemy. This efficiency, brought about through organization, is exactly what is needed by the fruit growers in their own neighborhoods, to properly fight the insect pests and diseases common to all the orchards of the district. Fruit growers must have "Community Organization," so that they may get uniform action by all the growers of a community in exterminating the common enemy for their orchards.

How often have you, as an orchardist faithful to the best interests of your section, carefully sprayed for some pest when right across your north fence line, your neighbor has not planned to do it at the same time, or is purposely neglectful? Every neighborhood may have its drone, who needs not only the coercion of the Government to make him do what is right, but also the energetic pressure of his own neighbors and fellow orchardists, who can wield the weapon of public opinion unitedly and with deadly effect.

Each district may also have its absentee owners, whose orchards need proper attention to prevent them from becoming a source of infestation. The community organization can discuss ways and means for dealing with such handicaps to the extermination of pests and diseases.

In helping growers who are united, the Government feels it cannot possibly be showing any favoritism to individuals, and knows that in cases of positive neglect, in enforcing the Agricultural Act, it has the support and interest of each grower in the community behind it.

It is not the intention of this article to exhaust the list of advantages in "Community Organization," but simply to call the attention of fruit growers to the need of it, and to note some of its strong points.

Watch this space headed "Orchard Protection" for further articles which will be printed, through the courtesy of the Review, that every grower may become alive to the advantages of pulling together, and be ready to do his share when the opportunity is offered.

L. L. PALMER,
 Assistant to the Department of Fruit Pests.

Smoked Meats and Lard

YOU know our lard and smoked meats—the best at the right prices—kept and sold under conditions of scrupulous cleanliness. You will now be interested in a recipe used by many of our local housewives for producing a delicious breakfast dish.

Cut this out and paste in your scrap book:
 SLICE off some of our fine sugar cured ham or bacon, quite thin. After taking off the rind put the slices into a hot frying pan, turning them over till they are crisp, but taking care not to burn them. About three minutes will do but it is necessary that the slices be cooked till they are absolutely crisp. This method brings out the delicate flavor of our bacon and ham, and if served with eggs fried in the gravy, makes a dish fit for a king.

Newsy Paragraphs

PEACHLAND

The funeral of the infant child of Mr and Mrs Jacob Winger took place last Thursday afternoon.

Miss F. Whitworth's sister, Miss Florence, arrived here from Chilliwack, B.C., last Thursday evening.

Mr H. Hardy returned home last Wednesday evening having spent a few weeks with old friends at Vernon and Enderby.

Mr R. T. Buxton, commercial traveller, was in town this week. While here he was the guest of Mrs Clarence at Edgewater Inn.

Mrs N. S. Davidson, who for the last few months has been visiting friends at the Coast cities arrived home on Tuesday of this week.

Mr and Mrs S. Murdin went down to Summerland on Saturday night of last week to attend the funeral of Mrs T. N. Ritchie.

Mr and Mrs D. A. Kirkby and little daughter Annie, who spent Christmas and New Year at the home of Mrs Kirkby's parents, Mr and Mrs John McLaughlan, returned to their home in Penticton early last week.

Mrs N. S. Elliott and daughter Alice, left last Thursday morning for Sacramento, California, where they will visit Mrs Elliott's sister for several months.

Last Sunday afternoon Messrs H. E. McCall, John McDougald, Mrs A. Town and Mrs W. A. Lang drove to Summerland to attend the funeral of Mrs T. N. Ritchie.

Miss Bessie Seaton who for some weeks back has been quite ill at her home here, returned to Vernon last Saturday morning to resume her duties as a teacher in the public school there.

The weekly prayer meeting held in the Methodist Church has been changed from Friday at 7.30 p.m. to Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, followed by choir practice at 8 p.m. Will all who possibly can be in attendance.

We are glad to report that Mr J. B. Robinson, who is still at the home of Mrs Robinson's sister, Mrs R. C. Lipsett, in Summerland, is improving, though slowly, being able to sit up a few hours each day. We all hope he will soon be fully recovered.

The rink in the cement factory was open for the first time on Wednesday night last week. Quite a number both old and young partook of its joys and sorrows. The ice was rather soft at first, but owing to the change in the weather, is now in excellent condition for those who are fortunate enough to be the possessor of a pair of sharp skates.

Mr Greta and J. Sutherland Esq. of Trepanier, were passengers to Kelowna on Monday of this week.

The regular weekly meeting of the Red Cross Society, which was cancelled for the Christmas vacation, was held in the Reading Room last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs Wm. Douglas, who has been visiting friends in Vancouver for the past few weeks arrived home on Wednesday night of last week, with her little adopted daughter, Helen.

On Monday, January 10th, Miss Frances Whitworth took charge of the primary division of the Peachland Public School, having been transferred from the Trepanier School, where she taught last term. Her sister, Miss Florence Whitworth, has taken her place at Trepanier.

Another of Peachland's young men, Mr John Seaton, left on Wednesday morning of this week to join the colors. On arriving at Vancouver he intends joining the Engineering Corps. We all wish him the best of luck, and hope to see him back at the end of this terrible war.

Last week the citizens of Peachland were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs T. N. Ritchie of Summerland. The deceased lady was well known here, and was greatly esteemed by all. The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr Ritchie and family in their deep sorrow.

Beginning with Sunday morning, Jan. 16th, the services in the Methodist Church for the winter months will be every Sunday morning at 11 a.m., instead of morning and evening alternately. The pastor, Rev. A. Henderson, will conduct a service at the Trepanier schoolhouse every Sunday evening.

The first meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute in the new year will be held on Friday, Jan. 21st, at three o'clock in the Men's Club Parlor. A large attendance is specially requested as this will be the election of officers for 1916 at this meeting. Mrs Daly has kindly consented to give an address on "Home and Country."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Columns of THE REVIEW are open to the public for the discussion of matters of general interest. No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Letters intended for insertion must be authenticated by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication. The opinions of correspondents are not necessarily those of the Review.

West Summerland, B.C.,
13th January, 1916.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,
In the last issue of the Review you publish a letter from one, Frank Marshall, that is so untrue, and the accusations made so false that, while I make it a rule not to pay much attention to newspaper articles, but rather to answer them at the proper time and in the proper way, in this case a denial of his untrue statements is necessary.

The Municipal officials have no authority to pay any account until it is approved of by the Finance Committee and passed by the Council. When this is done, accounts are paid by cheque. Now, the account in question never reached this office until the 31st of December last, and is sent as a cash payment on water and light rates. On making inquiry I found that this account was being arranged through Mr J. R. Brown, and would be paid by the Indian Department of the United States, which, I understand from Mr Brown, was done last week. Under the circumstances, and so that Mr Marshall would not lose his discount, as that was the last day for a discount, as a matter of courtesy I phoned him that we could not accept the account as cash, and that the Council, from what I had been told had nothing to do with it—a statement proved by payment from the proper source a few days after.

The Constable is not employed by the Municipal Council but is hired by the Police Commission, and is entirely under their control.

Now, what was Mr Logie's offence? Refusing to pay any account, except in the proper way, upholding the rights of the members of the Council as the sole and only authority by which the officials are governed; a vastly different state of affairs from bullying the poor man!

Re the two accounts he referred to as passed by the Council, the cheques were held on account of his non-payment of Trade License, due last July, which he has since paid, when the cheques were handed over to him.

Now, Mr Editor, it is the same story over again:—"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," and, if the manager of the Summerland Hotel had taken the advice that I understand was proffered him, he would not have given to the public such an exhibition of the emptiness of the shell he carries around in the shape of a head. I have no desire to be drawn at any time into an acrimonious discussion, but, if necessary, I can take care of myself, but of one thing you can rest assured, and that is, it will not be under any non-de-plume. If the charges made against the Municipal Council and myself by a certain disgruntled outfit down town were true, why not come out in the open and sign their names to them. Are they ashamed of their own names, or is it of the untrue charges made? Why did they not come out with them at the Municipal meeting, or had they all run for shelter? It looked like it. Ashamed of their own names, ashamed of the charges they made! and this community was supposed to have been hand picked. We will have to invite J. M. to look the job over again, as that is a class that is no credit to any community, and are doing Summerland untold harm.

Yours faithfully,
J. L. LOGIE.

J. W. WHEELER, MANAGER.

Young Man, Do you know that some of the best paid men right here in B.C. educated themselves for advancement at home, right in the village or on the farm, and that they had no better chances than you have, some, indeed, being extremely poor, and only having a knowledge of reading and writing? These men have, through the study of International Correspondence Schools' courses, and a determination to succeed, risen to where they are. Why not you?

Others with good general education have found that without special training along one line, they could not hope for much in exchange for their services, and have taken up the International Correspondence Schools studies and made good.

The International Correspondence Schools have contracts now with over two hundred railroads, alone for instructing their employees, including the C.P.R., the C.N.R., the B.C. Electric Rly., and the Dominion Government railways in Canada, and the text-books of the School which have become famous for their clearness, practicability, and thoroughness, are now used in nearly 800 large colleges and schools, including in Canada, McGill, Toronto University, Department of Technical Education, Halifax, Shawinigan Technical Institute and others. A large number of colleges in the United States, including the United States Government Aeronautical School, Army War College, etc., also use International Correspondence Schools text-books.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

This is the plumber's harvest—also the ice man's.

The Vanderburg family are comfortably settled for the winter in Mr Jas. Ritchie's residence.

Mr and Mrs A. Moyes entertained a number of friends at cards on Wednesday evening at their home.

Dan Williams, until recently a citizen of Summerland, has enlisted into the 102nd at Kamloops for overseas service.

The Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary hold their regular meeting next Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the reception room at the Hospital.

The storing of wood and ice are the order of the day. It seems curious to prepare against cold and heat at the same time, but such is life.

The death of Mr J. L. Faulkner, a former resident of Summerland, occurred at Vancouver on Tuesday. He was only 112 or three days.

Rev H. A. Solly was a visitor to Armstrong this week, where he went to attend a meeting of the Okanagan Deanery of the Anglican Church.

Clarence Phinney has enlisted and expects to quit his position in a banking office at Vancouver at once to go to Kingston, Ont., to take a course in artillery.

Mrs G. M. Ross entertained to afternoon tea on Tuesday of this week in honor of Miss Gwen Robinson, who was her guest for some days previously. Miss Robinson returned to her home at Naramata that evening.

Mrs Fasridge who was to have left last week for her home in the Old Country was taken suddenly ill and had to postpone her departure. She has been staying with Mrs D. F. Brewer, whose efficient nursing has brought a speedy recovery.

Pte. H. W. Agar was discharged from hospital on the 6th, and expects soon to be able to take up drill. He, with C. Noel Higgin, Harold Smith, and Thos. Whitfield, are still at Kamloops, but expect to be transferred to Victoria into the 103rd.

Mr R. McGeorge expert Piano Tuner and Regulator for Mason & Risch, Ltd., intends being in Summerland district within the next two weeks. Parties requiring his services for Tuning, etc. will kindly leave their orders with Mr White, Review Office. j14,21

Jas. Ritchie boarded the "Sicamous" on Monday evening this week on his way back to Vancouver. It is understood that Mr Ritchie has just about concluded a deal whereby he transfers some property here for an extensive stretch of timber lease north of Vancouver.

The Ladies Glee Club are preparing to give a grand concert in Empire Hall on the 27th. With a chorus of over 70 voices which have been putting in much practice under the efficient leadership of Miss Harrison, this promises to be one of the biggest events of the season, and is being looked forward to with more than usual interest.

Dr E. W. Sawyer left for Vancouver about the middle of the week, where he is attending sessions of the Baptist Union of Western Canada, as one of the dozen or so representatives of this province. Rev. N. McNaughton was to have accompanied him as another delegate but was prevented by the receipt of sad news which called him to Winnipeg.

Pte. Harry Barkwill, of the 102nd, Kamloops, was home again for a few days, having come in on Saturday and returning to camp on Thursday. Harry is contemplating transferring from the 102nd to the 172nd, a new regiment being organized at Kamloops for overseas service. He says some of the other boys from here may also go into the 172nd.

Lieut. T. E. Paros of the 11th C.M.R., has been appointed to a board of officers composing an examining body in equitation. Their duties will be to pass upon the horsemanship of officers who have been attending the Provisional School, A.S.C., at Victoria. This is a recognition of Lieut. Paros' splendid horsemanship that his friends here will concede is well merited.

Mr D. E. Hatt and family are moving from the Woodworth cottage to the Collas cottage this week.

Prof. McIntosh is batching with Mr W. A. Wright in the comfortable cottage just being completed by contractor H. Tomlin.

Lawrence Hatfield and Roy White, who enlisted from here into the Army Service Corps during the summer, have left Vancouver, it is understood, on their way to England. They expected to have to break their journey across the country, possibly at Regina.

Mrs John Corner entertained about a dozen friends on Saturday evening at "Halcyon Orchard," Trout Creek, where she is making her home. Cards provided the main part of the evening's pleasure, which was rounded out by the serving of refreshments, both dainty and replete.

Methodist Church services will be conducted on Sunday next at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. by Rev R. W. Lee. At the morning service the subject of address will be "Three Altar Stairs" A short address will also be given to the children. The evening service will be held in St Andrew's Church, West Summerland. A hearty invitation is extended to all.

Rev. N. McNaughton received early in the week telegraphic advice from Winnipeg informing him of the death of his father. The news was quite unexpected, and Mr McNaughton left on Tuesday morning for the prairie capital. Two other brothers are also at Winnipeg. Mr McNaughton had been hoping that his father would be able to pay a visit to Summerland some time this winter.

Those who recall Miss Louise Norris of Vancouver, a student at the College here about three years ago, will be interested to learn of her marriage which took place in Vancouver on the 6th inst. She is a niece of Mrs R. C. Lipsett. Miss Norris is now Mrs Nathaniel Musenden, and her future home will be in Springfield, Illinois, where her husband has taken a position. He is a native of England, but resident for a long time at Vancouver.

J. E. Phinney returned on Monday evening of this week from Chilliwack, B.C., where he attended the annual convention of the British Columbia Poultry Association. The convention was successful in every way. Nelson was chosen as the meeting place for the next provincial convention and show. Among other business, the association drew up a draft of a recommended Eggs Mark Act, dealing with the fraudulent selling of foreign eggs as local fresh.

One of the biggest house removing jobs ever undertaken in this district was carried through successfully on Saturday last, when a two-storey house with a back kitchen attached, built by Mr L. W. Pacey, on his Victoria Gardens property, was moved to a new location, on the lot of Mr Steven Phillips, Rosedale Avenue, by whom it has been purchased. The job was carried out under the supervision of Mr T. B. Young, with the help of four teams, two of his own and two others. The only mishap occurred when the brick chimney caught when some telephone wires, with no very serious results.

Communication between Summerland and Naramata has been very much interrupted by the unusual weather conditions. The ferry service has for a time ceased, and on one or two occasions the "Sicamous" has failed to call at Naramata. Early last week the severe cold did damage to the machinery of the "Trepannier," and no trips were made till Saturday. On Sunday for a better harbor, she was moved to the cove by the old mill north of Naramata, where the "Skookum" was also moored. Now both boats are frozen in.

Standing beside his sleigh at his Trout Creek home on Wednesday, putting on his coat, Coun. Johnston was suddenly deserted by his team, which, fooling over frisky from lack of exercise, bolted, and did not halt until stopped near the Chinese laundry on Ninth Street. Mr Johnston followed close behind with a neighbor. His runaway team alarmed D. C. Thompson's horse standing in front of A. J. Bear's Harness Store, and it too, started off, but was stopped on the hill near the Town School. No damage was reported in either case.

Miss Helen Sawyer left for Vancouver last week to take a course at the Normal School.

Miss Jennie Brewer has returned from a visit with friends in Enderby.

Miss Georgie Elsey is enjoying a two months' vacation, part of which she will spend at the Coast.

The stock on your shelf Will not market itself, But your friend, "The Review," Will help sell it for you.

The treasurer of the Ambulance League acknowledges with thanks the sums of $22.90 and $6.25 from the Five Hundred Club, and $7.60 from the Patriotic Whist Club.

Why, yes, it was a little cold the other night, according to the thermometers, but then these indicators were not made in Summerland or they, too, might have softened a little the harsh facts they were forced to record.

Miss Armstrong, of the Hospital staff, had a brother killed recently at the Dardanelles. A native of Ontario, and later a citizen of B.C., Mr Armstrong went to Australia. He enlisted there and had been for some time on the Gallipoli peninsula.

The Presbyterian service in the Methodist Church next Sunday afternoon will be withdrawn and a union service held at the Lakeside Baptist Church at 7 o'clock. This arrangement has been made because of Rev N. McNaughton being suddenly called away. Rev C. H. Daly will conduct the service.

Box shooks in considerable quantity are being shipped from here by the Summerland Lumber Company to the Peachland Fruit Union. It is said the fruit shipping organization of that town finds it good business to utilize the spare time of the man in charge of their warehouse by making up boxes ready for next shipping season.

In the absence of the pastor, Baptist services will be conducted next Sunday morning at the Parkdale Church by Rev. D. E. Hatt, and in the evening at the Lakeside Church by Rev. C. H. Daly. The regular Sunday afternoon Presbyterian service is being withdrawn, so that the evening service in the Lakeside Church will be in the nature of a union service.

As the result of an accident, Coun. J. R. Campbell has been limping about since Wednesday afternoon. While twitching out a log with a pair of horses the chain slipped and frightened the horses, causing them to bolt. Mr Campbell pluckily held to the reins, and though thrown severely to the ground, brought them to a stop still holding one rein. A nasty bruise on thigh and hip are all the injuries Mr Campbell suffered.

Promotion has not been long in coming to C. N. Borton. His soldierly bearing would of itself help bring this about, but more valuable still would be his South African experience asserting itself. He has gained his first stripe, giving him the rank of Lance-Corporal. With other Summerlanders who went from here to Kamloops about the same time, Lance-Corporal Borton has been transferred to Victoria. He is quartered comfortably with two other men from his home town, John Corner and Harry Thornthwaite.

The second of the series of Whist Drives to be held under the auspices of the Patriotic Whist Club took place at the home of Mr and Mrs T. J. Garnett on Saturday last. A fine mild evening and fair sleighing made the long drive round the Giant's Head quite an enjoyable feature for a goodly number of the members. Play was participated in at ten tables, and produced some very interesting and exciting games. Mrs W. E. Rines was successful in obtaining the highest score for the ladies, with a total of 172, and (by a happy coincidence) Mr Rines was the top notcher for the gentlemen, his score being 174; while at the other end of the pole Mrs T. J. Washington and Mr W. J. Tullott were the recipients of the Consolation prizes. Refreshments were provided by the lady members, and altogether a very enjoyable time was spent. Some further members were enrolled during the evening and the proceeds totalled $7.60, which sum goes for Red Cross purposes. The next drive is down for Wednesday, January 19, at the home of Mrs H. Tomlin.

Strict Regulations Govern Export Potato Shipments.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture, W. E. Scott, of Victoria, has lately received from Ottawa details of the regulations just promulgated relative to the shipment of potatoes from this province into the United States. Mr. Scott regards these regulations as of the greatest importance to the potato growing industry of British Columbia.

Potatoes offered for export must be free from injurious disease and insect pests.

No shipments can be made except on permits, and inspection will be made by United States inspectors, who have the power to reject on account of disease.

Potato growers and shippers are advised that the continuation of such shipments depends on the offering for entry into the United States of potatoes free from dangerous diseases and insect pests.

All persons who contemplate engaging in this trade are advised to have their potatoes carefully "racked," and any diseased or scabby potatoes removed. Mr. Scott considers that these regulations impose obligations upon all concerned in the welfare of the industry to see that no bad potatoes are shipped, and to this end the Provincial Department of Agriculture, through Mr. Thomas Cunningham, the inspector at Vancouver, will take care to see that the rule is strictly observed. The officials of the fruit inspection branch will be detailed to assist Mr. Cunningham in the work of inspection.

It is better to change your occupation than to continue in it with a lack of love and interest for the work you are doing.

Naramata Current Events

The busiest man round town this week, during the period of bursting pipes and troublesome hot air flues, was H. P. Salting, the local plumber.

Have you one or more books suitable for the local Sunday School library, which you care to donate? If so, will you kindly hand same in to Mrs. T. L. Williams, librarian, or to Mr. Bartlett at the Post Office.

During the cold snap of this week, with the thermometer as low as 10 degrees, and some say 15 degrees, below zero, the heating the school rooms was indeed a problem, especially with green pine. The special effort made on Tuesday to secure a quantity of really dry fuel has settled the question as to whether the furnace was capable of throwing the heat out. It is felt that with good dry wood and by the maintenance of night fires the complaint of low temperatures will cease.

J. C. Williams has been busy this week enclosing and extending the office space in the rear of the Naramata Supply Company's store. It is the intention to further reduce managerial expenses by having the clerical work in connection with the store and the Okanagan Trust Company all performed in the one office. Mr. Robinson will manage both concerns. It is understood that it is the intention of the management of the Naramata Supply Co. to still follow the policy of "service" to the public.

The children of parents who ate with horn-handled forks and tin spoons, now want phonographs and racing automobiles, while often their farms need more fertilizer and less mortgage.

The editor was busy when he was asked: "How are the markets?" The man was referred to the office devil, who looked wise and said: "Young men unsteady; girls lively and in demand; papa firm, but declining; mamas, unsettled, waiting for higher bids; coffee, considerably mixed; fresh fish, active and slippery; eggs quiet, but expected to open soon; whisky, still going down; onions, strong; yeast, rising; breadstuffs, heavy; boots and shoes, those on the market are soled and constantly going up and down; hats and caps, not so high as last year, excepting foolscap, which is stationery; tobacco, very low and has a downward tendency; silver, close but not close enough to get hold of."

Current Events - OF - Town & District

Messrs F. H. and J. H. Rounds were business visitors to Pentiction on Thursday last.

The author of "September in the Okanagan Hills" has yet another poem to write, one entitled "The Okanagan in Winter Mood."

On account of the sudden storm which arose on the lake Sunday evening, the ferry was unable to make the trip to bring the speaker, Rev. H. A. Solly, across from Summerland.

Mr. T. H. Wilson, of Pentiction, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon in the absence of the pastor, Rev. R. M. Thompson, who had to fill an engagement at Poplar Grove.

Mr. J. O. Robinson returned to his home on Tuesday evening after an absence of six weeks, spent chiefly in Toronto and Ottawa. On his return trip stops were made at Chicago, Battle Creek and Vancouver.

The huge pillars of ice, or rather icicles, only inverted, all along the lake shore north of town are certainly worth seeing, and the draperies of a somewhat similar character on the piles which support the wharf are now to be seen at their best.

The experiment of burning coal at $7.50 per ton in place of wood at $5 per cord is being tried out by one or two citizens. If the fires are maintained for similar periods the data would be of interest at this time of year when the question of fuel supply is ever such a live issue.

The jolly crowd of skaters on the sheet of ice over by the old mill last Saturday evening was certainly an unusual and pleasant sight. Amongst the group was noticed a few who appeared to excel in speed and gracefulness of movement, a familiarity to the pastime acquired before coming to the Okanagan.

Two further enlistments of Naramata boys have been reported this week. One is Mr. Walter Land, who first went to England on his own account in order to visit his relatives whom he had not seen for several years, while Mr. Sherwood Davies, since going to Ottawa has joined a branch of the Artillery.

Mrs. H. T. Davies is in receipt of information from Vancouver that her daughter, Miss Emma Davies, now taking a course in nursing at the General Hospital in that city, has passed the probationer's test which entitles her to wear the nurse's cap, an honor as eagerly sought as the extra stripes by a rising soldier. In view of the large number of candidates for the honor referred to it is evident that Miss Davies is making splendid progress in her profession.

The fleet of boats belonging to the local ferry company have been decorated quite completely with a coating of ice in the course of the heavy storms prevailing this week, and the regular ferry, the "Trojaner" is temporarily out of commission. The trouble is not at all a serious one as the first few hours hot sun will relieve the situation. The worst feature is the inconvenience in thus being debarred from making hurried trips to our sister town across the lake.

The regular monthly meeting of the local W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Myers on Tuesday afternoon, with acting president Mrs. Hughes in the chair. The attendance was far below the usual, due doubtless to the state of the weather, and consequently much of the program outlined for the occasion was not given. The secretary read a letter from the provincial headquarters of the Temperance and Moral Reform League calling upon the women for their hearty co-operation in the campaign soon to be launched. It is hoped that the day when British Columbia will enact a prohibitory law fashioned somewhat after those of the bordering states is near at hand.

The popularity of skiing as a winter sport is evidenced by the number of young folk who have commenced their operations on the neighboring hills.

By a recent decision of the Sunday School management it was decided to still further extend the usefulness of the library. Besides voting money for the purchase of new books, it was decided to extend a general invitation to friends of the congregation who have books suitable for the School to pass such over as soon as they are through reading them. This is a good idea provided the choice of selection is left in the hands of a competent committee to first "pass" on the reading matter.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Miss Gwen Robinson returned on Monday after a pleasant week's visit with friends in Summerland.

Mr. M. Wilson returned this week from Pentiction Hospital where he was for a while laid up suffering from injuries received in an accident at Kaleden.

Mr. Fred Young, of Toronto, a college friend of J. O. Robinson came in on Wednesday's boat to renew his friendship and incidentally to see the Okanagan in her winter togs.

Mr. George Cook, president of the Farmers' Institute, is preparing data on the output of Naramata growers of interest to every citizen. Any assistance in hastening the work of securing a full report will be doing every one concerned, yourself included possibly, a special favor.

(Tune, Juanita).
In Brussels city,
Gently lent o'er pallid form,
Nurse Cavell, who now—
In her grave is lying,
Rushed to death by heartless foes
For refugees and dying
Freed she cruel woes.

Chorus—
Arise! Ye British!
Her sole mission was to save.
Arise! Ye British!
Avenge her death, ye brave!

What say her murderers
To excuse their deed of shame?
Tho' she was victorious
Free are we from blame!
What is wrong for others
Is all right for us to do;
We, and Turks, our brothers,
Must rule the world, you know.

The above was composed by Miss Minnie Smith, who is well known by all in Peachland and Summerland.

Slim Attendance Not Due To Lack Of Interest.

It cannot be that there is lack of appreciation of the necessity for the Patriotic Fund, nor yet that the Fund is not to be given a regular place in the philanthropies supported by the people of Summerland. The fact that the attendance at the public meeting called for last Friday evening in St. Stephen's Hall, when the aims and needs of the Canadian Patriotic Fund were to be set forth, was not sufficient to warrant the meeting being used for the purpose for which it was called, must be put down to the natural disinclination of people in general to turn out to any meeting when the weather is not inviting. Many worthy meetings in the past have suffered a like fate, and it is safe to say that whatever plan the local branch of the Patriotic Fund has in mind will probably not suffer from the inauspicious commencement of their campaign.

It was proposed at the meeting last Friday to have different speakers set forth what the Patriotic Fund has done, is doing, and must do in the future. Plans were to be arranged looking to a thorough canvass of the district, so that a regular monthly contribution might be sent forward from this district. It is understood that this project is to be pushed forward, and just as the people of Summerland have never in the past shirked their responsibilities of this nature, so it will be found in this instance also that they are ready to do their share toward maintaining the Patriotic Fund.

There were less than twenty people present last Friday evening, and it was deemed best to put through what musical numbers had been arranged for, and then call the meeting off if the attendance did not promise to be any larger. Those who took part in this part of the program were Miss M. Clay, Miss Edna MacLeod and Mr. C. Wright.

SUMMERLAND PURE BRED STOCK ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Pure Bred Stock Association was held Wednesday evening. The Secretary-Treasurer's report showed that financial matters were in a healthy condition. Officers were elected as follows:

- President— R. C. Lipsett
- Vice-President— Thos. Dale
- Secretary-Treasurer— H. Bristol
- Directors— Messrs H. C. Mellor, R. V. Agur, C. J. Thomson and R. H. English.

PACKING & PRUNING SCHOOLS.

Regarding the response to the offer to furnish pruning and packing schools in every section of the fruit growing districts of the province as not satisfactory up to this date, the Provincial Department of Agriculture is desirous that more applications be registered for these helpful courses.

The requirements are as follows: For a six day Packing School, twelve to fifteen pupils, at a fee of $2 each to take twelve lessons of two and one-half hours each, are required.

For a three day Packing School, eight to twelve pupils, at a fee of $1 each, are required.

For a five day Pruning School, eight to twelve pupils, at a fee of $1 each, are required.

In all cases the Department of Agriculture provides and pays a regular instructor for the work.

Fuller particulars regarding these schools may be obtained from the secretary of the Farmers' Institute, Mr. John Tait. It is expedient that all applications be sent in as early as possible.

LOCAL INVENTION SOON ON MARKET.

H. G. Estabrook, inventor and patentee of the Utility Duplex Door, returned on Tuesday evening of this week from a trip to Vancouver in the interests of his invention. He also visited points en route for similar purposes. Discussing the results of his trip, Mr Estabrook said that arrangements are just about completed that will provide for the distribution of the Utility Duplex Door, manufactured complete, throughout this part of the province. It is his expectation that these arrangements will culminate in ample time to permit of delivery to satisfy Spring needs in the building line.

Local dealers will likely handle the new door for retail in the same manner as the more familiar door. Announcement of these details will be made by Mr Estabrook in due course.

At the Coast, arrangements for the marketing of the Duplex Door are not quite so far advanced, but there, as in every section where the invention has been discussed, there is an appreciation shown of its utility that Mr Estabrook feels is distinctly gratifying. Everywhere, in fact, the new door is being hailed as something that satisfies a crying need, and with such universal endorsement it is easy to foresee that the Utility Duplex Door has a future, a prediction that its comparative easy manufacture will materially help to bring about.

Line-up Much as Last year

Reeve Blair Names The Civic Committees For 1916.

Indemnity By-Law Discussed

By New Council At First Meeting. Nothing Decided. Financial Situation Touched Upon. Question Of Policy Will Be Discussed Later.

The 1916 Council held its first session according to statute on Monday morning last. Immediately the Reeve and Councillors had taken the oath of office, the Reeve named his committees which vary little from those of last year. The Public Works Committee is as before, viz., Couns. Johnston (chairman) and Campbell. The Finance Committee is Couns. Simpson (chairman) and Stark, while Couns. Johnston (chairman) and Stark comprise the Electric Light Committee. The Reeve is ex-officio a member of all these.

The financial statement for 1915, together with the Auditor's comments on same, came up for discussion. The Auditor would like to see certain amendments made in the "Municipal Act," and asked that the Council support any movements to bring about the proposed changes. These included a change in the method of collecting delinquent taxes by tax sales to comply with the system used in Ontario and Manitoba; an amendment in relation to borrowing on current year's rates and taxes, starting each new Council with a clean slate and one or two other amendments.

As an outcome of the discussion of unpaid taxes and their relation to loans obtained against same and also the matter of keeping the Sinking Fund in order the following motion of Couns. Simpson and Stark was carried unanimously: "That the Council approve of the principle of definitely setting apart the monies due the bank and Sinking Fund out of the unpaid rates and taxes either by certain taxes being set aside for that purpose or on a per centage basis according to the amount due, the per centage basis being preferred by the Council."

Coun. Simpson introduced the question of depreciation of the public utilities as discussed at the rateayers' meeting, and all were agreed that sufficient had been charged off as maintenance to make good the natural depreciation. It is probable that monthly adjustments by the Finance Committee will be made of the expense items to make sure of this, and so that the figures may be more familiar to the Board. The auditors' report shows an increase of assets over liabilities of nearly $5,000. The Finance Committee were instructed to have the report printed and published. The Public Works Committee were authorized to have a lavatory and septic tank put in at the power house. The annual report of the Medical Health Officer was received and adopted. The report was a very creditable one. Infectious diseases are decreasing, there being only four cases of typhoid in the past year. Vital statistics showed 43 births and 12 deaths, 3 being infants, in 1915. The domestic water supplied is good, but the report contained a caution against the using of water from Eneas Creek, which becomes contaminated as it flows through the farms of Garnett Valley. Dairies and sewage disposal were also touched upon.

An application from Dan Williams that the band instruments be donated to the 172nd regiment could not be considered, the Council feeling they had no right to dispose of them.

The Collector asked for a ruling on a question of Trade License. A carload of grain had been brought here by E. Garnett, who represented that the stuff was grown on his Alberta farm. He had taken apples from his orchard here to Alberta and escaped the license tax because grown on his own property. The B.C. Act taxes all stuff grown outside the province, and a nominal fee of $2.50 was imposed.

The indemnity by-law was debated at some length. Coun. Stark opposing the payment of any indemnities unless to the members of the Public Works Committee, and upon condition of that committee taking on the duties of a superintendent. Coun. Simpson had no wish to accept any sum but insisted on the granting of indemnities in order to remunerate the Public Works Committee, as even if a superintendent is engaged they will have much work to do. The by-law was given its three readings, and will be finally reconsidered at the next meeting. It is probable that $100 will be voted each Councillor and $200 to the Reeve.

During the discussion of the superintendency it was stated by the Reeve that there were not proper plans of the pipe lines in the office, and that though such plans had been made by a former employee of the Domestic Water branch and in the Council's time, he had retained them, though legally they were the property of the Municipality.

Though no decision was arrived at nor was the matter properly up for discussion, yet there were outcroppings on the subject of employing a superintendent that would indicate that it is quite probable that, for a time at least, and as an experiment, the outside work will be divided among several foremen, and directed from the office, under the direct oversight of the Public Works Committee. Coun. Stark pronounced himself in favor of such a plan, and Coun. Johnston thought it practicable, provided any large jobs were done by contract. In reply to this the Reeve very emphatically disapproved of having any work done by contract.

The Collector was given permission by the motion of Couns. Simpson and Johnston to sell the tax certificate on the David Clark property to Mr C. Napier Higgin.

The Council fixed upon the 10th day of each month as the date of the regular monthly meeting.

HOSPITAL SHIP AND MACHINE GUN FUND.

The Rectory, West Summerland, B.C. January 18, 1916.

The Editor, Summerland Review,

Dear Sir,

Fearing that the reference in your editorial on the Patriotic Fund, to the Hospital Ship Fund and to the Machine Gun Fund may cause some misapprehension, I think it may be well for the public to know just how those funds were administered.

In August 1914, $331.40 was collected for the Hospital Ship to be fitted up for Canadians by the people of Canada. It will be remembered that it was found that a Hospital ship was unnecessary at that time, and we were asked to apply the proceeds of the fund to a Canadian Hospital in England. Accordingly $164.50 was sent for that purpose, the remainder being kept for some further call. In October another call came, this time for the Belgians, and $50 was spent on blankets for the Belgians. In December came another call, this time from the Red Cross Society in Vancouver, and $100 was accordingly sent.

In the following May another appeal for Funds came from the Red Cross; and the remaining $16.00 (made up by the Ambulance League) was sent.

CHANGE IN LAKE SERVICE.

On account of the great quantities of ice in the vicinity of Penticton, the "Sicamous" has made Summerland the end of its run this week, and mail and passengers have had to be taken on to the town at the foot of the lake by auto and stage. Ice floating down the lake before the stiff northerly wind congregated for a distance of well over a mile out into the lake from Penticton, and with the hard frost at nights, it was evidently deemed unwise to take any chances on the "Sicamous" getting frozen in. The tug and car-barge making a trip down to Penticton early in the week got into difficulties with the ice, and the tug suffering some damage to its propeller blades, was forced to put back to Summerland where the barge remained for some days while the tug made its way up to the Landing for repairs.

DEATH OF MRS. T. C. STINSON.

Coast papers this week brought the news to Summerland of the death of Mrs. T. C. Stinson, which occurred at her home on 16th Avenue West, Vancouver, on Monday, the 17th inst.

Mrs Stinson was a resident of this place for many years, and it was only in 1912 that Mr and Mrs Stinson removed from Summerland, Mr Stinson having disposed of his business interests. They went first to Burnaby and then to Vancouver. During her term of residence here, Mrs Stinson was a prominent worker in the Methodist denomination, but she numbered her friends in every other body as well. She was in her 44th year, and her death, even to those who were familiar with the weak condition of her heart, came with the shock that death always brings.

The funeral took place on Tuesday of this week, and interment was made in the Mountain View Cemetery, Rev W. J. Siprell conducting the service. Besides the husband there are left two children, Hazel and Russell.

Construction Being Delayed.

Heavy snowstorms in the Hope Mountains have put a stop to the finishing touches on the Kettle Valley Railway construction work there, and it is now unlikely that steel will be linked up near Ladners Creek until spring. This will not mean any particular delay in the opening of the cut-off line, as it was not intended in any event to have this section in operation until May or June. Work on the Ladners Creek steel bridge, about twenty miles east of Hope, is still under way, and will be finished in about a week or ten days. Cessation of work in that section will mean temporary idleness for about 350 men.

It Works In New Zealand.

THE PLAN of advancing aid to settlers in British Columbia in the form of long-term loans at low rates of interest seems to be stalling on account of the inability of the government to secure money for the purpose on favorable terms. It is just in times like these that such benefits would appeal to bona-fide farmers. Indications are that at the conclusion of the war there will be a migratory movement of considerable magnitude to Canada from the war-stricken countries of Europe. It is imperative that some plan for offering financial aid to settlers be in force by then.

An investigator from the United States recently reported on the system employed in New Zealand for the last eleven years and his report is distinctly encouraging.

"The system," he says, "has been successful from the start. It has not only supported itself as a banking institution, but in so doing it has made loans to the amount of $60,000,000 at comparatively low rates of interest, and on other favorable terms to thousands of settlers who would otherwise have found it difficult to obtain loans on easy terms. It has promoted agriculture, manufactures and commerce. It has aided in the development of community advantages in isolated settlements by increasing the value of property, and consequently the amount of taxes available for the construction of roads, schools and community facilities."

IS THE TIDE TURNING?

TRAVELLERS through the prairie provinces are seeing many indisputable evidences that prosperity is becoming the lot of a good many farmers in that section. Many have just got on their feet this year. For three years some parts of Alberta have had below average crops, but in the same districts in 1915 they have averaged over 55 bushels to the acre. Besides the grain there is hardly a farmer who has not a herd of cattle and some poultry which will help him pay off the mortgage and clear away such notes as the banker may hold.

There has yet to be a large quantity of the wheat moved out, but that is being done as rapidly as possible. For a few days a train of wheat passed through Winnipeg every twenty minutes.

British Columbia is going to benefit by this increased prosperity by the farmers visiting this province and seeing what it has to offer in the way of homesites, scenic spots, hunting and business opportunities. He with his wife and family will some day buy a few acres, plant a few fruit trees, gather about him a few hens, a cow, a horse for the work on the farm, and some other livestock.

These farmers are shrewd business men, and those that have "good years" will seek warmer climates under the Canadian flag, and to British Columbia they will come with their families and their wealth. British Columbia will be the mecca of hundreds of prairie farmers in the early future, but now they are buying what we have to sell, and thus keeping the pendulum of interprovincial trade swinging on an even swivel.

WHAT CO-OPERATION MUST OVERCOME.

WITHOUT COMPLETE unity of action among those who are participating in it, co-operation can be only a partial success. At the root of the trouble encountered in securing this desideratum, a certain distrustfulness will be found. It is hard to see that there is any just ground for such suspicion, for farmers may surely trust each other when working together and for the same end. Such unwillingness to work together as exists may be said to be the result of the conditions under which farming has hitherto been carried on; it is not as a rule due to any differences between the dispositions of farmers. Up to the present time, in agriculture as in almost everything else, it has been everyone for themselves. One effect of this system has been to create a feeling of distrust in all other methods but one's own. Thus the first requirement of any system of co-operation that may be devised must be that it inspire confidence.

Another obstacle that has to be overcome is the natural unwillingness of farmers who have been accustomed to carry on their business in their own way, to be governed by the views of the majority of neighbors. Quite naturally some farmers decline to fall in with this idea. With the efforts that are now being made in every section of the country, however, to place farming on the basis of a business, there has come the new co-operative idea that is revolutionizing the life of the agriculturist everywhere. Co-operation means the standardization of products and economical management all along the line.

§ § § § §

ADVICES to the Provincial Government are to the effect that very shortly a meeting of the Agricultural Economics Commission will be held in the West to discuss important questions, among them that of fruit marketing. Probably another of the good offices put in on the behalf of the fruit grower by Provincial Horticulturist Winslow when Enst.

§ § § § §

THAT the people of Saskatchewan might in the very near future expect some very radical change in the liquor laws of that province which would result in the ultimate wiping out of the dispensary system, is foreshadowed in addresses of various members of that government. According to Premier Scott the government dispensary system has reduced drinking in Saskatchewan enormously, probably between sixty and eighty per cent. "Our system is no meagre success" he says, "it has had wonderful results."

§ § § § §

THE RECENT civic elections in Vancouver have resulted apparently in a pronouncement in no uncertain tones in favor of prohibition. Of this phase of the contest a Vancouver exchange says:

"Both Conservative and Liberal newspapers have referred to the civic elections in this city as having been fought to a great extent on the liquor question. Analyzing the results on this basis, we note that the Mayor, most of the Aldermen, all of the Park Board, a majority of the School Board, and one member of the Licence Board, are avowed Prohibitionists. The victory over the liquor element appears to be decisive."

THE DOMINION Minister of Finance has for some time past been taking up with the different banks the question of an extension of credit to farmers, with the specific object of increasing live stock production. It is expected that the minister, during the session of Parliament just opened, will bring in an amendment to the Bank Act which will facilitate the granting of more extended credit for this purpose. Will British Columbia share equally with the prairie provinces in the Auditor's Report.

To the Board of Directors, of the Summerland Hospital.

I beg to report that I have audited the books of the Summerland Hospital for the eight months ending 31st December, 1915, including the Income and Expenditure Account, and the Balance Sheet prepared by your Secretary and attached hereto.

All necessary books (which are very carefully kept) and papers have been produced to me. I note the Certificate of Title for the Hospital Site has not yet been secured, but is engaging the attention of your Board.

In my opinion, the Statements annexed correctly reflect the true financial position of the Summerland Hospital, as disclosed by the Books at 31st December, 1915.

F. J. NIXON,
Auditor.

West Summerland,
17th January, 1916.

If there is a chance to boom business boom it. Don't put on a long face and look as though you had a stomach ache. Hold up your head, smile and look for better things.

The "poultry crank" is not dangerous—in fact he is a benefit to the community.

Instead of killing two birds with one stone, do not kill them at all.

A stingy feeder can never be a successful raiser of horses.

Add corn to the pig's rations as a finishing food.

Never feed pigs on the ground; it is wasteful.

God-send that such a step would mean? In certain sections of the United States that are now essentially stock raising districts, judicious credits from the banks to the farmers have had no little share in placing the industry upon a firmly established basis.

WASHINGTON, OREGON AND IDAHO were three more American states to go on the water wagon with the coming of the new year. The major portion of Idaho already enjoyed prohibition, and now by virtue of the statute that went into effect last Saturday, its entire territory has gone "dry." Oregon and Washington voted on prohibition about a year ago, and in each case the result was a decisive victory for the temperance standard. Following the presentation of an initiative referendum to the state authorities of California, that state, regarded as one of the most strongly entrenched liquor territories on the whole continent, will take a vote on prohibition in the month of November next. Alberta, Saskatchewan, Washington, Oregon and Idaho are all "dry," and what of British Columbia? When is this province to be given the opportunity of expressing its sentiment?

NOVEL METHOD OF OBTAINING FUEL.

It is a very unusual thing to see an Indian on our streets under the influence of alcohol. There were two of them, however, in that condition early this week, Johnnie Pierre and his nephew Andy Pierre, and for a few minutes they made things rather interesting for Constable Graham. This was when he undertook to lock them up. Making sure of Johnnie, he tried to keep the other with him too, but Andy was not going to be taken, and getting a chance slipped away, and later was heard of near Penticton.

Brought before Magistrate English Johnnie pleaded guilty to drunkenness, and said he picked the liquor up on the road. He was allowed to go upon condition that he and Andy would provide the Hospital with five cords of wood.

Andy later came back, and going to Mr English consented to the above fine, and signed papers satisfactorily to the Court.

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness
in the complex Business of Farming.

Orchard Protection. Article II.

Last week under this heading we discussed some of the advantages of "Community Organization," as a means of more efficiently guarding our orchards against the annual attacks of pests and diseases. We agree that neighbors must join hands in their efforts to fight most economically the pests common to the orchards in a community.

Orchard protection is not an individual, but a community problem. The pests and diseases which attack one grower are apt to do equal damage to his neighbor. An individual, spraying for pests, may have all his trouble for nothing, if his neighbor does not spray at the same time, and with equal thoroughness.

Only one satisfactory solution has been found to protect the orchards adequately from their numerous enemies, and that is the "Community Organization of the Growers." These in the State of Washington were called "Fruit Protective Associations."

FRUIT PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATIONS A NECESSITY.

There are men who will not do anything, now matter how practical it sounds, how effective it may be, until they are driven into it, by a direct loss.

This was exactly what happened in the districts surrounding North Yakima, Washington. The summer season, 1913, was disastrous to the growers in the widely segregated districts of Yakima, through the widespread appearance and terrific inroads of fire blight. Government Inspectors were helpless to meet the general demand on their services, and blight threatened to cause the loss of the whole orchards.

A PRACTICAL IDEA.

In December 1913, a large meeting was held in the Broadway district, and plans for a working organization proposed. These met with immediate interest on the part of the growers because they recognized the community principle of "Orchard Protection," and many of them had been faced with direct loss due to inability of their neighbors to cut blight when they should.

FORM OF ORGANIZATION ADOPTED.

Yakima country was divided into five divisions and for each of these the State supplied a regular district inspector to the County-Inspector-At-Large. Among these divisions, 37 Fruit Protective Associations, consisting of 325 smaller units, with a chairman in charge of each, was formed. These district chairmen acted co-operatively with the State-appointed inspectors in matters affecting the situation; made recommendations and assisted in the details of carrying them out, even to the securing of labor with which to clean up an infested orchard. In this manner the district inspector was backed up not only by a large army of unpaid assistants, but by an active public sentiment.

In getting the local associations effectively organized, it was necessary to hold at least three meetings, with each association. At the first the organization was perfected, and the district chairmen named for each section or neighborhood. At the second, orchard demonstrations were held under the direction of the district inspector, to show the necessity of tree surgery; and the care that must be exercised in all details. At the third verbal reports of the blight situation in each district and notes of the work being done were given. On the whole, the districts were well organized, and it was an easy matter to call the associations together later as necessity became apparent, for meetings which were held with most beneficial results.

The Fruit Protection idea, of making organized effort by growers of a district, has taught that much is to be gained from the spirit of healthy co-operation. Regarding the control of fire blight alone, replies to a circular letter sent out to all the important blight infested centres of the north-west brought this reply to the following question: "Is fire blight causing orchards on a large scale to go into liquidation and will Fruit Protective Associations, rightly handled, prevent this?" Every man familiar with these organizations replied—that it would save many orchards from facing liquidation, and several actual examples were cited. Such straight-forward evidence of the value of Protective Associations should be sufficient to gain every fruit grower's immediate attention and interest.

I may add that this series of letters on fire blight from the best authorities in the north-west will be co-related, and conclusions drawn. These conclusions will be printed and circulated for information and guidance of the fruit grower, with the approval of the Department of Fruit Pests.

Next week, another article, bearing on "Orchard Protection," through organized efforts of growers, will appear. Every grower should discuss this vital question with his neighbor, and be prepared to express his opinion on it.

Better Care Of Manure.

Canada is expected this year to report or to exceed her performance of 1915. Greater and still greater production is needed as the tension is gradually becoming greater in Europe. While the Western farmers are raising more grain, the Eastern farmers must give more attention to the raising of stock, and this brings up the question of manure.

Many farmers have been using artificial fertilizers to supplement the lack of manure, but nowadays the usual potash supply is gone since it came from Germany. How then can the farmer secure a supply of potash sufficient for his needs? Our Experiment Stations have gathered much valuable information regarding the value of manure, which is worthy of careful

LIFE would be flat and colorless for both young and old without some pleasure to give it piquancy.

So with food. A relish creates pleasure and appetite for your meals. It is oft-times as much of a tonic as the best prescription handed out by a physician. It is your duty as a careful housewife to get the best in relishes. Bad relishes spoil good food.

WE aim to keep the best in these as in everything else—delicious Jams and Jellies that are made with pure sugar, and keep the natural flavor of the berries. Pickles preserved in the finest malt vinegar. Sauces of the best brand—all the hundred and one delicacies that help to make your daily meals more pleasing.

If you want any Relish we have it. Come in and look over Stock.

study at this time. The Wisconsin Station Bulletin 200 places the total value of the manure from a dairy herd of 50 cows at $2,140—the nitrogen $1,381, phosphorus $211, and potassium $548. As a matter of practice, however, few dairy farmers realize the amount given above on account of losses in the barnyard. The chief loss occurs in the leaching of the liquid excrement. Two-thirds of all the nitrogen and four-fifths of the potassium voided by the animals are in the liquid excrement and so may easily be lost if the liquid is allowed to run away. We may state this in another way: More than half of the value of the fresh manure is in the liquid.

Is there a practical way of conserving this precious liquid? Yes. Use plenty of litter to absorb the liquid, have concrete gutters in the stable, and haul the manure directly to the field. If, however, the manure has to be stored for a while a place should be built which has a water-tight floor and a cover to turn most of the rain. To prevent loss from hot fermentation, it is only necessary to keep the pile compact and moist. It has been shown that eight tons of manure have given rather better than over 500 pounds of a very high grade commercial fertilizer, tested on a four-year rotation of corn, oats, wheat, and clover.

One fact stands out clearly when these results as well as those of our own stations are studied—that there need be little fear of potash starvation so long as there is abundance of manure, and care is taken to conserve it properly. The European countries are more careful of manure than Canada is, and we can learn much from them regarding methods of conservation. The Belgian farmer has a proverb: "No crops, no cattle; no cattle, no manure; no manure, no crops." Agriculture is most successful in those countries where animal manure is most appreciated. So intimate is the connection between manure and efficiency in soil management that it is a common saying in some countries: "A farmer's wealth is measured by the size of his manure pile, and the care he takes of it." —Journal of Agriculture.

When Will The War End?

There are many interesting conjectures upon this point, and a subscriber sends us the following clipping from an Old Country paper, which expresses views that everyone will hope to see realized:

There was a meeting in Paris last week in connection with the French loan of five of the greatest financiers in the world. It was a purely private gathering, and after discussing their business these gentlemen talked about the war. And they discussed, as a matter of interesting conversation, the prospects of the prolongation of the war. Four of the five expressed profound conviction that it would be all over at the latest by the end of next September, and that it would very probably be over as early as mid-summer. The fifth was equally emphatic in his own view, which was that Germany could not possibly fight beyond next March. These are not official opinions, nor even the public deliberations of business men, but the private and confident views of gentlemen who are perhaps better able to form an opinion at any rate on the economic side of the struggle than anybody else.

The military view in the highest quarter is equally positive as to the result. But not quite so definite as to the date. It is all a question whether Germany's military reserves or her financial reserves will become exhausted first. But both processes are going on rapidly. Their joint operations must sooner or later make themselves felt decisively, and we have in the working of the two forces a double guarantee of victory.

To establish a standard box for apples, a bill has recently been introduced at Congress at Washington. The proposed standard box will be of the following dimensions when measured without distension of its parts: depth of end, 10 1/2 inches; width of end, 11 1/2 inches; depth of box, 18 inches; all inside measurements, and representing, as nearly as possible, 217 3/4 cubic inches.

Miss Mitchell "Showered."

In the face of somewhat inclement weather outside, the ladies club rooms on the lake shore were rendered cozy, warm and inviting, last Friday afternoon. The occasion being a "shower," in honor of one of Naramata's very popular young ladies, Miss Bessie Mitchell, whose engagement is soon to culminate in a wedding ceremony at Calgary. The Club Room Parlors had been specially decorated for the occasion. Centrally placed and suspended from the ceiling was an immense white bell, from which delicate tendrils of white ribbon depended to the table beneath where sat the honored guest. The pleasant task of collecting the gifts was performed by two daintily gowned little fairies, Molly Rayner and Gracie Pushman. The fairies, each with a tasty basket, having completed the circle met and together marched toward the centre, and presented the gifts to Miss Bessie, who having opened up the parcels, thanked the friends in a very charming manner.

A dainty thimble tea on Tuesday afternoon given by the Misses Robinson in honor of Miss Mitchell was attended by a great many of the young ladies of town, evidencing the high regard in which the guest of honor is held.

The Scouts are having splendid training in physical drill with dumb bells and Indian clubs, under the efficient instruction of Mr W. Nuttall. Mr Nuttall's early gymnastic training is proving a great assistance to the troop at this time.

Mr Geo. Wolstencroft has resigned his position as manager of the Naramata Supply Co. Ltd., and will in future devote his time to the care of his own orchard properties, and those also of Mr Walter Land, now in training as a soldier in England.

On account of the stress of other duties Mrs J. M. Robinson has had to decline the position of president of the Women's Institute. The position, with its accompanying responsibilities, is for another term allotted to the former occupant, Mrs H. T. Davies.

Mr Fred Young of Toronto, who came in last week to spend a few days with his former college pal, J. O. Robinson, has wisely allowed himself to be persuaded to remain in town a little longer in order to get correct ideas about the special brand of the Okanagan winters he has been hearing so much about.

In order to provide a display window for the stock of boots and shoes of the Naramata Supply Co.'s stock the management have decided to move the post office to the rear of the present building, a change which will necessitate the extension of the outside platform to the north end of the store.

Since Old Boreas has called a truce, and called off most of his troops from the hills adjacent to town, the young boys—and girls too, bless their hearts—have been having a dandy time coasting. The ice rink in the meanwhile is being quite neglected. Now, however, it is to be hoped that the sport will be renewed.

Mr Jack Robinson and his friend, Mr Young, have spent much of their spare time this week flooding a space on the hotel grounds large enough for a good sized rink. It is to be hoped that the weather may hang out cold enough to give the experiment a trial. Most years, however, such attempts have proved futile on account of the south breezes which have a habit of obtruding themselves upon the "ice-plans" of the ice-promoters.

Mr Evan Davies, the youngest son of Mr H. T. Davies of town, has returned to Montreal after putting in his term of six months as a worker in an English munition factory. He reports that there is ground for complaint in the methods in vogue in the Old Country. He says the wages are low, and the expenses are proportionately high. It is believed that this spirit of discontent is so general that the privilege of coming back to work in Canadian factories is being very generally adopted.

T. H. Boothe is in receipt of information from Quesnel to the effect that the hotel in which his son Reg. L. Boothe had stored his musical instruments and other personal belongings, was destroyed by a fire on Saturday morning which did damage to $250,000 of property in the very heart of the thriving western town. Besides burning the two hotels and the two banks, the fire licked up the larger wholesale and retail store of the John A. Fraser Co. Ltd., the firm for whom Reg. worked all the time he was up north.

Many of the patrons of the domestic water system are this week being inconvenienced as a result of freezing pipes. We soon will learn that though it is the Okanagan, once in a blue moon a storm comes that ignores all traditions, and sets at defiance the boasts of the boosters. The moral of the week is "Sink your water pipes three feet."

That the cold spell that we have recently experienced has followed the regiments, now encamped at Victoria is evidenced by certain statements made in letters this week from Roy Boothe of the 11th C.M.R. to his parents. Plant Pathologist In New Laboratory.

Preparing To Combat Enemies Of Orchardist And Farmer.

Prof. E. W. Eastham, the Provincial Plant Pathologist, is opening a laboratory in the Court House at Vancouver in connection with the Fruit Inspection offices. Equipment includes considerable apparatus of a scientific character, including gas ovens, hot water heaters, etc. Prof. Eastham purposes making a careful study of the life habits of the various minute insects which prey upon plants.

Having learned their habits, he is prepared to devise a means of killing them off at a time in their lives when they are most susceptible to attack.

The means of killing off the insect pests varies all the way from swabbing them with coal oil and spraying them with Bordeaux mixture and nicotine sulphate, to breeding other colonies of minuter insects to prey upon the eggs of the pest. His work as plant pathologist is of course much wider than the field of entomology, and embraces every disease that affects plants from any cause whatsoever.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Prohibition is the Biggest Issue.

Organizer Hammond Optimistic Of Growing Strength of the Movement.

Mr G. J. Hammond, chairman of the organization committee of the People's Prohibition Movement in B.C., is practically spending his whole time now at Prohibition headquarters. Mr Hammond believes that the movement has now attained the point where about all that is required to complete its purpose is to complete its thorough organization in every nook and corner of the province. "Because you may not hear so much about our doings for the next few weeks do not be trapped into thinking that the movement is losing ground," Mr Hammond says, "The work we are doing now is the most effective work that could be done in the cause and is going to show big results. Probably nearly every man in the province knows now how he is going to vote on the subject, but we are going to make it a point to see that when the plebiscite is presented that he does vote. We know our strength and our weaknesses, and are remedying the latter in the work we are now doing. Make no mistake, Prohibition is now the biggest issue in British Columbia, and is gaining strength every day."

Dr E. W. Sawyer was a homeward passenger on the "Sicamous" on Wednesday evening from Vancouver, where he attended sessions of the Baptist Union of Western Canada. Outstanding conclusions reached during the sessions were the formulation of plans looking to a five year denominational "advance" campaign along four or five definitely specified lines and the endorsement of national prohibition sentiment.

Not for many a year has Summerland allowed a "Burns' Night" to pass by without due recognition of the anniversary. Even before the local St Andrew's and Caledonian Society came into being, there were Scotch enthusiasts enough to make sure that the anniversary of the national poet's birth did not go unmarked. This year the Society had arranged to celebrate the day with a concert and an informal dance. It became apparent in making up the program, however, that there other entertainments in course of preparation, seemed to have engrossed the musical talent of the community to such an extent that it became a difficult matter to make up a really representative program for the "Burns' Night" concert. The St. Andrew's Society have therefore regretfully called off their public remembrance of what is one of their fetid days. It has not been decided at what future date the Concert will be put on.

Harvey Phinney, who went from the camp at Victoria to the East last fall with Charlie Stuart, to undertake training for motor cycle dispatch riding, was taken suddenly ill with appendicitis early this month. He was operated on about two weeks ago, and has since been making good progress toward getting over its effects, according to word received by his parents, Mr and Mrs J. E. Phinney, a few days ago. Another of their sons, Norman, at one time connected with the Summerland Supply Company, and later with the firm of W. R. Megaw, Vernon, is also contemplating enlistment into the 172nd Battalion, now being recruited at Kamloops. With two sons, Clarence and Harvey, already enrolled with the Canadian Army, Mr and Mrs Phinney will have a proud record of giving three sons for the Empire's war.

Rev. D. E. Hatt, M.A., was the preacher at the morning service at the Parkdale Church on Sunday last in the absence of the pastor, Rev N. McNaughton. The evening service was conducted by Rev C. H. Daly.

Presbyterian services will be conducted in St Andrew's Church next Sunday morning and evening, and in the Methodist Church at 3 p.m. Mr Cavan Wright will sing at the latter service. Rev. C. H. Daly will conduct all the services.

During the cold weather of last week the thermometer back at the Sawmill registered as low as 28 below. The higher altitude and the distance from the lake are the reasons for the big difference between that and 6 below, the coldest recorded at the C.P.R. wharf.

Mrs J. B. Robinson and son, George returned to their Peachland home on Sunday, after a stay with Mr Robinson, who has been lying ill at the home of Dr and Mrs R. C. Lipsett for the past two or three weeks. Mr Robinson has now almost recovered from his recent "stroke."

The modern merchant pondered Upon the ways of men, Who take as their example The spider in his den, "Let others, if they will," quoth he, Lie low and wait for flies, In a dingy, cob-webbed corner, But I'm going to advertise."

The executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association held a meeting last Monday. Preparations were made for the annual meeting to be held at the end of the month, when, it is understood, the party's South Okanagan candidate for the provincial house, Mayor Jones of Kelowna, will be in attendance.

One of the most pleasant of the weekly gatherings of the Five Hundred Club was that held last Tuesday evening at Hotel Summerland, when between forty and fifty members gathered for an evening at cards. The ladies responsible for the evening's entertainment delighted the members with dainty refreshments of a superior order.

In a coasting accident on the Peach Orchard road Wednesday evening Thelma Hobbs the fifteen year old daughter of Mr and Mrs A. W. Hobbs, suffered serious injuries, and when taken to her home and a doctor summoned, it was found that she had broken her leg just above the ankle. The young lady is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

If any of our readers intend getting sawdust in which to bury ice and are depending on getting it from the Summerland Lumber Co.'s mill, it would be well to have it drawn at once. The sawdust pile at the mill has been burning for weeks and a portion is being saved by Mr Wheeler, the manager, for the accommodation of the public. He says he cannot save it much longer and he wants to get it out of the way.

Anything in the nature of a fire alarm will stir up excitement, especially in this district, where the fire flood is fortunately a rare visitor. An alarm was circulated last Saturday afternoon that the beginnings of a fire promised at the south end of town. The danger point proved to be a chimney evidently "burning itself out." The chimney was a metal one and presented a somewhat alarming sight when it became redhot and exuded flames and a profusion of sparks. A neighbor kept close watch on developments, and though in response to the call sent to town, volunteers got the hose reel ready in short order, later word was to the effect that their services were not required.

The unfortunate victim of an unusual mishap last Monday evening Clarence Eisey is now confined to his home suffering from a broken ankle. He was playing hockey at the Parkdale Skating Rink at the time of the accident which seems to have been the result of an effort to turn very sharply rather than anything else. The mishap occurred fairly late in the evening, and he was taken to the home of Mr and Mrs Vanderburg close at hand, where he passed the night after medical attention had been given the broken ankle. He was removed to his own home the following morning, where he has since been resting and making progress as satisfactory as can be expected considering his injuries. The injured ankle has not yet been put into plaster, but this is to be done as soon as the swelling, resulting from sprain has subsided. Clarence has many friends who will sympathize with him in his mishap and wish him a speedy convalescence.

To scoff at any one is the mark of a fool.

Newsy Paragraphs from PEACHLAND

Mr. W. A. Lang Dominion Government Fruit Commissioner left on Monday morning of this week en route for Calgary.

Mrs. Robinson and son George drove up from Summerland last Sunday. They reported Mr. Robinson steadily improving. This is good news, and we hope we shall soon have him back again.

The services in the Methodist Church will be held every Sunday morning at 11 a.m. instead of morning and evening alternately. The Sunday School in the Presbyterian Church will immediately follow the service. The pastor, Rev. A. Henderson, will conduct service in the schoolhouse at Trepanier every Sunday evening.

Another old timer has answered our country's call. Mr. Grant Lang, who has held a prominent place in the public life of this place, left on Monday of this week to attend the officers' training school at Winnipeg. For six years he has been on the School Board here, also holding the position of secretary of the Trustees' Association of this province for the past two years. His departure leaves a vacancy both in public and social life, which it will be difficult to fill. All wish him God-speed, and a safe return to our midst.

Mrs. S. Murdin returned from Summerland last Friday, having spent several days with friends there.

Mr. Robert Moule of Kelowna paid his sister, Miss Louise Moule, a flying visit last week, before leaving for the West Indies.

Next Friday night there will be a grand carnival at the rink in aid of the Red Cross. Admission for adults will be twenty-five cents, children fifteen cents. Tea will be served at the home of Mrs. Hay. Everybody come and make it a success.

Last Saturday the Red Cross Society met in the ante-room of the Masonic Hall instead of the Reading Room. The Masons have very kindly given the girls the lights free, also the privilege of using their dishes. Mr. Wm. Coldham donated a cord of wood, which was much appreciated by the members. Mrs. A. D. Ferguson has loaned them her machine, so the girls are now ready to do good work.

THE RATEPAYERS' MEETING. THE FOLLY OF SECTIONAL FEELING.

Summerland, B.C.,
January 19th, 1915.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:
May I refer to two matters which I think are of considerable general interest?

The first is the manner in which the recent ratepayers' meeting was conducted. I presume the object of this meeting is primarily to give the Council opportunity to present

Peachland Paragraphs

The Ladies' Circle of the Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. B. S. Brown, on Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland came up on Wednesday to conduct service in the English Church. He was registered at Edgewater Inn.

The annual business meeting of the Women's Institute was held last Tuesday in the Baptist Sunday School room. As the president, Mrs. J. L. Vicary, was absent, Mrs. Wm. Dryden, vice-president, took the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of the National Anthem. Then Mrs. Dryden read the address of the retiring president Mrs. J. B. Robinson, secretary-treasurer, gave a good report of the work done during the year. Then followed the election of officers, which was as follows:

Pres. Mrs. S. Murdin.
Vice-Pres. Mrs. Buchanan.
Director Mrs. A.T. own.
The meeting closed by singing "God Save Our Men."

to the ratepayers reports on what has been accomplished by them during their term of office. The financial statement was read to our edification, but apart from this no matter of importance was volunteered by the Council. The only information obtained was drawn out by criticism or questioning. Would it not be to the mutual benefit of the Council and ratepayers and foster a spirit of confidence, if the Reeve and Council, the Board of Works and the Finance Committee would present reports to the ratepayers, either at the annual meeting or preferably before such meeting, through the medium of the local paper? This seems to be the only reasonable course to follow, and it is merely in line with the policy of other municipalities. To bring this matter before the Council, I am sending a copy of part of my letter to them, with a request that it be read and discussed at their first session, when no doubt the recommendations passed at the annual meeting will also be taken into consideration and passed upon. The matter was touched upon at the ratepayers' meeting, but owing to the lateness of the hour, the weariness of those attending, and the disorganized state of the meeting, it was allowed to drop for the time being.

The other matter is one which I approach with some hesitancy, but I am impelled to do so by the Clerk's unfortunate reference in his letter of last week, to a "disgruntled down town outfit," by which he referred no doubt to the authors of the two anonymous letters appearing in the Review some two or three weeks since. I agree with him that such letters should bear a name. I have nothing to say regarding them, or the tone of Mr. Logie's reply. The Council is the proper body to deal with such a letter, coming as it does from one of its employees. It is supposed by some that the West Summerland centre is pulling against the town at the lakefront and vice versa. I do not think there is any real dissension among the ratepayers; and such a subject should not even have been broached, least of all by an official of the Municipality. Every thinking man will concede that at the present time neither the town at the front nor that at West Summerland is of paramount importance. The man to be considered above all others in the administration of municipal affairs is the man on the land. Until his needs are properly catered for, and he is served by an efficient water service, all money spent on either town, apart from absolute necessities, is money ill spent. Under existing conditions, the Municipality stands or falls on the success or otherwise of the fruit grower. As ratepayers of the Municipality we are a unit; our interests are identical; the success of the fruit grower and farmer means the success of the business man, and there is no prosperity outside of this. It would be very short-sighted on the part of either centre to adopt a policy of "grabbing," in order to obtain an insignificant, transitory benefit at the expense of the fruit man. Let the grower be successful and the business man will share in his prosperity; but for the town man to attempt to obtain benefits which should go to the fruit lot owner is equivalent to cutting off his own arm.

Let us all aim for the one thing—the prosperity of our Municipality as a whole; making the able and straightforward administration of municipal affairs one means to this end; and thus prove the Clerk's suggestion of the existence of a "disgruntled outfit" a phantom of his own imagining.

Yours truly
C. P. NELSON.

California Growers Try To Save Fruit.

With thousands of smudge pots the orange growers throughout the Southern California citrus fruit region have been fighting the freezing temperatures of the last two weeks, and palls of smoke have rosted over all the valleys. In nearly all the fruit sections it was colder than at any time since the disastrous frost of 1913, but being forewarned and aided by the moisture remaining from the recent rains, orchardists asserted that but little damage has been sustained.

Young Man, Do you know

that some of the best paid men right here in B.C. educated themselves for advancement at home, right in the village or on the farm, and that they had no better chances than you have, some, indeed, being extremely poor, and only having a knowledge of reading and writing? These men have, through the study of International Correspondence Schools' courses, and a determination to succeed, risen to where they are. Why not you?

Others with good general education have found that without special training along one line, they could not hope for much in exchange for their services, and have taken up the International Correspondence Schools studies and made good.

The International Correspondence Schools have contracts now with over two hundred railroads alone for instructing their employees, including the C.P.R., the C.N.R., the B.C. Electric Rly., and the Dominion Government railways in Canada, and the text-books of the School which have become famous for their clearness, practicability, and thoroughness, are now used in nearly 300 large colleges and schools, including in Canada, McGill, Toronto University, Department of Technical Education, Halifax, Shawinigan Technical Institute and others. A large number of colleges in the United States, including the United States Government Aeronautical School, Army War College, etc., also use International Correspondence Schools text-books.

Traffic Still Demoralized.

Penticton Cut Off From Both Boat And Train Service.

Lake and rail traffic in the south Okanagan is still very much curtailed on account of the severe winter weather. The "Sicamous" has continued during the past week to terminate her southbound run here, not being able to reach Penticton on account of the large quantities of ice at the south end of the lake. Passengers, and what mail and express the boat has for Penticton and south are still being conveyed by road from Summerland. During the mildness of last Sunday the "Sicamous" made an attempt to reach Penticton, but was not able to get through the accumulation of ice that the two days' thaw had not dispersed.

Traffic on the Kettle Valley line east and west has also been in a very precarious state, and it is now almost entirely suspended. Five of its six locomotives which maintain this service are said to be out of commission, and the sixth is not able to relieve the situation at all, being stalled, it is said, between two other engines that have already been put out of business. A car standing at the Peach Valley station in the process of being unloaded, was jacked up by a gang of men lately and the wheels at both ends removed, presumably to be put into use at the scene of the derailment of one or other of the locomotives.

Penticton is thus in the very unfortunate position of being deprived of communication from the north by the boat service, and from the east and west by the railway.

The "January thaw" that the Okanagan boasts of came last weekend, but certainly did not overstay its welcome. The zero weather of the previous week or two seemed to break on Friday night, and on Saturday most people were happily remarking that the cold weather had gone for good. Even those who would not commit themselves hoped inwardly it was the case. Sunday morning, mild and balmy, with sunshine and warm wind, a true chinook, strengthened these sanguine hopes. Before this mildness most of the snow disappeared, but before noon—what a change had come! Even the boasted Okanagan weather cannot claim freedom from fickleness, apparently. The wind suddenly changed to the north, warm rain changed to cold, driving sleet, and the beautiful spring morning developed into a regular depth-of-winter afternoon. That night many thermometers touched the zero mark again, and have not showed very much better since.

Real Estate Prospect

In spite of the exodus of the skyline sub-division sharks to the American boom centres, says the Canadian Courier, Canadian real estate prices have continued to hold their own, and there is even a small amount of trading in city properties in eastern Canadian cities. Though there is no immediate prospect of the war's ending there is complete confidence on the part of all property owners that the declaration of peace will not only confirm present values, but for various reasons will enhance them. The feeling is apparently widespread, and well founded, if the reports of European observers are to be credited that there will be heavy immigration after the war. In ordinary circumstances it might be expected that a certain heavy proportion of the immigration would be absorbed by the United States. The war has however, established a sense of kinship between the people of the Allies and those overseas communities that have participated with them in the war. Canada of all the colonies stands the very best chance of getting new population. This cannot fail to have a marked effect on property values—both urban and rural—since with the looked-for increase in rural activity will be a complementary increase in urban operations.

Hospital Society Annual Meeting

Efficient Board and Staff Get Deserving Praise.

Fewer Sick in Community Causes Falling Off in Earnings. But Year Ended With Deficit of Only $103.00.

The enterprise of the Directors of the Hospital in calling their annual meeting at the Hospital itself was justified when an increased number of the general public turned up and took an intelligent interest in the proceedings yesterday.

The Balance Sheet and Auditor's Report, as already published in the Review, was approved, and the report from the Ladies' Auxiliary brought some warm praise from the meeting, as showing what had been accomplished by that body.

On rising to move the adoption of the Matron's report, Mr W. J. Robinson spoke highly of the efficiency of the Matron in running the institution so economically. He pointed out that this, the second year of operation, gave some idea of what the normal conditions of the Hospital were likely to be. The policy of the Board, ably seconded by the efforts of the staff, had been to make the Hospital popular, and to obtain the confidence of the public, so that they would realize that the Hospital is the home for the sick of the district.

The Secretary's report showed an average of patients treated of 3.43 per day, as against 5.17 per day last year, and the feeling of the meeting was that this was a matter of congratulation, and although this meant a much smaller income it would be much better to support the Hospital by increasing their donations than by paying bills for the care of sick.

Dr Andrew stated that he was also not so busy as he had been, but that he did not consider that he had any right to complain. The doctor added that the Hospital was not in any pressing need of any new equipment, and that his knowledge of the patients treated in the Hospital had proved that complete satisfaction had been given to every one.

Reeve Blair and Magistrate English both bore testimony to the efficiency of the management and staff—evident from the reports carried away by patients and by the Balance Sheet, presented, and while agreeing with them Rev. C. H. Daly stated that what had surprised him was the fact that the Hospital had not asked for more support from the people of the district. He admitted that our first energies must be towards the satisfactory conclusion of the great war, but yet that the Hospital, as the baby of the public, should not be neglected.

In replying on behalf of the Board, the President, Mr Mellor, stated that the Board considered the Balance Sheet very satisfactory for the present times, and that the small deficit of $108 could be cleaned up by some special effort within the next month or so.

A room for the nurses and a storage cellar had been finished; the building and plant are clear of debt, and from a financial standpoint the Hospital is in a sound condition. To the question of whether or not the Hospital has fulfilled its mission by being of assistance to the sick of the community, the only possible answer after making all possible enquiries, and listening to the evidence offered at this meeting, is that the Hospital has more than done all that was expected, and has been a splendid success.

He admitted that he considered the Board had been efficient, ably assisted by the Ladies' Auxiliary and the staff, and acknowledged that the ability of Dr Andrew had been a large factor in the success of the institution.

The retiring members were re-elected, and at the Board meeting afterwards Mr H. C. Mellor was re-elected president for the coming year.

Special storage and shipping facilities have been provided in Rio de Janeiro for the Canadian fruit exported to that important South American market.

Supply Company Sells Shoe Department.

A. J. Beer Gets Stock and Goodwill of Down Town Business.

Under an agreement completed this week, A. J. Beer has acquired the entire stock of the boot and shoe department of the down-town store of the Summerland Supply Company. With it also goes the goodwill for that district, the Supply Company continuing in that branch at their upper store. At the same time the larger concern takes over some minor lines carried by Mr Beer.

With the larger patronage which he may reasonably hope to enjoy, Mr Beer will find it practicable to carry a larger and more complete stock, with a greater range in all lines, which will be of great convenience to his customers.

It is but natural in so doubling up his stock that Mr Beer should now find himself much overstocked just now in several lines. To remedy this, as well as to commemorate the occasion of the change, and impress it upon the public mind, Mr Beer at once decided to put on a sale at which footwear at prices never known here before would for a limited period be offered. Just how great the cut in prices is, and what real bargains are to be had, may be judged from a partial list contained in his advertisement on page 6 of this issue.

To Foster Greater Consumption Of B.C. Products.

People who supported the petitions circulated some time last year pledging themselves to participate in the movement on foot to give all possible support to the industries of the province by insisting on buying the "Made in B.C." product, have received lately the first two numbers of the "British Columbia Consumers' Magazine," a new publication issued from Vancouver. It is designated as the official organ of the British Columbia Consumers' League, and its sixteen pages have been crammed full of the forceful logic supporting the "buy the home product" movement. It will serve a very useful purpose in emphasizing in the minds of the people the vital necessity of supporting the home province first of all. The little publication presents a lot of information relative to the mighty industrial and natural resources that B.C. has within her boundaries, and though it will be hard to estimate in plain figures the actual impetus that the new magazine is going to give to the "Made in B.C." movement, it is certain that it will have no little effect on the general situation in the course of a reasonable time.

Government Aid On Irrigation System.

Penticton May Ask Assistance Of Province.

Before the Penticton Municipal Council reaches any definite decision with regard to the irrigation problem there, it will seek the services of a government engineer in investigating the local situation, following which the Council will determine upon its future policy. As is generally known, says the Penticton Herald, the wooden irrigation flumes owned by the municipality will shortly have to be replaced, and in view of the heavy expenditure which this entails, the opinion has been expressed in many quarters that the Provincial Government should be asked to take over the whole system, or in any case to lend some assistance so that the municipal authorities might readily borrow money at a cheap rate for irrigation system purposes.

The Penticton Council has not yet declared itself upon the question, in fact probably does not know whether it desires governmental aid or not. But as there is a Provincial Government engineer investigating the irrigation systems in the north end of the Valley at the request of the private companies there, who are seeking assistance from Victoria, it has been deemed advisable to ask the provincial authorities to have this engineer sent to Penticton to examine the local irrigation situation.

From a Summerland Soldier in England

Speaks Well Of Summerland Apples, And Tells Of Military Life.

In a recent letter received by his parents, Mr and Mrs J. Treffry, Trout Creek, Private Joseph Treffry, who enlisted from here into the 54th Battalion, relates some interesting details of his military duties, and tells, too, of the good impression that Summerland apples made on some people who were previously unacquainted, apparently, with fruit of such quality. He says:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I am still in Old England. I have been very busy this last week or so, on guard and picket. Quite a lot of the boys were away on Christmas and New Year leave, and that left more duties for us that remained. If I had friends or relatives over here I could find time to visit them. I have been and am quite well, and am sending a three-quarter photo of myself in this letter. You will see by it I am a lot heavier than when I came over. I weigh about 180 lbs. now."

I cannot say when I will get over in France, perhaps not till spring. Everything is quiet here now, the Zepps have not visited us for a long time. They know where it's safe to be.

I got that box of apples at last. They arrived in good condition considering the time it took them to get here. Some of them were a little spoiled, but not so bad I had to throw any away. The people around here were surprised to know we could grow such large apples. I had been telling them about the fruit before the apples came, and they thought I exaggerated things, but when they came they were convinced.

Christmas Eve I went on guard at 8.30, and stayed till 8.30 a.m. on Christmas Day. I ate my breakfast in the guard room, and spent Christmas Eve there. After I came off guard at 8.30 in the morning I had the day off. In the evening the folks I am staying with were invited out and I went with them. I took some of those large yellow apples with me and you should have seen the folks faces when they saw them. They looked at me as much as to say they were made of paper, so I gave them one, and the man looked it all over, felt it, then he said, "You don't see apples like that over here."

Letter Of Condolence To Widow Of Late Brother

At the regular meeting of the local Lodge of I.O.O.F., the first since the death of Mr J. F. Faulkner, a charter member, the following official expression of sorrow and sympathy was feelingly proposed and carried unanimously: That

Whereas this lodge has learned with deep regret the recent death of Bro. J. F. Faulkner, a P.G. of this lodge and

Whereas the late Bro. J. F. Faulkner was a charter member and the first Noble Grand of this lodge, and the chief instrument in establishing the fraternity in this district, and had thereby endeared himself to the members of this lodge, to the extent that he was lovingly hailed as the "Father of Okanagan Lodge," Now therefore be it

Resolved that this lodge in regular meeting express its sincere sorrow at the loss of its late Bro. J. F. Faulkner, and that the sympathies of this lodge be conveyed to his wife and family.

F. W. ANDREW, P.G.
J. E. PHINNEY, P.G.
K. S. HOGG, Fin. Secy.

Rev. C. H. Daly was the presiding officer at the annual meeting of the Peachland congregation held on the evening of the 21st. Mr Daly says it was unanimously agreed by the congregation to do all in their power to carry on the union services with the Methodists for another year, and to retain the services of Rev. A. Henderson. There was manifested a firm spirit of unity between the two denominations, and the people of Peachland are very fortunate in having so talented a minister as Mr Henderson.

Splendid Music at Glee Club Concert

Crowded Hall Enjoys Excellent Program.

Culmination of Weeks of Hard Work by Chorus of Seventy-five Ladies' Voices, Led by Miss B. K. Harrison.

Entertainments of quality, such as that put on yesterday evening in Empire Hall by the Ladies' Glee Club, never go amiss in Summerland, and in the almost unprecedented crowd that filled the hall another evidence was seen that people will support before all other kinds of entertainment one comprising a reformed program presented by local talent. It is something of an achievement in itself to gather together a ladies' chorus of about seventy-five voices, and the fact that such difficulties were overcome as the widely scattered homes, and other considerations usually thought of as almost unsurmountable in completing an organization of this kind, speaks very eloquently of the ability of Miss B. K. Harrison, who as conductor of the Glee Club was mainly responsible for its success.

If Empire Hall has ever held a larger audience, few know of it, for most people are agreed that the crowd in attendance last evening constitutes the tightest fit the big hall has seen within their memory. There must have been over three hundred and fifty people on the floor, not only occupying every available seat, but overflowing into standing room at the back and down one side. This count also takes no consideration of the seventy-five or so performers.

The program itself left nothing to be desired in the way of variety and quality. From start to finish it was a high-class event that well merited the support it got.

The main item was a cantata, "Three Springs" by the full Glee Club. It tells the story of the development and course of the springs from the little pool into a stream, on to a river, and then to the ocean, from whence through the agency of sun and wind they find their way back to their mountain source. The cantata is full of light and sprightly music. The choruses appealed to the ear, and set off so well by the solos rendered by Mrs G. M. Ross, the whole effort resulted in an artistic production of which conductor and chorus may well be proud. The final chorus was deservingly encored. At the conclusion of the cantata, bouquets were brought forward by little Glenn Graham and presented to Miss Harrison, and Miss Bena Logie, accompanist of the evening, fitting tributes to their hard work. Another number by the full chorus, "Rally Song," was presented with like excellence, and the patriotic chorus, "O, Canada," at the conclusion of the program, sung with an unconventional, but most effective grouping of the voices, would certainly have been encored had the singing of "The British Women's National Anthem" not commenced without much pause.

"Hush Thee, My Baby," was a classic that about two dozen voices rendered most acceptably, and the "Japanese Love Song," by about fourteen young girls, was a chorus of a little different nature that the costumes and action set off splendidly. "Come Where the Lilies Bloom," a trio sung sweetly by Misses G. Robinson, G. Logie, and L. Brown also drew forth a deserving encore.

Piano quartettes are rare enough to be somewhat noteworthy, and the four accomplished pianists who took part in these numbers, Miss B. K. Harrison, Miss Bena Logie, Miss Edna MacLeod and Miss Madge Thomson, certainly succeeded in producing enjoyable items, the more so on account of the unusual degree of finish and precision that was apparent. The "Kitchen Symphony" provided something new and novel, and it was a revelation to most people that so much music could be extracted from such humble and mundane household articles. A tableau, "On the Field of Honor," depicting a dying soldier receiving an angel's ministrations, was a vivid reminder of present happenings that should not be out of anyone's mind for long at this time. Almost startling in its realism it portrayed a sad, yet how common incident in the stern business of war. The program concluded with the singing of the expressive "British Women's National Anthem," and "God Save The King."

It is impossible at this time to get any exact computation of the proceeds, which are to benefit the Red Cross funds, but it is certain that the net returns cannot be less than well over a hundred dollars. On their achievement, Miss Harrison, as leader, her lieutenants and all connected with the undertaking, have every reason to be congratulated. The people of Summerland have had some opportunity previously of enjoying Miss Harrison's well-cultivated musical talent, but never in such a pretentious undertaking. Its signal success is complementary enough as to her ability.

Coast Mails Delayed.

Heavy Snow in Cascades Disarrange Traffic For Several Days.

Heavy snowstorms accompanied by driving winds, completely tied up traffic on the C.P.R. main line in the Fraser River canyon in the Cascades for several days. As a result, mail, express and passenger traffic between the Coast and Interior was totally suspended. Mail leaving Vancouver on Saturday evening did not reach here till Wednesday night, the train carrying it having been stalled in the snow drifts, while the newspapers of Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, all came in together on Thursday night, there being no trains out of Vancouver after Saturday until Wednesday.

Huge snowdrifts completely buried the track for miles, and the storm has been described by C.P.R. men as the worst experienced for twenty years.

Ambulance League Continues Strongly In Good Work.

The Summerland branch of the Okanagan Ambulance League may well be proud of the extensive work it has done in the past on behalf of the wounded soldiers, and the fact that it has just sent off its twenty-sixth bale of indispensable comforts is evidence enough of the fact that this energetic body of ladies are by no means weary of well-doing.

The contents of the 26th bale sent to the Red Cross Society by the Ambulance League from Summerland were: 70 pr. socks; 14 mufflers; 7 mitts; 2 pr. slippers; 3 suits pyjamas; 30 hospital handkerchiefs; 17 field handkerchiefs; 4 many-tailed bandages; 8 T bandages; 1 triangular bandage; 1 heel rest; 1 bundle face cloths (100); 20 tray cloths; 1 draw sheet; 80 wash rags; 5 dish cloths; 1 bundle old flannel; 5 bundles mouth wipes (500).

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Womens' Institute was held on Friday afternoon, January 21st, in the Men's Club with an attendance of 24. The Institute commences the year with a membership of 40.

As the president, Mrs W. H. Hayes, was unable to be present the vice-president, Mrs H. A. Solly took the chair. The secretary read the address from the retiring president, gave a report of the year's work, and also of the funds on hand. The communications were then dealt with, after which followed the election of officers for 1916. These are:

President—Mrs H. A. Solly
Vice-President—Mrs J. W. Angwin
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs J. Taft
Directors—Mrs H. A. Solly, Mrs J. W. Angwin, Mrs G. Anderson, Mrs W. H. Hayes, and Mrs R. C. Lipsett.
Auditors—Miss Aitchison and Mrs J. Galt

After the business part of the program, the new president gave an address, following which Mrs C. H. Daly also gave an excellent address on "Home and Country."

EVERY PLACE SHOULD HAVE IT.

A MORE ACTIVE COMMUNITY SPIRIT is pervading many of the small places in Canada. That is well for more reasons than one. It is a good thing the idea is exploded that only large cities have any need for such a spirit or are entitled to it. Local patriotism is just as much needed in a place of a thousand or two as in one of a hundred thousand, if it is to live and prosper. To be sure it is not the centre of so large a population, nevertheless it is a centre, and as such it is in duty bound to do the best it can and be the best it can, both for its own sake and the adjoining territory to which, commercially and otherwise it ministers.

Of course it is possible to foster a community spirit that is mainly selfish, a spirit that concerns itself solely with the community in which it exists. But that is a false spirit, destined in the long run to work injuriously to the place that gave it birth. The true community spirit is marked by wise loyalty, a hearty co-operation, real support of its business men and of its different institutions, and it can have and does have these features without in any way seeking to run down other places, which quite rightly, are seeking to advance their own good.

A NEW SCHOOL.

IF IT IS going to be necessary this year to open another primary school for Trout Creek children, it might be wise to consider the feasibility of bringing these children under the same roof with the primary children of the Town section. This could be effected if a building were erected somewhere between the two sections. If any new buildings are to be erected, motives of economy should prompt an investigation into this suggestion, which is by no means new. The present Town School building, while serving its purpose, cannot be said to be as altogether up-to-date and desirable in some respects as it might be. Moreover, its commanding site would surely be realizable into hard cash, and this sum would about care for the difference in the cost in erecting a larger building rather than a small one, and more too, if the government pays its usual share. There would still be a drive for the Trout Creek children, but not nearly as objectionable a one as at present.

SWINE HUSBANDRY.

The second edition of "Swine Husbandry in Canada," officially known as Bulletin No. 17, has been issued by the Federal Live Stock Branch, and may be had on application to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. This Bulletin covers the whole field of swine raising, giving the results of official experiments as well as the practices of successful farmer swine raisers. An interesting section describes the system of feeding hogs in Denmark, where combinations of food are prepared according to their food units, in which one pound of grain—wheat, barley, peas, corn, etc.—constitutes one food unit, which is equal to 8 lbs. mangels, 4 lbs. boiled potatoes, 5 lbs. alfalfa, 6 lb. skim milk or 12 lbs. whey. It is shown that the diet is varied in a definite way for pigs of different ages.

PEACHLAND

Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland held service in the English Church last Wednesday evening. He was the guest of Mrs Clarence at Edgewater Inn.

Mr Southeran of Federal, Alta., arrived in town last week. We understand he has purchased property from Mr R. H. Huston, and intends to make his home here.

The Trepanier School was closed a few days this week as the teacher Miss Florence Whitworth, was laid up with a bad cold. We all hope she will soon be able to resume her duties again.

Mr and Mrs J. B. Robinson arrived home from Summerland last Monday morning. For some weeks Mr Robinson has been seriously ill at the home of Mrs R. C. Lipsett. We are glad to welcome him back, and sincerely hope he will soon be fully recovered.

ICE CARNIVAL A BIG SUCCESS.

Mrs Town, Mrs Hay, and Mrs N. S. Davidson, the patronesses of the carnival held last Friday evening in aid of the Red Cross and Ambulance League, are to be congratulated, as it was a huge success in every way. The rink was tastefully decorated with flags. Although the evening was mild, the ice was all that could be desired, owing to the painstaking efforts of the rink committee. Those in costume were possessors of the ice till nine o'clock, when masks were lifted and the prizes given.

Messrs. Hay, Hardy and Sutherland acted as judges, and awarded first prizes to Miss Olive Ferguson as "Britannia," and Mr Somerville as "Knave of Hearts." The juvenile prizes were won by Verna Town, as "Canada," and Archie Seaton as "Cowboy," and were presented by Mrs Hay.

About fifty skaters were in costume, a number of which were comic. Barnum & Bailey's head clown created much amusement for all. Refreshments were served at Mrs Hay's home, and the proceeds of the evening, amounted to thirty-two dollars and ten cents.

Among those in costume were: Mrs W. A. Lang, "Gypsy;" Mrs N. S. Davidson, "Florence Nightingale;" Miss E. Pentland, "Summer;" Mrs G. Mitchell, "Daughter of the Regiment;" Miss K. Miller, "Madame Butterfly;" Mrs J. McGregor, "Crazy May;" Miss L. Morrison, "Maid;" Mr W. B. Sanderson, "Pierrot;" Mr Chas. Somerville, "Knave of Hearts;" Miss F. L. Whitworth, "Magpie;" Mr H. McCall, "Barnum & Bailey's Head Clown;" Miss C. Henderson, "Baby;" Miss O. Ferguson, "Britannia;" Mrs J. Elliott, "Little Red Riding Hood;" Mrs R. J. Hogg, "January;" Mr A. Ferguson, "Old Dutch Cleanser;" Mr G. H. Greta, "Clown;" Jennie Dryden, "Clown;" Mary Vicary, "Wales;" Lily Cousins, "Ireland;" Mary Miller, "England;" Mr W. O. Williams, "Dinah;" Mr E. Shaw, "Cowboy;" Ilvya Murdin, "Night;" Verna Town, "Canada;" Mr A. D. Ferguson, "Santa Claus;" Mr Lorne Shaw, "An Old Lady;" Mrs H. McCall, "Biddy;" Miss Bina McLaughlan, "Silver Bell;" Miss M. McLaughlan, "Queen of the Nations;" Miss M. Keating, "Winter;" Miss N. Buchanan, "Cow Girl;" Mr R. J. Hogg, "Mountain Ranger;" Mr J. McLaughlan, "Baseball Player;" Mr J. Moose, "Father Christmas;" Mr G. Robinson, "An Irish Gentleman;" Mr H. Keating, "Old Dutch Cleanser;" Mr L. Seaton, "Suffragette;" Mr A. Seaton, "Cow Boy;" Mr F. Cousins, "Uncle Sam;" Mr Walker Brown, "Hockey Player;" Albert Town, "Little Red Riding Hood;" Gordon Town, "Maid;" Nelson Keating, "Beggars Boy;" Austin Hay, "Irish Girl;" Tod Drought, "Royal Household Flour."

IMPORTANCE of the TOWN PAPER.

T. H. Kay, who has taken over the Cranbrook Herald, and promises to make a live newspaper out of it, in his salute to the people of Cranbrook says: "We hope to enlarge and improve the Herald and make it more truly representative of the city and district. Capitalists and others living at a distance frequently form their first opinion of a community from the character of its newspaper, and the newspaper is often more important to a town or city than the inhabitants realize."

Orchard and Farm:

Orchard Protection. Article III.

Last week, under the heading, "Orchard Protection," we discussed the organization of the Fruit Protective Associations in the State of Washington, and noted that their primary object was to assist in the complete eradication of fire blight, and to foster a spirit of closer co-operation between the fruit growers and the Horticultural Inspection Department of the State. We now wish to continue this discussion. Nine of the best authorities on blight control in the north-west, including such practical fruit growers as W. P. Sawyer, the Wapato Pear King, who gave the fruit growers of British Columbia such an able address in Victoria at the B.C. Growers' Convention in 1913; F. G. Carlisle of Kettle Falls, orchardist, and one of the best known practical growers in Washington; F. E. De Sellem, Inspector-at-Large at North Yakima; and Prof. V. I. Safro, Entomologist of the Kentucky Tobacco Product Company, producers of the well-known Black Leaf 40, all unite in unanimously supporting "Community Organization" as the most effective aid to the control of blight.

Mr Luke Powell of Prosser, Washington, says, in regard to organized effort against blight: "Fire blight cannot be successfully controlled in any district where it is widely disseminated, unless the fruit growers are organized and co-operate in using the most efficient methods of eradication. I say this after four years of experience." Mr Powell was the Horticultural Inspector who attracted such wide attention through his success in getting the business men of the city to turn out at 4.30 a.m. each day for several weeks to help the growers control blight. In a personal letter to the writer, Mr Powell gives this testimony of his work and efforts: "Now, the climax of the whole work came last spring, when we had a very severe attack of blight. The Grangers, or better say Ranchers and Commercial Club men, were feeling quite kindly toward each other, when blight broke out so badly. Many of the Ranchers were so discouraged they were ready to throw up and quit. I am frank to confess that I was up a tree myself, when Mr L. Linn, President of the Commercial Club, County Auditor, and a leader in the public spirit of the community work, came to me and offered me the help of the Commercial Club men to cut blight. I was to take from eighteen to twenty out each morning at 4.30 a.m., superintend the work, and they would work until seven o'clock, and return in time to go to work at eight. This did not appeal to me at first, and I turned it down, but later in the day a Rancher came to me asking for aid, and so I proposed to him to bring out these green fellows and cut his blight. He agreed, and so we tried it out. Before the season was over we cut for about six weeks. We had sixty men enlisted, lawyers, preachers, merchants, doctors, retired ranchers, business men, and even visitors. The crews of twenty men went every third morning, the business men furnished the machines. They did good work, and healed any breach between Rancher and Town man so tightly that so far there has not been the slightest showing of a break. Other communities copied ours, but they did not seem to get the results, and I think I can sum that up in a few words, 'Our men did not do this because someone else did, but because they had the community interest at heart'."

The business men of Prosser realized that on the success of the orchardist depended the success of their different enterprises, and they faithfully gave of their time and money to help the fruit grower. However, they would not have turned out as they did, if they had not first of all, realized that the Ranchers were organized, and doing all that they could for themselves. Knowing this they gladly put forth their best efforts in protecting the interests common to the community. Help yourselves, fruit growers of British Columbia by organizing, and you will find not only the support of your neighboring town men behind you, but that of the Provincial Government, which will quickly recognize and appreciate your efforts.

It is this spirit and principle of co-operation, backed by united action that is most needed to make fruit growing districts prosperous centres. An orchardist cannot make the greatest success unless the community in which he is located is generally prosperous. Only by pulling together to combat the problems common to each neighborhood is the full advantage of the efforts of each and every grower obtained. These advantages in turn are the results of organized effort, and are well established in the state to the south of us through the medium of the Fruit Protective Association. Fruit growers and business men unite in testifying to the working practicability of this.

In studying the Fruit Protective Associations as applied to the control of blight in the State of Washington, it has occurred to the Department of Agriculture that these organizations should serve equally well in fighting all pests and diseases peculiar to the separate districts of the fruit growing area in the Interior of the province. In recognizing that blight is a community problem and not an individual one, since each infection may be the source of blighting the neighboring orchards, it is quite apparent that most of our common economic pests are equally general, and that the advantages obtained from organizing to fight blight, would apply in controlling such pests as aphids and scale insects—or such diseases as Apple Scab and Powdery Mildew. Whatever pest or disease threatens the orchards of a community, united action by growers is sure to prove more effective and cheaper, than individual, spasmodic effort.

GROWERS DO MORE FOR THEMSELVES.

The Department of Agriculture has always done a great deal for the fruit grower. It has freely and ungrudgingly given support along every line of endeavor, and has given serious consideration to all requests made by growers for assistance. There is now an increasing sentiment among orchardists of the province, that growers should do more for themselves, and in offering to each orchard community the opportunity to form a Fruit Protective Association under the guidance of the Department of Agriculture, the government feels that a step toward making this possible for growers has been taken. It will, however, rest entirely with the growers just how strong and prudent the organizations become, and to what extent the growers in any community are willing to meet each other on the basis of give and take, necessary to gain united action.

GOVERNMENT SUPPORT.

In suggesting that fruit growers organize, the government does not want to give the impression that it intends to stop doing its share toward making the orchard industry a success. Far from that—but it does feel and realize that with orchard interests united, it can more quickly, economically, and effectively, carry on its efforts in your behalf. At present, each District Fruit Post Inspector has a very large orchard area to cover, and with more orchards annually coming into bearing ago the difficulties of properly helping growers to control the pests and diseases is constantly increasing. To meet this under the present system of inspection, a great many more inspectors would soon be required to patrol adequately the orchards, report the presence of pests, and suggest control measures in time to be of value. Often an inspector may pass through several orchards before he finds a grower who is in real need of assistance—in other words, the inspector has to hunt out the grower who needs him most. Of how much more assistance could the inspector be if he could go directly to those who need him most—how many more could he serve in a day—how much more certain could the inspector be of keeping in touch with the real orchard problems of his territory. The Department feels that with the fruit growers organized, those needing assistance will promptly report to the chairman of his neighborhood, who, if the case requires immediate attention, will phone the District Inspector, and in other cases will drop

Relishes

LIFE would be flat and colorless for both young and old without some pleasure to give it piquancy. So with food. A relish creates pleasure and appetite for your meals. It is oft-times as much of a tonic as the best prescription handed out by a physician. It is your duty as a careful housewife to get the best in relishes. Bad relishes spoil good food.

WE aim to keep the best in these as in everything else—delicious Jams and Jellies that are made with pure sugar, and keep the natural flavor of the berries. Pickles preserved in the finest malt vinegar. Sauces of the best brand—all the hundred and one delicacies that help to make your daily meals more pleasing.

If you want any Relish we have it. Come in and look over Stock.

him a line, asking him to call when passing that way. The District Inspectors by keeping in touch with the chairman, can outline their inspection routes each day and so save needless tramping through orchards, and loss of time.

ADVANTAGE TO OUTLYING DISTRICTS.

It is not possible to furnish every orchard community with a District Inspector, and many sections with a large number of orchards have not received such attention as have the more heavily settled districts. At such points, Fruit Protective Associations should prove of great assistance, and regular visits of the nearest inspector could be obtained by making the request through the chairman. Consequently these organizations will make it possible for the government men to cover a larger area, and increase the efficiency of its inspection service without added cost.

If you are a fruit grower take the first opportunity that comes to you to discuss this question with the District Inspector. It is the intention of these articles to point out to fruit growers what the Fruit Protective Association is, and what service it can render to you, if you do your share in co-operation.

Next week an outline of a working organization will be suggested and discussed, for which we request your close attention.

Annual Meeting of Farmers' Institute

Officers For 1916 Selected.

The annual meeting for election of officers for the coming year for the local branch of the Farmers' Institute of British Columbia, was held on Friday evening last as per announcement. The attendance was fully up to standard, and was much above the average. The reports of the officers went to show that the Institute is in a sound position financially and that with a little more of the "get-together" spirit to actuate the membership throughout the year, still better results would be sure to follow.

In the course of the election of officers it was decided to proceed to appoint first, a board of directors, as is the regular plan as outlined in departmental instructions, and to allow the directorate select their own officials.

In response to the call of nominations some six names were placed before the meeting which resulted in Messrs Geo. Cook, J. H. Pushman and T. H. Boothe being selected. In a meeting of these three directors, held subsequently, it is learned that the officials for 1916 are now:

President George Cook.
Vice-President, T. H. Boothe.
Secy.-Treas., J. H. Pushman.

The practice of holding monthly meetings is to be continued, and to follow as far as possible an outlined program now in course of preparation. This plan, if adhered to, should result in a greater amount of useful work being done in the course of the year, and one which should tend to distribute the work more evenly on the shoulders of the membership as a whole.

When the question came up as to the advisability of giving instructions to their representative to the convention at Victoria, shortly to be held, Mr Armour brought up the question of having the government urged to offer a small bounty for the destruction of such birds as magpies and hawks, in order the better to safeguard the lives of so many harmless birds which do so much for the welfare of the fruit industry.

NARAMATA SCOUT DOINGS.

Troop Put Through Their Ambulance Tests

The Scout Hall on the evening of Thursday week was the scene of interesting proceedings. The occasion was the test for Second Class Ambulance. Of the sixteen Scouts now enrolled, fifteen were in attendance, all of whom were successful in passing the numerous practical tests in order to qualify for Ambulance Badges. A number of parents and friends of the boys were in attendance, some of whom assisted in judging the merits of the answers of the boys to the lengthy list of test questions.

Much credit is due the present Scoutmaster, Mr J. C. Williams, for his untiring efforts in behalf of the boys, who appear to appreciate the work being done. It certainly would have delighted former leader, Mr Pitman and also Dr Will Robinson, who when he was here taught the methods of First Aid, to have noted the ready and manly replies of the lads.

It is likely that in the near future the boys may put on a concert in the public hall, when the instruction in dumb-bell and Indian club exercises now being conducted under Mr Nuttall will be exhibited for the benefit of the parents.

The following was the program followed in the course of the tests: Fireman's test; Drag a man with a rope; Make a stretcher; Show the position of the main arteries; Show how to stop bleeding from a vein and from an artery; Show difference in treatment between external bleeding and internal bleeding; Improve a set of splints; Show how to treat burning; poison, choking, grit in the eye. Those assisting in the judging were Mesdames Reesor, Wolstencroft, Williams, and Hughes, and also Messrs T. H. Rayner, T. I. Williams, H. O. Hughes and Capt. F. J. Languedoc.

The boys now entitled to wear the Ambulance Badges are S. Allen, H. Allen, Ed. Boothe, R. Boothe, J. Bruce, Earl Hughes, Ira Hughes, W. Mitchell, H. Reesor,

Mr and Mrs J. M. Robinson spent a few days in Summerland this week.

Mr Fred Young, after a few weeks' stay in town, left on Monday for Victoria, prior to returning East.

Pruning operations were discontinued by all but the more desperate of our weather "dares" during the recent relapse into the cold north winds.

T. H. Boothe spent Saturday in Penticton, and on his return trip was accompanied by Master Frank Hughes, who was here on a visit with his folks over the week-end.

The call for a volunteer library has so far met with very gratifying results, and before long we hope to be in a position to acknowledge the full list of donations, through the agency of this column.

Mayor Jones of Kelowna, Liberal-Conservative candidate for provincial honors in the forthcoming election has planned to visit Naramata and Summerland early next week. It is understood that Tuesday is the day set aside for a visit to Naramata.

Both the "Sicamous" and the C.P.R. tug "Naramata" were anchored here over Saturday night last and till the warning of the sudden storm came on Sunday afternoon, when both vessels sought shelter on the south side of Trout Creek point.

The two ferry boats, "Skookum" and "Trepanier," moored to the old mill wharf north of town, during the sudden and terrific storm of Sunday afternoon, came in for some pretty rough handling. Fortunately no serious damage was done to either vessel, and the public may soon expect to see the regular service again resumed.

Mr D. Budge of Penticton was in town on Wednesday evening as guest of Mr J. O. Robinson.

Miss Bessie Mitchell was the guest of honor at a charming afternoon tea given on Tuesday by Mrs P. S. Roe.

Mr Harold Steers paid a visit this week to his brother Ernest, now at work on the K.V.R. west of Princeton.

Free tickets refunded all Naramata friends buying goods at Beer's Big Shoe Sale, to value of $5 or more. See page 6.

Mr J. E. Kirt of Peachland was a guest at Syndica House over Sunday, and while here took advantage of the chance thus afforded him of looking up a few of his friends.

The C.P.R. steamer "Sicamous" — or was it her weather-wise captain — while anchored here for the week-end, evidently foresaw the hurricane that swept down the lake on Sunday afternoon, and wily put out to sea an hour or so beforehand, and sought safer anchorage on the south side of Trout Creek point.

A mighty conflict of the elements between the two old time rivals, the south and the north winds, on Sunday resulted in the latter winning a decisive victory. The change in temperature was sudden as it was unexpected. Alas for the hopes of an early spring! We are yet in the grip of King Winter, with his numerous reinforcements of north winds.

Roy Boothe, of the 11th C.M.R., stationed at Willows Camp, Victoria, writes entertainingly of a recent experience. Through the courtesy of certain officials he was taken aboard a submarine at Esquimalt, and for two hours was out to sea — most of the time spent down among the fishes. His letter states that the men of his bunch after being, many of them, for over a year in training in khaki, are impatient to get where they are nearer the front — a privilege doubtless soon to be accorded them.

The Junior Epworth League meeting held at the home of Mrs P. I. Williams on Friday evening last proved more than ordinarily interesting, and withal instructive. In fact the innovation of holding the meetings at least occasionally at the homes of the parents more directly interested in the progress of this young society may become a feature at least of the winter programs. In addition to the regular routine service there were four papers read by four of the youthful members. Papers, the preparation and reading of which must have involved no little effort on the part of these young boys: Cecil Rayner, Arnold Stiff, Harold Allen, and Earl Hughes. The meeting was in charge of Master Hodley Reesor.

Young Man, Do you know

that some of the best paid men right here in B.C. educated themselves for advancement at home, right in the village or on the farm, and that they had no better chances than you have, some, indeed, being extremely poor, and only having a knowledge of reading and writing? These men have, through the study of International Correspondence Schools' courses, and a determination to succeed, risen to where they are. Why not you?

Others with good general education have found that without special training along one line, they could not hope for much in exchange for their services, and have taken up the International Correspondence Schools studies and made good.

The International Correspondence Schools have contracts now with over two hundred railroads alone for instructing their employees, including the C.P.R., the C.N.R., the B.C. Electric Rly., and the Dominion Government railways in Canada, and the text-books of the School which have become famous for their clearness, practicability, and thoroughness, are now used in nearly 800 large colleges and schools, including in Canada, McGill, Toronto University, Department of Technical Education, Halifax, Shawinigan Technical Institute and others. A large number of colleges in the United States, including the United States Government Aeronautical School, Army War College, etc., also use International Correspondence Schools text-books.

Rev A. E. Henderson of Peachland, was a visitor to Summerland this week.

Myrtle Rebekah Lodge, No 32, will meet in Oddfellows' Hall on Wednesday, February 2nd, at 8 p.m.

The receipt of $11.65 from the Five Hundred Club is gratefully acknowledged by the treasurer of the Ambulance League.

Rev. N. McNaughton returned on Friday evening last week from Winnipeg, where he had been called by the sudden death of his father.

Presbyterian services will be held at St Andrew's Church next Sunday morning, and in the Methodist Church at 3 p.m. Rev. C. H. Daly will conduct both services.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs Mary Campbell on Friday afternoon, February 4th, at three o'clock.

On the Flat, on Sunday morning Spring had come, perhaps you'd think.

But next day the place was looking like a bloomin' skating rink.

Mrs R. C. Lipsett expects to leave for Victoria the first of the week, where she goes to attend a meeting of the members of the Advisory Board of the Women's Institutes of B.C.

Mr S. B. Snider has returned to Summerland from the Coast, where he has been since about the first of the year. He also sent along some of his furniture and household belongings to go into the new house recently erected on his Giant's Head lot.

Pte. Percy Holder, now in England, was able to get leave from camp to spend Christmas with relatives. He with some of the other boys, has been suffering from a cold, but by early consulting a doctor, soon threw off the attack, and according to a letter received by his sister, Mrs M. Tait, is fully well again. Mrs Tait says he did not find it necessary to go into hospital as was reported.

In response to numerous requests for another stanza to be added to "Okanagan Weather," and inasmuch as the weather man has made some additions himself, the following is submitted:

These frigid days, that freeze our spuds,
And ruin all our peach tree buds,
And nip us through our warmest duds,
And make us blather,
That form ice in our water main
And paralyze our septic drain,
Take these and give us back again
Our Okanagan weather.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St Andrew's Church held its annual meeting recently at the home of Mrs Daly. The financial report was a most encouraging one, the sum of $400 having been raised through the organization during 1915. The new officers are:

Hon. President - Mrs Fraser;
President - Miss Aitchison;
Vice-Presidents - Mrs J. J. Mitchell,
Mrs H. Sutherland,
and Mrs J. C. Brown;
Secretary - Mrs J. Tait;
Treasurer - Mrs A. H. Steven.

The first meeting of the year of this vigorous organization will be held at the home of Mrs A. Moyes next Thursday at 3 p.m.

Mr J. M. Robinson will probably go down to the Coast on Monday to attend to some matters of business.

The Home Comfort Club will meet at the home of Mrs J. Rowley on Thursday, February 3rd, at 7 p.m.

Mr J. B. Robinson, who has now quite recovered, from the sudden illness with which he was stricken just before Christmas, returned to his home in Peachland on Monday morning.

Still later reports received here from some of his companions confirm the first reports that Pte. Geo. McLeod died of pneumonia and not of diphtheria, as quoted in these columns last week.

Another of our citizens, Mr S. Bartholomew, has enlisted. He went up to Kamloops yesterday where he joins the 102nd with the object of transferring later to some position in the forces for which his experience specially qualifies him.

Mr D. E. Hatt has been asked to give recitals at several towns in the northern end of the Valley, giving readings from his publication "Random Rhymes," and leaves early next week. He expects to be away about a week.

The two weeks' lecture course to be held under the auspices of the Farmers' Institute, through the Department of Agriculture, Victoria, will commence on Wednesday morning next, 2nd February, in the Campbell Hall, West Summerland. Everyone should avail themselves of this opportunity. Fee for Course $1.00.

Methodist Church services will be conducted on Sunday next at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p.m. by Rev R. W. Lee. At the morning service the subject of address will be the "Re-Incarnation." The evening service will be held in St Andrew's Church, when Rev R. W. Lee will speak on "Is the World Upside Down?" A hearty invitation is given to all.

Provincial Live Stock Commissioner, W. T. McDonald, announces that the Department of Agriculture will add a pig-raising competition to its field crop competitions carried on every year, mainly through the various Farmers' Institutes. The entries for these different competitions have increased from 365 in 1913 to 812 in 1915, and this year the department is proposing to extend still further the scope of these competitions.

Rev and Mrs W. H. Ellis, of Shaunavon, Sask., who attended the meetings of the Baptist Union at the Coast, broke their return journey to make a trip down the Okanagan. Mrs Ellis is an old friend of Mrs Thos. Garnett's family, and Mr Ellis has many old friends here as well. They were entertained by Mr and Mrs Thos. Garnett and took occasion to call on a number of their old friends. They went out on Tuesday morning.

The first meeting of the 1916 Board of Managers of St Andrew's Church was held at the home of Mr and Mrs J. G. Robertson last Monday evening. The attendance was excellent. The following officers were elected:

Chairman, J. G. Robertson;
Secretary, A. H. Steven;
Treasurer, Lee McLaughlin.
Messrs D. Gray, R. Johnston and C. W. Lees are the latest additions to the Board which is beginning the new year with a considerable measure of enthusiasm.

There is no fruit which has so many legends associated with it as the apple. Owing to the apple being such a common, everyday fruit, few people ever stop to consider its real food and medicinal value. Eaten raw there is no better stimulant for a sluggish liver, as an apple or two eaten before retiring for the night will often be more effectual than the use of drugs.

Rev. Charles Baker, pastor of the Yorkton, Sask., Baptist Church, was with the pastor in the pulpit of the Lakeside Baptist Church, and drew a very interesting and instructive lesson from the incident of Christ and blind Bartimeus. Mr Baker was one of the prairie representatives at the recent Baptist Union sessions held in Vancouver, and stopped off here on his way home by special invitation of Mr and Mrs W. C. Kelley, old friends of prairie days. Mr Baker takes a keen interest in educational matters in Yorkton, and gives some hours each week instructing High School boys in manual work of which he has long made a hobby.

THE SMALL TOWN KICKER.

There are fancier towns than our little town, there are towns that are bigger than this; and the people who live in the tinier towns all the city excitement will miss. There are things you can see in the wealthier towns that you can't in the town that is small; and yet up and down there is no other town like our own little town after all. It may be that the street through the heart of our town isn't wide, isn't long, isn't straight; but the neighbors, you know, in our little town with a welcome will wait. In the glittering streets of the glittering town with its palace and pavement and thrall, in the midst of the throng you will frequently long for our own little town after all. If you live and work in our town, in spite of the fact that it's small, you'll find that the town—our own little town—is the best of a town after all.—Ex.

Four strong allies of the Kaiser which are rampant just now, according to a prohibition exchange, are Scotch whisky, Irish whisky, English ale, and a Canadian concoction known familiarly as "kill-at-forty-rods."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Ice Arrests Mail Boat.

Report Channel To Be Opened.

Only once in a generation, but that is quite often enough. Not for twenty-three years has this favored part of the globe experienced such a long "spell" of cold freezing weather, and if it continues much longer Okanagan Lake will be covered with a solid sheet of ice from end to end, as it was in 1893, and once before within the memory of the pale-face, in 1869—twenty-four years before.

For more than a week the big C.P.R. steamer "Sicamous" and the steel tug have been fighting to keep open a channel through the bridge of ice several miles in extent at Kelowna. Except for that obstruction there has been little ice to interfere with navigation between the Landing at the upper end of the lake and Summerland and Naramata at the south—Penticton having been shut off by ice for some days—until Monday night, when the drifting ice blown from the north, constantly lengthening the sheet covering the south end of the lake, had so far enlarged the latter as to include the wharf at Naramata. That night the boat broke the ice, but did not attempt to return. Tuesday night the Summerland wharf was reached and the get-away made on Wednesday morning with considerable difficulty. But Captain Robinson was not going to be easily defeated, and that night again headed his ship for Summerland, but when within a short distance of his destination had to give up. For a time it looked as though the boat would be frozen in, but Thursday noon she got free and headed north again.

Finding the boat could come no further Postmaster Hayes, accompanied by J. Lawler with his car, went up to Crescent Beach on Thursday forenoon, and with a hand sleigh walked off to the boat, and brought to the Summerland and West Summerland mails.

It is reported on good authority that preparations are being made to open a channel in the ice between Summerland wharf and open water, two or three miles away. A report from the Landing to the effect that the "Okanagan" and two barges are being prepared for ice breaking supports this. Another story from this same source says the "Sicamous" will not come further than Kelowna to-night, continuing south in the morning.

DEMAND FOR POTATOES CONTINUES.

The demand for British Columbia potatoes in Eastern and other centres continues brisk. It is estimated that various shipments, totalling one hundred cars will be dispatched to points in Eastern Canada this week from potato growing districts in this province. The inspectors are rigidly examining the shipments so as not to impair future shipments through careless grading and inspection. "The outlook for the potato grower was never so good in all my experience," states Inspector Thomas Cunningham. "We are appealing to all to protect the industry by their co-operation with the department in the efforts to keep up the grade."

Legislation which, if it proves workable, is likely to draw down blessings upon the heads of the framers, from the smaller town merchants, is being introduced in Manitoba, providing for the taxation of all mail order business carried on within the province. The measure defines mail order business as including all commercial and mercantile concerns, wholesale or retail, that distribute to the consumer at large a catalogue, price list, book, or pamphlet setting forth different articles for sale.

How few individuals really understand the dietetic value of apples. They are regarded by many as merely a tasty addition to a meal. Few people give a thought to their health-giving qualities.

SCHOOL ESTIMATES SLIGHTLY INCREASED.

qualified for this work, the lectures to include subjects related to our principal industry, were proposed by Mrs. Ross, and more of this will likely be heard later. Mrs. Ross also submitted a request from the secretary of the Farmers' Institute that opportunity be given older pupils to learn fruit packing, shortage of fruit packers being one of the reasons advanced for making the request.

GOVERNMENT MARKET FOR VANCOUVER.

The Provincial Government is shortly to be urged to establish and maintain a government-owned market at Vancouver. This suggestion originating in the fruit and vegetable section of the lower mainland, will likely come before the forthcoming Farmers' Institute Convention to be held at Victoria, in the form of a resolution to be voted upon. It is argued that while the consumers of the Coast cities had already largely increased their consumption of British Columbia produce during 1915, and there had been a marked decrease in the fruit and vegetables imported from the other side of the line, the growers of this province must still make further efforts to capture the trade by much greater care and thoroughness in their methods of marketing the produce. Another recommendation that will probably come before the convention as a suggested matter for resolution is that the pint measure be adopted as the standard for marketing berries and currants.
