WANT PETITION ON DAYLIGHT SAVING.

The daylight saving scheme came up for discussion before the Council, but there was no petition or communication before them to act upon, and so no definite action was forthcoming, beyond bestowing commendation upon the plan. If a petition is prepared in the customary form asking that the Council put daylight saving into effect, the understanding is that they are quite willing to do this. It is like ly, therefore, that this course wil be pursued.

The Board of Trade wrote asking he Council to put some work on Shaughnessy Avenue in the way of grading and other necessary repair work. This was referred to the Board of Works.

The regular monthly meeting of the Council will be held next week. on the 10th.

Edwin Smith On Pre-Cooling In Okanagan

The Okanagan Valley offers some very difficult pre-cooling problems. Owing to the market demand for carloads of mixed fruits it is nec essary to assemble cars at Vernon The temperature to which this fruit is exposed during assemblage so far advances its ripening that precooling at Vernon would only partially act as a corrective; it is quite probable that the use of refrigerator cars in bringing local lots up the lake would be far more effective than a pre-cooling plant at Vernon. The fact that 50 per cent. of the refrigerator cars used are brine tanks precludes the possibility of placing a car pre-cooling plant at the outlet of the Valley for the use of all shippers. The completion of the Kettle Valley Railway is changing the rout-operated at Westbank, There are ing considerably of the fruit movements. ### Many Changes In Fruit Inspectorate.

A number of changes have been made in the staff of the Horticultural and Fruit Pests Inspection Branches, due to the reorganization of these departments as lately announced by Mr Wm. E. Scott, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

The Assistant Horticulturists have been appointed Pest Inspectors, combining the two activities, which naturally dovetail one with the other. In each of the Assistant's districts, Inspectors acting under their direction are appointed, and these Inspectors will perform inspection work and such horticultural duties as the Horticulturists in charge may direct.

A number of factors, including a large reduction in the funds avail able for inspection work, a reduction in the horticultural staff, a number of changes in personnel due to enlistment principally, the lateness of the date of reorganization, and the increasing number and importance of the duties, of the Horticultural and Inspection services, combine to increase the effort needed to attain the stand. ard of efficiency desired. A mighty factor in successful work is the supare served.

Union Managers Profit From Visit To Washington

Mgr. Jackson and Party Return From Ten Days' Tour of Instruction.

Concluding a tour by motor of over 1,200 miles, Mr F. T. Jackson, manager of the Okanagan United Growers and the managers of a number of the affiliated Unions, returned from a profitable ten days' visit to the fruit growing districts to the south.

Beside Mr Jackson there were in the party, E. C. Skinner, manager Vernon Fruit Union; W. D. Brent, Kelowna Growers' Exchange; H. Slater, Peachland Fruit Growers' Union; J. Lawler, Summerland Fruit Union; and J. F. Park, Penticton Fruit Union.

Leaving here on Sunday afternoon, May 21st, they visited Okanogan. Brewster. Wenatchee. Ellensburg. The annual meeting of the Okanagan Deanery of the Women's Auxiliary, held here last Wednesday proved most interesting to all those who attended.

GET THE HABIT.

NOW WE HAVE HAD a Clean-up Day, do not heave a sigh of relief and think it is all over for another year. Make every day a clean-up day, and there will be no need for annual spring campaigns of this nature. Put the same tidiness and cleanliness into the management of your premises that you do into your personal habits, and note the satisfaction the habit brings. Get into the way of having your ranch or premises cleared up and cleaned up every night, and it will follow that you will want to see things neat and tidy all the time. Get a box for the tin cans and such other refuse, and when it becomes full you will be sufficiently interested to see proper disposition made of Cleanliness, like many another virtue, begins at home, and with one's own place set in order there will come the feeling of civic pride that will condemn the untidiness of public streets and places.

Now we are cleaned up, let's keep cleaned up.

THE BEST NEWS.

A BRIEF ITEM on the front page of this issue touches upon something that a good deal could well be said about. We refer to the mention of the coming of the Canadian Northern Railway into the Okanagan. This has been mooted for several years, and although station given out the assurance that this is not the case. He has gone so far scheme makes for thrift in many ways. It is already being tried in moving north. The three thousand car crop of the Okanagan does its part in making up the C.P.R. dividends, and it is a share of this business that the Canadian Northern is after.

The Valley will then enjoy the advantages of a competitive service. Not only will the tendency be toward an even better service to the Priarie cities served by both systems and also to the Coast; but there will be provided a one road route to Canadian Northern points, which up to now prohibitive express and freight rates have practically put out of reach. Thus a wider market will be at the disposal of the Valley.

Not merely the northern end of the Valley will benefit from the construction of the new line. A boat service will give the southern lake points their connection with the rails at Kelowna, and assure for the Canadian Northern its share of business in handling the soft fruit output.

§ § § § § ELECTIONS IN AUGUST

THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE died a natural death on Wednesday evening this week, its time of session expiring. Speculation is still rife as to when the general elections will take place, pending an announcement. The prevailing rumor is that the government intends to take the verdict of the people about the first week in August. Nominations under the new legislation passed this ses sion would have to be held in about three weeks in order to make this possible. So as to be able to take the soldiers' votes it was decided to hold nomination day six weeks before election day. The government is believed to favor an early appeal to the electorate on account of the mass of popular legislation passed this session, and in order to follow up closely the revelations of election frauds alleged to have been used in behalf of the Liberals at recent by-elections. Premier Bowser intends to make an extensive tour of the province in late June and early July arriving back in Vancouver in time to allow of a strenuous wind-up in his own city.

Some of the bills finally passed towards the last of the session are: Prohibition bill, soldiers' votes bill, provincial elections act amend ment, liquor licence act amendment, women's suffrage bill, store clerks' half holiday bill, moratorium act amendment.

The days are now almost as long as they can be with June 21st less than three weeks away, and to adopt daylight saving now will mean that only half the benefit will be secured, though it may be the larger half.

Printers' Ink and The Fruit Business .- II

Under this heading attention was drawn last week to some of the many ways in which printed matter can help the shipping grower get new business and thoroughly establish himself with his clientele. Most of these growers who dispose of their fruit or at least a portion of their crop through their own efforts, are extending the good name of Okanagan fruit by placing it direct with retailers or consumers in the small towns who might otherwise have to supply themselves with poorer American stuff. Many of these people are out of the scope of the larger shipping bodies operations, and so help to cover the prairies more thoroughly with the product of this province.

This week one feature of the work of the Review Presses has been the volume of special fruit growers' printing handled. More than ten thousand impressions of this class of work have been completed within the last few days in orders of varying sizes, for special mail order fruit shipping orchardists. These have comprised price lists, circular letters, and other stationery employed in the business.

It is significant that the growers who try the printed price list way always come back the next year for more, and many of them with larger orders than before. There is a reason for this, and if any grower is in doubt as to the efficacy of this method, one season's trial would convince him.

There is still time to prepare and send out lists to your prairie customers. The Review makes a point of executing this class expeditiously, but to delay much longer will greatly diminish the usefulness of such printed matter.

There were a few pessimistically inclined people who predicted that the prairie farmers and city folk would use less fruit this year, on account of the high price of sugar and the high feeling in those provinces against the new apple tariff. Nevertheless it is certain that the advance orders received by some growers here are larger than last year.

You can afford some printed matter to help sell your fruit and produce, because the extra business it brings you pays the cost of the printing and more besides.

A call at the Review Office or a 'phone talk will convince you that the printed way is the best and cheapest way in the end.

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.

Regular And Irregular Milkings.

At a well-known English dairy college experiments have been concluded looking for information on the following interesting points: I.—The effect of milking at equal and unequal periods on the quantity and quality of the milk.

II.—The effect on the quantity and quality of milk of a small amount of phosphates fed directly to cows.

III.—The results of milking cows three times a day as compared with milking them twice.

The results of the experiments under the different headings may be summarized as follows:

I.—It cannot be said that the total quantity of milk is influenced by the equal or unequal periods of milking, but the percentage of fat is very materially influenced thereby. Further, the relationship between times of milking and percentage of fat is a constant one. The results of the experiments, which extended over a considerable period, thus definitely confirm previous experience.

II.—The improvement in poor pastures due to the application of phosphatic manures and consequent increased production of milk and beef on such pastures being well known, it was decided to test whether phosphatic material in the form of precipitated bone phosphate, fed directly at the rate of 1 ounce per cow per day, would have any influence on the temperament and nervous system of the cows, and so influence quantity and quality of milk. In so far as these two latter factors were concerned, no appreciable result was obtained, nor was there any evidence of stimulation or otherwise of the nervous system.

III -No increase whatever in the milk yield was obtained by milk ing three times a day in preference to twice. On the contrary, the extra driving and interference with the cows have produced results of a negative character. The quality of the morning milk is also affected adversely by an additional milking, a point of interest to milk producers in the close vicinity of towns.

Breeding For Increased Egg Production.

For the last three years exhausive experiments have been carried on in poultry husbandry at the New Jersey Experiment Station, with a view to determining the extent of heridity of fecundity in fowls. As the result of this experiment the following method is recommended for the production of a strain of fowls of increased winter egg laying

1. The maintenance of a small group especially for reproduction and independent of those kept for commercial purposes.

2. During the winter and spring months this flock should be trapnested to determine the heavy winter layers during their pullet year.

3. These good layers will be mated in the second year with cocks already known to have obtained good winter layers.

4. This mating will produce the cocks required by the large groups kept for commercial purposes. The surplus pullets not required for this special flock will also be placed in the commercial

5. The vigor of the group must be maintained in the best possible condition, since a diminution of vigor will prevent the bird from developing completely its full powers.

This method considerably increases the winter production of eggs. The only additional work required is the recording of the winter egg production of one or two special matings, which are kept each year to continue the high fecundity line.

Chilliwack Jersey.

Four Year Old Bred In British Columbia Holds Dominion Record.

Viola of Avelreagh, a four year old Jersey cow, owned by E. H. Barton, Chilliwack, has made the highest official yearly record for production of milk that has been made by any four-year-old Jersey'cow in the Dominion of Canada, according to a report which has reached the owner from Ottawa.

Viola was bred at Chilliwack, and is by the same sire as "Dora of Avelreagh," who won the silver cup given by the British Columbia Dairymen's Association for the highest yearly production of butterfat in British Columbia last year, and also of Blossom of Avelreagh, who won the Silver Medal for the second highest production of butter fat the year before.

Shortage Of Horses.

That Canada is experiencing a shortage of horses on account of the heavy drain of supplying thousands for military purposes, was the statement of John Bright, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, at the meeting of the National Live Stock Record Board held at Toronto recently,

"There are not Ionough horses in Canada to work the land," he declared, "Something mustb a done to conserve our supply." On account of farmers' credit with the banks being curtailed, there has been a falling off in the breeding of horses since 1914.

An eminent New Zenland horticulturist has proved by actual practice that by grafting a plum branch on to the trunk of a peach tree, the vigor and disease resisting powers of the latter were greatly increased.

A Burbank plum was grafted on the trunk of a peach tree which was seriously diseased, and only produced small, hard, unripe fruits. After the graft had taken, a surprising transformation in the peach was observed. The disease disappeared, the peacees reached double their former size, and became fully ripe two months later. Some of them weighed 11 ounces. The crop in 1914 was 149 pounds, and the average weight of seven fruits was 3 pounds. It will be useful to know if this VISITING effect can be attributed to the graft, and if it would be advantageous to graft peaches with a blight-resistant plum.

GOLD NEAR HOPE.

A decided stir occurred lately among mining interests of Hope and of the Coquinalla Basin when any butter in plain wrappers. The the amount of the returns of a trial shipment of quartz from a group of claims near-by was made known. A shipment of three tons of gold bearing quartz was made to the Selby smelter at San Francisco. The shipment was picked from the best product of a claim which has been under development for the last two years. The returns of the ore shipment netted $1,594.40 per ton after deducting expenses for treatment. # May Commence Okanagan Line Soon Confidence was expressed by Mr M. H. MacLeod, general manager of the Canadian Northern Railway, at a conference with the Kelowna Board of Trade last week, that the company would be in a position to start construction on the proposed branch from Kamloops to the Okanagan within the next six weeks or two months.

Mr T. H. White, chief engineer for the C.N.R., made the trip by auto over the proposed route from Kamloops to Kelowna with the general manager. The company has about 50 per cent. of its rightof-way secured, and has purchased land for stations and yards at Armstrong, Vernon and Kelowna.

The location surveys provide for a railway from Kamloops to Kelowna, via Armstrong and Vernon, with a branch extension from Vernon to Lumby in the direction of Okanagan Landing, the end of the C.P.R. branch from Sicamous. Mr MacLeod has returned to Winnipeg.

New Times on S. and O.

The new C.P.R. time table, which comes into effect on June 4, or, as far as our boat is concerned, on June 5, leaves the run of the "Sicamous" the same as at present, but makes some alterations in the train north from Okanagan Landing. By the new schedule, the train will leave Okanagan Landing at 2.40 p.m., instead of 3.30 p.m., so that the stay at the Landing or at Vernon will be curtailed 50 minutes. The train arrives at Sicamous 65 minutes earlier, viz, 5.25 p.m., and the train for the Coast leaves at 5.38, giving only a 13-minute wait. Unfortunately, the train for the East does not leave until 10.17

Pays Out More Than Receives In Valley.

It may be surprising information to many that almost every town in the Okanagan that contributes to the provincial branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund has received more in disbursements from the fund than have been paid in from these same towns. This at least was the state of affairs at March 31st, 1916. It may partly be accounted for in this way: that it is only since the beginning of the year that the Valley towns have been contributing regularly month by month, while some of those who receive aid from the fund may have been drawing their monthly allowance for some considerable time.

The following figures, culled from a report given out by the British Columbia branch of the fund, gives the receipts from and disbursements to Valley points up to the end of March of this year.

Sensing Needs Of the District.

Mr. J. W. Jones Impressed With Possibilities Of Out-Lying Sections.

By his energetic and thorough canvass of the constituency and his perception of what the government might do in the matter of improving conditions in the district without undue expense, Mr J. W. Jones. Conservative candidate, is creating a very good impression in this part of the South Okanagan.

Mr Jones spent Thursday and Friday of last week in this vicinity. During this time he visited the districts to the west of Summerland. Mineola, Upper Trout Creek, and the districts adjoining. He is much impressed with the extent of possible farm land in this section. To his mind, dairying or mixed farming suggests itself as profitable possibilities for this stretch of country. Mr Jones is convinced that there is more than sufficient land available for the support of a creamery if dairying were taken up on a fairly extensive scale. Such an institution could be very advantageously placed near the Faulder Siding, or if better thought of, within the municipal limits, on the benches.

Mr Jones lso received delegations of residents from Mineola and Upper Trout Creek relative to improvements in the roads of these districts that are desired. ranchers feel that if their roads were improved, it would make driving in far more comfortable and much less strenuous. The road leading from Garnett Valley up to he Lakefield Ranch flat is one that was instanced by the delegation as being in urgent need of attention. Mr Jones fully recognizes the need of improvement in this respect.

During his sojourn here, Mr Jones also visited the Experimental Station at Trout Creek. Naturally he was much pleased with the fine showing being made on the Farm by Supt. R. H. Helmer. Discussing his impressions on the matter with the Review. Mr Jones concurred in the suggestion that the Farm should be made more accessible from the higher benches on the north side of Trout Creek, and he did not regard the project of throwing a bridge across the Canyon with a grade down from each side as unfeasible by any means.

Whole Empire Joins In Mourning For Late Secretary Of War.

Mourn for the man of amplest influence, Yet clearest of ambitious crime; Our greatest yet with least pretence, Great in council and great in war, Foremost captain of his time, Rich in saving common sense, And, as the greatest only are, In his simplicity sublime. -Tennyson.

When the news came through on Tuesday morning that Earl Kitchener, British Secretary for War, had been lost with his staff when the cruiser. "Hampshire" sank off the Orkney Islands, there were on all sides expressions of amazement and incredulity. Unhappily the news proved only too true. No information has been given out as yet as to how the cruiser came to its end, but the belief is that by an unhappy chance the ship struck a floating mine. This theory is held to in preference to the opinion that a submarine was responsible owing to the fact that the speed of the vessel and the heavy sea at the time would have made accurate torpedo firing an extremely difficult matter.

Although the disaster occurred within sight of land, not a single survivor remains. Indeed, had the "Hampshire" not been so close to the shore it is doubtful if the disaster, would ever have come to light, and the loss of the war minister and his staff would have been only a matter of inference.

Earl Kitchener was on his way to Archangel, Russia, on a diplomatic errand. He was to have discussed important military and financial matters as well with Czar Nicholas.

Crop Prospects Appear Good.

Mr. J. T. Jackson Predicts Increate Of 25 per cent. Over 1915 Crop.

From personal observations and careful inquiries in the different fruit sections of the Okanagan, Mr Jackson, Manager of the Okanagan United Growers states that the 1916 fruit crop will be a record Though stone fruits have been affected to some extent by the severe wniter, any shortage in these will be more than made up by the increase in the apple crop. Though yet a little early to make definite statements, Mr Jackson is of the opinion t at there will be an increase of at least 25 per cent.

CROP PROSPECTS GOOD.

Mr Jackson found conditions as Washington to the Okanagan. Soft fruits were hit to some extent by July. the cold winter, but the apple crop will be fully up to the average The Washington shippers take an optimistic view of the present situation. Times are particularly good in the Eastern States and the Middle West this year, and it is expected that an unusually large proportion of the Washington crop will be absorbed by thes markets at good prices. He found no sore feeling whatever among the Washington growers regarding our increased duty on apples; one shipper stating to him that he was surprised that such a change in the tariff had not been made years ago. Regarding the prairie markets Mr Jackson reports the outlook excellent. Even if the wheat crops there will not be as large as last season, he said, it must be remembered that many millions of dollars' worth of wheat were still in the hands of the farmers in April, and as their old debts were more than liquidated by the crops last year, money should be plentiful among the prairie farmers this season. He sees no reason to doubt that the operations of the Unions and the United Growers this season will be eminently satisfactory to all concerned.

Military Notes Of Local Interest

Since the severe fighting in which the Canadian Expeditionary Forces have been engaged at St Eloi, there has been a general reorganization of the Canadian troops held in reserve at Bramshott, Shorncliffe, Borden Camp, and elsewhere, according to latest mail advices. The Fourth Canadian Division, the 11th, is now being made up of these troops. One brigade of this division, the 11th, has been made up of four British Columbia battalions. These are the 54th, largely from the Okanagan and Kootenay: the 47th, of New Westminster; the 67th Western Scots, Victoria; and the 76th Highlanders, Vancouver. The 67th Battalion is no longer an ordinary infantry force, having been converted into a pioneer corps. Officers and to the crop outlook very similar in men of these units expect that they will leave for France some time in

> Two more British Columbia units have received orders that they are to stand by for orders to proceed overseas. These are the 11th Overseas Battalion, both now on Vancouver Island. This intimation is interpreted to mean that in about three weeks these units will be moved from British Columbia to the Canadian base in England.

> Splendid recruiting work has lately been accomplished on behalf of the 11th Overseas Battalion. Men are being sworn in every day, and the strength of the regiment now totals the 900 mark.

The movement of troops to the Vernon concentration camp commenced this week. It will be some time yet, however, before all the battalions that are expected there will be established in their quar-

Penticton Fruit Union Builds Three Packing Houses.

The Penticton Fruit Growers' Union are launching out to a considerable extent in order to be in a position to handle this season's crop. They will build a new modern packing house in Penticton, a smaller branch packing house in the northern section of the municipality at Poplar Grove, and also operate a branch packing house at Kaleden. A contract has been entered into for conveying the fruit from Kaleden to the station at Penticton.

There will be four more or less large companies actively engaged in packing and shipping fruit from Penticton this year. The British Columbia Growers have purchased the King warehouse. The Co-Operative Fruit Growers, who sell a great deal through the grain companies on the prairies, state that already they are receiving a great many orders by mail.

A fifteen hundred ton ice house was erected last winter and filled with ice to take care of the fruit cars that will be iced and shipped from Penticton this summer.

A brief funeral service was held at the home of the deceased on Wednesday afternoon, conducted grave were conducted by Rev. R. W. Loc.

THE MOVEMENT GROWS.

THE STRENGTH of sentiment behind the daylight saving plan is growing everywhere. Toronto and Hamilton are the two latest Canadian cities to fall in line. The United States, that country of big Weekly Star for the balance of 1916 not seen each other for twelve things, is planning the biggest move of all, that of putting the whole country under the scheme. Labor societies, merchants' associations, and civic bodies are all pushing it, and the annual saving to New York city alone for fuel is conservatively put at $1,500,000.

So far as Summerland is concerned, the adoption of the plan has hung fire too long. The Council must be convinced that there is a strong call for it here, and it scarcely seems necessary that there should be any such rigmarole of preparing and presenting a petition. In Kelowna, for instance, the city council, being satisfied that the farmers, merchants and people generally were in favor of it, undertook to institute it. The method they used was printer's ink in various forms.

Apart from this the Council is the logical body to start the movement here. If they think enough of it to put their own works under it, let them do so on a certain day to be given out. The merchants and people generally will fall in line-naturally enough at the same time. But when representatives of the fruit growers, fruit packers and shippers, business men and even of the Council itself have taken a stand in favor of it, what more evidence is required that Summerland wants daylight saving?

This gathering, the first of its kind ever held Ambulance League in Canada, brought representative dairy experts together to compare the methods of grading butter in the three prairie provinces, and adopt a uniform scale of grading. The purpose was fully realized. Differ ences in viewpoints were thoroughly discussed, and it was found quite possible to harmonize them, one standard and scale adopted being for all three prairie provinces.

Minimum scores will be as follows: First grade—Flavor, 39 ed bandages, 10 T bandages, 4 head orating and packing plant at New points out of 45; total score, 92 out of 100 points. Second grade: 3 for flavor and 85 for total.

This result means that graders certificates from the three provinces will be practically uniform.

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.

Potato Experiment.

From the report of J. L. HILBORN to the Department of Agriculture, Covering Operations at the Southern Okanagan Demonstration Station Here, During the Season 1915.

As most people grow a greater or less quantity of early potatoes each year, with but little available knowledge as to which are the best varieties to use, a small experiment was undertaken to learn which was the best of six varieties as to their value for producing an early marketable crop.

As the land available was limited, as also the stock of seed of some varieties, the planting was done on a small scale, hence I gave it close personal attention, and was very careful to give all varieties an equal chance. Three pounds of seed was used in each case, medium sized potatoes being selected, and each lot was cut into 42 pieces, most of which contained two or more eyes. We attempted to grow these as nearly as possible just as we would if growing a large field for commer-

The plot selected for this test was between six year-old apple trees that were in good bearing. The tree rows were 30 feet apart, and we put four rows only of potatoes down the centre of this space that they would be well away from the trees. Late in the previous fall the land which is a gravel loam, was treated to a light coat of rotted manure. and then ploughed. In spring it was well worked up with an orchard cultivator, levelled with a plank drag, and on April 22nd furrows were made with a small plow, three feet apart. The potatoes were planted one foot apart in these and covered with a plow. The land was carefully measured, so that each variety occupied a space 3 feet by 42 feet. As the plants appeared above the ground, the plot was gone over with a light harrow, and after they were well up, they were gone through with a one horse cultivator. The cultivation was repeated at intervals of a week to ten days to hasten growth. They were irrigated on two or three occasions when they appeared to require it, leaving the water on from two to three hours only, Vand a day or two thereafter, as soon as land was dry enough to pulverize well, the cultivator was again passed through them, always using a large tooth in the centre at the back of the cultivator, leaving a furrow ready for the next irrigation, when required. We find this method of always leaving a furrow behind the cultivator very satisfactory with all vegetable crops we grow. The plot was gone over once with a hoe and weeds removed.

The potatoes were planted on April 22nd and dug on July 15th, allowing 84 days' growth. Following is the result:

		Weight		ons
	Total weight	marketable si 57 lbs.	かいしょうしんと がた ちとい	acre. 9.8
Cameronia Early St. George	60 lbs. 58 lbs.	55 lbs.		9.2
Early Rose	56 lbs.	55 lbs.		9.2
Bovee	50 lbs.	48 lbs.		8.25 7.6
Irish Coppler Extra Early Eureka		43 lbs.	district direct being	7.4
Bovee Irish Cobbler Extra Early Eureka	, 46 lbs	44 lbs.	ili ologo di della d Con della di della d	7.6 7.4

So far as one can decide by one test the Cameronia is the best variety for this purpose, and Early Rose comes next, while the Early St George gave as good a yield of potatoes that could be called marketable, they run smallest in size of any sort. It will be noticed that there is a gain of about 2 tons per acre in some of the tests caused entirely, so far as one can judge by one test, by difference in variety.

Special music of a high order was rendered at both morning and evening service by a large choir. At the close of the latter service, Mr T. P. Council at Regular Monthly Meeting Fixes Tax Rate at Eighteen and Half Mills.

Much shorter than usual was the egular monthly session of the Municipal Council held on Saturday the 10th. Those in attendance were Reeve Blair and Couns. Johnston and Simpson.

Among the communications read was a largely signed petition circulated by the Board of Trade asking the Council to bring in the Day ight Saving plan into local use. The request was complied with as will be noted by reference to our advertising columns. Clocks are to be set ahead one hour next Sun day night or Monday morning.

Dr Andrew, in a timely letter, pointed out the serious damage being done to our roads in certain places by what he termed the habitual practice of allowing irrigation water to escape. In some places culverts were needed. The Lake of Exciting Experience at Saloniki.

The Review takes pleasure in publishing extracts from an interesting letter written by Miss M. Blott to her sister, Mrs F. W. Andrew. Miss Blott is with the No. 5 Canadian General Hospital, stationed at Saloniki, Greece. This unit is composed entirely of B.C. physicians, nurses, and men, and they left the Coast last summer.

The souvenir, consisting of a piece of the covering of the zeppelin which Miss Blott mentions as enclosing, is an interesting fragment about two inches long and an inch wide, grey one side and dull white the other. It shows signs of having been burned.

DAYLIGHT SAVING NEXT WEEK.

BETTER PUT your clocks and watches on one hour just before the teaching staff in place of Mrs retiring on Sunday night, for on Monday morning a new order of things Lister and Miss Gummow resigned. is established as the proclamation of the Reeve, published elsewhere in Miss Dynes of Penticton was this issue, sets forth. For better or for worse Summerland espouses the chosen to teach the new school to unable to join a batttalion as a daylight saving scheme from Monday morning next on till October 15th.

The success of the plan depends entirely upon the degree of the whole-heartedness in which the people of the community take up with it. Ninety-nine per cent of the people in this district are in a position to enter into the new arrangement not only with no inconvenience but distinctly to their own advantage. The few exceptions are those connected with institutions of a more or less public nature.

In a scheme so radical as daylight saving, it is only natural to expect that there will be a few difficulties and inconveniences experienced at the outset, but with these borne in mind it is not likely that there will be any need to turn round and say daylight saving is a seven names. Space is also being failure.

Summerland need not be unduly dismayed by the fact that Kelowna is reported to have tried the plan, and reverted to the standard time after a very short spell of daylight saving time. The fact is that Kelowna only half tried it. The new time was not adopted by nearly as many people as it could have been, and confusion arose on this account. Summerland can guard against failure from this reason by entering into the arrangement as widely as possible. Anyway, it will not be the first time that this town has proven itself more enterprising, up-to-date and more able to carry things through than the Orchard City. The fact that all municipal work, including electric light and irrigation water systems will be on the new time will help to influence the community generally, and added to this is the inclusion of the schools and the expectation that the business houses as far as possible intend to fall in line also.

Put your clocks on one hour on Sunday night, see that your neighbor does likewise, and make a resolve that daylight saving will not fail for want of your co-operation.

THE CANADIANS have been in the fighting heavily of late, as the long casualty lists in the daily press shows. Unfortunately it is well nigh impossible to pick out familiar names, owing to the lack of corroborative information in the crude make-up of the official lists. Review readers will confer a favor on the management of the paper by writing, phoning or calling and mentioning any casualties of local interest that may come to their notice. The district has been singularly fortunate thus far in the comparatively few casualties sustained, but it is scarcely to be hoped that this good fortune can always continue, and the Review desires to keep as well informed as possible on this vital subject.

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.

Growing Small Fruits.

STRAWBERRIES.

On the care which the strawberry plantation receives during the growing season will depend to a large extent the kind of crop there will be next season. The more runners that can be placed with hand and trowel, so that the plants will root quickly and be evenly spaced, the better. Very often there are too many plants in one place and not enough in another. Where plants are crowded and much less than six inches apart the crowns do not develop well and the fruit is liable to be small. It is important to keep the plantation free of weeds, and the ground cultivated as long as possible, as late growth, in the case of strawberries, will result in better plants. A light covering of clean straw is desirable when the ground freezes in the autumn, to prevent alternate thawing and freezing in the winter or following spring.

RASPBERRIES, GOOSEBERRIES AND CURRANTS.

Often there is far too much wood left on the bushes of these fruits for best results. Attention is drawn to this now, as pruning of these fruits can be done, if desired, as soon as the fruiting season is over. Raspberry canes should not be left closer than six inches apart, the dead and weaker ones being removed, and the strongest left. Where canes are not covered with soil in winter, the thinning out may be left until spring when one can tell, before pruning, which canes, if any, have been injured by winter. Bending down the canes and covering the tips with soil or, where there is little snow, covering the plant entirely, will ensure the canes wintering well. Gooseberries are difficult to pick at any time, but, if the bushes are kept well pruned, picking will be much easier than if there are many branches. Branches older than three years should be cut out. The best fruit is borne on the two and three-year-old wood, but there should be a few strong new shoots, well distributed, allowed to remain each year. About six fruiting branches with their side shoots will be sufficient. Red currants are pruned somewhat as gooesberries, but a few more fruiting canes may be left. Unlike the red currant, the fruit of black currants is borne on the wood made this year, hence severe pruning of the older wood is desirable to ensure strong new wood each year.

More Potatoes.

If the soil is kept as moist as possible by thorough cultivation, the tops kept in good condition by spraying for late blight, the grower will be well rewarded for his pains by the much larger crop he will get, unless the season is very unfavorable. The greatest development of tubers takes place when the ground is moist. If the plants can be brought through the month of August without being badly injured, the crop will increase rapidly in the cooler and moister month of September. It was shown in an experiment that there was an increase at the rate of 119 bushels marketable potatoes per acre during the month of September.

We certainly appreciate getting the paper, we have no more welcome visitor from week to week, and trust that you will gain for it an ever enlarging circulation such as it deserves. We have seen some local papers since coming east, but none of them in the same class with the Review."

The compliment embodied in the extract above came to this office all the way from Chicago. From time to time they reach us, these bouquets in a wilderness of worries. We welcome them because it shows that the efforts of the Review to serve the people who are interested in the district and its progress are approciated.

Another compliment was paid to the Review a few days ago by a man of prominence in this end of the Valley. He said that there were fewer typographical errors in this paper than any he saw. Of course the Convention of the Western Can- they do occur, and all too frequently, but after all the Review never goes so far as to say that Kootenay Landing is at the end of the Sicamous branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, as appeared in Vancouver's most prominent paper a few days ago.

DAY-LIGHT SAVING

DEFINITE ACTION TO BE TAKEN.

It has been finally decided that it is useless to save an hour of daylight each day only to lose it twice over by attempting to do your washing in the oldfashioned way in the house. The moral is of course to send out the weekly wash to be done right by the Penticton Steam Laundry. Naturally we demand cash on delivery, as the amount of the charge for even a large wash is so small that it would not pay us to book it up. The local agent, T. H. On Wednesday afternoon Gerald Williams had quite a narrow escape from being badly if not seriously hurt as the result of his horse stumbling while driving down from his fruit ranch. It was one of the miracles that one sometimes reads of, but seldom sees, as apart from a severe shaking up, Gerald escaped without a broken bone.

Automobile Speed Rules.

The majority of motorists excer ise common sense and drive within reason, but it is the occasional speed maniac who drives without the slightest regard either for his own or the other fellow's safety who gets the public sore on motorists in general. There have been occasional complaints locally in regard to reckless driving. The Motor Traffic Regulation Act is plain on this point. Here are two extracts:

No person in charge of a motor car shall approach any vehicle drawn by horse or horses within 100 yards at a greater speed than 10 miles an hour, or pass the same going in the opposite direction at a greater speed than 10 miles per hr.

No motor shall be run or driven upon any highway within any city, town or village at a greater rate of speed than 15 miles an hour, or upon any highway outside of any city, town or village at a greater speed than 25 miles an hour, in open country, and 15 miles per hour in wooded country.

Soldiers Pleased With Work Of Home Comfort Club.

May 22, 1916.

Dear Mrs K. S. -I wish to thank you on behalf of the association for the splendid box of luxuries you sent me. At this very moment of writing I am enjoying the pipe, tobacco, and the underwear, especially the underwear. I put it into immediate service, and I assure you the results of such a brief time in use are quite noticeable. I only hope that it keeps on with the good work for the duration of the war and I shall be for ever grateful.

I have met several of the boys out here, including Jack Craig, Harry MacLeod, Frank Hayward, Rafe Osler, and others. By the way I haven't seen Jack Craig for a month now, but I heard from a chum of his that Jack is in the hospital. I wish you would tell George, and ask him to write to Jack, I don't want to cause George and see him if I possibly can.

NO SUGAR

We have received the following Fruit Preserving Recipe from a reliable source, and reprint same for the benefit of those of our customers who may have decided to curtail the making of preserves, this season on account of the high market price of sugar.

Our Motive

in publishing it, is to encourage bottling fruit, and suggesting that the money usually expended in sugar be used for what might be termed

Absolute Necessities.

Sugar will eventually have to beused in preparing the fruit for the table, but much less will be required to sweeten to taste.

Authorities all agree that fruit put up without sugar retains its delicate and distinctive flavor.

To put up fruits without sugar, simply prepare them in the ordinary way; see that the jars are perfectly clean, thoroughly scalded with boiling water, filled to the top and left in them a considerable time; boil the rubbers and covers, and see that the rubbers are soft and free from grooves or cracks, place the fruit in the jars, fill with cold water, place them in a boiler filled with cold water, heat to the boiling point. Berries will do if removed when the boiling point is reached. Large fruits, such as peaches, pears, plums, cherries, and the like should get 20 to 30 minutes boiling.

A board should be placed in the bottom of the boiler to keep the jars from the direct heat of the stove. Fruit thus prepared will be found excellent for pies, delicious for eating with cream, and generally superior to the sugar-syrup preserves. In properly air-tight jars they will also keep quite as long.

We carry in stock "Perfect Seal" and "Economy" Jars.

All Eggs on Sale Must Be Marked

Regulations of New Act Will Be Enforced at Once.

The attention of all poultry keepers and those who sell eggs by retail is directed to the Egg Marks Act passed at the recent session of the legislature, which requires that everyone selling first grade eggs by retail "shall cause each receptacle containing or holding such eggs to bear a placard on which shall be printed in letters not less than four inches in height the name of the province or country of origin, and the additional words 'fresh,' 'cold storage,' or 'preservor placard to be so placed that same can be readily seen by all persons desirous of purchasing eggs from such person carrying on such business," and, secondly, those offering second grade eggs shall have them similarly labelled "cooking eggs."

Farmers selling eggs, as well as retailers, are warned that the inspectors are putting the act in force now, the penalty for failing to observe the law being a maximum penalty of $100.

The inspectors who have been appointed to administer the act are Chief Poultry Instructor J. R. Terry, Assistant Instructor H. E. Upton, and the Markets Commissioner, R. C. Abbott. The inspectors are named by the Minister of Agriculture under the statute.

Other clauses of the act define preserved and Chinese eggs. Importers of eggs, or wholesale dealers, are to have all receptacles containing eggs plainly marked with the country of origin and grade. Marking of the eggs is to be done by a mark, brand, stamp, impression, or imprint made by means of a rubber stamp, stencil, or other method, and such mark shall be legible in gothic letters and in durable ink.

R. Osler Gives Up His Life.

Rafe Osler, nineteen or twenty year old son of Mr and Mrs Frank Osler, and a nephew of Sir Edmund Osler, is officially reported in the casualty lists as died of wounds.

Previous to coming west about the time of the establishment of the Kettle Valley Railway head offices at Penticton, he was private secretary to Baron Shaughnessy. He entered the service of the Kettle Valley Railway in a like capacity to Mr J. J. Warren.

Rafe Osler enlisted early in the war into one of the B.C. Battalions from Penticton. Mr and Mrs Osler are now in England, and the sympathy of many friends in this place is extended to them in the loss of their gallant son.

Matt G. Wilson in Still Another Accident.

Serious and painful accidents seem to be the fate of Mr Matt Wilson, the well-known proprietor of Paradise Ranch. Already in the past few months we have chronicled several in which he has had narrow escapes with his life, suffering broken bones, bad bruises, cuts, etc. Mr Wilson is again laid aside with a broken arm and a scalp wound, this time, as in each of the earlier accidents, a horse is responsible though not to blame. While out rounding up some animals on Thursday his horse was alarmed at a shot of dynamite set off but a few feet away causing the animal to fall. When about half way across the lake the coil became wet with the spray from the choppy sea, and the motor ceased to turn. With no means to make repairs and no oars the occupants were helpless and were fast drifting up the lake when their signal of distress, a coat suspended on a broken oar, was seen by Captain Weeks of the tug "Naramata." who went to their assistance and towed the disabled craft to the C.P.R. wharf.

The usual weekly meeting on Friday night of the Boy Scouts was held on the government wharf. Parade was called for 7.30 p.m. and bathing for those who wished was in order. With a few exceptions all took a dip which was refreshing after the extremely hot day-98 in the shade. Then when all were ready for instruction, the Troop formed a semi-circle and squatted in front of the Scoutmaster, who held a class in whistle, hand and stave signalling. This was special instruction in view of the impending annual inspection. But the event of the evening—so the boys said—was the march to the Scoutmaster's lawn, and the feast of strawberries and cream and cake kindly given by Mr and Mrs Tait and Mrs R. C. Lipsett. Before dismissal the boys gave three hearty cheers to the donors of the good things enjoyed.

to See Improvement, Looking For Share of Tourist Trade.

At a well attended meeting of the Board of Trade held Tuesday last, it was decided to appeal to the C.P.R. to encourage more of the tourist traffic to visit the Okanagan. With a second railway there is not the need to double back, and it was felt that if pointed out to tourists when booking that many would include the Okanagan in their itinerary. A motion to place these facts and requests before the proper C.P.R. officials was submitted by Mr R. V. Agur and carried unanimously.

As a result of the discussion of another motion by Mr Agur, a committee, Messrs Agur, English, S. M. Young, Lawler and M. Steuart, was appointed to arrange to have the members of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association attending the midsummer convention at Penticton on July 20 visit Summerland, and to take them over the district, including the Experimental Farm.

In the absence of the president, Mr R. H. Helmer was elected to the chair. Two new members were enrolled, making now about eighty members. Fully twenty-five others have promised to pay the fee.

Among the correspondence read was a letter from Road Superintendent Lang advising that two small outfits had been put to work on the Summerland—Peachland road. He had recently inspected this section of the Lakeshore Drive and had sent in a recommendation for extensive improvements.

That more street lights are need ed and that some of the principal corners should be lighted with nitrogen lamps was the substance of another resolution proposed by Mr A. J. Beer. This was well supported by a number of speakers and Messrs Beer, Lawler and T B. Young were appointed a committee to prepare a petition to be brought in at the next meeting.

take immediate steps to level Shaughnessy Avenue and put it in proper condition for hauling fruit, and also repair the Peach Orchard and Gulch roads," was another resolution receiving general support. It was pointed out by Mr Lawler that much of the fruit will be drawn over these roads in heavy loads, and would be damaged by the roughness of the roads unless they were improved."

With much necessary work to be done for the good of the community, and little available funds, Mr G. A. MacLaine gave notice of motion to assess each member 50 cents to cover these expenses,

Under the system which is proposed, all seed grown for this purpose will be inspected twice during the season by a government expert once during the growing time to see that the seed is true to type, and again when the seed has been harvested. All seed will be tested in a government seed laboratory, and a certificate will be issued to the farmer as a guarantee of quality, thus making it easy for him to dispose of the seed at good prices. He may sell wherever he desires; the government bonus is merely for the production of the seed. In addition to this assistance the government also expects to aid the farmer in marketing by having a man appointed for B.C. to advise as to the varieties to be grown and to help in making contracts "That the Council be urged to between the farmers and the seed merchant.

Negotiations are now under way between the Fruit Growers' Association of British Columbia and the Board of Trade Would Like Dominion Government Aims express companies whereby the for mer are seeking to secure revised carload express rates upon ship ments of British Columbia fruit to outside points. The matter is one of first importance to B.C. growers Acting somewhat as an advance and early action by the express companies is being awaited.

Hitherto it has been the custom of the express companies to charge a rate on fruit shipments from this rie section. From that point to ments dropped off at certain intermediate points, proportionate rate express companies. It is claimed that by this latter method, instead distributing centre, the territory served by the intermediate points will receive fresher fruits and the result will be conducive to the greater demand for the British Columbia product.

Mr. R. Helme, superintendent of the Dominion Express Company for Alberta and British Columbia, has met Mr. R. M. Winslow, Provincial Horticulturist, who is also secretary of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, and the question was discussed.

Mr Winslow is now on a week's trip in the Interior. He will visit Summerland and other points in the Valley, and inspect work being done by the Department.

For Prisoners of War in Germany

It was plainly evident that the ice cream social held last Friday evening at the home of Miss Annie Dale was no mean success. The affair was to aid the funds of a movement on foot to provide Canadian prisoners of war in Germany with articles to supplement their slim prison fare. As a result of the evening the very respectable sum of about $36 was realized, which was sent to Vancouver to be put to the purpose mentioned above. Very delectable ice cream was a great attraction, and the supply ran out long before the demands of the large crowd were satisfied. Lamps and lanterns provided illumination in the grounds where the social gaiety was carried on, and the scene when the affair was in full swing was both pretty and animated. Musical items were given in the course of the evening in the shape of vocal solos by Mrs J. D. Wood and Messrs J. O. and Alex. Smith.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute last Friday was held on the lawn of Mrs John Tait, and took the form of a strawberry and ice cream social. As intimated previously, it was an open meeting to the public, and many friends took advantage of the occasion and enjoyed the event. The usual routine of business gone through. a social time was spent, and the president, Mrs H. A. Solly, called on Mrs McGregor, of Penticton, who favored the company with a few patriotic readings which were much appreciated.

Then came the principal event, the serving of the good things. The charges were nominal, but the aggregate counted up well, the sum of $28 dollars being drawn, which after deducting what expenses there were, was given to the Serbian Fund.

WORKING SMOOTHLY.

DAYLIGHT SAVING has now been in practice here for nearly half as long as it ran in Kelowna, and still no disastrous disruption has come to the business houses, nor are private citizens up in arms against it, claiming that their daily arrangements are made all awry on account of the innovation. This is what people say happened in Kelowna during the short two weeks that city was courageous enough to try daylight saving. Kelowna enjoys the doubtful distinction of being the first place in the Valley, and in the province so far as the Review is aware, to try the scheme and make a failure of it; but it remains for Summerland to claim the honor of putting daylight saving into force and making a success of it. After all, this is only an enlargement of a reputation that Summerland has always enjoyed.

So far as can be gathered, there are few people indeed who have any fault to find with the principle of the plan. If it were merely the "simple notion" that a few Missouri scoffers term it, then about half the world has gone straining after a gnat.

Naturally enough the fullest benefit from daylight saving is not seen

FARMERS' LOANS AVAILABLE.

WITHIN A SHORT TIME the Agricultural Credits Commission will be making loans for farmers under the provisions of the Argicultural Act passed last year, and by virtue of which the Commission was brought into operation this spring.

To all enquirers for information or loans, the Commission forwards the special forms upon which application for loans must hereafter be made. These former cover in the most complete detail all information which the Commission must be in possession of before the application for a loan will be considered. Over one thousand of such forms have been mailed to farmers all over the province from whom requests for information have been received. Many of the forms properly filled out are now being received daily at the office of the Commission in Victoria, and the information contained therein is being tabulated.

It is the intention of the Commission to give first consideration to those applicants who desire but moderate loans, the idea being to make the amount at the disposal of the commission cover as much ground as possible this year in view of the fact that, pending better financial conditions, it is not deemed wise that further borrowing should be under-

As it is, the Commission will be in a position to loan to the farmer at the very favorable rate of 62 per cent. In establishing a department of appraisal and valuation, the Agricultural Credits Commission has fixed the fees for appraisal to be paid for applicants for loans. The fees are $2.50 on loans up to $500, $5 on loans from $500 to $1,250, $7.50 on loans from $1,250 to $2,500 and $10 on loans from $2,500 to

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.

Poultry Industry Is Growing.

Is One Of The Best Organized And Most Prosperous Agricultural Pursuits In Canada.

To anyone who has not carefully followed the direction of poultry delvelopment in Canada, an understanding of the status which the poultry industry has now reached must constitute a distinct surprise. Whether viewed from the standpoint of the farmer or of the produce trade, it is now one of the best organized and most progressive of any of our live stock industries. Co-operation amongst farmers in marketing is improving the product, and realizing for them higher prices than they have hitherto been able to obtain. The reorganization of methods by the trade is providing against loss in handling, is assuring to the customer a better article, and establishing our export business upon a firm basis.

SITUATION CHANGED.

It is estimated that Canada and Cuba, during the last twenty years, received from the United States about three-fourths of all the eggs exported by that country during that period. This situation, however, has now changed. As against an importation in 1913 of 13,240,111 dozen, we imported in 1915 not more than 3,783,952 dozen. On the other hand, while in 1913 we exported only 147,149 dozen, in 1915 we exported 7,898,322 dozen. This constitutes a net increase in production, in two years, of nearly 17,00,000 dozen. Practically all these exports went to the United Kingdom.

Notwithstanding the surplus in Canada which these figures indicate, prices during March, April and May have remained at an extraordinarily high level. For the first quarter of the year 1916, the price to producers, selling co-operatively, has been at least 4 cents in advance of the price received in the same period in 1915. For the month of March, it was at least 5 cents in advance, and for the month of April at least 3 cents in advance of last year's price for these respective months. The demand for eggs for home consumption, for storage purposes, and for immediate export, has rarely been so keen as at the present moment. This situation is clearly reflected in the prices just quoted. Heavy domestic consumption in the fact of the high price of meats, partly explains this condition. Confidence in the export demand on the part of the produce trade, confirms it from another direction. Notwithstanding increased production, the egg and poultry business in Canada is in a very strong position at the present time.

RAISE CHICKENS.

Under these circumstances, we believe that it will be a very wise practice to raise as many chickens as it is possible or practicable to handle. Rough grains will probably be produced in abundance in Canada this year, and the feeding of poultry at a profit should be materially assisted from this source. Eggs at prevailing prices are a paying proposition in any event. Poultry, alive or dressed, according to present and prospective market conditions, can unquestionably be raised and finished at a decided profit. A good flock of poultry, if carefully handled, will serve to prevent waste on the farm and promote economy in living expenses, such as is particularly necessary when all farm products are becoming so marketable and so dear.

Fertility And Fertilizers.

Crop production may be increased either by extending the acreage or increasing the yield per acre. The resulting output may be the same from either method, but the profit to the farmer will not be the same. The farmer's profit will generally be found in increasing the yield. This is in many cases at present below what is profitable. What are the means by which it may be raised?

One of the most important factors governing yield is soil fertility. It is not by any means the only factor. Besides the amount of available plant food contained in the soil, moisture, temperature, vigor of seed, and a number of other conditions have a bearing on the success or failure of a crop. Nevertheless, soil fertility is one of the prime factors in determining yield.

If the available plant food is deficient, the crop will be deficient in both quality and quantity. It is therefore fundamental to successful farming that fertility be maintained where it is abundant and increased where it is deficient.

Protect The Birds.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the urgent necessity of protecting our native birds, the majority of which constitute our most valuable allies in our war against insect pests. Very few of our birds are really harmful; most of them destroy enormous quantities of insects annually. The policy of the agriculturist in regard to the birds should be not only non-destructive, but also one of active encouragement. The encouragement of birds about the farm involves little expense or labor. Nesting boxes can be made out of rough slabs of lumber or old shingles; these should be distributed about the farm or in the woodlot. Here and there a few bushes and thickets should be permitted to grow to serve as shelters and nesting sites. The shooting of wild birds should not be permitted.—C. GORDON HEWITT, Dominion Entomologist.

Diversification is the biggest and most vital, the most hopeful and helpful word in the story of better farming. It is farm insurance, and the beginning of farm profit and permanency. It means raising and feeding more crops on the farm, thus getting two prices and the manure from them—it means something frequently going to market and cash as frequently coming back.

A well-balanced business insures against lesses and provides a much better utilization of the labor and equipment.

It has been finally decided that it is useless to save an hour of daylight each day only to lose it twice over by attempting to do your washing in the old-fashioned way in the house. Naturally we demand cash on delivery, as the amount of the charge for even a large wash is so small that it would not pay us to book it up. The local agent, T. H. # Red Cross Tea.

An afternoon tea under Red Cross auspices at the home of Mrs Geo. Cook on Thursday, June 15, proved quite the social attraction of the entire week. The distance from town was annihilated, thanks to the resourcefulness of Mrs Aikins, who went into the jitney business for the occasion and convoyed no less than four carloads of enthusiasts to the scene of strawberryshort cake—and somebody's "best" tea. The car fares were of course donated to the fund of the society. The proceeds of the afternoon were much in excess of anticipations. The duties of the hostess were lightened by the assistance of her daughter, Mrs Howard Rounds, and Mrs William Steel of Summerland, who was spending the week-end Salting, Edith Roe, Harold Allen, with Mrs Cook.

Absolute Necessities.

Sugar will eventually have to be used in preparing the fruit for the table, but much less will be required to sweeten to taste.

Authorities all agree that fruit put up without sugar retains its delicate and

To put up fruits without sugar, simply prepare them in the ordinary way; see that the jars are perfectly clean, thoroughly scalded with boiling water, filled to the top and left in them a considerable time; boil the rubbers and covers, and see that the rubbers are soft and free from grooves or cracks, place the fruit in the jars, fill with cold water, place them in a boiler filled with cold water, heat to the boiling point. Berries will do if removed when the boiling point is reached. Large fruits, such as peaches, pears, plums, cherries, and the like should get 20 to 30 minutes boiling.

A board should be placed in the bottom of the boiler to keep the jars from the direct heat of the stove. Fruit thus prepared will be found excellent for pies, delicious for eating with cream, and generally superior to the sugar-syrup preserves. In properly air-tight jars they will also keep quite as long.

Talking Up Outing Small Cut In For Whole Community.

A movement is on foot to bring about a union Sunday School and general community excursion to take place on or about the 13th of July to Chain Lakes, on the Kettle Valley line near Osprey Lake. The project was taken up originally by the St Andrew's Society, but was later handed on by them to the Sunday Schools of the district, thinking there might be the possibility of a larger outing. From a meeting of representatives of the various Sunday Schools this week the idea spread into an outing for the community at large. It was thought that possibly the day might be declared a civic holiday to allow as many as possible taking in the excursion. Favorable rates are being offered by the Railway company, which will be confirmed this week. The progress of this enterprise will be watched with a good deal of interest, and further arrangements will be awaited with lively anticipation by the many people who feel that a community outing ought to be made an annual affair. An exgursion such as this would also offer good opportunity for many to see the country adjacent to Summerland.

Express Rate

Contrary to statements already made public that there would be no change in the express rate to Vancouver when the short line through Coquihalla Pass was opened, it is now announced that a small reduction will be made. The Dominion Express Company made a reduction in their charges between Okanagan Valley points and Vancouver some time ago in anticipation of the opening of the K.V.R., and it was stated that the new rate would apply for service over the direct line. This week Mr R. M. Winslow, secretary of the B.C. Fruit Growers Association, stated that on account of representation made by the association the Dominion Express Company had granted a reduction of 10c. from Summerland to Vancouver to go into effect when the short cut is opened. This will make the rate $1.50 per 100 lbs. instead of $1.60. Penticton will be given the same cut.

The new B.C. Act protecting consigners against unscrupulous consignees, already reported in detail by the Review, is also largely the result of the B.C. Fruit Growers Association.

Mr J. G. Robertson, superintendent of the Sunday School, took a prominent part, delivering an adkinds, sizes, shapes, materials, and dress, while Rev. H. G. Estabrock preacted an appropriate sermon. The first new season's potatoes to come to notice so far have been grown by Mr Magnus Tait, at Trout Creek. They are of the Cameronia variety. There is a good crop from several rows of seed planted, and Mr and Mrs Tait have been using the new potatoes since the beginning of the week. It is Mr Tait's orchard that every year enjoys the distinction of having the earliest peaches in the district. This year, like everything else, these peaches, which are of the Mayflower variety, will be later than usual, but ripe fruit is expected from the trees in about three weeks.

Cherries have been going out in increasing quantities this week from the Fruit Union, the varieties shipped thus far being the Governor Wood, Royal Anne, Black Tartarian and Early Richmond. These have been bringing about 8 cents per pound to the grower.

Early cucumbers have also been shipped out by the Union, to the extent of about three dozen a day. These have come from the glass house operated by Chas. Wharton. They have been fetching about $1.25 per dozen, it is understood. early cabbage on Thursday, the first of the season.

Reported Missing; Now Known To Be Killed.

In the month of May the Review told of Flight Lieutenant Kenneth Marsden Van Allen of this place being reported missing after an air raid on German positions near Dunkirk, France. Following this came cheery item that the missing aviator was thought to be safe, one of his comrades having seen Lieut. Van Allen's machine make what was judged to be a safe landing behind the German lines.

Unhappily the hope this news conveyed has been dispelled. Word has come to relatives here from Miss Van Allen, now in England, to the effect that her brother's death has been definitely established.

Through the medium of the Red Cross it was learned that Lieut. Van Allen met his death on May 11th, though no particulars are to hand yet.

There are many in Summerand who will regret to hear of the death of the young aviator. Both brilliant and accomplished, he was the type of citizen that Summerland can ill afford to lose. The name of Lieut. Van Allen must have a prominent place on the roll of those who have gone from this place and laid down their lives for the Empire.

THAT ONE MILLION DOLLARS for the farmers of B.C. is now available, and application blanks which must be filled up by intending borrowers are being sent out to those who have already made application for loans. These applications already number about 1,000. The Commission, of course, has been unable to act upon them, as the necessary detailed information required was not given. The forms now being issued will, when filled in and returned, give the Commission every detail of information needed. Once this information is received, the valuator will start out on a tour of the province for the purpose of valuating the properties in respect of which loans are being sought. The questions which the applicants must answer go most exhaustively into the financial and other conditions of the applicant, the title and value of the holdings, nature of crops grown, improvements, stock, the purpose for which the loan is required, encumbrances, if

For the convenience of intending borrowers, the Commission has issued pamhplets which may be obtained from the head office of the Commission, located at the Legislative buildings, Victoria. It is pointed out that loans will be granted at an interest of six and one-half per cent per annum, or .87 per cent over the cost to the province. The fees to be charged for appraising holdings are set forth, and it is pointed out that these fees must be paid by applicants whether the loans are granted to them finally or not. The pamphlet also contains those portions of the Agricultural Act, 1915, setting forth the regulations in respect of loans.

A STAUNCH FRIEND of the farmer has passed away in the person of Dr C. C. James, Commissioner of Agriculture for Canada, under Hon. Martin Burrell. He died suddenly on a train last week. Quietly and without any ostentation whatever he has labored for the Dominion since 1912, being responsible for many movements that have aimed at giving the farmer a better acquaintance with his business. Hon. Martin Burrell pays him the following tribute. "I can say very truthfully that his death will be a heavy loss, not only to myself and the government, but to the whole country. Agricultural workers throughout Canada are familiar with the great services rendered by Dr James. His broad grasp of conditions and his untiring devotion to the work made him an exceptionally valuable officer, and I am quite sure I am voicing the general view when I express the opinion that the country can ill spare him at this time."

THERE ARE OPPORTUNITIES coming this way that Summerland should avail itself of to show this province and Western Canada in general that Summerland is still on the map and going strong. The B.C. Fruit Growers' Association intends holding a midsummer meeting this year, and the gathering takes place at Penticton about the middle of July. There should be a good representation from Summerland to this gathering, not only of accredited delegates, but also of other fruit growers, epecially at any meetings of a public nature that take place.

During their stay in that town the delegates who will attend from all over the province will hear a great deal about Penticton, it being a safe assertion that the community boosters of that town will not spare any effort to impress upon the minds of all the visitors that there isn't any town within a hundred miles or so that can compare with Pentic ton. As a matter of fact only twelve miles or so up the west side of the lake there is another place that surpasses. Penticton in more ways than

It is pleasing to see that the Board of Trade has made arrangements to have the delegates to the meeting come up to Summerland and be shown over the district, and it is also good to know that sufficient public spirited citizens can be found to devote the time to such a project. No doubt the cars the visitors travel up in will be decorated in such a way as to convince the sightseers that this place is not a suburb of Penticton. May we suggest that every citizen of Summerland who attends the meetings assist to boost Summerland by wearing a badge or streamer with "Summerland" thereon.

To a lesser extent, perhaps, the forthcoming Irrigation Convention at Kamloops presents another good opportunity to advance the name of Summerland before an influential gathering. Summerland will gain prestige in the Canadian west if it puts up a fight for the next B.C. Convention of this body. Even if the gathering does not come to Summerland a good stroke of work will have been accomplished by making the effort.

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.

Common Diseases Of Poultry.

Against poultry lice a very effective insect powder is made by taking crude carbolic acid one pint, and gasoline three pints, mixing with sufficient plaster of Paris to make a slightly moist mixture, then rubbing it through a sieve. Let it lie for about two hours, when the powder will be found to be dry. If not used at once it must be kept in a well-closed can. A bird thoroughly dusted with this mixture need not be redusted for three months.

Against the large head louse a good treatment is to grease the tops of the head with plain vaseline or lard if the chicks are young, while older birds are best treated by either dipping in a good coal tar dip or by dusting with an insectide.

Against mites, cleanliness, disinfection, and dusting with the insect powder mentioned above are recommended.

Against scaly legs first soak the scabs with warm water, then with a brush remove all scabs possible, after which scrape with a dull knife. When the legs are dry, saturate with gasoline. Repeat this treatment every five days. A hot solution of lime and sulphur dip has been used with excellent results.

Internal parasites:-

The large round worm is present in over 25 per cent of the birds purchased on the market. As a preventive measure the yard and fowl house must be kept clean. As treatment the birds should be made to fast for 24 hours, then give each bird one teaspoonful of olive oil and one teaspoonful of turpentine separately.

The tape worm is treated by fasting the birds 24 hours, and then giving them a teaspoonful of turpentine and a tablespoonfoul of epsom salts dissolved in hot water. If it is desired to avoid medicating each bird separately, give three grains of powdered areca nut to each bird in a mash of made of wheat shorts.

The gape worm forms clusters in the traches of many birds, and it is treated by extirpating them by means of a doubled horse hair or by a feather dipped into turpentine.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Blackhead—For treatment, permanganate of potash may be used in the water. Sulphocarbolates of calcium, sodium and zinc in equal parts have given good results in doses of half a grain of the mixture three times a day for each bird.

Fowl Cholera-Intestinal antiseptics are advised. Permanganate of potash can be used as recommended above. Also the three sulphocarbolates are valuable, as well as a solution of one part of bichloride of mercury in ten thousand of water.

White diarrhoea has been successfully controlled by the sulphocarbolates mentioned above.

Chickenpox or sore head may be treated by touching the sores with carbolic acid or with iodine or kerosene. Sick birds should also be given a tablespoonful of castor oil.

Roup or avian diphtheria is a highly contagious disease, and if the bird affected with it is not a valuable one it is better to destroy it. If it is desired to treat it the nasal canal must first be syringed with a 20 per cent solution of bicarbonate of soda to dissolve the mucus, then with equal parts of peroxide of hydrogen and water so as to cleanse thoroughly the parts, after which the following mixture should be injected:-Oil of thyme 30 minims, oil of eucalyptus 20 minims, menthol 10 grains, oil petrol 2 ounces. All these liquids should be warm. The ulcers in the mouth are to be touched with a stick of nitrate of silver.

Value Of Bees To An Orchard.

The injuries to orchards and vineyards sometimes attributed to bees are due to poultry, wild birds, wind and hail, and most frequently to hornets, vine-moths and other insects. The destruction of hornets and wasps is recommended; it is easily effected, because these are social insects whose nests can be found without difficulty, while the adult individuals are attracted by every kind of organic substance, meat, fruit, etc., on which they can feed.

Bees do not injure grapes or other fruit even indirectly; on the contrary, they are beneficial to them, either by bringing about, as anthophilous insects, the cross-pollination of the flowers, and hence the setting of the fruit, or by promoting the dessication of damaged fruits from which they absorb the juice and pulp, thus preventing fermentation and rot extending to sound individuals. This is especially the case of the Naramata members of the and Marguerite Salting. Fruit Union, Mr Rolt was given a unanimous vote as director to succeed Mr J. H. Pushman, whose retirement from office has already been recorded in these columns.

The orchards and vineyards frequented by bees give the most constant crops; the hive is a very useful, and sometimes a necessary addi-

In the course of the meeting which was in the hands of the Union committee, Mr. Frank ner, Harold Stiff. Rounds occupied the chair, and Mr Nuttall acted as secretary. A hearty vote of thanks to the retiring director, proposed by T. H. Boothe, was the feature of the proceedings. Mr Pushman in his reply, after thanking the members one and all for their expression of regard, gave some timely advice on the work that lies ahead, expressing the prediction that the work of the Union was but now in its infancy, and called for a greater co-operation amongst all the growers for the success that certainly awaits the intelligent efforts of the fruit growers of Naramata.

Mr Rolt will enter at once on his duties and will doubtless give a good deal of his time, and thought toward furthering the interests of the Fruit Union.

Pay your taxes to-day and save ten dollars on every hundred dollars of taxes. This being the 30th of June, the last day upon which this immense saving can be effected it behooves every one who has taxes to pay and money with which to pay, to bestir himself or herself and send the cash to Vernon right away.

The First Call

A representative of the fruit growers of Hatzic, Prairie, and Mission districts was in Vancouver the other day to engage a thousand women to begin rasp-picking on the 7th of July. If all reports are true, he should be able to get the help he needs. The wages paid seem low, thirty-five cents a crate. Camp stools and cooking utensils are furnished, which leads one to infer that the berry-pickers must provide their own food.

To judge from reports from the labor bureau in Victoria, there are few or no idle women who are willing to work. On the other hand, many girls and boys will be released from school at the end of this

It will be a great shame if, for want of pickers, any fruit in the province is allowed to rot. If the market price is low little can be spent in wages. Picking in the hot sun is not easy, though it is healthy work. Small wages are botter than none. No one who refuses to work in summer ought to expect to be helped when winter comes on. Women in Great Britain are doing many harder things than gathering fruit.--Victoria Colonist.

You must be thinking me very ungrateful, receiving no reply to the after two and a half months' wanappreciated indeed.

It is very kind of the Home Comfort Club to think of the fellows that are away, and I'm sure if they all receive a parcel as full of good things as mine was, they will be very welcome.

I should think, according to the Reviews enclosed, that Summerland must be almost cleaned out of men by now. The little town has certainly done splendid. One other Summerland fellow is in Salonica, Chas. Lavis, who is with the No. 4 Can. Hosp. I am hoping to get down to see him this week. We were together both in England and Egypt.

Will close now; again thanking you for sending me the parcel of good things. With best wishes

> Yours sincerely, R. H. ATKINSON.

O SUGAR

We have received the following Fruit Preserving Recipe from a reliable source, and reprint same for the benefit of those of our customers who may have decided to curtail the making of preserves this season on account of the high market price of sugar.

Our Motive

in publishing it, is to encourage bottling fruit, and suggesting that the money usually expended in sugar be used for what might be termed

Absolute Necessities.

Sugar will eventually have to be used in preparing the fruit for the table, but much less will be required to sweeten to taste.

Authorities all agree that fruit put up without sugar retains its delicate and distinctive flavor.

To put up fruits without sugar, simply prepare them in the ordinary way; see that the jars are perfectly clean, thoroughly scalded with boiling water, filled to the top and left in them a considerable time; boil the rubbers and covers, and see that the rubbers are soft and free from grooves or cracks, place the fruit in the jars, fill with cold water, place them in a boiler filled with cold water, heat to the boiling point. Berries will do if removed when the boiling point is reached. Large fruits, such as peaches, pears, plums, cherries, and the like should get 20 to 30 minutes boiling.

A board should be placed in the bottom of the boiler to keep the jars from the direct heat of the stove. Fruit thus prepared will be found excellent for pies, delicious for eating with cream, and generally superior to the sugar-syrup preserves. In properly air-tight jars they will also keep quite as long.

We carry in stock "Perfect Seal" and "Economy" Jars.
