A REQUEST

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS are asked when responding to a telephone call, to give their OWN NAME OR NUMBER.

For instance, if, when his phone rings, Mr Green would give his name instead of saying "hello" the speaker at the other end of the wire would at once know he HAD THE NUMBER ASKED FOR, without enquiring further. Thus on every call time would be saved, and the efficiency of the service greatly increased.

If this method of response has not been your practice begin to-day.

the uselessness of unprofitable labor. The satisfaction afforded the housewife by the sight of a lineful of clean clothes is discounted by the strain of the day's wash; the high cost of soap and fuel; and the upset of the household arrangements.

The week's wash received back from the Pentiction Steam Laundry gives just as much gratification without any of the disadvantages—the higher War Cost of materials used having been met by an increase in the volume of business handled and OUR PRICE LIST REMAINS THE SAME AS IN 1914.

It will be seen that the very credremitted to the Treasurer at Victoria by the people of Summerland for the period ranging from commencement of the canvass up to 30th September.

The only thing that I think might be said is rather regrettable, and that is, that more of the names appearing among those that made a single cash donation cannot see their way to join those others appearing on the other list, who keep their sense of duty to this worthy Fund ever before them by making a regular monthly subscription, and I feel sure that when it is put before them in this way they will at once give the matter their very careful consideration.

If anyone notices that an omis-in the above acknowledgements I shall be grateful if it is pointed out to me.

OUR NARAMATA SECTION :

Everything of Business and Social Importance
Transpiring in South Okanagan's Newest Town

Sudden Squall Brings Down The Apples.

"The wind it blew, and blew some more." The hurricane which swept past Naramata between eleven and twelve last Friday night reminds one of one of Drummond's poems in which he calls attention to the fact that the only safe part of Lake St. Pierre during a heavy gale is the shore. But in the case of Okanagan Lake it is just a question as to which was the safer place.

The storm was of short duration but Oh my! The carloads of "cooker" apples that were this week shipped out of town bore eloquent testimony to the ravages of the night. Mr. Carrol Aikins, the owner of a very large apple orchard is the heaviest loser, but others were proportionately hard hit. In a few cases whole trees were either uprooted or broken off close to the ground.

In the park down town many of the stately pines were laid low and cotton woods were as usual an easy prey. One consolation we here in the Okanagan always have in such cases is that it was unusual and may never occur again.

There is to be a special gift table in connection with the Women's Institute show here on Thursday, October 19th, in direct aid of the Red Cross Society. Anything will be gladly received in the shape of china, pictures, jewelry, linen, etc. and will the people kindly leave same at the grocery store of Mr. H. T. Davies.

If you want to sell you must advertise.

Young Man, Do you know

that some of the best paid men right here in B.C. educated themselves for advancement at home, right in the village or on the farm, and that they had no better chances than you have, some, indeed, being extremely poor, and only having a knowledge of reading and writing? These men have, through the study of International Correspondence Schools' courses, and a determination to succeed, risen to where they are. Why not you?

Others with good general education have found that without special training along one line, they could not hope for much in exchange for their services, and have taken up the International Correspondence Schools studies and made good.

The International Correspondence Schools have contracts now with over two hundred railroads alone for instructing their employees, including the C.P.R., the C.N.R., the B.C. Electric Ry., and the Dominion Government railways in Canada, and the text-books of the School which have become famous for their clearness, practicability, and thoroughness, are now used in nearly 300

E. B. MAY, Manager.

A Question of Supply and Demand.

Commissioner McTaggart So Analyzes Fruit Prices.

The old law of supply and demand is regulating apple prices this year, said W. E. McTaggart, B.C. Fruit Markets Commissioner, in Calgary a few days ago. Ontario and eastern provinces have a short crop of first class apples, while the crop in the Pacific coast province will be about equal to last year, with some varieties running lighter and others slightly heavier than last year's yield.

At the present time the biggest shipping concern in the Okanagan Valley is quoting apples at 15 cents less than last year. Winter varieties opened lower than last season's first quotations, but have since advanced on account of the demand being manifested throughout the prairie provinces and Eastern Canada, continued Mr. McTaggart.

"We will this year ship apples to New York city, to Montreal and Toronto on this continent, while England, Australia and New Zealand are also buyers of our apples. The demand for first class apples this year exceeds the supply, and where such a condition exists prices always work to higher levels."

British Columbia has shipped crab apples and plums to the United States and has started to ship potatoes to the middle western states, where there is a great demand for the better varieties of tubers. Mr. McTaggart pointed out that buyers from eastern Canada and the prairie provinces are now visiting British Columbia fruit districts trying to buy apples. Quite a number of the apple shippers, he concluded, have sold their entire output. The severe winter throughout the west so injured a number of the trees that they lacked the vitality to bring the fruit to maturity, although they blossomed out well. Washington, too, was badly hit by the cold weather.

Nelson Will Establish Creamery

Representatives of Farmers' Institutes covering a large section of Kootenay and Boundary have decided to proceed with plans for the operation of a co-operative creamery in Nelson.

Estimates given of the number of milk cows in the section from the international boundary on the south to Creston Valley on the east, and Rossland, Patterson, Trail and the Arrow and Sloean Lakes and Lardou on the west and north, ranged from a total of 800 to 900.

What The Specialist Says.

The manager of one of the largest department stores in western Canada recently wrote as follows in regard to his advertising policy: "Someone said to us: 'You advertise well, but it must cost an awful lot of money.'"

We explained very patiently that advertising doesn't cost anything; that by increasing sales it diminishes the percentage of overhead expenses, so that the advertiser can sell on a smaller margin, and still get the same net profit.

Can't Do It.

So insistent have been a number of my customers that I still maintain my branch meat store, that I have consented to still operate it for a time at least.

I will, therefore, on the afternoons of TUESDAY and SATURDAY be at my store in the Kelley Block with a full stock of meats and fish in season.

Thanking my many friends for their patronage, I trust I shall continue to merit their good will.

J. DOWNTON

A lady was urged by her friends to marry a widower, and as an argument they spoke of his two beautiful children. "Children," replied the lady, "are like tooth-picks—a person wants her own." A neighbor fairly posed us the other night by asking us the simple question, "When is a fish crazy?" and assured us it was only when the aforesaid fish was in-sol-ne. We immediately left.

Nearly Three Hundred & Fifty Dollars Expected Revenue From Electric Light Extensions Costing Less Than Twelve Hundred.

Council Favors Immediate Enlargement Of Field Covered By Lighting System.

Citizens Directly Interested Will Advance The Capital.

Two more sections of the district are to be taken into the limits of the electric light system if present plans of the Council carry. That part of Rosedale Avenue from W. C. Kelley's to and including Victoria Gardens and from there east to W. C. W. Fosbery's will be served by one of the extensions, while the second extension will extend toward Garnett Valley far enough to give service to Mr Wm. Ritchie and Col. Cartwright. Estimates submitted gave $520.00 as the cost of the first, which is expected to yield a revenue of $200 a year. Mr Thornber's estimate for the second extension gives a cost of $608 with a yearly earning of $131. Both extensions were approved at earlier sittings of the Council and at the regular meeting on Tuesday a by-law to make it possible to legally borrow the money offered by citizens interested in these extensions was given first reading. The ratepayers will be asked to give their approval, and as the investments are expected to be immediately good revenue producers, the Council feel so confident that the by-law will be carried that they will probably make a start on the work at an early date.

Mr Thornber also submitted another proposition for increasing the efficiency of the power plant and reducing the cost of upkeep. His first suggestion involved lengthening the building to make room for rearranging the water motor and dynamo. Now, by a new method of connecting the two, the distance can be reduced and the desired position given without extending the building. During this discussion the Reeve also spoke in favor of using the spring for power, but nothing was done to further either suggestion.

Mr Frank Harrison wrote for H. H. Whittaker of Kaleden, who has enlisted, protesting against the Council having included the property of the latter in the recent tax sale. It was not known till then that Mr Whittaker had enlisted. The Municipality bought the property and will not resell it till after the war.

W. C. Kelley complained of the cutting of some old telephone poles so that a stump remained and of his fence having been broken by one of the falling poles. The Electric Light Committee was instructed to make good any damage done.

The Okanagan Telephone Co. asked the Council to keep trimmed the trees in front of Dr Andrew's home so they would not touch their wires during a wind. They claimed that this had been promised but there was no record at the Municipal Office of any such agreement.

J. McDougald of Peachland wrote asking for appointment as electrician.

Messrs J. L. Hilborn and Wm. Ritchie presented a resolution passed at a public meeting asking the Council to contribute to the military Y.M.C.A. The Clerk expressed the opinion that such a grant would be illegal. The delegates were promised that the matter would be looked into.

Promising assistance with his team, Mr Wm. Ritchie asked that the hill beside his house be cut down. That there were many hills to be cut down was the Reeve's reply. Coun. Simpson urged that when the Council could get such assistance as offered by Mr Ritchie they should try and avail themselves of it.

When the prospective court case, McAlpine versus Summerland, came up for discussion, Coun. Stark said it looked as if it would cost the Municipality a good deal of money whether won or lost. He was doubtful if the Council would win, and thought it better to make a settlement with McAlpine. The others all agreed that if that would end it such might be advisable. They did not feel so doubtful of successfully defending the Municipality, and feared any settlement might create a precedent. That such a compromise would place all future Councils in an awkward position was the opinion of the Reeve. After considerable more discussion showing a general desire not to make a move that might encourage other claims for damages the matter was laid on the table.

The chairman of the Electric Light Committee, Coun. Stark, and the Clerk were instructed to arrange a contract with Electrician Thornber.

The dam at Trout Creek headwaters and the one on Canyon Creek need some repairs. Coun. Johnston was given the responsibility of attending to these with power to take or send men to do the work.

That it will be no longer necessary to go by way of Peachland to reach the Eneas Creek dam was reported by Coun. Johnston, who

Concert Under Hospital Auspices

To help keep down the deficits which have such a persistent way of accumulating, the Summerland Hospital Society has completed arrangements for the Royal Gwent Welsh Singers to give their performance here under the auspices of the Society during their visit to this province in November. The completion of these arrangements was reported by the secretary at the regular monthly meeting of the Hospital Board on Tuesday.

Fourteen tons of anthracite coal have been put in the hospital basement for furnace use.

To facilitate the work at the Hospital, a second annunciator will be installed at a convenient point in the lobby, so that when a call is made from one of the wards it will not be necessary, as at present, for the nurse on duty to go to the kitchen to ascertain from which room the call comes.

McAlpine vs. Summerland

The case of McAlpine vs. Summerland, a suit for damages resulting from an alleged leak in a domestic water main near T. J. McAlpine's home, is fixed for hearing in the county court which sits at Vernon on Oct. 30th. While at Vernon this week Coun. Simpson and Municipal Clerk Logie will confer with the municipal solicitors regarding the case.

Was Fighting At The Last.

Letter From Comrade Tells How Pte. Callan Is Missing.

The following extract from a letter written by Private Percy Holder to his mother here gives details of the fighting following which Private R. L. Callan was posted as missing, as announced in another column. It gives a glimpse of the young Summerland soldier actually at grips with the enemy. If he has met death, it will be in a manner that all Summerland will be proud of, but the Review joins with other friends in hoping that he still lives, even though it be a prisoner or wounded.

Bombing Section,
54th Battalion, France.

Dear Mother:

I expect you have had news about Bob Callan before now. Our fellows made a raid into the German trenches the other night, and Bob is missing. He may be killed or perhaps wounded and captured by the Germans. The last that was seen of him he was using his knob-kerry on a German over the parapet of their trenches, but we hope he has been captured. Jim Gordon and I were not in the raid.

An extract from another letter from Pte Holder also contains much that is of local interest:

Bob Callan threw up his stripe soon after we left Vernon. Howie is full corporal. Young Simpson did not come over with us, he got an office job in England. I saw Jim Forsyth the other day. He said that Jack Steven was not brought in. He thinks he was killed by shell fire.

Fresh Casualties From Peachland

J. Buchanan & "Billy" Aitkins Named Among Wounded.

This week two more names have been added to Peachland's already very heavy list of casualties. Dr Buchanan has been advised by wire of the wounding of his son Pioneer John M. Buchanan while in a recent engagement, having suffered injury to the hip.

About the same time Mr Clement Aitkins was advised that his son Pte. Clement W. Aitkins had been wounded in the foot. His brother is now at home recuperating from shell shock.

Both boys enlisted some time ago and their many friends will wait anxiously hoping to learn that their wounds are not serious.

Sgt. J. L. McMillan, formerly of Peachland, but who enlisted from Kelowna, where his parents, Mr and Mrs Dan McMillan now reside, was this week posted among the Canadians killed in action.

An exchange of properties has been made between Mr L. S. Melrose, Garnett Valley and Mr Jas. Hayward of Innisfail, Alberta. Mr Melrose expects to go to the prairie farm early in November, taking with him a carload of pure bred horses and about the same time Mr Hayward, with his son and daughter will take possession of their new property here.

We have just got back from a spell in the trenches and were lucky not to have lost many men taking into account the amount of ammunition Fritz spent on us.

Summerland Apples Are Circling the Globe.

Local Shippers Rushed to Fill Carlot Orders From Every Continent.

Fame of Our Fruit Opens Markets Offering Great Possibilities for Future.

On every continent on the face of the globe the fame of Summerland apples is spreading. Begun in a small way some years ago the shipping of our apples overseas has now reached large proportions, and the business has widened out till now every continent is asking for our highly colored, juicy, delicious fruit.

The Orient and the Antipodes are being supplied with our apples through the port of Vancouver, Brazil and Argentina. In South America, several of the principal seaports of South Africa, as well as the markets of Britain, are being served through Canadian and American points on the Atlantic seaboard.

For several weeks past our shipping concerns have been flooded with orders for "export stuff," which means fruit of the finest quality in every way, and this business has been demanding much of their attention. Occasional reference has already been made in these columns to shipments of export apples made from here during the past few weeks. This week we hear of continued activity in this line which keeps the Dominion fruit inspectors busy, as every box of apples for export must comply with the high standard fixed by the Fruit Marks Act.

While the New Zealand and Australian markets require a small apple the shipments to South America are made up of 72s, 80s, 88s, and up to 150s, thus taking care of the larger varieties.

Among the recent shipments by the Summerland Fruit Union were a carload of apples each for South Africa, South America, and Australia. Such distant home markets as Toronto and Prince Rupert each had a carload from here this week. The Union will ship two more cars to South America, one on the 25th inst. and the other on Nov. 10th.

Another car for New Zealand, shipped by Alex. Steven, started on its long journey this week. Fifteen hundred boxes of apples were packed by A. Stewart & Son this week for Hong Kong, China, the exporters being the B.C. Growers, Kelowna. Through the same concern a car of Cox's Orange Pippin, packed by Stewart's, found a market in England. Another car of this variety, so favored in England, was shipped last Saturday by the Union. The Union has also sent forward to England for distribution a carload of "Christmas Apples," being fruit ordered on this side as Christmas presents for friends in the Homeland. At least one other car of Christmas apples will be sent from Summerland.

The high quality of fruit produced by Peachland and Naramata is also opening for those points the same widely scattered markets as enjoyed by Summerland growers. On Wednesday morning some 800 boxes went out from Naramata district for Australia.

Heating System of the Central School Proposal Of Contractor To Wholly Replace Old Plant Meets With Favor Of Trustees.

Suggestion Strongly Condemned By Secretary Resulting In Delaying Action.

Trustees Will Further Investigate Other Heating Plants.

The even tenor of procedure, usually so unvaried at the meetings of the School Board, was very much disturbed when the secretary interrupted negotiations between the Board and the heating contractor at a special sitting on Tuesday morning. The contractor had motored down from Vernon, and having stated to Trustee Hilborn to whom had been delegated much of the work in connection with arranging for reheating the Central School building that he wished to make another proposition that would permit the installing of two furnaces without further cash outlay, a special meeting had been called. Present were: Chairman, Dr Sawyer; Trustees Mrs Kelley and Mr Hilborn, beside the secretary, contractor Wallace and a Review representative.

The new proposal was in writing and was represented as being $200 or $300 better than the original tender. As understood by the Review, the original desire of the Board was to put a hot air furnace under each end of the building, but when it was learned that a cash outlay of $650 would be required a change was made in the plans that would make it necessary to still use the old hot water plant which all had condemned as unsatisfactory and expensive to operate, and a furnace was installed to help heat the two north rooms. For this the contractor was to be paid $200 in cash and given the radiators no longer needed.

The furnace has already been put in but the work had not been wholly completed, the contractor stat-

Scotch Soldier Posted as Missing

In the casualty lists appearing in the papers of Saturday last, the name of Robert L. Callan appears among those who are designated with that uncertain fate "missing." The regimental number given corresponds to the number known to his relatives here, and it is feared that there is no doubt as to the identity of the casualty.

He enlisted last year into the 54th Battalion, but it is understood that he had later been transferred, going over to France with some other unit. With that battalion he gained the rank of Lance-Corporal, but it is thought that he must have relinquished this promotion later, and become a private again. He was a keen volunteer in Scotland before coming to this country, but owing to some slight defect to an eye, he experienced no little difficulty in joining up last year. He was especially well known around the upper town, and the Scotch fraternity especially will learn with regret that one of their membership has suffered an unknown fate.

Mrs T. H. Ramsay of this place is a sister of Private Callan.

LATER—The Review has been enabled through the kindness of Mrs Holder to publish elsewhere part of a letter from her son, Percy, who is in the 54th Battalion, Bombing Section, with Pte. Callan. It throws light upon the fighting following which Pte Callan cannot yet be accounted for.

ing that he still hoped that the Board would reconsider the matter and install a second furnace. He was anxious to make a satisfactory job of heating the building, and as at present arranged it would not give entire satisfaction. He would guarantee satisfaction if his recommendations were carried out, and as he stated, in order not to leave an opening for complaint and have here a heating system that would not do him credit he had decided to make the new and better offer to put in the second furnace under the two front rooms, and with it hot water coils to supply radiators in the lavatories at each end of the building, and would not ask for further cash payment, taking only the hot water boiler which now leaks badly and which he valued only as junk and the remaining radiators and pipes not needed for the lavatory heaters. Connection would be made between one of the furnaces and all the rooms so that only one furnace need be fired in milder weather.

The proposal was considered by the Chairman and Trustee Hilborn as surprisingly generous.

It seemed as though, after arranging some further details, the Board would accept the newer proposal from Contractor Wallace, had not Secretary Logie interrupted by flatly condemning the whole thing, and told Mr Wallace that he was trying to "do" the Board. They were scrapping a $1,600 plant and were only making matters worse. He for one would not stand for it. After considerable talk matters began to warm up and Mr Hilborn, failing to reassure the secretary, declared he could not see what the latter was kicking about. He had favored putting in the two furnaces as first planned, one under each end, and which would have made it necessary to always run both furnaces even during week-ends and holidays. Now, as proposed, one furnace would do in mild weather and days when there was no school. It looked to him as if Mr Logie just wanted to kick. Dr Sawyer, who stated that he also had had considerable experience with heating plants, approved of the new proposition, while Mrs Kelley, asking frequent questions, seemed in doubt only as to the value of the old plant. Secretary Logie still maintained his stand, and the argument continued for some time, participated in by all. The chairman remarked that he could not see that it was necessary to carry on the argument between Mr Logie and the Board, for, as he understood it, it is for the Board to transact the business, and an effort was made to finally dispose of the matter.

Mrs Kelley asked the contractor what the present plant was worth, and was told that the boiler was worth 1 1/2c. per lb. at the Coast, but the freight charges would render it almost valueless. Radiators were not now saleable, and those, with the pipe, he would have to put in stock.

Mr Logie declared the radiators were worth just as much as ever, when they were wanted, and that hot water heating was the best and cleanest method. He would leave

SPREADING OUR FAME.

MENTION HAS BEEN MADE from time to time in the Review of the exportation of apples to foreign markets. In former years a few stray carloads from the Okanagan have found their way to foreign ports, but this season the business seems to have reached wonderfully large proportions. Apples from the Okanagan are going west to Vancouver for ocean shipment in all directions across the Pacific. On the Atlantic seaboard the same is true. Does not this expansion of the markets for Okanagan products indicate that those responsible for placing the crop are taking hold of their business in a progressive and up-to-date manner? And does not this fact presage the coming of better times for the fruit grower? His career up to now has certainly been chequered, and if financial success comes his way now it was never better deserved.

Once the business of marketing Okanagan fruit was lifted out from the chaotic state of a few years ago, and a place for the Valley firmly established in the prairie provinces, it did not take long to see that markets farther afield would have to be sought to take care of the ever increasing output. This has been one of the most serious problems the larger shipping concerns have had to face, and the fact that Okanagan apples are now traversing the seven seas would seem to show that the proper solution has been found.

Whatever adverse conditions apple growers in other sections have had to meet this season, the Okanagan apple men have had little to complain of. Indeed it is a fact that the real advantage of the new tariff imposed against American fruit last spring will not be as apparent this year as subsequently, perhaps, when conditions may not happen to be so favorable to the Okanagan as above other apple districts.

IN UNITY THERE IS STRENGTH.

GO BACK IN HISTORY OF CITIES and communities as far as you like, and you will find that harmony was the keynote of success. Nothing has ever been achieved by adverse criticism and factional disputes. You may not like the cut of my coat and I may not like your hat, but there is no reason why we can't work together without picking and digging and nagging each other.

Some of the sweetest dispositioned children have been irredeemably spoiled by continual fault finding. Probably there are some people with considerable tact who can tell us of our glaring faults without getting our ill-will, but such are few and far between.

More can be done for this community by upbuilding it than trying to tear down the existing structures, even if you don't like the color of the paint, or as old sailors say, the "cut of his jib."

We all want Summerland to succeed. We want more permanent residents and more live boosters. Those who are here are doing all they can, but we always welcome new blood and new ideas.

We may not be able to get all we want, but one thing is certain, that if we don't go after things, they will never come after us. Working in harmony, we can accomplish great things. We do not need to attend the same church or vote the same ticket to be at unity in doing things for our home town.

Some Changes In Fall Fair Prize List.

Some recent alterations and additions to the Prize List of the Fall Fair should add to its attraction and increase the number of entries. In all classes of pigs the age limit of the spring pigs has been raised to nine months, while for both pure bred and grade that section for one year old heifers has been made to include heifers of any age from one year up.

A cup to be known as the "Cupulet" Cup has been put up by the owner of that hackney sire for the best colt by that horse. The cup when won twice will become the property of the winner.

Being popular consists largely in remembering what to forget.

Provincial Constable E. C. Graham came down from Kelowna in his car for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Graham and son Glenn are going up to the Orchard City to reside, expecting to leave in a week or so.

Both Methodist services will be held down town on Sunday, in the morning at 11 and in the evening at 7. At the evening service, which will be of the nature of a special thanksgiving, Miss Harrison's choir will unite with the regular choir in rendering special thanksgiving music.

Words of highest praise for Lieut. Ned Bentley were conveyed to his mother here in a recent letter to her from the officer second in command of his regiment. Mrs. Bentley is, of course, very proud of the honor given her son. Mrs. Bentley expects to leave soon for a visit to England.

The Blood In The Apple.

By ANTHONY EUWER in The Literary Digest.

The following suggestive poem sets forth very admirably the heedless attitude of many a consumer of fruit in regard to the conditions under which the fruit is raised. The picture of fruit ranch life may have fitted in quite well with the pioneer days in this Valley, but it seems that this district at any rate has progressed considerably from the somewhat primitive conditions set forth in this verse. There always will be present, of course, an element of uncertainty in regard to visitations of pests, bad weather, and such like.

These lines are worthy of careful reading.

You city folk who night and day
 Loiter and stare along Broadway,
 And, pausing by some fruiterer's
 shop,
 You city folk—do you ever stop
 To count the cost of those radiant wares,
 Spitzenburgs luscious and Anjou
 pears,
 Winter Banana and Gravenstein,
 Crimson and gold in their sun-washed sheen?
 Winds of the west their cheeks have fanned
 Down endless tracts of orchard land.
 Each nectar drop in that golden feast
 Was a drop of sweat from man and beast.
 The crimson there of deep, rich hue
 Had its component in years of blue—
 The blue, blue awful first long years
 Of fat'ring hopes and cank'ring fears,
 Of wond'ring how in the name of God
 You're going to hold your piece of sod,
 And go without the things you need,
 And pay your help, and buy your feed,
 While it all goes out and there's nothing comes in,
 And your credit's called when you're minus tin.

Two hours before you glimpse the light,
 And make your way by lantern's
 glow
 Out through the chill and driving snow
 To tend and feed the beasts that live
 By grace of what you choose to give,
 Till dawn unfolds familiar lines
 Of outhouse roofs and snow-clad pines,
 And when the last chore's done you say
 You're ready now to start the day.

Do you know what the trees have weathered through
 That bore that golden fruit for you?
 Blight and mold, the dozen plagues
 That fly with wings and crawl with legs,
 Aphids, Weevils—marshalled in hosts
 Along each bough till they give up their ghosts
 In a sulphur-lime death-dealing drench
 Or a Black-leaf Forty's choking stench.
 Do you know the feel to find a tree
 That's reached a three-year's growth, and see
 It's leaves all limp, its roots out clean—
 'Twas gophered there in the ground
 unseen.
 You can pull it out—no need to jerk
 When the gophers quit their ghoulish work.
 At all their holes your traps are set
 And some you miss and some you get,
 But you might as well fish up the sea
 As trap a Gopher colony,
 For their dead have fathers, sisters,
 brothers,
 Uncles, aunts, and hungry mothers,
 And every one of the cave-born brutes.
 Is horribly fond of apple roots.
 When they've gophered your tree,
 it's gone, that's all,
 You just forget it and plant next fall.

You city folk, that fruit you see
 It wasn't by chance, you take it from me!
 Do you know what it is to clear
 your copse
 And fell your trees with a gang of Wops,
 And shoot your stumps, and shatter rocks
 With dynamite at five a box,
 And yank your roots, and fill your holes,
 And drive the drag to level the rolls
 While the dust and grime go filt'ring in
 Each leaky pore in your swelt'ring
 skin,
 And the fir-bark splinters calmly
 glide
 Through the holes in your mitts to your hands inside,
 Which gives you something to blaspheme at
 When you've chiseled the pitch from your hands with "Scat?"
 Do you know what it is, you city folk,
 To be consecrate to the ranchman's yoke?
 To wake with your hands all cramped and sore
 From the clutch on your axe the day before,
 Then crawl into the icy night

he became worthless.
 Mrs Kelley: I know there always has been trouble with the old heating plant.
 Mr Logie: Yes, and there will be trouble again.
 Mrs Kelley: Already the results from the one furnace now in are very satisfactory.
 Mr Wallace told of having heated nearly all the schools and many buildings in the Valley, and was prepared to stake his reputation that he would give satisfaction.
 Mr Logie: A government architect had approved of the hot water plans.
 Dr Sawyer: If he did the only place for him was in an insane asylum. Dr Sawyer reminded the Board that before they could use the old furnace there would be considerable expense for repairs. It was looking badly.
 The hour to give way to the Council having arrived Dr Sawyer proposed that all three Trustees present should make further investigations while at Vernon this week when they could give Friday morning to the matter. This would be more satisfactory to the people assuring that no change would be made without careful investigation and he suggested deferring final action till they returned.

Designed this year it will ornament and enhance the good appearance of the tidiest kitchen in all Canada.

A REQUEST

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS are asked when responding to a telephone call, to give their OWN NAME OR NUMBER.

For instance, if, when his phone rings, Mr Green would give his name instead of saying "hello" the speaker at the other end of the wire would at once know he HAD THE NUMBER ASKED FOR, without enquiring further. Thus on every call time would be saved, and the efficiency of the service greatly increased.

If this method of response has not been your practice begin to-day.

HEATING SYSTEM OF CENTRAL SCHOOL.

Mr Wallace informed the Board that it would cost $500 to instal the second furnace, which meant that he was allowing that much for this old material.

Mr Logie: I have nothing to say, but as a ratepayer I don't approve of junking the old plant. He admitted a mistake had been made in putting it in but did not want to make another. The whole community should be taken into the confidence of the board; it was too serious a question to decide in this way.

Chairman Sawyer: We would get no nearer the facts by a referendum.

Mrs Kelley felt that Dr Sawyer and Mr Hilborn both had good knowledge of heating, and she would rely on their judgment as to what was the best system. Perhaps by holding on to the old radiators for a time a better price could be gotten.

The building was of such a nature that the hot water radiators never did and never could heat it, declared Mr. Hilborn, and to scrap a half worn out plant was like getting rid of a horse before he became worthless.

Mrs Kelley: I know there always has been trouble with the old heating plant.

Mr Logie: Yes, and there will be trouble again.

Mrs Kelley: Already the results from the one furnace now in are very satisfactory.

Our soldier visitors have, with one or two exceptions, returned to their various units to further pursue their training. J. A. Noyes and H. Steers, recently raised to the rank of provisional lieutenants, have returned to Camp Sidney. Pte. Frank Hughes, home over the holiday, left on final leave for Vernon.

The numerous friends of Pte. Lewis J. Block, will be pleased to note the following extract from Petawawa Camp promotion orders: "Pte. No. 798 Lewis Julius Block is promoted to rank of Armament Artificer Staff Sergeant, to date from Sept. 1st, 1916, and is attached to No. 11 Station, Esquimalt, B.C., Canadian Ordnance Corps."

Pte. T. I. Williams is home on leave from Mara where he is stationed at present.

A landslide along the south shore of the lake has caused some little inconvenience to vehicular traffic. At the same time the substantial nature of this and one or two other slides during the last few years would seem to suggest the wisdom of washing down the more threatening portions.

Current Events - OF - Town & District

Dr. R. C. Lipsett was across to Naramata on Thanksgiving Day.

Mr and Mrs A. Town of Peachland were visitors over Monday evening as guests at the home of Mr J. M. Robinson.

Mr V. L. Watson was home for a week-end visit from the Coquihalla where his engineering duties during the construction of the snow sheds will detain him for some while yet.

Mr A. H. Mulford, accompanied by his wife and family, left on Tuesday morning for Vernon, where he has accepted a position with P. Burns & Co. During his stay at Naramata Harry made many friends who all will unite in wishing him well in his new sphere of duty.

October 19th has been set apart as a special day upon which a special effort will be made to raise funds for the Red Cross. In one way it is regrettable that these special days and special spurts are necessary, considering the imperative demands upon all mankind to help on with this work. But let us face conditions as we find them, and rally to the help of the needy. Better stick the date up, Oct. 19th.

The social evening given by a few of the Unity Club ladies in aid of the Red Cross Society recently in the Unity Club Parlor, resulted in quite a lift financially, there being a big attendance. Games of various kinds were indulged in by the younger set, and toward the close some of the older people danced an old-fashioned quadrille, which afforded great amusement for at least those who were lookers on. Refreshments were served. The total proceeds amounted to something over eight dollars. Music was furnished by Mesdames Langueod, Robinson and Bopthe.

Mrs Cash has returned home again after a pleasant month's holiday with friends at Grand Forks.

Mr John McLean of Summerland spent the Thanksgiving holiday at the home of Mrs J. M. Robinson.

Mr McCutcheon, the Summerland barber, was in Naramata one day last week, and while here was kept busy at his trade.

A party of our young people made a special ferry trip to Penticton on Sunday evening. The night being very fine the lake trip was much enjoyed in the moonlight.

Mrs Carroll Aikins gave a tea in aid of the Red Cross funds on Thursday afternoon at her home Rekadom Ranch. Rigs of various kinds were supplied and a goodly number responded. All report a very pleasant afternoon spent.

The Department of Education have so far recognized the date of the Naramata Show as to declare the afternoon of that day, Thursday next, Oct. 19th, a school holiday in order to allow teachers and pupils an opportunity to attend.

On account of the new regulations now put into force Naramatians are receiving their western mail by noon ferry boat, thus enabling them to read their Vancouver papers six or seven hours sooner than formerly. This event was ushered in with much delight by the residents.

proceedings at 2 p.m. It is to be hoped that the citizens generally will respond to the call for entries, and that this, the first serious attempt at having a show of our own may prove a fine success.

Mrs J. M. Robinson left on Tuesday morning's K.V.R. en route to Spokane to join her husband who is on his way to Silver City, Idaho. Mr and Mrs Robinson will visit their son Campbell of the Mammoth Gold Mine of that place.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the residence of Mrs D. O. Hughes on Tuesday afternoon with the president Mrs F. Young presiding. At the close of the session a very interesting letter written by Capt. G. O. Fallis chaplain in France and now with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces was read by the secretary Mrs M. M. Allen. Refreshments were then served by the hostess.

Edmund and Ralph Boothe were the recipients of two souvenir buttons cut off the tunic of a dead German on the battlefield in France. On one of the buttons was left some of the cloth, the color being between a green and grey tinge.

The regular yearly Thanksgiving divine service was conducted in the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon last by Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland. The church was very beautifully decorated for the occasion. There was a large attendance.

The school has been suffering somewhat lately from the absence of many of its higher grade pupils who have been called out to assist at the various packing houses owing to the great flood of apples now being packed and shipped out to different points.

The magnitude of the fruit output from Naramata this year is certainly being given emphasis from the fact that the present capacity of the packing plant is proving all too inadequate to cope with the situation. The management have sought to control the situation through having only such varieties of apples picked as were in line for immediate shipment. This lack of room however is a matter for Fruit Union directors to consider and settle before the advent of the 1917 crop.

Young Man, Do you know

that some of the best paid men right here in B.C. educated themselves for advancement at home, right in the village or on the farm, and that they had no better chances than you have, some, indeed, being extremely poor, and only having a knowledge of reading and writing? These men have, through the study of International Correspondence Schools' courses, and a determination to succeed, risen to where they are. Why not you?

Others with good general education have found that without special training along one line, they could not hope for much in exchange for their services, and have taken up the International Correspondence Schools studies and made good.

The International Correspondence Schools have contracts now with over two hundred railroads alone for instructing their employees, including the C.P.R., the C.N.R., the B.C. Electric Rly., and the Dominion Government railways in Canada, and the text-books of the School which have become famous for their clearness, practicality, and thoroughness, are now used in nearly 800 large colleges and schools, including in Canada, McGill, Toronto University, Department of Technical Education, Halifax, Shawinigan Technical Institute and others. A large number of colleges in the United States, including the United States Government Aeronautical School, Army War College, etc., also use International Correspondence Schools text-books.

A large number of Agricultural Colleges are also using the International Correspondence Schools books in their classes in preference to all others.

Mrs Capt. Hatfield spent a day in Summerland this week with relatives, passing through on her way to Kaleden after a two weeks' stay at Halcyon Hot Springs, where she went for treatment. She went on to Kaleden by auto with her son, B. L. Hatfield, on Tuesday evening.

Mr J. M. J. Mowatt, of the Bank of Montreal, was a visitor out to Vancouver over last week-end. He went out on the Friday evening train and returned on Tuesday morning. Thanksgiving Day in Vancouver, he reports, was more like a midsummer day than a day well on into the fall.

Lieut. H. Rivington who has been in hospital for some weeks has so far recovered as to be able to take up work again. Though by no means well yet he has been sent to Dover where he is doing light sedentary duties with the 3rd Battalion, East Surrey Regiment at Grand Shaft Barracks.

Sergeant Major Alex. Grieve of the 131st Battalion, and his brother, Bandsman W. Grieve, of the 172nd, were down from the Vernon Camp for the holiday week-end. They came in on Saturday evening's boat and returned again on Tuesday morning. They visited with their mother, Mrs Grieve, and their sisters, Mrs McAlpine and Mrs Babbitt. Sergeant-Major Grieve was at one time a resident here, and later at Pentiction.

Thanksgiving Day was of the kind that tempted people out. The lucky car owners naturally took advantage of the pleasant conditions to go far afield, Pentiction, Vernon, Princeton and other points being reached by Summerland cars that day. Others took horse and buggy and went off, and nearly everyone enjoyed the customary Thanksgiving dinner, either in their own homes or with relatives and friends. Not a few who see much work ahead of them in gathering in their apple and other fall crops chose to put in at least a spell of work as usual, and celebrated the holiday mildly at the close of the day.

About ten or a dozen friends of Miss Helen Phinney gathered on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs E. C. Graham at her invitation, to honor Miss Phinney with a shower on the occasion of her approaching marriage to Mr W. Shaver of Portland, a former Okanagan College student. The gathering took on a somewhat unique nature, the guests being so garbed as to make a kimona party of it. A few gentlemen guests present wore also dressed in just as informal a fashion. Miss Phinney was completely surprised when the shower part of the program was reached, and she became the happy recipient of many gifts of beautiful linen.

A quantity of apples of winter varieties are being stored in the Empire Hall block by A. Steuart & Son

M. Steuart of A. Steuart & Son is in Calgary this week attending to some matters in connection with the business of his firm.

R. H. English and son of the Pioneer Livery announce that their car meets all eastbound trains at the Kettle Valley station, West Summerland.

Mrs J. Lock passed through this week on a Kettle Valley train, from Kaleden on her way to Ladner, where she will spend the winter with Mr and Mrs E. H. Lock.

Mr E. H. Smith who entered the hospital from Mineola and was operated on last Friday for a serious case of appendicitis is reported as doing well. Mr Smith came from Westbank to Mineola.

Private Sismey of the Army Medical Corps came down from Vernon last week-end, his first holiday since joining up with the forces, having been granted special leave in order to give much needed help at the Union packing house.

Rev. F. W. Pattison, for some time the esteemed pastor of the Summerland Baptist Church and later assistant to Dr Campbell Morgan, London, England, is doing magnificent work as pastor of the College Church of East Northfield, Mass.—Exch.

On Wednesday morning of each week the electric current will be available from 9 to 12, for ironing or any other use. Municipal Electrician Thornber states that as yet there is not enough current being used to warrant continuing the service. He would like to have all those householders who appreciate the service make use of it, else it must be discontinued.

The name of E. Rea, West Summerland, B.C., appeared among the list of wounded this week. No one of that name enlisted from here but it seems quite certain that the casualty is a brother of the late Ross Rea, of this place. His brother, E. Rea, enlisted quite a while before Ross and it is supposed that he gave his brother's name and address for notification. This is the opinion of their aunt, Miss M. Aitchison.

A friendly test case to decide who were the owners of certain cattle was heard before Judge Swanson here on Tuesday. Messrs. Shearer & Kennedy of Edmonton claimed they had entrusted a number of cows to the late Mr L. C. Woodworth and which had been exchanged for horses. After hearing the evidence from both sides the court decided in favor of the Edmonton firm, without costs and ordered that the cows be returned to them and that the present holders of the cows be given back their horses. Mr W. C. Kelley appeared for the local men interested, and for the Indian Department, a number of cows having been traded off to Indians, and W. Clayton, Pentiction, for Shearer & Kennedy.

Hard as the lot of the soldier in the trenches may be, that of the prisoner of war in Germany is worse. There the feeling of freedom is replaced by the repugnant idea of constant surveillance, and it is well known that compared to prison camp conditions, life in the trenches is full of luxury. To ameliorate in some measure the privations of the prisoners in Germany, the Canadian Red Cross Society has a Prisoners of War Department through which parcels are sent to the prisoners in Germany. Not only food but clothing and other necessities are forwarded as well. Some people harbor doubts as to whether such packages are allowed by the German authorities to reach their true destinations, but the scores of acknowledgements from Canadian prisoners prove that there is no ground for any such doubts. Mrs C. H. Gayton has taken up the direction of any efforts that are made locally for the fund in aid of the prisoners of war, and already cash has been sent forward for the cause. She will gladly supply any information to those interested.

"Children's Day" in Public Schools.

Nov. 15th throughout all Canada will be known as the "Children's Day," when they will be given a special opportunity to contribute toward the relief of the suffering children of school age in stricken Belgium. Already the children of the Okanagan and other parts of B.C. are preparing to make the effort a huge success.

July fifteenth was in England set apart as such a children's day, and so great was the success that the children of Canada have been asked through our Governor-General to help in the same way. The request was passed on to the Lieut.-Governor of each province. At Victoria Lieut.-Governor Barnard introduced the idea to the Department of Education, and approving of it they in turn have asked the principal of every school to organize his or her school.

The children are asked not to obtain their contributions from their parents nor to collect it otherwise, but to give of their own allowances or earnings. Already a number have set to work to earn some money so that they may pass it on to the homeless and hungry little ones in brave Belgium. The teachers of the different departments are acting as treasurers, and any amount, no matter how small, will be received up to Nov. 15th.

Will Keep Out Laborers.

An order-in-council has been passed by the Dominion Government extending for another period of six months the prohibition against the entry of artisans and laboring immigrants into the province of British Columbia.

Hope of Soldier Expressed in Letter. Another Would Like List of Local Men in France.

France, Sept. 16th.

Madam,
Thank you very much indeed for the parcel, which I received yesterday. It was all the more welcome as it was quite unexpected.

There are no Summerland men in my Company, No. 1, as we recruited in the north, Prince George, Prince Rupert, and towns in between and adjoining the G.T.P. I know Sgt. Hickey and a few others in No. 2 Company, but I do not see much of them as a Pioneer Battalion is seldom all together. We have been here only two days, and previous to that were on the road for six.

I can't of course tell you where, but this part of the front has been occupying quite a prominent place in the papers lately. We are all hoping to be out of it all by Christmas, and by the way things have been going in our favor lately I think we stand a very fair chance.

Wishing Summerland the best of good luck, and again thanking you for the parcel,

I remain,
Yours sincerely,
G. E. ASHTON.

France, Sept. 9th, 1916.

Dear Mrs Hogg,

Will you please thank the ladies who so kindly sent me such useful gifts and assure them that they are most acceptable.

You may be sure that the most trifling remembrance from home is appreciated by your boys. We know what the mail means in this country where we have no pleasures or recreations.

Since coming over here I have often wished for a list of Summerlanders in France, with their units. We are not with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, but sometimes see them along the line. They have a way of making themselves known, even in the dark, especially if the roads are muddy.

I am sure such a list would help us to find our friends, and I, for one, would look forward to receiving it, if you good ladies would consider sending lists to all your boys.

With thanks for your thoughtfulness.

I remain, Sincerely
GORDON KERR.

Western Products Win Gold Medal.

Westerners will learn with interest that a gold medal was awarded to the Canadian Pacific Railway for the excellence of its exhibit at the Quebec Exhibition a few weeks ago. The gold medal was for the collective grain display, which was gathered in Western Canada, and was representative of the various grain crops of the Western Provinces. The daily attendance at the Quebec Exhibition ran as high as 75,000, and a very great interest in the agricultural possibilities of Western Canada was shown by the visitors.

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS.

said that Game Warden Gartrell had cut a trail from Fish Lake to the dam and that route would be much shorter.

Mr. Logie reported having been visited by government agents who informed him that "fish ladders" must be built into the municipal dams.

Coun. Simpson had been asked to bring the matter of bank location before the Council and ask if they would take any action toward obtaining the removal. Coun. Stark said that when the petition was circulated it was for the purpose of inducing the bank to reopen the sub-agency, and he felt that both centres should have a bank office. He did not favor the Council taking any stand. In this he was supported by the others. Coun. Simpson was of the same opinion but believed it quite in order for the Council to get a second bank to open here.

T. B. Young wanted permission to erect a drinking trough on the road side. It was not then granted.

Coun. Stark suggested the building of a piece of sidewalk along the west side of the Supply Co.'s upper store to be graded up to the height of the walk in front. Coun. Johnston said that nothing had yet been done to do away with the numerous steps in the sidewalks in that vicinity. That a reliable man be employed to put all the sidewalks in the Municipality in good condition was the suggestion of Coun. Simpson. This was decided upon.

Upon his request Coun. Johnston was authorized to have ditches and culverts made to carry the water off that now gathers at the tank on the roadside south of Dale's corner.

It was decided that the services of Irrigation Superintendent Thomson will not be needed longer than this week.

Asks For Free Apples To Be Sent.

Markets Commissioner Sees That Much Can Be Done Educationally at Calgary Show Next Week.

Referring to the first Soil Products Exhibition to be held in Calgary next week Markets Commissioner W. E. McTaggart writes:

"The Calgary jobbers are giving the show every support and growers from many parts of British Columbia have signified their intention of making a display, although there is still room for a good many more.

"The livestock sales are to be held on the grounds at the same time, and at these sales farmers from all parts of the province will bid and dicker for the fattest pig and the 'woolliest' sheep, at the same time giving the Soil Products Exhibition a good deal of attention. British Columbia fruit will of course be the best attraction of all.

"Your Markets Commissioner will be very grateful indeed to any growers who can ship to him some apples for judicious distribution at the Soil Products Exhibition. By the handing out of an apple to enquirers and others who display some interest in the show many friends can be won for British Columbia apples, while a scramble or two will add some life to the exhibition. Those who can see their way clear to sending a box of apples will indeed be helping the work of the display. All transportation charges will be paid for at this end."

Good Demand For High Grade Apples at Coast

In his report of Saturday last, Coast Markets Commissioner R. C. Abbott makes the following comment on the apple situation in Vancouver: During the last two weeks the major portion of the trade went to the cheaper grade of apples and the sales were large. This condition has changed, and the demand is running strong for the high-class eating apples and the best grades of cooking apples.

This same condition showed in the apple trade during the last two seasons, and the demand for the higher grade ran strong up to the end of the year.

There are good quantities of apples coming in from the Gulf Islands. These show up well, and we hear many comments on the excellent quality and color this year, as well as the improvement in pack and grade.

We note the Ben Davis variety of apple is being put on the market now and several other late or winter varieties. This is a mistake, as these varieties are out of their season and will be sold cheap in order to move them. One of the chief reasons why fruits do not bring some growers more money is because of the fact that they do not study the time to pick and place on the market the different kinds and varieties.

Both the wholesale and retail trade look for a good, strong brisk business in the apple line here, just as soon as the poor grade is off the market. This usually hangs around until about the last week in October.

Peachland Buys Cemetery Site.

Title to be Acquired from Townsite Co.

Other Business Transacted at Monthly Council Meeting.

The Corporation of the District of Peachland, according to the decision of the Municipal Council, will henceforth own and control the cemetery, until now the property of the Peachland Townsite Company. Negotiations for the purchase have been pending for some time, and the approval of the Board of Health, given at the regular monthly sitting of the Council last week, gave final confirmation, the Townsite company having already assented to the transfer of its interests upon payment of $300, this sum to be applied on taxes account. All the surveyed plots had been sold by the company, and one of the first duties of the new owners will be to have more plots surveyed, the fences put in order, and the property cleaned up.

There were present: Reeve Morrison and Councillors Douglas, Hardy and Pope, Coun. Hogg being at the convention in Vernon.

An after-clap of the Tupper appeal came up with the reading of a communication from the municipal solicitors, Messrs Cochrane & Lader, asking for a cheque for $56.10 to settle appellants' costs. The Treasurer was instructed to forward the amount.

Against the desire of a few members of the Board and with the regrets of all, the Clerk was instructed to advise the Secretary of the Union of B.C. Municipalities that finances would not permit the Council becoming a member of that useful organization.

A requisition from Electrician McLaughlan for some air and water valves for the power plant was referred to Chairman Hogg of the Lighting Committee, with authority to purchase what valves were needed.

The Okanagan Telephone Co., in reply to a complaint from the Council that its employees had left limbs, etc., lying along the road where they recently cleared along the company's lines, authorized the removal of the rubbish at the expense of the company.

Accounts as follows, recommended by the Finance Committee, were ordered to be paid:

Wages	$202.20
Telephone rentals	4.75
S. N. Cutbill	8.00
Pacific Coast Pipe Co., col-lars	17.76
Wm. Dryden, interest on note	27.00
Mrs W. A. Lang, rent	30.00
Total	$289.71

Flour Now $10.

Yet Higher Prices Predicted

The local price of flour has now reached the high figure of $10 per bbl. and is sure to go higher. A telegram from an Alberta milling company to the Fruit Union received here on Wednesday tells of another advance of 20c. for 100 lbs. over last week's quotations. New shipments arriving here, not only of flour but all wheat products, are commanding higher prices. Local dealers are now asking $5 for a 98 lb. sack of best patents.

At Vancouver the wholesale price of this grade is now $9.80 per bbl.

Brisk Business In Export Apples Still Being Maintained.

Apples for exportation to our distant markets are still going through our packing houses in large quantity. Thousands of boxes of the finest of fruit have been started rolling in the last few days, Summerland, Peachland and Naramata all sharing in this business.

Manager Slater of the Peachland Fruit Union has, with shortage of help found it difficult to keep up with the demand for export stuff which he is sending in parcels from time to time to the Okanagan United Growers at Vernon for reshipping.

On Saturday, what is said to be the heaviest carload of apples shipped from the Valley went from here billed for Australia. It contained 1100 boxes, and was shipped by the Union. The day before a car of 900 boxes was started rolling Coastward for export by the same organization. Naramata sent off 650 boxes of export apples on Saturday. A. Steuart & Son have recently sent off 1500 boxes for Australia and New Zealand, one car started rolling on Saturday and another on Tuesday and will be exported by the B.C. Growers.

Another car of 700 boxes destined for New Zealand was shipped on Wednesday by Alex. Steven. On Tuesday the Union sent up the lake another car lot for shipment with other export apples assembled at Vernon.

The prairie markets are not being neglected in the meantime as many carlots are also being sent in that direction by Steuart, the Union and others. T. J. Garnett went out with a car for Northern Saskatchewan on Wednesday, and will be followed by a second car which he will sell in the same district.

Fine Apple Display At Calgary Show.

Summerland apples bulk up well in the first Calgary Soil Products Exhibition this week; thanks to the enterprise of Messrs Lawler and Boies, who, seeing that individual growers were not responding well to the appeal for entries, packed and forwarded fifty boxes of Union apples on Saturday. These included Jonathan, Newtown, Wagner, Spy, McIntosh and Winter Banana, and among them were several packages intended for use elsewhere, and it meant considerable sacrifice to Mr Boies to let them go to Calgary. Mr Slater of the Peachland Fruit Union sent 5 boxes to represent that district. It is reported that 10 boxes were sent from the Pentiction Union.

The orchard of Mr J. A. Nolan of Summerland also has an exhibit. Over 450 boxes of apples of all varieties and 40 boxes of pears form the groundwork of the apple exhibit. The shining lustre of the fruit and the variegated colors formed a fitting background for the vegetable displays which have been arranged in the Arona.

"The apple section was a glorious success," says the Morning Albertan, "and the rows upon rows of shiny fruit, golden, green, yellow and red, were indeed a sight for sore eyes. The display made a memorable picture."

Walhachin sent a number of displays, which collectively are giving Okanagan's apples a chance for first place in the eyes of the crowds attending the show.

No. 1 McIntosh Reds are selling wholesale at Vancouver $2 per box, and are retailing at $2.25 and 6 cents per lb. in smaller quantities.

Summerland Wins First Honors At Calgary Exhibition.

Fifty Box Exhibit from S.F.U. Captures Diploma.

Information has been received here of the capture of the first diploma at the Calgary Soil Products Exhibition by the fifty box exhibit sent from here by the Summerland Fruit Union. These apples were prepared in a rush at the last moment by Jack Lawler, assisted by Mr Boies, when it seemed certain that otherwise Summerland would not be duly represented. The exhibit of the Walhachin Apple Growers' Association took second honors, giving Summerland a hard run for first place.

J. F. Reason of Pentiction was awarded first prize in the five-box display for one variety, his five boxes of McIntosh Reds being particularly fine specimens. The Belgian Orchard Syndicate of Vernon came second with five boxes of Jonathans, while Paul de Wolff of Chilliwack secured the third prize with Spys.

In the third class for displays of apples of any variety the Creston Fruit Growers' Union came off on top, with a fine exhibit made up of a number of winter varieties. The Anglesy Estates of Walhachin was second with a splendid thirty-five boxes from this new district, which has certainly proved itself during the past week. J. A. Nolan, of Summerland, was awarded third prize.

The result of the awards as wired the Vancouver Province gave Vernon credit for taking the first diploma, at the same time stating that the apples were packed by J. Lawler. The Board of Trade has wired that journal a correction.

School Properties Are Receiving Attention.

Preparing Plans For Beautification

Director Gibson and Trustee Hilborn Confer.

Further progress was made last Saturday toward the beautifying of the school grounds when Mr J. W. Gibson, Director of Agricultural Education, and Trustee Hilborn spent the morning laying out plans for the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers.

It is proposed to plow and prepare a strip 10 to 12 ft. wide inside the south and east walls along which trees will be set 30 ft. apart. Between the trees groups of shrubs will be placed and for the next year or two this strip will also accommodate all that will be undertaken in growing flowers.

On the north and west sides evergreens will be planted. The pupils of the High School will be asked to draw to scale a plan as outlined, which will be given any final touches necessary by Mr Gibson. The exact spot for every tree and shrub will be named on the plan. The trees, etc., will be furnished gratis by the Department, the Trustees being required to pay the freight only. One half the cost of preparing the grounds will also be borne by the Department. Afterwards a regular allowance for maintenance will be made in addition to further grants for school gardens.

Mr Hilborn will propose that the Municipality furnish a team for the plowing, and that a public "bee" be held to haul muck and do the other work. Thus no cash outlay will be required.

Mr Gibson, together with Trustees Hilborn and Sharp also visited the site of the new Trout Creek school and offered suggestions for the placing of the building and laying out of the grounds.

C.P.R. Dining Cars Are Featuring B.C. Apples.

This week on every dining car of the C.P.R. throughout Western Canada, B.C. apples are being featured. This is being done at considerable extra expense by the C.P.R. because they believe that our apples should be given prominence, and especially so when the Calgary Soil and Products Exhibition is to be opened next Tuesday.

Advocates Raising of Milch Goats in The Okanagan Valley.

The following contribution to the columns of the Review by the author, Mr N. F. Tunbridge, is commended to the serious consideration of our readers:—

About two years ago, just after my little girl was born, I thought that it would be well for me to get hold of a good, up-to-date work on general hygiene, so that Mrs Tunbridge and myself might learn what the medical profession advise us on the general principles of hygiene in the home, and more particularly in regard to diet, both for the food of ourselves and of our baby. I purchased a book on this subject by an Austrian doctor, Dr Arnold Lorand, of Carlsbad, Austria, a man very well known in European and American medical circles; and in this book, in a chapter on the very great advantage of a diet consisting largely of milk, which he calls the most valuable food there is, and of the great benefits of milk as a food for everyone, whether young or old, healthy or invalid, he remarks as follows:

"In order to derive the greatest possible benefit from this most excellent food, it would be necessary to take human milk, as thus we introduce in our system the internal secretions of human ductless glands and human ferments. Such good fortune, however, can only fall to the lot of infants, and we are sorry to say, not to all of them. Therefore we are obliged to use the milk of those animals which is the next best to human milk, for example, asses' milk. This, however, cannot be obtained easily; two pints of it would cost in some places about a dollar. The next best substitute is goats' milk, which also contains ten times as much iron as cows' milk. It is a great puzzle to us why the milk of this animal, which is richer in oil and albumen than cows' milk, is not much used. The goat is rarely subject to tuberculosis, which is also a strong argument for the use of its milk."

Now, up to the moment of reading that passage, I, in my deplorable ignorance, had considered the milch goat to be an animal of practically no value; an animal that smelt strong and would eat garbage; and the milk—well, I thought that must necessarily be strong too. In fact, if I had ever been asked what I thought about the milch goat, I would probably have turned up my nose and said, "Why, that's kept as a sort of back-yard scavenger, and only kept by those too poor to keep a cow." But these remarks, made by a doctor of the standing of Dr Lorand, immediately set me thinking, as I knew first, that tuberculosis was, and is, a disease very prevalent in Canada as well as in other countries.

Secondly, I knew that tuberculosis is very prevalent in cows. From the official reports of the United States during the years 1907-1914 inclusive, 579,617 goats were slaughtered and inspected for tuberculosis, and not one single animal was condemned for tuberculosis. On the other hand, during the year 1914 only, as many as 20,738 cows were condemned for tuberculosis in the States.

Thirdly, I knew that during the past decade, as indeed we have been told by Professor McDonald, the live stock commissioner, when he was here some three years ago, that it had been proved by experiment, and notably by a very conclusive experiment conducted at Edinburgh, that tuberculosis can be, and is, transmitted to the human race through cows' milk; and it seemed obvious that the amount of infection through cows' milk could not possibly be measured, and it might very well be that this source of infection is one of the Board of Trade's Request Too Late for Action.

Roads Improvement Urged. Would Convert Unpaid Taxes

It is too late to make any changes in the game regulations this year, according to a letter read at the Board of Trade meeting on Tuesday evening, from Game Warden Williams, but he saw no reason why shooting within the municipal limits could not be prohibited in years to come.

The secretary reported that the Daily Province had not even acknowledged receipt of the Board's letter for publication on the telephone situation. A second letter protesting against such disregard of the request of the Board, and intimating that if the Province refused to give publicity to the Board's reply to the article on Okanagan Telephones, the Board would obtain the desired publicity through other channels.

Three new members were added to the already large roll.

A complaint that the K.V.R. had not yet provided means for loading or unloading live stock will be taken up with the railway company through the local agent.

The urgent need for experienced fruit packers in the local packing houses was told by Manager Lawler of the Fruit Union, who asked that the Board use its influence to have High School students allowed leave of absence to assist. A number of packers had been forced to attend school or lose their chances to stand exams. A long and earnest discussion of the good roads question was precipitated by a suggestion from Mr Zimmerman that ratepayers be put to work on the roads as soon as the orchard rush was over. There were compliments for the Municipal Council for the great improvement they had made in the water service, and a willingness to co-operate with the Council on the roads problem. Lack of money was understood to be a difficulty, but volunteer work and an opportunity to so pay taxes in arrears might solve the problem.

principal means of the spread of this dread disease.

And so I reflected that if I could get a supply of milk for my baby which would cut out this source of infection, and at the same time would supply her with an article of food which was vastly superior to cow's milk, I was going to get it for her.

Then I began enquiring as to where I could get a milch goat, and I could not find any means of getting one in this country, so I eventually purchased a good grade nanny from Joliet, Illinois.

When this came in fresh Mrs Tunbridge and I tasted the milk for the first time—after some misgiving at first—as we rather expected it would have a strong taste, but our surprise was complete when we found that, if anything, it was superior in flavor to cow's milk, being like thin cream, and we found that a cup of tea or coffee with goat's milk was infinitely superior to the same with cow's milk.

In the meantime, having come to an actual experience of this animal, and finding that my nanny, so far from being strong-smelling, was perfectly sweet and clean and a great pet, I got more interested in milch goats, and started making further inquiries, with a view to

IT COST the People's Prohibition Movement about $21,000 to win the fight for prohibition in British Columbia. This shows how a little cash and a wealth of strong sentiment can defeat floods of money. The Liquor Merchants' Protective Association are not likely to give out any statement of how much it cost them to lose the fight. It is well known that one single newspaper in Vancouver received in about three weeks from the liquor interests as much as the entire prohibition campaign cost. This was payment for the big and expensive advertisements which were published, and when it is considered that nearly every newspaper in the province, daily and weekly—excepting the Vancouver World and the Summerland Review—took copious draughts from the boodle barrel, it will be seen that a lot of money must have been paid out in the vain endeavor to poison the public mind. It is stated that the expenditures of the liquor interests totalled nearly a million dollars. There are those who think that having undertaken such a stupendous campaign the liquor interests are not going to give up all at once. These people think that the prohibitionists have just captured the first line of trenches, so to speak. If there is any question as to the legality of the Prohibition Act, from whatever cause it may be, the liquor interests can surely be relied upon to take advantage of it, and this leads some to think that more will yet be heard of prohibition versus the bar in this province.

EXCITEMENT has been high at Victoria this week as the counting of the soldiers' ballots in the provincial election has been carried on. The results seem to be just about as forecasted at the time of the elections five weeks ago. The Conservatives will gain two seats which in the civilian vote went to the Liberals. Hon. W. J. Bowser gets a seat in Vancouver, and the Delta constituency which was held by a Liberal majority of six now goes to the Conservatives by thirty-three votes. M. A. Macdonald led the Vancouver soldiers' vote, followed by Messrs Bowser, Tisdall, Duke, McIntosh, McGuire, Leek, Smith, Farris, Donnelly and Cowper, with the rest far behind. These are all the Dominion figures, but it is not expected that the figures from overseas will materially affect these results. In Victoria no change results, the Liberals being too far ahead to be affected by anything but an overwhelming Conservative vote, which the soldiers were far from giving. In the South Okanagan Mr J. W. Jones has received 136 soldier votes to 110 for Mr Rogers, increasing the Conservative majority to 129. In North Okanagan the soldiers went two to one for K. C. Macdonald as against Price Ellison, and in the Similkameen, Shatford was the choice by just about the same proportion.

H. S. Lewes, a former member of the Municipal Council, is in hospital in Birmingham slowly recovering from serious wounds received July 3rd, during the capture of Delville Wood. A stray British shrapnel shot struck him in the right arm and chest. He worked his way back from the shell holes to the second line and was carried three miles to the motor. He has since suffered from pneumonia and abscesses of the chest. In a letter to Mr T. J. Garnett he says he does not hope to be of further use to the army.

The C.N.R. has issued its special and competitive tariff for fruits and vegetables from stations on the C.N.Ry. in British Columbia to stations on the C.N.R. and G.T.P. in the prairie provinces. The carload rate on apples from Kamloops to Edmonton is 67c.—the C.P.R. rate is 71c. The rate from Kamloops to Saskatoon is 75c. This rate is the same as the C.N.R. Anyone desiring to know any particular rate should write to the Market Commissioners for this information.

MILCH GOATS FOR OKANAGAN.

purchasing one or two more; and I also made extensive enquiries as to what the medical profession in general thought of them, where they had had experience of them. Through the live stock departments at Ottawa and Victoria I was put on the right track by which to follow up my enquiries. I found that there was a very great demand for these animals in the States, caused chiefly through the numerous recommendations by doctors of known standing, and the department at Victoria told me that this demand was spreading into Canada, and particularly into British Columbia, and that so many enquiries had been received of late about milch goats that the government had just issued a bulletin upon this animal.

As a result of my enquiries as to what the medical profession thought, I found an overwhelming opinion, both in Europe and the United States, in favor of the use of goats' milk instead of cows', both as a means of prevention of tuberculosis, and also as a food for all, but more particularly for infants, invalids, and those suffering from tuberculosis. Numerous doctors' opinions could be quoted, and I have yet to find one single doctor who does not strongly recommend the milk of this animal.

I should like to quote the opinion of two doctors besides Dr Loran, which are good illustrations of what the leading members of the medical profession think on the subject.

First of all, in regard to the question of tuberculosis, Sir William H. Broadbent, Bart., K.C.V., M.D., F.R.S., late physician-in-ordinary to the King and the Prince of Wales, in an article in the Standard Family Physician on the prevention of consumption and other forms of tuberculosis, treats of the two only sources of this disease, and after touching upon, first, the infection from the sputum in advanced cases, he says as follows: "But there is another way in which tuberculosis is disseminated, and that is by means of milk. Cows are very subject to tuberculosis, and at a certain stage of the disease tubercle bacilli are present in the milk. It is through milk so contaminated that children come to have tabes mesenterica, a tuberculous disease of the bowels, and mesenteric glands and tubercular meningitis, or acute hydrocephalus. The diseases of bones and joints to which children are subject are also probably traceable to milk, humpback, hip-joint disease and diseases of knees, elbows, etc., which cripple so many children; perhaps so is lupus, and no doubt the tubercle is often implanted by milk in early life which develops later into consumption. It is interesting to note that asses and goats do not suffer from tuberculosis, and to bear in mind that shrewd physicians of past days used to order asses' and goats' milk for persons suffering from consumption.

In passing it is also very interesting to note that the fourth annual report of the Manitoba sanitarium for consumptives states that tuberculosis is responsible for 11,000 deaths every year in Canada, and for one funeral in eight of persons above the age of twelve months, and the Canadian Medical Association Journal speaks of the "almost universally accepted statement that as many as 90 per cent. of young people at the age of puberty were infected with tubercle." Secondly, as to the effects of the use of goats' milk generally, and more particularly for babies, Dr Knox, of Danbury, Connecticut, a physician of wide experience, gives us the following opinion: "I have practiced medicine for over forty years, as a general practitioner and consultant. In the past twenty years, office practice mostly. During that time I have had hundreds of babies and children brought to my office in all stages of malnutrition. Most of them had been treated by skillful physicians, with all the generally approved foods and medication in vogue without benefit, and death seemed inevitable in many of the cases. Dr Knox was the last resort of many anxious parents. All these sufferers were put upon goats' milk, whenever it could be obtained, as soon as possible, and to their great benefit. The milk was sucked from a bottle, warm and direct from the goat—not drunk but sucked to insure more perfect digestion. Drugs were cast aside, and in their place hygienic surroundings, sunlight, air, bathing, etc., was the only treatment. I wish to state that in every case improvement and good health followed. The milk of the goat is nearly identical in its composition to human milk, and makes the most perfect food for all invalids and children, particularly those having weak digestion or those recovering from disease. To get the full benefit from milk, it must be sucked through a nipple for children, a glass tube or straw for adults, as the saliva is its most active and principal solvent previous to its digestion and assimilation. By drinking it we are deprived of the saliva upon which success greatly depends. I can give many, many instances of chronic dyspepsia, gastritis, malnutrition, etc., in adults that are to-day in perfect health by its use alone, through my recommendation. In my own family I keep Guerneys for their butter, but for fifteen years goats for milk that is wholesome, clean and free from tubercular deposits. It is most gratifying to me to-day to see prominent medical men in most all the medical journals of Europe and America recommending the use of goats' milk for the identical purposes that I have just referred to, also frequent articles in all the great daily papers and magazines of recent date calling people's attention to the manifold service to humanity that can be derived from our most valuable little milking machine, the goat.

And how about the experience of other nations with goats? Practically all the older nations of Europe, and also of South America, appear to have made extensive use of the milk, and this for centuries. In Europe some of the highest priced cheeses on the market are made from goats' milk. Germany, our arch-enemy, but Germany the nation of scientific thoroughness, recently made an investigation in several districts in south-eastern Europe as to the relation between the number of milch goats kept in a district and the rate of infant mortality in that district, and in several districts statistics were taken as to the number of goats per thousand of population and as to the rate per thousand of infant mortality. In every single case the figures showed that where the number of goats per thousand of population went up, the rate of infant mortality in that district went down, and where the rate of goats per thousand went down, the rate of infant mortality went up. As a result of this investigation we were informed last year that the German government was buying large quantities of milch goats to supply the milk to babies in the larger cities who could not get it.

I might go on giving instances and proofs of the benefits to be derived from the use of the milk of these animals, but the above are enough to convince the most sceptical. I myself came to the conclusion that the ignorance about the value of this animal was really deplorable, and that we, and those of us who are parents more especially so, are rank fools to use cows' milk if we can obtain a supply of goats' milk. Doctors in the States are advising the use of these animals so largely that the demand there for them is a long way ahead of the supply, and the milk is sold at 25c. to 60c. a quart. And what about the adaptability of this animal to British Columbia? One of the most successful countries in raising first-class milch goats is Switzerland. British Columbia is essentially a country like Switzerland, where the goat thrives to perfection. All these waste mountains here that are at present producing nothing could be made to feed thousands upon thousands of these animals. Our own B.C. Bulletin on the subject says: "Goats are of economic importance. Goats in Germany and Switzerland yield annually $60,000,000 of products, three times the assessed value of the animals themselves. In British Columbia at present there are many more wild mountain goats than goats of the domesticated breeds. Switzerland is a country only one-twenty-fourth the size of British Columbia, yet its annual yield of milch goat products is equal in value to half the total annual yield from agriculture in the province. This illustrates the possibility of the industry that will one day be realized on the millions of acres of mountainous and rugged land in British Columbia."

But this is a condition which it will take some time to obtain. In the meantime there is no reason at all why everyone who has a bit of back garden should not keep one or two nannies to supply the family with all the milk required. The fruit rancher could fence off a little corner of his lot and keep a few goats, which would not cost one-tenth as much as the feed of a cow, and would produce something much more valuable for consumption.

Everything of Business and Social Importance Transpiring in South Okanagan's Newest Town

Current Events — OF — Town & District

T. H. Boothe was a business visitor to Summerland on Tuesday morning's ferry.

Mr and Mrs Guy Brock have taken up residence in the house formerly occupied by Mr and Mrs John Bruce.

Miss Dorothy Simpson, who has been at her home here for the summer months, left again for Medicine Hat, Alta.

Mr and Mrs J. C. Lyons are anticipating moving into town again for the winter, the work on their fruit ranch being about completed for another season.

The Unity Club ladies are planning for a big bean supper to be held in the club parlors on Halloween night. The ladies are all hoping for a big attendance as this affair is becoming an annual event and the youngsters especially are already planning for some extra fun, that night anyway.

Mr E. Boies, Dominion Fruit Inspector, has been paying the packing houses at Naramata official visits recently. It is learned that the two selling organizations here, the Okanagan United Growers and the Naramata Fruit Co., are putting up a very high grade pack. There has so far been found every indication that the provisions of the act respecting the sale of fruit are being carried out both in the letter and spirit of the law.

Mayor Jones of Kelowna was a visitor in town on Thursday.

W. J. Twiss, a veteran life assurance manager of Vancouver, was in town a few hours on Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs Aldridge have moved over to the Mulford cottage and are now comfortably settled in their new home.

Messrs Partridge and Armour are amongst the short list of 1916 hunters fortunate enough to secure a deer thus early in the season.

Mrs D. O. Hughes is in receipt of the intelligence that her son Frank, who has been for several months in training at Vernon, has gone overseas.

Yesterday afternoon was a school half holiday granted by the Department of Education in order to allow the scholars an opportunity to attend the Fruit and Vegetable Show.

Quite a number of Naramata citizens attended the Aquatic Club dance in Pentiction on Friday night last, the ferry boat being in attendance. Mr and Mrs Dean Walters furnished the music. The general public are welcoming back these very efficient musicians to our Valley again.

For the first time in over three weeks divine service was conducted last Sunday by the Rev. R. M. Thompson, Naramata's regularly appointed pastor. Mr Thompson explaining the cause in his very genial way before his sermon on Sunday last. The first week he was ill and was unable to come. Then the second week his automobile became "ill" on the road up to Naramata and refused to go. The next week was Rev. Mr Solly's Sunday. However, Naramata people were very pleased to welcome their pastor back again, the whole service throughout being of "Thanksgiving nature."

Naramata Holds Its First Exhibition

Proceedings Formally Opened by Mayor Jones of Kelowna.

A Complete List of the Prize Winners.

Naramata, B.C., Oct. 19th.—The first really serious attempt at a Fruit Show at Naramata, held this afternoon, proved a splendid success all things considered, and augurs well for the future of a fruit district which less than ten years ago was a wilderness of sage brush. Mayor Jones of Kelowna, member elect for the newly carved electoral district of South Okanagan, was present and formally opened the exhibition. Mr Jones spoke in the highest praise of the splendid exhibit of fruit, declaring that it surpassed similar exhibits in places with considerably larger population where one would naturally expect to see big displays.

He suggested the advisability of increasing at the same time the production of vegetable products. As a spur to the enthusiasm thus started he stated his willingness at any time to co-operate by way of offering special prizes for exhibition purposes, not only for the Farmers' Institute but the Women's Institute as well.

SPECIAL FEATURES AND DISPLAYS.

Not the least attractive part of the show was the special exhibits, chief of which was that of the Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland, R. H. Helmer, Supt. This comprised among other things 30 varieties of potatoes, a large collection of farm forage crops, and a number of models of farm buildings. The whole display with its tasteful arrangement could not help carrying lessons of educational value.

Amongst the local and special exhibits mention might be made of the beautiful Calla Lily from the Syndica House; huge stacks of corn, one grown by Mr Wm. Nuttall fully 14 ft. high. Improved Leaming, and a sample from Lakeview ranch, John Noyes proprietor, that measured 12 ft.; Country Gentleman.

PACKING CONTESTS.

Another item of interest was the packing contest. This was arranged for during the course of the afternoon. In fact there were two competitions, one open only to students of 1916 who had taken 75 per cent. at the spring test. This was won by Cathie Hancock, with Edith Rayner and Willie Mitchell as close second and third.

The other was an open contest, in which there were five contestants in all. In this Miss Violet Mitchell won first place in 21 minutes of a 25 minute limit, getting a score of 84 points, while second place was taken by Cathie Hancock, and third place by Edith Rayner, the daughter of Secretary Rayner of the Farmers' Institute.

Mr Jack Lawler, Manager of the Fruit Union, Summerland, and himself the world's record holder, Supt. R. H. Helmer of the Experimental Station, and Mr John Tait, proved an impartial trio of judges. Special mention should also be made of the special artistic display of fruit, for exhibition purposes only, by the Naramata Fruit Co., Mr Geo. Wolstencroft manager, whose valuable assistance in arranging the whole fruit exhibit added so much to the fine display in general.

In the course of the afternoon the interests of Red Cross and Returned Soldiers Funds were taken care of, while a tea room in the care of an enterprising group of ladies in an adjoining annex, served hot tea, cake and sandwiches, which proved very appetizing on the October afternoon.

Taken as a whole, then, this initial show at Naramata may be truthfully described as a pronounced success, and a pacemaker for what is hoped may prove the one big even for future years to emulate.

The thanks of the Institutes are due to Mr H. K. Bowes who so kindly and generously gave the use of the building in which the show was held. Indeed it would be a problem to know where else the display could have been half the success it was.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

Young Man, Do you know

that some of the best paid men right here in B.C. educated themselves for advancement at home, right in the village or on the farm, and that they had no better chances than you have, some, indeed, being extremely poor, and only having a knowledge of reading and writing? These men have, through the study of International Correspondence Schools' courses, and a determination to succeed, risen to where they are. Why not you?

Others with good general education have found that without special training along one line, they could not hope for much in exchange for their services, and have taken up the International Correspondence Schools studies and made good.

The International Correspondence Schools have contracts now with over two hundred railroads alone for instructing their employees, including the C.P.R., the B.C. Electric Rly., and the Dominion Government railways in Canada, and the text-books of the School which have become famous for their clearness, practicability, and thoroughness, are now used in nearly 800 large colleges and schools, including in Canada, McGill, Toronto University, Department of Technical Education, Halifax, Shawinigan Technical Institute and others. A large number of colleges in the United States, including the United States Government Aeronautical School, Army War College, etc., also use International Correspondence Schools' text-books.

A large number of Agricultural Colleges are also using the International Correspondence Schools' books in their classes in preference to all others. The International Correspondence Schools can either start you at the bottom of the ladder or where you probably now are, part way up, and help you to the attainment of your ambition. Are you enough in earnest to inquire? It costs you nothing for information.

Summerland Soldier Says Huns Are On the Move.

France,
Sept. 18, 1916.

Dear Mrs Hogg,

Please accept my sincerest thanks for the very useful parcel received from you lately.

The weather has turned wet so the sacks will come in fine, and as our small friends, like the poor, we have always with us, so will that particular brand of underwear be welcome.

We are on the move all the time, and my present home is a trench that used to belong to Fritz. Most of the dugouts are knocked in, but what are up are dandy homes. You have to hand it to Fritz for having a head on his shoulders all right. My partner and I made a good one though with two sheets of galvanized iron, a shovel, two Mauser rifles, and a two-by-four. There is only four inches of water on the floor now, but that is an advantage as we can have our bath the same time we get our sleep.

The boys have the Huns swinging at their good ones along this neck of the woods, and there is no question about them fanning out.

Although we carry rifles we are not really fighting men, but we do our little bit, keeping up communication for the fighters. Believe me, Fritz don't mind knocking down a telephone line or two either.

Thanking you again for the very useful parcel, and wishing you every success, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,
(Spr) HARRY J. MACLEOD.

THE CRY OF THE PRISONERS.

We left our homes to fight for king and country,
We did our little bit for you out there,
We fought them fair, and then they gassed us,
And now we're prisoners of war, on fare
That's all too scanty.
Send us Bread.

Some of us, while on our Empire's mission
Got badly wounded, sore in need of aid;
All of us are starving, in addition,
Affliction heavily on us is laid,
And we are hungry.
Send us bread.

Oh, you who live in plenty's larder,
In Western Canada where grows the grain,
Help us to bear the fate that's harder,
Tightening our belts to ease the pain
Of gnawing hunger.
Send us bread.

You cheered us when we left the station,
You helped us on our way to fight the Huns,
We, to uphold the honor of the nation,
Went forth to man our country's guns,
Now we are starving.
Send us bread.

On God we still rely, as ever,
But God, He works by human hands,
Will you not out of your abundance sever
Some store for prisoners in foreign lands?
For we're so hungry.
Send us bread.

Helps All Round.

Henry Ward Beecher once said that no man ever manages a legitimate business in this life who is not doing a thousandfold more for other men than he is trying to do for himself; for, in the economy of God's providence, every right and well-organized business is a beneficence and not a selfishness; and, not the less so because the merchant thinks mostly of his own profits. These words tell the whole story. No man ever built a nice house on his lot or his farm but that he added to the value of his neighbor's property. When a man keeps his own lawn in good condition and his back yard looking neat, he is making progress himself and he is also making money for his neighbor across the way, whether his neighbor's chickens bother him or not. No man ever invents a practical machine or device but he benefits the world at large, and adds not only dollars to the world's wealth, but more intelligence and a higher civilization. The same is true of a good book, a magazine or an editorial.—Exch.

More Cementing Must Be Done

North & South Mains Leaking

Coun. Johnson Reports Imperative Need Of Further Capital Expenditure.

That the incoming Council must do considerable more cement work in both the north and south mains next spring, was the substance of a special report made at the sitting of the Council this week, by the Chairman of the Public Works Committee. There will be fully 1,200 feet of cement lining required at the upper end of the Valley on the north main to prevent considerable loss of water, which waste if not stopped will eventually cause serious damage to adjoining properties. On the south main, between stretches of cement work already done there is a heavy waste. In fact so much water has been seeping through in places that the railway section men have made drinking fountains simply by inserting pieces of metal into the soil. Fully 1,200 feet of lining will be needed in that ditch.

When seen later in the week by the Review, Mr Johnston declared that this work was imperative, and if left as they are at present the leaking ditches would be the source of untold trouble and expense. The work could not be undertaken this fall because of the impossibility of getting sand up to the south main. It would have to be drawn along the ditch when there was ice in it. Fully a thousand dollars would be required to do the work in the two ditches.

Gather Good Sum For Hospital

Activity of Ladies at Fall Fair Brings Nearly $200.

The citizens who were not given an opportunity to help the Hospital on "Tag Day" are few. Nearly every one at or near the Fair grounds was seen to be wearing the little white badge. There were plenty of willing young ladies to see that you were "tagged." As a result of their vigilance the Hospital will receive $70. The catering at the Fair, also done by the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary, yielded a further sum of $60. Yet a further source of revenue, closed out Thursday, was the sale of tickets for the wonderful quilt that has been on exhibition in the Summerland Supply Co.'s window and at the Fair. This quilt, made by hand 91 years ago, was donated to the Hospital by Mrs F. A. Miller, and when the tickets are all accounted for, it is expected it will have brought the Hospital nearly $50.

172nd Battalion On Way Overseas

The 172nd Battalion, Rocky Mountain Rangers, left Vernon last week on the first leg of their long journey overseas. This splendid body of men which was organized at Kamloops have been in training at the central mobilization camp at Vernon all summer, and have won their way into the hearts of the citizens of the town by their uniformly fine conduct and their attention to their arduous duties.

They are nearly all men from the Interior, and among their ranks are many Okanagan boys. It is doubtful if even the popular 64th Battalion which left Vernon a year ago numbered more Summerland men in its ranks than the 172nd. Among

Keen Interest In Speed Packing Contests

Mallett Cup Is Not Yet Clinched.

There were two speed packing contests carried out on Thursday afternoon and evening which created no small amount of interest and drawing a large crowd of spectators. One was a competition among experienced packers for cash prizes awarded by the government totaling $30, and divided into three prizes of $15, $10 and $5. Miss Rita Harrison, a Union packer, captured the first prize with a score of 91 points. Miss Ruth Blair, another Union packer, scored second with 86 1/2 points, with Mrs. Morden of Penituck following closely with 86 and one-sixth. Former prize-winners were debarred from this competition.

The second speed packing contest was open only to members of the 1916 packing school, and the prize money was contributed locally. Inspector Boies having gathered up $25 for this purpose, the prizes being $10, $7.50, $5 and $2.50. The winners in this contest were:

Edna English, 92 1/2 points
Kathleen Raineck, 87 points
H. M. Menzie, 86 points

while Marie Arkell and E. Osborne tied for 4th, dividing that prize. It will be noted that the score made by the 1916 class in their speed packing contest was higher than that made by the seniors. The judges expressed surprise at this, but pronounced the work of the juniors to be superior all round.

John Tait just missed by one point becoming permanent owner of the Mallett Cup for the best two boxes of Jonathans.

The men in charge of the Experimental Farm exhibit at the Fair state that Summerland's was the best attended fair they had attended this year, and the Farm exhibit has been shown at a good many. They said, however, that Armstrong had had a larger and more general display.

Vernon Buying Livestock.

The Vernon District Livestock Association received its first consignment of dairy stock from eastern Canada last week. The shipment consisted of two carloads, fifty-four head in all, brought from Ontario. They came through in fine order. So satisfactory, in fact, was the appearance of this stock that additional orders have been placed in the same quarter, and already another car is on its way westward.

the local men who have gone overseas in this battalion are Sergeant C. Noel Higgin, Acting Sergeant F. J. Nixon, Provisional Sergeant H. A. Walton, Corporal C. A. Marshall, Privates S. Bartholomew, H. Everett, H. Smith, A. Pentland, R. Verrier, H. Barkwill, R. Barkwill, H. Sculthorpe, W. H. Milligan, H. Agar, L. Johnston, W. Grove, H. Pisko, J. Andrews.

Fair Formally Opened By South Okanagan's First Member.

Complete List of Prize Winners.

The best attended show in all the Okanagan district this year! With one exception, perhaps, the biggest exhibition of them all! This is what is said of the Summerland Fall Fair held at Ellison Hall on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. In only one thing could the show have been at all disappointing to those good citizens who worked so hard to make it the complete success it was, and that is that the fruit and vegetable entries were not as numerous as in former years. After all, that was to be expected, and there are three good reasons for it. There are so many of the former exhibitors now wearing khaki, and as a result too of this fact those who are left are overwhelmed with other duties and, then, this year the date of the Fair was much earlier than in former years and the fruit growers were too much engaged in the gathering of their apples to take time to prepare exhibits. But, nevertheless the number of entries were fair and the quality of the fruit shown was most excellent. Increasing interest in live stock was shown by the larger number of entries in those classes and by the greater attention given these exhibits by the visitors at the Fair.

The Fair was formally opened by Mr J. W. Jones, member-elect for the South Okanagan at Victoria. In beginning his address Mr Jones took advantage of the opportunity to thank the public for the honor they had done him in making him the first representative of the new riding of South Okanagan. He had fully expected to be sent to sit on the right of the speaker, but a change had come over the province which puts him on the speaker's left. He was glad to head the poll with such a substantial majority, and expects to have the largest majority of any opposition member.

With Mrs Jones he had that morning taken a trip over part of the district, and for the first time had seen the cabin which was the first home here of Mr and Mrs J. G. Gartrell. Comparing that with their present comfortable home and the other many fine homes of the district, vividly portrayed the wonders that had been accomplished here by the settlers in a few short years, and the magnificent display here further reflected great credit on the district.

He was sorry to note that there were no entries of honey for which he had offered a prize, and hoped this branch of the industry would not be neglected next year. He was pleased to see such a splendid stock exhibit. The milk cows were better than those shown at the Fairs to the north. More stock is needed here. Summerland lends itself to the development of the stock industry. Cattle, horses, sheep and hog prices are all moving upward. We will all soon be wearing wooden sandals so short is the supply of leather. These are lines that go very well with fruit. The splendid exhibit of local views by the local photographer was commented upon. Mr Jones pronounced the magnificent scenery here a great attraction to tourists, equal to the Grand Canyon of Arizona or the Alps of Switzerland.

There is a great task before us in regard to the Empire, and it is up to the farmer to measure up to the test and not fail to supply the needs of our armies at the front. The speaker urged that every acre of ground be utilized next year. Prices are going up by leaps and bounds, and he feared we were not fully seizing the opportunity. In closing, Mr Jones assured his hearers of his desire to serve the community to the best of his ability, and asked all who had any suggestions to offer or anything to say of the needs of the district to write him or speak of it any time he is here, and he hopes to be a frequent visitor.

Fine Display From Experimental Farm.

Provincial Exhibit Of Educational Value.

An exhibit that went a long way towards making the success of the Show was that of the Summerland Experimental Station, with its many valuable suggestions for improving farm work. Hung up about the building were numerous specimens, under glass, of noxious weeds, also a part of the Farm exhibit. Some very fine specimens of potatoes and vegetables grown on the Farm were on display. Great credit is due Supt. Helmer and his staff for the artistic way in which the exhibit was prepared and displayed.

Beside the Farm exhibit was another of great educational value and with which many of our growers could profitably have spent many hours. This was the splendid exhibit of the Pest Department of the Horticultural Branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, which was in charge of Mr Max H. Ruhmann, Entomologist with the Department, who is carrying on extensive research work in this Valley, with headquarters at Vernon, who never tired of telling of the many insects and diseases and how they might be overcome.

An exhibit that created great delight and surprise was that from the schools, the work of the pupils. Some of the work was that of artists and should be encouraged.

The corner devoted to enlargements of photographs of local views and of portraits was another pleasing attraction. The magnificence of the views and the quality of the work in the pictures could not be excelled anywhere.

Two cars of B.C. apples were sold on the Montreal market recently. No. 1s brought from $2.50 to $2.75. Two cars of B.C. McIntosh were recently sold to jobbers in Toronto. The price realized there was $2.25 for 1s and $2 for 2s.

Potatoes In Strong Demand.

Markets Commissioner R. C. Abbott is busy at the Coast just now endeavoring to secure for a Missouri buyer more than four thousand tons of potatoes which it is desired to purchase in this province.

Mr Abbott reports that some potato growers are pitting their crop now in the hope that prices will go still higher. This he thinks is a mistake in view of the marked deterioration which occurs in much pitted stock. The Missouri buyer is paying $18 and $20 per ton for what is being bought. The movement of potatoes from this province to eastern Canada has slackened somewhat just now, and Mr Abbott says that efforts are being devoted to the opening of new markets to the south, though shipments to the United States are safeguarded by an exceedingly strict inspection.

McAlpine Case Up On Monday

Will Be Heard At Vernon.

Council In Special Session Disposes Of Accumulated Business.

Published elsewhere in this issue is a copy of the new Electric Light Loan By-Law which was passed at a special meeting of the Municipal Council Tuesday afternoon. As at first proposed the total authorized borrowings could not exceed $2,500, but as there are indications of further offers to the Council to advance the capital necessary to make electric light extensions, the amount was finally fixed at $3,000. Different from the usual money by-law, there will be no need to provide sinking fund for unsold debentures, according to the explanation of Municipal Treasurer Logie, who prepared the by-law. As has already been stated in these columns, this by-law is for the purpose of legalizing the debt of the Municipality to those citizens or others who advance the money to make desired electric light service extensions possible. Legally the existing council, it is stated, cannot borrow moneys for future councils to repay. The earnings from the extensions are expected to take care of the maturing bonds and leave a nice profit beside. In fact much or all of the money will be advanced to be repaid in electric current. Hence there will be no increase necessary in tax rates to [Continued on Page 2.]

Okanagan Tel. Co. Wants Injunction

Suing Local Company For Damages.

The Summerland Telephone Co. has been served with a writ issued at the instance of the Okanagan Telephone Co. Though no amount is named they ask for damages for interfering with the Okanagan Telephone Company's system in the County of Yale, and for an injunction restraining the defendants doing further damages, and for a mandamus to restore the line.

It would appear from what can be learned that no intimation is given as to just when or where the plaintiffs suffered at the hands of the accused.

The opinion is expressed that this may be the outcome of a recent extension of the local system up Garnett Valley where it is said some old poles have recently disappeared. This extension, it is said, was made under an agreement with the Municipality who directed the placing of the poles.

The Summerland Telephone Co. have retained Mr W. C. Kelley who will appear for them. It is not likely that the case will come up for a hearing for some time.

Arrange For Care of Flumes Near Railway.

Mr O. E. Fisher, of the K.V.R., was a recent visitor to the community and while here went over with Chairman Johnston of the Public Works Committee some of the ditches and flumes adjacent to or crossing the railway. He gave assurance that the flumes crossing the railway would be kept in good repair by the company and intimated that the Municipality must protect the line from damage by leaks from ditches and flumes on the hillside above it through Peach and Prairie Valleys. Mr Fisher also gave instructions for the widening of the highway behind the station.

ARE FARMERS GETTING A SQUARE DEAL?

CONSUMERS of agricultural produce, as a rule, blame the farmer for the increased cost of food supplies. They never stop to figure things out. Up go the prices for meat, butter, flour, etc., and the producer is the one who is held responsible. The consumer overlooks the number of middlemen who come between the producer and himself. These regulate the price the farmer gets, and also what the consumer pays. What the farmer gets and what the consumer pays rarely correspond with the increased cost of production. The farmer gets an increase for a certain product. But this increase is often more than doubled to the consumer. Instances of this kind could be multiplied over and over if need be. The farmer gets an increase in butter of one cent per lb., and the consumer pays five cents extra; live cattle advance a few cents per cwt., and the price of meat to the consumer is advanced a cent a pound or more. There is no constant relation between the price the farmer gets and what the consumer pays.—Canadian Farm.

Okanagan Apples For B.C. Soldiers.

The provincial Red Cross officers are making another appeal to fruit growers in the Okanagan for a shipment of apples for the British Columbia soldiers overseas. Last year it will be recalled donations up and down the Valley totalled four carloads. This worked out to about one box of apples to five soldiers. To maintain this proportion it will be necessary this year to send six carloads.

Free transportation is provided for all Red Cross apples to Vernon by the Okanagan United Growers, Ltd., and the C.P.R. undertakes to deliver the cars at St John, N.B., for ocean shipment without charge. The Summerland Fruit Union is again receiving donations of apples at their warehouses in Summerland and Naramata, and in due time these will be dispatched to Vernon.

It is hoped that there will be a generous response to this movement. The apple crop has been a big one in this district, and if growers have had a good year, there could be no better way of appreciating good fortune than by gladdening the soldiers' hearts with a substantial gift of apples. The fruit goes to B.C. boys whether they be in the trenches, in hospital or training camps. All that is asked of the growers is apples, preferably packed. The latest date for shipping these gift apples will be given out later.

The Red Cross branches in Naramata and Peachland as well as Summerland are interested in this worthy movement, and no doubt substantial donations will be made from all three points.

How The Apple Market Looks Just Now.

The deadlock has been broken in the apple market. British Columbia apples won't move very fast until C grades are out of the way, and that is a big physical task; these have just started to move with a few cars being received. It is estimated that about 400 cars of C grade have been bought in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

B.C. McIntoshes, Walthams and Jonathans will be moving at the same time as C grade. Altogether it looks as if the B.C. cars not already placed will not meet with a ready sale and will move in all pro-care for this loan, but on the other hand the Council are satisfied that the proposition will be a money making one.

Electrician Thornber agreed to the proposition from the Council that he accept a salary of $85 a month for a ten hour day, his duties to include beside taking charge of the plant, of reading meters and keeping the plant and lines in repair. For extension and other new work he will be paid 35c. per hour.

Having bought an auto truck, the Penticton Council now has a chemical fire engine for which they have no further need, and they offered to sell it to Summerland for half price. The offer was not accepted as no provision had been made for such an expenditure, and there would be the further need of learning what appliance would best suit local conditions.

Medical Health Officer, Dr F. W. Andrew, submitted a report on the sanitary conditions of the local packing houses. If these were under the Factory Act toilet and wash rooms should be provided for each sex. Only in the lower packing house were there any toilets. There was no such provision at the upper Union house, and only outside privies at the Steuart building, which did not comply with the act. He recommended that the operators be asked to improve the sanitary conditions.

A request from the Board of Trade that some further street lights be installed at certain points was laid on the table.

A statement of the McAlpine claim was received and read. Suit has been entered for specific damages amounting to $490 and general damages for an additional $500. Coun. Stark urged that an effort be made to settle with the plaintiff, but the Reeve and other members of the Council, while expressing a desire to avoid the courts and of having no wish to fight the case, said circumstances forced them to defend the Municipality in court, as to effect a compromise would create a precedent and leave future Councils open to numerous claims. Coun. Stark could not see how making a settlement with Mr McAlpine would create any dangerous precedent. The Council had not been approached by Mr McAlpine with any proposition to settle out of court, said Coun. Simpson, and the Municipality's case is not so rotten that we need to go down on our knees to Mr McAlpine. Individually each Councillor expressed a desire to have done with the matter and would be glad to end it without going to court if a reasonable sum would do it, and if it were not for the precedent such settlement would create. The probable outcome of the case in court was discussed, Coun. Stark being the only one who did not express confidence of winning. Coun. Simpson and Municipal Clerk Logie had consulted Messrs Cochrane & Ladner the week before while in Vernon, and were encouraged in this belief. It is expected that the case will come up for hearing at Vernon on Monday next. Several Councillors and citizens will go up as witnesses. A cheque for $100 to cover their expenses was issued.

Work on repairing sidewalks will be commenced in a few days as soon as the fruit rush is over, according to Coun. Johnston. A complaint from Cameron Barr that an irrigation pipe was leaking and causing damage to his orchard was referred to the Public Works Committee, who advised that the repairs would need to stand over till next spring.

A cynical man says the reason women are so fond of writing letters is that they rejoice in the opportunity of saying all they wish without the possibility of an interruption.

The Royal Gwent Welsh Singers.

A Synopsis of Its Foundation and Glorious Record.

The fame of Welsh choral singing became world wide, when in 1872 a mixed choir consisting mainly of Welsh village folk, under the leadership of Caradog (Griffith Rhys Jones), won the Crystal Palace Company's $5,500 challenge trophy and a cash prize of $500. This fame was enhanced in the following year, when the same choir under the same leader again won the trophy, beating the London choir, known then as the Paris Prize Choir, under the leadership of Mr Proudman. The sons of the principality have ever since maintained the fame and ever enhanced the standard established and set by the Crystal Palace victories.

Of all the Welsh musical organizations, the Royal Gwent Welsh Singers has been the first and foremost, not only to maintain the fame, but to set a standard to Welsh or any other choral singing that has never yet been excelled.

The visits of the Royal Gwent Welsh Singers is by no means a new venture. Indeed, it is now a matter of history. Americans were first thrilled by these singers from the land of song as early as 1893, when two Welsh choruses from Wales won first prizes at the World's Fair, Chicago. The Royal Welsh Gwent Singers stands—and sings—before the world to-day as the unsurpassed organization of its kind, and, incidentally, as the standard bearer through all lands of the superiority of the Welsh nation as a nation of singers. It would be a difficult task, indeed, to analyze this fact, but it can be realized more easily by attending their concert in Empire Hall on Saturday, Nov. 11.

No, your business isn't "different." Study these results. A company selling a portable garage invested $8,000 in newspaper advertising. On that appropriation a gross business close to $50,000 was done. This showed an increase of nearly $20,000 over the previous year, and jumped $44,000 above the first year's business. If newspaper advertising can build up a $50,000 business in three years don't you think it can help your business?—Newspaperdom.

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.

Conservation Of Manure.

Farmers' Greatest Asset In Soil Maintenance Wasted Through Lack Of Care.

While manure is only a by-product on the farm, it is the farmers' greatest asset in the maintenance of soil fertility. That it is not properly valued and given the care that it deserves is strikingly shown by the results of the Agricultural Survey of the Commission of Conservation in 1915. Seventy-seven per cent of the 400 farmers visited were exercising no care to prevent waste of manure, twenty-two per cent claimed to be exercising some care, while less than one per cent claimed to be exercising really thorough care of the manure. Only one and one-half per cent were saving all the liquid manure, which contains more actual plant food than the solid excrement. The annual loss amounts to millions of dollars, and it can be readily seen that our system of farming is not on a sound basis if this waste is allowed to continue. Any farmer who knows these facts, but takes no steps to prevent the waste, commits an injustice against himself and his country, and is preparing to leave to succeeding generations a heritage of poverty.

This loss can be prevented in several ways. Now, at the beginning of the stabling season, prepare a supply of litter to absorb the liquid manure. Store a quantity of leaves, dry sods or saw dust for this purpose. Where circumstances permit, it is a good plan to draw the manure to the field as made. If it has to be piled see that it is piled so as to prevent heating and leaching. Mix the cow manure and horse manure together, and keep the pile compacted and level on top. A concrete floor in the barn yard is a paying investment, although it may seem expensive. Have tight floors in the stable to prevent loss of the liquid, and, if there is not enough litter to absorb it, drain it off into a cement pit or some kind of a receptacle from which it can be occasionally taken and spread upon the land. Don't waste it.—F. C. N.

For instance, if when his phone rings, Mr. Green would give his name instead of saying "hello," the speaker at the other end of the wire would at once know he HAD THE NUMBER ASKED FOR, without enquiring further. Measuring Hay By The Stack.

Estimating the number of tons of hay in a stack by measuring is often resorted to when it is inconvenient or impractical to weigh it. It is impossible to give a rule for measuring hay which is entirely satisfactory. The following one has often been used, states Professor E. G. Schafer of the Washington Experiment Station at Pullman, and approximates the correct weight:

"Width plus over, divided by four and squared, then multiplied by the length and divided by 512."

The above rule assumes that the cross section of a stack may be obtained by dividing the width plus over measurement by four and squaring it. Stacks vary so much in shape that this cannot be absolutely true with all stacks. The above rule also assumes that there are 512 cubic feet in a ton. The length of time a stack has been built, the size of a stack or the amount it has settled, also the kind of hay—all influence the weight of a certain volume of hay. The above or other rules should not be relied upon unless it is impossible to weigh hay when it is sold.

Problem—Assume that a hay stack measures 18 feet wide, 26 feet over (distance from ground on one side up over the stack and to the ground on other side) and 30 feet long.

The solution would be:

18 plus 26 equals 44
44 divided by 4 equals 11
11 squared equals 121
121 times 30 equals 3630 cubic feet in stack
3630 divided by 512 equals 7.09 tons.

It would be difficult to make every farmer father believe that lack of sanitary equipment for his household and neglect of his barnyard caused sickness and deaths in his family. It may be impossible to convince him that the death of his wife at an early age was a result of too much pumping, churning and washing by hand; but they are really so closely related as cause and effect that one might almost declare that only the wilfully blind will or can fail to see their relation.—Community Builder in American Lumberman.

GILLET'S LYE EATS DIRT

Local School News

The question of enlarging the present boundaries of the Naramata School district is receiving the attention of the School Board, who have had assurances from the Department of Education that an adjustment will follow the very next visit of the school inspector.

The necessary apparatus for teaching second year high school science has been added to the equipment of the school. Every effort is being made to keep the school and its requirements strictly up-to-date.

An effort may be made this fall to make a start toward levelling the school grounds. It is hoped now that the big rush of fruit picking is over that the Institutes may be able to carry out the idea proposed earlier in the year of spending a day on the grounds.

Most of the high school pupils after a couple of weeks spent in the Fruit Union packing plants assisting in relieving the congestion are again back in their places.

Watch the bonfire and be sure it is out before you leave it.

This Looks Like Business

AT LAST, after long months of watchful waiting and much—very much—talk, with capitals for each letter, something really definite is being done with a view toward improving the condition of the water supply at the headwaters.

This week Engineer Groves accompanied by William Nuttall has gone carefully over the site of the proposed reservoir with a view to formulating plans for strengthening and otherwise improving the dam. This looks like business. In fact it is business. And the community will look forward with interest to the completion of the undertaking.

Mrs Estabrook, Sr., of Summerland, was a visitor to Naramata during the afternoon of the show last Thursday.

Divine service was conducted in the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon, Rev. R. M. Thompson of Penticton officiating.

After a pleasant holiday at her home here, Miss Emma Davies has again resumed her training at the Vancouver General Hospital.

Mrs McDougall of Peachland, a sister of Mrs E. P. Roe, a former Naramata resident, spent Thursday in Naramata, taking in the Fruit and Flower Show.

Mesdames Cooper and Fosbery of Summerland were in town on Thursday afternoon last acting as judges in the Women's Institute department of the Flower Show here.

Up to the time of writing all efforts at working up a good shower of rain by the weather man have proved abortive. If the clouds don't burst soon and before the advent of the winter season it is feared that prospects for a heavy fruit yield next season will be very, very adversely affected.

Your soldier friend would enjoy the home paper. Through the generosity of Mr Editor you are privileged to have a copy of the Review mailed to your friend for a dollar a year, just half price. If you feel that you owe this act of kindness to some lonely soldier friend, better pay the obligation right now—today.

On Thursday afternoon quite a large bevy of Naramata ladies drove out to Poplar Grove in response to an invitation from Mrs Adams, the president of the Ladies' Aid Society in that district to be their guests for the afternoon. A very pleasant social hour was spent after which very tempting refreshments were served. All report a splendid time.

Mr W. M. Armour is this week temporarily laid "on the shelf" as the result of a scalding accident. While attending to the fire in his heater upon which a kettle of water was sitting, he somehow upset some boiling water on his foot. Apart from the annoyance of being incapacitated for work at this busy season when every day counts the accident is not thought to be at all serious, and so we may expect to see "W. M." around again in a few weeks.

The regular weekly meeting of the Red Cross Society was held on Saturday afternoon last with a fair attendance. It was decided at this meeting that the Christmas parcels for our soldiers overseas should be packed and got ready on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28th, and that every member be there to give all assistance possible. The secretary, Mrs Geo. Aldridge, then read a letter from the provincial office of the Red Cross Society making an appeal for Christmas apples for our boys overseas, and it is the general impression that there will be a good showing from Naramata for this fund. At this meeting Mrs H. E. Hancock and her daughter served refreshments.

To understand the world is better than to condemn it; to study the world is better than to abuse it; to make the world better, lovelier and happier is the noblest work of any man or woman.—Bhagavad-Gita.

The power of an endless life is something of present experience. To live at all is to hunger for a larger living. To be conscious of ourselves is to be conscious that we are but the germ of what we may be, that we have scarcely begun to fill the promise of our nature. The path of duty seems at first to be a straight line; but we cannot long follow it without being convinced that it is a circle, whose centre is God. One cannot throw himself with all the force that is in him into any noble undertaking without being carried by the sheer momentum which he has gained, beyond the fear of death. In fighting a good fight Death is swallowed up in victory.—Samuel M. Crothers.
