BUTTERMAKING ON THE FARM.

IN BULLETIN NO. 53 of the Dairy and Cold Storage Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Mr George H. Barr, Chief of the Dairy Division, in descriptive form deals with the process of butter-making from the raw milk until it is ready for the market. He points out the defects sometimes found in dairy butter, and explains how they are caused. He tells of the conditions that are necessary to produce fine-flavored cream, of advisable methods in creaming, and of the use of the separator. He gives statistical tables of results of separating at different temperatures and at variations of speed. He describes what is necessary to get rich cream, and the manner in which it should be prepared for churning. He advises as to salting and working the butter, and counsels as to the wisdom of care in packing and of using parchment paper of good quality. After passing reference to the regulations regarding the branding of butter, he concludes with some suggestions as to utensils and their care, and the way to get the best results in farm dairy work. Blue prints of the plans given can be had from the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner, Ottawa, and the bulletin itself can be had free from the Commissioner or from the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

WHILE fully endorsing the stand of the Municipal Council that that portion of the Lakeshore Road passing through the Municipality should be maintained by the province, the Review would respectfully point out to our Municipal authorities the risk of suit for damages they are running by totally neglecting the Lakeshore Drive within the municipal limits. While morally it is up to the government to maintain this road, we fear that if an accident occurs the municipality will be legally responsible. There are two very bad places on the road between H. C. Mellor's and Crescent Beach that may cause an accident at any time. We have already called attention to the Gartrell corner.

THERE WAS PUBLISHED in these columns recently a dispatch from Victoria stating that a commission had been appointed to inquire into the irrigation systems of Peachland, Westbank, and Summerland. An official advertisement in this issue fully explains that dispatch. This commission is to investigate the conditions at Westbank, the two systems at Peachland and the Naramata system. The cause for Summerland's name appearing in the report was due, no doubt, to the fact that the company which put in the system at Naramata was originally known as the Summerland Trust Company.

OKANAGAN APPLES may yet be shipped to Australia this fall. The sister Dominion has not yet placed an embargo on Canadian apples, and though there remains the possibility that she may do so Sir George Foster, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, is still hopeful. He recently replied to Hon. J. Oliver's enquiry on the subject that representations had been made last week by the Dominion Government to the Government of Australia with a view to intercepting any embargo on the importation of Canadian apples into the Commonwealth.

POLITICAL FRIEND and opponent alike will hear with regret of the serious condition of health of Sir Richard McBride. Sir Richard was to have left for British Columbia over two weeks ago, but his medical advisers have refused to permit him to attempt the journey. So bad is his eyesight that he is now unable to read.

THE BOARD OF TRADE was disappointed in the action of the Council with reference to Daylight Saving. There will be no need to go to the Council next year on this subject. Sir George Foster's Daylight Saving Bill is making good progress through the House at Ottawa, and will be in good time to inaugurate the plan throughout all Canada next spring.

Asks Women To Abandon Styles.

A movement is being started among Vancouver women to bring about the abandonment of styles, and the Council of Women is bringing the matter before the attention of its members. It is felt by many women leaders that, in view of the growing need for war economy, clothing should not be discarded just because it is "out of style." The women's committee of the Defence Council of the United States has just launched an appeal to the women of that country to "wear the clothes you have, so that man-power now engaged in feminine fads and fripperies may be released for real war service." It asks them to "allow the un-lightened men to find fault with you," and strongly condemns the insistence of women on "something exclusive to tickle her vanity and arouse envy in the next-door neighbor's house."

A party of members of the Kelowna Farmers' Institute visited the Experimental Station here last Saturday.

The Stewart Fruit Co. shipped a carload of apricots early this week, the first to be shipped from the Valley this year.

HER ANSWER.

An applicant for a telephone job at Memphis, when asked if she had ever had any operating experience, replied: "Yes, I have had my adenoids removed."

Robbery at Kamloops

Frank Pare was held up and robbed the other night near Kamloops by two men who stopped him when he was driving to town. They asked him for a match, then told him there was something wrong with the bridle on his horse, and when he got out to investigate, robbed him, taking $27 and some papers. The papers were later found on the roadside, but there has been no trace of the hold-up men.

R. T. Cook and his mother are now living in the Male cottage, Peach Orchard.

The commission appointed to investigate irrigation matters at Naramata, Peachland, and Westbank is sitting at Naramata to-day.

Summerland telephone operators and those of the government and Okanagan Co. offices at Penticton enjoyed a picnic at Okanagan Falls on Thursday afternoon.

Although we have not been able to get a list with the records made we hear that all of the first year class in the High School have been promoted to second year.

Principal McIntosh and Mr Denton of the High School have returned from Victoria where they have been taking special studies at the summer school for teachers.

An exchange gives among Okanagan casualties recently reported, the name of Lieut. L. H. Garnet of Summerland, killed in action. Enquiry about the district fails to enlighten us as to who this might be, as no one of that name is known to have enlisted from Summerland or to have relatives here.

The water sports at the government wharf yesterday afternoon were, under the circumstances, fairly well attended, and gave much pleasure both to participants and onlookers. Prizes were competed for in swimming, diving, etc., including the usual greasy pole stunt. The Red Cross Society, who arranged the afternoon's sports, also had refreshments on sale. In all about forty-five dollars profit was realized, all of which will be devoted to Red Cross work.

Public Meeting of Water Users.

At a public meeting of water users held in the Council Chambers, Peachland, on Monday, July 30th, at eight o'clock in the evening, Reeve Morrison presided, and there was a large attendance of water users present.

The business was to consider the proposed supply of water from Lake Breda, and to decide how the advance promised from the government be repaid, should this loan be taken advantage of. The chairman called upon Mr Powell as Chairman of the Irrigation Committee to give a report from his committee.

Mr Powell gave an outline of what the committee had done, and suggested, should the proposed work be decided upon, to adopt the same means as Naramata had adopted, the signing of an agreement to pay a pro rata cost per acre on land under irrigation.

After a long discussion it was decided to wait until the Government Engineer and Messrs Hogg and McLaughlan had made an inspection of the conditions as to supply available, costs of the proposed work, etc. Arrangements have been made to make the above inspection immediately after the return from Armstrong of the Water Engineer. With a view of helping matters in the meantime the following resolutions were passed:

"That this meeting of water users ask the Peachland Townsite Co. Ltd., for permission to place a man at the North Fork dam for the purpose of regulating the flow of irrigation water so that it runs only fourteen hours per day."

"That Mr Small be appointed to obtain signatures of fruit growers to contribute pro rata per lot towards paying a man to attend at the North Fork dam to regulate water until supply runs out."

The water users attention was drawn to the Water Act Notice as advertised in the Summerland Review in connection with the Government Board of Investigators on irrigation company systems.

Mr Harold Sharp is spending a few days in Summerland.

We are glad to report that Mr W. J. Steele, who has been seriously ill, is recovering, though slowly.

Miss Marjorie Denness, who has been visiting in Naramata for the past month, expects to leave for her home in Vancouver the end of this week.

Mrs Rait, and the Misses Helen, Lillian, Eleanor, and Master George Rait, who have spent the summer in Naramata, left for their home in Richmond, California. The family expect to spend next summer in Naramata.

Water Commission Spends Three Days At Naramata.

The Commission appointed by the Lieut-Governor in Council at the recent session of the Provincial Parliament to enquire into the status of the various companies throughout British Columbia operating as water carrying organizations, their general methods of conducting business, and their ability to carry out the terms of their respective contracts with the water users, have about completed their investigations.

In the course of the three days during which the Commission was sitting at Naramata, practically every rancher and land owner at Naramata was given an opportunity to air his grievances if he or she had one to air.

On the whole the opinion as adduced from the evidence submitted was in favor of one central thought. That the Okanagan Securities Co., the one organization directly responsible for this town being put on the map, has upheld the terms of its water contract; but equally general was the opinion that the weakness of the whole water system was in the lack of the necessary water during the latter part of the summer season. Everyone was of opinion that some means of conservation was needed and that right away. It was pointed out in the course of the evidence that one rancher had already gone to the expense of a $2,500 pumping outfit to provide against just such an emergency as at present confronts Naramata.

It is felt here that a much smaller outlay than that recommended in the report of the Engineers would provide ample storage for all the needs of the district for the next ten years. In fact a committee of three, one of whom is a resident with several years' service of survey on the hills adjacent during railway construction, is prepared to lead the way to an easily accessible body of hitherto untapped reservoir in order to stave off the defeat now threatened the crops of 1917.

Through the active service of Comptroller William Young, some $500 is being secured as a loan for the ranchers in order to get the necessary work done forthwith.

It is noted that during their investigation the commissioners; Messrs Alexander, Davies, and Kidd were obliged to make Penticton their headquarters, as Hotel Syndica has not seen its way clear to open up for the summer trade.

Mr J. C. Lyons, the local cherry king, has now completed his last shipment of an eight thousand pounds crop; a crop which without anything else would keep the owner on easy street as far as financing for the coming winter is concerned, and, before the commission, was loud in his praises for the Okanagan and its superb climate, and what it has added to his life. As Mr Lyons was—and is yet for that matter—a painter and decorator by trade, and was dying by slow degrees as a result of lead poisoning, he now finds the open air life of this part of B.C. most conducive to his health. With cherries netting him close to $2 per crate, it is small wonder that this rancher wears a smile that won't rub off.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessees may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

CHINESE "SARDINES"

Some of the fancy-named, high-priced "sardines" that are now being sold in this city and in other parts of the country are really nothing other than immature salmon taken illegally by Chinese in the British Columbia coast waters, according to the result of investigations made by some of the fishing authorities at Cowichan.

These fish experts claim to have discovered a full-fledged "sardine" factory on the Cowichan coast.

The fact that the Chinese are putting out "sardines" in this way is given as one of the reasons for the continually increasing scarcity of salmon and cod in the inland waters around Vancouver Island.—Victoria Colonist.

Another S'land Soldier Wins The Military Medal

Alfred H. Reid, a young man who left here just over two years ago to enlist for service overseas, has been awarded the coveted military medal, according to a letter received from him by friends here. At the time of enlisting he was with T. J. Garnett. Since going to Europe he has been raised to a corporal. Some time ago he was reported as seriously wounded, and for a time it was feared he would lose a leg. Lately he has been making good progress, and there is now every prospect of saving the limb. Corp. Reid is still in hospital in Croydon, England. A few weeks ago he was called to Woolwich, where the presentation of the medal was made by his colonel.

Says Express Shippers Are Hurting Prices

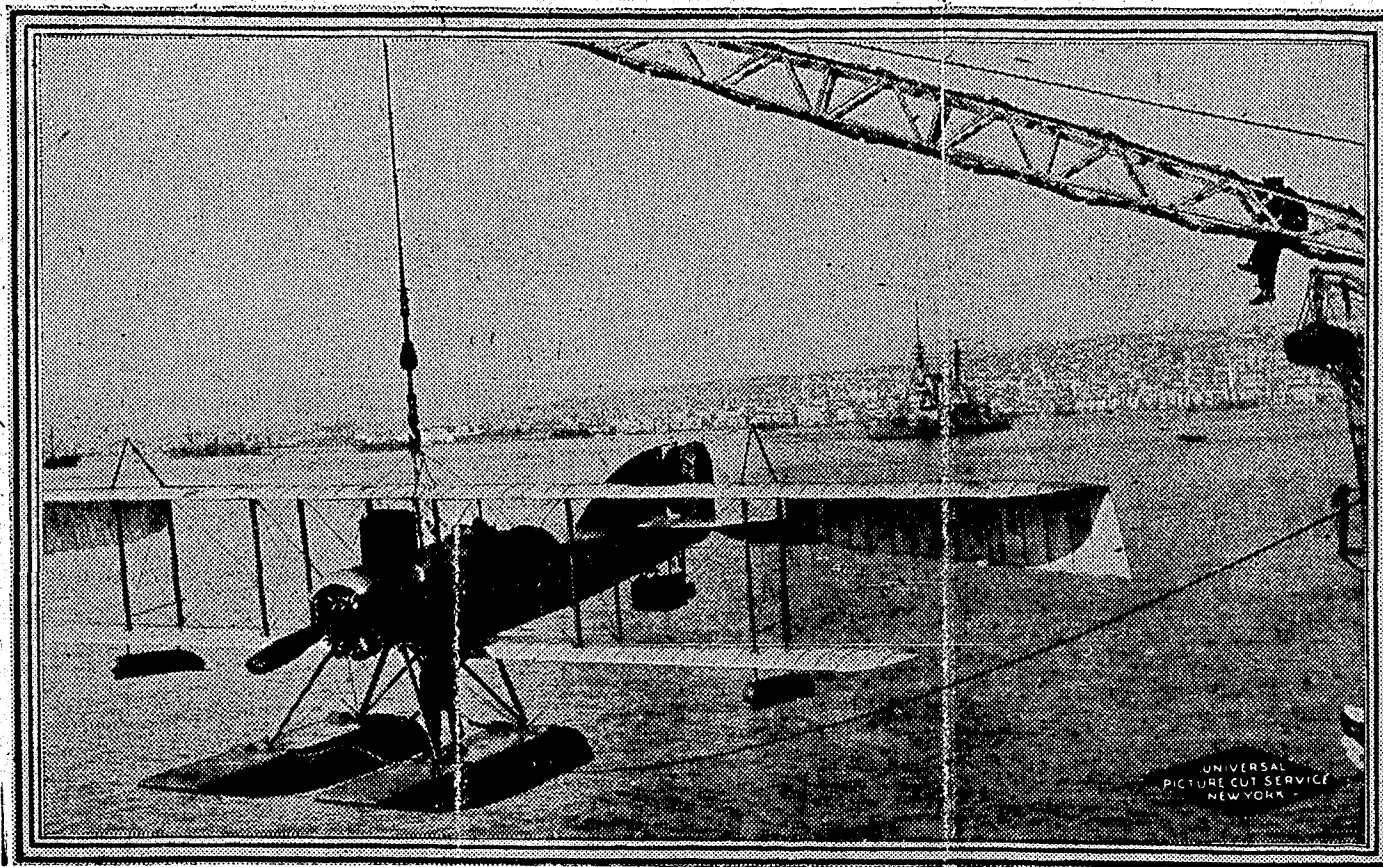

Are the local growers and shippers of fruit who do a direct business with the consumers getting a lower price than they need to ask? This is the information given the Review by several men in close touch with the prairie markets. It is stated that serious effects are resulting from the prices being quoted consumers which put them in a position to buy at prices very much lower than quoted by the dealers, much lower than the shippers need to accept in view of the prices that have been prevailing. The prices offered by the express shippers are said to be having a marked depressing effect on the market, making it exceedingly difficult for the larger dealers to maintain their prices. One instance given the Review was a price of 85c. for tomatoes, which it is said is being quoted by a local shipper, as compared with $1.50 which was being demanded by the sales manager of Okanagan United Growers. Frequent complaints are being made by jobbers and large buyers that the prices being asked are away higher than the consumers are being quoted by mail.

Some advantage is had by the direct-to-consumer shipper in avoiding the middlemen's charges which may partly or wholly offset the higher cost of transportation, but there seems to be no good reason why he should not get as good or a better price at the other end for his tree-ripened, orchard-to-table fruits as is being obtained for fruit shipped and delivered through the usual channels of trade.

Gassed Soldiers In Hospital Here

There arrived from the Coast this morning three returned soldiers in charge of Sgt.-Mjr. Taylor for admission to the Summerland Hospital for treatment for asthma, the result of gas poisoning. The three war veterans are Spr. J. Adams, 3rd Field Can. Engineers, and formerly of Westbank, and Pte. H. Griffiths, an eastern man, of the 39th Batt., both of whom have been in the military hospital at Esquimaux, and Pte. Ferguson, who enlisted in the 172nd from Kelowna, who comes here from a Vancouver hospital. All are suffering from the effects of being gassed and have been sent here with the hope that our climate, which has cured so many who came here suffering with asthma, would restore them to health.

The men are all able to move about, and it has been suggested that citizens who have cars arrange at times with the matron to take them out for rides about the district.

Sgt.-Mjr. Taylor was himself gassed at St. Julien, but has pretty well recovered from the effects after being in hospital for months.

Arrangements for the admission of these three sufferers was made with the hospital authorities by wire.

Alberta Struck by Terrific Hailstorm

High River District Suffers Heavily.

Calgary, Aug. 22.—Tuesday, just after the noon hour, High River, Alta., was visited by the most terrific and destructive hailstorm in the history of the district. The town of High River is practically the centre of the area covered by the storm. In this area it is estimated there are at least 150 square miles, and the destruction was complete in a district which promised to return in crops sufficient to be a record.

The storm was of short duration, but it caused a destruction estimated in loss of crops at 800,000 to 1,000,000 bushels. Garden produce, hay that had not been cut, are literally ground to a pulp, and all that was growing in the wake of the storm has been more or less damaged. In town the loss is prin-

Grading Machines Installed in Local Fruit Packing Houses

There has just been installed in the Stuart packing house an apple grading machine that will mean a big saving of labor besides assuring a more accurate and uniform grading of the fruit than when done by hand. The machine is one of several of the Cutler make now being installed in packing houses in the lower lake district. The Summerland Fruit Union has a similar machine ready to be erected, and the Union at Penticton has put in one. They are of very ingenious construction, and handle the fruit quickly and without possibility of bruising. They are of different capacities, according to size.

The grader operates as follows: Apples are poured into a padded hopper at one end and are carried along on canvas belts past the sorters, who sort them for color, and who at the same time pick out the culls, placing the good apples on one of the four belts which run slowly along the machine. Adjusted to the sides of the grader are numerous canvas cups, into which an apple of each size is placed to act as a regulator. In a continuous stream the apples travel along until they reach a point opposite a cup containing an apple of the same size, when they automatically drop into spring-supported bins. The packers stand alongside these bins to receive, wrap, and pack the fruit.

The grader is so delicately adjusted that the large machine may be operated from an ordinary electric light socket, but owing to the lack of day power the Stuart Fruit Co. have put in a small gasoline engine, while at the Union a water wheel connected with the domestic water system will be used.

Chiefly through broken windows, flooded cellars and punctured roofs. Crops destroyed include those of many of the best farms in the district, one of which was 1200 acres. Insurance was carried by many.

Vacant lots, back yards and school gardens have produced $350,000,000 worth of vegetables this summer in the United States. In Canada, by the same proportion, the increased production of vegetables in cities and towns amounts to about $28,000,000.

Complains of Calgary Public Mart

Calgary aldermen, or more correctly, the market commissioners, occupy a position of splendid isolation, writes B.C. Markets Commissioner, J. A. Grant, in being the only public body in existence that license wholesale and retail merchants doing business in their city, and then set up in business against them by occupying license-free city stalls in the market, and also spending these tax-payers' money to send out an agent to solicit patronage in B.C.

These merchants are not taking all this lying down, and as the days go by they are getting ready to take up the cudgels on their own behalf. The other patrons of the city doing business in the market are under a handicap inasmuch as they buy the wares they offer for sale from the wholesale merchants here and they find themselves up against city competition with consigned goods. It is singular to see the city of Calgary featuring in the press B.C. fruit consigned to them at cut-rate prices. Perhaps B.C. growers will learn this game "don't pay," and refuse to consign any more fruit, and by this means they would end a very awkward situation.

Okanagan Plums Free From Rot

Calgary, Aug. 18—A few crates of peach plums have arrived here from the Chilliwack district. The plums look well, but on close examination they are found to be affected with plum rot.

The Market Commissioner reports that he examined several crates and in each crate this fast spreading disease was found, and as the plums are under ripe they will be almost a total loss before they are fit to use. Plum growers who have the faintest suspicion that plum rot exists in their orchard would be well advised to refrain from shipping to the prairies as their shipments will surely prove a loss to them. One crate examined had in one basket six specimens one-quarter affected, a number with pointed infection, while many were in the pinhead stage. In two days more the whole crate would be valueless. The canner is the best place for these plums. The Okanagan district is free from this pest so far as examination shows.

Merchants think it is the district that is to blame, as they fail to grasp that it is a preventable disease.

Fruit Pickers' Tickets Will Be Extended

Fruit pickers now in the Okanagan and whose stay on the ranches is likely to exceed the sixty-day limit of their special return tickets over the C.P.R., will be gratified to learn that arrangements have been completed to have these tickets honored at any office of the C.P.R., upon presentation of a note from the farmer for whom they worked, that they have been detained on account of fruitpicking activities.

The company are prepared in all such cases to lift the return transportation and to issue a ticket to bring them back to Vancouver, without any additional charge. Deputy Minister of Agriculture W. E. Scott, took this question up with Mr. H. W. Brodie, general passenger agent of the C.P.R., some time ago, and a satisfactory conclusion to the negotiations is now reported.

Comr. Again Reports on Heavy Express Shipments.

In his weekly report of Saturday last Markets Commissioner J. A. Grant writes as follows: To-day, August 16, the express shipments are very heavy. There were two full cars express produce for distribution from Calgary.

To-day is very hot, and your Market Commissioner watched the work of unloading. During the half hour, which is the time the train stops here, the Dominion Express staff transferred 800 crates to the Edmonton train, which pulled out 20 minutes after the arrival of the main line train, and took care of the balance in the nick of time. The whole staff, including the manager, were in their shirt sleeves, and they were a business-looking lot.

The only accident was the partial removal of a box lid. One can imagine that the speed necessary to do such work did not permit of gentle handling, but under the circumstances no greater care was possible. The growth of B.C. shipments continues and will continue to increase, and the better organized districts must combine to remove some of this pressure or much unavoidable loss will occur. The object in calling attention to this matter now is to give growers time to think and act in their own interest before another season. The Dominion Express Co. will then have a lot of new refrigerator cars of large and modern build, and there is no good reason why the well-organized associations should not take advantage of them.

There is no question of being able to sell in car lots. The whole prairie jobbing trade would welcome our produce in that way, and when we take advantage of the opportunity of filling their needs in sufficient volume the importations from other places will decrease.

Tomatoes On Consignment

Calgary, Aug. 18—A car lot of semi-green tomatoes arrived in Calgary to-day. The jobbers would not handle them, and so the C.P.R. sold them at private auction at from 70 cents a crate down. They were from Moreod, California. The stock was good enough, but goods forced on customers is never a price-getter.—Markets Commissioner's Report.

Seven-day Service Begins Sunday Next

Fruit growers and shippers who make use of the express service on the C.P.R., will be glad to learn that the railway company will inaugurate the promised Sunday service next Sunday morning with the northbound trip of the boat. During the running of the Sunday boat a seven day service will also be given on the railway connecting the lake with the main line at Sicamous.

For some time the "Sicamous" has been running behind time because of the heavy fruit shipments, so much so that she frequently completed the day's run three or four hours late. The steamer "Okanagan" was put on the Landing-Peachland run again a few days ago, and is thus greatly relieving the "Sicamous." Better time is again being made by the latter.

With much increased carload shipments the C.P.R. has found it necessary to put both tugs on the south end of the lake so as to give a daily barge service. This is a great boon to the larger shipping concerns, who were experiencing considerable inconvenience when only a tri-weekly service was given.

At The Headwaters

Leaving here on Wednesday morning with E. N. Rowley as guide, Coun. Johnston, and A. W. Hobbs, one of the municipal staff, are on a trip to the headwaters of Trout Creek for the purpose of getting more water for distribution over the irrigation system. A lake on the north branch, or more correctly, the source of supply for a tributary stream of the north branch, will be visited. It is expected that a considerable volume of water can be had by lowering the outlet to this lake. Numerous beaver dams and small lakes will be visited and opened. Few know the hill country better than Mr. Rowley, whose knowledge of the country, along with that of Coun. Johnston, whose frequent visits to the headwater during his term of office has made him quite at home there, should make it possible to make use of every available inch of water stored in beaver dams and natural basins.

Change in Fruit Inspector's Staff

Chief Dominion Fruit Inspector for B.C., Mr. R. G. L. Clarke, has put Mr. J. Sewell in the lower lake district as fruit inspector in place of Mr. T. Boies, who resigned to accept the management of a packing house at Keremeos. In charge of the inspection work of the Valley, Mr. Loveday, who has been with Mr. Clarke's department for some years, has been transferred from the Coast, and will make his headquarters at Vernon. Mr. Clarke, as in the past, will make frequent visits to the shipping districts of the Okanagan.

Fish is to become more plentiful in the Canadian market. Hon. W. J. Hanna, Food Controller, has inaugurated a special refrigerator express car service direct from the Nova Scotia coast to Toronto. This is the first step in a plan to put on a fish car express service from both Pacific and Atlantic points to supply Central Canada with sea food cheaply.

CO-OPERATION AND ITS RESULTS.

HARRIS WEINSTOCK, state market director of California, in his annual report for 1916, gives the following instances of the advantages of co-operation in marketing by the California peach growers:

"Last January while East, as the result of an investigation, I found that the average price for California peaches in New York at retail was about 17 cents per pound. The California grower at that time was getting about 2½ cents per pound. It was said to cost him between 4 cents and 5 cents a pound to produce them. That meant that out of every dollar paid by the Eastern consumer for California dried peaches, the California peach grower was getting 14 cents, making a cost of 86 cents for distribution, showing clearly a great waste in the cost of such distribution, and making it further plain that there was ample room for reducing the price to the consumer and raising the price to the producer. Meanwhile, the peach growers of California have organized, with the result that this year they are getting a price between 5½ and 8 cents per pound, which to them is a remunerative price, whereas the price to the consumer has been lowered about 16 per cent, as compared with a year ago. This change has been brought about to the advantage of both, by the growers collectively being in a position to minimize speculation and to have a voice in stabilizing prices."

GIFFORD PINCHOT, one of the foremost conservationists of the United States, says of that country: "The clear duty of the nation is to guarantee the farmers a fair price for their crop when grown, and a reasonable supply of labor at harvest. The clear duty of the farmer is to raise food enough to win this war for democracy against Kaiserism." This applies with equal force in Canada.

Preserve Eggs Now.

(Experimental Farms Note).

The indications are that eggs will be dear next winter, dearer than they were last winter, so those who want eggs had better put some down now while they are comparatively cheap. Do not use oats, bran, salt or such mediums; moreover, the patent preservatives usually advertised as being so simple and effective had better be adopted with caution. Better use something that has been tried and found satisfactory.

According to Dr Frank T. Shutt, Dominion Chemist, lime water is one of the best preservatives, and we quote the following from his Exhibition Circular No. 42:

The method of preparation is simply to slake one pound good quick lime with a small quantity of water and then stir the milk of lime so formed into five gallons of water. After the mixture has been kept well stirred for a few hours it is allowed to settle. The supernatant liquid, which is now "saturated" limewater, is drawn off and poured over the eggs, previously placed in a crock or water-tight barrel.

As exposure to the air tends to precipitate the lime (as carbonate), and thus to weaken the solution, the vessel containing the eggs should be kept covered. The air may be excluded by a covering of sweet oil, or by sacking upon which a paste of lime is spread. If, after a time there is any noticeable precipitation of the lime, the lime-water should be drawn or syphoned off and replaced with a further quantity newly prepared.

GENERAL PRECAUTIONS NECESSARY TO TAKE.

It is essential that attention be paid to the following points:—

1. That perfectly fresh eggs only be used.
2. That the eggs should throughout the whole period of preservation be completely immersed. Although not necessary to the preservation of the eggs in a sound condition a temperature of 40 degrees F. to 45 degrees F. will no doubt materially assist towards retaining good flavor or rather in arresting that "stale" flavor so often characteristic of packed eggs.

Respecting the addition of salt, it must be stated that our experiments—conducted now throughout fifteen seasons—do not show any benefit to be derived therefrom; indeed, salt frequently imparts a limey flavor to the egg, probably by inducing an interchange of fluids within and without the egg. Our advice is, do not add any salt to the lime water.

Washington Apples.

The estimated output of apples from Washington State is 16,925 cars, which is somewhat less than last year.

The fruit is reported to be free from disease and of good quality, but running a little under average size.

Wenatchee Valley will ship 8,000 cars, and Yakima will show a big increase over last year. Hood River, Ore., whose estimate was at the first of the year about 200 cars less than last year, are now confident that they will have a bumper crop.

Veal has been barred from the tables of hotels in the United States.

Woolen Goods Must be 40 Per Cent. Cotton.

The Toronto Globe says that an announcement that will have a big influence upon the textile trades in Canada is about to be made by the British Government, and that is that all woolen goods must contain 40 per cent. of cotton. A prominent merchant declares this will have a big effect upon Canadian supplies, as many British firms will not fill orders under the new conditions. They have been doing business all over the world for many years, and some for generations, and have built up very valuable reputations for quality, and for the sake of their reputations they will not ship goods that are 40 per cent. cotton. What effect this will have on future prices is very hard to say; it certainly is not pleasant news.

This same merchant, who has big European connections, also stated that the British Government has commandeered all Cheviot wools, and the only Cheviots that are being turned out for domestic use are from those supplies which were on hand in the factories before the commandeering took place.

Farmer Brown—"If I were as lazy as you I'd go and hang myself in my barn!" Tramp—"No, you wouldn't!" Farmer Brown—"Why wouldn't I?" Tramp—"If you were as lazy as me you wouldn't have a barn!"

REDUCING THE GOITRE MENACE.

That goitre is becoming more prevalent in Calgary and that it is due to certain principles in the water from the mountains is the claim that is made by Dr T. G. Ritchie, who has made an exhaustive study of the disease and its cause. Long years ago it was known that goitre was a common malady along the eastern slope of the Rockies, and on the plains that skirted the base of the range.

The ill is not without remedy, and precautions can be taken that will reduce the danger to an almost inconsequential minimum. The drinking of boiled water will modify the effects of the disease, at least when this practice is followed in time, and where the disease does not exist the use of boiled water will prevent its appearance. Boiling the water removes the harmful constituents, so Dr Ritchie testifies, and this removes the source of danger.

Perhaps when Calgary has a filtration system this threat will no longer hang over the water consumers, but in the meantime the people, if they value their thyroid glands, should boil all the water used for drinking purposes, and especially should this be done in the case of children, girls particularly, as they are most susceptible to the affliction.—Calgary News-Telegram.

"I can tell you how much water runs over Niagara Falls to a quart," said the undergraduate. "Well, how much?" asked his companion. "Two pints," announced the well-educated young man.

"Do you think there is any chance of my getting my poems printed in your paper?" "There may be. I shan't live for ever."

Drying fruits and vegetables is an old art that is being revived this year. The housewife can use this method without trouble, and with the simplest facilities. A few vegetables may be put aside to dry any time.

The British people, in the army and out, need our entire surplus. They need more—they need part of what we usually consume.

The foods called for by Great Britain and the Allies from Canada and the United States are beef, bacon, and wheat. These are the export staples.

TOOK IT DOWN.

"This seems to be a very dangerous precipice," remarked the tourist. "I wonder that they have not put up a warning board." "Yes," answered the native, "it is dangerous. They kept a warning board up for two years, but no one fell over, so it was taken down."

Penticton Will Ar- range Stampede For Coast Visitors

Under the Auspices of the Board of Trade, Wild West Show will be given.

Good Roads Convention expected to Draw many Visitors to Tourist City.

Secretary Jack Heales of the Penticton Board of Trade is a busy man these days for he is the moving spirit in the arrangements that are being made for the staging of a big stampede with which the many visitors who are expected to visit the tourist city early in September will be entertained.

The Vancouver Automobile Club of the Coast metropolis will invade the Okanagan Valley during the first week in September, and after a visit to other sections of the district will assemble in Penticton where a good roads convention will be held. These visitors will be to a certain extent the most important that the Valley towns have had an opportunity to entertain for a good while. They are distinctly a class of people who should be welcomed to any community, and who should be catered to, for if they find their visit a pleasant one they will come again, they will bring their friends, and they will be perpetual boosters.

The growing town at the foot of the lake is already busy making preparations to entertain these important people. It is planning auto trips to the surrounding district, and many other things for the delectation of the knights of the wheel.

Most important of all, however, will be the big stampede which will be staged during the convention here. The country is being combed for riders, and some very spectacular stunts will be on the program. This form of entertainment will no doubt appeal to the metropolitan visitor who seldom if ever has an opportunity to enjoy a show of this description.

Naramata News

Current Events of Town and District

Two of Mr T. J. Smith's daughters, Annie and Zella, of Vancouver who have been visiting with their relatives, the Robinson's, for most of the summer, returned home on Saturday night via K.V.R.

W. A. Robinson, who has been very close to business in the Naramata Supply Company store for the past two years, is off to the Coast cities for a well-earned holiday.

Mr J. C. Miller, chief train dispatcher in the C.P.R. at Calgary, is visiting with Mr and Mrs J. M. Robinson. Mr Miller has a very nice ten-acre orchard here, coming into full bearing, and he revels in orchard work as he stores up the nerve force for another year of train moving.

Mr Carroll C. Aikins is a bit of a rustler when it comes to doing things that require quick action. The shortage of water promised serious reduction in the size, quality, and quantity of his apple crop. He has nearly a hundred acres of orchard, and a large proportion in best varieties of apples. To meet the emergency he went to Vancouver and picked up at a bargain a city fire engine which had been superseded, and a quantity of four inch steel pipe, which had been purchased by one of the municipalities adjacent to Vancouver in the boom but never installed, and in seventeen days from the inception of the idea the outfit was pumping water to the orchard, and the whole thing runs like a sewing machine. Your correspondent had an opportunity of seeing the machine at work on Tuesday and learned that they were raising and delivering two hundred and fifty gallons a minute to a height of two hundred and twenty-five feet. From what could be gathered as to expense of operation Mr Aikins thought it would cost him about $3 per acre for each thorough irrigation. Of course it is intended that the outfit will only be carried as a kind of auxiliary; a protection against a possible shortage of water in a very dry season. Mr Aikins has his whole orchard fully equipped with a perfect pipe distributing system, and he had the pumping plant connected with this system, so he can augment when required, or supply all the water needed in the event of anything going wrong with the gravity supply system. The whole installation will not cost $3,000, which is, after all, not much of an outlay in view of the magnitude of the interests involved.

Miss Evelyn McCullough of Penticton is spending part of her vacation at Naramata, the guest of Margaret Mitchell.

Miss Alice Myers is visiting Summerland, the guest of Mrs Archibald.

Prof. Broad and family visited Naramata for a day's outing on the lake shore on Tuesday. The professor was a great admirer of Mr Charlie Johnston's lovely garden and flowers in other years, before Mr Johnston sold out and went to Victoria to live. Learning that Mr Johnston had come back to Naramata he went up the hill to see Mr and Mrs Johnston in their new place, and to renew acquaintance of those other days, much to the delight of Mr and Mrs Johnston.

Campbell Robinson, who was among the "called" in the American draft at Silver City, could not pass the physical requirements and was thus allowed to go on with his work at the mine.

Mr J. Davies of Ottawa, brother of our local merchant, arrived on Tuesday, and is so favorably impressed with Naramata that he will probably settle down here for good.

Mrs John Noyes is visiting her daughter, Mr Hume, at Kelowna.

The water users co-operative movement to increase the supply of water by tapping a lake near the summit, which was located last year by the government engineers, was quite successful. The lake, which is about fifteen acres, was tapped by a ditch about five feet deep. The water was let down to the company dam where it is now being distributed. A repair of the break in what is known as the people's dam was also made. This dam not having been repaired last fall was not available for storage this season, and that accounts for a good deal of Naramata's water trouble.

Mrs J. S. Aikins and daughter, Mary, of Montreal, arrived by K.V.R. on Saturday evening, and will visit Mr and Mrs Carroll Aikins for a few weeks.

Mrs Allen and Mrs D. O. Hughes spent Tuesday in Penticton.

Messrs Alexander and Kidd of the Water Commission came up from Penticton on Tuesday for an hour to get some further information concerning the Okanagan Securities Co., whose method of water distribution they had been looking into when there ten days ago. Mr J. M. Robinson took occasion to talk over with the Board plans that the Peachland Townsite Company had formulated the day before at a meeting of the Board of Directors of that company, called for the purpose. Having just returned from a careful investigation at Peachland, these men were in position to fully understand and appreciate the plans the Peachland company propose to follow. They listened attentively to the plans, but did not commit themselves much. The Townsite company claim that it has always carried out its water contract with the water users at Peachland, and is of opinion that this fact was very fully brought out at the investigation. Another year the company proposes to have installed the most up-to-date measuring devices, so that all doubts as to quantities of water, being used will be disposed of to the satisfaction of all concerned. The company's distributing system is also to be thoroughly overhauled and enlarged to meet the requirements of the orchardists who have gone into alfalfa raising, and thus need more water.

Mrs L. L. McDonald, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs Mitchell, left for her home at Blackie, Alberta, on Thursday morning.

Mrs Cash spent Thursday to Monday at Penticton the guest of Mrs Mitchell.

Miss Rosa Mitchell of Penticton is visiting Mrs Languedoc.

B.C. Fruit Dealers Reaping Rich Harvest This Season.

(Calgary News-Telegram).

Canadian fruit for Canadian people. This is the slogan under which J. A. Grant, B.C. Fruit Commissioner, is working here. He reports that never before has there been such a demand for British Columbia products in Canada as this year.

These districts will be contracted for overseas shipment for the Allies, that the yield will not greatly affect the Canadian market. The Ontario and Quebec crops, as well as being short, will show an inferior quality in comparison with other years, the apples being small and scabby.

A NEW MARKET.

Thirty cars of B.C. Jonathan and McIntosh Red apples have already been sold to Toronto firms by one shipper in B.C. These have been contracted for at about $1.40 f.o.b. shipping point, but Mr Grant says there is no assurance that the market will remain at this figure.

Much fruit has been going to waste every year in British Columbia, because of the lack of a market, and yet he believes if all the prairie trade were accorded to the neighboring province, there would be room in B.C. for twice as many growers as now are producing fruit.

There will be a good average crop of apples and all larger fruits in B.C. this year, and Mr Grant is hoping that the bulk of the prairie trade and particularly that from Alberta, will be given the neighboring farmers of B.C. rather than the American shippers.

A MOTHER'S CREED.

I believe in the lasting importance of the home as the fundamental institution of society. I believe in the immeasurable possibilities of every boy and girl. I believe in the imagination, the trust, the hopes, and the ideals which dwell in the hearts of all children.

THE UNSELFISH MOTHER'S ANSWER.

By Dr James L. Hughes.

God gave my son in trust to me; Christ died for him, and he should be a man for Christ. He is his own, And God's and man's; not mine alone.

He was not mine to "give." He gave Himself that he might help to save All that a Christian might revere, All that enlightened men hold dear.

"To feed the guns!" Oh, torpid soul! Awake and see life as a whole. When freedom, honor, justice, right With heart aflame and soul alight. He bravely went for God to fight Against base savages whose pride The laws of God and man defied, Who slew the mother and her child, Who maidens pure and sweet defiled.

He did not go, to "feed the guns," He went to save from ruthless Huns His home and country, and to be A guardian of democracy.

"What if he does not come?" you say; Ah, well! My sky would be more gray, But through the clouds the sun would shine, And vital memories be mine. God's test of manhood is, I know, Not "will he come?" but "did he go?" My son well knew that he might die, And yet he went, with purpose high, To fight for peace, and overthrow The plans of Christ's relentless foe. He dreaded not the battlefield; He went to make fierce vandals yield.

If he comes not again to me I shall be sad; but not that he Went like a man—a hero true— His part unselfishly to do. My heart will feel exultant pride That for humanity he died.

"Forgotten grave!" This selfish plea Awakes no deep response in me, For, though his grave I may not see, My boy will ne'er forgotten be. My real son can never die; 'Tis but his body that may lie In foreign lands; and I shall keep Remembrance fond for ever, deep Within my heart of my true son, Because of triumphs that he won. It matters not where any one May lie and sleep when work is done.

It matters not where some men live; If my dear son his life must give, Hosannas I will sing for him, E'en though my eyes with tears be dim. And when the war is over, when His gallant comrades come again, I'll cheer them as they're marching by, Rejoicing that they did not die. And when his vacant place I see, My heart will bound with joy that he Was mine so long—my fair young son— And cheer for him whose work is done.

(Greater significance is given to these lines of Dr Hughes by the fact that his own son was killed in action some time ago, and now lies buried in France.)—Ajo Copper News.

CANNING RUSSIAN THISTLES.

Kansas Women Find Use For Once Worthless Weed.

The women of south-west Kansas are canning Russian thistles for greens.

A few years ago the farmers of that section were appealing to the legislature for special appropriations to help stamp out the Russian thistle pest, which was worse than the sand burs. Then a year or two ago it was discovered that the thistle made good silage when cut green and put into the silo.

And now the folks are eating them. It came about as the result of the food conservation movement. Some wiseacre in the Panhandle of Texas discovered that the tumbleweed, cut green when the stalks were tender and juicy, made as good greens as spinach or kale.

The farmers' wives soon discovered this. Now they're putting them up for winter, canning the tumble weed the farmer used to cuss as worthless.

Another use for this, to us, worthless and troublesome weed, which our southern cousins have found for it is for pasturing hogs.

Manure as Fertilizer

Equal Results Secured With Fresh and Rotted Manure.

Perhaps one of the most remarkable results obtained in our experiments with fertilizers has been the discovery that, as far as ordinary farm crops are concerned, fresh and rotted manure, applied at the same rate, have given practically equal yields. The explanation of this is not easy to find, since rotted manure, weight for weight, is very considerably richer in plant food than fresh manure. It probably lies in the better inoculation of the soil with desirable micro-organisms for the conversion of soil plant food into assimilable forms by the fresh manure and the greater warmth set up by its fermentation in the soil affecting beneficially the crop in its early stages. But, be this as it may, we have the practical deduction that there is no concomitant gain from the use of rotted manure, in the ordinary farm rotation, for the labor involved in rotting it and the large losses in organic matter and plant food that inevitably accompany the operation. The quicker the farmer can get the manure into the land or on to the land the better, for it is never worth more than when first produced.

The manurial value of clover need not be dwelt upon, at any length. Our work in this connection is fairly well-known throughout the Dominion. It has been of an exhaustive nature, and has yielded most satisfactory results; indeed, it would be difficult to over-estimate its value to Canadian agriculture. Chemically, physically, and biologically, the growth and turning under of clover improves the soil, and we have been enabled to demonstrate over and over again that a crop of clover in the rotation has a manurial effect equal to an application of farm manure of ten to fifteen tons per acre.—Dr F. T. Shutt at Eighth Annual Meeting of Commission of Conservation.

Minister of Public Works On Visit To Okanagan.

Spends Day in Summerland Looking Over District.

Several Matters Relevant to his Department Placed Before him.

Hon. Dr King, Minister of Public Works, is touring the Interior, accompanied by his secretary. They spent Monday inspecting various matters requiring attention in North Okanagan, under the direction of K.C. MacDonald, M.P.P., of Vernon, and Tuesday was devoted to a study of questions in our constituency of South Okanagan. In this part of his tour the minister was accompanied by Mr L. V. Rogers of Kelowna, and Supt. Stewart, who has oversight of the roads and public works in Okanagan and Similkameen. Mr T. J. McAlpine was also one of the party.

After examining into problems in Kelowna, Westbank, and Peachland, the party motored to Summerland, arriving late in the afternoon at Hotel Summerland. Here the minister met the council in an informal way, and was introduced to a number of citizens who had gathered to give him a welcome. The main subject discussed with the council was the question of doing away with the road through Dunsdon dam in Garnett Valley. The necessity of the dam being built, and of doing away with the road were strongly impressed upon Dr King with the result that he spent the evening here, and made a personal trip of inspection on Thursday with Mr Rogers and the rest of the party. Incidentally Mr Rogers took the opportunity of showing Dr King a good deal of Summerland district, and the party were shown through a number of our orchards, and given facts and figures as to the possibilities of our district under proper conditions. The irrigation question was also discussed from all angles, and the importance of water to the South Okanagan constituency was strongly emphasized by Mr Rogers.

Seen after his trip of inspection Dr King expressed himself as charmed with what Summerland possessed and said nothing but seeing with the eye would enable one to understand what great possibilities this district had, and that he thought the people had done wonders under all the circumstances.

He further stated that the Brewster Government was fully alive to the importance of the irrigation question to the development of the dry belt, and the desire was unanimous among the ministers to solve the problem so as to make for permanency and efficiency in irrigation matters. It is expected that the attention now being given by the ministers to this question will result in an announcement being made before long as to what concrete policy will be adopted by the government. Dr King said that Mr Rogers and his supporters in the Liberal party throughout the constituency had been most energetic in impressing the government with the prime importance of giving attention and assistance to the irrigation and other problems interesting the people and that the government had these problems constantly before them. Unfortunately when they came into power there was such a host of problems pressing upon all the ministers that this, along with the work of the session, had forced them to give first attention to getting the departments in working order. Now, however, the departments are running smoothly, and more positive results are expected.

Dr King stated he saw no reason why the request of the municipality for the diversion of the road in Garnett Valley should not be granted, and that he was not waiting until his return to Victoria before consulting the Water Department, but was doing this at once because of the urgency of the request, and it is likely word granting the request will be forwarded to the Council next week. Dr King left at noon for Penticton, and after covering the Similkameen district will go through the Kootenays. He expects to visit all of southern B.C. before returning to Victoria.

Slack Pack Throws Market to Importer

In his weekly report of Saturday last Prairie Markets Commissioner Grant, with headquarters at Calgary, writes of plums and prunes: I notice a decided slackness in the B.C. pack. The Washington pack is well over weight. They seem to figure that all the difference between a real full basket and a slack one is the few extra plums or prunes.

One jobber remarked that he bought Wenatchee plums in preference to B.C.'s at 10 cents a crate more, and he reckoned that he received more than the difference in price in the value of the fruit.

Your M.C. weighed two baskets at random. The B.C. weighed 4 1/2 lbs., and the Wenatchee 5 1/2 lbs., and on that ratio the buyer was right. The quality is practically the same. Why not put in the full weight and get the market? The extra weight comes over the line at 20 lbs. per crate, freight, duty and boxes are the same value irrespective of the contents. We must equal the boat pack, and the margin of difference is so small that we would be fully repaid by the effort to be equal.

How One Man Ruined Market

Vancouver, Aug. 25. — Field tomatoes have held strong, and from the supply received there was every indication of a strong market right through the season, but the usual thing happened. For some unknown reason one shipper quoted a car for delivery first of next week, at 80c. Vancouver. This will, no doubt, break down the price for a few days, but we believe, from present indications, that the price will go back again as soon as this car is cleared up.

The ruling price of tomatoes today is $1.25 for four basket crates, and $1 for heavy boxes. Four inch peach boxes selling for somewhat less. One shipper from Lytton is cutting his own throat and breaking the market for other shippers by shipping express a few crates to a fruit stall who in turn sells his surplus out to a few retail grocers at 80c. per box. This will not do the shippers around 50c. per box. — Const Markets Commissioner.

According to the latest crop report, the apple crop of the Okanagan will be about equal to that of last year, and generally of better quality but smaller in size.

Tapped Large Lake at Upper Waters

One Hundred Acre Feet of Water Freed.

Coun. R. Johnston and party returned on Saturday from a four days' trip to the upper waters of Trout Creek, where they went to visit a large lake on a tributary to that creek and to let down what water was available there. With the exception of the main lake at the head of Trout Creek proper, Coun. Johnston informs the Review that the lake visited, known to the few who knew of its existence as Whitehead Lake, is the largest in the Trout Creek water system. In his opinion the lake covers an area of about seventy-five acres. A channel was cut into the lake which will lower its level by about eighteen inches, and will thus turn into the main channel of Trout Creek about one hundred acre-feet of water. Somewhere in the Trout Creek water shed there is yet another lake, in the opinion of Coun. Johnston, a lake once visited by ex-Supt. Mitchell, and which, until he visited Whitehead Lake, he thought was the lake described by Mr Mitchell. That lake remains to be rediscovered. The party found it possible to travel to Osprey Lake by road. From that point they turned north, guided by E. N. Rowley, at whose pre-emption the first night was spent. Some steep mountain climbing was necessary, but this was only an incident in the undertaking to obtain a further supply of water for irrigation purposes.

With some improvements here and there along the road to Osprey Lake it is said that a fairly good road would be open all the way to Princeton, as the road from Osprey Lake to Princeton is now in fair condition.

Everything Ready For Big Stampede

A rumor was in circulation last week to the effect that the big stampede which was being arranged in Penticton for the entertainment of the delegates to the good roads convention, which was to be held there on September 6 and 7 had been cancelled owing to the fact that word had been received from the Automobile Club of Vancouver that it would be unable to attend the meeting in the Tourist City.

This rumor is without foundation, as a message from Penticton this morning states that the good roads convention will be held on the dates mentioned, and that a large number of autoists from Vancouver will be there to attend it. The plans for the big stampede are practically completed, and it will be staged as advertised. Large posters advertising the event are being posted up throughout the district, and a glance at them will convince any one that the show is to be something out of the ordinary.

The secretary of the Colonial Office in London has notified the Canadian High Commissioner's office that "the Board of Customs and Excise have decided to admit, under the general license issued to them, all dried fruits of British origin in respect of which any satisfactory evidence of such origin is produced to the collector at the port of arrival in the United Kingdom, and will not insist upon certificates of origin in the case of dried fruits imported from Canada, if your government would prefer not to issue such certificates."

Admit Storage Right Of Municipality

Council Will Re-build Dunsdon Dam.

That the municipality has the right to store water on the old site of the Dunsdon dam which was washed out some years ago has now been admitted by the provincial authorities. Mr Young, Water Comptroller, has written the municipal council acceding the right, stating that permission will be given to erect the dam if an arrangement can be made with the Public Works Department about that portion of the road, built since the old dam was destroyed, which would be flooded by rebuilding.

Records dug up at Victoria show that in May 1894 Mr Dunsdon was given a storage record on Eneas Creek, and that in 1897 he was given permission to build the dam. It is under this record that the government considers the municipality has the right to build. Mr Dunsdon's record was transferred by him to the Garnett Valley Land Co., and from them to the municipality.

While pointing out that the municipality would probably wish to store more water at this site than was required for the Dunsdon property, Mr Armstrong, Chairman of the Water Board, is asking only that plans be submitted of the proposed dam for the approval of the Department.

Mr Latimer, the municipal engineer, is to make the necessary surveys this week and prepare the plans for the dam.

After visiting the site on Thursday morning, Dr King, Minister of Public Works, gave assurance that his department would not hinder the building of the dam because of the road, remarking that a large body of water can be stored there.

With this dam the property owners of Garnett Valley and Jones' Flat will be provided with a large reserve of water, which will be further augmented, according to the council's plans, by the raising of the dam further up the creek.

Robertson Responds To Country's Call.

R. Robertson, of Robertson, Morris & Co., of Vancouver, better known in the Valley as the man who led in the organization of the Okanagan United Growers, has received a request from Ottawa asking him to go there to act on a committee of the food controller's department, to investigate the distribution of fruit and vegetables. Membership on the committee he will act on at Ottawa is an honorary position, without salary. Mr Robertson left at once for the capital city.

Slan'd Wins Both Tournaments

The good name of the Summerland Lawn Tennis Club was well sustained in two matches played recently with a team from the Penticton Club. The first tournament was played on the local courts with eight players who had motored up from Penticton in time for cold lunch, provided by the local club, and play stated at 2.30. Many close and interesting matches were contested during the afternoon, good playing being a prominent feature. Summerland came out winners by a small margin of 9 matches to 7, and 77 games to 64. Last Saturday our racquet wielders again proved too much for the Penticton team taking 12 out of 16 sets of mixed doubles, while in the

Council Meets To Discuss Various Irrigation Matters

Some Criticism Made of Ditch Staff.

Believed Greater Efficiency should be Obtainable. Remedies Suggested.

Water matters were the occasion of the calling of a special meeting of the Municipal Council on Wednesday. The reeve, in stating why he had called the meeting said that there was a report current that a large body of water had been released, and as a result of this; report the people were expecting too much. By calling the councillors together the people would better understand the situation through reading the Review's report of the discussions and proceedings of the meeting.

It was Coun. Johnston's opinion that water users would not be expecting any great flow of water in the irrigation system because of the tapping of the lake last week.

It is evident from what transpired that the supply that is reaching the municipal distribution system is disappointingly small. Coun. Campbell pointed out that the raising of the water in the creek would result in a much larger waste as the dried-out creek-sides would absorb a large amount of water.

The discussion, which was of a conversational nature, soon swerved to the distribution phase of the water question, and especially the lack of efficiency in the water staff, due to the alleged failure of some of the employees to do all that might be expected of them in making an impartial apportioning of the water, and to get the most out of the ditches and flumes by attending to leaks, seepages, etc. Coun. Campbell said that every ditchman should carry a shovel and make use of it. He told of greatly improving the carrying capacity of a ditch by spending less than an hour with a shovel putting mud in places where the water was wasting. Leaking flumes are helped by the same method.

Coun. English remarked that never in the history of the system had the water superintendent kept the ditchmen working to the best advantage. He suggested that the ditchmen be changed about, which would help to do away with the favoritism which he said was too prevalent. The clerk declared that it took a year for a ditchman to learn his section, and that he never did as good work the first year. The superintendent should prevent any favoritism.

That he should also insist that the men keep the flumes and ditches in the best possible condition was the opinion of Coun. Campbell.

Coun. Johnston told of one ditchman, who though told of it, failed to repair a flume which had been broken by a crossing wagon, and had kept his water users in need of water until he had been ordered by the superintendent some days later to fix the flume. This happened while the superintendent was away for several days at headwaters.

It's about time that man got his walking ticket, replied Coun. English. To which Coun. Johnston agreed.

According to reports received by the council some of the ditchmen have assumed a don't care attitude since their request for an increase in wages was refused.

While admitting that there were many reasons why ratepayers should be given preference, Coun. Simpson declared it was not always working out to the best advantage in the case of hiring ditchmen. He suggested that returned soldiers be given employment. Some of the ditchmen work hard on their own properties before and after putting in the day on the ditch, and also on Sunday. As a result they must rest up on the municipal job. Coun. Simpson favored having the work done by men who were not so employed otherwise.

Coun. English: Efficiency must be the first consideration.

Coun. Johnston: There is something wrong somewhere. We are certainly up against it this year.

In order to give some relief in the prospective shortage of carrot and mangel seed, which is described as serious, Supt. Helmer of the Experimental Station wrote that here as at all the Dominion farms an effort is being made to grow all the seed possible. There are six acres of these plants at the Summerland Station, and the superintendent asked that he be given water necessary to bring the plants through to maturity. The matter had been already called to the attention of the water superintendent, and the clerk reported that he believed it had been attended to.

It was found necessary to drop some lots from the tax sale list because of the Soldiers' Relief Act.

An application was received for domestic water connection to Geo. Sinclair's lot. This was referred to the Public Works Committee, with instructions to give the service if possible, it being understood that the cost would be advanced by the applicant.

Coun. Campbell urged that preparations be made for the building of the new Dunsdon dam as soon as the irrigation season ended.

In the list of accounts approved for payment at the last regular sitting was an item of $128 to be paid Coun. Johnston. The Reeve regretted that particulars of this had not been published as he feared it might be misunderstood. The sum was for the purpose of repurchasing from the councillor a piece of property which he had purchased the year before at the tax sale.

men's doubles the score was 1-1 when play had to be stopped because of falling light. This was on the Penticton courts, and after play the visitors were entertained at the Incola by the Penticton Club. The players from here were: Mrs Simpson, Mrs May, Misses Higgin, and Cartwright, Messrs Dodwell, Faulder, May and Koop.

The Tax Sale.

The annual sale of lands for taxes was held at the Municipal Office on Thursday morning. The list of properties up for sale was less than usual this year, and the bidders were about in proportion. Several of the advertised properties had been withdrawn, the necessary money having been paid to the collector, while a number of others were purchased by the Summerland Development Co., presumably because they had an interest in them.

Several citizens made investments in the lands offered for sale, and if not redeemed within the twelve months they will have obtained excellent bargains.

In all nearly eleven hundred dollars was taken at the sale, while four hundred and fifty dollars had been paid in to have properties withheld from sale.

A RESULT OF CONSIGNING.

THE FOLLY OF CONSIGNING perishable produce or other merchandise was shown in a report from the Prairie Markets Commissioner published in last week's Review. A car lot of semi-green tomatoes were consigned to a Calgary jobber by a California shipper. The jobber refused to handle them. It is said the stock was good enough, but anything thus forced on a customer will never bring the price. The carload was put up at auction by the C.P.R. A later report says that the stock was picked over by the Hudson's Bay Co., who purchased the best of it at 70 cents a crate and then the city market superintendent was asked to take the balance and sell them on the city market. He demurred, and was reprimanded for hesitating.

The city finally bought the remains of the car which had been refused by wholesaler, retailer, and peddler alike at 65 cents a crate and retailed them on a featured ad at 75 cents per crate.

The growers lost money on this consignment, and the advertising done by the city of Calgary of tomatoes at such a low price has had a bad effect on the legitimate market, which was reflected in the week's prices, 40 lb. crates of B.C. tomatoes wholesaling as low as $1.50, and green tomatoes, 90 cents.

CONSCRIPTION WILL NOT HIT ESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES.

ANTI-CONSCRIPTIONISTS are arguing that Canada should devote its efforts to producing munitions, foodstuffs, and other supplies for the entente instead of sending more men to the front. They contend that Canada cannot maintain its output of supplies if it sends any more men out of the country.

Leaving aside for the moment the fact that such a policy would involve a disgraceful repudiation of Canada's plain obligations, those who argue that the country's war industries would suffer if more men went to the trenches shut their eyes to the main feature of the selective draft plan of conscription.

Selective draft will not take men out of essential industries. Men who are engaged in essential agriculture, mining, lumbering, smelting and transportation work will all be exempted. The 100,000 men authorized by the conscription bill can be obtained from the more than 700,000 unmarried men between the ages of 20 and 34 without taking any from essential work. The voluntary system makes no such distinction. In fact it has hit the necessary industries harder than those which are not essential.—Nelson News.

COMMENTS METHOD OF DOUKHOBORS.

Mr R. G. L. Clarke, Dominion Fruit Inspector, who has just been on a visit to the Kootenay district, states that the Doukhor settlements at Castlegar and at Brilliant are making great headway in the fruit canning industry. Under the guidance of three English experts, the best methods of preserving and canning have been acquired. Land clearing is also being carried doggedly on. Mr Clarke is inclined to recommend the communal settlement methods these Russians follow to the attention of returned soldiers, who might find their system of community farming worthy of study, as a model of its kind.

NO HURRY.

The telephone bell rang with anxious persistence. The doctor answered the call.
"Yes?" he said.
"Oh, doctor," said a worried voice, "something seems to have happened to my wife. Her mouth seems set, and she can't say a word."
"Why, she may have lockjaw," said the medical man.
"Do you think so? Well, if you are up this way some time next week I wish you would step in and see what you can do for her."—Harper's.

"What an extraordinarily long cigarette holder, Mr Smyth!"
"Yes, the doctor ordered me to keep away from cigarettes."

Shipping Crab Apples to United States

Calgary, Aug. 25.—Heavy shipments of crab apples are arriving here this week, but unlike other prairie points the demand for them has not been made by the housewife, and consequently the trade will not stock them. Many lots have been sent elsewhere on this account, and this brings home to us the need of a little special advertising to stimulate the necessary interest in preserving and canning these goods before the height of the season goes by.

B.C. Transcendent crabs have found a profitable outlet in the United States this year, and many car lots of our stuff are sold there. One brokerage concern has placed over 40 cars there. This fact should tend to stiffen prices here, but whether that results or not we should make an effort to have all the produce conserved for later use in view of the need to conserve food stuffs at the time that it is in best condition for this purpose.

The jobbers of this city are reported as being in favor of advertising for this purpose, and if the shippers and growers would cooperate with them much good would result.

Special advertising for such a purpose was never more needed. Every effort should be made to distribute the supply of tomatoes and cucumbers where it can be used to best advantage, and that is in each respective household.

A Calgary jobber complains about slack packing in peaches. He states that the peach boxes weighed from 13 to 15 lbs., and his customers want a shortage allowance.

Packers should remember when packing fruit that it is a good pack that pleases the merchant.

Mistress of the House—"Your people are getting terribly careless—an absolutely new tablecloth was sent home last week torn into two pieces." The Laundryman—"Yus'm—but it was only charged for as one article."

Naramata News

Current Events of Town and District

Mr J. R. Wells, who has been kept pretty busy during the past four months caring for lots for non-residents, will leave for the prairies in a few days. Mr Wells is one of the hustlers of the Naramata Fruit Company, and he goes to talk things over with their customers, and incidentally widen the market for our fruit.

The water situation is certainly very acute in Naramata, for the creeks are practically dry, and the supply from the Summit lake was only a drop in the bucket. At a meeting of the water users held on Saturday evening the whole situation was canvassed thoroughly, but nothing seemed to be left that could be done. "Pray for rain" was the only hope held out.

Poultry Feed.

(Experimental Farms Note).

The question of feed for poultry is becoming serious. Corn is practically off the market, oats high in price, barley and buckwheat very scarce as well as high. Wheat, the most popular poultry feed in Canada at any price, should not, under present conditions, be used for poultry if it is fit for milling purposes, for the prospects are that this year's crop will leave the world's supply of wheat still short, and it will be necessary to save all suitable wheat for human consumption. Poultrymen will therefore have to look for a substitute.

Before looking for other grains, it might be advisable to suggest that more mash feed be used in the ration. During the summer both the chicks and the layers could be fed a larger proportion of dry or moist mash and less grain than is usually advised. Mill feeds such as shorts and bran are easier to get and cheaper than the grain feeds, and when the birds are on range could be eaten in larger proportions.

For the grain part of the ration it might be necessary to use oats, barley, buckwheat, etc., when these are procurable at reasonable prices. In many places these cannot be obtained; here the screenings from flour mills and elevators should be used.

There are considerable buckwheat screenings procurable at a reasonable price at the prairie and Port Arthur elevators, which make good feed. At the middle eastern flour mills there are quantities of screenings taken from milling wheat that would form almost an ideal grain mixture, and could be purchased at about the price of shorts. In fact, most of this class of feed is ground and mixed with the mill feeds, and as a consequence is lost as a grain feed for poultry.

Such feeds make very suitable rations especially for growing chicks or for the summer feeding of laying stock, and they are much more economical than wheat. In an experiment conducted at the Cap Rouge Experimental Station screenings at two-thirds the cost of good wheat produced eggs at less cost than did the wheat. Some of this feed may be fed whole and some ground for a mash.

Samples of feed and prices in car lots have been submitted which, even with a reasonable commission could be retailed at a comparatively low price. Some of these samples are—buckwheat screenings, $25 per ton at Saskatoon, this is a cracked feed, 96 per cent. wild buckwheat and cracked wheat, 4 per cent. weed seeds of various kinds. It is a good rearing feed, and may be fed whole or ground. Another sample was quoted at $1.90 per cwt. f.o.b. Toronto; a sample of small wheat with a few oats and a trace of wild buckwheat, price $2 per cwt.; two samples somewhat better at $2.10; a good sample of burnt wheat at $2.50, and a better sample at $2.90.

These are all satisfactory feeds, and the price quoted shows that compared with wheat they are cheaper. They could be used as whole grain or as a mash feed. In

Rabies Among Coyotes Feared

Boundary Country Alarmed By Reports.

Fear that the rabies infection which caused great damage to the ranchers of Oregon has spread to the coyotes in the Grand Forks district of this province, have been aroused by alarmist reports from Grand Forks. Two or three cases have been reported to the provincial game warden by persons who claim to have seen coyotes suffering from rabies, and steps are being taken by the authorities to organize a coyote hunt in the district in an effort to exterminate the infected animals before great harm results.

The rabies infection in Oregon started some time ago through the misguided attempts of some of the farmers to stamp out the coyote pest by inoculating some of the animals with rabies and turning them loose. Instead of exterminating each other and letting it go at that, the maddened animals, after the contagion had spread through the coyotes, turned in to bite cattle, dogs, and all manner of domestic animals, with the result that thousands of cattle had to be destroyed, and an expensive campaign of slaughter entered on to stamp out the rabies epidemic.

It is thought that some of the animals may have carried the disease across the boundary. Warnings are being sent out and organized efforts will be made to exterminate the disease before it gets any headway in British Columbia.

Mr T. H. Boothe, who has been resident in Naramata for ten years, moved with his family to Penticton on Wednesday. Mr Boothe was one of Naramata's most up-to-date-in-his-thinking citizens. Optimistic as they make 'em, and a booster for the Okanagan. To lose a family like the Boothe's, who were always ready to give a helping hand in the furthering of any community enterprise, is anything but desirable. We are pleased to know, however, that Mr Boothe intends to continue his business relationships here, only he will operate from Penticton, where he thinks he can see a wider scope for his real estate and insurance business. In Red Cross, Ladies' Aid, Unity Club, and musical circles Mrs Boothe will be missed, for she was very active in these organizations. Having two fine boys on the firing line for over a year, she naturally is specially interested in the work of the Red Cross, and Penticton Red Cross will do well to look her up.

Mr J. C. Miller left for his home in Calgary on Tuesday. On Saturday night Mr Miller entertained a few of his Naramata friends to a trip to Penticton on the "Skookum." The movies and the usual after theatre party at the Glen and the trip home by moonlight rounded out a very charming evening.

A bathing party with supper on the beach, a real old time sing, and a lovely trip home by moonlight on Sunday evening was one of the most pleasant functions of the season at Naramata. The party was promoted by and made up mostly of Summerland people, among whom were the Misses Blair, Miss Sutherland, Mrs Reynolds, Miss Kathleen Henderson, Mr McQuarrie, and Pte. Ross Black, a returned soldier, cousin of the Sutherland's. The Misses Robinson, J. C. Miller, and the two Leckie boys represented Naramata.

Keith and Duncan Leckie of Vancouver, who spent two months at Naramata trying their hands at making their way by the results of their own work, left for home on Monday. The boys were much pleased, they said, with the good time they had, and hoped their father would try the experiment on them next year. They returned in good form for their school work, whether they earned enough to pay expenses or not, and after all that was no doubt the chief object in view.

some of them weed seeds will be found, and care must be taken to feed so these will not spread. Local flour mills in Ontario and Quebec submitted all the samples but the wild buckwheat screenings. No doubt feed of this nature could be secured at any mill making flour and if poultrymen would ask for it, more of it would be available.

For British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces the buckwheat screenings seem the best available, and a little co-operation might be the means of securing this feed in car lots.

Poultry that has been eating good wheat and corn may not at first take to the screenings, but with a little time and patience they will eat it readily. A carload of it was received at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, at a cost of $35 a ton. It has proven very satisfactory for growing chicks and for summer feeding of hens. It may not be ideal for litter feeding in the winter, but for fattening and mashed feed is most satisfactory.

$1.25; plums $1-$1.10. More fruit going to American side than ever before. Present indications point to a ready sale and good prices.

"I want to be honest, sir. I can't support your daughter, but I am afraid to tell her so, because she has set her heart on marrying me." "Never mind. Do your best. I can't support her, either."

Miss Goldsmid of Vancouver, who spent a few days here in the early part of the summer, has returned for another visit with her friend, Mrs Cash.

W. J. Robinson and family spent the week-end with his brother, J. M. Robinson.

Mrs M. M. Robinson paid a flying visit to Naramata on Monday to say goodbye to her folks before leaving for her annual visit to her daughter at Vancouver.

The busiest man in town these days is the express man, H. T. Davies. A very large quantity of fruit is being shipped by express this year.

Carroll Atkins is running up against the usual "snags" in his fire engine water pumping experiment, but he is learning a lot about the business, and even if there is some extra unlooked for expense entailed, he has the satisfaction of knowing that his apple trees are getting water all the same. It is possible a heavier service machine might be more satisfactory, and if so it will be installed, for the experiment even thus far shows that pumping from the lake is feasible, and not so expensive as to be prohibitive for an orchard as large as Mr Atkins'.

Market Apples In Their Season

Suggestion Again Advanced by Market Commissioner.

That there should be some recognized seasons for sending the leading varieties of apples to the prairie markets, writes Prairie Markets Commissioner Grant. At that moment Calgary was receiving B.C. Transparents and Duchess and Wenatchee Wealthy.

Continuing, he says: These Wealthies are slightly on the green side, and their quality is partially lost. When our Wealthies come on they should have the market for a time, even although the McIntosh may be ready to roll. This would allow the Wealthies to be cleaned up, and then the popular Mac could be given his innings, followed by Jonathan.

Storage facilities for winter are greatly needed in the Okanagan Valley, so that we may retain those choice late varieties where they are grown until their season arrives. It is well known to growers and shippers who have tested it that apples keep best at growing point in storage. So far in the high-priced season Washington has a complete monopoly of the market. This is nothing new, but the action taken would be new and very profitable as well.

The subject of the physical process of George Washington was being discussed. "He threw a dollar across the Potomac River once," asserted Frank McKindles. "Yes, but a dollar went farther in those days than it does now," retorted Charlie Bellis.

Prices and Markets.

The question of marketing apples narrows itself down to a problem to be settled by Nova Scotia, says the Canadian Fruit Commissioner. British Columbia will not be able to supply the demand in the prairies. Ontario will cater to those markets to some extent, but her crop is very small. Quebec cannot pack enough apples to meet local needs. Consequently the crop in Nova Scotia, which cannot be exported on account of the British embargo, will have to be distributed in such a way that the markets ordinarily fed by Ontario will receive their usual quota, or as nearly so as possible. Cities as far west as Regina and Saskatoon will undoubtedly receive Annapolis Valley apples this year, and large quantities will be marketed in Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, and other eastern cities.

There is no cause for any panics, continues the Fruit Commissioner. We strongly reiterate what we said in our last report, that there will be a fair market in Canada for all our apples. If adequate

French Using Liquid Fire.

Since the introduction of this method of warfare by the Germans, the French army is now using it effectively.

Mail advices state that during the afternoon of August 10 a very severe wind storm, approaching almost to a tornado, swept through the Annapolis Valley. Trees were twisted, branches torn off, and much fruit blown to the ground. It has been difficult to secure an accurate estimate of the damage caused. In some exposed orchards as much as from 40 to 50 per cent. of the crop was destroyed, while in protected areas comparatively little damage was caused. The most general report seems to be that the total crop in the valley was reduced between 20 and 25 per cent. This represents a loss of about 200,000 barrels. The storm also did damage in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

"I'm trying to get back to my poor old father," whined a tramp. "He ain't seen my face for ten long years!" "I believe you're speaking the truth," muttered the man he had approached. "Why don't you wash it?"

NO DANGER,

A few days ago a well-dressed and very charming young lady hailed a four-wheeler, there being no taxi in sight. Just as she was getting in she noticed that the horse seemed inclined to be frisky. He was jumping about and switching his tail in a way that alarmed her. She was a timid little thing. So she addressed a few words to the ancient Jehu: "I hope," she said, smiling bravely, "that you will not run away with me." The cabby sighed mournfully. "No, mum," he replied, "I have a wife and seven kids at home already!"
