Irrigation Rate Due Earlier

Council Needs Money in May For Work and Bonds.

Council Indemnity By-Law Is Advanced.

Users of irrigation water and all lot owners affected by the general water rate will be required to pay the current year's rates by May 1st in order to get the usual discount. An amendment to the irrigation by-law, advancing the due date by a month, was given first, second, and third readings at Friday's sitting of the Council. It is sure to become law at the next meeting. The Treasurer has recommended this change so as to put in the exchequer money needed for interest coupons maturing in May, and for which it has in the past been necessary to borrow against rates and taxes. It will also make easier the financing of spring repairs to the irrigation system.

The proposed council indemnity by-law, approved by the ratepayers and endorsed by the new councillor, Mr English, was also introduced and put through the usual readings, and is in shape to become law at the next regular session.

Negotiations for the purchase of a 25 ft. lot south of the Municipal Office opened some time ago are progressing slowly. The agents of the Eyre & Cutbill estate, owners, wrote asking for an offer. After viewing the lot and considering a price, Coun. English asked that the matter be laid on the table till Feb. 10th.

The Okanagan Telephone Co. is endeavoring to get the Council to trim the trees in front of Dr. Andrew's and Mr. Stark's homes on Beach Avenue. Till now they have been trimmed back from the telephone wires by Okanagan Telephone Co. employees. Dr. Andrew wrote protesting against mutilating the trees and marring the beauty of the street. After considerable talk as to who was responsible for any trimming necessary it was decided to visit the street and learn conditions. (It is said that there is no need to cut the trees as there is no reason why the wires cannot be moved to the outer side of the poles).

The municipal electrician reported that trees on the Hunt lot were short-circuiting the high tension light wires. He was instructed to trim the trees.

Free light and water was asked for the hotel for three months. The Clerk was asked to look up the Municipal Act, and after considering different clauses pertaining to grants, rebates, etc., it was decided to be not within the powers of the Council to grant the request. A referendum would be necessary.

Coun. Johnston asked for and was given permission to have sand placed along the south main for mixing with cement.

The same stringent policy as adopted a year ago as to irrigation service to land from which rates are due will be enforced.

The Revo advised that something be done at the next sitting to give access to the Tullett property from the Giant's Head road.

The following articles, being the contents of the 45th bale, were recently sent by the Ambulance League to the Red Cross Society headquarters in Vancouver:
75 pr. socks 12 mufflers 3 pr. wristlets; 1 pr. mitts; 40 wash cloths; 10 T bandages; 3 bundles old linen; 15 operation socks; 5 pr. pyjamas; 50 handkerchiefs.

Letters of Thanks From Soldiers.

Summerland soldiers overseas continue to send to the Home Comfort Club letters containing warmest appreciation of the parcels they receive from time to time. Almost invariably they commend the selection of articles the packages contain, mentioning also the fact that it is good to feel they are remembered by the people at home in this practical way. In addition to those soldiers whose letters are appearing in print from week to week, the following have also sent brief but hearty acknowledgements:

Driver C. R. Gowen, 1st Canadian D. S. C.; H. W. Agar, 172nd Battalion; R. Leighton MacLeod, 196th Battalion; H. N. Jennings, C. A. M. C.; Captain A. R. Thomson, R. A. M. C.; Austin Cooper; Ralph Brown, Artillery.

Captain Thomson mentions that after ten weeks of the Somme offensive he became ill and had to have six weeks sick leave. He is now doing duty on the east coast of England.

Writing on the 17th of December, Ralph Brown says his unit expected to cross to France in about a month or six weeks, though he did not know for certain. He characterized the English climate as "anything but pleasant."

Women Voters to Take Office

Conservative Association Is Being Re-Organized.

At the regular annual meeting of the Summerland Conservative Association on Wednesday evening it was decided to admit women members and to provide places on the executive for them. An additional office, that of third vice-president, was created, and a lady, Mrs F. W. Andrew, elected to it.

The attendance was disappointing, but the weather was such as to discourage going out of doors. Mr J. W. Jones, M.L.A., was present, and gave a short address. The question of patronage was touched upon, the speaker charging that the new government is going back on its pledges regarding this. He also disapproved of the general dismissal of the deputy ministers of the various departments. He declared that this would result in inefficiency, both the minister and the deputy being new to the work. He told of the recent recommendation of Mr L. V. Rogers for the position of Water Commissioner, and expressed doubt of the wisdom of the appointment of a school teacher, wholly inexperienced in farming irrigated land, and unfamiliar with the needs of the Valley as far as the distribution of water is concerned. Mr Jones said he would do his utmost to obtain the needed grants for roads, etc., for this district.

Officers were elected as follows:
President - E. R. Simpson
1st Vice-President - R. V. Agur
2nd Vice-President - W. C. W. Fosbery
3rd Vice-President - Mrs F. W. Andrew
Secretary - J. A. Kirk
Treasurer - A. B. Elliott

Till now there have been on the executive one member from each ward. This will now be changed to include a woman from each ward as well. It is proposed to have a social evening at an early date, when those ward members will be named.

Capo Colony was annexed in 1806.

Weather Records For a Decade

Exhaustive Compilations give Much Information as to Climatic Conditions Here.

There has been compiled by the Dominion Meteorological Station, Balcombe Ranch, summaries of the weather reports which are made up month by month and published in the Review. The period of record covers practically ten years, from July 1907, to December 1916. The work in tabulating the summaries and in arriving at averages and totals has evidently been quite considerable, and the Review is able by the courtesy of Mr R. V. Agur to present a few comments on the weather conditions prevailing in Summerland during this period. Every reader will now be able to judge whether the eulogistic remarks one hears optimistic people making about "Okanagan weather" are justified or not. Our own opinion is that they are.

PRECIPITATION.

The average yearly rainfall in Summerland during the past decade is 11.64 inches. 1908 and 1910 were the years having the lightest precipitation record with 8.56 and 8.83 inches respectively. The heaviest rainfall was in 1912, when 14.82 inches were recorded, but this was very closely approached by 1915 which shows 14.73 inches. May and June are by far the rainiest months of the year, their averages being 1.47 and 1.51 respectively. The month of June 1913, was a phenomenal one in regard to rainfall, no less than 4.60 inches falling during that period of thirty days, which is about three times the amount recorded in the same month in any other year. Had it not been for this occurrence, the average rainfall for June would be nearer that for July which stands at 1.18 inches, leaving May the wettest month in the year. There has never been occasion in the period under observation to record a rainless month.

TEMPERATURES.

The records of maximum and minimum temperatures reveal the fact that January is the coldest month of the year invariably apparently, and July the hottest. January of last year was by far the coldest month on record, the average maximum temperature being only 26 degrees, and the minimum average just at the zero mark. For the nearest approach to this state of affairs one has to go back to the year 1909, when the averages are given as 20 and 5 degrees respectively. All through the years, however, the maximum record is 26 degrees, and the minimum 14. February and December are remarkably similar in their average temperatures, both maximum and minimum. In only three years has the average maximum temperature for the month of February fallen below freezing point, and one of those years was 1916. Spring comes with a rush in March, and thereafter there are rapid rises in temperatures till the highest level is reached usually in July, though sometimes in the following month. For six consecutive years, 1907 to 1913, July was hotter on the average than August; in the latter year the months were practically the same; in 1914 July was again the hotter month, but for the last two years August has given higher average temperatures by not less than about six or seven degrees.

Road Supt. for New Riding

T. J. McAlpine Receives Appointment from Provincial Government.

On Tuesday evening Mr T. J. McAlpine received word from Victoria of his appointment as road superintendent for the South Okanagan riding. Previously the roadwork for the whole Okanagan Valley, as far south as Trout Creek has been carried on under the superintendency of Mr Hamilton Lang, of Vernon, but with the division of the district into two constituencies, the appointment of a road superintendent for the southern portion was forecasted, and the fact that this appointment comes to a Summerland man should give rise to great satisfaction in the district.

For some time past there has been a feeling that the north end of the Valley has been getting the lion's share of the road appropriations that have been made, and disparaging remarks have been made as to the condition of the government roads in the immediate vicinity of Summerland compared with those to the south, which have come under the jurisdiction of the Similkameen riding. Now, with a superintendent having his headquarters in Summerland, it is a logical expectation that the government roads of the district will receive the attention it has long been felt they need.

Appointments of this nature are not usually made as early in the year as this, in fact there is reason for thinking that the appointment of Mr McAlpine is the first of this nature made by the new government. The reason is found in the peculiar nature of one of the main government roads in the constituency, namely the lakeshore drive, which runs up the west side of Okanagan Lake. Much of this road is flanked on the one side by a precipitous bank, and in the early spring slides commence to come down, obstructing the highway. This has already happened between here and Peachland, and hence the necessity of having a man ready to take care of any emergency that may arise in this way. Till the appointment of a superintendent for the neighboring constituency of Similkameen, Mr McAlpine's territory will extend along the lakeshore as far south as Pentteton.

The repair of provincial government wharves on the lake within the constituency will also come under Mr McAlpine's direction, and his first work in his new position will probably be of this nature. He went up the lake on Thursday morning to Gellatly's, where he will look over the wharf there and report as to how it can best be put into good shape. The wharf at Westbank is also in need of repairs, and this will be reported on by Mr McAlpine. Government engineers have also prepared specifications for extensive alterations and improvements to the Naramata wharf, which will be carried out under Mr McAlpine's direction. This wharf is to be lowered considerably, to give greater convenience to all boats using it.

Although the announced intention of the government is to pare road appropriations down to the lowest possible minimum, in keeping with their announced policy of economy, it is apparent that there is considerable work on roads, bridges and wharves that must be considered essential to the best interests of the farmers and residents generally.

Chief of "Grilse" Is Peachlander

Few people realize perhaps that the neighboring town of Peachland can claim with all due honor the heroic commander of the Canadian torpedo destroyer "Grilse" as one of the men who have gone to war from there, laying aside their peaceful occupations, for the most part connected with the fruit ranches.

At the time war broke out Lieutenant-Commander W. Wingate was residing on his ranch at Peachland. He was a royal naval reserve man on the retired list, and immediately offered his services to the Admiralty. He served for a time at Esquimaux, and later on the "Rainbow" before assuming command of the "Grilse."

It will be recalled that Lieutenant-Commander Wingate was in command of the "Grilse" at the time she got into difficulties in the Atlantic last year, when on the evening of the 12th of December she sent out her "S. O. S." calls. It was not until two days after that she limped in to Shelburne, Nova Scotia, at night in a very precarious condition. For many hours it was thought that the little vessel had been lost with her crew of over forty hands.

Commander Wingate recently came west on leave, and has now joined Mrs Wingate and family at the Coast.

United Farmers of British Columbia

New Organization to Further Farmers' Interests.

An all embracing organization of the farmers of this province, along much the same lines as the now huge organizations of the prairie provinces is now under way. The movement is spreading and is likely to be province-wide. For the purpose of forming a local here the farmers of the district were called together by two members of the organization committee, Messrs R. A. Copeland and T. Morrison, of Kelowna. Other members are working in different parts of the Valley.

At the meeting held in the Campbell Hall on Thursday afternoon two local branches were formed, with Messrs R. H. Helmer and John Tait convener and secretary of a central committee.

Mr Copeland told of the work and strength of the organized prairie farmers, and outlined the basis for similar organization here, and he was assisted by Mr Morrison in explaining the details and objects. The name proposed is the United Farmers of B.C.

The association is for farmers only; it is free from all political entanglements, and does not in any way interfere with any existing organization in which the farmers are interested. Its purposes are "to forward the interests of the farmer in any honorable and legitimate way; to watch legislation relating to their interests, and to suggest to parliament or the legislature from time to time the enactment of such legislation as may be decided by a convention or by the central board, and to carry on any business (Continued on page 2.)"

With a superintendent who knows the district thoroughly, and already well acquainted with the requirements in those particular lines, there is little doubt that better results will be apparent from the expenditures of public moneys on this account.

Little Disease During Year

Health Report Substantiates Claims for our Climate.

M.H.O. Makes Some Timely Recommendations.

Summerland is a singularly healthy community. During all of 1916 we had only one mild case of typhoid. The fame of our climate is travelling far, resulting in the coming here of tubercular patients, which accounts for the number of cases of this nature shown in the annual report of the Medical Health Officer, as submitted to the Council last week. After hearing the report read, the Council, on motion of Coun. English, instructed the Clerk to acknowledge it.

Following is the report in full:
Jan. 1, 1917.

To the Reeve and Council, Corporation of the District of Summerland.

Gentlemen:—I beg to submit the following Health Report for the year 1916.

VITAL STATISTICS—Births 35, of whom 4 were still-born. Deaths 12, of whom 3 were infants.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES—Typhoid Fever, 1 mild case 0 deaths. Tuberculosis, 8 cases, 0 deaths. Measles, 2 cases, 0 deaths. Chicken Pox, 1 case, 0 deaths. Whooping Cough, 41 cases, 1 death.

Epidemic Infantile Diarrhoea, 8 cases, 1 death.

Summerland is to be congratulated on this remarkable showing. The first disease is infectious, but with the modern knowledge of the necessity of a good water supply, the destruction of house flies, and the proper disposal of sewage, it is entirely preventable. We have had six new tubercular cases enter the municipality, but fortunately, they have not all been of the advanced type.

DAIRIES—Evidently we are arriving at a stage of better standards, for I have only received two complaints during the year, in both instances the cause being that of dirty premises. Still, we should not relax in our vigilance, and regular inspections by the Sanitary Inspector will do much to prevent trouble.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL—Very few problems have been presented during the year. It would perhaps be advisable to close the privy vault closets of the High School and install modern closets. The common pit closet is illegal, but the cement vault is only a shade better, and as a public building it should set a higher standard than merely evade the laws of the Board of Health.

THE DUST NUISANCE—No doubt the long dry weather of the summer and fall exaggerated Summerland's dust nuisance on the roads of the heaviest traffic. Only those who reside close to such roads can speak of the extreme annoyance of dust in the houses, the food, and clothes washings. This dry climate at times is sufficient irritation to the membranes of the nose and throat without the further mischief caused by dust. It seems to me that this could in a great measure be kept down by sprinkling those roads, the expense thereby incurred being greatly offset by the preservation of the roads, and by the enforcement of the provincial regulations regarding wide wagon tires.

Your obedient servant,
Sgd. F. W. ANDREW,
M.H.O.

The actuality of to-day seldom looks so good as the theory of yesterday.

THE NEIGHBORING TOWN of Pentiction has undertaken a very fitting way of perpetuating the patriotism of those of its citizens who have gone overseas on naval or military service in the war. The municipal authorities have had executed a complete "Honor Roll"—"Roll of Service" we think might be a better title—showing the names of all the men who have enlisted from that place, and this is to be hung, we understand, in the Municipal Hall. There are at least two complete lists of Summerland men kept in the place, but the idea of making a municipal memorial appeals to many people. There should be some way of preserving for perpetuity the names of the men who have made the sacrifices demanded and gone off on service. The Review ventures to assert that if the Council does not feel like undertaking the comparatively small expense that would be called for, the public in general would likely respond willingly to a call for subscriptions to be used for this purpose. But the idea of the municipal authorities taking hold of it is the better one. Different bodies have their lists of enlisted members hung in their buildings, and there should be in the municipal building, as the centre of the community life, a complete list of Summerland citizens who are fighting the battles of the Empire.

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT, according to the assurance given out by Hon. T. D. Patullo, Minister of Lands, and his deputy, is very busily engaged in considering the irrigation situation as it affects different parts of the province. At the present time in the districts where irrigation is practised some of the water companies are in dire difficulties, and the government is addressing itself to the task of relieving the situation. In other parts of the province irrigation is needed to encourage settlement, and thus bring the land into a productive state. In this connection it is worth noting that the government has had put back on its hands not less than about two million acres, being the balance of holdings on which purchasers have been unable to complete payments. According to the provisions of the act which was passed to regain possession of this land, it was intended to reserve it for the settlement of returned soldiers after the war. Much of it, however, will need irrigation to bring it to any appreciable value.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE to eat a Chinese egg two and a half years old, or possibly a little more? Four thousand cases of specimens thus well preserved recently arrived at Seattle, where the presumption is people will be found to eat them. The eggs were shipped from Shanghai, China, in August, 1914, for Seattle, via San Francisco. At the golden gate city a health official met the eggs, and condemned them as unfit for human food. The importer resisted the ruling on the ground that they were for re-shipment to another state. While legalities were fought out the eggs were placed under quarantine, from which state they were ultimately released and allowed shipment on to Seattle.

"What does this sentence mean," asked the teacher: "Man proposes, but God disposes?" A small boy in the back of the room waved his hand frantically. "Well, Thomas," said the teacher. "What does it mean?" "It means," answered Thomas with conscious pride, "that a man might ask a woman to marry him, but only the Lord knows whether she will or not."

Better have failed in the high aim than vulgarly in the low aim succeed.

This is an unjust world from every standpoint. Tommy, six years of age, who bites his fingernails, has his ears boxed; while the six months' old baby who tries to do the same with his toenails, is described as "cute."

Tells Alberta Farmers About Apples of B.C.

Thomas Abriel, of Nakusp, B.C., President of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, took greetings from the members of his association to the organized Alberta farmers, in convention at Edmonton last week, and complimented the association upon having such a splendid representation at the convention.

Mr Abriel explained to the delegates the reasons why the British Columbia growers had sought an increase in the duty on apples. The Northwestern states, he pointed out, had planted more apple trees than the demands required and thus there was an over-production, which meant a glutting of the markets in consuming centres and a lowering of the prices below the cost of production. He instanced a case where American growers had invoiced apples at 30 cents per box, f.o.b.

This competition the fruit growers of British Columbia had had to contend with ultimately would have meant that the growers would be forced out of business through the lowering of selling prices beyond the cost of production, and then the Americans would have had Western Canada as a market to themselves, and thus in all probability they would have exacted exorbitant prices from the consumers. As a result of the extra duty on apples reasonable prices were assured for the prairie provinces. The fruit growers of British Columbia had only asked for a chance to live and this they were sure of now.

The genial British Columbia president cited the fact that an added duty on grapes had made for better conditions in the Niagara Peninsula, and had not increased the price to the consumer.

Mr Abriel was accorded a very attentive hearing, and his remarks were listened to with rapt attention by 700 delegates.

This is not the first time that Mr Abriel has met the leaders of farmers' organizations. He has done not a little in bringing about more cordial relationship between the prairie farmers and the fruit growers of British Columbia, for they are both tillers of the soil and therefore have many problems in common which perhaps do not appear at first thought.

It is said that the roll of enlistments from Summerland now has over two hundred names. This is a most creditable showing for a place of the size of ours.

You can never make gross sin look clear even in politics.

An American, motoring through a small Scotch town was pulled up for excessive speed. "Didn't you see that notice, 'Dead Slow!'" inquired the constable. "Course I did," returned the Yankee; "but I thought it referred to your durned little town."

Supporting the movement were such local speakers as Mr J. M. Sutherland, Mr G. J. C. White, who approved of the principle, and hoped to see the movement grow, and Mr R. H. Helmer, who is also in full sympathy with the idea.

Mr J. W. Jones, M.L.A., endorsed the movement, and expressed belief that through the United Farmers of B.C. we can better co-operate with the farmers of the prairies. Coun. Johnston also spoke along the same line.

After further discussion, following a motion to organize, two locals, with the following executives, were formed.

B.C. Fruit Growers To Gather At Victoria

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association is announced to take place at Victoria on the 13th and 14th of February. The program prepared shows that much will come up at the meeting that is of vital interest to the fruit growers of the province. President Thomas Abriel, of Nakusp, will preside.

Among the main features of the program are the following: Addresses by Premier Brewster, Hon. John Oliver, Minister of Agriculture, and Mr W. E. Scott, Deputy-Minister; reports from R. C. Abbott, Coast Markets Commissioner; Addresses by representatives of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, and the United Farmers of Alberta; Discussion of fruit inspection standards, led by R. G. L. Clarke, chief Inspector for British Columbia, and A. H. Flack, Chief Inspector for the Prairie Provinces.

Mr R. V. Agur, the director

from Summerland, has a place on the committee on resolutions, the presentation of whose report is another item of business of no mean importance.

Suppose the Review Ceased Publication

JUST suppose this community were left without a local newspaper! What would become of its local pride? Summerland would be just a name on a railway time table or a post office guide. Men and women might die, or marry, or go away, or suffer accidents, or entertain friends, and you would hear about it all only through gossip. Municipal affairs and other news of interest to this particular part of the wide, wide world would have no publicity. Our local merchants would have no cheap and quick way of telling you what they provide for you. Our churches and schools and other institutions would have no medium of news or appeal. And this whole community would slip back and be the sport of jokesmiths.

Would city papers take the place of the Review? You know they would not.

THE point of it all is: Like all other newspapers we are feeling the pinch of higher prices for paper and other material. But, unlike hundreds of other weekly papers, we do not propose yet to raise the price, but simply ask that each and every subscriber pay up his or her subscription and keep it paid up. Nothing unfair about that is there? Now to "kick" at this and drop your subscription, would be to say, in effect, "This community doesn't need a local weekly. If I can do without the Review, all others can."

We do not believe for one moment that the good people of Summerland, Peachland, Naramata and neighborhoods will "kick" or drop their subscription to the Review. We expect all our subscribers to recognize the new conditions of living and publishing that have made this policy a necessity. Do you realize that your weekly newspaper at the rate of 4 cents a week—little more than the price of a postage stamp—costs an insignificant sum when you reckon up the service it renders you and this whole community.

Be loyal to and proud of the community you live in. Keep it on the map.

Farmers' Union For British Columbia

For some time consideration has been given the question of joining together in one confederation the members of various separate associations and institutes whose interests in one way or another are centred on the farm. At different times spasmodic efforts have been made, but for some reason they failed.

Last fall a movement in this direction was made at Duncan on Vancouver Island. A temporary organization was effected, and circular letters were addressed to Farmers' Institutes and others setting forth the aims of the movers. Other branches have been organized, and considerable success has been attained on the Island. The movement has spread to the Mainland, and branches have been formed at Revelstoke and Malakwa, and, it is understood, also at several other points. The matter has been discussed in the Vernon district, according to the Vernon News, and very strong opinions have been expressed in favor of the project. It is claimed that by united action the various farming industries would have much more force than at present as separate units.

It is intended to convene a meeting of interested parties in Victoria in February and form a provincial organization for forward operations. In due time a union with the Grain Growers and United Farmers of the Prairie Provinces could be effected.

More Letters From Soldiers Now Overseas

172nd Battalion,
Bramshott, Hants.
December 12, 1916.

Dear Mrs Hogg,

I received the parcel from the Home Comfort Club on Sunday morning, Dec. 10th, and in perfect condition, and I cannot put down on paper how much I appreciate all the good things it contained. We have in our hut seventeen men, all stretcher bearers, and it being Sunday we had a real afternoon tea, and everybody remarked that, "they sure can make good cake in Canada." The cigarettes, Old Chum tobacco, a few of the boys don't smoke, but those of us who do, certainly had a great smoke after tea. Since my enlistment I have been working under the medical officer of the 172nd. This battalion, I think, will be broken up, a number have already been sent across, and there will be more, those that don't pass medically will be transferred into a special unit. The weather here has hit some of the boys pretty hard, but nothing serious, mostly la grippe. It just rains and rains nearly every day. The returned men tell us this is almost like home compared with what it is in France, so I guess it is pretty tough over there. In spite of that the boys try all kinds of dodges to pass the doctors as fit. This is a great soup country. We have it every day, and every other day we get it twice. I was up to London soon after I came over and it is the same old London I left a few years ago, somewhat dark at night. I haven't seen a flying machine of any kind yet. I expect to transfer to the C.A.M.C. shortly, and will be with our medical officer, you may know him, Dr G. L. Campbell of Kolowna. Please remember me to Mr Hogg. I take this opportunity of wishing you and all the Summerland folk a very prosperous New Year. Again thanking you for the good things received in the parcel. I am,

Yours sincerely,
H. EVERETT.

Nov. 20th, 1916.

My Dear Friend,

Many many thanks for your gifts which to me were the most useful things that could have been sent.

My fellow tentmates enjoyed them just as I did and also wish to thank you kindly.

Winter is setting in right now. We, as you know, are not allowed to send any war news, or, I could write a great big book.

If words could only express our feelings towards your kindness I am sure happiness would always reign with you.

Some of the British Tommies are much worse than we do.

Now, my dear friend, I must close owing to time allowance.

Most gratefully yours,
CHARLIE L. DAVIES.

California's Fruit Production in 1916

The total output of orchard fruits from the State of California last year had an estimated value of $140,500,000. Of this amount citrus fruit was the largest item with a total of $55,000,000. Fresh fruits came next with a value of $29,000,000. A heavy demand on the part of the Eastern States was responsible for the quick and complete sale of California's fruit output in 1916. The East took 17,900 cars of fresh fruits, or almost a thousand cars more than in the year previous. Besides this the canneries were running full blast putting out a record in both fruits and vegetables. The dried fruit crop for 1916 brought to the state approximately $32,000,000. The lighter production combined with the increased eastern demand made the year a spectacular one in this respect.

Penticton's Roll of Honor.

There has been on view for some time in a Victoria window an artistic roll of honor for the Municipality of Penticton. The roll contains the names of over 200 who have enlisted from that district. The design, which is worked in delicate tints, embodies the crest and seal of Penticton, the side panels showing a maple leaf device as well as shields containing the colors of the various British Dominions and dependencies. At the top is a design showing the Imperial crown, with the Union Jack, Canadian flag, white and blue ensigns displayed on either side. On the base is a figure of Britannia. The whole work is intensely suggestive of the patriotic spirit which has animated such a large number of the manhood of Penticton to respond to the call, and reflects great credit on the artist who produced it. The roll is contained in a beautiful and appropriately chosen frame.

B.C. Apples in the East

Montreal Dealer Thinks Prices May Drop Another Year.

Mr. George Vipond, pioneer wholesale fruit dealer of Montreal, who has been visiting the Coast cities, says that the present high prices brought by apples from this province on the eastern market cannot be maintained. This year there was a very poor crop in the east and it was possible to keep up the high prices that have prevailed there, but when big crops take place east and west simultaneously, prices will take a big tumble. Quite a number of British Columbia apples have been sold in the east this season, but more plums and prunes have found their way there than any western fruit.

AFTER HIS MARRIAGE.

They had just become engaged. "What joy it will be," she exclaimed, "for me to share all your griefs and sorrows!" "But darling," he protested, "I have none," "Perhaps not now," she answered, "but when we are married you will have."

Personality

A Factor in the Making of Men's Clothes

"Personality," says one whose wisdom is not to be questioned, "is the greatest thing in the world."

We all know how it counts in the work of this busy world—forcing success where least expected.

Well-fitting, well-made clothes are a proven important factor in adding to a man's personality, just as, contra-wisely, an ill-fitting, ill-made suit will draw off from the most pronounced personality.

Personality is a mark of every suit and coat made by the House of Hobberlin. It is for this reason that the men who "care" are customers of this house. Every garment made to measure

Glaimed Fine Was Unjust
H. H. Elsey Differs with License By-Law in Neighbouring Town.

Having been fined $2.00 and costs in the Pentiction police court for contravening the trade license by-law of that municipality in selling meat without a license, H. H. Elsey went before the Council there and expressed his wish to air a grievance.

According to the published report of the proceedings of the council given in the Herald of last week Mr Elsey had been fined $2.00 for trading without a license, and he wished to know if he had not been unjustly treated by having this fine imposed. The Summerlander had been selling the product of his ranch at the local market for some time and the authorities had never caused him any trouble except in the present instance. It developed, however, that whereas in the past Mr Elsey had been selling his own products he had in this particular case purchased a cow for beef, had killed and offered it for sale within the municipality, which is in violation of the law. The offender in defence of his action stated that he had no desire to contravene any of the by-laws of the municipality, but he would like to know just where the line was drawn. If he bought a calf could he sell it when it was a cow. Then he wished to know what would be his status under the by-law if he purchased a cow for milking purposes but found shortly afterwards that it was not a profitable dairy animal and decided to sell it for beef. Mr Elsey was splitting hairs so the clerk was directed to get a copy of the by-law and read it to him. The fine distinctions raised by Mr Elsey were made quite clear, and he accepted the ruling with good grace. Reeve McKenzie remarked that he thought the visitor was getting off very cheaply. He said that the local merchant who paid a license and was under more or less expense in maintaining his business would be justified in feeling that he was being most unfairly treated if persons living outside the municipality were permitted to enter his market without any payment whatever to the municipality for that privilege.

The citizens of any prosperous town are always public spirited and united. Stand together, work for the interests of the whole town. Always stand ready to do your part. Don't grumble and spend your time in prophesying failures, but help to make every enterprise a success, be it great or small. Be energetic and enterprising, and your example will be imitated.

The importance of the military Y.M.C.A. work having come to the fore of late, it is of interest to note that at the present time there are forty-three Y.M.C.A. centres being operated in connection with the Canadian corps. These plants vary all the way from an equipment composed of canteen, marquee for writing, and a huge concert marquee accommodating two thousand men on the one single spot; down to the tiny dugout where no more than four or five men can be allowed in at the one time. One of the most interesting plants is carried on in a cellar of a much shoddier city, frequently referred to in our Canadian papers, and strange to say this Y.M.C.A. handles more refreshments than any of the other forty-two with the Canadians in France.

WEATHER RECORDS FOR A DECADE.

Throughout the ten years the averages for July and August, maximum and minimum, are 80 and 55, and 78 and 54 respectively. In making comparison of these figures with any other place, cognizance should be taken of the fact that these observations are taken at about the highest point in our fruit section, at an altitude of 1,800 feet above sea level.

SPRING AND FALL FROSTS.

Perhaps the most interesting of the tables compiled, and one of prime importance to the early vegetable raiser who wants to get his plants out of doors at the earliest date compatible with safety, is one which shows the dates of the last spring frosts and first fall frosts during the last ten years. One would naturally expect frosts to be comparatively frequent in the month of April, and had it not been for the extraordinary conditions which prevailed last year, it could be said truthfully that frosts in May are quite rare. Previous to last year on only three occasions had frost been registered in that month, on each of these dates 32 degrees being the temperature registered. These dates were the 8th in 1909, the 7th in 1911, and the 1st in 1912. In 1916, however, four frosts were registered in May, these being on the 7th, 10th and 12th.

In the matter of fall frosts, the year 1916 again distinguished itself. Frosts appeared on the 2nd of October, again on the 3rd and yet again on the 4th. Previous to this the first October frost recorded was on the 5th of the month in 1913. Although here and there frosts appear up to the middle of the month, none go below thirty degrees. "From this table," states a note appended, "it will be seen that there have been no frosts in ten years below 30 degrees from May 1st to October 16th, except in one case." This one case occurred on September 24th, 1911, when three degrees of frost were registered. Three other instances in the ten years occur of frosts in September, though these were very slight visitations.

The month of November shows up good and frosty, and once, in 1911, four degrees below zero was registered on the 11th of the month.

School Estimates About as Last Year

Classes In Fruit Packing Arranged.

The regular February meeting of the School Board was held on Tuesday afternoon this week, not in the High School building as was first arranged, but as usual in the Municipal Building. All the Trustees were present with the exception of Dr Sawyer, who was prevented by ill-health. In his absence Mr Hilborn was appointed chairman. Mr J. H. Bowering acted for the first time in his new capacity as secretary.

Plans for the fruit packing classes to be held in connection with the elder classes were furthered. They will commence on Monday, February 26th, with probably three classes a day. The classes will continue through that week.

The Board endorsed the clause in the report of Dr Andrew, Medical Health Officer to the Council, published last week, regarding the cement vault closets in use at the High School, and strongly desire to see some change effected.

Estimates for the year were presented by the secretary. These call for an expenditure by the School Board of $7,200. This is only $100 in excess of 1916. After careful consideration and some revision the estimates were passed at a total of $7,200.

January accounts totalling $1,142.90 were passed.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, March 6th, at 2 p.m.

Hope - Princeton Road Endorsed.

A petition to the government asking for the early completion of that section of the trans-provincial road between Hope and Princeton has been prepared by the Princeton Board of Trade and is being circulated for signatures in the southern part of the province. During the evening of the local Board of Trade banquet fully sixty-five names were added to the petition. The piece of road asked for is the one really necessary section to give connection to a number of "upper country" roads with those of the "lower mainland."

Order-In-Council Passed.

The provincial executive has passed the necessary order-in-council authorizing the Corporation of the District of Summerland to make further expenditures on the installation of electric lights. "The district has its own lighting plant," says the Victoria Times in noting this item, "and furnishes light and domestic power to the fruit growers on the shores of Okanagan Lake."

To make provision for the study in the high schools of the province of the science of agriculture, the department of education has decided that classes shall be established in several high schools. As a beginning the Okilliwack, Armstrong, and Vernon High Schools, and the superior schools at Cloverdale and Murrayville have been selected. The course, which has been planned to be suitable to boys and girls alike, will embrace all branches of agriculture and horticulture practised in the province, and emphasis will be placed upon observational study, demonstration and experiment.

There is a mild epidemic of menasles in Kamloops.

TRAINS RESUMING FORMER SCHEDULE.

Coquihalla Pass Line Now Again Clear.

The numerous small slope slides along the new railway line through Coquihalla Pass, frequently referred to as the Hope cut-off, have been removed and trains will again resume the regular schedule. None of the slides have been large nor caused any material damage but were so small that a steam shovel was useless and so numerous as to require large gangs of men with shovels to remove them. It was stated this afternoon that the work of clearing the track would be completed to-day and that the west-bound would go out at the usual hour this evening and the Coast train reach here in the morning coming through the pass.

Since the closing of the pass about two weeks ago trains have been running on a temporary schedule very different from the regular one. In fact, the K.V.R. trains have not been going further than Spence's Bridge where connection has been made with C.P.R. trains. The westbound has been leaving here at 5.30 a.m. and the eastbound arriving at 12.30 at night. Passengers from the Coast have had to leave Vancouver on No. 4 leaving at 9.30 a.m. instead of at 6.40 p.m.

Agricultural Association Elects New Officers.

Devising Means To Enlarge Fall Fair. Competitions For School Children.

A good deal of business of general interest was awaiting consideration at the postponed annual meeting of the Summerland Agricultural Association held last Saturday evening in the Parish Hall.

The officers elected for the year were as under:

President - S. M. Young
Vice-President - H. Bristow
Secretary-Treasurer - W. M. Wright
Directors,

Live Stock—Dr R. C. Lipsett
Fruit—M. Stewart
Vegetables—C. Craig

In connection with the annual Fall Fair, a committee was appointed by the meeting to revise the prize list in time for the next show. The committee consists of Dr Lipsett, Messrs C. Craig, R. H. Helmer, H. Bristow, and the secretary, W. M. Wright.

Provided it can be arranged it was felt that it would be to the best interests of all concerned if the flower show and general exhibition held annually by the Summerland Women's Institute were combined with and made part of the fall fair, and possibly that the upper Institute also might be induced to take some part in making the fall fair more general in nature and wider in scope—more as it should be, embracing women's home handicraft as well as strictly farm work. Representations with this end in view will probably be made to the different bodies concerned.

The question of the use of Ellison Hall by the Boy Scouts came up, and it was decided to offer the boys the use of the hall provided they pay for the light consumed, and provide the electric bulbs.

Agricultural contests among the school children is being advocated by the association, and Secretary Wright will take this matter in hand, with the co-operation of Mr R. H. Helmer. It is proposed to hold field and crop contests in potatoes and fodder corn on an area of one-tenth of an acre for each, and also competitions in raising pigs, calves and chickens. Good prizes will be offered for these contests.

Excellent Speeches Splendid Banquet

Board Of Trade Inaugurates Annual Event.

Not Enough Tickets To Fill The Demand

After-Dinner Speeches Were All Of High Order.

A good menu with good service; afterwards good speeches with a fund of story and anecdote; throughout it all a hearty social atmosphere and get-together spirit among the men that was good to see. This sums up in a few words the outstanding features of the Board of Trade Banquet, styled the first annual, held on Wednesday evening at Hotel Summerland. The affair was a social innovation of the nature that Summerland has been needing, and the enterprise of the Board of Trade in fathering such an undertaking has been very favorably commented on in many quarters.

Plates were set for seventy-two guests, and every place was occupied. If the spacious dining room of the Hotel could have been made to hold any more seats, it is safe to say that men could easily have been found to occupy them. The attendance was quite representative of the district, though naturally the lake section was most strongly in evidence. Men from Prairie Valley, Peach Valley, Garnett Valley, Trout Creek, Jones Flat, Peach Orchard, and the upper town were also to be seen, and good it was to see such a gathering brought together by nothing more serious than a banquet and after-dinner speeches.

Of the banquet itself nothing more need be said than that its quality was excellent. It speaks much for the management of the Hotel that they were able to rise to the occasion and anticipate the needs of the affair so completely. The details were well thought out, and this accounted in a large way for the smoothness with which the function went along. The tables were set out in good taste, complete even to the flowers. Commendation should also be given for the adequate service, the competency of the staff of "waitresses" in attendance drawing forth much favorable comment. These willing helpers, it should be mentioned, were Mrs Bennett, the Misses Winona, Annie and Isabel Stewart, Miss Janet Sutherland and Miss Ruth Blair.

It was thought at one time that Dean Klinek of the University of B.C., would have been among the speakers figuring on the toast list following the banquet, but he was prevented by illness from accepting the invitation tendered him. As it was, two members of the university faculty filled in places on the list of speakers very acceptably. They were Professor McLean, Department of Animal Husbandry, and Professor P. A. Boving, Agronomist. Mr H. O. English, Soils and Crops Instructor of the Department of Agriculture, Victoria, was another speaker. Other outside speakers to respond to toasts were Mr J. W. Jones, M.L.A., Mr L. V. Rogers, of Kelowna, and Messrs Groves and McDonald, who represented Boards of Trade in Kelowna and New Westminster respectively.

Upon Dr Andrew devolved the duty of acting as chairman and toastmaster, and he himself proposed the first toast of the evening,

United Farmers of British Columbia

Locals Appoint Delegates To Provincial Organization.

Name Candidates For Union Directors

Will Work To Strengthen All Movements For Betterment Of Farmers.

The organization of the farmers of the district into one co-operative body, the United Farmers of B.C., the objects of which have already been outlined in these columns, was furthered at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the Campbell Hall.

There is shortly to be held at Victoria a meeting of farmers' representatives from all over the province to link up the various locals already formed in one central body, and to extend the movement by the forming of more locals. Messrs R. H. Helmer and C. H. Tate were appointed to represent the two Summerland locals at the coming Victoria gathering.

That the organization of the farmers of the Trout Creek section has been already well advanced was told by Mr G. Thornber, who told at some length of what was being done by his local. Following up the idea of helping the already existing organizations to be of greatest value to the farmer the Trout Creek local had concluded that this could best be done by having representatives on the directorate of the Union and had named two candidates for whom they were asking the support of other farmers. These members of the United Farmers of B.C. proposed for the Fruit Union directorate are G. Thornber and R. Johnston. The other local will hold a meeting early next week, and indications now are that it too will select one or more men whom they think will best serve the interests of the farmers on the Union directorate. The question of the price of fruit boxes was touched upon, a good suggestion being made by W. M. Wright when he proposed that the matter be looked into from the manufacturers' point of view, particularly as to the increased cost of manufacture.

"The King," responded to by the singing of the National Anthem. "Our Soldiers" was proposed by Rev H. A. Solly in a very brief but fitting speech, in which he lauded the patriotic motives of the soldiers who have gone from the place on the stern duty of war. The company rose to this and sang, "For they are jolly good fellows."

To the toast of "Canada" Mr W. C. Kelley spoke very worthily and at some length, doing justice to a comprehensive subject. He spoke of the problems which the heterogeneous population presented to the national government. He dwelt also upon the social freedom which has tended towards development, and the equality of opportunity which gives a right to growth and advance to every citizen.

These sentiments were echoed by Mr L. V. Rogers, who responded with his customary eloquence. He laid emphasis upon the seriousness of the national situation at the present time, contrasting the care-free bearing of the nation three years ago to the strained and tense atmosphere that existed to-day. He threw out the suggestion that Canadians as a whole were not tak-

VALUABLE SERIES OF FARM LECTURES.

A Short Course Now Being Held Here.

By long odds the best series of lectures ever given here as regards the quality of instruction, is the expressed opinion of those attending the two weeks' short course now being held here. "Peers in their own lines" was a term applied to the lecturers from the University of B.C., Professors McLean and Boving. Valuable information, instruction and advice, worth much, but just how much would depend on the individual, in dollars and cents is being given. Prof. McLean's knowledge of cattle and his ability to impart that knowledge have won the admiration of his class. Prof. Boving, an expert in soils and crops, is equally good. He had his training in Denmark, his native land, where agriculture has made such wonderful progress through just such work as he is doing here.

During the last day or two Mr H. O. English soil expert and Mr T. A. F. Wiancko, dairy expert, of the Department of Agriculture have also been giving valuable instruction in their lines and Dr Knight, veterinary, has been telling of cattle diseases and this morning gave a lecture on "First Aid to Live Stock."

It is much to be regretted that many more of our citizens have not availed themselves of the opportunity to attend these lectures. Today, with the lectures by Mr R. J. Terry, poultryman, the week's classes end, but on Monday morning there will begin a five days' course in orchard and vegetable subjects.

It is greatly to be desired that we have these short courses every winter, perhaps a little earlier in the year, and whether they will be continued depends wholly upon the attendance and interest shown.

Give Delightful Parlor Function

Musical Brings Good Results For Prisoners Of War Fund.

A musicale last Friday evening at the home of the Misses Spencer was productive of splendid financial results, and at the same time gave to those present keen enjoyment. There was a good attendance, the spacious rooms being well filled. The proceeds resulting from a collection plate at the entrance, brought the gratifying sum of fifteen dollars, which is to go towards the Prisoners of War Fund.

The complete program given is appended below. Those contributing to it are sufficiently well-known to make any comment on their numbers unnecessary, the youngest artists to the most experienced each presenting their items in such a way as could not fail to enhance reputations that are in the making or maintain those already well established in local fame. The program was quite varied, comprising vocal and instrumental selections and a reading.

Those responsible for the compilation of the program and for the smooth conduct of the affair should be gratified in the extreme.

The program was as follows:
Piano Duet, Miss Gertrude Elsey and Mr Harlan Davidson.
Solo, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," Mr J. O. Smith.
Piano Solo "The Dying Poet," Mr Harlan Davidson.
Solo—Three Songs—"Away on the Hills There Runs a Stream," "A Little Winding Road," "Invictus,"—Mr F. C. Graham.

Apples Selling at $7.50 per Box

Interesting Letter From Dawson, Yukon.

That there is a home market yet undeveloped or now controlled by foreigners is told in an interesting letter from a former Summerland citizen now in the far north, and who is still greatly interested in the Okanagan and its prosperity. The following letter from M. D. Manchester which we take the liberty to publish gives a glimpse of life in another part of our far-spread Canada. Any interested readers may see at the Review Office the snapshots he mentions.

Dawson, Y.T.

Jan. 16th, 1917.

The Summerland Review,
Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find postal note to cover the amount of enclosed bill. Receive the Review regularly, and there is usually a family scramble to see who can read it first.

We are having the usual Klondyke winter weather, 64 degrees below zero being the lowest so far this season. Dawson is unusually quiet on account of so many men having gone to the front. We are living in a four-roomed "cabin" and manage to keep quite comfortable with the aid of three stoves. After a sojourn in this country the Okanagan climate will seem good to me.

Have seen no Okanagan apples here as they apparently all come from Washington or Oregon. They range in price from $5.50 a box during the fall to $7.50 later in the winter, and are not first-class at that price. It certainly seems strange that Canadian growers cannot command this market as a great deal of fruit is required by the people here, and they are willing to pay a fancy price for it.

Am enclosing a few snapshots I have taken of the Yukon gold operations, in dredging and hydraulic mining, which may be of interest to you.

Yours truly,
M. D. MANCHESTER.

Ice Carnival.

The first and likely the only ice carnival of the season was given last Tuesday night by the local Ambulance League and was a marked success in every way. The ice was at times almost crowded while the costumes were many and varied, many being quite unique. To Mrs Blower as a gypsy was awarded the first ladies' prize, while the first gentleman's prize went to Mr H. Davidson. Miss Eva Shields as an Indian princess captured the girls' prize and Arthur Gartrell the boys' in the costume of a white cat. Gate receipts totalled $25, half of which went to the rink. The refreshments, sold by the ladies brought the total net proceeds handed to the treasurer of the league to $21.25.

Piano Duet, Miss Harrison and Miss E. MacLeod.
Solo, "Eileen Allannah," Mr A. Smith.
Reading, "A Bad Boy's Diary," Mrs Kelloy.
Solos—"His Lullaby," "The Rose," Mr F. C. Graham.
Piano Solo, "Traumerl," Miss Gertrude Angwin.
Solo, "Tit for Tat," Miss B. K. Harrison.
Piano Solo, "The Roanry," Mr Harlan Davidson.
Solo, "The Refractory Monk," Uncle Romo, Mr F. C. Graham.
God Save The King.

KELOWNA—WESTBANK FERRY.

SPRING IS HERE. Motorists, and they are becoming numerous hereabouts, are looking forward to dry roads and pleasant trips. And with these thoughts come memories of the barrier to travel between here and Kelowna, now the principal city in our county. We refer to the ferry toll between Westbank and Kelowna. With the formation of the new district of South Okanagan and the appointment of a road superintendent for the smaller territory it is but reasonable to hope that our roads shall be made more fit to travel on. Up to the present a journey northwards has only been undertaken when necessary. With the better road there is still the ferry charge of the very considerable sum of four dollars to be considered every time one would wish to visit Kelowna or go anywhere beyond.

Realizing what a hindrance to business and pleasure travel this charge is the people of Kelowna have been for several years advocating a free ferry, and now we hear the same suggestion made here. To this the late government never consented and the new government is not likely to give heed even if the demand be more insistent and general. Granting that the ferry is a link in a main highway and should be as free as the road, still the expense of the precedent which the free service would mean would surely result in a polite refusal from Victoria.

Why not demand a readjustment of conditions that would make a material reduction possible? It is not likely that the two dollars each way is making the contractor rich. Why not press for an increased subsidy that would make a cut from $2 to $1 or 50 cent possible? The Review is of the opinion that only a portion of the cut would have to be covered by such an increased subsidy. Assuming that there are five hundred fees of $2 collected during a year a further subsidy of $500 would make a $1 fee possible. On this same basis an addition to the subsidy of $750 would make a toll of 50 cents possible. Or possibly the government might be willing to fix a maximum ferriage per car and offer a bonus, on a graded scale according to volume, for every vehicle carried, to the contractor who would guarantee efficient service. Here is a question on which our Boards of Trade should co-operate.

To prohibit the slaughter of cows under three years and bull calves under one year for purposes of conservation during war times, was the purpose of a resolution endorsed at the annual meeting of the West Kootenay Farmers' Institute recently to be placed before the Provincial Government. In moving this resolution it was stated that in view of the high price and scarcity of cattle, some drastic steps should be taken during war times to conserve the meat supply. It was also pointed out that with the present demand for cattle, little difficulty would be experienced in disposing of any superfluous animals at a good price to those who wished to keep them. Or the law might be administered in such a way as to allow of the killing of such animals as might not be considered by a government veterinary as fit for breeding purposes.

The man who wrestles with the cow and learns the calves to suck, who casts the corn before the swine, is now in the greatest luck, for butter's on the upper grade, veal's higher than a kite, pork is climbing up the scale and beef is out of sight; eggs he gathers every day from his Poland chicken coop are almost worth their weight in gold and we are in the soup. His corn brings him a fancy price, it's rising every day, and he rakes in all kinds of men for a half load of hay. The farmer is in the saddle, and when he comes to town the rest of us by right should go way back and sit down.

He is a poor musician who is unable to play on your feelings.

It is said that some evils are necessary. Can you name one that is?

EXCELLENT SPEECHES; SPLENDID BANQUET.

ing their problems seriously enough—conscription for example. The need for service was emphasized, whether in field, farm or business. Whatever is done in the way of service, it should call for the exercise of sacrifice—sacrifice of the best that is in us.

Messrs Boving, English and McLean responded to the toast of "British Columbia," proposed by Mr R. H. Helmer. Professor Boving, pleading that he had only been in British Columbia a short time, harked back to his native Denmark, and showed his hearers the wonderful strides made there in agriculture, dairying especially, due to the sensible system of agricultural education worked out in the schools and colleges. This was the cause of the uplift which had taken place, the education tending toward the development of better men and women. Co-operation had been developed to such a high degree that investigators of the principle flocked to the country from all parts. Such a complete system might not be applicable to Canada, but there were certain general principles which the one country could learn from another. Under the influence of high educative ideals Canada, and especially B.C., already the best country by nature, would become the best governed and the best place to live in.

Mr English, soils and crops expert, after reviewing Board of Trade activity in general, which he thought in a district such as this should be devoted largely to promoting the farming industry, passed on to show how agriculture was coming to the front. Better production and better markets were two things called for to combat the high cost of living. In especial regard to the former he said that it was estimated that while it cost but $1.25 and $1.50 to produce a barrel of apples in the maritime provinces and Ontario respectively, in British Columbia it took $3 to $3.50. This, he thought, was largely due to the one-crop conditions which had been put into usage here and found sadly wanting. It never was a success anywhere. If the Board of Trade were seeking means of improving conditions for the farmers, he could point out three needs which should be studied and sought for—better farming methods, more thorough organization of the farmers, and a better representation of real farmers in the Legislature.

Professor McLean, after speaking a little along the same lines as his two associates, spent most of his time in setting out what the University of B.C. is planning in the interests of agriculture in this province, and what it has already done. For the beginnings of the undertaking he went back as far as 1872. Much has already been done in the clearing of the university land, and crop experiments. Dairying and horticulture were now being started, and the four year course in agriculture would be started next term. Three lines of work especially were aimed at; educational, in new and up-to-date agricultural methods, investigational work of all kinds, and extension work to consist of various classes, courses and schools in different parts of the province. In regard to farming in this district he desired to emphasize especially the value of diversity, urging the introduction of live stock particularly.

Well travelled as he is through the Okanagan, Mr J. R. Brown was aptly chosen to propose a toast to "The Okanagan Valley," and he did so very fittingly. Mr J. W. Jones, responding, indulged first in a few general remarks complimentary to the occasion, and then passed on to a reminiscent talk on the progress the Valley has made. It was the land of fruit and sunshine, synonymous with California and Italy, though he thought it exceeded both. Twenty thousand people were now residing in the Valley, and one had to travel through it from end to end to really get to know it all and meet the happy and contented spirit that possessed the inhabitants. Mr Jones traced very interestingly the growth of the Valley from its earliest opening up as far back as 1860, to its present state of high development, and he mentioned a long list of pioneer settlers and business men who have had much to do with the unfolding of the Okanagan. Eighty per cent. of the fruit product of the province originated in the Okanagan, where an investment has been made in the industry of not less than twenty million dollars. In irrigation projects alone some two and a half million dollars have been invested. Last year's output of 3,500 cars represented a value of about two million dollars, and he was glad to know that this output had gone to every continent of the world. Touching patriotic references were made by Mr Jones to the spirit of the men who have gone from the Valley to take up arms for the Empire. By these men the name and fame of the Okanagan had been carried even into the trenches, and the share its sons had played in the great engagements of the war would not be forgotten.

In proposing the final toast of the evening, "Sister Boards of Trade," Dr Andrew mentioned the necessity of united action between the different boards. In the case of Summerland, new means of communication north and south had tended to bring this town in closer connection with neighboring places, increasing the bond the towns of this vicinity should feel one between the other. Messrs Groves and McDonald of Kelowna and New Westminster responded to this toast. It seemed a little unfortunate that no representatives from Penticton were present as well, to show the interest of that town in the Board of Trade movement.

A most enjoyable and epoch-making evening was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne."

If you know of an item or piece of news, tell us about it. That's what we want. But a newspaper man sometimes experiences more difficulty in gathering news than one would imagine. This was the case when a reporter in a neighboring town, who a few days ago was sent to write up a fire in a residence. Going to the door he inquired for the lady of the house. The maid said she was out. "Are any of the family at home?" inquired the scribe. "No, they are all out," was the reply. "Well, wasn't there a fire here last evening?" "Yes," said the hired girl, "but that's out, too."

The Doukhobors of this province say they are willing to pay twice as much in war taxes but they will not fight.

A man is not necessarily a failure because he has failed.

Suppose the Review Ceased Publication

JUST suppose this community were left without a local newspaper! What would become of its local pride? Summerland would be just a name on a railway time table or a post office guide. Men and women might die, or marry, or go away, or suffer accidents, or entertain friends, and you would hear about it all only through gossip. Municipal affairs and other news of interest to this particular part of the wide, wide world would have no publicity. Our local merchants would have no cheap and quick way of telling you what they provide for you. Our churches and schools and other institutions would have no medium of news or appeal. And this whole community would slip back and be the sport of jokesmiths.

Would city papers take the place of the Review?
You know they would not.

THE point of it all is: Like all other newspapers we are feeling the pinch of higher prices for paper and other material. But, unlike hundreds of other weekly papers, we do not propose yet to raise the price, but simply ask that each and every subscriber pay up his or her subscription and keep it paid up. Nothing unfair about that is there? Now to "kick" at this and drop your subscription, would be to say, in effect, "This community doesn't need a local weekly. If I can do without the Review, all others can."

We do not believe for one moment that the good people of Summerland, Penticton, Naramata and neighborhoods will "kick" or drop their subscription to the Review. We expect all our subscribers to recognize the new conditions of living and publishing that have made this policy a necessity. Do you realize that your weekly newspaper at the rate of 4 cents a week—little more than the price of a postage stamp—costs an insignificant sum when you reckon up the service it renders you and this whole community.

Be loyal to and proud of the community you live in. Keep it on the map.

Doings of Peachland
 A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Ambulance League met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ferguson. Three sewing machines were kept busy all the afternoon, and a good deal of work was accomplished. The secretary, Mrs. Hogg, read several letters, one of which was from Mrs. Mills of Vancouver, who is the chairman of the Supplies Committee of the Red Cross. This letter was in answer to an enquiry as to whether it was best to send money or made-up garments to the headquarters. The following is a quotation from her letter:

"In my opinion material made up into garments by auxiliaries is much more valuable than money sent forward unless one has a large amount on hand that can be made up.
 "Prices are rising higher on wools and all other materials, and stocks are running low in England, so much so only half the usual consignment could be sent to France in December.
 "One hundred thousand pairs of socks were distributed to the men in the trenches (where all the hand knit socks go that are turned in to Vancouver) during November and December, so at that rate our Canadian women cannot work too hard both in knitting socks and making up other supplies.
 "We must not forget that we have at present twenty thousand wounded Canadians in England to care for."
 Refreshments were enjoyed by all at the close.
 The out-of-town members of the Ambulance League met at the home of Mrs. James Elliott on Tuesday afternoon.

News of the Churches
 The union church service will be held next Sunday morning at 11 a.m., and the Sunday School immediately after the service.
 The bi-weekly service of the Anglican Church was held last Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland officiating.
 The Baptist Women's Mission Circle held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. H. H. Thompson. Papers were read on work of the Grande Ligne Mission and the Telegu Mission in India. Refreshments were served and a pleasant social time enjoyed at the close.
 For several months the Baptists have been holding a combined church and Sunday school service on alternative Sundays in which the superintendent of the Sunday School assists the pastor in the first part of the service. It commences at two o'clock with the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison, and after the singing of a hymn the lesson is read responsively. The pastor then offers prayer at the close of which the announcements are made and the church offering is taken. A hymn is again sung, followed by a twenty minute address by the pastor, and the first part is brought to a close by singing. The congregation then separates into classes and practically all remain. The lesson occupies twenty-five minutes, after which the closing exercises take place, and the entire service is brought to an end at about half past three—lasting altogether only one and a half hours. The plan has met with so much favor that the church lately decided to have this combined service every Sunday afternoon until the end of March. There will be a monthly evening service.
 It was stated in last week's Review that more than $23 had been given by the Sunday Schools for the Serbian Relief Fund. A good deal more than that has been given, however, for the exact sum was $35.75.
 The Methodist Women's Circle met at the home of Mrs. N. S. Elliott on Wednesday afternoon.
 The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. R. J. Hogg on Wednesday afternoon.
 A mass meeting will be held in the Baptist Church on Sunday evening at 7.30 p.m. at which the Rev. H. G. Estabrook will give an address on "Fresh from the front, incidents illustrating military work of the Y.M.C.A."

The regular monthly meeting of Board of School Trustees was held in the board room of the school on Monday evening. The regular routine business was transacted after which matters were discussed which will come up later.
 Mrs. J. R. Brown accompanied her sister, Mrs. Richardson, as far as Sicamous. Mrs. Richardson is returning to her home in Alberta after enjoying a visit in the vicinity.
 Miss Hilda Winger was a passenger to Penticton on Thursday night where she is working for Mr. King.
 Mr. J. McKinnon was a passenger north on Thursday.
 Mr. D. J. White of the Penticton Lumber Company's camp near Nar-amata, spent the week-end with his family here, returning on Monday night.
 (Other Peachland Notes will be found on page 6).

Jam Makers Interested.
 Eastern Concerns Look to B. C. as Likely Source Whence Supplies can be Obtained.
 Possibilities of securing a large portion of their supplies of "fruit pulp" from British Columbia in future have led some of the most important Eastern manufacturers of jams, fruit juices and like products to communicate with the horticultural branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture for information respecting British Columbia's output of fruits, especially of strawberries and raspberries.
 Recently the department circularized Eastern manufacturers pointing out that British Columbia can supply a considerable quantity of the product which those concerns have hitherto been importing from the United States, England, and even from the Antipodes.
 The great fruit growing sections of the Interior, and especially Mission and Hatzic, where the product is annually increasing, supply a large quantity of the lower grades for export. The B.C. Cannery Association now has an expert investigating these fields, and with an Eastern demand created growers would find ready sale for their lower grades.

Miss Henderson is leaving to-day for a two weeks visit to Victoria.

Relatives here of Summerlanders in the Bantam Battalion at Victoria have received word that the regiment was expecting to start overseas to-day or to-morrow.

Monthly pledges totalling $201.50 have been received by the canvassers of the local branches of the Patriotic Fund. This does not include pledges from Mineola, Upper Trout Creek and Naramata which are yet to hear from.

A typographical error in the school reports of last week made it appear that little Miss Bertha-Riley had not missed a day at school from August to September. It is quite obvious that this should have read for the term August to December.

The Short Course lectures will continue in session all next week, forenoon and afternoon. Subjects to be taken up will include orchard insect pests, plant diseases, sprays, pruning, budding, grafting, thinning, picking, potato culture and potato diseases. See program. 28

Dr E. W. Sawyer who has been ill for some days is making slow recovery. His ailment has been described as nervous affection of the heart and it is believed that a rest at sea level would assist in restoring health and when he gets a little more strength he will probably spend a short time at the Coast.

At the first meeting of the Trout Creek local of the United Farmers of B.C., there was made necessary by the resignation of the newly appointed president a change in the officers. Mr. G. Thornber, vice-president, was made president, and O. F. Zimmerman vice-president. The farmers of that section look upon their new organization as the one thing necessary to complete the co-operative movement among producers.

Road Supt. McAlpine, has been giving attention to a number of wharves up and down the lake this week preparatory to making the needed repairs. As it has been the custom for road superintendents to use motor cars to save time and enable them to cover the extensive territory entrusted to them, we shall soon expect to see our superintendent for South Okanagan travelling in an auto.

Mr R. Robertson of Vancouver, was in Summerland last Monday, on one of his periodical business trips through the Valley. Since returning to Vancouver, after resigning the position of manager for the Okanagan United Growers, Mr Robertson has developed a very extensive exporting and importing business. It is said at the Coast that his firm exported, at least half of all the potatoes sent out of the province to the States, the East, and elsewhere, during last fall and winter. Japanese oranges is another line in which he deals largely. His business with New Zealand and Australia in apples is now a feature of the province's export business. Many carloads of his firm's imports are marketed on the prairies, and Mr Robertson says he is distributing through the Mutual Brokers.

Trouble on the main C.P.R. line near Revelstoke was the reason for the late arrival of the "Sicamous" last Friday night. It was after eleven o'clock that night when she reached the Summerland wharf.

The Vancouver Saturday evening papers did not reach Summerland till Tuesday. Since the blockading of the Coquihalla Pass about two weeks ago trains have been running via Spence's Bridge and the east-bound from Vancouver has been leaving too early to bring the evening papers with the result that the papers reached subscribers here a day later than usual. Saturday's afternoon editions were an extra day late because there is no mail dispatched by the K.V.R. Sunday trains. Just why those responsible for the dispatching of this mail matter do not give better service is what puzzles many dissatisfied readers of Vancouver dailies. If when the slides blocked the Hope cut-off the evening papers, published too late for the K.V.R. train via Spence's Bridge, were sent out by the C.P.R., they would reach here by boat the following evening. This change has evidently now been made days after it should have been and just when the Hope cut-off is about clear for the night run from Vancouver to Summerland.

When you want counter check books, or anything along that line, you can get them for as little money from the Review Office--and more promptly--than by sending away for them. Mrs K. S. Hogg and Miss Eula Watson as hostesses last Friday evening at a large party held at the home of the latter, were responsible for a very happy evening being spent by the guests, who numbered about thirty-five. The occasion of the gathering was to do honor to Miss Myrtle Clay, marking in an appropriate way her approaching marriage. With this end in view Miss Clay was given a miscellaneous "shower," this object being arrived at in due course, and brought about with every success. By it Miss Clay became possessed of a truly miscellaneous but quite useful assortment of bric-a-brac, linens, and other articles. The guests also spent some time at "five hundred," play being carried on at nine tables. Refreshments were served, and it was away on past midnight before the company broke up after extending sincere congratulations to the bride-to-be, and thanks to the hostesses.

When Mark Twain was editor of a weekly newspaper one of his subscribers wrote him that he had found a spider in his paper when it reached him and inquired whether it was a sign of good luck. The noted humorist replied that the spider was simply looking over the paper to see which merchants were not advertising so he could visit them, spin a web across their door and live contented ever afterwards.

Old-Fashioned Social

The Parish Hall is very seldom packed to the door as it was on Thursday evening this week, the occasion being a musical and social evening organized by the St Andrew's Ladies' Aid. The admission was fixed at the popular figure of twenty-five cents, children being admitted for fifteen cents, but the respectable total of more than forty dollars proves that the hall must have held but few people less than two hundred. In fact the demand upon seating and standing room was so great that it was not possible to effectively move around and so bring about the happy mingling of people that helps to bring about the real social atmosphere.

A long program was presented by local talent, a great variety of numbers being presented in first class style. Two sketches were outstanding items, but all gave much enjoyment to the large audience. Coun. R. H. English presided, and a pleasant variation from the usual custom at such affairs was the intermission made in the middle of the program when refreshments were passed around by gentleman helpers.

The program was as follows: Chairman's Remarks. Piano Duet--Misses E. English and M. Hatfield. Song, "Queen of the Earth"--Mr A. Smith. Recitation, "Sons of the Prairie"--Mrs A. H. Steven. Sketch, "Domestic Mutual Improvement"--Messrs G. Marshall and J. O. Smith. Song, "It's a Long, Long Trail"--Pto Hemsworth. Trio and Encore, "Three Old Maids of Leo"--Mrs J. D. ROYAL STANDARD FIELD SEEDS

WE are extending our already extensive field seed business for 1917. It is the desire of the Canadian Government that the people produce as much as possible during the ensuing year, and we are arranging with the leading dealers throughout British Columbia and Alberta to carry a complete line of ROYAL STANDARD FIELD SEEDS. These seeds are the choicest it is possible to secure in the World's Markets. They are Government inspected and carefully selected for purity.

Seeds should be purchased early as prices inevitably advance as the Season progresses. In all probability the market will be short, and it will be difficult later in the year to make purchases.

Order ROYAL STANDARD Field Seeds NOW. If your dealer cannot supply you write us and we will ship to you direct.

A Factor in the Making of Men's Clothes

"Personality," says one whose wisdom is not to be questioned, "is the greatest thing in the world."

We all know how it counts in the work of this busy world--forcing success where least expected.

Well-fitting, well-made clothes are a proven important factor in adding to a man's personality, just as, contra-wise, an ill-fitting, ill-made suit will draw off from the most pronounced personality.

Personality is a mark of every suit and coat made by the House of Hobberlin. It is for this reason that the men who "care" are customers of this house. Every garment made to measure

Peachland Paragraphs

Rev. A. Henderson of Summerland spent Friday in town returning at night.

Messrs R. A. Copeland and T. Morrison of Kelowna who were to address a meeting of the farmers last Friday, in the interests of a new organization for the benefit of farmers, namely the United Farmers of British Columbia, spent part of the day in town, but as Mr Dryden had not received word in time to advertise the meeting, they went on to Westbank, where they held a meeting in the afternoon.

Mr Oliver Keating bought a horse in Kelowna and it came down on the boat on Friday night.

Miss Olive Gummow of Pentleton spent Saturday with her parents here, returning at night.

In the first week of February the change of the weekly half holiday from Thursday to Saturday was made. It ought to be an advantage both to the store keepers and to the shoppers, for they will be able to enjoy their Sunday day of rest more.

Mrs J. McLaughlan received word from Pentleton that her granddaughter, Annie Margaret Kirkby, had broken her shoulderblade. It seems that when she was out on the ice watching the skaters she slipped and fell. Miss Vina McLaughlan went down by Monday night's boat to help her sister.

Mrs Santon also has given three of her family to serve the Empire in its hour of need, one of the three has given his life for his country.

Mrs W. Coldham was a visitor to Kelowna on Monday, returning the same night.

Mrs. Wm. Dryden spent Tuesday in Kelowna.

Dr Buchanan received word from his daughter Nancy who is in Vancouver that she was working in the ammunition factory, and that her brother William had joined the Naval Reserve at Esquimalt. This makes three of Dr Buchanan's family who are serving their country.

Mr George Keyes and James Elliott have just completed loading a boat with cordwood for Summerland. This ought to be the beginning of a new industry for Peachland. We are well off as far as wood is concerned, for there are large areas of land containing timber of excellent quality yet untouched, and within comparatively easy reach of town.

Mr M. N. Morrison, who has been visiting his relatives at the Coast for a couple of weeks returned home on Tuesday morning. He reports seven inches of snow in Vancouver.

Mr Lee Mills was a passenger to Vernon on Tuesday.

Mr George Robinson took a merry party to the carnival at Summerland on Tuesday night.

Rev. James Lang went up to Vernon on Wednesday morning to visit his son, Mr Hamilton Lang.

Visitors who registered at the Edgewater Inn during the past week were as follows: R. A. Copeland, Kelowna, B.C.; Thos. Morrison, Kelowna, B.C.; Rev. A. Henderson, Summerland; Rev. H. A. Solly, Summerland; F. W. Haight, Vancouver, B.C.

May Take Steps to Force Women Home

Relatives of Soldiers Handicap to England.

Practical steps towards inducing Canadian women, relatives of soldiers in the Dominion forces to return to Canada, may be taken shortly, it is understood. There are thousands of such women in England who, it is claimed, are a great and unnecessary burden on England's food resources and otherwise disturbing in an economic way. With a view toward enforcing the return to Canada of many of these wives and female dependents of the Canadian soldiers, the Canadian authorities are understood to be considering stopping the allowances of all those who are not engaged definitely in war work unless they agree to go back to the Dominion.

From Our Soldiers

November 22nd, 1916.

Dear Madam,
Your wonderful box arrived yesterday, with the contents intact, and in good condition, and I would ask that you convey to the president and members of your club my hearty thanks and appreciation of all their kindness and thought, which must have gone into the collection of such a treasure box.

The contents, which are too numerous to mention separately, will all be much enjoyed and useful, and the newspapers, too, are, of course, always interesting to one who still calls Summerland his home, though it is some years since he has had the opportunity of revisiting it.

I have for some time heard of the splendid work you are doing for the Summerland boys at the front, and I am sure that it must be greatly appreciated by one and all, who are living under such trying conditions in this war-stricken country.

I trust you will excuse this pencilled acknowledgment. With renewed thanks and best wishes.

Yours sincerely,
CHARLES D. KERR.

Sub-Lieut. C. H. James—Please convey to the ladies of the Home Comfort Club my sincere thanks for the very useful parcel of Christmas cheer which you sent me. It was most thoughtful and kind of you all, and I can assure you it has been very much appreciated. I was sick in bed at the time it arrived, and have been there for over a week, with English influenza, which is very much like rheumatic grip plus a sore throat. I am glad to say that I am much better now and hope to be able to be out on the water in two or three weeks, having a game with the U boats. The weather over here has been very cold, foggy and damp, and knocks a lot of people out. The customs charged me a dollar duty on the parcel, but never mind. We have to pay to be allowed to fight for a so-called free country. I'll get it back when I can get up. Thanking you again for your very great kindness, and wishing you one and all a very bright and prosperous New Year.

Harold Smith—Very many thanks for the parcel of good and useful things from the Home Comfort Club which I received safely last Friday, Dec. 8th. I appreciate it very

Book Showers For the Soldiers

300 books, preferably of light fiction and biography, are needed to replenish the library at the headquarters club of the 102nd regiment in Kamloops. Donations will be received at Elliott's stores and both of the Supply Company's stores, until February 15th.

From the 102nd regiment are taken the guardsmen for the several bridgeheads in B.C. One hundred men more or less are kept at headquarters out of which relieving parties are formed about every two weeks. Books and other literature are furnished from the club to the various camps of the Bridge Guards.

In addition to the 102nd men, there are already about 50 soldiers in the tubercular sanatorium at Tranquille, about ten miles west of Kamloops. It is proposed to distribute some of the books among these men also.

Similar showers are being arranged elsewhere.

much, and feel very grateful to the ladies of Summerland for all the good things they are doing for us boys.

I would have written sooner, only most of the battalion is quarantined through an epidemic of measles. One case was taken out of our hut last Saturday, so we were at once put in quarantine. We hope we shall be out again by Christmas. All we do is go out on marches by ourselves or drill. We, of course, are allowed nowhere where other people are. Most of the Summerland boys are under quarantine. In this hut are Cpl. Higgin, Lee, Cpl. Walton, Pts. Agar, R. Barkwill, Nixon, Whitfield, Fasridge, Verrier, and myself. W. H. Milligan went to France with the first draft from our battalion, ten days ago. All our letters are disinfected before they are mailed now, so I think this one will be safe. Again thanking the ladies of the Home Comfort Club, and wishing them all the best wishes of the season.

A. W. Vanderburg—Just a little note to let you know that I am still in the land of the living and to show how I appreciate the Christmas parcel sent by the Home Comfort Club which I received this morning.

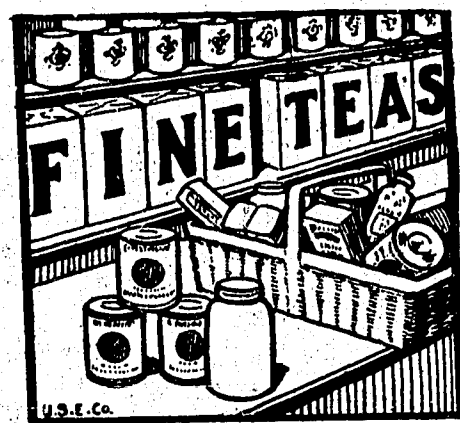

Receiving Christmas parcels brings a feeling on one which I am not able to express. But an occasion such as Christmas falls far below the mark under such conditions as we are surrounded with; yet we're amidst luxuries compared with the poor boys in France.

Jennings and myself are on the staff of the camp hospital at Crowborough, situated in the great forest of Ashdown. Jennings is at present in an isolation hospital with the measles—the second attack in seven months. He is doing fine and gets out on the 20th. Then he and I intend going to Scotland for six days' leave.

Again thank you for the parcel, and you may be sure that every time I take a bite of it, it will bring back memories to me of the dear people at home.

Suing Kettle Valley Railway For Huge Sum

Litigation Commenced on Account of Construction of Section from Penticton East.

The action instituted by Messrs Grant, Smith & Co., railway contractors, against the Kettle Valley Railway Company is now engaging the attention of the supreme court at Victoria. In this action the plaintiffs claim the sum of $699,608.99 with interest from October, 1914, balance due on a contract for the construction of a railway line from Penticton to Hydraulic Summit, near McCulloch station. The point of contention is the validity or otherwise of certain contracts entered into covering the construction of this stretch of line. The plaintiffs claim that in August, 1912, they entered into a contract with the railway company for the construction of 57 miles of line from Penticton east to Hydraulic Summit. At that time the route extended from Penticton to Squally Point, and on from there to the summit. The work was of a profitable nature from their point of view, on mountain sides, with a great many daylight cuts, profitable tunnels, trestles and bridge work. They proceeded to expend some $60,000 on outfits and to sublet their contract. Altogether some two thousand men, sub-contractors, station men and others were assembled to carry out the work. After construction commenced, the plaintiff firm complained of delays on the part of the railway company in giving them levels and station locations, and these delays are alleged to have caused some of the sub-contractors to leave prematurely, occasioning loss to the Grant, Smith firm. In September the railway company gave notice that they had decided to change the line to another location, the way in which it was ultimately built. The change varied all the way from only a few yards to as much as seven miles. The plaintiffs complain that the new location was a difficult one, and non-profit bearing work. The daylight cuts become through cuts, long hauls were experienced, wet ground, much less of the solid rock, and more of the non-profitable earth work, fewer tunnels, and that it was more difficult and expensive work to get at. The construction company claims that this change of line annulled the original contract, and also that the railway agreed to pay a fair price for the work, no matter what the cost might be.

The railway company on the other hand asserts that the original contract is binding, and the plaintiffs must be paid only what the chief engineer has certified to under the contract. The K.V.R. have paid some $83,000 into court as part of the amount due.

The hearing of the case is expected to last another week, and during its hearing many expert witnesses will be called to give evidence.

Police Commission

Roove Blair, Coun. J. R. Campbell, and Mr. Wm. Ritchie have been named as local Police Commissioners for the current year. One councillor and another citizen, both appointed by the province, act with the reeve.

The Grand Forks creamery made 50,000 pounds of butter and 8,250 gallons of ice cream during 1916.

Loan By-Law Considered And Passed.

Two Short Council Sessions Necessary For This Business.

A further session of the Council was held on Wednesday afternoon, with the Reeve and Couns. English and Simpson in attendance. The main business of the brief meeting was to give the necessary readings to By-law No. 90, which provides for the raising of a loan from the bank to the extent of $2,500 against this year's taxes the proceeds being used for current expenses. This by-law was finally considered and passed at a special session held on Thursday morning.

At Wednesday's meeting the clerk read a letter from the Summerland Development Company's Representative at Penticton relative to an outstanding item of water and light rates contracted by the recent lessees of Hotel Summerland. The Development Company intimated that they will no longer be responsible for rates contracted on this account. This the Council took note of and will arrange for accordingly. Incidentally it was mentioned that considerable benefit is accruing to the place from the comfortable and otherwise acceptable hotel service that is now being given.

A request from Mr H. R. Hadcock, of the military service department of the Y.M.C.A., for a grant towards that work will be replied to pointing out that there is some doubt as to the legality of such grants, and therefore it cannot be considered.

Coun. Johnston has made an offer to purchase a tax sale certificate held by the Municipality on two lots in Block 3640, the total amount outstanding on the property being about $240. The offer was accepted, and the Council will assign the tax certificate.

A motion was put through authorising the Summerland Hospital Society a grant of $37.50 monthly for the year 1917, this being in place of the arrangement last year which allowed a grant of $35 per month.

After the Coyotes

Members of the Italian colony here have been doing a good business in coyote hunting this winter. In addition to securing a bounty of $8 on each animal, the pelt is worth anything up to about $7. The Italians have already been paid bounty on twenty-four animals, and on Tuesday this week added another bag of three to this total.

In all sections of the province hunters have been after the coyotes this winter. In some districts they have been especially thick, doing extensive damage by their depredations on stock and game. On account of the heavy call for bounty money the provincial government has found it necessary to increase its original appropriation of $25,000 for this purpose to $40,000, with prospects that more yet may be needed.

Chief Game Warden Williams has stated that under the bounty system the numbers of the coyotes is decreasing.

At a recent meeting of the Penticton Municipal Council, Coun. Keys expressed the opinion that in order to take care of the increased annual expense due to the construction of permanent work, it would be necessary to raise the irrigation rates when irrigation bonds were sold. Chairman Chambers of the Irrigation committee replied that most of the ranchers expect to have their rates go from $3.25 per acre up to the maximum of $5.00.

Only Phone System In Valley That Pays Is Ours

Statements Brought Forward at Telephone Company's Annual Meeting Show Healthy Standing of Local Concern.

The Summerland Telephone Company has had another successful year. The financial report presented at the annual shareholders meeting on Thursday afternoon, while showing smaller profits than the year before was received with much satisfaction. During the year there has been a material reduction of liabilities, and at the present moment there only remains a balance of $350.00 due the Kellogg Co. on plant account. The statement shows a capital investment of over $23,000.00. The paid-up capital is $14,000.00, with an additional $5,000 of the subscribed capital not yet paid in. The balance of the past year's profits, after deducting the dividend, added to former reserves, brings the total reserve to $2,250.00.

The tardiness with which the balance of the subscribed capital is coming in is the one unsatisfactory feature of the report. President H. C. Mellor, in his address, regretted this, and pointed out that the shortage of capital had made financing difficult, and had materially reduced the profits. The profits, while not as large as the directors had hoped, he thought made a good showing. The reserve and the deferred dividends were being used to pay off the balance due on capital investment. Dividend cheques could have been issued had the balance of the subscribed capital been paid in. He urged shareholders to pay in the balance due. New construction work during the year had added to the financial outlay. A $1,000 had been added to the system in extensions. He considered the financial report very satisfactory, and all that could reasonably be expected, and moved its adoption.

Dr Andrew, in seconding the motion for the adoption of the report, said that considering the capital invested the company was doing wonderfully well. Notwithstanding war conditions, and a somewhat lesser population, the number of telephone subscribers was well maintained, there being a few more now than a year ago. The company is giving an excellent service, and the plant and system is being kept in best condition.

The recommendation of the directors that a dividend of five per cent. be declared was unanimously carried.

Dr Andrew expressed pleasure with this decision. He declared ours the only telephone system in the Valley, government or otherwise, that was being operated at a profit.

The retiring directors, Messrs Blair and Young, were re-elected for a period of three years, and C. P. Nelson was again made auditor.

The shareholders passed a motion authorizing the directors to borrow, giving the required security, enough to pay off the liabilities if they consider such course advisable. At present the directors are assuming certain personal responsibilities on behalf of the company which the shareholders consider unfair to the directors, hence this motion.

Several carloads of fat pigs were shipped from Kelowna to the Coast last fall and winter, the price obtained was 9½ to 10½ cents five weight.

Trout Creek Assessments Under Discussion

Request re. "Woodlands" Property Rateable Value Introduces Big Question.—Dog Tax and other Matters Before Council.

What is the relative value of the land at Trout Creek Point under the Duncan Woods water record as compared with other lands of the municipality under the irrigation system, and what is the correct relation of this land as regards taxes to the municipality as a whole? These questions were raised on Saturday at the regular meeting of the Council by a personal request from Mr Woods that his assessment be lowered. His plea was that his and adjoining lands were being charged a general revenue tax, part of which was expended on the up-keep of the municipal irrigation system from which he says he derives no benefit. Not only does he not use the water, but Mr Woods says he does not want it. Hence his appeal for relief from taxation.

Assessor Logie maintained that it was not in his power to assess Trout Creek land any differently than that of the other parts of the district. Mr Woods protested against the municipality continuing to supply Trout Creek with water, and charged that the taxation was absolute confiscation. Coun. Johnston, resident of that section, pointed out that the land there was assisting in the up-keep of the municipal system, while at the same time the community was maintaining a system of its own. He favored having the municipality give his section assistance to the extent of the proportion of the general tax expended on the larger system.

Coun. English, whose land comes under the municipal records, asked for lowered assessment, claiming that his was worth no more than range land.

The discussion turning to the condition of the present Trout Creek system, Coun. Johnston declared that a big mistake had been made in putting in a cement pipe that was altogether too small, and that a larger one was urgently needed. Considerable other expenditures were necessary. Last year the water users of the district had specially taxed themselves to make necessary repairs to the system.

Though no decision was reached, when referred to later in the day the plan most favored seemed to be to contribute to the local Trout Creek system.

The dog tax as it has been imposed is a farce, according to Coun. Simpson, who asked what happened when an owner did not pay. A pound is needed. Coun. English declared that many who were so inclined escaped paying the tax. This was pronounced by Couns. Campbell and Simpson as most unfair to those who did pay.

Reference to the by-law revealed the fact that any dog not wearing the tag was liable to impoundment. Coun. Simpson asked that the constable be furnished with a copy of the by-law with instructions to enforce it.

Coun. English only opposing, the Council decided to offer the owners $250.00 for the lot just south of the Municipal Office property. It is proposed to erect buildings for storage of equipment and material; and to provide more stable and hay room. Coun. English maintained that there was room enough on the 50x50 end of the

How a B.C. Prisoner Got Christmas Cheer

Gratitude from German Prison Camp For Parcel Sent From Summerland.

Acknowledgment has come to Mrs Darkis of a parcel which she sent off some time ago to a prisoner in Germany. The recipient was a Vancouver man, Corporal Theo. Hermon, who was with the 1st Battalion, British Columbians. He is at present incarcerated at Soltau, Hanover. His grateful reply shows how his Christmas was brightened by the kindly thoughtfulness which prompted the sending of the parcel. One can readily imagine how dispiriting Christmas in a German prison camp would be under the best of circumstances.

Corporal Hermon's post card reads:

"Dear Mrs Darkis—I received your welcome parcel Christmas Eve, and it was received at a time when the hopes of a good time were slim. Had I chosen its contents I could not have desired better. Now what is most needed is milk, sugar, butter or margarine. These seem to be scarce in the Old Country. I will write you a letter later, as you know our correspondence is limited, so please accept my grateful thanks. It is such a comfort to think that some warm hearts beat for us in captivity. The dawn of a new year is upon us. God grant it will see our emancipation and peace throughout the world. My home address is box 931 Vancouver. This will find a little wife with a great soul.

HERMON.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

There was a good attendance at the West Summerland Women's Institute meeting held on Friday afternoon, the 9th, at the Parish Hall.

Mrs H. G. Estabrook, the president, was appointed as a delegate to the convention of Okanagan Institutes.

Mrs W. C. Fosbery has found it necessary to resign the work in connection with the fruit shipping scheme which Institute members have been engaged in, this being the plan which Mrs Fosbery originated and which she has pushed so vigorously. Mrs J. T. Washington was appointed as secretary to take up this work.

Arrangements were made to join with the Summerland Institute to entertain the Board of Trade and the Farmers' Institute in a joint session which is to take place next month.

Mrs O. F. Zimmerman read a paper on "Parliamentary Law" prepared by Mrs R. C. Lipsett.

There is a good program prepared for this year, and we plan to make our meetings interesting.

property on which the present building stands.

Mrs Tullett and Mr S. B. Snider were both in attendance, and Mr Logie having seen the Development Co. in the meantime, it is likely to be arranged to have a road run east from the main road along the north side of the Church of England cemetery for a distance, and then north across a lot in which the Development Co. are interested, to the Tullett cottage. Mr Snider will grant the right of way across his lot if he can buy the portion between the proposed road and his lot.

Lib-Conservatives Complete Organization

Women Have Now Substantial Part In Political Work Of Local Association.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Summerland Liberal-Conservative Association was held on Wednesday evening this week in the Parish Hall. There was a large and enthusiastic audience, including about twenty-five ladies.

Mr J. A. Kirk occupied the chair, and principally for the benefit of the ladies gave a brief but very comprehensive review of the attitude taken by the political parties towards the great questions that have arisen in the history of the country since the time of Confederation. He traced the rise and growth of the Liberal-Conservative party to the present time.

Mr E. R. Simpson introduced a resolution respecting dairying that was duly carried. It read as follows:

That as the fruit growers of this district are now duly impressed with the importance of carrying on the dairy industry along with that of their orchards, this Liberal-Conservative Association requests the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. Martin Burrell, to consider the advisability of immediately proceeding with the erection of a modern dairy barn on the Experimental Station at Summerland, and the acquiring of a first-class dairy herd, thereby assisting the industry in the district by demonstration and the breeding of pure bred stock.

The list of officers for the year 1917 was completed. The main office-bearers had already been appointed, these being as stated in the Review a fortnight ago. It remained, however, to appoint the ward representatives, these to consist of a lady and gentleman for each ward, and also one each for the territory adjoining the district but outside the municipal limits. These were elected as follows:

Ward I.—Miss D. Cooper and Dr R. C. Lipsett; Ward II.—Mrs S. Darkis and Mr C. H. Tate; Ward III.—Mrs E. R. Agur and Mr S. M. Young; Ward IV.—Mrs F. Gartrell and Mr D. Gray; adjoining districts, Mrs E. R. Faulder and Mr J. W. Wheeler.

During the evening vocal and instrumental music was furnished by Miss Edna English, Miss Myrtle Clay, Mr J. O. Smith and Mr J. Mowatt. Their contributions were warmly appreciated, and added greatly to the success of the evening.

A committee of ladies supplied refreshments at the close of the business, after which the most successful and most important meeting in the history of the association closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The biggest deal in undeveloped mining property ever put through in British Columbia has just been consummated, by which claims at Copper Mountain, near Princeton, have been sold to a New York syndicate for the fabulous price of $3,000,000. The property was owned by Mr E. Voight, a pioneer miner and prospector of the province. It consisted in all of about fifty claims in one block, on which the existence of large bodies of low grade ore have been proven. The purchasing syndicate is going to develop its acquisition at a total cost of about $9,000,000. The Princeton district is naturally slated at the promise of the commencement of a second large mining concern in its vicinity.

COST OF STREET LIGHTING.

A DEFICIT was shown on the annual statement of the Summerland municipal light plant for 1916. On the credit side of the account was an item of revenue, the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, transferred to the credit of the electric light plant for street lighting for one year. Some two or three years ago the Review asked the Council to consider the amount allowed for street lighting, expressing the opinion that in justice to that public utility a larger sum should be credited for street lighting. Only a slight increase was made. At the last annual meeting of ratepayers the question was introduced by one of the citizens present.

Whether the amount placed to the credit of the lighting system for street lighting be large or small is not going to affect the bank balance of the municipality at the end of the year or is the corporation going to be richer or poorer. Nevertheless if the amount charged up as an expense in one department and credited as an earning in another, in this instance our power plant, is unreasonably low it gives the ratepayers a false impression of the worth of the latter to the community, even to the extent of making them indifferent to the enlarging of the plant and its radiating system of poles and wires. The Review believes that if the plant were given due credit for the current consumed in street lighting it would be shown that the rate charged private consumers is one that will well justify enlarging the system.

It is our opinion that, if credited with the sum representing the amount of current consumed by the street lights, the utility would have shown a profit instead of a deficit. What then should be that sum, and how is it figured up? In making our calculation we have tried to keep under rather than over the actual figures.

There are on our streets something over forty lamps, each consuming 60 watts per hour. For easy figuring place them at an even 40. Taking the long winter nights with the shorter summer evenings each lamp gives light for a total of 4,000 hours in the year. Multiply this by 60, the hourly consumption of each, and this sum by 40, the number of lamps, and you have the total consumption for the year, 9,600 kilowatt hours.

From a net cash price of 12½ cents the rate is graded down to 8 cents for large consumption, a sort of bulk or wholesale rate. Figured at this price the revenue to the lighting plant from this source would be $768.00 instead of the $250.00 for which it received credit

Summerland Fruit Union ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Notice is hereby given that the Regular Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Summerland Fruit Union will be held in the Parish Hall, West Summerland, on Thursday, March 1st, at the hour of 10 a.m., for the purpose of the following:

To receive the annual Financial Statements and Balance Sheet, and Directors' Report.

To elect officers for the ensuing year.

To consider such other matters as may be brought before the meeting.

Dated at Summerland this 13th day of February, 1917.

ALEX. L. MORELAND, Secretary.

Sub-section 5, Section 110 "Agricultural Act," 1915: "No member shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting who has not sold his main crop through the local association for the past year, or who has not signed a contract to do so during the ensuing year, unless he has received the consent of the local Board of Directors, in writing, to dispose of his main crop otherwise."

last year, a sum large enough to have turned a last year's deficit into a profit after making allowance for depreciation and interest on the capital invested. We have noted that in the preliminary estimates for the current year the same figure as last year is provided for street lighting. We would respectfully suggest that our esteemed councillors look further into this item. We believe they will find that the amount should be about as we have stated.

THE LATE MINISTER.

WITH THE PASSING of Hon. Ralph Smith, Minister of Finance in the Brewster administration, the province loses one of its most sterling citizens. Political friends and opponents will join hands beside his bier in silent tribute to the honest and upright character of the late minister. During the few months he was in office he had created a most favorable impression, and it is tragic indeed that he should have passed away at the time when he was in the midst of labors which he had earnestly hoped would prove of very high importance to the future of the province. The legislation which he had promised to introduce during the coming session was keenly looked for, the belief being that it would show honest effort to meet the difficulties of the situation while imposing as few hardships as possible. His successor, whoever he may be, will fall heir to no light task, and it will be well for the people of the province if he is as fitted for the position of trust and responsibility as was the late Ralph Smith.

NEW LAND POLICY.

THE PROVINCIAL ADVISORY BOARD of the Farmers' Institute have been holding very weighty sessions at Victoria of late, the six delegates who represent different sections of the province being engaged in much the same way as the larger convention in former years. One of the most important decisions they have arrived at is in regard to the land settlement policy that has been pursued in this province in the past. They have decided that the pre-emption plan is not the best to work upon. What will be urged instead is the homestead entry plan, the same as other provinces have had in vogue. Under this procedure land suitable for agriculture is opened for settlement in large blocks to homesteaders, and this undoubtedly encourages more community growth, besides lessening the expense of the government in providing roads, schools, and such like facilities that should follow the man on the land. Under the pre-emption plan it is possible for a man to pick a pre-emption in an extremely isolated location, at the same time expecting the government to provide facilities for him and others who may be similarly situated.

Among other important matters agreed upon were resolutions calling for the prohibition of Oriental ownership to land title; more stringent steps for the elimination of noxious weeds calling for individual duties by the farmers; further plans to offset the agricultural labor shortage during the next crop season by providing for home resources of labor such as women and high school pupils under extended vacation and other matters.

From Our Soldiers

J. P. G. MacLeod—Many thanks for the Christmas parcel. It arrived just at the right time and was very much appreciated.

Under the circumstances we spent a very pleasant Christmas. The hut I am in had been quarantined for measles two weeks before. The quarantine was raised Christmas noon, so there were two reasons for celebrating. The boys certainly did, too, ending up, a couple of hours after the futile notes of "Lights Out" had fallen on unheeding ears, with an indoor rugby game. A pillow stuffed with straw was a fairly good substitute for a ball, as long as it held together. Luckily nothing suffered very seriously except the hut. It was a reminder of the good old times we had at the college. Here's hoping it will not be closed for long.

Thanking you again for the Christmas parcel.

Il. Simpson—I beg to thank you and the Home Comfort Club for the parcel received by me two weeks ago. It arrived in very good condition, and as you may guess was indeed welcome.

The battalion is resting in a village, somewhere in France, at present, but go back to the trenches to-morrow, and expect to be there for both Christmas and New Year.

Mr. Milligan of Summerland came to this battalion a few days ago, in a draft. There are very few of the original battalion left.

I met Bill Angove at the Base. He is now somewhere up the line, with the A.D.M.S., and I expect has a good job. It will at least be what we call a "bomb-proof one."

I could tell you a lot of things about France, but I guess the censor would not let it go through, so I must close. Thanking you again for the parcel.

H. C. Howls—I thank you and your wonderful club for the parcel of good things which I received some time ago. This is a belated acknowledgment, I fear, but couldn't well be helped. Your parcel had been out to the front, and after locating a hospital wherein I had put some time, finally found me at a London Military Hospital. You will like to know that after much knocking around everything was in very good shape. Sometimes one may be inclined to be sorry for oneself, and it's awfully good to know that out in B.C. one is not forgotten.

Soon after receiving the parcel I left the hospital, and was at a convalescent camp only a few days when I developed—unnecessarily I thought—a robust appendix abscess. The end of the fifth week finds me still in bed—and still there's a bit to do.

The Summerland men in my battalion were all right when I left the trenches, but I have not had any news lately, only to know that they have done much hard and splendid work.

A visitor to see me here is our old friend, T. Hickey, whom I met at the convalescent camp.

Captain Douglas Brown is serving in place of Captain J. C. Gore as superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Inland Lake and River Service. Captain Gore died recently, and Captain Brown was sent up from Victoria to fill the vacancy.

Four carloads of apples from the Kelowna district went down in the C.P.R. steamer "Mount Temple," which was recently sunk by a German submarine in the Atlantic. Two of these carloads were shipped by Messrs. Stirling & Pitcairn, and the remaining two were consigned by the B.C. Growers, Limited.

Fame is the reward of one who is willing to be chronically misquoted by the newspapers.

Suppose the Review Ceased Publication

JUST suppose this community were left without a local newspaper! What would become of its local pride? Summerland would be just a name on a railway time table or a post office guide. Men and women might die, or marry, or go away, or suffer accidents, or entertain friends, and you would hear about it all only through gossip. Municipal affairs and other news of interest to this particular part of the wide, wide world would have no publicity. Our local merchants would have no cheap and quick way of telling you what they provide for you. Our churches and schools and other institutions would have no medium of news or appeal. And this whole community would slip back and be the sport of jokesmiths.

Would city papers take the place of the Review?

You know they would not.

THE point of it all is: Like all other newspapers we are feeling the pinch of higher prices for paper and other material. But, unlike hundreds of other weekly papers, we do not propose yet to raise the price, but simply ask that each and every subscriber pay up his or her subscription and keep it paid up. Nothing unfair about that is there? Now to "kick" at this and drop your subscription, would be to say, in effect, "This community doesn't need a local weekly. If I can do without the Review, all others can."

We do not believe for one moment that the good people of Summerland, Peachland, Naramata and neighborhoods will "kick" or drop their subscription to the Review. We expect all our subscribers to recognize the new conditions of living and publishing that have made this policy a necessity. Do you realize that your weekly newspaper at the rate of 4 cents a week—little more than the price of a postage stamp—costs an insignificant sum when you reckon up the service it renders you and this whole community.

Be loyal to and proud of the community you live in. Keep it on the map.

Under New Management.

Doings of Peachland

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Miss Gertrude Gummow went to Penticton on Wednesday evening, returning on Monday morning.

Mr Thos. Powell went to Vernon last Friday morning to attend a meeting of the directors of the United Growers, before going to Victoria as a delegate to attend a Fruit Growers' Convention there.

We have again to record the loss of another of our boys at the front. This time it is Ernest McKay. Ernest was a general favorite with old and young alike, and the sympathy of the whole community is extended to his parents who reside in Dalhousie, N.B.

Mr. T. Kerfoot spent Friday in town looking for men to go to the Naramata Camp to saw logs. We understand that he was successful in securing several.

We are pleased to report that Mrs Creswell has received word from Mr Creswell's parents that he is very much better and is going to London for convalescence.

Mr J. S. Moore came up from Naramata on Saturday returning by Tuesday morning's boat.

Vernon Winger who has been sawing wood at Summerland returned on Saturday morning.

Mr R. J. McDougall of the Penticton Herald came up on Saturday morning on a visit to his mother, Mrs McDougall, and returned to Penticton on Tuesday.

Miss Edith Hayward, who has been visiting her sisters, Mrs J. L. Elliott and Mrs John Wright, returned to Kelowna on Wednesday morning.

Mr John McDougall spent the week-end in Summerland, returning home on Monday morning.

Mr H. Hardy was a passenger to Vernon Saturday morning where he has gone for a few days' visit.

Mr O. Pope, who has been visiting his niece, Mrs Bywater, at Penticton for a few days, returned home on Tuesday morning.

Mr Nuttall, who has been having a week's holiday in Summerland, returned on Tuesday morning. Mr A. J. Millar looked after his work while he was away.

Mr and Mrs R. J. Hogg were passengers to Victoria on Tuesday evening. Mr Hogg is going on business in connection with the School Trustees' Convention. They expect to be away about a month.

Mr W. D. Miller spent the week-end with his family here, returning to Penticton on Tuesday night. He was forced to stay over a day because the boat did not call here on Monday owing to a thick fog which enveloped the lake.

Messrs Walter and Emmet Shaw were passengers to Naramata on Tuesday night where they have gone to work at the Penticton Lumber Company's camp near that place.

Mr Anstey, Provincial School Inspector, is in the district this week making the usual inspection of the schools.

Coun. Douglas—Coun. Powell: That the estimates of the school trustees of $2,161.00 for the year 1917 be acceded to. Carried.

Coun. Pope—Coun. Hogg: That the Board of Works Committee be authorized to ditch the road at Mr J. Kerr's, such work not to exceed the sum of sixty dollars. Carried.

Coun. Hogg—Coun. Douglas: That the resolution from Penticton dealing with the trans-provincial highway be endorsed, and that the accompanying petition be circulated for signatures, and that the Penticton Board of Trade be notified, and that the council endorse the proposed change in the said road whereby it passes through Penticton, using the Carmi road. Carried.

The chairmen of the light and water and irrigation committees submitted written reports.

Coun. Hogg—Coun. Pope: That the light and water report be adopted, and the clerk instructed to get valve for main on First Street.

Coun. Powell—Coun. Douglas: That the report of the irrigation committee be adopted. Carried.

Coun. Powell—Coun. Douglas: That the provincial government be requested to rebuild the bridge known as the Collander Bridge, as per promise made to the council by the administration, and for reconstruction of which piles have already been placed upon the bridge site. Carried.

Coun. Douglas—Coun. Powell: That the finance committee endorse the payment of January accounts to the amount of $437.18. Carried.

Farmers' Institute Meet

The Farmers' Institute met in the Council Chamber on Friday afternoon. In the absence of the president Mr Thos. Powell, the vice-president Mr L. D. McCall, accepted the chair. After the usual routine business Mr J. T. Long read a paper on "Spray and Spraying," which was fully discussed, and brought out many points of interest to fruit growers.

The paper is as follows:—

ESSAY ON SPRAYING.

Spraying started at the Greta Ranch the first week in April with soluble sulphur on cherry, plum, and apple trees. It was the first season that I used this spray, and I cannot speak too highly of its value. In my opinion it is a stronger and better fungicide than lime-sulphur. The foliage was clean and healthy and the fruit on the apple trees had a good bloom and finish and packed out practically 98 per cent. No. 1. If soluble sulphur is used according to directions, and like all other sprays, done thoroughly at the proper time, it will give good success. The mixture necessary is 10 pounds to 50 gallons to be used on dormant trees.

Bordeaux mixture on peach trees is a good fungicide for curly-leaf mildew and for worms. We used here 6 pounds bluestone and 6 pounds fresh slaked lime to 50 gallons. It is a very successful spray.

Council Pass School Estimates

A meeting of the Council was held on Thursday afternoon instead of Tuesday evening, which is the regular time, to allow Mr Thos. Powell to attend. Communications from the following were read:

Penticton Board of Trade re the provincial highway; petition from N. S. Davidson re lease of road allowance; R. Baird re financial statement; secretary of local branch of patriotic fund re grant; Hon. Sir George Foster and Hon. Martin Burrell re high cost of living resolution; Deputy Provincial Secretary re police and license commissioners; Workmen's Compensation Board re assessment; Williams, Wash, McKim & Housser re redemption of Lot 42, DH 1184; William Young re Townsite Cr. Water System; Vernon News re debenture printing; Secretary School Trustees re school estimates; Bank of Montreal re loan; Sir Thos. White re war certificates. Coun. Pope—Coun. Hogg: That N. S. Davidson be granted a lease of road allowance between Lot 7 Blk. B and Lot 8 Blk. C, DL 449 for a term of 20 years at a yearly rental of one dollar. Carried.

"Personality," says one whose wisdom is not to be questioned, "is the greatest thing in the world."

We all know how it counts in the work of this busy world - forcing success where least expected.

Well-fitting, well-made clothes are a proven important factor in adding to a man's personality, just as, contra-wise, an ill-fitting, ill-made suit will draw off from the most pronounced personality.

Personality is a mark of every suit and coat made by the House of Hobberlin. It is for this reason that the men who "care" are customers of this house.

The Borton Cup has been handed in by Ex-Patrol Leader Dwight Ritchie, his patrol having won it in the shooting competition last year. This is another interesting competition for the new patrols.

The troop is greatly depleted owing to the great number of enlistments from the troop, also so many having left town.

It has been found necessary to stop having "Cub" meetings along with the Scouts. The "Wolf Cubs" are a separate branch of the Scouts.

To-night, Friday, at 7.30 p.m., will be the next meeting. Recruits should apply at any meeting.

The Kelowna creamery recently won first prize in a butter competition in which many of the largest and oldest established creameries in the province participated. This prize was on prints, while on solids the same creamery missed by a few points the first place for solids. The cut was on the preparation of the exhibit rather than the quality of butter.

The West Side Okanagan Farmers' Institute has lately been incorporated by the Minister of Agriculture at Victoria. It is the one hundred and forty-fourth institute in the province. It will embrace the territory from the wharf at Whiteman's Creek to some distance south of Nahan, with headquarters at Ewing's.

Standard Apple Box Fixed by Growers' Convention

Oriental Labor Favored During Continuance of War by Orchard Men

Attention was drawn during the recent fruit growers' convention to the fact that the C.P.R. makes a charge of twenty cents for serving a baked B.C. apple with cream in its dining cars. A similar article served on American trains is said to cost ten cents. The outcome of the discussion was a strongly expressed opinion that the C.P.R. would do well to lower its price on baked apples, the belief being that much sterling advertising could be done by the flavor of the apples themselves if the price did not make them so much of a luxury on the trains.

The convention also passed a strong resolution urging that the bar against foreign white labor be taken away for the duration of the war, so that Chinese labor may be brought in for agricultural purposes only free of head tax. Only in this way it was thought could the serious shortage of labor be met. This resolution has since met with strong opposition from the Coast labor unions.

The convention also urged the government to widen the sphere of the annual packing schools, and also to grant adequate financial provision for the work of the horticultural branch.

C. E. Barnes of Walhachin was elected president, and J. E. Reekie of Kelowna, vice-president. R. V. Agar was re-elected director for the Summerland district, and Thos. Powell for the Peachland-Westbank section.

G. J. C. White of Summerland fathered a resolution in favor of the American apple box, and now after seven years of trying to decide, the fruit growers have fixed upon a standard apple box, which will be recommended as a standard package, and which the Dominion Government will legalize shortly after the termination of the war.

Local Soldiers Overseas Suffer Sickness

Herbert Simpson, one of the Summerlanders who left with the 54th Battalion, has met with a bad experience in France, which leaves him suffering from shell shock. It is understood that he has been unfitted for further military service, and while still in France, is expected to be sent back to England to recover.

According to a telegram received last week-end by Mrs. H. W. Agar, her husband, a member of the 172nd, is dangerously ill. Just what the nature of his complaint is the official telegram did not state, but in a letter received this week from Private Agar himself, he states that he is suffering from mumps. From this it is conjectured that his illness has developed a serious phase.

Private C. A. Marshall of the same unit has also suffered a serious attack of the same disease, and but recently came out of hospital.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. J. Robinson, arrangements were made to serve luncheon to those present at the annual Fruit Union meeting in the Parish Hall on March 1st. It has been customary for this meeting to commence in the morning and continue on in the afternoon with an intermission for luncheon.

Lad Buried Alive In Cave of Sand

Prompt and Efficient Action of G. N. Gartrell Saved Life.

Few children have hovered so near the brink of death and yet been pulled back to life as young Harold Sculthorpe, in an experience which befel him last Saturday afternoon. Playing in the sandbank near his home on Ninth Street, a rough cave had been excavated, in which he was playing. He had not been in long when a heavy fall of earth came without any warning, completely burying the unfortunate boy, and apparently pinning him in an awkward bent posture. His brother playmate immediately gave an alarm, and it was quickly apparent to Messrs George Gartrell and J. Downton who were close by that something was amiss, and they hurried to the scene. The latter set to work and began pushing earth aside with his hands, but fortunately Mr Gartrell was able to get a shovel close by which greatly hastened the rescue work. In getting to the boy Mr Gartrell estimates that he had to move close upon a wagon load of earth, and when he finally felt the body, he cleared around the waist and extricated him by sheer force. The little fellow was black in the face, and apparently quite lifeless, but prompt and energetic resuscitative work by Mr Gartrell brought back signs of life, and later he was carried into the house to receive the doctor's attention. It seems to have been a close call indeed, and had not a shovel been so handy and someone who could use it and immediately apply restorative measures it is doubtful if the imprisoned boy could have survived at all. As it is he has been but slowly recovering from his terrible experience. Quite naturally the lad's mother is overflowing with praises for the prompt and efficient work of Mr Gartrell, to whom she feels she is indebted for the life of her boy.

Another Bird House Competition.

Movement to Interest Children in Bird Life.

The Summerland Women's Institute, having the interest of the children at heart, have decided to hold another of the contests known as the "Artistic Bird House" competition. The rules of the contest are:

1. Contest to commence now, and close the 12th of March.
2. Contestants will be graded in this way:
Seniors, over ten years of age and under fifteen years.
Juniors, under ten years.
3. The work to be the contestants own handiwork.
4. Prizes will be awarded for the most artistic, practical and durable.
5. Entries to be sent to Mrs J. Taft, secretary of the Women's Institute not later than March 12th.

Nelson Board of Trade has asked the Postmaster General at Ottawa to allow the Nelson post office to be opened at 5 a.m.

The Duncan Board of Trade is working for the establishment of the beet sugar industry in Cowichan. Capitalists are being interested in the possibilities of creating a drain tile industry there also.

Is Doing a Splendid Work Among Soldiers

Military Y.M.C.A. Has Uplifting Influence.

Morning and evening last Sunday Rev. H. G. Estabrook delivered strong addresses on behalf of the military service branch of the Y.M.C.A. Having recently become a field superintendent for this work, Mr Estabrook is pushing the cause with characteristic energy and thoroughness, and is producing results that are highly gratifying.

He has lately laid the work and its needs before the people of Peachland, and was able to gather about a hundred dollars from the residents there. Summerland has already subscribed more than that, with prospects that a monthly contribution of substantial proportions will go forward from here every month.

His addresses last Sunday were explanatory of the work which the Y.M.C.A. is carrying on with the Canadian forces at home and overseas, substantiated by facts sent out from the secretaries actually with the men, and what was even more convincing, letters from the soldiers testifying to the good work the Y.M.C.A. is doing among them. The large audiences in St Andrew's Church in the morning and the Lakeside Church in the evening, evidenced the interest of the public in the worthy cause. Many of those present, with sons, brothers, husbands, or other relatives away at the war, had doubtless heard of the movement which Mr Estabrook represents through direct sources, and had their interest doubly aroused.

There is no overlapping of the Y.M.C.A. work with the activities of the Red Cross or any other war organization. Its work is distinct and separate, and the fact that the British Government has recently recognized it as one of the major adjunct bodies is sufficient to stamp it with the hall mark of genuineness. From the Canadian training camps on the transports to England, across the Channel to Flanders, the Y.M.C.A. is following the fighting men all the way, and it likewise travels with the returned invalided soldiers back to this country. Soldiers without number can be found to testify to the usefulness of the Y.M.C.A. work, and the comfort and service it renders at all times and in all the fighting zones has endeared it in the hearts of the soldiers as an indispensable organization. It follows the men up to the front line trenches when the nearest military base for supplies may be as far as ten miles away. Hot coffee, sandwiches, warmth and comfort—these mean a lot to the worn and discouraged soldier who is "doing his bit" up in the front line. In addition there are the letter writing facilities, and the encouragement afforded to send letters back to the folks at home. To the men in the advanced trenches also, the Y.M.C.A. is often able to give some assistance in the cashing of pay cheques which otherwise would be useless. At the rest billets, hospitals, and training camps, entertainment is another feature of the work emphasized a great deal, to keep the spirits of the soldiers up to the best fighting pitch. Concerts of all kinds, moving picture shows, and such like do a great deal to relieve the inevitable monotony of camp life. In innumerable ways the military Y.M.C.A. is at the

New Farmers' Body Successfully Launched

R. H. Helmer Given Place on First Directorate.

Between one hundred and fifty and two hundred delegates from all parts of the province attended the organization meeting of the United Farmers of British Columbia, which took place last Friday and Saturday in Victoria. Reports from different local unions organized up to the present time show that the new body will begin its existence with a membership of close upon one thousand. It is expected that the United Farmers will seek incorporation under the provincial statutes, and thus get some definite status for the commencement of its work. Although one of the stated aims of the Union is to secure representation of the farming interests in the provincial legislature, it is planned to keep party politics completely outside of its operations. The United Farmers of B.C. is organized first and last for the betterment of conditions which now obtain in the agricultural districts of this province. It aims to secure greater co-operation in the matter of distributing farm produce, and generally to consolidate the farming interests under one organization, so that problems of common interest may be attacked and worked out to advantage.

There was a splendid spirit apparent at the meetings last week, indicating that the farmers are in earnest in regard to the movement. Provision is being made in the constitution for a very definite place for women in the work of the new body.

The officers elected for the year were G. C. Palmer, Duncan, president; J. W. Berry, Langley, R. A. Copeland, Kelowna and P. H. Moore, Saanich, vice-presidents; G. Sangster, Victoria, secretary; and of the five directors elected the Okanagan gets two, Messrs R. H. Helmer, Summerland and L. Dilworth, Kelowna.

Vernon Union Building Larger

Arrangements have been completed by the officials of the Vernon Fruit Union for the construction of a large new fruit warehouse with basement and cold storage equipment. The building will be 300 feet long and 75 feet wide. It is being built on property leased from the C.P.R. for the purpose. The existing warehouse facilities of the organization have not been sufficient to meet their business requirements, nor were the lots they hold large enough for the new building, and hence a site has been leased from the railway company.

Municipal authorities have been greatly surprised by the rapidity with which the water in the reservoir has lowered since a quantity of water was turned into it less than a month ago. They were then confident that the supply would last for at least two months. The conclusion has now been reached that many householders are allowing water to run to prevent freezing, being made wary by their experience during the very cold weather of last winter. Unless the heavy drain canoes there is apt to be a serious shortage before the water from the creek is again available.

Improved Facilities For Icing Fruit Cars

C.P.R. to Build Big Ice House at Okanagan Landing.

Among the items that go to make up the appropriation of $1,250,000 which the C.P.R. is setting aside for expenditure on its British Columbia division this year are two immense ice houses, one to be erected at Okanagan Landing and the other at Revelstoke. It has been found that the present buildings at these points, though of 2,000 tons capacity, are inadequate to meet the growing demands made upon them in the summer months. The new ice houses will therefore have a capacity of 3,500 tons each.

In view of the condition of the fruit market and the increasing demands that are being made upon British Columbia for its products in this connection, work on these houses will be hurried along as quickly as possible. When completed these structures will be the largest of the kind in British Columbia. The view that the C.P.R. takes of this question is that orchards planted a few years ago are now coming into bearing and that provision must be made to handle the additional business resulting therefrom. This can be greatly facilitated by the erection of these houses to take care of this increase.

Fruit growers and shippers of the Valley will appreciate this effort being made to better the refrigerator car service.

WEDDING

ROWLEY-CLAY.

A quiet wedding took place on Thursday evening, February 22nd, which united in matrimony two young people exceedingly well-known in Summerland. They were Miss Isabel Myrtle Clay and Mr Esine Norton Rowley. The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs T. E. Clay of Vancouver, one time resident here, and a grand-daughter of Hon. Henry Pineo of Halifax, N.S., and the groom is the son of the late N. E. and Mrs Rowley of Glasby Hall, Cumberland, England. He is also a grandson of Sir Norton Richards, one of the first lieutenant-governors of this province.

The ceremony took place at 7.30 p.m., at the home of Mr and Mrs C. E. Pineo, uncle and aunt of the bride. Rev. H. G. Estabrook was the officiating minister, and but few guests were present. The bride wore a plum-colored suit with a maize-colored hat, and silver lynx furs thrown over her shoulders.

After partaking of a buffet supper and receiving the congratulations of the company, Mr and Mrs Rowley boarded the west-bound train for "Altamont Ranch," where they will spend a few days before proceeding on to Vancouver to remain for the rest of the winter.

Both Mr and Mrs Rowley have made many friends during their residence in this place, and a hearty welcome will await them on their return to Summerland. In the meantime their friends here unite in extending congratulations and good wishes, and hope for the time these can be delivered in person.

Contributions to the Hospital during January included: From Mrs Isaac Blair, butter; Mrs H. A. Solly, eggs, cream; Mrs W. C. W. Feabory, magazines, 2 large trays, 6 individual tray napkin rings; Mr J. Downton, sausages; Mrs W. J. Robinson, brown bread; Mrs T. R. Harwood, cream, special cherries; Mrs H. Davlos, window screens.

Peachland Growers Ask Help of Government

Claim Immediate Steps Must be Taken to Ensure This Year's Water Supply.

Peachland fruit growers have lately petitioned the government at Victoria to take immediate notice of the irrigation question as it is affecting them, and to provide the means whereby steps can be taken to ensure an ample supply of water this season. It is hoped that the government will be induced to see things through for this year, undertaking the repairs and other work that is necessary, at the same time formulating some policy in regard to the future that will set the matter at rest for all time.

Negotiations between the Municipality and the Peachland Townsite Company, owners of the irrigation system, are at a standstill. It appears, the people considering that the price set on the plant by the owners is out of their reach entirely. In the meantime, the flume system, having been in use for about fourteen years, is not in very good shape for the coming season, and there is also some work at the headwaters which is considered essential for a good supply of water this season.

The Townsite Company, it is said, does not find itself able to undertake this, and hence the assistance of the government is being sought. What the growers are said to favor is the adoption of some plan whereby the government becomes the owner of the reservoirs and main ditches, while the Municipality controls the ultimate distribution to the individual orchards. More will probably be heard of this matter before long, it being one of considerable urgency.

Must Study Market Requirements Intelligently

Ready Sale For Apples of Right Variety in South Africa.

W. J. Egan, Canadian Trade Commissioner in South Africa, in a late report to the Department of Trade and Commerce, speaks in high praise of the quality of apples from British Columbia received in that market this year. He says:

"For the first time in three years, British Columbia made a real effort to meet the conditions required in South African markets. Last year 90 per cent. of the shipments were Grimes Golden, a color not wanted here. This year only about five per cent of this apple and Cox Orange was shipped. The balance of the shipment was exactly what the market requires in color, size and packing, and if shipped early enough such apples as Jonathans, Van Dor Pool, Spitzenburg, Black Twig, McIntosh Red, Canada Red and Ontario will find a ready sale in October and November. The apples from British Columbia this year were clean and without a blemish. Shippers are requested to remember this year's shipments as a standard of what is wanted in South Africa, medium size, hardy and good red color for the bigger share of the trade and a small number of apples such as Cox Orange."

Exchanges to hand at the editorial desk indicate that mild epidemics of measles are quite rife in the Similkameen and Boundary districts.

NO SCARCITY OF MONEY.

"A VERITABLE RIVER of money!" This is the way a British cabinet minister has described the prodigious success of the latest imperial war loan. The issue was nominally set by the Chancellor of the Exchequer at 250,000,000 pounds sterling, or $1,250,000,000. This is in itself a fabulous sum, but how the people got under this "win the war loan" is seen from the fact that popular subscriptions received by the banks and post offices totalled $3,500,000,000. Inspiring news indeed for Wilhelm the self-styled almighty! Will he see in this the shattering of his cherished dreams for strafing England?

A remarkable feature of the response to the new loan is that the total mentioned above represents entirely new money. What conversions from previous issues have been allowed have not yet been given out, nor have any subscriptions been taken from the big banking firms or financial houses.

Not long ago, when a few paltry millions of dollars were shipped from England to the United States to maintain the proper exchange rate at New York, American financiers were confident that the world's gold supply was going to pass to their side of the Atlantic. But two and a half years of war has not emptied the coffers of Britain, nor will another two and a half.

NOT A HEAVY PROGRAM.

IT IS NOT ANTICIPATED that there will be a very heavy list of measures brought down in the first session of the new Legislature that opens next week at Victoria. A small program of properly prepared and thoroughly digested legislation will be the policy of the government, it is announced, with full opportunity for consideration and debate in the House and the best criticism of every member invited. Rushing legislation through without mature consideration, the detrimental results of which are only too plainly evident, will be studiously avoided.

Land Act amendments will probably be the chief item of government business before the House from a legislative standpoint. The government is anxious to be in a position to carry out its land policies as early as possible, and to that end the necessary changes will be made in the land laws this session.

Financial matters will also occupy some time and the sense of the House will be taken on means to meet the situation. The civil service bill will be brought in and passed, municipal law amendments will be made, and some other acts which call for immediate attention will have amending bills introduced for passage.

Preparations of estimates for the financial year commencing on April 1st have been going on for some time. These will be cut down to

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Notice is hereby given that the Regular Annual General Meeting of the Shareholders of the Summerland Fruit Union will be held in the Parish Hall, West Summerland, on Thursday, March 1st, at the hour of 10 a.m., for the purpose of the following:

To receive the annual Financial Statements and Balance Sheet, and Directors' Report.

To elect officers for the ensuing year.

To consider such other matters as may be brought before the meeting.

Dated at Summerland this 13th day of February, 1917.

ALEX. L. MORELAND, Secretary.

Sub-section 5, Section 110 "Agricultural Act," 1015: "No member shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting who has not sold his main crop through the local association for the past year, or who has not signed a contract to do so during the ensuing year, unless he has received the consent of the local Board of Directors, in writing, to dispose of his main crop otherwise."

LUNCH will be served at noon free to all members.

Mr F. T. JACKSON, manager of the Okanagan United Growers, will be in attendance.

On Wednesday night, Feb. 28th, Mr Jackson and Mr G. J. C. Coulter White will address the members at Naramata.

the very lowest figure consistent with the efficient administration of the public service of the province, and the expenditure will be brought as closely down to the estimated revenue as can be done. Whether a balance can be struck or not it is too early to say, but the premier and his colleagues will co-operate with this in view.

AT A RECENT Dominion wide educational congress held in Ottawa and attended by representatives from all the provinces, one matter given particular attention was the standardization of teachers' certificates. Within a year it is now believed that this will be in operation in the four western provinces. The great advantage of such a plan would be for instance, to permit teachers holding certificates in Manitoba to take up a position immediately in British Columbia, or vice versa, without having as at present to go through the procedure the existing disconnected systems entail.

Kelowna Has Real Oriental Problem

Chinese Now Producing Big Part of Vegetable Output.

The city of Kelowna has fallen down very grievously on its pledges to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, and at the present time is contributing only a small fraction of the amount being paid to dependents of soldiers in the Orchard City. To remedy this situation those connected with the fund have decided to make serious effort to interest the business men of the place, and to this end are employing a paid secretary, who will give his time entirely to the work. By this means it is hoped to bring Kelowna up to the level of contribution month by month that its size warrants.

Mr T. Morrison, a Kelowna farmer who was at the Coast lately attending the conventions gave out a statement that will go along way to explaining the situation which has arisen there. He says that approximately one-third of the male population of Kelowna have enlisted for active service, placing the number of soldiers who have gone between a thousand and twelve hundred. On the other hand, he says, there are six or seven hundred Orientals working in the district, and working on the half share basis as most of them are, about one half of the total vegetable revenue that goes to Kelowna is paid directly into the hands of the Orientals. These Chinese land workers do not contribute a cent of taxes to the community, nor do they have anything to give to such philanthropies as the Patriotic Fund.

The Local Paper.

(The Farmers' Advocate.)

Subscribe to your local paper and pay in advance. Write or phone in your news about your new barn, your new tractor or team, who is visiting you, who got married or died, or have a new baby. This is what it exists for, to give the local news and to discuss local matters. These local items are as important to you as world news, the discussions of local questions are as vital to your life as any world-wide issues. The local paper does not exist to tell you what the world is doing, or to discuss matters touching the affairs of nations; its place is to keep you in touch with your neighborhood. Nothing else can take its place; you can choose between big dailies, but you must take the local paper if you would know the local news. It is the fashion to poke fun at the local paper and its paltry items of seemingly small importance, but without it none of these things would be recorded, and it is of more importance for you to know what is being done close to your home than what is happening a thousand miles away. If you must drop some paper this year, do not drop your local paper or your own farm paper. The up-to-date farmer needs his farm paper as much as the grocery or hardware dealer needs the commercial publication that is devoted to his interests. Read as widely as you wish if you can afford it, but take your local paper and your farm publication always.

POSITIVE SIGNS.

Down in New Mexico even public signs come direct to the point. They do not waste any time in wondering how the reader will feel about it.

In a garage at Albuquerque is posted:

"Don't smoke around the tank! If your life isn't worth anything gasoline is!"

And on the wall of a barber's shop at Taos is prominently displayed:

"If you can't raise fifteen cents, raise whiskers!"

PRICES 100 YEARS AGO.

Following are a few prices of commodities and luxuries prevailing in the East nearly a century ago. The prices given are taken from an old counter book of the year 1825-1826:

Eggs, 4 cents a dozen.
Butter, 8 cents a pound.
Sugar, 10 cents a pound.
Pepper, 50 cents a pound.
Coffee, 31 cents a pound.
Tea, $1.50 a pound.
Bacon, 6½ cents a pound.
Whisky, 25 cents a gallon.
Wheat, 40 cents a bushel.
Oats, 15 cents a bushel.
Corn, 25 cents a bushel.
Muslin, 29 cents and 27½ cents a yard.
Calico, 50 cents and 36 cents a yard.
Flowered wall paper, 4½ cents a yard.
Salt, 2½ cents a pound.

The one who runs away from duty is quite liable to return, only to find the opportunity gone.

A pioneer in journalism and advertising once said: "Patronize the advertiser. He shows his faith in his goods; he sells by the cheapest route—the printer's ink way; he proves that he expects to sell upon merit and not pull; for he is building for the future, and not alone for the immediate order."

Suppose the Review Ceased Publication

JUST suppose this community were left without a local newspaper! What would become of its local pride? Summerland would be just a name on a railway time table or a post office guide. Men and women might die, or marry, or go away, or suffer accidents, or entertain friends, and you would hear about it all only through gossip. Municipal affairs and other news of interest to this particular part of the wide, wide world would have no publicity. Our local merchants would have no cheap and quick way of telling you what they provide for you. Our churches and schools and other institutions would have no medium of news or appeal. And this whole community would slip back and be the sport of jokesmiths.

Would city papers take the place of the Review?

You know they would not.

THE point of it all is: Like all other newspapers we are feeling the pinch of higher prices for paper and other material. But, unlike hundreds of other weekly papers, we do not propose yet to raise the price, but simply ask that each and every subscriber pay up his or her subscription and keep it paid up. Nothing unfair about that is there? Now to "kick" at this and drop your subscription, would be to say, in effect, "This community doesn't need a local weekly. If I can do without the Review, all others can."

We do not believe for one moment that the good people of Summerland, Peachland, Naramata and neighborhoods will "kick" or drop their subscription to the Review. We expect all our subscribers to recognize the new conditions of living and publishing that have made this policy a necessity. Do you realize that your weekly newspaper at the rate of 4 cents a week—little more than the price of a postage stamp—costs an insignificant sum when you reckon up the service it renders you and this whole community.

Be loyal to and proud of the community you live in. Keep it on the map.

Mating Our Birds.

Now that the time has arrived for mating our birds for the coming breeding season, it is well to glance at one or two established facts in this connection. It has been said that a multiplicity of advice begets confusion, and if it can be said that there is danger of too much advice on any one subject, it is Poultry Culture. But still there are one or two points of importance which are often overlooked.

When selecting our breeding stock not infrequently we rely entirely on the good layers, ignoring the parentage of the cock bird, yet it has been proved conclusively that improvement is not to be achieved through the hens. Experiments on this were carried on at the Maine Agricultural Experimental Station, over a period of 10 years, 1898-1908. The hens were divided into two sections, the good layers and the poor layers, each section being headed by sons of the best laying hens, and after 10 years of breeding the pullets produced in the section of good hens were no better layers than those produced in the section of poor layers. Dr Pearl, who was in charge of these experiments, which covered thirteen generations and several thousand fowls, summarises his conclusions, briefly, as follows:

1. The record of fecundity of a hen taken by and of itself alone gives no definite reliable indication from which the probable egg production of her daughters may be predicted.
  2. High fecundity may be inherited by daughters from their sire independent of the dam.
  3. High fecundity is not inherited by daughters from their dam.
- Why then do we continue to rely on our females to produce our laying stock? Simply because it is easier to select a bird that lays well than it is to keep track of cockerels bred from that bird. Yet obviously this is what we must do, as high fecundity can be transmitted to the succeeding generation only through the male. Therefore, unless you have a cock bird which you know came from a good laying hen, select your best layers for this year's breeding and make sure of a good bird for next year.

There is no danger in in-breeding, or much less danger than there is of constantly introducing fresh blood into your flock, knowing nothing of the new bird's ancestors. And in conclusion I would say follow the "rule of good practice" given by John H. Robinson, one of the greatest authorities on Poultry Culture in America, "Mate the best (for the object in view) individuals available, disregarding relationship."

Chemistry and Agriculture.

In the annual report of the Division of Chemistry, Dominion Experimental Farms, for the year ending March 31st, 1916, prepared by Frank T. Shutt, M.A., D.Sc., Dominion Chemist, and recently issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, considerable attention is devoted to the subject of "Sugar Beets for Factory Purposes."

In this report, Professor Shutt states that this "investigation carried on now a number of years, has conclusively shown that beets of excellent quality for sugar extraction can be grown in many widely distant portions of the Dominion." Among the factors to be considered in sugar beet growing are the quality of the beet, labor, with its availability and cost. Considerable space is also given to results of investigations carried on to ascertain the relative value of field roots. The results of these point out clearly that care must be exercised in selecting the variety or varieties of field roots grown. In the analysis of some 36 varieties of mangles the richest root contained 13 per cent of dry matter and 5.66 sugar, while the poorest contained 7.32 dry matter and 2.86 per cent sugar. These great and important differences represent real differences in feeding values. The same is true with turnips, analysis showing that between the richest and poorest of some 33 varieties there existed a difference of 5.58 per cent dry matter, which assuming that the feeding value is measured by the percentage of dry matter, means that 2,000 lbs. of the best variety is equivalent to 3,680 lbs. of the poorest. Further investigations were carried on in regard to fodder and feeding stuffs, and a large number of fertilizing materials were analyzed during the year. The report also contains the result of investigational work with fertilizer conducted by the supervisor, B. Leslie Emslie, on the Experimental Stations at Fredicton, N.B., and Kentville, N.S. The report, which contains much valuable information, can be obtained on application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

THE HOME GARDEN.

Canada must produce more food-stuffs. We have much vacant land about our homes, which, if cultivated, would greatly add to the food supply. Very little work is necessary, and the returns compensate for the effort. By helping to provide the food for your own family you are releasing that much additional food for the general good, and reducing the cost of living.

MAKE PLANS NOW.

A well-considered plan for the farm work, utilizing fully the time available, will vastly increase production. With the shortage of labor on our farms, the most must be made of that remaining. Proper planning of the work now will save time.

Approximately 4,000 tons of onions were shipped out of Kelowna last year, the Prairies, United States points and the Yukon being the principal markets.

1917 be a bumper year for the club and all good luck be with them is the wish of "Peachy."

Douglas Male—I received your most welcome parcel of the 8th, and both myself and my comrades who were in the same dugout desire to thank you and the workers of the Home Comfort Club for the articles, which were very thoughtfully selected, and which were used to the very best advantage out here.

The weather has been anything but the best, so that we appreciated the articles, especially the Oxo and chocolate, really more than we might have done had I received it during fine weather. We have received no papers out here lately, and both myself and some of the boys from the neighboring towns would be glad to have one occasionally.

Let me wish you and the society of willing workers for which you stand the very best of success. If you could only see the boys when they receive parcels from home, you would be amply repaid for the time and trouble you spend.

C. W. Haddrell—I am taking the liberty to write you to thank the ladies of Summerland, called the Home Comfort Club, that have been so good to the boys of Summerland, including myself. You have sent me two very welcome parcels, and I can tell you they were much appreciated indeed, so I must thank you heartily for both. I hope that all the Home Comfort Club are enjoying good health, and that the past season has been a prosperous one for Summerland, and prices have been good. Mrs Haddrell and baby are fine, and enjoying old England immensely. I am pretty good just now, but I find the strain is very telling. I would be glad to quit right now, but I suppose I must keep going a while longer for this horrid war cannot last much longer now. I saw the "tanks" in action on Sept. 15th, and they were interesting enough too. I cannot personally give my opinion of their effectiveness, but the names the Fritzes give them is enough to explain this.

I have seen lots of Summerland boys of late Keith Elliott and Beattie, and Mr Rush about a month ago. I was sorry to see that Mr Rush had been killed. I saw at the same time, Warren Bateman, Percy Holder, James Gordon, and Harry Pitman. Among the new men that have come to fill up the vacancies are Bert Nelson, Ernie Smith, Roddie Monro and Mr Marson. I have seen them all and they were all well.

I shall have to ask you to kindly excuse this paper being discolored, but it has got wet by being carried around so much. When we happen to be a long way from a canteen or a Y.M.C.A. but we have sometimes to make the best of a very bad job. We are now located about four miles from either of these, and my pack is not up here yet, but I have this opportunity to write, so there's a peach.

From Our Soldiers

Keith Elliott—Your welcome parcel of Nov. 9th arrived in good condition last night, and believe me it was all one could desire, or to use the words of my fellow "soldats" "Peachy, you're a lucky rat."

Their reason for saying this is easily explained. They had all received parcels, but they lacked eats, and consisted chiefly of crumb killing dope, etc. But yours had excellent eats as well as death to crumbs.

Well life glides along as per usual; we have the same old jobs and routine. At present I am up the line doing my petit bit for king and country on the end of a stretcher.

I suppose accidents will continue to happen as long as the world keeps going around on its axis. That's just what I said when I grabbed the mitt of old Bill Angove the other day. At the time I was holding down a job in the Sergeant's Mess as chief cook and bottle washer, and in the carrying out of my duties had to go outside to clean the mush from the inside of a dixie. Just as I was in the act of doing this someone struck me on the back. I looked up and could hardly believe my eyes when behold there was Wm. Angove in all his glory, smiling down on me.

Well, you know what followed, a multitude of questions and answers, chiefly questions. Finally I found out Bill was going into our unit, so of course I tried to get him into our section, and for once in my life I carried out my wishes. So today Bill is with me after a separation of one year. Therefore my reason for saying accidents do happen even in the 20th century.

We are having it beastly wet, rains nearly every day, but not a nice dry rain like we have in the Sunny Okanagan. By the way, these remarks make me think of a term I have used in this epistle that perhaps you won't understand. "Peachy," is the term I mean, that's what I am called by my fellow ginks. Just because I praised the Okanagan and its wonderful fruit, and it was no easy job I had, for a number of our boys hail from Ontario, and of course had much to say for their own native land; but I never let up, so finally they gave in, but not without a sneer, and the sneer was "Peachy."

Do you know that the Home Comfort Club not only send us parcels but they keep us in touch with all the boys from home, just through the letters in the Summerland Review from those who have received parcels, if they put their full address it would be a far greater aid in keeping track of those who enlist from home.

Once more I must thank you and all the members of the Home Comfort Club for their parcel. May

TELLS OF SPLENDID WORK AMONG THE SOLDIERS.

service of the soldiers. As not the least of these should also be mentioned the religious and moral influence which it makes felt through the camps. The value of this aspect cannot readily be stated, but that it is something very real and tangible is the willing testimony of many a soldier.

Such is an epitome of the facts which Mr Estabrook laid before the congregation last Sunday. In concluding his address he made an appeal for support to the funds of the movement, and opportunity to contribute was accorded those present. The response was very encouraging, about $28 in cash and $43 in monthly pledges being forthcoming from the two services.

Mr Estabrook gave frequent extracts from letters written by Summerland men testifying to the value of the Y.M.C.A. work as they have come in contact with it. A couple of extracts from letters written to the Home Comfort Club recently will bear further witness along this line.

Private E. A. Agur, writing from France, says:

"At present we are billeted in a small French village, and are very lucky in having a Chaplain Services Hut where one can go and write letters or buy most anything in the grocery line, and also a Y.M.C.A. hut. The latter boasts a first-class moving picture machine, and there is a four-reel show nearly every night. There is no admission, and the place is simply packed every night. Some evenings they have concerts instead of the pictures, and they are often very good indeed."

And from Crowborough Camp, England, Lance-Corporal H. Thornthwaite writes this:

"The evenings are very long now, too, seeing we finish work at 4 p.m., and if it were not for the splendid Y.M.C.A. which we have here we would find the evenings very tedious. As it is the Y.M.C.A. puts on a concert or an entertainment of some kind each evening, and in this way we are able to find amusement, and thus make the evenings seem much shorter."

Own Two Pairs of Shoes

A man who buys one pair of shoes and wears them until they are worn out, isn't treating his purse or his feet right.

Buying two pairs of shoes and alternating their wear, rests your feet and keeps them in good trim.

And those two pairs of shoes will last longer than two pairs bought on any other system. --- Shoes need rest just as feet do.

But whether you want one pair of shoes, or two, doesn't affect the HIGH QUALITY and GOOD VALUE of those you buy here.
