Rev. N. McNaughton Speaks To Large Crowds.

With two services on Sunday last Rev. N. McNaughton completed his pastorate of the Summerland Baptist Church, which he has held since the summer of 1914. The sermons he delivered on these occasions were splendid examples of the vigorous preaching with which he has been impressing his hearers of late. In the morning his subject was somewhat retrospective, "What Religion Has Done," and in the evening he outlined his conception of "The Religion of the Future." At both services large congregations were present, the evening service drawing an exceptional crowd. The regular fortnightly Methodist evening service had been withdrawn, and Rev. A. Henderson of that church was on the platform with Mr. McNaughton, taking a part in the service.

Special music contributed much to the memorable nature of this service. Miss Evelyn Brown sang as a solo, "The Queen of Angels," with an effect she has rarely bettered, and there were two choir numbers, a full anthem, "Lift Up Ye Gates," and a women's trio, "Savior, Breathe an Evening Blessing."

Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton went out by the Tuesday evening train on their way to New Westminster, where Mr. McNaughton enters upon the pastorate of the larger church there. They carry with them the best wishes of scores of friends they have made during their stay in Summerland. With many of these there is a conviction that Mr. McNaughton is going to make a name for himself as one of the most effective pulpit speakers in the province, and to this end the progress of his work in his new field will be watched with great interest.

Patriotic Fund Shows Increase

The local payments to the Patriotic Fund were better in December than in November. This is explained by the Hon. Treasurer as being due to the desire of many to make up arrears so as to have a clean account by the end of the year. Below is a statement of December subscriptions:

Monthly subscriptions paid in month of December	$272.50
Bank interest on month's account	.40
Total	$272.90
Post Cards for notification of arrears	.60
Secretary's postages	2.50
Stationery	.50
Telegram	.76
Bank draft remitted Hon. Treasurer at Victoria	268.54
Total	272.90

Australia has cows enough to give each man, woman and child in the island continent three each; while Argentina can do even better—there are five cattle to each inhabitant in the big South American Republic.

Among new construction work which the B.C. Telephone Company has recently carried out is the building of a twenty-eight mile line from Midway to Molson. This is part of the proposed line from Midway to Penticton, which will link up the Kootenay and Boundary with this Valley, through the lines of the Okanagan Company.

The Correct Time?

Ask Central. She'll Tell You Local Clocks may be Corrected Three Times a Week.

There will be no further excuse for your being late for church. You cannot longer blame a slow clock for making you late for the Institute or other public gathering. Get the correct time from Central. Tardiness has become such a habit here that it has become more than a joke. Ask four different men from as many different sections of the municipality what time it is and every one will give you a different time. All this should now end. The Summerland Telephone Co., through the courtesy of the C.P.R., can now furnish you with the correct time flashed right from the McGill observatory at Mount Royal three times a week. This, says the manager, will be within five seconds of Greenwich time corrected to this longitude. Another good service is thus being rendered its subscribers and the general public by our local telephone company.

North and South Show Districts

Both South Okanagan and North Okanagan are to have district poultry shows next year if the new division of territory made at the annual meeting of the B.C. Poultry Association, the parent organization under which all local associations operate, is adhered to. A year ago this parent association decided to dispense with the local shows, which we believe was a mistake, and to assist only district shows. All the Okanagan Valley was included in one district. Now, however, as stated above, this has been divided. Penticton will be included with the South Okanagan district. The suggestion came from a North Okanagan delegate, who, it is said, stated he was instructed to ask for this division of territory.

The Okanagan district show was held at Penticton recently, and was very largely a local show. There were only two exhibitors from Summerland; H. Bristow, who took some prizes on his White Wyandottes, and Roy Phinney, who found no competitors in the Spangled Hamburg class.

The case of Messrs Grant, Smith & Co., versus the Kettle Valley Railway Company, will come up at Victoria the end of this month, unless the parties come to terms in the meantime. The action is a very important one, involving the disposition of upwards of three-quarters of a million dollars. The litigation arose over the construction of some of the railway company's lines.

Now Putting Furnace In Central School.

Welcome News For Worried Mothers.

Here is good news for many a parent. News that will enable many mothers to quickly decide whether or not to send their children to school on Monday. It is this: The furnace is being installed in the Central School this week. The furnace and piping arrived early in the week and the contractor, Mr. Wallace, is now busy on the job.

There has been nothing in connection with public affairs over which there has been as much "kicking" as of the taking out of radiators and even stove, there was one in the hall for severe weather. There certainly has been much suffering by teachers and pupils, and the reduced and irregular attendance has greatly interfered with the routine of school work.

Who is at fault? is the question being asked. The contractor blames the Trustees, stating that if they had not held him up there would have been no delay in procuring the furnace. Some of the Board at least blame the contractor, saying he should never have removed the water system till the other was in. The contract with Mr. Wallace seems to have been a loose one. Whoever is responsible for the discomforts and interruption in school work, we now have the heating system, and with it the contractors guarantee that it will give satisfaction.

Favor Saturday For Half-Holiday

Resolution Adopted at Well Attended Meeting of Vancouver Traders and Clerks.

"That this meeting of merchants and clerks is heartily in favor of Saturday for the half holiday, and further we believe that a mid-week holiday will be detrimental to business."

The foregoing resolution was passed unanimously at a meeting consisting of between three and four hundred retail clerks and merchants, held in the Labor Temple last night, and which was addressed by a number of speakers including Mr. H. H. Stevens, M.P., who expressed the opinion that the time was not ripe for a re-submission of the half holiday question to a referendum, on the ground that the Saturday half holiday had not been given a thorough trial. The resolution was moved by Mr. Bishop, of David Spencer, Limited, and seconded by Mr. Morrow, of Morrow & Denn, grocers of Kitsilano, both speakers stating that a trial of the Saturday afternoon holiday had proven a complete success. It was also stated by the chairman, Mr. C. D. Bruce, president of the Retail Employees' Association, that a petition signed by two hundred of the retail business firms of the city, "including some of the largest stores," had been received by the organization in support of Saturday afternoon.

When the resolution was put there were no dissenting voices, and no speeches were delivered against it, and in commenting upon the unanimous feeling which prevailed, the chairman intimated that the retail clerks would conduct a campaign.

United Congregations Farewell Pastor.

Successful Social Event In Parkdale Church.

The Baptist Church at West Summerland was the scene of an animated and large crowd from the Presbyterian and Baptist congregations meeting on Monday evening in a social way and also to bid farewell to Rev. N. and Mrs. McNaughton on their leaving for the Coast.

Mr. Coulter White acted as the chairman in his usual efficient manner, and the local talent of both congregations was well represented. The following program was rendered.

Chorus—Summerland Young Ladies Solo—Miss M. Lister Solo—Mr J. O. Smith Piano Selections—

Mr. Harlan Davison Solo—Mrs T. B. Young Solo—Mrs C. W. Lees

Recitation—Mr J. G. Robertson Address—Mr R. H. English on behalf of St Andrew's Church Address—Mr A. H. Steven on behalf of St Andrew's Church Address—Mr W. C. Kelley on behalf of Baptist Churches Address—Rev A. Henderson on behalf of Methodist Church Address in Reply—

Rev. N. McNaughton The addresses all dealt with the pleasant relations that had existed between the two congregations in their new plan of worshipping together under the common shepherdship of Mr. McNaughton and their work in the community, were held.

All the speakers voiced their deep regrets at the loss of Mr. McNaughton as a citizen and preacher, and their strong belief that his success in his new field would be of a high order.

Mr. McNaughton made a short reply, reviewing his work and the field offered by Summerland. He expressed the regrets of Mrs. McNaughton and himself at leaving their many friends here, and the enjoyment he had had in ministering to the two congregations, and paid high compliments to the co-operation he had met with from them. He hoped the experiment would be but a beginning of larger things for the community in religious circles. He thanked the friends present for their kindly words of appreciation and assured them all they would be welcome visitors any time they happened to be at Westminster. Refreshments were then served by the ladies of both congregations, and an hour spent in social intercourse and good-byes.

Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton and family left on Tuesday evening for New Westminster where he begins his new pastorate next Sunday. The good wishes of Summerland citizens follow them to their new home.

Good Flax Country

That the soil of the Coast, Boundary, and Okanagan sections of British Columbia is better adapted to the growing of flax for the manufacture of linen than that of any other part of Canada is the opinion expressed by Mr. W. Oliver Barbour, son of Mr. D. H. Barbour, the great Belfast thread manufacturer, in a recent interview with the Nelson News. It is believed that if the samples of British Columbia flax and soil, together with some of the soil, which Mr. Barbour has forwarded to Belfast,

Dead Or Alive?

Fate of Pte. Robert L. Callan Still Uncertain. Again Officially Reported Missing.

Several official reports have been published already of the fate of one of our soldiers, Pte. Callan of the 54th Battalion. The report mentioned in these columns a few months ago, told of his having fallen in battle. The following is copied from a paper published in his former Scottish home town, and in which place his parents still reside:

(Peeblesshire Advertiser.)

It will be remembered that in the end of October a letter was received by Mrs. Wm. Callan, Eschels Cottages, from the Canadian Record Office, in which it is stated that her son, Private R. L. Callan, had been reported killed in action. A further letter has now been received from the Canadian Record Office stating that an error had been made, and that the original report, "Missing," was correct. The letter is as follows: Dear Madam,—With reference to my letter dated the 25th ulto., regarding No. 443651 Private R. L. Callan, 54th Battalion, Canadians, reported "Previously reported missing, now reported killed in action, September 17th, 1916," I beg to inform you that a report has this day been received from the Base to the effect that the latter report "Killed in Action," was an error, and that the original report "Missing," is correct, and I shall be obliged if you will kindly cancel my official notification, dated 25th October, 1916. I regret any anxiety which may have been caused through the erroneous report. Any further information received in the office regarding this soldier will be at once communicated to you.—Yours truly, J. A. Macdonald, Lieut.

Steuart To Bulld Larger.

A Steuart & Son must have more packing and warehouse room. The growing business which they are doing has made this necessary. It is possible that they may double the size of their present packing house, but more probable that they will build close to the railway.

This energetic local shipping company has done during the past year fully double the shipping business done the year before, according to the junior partner. Sixty to seventy per cent. of the increase was local, while the balance was made up by their Grand Forks business.

Mr. M. Steuart, accompanied by Mrs. Steuart, will go down to the Coast this week-end for a two weeks' visit, and not till he returns will the question of where the new building will be put be settled.

A year has made some changes in the British Government, but none in the purpose and confidence of the British people at home and abroad. Every change that has come to pass is in favor of more aggressive, determined and successful warfare against German perfidy, ambition and tyranny. Britain was not ready for war when Germany began her attack, but she is ready now.—News-Advertiser.

provo satisfactory, an effort will be made to induce the farmers throughout the province to produce flax for use in the Belfast mills. Mr. Barbour, who has made his home for several years in Toronto, is on his way East, and expects to leave shortly for Belfast.

Hotel Now Under New Management.

Mr. & Mrs. J. Downton Take Over Local Hostelry.

Determined to Please and Win Back Good Name of Hotel.

The endorsement of the Board of Trade given the application of Mr. and Mrs. J. Downton for a lease of Hotel Summerland seemingly had speedy results. On Saturday last they were advised that their application had been accepted, and were asked to take charge on Monday. Since then the new lessees have been busy preparing the house for guests, and are doing everything possible to win back for the local hostelry the good reputation it long enjoyed. Already ample provision has been made to ensure warmth and comfort in the coolest weather, and the sleeping rooms will be made cheery and comfortable. Mrs. Downton stated to the Review this morning that they can now assure the travelling public that they will enjoy warmth and comfort while they are guests at Hotel Summerland.

One has only to talk with the guests who have been at the hotel this week to learn that the new hostess has set a high standard for the dining-room service, where the guests will further experience the hospitality of the new hostess. There meals will be served during the usual hotel hours, while any belated traveller or lady shopper may be served with lunch at any time from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The new management hopes to re-open the billiard room at an early date.

We bespeak for mine host and hostess the fullest support of the people of Summerland in the endeavor to give us a first-class hotel service.

More Talk Of Perjury.

Suggestions of perjury charges and counter charges are still being circulated. What constitutes a perjury, anyway? This is what some are asking. To be guilty of perjury, according to the statement of a well-known citizen, the one giving the evidence must knowingly make a false statement which will materially affect the case. This, says one of the municipal witnesses in the McAlpine case, could not be charged against any of those who testified that the new piece of wood pipe laid beside the McAlpine house was six inches instead of four. During the hearing of the case there was evidence given that was in direct contradiction the one side with the other. In one instance, it is said, that those who repaired, or attempted to repair by wedging, a joint of the old pipe after it was uncovered swore that they used five or six wedges from one-eighth to one-quarter of an inch thick, while on the other hand Mr. McAlpine is said to have stated in his evidence that those men used sixteen wedges three-quarters to one inch wide and from a quarter to a half inch thick to tighten a leaky joint in a four inch pipe. This, some of those who were accused with perjury say, might make the basis of a case for perjury if it is desired to create further interest in the fight by introducing the sensational.

He is a wise man who makes the mistake of guessing a woman's age too young.

HOW IS IT DONE?

RETAIL BUSINESS in the smaller communities in the West is not supposed to be any too brisk, if expressions from many merchants of this class are to be taken at face value. How does this opinion coincide with the flourishing statement from one of the biggest mail order houses in the country, made in a circular letter that has probably gone into thousands of homes in the four western provinces? This concern has opened a branch in the west to cater specially to the trade it has built up. Since taking this step, the circular letter says, "WE HAVE PRACTICALLY DOUBLED OUR WESTERN BUSINESS, THE ACTUAL INCREASE BEING 85.9 per cent. ON THE BUSINESS DONE IN THE SAME WEEKS LAST FALL." We put the statement in capitals because it ought to be taken note of.

There is no reason to believe that Summerland has stood aloof in the matter of building up this mail order concern's business. The probabilities are that it has helped to do its share, doubtful distinction though it may be.

How has this concern managed to build up its business to such an extent in these times that are supposed to be "bad"? Did it wait and say in effect "the people of the west know we are here, and so they will come to us anyway?" Scarcely. They flooded the country with their voluminous illustrated printed matter, sending a message into every home practically. They made buying easy by setting forth their values—and the result is a doubled business.

There is an amount of money going out of this place every month for this mode of buying that would stagger most people—they would want to know where it all comes from. We do not profess to know where it comes from, but we do know that its going makes Summerland that much poorer, helping to finance some other town that may not need it as much as our own.

A COMMITTEE was appointed in England back in the fall to inquire exhaustively into the workings of the daylight saving scheme put into operation there last summer. A forecast of the report which they will issue shortly makes it plain that opinion overwhelmingly favors making the plan general in 1917. There is a clear consensus of opinion that the advantages obtained far outweighed disadvantages encountered.

ARE OUR PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS becoming more Americanized as time goes on? In the elections last fall in the republic south of the forty-ninth parallel, there was one state that placed more than thirty distinct election issues before the individual voters at the one time. It took each voter many minutes to record his way of thinking on all these questions, even with the aid of a machine—mechanical, not political—to aid him in making his record. But Summerland is not so far behind in this respect. On the thirteenth of January, municipal election day, if all the vacancies on the Council and School Board were to be contested, each properly qualified elector would have to record a vote for reeve, a vote for councillor, two votes for trustees, two votes on the electric light by-laws, and two votes on the referendums that are to be submitted. It is quite evident that voting that day will be an experience out of the ordinary.

paigned in favor of Saturday afternoon at the coming civic elections in case the question were put to referendum vote.

Mr Bruce, in calling the gathering to order, said that the meeting had been forced upon the retail clerks by "a small coterie of marchants who want to abolish the Saturday afternoon holiday." Speaking of the attitude of the News-Advertiser on the question, he charged that newspaper with "openly inciting the people to break the law because it happened to be profitable to do so."

Mr Trotter, who dealt at considerable length with interviews which he said had appeared in the News-Advertiser favoring Wednesday afternoon for the holiday, said that the question had been recently settled by the electors in favor of Saturday and should remain settled.—Vancouver Province.

At an evening party the hostess had coaxed a protesting guest to sing. After the song she went up to him smiling, "Oh, Mr Jenkins," she said, "you must never tell me again you cannot sing—I know now!"—Argonaut.

Doings of Peachland

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr A. Pope has returned from Summerland where he has been spending the holidays with his daughter, Mrs R. H. Helmer.

Auditor W. J. Crehan, accompanied by Mrs Crehan, came to town to audit the Municipal and Fruit Growers' books.

Mr A. Town and Master Gordon Town left for Vancouver on Thursday via the Kettle Valley route.

Mrs and the Misses Jean and Maud Kincaid of Kelowna are visiting Mr and Mrs Ferguson.

Mr and Miss Dines are visiting Mr and Mrs John Gummow.

Mr Dave Kirkby and Mr Millar came from Penticton on Monday morning's boat to spend New Year here.

Mr and Mrs. Fulton, who have been visiting Mr and Mrs Hohensie, left town this morning.

Snow commenced falling on Christmas Eve and has been falling on and off ever since. It gives people plenty of exercise, for no sooner have they cleared their walks than they have to commence all over again.

Mrs McGraw left on Monday morning for Windsor, where she will join her husband.

Mr Theodore Scott left for Vernon on Monday morning.

The Christmas carols rendered by the choir of the Union Church in the Methodist Church were much enjoyed by all who heard them, though, owing to severe colds, at least half of the choir were absent and the original program had to be changed. Only a few of the pieces which had been prepared were given, but what it lacked in quantity it made up in quality. There was a very fair attendance considering the weather, which was anything but favorable, for the wind was blowing a gale and scattering the snow in all directions. The carols sounded very sweet and were well rendered. The following carols were sung: "Sweeter than Songs of Summer;" "What Child is This?" "When the Crimson Sun has Set."

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board which should have been held on Monday night was postponed for a week on account of Mr A. Town's absence at the Coast.

The Misses May and Kathleen Henderson of Summerland spent New Year at Kelowna, and stopped off for a short visit here before returning to their home.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute will be held in the Baptist Church schoolroom next Friday afternoon. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance, as the election of officers for the coming year will take place.

Mrs Chalmers, the government lecturer for the Women's Institutes, will lecture in the Baptist schoolroom on Friday and Saturday of next week. We are looking forward with pleasure to her visit, and expect to profit by her lectures, which are so practical. We know by the good report from other Institutes that she has visited that the lectures will be well worth attending, and hope that there will be a large number out on both days. Come prepared to pay your dues for the coming year, for only fully paid up members are entitled to benefit by the lectures.

The lively little paper, Telephone Talk, published in Vancouver, has a good paragraph about conversation, no doubt having in mind the many conversations which the telephone makes possible. This is what it says: "Conversation is one of the important things in your life because it is the vital point of contact with other minds. By it you mould others, and are moulded by them. If you listen to conversation that expresses hope and courage and a love of life it tends to make you feel that way too. But if you listen to conversation that throws cold water on your good intentions, or holds up the bad instead of the good, or makes you feel that life is a very commonplace, humdrum affair, it tends to draw you down into its own mental vortex, and takes away the natural joy of living. When we talk we should express cheer, courage, faith. We should radiate optimism not disseminate pessimism. After all, things in this world are largely according as we look at them. If we look through a dark glass the aspect is gloomy, but through a clear glass it is not half bad. If we do not feel like giving cheerful conversation or if we cannot see the world other than through a grey mist, then at such times we should say little. When we talk we should only give of our best."

Corporation of the District of Summerland.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

Summerland, B.C., 1st January, 1917.

To the Reeve and Councillors,

The Corporation of the District of Summerland.

Gentlemen:

We have audited the books and examined the Records of the District of Summerland, for the year ending 31st December, 1916, and prepared therefrom the following Statements which form part of the Report.

- (A) Statement of Receipts and Disbursements,
- (B) Statement of Assets and Liabilities,
- (C) Statement of Public Utilities,
- (D) Statement of Municipal School Board.

All the Receipts have been duly accounted for, and payments authorized by the proper officials.

The valuation of the School Sites, Buildings and Furniture, $22,400.00, is the value placed on them by the School Board.

You had at December 31st, 1916, liquid assets composed of Arrears of Taxes, Rates and Sundry Accounts, the sum of $35,880.78 and your current liabilities including the Bank Loan and amount due Sinking Funds amount to 26,434.68 giving a surplus of liquid assets over current Liabilities of 9,446.10 as against a similar surplus at 31st Dec. 1915 of 8,318.17 or a gain during the year 1916 of 1,127.93 which shows that the retrenchment of expenditure shown in our report of last year is still being maintained.

The Sinking Fund Investments at December 31st, 1916, are $13,695.57 less than the requirements at that date for the retirement of the various debentures at maturity, although the outstanding taxes are ample to take care of this deficiency. We strongly recommend that, as far as possible, all collections of overdue Taxes and Rates be set aside to the Sinking Fund Investments until that fund equals the Sinking Fund requirements.

In our opinion, the statements submitted herewith are true and correct statements as disclosed by the books and records of the District as well as from information received from the officials, and correctly present a true state of the financial affairs of the district.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) CREHAN, MARTIN & CO.,
Chartered Accountants and Municipal Auditors.

Our Naramata Section.

A White Christmas for the Soldiers.

A "White Christmas" designed and carried to a successful issue on Wednesday evening last will probably go down in history. It would not do to say it was the only celebration of the kind ever held in Naramata for there was a first "White" Christmas a year ago, but it was felt that there will be no occasion for a repetition in 1917.

Prior to the formal program of songs, music and recitations, the boys and girls marched to the front of the church were, suspended from the pulpit hung a capacious white canvas mail bag, into which the gifts, each wrapped in delicate white paper, were deposited. It truly was about as suggestive as anything could well be of the unselfish devotion of the community to the wants and wishes of the boys in khaki. Most of the gifts consisted of carefully wrapped tin cans of cake and confectionery which are always welcome in the trenches or rest billets.

In the course of the literary and musical program, Roy Hunt, Stanley Allen, Gordon and Lester Williams, Cathy Hancock, Alice Myers, Inar Jacobson, Eric Rayner, and Dorothy Partridge contributed recitations; Harold Allen and Earl Hughes, provided readings, while Marguerite Mitchell, Alice Myers, Enid Raynor and Vera Partridge provided a number of pleasing selections on the piano, while by no means the least appreciated musical numbers were furnished from a first class gramophone.

The duties of chairman were conducted by T. H. Boothe.

Mrs R. H. King does not announce her age, but nevertheless she has not forgotten the fun of having a birthday party, as witnessed by the family gathering on Wednesday given in recognition of the 10th of the 10th milestone. The occasion was held at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs James Young.

Military News Items

Mr Gerald Roe will probably leave on Monday to connect with the motor boat transport service.

Lieut. S. B. Cash was home for the New Year's holiday. He is now stationed at the Mara Camp.

Private Arthur Stiff after several months training at Kamloops has been put on duty at Mara Camp.

Mr Norman Mitchell has enlisted with a section of artillery and left on Tuesday to enter upon his new duties.

Lieut. J. A. Noyes and Sergts. H. Mitchell and H. M. Steers, all of the 231st Seaforth Highlanders, have again rejoined their colors at Hastings Park, Vancouver.

Private D. O. Hughes, R.M.R., with headquarters at Kamloops, did not stay the entire week at his home as he had to report for duty on the 28th. He accordingly went out on Wednesday morning's boat.

It is reported that two more of our citizens and fruit ranchers, Capt. F. J. Languedoc and Mr E. H. Hancock have offered their services for motor transport service in response to the call for five hundred men for this line of service.

A Message For The New Year

"Nevertheless whereunto we have already attained, let us mind the same rule" words from Paul's letter to the Philippians written on the verge of a martyr's death, Rev R. M. Thompson used on Sunday last as a basis for a New Year's message. A plea for the higher standards of living. Too many of the so-called nominal Christians were merely pandering to lower standards of life by refraining or refusing to come out boldly on the side of Christ.

Current Events - OF - Town & District

Farmers' Institute to-morrow afternoon.

The New Year's Evening annual Aquatic Ball in Penticton drew a number of patrons from Naramata. Amongst a few noticed in attendance were Miss Vera Mitchell, Miss Edith Roe, Mr Billy Robinson, Corporal H. Mitchell, Sergeant H. Steers and Lieut. J. A. Noyes.

Mr John Frost, after a prolonged absence of several months returned to town in time for the Christmas celebrations. He is reported to have hinted that his stay in the district will not be as protracted as upon the occasion of his visit a year ago, and will not guarantee any free-auto trips by the direct route to Summerland. Mr O. Atkins, Dr Andrew, Jack Lawler, et al., take notice.

Mrs E. Wells entertained on Friday evening last a merry group of the schoolmates of Master Arnold Stiff, who has been making his home with the family for some little time. The fore part of the evening was enjoyably passed in deciphering the names of familiar flowers whose names were cleverly disguised by a new system of orthography. In fact each word was a puzzle in itself. However, most of the "hard nuts" were successfully cracked by Stanley Stiff, who accordingly was declared the winner. At this juncture the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs Watson, served an enjoyable luncheon. After this interesting ceremony the merry group were asked to search for peanuts, cleverly hidden in various unguessable parts of the room. This game sure proved a "winner" and in the end, Marguerite Salting was pronounced the cleverest detective at the party and was rewarded with a prize. Needless to relate the hour for departure came all too soon and each and all left about 11 o'clock, wishing that Arnold's birthday celebrations would come often.

Mr Gerald Williams, after a pleasant two weeks' visit at the Coast, with his time divided between Victoria and Vancouver, returned by the K.V.R. on Wednesday last.

At a largely attended gathering of the Women's Institute, the 1917 directorate was chosen. The personnel of the governing body will consist of these well-known ladies: Mesdames Davies, Cook, McKay and Miss Gordon, with Mrs Boothe and Mrs Rounds as auditors.

A dance at Hotel Naramata on Wednesday evening of last week provided a pleasant outing — and innocent diversion for those who were privileged to attend. The music was furnished by the Walters orchestra. The proceeds were handed over to the local Red Cross branch.

Owing to the number of additional enrolment for military service since the date of posting up the honor roll in the church it is deemed advisable to prepare a new roll which will contain the full list now numbering over thirty — a number which while in itself insignificant represents close to sixty per cent of the military strength of our narrow confines, and speaks eloquently for the loyalty of our citizens.

Mrs Haymes of Wainwright, Saskatchewan, was a visitor for a few days during the Christmas holiday at the home of Mrs D. McKay.

Mail Order Buyers Are Given Ten Commandments

The Inland Grocer offers the following ten commandments for the guidance of catalogue house patrons:

1. You shall sell your farm products for cash whenever you can, but not to us. We do not buy from you.

2. You shall believe our statements and buy all you need from us, because we want to be good to you, although we are not personally acquainted with you.

3. You shall send the money in advance to give us a chance to get the goods from the factory with your money; meanwhile you will have to wait patiently a few weeks, as that is our business method.

4. You shall apply to your nearest city to aid you in building good roads so you can conveniently get the goods from the depot, for we don't build country roads.

5. You shall buy church bells and church fixtures from us and forward the money in advance, for this is our business method, and you shall collect from the business men in your vicinity as much money as you can for the benefit of your churches, as it is against our rules to donate for building country churches.

6. You shall buy your tools from us and be your own mechanic in order to drive out the mechanics from your vicinity, for we wish it so.

7. You shall induce your neighbor to buy everything from us, as we have room for more money—the less money there is in your community, the sooner we can put your local merchant out of business and charge you any price we please.

8. You shall look often at the beautiful pictures in our catalogue so your wishes will increase, and so you will send in a big order, although you are not in immediate need of the goods; otherwise you might have some money left to buy necessary goods from your local merchant.

9. You shall have the merchants who repair the goods you buy from us book the bills so you can send the money for his labor to us for new goods, otherwise he will not notice our influence.

10. You shall, in case of sickness or need, apply to your local dealer for credit, as we do not know you or care to.

THE COST OF NEWSPAPERS.

The cost of producing newspapers has increased to such an extent since the great war broke out that publishers everywhere are faced with the most serious problems they have ever had to consider. Scarcely a day passes that the telegraphic dispatches do not carry stories of newspapers raising advertising and subscription rates to meet the new conditions, or curtailing expenditures, amalgamating where they can and going out of business where they cannot. These are parlous times for the gentle art of journalism.—Vancouver Province.

Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.—Psalm xxx. 5.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Mrs Frank Marshall went out on the K.V.R. train on Monday night to join her husband at Victoria.

Mrs John Thompson of Kelowna was a holiday visitor here at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs Watson, senr.

That Coun. Campbell is willing to accept nomination for re-election if such be the wish of the ratepayers, was learned from him this week.

Mrs Ira Law of Kelowna, formerly with Mr Law, who is now with the Forestry Battalion, a resident of Summerland, spent last week-end here with Mrs Elsey and Mrs Bowering.

The annual congregational business meeting of St Stephen's Church will be held at the Parish Hall on Wednesday, January 10th, at 8 p.m. All members are asked to be present.

Mrs A. McLachlan and Miss Hippisley were coastward bound passengers on Tuesday night's train. Mrs McLachlan will be away for about ten days, while Miss Hippisley will probably remain for several weeks.

The telephone service at the south end of town was restored last week-end after a good deal of strenuous repair work. The old saw that one never appreciates a thing till they have to do without it was abundantly proved in this instance by those who had perforce to do without their phones for two weeks or so.

There was some disappointment that the choir in the Lakeside Church last Sunday night did not also include those of Miss Harrison's choir. It has been explained that the choir is mostly of female voices and that the new fall of light snow made the walking unfit for the members and no provision had been made for such an emergency.

Mr and Mrs E. R. Butler entertained a few friends at cards on Wednesday evening, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of their wedding. This milestone in married life being known as the wooden anniversary, friends remembered the event accordingly, presenting Mr and Mrs Butler with little gifts of that homely but exceedingly useful material.

The proceeds of the Christmas entertainment given by the scholars of the Methodist Sunday School in Empire Hall last Friday evening amounted to about $45. Considering the fact that the night was not altogether an inviting one this result is to be considered fairly satisfactory, though the hall was by no means as full as the quality of the event deserved. A great deal of time had been put into the preparation of the main item on the program, which was an operetta, "Red Riding Hood's Rescue." This was quite an ambitious attempt for the young performers who took part, but they carried out their little acting, snatches of songs and choruses very well. A number of recitations, songs, duet and other items constituted the opening part of the entertainment, and these were without exception creditably given. To Mr and Mrs Sharp and the other adults who did so much of the hard work in directing the program, every credit should also be given. The proceeds remaining after expenses have been deducted were to be divided between the Serbian Relief Fund and the Sunday School funds. There was a suggestion made that the entertainment be repeated in the afternoon so that more children would be able to attend.

Summerland Agricultural Association

The ANNUAL MEETING of the above Association will be held on Tuesday Afternoon Next, In Campbell's Hall,

Immediately following the Meeting of The Farmers' Institute.

Election of Officers, and other business. Those who contributed $2.00 or more to the last Fair are registered as members.

R. C. LIPSETT, Pres.
W. M. WRIGHT, Sec.

Mrs David Lister has accepted a school at Seymour Arm, and leaving this week-end for that place.

Mr L. A. Fenner of Camrose, Alberta, is spending a vacation here at Hillcrest Place, the home of his father.

Mrs G. W. McLaren is leaving for Vernon immediately where she will make a visit of some weeks with her sister, Mrs R. B. Bell.

Mr John J. Blewitt went out by last Saturday morning's boat on his way back to the Prairies, where he has a good position with an elevator company.

Roy Darkis was operated on again last Friday when portions of two more ribs were removed to permit of access to the diseased portion of his lung. Latest reports were that he was doing nicely.

Mr Scott Darkis plans on leaving here in a few days for a visit to his aged father in Bristol, N.B. He will likely be away for about two months. It is understood that Mr J. B. Donald will carry on Mr Darkis' business for him.

The West Summerland Women's Institute will meet in St Stephen's Hall on Friday, 12th Jan., at three o'clock sharp. A large attendance is requested. Reports of the past year's work done will be received and officers for 1917 will be elected. Mrs Jas. Mitchell, Secy. 23

Miss Edna McLeod of the Municipal Office expects to leave at the end of January for Chilliwack where she will reside with her parents, Rev. A. W. and Mrs McLeod. She will be greatly missed in the young people's circles of the community, particularly in musical organizations.

Mr F. H. Heeps is leaving shortly for Vancouver where he expects that business will keep him for a year or more. That he has not given up the idea of stocking his Garnett Valley property with sheep next spring was his assurance to the Review. Just what will be done depends on his ability to get the right man to carry on the work.

Pte. Finlay Munro, who is now at his Meadow Valley home on a few days leave from the artillery camp at the Coast in which he has been training, has a crew of men busy baling hay for shipment to the Coast. He expects to ship not less than five carloads. It is understood that he is getting $25 a ton there for it, the highest price going.

It was expected that by this time word would have come from some of his comrades concerning the fate of Pte. Percy Holder. One of the local soldiers from whom word was expected was Pte. James Gordon. The fact that no one here has heard from the latter since Pte. Holder was reported missing has led his friends to believe that Pte. James Gordon, Scotland, who has also been reported missing is the soldier of that name who went from here.

Mrs W. P. Racey left on last Sunday morning's train on her way to rejoin her husband in Rossland, after a stay here of several weeks at the home of her mother, Mrs D. H. Watson.

Mr and Mrs J. M. Atkinson of Milk River, Alberta, and Mrs Atkinson's brother and sister, Mr and Miss Barrows from Ernfold, Sask., are spending the winter in Summerland, and are now living in Mr J. Tait's cottage.

Mr J. C. Brown has had built on the site of his former home, which was destroyed by fire last summer, another bungalow after the same pattern. H. Tomlin has been doing the work, and this week the shingles have been laid.

Intensive Mixed Farming.

Following is a short review of the way in which the seven acre farm of Mr and Mrs R. W. Chalmers, of Thrums, B.C., is worked on what has proved to be a profitable basis:

"We keep our cows on the soiling system; that is, grow the crop and cut and feed it to them. By this means we have no waste and are able to keep six animals where before we could only feed two, and we have increased our production by enriching the land with the fertilizer the cows give.

"We get at least two crops per acre, and sometimes as much as three, as in the orchard seeded to clover, alfalfa or peas. As the climate is fairly moist, no heat or drought affects the cows, and having all the food they can eat, they keep up their yield.

"One point in favor of dairying, we find, is that the daily supply of cream, milk or butter gives us a cash income not once a year as with fruit or grain, but weekly or monthly, as the case may be.

"Our rotation of crops is as follows: Fall rye and vetch, seeded in the fall, can be cut and fed in the spring earlier than grass is available, and the land is fed through these plants. We follow this with peas and oats, or barley; cut and feed this strip, manure it and plough; seed once more to millet or buckwheat, or if the season is too far advanced, Essex rape.

"A small silo is a great help in economical milk production, and we have found from practical experience that peas and oats make excellent silage.

"The skim milk we use for making pork and fattening broilers. In raising pullets to maturity quickly and with small cost, we find it has no equal.

"We keep a large flock of White Leghorn and White Wyandottes, and have worked up a large trade in eggs for breeding and day old chicks. We grow pedigreed males from the heaviest layers for increasing the egg production of our flock. By trap-nesting our layers we are able to cull out the non-producer, the small egg layer, the late maturer and the non-winter layer.

"We find that young geese are almost all clear profit, as at Christmas time they are in great demand, and will bring $3.50 or more each in our Kootenay district. Every goose matured should bring a profit in eggs at 50 cents per egg of from $15 to $20, with feeding expenses almost nil.

"In our fruit orchard we find that the same land will give more and better fruit when also made to feed the cows, the manure in turn from the cows helping the trees. Chickens in the orchard also help the trees. We, of course, raise our own vegetables, producing with very few exceptions everything we eat, and still have a good deal to sell to the non-producer. Our flower garden is not the least of our pleasures."—Mrs R. W. Chalmers, Thrums, B.C., in the Agricultural Journal.

Meadow Valley.

The Meadow Valley School has been completed. The finishing touches were made to it a few days ago. Mr Anstey, Inspector of Schools, when inspecting the building some days ago, expressed himself as well pleased with it. The building is 16 x 28, with porch attached, and is up to date in every respect. Application has been made to the Department of Education for a grant to pay the debt against the building. The Trustees wish to thank all those who contributed money and helped with the work on the building. The citizens of the valley use the school building for a social centre and for church and Sunday school gatherings, and Mr Baker, the highly esteemed teacher, plans to establish a library there.

A very successful Christmas tree came off on Saturday evening the 28th Dec. at the schoolhouse. There were present over forty people, and Santa Claus had a present for everyone there. Great credit was due Mrs Dennis for the decorations and her work to make the Christmas Tree a success; also to Mrs Baker's splendid work with the children in physical drill. We have found in Mr and Mrs Baker and Mrs York valuable citizens, and we hope they will permanently stay in the valley.

At a meeting of the Meadow Valley Stock Association on the 1st of January it was decided to apply for another pure bred short-horn bull of dairy strain in exchange for the present one. All present agreed that the stock from the association's bull was good, and is greatly improving the stock in the valley. The association decided to pound all scrub stock running in the valley.

The following officers were elected:

E. R. Faulder, President
F. Munro, Vice-President
Sec. Treas., R. M. H. Turner
Executive, F. A. Miller, W. Nairne, B. Colk, S. R. Darke.

Finlay Munro has a crew of men baling hay which he is shipping to the Coast by the K.V.R. He has already shipped one car. Mr Munro finds a good demand in Vancouver for Okanagan hay. He says Okanagan hay takes the highest price on the market there.

WHY NOT A COMMUNITY SOCIAL?

Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir:

As a citizen interested in the progress and life of Summerland I wish to make a suggestion at the New Year. Our community has a good deal of local talent in musical and other lines and we have a dearth of social life in a public way. Many of us are worried and depressed with the problems of life which the times force upon us, but these are not helped by community dullness or brooding.

Anyone who has seen "Fragments from France" can see that even our soldier boys who face death in all forms are glad of a joke or something that provokes a smile. Laughter is the sunshine of the soul and banishes dejection and the blues. Why can we not get together and ask our talented friends to help our community along this line? Can we not practise the get-together spirit in this way?

Some years ago we had in Regina a Penny Reading Association. Everybody gave their help free, and the only expenses were light, fuel, and incidentals. The city fathers gave the City Hall at actual cost. We have no public building of this nature here, but can get other accommodation. In Regina a charge of 10 cents admission was made, and this covered expenses, and the surplus went to the poor of the city. Of course in Summerland we have no poor people, but there are many worthy institutions which would be glad of a lift.

However, my idea is not to make any money for any object, but just to develop the talent our own citizens possess and to increase and entertain our social side of life for both young and old. Could we not have a social entertainment every fortnight during the winter? Let it alternate between Summerland and West Summerland. If any of your readers are willing to give their help I hope they will make their attitude known, and then we can start on organization.

Yours truly,
W. C. KELLEY.

Reeve & Council In by Acclamation

H. Bristow Elected, but may Resign.

Three Nominees for School Board.

Nomination day passed off very quietly, with no rivalry for municipal honors. The Reeve, Mr Isaac Blair, and Councillors R. Johnston, E. R. Simpson, and J. R. Campbell were all returned by acclamation, there being no other nominations for their positions. For Ward I, Mr H. Bristow was nominated to succeed Coun. Stark, retiring.

It now seems very unlikely that Mr Bristow will take his seat at the Council Board as it has since come to his knowledge that his holding a contract with the municipal school board disqualifies him for the position of councillor. He has stated that he would not sacrifice his contract with the school board unless he could make up for it in some other way, and it now looks as though he would go to the meeting of the council on Monday to tender his resignation. A rather unexpected situation developed in the nominations for the two vacancies on the school board. It would seem that at least two of the three who accepted nomination did so with the belief that there were only two candidates available. Mrs Kelley, the retiring trustee was re-nominated, and the other two were Mrs F. W. Andrew and Mr R. E. White. The supporters of all three are insisting that each stay with the game and it is now up to the electors to decide who shall act.

Bantam Battalion Going to France

Members of the 143rd Battalion at Victoria, the B.C. Bantams as the unit is called, are all agog with excitement over the prospect of leaving immediately for overseas service. They will be sent not to England, it is said, but straight to France, where they will be used as a pioneer unit, the whole battalion to be put on the work of railway building in northern France.

George Dale of this place, who is the latest Summerland recruit to this unit, has received instructions by wire to be ready to join the regiment as it passes through Sleamons next week, probably on Thursday.

May Transfer To Summerland

The present plan of Mr P. S. Roe of the Okanagan Lake Boat Company is to transfer the headquarters of the company from Naramata to Summerland. Apart from the fact that there is naturally more business originating on this side of the lake, and more to be developed, the question of anchorage and shelter for the boats also enters very largely into the question. At various times the company's boats have suffered damage from storms, and Naramata being especially exposed to the north Mr Roe is occasioned considerable worry when high winds are coming down the lake. Summerland on the contrary, offers the best of shelter from both north and south storms. As well as bringing the offices of the company across the lake to Summerland, Mr Roe expects to make his home here.

Penny postage was adopted in Great Britain in 1840.

THIRD MEMORIAL PLACED.

Brass Tablet in Memory of Pte. Ross Rae in St. Andrew's Church.

Dulcet et Decorum est pro Patria Mori
(It is sweet and magnificent to die for one's country)
In Loving Memory of our Comrade Pte. Ross Rea
Killed in Action in France, August, 1916.

The above is the inscription on the third memorial tablet which has now been placed in St Andrew's Church, in memory of another soldier from the congregation, Ross Rea, who has given up all, even his life, in the war. Under his name on the Church Honor Roll have also been placed the words, "Killed in Action, August, 1916."

The memorial tablet is similar in design to those already placed to the memories of George McLeod and Jack Steven. It was subscribed for mainly by his fellow employees of the Summerland Fruit Union, with whom the deceased soldier worked for some time, prior to his enlistment. It makes a simple yet striking tribute to the friendships which he enjoyed in the place.

Substantial additions have also been made to the church honor roll in the shape of the following five names, bringing the total now recorded to thirty-five. The latest to be added are:

Pte. Rev. D. Lister, Canadian Army Medical Corps; Pte. W. J. Tullett, Foresters Battalion; Pte. F. Munro, 68th Canadian Artillery; Pte. J. Kean, 68th Canadian Artillery; Pte. E. Logie, 143rd Bantam Battalion.

Hold Busy Session.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Farmers' Institute was held in the Campbell Hall on Tuesday afternoon of this week, with a fairly good attendance of members present.

Mr J. L. Hilborn, president took the chair at 8 p.m., and opened the meeting with the president's report, giving an outline of past seasons work, and at the same time he strongly urged on all the members of the Institute and fruit growers generally to go more into intensive growing of crops, not to plant large acreage, more than can be well cared for, but to grow more per acre, there being lots of room here for this improvement.

Then followed the secretary's report, giving a statement of income and expenditure during the year. The first matter brought up for discussion was the annual fee. It was proposed to raise the fee to 75 cents, the extra 25 cents would go towards paying the subscription fee for the Agricultural Journal issued by the Department.

The election of directors for 1917 was put through with some dispatch on motion that all of the directors at present holding office be re-elected, which was carried unanimsously.

Mr Young, the delegate appointed to the Kolowna Conference, then submitted his report.

Three resolutions passed at that conference were discussed.

Packing Schools for boys and girls came in for considerable discussion, it being learned that the Education Department are putting on classes as well as the Horticultural Department. It was resolved that the Horticultural plan was the better of the two. This is for the conducting of packing classes after school hours.

It was decided also that the Institute get one of the Department's Travelling Libraries, and the secretary was instructed accordingly.

After a lengthy session the meeting adjourned.

Ratepayers Called Together In Annual Business Meeting

Enlightened on Municipal Finances by Able Report.

Public Works Situation Defined By Head of Works Committee.

Excellent Spirit Shown. Outlook Encouraging and Officials Optimistic.

From the ratepayers' point of view the public meeting of last Saturday was a very satisfactory one, in fact it has been described as the most satisfactory in the history of the municipality.

Reeve Blair presided and with him on the platform were Couns. Johnston, Simpson and Campbell. An innovation in the program was the clear and concise review by Coun. Simpson of the financial statement which had already been published. Beside the report of Coun. Simpson as chairman of the Finance Committee, Chairman Johnston of the Public Works Committee also gave a report of work done and that should be carried out next year.

In his report Coun. Simpson pointed out that the items in the statement under "receipts" did not mean so much cash. Much of these receipts of taxes and rates represented additions to the already too extensive real estate holdings. Of the 1915 and prior taxes still unpaid at the beginning of 1916, 40.3 per cent had been paid during the year. Of irrigation rates similarly in arrears, 50.6 per cent had been paid. Of general water rates, 40 per cent; domestic water 98.3 per cent; and electric light, 45 per cent; a total average collection of all rates in arrears of 50 per cent. Of the 1916 taxes 45 per cent had been collected, all of this latter in cash, of course. The receipts of 1916 rates was somewhat better being:

Irrigation 56.52 per cent.
General water, 54.73 per cent.
Domestic water 91.85 per cent.
Electric Light 90.81 per cent, or an average of all 1916 rates of 67.68 per cent.

With only 45 per cent of 1916 taxes paid and 67.4 per cent of the rates, Coun. Simpson said it did not look like an easy or encouraging job to finance the municipality. However, he felt sure that we had reached low water mark and that the future will see a steady betterment. He urged that the people pay promptly their rates and taxes. Nothing will reflect more quickly to the benefit of the growers than the putting of the Council in a position to put and maintain the public utilities in the best possible condition.

After dealing at some length with school finances and their relation to the taxes, the speaker took up the subject of roads, a question which he said must be seriously considered by the next Council. Like our other problems it was one largely of finance. Over $2,000 had been spent on roads during the past year. Another sum of $400 might properly have been spent on roads instead of having been diverted to other than municipal general for which it was collected.

Figures were given showing how the debenture tax had been apportioned. The subject of depreciation, discussed at some length a year ago, was referred to by the speaker, who said that after looking into the matter he could not agree with the Council that the annual levy for the sinking fund and the amount spent on maintenance would act in lieu of a depreciation charge. The maintenance expenditure was two per cent. of the value of the water system, inadequate to meet depreciation. There is no place for guess work here. With ditches, flumes and pipes, all of varying age and durability it will be necessary to have a carefully prepared valuation on every part of the system, and only after this could an amount to be written off be intelligently arrived at. The condition of the sinking fund account Coun. Simpson described as the most unsatisfactory of all. Other items on the budget had to be met and in some cases were exceeded, while the reserve for the sinking fund account had not been made in full. He showed however that the one item of arrears as represented in the real estate holdings was sufficient to cover this item. He recommended that the incoming Council give this fund careful attention.

Several ratepayers complimented Mr Simpson on his report. Mr C. N. Higgin declared the sinking fund shortage illegal and only excusable by the fact that the taxes had not been paid. He strongly objected to the additions made to the item of fixed assets.

Mr C. P. Nelson questioned Coun. Simpson as to the correctness of the auditor's report and was told that it did not wholly meet with the approval of Coun. Simpson. Mr Nelson had held the same opinion for several years but Mr Simpson was the first man who had agreed with him. He pronounced the statement of assets as being inflated. He also learned from Coun. Simpson that there was some doubt with him as to the correctness of apportioning of some of the items. Mr Nelson stated that he had learned that Peachland gave its electric light plant credit for $1,270 for street lighting while here the plant got credit for only $250. He did not think that there was a great difference in the quantity of lights used and he believed the Peachland figure was nearer the right amount. He also questioned the fairness of placing all the debenture tax to the credit of the water systems instead of giving the electric light plant, which was charged with its proportion of the sinking fund and interest, credit for its share of it.

In the report of Coun. Johnston, Chairman of the Public Works Committee, he pointed out that 10,510 feet of fluming and 1,700 feet of cement lining of ditches had been

Annual Meeting of B.C. Fruit Growers' Association.

The local members of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association held their annual meeting on Tuesday, R. V. Agur being district director called the meeting to order, and asked that those members present elect a director for 1917. Mr Agur was again chosen. For delegate to conference to be held 13th and 14th February, Mr G. J. C. White was chosen with Mr J. L. Hilborn as alternative.

OFF FOR TRANSPORT SERVICE.

Two Local Men Leave to Take Up Inland Water Navigation.

Two men from Summerland have answered the call for volunteers with some marine motor experience to join the new inland water transportation service now being mobilized under the direction of the Imperial Government. They are Messrs Charles Wharton and Lee Hatfield.

The inland water service is designed to improve the transport facilities, particularly in the Mesopotamian war zone, where the Tigris River is the only dependable line of communication, and also in Egypt, where the Nile is to be used more for transport service than hitherto. The wonderful canal system of Northern France and south Belgium may also be utilized more than in the past, some are inclined to think.

Both Messrs Wharton and Hatfield have had much experience on this lake that would qualify them for the work they have enlisted in to, and there is little doubt that they will find it congenial. Mr Wharton has had, too, several years' experience in river transport work on the Saskatchewan River. Mr Wharton has made several attempts to enlist into the regular expeditionary force, but has been turned down on account of his eyesight. This physical defect has not interfered with his capabilities as a crack shot when out hunting, but the authorities are not allowed to take such things into consideration when examining recruits. He has lived here for many years, but somewhat unobtrusive in nature, has not moved much except in his circle of immediate friends.

Lee Hatfield has come to be well-known through being associated with his father, B. L. Hatfield, in his motor boat and automobile business. The knowledge and experience he has gained in this way should certainly prove invaluable to him now.

On Sunday evening last after the service in the Lakeside Church about thirty friends from the united congregations, including the choir, gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs T. P. Thornber in a farewell social to the two who were leaving. Mr Wharton has been active and willing in his support of the choir, and his strong tenor is going to be missed. Music was enjoyed by the gathering, including some solos by Miss Evelyn Brown and Mr T. G. Beavis. Mr G. Thornber addressed a few words of Godspeed to Mr Wharton as a member of the choir, and to Lee Hatfield as a friend whom everyone had come to know. Rev. A. Henderson also spoke along the same line, voicing the regret which everyone felt in losing them from the town, but expressing pride for the reason they were going. "Auld Lang Syne," "God Save the King" and "God Save Our Splendid Men" were sung by the company before they dispersed. Refreshments were served before the addresses were given and Mr Wharton made a brief acknowledgment of the kind sentiments expressed.

Both men expected to get away on Tuesday morning for Montreal after waiting for several days for transportation for Mr Hatfield, and it did not come, Mr Wharton went out this morning, to be followed by Mr Hatfield as soon as his transportation arrives.

Many friends in Summerland will follow with keen interest the fortunes of Messrs Wharton and Hatfield wherever they may go with the new transport service.

One smile of fortune is better than three of her laughs.

Killed in Action No Longer Missing

Sad News Received Concerning Percy Holder.

Pte. James Gordon Falls With Him.

Still another Summerland soldier has passed into the great beyond in the fighting on the western front. This time it is Private Percy Holder, who has found a hero's grave "somewhere in France."

The fateful telegram conveying this intelligence was received by Mrs Holder, his mother, last Sunday. He was listed as missing some time back and now any uncertainty concerning his fate has been cleared up by the worst of news, that he has met death. He enlisted from this place into the 54th Battalion, and was serving in the bombing section of that regiment at the time of his death.

Private Holder was perhaps thirty-five years of age, and unmarried. While engaged here in fruit farming generally, he was well-known as a successful poultry raiser, and was in fact prominently identified with the local poultry association. Besides his mother here there are three sisters remaining, and a younger brother who has also offered himself for military service but was rejected.

Private Holder's death will be keenly regretted by his many staunch friends, and frequent expressions of sympathy are heard for the bereaved family.

Under the fateful classification in the published casualty lists, "Previously reported missing, now killed in action, November 18," another Summerland soldier's name has appeared. This is Private James Gordon, who was in the bombing squad of the 54th Battalion, along with Privates Percy Holder and Robert Callan, and now he has shared the fate of the former, while uncertainty is still shrouding the fate of the latter.

James Gordon had no relatives here, and his home is in Scotland, which country was given as the address of his next-of-kin. He came to Summerland in 1911, and practically from that time right up till his enlistment he was in the employ of Reeve Blair. He was a splendid physical specimen of manhood, between thirty-five and forty years of age. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society, by whose members the death of another comrade is sincerely mourned.

There is a remarkable coincidence in the fact that Messrs Holder and Gordon lived practically within a stone's throw of each other, served in the same unit, and died for the Empire together.

Will Angove Seeing Service In Trenches.

After a long stay in England at a hospital in Clivedon, Will Angove was shifted over to France just before Christmas, and is now doing stretcher bearer duty at the front line trenches. It was not long before he ran across some other Summerland men, an experience which must have been very gratifying to all concerned. In a recent letter home Pte. Angove says:

COMMUNITY SOCIALS.

THE LETTER published in last week's issue suggesting that some kind of a community social gathering would fill a recognized need in the life of our town is one that many people seemingly endorse, though ideas differ as the best way of carrying it out. The suggestion cropped up last summer when it was proposed to hold a community outing on the Kettle Valley line. Others incline to the belief that the Board of Trade should blossom out into some social activity as a body embracing all sections of the district in its membership. In many places this is done very successfully, and functions under Board of Trade auspices are recognized events of outstanding importance. In the minds of the people who advance these different suggestions there is the same idea—that the community as a whole needs a little more of the "come together" spirit. Various societies and organizations now at work in the place each draw their own coterie of supporters, but there is nothing of the kind that every member of the community feels free to attend. The semi-public card parties now being held periodically are perhaps the nearest approach to the thing desired, but such a thing is obviously not the solution of the matter.

It is a pity that such a suggestion, which might be productive of so much real benefit to the place is allowed to drop for lack of spontaneity. Who is the social genius that knows the first move to be made?

THE PACIFIC GREAT EASTERN RAILWAY, which has just notified the Government of its intention to default, bond interest to the extent of more than three hundred thousand dollars for the third time, may be taken over by the C.P.R., according to rumors rife at Victoria. It is said that this is one of the questions that Premier Brewster will look into seriously while in the East at the present time. In the meantime it would do no harm for the government to try its hand at the business of finishing and operating the line.

FURTHER CHANGES in the method of carrying on Farmers' Institute work in the province are planned by the new head of the Department of Agriculture. In addition to the establishment of the district conferences by which the need of an annual convention is largely done away with, the method of extending financial support to the individual Institute will not remain as formerly. It is proposed to abolish altogether the straight grant of $25 made to all Institute secretaries, leaving the different bodies to do as they think fit in the matter. Hon. Mr. Oliver also proposes to introduce legislation to make the annual fee of members of such associations $1 a year instead of 50 cents as at present, and to increase the per capita grant to $1 per head for the first fifty members, fifty cents for the second fifty, and twenty-five cents for each member over 100.

PIGS OR BEER—which is it to be? This is the cry the farmers in England are raising now that the food supply for the country is being regulated by the authorities. The farmers claim that on account of the enormous amount of barley required by the brewing trade there is not enough left available to feed the hog supply which ought to be maintained. They point very tellingly to the utter uselessness of the brewed intoxicant in times such as these compared to the inestimable value of the hog supply. Strongly as the liquor interests are entrenched in the Old Land, their position is being strongly assailed with that mighty weapon, public opinion, and many people are convinced that some thing will come of the attempt being made to introduce drastic temperance legislation into the British Isles.

Pruning Apricot Trees

For Districts Where Apricots Are Grown Commercially As Standard Trees.

Instructions on crop getting given by Mr R. H. Helmer, Superintendent of Summerland Experimental Station.

The apricot bears its fruit on last year's wood, and in order to produce a large, marketable sample the tree must have an abundance of healthy, vigorous young growth placed throughout the tree in such a manner as to avoid crowding when the fruit matures, and at the same time cover the entire bearing surface of the tree. This can only be accomplished by heavy annual pruning to enable the tree to produce young wood.

Thin out the main shoots to two or three to carry on the head and increase the bearing surface of the tree. Cut these back to nine inches or one foot if they have made good growth, or six to nine inches if only a moderate growth has been made. Space the short fruit-bearing spurs so as to avoid crowding, and if this is well done, it does away with a great deal of summer thinning, which has to be done when we can least afford the time. By this renewal of young shoots every year the apricot will bear profitable crops of good fruit for many years.

Old neglected trees can be brought back to new vigor by very heavy cutting back of the main limbs and proper thinning and heading back of the new growth. Where apricots are still bearing crops but the fruit is getting smaller every year through neglect of annual pruning, it is advisable to cut back heavily every other tree this year, and only prune the other moderately to get a crop, cutting it back severely when the renewed tree has started to bear, which should be the next year.

Apricots are becoming more in demand and large plantings are being made, and if these trees are to produce profitable crops, heavy annual pruning must be done faithfully.

Severely Wounded.

Mr E. W. Bateman, C.P.R. Right-of-Way Agent, 2376 Seventh Avenue West, received a telegram this morning that his son, Warren, of the 102nd Battalion, Warden's Warriors, has been severely wounded in the left shoulder. He was admitted to the general hospital at Camieries, France, on New Year's Day. Young Bateman is in his twentieth year, and had just left school prior to enlistment.—Vancouver World.

Trains between here and the Coast have been running via Spence's Bridge for more than a week. Numerous small mud slides, brought down by the warm weather, have blocked the line through the pass. It is expected that these will be cleared away by Sunday.

Mr J. M. Robinson spent last week-end here on his way from California to New York. He comes back from the south more enthused with the Okanagan. The Californian climate or the social conditions there are unsuited to a Canadian. He finds many Canadians there who are ready to admit this. For a change, he says, the man of the Interior should go to the Coast and vice versa.

A young Swede of unsound mind has been wandering about the district for some days giving annoyance to the citizens, and on one or two nights at least suffering the exposure of the night in the open. It would appear from the information gathered that he arrived in Peachland about two weeks ago from his father's home in Alberta and, finding him a nuisance, that the authorities there had him brought down to within a mile or so of Summerland last Friday night and turned loose. Since Wednesday he has been confined in jail, and it is likely that he will be sent to the provincial asylum. However, Constable Brown has sent a wire to Wetaskiwin, near where his father, a Mr Anderson, has lived for 22 years, according to the unfortunate young man, and it is hoped that his father will care for him. The local authorities are feeling very sore at the Peachland authorities for dumping him on to Summerland, and are considering claiming the costs to which they have been put.

The Canadian Trade Commission or at Leeds states that there have been a number of shipments of British Columbia apples to Glasgow, London and Bristol this season. The apples generally have arrived in excellent condition and have been of satisfactory quality. The Glasgow shipments have been sold mostly on the auction market, but those to Liverpool, London, and Bristol have been disposed of by private sale. The prices received were good.

An Explanation and A Request.

To the Electors:

On a number of occasions during the past few months the undersigned has been approached by ratepayers of Ward I. with the request that I accept nomination for the school board. Each time the honor was declined, with the explanation that if anyone else would serve I preferred not to act. Only at the last moment, when it seemed that there was no one else ready to serve, and being strongly urged, I consented.

Keenly interested as I am in school matters, with three children attending as many departments, I have naturally followed the deliberations of the board with closest attention, whenever present, and, naturally, there have been times when I would have liked to have had a vote.

With the knowledge my relation with the board as representative of the press has enabled me to acquire, and as one with considerable business training and experience, I humbly believe I can well serve the ratepayers and parents on the school board. If you are of this opinion I shall appreciate your support; if not, I shall be equally thankful to be allowed to remain in the capacity of a private citizen.

Respectfully,
RALPH E. WHITE.

Favor Thursday For Holiday.

The cities of Kelowna and Vernon have both voted in favor of Thursday afternoon as the most suitable time for the half holiday. City elections were held yesterday. If Penticton should vote the same way, and there are indications that it will, it would be unfortunate, according to many, to have Summerland adopt Saturday.

Suppose the Review Ceased Publication

JUST suppose this community were left without a local newspaper! What would become of its local pride? Summerland would be just a name on a railway time table or a post office guide. Men and women might die, or marry, or go away, or suffer accidents, or entertain friends, and you would hear about it all only through gossip. Municipal affairs and other news of interest to this particular part of the wide, wide world would have no publicity. Our local merchants would have no cheap and quick way of telling you what they provide for you. Our churches and schools and other institutions would have no medium of news or appeal. And this whole community would slip back and be the sport of jokesmiths.

Would city papers take the place of the Review?

You know they would not.

THE point of it all is: Like all other newspapers we are feeling the pinch of higher prices for paper and other material. But, unlike hundreds of other weekly papers, we do not propose yet to raise the price, but simply ask that each and every subscriber pay up his or her subscription and keep it paid up. Nothing unfair about that is there? Now to "klick" at this and drop your subscription, would be to say, in effect, "This community doesn't need a local weekly. If I can do without the Review, all others can."

We do not believe for one moment that the good people of Summerland, Peachland, Naramata and neighborhoods will "klick" or drop their subscription to the Review. We expect all our subscribers to recognize the new conditions of living and publishing that have made this policy a necessity. Do you realize that your weekly newspaper at the rate of 4 cents a week—little more than the price of a postage stamp—costs an insignificant sum when you reckon up the service it renders you and this whole community.

Be loyal to and proud of the community you live in. Keep it on the map.

EXPLANATION OF THE SCHOOL HEATING PROBLEM.

Jan. 11th, 1917.

The Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

There has been considerable reference to this matter in the Review, and it would appear from what I gather from this, as well as other sources, that many are anxious to shoulder a goodly portion of the blame on the Trustee Board.

While (fortunately for the municipality I am not chairman of the Board) I have had considerable to do with the changing of the heating plant, and I presume come in for a full share of criticism, hence I trust I am quite in order in attempting to explain the combination of circumstances which undoubtedly have caused considerable discomfort to teachers and pupils in the Central School.

The contractor's explanation of his failure to come through in time is as follows: After the first new furnace was installed he offered to instal a new combination furnace to take the place of the old one and that he got word from the furnace supply house in Vancouver that they had one of these furnaces in stock.

We all know now that it was a serious mistake on the part of the contractor to remove the radiators connected to the old system before the new furnace arrived, but as he states when he removed them he fully expected to instal the new system by the time it would be needed. The contractor claims that he at once ordered the second furnace shipped but as the matter had previously been held over for a month by the School Board the supply house had in the meantime disposed of the furnace which they had previously reported they had on hand and an order had to be sent to the factory at Toronto.

Under peace conditions this would not have taken nearly as long to fill, but as we all know so many machine shops and iron workers have turned their resources into the making of war material and munitions that few iron working plants in the Dominion can keep pace with their orders, hence the delay.

When the furnace did finally arrive a week or so before the holiday season, illness delayed its installation until the last few days of the holiday season, and in order to get the work advanced sufficiently to not interfere with the opening of the school the contractor and his assistant had to camp right on the job and work day and night, taking but a few hours rest until they could get it in shape to use.

In so far as I can judge we now have a heating system which may not be perfect but should be much better than the previous outfit, which if faulty in then beginning, surely was much worse latterly, which was very apparent to those of us who saw it after it was taken apart. One section was badly cracked, and all the grates were so badly rusted in their sockets that they could be removed only with difficulty, even after all sections of the boiler had been separated. One of the grates could not be removed until it was broken, the rivet remaining in the socket.

The janitor informed me that since he came on the job, three years ago, he was never able to move the grates, hence all cinders and ashes were removed with difficulty.

The contractor overhauled all radiators in the lavatories and enlarged them as he thought necessary, one of them to three times its former heating capacity.

Let us hope we may have less trouble in the future than we have had in the past, but to say the least the construction of the building is faulty, with the lavatories above ground and at extreme ends of the building, with three sides exposed to the cold. The two north rooms also are exposed to the weather on three sides. The very large passage way in centre of building also adds to the difficulty of heating, especially as there are large double doors at each of its four corners, two of which, I think, should be closed during winter.

It is quite likely that the School Board which we have had the year just closed have made mistakes. It is just as apparent that those who preceded them made mistakes, and it is just as probable that future School Boards may make mistakes, and a little criticism by interested persons is always helpful, if said persons have a good grip of the situation and are competent to judge.

I have frequently heard it stated that everything here is entirely different from what it is in Ontario, and I believe this is true in most cases.

Co-Operative Experiments With Field Crops.

The Department of Agriculture, Victoria, proposes to distribute free samples of seed of the leading varieties of the common mixed farming crops to members of Farmer's Institutes throughout the province, subject to rules and regulations set down.

The seed distributed will be the best available and in addition to assisting growers to determine which variety is best suited to their local conditions, it should prove a valuable source of good seed for those wishing to improve their crops.

Should any other variety than those offered be favored locally, it could be tested out with those supplied by the Department.

Full particulars may be had from Mr J. Tait, Secretary of the Farmer's Institute.

A Critical Situation

The price of paper which has advanced from 100 to 300 per cent. or more over prices prevailing a year ago, seriously threatens the life of a large number of publications throughout the country and greatly lessens the profits of others.

The newspapers, from the largest dailies to the smallest weeklies, have been bearing the burden, which to many publications will mean complete destruction and to many others the wiping out of all profit.

Had the newspapers of the country been as prompt to defend their own interests as they have the interests of others, they, too, would before this, have undertaken to save themselves by an advance in subscription price and in advertising rates. Hundreds of the smaller weeklies, including the religious papers, which have had but a very narrow margin between profit and loss, will, we fear, suffer most disastrously, unless the public promptly recognizes the situation and accepts an advance in subscription and in advertising rates, and thus saves the situation.

The day laborer, the mechanic, the farmer, and nearly all business interests, manufacturing and mercantile, under the activity of the times, are showing larger earnings than for years. But the newspapers as a whole are meeting a more perplexing problem in the doubling, and in some cases the trebling, of price of paper, and in the absolute inability to contract in advance for supplies, than they have ever had to face before. The statements which have recently appeared in the daily papers on the subject do not at all exaggerate the seriousness of the problem.—Manufacturers' Record.

One exception to this rule is the fact that in Ontario the people who do the most complaining and criticizing in such matters, are those who have never made any great success of anything themselves, hence they have plenty of time to complain of what others are doing, apparently it is much the same in this province. There may be exceptions to this rule also, but not many.

Yours very truly,
J. L. HILBORN.

Farmers' Institute Hold Annual Meeting.

New Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute held last Saturday afternoon was only fairly well attended, there being but 18 fully paid-up members in attendance. The absence of not a few is due doubtless to sickness, yet when all is said that can be truthfully said in extenuation of the absentees, it would appear to be the duty, as it doubtless will be the aim, of the 1917 directors, to work up the membership to the old standard.

The Farmer's Institute, so far as Naramata is concerned, has to take the place and carry on the work of what municipal councils and Boards of Trade do in other and larger centres. It therefore behoves every citizen—not a grafter, or a parasite, or adventurer—to get out and show himself at the meetings of this live organization. Fact is those who are in the swim say the "water is fine." Jump in and try at the February meeting.

The officers for 1917 are:

 Vice-Pres. - John Schreck
 Sec.-Treas. - T. H. Rayner
 Directors - Wm. Nuttall, Dean Walters, Geo. Cook.

The "White" Gifts To be Sent Direct To Naramata Boys

For this purpose the actual work of boxing up, and pasting up, and sewing up, and dividing up, and addressing being undertaken at the home of Mrs D. O. Hughes this afternoon. Fine idea. This eliminates the criticism that the boys of Naramata are apt to see nothing of the local product.

R. C. Lipsett, veterinary surgeon, of Summerland, paid Naramata a professional visit on Saturday.

After a week or so of illness Mrs W. W. Mitchell is again able to be about her usual duties.

Mr and Mrs G. Wolstencroft are expected back from the Coast cities shortly.

Capt. F. J. Languedoc expects to have time to finish the pruning of his orchard before embarking for service overseas.

Before leaving for active military service, Mr E. H. Hancock hopes to complete the pruning of his trees.

Owing to the mild turn in the quality of the January weather quite a number of the local orchardists have made a start to prune their orchards. It is to be hoped that no very seriously cold spells may occur from this time forward.

A dozen benches of convenient size are being made for use in the old school, a building which will in all probability become the Naramata town or municipal hall.

Gipsy, the well-known blood mare belonging to Mrs T. I. Williams, died on Sunday morning as the result of an attack of colic. The animal was imported some seven years ago, when the family came here from Lindsay, Ont., and was, at least the biggest of the family pets, and consequently is regarded as a heavy loss.

The home of Mr and Mrs E. H. Hancock was the scene of a merry gathering of juveniles last Friday evening, when the parents entertained in honor of the two young daughters, Miss Mary and Miss Cathie. The boys and girls found the time from 6.30 to 10.30 all too short to crowd in all the fun and frolic that was proposed and carried out to a successful issue.

The personnel of the Women's Institute for this year is as follows:
 Pres. - Miss M. S. Gordon
 First Vice-Pres. - Mrs D. McKay
 Second " - Mrs Cook
 Secretary - Mrs H. Rounds
 Treasurer - Mrs Aldridge
 Director - Mrs Davies
 Auditors - Mrs Boothe, Mrs F. H. Rounds

Dr F. W. Andrew received an urgent call to Naramata on Monday the occasion being the serious illness of the infant son of Mrs H. Rounds.

A wire in the fore part of the week from Miss Walker, the primary teacher, conveyed the intelligence of the illness of her sister.

Mr Fred J. Young has now about recovered from a severe attack of la grippe.

Former Scoutmaster Pte. Harry J. Pitman, has, since crossing to England, started a "troop" all his own. Harry will henceforth be a family man and soldier.

Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland is expected here next Sunday to conduct Anglican church service.

A recent mail loaded with advertising matter from leading department stores at Vernon, would lead to the assumption that advertising pays—pays in spot cash too. Is there not in this a broad hint to local firms to get after some printer's ink "copy"?

Mr J. M. Robinson, whose family are spending the winter at Los Angeles, California, dropped off for a hurried hour's visit of inspection on Monday. He was on his way to New York.

In the absence of the regular pastor, Mr Thompson, Mr Priest of Penticton conducted the afternoon service here on Sunday last.

The officials of the Farmers' Institute held a meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr Wm. Nuttall, one of the directors for the year, and outlined plans for 1917. But of these plans more later. Better keep your eye on the Farmers' Institute of Naramata.

Miss Walker, the junior department teacher, has taken up residence at the home of Mrs T. I. Williams.

The monthly meeting of the local branch of the W.C.T.U. was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs Boothe. The report of the secretary showed that $6.30 was raised for the cocoa fund. The final returns on the prohibition plebiscite was received with enthusiasm, showing as it does a substantial majority, despite all the efforts on the part of the antis to upset the Sept. 12 election returns.

Mr Gerald Roe finds the Coast showers suggestive of bathing suits, rubber boots, and waterproof clothing in general. In a letter to his sister, Mrs Davies, he waxes somewhat sarcastic about the character of the Vancouver winter.

The School Trustees being unable to secure a substitute teacher were obliged to close the junior room until more definite news was received from Miss Walker.

Owing to the small number of candidates for the Fruit Packing School—only eight having joined so far—it is likely that only a three days' course will be held.

Mr R. H. King, wife and family were visitors in Penticton for a few days this week.

Pte. Bob Hemmel and Pte. Roy Boothe, of 11th Battalion C.M.R., were the two only, out of 33 to be granted the coveted seven clear days leave at Christmas. In Roy's case, he said, it was the only time he ever won a toss-up and he felt very fortunate indeed. It was explained that as only 10 per cent. of the soldiers could be released at any one time, it was a case of putting each fellow's name in a hat and decide by mere chance who should be honored. The two lads spent the week in London.

"The Outlook for 1917," a paper read by T. H. Boothe at the December meeting of the Farmers' Institute, is appearing in the January issue of the new Agricultural Journal published in Victoria.

Mr J. Jacobson has returned to the Coast, where he expects to again take on his duties as mine foreman.

Conscription Of Profits.

While Mr Bennett is trying to find out what surplus man power in Canada is unemployed, or employed unproductively, Sir Thomas White through his inspectors has been collecting statistics of investors' and employers' profits, including, of course, the profits of munition workers and war supplies. Last week the minister commandeered a fourth part of these gains above a fair interest. In the coming session he should go farther. If no man is considered free to refuse his personal services to the defence of his country, no capitalist is free to hold back his gains. Conscription of profits is demanded as much as conscription of men. The man who stays at home to make money for himself is as much a shirker as the one who remains to act as a roofer in a ball game. If a man can show that he is producing something necessary for the sustenance of the Empire or for its defence he has a right to stay and produce. But if his real purpose is not to produce but to get rich fast, and if he is hoarding his extra gains, he, too, is a shirker. Sir Thomas White should already be at work on his measure for the conscription of profits.—News-Advertiser.

Are East and West Rows Best?

Plants of low growth, with foliage very near the ground, may be said to live in a special climate, owing to the localization of specific conditions of heat and humidity at that level. Owing to this the yield is influenced by such an apparently trifling circumstance as the direction in which the row runs, whether from east to west or north to south. This is confirmed by some recent experiments with sugar beets. It was found that the yield from the rows running east and west exceeded that of the rows running north and south by about seven per cent. The excess in the yield of sugar was also noticeable. The weight of the leaves was likewise very much affected. It is observed, however, that such large differences are obtained in regions subject to great fluctuations of temperature, due to strong sunshine or strong winds from north or south. In temperate regions the gain will be by no means so large, though worth getting, when the method involves no extra expense.

"Is your father rich?" someone asked a five-year-old girl, and the little one replied confidentially, "Why, of course! He's got me." And she was right, too, for the father of a sweet, loving, helpful, little daughter is richer than some millionaires whose money can not buy them the love of a single heart.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessees may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Christ in Flanders.

A good deal has been heard of how service at the front in the west has brought a new and vivid conception of real religion to many of the soldiers in the trenches. The suggestive poem printed below on this subject was sent to a subscriber here by a former resident of the place, Mrs. Pattison, senior, with the thought that it might interest many in Summerland:

CHRIST IN FLANDERS.
 We had forgotten You, or very nearly,
 You did not seem to touch us very nearly,
 Of course we thought about You now and then;
 Especially in any time of trouble,
 We knew that You were good in time of trouble,
 But we are very ordinary men.
 And there were always other things to think of,
 There's lots of things a man has got to think of—
 His work, his home, his pleasure and his wife;
 And so we only thought of You on Sunday,
 Sometimes, perhaps, not even on a Sunday,
 Because there's always lots to fill one's life.
 And, all the while, in street, or lane or byway,
 In country lane, in city street, or byway,
 You walked among us, and we did not see.
 Your feet were bleeding as You walked over our pavements;
 How did we miss Your footprints on our pavements?
 Can there be other folk as blind as we?

Now we remember; over here in Flanders
 (It isn't strange to think of You in Flanders)
 This hideous warfare seems to make things clear.
 We never thought about You much in England,
 But now that we are far away from England,
 We have no doubts, we know that You are here.
 You helped us pass the fest along the trenches,
 Where in cold blood, we waited in the trenches;

 You touched its ribaldry and made it fine.
 You stood beside us in our pain and weakness,
 We're glad to think you understand our weakness,
 Somehow it seems to help us not to whine.

We think about You kneeling in the Garden;
 Ah! God! the agony of that dread Garden;
 We know You prayed for us upon the Cross.
 If anything could make us glad to bear it,
 'Twould be the knowledge that You willed to bear it—
 Pain—death—the uttermost of human loss.
 Though we forget You, You will not forget us,
 We feel so sure that You will not forget us
 But stay with us until this dream is past.
 And so we ask for courage, strength, and pardon—
 Especially, I think, we ask for pardon—
 And that You'll stand beside us to the last.
 The Spectator. L. W.

THE POT CALLS THE KETTLE BLACK.
 Bridget had been a witness in a lawsuit and had just returned home from court. "What did the lawyer say to you, Bridget?" inquired her mistress, "Shure, th' ould haythen," said Bridget, "he axed me did Oi know there was brass enough in me face to make a good-sized kettle," an' Oi told him there was sauce enough in his tongue to fill it."

The sooner children are brought to understand that idleness is a crime, and that no amount of fine culture can make them pass as valuable in the world's eyes if they are unable to earn a livelihood, and so must become "hangers on" for others to support, the better for them. That daughter who helps her mother cook and scrub, is far more worthy than she who only paints and plays, and obliges her overworked father to pay a servant that she may not soil her dainty hands.

Rev. J. Ferguson Millar of Penicton spent Tuesday evening in Summerland attending the annual congregational meeting of St Andrew's Church, over which he presided. The meeting was well attended and much business was expeditiously disposed of during the evening. Mr Millar made the journey in Mr English's car.

Mr H. G. Estabrook has been authorized by the National Secretary of the Military Service Department of the Y.M.C.A. to receive funds for that work. He will continue the canvass already begun in Summerland and neighboring localities. Mr Estabrook wishes it understood that in due course all subscriptions will be published in the Review, together with official receipts from the National Treasurer. The Patriotic Fund cares for the families of our soldiers. The Y.M.C.A. goes with our men into the trenches. Both equally necessary; both merit our best support.

While no exceptionally cold temperatures were experienced during the month of December, the meteorological records for that month show that the lowest average in ten years was reached. This is somewhat unusual, considering the fact that the thermometer did not get very near the zero mark excepting on one or two occasions. A comparison of the two weather reports from the recording stations at Balcom Ranch and the Experimental Station at Trout Creek reveals some interesting conditions as to the difference in temperatures experienced at these two points.

In aid of the St Andrew's Ladies' Aid a ten cent tea was given last Wednesday afternoon by Mesdames R. Johnston and D. Gray, at the home of the former. The event was continued on into the evening in a social way, the arrival together of a company of visitors then from all over the district allowing of an impromptu concert program being given. Miss Evelyn Brown, Messrs T. G. Beavis, J. O. Smith, and J. G. Robertson contributed to the program with songs and recitations, and various games and pleasant social intercourse sped the time along as well as the refreshments so thoroughly enjoyed by all. The affair realized financially about five dollars.

Mr and Mrs J. B. Donald are now living in the cottage on College Hill formerly occupied by Rev. F. W. Pattison. Mr Donald is taking charge of the blacksmithing business of Mr Scott Darkis during the latter's absence away in the east. Mr and Mrs Donald vacated the Wellington Watson house last week-end.

Word has reached Summerland that at least three local men who enlisted into the 172nd Battalion last summer have been unable to pass the final rigorous physical test exacted from all men before they are allowed to cross to France for service in the trenches. The men rejected in this way are being sent back to Canada for discharge. Among those who are thus returning to this place are Privates Harold Smith, Cyril Woodworth, and Levi Johnston.

An important meeting of the Board of Trade will be the annual meeting announced elsewhere in this issue. It is understood that the secretary, Mr J. Galt, because of business reasons, will be unable to accept appointment for the coming year. Much good has been accomplished, and other commendable movements started by the Board during the past year, and the good work should be continued. It is the duty of every citizen to be at this meeting if at all possible.

Christmas remains nothing but a memory now, but the children of the Garnett Valley School, and the adults as well, are likely to keep in mind for a long time the memory of the successful little Christmas entertainment held in the schoolhouse there. A Christmas tree was erected and decorated, and hung with gifts for the children as well as little tokens of appreciation from the children to their teacher. A concert program consisting of eleven numbers contributed by the children was given before an audience of about thirty parents and friends, Mr H. Dunsdon acting as chairman at this part of the proceedings.

Mr and Mrs E. A. Jones entertained quite largely to a five hundred party at their home on Thursday evening. The guests carried on the play at seven tables, and the unusual preparation which had been undertaken for their enjoyment made the affair singularly successful. The house had been most effectively decorated in a daisy effect, carried out with yellow and green, crepe paper, and among other unique details were hand painted favors used for score cards. Prizes for the best scores made during the evening went to Mrs A. C. Steuart for the ladies and Mr J. Tait for the gentlemen. At the other end of the tally were Mr and Mrs George Anderson respectively, who were duly given a souvenir for the distinctions attained. Refreshments of a most enjoyable nature were also served, capping the pleasure of the guests.

Dr Geo. Chapman and Mrs Chapman of Kentville, N.S., are guests at Kalavista Resthome.

Mr S. B. Snider returned last week from a visit to Vancouver. He expects Mrs Snider home on Monday next.

J. C. Brent, son of Joseph Brent, of Shingle Creek, has lately enlisted, joining the 231st Seaforth Highlanders at Vancouver.

Mr and Mrs M. Steuart were passengers out to Vancouver on the train leaving here last Sunday night. They expected to be away for about two weeks.

The Kettle Valley Railway is constructing a spur to the Diamond Vale Mine near Merritt. Thus far the mine has only been supplying coal to local consumers, but shipments to the Coast will begin as soon as the spur is ready for use.

The Summerland Agricultural Association did no business at the Tuesday afternoon gathering in Campbell Hall. The hour being late when the other organizations completed business the meeting was adjourned at the call of the president.

Mrs E. C. Graham and young son came down from Kelowna last Friday night and stayed over the week-end with Mr and Mrs George Graham at Jones Flat. On Monday Mrs Graham was an honored visitor at the local Rebekah Lodge meeting. Mrs George Graham returned with them to Kelowna on Wednesday morning for a short visit.

A teamster employed by Joseph Brent of Shingle Creek has been enjoying the novelty of successful hunting in the course of his journeys with the team into Summerland. He has been hauling hay from Shingle Creek into town, and has been in the habit of carrying his gun with him on the chance of encountering something "shootable." This hope was realized last Saturday, and as a result the lucky teamster got a bag of two coyotes. These predatory animals, it seems, while usually avoiding a human being alone, are not so timorous in approaching other animals such as horses, whether they be attached to a rig or not. However this may be, a coyote came up within easy range of the Shingle Creek teamster's gun just outside Prairie Valley, and a little later near S. M. Young's orchard, a second animal was secured in the same way. Exhibited in town that afternoon, the two pelts were seen to be fine specimens, one being an exceptionally large skin.

Be sure, therefore, and attend its Annual Meeting in the Parish Hall at West Summerland, at 2 o'clock on Thursday, 25th January.

The statement for the year will be discussed as published in the Review of January 10th. The election of the new officers for 1917 will be held, and all matters of moment that those present wished discussed will receive consideration.

It is therefore hoped there will be a large attendance. By payment of $1. to the Treasurer or Secretary either before or at the meeting you become a member of the Hospital Society for the year, and entitles you to vote upon all matters.—Advt. 24, 25

I don't know how long we will be in, but the usual custom is to stay in ten days and go out to hospital twenty days. Personality

A Factor in the Making of Men's Clothes

"Personality," says one whose wisdom is not to be questioned, "is the greatest thing in the world."

We all know how it counts in the work of this busy world—forcing success where least expected.

Well-fitting, well-made clothes are a proven important factor in adding to a man's personality, just as, contra-wise, an ill-fitting, ill-made suit will draw off from the most pronounced personality.

Personality is a mark of every suit and coat made by the House of Hobberlin. It is for this reason that the men who "care" are customers of this house. Every garment made to measure

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr Manning of Okanagan Landing spent several days in town looking over the mill property with a view to buying.

Mrs and the Misses Jean and Maud Kincaid, who have been visiting Mr and Mrs Ferguson, have returned to their home in Kelowna.

Mr Williams of Kelowna, representative of the Mason & Risch Piano Company, spent a day in town in the interests of his firm.

Reeve Morrison made a visit to Vernon, returning the same day.

Mr George Keys left for Calgary in charge of a carload of fruit and vegetables consigned by Mr Gelatly.

Mrs J. A. Miller, who has been spending the Christmas holidays with friends at Golden, returned home on Friday.

Mr J. D. McDonald and Miss Montgomery of Penticton are visiting at Dr Buchanan's.

Mr and Mrs Cartwright returned to their home at Okanagan Landing on Saturday.

Mrs D. A. Kirkby came in on Saturday to visit her parents, Mr and Mrs McLaughlin.

A ratepayers meeting was held on Saturday at three o'clock. The outgoing council and committees gave reports. There was a fair attendance of ratepayers.

Mr R. T. Buxton, traveller, representing the wholesale grocer's firm of Leeson, Diekle & Gross, spent a day in town in the interests of his firm.

Mr A. Town and Master Gordon Town returned home from the Coast on Saturday. Their train was detained by snow in the mountains otherwise they would have been home a day sooner. They had to motor from Summerland.

The new school term commenced on Monday, and all but one of the teachers have returned. Miss Robinson, teacher of the High School, came in on Saturday while Miss Whitworth of the town site returned on Monday morning, but Miss Pentland was held up by a snowslide on the main line, and telegraphed to say that she could not get here until Wednesday.

Miss Olive Gumnow left for Penticton on Saturday.

Mr J. A. McKinnon, who spent Christmas and the New Year at the Coast, returned on Saturday.

Mr J. M. Robinson of Los Angeles, came in on Tuesday morning, and is staying with his sister, Mrs McDougald.

Last week it was reported by mistake that Mr and Mrs W. Fulton left town, but they bought the ranch opposite Mr Hugh Williams, and are now settled there.

The Ambulance League are meeting to-day at the home of Mrs J. A. Millar.

Re-Election of Reeve Morrison for a Third Term.

Reeve Morrison was elected by acclamation for a third term of office on Monday afternoon. This is unique in the history of Peachland. Mr Octavius Pope was the Councillor for Ward I. in the outgoing Council, and was to have been nominated, but his nominator arrived too late. The Council have the power to elect a representative for that Ward. In Ward II, R. J. Hogg was re-elected. In Ward III, H. Hardy retired, and T. Powell was elected in his place. Mr Douglas was re-elected for Ward IV.

Last Meeting of the Old School Board.

The last meeting of the old School Board was held in the council chamber on Monday evening, the 8th inst. The estimates for the incoming Board were prepared, and Mr Cutbill's tender for 30 cords of firewood was accepted. The two retiring members of the Board viz.: A. Town and Hugh Williams, were re-elected for two years. The other members of the Board who were elected for a term of two years last year are: R. J. Hogg, John Drought, and R. H. Huston.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING.

made during the year. He also read the report of Supt. Thomson detailing the work to be done as recommended by him. This included the extending of the north main ditch around behind S. M. Young's to Col. Cartwright's to carry Trout Creek water to Jones Flat and Siwash Flats. Mr Johnston reported that during the coming year 17,000 feet of new fluming and 2,764 feet of cement lining was needed. There were more sections of the south main that must be lined. There was also a large amount of fluming needed but all of it could not be done next season. A good idea of such work had been done in the past two years and the system is now in better condition than it was two years ago. An expenditure of $2,500 will be needed in Prairie Valley alone.

During the past year 1,440 rods of road had been graded and 380 rods shaled beside numerous small pieces repaired and holes filled. The co-operation of the public through the Board of Trade was greatly appreciated.

There was some complaint from ratepayers present that more of the roads had not been improved. Lack of funds was the reason given.

Called upon, Mr Logie spoke of the importance of the question of adjusting the taxes. He considers the outlook a most hopeful one and was pleased with the spirit of helpful criticism offered. He recommended a continuity in the Council. There would be a general lowering of the assessment this year and the tax rate would have to be raised proportionately.

Reeve Blair would like to have a larger Council, say of 6 or 8 members, each acting for a period of three or four years.

Several other topics of local interest or moment were brought up by a number of the ratepayers, including the dangerous condition of the old Okanagan Telephone Co. pole lines. The councillors promised to have them ordered removed, especially those poles which had been placed without the approval of the Council, and that means most of them, according to some of the speakers.

A hearty vote of thanks was given the retiring Council for their public services and the excellent reports given.

The water service was cut off for a time on Tuesday because the intake pipe is being extended into deep water to avoid the whirlpool of air. The air in the water has reduced the power, and it is expected that the lights will be much steadier as a result of the extension.

The regular monthly meeting of the Baptist Women's Mission Circle was held at the home of Mrs Scott on Wednesday afternoon. The president gave some extracts from the Song of our Syrian Guest, and a report of Miss Hatch's work among the lepers in India was read. After the reading of the minutes, refreshments were served and a pleasant social time enjoyed.

Two boys, Earl Murdin and Rey Harrington, belonging to the Baptist Sunday School, have attended faithfully every Sunday in the past year, and so have qualified for the prize offered for regular attendance. These two boys gained the prize last year, and have not missed a single Sunday for two years. This is a splendid record and something to be proud of. If only some of the others would follow their example what a good thing it would be.

Lectures at the Women's Institute.

Mrs R. W. Chalmers of Thrums, B.C., lectured before the Women's Institute on Friday and Saturday, the 5th and 6th of January. A good many who had looked forward to hearing her speak were kept away by the "grip," but those who were there appreciated her message to the full and will pass on the news to their neighbors. On Friday afternoon she spoke on "Poultry and Home Canning," and on Saturday afternoon the Farmer's Institute was invited, and her subjects were "The Soilage System of Farming, and the Home Garden." Everyone who heard her lecture was intensely interested. You could tell that by the way they asked questions at the end of each lecture. The men especially seemed to be quite roused upon the subject of silos and asked a number of questions, which were all answered so directly and so adequately because she had experienced the very diffi-

1917 Council Gets Down To Business

Committees Named --- Irrigation Discount Date Advanced --- Vacancy in Ward I.

The first meeting of the new Council was held on Monday morning of this week. The business coming before it was not of a particularly weighty nature, but breezes ruffled the proceedings more than once, which may or may not be a happy portend for the coming year.

The Council is not yet complete. H. Bristow, who was elected by acclamation in Ward I. was confronted with the necessity of relinquishing either his school board contract or his newly found public honor, and choosing the latter, his resignation was duly accepted. According to the legal announcement which appears in this paper, nominations to fill the vacancy will be received on Monday, January 22nd, and polling if necessary takes place on Thursday, the 25th inst.

Constable Brown was present and reported difficulty in getting a band of horses impounded that have been causing much annoyance to Prairie Valley residents. He was instructed by the Council to make another attempt the next time the trouble is reported, and with a little help it is hoped that the offending animals will be rounded up.

In regard to the demented man confined in the jail the Constable intimated he had heard from Wetaskiwin, the young man's home town, that his parents desired him sent back there. Transportation was accordingly wired for, and an effort was also being made to get recompense for the expense incurred. It was expected that the necessary word would come this week.

The Court of Revision on the Assessment Roll will be held on Monday, March 5th, according to a resolution passed.

An important change in regard to the payment of the irrigation and general water rates is being made in a new by-law, which is amending the original by-law concerning these rates. The change that is being made will advance the discount date from the thirty-first day of May to the first day of that month. This step will bring a certain amount of money into the treasury in time to meet an installment of debenture interest, and will generally ease the financing at that time of year. None of the Council could see that the change was going to work hardship and the amendment was agreed to, and will go through in due course.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED.

Committees appointed by the Reeve as finally agreed to were as follows, the first-named to act as chairman: Public Works—Councillors Johnston and Campbell. Finance—Councillor Simpson and the representative of Ward I. Electric Light—Councillor Johnston and the representative of Ward I.

It was the original intention of the Reeve to transfer Coun. Campbell to the Finance Committee but Mr Campbell signified his preference for the Works Committee, thinking he would be of more value there, and intimating that he has promised the people of his district to look after some irrigation improvements desired in that section. Incidentally Coun. Campbell's ire was raised when the Reeve gave as his reason for the change in committees an intimation that he thought Mr Campbell had in the past taken too much on himself in directing some matters. The Reeve being responsible for all the municipal work, Mr Blair thought he had a right to be consulted on matters of that nature. Specific instances where the Reeve and the Works Committee had crossed—or seemingly so—and other innuendos having been cleared up or left in abeyance, the draft of committees was changed as Coun. Campbell desired. Coun. Simpson, in accepting the chairmanship of the Finance Committee, stated that he purposed having a more intimate connection with the financing, especially in such matters as arranging bank loans. This attitude was cordially endorsed by the Reeve and others.

MORE LIGHT EXTENSIONS WANTED.

Messrs G. Thornber and S. F. Sharp waited on the Council during the morning, asking for an extension of the electric light system out to Trout Creek if the line was carried along east of Giant's Head as was now being spoken of. Twenty residents of their vicinity had been canvassed to take the light if it were extended down and nineteen had signified their willingness to do so. Coun. Johnston thought the matter should be looked into. If there was not thought to be sufficient power available under present arrangements it was possible by some very inexpensive changes to remedy this condition. The Electrician will prepare an estimate of costs and distances to lay before a subsequent Council meeting, and in the meantime the district affected will be canvassed in regard to providing the money required by taking bonds as other sections are doing.

A CONTENTIOUS COMMUNICATION.

The outcome of an application by J. A. Read for the position of municipal stenographer was a long discussion. Miss MacLeod has signified her desire to terminate her engagement at the end of this month, and Mr Read is a former applicant for the position. Coun. Simpson strongly urged that he be given a trial, and Couns. Johnston and Campbell inclined to this course as well. The Clerk opposed the application, at first on the ground that he was unfit for the post. The Reeve also took this stand, and the Accountant, called in to give his opinion, did not advise it. The Clerk's attitude was that to give the applicant a trial and then possibly find him unsuitable at the end of it would be to open the way for unpleasant misunderstandings, and the best way was to avoid it altogether. Other reasons entered into the matter, and finally nothing was done, except that Coun. Simpson had set down in writing the responsibility of those opposing it for the refusal of the application.

Among other communications was a resolution submitted for endorsement by the Okanagan Farmers' Institute, Vernon, looking to the establishment in the Valley of a model farm, and setting out the useful ramifications of such a plan. (Continued on page 4.)

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

"Get Together" Banquet To Be Held In The Near Future.

Attending the annual general meeting of the Board of Trade last Tuesday evening were about twenty-five or thirty members. The meeting was held in the dining room of Hotel Summerland instead of the Board room, and the added comfort of this arrangement was duly appreciated. Dr F. W. Andrew presided.

One of the main items of business on the agenda was the election of officers for the ensuing year. This resulted as follows:

President Dr F. W. Andrew
Vice-President Rev H. A. Solly
Secretary-Treasurer C. W. Lees
Council Messrs R. H. English, R. H. Helmer, J. Galt, R. V. Agur, W. Ritchie and S. M. Young.

There is cause for satisfaction in the fact that Dr Andrew will continue in the presidency where his aggressive leadership has made itself felt. Mr J. Galt, as secretary-treasurer since the reorganization of the Board a year ago, has done very valuable work and it is quite fitting, though business reasons compel him to relinquish that office, he should still retain a place on the Council.

A report of the past year's finances was given by the retiring secretary. The paid up membership was 96. The membership fee for 1917 will be $1.50, the need of an extra 50 cent levy being anticipated in addition to the regular dollar. Those who have not yet paid in the levy found necessary in the past year are reminded that they may include this in their 1917 fees. According to the constitution dues should be paid in before the end of March to retain full membership for the year.

It was decided to take no further steps immediately in regard to voluntary road work, the weather now being unsuitable for activity of this kind.

After waiting some time to gather desired information on the subject, the Board has endorsed the amendment to the route of the proposed trans-provincial highway being fathered by the Penticton Board of Trade. It was shown during the discussion that the present route via Oroville and Anarchist Mountain is far from ideal from the standpoint of the automobilist, and although the route proposed via Penticton and Carmi is about thirty miles longer, its advantages will be worth it.

The Board is going to branch out in a social way according to plans laid at Tuesday's meeting. The proposal to hold a "get together" (Continued on Page 5.)

Need Protection

Grower Tells Prairie Farmers Why.

Mr C. E. Barnes the owner of several hundred acres of apple orchard at Walkachin was permitted to address some five hundred farmers assembled at the annual convention of the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association on the tariff.

He was loudly applauded when he concluded his address, in which he told of the enormous production in the north-western states, and how this dominated the apple market of the west. He referred to the principles of free trade and said he was a universal free trader but that an extraordinary condition of affairs existed and that was why the growers of British Columbia supported protection.

TWO LADY TRUSTEES ELECTED TO BOARD.

Thursday Half-Holiday. — By-Laws and Referendum Carry.

The voice of the electors last Saturday was that there should continue to be two lady members of the Board of School Trustees. The voting was heavier than usual, perhaps on account of the fact that each voter was called upon to record his or her opinion on different matters six times. For trustees the vote by wards was as follows:

	Wards 1 & 4	Wards 2 & 3	Total
Mrs Andrew	66	56	122
Mrs Kelley	49	33	82
R. E. White	15	28	43

There was never any question about the two electric light by-laws receiving the assent of the electors, since they had already been voted on in the form of one by-law, but had to be resubmitted to the people in another form required by the government. Last fall there was but one dissenting voice, but on Saturday a little larger opposition developed, but nothing of any consequence. The voting went as under:

BY-LAW 83—MONEY BY-LAW.
For Against Spoiled Majority
125 9 4 116

BY-LAW 84—CONSTRUCTION.
For Against Spoiled Majority
121 8 6 113

BY-LAW 84—REFERENDUM.

The referendum regarding the payment of the Reeve and Councilors also passed, though some opposition developed. It is quite evident that some of the people are of the opinion that the time is not yet ripe for inaugurating this policy, though there is no question as to whether the money would be well-earned. The voting on the question was as follows:

For Against Spoiled Majority
93 38 5 55

HALF-HOLIDAY REFERENDUM.

By-Law 86 submitted the question of the half-holiday for the retail stores, whether it should be on Saturday or Thursday. The procedure of some places in presenting to the electors the choice of any day in the week was not correct, since the act clearly states that any two days may be voted on, one of which should be Saturday. The figures show a narrow majority for Thursday, Wards I. and IV. almost breaking even, while II. and III. leaned a little more decidedly towards Thursday.

The voting was as under:

	Wards 1 & 4	Wards 2 & 3	Total
Thursday	38	33	71
Saturday	36	24	60

Majority for Thursday, 11.

Vestry Meeting.

Officers Elected—Finances Good.

Reports submitted at the recent annual meeting of St Stephen's Church showed that the finances were in a satisfactory condition, in fact, considering the times especially so. For this the W.A. are in no small measure responsible. That branch of the church have closed a very successful year.

Officers for the year were elected as follows:

Rector's warden, Bort Harvey; people's warden, F. A. C. Wright; vestrymen, S. M. Young, W. C. W. Fosbery, E. B. May, R. B. Purves, J. H. Bowering, R. Clouston, I. Barnes, H. M. Lumsdon, F. W. Andrew.

Present tests are for future trusts.

New School Board Holds First Session

Secretary Logie Resigns and Successor is Appointed --- Packing Schools For Children.

The two newly elected School Trustees, Mrs W. C. Kelley re-elected for a second term, and Mrs F. W. Andrew a new member, took their places with the Board on Tuesday morning, when the first meeting of the year was held at the Municipal Office.

After the election returns had been received and duly filed, Dr Sawyer was again unanimously chosen to serve as chairman for the coming year.

NEW SECRETARY APPOINTED.

After serving in the capacity of secretary to the School Board ever since the inception of the Municipality in 1907, Mr J. L. Logie is laying down this work, and as his successor J. H. Bowering was appointed. When the matter of appointing a secretary came up Mr Logie retired at the suggestion of the Chairman, and Trustee Sharp acted pro tem. Two applications came before the Board, from Mr Bowering at $100 per year, and from T. H. Riley at no stated figure. The former was the unanimous choice of the Board.

In intimating to Mr Logie the desire of the Board for a change, Dr Sawyer mentioned that it was apparent that he was being driven pretty hard just now by the volume of work arising from the different municipal activities which he had in his charge, and it was felt that if the responsibility of the school work were taken off his shoulders it would relieve the pressure somewhat. The new official would probably be able to give more time to school affairs.

The matter was put in order by Mr Logie handing in his resignation which was accepted, thanks being tendered to him at the same time for the work he has done in the interests of the schools during the years he has been associated with the Board. They were grateful to him, the chairman said, and regretted that the combination of municipal work he was now handling was proving too much for one man.

Mr Logie will continue to act as treasurer of the School Board of course. In speaking of the relationship of the Council to the School Board, a connection that had been characterized as more or less of an anomaly, Mr Logie averred that in his dual position he had been able to keep the School Board finances right up to date, although the taxes had been by no means all paid in. He stated that most of the $10,000 now owing to the bank was school board money advanced from the general revenue on account of unpaid school taxes. The opinion of the Trustees on this point was that the school law did not give the Council any option but to make the advance to the Board.

On the suggestion of Trustee Hilborn, some improvements will be undertaken at the Central School to help out the heating problem in the cold weather. Temporary storm doors will be put over the entrances on the north side of the building which are very little used, and other minor carpenter work was laid out that in the aggregate should help to keep the heat in the building when once it is properly warmed up. Later it was decided to purchase a stove to be put up in the hallway for the children to warm themselves when they came off the rigs after their long drive on cold mornings. This matter was left with Trustee Sharp.

PACKING SCHOOLS FOR PUPILS.

A long letter from Mr J. W. Gibson, Director of Elementary Agricultural Education in the province, was read in reference to the proposal to establish packing schools for the high school pupils and the elder scholars in the public school. The date at present set for the commencement of these classes is Monday, February 26th, continuing for six days. Scholars taking the course will be given credit for regular school attendance. One instructor will be able to handle two classes of sixteen pupils following each other, making the maximum for one instructor of thirty-two pupils. Applications gathered from the classes affected number thirty-nine in all, twenty-seven from the Central and twelve from the High School, so that it is likely two instructors will be necessary. This plan was thought to be preferable for the children than the one emanating from the Farmers' Institute, whereby the children were to take a two hour lesson after school hours. This was to be in connection with the packing school held annually by the Institute. The Trustees were of the opinion that the school children had better come under the arrangement of the Department of Education, leaving the other classes for the adults. The offer of the Education Department was accepted by the Board by a resolution. Some of the Trustees thought that the authorities should go a little farther and extend the summer holidays so that the pupils would have a little more opportunity to use their packing knowledge and it seems likely that when this point is brought to the attention of the authorities some adjustment will be made.

The resolution from the Vernon Farmers' Institute asking the Government to establish a model farm in the Valley was endorsed.

Small requisitions for supplies to be used in the elementary grades were authorized.

JANITOR APPOINTED.

The appointment of Mr A. Britton as janitor of the Central and High Schools was ratified at a salary of $24 per month. A little more is paid in the cold weather when extra work is required to keep the buildings properly heated. Mr Britton has been acting temporarily practically since school resumed last week.

One of the new furnaces is still not quite completely installed, the contractor running out of material for the cold air ducts. Trustee Hilborn, who has kept in touch with the contractor, was of the opinion that the work would be completed entirely within a very few days. He thought that Mr Wallace had shown commendable promptness when once he had been able to go ahead with the work.

Complaint being made that school was not being opened on time, it was left with the chairman to com-

HOW EVERYONE MAY HELP.

SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance, has just announced the first step in connection with his campaign for greater national saving, and the larger participation of the general public in financing Canada's war expenditure, and furnishing imperial credits for the purchase of munitions in Canada.

An issue of war saving certificates maturing in three years, in denominations of $25, $50 and $100 will be created. They will be obtainable on application to any bank or postal money order office in the Dominion. The prices are $21.50, $43 and $86 respectively; that is to say, for every $21.50 lent now to the government $25 will be returned at the end of three years. The discount of $3.50 constitutes a most attractive interest return. Provision is made whereby the certificates may be surrendered at any time during the first 12 months at their purchase price; after 12 months, but within 24 months, at $22.25; and after 24 months, but within 36 months, at $23.25 for every $21.50 paid. This means that the longer the certificates are held the higher the rate of interest that will be obtained.

The plan will give the general public the opportunity of contributing by their savings to the winning of the war, and at the same time encourage and promote individual thrift and economy throughout the Dominion. Such a result would be, in the opinion of the Minister, of incalculable national benefit, both for the present and future. The new certificates will provide a strong incentive to thrift and economy, in order that money be saved for their purchase. The kind of thrift for which the Minister appeals is that which results in the saving of money for the purchase of these securities. It is pointed out that under facilities to be afforded by the banks and post office savings bank branches, sums of one dollar and upward may be received on deposit. An advertising campaign in connection with this issue of war saving certificates will be inaugurated very shortly.

THE DAYLIGHT SAVING PLAN has just been adopted by the states of the Australian federation, including Tasmania. On the first day of this month the clocks there were pushed ahead one hour, and will remain so until the last day in March. This period constitutes the summer in the southern hemisphere.

HAS THE PROPOSAL for the establishment of a municipal department in the government of this province ever been seriously taken up? There is increasing need for this step being taken. Under the direction of such a department a uniform system of municipal accounting could be devised, and the appointment of government auditors would be a development that would follow. Perhaps the Union of B.C. Municipalities has already looked into the question, but if not it might well do so.

THAT MILLION DOLLARS set aside for loans for the farmers of this province by the late government is not going to last very much longer. Some twelve hundred applications have been received to date by the Commissioner administering the Agricultural Credit Act, and seven hundred and seventy-five appraisals have been made, involving wished-for loans of $1,705,000. Applications have been favorably acted upon in some three hundred and fifty cases, aggregating $650,000. The purposes for which loans have been asked are various, including paying off notes and mortgages, for new buildings, stock, planting preparations, clearing land, general improvement, etc. Naturally it has been found necessary to refuse a large number of applications.

THE Annual General Meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society

Will be held on Thursday Afternoon Next, Jan. 25th, At 2 p.m., in the PARISH HALL.

BUSINESS—To receive the reports of the Board of Directors for the expired year; to appoint a Board of Directors and Auditor for the coming year, and generally to take into consideration the position and prospects of the Society.

H. C. MELLIOR, President.
THOS. H. RILEY, Secretary.

Creamery Is Assured

From present indications a creamery will be built and in operation at Princeton by the end of next May at the latest. The meeting held in the Board of Trade rooms on Wednesday afternoon to discuss the project was attended by some fifteen ranchers and others interested. The expressions of opinion were unanimous in favor of the creamery, and a decision was reached to form a private company, limited to 50 shareholders, with a capital stock of $10,000 divided into 1,000 shares at $100 each. The name of the company will be the Princeton Creamery Association, Limited. The estimated cost of building and equipping the plant is between $4,000 and $5,000. It is not expected subscribers for shares will be called on for payment of more than 50 per cent. the first year. The number of cows to be depended upon was carefully investigated. In the territory embracing Keremeos to the east; Jack Thynn's to the west, and up Five-mile as far as W. W. Green's place, 350 dependable milch cows were found, or 100 more than the number required as a minimum, according to dairy experts. The committee on company organization, etc., is composed of the following: J. D. Andras, chairman; P. W. Gregory, secretary; Chas. E. Thomas, H. H. Thomas, P. Russell, A. Reith, T. J. Guinan, S. R. Gibson, C. Hughes, Mr Gore and Mr Bennett.—Star.

More Letters From Soldiers Now Overseas

Ontario Military Hospital, Orpington, Kent. December 12, 1916.

Dear Ladies,
You have been so kind to me I hardly know how to thank you. To think I never wrote and told you I got the first parcel in good condition; everything was lovely, and to think to-day another parcel came along. I was just telling my room mate how much I felt ashamed of myself for not writing and thanking you all for the first parcel you sent, and before I could get started another has come along. Thanks very much for them both. Everything came in good condition, even to the cake. I couldn't wait till Christmas, I had a taste—it is lovely.

We are very busy fixing up for Christmas, trying to make everything as nice for the boys as we can. We are not going to have our Christmas dinner till the following day, so as we can have more time with the boys.

How are all the people in Summerland. I often think of you all, and think of the good you are all doing to help this great war. I wish it was finished, though I am not tired looking after the boys. Kindest regards to you all.

Sincerely,
M. MOTION,
(Nursing Sister)

Shoreham Camp, Sussex, England. Dec. 12th, 1916.

Dear Mrs Hogg,
I am writing to thank you for the parcel received from your club yesterday. It came as a surprise, and was gladly received, for it came the day after I came back from my leave of six days, so it helped me to get used to the camp grub again. Your club has sure been doing good work by the letters I have seen in the Review. Again thanking you and your club for remembering me.

I am, yours sincerely,
ARNOLD GAYTON.

Chisleton, Camp, Wilts, England. Dec. 12, 1916.

Dear Mrs Hogg,
I am taking this opportunity of writing to thank you and the Home Comfort Club for the very welcome parcel you sent to me.

I just received it yesterday, and noticed that it had gone to France. It is evidently thought I was over there, but no such luck this time.

I am writing this on behalf of Charlie and myself, as Charlie has been laid up for the last two days with a sore throat, which seems to be a common thing in this country. Thanking you once more for the parcel, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
PTE. H. B. PHINNEY.

7th Battalion Canadians, B. E. F., France.

Dear Madam,
Just a little note to thank you for the parcel I received from the Summerland Home Comfort Club. It was entirely unexpected, but all the more welcome for that reason. I received it just after I came off "Listening Post" at midnight on a cold night in the front line trenches, so believe me it was very acceptable. There are three other Summerland boys in the draft that left the 11th C.M.R.'s for the 7th battalion on the 14th of October. A. E. Nelson, G. D. Marson, and E. F. Smith. Again I must thank you for the kindness of the club. Wishing the members a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I remain,

Yours sincerely,
RODERICK MUNRO.

Wednesday, December 4, 1916
Dear Mrs Hogg,
I beg to acknowledge receipt of parcel containing soldiers comforts for which please accept my sincere thanks. We appreciate very much just such little articles as were enclosed. Towel and soap always come in handy, and I am sure we shock the English people with our "Wrigley" movement. The cigarette papers are the very thing, as we "roll our own" these war times.

I am afraid I cannot give you any war news. Poor Rumania is suffering defeat after defeat, and it looks as though their entering the war will prolong rather than shorten it. I was over at Bramshott two weeks ago and saw "flocks" of Summerland boys.

There is a rumor that the 172nd are to be broken up and sent over in drafts.

Our lights have gone out so am making good use of the candle which was included in the parcel.

Please express to the other members of your club my deep appreciation of having been remembered as a Summerland boy.

Wishing you one and all a Merry Christmas and a Bright and Prosperous New Year.

Yours sincerely,
Gunner CLARENCE R. PHINNEY,
50th Queen's Battery.

P.S.—We have quite an epidemic of measles in our camp.

Suppose the Review Ceased Publication

JUST suppose this community were left without a local newspaper! What would become of its local pride? Summerland would be just a name on a railway time table or a post office guide. Men and women might die, or marry, or go away, or suffer accidents, or entertain friends, and you would hear about it all only through gossip. Municipal affairs and other news of interest to this particular part of the wide, wide world would have no publicity. Our local merchants would have no cheap and quick way of telling you what they provide for you. Our churches and schools and other institutions would have no medium of news or appeal. And this whole community would slip back and be the sport of jokesmiths.

Would city papers take the place of the Review?
You know they would not.

THE point of it all is: Like all other newspapers we are feeling the pinch of higher prices for paper and other material. But, unlike hundreds of other weekly papers, we do not propose yet to raise the price, but simply ask that each and every subscriber pay up his or her subscription and keep it paid up. Nothing unfair about that is there? Now to "kick" at this and drop your subscription, would be to, say, in effect, "This community doesn't need a local weekly. If I can do without the Review, all others can."

We do not believe for one moment that the good people of Summerland, Panchland, Naramata and neighborhoods will "kick" or drop their subscription to the Review. We expect all our subscribers to recognize the new conditions of living and publishing that have made this policy a necessity. Do you realize that your weekly newspaper at the rate of 4 cents a week—little more than the price of a postage stamp—costs an insignificant sum when you reckon up the service it renders you and this whole community.

Be loyal to and proud of the community you live in. Keep it on the map.

Annual Meeting of the Women's Institute.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Women's Institute was held in the schoolroom of the Baptist Church last Friday the 12th inst., Mrs Murdin, president, in the chair. After the opening exercises a communication was read from the government with regard to the establishment of an Agricultural College in the Okanagan Valley. Those present thought that this would be a very good thing for the Valley, and that it would be specially helpful to the returned soldiers, many of whom would have to work on the land in order to repair their shattered nerves. A motion was passed approving the plans of the government. The president then gave a very interesting and helpful report of the past year's work in which she thanked the vice-president, secretary, directors, and members of the Institute for their co-operation. She spoke of the interest in the meetings which had prevailed throughout the year and hoped that the coming year would show increased interest, and that greater things would be attempted and done by the Institute than ever before. The financial report, given by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs Robinson, showed a balance on the right side of about $50. The following officers were elected: Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs Robinson; Directors, Mrs Douglas, Miss Olive Ferguson, Miss Scott. Mrs Murdin though pressed to do so would not accept nomination for any office. The Institute was very glad that the efficient secretary, Mrs Robinson, consented to act for the coming year in spite of her many other duties. At the close of the meeting the newly appointed officers met and chose Mrs Douglas as president, and Miss Olive Ferguson as vice-president.

When there have been so many and things to record about our boys at the front it is a pleasure to hear of something on the brighter side. In a letter received last week by Mr and Mrs Dryden from their son, William, he tells them that he has his second stripe now: that means that he has been promoted to the rank of corporal. He received the second stripe only two months after the first, and both of them since he went into the trenches last July. He enlisted a year ago last August and is only nineteen years old.

Annual Meeting of the Baptist Church.

This was held on the afternoon of January 11th. The pastor, Rev. Wm. J. Scott, having dwelt upon the joy with which the disciples saw the Lord on the evening of His resurrection expressed the hope that the unseen but just as real presence of the same great Head of the Church might be the chief factor and greatest enjoyment of the gathering. Reports were given of the work by the different officers as follows: Mr Reynolds Harrington, the Church Clerk, Mr L. D. McCall, the Church Treasurer, Mr John Kerr, Secretary of the Sunday School, Mrs McDougall, Secretary of the Women's Mission Circle. Thankfulness and hopefulness characterized them all. Retiring Deacon R. Harrington was re-elected for 1917, and also re-appointed as Church Clerk. Mrs Sam Murdin was elected Deaconess in the place of Mrs George Keys, who retired and declined re-election. The choice of another Deacon was postponed owing to the absence from town of Mr Keys, the other retiring Deacon. Mr L. D. McCall was again appointed Treasurer, and his son, Mr Harold McCall, Supt. of the Sunday School. Miss Scott was chosen as organist for the church and Miss Ilva Murdin, as organist for the Sunday School. Mr Wm. Williams was appointed usher. After the business had been concluded the members took tea together, which was a real love feast. As it happened to be the pastor's birthday congratulations and good wishes were a prominent feature. At the close of the tea the members fittingly responded to the Roll Call.

Favor Civic Ownership of Water System.

The first meeting of the Municipal Council of 1917 was held as required by the Municipal Act on the 15th of this month. After the elected Councillors were sworn in, their first duty was to appoint a councillor for Ward I., there having been no nomination from that ward. Mr O. Pope, who filled the position last year, was appointed. The committees for the year were appointed as follows: Finance—Couns. Douglas and Powell; Public Works—Couns. Pope and Hogg; Light and Water—Couns. Hogg and Pope; Health, etc.—Couns. Powell and Douglas. There was also a committee appointed by the Council to deal with irrigation matters. It is proposed to aim at municipal ownership rather than to work through a water corporation, and this committee will take the matter up at once and deal energetically with it. The committee is composed of Couns. Powell and Douglas, and Mr [Continued on Page 4.]

Current Events — OF — Town & District

Mr Ben Hoy, government horticulturist, is expected here next week to conduct a pruning school.

Owing to the heavy sea on Sunday the ferry trip for the preacher was not attempted, consequently the usual Anglican service was not held.

Mr H. F. Wilmott, district assessor, was through the community on Friday last in order to more correctly size up the boundaries and to adjust the assessment complaints.

The force with which the "Sicamous" struck the wharf in making a landing last Friday night was sufficiently heavy to break off another couple of piles. A few more such collisions will make the rebuilding of the entire wharf an absolute necessity.

Mr A. Aveson, of Summerland, after an exciting and "sea sickening" experience on the Saturday evening ferry attempted the six o'clock Monday morning boat with the intention of getting an early start. Unfortunately, however, for the good intentions, the "Sicamous" has the habit of being on time and to make very short calls.

The carpenters' "bee" in connection with the Farmers' Institute last Saturday resulted in having benches made for use in the old school. It is now proposed to build a platform and in other ways complete the work of fitting up the building for the holding of public meetings. This marks another step in the progress of the community towards full municipal government—a plan which is likely to come with the years and if our community dreams come true.

Mr Ford Dynes from Alberta was in town for a few days to have a look over this the newest of the southern Okanagan towns with a view of making his home in B.C.

where it is thought the climate will be more conducive to the health of his wife. Mr Dynes, who recently spent two years in the Peace River country, as head of a government survey party, has much to say about that vast and interesting, if not alluring corner of Canada.

Mr T. I. Williams has been granted a release from military duty as a home guard.

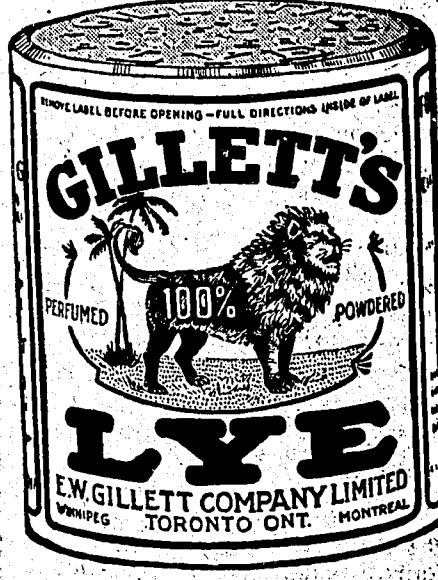

Women's Institute Banquet.

Last Thursday evening was "Women's Night" in Naramata. The men folks might as well have been exploring the South Pole for all the good they were. Fact is the "bluff" of the losing side in the good attendance record for 1916 was called, and accordingly the losing side provided and served the banquet. It would never do to say it was a supper. No, sir! It was a banquet, and in keeping with the dignity of the occasion the guests appeared in evening costume, while those who served donned the plain garb of humble waitresses.

Of course everybody came, and everybody wore the quality of smile that refuses to vanish till the lights go out. Two tastefully decorated tables were set in the club rooms, and the quality and quantity of the good things provided was fully in keeping with the high standards set in the past. There was no toast list but there was a hearty vote of thanks proposed and joyously voted by the guests to the hostesses of the occasion.

The tables being cleared the jolly party, amongst whom were a number of young girls, the associate members, passed the fore part of the evening in old-fashioned games but later on a musical program concluded the altogether delightful social event.

McLaughlan from outside the Council.

The resolution from Penticton in connection with the trans-provincial highway was again held over by the Council and was again held over in order that the Council might learn if the Summerland proposal to locate the road from Princeton to Penticton via Trout Creek is to be seriously pushed. No doubt the Council will deal with the resolution at the February meeting.

An interesting "High Cost of Living" resolution from Nanaimo was before the Council for consideration. The resolution calls upon the Dominion Government to effectually control the export of food products, the price of wheat, and to remove obstructive tariffs that tend to enhance the price of articles of diet.

There was also a resolution from the Okanagan Farmers' Institute for which they asked endorsement. This resolution calls for the establishment of a model farm and agricultural school in this Valley, which would have in connection with it affiliated farm plots or stations at points through the Valley. Both these resolutions received the hearty support of the Council.

Although economy must be a war slogan, the Council of 1917 looks forward to a year of unusual interest and progress in municipal matters.

Annual Meeting of the Farmers' Institute.

The annual meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held on Friday afternoon, 12th inst., at three p.m. After the regular routine business had been transacted the following officers were chosen:

President T. Powell, re-elected
Vice., L. D. McCall
Secy., Teas. Dr Buchanan
Directors — R. J. Hogg, J. McLaughlan, A. Pope.

Ratepayers' Meeting.

A ratepayers' meeting was held at the close of the meeting of the Farmers' Institute last Friday. A resolution was passed asking the government for information as to what position they would take with regard to the matter and what assistance they were prepared to offer in the way of helping with the irrigation system.

Mr Seth Davison was a passenger to Summerland on Thursday, returning on Friday.

Mr J. S. Moore, who came from Penticton on Monday morning, is spending a few days at home.

Mr George Keys returned from Calgary last Saturday. He was able to combine business with pleasure while there in visiting his daughter, Mrs Phillips.

Mrs Keating gave a dance last Friday in honor of Archie Seaton who has enlisted in the 231st Seaforth Highlanders. He left the next day to join his regiment which is stationed at Hastings Park, Vancouver.

Rev. H. G. Estabrook will speak next Sunday afternoon in the Baptist Church and in the evening at the union service in the Methodist Church, in the interests of the military service department of the Y.M.C.A.

Union services for prayer were held last Tuesday and Thursday evenings. On Tuesday the meeting was in the Methodist Church and was led by Rev. J. A. Rowland, and on Thursday in the Baptist Church, led by Rev. Mr Scott. Both meetings were very helpful.

Guests registering at the Edgewater Inn are as follow: R. T. Buxton, Vancouver; H. English, Summerland; Mrs R. W. Chalmers, Thrums, B. C.; G. N. Gartrell, Summerland; G. H. Booth, Calgary; A. Stabler, Vancouver; E. C. Graham, Kelowna; F. G. Anderson, Summerland; J. S. H. Hicks, Vancouver.

Mr and Mrs W. A. Lang left on Tuesday morning for Ottawa. Mrs Lang is going to stop off at Moose Jaw to visit her daughter, Mrs McGregor. Mr Lang has resigned his position as Provincial Land Agent at Wilmer, B.C., to take a position with the Dominion Government in connection with the Department of Agriculture.

Some of the chess players of the town met at the home of Mr Thompson on Tuesday evening where they indulged in a harmless battle for supremacy. As they all came out unscathed from the fray they intend to meet again in the near future. Those present were Miss Macdonald, Rev. J. A. Rowland, Mr R. J. Hogg, and Mr Somerville. Perhaps they will form a club some of these days and then Summerland will have to look to her laurels for they would surely want to have a tournament then.

Business Meeting of Ambulance League.

At a special business meeting of the Ambulance League a letter was read from the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs Aitkins, in which she said that she lived so far from town that it was impossible for her to attend the meetings in the winter. Her resignation was accepted with great regret, for she has done splendid work for the league. Mrs R. J. Hogg was appointed Secretary-Treasurer. It was decided to send a pair of socks to each of the boys in the trenches. A motion was carried to meet on Tuesday afternoon every other week for sewing. Next Tuesday afternoon the members will meet at the home of Mrs W. Miller at half-past two.

Comfort Club Meeting.

A Comfort Club meeting was called at the close of the Ambulance League, the president, Mrs Smalls, in the chair. The Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs Dryden, read the minutes of the previous meeting, and gave a financial report that showed that since the beginning of the club in December, 1915, $105.50 had been raised. The Secretary then read some letters of appreciation from some of the soldiers who had received parcels from the Comfort Club. They were all delighted with the good things they contained, but they appreciated the kind thought which prompted the sending of the parcels, most of all. Other parcels are to be sent to the men in the trenches at regular intervals, and a meeting is called for Friday afternoon at the home of the Secretary to pack parcels.

A full carload of white beans was shipped from Kelowna last week. This was the first car of its kind to leave the district, and was billed to Winnipeg.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING RIGHTS of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-West Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant. Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year. The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

1917 COUNCIL GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The scheme was heartily endorsed by the Council.

If satisfactory arrangements can be made as to terms, two lots may be purchased by the Council from the Eyre & Cutbill estate, near the Municipal Office.

H. Tomlin has relinquished his claim to the shale pit which he claimed was partly on his land, owing to a dispute as to the location of the lot line.

The regular meeting day of the Council was fixed for the 10th of every month.

NEW SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS FIRST SESSION.

municate with the Principal on this, and also the matter of maintaining a uniform idea of grading between the Central and the outlying schools.

The regular meeting day of the Trustees was fixed for the first Tuesday in the month. It was proposed to continue meeting in the Municipal Building as heretofore, but Mr Logie objected to this since the Board was to be separated from his work, and the room constituted his private office. It was finally decided therefore to hold the next meeting in the High School building on the 6th of February, at the close of the school work. Afternoon meetings for the winter months at any rate were thought to be more convenient for the lady members.

A unique situation has developed in civic affairs at Vernon. At the nominations last week S. A. Shatford was elected by acclamation for mayor and L. J. Ball, manager of the Vernon News for alderman, these being the only two nominees. It is now the duty of these two men to select other citizens to act with them on the council.

Okanagan Will Be Beet Seed Garden.

Expectation That Big Industry Will Spring Up In This Valley.

According to officials of the Canadian Seed Branch at Ottawa, the Okanagan Valley promises to become the seed garden of Canada. Before the war most of the seed used in Canada came from Belgium, France and Germany. This supply has been largely cut off, and the question of getting sufficient seed has been a serious matter. One of the most difficult problems has been to get sufficient sugar beet seed, which, before the outbreak of hostilities were nearly all shipped from Belgium and Germany. Experiments have been made in the raising of seed in the Okanagan, and this year several carloads of sugar beet seed will be procurable from this Valley. The Okanagan, along with several other valleys of similar climate, is the most ideal in Canada for seed raising, and is the equal of California points, which have hitherto alone been able to compete with the European growers.

Officials at Ottawa believe it will develop into a big industry. At present prices are high, and there is no doubt that there will be profits made. For instance, sugar beet is 22 cent a pound, as compared with 6 cents before the war. Whether, the war over, the Canadian growers will be able to continue to compete with the European countries, depends largely on the labor market.

Ex-Councillor W. A. McKenzie of Penticton won in Saturday's elections over ex-Reeve Foley-Bennett, 151 to 80, ex-Coun. K. McKenzie coming third. That municipality now has a woman on the school board, Mrs Chas. Groer. Thursday carried over Saturday for the half holiday by a slight majority, 103 to 150.

The troublesome slides on the Hope Mountain section of the K.V.R. having been cleared, the regular train service was resumed last Saturday, much to the satisfaction of everyone concerned.

Passing Events: Social, Personal, &c.

Miss Marjorie Tingley has entered the Normal School at Vancouver.

Apples are reported to be now moving freely at the Coast. Wholesalers there express themselves as well pleased with the demand.

William Brent, who resides on the Bowen pre-emption near Trout Creek a few miles back, has become possessed of a new Ford car very recently.

The name of Miss Kathleen Elliott was included in error last week among a list of Summerland young people now attending Normal School at Vancouver. She is still a scholar at the High School here.

Miss Marion Harwood is now at the provincial Normal School where she has gone to take another course in teacher training which will enable her to get a license of higher grade than that she now holds.

It seemed to most people to be a little colder than usual last Sunday morning, though as a matter of fact the thermometer did not register near zero anywhere close to the lake. If the Okanagan had been treated to a sample of Prairie weather there would have been good reason to complain. At Brandon, for instance, last Sunday the temperature was about fifty-two degrees below zero. Isn't its climate one asset of the Okanagan?

Mrs C. W. Lees received for the first time since her marriage in November last at her home on Thursday afternoon. The reception was very largely attended, about eighty ladies in all calling to pay their respects to the bride. Helping Mrs Lees in receiving the guests was her mother, Mrs W. H. Hayes, and assisting in the serving of afternoon tea were Mesdames A. Stark, R. E. White, F. A. Williams, and Miss Edna MacLeod.

As a result of a ward meeting held last Tuesday evening in the Hotel, following the Board of Trade meeting, the ratepayers of Ward 1 prevailed on Mr R. H. English to accept nomination for the vacant seat on the Municipal Council for the ward. Mr English himself proposed the name of Dr Andrew, but the latter could not see his way clear to accept. It seems likely, therefore, that Mr English will be elected by acclamation next Monday. According to the draft of council committees made out by the Reeve, the Councillor for this ward will serve on the Finance and Electric Light Committees.

Mr and Mrs Muir Steuart are now in southern California whence they journeyed after visiting Vancouver and Victoria.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held on Friday, Jan. 26th, at three o'clock, at the home of Mrs W. C. Kelley. 25

Having passed the usual medical test, W. J. Taylor boarded the train Wednesday night for Vancouver to enlist in the Army Medical Corps.

Lee Hatfield went out on Thursday morning's boat on his way to England where he will enter upon training for his work with the inland water transport service. He was delayed somewhat in getting away by the non-arrival of his transportation across the continent, and his comrade, Chas. Wharton, who goes into the same service, had to leave almost a week earlier.

The Y.M.C.A. canvass is now under full swing in this locality. In this connection the fine driving mare used by Rev. N. McNaughton last summer has been donated by the owner for the benefit of the military Y.M.C.A. and kindred work. We should like to realize on her as early as possible. Price $80. For particulars apply to W. C. Kelley. ad.

The statement published in last week's Review to the effect that Private Harold Smith was among those from the 172nd Battalion who were being sent back to Canada on account of physical unfitness, seems to be unfounded. So far as is known the only two who are so affected are Levi Johnston and Cyril Woodworth. In regard to Levi Johnston there is a possibility that other military duties may be found for him that would not be interfered with by his slight physical defect.

After a confinement of more than a week in the local jail, the young man, Anderson, who was arrested here, being of unsound mind, has been taken back to his home town, Wetaskiwin, Alberta. Constable Brown got in touch last week-end with wire with relatives there, and on Wednesday evening Mr Erickson, a brother-in-law of Anderson's, arrived to accompany him back. They went out together on this morning's boat. It is understood to be the intention of the family to have the unfortunate man placed in a hospital for care and treatment. All expenses to which the municipality have been put are understood to have been defrayed by Mr Erickson.

Constable Brown experienced the other day what he describes as hard a five minutes of work as he ever put in. It was caused by the sudden attempt at liberty by his prisoner the demented Swede. The young man had been let out into the outer room to get warm and to eat, and while there made a bolt for freedom. It was only by a supreme effort that Mr Brown, who had been suffering from grip and was not at his best, was able to throw him into the cell. Even then he did not have him secure for the young man had cunningly removed the padlock. However, the officer was able to hold the door closed till the lock from the next door was reached and snapped into place.

The following donations to the Hospital for December are gratefully acknowledged by the matron: Mrs J. P. McIntyre, canned tomatoes; Mrs Rutherford, bread, buns, butter; Mrs H. Tomlin, rabbit, canned fruit; Mrs A. Moyes, scones; Mrs D. Kiratino, chutney; Mrs G. Gantrell, canned fruit; St Andrew's Ladies' Aid, cake; Mr W. C. W. Fosbery, potatoes, magazines, cream; Mrs H. C. Mollor, potted meat; Mr Isaac Blair, 2 boxes apples, 1 barrel, 9 qts. canned fruit, mince pie; Mrs R. C. Lipsett, plum pudding, home made candy; Mrs Napier Higgin, mince meat, canned fruit, old linnon; Summerland Supply, oranges, nuts, olives, chocolates; Mrs M. Campbell, chickens; Mrs J. Galt, mince meat; Mrs W. J. Robinson, mince pie and home made candy; Miss Elsie Riley, candy; Mr E. B. May, turkey; Mrs H. A. Solly, cream; Mr J. Downton, oysters.

Provincial Constable E. C. Graham was a visitor to Summerland last Saturday night.

Mrs J. L. Logie went down to Vancouver early this week on a visit.

Mrs Hood left Wednesday for Summerland on a visit to friends. — Hedley Gazette.

An effort is being made to form a basket ball club among the young ladies of the community.

Creon Hatt, son of Rev D. E. Hatt, went down to the Coast a short time ago and is reported to have enlisted.

The pupils of Prin. Lees' room in the Central School enjoyed a sleigh ride last Friday night, after which they were entertained by Prin. and Mrs Lees.

St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid will give an Old-Fashioned Social, Thursday, Feb. 8th, in Parish Hall. Old Time Programme. Admission 25 cents, Children 15 cents. 25

The Junior Red Cross Society, which in a quiet and steady way is accomplishing a great deal of good work along the lines its name indicates, held an exceedingly successful social on Monday night in the Parish Hall. There was an attendance of about seventy-five in all, and each was expected to bring with them a wrapped parcel containing some little thing that the donors were willing should be auctioned off. The idea took well, and it was found from the bidding that it was not feasible to place a maximum price of 25 cents on each parcel as was tried at first. Though no hopes were held out of any parcel containing more than 25 cents worth of goods, yet the bidding was not done from mercenary motives, for many parcels went higher than that limit. The proceeds altogether amounted to about $29. Refreshments were served, but the time was found too short to have but one item of a musical program which had been prepared, this being a piano duet by Miss Eisey and Mr Davidson. The Junior Red Cross League embraces a large membership of young people who hold weekly meetings at which not only much useful Red Cross work is accomplished but time is set apart as well for devotional exercises and musical work. The attendance at the weekly meetings is about fifty.

Heating Troubles Are Now Ended.

Such is the Opinion of Trustees.

Has the trouble been located, and are the rooms in the Central School to be comfortably heated henceforth? Such is the assurance of Trustee Sharp, who, with Trustee Hilborn, has been putting in much time during the past few days at the school. So simple is the remedy, and yet so obviously effective, that if such has been the fault the parents of the pupils may now hope with reasonable assurance that there will be heat from now on. It would seem that till now the heat has been going up the chimney direct, instead of circulating about the furnace; in other words the direct draft, used when starting a fire was not again closed. Absurd as this may seem, there is the explanation of a new and till now inexperienced man on the job, but one who is making every effort to prove efficient and who will no doubt make good.

With the rooms ranging close to and at times below freezing the discomfort has been great, and work seriously interrupted, and yesterday no attempt was made to hold classes, so cold were the rooms. It is reported that today the rooms are all comfortable. With the arrival tomorrow of the contractor to complete the cold air ducts it will be hoped that the serious annoyance so long drawn out will be at an end. With the single exception of Prin. Lees, every member of the Central teaching staff has recently been forced to lose a day or more with illness, the last being Miss Ballantine. She has not been able to be out since Wednesday.

BOARD OF TRADE ELECTS ITS OFFICERS.

banquet was advanced and taken up. Details of the function will be worked out by the committee in whose charge the arrangements were left, consisting of Messrs J. Galt, C. W. Lees and J. Tait, who are to meet to-morrow. The banquet will be held in Hotel Summerland at the earliest possible date. The price per seat will be put at a nominal figure, just covering expenses. An effort will be made to get a speaker of some prominence in from the Coast, and the members of the Legislature for this and neighboring constituencies may be guests. It is a long time since a function of this nature was held in Summerland and it is hoped that the men of the place will support the innovation.

A passenger from the Coast on Wednesday morning, T. N. Ritchie is now here for a week or so, attending to some business affairs.

Lieut.-Col. A. Bruce Powley, commanding officer of the 143rd Battalion, B.C. Bantams, denies that any word has been received to the effect that his unit will go overseas this week, as was freely rumored. As far as ascertained, transportation arrangements have not yet been made for the battalion, and it is improbable that the Bantams will get away before early next month.

ROYAL STANDARD FIELD SEEDS

WE are extending our already extensive field seed business for 1917. It is the desire of the Canadian Government that the people produce as much as possible during the ensuing year, and we are arranging with the leading dealers throughout British Columbia and Alberta to carry a complete line of ROYAL STANDARD FIELD SEEDS. These seeds are the choicest it is possible to secure in the World's Markets. They are Government inspected and carefully selected for purity.

Seeds should be purchased early as prices inevitably advance as the season progresses. In all probability the market will be short, and it will be difficult later in the year to make purchases.

West Summerland, B.C.,
January 17, 1917.

The Editor, Summerland Review.
Dear Sir,

If you will spare me a small space in your valuable paper I will try and straighten out some thoughts that I have heard expressed by some of our good citizens.

It has been said that in the event of Miss McLeod leaving the Municipal Office, Miss Logie would be placed in her stead. I presume the fact of Miss Logie being seen in the office helping her father in his arduous labors at this season of the year has caused people to so think.

She has only been there as a helper to her father, for which he will no doubt satisfy her. Miss Logie is not a stenographer, and has no intention of applying for the position. Mr Logie has said that she could not fill the place.

The Council could not think of giving her the position, she not being a stenographer.

I hope this may help some of the people to lay aside any such thoughts.

Thanking you,
I remain, yours,
ISAAC BLAIR.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

There was a good attendance at the annual meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute. Several resolutions were passed. One from Mrs Davies asking for the mother's right to share the guardianship of her child; also for the support of sick and destitute persons by near relatives; another from the department stating that membership fees be raised to $1 instead of 50 cents. The annual report was read showing a balance on hand. The sum of $45 was donated to the Prisoners-of-War Fund, $5 to Patriotic Fund, $2.70 to Y.M.C.A., and $3.50 to Serbians. The last two were taken up in silver collections. The Institute starts the year with 25 members. The new officers for 1917 are: Mrs H. G. Estabrook, President; Mrs O. Zimmerman, 1st Vice-President; Miss Dale, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs J. J. Mitchell, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs Bent and Mrs Gayton, Auditors; Mrs Estabrook, Mrs Gayton, Mrs Fosbery, program committee. After the business a short social time was held. The Institute will assist the Farmers' Institute by getting names for the packing classes.

ORIENTAL POPULATION.

In the course of investigations by Coast fruit growers into the Oriental situation, it has been discovered that there are approximately 10,000 Japanese and 40,000 Chinese in the province. Of the Japanese only 500 are on the land, the bulk of that nationality in this country being in the fishing business, though quite a number are employed in the lumbering camps.

Mr D. W. Sutherland has been elected as Mayor of the City of Kelowna, succeeding Mayor Jones, retiring. Mayor Sutherland has long served on the council, and was opposed by Alderman Copeland. With the exception of these two the old council were returned by acclamation, as were the two citizens named in place of the two aldermen running for the mayoralty. For the first time Kelowna now has a woman school trustee. Thursday was favored by nearly three to one over Saturday for the half holiday.

Summerland Hospital Society.

Balance Sheet for the Year ending 31st December, 1916.

Auditor's Report.
Summerland, B.C., 9th January, 1917.
To the Members, Summerland Hospital Society, Summerland, B.C.
I have audited the books of account of your society for the year ending 31st December, 1916.
The attached statements of Income and Expenditure for this period and of Assets and Liabilities as at 31st December last are correct abstracts from these books, and in my opinion truly show the running of the hospital for the past year and the position of the society at the end of the year.
A proper amount appears to have been allowed for depreciation.
I would draw attention to the very efficient manner in which the accounts have been kept.

Growing Grain.

Some Figures that will Show a Paring of Imports.

How many bushels of oats were grown and threshed in this neighborhood last season? Would you believe that of oats alone one threshing outfit, operated by C. H. Gayton, threshed five thousand bushels of oats? To be exact Mr Gayton put through the thresher 4,994 bushels of oats of the finest quality. Other grains similarly treated by him included 586 bushels of wheat, and from 75 to 100 bushels of rye.

One grower, John Pierre, has a thousand bushels of as fine No. 1 oats as are grown anywhere. Perhaps the next largest grower of oats was the Agur estate. The meadows at the mouth of Prairie Valley produced most of the grain grown within the municipality, the growers being the Agur estate, H. C. Mellor, Thos. Dale, and others.

The largest part of Mr Dale's crop was cut green for hay, as has been his custom for years.

The producing locally of the grain, and which is probably only the commencement of such endeavor here, is yet another means of cutting down imports of farm products, and will help just that much in making the community more self-supporting in those lines.

Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary Annual.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary was held on Jan. 16th at the home of Mrs J. E. Phinney, with a good attendance. The annual reports were read, and the treasurer's statement showed a cash balance on hand of $156.40.

The following officers were elected for the new year:

- President, Mrs R. C. Lipsett
- First Vice-President, Mrs H. A. Solly
- Second Vice-President, Mrs A. L. Moreland
- Secretary, Mrs C. W. Lees
- Treasurer, Mrs E. B. May
- House Committee, Mrs G. Gartrell, Mrs R. E. White
- Purchasing Committee, Mrs F. W. Andrew, Mrs E. B. May, Mrs W. J. Robinson.

LOCALS.

Aubrey King, who has been working for some time past at Balcomo Ranch, has enlisted for active service with the 68th Field Artillery.

Dr White, Superintendent of Methodist Missions in B.C. will be in Summerland next week, and on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock will deliver an address on "Newfoundland," illustrated by lantern slides. This will take place in the Methodist Church. A collection will be taken.

The Board of Trade banquet committee has the arrangements for that function well in hand, and the banquet will duly be held early next month. Communication is being had with the Coast with a view of arranging for a speaker of some eminence, but nothing definite has been heard up to the time of going to press.

Latest word regarding the condition of Roy Darkis is of a most encouraging nature. After the several operations he has undergone during which he has had to have portions of one lung removed, he is now able to be up and moving around. His friends here will be gratified to learn of such progress being made.

The Baptist Church held its annual meeting on Thursday evening of this week, beginning the evening at 6.30 with a supper. Reports were received of the different branches of activity. That of the finances showed things to be in a fairly healthy state. Officers were also elected for the year. The feeling of the members was to continue the services under the present union arrangements for a time, and in the meantime a pulpit committee has the matter of a permanent pastor in hand, though definite action may not be taken for some time.

Bogus Canvassers Made Good Haul.

How Two Collectors Frier Several Hundred Dollars Loose from this Community.

Two young fellows with a very plausible story seem to have done the district up very nicely about two or three months ago lifting several hundred dollars, it would appear, in an energetic campaign collecting subscriptions for magazines for which they were not authorized collectors. They represented themselves to residents here as McGill University students seeking to further their college career by collecting subscriptions for different periodicals, each one they obtained supposedly counting so many points towards some "scholarship" offered in connection with the work. They had as credentials printed blanks and receipts, which bore the name of some subscription agency in Toronto. From different complaints and stories which have come to the Review Office it is evident that these two young fellows gathered up a long list of subscriptions—all paid in advance—but the magazines are yet to be heard from.

The receipt form which they gave to clients bore a footnote to the effect that if the periodicals did not arrive after a month to communicate with the Toronto address given. After waiting for this period some people accordingly wrote as suggested, and have received notification from the postal authorities that the concern in question cannot be located. The same is likely true of the two budding financiers, though they may be working the same slick confidence game in some other locality.

There are recognized channels here for placing subscriptions to most magazines, and it would seem scarcely necessary to point out the wisdom of dealing with these in future, rather than trusting to complete strangers, however guileless they may appear. Whether the astute couple were working on their own initiative, or in collaboration with the Toronto concern can only be conjectured. In any event it looks like farewell forever to those hard-earned dollars.

The Pure Bred Stock Association

As a money making proposition for its members the Summerland Pure Bred Stock Association could not be considered a success. But it was never intended as such. It has, however, accomplished much along the lines for which it was organized—the improvement of the livestock of the community. Now that there are so many pure bred hogs in the place it is quite probable that the association will no longer give attention to that branch. At the recent annual meeting in St Stephen's Hall, which, by the way, should have been better attended, it was decided to return the Duroc-Jersey and Berkshire sties loaned the association by the Department of Agriculture. The Holstein will be exchanged for another of the same breed.

Officers elected for the current year were:—
President, Dr R. C. Lipsett
Vice-President, Thos. Dale
Secy.-Treas., H. Bristow
Directors, R. H. English, R. V. Agur, H. C. Mellor and P. G. Dodwell.

R. H. English The New Councillor.

Only Nomination for Seat Vacated by H. Bristow.

Ward I. will be represented on the municipal council by R. H. English who was elected by acclamation on Monday to the seat which H. Bristow, who was elected with the other councillors, decided not to occupy.

The new councillor will be on the Finance Committee with Coun. Simpson, and Coun. Johnston and he will be the Electric Light Committee.

Further Electric Light Extensions

Trout Creek Point and Experimental Station Wants Light.

Coun. R. H. English Takes Oath of Office.

Postmaster Phinney Says Discriminated Against.—Council Reverses Recent Change.

A further extension of the electric light service beyond that recently suggested around the east of Giant's Head is likely to be made. This extension would continue down over the hill to Trout Creek Point and the Experimental Station. The Council was approached by Mr Gilbert Thornber at a special meeting this morning and urged to take the preliminary steps at once. He assured the Council that the necessary capital would be forthcoming. An estimate covering this additional extension beyond Garnett's corner was submitted by the Municipal Electrician. He estimated the cost at $1,250.00 to a point that would serve nearly all of Trout Creek. The minimum revenue from the 19 homes that would be served was estimated at $345.00. If carried further to include the Wilson and Treffry homes there would be a further cost of $150.00 in capital expenditure with a minimum revenue of $30 yearly. The proposition was received favorably by the councillors, and the Trout Creek people were practically given assurance that the extension would be made.

Electrician Thornber also submitted a recommendation for some changes in the power plant that would, he said, add about 18 per cent to its capacity. His plan would also do away with the need of adding to the length of the building. He would install a new triple nozzle water motor, and connect it directly with the generator. A considerable expense in belt upkeep would thus be saved as well. With the three nozzle motor less water will be used when the load is light, and greater power obtained when all nozzles are open. The direct connection also gives greater power. The clerk was instructed to open negotiations for the exchange of the present motor for the one proposed. An effort will also be made to get the advice of an hydraulic engineer on the question of harnessing the spring behind the laundry for additional power.

Mr Logie reported that Miss McLeod wished to leave at the end of the month and as he did not know of anyone to fill the position he had asked R. Pollock to put in an application. This and two other applications were read. One of these was from Miss Arkell, and the other from Miss Carruthers, of Local Hospital Well Managed.

President Comments on Efficiency of Management.

Society Holds Annual Meeting.

Will Provide More Room.—Fewer Sick, But Daily Cost Is Less.—The New Board.

The Hospital Society held its annual meeting in the Parish Hall yesterday, receiving the appreciative attendance of a good number of interested citizens.

The balance sheet and auditor's report, as published in the previous issue of the Review, had evidently been intelligently studied as the remarks were very much to the point. The only criticism offered was an expression of surprise that the number of subscriptions received was so small. It was felt that although so many calls are being made for the soldiers, yet it is the bounden duty of every citizen to take sufficient interest in their own hospital to at least become a member of the society at a cost of $1 per year.

The secretary's report showed a decrease in the number of patients treated from 3 1/2 to 3 per day, in spite of which the cost per day's treatment had been reduced 7c.

The matron reported 30 operations, 24 births, and 3 deaths during the year. The president thought it must give a feeling of satisfaction to all to be able to present such a satisfactory balance sheet, showing evident economy. Heartly thanks were due the staff, Dr Andrew, and all who had contributed.

Mr E. B. May, the treasurer, told of the work done upstairs in the hospital. At present one bedroom and a nurses' reception room only will be completed until more funds are forthcoming. Many of those present spoke of the evident satisfactory management of the hospital.

Mr Helmer was elected in place of Mrs W. H. Hayes, who resigned her seat on the board as she would be unable to attend meetings, and the three retiring members of the board, Messrs Higgin, Ritchie, and Lipsett, were re-elected to serve a further term of three years. Mr W. J. Robinson will be president during 1917.

Vancouver. Mr Logie was authorized to engage Mr Pollock.

There was another long discussion over the bank's demand for the assigning of all taxes now in arrears. The Finance Committee and the treasurer will take up this and also the question of a loan on 1917 taxes with the bank at an early date.

Councillor English sat at the board for the first time this morn-

Soldier Answers The Objectors.

Non-Supporters of Patriotic Fund Should Read What The Fighting Man Says.

Workers for the Patriotic Fund report that from time to time they encounter people who for one reason or another do not support the fund, imagining that they have discovered some real objection to the policy of aiding the dependents of enlisted soldiers in this way. These murmurings must have reached the men at the front, and it can well be imagined that the effect of such grumblings on a man who has been fighting hard would be anything but inspiring.

It is under these very circumstances that a man in the trenches has been led to write back his impressions on the attitude of the "conscientious objectors" who do not see their way clear to helping the Patriotic Fund in even a small way. The letter this soldier wrote appeared in a Vancouver paper recently, and one of the workers for the Fund in Summerland has asked the Review to devote some space to it. Read these extracts from this stinging rebuke from the trenches:

"Of all the unmerited kicks against the receipt of support from these funds by the soldiers' wives and families, there is none more unworthy than the claim that the combined payments of the Canadian separation allowance and the Patriotic Fund disbursements is more than the average income of the soldiers in pre-war days. Granted that such may be the case in a few instances, it is very safe to assert that this is vastly untrue of the majority.

"I wish it were possible to conduct a tour of inspection and show the folks who imagine they are making a sacrifice when they contribute a casual dime to a 'tag day' collection, the conditions under which their comrades are serving. Here, every man within a distance of about ten miles of the front-line carries his life in his hands. He surely deserves a decent living for his family.

"To those who are dwelling in this dangerous environment and making daily sacrifices, the smallness of this argument strikes with discouraging effect. They begin to wonder if, after all, patriotism with a great number of our citizens is not merely a figure of speech.

"If it is a question of monetary value placed on services rendered, any man that does duty in this shell-ridden area, should receive pay comparable to the best paid officials of the province. However, such a spirit never won any war, much less this one, and the sordid question of dollars and cents does not enter into the heads of our boys, who are far too busy fighting the cause of the nation to give it any other thought than insofar as it concerns the care of their families and dependents. All that they ask is that the province will live up to its contract, do the right thing by the ones they have left behind, and last, but not least, rob any payments of anything that permeates of charity."

ing, after taking the oath of office. A letter from Postmaster Phinney complaining of the changing of the post office address of the municipal office and the surrendering of the post office box formerly held in the West Summerland post office, as well as the buying of the stamps used in the municipal office at the lower post office was read.

Mr Logie was asked to explain the situation to the Council. He stated that it had long been his intention to have a rural route box as in that way he could get the south mail shortly after the arrival of the boat each morning, whereas when gotten through the upper post office he could not get it till evening. He had therefore given up his post office box. Mr Nixon had always gotten the municipal mail through a box at West Summerland. Now, with Mr Hogg going back and forth from town it was more convenient to get the mail down town and also to post letters there, which could be done two hours after the mail closed at West Summerland.

Longer Vacations.

School Pupils to Help Gather and Pack Fruit.

In order to augment the supply of labor in the fruit growing districts of the province, the Department of Education, through the Minister, the Hon. Dr MacLean, has made arrangements to permit of the senior classes in the public and high schools assisting in the work of picking and packing fruit. This is a temporary arrangement, and will, to a certain extent, obviate the necessity of employing Orientals, and will supply the shortage of labor due to the war. The pupils of these senior classes will not be required to return to school until October 1, the school time so lost being partly made up by a shortening of the Christmas and Easter holidays. A circular letter embodying these changes will soon be issued by the Department.

OBITUARY.

ANDREW GRAHAM CAMPBELL.

After reaching the extreme age of ninety-one years, Mr Andrew Graham Campbell passed away this morning at the home of his son, Coun. J. R. Campbell. Death was due to ailments induced by extreme age. He had been ill for some time past, and of late it had been obvious that the end was not far distant.

The late Mr Campbell was born in the north of Ireland, but had been in Canada practically all his life. He has resided in Summerland with his son for the last ten years. A family of nine survive their father, four sons and five daughters. Two other sons are known in Summerland from having lived here, J. W. Campbell, who lived in Garnett Valley, and Rev. A. G. Campbell, who was connected with the College.

The funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, at 2.30 from the house. Rev. A. Henderson will officiate.

There is always room at the top, but the only elevator thither is toil and self-effort.

Greenwood has no mayor, and apparently nobody wants the job. In the meantime Greenwood's veteran clerk and treasurer, G. B. Taylor, is acting as 'minister without portfolio.'

At least two events of especial interest to the farmers of the district are pending, which should be kept in mind, being of unusual importance. An advertisement of the Farmers' Institute in this issue calls attention to a public meeting being held next Wednesday in the Campbell Hall, to discuss the formation of a branch of the United Farmers of B.C. here. A letter from the organizers of the movement at Kelowna is also published in another column, and should have the attention of every farmer in the place. The annual short course under the auspices of the Farmers' Institute is also to take place in the near future, probably commencing about the 5th of February, and continuing for a week. This course covers every branch of farming as it is carried on in this locality, and those who recall the success of the course last year will be among those to attend again this year. It is expected that a similar party of competent speakers will be conducting the course again this year. Fuller announcement will be made in next week's Review.

Coun. Simpson strongly condemned the action of the clerk, stating that even accepting the explanation the clerk should have known that such action at this time would have been misconstrued by the public. The Reeve was sorry that the change had been made at this time for the same reason.

A motion proposed by Coun. Simpson and seconded by Coun. English, and carried unanimously, all the councillors voting except Coun. Campbell who was not present, instructed the officials to engage a box at the West Summerland post office, and to transact the municipal postal business with that office.

THE HALF-HOLIDAY.

SATURDAY IS THE DAY preferred for the half-holiday by the people of the South Okanagan. There is no doubt of this when all facts are considered. If Peachland, Summerland, Naramata and Penticton could, as a group, vote upon a day to be selected as the half-holiday for all these places there is no doubt that Saturday would be chosen. At Penticton only was the issue really a live one, and seven votes switched from Thursday to Saturday would have decided in favor of the latter day. The fact that the towns up the Valley had selected Thursday no doubt had considerable influence as did also the feeling that the towns nearer would go the same way.

As it was Peachland, quite independent of others, voted for Saturday. Undoubtedly Summerland would also have voted the same way had it not been for the impression, confirmed by phone the morning of voting day, that Penticton would favor Saturday. It will be seen that what the other fellow was doing greatly influenced the voting at all these points. In Summerland many who were strongly in favor of Saturday voted the other way just so that we would be in line with the other towns.

Group these lower lake towns, all to observe the day selected by the majority, and we would quickly adopt Saturday.

Speaking of the holiday, it now seems likely that the act which brought about the referenda, and which has been the subject of much criticism, is likely to be considerably amended in the next parliament.

SCHOOL HELP AT HARVEST.

SUMMER VACATIONS are to be lengthened in order to make available for harvesting the help which the pupils in the high school and senior public school grades can give. Announcement of this is made in another column. Is the plan for making up for the "lost time" in study the best? It is proposed to cut into the Christmas and Easter holidays in order to partially make up the time taken at the first of the school year for fruit gathering and packing. This will be hard on the pupils, particularly those who apply themselves diligently to their studies during the weeks of school, and the respites afforded by these short vacation periods are much needed to recuperate for the work ahead. Better would it be to carry further into the fall and begin earlier in the spring the full school day. Here in B.C. it is the custom to open school at 9.30 a.m. and close at 3.00 p.m. during the winter. Why not have the longer day for a longer period of the school year? A half hour could be further added at either end of the day for a further time.

Doings of Peachland

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mrs R. Mitchell, who has been troubled with bronchitis for some time, was obliged to go to the hospital in Kelowna last Thursday. She was accompanied by Mrs E. F. Smith.

Mayor Jones of Kelowna will address a meeting in the Council Chamber on Wednesday night on the irrigation question.

Reeve Morrison started for the Coast on Friday, and is expected back at the end of the week.

Mr Leslie Rogers of Kelowna was in town on Friday.

Miss Gertrude Gummow was a passenger to Penticton on Monday night, returning on Wednesday morning.

Mr R. Houston, who went to Acme, Alberta, with a carload of horses, returned on Tuesday night. He found an agreeable change in temperature when he arrived, for he said that it was extremely cold when he left Alberta. The thermometer registered 20 degrees below zero.

Mrs P. C. Cresswell received word last Friday that her husband had been seriously wounded. We sincerely hope that he will soon be on the road to recovery.

Mr D. J. White took his team down to Naramata on Friday where he is going to work for the Penticton Lumber Company.

The snow has nearly all disappeared from the town, but there is plenty of it left on the hills. This makes it inconvenient for the ranchers, because they have to leave their sleighs some distance from town and walk the rest of the way.

Visitors registered at the Edgewater Inn are as follows: G. Gartrell, Summerland; T. McAlpine, Summerland; J. Robert Brown, Summerland; Leslie V. Rogers, Kelowna; D. D. Smith, Vancouver; C. B. Whitney, Vancouver.

The first meeting of the Board of School Trustees which had been postponed from the first Monday in January, was held in the Council Chambers on Monday evening, the 23rd inst. Mr A. Town was re-elected as Chairman. The estimates for the coming year were then prepared for the Council. The Trustees decided to close the north doors of the school for the winter.

The annual meeting of the Union Church was held on Wednesday evening, the minister, Rev. J. A. Rowland, in the chair. The retiring board of managers were re-elected, viz: Messrs Urquhart, Taylor, and Hogg, and Messrs Town and Ferguson were elected to represent the Methodists on the Board. When all the money subscribed has been paid up there will be a credit balance on hand. There was considerable discussion about the work for the coming year, and it was felt that the prospect was very encouraging. Reports were received from the Sunday School, Ladies' Aid Society, Missionary Society, and the Board of Managers. They were all better than could have been expected, taking into consideration the conditions.

Mrs James Silver received word from Penticton on Tuesday that her husband had been injured in a logging camp. He was the foreman of the Penticton Lumber Company's camp near Naramata. Mrs Silver left by the evening boat to be with him.

Mrs C. K. McDougal has received the sad news that her brother, Mr Charles Woodley, died very suddenly at his home in Winnipeg.

Mr Dynes was a visitor to town on Saturday.

Mr W. D. Miller spent Monday in town with his family.

Mr John McDougald spent the week-end in Summerland.

Mr J. R. Brown, G. Gartrell, and T. McAlpine of Summerland were in town last Friday.

Mr MacKinnon was a passenger to Kelowna on Tuesday.

The Stock Breeders' meeting which should have taken place last Saturday is adjourned until Saturday the 27th inst. The election of officers will then take place. Tenders are out for a caretaker for the pure bred Jersey bull, and these will be submitted at this meeting, and a caretaker appointed.

Captain J. C. Gore, for the past ten years or so superintendent of the British Columbia Lake and River Steamer service for the C.P.R., died last Thursday night at his home in Nelson. He made many visits to the Okanagan and Summerland in the course of his duties, and has been active in the arrangement of special fruit transportation facilities on this lake. He was born sixty-four years ago in the State of Michigan, and his death, which was very sudden, was due to heart failure.

Suppose the Review Ceased Publication

JUST suppose this community were left without a local newspaper! What would become of its local pride? Summerland would be just a name on a railway time table or a post office guide. Men and women might die, or marry, or go away, or suffer accidents, or entertain friends, and you would hear about it all only through gossip. Municipal affairs and other news of interest to this particular part of the wide, wide world would have no publicity. Our local merchants would have no cheap and quick way of telling you what they provide for you. Our churches and schools and other institutions would have no medium of news or appeal. And this whole community would slip back and be the sport of jokesmiths.

Would city papers take the place of the Review?
You know they would not.

THE point of it all is: Like all other newspapers we are feeling the pinch of higher prices for paper and other material. But, unlike hundreds of other weekly papers, we do not propose yet to raise the price, but simply ask that each and every subscriber pay up his or her subscription and keep it paid up. Nothing unfair about that is there? Now to "kick" at this and drop your subscription, would be to say, in effect, "This community doesn't need a local weekly. If I can do without the Review, all others can."

We do not believe for one moment that the good people of Summerland, Peachland, Naramata and neighborhoods will "kick" or drop their subscription to the Review. We expect all our subscribers to recognize the new conditions of living and publishing that have made this policy a necessity. Do you realize that your weekly newspaper at the rate of 4 cents a week—little more than the price of a postage stamp—costs an insignificant sum when you reckon up the service it renders you and this whole community.

Be loyal to and proud of the community you live in. Keep it on the map.

Orchard and Farm:

Topics of Timely Interest and Helpfulness in the complex Business of Farming.

Winter Irrigation of Garden and Orchard

Every farm home appreciates the good fresh vegetables that a small garden produces, not mentioning the saving in the grocer bill. In the dry sections it becomes a difficult task to maintain a satisfactory garden with the exception of a few quick and early maturing vegetables.

The winter rainfall can be supplemented, says Mr Henry Holtz, of the Washington Experiment Station, Pullman, from the well or spring, using a windmill or gas engine for power. Many additional vegetables and fruits can be grown in the garden that it is impossible to grow without such additional water. The amount of supplementary water will depend upon the rainfall and vegetables to be grown. Ten inches of winter rainfall will penetrate about three feet in the average soil type of the dry sections. This is moisture enough for many garden crops with good moisture conservation. Other crops will produce better and more if additional water is added. Three inches of water (about 2 gallons) on every square foot will wet the soil about one foot deep. The following table gives the depth to which some of the common garden vegetables feed:

Corn 6 feet	Beans 3 1/2 feet	Potatoes 4 feet
Beets 3 "	Peas 5 "	Carrots 3 1/2 "

Such vegetables as lettuce, radishes, onions, etc., which are early maturing can usually be grown with the moisture from the winter rainfall, but late maturing and heavy producing truck as given in the above table will produce much better with supplementary irrigation. The water is best distributed in furrows 6 inches deep and four feet apart.

Bush fruits, as currants, berries, and large trees also respond to winter irrigation. After irrigation the soil should be mulched by tillage or with straw or manure covering, to conserve the moisture.

Organic and Inorganic Manures.

Organic manures are useful to supply humus, which improves the soil texture and assists cultivation; to give a gradual supply of food to the crop which promotes healthy growth and good quality; and to provide humus to feed the soil bacteria.

Mineral manures are useful as a top dressing for rapid growth and to act as a sterilizer to keep the bacterial flora in balance. They tend to produce an unnaturally quick, soft and sappy growth, which should be avoided in the case of permanent crops like fruit, but which is exactly what is required in green crops like cabbage, lettuce, etc., because in addition to giving earliness they also produce a tender leaf.

Red Cross Notes

An unusually large attendance turned out last Saturday at the weekly meeting of the Red Cross. The ladies find much encouragement as the letters from headquarters are full of words of appreciation of the good work of the Naramata ladies.

The secretary, Mrs Aldridge, read a number of letters from some of our men at the front—letters of acknowledgement and thanks regarding Christmas parcels sent forward last November. One of the letters was from Rev. Mr Bunt, formerly pastor at Naramata.

At the close of the afternoon's labors, Mrs Boothe and Mrs F. J. Young served luncheon.

Pruning School Well Attended.

This week under the auspices of the Farmers' Institute a pruning school in charge of Mr M. H. Chesbro, Provincial Government Horticulturist, was conducted for four days, with two evening sessions. Amongst the number in attendance the following were noted: Messrs Ford Dynes, R. H. King, J. C. Lyons, H. T. Davies, W. Mitchell, D. Walters, F. W. Roit, Miss M. S. Gordon and Edmund Boothe.

The lessons of the instructor were characterized by their thoroughness and care, and were conducted in a manner well calculated to best fit the students to go out singly to prune without outside assistance.

More Soldiers for Active Service.

Last week mention was made of the enlisting of two of our prominent ranchers. This week two others have enlisted. Mr Guy Brock who was head packer for the Naramata Fruit Co., goes forward, and also Mr Charles Grimaldi. The former goes as ship carpenter, and the latter will enter the Army Medical Corps.

Naramata Cider in Demand at Vancouver.

To judge from the demands for cider of the brand put up right here at Naramata it looks as though there would soon be another industry in town—that of cider making. The beginning was made this week when a limited shipment was included in the car of apples that went forward to Vancouver. An attractive motto—the cider that made Naramata famous—it is hoped may prove prophetic.

Current Events OF Town & District

Mr and Mrs E. H. Hancock were visitors to Summerland on Monday.

Fruit Union director Mr F. W. Roit attended a directors' meeting in Summerland on Monday.

Mr Frank Rounds attended to Fruit Union business at Summerland on Tuesday.

Mr W. W. Mitchell has been confined to the house recently as a result of illness.

Mr R. Hunt, manager of Rekladom Ranch, after quite a spell of illness, is again able to be about his duties.

Mr and Mrs Ford Dynes have taken up residence in the Wells cottage immediately opposite the home of T. H. Boothe.

Mr and Mrs Russell Wells, who have spent a month in Vancouver on a winter's holiday, came back on Friday morning.

Mr F. J. Young showed up in town this week, having in common with other neighbors, suffered an attack of la grippe.

The Ladies' Aid, of the Methodist Church are to meet in the church basement next Wednesday. Refreshments will be served.

Rev. Dr White, Methodist Home Missionary, is expected to be present next Sunday and to conduct the regular afternoon service.

Sure you never miss the ferry till the boat is hauled up for repairs. But everything is O.K. now, and the three or more days blank will serve as a "valuator."

The call for boys for the navy from 15 to 18 years of age is attracting the attention of a number of local "would-be" recruits, but whether the needful parents' consent will be forthcoming is quite another consideration.

"The stone which the builders disallowed has become the chief corner stone," or words of similar import were used with telling effect on Sunday afternoon last by Rev. R. M. Thompson in setting forth certain principles of valuation.

Mr. Weatherman has paid a recent and profitable visit to the hills in the vicinity of own, having filled up the main thoroughfares in capital shape for coasting. One stretch of fully a quarter mile is the scene of daily excursions by the greater portion of the juvenile population. Go it, boys, while you're young, for when you're old—well you'll not be able to forget the walk back.

The final carload of last year's Naramata abundant fruit crop was shipped out on Tuesday morning's C.P.R. service. It was a mixed car of apples and cider—cider which it is believed may bear out the significance of the motto stamped on the label which reads, "The cider which made Naramata famous." The apples were chiefly Jonathans and Wageners with a few boxes of Yellow Newtown Pippins. The car was billed to Vancouver, where, according to current opinion the demand for Okanagan fruit is becoming increasingly keen.

The Righteousness Of The War.

The Calgary Albertan in its issue of Thursday last publishes in extenso in the form of correspondence the view of the Calgary Bible Institute, which is conducted by Mr W. T. Broad, on "the righteousness of the war so far as the British Empire is concerned."

"Not only have objections been raised against all war as such," says Mr Broad in the letter, "but specially against this one, seeing Canada is far removed from the scene of conflict. Others who profess to be Christians have even argued that a Christian should refuse to take any part in the war, or even to assist in national service, as our Dominion Government now asks. Quotations are made from the Sermon on the Mount to prove that the Bible teaches that if we are hit on one cheek we are to offer the other, and that this applies to nations and to individuals to-day."

To find out the actual Bible teaching on these and kindred issues, the Bible Institute has been devoting some time to their study. Mr Broad has himself given four sons to military service, one of whom has lost his life. There is therefore a true ring to the robust sentiment which the following extracts from his letter suggests:

"A few years ago Germany tore up the treaty of Berlin, and snapped her fingers in the face of the nations which had signed that treaty along with her. Germany, as a nation, does not deserve to live any longer upon the face of the earth. Can a tradesman incur all manner of debts and engagements and then be allowed to repudiate them at will? Society and business would fall to pieces if that were allowed. Nations cannot live together in amity if they do not keep their promises to one another. Let us thank God that Britain kept her part of that treaty with Belgium and the European nations."

"For all Christian citizens it is a bounden duty to help the government in every possible way, in national service or in war, and freely and willingly to give time, money, property, and life if necessary, to help to our utmost our rulers in these days of crisis and stress. Those who object to do their duty and to obey these God-given commands have at least the privilege of migrating to another country, but at least let them cease to call themselves Christians."

The Fruit Growers' Association met last Friday when the following officers were appointed: Mr Douglas, President; Dr Buchanan, Secretary; Mr Thos. Seeking Aid For Military Y.M.C.A.

Rev. H. G. Estabrook, who has been authorized by the National Secretary of the Military Service Department of the Y.M.C.A. to receive funds for that work, made an appeal at the close of the pastor's address in the afternoon at the Baptist Church, and in the evening at the combined service in the Methodist Church. What he said will stick, for he spoke in such a clear forceful way that all were interested, and that the interest was real was shown by the way the people gave when he called the next day. The following are some of the statements that he gave in his address: "In looking over my audience to-night I am strongly impressed with the fact that you in Peachland have treasures at the front, and where your treasure is there will your heart be also. As the Y.M.C.A. is ministering to the needs of those men at the front then you cannot but be interested in the different ways in which it is of service. The Y.M.C.A., like the Red Cross, is that ministry of Christian service that goes right to the front with the soldiers while the Patriotic Fund stays with the wives at home. How does this thing work out? As I said the Y.M.C.A. goes right to the front with the soldiers. They are in the very front trenches, for in these exposed and dangerous places are dugouts where the men can get hot coffee, concentrated bread, etc., and the help and encouragement of a secretary. There are two secretaries on duty at each dugout, who take turns, and one or other of them is there every hour of the day or night. Those who have loved ones in the trenches can appreciate what a great service these men are rendering by supplying hot coffee and food to the men who often come in mud to the eyebrows, cold and homesick, but who go away warmed and comforted. We have positive proofs of men whose lives have been saved by this service. Now these men in this work among the soldiers at the front are giving their lives day and night right in the danger zone, and with the guns booming around them. If a man is discouraged it is their business to cheer him up. Suppose we go behind the front lines where the men are resting till the order comes to charge. There we find other huts fitted up with rude tables where they can write to the loved ones at home, and where they are supplied with paper and envelopes free of charge. There are good magazines and papers for them to read, and music and games to entertain them. With every means at their command these Y.M.C.A. men try to make up to the soldiers some of the things which we have in such abundance at home. The recreation and rest period of the soldiers is a time of opportunity for the secretary for ministering to the spiritual needs of the men as well as to their social needs. I need not dilate on the work of the Y.M.C.A. in the military camps, such as the one at Vernon, for they are merely branches of the Y.M.C.A. conducted on the same lines as those in the cities but on a small scale. Colonel Gregory, Commandant of the Vernon Military Camp last summer, spoke in the highest terms of what the Y.M.C.A. had done for the men in the camp, and only the year before he had merely tolerated them and had serious misgivings as to their practicability. When the Hindus in France became restless because they heard rumors of an uprising in their own country against the very flag they were defending, the military authorities asked the Y.M.C.A. to help them. They readily agreed to do so, and put up booths in the camp to hold two men, and secretaries were placed in charge. These secretaries understood the Hindus' language and were able to write letters for them to their wives and friends in the homeland as they could not write themselves. This quieted the Hindus, for when they received answers to their letters they found that there was no truth in what they had heard. As a result of this work the Hindus have become steady and dependable, and do their work as well as any of the other troops. The work of the Y.M.C.A. has been recognized by the British Government, which, endorsed by the military authorities, has authorized the appointment of six officers and pays their salaries, while the Y.M.C.A. has the power to appoint six more officers at their own expense. The Canadian Government has authorized the Y.M.C.A. to place six men on the transports whose sole duty it is to go back and forth with the men. They talk with the sick and wounded men on their way home, and encourage them in every way. They find out what the men can do, and show them how to become useful and happy. The work of the Y.M.C.A. not only ministers to the men's comfort, but also to their spiritual needs, and that this evangelistic work among the soldiers is of the highest order is shown by the appointment of two of the foremost preachers of Toronto, Rev. John MacNeil, who has been released by his church for six months, and Rev. W. A. Cameron, to hold evangelistic services in the military camps throughout Great Britain and France. No less than the highest authority of the Anglican Church in London has asked that when Mr MacNeil and Mr Cameron have finished their campaign in the military camps that they be permitted to hold evangelistic services in the Anglican churches throughout England. Though many men of means are giving their help free of cost to the Y.M.C.A., yet it takes a great deal of money to keep the work going. Just the cost of the paper and envelopes and the cost of the food which is given to the men amounts to a large sum. Just as the Red Cross depends on the voluntary gifts of the people so the Y.M.C.A. must be supported in this way, and so far it has received generous donations. An account has been opened in the bank at Summerland where money collected for the Y.M.C.A. is deposited, and where it draws interest until it is forwarded to headquarters. Any gift will be recorded in the Summerland Review."

Mr Estabrook covered a good deal of territory on Monday, and was well pleased with the hearty response from the people.

Mr and Mrs Wellington Watson returned to their home here by the delayed train arriving on Thursday afternoon. They have been spending a month or six weeks at Vancouver.

It is reported that Mr J. W. Jones, M.L.A., will be a visitor to Summerland next Wednesday.

Mr G. J. Coulter White returned last Saturday evening from a stay of a week or so in Calgary, where he attended a meeting of the Baptist Union of Western Canada, as one of the delegates from the British Columbia Convention.

TENDERS are invited by the Summerland Fruit Union for 135 tons of ice to be delivered and packed in their ice house. Tenders must be in the office by Monday evening, January 29th. Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

George Dale, after staying here in the expectation that the B.C. Bantams would be leaving Victoria immediately for overseas service, left on Monday for the Coast to join the regiment. It is expected that they will go east early next month on their way to France to take up railway construction work.

The Y.M.C.A. canvass is now under full swing in this locality. In this connection the fine diving mare used by Rev. N. McNaughton last summer has been donated by the owner for the benefit of the military Y.M.C.A. and kindred work. We should like to realize on her as early as possible. Price $80. For particulars apply to W. C. Kelley.

Just before he left for the Coast early this week to join the Bantam Battalion, George Dale received tangible evidence of his athletic prowess in the shape of a small but handsome silver cup and stand, this being one of his winnings in the foot races at the Pentiction sports last Dominion Day. The sport body in the "metropolis" of the south Okanagan will perhaps pardon a very gentle implied criticism of the promptness with which they hand out some of their prizes.

Summerland now seems to have reached the end of its readily available wood supply, as, in spite of the fact that much coal is now being burned in the place, the supply of locally cut firewood is very limited. This is the logical explanation of the fact that cordwood is now being brought in by the Kettle Valley line, and it looks as though this will have to be carried on as a regular business in the future. In the opinion of some people only the mildness of the winter has prevented a serious shortage of wood for fuel purposes.

Last year about this time history was in the making in the South Okanagan. Drift ice on the lake had shut Pentiction off from the regular trip of the boat, and all mail was being handled from Summerland. It does not look now as though the conditions of last winter could possibly be duplicated again this year, although prophesying about the weather is notoriously a dangerous occupation. Nevertheless with the month of January virtually gone and no cold weather to speak of encountered yet, it seems likely that the predictions of a mild winter are going to be fulfilled. And most people won't mind if they are.

Fire Blight.

"Now that the pruning season is on again it behoves every orchardist at this time to go carefully over the apple and pear trees and endeavor to locate and cut out all the old Fire Blight cankers possible." This is Inspector Tait's message to the orchardist. "And when you think that you have cleaned up the orchard, have another inspection, and you will be surprised to find how much you have missed. "Fire Blight can be controlled to a great extent, if not entirely eradicated, but that can only be done by hearty co-operation and thorough determination to have the last hold-over cankers cut out and all infected branches immediately burnt. "The wounds, after cutting and prying out should be thoroughly disinfected at all times, but particularly before commencing on another tree. "Any large exposed surfaces should be at once painted, white lead and linseed oil preferred. Be sure there is no turps in the paint."

There is keen satisfaction in noting the number of families who have come to reside in Summerland to stay the winter. Most of them have come to escape the rigor of the Prairie winter, and the weatherman has surely been doing some good advertising for the Okanagan winter so far. It forms a striking commentary on the value of the climate as an asset to this place. Many of these families have occupied houses that otherwise would have stood empty, and they are the means of circulating much good money through the place. There is no doubt that with good crops and prices for the last two years at most prairie points, the farmers there are beginning to feel themselves able to stand the luxury of a winter in B.C., and if Summerland, and the Okanagan generally, were to indulge in a little publicity work in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, it is quite reasonable to expect that there would be many more come to sample the Okanagan winter. And having spent one winter here, they would want to spend another, and frequently decide to establish permanently in the Okanagan.

There is abundant evidence that the soldiers at the front from this place who get the Review regularly—and they are now quite numerous—certainly appreciate it, looking upon it as a long letter from home. A subscriber here vouches for a little incident showing how an apparently insignificant item in the Review not long ago attracted the attention of a soldier in France who had never even been in Summerland. He saw a name in the paper he knew and was interested enough to clip it out and send it back to Canada, and later it came on to Summerland where it originated. This much travelled little clipping concerned a hunting trip which four young men took about six weeks ago, one of them being Hilton Snider. A soldier in France, whose identity cannot be quite established, seems to have passed the paper on to a comrade or at any rate it came to the eyes of a friend there who knew Mr Snider, and who had seen him in Portage la Prairie just about a year previous. "Why, I know that fellow," one can almost hear him say when his eye catches the familiar name, and forthwith he cuts it out and sends it back across the Atlantic to Mr Snider's mother in Portage, with a little explanation. In due course the clipping came on to Summerland, completing its long round trip.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES.

The annual general meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was held in the Men's Club on Friday, the 19th inst., with a fair attendance of members present. The reports of the president and secretary-Treasurer were read and adopted. There was a unanimous vote of protest carried with reference to raising the annual fee to $1.00 per member. The Institute intends to work in co-operation with the Farmers' Institute in their work re packing schools, and have sent in nine names enrolled as pupils for coming class. Reference was made to the good work being conducted by the Y.M.C.A. of Canada, and it was resolved to donate $10 to the cause. The officers elected for 1917 were: Mrs Lipssett, President; Mrs W. J. Robinson, Vice-President; Mrs J. Tait, Secretary-Treasurer; Mrs Moreland and Miss Atchison, Directors; Mrs Galt and Miss Atchison, Auditors. Membership roll numbers 84 to date.

ROYAL STANDARD FIELD SEEDS

WE are extending our already extensive field seed business for 1917. It is the desire of the Canadian Government that the people produce as much as possible during the ensuing year, and we are arranging with the leading dealers throughout British Columbia and Alberta to carry a complete line of ROYAL STANDARD FIELD SEEDS. These seeds are the choicest it is possible to secure in the World's Markets. They are Government inspected and carefully selected for purity. Seeds should be purchased early as prices inevitably advance as the season progresses. In all probability the market will be short, and it will be difficult later in the year to make purchases. Order ROYAL STANDARD Field Seeds NOW. If your dealer cannot supply you write us and we will ship to you direct.

Women's political organizations are soon to be a reality in our midst. Definite action is to be taken at an early date to organize the Conservatives among the fair sex, and this is likely to be followed by a similar move on the part of the Liberals. Both will likely be affiliated in some way with the older organizations of the men.

Word has been received by Mrs Tavender that her young brother, still only twenty-two years old, and for seven years with the army in India, has won the championship for all India for ball throwing and boxing. The young officer, Lieut. Geo. Hawthorne, who thus captured a gold medal and two silver cups, enlisted when only fourteen years of age.

Richard Heron, a young Englishman, who spent some time here working on the orchard property of Mrs. Kate Bentley, has recently lost his life in the war, according to word which has come back. He enlisted from here into the 11th C.M.R., and it was from a Summerland comrade that the word came. He had just left a dugout when he met death from a shell.

There is only one consideration that would lead people to demand weather a little more like winter just now and that is the fact that the balmy mildness that feels like spring always seems to bring about a disruption of the train service, with the consequent upsetting of the mail arrangements. It is likely that the railway company is doing all that is humanly possible to keep things regular, and the interruptions that are occurring from time to time will probably continue till the Hope Mountain section is cleared of the spots that show tendency to slide under certain weather conditions.

Coyotes, notwithstanding the number that have been killed within the municipal bounds and the efforts being made to prevent their cunning raids, are still a source of great annoyance to ranchers. Chickens are not the only sufferers from these nocturnal prowlers. Young calves and other stock are falling victims to these wily animals. The bounty offered and the value of their pelts have encouraged a number of citizens to make the hunting of coyotes somewhat of a business during the winter. No less than twenty have been taken by the Italians. As has been pointed out by a citizen, it would be a mistake not to be sure that an exception is made of coyotes in the movement to prohibit game shooting within municipal bounds.

Frequently we hear the expression that men are worse than hogs. This must be distasteful to hogs, but facts are stubborn things. To show the similarity between the acts of men and hogs toward their kind, we will state that when a hog gets an ear of corn every other hog will trot after him, squealing and whining for a bite; but just let the front hog get fast in a crack and every one of the hogs will jump on him and tear him to pieces. It is the same with men. As long as a man is prosperous and has money, he can't keep his friends away with a double barreled shotgun. Just as soon as he becomes unfortunate and his money has dwindled away, he is not only snubbed by his former friends but they begin to do all the damage possible. Let a man start up grade and mankind falls behind and hastens his ascension. When he starts down the grade the world steps to one side, greases the track and says, "let him slide."

The Editor, Summerland Review.
Dear Sir,

By the provisions of the Women's Suffrage Referendum Act it will be the duty of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to issue a proclamation to bring the Women's Suffrage Act into force on the first day of March next. After this date ladies who are British subjects, and not Hindu, Chinese, Japanese, or Indians, will have the same right as men to have their names placed on the Voters List.

Although disputed by some there are good authorities who are of the opinion that under the Dominion Elections Act women whose names are on the Voters List will have the same right to vote as men at a Dominion election.

Liberal-Conservatives should aim at having every woman registered so as to be able to vote. This work will have to commence on the first day of March. The next revision of the Voters List will have the same right to vote as men at a Dominion election. Names for that revision will only be received up to the first Monday in April, so there is urgent necessity for taking proper steps for the organization of the Liberal-Conservative women voters. At the annual meeting of our association, which is announced in your advertising columns, this work will be taken up.

The co-operation and attendance at the meeting of every woman and man favorable to our work in the cause of good government is earnestly solicited.

Editor of Summerland Review,
Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir,

At a meeting of the local branch of the United Farmers of B.C. at Kelowna, Saturday, January 13th, a resolution was passed and a committee appointed to call a meeting in Summerland in the near future for the purpose of discussing the objects of this association with the farmers and fruit growers of the district with a view to organizing a local association in Summerland. The three main objects of the association are as follows:—

- 1, To forward the interests of the farmers in any honorable and legitimate way.
- 2, To watch legislation relating to their interests and to suggest to parliament or the legislature from time to time the enactment of such legislation as may be decided by the convention or by the central board.
- 3, To carry on the business and exercise any power of trade as the executive may deem advisable when authorized by an act of the legislature or parliament.

Since organized in Kelowna a very great deal of good has been done by this association in the Kelowna district, but in order that a greater amount of good may be accomplished and the association may have broader scope and greater power the resolution requesting the co-operation of other districts was passed by the Kelowna association. With local associations at Penticton, Naramata, Summerland, Peachland, Westbank, Kelowna and points in the North Okanagan, it is then desirable to affiliate with a similar association at the Coast and with the United Farmers of Alberta with the idea of promoting and establishing such associations in every province in Canada.

This association in no way interferes with the present farmers' organizations, and is non-political, the one main idea being to have a far-reaching powerful organization extending over all agricultural areas in Canada to aid the farmers in every possible way. This can only be done by farmers uniting together and each doing their own little share. We sincerely trust that every one following the business of agriculture for a living will turn out and take an active interest in the meeting to be held in Summerland in the near future so as to become better acquainted with the objects of the association and learn something of what has already been accomplished.

Yours very truly,
R. A. COPELAND,
Chairman of Organization Committee.
