Food Controller Issues Order Regarding Sale of Fruit.

> Middlemen and Their Charges Reduced to Minimum.

With the avowed purpose of getting fresh fruits and vegetables from the grower to the consumer with smallest handling expenses, and having the minimum amount of profits added to the producers price, the Food Controller has issued an order effective the first day of February, bringing under the control of his department all branches of the wholesaling of these food commodities. Speculation is prohibited. The number of dealers through whose hands the goods may den to the home of the consumer has been cleared and made as direct as is practicable. Big Slide and Heavy Snow Will Close Coquihalla Pass For Weeks.

It now seems very improbable that the Coquinalla line will again be open to traffic for several weeks at least. Continued snowfalls since the blocking of the short cut through the Hope mountains have made it practically impossible to open the line under winter conditions on the coastward side of the mountain and, unless there should be a continued spell of very mild weather, it will require the spring thaws to clear the track. Immediately the big slide came down on Dec 13th, a large gang of men was put to work, and there seemed good reason to hope that the line would soon be clear. The elements have decreed otherwise.

Okanagan Weather and The Other Kinds.

With bitter cold on the prairies and further east and raging storms to the west there has been considerable disarrangement of traffic and interruption in mail service of late. But the little inconvenience we have suffered by late mails and delayed freight has been the extent of our discomforts from the storms that have caused such havoc and suffering all around us. Okanagan's Fruit Crop for 1917 Valued at $3,000,000

More Than 2,000 Car-loads of Apples Went Out of Valley.

Vancouver Largely Supplied by B.C. Growers.

The value of British Columbia's fruit crops for the year 1917, according to the Provincial Department of Agriculture, exceeds those of 1916 by 18 per cent. Unofficial estimates have placed the value of the Okanagan Valley fruit output at three million dollars. This is the largest producing district in the province. A total of 2,500 cars of fruit went out of the Okanagan during the season just closed, in addition to a large quantity of vegetables. Of the fruit shipments, 2,025 cars were apples, and the balance peaches, apricots, cherries, plums, and small fruits.

Despite the British embargo. which was at first believed to spell ruin for the fruit growing industry, the general outlook is far more hopeful than for some time past.

The bulk of the British Columbia crop was sold to the prairie provinces, while overseas exports included about seventy-five cars of apples, fifty cars going to Australia and New Zealand, and a few to South Africa.

Announcement of a New Policy. Adoption of More Up-to-date and Business-like Practice.

The war has been the cause of many changes, in the world of business as in innumerable other lines. In some lines of business endeavor it has caused increased presperity, to none, perhaps, more than to farming in its varied phases. Unfortunately for those engaged in it, the war has not been a stimulus to the business of the printer and

There was a time in the period of development in the district covered by THE REVIEW when it would perhaps have been a hardship for some of our subscribers to part with a two dollar bill. That sum only represents the price obtained for two boxes of "cookers" now. Then we were content to "carry" from year to year any subscribers who found it inconvenient to keep their subscriptions renewed in advance.. This policy is no longer necessary nor advisable. To continue to do so means much unnecessary labor

Subscribers are respectfully asked to keep in mind the date of expiry of their subscriptions as shown on the address label of every copy, and to renew promptly. Failing to receive subscriber's renewal we shall be compelled to drop his name from our mailing list.

Your co-operation is respectfully solicited.

Change in Day of Publication Made Necessary by Change in Lake Mail Service.

Beginning with our next issue it will be necessary that we change the day of publication in order to make the best use of the new mail service which goes into effect on Monday morning next. Until further notice, therefore, THE REVIEW will be issued on the afternoon of Thursday of

In publishing on Thursdays THE REVIEW will then "come out" on the same day set for publication by all other newspapers of the Okanagan.

Thursday has been adopted generally as being the day best suited to advertisers (without whose business no publication could exist) as they are then able to publish in good time any week-end store news. We trust our local merchants will appreciate the advantage of this opportunity to increase their sales and help our readers to decide to spend their cash in their home town.

It will be necessary, of course, that changes of copy for advertisements be in the printer's hands by Tuesday noon, instead of Wednesday. Correspondents will also please send in their manuscript a day earlier.

SHOULD THEY FARM OR FIGHT.

REALIZING HIS GREATER VALUE to the nation in keeping for the merchant marine every man who can qualify as ship's officer, all such who might otherwise be entered in Class A are being reserved for the equally important work of carrying the product of our farms and factories to the front and our Allies. We sometimes wonder if as careful consideration has been given to the need of avoiding the curtailing of the productive capacity of our farms. There are some parts of our country that have given so generously of their manhood as to leave agriculture seriously handicapped. To overlook this fact may have a most disastrous result as regards the next season's crop, and, as in the case of irrigated districts, of future outputs. There have been enrolled in Class A a few in this district, who, in our opinion, should have been sent back to their farms. If, in making up Canada's newest army, consideration is taken of those districts which have given to the earlier contingents in larger ratio to population than most, this will be rectified. Otherwise there are some who will be put under arms, instead of being left to produce food, and who will not appeal for exemption lest they be considered slackers.

IS FRUIT A LUXURY?

IS FRUIT A STAPLE ARTICLE OF FOOD or is it a luxury? If the "balanced ration," of which we hear so much, is anywhere near as necessary for man as it is for his stock, it cannot be considered anything else but a necessity. This would be especially true as regards the people of the prairies, who are supplied with their fruit largely by the Okanagan. One of the military tribunals of the Niagara district took the stand that a fruit grower of that district who had applied for exemption was engaged in producing a luxury, and therefore should not be open to exemption. Commenting on this ruling the Canadian Horticulturist says: "These are times when almost all classes of food are becoming a luxury. The Dominion Government is asking the people of Canada to consume as-little wheat, bacon, and beef products as possible in order that they may be exported for use in Europe. As substitutes for these the government has been urging the public to grow as much vegetables and other foods, including fruit, as possible.

'There are tens of thousands of acres of orchard land in Canada which represent investments running into the millions of dollars. If fruit growers were to be conscripted on the ground that they were engaged in the production of a luxury, this investment would be largely destroyed, and a quantity of valuable food products would cease to be produced. It is decisions of this character, as made by certain of the local tribunals, which have raised so many protests against their work, and which have led the government to announce that steps will be taken to rectify many of the mistakes that have been made by some of the tribunals. It is to be hoped that when the cases of fruit growers are heard before the Appeal Courts they will be given the consideration the importance of the fruit industry deserves."

RED CROSS BUYING.

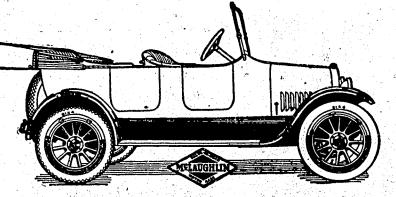

THE RECENT DECISION of the Vancouver Branch of the Red Cross Society not to adopt a proposed change in its purchasing policy is worthy of comment. The proposition had been made that the twentyfive branches of the district unite on their purchases, these to be made by a special committee with a view to buying at the lowest possible prices. Those who opposed the centralized system stated that each of the auxiliaries, though buying in small quantities, was able to obtain good value, because the smaller retail merchants generously sold cheaper than the wholesale prices, and also that materials should be purchased in the districts where these organizations carry on their work. The idea that the money should be spent where it was gathered prevailed.

Contrast this with the action of a certain branch in this Valley, which, after raising a substantial sum in cash, largely from the merchants and business men, sent the whole' amount off to a distant mail order house without giving the home merchants an opportunity to supply their needs. Without these merchants it would have been impossible to obtain the needed money, but immediately it was in hand those who had the spending of it did what they could to drive those merchants out of their community.

LAMENTABLE INDIFFERENCE.

WITH BUT ONLY A WEEK until the time for nominating candidates for this year's Municipal Council, and for the three vacancies on the School Board, it now looks as if it will be necessary to coax some citizens to permit themselves to be offered as sacrifices on the altar of public service. The dearth of aspirants would at least suggest that it must be looked upon as a sacrifice by those who are qualified to fill the positions, but who will not give of their time and talent for the conduct of the business of the organized community. It was not so many years ago that it was considered an honor to thus receive the expression of public confidence in one's business or political ability. The fact that those who serve on these public bodies are returned from time to time as long as they will continue to accept renomination, may be because of their good record, or it may be because they are "easy." It is to be regretted that after having thus served their community councillors and trustees should be permitted to reach the latter conclusion. How much more satisfactory it would be to be elected to office against strong opposition. Otherwise, especially when one is returned to office year after year unopposed, it is not to be wondered at that this conclusion is reached, nor that a councillor should remark that he felt that he was standing in the way of a better man, as it seemed to be a fixed policy not to offer opposition to any one who would consent to be renominated or to the first man out for a vacancy. With how much more zest for the work would each of our present councillors, for instance, return to the board if each had won his seat in a running against another good citizen. Such opposition would create greater interest in municipal affairs, and we would expect more thought to be expended by electors and elected with good results for the progress of the community.

HOUSEHOLDERS will take comfort from the announcement made this week that a reduction of twenty per cent, has been made in the wholesale price of sugar. The reduction was made by the refining company, and it remains to be seen how much of it will be absorbed by the retail merchants. As it is understood that the latter dealers have in many cases been handling this important food staple at a margin insufficient to cover expenses it is not improbable that they will take this opportunity to readjust their margin.

DON'T KILL SNAKES.

Be careful how you kill snakes. Few of them are poisonous, and they are a national asset worth many millions of dollars. So says Gayne K. Norton, writing in American Forestry (Washington). Mr Norton is afraid that one result of the introduction to outdoors given to thousands of indoor "tenderfeet" by the new gardening impulse will be the destruction of a large number of snakes by "well-meaning but misinformed gardeners." The kind of misinformation that Mr Norton fears has, he says, been spread abroad for generations, so that there is a "very general tendency to kill snakes on sight." And yet, "every time a snake is killed more damage is being done than good." Farmers should protect and breed harmless varieties of snakes that destroy really harmful vermin-and these embrace a large proportion of the whole snake fam-Writes Mr Norton:

Of our 111 species, but 17 are poisonous—two species of Elaps, coral snakes, and fifteen species of crotaline snakes, the copperhead and moccasin, the dwarf and typical rattlesnakes. On the other hand, the help they render is valuable. The pests they destroy each year, especially the rodents that injure crops and carry communicable diseases, roll up a large balance of good service in their favor.''

Though Trains Run Daily There Is Much Delay In Dispetching Outgoing Mail.

Not even in that historic period when the lake was frozen over was chicken pox, none of which were our mail service more disarranged fatal. Beside these and several than it has been of late. New orders have gone forth for the despatching of mails concurrent with the curtailed lake service, that has caused needless inconvenience and annoyance. And there does not seem to be any immediate improvement in sight. Even the routine exchange of mails between the local offices and the rural route has not escaped.

Each evening there has been an exchange of mail between the upper and lower post offices here, and each morning the mail for the rural route which had accumulated in the two offices was sent out over the land gathered on the route taken up from the lower office. TEACHING EFFICIENCY.

The Rotarian motto, "He profits most who serves best," which has been brought into prominence lately, is simply another statement of the truism that success comes with efficiency, and it seems more than ever necessary at the present time to keep this more clearly in view, says Mr John Kyle, organizer of technical education for British Columbia. The duty of every man and woman to-day is undoubtedly to take steps to become skilful and proficient at the tasks in which they find themselves engaged.

Never in the history of Canada has there been such need for efficiency in all lines of endeavor as now. In no other way can efficiency be obtained as by the method of education which Mr Kyle is trying to establish in every part of the province, and which is now recognized everywhere on this continent as the best means through which to impart a thorough and practical all round education.

Already well advanced in many states of the American Union, vocational education is to be greatly aided by the Federal Government. Using this as an argument in support of such methods of education in the schools of this province, Mr Kyle says:

"The method adopted by that far-seeing nation for repaying their war loan is by incurring a further expenditure in order to increase the productive capacity of the wage-earners. For this special purpose the Smith-Hughes Bill has been passed into law, and gradually increasing sums will be paid from the National Treasury to the various States the world. in support of technical education. These amounts will range from $1,700,000 in the present year to the sum of $7,200,000 in the year

The American nation recognize the principle that specialized forms vertising once said: "Patronize of vocational education should be provided for children over fourteen years of age who desire or need such training. The fact is also recognized that the state should have the responsibility for the training and he proves that he expects to sell you again." educational welfare of all children until they become at least sixteen years of age; and the state is prepared to pay for the work. citizen, the teacher, and manufacturer, and the worker seem to be entering into the spirit of this progressive movement, and seem determined to equip themselves for service and consequently for profit.

The only democratic Canadian movement in a similar direction is seen in the organizing of night schools, and if the rising generation of our country is to be enabled to compete with our friends across the line every endeavor must be made to create a desire for efficiency by providing such means of training at public expense.

It is told on good authority that on a certain day at the opening of the war, in one of the large factories in Germany a bell rang and all the machinery stopped. Every man gathered up his tools, his jigs and blue prints, walked to the store-keeper and handed them in. A certain percentage of the men went to the paymaster, drew their pay, and went away to the army. The others went to a different store room, received new drawings, new jigs, and new material, went back to their machines, and in two hours from the time the machinery had stopped, the factory was running again at full speed-turning out munitions.

At the close of the war it is altogether probable that the German government will have its plans just as well prepared for competition in commerce and industry and, figuratively speaking, within two hours after the war machinery stops the industrial machinery will start again.

Efficiency is the order of the day; he profits most who serves best. "A man's heart must be in his skill, and a man's soul in his craftmanship."

In view of the rapid changes and the greater need for efficiency the war has revealed, is it not time Summerland cut loose from the old book methods to the extent of introducing manual training and domestic

AUDITORS' REPORT.

Summerland, B.C., 8th January, 1918.

To the Reeve and Councillors,

The Corporation of the District of Summerland.

We have audited the books and examined the records of the Distri of Summerland, for the year ending 31st December, 1917, and prepare therefrom the following statements which form part of this report.

- (A) Statement of Receipts and Disbursements,(B) Statement of Assets and Liabilities,
- (C) Statement of Public Utilities,

(D) Statement of Municipal School Board.

All receipts have been duly accounted for, and payments authoriz by the proper officials.

Depreciation has been written off the Fixed Assets, at the rate fixed by the Municipal Council, and has been charged against the reve ue on the Public Utilities statement, as far as it affects these sta

You had at December 31st, 1917, liquid assets amounting and your current liabilities, including the amount due Sinking Funds amounted to a surplus of liquid assets over current liabilities of. against a similar surplus at the end of 1916 of a decrease of

This is principally accounted for by the fact, that although totals of the Receipts and Expenditures vary very little from the p vious year, a whole year's Sinking Fund had to be added on to the L bilities against a reduction on this account of $3,356.17.

As shown by the Sinking Fund Memoranda on the Balance Sheet the Sinking Fund investments at December 31st, 1917, are $22,297.75 less than the requirements at that date for the retirement of the various Debentures at maturity.

In our opinion the statements herewith submitted are true and correct statements as disclosed by the books and records of the District, and the Balance Sheet presents the true financial position of the District as disclosed by the said books and records as at 31st December, 1917.

Respectfully submitted. (Signed) CREHAN, MOUAT & CO., Chartered Accountants and Municipal Auditors.

Change in Day of Publication Made Necessary by Change in Lake Mail Service.

Beginning with this issue it will be necessary that we change the day of publication in order to make the best use of the new mail service which went into effect on Monday morning last. Until further notice, therefore, THE REVIEW will be issued on the afternoon of Thursday of each week.

In publishing on Thursdays THE REVIEW will then "come out" on the same day set for publication by all other newspapers of the Okanagan.

Thursday has been adopted generally as being the day best suited to advertisers (without whose business no publication could exist) as they are then able to publish in good time any week-end store news. We trust our local merchants will appreciate the advantage of this opportunity to increase their sales and help our readers to decide to spend their cash in their home town.

It will be necessary, of course, that changes of copy for advertisements be in the printer's hands by Tuesday noon, instead of Wednesday. Correspondents will also please send in their manuscript a day earlier.

Miss Babcock, who was in the house at the time, managed to extinguish the burning dress by throwing water over it, but not before very serious injury had been done. Announcement of a New Policy. Adoption of More Up-to-date and Business-like Practice.

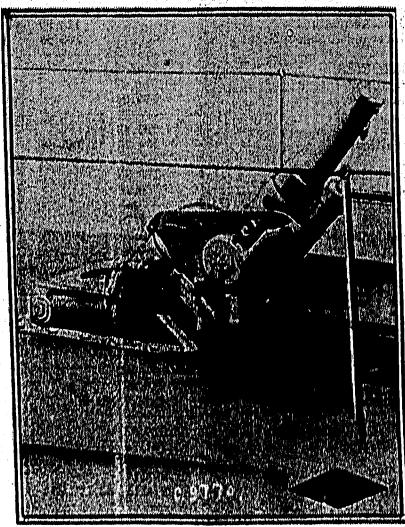

The war has been the cause of many changes, in the world of business as in innumerable other lines. In some lines of business endeavor it has caused increased prosperity, to none, perhaps, more than to farming in its varied phases. Unfortunately for those engaged in it, the war has not been a stimulus to the business of the printer and

There was a time in the period of development in the district covered by THE REVIEW when it would perhaps have been a hardship for some of our subscribers to part with a two dollar bill. That sum only represents the price obtained for two boxes of "cookers" now. Then we were content to "carry" from year to year any subscribers who found it inconvenient to keep their subscriptions renewed in advance. This policy is no longer necessary nor advisable. To continue to do so means much unnecessary labor

Subscribers are respectfully asked to keep in mind the date of expiry of their subscriptions as shown on the address label of every copy, and to renew promptly. Failing to receive subscriber's renewal we shall be compelled to drop his name from our mailing list.

Your co-operation is respectfully solicited.

John Schreck is dead! This al-Buffalo, N.Y., and vicinity. Pneu- ner annually. monia was the cause of his sudden and untimely death. A man of exceptional physique and in the full vigor of young manhood, it seems almost unbelievable that he could be stricken so suddenly. Her many friends in Naramata and Summerland are grieving for the suddenly bereaved wife and her little one. Mr Schreck was a man of more than ordinary intelligence and had made a marked success of ranching. He was considered an authority on poultry to which he had given much attention.

As a paturalist he had attained considerable local fame. Probably no man was more of an authority on the birds that visit this valley or make their home here than was Mr Scherck. Before coming here in the earliest days of Naramata he had given much time to out-door photography in addition to ornithology. If fact his work in this line was receiving international recognition. Many of his lantern slides have been shown largely in America and were exchanged with some of the royal societies of Europe. His remains were buried at Buffalo on Saturday.

SHORTER SERMONS WANTED.

A minister was questioning his Sunday School concerning the story of Eutychus, the young man who listening to the preaching of the Apostle Paul, fell asleep, and falling out of a window, was taken up dead.

"What," he asked, "do we learn from this solemn event?"

The reply, from a little girl, came: "Please, sir, ministers should learn not to preach too long ser-

NO MORE WHITE FLOUR.

IN NO COUNTRY the world around is the pinch of war, as it has affected the world's supply of food, been felt as lightly as it has been here in Canada. With the putting into office a war cabinet and the endorsement of the program for a vigorous prosecution of the war, been considered drastic a few months ago, but, in view of the needs of our Allies, will be taken as a matter of course and necessity.

An order just issued by the Food Controller, whereby more than ten per cent. will be saved in the consumption of wheat, and forbidding the manufacture of white flour, does not come wholly unexpectedly Beginning on January 28th, all flour mills in Canada will start the manufacture of standard war bread flour. Each barrel of flour will, from that date, contain only the product of 265 pounds of wheat instead of 300 pounds as now. Other grains must be utilized to make up the quantity.

GROW PIGS! We are told that to do this is a patriotic duty. Where one can do so without buying more of grains, and other food products which we are asked to conserve, than the market price of the finished porker would return, the appeal should be heeded even if the margin of profit is not tempting. The decision of one of our Peachland readers, as noted in the news from that district, is commendable.

GOVERNMENT RELIEF for those sections of the Okanagan in which an ample supply of irrigation water is not now assured is to be provided this year, according to the Minister of Lands. His announcement that a half million dollars will be appropriated for this purpose will be welcome news to many of our Naramata readers, and, to a lesser extent, to those in Peachland. To a large section of the Kelowna district such relief is imperative. No intimation is given of the policy which the government will adopt, but as considerable time has been taken to investigate the situation they have doubtless been given much good advice as to how best to meet the needs of the irrigationists.

THERE HAS BEEN. for the past year or two a greatly increased demand for furnished houses in Summerland. Last summer, and again

THE INTIMATION that the Food Controller may soon prohibit the eating of bacon in Canada will be of only passing interest to many. The price which has been put on this once staple breakfast article had long ago prohibited its use in the majority of homes.

Announcement of a New Policy. Adoption of More Up-to-date and Business-like Practice.

The war has been the cause of many changes, in the world of business as in innumerable other lines. In some lines of business endeavor it has caused increased prosperity, to none, perhaps, more than to farming in its varied phases. Unfortunately for those engaged in it, the war has not been a stimulus to the business of the printer and publisher.

There was a time in the period of development in the district covered by THE REVIEW when it would perhaps have been a hardship for some of our subscribers to part with a two dollar bill. That sum only represents the price obtained for two boxes of "cookers" now. Then we were content to "carry" from year to year any subscribers who found it inconvenient to keep their subscriptions renewed in advance. This policy is no longer necessary nor advisable. To continue to do so means much unnecessary labor and expense.

Subscribers are respectfully asked to keep in mind the date of expiry of their subscriptions as shown on the address label of every copy, and to renew promptly. Failing to receive subscriber's renewal we shall be compelled to drop his name from our mailing list.

Your co-operation is respectfully solicited.

question of the shore road, and Reeve Blair argued that if the Council were to assume the up-keep of the lakeshore road he feared that they could carry.

Coun. Simpson of the Finance Committee submitted a written report, which, somewhat abridged, is as below:

As Chairman of the Finance Committee I regret very much to say that I have no committee report to make. The Finance Committee. as a committee, did no work beyond approving of the accounts and discussing in a very general way some phases of the financial condition of committee. I have no desire to dodge any responsibility for this condition. At the same time I may be permitted to point out that the general financial policy of the Council was established some years ago and successive councils have not felt any apprehension in regard to the financial outlook, and have constantly busied themselves with matters of a more concrete and practical nature.

Our municipal Treasurer, being a man of long and successful experience in the work, has always assured us that the finances were in gladly accepted this comforting assurance and worried themselves not at all over matters which were not so easy to comprehend as a road or a ditch.

To justify my position on the Council and the honorary title bestowed upon me. I have tried to inquire a little more closely into matters of finance. It may be that have earned for myself a reputation for carping criticisms, but a little opposition to a settled policy cannot do any harm, and may serve to arouse general interest. I am. therefore, in quite a friendly spirit to have some responsibility. I am influence extends thus far.

If you will turn to the statement of profit and loss on public utilities you will see that this depreciation these accounts, resulting in a larger deficit being shown, no provision having been made in rates for the year 1917 to meet this

What, then, do we learn from this? Either of two things is true. Either the depreciation charge is not justified or we have been annually losing ground, as shown by this deficit, to the tune of many thousands of dollars per year.

I think the ratepayers will see our vaunted system of finance is much less strong than it was made to appear in former statements.

If I understand correctly the view of our Treasurer as to who shall bear the burden of providing a water system for this municipality, it is that the burden shall not rest on the present generation to provide a system for the next. In other words, it is his idea that approximately the system that we bought on borrowed capital shall go out of existence at the time the payments of the loans are completed. . . . Were human cal-culations subject to but a small margin of error this theory of financing might be a fairly safe one. But civic administration is notoriously so inefficient that an attempt to carry on in that way is more likely to result in the ratepayers of the future finding that they are saddled with a debt contracted for works which have long since gone out of existence. No great stretch of imagination is required to see that happen right here in Summerland. In fact we are paying sinking funds and interest right now on loans made covering portions of four systems which have had to be replaced or have proven uttorly usoless.

CIVIC BUSINESS.

THE COMMISSION FORM of municipal government or management offers a suggestion that we believe might be adopted to advantage in such a municipality as ours, where the ownership by the municipality of extensive public utilities greatly adds to the duties and responsibilities of the Council as compared with those of such bodies in the average municipal district. Here we have the publicly owned water systems, irrigation and domestic, the electric light system, and now the numerous parcels of land bought by the municipality at tax sales, in addition to the roads and other responsibilities that are cared for by the average council. To take care of these and operate the utilities to the best of their abilities we have several committees, comprised in each case of three of the five members of the board. This gives to each councillor a multiplicity of duties, and to that extent prevents his specializing or concentrating his efforts on the particular work given over to the committee of which he is chairman, and as such is primarily responsible.

Now, with the commission form of control, each member is given a special commission, and is usually chosen because of his ability or experience, or both, in that particular line. Each then is enabled to give his time and thought to his particular department and its management, while at the same time he is responsible to the commission as a whole.

Could we not by smaller committees gain some of the recognized advantages of this newer form of civic control and still adhere to the form prescribed for us by the Municipal Act? Let our committees be committees of one, with the reeve as a member, ex officio, instead of being comprised of three, each directly responsible to the Council as a whole. With each councillor thus giving less divided attention to his department, making his periodical reports and bringing his recommendations and suggestions before the Council in a prearranged and definite form the business of the Council as a whole could be expedited and better results obtained. Our water systems are sufficient in themselves for the attention of one councillor, our roads for another, a third could give attention specially to finances, and still another to the power and lighting system. We believe the plan would tend toward greater efficiency.

SITUATION IS GRAVE.

THE FOOD SITUATION in the Allied countries of western Europe is graver than it has been at any time since the beginning of the racehorse if his owner wants to war. Information has been received by the Food Controller which shows that the utmost effort must be made to increase spring acreage and to secure a much larger production of bread grains in 1918 than was done in 1917. Mr Hoover has already pointed out that if ships have boiled. By proper care this nuito be sent to more distant countries to carry food stuff to Europe, fewer ships will be available to carry soldiers and supplies from this continent, with a result that the continued participation of the United States and Canada in the war will be greatly hampered.

The situation has been thoroughly canvassed, and among those who of Agriculture for British Columhave studied it, there is unanimous agreement that the only solution of bia, has written to all the municithe food problem is greater production in North America. In this connection it is especially important that the spring acreage sown in bread grains should be as large as it can possibly be made.

Every person who can possibly produce food must do so, no matter how small his or her contribution may be. Those who cannot produce food can at least conserve it. The utmost economy is imperative. The situation to-day is critical, and the world is rapidly approaching that condition when price will not be the most important question, but when even the people of Canada may be glad to eat any food which they can

The successful prosecution of the war by the Allies will depend to a very large extent upon the extent of food production and food conservation this year by the people of North America.

Baron Rhondda in a recent message says: "The food position in this country, and I understand in France also, can without exaggera-

Our boys were right over the top about 6.45, and walked right through to their objective and beyond before 10 o'clock, and the battalion which took the town had less than 60 casualties in total, and during the day over 6,000 prisoners were taken on a four-mile front. "Fritz" was certainly taken by surprise, and we had everything our own way. We started our work about 8.15, but encountering so many of these mine craters, we were unable to finish the line that day. However, we completed the 41 miles and delivered ammunition and rations into the captured town only 42 hours after the kick-off.

The night of the 22nd we moved up to the captured town and started ballasting, putting in sidings, etc., but had to move back and quarter our men in Boche dugouts the enemy shelled the town too heavily to be tenable. We carried on this work until the morning of the 29th, having a few men wounded by shrapnel. Orders came for two platoons to retire to our last headquarters-about 10 miles backto attend to the maintenance of the line, which the operators had allowed to get out of repair. The four officers matched to determine who should take the bunch out, and the lot fell upon me, and I brought the men out here on the 20th.

About 9.30 a.m. on the 80th our boys came drifting into camp with news of Boche attack. The enemy walked right through almost as easily as ours had done on the 20th, and cut off our line up to the front, flanking the entire works. On the morning of the 30th our position was a salient five miles deep and three miles deep at the heel, and all the Hun had to do was to push in at this heel to bottle up the entire works. Our force was merely lightly holding the southeast heel of the wedge, and had the Boches been successful in closing in on the north heel it would surely have offset our gain of the 20th and following days. As it was, we held and repulsed on the northwest, and in the afternoon we were able, with

Announcement

As an inducement to those who are in the habit of paying Cash for their supplies, I have decided to open my Lakeshore Warehouse as a strictly cash establishment, and on Saturday next this Warehouse will be opened to the public.

As this Warehouse can be operated at a minimum of expense, with the elimination of every item of expense that enters into the cost of doing business, leads me to believe that those who are willing to pay cash and carry home their purchases, will find that it will be tremendously to their advantage to forego the convenience of having their purchases charged and having them delivered.

It will be evident to thoughtful people that the elimination of all unnecessary expense and the elimination of bad debts will permit the operation of this business at so low a cost, that it will be possible to offer goods at prices impossible under ordinary conditions. With this in view, I shall make prices so low that no one will be justified in failing to visit this new venture and ascertaining the difference between the ordinary charge system and the one under which this establishment will be conducted.

The business will be conducted under the business name of

"McWatters' Cash Warehouse"

Everything will be sold for Spot Cash. Nothing will be delivered; every purchase will have to be taken home by the buyer.

To those who are willing to share part of the expense of doing business, I offer very close prices. The goods will be of the same high quality as I have endeavored to offer in the Main Street store, and I ask all to make this new establishment their supply headquarters.

The Main Street Store will be conducted on the same method as in the past, and this new venture will have no connection with it.

Prejudice Against It Is Due To Improper Handling In Homes.

The Food Controller, through the Fish Committee of his office, is endeavoring to encourage increased use in Canada of frozen fish. This effort is part of the larger campaign to increase consumption of all kinds of fish in order to release beef, bacon, and other meats for export to the Allies.

An increased demand for frozen fish should result in the decrease in market price as an abundant supply is available. Many people have a projudice against frozon tish simply because they do not understand the proper method of handling it.

Whatever may have been the practice in the past, the present method of freezing fish shortly after they are caught prevents deterioration and the fish is delivered to the consumer in ideal condition.

To prepare frozen fish for cooking it should be put in cold water and left there for several hours in order that frost may be entirely thawed from it. It will then be in practically the same condition as before it was frozen. Many poople make the mistake of pouring hot, or even bolling water, on frozen fish in order to thaw it. This has the result of breaking down the tissues and leaving the fish in a flabby condition, which makes it undesirable for cooking.

This despite the profits. disappointment caused by the failure of some of the principal speakers to arrive.

The dining hall of the hotel was filled to capacity and the catering left nothing to be desired.

The date, January 30th, had been settled to suit Dr F. F. Wesbrook, President of the University of B.C., who had accepted the invitation of the Board to be present. and who had promised to bring Dean Klinck, of the Branch in Agriculure, or, failing his being able to get away, another of that Branch. It had also been confidently expected that Mr J. W. Jones, M.L.A., would be there, and another, Inspector of Fisheries, A.-P. Halliday, was also expected, but with less certainty.

Though the failure of these men to attend was disappointing, and especially so to the committee in charge, the filling of their places on the toast list made very evident the fact that we have an abundance of local talent that would be hard to excel anywhere.

The speakers included Rev. A. Henderson, Rev. H. A. Solly, Sgt. F. A. C. Wright, Mr. C. Napier Higgin, and Mr W. C. Kelley.

Supreme Court On Exemption Appeals

Four more decisions, worthy of special notice, have recently been made by the Central Appeal Judge under the Military Service Act. In brief these decisions run:

A-For the present it is desirable to avoid drafting trained and competent tool-makers into the army.

In the light of possible future drafts being called under more advanced classes under the Act, the rulings in these last three cases may be of particular interest to his district.

While the Association's resolution favored Chinese labor, Penticton presented one opposing, recommending further effort to utilize our own women and girls and returned soldiers.

Vernon proposed petitioning the government to conscript all industrial labor, including enemy aliens, under proper regulations as to wages, conditions, and nature of work. Other resolutions proposed by Vernon were:

That whereas the Oriental ownership of agricultural lands in B.C. is detrimental to the best interests of the province, and also to the Dominion of Canada and the British Empire:

Be it resolved that this convention ask the Provincial Government to make every effort in its power to have such laws enacted as will forever debar Orientals from acquiring title to agricultural lands within the Province of British Columbia:

That this convention, realizing the great-importance of the vegetable industry to this section, and the valuable aid the evaporating of these products is to the Empire and the Allied Forces in Europe to-day, and also realizing the shortage of labor we are confronted with, do earnestly urgo that all ranchmen of this Valley do keep conrol of the raising and shipping of all ranch products until sold or disposed of; and if Oriental labor is necessary in the production of said crops, that said labor be paid for by day

Referring to the Oriental question Mr White said he understood that the Chinese in the Valley had formed a union and would demand $4 or $5 a day and, wishing to control these crops, would refuse to work for a white man who grew potatoes or onions.

Strongly urging that something Whitfield, Mrs L. M. be done at once to organize local labor so that the most could be accomplished, President Helmer suggested that a committee be appointed to act at once and report at an early date.
