Prairie Fruit Markets Report

Interesting Budget of News from the Markets Commissioner.—A line on Prices.

In his weekly report under date of Saturday last J. A. Grant, Prairie Markets Commissioner says:—

Preparation for the Big Fair is well under way. It opens on Tuesday next. The entries are reported to be greatly in excess of last year.

Calgary's Annual Fair is reputed to be the best in the Canadian Northwest. The town is rapidly filling with visitors. Welcome show-ers are reported from many points in Alberta. Calgary district could do with a lot more. Crop prospects are good and the people are optimistic.

There is an increasing number of B.C. fruits arriving daily. Cherries and strawberries are the principal leaders, with strawberries shortening up.

ASSIGNMENT.

Bradstreets reports that Fisher & Springborn, doing business in the new Calgary market, have assigned to the Trusts & Guarantee Co., Ltd., Calgary. They assigned on June 24th, and a meeting of the creditors will be held on July 5th.

NEW GOOSEBERRY CONTAINERS.

A very good package for gooseberries has been adopted by the B.C. Growers, Kelowna, B.C. It is the Ontario grape basket containing 10 lbs. gross. Some have appeared in two wholesale houses. One sold at $1.10 and the other sold for $1.40 per basket.

This is the best container for gooseberries so far seen, as they look splendid through the gauze cloth.

CUCUMBERS.

Slade & Co. of Vancouver are quoting English variety of hothouse cucumbers at $2.50 per doz. This should prove a drawing card on the prairies. We are short of cukes.

CHERRIES.

With the exception of Governor Wood, all cherries are selling well. Some of this variety marked No. 2 arrived from Kelowna with some cherries no bigger than a green pea and only half ripe. These will sell at a vanishing price. They never should have left the Valley.

Wholesale—Black Tartarians are selling at $2.25—2.40—2.50 per 4-bkt. crate. Early Richmond and Montmorency (sour) sold at $2.40 wholesale.

CURRENTS.

Trepanier Townsite, near Peachland, B.C., sends some fine red currents, which are retailing at 20 cents a pint.

The first red currants seen in Calgary came in last Monday morning from Okanagan Valley. The Growers' Sales Agency handled them. The price realized was $4.00 a crate.

GOOSEBERRIES.

Now that the immature berries are off the market the sized gooseberry is moving more freely. Prices are varying with retailers slightly below the wholesale price. Wholesale, $3.00; some retailers, $2.95.

Prominent Fruit Buyer to Visit B.C.

Mr. Turnbull, representing the purchasing department of the United Grain Growers of the Prairies, will visit B.C. this week and will canvass the buying situation thoroughly before returning. He will first visit the Okanagan Valley. As Mr. Turnbull represents the great co-operative movement amongst prairie farmers, this seems a good opportunity for our B.C. farmers and fruit growers to glean information on the power and progress of organization. Besides they might be able to combine business with pleasure in the interview.

Thousands of Trees Dead.

Belleville, Ont.—Thousands of trees in this section are dead owing to last winter's intense cold. Among varieties suffering are Baldwin, Bon Davis, Cranberry Pippin, Gano, and Stark. The McIntosh Red, Snow, and Northern Spy stood the winter well.

Summerland Nurse Receives Decoration

An eastern paper of recent date carried a press dispatch telling of the decoration of several Canadian nurses, among the number being Sister Mary Blott. Nothing is known here at the home of Miss Blott's sister, Mrs. F. W. Andrew, of any such honor being conferred upon Miss Blott, but there is no doubt felt that it is Miss Blott of Summerland who is referred to. The list contained the names of eight nurses, matrons, we believe, upon whom were conferred the Order of the Red Cross, first class, and about twice that number, Miss Blott being among those, who were decorated with the Order of the Red Cross, second class. Miss Blott has done long and faithful service, and her many friends will be delighted to learn that her work has been thus recognized.

Mormons are said to be carrying on an active propaganda in the province, with Vancouver as headquarters, with the object of establishing a temple in B.C.

Penalty For Destroying Or Pilfering Fruit

Ottawa, Special.—Protection against the serious losses experienced in the past through rough and careless handling, wilful destruction and pilfering of fruit shipments, has been provided for in the recent revision of The Inspection and Sale Act, covered by Sec. 331 of Bill 108, which reads as follows:—

"331. Every person who carelessly handles, wilfully destroys, or pilfers any fruit packed in any of the packages prescribed in this Part shall be guilty of an offence and liable upon summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding twenty-five dollars."

For the information and guidance of employees, the transportation companies are arranging to post notices in express cars and at fruit shipping points, while the public will also be advised through the press and by bulletin.

Packing Standard Must Be Adopted

The need for close co-operation among shippers is emphasized by J. A. Grant, Prairie Markets Commissioner, in his weekly bulletin thus:—

Your Market Commissioner asked a leading broker why his firm did not make a greater effort to secure his barb from B.C. instead of Walla Walla. His reply was: "They are not reliable, having no central selling agency. They sell individually to anybody at varying prices. We are not safe in handling their produce."

The existence of two associations was referred to and the come-back was: "They are not true to their organizations. They only use them when they are stuck."

One must admit the situation looks from here as described. You are a large growing district, superior in many ways to any other in the province. You are not buying in the cheapest market nor selling in the best. You cannot get up-to-date facilities nor better railway accommodation because you lack sufficient unity of purpose. You have "too many cooks" on the selling end. You cannot compete against one another. The price of your good stuff is marred and is regulated by the inferior stuff you ship out. You have no standard, no discipline or rules that can be enforced. Your district should be famous. Your rasp and blackberries have no superior.

Confidence is the basis of business. Have you confidence in yourselves as a district? If not, why not? You can excel by unity. District organizations arranging a season's program and carrying it out would establish stability. Enforce your rules as to pack, etc., and secure the respect of all fair buyers.

A few words convey the remedy. Organize with your association and be loyal to it.

Contracts Awarded For Consolidated School Routes

Slight Increase in Total Cost over Past Year, with Somewhat Curtailed Service.

Demands of Trout Creek residents Acceded to.

At the regular monthly meeting of the School Board held on Tuesday evening in the Council Chamber tenders were received for the school routes and contracts awarded.

Before opening the tenders a petition from Trout Creek, presented and supported by R. Johnston and C. Wilson was read and considered.

This petition was a protest against the proposal of the School Board to require the children of that section who are attending the consolidated school to climb the hill each morning to a point near the Sutherland orchard where the van would meet them. The same point was the terminus of the afternoon trip as outlined in the invitation for tenders.

In speaking in support of the petition that the route be continued as in the past, Mr. Johnston said that if the hill were any ordinary one there might be some reason for the change, but he felt sure that if any member of the board once walked up that sandy hill that member would not favor asking the children to walk it every morning.

The saving, considering the government grant, would be very little. If a child was a few minutes late he or she would hurry and reach the van over-heated. In cold weather this would result in the child getting a chill before the school building was reached. He had obtained medical advice, which was against allowing the children to climb the hill and drive the rest of the way. According to a neighbor, who had made enquiry, the van service could not be legally withdrawn.

Mr. Wilson said he had no objection to the children walking a reasonable distance, but protested against having them climb the hill. It was putting the child in the place of the horse.

Secy. Bowering said that he had heard that the petition was coming and had taken the liberty of asking for a price on the route extended to Sharp's corner. He could get it by phone.

Trustee T. J. Garnett said it had been his wish that alternative prices be asked for so that a comparison of the cost of stopping the route at the top of the hill and of drawing the children up the hill could be made. He thought that with the earlier grades being taught in the Ward school the parents were asking too much when they demanded that the van go down the hill for the larger children.

A perusal of the tenders, showed that, after placing the contracts of the other routes as thought best, there was only one tender left on this route, that of G. R. Hookham & Co., and the secretary was instructed to ask by phone how much extra would be charged for meeting the children at Sharp's corner each morning. As the tender read the cost would be $1.75 for each morning trip to the top of the hill, and $1.50 for returning the load to the same point. The reply to the telephone enquiry was that the morning trip to Sharp's corner would cost $2.00. It was pointed out that this would mean a cost of only 12½ cents a day to the ratepayers. Trustee Gartrell suggested getting a figure for extending the evening trip, but was out-voted. Trustee Marshall expressing himself as not favoring the van doing the hill. In view of the small additional cost Trustees Garnett and Marshall moved in favor of Sharp's corner for the morning. Carried.

The only tender for the Prairie Valley route was from D. Lister, the present contractor, for $3.00 per day. This was accepted.

W. E. Rhos' tender for the route around Giant's Head, at $1.00 per trip, $3.20 a day, was accepted on motion of Trustees Garnett and Gartrell.

There was some little discussion over the town route. The advertisement called for bids for a morning trip only. H. Bristow, the present contractor, had done the two trips last term at $2.40 a day.

Vernon Nurses On Torpedoed Boat

The latest ghastly Hun outrage is brought home to the people of this district from the fact that two of the victims on the torpedoed hospital ship were former residents of this city. Miss Gallagher was for several years matron of the Vernon Jubilee Hospital, and Miss Fraser was head nurse here at the same time. Their names appear as among those aboard the steamer, but are not included in the list of survivors, so it is presumed that they have been added to the number of martyrs sent to sudden death by the fiendish foes of civilization. It is only a few weeks since we were shocked by the news that Fred Cumming, one of our Vernon boys, had met his death as a result of a German air raid on a hospital in France, and this fresh instance of barbaric murder is not calculated to allay the feeling of hate against these devilish exponents of "kultur."—Vernon News.

Miss Fraser was a daughter of the late Lieut.-Governor Fraser of Nova Scotia.

Okanagan Orchards Showing Up Well

After spending several days visiting the different fruit districts of the Okanagan Valley, Mr. R. G. L. Clarke, Chief Dominion Fruit Inspector for B.C., stated upon his return to Vancouver that the damage to the fruit crop was not nearly as serious as at first anticipated. The cherry, peach, and plum crops, he says, will be bigger than for some time, while apricots will be a normal crop.

It is safe to say, he says, that the apple production will at least reach 75 per cent. of last year's crop, while it is just possible that there will be no decrease from the 1917 total. Rain, which visited the Okanagan from Salmon Arm to the south end of the Valley, did inestimable good to growing fruits and vegetables. The tomatoes, which were replanted after the frost, are doing remarkably well, wonderful advancement having been noted during the past week.

Proposed Changes To Express Classification

Ottawa, Special.—Application has been made to the Board of Railway Commissioners by the Express Traffic Association for approval of certain changes and additions to Section No. 22, page 11, of the Conditions of Carriage, the following probably being of some interest to fruit growers and shippers:

(a) Each package, bundle, or loose piece in a shipment must be plainly, legibly, and durably marked, showing the name of only one consignee, and of only one station, town, or city and province to which destined. Old marks must be removed or effaced by the shipper.

(b) Shipments wrapped in paper, or packed in boxes, barrels, corrugated strawboard, pulpboard, or fibreboard containers must be marked with pen, brush, stencil, waterproof crayon, or by label securely attached with glue or equally good adhesive.

(c) Nursery Stock and Trees in bundles or bales must be marked with not less than two tags, securely attached, and when in bales, shippers should place a duplicate address inside the bale for the purpose of identification.

(d) LOT SHIPMENTS—Except when in enclaves, each package or article in a lot shipment must be marked in compliance with these requirements.

While on his way to Kelowna last Sunday morning to assist with an operation there Dr. Andrew came into collision in his runabout with a southbound car. The accident occurred on one of the numerous sharp turns on that crooked road between here and Peachland. The car with which he collided was able to proceed slowly, and Dr. Andrew returned to town in it and engaged another to take him to the ferry.

Will Get Salary In Ten Instalments

Change Announced by Department in method of Remunerating School Teachers.

The method of payment of teachers' salaries, certain extensions of rights to vote and to hold office, and the permanent lengthening of the summer vacation are dealt with in a circular pertaining to amendments to the school law, and which has been sent out to the school boards of the province.

Beginning this summer the vacation period will extend from the last Friday in June to the Tuesday immediately following Labor Day.

In the past the teachers have been paid their salaries in twelve monthly instalments. Under the new order the yearly salary will be paid in ten equal instalments at the end of each of the months September to June inclusive. The school boards will receive the provincial grant in ten equal instalments, instead of monthly as has been the practice. This year those teachers who have been a half year or more with the board or will teach in September, will get the usual July salary.

Under one of the amendments referred to in the circular the right to vote at school meetings has been extended to the husbands of freeholders and husbands of ratepayers. The husband of a qualified voter is eligible for election to the office of school trustee, though husband and wife shall not serve as members of the same board.

Doukhobors Give Thanks For Rain

With Bared Heads and Feet Parade Streets of Grand Forks in Down-pour as Demonstration.

Last Sunday afternoon 500 of the 700 Doukhobors marched to town and paraded the streets of the city, chanting sacred songs, and clad in hand-made "nature white" suits and dresses, with bared heads and bare feet. There were men, women, and children, with the latter in the lead. It was a demonstration of thanks to Providence for rain which had commenced that morning and continued throughout the day. There was a perfect down-pour during the entire period of their demonstration, which included a walk of three miles to and from town for some of those in the procession.

At one of the principal corners one of the Doukhobors stopped and spoke through an interpreter. He said the Doukhobors had come to Grand Forks to invite the people of the city to unite with the Doukhobors to thank God for the rain. He had caused to fall. Truly the rain was much needed, he said, and will be of great benefit to the crops around Grand Forks; it had not rained for more than a month, and the growing crops were sorely in need of moisture.

A second speaker referred to the dress worn. Doukhobor women for a long time, he said, had been spinning and weaving cloth from flax and wool. The color of the dresses was nature white as it came from the flax. The interpreter said the Doukhobors wished to invite all the people of Grand Forks to help the sufferers of the war, women, children, and wounded soldiers. He said they found from practice that they could live on fifteen cents a day per head, and that was why the Doukhobors invited the people of Grand Forks to adopt similar methods of living, so that the balance of wages could be given to sufferers of the war. The Doukhobors promised they would do it, that they would give the balance to help the people ruined by the war.

The local Doukhobors have given similar demonstrations in the previous years, though the one last Sunday was probably the largest of any held.

In view of statements made by the interpreter, it is interesting to note that the Doukhobors some months ago discontinued their subscriptions to the Patriotic Fund.—Grand Forks Gazette.

Why is a man always thrown on his own resources when he hasn't any?

Will Accept No Parcels.

There is an iron-bound rule of the United States post office department not to accept packages addressed to soldiers in France, save the Oroville Gazette, and it is impossible to send anything from this post office to the boys abroad, no matter how badly the boys want certain articles, and especially tobacco. It is easy to understand that if the postal service was open to all the packages friends and relatives desired to send to the boys who are doing our fighting it would require a fleet of steamships to convey those packages, and every foot of space in ships is needed for food, munitions, and men. The rule prohibiting the sending of packages is undoubtedly a good one on that account.

The name of little Miss Margaret Pierra was omitted from the list of the promotions made at the Trout Creek School. She has been advanced from First to Second Reader.

MORE DISHONESTY! This time it is the Review, dishonest with its readers! "Very faulty and incomplete reports of Board meetings" have been appearing in the Review, according to the letter published in this issue over the name of the chairman of the School Board. "Garbled" reports is another description given these articles by the same person in conversation with the editor. We have been distorting the facts, for what purpose we have not been informed, nor can we guess. Note further, please, "that all our teachers will do well to pay small attention to reports of Board meetings as published in the Review." If little dependence can be put upon the reliability of these reports by the teachers, they will be equally unreliable for our general readers. What apologies we would have to make if the opinion of the writer of these accusations against the veracity of the Review and its editor were true. There is no small satisfaction, however, in the assurance that we have not been deceiving ourselves as well as our readers, in the fact that only one individual on the School Board would endorse the statements quoted above from the letter referred to when these astonishing charges were put before them, notwithstanding that it claims to have the full approval of the other members of the Board. That our reports of the proceedings of the School Board meetings have been substantially correct and as full as could be reasonably expected, can be verified, we believe, without going outside the members of the Board.

The Review has always considered it one of its first duties to its readers to keep them informed on the proceedings of meetings of Municipal Council and School Board. To do so we incur a cost and publish reports that any newspaper man would say were quite out of proportion to the advertising carried in the Review. To follow our own inclinations we would be as glad to stay away from the School Board meetings as some of the Board members would be to have us absent. Probably it would suit one or two better if we took our story from the chairman or from the minutes as afterwards prepared by the secretary. Would that suit our readers? We think not. We attend whenever possible, and we give as full a report as space will permit. To make it a verbatim one would require many columns at times. And the reports are in substance correct and complete, except—yes, except! One hates to say it lest it seem like "telling tales out of school"—except for those frequent comments which the reporter has been asked to suppress. Otherwise there might be some real occasion to wish the reporter were—well, somewhere else. Since we have said so much we may as well say further that during the four or five sessions of the School Board we have attended this year we have had many more requests "not to put that in the paper" than in all our years of reporting. A listener might think that some school child had been sent to take notes which would appear in print un-edited. Lest we do them discredit we would state here that the above request is not occasioned by remarks of the Trustees generally. But, that is aside. Considerately edited though they have been, too many of the statements made at the Board have looked so much worse in print that the maker of the statement has felt like kicking somebody. How easy to disclaim them by saying they were wrongly reported or the words "garbled." We shall be glad if those members of the Board now realize in time to prevent a misfortune that their methods of dealing with certain school matters have been ill advised.

Now, with reference to the "astonishing article" and some of the stories that have come to us with reference to the space given the High School teachers. Permit us to assure our readers that we did not seek that interview, though to do so was our right and privilege, if we so desired. The two gentlemen came to the newspaper office and, rightfully, asked for space in which to state their case from their viewpoint. We urged that they put their statements in the form of a letter, but to meet their wish the article was prepared as published nearly word for word as given the Review, and was afterwards substantiated by one of the two teachers interviewed. This, just to refute the reports that have reached us that the interview was sought by us, presumably to throw discredit on the School Board, and that the High School teachers do not substantiate the statements attributed to them. Though coming to us as but unconfirmed rumors, we deem it well to deal with these latter statements here and now.

Disastrous To All Would be the Result

ARTICLE No. VIII.

Suppose that everyone in your community should suddenly determine to send away to the metropolitan mall order concerns for every possible article of groceries, dry goods, notions, shoes, clothing, crockery, printing, hardware, machinery, harness, lumber, meats, etc., what do you imagine your home town would look like in six months' time?

All those attractive display windows along the main street would be boarded up, and the doors of practically all the business places would be locked.

Where would local real estate be? Where would the taxes come from to keep the streets looking even decently respectable?

Who would supply the money to support the churches and schools and the other local institutions that are to-day the pride of the home town?

What would travellers or visitors think of your "flag-station" village?

Where would farm values be in the neighborhood? Who would want to cast his lot in such a crepe-hung locality?

You think the supposition overdrawn? Well, there are towns just like that—towns where the hum of industry is silent, where youth and energy have flown, where quiet and decay reign supreme.

Some people seem to think they are conferring a great favor upon the home merchants by buying in their own community—but, remember this, as soon as you put your home merchants out of business, you put yourself out of business.

Would you invite commercial ruin to your home locality?

No man is wise who has a job in a town, who owns a piece of property, who has a farm in the neighborhood, or who has any interest whatever in the community, who makes a practice of patronizing the big city catalogue houses. He is running a losing race, and the sooner he awakes to the fact the better for himself and for all concerned.

Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

Each time I pass along the main street on West Summerland, I see with regret the nice bunch of Lombardy Poplars, planted through the energy of Mr Beer and other residents on the flat two years ago, slowly but surely dying from want of irrigation and a very small amount of attention. This is surely a sorry state of affairs, with so many fine young stalwarts parading the sidewalks doing nothing, each evening but getting in the way and making feeble jokes at expense of passers, when they might so easily be fixing up the trees and cutting away the medley of weeds—(where is the Inspector?). Surely there is some other Englishman to take Mr Beer's place and give the trees the small amount of attention they require, especially as they looked so nice and were doing so well.

RATEPAYER.

West Summerland, B.C.

July 3rd, 1918.

Editor Review.

Sir:

On my return from a vacation I notice an astonishing article in your issue of June 21st, under heading of "Accused of dishonesty say teachers." The gist of it is that Messrs McIntosh and Denton, our High School staff, regard statements in your paper as representing their school work as unsatisfactory to the School Board, and that it objected to their doing farm work outside school hours, and that by implication these criticisms meant a charge of dishonesty.

Messrs McIntosh and Denton require no certificate of character from any person or institution in Summerland or elsewhere. They have resided here for many years, and their probity and the excellence of their characters and professional work in Okanagan College made the Board engaging them happy in securing their services for the High School. Needless to say the same excellence so strongly shown in College days has continued all through High School work.

I consider the main cause of the statements and resentment attributed in your article to these gentlemen is the very faulty and incomplete reports of our Board meetings which appeared in the Review.

This arises from the fact that at Board sessions the discussions about school matters are frequently extensive, and you, Mr Editor, are far from happy in your selections of what you publish. By publishing partial statements from a general discussion of a particular subject, it is easy to misrepresent the discussion just as fully as by publishing an untrue statement.

The question of teachers taking in hand farm, or other, work as side lines is too large to discuss fully in this letter. The relation of the Board and teachers is that of employer and employee, but the Board is not in the position of the ordinary employer, as it is in fact merely a set of Trustees acting for the public welfare, and to whom a labor of trust is given by the citizens of the community. In such relation the Board has no right to object to any outside work unless it appears such is detrimental to the school work and its interests. I think the Board would have a right to object to any teacher doing outside work if it was convinced such was operating injuriously to school work, but our Board did not say at any meeting, that this was the case with these gentlemen, and if any such objection were to be taken it would be made direct, and not through the columns of a newspaper.

It would be a pleasure to the Board if it could increase all salaries as was requested, but, in view of the trust placed upon the Board by the citizens, this question had to be dealt with on a comprehensive view of all factors under present conditions here. Considering the salaries paid in other parts of B.C. with similar sized schools our salaries compare favorably.

In conclusion I wish to say, that in the statements attributed to Messrs McIntosh and Denton in your article, they have entirely misunderstood the Board's views and position regarding themselves, and I wish to assure them that the Board has a high appreciation of the work they are doing, as well as of the spirit and character they bring to that work.

I suggest, also, that all our teachers will do well to pay small attention to reports of Board meetings as published in the Review, as they must of necessity be incomplete. Also that when any matter arises that concerns any of them personally, a face to face interview with the Board will contribute superlatively more to a constructive end and promote that spirit of harmony and good fellowship so essential and desirable in educational work and progress, as well as in community progress.

I may add that this letter is written with the full cognizance and approval of the other members of the Board.

Yours truly,
LAURA M. KELLEY,
Chairman Summerland School Board.

As the result of a dispute over Keremeos importing players from Oroville the prize money put up for the baseball tournament at the Dominion Day sports was voted to be paid to the Red Cross. The Summerland nine played one game, with Penticton as opponents, and lost by one point in a score of 9-10. Princeton was matched against Kelowna and won 10-5. Penticton lost out to the Oroville-Keremeos combination by a score of 14-6, but in playing Princeton, the Oroville-Keremeos team only won by 10-9.

It wasn't so long ago that people carded their own flax and wool, spun and wove their own fabrics—but who does it to-day?

It's more satisfactory and economical to buy fabrics now than to make them.

Well, that's absolutely true of laundering. May we demonstrate this to you this month?

Naramata News

Current Events of Town and District

Naramata is again attaining natural proportions, several families have lately come in and taken up residence, some only temporary, but it all helps to liven up the place.

Mrs Leckie, wife of Col. Leckie, and family, of Vancouver, came in a few days ago and have taken up residence in the Gillespie cottage. They will remain for the summer months.

A patriotic service was held in the church on Sunday last. The church was most appropriately decorated with flags and flowers. The pastor gave a most stimulating address. An outstanding feature of the service was the reading of the names on the honor roll.

Mrs M. M. Allen and sons Stewart and Stanley motored to Kelowna recently, and while there were guests of Mrs Tomlin.

A couple of ladies and three children, friends of Mr and Mrs Dobie, came in on Friday night's boat and will remain for some length of time. They are from Banff, and while here will live in the Lyons cottage.

Quite a number of Naramatans took in the first of July sports in Penticton. Gerald Williams was kept very busy with his jitney, making several trips during the day.

The McKay cottage has been rented to six school teachers who are to summer here. We understand they are prepared to do orchard work if needed.

Miss Margaret Allen spent the week-end in Penticton. While there she was the guest of the Misses Kathleen and Bertha Mulford.

On Sunday, July 7th, will be celebrated the seventh anniversary of the Naramata church. There will be a special service, decorations, and appropriate music. A hearty invitation is extended to all the community.

The president of our Ambulance League would like to urge upon the public generally the necessity of keeping up the Red Cross work, and would ask that as many as possible can attend the meetings, for although our shipments are keeping up a record, still headquarters are asking for more and still more supplies. Come and help the boys win the war.

Sergt. Lewis Block has been spending a week's leave with his parents here, and we are pleased to note that his health, which has not been of the best, is now improving.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held on Wednesday last, and the business most urgent was the final arrangements for the anniversary concert which will take place on Monday, July 8th, at eight o'clock. A good time is looked forward to. There will be a social half hour at the close when strictly war refreshments will be served.

The "real early summer event" was the joint picnic given by the Women's and Farmers' Institutes. It was made a community affair, and most families were represented. The directorate of the Women's Institute had charge of the refreshments, and put in a couple of very busy hours catering to those present. The men had charge of the sports, which went off splendidly. The feature which no doubt will be longest remembered was the hat trimming contest, by the men, each one having to wear the product of his ingenuity. Mr S. Sharp of Summerland displayed much taste and carried off the first prize, a couple of close seconds followed, and Mr Cook is now the possessor of the "Booby." Quite a number motored up from Penticton, and in all a most enjoyable time was spent. The picnic, we understand, is to be an annual event.

Water Supply at Jones' Flat Inadequate to Growers' Needs

Grievance of long standing must be Remedied.—Delegation to Municipal Council Appeals for Relief.

Prof. Broad Makes Strong Case.

Says Money Needed to Make Improvements Can be Had, and Public will Back Council in Expenditure on System.

The pressing need for immediate action to provide a larger supply of water to Jones' Flat, and also to make early preparations to assure an adequate flow for next year and succeeding seasons, was strongly emphasized by a large delegation of citizens from that section who, probably by no pre-arrangement endorsed what had been said by Prof. W. T. Broad in a carefully prepared address on the same subject.

Stating that he had never before had need to make a complaint to, or request of the Council, Prof. Broad said that he regretted that it was necessary now to make both. Officials had stated that better provision had been made for this year's water supply, but, as a matter of fact, he was getting less water than in 1917, and not one quarter as much as he was getting five or six years ago. Then, from the ditch, he could easily water his orchard in one day. Now, from the pipe, he cannot do it as well with all the water he gets in four weeks. This shortage of water means disaster to this year's crops, many trees are now suffering badly. To conserve water he had put in two iron pipe lines across his orchard, and is now cultivating well. The supply is still far short, and can personally do no more than make a request to the Council for more water.

Prof. Broad formally offered to pay double his water rates if he were given double even the present limited supply of water.

Continuing, the professor said that he had invested heavily in Summerland, he believes in the place and its advantages, and has been persuading his friends to invest and settle here, and his idea was to help the Council, not to criticize. Unless the water situation was improved he felt that he would not be justified to continue in this course.

We are bound to admit, said the speaker, that our present system is utterly inadequate for our needs, really little better than a toy system. Year by year matters get worse, and the users increase in numbers and their needs. A better supply is needed and the people are willing to pay for it. The first duty of a council is to supply water in abundance.

The good God has given us a gem of a place to live in, and a district with magnificent facilities for water and storing it. It only remains for us to take and use what is so abundantly provided.

The war is a reason for greater production, not an excuse for doing nothing. As for the money, he had been assured that there is ample money in Summerland to finance a hundred thousand dollar scheme. Personally, he knew of $40,000 ready to be invested in Summerland, if the terms are sufficiently attractive, security good, and the expenditure useful to the place.

Summerland, continued the speaker, has been suffering too long from apathy and supineness on this subject. We need a bold man or two, with large vision and true faith to lead the way. The people will give the backing needed. Do something to get abundance of water and the people will pay for it with thankfulness. Our local experts are well able to devise a good scheme, and Summerland is well able to pay for it.

After describing more in detail the loss he and his neighbors on Jones' Flat are suffering from the water shortage, Prof. Broad said he was not blaming anyone for the present condition. He would be glad to help the Council in any way he could. He suggested that the Council call in any citizens to confer with them that they think might be able to help, or perhaps call a meeting of ratepayers.

Reeve Blair in his reply said he fully realized that the system was inadequate for present needs now the truck stuff and alfalfa were being generally grown between the trees. He has been asked if the new flume which has just been built was not too large, and his reply had been that he hoped it was.

Then followed a general discussion of the subject in which all manifested a desire to make material improvements in the system. Coun. Johnston was willing that more money be spent to put the system in satisfactory shape if the money can be had on reasonable terms. Coun. Campbell urged that work be started this fall. Prof. Broad suggested that the fruit growers be asked to make up the labor shortage. Coun. Simpson was in accord with what Prof. Broad had said. It was time for the whole municipality to take a hand in this matter, which was largely a question of finance. Money must be spent in a better way as to capital expenditure than it had been in the past. He suggested that a plan of the whole system be made and all work done to conform to that plan. The north main and Garnett Valley were giving the biggest part of the trouble, said Coun. Johnston. He had just walked the full length of the north ditch. It will carry more water, but there is still 1,200 feet that needs cementing. Coun. Campbell pronounced the labor shortage and the resultant failure to do the usual cultivating as a reason for the greater consumption of water. Prof. Broad closed the discussion with him by saying that the Council did not need to go to the public for advice. "We want the water; you want to give it to us; and we are ready to back you up and help." He had every sympathy for the Council.

Geo. Doherty, Geo. Graham, J. L. Logie, M. Stewart, R. Purvis, E. Walton, C. Craig, and others spoke for a large number of Jones' Flat growers who came in during the morning to ask for relief. M. Stewart complained that when there was a large flow of water running into the lake, the orchards were short. To Reeve Blair's explanation that more had not been done because of a shortage of men Mr. Stewart said that no call had been made for men. Not for ten years has there been enough water on Jones' Flat.

Representing Garnett Valley were several citizens who came to protest should any move be made to supply Jones' Flat from that system. Last fall the trees there had gone into winter too dry, and the same thing would occur again unless all the water in the Eneas' Creek dam was conserved for the valley.

A later comer to complain of water shortage was G. Marshall, who said he came to ask about water for a lot on Jones' Flat he was looking after. He complained that the Council had put in a new piece of fluming in the middle but had not finished the end. Better to have kept the money until next spring than to waste it in that way. Coun. Johnston told him that he did not know the condition of the old flume or he would not talk in that way. It is easy to find fault, said Coun. Campbell. It does not take much of a man to do that. Mr. Marshall was informed that the water situation on Jones' Flat had already been stated by a large delegation.

Later in the day the water situation was again considered but definite action was deferred as it was then late. Water Supt. Mitchell was called in and instructed to reduce the flow from the pipe system on Slwash Flat so as to increase the pressure on Jones' Flat.

The people of the Okanagan will learn with regret of the reported serious illness of R. Robertson, Vancouver, the man who organized the Okanagan United Growers.

Opening Prices on Apples Predicted

Calgary, July 9.—J. A. Grant, Fruit Markets Commissioner for B.C., says in his weekly bulletin that the all-absorbing topic of discussion amongst prairie jobbers is the apple situation. All have been doing a little figuring on the problem, and so we will give our impressions. We hear on good authority that Washington opens with quotations from $1.00 to $1.25 C grade.

Our opinion is that B.C. No. 1 Wagners, Romes, and apples of that class will not open under $1.80, and that McIntosh Reds will not be quoted at less than $2.25. We will try and get something definite by another issue. There is little probability that these figures will be lower, but a great possibility that they will be higher. We do not believe in exorbitant prices. A fair price considering crops and the purchasing value of the dollar should be aimed at. If boom prices should obtain a serious curtailment in consumption is possible. We think our figures represent a fair opening price, just as Lincoln decided the right length of a man's legs when he said: "They ought to be long enough to touch the ground." No surplus; no deficit. This is our sizing up of the apple price, and we would add: "It is a good time to buy."

APRICOT PRICE.

Calgary.—Wenatchee apricots are being quoted at $1.35, f.o.b. shipping point. Okanagan Valley, $1.85 f.o.b. shipping point.

CUCUMBERS.

The embargo has caused a strong demand for Canadian cukes. The present hothouse supply is insufficient to supply the demand. Field grown cukes will commence to arrive in two weeks' time, and from then on till frost there should be an ample healthy supply. Cukes at the opening of the field season should command a fair price.

Ventilated Cars vs. Line Cars for Small Fruit Shipments.

During the week your M.C. has discussed this question at length with a representative of the Dominion Express Co., and the merits and demerits of their respective fitness for carriers of soft fruit L.C.L. is hereby summarized for the benefit of shippers.

VENTILATED CARS.—These are closed after loading and remain closed until arrival in Calgary. A cool air draft is circulated through the car with intake at top. In these cars the open top takes in smoke, soot, and dust, which is greatly aggravated in the long tunnels. The car being near the engine it is subject to smoke from it most of the journey. If express messengers opened the doors after passing the long tunnels, allowing the smoke to escape rapidly, this nuisance would be greatly abated. If not, certain injury is done.

LINE CARS.—These are used for north and south shipments of L.C.L. berries from Calgary, necessitating transshipments at this point. They are provided with ventilation vents at ends, and top outlets. They are not subject to the smoke and soot from engine. The vents are not always open, due perhaps to the rush of business and thoughtlessness of messengers. If they were properly handled there should be sufficient ventilation for strawberries. These cars are opened at nearly every station taking on and putting off merchandise.

The above represents the outstanding features in the two cars in question. The Dominion Express Co. show a willingness to test out both cars this season, and suggest two or three trial shipments from the same shipper on the same train, to be inspected on arrival by their local manager and your Prairie Markets Commissioner. If both give satisfaction under careful observation, instructions will be given to all messengers to attend to securing ample ventilation in line cars. It is not the intention of the company to withdraw ventilated cars, but rather to secure the service best calculated to prevent loss to both.

Cherry Shipments Show Big Increase

Before the cherry shipping season ends no less than seven heavily loaded cars will have been shipped from Summerland by express in addition to the usual express shipments which also are bulking large. The shipment of the first express car of cherries was recorded in The Review last week. Owing to delay in the delivery here of the cars it was not until Sunday night that the next shipment was made when no less than three cars containing 4,200 packages were started rolling towards the Prairies. Approximately half of the fruit in these three cars had been assembled from nearby lake points for pre-cooling and storage awaiting cars. The value of the cooling plant was well demonstrated last week, when, because of the car shortage, had it not been for the cooler in which to hold the fruit, the loss would have been great.

Including the three carloads mentioned above the shipments of cherries from Summerland during the first week in July runs over 8,000 packages, according to a reasonably accurate calculation.

The Fruit Union expects to ship three more carloads by express, including those that will be sent out to-day, and the Stewart Fruit Co. and others yet have a considerable quantity of cherries to ship. When the season closes this district will have made a record in its cherry output.

Copious Showers Delight to Growers

Welcome rain came in satisfying quantity during Tuesday night and Wednesday. That the volume varied considerably within the limits of the municipality may be learned with surprise. The total rainfall recorded at the Experimental Station for that period was .87 inch, practically seven-eighths of an inch. The government instruments at Balcom Ranch registered a total precipitation of .61 inch, or just under two-thirds of an inch. The precipitation during the night was practically the same at both places, being .46 at Balcom and .47 at the Farm. It was during Wednesday that the difference in the rainfall at the two points, not very far apart in a direct line, was recorded. The instrument at the Farm showed a fall of .4 inch, while at the Prairie Valley ranch it was only .15.

Accompanying the showers was more than the usual display of lightning, which at times in its frequent flashes over the hills on both sides of the Valley was most magnificent. One of the series of storms seemed to break away from the hills to the west and cross directly over Summerland to the eastern hills. During this time, late on Wednesday evening, the flashes were exceptionally vivid, and were sufficiently close to cause some little damage to telephone lines and lighting system, the damage being almost wholly confined to the blowing of fuses.

Just when the storm was at its worst, the power plant was shut off to guard against possible damage, and at the telephone exchange the battery was disconnected for the same reason. The shutting down of these led to the belief that some damage had been done by lightning.

From two-thirds to nearly an inch of water is said to be a pretty good irrigation, ample for gardens and field truck, but it would probably be folly to depend too much on the rainfall as being a sufficient application for trees. No doubt the total precipitation was much greater in the mountains and should materially improve the situation as regards the predicted water shortage. Swollen creeks tell of the bounteous rains on the mountain water-sheds.

The first ripe tomato to be picked this season on the Balcom ranch was plucked from the vine on Tuesday. This is not a record breaker as to season, for ripe tomatoes have been gathered on the same ranch in late June.

Council Holds an All Day Session.—Irrigation Matters Take Up Much of Day.

Who Should Control Storage Sites?

Sch. Board makes request for Permission to Meet in Municipal Building.—Properties Bought at Tax Sale Redeemed.

The Municipal Council had an all-day session on Monday, the date of the regular meeting. Much of the morning was taken up with citizens' various requests and complaints, chiefly regarding water. Principal among these were Prof. Broad, who went fully into the situation as regards Jones' Flat, and a deputation from the same section on a like errand. Particulars of these are given under a separate heading.

R. V. Agur asked for renewed water connection to two 10 acre lots. The flumes to these had been discarded, and a former Council had approved of putting in stand pipes. This had not been done. Water was needed to save the alfalfa growing on these lots. Referred to Public Works Committee.

H. Cancellor complained of water being shut off from his lot on the plea that he was allowing it to run on to the road. Referred to Committee.

S. M. Young and J. H. Harris, both of whom have lots on the end of the ditch running along the front of Giant's Head, complained of a lack of supply. Unfair distribution and tampering with the flume were suggested reasons for the shortage. The superintendent will be asked to investigate.

Several complaints were received from orchardists whose irrigation days included Monday that the ditchmen had taken the holiday, July 1st, and had thus deprived them of a day's irrigation. It was proposed that this be guarded against in future.

The Bank of Montreal wrote asking that the lane at the rear of the bank property be graded and the street along the east be improved. The Public Works Committee stated that this work could not be done at present.

Alfalfa growing on Paradise Flat lots held by the municipality had been sold by tender to T. B. Young for $30. An Alberta firm wrote enquiring of the assessment of two lots on Paradise Flat. These had been purchased for $5,000, and, according to the letter, the assessed value was $6,000. A local valuator had just reported that each lot was worth $1,000, and the selling price to-day was perhaps not more than $750. The clerk, who reported that the assessed value of the two was $4,000, was instructed to answer the letter.

An enquiry coming from the office and reading of a portion of the Domestic Water By-law brought forth the fact that each "water user" is required to pay a domestic water rate. The enquiry was with reference to buildings occupied by more than one tenant. The clerk held the view that each connection paid the rate, but Coun. White stated that in the Review block each tenant had been paying a full rate. It was discovered that this was in accordance with the by-law, and that others had been escaping, the landlord only being billed. The collector was instructed to bill separately for each tenant.

The reading of a resolution framed at a convention of irrigationists at Kelowna to the effect that the government take over and operate the storage dams and main canals, and which resolution the Council was asked to endorse for presentation at the irrigation convention to be held on July 24, 25, and 26 at Nelson, caused some discussion on this large subject. Couns. Simpson and White both questioned if Summerland would be wise to hand over its storage system to the government. Coun. Simpson would alter the wording of the resolution to leave it optional with the municipality. Unless the government would pay a substantial sum for the storage dams and thus put the municipality in funds to make needed extensive improvements inside municipal limits, Coun. White thought Summerland would be better off in retaining these rights.

Other members agreed that the delegates from here to the convention should guard against having the government petitioned to take over all storage, leaving the choice, rather, with each district. Couns. Johnston, Simpson, and White were appointed municipal delegates to the convention.

Two letters were read from the secretary of the School Board. One asked for permission to hold School Board meetings where the Council now meets, and the second stating that the clerk would be notified in advance of any such meetings so that any papers, etc., could be put away.

Coun. Johnston said he was probably responsible for the second letter as he had suggested that accommodation might thus be made until the proposed manual training building was completed and that provision for a board room be made in that building.

Reeve Blair told of a temporary arrangement being made when Dr. Sawyer was chairman of the Board to hold the meetings in the Municipal Office until electric lights were put in the school. To grant the request would be to make the Municipal Office a public place. He could not see why the Trustees could not meet in the school building.

Coun. White said the Board considered the school building an unsuitable place in which to hold meetings, and suggested that the request be granted in the meantime, and that the back-room be made accessible from the street for the Board or from the room now used by Mr. Logie and fitted up for Mr. Logie's use.

Mr. Logie explained that the other room was in use and could not be spared. He told of how the late R. H. Agur, when reeve, had been opposed to having the Council meet in the present room. It was intended as the clerk's office, and a place in which committee meetings might be held. For two years the Council had not met there, and it was at the suggestion of the clerk, and so that they might be near to the records that the Council had since then been meeting in the office.

Coun. Simpson said the School Board had no particular right to meet there, but he saw no great objection, and Coun. Campbell could see no objection. To grant the request might make better feeling. He felt that the proper place though was in the school building.

Mr. Logie said he was quite willing to oblige for the time, but that would not settle the question.

The Reeve said if the room were quite separate from the office it would be a different matter. He thought that with the light now in the school building that was the place to meet. The discussion there ended.

Jas. Ritchie wrote offering to rent the ground known as the campus for a public sports ground, provided the Council would assume charge of the field and forbid Sunday games. It was agreed that Mr. Ritchie be offered $25 rent for the season.

In explanation of a letter from W. C. Kelley asking for payment of judgment for $53 obtained by him against the Municipality the clerk said that no official notice had yet been received of such judgment nor order to change the assessment roll. The auditors had said that the Municipality must first be served with the decision of the court, and had protested when on a previous occasion the roll had been changed without such authority.

A suggestion that a police magistrate should be appointed with an office near the Municipal Office brought requests for the name of someone who would act. This came out of a report that money and goods were being stolen, and that cherries were being stolen from the trees. No name was proposed. (Continued on Page 2.)

OUR WATER NEEDS.

PROBABLY BETTER SITUATED than any other fruit district of the Okanagan as regards its supply and distribution of irrigation water, Summerland is still a long way from being properly equipped with storage facilities and distribution systems. Too many have been the mistakes, engineering and otherwise, that have resulted in waste and loss, but of this there is no use complaining. Better now to go at once about the work of providing what is needed to stop heavy annual losses in crops that are not realized because of insufficient water. There may have been justification for the inaction of the past, but never has there been so much faith in Summerland and its possibilities as now, and this faith fully warrants the immediate laying out of a definite plan and the undertaking of most needed work. Greater storage facilities are needed. With better and larger mains with which to make fullest use of Trout Creek when it is flowing strong, storage water would be required for a short period only even in a very dry year. We believe Coun. Johnston has a plan that will add very materially to the amount of water now held in reserve. Of equal, if not greater, importance is a canal of ample capacity to carry all the water needed from the creek to the reservoir, and the enlarging or replacing of all flumes and ditches now inadequate to the requirements of our changed methods of farming. As Prof. Broad has said, we have the men and the money, or if not we can get them. The orchardists are ready to pay for the water essential to successful operation. The laying out of a comprehensive plan as suggested by Coun. Simpson, carefully checked and considered, must be undertaken without delay. At the same time the money necessary to do the work must be located. The other essential, labor, we believe will be forthcoming. We are all convinced that prompt action is vital, let us have the courage of our convictions.

$ $ $ $ $

ANOTHER LETTER on the school controversy is published in this issue. This one, it will be noted, bears the signature of the Trustees. Just what arguments and persuasions were used to obtain these we can only guess. This much is known that scarcely was the ink used in our denial of the accusations contained in the previous letter dry before the Trustees were called together. Little more than broken whisperings of what occurred at that meeting last Saturday night have come to us. But enough has been gathered to assure us that it was a long and lively one. A lengthy letter denouncing The Review and its editor had been prepared for the signature of the Board members, says one report. All responsibility must be placed on that nasty and disreputable sheet. Charges were made without the accused being given an opportunity to defend nor without the evidence to prove, again says rumor. Shorn of most of its intended stings, the letter was finally signed to avoid a split in the Board. Naturally, we are considerably surprised and somewhat disappointed that those two Trustees, whose good judgement we relied upon and who last week expressed disapproval of the tone of the former letter, should have permitted themselves to be persuaded to put their names to the second.

It is now claimed that the reports of the school meetings as given by The Review have been "faulty and incomplete." Teachers are advised to pay absolutely no attention to these reports, where they affect them, and the reporter cannot see a joke.

No newspaper is infallible. The Review is always ready to correct any error that may creep into its columns, but we have yet to be shown where we have misrepresented any action of the Board or statements made by its members. The trouble lies right here: Statements made by members have had a different result from that intended. The easiest way out was to say that they were wrongly reported. It is an old dodge. Every newspaper hears it. In this case there was the additional implication that The Review had purposely misrepresented the doings of the Board. Our files are complete and can be seen at our office at any time. We invite comparison with the minutes of the secretary. In fact we have already invited members of the Board to go through our files and point out our sins. Particularly, we presume, would it be claimed that the report that brought the reply from the teachers of the High School was misleading. Yet, two weeks went by with no attempt being made to correct the alleged misstatements either by going to the teachers or through the press. It was only after two weeks elapsed and the teachers' were given space to reply that any effort was made to deny the correctness of the published reports. The statements made and published in The Review would have been made had the public filled the Board room and were intended to be published. Then, why not stand behind them, instead of putting the responsibility of their effects upon the paper that reported the proceedings.

THE AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT is making every effort to have rabbit ranching one of the big assets of the future. Ranches which formerly raised sheep and cattle, are now being fenced in with close wire netting and used for breeding grounds and runs for rabbits. This is a branch of farming that might be greatly extended in B.C., especially in the dry belt.

"When this here war is done, says Dan, and all the fightin's through, There's some'll pal with Fritz again, as they was used to do; But NOT ME," says Dan the sailor-man, "NOT ME," says he, "Lord knows it's nippy in an open boat on winter nights at sea."

"When the last battlo's lost an' won, an' won or lost the game, There's some'll think no 'arm to drink with squareheads just the same; But NOT ME," says Dan the sailor-man, "an' if you ask me why— Lord knows it's thirsty in an open boat when the water-breaker's dry."

"When peace is signed, and treaties made, an' trade begins again, There's some'll shake a German's hand an' never see the stain; But NOT ME," says Dan the sailor-man, "NOT ME, as God's on high— Lord knows it's bitter in an open boat to see your shipmates die."

West Summerland, B.C.,
July 8th, 1918.

Editor, Summerland Review.

Sir,
While the School Board does not wish to be drawn into any newspaper controversy the members feel your editorial last week must be answered.

All the undersigned think your reports of school meetings have been faulty and incomplete, and we approve of the chairman's letter of the 3rd inst., to the Review.

We further consider it will be very much better for our school work if the teachers pay not only small, but no attention whatever to your reports of our meetings where the same affect them personally. To our minds it is preposterous that the relations of employer and employees should be dictated, or upset, by second-hand reports in a newspaper, which, after all are merely a reporters summary of what happens at the meetings. We stand on the solid ground that the relations of the Board and teachers must be direct, and not through the Press. If Messrs McIntosh and Denton had reflected more fully they would have seen their wise and proper course was to have met the Board personally, and made sure they accurately knew its position.

The public will form its own opinion of school work as it chooses, but in doing so there are fortunately many more considerations than the Review.

"Not to put that in the paper" is for the most part one of our stock jokes about the present reporter of the Review, but unfortunately his sense of humor cannot grasp this joke. True there are times when it is desired certain items be not published, particularly in the twisted setting you sometimes give them. On the general question we consider that the Board has a right to avoid having every item of its business published if it so chooses, and we intend to maintain this position irrespective of your views.

PROPOSED TAXES FOR 1918.

The Reeve and clerk were authorized to issue a deed to Mrs. Adamson for Blk. 7, D.L. 439, she having paid into the municipal treasury the amount on the municipal books against the property, $380. This is one of the properties which interested parties were given until this month to redeem. The authority was also given for a deed to the agents of the mortgage for Lot 1, Blk. 12, D.L. 455, upon payment of all claims of the municipality.

Other properties on the list are to be dealt with at a special meeting next week.

The clerk reported that he had received a price of $100 for the land needed from Mrs. Graham to build a road from Jones' Flat. Before getting a price it had been necessary to have the survey made. Assent was given to paying the price asked.

A by-law fixing the 1918 tax rate was given initial readings, and will be finally considered at an early date. Twenty-five mills net on the dollar will be asked from land owners this year. In the past a discount has been given only on the general rate, but this year it is proposed to fix a rate for debenture and school purposes that will permit of a discount all round. As read the by-law fixes the rates for taxes as follows:—

General, 12 mills on the dollar
Debenture, 9.6 " " " "
School, 8.4 " " " "

Total, 30 mills gross.

The maximum discount for prompt payment is one-sixth. This discount is allowed up to September 30th. If paid in October the discount is 12 per cent.; in November, 8 per cent., and between the latter date and Dec. 14, 5 per cent.

Last year the net taxes were: general, 7½ mills, debenture, 8½ mills, school, 5½ mills, as compared with 10, 8 and 7 mills respectively this year.

Stating that he had been giving some attention to the question of what is the best equipment for the building and maintenance of roads in such a district as ours, Coun. White said that he was about convinced that one of the first local needs was a motor truck and a properly arranged shale pit. With a loading chute at the pit and a truck equipped to pour its load along the road very much more work could be done than by horses, and ton for ton the cost of moving the material would be much less. He asked that other members of the Council get whatever data possible on the subject.

Reeve Blair thought it very probable that it would be better to fit up with a motor truck than to buy another team.

Coun. White was commissioned to attend to the placing of a road sign at the corner near the town school directing down traffic to use the front road, reserving the back road for up traffic. For much of its length the latter will not permit of two vehicles passing, and it has a bad turn for cars going down to negotiate.

Several additional phones have been installed recently by the Summerland Telephone Company. The company now has the largest number of subscribers in its history.

Mr E. F. Sanborn, one of our newer citizens, and now owner of a lot near Mr Munn's, is building a small house on his new property. He is losing no time in getting acquainted with Summerland, as two of the first things he did was to buy a new McLaughlin car in which to get around and to subscribe to the Review that he might know what is going on about him. Both Mr and Mrs Sanborn are delighted with Summerland, and are feeling the benefits of our ideal climate.

Fire In Attic.

The Conway home had a narrow escape from destruction by fire late on Wednesday evening. It was just after the storm had begun to subside that a member of the family heard the crackling of fire in the attic and saw reflections of a blaze. The telephone service had been discontinued, but, going outside, Miss Conway gave the alarm by calling to the top of her voice. Neighbors, hearing, spread the alarm, and soon a crowd had gathered. Though the fire must have been burning for some minutes it had not spread far, and by cutting a hole in the roof, through which a hose was passed, and by the application of additional water carried in pails up to the attic from inside, the fire was extinguished in perhaps twenty minutes, but not until considerable damage had been done by water.

A super-charge of electricity permitted to pass over the wires leading to the house by an over-sized fuse is suggested as a cause of the fire.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs Conway and family desire to thank all the kind neighbors who so promptly responded to the call to save their home from fire and came to their help through the rain and darkness. Without their ready assistance our loss would have been heavy.

Editor, Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

With your permission I would like to bring forward a phase of the water question arising out of the interview with the Council on Monday last. One very important point was brought in right at the close which was not given the prominence it deserved. The object of the deputation from Jones' Flat was to impress upon the Council the absolute importance of securing more water right at the present time before it is too late, but the object of the Garnett Valley deputation was to conserve the water in the dam, proposals directly opposed to each other, as unless some arrangement can be made to give us more water through the syphon or domestic supply, the closing of the dam reduces us still further. Now we appreciate the position of the Garnett Valley people and realize their anxiety that sufficient water be retained if at all possible to suffice for their needs as if they once lose their supply, it cannot be replaced except by rain. It may be, however, that in their anxiety to retain sufficient they may retain more than actually required, especially this season when with a short crop their trees will not require so much water as if loaded with fruit. My real object in writing is to suggest that the Council at once prepare statistics of the amount of water in the dam and the acreage to be watered therefrom, both on Garnett Valley and Jones' Flat. This would show us how we stand and we would then Summerland's contribution to the Patriotic Fund for June totalled $187.25.

Mr and Mrs Geo. Craig are the proud parents of a baby girl, born on Saturday last.

Rev. Chas. Baker of Lethbridge is expected to arrive here next week, accompanied by Miss Baker. Mr Baker plans on spending his vacation here, and will supply for the Baptist Church during his stay.

Coun. R. Johnston is planning on making a trip to the head of Trout Creek. While there the gate in the big dam will be opened, and he also proposes to have a canal cut that will open another lake into the main reservoir.

One of our pioneer citizens, and who had much to do with the opening up of the district to settlement, Jas. Ritchie, came in this week from Vancouver where he has been living for some time. Summerland still has many attractions for him.

Through the kindness of Messrs T. B. Young, B. Steuart, M. Steuart, Geo. Edwards, S. Darkis, and Miss Lister the children of St Andrew's Church Sunday School enjoyed a motor trip to Trout Creek Point, where racing, swimming, swinging, jumping, and other sports were enjoyed. Over 120 attended the picnic. Especial mention of their services is due Messrs R. Johnston and J. Tait, and the ladies who were indefatigable in their efforts to give the children a pleasant time.

A Patriotic Offer.

The Puyallup and Sumner Fruit Growers' Association through their president, W. H. Paulhamus, have offered their entire berry-crop at market price to the United States Government at Washington, D.C.

This was inspired by press reports of the berry crop failure in England.

Latest advices we have from there says that it is reported that the British Government has commandeered all the strawberries and gooseberries.

An offer to withdraw from their established market all their fruit if necessary is certainly patriotic, no matter what decision is arrived at regarding it. The estimated amount of their crop this year is 10,000,000 pounds.

This would be a great and glorious old world in a few years if our children would only achieve what we expect and predict for them.

know how much water we could rely upon and with this information endeavor to make the most of it.

With this information, which should be easy to compile, it might be advisable to call a public meeting and discuss ways and means of conserving the moisture. I believe the wrong system has been followed this season in turning into the orchards small supplies of water each week. This keeps the grower busy distributing the small amount and in many cases actuates against cultivation as he feels as he has not had enough, he had better leave his furrows open till next week and thus loses much of the effect. Double the flow every other week, with cultivation in the meantime, would give better results.

We certainly appreciate the difficulty the Council has been up against with the exceptionally dry season, but one cannot help remember the confident impression which a certain meeting in the fall left upon our minds when in response to a suggestion that the rates be raised, the Council led us to believe they would be able to practically guarantee us more water. The shortage of labor in the spring was no doubt the greatest drawback, but many of us believe that if the matter had been brought acutely to the attention of the orchardists, there is hardly a man who would not have felt bound to give assistance.

In conclusion I would urge that whether this season closes wet or dry, the matter be brought up generally in the early fall, and every effort be made to put in a system that is really worth while. The most attractive advertisement to induce people to locate in Summerland would be the announcement of an adequate water system.

Yours truly,
W. G. RABY.

Orderly Patrol—July—No. 1.

Last Friday's meeting was a very busy one for the Scouts. The whole of the Gymnasium was thoroughly swept and tidied up, and a start made on levelling up the grounds. The Troop was then given some marching drill by the Scoutmaster, after which arrangements were made for the proposed visit to the Kelowna Scouts camp.

Sunday morning found the Scouts on the government wharf ready for the voyage, about twenty-five turning out. The trip was made in the "Skookum," arriving at the camp about 10.30.

A "dip" with the Kelowna Scouts was the first item on the program, followed by a good lunch.

After lunch the boys had a couple of hours to themselves until three o'clock, when church service was called.

The service was conducted by Rev. Major Owen of Christ Church, Vancouver and Rev. H. A. Solly, Summerland, both delivering fine addresses to the boys.

A "March Past" was conducted before Major Owen, both the Kelowna and Summerland troops taking part.

After supper the "Skookum" was boarded and the home trip made. Patrol Leader Alex. Smith and Scout R. Munn remained behind as guests of the Kelowna Troop.

Two more Scouts from here went up on Wednesday to take part in the sports on Thursday.

day night on a three months' visit to their fruit ranch here. They are spending part of their holiday in the pleasurable pastime of picking cherries.

Quite a large number of the Peachland people took in the Patriotic Carnival held in Kelowna on Saturday. A very busy stage in the cherry picking prevented a greater number taking advantage of the day's outing.

Mr and Mrs W. Douglas enjoyed a visit on Sunday last from Dr and Mrs Matheson of Kelowna and a niece of Mrs Matheson, Mrs Gordon of Vancouver, who came down in their motor launch, returning again in the evening.

Mrs Cosby who, with her four children, has been visiting her cousins, Mr J. H. Clements and Mrs D. McLachlin, went out on Saturday night's boat for Keremeos, to visit relatives there.

Miss M. Smith, Miss Olive Gummow, and Mrs Will Aikens were passengers to Kelowna on Monday, Mrs Aikens accompanying Mrs W. Lupton's two little girls home after their visit with her and her daughter Kathleen. Miss Smith and Miss Gummow returned the same evening.

Mrs Lynes (nee Miss Gertrude Gummow) of New York State came in on Monday night to visit her mother and sisters Miss Olive and Mrs R. A. F. Moore of Priest River, Idaho.

Mr A. Town, Mr J. Wright, Mrs W. B. Sanderson and Master Willie were passengers to Kelowna on Tuesday, returning the same day.

Tuesday night brought a very much needed shower of rain to the district. It has greatly supplemented the irrigation system, but while it has done a great deal of good in this way we are sorry to have to report that it has done some damage in some of the orchards by cracking some of the cherries.

Market Conditions Prairie and Coast

Cherry and Tomato Prices Temporarily Cut by Importations.—Last Week's Quotations.

Calgary.—The market shows a decline in the volume of gooseberries and red currants offered, and the end of their season is not far off. Few berries have been put up in jam on the prairies this year. When housewives realize that there will be little or nothing offering in the fruit line at old-time jam making prices they will likely turn their attention to making provision for the winter. Raspberries, blackberries, sour cherries, and all the stone fruits should be in good demand for this purpose. The glut in cherries caused by over-zealous importers overloading the prairie market with stuff when the home supply was abundant to supply the needs has run its course, and now that B.C. Bings and Lamberts are coming in, the importations have proportionately fallen off. Prices established on Thursday were $2.75 per 4 basket crate, with a prospective raise of 25c. to-day, Friday.

A car of old B.C. potatoes arrived this week and was refused by a leading wholesale house here on the grounds that it was unfit for consumption. The C.P.R. sold it to a jobber for a little over freight, and it is reported that he made a good cleaning up of it. New potatoes are beginning to come in from B.C. as well as other vegetables.

Tomatoes, like cherries, are reestablishing themselves again. There was no need for any glut, and the men responsible for it took their bump cheerfully. It is a pity that they could not be punished for the damage they do to others.

RASPBERRIES.

A car of Puyallup raspberries arrived last week-end in Calgary and gave its sponsors the usual bump that has followed all the ventures of importing perishable fruits this season, at the time when B.C. is rolling similar stock.

The opening price was $6.00 per crate of 24 shallow pints, gradually dropping on Saturday afternoon to slump prices, and on Tuesday morning, the balance of them were jobbed to pedlars at $1.50 per crate.

CHERRIES.

Cars of imported cherries arriving in over-ripe condition sold as low as 75 cents and $1.00 per crate. They were Bings, and this being a popular variety made the task of the jobbers handling B.C. Royal Annes a hard one.

WHOLESALE PRICES.

Calgary wholesale prices to-day (Friday) are as follows:
Strawberries, $4.00 and down according to quality.

Raspberries, $4.00, insufficient supply due to rain.
Black currants, $3.25 to $3.50, 24 pint hallowcks.

Red currants, $2.50.
Gooseberries, $2.50.
Bings, $2.50 to $3.00, according to pack and quality.

Royal Annes, $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00, according to pack and quality.
Beans, 15 cents per lb.

Winnipeg.—The car of B.C. cherries arrived in good order and are selling fairly well, there being some very fair Royal Annes, also Bings. Some tomatoes arrived from Ontario in four-basket crates as well as the eleven-quart baskets, but the crates seem to be a little high in price and the pack and quality very ordinary. The carload of cherries arrived from Ontario in splendid order which was remarkable as the variety was Early Richmond, and does not as a rule ship very well. However, these were precooled at the government station at Grimsby, which probably accounts for them carrying so well. They are selling rather high, starting off at $1.25, but selling cheaper now, where last year Ontario sour cherries of a better variety sold to start at $1.00 per six-quart basket.

WHOLESALE PRICES.

B.C. gooseberries, 24 pints $3.75

French General Decorating Brave Soldiers

This is a view of a French division drawn up on a battlefield in Northern France after an engagement, while the general of the division decorates some of the troopers for valor. The Legion of Honor has been awarded to many brave Frenchmen during the present war.

L. V. Rogers Here

Mr L. V. Rogers, Principal of the Kelowna High School, and Liberal candidate in the last provincial election, was a visitor to Summerland this week. Mr Rogers has been spending most of the week making a tour of this section of the riding. Monday he spent in Westbank, and Tuesday in Peachland. He was in Naramata much of Wednesday, and came round from there in his car to Summerland that afternoon. He left for Kelowna this morning. To The Review Mr Rogers stated that his purpose in making these visits was to get into closer touch with the needs of the communities so that he might better advise his political friends at Victoria. The water question particularly has been receiving his attention. He hopes to see the different districts each organized in one form or another, and advantage taken of the proffered government assistance for irrigation purposes.

B.C. cherries—
Royal Anne, 4-basket crate 3.00
Bings, 4-basket crate 3.50
Sour, 4-basket crate 2.50
B.C. raspberries, 24 two-fifth quarts 4.50
B.C. currants, black, red and white, 24 two-fifth quarts 4.00
Moose Jaw.—Sour cherries, Montmorencies, in good demand, are selling for $3.00 per case, 4 basket. There is a limited quantity of Bings selling at $4.00 per case, 4-basket. Slightly over supply of Royal Annes, selling from $3.00 to $3.75.

Regina.—Cherries continue to be a drag on the market. Two cars of B.C.'s arrived this morning. There is a fair demand for Bings and good varieties, but Royal Annes are being jobbed. Almost every jobber and quite a number of retailers are receiving consignments from nearly all shippers. Bings in 4-basket crates. It is practically impossible to give prices on cherries, market very unsettled. This market bare of cabbage but will be taken care of in the next few days. California deciduous arriving but selling slowly. Crop conditions in Saskatchewan not good.

Edmonton.—This market has been badly overcrowded with "consignments" B.C. cherries for the past week or ten days; no reasonable price can be obtained for them, and conditions will not improve any until shippers ease up and use a little more judgment in regard to quantities consigned to this market.

Vancouver.—Trade in general is good, and even with the high prices prevailing for fruit, consumers appear to have grasped the fact that there is no likelihood of getting cheap fruits and vegetables this season and they are steadily filling up their jars with these necessities. Although we have had a good rain in B.C. during the past week, which will no doubt improve our situation should not expel from the minds of our people the grave

Notes the Difference

(Oroville Gazette.)
For the first time in years the road between Oroville and Fairview, or at least a portion of the distance, is badly cut up and exceedingly rough. Of course the road on this side of the line is in its normal condition, almost impassable. No one travelling in that direction is surprised at that. It would be a surprise if the road was in first-class condition. But we expect different in British Columbia, where they have road building down to a science, and good roads are the rule and not the exception. The reason that this stretch of road has been neglected is that since the war labor is scarce on the other side of the line, and finances for road building are not as seemingly as inexhaustible as they were before the war.

situation that confronts the people of the world in the matter of food stuffs. Producers should bear in mind that it is their duty to conserve as well as produce, and every producer who allows foodstuffs to wantonly waste because he believes some other fellow is making a larger rake-off than himself, or who refuses to sell because the market is not high enough, is firing bullets into the backs of our own fighting force, which are more deadly than the bullets of the Hun.

The markets in general are the best that conditions will warrant. We are doing all we can to better these conditions as we understand the cost of producing foodstuffs, and we also understand the cost of getting same to the consumer. The fact that the manufacturer has doubled and trebled his prices, and has been able to get away from investigations and threatened investigations, does not "relieve" the producer of his duty to those who are daily fighting the greatest battle the world has ever known, in order that our producers may live and farm as free men. Organize and market your foodstuffs through legitimate channels which will bring you a profit and at the same time eliminate waste.

Market your produce judiciously. Conserve the foodstuffs. Save the waste. Can the surplus. Can the profiteer and you can the Kaiser.

The sweet cherry market does not appear to be as lively as usual. I believe some of this responsibility should be placed on some of the growers who are not placing their cherries in proper packages to arrive on the market in first-class shape. The Bing cherries from the Okanagan Valley are arriving in excellent condition, and we find the Brown Cherry Rot to be much less prevalent this year in the Fraser Valley cherries than in former years. Calgary reports a very fine stock of cherries from Hammond and Mission.

Cable Punctured

As a direct result of the electric storm earlier in the week all these sections of Summerland served by the electric lighting plant were suddenly plunged into darkness last Saturday night. The break in the service came at the time when the load was at the highest point it had reached since the storm, and only after some investigation was the reason found. A "short circuit" had occurred in the cable which carries the "juice" from the powerhouse to the distributing lines on the other side of the street. During the search it was discovered that an electrical charge had come in over the wires of sufficient voltage to jump several of the spaces in the lightning arrestors, puncturing each cylinder as it went. This same charge had damaged the insulations on the wires in the cable, and this insulation had broken down under the load, permitting the current to circulate back to the plant instead of out through the system of wires. Next morning heavy wires were strung overhead to connect with the distributing lines and service resumed.

During the thunder shower which passed up the Valley on Thursday evening lightning was seen to strike at several points. On the Naramata side a small blaze followed a strike made on the mountain side. On Rattlesnake Mountain just north of Summerland, a ball of fire paused for an instant. Closer in, a big tree near the approach to the Peach Orchard cemetery was struck and a quantity of wood and bark stripped from one side of the tree.

Artesian Well Suggested to Augment Present Supply

Second and Larger River Flows Under Eneas Creek, says Jas. Ritchie.

Money From Tax Sale Lands.

Several Properties Redeemed by Interested Parties.
Tax Rate Fixed at 25 Mills Net.

That the Eneas Creek watershed is supplying a large flow of water, but that, unfortunately, most of this water is flowing in a subterranean river, is the opinion of Jas. Ritchie, as expressed at a meeting of the Municipal Council held last Monday. Mr Ritchie says that he has been giving considerable attention to artesian wells, and from what he has learned and from the remarks of an expert who visited the site he is confident that an abundant flow could be had from a well bored at the mouth of Garnett Valley. In many of the irrigated districts of the United States they are finding it much cheaper to bore for water than to carry it for long distances in flumes and ditches. Mr Ritchie suggested that the government be asked to send in a boring machine. The result of putting down a good-sized hole, he is confident, would be a flow of water sufficient to irrigate a large area. In support of his theory Mr Ritchie told of seeing a large part of the creek disappear into the gravel away up the valley. There is no other outlet for this and other water except down the rock-walled valley. Boring near the Wright and Tingley ranches, where the valley narrows, would tap this imprisoned river, larger, Mr Ritchie thinks, than Trout Creek.

Mr Ritchie's suggestion was well received and brought out considerable discussion. Reeve Blair and others expressed the opinion that a good flow could be had from such a well. An effort will be made to have a government geologist investigate and to get the province to make at least test borings.

The pressing need for water on Jones' Flat was further emphasized by another visit from Prof. Broad. He and others were ready to pay double rates for more water, but he was told by Reeve Blair that all must be treated alike. With this Prof. Broad agreed. In reply to a suggestion that the water be shut off for a day or two and every available man be put on the ditch and flume to increase the capacity, Prof. Broad was told that the job was too big to be undertaken in such a short time. Coun. Johnston further informed the Council and those citizens present that the syphon was now carrying all the water that could be gotten through it. Until this is changed the suggested work on the flume would give no immediate relief. Coun. Campbell also spoke of the limited capacity of the syphon. He suggested enlarging the flume running from the north main down the hillside to the road passing the Spencer lot to water more of Stwash Flat and thus relieving Jones' Flat. For giving some immediate relief he suggested diverting some of the water from the west to the east side of Garnett Valley and through to Jones' Flat.

From the creek to the reservoir and from the reservoir around to the flat the system must be enlarged, explained Reeve Blair. To which Coun. Johnston added that some of the concrete lining now in the north main must be repaired, and 1,200 ft. of the ditch near the Higgin property lined with concrete.

Replying to the suggestion of Prof. Broad to the effect that the Council prepare the necessary resolutions covering the work needed and present them to a public meeting, the Reeve stated that a meeting would be called shortly. The date of this, as suggested by Coun. Simpson, will be some time after the Irrigation Convention, which meets in Nelson on July 24-26.

Several persons interested in property bought in 1916 and prior to tax sale by the municipality, heading the warning that the properties would be sold to the highest bidders and that they would no longer be given preference, have come forward with the money necessary to cover all the charges the Municipality had against their former holdings and are to be given deeds. The total sum to come in from these properties will be several thousand dollars, one cheque received at Monday's meeting being for more than $1,100. It is apparent, however, that there will be quite a few lots left in possession of the Municipality to be disposed of as the Council considers best.

The by-law fixing the 1918 tax rates was finally read and approved. As stated last week the net tax rate is twenty-five mills—two and a half cents on the dollar of the assessed value of land only.

On Monday the gate in the dam of the big reservoir at Trout Creek headwaters was opened partly for the purpose of keeping up the volume of water in the creek. Last week several men went up by way of Peachland to the trail, eight miles in length, leading into the creek—disappear into the gravel away up the valley. There is no other outlet for this and other water except down the rock-walled valley. Boring near the Wright and Tingley ranches, where the valley narrows, would tap this imprisoned river, larger, Mr Ritchie thinks, than Trout Creek.

Mr Ritchie's suggestion was well received and brought out considerable discussion. Reeve Blair and others expressed the opinion that a good flow could be had from such a well. An effort will be made to have a government geologist investigate and to get the province to make at least test borings.

Coun. Johnston reports the lakes visited all full and measurement confirms his earlier opinion that the cutting of a short canal will make available the water of a large lake to a depth of several feet. He returned on Saturday and the other men early this week.

OBITUARY.

JANE ELIZABETH BLOCK.

Following a paralytic stroke on Saturday, Jane Elizabeth Block, wife of Mr J. W. A. Block, died on Sunday last, July 14th, at her home in Naramata, B.C.

Mrs Block was the third daughter of the late Mallinson Abbey, architect and surveyor, of Huddersfield, Yorkshire, England, where she was born nearly 74 years ago.

On July 1st, 1872, she became the wife of Mr J. W. A. Block, who in 1862 had come from Germany to England at the invitation of his uncle, Henry Fischer, to enter the employ of the firm of Huch & Fischer, exporters of woolen goods.

In 1905 Mr and Mrs Block came to Regina, having been preceded by their son, who came to Canada the year before. Since 1908 they have been living in Naramata, coming there among the pioneers and planting one of the first orchards.

Beside the bereaved husband there are left to mourn one son, Lewis J. Block, now holding an important position with the Canadian Artillery, and stationed at Esquimault, and one daughter, Miss Wilhelmina Elizabeth, at home. Two other children, a boy and a girl, died in childhood.

The funeral was held on Tuesday from the house, Rev. H. A. Solly reading the Church of England burial service. The service was very largely attended, stores and other places of business being closed for two hours out of respect for the departed citizen. The Unity Club flag, donated to the club but a few weeks before by the deceased member, was among the flags flying at half-mast.

A most devoted wife and mother, and respected by everybody, old and young, and an active member of her church, the passing of Mrs Block is a distinct loss to the community. The sympathy of all is felt for the bereaved husband and daughter, from whose midst the beloved wife and mother has gone.

AN EFFICIENT EXECUTIVE.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in the history of Canada, we believe, a practical farmer now holds the important executive position of Deputy Minister of Agriculture. With Hon. T. A. Crerar, another practical farmer, as the chief of the same department, farming in Canada should receive the attention and be given an impetus such as it has never before received. The new deputy minister has a number of friends in Summerland who have every confidence in his ability, and rejoice in his appointment, which is in the nature of a well-deserved promotion. We note that he is now described as "Acting Deputy Minister," but we trust the appointment will be made permanent. Having done his country good service as Director of Experimental Farms, Mr J. H. Grisdale, B.Agr., is known to be well qualified for the larger responsibilities.

Mr Grisdale graduated from Albert College, Belleville, Ontario, and took part of the arts course of the University of Toronto; and he is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College and of the Iowa State College of Agriculture. He entered the government service in 1899, when he was appointed Agriculturist of the Central Experimental Farm, which position he occupied until 1911, when he succeeded the late Dr Wm. Saunders, who had been Director of the Experimental Farms from their organization.

IT IS ABOUT TIME!

AS TRAFFIC INCREASES the urgency of the demands that the road laws of B.C. be made to conform to those of the rest of the continent becomes more apparent. Accidents to cars crossing the international boundary whether north or south are daily becoming more frequent. On Dominion Day and the day immediately preceding and following that holiday dozens of cars came to grief. Of the need of change the Oroville Gazette says:

Quite a number of cars from Oroville were pretty well jammed up in collisions on the Penticton trip on Monday. This thing of turning out to the left on one side of the line and to the right on the other side mixes drivers up, and when cars meet suddenly on a sharp curve a driver does not have time to think twice as to which side of the road to turn out on. It is about time, considering the extent of travel to and from British Columbia, that the people adopted a single system of giving the road.

"AS A MAN THINKETH."

THOUGHTS ARE LIKE SEEDS that we cast from us not heeding the fact that each one is carried by some phisic wind to its particular spot in our future path, there to grow to flower and fruit. Our every day course is overgrown with the thorny tangle of forgotten thought, and our only nourishment at times is its horrible fruit; our senses are sickened by its flowers, malodorous and revolting to the sight. Yet we needs must walk in our appointed track; to turn aside in hope of escape would be like to walk in the way of Death. The bad we think of others does them no lasting injury. Our vicious, sensual, selfish, irritable thought—that we imagine do not matter, since they are kept to ourselves—bring forth the untoward circumstances that we are bemoaning, may be, to-day.

From now, then, guard your thoughts, for if it is true that yesterday's wrong gives birth to the trials of to-day, it is equally certain that to-day's right thinking will generate joy for the morrow. Control your thoughts; let them be of love, joy, peace, goodness, faith; then you will deserve all the happiness that they breed, produced by the law which works with mathematical certainty and absolute justice—"Whatsoever ye sow, that shall ye also reap." The sowing is hard sometimes, but "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy."—Hope La Galliene in Light of Reason.

War Bulletin

Thousands of Prisoners Taken

One hundred guns and 13,000 prisoners have been taken by the Allies in their counter offensive, according to the bulletin received over the Government Telegraph this afternoon. The Allies continue to drive into a big salient. Fifteen enemy divisions have been beaten and the enemy is bringing up reinforcements. Manipulation of reserves may be the decisive factor. Another big offensive was planned for later in the year.

What the Press Received for Advertising the Victory Loan

Various estimates have been made as to the amount the press received from the government in connection with the press publicity for the Victory Loan, but the actual figures paid were clearly set forth in audited statements submitted to the annual meeting of Canadian Press Association, Inc., held in Toronto on June 13th and 14th.

The total amount paid by the government for advertising space was $165,419.81, which was distributed among 1,400 newspapers and other publications. Approximately $5,000 was spent in the preparation and distribution to the press of a large number of special articles, illustrations, cartoons, etc., which were inserted in the press without charge. The setting of type and making of duplicate plates of the advertisements for the various publications used and the fees paid to the five co-operating advertising agencies for their services cost in the neighborhood of $37,000, making the total expenditure $208,166.09.

As the total cost of floating the Loan was approximately $5,000,000, the government's expenditure on press publicity represents less than five per cent. of the total expenditure. It is interesting to note also that the press publicity cost only one-twentieth of one per cent. of the total amount subscribed to the Loan.

The press publicity for the Loan was handled by Canadian Press Association, Inc., and the officers of the association and its individual members co-operated splendidly in making the campaign a success. During three months last fall most of the time of the president, Mr J. H. Woods, Calgary Herald, and the office staff, was devoted to press publicity campaign, and for several weeks the committee of publishers in charge were in almost continuous session. The individual members, on the other hand, contributed, without charge, space in their newspapers and other publications which, if calculated at their regular commercial rates, would run up to more than the total amount paid for the advertising space.

Neither Canadian Press Association, Inc., nor any of its officers or committees, received any remuneration for their services in connection with the Loan, those services being given voluntarily and in the spirit of national service.

LOCALS.

Mrs. J. L. Hilborn has with her a sister, Miss Lamb, of St Thomas, Ontario, who is here for the summer.

P. G. Dodwell is visiting friends in Nelson. He will remain in that city until after the irrigation convention.

A temperature of 100 degrees was recorded at the Experimental Station on Wednesday, the hottest day on record. On Tuesday the thermometer registered 89, and on Thursday 91. At Balcom 97 was the highest point reached.

A large number of Summerland people went down to Kaleden on Tuesday evening to attend the dance being held in the new packing house there of the Stewart Fruit Co., the dance being in celebration of the opening of the new fruit building. Fred Graham has gone down to take charge of the new packing house.

Mrs McIntyre and her daughter, Miss Jean, were victims of a recent driving accident. Driving along the road east of Giant's Head they had turned off to permit the passing of an auto. Just as the horse was turned back on to the road one side of the shafts became disconnected from the axle, causing the carriage to zig-zag and frighten the horse and resulting in a runaway. In the mixup which followed, Mrs McIntyre received a sprained knee and her daughter a sprained ankle.

Roy Darkis had a narrow escape from death on Sunday and has been suffering most agonizing pains all week through diving from a height into shallow water at Penticton on Sunday. Though he was some time under the water his companions thought he was only taking a long under-surface swim, but when he reappeared above the surface it was noted that something was wrong and that he was covered with mud. Examination has shown that he narrowly escaped a broken neck from his contact with the lake bottom, and there is some fear that one of the bones of the neck has been broken. He has also lost, temporarily it is hoped, the use of his arms. Since being brought home his suffering has been most intense, but there are signs of improvement, and good assurance for his recovery is given.

Summerland is Ideal For Seed Growing.

"Do the people of Summerland realize what a wonderful district they have for seed growing?" This was the question asked by Dr Malte, Dominion Agrostologist, after he had inspected the seed crop at the Experimental Station. That this is a most ideal district for seed growing is apparent from the comments of Dr Malte and other Dominion officials, who have this week visited the Farm. Prof. W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist, and Dr Saunders, Dominion Cerealist, were here this week on visit of inspection. All these men state the seed crops at the Farm are the best they have seen in all their experience. Seed growing at the Coast is meeting with success but cannot touch what is being done here. Dr Malte assured Supt. Helmer that he might expect very high yields.

Including the field of seakings some 33 acres are this year being devoted to seed growing. Next year Supt. Helmer expects to have 70 acres under seed crops.

The Dominion Poultry Husbandman, S. C. Elford, is expected at the Station to-morrow and another visitor will be Supt. Parham of the Invermere Station.

Two Fatal Accidents At Penticton.

Penticton was the scene of two fatal accidents early this week. On Monday two men in the employ of the municipality were tightening the wires on a crossarmed electric light pole which had fallen and had just been reset. Suddenly the top of the pole crashed to the ground, carrying the two unfortunate men with it. One, a Mr Sutherland, was killed instantly, while the second, Mr Simey, brother of C. H. Simey who enlisted from here, was seriously injured.

The second fatality occurred on Tuesday when a lad of seven or eight years of age fell from the wharf and was drowned. Another boy of some twelve years was with him, but, according to the story of the accident, he went home to the boys' mother instead of giving the alarm to any nearby who might have had time to save him.

E. R. Simpson went up to Vernon on Monday night to attend a meeting of the advisory committee of the Okanagan United Growers.

Why Did They Go?

Why the Boys and Girls leave the Town and the Old Farm Home.

Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

ARTICLE No. IX.

In many rural localities fathers and mothers are continually lamenting the fact that so many of the boys and girls leave the town, the farm home and the community surrounding to seek their career in the large cities.

In this connection attention might profitably be directed to a certain Western Ontario community. This rural district, but a few years ago, seemed fairly permeated with the prosperity germ, and the community boasted two bustling, up-to-date towns that were the delight of a country-side, alive with energetic, contented swains, and merry, rosy-cheeked lassies.

To-day this district is practically depleted of its youth and beauty, and there is about as much "life" in evidence about the village as one would expect to find in a pauper's burial ground. There is one dilapidated school, where there were formerly four imposing, life-radiating halls of instruction; most of the stores and offices are boarded up or moved away; several churches have gone to moss-grown ruin. Two spacious halls that formerly were the scenes of all the best concerts, dancing parties, bazaars, and social gatherings of the community have been torn down, and the local library has long since given up the ghost. The literary society is a legendary thing, and such things as young people's societies, and clubs for healthy sports have of necessity been relegated to the blank of oblivion. The local paper went to the boneyard, and the young doctor "drifted."

In short, the former bustling towns have lost their excuse for existence, even in the use of small villages, and are now but the most unimportant flag stations for everything on the line of railway running through that part of the country, with the exception of the care-worn accommodation train that crawls in once every so often, disgorging principally parcels for the farmers, these being pasted with the labels of big mail-order houses in the distant metropolis.

KILLED BY THE CATALOGUE CRAZE.

The "catalogue craze" killed that community as dead as the proverbial door-nail. On the start of the epidemic it compelled business places at the once flourishing towns to carry smaller stocks, and finally it forced all the live, energetic business men to leave for saner and more profitable fields, until only two or three one-horse stores, in small, tumble-down shacks, remain. These, like the one train scheduled to stop, are merely for "accommodation" purposes.

With the passing of the business houses, wage earning ceased in the villages, life became inert, and youth and vim became disgusted and discontented. And—perhaps worst of all—farms that were once worth easily from $75 to $100, and even $150 an acre, became a drug on the market at half that price. Nobody wanted to live in a "dead" community who could possibly help it.

Who, then, could expect boys and girls with good red blood coursing in their veins to stick to such an environ of ruins?

Youth, health, and life do not flourish in a cemetery.

Mark well the lesson, you fathers and mothers of the farms and of the villages and towns.

If you desire your children to remain at home—if you desire your community to stand firm and prosperous, keeping pace with the unceasing march of human progress—see to it that you water the plant of home prosperity with constant and liberal applications of community loyalty.

No community can stand still—it goes forward or it slips behind. Let us, as true Canadians, keep Progress as the goal always ahead.

Keep your cash at home and contentment will remain there also.

Every Gardener His Own Seed Grower

While there is Danger of a Shortage of Vegetable Seeds.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

While rigid selection from year to year is necessary for most kinds of vegetables when grown for seed; and while, to keep them pure, the different varieties have to be grown some distance apart, yet most of the seed grown in the home garden is likely to give almost or quite as satisfactory results or even better than that which is bought, and, as some seed may be difficult to obtain next year, it is recommended for each person who has a garden to let a few plants or specimens ripen, from which seed can be saved.

It is better to mark the best plants and save the seed from them rather than to save the seed which remain after the plants have been cropped.

The following minimum number of feet, plants or specimens to be saved is suggested as being sufficient to supply enough seed for the home garden in 1919: beans, 5 ft.; corn, 1 ear; cucumbers, 1; lettuce, 3 plants; melons, 1; peas, 5 ft.; radishes, 3 plants; spinach, 3 plants; squash, 1; tomatoes, 3.

Either reserve a few feet of the row of beans, or, better still, mark a few productive plants free from disease.

The seed stalks of lettuce are thrown up after the heads are full grown. The seed ripens rather unevenly, and, in order not to lose any of it, each head should be picked over as it shows white, it being necessary to go over the plants every few days. The plants can, however, be pulled and hung up to dry.

If some radishes are left unpulled, after being ready for use, they will soon throw up stalks, and good seed will develop. For best results the plants should be at least six inches apart.

Spinach, if thinned to six inches, will produce an abundance of seed. In saving home-grown seeds it is important to dry them as soon as possible after they are ripe, then clean them, and keep them dry until needed the following spring.

Peas and beans will soon be spoiled for seed if they do not dry rapidly in the pod after being harvested.

As corn sometimes has to be pulled before it is quite hard, it is desirable to see that there is a good circulation of air around each ear. A good plan is to husk the ears and then stick each one separately on nails driven into a board and far enough apart so that the ears will not touch.

The seed of tomatoes for home use should be saved from the plant bearing the largest crop of early and best fruit. Where a quantity of seed is saved the tomatoes may be cut in half and the pulp pressed out into some vessel, adding about one-third its volume of water. Put in a dark room until fermentation sets in, which will be in about two days, when the seed will separate readily from the pulp. Wash out and dry where the sun does not shine on it.

Following are the quantities of seed which one might expect: beans, 1 or more oz. per plant; corn, 300 to 600 kernels per ear; cucumbers, 1/2 to 1 oz. per specimen; lettuce, 1/2 oz. per plant; pea, 4 oz. per 3 ft. of row; pepper, one-sixteenth to 1/2 oz. per specimen; radish, 1 oz. per plant; spinach, 1 1/2 oz. per plant; squash, small seeded, 2 1/2 oz. each; squash, large seeded, 3 oz. each; tomato, 50 to 300 each; watermelon, 2 to 3 oz. each.

The Thinning of Tree Fruits

By R. H. HELMER, Supt. Summerland Experimental Station.

More attention is being given to the thinning of fruit than was customary a few years ago. Two main objects are being sought:

1st. To produce fruit of a good size, perfect in shape and color.

2nd. To maintain sufficient fruit spurs vigorous enough to produce a full crop next year and thus eliminate the "off year" habit of our trees.

After the June drop is over, inspect the trees, and those with the heaviest crop on thin first. A tree bearing a full crop thin to one fruit to one spur. If the spurs are too close cut all fruit off every other spur. This leaves every second spur barren and able to store strength and vigor to produce fruit next year. When a tree has only a light crop two fruits may be left to a spur. The advantage of the single system is that the fruit does not get damaged by two specimens rubbing and knocking together in the wind. Start thinning as soon as you are sure that the immature fruit has fallen, and go over the trees twice at least. Thin apples 5 to 6 inches apart; apricots, large varieties, 4 to 5 inches, small varieties 2 inches apart; peaches, 4 to 5 inches, and pears, 4 to 6 inches apart according to variety. In thinning apples and pears better results can be obtained by cutting the stems with small shears; otherwise there is danger of impairing the hold on the spur of the remaining fruit.

cepted a position on the North Vancouver school staff for the coming term. Her sister is remaining over for two weeks longer, a guest at the home of Mrs Mills.

Mr E. Aitkens was a visitor to Kelowna on Monday.

Summer Pruning Of Fruit Trees

By R. H. HELMER, Supt. Summerland Experimental Station.

The summer pruning of fruit trees should only be applied to young trees that are making too much dense growth and not showing signs of fruiting. We must remember that the leaves are the lungs of our trees, and if too much foliage is taken away, too severe a check is given the tree. The main object of pruning in summer is to allow light and air to circulate freely through the centre of the tree and thus allow the fruit buds to mature and bear well developed fruit of good color and quality. To attain this, cut back the side shoots and thin out the heavier growth at the top end of the main branches, taking care to leave one or two main shoots to carry on the building process of the tree. Do not cut these back. Start summer pruning as soon as you notice that the trees are getting too shaded at the centre where the bearing surface of young trees should be. Summer pruning is intended to develop and strengthen fruit buds rather than force leaf buds into fruit buds; this is borne out by the fact that the change from leaf to fruit buds takes place before summer pruning would be started. Thin out the tree a little at a time, and go over them often rather than defoliate heavily at one time. Air and sunshine not only increase quality and quantity of crops, but tend to keep away disease, and make handling and harvesting easier.

CONSERVE The WHEAT!

Canada's Food Control Board.

World's Wheat Reserves Exhausted

"Even if the greatest expectations of the 1918 harvest are realized, the fact remains that the world's reserves of wheat are exhausted, and it will be absolutely necessary to continue conservation and substitution until the 1919 crop situation is known. Canada is daily increasing the manufacture of substitutes for wheat, and consumers are urgently requested to make use of these substitutes to the limit of their ability."—Henry B. Thomson, Chairman of the Canada Food Board.

At a mass meeting of nearly two thousand women in Vancouver the pledge was made to conform exactly to the requirements of the Canada Food Board and to apply the restaurant regulations in their own homes. Furthermore it was especially resolved to discountenance any social functions which promote the consumption of wheat products, pork, sugar, and fats."

It is estimated that 400,000,000 people in Europe are short of food. In Poland, Finland, Servia, Armenia, and Russia millions are actually dying of starvation, and other millions are suffering from under nutrition, while still others are living on the barest possible margin.

Camouflaged Cat

How to Fool the Robins and Save Your Cherry Crop.

This is the season of the year that some people, owners of cherry trees, complain about the robin, forgetting the good work done earlier and later in the season in eating or destroying destructive insects. Robin Red Breast doesn't believe in a meat diet all year and is partial to cherries. In this connection, Jack Miner, the famous bird man, makes a valuable suggestion. Get a cat, tin or wood, duly painted and camouflaged, and dangle it in the tree. It is the best scarecrow made and very effective. Chicken men use the same device on the ground where they feed their flocks to scare off sparrows.

SUMMERLAND TROOP BOY SCOUTS.

O. F. Zimmerman, Scoutmaster. Headquarters, College Gymnasium. Meets every Friday evening at 7.30 p.m.

Orderly Patrol—July—No. 1 Patrol

While we will not be able to hold a Scout Camp this year several of our Scouts have had the pleasure of spending a few days at the Kelowna Camp held at Cedar Creek.

Scout Russell Mann stayed over from the visit that the Summerland Troop paid the camp last Sunday, Patrol Leader Alex. Smith having gone up the week before.

On Wednesday morning Scout Warren Gayton boarded the "Sicamous" en route for Cedar Creek, followed next morning by Troop Leader A. Harris and Scout J. Harris.

Alex. Smith returned home on Wednesday night. The camp was pitched in a beautiful spot, an ideal place for a camp, with a large open space for sports.

Thursday afternoon was Sports Day, and quite a varied program was arranged. The Summerland boys entered practically all the different items, and certainly managed to hold their own.

After the sports everybody made a line for the water and cooled off before supper.

The Scouts certainly were fortunate in having such a cook as "Tong," who was kindly let off by Mrs. Du Moulin for the period of the camp. Tong certainly could cook, as was shown by the way the grub disappeared.

After supper the football was brought out, and everybody, from the Commissioner down, joined in a hearty game.

A huge camp fire was the next item on the program, following which came the "Last Post."

The following morning a "hike" was arranged along the lake to Deep Creek. While on the march, there was a cheery hall from an orchard and presently the owner, Mr. Lambly, appeared and invited the whole troop in to have a feed of cherries.

By the time the boys were through the majority of them were rather in bad condition for a long tramp.

However, they pushed on until a good stretch of beach looked so inviting that inside five minutes all were splashing around in the water.

You may be sure there was ample justice done to the lunch on the arrival home that morning.

The afternoon was spent in different ways and football and camp fire again ended the day.

Saturday morning was a "black Saturday," as it was the end of a perfect holiday so to speak. Immediately after breakfast the camp was "struck," and all packed up for transference back to town.

The majority of the Scouts with the blankets, etc., went into town in the morning, leaving only Commissioner Heneage, the Summerland Scouts, and three or four Kelowna Scouts to come in, in the afternoon on a launch which was to be sent out.

However, no launch turned up until just as the "Sicamous" was blowing for Kelowna. The only thing left to do was to make for Westbank across the lake, and catch the boat there, the blankets, etc., being sent down on Monday.

The Scouts arrived home safely, all having had a most enjoyable time. From the first moment they entered camp to the last, every Kelowna Scout did his best to make the visitors at home, and give them a good time, and they certainly succeeded. It will be some time before this visit is forgotten by the Summerland boys, if ever.

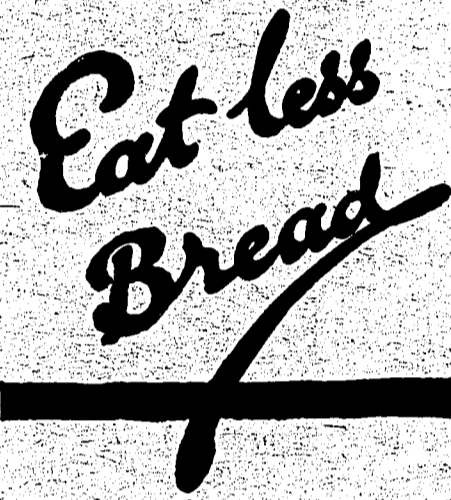

On Sunday Scoutmaster and Mrs. Zimmerman, accompanied by Troop Leader A. Harris, motored down to Okanagan Falls to pay a visit to the Penticton Scouts, who are in camp there.

The camp is certainly pitched in a pretty place, with all the advantages for swimming and scouting. The visitors were the guests of the Penticton Troop to lunch, after which a pleasant afternoon was spent in inspecting the camp site and watching the Scouts go through the different orders for the day.

The return trip was made about 5 p.m. Scoutmaster Atkinson has invited the whole of the Summerland Troop to be the guests of the Penticton Troop on Sunday the 22nd. We hope that such a visit can be arranged.

At our next meeting we hope to have Dr. Andrew give us a short lecture on First Aid. The doctor's visits are always looked forward to by the Scouts, ambulance work being one of the most important parts of scouting, while the lectures are always very interesting.

Dr. Andrew has just recently been presented with the Swastika badge by the local troop for his work with them.

"The Swastika or Scouts' Thanks badge is given only to those who have rendered a good turn to any Scout. It may be given by any Scout, and entitles the wearer to make use of the services of any Scout at any time."

This is the third to be presented since the formation of the Summerland Troop in 1911. The other holders being Mr. Adam Stark and Major Hutton.

Mr. R. H. Helmer was presented with a Thanks Badge some years ago by a Troop in England, but unfortunately lost it while working on the Farm. The Scouts have therefore great pleasure in presenting Mr. Helmer with a duplicate badge.

Rev. and Hon. T. R. Heneage, our Commissioner, went down the lake on Monday night to be present at the Penticton Scout Camp. Commissioner Heneage was present at the Kelowna Camp, and we expect that after the Penticton Camp is over he will pay us a visit.

There are several important matters to decide at our next meeting so we expect a full turnout.

Eleven of the thirteen in the Entrance Class of the Summerland Consolidated School successfully passed the examinations giving them admission to the High School. In all there were fifteen pupils in the class. Two of these had gone out on S.O.S. work and expect to be passed on their S.O.S. certificates. These two are Jack Harris and John Denike.

It is a common practice to have only those who have a reasonably good chance of passing write on the Entrance exams., but this year all, except the two who had gone out on farm work, took the examination, which resulted in eleven out of the thirteen passing.

Four from Naramata and one from Upper Trout Creek also wrote with the Consolidated school pupils, making a class of eighteen in all.

The names of the successful candidates and the marks attained out of a possible 1,100 are:

Ruth Graham	677
Ronald White	675
Minnie Ritchie	602
May Harrison	590
Muriel Wilson	590
Laurence Beavis	585
Jennie Love	585
Wilson Morfitt	582
Margaret Robinson	578
Bertha Barnes	565
Roland Reid	558
Richard Turner	582

Four of the six of the Peachland Entrance Class passed with the following marks:

Bayard Iverson	652
Alan Iverson	637
Florence Clements	606
Charles F. Elliott	561

Herman Smith of Westbank, who wrote with the Peachland class, passed with 602 marks.

Candidates	Passed
Armstrong	32
Enderby	22
Penticton	20
Kaleden	2
Kelowna	7
Vernon	20

In Kelowna thirty others were passed on the recommendation of the principal, under the new regulation, and at Vernon eighteen were similarly passed without being required to write the examination.

The honor of making the highest marks in the province goes to May Macdonald of Penticton, who made 887 marks out of a possible 1,100. Miss Macdonald wins the Governor-General's medal for district seven. Another to win a medal is a girl pupil of Mr J. C. Robson, Principal of the Rossland School in district nine. Her marks were 799. Mr Robson, who is spending the vacation here, is naturally delighted with this as with the fact that his class of 24 have all passed.

Scouts In Camp.

Though not holding a summer camp this year the Summerland Boy Scouts are not losing the pleasures of camping. Last week note was made of a visit made by a number of the boys to the Kelowna Scouts' camp. Last Sunday about 25 Scouts visited the Penticton Scouts in camp at Okanagan Falls. They gathered early on Sunday morning and made the trip with P. S. Roo's big motor truck. Arriving at the Falls before ten o'clock, they were given a royal welcome, and the day was spent quietly as required by Scout camp regulations. During the afternoon Divine service was conducted by Scout Commissioner Rev. T. R. Honongo, Scoutmaster Zimmorman, in charge of the local troop, and Scoutmaster Waddell of Kelowna accompanied the boys.

The Yakima Valley shipped more than 100 carloads of cherries this season as compared with 60 in 1917.

The Shrine Of All Americans In France.

In a little cemetery just outside of the ruined village of Botolomont in Lorraine, rests the three first American soldiers to lose their lives facing the enemy. The boys, Corporal Gresham, and Privates Enright and Hay, were killed during an engagement on November 3, 1917. A monument will mark the spot where they are buried.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, and Mr Duncan Monroe of the Land Settlement Board have selected 51,000 acres of farm land in the Nechako and Bulkley Valleys for settlement. This land was formerly held by speculators who obtained it for from $2.50 to $5 per acre. The present owners will be given an opportunity of disposing of the land to the government at a fair price, and it will then be made a part of the land settlement scheme, and efforts made

Granted Certificates As School Teachers

The result of the teachers' examinations, held in the various provincial centres, were announced this week. The annual examinations of candidates for certificates for qualification to teach in the public schools of the province were held simultaneously in the High School buildings throughout the province.

In the teachers' pass list appear the names of several residents or former residents of Summerland, including Raymond E. Bent, who gets a first class certificate; Stella E. Dynes, who has been awarded a second class certificate; and Annie N. Blair, who gets third class papers.

No B.C. Apples For Australia This Year

The Australian embargo will prevent the importation by Australia of any apples from British Columbia this year, is the word contained in a cable received by the Department of Trade and Commerce from D. H. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Melbourne. Mailed advices from Mr Ross just received, explain that in a recent interview with the Commonwealth Minister of Commerce, the minister expressed a desire to maintain the established trading connections between Canada and Australia, but the minister held out but little prospect of the embargo being lifted during 1918.

Mr Ross states that up to the time of writing not a single case of Australian apples had been exported apart from a contract made with the Imperial authorities for 1,800 tons of evaporated apples.

Mining on Lakeshore

Development in the mine on the shore between Naramata and Penticton is going along nicely these days, and last Tuesday a carload of ore was shipped to the smelter at Greenwood. The ore is rich in gold and silver values and is expected to net a fair price. The old company apparently stopped work when they ran across what seemed to them to be the end of the vein, but the new promoters have picked up a new lead which runs in a V shape from the old one, and if this develops a sufficient quantity of ore the mine will be a paying proposition.

If America only had a few thousand of those aeroplanes that the administration was boasting of the first of the year on the French front at this time they would speedily put an end to the present offensive, and send the Hun's flying back to the Rhine.—Oroville Gazette.

Cherry Season Was Record One

S'land Doubles Output of Last Year.—Pre-Cooled Fruit Shipped to Far Points.

The last of the heaviest crop of cherries Summerland has yet produced were shipped last week-end. Not only has the crop been a large one, but the quality has been good, and the fruit has been marketed in the best of condition, and satisfactory prices have been paid or will be forthcoming soon.

The figures obtainable indicate that the total cherry shipments from here are fully double those of last year. The Stuart Fruit Co. report their shipments as twice those of a year ago, and the Fruit Union state that they have more than doubled their output. Several of the smaller shippers tell of increased shipments.

A notable feature of the cherry business this year was the volume of fruit put through the pre-cooling plant operated by the Summerland Fruit Union and shipped in car lots. Eleven cars, some of them very heavily loaded, started from the pre-cooler for points east as far as Toronto. The equivalent of five carloads of these were shipped by the Summerland Fruit Union, the balance being assembled here from the several locals affiliated with the Okanagan United Growers to be pre-cooled and included in the car shipments.

This week apricots have been moving out in car lots. On Wednesday Stuart's shipped their first car of apricots, and the Union made a shipment, which, with another going out to-day, will make about an even 3,000 packages for the Union this week, not including a carload of apricots going to-day to Hamilton, Ont. to be made into jam.

Peaches are also coming in, and shipments of this fruit will soon be heavy. Summerland's peach crop will be a good one this season, quantity and quality being better than for some years.

Early apples and cucumbers are forming a part of the daily shipments, and tomatoes will be moving in quantity in a few days.

The new Kelowna cannery of the Occidental Fruit Co. is now in operation. It has a capacity of 70,000 cases per season, that of the company's cannery at Okanagan Centre being 10,000 cases. The firm, which has fresh fruit warehouses in Kelowna, Penticton, and other points, has shown remarkable growth during the last three years. In 1915, its first year of business, it had a turnover of $48,000, and in 1916 of $96,000. In 1917 it rose to $280,000, and this year Manager Leopold Hayes expects business amounting to half a million. It produces the "Okanagan Brand."

Prairie Markets Readily Absorb All Fruit Shipped

B.C. Controls Cherry Market

Apricots and Peaches Now Being Offered. Prices Ruling High. Express Co. Co-operating in Improved Service.

Of the fruit and vegetable markets on the prairies last week J. A. Grant, Fruit Markets Commissioner, writes in part as follows in his weekly bulletin:

The first B.C. apricots have arrived in Calgary and sold for $2.75 per peach box (wholesale). Small sized apricots sell at $2.00; Wenatchee, $2.50.

The first B.C. peaches arrived here this week. They are Alexanders, and sell wholesale at $2.50 per 4 bskt. crate. Triumphs (Wenatchee) $2.25 peach box.

B.C. hothouse tomatoes are now competing with Medicine Hat hothouse stuff. Hothouse tomatoes are rolling in from B.C. very heavily just now, and are wholesaling at 4 bskt. crate $5.00; 8 bskt. $5.50.

The weather continues very warm with intermittent showers, but not enough for the needs of the crops. Fruit has been coming in from B.C. in considerable quantity mostly by L.C.L. shipments. Quite a number of cars of cherries have passed through here to eastern points, some going as far as Toronto. The main market feature on the prairies is the way cherries have cleaned up and re-established themselves, several car lots have been received in Calgary. Bings are selling wholesale $3.00 18 bskt. lugs; Royal Anns, 4 lb. basket $2.00. Raspas, $4.00.

Green apples are arriving from Yakima, Okanagan, B.C., and the Fraser Valley. The market is hungry for pie stuff, and these are selling at a good price. The first box arriving from B.C. sold at $4.00.

The management of the Dominion Express Company, both in B.C. and Alberta, have been very energetic during the past week instructing their messenger loaders and unloaders, the correct method in handling perishable and tender fruit.

Fruit is now arriving without the pungent odor formerly noticed when the ventilation en route was not so rigidly looked after. Besides the handling of the crates is greatly improved. The shortage of labor and continuous change of workmen makes it an onerous task for the management to keep the service efficient.

Last week's campaign by Dominion Express officers will save the shippers and buyers considerable money, give consumers a better impression of B.C. fruit, and enlarge the express shipments.

CHERRIES.

B.C. has now control of the cherry market, and some fine Bings and Lamberts are coming in from there. The recent rains caused much ripe fruit to split, and the warm spell caused the juice to leak from the split and mould set in. The loss is not as great as appearances would indicate, and if picked over a great portion of the shipment would grade No. 1. However, wholesale merchants cannot pick fruit over at peak of season, and as a result this off condition stuff is jobbed. The cherry market has recovered and good prices are again obtaining. Some nervous shippers who have consigned their goods to retail merchants and public markets are the only "bears." The public market on the prairie is the slaughter house for B.C. fruit. Job lots are other peddled or sold on the public market, and good fruit consigned to the public market meets with this competition. The day may come when public markets on the prairie will handle choice fruit entirely, but it is not in sight yet.

SALES.

When prices are quoted in this Bulletin they represent goods offered for sale in good condition. Goods in poor condition sold as job lots to peddlers and others are not considered as sold, but jobbed.

When retail prices are less than wholesale prices it means that goods are consigned to the retail trade or are off in condition or that the dealer is off. The wholesaler makes job lots of produce in poor condition in order to protect his market.

Growers and shippers should bear this in mind. When poor returns are made the statement should show how the produce was sold.

F.O.B. shipping point sales remove all anxiety if sold subject to inspection at shipping end.

EARLY FRUIT VARIETIES.

B.C. shippers who receive a big price for their first early fruit on Coast markets are often disappointed in their returns for same goods sold on the prairies. The conditions are altogether different in the two points. The prairie draws its supplies from many early points in the United States, and early varieties are generally small and poor in quality by comparison with later sorts. Our early varieties come into competition with later and better varieties from earlier places. Some parts of Oregon and Washington will have reached the peak of the season when ours is just beginning. They ship largely to Calgary, and our supply of early inferior varieties is entirely discounted by them. Late stuff always finds a good market, at a good price, when all competitive stuff is off the market, and B.C. has the field to herself with the best quality of goods.

B.C. growers would be well advised to grow late stuff rather than early for the prairie market, in many cases, and never early varieties of inferior size and appearance.

LETHBRIDGE.—This market is cleaning up well on cherries. Bings are selling at $3.50 per 4 bskt. crate; Anns at $2.75 (wholesale) crate. Hothouse cucumbers are selling at from $2.50 to $3.00 per dozen.

EDMONTON.—The market is in very much better shape this week on cherries as most of the consigned ones have been cleaned up, as a matter of fact just at present there is practically none on the market.

The first car of Washington apricots arrived here yesterday. Stock is in good shape and rather on the green side.

First car of new B.C. potatoes also arrived yesterday. There is plenty of California deciduous fruit coming in, and everything is arriving in very fair shape, except the peaches.

The weather has been pretty good, and we have had plenty of rain in this section to date.

WINNIPEG.—Since the last letter there has been twenty cars of fruit come to Winnipeg, five cars California mixed fruits, four cars tomatoes, one car all plums from California, three cars Washington raspberries, and a few, but very few, express shipments from B.C. Eaton company had the heaviest lot, 259 cases from Hatzie, three cars American apricots, and one car imported and three B.C. cherries. This was quite a large amount of fruit for one week when prices are so high, but there does not appear to be any trouble in disposing of it at high prices and no glut whatsoever. A few cherries on the tail end of cleaning up cars may be jobbed but not enough to disturb the prices on good stock.

MOOSE JAW.—B.C. cherries have been arriving in carload lots the last week, in fine condition, and have been selling (wholesale) at: Sour cherries, $3.00 per case; Royal Anns, $3.25; Windors, $3.75; and Bings, $4.00. There has been an extra good demand for these this season.

Those who have been watching the grouse this year say that the season's hatch is well advanced, and that the birds are more numerous than they have been for several years.

A CRYING NEED.

FOUR CANNERIES are being put in readiness at Kelowna to take care of the tomato crop of that district. Three of these are located in town, and are each large enough to put up large packs during the season. A smaller plant is located at Benvoulin, a short distance back of the city. Another cannery, we believe, is to be operated further up the lake at Okanagan Centre. Some of the Kelowna plants are canning fruits, making vinegar, pickles, sauces, and other by-products. Evaporated fruits and even crystallized fruits will go out from Kelowna this season.

Started in the earlier days, when the demand for their outputs was less keen, and profits cut close by strong competition, Summerland has a cannery and a jam manufacturing plant, both of which are now idle. Instead hundreds of tons of our tomatoes will be transported to far distant plants to be made into the finished product, and more tons of our fruits will be sent as far as Ontario to be made into jam. It is admitted that nowhere is there grown better tomatoes than are produced here, and nowhere else in this country beyond a limited area right around us can apricots be obtained for jam making. Others of our fruits equally excel in quality. With the greatly increased production of the last few years we now have these things in sufficient bulk to keep cannery and jam plant busy. Labor is an item that must be considered, but we have among us women and girls just as loyal and ready to help as those of other communities, and we can procure the additional help needed through the National Service Committee as readily as can Kelowna or other cities.

Good profits on the capital invested are being made by efficiently managed packing concerns, so it cannot be that the industry does not offer sufficient attractions to interest capital. It may be, though, and probably is, true that our local men of means have not given this business sufficient thought.

In the meantime, Summerland is losing out while other towns are taking our raw products and converting them into commodities of trade with greatly increased values. Our growers and all know that a cannery is greatly needed here, and that the field is a good one for such a plant. An effort should be made at once to organize a local company or to interest some existing concern to establish here. Our Board of Trade might invite some men with knowledge of the canning business to meet them and discuss the matter with its members. It is not too early to begin for a cannery here next year. Prices are good and will continue high, experts say, long after the war. This is our opportunity.

THE FINISHED COMMODITY.

HERE IS A BUSINESS PROVERB that is well worth remembering. It reads: "The country that sells raw materials will always be poor, just as the farmer who sells his corn, and not his hogs, will never lift the mortgage." "Let your produce walk to the market." The farmers who are doing this, no matter where they live, always will be found to be the real saviours of the community. The mintage of wisdom is to know how to utilize our raw materials. To burn a barn in order to kill all the mice has been recommended to be effective. But it is not a policy to be commended. Exports of raw materials and foot-stuffs mean skimming our milk and giving the cream away. Even when we feed the products to hogs and sell the hogs at as high as eighteen and nineteen cents a pound live weight, we are, as a community, getting the small end of it. Kill those hogs and make them into bacon and ham and the price rises to 45 and 60 cents per pound. These are today's prices, and are abnormal. But under ordinary conditions in normal times, the difference between the raw material price and the finished commodity is approximately the same.—Okanagan Commoner.

FOUR MILLION DOLLARS is the predicted value of British Columbia's 1918 fruit crop. Our Provincial Horticulturist, M. S. Middleton, after a tour of the province's fruit growing districts and of the fruit producing sections of Washington and Oregon, says that if conditions continue at all favorable from now on four millions of new dollars will be brought into the province from the sale of our fruit crop. Last year's crop was estimated at three million dollars.

A GRAZING POLICY.

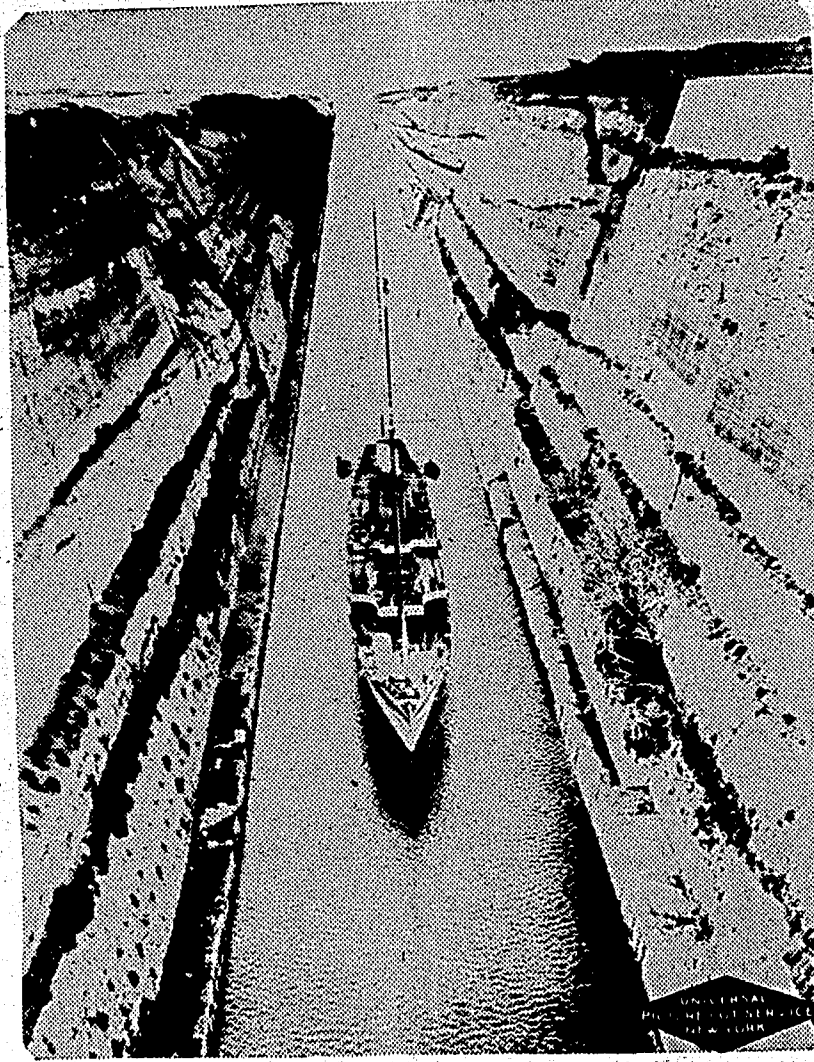

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT is moving in the right direction when it seeks to systematize the range grazing of the province. Its plan is apparently to see that suitable public range lands are grazed in such a way that all tracts both high and low land will be covered. In the past the stock has been kept in the lower lands nearer water, while choice feed was untouched at the higher levels. This meant waste pure and simple. Not only has feed been lost but the range lands have not supported the number of cattle and sheep which could have been raised had a better system been followed.

With an expert assisted by two practical British Columbia stock men to assist him, the provincial department should soon have accurate information upon the range areas of the province, with recommendations as to the best methods of meeting the various problems. Meeting in Penticton last week, this trio and other government officials discussed the general situation after which they toured the Ashnola range. It is to be hoped that this visit will mean much for the stock raising future of this section. It can support large herds of sheep and cattle, and judging from the enterprise already displayed by the department, considerable encouragement will be given those stock owners who feel disposed to increase their herds.—Princeton Star.

Crown Prince Cut Off From All Help

Fall May Come At Any Moment.

Nothing but good news has been coming from the western front for some days. The brief bulletin received over the government telegraph system just as we go to press with the last form is good reading:

The German Crown Prince, cut off from all help in the Rhems-Soissons salient, has entered the enemy position within the big pocket. He may fall to the Allies at any moment. The Germans are fighting a rear-guard action north of Chateau Thierry. The Allies have brought their heaviest guns into action. The French capture Auchy le Chateau and the village of Montolo.

districts in which the crops will be good to heavy, but rains, even if they come now, are too late to save the crops in many parts. Not only is this widespread crop failure a serious loss to the prairie farmer and business man, but it is nothing short of a national calamity in this time of world-wide food shortage.

MAKE MORE JAM

This is Request of The Canada Food Board.

The Canada Food Board is calling the attention of housewives to the importance of jam-making. If large quantities of jam be made this year, the demand upon Canada from Overseas for butter can be met to a much greater extent than otherwise would be possible. When jam is used butter is not needed with bread.

With economy in the use of sugar, the arrangements which have been made by the Canada Food Board are confidently expected to provide a sufficient supply of sugar for jam-making as well as for preserving. Care in the use of sugar is still necessary. By using no more than is needed, housewives will find that their jam is a much more palatable and more digestible product than results from an excessive use of sugar. Sugar can be used in reasonable amounts for preserving, but persons who hoard sugar make themselves liable to a heavy fine or even to imprisonment.

Prepared under the direction of experts for the Canada Food Board:

APPLE AND PLUM JAM.

- 4 lbs. crab apples;
- 4 lbs. plums;
- 6 lbs. sugar.

Cut the crab apples into quarters and cook in just sufficient water to extract the juice. Strain through a double cheese cloth, and add the sugar to the crab apple juice. Put over the fire and bring to a boil. Stir until the sugar is melted. Then add the plums, and boil until the plums are thoroughly cooked.

NOTE.—Other apples can be used if crab apples be not obtainable,

The Chautauqua

During the past few weeks Chautauquas have been held at various points in the Interior, and although we understand they have not all been financially profitable, in every other respect they have been an unqualified success. We believe this is the first season that such assemblies have been held in this province, although they have long been a feature of rural life in the states of the American Union.

These gatherings bring to the centres concerned the benefits of a helpful university extension course, and in the present case the topics have been judiciously chosen to develop thought and stimulate interest along constructive lines, with special reference to the war. We hope to see these summer camps developed on a larger scale next year.—The B.C. Farmer.

"A Scot bored his English friends by boasting about what a fine country Scotland was.

"The Scot chuckled. "It was like this," he said. "In Scotland everybody was as clever as myself, and I could make no progress, but here—and he chuckled again—"here I'm getting along verra weel."

Sales Agents Who Fool The Farmer

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

Article No. 10.

Above all people, the farmer should be wary of doing his buying of merchandise blindfold.

He knows that those who buy his products never do so with their eyes shut. His goods have to stand the severest test before he is paid a cent of money. In fact, the farmer frequently complains that these tests are too strict.

Yet it is a fact that there are farm-to-farm sales agents around every year with one scheme or another to fleece the farmer out of business that legitimately belongs to the stores and business houses of the community in which he resides—the town or towns which furnish him with all the modern conveniences for marketing, for educating his children, and providing his family with sundry entertainment and comforts.

An instance of how some of these slick sales agents fool the farmer is related as follows:

This particular farm-to-farm solicitor represented himself to be connected with a wholesale grocery house in a distant city. The bait he used was to quote exceptionally low prices on two or three staple articles such as sugar, coffee, or tobacco—prices he knew were away under the local merchants. The farmer "fell" for the bait, and considered he was doing a fine stroke of business by ordering enough of these staples to do him a year. In fact he felt so pleased with himself that the salesman had no difficulty in inducing him to load up the order with a large quantity of cheap-grade rice, beans, tea, spices, molasses, dried fruits, etc.—an inferior lot of stuff that the local merchant would not dare sell under any circumstances.

When the shipment arrived, the buyer found that these staple articles, upon which he imagined he was going to make such a great saving, had been omitted. There was a notation on the bill to the effect that on account of mill troubles and war conditions, or something else, it would be impossible to ship them just at present.

As a matter of fact they never did arrive.

The inferior grade stuff would be all there, however, and the farmer had to accept it, because he had not been wise enough to write over the face of the bill, before signing it, that unless entire order was shipped within specified time it would be considered cancelled. Such an order, of course, would never be shipped at all. It would simply be "dead business" with the salesman.

This salesman would never cover the same territory twice. Others will cover it, however, with "a new line of bunk."

Every farmer, small and large, will find that in the long run he is far better off from every standpoint by dealing at home than he is by sending his coin to the pernicious mail order house or handing it over to some travelling Cheap John.

There is no "come-back" in either case.

If a tooth-brush which is new is soaked overnight in a glass of water it will prevent the hairs coming out, and the brush will last much longer.

New Coyote Bounty.

The new regulations regarding the bounties on coyotes recently announced are causing a good deal of criticism. Under these new regulations the bounty on each mature coyote is $2 and on each pup $1 if killed in the province west of the Rocky Mountains. To receive such bounties it will be necessary in future to forfeit the whole pelt to the government.

In commenting editorially on these new regulations the Kamloops Standard-Sentinel says: "The latest dodge pulled over the farmers of British Columbia is the bounty paid for coyotes. Any man who wishes to claim and secure the bounty on a coyote must take the pelt to the government agent to get the bounty of $2. This would not be so bad if it were not for the fact that the man who kills the coyote and takes it to the agent must forfeit the entire pelt. As the bounty is $2 and a coyote pelt these days is worth from seven to ten dollars, the government is surely trying to play a nice game on the people killing coyotes. As a result, the man who kills a mangy coyote will turn it over to the government, while the one who kills a coyote with a good pelt will forfeit the bounty and sell the pelt."

one for an outing.

We are informed that the express shipments up to Saturday the 20th of July this season exceed the half of the total express shipments for the season of 1917. This shows a marked increase over that of last season, the more so as these figures do not include any peaches. The peaches just started this week and only a portion of the apricot crop has been picked.

It is worth anyone's while to see the beautiful display of potatoes on sale at the Peachland General Store grown by Mr John McKinnon on his fruit lot here. More than one person has been heard to say that they are undoubtedly the best sample they have ever seen at this time of year grown anywhere.

Summerland Supply Comp'y, Ltd.
 Summerland and West Summerland

Is Okanagan's Pioneer Fruit Shipper.

Mr L. D. McCall, J.P., Peachland, shipped Apples to Prairies 18 years ago.

(By W. J. Scott in The B.C. Farmer.)

The first shipment of fruit for commercial purposes that was sent out from the Peachland district, and probably from the whole Okanagan, and possibly from the whole of British Columbia, was a box of twenty-three Twenty-ounce Pippins, the smallest of which weighed 23 ounces. It was sent nearly 18 years ago, in the fall of 1900, by Mr L. D. McCall, of Peachland, to Mr J. M. Robinson, who had gone to Winnipeg for the purpose of promoting fruit culture in the Okanagan Valley. They were used by him as a sample of Okanagan fruit. Last year—1917—millions of pounds of fruit were shipped by express from the Okanagan Valley alone, and about 4,000 carloads of fruit and vegetables besides.

In 1900 fruit growing for commercial purposes had not been started. Mr McCall got the apples above mentioned from the Lambly Ranch, which was not a fruit but a cattle ranch; but, like most farms in Ontario and the East, as well as in the Mother Land, it had an orchard for the Lambly's own use.

The lure of copper or silver or gold was what started Peachland. Mr J. M. Robinson and others from Manitoba got the craze and sold out, and ventured all they had and got others enthused enough to invest their money in Camp Hewitt, about 600 feet above the lake. But, like so many other pioneers, they used up their money without finding gold. The Lambly orchard, however, proved that fruit could be made to flourish, and so, when all hope of getting gold by mining was gone, Mr J. M. Robinson and Mr L. D. McCall thought they might be able to get gold from fruit growing and fruit lands, provided they could get the people and get the irrigation.

The result has been that the whole Valley is now practically devoted to fruit growing. The fruit grown in Peachland is second to none, as has been proved in successful competitions with other parts of the Okanagan. Peachland is no misnomer for the place, for with proper care and irrigation, peaches grow here to perfection. The writer introduced a soldier from the Vernon camp the summer before last to some beauties on a peach tree. They were so ripe and delicious that they almost melted in your mouth. He had travelled all over California and he said he

The Value of Sweet Clover.

Sweet clover is frequently looked upon as a weed. Numerous bulletins and articles have been written about the plant, some in favor of, and some against it. If common red clover and alfalfa, or either, can be grown successfully, one does not need to think much about sweet clover, but, if these fail, it would pay to consider it.

Sweet clover is a valuable soil improver, and makes excellent feed, if cut at the right time and made into hay without being spoiled by rain. It will often grow and survive the winter where red clover will kill out. It is true that it is a difficult crop to cure for hay. It must be cut early or it becomes woody, and the weather, moreover, is often very unsettled at the time when it should be cut. It can, however, be made into silage. It should be cut and tramped very tightly into the silo and weighted, to prevent it from spoiling. If a second crop is desired, or if seed is looked for on the second crop, the first crop must be cut with a high stubble to allow at least a joint or two on the stubble from which the second growth starts.

If you have a poor field, or have failed with alfalfa and red clover, it will pay you to investigate the merits of sweet clover.—F. C. N. in Conservation.

Little Things To Remember For a Live Community.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)

Article No. 11.

The first essential for a vigorous national patriotism is consistent loyalty to the home community.

Not only the merchant, but every single individual in a community should energetically proclaim the "Buy-at-Home" slogan.

Every dollar spent at home is a dollar gained to the district.

Every farmer and every artisan should bear in mind that the home merchant and the home business man are absolutely necessary for the development of the town and district.

You cannot drain your home community of currency without killing it commercially and making it an undesirable place in which to live.

It is the amount of business transacted in your locality that regulates the value of your property.

The district that is most strongly entrenched with community loyalty is the district that will profit most by the great after-the-war revival.

Individual products are few, while individual needs are many. Keep the interchange of products and money circulating at home and the joint and individual benefits will build for all better than any can know.

Every man, in order to be loyal to himself and his family, must be self-supporting. Make your community self-supporting by being loyal to it.

Loyalty and liberality never harmed a town or a community, but lack of these has killed many a promising place.

Go to your home dealer and tell him that you believe in him and his importance to your community. Tell him you are a member of the by-at-home campaign and the community loyalty league.

Pay cash for all you buy, and buy in your own community.

Let your commercial religion be home loyalty—don't make a false god of the big city department store's catalogue.

Don't blame your boys and girls for wanting to leave for the big city when you encourage them through the false economy of buying your goods of the big city mail order concerns that are indirectly robbing your locality of its attractions.

Home firms are reliable firms, and stand always ready to correct an error. You have no redress when "stung" by the foreign dealer.

Keep the community fires burning with the fuel of local loyalty.

Serve your home community: "He who serves best profits most."

Keep your cash at home and it will continue to work for you. Send it away to the big city and it will work for the big city to your disadvantage.

Here is what one home patriot said recently to the writer: "I never allow one of those big, bulky mail order catalogues in my home. I figure they do harm in every locality where they are accepted and studied. People get a craze for sending away for goods and never stop to realize they are at the same time selling out a good inheritance for a mess of pottage elsewhere."

Get a place on the national roll of honor by joining the community loyalty league.

VARIABLE FUNCTIONARY.

"Are you the editor?" asked the merry villager, as he shoved open the door of the office of the Pucktown Gazette.

"It all depends," replied the man with fringy hair, "on whether you want to make a kick or pay your subscription."—Brooklyn Citizen.

what the big fellow thinks

MERCHANTS in the smaller towns sometimes say of business conditions that "there is nothing doing," and that "it would be a waste of money to advertise." They complain that their particular businesses could not be improved by publicity. The following expression of opinion, made recently by the manager of one of the large Mail Order concerns speaks for itself:

"WE HAVE A BUREAU WHOSE DUTY IT IS TO READ THE COUNTRY PAPERS. THERE IS NOT A PAPER OF ANY CONSEQUENCE IN OUR TERRITORY WE DO NOT GET. THE BUREAU LOOKS OVER THESE PAPERS AND WHEN WE FIND A TOWN WHERE THE MERCHANTS DO NOT ADVERTISE IN THEIR LOCAL PAPERS, OR WHERE ADVERTISERS DO NOT CHANGE THEIR ADVERTISEMENTS REGULARLY, WE IMMEDIATELY FLOOD THAT SECTION WITH LITERATURE. IT ALWAYS BRINGS RESULTS FAR IN EXCESS OF THE SAME EFFORTS PUT FORTH IN TERRITORY WHERE THE LOCAL MERCHANTS USE THE LOCAL PAPERS."

No doubt if a tally were kept of the amount of money sent to these Mail Order stores from day to day from Peachland, Summerland, and Naramata it would show that there is indeed a lot of money being spent; but it is going to those firms who make a bid for the business—those firms who know the value of advertising, and who do not hesitate to spend one dollar to get five.

Local Stores have a Big Advantage

They can appeal to the people very forcibly in many respects. They can point out numerous advantages in buying at home, where the public can examine the goods, and where they do not have to wait a couple of weeks to get them. But such a large proportion of business houses fail to do this! They sit in despair while the Mail Order Houses do a rushing business and gather in the CASH.

Mr. Home Merchant, the business is yours if you will go after it.

The Review

will gladly co-operate with you in curtailing this heavy drain on our cash resources.
