Many Citizens Wait On Council

Monday's Session Taken Up With This Business

Clerk Logie Resigns. W. A. Chisholm Gets Hewitt Lot.

Though the municipal council are now holding weekly sessions it was found necessary to hold a special session this week in order to keep abreast with business.

The regular meeting on Monday was almost completely occupied with the hearing of requests of a number of citizens which made it necessary to adjourn until Wednesday to complete the work laid out for Monday.

The need of a larger and better ventilated council chamber was very apparent on Monday when the room was almost crowded.

Advocates of the proposition to erect a soldiers' memorial in the park of whom H. Sutherland and R. H. Helmer were the chief spokesmen, came to learn of the council's attitude on this subject, and to ascertain if the council would be disposed to give any assistance, and to take over and care for the park when improved according to a plan which includes the erection of a suitable monument.

The visitors were assured that the council would be guided by the wishes of the people, and if the park idea prevailed the council would cooperate.

W. A. Caldwell asked for an extension of the domestic water line of about 150 yards to his property on the bench overlooking the lake.

Reeve Simpson's answer was that the council felt that it would have to take up the domestic water question as a whole seriously. It was realized that without domestic water, development would be retarded, as no one would wish to build on a lot not served with domestic water.

Mr Caldwell claimed that this extension should be made as a right of the citizens.

R. Johnston, F. R. Gartrell, and G. Thornber were anxious to learn of the council's attitude towards the local irrigation system on Trout Creek Point. Some repairs were needed, and an extension to the system was required. There should be considerable money standing to the credit of that section on account of water rates. The delegation wished to know just where they stood in this respect, and asked if the council proposed to carry water around to the Lakeside Farm from Trout Creek. Upon reference to the books, it was ascertained that about $1,700 was rightly available to the Trout Creek community system, and the delegation was assured that the council would be glad to co-operate with them in making improvements and in the extension to the Lakeside Farm.

A. Davidson and A. E. Smith, speaking for themselves and neighbors, came to inquire when they might expect the promised domestic water to their lots. They were informed that the work would be done as soon as weather conditions permitted. The pipe line is now on the ground and a loan has been arranged from the lot owners interested to cover the capital expenditure.

R. F. Theod told of the lenky condition of a flume which had flooded an acre of his land. Early remedy was promised him. Mr Theod asked for water connection for a five-acre lot on the east side of Garnett Valley, which was now only supplied from an auger hole in the main flume. The road was being flooded through lack of proper connection. It was pointed out by Coun. Campbell that the connection asked for would be on a proposed new flume. Referred to committee.

season irrigation days were lost entirely. He was assured that this would be guarded against in future.

Mr Koop stated that he had five lots, and that until last year he had had two days' irrigation per week for each lot. Last year two of his lots were given two days, and three lots four days. He was promised that an effort would be made to improve the service.

W. A. Caldwell stated a great deal of unfair distribution was due to too many openings to some of the lots, and Mr Koop suggested locked gates with a chain that would permit of their closing when desired, but make it impossible for the gates to be opened beyond the limit fixed by the ditchman.

A request from the constable that the pound fee be raised was referred to committee. His suggestion of an increase in salary will be placed before the police commission.

Mr Craig applied for a bridge to lot 23 in Block 472, and also asked for domestic water connection, and the privilege of taking irrigation water from the flume across his lot. Referred to committee.

F. R. Gartrell asked for irrigation water to two acres of land at the foot of the road known as the Sand Hill. This was referred to the water committee. Mr Gartrell was given permission to clean and drain a road ditch adjoining his property.

As chairman of the school board, Mr Gartrell said that the teachers had complained of delay in receiving their monthly cheques. The treasurer explained that during parts of the year the school board was financed from the general fund, and that at the most the cheques were not held longer than fifteen days.

A request from a Japanese asking that domestic water be laid to the Drake lot was referred to the water committee. This same Japanese complained of water on the Jones' Flat road between the Chingan and Broad lots during the irrigation season.

The Hewitt lot, so called, on Jones' Flat, a property which has been held by the municipality since being purchased at tax sale, was sold to W. A. Chisholm, Mr Chisholm making a deposit to bind the sale. The price asked was $2,000, with $700 down and balance in three annual payments, bearing 8 per cent. interest.

The remainder of Monday afternoon was taken up with an estimate from R. Mitchell of the probable lumber required for flume repairs, the object being to make up specifications of an order of lumber for early delivery.

Just before the council adjourned to meet on Wednesday morning the municipal clerk tendered his resignation to take effect on March 15th.

Apples Scarce.

Vancouver.—The shortage of apples on the Vancouver market is causing dealers much concern. With low apple stocks, prices continue to mount. American shippers are not sending any apples to the Vancouver market, and it is currently reported that there are not more than two thousand boxes of apples remaining in the Okanagan Valley, all except those having been sent east, while some consignments have found their way overseas. It is predicted that British Columbia, which usually does not lack for fruit, will this year have to import apples from Australia and Tasmania. Apples from there will begin to come in about May.

On Saturday last there were only 17,811 boxes of British Columbia apples in Vancouver, and 1,005 boxes which had been imported from Washington. Victoria had a total of 5,840 boxes. With a normal consumption this supply will not last beyond three weeks.

Growers Discuss Timely Topics

Summerland Leads Province in F.G.A. Membership

A most interesting and instructive meeting of the Farmers' Institute was held last night, being the first of a series planned for the coming year.

Excellent reports of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association convention were presented by Messrs. G. J. C. White and R. V. Agur, and discussions on timely topics relating to farming were generally participated in.

The meeting gave support to the movement for the establishment of libraries throughout the province as outlined in a communication read by Secretary J. Tait.

Another resolution endorsed the request of F. A. Miller to the government to put some needed work on the road to Bathfield.

A list of seed prices as fixed by experimental farms was read, and G. J. C. White suggested that members place their orders with the secretary who could bulk the orders and obtain lower prices.

Mr White, as delegate to the Fruit Growers' Convention, said it was not necessary to give a detailed report, as fully fifty of our growers had attended the convention, and it had been given much publicity in the press.

He pointed out that of the eighteen printed resolutions brought before the convention, eleven were from Summerland. Summerland therefore was also well represented in the material sent in for consideration, the resolutions from here forming a basis of work.

Another Summerland resolution had been embodied in a resolution from the committee which met at Kelowna to deal with express rates. Only one Summerland resolution did not carry, the subject having been dealt with in a manner in an earlier discussion.

Mr White dwelt at some length and in a most convincing manner on the necessity of closer organization embracing all branches of farm work had been advanced, but he favored continuing as specialists each with their organization with a general council embracing all.

Summerland had the boast of having the largest membership of any district in the province, 135 members. Mr White paid glowing tribute to the good work being done here for the B.C.F.G.A. by Director R. V. Agur.

Mr Agur claimed that the large attendance from Summerland was a deciding factor in making the convention the success it was, and in holding the convention for the Valley next year. Much of the report was given to the urgent necessity of further organization. This subject (Continued on page 6.)

Tramp Disturbs Several Homes

A tramp made things rather unpleasant for several households in Prairie Valley early on Thursday morning. One, Eddie Froggett, claiming London, Ontario, as his home, and another man arrived at the station here from Penticton on Wednesday night, and after being fed at the home of the section foreman spent the night under the water tank. Starting westward early on Thursday morning they had not gotten far when Froggett determined to have some breakfast, and going first to the Lumsden home failed to get any response to his knockings. From there he went to Mr Chew's, and awakened the family, but was ordered away by Mr Chew from an upper window, most violent language being thrown back at Mr Chew. At the Barnes' home he was given a lunch to eat as he went, but this did not satisfy him, and was being fed at Mr Hornblower's when Constable Craig arrived and took him in charge. His companion had not been bothering the neighborhood, so no effort was made to arrest him. After being brought in he was questioned, and claimed to have friends in Saskatchewan who wished him to return. He was advised to make for the prairies without delay.

Board of Trade Annual Meeting

Closes Very Successful Year. Officers Re-elected

Disappointment and regret were expressed by President Andrew at the annual meeting of the Board of Trade on Tuesday night, that so few of the merchants and "business men" of the community were present. In a brief address the president said that we had concluded the most remarkable year in the history of Summerland. It was the most prosperous. Labor shortage had been acute, and everyone was forced to give every possible minute to his own affairs. This had resulted in a seeming indifference to Board of Trade matters.

Some criticism of the Board of Trade had been made, but often these criticisms were from outside, from people who should have been members and in attendance and helping to mould the policies of the board. We should have more members. Using the slogan "boost or bust" President Andrew urged the importance of greater activity and co-operation and reaching out for bigger and better things. Reviewing the past year the speaker referred to the successful entertainment of the delegates of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at the Experimental Farm where the visitors had been given a good time, and the event had been an excellent advertisement for Summerland. The visitors had spoken well of the affair, and some of them had written complimenting on its success. Some advertising had been done in the way of self-defence and to get new settlers. Circulars for enclosure with No. 1 fruit and folders for general distribution had been published, and as a result of these more than a hundred inquiries had come to the secretary. This effort must be followed up with additional advertising matter. We must strive for a larger population. Mention was made of the efforts of the board for better roads, free ferry, and the reinstating of the customs postal service. Touching upon the recent civic campaign, President Andrew took credit to the Board of Trade for awakening the citizens to a livelier interest in local civic politics by suggesting candidates, and the holding of a public meeting. We must strive for a greater and more representative membership. Every business man should be at every meeting. If our merchants cannot save so much money from going out to other places as is now going, who can?

The financial statement, presented by Secretary-Treasurer Lees, showed receipts for the year as follows:

Bal. on hand Dec. 31, 1917	$17.10
Membership fees	54.00
Refund	8.00
Dinner	33.50
Municipal grant	300.00
Total	$407.60

Paid on 1917 accounts outstanding	$32.15
Review Publishing Co., on account	200.00
Accounts still outstanding	91.00
Leaving a balance when all accounts are paid	84.45
Total	$407.60

The election of officers resulted in the reappointment of President Andrew to the chair and the return of Vice-President Solly. Secretary Lees wished to withdraw from his position, but after much persuasion consented to serve for another year. Later in the evening he was voted (Continued on Page 6.)

To Sit at Vernon.

Board of Railway Commissioners to Listen to Express Rates Protest.

Vernon.—Mayor A. S. Shatford has been advised that the Board of Railway Commissioners will sit at Vernon on February 10 to take evidence regarding the proposed increase in express rates. The decision of the commissioners to sit at Vernon is the outcome of a resolution passed at the recent convention of British Columbia Fruit Growers.

Half Hundred Desire Position

Council Spends Much Time Over Applications.

Fifty-Five Applications For Position of Superintendent.

The municipal council held a full day's session on Wednesday following its regular weekly meeting on Monday.

Correspondence, including applications for the position of superintendent, occupied most of the time. The resignation of Municipal Clerk J. L. Logie, presented at Monday's meeting, was accepted upon motion of Couns. Campbell and White, Mr Logie having said that while he wished to be relieved on March 15th, he would remain for a time longer if it was not convenient for the council to have him drop out at that time. Reeve Simpson took advantage of the occasion to state that everybody in Summerland appreciated the work that Mr Logie had done since the formation of the municipality, and especially the valuable assistance he had been able to render in the earlier days. It would be to the regret of many that Mr Logie had decided to resign at the present time.

The soldiers' housing scheme, as presented in a communication from Victoria, was laid on the table. Coun. White suggesting that there might be an opportunity of rendering valuable aid to returning citizens, and that possibly the allotment to Summerland might be increased.

A plan of the Gulch Road, or that section of it adjoining the Hespeler property, was received from Engineer Latimer, and the clerk was instructed to have it registered.

A renewed request for domestic water was received from George W. Johnson, and the reeve instructed the clerk to inform Mr Johnson that this matter will be dealt with with similar applications.

By motion of Couns. Campbell and White the Council gave approval to a resolution of the Vancouver city council urging the government to deport all objectionable alien enemies now in Canada.

A Toronto firm of brokers made application for the balance of the last debenture issue, still in the treasury, offering par. The clerk was asked to inform these brokers that no debentures were for sale at the present time.

Constable Craig submitted a written report charging interference by a citizen in the carrying out of his duties when taking some animals to the pound. This report was referred to the police commission.

E. F. Sanborn applied for the use as a pasture of a vacant lot, mostly alkali, adjoining his own, offering to repair the fence. A charge of $15 for the year in addition.

Would Have Roads Straightened.

J. Dayton Williams is president of the Kelowna Automobile and Good Roads Association which was reorganized recently in preparation for the coming season. D. R. Rattenbury is vice-president and L. V. Rogers, secretary. Other members of the board of directors are: Messrs. F. Buckland, DuMoulin, Horron, Carruthers, Soames, Sweeney, and Graham. The association will endeavor to have the government start road work immediately when the most good can be accomplished, and when teams are available, with the suggestion that the work be paid for by notes redeemable when the next road appropriations are made. The improvement of the dangerous curves on the Okanagan highway north and south is also being sought. The much needed "free ferry" was also a subject of a resolution to the government. It is probable the association will send a delegate to Victoria to urge the matter of roads and ferry.

tion to fence repairs was fixed by the council.

A request from H. W. Treffry for a stand-pipe will be reported on later by the reeve. This application, reviving a subject of discussion by former councils, it was agreed that Foreman Dickson be asked to report on stand-pipes throughout the district, it being the opinion that some people are getting water through this wasteful method without charge.

With the time for receiving applications open until the 15th, no less than fifty-five applications had been received up to Wednesday morning for the advertised position of superintendent. These came from all points of the compass, several being from the Valley, and one of them a local application. As would be expected a number of the applicants were seemingly quite unqualified for the position, but there were a number who were, no doubt, trained and experienced men, and during Wednesday afternoon a careful examination was made of each application. Some differences of opinion developed among the councillors as to just what type of man should be engaged at this time. Finally the list was culled down to five names, and before the council adjourned it was agreed that a superintendent must be engaged and started in his work with the least possible delay.

John MacLeod Gets the D.S.O.

The Distinguished Service Order has recently been awarded to Lieut. John P. G. MacLeod, a former Summerland boy, and second son of Rev. A. W. MacLeod, at one time physical director of Okanagan College. Lieut. MacLeod was recommended for the Victoria Cross for a certain "stunt" at Valenciennes. The recommendation for the highest honor didn't go through, however, but the D.S.O. was awarded him. A former class mate of Lieut. MacLeod wrote a friend as follows:

"Lieut. MacLeod has been awarded the D.S.O. He is the first lieutenant (and we have had several hundreds during our two and a half years' active service) to win this distinction. He was recommended for the V.C., and we are just a little sorry that it did not come through, but still we are very proud of him. Every man and officer thinks he certainly won the honor which has been given him."

"He and a Sergt. Cairns did a great piece of work; the sergeant was wounded and died shortly afterwards. He is to be recognized by the coveted medal."

For a short time John, as he is more familiarly known here, carried on work as physical director at the college, succeeding his father. His elder brother, Harry, has been awarded the Military Medal for "Distinctive Service with the Canadians at Mons." He was employed with the Okanagan Telephone Co. here, and has been following the same line of work in the army, being a signaller. The third son of Rev. A. W. MacLeod, Lieut. Leighton MacLeod, after two months' service with the R.A.F., was wounded in the foot, which had to be amputated. He is now in a London hospital.

QUESTION OF ROAD POLICY.

WHAT IS THE USE of employing road engineers to ride over roads that are allowed to be cut up by traffic until they look like a plowed field? What good is a road policy that spends thousands of dollars combing out the creases in the trunk road during the summer months—when all roads are in fit condition for traffic—then, in the fall of the year, sits down and watches the road on which the money was spent be cut into ribbons of mud with ruts axle deep? How can any road policy succeed if the road money is spent on road engineers who spend more time dragging red tape through the office than dragging the roads? What good is a rounded-surface trunk road in the summer time if it is allowed to be converted into deep water-carrying ruts when the rains come?

These are questions—some of them—which are being asked by men who have driven over the road from Larkin to Vernon. This is probably the worst piece of trunk road in the province. It is a disgrace to any country, and to any road policy. And when one recognizes that it required weeks of travel to cut the road up as it was cut up and left last fall, and that the road engineers must have travelled that road two or three times a week while it was being cut up, and nothing was done to prevent the cutting up, one wonders what we pay our road engineers to do.—Okanagan Commoner.

THE AMERICANS' PART.

A COMMENDABLE SENSE OF PROPORTIONS was manifested by the Oroville (Wn.) Gazette when the editor of that journal commented as follows on President Wilson's part in the peace conference:

"If President Wilson had wanted to do the handsome and proper thing at the peace conference he would get up in meeting and say: 'Gentlemen: Thanks to the vigilance of the British navy, the valor and devotedness of the French and English troops, America has saved the cruel experience of invasion. You are the ones that have supremely suffered. The land of the French, and Belgium, and Italy has been devastated by a ruthless and merciless enemy. Your loss in manhood has been prodigious, your property loss almost beyond calculation. You are the chief sufferers, while America has been spared the devastating hand of war. Under the circumstances you, and you alone, should be privileged to dictate the terms of peace, naming any punishment of the Central Powers that you may consider commensurate with the wrongs they have committed, and an indemnity that will in a measure repay for the loss your countries have sustained.' Or words to that effect."

WAR SAVINGS PLAN FILLS LONG FELT NEED.

IT HAD LONG BEEN FELT that there was great need in Canada for such a movement as that represented in the National War Savings campaign. Large as was the number of subscribers to the second Victory Loan, it averaged but one for every seven of the population. This leaves quite a field for the War Savings plan. In the United States one in five subscribed to the Fourth Victory Loan, and yet the War Savings campaign is being pushed most energetically in that country.

Through the War Savings Plan the person of small means has a chance such as was never offered before to invest in a Canadian Government security. For the person who pays $4 for a War Savings Stamp buys a government security on which 4½ per cent., compounded half-yearly is paid. Even the person having only 25 cents can, through buying a Thrift Stamp, take the first step towards getting one of these small government securities, in the form of a War Savings Stamp.

THE YAKIMA DAILY REPUBLICAN in a recent issue contained the following brief editorial: "The municipal clerk of Summerland, B.C., addressed a letter containing an advertisement for a qualified man to take charge of the maintenance and reconstruction of irrigation and domestic water systems and electric pole lines to the Yakima Republican, Yakima, Washington Territory. We commend the advertisement to the attention of any capable person who thinks he could stand it to live in a benighted community where they haven't yet learned that Washington is a state."

Spoiling Good Name.

A cable has been received at Ottawa from an officer of the Canadian Department of Agriculture at London, England, reading as follows:—

"High percentage of low grade apples now being retailed here at maximum prices is likely to prejudice good name of Canadian apples in London. No. 3s and domestic pack form bulk of these offered."

For the last three months of 1918 deaths in this province from influenza and pneumonia, following influenza, totaled 2,014.

The building of a new post office, which we believe was promised the city of Kelowna some time ago, is being urged by the Board of Trade of that city.

California now has the honor of having the Holstein cow which holds the world's record for production. This wonderful cow produced in one year 13,424 pounds of milk, with 1,058 pounds of butter fat. Her registered name is Tilly Alcartra. She is nine years old, and in six years has produced 156,000 pounds of milk.

The track on the new branch of the K.V.R., extending from Princeton to the Canadian Copper Corporation plant at Allenby, has been laid. Construction work on the big mill at Allenby is being rushed, and will soon be ready for machinery.

CAMOUFLAGE.

"German statesmanship," said Senator Smoot recently, "is so transparently crooked that it is laughable. It reminds me of the German waiter who was ordered to bring a bottle of Medoc to the man he was serving. He brought a bottle, but instead of Medoc, it was labeled Chambertin. 'But this is Chambertin,' the guest protested, 'and I ordered Medoc.' 'Ach, der stoopit donkey. I distinctly told Fritz to put a Medoc label on dot potle!'"

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

After spending a few days down the lake, Mr J. McKinnon returned home on Wednesday morning of last week.

Mrs C. Aitkens was a passenger north on Wednesday of last week.

After spending a day in town conversing with the fruit growers and shippers here, Mr J. Rowcliffe and Mr A. E. Hill returned to Kelowna.

Mrs W. Coldham was a passenger south on Wednesday night of last week, returning on Saturday morning.

Passengers to Kelowna on Thursday of last week were as follows: Mr and Mrs O. Keating, Mr and Mrs W. Fulton, and Rev. J. A. Rowland.

Mr and Mrs Adolphus Williams of Vancouver were passengers arriving on Thursday on a short business trip. In spending the day in town they enjoyed a motor trip through a portion of the district.

Mr B. A. Moorehouse and Mr P. Coldron of Penticton were visitors to town on Thursday of last week, motoring up and back the same day.

On Thursday night of last week Mrs D. J. White and Mrs Hendrickson left for Penticton where Mrs White entered the hospital to undergo an operation.

After regaining nearly his usual health, Chas. Morrison left by boat on Friday last to resume his work in the Bank of Commerce, at Kelowna.

Mrs Burkett Robinson and family left by boat of last Friday to spend a short time with her sister, Mrs Harkness, in Westbank.

Mr R. J. Hogg returned on Friday morning from his short business trip to the Coast cities.

Mr J. Moore experienced an accident last Friday while hauling a load of logs down the Glen Robinson road. At a rather bad point in the road, being a very sharp turn without any proper protection either by rail or dip of grade, the load got the best of the team, and shoved the team off the crib work. One of the horses was struck by one of the logs and injured so badly that it had to be shot. This is not the first team which has gone over the same crib work with a load, but happens to be the first one resulting in injuries to the team, but it goes to show that it is high time the road was made safe, which would really not entail much expense. There is considerable traffic over the road now, which is another good reason for improvements being put on.

Another overseas man whom we partially, at least, claim, but who enlisted from Summerland, passed through on the boat on Friday night of last week. It was Roy White who was the Daniel Roy White in the passenger list of the "Asia." We understand Roy was booked for here, but on finding out that his mother had gone down to Penticton, he decided to go right on through and see her there. Although there was quite a crowd down at the wharf to see him off, the word having got pretty well around that he was coming, there was silence for some time after the boat landed owing to the fact that we were all looking for a lad in khaki, and realized after some minutes that Roy was there all right but back in his civilian clothes. He got the cheer then, however.

M. Ashley was a passenger over to Kelowna on Saturday, and while there visited his mother at the hospital. He was pleased to report her getting along nicely.

Miss Gladys McCall got off the "Sicamous" to spend the week-end with her uncle and aunt here, taking up her position again on Monday morning.

Rev. H. D. Riggs of Kelowna again filled the pulpit for the Baptists here on Sunday last, coming down on Saturday night and returning on Monday morning.

Mrs and Miss Ilyva Murdin left by Saturday night's boat to spend a few days visiting friends in Summerland.

There was great excitement at the wharf on Saturday night last, where a large percentage of the population of our town were assembled, having heard that Harold "Dad" Miller was aboard. "Dad" had a very busy time for a while returning the many Welcome Home hand shakes and greetings extended to him. Mr T. Coldham also returned by the same boat, after being out to the Coast for his final discharge.

There was a full complement of services in town on Sunday last, the first since the influenza ban. Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland conducted the Anglican church service. Mr Solly was accompanied by his wife and family and Mrs F. D. Cooper. The party remained over till Monday morning when they motored on to Vernon.

Some of the people had almost begun to make up their minds that we would have no more snow, but Monday night of this week changed that idea. On Tuesday morning we woke up to find that we had quite a heavy fall during the night, enough for fair sleighing, but another mild turn is fast taking it away again.

Passengers to Kelowna on Tuesday morning were Mr and Mrs Fred Young and Mrs Hamilton, all returning on the evening boat.

The citizens' meeting as announced was held in the Orange Hall on Saturday last for the purpose of making arrangements for a memorial for the fallen heroes, a civic honor roll, and a public reception for the returned boys. There was a very good turnout, and very enthusiastic interest taken in all the matters up for discussion. Committees were appointed for the duties of reception and memorial, and the matter of Civic Honor Roll was referred to the municipal Council. The reception committee were charged with another duty, the matter of "reconstruction work." This point was taken up as is requested by all localities, and it was deemed wise by those present for the reception committee as appointed to take charge of the work, especially as the work of each fitted into the work of the other.

Mr J. R. Campbell of Summerland spent Tuesday in town looking for some beef stock. He apparently found something to satisfy him, for on his return on the evening boat he took away two head of stock.

Mrs D. White of Summerland spent a couple of weeks here visiting her sister, Mrs J. B. Robinson, returning on Saturday last. George Robinson took her down by auto, and remained over till Sunday.

Meetings held 2nd Friday of each month in St. Stephen's Hall, at 3 p.m.

In a recent speech before the Rotary Club in Vancouver, Premier Oliver intimated that the Southern Okanagan Land project at Osoyoos would require the expenditure of between $800,000 and $1,000,000. He announced that he intended to ask the legislature for an appropriation at the forthcoming session in order to proceed this year with the development of the tract.

Ottawa Taking Interest in South Okanagan Scheme

Dominion Likely to Co-operate in Soldiers' Settlement.

Victoria.—Messages which have passed between Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, and Professor Black of Ottawa, chairman of the Dominion Soldiers' Settlement Board, indicate that Ottawa may co-operate with the provincial authorities in the development of the 22,000-acre tract recently purchased in the Southern Okanagan. This land cost $350,000, and the expense of irrigating and cutting it into small orchard holdings is estimated at from $800,000 to $1,000,000. An appropriation to start the work is to be brought down this session.

Hon. Mr Pattullo recently placed two propositions before the Dominion board. One was that the province develop the area and make it ready for occupation, then turning over to the board any or all of the land at cost price for purely soldier settlement.

The second proposition was that the province hand over the whole area at the present time, leaving the Ottawa board to do the developing. Professor Black wired Victoria to the effect that his board is considering the possibility of cost, operating with the British Columbia authorities in respect to proposition No. 1.

The understanding here now is that Victoria will develop the lands and that the Dominion board will step in later and take over sections of the property for purely soldier settlement, leaving the balance for British Columbia to colonize in other ways.

Ban On Dancing

Victoria, Jan. 28.—Under the Spanish Influenza Regulations Act the Provincial Executive this morning passed an order-in-council closing all dance halls and terpsichorean entertainments, both public and private, until further notice.

This action followed the conference held on Saturday last between the provincial health authorities and the medical officers of the various municipalities of the province at which steps to combat influenza were discussed.

The above press report is not very clear, but it is presumed that this order is intended to apply to communities where influenza is more or less epidemic, and accordingly would not be applicable here where the disease has been wiped out.

Canada For Canadians.

Victoria.—"Canada for Canadians, and every alien child a Canadian in the making," seems to be the aim of Dr J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education, in bringing in his measure providing for the Canadianization of subjects taught in the public schools of the province. The measure will provide for the appointment of "official school trustees" in certain sections, with authority pertaining to a board of trustees. The object is said to be the complete smothering of the dangerous alien doctrines which have gained an insidious hold in certain communities.

Mystery of the Flu.

Still Refuses To Yield Up Its Secret Of Germs.

The four-and-twenty warring sects appear to have nothing on the physicians attending the American Public Health Association, whose recent deliberations concerning the pandemic have been followed with great interest. The influenza still refuses to yield up its secret, although not because of paucity of theories. To ban or not to ban; to inoculate or not to inoculate; to mask or not to mask—each has its advocates, and each in his own opinion "exceeding stiff and strong." In their divergence the medical authorities of this continent reflect opinion abroad, says the Manitoba Free Press.

Some hold that the virulence of the disease is due to the intensification of germ life in the trenches, and others argue that it is not the sort of disease that follows in the wake of armies. Some hold that it is spread by personal contact, and others that it travels by air and earth, as witness the outbreaks among the Indian tribes far from civilization.

Those who cling to the mind over matter theory, announce that, broken by four years strain, the strength of mental effort is not sufficient to contend with the germ life always present in the human frame. But if so, why does the disease particularly attack those in the flush of youth, granting practical immunity to older and younger persons? Some, going further afield, assert that the epidemic is a visitation caused by an unfavorable juxtaposition of the planets. So far as is known not one has officially mentioned the evil eye.

In summing up, American Association members very sensibly decided that they would just have to do the best they could until science got the number of this latest ill that flesh has inherited.

In truth, the physicians of the continent in convention assembled have not revealed much to the waiting eye and ear of the laity, but they have demonstrated one

No further Red Cross shipments will be made to Vancouver after March 15th. All socks and other work now being done must be returned to the Parish Hall by the beginning of March.

Charles Marshall, who has been in hospital at the Coast since his visit to Summerland after returning from the front, arrived by boat on Wednesday evening. We are informed that he is quite improved and will be given his discharge.

L. N. Sanborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sanborn, who has just returned from overseas, arrived last night on a visit to his parents. After a brief stay here he will go into hospital for treatment. He is still suffering nervously and otherwise from wounds.

According to information received here early this week Mrs. MacLeod, wife of A. W. MacLeod, now resident in South Vancouver, is much better. Reference has been made in these columns of her rather alarming condition of health. The many Summerland friends of the family will regret to learn that the same letter brought news of the serious illness of Miss Edna, the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs MacLeod.

H. S. Lewes went before the military medical board at Vernon recently and has been pronounced in perfect health. His rapid recovery from his critical condition of a few months ago is little short of miraculous, and he attributes it largely to the favorable climate of this district. After being wounded, Mr Lewes was in hospital in England for some time, and just previous to being ordered home in the hope that the change would effect an improvement in his condition he was pronounced seventy per cent deficient physically, according to army standards.

Bert McQuarrie, formerly of the C.P.R. staff here, who returned from England on the "Empress of Asia," came down from Armstrong on Wednesday to visit friends in Summerland. Bert is again in civilian clothes, and is looking quite well. After three months in France, in which time he was through some of the stiffest engagements, he received a bullet wound through the right lung at Cambrai in September. From this wound he has almost fully recovered. Unfortunately his brother was not so lucky, though he was able to return on the same boat. He was wounded in the shoulder and lung. The bullet though still in his lung will cause him little trouble.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs Lipssett. The usual business was done, and reports by secretary and treasurer were read showing very satisfactory results from last year's work for the hospital. Election of officers followed. Mrs Lipssett, who has been president since the hospital was started, desired to take a rest, Mrs H. A. Solly, secretary, and Mrs E. B. May, treasurer, also retired. The new officers elected were Mrs H. A. Solly, president, Mrs W. J. Robinson, vice-president, Mrs K. Bentley, secretary, Mrs R. E. White, treasurer. A vote of thanks and appreciation was given to Mrs Lipssett, after which tea was served and a short social time enjoyed by those present.

During the illness of the regular teacher, Mr Orchard, Miss Annie Blair is supplying in the public school at Faulder.

Indian Agent, J. R. Brown, having resigned his position, the Civil Service Commission, in a recent circular, has been asking for applications for the position.

Rev. H. A. Solly motored to Kelowna on Sunday to fill an engagement. Mrs F. D. Cooper accompanied him, visiting her daughter, Mrs Benson, of Kelowna.

Rev. Mr. McKeen, of Truro, Nova Scotia, who has been visiting his son, C. J. McKeen, druggist, Penticton, occupied the pulpit in the lakeside Church last Sunday evening.

Mr and Mrs Sam Scott and son Archie left England on the 31st of January. Mr and Mrs Scott have a property nearly opposite the Misses Spencer's, on which they resided for several years previous to going to England.

Roy White, who until he enlisted had been engaged here with J. Downton, arrived on Monday from overseas, being one of the passengers on the transport "Empress of Asia." Roy was with the siege artillery, and served two years in France. He is looking very fit, and was so fortunate as to escape with but a comparatively slight wound.

The C.P.R. offices are now open from early morning until 7 o'clock instead of being closed at 3 o'clock, as was the case for a few days following the order of the Railway Board affecting hours of service of agents and assistants. Agent Sharpe will meet the boat in the morning, and his day's work will end at 3 o'clock. His assistant, Donald Ross, starts work at 10 in the morning, and quits at 7.00.

Miss Aitchison, matron of the Summerland Hospital, leaves tomorrow morning for a two months' visit in Ottawa. Miss Waterman, who has been assisting at the hospital, left that institution to-day and will leave shortly to take a course in nursing in Massachusetts. Miss Findlay, sister of Mrs James Ritchie, and whose parents reside at Kaleden, will be in charge of the hospital during Miss Aitchison's absence. She will be assisted by her friend, Miss McPherson of Winnipeg, also a graduate nurse. Miss McPherson arrived here on Tuesday.

The Wolfville Fruit Co. is beginning to put up fruit in boxes. A shipment of a thousand boxes of apples is now being got ready. Mr H. P. Davidson, who took a course in box packing in British Columbia, is instructing the packers at the Fruit Company's warehouse. Nova Scotia apple-shippers have heretofore packed only in barrels, but in future it is likely that a large proportion of the fruit grown in the Valley will go to market packed in boxes. The Acadian. Mr Davidson learned the western method of packing apples here in Summerland, having been resident here for about two years. He went east to his home in Wolfville, Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia, last summer expecting to return to Summerland last fall.

The death of Miss Opal Thompson occurred on Tuesday morning at the home of her parents in Kelowna. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, and was attended by Mrs D. Watson, Sr., and W. Watson of this place, grandmother and uncle of the deceased young lady. Courtland Watson, now of Penticton, another uncle, was also present. The deceased young lady was well-known to many in Summerland, especially among the young people, and was a frequent visitor here at the homes of her grandmother and uncle since the removal of the family from Summerland to Kelowna a few years ago. She was the third daughter of Mr and Mrs J. W. Thompson, Mrs Thompson being the daughter of Mr and Mrs D. Watson. Miss Thompson, who had been ill for two months, since her twentieth birthday, never recovered from an attack of influenza. Beside her parents she leaves three sisters, one older and two younger, and one brother who recently lost a leg in France. Until her sickness Miss Thompson had been in the Kelowna Post Office.

The regular weekly meeting was held last Friday in the gymnasium when, after roll call, the boys were put through drill in tumbling and other exercises. At the end of this period sides were chosen for a basketball game for we were hoping to go up to play the Kelowna Scouts the following Friday, but through the Scoutmaster's illness and the absence of the Kelowna Scoutmaster, it proved impossible. We hope now to go to Kelowna two weeks later.

A. McLachlan, who was operated on for appendicitis on Monday at the Summerland Hospital, is doing well.

Mrs J. Wright, of Peachland, who was the subject of a major operation at the Summerland Hospital two weeks ago, is making good progress, and is now able to sit up.

The helmet of an officer of German artillery, which is now on exhibition at the Review Office, was sent to his parents, Mr and Mrs J. R. Brown, by their son Ralph, now with the artillery in Germany.

Miss Marian Harwood, a former resident here, spent last week-end with Mr and Mrs Bowering. She was on her way to resume teaching at Bridesville, in the Kettle River district, and left again by K.V.R. on Monday night.

Tractors For Orchard Work

This is the age of machinery. Many of our fruit growers, no doubt, have looked forward to the day when they could have practical mechanical devices with which to do their orchard work. The tractor has long ago proven its worth to the farmer to whom it is now practically indispensable. The big broad wheels of the tractors and their cumbersome size made them impracticable for orchard work. More recently a powerful machine of different design has been devised which admirably fills the demands of the fruit grower. This type of machine has been made familiar by the so-called whippet tanks.

The announcement of B. L. Hatfield in this issue to the effect that he has taken the agency for southern Okanagan of the now well-known Cleveland Tractor will be learned with satisfaction by many who will, no doubt, wish to investigate the practicability of this machine for their own work. Already Mr Hatfield has placed one of these machines with C. Aikins, Naramata.

Complaints are being made that too many of our boys, a number of them under age, and all of them without the necessary license, are carrying firearms. It is said that it is these boys who are chiefly responsible for the numerous punctures in the windows of the college buildings, where the damage done will total a considerable sum of money.

Penticton Municipal Council is doing business one man short. Several suggestions were advanced at the initial meeting, one that the council go on with business without selecting anyone, leaving interested ratepayers to call for action by the Lieut.-Governor-in-Council, who has authority to call for new nominations for the vacant seat. Another suggestion was that the reeve and Coun. Chambers, the only representative of Ward III, "scout around" for a business man as second representative for that ward. The council finally decided to leave the matter open for the time being.

Plan For Policing Municipalities May be Deferred

Victoria.—The various proposals of the enlargement of the provincial police force to take over the policing of all the cities and municipalities of the province has been given serious consideration by the government. While no definite decision has been reported by the executive council, it is generally understood that the administration will report a decision against the present undertaking of this scheme. Many of the cities and districts of the province are somewhat averse to having their policing done by the provincial authorities. Further, the importance of the proposals convince the government that if a measure for this purpose was brought down, it should be given a good deal more attention than can be devoted to it in time for submission this session. The necessity of great care in selecting the very best man to head such a large and important force is suggested as another reason for not entering upon the change at present.

According to well-informed opinion it can therefore be accepted that the government will not embark upon the McGeer project at the present time at least.

Well-Known Engineer on Job.

Victoria.—E. C. Cleveland, a well-known Vancouver engineer, who was connected with many large projects in the province, and who laid out the route for the trans-provincial highway, has been selected by Hon. T. D. Patullo, to be consulting engineer in connection with the development and irrigating of the soldier settlement lands in the Southern Okanagan.

Mr Patullo states that the Osoyoos lands project is such a big undertaking that he is determined to obtain the best brains of the province in order to make a certain success of the irrigation undertaking.

was ably dealt with in the address of President Barnes during the convention. Mr. Agur pleaded for a larger membership here, and suggested that Summerland also top the list with life memberships at $10.00 each. We now have twelve such members. The importance of having an emergency fund was emphasized in relation to the question regarding express rates. The association will ask for a quarter cent a box on apples, and a proportionate contribution for other fruits toward such a fund.

Mr. Agur suggested a field day on the Experimental Farm to which growers of Naramata and Penticton would be invited. This idea met with favor. A suggestion by Mr. Agur that a committee be named to work with him in the interests of the association resulted in the appointment of J. Tait, G. J. C. White, R. H. Helmer, and R. Pollock.

A very interesting talk on seed growing and the Seed Growers' Association was given by Supt. Helmer, who said that several meetings in the southern Okanagan district would be held by seed growers.

Mr. Helmer led in a discussion on soil fertility and the treatment of barnyard manure. He gave figures showing the great value, especially in this district, of liquid manure and described his methods of applying manures to the soil.

President C. H. Tate gave a detailed description of the method used by him and others engaged in vegetable growing.

Mr. Helmer said that Summerland had depended almost wholly on Naramata last year for its strawberries, and much of Naramata's crop had been sold here, and suggested that some of those present give information on the growing of strawberries. G. Marshall and A. Moyes responded with helpful talks which led to general discussions.

BOARD OF TRADE ANNUAL MEETING

$50 to cover clerical and other expenses incidental to the secretaryship. With the above officers, Messrs Snider, Zimmerman, Kelley, J. Tait, R. V. Agur, W. Ritchie, formed the council for 1919. C. P. Nelson was reappointed auditor.

Much correspondence on the subject of the free ferry was read, and the president in his comment on this subject said the Board of Trade had now presented a good case, and he was very hopeful of the free ferry being granted.

By motion the board strongly supported the action of the Kelowna Automobile and Good Roads Association in its request to the government to straighten out the numerous curves on the Okanagan highway from Penticton to Vernon, and to widen the roads at all such places so as to reduce the danger of collisions to a minimum.

A notice of motion from E. A. C. Wright to form an automobile and good roads section was laid over until Mr. Wright's return. President Andrew reported that Summerland now has six members in the B.C. Good Roads Association, namely: Coun. Campbell, T. J. McAlpine, superintendent of government roads, Dr. Andrew, F. A. C. Wright, K. S. Hogg, and R. Johnston.

A membership committee consisting of R. Pollock, R. E. White, A. B. Elliott, and O. F. Zimmerman was appointed to add to their number.

R. V. Agur referred briefly to the splendid advertising value of the badges worn by the fifty representatives from Summerland attending the B.C. Fruit Growers' Convention.

B.C. Mine Output Was Large In 1918

British Columbia's mineral output in 1918 exceeded that of 1917 by more than $4,000,000. It was nearer the record year of 1916, when conditions for mining were the most favorable in the history of the province.

The 1918 output of the province is a splendid promise of what may be expected in 1919. In many respects 1918 was not a very favorable year for mining. Silver prices were high, but lead, copper, and zinc, particularly lead and zinc, suffered severely from the slump in the munitions market, while gold mining stagnated on account of the high cost of production, which is the same thing as a lowered price for the metal.

But even under these conditions the mineral output was close to the record year in the history of the province. This year will see an immense demand for lead, copper, and zinc for reconstruction and industrial uses, while lower prices for power, etc. will enable gold mining to revive. It is, in fact, already reviving.

British Columbia's honey crop is placed at 225 tons, with a value of $126,000.

One million dollars is the approximate value of live stock and farm produce shipped from the Nicola Valley during 1918, according to the Merritt Herald. That journal claims for its district for the same period one and one-half million dollars for coal and lumber exports.

if an increase in express rates is permitted, was adopted to be forwarded to come before the Railway Commission at its sitting in Vernon on the 19th inst.

Who Should Have The Fines?

Old Dispute Again Before Council This Week

Graded Water Rates

Coun. Kirk Would Fix Maximum Supply, And Charge For Extra

The council sat in regular weekly session from three until after six o'clock on Monday with an hour preceding the council meeting given over to committees.

Since the beginning of the year there have been numerous requests for repairs or extensions to the irrigation system, and the long list of these referred to the water committee was added to on Monday when H. C. Mellor described the condition of the flumes on the bench north of Peach Orchard and along the south and east of Jones' Flat. He did not presume to state whether the service should be through line or flume or a combination of both, but Mr. Mellor pointed out the urgent need of domestic water in his section, stating that an extension of the domestic system in that area would very likely be a paying proposition when the frontage tax was considered. He knew of several who would build if domestic water was available. Mr. Mellor was promised by the reeve that his suggestions would be considered. Reeve Simpson referred to the many applications for domestic water and assured him that this would be given sympathetic consideration.

Representing the vendor, W. C. Kelley asked that the municipality sell to the former owner a lot in the Hill Park Garden. This lot had been sold, but the purchaser had defaulted, and had no intention of carrying out his agreement, and Mr. Kelley asked that the council deed the property back to Mr. Hill upon payment of claims against it. The question arising as to whether this request should be granted or the property sold in open market it was decided to leave the matter over until a general policy was agreed upon.

Mr. Kelley asked that the council express itself as to its attitude toward a memorial hall, if this idea should be accepted by the majority of the ratepayers, the council's answer being that it will be guided by the wishes of the people.

Tenders were received for manure at the municipal stable, the highest with one exception being $31.00. The school board put in a tender offering $50, but required that the manure be delivered to the school grounds. It was decided to accept the tender of the school board.

D. L. Sutherland and his brother J. Rob, pressed the council for assurance that their father's ten acre lot on the bench overlooking Trout Creek Point would have a sufficient supply of water during the coming season. They complained of a serious shortage for years resulting in the loss of trees. They also asked that a row of pines along the west side of the lot on a road allowance be removed as they were damaging the fruit trees by their roots and by shading. If water was assured they would be able to rent the lot to Japs for truck growing. They charged that there had been much

United Farmers, Trout Creek Local

There was a good attendance at the schoolhouse at Trout Creek on the evening of February 5th, when the United Farmers of B.C., Trout Creek local, held their annual meeting. The following officers were elected for the following year:

President Sidney F. Sharp
Vice-President Harold Smith
Directors: E. Mountford, G. Thornhor, D. Gray, G. W. Johnson was re-elected secretary. Several new members were enrolled, and there is every prospect of a prosperous year. Among other questions which came up for discussion was the proposed War Memorial, and the park idea seemed to meet with general approval. It is proposed to hold a social meeting in the near future.

Getting After Government On Water Question

Naramata Farmers' Institute Will Send Delegates To Victoria and Vernon

The Naramata Farmers' Institute will send a representative to Victoria to demand immediate action by the government for a satisfactory solution of the water question.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Institute held last Friday evening with all officers and forty members present, it was resolved, by motion presented by Capt. Languedoc, seconded by Mr. Hook, that a petition be prepared and signed by all water users urging the government to take immediate action to give the people control of the carrying system and showing the utter fallacy of the people paying for the building and up-keep of storage dams while the distributing system remains in the hands of a company. When the meeting agreed that volunteers be called for to take the petition to Victoria to press for immediate action the following members offered to go: Miss Gordon, Capt. Languedoc, W. M. Armour, and the secretary, G. H. Partridge.

The Institute, by motion of Messrs Rayner and Russell Wells, undertook to pay the expenses of a delegate to Vernon to meet the railway commission on the subject of express rates, the election of a delegate being left with the executive.

Acting on motion of Messrs Davies and Languedoc the Institute instructed the executive to meet and arrange with the Women's Institute for a clean-up day, as suggested by them.

The executive was requested, upon motion of Messrs Davies and Myers, to fix a date for a water users' meeting to receive the report of the water users' committee.

The executive was instructed to look into the matter of price of hay in carloads, and L. E. Taylor, representative of the district on the Institute Advisory Board, will be presented with a resolution to the effect that the government be urged to supervise more closely the quality of mill feed. The Institute asks, "why should we be forced to pay freight on woods and wood fibre?"

Fruit Posts Inspector Hunter gave the address of the evening on the subject of Orchard Work, and

Principal Lees Central School Resigns Position

Failing To Get Reply To Letter Advises Trustees Will Quit April 1

Mr. C. W. Lees, principal of Summerland public schools, has tendered his resignation to the school board, same to take effect at the end of March. To a representative of The Review Mr. Lees has stated that there was no other course open to him in view of the attitude of the school board. At the regular meeting of the board held on Saturday evening the letter printed below was read and was the subject of some discussion. Trustee Tait was disposed to offer Principal Lees an increase. Mr. Lees' letter stating his case to the school board was as follows:

Central School,
Summerland, B.C.
Feb. 7th, 1919.

J. H. Bowering, Esq.,
Sec., School Board,
West Summerland, B.C.

Dear Sir,
Unfortunately the vexed question of my salary is again forced into consideration and I trust you will bring the following to the attention of your Board at the first opportunity.

(1) Last summer when all the staff applied for increases the ladies at the Central School were raised but I was denied an increase without being given any definite reason. Yet I have been in the employ of the Board longer than any other teacher at present on the staff.

(2) Having received no reason from the Board for their discrimination against myself I am left to conjecture only. If my work is held to be unsatisfactory I refer you to information in the possession of your Secretary as to the percentage of successful candidates at the Entrance Examination since I came to Summerland. If this is not sufficient I refer you further to the Inspector's reports covering this period. If you still hold my work to be unsatisfactory I shall feel obliged was given close attention by his hearers, while he ably dealt with this comprehensive subject. After Mr. Hunter had answered a number of questions a hearty vote of thanks was tendered him.

Would Expropriate Indian Reserves

Member For South Okanagan Heard At Victoria

Water Situation

Mr Jones Asks Of S. Okanagan Land Deal Wants A Horticulturist

Victoria.—Urging the provincial government to make every effort at obtaining action by Ottawa in the expropriation and development of the Indian reserves in the Okanagan, Mr. J. W. Jones, member for South Okanagan gave an instructive and well-thought out contribution to the debate on the speech from the Throne in the Legislature last week. Mr. Jones devoted considerable time to the question of land settlement, going into detail in connection with the opening up of the idle Indian reserves, the settlement of the irrigation question by way of public ownership, and the repatriation on the land of the returned soldiers.

He told the House that in the Okanagan and Similkameen Valleys alone Indian reserves amounted to 147,000 acres, much of this land being of the finest quality and in the possession of only 872 Indians, few of whom made any real use of it. The governments, he thought, should take immediate steps to obtain possession of the reserves at Enderby, Vernon, Kelowna, Westbank, and Penticton, preparing them for colonization by soldiers and otherwise. He instanced a case of where soldiers at Kelowna were prepared to go ahead in a co-operative movement for the farming of a small reserve tract at Duck Lake, but until Ottawa and Victoria had reached a decision on a basis for action nothing could be done. In the meantime the development and progress of the whole district was held back. Several of these reserves if taken over at once could be used this spring by soldiers, including one at Kelowna, and those at Vernon and Enderby.

In the opinion of the speaker the problem of giving immediate attention to the farm needs of the returned men could be well met in this way. The handling of Indian reserves would be much better, he thought, than opening up land in far-away sections or in embarking upon very expensive projects which would not permit the returned men to get on the land for at least another year.

Devoting some attention to the Southern Okanagan land deal, by which the government obtained 22,000 acres south of Penticton for $350,000, he pointed out that this would be a big project, and it would not help the soldiers for a year or two. The King's Speech had indicated that large areas of land owned by the Crown had been surveyed and reserved for soldier settlement in the north, while the Southern Okanagan purchase had also been made. With ten thousand men already home from the war and a general desire on behalf of the public to see as many veterans on the land as possible, this program as mentioned in the Address could be accepted as indicating the government attitude to returned soldiers, he went on. But what did it reveal? What actually were the big plans of Victoria for the re-establishment of the men who "went over the top"? What was the land policy? Where could a soldier actually locate to-day? The Minister of Lands had announced that he set aside "soldier rural homesteads" at Agamomnon Bay and Porpoise Bay, as well as Stuart River, but the soldiers took quite a different view of their value, for men who had received $38 a month for the past four years had no money for rural homesteads.

Mr. Jones called Hon. Mr. Pattullo a great advertiser. One year ago he had promised $500,000 for the settlement of the irrigation question through amendments to the Water Act. At the Nelson convention he had been forced, however, to the admission that the amendments made the bill virtually unworkable, and now he was urging the people in the water districts to protect their future by forming

Municipal Engineer Is Now Appointed

Council Makes Selection From Nearly 100 Applicants

Mr. A. W. Ellson Fawkes has been appointed to the position of municipal engineer and general superintendent at a salary of $3,000 per annum.

As a result of the advertisements placed in the local, Calgary, Vancouver, and Washington State papers about ninety applications were received by the council for the new position. After some hours of work, five applications were gleaned from the lot from which to select a superintendent. One was a resident of Calgary, two were in Vancouver, and one in Seattle, and the fifth resident here. The four outside applicants were each given an opportunity to interview the council and Mr. Fawkes came in from Calgary, and Mr. Barton from Vancouver on Friday night, and Mr. Link from Seattle on Saturday night. Saturday morning was spent by the council in conversation with the first two, and on Saturday evening Mr. Link was given a hearing.

At the regular meeting of the council on Monday Mr. Fawkes was the unanimous choice, and he has been asked to take up his duties here at the earliest possible date. Mr. Fawkes is a graduate of the College of Science and Technology and the Heriot Watt College, both of Edinburgh, Scotland, and has held important positions with His Majesty's Office of Works, Scotland, and Vickers Sons & Maxims, England.

The following are some of the important positions held by Mr. Fawkes in the United States. Chief Assistant Engineer of Construction for the City of Minneapolis, Minn., during the construction of their one and a half-million dollar Mechanical Filtration Plant, and bridge building for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

In Canada, as Resident Engineer for the Town of Campbellford during the construction of their four thousand Hydro-Electrical Power Development.

Resident Engineer for the City of Peterborough during the construction of their Concrete Dam districts under the old dyking and drainage act, the present water act being too cumbersome and intricate.

"Is the purchase of the Southern Okanagan lands a bluff or a huge gamble?" he enquired. "The deal has some advantages, of course, because the development of that fine tract will mean wonderful things for the Southern Okanagan—if that development is actually carried out. But the price seems high, and the eventual cost will be great. Then there is this drawback that it will not meet to-day's need for it will be impossible to place men on the property for another year or two. I would like to know why the government did not confiscate the land as it did in the case of the lands in the northern part of the province, and as would appear to be its general policy. Why was it that the Minister of Lands attended to the matter and the Land Settlement Board was left out? Is this co-operation? And did the government send engineers and surveyors over the tract to make a report? Now I see that having made the deal Victoria wants Ottawa to take the project over. To my mind the Department has missed the essential need of the day and that is to start on a land project which would mean the minimum of expense and which would allow the soldiers to start plowing this spring.

"Realizing the large contract this government is entering into in this matter, with the investment of probably two millions in the undertaking and realizing that another government will probably have the handling of those various land properties there are certain things in connection with the South Okanagan transaction that I want to know, that the returned soldiers want to know, and that the public at large would like information on. One would have thought that the minister would have taken the members of the House into his

School Board Submits Estimates

Will Require $1,200 More Than Last Year

Salary Schedule

Teachers Submit Suggested Basis For Yearly Increases

Provision was made by the school board when preparing the estimates for the year, for paying a domestic science instructor for four months. $100 was also provided for equipping domestic science department. The board finding that the work in the manual training department cannot be satisfactorily done in the two days per week, as arranged for last year, were able to secure the services of Manual Training Director Baker for a third day, and this is also provided for in the estimates.

The total of the estimates, as prepared for submission to the municipal council, was $9,500, and on this estimate the council will base the school tax for the current year. This total is about an even $1,200 dollars more than required from the taxpayers in 1918. In addition to this sum the province pays approximately dollar for dollar on teachers' salaries and conveyance. The total school expenditure last year was $14,750, of which $3,300 was provided for in the estimates presented to the council.

C. J. Gale, who has a contract with the school board for the Paradise Flat route, gave thirty days' notice of his intention to terminate his service, complaining that he had not been paid for November and December, and that he was wrongfully deprived of payment for the days that schools were closed because of influenza. It was the opinion of the board that he could only demand his one dollar per trip for each trip actually made. Complaint had been lodged that he had on one occasion been off the route for two days without providing a substitute. The secretary pointed out that for this breach a contractor is liable to a fine. He further explained that Mr. Gale had only served for one day in November and fifteen in December, for which, no doubt, he now had his cheque. The board were unanimous in the opinion that Mr. Gale should be held to his contract by which he will be required to provide a substitute satisfactory to the board if he wishes to discontinue.

At the January meeting of the staff of the public schools of the district a letter had been prepared to be presented to the school board, and this letter, signed by Principal Lees, was read at the regular monthly meeting of the board held in the board room last Saturday evening. In this letter the teachers stated that "In the past the teachers have been put to no end of inconvenience on account of the irregularity with which they have been paid, Mr. Logie's recent remark to the contrary notwithstanding. We

Sudden Passing of Respected Citizen

Leander Gregor Blair, for eleven years a respected resident of Summerland, passed away very suddenly on Wednesday, February 12th. That morning he was apparently in normal health, and was outdoors when he was suddenly stricken about 10 o'clock, and passed away in about twenty minutes. A funeral service is being held at the house this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The body will be taken to Chester, Nova Scotia, by Miss Georgie Blair, there to be buried beside the body of his late wife.

Mr. Blair was sixty-eight years and four months of age, and was born in Truro, Nova Scotia. He came to Summerland from Chester, N.S., where he had been a resident since 1885.

There remain one son, Ben, recently returned from France, and four daughters, Misses Gertrude, Georgie, Annie, and Ruth. Ex-reeve Isaac Blair is an older brother of the deceased. The bereaved family have the deepest sympathy of the community.

Dancing Is Banned Throughout The Province

(Kelowna Record.)

Considerable agitation has been caused by the announcement of a provincial order-in-council prohibiting public and private dances, on account of the influenza epidemic. The wording of the order left some doubt as to whether it was the intention to apply its provisions to Kelowna, or only to certain places where influenza regulations were in force. A telegram from the provincial police to Victoria elicited a reply which did not altogether clear up the doubt, and as several dances are being projected, it became necessary to know without possibility of misunderstanding just how the city stood in the matter. Accordingly, upon instructions from the mayor, the city clerk wired for a definite statement which would set all doubt at rest. The reply came this morning to the effect that all dancing throughout the province was prohibited for the period in which the order remained in force. In consequence, several dances which have been announced for the next few weeks, have had to be called off.

Owing to the ban placed on dancing in the province by the powers that be at Victoria, it has been necessary to postpone the masquerade dance in aid of the Red Cross, advertised for the fourteenth of February by the Vernon Fire Brigade. This will no doubt be a disappointment to many, but as this move is for the safety of the general public we must cheerfully resign ourselves to existing conditions.—Vernon News.

stealing of water along the flume serving this lot. They were assured that if the flume was faulty the council would remedy it and if shortage of water was due to inefficient administration that must be remedied. The matter of the pine trees was referred to Chairman Campbell of the roads committee with power to act.

A communication from Mrs J. C. Arkell requesting that all shacks on the Flat be required to have brick chimneys revived the question of having a building by-law, and the matter was left for consideration at a later meeting.

Plans for two lots north of S. E. Snider's, together with a plan for a road across these, was received, and the clerk instructed to have the plans recorded.

The 1919 school estimates totaling $9,500 were received from the school board.

The collector reported that R. H. English had refused to pay the rental of $5 a year for the past four years on the road-end which he has had fenced in just south of his old stable. The council felt that this was a just claim, and Mr English will be asked to pay. Mr English further refused to pay over fines which he had collected, the reason given being that the council was not now paying him the $25 per year formerly paid him as Police Magistrate. Clerk Logie explained that since 1914 the appointment of police magistrate has been with the government. Previous to that Mr English had been appointed by the council at a salary of $25. The clerk explained that under the provisions of the act when the municipality maintains police service it has a right to the fines. The clerk was instructed to lay the matter before the Attorney-General so that a clear understanding may be obtained. As Justice of Peace, Mr English fixes and collects the costs, said the reeve, and it was his opinion that this was all he was entitled to.

Following a report from Collector Pollock to the effect that he was having difficulty in collecting past due accounts for wiring done by the municipal electrician, he was instructed to advise the electrician that no connections should be made until bills for wiring were paid and service will be discontinued to those who refuse to pay these accounts.

An account from R. H. English, J.P., for $8.50, costs in connection with the recent motor charges against minors, was referred to the police commission. Domestic water connection was granted C. E. Craig.

In moving that the application of A. W. Ellison Fawkes, C.E., of Calgary, for the position of general superintendent and municipal engineer, be accepted, Coun. Kirk pointed out that Engineer Latimer, in his report on the work covered by the recent $35,000 by-law, made provision for superintendence and contingencies amounting to 10 per cent. of this sum, so that the engineer's salary was provided for in this item alone. We would get much additional service from him without additional taxation. His motion was seconded by Coun. White and carried unanimously, no other candidate being suggested proposed.

In discussing water matters, Coun. Kirk suggested that with an increased water supply available it might be advisable to fix a minimum rate for a certain measured volume of water with an additional rate to those who require an extra supply of water for inter-cropping, vegetable growing, etc. Those who wanted an extra supply of water should make application stating what additional amount they required. He submitted a rough sketch of an inexpensive measuring device that could be used at indi-

O. F. Zimmerman, Scoutmaster. Headquarters, College Gymnasium. Meets every Friday evening at 7.30 p.m.

At our last weekly meeting Mr Zimmerman through illness not being able to be present, Patrol Leader Gayton was in charge of meeting. After roll call Patrol Leader Smith put the boys through a little marching, then tumbling. At the end of this period the meeting was dismissed, and the first team that we intend to play the Kelowna Scouts played the second team. Although the seconds played well it was no match for the first.

Instead of our next regular meeting we will meet at the gymnasium at 4 o'clock and from there go to Mr F. A. Miller's place at Upper Trout Creek, where we are invited to spend the evening.

Arrangements are being made to go to Kelowna next Friday, Feb. 21.

ed to tender my resignation to take effect as early as possible for I have no desire to force my services on you if the work does not enjoy your approval.

(3) It would seem that the discrimination I have received has not been due to funds. You have raised the salaries of the lady teachers as mentioned above. You are now paying about fifty per cent. more for caretaking than when I came to Summerland and at your last meeting you increased the salary of your Secretary by twenty per cent. Also you have increased the salary of the Medical Inspector over sixty per cent. when it must be obvious to you that any reason making for an increase in his remuneration applies equally to mine.

(4) Further it has been suggested that my work in spare time is objected to by the Board. I can not yet bring myself to believe that you would assume so untenable and unreasonable an attitude as to wish to deprive a member of your staff of his spare time. Surely it belongs to himself especially if his work is satisfactory, which I urge is the only consideration. If it is satisfactory I ask a salary in keeping with present conditions and the length of my service here.

If it is not satisfactory please advise to that effect and my services will terminate on April 1st.

But the Board does not object to my outside work else why did they hire a Manual Training Instructor last summer when it was common knowledge that he would engage in outside work and has continued to do so ever since.

(4) Comparisons have been attempted between my salary and that of neighboring towns but such comparisons can not be made. These towns have changed principals every year for at least the last four. In Vernon and Kelowna the changes have not been so frequent because they pay their men more justly. But there is not another Public School Principal in the Valley who has remained in the service of his Board as long as I have. Hence the utter impossibility of attempting to draw analogies.

Last summer when Penticton engaged its present Principal it was specifically stipulated that if his services were satisfactory and he would remain, his salary would be increased at the end of one year. Continuity in the staff should be the aim of all Boards.

I certainly have no desire to appeal to the Board on any grounds other than justice. I feel that I have made my case abundantly clear and I can no longer side step the discrimination that I have received.

I ask, therefore, that my salary from Jan. 1st of the present year be on a basis of $1,800 per annum according to the schedule drawn up at the Teachers' meeting and which I fully trust will meet with the support of the Board.

Failing to receive a satisfactory reply I shall be forced reluctantly to the obvious conclusion and one course only will remain.

Yours faithfully,

C. W. LEES,
Principal.

Improvement of Roads in the Okanagan V.

Scheme Recommended.

At a meeting of the Kelowna Automobile and Good Roads Association, the following was recommended as a scheme for the general improvement of the roads in the Okanagan from Enderby to the Boundary.

It is suggested that the Provincial Government borrow one million dollars, which sum would be sufficient to put in first-class condition the main roads, approximately 400 miles. This would allow $2,500 for each and every mile, but as there are many miles which can be put in first class condition for a much smaller sum the balance could be applied on parts which must be macadamized.

The initial expenditure of this sum of money would put our main roads in such a condition that with a little repair each year they would last for many years. Under such a plan the annual appropriations by the Legislature could be spent on the outlying sections which should, if properly handled, keep them in good shape; whereas at present the money is spent a little here and there and does no permanent good.

To pay back this million dollars it is suggested that every motor vehicle pay a yearly licence of $15. With the estimated number of cars and trucks by Jan. 1921 to be not less than 5,000, this would yield a revenue of $75,000. Of this amount approximately $60,000 would be required to pay interest, while the balance, $15,000, which with the increase in the number of motors, would annually become larger, could be applied on the sinking fund and before the road is worn out should pay the whole debt.

It is asked why should this scheme appeal to the motorist? The average mileage for each car per year is 4,500 miles. Tires are guaranteed to run 3,500 miles, but we will say they will run an average of 4,500 miles. This means a new set of tires each year for every car, the average cost of which is approximately $40 each, or $160 for a set of four. Experience has proven that a tire will run from ten to sixteen thousand miles on a hard surface road, but we will say 9,000 miles to be on the safe side. This would mean a saving of $80 a year to the motorist on tires alone. For repairs other than tires the average cost per car is estimated at $100 per year, which cost would be cut in two with hard roads. The annual average consumption of gas per car is 300 gallons, which could easily be reduced 10 per cent, if all roads were hard surfaced. There would also be a saving of oil to say nothing of the peace of mind the motorist would derive.

For all this the owner of a motor vehicle would pay five dollars more for his annual licence, but in return he would receive a dividend amounting annually to $242, made up as follows:

Saving on Tires	$80.00
Saving on Repairs other than tires	50.00
Saving of Gas	12.00
General Satisfaction and peace of mind	100.00
Grand Total	$242.00

confidence, but he is continuing his old course of endeavoring to rush matters affecting his Department through without time for debate. The minister has not yet given any detailed statement respecting the purchase of this large tract, as to the price paid, the acreage, whether cash was given or B.C. bonds.

"We must not throw up our hats and shout 'hurrah' because the minister has bought a tract of land that lay idle for generations. The minister has not explained to the House why the Southern Okanagan Land Co., with its strong financial backing, did not proceed with development long before this. Before we can indulge in rosy pictures of the future of the project we should have definite data on the amount of land which will be irrigated by gravity and by pumping, what acreage is range land, and exactly what all the remainder is fit for, and what the cost of getting it ready will be. Then again the House should know how many units of this land will be put on the market this year, or if not this year, when. How long will it take to construct the irrigation system to the first unit, and what is the character of the soil?"

The speaker said he was very anxious to have information about the Department of Agriculture to which very slight reference had been made in the King's speech. In two years' time the agricultural department had been literally "shot to pieces." The deputy ministers and many of the agricultural experts had gone, principally because salaries were too poor and scope too limited. There was no organization in the department, and the minister was merely "a lone soul wandering." Although the agricultural production of the province stood at about thirty-five millions a year, the imports of products which could be raised here reached twenty millions. A situation such as this called for a strong policy. Going into a discussion of the production in B.C. during the past year Mr Jones referred to the fine fruit returns obtained by the shippers of the South Okanagan, incidentally paying a tribute to the splendid assistance given in the harvesting season by the women.

In the Interior, water conditions had been helped by providence, not by the department, and the fruit farmers could consider themselves lucky for the season at least. Seed grain furnished to the growers by the department during the past year had been of poor quality and full of weeds. The speaker proposed greater efforts in keeping down noxious weeds. He gave approval to the suggestion of Mrs Smith that there be a closer inspection of meat for sale. Dealing briefly with the live stock industry he contrasted the situation in Washington and Oregon with that prevailing in this province. Little real assistance had been given the live stock men in B.C., and while it was true the government brought in a few live stock last year, about 150, they were all shipped north.

Mr Jones advised the government to accept the recommendations from the Farmers' Institutes Advisory Board with regard to fighting the express rates increase and combating Oriental ownership of lands. He asked when a new provincial horticulturist would be appointed, spoke strongly in favor of continuing a vigorous fight against codlin moth and fire blight, and favored going on with the tuberculin testing of cattle.

Taking up the matter of public works, Mr Jones remarked that about all the King's speech said on the subject was that necessary repairs had been effected. He contrasted an expenditure of $2,063,236 by the old government in 1916 on public works with $1,292,481 in 1918 by the new government. On a plea of economy the Public Works minister had cut off many officials, and then immediately embarked in to a new scheme of road engineers. In most cases these engineers were doing clerical work, being almost completely taken up with attending to the mass of petty detail wanted by Victoria instead of getting out over the country and looking after its needs. But the road foremen had increased in number over the old days despite the lessening in expenditures. In his own district, he pointed out, there were now five road foremen where formerly there were three. Autos for government officials had also greatly increased. Farmers' taxes had jumped 100 per cent., but road work fell 40 per cent., and the trunk roads and wharves were getting into serious condition. Work was being done at the wrong time. He said that the right time was in the Fall and Winter when traffic was lighter and labor more plentiful.

He took exception to the fact that although the South Okanagan appropriation was $21,700 last year only $18,860 had been spent, although the condition of the roads cried out for more expenditure in repairs.

He wondered what the government's proposed million dollar emergency fund forecasted. Did it mean an election or soup kitchens? Was it a sort of method of doling out charity to the soldiers?

In the speaker's opinion the time had come to open up public works, provide as much employment as possible, and in this way attend to the immediate needs of the homecoming veterans, thus allaying the threatening labor unrest. He urged more attention to and better work on the principal roads. With this went the completion of the trans-provincial highway, so necessary if

B.C. was to reach its rightful place in respect to tourist traffic. Instead of having a big emergency appropriation he thought a decision should be reached now on the public works to be done

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Passengers to visit Kelowna on Wednesday of last week were Mrs and Miss Needham; Mrs R. A. F. Moore; Mr A. Town; Mr W. Coldham; Nelson Keating, and Austin Hay; all returning on the evening boat but Mr Coldham, who remained over for a day or two.

Miss Hilda Winger spent a day or two in town last week visiting her parents and brothers and sisters.

William and James Moore made a trip to Kelowna on Thursday of last week and returned with a horse which they had purchased.

Mrs W. Dryden was a passenger to Kelowna on Thursday of last week, returning the same afternoon.

Mr John McKinnon is again enjoying a visit from his sister and her little boy.

The gentleman who worked for J. McKinnon last season is in town again, having arrived on Friday evening of last week.

Mr R. H. Huston was a visitor to Kelowna on Friday of last week returning in the evening.

The reading room of the Presbyterian Church was a busy place from three o'clock last Friday afternoon to at least six o'clock, there having been held there two committee meetings. First the committee which had been appointed to take up the matter of a memorial for our fallen heroes. We understand that at this meeting the committee decided on a recommendation to put before the people at a civic meeting to be held later on. The Soldiers' Reception and Reconstruction committee met and appointed sub-committees as follows:— one to arrange for a public reception to be held after the return of the boys, and one to take care of reconstruction problems, and both to report back to the main committee.

It has been officially announced here that the Royal Bank of Canada is establishing a branch in Peachland, and it is reported that it will open very shortly in the former office of Messrs Ward & Bachelor, the building opposite the Fruit Union. It is to be hoped that every one will be patriotic toward the bank to repay or at least encourage them for opening up here. The safe is on the way, but we are not advised yet as to who will be in charge of the branch. Manager Rees of Kelowna paid town two visits in this connection on Friday afternoon last and Saturday afternoon. He was accompanied on Friday by Mr Macdonald, manager of the B.C. Growers at Kelowna, and on Saturday by his teller from the Kelowna branch.

The annual birthday party of the Women's Circle of the Methodist Church was held in the home of Mr and Mrs A. Town on Friday evening of last week. A very pleasant evening was spent by about 58 persons who evidently had attended with that in view. Customary parlor games were played, not forgetting Playing School. The teacher was not by any means a college graduate, but with the quick mental exercise was able quite frequently to send even "scholars" to the foot of the class. But "Oh—it was noisy," some persons said; nevertheless it created a deal of excitement. The usual method of bringing in the birthday gifts realized $22 for the building fund of the church. We understand that this comes within a few dollars of wiping out the debt.

Passengers to Kelowna on Saturday last were Mr and Mrs and Miss Myrtle Keating, and Mrs R. Howell, all returning on the evening boat.

Rev. Mr Riggs of Kelowna spent Sunday in town again supplying for the Baptists and remained over till Tuesday morning to assist Mr G. Keyes with some work.

Mr and Mrs W. Suddaby were passengers down the lake on Saturday night last.

After having undergone an operation for appendicitis in the Kelowna Hospital, and staying the necessary time to recuperate, Mrs W. Ashley returned to her home and family here on Saturday night last. She is as well as could be expected.

Gordon McDougald with his mother and sister motored to Summerland on Sunday last to visit relatives in that district. They report a pleasant visit, but speak with one voice against the condition of the road between here and Summerland.

Mrs and Miss Verna Town and Mrs R. Howell were passengers to Kelowna on Monday last. Mrs Town and Mrs Howell returned the same day, but Miss Verna remained over till Tuesday evening.

Harold Miller and Bert Keating were passengers south on Monday night last, returning on Tuesday morning.

Harold English, of Summerland, well-known to many here, passed through on Tuesday morning last on his way to the Coast for his final discharge.

Passengers to Kelowna on Tuesday last were Mr M. N. Morrison and Mr H. H. Thompson, both returning the same afternoon.

The local Stock Breeders' Association held their annual meeting last week. The principal business was the selection of officers for the year which resulted as follows:— President, E. F. Smith; Vice-President, R. H. Harrington; Sec.-Treasurer, Dr Buchanan; Directors, S. H. Murdin, H. Williams, A. D. Ferguson, R. E. Taylor.

The school board have succeeded in securing a teacher for the Trempanier school in the person of Mr Sheldon, of Vancouver, who arrived on Saturday night last, and has taken up temporary quarters at Mrs L. Mills. Mr Sheldon is a married man, and Mrs Sheldon will follow later.

We understand that word has just been received in town that Mr and Mrs W. A. Lang have safely landed in France where they go with a Canadian exhibit

Five Thousand Facts About Canada, For 1919.

Thousands will welcome the new 1919 Edition of "5,000 Facts about Canada," edited by Frank Yeigh, the well-known writer and lecturer on the Dominion. The booklet is a unique annual epitome of the trade, finances, manufacturing, marine, agricultural, dairying, mining, forestry, and other facts, and a striking revelation of our national growth in a year. An extra valuable feature this year is the chapter on War Facts, containing the authoritative totals that people want to know, and that tell of Canada's part in the War in condensed form, in fact, this popular publication has been well termed a pocket cyclopedia of Canada, or the Dominion in a nutshell. Copies may be had from leading newsdealers, or by sending 25 cents to the Canadian Facts Publishing Co., 688 Huron Street, Toronto.

WOULD EXPROPRIATE INDIAN RESERVES.

Mr Jones expressed his pleasure with the Ottawa and Victoria announcements that the Kamloops-Okanagan line of the C.N.R. would be started this year.

The King's speech had noted increased prosperity in the province due to ship building, lumbering, mining, and agriculture. Bank clearings had risen and population was flowing westwards.

What the province needs, he said, was increased population and more industries. Determination and leadership of the keen-visioned type would bring this happy future to pass. A bold and courageous administration was required to handle the affairs of the province.

What the Address from the Throne did not tell the members, he went on, was why taxation had not been reduced, why the cost of civil government had gone up, why the appointment of the civil service commissioner had been forced upon the government, why the prohibition commissioner did not have a proper set of books, why he was not arrested at once on a breach of public trust, why scandalous conditions were permitted at the Boys' Industrial Home, and why the Minister of Lands had not yet settled the irrigation troubles in the dry belt.

An illuminating review of the educational situation was given by the South Okanagan member. He complimented the Minister of Education upon the standardization of text-books, although he complained of the frequent changes in books which appeared to take place in the schools.

In his opinion more attention should be paid to young teachers at Normal. Schools should be nation builders.

The teaching profession should be made a life work not a stepping stone. Education should bear some relation to the life the child will lead when he has completed his school course. Attention should be paid to the matter of training the children of soldiers killed or disabled. The Saskatchewan government had done much in this direction, he explained.

After the heavy losses of life in the Great War one of the all important questions arising was the conservation of man power, commented the speaker in turning the subject of education and health. The war had revealed the existence of many physical units. Out of one class of 883 examined in Ontario one-third were rejected, fifty per cent. placed in A2, and the balance in lower classes. To-day's need, particularly with the existence of so many more disabled men, was for the building up of a stronger generation. More attention must be paid to public school health. The state's connection with a child started at six, and it should therefore be responsible in a great measure for the child's health. Out of a class of 720 children examined in one Manitoba district 35 had fever and diphtheria, 32 defective hearing, 70 defective eyesight, 486 adenoids, 489 bad teeth. It was said that 1,000 children in Victoria and 75 per cent of those in Vancouver required dental attention. In Calgary high schools 25 per cent of the pupils had goitre. Tranquille records show that of 156 cases admitted there in 1917 with tuberculosis, one half were under thirty years of age. Four hundred lives were lost annually in the province from this cause.

All these things went to show, said the speaker, that there was a great economic loss which should be stopped as rapidly as possible, particularly in view of the fact that the world was now entering upon an era of competition where efficient men and women were needed. This problem was one, he believed, that the Department of Education must meet just as soon and as completely as it could.

Some attention was given by the member to the problems relating to the home-coming and demobilization of the soldiers.

With a foreign population in B.C. of 40,000 Asiatics and 22,000 other foreigners, including 8,500 enemy aliens, the situation was one demanding prompt and fair treatment of the returned men in order to cope with the social and industrial troubles created by the presence here of so many persons of other blood and language.

New Mun. Act Not Satisfactory To Council

Former Owners Will Have Brief Opportunity to Buy Lands

The proposed new municipal act, which it was said, would be brought before the House at Victoria this week, came in for some adverse criticisms at the regular meeting of the Summerland municipal council on Monday. Reeve Simpson objected to the classification of municipalities. Small, unimportant "cities" were placed in class one, while municipalities such as Summerland and Penticton and of much greater importance were put in a lower class with more limited powers of self government. He pointed out that while the smallest community organized under a city charter would have a court of revision of assessment composed of three elected citizens outside the council whose decisions were final, such municipalities as ours would not come under this new clause. He also thought that provision should be made in the municipal act for holding the land responsible for rates as for taxes instead of, as explained by the clerk, the water act making provision for the collecting of rates in the manner provided for the enforcement of taxes by the municipal act. The proposed act will be further considered at a later meeting. A copy of the new act had been received from Mr. J. W. Jones, member at Victoria, with a request that he be advised of the wishes of the council with respect to any changes.

Taking the cheques issued to the principal of the Central School and noting the date on which they were cashed, the treasurer made reply to the charge that the teachers' salary cheques were held unduly long before being issued, and gave the following dates: January 17, March 1 and 28, May 6 and 21, July 5, August 9th and 30th, October 29th, November 29th, December 20th.

A request from R. R. Chew that the irrigation flume from the south main to his lot be given attention was referred to the water committee. Mr. Chew reported that he had suffered loss to hay and other crops through excessive leakage.

A by-law authorizing the borrowing against 1919 taxes of $3,000 was given the required three readings at Monday's meeting and was finally considered and approved at a special meeting held on Wednesday, and the chairman of the finance committee and treasurer were authorized to make the necessary arrangements with the bank.

Offering to take the best advantage of weather and of the condition of the road surface of the lakeshore drive including Shaughnessy Avenue, W. Watson suggested that he be given permission to put that road in better condition. His suggestion met with approval, and Mr. Watson was instructed to proceed with the work whenever conditions were favorable. He proposes using a drag.

Expressions of disapproval of the apparent disposition of some citizens to sell or lease lands to Orientals were heard at Monday's council meeting. It is apparent that if it were within the power of the council to do so the council would make it illegal to sell or lease to Orientals. Reeve Simpson said on Monday that if there was no check on this movement people of British citizenship would be moving out faster than they were coming in.

A recommendation from the roads committee that a horse which the municipality has been using be bought from the owner, H. Dunsdon, for $200 was adopted.

The finance committee recommended renewal of $800 insurance on the power house, and that the machinery and equipment therein be insured to full two-thirds of its value, instead of only $500 as at present.

Up to April 1st the former owners of land bought by the municipality at tax sale of 1917 will be given an opportunity to repurchase these properties. After that date

C.N.R. Officials Visit Valley

(Kamloops Standard-Sentinel.)
A. R. Mann, brother of Sir Donald Mann, and one of the chief executives in the Northern Construction Co., was here yesterday in company with Mr. Mercer of Vancouver. These gentlemen visited the company's mill on the North Thompson, and this morning left by car for Vernon. Neither of them had anything to say regarding the time that work would commence on the Okanagan branch of the C.N.R. from this city, but judging from the number of officials who have visited this city during the past month it is quite evident that the company contemplates early construction on the line.

Business Growth Of Naramata Brings Bank

Summerland Staff of Bank of Montreal Opening Branch

The Bank of Montreal is preparing to open a branch at Naramata. In fact under the management, for the present, of the Summerland office business is already being done at Naramata where two rooms in the old Lakeside Hotel building have been engaged and are being fitted up as a bank office. The large safe used when the bank had a sub-office in the Ritchie block, where the safe has been until now, will be moved across the lake to the new office.

The growing importance of Naramata is thus given recognition, and the Bank of Montreal has made a wise move by being the first bank to open in Naramata since the closing of a branch office there, following the subsidence of the real estate boom. The citizens of Naramata received over $100,000 last year for their fruit crop, and as the orchards are only now reaching bearing age, succeeding years should see the doubling and trebling of this figure.

Very deep sympathy is expressed for R. J. McDougall, editor of the Penticton Herald, in the loss of his wife, who passed away suddenly last week following an operation for peritonitis, at the age of 28 years. Beside the bereaved husband there are left two young children, a girl of seven and a boy of five. Mr. McDougall was in Victoria at the time, but arrived on Friday accompanied by Mr. W. A. McKenzie, M.L.A., the funeral being held that afternoon. Mr. McDougall's newspaper colleagues in the Okanagan and elsewhere in this province will unite in their desire to lighten his sorrow in his hour of sad and sudden bereavement.

Vernon Would Consolidate Taxes

An important resolution dealing with the problems of tax arrears was passed by the Vernon city council last Monday night.

It was resolved that application be made to the legislature to have the Municipal Act amended so that all arrears may be consolidated and provision made whereby delinquent tax payers can repay the same in five yearly instalments of one-fifth each year, conditional upon full payment of each year's current taxes. Failure in any year to make either of these payments would forfeit the taxpayer's right to the special consideration provided.

Penticton has virtually been promised a grant of $1,000 from the province to be expended in the repair of its principal street. The remainder of the cost will be paid by the council, and the job will be placed under the care of Provincial Engineer Gwyer.

No sales will be made without first advertising the lots for public sale, according to a recommendation from the properties committee. This is in line with a clause in the new municipal act dealing with this matter.

Herds Visited By Extremely Fatal Disease

Such is Opinion of Experts After Learning Symptoms Known In South

Though Usually Fatal, Death Rate Here Was Light Have a Serum

Expert opinion is that Summerland was recently visited by a new and very fatal cattle disease, when three or four weeks ago two cows were lost by Mr. H. C. Mellor following very brief illness, and Conn. J. R. Campbell also lost one or two animals from a herd he had on range. Dr. R. C. Lipsett, as is his custom, reported the losses to the Health of Animals Branch of the Department of Agriculture, which resulted in the prompt arrival here of Dr. J. D. Paxton, of Kamloops, one of the inspectors of the health of animals branch.

Being uncertain as to the cause of the death of the animals, Dr. Lipsett asked for assistance in the diagnosis of the disease from Dr. Kenneth Chester, secretary of the British Columbia Veterinary Association. Dr. Chester felt pretty confident from the symptoms described by Dr. Lipsett that the animals had died of haemorrhagic septicaemia, although it was just possible, he said, that the disease might be anthrax. This fear, however, was soon set aside, and Dr. Chester's opinion further confirmed.

This disease until recently was only to be found in the warmer states of the south, but has been working north, and several cases have been known in the State of Washington. Some years ago one case appeared in the district south of New Westminster, and it is reported to be making its appearance in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The fatality is very great, being about 90 per cent, there being no medicinal treatment of much use. Dr. Chester reported that a serum had been developed that has reduced the mortality about one half, and when used as a vaccine has conferred immunity. The disease is caused by the Bacterium Bovisepticum.

Dr. Paxton took away with him specimens of the organs of the dead cows to be analyzed.

An official of the Experimental Farm at Agassiz says that haemorrhagic septicaemia seems to be on the increase, and that it is quite possible that it may occur in the Okanagan. It appeared in some sheep at Agassiz two or three months ago.

This cattle disease has been known and recognized in Europe for forty years, and for a somewhat lesser period in the United States.

This will set aside the theory that the local cows referred to died of influenza. The inference was perhaps not unreasonable when cattle died during the epidemic among humans as the novice might consider the symptoms similar.

The fact that some of the local cattle that seemed to be affected with the disease did not die was a matter of much surprise to the experts.

RED CROSS WORK ENDS.

At a recent meeting of the Summerland Branch of the Okanagan Ambulance League at which the policy for the future was discussed, it was decided to discontinue further regular meetings, the need for the work which has been carried on not now existing. Provision was made for the disposal of the material still on hand. It was agreed that the members be asked to contribute ten cents per month to a fund for the benefit of prisoners of war.

Mr. Fawkes, the recently-appointed municipal engineer and superintendent, arrived by boat on Wednesday evening from Calgary. Mrs. Fawkes and their two little ones will come later, after Mr. Fawkes has made arrangements for a house.

Ably Defend Shippers In Rates Enquiry

R. M. Winslow Presents Good Case for B.C.F.G.A.

Increase Fatal

Railway Commission Told Higher Express Rates Would Kill Business

That the proposed increase in express charges and the cancelling of the commodity tariff on fruit will have a most disastrous effect upon the fruit growing industry of this province was the opinion emphatically expressed when the Board of Railway Commissioners met in session at Vernon on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. R. M. Winslow, who opened the case for the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, told the Commission that the changes proposed would be most damaging to the industry. He maintained that the business would not stand the increase in rates asked for by the express companies, and would have the effect of shutting B.C. fruit out of the markets of Manitoba and at least part of Saskatchewan, giving these markets up to our competitors from Washington and Oregon. The commodity tariff is essential to the life of the industry, he held, and should not be abolished. A change from the flat rate to a mileage rate basis will result in our shippers losing half their business, he continued, and as this is a basic industry upon which the life of many communities depends, it would bring about a serious condition of affairs. The proposal to raise the carload minimum from 17,000 to 20,000 lbs. also met with an emphatic protest from Mr. Winslow, as giving American competitors an unfair advantage in the prairie markets. He further contended that even if it were shown to the satisfaction of the board that some increase in rates may be justly due to the express companies, any increase will prove a handicap to the fruit and vegetable business, while any such sweeping advances as are asked for by the express companies would be nothing short of disastrous.

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners, presided at this meeting, and associated with him was Dr. G. G. Rutherford, lately appointed as member of the Commission.

The express companies were well represented, there being present: Hon. F. H. Phippen, K.C., counsel for the Express Traffic Association; J. Pullen, president of the Canadian Express Company, Montreal; T. E. McDonnell, vice-president and general manager, Dominion Express Company, Toronto; W. H. Burr, traffic manager, Dominion Express Company; R. Helms, superintendent Dominion Express Co., Vancouver.

Mr. G. E. McIntosh, Dominion transportation officer, opened the case for the protesting interests, and filed as exhibits a number of documents showing that the proposed increase in express rates on less than carload lots run from 12 1/2 to 180 per cent. In car lots the advance in tariffs runs up to as high as in some instances 142 per cent. He made comparisons of American tariffs with those proposed rates, showing that the United States rate was very much lower. For instance, he pointed out, the rate from North Yakima to Winnipeg was $2.80, while from Kelowna to Winnipeg, a shorter haul by 354 miles, the proposed rate was $4.80. During the afternoon Mr. Winslow called many witnesses to support his brief. Among them were H. A. McNaughton, manager of the Gordon Head F.G.A.; Thos. Catherwood; C. E. Barnes of Wallachin, president of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association; B. McDonald of Kelowna; E. E. Doherty of Salmon Arm; E. W. Mutch of Penticton; J. L. Hillborn of Summerland, and J. A. Grant, Prairie Markets Commissioner.

Summerland shippers who attended the sitting of the commission were Messrs J. L. Hillborn, S. B. Snider, T. J. Garnett, and R.

Water Comptroller Wm. Young Resigns

Mr. William Young, who was appointed to the position of Comptroller of Water Rights six years ago, when that position was created by the McBride Government, has resigned. It was rumored that the Osoyoos lands undertaking had figured largely in the severance of his relations with the government and also that the revival of former irrigation matters in connection with the Okanagan was a factor. Mr. Young, however, has said that he is quite in accord with the Osoyoos land purchase, and that he retires to enter private practice in his profession as an engineer, and will open an office in Victoria. Mr. Young came to this province from the McGill University.

Will Ask For Vote on Soldiers' Memorial

Committee Failed to Agree On Any One Scheme

The citizens of Summerland will be asked to make their choice by vote from several soldier memorial propositions that have been advanced. The committee of fifteen appointed at a public meeting held in St. Stephen's Hall on February 5th has investigated the various propositions but was not able to agree on any one. At the adjourned meeting to be held next Wednesday evening the committee will bring in reports on five different propositions, and will suggest that signed ballots be cast by the citizens on the various propositions that have been advanced.

The committee met in the council chamber on Wednesday evening when reports from a number of sub-committees were received and considered. Mrs. Fosbery, in submitting the report of her sub-committee, said that in view of the fact that a new school building would have to be provided in the near future she personally favored the new school site as the place in which to erect a monument bearing the names of our fallen heroes. If the park is selected as the site she would eliminate the proposed clock tower. Her committee apparently was sympathetic to the park idea.

A public building in close proximity to the Bank of Montreal which would provide for a library, a reading room for adults, and a second reading room for children, and a men's club room, with an office for an attendant was proposed by the library sub-committee, of which Mrs. Bentley was chairman. The soldiers would be given life membership in this institution. An estimate of the cost of such a building was from seven to eight thousand dollars.

Speaking for the park committee Mr. R. H. Helmer presented a very full report together with a plan proposed for improving the park. (Continued on Page 6)

McTaggart Goes To B.C. Farmer

W. E. McTaggart, who only a few weeks ago returned from overseas, has become editor and manager of The British Columbia Farmer. Before leaving for overseas Mr. McTaggart was with The Grain Growers' Guide, of Winnipeg, the official organ of the organized farmers of the prairies, and previous to that was Fruit Markets Commissioner with the British Columbia Government. During that time he did much to further the marketing of British Columbia fruit on the prairie provinces. While connected with the government Mr. McTaggart established the Agricultural Journal, and fathered the departmental magazine through its early months. His wide knowledge of agricultural affairs, particularly in British Columbia, well fits him for the position he has taken.

Pollock. Mr. Pollock informs The Review that he considers the case for the shippers was very ably handled by Mr. Winslow, and that Mr. G. E. McIntosh was an able witness in the interests of the shippers.

Trustees Accept Resignation of Prin. Lees

Now Seeking a New Head for Summerland Consolidated Schools.

The resignation of Principal C. W. Lees, of the Summerland Consolidated Schools, was accepted at a special meeting of the school board held on Monday evening in the board room. The resignation is to take effect the last of March, and the secretary was instructed to advertise at once for applicants for the position.

Expressing regret that it had become necessary for him to enter such a complaint Mr. W. A. Caldwell protested against the alleged practice of discouraging certain pupils of the entrance class from attempting the entrance examinations. He had heard of similar complaints, and now his own boy had been told it was no use for him to try to pass. Mr. Caldwell thought the teacher should get behind such pupils and give them every assistance and encouragement, instead the boy was greatly discouraged by the prospects of failure. Chairman Gartrell informed Mr. Caldwell that similar complaints had been received, and he and other members of the board expressed surprise that the matter should again come up. Mr. Marshall stated that by discouraging the doubtful pupils the teacher was able to make a better record, and Mr. Caldwell contended that the board should not keep a teacher who had no ambition for that work, and urged that the principal's resignation be accepted.

In proposing that the resignation be accepted Mr. Marshall said there was only two courses open, one to accept and the other to require that the teacher remain until the end of the term. He was sorry for the pupils that the work should be interrupted, but if the teacher was forced to stay on it might be just as bad for them. Mr. Garnett thought it would not be good business to require him to stay, and seconded the motion accepting the resignation.

J. Tait asked if the letter from the principal had been answered, and was informed that it had not, Mr. Marshall explaining that the board had overlooked instructing the secretary to make reply. Mr. Tait expressed himself in favor of raising the principal's salary, provided he would take on more of the teaching and rearrange the work so as to save the salary of the additional teacher recently added to the staff and to leave the domestic science room free for the purpose for which it was intended. He said the new principal must be given to understand that he must take on more work. Mr. Tait thought it was very unfortunate that Principal Lees was resigning as he believed he was a good teacher.

After some further discussion in which the opinion was expressed by Mr. Marshall that it was impossible for any teacher to succeed in school work and carry on outside business, the motion was put to a vote, there being two votes for its acceptance, but no expression when nays were called for.

Mr. Marshall made the suggestion that in order to make up for lost time there should be no Easter vacation other than Good Friday and Easter Monday. No action was taken.

Mr. Tait, a new member on the board, made inquiry of the reference made in Principal Lees' letter to the director of manual training taking on outside work. He was informed that this had been put before the board last year and that the members who were then on the board were entirely satisfied with Mr. Baker and his work, and believed he was carrying out the conditions of his contract.

The Vernon city council has made arrangements to repurchase city debentures amounting to $20,000, due in 1931 and 1933. Payment is made in Victory Loan bonds, and will result in a saving of about $7,500.

FARMERS PAYING PENALTY.

HOW MUCH DO OUR FRUIT GROWERS lose every year because of the present condition of our roads? This would not be as hard a question to answer as it might appear nor the question: how much would our fruit growers and citizens generally be "in pocket" by a wise expenditure on road improvement? Until we have better roads the waste will continue to total a surprisingly large sum. Here is what a road engineer writing in Collier's Weekly says:

"Why, do you know, that the United States has been paying a penalty of more than $504,000,000 a year in the excessive cost of the transportation alone of our agricultural products from farm to market, simply because of its neglect of the highways? This estimate was made in 1914 by the joint committee on federal aid in the construction of post roads, Sixty-third Congress.

"At that time the gross tonnage estimated to be hauled over the highways for that year was 700,000,000. The cost of hauling over the average unimproved roads was about 21 cents per ton mile, and the cost over improved roads 13 cents per ton mile, making a saving of 8 cents per ton mile. The average haul was about 9 miles, making a gross saving on the transportation over improved roads of 72 cents per ton. This multiplied by the gross tonnage gives the $504,000,000 saving.

"At the present time it has been estimated that the quantity of goods hauled over the roads is something in excess of 1,000,000,000 tons, and that the saving effected by improved roads would be from $750,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 annually.

OUR ROADS.

THE PLAN PROPOSED at a recent meeting in Kelowna to provide a fund for road work in this district may perhaps be open to some criticism, but it at least indicates that public attention is very pointedly directed towards the necessity of bringing about an immediate betterment of conditions regarding our highways.

When the present Provincial Government went into office they were left a handsome legacy by their predecessors in the shape of good roads. The highways of the province were one of our chief assets, and were the subject of favorable comment from all visitors. The former Minister of Works had well won for himself the title of "Good Roads Taylor," and in every section of this district our avenues of traffic were in tip-top shape. But in these days compliments have given place to reproaches, and from one end of the country to the other complaints are heard regarding the state of disrepair into which our roads have fallen during the past two or three years. Appropriations for road work have been cut down to almost the vanishing point, and local superintendents have been at their wits' ends in their futile efforts to spread their thin allowances over areas that call for ten times the amount of money at their disposal. The government's plea that economy must be exercised in all departments is given as an excuse for this neglect of essential work, but it is received with scant patience by the suffering public.

Now that the question of providing employment for returned soldiers has become a burning issue, it is high time that the provincial authorities effected a change of policy in this matter. If necessary road work cannot be provided for from current revenue there is all the more force in the plan advanced at the Kelowna meeting. An easy solution of the problem would be in a loan to be floated by the province for this particular work, and with the experience of the Victory Bond campaign in sight, it might be worth while to consider the advisability of offering such debentures to the people of British Columbia.—Vernon News.

FOR THE KNOCKERS

THE IDAHO SPRINGS SIFTINGS-NEWS of recent issue contained an editorial which, especially the second and third paragraphs, is so applicable to the Okanagan towns in which The Review circulates, that we publish the editorial here in full:

"We do not say it with a desire to injure the feelings of any particular person in Idaho Springs, but we feel the majority of our people are agreed that there is a tendency on the part of a few here to find fault with every public proposition that is brought forward, to 'knock' every needed improvement. It is not only in Idaho Springs that this is true, for every town has one or more people of this class. But we are concerned with our own town solely, and we do not care how many knockers other towns have, we want to get rid of ours.

"As good a place to live in as we have here it could and would have been better if the knockers had not crept in. No man or set of men can hope to run the town to suit everybody, but we believe all of them who have any say in public matters are doing their best to make this a bigger and better town. They are apt to make mistakes. They wouldn't be human if they didn't. But the best way to help them prevent mistakes is to aid them when they are trying to aid you.

"If you see something about town that needs attention, don't go off saying 'The town officials are not doing their duty.' Call their attention to it and offer suggestions. Help them all you can, for you are helping yourself at the same time. We have a whole lot of room here for the man who boasts. But there isn't a foot of ground on which the knocker or fault-finder should find a welcome in this community."

DAYLIGHT SAVING is practically certain to be renewed for the coming season when parliament meets. When the plan was inaugurated last year considerable opposition was reported, farmers probably putting up the most serious opposition. An Ottawa report states that opposition this year is very slight, much less than before daylight saving was given a trial.

SOLDIERS AS TEACHERS.

RETURNED MEN are being encouraged by the Minister of Education for Alberta to become school teachers. Considerable success is apparently attending the plan, for although the announcement of the special conditions offered was made but a week before the opening of the present session of the Alberta Normal Schools, twelve men were enrolled. By the Alberta plan men returning from overseas are relieved of all fees while in training, are granted certain concessions in the matter of admission requirements, and receive from the government loans of money sufficient to enable them to complete courses at the Normal Schools.

Fraser River Route

Word has been received in Kamloops and Merritt to the effect that the Dominion Government has decided definitely in favor of the Thompson-Fraser river route for the building of the "connecting link" in the great Interprovincial Highway that has been under consideration for several years, and that work on the construction of this highway will be commenced this year. This is good news to Interior sections of British Columbia, and crowns with success the efforts of those hard-working men who have been giving much time and attention to this important matter. In this connection it is no more than just that the people of Merritt and the Nicola Valley should recognize the credit that is due to the untiring efforts of the members of the Kamloops Chamber of Commerce, who throughout the last year have given the question so much study and effort.

Horticulture Board To Be Reformed.

New Board to be Composed of Heads of Agricultural Departments.

Victoria.—A change in the organization of the provincial machinery for supervising horticulture in the Province of British Columbia is to be made in an amending act to be brought before the Legislature.

Under the old system a board was formed of prominent horticulturists representing different parts of the province, these members being nominated by the government. Since then the department of agriculture has acquired a large number of experts.

The new system will provide for a board of horticulture consisting of the skilled heads of the various departments. Provision will be made for an advisory board of horticulturists from the various districts, who will be empowered to make recommendations to the central horticultural board.

Coast Fruit Growers May Work With O.U.G.

That the fruit growers of the Chilliwack Valley should organize at once, then specialize their efforts according to the market demands and the nature of the soil, was the message of Mr Grant, Prairie Markets' Commissioner for B.C., at a "get-together" meeting held at Chilliwack last week. Amongst the visitors to the meeting were the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, and Mr Hood, representing the Okanagan United Growers. Mr Hood suggested that the growers of the Fraser Valley would make use of the Okanagan United Growers' selling organization, as good fruit always found a good market.

Says Local Merchants Have The Control.

Eastern mail order houses have obtained a killing grip on many western communities. Some of these unfortunate centres are to be found in this fair Okanagan. The situation is not a hopeless one, but it requires courage and perseverance on the part of those citizens of these communities upon whom the responsibility chiefly rests. A pioneer of this province who has an excellent grasp of the mercantile situation interestingly comments on this question as follows:

The eastern department stores are starting on their spring campaign. As they cannot for love or money get their advertisements in the country papers they resort exclusively to catalogues. They reach the people, and many of those people are buying goods ranging from baby socks to ice chests. Why is this business growing? It is not so much due to the claim that the goods can be purchased cheaper, for when all things are taken into consideration, quality, express, opportunity of seeing what you buy, and the benefits derived by the contributions made by the local merchant for the betterment of the community, and the further fact that your dollar never comes back, the advantage rests with the home-purchased goods. The question is an easy one. The department stores believe in advertising, not once in a while but all the time. They understand human nature, and fully realize that if they are to sell their goods they must let the people know about them. If every merchant in the country towns would give close attention to his advertising, following it up as he does the other departments in his store, the eastern department store would soon cease to be a menace to local trade. The successful merchant, as it has been demonstrated time and time again, is the advertising merchant, and the merchant who argues against the efficacy of advertising in these modern times is riding to a fall. There is advertising and advertising, just the same as there is merchandising and merchandising. We are talking of legitimate and intelligent advertising. The results of proper advertising are so apparent that argument seems superfluous. But, mind you, the advertiser gets the buyer, and the department stores of the east are chasing up the dollars of Western Canada this spring in a manner that is more energetic than ever before. It is up to the local merchant to protect himself.

EXPROPRIATION OF INDIAN RESERVES.

The Editor, Summerland Review. Dear Sir,

I would like to express my views on the question as it has been for time immemorial a wild cry from any member of the government or opposition who wishes to become famous, yet give no solution to the question.

Strange as it may seem, but nevertheless true, the Indians of the Province of British Columbia have never really signed away their rights to any of the lands of this province, and in any of our laws made for and provided the present reserves are only the Camping Grounds for the different tribes. So, therefore, to proceed, laws should be passed at once to clear the titles on the lands outside of the present Camping Grounds. Then pass another law granting a clear title of the Camping Grounds to the occupants. Then survey the Camping Grounds according to the fields. Then issue a clear title to everyone of the occupants for a home place for raising grain and other produce and a sufficient amount of range adjoining or separate to range their stock with water, according to the Chief Ranger's advice, as worked out in the State of Washington. Then let each and every owner or their heirs, to, for a price not less than one set by the government from the advice of the Indian Agent and Inspector of different locations. Half of the sale money going to the owner or their heirs and the other half held in trust by the government for a period of twenty years or until the party or parties become capable of self support. No taxes to be paid till then. The interest of the trust fund to be paid to the owner or his heirs twice a year. I understand at sell or rent their lands who wishes present some of the Reserves are too small to range their stock. This is a question for the Ranger to decide.

Though I would like to help all returned soldiers it does seem that the ones who formerly made their homes in the different localities should have the first consideration, and a great many of them have not yet returned. Though there seems to be lots of time we should not be found stalling, and a year from now still stalling as at present with nothing accomplished.

Yours truly,

WM. BRENT.

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr G. Keyes and Mrs G. B. Phillips with two of the children motored to Summerland on Wednesday of last week where Mrs Phillips is since visiting friends there. Mr Keyes returned the same day.

What is one's loss is often another's gain, and we are inclined to feel that, in regard to a good milk cow which left here on Wednesday of last week to take up its new home in Summerland, Mr S. H. Murdin sold one of the fine cows which he brought from Chilliwack some time ago, to Mr J. Campbell of Summerland.

An old timer in the person of Mr James Silver passed through town on Wednesday of last week on his way to Pentiction, where he had been called owing to the illness of his daughter, Mrs R. J. McDougall. It was a severe shock to him on arriving in Pentiction to find that the one he was hurrying to see had passed away during the afternoon of the same day. She had been ill only a very short time, and her death came as a great shock to her many friends not only in her home town, but as well here in Peachland where she spent a portion of her earlier life, where her bright sunny nature won for her many true friends. Her sorrowing husband has the deep sympathy of his many friends here, he having also made this his home town for a time.

Mr and Mrs Kitson of Harrogate, England, were visitors to town last week, and while here were guests at the Edgewater Inn. They left on Thursday morning's boat.

After spending a short time in Kelowna, Mrs C. Aitkens returned to her home here on Wednesday night of last week.

Mr Iverson, of Trepanier, returned home on Wednesday night of last week from Bear Creek, where he has been for some time cutting timber for the Kelowna saw mill.

Mr Douglas Henderson, at present residing in Summerland in the cottage of his father, Rev. A. Henderson, paid town a visit on Friday morning of last week renewing acquaintances of his former sojourn in our midst before signing up for service. We are pleased to see and hear Mr Henderson say that he has regained his usual health and physique. He also states that Arthur is in good form, but no definite word of his returning.

There was a meeting of the members of the Presbyterian Church held in the church on Thursday night of last week.

Mr and Mrs A. W. Miller were passengers to Kelowna on Friday of last week, returning the same evening.

Mr Nicholson of Victoria, B.C., spent a few days in town last week making an inspection of the light-house on Squally Point. The light has not been working satisfactorily of late, and while here Mr Nicholson was able to locate the trouble and arrange for the necessary repair.

Mr and Mrs G. Keyes, accompanied by Mrs L. D. and Mr H. E. McCall, motored to Pentiction on Friday of last week to attend the funeral of the late Mrs R. J. McDougall, which was held at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr R. E. Law and family were passengers to Pentiction on Friday night, where they went to visit Mr Law's brother Everett of the Pentiction Herald staff and his wife. The children returned on Monday morning to resume their school attendance, but Mr Law remained over a few days.

Passengers to Kelowna on Saturday last were Mrs Sanderson and Master Billy; Mrs A. Smalls; Francis Robinson and Mr R. J. Hogg, all returning in the evening.

Mrs Hendrickson, who has been in Pentiction for some time with her mother, arrived home on Saturday morning last. She reports her mother doing favorably. She returned to Pentiction on Monday night last.

Mrs N. S. Davidson of Trepanier is spending a short time in Pentiction visiting friends. She went down last Saturday night.

Passengers north on Monday morning were Mrs A. D. Ferguson and H. Miller. Mrs Ferguson to spend the day in Kelowna and Harold goes to the Coast to receive his final discharge. Of course he did not know how long he would be absent, but expected not less than two weeks.

Tom McLaughlin's smiling face is to be seen in town again and we are glad to learn that he has received his final discharge, even if he did have more or less trouble to get it without waiting too long for it. Since receiving his discharge he has spent a short time visiting across the line.

Mr J. E. Kerr arrived home from Pentiction by Monday morning's boat.

Mr S. H. Murdin and family are enjoying a visit from an old chum of Mr Murdin of former days on the prairie, in the person of Col. P. Bowen, who arrived on Monday night to spend a few days here. Col. Bowen has seen much service overseas and has also experienced a good share of suffering, having been badly gassed.

Mr and Mrs A. Town were passengers to Kelowna on Tuesday, returning in the evening.

The Ambulance League met on Tuesday afternoon, and we understand that this was a final meeting for the purpose of winding up all work possible and making arrangements for the sending in to headquarters of everything on hand. A ten-cent tea was served which brought in about $2.

Mrs Estabrook, Sr., was a passenger to Summerland on Tuesday night where she expects to remain for a few days before returning to Peachland.

The bank safe arrived on Tuesday night's boat, which looks like business in the bank prospects for Peachland. There has not been much progress in the matter of the fitting up of the building this week, owing to lack of confirmation of work to be done, but it will probably be hurried through now.

Engineer Groves is a visitor in town again this week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the school room of the Baptist Church on the 14th inst, forty-six members being present. The executive had planned a surprise for the members in the form of a Valentine tea. The room was prettily decorated with hearts and streamers, and the ladies of the executive wore white dresses with red heart-shaped aprons and caps. On entering each lady was presented with a Valentine to be pinned on, and within the two dainty red hearts was a clever witticism to be read in answer to the roll call. This caused much amusement for all. After the transaction of business a dainty lunch was served consisting of pineapple salad with bread and butter, coffee and heart-shaped cookies and cake. A hearty vote of thanks was rendered the ladies of the executive and the waitresses for their kindness in providing such an enjoyable afternoon. Owing to the increase of membership, Mrs R. E. Taylor was added to the directorate. A motion was carried at this meeting to the effect that the ladies of the institute give an Irish supper on the 17th of March, the proceeds to go to the Institute funds in the mean time, later to be used for the Memorial Fund if needed.

War to Peace

Make The Returning Soldier Welcome

THIS is an important hour for Canada. The nation is entering on a new era. It is passing from war to peace. Let us start this new era right. There are thousands of soldiers returning from overseas. The Government is doing all in its power to get these men back to civil life.

It is giving a War Service Gratuity—more than any other nation—to keep the soldier going till he gets a job.

It gives him a pension—where his usefulness is impaired by his service.

It teaches a man a new trade when his service unfits him for his former trade.

It gives him free medical treatment when illness recurs, and supplies free artificial limbs and surgical appliances.

It is bringing back to Canada at the public expense the soldiers' dependents now overseas.

But the Government, however willing, cannot provide the personal touch needed in this work of repatriation. That must be given by the people themselves.

The men who went from these parts to fight in Flanders deserve a real welcome home—the best we can give.

In most towns committees of citizens have already been organized to meet the soldiers and their dependents at the station, to provide hot meals, supply automobiles, afford temporary accommodation when necessary.

In addition, many other towns are organizing social gatherings to give public welcome to returned men after they have been home a few days.

The fighting job is done. It has cost many a heart-burning. But it has been well done. The least we can do is to show our appreciation in no uncertain manner.

Don't let the welcome die away with the cheers.

 showing location of obelisk, and a design for same, as well as a design for an imposing arched entrance to park grounds. A driveway, with accommodation for parking automobiles, which would require the construction of two bridges over the brook running through the park was also included. In the Peach Orchard park Summerland has a natural park the like of which could not be found anywhere between Sicamous and the International Boundary. It is municipal property, has a natural water supply, and is the site of the agricultural hall, which might well be used for community purposes. The park is equi-distant from town, West Summerland, and Jones Flat, and is equally convenient to Trout Creek, Frairie Valley, and Garnett Valley. The Summerland agricultural show is held there annually when the park is visited by people from other towns. It is used as a picnic ground, and if improved would be even more popular. It is a comfortable and convenient stopping place for motorists passing through. The soil is ideal for flowers and shrubbery. Detailed estimates of cost of the improvements were submitted. These included fencing, the total being $1,875, exclusive of the cost of the obelisk.

Noting that others of the committee favored other schemes, Mr. W. J. Robinson did not press the hospital idea. He expressed the hope that, as it would be difficult to agree on some of the other propositions, agreement might eventually be had on the hospital scheme.

Mr. G. J. C. White had given the purchase and remodelling of the gymnasium further study, and expressed himself as more strongly in favor of that scheme. Mr. Thos. Dale had offered to donate an acre of land adjoining the gymnasium property. On this a memorial stone with the names of Summerland comrades could be erected, and the grounds beautified with lawns and trees, and provided with seats and war trophies, and would be an attractive picture beside a much-travelled road. The building would be a place of recreation and reunion for soldiers and for public use as a gymnasium and for social reunions, an excellent assembly hall. With high ceilings, it has a good stage and a splendid floor, and could also accommodate the boy scouts. The building has shower baths and toilets and accommodation for a library, and a janitor could be added. The total cost he placed at $12,500. The building and lot costing $6,000, $5,000 of which could be spread over five years.

As chairman of the civic building sub-committee, Reeve Simpson said that neither he nor Coun. White approached this proposition with the idea of putting it above the others. The matter of cost was hard to ascertain. Such a building to be a suitable memorial would have to be large enough to provide for all possible future needs. In it should be a sufficiently large auditorium, provision for a municipal library, a municipal hall with offices and council chamber, and rest-rooms for men and women. It should be built of material of a permanent nature, and of imposing appearance. Such a building should be centrally located with grounds of sufficient acreage, with small park around it. The erection of such a building should not be undertaken unless at least $25,000 could be provided. The sub-committee would not urge this idea, but realized that the people appreciated the need of such a building.

After considerable discussion of the various schemes it became apparent to Chairman Kelley that the committee could not bring in any unanimous report. The choice might be left to the immediate relatives of the fallen, or a vote might be taken of those who were prepared to contribute, or a general vote of all the citizens. Mr. Kelley said he recognized a growing demand for a new building, and in case a building was decided upon for it, with the grounds and improvements $20,000 would probably be required. As the municipality will sooner or later have to provide for a new municipal building, a considerable proportion of the cost could be provided by the municipality.

Mr. Solly was of the opinion that if it was proposed to place a memorial in the park and put up a building on the flat both would be approved, but he did not favor the combining of the two.

Reeve Simpson then suggested adhering strictly to the monument, and then decide on a site. The library, gymnasium, or civic hall could be provided after. The people had bought the park with no idea of leaving it in its wild state.

Welcome The Boys

Tune—"Marching Through Georgia."
 Hark! the whistles, joyfully, proclaim our boys are near;
 Gallant lads who volunteered without a thought of fear;
 They who battled for our rights, and all that we hold dear,
 While we liv'd safely protected.

Refrain—Hurrah! Hurrah! the boys are home again,
 Hurrah! Hurrah! they did not fight in vain;
 Joyously we'll grasp the hands that ended Terror's reign,
 While we liv'd safely protected.

Far away in Flanders fields, the enemy they sought;
 Manfully they struggled on, courageously they fought;
 And, to the atrocious Huns, a bitter lesson taught.
 While we liv'd safely protected.

Refrain,
 Now, that they have come again, united let us stand,
 Giving each a welcome back, with cordial voice and hand;
 Showing that we highly prize the men who saved our land.
 While we liv'd safely protected.

Refrain.

EX. MILES.

The monument might be put there and the park improved.

It was finally agreed that the various propositions be reported upon, and that W. C. Kelley and R. E. White be a committee to take a vote of the citizens on the various memorial proposals.

Instead of our last regular meeting we met at the Gymnasium on last Friday at 4 o'clock and went up to Mr. Miller's on Mr. Young's truck. The roads were good and the weather not too cold, so that we had a good ride both ways. At Mr. Miller's, after supper, we spent a very pleasant evening with sleigh-riding and games. About 9 o'clock we started for home and reached town before ten. We are starting for Kelowna on Friday noon by boat. We will be back on Saturday evening and are taking three basketball teams.

"Style"

Summerland is emerging from the "village" condition to the rating of a country "Town"

Its population during the last two seasons has increased extensively, empty houses are scarce, and coming-building activity is everywhere in the air; furthermore, our inhabitants are in a sounder financial position than has prevailed for many seasons, real estate holdings, buildings, etc., have been cleared of debt, mortgages paid off and improvements made to our dwellings and to our fruit lots.

Every day our Soldiers are returning from Europe with their minds broadened, their viewpoint enlarged, and their ambitions quickened.

They have told the populace all the way from Vancouver to Flanders Fields about the wonderful fruit of the Okanagan, about its unequalled climate, its glorious scenery; they have described to sportsmen the big game hunting and fishing of our country in terms which will leave no rest to these gentlemen until they have seen for themselves, and they have not forgotten to remind their listeners that Summerland is at the "Apricot End" of the Valley, and if it is not the largest of its towns it is the Queen of them all.

What does our prosperity and the return of our Soldiers mean?

It means that we are going to experience an old time rush of incoming settlers, that our town will leave the "Prospect" for the "Reality" in less time than we perhaps realize. It means that "STYLE" is going to establish itself more noticeably in the character of our buildings and in our dress. Footwear of the Good Enough brand will fade away and good taste will govern the demand. We are aiming to carry a stock which will more and more have the essential elements of grace and refinement combined with comfort and endurance in such a manner as will make their price remarkably low in comparison. Each year we have aimed to make Mail Order trade for Footwear unprofitable to the residents of Summerland by straightforward competition, and each year the rapidly increasing number of our patrons and the increasing amount of each individual patron's trade with us testifies to our success.

We sell Footwear to people living many miles out of Summerland, and to people living in larger neighboring towns both north and south of us.

The success we have had in the past has made us determined this year to make Mail Order business part be sure to let us know and when you make up a Mail Order just omit footwear and visit us first. Small profits and quick returns, a high standard of quality, efficient and courteous service are what we aim to give. If we fail in part be sure to let us know and we will go to any trouble to adjust the case with you.

Making Careful Check of Plans For Increased Water Supply

Domestic Water for a Population of Five Thousand. Hours For Irrigation Service.

Council Preparing to Rush Work When Weather Permits.

Much of the time of the regular meeting of the municipal council on Monday was given over to a general review of the water situation, following the adoption of a resolution presented by Chairman Kirk of the water committee, which resolution was virtually a contract as between the council and the recently appointed engineer and superintendent, Mr A. W. Ellison.

Mr Kirk reported having seen Engineer Latimer and had obtained from him a promise to submit a quantity of data which he has regarding grades, etc., of flumes and ditches.

Another resolution from the chairman of the water committee outlined some of the most important work to be undertaken under the new superintendent.

A review was made of the report of Engineer Latimer on the plans prepared by former Superintendent Mitchell for the enlargement of the main ditches and flumes, the object of the council being to make absolutely sure that the new ditches, particularly that from the creek to the reservoir, will be of ample capacity to provide for the future needs of the district. During the discussion of this report Engineer Latimer was present, and he and Chairman Kirk were asked to ascertain the total acreage that will now and may in the future come under the Trout Creek system. With this area definitely known, and the council having agreed on the supply of water per acre to provide for maximum irrigation needs and domestic water for a possible population of 5,000, it will then be easy for the superintendent to ascertain if the 8-foot ditch will be ample for all requirements. It was suggested that the plans adopted last year were designed with the idea of a twenty-four hour service, while the opinion was expressed at Monday's meeting that the capacity should be such as to deliver the required volume of water in twelve hours. It was also pointed out that no specified provision had been made for a supply of domestic water.

Further progress was made at Monday's meeting toward having everything in readiness for rushing the work on the big mains immediately weather conditions permit.

Coun. Campbell was requested to look about for another horse to mate one now in the possession of the municipality. He also pointed out the economy that would result from the purchase of another wagon. In moving gravel he would have two or three wagons to each team, one being loaded at the pit, and another left beside the mixer to which the gravel could be shoveled direct from the wagon. Mr Campbell also suggested fitting up a circular saw outfit so that the work of sawing the posts, braces, sills, legs, etc., needed for flume work, could be done more quickly and cheaply. The cost of such an outfit will be ascertained.

Prospects Good For Building of New Cannery.

The building of a new cannery of large capacity here is now almost a certainty. During the past few weeks Summerland has been visited by several influential men interested in the canning industry, and the visit of a party of three, one a New York man and another from Toronto, is said to have practically resulted in a decision to put up a cannery here. The site has virtually been decided upon, and those citizens who have been endeavoring to get such an industry established here are expecting positive assurance at any time. We understand the company that will build and operate the cannery is closely related to the Dominion Cannery.

A pickle manufacturer has also been considering Summerland as a site for a vinegar and pickling plant, and from what can be learned the establishment of such a plant here is more than a probability.

Summerland Is Visited By Eminent Divine.

Rev. Colin Fletcher, D.D., Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, arrived here on Thursday evening to spend a few days at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs R. H. Agur. Dr. Fletcher, by virtue of his position and of his long connection with the church, is well known throughout Canada. He has held the one pastorate, that of the Thames Road Church, Toronto, for many years, succeeding a pastor who also occupied that pulpit for many years, namely, Rev. Mr. Logie, father of our municipal treasurer, Mr. J. L. Logie. Though all arrangements had been made to have Dr. White, representing the Methodist denomination, deliver the address at the Sunday morning service in St. Andrew's Church, Dr. White kindly gave way to the distinguished visitor, occupying but a short part of the service. Dr. Fletcher gave a very impressive and forceful address before a large audience. St. Andrew's Church members were delighted to have the opportunity of thus hearing the head of the church in Canada, as it is, no doubt, rather a unique experience for a church in a small community to be thus honored by a visit from the Moderator of the General Assembly. Dr. Fletcher preached at Pentecost on Sunday evening, and started his return east on Wednesday night.

Apples That Have Won Reputation.

Ex-Reeve Blair Gets Premium For His Newtowns.

Two carloads of particularly fine Yellow Newtowns are being shipped this week by Mr. Isaac Blair. These apples were taken directly from Mr. Blair's orchard to his large frost-proof storage and are now being packed for shipment, and have come out of storage in perfect condition. For several years Mr. Blair has put his Newtowns on the market in the spring, and this practice has apparently well repaid him for the extra expense entailed in storing. These two carloads are being shipped to a jobbing house in Calgary, a firm that has handled Mr. Blair's Newtowns on previous occasions.

In quoting Mr. Blair a price this firm said that, while they still have a very heavy stock, apples were selling rapidly, and they would be very glad to have Mr. Blair's apples and to handle them on a very small margin, as they are so very satisfactory to handle, there being neither kick nor come back. They stated that Mr. Blair's apples are now famous in Calgary, and that it is a big item for any house to have them, and that they would handle them on a margin of 15 cents a box rather than not get them. This firm offered Mr. Blair $3.50 for his fancy apples and $3.00 for No. 1's, stating at the same time that it is more than likely that they could pay 25 cents higher all round, as they knew by past experience that Mr. Blair's apples will sell 80 to 50 cents above the market price.

When, just previous to coming west, Mr. Blair, then well past the age of three score and ten, was married, an eastern paper stated that the bride and groom were coming west to grow up with the country. That paper probably spoke more truthfully than it thought for truly Mr. Blair has grown up with the fruit growing industry of this district and has kept in the forefront. The owner of one of the best and most successfully operated orchards in Summerland, Mr. Blair has always been among the most progressive, and has made fruit growing a success, and his orchard is now coming to that stage of bearing when it will have a reputation not only for quality of product but also for quantity of output.

A recent remark made to The Review by Mr. Blair is indicative of the intelligent methods he practices in fruit growing. It was when reference had been made to the large percentage of high quality apples produced in his orchard that Mr. Blair said that "apples will not grow without food any more than will pigs."

Naramata Puts Case Before The Government.

A delegation from the Naramata Farmers' Institute, an organization which comprises practically every fruit grower of the district, visited Victoria last week to ask the government to take some immediate and definite action that would relieve the Naramata fruit growers of the very unsatisfactory condition now prevailing with respect to storage and distribution of water. Capt. Languedoc, G. H. Partridge, and W. M. Armour were the delegates, but the answer they obtained from the Minister of Lands was far from satisfactory. Hon. T. D. Pattullo informed the delegation that the irrigation situation presented a question very difficult to solve. Therefore no definite answer could be returned for the time being as to the treatment of the company which is in possession of the system and which, presumably, would be dispossessed before further government funds are spent on improvements.

The deputation took advantage of their visit to the capital to interview Hon. Dr. McLean, Minister of Education, with the request that the old school house at Naramata, which has not been occupied since the building of the new and larger school, be turned over to the Farmers' Institute. The minister promised the delegation his answer within two months.

Japanese Gaining In Local Holdings.

Making Money And Would Extend Operations.

Not less than 240 acres of land under the Summerland irrigation system were operated by Japanese last year, and apparently with much success, as a number of the citizens of the Sunset Empire now resident here are making every effort to extend their operations. About 65 acres at Trout Creek Point were leased from two owners, and the next largest block was of about 35 acres on Siwash Flat, and was leased from a resident owner. Though these were the largest single blocks operated by the Japanese, most of the properties worked by them last year were owned by non-residents. Probably because of the strong public sentiment against selling or leasing to Asiatics, and because of the returning of our soldiers, which is expected to effect an improvement in the labor situation, there is a less disposition among residents to lease their land to Japanese, although at least three ten acre orchards have been leased by as many local owners for 1919. It is therefore to the non-resident owners that the Japanese are looking for the leasing of local lots, and they are showing considerable activity in their efforts to obtain control of land owned by non-residents. Three resident Japanese now own land here, two of them ten acres each, and the third five acres. One of these ten acre blocks was bought last year for $2,500, and it is stated that the new owner realized enough from his 1918 crop to pay the price of the land. We are informed that $7,000 cash was recently tendered the owner of a twenty acre meadow lot in Prairie Valley by a Japanese, and it is also reported that more than $300 per acre has been offered the owners on the Lakeside Stock and Dairy Farm. There are no fruit trees on either of these properties. It is very apparent that if this is to be a community settled by white people public sentiment must be further aroused and the holders of land made to realize the danger of discouraging further settlement by our own people through the permitting of more of our land coming under the control of Asiatics. The greatest danger lies in the fact that still much of our land is controlled by non-residents who are not so vitally concerned as are our own people, and it would appear that some effort should be made either to convince those non-residents of the injury they will do the district by thus selling or leasing, or to devise some effective method of operating these lots, or to find purchasers for them.

Public Meeting Favored Park As Site for Soldiers' Memorial

Reports of General Committee Received and Considered. New Permanent Committee Named.

Will Get Expression of Opinion From Every Citizen.

The park proposition for a soldiers' memorial received practically 50 per cent. of the ballots cast at the citizens' meeting held on Wednesday night to receive the report of the committee on the various memorial plans. Fifty-four of a total of 114 ballots favored the erection of a monument in the park and the putting of the park in fitting condition. Twenty-four favored a new civic building to comprise auditorium, library, reading rooms, billiard room, etc. Seventeen voted for a more modest building for library and kindred purposes. The purchasing of the college gymnasium, which plan took advantage of the offer of an acre of land adjoining the gymnasium from Mr. Thos. Dale, and the adding to the building and other changes to make of it a civic centre, was supported by 13 ballots. Three voted for a monument without naming a site; two for an addition to the hospital, and one for a new school building.

The general committee recommended that the public meeting should vote on all five of the propositions, using signed ballots. This suggestion was carried out with the results as stated above. St. Stephen's Hall was almost crowded, and a very keen interest was manifested throughout a rather lengthy discussion, participated in by a goodly number of citizens. The principal advocates of each plan were again heard, and further argument pro and con advanced.

Wednesday evening's meeting was an adjournment of the meeting held four weeks earlier, and Mr. W. C. Kelley again occupied the chair. Briefly referring to the work of the committee of fifteen appointed by the earlier meeting to investigate various memorial suggestions, Mr. Kelley stated that the committee had brought these into five different schemes, a library, a wing to the hospital, the improvement of the park and the erection of a monument, there, purchase of the gymnasium and the erection of a new civic building. Each of these ideas had been given to a sub-committee, and Mr. Kelley asked secretary F. A. Miller to read the reports of these sub-committees which had been received by the general committee. Reference has already been made in these columns

A new suggestion thrown out during this talk in support of the gymnasium plan came from Mr. G. J. C. White, who said that we might well erect a new school building, either public or technical. A suggestion was advanced by Mrs. E. B. May that in the event of the memorial being erected in the park a memorial service be held there once a year.

Some sensation was caused when the chairman was asked who was anxious to sell the gymnasium. This gave the opportunity to refute several current reports as to the ownership of the gymnasium. Both Mr. Kelley and Mr. G. J. C. White assured the meeting that there was no one in Summerland who had a particle of interest in the ownership of the building, it now being the property of a Kelowna company.

As a result of suggestions that the memorial scheme should make provision for returned soldiers, Mr. G. Thorner said if we are going to consider returned men then every rancher should employ white men only, preferably soldiers. This suggestion was supported by Mr. Hilborn, who said that during his stay at the Coast he had made the acquaintance of quite a number of excellent young men who have been taking short courses in agriculture since their return from overseas, and that many of these have their eyes on the Okanagan. Some of them are partially crippled, but are willing and enthusiastic. He had engaged two of them for his own ranch.

Two Cleveland tractors were received here yesterday by B. L. Hatfield. One of these he has already sold to Mr. C. C. Aikins, Naramata. Mr. Hatfield is also expecting a carload of McLaughlin cars at any time.

Advisory Board Demands Action.

Victoria, Feb. 24.—Some plain talking, which at times became almost heated, was indulged in at the sessions of the advisory board of Farmers' Institutes, which has been in session for the past few days. At one session the board had Premier Oliver in attendance to ask for an explanation of the delay in carrying into effect recommendations which were made last November dealing with agricultural conditions.

It was pointed out to both the Premier and Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, that the nine Institute districts had been led to expect action by the government in dealing with the many important problems now affecting the industry.

Mr. Barrow said the trouble was that his recommendations to the government for expenditures are not met. They are refused on plea of economy. The Premier, too, said it was the government's policy to keep outlays within revenue. The board members complained that the question of land settlement had been placed upon the shoulders of the agricultural department, and if that policy was to be met adequately, the requests of that department for finances must be met.

Not content with impressing their views upon the Premier and the Minister of Agriculture, the board also had before it the members of the agricultural committee of the Legislature, and urged them to force some action along the lines advocated by the Institutes. The committee promised steps would be taken to this end.

Another matter that was brought in following the suggestion that the park be cleaned up, and improved came from Mrs. Elsey, who described the present condition of the cemetery as a disgrace, and urged that something be done towards its beautification, or at least that it be made more respectable.

The meeting appointed a permanent committee of eight citizens, Messrs. Helmer, Kelley, G. J. C. White, Andrew, Simpson, Hilborn, and Solly, to proceed to obtain expressions of opinion from the rest of the citizens, including the returned soldiers, and to report at a later meeting to be called by the committee.

Proposes Change In Operation of Horticult'l Br.

Victoria.—Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, announced a proposed change in the method of operating the horticultural work of his department. In the past the field men have been under a highly-paid expert, spending a large portion of his time in the office at Victoria.

The minister now plans to provide two expert field men in control of the remainder of the staff, leaving all office routine to the secretary of the department.

One of the horticultural officers will have charge of the inspectors working west of the Cascades, having his headquarters in Victoria or Vancouver, while the other will have headquarters in Vernon, and will personally oversee the work of the inspectors east of the Cascades. The minister believes that with this change more efficiency will be obtained.

SCHOOL BOARD AND TEACHERS.

A CLOSER WORKING RELATION between the school board and the teaching staff of our public and high schools, more especially between trustees and principals, must be attained before there will be that smooth working which is essential to efficiency. If there were less of that spirit of employer and employee and more of the feeling of co-workers toward the attainment of a common desire, that of making our schools the best in the province, much of the difficulty in the way of attainment of that goal would be removed. Were the principals regularly and the other teachers occasionally asked to attend the regular meetings of the school board it would be found that their advice and co-operation would be to the general good, and there would be better understanding and less likelihood of friction.

CHILD WELFARE IN THE WEST.

CHILD WELFARE IS OCCUPYING a large share of attention in British Columbia and Alberta. Early in December there was held at Vancouver the first annual convention of the Child Welfare Association of British Columbia. The program included discussions on educational reforms, juvenile delinquency, child mortality, and diseases of children. Vocational training was urged in order that children might become helpful factors in the community. The schools of Vancouver were mentioned particularly on account of the special classes for the mentally backward children, and the association put itself on record as favoring institutions for the feeble-minded.

The Chief Diagnostician of the Juvenile Court of Seattle, Washington, addressed the association on juvenile delinquency and its dependence on the status of home training. A low ebb of parental responsibility results in juvenile delinquency. It was recommended that mothers' pensions should be established, because motherhood should be recognized as the highest service to the State.

In Alberta the study of Child Welfare is concerned with the preparation and serving of hot lunches to rural school children. The Department of Education for the province has issued a booklet containing a number of recipes and practical suggestions whereby the cold lunch will be wholly or partially abolished. It is estimated that more than three-fifths of the school children attending rural schools in Alberta are dependent on cold lunches, and that these are eaten at irregular intervals and under conditions not beneficial. The idea of the Department of Education is that trustees and teachers shall make it possible to serve at least one hot dish each day at noon; well balanced cold lunches are also suggested to mothers.

COMRADES ALL.

AS ALL CANADA EXPECTED, Saskatchewan grain growers have joined the Manitoba societies in a declaration in favor of maintaining the statutory war price of wheat for this year's crop. This is the first opportunity which the prairie farmer ever had to make large gain out of a protective system of artificial prices. It discloses the fact that the Middle West contains fine material to create under favorable conditions a good old-fashioned national policy community. Time was when Ohio and Illinois were truly rural, and quite hostile to legislation for the encouragement of national industries. They are now manufacturing states, and share the economic sentiment of Pennsylvania and New York. Some day the Canadian prairies will be the home of mixed communities with many interests, having a closer fellow feeling with the people east and west of them. We see now that they are men of like passions with other producers.—Vancouver Province.

Summerland Fruit Union.

To receive the Annual Financial Statements and Balance Sheet, and Directors' Report.

To elect Board of Directors for the ensuing year.

To consider such other matters as may be brought before the meeting.

T. G. BEAVIS, Secretary.

Sub-section 3, Section 110 "Agricultural Act," 1915: "No member shall be entitled to vote at any general meeting who has not sold his main crop or produce through the local association for the past year, or who has not signed a contract so to do during the ensuing year, unless he has received the consent of the local Board of Directors, in writing, to dispose of such crop or produce otherwise."

Voting by proxy allowed by 1917 Amendments.

LUNCH will be served at noon free to all members.

Mr J. T. MUTRIE, President, Mr WALTER J. McDOWALL, General Manager, and Mr C. L. LOWE, Sales Manager, of the Okanagan United Growers, are expected to attend.

A RESOLUTION demanding that the government fix the price for the 1919 wheat crop on the same basis as that of 1918 was passed by a large majority at the Grain Growers' convention in Regina last Friday. Probably if the same farmers had been asked to endorse a resolution from the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association requesting the government to continue in effect the legislation against the "dumping" of American fruit on the western Canadian market they would have refused to do so. At least, one would come to this conclusion judging from the reported attitude of the prairie grain grower towards the British Columbia orchardist. The fruit men of this province will put up no kick against the high price of flour and feed if the government considers it the part of wisdom to regulate the price of wheat in accordance with the grain growers' resolution. It is a pity that the prairie farmer cannot view in the same spirit the demands of the fruit growers of this province for those regulations necessary to the continuance of the fruit industry.

THE IRRIGATION SITUATION in parts of this Valley presents a question which Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, and his associates are finding very difficult to solve, according to the minister's own statement to a delegation from Naramata. This is a question that has been demanding attention for some years both as regards Naramata and Peachland, as well as in other parts of the Valley. The companies which developed these districts have continued to hold the irrigation systems, but their maintenance and operation have not been satisfactory to those who have purchased the land, and, beginning some years ago, frequent demands have been made upon the government to assist the land owners to acquire the existing systems and to increase storage facilities. Some move apparently was being made by the old government towards making a satisfactory settlement of the difficulty, but when the present government came into power everything pertaining to the question had to be laid before the new cabinet, and the Minister of Lands and some of his associates have made visits to this Valley and have heard many delegates and had the question put up to them many times. The answer given the Naramata delegation would indicate that the government has made no progress towards a satisfactory adjustment as between the owners of the irrigation systems and the water users. Surely the proposition is not of such magnitude as to defeat those who claim for themselves capacities to qualify them as heads of our government. To have the situation continue year after year is intolerable to the fruit grower, and almost equally unsatisfactory to the owners of the water systems.

THOSE WHO ARE INTERESTED in the way the women of Great Britain and Ireland would use their voting privileges have made some very interesting discoveries as a result of analyzing the election returns. For one thing women candidates fared badly which shows that, so far, women are not clannish to the extent of voting for their sex alone. On the other hand they seem to have voted with the men-folks or to have followed their own preferences.

In only three cases where there were women candidates did they receive more than one-third the total vote. The exceptions were: Mrs Despard, Miss Pankhurst, and Miss Macarthur. It is by no means likely that all the votes for these candidates were cast by women. Out of the 13,161 women voters registered in Manchester, Mrs Pethick Lawrence received but 2,985. Of the 14,861 women voters in Mansfield, Miss Markham received but 4,000. It looks very much as if reconstruction has already commenced in Great Britain, and that the women are doing their own thinking.

THAT A SURVEY OF THE LANDS of the province that can be irrigated should be made by the government and reservoirs provided where topographical conditions will permit is the expressed opinion of J. T. Robinson of Kamloops. While this plan is not a new one Mr Robinson puts it forward now as a practicable solution of the lands settlement problem of the province. He would also have the government furnish the necessary machinery and organization to clear lands for settlers at a cost that would be much less than the present method of slow grubbing by the farmer.

BEING ONE OF THE PATRIARCHS of the "fourth estate" we must accede to Editor F. E. Simpson, of the Kamloops Standard-Sentinel, more familiarly known as "Dad" Simpson, the right to comment as follows:

"With the teachers at the Coast striking, we may expect to hear of the lawyers, ministers, dentists, doctors, and editors going out on tentative suspension of professional duties. The ministers and editors are really next in line as they have no legislative protection. But the Lord and the devil look after their own."

Principal Lees Makes Reply

Principal C. W. Lees has written the school board a letter in his own defence against a charge made at the last meeting of the board, and a copy of the letter has been handed The Review with the request that it be published. Mr Lees thus states his side of the question:

While my resignation was placed in your hands with the fullest expectation and desire that it be accepted, and while I should have refused to entertain any suggestion that I continue longer in the employment of the Board, I do not propose to let Mr Caldwell get by with his untrue and malicious statements.

Since the first school day last September every member of my Entrance class has understood perfectly that he or she was to try the examination next June, and all have had the careful, patient instruction and encouragement that have produced the good results in the past. Any statement to the contrary designed to belittle my work is purely a fabrication and frame-up without the least foundation in fact.

However, Mr Caldwell may well be afraid that the boy will fail, but here is the reason: last year out of 197 school days his boy attended 97, and this year out of 85 days he has been at school only 44. Since he entered my room he has been at school just one out of every two school days.

What boy could be other than discouraged under these conditions, and what a fine type of parent Mr Caldwell is to seek to lay the blame at the door of the teacher!

The pity of it is that the boy is not dull, and could do well if he had half a chance. His father poses as a kind parent sufficiently interested in the education of his children to carry a protest before the School Board, yet he does his own boy, still under fourteen years of age, the greatest injustice and unkindness that a grasping father can perpetrate upon a helpless child. One is simply amazed that in a community like this such vicious practices should be permitted to go on unquestioned.

We have a compulsory school law in this province, and what Mr Caldwell should receive at the hands of the Board is not sympathetic applause but summary prosecution.

Now about this discouragement of pupils. It is singularly significant and a matter of no small amount of satisfaction to me that after four years' service as your Principal the worst count the tracers have against my work is a trumped-up charge that some time two, or possibly three, boys were discouraged from trying the Entrance examination, though strangely they omit the information that these boys were never in the Entrance class.

All teachers and persons who have interested themselves in educational matters know that there are pupils who, owing to natural limitations or the conditions under which their early education was carried on, cannot ever expect to pass the regular final examinations.

The three boys referred to were in this class.

Because of their size and age—one being sixteen when his classmates were eleven—I admitted them

Advocate Splitting Province In Two

That a separate province be created of all that part of British Columbia east of the Cascades was a resolution presented from Revelstoke at a meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern B.C. in convention at Revelstoke last Friday. The resolution was carried unanimously, but was laid over for one year.

The reason advanced in support of the resolution was that proper recognition for the Interior cannot be obtained from the Coast portion of the province which has the larger part of the population. Apparently the demand for the creation of a separate province was laid over for one year in the hope that the action of the associated boards in passing the resolution will have the effect of bringing the desired recognition. The associated boards further resolved that the C.P.R. lake and river service freight rates, which are considered excessive, be appealed to the Railway Commission.

Among other resolutions adopted were that it is in the best interests of the province that all undesirable aliens in the province be deported, and if Doukhobors are found to be violating Dominion enactments that they be dealt with as undesirable citizens.

The next convention will be held at Trail.

to my room. One might not be surprised to know that these boys were anxious to be away from school—and possibly the father of one could hear the jingle of the shekles that the lad might earn. In any case they quit school, and it is the measure of the parents' intelligence and integrity that they should attempt to blame the teacher for this fact.

Besides, none of these cases is less than two years old. They were legacies from the past, and at present we have practically no such cases in the school, which, I should say, speaks a good deal for the present efficiency of that institution. This is the third year that all pupils of the Entrance class who cared to, have been allowed to try without a question.

But the suggestion that three cases in four years should have any effect on the examination results is characteristically ridiculous. In the three years before I came to Summerland 28 passed the Entrance. In the four years since I came 51 have passed, which takes no account of the number trying. Further, the number passing since I took charge has been greater as compared with the enrolment of the school than ever before; and while our enrolment now does not greatly exceed that of 1915, the school has reached such a state of efficiency that I would have passed twice as many this year as in 1915.

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished
By Our Local Representative.

Mr Lorne Shaw paid town a visit for a few days last week, having come down from Bear Creek, where he has been employed by the Kelowna Saw Mill Co., in their lumber camp.

After spending a few days in Penticton visiting his brother Mr R. E. Law returned home on Wednesday morning of last week.

Mrs D. J. White and her daughter Mrs Hendrickson returned on Wednesday morning of last week from Penticton, expecting to remain home for a week or so before returning.

After having been away for a considerable spell during which time she had taken treatment at Penticton and also at Vancouver, Mrs H. McDougall returned to her home here somewhat improved in health.

Mr Nicholson of Victoria, who is employed by the government in connection with their lighthouses paid town another visit during the past week. While here he exchanged the old lamp which had been used in the lighthouse on Squally Point for a new one of considerably larger size and more brilliant lenses.

Mrs H. Williams paid Penticton a short visit last week, going down on Wednesday evening and returning on Friday morning.

The Peachland wharf was again a scene of excitement on Thursday of last week when another of our boys returned. This time it was Ben Gummow, who like most of the others was looking splendid, and right glad to be back.

Mr J. G. Robison, of the Union enjoyed a visit last week from a cousin of his from Vancouver in the person of Mr Watson, who was accompanied by Mrs Watkin of Vernon, Mrs Robison's sister. Mr Watson wore the colors, having spent some time in the camp at Vernon, while the men were stationed there.

Another soldier visiting town is Mr Spillman, who is one of Uncle Sam's men from California. He has been in the ambulance section. He is visiting here with his aunt, Mrs N. S. Elliott.

Mr Weaver, the piano tuner, spent a day in town last week.

Mr P. Bowen, who has been visiting Mr S. H. Murdin here, took the boat for Summerland on Friday night of last week where he visited over the week-end.

About twenty-five ladies met at the home of Mrs A. Town on Friday evening the 21st to shower Miss Olive Ferguson, who is to be married on Friday next in the Methodist Church here. A very pleasant evening was spent, and many useful and pretty gifts were received by the bride-to-be.

The high school scholars with their teacher, Miss Whitman, landed a little surprise party on Austin Hay on Friday night of last week, as he is shortly to leave town for Vancouver. A very pleasant evening was spent by all.

Passengers to Kelowna on Saturday of last week were Mr J. Wright, Mr W. J., and James Moore, all returning in the evening.

Mr James Hay, who has for some time now been looking after the interests of the Dominion Glazed Cement Pipe Co., at their plant here, left on Saturday last for Vancouver. The company have decided not to keep a man here permanently on the job, and we regret very much that this means a loss of good citizens, as Mr Hay moves back to the Coast. Mrs Hay and Austin expect to follow after a short time. Mr A. H. Cutbill is receiving and discharging orders for the company.

After spending several days in the community going over the irrigation water system, Mr Groves left on Saturday night last.

These lads arrived on Monday night's boat, when they were welcomed by the reception committee and many other friends.

Miss Ilvya and Earl Murdin were passengers for Summerland on Monday night last to visit there for a couple of days.

Peachland's Plan For a Memorial.

The civic meeting which had been called for Saturday last was, we are sorry to report, a poorly attended meeting. However, interest was not lacking. The meeting had been called for the purpose of discussing the report of the memorial committee. Mr A. Town read the report of the committee, which stated that they had decided to recommend to the public that the memorial take the form of a monument. In conclusion, Mr Town moved the adoption of the report, which was seconded by Mr Oct. Pope. A lengthy discussion followed in which quite a number took part. There seemed to be a division of opinion, and Mr J. A. Rowland made a motion to the effect that the matter be deferred until such time as the committee could bring in another report as to the site of the proposed monument. This amendment was seconded by H. E. McCall. The amendment, however, was turned down, and when the first motion was put it carried with quite a majority. On motion by Mr J. A. Rowland, seconded by Dr Buchanan, the meeting referred to the committee the question of site for the monument and this matter will be discussed further when the committee make their report.

Mr A. J. MacKenzie, chairman of the reconstruction committee, read four resolutions which the committee had drawn up to submit to the meeting for their approval. One of these was in connection with the proposed transcontinental highway, and another with the B.C. trunk roads. In connection with both of these resolutions soldier labor was to be the consideration as far as possible. The third resolution was that the income tax be kept on and enforced, and the fourth that some of the special war taxes be removed. As the meeting had continued to a late hour in the afternoon these resolutions were only partially discussed, and deferred to a later meeting.

While the public were assembled the chairman, Mr R. J. Hogg, took the opportunity of bringing before the people a communication which he had received from the Kelowna Auto and Good Roads Association. After a short discussion, on motion by Mr A. J. MacKenzie, seconded by Dr Buchanan, a resolution was passed as follows:—That the meeting fully endorses the scheme as outlined by the Kelowna Auto and Good Roads Association for the improvement of the main roads throughout the Okanagan. And that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to the secretary of the said association.

To Solve Canada's Employment Problem

EVERYONE in Canada should understand just what the Government is doing to solve the unemployment problems that may arise through the demobilization of our fighting forces.

- (1) Employment Offices.
So that everyone—male or female, soldier or civilian—can get quickly such jobs as are available the Government is co-operating with the Provinces in establishing a chain of Public Employment Offices. Employers are being urged to make use of these offices to secure any help they need. Farmers, for example, who need hired men should apply to the nearest office. There will be a Public Employment Office in every town of 10,000 people—and wherever the need for one exists. There will be 60 different offices in all—one-half are already in operation.
- (2) Employment Opportunities.
The war held up much work that will now be carried on at once. Public works, shipbuilding, roadbuilding, railway work—construction of bridges, improvement of road-bed, making of new equipment—these will provide new opportunities for employment. In addition, the Government has sent a Trade Mission overseas to secure for Canada a share in the business of providing materials and products required for reconstruction work in Europe. It has also set aside the large sum of $25,000,000 to be loaned through the Provinces to encourage the building of workmen's houses. This will mean much new work in the spring.
- (3) Land and Loans for Soldiers.
To help soldiers become farmers the Government has developed a programme that includes the providing of land, the granting of loans, and the training and supervision of those inexperienced in farming. At present, the soldier is granted, free, in addition to his ordinary homestead right, one quarter-section of Dominion lands. He also receives a loan up to the maximum of $2,500.

These original plans are now being broadened. If Parliament passes the new proposals during this session, the Soldier Settlement Board will be able to buy suitable land and re-sell it to the soldier at cost.

Land up to the value of $5,000 may be bought by this plan—the money to be repaid in 20 years. The low interest rate of 5 per cent. will be charged. These new proposals will also permit the Soldier Settlement Board to loan the soldier-farmer up to $2,500 for purchasing equipment, etc., in addition to $5,000 loan on his farm.

Editor, Review.
Sir:

What shall be the form of our memorial for the soldiers in the war? Is not the best thing in the way of a visible symbol of our consecration of their achievements something that shall express the ideal of human service for which so many died and suffered?

Would not a community building of some kind to serve as a centre of community service and expression be a fitting memorial of the soldiers? The war is for democracy and democracy should have a home. Such a memorial would fittingly commemorate our soldiers by serving as an instrument for the continuance of that enhanced spirit of public service which has been and will continue to be the great compensating gift of the war.

A Memorial Hall to serve as a community centre is not only a remembrance of our dead comrades and the issue of the great war, but also an altar of service to the living. Such a hall, standing for commemoration, must meet real, and not fanciful, needs. It could include the preservation of names, memorabilia, relics of the war, trophies, flags, and other physical records of the tragic and glorious conflict, in other words, a Hall of Fame. It must serve community interests to the full, and class or sectarian aims must never intrude. These interests include social functions for our returned soldiers, and our citizens, the symbol of Summerland's hospitality—a light on the altar which shall never go out; lecture courses and popular education programs; public forum for discussion of all questions affecting the public welfare; community recreation work for old and young; provision for art movements such as community singing and theatre programs; exhibition of pictures and statuary which we can obtain from the larger centres; a library equipped with a range of books that will meet the needs of all; and generally a community HOME where all citizens may meet and fraternize in perfect equality. Surely all these phases are essential in the real development of our community as expressing the true spirit of democracy.

Some advance the idea that the memorial must be confined solely to the memory of the dead, and must not be tainted by utilitarianism as it would be, they say, if it went further than within this limit. While there are arguments of dignity and worth in this viewpoint, is it as broad as we want? Surely the day has passed when a memorial is to be rejected as such because it embraces the useful. Archaic symbols can never take the place of living, pulsating expressions of gratitude—work, rest, recreation, thus extending family ideals.

Personal and community enthusiasm are essential in ever increasing quality and quantity to develop our best selves and community ideals. Nothing will contribute more to these ends than the frequent human contact with each other in a community centre.

If our fallen comrades of sacred memory could express their wishes on this subject to us, here and now, would they not urge—that while we reverence and appreciate their heroic deeds and sacrifice—that we make our memorial emphasize service to the spiritual, mental, moral, physical, and social needs of their and our returned comrades, and of all citizens?

May I impress on our citizens that this subject is not a light one, but of serious importance to us, if we will but consider it in its true perspective. Everyone should bear his and her part, if our results are to be worthy of the end we have before us, now, and for the years to come. Let us enlarge our visions, and thus our aim, and by joint effort we can achieve a result that will be in a light measure worthy of our splendid soldiers, and of the message and spirit of their sacrifice for us, and generations to come.

W. C. KELLEY.

The Editor,
Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

May I have the favor of using your space to express my opinion about some of the points which were discussed in Wednesday's meeting regarding a memorial for our soldiers. One of the speakers appeared to take the stand that all were in favor of a monument. Although we all want a memorial we do not all want a monument. In my opinion our community is as yet far too small to be classed in the monument set. No municipality or person can afford to spend on a monument what they can spend on a public utility, a utility of a kind that if we are to hold our own in the matter of education and standard of living with a progressive world becomes at once a necessity. Libraries are recognized as potent educational factors, and what is more important, powerful agents in reformation work. Our provincial authorities are offering financial aid to small communities in this matter, and their offer should not be despised.

During the time I was at Victoria I had opportunity in the capacity of my military service with the Y.M.C.A. to talk on several occasions with the manager of the Victoria Public Library. A system was explained to me whereby the remotest country resident through the medium of rural libraries, whose stock was frequently changed and each change to include books of any description by the special request of individual rural branch members, would have access to the literature of the whole world for reference purposes, philosophical study, or amusement. One of the drawbacks of country life is the lack of public institutions that are common in the cities. The people of the country need the literature of the world more by a long way than do the people of the cities, and this memorial occasion offers the golden opportunity to the people of Summerland to obtain that literature. The cost of a library building and its operation have been the main objections raised.

Our municipality badly needs new premises, and have offered to help towards a building which would embody a library and have a corner stone or entrance architecture, showing the names of our fallen heroes and the memorial object of the building's inception. This building has been estimated to cost from $25,000 to $30,000, but why? Would not a building of the size and quality of the Summerland Bank of Montreal be a vast improvement over the municipal buildings which have sufficed for our requirements for years past, and may have to for years to come unless live steps are taken to change matters?

The bank building cost $13,800, including fences and outbuildings, inclusive of the lot, (our municipality owns plenty of land). Would not a building of this type furnish room for a reading room and lending library attended by municipal office staff, with the permission of the council, without serious operating cost?

The vote taken on Wednesday night struck me as being very unfair on account of the building issue being separated from the library issue, whereas the bulk of those who voted "building" included a library in that building. This gave the library project only 17 votes against the park 55 votes, whereas if the municipal building, including library, had been put as one issue it would have received 41 votes in the meeting and whatever support it can get outside of the meeting.

I hope, Mr Editor, that the new committee appointed will correct this unfair situation, so that those of us who favor a library and municipal building embodying such, if defeated will be fairly beaten, and can more heartily support the victorious cause.

Thanking you for the use of your paper.

Yours, etc.,
A. J. BEER.

"What Phonograph Shall I Buy?"

How many times, when the subject of purchasing a phonograph or talking machine has come up, have you asked yourself this question!

The Edison tone test answers it for you, completely, convincingly.

Over two million music lovers have been present when this test was being made; and they have realized, as you will realize, that the New Edison alone can actually re-create the human voice and the music of human-played instruments.

It is all-important that you hear

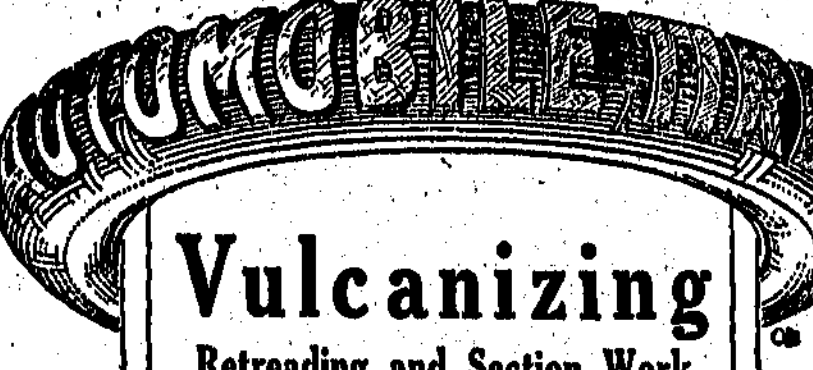

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

because it is the only instrument that re-creates the singer's voice so faithfully that the human ear cannot distinguish the rendition of the artist from that of the New Edison.

The wise way to choose your phonograph is to have the several makes of phonographs and talking machines sent to your home on trial, where you can make direct comparisons among them, and then decide which one you would like to keep—which one you think you would enjoy hearing as much five years from now as you do to-day.

Be your own salesman. Sell a phonograph to yourself. We will gladly send a New Edison to your home for the purpose, without obligation on your part.
