Cancer Mortality: It Can Be Checked.

More Intensive Study Required To Permit Early and Accurate Diagnosis and Treatment.

"Once qualify your doctors to diagnose quickly and then properly to treat these cancer cases, and a considerable part of the battle is won."

Thus does Herbert Snow, M.D., in the September number of "The Nineteenth Century," definitely state the chief necessity in the campaign to overcome the annually increasing mortality from cancer.

The exciting causes of every kind of cancer have long been recognized by every practitioner of experience who has had occasion to specialize in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

There are ten known primary species of cancer, with twenty secondary varieties, and it is essential that a proper recognition of this fact precede any authoritative pronouncement on the causes which operate to induce and multiply the number of cases of this malady.

Mr. Snow, in his summary of reasons why cancer is everywhere increasing throughout the civilized world, emphasizes the fact that present day conditions of living are a largely contributing factor—the system is perturbed and distorted by nervous causes: trouble, anxiety, worry and general wear and tear.

The malady is more general among women than among men, while all ranks of society are included. "One of the best preventives, therefore, is the cultivation of a spirit of cheerfulness and of greater equanimity—to overcome the temptation to yield to small and passing worries."

There is evidently nothing that will eradicate a true cancerous growth but the surgeon's knife of the cautery, in one form or another. Nature will occasionally hold it in check, sometimes assisted by proper medical treatment.

What is undoubtedly the first essential, however, in confining and reducing the affection of such large numbers by the cancer malady is a greater recognition of the fact that more attention must be devoted to the better qualification of our medical and surgical practitioners for the early diagnosis and treatment of the disease.

In his sermon on Sunday morning the Rev. H. A. Solly criticized the growing tendency on the part of storekeepers to extend Saturday night shopping hours to unreasonable limits, and asked how the modern agitation for an eight hour day fitted in with the fifteen hour Saturday seen in Summerland stores.

MAJ.-GEN. SIR JOCELYN PERCY AND FAMILY HERE.

On Tuesday evening Sir Jocelyn and Lady Percy, with Miss and Master Percy, reached Summerland. They are guests at the Hotel Summerland.

TO MAKE CANADIAN FRUIT MORE POPULAR IN BRITISH ISLES.

As a means of popularizing Canadian fruits in Britain, the proposal has been made that a "Canadian Fruit Week" be held next year, according to a report of J. F. Smith, fruit trade commissioner, to the Department of Trade and Commerce from London.

Reporting generally on the condition of the apple market in Great Britain, Mr. Smith remarks that a large part of the consuming public could not afford apples at 14 to 20 cents a pound, the price prevailing. Under Government control, the Government practically certifies to the consumer that 10 pence a pound is a fair price, and retailers are charging that figure, though in some cases the profit runs as high as 90 per cent.

Mr. P. Hauck has opened a shoe repair shop on Shaughnessy Ave.

Mrs. Roe of Portage la Prairie is visiting her mother Mrs. Morrison for a short time.

Persons requiring ice in large or small quantities can obtain same from P. S. Roe, Phone 13.

Mr. J. H. Bowering has received notice from Ottawa to the effect that the leave of absence asked for has been granted.

Mr. G. Noble returned this morning from Vancouver, having been in the General Hospital there. He is making good recovery from a major operation.

A number of proof sheets of a wide range of advertising cuts have been received at this office, and we are in a position to obtain these cuts for our advertisers at right prices.

There will be no scarcity of nitrate of soda for local application, over 100 tons having been recently delivered to the Fruit Union and other Summerland buyers.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hodge, of Reva, S. Dakota, reached Summerland last night. It is their intention to make their home here.

Messrs. J. G. Hungerford and Chas. Kerr, inspectors for the Bank of Montreal, were visitors to Summerland this week. Mr. Kerr spent as much time as he could spare with his parents and relatives here.

Pleading guilty before Judge Brown, D. E. Delga and Jas. Hurst of Okanagan Falls were sentenced to 16 months each with hard labor. The charge was one of theft from the Kaledon Hotel building.

Negotiations in connection with the North Naramata property of the Okanagan Securities Co. are pending which, if successfully concluded will mean the development of that section of the east side of the benches.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Ross of Grand Forks, Wash. arrived here last Sunday with the intention of taking up residence here. They are at present the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cowan, also new citizens and recent purchasers of the Davidson property east of Giant's Head.

Mrs. W. A. Taylor of Kelowna, arrived here with her son on Tuesday, and is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Mann, Peach Orchard. We understand that Mr. Taylor is a jam manufacturer at Winnipeg, and that it is possible he may establish a factory in Summerland.

Separation of town and bench is being advocated in Pentiction. As here, the whole district is under one corporation. It would seem that the people on the fruit lots have the opinion that they are paying too much towards town improvements while the town people feel that they are at undue expense for the irrigation system and extending electric light and domestic water to scattered homes in the rural section.

SUMMERLAND AND NARAMATA DELEGATES AT WOMEN'S INSTITUTES CONVENTION.

A feature of an afternoon session of the Convention of Women's Institutes held last week in Pentiction, was the reading of an interesting paper by Dr. F. W. Andrew on "Inspection of the School Child."

On Friday morning Mrs. M. B. Smith of Naramata delivered a paper on the drying and evaporating of fruits, a subject which proved exceedingly attractive, and gave rise to much questioning and discussion.

FAST GAME WON BY SUMMERLAND.

The basketball game played at the Gym. last Saturday evening resulted in a score of 13-6 in favor of the local team, which held the lead practically all the time after the first few minutes. The play was closer than the score would seem to indicate, hard checking being in evidence throughout.

The industrial development of any nation, under the conditions of the modern world, calls for an ever-increasing number of men highly-trained in the principles of science and with the ability of applying their knowledge to the industrial needs of the community. The war has strongly impressed this fact upon the thinking people of the English-speaking world, since it is now quite clear that one of the chief sources of Germany's strength lay in the large number of men thoroughly equipped in all branches of scientific work who had been trained in the science schools of that country and whose services were immediately available both for the development of the arts and industries in times of peace, and for the active and efficient prosecution of war upon the outbreak of hostilities.

The Faculty of Applied Science of McGill University was the first school in the Dominion founded for the express purpose of educating such men, and it has, since its foundation, trained an ever increasing number, who, upon leaving the University, have passed out into the industrial life of Canada and have been a potent force in the progress and development of the Dominion. The growth of the Faculty is well seen in the number of students in attendance each year. The figures show that the number rose rapidly from 29 in the year 1878, to 595 in the year 1918. Upon the declaration of war, the students began to enlist at once, and by the year 1917 the attendance had fallen to 176, consisting for the most part of men under age of military unfit. With the cessation of hostilities, the students began to return as soon as they were demobilized, and in the session of 1919, the number in attendance in this Faculty had risen to 643, the largest number in the history of the University. The number of men who had completed their training and graduated from this Faculty up to the close of the session 1919-1920 reached a total of 1,313. The number of graduates, undergraduates and former students of the Faculty who enlisted in the Great War was 1,042. Of these, 178 were killed, and a very large number were wounded. The proportion of casualties was high, for the men enlisted in the most dangerous arms of the service. 107 received Military Decorations or were mentioned in despatches.

The Faculty of Applied Science provides courses of training in six separate branches of Applied Science, namely, Civil, Mechanical, Electrical, Chemical, Mining and Metallurgical Engineering. There is also the course in Architecture. The teaching staff numbers 76, and the Faculty has from the first made a special point of the maintenance of the highest standard of efficiency in all its work.

The courses of study in all the branches of Engineering extend over a period of four years, while that in Architecture is a five-years course. In the summer vacation about 86 per cent. of the students secure work in survey parties, engineering offices, factories or industrial works, and thus gain valuable practical experience, which supplements the work of the academic session. In this way nearly every student, upon his graduation, has had four years of academic training, and three summers in the practical work of his profession, and has thus laid a sound foundation of knowledge in the principles of the practice of the profession which he has selected as his life's work. Students come to the Faculty not only from all parts of the Dominion, but from all corners of the world.

A number of other colleges and seats of learning in various parts of the Dominion, work in affiliation with this McGill Faculty. Among these may be mentioned Acadia, Mount Allison and Alberta Universities, the University of St. Francis Xavier's College, the Royal Military College and the Royal Naval College. Arrangements have been made by which graduates of the Mechanical Science Course in the University of Cambridge in England are admitted to advanced standing in the Faculty of Applied Science of McGill University. Students completing their course in these Institutions may enter the Second, Third or Fourth Years at McGill, as the case may be.

The work of the Faculty is carried on in the Macdonald Engineering Building, with attached workshop laboratories, as well as in the Macdonald Chemistry and Mining and the Macdonald Physics Buildings. These buildings are greatly overcrowded, and increased accommodation is now absolutely necessary, not only for the purposes of undergraduate instruction, but for advanced instruction and research.

There has thus, throughout the years, gone forth from McGill a great body of young men with a sound training in science, who, having joined the staff of great engineering works in Canada, of our industries and of the scientific branches of the Government Departments, have been, and are now, a most important factor in the growth and development of the Dominion.

Of this number many have risen to occupy positions of great importance and responsibility, and have become the leaders in their respective industries and professions.

A few of the great engineering enterprises which have been carried out chiefly by McGill graduates may be mentioned.

Going back some years, there is the Canadian Niagara Power Company's Hydro-Electric Development of 100,000 horse power at Niagara Falls in 1904, the City of Winnipeg Hydro-Electric Development of 150,000 horse power at Point du Bois in 1907, and the great irrigation development scheme of the Canadian Pacific Railway, by which one and a half million acres of land in the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan have been, or are being, brought under cultivation.

The Telephone System of Canada has been developed largely by McGill men; the great engineering works which are being carried out at the harbour of Halifax, are largely the work of engineers trained at McGill.

The engineering staff of the Shawinigan Engineering Company, which is responsible for the maintenance and development of the work of the Shawinigan Water and Power Company, and of all its subsidiary companies which are grouped about the great power centre at Shawinigan Falls, is composed largely of McGill graduates.

A few years since a McGill man was at the head of nearly every large smelter in the United States, and in Canada at the present time the management of two of our three great companies which smelt practically all the nickel which is produced in the world, is in the hands of McGill graduates, as are also many of their staff. The president of one of these companies has recently stated, that while his Company was engaged in operating large metallurgical and chemical plants in many different countries, in none of these was the work carried on so efficiently and satisfactorily as in his Canadian plant, which was staffed exclusively by graduates of McGill.

It may be added that it is not only in the field of actual practice that McGill engineers have been pre-eminent, but that they also occupy a prominent place in the training of the engineers of the future, as shown by the fact that at the present time the professors of Civil Engineering in every university in Canada are graduates of McGill University.

It is to the Universities that the Dominion must look for the development of its higher life, and of these McGill University is certainly contributing, in all its Faculties, its full share to the upbuilding of our Dominion.

FINDING FAULT.

Nothing is easier than fault finding, and nothing is more barren of good results. Constructive criticism is useful, since it points out defects and suggests remedies, but the habit of mind which is always ready to note real or fancied blemishes, and to draw general attention to them, is one which as a rule accomplishes little beyond the creation of a feeling of ill-will. There is nothing on this earth without a blemish, and the true philosophy is that which is willing to make the best of everything. The criticism which has lately been directed against certain matters connected with the Open Forum, and which has used the Review as a channel of expression, might very well have been voiced in the Forum itself, since that institution is professedly a place for discussion, and suggestions are presumably always in order at its meetings. The inevitable result of more or less satirical public comment, such as we have lately seen, will be the impossibility of securing speakers, and that will mean the end of the project.

Less criticism and more co-operation should be the future policy.

WASTE OF MONEY.

The main feature of interest to the public in the recent by-election is the fact that an entirely unnecessary loss of time and money was involved. The Hon. John Oliver was perfectly well aware that he could not sit in two seats in the legislature, and his candidature in two constituencies at once does not appear to be justifiable. Election costs in every case have to be paid by the people, and the incurring of a by-election which might, and should have been avoided, does not speak well for the Premier's standard of economy where public money is concerned.

It is admitted that the practice of a dual candidature is one frequently adopted, and is by no means confined to members of one political party. But the fact remains that it is a source of considerable expense, and is a custom which is more honored in the breach than in the observance.

"CLEAN SPORT."

The paragraph referred to in the letter by "Euclyptis" was editorial comment, and conveyed no insinuations whatever. The editor of this paper does not make insinuations, nor does he write without knowledge of facts. It was admitted to us by a member of the Naramata executive, that one, at least, of the visiting players had been drinking, and that admission is in itself a justification for our comments on the matter. The fact of a player or players being under the influence of liquor during a game, constitutes an affront to the spectators, and we feel confident that public opinion in Naramata is not in favor of such conditions.

EAT MORE FISH.

Canada, with the largest fisheries in the world, consumes 19 lbs. of fish per capita yearly. Great Britain consumes 58 lbs. There seems to be a great discrepancy here, which is doubtless partly accounted for by the fact that the distribution of this valuable food is much easier of accomplishment in the old country than in the long distances of the Dominion. But it should be remembered that the greater the demand the easier the transportation obstacle would be overcome.

A comparison of the food values of certain species of fish as against those of meat, is rather surprising. Taking the average percentage of protein in beef, veal and mutton as 14.5, we find that boneless cod, which heads the list, contains 26.3, salmon coming next with 21.8, with canned tuna or tunny fish almost abreast with a record of 21.7. The toothsome halibut, smoked or dried, gives 15.8, while the despised pollock is close up with 15.4. It is a curious fact that recently this latter fish has been marketed and freely bought as Boston blue fish, while under its own name it is neglected. Herring, pickered and mackerel are all around a percentage of 11 or 12, and, bearing in mind the difference in price between these and the average cut of beef, it is easy to see the comparative cheapness of the former.

February 9 has been set aside as a National Fish Day, with the idea of drawing public attention to the widespread neglect of a food which can be obtained in unlimited quantities.

WORLD SHORTAGE OF MEATS.

It is estimated that the world requires fifty billion pounds of meat annually and that while the population increased by 35,000,000 (that is from 510,000,000 to 545,000,000) between 1901 and 1914, cattle, sheep and hogs combined only increased 40 millions (that is from 1,065,000,000 to 1,105,000,000). This of course indicates that there is not only a shortage of meats in the world now, but that as the years go by it must become greater and greater. Dealing with this subject in an illuminative article in the December number of The Agricultural Gazette of Canada, Mr. P. E. Light, chief of the Markets Intelligence Division, Ottawa, points out that general economic progress as well as the increase of human population and the status of living in the consuming world, makes fresh demands upon available lands and tends to bring about a relative decline in the amount of animal produce. This decline must be offset by an extension in live stock production sufficient to meet in-

Mr. Beaver—Dam and Empire Builder

Anyone who first gazes on the shield of the Canadian Pacific Railway is struck with the flap tailed little animal sitting in the foreground. This is no less than Mr. Beaver, the chap who started out to build a dam and built up the Dominion of Canada in addition for good measure. Columbus did not seek pelts when he discovered America. Others came to find China, but when Cathay did not prove to be around the corner and the Iroquois signed the baptismal certificate with the end of his tomahawk the St. Lawrence would probably have been abandoned but for its upper reaches which yammered and screeched with beavers. The French founded Montreal with bell, book and beaver skin—the original name of the city was Hochelaga, which means "Beaver Meadow." B'r'er Beaver even became the medium of exchange, even as tobacco in the early days of Virginia, and no Indian could buy the coveted gun or the necklace his Minnehaha longed for without the precious pelts. Canada received its start as the land of furs and particularly beaver. Civilization followed the trapper and trader, and as the fur trade worked over northward, the white man went with it, developed new territory and established new outposts in the conquest of the wilderness. Mr. Beaver is still an important personage. Within the last year a company was organized in Montreal with a capital of $5,000,000 to conduct fur auctions, and Canada is becoming a great fur market as well as the world's great fur producer—and beaver is still the staple of the fur trade.

New Manager For C.P.R. Hotels

Mr. Frank L. Hutchinson, after many years service has resigned his position as manager in chief of Canadian Pacific hotels to engage in other business, and Mr. Andrew Allerton is appointed general superintendent of Canadian Pacific hotels with offices at Montreal.

These announcements have been made in a circular issued by Mr. C. E. E. Usher, passenger traffic manager of the C. P. R.

Mr. Allerton, who is well known to Montrealers through his success as manager of the Algonquin Hotel, St. Andrews by the Sea, and the Place Viger, Montreal, entered the service of the C. P. R. in 1890 in the dining car department. In August, 1892, he was appointed manager of Windsor Street Station Dining Hall; in June, 1894, he became dining car conductor. In January, 1897, he was attached to the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, and in February, 1905, he became clerk in the Place Viger Hotel, Montreal, of which he became manager in April, 1906. In June, 1906, he was appointed manager of the Algonquin Hotel, New Brunswick, and since November, 1919, has been managing both the Place Viger Hotel, Montreal, and the Algonquin. Mr. Hutchinson, who is understood to have purchased a large farm in Vancouver Island, where he intends to reside, was born in London, Ontario, on August 10th, 1869. He entered the service of the Bank of Montreal in 1888 and remained there until 1901 when he became a member of the Montreal Stock Exchange. In March, 1905, he joined the C. P. R. service as assistant to the manager, Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, becoming manager in March, 1909. In June, 1911, he became assistant to the manager in chief of hotels, Montreal, and in April, 1913, manager of the Hotel Vancouver. In July, 1913, he resigned from the C. P. R. to manage the Windsor Hotel in Montreal but in April, 1915, he rejoined the service to become manager in chief of hotels.

creased consumptive demand. Any great augmentation of population in Canada at the present time would find us in a situation where we would either be severely taxed to provide for the total domestic demand, or else compelled to curtail our export trade.

Assessment Basis Sustained By Court of Revision.

(Continued from Page 1). at $175, or as Mr. McCutcheon pointed out, $700 for the half acre, half of which was down over the hillside. In support of the assessment Mr. Kelley cited several sales in the vicinity, one being to Mr. McCutcheon of 3 lots to the east, 30 ft. front each, and half the depth, for $425. Another 30 ft. lot sold for $175, being also a short lot. Mr. McCutcheon was finally granted a reduction to $500. The assessment of the lot to the west of Mr. McCutcheon, not sub-divided, and owned by the Development Company was sustained at $350.

A. E. Elliott appealed on a lot near St. Andrew's Church assessed at $350, and E. R. Faulder owner of two other lots in the neighborhood appealed against the same assessment. Both assessments were sustained. Mr. Elliott also made an appeal on Block 10, D.L. 439, east of K.V.R. Assessment of $2,300 was sustained. J. M. McDougald, who owns 75 acres at the northern end of the district divided into 7 lots assessed at $200 each appealed on the ground that these lots should not be assessed higher than range lots as the water system had not got that far north. They were assessed at $125 each last year. Assessment reduced to $150 each. Annie W. Hamilton appealed against a $300 valuation on Bk. 2 Lot 36 D.L. 508. Assessment sustained, as was also assessment on

PRINTING PRICES

EAST and WEST

During the recent dispute in Vancouver between employing printers and employees, references were made to the fact that higher prices would force Vancouver printing orders to Ontario where wages were lower.

This catastrophe has been averted.

But, do you know, those same prices that were to have tempted Coast orders to the East are being quoted by us?

Some weeks ago we adopted a scale of printing prices that is being very extensively used in the cities and towns of Ontario, and in many of the centres of the Middle West and Eastern States.

With modern equipment and a full range of papers and other printing materials, we are in a position to do your work well and expeditiously and at

The University of British Columbia

President Leonard S. Kilneck, University of British Columbia.

Miss Isobel Miller, Arts '23, University of British Columbia, president of the Women's Literary Society, who played the part of "Aunt Ida" in "Green Stockings."

Miss Helen Reid, Arts '23, University of British Columbia, who was convener of costume committee for "Green Stockings," and responsible for the artistic gowns.

Miss Dorothy Adams, Arts '21, University of British Columbia, president of the players' club, who played as "Celia" in "Green Stockings."

The University of British Columbia, established near Vancouver in 1915, and now one of the recognized institutions of learning in the Dominion, is an added attraction to the scenic beauties and great agricultural and industrial possibilities of the province. The University was formed under the act of 1908, establishing and incorporating the University of British Columbia. By the "University Endowment Act" of 1912, 2,000,000 acres of land was set apart as endowment. Leonard S. Kilneck, B.S., is president, and there is a Faculty of Arts and Science, which includes a degree in nursing and a Faculty of Agriculture. The University is an integral part of the public and high schools.

It is the policy of the University to render service to its constituency by giving instruction in those technical departments which are most directly related to the life and industries of the province and by encouraging research. When a sufficiently firm foundation has been laid in these departments of University activity, extension work will be organized.

The University library possesses 23,000 volumes and about 30,000 pamphlets, and well equipped reading rooms for over 100 students. There is a herbarium of over 10,000 sheets, illustrating the Provincial flora, including fungi, mosses, ferns, and flowering plants. The botanical garden is situated at Point Grey, near Vancouver, occupying 54 acres on the west side of the campus. Here have been seen 1,000 different species of native plants, collected from all parts of British Columbia, including dry belt, alpine and coast species. The economic flora is represented by several beds of medicinal plants, the nucleus of a collection of Indian plants which are being acclimatized in British Columbia. A university course in general botany is offered, including evening classes and summer excursion classes. A course of five months in forestry is offered in connection with the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. The Forestry Branch of the Interior has established a laboratory for testing Canadian woods and a scheme of co-operation by which students have access to this research work. The University gives degrees in the several faculties, but not in theology.

A commanding site of 540 acres has been chosen at Point Grey and the design of the additional buildings to be erected is a comprehensive one and provides for the needs of an institution potentially great. The waters of the gulf of Georgia form more than half the boundary of the site while the remaining sides are bounded by some 2,000 acres of government land. Freight and passenger service can be had by water and tram service will be extended to the grounds. The famous Marine drive, one of the most scenic highways on the continent encircles the university grounds. From the grounds a view of exceptional beauty is unfolded in the wide glory of the Gulf of Georgia, the gateway to the Inlet, with gleaming snow crests and everywhere a wealth of Douglas firs. About 130 acres is now under cultivation under direction of the Faculty of Agriculture. Some agricultural buildings are in course of erection. Temporary quarters are now used in the city of Vancouver.

Mr. Arthur E. Lord is president of the Alma Mater. Mr. Paul N. Whitley is editor-in-chief of publications and the "Ulysses," the eight page weekly, under control of the Publication's Board, gives a somewhat detailed account of the student events and serves as a medium for university news.

The Musical Society is earnest in the work of raising the musical standard, and the fourth annual concert in the ball-room of the Hotel Vancouver was one of the big musical events of the season. Professor E. H. Russell is honorary president, and Mr. James R. Mitchell is president.

International debates, with Oregon, Idaho and British Columbia, are an important feature of the men's literary society. This year the University will appoint the secretary in accordance with the custom of each college, in turn, appointing a secretary, Debates are arranged also with the University of Washington.

One of the outstanding societies of the University is the Players' Club, which has had its fifth season under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Adams and the presentation of "Green Stockings," this year was one of the interesting events of the Vancouver social calendar. Three performances were given and the play was presented in various places on Vancouver Island and through the Interior of British Columbia.

That the life of the University of British Columbia is broad in its scope and is developing along the most general lines is evident from the aims of the various clubs, the Lettens' Club, the Historical Society, University Service Club, Economic Discussions Club, Agricultural Discussions Club, Chemistry Society, Y.W.C.A. Returned Soldiers' Club, Tennis Club, Women's Swimming Club, Girls' Hockey Club, Boxing Club, Rugby Union, Track Club, Basket Ball Club, the Hockey Club, the Y.M.C.A.

The University sent its quota of delegates to the Famous Des Moines convention where were gathered 8,000 delegates, representing over 1,000 universities. At the "All-Canadian" luncheon, the delegates were welcomed as representing the "Baby University," and took their places with the old-established universities.

Civic Administration Subject of Excellent Address.

on points of law, and if necessary takes cases into court. The Magistrate is appointed by the Government and tries all breaches of the peace, infractions of the by-laws, etc. The Constable sees that the peace is kept, and the law observed.

Municipal Audit.

Auditing, as at present customary, is not required in Canada, and our system of crowding in the annual statement between the end of the year and the January meeting, is absurd. The English County Council system of auditing is as follows:

Notice of audit is advertised. Audit is made irrespective of election day. Books are closed irrespective of same, and accounts deposited seven days for public inspection. The auditor has full powers of investigation. Any ratepayer may attend the audit and object to accounts. The auditor may disallow any improper payment and surcharge the amount to the official who made it. Appeal on law lies to High Court, other appeals to the Local Government Board. It will be seen that this is a really effective audit.

In conclusion I would point out that local administration is good or bad in proportion to the public spirit of the ratepayers. Good local government and good business go hand in hand, and the question each should ask himself is not what can the Municipality do for me, but what can I do to improve the Municipality. Let all criticism be good, healthy, constructive criticism, and never have to apologise for your home town. Remember the derivation of Municipality. And now, ladies and gentlemen, if any of you have anything to ask, or comments to make, why shoot now, and don't wait till later in the week, and then write a few columns to the paper.

At the conclusion of the address, Mr. W. C. Kelley asked the speaker to outline the changes in municipal matters under a Local Government Board. The reply was to the effect that all by-laws would have to go before the Board for sanction. At present money by-laws are submitted to the Inspector of Municipalities. The chief aim of a Local Government Board is to advise, but not restrict.

Mr. A. J. Beer thought that under the Manager system it would be hard to get a good man, as his tenure of office would be too uncertain. The speaker replied that a good man would hold his position by merit. Mr. Shepherd claimed that under a Council elected every year the position of a manager would be precarious, but it was pointed out that all municipal officers could be dismissed on one month's notice, but that they were not discharged unless for some good and sufficient reason.

The speaker thought, however, that councillors should be elected for 3 years, one-third of the number retiring each year. He also favored a pension system. He further drew attention to the fact that councillors were not elected for administrative purposes, and it was unnecessary for them to spend their time in doing work which should be performed by duly appointed officers. In Summerland, where the water system is an important public utility, a water commissioner might well be appointed. He gave the case of Kamloops, which incurred heavy deficits in its lighting system before it appointed a manager.

Mr. A. E. Smith thought that electors were under a wrong impression of the duties of a manager, and Mr. Nixon explained that such an official need not have technical knowledge so much as administrative ability, and the capacity for selecting the right men for the work. Mr. Beer suggested that the dismissal of a manager should be referred to the electors, but Mr. Nixon thought that the electors should have confidence in their council, and Mr. Kelley pointed out that if the electors overruled the decision of the council, the latter would resign.

A vote of thanks was given to the speaker for his very instructive paper, after which some discussion arose concerning some recent letters to The Review on Forum matters. This is dealt with elsewhere in this issue.

DOUBLE YOUR SALES—REVIEW WILL HELP

.. The Winding Trail ..

Rapid increase is a distinguishing feature of microbes, and the kissing bug introduced into the British Columbia legislature by Premier Oliver, is no exception to the rule. It is reported that a member of the Government the other day emulated the example of his chief by leaning over, and saluting the damask cheek of the only lady member of the House, and that the lady took the incident with a good grace. If this practice continues to spread, the position of Mary Ellen will become somewhat embarrassing, and she may have to resort to some means of defence. We may expect to read that, at the conclusion of some speech by the lady which moves the House to enthusiasm, the members will crowd around, each struggling to get in the first kiss of congratulation, and possible sequels may appear in subsequent challenges to mortal combat from disappointed ones to those more fortunate. The Premier of this Province seems to have the gift of introducing new features in public procedure. He has been known to offer a wager of five dollars against the testimony of a police witness; to threaten to use his fists against his opponents; and to call for assistance from above to strengthen his two good hands. All these little idiosyncrasies seem to be part and parcel of the Hon. John's make up, but the establishing of the kissing habit in the House constitutes an easy record so far.

In the interior of this Province we have up to the present been immune from the menace of the common rat, although Vancouver has its quota, and their spread inland is only a matter of time, unless they are halted on the threshold, which does not seem very likely, judging by the apathy displayed by the authorities not so long ago, and remarked on in these notes. It will doubtless be a matter of surprise to most of us to learn that Great Britain has lately enacted a law rendering any householder discovered "harbouring" a rat or a mouse liable to a fine of £5, and on conviction for a second offence, a penalty of four times that amount. This statement was recently made to a London audience by a lecturer on the ways of rats, and seems to show that the old country is fully alive to the desirability of keeping these pests in check. One would hardly have expected to find mice looming as large in the legislative ban as their more vicious associates, and it may be rather difficult to prove the "harbouring" of such an elusive resident. Nevertheless, the mischief they accomplish is so entirely disproportionate to their size, that there is good ground for at least some measure of legislation against them.

This is to give notice to the publishers of Foster's Forecast that, unless conditions are materially changed between the date of this writing (February 15th) and the day on which The Review is issued, all is over between us! I have before me Foster's Chart for February 1921, and find therein only one severe storm period predicted for the month, and that centred around the 6th, while from the 12th and onwards, the temperature line goes up and up until on the 16th it is so high that one naturally gets out last summer's clothing, and shakes the moth balls therefrom in happy anticipation. "Instead of which," we are nipped by chill northerly gales, and the line of temperature goes rapidly in the wrong direction. Mr. Foster had better mend his ways, or our childlike faith in him will be for ever destroyed. Let him see to it that his warm waves, storm waves, and cool waves, visit us somewhere near the dates foretold, or at least arrange so that the warm waves arrive on time, even if the others get misled.

I wonder how many of us can recall the story of Murphy's Almanac, which had a brief career as a consequence of some inexplicably correct forecasts of abnormal weather conditions in England over a century ago. One Murphy issued a weather leaflet in which he told of the coming of an extended frost which would seal up the River Thames, and make it a solid highway for some weeks. People laughed at the preposterous notion, and "Murphy's frost" became a standing joke. But in due time the frost set in, and the joke faded away as day after day the thermometer dropped lower and lower, and ice began to creep across the Thames at London Bridge. Eventually Jack Frost had his way, and Murphy's forecast became actual fact. And so long did the frost hold that fairs and carnivals, and the roasting of whole oxen on the ice continued for weeks. The outcome, as far as Murphy was concerned, was an enormous demand for his Almanac the following year, but the mantle of prophecy had fallen from his shoulders, and his day was soon over. Let Foster beware of a like fate!

West Summerland, February 15, 1921.

To the Editor.

Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,

The fact that a subject is mentioned in the Open Forum by a speaker is not in itself important, but the fact that discussion is refused or deliberately averted, in conjunction with the fact that in another organization the right to debate the same subject is refused on the plea "that the subject is not debatable," is vastly important. A few other facts in connection might well be mentioned, but I have already encroached upon your space sufficiently in a previous issue.

Will you kindly allow me to announce that I have resigned from the Executive of the Forum, as there is neither pleasure, profit, nor opportunity for service in association with those whose representatives, when cornered, resort to personal invective, however interesting that exhibition may be as a nature study, or however valuable it may be as an addition to the "convincing local evidence" desired by those who are watching both sides.

Thanking you for the space accorded.

Yours very truly,
LILY FOSBERY.

AID TO HOSPITALS

The problem of hospital support is one which is always with us. A deputation from the B. C. Hospital Association, which interviewed the Premier at Victoria last week, would appear to have put the case for greater provincial assistance very strongly before him, and to have elicited some remarks which at any rate indicated a real interest on the part of the government.

It is probable that some further assistance will be granted, and this, with an increase of generosity on the part of municipalities whose hospitals are in need, will perhaps suffice.

ILL TIMED

The Review has never been antagonistic to the theory of adequate salaries for the teaching profession, holding that those who are in charge of the education of our children should not be stinted in the matter of financial support.

OIL LEASES

An analysis of the new oil regulations for the Northwest Territories appears to show the determination of the Dominion to safeguard the interests of the public as far as the flotation of development companies is concerned.

The rents for leases of 50c and $1.00, and the permanent royalty of 5 per cent. thereafter, seem reasonable and the regulations in general will commend themselves to the public.

AIMS AND OBJECTS OF THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The aims and objects of the Women's Institutes are to improve conditions of rural life, so that settlement may be permanent and prosperous in the farming communities.

By making the Institute a social and educational centre and a means of welcoming new settlers.

Landlord (gently but firmly)—Well, I've decided to raise your rent. Mrs. Flanigan (enthusiastically)—It's the darlin' ye are, sir! I wonderin' how I could raise it meself.

STILL IN TROUBLE.

The lighting system of the town is if anything worse than ever but when the new engineer completes the overhauling of both old and new engines conditions may be improved.

"My friend," sternly began the horse-faced gent, "life is uncertain. If you were struck by a bolt of lightning tonight would you be prepared?"

FUNERAL OF WINNIPEG FIRE VICTIM.

The funeral of William McIlhagga, city fireman, who lost his life in the Dingwall Block Fire, was held on Monday. City firemen acted as pall-bearers and the casket was conveyed to the cemetery on a fire truck. The cortege is shown as it reached the Main St. subway.

THE EDUCATIONAL VALUE OF DRAWING

(Contributed)

About one child in every ten can draw a free-hand balanced curve. About one child in every hundred possesses real, artistic ability and about one child in every five hundred accomplishes anything of really artistic value.

Why, then, teach drawing at all? What value, educational, moral or even physical, can there be in rows of small heads bent over drawing books, in rows of small tongues pointed between anxiously parted lips, while chubby hands clutch frequently licked black leads and trace in bold black outlines some perfectly senseless "free hand" copy.

And the truthful answer is "No value at all."

Why teach drawing at all unless it is of some value, educationally? And echo trumpets, "why?" Yet picture writing was one of the earliest mental efforts of the human race.

This inherited love of picturing or drawing has been too long perverted by teachers who want finished sketches or pretty pictures. It can, if taught properly, be of immense educational value and act moreover as a superb stimulant to the imagination.

Possibly the chief practical value of drawing rests in its being an unrivalled auxiliary and tool to other subjects. Psychologists have shown that "interest" is the pivot of all true education and assured drawing is one of the best means of maintaining interest.

Wholesale Arrests Canadians With Coughs

Halt! Who goes there? Someone with a cough. Pass friend! Stop cough! you are under arrest. Thousands of such arrests are being made every day in all parts of Canada.

Of course, with older pupils, especially with microscopic work, the use of drawing is obvious.

The use of drawing in connection with history, geography and literature is not perhaps so obvious. But it is certainly not of less value. In connection with all these subjects, drawing should be illustrative. Probably Johnny's picture of Columbus discovering the new world may provoke mirth among these dense adults, but his teacher will find out whether Johnny thinks Columbus had a galleon or a steamer, and Johnny himself will be convinced that his picture shows sense.

To return to our forsaken perspective. The use of the sky line in picture composition is soon explained. Then it is usually simple to take the children on some long straight road where they may observe that the road seems to rapidly decrease in width as it approaches the horizon or skyline.

It is more than astonishing how keen the children become on making these illustrations accurate and alive. Love of picture drawing is an implement nature herself has put in our hands as a wholesome aid to education.

Addressles—Well, I've got to go today and face the music. Bartholomew—What, wife home? "No; I conduct a band."

DELIGHTED WITH OUR VALLEY

Nellie McClung Thinks We Do Not Advertise Enough.

The noticeable feature of the Okanagan Valley, according to Nellie McClung, in the Farmers' Magazine, is the neglect of advertising of its unique beauties and advantages.

But the real business of the Okanagan is the growing of fruit, and with its equable climate, its abundant water supply and the quality of its soil, it is going to rank with the finest orchard lands in the world.

One noticeable feature of the Okanagan communities is that they do not advertise—at least not in proportion to their opportunities.

A new boot-boy at a hotel took up to one of the rooms a couple of boots, one of which was a top-boot and the other an ordinary shoe.

"What do you mean," said the visitor, "by bringing me two boots of different shapes?"

"I don't know, sir," came the reply. "But what bothers me most is that there is another pair downstairs just like 'em."

Editor of Summerland Review:

Dear Sir, Some months ago I suggested that you should turn over your correspondence columns to a sort of Arena or Open Forum, wherein those of your readers who were given to the "breaking out in print" tendency might have a little scope.

When I tell you that my great-uncle, Josh Hayseed, edited the Pot-dunk Palladium; cousin Trifolium was sub-sister on a big New York daily, and another relative, Dr. Alsike, was editor of a great religious weekly, you might consider me eligible to have my little fling before you see fit to shut off the deluge.

because no painstaking "cribber" of Hashimura Toga could be otherwise; and the poetry (?) was another evidence of the talent running loose and going to waste but for the generosity of the Review. (Yes, our Review.)

I must say, though, that the Socialist dope you run from time to time is very punk; so many words and so few ideas, don't ye know. The bits of Socialism we already have foisted upon us, such as the post office, public schools, public roads, and public health, are quite sufficient considering the homes they have broken up and their disastrous effect upon religion.

I do hope from now on you will muzzle these poor Socialist nuts. Enough is too much!

Yours truly, MADGE LOVELL, Naramata, Tuesday.

British Columbia's Pulp and Paper

Pulpwood Ready for the Mills in British Columbia.

The birth and development of the pulp and paper industry in British Columbia has been phenomenal. A decade ago not a single ton of pulpwood, mechanical or chemical, was manufactured in the Pacific coast province; in 1919 the total value of the products of this industry amounted to $12,554,257. To-day British Columbia stands third among the provinces of the Dominion in the amount of capital invested in the industry. The surprising rate at which this has grown in the last few years and is continuing to grow, is indicated in the jump effected between 1917 and 1920. It was $22,584,652 in 1917 and $50,000,000 in 1920.

This is a remarkable history of development of what will doubtless become one of the most important industries of the Pacific coast, but it is more than probable that the next decade will exhibit still more rapid expansion. Great Britain and the United States are drawing the greater part of their paper supplies from Canada, and eyes are turned on British Columbia possessing as it does the largest remaining stands of timber in the world suitable for the production of pulp and paper. The province's annual export to Australia already amounts to more than 20,000 tons whilst the demand for pulp from the far east exceeds the present available supply.

Of the 370,370,000 cords of pulpwood estimated to exist in Western Canada, British Columbia is credited with 235,370,000 cords, consisting of spruce, western hemlock, and balsam, whilst for the coarser grades of pulp a certain amount of Douglas fir is used. It should also be observed here that British Columbia is highest among the provinces of the Dominion in the average production of pulp per cord of wood the mechanical process giving an average of 2435 pounds.

To-day there are only seven plants in British Columbia producing pulp—groundwood and chemical—and newsprint. No other industry offers such boundless opportunities of development. In addition to the enormous areas of suitable timber are the tremendous unharnessed water powers awaiting utilization, which are estimated at 3,000,000 horse power. The temperate climate of the Pacific Coast gives assurance of open harbors the year round, whilst apart from the demand in the United States there is an unlimited market for the product of the mills immediately across the ocean.

This may be instanced from the fact that the entire pulp product of one of the largest mills on the coast goes to Japan for manufacture there into newsprint. Up to the present time the provincial government has placed no embargo on the export of the raw product.

British Columbia is producing sufficient newsprint to supply the whole of Canada, taking the most recent estimates of the annual consumption of 120,000 tons. Figures of the province's output of pulp and paper of all kinds for 1919 were as follows: Sulphite, 80,047 tons; sulphate, 9,473 tons; ground wood, 99,769; paper, newsprint, 123,607 tons; wrapping 7,202 tons. In newsprint production British Columbia stands third among the Canadian provinces.

From the standpoint of timber resources, water powers, climate, shipping, a bright future awaits British Columbia in the pulp and paper industry and the coming decade will see it placed high among the paper producing sections of the American continent.

Naramata News

Current Events of Town and District

MASQUERADE.

One of the most enjoyable events of the winter took place on Friday evening when a masquerade dance was held in Naramata Hall. The event drew a large crowd. The hall was decorated with festoons of hearts of red paper and other Valentine novelties. The dancers were masked and attired in costumes varied, colorful and attractive. Gypsies and clowns, a most amusing "love Mary," a bride and groom with confetti still visible on their wedding garments, cavaliers, fairies, and many other interesting impersonations were present. Two authentic Eastern costumes, worn by Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Wolstencroft, created much interest. These were costumes of Syrian women brought from the East by Mr. W. H. Irwin. Several novelties marked the progress of the evening. Each lady was presented with a mascot woolly as she entered the hall. A valentine box was opened in the course of the evening, and each person receiving a valentine asked to stand in the middle of the floor and read its message aloud. Unique in this day of fox-trots and one-steps was the introduction of several old-time dances, the barn dance, the valets, and the lancers. Refreshments for the evening were provided by the ladies attending, and Mr. Fred Manchester, Mrs. Mark Manchester, Mrs. Greene, and various others kindly provided music for the dancers. A very hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Greene, through whose initiative the evening was arranged, and whose work was chiefly responsible for its success.

Mrs. Walters returned on Friday from Peachland, where she had spent a few days' holiday.

The On-we-go club of girls held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Miss Florrie Lyons. The financial report showed a sum of over $60 to have been raised since the early fall by the efforts of the girls. Of this, $10 had been donated to Sunday School funds, $5 to the S.S. library, and approximately $40 to the Ladies' Aid. After the business was disposed of and a short examination held, an impromptu musical programme took place. Each girl had come dressed to represent a musical term and much merriment was occasioned by the guessing of these. A resolution of sympathy was passed with regard to the serious illness of Mrs. Myers. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lyons at the close of the evening.

Mr. E. J. Macrae of Saskatoon, who is going through to the Coast, will stop off at Naramata for a few days, where he will be the guest of Mrs. Amaron.

Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Salting were hostess at a whist drive held in the Unity Club on Saturday, in aid of the Club work. There was a large attendance and a pleasant evening was spent by all. The first prize for the ladies was won by Mrs. Morrish, and that for gentlemen by Mr. Ruskberry. The consolation prize went to Mr. David Good. Tea was served by the ladies during the evening.

A considerable amount of illness prevails in the district at present. In addition to the usual colds prevalent at this time of the year, Mrs. Myers has been seriously ill with bronchitis and quinsy, and Mr. W. H. Irwin has been confined to the house with a bronchial attack. Mrs. Mitchell has also been very ill. All are reported as being on the road to recovery.

Mrs. W. J. Robinson of Summerland with her little son, and Mr. Stanley Peacock, passed several days last week in Naramata as guests of Capt. and Mrs. Languedoc.

Mr. and Mrs. Fryer of Winnipeg are visiting Mr. W. S. Young of Naramata, Mrs. Fryer's father.

Mr. McLean of Summerland came over to Naramata on Tuesday and is spending a few days here.

Mr. Ewing of Penticton gave a very interesting address on "The Land of the Rising Sun" in Naramata Church on Monday evening. The lecture was illustrated by lantern slides. Mr. Ewing's kindness in coming from Penticton to give this lecture was much appreciated.

Mr. Baker, principal of the Naramata school, is expecting the arrival of his wife and child on Friday. They are coming to take up residence in Naramata, and will stay at the hotel until able to obtain a house.

Mr. W. B. Greene, who has been spending the winter in Penticton, is now again resident in Naramata, where he will begin work on his fruit lot

Naramata will gain new residents next month in the arrival from Winnipeg of Mr. F. C. Cross and his wife and family, who are coming to take up permanent residence. Mr. Cross has a fruit lot here.

The girls' basketball team of Naramata will leave on Thursday morning for the Coast to play a series of games with the Vancouver teams. The Naramata girls who are to try their skill against the veteran teams at the Coast are Misses Estelle and Gwen Amaron, Misses Dorothy and Gladys Robinson, and Miss Margaret Simmons. They will be accompanied by their coach, Mr. Hilton Snyder, and by a number of friends from Naramata. Among these will be Mr. Frank Hughes, President of the N.G.A.C., Mr. and Mrs. Partridge, Miss Enid Rayner, and Mr. Stuart Allen. Arrangements have been made for a special ferry and motors to take the party up to the station at West Summerland to meet the Thursday morning train.

Naramata has lost valued citizens in the departure for England of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell and their family. Mr. Russell is taking up a piece of land near Bristol which he will operate as a garden. They will be away some years, but look forward to returning to Naramata at some future time. Mr. and Mrs. Russell have been visited by many friends during the last few days, who have called to say goodbye and to express a hope for their speedy return to this district.

Visitors to Penticton on Tuesday afternoon were Mr. Hilton Snyder and Mr. Bartlett.

Miss Jean Robinson spent several days in Naramata last week, visiting Miss Katharine Robinson.

Mr. John Noyes, who has been seriously ill, was taken to the hospital in Penticton on Sunday. A telephone message during the week reported him doing well.

Several new buildings are to be erected in Naramata this summer. Mr. Geo. Routh is building on his fruit ranch. Material for a bungalow on Mrs. May's lot is now being assembled, a contract having been let to Minor & Wheelton, contractors. Others are in prospect.

Mr. Sherwood Davies of Summerland is in Naramata for a few days on a visit to his home.

WENT HIM ONE BETTER.

It was in the smoking compartment of a Pullman, and an obviously satisfied little man had been doing most of the talking for some time.

"I tell you," he declared emphatically, "there is nothing like the good old American stock that goes right back to the beginning. Now—I don't like to boast, but facts are facts—an ancestor of mine signed the Declaration of Independence!"

"That so?" a young Jewish traveling man responded mildly. "Interesting, of course, but—well, one of my ancestors signed and certified to a rather more important and—older document."

"Nothing on earth more important than the Declaration!" the little man bristled. "What sort of a document are you talking about?"

"The Ten Commandments," was the gentle rejoinder.

Thirteen is always an unlucky number to have at a table, when there is only dinner for twelve.

Lady Visitor—So they sent your little boy to the reformatory, Mrs. Grey? What a shame!

Mrs. Grey—Yes, and he was such a good boy, too. Everything he stole he brought straight home to his mother!

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY.

Periods of depression would be much less disastrous if each individual member of the community understood the importance of having reserve resources of his own. After all it is said that may be said of the obligations that rest upon society as a whole to provide for the individual, it remains to be said that there is an obligation upon the individual to avoid being a charge upon the community. A man may be willing to work and unable to find work in time of industrial depression without being quit of all responsibility for becoming a public charge. Each person should bear his share of the responsibility of providing against bad times, and not expect to throw up his hands in every period of stress and be rescued by others. Everybody is warned against the dangers and hardships of unemployment. The lessons of prudence, self-reliance, thrift, and provision for a rainy day, have always been taught, and always been practised by some and disregarded by others. The progress of society, the fact that employment is more regular and more remunerative, and the chance for independence better now than in the past, has been due to the former class, and it cannot be doubted that the necessity for individual initiative and foresight has been an essential factor in this progress.

Every plan that purposes to do away with this individual responsibility entirely must be viewed with misgivings. A regime of personal liberty involves personal responsibility. The freedom to go and come, to exercise choice, to take chances, to crowd into preferred occupations, to idle instead of toil, to spend instead of save, to indulge instead of deny the appetites, and all the familiar opportunities to make mistakes, imply responsibility. The results to the individual from one's choice must be different from the other. The community is concerned in every instance and abstract argument ceases for the time being in the presence of distress, but the serious question remains, how far should the community go in a sweeping offer to always provide for those who do not provide for themselves?

It is true that industrial organization is far from perfect; it is in fact a rather hit and miss affair. It was not made to order, the responsibility for it cannot be placed. This is so because of the liberty which belongs to each individual, and it can be made harmonious only as each individual learns to play his part in voluntary and efficient co-operation with the others, and to bear his share of the responsibility of finding his place.

APPLICATIONS FOR GRAZING PERMITS UNDER GRAZING ACT 1919.

Applications for permits to graze livestock on the Crown range within each Grazing District of the Province of British Columbia during the grazing season of 1921 must be filed with the District Foresters at Cariboo, Cranbrook, Fort George, Kamloops, Nelson, Prince Rupert, Vancouver, Vernon or with the Commissioner of Grazing, Department of Lands at Victoria, B.C. on or before March 31, 1921.

Blank forms upon which to submit applications may be obtained from the District Foresters at the above named places or from the Department of Lands at Victoria. The grazing of livestock on the Crown range without permit constitutes trespass, prohibited by law.

BENEFIT DANCE AT NARAMATA

The people of Naramata in general were instrumental in arranging a dance in the Union building on Wednesday night, the object being the raising of funds to assist in the re-establishment of the Ruskberry business in suitable premises. We understand the proceeds will form the nucleus for a building or leasing fund, as may be required, and the whole of the receipts of the evening will be handed over without any deduction for expenses, the refreshments having been donated by the community, and the out of pocket expenses defrayed by the local G. W. V. A. A large turnout was a foregone conclusion, and Mrs. May, who was in charge of the pay desk, reports satisfactory financial receipts. Many visitors from Summerland were present, in addition to a full attendance of local dancers and friends.

EVOLUTION UP TO DATE.

Two little girls were amusing each other by telling stories in turn. The elder began one as follows: "There was once a little boy, and he was an awful good little boy. In fact, he was so good that he grew up to be a woman."

Commence Work on Irrigation System

The Board asks for a total levy of $20,000.

Councillor Scott was appointed a committee to prepare a preliminary report on the tax sale lands, sixty odd parcels, for which titles have recently been received from the registry office. The Reeve reported having seen William Ritchie and obtained his consent to serve as Police Commissioner if he received the appointment. The clerk was instructed to advise the government that the electorate had failed to elect a police commissioner, and to state that the Council recommended that Mr. Ritchie be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to the vacancy.

Councillors J. A. Kirk and G. Thorner appointed a special committee for the purpose, submitted a report with certain recommendations covering the duties of the outside staff. This report was adopted, and no doubt the necessary resolutions to bring these recommendations into force will be put through at a later date.

Final reading was given the bylaw authorizing indemnity to Reeve and Councillors. After hearing complaints from A. C. Muil, Paradise Flat, with respect to water service, instructions were given to have position of the check valve on that pipe line changed, so that he may have constant service. A. Pentland wrote with respect to irrigation service through the Gray ditch. The engineer is now busy surveying this ditch, much of which must be rebuilt. Mr. Pentland will be so advised.

The Council adjourned at 10.30 p.m. to 2.30 on Wednesday the 16th.

They also propose to study the constitutional history and geography of Canada, to advance knowledge of sound domestic principles, to stimulate a love for Canadian art, music and literature in our schools and community centres, and "to welcome strangers within our gates, help them to understand our institutions and to encourage them to become citizens of Canada."

The Maori Quartette In Song and Story

Tribal Customs Illustrated Here on Monday Next.

Maori development is the romance of civilization. The Maori Quartette, which is to appear in Summerland on the evening of February 21, is one of the most interesting organizations now before the public. They are native New Zealanders, representatives of the Maori tribesmen, the original New Zealanders of whose origin little is known—nothing in fact except that they are of Polynesian extraction and hundreds of years ago came somehow and from somewhere and settled in New Zealand.

Seventy years ago they settled all disputes by right of might and quite commonly killed and ate their vanquished enemies. To-day they elect their own people to sit in the New Zealand Parliament, educate their children and settle their differences in a civilized fashion.

The Maoris will give a delightful program, featuring the songs and legends of their native tribesmen and tracing the development of their race from their tribal battles of sixty years ago down to the memorable day in 1916, when they sent their first Maori division to take their places in the trenches in France.

The Maoris enact their tribal life on the platform. They visualize all of the customs of the home and of the tribe in song and story. All through their delightful program runs the beautiful weird music of the South Sea Islands. The race is essentially musical. The company is personally directed by Mr. V. H. Papikura, who comes from the Ngapuni tribe of the North Islands. He is a well known tenor of New Zealand and incidentally is an ordained minister. The New Zealanders wear their native garb during their program, which is most interesting from an educational as well as an artistic and musical standpoint. 29

OKANAGAN POTATOES ARE SHIPPED BELOW COST

Potatoes are being shipped out from Armstrong in car load lots daily. Practically all consignments are sent to Calgary and other prairie points. Prices are low and, freight rates considered, the returns to growers are far below cost of production.

Large quantities of potatoes are on hand in the Northern Okanagan and the warm weather has been forcing stocks onto the markets.

The fact that all the meetings of the two day series of expert lectures here attracted capacity audiences is sufficient evidence of their real value to the community.

Proposal to Abolish Upper House Defeated in Debate

The announcement of a debate in which two teachers and two high school boys were to take part drew a large audience to the Open Forum last Sunday afternoon.

The debate was carried on under the inter-college rules and was opened by Mr. D. Davidson, of the Central School teaching staff, who spoke for the affirmative.

The judges were W. C. Kelley, J. W. S. Logie and R. C. Lipssett. Many good points were advanced by both sides, but the judges were unanimous in awarding the negative the best of the argument.

GREATLY RESPECTED CITIZEN PASSES.

Prof. D. H. MacIntosh, Former Principal of High School, Goes to His Reward.

On Monday morning at 1.30 a.m. Mr. Donald Howard MacIntosh, B.A., late principal of Summerland High School, and earlier, member of the faculty of Okanagan Baptist College, passed away at Tranquille Sanatorium Kamloops, B.C.

Of Scottish descent, he was born at Breadalbane, Glengarry, Ont. He was a brilliant student, taking post-graduate courses at Oxford, England; Berlin, Germany; and Chicago.

Four members of the family are left to mourn the loss. One married sister, Mrs. Ashton Mollard, is living in Watrous, Sask. Another sister, Miss Anna B. MacIntosh, Dean of Women at Acadia University, gave up her teaching to be present with her brother during his illness, and attended the funeral service.

The funeral took place at Summerland Baptist Church on Wednesday morning at 11 a.m. The pupils of the Summerland High School with Prin. Welsh and Mr. Tees, teacher, were present at the service.

In his remarks, the Rev. Jas. Dunlop said: "This morning we meet again amid the shadows of death. The mystery of life and death again casts its shadows around us.

Mr. R. G. L. Clark, who described himself as the official fault finder, spoke well of the efficiency of the marketing system in vogue in the Okanagan, but said there was still room for improvement.

Whilst death is common and inevitable, whilst it staggers the mind and rends the heart, it cannot destroy our hope or mar our destiny. Christ hath abolished death. He hath brought life and immortality to light in the gospel.

treated to a number of excellent speeches. Delegate Solly found that there were many people all over British Columbia taking a deep interest in our province and our Boards of Trade, and he urged that we treat our problems in a broad way considering the interests of the province as a whole.

Mr. Solly was thanked for his report, which President Freeman said he had greatly enjoyed, and from which he had learned much.

A suggestion from the chair that a civic committee be appointed, was the occasion of an interesting discussion which finally resulted in a resolution that the president look about and make a careful selection of representative citizens who would serve on such a committee.

Mr. Solly was thanked for his report, which President Freeman said he had greatly enjoyed, and from which he had learned much.

To the pupils we say that the best way to honor the memory of this teacher is to think of the noble example, to consecrate life to the teacher's God, to pass in early to "the narrow way" that leads up the sunlit hills to the city of God.

To all of us there comes the gentle note of warning. The still, small voice of the spirit whispers across the years, "Be ye also ready." Let us make God our friend, Christ our Redeemer, and go out into life as if death was a misnomer.

lime and sulphur being the medium. The checking of the peach worm, scab and oyster shell scale were all dealt with, and details of recent experiments in the strength of solution necessary in the treatment of scab were given, showing that a proportion of 1-40, and even 1-60 was found to be sufficiently strong.

Referring to the codling moth, the speaker said there had been a new outbreak at Vernon, and urged upon all growers the vital necessity of keeping constant watch against its possible spread.

treated to a number of excellent speeches. Delegate Solly found that there were many people all over British Columbia taking a deep interest in our province and our Boards of Trade, and he urged that we treat our problems in a broad way considering the interests of the province as a whole.

Mr. Solly was thanked for his report, which President Freeman said he had greatly enjoyed, and from which he had learned much.

A suggestion from the chair that a civic committee be appointed, was the occasion of an interesting discussion which finally resulted in a resolution that the president look about and make a careful selection of representative citizens who would serve on such a committee.

the volume of revenue enjoyed by the Kelowna-Westbank ferry and the Summerland-Naramata ferry, Capt. Roe told of the difficulty of making costs. In fact, he said, the service was being maintained at the cost of depreciation of his equipment.

The meeting was strongly opposed to the suggestion that the service be discontinued, and a resolution to that effect, together with a request that the subsidy be made sufficient to maintain the service was unanimously carried.

Capt. Roe stated further that a ferry for Paradise Ranch, where production is increasing, and for North Naramata, which would probably be settled at an early date were also being asked for.

WHO AND WHY?

Who reads advertisements? More than you ever imagined. Gladstone was quoted as saying he found more interest in the advertisements in American periodicals than in the reading matter.

Of what benefit has advertising been to the consumer? This question is convincingly answered by the following quotation from a book on advertising written by the advertising staff of the Curtis publications:

"Advertising has taught us to cook without fire, to sweep without brooms to make music with a disc, to add figures by machinery. It has fitted us to ready-made clothing. It has sold there.

Father—I never smoked when I was your age. Will you be able to tell that to your son when you grow up?

us automobiles. It has revolutionized our breakfast table. It has trained a nation to new labor-saving time-saving, money-saving habits and desires. It has raised merchandising standards to a high degree of honesty and"—note particularly the closing sentence—"it has taught the consumer to look for quality and how to know quality."

Father—I never smoked when I was your age. Will you be able to tell that to your son when you grow up?

PEACHLAND GROWERS IN ANNUAL MEETING

Preparing for Larger Output—Addressed by Central Officials—Valued Officer Tenders Resignation—Not Accepted—Other Peachland News

The annual Fruit Growers' meeting was held in the Municipal Hall on Monday evening with a large number of growers present. President Dr. Buchanan took the chair with Secretary W. M. Dryden in his place at the table. The directors' report and the annual statement were read when the meeting was thrown open for discussion of the various phases of the industry.

for co-operation of the large shippers of fruit here to protect the trade, and maintain as good prices as possible.

Touching further on the question of co-operation he mentioned districts to the south of our Valley where growers were sick of striving single handed and were waking up to the necessity of co-operation and that they were fast putting it into effect.

Nearly all countries are advancing towards co-operation. He spoke of some smaller shipping concerns that had experienced difficulties last year through getting demands for cancellations of orders, but thanks to the strength of the O.U.G. through co-operation and management they had not in any one case had a demand for cancellation.

A vote of thanks was tendered the visiting gentlemen, and a satisfactory and pleasant meeting was adjourned close to midnight.

The following is a list of the fruits shipped through the local Union here during the season of 1920, including the Granta Ranch: Cherries, 4,970 packages; apricots, 616; peaches, 14,439; plums, 4,152; prunes, 1,294; tomatoes, 2,050; crab apples, 1,583; pears, 1,747; apples, 27,545; green tomatoes, 902; gooseberries, 23; currants, 144; making a total of 59,444 packages, and in addition, 100,000 pounds of apples to the evaporator.

We had a little excitement on Thursday of last week when a party of six was passing through town suspected of having deer aboard were overtaken by our local constable. One of the number on the democrat showed a badge and they were let pass through. However on learning that the badge did not count for anything in the case, and that all on board were most likely implicated in the affair Constable Alpaugh called an assistant and followed the party up, overtook them and stopped them at Westbank and held them there till Provincial Constable Graham came over and took charge of them.

After a pleasant week spent visiting friends in the community, Miss Jean Gellatly returned to her home at Gellatly on Friday morning.

Suffering from the effects of a severe cold and sore throat Miss Johnson, teacher of the intermediate grade in the central school was obliged to have a substitute, Miss Murdin, take charge of the room for the day. Miss Johnson is able to be on duty again this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. F. Moore of Penticton motored up on Friday to attend to some matters of business here. They returned to Penticton on Sunday morning and took with them their son Jack, who had remained in Peachland to attend school, until arrangements could be made for his attending school in Penticton.

The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. W. Miller. A special feature of the meeting was the recognition of Frances Willard Day. A good attendance was in evidence.

Miss Montith was a passenger north on Saturday morning, returning on Monday evening. After having spent some time in a position in connection with the cement plant being installed for the Soldier Settlement project to the south of us, Mr. Elkin returned home on Saturday morning and will probably not be returning for a time.

A challenge came down from the Westbank hockey players last week end for our boys to take a team up to play against Westbank on Shannon Lake on Saturday afternoon. Having had no place to play hockey this season our boys had not had any practice, but were game nevertheless, and picked a team in a hurry and accepted the challenge.

no practice. A second party gathered in the evening, including some of the hockey players and took in the week-end skate at Gellatly. There was not as large a crowd as usual, but the ice was the best yet and a pleasant evening was spent by those who went up. Weather conditions were exceptionally favorable that evening for the event.

Mr. John Robinson arrived on Saturday evening to spend a short time here with relatives.

Mr. Seth Davidson is enjoying a visit from his nephew Mr. Henry Stephens, of Bellingham, Wash., who arrived here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyes and Mrs. S. Murdin motored to Kelowna on Saturday last to spend the day and visit Mr. Murdin at the hospital there where he went under an operation. We are pleased to be able to report that he came through the operation in good shape and is improving nicely.

Mr. A. E. Drought was the unfortunate victim of a slight accident on Saturday last, the result of a runaway. In jumping free of the rig the rug tangled his feet in such a way that he lost his balance and had a rather bad fall; nothing serious, however, but enough to lay him up temporarily.

Rev. I. Page filled his fortnightly appointment at the Baptist Church here last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. C. G. McDougald left on Monday morning for Kelowna, where he has been transferred to a position in the branch of the Royal Bank there. Gordon's smiling face and genial manner will be greatly missed here. He has been connected with the local branch of the Royal since its inception. His friends are hoping he will enjoy the work in the new sphere and come across occasionally to pay us a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thorn were passengers north on Monday morning, Mr. Thorn returning on the evening boat. Mrs. Thorn will remain for a short time.

Mr. A. McKay returned home from the lower country on Saturday morning.

Mr. McDowell, Captain Mutrie and Mr. Lowe, representatives of the O.U.G. arrived on Monday evening to attend the meeting of the Fruit Growers here. They left on Tuesday morning.

Mr. W. T. Ortt has joined the ranks of the car owners in Peachland having purchased from H. Williams the 490 Chevrolet left here by Mr. Chas. Reid for sale.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Drought and family in their recent bereavement in the loss of a member of the family in the person of Betty, aged a little over 10 years. She had been sick only about a week, and took her last sleep very quietly and with no suffering. The funeral took place from the Church of England, after a touching service conducted by Rev. H. A. Solly of Summerland.

Miss Ilyva Murdin spent Tuesday last in Kelowna visiting her father in the hospital there. On her return she reported him doing nicely.

The Winding Trail

It is possible some readers will hardly be able to place this word where it ought to go. To such I will explain that it is a term used by journalists to describe the eulogistic paragraphs with which the editors of some magazines see fit to introduce the stories they present to their readers.

HORTICULTURAL LECTURES AT NARAMATA.

Interested and attentive audiences greeted the lecturers who spoke in the Fruit Union packing house on Monday under the auspices of the United Farmers of B.C.

Mr. J. A. Grant, whose subject was "Markets and Marketing," characterized himself as the "trouble man" of the Department, being called in when things went wrong.

The speaker stated that transportation facilities were now ready to take shipments to England via the Panama Canal.

Mr. Grant concluded an address admirably clear and to the point, by pointing out a few of the chief faults he had noticed in the marketing of vegetables.

Mr. Clark, who followed Mr. Grant, dwelt on the necessity of organization, co-operation and standardization, enforcing his argument by many concrete illustrations.

The last speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Hunter, stated that we are now beyond the experimental stage in the fruit industry, having learned the scope of our markets and the different varieties of fruit suitable to different districts.

A select committee representing the Horticulture Department, U.B.C., the Agriculture Department of the Federal Government, and the selling organization of the Valley had recommended the following varieties for growing from Kelowna southward:

In the evening Prof. Barss spoke on the inter-relation of orchard practices. He dwelt upon the relation in the tree of the raw food, water and nitrates taken in by the roots, to the manufactured food carbohydrates made by the leaves.

Mr. Middleton, who concluded the series of lectures in Naramata, dealt with pruning from the point of view of tree structure, showing how to get strength of limb, convenience for working in the tree, and the opportunity of plenty of sun for all the fruit.

His address was illustrated by lantern slides.

In addition to the two addresses on dressmaking given in the Unity Club, Miss Master, by special request, gave an address and demonstration of canning meat by the cold pack method at the home of Mrs. M. B. Smith on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Baker and her small daughter arrived in Naramata on Friday evening, and is staying with Mr. Baker at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malloy.

One of the coldest nights of the season coincided with the benefit dance of last Wednesday evening. In spite of the cold, however, there was a large attendance, Naramata residents being reinforced by visitors from Penticton and Summerland.

Mr. J. O. Noyes, who is ill at the hospital in Penticton is reported to be doing very well.

Mrs. Carlisle of Vancouver and her young son, who have been spending some time at Paradise Ranch, were in Naramata last week.

Mr. W. H. Irwin, who has been confined to the house for some time, is around again. The course of Thursday evening lectures at the Church, interrupted by his illness, will be resumed.

Prof. Mack Eastman of the University of B.C. is a week end visitor in Naramata, the guest of Mrs. Amaron.

Mrs. M. B. Smith, for whom a very commodious bungalow is being built on her fruit lot, expects it to be completed and ready for occupation some time in March.

A special meeting of the Naramata branch of the G.W.V.A. was held on Wednesday, 15th, for the purpose of the election of new officers and statement of accounts.

Mr. Clark, who followed Mr. Grant, dwelt on the necessity of organization, co-operation and standardization, enforcing his argument by many concrete illustrations.

There are just as many witches now as there were in the old days and just as many men fall under their spell, but we lead them to the altar instead of to the stake.
