Highland Dancing and Costume Are Among Delights Indulged in

For a short while on Friday a little corner of Scotland was transferred to Summerland and the dialect and costume of the land o' cakes was indulged in, when the St. Andrews and Caledonian Society foregathered at the St. Andrews' hall.
With A. H. Steven in the chair, a delightful concert program was tendered, a male quartette composed of J. R. Campbell, A. Smith, J. O. Smith and Ben Newton creating excellent harmony. Among other singers were A. McGown, D. L. Sutherland and Mrs. Fenwick, and a numorous sketch staged by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Steven, J. O. Smith and G. Marshall in the dialect made a great bit, and was one of the features of the even-

Mr. Robson, of Penticton, who, by the way, is a member of the clan McLean, of Vancouver, especially delighted the audience with his Highland dancing in costume.

Refreshments served after the concert, prepared the way for a dance, which was kept up till a late nour. while the rafters rang to the sound of many a "hoot" and the air was befuddled with the intricacies of the guttural Scotch tongue, the full efffect of which can only be appreciated by those who come from north of the Tweed.

MOUNTAIN LION BROUGHT DOWN

Mounted and now on view at the Premier hotel is a half-grown cougar or mountain lion, which was shot three or four weeks ago by Ernest Brighton on Rattlesnake mountain. Mr. Brighton was cutting wood when he saw the cougar and with a dog soon had it treed. He shot it twice before it fell to the ground. We understond that these animals are not usually found in this part of the province, but that the cougar shot by Mr. Brighton was one of a pack which was being followed from the north by some Indians, who shot two or three others of the pack on the other side of the mountain, only one of the lot escaping.

Unflattering Report on Situation

That the people of Summerland do not really appreciate something of the urgency of the school situation is apparent from the report of the inspector, Mr. A. R. Lord, who states as follows in his report to the school board following his recent visit here: "Your Board is fully aware of the utter inadequacy of school accommodation in your municipality and knows much better than I do whether financial disability or gross indifference is responsible for such a condition. It is possible, however, that they do not realize that Summerland is the only fully graded school in this adopt the report, which was carried Inspectorate which has not satisfactory accommodation for at least 95 per cent of the pupils, and which is almost constantly suffering from there was evidently a feeling that the some form of epidemic. ANNUAL MEETING OF AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION HEARS 1921 REPORT

Last Year's Board of Directors Is Re-elected With Clarence Craig Again President — Two New Members on Board-Propose Parks Commission Care for Hall and Grounds.

With only a small attendance of about twenty-five members, the Summerland Agricultural Association held their annual meeting in the Rialto Theatre on Monday night, with Clarence Craig occupying the chair, when several important matters were taken up and dealt with. Secretary J. Tait read the minutes of the first directors' meeting held last year, which were duly confined by those present, after which the annual financial statement was presented, showing total receipts for the School Inspector Makes Very year 1921 as $1020.36, with an ex-Unflattering Report on penditure of $970.61. Balance in bank and in the treasurer's hands amounted to $49.75, out of which were payable outstanding accounts of $28.10, leaving an actual surplus of $21.65 to carry over into 1922.

A short discussion followed the reading of the anual statement, H. M. Lumsden enquiring as to what remuneration the secretary received, to which the latter replied that a standing fee of $35 was paid, with a ten per cent commission on collections. paid out for secretarial work during the year was $108.00. Answering an engiury, Secretary Tait stated that $30 or perhaps $40 more might have been collected. H. C. Mellor moved, and J. L. Logie seconded a motion to unanimously.

President Craig brought the attention of the meeting to the fact that municipality should take over the no relation between these two facts Ellison hall from the Agricultural Association, and he would like this question to be settled right at the meeting one way or the other. From what he could understand the hall was the property of the association, whereas the land belonged to the municipality and he thought some arrangement should be arrived at in the matter.

Reeve Campbell stated that the hall was built on municipal property. mission from the council to put a hall on the grounds. There was nothing in legal form to be found, and the asociation has only a moral claim. He sugested that Mr. Logie who was a director at that time might be able to throw a little light on the matter, stated that as far as he could remember the asociation approached the government, and obtained from the latter a loan sufficiently large to erect the building, with only two stipulo-Are Greatly Appreciated Follow- making of a good cellar for the gento put up storage for their apple crops, and the other, that a good dancing floor should be put down, so council were approached and consented to the building of the hall in the public park. Mr. Mellor thought that unles there was any special benefit to the public in changing over the control of the building from the association to the council, he would not consider it to be a good move. As a matter of fact, he thought the counevening the juice was turned on at cil had all they could carry without seven o'clock, the excellent result ob having to repair and look after this

Various places were suggested at the time for building, but it was finally decided to put it where it is. President Craig, here stated that he resented the insinuations that had been made, that nobody could get the use of the hall without the permission of the asociation. As matters stood at present, any person who wanted to use the hall could have it. H. H. H. C. Mellor, seconded by J. L. Logie made a motion recommending that a committee be appointed by the directors to wait upon the council to discuss the matter and arrange with of a parks commission. This was caried unanimously.

H. H. Creese moved that the same board of directors as last year, with the exception of two not available, be re-elected, which resolution was carried, after which P. Knowles and H. H. Creese were elected to the board to fill the vacancies referred to. The following names compose the 1922 board of directors: Messrs. J. R. Campbell, E. R. Butler, G. Y. L. Crossley, A. B. Morkill, S. A. McDonald, A. Maclachlan, H. Bristow, R. Heimer, A. Moyes, C. Craig, P. Knowles, H. H. Creese, R. V. Agur, J. Tait.

The secretary reported that the government had appointed the 11th of October as Fair day, but that the directors wished to have the same date as las year, and on the motion of J. L. Logie the action of the directors in trying to obtain the same date as last year was approved.

Mr. A. Stevens was appointed auditor for the ensuing year.

At the close of the annual meeting the new board of directors met and As a matter of fact, the total amount elected Clarence Craig to the pre-paid out for secretarial work during sidency for another year, and appointed A. Maclachlan, vice-president. Secretary J. Tait stated his wish to resign the position of secretary, but his/objection was finally overcome with the promise of help from one of the directors, when Mr. Tait was obliged to be away or otherwise unable to keep up with the tremendous quantity of work which the position entailed.

It is expected that another meeting of the board will be called shortly and that immediate steps will be taken towards making preparations for the

as also was Mr. Mellor. The latter day morning, Frank Haddrell was severely injured by the animal and is now an inmate of the hospital.

Mr. Haddrell had milked the cows for his usual morning delivery round, and arriving at his home from the tions attached to it, one being the barn with his horse and stoneboat was unhitching the animal and while eral use of those who were not able in the act of bending down to disengage the horse from the conveyance the former kicked out with his hind legs, striking Mr. Haddrell on the that the building would be for the head with his caulks. Haddrell and his outfit go by, was surprised on look ing out, to observe the horse career ing around the lot, and its master lay ing unconscious on the ground.

Hastily summoning the doctor, who arrived with the utmost despatch and sped, and the unfortunate man was rushed to the hospital, where he was immediately operated upon.

Another version of the foregoing accident is to the effect that Scoul Geo. Wilson, who claims that his training in the Boy Scouts made it possible for him to be of service. was coming from Miss Sinclair's house, and witnessed the incident. According to George, he saw Mr Haddrell driving his horse which was attached to a stoneboat loaded with a can of milk, when the animal stopped short, causing Mr. Haddrell to overbalance and fall forward on to the horse's heels, the can of milk falling on top of him. Rushing to his assistance, George found that the horse, naturally a little excited at the unexpected turn of events, had stepped on the driver, rendering him unconscious, and immediately ran to Mr. Schwass' house and telephoned for help, which was soon at hand. Up to the time of going to press the unfortunate man was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Latest information is that he suffered a fracture of the skull at the ear, the result of a heavy blow.

For the benefit of the Haddrell family, the St. Andrews and Caledonian Society are arranging to give a concert in the Rialto on Friday the 14th, for which a 50c admission will be charged, the entire proceeds to go to the purpose named.

Mr. W. C. Kelley who has been ill the past three weeks has improved very rapidly the past few days and now is able to be around again.

BYLAW MEETS REQUIREMENTS

Citizens Confer With School Board on New Building Loan

The regular meeting of the School Board was held on Wednesday evenng, when all the members of the board were present, and the acounts for March were duly presented and passed.

The teachers' reports were ais, received, in addition to which one from Inspector Lord was read, mention of which is made elsewhere in these columns.

A committee composed of representative citizens and including J. L. Logie, J. C. Freeman, A. Maclachlan, E. F. Sanborn and Jas. Rit chie had been asked by the trustees to attend the meeting, to discuss any probable questions that might be raised in regard to the passing of the bylaws. Considerable discussion took place, it being the opinion of this committee that the success of the passing of the bylaws would revolve round the following questions:

Have the council under these by aws to set aside money for water storage?

The type of building?
Is the building intended for public chool purposes!

Reeve Campbell on behalf of the council stated in answer that $5,000 was earmarked to be spent in water storage that plans had been submitted for the type of building and that the building was entirely for public While bringing down the milk from school purposes. The committee finthe upper barn by means of a horse ally expressed themselves as satisfied with the manifeling made by the attached to a stone boat early on Mon- fied with the provisions made by the council and it was decided to make an appeal to the ratepayers before the voting both personally and by circular.

BIRD HOUSE

Public School Boys Enter Into Contest for Prizes-Protecting Birds

The Review has been asked by Game Warden R. M. Robertson, of Penticton, to state that a bird hox competition will be held in the Summerland school under the provisions of the Dominion Migratory Birds'

The idea of the competition is to have made and put to use a number of boxes to encourage and protect the insectivorous birds during the nesting season. By increasing their numbers the result would be to secure greater destruction of injurious insects and bug life in fruit orchards.

Insects that are consumed by birds have never reached plague proportions-this alone is sufficient to convince those who have given thought to this subject.

Mr. Wishart, manual training in structor, has taken the matter up in a whole-hearted manner and will assist the boys in designing and constructing the boxes. Arrangements will be made to. provide suitable prizes for the boys making the most successful boxes. Two judges will be chosen, together with the manual training instructor, to decide the prize winners.

RETAIL MERCHANTS MEET AT PENTICTON

The local merchants were strongly represented at a meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association held at the municipal hall, Penticton on Friday last, when they, with only five merchants from the lake end town, met B. H. Peeps, field representative of the association.

The most important item for discussion was a proposed Dominion government turnover tax on retail merchants, which the meeting strongly opposed and passed a resolution, protesting against such a tax.

The following merchants represented Summerland: T. B. Young, T. A. Walden, E. R. Butler, A. Richardson, A. C. Patterson, K. S. Hogg, H. H. Finley, W. Johnston, F. Cross, W. W. Borton, W. White, C. V. Nesbitt and His announcement appears elsewhere Geo. Forster.

SENIORS WIN IN TWO GAMES

Summerland and Kelowna Basketball Teams Meet Here and in Orchard City

Leaving Summerland from the government wharf at about three o'clock on Thursday, March 23rd, three local teams made a trip up the lake, to contest for basketball honors with the Kelowna players, arriving there in time for the evening meal, which was partaken of over discussions as to what the results of the forthcoming matches would be.

The Intermediates opened up with a brave attempt to put something over but were undenlably outclassed by the home team and were not able to make one field basket, and had to retire losers by 21 goals to 3.

The outcome of the girls' game was very much the same and showed the result of the bad example set by the intermediates. However, the former made a better showing than the local second team, and managed to net 7 goals as against 19 by the Kelowna quintette who showed good combina-tion, the Summerland girls doing very poor shooting.

The senior game was, according to spectators, the fastest game of the season, the visitors easily winning on their merits. Clay was right on the job and persistently tackled the crack shooter of the home team, thus helping in a large measure to make the score what it was, while Adams, Gayton and Guy were in splendid form. Owing to being very strongly checked, Angove was not able to get in his best "licks" although playing a brilliant game throughout. The resulting score of 20 to 9 in favor of Summerland is a good index of the qualities of the opposing teams.

The Return Matches The same teams met for the last series of games of the season on Thursday night in the Gymnasium, where before a crowded house, three splendid exhibitions were put on, both sides doing their best to make the most of their opportunities, and winding up with a flourish.

ed to be too heavy for the home team of girls, and simply wore the latter down Both teams worked hard, and Irene Harris who came on as a spare when Ida Shields retired from the field, made a good showing during the rest of the game. Kelowna won by 18 goals to 8.

The intermediates were successful in securing a win from the boys who trimmed them last week, but they certainly had to work for it, eventually managing to get ahead by three goals. Score 1 to 11.

The greatest change in results as compared with last week was the game between the Seniors, who 'snowed under" their opponents, piling up a score of 30 to 7. Knowing that they had a reputation to regain, the local boys were "on the job" from the first whistle, Clay causing some amusement by his frequent and persistent tackling, which however, played a large part in the final result attained. Angrove and Gayton were in good form and made some difficult shots count, and a pleased quintette retired victors from the field.

Just a word should be said here for the excellent work done by referee R. S. Jackson, whose decisions have given general satisfaction throughout season, and who appears to have the confidence and goodwill of the players, a very necessary adjunct to the work of refereeing.

After the sport, all teams adjourned to the Parish hall where refreshments and dancing were indulged in, and the boys and girls from up the take returned on their ferry, having no hard feelings over the results of the friendly games of skill.

WHEN IS A SAFE A SAFE?

For many years it has been instilled into the mind of the laymen that, in order to be absolutely secure in regard to the safeguarding of valuable documents, there was only one reliable resource, and that was the vault or safe of the local bank, but one of the facts brought out through the robbery of the Ladner branch of the Royal Bank of Canada is that this is not actually the case, and that the hole-in-theground is just as secure.

Another point to be observed in connection with the foregoing robbery is the fact that under the lease signed by the depositors renting boxes in the vault, the bank disclaims all responsibility for loss by theft, embezzlement, or destruction from any causes what-ever. Where, then, shall the public turn, in order to ensure that there valuable documents and papers shall be on hand when wanted. The fact that the public have to pay for the use of the vault boxes would naturally infer a quid pro quo for such remuneration as obtains in other commercial transactions.

As a consequence of the various happenings of late, the public are gradually losing all confidence in our public institutions erected for the purpose of security and protection. Surely this is a matter that might well be taken up by the government, who, for a sufficient recompense, would be able to guarantee to each depositor the return of the actual value of his deposit, in somewhat the same way as insurance. Under the present system, the public simply loses what is not recovered by the police.

FINES FOR MUNICIPALITIES

"That whenever no other provision is made for the application of any fine, it shall be paid to the treasurer of the Municipality" is the gist of an amendment to the Criminal Code to be brought before the House at Ottawa during this session.

According to the wording of the proposed amendment, this payment shall be made whenever the municipality wholly or in part bears the expenses of administration, otherwise the province will

This is a matter of considerable interest to all public corporations in Canada, and if the amendment is passed, will give general satisfaction to municipal authorities, who in the past have felt that the present arrangement was not equitable, a good many complaints having been heard on that score.

The matter has been brought to the attention of the government by the municipalities themselves.

In this connection it is interesting to quote a paragraph from our 1920 report as follows: "We firmly bereport as follows: "We firmly be-lieve that 1931 will require even greater co-operation than any year since the fruit growing industry in British Columbia has been on a comin box apples, have the same prospect. This means that the growers of the Okanagan Valley must show

Columbia. The wisdom of this policy may be questioned by some in that it has made it possible for other ship pers to make higher returns to growers in some cases than this organization will be able to do, but undoubt-edly under the unfavorable circumtion it was a policy calculated to make possible the highest returns for the whole crop of the valley, accord-

The sales manager was justified in believing that the prices in the export market should at least be reasonably good, as the United States government estimates of the crop, which hitherto have been very reliable, estimated the entire United States crop at only slightly above half a normal crop, whereas, to date, over thirty thousand carloads in excess of the estimate have already been mar-

A very similar situation arose in connection with the production Great Britain. Estimates from all sources stated that owing to extreme heat and drouth the crop of apples Bran in Great Britain would be much below normal, in fact at one stage it was predicted it would be almost a failure, but as it eventually turned out, they had the largest crop in many years. Most of the apples grown in Great Britain are of the fall and early winter varieties, many of them being of poor quality, and have to go into consumption before the New Year. As a result the apple market from September to January in Great Britain was uniformly weak and prices realized for western apples have been unsatisfactory.

The board realizes that a different line of policy could have been followed by our sales manager in the policy would have involved a further weakening of our home market, resulting in a lower average price to Whole Corn weakening of our home market, reall growers, and would have conseindustry and the general business interests of the Okanagan.

The board gladly reaffirms their entire confidence in Mr. Lowe as sales manager, and believes that in the future as in the past, this confidence Groats will be fully justified.

The board feels that the organiza-tion is particularly well served by the loyal and efficient staff, many of for some years. What has been said of the work of General Manager W. J. McDowall, Assistant Sales Manager H. A. Renwick, and other of the staff in the past, is equally true of their work during the past year.

Organization At the last annual meeting a resolution was passed instructing the board to make an effort to extend our organization to embrace other fruit growing sections of B. C. The board was fortunate in securing for this work the services of Mr. C. E. Barnes, President of the B. C. Fruit Growers Association. In addition to his work in districts outside the Okanagan, in which he was eminently successful, much of his time has been devoted to organization work in connection with several of the locals in the valley, and reports reaching the board from these centers as to the work accom-plished are very encouraging. Considerable time has been devoted by him to the introduction of the five year contract in place of the existing one year contract. A large measure of success has attended this campaign in the locals canvassed, and much good work of an educational character accomplished, but in view of the fact that it has not been possible to cover the whole organization up to date, it should be decided at the annual meeting of shareholders, pre-sently to be held, just what future policy should be adopted in this connec tion. Your board is unanimously of the opinion that a long term contract is essential in building up a permanent organization and also that it would aid greatly in obtaining the necessary changed conditions due to the necessity of shipping much of our crop to distant markets and the likelihood of, in future, having to extend the marketing period over a longer until this suggestion has been considered by the shareholders.

What the future of the organization will be rests entirely with the grow-ers themselves. While there has been a steady progress made since the creation of the O. U. G. in 1913, it has not been such as to enable us to say mercial basis. The outlook points to a tremendously increased crop, and position at the present time. LARGE BUILDING PROGRAM STARTS

Approximately $10,000 will be spent in repairing and improving the Empire Hall block. Mr. J. L. Logie local manager for the Summerland Development company, owners of the property, has been authorized to make this expenditure. The stores on the ground floor will be re-modelled and the hall enlarged, and provision made for offices. C. B. McCallum, proprietor of the Hotel Summerland, is planning to make considerable further improve ments to th chotel property, and this work will be proceeded with at once. It will include further excavation, new foundations and concrete base ment.

Preparations are now being made by W. J. Robinson for the building of a cottage on property acquired by him a year or more ago and lying directly west of the site of the house destroyed by fire, and on the side of the road.

Look at the picture and you will see lots more, and in a few minutes' time you will be surprised how large your list will grow. Get your whole family to hunt for them. See who can find the most; maybe it will be grandma, or then again it might be little brother. Wothing is hidden and you don't have to turn the picture upside-down or at an angle. Fifteen cash prizes will be given for the fifteen best lists of words sabmitted and the person sending in the largest and nearest correct list of visible objects in the picture starting with the letter "S" will be awaraded First Prize; second best, Second Prize, etc.

It is not a subscription contest, and you don't have to send in a single subscription to take part for if your answer is awarded First Prize by the judges, and if you have sent no subscriptions, you will receive $35, absolutely. Our Special Offer to Boosters makes the Prizes much larger when subscriptions are sent in and all the family can gather around the makes the Prizes much larger when subscriptions are sent in, and if you would like to win more than $35, you can with little effort. cation and all the family can gather around the table together and share in the fun. The best way to convince yourself is to try it, and you will have to admit it is the most entertaining game you have ever taken part in.

EASY TO WIN $1200—HERE'S HOW—

If your answer to the "S-Word" Picture Puzzle wins First Prize, and you have sent in no subscriptions to The Vancouver Daily Werld, you will win $35.

However, if your answer wins First Prize, and you have sent in ONE 6-months subscription to The Vancouver Daily World—either new or renewal—YOU WILL WIN $400 in place of $35. Or, if your answer is awarded First Prize by the Judges, and you have sent in TWO 6-months or ONE yearly subscription to The Vancouver Daily World—either new or renewal—YOU WILL RECEIVE $1200 instead of $35.

How's that for a liberal offer? But, look. We will give extra amounts on all prizes in the same manner. If your answer is qualified by TWO 6-months or ONE yearly subscription—either new or renewal—and you are awarded Second Prize, you will receive $500, and so on down. (See third column in the list of prizes.)

It takes but TWO 6-months or ONE yearly subscription—either new or renewal—to qualify for the big $1200 prize, ABSOLUTELY. TWO 6-months or ONE yearly is the maximum. Your own subscription will count, and we will accept subscriptions to start at any future date.

WILL TURN PARK OVER TO A COMMISSION

Sell Lots in Peach Orchard -Would Do Without an Electrician

A large volume of business was transacted by the municipal council at their regular bi-monthly sitting held on Wednesday. All members of the council being present.

Reeve Campbell reported meeting District Engineer Gwyer whom he accompanied over the lakeshore road within the municipal boundary. A close inspection of the condition of the road was made and an estimate formed of what money it would take to keep the right of way in condition. Mr. Gwyer had not yet heard from the Department as to whether the government would continue the repair work and collect 25 per cent of the cost from the municipality or whether they would let the council do what was necessary and pay the latter 75 per cent of the cost. Mr. Gwyer was inclined to think that the municipality had better go ahead and in the event of a reverse decision being arrived at, he would see that the accounts were adjusted. Councillor Johnston interjected a remark that there was a danger that the government might spend too much money thereby raising the amount required from the council to more than the $250 proposed. Reeve Campbell mentioned that he had spoken to Dr. King on his recent visit and the latter had stated that it would take $75,-000 to make good the upper road, while $5,000 would fix the lower road. H. C. Mellor, president, and O. A. Atkins, manager of the Summer-land Telephone Co., waited on the council to make application for permission to use municipal poles for telephone wires from the power dam into west Summerland, as the underground cable was defective and must be removed. After some discussion it was decided to accede to the request, formal application with rough plan to be submitted to the electric light committee.

H. C. Mellor on behalf of the Agricultural association asked that a parks commission be appointed to take charge of the Ellison hall and ings in readiness for the spring term park in Peach Orchard, and suggested the inclusion of a member of the council, and the association and possibly a representative of some of the have been prevalent this winter. other organizations that might be interested. Considerable discussion took place as to the electrical department, some councillors being of the view that from now on there would not be a great deal of steady work required. The Reeve however thought a municipal electrician was a necessity and Councillor Ritchie pointed out that all house wiring should be inspected in accordance with what the fire marshal had stated. It was decided that Councillors Johnston and Ritchie interview municipal electrician Thornber and discuss the matter fully with

SIXTY THOUSAND TREES PLANTED

As an indication of the steady growth of the fruit industry at this point on the lake, the planting of trees is a good criterion, and the record of only one nursery company out of the many in existence goes to substantiate this.

The expected arrival of another carload of trees from the B. C. Nursery Co., of Sardis, will make the third car from this source in three years, or one car a year. As each car contains 20,000 trees, it is easily seen that 60,000 young plants have arrived to add to the orchards already in existence, and this from the one source only.

The idea of this day is to educate the public up to the hospital idea and what it means to the community. will again observe the day and at the regular meeting of the hospital board held on Monday preliminary plans for the day were formed.

Laundry work, at one time out, is now being done at the hospital and at this meeting the purchase of an electric washing machine at a cost of $325 was authorized.

It was reported that a sterlizing machine had been repaired locally at low cost. It was feared that the machine would have to be sent away and that the expense would be high. The secretary reported that there was no improvement in the finances patient leaves the hospital and the Morley was selected as the representative of the Summerland union on that committee. He also stated that any shareholder who had signed a five-year contract would be allowed to revert to the one-year contract if desirous of doing so, and called upon any present who wished to make the change to give in their names. Only two or three had seen fit to revert, but if any more would like to do so, now was their opportunity. In answer to the chairman, only one shareholder expressed a wish to revert to the oneyear contract, out of the large number of shareholders present. The chairman understood that some of the shareholders were somewhat alarmed as to the possible liability of members of the organization, and he wished to state definitely that their total liability is the uncalled capital on each share taken up. The share-holders' fruit is not liable to seizure, as the union is only acting as agent for the fruit growers, and the former cannot pledge it in any way.

B.C. GROWERS BLAMED FOR CUTTING PRICE

Claim Is Made at Kelowna That This Firm Reduced Figure on Crates

COMMITTEE SAYS ALL ARE GUILTY

Appeal Is Made That Members of Traffic Association Stay Together

Kelowna, April 11.-The conclusiion reached by about 400 growers gathered at the Empress Theatre, Kelowna, on Tuesday, was to the effect that B. McDonald, manager of the B. C. Growers cut the apple prices on the prairies last fall by selling crates of Wealthies with ones in at $1.60 when the value set by the Fraffic Association on July 30 was $1.80. McDonald claimed he quoted the crates with the ones out. Thes. Bulman, president of the B. C. Growers was booed loudly when he rose to defend the action of the manager, but an appeal for a fair hearing was effective in producing quiet. He maintained the real offence was the failure to notify the Traffic Association of the change in price.

Mr. M. Barkwell, a resident of Penticion, has bought recently a portion of Mr. C. C. Aiken's ranch, that portion known as the Block Lot. Mr. Barkwell with his family will move into the buildings on his newly acquired land very shortly.

Mrs. W.H. Irwin, who has been away for some time on an extended visit had spent several weeks with her daughter at Gilbert Plains, and a New York and other eastern points. Mrs. Irwin expects to return to Nara-mata some time in May.

The latest sartorial fad to reach Naramata is manifesting itself among the boys ranging from 8 to 14 years. The Naramata resident may have noticed these budding youths adorned with a head covering of unique appearance. On closer inspection it reveals itself as being composed of the upper part of Sister Susie's stocking, with one end closed in masculine fashion by firmly winding it round and round with white cord. We are in a position to state that this does not signify a membership in a pirate society. It merely means that the youth in question intends to blossom forth in due time with what is known in junior circles as "a dandy pomp." A beautiful crop grows unsuspected under that peculiar head-gear.

Mr. J. Logie, of Summerland, addressed a meeting in the Unity Club on Friday evening, explaining the aims and objects and organization of the Arts' and Crafts' Association, a branch of which was formed a week ago at Summerland, in affiliation with the Vancouver Society. This association hopes to stimulate Canadian handicraft, while providing employment for those desiring it and possessing some skill of hand, and securing a market for their product.
A log cabin is to be built shortly on a picturesque site on the road to Peachland. Here goods may be exhibited and sold. Mr. Mann, of the Experimental Station, is to lay out the grounds and hopes to make a most beautiful setting for the cabin. It is hoped to hold an exhibit in abut a month, and those possessing skill in any kind of handwork are urged to send in contributions, either for exhibit or saio. Mr. C. C. Aiken and Mrs. Campbell Robinson are members of the executive representing Naramata.

Miss Beryl May, who is an expert in Swedish methods of physical culture, is organizing classes at present course, both for for a 12 lesson adults and for children. The winners of the prizes offered to the school children by the Board of Trade for letters during B. C. Invitation week were as follows: 1st prize, Kathleen McConkey; 2nd prize, Don Salting, 3rd prize, Alice Walters; honorable mention, Robert Symons. The letters handed in were read to the board of trade by the secretary and voted on without knowledge of the names. The winners of the first and second prizes wrote very comprehensive letters relating to the advantages of Naraniata, giving a very complete picture of Naramata, its setting, its trans-portation facilities, its leading industries and the pleasures enjoyed here. Those fond of fishing will be glad to learn from one of these that our Mr. Stokes, who has been absent hills are dotted with lakes which teem with fish. Miss Alice Walters. who won the 3rd prize, wrote a very charming letter-not so complete in detail as the first two-but showing much originality and a certain power in giving an impression of the place. The reader of Miss Alice Walters' letter will probably dream at night of "setting their teeth in an Okanagan cherry." This astute young lady also mentioned that we had a good board of trade here. Several of the other letters were good, but failed to make a place in the finals for one reason or another. The prizes have been promptly awarded and are now in the hands of the winners.

The water meeting called for

Thursday evening of last week endorsed the policy of the water committee with regard to the collection of rates during the present season. Mr. Rolt, who was voted to the chair explained that the committee had decided to refuse water to those failing to pay either the toll or the tax and that a letter had been received from Victoria advising them that they had the power to take this action. The failure of some of the water users to pay the tax, made the burden proportionately heavy on those who did pay, as the rate could be fixed at a lower figure, if the comto the east, was in Chicago when last mittee could count on prompt pay-heard from by Mr. Irwin. OLIVER

Not the least important of Oliver's institutions is its large and commodious recreation hall, the site of which was well chosen, just across the bridge spanning the Okanagan river on the eastern boundary of the town and, adjoining as it does, a large cleared field utilized for outdoor sport when the weather is suitable. The building, which is 40x80 feet, crected two years ago by the joint efforts of the provincial government and the local inhabitants—the government supplying the material and the inhabitants the labor employed in that time were chiefly members of paint was considered as a desirable the engineering and other staffs connected with headquarters camp. who formed themselves into an athletic association, and as such have since successfully conducted the indoor sports and social functions of all kinds, and also. in season, the sports held on the Recreation grounds ad-joining the hall. During the past winter, under the direction of sub-committees appointed from members of the executive of the association, basketball and badminton clubs were formed, and have since given very creditable accounts of themselves. Dances have also been held in the hall fortnightly, the music being sometimes supplied by local artists and sometimes by orchestras from outside points.

The masquerade ball held on Friday evening, March 17, was probably the most successful social function of the many delightful gatherings held during the winter. The hall was filled almost to its dancing capacity, the actual number of guests being 186. Of these the great majority were in costume. Owing to the condition of the roads the quota of visitors from Penticton was not as large would otherwise have been, although a fairly generous number from there did pay us the compliment of braving the almost impassable roads in order o set here. Some beautiful, many lover and a number of comic costrimes were in evidence. Of these many were brought in from the out side for the occasion, while, possibly, an equal number were designed and made locally. Music was supplied by the Incola orchestra and this was quite up to the usual high order of performance of this clever little Penticton orchestral coterie. The refreshments received many favorable comments and it was rumored that chef Gillanders was held responsible for his state of things. SCHOOL NOTES

Instead of the regular history les son on Friday morning last in the matriculation class an interesting debate was held on the subject: solved that Alexander was a greater statesman than Julius Caesar. affirmative was argued by Carleton Clay, Kenneth Walden, Russell Munn and Irwin Adams, while the negative was maintained by Phyllis Freeman, Davessa Cowan, Dorothy Tomlin and Marion Beavis. The balance of the class acted in the capacity of judges and at the close rendered a decision in favor of the affirmative.

The principal has from time to time explained with care the principles of argument and refutation as well as the proper methods of criticism by means of which the value of an address or a paper can be estimated. All those taking part in the debate did well. The girls rather excelled the boys in form of delivery.

Next week one of the lesson periods will take the form of an oratorical contest, in which a number of pupils will each speak for five minutes on some outstanding figure of European history. This work is of great value to the class, inasmuch as it stimulates investigation, the pubil being encouraged to gather informaas possible. It also provides opportunity for careful training in the art of public speaking, a most desirable accomplishment. Two very interesting addresses were given at the high school during the week. On Wednesday afternoon Mr. J. W. Bengough of Toronto spoke on Education in his own inimitable style illustrating his various points with chalk drawings on the blackboard. Some good wholesome truths were very forcefully presented. On Friday afternoon Dr. Andrew addressed the school on "Care of the health and Examinations." Dr. Andrew while emphasing the desirability of winning distinction in scholarship pointed out that on account of the intimate relation between mind and body the greatest care must be given to rest, diet and exercise. The health of the body must be maintained at a maximum to get the best re-

ONCE AGAIN ON THE MAP

Summerland by its decision at the municipal elections yesterday has placed itself in the proud position of being designated one of the most progressive communities in the province, and has shown by its vote its desire to take its rightful place on the provincial may, and to become a desirable community to prospective settlers.

With the passing of bylaws, for irrigation purposes, $55,000; domestic water, $15,000; electric light, $12,000; and school building, $26,000, the municipality will enter a period of industrial activity which will react in the near future to the unbounded satisfaction, both financially and physically, of all who turned out to out of a program fraught with great possibilities for the future prosperity of Summerland.

And now, "To work!" Although time has been lost over previous attempts to pass some of these bylaws, it is pleasing to the escaping gas. Mr. Bellew was tired of life; the world had been know that the voters presented a more solid front on the questions unkind; a note in his hand enquired; "What's the use?" at issue, and with the appropriations formulated above, the building necessary to replace the ravages of the fire, and the usual business incident to a normal year, the spirit of optimism should be prevalent among the residents of this community.

Taking into consideration all the advantages to offer in the way of electric power, electric light, water, irrigation and telephone, as well as large fruit warehouses and storage building, it must be ful climate exactly suited to fruit growing.

OUR VANISHING GIRLS OF B.C.

Fashion decrees that are reaching Pacific Canada have done a bit more toward the vanishing girl, but the bathing season will soon be here, to bring her back and remind us that she is, after all, still with us. For months, girls have lost their ears from sight. The latest vogue made it plain that girls' ears were de trop-whatever that means-and now the latest tidings from fashion centers announce that it is also de troppish for girls to Mr. Bellew's little life lesson is well worth remembering. Life's have hips—at least in visible evidence. In other words, it is darkest day must have a bright spot somewhere ahead. The law and reveal only the faintest undulation of lines from the neck place of sheerest joy. We are told that prolonged eestacies will only to the knee-high skirt hem. The svelte form is the fad, and the reach us in the invisible world. However this may prove, we have hiphips must go.

is apparently contented with taking away her ears and her hips. of self pity, it gets us nothing. And that blue feeling never pays. And, as if repenting of this theft of her curvy charms, special Forget it. Things are probably not so bad after all. generosity appears probable in the matter of skirt abbreviation, for early observation of the windows of the city modistes reveals still shorter skirts. Also further liberality is being allowed the chance of her young life this season.

Already the hipless girl has arrived on the coast and she is suggestion of hip lines only are to be allowed.

Fashion fads reported from the coast still allow man to wear his 1919 season raiment, and conventional black or any old color he cares to wear, will be permitted. Satin pants will continue to be fashionable in city and provinces alike—meaning the old-fashioned kind that are sat in.

OUR MASKED MARTYRS.

For generations the identity of "The Man in the Iron Mask" has puzzled commentators, but the war has given us another masked man, without leaving his identity in doubt. This is the Masked Martyr who has given, perhaps, more than life itself, in the service of his country, for life behind a mask must be worse, far, than a peaceful grave. Attention to this pathetic figure was brought to light the other day when Lady Juliet Tree, distinguished woman surgeon and widow of a guard officer killed in the war, reminded one of the touching figure behind a mask. It is said there are many masked heroes surviving the war, and on the Empire's pension roll. One instance referred to by Lady Tree was a trench patient of her own. He wandered back from a Hun prison camp with a diabolical German eagle tatooed in deepest scars on his face and neck. In London there are other veterans who wear masks, because their shame, their appallingly mutilatton Hun. Vancouver has a veteran who has never been seen name? Search us. without his mask. When he wanders forth on dark nights from his little garden, he flees like a hunted being at the approach of a wayfarer. And he has made his will, for he is not destined to kind of a paper. live much longer, is this masked martyr. He asks two thingsone that his little savings go toward endowing a bed for "Poor Kids" at the hospital, and the other that they leave him his mask purchasing power these days. and bury him with his poor face hidden from sight.

Peans of praise have ascended to glorify the deeds of our dead. Monuments have been raised for our heroes. Battle hymns and the Muse have been attuned to melodies in tribute to those who fought and fell, but what of our masked martyr! His last living years must pass in the Gethsemane of isolation. He is a glorified outcast whose worth must ever remain endeared to humanity that is proud of him. Over in Vancouver, where Lady Tree is visiting, she draws attention to this singularly pathetic product of the war. Can we forget him?

A CURE FOR SICK BUSINESS

Reporting on mental conditions, prominent educators report to the B. C. board of education that backwardness in children is largely due to myopia, or near-sightedness, strabimus, or cross-eyed abnorality, adenoids that prevent proper breathing, and dental defects that affect perfect digestion. All of which is perfectly true.

But similar conditions affect grown-ups, also, and they affect some of our so-called prominent business men who are wondering why in Tophet their business is sick, without sitting down to figure out intelligently, the real cause of the trouble.

B. C. manufacturers, for instance, suffer acutely from business myopia, and business strabimus, and defective business breathing, and faulty business digestion-all because they are not using horse sense enough to reach the great consuming public through the provincial press. It is business myopia or short-sightedness for a B.C. manufacturer to let the mail order man get most of the business. The ordinary man may be so cross-eyed that he has to hold a copy of this newspaper in each hand to read his week's news, but even at that, he is apt to have mental vision clear enough to see the value of conveying a practical message in the advertising columns of his home paper. Half the manufacturers and others that are helplessly howling about the "mail order menace" are simply suffering from business myopia, strabismus and indigestion.

As a cure for these ailments, we heartily recommend good old Doctor Editoris' wonderful curative printers' ink, guaranteed to fit all cases and restore the sufferers in a manner that will make them feel better than new. Try a sample at this office. No free samples. Come one, come all. Try it, and see testimonials at the editor's office. Thank you.

TURN THE CLOUDS INSIDE-OUT

If you happen to feel a blue spell coming on, consider the facts contained in this little lay sermon that comes from real life in B.C

The other day in Vancouver, some poor people sniffed escaping gas and suspected one of their neighbors was growing world-weary the polls and helped to put through and make possible the carrying It was a familiar sign there, for others had used the same means before. Their conjectures were perfectly correct, for they broke into the squalid little cabin of Mr. Jesse Bellew, aged 71, in the nick of time to yank a jet that was stuck into his mouth, and turn off

But some lowly gutter evangelists rushed to the rescue. They fed him; gave him clean raiment; cheered him up with energetic knuckling of tambourines and booming of a bass drum, and they prayed over him amid rollicking hymns. Then they cast about for a job, which was the main thing, after all. Finding the old gentleman was quite handy with a paint-pot, they created a new profession. It is going about town slicking up brass signs where the readily conceded that Summerland has a drawing power second enamel was worn off, and polishing the brass. Now Mr. Bellew to none, to which must be added the further inducement of a wonder- has so many clients that he has hired two assistants from Vancouver's slums, and he is waxing opulent.

"Mr. Bellew's own observation is inspiring to the man or woman who feels blue with the world's wallops: "Folks, I'm an old codger and thought life was over for me. Bless yer hearts, life is only starting! She's sure a good old world when you get to understand When y're feeling blue, just remember that war song and 'Turn the Dark Clouds Inside Out.' There's lots of silver ready to be polished up on the other side.'

The world is full of Mr. Bellews, although, perhaps, they are not all reduced to the straits of self-destruction. But all the same, now the "thing" to make the hips disappear as much as possible, of averages works. The world or life never was supposed to be a still lots of happiness in this old world, if we look for it. But most Fashion, however, leaves the rest of the girl with us, and of it needs uncovering. Anyway, it doesn't pay to revel in an orgy

Import returns show that $2,872,657 worth of mail order goods came into B.C. in the past mouth. Most of this represented products in arms, and the girl who can display a dimpled elbow will have that are made in B.C. But, who is to blame! If the B.C. makers of products fail to tell the B.C. consumers about their wares, through the home paper, how is the consumer supposed to know anything reaching the interior points. The barest-beg pardon, merest about it? All this invective against the mail order menace is all right, but while the manufacturers of B.C. are lying awake nights trying to figure out ways of saving a few dollars here and there, the enterprising mail order people of Chicago, Kibosh, U.S.A., and Toronto are awake all the time, looking for more chances of placing their sales in every nook and corner of British Columbia.

> Coast dailies are installing radio news service, with radio concerts wafted throughout the province. Some day, perhaps, this great journal may be able to send out radio messages of news and music to each subscriber's home, thereby easing the editorial mind of the worries of making up the paper and seeing that each home receives a copy on time.

B. C. products are being boosted in "Made-in-Canada" display in Vancouver. This paper can do some better boosting in this town through the columns of our own home semi-weekly.

"What's in a name?" enquires the old adage. Lots, if one considers the plight of Mr. O. Woe, Chinese, who celebrated Jinx day lately by being held up, robbed of $250, raided by the police, fined $500, and later arrested for possession of dope.

Over in Vancouver, where Gen. Semenoff is cloistered awaiting who wear masks, because their shame, their appallingly mutilat-ed faces are slashed and sliced with sinister cruelty by the wan-ferring with a compatriot named Col. Razviotkioski. What's in a

Available Acreage Will Decide Fate of Penticton Co-operative Growers Ltd.

Unless More Orchardists Ship Through Local Organization Business Must be Closed Down, Say Directors— Volunteer Committees to Attempt to Round Up Acreage Required for Efficient, Economical Operation-Meetings on Tuesday Largely Attended-O. U. G. Officials from Vernon Give Full Information of the should be blamed for the conditions Business Done in 1921.

(From The Penticton Herald)

The fate of the Penticton Co-Operative Growers, Ltd., is at present hanging in the balance and its future depends upon whether or not local orchardists back up the organization by shipping their fruit through it. If sufficient acreage to guarantee efficient, economical operation is not contracted for, there appears every possibility that the co-operative movement will go out of existance in

Penticton at least for this year, This was the tone of a largely attended meeting of growers last night in Steward's hall.

In the afternoon a meeting was held in Burtch's hall, when officials of the O. U. G., Vernon, discussed market conditions, the five-year contract and other matters of interest before a crowded attendance of fruit growers. The visitors from Vernon were: Capt. J. T. Mutrie, president of the O. U. G.; General Manager W. J. McDowall, Sales Manager C. L. Lowe, Organization Manager C E. Barnes and Mr. Ross Morrison, manager of the Growers' Sales Agency, Calgary, Mr. W. G. Baskin acted as chairman at both meetings.

The situation regarding the Penticton Co-operative Growers, Ltd., as presented to the evening meeting by the directors is a serious one. It .was shown that it was no longer possible to operate under existing conare extremely fortunate in securing ditions, but it was stated very strongly by Mr. C. E. Barnes that the would work irretrievable disaster for the fruit growers of the district. Volunteer committees were formed to canvass for new members of the Penticton local and a report on the success of their efforts will be presented at an adjourned meeting, be held next Thursday night. A Spirit of Enguiry

The afternoon meeting was characterized by the spirit of enquiry rather lish crop also turned out far better duce results and then if it did not than that of criticism. It was clearly demonstrated by Mr. the Okanagan valley.

One grower asked what Mr. Lowe had done so. would have done with the surplus apples if the other markets had not been available. "Kept them over for seed," replied Mr. Lowe amid a general laugh. The point which Mr. Lowe made by this remark, however, was that it would have been better for the growers, both of the O. U. G. as well as other shipping houses, for these apples never to have been put on the market at all than to have put them on the prairie markets and forced practically every fruit grower

General Manager W. J. McDowall said the reason the O. U. G. had advanced the five year contract proposition was owing to the financial aspect. The number of cars which forming a provincial parent teach from now on would have to be shiper's Federation. The executive of ped to distant markets rendered it the local association appointed Prin- absolutely necessary to have more Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Salter and son cipal D. J. Welsh and Mr. D. David money to pay duty and freight. In looking around to devise some means of raising this money, the officers of the O. U. G. found in the States when similar conditions had arisen the five year or longer term contracts had been adopted with great success.

Mr. McDowall then gave statistics showing the money which had been required in 1921 to handle fruit sent to distant markets. The freight on 667 cars, he said, amounted to $431,-100 and the duty on 440 cars to $79,-200; making a total of $510,300. If the usual advances had been made to locals a further $480,240 would have been required. This would have brought the total to $990,540. The O. U. G. secured advances against shipments amounting to $471,300, which meant that in order to pay freight, duty and advances the sum of $519. 240 was still required. All that could be done was to keep the growers waiting.

The O. U. G., Mr. McDowall went on to say, had a total of 158 cars in various markets from which returns were required before the polls could be closed. Of this total 128 cars were in New York, 3 in Toronto, 6 in Winnipeg, 5 in various points in the States, 3 in points in Alberta and 13 'hese cars had been sold to date. He then went on to say that the amount of paper renewed by the banks in western Canada in 1921 was three times greater than in any previous year, and the conditions in the Canadian wheat industry were no worse than in the States. Down there, he said, corn which cost 50c per bushel to grow was selling for 26c and even as low as 16c. In fact, he declared, much of the United States corn crop was being used as fuel. All other farm commodities were in like conditions. There was no option, he pointed out, but to place the fruit in the American markets where business was not dependent on agriculture. If the fruit had been placed on the Canadian market it would not have brought freight charges. Jobbers would not even accept the fruit on consignment.

Mr. Lowe then told the growers the reason of the O. U. G. was connected with the Traffic and Credit Association and pointed out that for the first two years this plan worked very satisfactorily. In 1921, however, the independent houses handled fruit on consignment and were not so much concerned with the return to the grower as long as handling charges were made.

One of the growers asked Mr. Lowe if the O. U. G. had consigned any fruit to Calgary and was told that all shippers had done so this year.

In reply to the question of who cut the prices this year, Mr. Lowe said he could not very well give that information at that meeting, but on Tuesday next a meeting would be held in Kelowna of all members of the Traffic and Credit Association, jobbers and growers, at which this information would be made public.

Major W. C. Angus said there seemed to be a tendency to blame Mr.

blame belonged to those growers who were not in the union. Nobody else which had arisen.

Only an occasional grower the five year contract, now wished. to cancel it.

The meeting then adjourned until 7.30 p.m. when the growers gathered in Steward's hall to discuss the situation which existed in the Peuticton local.

Must Have More Support Chairman W. G. Baskin explained that the Penticton Co-operative Growers had come to the point where it must either have more support from the growers or close down.

There were, he said, four courses open to the organization. The first was to carry on with a largely increased shipping acreage; the second to operate with a limited acreage; the third to close down operations for one or more years and the fourth, to wind up the busines and realize the

The business, he said, is now in suspension and the growers who ship through the organization in 1922 would have full opportunity to make their own arrangements for management and operation. The board of directors, he went on to say had called for and received the resignations of the entire staff and were tendering to the meeting their own resignations, which would leave the decks entirely clear for rearrangement.

Mr. Baskin further explained that the board had tried to work out a scheme whereby better financial arrangements could be made with the bank. All shippers were alike responsible to the bank for any deficit. but as a result of an interview with the bank manager it was found that if each grower signed a note along with his contract, it would be more satisfactory to the bank.

Amount Called on Shares. The question was raised of how much had been called on the shares and Mr. J. F. Park replied that $14.35 had been called on each $50 share. In regard to the five-year contract the chairman read the resolution passed at Vernon, which was as follows: Whereas it is desirable that control of the distribution of the fruit crop of the Okanagan Valley be obtained by the Okanagan United Growers and whereas this can only effectively be secured by means of a long term contract, signed by a large majority of the growers.

"Resolved that this meeting recommend that an effort be made to se cure signatures to an agreement by growers to the effect that they will sign five-year contracts as soon as such signatures represent 75 per cent of the acreage of bearing orchards of the Okanagan Valley from Vernor to Penticton, inclusive.

"That as it has been found impossible to lay before all our growers the principle of a five-year contract be it resolved that for the year 1920 the option be given to all growers of shipping through the O. U. G. either by a one-year of a five-year contract and that those growers whose contracts have been cancelled be given the privilege of reinstatement.

Explains Contract. Mr. Barnes explained the situation with regard to the five-year contract and showed that the grower signing this contract was in no danger as his crop was in no way pledged All the O. U. G. or any local could pledge to the bank was the handling charges. The contracts gave moral support and assurance for the bank that the organization would be in business for a term of years. The cancellation of the one-year contracts recently, he said, was necessary owing to a legal technicality in the contracts and not with any idea of forcing the hands of the growers.

Major Angus stated that the board of directors and representatives of the growers at Vernon had worked hard to see that the organization was in proper shape. It was discovered that the management was not all that could be desired in regard to a financial item in connection with the Growers Sales Agency. A committee, however, was appointed and the matter gone into very carefully and he believed it would be cleared up alright. Another thing which was found was that the local was practically only a collecting agency and it was felt it should have more say in the matter of the sale of the fruit.

Mr. Barnes gave an outline of the Growers Sales Agency and showed that when the manager was appointed in Minneapolis he was backed with the best of recommendations. He entered into some business in which he hoped to make a great deal of money for the growers and it did not pan out as expected. There was nothing dishonest in the deal, but it was a serious error of judgment and he was relieved of his position as soon as Central learned what had happened. The Winnipeg manager, who knew the deal was contemplated, had been called on the carpet with regard to it, but he had advised the Minneapolis man that he must consult Vernon before going into the deal. The sales agency, Mr. Barnes said, was being entirely re-organized and the managers were being surrounded with every possible safe-

Directors Resign The resignation of the local board of directors was then placed before the meeting, but a resolution was passed to the effect that these be not accepted. This was backed up by a vote of confidence in the board. The chairman said the whole board objected to being re-elected. willing to sign contracts with the P.C.G., which included a clause to cover financing, provided sufficient signatures were obtained to warrant wind up the business, Mr. Baskin operating in Penticton this year Sixty-three names were signed to this agreement, but, as some of those who signed had already signed the fiveyear contracts, the exact acreage could not be ascertained,

Reach Deadlock

Matters then appeared to reach a deadlock. The board was evidently unwilling to attempt operation with out assurance of more growers shipping through the organization, and although there was a number in the room who had not signed, they show-ed no inclination to do so.

The chairman asked the growers who had not signed to state their objections to doing so. From the remarks that followed it was evident there was a tendency to complain with regard to the management, and all employees were asked to leave the meeting.

Mr. Park pointed out that his only asset was his reputation, and he failed to see the justice of the request that he leave the meeting while his reputation was being attacked. He would then have no opportunity to defend himself. The feeling was expressed that any grower wishing to find fault with Mr. Park should be man enough to do it to his face.

One or two complaints were made egarding Mr. Park, but nothing of a definite nature was brought forward to back them up.

The chairman pointed out that the resignations of all the staff were in the hands of the directors, and at present there was no manager of the Co-operative,

Major Angus said it did not appear as though the board was regarded with as much confidence as the vote seemed to indicate, as the manager was appointed by the board.

After some more discussion it was decided to adjourn until next Thursday, and in the meantime volunteer committees will call upon growers and endsavor to secure sufficient acreage to make the efficient operation of the local possible.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor Summerland Review:-Sir. - Summerland-Penticton road impassable! Summerland Peachland road impassable! Motor taxes higher than ever before!

If half the money that has been sunk into the Lakeshore road from Summerland to Peachland had been spent on the Summerland-Penticton road, and the other half on the upper Summerland-Peachland road. would today have a good road both ways the year round.

The obvious advantages of the upper Peachland road from the of scenic beauty, abundance of road material close at hand, freedom from lakewash below and mud-slides from above, are facts with which I believe the majority of the citizens of Penticton, Summerland and Peachland agree, yet the powers that be continue squandering the hard-pressed taxpayer's money on an ill-conceived and hopeless proposition, presumably for fear of having to admit a mistake, Nothing short of stone and concrete facing will protect the lower Peachland road from lake-wash destruction. and even then there is still the far more formidable difficulty of preventing mud and land-slides from above to be contended with. To my mind it is only a matter of time before this lower Peachland road will have to be abandoned, unless government road funds are inexhaustible, which would not appear to be the case when we take into consideration the abominable state of disrepair of most of the roads in the Okanagan valley at the present time.

As regards the present high motor taxes, I think few would grudge them, if we were reasonably assured that the money would be wisely and fairly spent on the betterment of the public highways throughout the prosplendid gathering of a large number of Masons representing lodges from as far as Vancouver Island and the Okanogan District, U.S.A., as well as the interior of B.C. There were a number of very able addresses during the evening and a banquet brought the evening's functions to a pleasant and satisfactory conclusion.

The Rev. N. A. Harkness, of Van-couver, General Secretary of the Social Service Council of British Co lumbia spent Wednesday evening of ast week in town and addressed public meeting of citizens on the Crusade against modern diseases of society. In his capacity as secretary of the Social Service Council, Mr. Harkness has been in a good position to learn a great deal in connection with present social evils and in his talk to the audience he gave very many astounding facts and figures and made a strong appeal to the best that is in men and women of today to get out and enthusiastically bend every effort to stamp out the many social evils which are threatening civilization; and through educative and preventative measures to protect the rising generation. He laid strong emphasis on the need for better accommodation and equipment for taking care of the fast increasing number of drug addicts. In speaking on the drug addict question he said that people should not be too hard and critical with the unfortunate addict, believing them to need a large share of pity, explaining that their habit was many times greater than that of the liquor flend, and so innocently and easily acquired. In addition to the drug business and its inroads into society, Mr. Harkness spoke with much emphasis on other social diseases such as alcohol, gambling, feeblemindness and venereal diseases. In dealing with each of these subjects the speaker laid bare facts which the average citizen who is not directly connected with this work or some of its branches knows very little about. He pointed out cases which had been found in the city of Vancouver, which the newspapers dare not print. During the course of his remarks he explained to the audience the working of the social service council, how that

The council's work is financed by public spirited and socially minded men and that the council were planning to send lecturers on monthly tours of the valley commencing with next November, and continuing through the winter, one each month and stated that he was trying wherever possible to ascertain if each town or district would obligate themselves to support this arrangement to the extent of providing its share of the expenses of the lecturer on tour. He said that part of the fault lay at the door of the grower himself for not putting forth an effort to get the information which was available. The Major's motion was seconded, and an expression of appreciation shown by the meeting, which was replied to by Mr. McDowall on behalf of the other speakers as well. The following resolution by Mr. J. A. Edgecombe and Capt. F. Brown was passed by the meeting: "The members of the Peachland Fruit Growers Union, in meeting assembled, being of the opinion that there is urgent need for cooperation amongst the fruit growers of the valley in order to obtain the best returns for their produce, and believing that an honest effort is being made by the central board of directors to put the O.U.G. on a sound and economical basis, undertake to do their best to foster the spirit of co-operation throughout the valley.

HEAR REPORT FROM O.U.G.

(Continued from Page One) agreeing as a body to the price fixed. Almost from the start, however, there was a cut in price from independent shippers, but in spite of this we stood by our set price and would not cut. After the middle of September everything went to smash as regards values, and wheat dropped almost fifty per cent, so that the prairie market had to be practically abandoned as the farmers were simply unable to afford to purchase fruit. No one DAY-OLD CHICKS and Hatching saw the slump coming, not even the banks, as their records will show. In Great Britain, contrary to expecclass utility stock. Write for illus- in fact a total of 504,000 tons or neartrated price list to C. G. Golding, ly double the Canadian crop. In the States, where they had estimated 52. 000 cars, about 83,000 cars were shipped.

The shareholders present expressed some surprise at the size of the British crop, but Mr. Lowe assured his hearers it was correct, and stated that he had obtained the figures from Commissioner Baxter. As compared with previous years, the increase was tremendous. A great deal of thought was given to the situation, and it was finally decided that the only thing to do was to place the surplus on mar kets that did not depend on agricul ture for a livelihood.

Answering Mr. McLean the speaker stated that the price to be obtained from the New York shipment will be a fair average of the whole thing, it was expected that 70 cents would be realized.

On being questioned as to placing the fruit on the prairies, Mr. Lowe stated that if this had been done the price would have dropped out of sight. It was only the fact that they kept their stuff off the prairie markets that enabled the price to keep up as well as it did. There was no other place than New York to which to ship our apples, in his opinion. He agreed with Mr. P. G. Koop that there would be a fair market for apples on the prairie at the present time, Owing to conditions in November there was no good in holding apples for the prairie, nor was there any absolutely sound reason for holding for the spring market.

C. Munro drew attention to Commis sioner Grant's statement that his advice as to holding till spring had not been followed, in Canada, but pointed out that the American firms had seen the advisability of holding their crop till spring. He could not understand the O. U. G. leaving the market wide open. In reply Mr. Lowe stated that with financial conditions in Vancouver and the prairie, there was nothing else to do but to send to distant markets, and anyone could make predictions. He placed the reason for the rise in the market this spring in Vanthe orange crop had been frozen, thus compelling consumers to buy apples on account of the high price of the

Some discussion was made on the propriety of supplying a cheaper pack to the prairie, during the course of which Mr. Lowe stated that they would like to supply the farmers east of the Rockies with crates, but the demand was getting less all the time. Major Hutton raised the question as to why prices obtained for soft fruits were less than those of privat shippers, but Mr. Lowe could give no reason for this. He, however, in formed Mrs. Fosbery that the comnany wished to keep on selling soft fruits, although he could see no future in small vegetable growing, unless it was for the cannery, as the growers were up against Chinese labor. It was the intention of the O. U. G. to go after the express business, although from what he could learn there was not much in it, at least not as much as was supposed.

C. Munro suggested that the fiveyear contract be signed up, but not become operative until seventy-five per cent. of the B.C. growers have agreed to co-operate.

Mr. C. E. Barnes rose to say that he was pleased to hear the suggestion made by the last speaker as it was just in line with the policy the organization had adopted, and which five-year contract had not been abanit was decided to communicate with tees and get the latter to act as a other prospective purchasers giving pushing force in each community. It was felt that not enough was known about the workings of the organization and that builetins of interest to growers could be issued from time to time. In reply to this enquiry, Mr. McDowall stated that this course had been recommended, and was being taken up by the new board this year, and no their children grow greater and more doubt something would be done in the way of giving news of the organization through the local papers, etc. J. JURY RETURNS OPEN VERDICT TO CORONER

Much Evidence Heard at Inquest Into the Death of R. Pollock, Sr.

JURY COULD NOT AGREE FIRST DAY

Finding Gives Only Cause of Death With No Comment on Accident

After meeting at 3 o'clock and obtaining certain information from the coroner, at ten minutes past four on Tuesday afternoon, the jurymen on the inquest into the death of Robert Snodgrass Pollock filed into the coroner's court and announced that they had arrived at a decision which was read by Foreman J. S. Pirle, as follows: "We find from the evidence "submitted that Robert Snodgrass "Pollock died in the Summerland "Hospital on Sunday, April 16, "1922, at about the hour of 12.45 "p.m., and that his death resulted "from injuries received by his be-"ing struck by an auto driven by "T. The inquest on the death of Robert Snodgrass Pollock was held on Monday afternoon in the court room of the municipal hall, when the Coroner Dr. F. W. Andrew heard the evidence of the several witnesses produced by the Crown. Constable King was in attendance and swore each witness, while Provincial Constables McConnell and Robertson watched

The jurymen selected were as follows: Dr. J. S. Pirie, A. C. Patterson, C. CH. Tate, G. Inglis, A. H. Steven and Basil Steuart.

J. P. Foster stated: I saw a car going up the hill to the Baptist church. I did not know who was driving it, but saw it hit a person, just above the pile of wood on the road. It looked as if the person was hit by the center of the car in the front. When he fell the car rolled him over and he seemed to straighten out and his feet caught the hind axel school, to decide on the most suitable of the car and doubled him back over again. for the car to have avoided him? Witness: If the car was driven slow enough I should think it could have avoided him. It looked to me that he was about in the middle of the road, and he was lying in about the centre of the road when I got up there. The car had gone up the hill. BEST BIRD HOUSE

How to Encourage Insectivorous Bird Breeding and Protect Our Orchards

In view of the forthcoming compet ition to be held at the Summerland bird boxes which are in the course of construction under the capable guidance of Mr. Wishart, Manual Instruct or, the following will no doubt be of interest to observers of bird life and fruit growers generally.

Though every farmer and fruit grower knows to his cost the result of insect depredations, the city dwellers are by no means acquainted with those conditions affecting agriculture. The late Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, D. Sc., in his book on "The Conservation of the Wild Life of Canada" has estimated that the loss due to insect depredations on the agricultural crops is not less than $125,000,000 annually. Insectivorous birds according to the late Dr. Hewitt constitute one of the chief natural factors tending to keep insects in check. By encouraging the use of bird boxes in our orchards we help to keep down the ever growing hordes of insects which every year infest our orchards. The Dominion Parks branch, De partment of Agriculture, Ottawa is encouraging the use of bird boxes throughout the Dominion under the provisions of the Migratory Birds Convention Act. Certain birds feed to a great extent on insects, such as the swallow, bluebird, chickadee and robin, etc. The latter bird is particularly active on the ground at the time of the year when insects are increasing in numbers.

Mr. P. A. Tavener in his book on "Birds of Eastern Canada" estimates two per cent animal (mostly insect) the remainder is composed largely of berries and other soft small fruits of which little more than four per cent is cultivated fruit.

It has been said that the western robin does occasionally get into trouble but considering the vast amount of good they do earlier in the year in clearing the orchards of insects and worms, etc. as insecticides, robins and other insectivorous birds we have. To a juror: The car travelled quite a short distance, I cannot say the competition on Bird Houses at the Sumerland school will take place over us. We have been reminded during the first week in May. judges will be chosen together with the Manual Instructor Mr. Wishart to

MEETS DEATH GOING TO CHURCH EASTER WORN

Robert Pollock, Sr., Struck by Automobile Just as He Was Turning to Ascend Steps of Baptist Church to Attend Easter Service — Passed Away at Hospital Without Regaining Consciousness—Highly Respected Pioneer of Summerland—Native of Scotland.

Struck by a passing car just as he was about to ascend the steps leading to the Baptist Church on Easter morning, R. Pollock, Sr., passed away at the hospital at 12:45 noon on Sunday as a result of injuries received in the accident. Mr. Pollock and his son, Robert, Jr., had motored to church and had left their car parked at the foot of the hill and it was while walking up the tending classes in the buildings on grade towards the church steps that the accident happened.

It would appear that Mr. Pollock had been walking on the lefthand side of the road and was just crossing when he and his son were surprised by the approach of a car close behind them. The elder man apparently attempted to return to the left-hand side of the road, when the car driven by T. J. McAlpine struck and threw him to the ground and in passing over him inflicted serious injuries, including fracture of the skull, which occasioned his

Dr. E. C. H. Windeler was soon at the scene of the accident, and the injured man was tenderly cared for and moved to the hospital, but he did not regain consciousness and death came shortly before one o'clock. Following Mr. Pollock's death, Mr. McAlpine was placed under arrest and is held on bail pending a court investigation fixed for Thursday the 20th, at 10.30, by Police Magistrate Hutton.

The accident has literally thrown the whole community into mourning and the family have the deepest sympathy of all.

Looking to the east a few minutes before three o'clock one could see the dust of arriving vehicles, while from the south numerous dust clouds heralded the approach of further friends anxious to honor the departed. Turning to the north one could see group after group of people turning out of the main streets of the town, where business was suspended out of respect. Swinging round a corner and up the hill towards the church in double file came the members of the St. Andrews and Caledonian Society to pay their last tribute to a respected and honored member of their organization.

WOULD UNITE SCHOOL LOTS

Proposal of Board to Close Road Between Two Grounds Is Favored

Closing of the road running east and west in front of the central school building will be sought by the school board, At the request of the board a number of citizens met with the trustees on Monday and went over the grounds with a view to selecting the most suitable site on the property south of the road above mentioned for the new two-story central school building which will be erected under the recently authorized bylaw. All seemed to appreciate the necessity of closing the road, otherwise it will continue a menace to the children atboth sides. The municipal council will be asked to divert traffic by way of a new road to the north of the present buildings. Now many people shun that road during school hours. and numerous near-accidents are reported from time to time.

The plans favored by the board are those of a two-storey building recently erected at Courtenay, Vancouver Island, with some slight modifications which have been suggested to the engineer associated with the department of education.

C.G.I.T. GIRLS ENTERTAIN

The C.G.I.T. of St. Andrew's church held a social in the hall on Wednesday, when, under the chairmanship of one of the senior girls of the Diakona club, games and contests managed by the three C.G.I.T. leaders, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Denton and Miss Ball, were indulged in.

The funds collected at the door by means of the novel method of charging one cent per inch of waist measure of each person, causing some fun, and will be applied in building up the summer camp outfit.

The C.G.I.T. girls are shortly going to present the public with a Summerland Girls' band.

SUPERVISOR WITH HEADUARTERS HERE

Summerland Farm Will Be Center of Chain to be Widely Scattered

Illustration stations are to be estabished throughout the fruit and agricultural districts of British Columbia, a definite policy related to this having been established by the department of agriculture at Ottawa. These stations will be directly under the Dominion experimental station here, and in charge of Superintendent R. H. Helmer, he in turn being responsible to the chief supervisor at Ottawa.

A provincial supervisor is soon to be appointed and he will have his headquarters at the experimental farm here. Already there have been eight of these stations established, and more will be provided within a few weeks. The stations now operating are at Armstrong, Salmon Arm, Kamloops, Rose Hill, Barrier, and at three other points in the central in-

These illustration stations will be established for the purpose of demonstrating to the farmers and fruit growers in the several localities, the methods found at the Summerland and other farms to be the most efficient under the peculiar conditions of each district, and will no doubt be greatly appreciated and will prove of untold value to those who take advantage of them.

The placing of these stations directly under the direction of Superintendent Helmer cannot be anything but a compliment to the energy and efficiency of the head of the Dominion experimental station here.

WADIA LECTURES AT LOCAL THEATRE

Delayed by Boat; Audience Is Rewarded by Interesting Address

B. P. Wadia, who lectured on "The Commonwealth of the Future, the Brotherhood to Be," on Monday evening, was obliged to keep his audience waiting some considerable time on account of the boat being late, and it was nine o'clock when T. H. Riley took the chair and introduced the speaker of the meeting.

The platform was tastefully decorated with flowers for the occasion, the enforced wait of an hour was more than relieved by the excellent pianoforte playing executed by Mrs. D. Walters, of Naramata, which was a musical treat. Mr. Wadia displayed a masterly knowledge of his subject which was a profound one, and his handling of it showed great study and thought. It would be impossible to follow the lecture right through in a short way, but briefly it may be explained that the speaker showed the rise and fall of the different religions and politics from as far back as 20,000 years B.C. up to the present time. He believed that the lack of historical study was one of the reasons for being unable to grasp the present day problems which are occupying all minds. It is usual only to go as far back as the Greeks in our study of history, whereas we should go deeper. The speaker the East wave by wave, which broke on western shores farther and far-A. H. The Traffic and Credit Association it was maintained was the only instrument through which this cooperation could be secured.

While it was clearly shown that the members of the Traffic and Credit Association last season had been broken by the B. C. Growers, Ltd., nevertheless there was no proof produced that this had any bearing on the low prices obtained for fruit.

The statements of the various speakers during the morning session all went to show that financial, agricultural and industrial conditions were such that the market was demoralized and those responsible for may record another pre-emption, if disposing of the large Okanagan crop were face to face with an enhe requires land in conjunction with tirely different proposition than ever his farm, without actual occupation, before experienced. Such information as was, however, forthcoming gave the committee the impression that there had been a lamentable lack of co-operation amongst the shippers coupled with mutual mistrust which seems to have increased as the season advanced.

Mayor Sutherland of Kelowna Speaks on Anti-Dumping Clause Efforts

PENTICTON, B. C. Mayor Sutherland, of Kelowna. came down to Penticton on Tuesday last week, to tell the local board of trade of the efforts made by the Okanagan delegation to Ottawa to prevent the abolition of the anti-dump-

The report which Mayor Sutherland made on the same subject at Kelowna recently was reproduced in The Herald, and will serve as a sufficient account, his remarks here being along the same lines as at Kelowna.

He said that the Ottawa government had not been considering the elimination of the clause at all and was greatly surprised when two delegations appeared, one in favor of do ing away with the clause and one against. He stated to the board that he found all the members of the government cabinet to be high tariff men, with the possible exception of Mr. Fielding. The Okanagan delegation interviewed each member of the government and also saw the Manufacturers' Association. Some lobbying was done among the Progressives, but they appeared to be in favor of taking the duty off everything except butter and eggs. In the case of butter and eggs, the Progressives would themselves be injured if the duty was removed, hence they wanted that particular tariff to stay.

"In the opinion of the committee Mr. Sutherland said assurance had been received that it was quite unlikely that anything would be done about the anti-dumping clause this year, and if it worked smoothly dur-ing the coming season, the probability was that it would be sustained in the future.

The anti-dumping clause is a feature of the customs regulations which provides that goods coming into Canada must pay duty based upon the cost of production in the home country. This clause has much to do in preventing the entrance of apples and other commodities for sale here at slaughter prices far below the production cost.

G.W.V.A. Passes Resolution Dealing With Change Made in Officials at Kelowna

PENTICTON, B. C. Some excitement has been created through the riding of Southern Okanagan, particularly in Kelowna, by the recent dismissal by the provincial department of works, of Col. SUMMERLAND'S SPORTS DAY

The results of the endeavors of a few enthusiastic sport lovers to inaugurate a day of sports on the 24th May have been abortive, as will be found in a letter to the public in this issue, from which it will be gathered that through lack of interest on the part of Summerland citizens, an old time custom will go into the discard. was the wish of the meeting that lar-

Why the pessimism? Admitted that financial and other matters in the community have not been all that we expected during 1921. there is no good reason why we should become despondent and apathetic. In fact, as one of our prominent citizens remarked at the meeting on Wednesday, this is just the time when we need to take up and keep going everything that will tend to encourage us and lighten our path.

When we look around and note the extreme weather and other conditions which our brothers and sisters to the east of us have to contend with in addition to year after year of financial stringency. it is easy to recognize that we are in one of the most favored spots in Canada and that our hard times are made as easy as possible.

Why not take a hold of this sports day idea, back up the voluntary efforts of those citizens who have shown such wholehearted enthusiasm, and put this over at least as well as last year. We need all the fun and enjoyment we can get out of life; and why not spend what little money we have among ourselves instead of letting it go to swell the coffers of business people in other towns. Make your probable gasoline expense for that day a subscription toward the sports and stay at homewand visit your neighbor (who "THE GIRL FROM GOD'S may have been considerably neglected) for once.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor Summerland Review:

Sir.-Empire Day, May 24, has for a number of years been generally accepted by the people of the lower end of the Okanagan Valley as being reserved for Summerland. Last year we were fortunate in having a large and active committee so that the succent Beach was beyond question. Whether the people of Summerland are still anxious to hold their commun-Jity sports on that day and invite our neighboring towns to participate therein, seems to be a matter of doubt. A public meeting was called for the consideration of sports and a celebration of May 24, on Thursday April 13, and only six citizens turned up. As a benefit concert was being held on the same evening, the promoters of the idea assumed that the small attendance was due to the other function. It was decided to call another public meeting on Wednesday, April 19, in order to ascertain the wishes of the people. Seventeen citizens appeared and after a lengthy discussion it was decided in view of the small sympathy in the movement that they did not care to proceed with further arrangements unless assured of a strong public support. Until such assurances are forthcoming it was the wish of the meeting that fur-(Sgd), J. R. CAMPBELL has adopted a resolution calling on all members of parliament to see Canada first before they enter upon their legislative duties. The argument is that they will, in this manner, increase their knowledge of many railways, agricultural and development problems when they are seeing the Dominion at first hand and will be enabled to deal more efficiently with national problems as they come up.

FRUIT INDUSTRY'S FUTURE DEPENDS ON CO-OPERATION

(Continued from Page Three) cumstances the Okanagan frost proof statements or withdraw them, but as warehouses were well suited for fruit Mr. Barnes had by that time left the storage but in 1921 the shippers meeting to take the boat south, noknew the fruit would not hold up un-less stored under ice. It was there-fore shipped out under ice and kept mittee did not b in cold storage until sold.

There was considerable discussion on this point as several growers claimed fruit had been successfully stored in the valley.

One grower, when pressed for an answer, stated he had stored a large quantity and it was being shipped that day. When taken from storage it was in good condition with the exception of one variety, but he objected to making any definite statement regarding the matter as he did not know how it would hold up when shipped. Mr. Winslow said no mistake had been made by the shippers in getting the fruit out of the valley warehouses. The apples would not keep. It was believed the prairie markets could not come back until spring and the apples would not hold up that long. The shippers thought there was still a fighting chance on the American and British markets and consequently the apples were sent there.

Interest increases Interest in the proceedings com-menced to warm up when the follow-ing question was asked: "Was a deal made by the Growers Sales Agency for the Kootenay apple crop? Were the Kootenay growers offered a cash price for this fruit? Was this deal made with the sanction of the O.U.G. Were the other shippers advised of this deal? Was the fruit bought for cash or handled on consignment? What was the number of cars? How was this fruit sold on the market and at what price was it offered?

The audience demanded that the question be answered by a shipper. Mr. Winslow named Mr. Lowe, but Mr. Lowe stated Mr. Ross Morrison, manager of the agency was present and would answer.

There was a general call for all shippers to take a place on the platform, one grower stating he "wanted to get a good look at them," (laughter). When all the shippers were seated on the platform Mr. Morrison said a deal was made by his agency for the Kootenay apple crop. No cash price was offered for the fruit. The deal was made with the sanction of the O.U.G. The other shippers were advised. The fruit was neither bough for cash nor handled on consignment. It was handled on a control basis according to prevailing market prices. There were 170 cars in the

The deal was not made until October 8, he continued, and in order to explain the entire proposition he read contract made between his agency and the Kootenay people. Two Not Advised

Mr. Taylor pressed questions regarding the advice sent to other ship-

It was stated that two valley shipping houses received no advice.

Mr. Morrison said Mr. Lowe and he talked the matter over with Mr. Winslow and the latter thought the hearing." Order was called.

He then went on to say if getting Winslow and the latter thought the deal was a good one. He supposed

Mr. Winslow notified the other ship-Mr. Winslow explained that since the deal did not affect the Traffic Association in the Okanagan, and as the matter appeared of no consequence to him, he made no note in his mem-orandum. He did get in touch by phone with some of the shippers, however, and told them of the deal. Mr. Taylor said the price was the chief factor. The apples were sold for $1.75 and the committee was informed that this was because other shippers had previously made a price for winter apples lower than that set by the association, $2.10. It was found, however, that other shippers made sales at $2.10 after the date of the_deal.

Did Not Cut Prices Mr. Morrison said his firm did not cut prices. Another firm cut prices between September 21 and September This deal was not made until October 8. The apples could not be stored in the Kootenay and had to be

Mr. Taylor insisted on being given the name of the firm which cut prices between September 21 and 26. Mr. Morrison said Mr. Jameson of the United Grain Growers, Calgary, Growers, Kelowna between September 22 and 26, offering apples on consignment. He claimed that was cutting prices.

Mr. Taylor then produced a sales note of a car of O.U.G. apples "rolled out" previous to that date and showed the prices were below the values igreed upon.

This matter was eventually cleared when it was shown that the fruit in the car was damaged and was "rolled out" from Grand Forks and not from the Okanagan.

Mr. B. C. McDonald, manager of the B. C. Growers, produced telegrams showing his firm had refused to consider the proposition of the United Farmers to ship to them on consignment. These telegrams were dated August 23, 24 and September 12. He did not, however, produce the telegram to Mr. Jameson, referred to by Mr. Morrison, but when this was requested read some other communications which, he said, he thought of interest to the growers

Should Admit Mistake Mr. Bulman, president of the B. C. Growers, in the course of explaining the negotiations between his firm and the United Grain Growers, said he

During the discussion that followed

The tone of the meeting was that

Mr. Taylor said the growers committee did not believe any one party was guilty of price cutting, but all were guilty alike. Mr. Winslow pointed out emphatically that the Kootenay deal was not an Okanagan affair.

Sold Crates at $1.60

The question was then asked: "Did the B. C. Growers quote prices on apples at a lower price than other shippers were quoting at the same time and, if so, at what time and which varieties?"

Mr, McDonald said the B. C. Growers on August 1 sold five cars of Wealthies to a Winnipeg firm at $1.60 per crate with the ones out.

Mr. Lowe said a meeting of the Traffic and Credit Association was held on July 30, at which practically all shippers were represented. Mr McDonald was there. The values of Wealthies was agreed to be, No. 1's $2.00 and No. 2's and crates $1.80. Mr. McDonald went to the prairies direct from that meeting and sold crates at $1.60 with ones in, or in other words best crates of orchard run. This deal was made with Cran, Mowat and Drever, Winnipeg, on September 6. The other shippers were not notified of this change in price, Mr. Lowe continued, and when Mr. McDonald was before the association regarding the matter he claimed the deal was for crates with ones out. No value was set at the July 30 meeting, Mr. Lowe went on to say, for winter apples, because it was too early in the season, yet at the same time as Mr. McDonald sold the crates at $1.60, he sold Jonathans at $2.10, thus setting the price. Mr. McDonald did not co-operate with the other shippers, but went out and "was stuck." The result was chaos in buying and selling. Mr. McDonald said shippers were ready to decide the value of mixed Winters on July 30, except Mr. Lowe. Although he said nothing in the meet ing he told several shippers after-wards he was going to the prairies and if any buyers were ready he intended to make deals. He booked orders for sorted Winters at $2.10, which was a fair price and the fact that several buyers offered him contracts at $2.00 showed that more Okanagan fruit could have been sold on the prairies if the prices had been a little lower. He claimed to have no recollection of saying the crates at $1.60 would have ones in. Mr. Lowe said all other shippers were quoting crates with ones in at $1.80. By his action of setting the price for Winters and selling crates with ones in for $1.60, Mr. McDonald cut prices. Mr. Lowe claimed.

Claims Fair Hearing Mr. Bulman rose to reply, but for a while he could not be heard on account of booing. Between the spasms better prices for its growers was cutting prices then his firm cut prices. The offence, if there was any offence. he said, was that the association was not notified of the change in crate prices. Mr. McDonald had the right to change the price if market conditions demanded it (cries of No! No

Mr. Lowe said after all a gentle man's agreement was a gentlemen's agreement and an agreement had been broken by Mr. McDonald. Acts As Peacemaker

Mr. J. C. Dunwater said the purpose of the meeting was to promote co-operation. He thought enough "linen" had been exposed for the benefit of the public and any further discussion would do no good. proposed that the estrangement between the shippers be no further increased because co-operation all around was absolutely essential. The Traffic and Credit Association was a necessity and it was also absolutely pecessary for its members to work in narmony. He appealed to all to forget past things and to get closer together for the future. He would follow co-operation to the last, he said, even if he sold at a loss (cheers).

Mr. Reekie said it was evident every shipper was doing his best, for received a telegram from the B. C. the growers (laughter), and from all the evidence secured the growers' committee did not believe price cutting was responsible for low prices for the 1921 crop. He hoped all would go away from the meeting satisfied and that a better understanding would exist in future. The Traf-fic and Credit Association had an important part yet to fill in the interest of all in the valley.

ROAD DELAY STORY CAUSES SOME WORRY

Board of Trade and Good Roads League "View With Alarm"

WILL ANYTHING BE DONE ON IT IN 1922?

Suggestion Is Made That Project Is Held Up for New Route

PENTICTON, B. C.

The transprovincial road situation is a matter which is giving local or ganizations considerable auxiety ac cording to the expression of opinions at recent meetings of the Board o. Trade and the Good Roads League. Below are presented reports of ses sions of these bodies at which the report that the government did not intend to go ahead with Hope-Prince-ton road construction this year was One report has it that the new minister of works intends to "switch" to the Fraser canyon road; another statement is that he believes a road between Hope and Princeton can be found which will be superior either to the old Cleveland survey or to the Dewdney trail. The latter route is the one recommended by Engineer Gwyer and chosen by Hon. Dr. King former minister of works. But it is said that Dr. Sutherland believes a road following pretty much the same route as the Kettle Valley railway would be better still.

The local board of trade has joined the agitation over the Hope Princeton road, and on Tuesday of last week instructed Past President McDongall and Secretary D. McN. Lowe to send a strongly worded protest to Hon. Dr. Sutherland on the subject.

It was reported at the meeting that although Dr. Sutherland at his byelection told the Revelstoke electors the government would give that constituency through connection by way of the Hope-Princeton road, he had since changed his mind. In proof of this a letter from the minister in reply to a Penticton Good Roads League telegram, was produced. In it Dr. Sutherland said that the department had "not yet obtained sufficient information about the Hope-Princeton road to warrant the expenditure of so much money without more detail." And this after about ten years of enquiry.

"Absolute bunk," was the comment made by one member of the board of trade upon the Sutherland letter." It was pointed out that Hon. Dr.

King, former works minister, had officially stated that, following full investigations lasting through several seasons, the government had decided to construct a secondary road between Hope and Princeton by way of the old Dewney trail.

But in his letter to the local Good Roads League the new minister said that there would possibly be no expenditure on the transprovincial road project this year except in gathering more information. The consensus of opinion at the board of trade session was that the government did not want to undertake the expenditure on a transprovincial road this year and had therefore delayed the project on the plea of further inquiry. The resolution forwarded to the minister by the local board of trade

"Be it resolved that this board strongly urge the present minister of public works, Hon. Dr. Sutherland, to adhere to the decision which the provincial government has already announced and to implement the promise made by his predecessor in office in order that the furnishing of

There was only a small attendance at the meeting on Thursday evening, other events taking place at the same with an inventory of manufactured Some interesting discussions took place, however, chief of which was the question of the necessity for section of the trans-provincial high-

The action taken by the officers of the league in wiring the minister of public works protesting against the apparent decision of the government to abandon this work on the road for this year was confirmed, and a committee appointed to immediately draft a resolution and forward it to Fremier Oliver and Hon, Dr. Sutherland, point ing out the urgency of starting and carrying out the road programme in

The following from the Vancouver Province seems to throw a different light on the situation:

In spite of rumors to the contrary there will be no change in the route of the transprovincial highway from Hope to Princeton, according to P.W. Certain survey work remains to be done, Mr. Gregory was informed by Dr. Sutherland. When this is finished it will be decided whether or not finances will permit of construction work being put in hand this year, the minister told him.

The Princeton Board of Trade is planning to have a party of members of the Vancouver Automobile Club motor to Hope this summer and ride over the proposed route into Prince-

FRUIT PRODUCTS ANNUAL REPORT

Operations of Year Covered at Meeting Held Recently at Vernon

Vernon-The annual meeting of the O.U.G. Fruit Products Company, Ltd., was held in the Court House on Friday afternoon, the proceedings lasting but an hour or so.

Mr. Mutrie, the president, in his opening address briefly reviewed the past year and told of the depressed trade conditions which had worked against the successful sale of canned goods and other products put up by the company.

Mr. W. A. Ferguson, the manager, said that he was confident that a profit would be shown over this year's inventories.

Mr. Cossit thought that arrangements might be entered into with the pickle company to operate the plant 100 days at an overhead expense of $22,000, this he hoped would be considerably cut down.

Mr. Mutrie explained that one o the problems of the company was to spread the overhead over a longer period. Last year the plant operated in the off months.

The directors' report and the balance sheet were adopted, several questions were asked and the meeting adjourned after naming the directors of the O. U. G. the directors of the company.

The report read: To the Shareholders,

O. U. G. Fruit Products, Ltd., Vernon, B. C. Gentlemen-We have pleasure in appointed: Capt. J. T. Mutrie, president; E. R. Simpson, vice-president; W. J. Mc-Dowall, Secretary-treasurer.

During the year eleven directors' meetings were held and as such meetings were held whilst the board was Vernon attending the meetings of the directors of the Okanagan United Growers, Ltd., expenditure for expenses or directors indemnity was tional accommodation, a warehouse was erected of hollow tile construc tion, which, with full basement gives us considerable storage space for fresh fruit during the season, the cost of this necessary addition amounted to $9156.00.

Canning operations were started on July 6th, on cherries, of which we canned 38,707 lbs., made up of 1831 lbs. black cherries (mostly Windsors), 15.166 lbs. of red cherries (Montmorency and Olivets), 21,710 lbs. sweet cherries (principally Yellow Spanish) These were followed by apricots, of which we were only able to secure a very limited quantity, totalling 10,133 bs., and which was not sufficient to enable us to make as large a pack of this commodity as desired.

Other commodities canned were as follows: Blackberries 11,751 lbs.; pears 18,327 lbs.; peaches 20,189 lbs.; prunes 7,967 lbs.; plums 12,377 lbs. apples 50,000 lbs.

The evaporating season opened on Sept. 21st, and by speeding up operations we were able to put through as high as 29 tons of apples in 10 hours, this necessitating the kilns working the full 24 hours. Sixteen hundred and twenty-six tons of apples were handled for evaporating purposes, producing 397,069 lbs. of finished product.

Owing to the exceedingly heavy windfall we were, at one period, unable to keep up with the deliveries. and for lack of storage were forced to dispose of a considerable quantity of the raw product. Had this not been done the shrinkage would have been very heavy-999 3-4 tons of apples were sold in the raw state. The plant was run at full capacity during the evaporating season which ended December 29. During the season we also handled two carloads of cider and 43,788 lbs. of evaporated peelings and cores, this latter being disposed of to jam and vinegar makers.

Sales The total sales amounted to $67. o99.75, of which total $11,421.28 was for goods carried over from the previous year. The sales of 1921 product amounted to $45,743.88, being made 📗 up of canned goods, $4471.98; evaporated apples and cider, $41,271.90, in addition to which raw product amounting to $9934.59 was disposed

Our pack of evaporated apples has a very high reputation and we have no hesitation in saying that it is now firmly established amongst the trade and commands the highest market

In introducing our canned goods to the trade, we feel that we have had to meet a difficult situation brought about by the depressed business conditions, but we are confident that considerable headway has been made and that we will receive preference from a large section of the trade when business is being placed. These goods have been very favorably commented on, the entire pack of apricots and pears has been cleaned up, peaches are practically sold out, and all other lines are being gradually disposed of ket and light holdings on most of the lines carried over

Capital Account

This account at March 1, 1921, showed an issue of 3704 shares of $10.00 each, representing $37,040, less unpaid calls amounting to $482.50, or a net total of $36,557.50. During the year a further 2846 shares were sold of which 1500 shares were taken by the Okanagan United Growers, Ltd., the balance being sold by certain of the locals affiliated with the Okanagan United Growers, Ltd., and to various growers. The account now represents an issue of 6550 shares of a value of $65.500, on which there has been paid $65.223.55.

The year's operations would have made a much more favorable showing had it not been for the demoralized condition of the market during the first half of the year. The market condition, coupled with the fact that we were not in a financial position to carry over the 1920 pack to a later period made it imperative to take a loss on the commodities carried over. The depreciation in value has been absorbed in this year's busi-

For the purpose of this year's in ventory evaporated apples have been conservatively priced with a rising been priced below market value, so profit on the inventory prices.

The operations of this and the previous season demonstrate the necessseason's operations and for the longest period possible, thereby reducing the overhead expenses to a far greater extent by spreading them over a much longer operating season and a much heavier pack.

Fungi and Pottery Mildew Discussed-Exhibits of Fungi Growth Examined

That though there are psychological times when it is best to spray for powdery mildew and that much good may then be done, there is no absolute control for that pest at the present time is the conclusion drawn from the remarks made by the Do minion Government pathologist, H. R. McCarty, of the Experimental Station here, at the meeting of the Farmers' Institute held at the Parish hall on Tuesday evening .

President A. MacLachlan about 40 members were present, and without much preface introduced Superintendent R. H. Helmer as a speaker that evening.

Mr. Helmer addressed the members at considerable length recalling his, first work as assistant secretary to the Vernon Institute in 1902, and pointed out that the work of the Farmers' Institute held an important place in the community as an educational association for farmers; for mutual help; to get problems solved by the Department and for social intercourse. He then advised the members to make more use of the Experimental Farm by visiting it oftener as it was for their benefit, and although the officials were always willing to opinion that more practical assistance could be given by being on the ground and being able to show enquirers exactly what was meant to be conveyed. He also showed how that by united action under such an or ganization they were able to get recognition from the department, who were now supplying those who needed it with cheap stumping powder

The speaker spoke of needed funds for the institute and also the necessity for active members to take an interest in the meetings, and suggested that a strong program committee be formed, who would see that their program was adhered to Every man, said Mr. Helmer, has a fact that out of 26 members of the Trout Creek Farmers' Institute, only one member had fallen down on giving an address.

The minister, however, does not accept her advances, and has a tender eye for the new teacher, which is much re sented by the old maid, while a neigh-boring young man (Guy Walden) and the daughter show a great liking for one another. DISCUSS PLANS OF NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL BLDG.

Will Be Hot Water Heated and Ventilated in Thorough Manner

GOVERNMENT STAFF ARCHITECT HERE

Confers With Trustees -Every Precaution Against Fire From Basement

At a brief informal meeting of the school board held on Monday last, plans and specifications for the new central school building were discussed with G. S. Ford, supervising architect on the staff of the Department of Public Works. Some minor alterations are being made in the plans to better suit local requirements.

Provision will be made to throw two rooms on the main floor into one when required, which will give a fair sized auditorium for school purposes. All the rooms are of a size to meet with respect to air capacity for the maximum attendance of forty.

Both floors will be provided with hydrants and a fire hose which will be connected with a two inch pipe under heavy pressure. The building will be heated by hot water and the boiler room in the basement will be made as near fire proof, as possible. Provision is also being made for proper ventilation.

BRIDGE WORK IS IN LOCAL HANDS

T. J. McAlpine who has been in charge of the work has completed a Warren truss which carries the big siphon across the Okanagan river at Oliver. The siphon was originally built on piling, but this was found to be unsafe and a span of 91 feet has been put in place of the piling. Last fall Mr. McAlpine built two bridges in the vicinity of Oliver on the Soldier Settlement lands. He will leave the first of next week for Kelowna, where he will supervise the construction of a bridge 240 feet long across the Mission Creek on the road leading to the K.L.O. bench. This bridge will have a span of 60 feet ing vocal solos, the latter being in and approaches totalling 180 feet. Upon completion of that bridge, Mr. McAlpine will probably move with the bridge gang to Mara, to build a bridge some 500 or 600 feet in length across the Shuswap.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CABIN WILL OPEN

Work on the Arts and Crafts cabin in Peach Orchard is proceeding rapidly, the logs being now all in place, arrangements made for the latter's and the floor put down. The laying out of the grounds will soon be starthumiliation of the daughter, who an ed, in order to prepare for the opening of the building on June 1st. Many beautiful paintings will be shown at that' time, many of them being kindly loaned from the National Gallery at Ottawa.

Residents of the whole valley district are asked to send in art work of any kind in time for the opening of the local branch on June 1st, such as needlework, woodwork, brass-Hopkins) returns from the city only work, etc., etc., so that a good show can be made. Contributions will be received at Naramata by Mrs. R. C. Robinson; at Summerland Drug Store, and at the Canadian Bank of Commerce and Drug Store, West Summerland.

MAKE GARDENS A BLESSING

War gardens were considered necessary in order to increase the supply of food. Now the need, in America at least, is not so great. But undoubtedly there will be many gardens planted this spring simply for the pleasure which is to be derived from working in the soil after a fatiguing day at the office. Would it not be a good plan for those who raise potatoes and corn not from Angove. The difficult part of the old necessity, but for personal pleasure, maid was admirably played by Mrs. to donate the money which they Knowles, who kept the audience much would otherwise spend for green vegetables to the funds for feeding the starving peoples of, other lands? Then, indeed, their gardens would be a real blessing.

> Old Frenchman Sees Joffre A familiar old face was spotted in the crowds of Vancouver the other day when "Papa" Joffre was driving through the streets, and the great gentleman wore the medal of the hands ecstatically in the air, Mr. Pagny said he remembered the great soldier when he was an humble subaltern in the old days.

NARAMATA

A public school baseball team came over from Summerland last Saturday and played a friendly game with the Naramata school boys. The Summerland team was almost entirely Entrance pupils, and a much older team and naturally Naramata was rather outclssed; but they showed good promise and with practice will no doubt make a good team. James Smith pitched for Summerland and Robert Horswill, Howard Rauth and Allan Iverson for Naramata. Naramata needs practice in batting, but did well in catching. Naramata team consisted of Robert Horswill, Robert Duke, Howard Routh, Norman Hanck Avery King, Robt. Symons, Harold Young, Lewis Arnold, Allan Iverson. Summerland's team was, James Smith, Jim Smith, Campbell McAl-pine, Leslie Gauld, Percy Rand, Har-vey Wilson, Arthur Knowles, Harold White. A return game will be played on Summerland school grounds on Saturday afternoon.

Lewis Arnold who has been spend ing the winter with his aunt, Mrs. M. B. Smith, left Sunday morning for Vancouver and Ottawa.

A considerable number of Nara mata people went over to Summerland by special ferry on Monday evening to attend Mr. B. P. Wadia's lecture in the Rialto theatre. Owing to his interests in The Review paper of a late boat, Mr. Wadia was late in Weyburn, entered the field of newsarriving, and Mrs. Dean Walters, who paper activity under the wing of Mr. had been asked to provide the music J. THE WRONG NUMBER

Good telephone service depends vitally upon care in calling telephone numbers. A wrong number called causes loss of time to you, to the party called and to the operator. Every instance means avoidable inconvenience to all concerned.

It is not the loss of time to you alone or to the operator that concerns us most, but it is the annoyance to the party called. Your mistake cannot be explained to him, and the Telephone Company is held responsible for your error.

Consulting the current issue of the telephone directory, instead of trusting to memory; giving your number clearly, and quickly correcting the operator if she misunderstands your call, will greatly increase the efficiency of the service.

Vancouver, April 26.-Few people outside the pension and medical authorities know the pension roll of the Empire has many men in perfect health, drawing 100 per cent disability pensions. WELCOME FOR ALI AT FORESTRY CAR

Attractive Exhibition to Visit Penticton on Tuesday, May 9

PENTICTON, B. C.

The Forest Exhibits Car of the Canadian Forestry Association, which has been called 'a travelling school in forest protection' will visit Penticton on Tuesday, May 9, and a hearty invitation has been extended to the public to 'come aboard'.

The interior of the Forest Exhibits Car has been made highly pleasing to the eye by scores of photographic transparencies lighted by electric bulbs which tell the recreational side of forestry. Lattice work partitions divide the car into the semblance of rooms. The walls on one side of the passage-way are fitted with lighted

"movies have unfortunate received a great deal of unfavorable publicity of late. We say unfortunately because the "movies" as an industry are doing a great service to the country and it seems a pity that this high degree of service cannot be followed throughout by the same degree of morality and fair business. The divorce case of "Mary and Doug," in spite of their oft proclaimed popularity, has offered much food for thought in the legitimacy of the deal. The death of Jack certainly done its share toward givdoubtful impression of the morality of those engaged in the movie world. Last but not least we have the death of William Taylor which the police are endeavoring to clear up and in doing so they are dragging into unfavorable lime light any remaining actresses to whom we may have been pinning our faith. This is all very unfortunate but we must bear in mind that the movand money have gone to its head. In time we will get things on a Mr. Harris, principal at the central sounder basis and the industry will school here made a break in his be run worthily. Until then let Easter holiday and came up to Peach us have patience and not judge too

FIRE HAZARD

That irremediable consequences might have been the result of thoughtless practical jokers, and far-reaching damages the outcome, is the warning which cannot be too much reiterated in regard to an occurrence which happened at our local theatre a few days ago.

Toward the close of rehearsal by one of the girls organizations, in the theatre, a smell, seemingly of burnt matches, was noticed, which increased in volume rapidly. One or two ladies who were criticizing the play endeavored to locate the trouble without success. and it just happened that the proprietor strolled over to the building in readiness to close the doors when the rehearsal was finished. He was immediately notified of the trouble, and after considerable search discovered a sulphur candle had been set against the studding of the passage at the side of the stage which leads to the rear, and when found, the woodwork beside the candle was ablaze. Had he been a few minutes later nothing could have saved the total destruction of the building and possibly a great part of the business section, and all through the supposed "joking" of some unknown persons.

In a public building one Sunday morning a week or so ago, two little boys were discovered just in the act of lighting a match to apply it to the contents of a waste paper basket which they had heaped on the floor. Had their discovery been delayed a few minutes it would have meant the wrecking of one of the most prominent

Naturally, in the latter case, nothing could be done to the culprits, save to wonder what kind of surveillance is kept over them by their parents, but in the first mentioned instance the mischief could only have been perpetrated by those who were old enough to know better and whose bravado was very misplaced.

The exuberance of youth has always to be allowed a certain latitude, but when it takes this manner of expending itself, a halt is necessary to be called. Without being at all vindictive, it cannot but be right to state that such actions should be severely frowned upon, and if necessary the aid of the law invoked to unearth the offenders. Suffice it to say that but for a fortuitious chain of circumstances, this new and thriving business centre might today be a mass of ruins, to say nothing of possible loss of life.

ABOUT OURSELVES

Readers of The Review will be pleased to know that although down, we are not knocked out, and are coming back stronger than ever, after having had the most serious setback by fire that could happen to any business concern.

As a consequence of many annoying delays, the announcement of future action has been somewhat tardy, but we are glad to say that a carload of machinery is now rolling and will arrive in Summerland within a few days, when it will be immediately unloaded

Some considerable time has been taken up in trying to obtain quarters in which to work, and after searching around diligently, it has been decided to rent for the present, the old Felix Hotel on Shaughnessy avenue, as this is practically the only building immediately available. Future plans will have to be decided later.

The Review Publishing Company, Ltd., are taking a big step, and making a large investment on the prospects of the future of Peachland, Naramata and Summerland, and believe that time will show the results of their confidence in this fruit growing section of the Valley, and trust that the spirit in which this adventure is made, will be met by the same spirit on the part of the business men of these sister communities by giving The Review all the support which it should rightfully have.

WELCOME

The advent of a publication, "The Dreamer," in Summerland, marks another progressive step in the activities of the community, and makes the third literary effort in print to be issued from this Okanagan lakeside centre.

As indicated on the inside cover page, The Dreamer is published by practical idealists who can think, feel and dream, and then get out and hustle to make their dreams come true, and is "dedicated to the Spirit of the New Age."

The little booklet apologises in advance for any mistakes that a new publication may make, but we hardly think this necessary, having found that it is best to leave it to the other fellow to point out the mistakes before apologizing.

An article on the economic future of the fruit industry introduces some worth-while thoughts on the subject, and "The Discovery of the Okanagan," from the journal of David Thompson, and dated 1811, gives promise of great interest. The other articles on Arts and Crafts and such like, make good reading, and The Review has much pleasure in welcoming in its little "brother," for whom there is no doubt a little niche in the community, as there is with every new little brother. .

A ROTTEN DEAL

Much popular indignation was manifested throughout the district last week when it was learned that Col. Donnelly, assistant district engineer, had been given a month's notice by the provincial government for no reason, so far as could be ascertained, except to give his position to a political supporter. The Colonel, who is an engineer by profession, and a veteran of the South African and the recent war, has won many friends by his quiet personality and by his whole-hearted desire to do the best possible for the roads with the scanty pittance placed at his disposal for the work. Such summary dismissal was also particularly heartless in view of the tragic bereavement he had suffered within the past few weeks, and it roused the gorge of all who have a sense of decency and fair play. Without regard to party affiliation, petitions asking for rentention of Col. Donnelly were largely signed, meetings were held and there was every indication of a pretty storm brewing for the already none too popular government, when some of the local party leaders intervened, brought the government to its senses, and now it is announced that Col. Donnelly will retain his post, while some changes will be made in the subordinate positions under him.

It is this sort of thing that causes the name of party government to stink in the nostrils of fair-minded men. Public opinion has changed a good deal in regard to the doctrine of "to the victors belong the spoils," and any government that persists in flying in the face of enlightened sentiment in this respect is bound to court disaster before long.-Kelowna Courier.

SOME LESSONS FROM THE EGG LAYING CONTEST

(Experimental Farms Note) The first egg laying contest con ducted at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Agassiz, B.C., has been concluded. The results on the whole are gratifying to those interested. With 260 birds giving an average egg yield of 183,61 eggs, the birds in the best pen averaging 224.7 eggs, and the best hen laying 283 eggs, the results are most encouraging. When we compare these results with an average of 145.15 eggs per bird secured at the Canadian contest at Ottawa, and an average of 159.7 eggs per bird secured at the Tenth International Egg Laying contest at Storrs, Connecticut; and when we learn that no other Canadian contest can show an average egg yield to equal this, we conclude that the birds in this contest were worthy ones, for which all praise is due their breeders. Credit must also be given to climatic conditions, and the en-vironment under which these birds worked must have been satisfactory to make these creditable records. Hence one of the clearest facts proven place to none in the Dominion from K. S. Hogg returned from Vancou the standpoint of the poultryman. More and more, the amateur, the chicks or breeders. Thus we learn that the road to success in the poultry business is through egg records, and these are best secured in a comparative way through contests. No longer

The Canadian Pacific Steamships liner "Empress of Scotland" has been chartered by Frank C. Clark, New York, for a cruise of 56 days to the Mediterranean, calling at the various European ports. She left Nev York on February 4th, with ev berth booked.

This spring the "Empress of Scotland" will carry on a regular service between Quebec, Cherbourg, Southampton and Hamburg. She is scheduled to leave Quebec on her first outward journey from Canada early in May. The "Empress of Scotland" is the largest vessel in the Atlantic fleet of the Canadian Pacific, and one of the most luxurious versels in the service. This steamship has recently undergone a very compre-harrive overhaul and has been anapted for burning oil fuel instead of coal. Her Second Class passenger accommodation has been in-creased and improved. Her Third Class accommodation has also been greatly improved, a new Third Class Dining Saloon having been arranged at the forward end of the ship, together with a Lounge and Smoke Room, and an additional Third Class Dining Saloon arranged aft. NEW MOVE IS PLANNED FOR FRUIT SELLING

O. U. G. Suggests That Shippers Limit Sales on Home Market

WOULD PLACE ALL SURPLUS AS EXPORT

This Policy, It Is Claimed, Would Prevent Glutting on the Prairies

The Okanagan fruit industry, including both growers and shippers is not to offer for sale in the Canadian market more than the percentage of their tonnage which the market can take, based upon the amount of the total crop which the home market is able to absorb. All additional tonnage must be exported.

A circular now being sent out to nection. "For example, if it is found cent of our estimated crop each shipper will be entitled to sell in Canadian markets 70 per cent of his tonper penalty for failure to comply."

says that the new plan has been laid ure to comply. before the B. C. Traffic and Credit abroad. However, in future, it says it cannot see its way clear to keep Canadian market can absorb, send and reserve the balance for exports. Thus the home market will never be glutted by local shippers, at least. The O.U.G. circular leter reads:

"In pursuance of the policy adopted we now submit to them a to every fruit grower. a crisis in the Okanagan fruit industry, and our future success or failure expression of opinion from you by will be determined very largely by the soundness of the judgment exercised by all the growers of the valley in solving the serious problem con-

"The market conditions prevailing in 1921; the unsatisfactory results; the mistakes the successes and failures, have all been discussed and rediscussed during the past three months by both growers and shippers and the one outstanding conclusion is that a recurrence of these disastrous conditions can be prevented only by complete co-operation either by all growers or by all shippers. In other words the apple crop of British Columbia must be marketed as a unit whether it be through one or ganization or through several.

"With a production acknowledged to be in excess of the present consumption in our home markets it must be evident that, without some effective control of the distribution, limiting the deliveries to the consuming power of the market, there will inevitably follow a glutted market, consignments, and prices, below cost of production. To avoid this it tion of our crop must be sent to foreign markets from which the returns will depend on world crop and market conditions over which we can have no control. It may sometimes. but will rarely be the case, that these foreign markets will yield as good net results as the home markets, and it may be taken as a permanent fact that the question of profit or loss to the grower will always be dethe home markets. It is therefore obvious that every possible effort must be made to secure this stability and that can only be done by a proper control of distribution.

"This is a problem in which every grower is vitally interested whatever agency he may employ for selling his produce. The whole B. C. apple crop must be considered as a unit which is larger than can be absorbed in our natural market. The surplus must be sent to other markets and the dealers in our home markets must be given positive assurance that it will be so sent and not crowded on their hands to demoralize prices by over supply. Without such assurance no dealer will buy at fixed prices, for he cannot do so with safeone his weight, height or reach. He ty, and a consignment market will sume an undue share of this risk with the philanthropic view of preserving and stabilizing the home markets for the benefit of other grow ers. In 1921 the Okanagan United Growers did this but only because general conditions indicated the probability of very good results in the foreign markets. In 1922 it is more than probable that conditions will be quite different. We can reasonably expect that there will be a large crop, we will not have exchange in our favor to offset duties, and unless some practical method is adopted for controlling the distribution of the 1922 crop we will be forced in the interest of our growers to take our proper share of the home market, and will do so even though in the process the prices to all growers whether shipping co-operatively or through independent agencies, are forced down to the level of foreign returns.

> "In the disposition of this surplus every grower and consequently every shipper must take his proportionar share of the risk attached to the forecan, with justice to its growers, as land.

"This problem would not exist if all growers were willing to co-operate but there is another possible remedy, in co-operation by all ship-pers. A plan which in our opinion is practical and would be most effecbeing asked to accept a new princi- tive, was submitted to the associated ple in the selling of fruit from this shippers of the valley, the B. C. Trafvalley. The proposition in short is fic and Credit Association, at the that the shippers bind themselves meeting of their organization at Vernon, April 18th and 19th, by its president, Mr. Doberer. This suggestion was to the effect that when our crop estimates are determined, and in consultation with the Canadian Jobbers, we can safely estimate the maximum demand of the Canadian markets, each shipper will be asked to agree that he will offer for sale O.U.G. growers by the directors of and deliver in Canadian markets on that organization says in this conholdings, sending all surplus to marthat Canada can absorb only 70 per kets outside of Canada. For example if it is found that Canada can absorb only 70 per cent of our estimated crop, each shipper will be entitled to nage. NEW STEPS IN CO-OPERATION

BY HUGH J. HUGHES, IN "THE OUTLOOK"

there is something new developing for lack of support. along that line he is danger of being

To put it in a sentence: The next groups and the creation by such federative action of central selling and buying agencies.

There are those who will tell you that farmer co-operation is perfectly all right, provided it sticks to the local neighborhood, but that it cannot go further without certainly running into trouble and disaster. And in support of their contention they mention large co-operative enterprises that have failed. They argue, perhaps with some seeming of logic, that all other at tempts of the farmer to carry his business beyond his local neighborhood are bound to fail.

So, they argue, it is the business of the farmer to produce his crops, and he wants to do so, he may organize breeding circles and co-operative shipping associations and creamerles and elevators, or any other purely local body of farmers—and there he should follow his produce to market. The local co-operative association has gone to pieces times without number. One has no right to assume that cooperation will succeed or fail according as to whether it is or is not local. Some other test must be applied than that of size, or than that of distance from the farmyard gate.

Failures have been due principally if not entirely, to two groups of

(a) Improper organization.

Bad management. The latter cause accounts for the majority of failures of local cooperative enterprises, and the former for the more ambitious attempts at organization.

Bad management includes such matters as the selection of poor directors, or a poor business manager, or of undertaking too much or too little—things that may happen to any organization, no matter how well planned it little careful planning might have duct the current business of shipping. avoided, but improper organization is hands of the individual members.

What is a co-operative concern?" such a hard one to answer.

These blunders include proxy voting, the holding of an indefinite num- | ment. ber of shares, the payment of all dividends upon the basis of the shares held, and the cash buying and selling of produce. Nor am I forgetting the worst blunder of all—that of starting a co-operlittle capital.

These are some of the known dangers to avoid, though there are others, such as the diversion of paid-in capital to organization expense, that cannot be for one moment forgotten. And, knowing where trouble lies ahead, it ought to be fairly easy to lay a course

Over against these things that tear down the co-operative organization, suppose we put the positive factors that time and experience show should be a part of the well-knit, socially correct, and business-like co-operative association. The things that build up a solid co-operative business may also be grouped under two heads. They

The time may come gramme, we have a local association when you can successfully co-operate, built along correct business lines, acbut that time has not yet arrived.

Co-operation has been a household a crime to start a co-operative con word in the Middle West for so many cern where the business does not war years that when one suggests that rant it, or in such fashion that it fails

And right at this point enters a new operation that seems destined to do lous to get "co-operators"—falsely so-for the local co-operative groups what called. We have taken it for granted these groups, in the days of our that the man who bought a share or fathers, did for the isolated farmers two of stock in the creamery or the cheese factory or elevator would give the association his patronage, forget big advance in co-operation is the ting the long and bitter experience of federation of the local co-operative neighborhood after neighborhood groups and the creation by such feder where men dreamed and planned and invested their money in co-operative ventures, only to see the members of the association listen to the voice of the tempter and sell their produce to competitive concerns.

Our Danish friends learned a long patronage is of far more account than one's share membership.

And the new thing we are introducing into Middle West co-operationthe thing that is going to make it practically invulnerable against the attacks of competition—is the "produce contract.'

According to this plan, the associalive-stock and dairy products, and, if tion is not merely a group of men who have built an elevator or a creamery or a potato warehouse with their joint capital; it is also a group of men who have pooled their selling by pledging it, under a written and bonded guaranty, to the association. This assures the association, pro-

But necessary volume of business with necessary volume of business with which to maintain itself, in spite of that his horizon is fixed or that his provides that the grower shall give the local association a contract to deliver a stated acreage of potatoes The co-operative failures of the and performance of this contract is past, and there are many of them, are not at all confined to the more ambitious attempts of the farmer to sells to its competitors, the margin of profit so lost to the association is deducted from the face of the note-in other words, the note is sold, the loss deducted, and the balance turned back to the grower, whose stock share in the association is also made liable for desertion losses. Naturally, one might think that such a binding agreement would meet with opposition. In point of fact, in the instance above mentioned, and in the case of the Michigan Potato Exchange, this binding contract has been one of the leading selling features. A guaranteed acreage, and the control of that acreage, means business vol-ume and the business stability of the association, and the man who might hesitate about going in without such assurance, feels that he is joining a strong institution.

Under this plan of pledging, it is provided that the note given shall be used for no other purpose than as a may be. Improper organization can protection to the association against somehow be tolerated in the local loss through breach of contract, and association, where hard common sense for the further purpose of establishing actual labor involved in moving a car comes in and saves a situation that a a revolving fund out of which to con- of wheat or hav or live stock or

Some one, I am sure, is wondering just how this will work in case the grower is offered a price better than that bid by the association. A fair question. It would be a one-sided bargain that would force the grower ative association without sufficient to deliver to the association at all reason for its existence, or with too times and cause him to lose sales that he might secure through accepting outside bids.

And right here is where the competitive buyer has always done his most effective work of destruction. He has paid above the market until the cooperative association has been crushed, and then has taken it out of the hides of the men he used as tools for the destruction of their own association. The new plan-I call it new merely because we of the Middle West have just begun to adopt it though it is perhaps fifty years old in Denmark and in Holland, and has had a shorter but successful life in the fruit-growing regions here America—the new plan provides in the contract that the grower may have the benefit of the highest price offered, but that he shall turn all against business undermining by the new—to us—feature of the pledged business of the member. But the big job in marketing, as we are coming to understand, is to get onto the terminal market with enough volume of business to command the attention of the buyers-with enough so that we can go out and hunt the best markets and place our products upon them.

And on these larger markets the small offerings of the local association are at a disadvantage. The direct competition of individual farmers is replaced by the no less direct competition of individual associations. The work done by one group of middlemen has been taken over, only to find that we are up against another line of the same sort of fellows, firmly entrenched in the trade knowledge and trade practices and trade acquaintance acquired during a lifetime in the business..

The answer to this situation is the federation of the local co-operative associations and the formation by such federation of one central selling agency having a large enough volume of business so that it can afford to go out and establish its own connecwhile ago the lesson which we are tions with the jobbing or retail mar-just taking to heart: That one's kets or at any rate come as close kets, or, at any rate, come as close to the consumer as it is possible for t to come, with profit to the producer, whose indirect agent it is.

This is the Potato Exchange plan, now in successful operation in Michigan, and already odopted in Minnesota, New Jersey and Colorado. It is the plan of the citrus-fruit growers of the Pacific coast, whose business has grown to a volume of something like $125,000.000 a year, and whose agents you will find in every fair-sized city from the Pacific to the Atlantic. And, going back to the Danes, it is a plan that has made Danish butter and Danish bacon the standard of quality in these products the world over.

The Exchange is formed, not by the individual farmers, but by the local associations. The local association gathers and grades and handles and shins out the produce of its members. But just as the individual agrees with it to sell through it, so the local in turn agrees to sell only through the Exchange, and pledges itself to that effect. giving as a guaranty a $500 note to the Exchange. All the business relationships between the two. including the sales privilege of the local, offered a higher bid than the market, are the same as for the local association I have already described. And just as the local is managed from its membership, so the Exchange plan of management makes each local a member, with one vote, and provides that the directors shall come from the membership of the locals. This system provides both a local association and a wholesale organization, directed and controlled by the farmers who compose the locals. In so far as posible the plan safeguards against the danger of too much centralized power. And as far as it has been tried out in this country, such centralization has not reached a point where the welfare of the individual has been lost to sight.

In conclusion, just a word about what this plan of federated co-operation does to, or rather with the "middleman," of whom we hear so much. It doesn't do away with him. That, as anyone who has studied the potatoes forward from the producer to the consumer knows, is impossible. But it does take over his work -makes him, if you please, the hired man of the farmer. And this is as it should be. Without destroying or even disturbing any of the machinery that society has so painfully built up through centuries of experimentation as to the best ways of selling and buying, under the federated co-operative plan the farmer steps forward and takes a place in the big markets; and whether he shall go still further forward toward the consumer, or whether he shall wait for the consumer to organize and come the other half of the way to meet him, is still a question of the future.

But that the farmer has found a form of co-operation that will bring him safely, and with power in his arm, into the wholesale markets of the nation, is no longer a question. It is a fact, to be used by him in such fashion as he sees fit.

HON. MARY ELLEN SMITH ENTERS TAXI BUSINESS

Vancouver, April, 26.—The Hon. Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith has entered the taxi business. This does not neam, however, that B. C.'s first lady cabinet minister will run a jitney herself. She will act as presidentpatroness and kind of fairy godmother of the Ladies' Touring Cars, Limited, 614 Pender Street, and the cars will be run by young women who drove ambulances in France, or who were engaged in other work. One of these is Mrs. M. Collins, wife of a veteran, who used to be a lady cop in London herself. The secretary and manager is Miss Grace M. Burton.former newspaper girl of London and later came from Victoria to take up her new duties.

The girls will offer chaperonage, will execute shopping commissions, take care of children, and conduct a snuggery for their clients. This will not be an Adamless Eden, for mere men will be welcome to the service but it will specialize for women and girls, and offer care, dependability, instruction in driving, with other services. General Victor D Odlum, Gen. Leckie and other prominent folk are interested in the venture. Miss Burton, earnest, young and pretty, says the new taxi service practically amounts to a public utility and has given much of her own time and No means in giving the venture a boost. Mrs. Smith is enthusiastic and believes it will be something that has no exact equal in all Canada. The girls will wear natty, military uniforms, with short skirts, leggings, saucy little army forage hats cocked one side of their heads, and brass O. E.
