FALL FAIR IS BEST IN YEARS

(Continued from Page 1) ers on the land directed to getting the best and largest returns for their labors. The Provincial Laboratory of Entomology, Vernon, and the Dominion Field Laboratory of Plant Pathology at Summerland Experimental Farm, both had excellent and instructive displays which must, in the very nature of things, be of great help to orchardists who take the trouble to examine closely the information placed before them by this means.

The judges supplied by the department, who are to be congratulated on the excellence with which they carried out their duties, were W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist; W. T. Hunter, Vernon, district horticulturist; H. H. Evans, district inspector, and W. T. Anderson, district field inspector.

To judge the entries under the Women's Institute section, Mrs. Langueodoc, Mr. Fred Manchester, Mrs. J. M. Robinson and Mrs. Noyes kindly consented to act and were much appreciated. Mrs. W.C. Kelley and Mrs. W. J. Robinson undertook and successfully carried out the arduous duty of ticketing the prize winners of the school section.

A report of the show would not be complete without a word as to that valuable adjunct and ally, the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary, who carried out the commissariat end with signal success, although somewhat cramped for room, in fact, so much so, that an additional building outside the main structure had to be erected, which although making things a little awkward, in no way diminished the attention given to those seeking refreshment, and it is safe to say that the hospital will benefit largely through their efforts.

Co-operating closely with the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary, the Scout Boys, under Capt. Creese, gave a helping hand, and in addition, sold poppies for Armistice Day, a very large number being disposed of in anticipation of the 11th.

An attractive exhibit of honey was made by Geo. Weaver, of Naramata. This display was not for competition. Mr. Weaver was to have judged the honey class, but there were no entries from local beekeepers.

Secretary John Tait was one enthusiastic man over the success of the exhibition, which he declared was more like pre-war shows, the box exhibits being three times better and the plates ten times better than last year.

The directors are certainly to be congratulated on the success of their efforts in spite of financial and other difficulties encountered.

- Owing to having to go to press this afternoon and having waited as long as possible in order to get the latest prize awards, we are having to turn out this week's issue without being able to give the results of the apple judging competition by the pupils of the High School, or the winners of the silver medals to be won on points, Secretary Tait not being able to get out the latter results in time. These we hope to give in next week's copy of The Review.

MUST LIVE UP TO FRUIT CONTRACT

Kennewick, Wash.—Judge John Truax, of the Benton County Superior Court, this week handed down a decision making an injunction permanent against S. V. Nordwall from marketing his fruit crop elsewhere than through the agency of the Kennewick-Richland Fruit Growers' Company. Mr. Nordwall had signed up his crop under contract for marketing through that agency. The court held that the contract was fair and equitable and that while the marketing agency cannot compel Mr. Nordwall to deliver his fruit to it, he is restrained from marketing it elsewhere. Judge Truax based his decision upon the decision of the Washington State Supreme Court in the Washington Cranberry Association case.

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

The Rowcliffe Packer House here finished on Wednesday and Mr. Duncan, the manager, returned to Kelowna.

Mr. Geo. Jones returned on Wednesday evening after spending a month on the prairie, at his former home near Regina.

Mrs. Walter Morsch came in on Thursday morning from a visit with her son, Edward, who is principal of the school at Rock Creek.

Mrs. J. Williams Ogden is a guest at the home of Mrs. Alex. Millar, renewing old acquaintanceship.

On Thursday evening's boat Mr. John Brinson went down to Penticton to visit relatives.

Mrs. E. Aitkens and young son left Friday morning by stage en route for Vancouver. Mrs. Morgan took the same stage intending to spend the winter in California.

St. Margaret's church has been painted inside and out and its appearance is greatly improved.

Passengers to Kelowna on Saturday, returning in the evening, were Mrs. P. Dorland, Mrs. Robbins and daughter Mary, and Mr. O. Keating.

Miss Myrtle Keating and Miss Doris Long, who are packing in Kelowna, spent the week-end at home.

Mr. Jack Seaton, of Okanagan Centre, came in on Saturday evening's boat to visit his sister, Mrs. W. D. Miller.

MAKING USE OF THE NEWSPAPERS

C. H. Sawie, editor of the Omineca Herald, says that a newspaper, whether a weekly or a daily, is regarded as the one institution in the world which continues to draw manna from Heaven, and thus exists purely for philanthropic purposes.

Owners of newspapers discovered some years ago that the crop of manna was a failure and that there was no need for further sowing. In other words, the press was so put in the brown-sweating class. In recent years the press has endeavored to impress upon the public the difference between advertising and news. Some success has been achieved, but nothing like general success.

Every person, every business and every institution loves favorable publicity, but there are countless thousands who still ask for free publicity. The general public cannot conceive the number of requests for free advertising that the weekly press receives each week, not only from local sources, but from governments, political parties, manufacturers, corporations of all kinds, lawyers, and wild-catters.

The press asks only for fair consideration. When money is to be made through publicity that is advertising, then the press is entitled to be paid for its services.

There are two classes of free advertising seekers, viz., the possessors or representatives of wealth who figure that their own estimate of their own importance will over-awe the press; the next big class is the timid who have no faith in themselves, ideas, wares or products, but hope to ride in at the expense of somebody else. Both classes are finding the press is no longer conducted without a cost system.

The fair, open and above board advertisers find the news columns of the press always open to them; in fact, the press goes out of its way to advance their interests.

One of the greatest pleasures the press has is advancing the interests of individuals, corporations or institutions. But the press is a business and there are certain things money is needed for, such as wages, overhead, living expenses, and then of course there are taxes—strange isn't it? Yet many had an idea the press lived by good deeds alone. The Herald says: "Running a paper is no Garden of Eden existence"; and there are many who agree with this statement.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

"BROKEN MELODIES"

Concert Oddities.

In one of Arnold Bennett's novels we meet with a young aspirant to musical fame who sings plaintive love-songs at local concerts, and whose voice has an unfortunate tendency to break in passages of more than ordinary fervour. At such moments the singer turns and regards his accompanist with a pained air of reproach, but is, on one memorable occasion, covered with confusion by an audible query from the long-suffering pianiste:—Why do you look at me, Mr. Brown? It wasn't the piano that cracked." In this case our hearts go out to the innocent accompanist, and her unconventional but very neat retort at the singer's expense. But little mishaps happen to performers which call for our deepest sympathy on their behalf.

Excessive nervousness was responsible for the undoing of the amateur who was requested to fill in a gap in the programme of a certain church concert. He was left to explain his appearance to the audience when he stepped on the platform, and did so in the following naive fashion: "Ladies and gentlemen, Mr. Blank, who is on the programme for the next number, is unable to be present, and I have kindly consented to take his place." And, despite the fiery blushes which attended to a realization of his awkward announcement, he did so, facing his amused audience with the courage of despair to the bitter end. Not nearly so sensitive was the gentleman whose vocal abilities were far short of his self-confidence, and who stopped dead in a trying modulation in Sullivan's "Lost Chord," amiably remarking to his listeners: "Geel! I've lost the key"—a fact of which they had for some time been painfully aware.

The most irresistibly funny entertainment this scribe ever witnessed was at an amateur representation of an opera scene, rashly included in the programme of a concert given in a pioneer town "away down east." This town was only just emerging from what might be called the tadpole stage of musical growth, but grand opera had no terrors for the local talent. I never could learn from what opera the scene was supposed to be taken, but I remember there was a most sanguinary duel in the course of the action, and that the patrons of the performance, scorning the make-believe atmosphere which is usually considered indispensable in such representations, encouraged the combatants by their own proper names and filled the auditorium with cries of "Soak him, Ritchie! Atta boy! Let him have it, Bob! and so on, to the manifest chagrin of the principals. The fatal thrust, which laid the villain low, was hailed with a chorus of approval, and a vociferous demand for a repetition. This was, however, emphatically declined by the deceased, and the curtain descended in response to his persistent signals to those off stage. Had he consented, by the way, he would have been supported by a precedent in the old play of "Bombastes Fufioso," wherein "Artaxominous, bereft of life," suddenly revives, and joins in the final dance by the company—a proceeding which may properly be classed as a "concert oddity" of the first quality!

PROFESSOR CROTCHET.

Laugh This Off
"Following the lines of least resistance is what makes rivers crooked," "And," adds another, "Men, too."

"I never should have known you from your photograph," said the candid hostess to her nephew's fiancée, when she saw her for the first time. "Reggie told me you were so pretty."

"No," said Reggie's fiancée, "I'm not pretty, so I have to try to be nice and it's such a bore. Have you ever tried?"

FIRST TRANSCONTINENTAL TRAIN

THIRTY-FIVE years ago the first Canadian Pacific Railway transcontinental passenger train steamed into Vancouver, and the steel link of 3,000 miles binding ocean to ocean in Canada was at last complete. Quaint to modern eyes looks old locomotive No. 374, which drew this first Atlantic Express. It burnt cordwood, and with its big smokestack, its generous display of polished brasswork, which shone like gold; its array of flags and floral decorations, made an imposing spectacle. Coal burning engines had drawn the train over the eastern and prairie sections of the line. President E. W. Beatty of today was a small boy at school in Toronto, when old No. 374, with old Peter Righter at the throttle and George Taylor poking logs of resinous Rocky Mountain spruce into the fire-box; brakeman J. Madigan and Baggage-master J. Kavanaugh and Conductor Barnhart in charge...

Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.
 Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.
 Records will be granted covering only lands suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.
 Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residences, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.
 Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and must make improvements to value of $10 an acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown grant.
 Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.
 Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.
 Pre-emptor holding Crown Grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.
 Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homestead sites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.
 For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.
 Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.
 Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price is made.

PRE-EMPTOR'S FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the close of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.
 No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.
 Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.
 Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.
SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LAND.
 Provision made for insurance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.
GRAZING.
 Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock owners may form Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for settlers, campers or travellers, up to ten head.

Radio Will Fill Tents and Halls

By Richard Lloyd Jones

In most towns by this time the annual Chautauqua is over or soon will be. September and October are the fall fair months. These are the big get-together festivals of the people. I talked recently with a radio expert and enthusiast who enumerated at length the inestimable benefits, both recreational and educational, of this marvelous little mechanism. Rather boastful he said, "Radio will ultimately eliminate the Chautauqua, the lecture and entertainment platform."
 He predicted that the itinerant musician will stay in his studio and the lecturer in his library, while the country folk from coast to coast will need only to open up their receivers and a perpetual Chautauqua is theirs at their firesides.
 In answer to all this, I said, "Well, we are still going to have our fairs."
 "Yes," he said, "That's because the fair is a thing to SEE, not to hear."
 "That, I replied, "is why the Chautauqua is as secure as the fair. The eye is a greater educator than the ear."
 We learn more by seeing than by hearing. The concert violinist puts personality into the bending of his bow. His manner quite as much as his music becomes part of the emotion. We may hear him a hundred times a year but we do not get the full message of his melody until we see him invest himself in his fiddle.
 Oratory is still good when reduced to type and put in a book. But the oratory that sways with inspirations and convictions most has the personality of the man as well as the abstract thought of the theme.
 "Seeing is believing," runs the ancient adage. A positive person is more convincing than an abstract principle.
 Radio will add to our wealth of education, entertainment, and inspiration, but it will subtract nothing.
 The multiplication of good roads is going to bring the country folk out to see the master minds that they may better appreciate the worth of all the radio brings to them in their homes.

Nor did our friend take into his too quick deduction the human hunger for fellowship. We like to be together, to hear and see good things together. We love to laugh together. When our hearts are touched with sweet sentiments, deep emotions, we like to feel the comradeship of company. We want to applaud together. Whoever heard a hermit hurrah?
 We like to greet friends. It's nice to be neighbors. It's fun to say "howdy." It is living to ask, "Did you hear that, or see this?" we like to SEE what we can do. We like to see what the other fellow can do. That's why we go to the local fair and the provincial fair; that's why the movie lures.
 The radio is going to make us want more and not less. It is going to whet our appetites for more fine things and more fellowship with fine things. Radio is going to draw together talent and attendance. It is going to fill our tents and halls.

FOR A LONG LIFE

(The Times, London)
 By a remarkable coincidence the collective wisdom of three centenarians, who unanimously brand over-eating as the greatest cause of ill-health and premature death, is made available to the American people today.
 Mr. John A. Stewart, one of the most famous American bankers, and Mr. Barr Spangler, a well-known merchant and president of the First National Bank of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, recently celebrated their hundredth birthdays. Dr. Stephen Smith, 'the father of American public health,' died within a few weeks of completing a century of life, leaving ten maxims for the benefit of his countrymen.
 Dr. Smith was the first graduate of the American College of Physicians, qualifying in 1850.

A favorite saying of his was: 'Every man who dies before a hundred practically speaking dies by his own knife and fork.' His ten maxims for longevity are:

- 1. Eat hardly any meat.
 - 2. 'Drink lots of milk; if it disagrees with you drink more.
 - 3. Take a ten or fifteen minutes' nap after luncheon and dinner.
 - 4. Sleep ten hours.
 - 5. Sleep outdoors when the weather permits.
 - 6. Don't smoke.
 - 7. Don't eat sweets.
 - 8. Take no alcoholic or other stimulants.
 - 9. Avoid the easy chair; absence of work is the first step to the grave.
 - 10. Finally just be natural; quit all foolishness.
- Mr. John A. Stewart, who is still active as chairman of the trustees of the United States Trust Company of New York, and was Lincoln's financial advisor during the Civil War, offers similar counsel. 'My great rule (he says) is moderation. Eating too much is as bad as drinking too much. And I haven't smoked for eighty years.'
- Mr. Barr Spangler's testimony again is an echo of that of both of his contemporaries. 'I attribute my long life and health,' he declares, 'to moderate eating—I take but two meals a day. Do plenty of work and take little medicine. I have never smoked.'
- "Find words and pictures that compel attention—repeat and repeat—Advertising calls for repetition—and repetition soon gets reputation."—Arthur Brisbane.

7 ALASKAN HUSKIES IN "UNCHARTED SEAS"

Seven Alaskan canine huskies, veterans of polar expeditions and numerous winters in the land of the midnight sun, were introduced into Hollywood's film colony as players in Metra's special production of "Uncharted Seas," which will be on the screen of the Rio Theatre tomorrow and Saturday.

Alice Lake, who is playing the stellar role in the production, made friends with the supposedly vicious malamutes, and learned to drive them in spite of their aversion to feminine authority.

J. H. Scott, himself a well-known student of Alaskan woodcraft, took the dogs from their frozen home in the north and acted as their guardian during the six month's trip to Southern California. One of the animals was with Steffanson on his Arctic expeditions.

Under the guiding hand of the patient Miss Lake, the animals became acclimated and promised to become the least temperamental of actors.

CAN SELL HIS GOODS BETTER

The storekeeper is better able to sell his goods with a knowledge of advertising says an instructor in the art of advertising. His vision is clearer and his methods more up-to-date.

Advertising has exploded the theory that the market can be surfeited with any particular article. It has also been proven that the cost of an article is not raised by the fact that it is highly advertised. On the other hand, it has been found that the more highly advertised articles are cheapest.

"They Don't Answer"

When the telephone operator says, "They don't answer," it is after sincere endeavor to get your party. She cannot compel an answer.

The party called may be unwilling to leave a particular household duty—may be in another part of the home beyond closed doors—may be chatting with a neighbor—may be marketing—may be slow in answering. Strange, but true, calls are sometimes desig-nedly unanswered.

Telephone records show that the great majority of "don't answer" reports come from residence calls. In business, where it is a matter of dollars and cents, it is always the assigned duty of some one to be within sound of the telephone bell.

"They don't answer" is the statement of a situation absolutely beyond the control of the telephone operator.

Grain

THE Northwest was a barren waste only forty-odd years ago. Today, in a thousand-mile belt across the three prairie provinces, is one of the greatest grain-producing areas in the world. For the year 1921 the total value of the wheat, oats, barley and rye produced throughout Canada was estimated by the Government at $432,984,750.

Who Pays for Advertising?

This is a direct and reasonable question; and in the case of Weekly Newspaper advertising, intelligently used, the answer is simple: Nobody. It pays its own way.

Nobody pays for the new car-buretor that gives added mileage to your motor car. It pays for itself in the gasoline it saves.

Nobody pays for an improved cash system in a modern department store. It pays for itself in economy of human time.

Nobody pays for well planned and written Newspaper advertising. It pays for itself by reducing the cost of sales and by increasing production.

The advertisements in The Review tell you the best things to buy and where to buy them. Every new purchase helps the whole community to command cheaper and better goods.

Hallow'een at Naramata.
Over and above the usual prinks played at Hallow'een in Naramata, a good deal of uncalled for and most offensive mischief was committed in the Union church. The hymn books were taken out of their cupboard and thrown about on the floor, the seats were overturned and the organ and piano moved around. It is considered that doings of this kind are altogether beyond the bounds of reason.

FIRST MEETING 1500 CLUB HELD

That although the membership was not increasing rapidly there was every reason to be optimistic as to final results, was the gist of Secretary T. H. Riley's remarks before the assembled members of the Fifteen Hundred Club, at the Parish Hall, on Thursday, on the occasion of the first annual meeting.
A. B. Elliott, president, was in the chair, the attendance at the meeting being very small.
Considerable discussion took place, after the adoption of the financial statement for the initial three months ending September 30th, the principal subject being ways and means of increasing the membership. Mr. Riley pointed out that the chief cause was the shortage of money and stated that while there were 118 members, he had a large number of applications from people who had not been able to put up the payment of $6. He also cited the case of the Nelson Club, which was a long time getting its first 250 members, but which now had its full quota, and also had a waiting list of 400 applications for admission. The matter was finally left to the discretion of the directors to advertise to the best possible advantage.
The club is in good standing, its liabilities being nil, and assets $541.92, of which $354 is in the Mortuary Fund, provision being made for the immediate payment to relatives of three members who might die within a period of 30 days, a most unlikely event.
The same directors, consisting of A. B. Elliott, Dr. F. W. Andrew, Ned Bentley, T. H. Riley and A. Stark, were unanimously re-elected for the current year.
Keremeos expects to ship this season between 55 and 60 cars of canned tomatoes. The Dominion Canners will pack about 35 or 40 cars and the Keremeos Packing Company about 20. The several packing houses have shipped about 10 cars of fresh tomatoes from there. About 135 cars of fruit will go from that point this season.

SAYS GROWERS ARE HOLDING THE SACK

Markets Commissioner J. A. Grant says in his bulletin:
"This season's marketing conditions have been the logical outcome of the growers confining their business to 'too many cooks.' All the shipping agencies, small and great, have been supplied with fruit to sell on trust. There has been no prevailing unity amongst shippers in regard to the price they should sell the growers' fruit for. Each one has tried to get 'out from under' regardless of the consequences to the rest, and consignment was resorted to by all on this market, first controlled by the shipper and then uncontrolled. This condition placed the jobber in the position of having to sell goods to secure a large turnover. This they did by meeting all cuts by other jobbers; some real and some imaginary. They could not lose, having only freight and commission at stake. The only money put up in the apple deal is the packing charges and overhead by the shippers and the freight by the jobbers. Bankers were little needed as sales were made to the retailer on a weekly credit basis, and the low prices forced distribution at first, only to be followed by stagnation, then lower prices. The jobbers are not to blame for the chaos that consignment has brought about, it is the inevitable outcome of conditions forced upon them.
"The responsibility for the instability of the condition we are now facing lies with the growers themselves. If they cannot unite to prevent it, they may as well prepare for a repetition of this year's conditions. A short crop may save them to some extent, but until they centralize and distribute through one clearing house, they will not succeed.
"The winter apple deal can be still regulated by the growers getting together."
"There are millions who must be fed, clothed and housed. The world can't stop. It must go on—and it will. Let's advertise."—N. C. R.

The Summerland Review

Established August, 1908.

Published at Summerland, B.C., every Friday by THE REVIEW PUBLISHING COMPANY, LIMITED

Ralph E. White, Editor and Manager
An independent family newspaper covering Peachland, Summerland and Naramata and adjacent districts.

Subscription Rates—In British Empire, in advance, $2.50 per year; six months, $1.40. To U.S.A. and other countries, $3.00 per year.

Advertising Rate Cards and information respecting territory and samples of paper mailed upon request, or may be seen at the office of any advertising agency recognized by the Canadian Press Association.

Advertisers must have copy in by Tuesday noon in order to insure changes for standing advertisements. New display advertising copy can be accepted one day later.

Correspondence—Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and legibly written on one side of the paper only. The longer an article, the shorter its chance of insertion. All communications must bear the name of the writer, not necessarily for publication. The publication or rejection of articles is a matter entirely in the discretion of the Editor. No responsibility is assumed by the paper for the opinions expressed by correspondents.

Typographical Errors—In the event of a typographical error, advertising goods at less than the proper price, the newspaper will furnish letters to be posted in the store stating the correct price, but goods may not be sold at the price printed and the difference charged to the newspaper.

NO NEED FOR MORE TAXATION.

The argument most commonly advanced against the immediate building of the Provincial University is that British Columbia can afford no extra expenditure, such as this would entail, at the present moment. It is further stated by the opponents of immediate action that the expense of University construction would have to be borne by an increase in the already too heavy burdens of the taxpayers.

There is a plan, however, by which the financing of the University project may be accomplished without any increase in taxation. It is, briefly, that the University finance itself by the sale of a part of the land set apart for its use at Point Grey. There are 3000 acres of valuable, and potentially very valuable, land at the site, more than sufficient for the present or future needs of the University. It is proposed that a certain portion of this land be set apart and sold for residential purposes and that a loan, guaranteed by the Government, be floated in the meantime to cover present expenditures. The sale of lots would retire the interest on this loan and eventually the principal.

The plan has been carefully worked out by the Kiwanis Club of Vancouver and has been acclaimed as eminently feasible by prominent men to whose attention it has been called. Already two bond companies in Vancouver have offered to carry on the flotation of the loan.

COMMERCIAL APPLE YIELD BY PROVINCES

Quebec and New Brunswick are the only provinces of Canada from which more commercial apples can be expected this year than in 1921, that is according to the latest official agricultural statistical estimates from Ottawa. Last year was an exceptionally poor year in Quebec for apples, and the yield, while much better, is not equal to that of 1920 when the returns showed 88,000 barrels against an expected 61,600 barrels. New Brunswick returns indicate 30,000 barrels in 1920 and 33,000 barrels in 1921, while 41,250 barrels are expected this year. Ontario it is thought will be ten per cent less this year, the anticipated yield being 796,500 barrels compared with 885,065 barrels in 1921 and 1,621,000 barrels in 1920. In Ontario this year Baldwins are reported very light and Greenings and Spies light, considerable fungus being noted. In Nova Scotia a yield of 1,628,800 barrels is looked for this year, a considerable increase over the crop in 1920, but 20 per cent less than in 1921, when 2,036,065 barrels were gathered in. In British Columbia, the only other province showing apple production in export quantity, the yield anticipated this year is 2,538,000 boxes, or 20 per cent less than in 1921. In that province the reports give Delicious and Jonathan as heavy and Wagner light.

CHURCHES FIND IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

There are still people who do not really believe in the value of advertising. If the average customer in a store is asked which of two brands of goods they prefer, ninety-nine times out of a hundred he or she will ask for the one that is the more widely advertised of the two, regardless of their respective merits. The mind of man is susceptible to suggestion, even subconsciously and without the subject being really aware of the reasons for many of the little decisions which they frequently have to make. This is one reason why the churches all over the world are adopting more and more the practice of advertising.

It pays a church to advertise for precisely the same reason it pays a merchant. A merchant advertises to keep his present customers coming into his store and to win the good will of new ones. A merchant soon finds that if his advertising is going to pay, he must keep his store service up to a high standard, and so the advertising churches of the country have found that better sermons, better music and friendly spirit that will make the stranger feel at home, are necessary to make church advertising return adequate dividends.

In a few words, that covers the story of the international church advertising conference which will be held in Milwaukee during the annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. Attending this conference and speaking on the program will be ministers and laymen from all parts of the United States and Canada—men who have made church advertising pay well-rounded, undoubted dividends.

Advertising has made the little fox terrier that listens so wistfully to "His Master's Voice," better known than Mary's little lamb, and the signature of Thomas A. Edison as familiar as your own. Advertising has sold you all kinds of canned foods, and then sold you all kinds of patent medicines to repair your stomach. Advertising has put a safety razor against your stubble, Arrow garters round your neck, and Paris garters round your legs. Advertising has persuaded you to sell the old car and buy a new one of another name, even though both cars were perhaps made by the same manufacturer. Whether you want to sell merchandise, spiritual uplift, or an ancient fiver, there is only one way to do it.—Advertise! Tell the public about it.

American Fruit and Vegetable Growers Organize National Selling Machinery

The Literary Digest of October 7th devotes three illustrated pages to a description of the Federated Fruit & Vegetable Growers, Inc., as the big national grower-owned and grower-controlled marketing organization has been named. For such an influential publication as the Literary Digest to devote so much valuable space to such a description is perhaps the best illustration of the country-wide significance of this co-operative movement.

To sketch briefly this movement in its beginnings: Over a year ago, President J. R. Howard, of the American Farm Bureau Federation, appointed the now famous "Committee of 2." This committee was charged with the duty of making a comprehensive survey of the national situation as respects the production and distribution of fruits and vegetables with a view to making definite recommendations for the improvement of conditions for the American producers.

The committee—a representative one, consisting of leading growers from all sections of the United States—spent months of painstaking effort in this study. In the spring of this year they held a meeting and agreed unanimously in their conclusions. They dug deeply into the whole subject, working back from well known causes, with the idea always in mind to reach conclusions of practical value to American farmers in the remedying of conditions which are detrimental to both producer and consumer.

Meetings of the committee were held from time to time as the work progressed. There was a meeting at Atlanta; another at Chicago; still another at New York. Committee-men compared notes at these meetings and between whiles continued their investigations. Finally, the survey was complete, and at a meeting, held in Chicago last spring, it was determined to organize a "federation of co-operatives"; one big national all-embracing aggregation of the co-operative associations of fruit and vegetable growers from Maine to California. By means of such an organization, the committee felt that the strength of the whole co-operative movement could be mobilized; focused on the problems of the industry; and made effective in the correction of the economic evils with which the industry has been plagued. FEDERATED Fruit Growers, Inc., was the name chosen for the new national co-operative. The name was later changed to FEDERATED FRUIT & VEGETABLE GROWERS, Inc.

While the committee has designed the "Federated," as it has already come familiarly to be called, to serve the industry in all its economic phases, they recognized that its most important function would be marketing. They reasoned that many of the troubles of the producer find their origin in competitive and unrelated marketing instead of co-operative marketing; also that many of the other ills of the producer could be corrected through the agency of the marketing organization to best advantage.

Hence their next problem was: "Shall we organize an entirely new machinery, from the ground up, or can we save a lot of time and avoid costly pioneering by going out and acquiring a successful, experienced, going concern which we can convert, once it is the growers' property, into a purely co-operative, non-profit, grower-owned and grower-controlled organization?"

They surveyed the entire field of commercial marketing organizations. One after the other was eliminated, for the reason that all but one were found to be unavailable because of having speculative features mixed with their marketing functions. Finally they narrowed their choice down to the one concern in the country that was a strictly service agency, entirely free from any speculative activities whatever. This concern, the North American Fruit Exchange, seemed in every way easily convertible to the growers uses, provided it could be acquired outright, lock, stock and barrel, for the committee was quite determined there could be no compromise on the strictly grower-owned and grower-controlled principle. They found that the "North American" was already a semi-co-operative organization, having been "mutualized" a year or so previous. Negotiations were thereupon opened with Mr. A. R. Rule, head of the North American, and these negotiations were finally brought to a complete successful conclusion when contracts were entered into between the FEDERATED FRUIT & VEGETABLE GROWERS, Inc., and the North American Fruit Exchange, whereby, on January 1, 1923, the entire organization and property of the North American is to be acquired by the Federated. On that date Mr. A. R. Rule, now vice-president and general manager of the North American, will become the salaried general manager of the Federated.

W. F. Gwin, of Wenatchee, vice-president of the North American Fruit Exchange, has just returned from a trip to Chicago, where he went to attend an important meeting of the Federated. When asked to tell what transpired at the meeting, Gwin said:

"The meeting in Chicago, which I attended upon invitation, but without vote or other responsible status, was a meeting of the board of directors—the temporary board which will serve only until permanent directors are elected by the co-operative members. This meeting was held for the principal purpose of assembling the data collected by the various members during the summer on which the by-laws were to be developed. The meeting occupied a full week. It was a hard-working, earnest, sincere body of men met to do this important work that would launch what has been called the 'most far-reaching and important co-operative enterprise ever undertaken in the United States.'"

James Nichols, temporary president of the Federated and President of the Michigan Farm Bureau, was chairman of the meeting. Mr. J. S. Edwards, veteran director of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, is temporary vice-president of the Federated and took an active and leading part in the discussions, bringing to bear on the many problems that arose for settlement his ripe experience extending back over the entire history of the California Exchange which he has served as a director ever since it was first organized. Mr. Edwards is a big, highly successful orange grower; a man of great vision and force and above all else a "simon-pure" co-operator. Nelson E. Peet, called by some the "G. Harold Powell of the East," general manager of the Western New York Co-operative Association, with 40 local associations in its membership, was another outstanding figure. Beside the members of the board all of whom consist exclusively of growers, Farm Bureau leaders and prominent publicists, and on which neither Mr. Rule, myself nor any other officer or employee of the North American or any other commercial interest has a place or a vote, there were present by invitation, a number of prominent state market directors, members of the faculty of agricultural colleges and several of the officers of the North American. These visitors were interrogated by the board on various points that arose in the discussion, but had no voice in the determinative action of the board.

The by-laws, as finally adopted at

FRIDAY
A Sure Dwelling Place.—Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.—Psalm 37: 3.

SATURDAY
Mercy Assured.—He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.—Proverbs 28: 13.

SUNDAY
God Is Love.—Beloved, let us love another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.—1 John 4: 7.

MONDAY
Sin Separates.—Your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.—Isaiah 59: 2.

TUESDAY
Greatest is the Kingdom.—Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.—Matthew 18: 4.

WEDNESDAY
Prayer Answered.—I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.—Psalm 34: 4, 6.

THURSDAY
All Needs Supplied.—The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.—Psalm 23: 1, 6.

the close of the session on Saturday night, seemed to me to be about as thoughtful, carefully considered and equitable a document as I have ever seen. They will be printed and distributed in due time. Furthermore, they may be amended from time to time by the board of directors, so that, when the representative board eventually takes office, any features of the by-laws that they wish to in response to sentiment of their constituency as it may develop from time to time may be amended. Another principle which was adopted and written into the by-laws was that no official of the Federated Fruit & Vegetable Growers, Inc., drawing a regular salary from the organization may be a director. This ruling will bar from the directorate General Manager Rule and any other employee, thus preserving the strictly grower-controlled feature. Space here prevents us from going into great detail. Suffice it to say that the meeting impressed me as being enlightened and constructive, and the destinies of the organization in the hands of a group of men who are, for the most part, sane, experienced and sincere."

Peachland Doings

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett are enjoying a visit from some friends from Alberta, near Edmonton, in the persons of Mrs. Wm. Garbe and her two daughters.

Mr. John Brinson's family, except he and his eldest son, Harold, left last week to spend a few days in Pentiction, and then on to Alberta to settle again for a time.

After a very pleasant visit in Peachland with Mrs. A. J. Miller, a friend of former days, Mrs. Ogden, wife of Mr. Ogden, who treated a Peachland audience to such a splendid lecture on Pompeii, left on the southbound boat last midweek.

Mrs. Edgcombe returned last midweek after a short visit up the lake.

The district back of Peachland is the scene of much hunting these times. Word seems to have gone around the world that this is a good hunting ground and hunters are flocking in from all directions.

Mr. Enked, of the Massey-Harris Company, connected with the Calgary Branch, was in town on Thursday interviewing the local agent, H. E. McCall.

A number of Peachland residents attended the Summerland Fall Fair on Thursday. Several prizes were won by residents here.

Miss Elva Williamson, who spent a few days in Summerland, returned on Friday morning.

Mrs. Martin Hendrickson and children went down to Pentiction Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Seaton, of Vernon, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Seaton's sister, Mrs. W. D. Miller. It was like old times to see Lyle again, as he spent his boyhood days here.

Mr. Ernest Aitkens started for the coast on Monday evening. At Vancouver he will be joined by Mrs. Aitkens and son and together they will proceed to Powell River, where they expect to reside.

Mrs. Roy McCall and son, Carleton, spent Thanksgiving Day with relatives here.

Mrs. E. Brinson returned from a short visit to Pentiction, bringing her daughter Ruth, who underwent an operation for appendicitis two months ago.

The ladies of the Methodist Women's Circle gave a Thanksgiving dinner in the Municipal Hall on Monday evening. The tables, which were tastefully decorated, were laden with the choicest of dainties.

Naramata News

Mr. H. Lambie, of Kelowna, was in Naramata on Monday and spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lyons.

Many Naramata residents visited the Summerland Apple Show on Wednesday and Thursday. A special ferry trip was run on the second day at 2 o'clock.

Duncan Monro secured eight first prizes at Summerland Fair in the vegetable section out of a total of nine entries. He was reminded of the old days in England, when he made a killing of seventeen firsts one season at the Crystal Palace against strong competition.

Naramata judges at the Summerland exhibition, included Mrs. Languedoc, Mrs. Fred Manchester, Mrs. J. M. Robinson and Mrs. Noyes.

Saturday was clean-up day in the church and the Ladies' Aid, assisted by some C.G.I.T. members and several men of the congregation had a busy time in making things comfort-

GAME LICENSE LOST; HAS TO PAY AGAIN

That the loser of an ordinary game license is sheer out of luck as regards the issuing of a second in place of the lost license, or a certificate enabling the holder to show that he was the purchaser of a license, appears to be the case from information received from the government agent, F. C. Campbell, New Westminster.

As an instance a party who, among many others, lost his license in the municipality recently, notified the Coquitlam police, and found that they had no jurisdiction in the matter. He then referred to the government agent, who stated that no provision is made in the act for refunding or reissuing a new license except that the loser is liable to be arrested for carrying firearms unless he procures a new license, paying the same amount.

A. CLAUGHTON IS ACQUITTED

Charged with perjury in connection with a liquor case and committed for trial without bail at a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Hutton on September 27 last, A. Cloughton, of Osoyoos, on Thursday was found not guilty by the jury at the Vernon Assizes.

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., for the defence, addressed the jury for 50 minutes, and W. C. Kelley, prosecuting for the liquor board, occupied 70 minutes with his argument.

The jury was out about half an hour to consider its verdict.

Literat Leonard. They were eloping. They stopped the car and started to get out in front of the minister's house.

able for the winter services. We notice that a great improvement has been made by the addition of book-racks to every seat, a feature which will commend itself to all who attend the services.

The Union Church held their annual Thanksgiving service on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. H. E. Livingstone officiating. The choir rendered Simper's anthem, "Let everything that hath breath," together with well known harvest hymns. Mrs. Languedoc presided at the organ. The building was nicely decorated, some beautiful flowers being shown in addition to a varied display of fruits and vegetables. It was announced from the pulpit that the Anglican harvest festival would be held next Sunday at 7 p.m., the usual time being changed on account of the united service to be held in Summerland in the afternoon.

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received word from Mr. McCulloch, general superintendent of the K. V. R., to the effect that his department has decided to put in a spur at Arawana siding to facilitate the unloading of freight for Naramata. This improvement has been urged by the board for some time past and the announcement now made is received with satisfaction.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Buchanan registered at the Syndica Hotel on Monday on a passing visit to Mrs. May, and left for the coast on Wednesday morning. They recently came across from the old country and expect to settle in British Columbia.

SOME CANADIAN AUTHORS OF TO-DAY

FACING THE PUBLIC WITH NEW BOOKS

CANADIAN BOOKS FOR CANADIANS

IN a circular entitled "Recent Canadian Books" just issued by the Department of Education of the Ontario Government, the names of 169 books written by Canadian Authors are cited as having proved popular in the circulating division of the Public Libraries of Toronto. From this publication it is evident that the writers of this country are not confining themselves to one field of literary activity, for the books are classified under the following subjects:—

Topics of General Interest...	12	Platform Sketches	2
History and Biography.....	10	Nature Books.....	5
Travel and Description.....	10	Social and Religious.....	6
The Old Country Through Canadian Eyes.....	4	Educational and Psychological	6
The War	2	Fiction	62
Books Which Illuminate Our History	9	Poetry	21
		Drama	3
		Juveniles	15

No greater evidence than this could be produced in proof of the greatly increased output of and interest in Canadian books, for a few years ago the number of Canadian Authors whose names were known to the general public could be counted on the fingers of two hands.

Much of the credit for this increased interest is undoubtedly due to the activity of the Canadian Authors' Association, an organization which came into existence just eighteen months ago, but which already numbers nearly 1,000 members with branches from Halifax to Victoria, B.C. A notable achievement of the Canadian Authors last year was the plan of Canadian Book Week, which concentrated the attention of the bookreading public for six days last November by means of public addresses, newspaper and magazine articles and exhibits at libraries and book stores. The result was that the names of Canadian Authors became familiar to their fellow citizens, and the demand for their books rapidly increased. In quite a number of cases these authors were already known in the United States. One recent book entitled "Contemporary American Literature" lists five authors who are really Canadian.

The success of the first Canadian Book Week has resulted in a decision to repeat the experiment, and a large number of addresses on Canadian Literature are featured in the current programmes of Canadian Clubs, Rotary Clubs, Kiwanis and other organizations. The movement is thoroughly national, as the French-Canadian Section of the Canadian Authors' Association has its "Semaine du Livre" with a similar programme of speakers, lectures and library exhibits. Last year, particularly fine exhibits of Canadiana, including manuscripts of the first French Explorers, attracted many thousand visitors to the St. Sulpice Library and the Municipal Library in Montreal.

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr. Wm. Eradbury recently secured a position on the S. S. Okanagan, and has since been aboard that boat.

Following the apple packing season here, Miss Annie White went down to Penticton to follow the packing in one of the houses there. She returned home last week-end.

Mrs. J. McLaughlin, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCall, who represented the Peachland Sunday schools at the conference held in Kelowna last week, returned home on Friday evening's boat and report a splendid conference.

Following the decision of last year to have an annual function in Peachland on Armistice Day the memorial committee arranged a concert and social gathering with light refreshments. Owing to Saturday, Armistice Day, being considered a poor night for a function of this kind the committee decided to hold it on Friday evening. It was held in the Orange Hall, which was well filled. The program was furnished by all local talent and pleased the assembled audience. The committee were well satisfied with the proceeds of the evening.

Mr. Thos. McLaughlin had the misfortune to have a collision while on his stage route on Saturday last, which will lay his car up for repairs for a few days, the other car receiving similar damage.

Mr. R. A. F. Moore and son Arthur, of Penticton, came out of the tall timber and returned after a deer hunt back here, which resulted in a hunt only, the same as several other parties have had. Mr. F. R. Gartrell and Mr. R. Johnston, of Summerland, accompanied from here by Mr. Williamson, of the Trepianer Townsite, were fortunate to have the same luck after several days spent in the Glenn.

Mr. W. L. Williams paid a short visit to Kelowna, going up Saturday and returning home on Sunday last.

Mr. Geo. McBean and his sister, Miss McBean, spent Saturday last visiting in Kelowna.

Mr. G. Thornber, of Summerland, conducted the service in the Baptist Church on Sunday last owing to the Rev. Isaac Page not being able to be present, he being on the committee and addressing the public gathering at the Armistice Day celebration service in Penticton.

After having spent a short time in a farewell visit with relatives in Penticton, Mrs. John Brinson, with the smaller children of the family, passed through Peachland on the Monday morning boat en route for the prairie, where they expect to make their home for a time.

After a pleasant sojourn in Peachland with their son, Mr. Wm. Renfrew, Mr. and Mrs. Renfrew, Sr., left on Monday morning's boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson with their little girl left on Monday morning to return to the prairie, where Mr. Wilson expects to continue at the teaching profession after Christmas. Mrs. Wilson has spent a year in Peachland, during which time Walter spent a portion of his time at his profession in Alberta; the past few months, however, he has been assisting his father take off his fruit crop.

Mr. E. Brinson arrived home Monday morning after having spent several weeks in Penticton.

On Friday, Nov. 10th, a meeting of the Peachland fruit growers was addressed by Mr. Taylor and General Harman, both of Kelowna. The subject was one of vital importance to the growers at the present time, viz., "Market Conditions." The meeting was called to order promptly by Reeve Lang at 2.30 p.m.

Mr. Taylor explained the object of the growers' committee and the reason of his and the general's trip to the prairie provinces. These two gentlemen, with some success, endeavored to get the jobbers and wholesale men to unite on prices and to stop undercutting one another. They both showed that the present low price of apples was not due to American competition, as prices in the U. S. are much better than in Canada; but to rivalry among B. C. shippers. The old saying, "In Union is Strength," holds good in fruit-growing as well as in other industries. Mr. Taylor told the growers that they would be lucky if their apples averaged 35 cents a box net, and that conditions would be worse next year, if something was not done to remedy the situation.

General Harman explained what was meant by the terms, "Home and export Market," saying that home market meant the rest of the world. One thing to be thankful for is that the export price of apples is good.

The David Thompson Memorial

ON the shores of Lake Windermere, British Columbia, there transpired recently an event which will be incorporated in the history of Canada. This was the dedication of a Memorial Fort erected to David Thompson, Canada's greatest geographer and surveyor.

The Fort, which is the largest log building in Canada, was erected by the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Hudson's Bay Company; and it will be used in future as a museum.

With faces painted in the brightest hues, and attired in colorful tribal costumes, Indians from the Kootenay and Shuswap reserves were the principal attraction at this inspiring event. Their teepees were pitched on the top of the hill surrounding the Fort. As dusk fell they lit camp fires and soon the visitors from Eastern and Western Canada and the United States were entertained with music supplied by the tom-tom augmented by the husky voices of the Braves.

The Indians had gathered to do honor to Canada's greatest surveyor who landed on the shore of Lake Windermere in 1807, and for this event they brought with them their finest costumes. Beads in rainbow shades, combined with Elk's teeth and vari-colored feathers were the "materials" used for the attractive garbs of the squaws. Gaily colored shawls and skirts brought to mind that one need not travel to world-famous fashion centres to obtain ideas for daring color schemes. Each child and wee papoose was arrayed in its tribal costumes with beadwork of dazzling beauty. When an Indian tribe packs its teepee and moves it is always accompanied by the "Medicine Man." He is regarded by his fellowmen as gifted with rare talents. The "Medicine Man" of the Kootenay tribe was, perhaps, the most picturesque figure of the pageant. His costume was most colorful and his headdress was unique.

Both tribes entered into the spirit of the event with keen interest and were responsible for the pageant here, again, members of the Kootenay and Shuswaps carried off prizes which they captured in almost every case, with little effort.

SOON HAVE NEW CATTLE MARKET

Great Britain will import most of Canada's surplus stocker cattle, to the extent of approximately 120,000 head annually, when the cattle embargo has been finally removed. This statement was made by Philip D. Chapman, of Fakenham, Norfolk, England, president of the Livestock Traders' Association of Great Britain, Limited, upon his arrival in Calgary recently with S. Everett, his business associate. Mr. Chapman and Mr. Everett are in Western Canada for the purpose of investigating cattle conditions here, and to make arrangements with Canadian cattle men for trade between Canada and Great Britain. They are the first British cattle traders to arrive here on this mission.

The general said that the control of distribution must begin in the orchard. Why should Mr. B. pick McIntosh apples early in September just because Mr. A. is foolish enough to do so? The shipping of immature Maccks has had a great deal to do with the low price of our fall apples. General Harman was rather hard upon the grower-shipper.

The meeting, not being considered representative enough, a committee of three growers, Major Hardisty and Messrs. Drought and McKinnon, was appointed to arrange for another meeting to discuss matters connected with marketing conditions.

After a very pleasant visit in Peachland with Mr. and Mrs. Hackett at their fruit farm, Mrs. Garbe and her two daughters left on Tuesday morning to return to their home near Edmonton, Alta. They like the Valley so well they say they will be almost sure to come back sooner or later.

Game Warden Robertson, of Penticton, spent a couple of days in the district this week on official duties.

IODINE IS CURE FOR GOITRE

London.—Demonstrating the value of feeding iodine to patients suffering with goitre, Dr. Leonard Rowntree, addressing the Ontario Congress of the American College of Surgeons here, suggested that the Board of Education consider the advisability of feeding small quantities of iodine to public school children of London to prevent them from developing goitre in later years.

Dr. Rowntree informed his audience that this experiment was tried out in Ohio schools with very successful results. "I wish someone would take it up with the London authorities," said Dr. Rowntree, "and have one to two grams of iodine per year fed to the school children. It has been proven conclusively that adolescent goitre can be eliminated by this means."

Bargain-Hunters

In this community are hundreds of individuals and families on the watch for an advertisement which will offer them what they want at an advantageous price.

Call them bargain-hunters if you will, but there is nothing wrong in waiting for a bargain, especially when the seller is anxious to sell at a reduced price. One family wants a new carpet—the need is not urgent. Another family is looking forward to buying dining-room furniture—it may not be for a twelve month.

One man is thinking of buying himself a watch. One woman a shopping bag; another an umbrella. All can be made to buy earlier—by advertising.

A NOTE TO MERCHANTS

Stimulate business by the offer of some slow-moving lines at special prices. Brighten up business by advertising some desirable goods at reduced prices. Make advertising banish dull business. Often you can tempt the buyer who is biding his or her time, to buy from you—at a time of your naming.

Naramata News

Current Events of Town and District

On Saturday afternoon Gen. Harman and Lionel E. Taylor, of Kelowna, addressed a gathering of local growers on the problem of fruit marketing. Some startling figures were given by the speakers as disclosed during the investigating tour of the prairie districts lately made by them. Their addresses emphasized the absolute necessity of improving the present system of disposing of the fruit crop, and it was satisfactory to gather that there is a firm resolve to cope with the situation by means of effective concentration of fruit growing interests throughout the province.

Armistice Day was observed by a community gathering in the evening at which the Community Club were hostesses and their guests the local veterans and friends. The program included cards, refreshments and a selection of old country dances, and the fairly numerous gathering enjoyed a very pleasant time. During the evening, Mrs. Rossi sang "The Veterans' Song" by request.

The Anglicans held their harvest festival service on Sunday evening, the Rev. H. A. Solly officiating. The sermon dwelt on the cause for thankfulness, notwithstanding drawbacks, and reminded his hearers that the custom of harvest decoration of the church was evolved from the old practice of offering the first fruits of the harvest in gratitude for the blessings of the year. The augmented choir, under the direction of Mr. Weaver, rendered Stainer's anthem, "Ye shall dwell in the land," and led the congregational singing of the harvest hymns. Mr. Geo. Weaver, of Penticton, also sang. "If with all your hearts," and the service ended with the rendering of "For all the saints," in recognition of Armistice Day. Mrs. Languedoc presided at the organ.

Mr. Scaife carries a smile which won't come off, since his wife presented him with a daughter on Sunday.

The postponed monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was held on Monday, and transacted considerable business. In response to a numerously signed petition, the board called a public meeting of ratepayers for Thursday evening, for the purpose of framing a resolution to be forwarded to the provincial legislature, asking for some relief from the present heavy burden of taxation. Messrs. Horswill, W. O. Young and F. Manchester were appointed a committee to draw up a resolution to submit to the meeting. The president, Mr. Weaver, reported that Capt. Roe had submitted an alternative winter schedule for the ferry, calling for two trips daily, and three on Saturdays and wished to have the opinion of the Board of Trade on the subject. The suggested runs would be from Summerland at 9 a.m., returning from Naramata at 10 a.m.; from Summerland at 3 p.m., returning from Naramata at 4 p.m. The Saturday schedule would include a noon trip from Naramata in addition to the morning and evening runs. The members of the board were unanimous in their support of this schedule, and it was decided to notify Capt. Roe to that effect. Several bills recently passed or amended at Victoria were considered by the board, and those which (a) called for new appointments of provincial electrical inspectors, and (b) made it compulsory to employ counsel, under certain conditions, in all cases, whether trivial or important, were voted against, the resolutions of protests to be forwarded to the House. The tax on fruit trees was also strongly criticized, and a protest will be made. The secretary, Mr. F. Manchester, reminded the meeting that Naramata was at present without a poundkeeper, and Mr. Gerald Roe was appointed to the post. Two new members were welcomed in the persons of Messrs. John Smith and R. Tanner. The meeting adjourned at 9.45.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Buchanan registered at the Syndica Hotel on Monday, on a passing visit to Mrs. May, leaving for the coast on Wednesday morning. They are recent arrivals from the old country and expect to settle in British Columbia.

The Women's Institute held a special meeting on Tuesday, in the Unity Club, to organize for the gathering of veterans and friends on Armistice Day.

Leslie Smith has been unwell for a few days, but is better.

Mrs. Symons received a telegram on Wednesday morning calling her to Vancouver on account of her son Harold's sudden illness, and left by the train from Arwana immediately.

UNIVERSITY TO BE ESTABLISHED AT POINT GREY

Announcement Made by Premier Following Presentation of Huge Petition.

(Special to The Review) Victoria.—The University of British Columbia will be moved to the permanent site at Point Grey. This announcement was made by Premier John Oliver, following a meeting of the Liberal caucus in the capital last week. The money required for the immediate construction of the university will be borrowed on the credit of the province and the land endowment of 3,000 acres, held by the university in the residential section of Kerrisdale will be surveyed and placed on the market at an upset price. It is planned that the proceeds of this sale shall recoup the government for the monies advanced and that there shall be no additional drain on the provincial treasury.

This decision was reached by the government after a delegation of students appeared before the house. The debate was adjourned on Tuesday afternoon in order to allow all members of the legislature to hear the students, who brought with them petitions bearing the signatures of 53,000 electors of the province.

Mr. A. E. Richards, president of the student body and chairman of the publicity campaign committee, Mr. Percy M. Barr, vice-chairman of the committee; Mr. Jack A. Grant, campaign manager, were the speakers. Other members of the delegation were Mr. Jack Clyne and Mr. J. Lawrence, a Victoria graduate of U. B. C. The speakers made an excellent impression on the members, emphasizing in their addresses the necessity for immediate action in the matter.

The occasion was a unique one in the history of the province, it being the first time that the house has adjourned for the purpose of hearing a delegation on any subject.

SOMETHING ABOUT "THE IDLE RICH"

Out in California, Sammy lived in style, Spending Daddy's money, denting Daddy's pile; Gambling at the race track, dancing half the night, Playing bridge and polo, sometimes getting "tight." Shook a wicked toddle; life looked very gay; Came along a bank crash, swept his wealth away. Sammy had a sweetheart, mighty rich girl, too; When he lost his money, felt that he was through. Went out to the country, found a lot of junk; Started in at trading, said it was "the bunk." Sammy's bold adventures, how he bought and sold, Changing junk for berries, berries into gold; All of them are pictured in the photoplay. Coming here on Friday for a (two-day) stay. Bert Lytell is starring in the role of Sam; Get your tickets early and avoid the jam.

Yes, indeed! "I could never bear to be a widow's second husband," said the young brother of a man who was marrying a widow. "Well, for my part," remarked the bridegroom, with a twinkly smile, "I'd very much rather be a widow's second husband than her first."

was held in the church basement on Thursday afternoon, with a good attendance. Mrs. Myers was hostess and was assisted by Mrs. Horswill and Mrs. Kenyon.

J. C. Lyons met with a painful accident on Friday when engaged in some carpenter work, hitting a finger so badly as to cut a portion almost off. First aid was administered by Mrs. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Kennedy and Miss Cluff left for Vancouver on Tuesday morning, after a stay of several months at the Syndica Hotel.

Mr. Grieve returned from a trip to Vancouver on Tuesday night.

A large gathering attended the illustrated lecture given on Tuesday evening by the Rev. Percy Bunt, in the Union church. The pictures shown chiefly depicted scenes around Cairo, and were exceedingly interesting. Mr. Bunt was formerly stationed in Naramata, and is regarded as an old friend.

GETTING RID OF INFERIOR VARIETIES

Niagara fruit growers have taken the first step toward driving from the market inferior sorts of fruit that deceive the purchaser and spoil trade for the better varieties. They have appointed a committee to study the peaches, plums, apples and pears of the district to determine what varieties are to be encouraged and what are to be banned. So long as the supply of fruit does not exceed the market demand the need for such action is not brought to notice. In a season like the one just past when there was an abundance, it appeared that the only means of getting satisfactory returns was to discriminate and secure a premium for the best quality. Unfortunately many orchards are planted with inferior varieties, such as Ben Davis apple and Elberta peach. The fruit has a good appearance and is bought readily by the city housewife, who is unable to judge between the varieties. A basket of bitter peaches or plums will prove a damper on any further purchases. The growers, through their shipping organization, can, to a great extent, guard against these disappointments. They can issue circulars at the beginning of the season explaining the quality of the several varieties and whether suitable for eating fresh or only for cooking. Then the baskets can be labelled and prices graded according to the quality. Winter apples that are now customarily offered in October and November could be held until they are properly ripened. To make the campaign for better fruit complete, growers should learn the suitable varieties before planting, this knowledge being easily obtained from the experimental farms and colleges.—Exchange.

GRADE AND PACK RULES MAY BE MADE STATE LAW

The Washington State Horticulture Association will hold its annual meeting in Spokane on December 12, 13, 14 and 15. As is usual, the state grade and pack conference will be a part of the convention program. A plan is up to discontinue the annual grade and pack conference and have the grades included as a permanent part of the horticultural law. Supplementing this is a suggestion that the commissioner of horticulture be empowered to make changes in the grades in case of emergencies.

HOUSING AND FEEDING POULTRY

Pullets and hens that have been properly reared and fed during the summer months are now beginning to show returns for this care and expenditure. A continuation of this careful attention as to housing, feeding, etc., during the early winter months will determine the profit from the flock for the whole winter period when demand is keenest and prices highest. It should be borne in mind that feeding, housing and general management of the flock, taken together, are more important factors in production than is breeding alone and attention to these factors will enable the poultry keeper to obtain the maximum production from the material he has at hand. Further, this attention makes not only for profit from the flock from now on but it also lays a sound basis for future breeding work during the coming spring and summer. The Dominion Experimental Farms have issued a large number of publications on the housing and feeding of poultry which may be had free on application to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Among them are noted: "Poultry House Construction," "Poultry Feeds and Feeding," "Crate Feeding" and "Preparing Poultry Produce for Market."

Shop at Home!

If we were to ask those who preferred patronizing out of town stores, the reason for doing so, the answer would invariably be "the stores in this town are not so progressive as those in other towns."

Firstly, this is not so. Secondly, if it were, the blame would rest entirely upon those who shopped out of town.

And we'll anticipate the answer to their question, "why."

No store can be progressive and prosperous unless it receives the co-operation of the people in its town.

If you do not do your buying at Home, how can you expect these stores to be all your demand? It's right up to you if you want your stores here to improve.

Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only lands suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residences, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and must make improvements to value of $10 an acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture.

Title cannot be obtained in less than 3 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown Grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homestead sites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company. Mill, factory or industrial sites, timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price is made.

PRE-EMPTOR'S FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920. SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LAND.

Provision made for insurance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING. Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock owners may form Associations for range management. Richard Lloyd Jones says Something About Future Supplies

A school boy whose awakened conscience and interest in the world as it is, mixed his arithmetic and geographic knowledge into a long list of interrogations that perplexed him.

"What are we going to do for shingles and boards when the trees are all cut down?" "What are we going to do when the coal has all burned up?"

"Where are they going to go when the land is all owned and used?" It is a wise boy that puts such questions to himself. He is thinking in terms of conservation.

Thank goodness, the world is full of just such boys who do not wish to live a Nero life, to spend what there is now and let those who follow suffer the Deluge.

Geologists tell us that there is coal enough to last through several centuries of time. Already we are toying with great condensers that gather many sunbeams into one strong ray of heat.

We have found it possible not only to get heat from the sun, but to store it. Its only impracticability is the cost of operation. The same genius that found the process will cheapen it.

Long before the coal is gone we will cease to mine it. A cheaper and better process of heating our furnaces will come direct to us from the sun whose flames rise above its molten mass surface to the height of the circumference of this earth.

As our deserts have been brought to bloom, so will the mammoth island of Australia flower. Africa will be gardened. The lowlands of the Amazon and the highlands of the Himalayas will be farmed.

This is a good old world we are in. It meets our needs as our needs appear. It meets them because we always have boys who grow to manhood with the inquiring mind that wonders how they can help the good old world to make all things better for man.

BOYS' FOOT CRUSHED UNDER CAR WHEELS

Travellers frequently remark on the total disregard of danger with which some of the children of Vernon play about the station yard, particularly at train time.

While playing on the railroad track shortly after 3 o'clock on Tuesday, Willie Vickery, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Vickery, had his right foot crushed by the wheels of one of the passenger coaches as the afternoon train pulled out.

Just how the accident happened is not apparent, but it appears that Willie, with some playmates, was playing near the tracks and failed to notice that the train had started.

As soon as his cries were heard he was picked up by a lady who was passing, and Jack Conway, who was nearby, at once rushed to the hospital with the little lad, where his injuries were attended to.

While the boys' foot was badly crushed it was hoped on Wednesday that amputation would not be necessary.

The little chap was quite plucky through it all and although suffering intense pain didn't cry, until his father left him Wednesday morning at the hospital, when he "wanted to go home."

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH AT CROSSING

Penticton Truck Struck by Shunting Engine at Street Crossing There.

Penticton.—Thomas Carter, of Carter Brothers, had a narrow escape from death, when the motor truck he was driving along Lakeshore drive was struck by a K. V. R. switch engine, at the crossing and carried along the tracks for a distance of nearly half a block.

So far as can be learned, Carter in his truck and another man in a car, were waiting for an opportunity to cross the track. Owing to some misunderstanding with regard to a signal for them to cross, while Carter was passing the rails the engine struck his truck, turned it over on its side and started to push it along the tracks.

How he escaped death is a mystery, say some who saw the accident.

NEW SYSTEM FOR PUMPING WATER

Vernon Man Patents System of Pumping Irrigation Water to High Levels.

The following interesting story of an invention by a Vernon man of a device for pumping water to high levels, is told by The Vernon News of last week:

J. McI. McClounie, who a year ago experimented in pumping water to high levels has received patent papers from Ottawa covering the invention, which he has perfected.

In discussing the system with the Vernon News, Mr. McClounie said that his invention relates to the utilization of atmospheric pressures in high level suction pumping systems so as to raise water by suction to a higher plane more economically than is now possible.

"At present in raising water by pressure to high levels with the pipes laid any old way there is an enormous wastage of power owing to the fact that the methods employed do not take advantage of atmospheric pressure, that is to say that they are systems closed to the atmosphere," said Mr. McClounie.

My invention is to take advantage of this pressure by creating a series of levels in a pipe line system higher than 25 feet from the original source; that is to say at each 25 feet vertical distance from the original source other sources of supply are formed by means of tension cisterns, open to the atmosphere, which by the use of appropriate valves in the pipes and in each tension cistern, automatically and alternately exclude the action of atmospheric pressure on the body of water in the cistern and in the pipes.

Who Pays for Advertising? This is a direct and reasonable question; and in the case of Weekly Newspaper advertising, intelligently used, the answer is simple: Nobody. It pays its own way. Nobody pays for the new carburetor that gives added mileage to your motor car. It pays for itself in the gasoline it saves. Nobody pays for an improved cash system in a modern department store. It pays for itself in economy of human time. Nobody pays for well planned and written Newspaper advertising. It pays for itself by reducing the cost of sales and by increasing production. The advertisements in The Review tell you the best things to buy and where to buy them. Every new purchase helps the whole community to command cheaper and better goods.

(7) Coursing is a favorite sport in England and Ireland. Greyhounds in pairs are let loose after a hare by a "blipper" who gives them an equal start. The races are run in heats.

QUESTION OF THE HOUR ANSWERED

"At Home—Fridays!" Do you know why the ladies make Friday their "At Home" day? Neither do I. However, here is the way Elizabeth Elliott figures it out, and, being one herself, she ought to know. Anyway, it is good:

"The really finished hostess of our town," says she, "always plans her teas for Friday. Why? Because Friday morning our local paper is published, and is read and digested with the noon meal. This is a rigid law of the town, and no citizen is expected to mingle with his fellows on a Friday afternoon without first having mastered the gems of gossip contained in our great family journal. Any woman invited out for Friday tea may be obliged to skip on the dish-washing in order to be up-to-date in a literary sense. But, having mastered The Review, she merges into society, her joins girl about, her mind at rest, knowing full well that in the snappiest circle she can hold her own.

"The hostess having seated her guests diplomatically and congenially breaks the first formalities by charging brightly into the arena with 'I see by The Review that the Methodists are holding another tea.' (She has wisely refrained from inviting any Methodist ladies.) 'The way those people expect us to patronize all their teas is a scandal!'

"From then on things go merrily, and one hears blurring snatches such as: 'I see Mrs. Jones has an ad for piano pupils. They must be sort of up against it. Did you notice all her qualifications? Whatever in the world do all those letters stand for I wonder—every mortal thing but the O.B.E.'

"Now, why do you suppose Mrs. Thompson is advertising for a maid? What does she do with all her time, anyway? Bill says she is downtown every blessed morning of her life before 10 o'clock. It does seem to me

"So the Browns have left for the East! Now will you just tell us where all the money comes from? The butcher business must certainly pay. Do you remember when first they came to town—"

"And the Eversmans, too, are off on a big motor tour—though they do say that the bank is hounding Bill Eversman every minute. Well, some people don't worry, no matter what.

"Oh, and wasn't that a great editorial on the 'Chronic Uplifters.' The men downtown are betting that six of our leading citizens will withdraw their subscriptions immediately. They say our editor is going to pack his trusty bowie knife till the storm is over. 'Ware the uplifter!'

"And so our interesting invalid, Mrs. Smithers is in hospital again—another operation, my dear—great complications. Really, she'll soon have her interior entirely dismantled—that lady. Pity she wouldn't have. 'But did you see that Mrs. Eph. Billings has had another baby. Yes, that is the woman with the dozen assorted ones already. We really should do something for her. Now, I have three baby shirts that I had meant to hang on to—it's safer, you know; but in a case like that—"

"Couldn't we get together and send a little parcel through some friend?"

"And that other poor woman out in Squaw Coulee died after all. They say she put up such a fight! Who wouldn't with three children to leave behind. To be sure, her husband is a Mason. Some one must page the Eastern Stars.

"We are pretty small, of course, in our interests—pretty contemptible, often. But very human always.

"And those really deserving of help and sympathy usually find it in liberal measure, just from fellow townspeople.

"The small town paper 'puts us wise' to everything. And the really initiated Main Streeter can discern chasms of tragedy, high light of humor or blossoms of romance in the most casual little four-liner."

Equal to the Situation.

American visitors in London are specially interested in our costers' barrows covered with fruit. A man from New York the other day came up to one of these stalls and, pointing to some melons, asked with a twinkle behind his horn spectacles: "Are those the largest apples you have?" The coster replied promptly: "Put that bloomin' grape dahn, will yuu?"—English Paper.

PLANT AN ACORN

How do oak trees grow? There must be a start. We look with admiration upon the stately, deeply-rooted oak, weathering the storm serenely, basking in the sunshine of prosperity.

Yes, advertising must have a start—a seed must be planted. We see the results of advertising on every side. And yet the success of this advertising is not something that has sprung up overnight. Steadily, consistently, results have come, expenditures have been increased—a growth has taken place. Then the harvest.

Start a seed. Start small, modestly. Advertise sincerely and consistently. There is room for the small advertiser and he will grow as surely as his faith in his advertising and in his business continues. Plant an acorn.

The woodpecker is the only bird that gets anywhere by knocking.

An optimist may be a person who invests in a gold brick every time the opportunity presents itself. Canada has the largest buffalo herd (over 5,000), and the largest elk herd (6,000-8,000) in the world. The worst thing about a bore is that it is almost impossible to insult him.

Trade ---and Advertising

THE Christmas Season is fast approaching, and with it comes an earnest desire of every tradesman to do a bigger and better business than heretofore.

Do you want a bigger trade? Do you want the public of your neighborhood to respond eagerly to your appeal? Do you want an increased volume of business readily absorbed by a people you can call your own?

You do; then you must ADVERTISE.

This is the fundamental step to be taken in business, and, wisely used, leads by a shorter and more economical way to a better trade.

Advertising cannot fail to stimulate the trade in any article or commodity which is sold at a fair price and gives satisfaction to the public. Call 39 and have us discuss a bigger business campaign with you.

EGGS-IN-ONE-BASKET ARGUMENT.

Advocates of diversified farming, even on the five or ten-acre orchard, are having their innings this year. The fruit grower with a cow or two, a flock of hens, a pig, yes, and a few bees, is feeling the pinch of low fruit prices less than the man who depends solely on his trees.

MAY BE BETTER TO ORGANIZE.

Naramata fruit growers, whose orchards are in an unorganized territory, are finding the provincial tax close to con-fiscatory. It may be that the Naramata District would find it good policy to organize as a municipality, in which event, taxpayers would, at least, have the satisfaction of directing the expenditure of their taxes.

THE BOX FACTORY.

It is to be hoped that the ratepayers will be able to give prompt answers to the propositions of the Summerland Lumber Company with respect to establishing a box factory here.
While this question is in suspense, work is being held up at a season of the year when employment is needed, and while the weather is not yet too cold for efficient operation.

THE PRE-COOLING PLANT.

Ten years ago, when the Provincial Government decided to establish a pre-cooling plant in the Okanagan, Summerland was selected as the logical place for it. The reasons for establishing here are as sound today as they were then.

Someone has said that the opening of the Oliver district may change the situation, but it is our conviction that the only way the soft fruits of that district can be efficiently handled, is by their having a pre-cooling plant situated there to take care of local requirements.

BACKING UP THE APPLE GROWERS.

Under the above caption the Vancouver Daily Sun says that a traveller from the East has called the attention of that paper to the fact that while Vancouver has pledged all kinds of support to apple growers in the interior, her actual support is more or less mythical.

As a proof of his contention he exhibits the menu of a Vancouver hotel which, on the day of his visit, offered pineapples, oranges, cantaloupes, grapefruit, grapes, figs, dates and prunes—all imported fruits—but not a solitary apple.

The B. C. apple is not a product of which any hotel chef might be ashamed. It offers culinary opportunities which would tempt the palate of even the most blase traveller accustomed to the exotic fleshpots of the East.

This traveller suggests that Vancouver is not doing her full duty by the B. C. fruit industry in raving mildly over the apple for a week and then promptly forgetting that such a fruit exists in the province.

There is much common sense in the suggestion.

Co-operation between producer and consumer in British Columbia should be active not for a week, a month or a year, but all the time.

TRAFFIC BOTH WAYS.

For over thirty years Chicago was the drug centre of the North American continent. It has been the citadel against which all the efforts of organized society have been directed.
Every agency known to the lawmakers was brought into force to curb the traffic and it has been an uphill fight for over a quarter of a century. But Chicago is now losing its reputation.
It is no longer the chief clearing house on the continent for narcotics. It remains for our own city of Vancouver to bear the laurel wreath of victory. To her must be given all the honors that have for years fallen to the big city on the lake. She is by far the biggest clearing house that ever existed in any country, according to data just recently compiled by the White Cross committee, after eighteen months' work.

Why is Chicago losing her reputation as a drug centre?
Why is the illicit traffic being directed to Vancouver? Can anyone guess? Narcotics can only be sold by criminals. Smugglers know no land, they know no law, and it is quite natural that a "high jacker" should take over a load of booze to the states and bring back a load of drugs or silk, which they have been doing for many months back, until the legitimate dealers in silks can no longer compete with the smuggled article. As a port for distribution, Vancouver is a better place and more accessible than Chicago and there is less restriction in Vancouver than in Chicago and the change of base is perfectly natural. Besides the smugglers can take a load each way.

Investigators claim the Chinese are the chief dispensers of the drug in Vancouver, one lone Chinese being taken into custody with $150,000 worth of the drug. Several have been taken with upwards of $20,000 in their possession.

The Province of British Columbia is in the liquor business for the money there is in it, but when the matter of smuggled silk, tobacco and drugs are taken to account, the profits on the liquor business have taken flight. It is quite true the Dominion Government is the loser and not the province in the matter of smuggled goods, but the people are footing the bills and it is left for the politicians to call attention to the fact that the liquor business is a winning game.—Trail News.

SUGGEST PLANS FOR ORGANIZING
loaded), and any other particulars which shall help to identify the particular parcel, and shall certify over his signature (or firm signatures) that price at which parcel was sold was not lower than price fixed by the committee.
"Such notification and certification would furnish a ready means of checking assertions that a shipper had been cutting prices and any other shipper would have the right to demand this information from the committee."
Mr. White in submitting the plan, noted the continent-wide movement among fruit and vegetable growers, for closer co-operation and better marketing conditions, and predicted that from there would be evolved a better plan.
Our condition is better than it was a few years ago, and the prices we are obtaining are better than we would have received, had it not been for what organization the Valley now has. He blamed the unsatisfactory conditions to distrust among men. This attitude has ruined many, and it is for the growers to realize that independence does not pay. It was his private opinion that to get growers, shippers and jobbers in line, it will be necessary to have some capital organization.
Mr. White, after reading the plan, invited general discussion. Bonding shippers to live up to the agreements entered into and obligating growers to withhold their fruit from any "black-leg" shipper were means proposed to keep the members in line.
An extensive outline for organization, which included a proposed agreement between grower, shipper and selling agency, was submitted by Mr. James Ritchie. Since the meeting he has been making some amendments to his plan, which will be presented at the next gathering of growers.
In proposing a vote of thanks, to gether with a request to the committee to continue to function, R. H. Helmer made strong protest against the seeming indifference of our fruit-growers, through their failure to attend the meeting. He declared "they are going to sleep on the job, which is the reason why we are not getting better prices."
J. T. Washington, a member of the committee, said he would like to know if the growers really wish this movement continued.
It was decided to hold another meeting at an early date to further consider proposed plans of organization.

SAYS TORONTO PREFERS B. C. GROWN FRUIT
Toronto Globe Notes Arrival of Twenty-five Carloads in That City.
Some weeks ago the O. U. G. shipped to Toronto twenty carloads of McIntosh Red apples. Their presence and those of other B. C. apples have been noticed on the Toronto market by the Toronto Globe, which says in a recent issue:
"During the last two weeks it is estimated that twenty-five carloads of apples grown outside of Ontario have been absorbed by the Toronto market."
"Most of those apples bore freight charges two-thirds of the way across the continent, while during the same two weeks great quantities of first grade Ontario apples left the province. At the present moment non-Ontario-grown apples are given preference in display in at least nine out of ten retail fruit stores in Toronto."
"Thousands of city housewives will readily purchase British Columbia apples in preference to fruit grown within fifty miles of their own doorsteps, although the flavor and texture of Ontario apples are famed the world over."
"Advertising is a halter with which to lead business."—James O'Shaughnessy.

PRE-COOLING IS ESSENTIAL
the advantages of a pre-cooling plant, which would enable growers to leave their fruit on the trees several days longer. At present, he said, much of our fruit is picked too green and never becomes fit to eat. The meeting recognized, too, the value of a cold storage plant to the fruit shipping industry, and the possibility of having a plant to care for both needs is having attention.
Mr. C. B. Winter proposed that the Board of Trade interest itself in the question of assuring to the district the operation of a cannery here next season. This developed into a general discussion on the subject of canning and evaporating, which resulted in the appointing of the three bankers present, Messrs. Winter, Morkill and Scott as a special committee to go further into these questions.

NARAMATA'S CROP WAS BIGGEST YET
Naramata.—Mr. Hilton Snyder reports that the total pack of the season for Naramata, through the local union, amounted to approximately 60,000 boxes, in addition to which about 10,000 unpacked boxes were sent across to Summerland. A feature of the year was the shipment from this place of a straight car of No. 1 Delicious apples, which is a record for Naramata. The entire crop was much in excess of early estimates.

ANNUAL CLEAN-UP OF FIRE BLIGHT
The Horticultural Branch, Department of Agriculture, are again inaugurating their annual fall clean-up campaign on fire blight. Splendid results were obtained last season in this direction, and it is to be hoped that all growers in the Valley will again whole-heartedly take up the campaign.
An important change of policy on the part of the department has been announced, which, it is expected, will render the clean-up more thorough. Last season growers were urged to cut their blight out early and to notify the officials of the department of agriculture when this had been accomplished. Splendid co-operation on the part of the growers along these lines was secured in most sections, but the work of inspection was unduly retarded by a large number of growers in many sections who failed to complete the work early and consequently the inspection work was held up.
This season the officials of the department have been instructed to proceed at once with systematic inspection and if an orchard is clean, it will be posted at once, otherwise it will be checked over again later in the season. In this way the inspection of each district will proceed rapidly and the work will not be held up pending the notification of the grower to the inspector that any orchard is ready for inspection and certification. At the same time inspection will be given any orchard at any time, in order that a "clean bill of health" can be secured by any grower who desires to see his orchard posted as having been

ST. ANDREW'S C. G. I. T. ENTERTAINED
The Pollyanna group was entertained at their meeting last week by a talk by Mrs. A. E. Nelson, on "Chinaware." She told the girls the story of the willow plate and described and illustrated a number of the different makes of French and English chinaware. The girls enjoyed the talk immensely and gave a very appreciative and hearty vote of thanks.
The senior group was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kerr on Friday afternoon. Mr. Kerr addressed the girls. He gave a very interesting account of a visit to the Catacombs of Rome. He told of the early persecution of Christians and described their ancient place of the burial of the dead. He also had many curios on exhibition. The girls were highly pleased with this change of program. Mr. and Mrs. Kerr were given hearty cheers for their kindness to the club.
Bobby's father had a front tooth knocked out in an accident. The first time he noticed it the boy called out: "Daddy, you don't look nice viv your teef parted in the middle!"
cleaned up. The certification cards will be blue this season instead of white, as were used last season.
Every grower is urged to clean up his orchard at the earliest opportunity and to co-operate with his local inspector in making the clean-up campaign this season an even greater success than it was last year. The campaign slogan: "Wake up! Clean up! Get your card up!"

Unsettled
The editor of a country newspaper received from a subscriber the query, "Can you tell me what the weather is likely to be next week?" In reply he wrote, "It is my belief that the weather next week is likely to be like your subscription." The enquirer puzzled his head for an hour over what the editor was driving at, when finally he happened to think of the word
"Unsettled"

Subscription Rates—In British Empire, in advance, $2.50 per year; six months, $1.40. To U.S.A. and other countries, $3.00 per year.
Advertising Rate Cards and information respecting territory and samples of paper mailed upon request, or may be seen at the office of any advertising agency recognized by the Canadian Press Association.

Advertisers must have copy in by Tuesday noon in order to insure changes for standing advertisements. New display advertising copy can be accepted one day later.

Correspondence—Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and legibly written on one side of the paper only. The longer an article, the shorter its chance of insertion. All communications must bear the name of the writer, not necessarily for publication. The publication or rejection of articles is a matter entirely in the discretion of the Editor. No responsibility is assumed by the paper for the opinions expressed by correspondents.

Typographical Errors—In the event of a typographical error, advertising goods at less than the proper price, the newspaper will furnish letters to be posted in the store stating the correct price, but goods may not be sold at the price printed and the difference charged to the newspaper.

DOLLARS PER MILE.

Some interesting figures on the subject of road expenditure in the several electoral districts of the province were submitted by Hon. Dr. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, at the request of Mr. Anderson, from the floor of the House last week.

These cover the mileage and the expenditure in each district. An examination of a few of these figures show that for the year ending March 31 last, this riding had an average expenditure of $83 per mile of road within the district. North Okanagan received $136 per mile, and the Similkameen district, $164. Revelstoke, Dr. Sutherland's own riding, had an expenditure of $230,851, being nearly $900 per mile, while Rossland had an average of $982 per mile.

IT'S UP TO YOU.

Every grower, in his own best interests, and every man interested in the shipping and marketing of fruit, should be at the mass meeting, to be held tomorrow afternoon.

At that gathering, men will be selected to help shape the future policy of the fruit grower of this province. The best business heads of the district should represent Summerland at Kelowna on December 6.

ADVERTISING.

Says an Exchange: The occasional advertiser misses a good many opportunities. The constant advertiser gets all the benefits. Take the advice of all successful advertisers and every advertising agency in the world, and make your advertising constant.

Never stop advertising while you are in business—the advertiser who advertises constantly gets much better returns for his money, as advertising is cumulative, and when there is a slip the gap is not bridged over, but resuming advertising is like beginning again.

It is good business to increase your advertising at times but very unprofitable to discontinue your advertising as long as you are in business. Keep your advertisement of some size going every issue. It's your loss of you don't.

MUST CONTROL 90 PER CENT. OF FRUIT CROP

Keremeos Writer Says Selling Agency Must Do So to Succeed.

Harry Tidy, of Keremeos, writes thus in the Princeton Star, on the subject of marketing British Columbia's fruit crop:

"Co-operation, that is the word. Webster states that 'co-operation is the act of operating jointly with another or others.' That is exactly what the fruit growers, not only of Keremeos but all through the Okanagan and Kootenay districts will have to do before they will be able to get out of the chaos that the fruit business, as far as the growing end is concerned, is in at the present time. It is the same old story every year and the grower is the man who is holding the sack at the end of each season. Fortunately indeed will be the grower, this year, who after he gets his returns in and pays his debts, will have enough money left to carry him and his family through the winter, to say nothing of the expenses of getting his orchard in shape again next spring. The majority of them will have to do the same as they have done for the last ten years or so and borrow from the banks to carry them over. It will take about $500 to pay for pruning, spraying and thinning the average ten-acre lot.

"Besides the Okanagan United Growers with their several local unions, there are about fifteen independent packing houses in the interior. This means that there are that many different salesmen trying to sell fruit in the same market. The result of this tremendous overlapping is a lot of commission and the poor grower is made the goat.

"The O. U. G. have done their best and at the present time are handling about 50 per cent. of the crop, but this is not enough to save the grower. The selling organization must handle at least 90 per cent. It is claimed by some people that this could not be done, but this is nothing but propaganda spread by interests that would be affected if the growers were to amalgamate. The O. U. G. have fallen down several times and the proposal that is now advanced is that a new organization be formed to take over the O. U. G. and all organizations in the interior from Wallachin through the Okanagan, Similkameen and Kootenay districts.

"It is not suggested that any of the present packing houses should be done away with but that they be taken over at a fair valuation. During the big seasons the packing houses can hardly cope with the fruit so it would be foolish to let any of them lie idle.

"The following are some of the advantages that would accrue to the growers through solid co-operation: "No consignment of fruit. The result of this would be that the grower would get all that was coming to him.

"No overcrowding of the markets. Result, no cutting of prices by the wholesalers.

"A real export business could be built up with Great Britain that would take care of all the surplus fruit.

"Through solid co-operation, real influence could be brought on the government to prevent dumping instead of the half-hearted opposition to it as now exists.

"Help could be secured from the Dominion Government for the building of storage plants to store the apples over the winter in. This would be one of the real benefits for it is only natural that the wholesaler who buys his winter apples in the fall is going to make a large profit out of them or he would not buy. On the other hand, if the grower has the proper storage to keep these apples in he will be able to get a much better price in the spring that he does in the fall.

"An amalgamated organization such as is proposed, through buying all the supplies, such as boxes, paper, nails, etc., for the different branches would be able to make a big saving.

"At the head of this organization there must be a real man who is ca-

FRUIT MARKETING.

To the Editor of The Review:

Sir,—If we, as fruit growers, wish to have real and complete co-operation, we must be inspired with the belief that life is a great and noble calling; not a mean and grovelling thing that we are to shuffle through as we can, but an elevated and lofty destiny. If we would work successfully co-operatively we must cultivate the faculty of making many one, of throwing the mind into the common stock. This does not mean the quenching of a duty in a man to have a mind of his own. It means the aiming at practical ends rather than adhering closely to high abstract theory or principle. We cannot handle all questions at all times. The best time to handle a difficult question is when it is at the very door. The mind is then more alert, concentration of thought is more intense, the opportune is more easily discerned and practical issue is more likely to obtain. Apparently this is where the fruit growers in general and the Okanagan United Growers in particular, are at the present time.

Notwithstanding this, the O. U. G. is in a condition in which its growers should keep its position. The O. U. G. should obtain the means of extending and strengthening itself, not only by covering a greater space, but by a more vigorous organization. The O. U. G.'s attaining to this state of higher health depends in no small degree upon progressive adaptation of its state and its laws, rules or regulations to the ever-changing exigencies caused by fluctuating marketing conditions. One of the first steps towards this is the adoption of long-term contracts. With this condition the institution will be able to face unforeseen circumstances with comparative equanimity and confidence begotten of well-founded self-reliance.

As far as possible locals should take care that the representatives they send to the Central Board are men whose past actions and present standing are such as to proclaim them worthy of the trust reposed in them. A man may be an unsurpassable success as a social entertainer, and yet be the most wretched failure in business. Among other qualifications, a representative should be a capable of handling a man-sized job and the growers must realize that to get a man of this calibre they will have to pay a real salary; but a few thousand dollars will not amount to much as that could be lost over night through the improper flooding of the markets.

"The majority of the growers around Keremeos realize this and now that the crop of this year is all harvested it is time to start to organize for next year. There is no use in waiting until the crop is ready to harvest as there will be a lot of work to do to get the organization going, so get busy now; don't wait!"

good counsellor at the consultation table, he should be a good business man, perfectly loyal and single-minded.

The O. U. G. has not fallen down so badly as some would have us believe. Did its growers stand by themselves in the distressing period which has overtaken them it might be otherwise, but they did not. The investigation committee of a few months ago based the collapse of the markets, so far as the O. U. G. was concerned, practically upon one point, which I will not now deal with. Mr. L. E. Taylor and General Harman, after personal and thorough inquiry, place the cause of the disruption of the markets upon the lack of unity among the growers as a whole. But seeing that the O. U. G. growers were united—the condition these gentlemen ask for—the brunt, or force, of their complaint falls upon those growers who sold through the many independent shipping houses and were therefore not united.

At the inception of the co-operative movement these growers had opportunity to join it. For reasons best known to themselves, they declined, and we have no right at this late date to blame them for so doing. But things have happened since then; events have occurred; and it is to be hoped lessons have been learned. The O. U. G. has not closed its doors. It is still ready to receive them on equal terms with present members. The O. U. G. has made clear the road to unity. This entailed the doing of much hard work, which had to be accomplished without experience as a guide to help. Mistakes, bad mistakes if you will, were made. It was in the nature of things that this would happen. No big concern was ever launched upon the world, nor ever will be, without errors being made; no big success was ever accomplished without preliminary blunders of a more or less serious kind.

The O. U. G. has well-nigh passed through that stage of its existence. With the experience it has gained, and by all growers following the advice of Mr. Taylor and Gen. Harman to unite, there is no reason, should these outsiders "line-up" with it, why the O. U. G. should not in the near future, prove to be the salvation of the fruit industry throughout the Province of British Columbia.

The O. U. G. has the machinery to do the work. It has within itself the power to make changes and improvements in the use of this machinery, where and when found necessary. The name "Okanagan United Growers" could be changed to "British Columbia United Growers." This would be all embracing, and would meet the demand now being made that all fruit be shipped as British Columbia fruit. As Mr. Taylor and Gen. Harman point out, there is every reason for the growers uniting, and no reason why they should not. And it will be easier and safer to unite under an existing institution (even though its name be changed) than take the great risk of sundering present unity in an endeavor to create a new organization.

To the Editor of The Review:

Sir,—On motion, unanimously adopted at the Naramata Sunday School Institute last January (the last of the series), it was agreed that a committee be appointed whose duty would be to arrange for another series of institutes.

This committee, as appointed by the Sunday school workers of the districts interested are as follows: Penticton, Rev. Mr. Perley, Messrs. A. S. Matheson and A. F. Warnock; Summerland, Rev. H. E. Livingstone, Messrs. J. L. Logie and J. S. Pirie; Naramata, Mrs. D. O. Hughes, Mrs. J. M. Myers and W. H. Irwin, who was made chairman.

This committee is called to meet Friday afternoon, Dec. 1, at 2 o'clock, in the Methodist church, Penticton.

The adoption of programs, appointment of speakers, fixing of dates, and other matters of importance will engage the attention of the committee.

A Secret For Business Success
Wm. Wrigley, Jr. discloses his system of
"THE TIME TO ADVERTISE"

"The time to advertise is—now and—the time."
The reason for advertising—and the necessity for advertising—is the same yesterday, today and tomorrow.
People have new wants. New babies are born every minute. Old things are worn out. New things must be bought.
These things are going to be bought somewhere. Why not have them bought in your store or have your trademark on them?
Your rent goes on, your store or your factory is open. Why not spread the overhead over as large as possible an output?
By so doing, you can reduce your cost, and you can serve the public by reducing prices or giving better quality or more goods for the same money.
Advertising is an economic and public servant whose benefits should be enjoyed by every manufacturer, merchant or consumer."

Good progress is being made in the improvement of the property recently acquired by the G. W. V. A. It is the intention of this organization to make the property a beauty spot. Through what is termed a perpetual bee, the work is being carried on day by day, under the grounds committee, by which stones are being removed, the plot cleared up and a section levelled for a lawn tennis court. It is proposed to plant trees along the roadway and in other ways to beautify the grounds. The interior of the building is being fixed up for club purposes.

WEDDINGS.

Henderson—Blair.
A wedding of considerable interest took place at St. Stephen's church at 9 o'clock, on the morning of Thursday, Nov. 30, when Miss Annie Neil Blair became the bride of Mr. James Douglas Henderson. The Rev. H. A. Solly officiated at the ceremony. The bride looked charming in a suit of navy blue tricotine with feather hat to match, and wore a bouquet of crimson roses. Many friends were present to witness the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson left by motor for Vernon, where they intend to reside.

Two keenly contested games of basketball between teams from the Kelowna and Penticon High Schools were played Friday evening in the latter town. Penticon won both games, but by a narrow margin.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ANNIE M. PEARSON.

The Medicine Hat Daily News published the following report of the death here of Mrs. A. M. Pearson, and of the funeral held in that city:

A large number of friends gathered on Thursday afternoon to pay their last tribute of respect to a former resident of this city, one who was well known and highly esteemed—Mrs. A. M. Pearson, widow of the late Ezra Pearson, who passed away suddenly, November 12th, in Summerland, B.C., where she had gone to reside. Death, which was the result of heart trouble, was unexpected by her friends as Mrs. Pearson had appeared to be in her usual health and had quite recently spent a couple of weeks with Medicine Hat friends on her way west.

Born in Howick, Huron, Co., Ont., March 14, 1854, Annie Maria, daughter of Richard and Letitia Roe, spent her girlhood days there coming to Portage la Prairie, Man., in 1886. In 1897 she was married to Mr. Ezra Pearson and came to Alberta, where they were at home at the Medicine Hat ranch, later residing in the city. After her husband's death, in 1914, Mrs. Pearson spent several years travelling, and had just decided to make her home in Summerland, when the Messenger of Death called her home. Mrs. Pearson was a woman of very lovable personality, and held the secret of a happy life in her unselfish service for others. Her affection for and interest in children was specially characteristic and wherever she went the little folk knew they had a friend. In her life she was known as a consistent, broad-minded Christian woman, ever ready to take a generous share of the church's work.

The funeral service was held at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. L. W. MacBean, Fifth street, Rev. A. C. Farrell, of Fifth Avenue Methodist church, conducting the service. Rev. J. W. Morrow led in prayer and Mrs. A. McCarty sang "The Home of the Soul." The hymns were led by Mrs. W. E. Marshall and Mrs. A. P. Burns.

Besides many friends, the deceased leaves to mourn her loss, her mother, six brothers, two sisters, and a daughter, Mrs. L. W. MacBean. Those attending the funeral from outside points were Mrs. Morrison (sister), and daughter Kathleen, Summerland, B.C.; Mr. Richard Roe (brother), Portage la Prairie, and Mr. William Roe (brother) and Mrs. Roe, of Kenora.

The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. H. Cunliffe, S. Sprague, John Trimble, R. E. Starks, B. F. Souch and C. Putnam. Interment took place at Hillside cemetery.

Floral tributes were as follows: Pillow, mother, sisters and brothers; wreaths—Mr. and Mrs. L. W. MacBean and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hodgkins, Mr. and Mrs. Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Dow, of Long Beach, Cal.; Adult Bible class, Summerland, B.C.; cross, W.C.T.U., Summerland B.C.; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Starks, Mr. and Mrs. John Trimble, Mrs. A. Hartley, Mrs. E. Heard, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Souch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leigh, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Putnam, Mr. and Mrs. C. Robertson, Local Council of Women, Grade Six Toronto Street school, Ladies' Aid Fifth Avenue Methodist church; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Souch, Staff of Toronto Street school.
