

The Influence of Tourist Travel on Future Business

"There have been more visitors to the Pacific Northwest this summer, both by rail and by automobile and by steamship than in any other previous year," said Herbert Cuthbert, executive secretary, Pacific Northwest Tourist Association. "Just how many people have been here I do not know yet, but I do know, from all reports that have come to me from various sections of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, that these people have been of a better class than in past years. There has been a greater tendency on the part of automobile tourists to patronize hotels and restaurants, and they have spent their money more freely."

"In some of the cities I have visited the business men have frankly stated that they did not know how they would have fared over the summer months had it not been for this tourist travel. And it is only natural to assume that the benefits have been just as great to the larger cities, although, of course, naturally they have been less noticeable. It's a little early yet to estimate how much money has been spent in the aggregate by visitors, yet, I think it is safe to say that it is between forty-five and fifty million dollars."

In response to the query as to what other benefits the Pacific Northwest received from these visitors, other than the cash revenue, Mr. Cuthbert made some very interesting statements. He pointed out that the tourist was responsible for the high class nature of some of our transportation facilities. He pointed to the ferry service between Victoria, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria.

In winter these splendid steamships have often carried as low as between sixty and seventy passengers. Anyone knows that if that were the normal travel, they could not be maintained on the run for two months. It is the tourist in summer that swells the business to such an extent as to make it possible to maintain this high class service the year round, because it is no unusual thing for each steamship to carry from seven to nine hundred passengers a single trip in summer.

The tourist travel in the future is going to improve many other lines of transportation and to cause the transportation enterprises to be started. Take, for instance, the Anacortes Ferry which was inaugurated this year. It was an experiment with nothing to show what its prospects were, and yet all who are familiar with the results know that it has been so successful as to very largely increase the number of automobilists that have visited Vancouver Island, in fact, the city of Victoria claims a benefit of not less than $250,000 to its business men through its operation, and it has been a profitable venture for those engaged in it.

In the future we will find in the Pacific Northwest that a large amount of local capital will be invested in new transportation routes, either by automobile, by train, or by ferry. And this opens up all the prospects for new capital that can be employed in catering to the tourist travel.

"I found," said Mr. Cuthbert, in visiting Portland in June last, that Mr. Sam Lancaster, one of Oregon's leading citizens, who was the engineer of the great Columbia River highway, had opened three most beautifully located, elegantly equipped camps for tourists where there were no hotels. One of them is on the Columbia River highway, one, I believe at Lost Lake, and I forget where the other one is, but the point is, that this is a new employment for capital. It is providing a new business enterprise for Mr. Lancaster. It is employing a large number of people, but above all, it is purchasing large supplies of furniture, beds, camp equipment, supplies and products of the soil, and other things that would not have been purchased but for the establishment of these camps, and but for the increase in the tourist travel. This is one of the great benefits of the tourist business which has been overlooked by the people of the Pacific Northwest.

"Many people look only at the dollars which are spent by travelers for meals or at hotels, and forget that every dollar spent for meals is to the benefit of the grower and producer, and to the laboring man, and every dollar spent in the hotels is for the benefit of the merchant and the producer and the caterer and the manufacturer who would not have this business but for the tourist."

"In the near future we are going to see millions of dollars spent in new hotels, new accommodations at lake and mountain resorts where not a dollar has been spent so far, and in cities where the hotel accommodation at present is not either sufficient or satisfactory. And in the expenditure of these millions of dollars the general public is going to be benefited. This is in addition to the ordinary expenditure by the tourist while he is amongst us.

"If the plans of the association for next year, which are now being matured, are carried out, I believe 1923 will see the greatest tourist year we have ever had and probably we will have more visitors than any other resort section has ever had in a single year: This will be in spite of the fact that this season we had many large national conventions which we will not have next year.

"The point I want to make, however," said Cuthbert, "is not that the benefits derived from the tourist business are solely in catering to the visitor while he is here, nor in his expenditure with our stores, automobile dealers, garages, etc., but in the employment of capital and labor, in new transportation enterprises, in new building operations for hotels and camps, and other accommodation at new or existing resorts, and in the increased business which is given to manufacturers of blankets, linens, furniture, crockery and all the other things that go into the equipment of hotels and camp sites, and in the employment of more labor and in the general increase of business among those who handle in a wholesale or retail way the articles just referred to."

CHURCH DETRACTORS

It is an easy matter to criticize. Any fool can find objections. Any idiot can strike a match, light a fire, which will consume a mansion. Many people were born in the objective case. They never escape their cradle. They spend their days kicking, objecting and complaining. They are just common, offensive, ever-present, irradicated nuisances. They are constantly talking about the church, what she is doing, what she ought to do, what she is not doing. They work incessantly at the business of trying to detract from the church influence and power.

FIRST—They say the church is declining. But they do not tell you that they are looking at a few fallen trees only and not at the whole forest. Of course, there are dead trees in the forest. Of course there are dwarf growths in the great garden of vegetation. They ought to be there. That is the place for them. There are objectionable or bad people in the church who by their lives are misrepresenting the church and reflecting upon their own membership. But they are not the whole church. They are a very insignificant part of the church.

There are hypocrites in the church. There are hypocrites in every department of life. But there are fewer hypocrites in the church than in any other department of life. The word hypocrite means, playing a part. There are very few actors in the church. There are heretics in the church who have followed the rationalistic teachings of demon-detracted German professors, and have strayed away from the spiritual doctrines of the infallible Word of God. They are very few in number, however, compared to the great body of Christians.

SECOND—They say the church is pauperized. But they do not tell you that those who have refused to support the church are among the rationalistic heretics. They are the real ones who have under rationalistic teachings become so materialistic that they would rob the church of her sacred vessels for their own banquet of selfishness and blasphemy. Such heretics are the real defrauders and detractors and exploiters of the church. The real saints of God are giving more money today than ever before in the history of the church. They are supporting the whole program of Christian evangelism.

THIRD—They say the church is not spiritual. But they do not tell you that the worldly and unrighteous in the church are the disciples of the rationalistic teachers of the demon-created cults that are today thriving upon the credulous and the silly minded. Such are a disgrace to the church because they have given up the spiritual for the worldly, the selfish and the sordid things of life.

FOURTH—They say the church is not paying her ministers. But they do not tell you that the only ones who are refusing to support the ministers are the hypocrites, the Bolsheviks, the Socialists, the heretics, and the infamous Germanized rationalists who have crept into the church without the wedding garment. Such are the only ones who are refusing to support the Gospel, pay the minister, or give him his due place. Such are the cold-hearted, irrevocable detractors and perverters of the church life, influence and service. They are void of every sense

HOW TO STORE POTATOES

Some Valuable Advice Given by the Dominion Horticulturist

Thousands of bushels of potatoes are lost annually by careless storing—by being put wet in comparatively warm and ill-ventilated cellars and by being piled in great heaps. Touching on this matter the Dominion Horticulturist in bulletin No. 90 of the Dominion Experimental Farms, that is to be had on application to the Publications Branch, Ottawa, furnishes advice that could profitably be well heeded. In the first place potatoes should be stored as far as possible in perfect darkness in a cool, well-ventilated cellar. Instead of heaping the potatoes against the wall slats should be nailed, a little apart, about six inches or more from the wall. A temporary floor should also be laid about a similar distance above the permanent floor with cracks between the boards. This plan will permit air to circulate under and through the pile. If large quantities have to be stored and the piles have to be made very large, square ventilators formed of slats and running from the top to the bottom of the heaps can be placed here and there, which with the ventilation derived from the spaces below and at the sides, will keep the potatoes in far better condition than if they are packed solidly. Another plan for storing the tubers is to put them in large crates made from slats with small interstices between. The temperature is an important point. While every precaution should be taken against frost, the heat should not exceed from 33 to 35 degrees F. A further matter of importance is to provide some means of letting in cool air when spring is at hand to prevent sprouting. The best method is to let the cool air in at night and keep the cellar closed during the day.

Diseases Resulted. It has often been found that Crown Rot or Color Blight are most apt to develop where the soil becomes completely saturated for a period and then dry for another period. This rotting usually takes place in local spots where the soil takes water very readily. However, if but one or two ditches to the tree row were used continually this opportunity of soaking and drying could be lessened to a point where there would be little danger of tree injury.

According to D. F. Fisher, United States Plant Pathologist for the Wenatchee District, Black Spot or Bitter Pit is usually the direct result of over watering and drying of trees. During the period of drought the moisture is withdrawn from the cells of the apple. If this is followed by a heavy application of water the cells become saturated with moisture often to such an extent that they apparently break down and the sap or juice of the fruit will collect and form black spots where the breakdown takes place. For a number of years Mr. Fisher has recommended very careful use of irrigating water and recommends keeping a small amount of water available to the tree at all times rather than a large amount at any one time then followed by a period when there is no irrigation at all.

Another advantage of irrigating in one ditch at a time is that if the process is properly manipulated by the irrigator it is possible to keep the irrigating water running in one ditch even when the sprayer is being hauled through the orchard and it is not necessary to take the water off of the orchard and permit over-irrigated soil to become dry in order that the orchard may be sprayed. In case of breaks in the ditch or trouble with one's irrigating flumes or pipe lines from the main ditch to the orchard, a few days without water will do but little harm. If one portion of the orchard has been without water for 8 to 10 days, then some accident happens which keeps the water off several days more, it may mean a disastrous drying up of the portion of the orchard most in need of water.

These suggestions may be taken for whatever they are worth and should be used with judgment as all orchard conditions must be considered first before attempting any new methods in our orchard practices. In case one has Black Bents, Grimes or Black Twigs he should by all means try the system of a little water all the time rather than a lot of water for a short time as it has been definitely proved that this will prevent Baldwin Spot or Bitter Pit to a great extent.

It is important to have clear vision. Even the potato may not have sound eyes.

CAREFUL IRRIGATION PREVENTS TREE INJURY

A few orchardists who have been following the practice of watering a large area of their orchard in just one ditch per tree row have suggested that we mention the advantages of this system, says the Farm Bureau News. Possibly the old method of irrigating, putting water in every ditch and leaving a portion of the orchard entirely without water was developed during the time when our trees were young and was very successful during the age of clean cultivation. As the tree came into heavy bearing it was found that on many varieties the old system of irrigating was often too long between times to insure a constant and uniform development of the fruit. An excess growth would start when the water was in all the ditches and if taken off for two weeks at a time a drying up of fruit and foliage would develop before the water could be brought back to that area of the orchard. In some orchards there was intermittent drying and soaking of soil going on during the entire season.

It is a poor kind of piety that seeks all the pleasures and dodges all the pains.

C.N.R. GIVEN RIGHT TO SWITCH ON C.P.R.

Decision of Railway Board Revives Hope For Kelowna Branch

Kamloops.—Chairman Hon. F. B. Carvell of the Board of Railway Commissioners, and Calvin Lawrence have issued an order today directing construction of inter-switching connections between the C.P.R. and C.N.R. at Kamloops. This was done, the chairman said, not because the traffic at present seemed to warrant it, but looking to this as a necessary adjunct to the C.N.R. line into the Okanagan. Thus one of the chief objections on the part of the C.N.R. to proceed with its branch line to Kelowna is removed.

The C.N.R. bears the cost of the new undertaking and this city meantime waives its application for a sub-way under the tracks of both railways at Ninth avenue.

The C.N.R., C.P.R., Kamloops City Council and Board of Trade were all represented by counsel. The decision was somewhat of a surprise and receives interest in the possibility of an early completion of the Kamloops-Kelowna branch line.

CHAUTAQUA TICKETS

Judging from comments made by a number of citizens since the recent Chautauqua it is evident that the details of the financial arrangement are not clear in the minds of many.

In order to have the Chautauqua in our midst it is necessary that a minimum guarantee be made the Chautauqua people, otherwise it would not be possible for them to bring such high class talent at the very small charge of less than forty cents an entertainment.

This is the reason why it is essential that every possible season ticket be sold in advance.

THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER

A comparison of local newspapers of a number of years ago and the present publications with which almost every district of any importance is familiar, reveals a remarkable stride in the progress made, not only from a mechanical point of view but also in a literary sense.

There are many among us who can recall the paper of say fifteen years ago, filled on the inside pages with what is known in the business as "boiler plate" leaving only the outside pages to be printed locally.

The change to present day publications has been imperceptible but steady, and today the best weeklies of Canada are crammed with local news, in fact at times it is impossible to find room for all that occurs locally.

Although town and country are today flooded with cheap periodicals and daily papers, yet the country weekly has not suffered in the slightest degree, but has gone forward and strengthened its hold upon its local field.

Sensible girls say that the patent on patent leather soon expires.

He who is good, and not good for something, is no good to himself or anybody else.

Look not then for wrong and evil; you will find them if you do. As you measure to your neighbor he will measure back to you.

Poem by Uncle John

SPEEDERS

When I see a bird a-flyin' high above the feathered flock, sorter givin' the impression that he comes of better stock,—that egotistic fledgeling is within his vested rights, an' you can't convince him different, till he breaks a wing an' lights.

A racer's apt to chuckle when he spurts a neck ahead,—there's a powerful temptation to become a thoroughbred, so I allers cheer the leader with a lively heart an' hand, but there's pitfalls on a racetrack that a hoss don't understand.

I like to watch the trotters when they hold their noses high. It does me good to holler, as they go a-tearin' by,—but it's painful to consider, as they spurn the level track,—the aftermath is awful when the winner breaks his back!

So I'd rather sorter live along, without no extra spurts, an' run no risk of landin' whar the landin' allers hurts. With honest bread an' butter, an' a decent place to stay, I'll live a whole lots longer, an' die the natural way.

SOMETHING FARMERS SHOULD READ

The farmer being a business man—a seller of goods—he ought to advertise just as all other successful business men advertise. He, too, will be successful in that little business matter of winning bank accounts when he advertises liberally and intelligently.

But a first-class way to find out that "advertising doesn't pay" is to advertise unintelligently. One of our justly noted farm magazines prints two advertisements that illustrate this point very clearly indeed.

John Smith, having ten very fine Holstein cows, and being nearly out of feed, ran this ad in his nearby town paper:

FOR SALE—Ten cows. Price reasonable. John Smith, Plodtown.

Then John sat down and waited. There was nothing arousing, or interesting, or attractive or appealing in that ad. Moreover, it didn't tell the facts that farmers wanting to buy cows wanted to know. A few questions came to John, every one of them asking questions. Some even desired to know what was the matter with the cows that he was trying to sell "reasonably."

Our magazine editor says that Tom Jones put the following ad in his country town paper:

FOR SALE—Ten heavy producing grade Holstein cows, five years old. Price $100 each. Fresh in September. Forced to sell on account of feed shortage. Tom Jones, Peptown.

During the next three days Tom got several acceptances of his offer—right off the bat—providing the cows were as he represented, of course. The farmers who read this ad didn't have to ask questions. The ad told all they wanted to know and they accepted when the appeal was fresh in their minds.

Now Tom's ad cost twice as much as John's—perhaps 50 cents more. But Tom got $1,000 for his cows, and John got only $650 for his.

Unintelligent advertising may not pay, but intelligent advertising always pays—ALWAYS.

AND THERE IS NOTHING HARD ABOUT IT. JUST WRITE AN AD THAT YOU YOURSELF WOULD LIKE TO READ IF YOU WERE LOOKING OVER THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS.

Don't be miserly with your words; in the long run they cost almost nothing. But don't waste them either, folks. Tom didn't.

NURSE WILSON TO DO MISSIONARY WORK

Was Recipient of Presentations From Many Well Wishers Here

Following the regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Church, the members held an informal social when Miss L. Wilson of the hospital staff, one of the members of the society, was presented with a hymn book and a bouquet.

The presentation was made on behalf of the society by Miss Sinclair, the president.

Miss Wilson has resigned her position at the hospital to go into the northern interior as a missionary nurse for the Presbyterian Church.

During the afternoon, the ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary joined the Missionary Society at afternoon tea. On behalf of the former, Mrs. Solly, president of the Auxiliary, presented Miss Wilson with a very handsome writing case and a gold "Eversharp" pencil.

Miss Wilson who made a happy though brief acknowledgment of these unexpected gifts, has made many friends during her stay in Summerland, who admire her courage in undertaking the mission which she has been called upon to assume, and predict her success in her endeavor.

Last evening the staff of the hospital gave a dance in honor of Miss Wilson at the E. N. Rowley house, when Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Andrew acted as host and hostess.

The cheaper the shoes the louder they squeak.

NO EXPENSE TO BOARD FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

Supervisor Outlines Plan For Operation Here. Department Pays Much of Cost

While here on Monday, Mr. John Kyle, Supervisor of Technical Education, was asked by The Review for some information on the subject of night schools here that would be of interest to its readers. He has furnished this paper with a synopsis of the report he will make to the school board, and which is as follows:

After spending a day in Summerland and visiting the new school which seems so spacious and eminently suitable for educational work, I beg leave to offer some suggestions in regard to making use of the rooms for night schools.

During the winter season the school will doubtless be heated night and day and as far as one can judge the rooms are going to be well lighted.

Classes therefore for people who wish to study subjects like the following might well be organized: English and arithmetic, bookkeeping, shorthand, carpentry, joinery and building construction, basket-making (using the local willows), drawing and design, dress-making, millinery, cookery.

For the information of the Board it may be stated that a Government grant of four-fifths of the teachers' salaries will be paid to encourage such night schools. A special register must be kept and a monthly report for each class sent in duplicate by the teacher to the Secretary of the Board.

Upon receipt of these the Secretary should forward one copy to the Department of Education with a notification of the salary paid and in return a cheque for four-fifths of the amount will be forwarded.

The register and book of monthly report forms may be obtained from the Free Text Book Branch, Department of Education, Victoria.

Night school classes may easily be made self-supporting as enquiry at Penticton will prove. An adjustment between the fees and the salaries will have to be made, but the following draft of a balance sheet will explain the possibility of such a financial arrangement.

Income—
Four-fifths of $75	.....	$60
20 Students @ $3	.....	60
		$120
Expenditure—
25 Lessons @ $3	.....	$75
Heat, light, janitor	.....	45
		$120

An average attendance of ten students is looked upon as satisfactory, therefore fifteen or twenty students should be enrolled.

It may be added that the school trustees might welcome in an advisory capacity such bodies as the Women's Institute and the Arts and Crafts Society, and by co-operation much good sound useful work might be accomplished in the community.

 communicate with the secretary, or hand their donation to any one of the directors, who are doing their utmost to forward the ultimate success of the exhibition.

For the benefit of the entrants for the newcomers' competition it may be stated that points for varieties will not be counted, as the committee wish to encourage the contestants to make their own individual selection of fruit, the judge afterwards pointing out the various reasons he will have for giving the prize, thus making the matter educational for future years.

A pamphlet issued by the Provincial Department "Hints to Exhibitors at Fall Fairs" is recommended to competitors and Manager A. B. Morkill of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, is arranging to have a supply of these on hand from where they may be obtained. Another book issued by the department, "Exhibiting Fruits and Vegetables," No. 48 is recommended to prospective entrants and can also be obtained from the Bank of Commerce.

Some work will be done to the grounds surrounding the exhibition building, and four local business men have already made application for space during the fair, while the Department of Agriculture, Experimental Farm, and Manual Training class will take a considerable portion of the building.

Another meeting of the directors will be held on Friday, October 13th.

NIGHT SCHOOLS DEALT WITH BY LECTURER

 ment of a choral society or an orchestra, and the carrying on of arts and crafts. We have here, he says, suitable clay and there is no reason why the community should not become well known for its pottery.

There must be an average attendance of ten in each class in order to obtain a government grant. The best plan is for the school board to advertise that certain classes will be established and will begin on a certain night when those who wish to take up the study would be required to register. He strongly advocated domestic science classes for women. Women's Institute classes carried on under this plan elsewhere had been a great success, dressmaking, cookery, etc., being taught.

After the adjournment of the public meeting, Mr. Kyle discussed in an informal way with the Arts and Craft League, the establishing of classes in pottery, suggesting methods whereby efficient instruction could be had. It is probable that something more will be heard of this shortly.

HAD NO LICENSE MOTOR DRIVER FINED

Found guilty of driving a motor vehicle without having obtained a chauffeur's license, Stanley Foster was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Hutton.

The charge was laid by Police Constable King. The Magistrate looked upon the matter as more the offence of A. E. Smith, his employer than of Foster's and imposed the minimum fine. Foster has been driving the school van on the town route under contract to A. E. Smith.

Institute Takes Matter up With Game Warden. Dr. Lipsett Helpful Address

The Trout Creek Farmers' Institute held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening last when there was a good attendance. The president, Mr. Magnus Tait, gave a report of his interview with the Provincial Game Warden who has recently paid a visit to the district investigating complaints from the resident farmers regarding damage done by pheasants. There is a strong feeling amongst these farmers on this matter. They submit to all the losses from the game birds and during the brief shooting season armies of shooters from other districts invade the locality and carry off the spoils. There was a strong determination to prevent this during the coming season.

Dr. Lipsett gave an interesting and instructive address on "First Aid for the Dairy Cow." The question of breed most suitable for the district was discussed, the merits of each being carefully considered. The best time for the cow to freshen is in the fall or winter and the speaker quoted valuable statistics to support this contention. The principal diseases were touched on—milk fever, tuberculosis, bloating, and Dr. Lipsett strongly urged upon his hearers the necessity for having dairy cows tested if there are but the slightest suspicions of tuberculosis. Good results have been obtained from feeding apples, but these must be fed with discretion and very sparingly at first.

A hearty vote of thanks was given the doctor and as one speaker remarked, each member present who kept a cow would in future tend the animal with greater confidence.

Correspondence.

To the editor of The Review,
 Sir,—Last week a paragraph appeared in The Review to the effect that I proposed to travel up to my duties in the children's rig, with the idea of helping the driver, Mr. A. E. Smith, to keep order. I should like to say that no member of the School Board, nor its secretary made any approach to me on the subject in any way, nor has any complaint at any time reached my ears with respect either to Mr. Smith's efficient handling of the conveyance, or of his care of the children in his charge. Complaints had reached me, however, that some of the bigger boys were too lively at times, and pushed the little children—meaning no harm doubtless—and as I myself have four small children using the rig I naturally want them to go up in comfort. My idea was simply to sit with the children and see that no horseplay occurred, and I thought that by so doing I might help Mr. Smith by freeing him to devote his whole attention to driving. I should be very sorry if any parent got an idea that Mr. Smith was anything but careful, and still more so if Mr. Smith has conceived the notion the Board was dissatisfied in any way. The chairman Mr. S. Sharp, simply concurred with the suggestion as I made it, thinking as I did, that Mr. Smith would be pleased with it. Finally the paragraph as inserted by your good self was printed just as I desired and the responsibility was mine and nobody else's, I am sir,
 G. A. LUNDIE,
 Principal, High School.

UNIVERSITY CAMPAIGN IN FULL SWING

"Varsity Week" Being Staged at Coast. Students to Build Cairn at Point Grey

VANCOUVER—Enthusiasm of the sort that see things through—that is what one feels to be the spirit of 'Varsity students and their hosts of supporters here. This is 'Varsity week and all Vancouver is awake to that fact.
 Plans have been made for a week of special events which cannot fail to bring the congested conditions of the University before the public. The street cars on all lines in the city are carrying 'Varsity Week' signs; and everywhere on Granville and Hastings streets shop windows are decorated with the colors of the University of British Columbia—the blue and gold.
 On Wednesday, October 25th, the entire city will be canvassed for signatures to the monister petition calling upon the government to provide the University with a more adequate home.

The building of a memorial cairn on the University site at Point Grey will terminate the week. The stone is to be assembled by the students and will be dedicated to the Alma Mater Society on October 28th, following a pilgrimage to the promised land. "To the glory of our Alma Mater, we the students of the University of British Columbia, build this cairn", will be the inscription engraved upon one of the tablets. Of course, there is a certain amount of method in this madness, for all things are to be done under the eye of the moving picture camera. Following the dedication everyone will mount the skeleton of the new science building and a picture will be taken. Another spectacle for the camera will be the arrangement of the pilgrims into the letters U.B.C. And speaking of the camera, Mr. Richards stated that arrangements were being made to have movies taken of our "Fabled Halls" in all their massed congestion.

FRUIT OR VEGETABLE?

It is an old story, that of the waiter's reply to the guest who put it up to him to decide whether a tomato was a fruit or a vegetable. "It's neither," he said, "it's an extra." The question of which of the products of the kitchen garden are fruits and which are vegetables has been going the rounds of the amateur and trade horticultural press for many years, and every once in a while, it comes up anew, says the Gardeners' Chronicle of America, which goes on to point out that the question is seldom settled. Quoting Abraham Lincoln, the writer of the article in the Chronicle says: "Nothing is ever settled in this world until it is settled right."

How the question, as far as the tomato is concerned, was settled, and "settled right," by a judge in a New York City court, follows:
 "A woman was arrested and brought before him for selling 'vegetables in such a way, or at such a time as to violate a city ordinance.' She was selling tomatoes, and in her defence contended that a tomato was a fruit, not a vegetable, and the judge ruled in her favor and discharged her, quoting as the basis of his decision from Joseph Y. Bergen's 'Foundation of Botany.' The passage quoted was essentially as follows: 'A fruit is the ripened ovary of a flowering plant with its contents and whatever parts are consolidated or intimately connected with it.'

"A tomato, egg-plant, squash, pumpkin, cucumber, peach, orange and the like, are all fruits, because they are ripened ovaries of flowering plants, with their contents and whatever parts are consolidated or intimately connected with them. An ovary is that part of the pistil of the flower which contains the seed.
 "On the other hand, the edible roots of the turnips, beet, onion, carrot and the edible foliage of celery, parsley, mint, lettuce, cabbage, spinach and the like are vegetables, not fruits."

A good booster for one thing never tears something else down.

PRESIDENT KLINCK FINDS PUBLIC BEHIND VARSITY CAMPAIGN

VANCOUVER—On his return from the School Trustees' Convention, held at Penticton recently, President L. S. Klinck made this statement to the "Ubyesey", the University weekly paper: "No effort on the part of the authorities has ever attracted the attention of the public as has the campaign now being carried on by the students for the removal of the University to Point Grey," he said. "Their enthusiasm is contagious. Everywhere one goes questions are asked as to the progress of the campaign, and best wishes are expressed for the success of the movement. The initiative, resource, and energy with which the canvass is being prosecuted has caught and fired the imagination of men and women in all parts of the province."

VALLEY TEACHERS HOLD CONVENTION

(Continued from Page 1) must come from? Speaking of its value to the poorer people of the province, he said that only forty of the twelve hundred students were studying for the learned professions, and further that possibly seventy-five per cent of their male students were in some way or other paying their own way through the university. He pointed out the growing need of the province for a steady supply of trained technical men and asked where they were to be had except from that institution.

Mr. H. Charlesworth, of the British Columbia Teachers' Federation was the other principal speaker. He referred to the inexact and indiscriminate criticism that was being levelled at our public school system. We are criticised, he said, for having too many subjects on our curriculum and for not having enough; for spending too much money on our schools and for spending too little; for paying too much attention to the material side of education and not enough to the cultural and vice versa. He admitted that when fault was found so generally, a serious lack was indicated, but emphasized that it was for experts to diagnose the case. A detailed educational survey of this province by trained and impartial outside surveyors should, he asserted, immediately be held, and with their report in our hands we might proceed intelligently to reorganize along the lines of the best modern thought.

Mr. J. Harwood of Vernon, the president of the Federation of B.C. School Trustees, was received with an enthusiasm which gave evidence of his popularity. In a brief speech he reminded his hearers of the simple but often forgotten fact that the welfare of the child is the sole object of all the work of the school. He asked that the work and the problems of the teacher be regarded sympathetically and understandingly.

At the final business meeting on Saturday, October 21st, the executive for the ensuing year was elected as follows: President, Mr. Matheson, Penticton; 1st vice-president, Mr. MacDonald, Summerland; 2nd vice-president, Miss Thomas, Penticton; corresponding secretary, Miss Pitblado, Penticton; recording secretary, Miss Stott, Penticton; treasurer, Mr. Smith, Penticton.

Resolutions of sympathy were passed with Mr. L. J. Miller, of Penticton, who is ill; and with Mr. D. J. Welch, whose son has recently died. Further resolutions called upon the B. C. Teachers' Federation to take steps for the establishment of a sick benefit fund, and for urging upon the education department the immediate necessity of an educational survey of the province. With a vote of thanks to the retiring executive the convention came to an end.

CONTRACT SYSTEM MEETS CRITICISM

(Continued from Page 1) course of discussion it was learned that two offers to repair these scales had been made to the owner J. Fyffe but no action had been taken by him. The Council felt that something should be done at once to overcome this danger to the public and it was resolved to notify Mr. Fyffe that he would be given five days to either repair the scales or remove them from the public highway, failing which the Council would have them taken out.

An application was made by the Summerland Lumber Company for exemption from possible taxation for five years on their new mill buildings at the K.V.R. station. The clerk explained that it would be necessary for the consent of the electors to be obtained. The necessary bylaw will be drawn up after a definite understanding with the company has been reached. A claim of $1d for a new wind-shield by W. A. Caldwell, damaged by the electric light workman was received and after discussion Councilor Scott moved that it be paid. H. H. Creese's offer to prepare the 1923 assessment roll for $150 was accepted by the Council, who by resolution moved that the 1922 assessment roll be adopted as the 1923 assessment roll.

A bylaw confirming the exemption of the Summerland Sports' Ltd. from 1922 taxes on their property at Crescent Beach was read and passed. An application for electric light from T. B. Carvick, occupying the McKinnon house on the Giant's Head road was approved.

A progress payment of $500 to J. Carefoot on his pipeline work was approved by the Council. Messrs. C. B. McCallum, H. Peckham and R. C. Lipsett attended the Council meeting as the fire committee from downtown and placed before the board suggestions on the proposed service whereby considerable reduction in estimated cost could be made, the reduction of the storage tanks to half the capacity and the elimination of about four hundred feet of pipe being among the items.

Considerable time was spent in discussion on this subject, and some of the difficulties in coming to a satisfactory solution of the trouble were gone into. Reeve Campbell suggested, and was strongly of the opinion that a chemical engine was needed to supply points outside the fire districts, and thought that it should be paid for out of current rates, but Councilor Scott demurred. Municipal Clerk Nixon pointed out that even when an equipment had been obtained and all expense incurred there would still be no proper brigade to take charge of it. The purchase of further hose pipe and hydrants were recommended by Mr. McCallum who asked that an estimate of the cost of proposed equipment as well as the pipe line and tanks be obtained. The question as to whether the cost should be borne by one or both districts or by the municipality as a whole was raised but no definite decision was arrived at, Mr. Nixon pointing out that under the municipal act the Council can only assess all real property in the fire district, and this did not include the stocks carried in stores, etc.

It was eventually decided to form committees to ascertain the names of all those who wished to be included in the various fire districts.

FOURTEEN THOUSAND BOXES OF APPLES FOR NEW ZEALAND MARKET

When the Makura sailed on Friday last she carried the first large consignment of the season of Okanagan apples. The last boat had two or three carloads, but this time 14,000 boxes representing about twenty cars, will be transported to New Zealand. They are chiefly Jonathans from Vancouver. British Columbia apples are not permitted to enter Australia, an embargo against them having been in force for several years.

All widows, grass or otherwise, are good looking.

SNOW-CLAD MOUNTAINS IN "THE CALL OF THE NORTH" All Their Beauty Seen in Picture Jack Holt, besides appearing in his first Paramount star picture, had also the honor of breaking virgin soil for location scenes at Mammoth Mountain, California, fifty miles north of Bishop. The picture is "The Call of the North" and a reproduction of a Hudson Bay trading post was constructed in the heart of the mountains, on the shores of one of the many beautiful lakes which abound.

The mountains form a background of eternal snows and are lofty. The country is almost primitive, though a hotel is located where the company made its headquarters. Many Indians were employed as extras, while two specially trained Indian actors, Chief Lighthouse and Big Tree, the latter a full blooded Seneca, took part in some of the scenes. Madge Bellamy has the feminine lead and Noah Beery, former Paramount character favorite, Francis McDonald, Jack Herbert and others are seen in good roles. The picture will be shown at the Rialto theatre tomorrow and Saturday.

Joseph Henabery was the director. Two weeks were spent on location. "The Call of the North" is from the George Broadhurst play of the same name and Stewart Edward White's novel, "Conjuror's House," adapted for the screen by Jack Cunningham. It is described as a virile, gripping and dramatic story of the far north, with an intensive love interest.
