CLOSER RELATIONS BETWEEN GROWERS AND THEIR MARKETING ORGANIZATION IS PROMISED

Reports Made to Meeting by Delegates sent to Kelowna Conventions.

HELMER STRUCK BY CALIBRE OF LEADERS

Some Features of Programs Not Already Covered by Press.

Summerland fruit growers met again on Saturday to hear reports from representatives at the annual meeting of the B.C.F.G.A. and also the local representatives to the re-organization meeting, both of which were held at Kelowna.

R. H. Helmer was again elected to the chair.

Jas. Shepherd, Summerland's delegate to the B.C.F.G.A., in opening his remarks, stated that the B.C.F.G.A. convention had already been well covered in The Review, but would supplement that by mentioning a few items not included in that report. More than 5,000 copies of the proceedings of the convention will be printed and distributed to all B. C. growers, whether members of the association or not.

Valuable Medium

Mr. Shepherd pointed out that the B. C. F. G. A. is the only organized body through which they may approach governments, railways, etc., and that the association is recognized, is proven by the fact that the government makes an annual grant of $8,000, sometimes supplemented with extra money for special purposes. Further demonstration of this recognition was shown by the large number of officials attending the convention. These included the Hon. E. D. Barrow, provincial minister of agriculture; Mr. G. E. McIntosh, Dominion fruit commissioner; Ottawa; R. G. L. Clarke, Dominion fruit inspector for B. C.; W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist; A. McMeans, Dominion Seed Branch, Vancouver; R. H. Helmer and H. R. McLarty, of the Dominion Experimental Farm; Dean Clement, of the University, and the two Okanagan members of the provincial house.

Agur Held in High Esteem

Mr. Shepherd said that he found that Summerland's director, R. V. Agur, was held in high esteem. Summerland was again at the top with respect to membership.

One resolution was wrongly reported, stated Mr. Shepherd. This was with respect to compulsory spraying. The resolution asks that spraying be made compulsory when the petition is signed by the owners of 80 per cent. or more of the acreage.

The first resolution discussed was from Summerland, on co-operation, and was probably considered the most important. It passed with but slight amendments.

During a discussion on taxation, the minister of agriculture had admitted that fruit growers and farmers were bearing an undue share of taxes.

The association believed that the commodity rate on fruit given by the express companies, should be continued until Christmas instead of Nov. 30th, as at present.

A change was made in the constitution, by which a district with less than forty members will be entitled to one delegate only. Those with over forty members may continue to send a delegate in addition to the director.

Express Rates on Fruit

The association has requested that grading machines be imported free of duty. This latter brought forth some comment, when it was stated that Harry Slater, now manager of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange, had been investigating grading machines in the south, and stated that they were adding to the number of machines in use in the packing houses, but were doing away with all but the best. G. J. C. White explained that the Cutler graders, with some recent improvements, were the favorites.

Are Doing Good Work

Mr. Shepherd, in closing, emphasized the fact that the B. C. F. G. A. was doing much good work for the fruit growers of British Columbia.

Mr. Helmer gave some of his impressions of the organization convention, in which he stated that he was impressed with the personnel of the gathering and with the feeling which prevailed and spoke very highly of the calibre of the committee of seven, who are leaders in their particular sections, and had given much public service. The meeting was made up of the best men from all the districts and was assembled for the purpose of considering the best means of putting the industry on its feet, which will enable the growers to have a bank account, instead of a deficit. They were decidedly in earnest. The general feeling was that if the new organization was put over, the independents must be fairly treated. This decision, he believed, had done more for co-operation than any other on feature of the meeting. He pointed out that the co-operation of every grower, shipper and grower-shipper is necessary. He described a critical moment at Kelowna, when the question of finances had to be satisfactorily met or the effort abandoned. The outcome was a large number of voluntary loans from $100 down, totaling $5,000. This permitted the payment of expense to date. Summerland had been pledged for $200 and Major Croil had since made a canvass of the business men of the community and $300 had been advanced.

Independents Fairly Treated

GOOD PROGRESS BY ST. ANDREW'S

Church Mortgage Paid—More Property Bought—Branches Show Activity.

The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's Union Church was held in the hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 17th, at 8 o'clock. Rev. W. A. Alexander presided and opened the meeting with devotional exercises.

The pastor presented the report of the general spiritual life and work of the congregation during the year. A fuller union of the two churches in affiliation was effected in June, and the various branches and organizations were united. Several members had removed from Summerland during the year, but others had come into communion by letter. Ten members of the Sunday School had united with the church, which was very gratifying. There had been fifteen baptisms during the year.

Mr. Basil Steuart, chairman of the board of stewards, gave the financial report.

Although the year had been a very trying one in many respects, all obligations had been met. The mortgage on the church had been wiped off, and the lot adjoining the church was purchased by the efforts of the Ladies' Aid Society.

The total missionary and outside givings were about $700. About $300 of this amount was raised by the W. M. Society. The Y. P. Society had a successful year and had maintained the interest in the devotional and missionary study, as well as along literary and social lines.

On behalf of the Sunday School, Mr. J. L. Logie, superintendent, reported very faithful work by teachers and officers, but a slight decrease in attendance owing to epidemics of contagious diseases during the year.

The C. G. I. T. groups, under Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Amm, are carrying on successfully and are holding very interesting meetings. This was likewise true of the Willing Workers' Mission Band, under the guidance of Miss Bertha Johnston.

At the conclusion of the reports, officers were elected for the ensuing year. Votes of thanks were given the retiring officers, the Ladies' Aid, Sunday School teachers and officers, the choir and organist.

Following the business, the ladies served refreshments and a social hour was spent together.

INSTITUTE ELECTS OFFICERS FOR YEAR

The Summerland Women's Institute held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Andrew on Friday afternoon, Jan. 19. The election of officers for 1923 took place as follows:

President—Mrs. P. E. Knowles.
1st Vice-President—Mrs. Andrew.
2nd Vice-President—Mrs. H. Smith.

Directors—Mrs. W. J. Robinson and Mrs. Angove.

Mrs. J. Tait is secretary for the current year.

TO VISIT OKANAGAN

Eighty officers from India are to visit the Okanagan during the coming spring and summer for the purpose of going over the southern project. It is hoped that a considerable proportion of them will buy orchard property there.

It is understood that several tracts have been reserved in order to give them an excellent choice of lots.

CLOSES YEAR WITHOUT DEBT

St. Stephen's Church Finances Are in Very Satisfactory Condition.

At the annual congregational meeting of St. Stephen's Church, which was held in the Parish Hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 17th, the social side of church life was given more attention than usual, the ordinary business meeting being preceded by a "sit down" supper, at which about 120 members of the church gathered and did ample justice to the excellent fare provided by the members of the Women's Auxiliary.

After supper the business of the evening was proceeded with, the financial report presented by the churchwardens, Capt. Webb and Theo. Hermon, showed that the finances of the church had been capably handled in the past year and were in a very satisfactory condition, the reactor's stipend and all outstanding liabilities having been paid up to the end of 1922.

The reports of the Women's Auxiliary and its various branches were read and shown to be in a flourishing state. The reactor reviewed the work of the year and thanked the officers for their help and services.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Lay delegates to the Synod, to be held in Penticton in the month of June—Capt. Webb, J. S. Campbell, Wm. C. W. Fosbery, with C. B. Winter, I. P. Barnes, K. M. Elliott as substitutes.

Rector's Warden—Theo. Hermon.
People's Warden—Capt. Webb.
Sidesmen—F. J. Nixon, J. S. Campbell, C. E. Winter, Dr. F. W. Andrew, H. S. Lewis, A. B. Mordill, G. W. Cope, Thos. Croil, K. M. Elliott.

Auditor—Thos. H. Riley.
During the evening Capt. Williams and Mr. C. B. Winter, with his faithful banjo, obliged with a number of songs, which were greatly appreciated by the company present.

SHARP AGAIN HEADS TRUSTEES

School Board Holds Initial Meeting—To Collect High School Fees.

S. F. Sharp was re-elected chairman of the school board at the initial meeting of that body. Trustees J. R. Campbell, G. H. Inglis, Wm. Ritchie and Mrs. Solly were all present.

Secretary J. H. Bowering reported that G. W. Gibson, director of elementary education in agriculture, had been here and taken measurements and other particulars of the school grounds for the purpose of plotting the grounds for improvements to be started next spring.

Instructions were given to replace a partition in the Methodist church

WHAT APPLES TO GROW HERE

Farmers' Institute Hear Valuable Paper of Fruit Varieties for District.

The regular monthly meeting of the Trout Creek Farmers' Institute was held on Monday night last. Owing to the very cold night the attendance was not as large as usual. The item provided by the program was a discussion on varieties of fruit recommended for this district, introduced by Mr. John Tait. This question was fully discussed recently at Kelowna when Mr. Tait was present, so that he had some useful and up-to-date recommendations. It was stated that during the past packing season the Summerland Fruit Union passed over its graders no less than 82 varieties of apples. Just imagine the trouble in finding markets for this vast number of varieties. Future planters should benefit by the older settlers' experience. The day will undoubtedly come when each district will specialize in a small number of varieties and that day is not far distant. In fact, some packing houses have already definitely limited their number giving the growers a stated period to get out of the undesirable. What, then, are the varieties specially suitable to our conditions. It will be a shock to some growers to find that their favorite, the McIntosh, an apple very extensively planted a few years ago, is not among these. In future, we are recommended to plant Yellow Newtown, Rome Beauty, Stayman Wine-sap and Delicious, and if fillers are required, Jonathan and Wagener. Of pears, the Flemish Beauty is recommended, also Dr. Jules Guyot, the latter resembling the Bartlett, but a much better shipper.

Cherries—Bing and Lambert with a good pollinizer, Erick Tartarian suggested.

Plums—Peach, Burbank, Green Gage and Damson, and the Italian prune.

Peaches—Yellow St. John, J. H. Hale, Elberta and the Rochester, (the latter is a fairly new variety and very promising).

Apricots—Moorpark, Blenheim and Tilton.

Towards the conclusion of the meeting, Mr. Helmer gave an outline of the work which he would like carried out in the orchards with fertilizers and asked the growers' cooperation.

OLIVER MAKING TOUR OF B. C. FRUIT DISTRICTS

Laying Plans of Co-operation Before All Growers of the Province.

Boyd Oliver, business partner of Aaron Sapiro, is on a speaking tour covering all fruit producing districts of the province which were not touched during the itinerary of Mr. Sapiro.

This tour is the result of urgent requests made by delegates at the B. C. F. G. A. and growers' conventions at Kelowna. From statements made by Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, it transpired that the money appropriated by the department could be used only in the interests of the growers of the province at large and since Mr. Sapiro's recent trip covered only the Okanagan it was considered fair that the money be spent to help those in other districts.

An attempt was made to secure Mr. Sapiro, but it was found impossible for him to return to B. C. at present and consequently arrangements were made for Mr. Oliver to take his place. The cost will be borne by the department of agriculture.

The itinerary covers Creston, Wyndell, Nelson, Grand Forks, Keremeos, Armstrong, Salmon Arm, Mission, Chilliwack, Westminster, Haney and the Victoria District.

A love that is strong enough to break bolts and bars often goes limp when it comes time to break up a little kindling wood for wifery.

YAKIMA GROWERS CONTRACT FRUIT

According to the Yakima County Farm Bureau News, it has been announced that Libby, McNeill & Libby have secured contracts from 33 Yakima county growers for the purchase annually of 2,347 tons of cherries, apricots and pears. The contracts, which will run for 15 years, are to be registered in the county auditor's office.

The following are the guaranteed prices: Cherries, 85 per cent. of the market price with a 6 cent per pound minimum; apricots, $85 a ton; pears, 85 per cent. of the market price with $35 per ton minimum. The company estimates the annual return to the signers at about $95,000.

That every fruit grower in the Naramata district, with one exception, has signed the pledge to enter the new co-operative organization, is the report received here. A preliminary vote of the growers of the Penticton district has been taken and well over 90 per cent. have similarly pledged themselves.

MORE HYDRANTS ARE ORDERED

Four Hundred Additional Feet of Hose to Be Provided.

At the regular meeting of the council on Tuesday, it was decided to order four fire hydrants. Two of these will be placed in the upper town and two on Shaughnessy avenue. Four hundred feet of additional hose will also be purchased. Following a discussion of the report of the foreman on motor vehicles, it was decided to have the large truck repaired and the light Ford truck exchanged for a new one.

The treasurer was instructed to offer for sale some electric light debentures of the last serial 6 1/2 per cent. issue to provide funds for making extensions.

Municipal Electrician Thorner was instructed to put an electric light on the pole at the foot of the hill leading to the Methodist church. Electric light rates for 1922 were adopted for the current year.

The finance committee reported making the usual arrangement with the Bank of Montreal for a loan against taxes for current expenditures.

Councillors Kirk and Johnston were appointed municipal directors on the hospital board.

GROWERS' COMMITTEE MEET.

The growers' committee, appointed at the public meeting on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of canvassing the district for signatures to the new co-operative contract, held a meeting on Monday at the office of the secretary, P. E. Knowles, when the district was laid out and other preparatory work done. It is the intention to cover the district completely as soon as the contract forms are ready.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

At a meeting of the directors of the Farmers' Institute, held on Saturday, J. Tait, for years secretary of the Institute, tendered his resignation, and P. E. Knowles was elected to the position.

NEW PASTOR IS GIVEN WELCOME

Baptist Church in Healthy and Prosperous State, Reports Show.

The seventeenth annual meeting of the Summerland Baptist Church was held in the church on Thursday. The ladies had prepared a bountiful supper, which was served at 6 p.m. to a large and appreciative crowd. So many were present that all could not be accommodated at the first table. The supper was a great success, for which all credit was due to the ladies.

At 8 p.m. the congregation gathered in the main auditorium. Mr. W. C. Kelley was appointed chairman, and first gave a formal and hearty welcome to the new pastor, Rev. Z. M. Fash, and to Mrs. Fash, to which Mr. Fash made an appreciative reply.

The reports of the church were then received and adopted. These showed all the work of the church to be in a healthy and prosperous state, particularly the work in the Sunday School. The finances are also in good condition, the average contributions per member during the year, being very satisfactory. After the adoption of the reports, officers were elected as follows:

Treasurer—C. H. Gayton.
Clerk—Mrs. W. C. Kelley.
Financial Secretary—Miss G. Darke.

Finance Committee—Wm. Ritchie, S. Bartholomew, J. W. Rutherford and Jas. A. Darke.

Organists—Mrs. Thos. Dale and Miss A. Ruth Dale.

Sunday School Superintendent—Dr. J. S. Pirie.

Assistant Sunday School Superintendent—J. C. Wilson.

Trustees—Wm. Ritchie, Jas. Ritchie and G. J. C. White.

Deacons—Geo. Graham and Jas. Ritchie.

The meeting then discussed generally the best methods to increase the activities of the church during the year, in which Rev. Mr. Fash made some valuable suggestions. In the person of Mr. Fash the church has secured an able leader of sound judgment and wide experience. Already he has endeared himself to his church and congregation and all are looking forward to larger service under his leadership.

WESTERN FRUIT JOBBERS IN CONVENTION AT CALGARY DEAL WITH MANY BIG QUESTIONS

The reports of the various departments of the church were then received and adopted. These showed all the work of the church to be in a healthy and prosperous state, particularly the work in the Sunday School. The finances are also in good condition, the average contributions per member during the year, being very satisfactory. After the adoption of the reports, officers were elected as follows:

Already he has endeared himself to his church and congregation and all are looking forward to larger service under his leadership.

Reciprocal Demurrage.

Reciprocal demurrage was endorsed by several speakers. President R. R. Scott, Winnipeg, explained that the railways charged demurrage after two days' grace on cars, claiming they were being kept out of service. Therefore, why did they not give credit to the jobber who unloaded his car in half a day? He believed that in such cases the jobber should get a day's credit, just as he would be charged for an extra day if he did not unload in the specified time.

W. C. Walker, Winnipeg, said that such a system was in vogue in Iowa and worked very well. The railways charged for overtime use of their cars, why not give credit for under-time.

R. B. Harding, Medicine Hat, urged that a protest should be made against the conditions of accepting and shipping fruit in severe weather. The railway companies would not accept fruit for shipment in very cold weather, but forced the jobbers to unload incoming fruit at any temperature.

Protective Service.

In introducing the subject of the Carriers' Protective Service, Secretary Burns said that in the last shipping season between October and May, 413 cars had been shipped through their membership. Of these 212 came to Alberta, 105 to Saskatchewan, 95 to Manitoba, and one to Ontario. They had paid $15,370, and the claims had amounted to $3,541. More than half the claims were against one shipment into Prince Albert during the very cold weather. He said that the railways had disputed these figures but would not submit proof that they were wrong. They claimed that they had taken in $15,000 in receipts and paid out $14,000 in claims. He believed this was a wild guess.

Embargo on Fruit.

Frank Holloway, Edmonton, complained that the railways had put an embargo on shipping fruit out of the Okanagan and had not even notified their prairie agents. Fruit Commissioner McIntosh spoke of the heating of refrigerator cars. He said that $5,000,000 is the value of the loss on fruits and vegetables in a year. This tremendous loss could, and should be, avoided.

A. H. McKean, of the C. P. R., said that he was not prepared to discuss the matter at present, because he did not know what negotiations had taken place.

E. Doherer, Salmon Arm, B. C., condemned the railways for their attitude in the matter of fruit shipping. He said that the present arrangement was agreed to by the shippers as a tentative one which would be thoroughly tried for one year and then investigated. Now the shippers had placed their cards

OUR HOSPITAL.

Does the meagre attendance of two dozen citizens, including the officials, at the annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society, indicate an indifference to the welfare of the institution or perfect confidence in the board and its management? There was a time when the announcement of a meeting of the Hospital Society brought out many citizens. We cannot think that the public are any less interested in the welfare and maintenance of the really excellent institution for the care of our sick which Summerland possesses and must incline to the belief that the dwindling attendance of members at the annual meeting is an evidence of confidence in the board, the members of which are certainly to be congratulated on the excellent showing that has been made for years past.

The manner in which the directors are elected tends to a continuity of policy and may, in itself, be a reason why Hospital Society members do not attend the annual meeting in larger numbers as might be the case if a complete board had to be elected annually.

SAPIRO MEDICINE NEEDED.

Co-operation and advertising are the two remedies prescribed by Aaron Sapiro for unsatisfactory business conditions being experienced by our fruit growers.

The same two remedies could be applied with excellent results by our local business people. Not only are these necessary to counteract the effects of advertising done by distant mail order houses, but the results of attacks on home business from a nearer source require the same remedies.

The following editorial, in our Penticton contemporary, will explain our meaning:

A Summerland man was remarking the other day that it would almost pay Penticton to put its own teams and men at work on the Penticton-Summerland road in the winter months so as to keep the highway in tip-top condition.

During the mild spell which we are still enjoying the frost all came out of the roadbed and the rains made the highway anything but comfortable for driving. The result was that the traffic from Summerland fell off to a remarkable extent.

Penticton may not recognize the fact, but it is the case, nevertheless, that a considerable amount of trade for local stores comes from Summerland. Naramata, Oliver, Kaleden and Okanagan Falls also contribute to the building up of the town to a smaller but nevertheless quite important degree.

It would be to our interests zealously to watch the southern and northern roads, and the moment traffic conditions become poor to rush into the engineer's office with a loud complaint.

If we dogged that official often enough, probably he would keep the roads open, if for no other reason, at least to be rid of us.

A little more co-operation in an effort to satisfy the demands of our buyers and more persistent advertising of the ability of our local stores to give as good value and service as what is needed to offset the efforts of the neighboring community to capture business from here, despite bad roads.

We can assure our merchants that it is the very best business that is being lost to them in this way, the cash business, which is so much desired and so necessary to the building up of our own community.

THE QUALITIES OF A FRIEND.

He understands those contradictions in your nature that lead others to misjudge you. With him you breathe free. You can take off your coat and loosen your collar. You can avow your little vanities and envies and hates and vicious sparks, your meanness and absurdities, and in opening them up to him they are lost, dissolved on the white ocean of his loyalty.

He understands. You do not have to be careful. You can abuse him—neglect him—tolerate him. He likes you. He is like a fire that purges all you do. He is like the water that warms you to the bone. You can jeer with him, laugh with him, sin with him, pray with him. Through and underneath it all he sees, knows and loves you. A friend, I repeat, is one with whom you dare to be yourself.—Kansas City Post.

Taxes are bearing heavily on the land owner in other places as well as in British Columbia. Just now the Legislature of Washington State is wrestling with the problem. The single tax on land has prevailed, but so heavy has the burden become that much land is reverting to the state. An income tax is likely to be put into effect. An additional source of revenue may be the bachelor, a proposition having been put before the House to tax all single men between the ages of 25 and sixty, five dollars per year.

Okanagan fruit growers are not the only ones who are suffering from disastrous prices. Although the apple growers of Washington State have not suffered from competition between shippers to the same extent as have our growers, yet they have suffered in this way, and returns to the growers are far from satisfactory. The returns, too, are slow. Only a few days ago statements of the Jonathan pool were sent out by one big house. Prices paid the grower ranged down to much below a dollar for the packed box.

DON'T LIKE OUR DUMPING LAW

American Shipper Tells Fruit Jobbers of Attitude of Washington Shippers.

Calgary.—Some intimation of the not too friendly attitude of the American fruit growers and shippers towards the dumping clause in effect in Canada, was given to the Western Canada Fruit Jobbers at the session of their fourth annual convention, held here. J. W. Hebert, a prominent shipper from the Yakima district, dealt with the subject. He wished it understood that he was not speaking for any group of American shippers or growers, but was merely telling Canadian jobbers what the attitude was at present, and what it might lead to. He said that it might lead to an agitation on the part of the American interests for a barrier over which it would be impossible for Canadians to ship fruit.

Misunderstanding Cause of Feeling
Mr. Hebert said that a great deal of the "feeling" between the American and Canadian growers and shippers was based on a complete misunderstanding of conditions. Personally, he said, a recent visit to Vancouver had cleared up many things which he did not understand before, and he was going to take back this news to Yakima fruit men. He contended that the American apple grower did not look to Western Canada for a market for early apples. The best reason for this was that they could get better prices in their own markets.

The report that the American shippers had broken the apple market in Western Canada this year was untrue. Jobbers knew that it was not so. American interests did, however, look to Western Canada as a market for soft fruit, which the Okanagan could not supply in sufficient quantity.

Suggests Retaliation

"As to the dumping clause," said Mr. Hebert, "it is unique. I know I am on delicate ground, and I hope I will not give any offence. I am telling you what I think personally, not speaking for any body of the trade. But I believe that in the end it may work more harm to B. C. growers than otherwise. What would happen if we retaliated? What would have happened if we had turned back on the prairies the 600 cars of apples shipped from the Okanagan? Now these apples went into one of our best high-grade apple markets. If you are going to ship them all we ask is that you spread them out. What I have said about retaliation on the part of the American growers and shippers is not a threat, it is just an indication of the feeling—and it is growing."

WARNING TO ORCHARDISTS

Yakima.—Extremely high color of apples under clean cultivation in irrigated regions is a sign of danger, according to Prof. O. M. Morris, head of the department of horticulture of the Washington State College. "There was a time when orchardists in irrigated sections were devoted to the practice of clean cultivation and they secured splendid growth, rapid development and early fruit by such means," said Professor Morris. "The soil, however, being extremely low in humus, inclined to alkalinity, and was rapidly depleted of its fertility under this clean cultivation."

"The extremely high coloring of the fruit should have been taken as a warning. Shortly after the appearance of the high color, the trees began to give evidence of slowing up in growth abruptly, unsatisfactory development of the trees. On heavy soils, which, being low in humus, under clean cultivation worked well in spring, but in summer were dry, hard, almost impervious to water. Trees in such soil showed the effects of drought and the fruit was small and of poor quality."

When the breezes blow contrary, an' you're stranded on the beach, where there ain't a sign of light-house, or a harbor in yer reach.—When yer haversack is empty an' you can't produce a dime.—Remember that we've all been there—many a time!

When you think yer lot is harder than yer mortal frame can stand. . . . An' it's plainer every minnit that you're runnin' out of sand.—It makes me want to cheer ye with a soul-inspirin' rhyme.—Remember that we've all been there—many a time!

We got to have a spirit that is able to contend, if we'd reach the crown of glory that is just around the bend. . . . There never was a mountain-top that courage couldn't climb.—Remember that we've all been there—many a time!

fects of drought and the fruit was small and of poor quality. "Orchardists noting these signs, tried commercial fertilizers and started cover crops. In run-down orchards there was a struggle between the trees and the cover crop for water and plant food from the soil. Some growers had to practically destroy the cover crop to save the trees. Others were fortunate enough to time the cover crop planting so they could let the struggle go through to a finish. After the crop had time to begin to give back to the soil, tree growth improved, and the orchard came back to a more normal condition. But the high color of the fruit did not return. That, it seemed, was a warning rather than a normal development."

ADVISES USING LOCAL STORAGE

Storage Commissioner Coming to Okanagan to Investigate Subject.

Vancouver.—On Friday Mr. J. A. Ruddick, Dominion cold storage commissioner, had a conference with the horticultural people in regard to the methods that might be adopted in the storage of Okanagan apples. Mr. Ruddick said he would come to British Columbia after he returned and devote his attention to this subject. He was inclined to think that in the first place apple producers should avail themselves of existing storage facilities, and only build new storehouses as the circumstances warranted.

Throughout Eastern Canada, particularly in Toronto and Montreal, this was the method followed. There were in all only three cold storages devoted entirely to fruit. One, in Grimsby was built twelve years ago by the government, and has since been sold to the growers. There is another one at Brighton.

What Mr. Ruddick thought was essential first of all in the Okanagan was the provision of some storage method that would take care of the apples for the first three or four weeks after the fruit was picked. After that, when the weather got colder there would be little difficulty experienced in preserving the crop in good condition for gradual marketing throughout the winter and spring.

FRUIT FLIES DISCUSSED.

A quarantine under which the entry of fruits and vegetables from all foreign countries and localities could be controlled and safeguarded for the protection of American crops against the Mediterranean and other fruit flies was discussed at a public hearing before the Federal Horticultural Board, United States Department of Agriculture, held at Washington, D.C., Dec. 19th. Representatives of many foreign governments and about 100 American importers and producers attended.

In opening the meeting, Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chairman of the board, presiding, pointed out that any action by the board had purely to do with protecting American crops from pests. There was no idea of trade protection. Imports were prohibited, he said, only where absolutely necessary to safeguard American crops from the danger of bringing in injurious insects and diseases. The purpose of the hearing, he said, was to gather as much information as possible on the subject so that the department can act wisely in deciding the question of a quarantine.

Adequate protection for American crops against fruit flies was strongly urged by growers and representatives of producers' organizations in various parts of the country, particularly California and Florida. Among these were Senator Shortridge, of California, who with Representatives Curry, Lea, Free and Raker, spoke of the need of safeguarding the big fruit industry of their state. A message to the same effect was received from Senator Johnson, of California. Representative Smith, of Idaho, urged that protective action be taken.

A plan against any drastic restrictions on imports of fruits from their countries was made by representatives of the following foreign governments: Great Britain (with respect to Canada), Netherlands, Belgium, Spain, Union of South Africa, Australia, Cuba, Mexico, Argentina and Chile. The principal American importing interests were also represented and made similar pleas, but offered no objection to any restrictions which were plainly necessary for the purpose of protecting American crops from these pests.

A report of the hearing, together with its recommendations, will be submitted to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace by the board. It is hardly expected that he will be ready to take any action in the matter for several weeks at least.

It was announced, however, that any restrictions on the entry of foreign fruits which may be later authorized, will be limited to those absolutely necessary to exclude pests and to interfere as little as possible with existing commerce in fruits and vegetables.

On Co-operative Selling.

To the Editor of The Review:

Dear Sir,—In lecturing to us on co-operation before having gone into the fruit situation as it affects B. C., Mr. Sapiro labored under a great disadvantage. He spoke convincingly as to the effectiveness of the co-operative scheme in California, but through lack of knowledge of conditions on this side, he was not able to give any concise details as to the probable result of co-operation here.

However, Summerland was asked to endorse the general scheme, and wisely, endorsement was given. It will be well, however, for us to remember that conditions in California are very different to those which prevail on this side of the border.

To begin with, we have a large organized fruit industry to the south of us, whose fruit matures earlier than ours. They are quite ready to take advantage of that fact. No serious effort on the part of our government has been put forth to check them, consequently, by the time ours arrive on the markets, the peak prices have fallen.

Unless this inroad on our early markets is stopped, how will even a strong co-operative on this side be able to overcome the fall in prices resulting from an already stocked market when our early fruit arrives there?

The same question applies to most of our fruits.

Then, again, instead of the huge population of 120,000,000 people, we have only 8,000,000 people on this side to do business with. Indeed, strictly speaking, we have only the 2,000,000 people of the western prairies for our customers. We wish Mr. Sapiro could have told us how we could sell soft fruits to the people of the prairies who have had several crop failures in succession, so as to ensure our growers a little more than eight cents per box for the best of peaches. Anyone who has been in touch with the prairie provinces of recent years, knows that a great proportion of the prairie farmers have been for two or three years grubstaked by the banks. And we are told that the banks consider fruit a luxury and not a necessity, consequently fruit of all kinds is banned. Considering these facts, we have been a little unkind in our criticisms of the salesman who could not sell fruit except at ruinous prices to the grower. The question arises, however, what can Mr. Sapiro or what can a co-operative union—even if it functions perfectly—do with such a situation?

Mr. Sapiro has already said: "Broaden your markets, scatter your car lots. Send them north, south, east and west," or words to that effect.

Then as soon as we enter the American markets we have to cope with the American expert salesmen, who are on the spot all the time securing customers for those perfectly functioning co-operatives over there.

Nevertheless, it may be that our system of distribution can be improved. We hope that there will be enough co-operation presently with shippers and salesmen to improve matters greatly, but we must not expect impossibilities.

What has caused the slump in prices and sales during recent years? Answer: The inability of the prairie farmer to buy.

That is a correct and very serious fact. In connection with it, another question arises: Since the fruit growers have given word to the organizers to go ahead with the co-operative scheme they are asking: "Shall we get money for our fruit?" Who has the temerity or knowledge to answer that question?

What is the present situation? Word is coming through constantly of growers getting a few cents per box; of others getting nothing; and still of others who have money to pay, for the handling of fruit for which they received nothing. Here we have the extraordinary spectacle of growers having to pay taxes, water rates, pruning, spraying, fertilizing, picking, hauling and then are called upon to pay someone for the privilege of handling their product.

The growers naturally ask the question: Will the co-operative do any better than that? And, if so, how?

It is a certainty the economic situation on the prairies will not be very materially improved this year.

Is the co-operative plan expected to improve matters financially for the growers this year? I very much doubt whether, even with the expenditure of thousands of dollars in advertising it will be done.

I would suggest, however, that until economic conditions improve, special attention be given to the cost of handling B. C. products.

All the hired help between the grower and the consumer should be curtailed and wages reduced.

Severe adjustments, while unpopular with some, would greatly relieve the situation. It is nothing short of scandalous that B. C. fruit has been paying handsomely all who have handled it of recent years, except the grower. And he has been put in the position that something radical has to be done to save him from bankruptcy.

The fruit grower, along with his co-worker, has all the labor of production, and they should not be the "goat" while everyone who handles their products are amply paid.

Even the scientific marketing experts do not attempt to hold out anything better in the way of payment to the grower.

I declare a fact when I say that it is not yet clear to the grower that even a most perfected co-operative scheme will give him justice in this regard.

Nevertheless, co-operation is the chief hope of the industry and the organizers should receive all the encouragement possible from all concerned.

Cost of Accidents.

To the Editor of The Review:

Dear Sir,—Last spring one of our citizens was kicked by a horse and laid by some weeks in hospital; result, disaster for the family, although favored with the proceeds of one concert. Last spring another was accidentally killed; it was assumed that the family could stand the expense of such a sad occurrence and nothing more was said or thought about that aspect of the affair. Last December another met death by accident and the same thing was said, "The family can no doubt stand the expense." Another is at present in the Summerland hospital, and this will probably mean financial disaster for another family. In a more recent accident a life's arm was injured and although we are all thankful for his marvellous escape, yet this, too, inflicts another hardship on a family which has already had more than a share of trouble and expense.

Now, we can scarcely expect, as a growing community, to be entirely immune from such occurrences as these and it is just for this reason we should be prepared to help the unfortunate ones, if help is needed. What are we as residents in Summerland going to do in the matter?

In the first place we should certainly be possessed of a fund which, properly administered, would defray all expenses. Such a fund should be in the hands of some responsible citizen such as one of the bank managers or the municipal treasurer.

How are we going to provide such a fund? Here are a few suggestions if you will allow space for them: A series of concerts, lectures, debates, etc., could be arranged, a moderate price of admission being charged, by the following suggested means:

- (1) It is submitted that we have in Summerland the material for a first-class choral society that with some practice could turn out some of the best in choral work and would always be sure of a full house.
- (2) There are at least six different friendly societies, social clubs, etc. Each would it is thought, guarantee a certain sum toward the fund by running a concert or dance with that end in view.
- (3) Our professional, legal, medical and educational gentlemen could entertain and educate us at some real good lectures.
- (4) Lastly, but not least, there are our clergymen. Now, we must not forget they are our teachers, and many would like to hear them outside the pulpit on matters of religion as touching the various problems of life; problems that are perplexing and harassing many an honest man today. Some real good debates would surely educate us and perhaps inspire.

Now, sir, here are just a few suggestions. They may or may not be capable of being put into practice. If they are, we should get a move on; if not, would someone suggest something that will?

Unpaid Council vs. Paid Council.

To the Editor of The Review:

Sir,—The question, "Shall we have a paid council or an unpaid council?" is one that is worthy of more serious consideration at the present time than is being given it. I really think that if our provincial government were to pass a law compelling the council in any municipality having a population of less than 1,000, to serve as a civic duty without any remuneration, the municipal work would be just as well done as at the present time, when in a municipality with a population of 2,000 or under, a reeve can claim $1,000 and each councillor $300.

Let us consider the situation of Peachland which, with a population of barely 500 and an approximate debt of $30,000, is indulging in the luxury of a paid council. In spite of the heavy penalties exacted, on Dec. 31, 1922, scarcely 70 per cent. of the municipal taxes were paid, and only a small proportion of the irrigation taxes.

One of the favorite arguments in support of a paid council is: "A paid council does better work than an unpaid one." Is that statement not a reflection on the work of our reeves and councillors previous to 1921, who, out of an honest desire to serve the public, willingly gave their services free? Honor was not a word to be scoffed at by them; they felt that the value of their work could not be estimated in dollars and cents. All honor to them and also to our three young men who, although they had only four short days to fight against heavy odds, offered their services in 1923 council gratis! It is true that their offer was rejected, but it may be that, when 1923 shall have passed away, a short sighted majority will be reduced to a minority.

Why is it, in spite of an agreement made years ago with the parents in Wards 3 and 4 that, if they consented to do without a school on the bench, their children should be transported one way, that the latter have now to walk up a long and steep grade? Is it because our councillors must be paid?

A stranger visiting Peachland and looking at our schoolhouse might well say, "I don't think you people have much civic pride, or you would give this building a fresh coat of paint." Probably the answer would be "Oh, we have a great deal of civic pride. Why, we pay our reeve and councillors."

Another argument is: "A laborer is worthy of his hire." If our council demand money for all they do for us, then, if there should be extra work this year, what is to hinder them from raising their indemnity to the limit, especially when the honor of the position does not very forcibly appeal to them?

What was it years ago led Raikes to give up much of his time to teaching the neglected children in his vicinity, thus becoming the founder of the modern Sunday school? What in later years was it led Dr. Grenfell to devote his life to the alleviation of the sufferings of the poor people on the Labrador coast? Was it not the divinely implanted desire to be of service to their fellow men and was it not this same desire that has led hundreds of the world's greatest benefactors to do work of inestimable value?

If the motto given by the late Gen. Booth to his noble band of workers, viz., "Others," were the motto of each and every one of us, a great many perplexing problems—even that of the marketing of our fruit—would be easily solved.

JACK LOGIE GIVES LECTURE ON FAIRIES

J. W. S. Logie lectured before the school children of Penticon a few nights ago on "Fairies," illustrating his lecture by alleged reproductions of photographs of fairies, which photographs came from England.

Mr. Logie told the story of the discovery of these fairies, and then described the various kinds of fairies known in different parts of the world, and told the difference between land and water fairies and where they lived. He secured the close attention of his hearers when he asserted that fairies were to be seen in the Okanagan and had actually been seen in the Vernon hop fields.

This lecture is much the same as given by Mr. Logie here a few Sundays ago.

If men had the gift of second sight there would be fewer cases of love at first sight.

MAXIMIZE ON EXTRA FANCIES

Pruning One of Principal Factors in Production of Size and Color in Apples.

(By Roy Larsen in Wenatchee Farm News.)

Very little pruning has so far been done in the district although we have been having excellent pruning weather. Furthermore, we should expect considerable cold and undesirable pruning weather later. In view of the fact that many growers must of necessity do their own pruning this year (a fortunate condition of the orchard) every opportunity should be made of favorable weather from now on. The pruning is far more important than we sometimes realize. First, we have been very forcibly impressed this past year with the matter of producing a high quality apple in order to maintain the apple industry in the Northwest on a firm footing. It does not pay to send inferior quality apples to Eastern markets with the big cost of getting them there. "Maximize on Big Extra Fancy," as John R. Peters so often says. It is a mighty good motto.

Well pruned trees are going to be a big advantage in spraying for the "codling moth." Furthermore well spaced trees are going to have a big advantage over closely set trees. A number of orchardists are now removing trees in these thickly planted orchards. More should be doing the same thing. There is no better time than the present for this program. It will simplify the whole season's work in spraying, thinning, harvesting and irrigating and will enable a grower to "Maximize on the Extra Fancy." Many orchards have reached the point where it is impossible to grow a high per cent. of extra fancy apples without the removal of trees. Removal of trees is a far better thing for the "closely-set orchard" than to follow a practice of very heavy pruning in order to get sufficient sunlight to the trees so that a fair percentage of the Extra Fancy apples can be produced. No more large cuts should be made on any permanent trees than is absolutely necessary to open the tree up so that there can be a free development of new fruiting wood and good sunlight to the fruiting spurs for the development of fruit buds and also for the developing of high color on the apples.

The type of pruning that is being urged for the orchardists of this district is along the same line as practiced a year ago. This consists largely of a program of thinning out of any excess wood with less of the cutting back that has been practiced in former years. This excess wood may not necessarily be just large limbs but may be smaller branches. In this type of pruning, careful study should be made of each tree before making large cuts. Furthermore, if there are a number of large limbs to remove, it is best to study out a program of cutting for several years and not attempt to completely remodel any tree in one pruning. We are often apt to go to extremes in any orchard practice. Some have fertilized too heavily by applying too heavy an application of fertilizer at one time. This practice is not so general as many believe. Over fertilization is not the biggest factor in producing inferior quality fruit this past year. Weather conditions had more to do with it.

We cannot afford to pass up this problem of pruning, nor to slight it in any way. Let us begin early and do it well and then get "primed" for a real fight on the "Codling Moth." We must hit hard and fast in this pest this year, using every precaution possible. By getting our trees in good shape by proper pruning, we will have a big start toward controlling work which is a long tedious job, but very necessary in order to grow "Big Red Apples."

WALTHALL IN STELLAR ROLE

Since as early as 1910, when his characterization in "The Birth of a Nation" astounded critics, Henry B. Walthall has been regarded as one of the best actors of any type on the screen. Even professionals themselves admit to a feeling of reverence for him and his standing. His popularity has steadily grown from the early days, and in the twelve years or so he has reached a pinnacle apart from any other film actors.

"The Long Chance" is a photodrama which will present Walthall and a remarkable cast at the Rialto Theatre next Friday and Saturday, in a western story that has nothing to do with the bourgeois West of fighting cowboys and narrow escapes.

"The Long Chance" is an all-star version of a Peter B. Kyne story. With Walthall in the character lead,

JO-TO COMPANY:

Under God, Jo-To saved my life. Why, man, I had suffered tortures from stomach trouble for thirty years. I had five X-Ray examinations made of my stomach and three doctors told me I had ulcers there that would finish me. For two years and eight months I never did a tap of work and what I suffered no one will ever know. During this period my wife and I lived on $350 and the generous assistance given us by the Elks, of which lodge I am a member. I fell away in weight from 263 pounds to 130. Just think of that for a man of more than average height! Why, man, I was dying, and was in a condition that I did not care how soon it happened.

Then I happened to try Jo-To. I was in such agony that I would have taken anything, and you can fancy how happy I was when I found that Jo-To relieved me. I took the first box and as I continued to improve I took four more before I was back to the normal. Now look at me! I weigh 180 pounds and feel like a boy. Why, the benefit to my nerves was wonderful. It used to be that I would feel like screaming if I heard a scratching sound, but when you came in, do you know what I was doing? I was fling a thin piece of steel to make a key, and the rasping did not bother me a bit. Let me tell you something else. My head is now so clear and I feel so active that my earning capacity is wonderfully increased. In addition to my regular work here I carry out little plans on the side that have added materially to my income. In short, instead of dying I am alive in every sense of the word.

Go ahead and tell the world about Jo-To. Tell them I have so much faith I would stake my life on its efficacy, for Jo-To saved my life as sure as God is in heaven. Anybody that doubts this can only write me since then that it is the truth. The farther you can spread the story the better it will be for mankind.

W. J. MALCOMB.

Jo-To quickly and harmlessly relieves all stomach distress and suffering such as gas, acid, sour stomach (heartburn), bloating, and all after eating distress. Guaranteed absolutely harmless. Sold at all drug stores.

"OFF THE HOOK"

When your telephone receiver is left accidentally off the hook it registers the same as a call at Central. If the operator gets no response to her "Number, Please," the number is turned over to the repairing force as being out of order. All this involves tests, reports and time. In the meantime no one gets you on your phone.

"Off the hook" is a very bad cause of interruption to telephone service. By the exercise of care in this connection, you will protect your service and avoid inconvenience to yourself and others.

PEACHLAND GROWERS TALK CO-OPERATION

Representatives Report on Progress Made—Other Peachland News.

Peachland fruit growers met on Saturday evening in the Municipal Hall. Major Hardisty took the chair, accompanied by Mr. J. A. Edgecombe, secretary, at the table. The chairman, who was the delegate to the convention, before giving his report brought up the question of financing thus far. He made reference to what had taken place at the convention when donations were offered, telling of various amounts donated by private individuals, and said that he took it upon himself to guarantee fifty from Peachland to make it an even four thousand. The question then was, what was the best method to use for the raising of the amount which Peachland would offer. The question came up as to whether or not the amount of $10 per day, as formerly voted to the members of the committee, was too high and the chairman stated that he did not think it was any more than they were entitled to. He said that they had accomplished a great deal in the time they had been working, and their day's work was not an ordinary day's work, it often being as much as an 18-hour day. Later in the discussion, R. J. Hogg, a member of the committee, pointed out that this money being collected was not only to pay the committee, but was also to be used for the purpose of putting the organization on its feet. He stated that at the convention in Kelowna, members of the committee had offered $100 each as a donation toward the fund, but that their offer had not been accepted unless with the understanding that it be a loan. He concluded by saying that he would be glad to donate $25 toward the amount being subscribed from Peachland. This seemed to enthrall the growers, for although a motion had been carried earlier to the effect that each grower put up a minimum of $1 each, when a suggestion was made that donations be called for it was acted on at once, and the secretary was busy forthwith. Amounts from $25 down were offered here and there from various parts of the hall till the list totalled $150. It was decided to leave the list open for others who might wish to subscribe, and who had not had the opportunity and the following committee was appointed to further solicit subscriptions: J. A. Miller, W. Morsh, for Trepanier; H. Williams for Ward 2, and A. J. MacKenzie for Wards 3 and 4. The chairman and delegate then gave the report of the convention, details of which will not be necessary to give as it has been published in The Review. The matter of contract was discussed at some length and although the final form has not been completed the chairman was in possession of a copy of one which had been proposed for consideration. He explained that it would be considerably altered, but he was able to answer many of the questions asked by the growers with regard to the conditions of the contract, having heard them discussed at the convention. Mr. Hogg explained that the chairman and secretary of the committee were now preparing the application for charter to be sent to Ottawa at the earliest possible moment. The provisional directors will convene again next week, he said, and complete the contracts and plan the policy of present procedure and then appoint an executive to carry it out. The question was asked as to what the name of the new co-operative would be and it was answered thus, Co-operative Growers of British Columbia, Ltd." It was stated that there would probably be a meeting held in Peachland soon, when growers will be advised what varieties should be produced and would, no doubt, be advised to do away with low grade fruit which tends to interfere with the sale of the better varieties.

Mrs. Hendrickson, of Penticton, with her little boy, were visitors in Peachland recently.

A jolly bunch of young people motored to Hardy's Lake on Wednesday evening to enjoy the exhilarating sport of another good skate. They report the ice still in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Drake spent Thursday with friends at Westbank.

Messrs. Zold and Bartfay were passengers to Okanagan Landing on Thursday.

W. H. Colclough, of Vancouver, provincial manager of the London Life Insurance Co., spent a day in town with the local agent, H. E. McCall.

Carswell-Baxter Picture Service presented "The Barbarian," with Monroe Salisbury and Jane Novak; also the world's greatest comedian, Al. St. John, in "Trouble," two reels of continual laughs. The Municipal Hall was well filled for the occasion.

The board of trade meeting, called for last week, did not materialize as expected. Unforeseen difficulties were in the way of many attending, and those present decided it would be better to get a more representative gathering before transacting business. At the fruit growers' meeting last Saturday evening an announcement was made that the meeting would be held on Thursday, Feb. 1st, and a strong appeal was made for a good attendance. The business of the meeting is to report the work of the past year and to elect officers for the ensuing year. It was pointed out that the board of trade had been active during the past year and that a board is needed to take care of the special matters necessary to be taken up by that body.

Misses Craig and Noble, of the Central school staff were visitors to Kelowna on Saturday.

The skating party arranged for Saturday night was indefinitely postponed owing to a heavy snowfall during the day.

Rev. Isaac Page, Penticton, conducted the service in the Baptist Church on Sunday. The condition of the roads recently has been such that the services have not been regular. The last time Mr. Page attempted the drive he got about half-way and was forced to turn back. On this occasion he was accompanied by Mr. Brown, of Penticton, and they were joined at Summerland by Mr. Thornber and Mr. Neve, both of whom assisted in the service.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS TWO GAMES AT KELOWNA

Summerland Girls' and Boys' Teams Both Winners in Basketball.

Summerland High School defeated Kelowna in two warmly contested games of basketball on Friday, Jan. 19th. The local boys made a score of 38 against Kelowna's 22, and the girls did equally as well in defeating the Kelowna girls by 9 to 5.

The Review is grateful to one of the Summerland boys for the following account of the games: Two basketball teams, girls and boys, representing the Summerland High School journeyed to Kelowna, leaving here at noon by cars. The games were played in the Scout hall, commencing at 8 p.m. At the end of the first half in the girls' game the score stood 5 to 4 in Kelowna's favor. But in the second half, by hard checking and the accurate shooting of Rene Harris, the final score was 9 to 5 in favor of Summerland. Rene Harris was the star of the local team, while Alice Brown was easily the pick of the Kelowna team. Joe Gayton refereed. The lineup for Summerland was: Amy Smith, Mary Hanna, forwards; Rene Harris, centre; Nora Thompson, Alma Lott, guards.

The local boys team was represented by Gordon Blewett, Ivor Harris, forwards; W. Gayton, centre; Ken Walden, E. Wilson, guards.

The play was fast throughout and the local boys easily had the advantage over the Kelowna team, as can be seen from the score, which stood Summerland 38, Kelowna 22, when time was called, the hard work of C. Cunningham kept Warren Gayton from getting in his usual effective form. D. Parkinson was referee.

After the games the Summerland teams were guests of the Kelowna school at supper and a skating party on Bankhead pond. Saturday the Kelowna players had arranged another skating party at Cousin's pond. Okanagan held so many attractions for some of the players that it was with great reluctance they left Kelowna by special ferry at 7 p.m. Saturday.

A TALE OF TEN DOLLARS

Not long ago a fruit grower received a $10 payment on his crop. Having owed the grocer for supplies for some time, he passed the $10 to him.

The grocer, in turn, remembered his liability to the hardware man, and forthwith passed the $10 on to him. The hardware man had occasion to buy meat, and the $10 was handed to the butcher.

The butcher's wife, having received the $10 from her husband, bought some material for the family from the dry goods store.

The dry goods man paid the $10 to the coal dealer towards the coal bill.

As the coal dealer had bought some feed for his team, he bethought him of paying the farmer who had supplied it, and so the $10 again got into the country to start all over again.

In its rounds so far it has served seven purposes, and may have passed through many more hands, performing a similar service as it passed along. It may even have strayed into the office of The Review.

But the fact remains that it is still in the community to start on its rounds once more, and cause satisfaction to all through whose hands it passes.

BUT—! Had that ten been sent out of town to a Mail Order House, its service to the Okanagan would be at an end. It would have been gone forever from the district where it had its beginning—where the product of the orchard caused the $10 to enter into our midst. It is true that one individual may have gotten fair satisfaction from the purchase made, but the contrary may also have been the case, for no opportunity was afforded him of seeing in advance what he was buying.

But whether a satisfactory transaction or not, the fact remains that the $10 is GONE, and is of no further service to the Okanagan.

Keep every possible dollar at home, so that it may serve each one of us in turn as it passes along from one to the other!

Let it perform the same service as the "Pipe of Peace" in the days of the noble Rod Man!

Always keep in mind that the local merchants in all lines are in business to perform the duties of distributors of all commodities to the homes, and this service should be appreciated.

Naramata News

Current Events of Town and District

S. Ritchie had a narrow escape when logging last week. A heavy log started to roll downhill and pinned him against a post, but was partly checked by a hummock of turf at the finish, Mr. Ritchie escaping with a little damage to his hand and arm.

Mr. H. B. Morley, who was appointed delegate from Naramata to the growers' conference at Kelowna, gave an account of the proceedings there to a large gathering which assembled in the Unity Club on Thursday last. He went into considerable detail concerning the decisions arrived at during the Kelowna discussions and expressed his conviction as to the practical nature of the plan as far as evolved. He touched on the penalty clause suggested for the agreements to be used under the new arrangement and was understood to say that this would take the form of a substantial fine, based on the value of the estimated crop of any grower evading delivery of his fruit as agreed. It was expected that the agreements would be issued within two weeks, and the scheme called for not less than an 80 per cent. proportion of growers' signatures. Mr. Mr. W. H. Irwin officiated as chairman during the meeting and called for a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker.

Mr. Mallory has been in town during the past few days. He reports that prices are improving on the apple market in Vancouver.

The Carswell-Baxter moving picture outfit gave its second program here on Wednesday evening and is apparently becoming a regular fortnightly event. There was a good audience.

Geo. Weaver is extending his house apary system of beekeeping to Penticton, having been instructed by Mr. J. E. Appleton to install a complete outfit on the Braidley Ranch. An observation hive will probably be used in connection with same.

Owing to the rough lake on Monday morning the Ss. Sicamous did not put in here on her trip north.

Bathing in the lake on January 28th is unusual, but was indulged in by Miss Minnie Rusbury and her sister, Nessie, on Sunday morning last. We cannot, however, learn from the young ladies just how cold it was.

LOCAL, PERSONAL, SOCIAL & OTHERWISE

Cliff Roe went out by Wednesday's train to Vancouver.

Dr. Herald, surgeon, of Kelowna, was in town over the week-end on a professional visit.

The annual Sunday school institute is being held here this afternoon in the Methodist church.

A. C. Paterson, has returned from Lethbridge, where he was for a time associated with a milling company.

A thorough test of the hydrants in their district was made on Tuesday by Fire Chief T. B. Young and his lieutenant, Carl Nesbitt.

Miss Verna Smith entertained a number of young people on Tuesday evening, about twenty-five guests being present. An enjoyable time was spent in games and dancing.

The Women's Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A. gave a whist drive on Monday night in the Parish Hall, which was well attended, the proceeds being for the G. W. V. A. building fund.

The annual financial statement of the municipality has been printed in pamphlet form and copies are now in the possession of the treasurer and obtainable by any who will apply for a copy.

Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon was surprised on Monday night, when a large number of friends assembled at her home to celebrate with her, her birthday anniversary. A delightful social time was enjoyed by all.

B. Oliver, business partner of Aaron Spiro, who has been giving invaluable assistance to the growers' organization committee, will make a tour of the fruit districts, addressing the growers in those towns not visited by Mr. Spiro. He will be accompanied by Lionel E. Taylor, the new president of the B. C. F. G. A.

Mr. E. J. White, manager of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, returned on Monday from a California visit, during which he spent a short while in the famous "movie" town of Hollywood and its adjacent points of interest. Mrs. White will remain in California for a while yet before returning to her Merritt home.—Merritt Herald.

Captain T. E. Young and his volunteer fire brigade were called out on two nights in succession by burning chimneys. On Sunday night, a few minutes before 10 o'clock, a chimney at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. McMillan was on fire and caused considerable messiness for a time. On Monday night the Sanborn home was similarly threatened, but again no damage resulted.

T. J. McAlpine, in charge of bridge construction in the southern interior for the provincial department of public works, was in town over the week-end and left on Monday for Grindrod, in the northern part of the valley, where he will be in charge of some construction work. Mrs. McAlpine and their son, Campbell, came over from Kettle Valley with him and after a day or two spent in Peachland, will continue up the valley.

While assisting in the moving of the temporary manual training building, recently purchased by the G. W. V. A., A. W. Hobbs was the victim of an accident, resulting in injuries which, unfortunately, were not serious. It was while the building was being drawn forward on skids that in a sudden forward plunge, it struck him and ran partly over him. He was held between a timber and the ground until the building was raised sufficiently to release him. No bones were broken and he will soon be about again as usual.

"Clinker" is no more. Found dead near the hospital on a path leading toward home, over which he had travelled many times, his body was wrapped in a sheet and tenderly placed in a grave dug nearby. Clinker had been a member of Dr. Andrew's household ever since his puppyhood days, 13 years ago, and has long been a general favorite throughout the community. He had been missing for several days, though diligent search had been made for him. Fitting and respectful was the ceremony and not a few were the tears shed by his mistress and other admirers.

TROUBLE IN HIGH SCHOOL AIRED
Complaints made by parents was the occasion of a special meeting of the Summerland School Board, held Tuesday night in the board rooms. The fathers of two young ladies attending the high school, entered vigorous protest against treatment received by their daughters from the principal.

Principal Lundie was there, and also two or three other parents in his support. The discussion was lengthy and at times heated. The members of the board were evidently determined to get all the facts. That the girls had offended the rules by an interchange of written messages, was admitted, while the principal also confessed to undue haste.

The matter was closed by the passing of a resolution by the board, censuring the principal for his hastiness and rough treatment, and a suggestion that the matter be dropped by the parents, in the best interests of the school.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a handsome gown of white satin and also the customary bridal veil and orange blossoms. Miss Sarah Turner made a very pretty bridesmaid, wearing old rose. Mr. Josiah Milley assisted the groom. After the ceremony was over, Mr. A. Richardson, an old friend of the family, proposed a toast to the bride and groom, which was drunk with hearty good wishes. After this a buffet supper was served. The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The honeymoon will be spent at Vernon, Revelstoke and other points. They will reside at Myren.

RELATIONS TO BE CLOSER

for the purpose. Two hundred dollars will be sent forward at once and the other hundred dollars held in reserve for a further call. Mr. Helmer wished to take back a statement that had been made in the local committee's report with respect to the lack of co-operation from our business men. He also made it clear that the money which is being raised, as donations, by the local committee, was purely for local expenses.

Will Adopt New Policies
Publicly, open meetings of directors of both local and central, and keeping the growers fully informed on the business of the organization were some of the features determined upon by the provisional directors, stated G. J. C. White in opening his address. Mr. White suggested that everyone read the report contained in last week's Review and explained the progress made toward organization.

There were sixteen grower directors representing thirty-five or more districts, some of which must be grouped under one director. For this latter purpose it is proposed that each of these small districts name an elector to select a director. Ten men had been elected by the convention as provisional directors with power to add to their numbers.
Mayor Sutherland, Kelowna, and Mr. Vallance, Vernon, had been added as business men to act in an advisory capacity, and a Kelowna grower, Mr. Corner, had also been added.

Importance Recognized
Mr. White was satisfied with the representation given the south lake districts, there being a director from each of Naramata, Peachland, Penticton and Summerland.

The speaker made a correction in the published report, stating that the general manager is to be appointed by the directors, not the executive. A square deal to all existing firms was proposed, but no unreasonable prices would be paid. The directors expect to get existing plants at present valuation, allowances being made for depreciation.

They had met nearly all the shippers and found them ready to forward the new movement and some of the more influential had even offered to go out and get contracts. There were a few small men who would be hard to get in, but in some cases their growers had already cancelled their contracts. He felt that good progress had been made.

Holding Company
A central holding company for the purpose of acquiring all the packing houses was favored, being easier to finance. Five cents per box will be retained for the purpose of retiring the loan to be made for this purpose. When this debt is paid off the central holding company will be continued on properties taken over by the locals.

While there was to be no coercion, any grower who held out must be made to know what his neighbor thought of him.

Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, had explained very fully the progress toward co-operation made by the Fraser Valley Milk Producers. Some few had the idea that they would let the big concern sell what milk it could and manufacture the surplus into by-products at a less profit, while the independents would sell all their milk and thus make a larger profit. Some fruit growers have the same idea. They want the big organization to export the surplus, while they take advantage of the home market. If five per cent. of the growers take this stand and make a little more money, another five will join them and finally no one will get anything. We must get them to feel that they must take their chances with the others.

The New Contract
The contracts will not be effective until signed by producers of at least 80 per cent. of the total tonnage. It is proposed to raise a half million dollars in Vancouver on debentures and one of the conditions is that not less than 80 per cent. of the tonnage be signed up. In about ten days, he said, the contracts will be ready, when another meeting will be called. In the meantime independent shippers have promised not to attempt to sign up growers for next season. Loyalty, rather than contracts, is what is necessary and if there was assurance that every grower would be loyal no contracts would be required. Some sacrifices may be involved, but will bring results in the end.

A method of controlling the shares so that they will always be held by growers shipping through the organization was explained.

Backed by Business Men
Business men of the coast were sending the Valley one of their best appraisers, who will make a valuation of the different plants of the unions and independents. Wonderful co-operation and sympathy had been extended by the business men of Vancouver, which will be taken advantage of.

It is not proposed that the new organization engage in other lines of business. With reference to canneries, it is hoped to form another company to take these over.

There was some discussion on the question of packing in the orchards in preference to community packing houses. Mr. Helmer cited the advantage which creamery butter of established brands, has over dairy butter, even though the latter may often be superior. It would be just the same between established brands packed in the co-operative packing houses and the unknown individual orchard brands.

The following were elected a committee to canvass the community for signatures to the new contract: Messrs. Agur, Cline, Washington, J. S. Campbell, Jackson, Lipsett, R. Johnston, Sharp, Shepherd, Tweedy, Garnett, H. Dunsdon, Theede and Elsey.

To a questioner, Mr. Helmer stated that it was the intention to take in the Oriental growers. Local Orientals had already had a meeting and were 100 per cent. ready to cooperate.

FRUIT JOBBERS IN CONVENTION

on the table and the railways refused to do the same. The shippers were directly interested in this matter because every charge against the fruit after it had left them meant that much less return. The speaker believed that one more attempt should be made to get the companies to produce their figures and if they still refused the question should be referred to the railway commission.
"The railways want us to protect them. They don't want to protect us," he said. S. S. Savage, seconded by D. S. Manson, moved that the jobbers demand a statement of every car, the amount received, amount claimed and amount paid. It was carried.

Super-heating Cars.
When the discussion on the charges for super-heating refrigerator cars was introduced, it was found that the company had cancelled this tariff and discontinued super-heating cars because it damaged equipment. The super-heating was ordered by the British Columbia government in order to prevent the spread of the cooling moth.

In speaking of the methods of distribution in the Yakima Valley, J. W. Hebert said that the big warehousing accommodation was the secret of the success in that district. They had room to store at least half the total and were not forced to sell when the market was glutted. Local storage gave this further advantage: they did not have to ship their crop east to store it and thus mortgage it to a certain market. As long as it was stored at home, the world market was always open. He believed that the Okanagan was suffering from producing too many different varieties of apples, just as Yakima did some years ago. Formerly they had grown as many as 114 varieties, now they shipped about 30, and three varieties would account for 60 per cent. of the total pack. He believed that standard apples were the solution of much of the growers' difficulties.

In answer to a question about the brown rot in Jonathan apples, Mr. Hebert said that practical experts in the Yakima had come to the conclusion that this was caused in the following manner: In poor years, when the crop is light, the foliage is heavy and the apples grow to an abnormal size, thus making a soft, coarse tissue. This breaks down after the apple is packed and causes the dry rot. On the other hand, when the crop is full, apples do not grow to such a size, and are closer grained, and the rot does not appear. The rot is really a breaking down of the over-developed tissue. It was just like the difference between hard and soft woods. The only solution found yet, he said, was to pick early and store at a temperature of 38° instead of 32°.

HOSPITAL COSTS WITHIN AVERAGE

that up to Sept. 30th, the hospital had more than paid its way, but the last quarter of the year was remarkable for the extraordinarily small number of patients treated, with the result that a considerable loss was experienced. The number of days' treatment given during the year was 3,588 as against 4,438 in 1921, resulting in $1,600 less charges to patients, while the expenditure decreased only $660. The cost per day's treatment for 1922 was $3.20, as compared with an average of $3.49 since 1914.

The average for the whole province for 1921, the latest figures available, was $3.35.

The property opposite the front of the hospital, fifteen town lots, was purchased for $253, with funds provided by the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary.

Matron's Report.
The matron's report follows: Summerland, B.C., 25th January, 1923.

To the Members of the Ladies' Hospital Society:
Ladies and Gentlemen,—Having concluded my first year's service as matron of your hospital, I am gratified in being able to submit a report which, from the standpoint of a matron, I consider to be quite satisfactory.

Of statistics of patients treated, finances, etc., I do not speak, holding that the paramount duty of the matron is first to attend to the healing of the sick under her care, next the welfare of her staff and third, the economy of management.

In regard to the treatment of patients, I submit that the best traditions of your hospital have been upheld during the period of my management.

The year has also been one of smooth working and harmony between the management and the staff and between the matron and the various visiting committees which have assumed the duty of assisting the matron to the best of their ability.

I leave it to the board, which has all the necessary data, to judge as to the economy of management, only stating that as far as was economically possible, purchases have been made locally, the business being divided evenly between the various stores.

And suggestions I have made to your board have always received their attention and I believe that everything possible is being done by them and the L. H. A. to add to the efficiency of the institution and the comfort of the patients.

Yours sincerely,
E. L. HIBBS, R.N.,
Matron.

The retiring members of the board were Messrs. Agur, Lipsett and Wheeler, and Mr. Zimmerman tendered his resignation. The new directors are R. V. Agur, C. B. Winter and R. C. Lipsett, elected for three years. A. E. Rose was elected for one year in place of Mr. Zimmerman. C. P. Nelson was re-elected auditor.
During the year the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary raised $964.74, including the $77.09 on hand at Jan. 1st, 1922; $213.24 was spent for hospital furnishings; $235.60 donated to the Hospital Society and after paying $58.60 for furnishings for the auxiliary and a small total for other expenditures, the auxiliary closed the year with a cash balance of $381.51.

LOCAL GROWERS WOULD RATHER SUFFER LOSS

Union Members Prefer Not to Put Any Handicap on New Co-operative.

That the new co-operative marketing organization is to adhere strictly to the marketing of the fruit crop and will not participate in side lines or invest in subsidiary companies, is the announced policy of the new organization. In fact, it was stated by R. J. Hogg, one of the provisional directors, at a meeting of fruit growers, held here on Saturday, that the laws under which incorporation was being sought did not permit of such business ventures.

M. G. Wilson, representing the Summerland Fruit Union on the board of directors of the O. U. G., which latter organization is negotiating for the sale of its assets to the new concern, asked the members at the above-mentioned meeting for an expression of their opinions as to what attitude we should take during these negotiations.

As is known, the O. U. G. has a controlling interest in the By-products Company and some of the directors, at least, would like to dispose of all its assets en bloc. After some discussion, the Fruit Union members passed a resolution giving the directors full power to negotiate for the sale of their interests in the O. U. G. with the understanding that the O. U. G. are not to press the new organization to acquire the by-products plant.

STORAGE APPLES KEEPING WELL

New Building Proves Value as Holding Place for Late Varieties.

That the big storage building, erected here by the Summerland Storage Co., is fully meeting the requirements, is the conclusion one would reach after looking over the 3,000 odd boxes of apples held in storage. E. R. Simpson, manager of the Fruit Union, who showed a representative of The Review through the building, expressed his delight in the storage conditions afforded by the building and is convinced that full use should be made of the building for holding of late varieties, such as Yellow Newtons, Winesaps and perhaps Rome Beauty.

Careful watch has been kept on the temperature which was brought down to the lowest possible degree early in the season and maintained close to the freezing point through the winter and not an apple has been damaged by frost, notwithstanding the fact that the temperature inside the building was close to freezing when one or two sudden cold spells set in.

A large number of apples are being held in storage at the request of owners, a number of whom have visited the warehouse, and expressed themselves as well satisfied with the condition of their apples.

Mr. Simpson stated to The Review that he would be glad to show any grower through the building, whether or not he had apples in storage there.

GROWERS WARNED TO BUY ONLY CERTIFIED SEED

Warning has been issued by Dr. Cecil Tice, director of the potato branch of the British Columbia department of agriculture to protect people of the province during the next few weeks from buying potatoes as certified seed unless the official tag of the department is attached and sealed to each sack.

BOOST SALE OF B. C. APPLES IN AUSTRALIA

Winnipeg.—R. R. Scott, Winnipeg's leading wholesale fruit jobber, and daughter have left for Vancouver to remain a few days before sailing for Australia to look into oranges and other products suitable for Western Canada consumption. He will also endeavor to advance the sale of British Columbia apples in Australia.

MAY ASSIST GROWERS IN EXPORTING FRUIT

Toronto.—Hon. Manning Doherty, Ontario minister of agriculture, is strongly of the opinion that "the government should make an offer to the Niagara Peninsula Fruitgrowers to export their fruit for them to Great Britain, particularly peaches."

"The fruit association of the Niagara Peninsula did wonderful work last year," stated the minister. They moved out of the district 1500 more cars during the season than any other season in the history of that district. The result of the business would have been much better if the fruit had been graded.

"There is no reason why Ontario fruit should not have a splendid position in the British market and obtain very good prices," he said.

BOUND OVER TO KEEP THE PEACE

Sequel to School Board Enquiry Heard in Police Court.

A. E. Smith, in the police court on Saturday, was required to enter into recognizance in the sum of $50 to keep the peace for twelve months. This judgment was the outcome of a charge laid against him by G. A. Lundie, principal of the high school. Only the principals on each side gave evidence and told very conflicting stories. On one point there was partial accord. Mr. Lundie stated in his evidence that among other things, Mr. Smith had called him a "dirty yellow cur," while the defendant stated that he had quietly told the plaintiff that he was "a yellow cur," using the words as an expression of contempt.

The charge entered by the plaintiff was one of abusive language, with threat of injury to person. The accused pleaded not guilty.

Plaintiff's Story. The plaintiff in his evidence stated that on January 31st, about 4 p.m., he was about to enter Elliott's store on Granville street, when A. E. Smith passed and hailed him, saying, "When are you going to apologize to my girl?" to which witness said he replied, "Not at all, as the matter has been dealt with by the school board and I have nothing further to say in the matter." "You are a dirty, yellow cur, Lundie. I will wait for you and I will get you." "As he was moving away, I said, 'I will lay information against you.' I then went into the store and rang up Constable King, and later laid information before your honor."

Witness stated further that from information received, the defendant had made similar threats on the previous evening, after the enquiry held by the school board. As a result, he feared bodily harm to himself or perhaps revenge through his children.

Witness told of having put out his hand to detain a woman entering the store, so that she might hear the language of the accused. Defendant moved away as the lady went into the store.

To the court the witness stated that if there was any ill-will between him and the accused, it was not intentional on his part and told of his plan to ride to school in the van driven by the accused, for the avowed purpose of maintaining order, but which had been resented by Mr. Smith.

Different Version. Defendant's story of the incident was that he "was walking down Granville street on the date in question and when passing Elliott's store Mr. Lundie came out and closed the door behind him, and I said to him: 'Mr. Lundie, if you are not too busy, I would like to chat with you for a few minutes.' He immediately started waving his arms and said, 'I won't talk to you, you beast. I do not know you.' I said, 'Mr. Lundie, you are a yellow cur,' and started to walk down the street. He stepped onto the sidewalk behind me and shouted, 'I will have you arrested.' I said, 'You had better go slow, for I sure am going to look up your record.' I continued walking down the street and could hear Mr. Lundie following me and shouting. I went into the post office and that is all I know of the matter.

Had Been Ill-Feeling. To a question by his honor, Mr. Lundie stated that he and the plaintiff had been ill-feeling for some time.

NARAMATA MAY ORGANIZE OWN FRUIT LOCAL

Growers Favor Severing With Summerland Union in Re-organizing.

That the annual fruit crop at Naramata has attained proportions to justify the operation there of a separate local, is the opinion of the fruit growers of that district. Up to the present, co-operative marketing from there has been done through the Summerland Fruit Union, the Naramata growers being members of that organization.

The Naramata members of the Union feel, with re-organization now under way throughout the Valley and the establishment of locals under the new co-operative scheme, that this is the opportune time to establish their own local. The matter was discussed at some length at the special meeting of the growers of the Union, held in Empire Hall on Saturday afternoon. The only difficulty is that of making satisfactory arrangements with respect to existing liabilities of members to the Union and this obstacle may soon be removed.

BASKETBALL ON TUESDAY

Basketball fans are due for a good time next Tuesday, Feb. 13th, when Pentiction and Summerland Seniors lock horns in the College Gym.

The locals are out to take a few scalps, and with Darkis, the Adams Brothers, Gayton, Cross, Steuart and Guy to pick the team from, a very snappy game should be the result, while the ladies' team, which shows a wonderful improvement over last year, should come through with a few thrills in their fracas.

Both teams are working hard and are eagerly looking forward to next Tuesday. As these are the first real games this season, a large attendance is expected.—Cont.

FOUNDATION OF LOCAL UNITS

Late Manager of California Growers' Exchange Talks on Locals.

In an address on the fundamentals of co-operative marketing, G. Harold Powell, late manager of the California Growers' Exchange, said on the subject of the local unit foundation:

The strongest organizations are those which specialize in handling a single crop, such as citrus fruits, raisins, walnuts, prunes, peaches, etc., and, when this specialized organization is adopted, it develops the greatest dependability if founded by small groups of growers who are neighbors, who have confidence in one another, who belong to the same churches, support the same schools, or other neighborhood institutions, and who federate these local units into a central marketing agency. These neighbors form local associations, provide packing houses, warehouses, and other permanent facilities through the investment of their own capital; they take part in local management, and are an intimate, personal part of their own institutions and their activities. These local units are centres of vital influence for good in a community. They promote every activity that affects the up-building of country life, because the members learn to meet their problems together. No country district is so well assured of a balanced development in all of its civic and business life as one whose activities spring from the experience of a successful, local, marketing association of farmers.

In the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, for example, through which 10,500 members sell nearly $100,000,000 worth of citrus fruits, annually, to the wholesale trade, the growers have formed more than 290 local associations, each owning its own packing house and managing its local affairs. For business efficiency, these associations federate into a central agency through which they

ODDFELLOWS ARE DELIGHTFUL HOSTS

Summerland Oddfellows were hosts at a delightful social function, held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening, when about 125 men and women were present, including about 25 from Pentiction. A musical program was provided. Dancing and progressive whist were other features of the evening's entertainment, not the least of which was the dinner, which was followed by toasts and some excellent after dinner speeches, participated in by local and Pentiction talent.

J. C. Freeman, N.G., was toastmaster. O. E. Fisher responded in a humorous speech to the toast to "the Visitors," and Mrs. Love, in a happy manner, replied to Mr. Jackson's toast to "The Ladies." Mrs. C. Duncan assisted with a reading and solos were given by Mrs. Travis and Mr. Fewtall, Pentiction, and Messrs. Fred Graham and Ben Newton. P. Scourrah presided at the piano.

UNION MAY GO INTO VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION

This May Be Course Adopted to Clear Way for New Co-operative.

"That we leave the matter of liquidation in the hands of the directors to act as they see fit in the best interests of the shareholders of the Summerland Fruit Union." This resolution carried almost unanimously at a largely attended meeting of the shareholders of the Summerland Fruit Union, held in the hands of the directors. The meeting was called by the directors for the purpose of obtaining the views of the shareholders on the policy to be pursued in view of the larger organization now being formed.

M. G. Wilson, president of the Union, thought the logical way would be for all who sign contracts with the new organization to automatically become members of the Union, present directors and officials of the Union resigning and the new members taking charge. He realized there was certain prejudice against the present organization, especially with respect to its liabilities, and suggested another alternative, that of going into voluntary liquidation and leaving the field free for the establishment of a new local.

Whether this latter course will be pursued will depend upon future developments and the opinion of the directors.

It is proposed that the new holding company take over buildings and equipment of the several locals and Mr. Wilson predicted very considerable decrease in overhead expenses.

The financial position of the Union has been much improved since March, 1922, stated Mr. Wilson. The indirect liability to the bank at that date, of $106,000, had been reduced to $30,000. The Union had suffered a loss of $8,360 through the fire, but after wiping off the whole of this loss, the Union, which was not a profit making concern, still had a margin of $750 over liabilities.

J. MacLean opened the discussion with a strong attack on the management of the Union, charging lack of business capacity and declaring that shareholders were not kept sufficiently informed. He urged that the Union pay every cent of its liabilities and make no effort to shirk them. Four thousand dollars, he said, had been lost through negligence in the matter of insurance. This figure was later corrected by Mr. Wilson, who placed the loss at $2,700. Other statements made by Mr. MacLean were contradicted by the president.

There was a lengthy discussion on matters financial, precipitated by the proposed re-organization, which discussion was participated in by many of the members, the principal point discussed being that of indirect liability to the bank because of advances made to members, secured by notes of the individual members endorsed by the Union. Should some of these advances be uncollectable, the balance between assets and lia-

COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION ISSUES REPORT

Revised Contract Now in Hands of Financiers—Preparing for Campaign.

Vernon, B.C., Feb. 8.—The following statement was issued by the growers' committee on Wednesday afternoon. The growers' organization is making good progress with the many matters that have engaged its attention since the Kelowna conference. Sub-committees are now working out many details. On Tuesday morning, J. J. Campbell and Col. Scott left for Vancouver to lay the marketing agreement, as amended, before the financial interests for their approval.

It is expected that the contracts will be ready for distribution in a few days. The committee will be announcing plans for a membership campaign, which will be launched shortly. Growers are asked to be ready to get behind the drive for membership.

As there are many rumours in circulation about what your committee has done, any statements not coming direct from this committee should be disregarded. All arrangements and actions of the committee will be announced through the press.

NEW VARIETIES OF APPLES.

Two new apples, the Cortland and Tioga, the former a cross between the Ben Davis and McIntosh, and the latter from the Northern Spy and Sutton, have been developed by horticulturists at the New York State Agricultural Experimental Station at Geneva. The Cortland is said to be most promising for New York, New England and the commercial apple regions of Canada. They are larger and brighter hued than the McIntosh, have the same flavor, but keep longer. The Tioga is described as a "late-keeping yellow apple a sprightly flavor."

WOULD BENEFIT NORTH OKANAGAN

By the present route through the States, says the current issue of the Western Canada Motorist, the distance cars have to travel between Vancouver and Kelowna is 632 miles. No less than 312 miles of this distance would be cut off should the proposed road from Peachland to Princeton be made to connect with the Trans-Provincial highway which will be continued next year from Hope to Princeton. This would leave only 220 miles to be travelled between Kelowna and Vancouver by this direct connection, and shows that a strong effort should be made to get this "missing-link" pushed through in the interest of this part of the Okanagan.

S. S. INSTITUTE GREAT SUCCESS

Third of Series of Southern Okanagan Gatherings is Well Attended.

The third of a series of Sunday School institutes for Southern Okanagan was held in Summerland Methodist church, Thursday, Feb. 1, institutes having also been held at Naramata and Pentiction.

In the unavoidable absence of Rev. Z. L. Fash, Rev. O. E. Mann acted as chairman. Delegates were present from Naramata and Pentiction as well as a goodly number of local Sunday school workers. The afternoon session opened with devotional exercises led by Rev. Aikenhead, of Pentiction, who gave a helpful address, taking as his subject Cor. 16:9.

Mrs. W. H. F. Welsh, of Summerland, gave a paper entitled, "How am I to Manage and Teach My Juniors." Some of the important points brought out by Mrs. Welsh were the need of thorough preparation of the lesson at home by the teacher; pictures illustrating the different lessons; giving the pupils as much work as possible to do, such as telling the story of last Sunday's lesson; encouraging them to talk of their own little affairs; insisting on the children memorizing Bible texts. She also emphasized the importance of the teacher setting an example in regular attendance and punctuality.

Rev. W. A. Alexander gave a paper on "The Teen Age Boy and How to Interest Him in Bible Study and Sunday School work." One of the things necessary is a bright, attractive class room for the boys. Meetings should be held during the week at the home of the teacher or other suitable place. While he recognized the value of such organizations as "Boy Scouts," the speaker recommended such societies as "Tuxis Boys" and "Trail Rangers," as those in which boys received help in Bible study. He quoted a statement that at a Trail Rangers' summer camp in Ontario, 45 out of 52 boys declared that they liked the Bible study best of their camp life. Mr. G. Thornber led the discussion of this paper, others taking part.

Mr. W. H. Irwin, of Naramata, led the "Conference on Grading the School, Promotions, Rewards, etc." Mr. Irwin, who is an authority on Sunday school work, gave a very clear demonstration by means of a blackboard, of a system of grading suitable for a small school. He advocated the plan of giving certificates to those scholars who came up to a prescribed standing at the end of each quarter, to be followed by a diploma at the end of the year. After discussion and questions answered by Mr. Irwin, a committee was appointed to bring before the institute recommendations for the executive of the Religious Educational Council, being formed for South Okanagan.

Rev. H. E. Livingstone then extended a cordial invitation to those present to partake of the supper prepared by the Summerland ladies. The evening session opened with a song service led by Mr. T. G. Beavis and his choir, the congregation joining heartily. Rev. O. E. Mann conducted the devotional exercises, giving a short talk on the "Value of the Bible."

Before beginning his paper entitled, "How Can We Secure Trained Workers," Mr. Perley announced

HIGH SCHOOL FEES WILL BE MAINTAINED

Reduction Made in Fees—Estimates Two Thousand Less Than Last Year.

Eighteen thousand dollars is the sum that will be asked from the ratepayers for school purposes for the current year. This amount was arrived at after the school board had compiled the estimates for the year at a meeting held last night, and is $2,000 less than was requisitioned last year.

High school fees came up for discussion and on motion of Trustees Ritchie and Inglis, a fee of $1 per month will be charged each pupil in the first and second years, and $3 per month for those in the third year. The estimated revenue from this source is $950.

Although the amount asked for by the school board is reduced, there will be an additional charge for sinking fund and interest on the new building loan, so that it is probable there will be little, if any, reduction on the school mill rate.

The discussion of the high school fees, brought out a marked difference of opinion. Chairman Sharp favored acting on the resolution from the annual meeting of the ratepayers and Mrs. Solly voted against the motion.

WAR VETERANS INFORMATION

May Be Last Opportunity to Present Cases for Consideration.

Instructions have been received by the local branch of the G. W. V. A. to procure for the Royal Commission on Pensions and certain phases of re-establishment:

1. Names and addresses of disabled veterans.
2. Present age in each case.
3. Nature and extent of disability.
4. Place of discharge.
5. Place of enlistment.
6. Length of residence in this province.
7. Particulars of employment which the veteran can best now fill.

This will probably be the last opportunity veterans will have to present their cases for consideration, and all evidence will be placed before the commission by a central committee of seven, representing the G. W. V. A., A. & N. V., G. A. U. V., Imperial Veterans, Disabled Veterans and a representative from Vancouver Island and one from Fraser Valley.

The scope of the commission will cover method of treatment of pensions, appeals on pensions and treatment, the needs of discharged handicapped men of the C. E. F., the establishment of sheltered workshops, orphans' education, soldiers housing, re-establishment, suggestions as to disposal of canteen funds and small holdings under S. S. B.

All Veterans are asked to give the above information to either Ned Bentley, at Summerland Garage, or to G. Y. L. Crossley at his office, West Summerland.

The Royal Commission will shortly be sitting at Vancouver.

B. C. APPLES ARE GIVEN PREFERENCE

Winnipeg.—There are complaints in the trade that they can not buy first-class Ontario apples, that these go to Great Britain, and only culls and seconds come west, which is giving the B. C. varieties vogue on the prairies. Merchants assert that Ontario continues to ship in barrels when the trade demands the box packing of a bushel to the box which British Columbia has adopted. Good apples are retailing at $3 per bushel west of the lakes today.

Directors of the hospital at Vernon have asked that city to finance the institution to the extent of $750 monthly

THE YELLOW NEWTOWN.

Is the Yellow Newtown to be discarded? The Canadian Fruit Trade Commissioner in England, in a late report, makes the statement that "all markets are demanding red apples. Yellow and green moving slowly." The Yellow Newtown has been a popular apple with our growers, not only because of its productivity and excellent keeping qualities, but largely because it was believed to be in special demand for export to Britain. Does the Commissioner's report indicate that a change is necessary if our exports to the Old Country are to be increased?

Other interesting items contained in the report might be mentioned in passing. "The British Columbia Jonathans on S.S. Manchester Regiment were mainly sound and sold for increased prices."

Further along, "British Columbia Jonathan sales are given at Manchester as $2.34 to $2.75."

The pound sterling is gradually coming back. The pound draft in London being quoted at $4.68 1/4.

THE CANADIAN DOLLAR.

Of the currencies depreciated by the war, the Canadian almost alone has come back to par or thereabouts. Many factors have entered into the recovery of the dollar of the Dominion. The Canadian people have exercised caution in the matter of purchasing goods abroad and have put greater energy into the increase of their export trade. Pulpwood, paper, and wheat have played a part in bringing the Canadian dollar back. A large consideration, however, has been American willingness to invest in Canada.

The United States has the bulk of the world's gold today and faces the problem of employing it to the best advantage. Here is a neighbor nation of vast undeveloped resources, inhabited by people of our own race. Business relationships between the two countries have always been very close. In a business sense, therefore, Canada is a good risk, and much of America's idle gold has found its way across the border to be invested in the development of Canadian enterprise.

It would be quite unfair to attempt a comparison, in this respect, between Canada and any European nation. The Dominion is a young country, with untold and untapped wealth in forest and mine. Further, Canada is far removed from the after-war complications which, like contagious disease, keep all Europe in unhealth. It is possible, nevertheless, to draw a moral. Canada is not supporting a huge army instead of paying her debts. Canada has not asked for the cancellation of the quite large loans she made in this country during the war. In other words, Canada has kept her credit good.—Saturday Evening Post.

MAKING NEWSPAPER SPACE PAY.

If every business man should decide tomorrow to spend two per cent. of an average day's sales in newspaper advertising in quest of increased business our newspapers would not be found equipped to handle the traffic. And yet if all business men were smart enough to take advantage of past successful experience they would all advertise throughout the year or for seasonal effect.

Some would produce overnight results like department stores with their heavy copy in evening newspapers, while others would merely put themselves on the map and before the public notice.

Those who had a real story to tell and the ability to tell it in the most convincing way would get most profitable results, just the same as if they were given the opportunity to tell each prospective customer by word of mouth.

Some business men are born salesmen and sound merchandisers and some are not. One merchant can create more sales for a dollar spent in advertising than another can by spending many times as much.

Advertising will produce results every time it is used by an honest merchant to sell honest goods at honest prices.

If newspaper advertising does not pull it is because either the copy does not ring true, the seasonal appeal is lacking, or the advertising does not inspire that degree of confidence that is necessary to produce consumer demand.

A casual study of merchandising clearly shows that the difference between the big stores doing the heavy volume of business and those which merely live from hand to mouth is—advertising.—Okanagan Commoner.

FRUIT GROWERS AND CONSUMERS

Fruitgrowers of the Okanagan country, now engaged in perfecting their marketing organization, are receiving from Vancouver delegates warm assurance of the good wishes of the Board of Trade and the business people of this city. Orchardists are producing a valuable food and are entitled to a decent reward for their labor and a fair return on their investment.

In a country like ours common fruits should not in their season be regarded as a luxury. Apples should be a common article of food at all seasons. It is desirable that these fruits should be sold at prices which afford the producer his just reward and give the consumer the best possible value for his money. To accomplish this effective organization it is necessary to reduce waste, to keep down cost of packing, transportation and marketing, to direct the supply to all places where there are consumers and to deliver them at the right time in proportion to the requirements. Thus prices are equalized and the sale of the whole product guaranteed.

It hardly needs to be said that in the past when the growers have lost the most money the consumers have not received the benefit of their sacrifice. Consumers are willing to pay a fair price for their fruit. Those who can afford it would not grudge a generous price if they knew that the grower got the benefit of it. They do not like to pay high prices for fruit when they know that large quantities go to waste, or are thrown on some distant market for the cost of carriage and marketing. We can safely say that not only the business community but the consuming public are ready to co-operate with the organized growers in their present undertaking. — Vancouver Province.

GOOD SHOWING MADE BY BANK

Dominion Bank's Fifty-second Annual Report—Strong Liquid Position.

Although during the past year general business in Canada has continued to labor under the handicaps imposed by post war conditions, the financial statement of the Dominion Bank, presented at the annual meeting of the bank on January 31st, was an extremely satisfactory one to the shareholders.

The bank has maintained its strong position with cash assets at December 30, totalling $29,224,112, equal to 25.18 per cent. of the liabilities to the public, and quickly available assets at $57,044,731, or equal to 49.15 per cent. of the liabilities to the public.

Profits at $1,175,478, compare with $1,125,181, for the previous year. To this was added the balance forward from the previous year's account of $715,480, and the combined total of $1,890,958, was appropriated as follows: Dividends at the rate of 12 per cent. and a bonus of 1 per cent., $780,000; contributions to officers' pension fund, $45,- 000; government taxes, $157,795; written off bank premises, $150,000, leaving a balance of $758,163 carried forward to profit and loss account, or $42,682 more than was carried forward in 1921.

Notes in circulation have increased by $250,000 and stand at $7,571,461. Deposits by the public have undergone comparatively little change, totalling $93,353,997, a decrease of $450,000, or less than one-half of 1 per cent. Commercial loans in Canada, $63,912,230 are as already stated higher by approximately $200,000 than at the end of the previous year. The total assets amount to $130,064,000.

SAYS DRY LAW NOT A FAILURE

One of our exchanges contains a long and rather pedantic editorial under the head "Why the dry law is a failure," in which it is held that the law has failed to function and the bootlegger is getting rich peddling his questionable wares. There is no desire to take issue with his learned opponent of the 18th amendment, but from personal observation we feel satisfied that the dry law is working to the moral betterment of the country. We do not take this position as a fanatical supporter of prohibition, for we opposed prohibition in territorial days and opposed it as a state measure, wholly on the same ground assumed by this editor who feels that the law is a failure, personal liberty. We have seen the error of that position and would neither support nor vote for a modification of the present constitutional amendment. The reason that we assume this position, so at variance with a former stand, is that we have lived to see that the restriction of the sale of liquor has worked to the happy advantage of all the people. Take Oroville, for instance. Under the old reign of King Rum it was a common and disgusting sight to see men reeling drunk on the streets, making a beastly show of themselves before men, women and children. Passing saloons one's ears were assailed with boisterous and brutal profanity, men participated in nightly orgies and conditions prevailed that were repulsive to every clean thinking human being. Since the dry law went into effect we do not remember of seeing a single drunken man on the public streets and the swearing, quarreling, boisterous scenes formerly so common in this ballwick have been eliminated. That people do drink and get drunk, sad be it said, is true from the reports that seep into this office, but the drinking is done under cover and is gradually growing less and less and if the law continues on the statute books, in time these unfortunates cursed by the thirst will die off and in generations yet to come the young people will know nothing of the demon and the word "saloon" will be beyond their comprehension.

A year ago we spent six months in three large cities and recently returned from a trip that embraced several cities. In our leisure hours we tramped far and wide over those cities visiting places that were familiar and seeking out new sights. In all our peregrinations we did not see a single individual under the influence of liquor. On the train, on the water fronts, in those regions formerly designated as below the dead line, there was no intoxication. Could any one imagine that such a condition could exist in the days before this country went dry? The dry law is defied. So are all laws defied, but because the law is defied by a comparatively few is no reason to claim that the 18th amendment is a failure.—Oroville Gazette.

ACT RESPECTING TREE TAX REPEALED—NEW MEASURE HAS NOT YET BEEN PROCLAIMED

This is Information Brought Out at Meeting of Naramata Board of Trade—Local Member Heard on Legislation.

Board Accomplishes Much for Community During Past Year—Officers Are Re-elected—Other Local News.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Board of Trade was held on Monday evening in the Unity Club, the general public being invited to attend and responding in sufficient numbers to comfortably fill the building. Before proceeding to the business of election of officers for the coming year, the secretary, Mr. F. Manchester, read the financial report, showing a small balance in hand, and the retiring president, Mr. Weaver, gave a short outline of the past year's work. Amongst other matters successfully carried out were named, an improved winter ferry service, the installation of fire protection, a much-needed railway siding at Arwana station, protection of the creek through the town, new bridges, the installation of the Kootenay light and power, and a 50 per cent. reduction of the fruit tree tax, which was taken up by the board last fall. This report was considered highly satisfactory, and on the subsequent call for nominations, the president and secretary were returned by acclamation for a third term of office. Mr. J. M. Robinson was re-elected as vice-president, and Messrs. Salting, Kennedy, Horswill, Partridge, Lyons and G. Roe were elected as council.

The secretary reported that to ensure the reaching of full particulars of the new fruit organization to non-resident growers of Naramata, he had mailed copies of a local paper to each, accompanied by a letter urging their prompt co-operation.

The matter of lighting rates and also that of lighting the town streets was dealt with, after which the president declared the board meeting adjourned, and called on Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., who was present, to address the gathering. Mr. Jones explained that he was in Naramata for the purpose of speaking at the Women's Institute the next day, and was pleased to receive the invitation to be present at this meeting. He then gave a most interesting review of the legislation of the past session with regard to those measures which were of close interest to the Okanagan growers. Prominent amongst these was the new act concerning the combating of the codling moth pest, and it was learned that the cost of this work will in future be laid on the growers by way of a special levy instead of being borne by the government as heretofore. This measure had been opposed by the member for the Okanagan, but to no avail. The act gave government agents full power to enter and inspect an orchard at any time, and to carry out any measures he decided were necessary and no compensation was contemplated. With regard to the operation of the reduction of the fruit tree tax, the speaker stated that this did not come into effect until proclaimed by the governor-general, and it did not appear any proclamation had been made. Mr. Weaver suggested that a telegram be sent to the acting premier at Victoria, pointing out the position, and it was arranged that the matter would be taken up next morning. Replying to a query from Mr. Horswill, the speaker gave some statistics concerning amounts distributed to municipalities from liquor profits, automobile taxes and pari-mutuel receipts, and also explained the mode of assessment under the personal property tax. In conclusion, he pointed out that the legislation in any session was largely based on the needs of the province as put forward by such bodies as Boards of Trade, Farmers' Institutes and others, and emphasized the value of united action on matters which affected the interests of the various communities.

On the motion of Mr. J. M. Robinson a cordial vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Jones for his very interesting address.

Telephone conversation with Vernon on Tuesday morning elicited the information that no instructions had been received from Victoria by the court of revision concerning the 50 per cent. reduction of the tree tax, and it was arranged that the acting premier be communicated with by telegraph from Vernon that day, and the reply be handed to Mr. Jones at Kelowna on Thursday morning, when it would immediately be telephoned to Naramata. Until proclamation of the new act is made, the position is that the old act has been repealed and the new act is not in force, creating a hiatus which is evidently the result of an oversight.

About 25 growers went over to Summerland by special ferry on Saturday afternoon to attend the fruit growers' meeting in the Empire Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Green and their daughter, Marjorie, are back from Vancouver dog show. Mr. Green won first in Airedales; first in Wire-haired Fox Terriers, and special prize for best terrier in all varieties of that breed. The winning canines are now back in their Naramata Kennels, resting on their laurels.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle, of Penticton, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyons on Friday.

The Women's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Cross on Thursday last, for the regular routine business. Mrs. Languedoc presided and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Gerald Williams suffered a severe loss from his flock of hens last week, eleven birds being killed by a wildcat on Thursday night and Friday. He was, however, so far fortunate that he disturbed the destroyer at her work of destruction the second day, and put her out of business with a bullet through the head. He will have the skin stuffed, but thinks that eleven laying hens for one wildcat is a heavy exchange.

The members of the Ladies' Aid met for their regular fortnightly gathering on Wednesday last, Mrs. F. Young presiding.

Mrs. Kennedy returned last week from her visit to her mother in Victoria, where she has been staying for some weeks.

Much regret is felt at the approaching departure from Naramata of Mr. Stanley Dicken, who has taken a position in the provincial government office at Fernie, his old home town. Mr. Dicken is leaving this week to take up his new duties. Mrs. Dicken and the children will follow in a week or two. A farewell gathering is being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyons on Wednesday evening.

Miss Nesslerushbury accompanied her sister Minnie to Vancouver for a short holiday on Saturday last, taking the train at West Summerland.

MISCIBLE OIL SPRAYS

By H. H. Evans, Department of Agriculture, Vernon, B.C.

Owing to the widespread dissemination of the fruit tree leaf roller and the oyster shell scale throughout various districts of the Okanagan Valley, many growers are suffering considerable loss by the ravages of one or both of these pests.

Owing to the unsatisfactory nature in past years of control measures with the ordinary contact and poison sprays in controlling the above pests, the Horticultural Branch, Department of Agriculture, during the past season turned their attention to the feasibility of using miscible oil sprays for control work.

Oyster Shell Scale.
An experiment carried out in the spring of 1922 with oil sprays for oyster shell scale, gave conclusive evidence that with a suitable oil spray, properly applied, 100 per cent. control could be obtained with one application in the dormant spring period.

Fruit Tree Leaf Roller (Archips argyrospila)

The Horticultural Branch have not yet conducted any work on this pest with oil sprays, but are planning experiments for the spring of 1923. Reports from experimental stations of Washington, Oregon and Idaho, of fairly exhaustive experiments, advocate the use of miscible oil sprays as the most satisfactory known method of control for leaf roller.

Growers who are troubled with either of the above pests, and who may anticipate using oil sprays this spring for control measures are advised that arrangements are being made to secure a quantity of miscible oil in the Valley for use this spring.

Information may be secured from the local office of the Department of Agriculture, and orchardists who contemplate using oil are advised to get in touch with the local office, with reference to their requirements for the season, in order that a sufficient supply may be received without delay.

NO MYSTERY ABOUT LIGHTS IN HENHOUSE

What the Layers Need in Winter Is More Time for Eating.

Only in the last few years has any attention been given the possibilities for increasing the hen's egg laying capacity by means of artificial light in the poultry house, but now the practice is becoming quite general among operators on a large scale, while small poultrymen, especially city dwellers who keep anywhere from a dozen to fifty hens are having their plants equipped with electricity to a great extent this season.

Lights in the poultry house during the winter are simply an aid to good feeding methods, says a writer in the Boston Transcript. Poultry Show Section, whose remarks on this new practice are illuminating to those who have and do yet look on the method of extending the hen's working day artificially, as more or less of a joke. "Lights are used," says this writer, "because hens won't eat in the dark, and because it is otherwise difficult to get enough food into a hen in winter to keep her geared to a high-laying bodily surplus after the feeding of the day is amply taken care of. So there is no mystery about lights in a henhouse. An extra period of light means one more feeding, with attendant results in the egg basket. Poultrymen usually light their houses just once a day, either at mid-evening or early in the morning. And, of course, they leave a scratch feed in the hen house when the flock goes to roost so that there will be something for the awakened birds to eat.

Pullets should have been put under lights two months ago, but as to old hens which are to be used as breeders next spring, many poultrymen prefer not to put them under lights until about this time, late in December, or early in January.

When old hens that are to be used for breeders are kept under lights, a liberal supply of milk and of green feed should be supplied if good hatches of strong chicks are to be expected. A man can afford to buy milk and even greens for his breeders, if these are not available on his farm. These feeds literally put life into the eggs.

AUDITORS' REPORT TO SHAREHOLDERS

We have compared the above Balance Sheet with the books and accounts at the Chief Office of The Dominion Bank, and the certified returns received from its Branches, and after checking the cash and verifying the securities at the Chief Office and certain of the principal Branches on December 30th, 1922, we certify that, in our opinion, such Balance Sheet exhibits a true and correct view of the state of the Bank's affairs, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Bank.

In addition to the examinations mentioned, the cash and securities at the Chief Office and certain of the principal Branches were checked and verified by us at another time during the year and found to be in accord with the books of the Bank.

All information and explanations required have been given to us and all transactions of the Bank which have come under our notice have, in our opinion, been within the powers of the Bank.

PASSING EVENTS

LOCAL, PERSONAL, SOCIAL & OTHERWISE

W. C. Kelley was a visitor to Princeton this week, on professional business. He left here on Tuesday returning this morning.

As will be noted in our advertising columns, the special sale at the Frank Cross store is being continued. Many choice bargains are being offered.

An embargo, placed by the railway company on the movement of fruit, during the recent cold spell, has been lifted and apples are again rolling from this point. Nearly all the local shipping houses are taking advantage of the mild weather and some of them are cleaning up their stock.

Every veteran of the Great War will be interested in the announcement made in these columns of the coming visit of the Royal Commission on Pensions and Re-establishment.

Next Thursday night, the choir of St. Andrew's church will give a concert, an excellent program having been arranged. This will be one of the events of the season and is being looked forward to by many. Particulars are given in our advertising columns.

Mrs. Raymond Corner, of Kelowna, is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dale, while her husband is attending the session of the provisional directors of the Co-operative Growers of British Columbia, Ltd., at Vernon. Mrs. Corner, who will be remembered by many as Miss Bateman, gave a solo at the Baptist church last Sunday evening.

That there is no need to go elsewhere for bargains is apparent from the sales being put on by local stores. This week, A. E. Elliott is announcing a real bargain sale, covering all departments. As announced in this paper, the sale begins tomorrow morning and it is Mr. Elliott's intention to continue it until the end of the month. He is inviting everyone to visit the store, inspect the goods and compare prices. Then—buy if you feel like it.

For the purpose of advertising Canada abroad, the Dominion government has had motion pictures taken of many parts of the country, featuring, among other things, its beauty spots. By the permission of the Ottawa authorities, these pictures are being shown also throughout Canada. One of these was put on the screen at the local theatre on Friday and Saturday of last week. Others will be shown from time to time.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WINNERS

Defeat Penticton at Both Hockey and Basketball—Girls Are Losers.

With continued good shooting and excellent combination playing, Summerland high school boys gave the boys of the Penticton high school a severe beating at basketball, Friday night in the College Gymnasium. The score was 50 to 15. During the afternoon, teams from the same schools met in a hockey match at the local rink, and here again the Summerland boys won with a score of 2 to 0.

The local high school girls were not so fortunate. They met defeat at the hands of the Penticton girls at basketball, in a score of 19 to 8.

VANCOUVER B. OF T. NAMES COMMITTEE

After hearing the report presented by its delegation to the Kelowna fruit growers' convention, the Vancouver Board of Trade has appointed W. J. Blake Wilson, A. M. Dollar, G. F. Gyles, W. E. Bland and Hugh Dalton as a permanent committee to represent the Vancouver business

REVIEW PUBLISHING CO., LTD.

Mrs. J. Wilson, of Peachland, is the guest of Mrs. Vicary.

H. J. Sanderson, of the local office of Casorso Bros., made a business visit on Saturday to the head of that firm in Kelowna.

Two former Okanagan College boys have been recently heard from by Summerland friends. These are H. C. Packham and John Marshall, both of whom are now pastors of churches in Ontario, the former at Paisley and the latter at Kingsville.

Readers will please note a correction made in the mail schedule: Mail for Vancouver is dispatched every day except Monday. Any who cut out the schedule published last week, should substitute that appearing in this number.

Magnus Tait was discharged from the hospital on Saturday, following his operation for appendicitis. He has made splendid recovery since he went under the knife.

A meeting of the Tomato Growers' Association will be held at the office of P. Knowles, West Summerland, on Monday, February 12th, at 8 p.m., to meet Mr. Stonehouse, secretary Kelowna Tomato Growers' Association, and other delegates. 783

M. G. Wilson returned Tuesday night from Vernon, where he attended a meeting of the special committee of the directors of the O. U. G. delegated to negotiate for the sale of assets to the new co-operative organization. He left for Kelowna on Wednesday to attend another conference.

For the convenience of Summerland motorists, arrangement has been made whereby Provincial Constable McConnell will be in the court room in the municipal building on Thursday, Feb. 15th, for the purpose of issuing motor licenses. Owners of any cars found on the street without licenses after that date, will be prosecuted.

That H. A. Hansen has arrived in that city from Nelson is told in a front-page story in the Rossland Miner, which goes on to state that Mr. Hansen had outlined to the Rossland Board of Trade his plan to issue a booklet covering the West Kootenay. The work is to be completed by March or April and is to contain illustrations and write-ups of the several districts. This will be of interest to many Summerland and other Okanagan people, as it is presumed that this is the man who canvassed this district for a similar publication many months ago. It is stated that payments were made at that time for advertising in a publication which has not yet appeared.

men in carrying on the work toward the establishment of the new co-operative organization. In conjunction with a group of bond dealers, this committee will formulate a plan of financing the project.

Kootenay fruit growers are lined up well for the new co-operative movement, according to Boyd Oliver, partner of Aaron Sapiro, who recently spoke at Wyndell, Creston, Nelson and Grand Forks.

Everywhere he went, he said, he was received with the utmost enthusiasm and he considered the Kootenay and Boundary districts would go almost solid for the new organization. Of course there would be some in every district who would not come into the co-operative at first, but they would be so few that it would not in any way interfere with the functioning of the organization.

Coldstream and Lavington growers, at a recent meeting, voted 100 per cent. in favor of the Co-operative Growers of B. C., Ltd.

ABOUT TOMATOES

Do you know that the greatest vegetable in the world is the tomato? Do you know that doctors now agree that—

1. Tomatoes are the richest of all foods in the vitamins?
2. Tomatoes are the most wonderful and effective blood cleanser of all foods known to man?
3. Tomatoes are the richest of all vegetables in the natural health acids which keep our stomachs and intestines in condition?
4. Tomatoes are the most extraordinary corrective for the kidneys (what the doctors call a diuretic—a gentle, natural stimulant which helps wash away the poisons which cause disease and contaminate our systems?)
5. Tomatoes are now prescribed for diabetes and Bright's disease.
6. Tomatoes are the most easily and quickly digestible of all the fruits and vegetables known to man.

Coming Events

Notices under this heading are inserted at 3 cents a word. Each repeat, 2 cents a word; minimum charge, 50 cents. Contract rates on application.

Friday, February 16th, the Women's Day of Prayer for missions, will be held in St. Andrew's Church at 3 o'clock. All the women of the community are invited to be present. 783C

Summerland Women's Institute will hold a "clean-up bee" on the children's playground, Thursday afternoon, Feb. 15th, weather permitting. 783C

Tomatoes pass through the stomach almost at once, and their rich natural elements are taken up into the system with a rapidity that is in striking contrast to the digestibility of other foods? Who says all this? Where is the proof? Well, you'll find it in no less prominent a publication than the Journal of the American Medical Association.

B. F. F. G. A. MEN IN SESSION

Directors of the B. C. F. G. A. met on Tuesday to lay plans for the coming year and especially to act on the business developed at the annual meeting, including the consolidation of the resolutions and deciding on the position to take on those of which there are about 40. R. V. Agur, the Summerland delegate, attended, others present being the president, L. E. Taylor; vice-president, E. Foley-Bennett, Thomas Abriel, Nakusp; secretary, Prof. A. F. Bars, and Dean Clement, who is ex-officio, a member of the board. The directors are arranging to make a special appeal for membership to every one of the 5,000 fruit growers of the province.

LANDING WANTS LIGHT.

Residents of Okanagan Landing are negotiating with the Vernon City Council for extension of the city lighting service to the Landing. The estimated cost of the extension is $20,000; and the probable revenue between $4,000 and $5,000. The C. P. R. would be the largest consumer.

FOUNDATION OF LOCAL UNITS

provide the facilities for the sale of their fruit. Probably nowhere in the world has co-operation among farmers been more greatly decentralized by developing local responsibility, a pride and initiative in handling community problems, and a spirit of emulation in the development of the highest grade possible to that locality; and, at the same time, they have co-ordinated the efforts of the local units into a practical, efficient central agency through which they distribute their product.

The decentralized form of organization may not always be adapted to a seasonally-produced, non-perishable or semi-perishable crop that requires warehousing, or needs to be prepared for distribution in a central plant and to be financed for storage, distribution and sale. In such industries as these, a larger centralized marketing or warehousing unit may be a more adaptable business form. But those who are responsible for its direction should never lose sight of the need to develop a local participation and some degree of responsibility in the affairs of the organization. Failing to do this, and to keep the members thoroughly informed, is likely to result in a large, impersonal association in which the member is removed from participation and responsibility in solving his individual, local affairs and becomes a submerged, disinterested part of a centralized form of corporate organization.

THE AGE OF ADVERTISING. This is the age of advertising. He that bloweth not his own horn, the same it shall not be blown. It pays, too.

You have often wondered what some of the big ads. cost in the magazines. Here's a secret. It costs exactly $15,000 for a full-page ad. in colors on the back page of the Ladies' Home Journal. No, not for a year—for one issue.

You think it madness to pay that amount of money. People used to think so. Fifty years ago there wasn't a hard headed business man who wouldn't have fallen off his chair if he had been asked to pay $15,000 for one advertisement. Yet men compete now to secure in advance the right for positions at these high prices.

Business men have learned that it pays to spend money in advertising because that, in the long run, is the most effective and least expensive way to sell goods.—Vancouver World.

BOUND OVER TO KEEP THE PEACE

Smith replied: "There had been some unpleasantness in connection with my child at school a day or two before and I felt the child had not been justly treated. She had been pushed from the seat and in loud, threatening tones, ordered out of the room." He did not feel very amiable toward the plaintiff.

Magistrate Hutton questioned the right of a parent to waylay the principal on the street. Smith's explanation was that he merely wished to feel that his daughter could go back to school and finish the term and not be afraid of the principal and wished to ask Mr. Lundie to assure her there would be no further trouble. It was because of his provocation that he had threatened to find out the principal's record, to see if he were a fit man for a teacher.

Denied Making Threat. In reply to a question from court, the accused denied saying that he would wait for and would get the plaintiff, and his words would not bear that interpretation.

Plaintiff, called in rebuttal, denied calling accused a beast and waving his arms about or following Mr. Smith down the street, and did not say he would have Mr. Smith arrested. He further stated that Mr. Smith did not address him in the way he said he did and that his attitude was menacing from the very beginning.

Magistrate Hutton, in giving his decision, said that he was satisfied that Smith did use abusive language and that it was extremely probable that what Smith said was couched in slightly different language from that given by him and had the effect on the mind of the plaintiff to apprehend personal assault.

NEWSPAPER MEN HOLD INSTITUTE

British Columbia Publishers Guests of American Journalists at University.

The School of Journalism of the University of Washington, Seattle, each year conducts a short course for publishers, at which addresses on various matters concerning the industry are presented, and in connection with which general discussion takes place. Thus general theory, as taught in the university, together with practice, as exemplified by publishers present, while they may at times conflict in their opinions, are thus brought together in the discussions, and all who attend are afforded an opportunity of hearing both sides and deciding as they may deem best.

The journalistic course serves to implant in the minds of those who are taking it, sound general principles, correct newspaper practices, and established methods of gathering and editing news of the world. Nor is the make-up and placing of the matter in newspapers overlooked, for certain general ideas in this connection have been established, based on acknowledged standards, and on a thorough study of public opinion, with the end in view that newspapers should be so prepared as to be received with the greatest favor by the largest proportion of the public.

Several of the professors of the university presented addresses, while ilities would be thrown on the wrong side.

To an enquiry from J. Shepherd, the president replied that the Union had no money on hand due members not in debt. The Union was agent for growers and would pay to members all monies received by it from Central on account of members not in debt to the Union.

The matter of releasing members from their contracts to enable them to sign contracts with the new organization was also discussed at much length. R. J. Hogg, provisional director of the Co-operative Growers of British Columbia, Ltd., suggested that the new contracts be made conditional to release from the old contract. He did not think the new organization should be shouldered with the liabilities of the old, having particular reference to the O. U. G. He would have the O. U. G. continue in existence until it could make a satisfactory disposal of the by-products plant and other assets not acquired by the new organization. He pointed out that $80,000, half of the assets of the O. U. G. was in cash. He believed it better that the members take a loss, if necessary, rather than hold up re-organization or load it with the liabilities.

It was proposed to ask the O. U. G. to surrender its contracts to the growers, after and when 80 per cent had signed the new contract.

a number of publishers had prepared interesting papers.

British Columbia was represented by Hugh Savage, Duncan; Ben Hughes, Comox; R. E. White, Summerland, and Louis J. Ball, Vernon, an invitation having been extended by the dean of journalism. Mr. Ball presented a paper which was well received, and which will be reproduced in the university publication. The sessions were held in a large lecture hall, in one of the new buildings, and Seattle is certainly very fortunate in having acquired such extensive grounds, and in having sufficient favorable public sentiment to enable them to secure funds to erect such artistic and roomy buildings, and to have them so well equipped throughout.

The sessions were concluded by an "Alaska Products Dinner," on which occasion all the estates, from reindeer meat and fish to dessert, were from Alaska. It was convincing evidence (as it was supposed to be) that Alaska may be developed along agricultural lines as well as being rich in minerals.

The dinner was attended by over 1,000 people, and among those who were present were the Governor of Alaska, the Governor of Washington, and Hon. George D. Schofield, of the Northwest Chamber of Commerce, Nome.

During the evening greetings were extended to British Columbia, and pleasure expressed at this province being represented on that occasion.

the executive recommended by the committee as follows:

President—M. A. S. Miller, Pen-ticton.

Vice-President—Capt. Ede, Pen-ticton.

Sec. Treas.—H. H. Boyle, Pentic-ton.

These recommendations were approved by the institute.

Mr. Perley thought the matter of securing trained workers was almost entirely in the hands of the Sunday school leaders. Weekly meetings might be held for Bible study and the training of future teachers and workers. The pastor of the church should be the leader of these training classes, except in such communities as those in which capable persons, who would be willing to undertake such work could be found. The speaker also recommended summer schools for the training of young men and women for teachers and workers. Neither of these plans for training being possible, he recommended putting into the hands of the teachers, the books published by the various denominations on this subject.

The Round Table Conference, led by Mr. Irwin, gave many present an opportunity of obtaining help with various problems connected with Sunday school work. Mr. Irwin was able, out of his long experience in this work, to answer all questions and offer solutions for all problems.

During the evening, solos were given by Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Harding and Mr. Beavis and each was appreciated. Mr. Irwin moved a hearty vote of thanks to all who had in any way helped to make the institute a success. A vote of thanks to Mr. Irwin for his untiring efforts in connection with the institutes, was moved by Mr. Livingstone.

The fourth and final institute of the series will be held on Thursday of next week at Peachland.

"At least, if I were an office holder, I should delight in a situation such as that typified in this picture. To clean up a town, provide suitable playgrounds for children and otherwise make life more worth living in the community, would be a real job, I take it. And how I would like to take a whack at a lot of self-seeking politicians who were trying to put something across at the expense of their constituency."

George Ade, author of "The College Widow," "Artie," "Fables in Slang, etc.," wrote this screen play for Mr. Meighan. Humor and pathos abound in the picture, with many exciting incidents, but best of all, are the human quality and character delineations.

MAY SHUT OFF WATER SERVICE

Council Considering This Measure to Enforce Payment of Irrigation Rates.

Delinquent irrigation rates are giving the municipal council considerable concern. There remain on the books from last year, accounts which it will be necessary to collect if the irrigation system is to receive the usual repairs needed to put the system in condition for the coming season.

During a discussion on this subject at the council meeting on Tuesday, the fact was brought out that in other irrigation districts in the Valley, water is refused those who owe for the previous year's service. It is probable that similar action will be taken here, though as Coun. Kirk, chairman of the water committee, was not present, no decision was reached.

The same rates as charged in 1922 will be in effect for the coming season.

Some further correspondence was received from the board of investigation on the subject of the duty of water, in which it was stated that the two and a half acre feet prescribed in the ruling of the board, referred to the supply actually delivered to the orchards. An extra amount will be allowed for seepage and waste.

FRANK CROSS SELLS RETAIL BUSINESS

Frank Cross has sold his general store business to J. C. Melvin, a recent visitor to Summerland from Vancouver.

Mr. Melvin who, we are informed, was at one time in business in Armstrong, came up from the Coast a few days ago to buy here if possible and after looking around went to Mr. Cross and made him an offer, which has since been confirmed and accepted by Mr. Cross.

The new proprietor is expected to return on the 22nd to take over the business on March 1.

COLDEST DROP IN SOME YEARS

Zero Weather Sweeps Down From Arctic, Chasing All Thoughts of Spring.

Thermometers along the front benches registered 7 below zero on Tuesday morning, while at Balcom Ranch the thermometer dropped to 12 below. This was the coldest weather of the winter and on but few occasions in the years that records have been kept has such cold weather been experienced.

A strong wind from the north started Sunday night and brought about a rapid change, following many weeks of spring-like weather. So strong was the wind on Monday morning that the C. P. R. boat did not get away from Pentiction until several hours late and did not reach the Landing until night instead of noon.

It was nearly 2 o'clock the next morning when she reached here on the southbound trip.

The wind is again blowing from the south, promising milder weather.

CHANGE IN DATE OF COUNCIL MEETING

The next regular meeting of the municipal council will be held on Friday, Feb. 23rd, and thereafter, until further notice, semi-monthly meetings will be held on the second and fourth Fridays of each month. The change from Tuesday to Friday was made so that it might be possible for The Review to be represented at the regular meetings, it being impossible, with the present limited staff, to have a representative there earlier in the week.

Give your orchard a chance to pay you—sign the contract.

Keep the Okanagan famous. Help to organize the fruit industry. There is nothing wrong with our apples. But—we need a big organization to distribute them. Sign the contract.

MAGIC LANTERN FOR SCHOOL USE

School Board Determined All High School Fees Must Be Paid.

Included in the school estimates recently adopted by the school board, was the sum of $40, the expenditure of which on the part of the trustees will make available to the teachers a stereopticon, which will be a part of the regular school equipment. This instrument is being provided at the request of Mr. B. Robinson, instructor in agriculture. The balance of the cost of the machine will be made up from the provincial grant toward instruction in agriculture. There are available for instruction in agriculture, botany and other subjects many slides which can be borrowed at any time and with an instrument of this kind in the school, advantage can be taken of this opportunity.

The public schools of the Okanagan are arranging a second meet. The first of its kind was held in Kelowna last year and was very successful. It is proposed to hold the second early in May, again at Kelowna. Upon the suggestion of Principal MacDonald, the school board promised to guarantee Summerland's proportion of the expenses, it being the intention of the board, however, to solicit the amount required from the citizens.

Instructions were given the secretary to send a final notice to the parents of high school pupils whose fees are in arrears, enclosing at the same time a copy of the clause in the provincial act which legalizes a high school fee.

Trustees Ritchie and Inglis were appointed by the chairman as grounds committee.

During a discussion on high school fees the suggestion was made that pupils coming from outside the municipality should be charged a higher fee, but no sum was fixed.

With reference to the higher fees charged the third year pupils, the secretary pointed out that if the third year class were not maintained the school would revert to the status of a superior school, in which case quite a portion of the present grant would be cut off.

The secretary will go to the high school building during the noon hour once a month to collect high school fees, thus relieving the principal of a task which has been put upon the principals since the fee was inaugurated.

REVISION COURT AT NARAMATA

Assessed Values on Many Properties Reduced—Summerland Pre-emptions.

The court of revision, held at the Syndica Hotel, Naramata, on Wednesday, had a busy session, many appeals being handed in. Before the hearing of these began, Mr. Weaver, speaking for the Board of Trade, entered a protest at the prevailing rate of land assessment, claiming that $100 per acre would be much nearer a proper valuation than the $200 which was in force. He also elicited the information that the 50 per cent. rebate on fruit trees was not being dealt with by the court, as it would apply automatically on all assessments as soon as the new act was proclaimed.

The majority of the appellants were successful in obtaining some reductions, and several appeals were found to be based on clerical errors in the assessment notices as sent out. Amongst the principal reductions made were the following: W. Campbell (represented by L. Smith) reduced by $2,200; Miss Gordon, $1,500; Capt. Languedoc, $1,600; Mr. Sworder, $600; Mrs. E. Wells, $400; H. P. Salting, $300; W. Nuttall, $500; G. H. Cook, $750, and T. O. King, $900. C. C. Alkins' appeal was left unfinished for lack of certain lists. Mrs. May obtained a substantial reduction on her buildings but lost it on increased orchard assessment, coming out with a net gain of $2.50 only. The Littlejohn appeal was sustained to the extent of $1,000 reduction, and the Sammett property was eased by the sum of $600. Several Summerland residents appealed on pre-emption assessments, and in most cases obtained a 50 per cent. allowance. Mr. Matt. Wilson secured an adjustment on certain range lands, and W. Armour did likewise on two acres of accommodation land.

Mr. J. M. Robinson appeared for the various companies in which he is interested, and entered one dozen appeals. Some of these were unsuccessful, but the net total allowed him by way of deduction amounted to approximately $7,000.

During a pause in the proceedings, Mr. Nuttall read some figures dealing with the taxation on eighty ranches in the Okanagan Valley, which apparently showed that Naramata was assessed considerably higher than any other district. This list had been compiled for other purposes by Mr. W. A. Middleton, surveyor.

The court rose at 4 pm.

Gone but Not Forgotten

Citizens' Mass Meeting Will Be Held Next Tuesday Afternoon

Fate of Fruit Industry and Future of Okanagan Valley Now in Hands of Our Fruit Growers—Contract Forms Will Be Mailed to Growers Friday—Local Committee Prepared to Put Plan Over in Allotted Time—Signed Contracts to be in by Saturday, February 24th.

The contracts are ready! Every grower in Summerland district will be mailed a copy on Friday. It is expected that these will be studied carefully and that every fruit grower will attend the big mass meeting called for Tuesday afternoon in Empire Hall, particulars of which are given in another column.

The drive for contracts is to be a swift one and is being backed by business men throughout the province. Boards of Trade, Retail Merchants' Associations and others are behind the movement.

It is expected that all contracts will be signed and returned to the central committee by Feb. 24th. Growers are urged to attend the meeting on Tuesday, prepared to sign the contract in triplicate.

To facilitate the work the territory has been divided into eight districts. For each of these districts a table will be provided at Tuesday's mass meeting, with two committee men at each, and each grower is requested to call at his district table and sign the contract.

In order to get the signatures of every grower, those who do not sign on Tuesday will be called upon within the day or two following.

The names of the canvassers, together with the districts to which they have been allotted are:

S. F. Sharp and F. R. Gartrell—Trout Creek.

T. J. Garnett and J. S. Campbell—Giant's Head (from English church south to boundary of the municipality and east to Trout Creek section).

R. C. Lipsett and J. T. Washington—Front benches (from Summerland up the gulch west to the English church, thence to S. Phillips' corner, thence east down the switch-back and through Peach Orchard, all on the right-hand side of the road).

J. Shepherd and R. S. Jackson—North district (all north of switch-back south to Phillips' corner and west to D. C. Thompson's).

R. F. Theed and H. Dunsdon—Garnett Valley (to Blair's corner, including Cartwright's).

R. Johnston and A. E. Cline—The

The headquarters of the committee will be the office of the secretary, P. E. Knowles, in the Kelley Block, which will be open every evening during the campaign.

Copies of the new contract will be on hand and any growers who wish to sign up or would like to get information can do so at the secretary's office, where the canvassing committee will meet each evening at 7.30 to report progress.

Any growers who wish further explanation of information on the contracts may obtain it at the meeting next Tuesday afternoon.

Remember, this is your business, not that of a group of committee men. Be at the meeting!

TEACHERS ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

Successful in every way was the party given by the staff of the Summerland schools in the Parish Hall on Friday evening. About sixty invited guests were present, the first part of the evening being spent in cards. Prizes were given for the highest score, the winner for the ladies being Miss Nellie Fisher, while Mr. W. Snow captured the gentlemen's prize. The booby prizes were awarded to Mrs. Jenkinson and Mr. Powell, respectively.

After a bountiful lunch, provided by the staff, the floor was cleared and the remainder of the evening spent in dancing, with Mrs. B. Johnston at the piano and Mr. J. Kean playing the traps.

The hall had been artistically decorated for the occasion in Valentine decorations, no effort having been spared by the teachers in making the evening a success.

At the suggestion of Mr. S. F. Sharp, chairman of the school board, the guests showed their appreciation of the hospitality of their hosts and hostesses by a hearty hand-clap, while all agreed that this had been one of the most delightful social events of the season.

CONTRACT FOR CANNERY LATER

In Meantime Tomato Growers Are Organizing Local—Another Meeting Held.

Local tomato growers met on Monday night and listened to addresses from Messrs. Stonehouse, Sterling and Iwashita, of the Kelowna Tomato Growers' Association, each of whom dealt with different phases of the co-operative movement in their district. Mr. Stonehouse referred to the movement toward organization among vegetable growers, in which tomato growers may be included. The Japanese representative assured those present that his countrymen were solidly in favor of co-operation. In fact, the Japanese have had a measure of co-operation for some time. The local organization is also assured of 100 per cent. membership of local Japanese tomato growers.

The Summerland growers, who recently made initial steps toward organization, have definitely formed a Summerland branch of the British Columbia Tomato Growers' Association, with the following officers: F. R. Gartrell, president; S. Uzawa, vice-president; A. MacLachlan and Geo. Tada, directors; P. E. Knowles, sec'y-treas.

At Monday's meeting, copies of the membership agreement in use elsewhere were distributed and it is expected that each of the local tomato growers will sign this and later the marketing contract, which is being drawn up.

The Kelowna visitors stated that the provisional directors of the new co-operative association had been approached, and their consent obtained to the proposition that the tomato growers have a representative on the executive, who will be closely associated with the sales manager in the disposal of vegetables.

About twenty local growers attended the meeting Monday night and much enthusiasm was in evidence. It was stated that Mr. T. Bulman, Kelowna, is leaving for the east next week for the purpose of interesting capital in the establishment of canneries at several points in the Okanagan, of which Summerland is named as one. A resolution was passed by the local growers, asking the new co-operative organization to interest itself in having a cannery established here and assuring the support of the local growers.

Messrs. J. R. J. Stirling and W. H. Stenhouse have announced that they will be here again on Tuesday to meet more of the Summerland growers.

CHOIRS PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

Choral Society Again Active—Invitation Given All Local Singers.

A definite step in regard to the resurrection of the Summerland Choral Society has now been made, the preliminary meeting at St. Andrew's Hall on Tuesday last, being attended by representatives from the four church choirs. It was evident that sufficient support would be forthcoming to make the society a success and a committee was constituted consisting of Mrs. T. Dale, Mrs. J. W. Harris, Mrs. G. H. Harding, Mrs. W. C. Kelley, Mrs. H. A. Solly, Mrs. D. Lorne Sutherland and Messrs. D. R. Barkwill, T. Beavis, F. Graham, B. Newton, Alex. Smith, J. W. Rutherford, S. F. Sharp and P. Thornber. Mr. G. W. Cope was asked to accept office as conductor and Mr. J. C. Barkwill was elected secretary pro tem. It was felt that owing to the limited time this year it would be wise to postpone any ambitious effort until next session, and after an interesting discussion it was decided to commence practices of Stainer's "Crucifixion," with the view of a public performance just before Easter. This beautiful work is, of course, well known to all music lovers and it now rests with those who are musically inclined to rally round the committee and extend their support to the society, as it has often been a matter of comment that with undoubted talent in Summerland a choral society has not been a regular thing each season. As will be seen from the advertisement, the first practice meeting will take place in St. Andrew's Hall on Tuesday next at 7.30, and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone. The society is non-sectarian and the committee will welcome the co-operation of all those interested in good music. There is no entrance fee and no subscription, the only charge being a small one to cover the cost of the necessary music.

VERNON GROWERS SOLID FOR NEW CO-OPERATIVE

Vernon fruit growers at a recent meeting, gave unanimous approval to the report of the growers' organization committee and it is predicted that the growers of that district will support the new co-operative to a man.

After considerable negotiations between the provincial department of public works and H. C. Mellor, arrangements have been made for re-locating the lakeshore road at the site of the slides at the Mellor property. In order to place the road in a position so that traffic will be reasonably safe from interruption by further slides, Mr. Mellor offered to sell a right-of-way through his property.

W. K. Gwyer, provincial road engineer for the district, in a report to the municipal council, stated that the total cost of making the change, including purchase of right-of-way, would be approximately $1,000. Under the existing act the municipality is required to pay 25 per cent. of the cost.

At Tuesday's meeting of the council a motion was put through approving the payment of 25 per cent. of the cost of the new section of road, the total not to exceed $250. The government is paying Mr. Mellor $500 for right-of-way. Engineer Gwyer estimates the cost of construction at $500.

NARAMATA PHONE CABLE BROKEN

For some days the telephone cable between Summerland and Naramata has been out of commission. At a meeting of the directors of the Telephone Company, held Tuesday night, it was stated that it would require an expenditure of about $300 to provide a new cable. That this capital expenditure should not be made out of earnings, but that capital shares should be sold to provide the necessary money, is the opinion of the board. Any suggestions from those interested will be welcomed by the board.

ENQUIRES OF TOURIST CAMP

Information Sought for Tourists' Guide Book—Improvements Planned.

Summerland, through its municipal clerk, has been asked to supply information with respect to the local tourist camp grounds for publicity purposes. A tourist camp directory is soon to be issued for circulation among American tourists and the fullest particulars are being sought. The facilities enquired of are cooking conveniences, whether running water, if shower bath, facilities for washing cars, etc. This occasioned a brief discussion of the subject, when it was stated by Reeve Campbell that plans are now being made for further improving the camp site in Peach Orchard park. It is the intention to limit the camping grounds to the north side of the brook, forbidding use of the grounds within the immediate vicinity of the agricultural hall.

Included in the proposed improvements will be further cleaning up of the grounds, sowing of grass seed, providing a simple kitchen and cooking stove and erecting signs directing tourists to the park.

VERNON GROWERS SOLID FOR NEW CO-OPERATIVE

Vernon fruit growers at a recent meeting, gave unanimous approval to the report of the growers' organization committee and it is predicted that the growers of that district will support the new co-operative to a man.

APPLES—THREE FOR A DOLLAR.

"Apples selling at twenty-five cents each decorate many New York store windows and in the fashionable shops, they are being offered at three for a dollar."

This from the editorial column of an American contemporary. Commenting on present marketing conditions, the writer says: "The army of hands through which an apple must pass from tree to table is enough to make the angels weep."

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING.

An editorial published south of the international line on the above subject will be read here with interest at this time: "In every part of the country people are learning the lesson of co-operative marketing."

"Georgia is learning the lesson of this sane and progressive kind of marketing wisely and well. Every day the people of this state are drawing nearer and nearer to a perfect realization of the things that will come to pass by the enforcement of the right methods of progress."

"This fine co-operative marketing idea, as applied to cotton, has produced very fine results in Georgia. Watermelons have been put on a better business basis because of co-operative marketing, and the peanut growers are obtaining excellent results."

"The Georgia farmers are accomplishing much in the raising of peanuts. In Cochran, Georgia, last week, peanuts sold as high as $107 per ton."

"California is leading the country in co-operative marketing. There are twenty-five distinct state-wide marketing associations in this state; others are being organized."

"This great question deserves to be carefully studied by all who are interested in real progress along agricultural lines."

"Proper organization of various agricultural products into co-operative marketing associations in this state will mean a very rich degree of prosperity. It is something worth thinking about."

NO CANADIANS IN CANADA.

Discussion continues on the failure of the Canadian census to recognize Canadian-born citizens. Every other country in the world is recognized except Canada. When you fill out the form you are not asked to say whether you are a Canadian or not, so today in Canada we do not know how many Canadian-born citizens are residents of the country. We can tell how many are of British, Scotch, Irish, German, etc., descent, and nothing more.

Naturally and rightly there is a strong feeling of protest that Canada permits such a system to exist.—Lethbridge Herald.

BIGGER BUSINESS.

We reproduce the following just as it appeared in The Fraser Valley Record, Mission:

Bigger trade means bigger money for the merchant, and prosperity to the home town.

Bigger money for the merchant means better buying for the consumer, because the merchant can afford to cut prices closer by reason of his increased volume of business done.

Bigger business means better business—both for merchant and consumer.

Obviously, the merchant can only get more trade by getting more satisfied customers, and the way to get more satisfied customers is to be able to sell goods at the most reasonable prices—at prices that give more value than the mail order house.

The merchant has got to have his profit—he's got to have his percentage, just as the farmer and the blacksmith have got to have their percentage. Some people act as if the merchant should have no profit at all—but this belief, is of course, nonsensical.

If the merchant does not get his legitimate percentage of profit he cannot stay in business. Neither can the fruitgrower or the blacksmith or the printer.

And we all want to stay in business, don't we? If we are put out of business, our town dies. It is business that makes a town and keeps the contiguous district alive and flourishing.

Streets, houses, trees, churches and automobiles do not make a town. Trade is the important factor. Trade means that production and labor are the vital forces behind.

Production would be useless without an outlet through trade and commerce—except as a means of sustaining individual life, or bare existence.

We want more out of life than a bare existence. We want the best educational and social advantages that make life worth living. We want and must have many, many things that only a hearty, interdependent community spirit and activity can give us.

To keep this berg intact we must live and let live. We must patronize one another and see that all worthy going concerns are kept going, adding new ones when occasion demands. If all the business people were to combine and send their printing out of town the community would very shortly lose the printery—one of its most important, progressive functionalities. If the farmers of the community boycott the merchants of the town, every live business man would be forced to get out of town—and so on until there would be no town, and no community worthy of the name.

Keep every dollar's worth of trade possible within the community and there will be work and business for each and every one, and the hundred and one accessory advantages that only live enterprise can supply.

It is not live enterprise to help kill your home institutions—it is but a plank for your own commercial and social coffin.

NARAMATA F. I. ELECTS OFFICERS

Naramata members of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, at their recent annual meeting, adopted the same course as that taken by the Summerland members by deciding to form a Farmers' Institute and B. C. F. G. Association, thus localizing their organization, while continuing membership in the provincial association. There was a large attendance, with W. T. Nuttall, retiring president, in the chair.

Election of a board of directors for the current year resulted as follows: J. Littlejohn, W. T. Nuttall, W. H. Irwin, D. I. Walters and R. H. King. At a meeting of the board, W. H. Irwin was elected president and D. I. Walters secretary-treasurer. The board is planning for a series of monthly meetings, the first of which will be held on the 27th inst., when Dean Clement, of the University of B. C., will lecture. It is the intention of the organization to make these meetings open to the general public.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING

Essential Points of Difference Between the New Co-operative Growers and the O. U. G.

(By R. V. Agur)

A paid executive of three (fruit-growers) on the job all the time to take the place of the proprietor (which in this case is the grower) to act in advisory capacity to the general manager and to see that the organization's policy, as laid down by the board of directors elected from the different local associations, is carried out.

The grouping of the managements of the different local associations under the general manager of the organization, with an efficiency expert in constant touch with different locals, following in this respect the same policy as existing amongst large business houses and their branches. This will naturally make for greater efficiency and economy than under present system, allow of greater chance of promotion amongst the members of the staff, and create a closer bond amongst the different local associations.

A central holding company to own all the local association's plants or buildings. This will give the backing of the entire organization to each local and be of invaluable assistance in the local association's financing.

A growers' service department by which growers will be kept thoroughly posted on the operating of their business and through which they may have an opportunity of getting any information direct that they may be in want of.

Provision is made for one or more business men to sit on the board of directors in an advisory capacity.

Spilling the Beans. The waiter (who is on a week's notice)—"Did you have tomato or pea soup, sir?"

The Customer—"Heaven knows! It tasted more like soap."

The Waiter—"Ah, that would be tomato, sir. The pea soup tastes like paraffin."

VALENTINE PARTY GIVEN BY C. G. I. T.

The members of the St. Andrew's C. G. I. T. entertained the senior group of the Baptist C. G. I. T. at a delightful Valentine social in St. Andrews Hall, on Wednesday night, when about 50 young people enjoyed to the utmost the games and entertainment provided. One novel feature of the evening was a sale of paper hats, Kenny Walden presenting himself a most engaging and successful salesman. Each guest was provided with a bag of paper money, and there was a hat for everyone, in a range of styles and colors that would have made the most fastidious milliner envious. A splendid program of piano and violin solos, vocal selections and recitations had been arranged and was much enjoyed. At about 11.30 the party broke up, each one taking with her the memory of one more good time to the credit of the C. G. I. T. work.

ICE CARNIVAL MUCH ENJOYED

Summerland skating enthusiasts in goodly numbers attended the carnival, held at the local rink on Thursday evening. Good ice and favorable weather argued well for a successful evening and no one was disappointed. Quite a number of clever costumes were in evidence, the prizes being finally awarded as follows: Best lady's costume, Miss Hazel Steuart; best gentleman's costume, Alan Cross; best comic costume, Ralph Blewett. Miss M. Cartwright and Mr. E. R. Agur acted as judges.

IN SMALL PACKAGES.

(Grand Forks Sun)
One suggestion made by Mr. Oliver in his speech on Monday evening deserves a thorough trial by the fruit growers. If apples were put up in small, attractive cartons, as he advised, we believe it would be the means of greatly increasing consumption of apples. Frequently the housewife does not need a whole box of apples, and if she buys a less quantity she will have to take those from a box that has probably been picked over a dozen times. This she does not care to do, and the result is she goes home without them. By adopting the carton system for packing a certain amount of the crop in different sized packages and different varieties could be put up, and the consumer who required less than a box would be assured of getting just what he wanted in the original package. There is reason why this scheme could not be made to increase the consumption of apples 50 per cent.

'Atta Girl. Wife (reading paper)—"Think of it, James, a couple got married after a courtship of 50 years." Jim—"Poor fellow, too feeble to hold out any longer, I guess."

PREVENTION OF GOITRE

Goitre or thick neck is a very common ailment in Canada, especially in women and young girls. The condition is caused by the imperfect working of the thyroid gland situated at the front of the root of the neck. There are several causes for this gland failing to do its work properly, but the most usual cause is a lack of iodine in the food and water supply of the sufferer.

The story of the discovery of this cause is an interesting chapter in the history of preventive medicine. Among the ancient Greeks goitre was common. The Greeks found, entirely by experiment, that it could be cured by eating the ashes of burnt sponges. But they did not know that these sponges are rich in iodine. In more recent times it was noticed that sheep with goitre were cured by licking patches of salt rich in iodine. Animals given food and drink containing no iodine developed goitre. These animals were cured by the addition of this substance to their food or drink.

Recent scientific study has proved the value of the iodine treatment and has shown that relief can be obtained by small doses of sodium iodine taken under the direction of a physician every six months. It may seem strange that such a brief treatment can give lasting protection. This is due to the wonderful ability of the thyroid gland to store up iodine for future use. The extra amount given during treatment is absorbed and used by the gland as required. If this simple method of prevention were generally adopted in Canada, it is certain that the prevalence of this condition would be greatly reduced.—R. G.

CO-OPERATION RECEIVES HEARTY SUPPORT OF BUSINESS MEN

If a number of men in a boat were rowing furiously without proper direction and without regard for each other, very irregular progress would be made by the boat and much energy would be wasted. Unity of purpose and proper superintendence would keep the course of the boat in a definite direction and avoid wasted energy.

THIS IS CO-OPERATION

Fruit growers must eventually co-operate, so why not now? We are now logically and economically driven to this, the only solution of making this fertile valley a profitable and pleasant place to live in.

We, the undersigned, have given this subject our earnest consideration and have jointly and severally come to the conclusion that the scheme put before the fruit growers of this Valley by A. Sapiro and organized by the Central Committee is the only logical resource for the farmers. We, therefore, unhesitatingly recommend the adoption of this scheme by the fruit growers and urge that they, with one accord, sign up the contract now being put before them, and thus put themselves in a position to be arbiters of their own success, by obtaining control of the marketing end of their produce.

Needless to say, the growers can rest assured that the business interests of Summerland are prepared to do all in their power to aid in the attainment of this object.

Yours for co-operation:

THE CONTRACTS ARE READY---SIGN BEFORE FEBRUARY 24th

For days the Growers' Committee has worked on the contract getting into it all the details that mean the foundation of a Growers' Organization that will put the fruit industry on its feet.

You know the results of the past two years; do you want to experience them again this season? Of course you don't. The prosperity of the entire fruit industry depends on the growers of British Columbia getting solidly behind the new Organization. With 80 to 90 per cent. of the growers loyally supporting the Co-operative, they will have made agricultural history in British Columbia.

FOR YOUR OWN SAKE AND THE INDUSTRY'S SAKE, SIGN THE CONTRACT

See Your Local Committee

Local Committees are being organized in every district to carry on the membership campaign. To them the contracts have been sent. Get in touch with your neighbor and find out about the Mass Meetings. Get a Contract, study it, and Sign it—the sooner, the better.

If there is anything you don't understand, consult your Local Committeemen.

Financial Men Endorse Plan

The Vancouver Financial Interests have approved of the new Organization. They say, "GET ON WITH THE JOB—TIME IS SHORT."

Growers Save Yourselves

Your opportunity to save yourself has arrived. Sign the Contract—it is exactly as recommended by Aaron Sapiro—and brings into being the Co-Operative Growers' of British Columbia, Limited. When your and your neighbor's contracts are signed, success is assured. Then money will be in circulation.

Committee is Working

Your Organization Committee is working on many details which will be announced as soon as possible. It is a big job, but progress is being made.

SIGN THE CONTRACT AND YOU WILL NOT NEED TO CONSIGN

This contract is for your protection—it is the best form of insurance. You will hear many rumors about everything under the sun in connection with the new Organization—but, remember, that the new Organization is of growers, for growers, and managed by growers themselves.

Don't pay any attention to all the petty statements of those whose interests are opposed to yours. Remember that the new Co-Operative Growers is built on the Sapiro Plan—You know what that is?

ALL MUST WORK TOGETHER FOR THE GOOD OF THE INDUSTRY

THE CAMPAIGN IS ON--SIGN THE CONTRACT BEFORE FEBRUARY 24th

CO-OPERATIVES HAVE PUT FARMER IN CONTROL OF HIS OWN MARKETS

What the New Farmers' Co-Operative Marketing Movement is Doing for the Producers in Many Lines, Interestingly Told by Hugh J. Hughes in "The Outlook."

Co-operation has been a household word in the Middle West for so many years that when one suggests that there is something new developing along that line he is in danger of being passed by as an idle tale-teller, yet the fact is that we are on the verge of a great forward movement in co-operation that seems destined to do for the local co-operative groups what these groups, in the days of our fathers, did for the isolated farmers in the community.

To put it in a sentence. The next big advance in co-operation is the federation of the local co-operative groups and the creation by such federative action of central selling and buying agencies.

There are those who will tell you that farmer co-operation is perfectly all right, provided it sticks to the local neighborhood, but that it cannot go further without certainly running into trouble and disaster. And, in support of their contention they mention large co-operative enterprises that have failed. They argue, perhaps with some seeming of logic, that all other attempt of the farmer to carry his business beyond his local neighborhood are bound to fail.

Celery King is the thing to stimulate the liver, cleanse the bowels, purify the blood, banish headaches and make you feel the joy of better health and strength. Nature's own laxative and tonic roots and herbs in Celery King. 30c and 60c packages.

Are You Coughing?

Why not cure it this very day? A few drops of Shiloh relieves that tickling in the throat that maddens you. A few doses heal up the sore and inflamed tissues in the throat and really banish that cough. 30c, 60c and $1.20. All druggists.

SHILOH FOR COUGHS

So, they argue, it is the business of the farmer to produce his crops, and live stock and dairy products, and if he wants to do so, he may organize breeding circles, and co-operative shipping associations and creameries and elevators, or any other purely local body of farmers—and there he should stop!

Reasons of Failure.

If that were true—if the field of co-operation were so limited—I, for one, should feel pretty discouraged about the future of the farmer. But I am not discouraged as to the progress the farmer is going to make in that his horizon is fixed or that his hands are tied to the things that he has done, and only to these.

The co-operative failures of the past, and there are many of them, are not at all confined to the more ambitious attempts of the farmer to follow his produce to market. The local co-operative association has gone to pieces time without number.

One has no right to assume that co-operation will succeed or fail according as to whether it is or is not local. Some other test must be applied than that of size, or than that of distance from the farmyard gate.

Failures have been due principally if not entirely, to two groups of causes:

- (a) Improper organization.
  - (b) Bad management.
- The latter cause accounts for the majority of failures of local co-operative enterprises, and the former for the more ambitious attempts at organization.

Bad management includes such matters as the selection of poor directors, or a poor business manager, or of undertaking too much or too little—things that may happen to any organization, no matter how well planned it may be.

Improper organization can somehow be tolerated in the local association, where hard common sense comes in and saves a situation that a little careful planning might have avoided, but improper organization is fatal to a large association, where the actual management is out of the hands of the individual members.

A Hard Question.

And under this head fall the mistakes and blunders and misjudgments that have made the whole question of "What is a co-operative concern?" such a hard one to answer.

These blunders include proxy voting, the holding of an indefinite number of shares, the payment of all dividends upon the basis of the shares held, and the cash buying and selling of produce.

Nor am I forgetting the worst blunder of all—that of starting a co-operative association without sufficient reason for its existence, or with too little capital.

These are some of the known dangers to avoid, though there are others, such as the diversion of paid-in capital to organization expense, that cannot be for one moment forgotten. And knowing where trouble lies ahead, it ought to be fairly easy to lay a course for the future.

Over against these things that tear down the co-operative organization, suppose we put the positive factors that time and experience show should be a part of the well-knit, socially correct, and business-like co-operative association. The things that build up a solid co-operative business may also be grouped under two heads. They are:

- (a) Correct organization.
  - (b) Good management.
- Correct organization assumes, first of all, that there is a real business need for the co-operative concern. If not, it is a waste of time to start one. And it likewise is a waste of time to start an organization which is not heartily backed by those taking stock in it.

Essential Principles.

The essential principles involved in proper co-operative organization are:

- (a) One man, one vote.
- (b) A limited number of shares to the stockholder.
- (c) A reasonable rate of interest on shares held.
- (d) The distribution of all surplus earnings, after the running charges of the business have been met, and after provision has been made for the safeguarding of the business, according to the patronage given the association.

Cast over in your mind the co-operative ventures that have failed, and you will be surprised to find how many of them have gone down to disaster because one or more of these four basic laws of co-operative self-preservation have been disregarded.

In addition, the association that hopes to succeed must put aside any philanthropic roseate dreams. Unless the ledger can be made to show a favorable balance; unless there is fair assurance that it will do so, stay out of the trouble that lies ahead—unless, in other words, working with each other pays better than working alone, work alone. The time may come when you can successfully co-operate, but that time has not yet arrived.

It is a social blunder amounting to a crime to start a co-operative concern where the business does not warrant it, or in such fashion that it fails for lack of support.

And right at this point enters a new phase of co-operation, in so far as the Middle West is concerned. In time past we have been entirely too anxious to get "co-operators"—falsely so-called.

We have taken it for granted that the man who bought a share or two of stock in the creamery or the cheese factory or elevator would give the associations his patronage, forgetting the long and bitter experience of neighborhood after neighborhood where men dreamed and planned and invested their money in co-operative ventures, only to see the members of the association listen to the voice of the tempter and sell their produce to competitive concerns.

Patronage vs. Membership.

Our Danish friends learned a long while ago the lesson which we are just taking to heart: That one's patronage is of far more account than one's share membership.

And the new thing we are introducing into Middle West co-operation—the thing that is going to make it practically invulnerable against the attacks of competition—is the "produce contract."

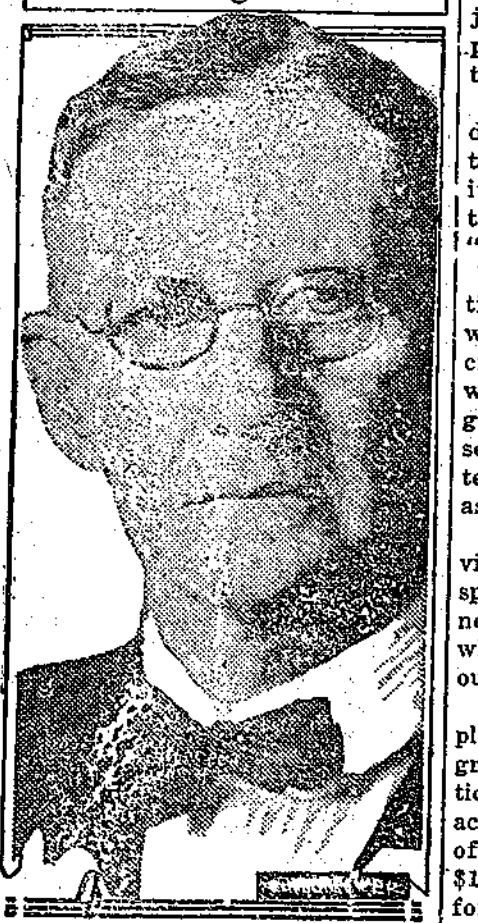

According to this plan, the association is not merely a group of men who have built an elevator or a creamery or a potato warehouse with the joint capital; it is also a group of men who have pooled their selling by pledging it, under a written and bonded guarantee, to the association.

This assures the association, provided it has been organized in response to a real business need, the necessary volume of business with which to maintain itself, in spite of outside competition.

The Minnesota Potato Exchange plan, for instance, provides that the grower shall give the local association a contract to deliver a stated acreage of potatoes and performance of this contract is guaranteed by a $100 note given to the association for that purpose.

If the grower deserts his association and sells to its competitors, the margin of profit so lost to the association is deducted from the face of the note—in other words, the note is sold, the loss deducted, and the balance turned back to the grower, whose stock share in the

Peteet to Mobilize Marketing Leaders

In announcing his policies for the co-operative marketing department of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Director Walton Peteet of Tex., says: "We will work through state and district farm bureau officers and leaders. We aim to mobilize agricultural leadership behind an intelligent, constructive and comprehensive co-operating marketing program."

cern where the business does not warrant it, or in such fashion that it fails for lack of support.

SYNOPSIS OF Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only lands suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residences, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and must make improvements to value of $10 an acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 2 years, and has made proportional improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and including 5 acres cleared, cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown Grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesteads; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company. Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price is made.

PRE-EMPTOR'S FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enlistment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LAND.

Provision made for insurance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete fulfillment of conditions of purchase interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

Naturally, one might think that such a binding agreement would meet with opposition. In point of fact, in the instance above mentioned, and in the case of the Michigan Potato Exchange, this binding contract has been one of the leading selling features.

A guaranteed acreage means business volume, and the business stability of the association, and the man who might hesitate about going in without such assurance, feels that he is joining a strong institution.

Plan of Pledging. Under this plan of pledging, it is provided that the note given shall be used for no other purpose than as a protection to the association against loss through breach of contract, and for the further purpose of establishing a revolving fund out of which to conduct the current business of shipping.

And since the Potato Exchange follows the sound co-operative practice of not buying outright, but merely moving the produce forward to market on joint account for all the shippers, substantially as done by the live stock shipping associations and the creameries, this guarantee note is peculiarly safe, in a business way, from any loss through mismanagement.

Some one, I am sure, is wondering just how this will work in case the grower is offered a price better than that bid by the association. A fair question. It would be a one-sided bargain that would force the grower to deliver to the association at all times and cause him to lose sales that might secure through accepting outside bids.

And right here is where the competitive buyer has always done his most effective work of destruction. He has paid above the market until the co-operative association has been crushed, and then he has taken it out of the hides of the men he used as tools for the destruction of their own association.

The new plan—I call it new merely because we of the Middle West have just begun to adopt it though it is, perhaps, 50 years old in Denmark and in Holland, and has had a shorter but successful life in the fruit growing regions here in America—the new plan provides in the contract that the grower may have the benefit of the highest price offered, but that he shall turn all bids into the association!

One Way Out. What happens? John Jones comes to town with a load of potatoes, or anything else pledged under his plan. Call it potatoes. A buyer is in town, anxious to get a car loaded out that day. He offers John ten cents above market. John goes and turns his offer in to the manager of the association who sells the load for him to the buyer! John gets his price and the buyer gets his potatoes. And if the buyer wants more, the manager can help him get them.

This supposition case is one of entirely fair competition. But suppose the buyer comes in for the purpose of putting the association out of business. Don't you see how the same plan will work? He will get potatoes at his own price—all the potatoes that the association controls, if he holds out that long. And with every bushel he buys he adds to the success of the business he is trying to down!

Does the plan actually work that way? Ask those who have tried it. Ask the Michigan Potato Exchange, Cadillac, Mich. Or ask the farmers' elevator men who have adopted, in an informal way and years ago, similar methods to defeat the "cutting under" policy of the line houses. Of course it works!

So, as the first and most important part of the new co-operative program, we have a local association built along correct business lines, according to well-established, co-operative principles, and safe-guarded against business undermining by the new-to-us—feature of the pledged business of the member.

The Big Task. But the big job in marketing, as we are coming to understand, is to get on to the terminal market with enough volume of business to command the attention of the buyers—with enough so that we can go out and hunt the best markets and place our products before them.

And on these larger markets the small offerings of the local association are at a disadvantage. The direct competition of individual farmers is replaced by the no less direct competition of individual associations.

The work done by one group of middlemen has been taken over, only to find that we are up against another line of the same sort of fellows, firmly entrenched in the trade knowledge and trade practices and trade acquaintance acquired during a life time in the business.

The answer to this situation is the federation of the local co-operative associations and the formation by such federation of one central selling agency having a large enough volume of business so that it can afford to go out and establish its own connections with the jobbing or retail markets, or, at any rate, come with profit to the producer whose indirect agent it is.

This is the Potato Exchange plan now in successful operation in Michigan, and already adopted in Minnesota, New Jersey and Colorado. It is the plan of the citrus fruit growers of the Pacific Coast, whose business has grown to a volume of something like $125,000,000 a year, and whose agents you will find in every fair-sized city from the Pacific to the Atlantic. And, going back to the Danes, it is a plan that has made Danish butter and Danish bacon the standard of quality in these products the world over.

Associations United. The Exchange is formed, not by the individual farmers, but by the local associations. The local associations gather and grades and handles and ships out the produce of its members.

But, just as the individual agrees with it to sell through it, so the local in turn agrees to sell only through the Exchange, and pledges itself to that effect, giving as a guarantee a $500 note to the Exchange.

All the business relationships between the two, including the sales privilege of the local, offered a higher bid than the market, are the same as for the local association I have already described.

And, just as the local is managed from its membership, so the Exchange plan of management makes each local a member, with one vote, and provides that the directors shall come from the membership of the locals. This system provides both a local association and a wholesale organization, directed and controlled by the farmers who compose the locals.

In so far as possible, the plan safeguards against the danger of too much centralized power. And as far as it has been tried out in this country, such centralization has not reached a point where the welfare of the individual has been lost to sight.

Middleman Survives. In conclusion, just a word about what this plan of federated co-operation does to, or rather with the "middleman," of whom we hear so much. It doesn't do away with him. That, as anyone who has studied the actual labor involved in moving a car of wheat or hay or live stock or potatoes forward from the producer to the consumer knows, is impossible. But it does take over his work—makes him, if you please, the hired man of the farmer. And this is as it should be.

Without destroying or even disturbing any of the machinery that society has so painfully built up through centuries of experimentation and buying, under the federated co-operative plan, the farmer steps forward and takes a place in the big markets; and whether he shall go still further forward toward the consumer to organize and come the other half of the way to meet him, is still a question of the future.

But that the farmer has found a form of co-operation that will bring him safely, and with power in his arm, into the wholesale markets of the nation, is no longer a question. It is a fact, to be used by him in such fashion as he sees fit.

The customary annual grant of $500 to the hospital was voted by the council on Tuesday.

Mrs. T. P. Thornber went down to Penticton on Tuesday to visit her friend, Mrs. Geo. Wolstencroft.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Watson are visitors in Summerland this week, guests at the home of the Misses Campbell.

W. C. Kelley gave his popular lecture on "Jean Valjean," before members of the Methodist church congregation on Tuesday night in the Methodist church.

Geo. Irving, of Brandon, Man., one of the Summerland old-timers, is a visitor here this week. He will spend a few days at the Coast and return to remain here for a time.

Further improvements to the Garnett Valley road were authorized by the municipal council on Tuesday, when Foreman Tomlin was instructed to widen the road near the Koester property by blowing off some of the rock.

R. V. Agur on Wednesday attended a session of the court of revision at Naramata, when appeals against provincial assessments were heard. Mr. Agur appealed against the valuations which were laid on range land in the Bathfield district.

G. J. Coulter White, Summerland's representative on the board of provisional directors of the Co-Operative Growers' of British Columbia, Ltd., is expected home tonight from Vernon, where the directors have been in session for some days.

Special to The Review.—Sugar went up again for the fourth time in seven days. The total advance in this period amounted to 45 cents per cwt. Advancement due to heavy buying which both London and New York are indulging in at present; further advances expected. Got in touch with the Grocerteria for prices.

There is a certain amount of misunderstanding existing in this district that an open season for beaver trapping exists. This is entirely wrong. There is a close season in the whole of the eastern district, which includes from east to the Cascade range and south of the main C. P. R. line. This is the information given by R. M. Robertson, provincial game warden.

By mutual agreement the Summerland Telephone Co. and the municipality make common use of poles belonging to one or the other. Under this arrangement, 25 cents a pole yearly rental is paid. By a recent check-up, made by the municipal electrician and the manager of the Telephone Co., it was found that telephone wires are strung on 113 electric light poles, while the municipality is making use of seven Telephone Co. poles.

Mrs. W. T. Daniel is returning tonight from Regina, where she has been for a visit.

Don't sit and lament. Go out and cement the Co-Op. spirit.

Plans are under way to bring one thousand Swiss farmers to Canada.

"The Storm" is coming Friday and Saturday, Feb. 16th and 17th. Take cover at the Empress. 784

Mrs. H. K. Fisher returned on Saturday, following a visit of some weeks to her former home in Ontario.

Grocerteria, distributors for Flour, Feed, Hay and Poultry Supplies. More cars rolling. We want your business. 784

High school fees are to be discussed at a public meeting advertised in this number, to be held on Saturday afternoon.

By the final reading and approval of a bylaw on Tuesday, the municipal council disposed of two lots in Peach Orchard to J. J. Blewett.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Snider are leaving Southern California this week to return to Summerland. They expect to arrive here the latter part of next week.

Mrs. Geo. Carr, who has been spending the winter with her daughters in Winnipeg, went down to Mont-real last week, upon receipt of news of the death of her mother in that city.

Accounts totalling $10,024.27 were passed for payment at Tuesday's meeting of the council. These included school requisitions, $3,024; payroll, $1,941; and the hospital's share of the government liquor cheque, $1,184, already reported.

That the conveniences of the metre reader were not considered in the placing of many electric light metres, is apparent. By an order passed by the municipal council, metres, in future, must not be placed higher than eight feet, six inches from the ground or floor.

Preliminary readings were given a bylaw at the council meeting on Tuesday which provides for the borrowing from the Bank of Montreal a sum not exceeding $20,000 against the current year's taxes. As the school and municipal work must be financed until taxes are paid in the fall, this course is taken each year.

Miss Hibbs, matron of the Summerland Hospital, has accepted an offer of a similar position in a larger hospital in the Grand Prairie district in northern Alberta, and has asked to be relieved of her duties here. She plans on leaving next week. The board has appointed Miss Ketchison, of the nursing staff, as acting matron.

The operating staff of the Summerland Telephone Co., on Wednesday evening, gave another of their delightful surprise parties, which are earning for them the title of "the surprising telephone girls," this time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Downton. Nine card tables were placed and a lovely time spent by all until the early hours of the morning. The Review has been asked to express through its columns the appreciation of all those who have been entertained in this delightful way by the "surprising girls."

STUDYING CO-OP. IN CALIFORNIA

S. B. Snider Investigating Marketing Practices in Southern State.

One of our fruit growers, who has been among the most successful in marketing, having had for years a good connection with former business acquaintances and friends, is evidently converted to the co-operative selling plan and intends throwing in his lot with his neighbors. Mr. Snider is now holidaying in the south, with his wife, and while there has been interesting himself in the methods practiced by the California growers. In an interesting letter to the editor of this paper, written from Los Angeles, Mr. Snider writes on this subject thus:

To the Editor of The Review:

Dear Sir,—As you will see by the address, California is still holding us. This is a wonderful place especially when the sun shines, but we have been having some rainy days for the last two weeks and will be glad to get back to good old Summerland again.

I have been spending a good deal of my time while here studying California marketing methods, especially as applied to deciduous fruits.

The old system of selling general commodities through one organization has been proven to be unprofitable even when these commodities parallel each other in their season of ripening. The methods necessary for the successful marketing of peaches, apricots and other soft fruits are different from the marketing of the firmer fruits, such as apples, and it has been found more profitable to have a separate association for each; besides peaches and apricots are confined to only certain districts and can be more economically handled by a smaller selling agency making a special study of these commodities.

The most important thing of all, however, is that profitable co-operative marketing must be backed up by a body of growers who are practically unanimous in their support of the policy agreed upon by their association. Success is assured by thorough co-operation and a perfect pack.

At present a great deal of attention is being directed towards finding out the best methods of marketing the 1923 apple crop. Not only the growers themselves, but the Farm Bureaus, universities, bankers and professional men as well are trying to work out a successful marketing system.

The best method so far recommended seems to be taken from the Walnut Growers, Orange Growers and the Northwestern Apple Growers. Here are a few main points:

First—Get an estimate of the whole 1923 crop and how much of this can be consumed by the home market. Divide all the territory from the Pacific to the Atlantic into districts, with one distributing point to each district. Appoint a responsible and live broker at each distributing point and give him the exclusive sales for that district. Extend the marketing season to cover, at least, nine months of the year by arranging for plenty of storage facilities. The apples should be stored at the point of distribution, so as to be able to promptly supply the demand at all times.

Prices should be fixed at point of consumption, based on supply and demand, and not on local competition.

As fast as the fruit is delivered a draft should be made through a local bank, and after deducting for overhead expenses, freight and commission, 90 per cent. of the net balance to be paid to the growers each month. There should be a registered name for the extra fancy or No. 1, and a separate name for the fancy or No. 2, and should be advertised and sold under these names. No. 1 pack should be 100 per cent. perfect and No. 2 extra good for the grade.

No undersized or culls should be harvested, but should be picked off when thinning and left in the orchard.

California growers make a good deal of money out of by products. Dehydrating is the most important of all methods of saving the over-ripe and surplus fruit. I spent a half day at the government laboratories studying the process and will hope to try out some experiments the coming season with the co-operation of a neighbor or two.

Yours truly,
S. B. SNIDER.

Tuesday, Feb. 20th, is an important day for you. Show your interest and come to the meeting.

Hurry and sign. The campaign is on; it finishes Feb. 24th.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING

Some Basic Reasons Why the Present Co-operative Movement Has the greatest Possible Chance of Success.

(By R. V. Agur)

It will be in a position to eliminate price cutting and consignment and to effect a proper distribution of our fruit, and places power in the growers' hands to accomplish what the shippers, no matter how much they would like to, are unable to accomplish for the growers.

It has the universal backing of banking institutions, business houses and merchants of the different districts, and public opinion at large.

It also has the hearty co-operation of leading financial men of the province, which is based on the truth that prosperous times for rural districts spell prosperous times for the cities. Vancouver business men are especially interested in our success, as they feel a large proportion of our surplus must eventually reach an export market by shipment through their port.

The co-operative movement has the backing of our provincial government and the principles have been endorsed in annual convention by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association.

It has the endorsement of the Wholesale Fruit Jobbers' Association of the Prairie Provinces.

The general scheme, as outlined, has been endorsed by the two leading experts on marketing in the United States, and is along the same lines as the system that has been an outstanding success in Denmark and other foreign countries.

APPLES REQUIRE COLD STORAGE

Shippers of Wenatchee Delicious Apples Report Trouble.

In a bulletin issued in December by the North American Fruit Exchange, it was intimated that the Delicious apple, grown in the Wenatchee District in Washington, was in danger of losing its supremacy, because many of them had arrived on the market in poor condition.

Among the remedies suggested were closer inspection and the construction of more cold storage facilities so that Delicious and other early varieties may be held at a proper temperature until ready to load into cars for forwarding.

The opinion was expressed that the Delicious apple needs to be placed in cold storage and the temperature inside the apple itself reduced to 32 degrees before they are shipped, because it is the temperature inside the apple that is the most important.

Alterations in a cold storage plant in Zelah, Washington, uncovered three boxes of apples that had been kept chilled for five years. The fruit was stated to be in excellent condition.

ASK MORE EQUITABLE METHOD OF TAXATION

Executive of B. C. F. G. A. to Plead Cause of Growers at Victoria.

Not only taxes on trees, as imposed by the provincial government in unorganized districts, but the growing burden of school taxes in municipalities, is to be taken up with the provincial government by the executive of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association. This was one of the actions decided upon at the meeting of the executive referred to in The Review last week. That there should be some more equitable method of taxation, Dominion, provincial and municipal, so that the burden will fall upon those best able to bear it, appears to be the view of the executive.

The resolutions relating to taxation take the premier position among the forty resolutions adopted at the recent executive meeting and were left with the executive to place before the proper authorities in the usual way.

Every day, in every way, the new Co-Op. is getting bigger and bigger.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT.

Have you noticed how everything else just fades away into obscurity when the spotlight is focussed on the leading lady or leading man on the stage? And how vividly every detail shown by the spotlight remains in your memory?

Many a business man can draw an object lesson from this. Is your business, for instance, in the public eye? Do you regularly throw the "spotlight" of advertising on your store?

BAPTISTS HOLD CONVENTION

Representatives of Churches of South Interior Gather at Kelowna.

The associational meetings of the Baptist Churches of the Okanagan and C. P. R. main line were held at Kelowna from Jan. 30 to Feb. 1. Each one attending the meetings came prepared to make some contributions and a fine spirit of co-operation prevailed. Each session was marked by spiritual fervor and practical zeal, emphasizing the need both of prayer and work; that we must be "laborers" as well as "intercessors."

RAIN AND SNOW AS FERTILIZERS

Snow and rainwater are commonly regarded as among the things essentially pure, but along comes Frank T. Shutt, Dominion chemist, with a report of the things he has been able to squeeze out of them and measure and weigh and reduce to percentages.

Nitrogen is beyond dispute the dominant element of plant food, which, determines in a large measure crop growth. Rain and snow have a fertilizing value by reason of the soluble nitrogen compounds they contain. At Ottawa where the average precipitation is 33.49 inches, the average amount of nitrogen per acre received from this source is 6.78 pounds. Rain brings down more than snow, and the figures even show how much free ammonia and other kinds of ammonia, and nitrates and nitrites, etc., snow and water contain.

Co-Operative Campaign Meeting With Success

Well Over Eighty Per Cent. of Tonnage is Expected—One Hundred Per Cent. in Some Places—Canvassing Started Here Yesterday—Kootenay and Boundary Given Another Week.

Reports from points throughout the Okanagan give assurance of success for the new big co-operative, and it now seems certain that the required 80 per cent. tonnage will be considerably exceeded. While in some sections the canvass has only really begun, some of the smaller places have been covered with excellent results.

The work in the Kootenay and Boundary districts is just beginning and, realizing the time that will be required to cover this scattered territory, an extension of time of one week has been given to that part of the province.

Naramata reports approximately 80 per cent. of growers signed up, with the expectation of at least 90 per cent., probably 98. Their share, $400, of the organization committee expenses, has been over-subscribed. Peachland has 80 per cent., with canvass not yet finished.

Kelowna, about 50 per cent. of tonnage canvassed, 95 per cent. of whom have signed. Total of 85 per cent. tonnage expected.

Okanagan Centre, Oyama and Winfield being canvassed; about 65 per cent. already signed.

Coldstream, nearly 95 per cent. signed.

Lavington, 100 per cent.

Vernon and District, about 75 per cent.; expect to have 85 or 90 per cent. by tonight.

Salmon Arm, canvass starts today.

Keremeos and Caston, canvass started Wednesday. Expect to sign up every grower except one or two estates; 95 per cent. of tonnage expected.

Kaleden, 100 per cent. of citizens reported signed and canvass of absentees being made.

Penticton, about 60 per cent. of tonnage signed up to yesterday and expect to reach 85 per cent. by the 24th.

The canvassing committee of Summerland were busy yesterday organizing the district and some of the canvassers were out in the field. Last night, about 30 contracts, in addition to those obtained at the public meeting, were reported. At the meeting on Tuesday, about 40 per cent. of the growers were signed, representing, it is said, about 50 per cent. of the tonnage. The committee is finding it difficult to get accurate figures as to individual and total tonnage. Including the Stewart interests, which have made a conditional promise to come in, the committee expect to go well over the 80 per cent.

MAY ELIMINATE THE "C" GRADE

Wenatchee Growers Would Keep Them Off Market by Turning Into By-products.

Wenatchee growers are seriously considering the elimination of the "C" grade, according to a recent press dispatch from that district. A mass meeting will be held soon to deal with this and other important phases of the industry. The dispatch says in part: The elimination of the "C" grade entirely is being strongly advocated, cutting the number of grades to two. Whether this will be accomplished is problematical at present. It is urged that "C" grade apples have never made any money for the growers except in the case of a few high priced varieties such as Winter Banana and Delicious. Furthermore they compete with the higher grades and lower the demand for fancy and extra fancy grades.

Buyers here are refusing to handle "C" grades at any price this spring with the result that hundreds of boxes of them are being sold to the by-products plants at $8 per ton.

IMPORTANT BULLETIN.

Growers' Central Organization Committee insists that all returns for the Okanagan Valley must be sent in not later than Saturday, Feb. 24th. If you have not yet signed the contract, you are endangering the future of this community. It is up to you to decide now whether we are going to be a success or a failure.

Just What He Needs

SCHOOL FEES ARE OPPOSED

Parents in Session Say Board Over-ruled Ratepayers' Resolution.

"That this meeting of parents of pupils attending the Summerland public and high schools protest against the action of the school board in insisting on the payment of high school fees in face of the resolution passed at the last annual meeting of the ratepayers of Summerland requesting the abolition of said fees, and further demands the same privilege of free education for their children as that enjoyed in the great majority of the high schools of the province."

The above resolution, proposed by J. W. Harris and seconded by R. Purves, was carried unanimously at a meeting of parents, held on Saturday afternoon in the Parish Hall. Mr. Harris explained the purpose for calling the meeting. The ratepayers in annual meeting, had almost unanimously voted for the elimination of high school fees. But in face of this, the school board had again imposed a fee. With others, he felt that the board should have carried out the wishes of the ratepayers as expressed at the annual meeting.

During a speech on the subject, in which he dealt with the question of free education, Mr. Harris quoted one citizen who had expressed himself as in favor of a high school fee, as it made the high school more exclusive. This, declared Mr. Harris, demonstrated the disadvantageous position in which children of poor parents were placed as compared with those whose parents were able to pay. Not to his knowledge was there another high school in B. C. charging the fee.

LAWLER VS. SLADE

Cash Settlement Tendered Local Growers—Said Will Accept.

Summerland fruit growers who sold their crop to the Lawler Fruit Company, have been awaiting with considerable concern, the outcome of the suit between the Lawler Fruit Co. and A. P. Slade & Co., Vancouver. The suit was slated for hearing on Monday of this week, but was adjourned until Friday, the 23rd inst., pending negotiations between the parties concerned.

Many of the local growers are represented by K. M. Elliott. It is stated that the Slade people have made an offer to settle with the growers direct for 60 per cent. of their claims, payment to be made in cash. A number of the local creditors got together on Monday and it is understood that they have decided to accept this offer.

SAPIRO WIRES CONGRATULATIONS

While Summerland fruit growers were in session here on Tuesday to discuss the new marketing contract, drawn up along the lines prescribed by Aaron Sapiro, the following telegram was read:

New York, Feb. 20, 1923
Chairman Organization Committee, Summerland:

Please present my compliments to the fruit growers of British Columbia on initiating their great effort for permanent prosperity and independent control of their own important affairs.

With the high average intelligence and British love of commercial freedom your growers should sign the contracts with each other to at least 80 per cent. of total production.

I predict a striking success for co-operation in British Columbia as we have ever had in California.

AARON SAPIRO.

CHOIR CONCERT MUCH ENJOYED

Successful Program Carried Out by St. Andrew's Singers.

Those who attended the concert given by the choir of St. Andrew's church on Tuesday evening, enjoyed a splendid musical entertainment. The program was well varied and gave evidence of careful preparation under their able conductor, Mr. Alex. Smith.

The choruses by the choir were well received, particularly their rendering of "The Bells of St. Michael's Tower," which was enthusiastically encored. The soloists were Mrs. Rumball, Mr. T. G. Beavis and Mr. Ben Newton, always popular on the musical platform and who lacked nothing of their usual excellence. A pleasing double quartette was rendered by Mrs. Ben Newton, the Misses B. Johnston, Helen and Fairy Adams, and Messrs. Ben Newton, Clarence and Irvine Adams and Dewey Sanborn.

Mrs. A. H. Steven, in her usual good style, recited "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," while Mrs. Jenkinson, in her portrayal of the troubles of the Irish cook, was very amusing. A splendid piano solo was given by Miss Ida Shields, whose ability in this line needs no introduction, while Mrs. Harding and Mr. D. L. Sutherland, in a delightful and amusing quartette, sang "The Keys of Heaven." Owing to illness, Miss Banks, who was to have played several violin solos, was unable to be present.

Following the concert, a supper was given in the church hall for the members of the choir and a number of invited guests, when a most enjoyable social hour was spent.

STORAGE BOARD MEETS COMMITTEE

Mayor Sutherland, of Kelowna, and James Goldie, Okanagan Centre, a special committee in the organization campaign dealing with the properties phase of the campaign, were in town this week and met the directors of the Summerland Storage Co. They discussed with them the taking over of the storage building. While the visiting gentlemen were not in a position to make a definite agreement, it is said that an understanding was reached that will be acceptable to the local directors and will be recommended by the visiting committee.

Efforts are being made to revive the beet root sugar industry in Southern Alberta.

Local boys to help pay their expenses. Mr. Johnston proposes taking the boys as far as Bellingham, Wash., playing also Chilliwack and about a half dozen other teams.

TO WIND UP UNION

Notice of an extraordinary motion to the effect that the Summerland Fruit Union be wound up, has been given the shareholders with the notice of annual meeting to be held on March 6th.

This notice is in line with the action taken by the shareholders at a recent meeting, when the question as to whether this or some other course would be best to follow was left with the directors.

Many Growers Sign At Big Mass Meeting

Tables Provided—Forty Per Cent. of Growers Turn in Contracts—Speakers Emphasize Urgency of Situation—Little Criticism of Contract Form—Will Organize Local Unit.

Vital as it is to the future welfare of our community, the one big question being discussed is the re-organization of British Columbia fruit growers and there was again a large attendance at Tuesday's meeting at Empire Hall to discuss the contract and hear speakers on this subject. W. C. Kelley, chairman of the Board of Trade, occupied the chair.

During his recent visit to California, A. C. Turner received a request from a Summerland man to get what information he could on Aaron Sapiro. He was asked to tell the growers what he learned of the man, and of his own views on co-

BOYS OBTAIN EASY VICTORY

Defeat Penticton in Basketball Close Run Made by Girls.

Two interesting games of basketball were played in the College Gym on Tuesday night, being return matches between Penticton and Summerland. In the girls' game the teams were well matched, the score within a few minutes of the final half being 6-8 in favor of Summerland, but by a final effort the Penticton girls secured two field goals, winning the game with the close score of 7 to 6.

In the boys' game Summerland easily had the superior team showing much better combination and speed than the visiting team. Roy Darkis and Warren Gayton did particularly good work, the final score being 29 to 14 in favor of Summerland. F. Glenn, Penticton, refereed both games.

A pre-cooling plant to handle fruit will be established at Chilliwack, B. C. It will be sufficiently large to handle the entire fruit shipments of the district.

operation as it would effect the fruit industry of this province.

Mr. Turner is a successful business man who came here last year from Ontario, and seemingly went about gathering information in California in a business-like manner.

He found that Mr. Sapiro was thought highly of in banking circles of the southern state and that the business men there think him sound, and one of the best informed men on the subject of co-operative marketing. Mr. Turner, pointing out that organizing and advising co-operatives was Sapiro's business, said he could not afford to give poor advice. The contract submitted to B. C. growers is along the lines prescribed by Sapiro.

Mr. Turner expressed himself as convinced that the farmers in California today are making money. Farm land is steadily increasing in value. Ninety-nine out of 100 farms have motor cars.

The California Fruit Growers' Association is an efficient, non-profit making organization of growers, which last year marketed 27,500,000 boxes of lemons alone. It successfully marketed the enormous crop of 1920-21, when every other line of produce was sold at a loss to the producer in falling markets.

"We grow good salable fruit," continued the speaker, "but we must have co-operation if we are to have a profit. Oranges are selling here today at 60 cents. In Los Angeles the same oranges sell for the same price. The reason? Controlled distribution. Surely we can do what they are doing. A fruit selling organization is not so different from other business organizations. The same basic principles apply."

G. J. C. White, local representative on the board of provisional directors, referring to the contract, stated: "You know the conditions, and you know the remedy provided. It is something tried and proved. We are in a fortunate position to be able to profit by the experience of California, Denmark, etc." Other parts (Continued on Page 6)

The Co-operators' Creed

The following is taken from the creed drawn up by Paul V. Maris, Director Extension Service, Oregon Agricultural College:

1. I believe firmly that modern conditions demand a better system of marketing farm products and that this can be brought about only by intelligent co-operation among producers.

2. I understand that marketing embraces part or all of the following functions, depending somewhat upon the nature of the commodity:

- |                              |                 |
|------------------------------|-----------------|
| 1. Assembling                | 5. Transporting |
| 2. Grading and standardizing | 6. Storing      |
| 3. Packing                   | 7. Financing    |
| 4. Processing                | 8. Distributing |

And I believe in co-operation for the purpose of performing these functions efficiently. Economical and orderly marketing is the object sought rather than speculation and price control.

3. I know that fundamental changes must come slowly and that they will be fraught with grave difficulties.

4. I expect co-operative enterprises to be opposed by agencies with which they come in competition. I know that this opposition will assume the form of bait prices that will be held up to tempt me and cause me to become dissatisfied; but understanding the motives back of these, I will remain constantly steadfast and loyal.

5. I know that trust and confidence are the keystones of co-operation. Hence I will participate in the selection of men to direct the affairs of my association in whom I have confidence, and I will at least grant them a fair and considerate hearing before condemning their actions.

6. I realize that many of the benefits of co-operation are intangible and immeasurable, and that they will accrue alike to members and non-members. Non-members will frequently receive better prices than members, but these facts will not shake my confidence, nor cause me to withdraw my support of co-operation.

7. I will read all official communications sent to members and attend meetings for the consideration of the business of my organization. I will vote on all measures submitted to members by ballot. I will offer constructive criticism freely and demand the highest possible degree of efficiency and service.

8. I realize that destructive criticism is no value and that it imposes unnecessary expense upon the organization. I will refrain, therefore, from using it.

MONEY FOR SCHOOLS.

Some very important amendments have been made to the Liquor Act which affect the apportioning of the profits, one half of which was mentioned at the meeting of parents, held last Saturday.

It was stated by Mr. Harris that he had received information from Victoria to the effect that two-sevenths of the municipal grant from the liquor profits is allotted to the schools. This will probably bear some explanation.

Under the arrangement which prevailed last year, fifty per cent. of the net profits went to the consolidated fund of the provincial government. The other half was allotted to be distributed to the municipalities throughout the province, one-half of this being earmarked for local hospital purposes.

This contribution to municipal finances was the result of persistent efforts by the Union of B. C. Municipalities, in an endeavor to obtain relief for taxpayers from the growing burdens of school and hospital maintenance. While the proportion to be paid over to the hospitals was definitely fixed, nothing was said as to how the other half of the grant was to be expended. Presumably it was expected to relieve the taxes imposed for school purposes.

Under the amendment, half of the net profit will still go into the provincial fund. The other half goes to the municipalities, directly or indirectly, but is more definitely apportioned by the government. Thirty-five per cent. of the whole, or seventy per cent. of the half referred to above, will be paid to the several municipalities in proportion to their respective populations, "and of all monies so paid to each municipality, two-sevenths thereof is to be placed to the credit of the Board of School Trustees' account and shall be paid thereout only for school purposes."

This leaves the same proportion as last year in the general municipal fund. In other words, the province retains fifty per cent. of the net profits, gives municipalities twenty-five per cent. and earmarks for school purposes, ten per cent. leaving fifteen per cent. for hospital purposes.

THE HOSPITAL'S POSITION.

Our hospitals cannot look to the municipalities for their portion of the liquor profits as they did last year and it would seem to us that the amendment will affect quite seriously such hospitals as ours, as, under the amendment, "fifteen per cent. of the net amount shall be placed to the credit of a special account in the Treasury and shall be paid out upon vouchers signed by the Provincial Secretary in aid of all hospitals within the meaning of section 2 of the Hospital Act to an amount not exceeding twenty-five cents per patient per day of the total number of days' treatment in each hospital as determined for the purpose of this Act and the balance of the fifteen per centum upon vouchers signed by the Provincial Secretary for aid of any hospital or institution for the care of persons afflicted with incurable bodily diseases or disability."

In July, 1922, our hospital received $1,264.83, being its share of profits for six months to March 31st. At the end of the year $1,184.87 came to the hospital through the municipality for the six months ending September 30th, making $2,450 for the twelve months.

Had the grant been made in accordance with the amendment, the hospital would have received $897 only, being 3,588 days' treatment at twenty-five cents.

THE STORAGE BUILDING.

There are some among our fruit growers who have some misgivings with respect to the overhead charges that the new local will have by using the storage building. The matter, if looked upon in the broader light will not be the bugbear seen by these people.

The big building has three distinct uses, on each of which a value may be set.

As a plant for the assembling, grading, packing and shipping of fruit, it has been pronounced by experts as ideal.

One has but to look back to two or three recent seasons to realize a second value or use the building has for the community. It is not so long ago that our growers suffered serious financial loss through inability to take care of the crop in advance of freezing weather. It was a common thing to hear the statement that the losses in that year would have paid for a big frost-proof storage building. In the fall of 1921 losses from frost would have been large but for the building, hardly completed before filled.

But there is a third and very important use to which the building may be put and it, with the buildings at Vernon and Kelowna, are looked upon as valuable assets to the apple industry of the province. These three, collectively, afford large and valuable storage space which, no doubt, will frequently be utilized by the big Co-operative to hold apples grown at these three and perhaps neighboring points, while the market is being fed from other districts.

If the Summerland building is taken over by the holding company, we have good reason to believe that a goodly portion of the fixed overhead will be assumed by the Co-operative, because of this one fact. With a very much greater tonnage passing through the building (it is said to be capable of handling three to four times the volume of fruit put through it last season), that portion of the fixed charges placed upon the local should not be a serious matter, considered as a per package charge.

OUR BEST CUSTOMER.

Great Britain was Canada's best customer last year. Figures issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that the value of Canadian exports to the United Kingdom during 1922 was over $34,000,000 higher than the export of goods to the United States. Canada sold to the United Kingdom goods to the value of $374,751,894, and to the United States $340,751,247.

HULL DELIGHTED WITH B. C. APPLES

Press reports from the old country state that particular interest was shown in the arrival at Hull of a large consignment of British Columbia apples, this being the first shipment of apples from the Pacific Coast to the port. The fruit was in first-class condition and attracted a big gathering of buyers when it was put up at auction.

Hull is rapidly establishing a first-class position in the fruit trade. It is the main distributing centre for Yorkshire and the Northern Midlands and for re-export to the continent.

OCCIDENTAL ARE HOLDING OUT

Because the Co-operative has refused to purchase their cannery, the Occidental Fruit Co., operating canneries and fruit houses at Kelowna and Penticton, have announced that they will continue to operate as usual. A circular letter to this effect has been sent out to the growers.

The Armstrong concern at Kere-meos is reported to be taking the same stand because the Co-operative will not acquire their-cannery.

DATE ORGANIZATION MEETING CHANGED

On Tuesday, a resolution was adopted by the growers to the effect that they meet again on Tuesday, March 1st, for the purpose of taking the initial steps to organize a local. Upon the suggestion of the central committee, this date has been changed to March 10th, as another week has been given the canvassers of the southeastern part of the province and it is desirable that final results be known. The date for closing the campaign in the Okanagan remains Feb. 24th.

COYOTE BOUNTIES.

Information has been received here through the government agent that no bounties will be paid on coyotes, unless the pelts are surrendered. This is in line with the former policy of the provincial government, but by a change in the regulations, which went into effect on Jan. 1st, a bounty of two dollars on each animal was paid without confiscating the pelt. This latter has been changed by order-in-council.

ENGINE DERAILED.

The coast train arrived here late Wednesday morning, having been delayed by a derailed freight engine near Romeo. Some rocks which had rolled onto the track were struck by the engine as it was slowly proceeding down the grade, the latter being thrown crosswise on the track. Little damage was done. It was necessary to transfer eastbound passengers at the scene of the wreck.

NEW CAVE IS DISCOVERED

Glacier, B.C.—By far the largest cave in the series of subterranean caverns in Glacier National Park, known as the Nakimu Caves, has just been uncovered by workmen engaged in development work. Unusual interest is being shown in this discovery as it opens up possibilities for exploration the extent of which can only be surmised.

The Nakimu Caves the most wonderful series of underground chambers in Canada, was discovered in 1904 by a miner while prospecting in the Cougar Valley. The story of the early explorations of these underground caves reads like a page from Jules Verne. Over a mile of high-domed halls and connecting passages, whose walls of crystalline limestone send back the rays of the lights in a myriad of colors, are open to visitors forming one of the most thrilling experiences imaginable.

Halfway down the valley Cougar creek, which has come down from the glaciers, is suddenly snatched down into the bowls of the mountain and roars along through the caves at the very feet of the visitors. Twice during the course of a mile it reappears and flows for a little in the light of the day to finally disappear by an underground channel. The rumbling of the waters through the caves is probably responsible for the Indian name, "Nakimu," which means "grumbling or spirit noises." The new chamber which adjoins Cave No. 4 is a large cathedral-like cavern equalling in length and height some of our largest halls. It is 435 feet long and from 12 to 16 feet in width with an approximate height of 100 feet.

FRUIT GROWERS OF PEACHLAND ELECT OFFICERS

Annual Meeting of Peachland Fruit Growers' Union is Interesting.

The annual meeting of the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union was held in the Municipal Hall on Monday afternoon, with a large percentage of the growers present. Director Tailor occupied the chair.

A question was raised by J. McLaughlin, Sr., dealing with a resolution passed at the last annual meeting to the effect that Mr. Thos. Powell be the representative to the O. U. G. Central. This resolution had been overlooked by the directorate and another appointed by them. Answering the question the chairman stated that the directors had discussed the matter carefully at their first meeting and decided that Major Hardisty was the member of the board who should represent Peachland on the Central Board of Directors at Vernon, and appointed him as such. He further explained that he had fulfilled their expectations and had served in that capacity to the best of his ability and in a conscientious manner. The fact still remained, however, that the board had ignored the wish of the meeting according to resolution, and after discussion, the following resolution was passed: Mr. Long and Mr. Metcalf—"That any resolution passed by the shareholders at annual meeting be adopted by the directors, if feasible, if not, that it be referred back to the growers before ignoring."

Another matter arising out of the minutes was that of the question of option on the lots as called for at last annual meeting and after discussion the following resolution was passed: Mr. Powell and Mr. Wilson—"That the directors communicate with the council with the view of securing a further option on Lots 2, 3, 4 and 5, Block 9, D. L. 490."

Secretary W. M. Dryden read the auditor's report and the financial statement. Quite a lengthy discussion followed, principally dealing with the feed department. The statement revealed the fact that there was a considerable total of outstanding accounts in spite of the fact that there was a resolution put on the books previously that accounts were not to exceed a certain amount. The growers thought this resolution should have been more closely adhered to by the directors and management and the accounts kept down and the following resolution was passed: "That the rules at present in force regarding credit to shareholders be rescinded and the following substituted therefore; that the credit allowed any shareholder for feed be $20 and that no credit be granted for feed on fruit shipped through the fruit department."

When the question of election of directors was brought up, it was suggested that the election be held over and the old board remain in office till the new co-operative functions. Discussion resulted in the adoption of the following resolution: Mr. Long and Mr. Lang—"That we, the shareholders of the Peachland Fruit Growers' Union, hold our election of officers today." The election resulted as follows: J. T. Long, 26; Thos. Powell, 25; Dr. Buchanan, 24; H. Hardy, 23; R. J. Hogg, 23. On the question as to the representative to Central, Messrs. Long and McKay brought in this resolution: "That we, the growers at this annual meeting, elect our representative to the Central committee and that he be one of the elected local directors." An amendment was brought in by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Edgcombe as follows: "That the appointment of the Central representative be left to the board of directors." The amendment carried.

Messrs. Crehan, Mout & Co., are again auditors. Major Hardisty gave the meeting some interesting detail as regards the apple situation, stating that according to information dated Feb. 16th, there were 65 cars of apples in storage in the Valley; 104 yet to be accounted for on export; 88 in hands of jobbers and 65 in cold storage at outside points, making a total of 322 cars. These cars referred to have been moving since and many of them have been sold. He also stated that Macks pools were not closed yet, but that returns to date on domestic were $1.13, less charges, and $1.22 on export. There are 2,000 domestic Macks and 1,500 export to sell yet to clear the pools.

R. J. Hogg addressed the growers for a few moments on the formation of the new co-operative, he being one of the provisional directors. He stated that we are face to face with a great crisis and that if the co-operative does not go through there will be chaos. He considered the contract as good as could be framed for a start, but it might be possible that some points would not be clear or not thought suitable by every individual. While it is drawn with a view to having it legally binding, it is not a club held over the grower, but a protection to all, and when the growers sign up they become both ends of the contract. If the growers stand true to themselves they have it in their own hands to make it a success, stated the speaker, and he went on to say that it is not the intention of the committee to stop at 80 per cent. tonnage, if it was possible to get larger. Replying to a question, he stated that the directors considered it would not be to the best interests of the organization to take over by-products plants. After a discussion on this matter, Messrs. Long and McBean brought in the following resolution: "That we, the growers of Peachland, realizing that it would very much handicap the new organization to tie up with the by-product plants or canneries under question, we wish to place ourselves on record as being opposed to any such action and to place our confidence in the provisional directors to carry on and decide such matters as these in the best interests of the growers at large, whose interests, we believe, they have at heart."—Carried.

On motion of Messrs. McKay and Long a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the retiring board of directors.

CANVASSERS OUT AT PEACHLAND

The Peachland Fruit Growers' committee, with Major Hardisty as chairman, and J. A. Edgcombe, secretary, have appointed sub-committees to canvass the district for signatures to the contracts for the new organization, and each committee-man has been allotted certain growers. H. Hardy as convener, with E. F. Smith, G. McBean, H. E. Trimble and J. Wright as his committee, has charge of one section. Reeve G. Lang, convener, with Messrs. Powell, Ferguson, Renfrew and Metcalf on his committee, has another section, while Dr. Buchanan and W. E. Morsh have the Trepanier section. The contracts were circulated among the growers last Saturday and it is the hope of the committee to have the signatures practically completed by Thursday evening of this week.

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Bert Keating spent the week-end in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Trimble and Mrs. Follett were out of town visitors on Saturday.

Reeve G. Lang and Councillor McBean returned Friday evening after a short visit out of town.

Mr. R. H. Huston, of the Trepanier district, has gone down to the Coast for an extended visit.

Mr. J. A. Edgcombe conducted the service in the Anglican church on Sunday in the absence of the Rev. H. A. Solly.

R. J. Hogg returned home Friday evening, having been busy on committee work in connection with the new fruit organization.

A few former Manitoba people got together one evening recently and talked over the advisability of arranging a round-up of Manitoba old-timers in Peachland, formed a committee and are busy forming an association with a view to arranging for a meet in the near future.

Skating enthusiasts have been enjoying a few skates at the rink at the old cement pipe factory while the weather was sufficiently cold to allow of flooding and freezing it. Since the openings have all been uncovered very little mild weather affects the ice inside nearly as quickly as outside.

The community regrets very much to lose Captain Brown and family, who have been occupying the Wingate place. They have moved to their new place between Hardy's Lake and Power's Creek, where Mr. Brown and Mr. Claude Higgins recently purchased land together. We hope, seeing they are only removed by a few miles, they will still take an interest in Peachland and its doings, and the well wishes of their friends here accompany them on their present undertaking.

A jolly bunch of young people responded to a notice recently sent down from Westbank announcing a "Boy Scout carnival" on Shannon Lake and through the services of Tom McLaughlin's stage auto motored up for the occasion. The crowd was welcomed by the Westbank friends and a very pleasant evening was spent. The carnival costumes were few, Peachland contributing its share of these. After the skating the Peachlanders were treated to a dainty luncheon, served by the Westbank ladies, around the camp fire.

At the recent meeting of the Peachland Board of Trade, held in the Municipal Hall, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Geo. W. McBean, president, re-elected; Major R. G. Hardisty, vice-president; Dr. W. Buchanan, secretary-treasurer; with the following council, J. H. Clements, E. Cudmore, Reeve G. Lang, R. J. Hogg and W. Buchanan, Jr. The prospects are good for a live membership this year and the board anticipate an active season.

The annual meeting of the water users of the Peachland Irrigation district was held recently in the Municipal Hall. Reeve Lang, as chairman of the trustees, presided. The financial statement was discussed and finally adopted. Trustee McGirr gave a report on the system, dealing with the main ditch and flumes and invited questions and suggestions. A suggestion was made to have the V flumes coated with tar, especially at the joints. The question of remuneration for the trustees was then discussed. Chairman Lang suggested as far as he was concerned that payment be confined to the members of the irrigation committee. A motion was passed as follows: That the chairman of the irrigation committee, S. J. McGirr, be paid $100 and the other members of the trustees be paid $1 per annum.

Mr. J. W. Jones, member for South Okanagan, was present and addressed the growers on matters pertaining to taxation, etc., after which a hearty vote of thanks was accorded him for the address and for the interest taken in matters pertaining to the district.

At the last regular meeting of the Peachland Women's Institute, held in the Municipal Hall, the following business was transacted: The "noon whistle" was voted on and carried by a small majority. Report was heard as to installation of a radio-telephone, but after discussion was decided against. A report was given as to the "moving picture machine," which resulted in quite a discussion, but it was finally decided that it was too much of an undertaking at present. The question drawer caused considerable amusement with several of the questions. The roll call was answered by "The Title of Favorite Song." Miss Craig gave a well rendered reading from Nellie McClung's "Second Chance," and this was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The hour for the regular monthly meetings was changed to 2.30 p.m. instead of 3 as formerly. It was announced that Dr. J. G. Shearer, Toronto, general secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada, is coming and will speak on Feb. 27th in the Municipal Hall, on "Social Service Problems."

Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., of Kelowna, will speak on "Legislation" at the next regular meeting of the institute on March 9th. He expressed a wish that the ladies come prepared to ask numerous questions.

On Rev. Isaac Page's last visit to Peachland to conduct the service in the Baptist church, he announced that owing to the long drive he found it too trying on him in addition to the services and he was obliged to resign the Peachland pastorate and stated that on Sunday, Feb. 25th, he would preach his farewell sermon. The congregation are regretting this very much, having learned to appreciate their pastor a very great deal.

On this occasion he was accompanied by Mr. G. Thornber, of Summerland. The Sunday School Institute was held in Peachland on Thursday of last week. Both the afternoon and evening sessions were well attended. A sociable crowd sat at table at the 5.30 luncheon. Several Westbank Sunday School workers attended and from the south were Rev. Isaac Page, Penticton; W. H. Irwin, Naramata, and G. Thornber, Summerland. The program was as follows: Afternoon session, devotional, led by Rev. T. A. Sadler; paper, "How am I to Manage and Teach my Juniors," by Mrs. Williams, Peachland; discussion; paper, "How Can the Sunday School be Made Popular with the Masses," by G. Thornber, Summerland; discussion; round table conference, led by W. H. Irwin, Naramata; announcements; dismissal. Luncheon, Mrs. T. A. Sadler convener of the committee. Evening session: Song service choir, in charge of Mrs. Jones, convener; devotional, led by Rev. Isaac Page; special music by the choir; offering; special music by the choir; paper, "The Teen Age Boy and How to Interest Him in Bible Study and in S. S. Work," by S. H. Murdin, Peachland; discussion; solo by Mrs. Jones; question drawer, in charge of W. H. Irwin, of Naramata; special music by the choir; offering; announcements and benediction. A. D. Ferguson, chairman and H. E. McCall, secretary.

Just before the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered those who so ably assisted on the program and helped make the institute a real success, which it undoubtedly was considered by those present. Many matters of great interest in Sunday school work were discussed at length and points were brought out which were of great value to the workers. While the papers given and the points brought out by many in discussion were worthy of mention, it would only be fitting to voice the special appreciation of the very able manner in which Mr. Irwin assisted throughout the entire institute, with his vast storehouse of knowledge in all phases of Sunday school work. The collection was sufficient to cover expenses.

WALLACE REID SCORES AGAIN

With Wallace Reid in a most suitable role, Lois Wilson as his leading woman and a splendid cast including Lionel Belmore, Henry Miller, Jr., Helen Dunbar, S. J. Sandford and Guy Oliver, "The World's Champion," the Paramount picture which will be shown at the Rialto theatre on Friday and Saturday, is living up to its name.

The hero is the battling son of a meek, nobility-worshipping British commoner. There are three fistic encounters—the first when the son pays informal court to a lady and daughter of the nobility and is attacked for his forwardness by her escort, Lord Brockington, and thrashed; the second, a ring bout wherein the hero wins the middle-weight championship while in America and the third battle with Lord Brockington in which the now trained fighter returns him a dose of his own medicine.

Mr. Reid is in his usual good form as a loveliner and the picture is not lacking in romance. The characters, all English humorous types, provide a wealth of rare humor and are well portrayed.

NARAMATA DISTRICT HAS GOOD YEAR

Splendid Spirit Manifested at Annual Meeting of Water Users.

The ratopayers' annual meeting, called for the purpose of receiving the report of the water trustees, was held in the Unity Club on Thursday afternoon, and brought a representative attendance. Mr. F. W. Rolt was elected as chairman of the meeting and called upon the secretary, Mr. Dicken, to read the notice covering same, together with the financial statement and the auditor's report. The statement showed that a great deal of work had been accomplished during the past year, one outstanding improvement being a 25 per cent. increase in the water supply to the south benches, necessitated by the rapid increase in the number of ranches brought into cultivation in that section. The assets were totalled at $91,727.65, with liabilities of $83,678.57, showing a balance of $8,049.08. The revenue for the year amounted to $14,346.44, against an expenditure of 12,541.49. The amount due to the government was $9,000, and this had been paid. Of the total taxes collectable, 71 per cent. had been received, a proportion which was claimed to compare favorably with the collections of any other water board in the Valley.

During the discussion which followed the reading of the statement, Mr. Gammann drew attention to the waste of water at the mill creek, and the chairman agreed that this was a matter which called for amendment. Mrs. Williams asked for information as to the loss to the district from lands reverting to the government for unpaid taxes, and was told that the net loss to date was $525, which had to be spread amongst the remaining taxpayers. The question as to the condition of the north end flume was raised, and the chairman stated that the date for renewal of that had been fixed by experts for 1925, but that it would probably last beyond that period if carefully looked after in the meantime. The report was unanimously approved.

The matter of remuneration of the trustees was on the agenda for discussion, but the chairman stated that the present members of the board did not desire any change in the existing conditions, but were willing to give their services without charge, subject only to allowance for time spent in special work as required. Last year the sum of $18 had been paid to members who had been required to take trips for the investigation of certain conditions arising from time to time, and that amount represented the total remuneration paid. The meeting was strongly in favor of a fixed payment to the trustees, but gave way to the expressed wishes of the board in the matter, and tendered a cordial vote of thanks to the trustees for their services.

Major J. C. MacDonald was present, and responded to the invitation of the chairman with a short speech, in which he gave some interesting details of irrigation work in the Valley. He thought Naramata was to be congratulated on the financial standing of its system and also on the amount of work which had been accomplished. He was pleased to note that the growers evidently appreciated the difficulties encountered by the board and felt entire confidence in its ability and good faith. He said that he did not know that he had ever before witnessed the spectacle of a gathering pressing money on the other fellow, and the other fellow refusing to take it. He congratulated them on the obvious good feeling of the community. Asked as to the cost of measuring water, he stated the measuring boxes suitable for this district would cost about $12 each, and although it was certain they would eventually adopt the method of acre foot supply, the expense of installation would be heavy, and they would do well to wait.

A vote of thanks to the speaker brought the meeting to a close. The members of the W. A. met at Mrs. F. Manchester's on Thursday, Mrs. Languedoc presiding. There was a good attendance and much work was done.

Monday was nomination day for trustees of the irrigation board, two members being required to fill the places of the retiring members. Mr. F. W. Rolt was nominated for reelection and Mr. Len. Smith was slated as the new member. There being no further nominations, an election was not necessary, and these two gentlemen were returned by acclamation. The first meeting of the new board will take place on Monday next and the adjourned revision court will be held on that day also.

BE CAREFUL OF CASEIN

Casein as a supplemental material in spray solutions to increase spread and adherence is being widely recommended in the country. It is claimed that the use of casein gives more adhesion to spray, enables a complete covering of poison on the maturing fruit, does away with the necessity for wiping fruit and reduces the percentage of insect and disease infestation. While all these things are desirable, fruit growers would do well to leave casein alone until further experimentation eliminates its disadvantages, one of which is the probability of burning.

Last year an Ontario experimenter used a casein spreader on an orchard of 75 apple trees and found that it burned. The burning was so severe that he had to omit the use of casein in the fourth spray. There is no question that the casein was the cause of the burning of the leaves because all the other ingredients, including the lime, were used on rows right alongside. The spraying was done by the same machine and by the same men, and the casein rows were the only ones burned. A number of other Canadians who have used casein did so without any burning, but the fact that it burned in the orchard mentioned is sufficient warning against its use except in a limited way. While casein has given satisfaction in the United States, reports of burning from that country are not lacking. For the present, our growers would be wiser to trust to thorough spraying rather than place any special importance in this new substance. Thoroughness, timeliness and the proper number of applications with the sprays that we have are what is required.

MAKING APPLE BUTTER AT GRAND FORKS

All comments on the apple butter and syrup being manufactured by the Fruit Products Company warrant belief that these table delicacies, made in Grand Forks for the first time this week, will command a ready market. The product has been placed in all the local stores and will later be placed on outside markets.

The producing equipment is away to a good start. It is located in the cannery building adjoining the creamery, and the operations in making the new products are exciting much interest.

Apples are dumped into the bin from which elevators carry them to the top floor, where they are mashed and drop through a chute or pipe immediately over a big apple press. The pulp is then placed in layers, six or seven and placed under a powerful press which makes the juice run in a veritable river into a tank at the side from which it is pumped through a pipe to storage tanks, the latter having a capacity of some 180 gallons. This is the cider phase of the products.

For purposes of the apple butter, the cider is placed in a vat with steam coils at the bottom and is thoroughly cooked. Into this is worked an apple pulp which has been made by special machinery. The apples are specially selected for this purpose, are peeled and the cores removed. They then pass through a special roaster and cooked to the proper degree to be worked in with the cider. These are then cooked together in the steam vats.

Everything points to the Fruit Products Company having a concern that will be of greatest benefit to growers. While the price paid for apples will only be about $10 a ton, it will be possible to utilize fruit which cannot be shipped and under such circumstances is regarded as satisfactory—Grand Forks Gazette.

NARAMATA TO FORM LOCAL

Committee Now Busy Getting Signatures to the New Contract.

A crowded meeting of growers filled the Unity Club to overflowing on Monday afternoon to consider the matter of forming a new local for Naramata, and to receive signatures on the new contract sent down from Vernon. Mr. W. H. Irwin, president of the Farmers' Institute, was in the chair. The proposal to form a separate local for Naramata was unanimously endorsed, the election of provisional directors being held over until Vernon has reported the required 80 per cent. quota of signatures from the various sections. It is understood that the Naramata district will extend from the north end of Naramata to Okanagan Falls, and the several locals included in that area will each have the privilege of sending a candidate for representation on the central body, the final choice from among these candidates to rest with the main organization.

Mr. Morley replied to several queries as to methods of financing, etc., and the chairman then called for signatures to the contract. Practically every resident grower handed in the contract duly signed, and it only remains to await the signatures of the non-residents to total the coveted 100 per cent. To cover the expense of the delegates from Naramata, notes of the value of $10 each were given by growers present, and these will be counted as part of the entire organization expenses.

The C. G. I. T. held a very successful Valentine social last week, convened by the president, Miss Cathie Hancock, assisted by Miss Vanderburg and Miss Margaret Simmons. Twenty-nine guests assembled in response to the committee's invitation, and enjoyed a splendid time. Bert Partridge has been laid up with grippe, but is now around once more.

CHILDREN INSTRUCTED IN FOOD VALUE OF MILK

A more general use of milk in the diet of children is believed to be a matter of great national importance. It has been discovered that a reasonable amount of milk consumed daily by children not only improves their physical condition but is of great help to them in their classroom standing. A quart a day for each child is considered none too much by some authorities and half of that amount generally secures surprising results. Believing firmly in this principle, the dairy and cold storage branch of the Dominion department of agriculture has undertaken what may be termed an extension course calculated to convince both parents and children of the usefulness of milk as a regular part of the diet. For several weeks Miss Helen Campbell, of that branch, has been visiting schools, home and school clubs, and such other organizations as touch the daily life of the children. Miss Campbell is well versed in her subject and has little difficulty in convincing an audience of the dietetic value of milk. Housekeepers are urged to demand the best quality of dairy products, and take the necessary steps to keep milk in good condition after delivery to the home.

Referring to pasteurization, Miss Campbell pointed out that it does not take away from the food value of milk and is a safeguard to public health. An adequate supply of good, clean, properly handled milk and a clearer realization of its dietary value for growing children and adults is, she said, of the utmost importance.

Miss Campbell works as closely as possible with existing organizations—child welfare associations, school officials, men's and women's organizations rural and urban, and the collaboration of the dairy branch is offered in community endeavor to arouse a greater interest in this phase of nutrition. Recently, at the request of the public school inspector, Miss Campbell spent sufficient time in the Border Cities to visit the schools and give short talks to each class. While in the city, Miss Campbell spoke at sessions of the Teachers' Institute and at meetings of the Home and School Clubs and arranged exhibits and demonstrations of a convincing character.

NARAMATA CONNECTION

The putting in of a new cable is under consideration by the Board of Directors. If the work can be financed they will be glad to go ahead.

Final decision is deferred for a month, when the matter will again be considered. In the meantime any ideas or suggestions leading to a solution will be received with pleasure by the Board.

OBITUARY.

MISS EMMA CHAPMAN

The funeral of the late Miss Emma Chapman was held on Saturday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. H. A. Solly. Interment was made in the St. Stephen's church cemetery.

Miss Chapman for the past 35 years has been a companion of Miss Dancer. Up to the time of her death she had been enjoying fair health.

As she failed to arise at the usual time on Friday morning, Miss Dancer went to her room and was shocked to find her, as she thought, in a faint and summoned medical aid. An inquest was held by Coroner F. W. Andrew, M.D., on Friday afternoon, which showed that she had been suffering from organic disease of the heart, which resulted in her death.

Deceased was about 60 years of age and was born in Ireland, but has lived in this country for about ten years. Her relatives are now living in Liverpool, England.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

The richest trait of any soul, in dividends at trifling cost, is when the man that wins control is tender toward the man that lost. I hate the beast that rends again the valiant, though the vanquished form.—The man who joys in giving pain,—who keeps the fires of malice warm. In this old world of give and take, we know the fittest may survive,—we may surpass, but should not break, the heart that faint would stay alive. We've passed the age of tooth and claw, when Cave-man tactics slow the neck,—we now obey the higher law, by which the strong upholds the weak. The Egot's transient badge of power may only last him for a day, and Justice holds the coming hour, when he, like chaff, shall blow away. The man who conquers in the game may honors reap, and love enjoy,—but MEN abhor the act of shame, when hellish instinct would destroy! Well may the powerful hand beware, if hatred lures to heinous crime.—For he who sits in kingly chair may howl for mercy in this time. "That which men sow, they also reap" is true in State, in Heart, in Mind; Let us be mindful what we keep, in words that wound or ties that bind.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1923

Business is bad. Isn't that good. Father is busted. Great news. Willie has the measles. Smile, mother, smile. Try to get him well, of course, but smile. When clouds are dark, when the bank roll's gone, when wofish landlords press for rent and there's not a cent to meet it, when all the world seems sad an' weary smile as you never smiled before, for there's joy right in your lap Be not the hypocrite. Christ was crucified. Let us not pose as Christians if we wince at carryin' the cross an' dodge the burden every time it seems to come our way. If we all take a hand at the burden the load will be very light, an' the road leads to human love an' happiness.

GROWERS SIGN AT MEETING

of the Okanagan are lining up and, said the speaker, "You know that Summerland has never lagged behind. We have tried to be a model people."

Same of the points brought out by Mr. White are:

A new local will be formed which will not be liable for the debts of the old Union. Financing is to be left to the banks. The banks have promised to provide capital for running the locals. The local overhead expenses will be much lower, with the larger bulk handled. This is a group of growers, organized to help one another. The restrictions are made for the good of all.

Vegetable growers and growers of small fruits have each been promised a director and this director will sit with the executive when considering vegetables or soft fruits, as the case may be. The question of soft fruits is a live one here and he wanted to see that this part of the business was better looked after than in the past. The larger organization will employ a man to give his attention to finding markets for soft fruits. There need be no misgivings in this respect.

Valuators are now going over the local buildings.

To an enquirer he stated that the Stewart Company had promised to go out of the shipping business, providing the majority of the growers signed; and if satisfactory arrangements could be made, they would become members of the new co-operative.

The directors are now seeking to find a man for general manager; a man of integrity, experience, ability, one who can handle the people and make sales. They are looking for a man who will help all the way through, assisting and directing the locals as well.

Active steps are now being taken to provide canneries controlled by the growers, but organized separately from the co-operative.

Some were holding back to see if the 80 per cent. tonnage was obtained, but the speaker gave assurance that the contracts were worthless unless 80 per cent. was signed.

Some may even be hoping to benefit by staying out, thinking that the Central will stabilize the markets and they will jump in and take advantage. He hoped there were few here who would attempt to make money out of the losses of the other fellow.

D. W. Sutherland, mayor of Kelowna, complimented Summerland on its representative on the provisional board of directors. He had worked hard, was very critical and had given great service. Mr. Sutherland declared the new co-operative organization one of the biggest things in the province. They will take over assets to the value of about a million dollars and will require another million or million and a quarter to run the business for the next six months. Today we are laying the foundations and we trust they will be well laid. What we want today is controlled distribution.

Some growers may hold back and say they can get as much from independents as through the co-operative. The speaker recalled an incident of his boyhood days. He had been sent out with a pail of milk to feed two hogs. One of the hogs ran between his legs resulting in spilling the milk. He pictured that hog as boasting to the other one that he got as much milk as the one who did not upset the bucket. But, Mr. Sutherland pointed out, that hog would have got much more if he had let me control the distribution.

We do not blame the independents. They are creatures of circumstances. Not so long ago the manufacturers were in the same position as the fruit growers of today. They got together and now control their output and distribution and are making money. In fact, the output of every industry but that of the farmers is controlled. Even the laborers of Western Canada, many of whom are ignorant foreigners, are organized and control their output and prices. "Do not be a slacker," urged Mr. Sutherland, "sign the contract."

R. J. Hogg, another of the provisional directors, stated that the committee has done its part. It is now up to the growers. The provisional directors propose that soft fruit shall be under an expert salesman, who will give special attention to this line. It rests with the growers to see that the permanent directors carry out this policy.

Mr. Hogg favored local autonomy, with the local manager engaged and paid by the local, but central must give approval and have his hand on him and his work.

The contract has no clubs. The grower is at both ends and all the way through. For himself, Mr. Hogg said, no contract was necessary, but he wanted to be sure that the other fellow was going to live up to the rules. The contract was the insurance policy for the safety of the organization, a life-belt to the fruit grower. A man in the water does not stop to examine the life-buoy. He urged growers to sign the contract which had been thoughtfully prepared and later make any improvements desired. It is the only thing that will save us from going under. He questioned the right of the individual to injure his neighbor by remaining outside.

To a questioner, Mr. Hogg said the obligations to appoint and to dismiss the manager should be with the local, but that the Central would give the local no peace until an incompetent manager was dismissed.

James Goldie, of Okanagan Centre, dealt with the subject in an interesting manner, being one who had been lately converted to co-operation. He had been largely instrumental in promoting the board of control idea, but the shippers would have nothing to do with it. For five years he had been on his own and had been selling No. 3's when others could not sell their No. 1's, but that was no credit to himself. It was a case of dog eat dog, and he had not been eaten. "We are now at a point where, if we do not control our output as one man, our land will be worth nothing. It is only my enthusiasm which induces me to go on the platform. We are going 90 per cent. strong and I am sorry for the fellow who stays out."

Mr. Goldie said all he owned was at stake. He was here because he liked the Valley, but we cannot live here unless we get together. He wanted all to sign the contract, morally as well as physically. Nothing counts if we tie ourselves together 100 per cent. strong. If we can not fix anything that may be wrong in the contract, we had better move out. The more that sign the easier the local's problem.

Statement Issued by Organization Committee

The following statement was issued by the B. C. Growers' Organization Committee on Tuesday afternoon:

To the Fruit and Vegetable Growers of Interior British Columbia:

The hour for definite action on your part has come.

Since the first convention, to consider the situation, you have had two months in which to think and make suggestions.

Your representatives have considered all the recommendations made to them and have sought the advice of competent men. The plans of organization and the form of the marketing agreement are the results of much thought and full discussion. There may be something that you think you would like changed. If you had been on the committee and there been confronted with all the difficulties to be overcome, and the reasons for and against each decision, the chances are 100 to 1 that your final opinion would have been the same as theirs has been.

If you hold off from signing the marketing agreement because there is something in it you do not approve of—you may be doing so jeopardize the success of the whole movement.

It has been by the subordinating of individual views to the decision of the majority of representatives that the results described by Mr. Sapiro have been attained.

What we have first to do is to get the necessary 80 per cent. of the tonnage. Much will then remain to be done and this will be the work of the directors whom you are to elect when you are organized.

The first, and essential thing to do is to sign, and sign at once.

J. J. CAMPBELL, For the Committee.

SCHOOL FEES ARE OPPOSED

Mr. Harris also emphasized the unfavorable position the high school fee gave Summerland in the eyes of the prospective settler.

T. H. Riley occupied the chair. Other arguments advanced in support of the stand taken against the high school fee:

That the question of school fees is a matter between the parents and the school board and that the latter has no authority to demand payment from the pupils.

That no credit has been given by the school board in the estimates for the present year, for the approximate grant to be received under the Liquor Act (as amended in 1922).

That the advantage of a high school education cannot be denied to a pupil whose parents or guardians find it beyond their means to pay such fees.

The school board, according to school law, represents the inhabitants of the district and not the ratepayers only. The municipal council is supposed to look after the interests of the latter.

Reeve Campbell, who was present, stated that he was not there to represent the school board, but gave the reasons for the school board having decided to charge a fee, though less than charged last year. We have only a land tax and the board was endeavoring to be fair to all.

Wm. Ritchie suggested that the protest against the fee, as contained in the above resolution, be dropped for the time and that a plebiscite be taken at the next annual election.

A good many of those present took part in the discussion. An argument generally supported was that cost of education should be met by taxation and thus spread among all, instead of being made a burden on a few.

Mr. Harris read a telegram which he stated had just been received from Victoria with respect to government grants to municipalities from liquor profits, in which it was stated that two-sevenths of these grants were for school purposes.

By motion, a copy of the above resolution was ordered sent to the school board.
