PEACH VALLEY ROAD WILL BE PUT IN SHAPE

Council Decides to Deepen Ditch and Put in Culvert at Bad Spot.

Acting Reeve J. A. Kirk occupied the seat at the head of the Council table at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the municipal Council last Saturday afternoon. The agenda was a short one and the meeting concluded about five o'clock.

It was unanimously agreed that the roadside ditch running south from R. Clouston's farm be deepened and a culvert put in the road further down the ditch. At the same time a section of the Peach Valley road further south will be built on its new location. Prior to reaching these decisions there was quite a discussion on the presence of water along the road and in the cellar of the Clouston house as well as on the Pyffe property. Members of the Council did not support Mr. Clouston's theory that the water in his cellar was coming from the lot above. The whole land immediately adjacent was described by Coun. Ritchie as a reservoir for the surrounding area. Coun. Kirk believed that a deep ditch running south from the Clouston barn would improve the situation and that the cost of this should be jointly borne by the properties concerned. In a letter Mr. Clouston expressed the opinion that the municipality should pump dry the pond on the Barr property, which he claimed was created by leaks from the irrigation system. Coun. Kirk believed that some of the water causing the trouble came from that side of the valley and thought that the existing ditch should be cleaned and deepened. Coun. Johnston was of the opinion that the municipality was not responsible for any of the water unless it came from leaks in pipe or irrigation ditch.

Application was made by the Experimental Station for a late irrigation. The request was granted on the understanding that the Farm would pay for the cost of conveying water and this was agreed to by Supt. Hunter over the phone.

A by-law authorizing the borrowing of $12,000 from the Bank of Montreal against current taxes was given preliminary readings.

Repairs to the Gartrell road at Trout Creek point was referred to the next Council with recommendation that the work be done early next spring.

Some work will be done at the intake of Trout Creek to insure a good head of water over the end of the domestic water main which connects the creek with the reservoir.

An estimate prepared by Foreman Tomlin showed that to place and connect on Paradise Flat a tank which the municipality now owns would cost $118.01. The purpose of the tank would be to assure a steady supply of domestic water and to make pumping less frequent. The cost was considered too great and the Council finally agreed to give a three days per week pumping service as last year. Graveling of the roads whose most needed will be continued until the end of the month when it is expected that the team and motor truck will be laid off.

Foreman Tomlin submitted a report stating that he had concreted about 90 feet of the Garnett Valley ditch at the Liddell property.

Wrenches had been attached to all fire hydrants but somebody had been tampering with one of the hydrants opening the valve enough to let the water up to the top. Water in the top part of a hydrant during freezing weather would destroy the hydrant and he asked that measures be taken to stop tampering with hydrants.

No objection will be made by the municipality to the proposal of the Summerland Development Co. to cancel the plan of town lots at Crescent Beach west of the main road. The Council's attitude on this matter was requested and their consent will facilitate the action to have the plan cancelled.

The treasurer was authorized to purchase at 92 and interest a $1000 Summerland electric light bond due in 1940 which had been offered the municipality by a broker.

J. Morrow was appointed special constable for Hallowe'en.

OSCAR ROVERS REPORTED KILLED

News has reached here of the death of Oscar Rovers, the twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rovers, who left a few weeks ago to take up their residence in Vancouver. The family are Belgians, who have resided in Canada for twelve years. Mr. Rovers going overseas with a B. C. unit, and until quite recently conducting a shoe repairing business on Shaughnessy Ave. It is reported that when playing on the water front at Vancouver some two weeks ago the boy fell in and was badly crushed between two boats. The sympathy of the entire district goes out to the grief-stricken parents, the news of the fatality coming as a great shock.

CONFERENCE OF WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

Delegates Carry on Session and Departing Praise Summer- land Hospitality.

The following report on the Women's Institute conference, by the secretary supplements the Review report given last week of the earlier sessions.

On Thursday morning the session opened at nine o'clock with Mrs. McGregor in the chair. After singing "O Canada" a delightfully sympathetic and encouraging letter from Mrs. Maxwell of Rutland was read. Mrs. Fosbery read the report of the committee on Agriculture and the discussion on this subject was coming to a close motor cars arrived at the church to convey the delegates and visiting members to the Experimental Farm where they heard a most instructive address on the work being done and what has been accomplished at the various Experimental Farms and Stations established and maintained by the Dominion Department of Agriculture at various places in B. C. and Canada. Most of the visitors have undoubtedly gained a wider knowledge of the usefulness of these places.

Mr. Mann introduced his subject by saying that the great variations of soil and climate in Canada makes experimental work a necessity, a large part of it being on different varieties. Their work for the public includes analysis of soil and irrigation water; experiments with fungicides and insecticides; analysis of dry matter in different soils of roughage (Continued on Page 2)

PLAN TO FORM A GOLF CLUB

Citizens Called to Discuss a Proposal to Organize a Club.

A number of citizens have for a long time felt that Summerland should have a golf club. There are several grand sites inside a five or six mile radius, which could be turned into very good, sporting courses with a minimum of expense, and some work.

With the view to forming a golf club here, it has been decided to hold a meeting of all interested, including those ladies who would like to see links in the Summerland district, at the Bank of Commerce on Friday evening, November 2nd, at 8 o'clock.

It is realized by those who have called the meeting that no great initial expense should be incurred and it will be from that viewpoint that the question will be considered.

All golfers and those who would be interested in the forming of a golf club in Summerland are urged to attend and to come on time.

Letters from England state that Mary Ellen Smith has been much feted in London during her recent visit to the Old Country.

Montreal may soon have a many hundred room hotel, costing six million dollars.

The offer of the Council to pay the Adams estate twenty-five dollars for damages resulting from stoma leakage was reported to have been accepted.

B.C. Apples Lead The Empire

Associated Growers Win 11 Out of 13

The Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd., has sent the following to the Review:

We are pleased to announce the gratifying results from the exhibits sent to the Imperial Fruit Show, Belle Vue Gardens, Manchester, England. The competition we understand has been very keen from every fruit-growing province in the Dominion as well as from other colonies and out of 13 entries in the overseas section, we received 11 gold medals, covering the following varieties: Wealthies, McIntosh Reds, Jonathans, Cox Orange, Spitzenberg, Yellow Newtowns, Wagners, Kings, Spys, Greenings, and "any other variety" in which we exhibited. Delicious. There were only three other classes in this section and in these we did not exhibit.

We also received the Gold Cup presented by the Daily Mail for the best exhibit and ten pounds from Pouparts Limited for the best British Columbia exhibit also a silver cup from Messrs. H. & H. Goodwins, Limited, for the best exhibit from any co-operative association in the overseas section.

In the British Empire section our McIntosh apples took the gold medal and twenty pounds in cash as a dessert apple, and our Wagners took fourth prize with a very highly recommended certificate and three pounds in cash as a cooking apple.

It is interesting to note that in the overseas section in which exhibit were shown apples from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and all other provinces of Canada, the Associated Growers took first prize in 11 out of 13 classes shown. This should give this province the top place of the colonies in the apple-growing industry.

In the other main section which is known as the British Empire section, the Associated took first prize for the exhibit consisting of 10 boxes of McIntosh Reds as a dessert apple.

British Columbia has taken many prizes in previous years, but the winnings of the Associated Growers this year are the best taken at any exhibition of Okanagan fruit.

Our inspectors, C. W. Little and A. W. Hamilton, are deserving of much credit for the success of these exhibits by their untiring efforts in the assembling of the fruit, also D. MacFarlane of the Kelowna local, who supervised the packing and the several locals who manifested an interest at much inconvenience to themselves owing to the busy season.

Ottawa.—The awards to Canadian entries at the Imperial fruit show, which opened Friday at Manchester, England, were received by cable by

HIGH SCHOOL HEARS DENTIST

Pros and Cons of "Dentistry as a Career" Discussed by Dr. Graham.

It is a piece of commonplace advice to state that it is a wise thing to suspend judgment until you actually know. Quite a number of people are apt to pull a wry face when asked to foot their dentist's bill. Such folk could have profitably listened to Dr. J. R. Graham, our local dentist, in his address to the High School students last Friday afternoon, when he expatiated upon "Dentistry as a Career."

The doctor explained how costly the course of five years from Senior Matriculation is. Aspirants are required to spend a goodly sum annually on apparatus and materials, and withal to qualify in nearly all the subjects required of medical students. Over and above these considerations, Dr. Graham asserted that Canada has more dentists per head of the population than almost any other civilized country and these are in competition with the advertising firms who form a close corporation within an already over-crowded profession.

There being no dental school in this province and only a part time one in Alberta, dental students must needs go out to accomplish a full course, and this of course is a matter of great expense.

While therefore by no means enthusiastic in urging boys to pursue the avocation, Dr. Graham pointed out that there is a good opening for dental infirmos and that girls may qualify in two years to be of indispensable assistance to the professional man. Here indeed is an opening for girls worthy of careful investigation. If any young lady feels the urge, Dr. Graham would no doubt be happy to elaborate details leading to the fruition of her ambition.

In an age of specialization, the doctor showed how the dentistry was lending itself increasingly to this process: there being dentists who prin-

CHILD BADLY BURNED DIES IN HOSPITAL

Playing Near Burning Stump Little Marion Joy is En- veloped in Flames.

Whilst playing near a burning stump in the orchard of her father, Thomas H. Joy, little two year old Marion became enveloped in flames, the shock and complications from which resulted in her death, despite every human effort.

It appears that little Marion followed her brother Edward, a boy of 12, to the chicken house, and on his return to the family residence the child was at once missed. Another small daughter, Harriet, aged 6, ran to the clearing and there saw the missing child standing in front of a burning tree stump, all of the front part of its clothing being in flames. Harriet heroically grasped the child to her body in an endeavor to quench the fire, and before reaching the house with her human burden had that much accomplished, but the child had collapsed temporarily owing to smoke entering the lungs.

The panic stricken mother did all that was possible, stripping the child and covering it with a blanket. Dr. Windover was immediately apprized by telephone, and he ordered the child to be brought at once to the Summerland Hospital. The husband was also immediately notified, and together with Mr. H. R. McLarty, plant pathologist at the Dominion Experimental Farm, the trip to town of about three miles was made by auto in fast time. The accident occurred Saturday morning, and the same evening pneumonia set in. The little one lingered until Monday morning, when it died.

With the exception of a burn upon the forehead, the child's face was scarcely touched by the fire, but her hands and arms and lower extremities were very badly burned.

The scene of the occurrence is on one of the small farms adjoining the Experimental Station, Mr. Joy being assistant in laboratory work to Mr. McLarty.

The sympathy of the entire neighborhood is given to the bereft father and mother, Mrs. Joy who is a devoted mother, being almost prostrated with grief.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon from the Lakeside Baptist church, and was attended by a large number of citizens.

STUDENTS PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

Our High School students hope to launch "something extra good" in the way of entertainment this Xmas. We are advised that Mr. J. O. Steeves of the staff has considerable histrionic ability to re-inforce his musical talent and will co-operate with the principal and Miss Jones in staging something very good. We learn that Mr. Lundie has composed the words and music of a school anthem and that Mr. Steeves will train a choir to sing it.

Kelowna Growers' Exchange during the week from Oct. 8 to 14 shipped 125 cars of fruit and vegetables, 50 of these being export apples.

STUART GOES TO ENGLAND ON BUSINESS

Acting Manager of Associated Growers to Investigate Market Possibilities.

Basil Stuart, acting manager of the Associated Growers of B. C. Ltd., left Vernon on Monday for England, where he will make a thorough investigation of apple marketing prospects. Mr. Stuart's visit to the Old Country is a result of the representations made by Mr. Chas. A. Harrison on the subject of the better marketing of B. C. apples. On his way east Mr. Stuart will also visit Chicago and Toronto with a view to extending the B. C. apple markets. It is probable that Mr. Stuart while overseas will visit the Scandinavian countries and other continental markets. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart were visitors last week end to their home here.

BUSINESS CHANGE

W. S. Nield, who has been for some months manager of Casorso Bros' meat store here, has taken over the business, according to formal announcement published in another column. One of the members of Casorso Bros., Ltd., spent a day or two here this week when the deal was completed.

Improvement work on the Pentiction creek reservoir has been completed.

British Columbia has 15.19 telephones per 100 of the population, the largest proportion in Canada.

MACK PRICES ARE TOO LOW

Prairie Market Dull and Independents Only Ones Doing Business.

J. A. Grant, B. C. Fruit Markets Commissioner of Calgary, makes the following interesting comment in his latest bulletin:

"The produce market is very dull. The independent brokers are the only ones doing business to any extent. A car of mixed Mack and Jonathan crates was bought by a Calgary wholesaler at a very low price, the reason given being 'off on color.' The Macks sold wholesale at $1.80 and $1.85, while the Jonathans sold at $1.05 and $1.10. Such sales are in part responsible for the lifeless market. Added to this, wholesalers report that bulk apples are being shipped to all prairie points by some independents, greatly lessening the trade in crates.

One Kelowna Independent shipped a car of Extra Fancy Macks to Calgary on consignment with order to "push the sale." Extra Fancy Jonathans will not move at $1.75 when Macks can be bought at $1.00. Dealers claim there is 50 cents difference in the value of Macks as compared with Jonathans and that they should be advanced.

The country merchants are buying very little. This does not mean a poor apple season, but it does mean that advance selling is impossible.

American Jonathans are being quoted 65 cents C grade and 80 cents Fancy. At these prices the growers get nothing.

ASSOCIATED'S 'COT' PRICES TO GROWERS

Finals on Cherries Sent Back to Headquarters for Revision.

Apricots shipped to the cannery by the Summerland Co-operative will net members $67.25 per ton. No. 1 cots will net growers 77 1/2 c a package or about $84 a ton of fruit. For No 2 cots the growers will net 57 1/2 c after deducting the cost of the package and all packing and other charges.

Returns from the Associated, which have just been received, give the local $1.27 1/2 f.o.b. for No. 1 cots, and $1.04 for No. 2s. Deductions on No. 1s total 50 cents made up as follows: Associated Growers 4 cents; local for package, packing and handling 40 cents; local interest, insurance, depreciation 1 1/2 cents; local reserve for capital 1 cent; central reserve, 1 cent; paid to holding company on purchase of buildings 2 1/2 cents. The same deductions will be made on No. 2s, except that the local charge, which was 40 cents on No. 1s is 36 1/2 cents on No. 2s, making a total deduction of 46 1/2 cents on No. 2 cots. Those members who delivered their fruit to the upper warehouse will be charged an additional 1 cent per package.

For cots sent to the cannery $88 per ton was received, the Associated's charges being $8, the local charges $10. From this price of $70 a ton $1.10 is withheld for capital investment and $1.65 for interest, insurance, depreciation, leaving a net return to the grower of $67.25 per ton.

Finals on cherries were sent down from Vernon a few days ago, but some of these were sent back for revision. The price to the growers is going to be very small. The local is now preparing the statements on cots cots and cherries ready to issue to the growers and it is hoped by the directors that arrangements can be made to send out cheques with the statements for apricots.

A Chinese laundry in Pentiction was destroyed by fire on Wednesday of last week. The building was an old ramshackle concern.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

Under the direction of Mr. Steeves all the students of the High School formed an association which they called the Students' Council. The association was divided into various committees, first the general committee of the council, which consisted of four members of the matric, Laura McLachlan, Helen White, Orville Dunham and Colin Chisholm. Helen White was elected chairman having received the largest number of votes. The two representatives from the second year class, Joan Moffat and Leslie Gould, and two from the first year, Zee Fadoo and Tommy Harris, were elected. This completed the general committee. Members of the literary committee consisted of one representative from each year; matric, Harry Hobbs; second year, Eva Johnston; and first year, Harold White. Margaret Munn, Jessie Rutherford, Willet Thorner and Alvin Wilson formed the general sports committee. Members of the girls' sports committee were Dorothy Garnett, Francis Nicholson and Margaret Munn; and the member of the boys' sports committee is Clifford Laycock, convener for the time being. This completes the formation of the Students' Council, but other committees will be appointed as the occasion arises.

The council has been formed to put some system into the daily routine of the High School, so that the pupils will take a lively interest in the development of High School activities. It is hoped that the literary committee may compete with other towns of the Okanagan in debating. The aim of the students is to better the grounds of the High School and transform it into a Garden of Eden if possible next year. This winter the sports committee will show what they intend to do, basket ball, the favorite winter sport will be in full swing and if all the pupils be loyal and help their council in every way they can, there will be a decided improvement in the High School.

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles."

The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

It is probable that the fruit growers of this province have heard and read more than enough criticisms and fault finding concerning market conditions in general and the real or imaginary sins of the Associated Growers in particular. Constructive criticism is admittedly a wholesome tonic when it is needed, but even the best of tonics can be administered to excess, and a good deal of the complaining which has been so lavishly poured out seems to be more like an irritant than a tonic. And not a little of it is being prematurely administered, seeing that the season is not nearly over and the final results not known. There are several indications that matters are shaping much better than many people anticipated, and that the querulous critics may actually find themselves discredited at the finish. Meantime it seems to me that the chronic complainers overlook one or two points which are of considerable importance. In the first place they appear to forget that the men who are handling the affairs of the growers were chosen by the growers themselves to do just that work, and therefore presumably possess their proper share of reasonable intelligence as well as a practical knowledge of the fruit industry. Secondly, they ignore the vital truth that cooperation of some sort is absolutely necessary and that the returns claimed by independent shippers are directly due to the stabilizing of the market by the organization representing the eighty per cent. Furthermore, they fail to exercise a sense of proportion when cavilling at the alleged excess of administrative cost. That economy is necessary does not admit of dispute, but in estimating the expense account of the central organization (which is the chief target of the critics) it is necessary to keep in mind the total amount of business handled, and apportion the percentage of cost accordingly. It is quite safe to say that, if the average critic would sit down and figure out the exact proportion of the cost of the central offices when spread over the total receipts he would be rather surprised. And it must be remembered that the central body is an essential feature in this or any similar organization and cannot be dispensed with. In the local cooperatives which go to make up the entire association, conditions are seen daily by the growers, and if any extravagance or inefficiency exists, it can at once be remedied.

In addition to what may perhaps be classed as more or less definite criticism, we are too often treated with that sort of aimless complaining which makes us long for the good offices of a society for the prevention of tommy rot. Thus one complainant, ostensibly writing on the fruit question, reaches out and spans all and sundry who happen to be employed by governments, municipalities or any corporation whatsoever. These persons apparently all "draw big salaries and spend their time in idleness." If they are employed on the road they "put in time and do very little work," and in a general despairing way, this correspondent sees "extravagance everywhere and business ability nowhere." Truly a sorry spectacle, but hardly one to lay to the account of the Associated Growers. The same writer, returning ultimately to his original subject, proclaims that "This cooperative will not last as it is not cooperation but sheer imposition on the deluded growers." Consequently, I suppose, all we need expect is that within ten years time, the Red Indian will pasture his flocks and herds on the deserted orchards of the Okanagan, which is a prophecy I actually heard made not so very long ago!

It is about time to stop talking blue ruin—we can use our time to much better advantage.

Mr. Justice Gregory the other day gave an opinion which may very well be taken to heart by those to whom it was addressed. "Parliament," said his worship, "has permitted a great deal of mockery and silly sentiment to be introduced into criminal trials, whereby criminals get the benefit instead of society at large. I will make a ruling so that the officers of the Crown can take steps to have a change." The view so clearly expressed by this outspoken judge is one which will be endorsed by a great majority of those people who constitute society at large. Although this country is happily free from the worst blemishes of laxity which we see to the south of us, and which have recently alarmed the legal profession there, yet we are guilty of allowing much latitude in wrong places. And the tendency seems to be downwards. Not very long ago the Senate at Ottawa passed an ordinance permitting of additional appeal in criminal cases, over and above the ample facilities which already existed. Taken in conjunction with the system of parole, which has more than once resulted in murder by the criminal so foolishly set at large, it looks as though the prevailing desire is to protect the criminal and let the public take care of itself. Let us hope that when Ottawa settles down to amending the Bank Act, it will at the same time tighten up some of the slackness in the criminal code.

The more we read of the Home Bank outrage, the worse the tale seems to be. One of the most curious condemnations ever offered is the plea of MORALITY, a Toronto solicitor that his client, the President of the concern in question, really saved a further loss of a quarter of a million dollars by selling certain shares which he held in trust. It had been generally supposed that those shares were the President's personal property, but it appears from the solicitor's statement that they belonged to the bank. Thus we have to conclude that a short time before the inevitable smash came, the head of a bankrupt corporation calmly sold thousands of shares of its worthless stock to an unsuspecting buyer, and now publishes the transaction as a rather meritorious act! It is said those shares were sold to a London man, and we can imagine that the victim will applaud the smart business ethics of this particular Canadian banker. And when he is called upon to pay a second quarter million on the double liability, his admiration will know no limit!

One of the leading axioms of a lawyer's office is the necessity for the utmost precision in language. This need is also presumably understood by the SHERIFF AND THE TIGER, but one such officer, officiating in the turbulent State of Oklahoma, evidently neglected to secure himself. Being instructed to seize certain beasts of prey, to wit, one leopard and one lion, together with one harmless but ponderous elephant, this minion of the law discovered too late that his powers did not enable him to attach the cages or chains which secured his prospective menagerie. No obstacle whatever was put in his way by their keeper—on the contrary, he was all affability. "There they are—go in and get 'em," was his friendly adjuration, and we must admit that nothing could be fairer. The report does not tell how the trouble was overcome, if it was overcome at all, and we are left to pure conjecture in the matter. It is rather interesting to reflect on the reversed analogy between this case and the episode between Portia and one Shylock, described some centuries ago. The plaintiff in that action dared not claim his bond for fear of taking too much—the sheriff of Oklahoma cannot seize the goods because his writ does not give him enough. Herein we see the delightful uncertainty of the law!

Provincial Party of British Columbia.

Open Letter to Hon. John Oliver

Vancouver, Oct. 26, 1923.

The HON. JOHN OLIVER, Premier of British Columbia, Victoria, B. C.

Dear Sir: I enclose herewith for your information copy of a pamphlet SEARCHLIGHT No. 5, issued today by the Provincial Party of British Columbia. If its contents be true, you, your colleagues, and Mr. Bowser, should, in common decency, retire from public life. If they are untrue, you should be given the earliest opportunity to refute them. For that reason I send you this copy.

This is the fifth pamphlet which I have sent you within the last few months. Each contains most damaging charges. In one you are accused of conniving with Mr. Bowser to prevent a proper investigation into the first P.G.E. scandal; in another with Hon. John Hart as Minister of Finance after he had used his position as a Minister of the Crown, with the technical protection of an incorporated company behind him, for his private and personal gain, in connection with the P.G.E. Ry., of which both he and you are directors. On July 20, 1923, and August 24, 1923, I addressed open letters to you requesting a reply to these charges and published them in the press.

To these you failed to make any answer. On April 15 of this year, the Salmon Arm Observer quoted from your public address in that city as follows: "The Speaker defied Gen. McRae to debate any charges of misdemeanor by the present government, anywhere, at any time."

Being anxious for that opportunity, I notified you by open letter on April 30 that I would meet you in the city where you had issued the challenge, on a date which you were to select. In order that the fullest opportunity might be given you to make your defence, the Board of Trade of Salmon Arm undertook to secure a hall to seat 2,500 people, and I offered to put on a barbecue and dance in connection with the event for the further entertainment of those who attended.

You failed to accept that challenge also. I notice, however, by northern papers, that when confronted with this failure, at your meetings, you stated you would meet me at a time to suit your own convenience, although I had studiously consulted your convenience by leaving the selection of the date to yourself. I recall that you made a similar reply when asked why you failed to meet the still unrefuted charges of Mr. R. T. Elliot, on April 17, 1920, which were read in your presence, on the floor of the legislature.

Instead, you and your Attorney-General have contented yourselves with slighting references to, and insinuations against myself. Speaking in Ash Hall, Vancouver, Hon. Mr. Manson was reported in the public press as saying with regard to me:

"When we consider the various enterprises with which he has been connected in the past, I am inclined to believe he is hardly worth considering. The less said, the better, I think. However, we shall deal with him when the time comes."

I promptly addressed a letter to the Attorney-General, gave him an outline of all essential facts that could be recalled about my career, arranged a public meeting at New Westminster, and invited him to meet me there, and unburden himself of all the sinister facts regarding myself in his possession. Following your example he failed to appear at that meeting, which I had called to allow him a chance to establish or withdraw his insinuations.

The above incidents have forced me to the conclusion that you, and your Attorney-General are common cowards, and that your methods towards those who criticize your public acts are of the contemptible character which a coward usually adopts, namely, gossip and bluster. From the charges made against you, and your government, you have sought safety in silence. Your ally, Mr. Bowser, has done the same. In the public interest therefore I propose another course to force both of you to recognize your responsibilities.

The present charges against you and your government in SEARCHLIGHT No. 5, which I send by registered mail, are supported by the affidavits of your own officials. They reveal either incredible neglect of duty, or connivance with others to defraud and plunder the people of the province. You are asked to appoint a Royal Commission to investigate these charges. If they are untrue you have a great opportunity through such a tribunal, to discredit the Provincial Party and to vindicate yourself.

In order that this may be done at a minimum of expense to the taxpayers, the Provincial Party offers to bear the cost of the necessary audit. A previous offer by us to pay for an audit of the Department of Industries in order to prove waste and extravagance, was not accepted by your Attorney-General.

I make this demand for a Royal Commission on behalf of 20,000 enrolled members of the Provincial Party. But I make it as well on behalf of the whole body of long suffering taxpayers, who, if those charges be true, are being exploited by professional politicians like yourself and your confederates. On behalf of these taxpayers I warn you, that any attempt by you to take power, at the coming session of the legislature, to borrow more money on P.G.E. account, or to seek by the dissolution of the legislature, another term of office, before some adequate and impartial investigation is held, will be such an outrage against public morals that the electorate will show its resentment at the first opportunity.

(Signed) A. D. McRAE

An Appeal to Good Citizens.

Is it not high time that all loyal citizens, regardless of party, insisted on our Provincial Government either defending itself against the charges which have been hurled at it during the present year or submitting its case to the electors for approval? It is unthinkable that a government, which cannot clear itself of these charges, can continue to administer the affairs of the province for another two years. The fight, which the Provincial Party is making for the return of honest and decent government to British Columbia, is your fight. Are you in it? The effort to clean up the political life of our province needs the assistance of every patriotic elector—man and woman alike. Don't you feel that you should take your part in this citizens' movement? Get rid of the professional politicians and by a business government restore British Columbia to prosperity? Only the united effort of the right thinking people will bring this about.

We do not ask much—Join the Provincial Party and help select one of your best men as a delegate to the BIG CONVENTION of the party to be held in Vancouver on DECEMBER 4th. It will be the first real citizens' political convention ever held in British Columbia. Organizations are being formed in every riding in the province. Get in line with thousands of your fellow citizens and help put this good government movement "over the top." If you are still undecided as to the needs for this new political movement in our Provincial affairs, GET "SEARCHLIGHT NO. 5" AND READ IT. A post card to the below address will bring it to you as well as a membership card, which you can sign and return if you think you are on the right road.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot, Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. ***

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes, minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Apple picking and hauling is on the wane this week, many of the growers having finished up for the season. There is still quite a lot to pack and ship.

Mr. Allan Wilson returned home last week after several weeks at his old home in Alberta. He reports good crops in that vicinity and fairly good times.

After the midweek prayer meeting in the Baptist church last week, friends remained to give Mr. and Mrs. Keyes a little farewell social. A pleasant time was spent together, the ladies serving dainty refreshments before the gathering broke up by singing a stanza of "Blest be the Tie that Binds."

The Rev. C. D. Donald, B.A., B.D., of Ujjain, India, gave an illustrated address on missions in the Union church on Friday evening last. This was well attended and greatly enjoyed. The splendid pictures shown gave a good idea of the work being done, especially when explained by the speaker, who, through his experience on the field, is conversant with all phases of the work.

A number of residents of Westbank attended the missionary address in the Union church on Friday.

Mr. H. Williams, Mr. Hardisty, Jr., and Mr. A. Wilson spent Friday in Kelowna.

Rev. Geo. A. Wilson, D.D., of Vancouver, superintendent of missions for the Presbyterian church in B. C., preached at the morning service in the Union church, dealing principally with home missions. In the afternoon he accompanied Mr. Sadler to Westbank and spoke there at the regular service. Mr. Sadler took him down to Summerland by auto as he was to speak there in the evening.

Owing to measles having broken out in a couple of families the public and primary rooms in the Central school have been closed for a time with the hope that it can be checked here.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of Barkerville, met with an auto accident last week near Peachland while motoring from their former home to take up residence in the States. They met another car on one of the points between Peachland and Summerland and in order to save a worse crash Mr. Brown swerved his car in such a position that he completely disabled a wheel and was obliged to lay up here for several days. While here he and Mrs. Brown were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. MacKenzie.

Rev. Isaac Page motored up from Penticton as usual on Sunday afternoon last to conduct the regular service in the Baptist church.

R. J. McDougall and family were visitors in town on Sunday last, having motored up to spend the day at the Durland home.

Mr. and Mrs. McAlpino motored up from Summerland on Sunday afternoon last to visit Mr. and Mrs. Mordin and family.

Mr. W. White was a visitor to Kelowna on Monday.

NARAMATA SCOUTS

Scout meeting opened 7.30 on Friday, 26th. There was a fairly good attendance. We did some drill and then had dispatch running. The course was easy to guard, so the runner had a very small chance. He got about half way through and then was captured.

NARAMATA GUIDES

Friday, 26th, all the Guides met in the evening. A country dance, instructed by Miss McKay, and signalling, were practised. Those passing their signalling test were: Violette Laurence, Alice Walters, Marie Hancock and Vera Partridge.

"HOW DOTHTH THE BUSY BEE!"

Mr. Gowans Talks to the High School Students on Honey.

Mr. John Gowans lectured to the High School students this afternoon upon "Apiculture as a Career." The students visited Mr. Gowans' apiary in the lower town, accompanied by Miss McKechnie, B.S.A., agricultural teacher, and the principal, where Mr. Gowans gave a most practical and helpful talk. It may be added that the lecture fell in well with the scheduled course of study, apiculture forming a part of the matriculation requirements for a pass in agriculture. Mr. Gowans could not manage Friday and the weekly lecture was thus held today with the approval of the school trustees.—Cont.

RECORDING THERMOMETERS ARE PROBABLE

Wenatchee, Wash.—In order to establish beyond a shadow of doubt the facts as to the temperature to which apples are subjected during transportation from this city to eastern destinations, local shippers are considering installing recording thermometers in every car shipped out of here. Tests are being made of a thermometer designed for this purpose and if the results are satisfactory, it is probable that they may be adopted as part of the equipment of all local shipping organizations. Each winter there are hundreds of damage claims presented to carriers by local shippers and marketing agencies, growing out of losses and damages alleged to have been sustained by apples in transit. During the last shipping season these claims ran up into the millions, and they are now being settled by mutual agreement between carriers and owners of the fruit.

By the use of the recording thermometer, an accurate record of the temperature for every hour of the entire journey can be made available and in this manner it can be determined when the harm was wrought and which road failed to keep the car properly iced or heated, as the case may be. The instrument can be attached to the walls of the car, sealed, and taken out by the receiver at the end of the trip.

OILED WRAPS FOR PEARS

Selah, Wash.—Using oiled wraps for pears is an innovation used by one of the large local shippers, and all the pears boxed by the concern have been packed in oiled wraps. This means of insuring the keeping of the pears has been taken in addition to the precooling. Fifty-five cars of pears handled and packed in this way have been shipped to date and reports from those which have reached the market so far are very satisfactory, as the pears have reached the eastern market in a hard green condition. The management is of the opinion that the use of oiled wraps will prove a good investment.

An East Kelowna correspondent of the Kelowna Courier under date of October 10, states that a very optimistic feeling prevails among fruit growers there, but refers to the returns to cherry growers which had just been received as disastrous.

Vancouver school trustees are asking for a half million dollars for new school buildings.

Cancellation of trapping licences held by aliens in B. C. and restriction of trapping to certain districts are being considered by the game conservation board.

SHILOH FOR COUGHS

His Hearing Restored
The invisible ear drum invented by A. O. Leonard, which is a miniature megaphone, fitting inside the ear entirely out of sight, is restoring the hearing of hundreds of people in New York city. Mr. Leonard invented this drum to relieve himself of deafness and head noises, and it does this so successfully that no one could tell he is a deaf man. It is effective when deafness is caused by catarrh or by perforated or wholly destroyed natural drums. A request for information to A. O. Leonard, Suite 436, 70 Fifth Ave., New York city, will be given a prompt reply.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Weir, of Prince Rupert, are guests of Mr. Weir's sister, Mrs. Chas. Steuart. Mr. and Mrs. Weir are on their honeymoon trip and after a visit here will go on to Vancouver and other Coast points.

Mrs. A. J. Beer and children will leave here within the next few days to join Mr. Beer in Southern California. Mr. Beer, following a recent business visit to Vancouver, went south and has decided to remain there for a few months.

The Okanagan District Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold its twelfth annual convention in Summerland on November 14th and 15th. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested. 14,15

Mrs. Norrington, wife of Mr. O. F. D. Norrington, provincial water engineer, of Kelowna, died in that city on Tuesday, October 23rd. Our sympathy and that of a wide circle of Summerland friends is extended to Mr. Norrington.

A general meeting of the members of the Summerland Poultry Produce Association will be held on Wednesday, November 7th at 8 o'clock at St. Andrew's hall and a public meeting at 9 o'clock when H. E. Waby, provincial poultry instructor, will speak. 14

Summerland Experimental Farm this week shipped two pens of ten birds each of White Wyandottes to enter the Agassiz egg-laying contest. One pen from the Farm was in the contest which ended last night and the results of which will no doubt be known within a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Elsey left in their motor car on Wednesday to go to Vancouver, where they will remain for a few months. Their son, C. H. Elsey, went with them to drive the car and will return by rail. Mrs. G. H. Inglis also accompanied them and will remain in Vancouver for a few days.

Dr. G. A. Wilson, superintendent of Presbyterian missions of British Columbia paid a visit to the Okanagan Valley last week. Last Sunday he took services at Peachland, Westbank and in the evening at St. Andrew's church here. There was a very good congregation present to hear his address on "The present conditions of the church and its activities in B. C." Financial conditions in South Okanagan are causing some difficulty but the people seem in most places quite hopeful.

Members of the Methodist church held a Hallowe'en social and supper last night.

Arthur Gartrell and Billy Taylor left on Saturday for Vancouver to seek employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Benmore and children were week end visitors to Kelowna, returning Sunday night.

Mr. G. A. Lundie and family are moving this week to Jones' Flat to the house of the late Prof. Broad.

Mrs. Harvey Walton left on Tuesday morning for Colgate, Sask., where she has accepted a position as school teacher.

Miss Edythe James, with her brother Victor, returned on Wednesday from Nelson, where they have been visiting at the home of relatives for some time.

Through the blowing out of a fuse at the municipal transformer station the lakefront section was without power and light for a time late Friday afternoon.

Charlie and Jimmie Clarke, sons of Ira Clarke, Garnett Valley, went out to the Coast on Monday's train where they will work during the winter months.

Mr. E. French, of Vernon, accompanied by a friend, Major Allan Brooks, of California, is the guest for the week end of his sister, Mrs. G. N. Gartrell.

G. K. Devitt returned last week end from a visit to his farm property near Vancouver. Mr. Devitt believes it will be necessary for him to return to resume management of the farm and will probably leave here in February.

On Friday, November 9th, Mr. Theo. Hermon will address our High School students upon "The Art of the Tailor." The public is invited to this interesting series of addresses, and our future Beau Brummells should not miss the above.

C. A. Walter, senior member of Walters, Ltd., returned last week from the prairies and went down to the Coast last Sunday, returning this morning. He called on the fruit trade in both Vancouver and Victoria. Trade, he says, is not very brisk in either city at present.

Miss Sylvia Washington, who was taken to the Hospital on Saturday suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis, is making good progress and expects to return home this week. Her condition on Saturday was such that Dr. R. B. White of Penticton was called in but it was found that the patient was unable to take the anaesthetic necessary for an operation.

Much resentment has been expressed this morning against the action of a number of young men who last night set free a big bull belonging to G. K. Devitt. The boys who let the animal loose may well rejoice that he did no great harm and attacked no one before he was recaptured this forenoon. It is reported that action will be taken against the culprits.

The half-termly examinations are in progress in the High School and the principal expects to send out the reports to parents, together with a summary and general report to the school trustees, next week.

Prin. Lundie reports a rather poor attendance at the High School during the past week except in the matriculation class the fear of infection from scarlet fever having apparently influenced some parents. With the stopping of the school busses owing to the temporary closing of the public school, a certain number of students have found it impracticable to attend.

HOSPITAL STAFF ENTERTAINS SICK

For the entertainment of the few patients in the hospital, the staff staged a pleasing little farce entitled "Cupid Triumphant," showing the marriage of Young McManus to Mrs. Jiggs. The wedding, which was exceptionally brief, was rudely interrupted by an event of sentimental interest, viz., the arrival of an infuriated termagant who represented herself as being McManus' first wife. Peace, however, was restored in short order by the persuading influence of Mrs. Jiggs and her rolling pin. After the "best man" and Mr. Jiggs had disputed the right to give the "bride" away and the minister had refused to allow either of them to give her away, the ceremony was brought to a happy conclusion. After supper the party then proceeded to town to a dance which they thoroughly enjoyed regardless of the fact that they were uninvited and had been informed by a leading citizen that it was for "a few of the best of us" only.—Cont.

J. A. McKelvie, M.P., of Vernon representative for this district in the Federal House, was in town on Friday on his way home from a visit to the Similkameen Valley. During a conversation with the editor of the Review, Mr. McKelvie expressed keen regret that the anti-dumping regulations which went into effect just prior to the last election were not still in force. The new Act put on the statutes by the King government was found to be unworkable, whereas the former could be brought into almost instant effect.

There is no one item, at such small cost, that approaches the Christmas card as a remembrance of a friend by a friend.

There is nothing that so cements the good will of a business institution as a thoughtful greeting to its customers, clients, associates and competitors.

Without forgetting the sentimental feature of Christmas giving, the printed greeting comes mighty close to being GOOD BUSINESS for both individual and firm.

Place your orders with us now for your Christmas Printing, and be sure of early delivery.

The Review

THE EMPRESS

An improvement has been made to the lighting system at the Empress Theatre which places it in the first rank of picture shows in this province. Special wiring has effected an entire elimination of the tremor in the pictures, which proves so hard on the eyes of the audience, and also makes a much clearer scene. Those who have visited the theatre since the alteration was made claim that they have never seen pictures shown anywhere in the Interior in a manner which is equal to that in which the Empress pictures are now exhibited. 14

'O, SUSANNAH' BY PLAYERS OF PENTICTON

Three-Act Farce Very Creditably Staged Pleases Good Audience.

"Oh, Susannah" was staged by Pentiction amateurs at the Empire Hall here on Thursday last, and, perhaps our best words of praise to them may be found in two words: "Call again."

"Oh, Susannah" is a vehicle requiring individual talent and effort that few amateurs would dare to tackle, but in the hands of the Pentiction Players it lost none of its keen edge. There is always a big risk in presenting farces of the English school that much of the subtle humor will go over the heads of a mixed Canadian audience. This was apparent in or two minor instances during the performance, particularly when the humor was put across in the cockney vernacular. We understand that the company is billed to appear at our sister American city of Oroville, and in this we are afraid they are rushing in where angels fear to tread. If we may be permitted to offer some good-natured constructive criticism we would suggest that a few liberties be taken with the author's original script, and wherever words or gags occur which it is felt will not be grasped by an American audience they be eliminated or changed to the English as they understand it over there. Slang words from the "old smoke" will hit dead walls yonder. For example we cite "The Better Ole," "The Luck of the Navy," "Three Live Ghosts," and even the inimitable Harry Tate, all being financial failures in America because the lingo was not understandable. We, therefore, fear for "Susannah's" maiden voyage in Yankeland, but she certainly has our best wishes.

The plot is of the "Charley's Aunt" type in which execrating funny incidents pile up owing to the impersonation of a wealthy maiden aunt by a friend of the hero. A lawyer from Southsea has two "precious jewels" of daughters whom he endeavors to foist upon young John Sheppard, M.D., and confusion becomes worse confounded when it is learned by the audience that the young medico was secretly married to another girl the same morning. Upon arrival of the real aunt she is subjected to much ridicule and many indignities, owing to the doc-

MR. GOWANS TALKS ON BEES

Local Bee Enthusiast Gives Practical Demonstrations While Lecturing.

Mr. John Gowans' lecture to the High School students last Thursday proved as enjoyable as it was instructive, while giving a practical demonstration of bee activities at his apiary near the Methodist church. Mr. Gowans found time to discourse quite eloquently on the natural history of this busy insect. Every phase of bee culture was touched upon and the bees were seen actually at work in the hives. Later Mr. Gowans took the party to his store where some of the boys vigorously plied the extractor, precipitating the honey from the comb, and in conclusion, handed round samples of honey comb for all to taste. Laura McLachlan and Emily Wheeler thanked the lecturer for his highly appreciated efforts and hearty cheers were given for him.

From the utilitarian point of view the chief points scored by the speaker were the large profit to be made from comparatively few hives (his own profits for the season to date being $300, for 18 hives) and the comparative ease with which the pursuit of bee culture can be followed, and Mr. Gowans proved convincingly that a highly profitable industry can be built up in honey in the Okanagan Valley. He hoped to see specimen hives stationed at both schools and would be most happy to act as curator and demonstrator in the pupils' interests.—Cont.

ODDFELLOWS OF VALLEY MEET

More than one hundred Oddfellows attended the first regular meeting of the district association held at Kelowna Tuesday night. The lodges of Summerland, Pentiction, Kelowna, Vernon, Armstrong and Enderby are included in the association which was organized on October 11th. At Tuesday night's meeting the Pentiction Lodge put on an initiatory degree for a Kelowna candidate, who was then taken over by the Vernon Lodge and given his first degree. The work of both lodges is described as being very well done. The association will meet twice a year. Delegates from the Summerland Lodge were K. S. Hogg, H. Tomlin, D. C. Thompson, P. Scourrah and R. S. Jackson.

WILL ENFORCE CO-OPERATIVE CONTRACTS

Pentiction Local Obtains Injunction Against Local Buyer.

Upon the application of the Pentiction Co-operative Growers, Ltd., His Honor Judge Brown, sitting on Friday, in Pentiction, as judge of the local supreme court, granted an interim injunction restraining Angus & LeMoine, the Pentiction Produce Co., or its agents, from dealing further with fruit in the G. G. Jellard orchard, such fruit having been contracted to the Co-operative. This interim injunction holds good for seven days, and the application will be renewed before the expiry of that period in the supreme court at Vancouver. The application was made on behalf of the Co-operative Growers by Gordon Lindsay, of Tunbridge & Colquhoun.

It is the intention of the Pentiction Co-operative to enforce the contracts absolutely and action will be taken in every breach which can be properly traced through. The contracts provide for a penalty of 25c per box for every box of fruit sold other than through the organization. A. L. MacDougall, managing director of the Co-operative, says it is up to the merchants and residents of the town to do all in their power to prevent the bootlegging of fruit. Upon their loyal support in this matter depends the salvation of not only the bench, but also the town. In view of the loyalty of the growers when outside interests came into the town and offered a cash price for apples, it seems hard when local business men start in to do this kind of thing.

Before taking action, they went to see Mr. LeMoine, who admitted he had arranged with Mr. Jellard to take the fruit to clean up his account and to allow the owner of the orchard anything to the good.

When told that Mr. Jellard was one of the Co-operative's contracted growers, Mr. LeMoine denied any knowledge of this, and upon being asked to go no further in the matter, he refused, giving as his reason that he had made a contract to sell a car of fruit to some party in Vancouver.

The next action taken, Mr. MacDougall said, was to secure the injunction, which was successfully put into force on Friday, but in the meantime a considerable amount of fruit had been taken out. If this kind of thing continues, he pointed out, it will be the cause of wrecking the co-operative organization as it is being done to a considerable extent in other places and is likely to increase in volume unless steps are taken to put a stop to it. If it comes to every man for himself, he said seriously, it will not be a case of "the devil take the hindmost," he will take the lot. It is time the growers realized the seriousness of the situation and commenced to fight tooth and nail for their organization, using every means in their power to bring pressure to bear on those who are not playing the game.

Distressing cases were detailed among Home Bank depositors at indignation meeting held at Coal Creek.

ASSOCIATED TRADE BOARDS IN SESSION

Discussion of Inter-Provincial Ruled out of Order by Chairman.

Vernon.—One of the largest meetings of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Okanagan yet held, met in Vernon around the luncheon table in the Vernon Club last Thursday. The meeting, which was presided over by the president, W. E. McTaggart, dealt with a number of questions, chief of which were those dealing with the marketing of fruit.

After some discussion it was decided to at once send a cablegram to Premier Mackenzie King in London urging him to secure if at all possible, preference for colonial fresh fruits, as had been done for dried fruits.

The delegates felt that if dried fruits, which were to be admitted to the United Kingdom under certain preferences, which would particularly help Australia, that fresh fruit should also be given some consideration.

The discussion of a round table nature on the forthcoming provincial convention of the Boards of Trade at Vancouver brought out many interesting facts with relation to the marketing of interior fruit at the Coast.

Mr. A. T. Howe, president, and Mr. Thos. Bulman, vice-president of the Associated Growers, answered many questions on the general marketing of fruit, while Mr. Howe dealt at some length with the plans which the Associated had in view.

The Boards of Trade throughout the fruit districts had done inestimable work in helping to organize the Associated Growers, he said, and he hoped they would continue to give the new organization every support.

NARAMATA FOR FRASER ROUTE

Board of Trade in Session—Teacher Gives Children Hallowe'en Party.

The regular monthly meeting of the Naramata Board of Trade was held on Monday evening, president Geo. Weaver in the chair. There was a good attendance and several matters of interest were dealt with.

A request from the Women's Institute that "Go Slow" signs be put near the school to protect the pupils against fast driving in that area, was referred to the school trustees with a recommendation from the Board.

An invitation to send delegates to the convention of Associated Boards of Trade at Vancouver was read, and it was decided that a resolution be forwarded immediately endorsing the Fraser Canyon route for the inter-provincial highway. On the matter of street lighting, the president reported that the local representative of the West Kootenay Company had made an appointment to come up and look over the proposition, but that up to the present the appointment had not been kept. It was decided to communicate with headquarters concerning this, and also to point out that many more tensions could be made if the fixed charge of $1.50 monthly were abolished, and rates made on the basis of the company's original quotation.

The president stated that he had received complaints that cattle were not being controlled in the town limits, and it was decided to request the Farmers' Institute to co-operate with the Board for the construction of a new pound corral in place of that which had now been taken in for planting.

The question of noxious weeds, the Russian thistle in particular, was discussed and the general opinion was that these could be kept down without much trouble if each property owner would take care of the road

APPLES ADDED TO PREFERENCE LIST

London, Nov. 7.—At this morning's meeting of the Economic Conference, it is understood the British representatives expressed a willingness to extend the recent offer of increased preference by the addition of a number of articles, the most important as far as Canada is concerned being fresh apples and canned salmon. Honey also has been added to the list.

BOX FACTORY HAD SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Summerland Lumber Company's box factory will terminate a very successful operation today. Since the company was forced to assign the factory has been kept busy on orders which have totalled much larger than was anticipated. C. Clark, of Vancouver, representing the trustees and who has been in charge of the office of the company, will leave tomorrow for Vancouver.

SLIDE BLOCKED ROAD FOR DAY

Closed for more than a day because of a slide under the Koop orchard, the lakeshore road north of town was again opened for traffic on Friday. A heavy slide came down Wednesday night and it was not until Friday morning that the road had been sufficiently cleared to permit cars to get by.

G.W.V.A. IS UP AGAINST IT

Arrange Entertainment as a Means of Raising Cash for Building.

To raise necessary funds for meeting payments on their club rooms, the G.W.V.A. is putting on special performances at the Rialto Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week. It is essential that cash be raised immediately, and it is felt that the residents will respond in a body and fill the theatre when they realize that the G.W.V.A. is in dire need of financial assistance.

The pictures for this occasion will be comedies, including a Baby Peggy production and a two-reel golfing new release that is reported to be a scream, also a news feature.

In addition to the screen program arrangements are being made to supply entertainment of a varied nature between the reels. In this regard, it is learned that Ex-Sergeant J. J. Atherton, the talented elocutionist and actor who appeared here some three years ago in a remarkable talking picture, will positively appear in a monologue.

POPPIES WILL BE ON SALE SATURDAY

Poppies made by disabled war veterans have been bought by the local G.W.V.A. for local distribution. The C.G.L.T. girls of the Baptist and St. Andrew's churches will sell these on Saturday. The small profit will be divided between the girls' organizations and the G.W.V.A. building fund.

A MEMORIAL SERVICE BY ALL PASTORS

Anniversary of Signing of Armistice to be Celebrated at Empire Hall.

On Sunday next, Armistice Day, all good citizens are invited to attend the United Memorial Service which will be held in the Empire Hall at 8 o'clock. For this occasion a special service of prayer and song has been prepared, and as previously announced, the Summerland Choral Society, under the leadership of G. W. Cope, will render the musical portions.

The service opens with the hymn: "Oh, God, Our Help in Ages Past," which will be followed by a silence of one minute in honor of the brave boys out yonder who made the full measure of sacrifice in the great conflict. This will be followed immediately by a prayer by the Rev. Z. Fash. Psalm 107, verses 1 to 22, will be given as a responsive reading, and this will be followed by the rendering of the choir of Jackson's "Te Deum." The lesson for the day is taken from Deuteronomy, VIII, and will be read by the Rev. H. J. Armitage. The hymn, "Lord of Heaven and Earth and Ocean," will be sung by the congregation, to be followed by a recital of the Lord's Prayer and a Collect; hymn, "From Ocean unto Ocean," address by Rev. W. A. Alexander; Stainer's anthem, "What are These?"; Blessing, and "God Save the King." At the conclusion of the service, Mrs. Sutherland, organist of St. Andrew's church, will play the "Dead March" in Saul. A collection will be taken up, and after defraying current expenses, will be devoted to the Memorial Fund.

A printed program of the service is now on the press, and will be distributed to the congregation.

GOLFERS HAVE FORMED CLUB

Splendid Course Agreed Upon Which Will be Attraction for Visitors.

Eighteen golf enthusiasts attended a meeting at the Bank of Commerce rooms, West Summerland, last Friday evening, and discussed a proposal to form a Summerland Golf Club. G. Y. L. Crossley was voted to the chair, and Percy E. Knowles was elected as secretary.

Following a discussion as to the possibilities of obtaining a suitable course, and the meeting being unanimously in favor of going ahead, a committee composed of Mrs. Collins, and Messrs. Theed, Bonmore, Graham, Crossley and Lumsdon was appointed to look over the several proposed locations for a course and report back to a meeting to be held at the same place on Friday, November 16th, when all who are interested in this national outdoor pastime are heartily invited to attend.

Since the meeting was held, it is learned that the committee have agreed upon a splendid site and steps are being taken to lease same for this purpose, and it is expected that the club will be incorporated shortly, thus providing practice for resident golf players as well as visitors who will doubtless be attracted.

B. C. INDUSTRIES SHOW PROGRESS

According to the sixth annual report of the Workmen's Compensation Board, industrial conditions throughout the province have improved greatly during the past year. At the beginning of the year 6,303 industrial establishments were in operation. This number increased to 6,524 at the end of the year, an increase of 181 firms. There was a corresponding pay-roll increase of over $4,000,000. The aggregate payrolls of all industrial establishments in the province is $134,000,000.

CHORAL SOCIETY NOW PRACTISING

Owing to the strong chorus required for the production of the "Messiah," the advisability of temporarily abandoning it in favor of a more secular program is now under discussion by the Summerland Choral Society. For the chorus of such a production is the "Messiah" no less than eighty voices would be required to do full justice to the score. Whether the society will continue with its practices of the above, the first of which was held last week, or adopt a rounded out program of first-class glee, part songs and choruses will be left for the members themselves to decide at the next meeting on Tuesday next, when all interested should make it a point to attend.

POTTERY KILN ERECTED AT THE LOG CABIN

Students Resume Work in Art-Night School Attendance Growing.

Classes in pottery which were resumed a short time ago under the instruction of Mrs. Hawkins are being carried on at the Log Cabin, Peach Orchard. The new kiln has been erected there and is working well. A pottery wheel made by A. C. Turner is also doing good service. By carrying on this work apart from the school building, afternoon classes are made possible and some of the enthusiasts are even putting in their mornings at the work. All stages of work are being practised from hand modelling. Some glazing is being done this week. There are from twelve to fifteen students.

In the night school the largest class is in commercial work, of which A. I. Steven is in charge. Some of the students in shorthand who began last year will soon be proficient and ready for positions.

As fruit packing slackens more students will enter the several classes.

EDGAR GOULD SUSTAINS FRACTURE

Edgar Gould is lying in Summerland Hospital as the result of a serious accident which took place last week while at his work in Read's garage. Slipping on a bolt lying upon the floor he was precipitated to the ground, part of his body hanging over the car pit, his right hip striking the concrete edge of the pit with such violence that a bad fracture was caused which it is feared will necessitate his remaining in hospital for two months at least. He is progressing as favorably as may be expected.

CONVENTION HERE COMING WEEK

The Women's Missionary Society convention to be held in the Summerland Methodist church on Wednesday and Thursday of next week promises to be particularly interesting.

Delegates are expected from all principle points in the Okanagan, also from the Similkameen Valley.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, the first session opens. The chair will be taken by Rev. H. J. Armitage, the pastor of the church, and addresses will be given by local and outside speakers, prominent amongst whom will be Miss Mary Campbell, of Winnipeg, who will speak on the Zenana work in India. Special music will be rendered by the choir, also solos by local talent.

The morning session at 10 o'clock and the afternoon at 2.30 on Thursday will be devoted to the business of the society.

On Thursday evening another public meeting will be held when papers dealing with different phases of the work of the society will be read and discussed, also special music will be rendered.

The committee extends a most cordial invitation to all interested to attend these sessions and will especially welcome all members of sister organizations who wish to attend.

Luncheon and supper will be served on Thursday in the church parlors to all delegates and visitors.

FRUIT BETTER DISTRIBUTED THAN BEFORE

Market on Prairies Extended—Jobbers Give Loyal Support.

"British Columbia Fruit has been better distributed on the prairies this season than ever before," said A. T. Howe, president of the Associated Growers, in an interview published by the Vernon News. "British Columbia fruit had the upper hand east of the mountains where the jobbers gave the Associated Growers splendid support despite the many handicaps," he stated.

"The lower prices quoted by the independents has made it impossible for some of the jobbers to do business on a satisfactory basis," added Mr. Howe. The president pointed out that jobbers to protect themselves from losses had to insist on the Associated meeting the prices quoted by the independents.

"Growers must realize that if they continue to support the shipper who undersells the Associated they are reducing the net returns to their neighbors," he continued, and added that every effort would be made by the organization to get as many growers as possible into the organization.

Mr. Howe, in referring to markets, said at the present time the Old Country was the best. Prices on the prairies were not good but still they were not nearly so bad as last year, while in the United States the fruit markets were most unsettled.

Referring to the visit of Basil Stewart, managing director, to the United Kingdom, Mr. Howe said: "Mr. Stewart is a keen student of fruit marketing and I feel that his visit to the Old Country will be of great value to the organization."

Mr. Howe also stated that the Associated has already, up to the end of October, shipped out more than a million and a quarter boxes of apples.

During Mr. Stewart's absence Mr. Howe has taken on the added duties of managing director.

SHOULD SPRAY FOR BLISTER MITE

The horticultural branch of the Department of Agriculture is now advising fall spraying for the control of blister mite. Use lime sulphur, 1 to 15, when the leaves have mostly fallen. Drench the trees thoroughly with the spray.

APPLES SAFE BY WEEK-END

Growers to Get an Advance on Fruit Held in Storage.—Bulk Shipments.

Packing of apples by the Co-operative in the Stoutur building was suspended on Tuesday. At the main building near the C.P.R. wharf, packing will be continued for some time.

Apples have been moving out at the rate of about six cars per day and this has made sufficient room to permit the moving of apples from the upper warehouse to the storage building. It is expected that all of these will be in the latter building by this week-end.

Several car loads of Spy apples in bulk have been shipped by the Co-operative. Spys were put over the grader and those which graded Fancy or better and also the culls were eliminated. Those which remained were used in the bulk shipment. Most of these have gone to small country points on the prairies.

A number of growers are holding stocks of apples in frost-proof cellars awaiting instructions from the Co-operative.

It is understood that the Central is arranging to make an advance on apples held in storage. This will apply to fruit in the private storerooms of members of the locals.

Over a million and a quarter dollars of new buildings were erected this year at the Terminal City.

Editorial

WILLINGNESS TO TAKE ADVICE IS SOMETIMES BEING GREATER THAN HE WHO GIVES IT

ARMISTICE DAY.

At the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month five years ago—the last great smash on the Western front—then silence—and the armistice! Staccato rattle of rifles, the crashing of bombs, and thundering of cannon ceased; an appalling silence smote din-strained ears — and of Canadian arms, 65,000 heard not, nor rejoiced.

What are we celebrating this day? Are we jubilant over the victories of Vimy, of Passchendaele, of outwitting the enemy at Hill 60, of filling the gap which historians say saved the day at the second battle of Ypres; or the last triumphant drive of the Allies when right conquered over might and the roars of guns and belches from a thousand hells-gave place to the clearing of smoke-laden atmosphere and the trilling of song birds?

We are celebrating nothing! We are commemorating the end of that man-made and made-ended conflict, and from the fulness of our hearts we praise God that it is so. Scarce a home in our beloved country that has not felt the pangs of poignant anguish, and on this memorial day our hearts beat in unison and sympathy for all who suffered. We are commemorating the haloed sacrifice made by the thousands of Canada's God-annointed boys who laid down their lives that their loved ones at home might live. We are also commemorating on this day the personal honor and sacrifice of all who yielded up everything but life that peace should prevail.

Five years ago! And to-day we hope and pray to our living God that nothing may ever cause us to fail to pay homage to all to whom honor is due. The day is dedicated to those! And we join with those who bore the strains of conflict, and with those yet suffering and handicapped by their physical disabilities, to say from the fulness of our hearts: physical disabilities, to say from the depths of our hearts: "Give Peace in our time, O God!"

GOOD NEWS.

Most encouraging is a London report received this morning to the effect that the British Government is making proposals to the Dominion Government for preference trade arrangements which will result in the placing of a duty on certain products, including apples and canned salmon. One hundred per cent. preference will be given Empire products. British Columbia fruit growers, along with apple producers elsewhere in Canada, will be greatly benefitted by such an agreement.

This advantage, together with the growing trade between the port of Vancouver and British ports by way of the Panama will largely, if not wholly, solve the question of surplus production and the problem of seeking export markets.

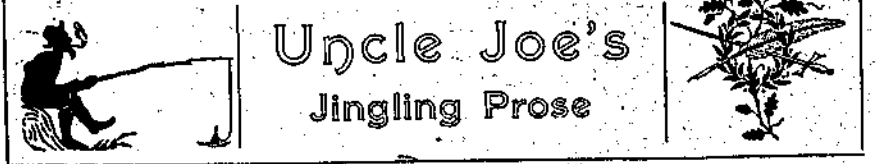

A like preference is to be given our honey and this adjunct of fruit growing will similarly be stimulated.

From Our Exchanges

EUROPEAN WARS AND CANADA.

Should Canada meddle in European wars? The press of Canada is today taking the question seriously to heart and there is good reason for grave reflection. With a war debt which will take the next hundred years to wipe out, with returned crippled soldiers being neglected, with widows and orphans abroad in the land and general dissatisfaction spread broadcast, Canadians are seriously reflecting on their venture into the European conflict. The invitation of the British government to Canada (17th of September, 1922) to engage in a war which was thought to be imminent in connection with a squabble in the Near East, has raised in clear and concrete form the old question whether Canada ought to exercise judgment before sending her sons anywhere to kill and be killed, or whether, without hesitation or consideration she ought to reply "Ready, aye ready!" Native born Canadians answer one way. Imperialists answer the other. "The issue is now clearly defined," writes John S. Stewart, K.C., "Let it be definitely set-

Uncle Joe's Jangling Prose

"Owing to Canada's growing importance, there are prospects of it being a Kingdom." —London Paper.

WHAT O! A KINGDOM!

THE PRESS of Merrie England strikes a mean and wicked gait, in yapping of Our Canada unseemingly of late. The bunk they print about our land I gulp with grains of salt, but when they start to "Kingdom" us, in wrath I holler "Halt!" When first I see this regal wheeze-methinks they're showing malice; and then says I, I'll just be fly, for me cum grano salis. But when they kept the racket up beyond the realms of wit, it made me swear and tear my hair and nearly throw a fit. "WHAT! Make of us a Kingdom with a really truly King, with all the courts and fal-de rals that Kingdoms always bring? With knights and dukes and barons and a bunch of counts galore. Oh, save us from the likes of that, sweet holy Mackinaw! Those dubs would have us sporting buckled shoes and periwigs, and wish the job of King on Andy Gump or Old Man Jiggs. With Jiggs I have a stand-in, and estoon I hear him chatter: 'Arise, Sir Jangling Joseph, you're the Duke of Naramata. Begone and mould your Sheba out of Sally in our Alley, for you're the Lord High Muck-a-Muck of Okanagan Valley!' I want no Kingdom stuff in mine, there's nothing there to glory at, unless they'd slip the job to me of being Poet Laureate! But, no such luck, I'll still be stuck, a ringling jangling bum; the only Kingdom that We'll get will be the KINGDOM COME."

—UNCLE JOE OF SUMMERLAND—

bled." The recent crisis is happily passed. Another may arise at any time. And what our government ought to do should not be left undecided. Are we to engage when our Parliament says so, or merely when requested by a British government? Like bull-terriers, are we to fight when whistled for? Or, like intelligent human beings, are we to investigate and for ourselves determine (1) Whether the stated case is just; (2) whether, from the Canadian point of view, it is worth a war; (3) whether war is unavoidable." It will be interesting to readers to know the attitudes assumed by Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, two of the most outspoken premiers ever known to Canadians. The Trent affair in November, 1861, having brought the United States and the United Kingdom to the verge of war, the British government, through the Colonial secretary, Duke of Newcastle, undertook to exercise pressure upon the Canadian government with reference to military preparations. Our parliament declined to pass the required legislation, and, therefore, the Duke (Aug. 21, 1862) expressed his regret; urged resumption of efforts by the governor-general; indicated what ought to be done; suggested military co-operation with the other provinces with an "adjutant-general of the whole force." After arguing in favor of the voluntary system, as preferable to the compulsory, the Macdonald government replied, in part as follows:

"The people of Canada, doing nothing to produce a rupture with the United States, and having no knowledge on the part of Her Majesty's government to pursue a policy from which so dire a calamity would proceed, are unwilling to impose upon themselves extraordinary burdens. They feel that, should war occur, it will be produced by no acts of theirs, and they have no inclination to do anything that may seem to fore-shadow, perhaps to provoke, a state of things which would be disastrous to every interest of the province."

Note, finally, the attitude of Sir Wilfrid Laurier who, when speaking in the House of Commons (Feb. 5, 1900), in connection with the despatch of troops to South Africa, said:—"I claim for Canada this, that in the future Canada shall be at liberty to act or not act, to interfere or not to interfere, to do just as she pleases, and that she shall reserve to herself the right to judge whether or not there is cause for her to act."—Cranbrook Courier.

A BLUNDER SOMEWHERE.

An amazing error has been made by somebody among those who sponsored and achieved the passing of an amendment to the act governing the sale of feeding stuffs.

It is very evident that the intention of the amendment passed at the last session of Parliament is to protect the public from exploitation by unscrupulous persons who endeavor to unload chaff by mixing it with foods of worth such as bran, shorts, middlings, etc. But the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has been over zealous if the amendment means that no person or company shall mix or sell prepared mashes and meals. Such an interpretation has been published by the responsible officials of the Department; either the interpretation is wrong or the amendment is ridiculous.

To stop the sale of prepared livestock and poultry meals and mashes would work a very great inconvenience on scores of thousands of poultrymen and dairymen throughout Canada. The public is amply protected against spurious feeding stuffs when the analysis of all prepared foods are compulsorily printed on or attached to the package or sack utilized as a container. Milling and feed companies can do the mixing of the desired ingredients much more quickly and economically than the average farmer or poultryman; and if either of the latter prefers to purchase his feeding material in mixed form with proper analysis attached, no obstacle should be placed in the way of his doing so.

The Hon. Mr. Motherwell would do well to re-read the amendment or check the interpretative abilities of his assistants. To prohibit the sale of mixed feeding materials could only be paralleled by putting the ban on corn flakes and shredded wheat. An amusing but serious error has been made somewhere in officialdom.—Farm and Home.

OUR GROWING IMPORTANCE.

The increasing importance of British Columbia as a fruit-growing province, particularly in apples, is shown by a recent return. With a total of 3,142,000 barrels expected to be marketed this year, it more than doubles the estimated output of Nova Scotia, its nearest rival, while it will be nearly five times in excess of that of Ontario, with 650,000 barrels. What is for the good of one province, however, likewise benefits all, and adds to the eloquent testimony as to the redundancy of natural wealth with which Canada is so abundantly favored.—Hamilton Spectator.

FAST PACKING

Miss Queenie Mattock, of Vernon, made a new apple packing record a few days ago, when she packed 264 boxes at the Vernon Fruit Union, according to the Vernon News.

Mr. Crawshaw, the packing room foreman, stated that the pack was the ordinary run of apples.

"It is the best day's work ever made, insofar as I know," he said.

FIELD MICE ARE INCREASING HERE

Field mice are already doing damage to trees, according to reports received from growers by J. Tait, district field inspector. Mr. Tait advises that orchardists should now make careful inspection of their trees and have them freed of all rubbish and weed growth at the base. Cover crop orchards are more or less infested with mice. A good plan is to set out some poison bait now. The poison formula is given on the 1923 spray calendar. Any person not having a copy may obtain one at the office of the district field inspector.

PIONEER BANKER RETIRES FROM WORK

After half a century with the Bank of Montreal, Mr. G. A. Henderson, of Vernon, has retired from the service of that institution. Mr. Henderson began his banking career at Quebec in 1874 and came to this province in 1891, when he opened the branch of the Bank of Montreal at Victoria. The year following he opened the branch of the same bank at Vernon which he has since managed.

Commenting on Mr. Henderson's retirement, Mr. J. A. McKelvie, M. P., writing in the Vernon News, says in part:

"At that time the nearest bank to Vernon was at Kamloops, and the branch here served the whole of what are now the Okanagan, Similkameen, Greenwood and Grand Forks electoral districts.

As the country opened up and developed, Mr. Henderson was called upon to extend the scope of the bank's service and opened branches at Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton, Greenwood and Merritt. He thus for many years held in his own hands the financial reins which guided the commercial, industrial and agricultural affairs of a large and rapidly-growing region. None will deny that to his excellent judgment, breadth of vision and keen business sense, are very largely due the advancement and development of these interior valleys. In every legitimate way he has always shown himself eager to assist such enterprises as gave promise of success, and for his shrewd advice and kindly counsel many a business and many a man owe him a heavy debt of gratitude."

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr. and Mrs. McHollister, of Kelowna, are visiting Mrs. McHollister's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Winger.

Mr. and Mrs. Crooks and family recently moved into the residence on the Bulyea fruit lot where they will reside for the winter.

Miss Ruth White left on Tuesday morning after a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. White.

Mr. and Mrs. Hackett recently moved down from their fruit lot into the small cottage adjoining the Kudolka home.

Miss Gladys Jewels, of Penticton, returned home on Tuesday after a few days' visit with the Hohensoo girls. Miss Horthe Hohensoo accompanied her.

Mrs. Morsch and her daughter, Leah, moved into town from the ranch last week to be handy to the school, and are living in Miss A. Elliott's house across the street from the Methodist church. Paxton Morsch will join them when school re-opens next week.

Mrs. Michael and Master George Elkins returned on Tuesday evening after a short visit out of town.

Mrs. Vivian left on Tuesday evening for a short visit in Penticton.

Mrs. Todd was an outgoing passenger on Wednesday morning for a short visit out of town.

Mrs. Nourse and son, Eric, left on Wednesday to return to northern Saskatchewan, after having spent several months with Mrs. Nourse's sister, Mrs. A. Stewart.

No new cases of measles having been reported, it is expected that school will re-open next week. So far as can be learned, the disease has been confined to the one family. (Continued on Page 4)

SEED GROWERS' NEW OFFICERS

Annual Meeting Was Attended By Delegates from the Coast.

The annual meeting of the United Seed Growers, Ltd., was held on Friday afternoon at Penticton.

Among those present were Messrs. G. M. Stewart, chief inspector seed branch, Department of Agriculture, Calgary; A. McMeans, seed production specialist, Department of Agriculture, Vancouver; O. E. Fisher, John Power, Penticton; Magnus Tait, A. Moyes, E. A. Thomas, Summerland; Geo. Clarke, Chilliwack; K. W. King, Kaleden; H. H. Thompson, Peachland; John Tait, district field inspector, Summerland, and Manager Travis. Magnus Tait occupied the chair.

The following directors were appointed for the ensuing year: C. E. Craig, Magnus Tait, Andrew Moyes, Summerland; Prof. Boving, Vancouver; Geo. Clarke, Chilliwack; O. E. Fisher, Penticton; W. D. Lang, Cawston.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors the following officers were appointed: Hon. A. D. Barrow, honorary president; C. E. Craig, president; Prof. Boving, vice-president; J. Travis, manager; Andrew Moyes, secretary.

tor and his lady slavey imagining it all a clever impersonation by a practical joking male friend.

As Dr. John Sheppard, M.D., H. Lindsay Swan was very clever. His acting throughout bore the earmarks of a professional training, he repeatedly reminding us of the one and only Max Figman. Most of the uproarious comedy was supplied by Marian K. Stevens, who, as Aurora, the lady slavey, gave a rollicking interpretation of the character that might have been handled no better by the great Louie Freer or the famous Louise Fazenda of the Movies. As Mr. Plant (the Southsea lawyer), Chas. H. Coody was very good, as was also J. Stanley Wood as Hon. Waverley Vane. The entire cast was a well balanced one, and the production was greatly enjoyed by a fair sized audience which loudly applauded the talented amateurs at its conclusion.

Associated Boards Meet

Boards of Trade continue to give us that whole hearted support this winter in our effort to induce more growers to join the Associated, we shall have within the organization more than the 85 per cent. now signed up," added Mr. Howe, who deprecated the price cutting of the independents and said there would be no coercion in the methods of the Associated.

Great Britain was a market which should be developed, he said, and told of what Mr. Steuart hoped to do on his visit there.

As certain information was not available as to what line of discussion on the fruit question would take at the provincial convention it was suggested that the delegates from the different Valley Boards of Trade meet in Vancouver prior to the opening session and then definite plans could be arranged.

Mayor Sutherland, of Kelowna, reminded the meeting how the Boards of Trade had got behind the drive for contracts last spring and with their help the percentage had been increased from slightly over 70 per cent. to nearly 85 per cent. This achievement, he said, was not sufficiently known and was a record in organization work. In this statement the meeting concurred.

A resolution thanking The Vancouver Daily Province for its series of front page articles during the fruit shipping season was heartily endorsed. A similar motion thanking all those firms who had sent out 'apple letters' was also passed.

The chairman ruled out of order a discussion on the inter-provincial highway for the reason that some Boards of the association had endorsed the Hope-Princeton route, and others the Fraser Canyon road.

Mr. R. L. Lowe, the Canadian Pacific commissary agent at Sicamous, was thanked in a resolution for his interest during the season in directing tourists down the Valley, who might otherwise have passed through on the main line.

Those who attended the meeting were F. W. Clingan, W. H. Snell, Col. Scott, Salmon Arm; R. McDonald, A. E. Sage, Armstrong; J. A. MacKevie, M.P., Jas. Vallance, F. B. Cossitt, A. E. Godfrey, C. B. Lefroy, W. E. McTaggart, pres., H. F. Beattie, secy., A. T. Howe, Thos. Bulman, Vernon; Grote Stirling, G. A. Barret and Mayor Sutherland, Kelowna; C. H. Dunbar, of the Kamloops Board of Trade who happened to be in town, was a guest at the luncheon.

Scene II, Act IV

It is a melancholy reflection that after many years' extensive experience there is no better method of agreement between employers and employed than the wasteful and unsatisfactory strike. Before the advent of arbitration boards, conciliation courts and similar bodies, it may be that the only effective way for the worker to secure his just due was to stop working until the employer came to terms, but today the strike should be obsolete. I suppose the basis of its continuation may be found in the old proverb which tells us, quite truly, that although one man can take a horse to water, twenty can't make him drink. If a body of men simply refuse to return to work, or an association of employers decline to meet all demands, nothing can make them do so, since we see that even the orders of the leaders on the one side are occasionally defied, and that the other side may prefer to close the works rather than yield. But there is, in all human affairs, a stage where determination degenerates into obstinacy, and obstinacy descends to plain mulishness, and there should today be enough common sense in business organizations to keep them from such a deplorable deadlock. The trouble is that common sense does not yet play its proper part in the affairs of mankind.

The longshoremen's strike at Vancouver has some rather curious features. The element of brutality, as shewn in attacks on some of the strikebreakers, is, unfortunately, too common to be curious—it is merely senseless and discreditable. But I think many observers will have been somewhat surprised to learn, on the authority of a union official writing to a Vancouver daily, that $30 weekly is earned by the majority of the men out on strike, that some of them earn a good deal more than that, and that quite a number are able to drive to work in their own automobiles. That the $30 is probably the minimum standard of earnings is further evidenced by an advertisement in the same paper offering 80 cents an hour for this unskilled labour, with $1.20 an hour for overtime. To the average onlooker, 80 cents an hour, or even the modest $30 a week, does not seem so very bad for unskilled labour, and it is possible that more than a few white collared men would be fairly well satisfied with a guaranteed income of that amount. There are also some other branches of labor which fall short of such a wage, if one may judge from an advertisement in the "Wanted" columns of the city papers of October 30th offering "steady work at 50 cents an hour to a few active labourers who can invest a small amount." The longshoreman does not need to invest any money to secure his 80 cents (with $1.20 for overtime) and by comparison seems to be pretty well off.

Possibly by the time this paragraph appears, the Vancouver strike may be settled, but the loss it has entailed cannot be replaced, and it seems a decided pity that industrial disputes have still to be adjusted in so wasteful a fashion.

The Etude Music Magazine, in the issue which completes its fortieth year of publication, reports an interview between Thomas A. Edison and Lieut.-Commander John Philip Sousa in May of the present year, the occasion being the EDISON first on which these two notabilities had met. As ON might be expected, the conversation between the MELODY two was exceedingly interesting—the man who shares with Pathe the invention of the phonograph, and the composer and conductor whose marches are familiar to us all, could hardly meet without saying something worth hearing. Personally I am delighted to find that certain opinions this present scribe has for some years been ventilating, receive the very emphatic support of a man who spends a good deal of his time in hearing and analyzing musical compositions. Edison is an uncompromising lover of melody, as distinct from what he calls "complicated music", and he finds very little of it in the thousands of selections he listens to. In this he agrees with Sousa, who thinks that "we live in a day when some composers seem to be ashamed of melody." It is rather remarkable, but easy to believe, that out of several thousands of songs tried out by the phonograph wizard for re-creation, he found that all of them could be reduced to "only nine tunes." Considering that there are about 400,000,000 possible changes, we can sympathize with Mr. Edison when he asks, "Why under the heavens don't we have more original material?" We may not be able to follow him when he declares that he got better results by reversing some of the alleged melodies, and playing them backwards, but we may certainly believe that they could be no worse.

Another dictum, which may sound like heresy, but is just unvarnished truth, is the same authority's statement that many instrumentalists play out of tune, and don't know it. "This is particularly the case with the violinist, who rarely plays accurately in tune. He thinks he does, but he doesn't. What he really does is to make a stab at a note, hit within fifteen vibrations, and then make a lightning like correction with such deftness that the auditor is not usually aware of it."

The expression "making a stab at it," reminds me of an episode some years ago, when I selected a rather doubtful bass in the little choir I was then training in a prairie town, to take the solo part in Himmol's anthem, "Incline Thine Ear." To my query as to whether he could undertake the part, he replied, "Well, I can make a stab at it." At the practice, he did fairly well, but on the Sunday evening, his "stab" somehow got deflected, and he plunged straightway into the bass part of the full score, and was only extricated when the next man caught my signal, and came to the rescue.

Coming back to the Edison-Sousa conversation, it is refreshing to find that the former is hot on the trail of singers who affect the tremolo style. "Why in the world do they do it?" he asks, and echo answers "Why?" or would do so if it could be reversed and played backwards!

It is quite a drop from violins to cowbells, even if the violin is fifteen vibrations off tune. Only the person whose soul finds poetry and melody in every sight or sound, will listen with pleasure to the dead tinkle of that bell COW which vibrates without harmonics, and even the poet's BELLS serenity is likely to be disturbed if he discovers that its music is made by the movements of its carrier while engaged in assimilating the green corn of his own particular vegetable patch. When this happens, the erstwhile complacent one is apt to be moved to sudden activity and an impromptu torrent of blank verse of most rugged and emphatic quality. I have cowbells in mind by reason of a story told me the other day. There is a certain spot in a well known lake in this province where an industrious diver would be likely to find many a cowbell lying "full fathom five" in its depths, unless they are too far buried by the mud of intervening years. It was in the early days of a certain community dwelling on this lakeshore, when pound laws were not enforced, for the good and sufficient reason that there was no pound, and when the neighbour's cows roamed around the village at their own sweet will, tagged with the inharmonious clapper which would advertise their whereabouts. It is part of the secret history of this place that, in the dead of the night, waking citizens, disturbed by the bell of unrest, would steal out, divest bossy of strap and tinkling pendant, hurl them into the deep waters of the lake, and so find peace in their beds!

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

One way to make cake light is to fold into the batter made of the other ingredients, the stiffly beaten egg white the last thing.

Mash squash and pumpkin for pies with a potato masher; then beat with the egg beater until smooth. Less time is required than if a sieve is used.

Fruit should have a prominent place on the late summer diet. If members of the family aren't fond of fruit, serve it to them in the form of lemonade or other fruit drinks. All pieces of beef or chicken fat should be cut fine and carefully rendered to be used for frying. Fat left from frying bacon or ham should be saved, but kept in a separate jar, as the smoked flavor is not desirable for all frying.

Slice cold roast beef very thin and arrange on a warm platter. Just before serving pour a hot meat sauce or gravy over the slices of meat. If the beef is reheated and allowed to stand over the fire in the gravy it becomes tough.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. ***

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range, and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Thursday morning of last week revealed the fact that a number of the rising generation of Peachland put in a lot of work the night previous. Various articles were in various places and conditions and a few buildings were found not to be right side up as they had been when darkness set in on Hallowe'en. One of the great surprises to many was to see the boys' bath house turned over, and so far as can be learned, it was not the girls who did it. The reason for the surprise rests in the fact that the material was purchased and the building built and donated to the boys by the local branch of the Women's Institute. Rather a peculiar exhibition of appreciation many think.

The Misses Enid and Olive Smith, of Merritt, who have been spending the latter part of the summer and fall with their aunt, Mrs. L. D. McCall, and employed in the Union packing house, left on Thursday to return to their home. They were taken to the K.V.R. at West Summerland by their cousin, Mr. H. E. McCall.

Mr. and Mrs. Cadmore and daughter paid an overnight visit to Pentiction on business last Friday.

Miss Ivy Law returned home on Tuesday evening from Okanagan Centre, where she has been employed during the greater part of the packing season.

Municipal clerk Wm. Dryden spent Tuesday in Kelowna in his official capacity attending a joint meeting in connection with irrigation matters, also attending to some matters of business in connection with the Union.

Quite a number congregated in the Baptist church last mid-week to hear Dr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, of the China Inland Mission, speak of the work throughout the province in China. All pronounced it a delightfully interesting account of the advance made by the Mission since it was founded by Mr. Taylor's father, Hudson Taylor, well known to all who follow missionary activities. The speakers were pleasant to listen to and impressed the gathering as being full of faith so necessary in the work. In addition to a review history of the Mission, they gave details of their own work and life there, including a short account of their capture by brigands recently, but Mrs. Taylor was held for some thirty-eight days. They testified, however, that, in spite of the seriousness of the situation, they did not fear for their trust was in God, who was able to deliver them. Dr. and Mrs. Taylor had been addressing meetings in Pentiction and were brought up to Peachland by Rev. Isaac Page, Pentiction, pastor of the Peachland church, the church having extended an invitation to them to come.

The wedding took place recently of Miss Irene White to Mr. Cecil Brown, both of this place. The ceremony was conducted quietly at Pentiction and, after spending a few days in Peachland, the young couple left on Thursday for Vancouver to remain for a time.

After spending the latter portion of the summer and the fall employed in the orchards at Westbank, Mah Wing returned to Peachland and is occupying his residence again.

The Masons have made a start on the improvements to be made around the monument on second street. There is to be a diamond-shaped curb built around the monument, and a space thirty feet wide curbed off in the center of the street between Main and the lane at the rear of the first block. This curb is to be four by six inches above the ground and will leave a drive-way on either side of the street for traffic. This completed, it is the intention of the committee to arrange for the beautifying of the spaces thus blocked out.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Miller have moved out to their son's ranch at camp Helena for the winter months. Since his return home from the hospital at Sumnerland, Mr. Miller has been steadily improving in health, and is able to be about a good deal.

Mr. Geo. White returned home on Sunday after an absence of several months, and is residing with his parents in their home adjoining the butcher shop.

Rev. H. A. Solly, Sumnerland, conducted the regular Anglican service in St. Margaret's church here on Sunday afternoon.

Further action on the carlip was deferred until receipt of the plans and estimate of Mr. Keats, assistant surveyor.

The meeting adjourned at 9.30.

The members of the Women's Auxiliary met on Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Manchester, Mrs. Langueod presiding. In addition to the usual routine work of the meeting, arrangements were made for the holding of a bazaar on December 15. Mrs. Cross served tea and refreshments.

Bryson White, Dominion Fruit Inspector, was a visitor to the local co-operative packing house on Saturday.

Messrs. T. I. Williams and Len Smith went up to Vernon on Monday morning to serve on the petty jury.

Saturday afternoon and evening saw a merry assembly of school children who were guests of Miss Glasser at the Unity Club for a Hallowe'en supper, the parents coming later to spend the evening. The room was appropriately decorated for the occasion, with the time honored pumpkin in full evidence, and the visitors were received by two "ghosts" impersonated by the Misses Partridge and Vanderburg. About thirty sat down to supper, the number later approaching sixty. All the pupils and many of the adults were in costume, and formed a varied array of gipsies, ghosts, Japanese ladies, Indians and cowboys, with one particularly attractive page. After supper the evening was spent in dancing, winding up with light refreshments to close. Those responsible for the decorations included the Misses McKay, Vera and Dot Partridge, and Doris Lawrence. Other assistants were Dorothy Partridge, John Smith, Gordon Williams, Bert Partridge and J. Fell. Miss Glasser was costumed as the Hallowe'en spirit, and officiously supervised the proceedings. The pianists of the evening were the Misses Glasser, Raynor, Mitchell and Partridge.

SAYS GROWERS WILL RECEIVE GOOD RETURNS

Vancouver, Oct. 29.—Mr. C. A. Walters, a fruit shipper of Summerland, visiting wholesalers on Water Street this morning, expressed the opinion that growers in the district would receive very good returns for all fruits moved during the present season. Cherries had netted around ten cents a pound, while growers of apricots got a little over six cents.

Mr. Walters said that the McIntosh deal, as far as he was concerned, was over, and that Jonathans were moving out very fast, largely to the prairie market. He was trying, he said, to sell all of this variety before offering any of the late winter apples. There had not been enough Wealthies to meet the demand at his packing house.

DONATIONS TO THE HOSPITAL FOR OCTOBER

The following donations have been received, and are herewith gratefully acknowledged by the Summerland hospital.

Mrs. Fisher, flowers and herbs; Mrs. Miller, Peachland, grapes; Mrs. Windeler, 12 quarts fruit; Mr. Carvick, 4 boxes peaches; Taka Shekenji, tomatoes, melons, celery, onions; Mrs. Creese, tomatoes; Mr. Miller, Miller's Point, pears; Mrs. Clouston, eggs; C. of E. harvest festival, fruit and vegetables; Mrs. McLaughlin, jelly; Mrs. Cowan, pears; Mrs. Solly, quince and crabapple; Mr. Scurrah, two pheasants, lettuce; Mrs. Fanchon, tomatoes; Peachland C. of E., grapes, apples, canned fruit; Mrs. Roe, pickles; Mr. Creese, two pheasant s.

THE B. C. WEALTHY IN GREAT BRITAIN

An interesting little editorial was published in the October number of a British monthly, "The Sovereigns Monthly," a copy of which was handed the Review by a subscriber. The editorial reads:

"British Columbia is famous for the size and delicacy of its apples. Growers have managed to ship consignments of the 'B. C. Wealthy' eating variety to England again this year, we believe for the first time since the war. We understand they are obtainable at Paynes Stores, and can strongly recommend them to connoisseurs."

Mrs. W. J. White was the subject of a major operation at the Summerland Hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Gayton and child are now in their home on the Experimental Farm at Oliver.

T. J. Garnett and P. G. Dodwell went up to Vernon the first of the week as petty jurors in the court session there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Robinson are leaving soon to reside in Penticton. Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Knowles have leased their residence.

Mr. G. A. Lundie, principal of the Summerland high school, has sent in his resignation to the school board, to take effect at the end of the present term in December.

Mrs. T. G. Beavis, as a member of the program committee of the Women's Missionary Societies of the district, was a recent visitor to Kelowna.

A meeting of the Board of Trade and all interested will be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Friday, November 9th, at 8 o'clock, to consider trans-provincial highway route, and other matters. 15L

Mrs. Rau and daughter are leaving shortly to spend the winter in Manitoba. Messrs. Morkill and Crossley have rented the Rau home for the winter.

Reeve J. R. Campbell returned Monday from a visit to Alberta. Mr. Campbell states that there is still much wheat in the fields between Calgary and Edmonton, there being insufficient threshing machines to care for the unusually large crop.

H. H. Elsey, who with Mrs. Elsey and their son, Clarence, motored to Vancouver a few days ago, reports finding good roads all the way with no snow in the Blenheim Pass. They made the 511 miles in two and a half days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Whiteford, of Virden, Manitoba, came in last Friday and spent a few days here at the home of Mr. Whiteford's brother, J. L. Whiteford. From here they went to the Coast, where they will make a short stay before continuing on their way south to California.

Warren Gayton has joined his brother Joe at Brandon College. Joe has been working on the prairies and arrived at Brandon on the 20th of October. He is greatly pleased with the school but reports that it is as cold in Brandon now as in Summerland in mid-winter.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sanborn returned home on Tuesday from an extended visit to the central States. They made their headquarters near Kansas City but visited nine different states, and returned by way of Spokane and Grand Forks, B. C. Mr. Sanborn states that farm crops were none too good, corn in the corn belt soft and very little of it yet harvested. There was three inches of snow in Illinois when he left. Much as they enjoyed their trip they were glad to be back in Summerland. Mrs. Sanborn's health has been considerably improved by the vacation.

Mrs. Gould of Prairie Valley gave a delightful Halloween party to the young people of the district. The evening was happily spent in games and music, after which refreshments were served. At the end of the evening the guests all joined in thanking Mrs. Gould for giving such an enjoyable evening.

Phasant and quail shooting season in South Okanagan and Similkameen closes on November 11th, this being the last day of the season. There is no open season on Hungarian partridge, but it is understood an effort will be made to have a short open season next year. The deer season closes on December 15th and the duck shooting season on December 30th.

P. O. Minnich and family are moving into the G. J. C. White cottage near the Baptist church.

Mrs. Allan Agur, assisted by Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Otley, gave a children's party on Halloween. The children spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening, during which time games and contests were indulged in.

NO NEED TO HURRY

The steamer was only a few feet from the quay when there was a sudden commotion; and a man came running down madly from the dock gates, shouting to the officials to wait a moment.

Without pausing in his stride, he flung his bag on to the boat, took a desperate leap, and landed on the deck with a crash.

"Good!" he gasped, as he was assisted to his feet. "Just did it. A few seconds later and I should have missed it."

"Missed it!" exclaimed one of the passengers. "Do you realize that this boat is just coming in?"—Kelowna Courier.

RICE HULLS TO END DIRT CAKING

Experiments in the use of rice hulls for the purpose of keeping the ground loose and preventing caking, especially after irrigation, are being tried out near Visalia, California. Thus far the tests have proved so successful that the orchard company has spread 400 cars of rice hulls over its vineyard and orchard lands. The new method is based on the theory that the rice hulls will not decompose for five years and during that time will serve to prevent the ground from baking or hardening.

HIGH SCHOOL TO PUT ON TRIAL SCENE OF MERCHANT OF VENICE

At Christmas the students of the High School will present the Trial Scene from "The Merchant of Venice." This will be staged by the matriculation class. The second year students will present the scene from "Julius Caesar" depicting Marc Antony's famous speech over the dead body of the great pro-consul. The first year students will put on a laughable farce, and the whole entertainment will include musical and instrumental numbers. Mr. W. C. Kelley, who has already promised to give some Shakespearean addresses to the scholars, will be asked to assist in the training of our young actors in their parts.

HANSEN AGAIN UNDER ARREST

Business men here and elsewhere throughout the Valley will learn with interest of the arrest in Okanagan, Washington, of H. A. Hansen, advertising solicitor. Hansen, who advertises Hotel Summerland his headquarters for some time, was more than once under arrest while here. His arrest in the southern part of the Valley followed an investigation made by the commercial club of Okanagan. He will face charges of fraudulently selling advertising for an alleged auto tourist guide.

Hansen spent some time up and down this part of the Valley soliciting for a similar publication which never materialized and later he played the same game at Nelson.

FAST PICKING

In the twelve days from October 9-21 of last year Wm. Verrier picked 1,527 boxes of apples on the Balcoma ranch. This information was given the Review by E. V. Agur, who thinks it would be hard to beat. Verrier's biggest day was 165 boxes. Mr. Agur points out that at that season of the year the day's work is not over ten hours.

Any other figures on this subject or on the production of individual trees would be appreciated by the Review.

HOWELL HARRIS AT CORVALLIS

Mr. G. H. Harris, of Summerland, a graduate in horticulture from the University of British Columbia with the class of 1922, after having successfully completed work for his Master of Science Degree at the Oregon Agricultural College last spring, spent the summer in the employ of the Dominion Government as a special investigator of White Pine Blister Rust.

Mr. Harris, having completed his work with the Blister Rust on October 1st, left for Corvallis, Oregon, where he has been awarded a Fellowship in the research section of the Division of Horticulture at the Oregon Agricultural College, an honor which reflects credit to British Columbia. Mr. Harris' work last year was proved of such an outstanding quality that the Oregon authorities were most anxious to have him return and do further work on the problem with which he was connected last year.—B.C.F.G.A. Bulletin.

THE KNOCKERS GET KNOCKED

Knocking a town is a popular pastime with many travelling drummers and floaters. On the boats, in the smoking coaches and lounge places where men congregate one often hears the anvil chorus. These men gauge a town according to the amount of cash or number of orders they have rounded up, and woe betide a burg that sends a travelling man empty away. As an example: a number of itinerant musicians floated in and, without being heralded in the local paper or appearing under the auspices of any local organization, they expected to clean up.

But few turned up to their dance, and those who paid their admission had their money refunded. Now this is where they tune up with the anvil chorus. A couple of days later a group of men outside the Elks' hall at Kelowna were discussing the tour of the musicians, and a representative of The Review close by heard such remarks as "Summerland! Wow! bust, sky high! That burg's kerfuffle. Nobody got any money. Everybody flat broke. Nobody came to the dance," etc., etc. Just then the Review man interjected a few remarks which somewhat muzzed up the peans of praise of the ramblers; the situation was saved in the explanation of lack of publicity and the added fact of the Rover Scouts putting on a Hard Times Dance at four bits a throw, including supper, on Halloween!

OBITUARY.

J. C. FINDLAY

The funeral of the late John Clarke Findlay, father of Mrs. James Ritchie, was held last Wednesday afternoon at Kaleden. For the past twelve years Mr. Findlay, who had many friends here, has been a resident of Kaleden, and since the formation of the Baptist church there was one of its deacons, until he was taken seriously ill about three years ago, since which time he has been a constant invalid, and has been cared for largely by his daughter, Miss K. Findlay, a nurse, formerly with the Summerland hospital.

He is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. R. J. Chalmers, Manitou, Man.; Mrs. Jas. Ritchie, Summerland; Miss K. Findlay, Mrs. F. W. King and Judson Findlay, all of Kaleden. The funeral was attended by a number of Summerland relatives and friends.

Christmas Printing

The Printed Message of Christmas Cheer

There is no one item, at such small cost, that approaches the Christmas card as a remembrance of a friend by a friend.

There is nothing that so cements the good will of a business institution as a thoughtful greeting to its customers, clients, associates and competitors.

Without forgetting the sentimental feature of Christmas giving, the printed greeting comes mighty close to being GOOD BUSINESS for both individual and firm.

Armistice-Thanksgiving Day at the Local Churches

Commemoration Service of the United Churches Drew a Big Congregation to Empire Hall—Pastors of all Local Churches United in Impressive Service—Eloquent Address by Rev. W. A. Alexander—Special Decorations and Music at all Churches.

Armistice-Thanksgiving Day was fittingly and solemnly observed in all the Summerland churches, the outstanding feature noted being the especially large congregations at all places of worship. The day was beautifully fine and both morning and evening the number of worshippers bore evidence of the significance of the day and the impress indelibly left on the memory of all our citizens. The scarlet poppy was everywhere, while in the churches special Thanksgiving decorations were in abundance.

Interested centred chiefly in the united memorial service which was held at the Empire Hall in the afternoon. The spacious auditorium was crowded to capacity when the specially prepared service began. Upon the platform were gathered all the pastors of the various denominations represented in Summerland, all uniting in a fervent mood of praise and thanksgiving to our Heavenly Father for deliverance from the enemy; all joining with the united congregations present in soulful praise which could not but leave the desire in the hearts of all for the advent of the day when Christendom would be united.

Mrs. D. L. Sutherland, organist of St. Andrew's United church, presided at the piano, and a full choir, supplied by the Choral Society, under the baton of G. W. Cope, led the congregational singing, besides rendering Stainer's "What Are These?" and Jackson's "Te Deum." The hymns in which the congregation joined were "Lord of Heaven and Earth and Ocean," "From Ocean Unto Ocean," "Oh, God, Our Help in Ages Past," and "God Save the King."

Psalm 107, verses 1 to 22, were given as a responsive reading led by Rev. H. A. Solly of St. Stephen's Anglican church. Rev. H. J. Armitage read the lesson for the day which was from Deuteronomy VIII. Rev. E. L. Fash of the Summerland (Continued on Page 6)

LOCAL MAN SUGGESTED AS INSTRUCTOR

School Board is Considering. Decide on Change at High School.

An offer from S. W. J. Feltham made to the superintendent of technical education to temporarily serve as manual training instructor in the Summerland schools was before the school board at their regular meeting last week. Mr. Kyle, the superintendent, who had had an interview with Mr. Feltham recently, strongly recommended acceptance of the offer. Formerly the salary paid the manual training instructor was $1080, but, living on his fruit ranch where he can put in a good deal of his time, Mr. Feltham has offered to do the work at a salary of $1000. Of this the Department will pay $580. After discussing the matter the secretary was instructed to advise both Mr. Kyle and Mr. Feltham that the proposal was under consideration. The secretary reported that all but $14 of the high school fees due June 30th last had been collected. Only about one-third of the fees for the current term have so far been paid.

By a unanimous vote the board decided to make a change in the principalship of the high school at the end of the term. Accounts for October were passed for payment. The regular budget totalled $2,304.83 and that for the night school $95.05.

CHOIR MEMBERS GIVE SHOWER

Following regular choir practice in the Baptist church last Friday night Miss Gertrude Darke, one of the members, was greatly surprised when the choir retired to the church had gathered, to wish her every hap-parlor where a few other friends piness on the matrimonial voyage on which she is about to start.

Following a few impromptu speeches and the serving of refreshments, Miss Darke was presented with a hymnal which lay upon an improvised table. The book, when opened, proved to be the cover of a huge hamper from which she drew many beautiful and useful presents.

POLICE COURT JUDGE GOING

Major Hutton Resigns Office to Spend Winter in Old Country.

Major E. E. Hutton, magistrate of the Summerland Police and Small Debts courts, has tendered his resignation with the intention of spending the winter in the Old Country. He will sail about December 21st, and will likely continue to serve in his present capacity until the week prior. At the last meeting of the municipal council, the reeve and Councillors Bristow and Johnston were appointed a committee to suggest a successor. When some person has been selected, he will be recommended to the department of the Attorney-General, by whom the appointment is made.

RADIO REACHES MANY CENTRES

How one can wander over the face of the earth by using the radio was illustrated by Capt. P. S. Roe on Monday night, who had only that day returned home from a long stay at the hospital. Switching about from one broadcasting station to another, he picked up a number from the Pacific coast as far east as Buffalo and Pittsburg, both of which came in very clearly. For a time he listened to an excellent concert being given in a Presbyterian church at Regina. At another time he picked up news-telling of the return of the Kaiser to Germany and plans to establish a monarchy in that country, beginning December 1st.

DEMUTH MOVING HIS SAW MILL

F. DeMuth is preparing to move his mill, which has been operating at DeMuth Sliding, some miles west of here on the K.V.R., to the junction of One Mile and Summers Crooks, just this side of Princeton.

According to an announcement made by Mr. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, the cost of growing cantaloupes in the Provincial Government area is $50 per acre. This figure includes the cost of seed, ploughing, cultivating, irrigating, picking, water tax, and also the interest on deferred payments on the land. Detailed statistics in respect of this particular enterprise show that something like 200 cases of cantaloupes per acre, at $1 per case, or $200 per acre, constitute the return in bulk. From this already has been deducted the cost of cases, packing, freight and all handling charges. In some cases, however, crops have reached 300 cases to the acre, according to reliable information which has been furnished to Mr. Pattullo.

CHORAL SOCIETY FIXES PROGRAM

A special meeting of the Summerland Choral Society was held on Tuesday night. The number, nearly sixty, did not warrant the continuance of the practice of "The Messiah" and it was resolved to take up other work. The society will now commence rehearsal of choruses, glees and part songs and later in the season a smaller sacred work will be undertaken. It is hoped that more will join.

Mr. Cope has consented to continue as conductor and Mr. J. C. Barkwill as secretary.

CHURCH SUPPER AND CONCERT A BIG SUCCESS

Thanksgiving Supper by St. Andrew's Ladies Well Attended.

St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid well upheld their reputation for a treat in their annual Thanksgiving supper and concert which was held on Monday and was well attended, nearly two hundred being served.

Following the supper a concert was given in the church, a splendid program of solos, duet, instrumentals and readings being arranged, including solos by Ben Newton, T. G. Beavis, Alex. Smith, J. O. Steeves and Cyril Mossop, pianoforte selections by Mrs. F. Mossop and the Misses B. Johnston and Alma Lott, and several humorous readings by Mrs. W. Jenkinson.

This was the first time that many of those present have had the opportunity of hearing Mrs. Mossop as a pianist, while Mr. Steeves and Master Cyril Mossop are also newcomers, who will be enthusiastically received by all music lovers.

Mrs. D. L. Sutherland acted as accompanist. The proceeds for the evening were over one hundred dollars.

AMERICANS LIKED "OH SUSANNAH"

C. H. Cordy was in town over last week end and reports that "Oh Susannah" played in Oroville on the 6th, was met with a full house and was greatly appreciated. He declares that the farce was none the less appreciated because of its British tone and color and the troupe has been asked to play there again next year and also in other Valley towns further south.

The British Columbia hop crop will be up to the average, yielding ten bales to the acre. The British Columbia hop is of a high quality and fine color and has a preference in the British market, where the bulk of the production goes.

WANTING NEW DIRECTORATE

Petition for New Associated Board—Nothing Against Present Personnel.

As the result of the movement originating at Kelowna, a petition is being circulated to all the locals affiliated with the Associated Growers for signatures, requesting that steps be taken to bring on the election of the board of directors for next year at an earlier date than is now provided, so that the new board will have ample time to formulate its policy in advance of the shipping season.

The text of the petition is as follows: "To the Directors of The Associated Growers of B.C., Ltd.

"We, the undersigned, have signed a contract with the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Limited, covering our produce.

We hereby request that provision be made for election before the 20th of January, 1924, of the Directors of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Limited. We would suggest (Continued on Page 6)

ASSOCIATED WILL PAY BEST NET RETURNS

Charlie Lowe Predicts Our Growers Will Fare Better Than Americans.

Associated Growers will pay their members a greater net return than any shipping concern in the North-western States. This is the opinion of Charlie Lowe, in an interesting letter to the Associated Growers a few days ago.

It is apparent from the letter that Mr. Lowe is giving the Associated what assistance he can, notwithstanding the fact that he is now making his headquarters in Yakima as a representative of a big English fruit house.

Mr. Lowe's letter reads in part: "The present situation down here is far from being encouraging. Jonathan sales east are netting back from 80c to $1.00; Fancies around 65c to 75c; C grade, 50c to 60c. As there is an immense crop of Winesaps this year the deal has really crystallized. Yakima will have in the neighborhood of 4500 cars of Winesaps with cold storage facilities for approximately 2000 to 2500 cars. Wenatchee will have about 5000 cars with relatively small amount of cold storage space.

At the present time we are informed that there is practically no good cold storage space available west of Chicago, which from the standpoint of storing Winesaps is usually the most desirable place to store them. It simply means that there will be 3000 or more cars of Winesaps that have yet to find cold storage space to take care of them. There have been a great many propositions put forth here by Eastern firms and cold storage people, offering to pay the freight, storage, and advance anywhere from 50c to 75c per box. Most of these offers are now being withdrawn which is going to place those growers, who did not make their deal, in a position where they will have to sell immediately. The banks here are most insistent that the growers who owe them money liquidate at least part by sell. (Continued on Page 6)

LOCAL EGGS ARE WELL MARKETING

Some Changes Made in Conducting Business of the Organization.

Summerland has the best organized and most economically conducted association for the marketing of eggs of any centre in his district, according to H. E. Waby, poultry expert in this district for the Interior.

At a special meeting of the members held last week with the president, Mrs. W. C. W. Fosbery, in the chair and twenty-one members in attendance, the situation resulting from the new Egg Markets Act was considered.

The executive presented certain recommendations which were adopted. These included a resolution to the effect that the Association funds be kept in the Association account and that cheques to members be sent out by the secretary-treasurer. Further that the secretary's salary be $120 a year; that the manager be paid ten per cent. commission on the price received after a deduction of one per cent. for the Association and the cost of crates had been made.

In the case of any account being uncollectable, the manager will lose ten per cent. of such loss. The Association has one such account against the Summerland Lumber Company created before its assignment.

Mr. Waby, following the business session, gave the members a very helpful and interesting talk on poultry subjects. He had been over the district and was well pleased with the local flocks and buildings and believes that it is not necessary to go elsewhere for brooding stock, eggs or baby chicks, (Continued on Page Two)

TIMBER GRANTS SHOW INCREASE

Victoria.—There was an increase in sales of Crown timber during the first 9 months of the present year of 142% over that recorded for the corresponding period in 1922. The first 9 months of 1922 showed 441 sales valued at $466,104.96, as against 624 sales valued at $1,131,030.89 for the same period of this year. Total sales for the year 1922 amounted to $862,888.49, composed of 671 parcels, showing an increase of $268,142.40 in this period, as against the whole of last year.

THE VETERANS PUT ON GOOD SHOW STUNTS

Entertainments at Rialto Well Patronized—New Talent Fills the Bill.

To raise some necessary cash towards meeting a past due note, on their building lot, the members of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association gave a combined entertainment of vaudeville and pictures at the Rialto on Monday and Tuesday last. Bumper houses were accorded them on both occasions, and all attending speak in the highest manner of the quality of the picture menu and the turns between the reels.

A novelty act was sprung upon the unsuspecting audience which turned the house into a riot of mirth. Vic Bernard, a one-armed veteran, was announced as "Signor Bernardino, the great impresario," his silly, very throat chortling something about "A hen with a wooden leg," the first line being as far as he got, as interruptions of an ear-splitting nature at the rear of the stage drowned his efforts. An amusing entry by J. J. Atherton in a wheelbarrow "auto" caused screams. The fun for fifteen minutes was fast and furious until Bernardino strangled his partner. A side-splitting death scene followed, with the spotlight indulging in queer antics; and when the supposedly slain man followed his own funeral bier off stage the house was convulsed. Particular praise is due to Mr. Bernard, who at the eleventh hour filled the bill. This was his initial performance before the public and his straight acting to Mr. Atherton's clowning was good. It was evident to all that the letter had seen the footlights before.

A special one-act monologue was staged by Mr. Atherton in character, that of an old ex-jockey, the audience apparently appreciating this tit-bit. Special music was supplied by the veterans, which was greatly enjoyed. Miss Thelma Lockwood officiated at the piano throughout, and Messrs. Snow and Howland assisted with small parts in the skotch.

FRUIT UNIONS ARE IN COURT

Interesting Case Tried at Vernon—Judgment Is Reserved.

Of particular interest to the people of Summerland is a question which by mutual agreement among the parties concerned, was referred to the court as last week at Vernon. The problem is a development of the going into liquidation of the Summerland Fruit Union and the Okanagan United Growers.

In the spring of 1922, when the Summerland Fruit Union approached the Dominion Bank with a request for an advance against handling charges, the Union had still to receive from the O.U.G. a balance for the 1921 crop. On the other hand, the O.U.G. had a contra account against the Union totalling $24,000. In the fall of 1921, Union directors realized that if this sum was deducted by the O.U.G. from monies coming to the Union they would not have enough money to pay their growers in full, and at their request (Continued on Page Two)

E. R. SIMPSON JOINS COAST JOBBERS

E. R. Simpson has been appointed by the Oscar Brown Co., Ltd., wholesale fruits, etc., Vancouver, as their travelling salesman with the Okanagan and such other material points as can be worked from here as his territory, which will include Nicola, Similkameen, the Boundary, Kootenay and C.P.R. main line points.

Mr. Simpson has for many years been closely identified with the fruit trade through his connections with the Okanagan United Growers as vice-president and a member of the executive and also through the fact that he was president of the Summerland Fruit Union. Mr. Simpson will no doubt prove a valuable representative for the Vancouver concern.

O.U.G. OFFICE COMING HERE

M. G. Wilson, Liquidator, Will Conduct Business From Local Office.

Okanagan United Growers, Ltd., M. G. Wilson, liquidator, is moving its office from Vernon to Summerland. From now until the business is finally wound up, it will be handled from Mr. Wilson's Shaughnessy Avenue office.

For the purpose of making the change Mr. Wilson, accompanied by T. G. Beavis, motored up to Vernon on Tuesday, intending to return on Friday. Miss Logan, who went up to Vancouver when Mr. Wilson took over the direction of O. U. G. affairs and has been in charge of the office there, will come down to the Summerland office.

WERE UNABLE TO PAY TAXES

Ratepayers at Penticton had until November 12th to pay their taxes without penalty being imposed. A similar condition exists there as here in that the most of the ratepayers have received nothing on this year's crop, all monies being received having to go to pay off the loan made by the Bank of Montreal to the co-operative organization. With a view to being able to put some money in the hands of its members in time to pay taxes, the co-operative of Penticton took the same course as did the Summerland co-operative in making a request to the bank that they be given permission to issue cheques to the growers. But the Bank of Montreal took exactly the same stand as they did here, maintaining that the original agreement to repay the entire advance before any money goes to the growers must be adhered to.

CROSSLEY—NIELD.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Friday, November 9th, in St. Stephen's church, when Gertrude Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nield, became the bride of Mr. Cyril Saxon Crossley, of Calgary. The ceremony, which took place at 8 p.m., was performed by Rev. H. A. Solly, only the immediate relatives being present. Mr. and Mrs. Crossley left by motor for Penticton, where they boarded the boat on route for Calgary, where they will reside. (Continued on Page 6)

Cherry returns have been received by the Summerland Co-operative from the Associated and the local office is now busy preparing statements to be issued to growers.

The f.o.b. prices received for the packed fruit are: Black Tartarian, 9 1/2 c; Windsor, $1.34; Black Republican, $1.29; Bing and Lambert, $1.36; Lambert lugs, $1.26; Royal Anne, $1.35; Yellow Spanish, 8 1/2 c; Sours, $1.11.

From these prices local and central charges are deducted.

The local packing and handling charge is 4 1/2 c except on lugs which are 10c less. Local makes a further deduction for insurance, interest depreciation, etc of 1 1/2 c. Central handling charge 5c, central reserve 1c and Growers Packing Houses Ltd reserve 2 1/2 c. A cartage charge of 1c is also made on fruit moved by the Co-operative from the upper to the lower warehouse.

Net prices to the growers, though low, are probably better than many had looked for in view of the trouble that was experienced with shipping. Net returns to the growers for Bings, Lamberts and Royal Annes are over 80c per package; Windsors, 80c; Black Republican, 75c; Tartarians, 87c and Spanish 35c.

Cherries shipped to the canneries, chiefly Royal Annes, which was quite a proportion of the total, were sold through Central. The net returns to the growers have not yet been announced, but it is understood that they will at least equal the price realized for Royal Annes packed and sold on the open market.

Many growers are expressing the opinion that a change should be made in the method of marketing cherries in order to avoid the heavy shrinkage suffered this year, a prevalent idea being that retailers' orders should be filled by the shipping houses here and expressed direct to the order of the wholesaler, who would, however, buy the fruit through the usual channels.

HIGH SCHOOL HEARS TALK ON TAILORING

Theo. Hermon Lecture One of the Best in the Series So Far.

Mr. Theo. Hermon, who addressed the high school students last Friday on "The Art of the Tailor," revealed himself as a fluent and interesting speaker, full of fun and wit and thoroughly soiled of his subject. By general consent his address was voted one of the best given to date, and his promise to come again and actually cut out and fit a suit was greeted by all with loud applause after the principal and Mr. Steeves had thanked him for his able lecture.

Since concludes our reporting Mr. Hermon's speech in full, but the following are some of his enustic, telling and humorous remarks:

"The tailoring trade is not only and demands a long apprenticeship but there is little or no chance for apprenticeships for Canadian boys. The work is left almost entirely to foreign Jews of whom in the Eastern States there are many thousands. "It is impossible to get a suit made in Vancouver by a white man. Japs and Chinese do it all except the cutting. They do it cheaply and can learn the trade in six months. Some white girls are employed, however, by the best firms and can make two pairs of pants a day. "This is the labor cost of a complete suit: coat, $15; vest, $5; pants, $6. This pays better than any other apples in Summerland. "In Leeds there are 40,000 Jews. (Continued on Page 6)

THE PRODIGAL.

THE PARSON sat on the Convict's couch, and the Convict crouched on his stool; and the parson told of the Prodigal Son, and he preached of the Golden Rule; and the Jail Bird's eyes were wet with tears, which streamed to that cold prison floor; for the chaplain's message, apparently, had thrilled him as never before. So he told once again of the Prodigal Son, and how he had ran away; and how he had followed the paths of sin; and how he came home one day; and how all the angels above rejoiced at contrition of penitent men;— so he wept on the neck of the parson, and he murmured: "Please tell me AGAIN!" And the convict drew near to the preacher once more, so close that their breaths did meet; and threw his coarse arms round the chaplain's neck, who did the story again did repeat. "Tell me," he cried to the contrite man, "tell me, my erring one,—is it the thoughts of the Golden Rule, or the tale of the Prodigal Son?" But the Jail Bird sobbed: "It is neither, boss;" then said with a long-drawn sigh: "I ain't whiffed a breath so delicious as yours since the whole darn world went dry!"

DESTRUCTIVE INSECT AND PEST ACT.

In order that the provisions of the Destructive Insect and Pest Act and regulations thereunder should be generally known, a pamphlet covering the matter has been issued from Ottawa, and can be had free on application to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture. Both Act and regulations are administered by the Department through an advisory board composed of Messrs. Arthur Gibson, Dominion Entomologist, chairman; E. S. Archibald, Director Dominion Experimental Farms, vice-chairman; J. H. Grisdale, Dominion Deputy Minister of Agriculture; H. T. Gussow, Dominion Botanist; and L. S. McLaine, chief of the Division of Foreign Pests Suppression, secretary. The regulations went into effect on September 1 this year.

An Oregon chemist has performed the miracle of converting prune juice into wine. Boarding-house patrons may now have the standard breakfast delicacy served brewed or stewed.

While British Columbia apples have won an enviable reputation abroad, increased consumption at home would be substantial evidence of appreciation of one of the province's leading industries.—Vancouver Province.

The Okanagan has long been noted for the unrivalled quality, flavor and color of its apples. Its fame was further enhanced when at the recent Imperial Fruit Show, held in Manchester, the valley product carried off all the leading honors in competition with the Overseas Dominions. There's a reason—scientific cultivation, systematic shipment and ideal climate.—Vancouver Province.

The Enderby Commoner says a trainload of sixty cars of apples goes north through that town every alternate day and remarks, "If the apple crop this year does not bring wealth to the Okanagan, it will not be because of the growers nor of the fruit."

It begins to look as if the only way for our fruit growers to send the price of apples up is to send these independent profiteers and distributors down.—Enderby Commoner.

CO-OPERATION IS DEFINED

Selfish Motives Must Give Place to Community Spirit.

Apparently criticizing a previous contribution in which results in terms of dollars and cents was emphasized, a writer in a Valley contemporary treats the subject of co-operation as below. His comments are reproduced here at the request of a subscriber.
"Now this problem of co-operation is not one which a grower necessarily has to reason out for himself with insufficient data and only in the light of his own small experience. It is notable that almost without exception those best qualified to know endorse the movement—economists, business men, bankers, lawyers, editors and even the principal of those whose interests have heretofore been opposed to ours in the industry. In the light of all this evidence it is not reasonable to suppose that even a non-co-operator can have any doubts of the necessity and the ultimate success of co-operation. They are not fools, but merely men with the pawnbroker. They realize—we all realize—that for the snacker who leaves his fellow growers to fight his fight there are a few immediate extra dollars to be made until the interest gets on its feet, at which time they figure to slip inconspicuously into the fold. And for these unsavory dollars they are willing to jeopardize the chances of thousands of honest men to earn a decent living and of women and little children to comfortable homes, enough to eat and sufficient to wear.

There are men in this community today, men who cannot pay their taxes, cannot make their payments on their land, who are working out, and whose wives are working out, and who realize that their present condition would be infinitely easier if they had signed up with a private concern; but those men are shipping to the Union. There are also men whose circumstances might well permit them to stand by their fellow growers but they are to be found cheek by jowl with Chinaman and Doukhobors engaged in breaking our markets. Now their course may not be selfish, but the fact remains that a very large percentage of the community is above resorting to it.
I think it is about time that we of the co-operative realize that we are embarked in something more than a mere commercial enterprise; that we are a body of people decently standing by each other at some immediate sacrifice to ourselves, in a social movement, not petty and local, but great and world-wide, to gain for ourselves and those similarly circumstanced the reward of our labor as agriculturists, now appropriated by others.
And realising that our efforts are progressive and honorable we shall come to a proper pride in our organization and accord it that loyalty for which our directors are even now appealing—a loyalty that cannot be bought for five cents a box or five dollars.
And for the snacker, let us have no illusions—they are not altruists and they are not even fools. They stand in no need of charity or sympathy for they are quite satisfied with themselves and their reward—their forty pieces of silver.
One great trouble with churches is a lack of him.

Breezelets

By M. K. W.

With this last young gale I'm going to quit, for now that so much genuine literature is being provided by Uncle Joe and the Trifle Con-GOOD- siderer my efforts look like BYE! wheezlets.

Funny about those two! Autolycus can take a mere trifle, practically nothing, dress it up in beautifully constructed sentences and you are carried along in blissful oblivion to the last period. Uncle Joe can take a subject as big as—well the biggest there is—and in a few snappy jingles reduce it to an "un-considered trifle." Gosh! That's what I call talent.

I've a trunk full of scripts which obtuse editors have returned to me "unavailable." Of course when I become famous these same editors will be clamoring for these same neglected brain-bairns of mine, but in the meantime I will lend them to Uncle Joe to make fun of in jingles. I just told my friend; Madge Lovell, what I proposed doing and she jumped up and commenced to rave and she's sore about Uncle Joe's last contrib. As near as I can take down what she is saying it goes like this: As pioneer Naramatian it elevates my dander
To hear such bald effrontery from a mere Summerlander!
"The Duke of Naramata," Uncle Joe shall never be;
And the reason for this say-so is not difficult to see.
When our Nation's Knighthood shall come into its flower,
For sentimental reasons I shall be raised to power.
As "Madge of Naramata" I'll be known by all the peerage,
For Jiggs' dad and my dad came 'cross in the same steerage.
Poor Madge! Good hearted old prune, but she's sort of—well, queer, don't you know. Oh, yes, about those manuscripts,
If Uncle Joe, my script trunk Should ever want the key to,

Etiquette

Any questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to Aleda, care of this newspaper.

Dear Aleda: A friend and I had an argument as to the correct way to butter bread. Will you kindly tell us which is the correct way? (2) Also, are muffins and toast done the same way? (3) And is it poor table manners to eat corn on the cob? Thank you.

—Two Friends.
Bread should be broken into a small piece and held at the edge of the butter plate. Then, taking the butter-knife, put on the butter. It is very poor form to hold the bread in the air while buttering it as we see so many people do. Always touch it to the butter plate. (2) Yes. (3) No. There is no reason why corn should not be eaten on the cob. Personally I think a lot of the real flavor of the corn is lost by cutting it off. A graceful way, therefore, to eat it, is to break the ear in half before commencing to eat.
Dear Aleda: A girl friend of mine is to be married shortly, and I would like to give her a shower. Will you please tell me how to word the invitations? (2) Also, should it be given in the afternoon or evening? With many thanks.

—Margaret V. Penn.
If your shower is to be small and informal, the invitations may be merely verbal. If, however, it is to be a larger affair, send cards by post, worded something like this: "Miss Marion Stewart will have a shower at her home for Miss Chandler, on Wednesday, August 10th, at four o'clock. (2) A shower is usually an informal affair, making the afternoon preferable, but if you wish to include men, the evening is the most popular time.

For hours they had been together on the front porch. The moon cast its tender gleam down on the young and handsome couple who sat so far apart.
He sighed. She sighed. Finally, "I wish I had some money," he said, "I'd travel."
Impulsively she slipped her hand in his, and then rising swiftly, she sped into the house.
Aghast, he looked at his hand. In the palm lay a nickel.

The account of $24,600 was carried over from 1921 to 1922. Before the Dominion Bank would make the advance requested by the Union directors in the spring of 1922 it insisted that the O.U.G. postpone demand for payment of this account until 1922 returns were in. To this the O.U.G. agreed. During the autumn of 1922 $4,600 of this account was paid by the Union, leaving a balance of $20,000 which has not yet been paid; and it was for the purpose of deciding to whom this money should go that the court was appealed to.

M. G. Wilson, trustee of the O.U.G. in bankruptcy, desired to set this sum off against the amount due the Summerland Fruit Union for 1922 crops. The Dominion Bank, the only other party interested, as the growers have been paid for their 1922 account sales, claims that the sum should be paid to it as assignee of the book accounts of the Union. As explained by Mr. Wilson, in having the matter referred to the judge, he simply desired direction of the court as to what course he should pursue. The question was argued before Mr. Justice Morrison for over two hours, the parties concerned having first agreed on stated facts. W. H. D. Ladner, Vernon, represented the O. U. G. in liquidation, and W. C. Kelley the Summerland Fruit Union in liquidation, while A. Alexander of Tiffin and Alexander, Vancouver, represented the Dominion Bank. Decision was reserved by the judge. In the meantime, the $20,000 is held in the bank in escrow.

Peach Stains.—A peach stain is very difficult to remove. It may be done, however, if these directions are followed. First wet the stain thoroughly, then spread cream of tartar on it. After this wash in the ordinary way. It will probably be necessary to repeat the process if the stain is very old.

Frying Eggs.—Put a spoonful of flour in the pan in which eggs are to be fried. This will not only keep them from sticking, but from breaking as well.

Stuffed Eggs.—When eggs are to be stuffed they should be put in cold water as soon as they are taken from the stove. This will keep the whites in better shape.

Needless Exertion.
Jimmy's mother was giving him a sound scolding about his unwashed neck.
"You know you haven't washed your neck," said his mother.
"Gee whiz!" said Jimmy, a note of desperation creeping into his voice, "aint I goin' to wear a collar?"

SPECIAL SALE OF JONATHANS

Associated Growers and Coast Distributors are Making Drive

Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd. have launched a campaign for the sale in Vancouver and Victoria of a number of cars of crated Jonathans. The apples are being offered to the consumer at $1.35 a crate. It is stated that the price of o. b. Okanagan will be 75 cents. Six carloads arrived in Vancouver last week end and others have been going forward. Summerland is not supplying any of these crated apples, the local fruit having been already disposed of.

T. H. Bulman, of the Associated executive, is in Vancouver and is receiving splendid co-operation from the wholesale and retail trade. The campaign opened on Tuesday.

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles."

The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

One of those brisk little paragraphs which follow on after the editorials in the "Vancouver Province" refers to the circumstance that part of a cargo of a vessel sailing from Toronto to the Pacific coast is composed of honey, and, by the way of comment says, "We HAVE THE HONEY, have the milk. The door to the Promised Land is wide open."

So far as it goes, the paragraph is doubtless correct, but the inference that we have to look to Ontario for honey is one which indicates considerable misapprehension of facts. If there is any product in which this end of Canada should, and does, excel it is honey. British Columbia alone was responsible for approximately three quarters of a million pounds in 1922, and doubtless Alberta produced her full quota, although I have no figures at hand. The Fraser Valleys produced rather more than half the total given, which is not surprising when the nature of the crops is kept in mind. It would certainly be a remarkable matter if a province largely devoted to the growing of fruit, would fall short of honey production. And the quality would quite naturally speak for itself.

I notice that automobilists are finding out that honey mixed with water makes one of the best anti-freezing mixtures for use in their radiators. A fifty-fifty solution is said to be the correct proportion for ordinary climates. Two points to be observed are that all fittings must be tight, as honey will creep through where even water will hesitate, and further, that allowance must be made for expansion. One important benefit to the autoist is that the honey will not evaporate, and only needs more water as needed through the winter.

It seems strange that a bee product should come to the assistance of "Lizzie" and her more aristocratic companions, but it is only one more avenue of usefulness to be credited to this most indefatigable worker. Our dentists find nothing to supersede pure beeswax in making "first impressions" in their business, and the same can be said concerning grafters, by which I do not mean the genus we generally associate with politics, but those persons who do real productive work in the orchard or rose garden. The idea of purity doubtless underlies the exclusive use of this product by the Roman Catholic church for their altar candles, and may well overbalance that element which many people call superstition. The candle moulded in memory of Caruso, and placed in an Italian church, is of pure beeswax, and it is said will burn for a thousand years.

Even the sting of the bee is utilized by the medical profession, the poison being reputed valuable for certain purposes. I must admit that this use seems rather repugnant, since it means the killing of many thousands of workers for a comparatively small result.

One after another the provinces of Canada find it expedient to relinquish the vain attempt to enforce total abstinence, and are returning to conditions which probably command themselves to the great majority, and will in the EXPERENTIA end bring about real temperance. Prohibition DOCET. was carried on a wave of more or less hysterical enthusiasm, but has never had the full support of public opinion. It has never even been seriously accepted, but has been violated in all directions as a matter of course. Not only has it failed to do what it was (by its advocates) expected to do—it has on the contrary, bred a contempt for law which has become a real menace. In the country of its chief activities it has brought about conditions which are admittedly a national scandal, and it is practically certain that, if the matter could be put to the general vote, the Eighteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution would be abrogated in short order. The reason for the failure of prohibition is to be found in the arbitrary character of legislation which sought to deprive entire populations of perfectly wholesome beverages on the ground that they were abused by a very small minority. Such an attempt was certain to fail by reason of its inherent lack of proportion. The common sense of the average individual revolted against such a drastic attempt at reform, and in practice it has been found impossible to enforce the law. Prohibitionists cannot complain that they have not had their opportunity—every effort has been made to carry out the provisions of the Act, and its collapse is simply due to lack of public sympathy. Much was expected of the women's vote, but that has apparently been given in an unlooked for direction. The passing of the Prohibition Act was brought about by what we know as mass sentiment, produced and fed by a whirlwind campaign of speeches, lectures and sermons poured out on people whose equilibrium was already unbalanced by the greatest war in history—it is today being deliberately rejected by the same people in a more normal state of mind and also wiser by the experience of several ineffectual prohibitions. It is now time for the extremists to modify their policy and work for the development of real temperance which has nothing in common with total abstinence.

Several months have elapsed since the public were promised statements concerning permanent results from the alleged cures of Dr. Price, in Vancouver, and also figures as to the financial side of his campaign of healing. NO FIGURES A statement has now been issued by the committee assembled to enquire and report on these two matters, which will hardly surprise the average person. With regard to the figures, the committee regret to report that the Reverend gentleman has, after repeated requests, failed to furnish the desired particulars, and we are therefore left to form our own conclusions as to the profits derived, or the losses incurred by the evangelist. All we actually know is that the many thousand people who attended the meetings gave liberally, and that therefore any benefits which may have been derived, were certainly not without money and without price. That a statement as to permanent cures is still delayed for the securing of further evidence is quite in keeping with the rest—it must necessarily be hard to find permanent cures to report when none exist, and the committee need not take it to heart if their final statement is rather disappointing. But the fact that so many thousands of people have been, and apparently still are, in other places, willing to be led away by such glorified Coueism as that staged in Vancouver, is certainly rather astonishing.

The portraits scattered through the pages of the average city daily are a source of some bewilderment to the hasty reader, who finds it hard to sort them out and put them in their right places. This does not apply to the NEWSPAPER PORTRAITS. "convenors" of various social functions, nor to those works of art on the sports page, whereon we are regaled with representations of gentlemen in scanty costume and in the most approved attitudes of self defence. These carry their own labels, as it were, and are easily placed. But there is a great difficulty in promptly distinguishing between the portrait of some noted diplomat, writer or speaker in the public eye at the moment, and that of the individual whose claim to pictorial fame is the alleged fact of his or her marvellous recovery from a wasting illness after a short course of some specified patent medicine. The unsophisticated reader, after vainly endeavoring to find evidences of genius in a given face, is apt to discover that his labour is lost, since he has been studying the features of an unknown person who has been providentially restored to health after three bottles of the elixir of life—as advertised. AUTOLYCUS.

SOIL MOISTURE PROBLEMS

R. C. Palmer, Assistant Superintendent, Experimental Station.

No man who is attempting to gain a living by tilling the soil in the dry belt of British Columbia can afford to neglect the study of his soil moisture problems. Now that the summer is past there is a tendency on the part of many growers to consider that their soil moisture problems are disposed of for another year. The question of soil moisture is of such vital importance, however, that it cannot be laid aside even in the heart of winter, much less during the autumn months.

Failure to give the question of soil moisture its full measure of attention during the autumn months often meets with disastrous results. This is especially the case in tree fruit areas. Observations made at the Experimental Station, Summerland, indicate that a great deal of winter injury is due to the fact that trees are allowed to go into the winter with their roots in a dry condition. After the winter of 1919 a number of trees at the Experimental Station were found to have suffered injury. On examination of the soil beneath these trees it was found that they were located where the subsoil was of a gravelly nature or in situations difficult to irrigate. During the winter of 1921-22 a number of cherries and pears were killed outright, while peaches, plums and apricots suffered so seriously that they produced no crop the following season. These trees were located in an orchard where alfalfa was started during the summer of 1921. In September of that year, after the regular supply of irrigation water had been cut off, this orchard dried out to such an extent that defoliation took place almost a month earlier than usual. No serious injury was apparent, however, until the following spring, when the trees showed unmistakable signs of winter injury. In the spring of 1922 winter injury was evident in an apple orchard which had been seeded to alfalfa the previous summer. This orchard, also, had been badly dried out in the fall of 1921.

In order to determine what effect fall irrigation would have on an orchard in such a condition water was applied to one half of this block in the first week of November. A similar application was made to an adjoining block where there was already a good content of moisture in the soil. The effect of applying the water to the dry orchard was clearly apparent in the spring of 1922. The cover crop showed a distinct line of demarcation until well on into the summer, being at least six inches higher where the fall irrigation had been applied. The beneficial effect of the fall irrigation on the trees was also quite marked, and is still noticeable in 1923. The application of water in the fall of 1921 to the block where there was no deficiency in the soil moisture supply had no such pronounced effect; in fact it was impossible to detect any difference, either in the cover crop or in the trees, between the part of the block where fall irrigation had been practised, and the part where no water had been applied after September 1st.

It is evident, therefore, that winter injury is often associated with a deficiency of soil moisture in the autumn months; and that it can, at least in some cases, be largely prevented by judicious fall irrigation. It is also apparent that there is no object in applying water in the autumn to a soil which is already well supplied with moisture. The advisability of applying water in the fall depends largely on the amount of moisture already present in the soil at that time. Where an examination of the soil to a depth of several feet shows it to be deficient in moisture there is no doubt that fall irrigation is not only desirable but actually a necessity.

At the Summerland Station a small post hole auger is used to determine the soil moisture condition. By boring holes to a depth of three feet in various parts of an orchard it is possible to determine when irrigation is needed. We feel confident that if every orchardist would take the trouble to dig holes and find out the actual moisture conditions which exist in his soil it would be possible to prevent a great deal of the winter injury, drought spot, and core rot, which have been so serious in the dry belt this year.

In the semi-arid and irrigated regions success comes only to those who solve the problem of how to maintain uniform conditions of soil moisture throughout the year.

HELPFUL ADDRESS ON HOME NURSING

At the regular meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute held on Friday afternoon, various questions arising at the Conference were discussed and reports heard from the several committees. A vote of thanks to the Board of Trade for their co-operation in entertaining the delegates at the convention was heartily endorsed by all. Mrs. Windeler gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "Home Nursing," which was greatly appreciated. Afternoon tea was served at the close of the meeting.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot, Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. ***

NATIONAL WAY SAVES MANY HOURS

GIVING the shortest direct line between eastern and western cities, and not only reducing cost of operation to the railway, but also saving many hours for business men travelling between eastern and western Canada, the Long Lake cutoff of the Canadian National Railways will be ready for operation on December 1st, it is expected. By constructing 30 miles of a cutoff, joining the former Canadian Northern main line through Ontario with the Canadian National Transcontinental line, a saving of 70.2 miles will be made in the distance between Winnipeg and Montreal, while the saving between Winnipeg and Toronto will be 102.6 miles. Instead of having to follow the bend of the former Canadian Northern line down to Fort Francis and Port Arthur, thence to Toronto by the Transcontinental line to Nankina and thence down the cutoff to Long Lake, the most northerly point of the Canadian Northern former main line, business men travelling to Montreal from Winnipeg will thus save three hours and those travelling to Toronto slightly over four hours.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption notices are to be issued for five years and improvements made to the value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranging, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Peachland Doings

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Apples have been moving out pretty rapidly for the past few days, and it is expected that all will be cleaned up in the very near future.

The pheasant season closed with comparatively few having been bagged in Peachland municipality. According to reports, hardware merchants profited considerably by the open season on these birds, many rounds of ammunition having been expended. Sportsmen report the birds hard to find, hard to shoot and hard to get when you do shoot them. Practise makes perfect and next year should see the cooks with more pheasants to prepare.

Work is progressing favorably on the improvements around the monument. The square curb around the monument has been formed and street curb started. F. Topham and Sons are carrying out the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Craig recently returned to Peachland and will leave again for the States where Mr. Craig will seek employment for a time.

"Brighten up" seems to be the motto in a few of the sections of the community just now. The Baptist church has received a coat of paint in preparation for a finish coat which it is to have this fall if weather permits. Mr. E. Ruffe is doing the work. Mr. G. H. V. Bulyea is having the roof of his residence painted and expects to complete painting the house in the spring. Mr. G. Lang is the painter.

Major R. G. Hardisty left recently on a business trip East. He will probably be absent a goodly portion of the winter.

Just when it was thought the ban on account of the measles could be lifted and the school re-opened, several new cases developed in various parts of the community and all meetings and public gatherings were suspended. There were no church services or Sunday School sessions held on Sunday. It would be difficult to say to what extent the ban will have to run as there is no knowing to what extent the contagion has spread. There are some eight cases reported at the time of writing. A definite program had been announced to be held in the Union church on Sunday in commemoration of Armistice Day, but owing to the ban it was not carried out. The church bell was rung one stroke, however, at eleven o'clock, the two minutes silence recognized, and the bell again given one stroke.

Mrs. R. O. McCall and son, Carleton, accompanied by her sister, Miss Guest of Penticton, came up Monday morning to spend the day visiting relatives and friends in Peachland. They were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. MacKenzie and family.

F. R. Gartrell and R. Johnson of Summerland, passed through town on Monday forenoon on their way west for a deer hunt.

The Horswill family moved down town last week for the winter months, Mr. Horswill having rented the Mark Manchester house.

The Anglicans hold their Harvest Festival on Sunday evening, Nov. 11. A. Solly officiating. The Boy Scouts and Girl Guides attended in full force, and there was also a large congregation, the church being filled. Special music by the choir included the anthem, "O Lord, How Manifold" offertory sentences by Barnby, and favorite harvest hymns. The sermon was on the need for more thankfulness, the preacher pointing out that our blessings were greater than were generally acknowledged. The church was nicely decorated by a few ladies of the congregation, and the service was in keeping with the occasion. The music was in charge of Mrs. Langrue and Mr. Weaver, the former presiding at the organ.

Mrs. M. M. Allen left on Saturday for the Coast, where the family are staying for the winter.

Monday evening saw a large gathering in the Naramata Hall under the auspices of the Unity Club, the occasion being commemorative of Armistice Day. The chair was taken by Mr. J. M. Robinson, who hoped the gathering would become a fixed annual event. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. H. A. Solly, who gave a brief synopsis of the events leading up to 1914, and their sequel four years later. He emphasized the fact that Armistice Day was not observed as an expression of triumph over a defeated enemy, but in memory of those who had given their lives in defence of the Empire. An attractive program was followed by light refreshments, after which the floor was cleared for dancing.

The program was as follows: "O Canada," by the audience; piano duet, Miss Rayner and Mr. Howard Rounds; vocal solo, Miss Lila Young; reading, Miss Gordon; vocal duet, Miss Rayner and Mr. Geo. Weaver; vocal solo, Mrs. McAllister; reading, Miss Glasser; reading, Mrs. Cross; The National Anthem.

An Old Country paper gives the following account of a new type of box or "case," as it is termed in the British fruit trade, which is being tried out in the shipment of apples from Australia:

"A new export case, the invention of an Australian, is being tried out in a shipment of 500 cases of apples now going forward from Melbourne to London, according to the Canadian Department of Trade and Commerce. The case is known as the "air free" case, and aims to solve the problems of ventilation and bruising. If the advantages claimed for the new case are evident in the experimental shipment, it will probably be largely used in future consignments from Australia.

In construction, the case resembles the ordinary standard case, except that the sides consist of three slats, the top and bottom slats being twice as thick as the middle one. The difference in the thickness makes a groove running the length of the case, along which, when the fruit is stacked, air can pass so freely that the use of "dunnage" between the tiers of the stack is rendered unnecessary. Further, the thickness of the slats, which help form the corners, gives such strength at the corners that there is claimed to be no possibility of the case breaking open, or of strain bruising the fruit inside."

Just to hand is the official report of Captain S. Robinson, R.N.R., commander of the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of Australia, on the Japanese earthquake, the fire and the subsequent relief operations, in all of which Captain Robinson, his officers and crew played a part which had made them and their ship famous throughout the world. The report deals with the disaster from the moment of the first shock, on Saturday, September 1st, till the ship left Yokohama on her return voyage to Vancouver on Wednesday, September 12th, and is more thrilling than any fictitious narrative of wild adventure at sea.

The manner in which Captain Robinson dealt with the various dangerous situations which pressed upon his ship in rapid succession, first through fire on the wharf to which she was moored, then through oil blazing to a height of 200 feet all round the vessel, and finally manoeuvred his partially disabled charge to a place of safety outside the harbour, though told with great modesty, leaves the reader filled with admiration, and the particulars of the innumerable steps afterwards taken to aid the refugees add to this feeling. The many general details the report contains makes it a most valuable contribution to the historical records of the catastrophe.

One may subscribe heartily to the tributes paid Captain Robinson and those under him by various committees in letters appended to the report. The American Relief Committee states that "We know that the lives of all on board the ship during the first two days were constantly in the hands of you, your officers and crew. It was your able, skilful and courageous handling of the many critical situations that saved us all . . . and the kindly, courteous and efficient manner in which you cared for the refugees, regardless of condition, nationality, or colour, was marvellous." The British refugees and passengers subscribe to these sentiments and add that "the traditions of the British mercantile marine service have been maintained."

CANADIAN APPLE IS WORTH OVER TWENTY MILLIONS

This year the apple crop of Canada will amount to approximately 10,800,000 boxes or about 15,500 carloads, according to figures that have recently been issued by the fruit department of the Dominion government.

In the current issue of the Monetary Times the government figures are given as follows: Nova Scotia crop, 1,500,000 barrels; British Columbia, 3,142,000 boxes; Ontario, 650,000 barrels; Quebec, 33,000 barrels; and New Brunswick, 10,000 barrels.

There are approximately three and a half boxes of apples in the barrel, which is the eastern measure, so that the total in boxes would run as follows: Nova Scotia, 3,250,000 boxes; British Columbia, 3,142,000 boxes; Ontario, 2,275,000; Quebec, 110,000; and New Brunswick, 35,500, making the total approximately 10,800,000 boxes. There are 700 boxes to a car. On that basis the railway companies would be interested in the haulage of about 15,500.

Estimating the average price of a box of apples from coast to coast at about $2, the value of the Canadian apple crop this year may be calculated at a little over $21,000,000.

A Happy Ending

Sunday School Teacher: "Now, Willie, what was your 'good' act for the week? Who did you make happy?"
Willie: "My Aunt Carrie. I went to see her and she was happy when I left."

Easy Come—Easy Go

They were driving along in their car. The old-fashioned mother and the modern flapper daughter.
"Betty, dear," asked the mother, "is that man on the corner throwing you a kiss?"
"Yes, mother," said the m.f.d., "but I'm throwing it back."

Bill Wilson came in from New Westminster on Saturday morning and spent the week end here.

Miss Muriel Wilson went over to Princeton on Saturday to spend Thanksgiving with friends there.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gould on Saturday, November 10, at the Summerland Hospital.

Miss Maud Kincaid came down from Kelowna on Saturday and spent the week end here, the guest of Miss Rene Harris.

Mrs. E. Thierstein and children, of Tacoma, Washington, are visiting Mrs. Thierstein's mother, Mrs. C. A. Walter of Peach Orchard.

Accounts for the month of October totalling $4,851.89 were examined and passed for payment by the municipal council on Saturday.

F. R. Gartrell and R. Johnston left early this week to go by way of Peachland to Kathleen Mountain on a hunting expedition.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Simey on Friday, November 9th, at the Summerland hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Arnett, who have been living on their fruit ranch here for some weeks, left on Monday to return to Dauphin, Manitoba, by way of Vancouver.

That the lad, Oscar Rovers, recently killed in an accident in Vancouver, is not the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rovers, who moved from here to Vancouver a few weeks ago, was the cheering news received here by friends last week-end.

J. J. Baker, Mineola, is now in charge of the public school there. He is supplying until the end of the term. The young lady teacher left a while ago, and, failing to return, Mr. Baker was persuaded to carry on until Christmas.

An offer by W. A. Caldwell to improve the grade at the Orr corner was considered by the Municipal Council on Saturday, but no decision was reached. Mr. Caldwell offered to do a satisfactory job for twenty-five dollars.

The Summerland Band is resuming practices for the winter season, the first practice to be held on Tuesday next, November 20th, at 7.30 in the school building. It is hoped to have a good turnout and a request has been made that all who have instruments will bring them in at this practice.

An offer of fifteen dollars made by Simpson and Gowans, Ltd., for an old barn on the property next the Chinese laundry west of the Empire Hall, was not accepted by the Council. Disposal of the property was considered last Saturday, and it was decided to rent until a satisfactory price could be obtained for lot and building.

Water in Hilborn Lake, so called, is receding rapidly, according to statements made at the Municipal Council meeting on Saturday. A letter from the Post Office Inspector with respect to the detour which the rural route courier has been making was read and in answer the clerk will advise the inspector that the road which had been flooded by the lake can now be used.

Mrs. Ball of Armstrong has been visiting her daughter here, Miss Bertha Ball.

R. Pollock went down to the Coast on Saturday last. He will be away about a week.

Sisson Benson, of Kelowna, spent last week end here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Cooper.

Just arrived! Mackinaws, Sweaters, and Caps at the Stark Supply Company. 16

Mrs. H. E. Raby, Calgary, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Craig; she arrived here by boat Friday night.

Alan Cross came down from Salmon Arm and spent the week end with friends here.

Mrs. D. Howson returned on Saturday from Keremeos, where she has been visiting her daughter for a week.

Mrs. G. H. Inglis returned on Tuesday from the Coast. Mrs. Inglis motored down to Vancouver a short time ago with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Eisey.

Mrs. W. T. Hunter will receive with her mother, Mrs. Brindle, at her home, Experimental Station, Summerland, on Thursday, November 22nd, from 3.30 to 5.30.

Attention is directed to the official announcement elsewhere of the Southern Okanagan Poultry show which will be held in Penicton.

Hold your purchases on aluminum ware for the present. There is rolling towards us another large consignment of all kinds of kitchen articles at genuine bargain prices. Stark Supply Co. 16

Mrs. J. J. Atherton, Miss Winifred, and Masters Frank and Joe arrived from Kelowna this week to join Mr. Atherton. The family have taken up residence at the Rowley house on Beach Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lumsden and Mrs. Lumsden's son, George Dewar, are leaving by automobile tomorrow to go to Redlands, California, with the intention of spending the winter there.

The staff of the Co-operative packing houses held a very successful dance in Empire Hall on Friday, when a capacity crowd attended. Music was supplied by Emmerton's orchestra from Penicton.

Mrs. C. J. Coultas spent last week in town attending to business in connection with the sale of their household effects. The auction on Thursday was attended by a large number of citizens and very satisfactory prices were realized.

Jas. Ritchie came in from the Coast a few days ago. With him are three men who have been looking over the property of the Summerland Lumber Company with a view to purchase.

Dr. F. W. Andrew returned home Saturday night. After attending the annual session of the American College of Surgeons at Chicago, Dr. Andrew proceeded to New York, where he visited with relatives for a few days. Returning by way of the C. P. R., he stopped off a day in Ontario to call on Mrs. Andrew's relatives and to congratulate her grandnephew, who was then celebrating her hundredth birthday.

The committee appointed by the golf club to select a suitable site for a course has been looking over a number of properties this week and will be prepared to make a recommendation to the general meeting to be held on Friday night.

John McLeod, who is principal of the high school at Keremeos, passed through here today on his way to Vancouver to attend the funeral of his father, Edna, who died yesterday after an illness of several years. Rev. A. W. McLeod and Mrs. McLeod have the sympathy of a large circle of friends made during their residence here.

The greatest sympathy is expressed everywhere for Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Craig, who are experiencing an undue measure of trouble. Since the loss of their two children, the eldest and only remaining child has been very slow in making any recovery and on Sunday he was operated on for measles, but since that time his condition has been very satisfactory. Unfortunately, his mother had to undergo an operation on Monday for the same trouble.

Mrs. S. F. Sharp, who went down to the Coast some days ago upon the advice of her doctor, is already considerably benefitted by the change. She will be away for a month at least.

S.S. Sicamous came in here Sunday morning and, by revolving her paddle wheel along the channel approaching the carship, had soon dredged that deeper by about three feet. The wheel stirred up the mud which was carried away by the water thus put in motion.

Russell Munn left here on Tuesday morning for Vancouver and will be joined there this week end by Jimmy Smith, when both will go down to California.

Much sympathy is being expressed for the Derrick family among those who have learned of their series of troubles. Some time ago two of the children were taken sick and later the other two developed scarlet fever. More recently Mrs. Derrick was taken ill and had to go to bed and finally Mr. Derrick has been stricken with some trouble in his knee and he, too, is in bed suffering a high temperature. The two older children are about again.

BASKETBALL SEASON STARTED LAST NIGHT

The first basketball played here this season was staged in the College gymnasium last night, when two games were played, one between the Tuxis Boys of the Baptist church and a team of local Scouts, and the other a match between Summerland and Naramata senior teams. The first game was won by the Tuxis Boys, while in the second game Summerland came out ahead with a score of 14-8. A new man on the forward line of the Summerland senior team, H. Daniel of the public school staff, promises to be a valuable addition to our local force this winter, doing most of the scoring in the last game. Quite a number of basketball enthusiasts attended from Naramata.

HELPFUL HINTS

To Remove Paraffin.—If paraffin sticks to a vessel in which it has been melted, fill the vessel with boiling water. When cool, the paraffin will be floating on top and can then be poured off.

Rugs.—Many experience trouble with their rugs curling at the corner. To remedy this, first wet the corners thoroughly. Next place boards on them. Then leave to dry. When the boards are removed the edges will be straight.

Wet Shoes.—When shoes are wet, let them dry by themselves. Artificial methods are injurious to the leather.

Kitchen Walls.—Kitchen walls should be painted — not papered. This way they are much more sanitary and will wash.

Coffee.—A pinch of salt in the coffee adds greatly to its flavor.

To Revive a Fire.—Dried orange or lemon peel thrown on a dying fire will soon revive it. A bit of sugar sprinkled on will have the same effect.

A Mop.—If an oil mop is brushed with a whisk broom, after being used, it will not become matted, as is its tendency.

Glass Ware.—To make glass ware glisten follow these directions: Wash the piece carefully, and then rinse in hot water. After this, place in cold water in which a handful of starch has been dissolved. Then dry thoroughly and polish with a dry cloth.

Whipped Cream.—A teaspoonful of drained honey will sweeten whipped cream and make it remain stiff for a whole day, at the same time giving it a delightful flavor.

Vines.—A glass receptacle is the best thing that can be used to grow vines and slips in, as this allows the sun to get at their roots.

White Leather.—To clean white leather bags, belts, etc., use oxide of zinc.

Birds.—If your canary refuses to take his bath just sprinkle a few seeds on top of the water and he will be drawn to his tub.

A. RUTHERFORD LOSES MOTHER

Word of the death of Mrs. Andrew Rutherford, of Bradwardine, Manitoba, has been received here by her son, Archie Rutherford.

The late Mrs. Rutherford was born in 1833. She and her husband were believed to be the oldest married couple in Canada, having been wedded in 1854. Mr. Rutherford, who survives her, is ninety-one years of age.

The couple, after coming from Scotland forty-one years ago, homesteaded in Manitoba, where they lived until 1916, when they retired to a smaller farm near their homestead. Ten of their fourteen children still survive, two of them living in British Columbia; Archie, a pioneer citizen of Summerland, and Mrs. Robert Thompson, of Vancouver.

A CREED FOR THE DISCOURAGED

Virginia Opal Myers, in "The Tranquillan," at the T. B. Sanatorium, Tranquille, B. C.:

"I believe that God created me to be happy, to enjoy the blessings of life, to be useful to my fellow beings, and an honor to my country.

I believe that the trials which beset me today are but the fiery tests by which my character is strengthened, ennobled and made worthy to enjoy the higher things of life, which I believe are in store for me.

I believe that my soul is too grand to be crushed by defeat; I will rise above it.

I believe that I am the architect of my own fate; therefore, I will be master of circumstances and surroundings, not their slaves.

I will not yield to discouragements. I will trample them underfoot and make them serve as stepping-stones to success. I will conquer my obstacles and turn them into opportunities.

My failures of today will help to guide me on to victory on the morrow.

The morrow will bring new strength, new hopes, new opportunities and new happenings. I will be ready to meet it with a brave heart, a calm mind and an undaunted spirit.

In all things I will do my best, and leave the rest to the Infinite.

I will not waste my mental energies by useless worry. I will learn to dominate my restless thoughts and look on the bright side of things. I will face the world bravely. I will not be a coward. I will assert my God-given birthright and be a man. For I am immortal and being can overcome me."

I understand the doctors have given you up."

"Yes, but I really did intend to pay them sometime."

A Willing Worker.
The bargaining for a cow had been going on for an hour.

Finally the prospective purchaser came flatly to the point.

"How much milk does she give?" he asked.

"I don't rightly know," answered the farmer who owned her, "but she's a darn good-natured critter and she'll give all she can."

She Gave Him Away.
Christmas Shopper—"I would like to look at some cheap skates."

Saleslady—"Wait a second, I'll call the boss."

Caution—Go Slow!
He—"Why do blushes creep over girls' faces?"

She—"Because if they ran they would kick up too much dust."

The worse half—"I went over our car maintenance accounts today. We really can't afford to keep a car. We'll have to do something."

The Better Half, sweetly—"Righto, dear, cut out keeping accounts."

Dapper—"Did you ever kiss a girl when she wasn't expecting it?"

Dan—"I doubt it."

Some folks say they don't get enough out of church to pay for the trouble, and the church might say the same of them.

An Old-Timer

An elderly woman paid her first visit to the dentist to have several teeth extracted. "Will you have gas, madam?" she was asked. "Certainly," she replied. "I don't want you fumbling in the dark."

Armistice and Thanksgiving

land Baptist church opened with a beautiful extemporary prayer which found response in the fervent hearts of all his hearers. Rev. H. A. Solly of St. Stephen's church read the collect the congregation joining heartily. Ben Newton rendered an appropriate solo in splendid voice.

To Rev. W. A. Alexander was allocated the task of delivering the address. The pastor of St. Andrew's Union church, in an eloquent homily, took his text from Nehemiah 2:17: "Come and let us build." He said in part:

"The Armistice Day is for two things. First, to commemorate the cessation of hostilities in the Great War; second, in memory of the sixty-five thousand Canadians and millions of Allies who made the supreme sacrifice on our behalf."

The earlier days of the war were reviewed; the ready response for recruits, the sad scenes during the war, the efforts towards reconstruction by the devastated nations. "Nehemiah's call was first, to a great national service; secondly, to a great national religion. In our building up of national life and national relationships we must build upon a base of honor, justice, equity and righteousness. The Golden Rule must be observed in our national life as well as in our individual life. There are three agencies that we look to with a measure of hope: first, the church of our blessed Lord. Many statesmen and outstanding military men, as well as educationalists, look to the church for leadership. The right hand pillar of the church is the home where character should be built and high ideals of truth and fraternity and righteousness. The left hand pillar is the school. Germany in her schools from 1870 to 1914 had taught nationalism first. Thus her youth became imbued with the idea of sacrificing everything for the nation. Our schools must keep the highest ideals foremost and that can be done only when character is placed first. 'Love' justice; speak the truth, speak righteousness; come let us build."

Services at the various churches are given below in alphabetical order. St. Andrew's Thanksgiving service was marked by a good congregation and special music by the choir. Two special anthems were rendered for the day. The two-minute silence was observed, the congregation bowing reverently in prayer. The sermon was based on Hebrews 11:21: "The Crossed Hands of Blessing." We should be thankful not for what we have but for what we are, for we are Christians. The homily and grateful only for material things, but Christians for spiritual anticipation. Jacob was a pilgrim, a sojourner, dependent upon charity; nevertheless, he bequeathed a great country to his children. John Wesley left a great Methodist church to his followers. When the light went out of Harry Lauder's life when his son was slain in the war, he said that all that was left was drink, despair or God. He made the wise choice. We may be thankful in adversity if we believe in God. For faith is the substance of things hoped for. The Christian can be thankful when the wind is in the East; he can rejoice when the day is cloudy; he can sing with faith in the stocks. The Allies fought with their backs to a stone wall, nevertheless they defied terms of peace. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount upon wings as doth the eagle; they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint."

Summerland Baptist church held large congregations at all services. In the morning the alliance of two minutes was observed. Special Thanksgiving music was rendered under the leadership of J. O. Steeves, while solos were rendered by Miss Carol Graham, Mr. Steeves and Mr. Danloll. The church was decorated with a lavish supply of fruit and vegetables. In the evening a crowded congregation listened to the pastor, Rev. Z. L. Fash, whose subject was "Some Things We Should Know about Russellism."

At the Lakeside Methodist church a specially augmented choir rendered a prepared song service in the evening, which included anthems and congregational singing. A solo was rendered by I. W. Booth, "Ninety and Nine," and Rev. H. J. Armitage delivered a special Thanksgiving address. It is noteworthy that the congregation at the Lakeside Methodist church has increased numerically since the labor here of the Rev. Armitage began. An appeal was made for a Thanksgiving offering which resulted in seventy dollars forthcoming.

Service at St. Stephen's church paid due tribute to the occasion of sacred commemoration. As soon as the bell stopped the two minutes' silence was observed, following which Mr. Cope played the Dead March in Saul. The full choral service was taken and Mr. Solly preached a very sympathetic and expressive service on Armistice Day.

ASSOCIATED WILL PAY BEST RETURNS

ing their Winesaps for cash, and not let them go East and pass out of the control of the growers as well as the bank. For this reason it is predicted that Extra Winesaps will be purchased in this district in a very short time on the basis of $1.00 per box for Extra Fancies to the grower.

You must also take into consideration that besides all the Winesaps there are immense tonnages of Staymens, Romes, Spitzbergers, and Newtowns that must be taken care of somewhere.

The situation surely is not encouraging from the growers' standpoint, and we believe that if we have stated conditions correctly, which we believe we have, when the deal is over in the Northwest you will find that the Associated Growers will pay a greater net return to their growers than any shipping concern in the Northwest.

Taking the Jonathan deal here alone, it is almost a certainty that it will not pay the growers a cent and possibly, on the average, red ink.

HIGH SCHOOL HEARS LECTURE

nine-tenths of whom are engaged in the tailoring trade. When I was in the army in 1914, I was the only tailor among 1000 men. But in the continental conscript armies there are many tailors, for each soldier is taught a trade. More white men should learn the trade, whereas we are being invaded by Japs and Chinese."

Mr. Harmon caused much surprise when he remarked that "there is not one school or place in the whole of Canada where cutting is taught, and not one Canadian fashion plate or trade journal." Yet expert cutters in the big cities can earn anything from $100 to $500 weekly, while lady designers could command very high salaries indeed. He urged on local girls to take up designing and cutting. "There is a lucrative field open in every city of Canada and the U.S.A. for Summerland girls in this direction."

Mr. Harmon caused much mirth at the close of his address by the naive remark: "There is not much status attached to the tailor's calling—as the dentist's, for instance. The latter doctors your teeth, but we doctor your clothes."

However that may be, his honours voted Mr. Harmon a good fellow. May he come again soon, and more power to his yard stick!—Cont.

gest that the first annual general meeting (as provided for in Article 44 of the Articles of Association of the Company) be held not later than January 20, 1924, and that, after election of Directors, this meeting adjourn until May 15th to receive the annual report. It would be understood that the Directors would take office immediately after election and continue in office for a full year.

These dates are suggested by us so that the Directors and management may have the opportunity, and especially the time, to decide and arrange for any changes deemed necessary in their organization or in their selling plans for the coming season's business."

It is stated by the promoters of the movement that it has nothing to do with the personnel of the directorate, who may all be re-elected, nor is it initiated in any spirit of hostility, but with a fervent desire to forward the interests of the organization and to avoid the loss of valuable time which would ensue upon possible changes of policy being made by a board elected upon the eve of the shipping season: "A covering letter sent with the petition to the Directors of the various locals states: 'The enclosed petition has been largely signed in this district. It was drawn up and circulated by a committee of growers who are desirous only for the success of the Association.'

We feel sure that growers in all other districts will agree with us in that the changes in dates petitioned for are necessary. One of the principal reasons for the changes suggested is that the Directors and management for the year may be able to arrange their plans and institute them before the shipping season opens. It is obviously unfair to ask Directors to assume responsibility for administration of the affairs of our Association when they are appointed to office in the busy season and have no time to investigate the present conditions, or to formulate plans for any improvements which they might desire to make.

Our present Directors have given every evidence of a desire to inform members of our Association as to what has been done in the past year and, considering growers, there is surely no better time than January for discussion and to arrive at sane conclusions, after considering the information placed before them."

NARAMATA WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Our November meeting was one of the most notable of the year, inasmuch as Jack Logic came across and gave us his "Outlines of Okanagan History," (capitals and quotation marks mine). The president's introductory remarks were an inspiration to the speaker and served to put a keen edge on our anticipation. We can heartily recommend Mr. Logic's talk to any ambitious club which is looking for "something different" in the way of a feature.

After the secretary gave her report of the conference, Mrs. J. M. Robinson and other members who attended some of the sessions gave supplementary remarks.

It was voted to continue the collecting and shipping of apples to Vancouver orphans. Our Institute would like with this report to thank most heartily all those who have helped us with labor, boxes, sacks, barrels and the like.—Con.

NARAMATA GUIDES

At the regular meeting, Friday, November 9th, we practised the Country Dance under the direction of Miss McKay.

Most of the time was taken up, however, in rehearsal of our part of Armistice program, which was held at the church. Our troop was taken to Pentleton on Armistice Day where we joined the Pentleton Guides in the parade.

We have also started work on our part of the program to be given in connection with the Community Christmas Tree.

IS REORGANIZING THE POLICE FORCE

Attorney-General Manson has introduced a bill into the Legislature to re-organise the provincial police. All summer plans have been under way, and it aimed to divide the province into four police districts, Prince Rupert, Nelson, Kamloops and Vancouver-Victoria. Inspectors will be in charge in the first three districts, while sub-inspectors will have control on the coast. The police constables will wear khaki uniforms, similar, except for color to those of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Constables will sign on for three years but may buy their release at any time for $100. They will have their own finger-print and secret service departments. It is planned to have half the service in uniform by next March and the balance by the end of 1924.

Poor Accommodation

A tramp, footsore and hungry, approached a man ploughing in a field by the roadside. "Say, boss, it's getting dusk, can I stay at your place all night?"

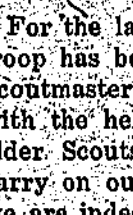

"I dunno," was the cautious reply. "You'll have to ask the old woman. I can hardly stay here myself."

Headquarters, The Gymnasium.

Scoutmaster, Capt. R. H. Creese. Meets every Friday evening at 7.30 p.m.

For the last month or so the local troop has been practically without a Scoutmaster or a senior officer, but with the help of one or two of the older Scouts we have been able to carry on our regular meetings. Now we are indeed grateful for procuring the help of Messrs. A. Pentland and J. Strother, the latter being before his coming here Scoutmaster of a Troop in England.

Those Scouts who have seemingly dropped out through lack of interest will, I hope, benefit by this re-organization, and we hope to see a full turn out on Friday of this week.

In order to see what uniform is required in the troop, all Scouts are requested to wear what they have at the next meeting.

If there are any boys old enough to join Scouts, we would like to see them next Friday, as new patrols will be picked up.

All Scouts can look forward to a good winter.

Reference was made two weeks ago to editorial comment in the local paper at Sevenoaks, England, of the advertisement of British Columbia Wealthies, which, however, had not arrived as promised. Capt. The apples were described as being splendid specimens, though a little bit marked from repeated handling.

FAMILY BANKING

In keeping with its practice of extending to its customers every proper banking accommodation, the Bank of Montreal directs attention to the fact that many husbands and wives maintain Joint Accounts with this institution—a convenient arrangement whereby either may deposit or withdraw as the occasion demands.

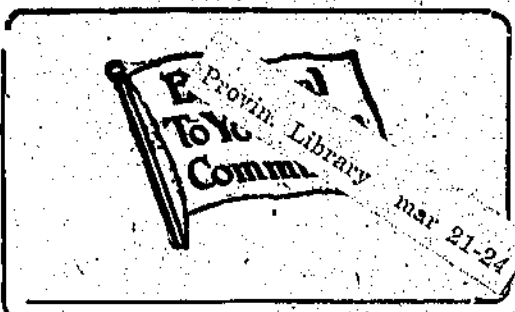

Chequing Accounts for the purpose of dealing with household accounts may also be opened.

It is the aim of the Bank to be helpful in matters financial.

Naramata Growers Get Reports on Early Pools

Cherry and Apricot Returns Announced at General Meeting—Bank Loan Nearly Paid—Local Packing Charges—Too Many Culls—Associated Has Paid Locals $1,000,000—Members May Hold Any Number of Shares—Other Naramata News Items.

The general meeting of the Co-operative Growers was held in the Naramata Hall on Friday evening of last week and drew a large attendance of members who were keenly interested in the statements rendered by their directors, through the president, Mr. F. W. Rolt. The chairman explained that it had been thought advisable to amend the rule of the organization regarding the limit in the number of shares which might be held by any member, and which had previously held at a maximum of fifty. A motion was put to the effect that this rule be amended to allow of any number being held, and was carried unanimously. An outline of the present financial position was then given by the chairman, from which it appeared that the balance still due to the Bank of Montreal was approximately $11,000, and it was expected that this would be paid off in two or three weeks, after which the growers could look forward to receiving cheques on their accounts. Assuming that packing operations would be over within one month, as was anticipated, the expenses might be estimated as follows: On cherries, 45c per crate; on pears, 42c; and on apples, 52c per box. With regard to the latter it was pointed out that the cost of packing was materially increased by the very large proportion of culls which had been sent down from the benches. In one case a shipment of 1700 orchard boxes had only produced 500 boxes of marketable apples, and the general proportion had been far too great. It had been necessary to charge a penalty of 3c per box on all culls over a 10 per cent. proportion, and this, it was stated, was only half the penalty imposed by the Penticon association. The 3c would probably be increased next season, and more care in picking was strongly urged. The question of commercial varieties was also touched on, and it was pointed out that quite a number of varieties will have to be scrapped in future.

SCOTLAND EATING "O.K." BRAND APPLES

In a letter received from the small county town of Cupar, Fifeshire, Scot., by Mr. Croil, the writer mentioned that the shops there were all offering apples of the "O.K." brand packed by the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Ltd. Evidently the brand and package had attracted attention and we may assume that the co-operative is having a measure of success in their effort to secure better distribution than formerly obtained.

CONTRACT IN SAPIRO PLAN IS HOLEPROOF

The interim injunction recently granted by His Honor Judge Brown, restraining Angus and Lemoyne and G. G. Jellard from dealing further with the fruit on the Jellard orchard has been sustained in the supreme court at Vancouver. This fruit was under contract to the Penticon local of the Associated and following receipt of notice that the injunction was sustained the Co-operative Growers took charge of the orchard, picked the fruit and will deal with it according to the terms of the original contract. The outcome of the action taken by the Co-operative in this case is considered to indicate that the contract is a good one and cannot be broken with impunity. Local growers as a whole have stood loyally by the terms of their contracts and while it is believed there have been slight breaches in a few cases, they have not been of a serious nature. An interesting decision was handed down in the circuit court of McHenry county, Illinois, last week. It is not only of importance to those directly interested in the case but to co-operative organizations in all perishable lines, and especially to those who are operating under the Sapiro contract. In reporting the case, the Liberty, Ind., Herald says: "Judge Edward D. Shuroloff, of the circuit court of McHenry county, Illinois, has handed down a decision in the case of the Milk Producers' Marketing Company of Chicago vs. Arthur L. Bell, in which the co-operative marketing contract is completely upheld. The court grants the application of the Milk Marketing Company against its members to compel specific performance of contract. The decision is regarded as an epochal one, since it is the first time a court ruling has been had in Illinois on the Sapiro contract. In the course of his decision, Judge Shuroloff said: 'In determining whether the contract in question is a valid contract and how it may be enforced, that is, whether the foregoing bill of complaint states a case entitling complaint to equity, two cardinal and elementary principles should be borne in mind at the outset: First, that when some man, intelligent and un-influenced by fraud and undue influence and there is no accident or mistake and no law violated enter into solemn contracts and contracts under seal, it is and should be the policy of the law to enforce such contracts and agreements. "Second: That it is and has been the public policy of the State of Illinois to foster and encourage co-operation. This has been evidenced by the various acts of the General Assembly passed from time to time, one of which has just recently been given birth by the late General Assembly."

WOMEN MEET IN CONVENTION

Twelfth Annual District Gathering of Methodists Held Here.

The twelfth annual convention of the Methodist Women's Missionary Society for the Okanagan District was held in the Summerland church November 14th and 15th. Seventeen delegates were present from outside points representing seven auxiliaries and one circle. At the opening session on the evening of November 14th, Rev. H. J. Armistead presided and also gave a missionary address. Music was furnished by the church choir. On behalf of the Summerland W.M.S., Mrs. Armistead extended greetings to the visiting delegates, to which Miss Rao, of Rutland, fittingly replied. Greetings were also brought from the W. C. T. U. by Mrs. McAlpine, from St. Andrew's W.M.S. by Miss Sinclair, from St. Stephen's by Mrs. Solly. (Continued on Page 8)

POULTRY MEETING AT TROUT CREEK

At a meeting of the Farmers' Institute at Trout Creek on Monday night, D. G. Denny, poultryman at the Experimental Farm, gave a demonstration of dressing and trussing a pair of chickens ready for the table, which was followed with a good deal of interest as was evidenced by the many questions asked. The birds when finished had a very attractive appearance, and certainly looked much nicer than most of the dressed fowl usually displayed for sale. Mr. H. E. Waby, district poultry instructor with headquarters at Salmon Arm, spoke on the various phases of the poultry industry and stressed the need of more care in the selection of flocks. Many people, he said, seemed to think all they had to do was to get a government poultry instructor to cull their flocks when really a lot of the farm flocks should be all killed off and fresh stock put in. He also mentioned the necessity for care in the selection of the male bird, emphasizing the selection of a male from a hen which always laid a large egg. Mr. Waby called attention to the exceptional opportunity the people of this district had to see how poultry could be raised under intensive methods, and also watch worth while experiments. A discussion on turkeys, geese and ducks followed, and the meeting ended with a hearty vote of thanks to the speakers.

CO-OPERATIVE PAYS OFF BANK

Balance on Hand and Further Monies Available to Growers.

Summerland Co-operative has paid off the last of its loan from the Bank of Montreal for the season's operating expenses. A cheque for $20,000 from the Associated, received a few days ago, enabled the local to pay off the balance of this debt. There is remaining a good proportion of this sum, of which, after issuing some wage cheques and paying off some other accounts, there will be quite a sum to distribute among the growers, but, until further payments are made by the Central, the payments to growers will be small. The local directors meet today and will decide just how to apportion the money available. Prices for cannery cherries are as follows, gross: Royal Annes, 6 cents; Whiteheart, 3.2 cents; soufs, 4.8 cents. From these the Associated deducts two-fifths of a cent and the local charges are .00637, or nearly two-thirds of a cent. The net to the growers will be, Royal Anne, a fraction less than 5 cents; Whiteheart, about two and one sixth cents, and soufs, a little over 3 1/2 cents. Other cherry rotirris were published last week. Final statements have been coming in from the Associated on some of the early apples. Approximately, the net returns to the growers will be: Duchess, combination Fantasy and "C", 34 cents, crates 18 cents; Early Harvest, Combination, $1.10, crates, 68 cents; Red Astrachan, Combination, 82 cents, crates, 45 cents. These net figures are arrived at after deducting the Associated's charge of 12 cents and the local charge of 58 cents for boxes and 48 cents for crates. When local finals are issued, there may be some slight variation from these figures.

MAJ. HUTTON SERVED WITH "RED INK" WRIT

Writ has been served on Maj. E. E. Hutton, whose "red ink" account with the Summerland Fruit Union has been selected by the Dominion Bank with which to make a test case. The Dominion Bank was assigned the book accounts of the Union now in liquidation, and a number of those were made against growers for deficits on fruit handled on behalf of members. A number of growers have disputed these accounts, claiming that the organization, if it could not at least make its own expenses out of the fruit, should not have sold it. The case will be watched with much interest.

G. J. C. WHITE TO BE POLICE MAGISTRATE

Is Choice of Municipal Council—Recommended to the Attorney-General.

G. J. Coulter White is the choice of the municipal council for police magistrate to succeed Major Hutton, who is resigning the position. Half a dozen names were put up for consideration. Some of those were of citizens who applied for the position, while in other cases they were simply recommendations from interested citizens. The names before the committee were J. R. Brown, J. A. Kirk, P. E. Knowles, J. L. Sharman, H. Sutherland, G. J. C. White. Through the process of elimination the choice fell on the latter and he will be recommended to the Attorney-General for appointment. While it is not necessary for the Attorney-General to act on the recommendation of the council—very often such appointments are made upon recommendation of party representatives—it is confidently expected that the appointment will go to Mr. White.

THIRTY CARS OF JONATHAN'S SOLD AT COAST

Special Campaign Described as Success by Associated Directors.

Mr. Thos. H. Bulman, vice-president of the Associated Growers, who has for the last fortnight been directing the campaign in Vancouver for the disposal of a large block of Jonathan crated apples, has returned to Vernon. Before leaving Vancouver he stated that the drive had been a great success and that it would be of a very material benefit to the growers this fall inasmuch as it provided an outlet for many cars of which a market was largely lacking. Mr. Bulman stated that around thirty cars had been sold and that when these were removed there would be no more than four or five cars of Jonathan crates left in the Valley. He considered that Vancouver dealers and consumers had done a good service on behalf of the growers.

"COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS"

FREEMANS STOP AT SACRAMENTO

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Freeman, who left here early this month on a motor trip to California, are now at Sacramento, where they will remain for the time at least. When they left here Los Angeles was a possible destination, but they saw and heard of so many northerners going south that they feared there would be difficulty in getting a house in the southern city. Mr. Freeman reports having a pleasant trip, free from any mishaps and with roads generally excellent except for a few detours. While much of the route was interesting, he says that to one accustomed to British Columbia scenery there was little in that line to go in raptnures over. He states Wenatchee fruit growers are crying hard times and complaining of low prices and of difficulty to make ends meet. They are not receiving enough for their fruit to cover cost of production. Sacramento is experiencing a big building boom which shows tendency to slacken off as winter approaches.

A LONG TRAIN

The world's record for grain trains was shattered by the Canadian Pacific Railway on October 5th, with a monster train of 125 car loads of wheat, over a mile long, which operated between Stoughton and Arcola. The contents of the cars, 185,000 bushels, weighed 5,566 tons.

South Okanagan Member Pleads Case For Farmers

Replies to Address from the Throne in Provincial Assembly and Takes Government to Task for Neglecting to Take Cognizance of Urgent Need of Assistance to Farmers—Lively Tilts with the Minister of Agriculture and Premier Oliver on Several Points.

A strong plea for a more aggressive agricultural policy in this Province to the end that the growers may be assisted to secure increased markets and greater agricultural development, was made in the Legislature Thursday afternoon by Mr. J. W. Jones, member for South Okanagan, when he joined in the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. The member roundly scored the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. E. D. Barrow, asserting the latter has failed in the administration of his office, and he urged a more aggressive Minister is a necessity. South Okanagan's member criticized the speech from the throne, pointing to the fact that it ignored the pressing problems facing the Province. The premier, in his speech, too, had given the House no inkling of how the government proposed to carry out development plans for the upbuilding of the Province and the betterment of the people. Ministers had been making trips to and fro through the country; two of them had just returned from England, but not a hint to show that in consequence of these jaunts, taken at the expense of the public, any good will result. Mr. Jones scored Premier Oliver for his penchant for "throwing his hat into the ring." He considered there was a better way of fighting the freight rates case than by quarrelling with C. P. R. officials and members of the Railway Board. He recalled that if the Premier wanted a fight there was a six-foot ting-tang Salmon Arm into which General A. D. McRae had invited the Premier, but so far the latter had steered clear from that point. The Premier was too prone to issue challenges, said Mr. Jones, who declared the Premier could not deny that he had sketches drawn showing how the various ridings were to be carved. Yet he had challenged the statement that such a plan existed. Premier Oliver—He is entirely wrong when he says that I had a draft copy of the bill prepared. Mr. Jones—Always side-stepping. The Premier had a draft or plans, and he cannot deny they were destroyed when The Colonist challenged him to produce them. The member for Okanagan referred to the improvement in the lumber industry, to the negotiations in connection with the Coast Range Steel Company. Surely, he said, those were matters which should have had some mention in the speech, with a government pronouncement on what steps were being taken to formulate a policy of further development. Nothing was said of the (Continued on Page 8)

MUNICIPAL VOTERS' LIST TO BE REVISED

Citizens who are entitled to vote and whose names, for some reason, have not been included on the new voters' list which will be posted within a few days, are directed to the announcement that the court of revision of this list will be held early next month. Too much indifference is shown by many citizens on the subject of having their names entered on the voters' list. Further opportunity may be given by the court.

FORGET COAST AS MARKET FOR SOFT FRUITS

This is Suggestion of Associated—Fruit Needed to Fill Prairie Orders.

According to the Associated Growers, practically all apricot and peach orders accepted from Coast jobbers were filled. This information has been given out by the executive of the Associated in answer to reports of complaints that the Associated had taken orders for cars of peaches and apricots, and had failed to deliver them. The directors of the Associated have come to the conclusion that the Okanagan should forget the Coast market in connection with the sale of peaches and apricots, the volume of produce here not being sufficient to fill mixed orders for the prairie markets, where better prices are obtainable. On the subject of selling peaches and apricots the Associated says: "In the case of both these fruits we are of the opinion that the Okanagan should forget the B. C. Coast insofar as it being a useful market to the Okanagan. We neither have sufficient volume or have the supply at the proper season of the year. Our entire tonnage is required for assorting mixed cars to our prairie market, where much better prices are realized than at the Coast. "APRICOTS—So far as our actual transactions during this season are concerned, we beg to inform you that we confirmed only one car, which we filled. More foot business was submitted but same was declined by us. "PEACHES—After prevailing upon the Coast for a share of their patronage for these, they submitted business for six cars, which we confirmed. When it came time to fill we found our prairie demand far exceeding our supply and we asked to be relieved from our contract. This they did not see their way clear to grant, and we accordingly shipped slightly over five cars in fulfillment of order confirmed."

WILLINGNESS TO TAKE ADVICE IS SOMETIMES BEING GREATER THAN HE WHO GIVES IT

OKANAGAN NUTS.

Nut culture is something which is receiving more attention here of late than it has formerly. J. U. Gellatly has done more than any other citizen to popularize walnuts and other shell fruits and to convince fruit growers that nuts of the best quality can be grown in this part of the Valley.

We were shown this week some very fine specimens of walnuts which Mr. Gellatly, in company with F. R. E. DeHart, has been gathering to send over to the British Empire Exhibition along with the apples and other fruits which Mr. DeHart has been commissioned to assemble, and they are certainly fine specimens in size, shape and color and Mr. Gellatly assures us that the quality of the meat is of the highest.

This subject of nut culture has been treated in these columns on two or three occasions within the last few months. Canada now imports four and five million dollars' worth of nuts each year, so that it is apparent that there is a good home market for nuts which may be produced here.

Mr. Gellatly, in his tours of investigation up and down the Valley, has found trees which have produced as much as 200 pounds of nuts in a season, which he values at from thirty-five to fifty cents per pound. There are but few pests to interfere with the production of nuts and to gather them one simply has to pick them up off the ground, preferably before the leaves fall.

Nut trees begin to bear at the same age as do apple trees. The fruit has the additional advantage of not being perishable in the sense that apples are.

The specimens which Mr. Gellatly has gathered from the occasional mature tree prove that nuts, such as walnuts, butternuts, chestnuts, almonds and filberts may successfully be grown in this climatically favored part of Canada.

IS DEADLY STUFF.

Moonshine stuff cannot be much more deadly than the beer being sold by the provincial Liquor Control Board, according to the statements of Major R. J. Burde, M.L.A., in the House on Saturday.

Major Burde said he was taken to a hospital recently when the doctors found quantities of arsenic in his body, which he had accumulated through drinking beer. He took the matter up with the doctors, who found ether, shellac and varnish as well as arsenic in the beer. Further, he declared that resin was found in the beverage and that this causes cancer of the kidneys.

Major Burde gave no intimation that he had joined the total abstainers.

STABLE OR FLOATING.

The ownership of homes in Canada is declining, say eastern papers. It is an ominous sign. A nation of home owners has a stability which a nation of tenants has not. We have pointed to this on several occasions. The load of taxation put upon the homemaker and businessman in the average B. C. town is so heavy that it discourages the owning of property. When men feel that it is more to one's advantage to be property-free than a property owner, then look out for breakers ahead.—Commoner, Enderby.

CAN'T LEAVE IT TO GEORGE.

Editor Walker, of Enderby, comments thus in his weekly paper:

"It has been said that the Enderby postoffice does the biggest drygoods business in town. There is hardly a day passes that the mail truck is not loaded down with parcels of dress goods, etc., from the East. This isn't as it should be, but it's as it will be until inducements are offered by the local merchants that will hold the business in the home field. The Commoner has devoted columns and pages to articles urging home-town buying, but we've reached the conclusion that there is another side to the question and that it is to the home-town merchant to get after the business if he wants it."

MODERN SCHOOLING.

THIS HIGHBROW education stuff will make us sorry mortals; they're putting skids on all our kids right to the College portals; now ne'er a one will get chores done around our one-horse ranches; nor patch our duds; or dig our spuds or prune the apple branches. Poor Mother works while daughter shirks with "Homer" or with "Plato," and do some tricks with mathematics, but never peel a 'tato. Such lofty whirls just make our girls just 'lookers' and swell dressers; and of our boys, this classic poise: a Nation of Professors. Time's coming, when, there'll be no men to dig a hole or cellar, and at us crooks with undarned socks the girl will tilt a smeller. When in my youth I yanked the truth from books of kind friends lending, with daily licks and well-aimed kicks right on my bitter ending. This Latin stuff and Greek's a bluff—I scorn the whole curriculum—for honest toil and sweat and toil these days will never tickle 'em. If pedagogues would mend my togs, and muses do my milking, the cash I pay for books each day would not be such a bilking. Such learned seers are buccaneers who fail to teach kids grammar, but give me cause to clench my claws and swing a wicked hammer. With "seen" for saw, and "Pa" for Paw, and Maw turned into "Mater,"—The whole shebang can all go hang,—for I'm a College hater!

FIRE DESTROYS OLD LANDMARK AT KELOWNA

Kelowna.—Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the Pridham residence just outside Kelowna on Monday night, thus removing a landmark that has stood for over thirty-five years on one of the oldest and most extensive ranches in the Okanagan Valley. In addition to a valuable collection of books and pictures, plate and jewellery, which has been in the family for generations, a particularly valuable collection of guns and revolvers, and to the regular furnishings, Mr. Pridham lost all his business records which had been removed from a safety deposit vault that day for balancing up the season's work.

Mr. Pridham, after dining with friends in the house, left for downtown, locking up the place in the usual way, the only thing attracting his attention out of the ordinary, being the fact that his dogs, imported Belgian police dogs, refused to go into the house, as usually they were left on guard during their owner's absence.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

The monthly meeting of the Summerland Women's Institute was held Friday last at the home of Mrs. J. Tait.

The chief attraction of the afternoon was a demonstration of pastry making by Mrs. G. N. Gartrell. From two different methods she showed how to make delicious light pastry that just "melts in one's mouth." Every one present voted that a most profitable time had been spent in learning Mrs. Gartrell's methods, and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded her.

The many helpful and inspiring methods and ideas gained at the conference were discussed.

W. L. McPherson returned last Monday from northern Saskatchewan, where he has been for the past two months attending to his farm interests there. Mr. McPherson says that there is little better than a good half crop in his district. He realized 17 bushels to the acre against 32 last year.

The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

The underlying thought of the old saying "all roads lead to Rome" does not seem to enter very noticeably into the spirited controversy now going on concerning the location of the Trans-Provincial highway.

THE CONTROVERSIAL PUTANTS THAT IF THE PARTICULAR ROUTE THEY FAVOUR IS NOT CHOSEN, THERE MIGHT AS WELL BE NO ROAD BUILT AT ALL.

At least we might fairly come to such a conclusion after reading some of the claims made. It is, of course, entirely natural that each district wishes to see the road located in the territory which will benefit itself, and the ethics of the matter do not come within the range of practical discussion.

(Since this paragraph was in type, the Associated Boards of Trade have adopted the policy indicated.)

These words begin that most delightful book "On Tiptoe," and the thread which runs through the story is woven of a rather fantastic material thus faintly indicated.

THE GREAT INTELLIGENCES

Edward White, who is responsible for it, builds a fascinating romance on the idea of an uncanny quality of prevision possessed at will by his hero, and seems to claim that all mankind are within reach of similar power.

An irrelevant utterance is defined as one which is not applicable or pertinent to the subject under discussion. A model of irrelevance is found in the reply of Hamlet to Polonius when summoned to attend the queen.

These philosophic reflections are induced by the recollection of a recent newspaper correspondence in one of our weeklies, wherein one writer is said to have proclaimed that a disputant who complains that an utterance is irrelevant is either ignorant, stupid or dishonest.

long-promised Provincial bank, nor what was to be done in connection with the Provincial Highway. Three years ago the then Minister of Public Works informed the House that the Hope-Princeton route had been selected, and the connecting link would be completed in 1921.

Mr. Jones declared the farmers of the Province were in dire straits and must be given some encouragement, but not a suggestion relative thereto was forthcoming.

To Mr. Barrow's question whether the member really knew actual conditions in the Province, Mr. Jones said that during his seven years in the Legislature he had never seen so many empty stores and houses as there were in Victoria today.

"Where is your great colonization scheme?" asked the member for South Okanagan.

Hon. Mr. Manson—"Just a whisper of death."

Mr. Jones—"Let the Attorney-General take a trip through the Kootenay and Columbia valleys, the same as I did this Summer, and investigate conditions as they are today."

Mr. Jones—"Oh, yes. You would have him mean that they left the dead places. Do you consider the City of Victoria one of these dead places?"

Premier Oliver—"There are thousands more coming in on every boat."

The burden of taxation was compelling the farmers to give up their holdings, claimed Mr. Jones, who quoted Hon. Mr. Barrow as having stated that "the growers should be deported."

lot of publicity out of that statement. I certainly did not infer it that way. There is a certain percentage of farmers in the Province who are a hindrance to the industry."

Mr. Jones—"You are a trifle late in making this explanation. Then again, we have the Minister of Lands telling the ranchers that they must pay up or they will get into trouble. Tighten your belt, you have to pay your taxes. All the present Government thinks of is taxation."

Mr. Pattullo denied such a statement, to which Mr. Jones stated that he had got it from a very reliable source.

The Department of Agriculture came under fire when Mr. Jones stated that it had hampered rather than improved the situation in the Province.

Much was heard of the fertile valleys in the northern portion of the Province, west of Mr. Jones, but lack of transportation prevented their development.

Mr. Jones insisted that he was seeking to show by his figures that a tremendous sum is being sent out of the Province for products which should be produced within the Province.

Mr. Jones declared that what the Province needed was an extension of agricultural loans along lines similar to the plan inaugurated in 1916 by the then Conservative Government.

Mr. Jones declared that what the Province needed was an extension of agricultural loans along lines similar to the plan inaugurated in 1916 by the then Conservative Government.

Unless the Government did something and did it soon, the member declared the farmers would be heard from at the next election, when, he predicted they would drive the Government from office.

EXTEND PREFERENCE TO DRIED FRUITS

In addition to giving our fresh apples a preference in the British market, the Baldwin government has further intimated that it would be prepared to propose to parliament the imposition of a duty of 10s 8d a cwt. on such foreign dried fruits as apples, pears and peaches as the Dominions would consider of interest to their export trade.

London reports indicate that the proposed preference on fruits will meet with serious opposition. The united fruit and vegetable section of the national federation of fruit and potato traders associations has passed a resolution protesting against a tax being imposed on apples and demanding that nothing further be done on the matter of the proposed preferential tariff without the government consulting representatives of the trade.

Some of the speakers at the meeting asserted that a tax would result in a curtailment of supplies from the United States to such an extent that the price of apples would increase from 25 to 50 per cent.

They declared that the Dominions were unable to supply all the requirements of the country and that the bulk of Canadian apples already came to Great Britain, while the Australian fruit had never competed to any extent with American fruit.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be completed for five years after the date of the improvement made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mills, factories or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranging from 100 to 1000 to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travelers, up to ten head.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF EDNA MACLEOD

Hundreds of friends paid their last tribute to the memory of Miss Edna MacLeod, daughter of Rev. A. W. MacLeod and Mrs. MacLeod, of First Baptist Church, North Vancouver, when funeral services were held in the church on Friday afternoon.

Rev. Walter Grieco, of Ruth Mor-ton Baptist Church, a personal friend of the family, delivered the address in which he stressed the note of victory over pain and suffering and happiness in the Kingdom of God.

Rev. A. P. Baker, of Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, conducted the service, and was assisted by Rev. D. G. MacDonald and Rev. N. MacNaughton, of New Westminster. The latter spoke of the high character of Miss MacLeod as he had known it during her stay at Okanagan College.

The auditorium of the church was filled with friends, many of whom came from Vancouver, South Vancouver and Chilliwack. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Interment took place in the family plot at Mountain View cemetery.

the proportion of culls. It ran all the way from 350 to 950 boxes. Replying to a question concerning the extra cost of running through the grader, he gave this as between two and three cents per box, and in response to a further query as to the necessity of the grader, he considered that its advantages fully offset the extra cost over bench packing.

It was remarked that several districts were giving up the use of packing house graders, but this was later contradicted by Mr. Morley, who read part of the report of central meetings. This speaker stated that he found more than rumor of the scrapping of graders to be incorrect, and said that Kelowna, for instance, was increasing her plant in this branch. The Vernon minutes made it clear that the anti-dumping Act had failed of operation because of so much American fruit being shipped on consignment, and coming through without valuation. This defect had now been rectified. They also showed that nearly $1,000,000 had been paid out to locals to date, that the question of local storage charges was being considered, that a separate pool had been arranged for the Kootenay, and that a representative of the Associated would be appointed for Great Britain.

Following the reading of these particulars, it was suggested the locals should be more closely consulted on matters of policy, against which it was remarked that they already had their own representatives on the executive. In this connection the chairman stated that the central would have been represented at that meeting, but for the absence at the Coast and in England of most of the members.

Information covering the handling of delinquent growers was asked, and it was stated that, so far, the directors had been able to deal with cases which had arisen. The chief difficulty was the securing of proof where wrongful disposal of the crop was suspected. A further enquiry was made as to the personal inspection of the packing house by the directors, the definite matter involved being an accumulation of paper outside the building and its possible bearing on insurance. This led to some exchanges of opinion, in which the particular object was lost sight of, but it is understood that the accumulation complained of is being removed.

Notice was given of the appointment of Mr. Jackson as auditor, and this was approved by the meeting. A vote of confidence in the Board of Directors was received with applause, but was not voted upon, being apparently considered unnecessary.

The meeting closed at 10.30.

Mrs. McKaye and daughters returned to Arcadia Ranch on Saturday after a pleasant motor trip to Vancouver. The ladies made the return by rail, leaving the brothers to finish by motor.

Another consignment of cull apples was sent on Saturday to the Rev. McIntyre for the Settlement House at Vancouver.

Mrs. Fred Young attended the Summerland meeting of the W.M.S. last week.

The Union Church hold their Thanksgiving service on Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. J. Armitage officiating. The anthem was "Let everything that hath breath" (Simpson), rendered by an augmented choir, the solo being taken by Miss Enid Rayner. The sermon was preached on the text "Were there not ten lepers? But where are the nine?" and dealt with the fault of ingratitude for blessings received. The additional decorations were undertaken by the O.G.I.T. Miss Seever's presided at the organ.

FINED FOR SELLING TOBACCO TO MINORS

Ten school children, three of them girls, were in Penticton police court a few days ago in connection with charges laid against merchants of that town for selling cigarettes to minors.

Two concerns were involved and other prosecutions are to follow. In one case the police magistrate, in imposing the fine, said he thought it disgraceful that one keeping school supplies for sale should also have tobacco and should sell it to youngsters.

This same dealer, R. Wilton, is a member of the school board and the magistrate hoped that at the next municipal election he would be left off the board.

It is a criminal offence to hand out tobacco to minors, even though they state it is for an adult.

APPLES BELOW GRADE, SHIPPER IS FINED

On information laid by B. M. Whyte, Dominion fruit inspector, the firm of Geo. Rowelliffe, Ltd., was fined ten dollars and costs in the Penticton police court last week for an infringement of the Fruit Markets Act. The complaint stated that two boxes of Northern Spy, graded as Extra Fancy, and three boxes of Ontario, graded as Fancy, did not come up to the requirements of the regulations.

Two local fruit shipping companies were each fined $10 and costs in the Provincial police court last Thursday, one for having packed thirty boxes of Delicious as "Extra Fancy," which pack did not comply with Sec. 3, sub-sec. 2, of the Federal Fruit Act, and the other for a similar offence in connection with a pack of Northern Spy marked "Fancy Grade." Mr. B. M. Whyte, Dominion fruit inspector, prosecuted.—Kelowna Courier.

WERE MARRIED SEVENTY YEARS AGO

Last week it was stated in these columns that Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford, parents of our citizen, A. Rutherford, were thought to be the longest wedded couple in Canada. This week we are handed a report of the celebration of the 70th anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen MacIntosh of Hortonville, N. S.

"Doctor, I'm afraid there's something terribly the matter with my husband."

"Well, I talk to him for an hour at a time and when I get through he hasn't the slightest idea what I've been saying."

"My dear madam, don't worry any more about your husband. I wish I had his gift."

Boy Scout Column

1st SUMMERLAND TROOP B. P. SCOUTS

Headquarters, The Gymnasium.

Scoutmaster, Capt. H. H. Creese.

Meets every Friday evening at 7.30 p.m.

There was quite a good turnout at the regular Scout meeting last Friday, over thirty being present.

The first part of the evening was devoted to picking up new patrols under their leaders namely, A. Wilson, L. Gould, O. Dunham and N. Solly. The seconds chosen were respectively I. Solly, G. Wilson, T. Harris and H. Wilson. It is hoped that we will be able to form more patrols according as the numbers increase.

After this part of the evening's work was concluded, Mr. A. Pontland took the troop in ceremonial drill, patrol marching, etc. The troop was then broken in two; one half being in charge of Mr. J. Strocher, and various P. T. exercises were gone through. Before the evening's work was brought to a close a few interesting games were staged.

Next Friday we wish to see even a better turnout than last week, and also we would like to see the fees paid up, as the troop is badly in need of funds.

A SCOUT.

"JOINING UP!"

Paper Written and Read by Summerland Woman before Convention.

Below is reproduced at request a copy of the paper written and read by the Summerland delegate, Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, at the W.C.T.U. convention held at Armstrong recently:

"Joining up" was familiar in early war days. It was no picnic, nor club membership to be dropped at whim, if some other club offered better. "Joining up" was a serious business. It meant the giving of time, work, life, purpose, everything for the cause at issue, for freedom and righteousness, for country, empire, the world.

"Joining up" meant wounding and maiming, broken health, blighted hopes to so many, death. Yes, "Joining up" was a serious thing! The issues were great, the task great, the toll and peril great, but men and women "joined up" regardless of the cost and sacrifice, the hardship, danger and death, and gloried in the deed.

But what of the war between Immanuel and Diabolus for the town of Mansoul, a war so great, so long continued, with issues so momentous? What of Christ's army, banded together at His call. What of "Joining up," enlisting in some regiment of that great army.

"Joining up" with Christ means declaring surrender of myself to Christ, obedience to His orders, going where He would have us go, doing what He would have us do.

"Joining up" means that when my own company meets with Its Leader, in His house, to get guidance and strength for the campaign, I am pledged if I can be there as one of them, helping by my presence those who are there, and setting an example to others to go.

"Joining up" means that when my Leader comes to inspect my post which he has entrusted to me, and which I am pledged to hold, He is not disappointed and grieved by seeing my "sentry-go" deserted and finding me in some other part of the line, where I am not needed, but where things are more congenial to my taste.

"Joining up" with Christ, means response to the call, not of pleasure, but of duty. It means going, not where I have the easiest time, but where I can render the best service, where I am most needed, where I have pledged myself to be. "Joining up" means enlisting, holding myself, my life, my all at the service of Christ my leader. Yes, "Joining up" with Christ is a serious business. We cannot escape responsibility by not "Joining up." The obligation to obey and serve Christ rests upon every one, and failure to acknowledge that obligation does not give freedom from it. The only way to an effective army is "Joining up" and doing the duty that follows, and to fulfill the terms of their "Joining up."

The soldier who fails in duty or deserts his post pays the penalty. The Christian who fails in duty just as certainly pays the penalty in his own stunted spiritual life. The only way for an army to maintain its position or to advance is for each man in his place to be faithful in the place and to the duty appointed, and the only way for the men and women who have "joined up" is to be faithful in their place to the trust and the work which lies in their hand.

An Election is on between Christ and Satan for supremacy in human life in the heart, in the country, in the world. In that Election all are taking part, none can be at any time neutral. "He that is not with me is against me." In that Election, every day and moment, by every thought, word and deed, I am giving my vote, on one side or the other, if not for Christ, against Him. The issue is sure. Christ shall win, but my vote decides the hastening or delaying of that issue in the world and decides my own place in it, a sharer, in the victory or defeat. In that Election, "Whosoever will may enthroned Christ" in heart and life and, in measure, in Canada and the world. What must Christ think as He sees professing Christians spending freely of their time and means for their candidate, and doing so little that He may win?

Jehovah is our Leader. The Lord of Hosts is He, and His name upon our banners is the pledge of victory. Our trust is in His presence. So with steadfast hearts we stand, a great white-ribbed army of the mothers of the land.

TOMATO GROWERS TO HOLD A MEETING

A meeting of the B. C. Tomato Growers' Association is to be held in the near future, at which it is expected that quite a few growers will be present to ventilate their disappointment at the returns from this season's crop. Taking it all in all, the season just over has not been a prosperous one for the average tomato cultivator and not a remarkably good one either from the point of view of the canning companies. The reason for the disappointments of this year can, however, be safely stated to be the bad weather experienced in the early summer, and the unsatisfactory returns to the growers cannot be put down to the price paid by the canning companies for the crop.—Kelowna Courier.

PRODUCTION OF TREE FRUITS IS INCREASED

Victoria.—How the production of tree fruits in British Columbia has increased during the last six or seven years is reflected in the returns just issued by the Provincial Government. In these it is shown that in 1916 those fruits were valued at $1,806,489, representing in volume 70,156,204 pounds, as compared with 166,935,065 pounds with a value of $3,764,730 in 1922. Of small fruits there were produced in 1916 3,793,680 pounds, valued at $370,173, as against 9,867,862 pounds at a value of $1,150,874 in 1922. It will be seen, therefore, that the above figures reveal increases of 137.00 per cent. and 160 per cent. respectively.

CANADIAN APPLES SOLD IN GERMANY

Ottawa.—The first sale of a consignment of Canadian apples on the German market within two years is recorded by the Canadian trade commissioner at Hamburg. It is stated that with the exception of ten barrels of the best grades sold to a Berlin dealer who caters to the best hotel trade, the buyers were Scandinavians and other non-German firms.

A case of strawberries "grown on the Fraser Canyon route" were on display in Kamloops last week.

Oro that will average near $1000 per gunny sack was sent to the smelter from I.X.L. mine at Rossland last week. This is the richest shipment ever made in Rossland; 40 tons were shipped.

Indians, who base their weather prophecies on the things of Nature, are of the opinion that the winter will not be of long duration, and that it will not be particularly cold. Rabbits and other fur-bearing animals are lightly clad this year.

Grand Forks Growers' Exchange has paid off the last of the advances made by the bank for packing and operating account, and advised growers that all future monies would be immediately distributed to them.

In a brief note from Wenatchee, H. M. Lumsden, who is motoring south, states that he is greatly surprised at the large amount of apples dumped on the roadside. He says, too, that the trees there still had a heavy foliage last Saturday.

ASSOCIATED BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE

Thos. A. Howe, president of the Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd., is at Victoria today appearing before the agricultural committee of the Legislature, to give information in reference to fruit selling conditions. In the committee yesterday, two of the members sponsored a resolution calling attention to the inability of housewives at the Coast to secure B. C. apricots and peaches and suggesting that wholesalers be asked to give an explanation to the committee. Mr. Howe will be questioned on the same subject.

ACCUSED OF THEFT, FOUND NOT GUILTY

In the police court this morning, T. Figgis was freed of a charge of being in possession of stolen property. The information laid against him was of having a water tank taken from the Wilberforce cottage, now the property of the Dominion Bank. After hearing the evidence, Police Magistrate Hutton dismissed the charge, declaring the case should never have been brought before him. It was stated that Mr. Figgis had interviewed the manager of the Bank on the subject prior to making the purchase from a former owner and he presented in court a receipt for the money paid her.

MANY MEMBERS FOR GOLF CLUB

At the meeting of golf enthusiasts held in the Bank of Commerce rooms on Friday evening last a number of matters of interest were taken up.

The location of the proposed course was outlined by the committee, who suggested it being the most suitable, nothing further to be done until definite arrangements for occupation of the property could be made.

A communication from the Pro. at Shaughnessy, addressed to Mr. Neve, was read, in which he offered to supply any clubs required, at a very low price. The committee also has a line on another large quantity of clubs available which they are trying to arrange to get on consignment when the club is ready for them, and it is anticipated that a set of clubs will be available for those requiring them for about fifteen dollars.

It is not proposed to make the subscription for playing members more than ten dollars.

A number of new names were added to the list of prospects which now totals well over fifty. The meeting adjourned at the call of the committee.

GIVEN SHOWER BY YOUNG FRIENDS

Miss Gertrude Darke was the guest of honor at a delightful miscellaneous shower given on Saturday afternoon last by Miss Sue Whiteford and Miss Gwen Harris at the home of the former, where she had, quite unsuspectingly, arranged to spend the afternoon. She was greatly surprised, upon arrival, to be greeted with showers of rice and to discover about fourteen young friends gathered to wish her much happiness throughout her married life. The bride-elect was presented with many useful and dainty gifts, expressive of the good wishes of all present. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

HOW SPEED AFFECTS TIRES

If you collect automobile racing statistics you will find that the average life of a high grade tire on a racing car is under 500 miles, which is about one-twentieth of the life of a tire operated under ordinary conditions. This difference in tire service is due to a difference in heat developed. Heat exerts a deteriorating effect on vulcanized rubber in proportion to the intensity and length of time the rubber is exposed to it. The source of heat that does most damage is that produced at high running speed by the internal friction of the tire carcass. The heat developed by the frictional contact with the road when travelling rapidly also has some influence. Tires are so designed as to resist the effects of heat produced by ordinary, every day car operation.

But tires cannot long remain intact when highly heated by continuous or even intermittent speeding and the results of such practice are rapid loss of elasticity and flexibility, which leads to complete tire carcass breakdown. From the standpoint of tire life, mechanical upkeep, and gasoline economy, car speed should be kept within prescribed limits.

It may be that men's minds are not so clean as women's because they don't change them so frequently. It is putting on a turkey raffle.

ANTI-DUMPING REGULATIONS ARE SOUGHT

Associated Boards of Trade of B. C. Ask for Fruit Protection.

Need of a quickly operative anti-dumping regulation as a protection to British Columbia fruit growers against the dumping of surplus fruit from American fruit districts on to the Canadian market, was fully recognized at the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade held last week in Vancouver. The following resolution covering the subject was adopted by the Association:

"That the Minister of Customs be urged to apply the dumping penalty to all importations of agricultural products sold at a price lower than the Canadian cost of production, bearing in mind the following points: That the Customs Department be asked to publish not later than June 1 of each year the cost figures for all Canadian agricultural products, such list to be in effect one year; also that it be provided that when Canadian products are available and importations are invoiced at less than cost of production a special dumping duty be collected equal to the difference between the fair market value as established by the above-mentioned list of prices, and that at which the fruit is imported, the dumping penalty only to be applied on importations made at such times as similar products are available in Canada."

NOVEL SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

In honor of Miss Gertrude Darke, whose marriage takes place next week, a kitchen shower was given on Tuesday night by Misses Ruth Dale and Jennie Nicholson at the home of Miss Dale. When Miss Darke entered the room, the light was suddenly switched on and much to her astonishment she saw a crowd of young friends gathered, while in the centre of the room stood a table, from which colored streamers stretched to the ceiling, and on which were gifts of every description useful in the bride's kitchen.

With each gift the giver had placed a tried and tested recipe together with an original poem, the reading of which caused much mirth. Miss Carol Graham delighted the guests with two vocal solos and Miss Muriel Banks with instrumental selections.

Each guest was then given the materials for the making of a useful kitchen article and was asked to complete it, much merriment being created over the judging of the finished products, which were then presented to the guest of honor. Dainty refreshments were served and the bride-elect cut the first slice of the bride's cake, which was quaintly decorated and which contained dainty favors.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY MONTHLY MEETING

Members of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary met in regular monthly session at St. Stephen's church rectory on Tuesday afternoon. Eight members were present with Mrs. Solly, president, in the chair. The resignation of Mrs. W. J. Robinson as secretary was received with much regret. The corresponding secretary was requested to carry on the work of secretary until the end of the year. A request from the matron of the hospital for operation towels was received. Committees were named to prepare for the annual New Year's Eve dance.

DIVIDING THE PRUNE DOLLAR

For every dollar which the consumer pays for Sunswet prunes, $.024 is spent for advertising, according to figures compiled by the secretary-treasurer of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, San Jose, Cal.

The grower gets $.40; the retailer $.25, the wholesaler, $.113, transportation agencies $.068, brokers $.002, while $.083 goes for packing, $.01 for discount, and $.03 for support of the association.

The advertising this coming year on Sunswet prunes will endeavor to create a demand for a two-pound carton.

Sunswet oil, a by-product, is being placed on the market to be used for salad oil and cooking purposes. A certain Summerland lady, famed for her skill in baking, accidentally put caraway seed in a cake instead of caraway seed. Her husband, who ate plentifully of the cake, is seeking a place in his church choir.

DOMINION BANK DECLARES DIVIDEND

The directors of the Dominion Bank, at a meeting November 16, 1923, declared the usual dividend of three per cent for the quarter ending December 31, 1923, together with a bonus of one per cent, making a total distribution to the shareholders for the current year of thirteen per cent.

OBITUARY.

MRS. A. J. MCGREGOR.

Many citizens gathered on Sunday afternoon at her late home to attend the funeral of Olive May Gray, wife of Archie J. McGregor, whose untimely death on Friday cast a gloom over the whole community.

Born in Manitoba thirty-one years ago, deceased was married in May, 1918, and resided in Saskatchewan until a short time before coming to Summerland, which interval was spent at Camrose, Alta. Mr. and Mrs. McGregor have been living here since the spring of 1920. Her death has deprived four little ones, three boys and a girl, of a mother's care.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. A. Alexander of St. Andrew's church, interment being made in Peach Orchard cemetery. There were many floral tributes. The pallbearers were A. McLachlan, I. W. Booth, Percy Foster, Chas. Marshall, Chas. Schwass and James Shepherd.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved husband and family in their sorrow.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the people of Summerland:—to those who so kindly offered and gave assistance in many ways in this our hour of sorrow;—to those who sent tokens of respect for our loved one;—to those who spoke kind words of sympathy and comfort;—and to those whose hearts were full and they could not speak, on behalf of my wee family, I wish to thank you all and may God bless you every one.

ARCHIE J. MCGREGOR.

NEW LIQUID FOR STORAGE BATTERIES

Science is never satisfied with its achievements and is always seeking to improve. It would seem that a very marked step in advance and one which interests every car owner has recently been made in connection with storage batteries.

The electrolyte generally used in batteries has a number of objectionable features, being made, as it is, from sulphuric acid. A new ingredient, Radiolite, has recently been put on the market. For this it is claimed that it has none of the objectionable features of the sulphuric acid liquid.

H. Read, who required much showing before being converted to the new compound, has taken the local agency. In a demonstration a few days ago, he turned a cold engine for some minutes with the starter until the battery was about exhausted. Turning on the spark, he caught the engine as it was stopping and allowed it to run for perhaps ten minutes. Then, shutting off the spark again he applied the starter and, much to the surprise of those looking on, the battery seemed to have fully recovered.

Mr. Read says he does that several times a day. It is further claimed that Radiolite will not freeze even if the battery is down; that you can wash your hands in it without harm and that it will extend the life of the battery. Mr. Read is advertising this new wonder in his regular space.

NARAMATA SCOUTS

A general parade was held on Armistice Day at which both Cubs and Scouts were present. On Friday, November 16, the usual Scout meeting was held. Robert Symons passed his Horseman's and Dairyman's badges and Robert Horswill his Ambulance. A court of honor was held after the meeting to decide on the numbers for the Christmas concert and other matters. We hope that the regular schedule of two meetings a week will soon be resumed.

Under Suspicion. One afternoon a stranger debarked from a train at a hustling town in the West and headed up the street. Finally he met a man who looked like a native. "Pardon me," said the stranger, "are you a resident of this town?" "Yes, sir," was the ready rejoinder of the other. "I have been here something like fifty years. What can I do for you?" "I am looking for a criminal lawyer," responded the stranger. "Have you one here?" "Well," said the native, reflecting, "we think we have, but we can't prove it on him."

Mr. H. H. Thompson of the Lake View fruit ranch returned home last week after having enjoyed a trip to the Capital, on a combined business and pleasure trip. While there he attended some of the sittings of the House.

Mr. R. Johnston and son and Mr. F. R. Gartrell came up from Summerland last week and after a few days stay in the mountains back of here headed homeward with horns sticking out in all directions on their truck. They evidently found THE spot.

Mr. Wm. Dryden was out of town this week for a day or two on business.

Mr. R. J. Hogg has purchased a few head of cattle for his farm, having them brought across from Kelowna by ferry and driven down on foot over the road.

A number of hunters making up different parties left town this week for a few days among the tall timbers.

The first snow of the season made its appearance on the waterfront on Wednesday morning coming down in a gentle flurry, enough to coat things over nicely with its fleecy whiteness.

Mrs. Ingles returned home last week after having spent a short time in the Kelowna hospital following her operation. She is improving quite favorably.

BANK OF COMMERCE ACCOUNTS GOING TO BANK OF MONTREAL

Former Closing Local Branch at End of Present Month.

Canadian Bank of Commerce, is closing its office here at the end of November and all balances then existing will be transferred to the Bank of Montreal.

Asked for confirmation of reports to this effect, A. B. Morckill, the manager, gave out the following statement:

"The branch of the Bank of Commerce at West Summerland will be closed on November 30th. After a full trial of three years and seven months it has been found that there is not sufficient business in prospect to warrant the expense of its continuance, and it appears that for the present the remaining two banks fully cover the requirements of the community. Depositors have been notified that unless they make arrangements in the interval, all balances existing on November 30th will be transferred to the West Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal."

REFUSED ACCESS TO RAILWAY ACCOUNTS

Victoria, November 19.—B. L. Robertson, who was engaged by Mr. Esling to look into the accounts of the P. G. E. and the Northern Construction Company, reported to the railway department this morning, but was informed that as he was not a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of British Columbia he would not be permitted to have access to the accounts in question.

Mr. Esling stated that Mr. Robertson was a construction accountant and had been actively engaged in such work since 1917. He was with the Imperial Munitions Board, auditor for the Foundation Company and in charge of the books of the Harbor Marine Company, and at present maintains an office in Victoria as auditor and accountant.

The Rossland member said he had chosen Mr. Robertson because of his experience in construction accounting.

Fruit and Vegetable Interests Arrange a Course of Action.

Fruit and vegetable interests of British Columbia held two sessions in Vancouver last week for the purpose of considering what steps were necessary to combat the increases asked by the express companies at the sessions of the Dominion Railway Commission, which meets in Vancouver on November 30.

It was decided to prepare a brief which will be presented to the commission under the auspices of the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association, through its president, Mr. Lionel E. Taylor, of Kelowna. The brief is to be formulated from all sources and for this purpose a committee representing co-operative and independent organizations handling small fruits, tree fruits and vegetables, has been appointed. The morning session was presided over by Dean F. M. Clement of the faculty of agriculture, U.B.C., on behalf of the executive of the B. C. F. G. A., and in the afternoon Prof. A. F. Bars, secretary of the B. C. F. G. A., took the chair.

Others in attendance were E. Doberer, general manager, and H. P. Simpson, director of the Berrygrowers' Co-operative Union; H. E. Tanner and William Sommers of Saanich and Keatings, Vancouver Island; E. M. Gilliland, managing director Pacific Berrygrowers; Thomas H. Bulman, vice-president of the Associated Growers, Limited; R. G. L. Clarke, Dominion fruit inspector, and E. V. Ablett, transportation specialist of the Associated Boards of Trade.

Simpkins considered himself a humorist. He sent a selection of his original jokes to the editor of a newspaper and confidently awaited a remittance. His excitement ran high when he received a letter, obviously from the newspaper office. He opened it with feverish haste. There was no check, however, just a small note, as follows: "Dear Sir: Your jokes received. Some we have seen before, some we have not seen yet."

A very pleasant and most interesting feature of this session was an address by Miss Mary Campbell of Winnipeg, descriptive of the Zenana mission work in India. Miss Campbell was for a number of years actively engaged in this work but is now doing secretarial work in its behalf in Western Canada.

The morning and afternoon sessions of Thursday were devoted mainly to the business of the society. Reports from the various auxiliaries bespoke progress and an increasing interest amongst the members.

The election of officers resulted in Mrs. A. S. Hurlburt, of Vernon, being re-elected district superintendent; Mrs. Standen, Penticton, assistant superintendent; and Mrs. Beaver, Summerland, secretary-treasurer.

A very thoughtful paper on "Stewardship of Personality and Power" was given at the afternoon session by Mrs. McLurg, of Kelowna. This was followed by a solo, "Hold Thou My Hand," by Mrs. L. G. Harding, Summerland, which was much appreciated.

At the evening session a report of the board meeting recently held in Toronto was read by the superintendent. A solo, "My Task," was very sweetly rendered by Mrs. Clark, Summerland. Two papers, one on "The importance of the united prayer service," by Mrs. Dawson, Penticton, and one on "Present day necessity of stewardship," by Mrs. Keeler, Keremeis, were very much enjoyed.

Both luncheon and supper were served to delegates and visitors in the church parlors.

It was decided to hold the next convention in Kelowna in June of the coming year.

SENDS A BILL OF DAMAGES TO COUNCIL

Asks that Municipality Make Good Loss Occasioned by Earth Slide.

Damages to the extent of $3,560 are alleged to have been suffered by Major W. T. Daniel by the slide which came down on Canyon ranch on August 24th, and Major Daniel, through his solicitors, is seeking compensation from the municipality, alleging that his misfortune is attributable to negligence on the part of the municipal employees.

Just what caused the slide has evidently not been determined by Major Daniel, but he advances two probable reasons for his misfortune, attributing it to one or the other.

The first, which is advanced in a letter from his solicitors, Messrs. Clayton and Boyle, Penticton, is that it was the result of negligence in permitting an irrigation canal near the Evans property to leak. Apparently from this, the claim is made that Hilborn Lake, so called, was the result of municipal negligence and that the water which occasioned the slide came from there.

If not from that source, then, the lawyers' letter claims, the slide was caused by "irrigation water brought by the Municipality of Summerland onto the lands adjacent to said lot No. 31 (the damaged property) and there distributed without sufficient care having regard to its effect on adjacent lands and that the Municipality of Summerland is responsible for all damage caused by the said irrigation water by reason of such want of care."

CRAZED MAN HOLDS UP CAR GETS 7 DAYS

Local Character Attempts to Board Car Driven by Woman.

To be forced to ditch her car in an effort to get by a drunken man who persisted in her stopping, was the experience of Mrs. R. E. White when driving west Tuesday evening along the gulch road a short distance east of St. Stephen's church. The incident occurred at about eight o'clock that evening when not a car nor any other person was in sight.

Try as she would to dodge past him, the man continued to wave his arms and move from side to side on the road, insisting that she stop, until finally she had the car off the road and was compelled to come to a standstill. Accomplishing this, the man attempted to board the car, but, as he did so, the woman in the car forced it forward as fast as she could in low until she was free of him. This is the second time that the same person, Alf. Bloomfield, had attempted this with her.

Reaching a telephone, she reported the matter to the police and asked that he be taken off the street before she returned home. Yesterday, Mrs. White was asked to go to police court and tell her story. Another witness, Dan Rutherford, told of having to put Bloomfield out of the pool room the same evening, and Constable King told of the disorderly conduct of Bloomfield on the street.

Prototyping that he had no money to pay a fine, Bloomfield was committed to jail for a period of seven days under the vagrancy clause of the Criminal Act.

A sarcastic critic the other day described golf as "the foot and mouth disease." Asked to explain, he said that the golfer walks all day chasing the ball and then talks about it all night.—London Free Press.

SIXTY CENTS IS LOWEST PRICE

Producers Will Not Pack "C" Grade Unless They Get This.

Wenatchee.—The elimination of the C grade from the cheaper varieties of apples is being brought nearer to realization this season than ever before. By common consent a limit has been set below which C grades are not being packed out by many of the local growers' associations. It has been agreed that 60 cents net to the grower is the least that can be accepted and still pay expenses of harvesting, packing, hauling, etc., including the materials and labor used.

This will apply to Jonathan, Rome Beauty, Stayman, Black Ben, Grimes Golden, White Winter Pearmain and some other varieties. It is estimated that several hundred carloads of apples will thus be removed from the market and either dumped or sold to by-produce plants.

Shipping apples in bulk has been favored by some growers and organizations, but no rate has yet been secured for this purpose and the idea does not appeal to the industry generally.

CUT IN JITNEY TRADE LICENSE

That the municipal license fee charged citizens conducting a public motor vehicle service should be reduced if the licensee has more than one vehicle, was the conclusion reached by the municipal council on Saturday. The clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw under which such license will be required to pay $2.50 on all cars or trucks other than the first one which will remain at five dollars.

CO-OPERATIVE FIRST MONEY TO MEMBERS

Returns Made for Cherries, Apricots and Currants. Storing Apples.

Twelve thousand dollars was received early this week by the Co-operative from the Associated on fruit sales. Learning that this cheque was to come, the directors at their meeting last Thursday gave instructions for the issuing of cheques to growers in settlement of cherry, apricot, currant and gooseberry shipments.

Some days earlier the Associated had made a remittance to the local out of which bills, including payroll of $5,000, were paid, leaving about $3,000, which, with the sum received this week, made $15,000 available for payment to growers, the first this season, as all earlier payments had been used to retire the bank loan against operating costs.

Packing operations as carried on during the rush season terminated some time ago and only such apples as are now ordered for immediate shipment are being packed. During the last two or three weeks a good many carloads have been moved out, which has given some floor space in the big warehouse. The locals at Peachland and Naramata are taking advantage of this to store their late apples and already quite a quantity have been moved in, those from Naramata having been brought across by the ferry.

The local charges the Associated three cents per box per month for storage and this will be a charge against the pool. Winesap, Stayman and Newtown are the principal varieties now in storage.

WILL OPERATE NEXT SEASON

It has been announced that the Occidental Fruit Company, Limited, has decided to continue its operations here next year. The Review is informed by Geo. C. Bonmore, local manager, that the company is well satisfied with last season's business in Summerland district. Mr. Bonmore has therefore made arrangements to remain here together with his family all winter.

CROWD REVELS AT THE G.W.V.A. BAL MASQUE

Many Fine Costumes Displayed—Three Prizes Were Awarded.

Success crowned the efforts of the Great War Veterans' Association in their annual masquerade ball at the Empire Hall on Friday last. From Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver, Vernon, Peachland and Naramata came merry bunches of masqueraders in every conceivable character to swell the large number of those from Summerland, and tripped the "light fantastic" to the strains of music played by the Emmetron orchestra from Penticton.

The spacious hall had been tastefully adorned with flags and bunting, while green foliage and multi-colored ribbons added in transforming the scene into a veritable fairyland. Great praise is due particularly to Messrs. Howland and Bernard for their artistry in this connection.

The Women's Auxiliary of the local branch had a special treat prepared in a chicken salad supper to which about 165 sat down. The tables were lavishly decorated, the color scheme being in harmony with the gay occasion.

The judges' task was no sinecure, so excellent and varied in their originality and designing were many of the costumes. There were five judges, these being stationed in different parts of the hall. A novel plan of selection by ballot governed the selection of prize winners and in the first vote in the ladies' competition the following were selected: Mrs. A. C. Turner, Chinese; Mrs. P. G. Koop, Princess Abdullah; Miss Molesworth, 18th century; Miss Vicary, Egyptian; Miss V. Jones, school girl; and Mrs. G. Craig, Turkish. On final ballot the choice was practically unanimous, Miss Vicary carrying off all honors.

There was no difference in opinion among the judges in the matter of selection of the men's competition. P. G. Koop, as Prince Abdullah, came out first in the ballot, G. Y. L. Crossley as a Circassian, a close second. For the best comic, H. Schwartz captured first prize, with H. Finley and T. P. Carvick his runners-up. Other notable costumes were as follows: Mr. Weitzel, Uncle Sam; Miss Long, Miss Columbia; T. P. Carvick, Jew tramp; Miss Britton, snow queen; Miss Shields, night; Mrs. W. White, Japanese; Mr. C. Nesbitt, Turk; W. C. W. Fosbery, Arab; G. Fosbery, pirate; Miss D. Cordy, Egyptian; Miss J. Cordy, Japanese; T. Croil, Ku Klux Klan; Mrs. Kenting, Hawaiian, and Mrs. Lovaday, Page.

VERY PRETTY WEDDING IN LOCAL CHURCH

Popular Young Couple Launch Out on the Sea of Matrimony.

An exceptionally pretty wedding took place in the Baptist church on Wednesday morning, when Gertrude Marie, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Darke, became the bride of Mr. Charles Arnold Gayton, Rev. Z. L. Pash performing the ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being in green and white throughout, much credit being due to the Misses Spencer under whose direction the artistic effect was carried out.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss Ruth Dale, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and took her place beneath a beautiful canopy of green fern and white ribbon streamers. She was attended by Miss Carol Graham, as bridesmaid, and looked sweet in a gown of white duchess satin, trimmed with silk shadow lace, with veil and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of carnations and ferns. The bridesmaid's costume was of Nile crepe de chene with (Continued on Page 6)

OKANAGAN ROAD FERRY LINK NOW RANKS FOURTH

Interesting information with respect to ferries throughout the province was brought out in the legislature by recent questions. Something of the rapidly growing importance of the Okanagan highway is revealed in the statement that the Westbank Kelowna ferry, during the year 1922-1923 carried nearly 27,000 passengers. This, no doubt, will be greatly exceeded during the year ending March next.

The ferry across Okanagan Lake was fourth of the 49 ferries in the number of passengers it carried. Nelson ferry on Kootenay Lake headed the list with 90,307 passengers; Ladner-Woodward, Fraser river, second with 59,599; Castlegar on the Columbia third with 28,240 and Kelowna-Westbank fourth with 26,841. On at least four of the ferries no fees were charged.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS AT BIG BANQUET

Annual Function Greatly Enjoyed—Welcome to New Secretary.

A most successful mother and daughter banquet, was held in St. Andrew's church on Thursday night, November 22nd, when 65 mothers and girls were present.

The color scheme for decoration was in pink. The place cards for each mother consisted of a plain card with a pink carnation inserted. The programs and toast lists were dainty booklets decorated with the C. G. I. T. crest and tied with pink. The candle shade and streamers were of pink also. The tables were laden with good things to which all did justice. A pleasing event at supper was the serving of a huge cake with candles by Elizabeth Munn, who was celebrating her birthday.

Mrs. Alexander, leader of the senior group of girls, acted as toast mistress. The following were the toasts:

1. "Our King"—Musical honors.
2. "Our Mothers," proposed by Annie Williams, was responded to by Mrs. W. Kerr.
3. "The girls in the home," proposed by Jessie Rutherford, replied to by Mrs. Welsh.
4. "The girls in the church," proposed by Laura McLachlin, replied to by Miss Sinclair.
5. "Our guest," proposed by Mrs. Alexander and responded to by Miss Fountain, B.A., the new secretary of the Girls' Board of B. C. In proposing this last toast it was explained that until October 1st, 1923, B. C. had been the only Province in the Dominion without a girls' secretary, and that on this occasion they were giving a welcome to Miss Fountain, but recently appointed.

In replying, Miss Fountain in pleasing remarks expressed her pleasure at being present with the girls at this time.

While the tables were being cleared Miss Fountain led the girls in a sing song in which the mothers took part most heartily, showing by their response that they were girls again just for the night.

Laura McLachlin, senior president, acted as chairwoman. The program was as follows:

Instrumental duet, Margaret Munn and Florence Campbell.

Vocal solo, Florence Campbell, "My Task."

Address by Miss Fountain, "The Four Fold Program," explaining the necessity in attaining a perfect life to have the four square development, always receiving and giving the best. She impressed upon the mothers the fact that the C.G.I.T. program was an extension of the Sunday School work, and as such aimed to keep the girls within the church, and that as members of the church they should support the girls' work. In closing, Miss Fountain told the story of "The Quest for Jewels," holding her hearers spell-bound to the end.

Following this address Alma Lott and Mabel Shields sang "Mother Mchroo." Eva Johnston and Alma Lott gave a piano duet. The evening's program was brought to a close by all singing "A Perfect Day." Rev. Alexander pronounced the benediction.

CALGARY HAS APPLE DRIVE FOR SUNSHINE

Rotarians Hit Upon Novel Plan—Everybody Munches O.K. Macks.

The people of Calgary worked up a good healthy appetite for Okanagan apples on Saturday, when samples of our McIntosh and Jonathan were sold singly or by the box upon the streets of that city to augment the finances of the Calgary Herald Sunshine Fund. This innovation was successfully tried out last year by the Rotarians for the same philanthropic purpose, and although the weather on that occasion was anything but salubrious, no less than $1,300 rolled into the coffers of the fund.

Once again the Rotarians took charge of "Apple Day" sales, and by arrangement with the Associated Growers of British Columbia, a carload of apples en route to England was halted at the prairie metropolis and donated by them for this worthy purpose.

The streets of Calgary were filled with people on Saturday last, all munching Macks and Jonathans grown in our orchards. The old-time London coster, with his "Arist, moke and barrer," was everywhere in evidence, while staid ministers of the gospel vied with raucous-lunged auctioneers in raking in the shekels. Nothing was refused in the way of legal tender; the humble copper of the newsboy was just as welcome to the salesman as the five or ten dollar note of the merchant prince.

A combined drive was made in the early morning upon all the stores, the Rotarian teams from then on working in relays. By six o'clock every one of the luscious apples had been sold, and the Saturday night crowds downtown were everywhere clamoring for more. In some instances throughout the day boxes were sold outright, netting from two to five dollars.

This unique method of raising funds will no doubt be emulated in other Canadian cities, as it has proved a popular and profitable one in Calgary.

MCDOWALL LEAVING ASSOCIATED GROWERS

W. J. McDowall, formerly general manager of the Okanagan United Growers and lately traffic and credit manager of the Associated Growers, is severing his connection with the Associated at the end of the month. Mr. McDowall proposes establishing a coal, wood and grain business in Vernon.

APPOINT NEW PRINCIPAL OF HIGH SCHOOL

Language Teacher Selected with Alternative Salary Fifteen Hundred.

At a meeting of the school board last night the resignation of the principal, G. A. Lunde, M.A., was accepted. Jns. O. Steeves, B.A., now assistant, was appointed to the position.

There were a number of applications sent in in response to the advertisement for the position of teacher in languages. Miss Edith Barlow, of Gibson's Landing was the first choice and was offered the appointment at a salary of $1500. One or two alternatives were decided upon should she not accept.

The secretary was instructed to apply to the Department of Lands for a permit to cut wood.

B. Robinson, B.S.A., instructor in agriculture, now on leave, wrote stating that he would be back at the end of the present term. The secretary reported quite a number of high school fees yet unpaid. The situation last night was as follows: matriculation, $60 paid, $98 due; second year, $52 paid, $30 due; first year, $42 paid, $28 due.

TOTAL SHIPMENTS SOMEWHAT LESS

Fewer Cars Moved out of Valley than Last Year.

Shipments of fruit and vegetables from the Okanagan up to November 14 this year were 258 cars less than a year ago, according to figures just issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

Up to November 14th 4588 cars had left the Valley, compared with 4846 cars for the same period a year ago. The smaller shipments this season is accounted for by the fact that there are still left in the different districts many cars of apples which when billed out will increase the total considerably.

It is stated that Okanagan fruit houses contain at present more fruit than in any previous year.—Vernon News.

Alberta's trade commissioner hit the nail on the head when he said that Canada had no fuel problem, but a transportation problem. Canada has the largest coal deposits in the world, but no way of getting the fuel satisfactorily to market.—London Free Press.

A. T. HOWE SUFFERS FIRE LOSS OF $2000

A. T. Howe, president of the Associated Growers, suffered a loss of more than $2,000 by fire at his Coldstream ranch recently. The overturning of a lantern set fire to the machine shed, destroying two tractors, a motor truck and a large number of tools, as well as the shed itself. Mr. Howe was at the Coast at the time and was advised of his loss by wire. It is stated that there was no insurance on the shed or equipment.

FRUIT READY FOR BRITISH EXHIBITION

Eight Hundred Boxes of Apples and Pears Awaiting Shipment to London.

The magnificent exhibit of apples and pears which F. R. DeHart of Kelowna has collected for display at the Empire Exposition which will be held near London, England, next year, is described by the Kelowna Courier thus:

"On the first of September Mr. DeHart was appointed by the Dominion Government to get together a collection of packed fruit which would be really representative of this Province, and he commenced his duties at once, visiting each and every section of the fruit-producing portion of the Interior in turn and making arrangements for the shipment to Kelowna of the very best samples from each district. The result has been the collection of over one thousand boxes of fruit here, which has nearly all been carefully repacked and reduced to 800 boxes. The arrangements for handling it have been excellent, as directly on arrival the fruit, which has come from all points between Salmon Arm and Osoyoos, and Keremeos and Creston, has at once been repacked and then placed in cold storage, where it has been kept at a continuous temperature of 38 degrees Fahr. It will be sent from here about the 6th of December to Vancouver for shipment on the s.s. "Royalstar" of the Blue Star line, via Panama to London. On board ship it will be stowed in a special refrigerated chamber and on arrival in London it will be kept in cold storage at the warehouse of the Union Cold Storage Company, until it is placed on exhibit.

There are one or two points about this exhibit which are worth mentioning, as they show that every effort has been made by Mr. DeHart, who has worked practically without assistance, to make it worthy of the Province. Each single box is stamped with the name of the variety. (Continued on Page 4)

COAST PAPER PRAISES NUTS OF OKANAGAN

Instructive Advertising Results from Exhibit at Kelowna Fair.

J. U. Gellatly, whose endeavor to create a livelier interest in the production of nuts is becoming generally recognized, had a very interesting exhibit of nuts at the Kelowna Fall Fair. Farm and Home made this exhibit the subject of an extended write-up on the production of nuts in this province. It reads:

Not only was the display of nuts grown in this locality unique, but the man in charge of it was J. U. Gellatly, whose knowledge of what gives promise of becoming an important factor in our production is wide, practical and thorough. It is the first time such an exhibit—such a complete and good exhibit of nuts has been staged anywhere in B. C. Gellatly operates with his brother, a nursery, and has given the subject of nut culture careful study. They suggested to the government that a survey of the nut-producing areas actually operating would be of value, and combined with information concerning possibilities for further development, still more valuable. The provincial department of agriculture could not see its way clear to have such a survey arranged for. The Gellatly brothers are doing a whole lot to get the information themselves, which such a survey would gather.

J. U. says the disappointments which have befallen many who have tried to grow nuts in B. C. are primarily due to the planting of non-suitable varieties. For instance, the Ontario black walnut, which withstands 35 to 40 degrees below zero in eastern Canada, winter kills here sometimes. But properly selected Ontario black walnuts do well here—there are quite a number of plantations in B. C., running from ten to twenty trees each, and hosts of smaller lots. This nut is good for (Continued on Page 2)

URGES CLOSER CO-OPERATION WITH JOBBERS

A. M. Dollar Read Splendid Report at Associated Boards of Trade.

Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd., have, on their board of directors, Mr. A. M. Dollar, representing the Vancouver Board of Trade. Mr. Dollar at the last meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia held in Vancouver, submitted his report on the Associated. Coming from one of the Province's best-known business men, one who is a complex outsider as far as the fruit industry is concerned, his report and comments are of particular interest.

The full text of Mr. Dollar's address follows:

Mr. President and Delegates to the Associated Boards of Trade of B.C. Gentlemen: It gives me a great deal of pleasure as your representative on the directorate of the Associated Growers' Organization of the Interior, to present to you my report dealing with some phases of the work of that body.

To go back into history, I would inform you that in Dec. 1922, Mr. Aaron Sapiro, well-known co-operative expert, visited the Okanagan and laid before the growers and business men of the various district plans whereby greater efficiency and profit could be assured the fruit industry. If certain plans which he outlined were carried into effect.

After prolonged discussion a co-operative scheme was devised, and an organization created known as the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Limited.

It is not my intention to go into the details of the organization itself. These are known to most of you. Simultaneously with the creation of this new body, the Vancouver Board of Trade was asked to send (Continued on Page 3)

Editorial

NOVEL ADVERTISING FOR O.K. BRAND.

Everybody was munching McIntosh Reds and Jonathans in Calgary last Saturday. To raise money for the Calgary Herald Sunshine fund, the Rotarians of the prairie city last year hit upon the novel plan of selling apples of the O.K. brand upon the streets singly or by the box. Over $1300 was then netted, and the second venture on Saturday last proved even far more financially successful.

Much good advertising should accrue from such a campaign, primarily because of the philanthropic uses to which the cash raised by the sale of our apples will be put, and further because of the splendid opportunity the occasion afforded of introducing our staple brands to the average man and woman on the street. In this regard the Calgary Herald remarks:

"These O.K. apples cannot be surpassed anywhere in the world for quality, and this paper hopes to see the day when the people of this province will ask definitely by name for British Columbia apples when they are available. We should buy more of the products of our own land. Give our business to our own growers and we shall have improved markets for our business men. There can be co-operation in buying as well as in selling."

HOW TO BUILD UP OUR TOWN.

Building a community is everybody's job. The home owner, the landlord, the merchant, the housewife, the minister, the doctor, the school principal, the school board, the civic council, the police, the board of trade—in fact, everyone with a distinct home interest must play his part. The local newspaper is the point of contact through which these various elements must function and express themselves. The home town publication is a mirror of the life of the community, inspiring, suggesting, helping, and usually sacrificing a great deal to the general work of upbuilding. It is the concentrated reflection of the home town interest, as opposed to activities in its midst, whose sole aim is to take the home town dollar out of town and attach it to the bank account of some foreign corporation.

The appeal of the foreign corporation for the home town dollar is usually an appeal to cupidity camouflaged as safe and economical buying. For the most part it is made in secret—direct by mail—the circular, the booklet, the disguised mimeographed letter systematically prepared by expert mail salesmen, with the usual "follows up" destined to extract and carry away to the distant bank account the money of the unthinking. The very secrecy of the appeal is its own condemnation.

It is amazing to note how slow is the average newspaper reader to appreciate the value of frank and open newspaper advertising. Not only in this way is the housewife enabled to learn what the market has to offer, but in the frank open advertisement lies an absolute security from exploitation. Newspaper advertising is the housewife's weekly insurance. The day has passed when the advertiser dare be dishonest. The statements in an advertisement are shouted from the housetops. They are too easily checked up. They become the guarantee of service and of honest dealing. The direct-by-mail appeal is like the secret whisper passed from ear to ear but without any general publicity that ensures complete honesty of statement. As a rule, its underlying principle is sinister. To supplement and become a part of any well-organized campaign it has its value, but standing alone it should arouse suspicion rather than confidence.

CO-OPERATIVE BOOSTING.

Boosting is a game that more than one can play. "I boost you, you boost me," is a good motto, and "we will boost together," is another good motto. The newspaper man can boost in a very effective way, even by not "knocking" when people want him to "knock." He can boost a good deal more by coming out flat-footed and upholding the good that is in an individual or an institution and leaving unsaid what he knows to be bad. But when this is done there is no occasion for the person or institution which is boosted to assume that the newspaper has to do it in order to hold its job with the public, as that is indeed a serious mistake. A newspaper man sees and hears more things, bad or good, about individuals and about the way institutions are conducted than other individuals, a gossiping old maid not excepted, and it is unfair to assume that it is because he does not know that he does not print it. It is because he has a sense of honor and a sense of feeling, and last but not least, a love of peace and harmony in the community. Many things might be printed about our town which would make spicy reading, but why herald such things abroad? The least said, the better. The newspaper man, however, has a keen sense of appreciation and is susceptible to praise of the right sort, and to substantial business support. He appreciates the spirit of the man who, when he has a few dollars' worth of job printing, does not go galling about the country, spending car fare and time thinking he might get it a few cents cheaper, but who says, "We've got a printer here at home who is trying to help our town, and we will in turn help him by giving him the little printing we have to do." This is the true community spirit, and it counts with the merchant, with the doctor, with the lawyer and with every business which draws its daily support from a community.—Exchange.

INSURANCE FOR FRUIT GROWERS.

The government of Australia has taken the lead in yet another paternal device to assist those who have been led by official propaganda to invest in the always hazardous industry of fruit growing. But after brief experience in guaranteeing minimum prices for fruit, and in financing canned fruit pools, the government now announces a halt in the program. The losses sustained by the government are stated at upwards of two million dollars during the past three seasons. The official contribution for next fruit season therefore may be confined to sympathy and advice, the latter being addressed to citizens generally who will be urged to eat more fruit and thereby assist in the problem of marketing.

The growers have put forward the alternative suggestion that the government should pay a subsidy of $48 a ton for all fruit delivered at railway stations, which subsidy it is stated, would enable the fruit to be delivered to the canneries practically free of cost; but the government shies from the responsibility involved in this program, though hopes are entertained that there will be some subsidy of this nature.—British Columbian.

Uncle Joe's Jangling Prose

These Jingles must not be taken as Editorial opinion, nor necessarily the opinion of the writer, being merely the philosophic vapourings of an entirely fictitious person.

I'M GOOD AND mad, but should be glad, this coming festive season—I've got to buy, so that ain't why,—no, there's another reason: when flush with cash I like to dash and do my Christmas shopping, not muss and maul and cuss and scrawl, and give the goods a stopping. I get a kick in shopping quick, not at the latest minute—for I'm a guy who likes to buy before the crowd gets in it. But Ads. I pore of every store, from page to page I caper, there's yet no trace in any place of Christmas in the paper. And so this year, I sadly fear, the fun for me is stopping, 'cos there's no Ads. or doodle-dads to aid me in my shopping. When Ads. I read of things I need my friends with gifts surprise 'em, but now I'm stuck and out of luck, the stores don't advertise 'em. And so I'll crawl from stall to stall, while at the mouth I'm foaming; in aimless drift and ambling shift from store to store go roaming. In times of yore that's gone before, all through the bygone ages, the Merchant Dads with massive Ads. would decorate the pages. They used to think that Printer's Ink with them was Now or Never; shall Printers mean while readers groan "Them Days is Gone Forever?" So, Stores give heed, and show some speed, make me and Santy happy; we want to know what you've to show, so make it good and snappy. . . . When pushing clouds, with angel crowds beyond the gates so Pearly, your harp will ring and praise you'll sing of those who shop-pled early. —UNCLE JOE OF SUMMERLAND.

table use, pickling, etc., and, moreover, the timber is a real asset. The trees attain a good size, up to 8 and 10 inches in diameter when mature, and that width is good for veneer. The Japanese heart nut (Juglans Cordiformis) is a variety of the well-known Jap walnut, which flourishes exceedingly in many parts of the province. The nut is excellent for pickled walnuts. The trouble with the Jap walnut is that usually the kernel is so keyed into the hard shell that extracting it is difficult. That was the writer's trouble with some huge Jap walnut trees on his ranch in Surrey. J. U. solved that difficulty promptly. He had on exhibition whole kernels of Jap walnuts—all kinds of them. The trick is simple—when you know it.

Put the Jap walnuts (or any other variety similarly troublesome) in a shallow pan in a hot oven. The nuts crack themselves so nicely as to allow the kernel to be easily taken out whole. Sufficient steam is generated inside the shell to crack the nut. Moreover, the steam softens the kernel sufficiently to allow of its being taken out whole even when the kernel is that of a very badly keyed-in type. In the cultivated Jap walnut the sycamore shell is shallow and the cleavage runs evenly and naturally.

The flavor is superior to that of English walnuts. The Gollaty Brothers sold theirs this year for 35 cents a pound wholesale.

Two varieties of chestnuts figured in the display—American sweet and Japanese. Each thrive here, and there is a notable shortage of these nuts. The former forests of chestnuts were almost wiped out years ago by Oriental chestnut blight. Now

ALTERATION IN STAGE SCHEDULE

For twelve years, in all conditions of weather, and as regular as clockwork, the stage run by P. S. Roe has been making its daily runs between Summerland and Penticton. Hitherto the stage commenced its trips from the Hotel Summerland, but commencing December 1st, it will leave the "Better 'Ole," West Summerland at 12.45, and the Hotel Summerland at 1 p.m. returning leaves Penticton 4 p.m. This alteration should be appreciated by the travelling public, as it will enable those making the trip from West Summerland to embark direct without the trouble of proceeding to Summerland indirectly as hitherto. There will be no change in the tariff, viz., $1.00 for the round trip; this added advantage of making the trip with comfort and economy working out at less than five cents per mile. It is, perhaps, not generally known that a messenger service is maintained in connection with the Summerland-Penticton run at very moderate charges. 18

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles."
* * * * *
The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

Some weeks ago there appeared in a Vancouver paper some remarks by one Grace Luckhart, who was moved to philosophy on the subject of dish rags by the reading of some lines by a free verse poetess whose name may CONCERNING DISH RAGS tempt on the woman who "talked of dish rags" while "nations were in growth, Battles were fighting, Children and books were born — famine — and flowers, The whole tremendous earth, Tremulously was whirling" and so on and so forth. Our sensible Vancouver critic very pertinently asked, "Why shouldn't we talk of dish rags?" seeing that they are part of the machinery of affairs. The superior person who writes of the "tremulously whirling earth" (why "tremulously?") might conceivably not recognize a dish rag if she met one, but she would probably object to dining off dirty plates, and clean ones presuppose some sort of equipment for the cleansing. Of course, when "famine is being born," as this poetical one puts it, dish rags would be more or less unimportant, but even then their superfluity would be part of the tragedy, and might provide a theme for more verses. Our sensible Grace opines that a woman who can get up enough enthusiasm to talk of dish rags ought to have a hall hired for her, and also wonders just how the "nations in growth" would get along if several million women were not looking after the kitchen—and dish rags. It is a reasonable wonder, and carries its own moral.

This paragraph is not concerned with violated treaties or broken contracts, but with the much more prosaic problem of accumulations of papers which have served their intended purpose, and later become a nuisance. It is SCRAPS OF PAPER suggested by part of a recent report of a shareholders' meeting, during which a member raised the question of an accumulation of paper piled against a company building and referred to its bearing on the matter of fire insurance. I do not know whether contributory negligence constitutes a real bar to claim for compensation in case of fire, but it is quite certain that the matter is worth considering. The point raised in the meeting referred to brought to mind an incident related to me by my friend George, who at one time occupied offices in a Saskatchewan city where the fire department was commendably on guard against needless risks. George said, "I was busy dictating to my stenographer (and admiring the way she banged her hair), when in came a large, portly person in a uniform which my guilty conscience immediately connected with the police force." This individual said, in a terrible voice, "Are you Mr. Blank?" I forced my trembling lips to whisper an affirmative, when the potentate from official regions handed me a paper which I recognized as a portion of a circular letter recently sent out by me imploring the investing public to get in on the ground floor of my latest townsite proposition. "Is that yours?" demanded the inquisitor. While I was trying to guess which one of my client-victims had invoked the law against me, and debating whether or not to appeal for mercy, the voice broke in again. "What do you mean by emptying your wastepaper basket at the back of these premises? Don't you know better than that?" "Why, yes,—you're the fire chief, aren't you?" Of course I know better—I never do such a thing. "Well, come downstairs and see for yourself," which I accordingly did with a heart suddenly lightened. Well, sir, there was a pile of wastepaper about seven feet high, right up against the building, and on top of it were the remains of my tell tale circulars. Would you believe it!—that dashed janitor, instead of feeding his furnace with the office waste in the building, had simply dumped the whole show in the yard, and there were the materials for as pretty a fire as ever you saw. Of course, the chief soon found who was to blame, but all the same he gave me a good wiggling, which I passed on to the janitor, with interest." I suppose the moral of this is that we should be sure we are not taking unnecessary chances.

It is quite possible that we on this side of the international border, are not as well posted on conditions in the State of Oklahoma as those who dwell therein, and may therefore fail to understand the animosity, which DEPOSING THE GOVERNOR seems to be general, against a ruler who set out to maintain the law. One would naturally suppose that Governor Walton could have reckoned on the support of the majority in his fight with that masked and hooded organization known as the Ku Klux Klan, and the result up to date seems rather surprising. That any set of people should be content to see the operation of State laws deliberately overruled by a band of men in such fashion as we have seen reported, does not appear to indicate a keen sense of the fitness of things, but so long as these vagabonds stay south of the line, it is, I presume, none of our business. It may be that the legal decision said to be given does not properly represent public sentiment in the matter, but we have seen no particular expression of dissent so far, and must leave that to conjecture. One feature which must strike the average person as quite extraordinary is the complacency with which the leaders of the K.K.K. brand of misrule allow themselves to be labelled after the fashion of mythological monstrosities. They even seem to glory in them;—the other day the public were regaled with portraits of two of those curious individuals, one tickoted Grand Exalted Dragon, the other some equally delightful name, which I have for the moment forgotten. It is too bad that the choice of titles from the regions of mythology is somewhat limited.—If there are many officers to be named, recourse to natural history may be necessary. In that case Supreme Kicking Mule or Sublime Elevated Jackass might be suggested as suitable.

It seems to be fairly well established that the Associated Growers of British Columbia number within their ranks approximately eighty per cent. of the total of those who could be members, and it was said at the organization that such a percentage would be practicable for successful working. But it seems THAT OTHER TWENTY PER CENT. that the one fifth who stayed out are causing more marketing troubles than was anticipated, which is not altogether surprising when everything is considered. Only a small amount of price cutting is necessary to partially break any market, and twenty per cent. is not so very small in this case. The problem to be solved before complete success can be attained is now holding the attention of everybody concerned, and has been recently discussed at the central point, but so far without definite result. It is said that one at least of the executive was in favor of "breaking things wide open," which means, I take it, that the price cutters should be met on their own ground, and undersold in turn. Obviously this would mean loss to the growers all round, and it is not easy to see how any permanent benefit would be gained. To suggest the securing of those growers who have not yet signed up seems to be advising the obvious but impossible remedy, but it is by no means certain that it is so impossible as many appear to think. I personally know of one grower who was lost to the association for want of a little business concession, and there are probably other cases. And the showing of the first season's operations being admittedly better than was looked for, it is only reasonable to assume that some of those who hesitated to join an absolutely untried organization may be quite open to argument now that they see how it is shaping. And the argument should not be framed in reproach. "Oil is better for a wig than vinegar," and many a man who would resent being rebuked for standing aloof, might be finally brought in by intelligent and friendly reasoning.

Urges Closer Co-Operation

delegation of its members to assist in the organization and a committee consisting of Messrs. Blake Wilson, W. E. Bland, Hugh Dalton, G. F. Gyles, W. E. Payne, and myself visited the Okanagan and conferred with the provincial committees. At this conference the Vancouver representatives pledged themselves to assist in financing the new venture, but later the organization was successful in making its own financial arrangements.

At a later date the Okanagan and district directorate requested the executive of the Associated Boards of Trade of B. C. to select a representative to act on the newly elected Board of the growers' organization, and I had the honor of being appointed to act in that capacity. Let me say at the outset, gentlemen, that I have never worked alongside a more sincere group of men, thoroughly keyed up, to their responsibilities and absolutely fair. I have been in receipt of a unanimous kindness and consideration, and have always been made to feel absolutely one of themselves.

When I took the appointment I realized my many shortcomings and the fact that I knew practically nothing about fruit, but I believed I could assist to some extent in the general administration of the organization.

With regard to the functions of the organization as created, as I see them, the outlying principles which caused the creation of this co-operative body were:—

- (a) To bring the grower to realization that a continuation of the old method of producing and marketing his products would not secure the best results.
- (b) To stimulate amongst the growers a keener interest in the requirements of the buying public.
- (c) To effect more consistent marketing conditions.
- (d) To engender in the minds of the consumers faith in the products.
- (e) To prevent useless repetition in marketing.
- (f) To avoid the unsatisfactory system of consignments, and above all to do away with the feature of dumping.

These, I believe, were the fundamental principles which governed the creation of the organization, not omitting, however, the co-operative aspect of the whole situation, bringing into existence a truly representative co-operative scheme. It is my intention in this report to deal with facts, and to this end I propose to analyze to some extent what, in my opinion, are the results that have been obtained up to the present time. No one will gainsay the fact that after six months work the organization has justified its existence. The growers are confident that success is in sight. For the first time for many years the grower is producing a financial statement minus red ink and with a substantial reduction possible in his individual liabilities. The marketing of the products of the interior has been carried out on a systematic basis. However, I wish to cover these points in more detail, and will do so now:—

Finance.

The Associated is in a unenviable position at the present time on account of operating entirely on borrowed money, and the terms on which this loan was made are such that the bank will not allow any money to be distributed on any of the pools until the whole season's crop is marketed and all pools are settled; or until the bank has been entirely repaid the money they advanced. The operation of this works out about as follows:—

Take for instance the grower who is growing cherries, peaches and apples. When he ships his cherries to the Associated in the early part of the season, he does so on the assumption that he will receive some money to help finance the picking of his apples, which is his last crop to harvest. Under the present rule, it is impossible for the locals, as a branch of the Associated, to pay any portion of the money that is actually due to the grower on his cherries. For this reason the independent shippers, who are able to buy fruit for cash, go in and buy the fruit of the growers who have not signed up with the Associated, and pay them immediately when the fruit is delivered. This is causing a lot of dissension amongst the different sets of growers in the districts.

I would suggest that in arranging the bank loan for next year, the loan be split into three parts: (1) soft fruits; (2) vegetables; (3) apples; with the understanding with the bank that when each of the above-mentioned pools are closed and the money collected, the Associated can then distribute the money to the growers. In this way, it would give the growers the money to go ahead and pick their later crop.

Marketing.

In the middle of July an article appeared in the Vancouver press, advising housewives here that "now was the time to preserve apricots." At this time the Okanagan apricots were not available on this market, but the Washington fruit was available on account of it ripening two or three weeks earlier than that of the Okanagan. The Okanagan press severely criticized the Vancouver public and the Vancouver Board of Trade for helping the sale of American fruit to the detriment of Okanagan fruit. Shortly after this, I was in Vernon attending a directors' meeting of the Associated, and I discussed the question with the sales department and executive. I stated at that time if they would lay out a policy as to whether they required or wished to ship the soft fruits into Vancouver market, we would help them in every way possible to market their fruit here.

As a result of this suggestion, Mr. McDonald and Mr. Howe came to Vancouver and we held a meeting with them and the Vancouver Jobbers. Shortly after this meeting adjourned, it was decided, with the sanction of Mr. McDonald, that the Vancouver jobbers should take 25 cars of peaches to be used on the Vancouver market. A few days later, Mr. McDonald reduced this 25 cars to 10 cars, and a short time later he asked that the 10 cars be reduced to 6, which was agreed to on both sides. This sale of six cars was definitely confirmed by both the jobbers here and the Associated at Vernon. After the peach crop started to move, the Associated wired here asking that these six cars be cancelled but as the jobbers here had made definite arrangements for their supply of fruit it was impossible to cancel same. The day previous to the receipt of this telegram here an article appeared in The Daily Province, which was dated from Vernon, advising housewives that "now was the time to can and preserve B. C. peaches," so that in face of this publicity the dealers were besieged with requests for B.C. fruits, and they had to tell their customers that they could not supply it. After several telegrams had been exchanged, the Associated finally agreed to ship five of these cars.

I mention these two incidents in connection with this report to show that here is not proper co-operation between the organization of the Associated and the jobbers in Vancouver, and would suggest that before the sales campaign starts on the early fruits a committee composed of the directors of the Associated Growers and three of the jobbers representing Vancouver dealers, headed by a chairman not interested in the fruit business appointed by the Associated Boards of Trade, shall meet and have a frank discussion as to the amount of each particular kind of fruit that is to be shipped into this market and the prices that are to be charged for same, and that a definite agreement be entered into. SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 3,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements to the value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber lands not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stockowners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PROTECTION OF NEW PLANT ORIGINATORS

The Canadian Horticultural Council, with headquarters at Ottawa, is now prepared to record new varieties of plants of Canadian origin. To this end a Plant Registration Bureau has been organized as a sub-division of the council, which will have charge of the details of the work. This will include the recording of the name and description of the variety, the name of originator and distributor, and the testing of the variety to determine its suitability for registration. This, it is believed, will tend to safeguard the rights of plant originators and introducers.

One of the first plants to be recorded is the gladiolus, Margaret Lewis, which secured the prize of one hundred dollars, offered by the council at the Ontario Gladiolus Society's show, held at Guelph in 1923, for the best introduction.

Something will have to be done about something. Either there should be a law compelling the manufacturers to make motor tires thicker or there should be a law compelling the manufacturers to make their tanks shorter.—Medicine Hat News.

agreement for all the fruits at the early part of the season, then meetings be held at certain intervals before the fruits start to be shipped, in time to give all parties concerned a chance to arrange the policy of their business. I would suggest that after these agreements have been made they should not be cancelled by either party, regardless of price conditions either in Washington, as a buying centre for Vancouver, or on the prairies, as a selling centre for the Associated.

I think the present unpleasantness or misunderstanding has been caused purely from lack of close contact of both parties, and that if such a scheme as above were carried out not only in the letter of this report but also in the spirit of it, all unpleasantness between the two districts would disappear. The Associated would benefit by increased market for their fruit as far as Vancouver is concerned, and the Vancouver jobbers would benefit by having assured that they would get B.C. fruit to supply their customers as a result of any advertising that may be taken up by the B. C. Products Bureau or by the Associated themselves.

General Recommendations.

It is my opinion that the Interior should definitely make up its mind whether they desire the coast market or no, also how many of their varieties they wish this market to absorb.

There has been a great deal of dissatisfaction during the past year at the inability of the local wholesaler or jobber to provide British Columbia fruit when required. This, I believe, is due entirely to lack of a consistent policy, definitely defined. Surely it must be realized that with a consuming population embracing one-half the whole province, situated in this south-west corner of British Columbia, it is worth while cultivating and can only be secured by catering to it. It is a highly competitive market, and when supplies fail to reach it from its legitimate source, then the local merchants are forced of necessity to protect the consumers' demand by importing the foreign article.

Publicity.

On many occasions I have stressed the need of a definite policy being adopted by the growers' organization in this regard. Publicity is an absolute essential, and definite efforts should be made before the next crop matures to place before the buying public a concentrated effort along the lines of publicity campaigns in operation in various parts of the United States.

The growers must realize that what they must sell is their product, and not the price. Create the demand, and the market will follow.

Export.
The growers' organization is giving serious attention to the question of the export of their product, and have sent their managing director to Great Britain to study market conditions, so as to handle next year's crop to better advantage, and know what is required by the consumer.

The Vancouver Board of Trade delegation on its return from Great Britain reported a keen demand for British Columbia fruit, requiring only a little effort on the part of the growers to stimulate a market in Great Britain.

Many of the large ports in England are fully equipped with unlimited refrigerator space, capable of storing any quantity of fruits, with a tremendous consuming population contiguous to all these centres.

One often hears that the Okanagan and other parts of the fruit-growing sections of the province are over-producing. Let me tell you that we will never be able to supply the demand of Great Britain, with a population of nearly fifty million people. Here is an unlimited opportunity for the disposal of all surplus products.

I would refer to the question that has been taken up seriously by the growers themselves during the past year or two. It is that of crop rotation. At the present time the bulk of fruit produced in the Interior is of early varieties, which have to be disposed of within a short time of their maturity. The solution of this problem can only be spread over a term of years, by the growers themselves introducing later and harder varieties which will come on the market at different periods and which can be retained in cold storage to be disposed of as demand requires.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, let me refer for a moment to the attitude of the Coast to the Interior. I think we have demonstrated, during the past year particularly, that our interests lie with yours. We have striven to assist you. I need only mention one or two instances such as the resolution passed by the Vancouver Board of Trade at its last regular meeting, urging the Imperial Conference to admit a preference on fresh fruits produced within the Empire, also the insistent manner in which the Coast organizations have worked in co-operation with the growers and the Coast distributors in an endeavor to facilitate the movement of crops.

There is no antagonism existing between us, and if the organizations in the Interior will immediately question mis-statements appearing in the Vancouver press in this respect, and demonstrate to the growers that we are ready in the future, as in the past, to give a one hundred per cent. co-operation, I believe we will have gone a long way towards solving many of our imaginary problems.

The growers' organization has shown its sympathy in the work of our British Columbia Products Bureau by a practical contribution to its funds. This we appreciate, and the Bureau will feel heartened to continue its work for the good of the province.

Respectfully submitted,
A. M. DOLLAR.

ASSOCIATED GIVES SOME ADVICE

Vernon, B. C.
Editor, Summerland Review.

Sir,—There are times when silence is golden, occasions come when idle street rumor or hasty judgment repeated may precipitate the disaster we most fear by destroying the faith and courage in those who would by united effort, if persisted in, accomplish a solution of the marketing of the products of the farm.

For two years we muddled through and after passing through the rapids and whirlpool of competition we have emerged—broken and bruised, punished sufficiently, one would think, to refrain from doing anything to assist those who would start us again over that tortuous route—yet some for the sake of temporary personal advantage are risking a repetition of former experiences.

All growers would do well to consider the possibilities of the future before supplying their fruit and vegetables to independent shippers, to use against their own organization in a price-cutting method of salesmanship.

ASSOCIATED GROWERS OF B. C., LIMITED.

CORRESPONDENT SEEKS INFORMATION

Editor Review.

Dear Sir,—I should be glad, if you will, through the medium of your paper, let me ask Messrs. Bulman and Howe the following questions.

I prefer this method, in preference to waiting for the annual meeting, because they will have time to get the information, and secondly for the reason they will not have the same opportunity of sidestepping the questions involved.

1. How long has Mr. B. McDonald been down in Manitoba, and how long will he be there?
2. What are his duties there?
3. Is he still sales manager?
4. If so, why is he doing the same work as men in the other two provinces who are receiving $300 per month?
5. What salary is he receiving?
6. Was any bank, other than the Bank of Montreal, willing to finance the Associated Growers? If so, who?

The writer understands that the Bank of Commerce was willing to finance the Associated Growers and give better terms, provided the executive would agree to a running audit. This suggestion was, I understand, put up to them as late as September last?

7. What are the total overhead expenses for the Associated Growers to date?
8. What were the total estimated expenses for the year?

9. Is it a fact that the late manager, Mr. Pratt, offered to take a reduction in salary, providing that the members and officials would do the same?

10. Is it a fact that they, the executive, refused to do so?

11. Is it a fact that he further offered to refrain from drawing salary during those months when he felt his services would not be necessary, providing the executive and officials would follow his lead?

12. Is it a fact that two highly paid officials have spent considerable time in Vancouver in order to sell apples at 13 1/2 cents per box (net to the grower)?

The writer would appreciate a reply to above through the press.
Yours truly,
INCOGNITO.

Fruit Ready For British Exhibition

of fruit it contains, the place where the fruit was grown, and the date on which it was packed. By this means no district can sail under false colors or obtain credit at the expense of another. Another point is that each single apple or pear has been carefully selected and is absolutely free from blemish of any kind, every specimen packed having been gone over. The boxes contain either seventy-two or ninety-six specimens of fruit, no more nor less. Each specimen is placed in a separate compartment, a carton similar to that used for packing eggs being used. When necessary, excelsior is used to keep the fruit from shaking and corrugated cardboard, with ventilation holes, is used between each layer, the holes being over and under each specimen. In this manner the fruit is firmly packed and each apple or pear is sure of sufficient air. The top and bottom rows have also been doubly wrapped with oiled paper and the rest of the rows also with oiled paper. In the case of pears, however, a commercial pack has been used in some boxes. Great care has been taken to see that all rows are like in quality and size, and altogether it would be hard to contrive a more perfect pack.

The main varieties in the exhibit consist of Delicious, Spitzenburg, Winesap, Ben Davis and Rome Beauty, also a number of boxes of Jonathan, as a trial. In lesser quantity the following have been packed: Cox Orange, Wagner, Winter Banana, McIntosh, York Imperial, Black Twig, Spy, Red Cheeked Pippin, Wealthy, Grimes Golden and Graven-

It is very apparent to one who has seen the exhibit that it would be next to impossible to improve on it and that if this Province does not carry off the premier honors at the exhibition it will not be the fault of Mr. DeHart, who has taken great interest in the work of getting the fruit together and seeing that it has been carefully packed, in the hope that his earlier successes in this line at fruit shows in the States will be repeated.

A butcher in a certain town had read considerably about the milk from contented cows and, wanting to keep up with the times, he placed this sign in his window, "Sausages from pigs that died happy."

Mr. Elliott states further that much of the fruit he is buying is greatly superior to anything available in recent years. He is making a number of attractive offers in his advertisement this week.

K. V. R. TRAINS
A slide in the Coquahalla Pass delayed the arrival of the train due here early Wednesday morning. She was about four hours behind time. The westbound train leaving here Wednesday at noon got through but another slide near Romeo, also in the Pass, at about 7 o'clock last night blocked the way for the east-bound train due here this morning and she was sent back to Hope and diverted by way of Spence's Bridge and will not reach here until some time tonight.

Passenger traffic on the K. V. R. from here has been unusually heavy this month. In fact, a record has been made. PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mr. Hawkes had a narrow escape from being seriously injured recently while walking through a field where a cow was grazing. The cow charged him from behind before he was aware of her action. She threw him some feet forward and then rushing at him trampled him some. Mr. Hawkes stated that had he not been a strong man he would possibly have been seriously hurt. As it was he got a pretty bad shaking up before he could get free of the beast.

Mr. and Mrs. Suddaby returned home on Saturday after a few months spent in Alberta. They motored both ways, reaching Pentiction on Wednesday on the return trip and visiting there until Saturday. They report having a splendid trip home, striking good weather and roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Moore paid a week end visit with friends and relatives, having motored up from Pentiction where they are now making their home.

Miss Marion Hawkes, Mrs. Edgecombe and Mr. Wm. White spent Friday in Kelowna.

Visitors to Kelowna on Saturday were Mrs. Heighway and her little daughter, Margaret; Mrs. A. Smalls and Mr. J. Vasa.

Messrs. Cudmore, A. Ruffe and G. Long returned from their hunt on Saturday afternoon, but they were not heard to boast of many thrilling stunts performed while out. They enjoyed a real good hunt however.

Rev. T. A. Sadler motored to Westbank on Sunday afternoon to conduct his regular service in the school house there. He was accompanied by his son Jimmy.

Miss Marion Hawkes was a visitor to Kelowna on Monday.

Mrs. N. S. Davidson has been enjoying a visit from some friends, Mr. Thompson and his sister, who left by boat Monday morning. Mrs. Davidson accompanied them part way up the lake, returning by the evening boat.

Mr. Bert Keating returned to his post in Kelowna on Monday after spending the week end in Peachland at home.

Miss Edna Cudmore left on Monday to pay a short visit in Kelowna.

Boy Scout Column 1st SUMMERLAND TROOP B. P. SCOUTS Headquarters, The Gymnasium, Scoutmaster, Cpt. H. H. Croeso. Meets every Friday evening at 7.30 p.m.

Last Friday the patrol leaders practically had charge of the meeting. They took their respective patrols in drill and then signalling. After that the troop was reviewed in tender-foot work. There are quite a few new members who have not yet passed their tender-foot, and it is hoped that they will soon be ready to do same.

We are expecting Kelowna to visit us on a basket-ball invasion in the near future, but the date has not yet been decided.

The heating arrangements at the Syndica Hotel have been considerably improved by the building of an extra chimney to serve heaters in the dining room and rotunda.

The Unity Club building was the scene of an interesting gathering on Thursday evening, when the mothers of the Canadian Girls in Training were entertained by the members to supper, followed by a musical entertainment. About thirty persons were present, and enjoyed the event to the utmost. Miss Fountain, secretary of the organization in B. C., was among the guests, and spoke during the evening. Amongst the various items on the program were solos by Miss Enid Rayner, reading by Miss Hancock, piano selection by Miss Glasser, and part songs by the members. Miss Florrie Lyons was president on the occasion.

By a printer's error in last week's report of the Grower's meeting, the word "averages" was rendered as "averages" and lost its proper meaning.

WERE VISITORS TO WENATCHEE

J. L. Logie and G. Marshall were visitors to Wenatchee last week. They left here on Monday and returned on Friday. Their visit to the big Washington centre was for the purpose of studying orchard and marketing methods as practised there. They visited John Peters, whose lectures here on thinning last summer made such an impression, and found him and all others they called on very hospitable and ready to give them every assistance.

Mr. Peters' orchard yielded 1100 packed boxes to the acre this year and it is almost superfluous to say that the fruit was of good size. Low prices and inability to dispose of the crop are giving the growers of Washington much concern.

Wenatchee has storage facilities for 1800 carloads, but plans are under way to provide storage for 20,000 cars of apples.

black velvet hat, and she carried a bouquet of chrysanthemum and fern. During the signing of the register, Mr. Fred Graham gave a beautiful rendering of the solo "My Love Loves Me Today."

Following the ceremony, the bridal party proceeded to the home of the bride, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served to a large number of guests. Misses Eva Johnston, Helen White and Marjorie Morrison assisted in serving. The happy couple left on the noon train for the Coast where the honeymoon will be spent, a large crowd of friends being at the station to give them a rousing send-off.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome string of pearls; to the bridesmaid an onyx ring set with pearls; to the pianist, a bar brooch set with amethyst; and to the best man a pair of engraved gold cuff links.

The bride was the recipient of numerous beautiful and useful gifts from her many friends, who wish the young couple every happiness in their wedded life. Just before leaving the survey camp at Osoyoos, where he has been employed for some time, the groom was presented by his associates with a handsome leather purse, containing a substantial sum of money.

HINTS TO MOTORISTS

Go over the steering gear occasionally to see if any part is coming loose. If this mechanism fails, there is usually a serious accident. If all parts are tight, put oil or grease wherever necessary, and then see if there is any lost motion at the steering wheel. If there is an inch or so, it should be taken out. Details differ with different designs, but they all have some means of adjustment. Have this attended to at the service station.

Have the carbon removed immediately upon noticing a carbon knock. The operation is not expensive, and the engine bearings will be relieved of much unnecessary abuse.

GETTING RESULTS, SAYS ROWCLIFFE

Geo. Rowcliffe, independent fruit shipper at Kelowna, and his salesman, D. F. McGuire, were at the Yale Hotel on Sunday evening, having come over the Rossland highway while en route home to the Okanagan from the prairie by motor. They tacitly admitted that Associated Growers were getting the fruit growers in British Columbia real results, and acknowledged that the market for selling fruit was greatly improved this year over former years. While they did not directly attribute this to the marketing success of the Associated Growers, the inference was quite clear.—Grand Forks Gazette.
