SUMMERLAND CHATAQUA TO OPEN SAT. 22

Committee Asking for Support in Disposal of Season Tickets.

Chataqua opens here on Saturday, September 22nd. The first meeting of the local committee was held Thursday evening, when K. S. Hogg was re-elected president, and T. G. Beavis secretary-treasurer. Sub-committees were appointed for the purpose of making the usual advance sale of tickets, Summerland being divided into twelve districts, with Naramata and Peachland as additional districts. Single admission tickets will cost $5.25, but season tickets covering the complete program will cost, for adults $2.50, and for school children, $1.00, and as it is from the sale of these tickets that the local committee is reimbursed, they are hoping for the ready co-operation of the citizens in the purchase of season tickets. Advertising and other committees were also appointed at Thursday's meeting.

The citizens who are behind the 1923 Chataqua are: K. S. Hogg, Dr. R. C. Lipssett, O. Atkins, R. H. English, P. S. Roe, T. G. Beavis, Ralph E. White, John Tait, E. R. Simpson, H. C. Mellor, W. E. Walter, J. Rowley, C. H. Elsey, A. McLachlan, G. H. Inglis, J. C. Freeman, R. Pollock, O. Vaughan, Rev. W. A. Alexander, E. W. Taylor, A. Richardson, H. Read, S. A. MacDonald, S. F. Sharp, J. W. ## WILL DISCUSS LEVELS OF OKANAGAN LAKE

HIGH SCHOOL HAS RESUMED

Several Changes in Courses of Study Will Require Close Application.

The High School resumed work on Tuesday of this week, Mrs. Solly and Mr. J. R. Campbell being present on behalf of the school trustees.

Mrs. Solly urged the scholars to make the best of their opportunities during the ensuing year and co-operate heartily with the staff.

Mrs. Solly next introduced the two new members of the staff, Mr. J. O. Stevens, B.A., and Miss V. Jones, B.A., who received a hearty welcome from the scholars.

Principal Lundie, in outlining the work for the coming school year, pointed out that several changes in the courses of study in a rather more difficult direction would entail enhanced application in study by the students.

He drew attention to the list of lectures arranged for the ensuing term, with the design of creating an ambitious spirit. The full list is published in another portion of this issue. Mr. Lundie concluded by informing the students that he had received promises aggregating $200 for the establishment of a prize and scholarship fund for the year, and had hopes of getting it increased to $300 by a contribution from another source. This information was received by the pupils with applause. Further details are set out elsewhere in our current issue.

Reeve Campbell, after stressing the necessity for good consistent work in school, asked the students to temper their high spirits with discretion in their customary initiation of new students.

A vote of thanks to the visiting trustees brought the opening exercises to a close.

It is calculated that during the last ten years over eighty million dollars have been lost to the province through there being no up-to-date iron and steel plant in British Columbia.

A person's faults are exaggerated while living and his virtues after death.

J. P. BURNYEAT DIES AT VERNON HOME

J. P. Burnyeat, one of Okanagan's old-timers, died at Vernon on Sunday from heart failure. He was a land surveyor and did considerable work here in the early days for the Summerland Development Company, and later for the Municipality. He also assisted in laying out Vernon town-site as well as a number of other Okanagan towns. He was well known throughout the Valley and was highly regarded in every district. Mr. Burnyeat leaves two daughters and two sons. His wife died several months ago.

WEDDING WAS PRETTY SCENE

Local Young Couple Wed in Presence of a Large Congregation.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Lakeside Methodist church on Wednesday evening, September the 5th, when Miss Daisy I. Dewar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Dewar, of Seattle, became the bride of Mr. William T. Angove, of Summerland. The church, which was filled to capacity by friends of the young couple, had been tastefully decorated for the occasion, the ceremony being performed under an arch of asters and fern. The bride, who was given away by Dr. F. W. Andrew, entered to the strains of a wedding march, played by Mr. T. P. Thornber, and looked sweet in a gown of white crepe and tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and maiden hair fern. She was attended by Miss Ketchison, who wore a gown of rose crepe-de-chene with black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of mauve and pink sweet peas and fern, while little Miss Edith Steuart, in a dainty dress of mauve organdie, acted as flower girl. Donald Ross, supported the groom, and K. M. Elliott and Noel Wright acted as ushers. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. J. Armitage.

Following the signing of the register, a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew, only the immediate bridal party being present. The young couple, who have the good wishes of a host of friends, left by motor for Pentiction, where they boarded the boat, going north on Thursday morning. They will take the trip around by Revelstoke and the Arrow Lakes to Kimberley. (Continued on Page 2)

ODDFELLOWS HOLD PICNIC

Join with Pentiction Lodge and Hold Sports at Experimental Farm.

Oddfellows of Summerland with their wives and families were joined by members of the Pentiction Lodge and their families at the Experimental Station here on Labor Day in their annual joint picnic. There was a large attendance and the picnic is described as highly successful, all having a good time under the most favorable weather conditions.

During the awarding of prizes, a pleasing ceremony was that of presenting Will Angove, of Summerland, with a wedding present from his fellow members. There were many entries in the sports list and close finishes were noted in a number of these.

Following are the list of prize winners:

- Girls and boys, 5 years and under—1, Miss Fowtrill; 2, Jim White; 3, Orlo Rowe.
- Boys, 6 and under—1, Billy Jackson; 2, D. Swift; 3, N. Hooper.
- Girls, 7 to 9—1, Betty Fowtrill; 2, Grace Glasgow; 3, Eleanor Jackson.
- Boys, 7 to 9—1, Earl Inglis; 2, Bob McCutcheon; 3, Frank Waldon.

MAGISTRATE ADMONISHES YOUTH OF DAY

Fair Name of Summerland for Honesty Has Departed in this Generation.

Before rendering judgment in the case of three local young men who were up before him at the Summerland court house on Friday, on an alleged charge of petty larceny, Major Hutton addressed the three who had strayed from the path of honesty, as follows in part:

"Time was when it was the proud boast of Summerland that its people could leave their homes unlocked, their orchards unprotected, and their general belongings lying around without fear of a visit from sneak thieves. But during the past few years a change has come to pass, and Summerland has lost its fair name. There is something wrong with the present generation, and it would appear to me that lack of discipline in your homes is responsible for you being here today. Had your parents chastised you when you first commenced 'priggling'—for, don't forget that it is stealing—it would have left a lasting impression on your memories. You have started on a career, unless from which you yourselves call a halt, will ultimately mean for you a long term of imprisonment. My advice to you is to reflect seriously. Addressing one in particular he continued, 'You have been here before me previously, and I receive many complaints of misdeeds. Let my words sink in. You are all youngsters, go from here and endeavor to make yourselves useful members of society.'

Lack of confirmatory evidence on Friday at the Police Court, was responsible for the failure of the police to secure a conviction in the case of an alleged raid on a corn-patch. Cross-swearing as rebuttal evidence to that of Constable King, which brought forth some pointed remarks from the Court regarding perjury, featured the hearing. A grueling cross-examination of Williams under oath failed to break down his alibi for the other two in the dock, who, it was alleged, were fellow depre-dators with him, and whom it was stated under oath by Constable King, had been implicated by Williams at the time of the arrest.

Their names were: J. E. Williams (20), Creighton-Rines (18), and Thomas Sherman (23), they being charged with theft from the property of T. J. Garnett, West Summerland, on the night of August 29th. Will-ful damage and thieving visitations to the melon and corn patches in the neighborhood have become so frequent of late, that the police were determined to put a stop to it. The hearing of the case occupied several hours, an adjournment for lunch being necessary. K. M. Elliott, barrister, appeared for the three defendants; Williams pleaded guilty and the other two denied the charge.

FAREWELL BANQUET TO PROBATIONERS

In honor of two of their members, Misses Ida Shields and Jessal Whitford, who are leaving shortly to enter Vancouver General Hospital as probationers, the Ranger Sorority held a farewell banquet on Tuesday evening in the Parish Hall. Though the girls refuse to give details, we would gather that nothing was lacking in the way of enjoyment.

Following the banquet the Rangers and Rovers, with a few friends, united their numbers and listened to a most interesting and instructive lecture on "Radium and Its Effects on Modern Science," given by Rover-Scout Allen Harris, M.A., who has specialized in this subject and will continue work along this line while at Illinois University this fall. After a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker, the floor was cleared and the remainder of the evening spent in an informal dance, arranged as a farewell to Rangers Ida Shields and Jessal Whitford and Rovers Allen Harris and Noel Wright.

Don't fight shy of honest advice. You'll be guided by it to your profit when you least expect it.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS GROW IN VOLUME

Fruit shipments through the local co-operative houses are steadily increasing in volume as the season advances. For some days past the Co-Operative has been averaging five carloads per day and prior to that an average of three carloads per day was maintained for some time. Apples, pears, plums, prunes and peaches are now moving in volume.

CHILDREN GET PREVENTATIVE FOR GOITRE

Medical School Inspector Submits Report of Treatment for Disease.

At the regular meeting of the school board held last night the following report from Dr. F. W. Andrew, medical school inspector, was received:

"I beg to submit the following report on the prophylactic treatment of Goitre in the Summerland School extending from May, 1922, to June, 1923. During this period, under the permission of your Board, sodium iodide in three grain doses was offered to the children as a means of preventing Endemic Goitre, which, for a period of over ten years has been present in about 30 per cent. of the school population. About 60 per cent. of the pupils took advantage of this treatment. Sodium Iodide was given for ten school days in May, 1922, November, 1922, and May, 1923. While the dose usually advised is three grains for children under ten years of age, and five grains for over that age, we kept to a uniform dose of three grains. In one child an iodine rash developed. Some children showed nausea after taking the tablet, and did not derive the expected benefit, but this can be explained partly by psychic causes and partly because the tablet was not dissolved or taken with water. Of those who did not take the treatment, many took treatment at home, so these facts must be taken into consideration when analysing the figures below.

Number taking Sodium Iodide, 186; Goitre present, 63; improved, 46 or 74 per cent., worse, 15 or 8 per cent.

Number not taking treatment, 126; Goitre present, 34. Improved, 8 or 23 per cent., worse, 24 or 19 per cent.

While the above results are not as striking as those obtained in some districts, I think they are sufficient to convince the average parent that this disgusting disease can to a great measure be prevented. The appointments of Mr. J. O. Stevens to the High School staff and Mr. Daniel to the Public School staff were formally confirmed. Prince Lundie, of the High School, wrote asking the board to contribute a hundred dollars to a fund which he is endeavoring to raise for the purpose of establishing a scholarship. While expressing sympathy for this movement, the board decided that they could not contribute the sum asked for, but will recommend that the amount be included in next year's estimates.

The usual accounts were approved for payment.

SCHOLARSHIPS PROVIDED BY SUBSCRIPTION

Summerland People Show Keen Interest in High School and Raise Fund.

How genuinely keen on the welfare of our High School students Summerland people are is evidenced by the generous support accorded to the Principal in a canvass he has just made to initiate a prize and scholarship fund for the school. Mr. Lundie, who informs us that his approach for subscriptions has only been partial, and that he has experienced very few refusals, has already been promised about $200, and he hopes that the School Board, whom he has also approached, will see their way to bring the total up to $300.

If the sum is realized, it is hoped to donate five scholarships ranging from $60 to $20, to those students who either pass highest at Matric, or in the qualifying exam. for Normal entrance next year, as well as some good prizes in each of the three classes for good work.

Scholarships will not be awarded unless real merit is shown, and if deemed advisable, funds may be held back to a following year. It is proposed that the scholarships be awarded by a committee formed from the subscribers, the trustees (if they subscribe) and the High School staff.

FEDERAL MEMBER VISITING FRIENDS

Mr. W. C. Good, M.P., of Paris, Ontario, is spending several days here at the home of his cousin, Mrs. W. C. W. Fosbery. Mr. Good is a member of the House Committee on Banking, which is considering the Bank Act, and has been studying economic conditions throughout the West, including part of the States. He has already visited northern Manitoba, northern Saskatchewan, and northern Alberta and the Coast of this province. He has also visited Oregon and Washington and is now on his way back through the southern part of this and the prairie provinces, after which he will visit the Dakotas and some of the northern States. Mr. Good is making a special study of the economic conditions in the hope of being able to propose legislation that will prevent the periodic depression which have inevitably followed the inflations which occur from time to time and notably so the period from 1916 to 1920.

Tests of coramie clay resources in British Columbia are to be made under the auspices of the provincial department of education.

RESIGNING AS SCOUTMASTER

Capt. H. H. Creese, district Scout Commissioner for the Boy Scouts, who has also been local Scoutmaster, has resigned the latter position and George Guy has been appointed Scoutmaster. Allen Harris, the assistant Scoutmaster, who is leaving town, has also resigned and James Strother, who served in similar capacity in his former home in the north of England, is now assistant Scoutmaster. The territory included in Capt. Creese's commission is bounded on the west by the Coast Range and extends from Merritt to the boundary and includes the Okanagan from Peachland to the boundary.

STEVENS QUILTS AS A PROTEST

Supt. of Govt. Telegraphs Says Minister Reinstated Discharged Operator.

Confirmation of a report which reached this office some days ago that W. H. Stevens, the efficient superintendent of the southern B. C. division of the government telephone and telegraph system for the past ten years has resigned, has been made by Mr. Stevens. F. Dowling, district superintendent at Prince Rupert, takes his place.

Mr. Stevens and Mr. Dowling visited Summerland on Tuesday in company with J. E. Gobeil of Ottawa; general superintendent of government telegraph and telephone. Mrs. Gobeil and Mrs. Stevens were also members of the party. A brief stay at the local telegraph office was made and at the request of the visitors, they were taken through the local warehouse and shipping plant of the Summerland Co-Operative Growers by W. H. Hayes, and evinced great interest in the work being carried on there. They left later for the south and Kootenay districts.

In a statement issued to the press, Mr. Stevens, who is a brother of Hon. H. H. Stevens, M.P., gives his reason for resigning as due to the action of the Minister of Public Works in reinstating the night operator at Vernon, whom he dismissed for neglect of duty which endangered the very life of a subscriber. Mr. Stevens claims the Minister should have referred the case to the Civil Service Commission. It was detrimental to his authority and the service, states the superintendent, and left him no option but to quit.

The system, under Mr. Stevens, has grown from eighty-two offices to 425 offices and eighteen local telephone exchanges since 1918.

THOUSANDS OF MILES WALKED BY YOUNG GIRL

Miss Mortimer Scott, Now of Summerland, Hiked Hope-Princeton Trail.

For a young girl of some twenty odd summers to hike from Vancouver to Kelowna and back to Summerland is in itself no mean performance. But add to that the fact of the young lady having walked thousands of miles in various countries since 1918, then it is far more remarkable.

Miss Mortimer Scott, who is now a resident of Summerland, drove a motor ambulance in France from 1916 until after the armistice. Since then she has visited nearly all of the British possessions, and many other countries to satiate her wanderlust and penchant for hiking. Miss Scott is a hardy demoiselle of a new type, having a sweet disposition and a wide range of knowledge. Gifted with conversational powers she is an interesting study, and has much to enlighten the enquirer.

Leaving Vancouver in August, she made the trip to Hope on foot, with but one night between for rest. Carrying her haversack and blankets, she struck through the mountains on her solitary trip to Princeton, by easy stages; the journey occupying six days. She carries a 32 Winchester, and has an interesting episode to relate of an encounter with a black bear, which was eventually more alarmed than she; and a freight wreck in the Coquahalla Pass.

Miss Scott visited several Kelowna friends and hiked to Summerland, arriving Wednesday morning. She is now adding to her many accomplishments that of packing apples at the local Co-Operative.

INTERESTING TRIP SOUTH

H. H. Evans Visits Peters' Orchard and Found Claims Justified.

H. H. Evans, assistant district horticulturist, recently attended a series of orchard excursions put on by the county agents for the Washington Department of Agriculture in the Wenatchee district. The major problems taken up included stationary spray tanks, spacing of orchard trees, and soil fertility. The meetings were well attended, great interest being displayed by those attending in the various points under discussion, special interest being taken in the operation of the various stationary spray plants. This method of spraying is taking a strong hold in the Wenatchee district, and from present indications, will, in the near future, largely displace the portable outfit, as there is apparently a considerable saving in labor costs and depreciation in favor of the stationary plant.

Mr. Evans found fruit moving freely in their future careers, the Principal of the High School, Mr. G. A. Lundie, M.A., has arranged for a series of brief lectures by prominent citizens, expert in their own callings. These lectures will be given on Friday afternoons at 3.30 p.m. in the High School, and visitors will be heartily welcomed.

The following is the list for the ensuing term:

- Sept. 7, "How to Study," Mr. W. C. Kolloy, B.A.
- Sept. 14, "Arts and Crafts" (1), Mr. Jack Logie.
- Sept. 21, "Nursing," Mrs. F. W. Andrew.
- Sept. 28, "Athletics and Its Bearing on Education," Capt. H. H. Creese.
- Oct. 5, "Salicemanship," Mr. Ed. Butler.
- Oct. 12, "Banking," Mr. C. B. Winter.
- Oct. 19, "The Law," Mr. K. M. Elliott.
- Oct. 26, "Agriculture," Mr. J. Gowans.
- Nov. 2, "The Art of the Tailor," Theo. Harmon.
- Nov. 9, "Dentistry," Dr. J. R. Graham.
- Nov. 16, "Cannadian Mounted Police," Mr. A. P. Solly.
- Nov. 23, "Insurance," Mr. Gordon Crossley.
- Nov. 30, "Accountants," Mr. F. J. Nixon.
- Dec. 7, "Doctors," Dr. E. C. H. Windsor.
- Dec. 14, "Telegraphy," Mr. A. M. Leslie.
- Dec. 21, "Automobiles," Mr. Ned Bentley.

Mr. Evans reports crops as being uniform and good, and learned that the Wenatchee district expects to move this year over 16,000 cars of fruit. Nothing could be learned regarding the advance prices of fruit, but he states a general tone of healthy optimism prevails among both growers and business men.

Irrigation was general and it was learned from some growers the expectation was to be using water until September 15th, or even later.

Mr. Evans was accompanied by Mrs. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Frans Hayward, and were guests at Hot. Summerland on their way back to Vernon.

Editorial

WILLINGNESS TO TAKE ADVICE IS SOMETIMES BEING GREATER THAN HE WHO GIVES IT

CO-OPERATIVE FINANCES.

Establishing a business without capital, the fruit growers of British Columbia, members of the numerous locals affiliated with the Associated Growers, expect to pay a portion of their returns into the funds of the organization in accordance with the contract and later resolutions. Many of them did not expect that the first monies from their crops would be retained for this purpose. In order to float the business, advances were made to the Central and to the Summerland and other locals by the banks. It would now appear that the Associated will be required to repay the loan from the bank before apportioning the returns to the locals; and, in the case of the Summerland Co-Operative, it is stated that the loan obtained by it must first be paid before members obtain settlement of their crops. Some of the monies received from the sale of the earlier fruits will also probably have to be re-invested by the Associated in the payment of duties on apples exported to the U.S.A., and in prepaying freight on shipments to Britain.

The delay in obtaining even a portion of their money is going to put great hardship on many growers but there will be the satisfaction, if they can carry on in the meantime, in the fact that their organization is out of debt.

BUYING POWER IN SMALL TOWNS.

Politicians who doubt where the strength of a country lies should examine the report made from a survey of thirteen north-central states of the U. S. A. in relation to farm and town trade.

It is found that in towns of 2,000 or less population, the farm trade represents about 76 per cent. of the total. In dry goods it represents 80 per cent.; in hardware, 85 per cent.; in building material, 80 per cent.; in furniture, 70 per cent., and in clothing, 68 per cent.

Automobiles are sold in these small towns to the extent of 80 per cent. of total consumption. These figures are startling and they run only slightly lower in towns of from 2,000 to 25,000. The small town consumption is more than fifty per cent. in every line.

This survey shows where the market lies for manufactured goods. It emphasizes again the importance of national legislators looking after the interest of the farmer. The farmer is awakening to a sense of his strength politically and economically. Unless he receives more serious consideration he is likely to prove a troublesome factor.

The writing is on the wall. Politicians both provincial and federal should keep their ears to the ground. The voice of the home town is well worth listening to.

GOOD ROADS AND COMPETITION.

Community building is beset with more puzzling problems than one might suppose. Perhaps one of the most difficult of solution being the problem created by the extension of good roads.

Everybody admits good roads spell the development of the country, the spread of education and a better understanding among neighbors. There has been much difference of opinion however, as to whether villages are first built by stores attracting residents or by increasing residents attracting stores. Whichever theory may be correct the fact remains that the growth of any community depends very largely on the prosperity of its trading section.

Some villages are so situated geographically that good roads simply open up an easy avenue for trade to go out of town. Then there is an element of danger in such thoroughfares which must be balanced, of course, by the advantages derived by the farmer.

The lesson of course is obvious. The extension of good roads never can be halted, nor is it wise that they should be. But their building means that local merchants must come to know more of merchandising, that they must take the home-town folks more into their confidence and show them conclusively they can trade at home advantageously.

The competition in the small town is not between store-keeper and storekeeper, but between city and town. The little fellow has his place, but he must be awake to his responsibility.

It cost a California baker ten days in jail for calling down a telephone operator the other day. He asked for long-distance connection and, feeling that the service was slow, he proceeded to tell the operator so in emphatic language. To save herself a pair of badly burned ears, she switched the irate baker on to the phone of the sheriff, with disastrous results to the abusive baker.

In Canada are located 5,000 wood using industries and it is an odd coincidence that the forest fires average one for each industry, or five thousand a year.

VANCOUVER STILL EATS AMERICAN FRUIT.

Farm and Home.—Okanagan visitors to Vancouver are bitterly complaining about the absence of local fruit from the retail stores. Vancouver is still eating American fruit of a very inferior grade, while growers of the Okanagan are worrying about markets.

But the wholesalers and retailers are not alone to blame. Sapiro told the growers that they must not expect much help from either wholesalers or retailers; they must go right over the heads of these gentlemen and cultivate the acquaintance of the consumers by well directed and continuous advertising. Growers must create a consumer demand which is the only thing respected by the trade.

Not only Vancouver, but all Western Canada must be taught to prefer British Columbia fruit. It is the best fruit on the market, bar none, so why not enthrone the market over it?

Unfortunately, some of the officials of the growers have not yet realized the necessity of creating a consumer demand, and, until they do, and accomplish the work, Western Canada will continue to eat "just apples—any kind—from anywhere—but not very often."

TALKING ABOUT ADVERTISING.

We fully agree with our friend, the editor of the U. Y. C. Outlook, when he says, "Advertising, worked on a scientific basis, is a tremendous economic force. It is actually one of the greatest forces operating in the world today. As to whether it is an asset or a liability depends upon the way it is controlled. It is fantastically easy to lose a great deal of money unless the whole scheme is carried out with care and precision. That advertising lowers selling cost can be proved by most successful advertisers." Many a manufacturer who by judicious advertising, could no doubt largely increase his business, very often has the erroneous idea that this expenditure for printer's ink would increase his cost of production. This, however, is not the case, for the man who have made a study of modern advertising have, perhaps rightly, come to the conclusion that their advertising is after all not paid for by themselves, nor by the public, but by the non-advertising competitors. Thus, for the sake of illustration, it is rightly argued that, assuming the selling cost of a certain article to be 25 per cent., and that by extensive advertising a big demand is created whereby the production is increased in such volume that the cost is reduced to 15 per cent., the ultimate consumer is the gainer by this advertising publicity to the extent of 10 per cent. The public, instead of having to pay for the advertising, really gets a cheaper product by the very reason of its being advertised, and the demand for the goods increased, and those who indirectly pay for the campaign are the firms whose business thereby suffers, namely the non-advertising competitors.—The B. C. Retailer.

CHUTE LAKE MILL HAS BEEN CLOSED

The box factory at Chute Lake, north east of Naramata, has been closed down, according to authentic reports. It is understood that the mill had some difficulty in financing for some time and the closing down at this time is attributed to difficulty in getting logs. The mill had a large order from the Co-Operative at Penitton for supplying box shooks at seventeen cents. The O. U. G. has been financially interested in this plant.

"Cannot Afford" to Advertise.

There's just one kind of a man or institution that cannot afford to advertise in the home newspaper—the one that has not got honest goods. Newspaper advertising and "the goods" go together. Neither is of value without the other. Without advertising the best goods will not, as a rule, reach the public, and without honest goods, advertising will bring no permanent success—nor will any other operation. But together they make an unbeatable team.

As a person grows older he learns many things that would have been some use to him when younger.

and all forms of stomach trouble such as gas, pains, acid, sour burning stomach are all relieved in two minutes by taking Jo-To. Jo-To sold by all druggists.

The Home Town newspaper as we know it in North America is the world's greatest salesman.

Every day, everywhere, it is carrying the great message of commerce, bringing buyer and seller into profitable contact.

The sales it makes per year total in the billions.

Its customers are in every home, in every office, on every farm.

Its cost per sale is less than any other salesman, for not only is it the world's greatest salesman in volume but also in efficiency.

The biggest problem in merchandising today is high selling costs. Newspaper advertising, sent on the job of looking for sales where buying habits offer profitable opportunities, is the surest means of keeping down this vexatious item.

These are the days of scientific selling. Haphazard selling is the road to red ink figures.

Newspaper advertising is the easy road to all the people in all markets—and newspaper advertising and scientific selling go hand in hand.

The great increase in newspaper advertising reflects the tendency of the times.

DEPUTY MINISTER VISITS THE FARM

Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, and prior to his appointment to that position, director of Experimental Farms, was a visitor to the local Farm recently. It is six years since Mr. Grisdale visited the Farm and he was much surprised at the progress made in that time. Trees about a year old had grown to the bearing stage and all the buildings on the hill were new to him. Apparently he was delighted with the general conditions. While here Dr. Grisdale called on W. H. Hayes, a former-Ottawa friend.

MUD BLOCKADE ON SOUTH ROAD

A small stream of water flowing from a narrow ravine on the side of the lakeshore road a short distance this side of the Experimental Farm pumping plant, has caused traffic a great deal of inconvenience all this week and has been giving the road people no end of trouble. The water, as it trickles down the narrow cut it has made, brings with it sand, stones and mud and deposits these on the road, the resulting mess now reaching clear to the water's edge, and when it has been possible to get through at all, cars have had to be pulled by a team. Much of the traffic between here and south has been going and coming by way of Shingle Creek. As fast as the road is cleared with scraper and grader, it is filled up again by the mud from above.

The man who doesn't know when he is licked will rise above almost any emergency.

The most insignificant people will sometimes cause a person the most trouble.

ROAD AT MELLOR'S BLOKED BY SLIDE

Another huge volume of earth broke away from the face of the cliff opposite the Mellor property on Sunday and, tumbling down on to the old slide, shot across the road, burying it several feet deep in places. It has been possible for traffic to get around it by going through the Mellor property. Some of the material which fell will be used to build up a portion of the new road constructed there this summer.

MAGISTRATE SLATES YOUTH OF THE DAY

were proceeded with jointly. Constable King swore that on the night in question, from complaints received from Messrs. Dunham and Garnett, he was watching the corn patch of Mr. Garnett north of the school. He heard three people walk across the lot, and watching for a few minutes he heard them cracking off the corn. One said, "Do you only want the big ones?" and another voice replied, "Yes." He went around the south end of the patch and caught hold of Williams, but was unable to see the others on account of the height of the corn. The other two who were on the other side of the patch, ran away. He asked Williams the names of the other two men.

Mr. Elliott objected to this part of the Constable's evidence as hearsay, which for a time did not meet with the views of His Worship; but eventually the objection was sustained. Continuing, the Constable said Williams at first objected to give the names of the others, but afterwards implicated them. He produced two sacks, partly filled with corn cobs, as evidence. After a few minutes he went into the Premier Hotel, and here saw the three defendants again. He told Rines he would lay information against him, and Rines in a questioning way replied, "Yes?" The Constable added, "You, too, Sherman," and he replied, "All right."

After he had retired to bed, Sherman rung him up on the phone and said, "Were you saying something just now about me stealing some cobs of corn?" I replied, "Yes." He said, "Well, you want to be pretty darn careful what you are saying, as I haven't been out of this hotel all evening." I then hung up the receiver.

Cross-examined by Mr. Elliott: "You did not recognize any of the defendants, except Williams?"—No. J. E. Williams was then produced and sworn in as a compellable witness.

Major Hutton said: "On the 29th inst. you were found in a corn patch. Were you there to steal the corn?"

Witness: "Well, yes." Q.—Who was with you? A.—I was by myself. Q.—You are on your oath. Do you still repeat you were by yourself?"

A.—Yes. Q.—I will give you another chance, and ask you again. A.—I went by myself. Williams volunteered the statement that whilst he was on the patch he heard some others come in, and he said low, thinking they were after him; but when he found they were after corn also, he started to pull the cobs. He heard someone ask: "Do you want the big ones only?" and he heard the reply. When he left the hotel the other two defendants were sitting there, and when he returned they were still there.

Q.—What did you want with the corn? A.—I guess I just wanted a feed. Q.—Where do you eat? A.—I stop at the Premier hotel, and there isn't much corn left for the staff after the guests get through with it, so I figured I would have a feed for myself.

Constable King, recalled, said Williams positively told him the names of the other two defendants. Cautious again by the Magistrate, Williams still adhered to his original statement. "He was too badly scared at being caught to remember just what he did say, but to the best of his knowledge, when the Constable asked him if one was Creighton Rines, he did not answer. The Constable told him he would make him tell, and when he asked if the other was Tommy Sherman he said he thought so. He had never been on a raid before.

"Asked by the Court if he recognized the voices of the other defendants, he said he could not, as they spoke in a muffled manner. Later, he did not think they were the men after all, because when he got back to the hotel he found Rines and Sherman still there. "I guess I looked white and nervous, and they asked me what was the matter, and I told them I had been caught by Constable King, and they burst out laughing. They started to kid me along. I did not tell the other defendants they were implicated, I was present when the Constable came and told them they were to be charged with stealing corn. They did not protest to Mr. King, but after he went out, Tommy Sherman asked me what it was all about. I told him what I told the Constable in the patch, and he straight away rung the Constable up on the phone.

Further cross-examination revealed the evidence that he could not recognize the others in the corn. He thought it might be them, and that they had come to scare him. For a while he crawled further into the corn, and said he let them go to it. Next day, after the summonses had been served, they both came to him and asked: "Are you absolutely sure you positively told King that we were there?"

By Constable: "When I served the summons on Sherman, do you remember calling out, 'Don't cry Tommy?'" Williams replied that he did not remember saying anything, as he was getting ready for a trip.

Reverting back to the Constable's story as to Williams' denial of telling the names of the others, Williams said he did not answer when the policeman asked him if one was Creighton Rines, but when the Constable told him he would make him tell, he might have said he thought the other was Tommy Sherman.

By the Court: "You say that Rines and Sherman came to you immediately after they had been served with summonses, and asked you: 'Are you absolutely sure you told King that we were there?' Why did they want to know all about this?" Williams' reply not appearing satisfactory, the magistrate said it appeared that the reason was obvious.

By Mr. Elliott: "When you left to go to the corn patch where were the other two defendants?—There were in front of the hotel. Q.—Did you tell them where you were going? A.—I didn't speak to them or any one else. Q.—So far as you know, they did not know where you were going. A.—No.

Williams further said he did not see the faces of either in the corn patch, and could not swear to them, but he formed an opinion from their description through his sense of observation. He thought he was obliged to answer when the Constable asked him to name the other two. It was evidently Mr. Elliott's intention to elucidate the information that Williams' original statement in the corn patch had been made under pressure, which could not be sustained as evidence.

Horace Ledyard, sworn, said that on the afternoon of the raid, Creighton Rines brought a load of boxes out to the former Garnett lot, which witness was now in charge of. When he learned Rines was about to take a load of express to the lower town, he asked for a lift. Rines told him he was not coming back home for a while, and to use his own words, "We are going to hunt corn around the Flat tonight." I therefore decided not to go with him. I saw Mr. Garnett later, and, naturally, being related by marriage, and realizing he had a large patch in the vicinity of the Flat, I told him to be on the look-out.

That concluded the case for the Crown.

For the defence, Mr. Elliott argued that the only evidence for a conviction was that of the conversation, as sworn to by the Constable, in the corn patch, and this had been denied by Williams. The Constable did not recognize either of them and had built a case entirely on hearsay evidence. Williams swears he didn't know then who they were, and he swears the same now. Also the mere fact of Rines telling Ledyard that he was after the corn that night does not make it a crime. He claimed the evidence fell short of reasonable doubt as to their guilt, and asked for a dismissal. On behalf of Williams, who had pleaded guilty, he begged for the good judgment of His Worship in giving him the advantage of the First Offenders Act.

In summing up, Major Hutton addressed the defendants as stated above, and he agreed that the evidence before him was insufficient for a conviction, and discharged Rines and Sherman with a strong admonition to keep out of bad company. With regard to Williams, he could not agree with Mr. Elliott that he be given the benefit of the First Offenders Act, which would be a discharge, but after giving Williams a lengthy range of good advice, and remarking as to his "questionable" evidence, he said he did not wish to make the punishment too drastic, rather wishing to give him a chance. He therefore fined him $5 and costs, with the option of seven days in jail.

COMMUNITY FRUIT DRYING PLANTS. Community fruit-drying plants have been found to be a successful means of increasing the orchard profits of the small growers in the United States who have a surplus which they are unable to market in any other way, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, if the total quantity of such surplus in a community is sufficient to justify the necessary expense. The organization of such a co-operative plant should be governed by the same fundamental rules that have been found necessary in the development of other co-operative ventures. It must be definitely ascertained whether the quantity of unused fruit is actually such as will make the establishment of an evaporating or drying plant profitable. This information can only be obtained by a careful canvass of the district and a tabulation of the results. The making of such a canvass is a task calling for conservatism and the exercise of good judgment, for the reason that unintentional but gross over-statement of the unmarketed and unused portion of the fruit which could be used as evaporator stock is the rule rather than the exception. It must be borne in mind that in the case of apples, only mature, reasonably sound fruit of fair size will make a marketable dry product and that estimates which include premature drops, specked and decayed apples are worse than useless because misleading. The canvass should take into account all fruits grown in the district, the location of the center of supply, the length of time over which the ripening of each will extend, and the maximum quantity per day which the plant will be required to handle.

With this data in hand, it will be possible to determine the size and type of evaporator needed. As the fruits will in most cases be varied, the plant should be of a general-purpose type, so constructed that it will handle equally well all material, such as apples, peaches, plums and prunes, berries, sweet corn and beans.

Discretion may not get a person very much—but it often saves him from getting something he doesn't want.

SCOUT DIARY

Well, the commissioner has come and gone again, and I actually had my photograph taken with him. I really feel quite proud of myself because he ate some of the stew I cooked and said he liked it. It was a good stew, even if I do say it myself. I'd never made one before, but I had seen mother make them. We took nearly a whole cow, it must have been most of one anyhow, and cut it up nice and fine, and boiled it; then boiled it some more until the O.C. said he thought it might be starting to get tender. Then I went to the grub tent and I got some of everything I could see and put it in. I was going to put in flour and baking powder but they told me that they only did that for flap jacks, so I left it out. After lunch the officers showed us how to make fire with a shoe leather and a block of wood, then sent us into the woods to get our own equipment. I spent the rest of the afternoon drilling holes in a block of wood, but only managed to get a lot of smoke. Tomorrow I shall get the rest of it. I was the neatest boy on parade this morning and got an extra point for my patrol, and we actually get the mats to sleep on tonight. I am going to try and get them every night. I don't like sleeping on rosebushes any more.

We played baseball tonight, and it was lots of fun. Orville stopped the ball with his eye, and it awfully black, but it was lots of fun. We were too tired to have a camp fire, so we are going to turn in early.

Oh, what a perfect rest I had last night. Surely we can win the mats again tonight. I seemed to have hardly crawled into bed when the awful bugler insisted on blowing all his spare wind into his instrument. There is no use trying to sleep any more when that thing goes.

The porridge wasn't salted for breakfast, and the bacon was burned, and the flapjacks had layers of sand on them, but apart from that it was alright. The cooks said that the sand helps you to digest flapjacks, but I'm sure I'm no chicken.

P. M. — I'm really too cross for words. I spent half an hour polishing up for inspection and was sure I was the neatest boy on parade again, but the O.C. insisted that I hadn't washed my neck. I argued in vain and am afraid I lost my temper, because I asked the O.C. if he had washed his. I don't think he could have, because he didn't like it. I am still wondering why my P.L. blames me for losing two marks for "insubordination" I think he calls it. They are having a mock trial tonight, and I am to be a witness, and say I saw Rhodes Elliott steal Fred's pyjamas. I cannot tell a lie, so I don't know what I am going to do about it.

The End.

CORRESPONDENCE

Letters to the Editor.

Editor Review,
Dear Sir,—Would you allow space in your valuable paper to reply to Mr. Dorrick's letter in your issue of August 30th re growing of celery.

I might state that I would not wish to deprive Mr. Dorrick of any honor of being the pioneer grower of celery in this district, and am very glad to know that he has had some experience in celery growing. I would like to explain, however, that the article referred to was not given to the Review by myself.

I am far more concerned in the revenue derived than any honor that might be obtained as being the pioneer grower.

Having had considerable experience in the Old Country, Mr. Dorrick's method (bedding system) is looked upon by practical growers as unsuccessful, for the following reasons: that should rust or crown rot appear (both enemies of celery) there is little chance to combat either disease with the plants in a solid bed. Also celery is a plant that requires a great deal of cultivation, so that one can readily see that Mr. Dorrick's method is unpractical.

The boarding method, while possibly more expensive, I have proved it in past years the most satisfactory of any of the three methods mentioned by Mr. Dorrick.

Trusting Mr. Dorrick will meet with success in his new venture,

I remain,
Yours truly,
WM. BEATTIE.

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mrs. Dave Gellatley, Mrs. Jack Gellatley and Mrs. Dr. Upton, of Calgary, were in town early last week, coming down with Mr. W. Gellatley who was doing some repair work on the Government wharf. The ladies spent a day visiting friends in the community.

Mrs. P. N. Dorland left early last week for Vancouver to visit friends and relatives for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thompson were out of town on Tuesday, returning in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dryden, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Harrington, were guests at the official opening of the Nelson-Spokane road. They continued their tour across the line to Spokane and home by way of Wenatchee. They all enjoyed the trip throughout.

Rev. Williams, who, with his wife and family, has been visiting Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ruffe, for a few weeks, left last week to return to his field in Alberta. Mrs. Williams is remaining in Peachland for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Somerville, with their family and party, returned last week from their vacation camp at Osprey Lake. They are loud in their praise of that portion of the country for a camping site. They are also strongly in favor of the opening up of the short piece of road from Glenn Robinson to the K.V.R., which will cut off a very considerable portion of the mileage and render it possible for campers and other tourists to motor through this route from Peachland to Osprey Lake in about three hours. This will not only benefit local folks, but people all up and down the Valley who wish to go through Princeton way.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCall and family, and their cousin, Miss Enid Smith from Merritt, B. C., who is visiting them for the summer, enjoyed a short motor trip last week, going as far as Oroville. They camped out one night at Osoyoos, and say they had a splendid trip.

Mr. Townsend left on Saturday morning to spend a short time out of town.

Miss Jean Dryden came home on Saturday evening's boat to spend the week end and Labor Day with her parents.

Mr. Herbert Keating came home on Saturday evening's boat, to spend the holiday.

A large number of Siwashs passed through Peachland on Saturday, many of them paying short visits in the stores in passing, on their way to the big Pot Latch being held at the Westbank Reservation. We understand that numbers were flocking from as far north as Revelstoke, and as far south and west as Princeton.

Another slide occurred on the lake-shore road on Saturday between town and Deep Creek, being just north of the Renfrow property. Quite a number of cars were held up there for some time, till road foreman Mordin picked up a gang of men and opened a channel to let cars through.

Mr. MacMillan has returned after his vacation, and is preparing to take up his duties again in the High School division of the Central School.

Peachland students leaving via K.V.R. on Friday for Normal at Victoria, were the Misses Dorothy Clements and Brenda Edgewood and Franklin Elliott. Mr. Edgewood, Brenda's father, accompanied the girls and will see them safely settled in Victoria, as will also Mrs. J. L. Elliott, who accompanied Franklin.

Mr. Bell, formerly of the teaching staff of the Peachland Central school, passed through town on Friday returning to his school at Armstrong, after enjoying a motor trip as far as Vancouver Island, where he spent part of his summer vacation.

Miss Craig, who taught in the intermediate room in the Central school, which room was closed with the end of the last term, left on Saturday to take a position in the school at Mara.

Miss Alice Cousins, who has been enjoying part of her summer vacation at home with her parents and other members of the family, left on Saturday morning to take up her work with the opening of the fall term. Another visiting teacher, Miss Whitman, who has been a guest for the vacation with Mrs. and Miss Needham, left on Sunday morning to return to her field of service.

President A. T. Howe and T. Fullan of the Associated Growers on Thursday evening addressed Peachland growers on marketing conditions. They acquainted the growers with many of the facts in connection with marketing, and also other interesting details of the organization. The private shipper came in for his usual share of hard knocks and the speakers emphasized the need for standing by the co-operative organization. Several questions were asked of the speakers, some of which were satisfactorily answered, and some not entirely to the satisfaction of the questioners. They were not able to promise much ready money, which was not very encouraging or satisfactory to many of the growers present, in view of financial conditions for the past seasons.

Mrs. Hart, of Edmonton, is a guest at the Bulyea home, expecting to remain here for some time recuperating her health.

The regular service in the Union church last Sunday was conducted by Mr. R. J. Hogg in the absence of Rev. T. A. Sadler, who, with his wife and family, are enjoying a two week holiday motoring and camping.

Rev. H. A. Solly motored up from Summerland to conduct the service in St. Margaret's church, and Rev. Isaac Page motored up from Penticton to conduct the service in the Baptist church. Mr. Page was accompanied by several of his church young people, among them Mr. Glen La Rue, who addressed a few words to the congregation as a sort of farewell. He expected to leave Penticton on Monday for Chicago to attend the Moody Bible Institute, where he is to take up special training for missionary activities.

Latest word from Mr. A. J. MacKenzie is to the effect that his brother's condition is about the same.

Mrs. Phillips and daughter, Phyllis, left on Monday morning to return to their home after a few weeks' visit in Peachland with Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keyes.

Vernor Winger left on Monday morning for the prairie to participate in the harvest and threshing.

After several months in Peachland with his brother, Mr. John Elliott left on Monday to return east for a time.

Miss Bessie Seaton left on Monday to return to Vernon to prepare for the opening of the fall term. She has been enjoying a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. D. Miller, at the ranch.

Miss A. McBean was among the outgoing passengers on Monday morning, for a short visit out of town.

The Importance of Being Pretty Many a girl's fortune is determined by her face. A skin which is fresh, smooth and alluring with the radiance of health, predicts a happy future, because this is the greatest of all womanly charms. Every girl can have a beautiful, attractive skin if she will only learn to give it proper care. The constant application of cold creams, lotions, powder, and rouge tend to make the skin sluggish and inactive. Dirt accumulates and blackheads and other blemishes appear. Thorough cleansing once a day prevents such a condition and keeps the complexion fresh and smooth. Cold Cream is beneficial when applied to a clean skin and rouge and powder are harmless beautifiers—but start fresh every day on a clean foundation. Keep your skin active and it will be clear, fresh, youthful and attractive. Soap to be thorough, need not be harsh. The mildest toilet soap made is the most thorough of all cleansers, as you will know after you have once tried Palmolive. You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first-class dealers. ## A REQUEST.

The Review would be grateful for any news reaching Japanese residents from friends and relatives in Japan who have suffered from the terrible catastrophe last Saturday.

Mr. W. H. Wilberforce left on Tuesday morning for Winnipeg.

Mrs. J. J. Atherton spent the week end in town, visiting her husband.

V. J. Nicholson is recovering from an attack of blood poisoning in his hand.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stratton on Monday at the hospital.

W. Wilson came in from New Westminster to spend the week end with friends here.

T. P. Thornber was a business visitor to Vernon on Tuesday, making the journey by motor.

Miss Isa Logan came down from Vernon on Friday and spent the week end with Mrs. G. H. Inglis.

Dr. T. B. Greene, of New Westminster, spent Monday in town, the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. L. Whiteford.

Miss Jessie Whiteford is leaving on Wednesday next to enter Vancouver General Hospital as a probationer.

Reg. Verrier was in the hospital a few days this week with an infected thumb, from which he is now recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. White and children of Omak were visitors over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White.

Miss Ida Shields plans to leave next Wednesday for Vancouver, where she will enter the Vancouver General Hospital for training.

Misses Amy and Mona Bleasdale accompanied Miss Winnie Atherton on her return trip to Kelowna last Monday. Both returned same day.

T. J. Washington is suffering from septic poisoning in his right thumb. It is feared that it will be necessary to amputate at least part of the thumb, although his condition was apparently improved this morning.

Mrs. A. N. Ross and children left on Friday to join her husband in Vancouver. Since their arrival here in June they have been living at the home of Mrs. Ross's brother, Mr. D. P. Ewen. Mr. Ross is now employed in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baldwin and Master Alan, of Vancouver, were week end visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harvey. Mr. Baldwin returned to the Coast on Monday, Mrs. Baldwin remaining a few days longer.

Alnn Cross came down from Salmon Arm on Sunday and spent the holiday here, returning Monday afternoon. He was accompanied as far as Kelowna on the return trip by Alex. G. Smith, who is now on the staff of the Kelowna Public school.

Wm. Simpson has been appointed manager of the Naramata warehouse of the Occidental Fruit Co., which was opened a few days ago. Mr. Simpson and family have just moved into the cottage on Beach Avenue recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Brock.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sanborn are planning to leave shortly for Metz, Missouri, to be present at the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mrs. Sanborn's brother, Mr. Alfred Tyler. They also intend visiting friends and relatives at other points and will probably be away until early in December.

Through a typographical error, a news item in last week's Review made it appear that Miss Phyllis Cline had been appointed to the position on the nursing staff of the hospital rendered vacant by the resignation of Miss Dowar. Miss Cline has taken the position occupied by Miss Margaret Anderson, who has returned to her home at the Coast.

Mrs. S. Angova has been in the hospital since Wednesday of last week quite seriously ill. Her condition is reported somewhat improved, though she is still very weak and it will be some days before she can return to her home. She was, of course, unable to give Will and his bride the send-off she had planned, but was able to receive them for a few minutes immediately following the wedding Wednesday evening.

KNOCKED DOWN BY LOCOMOTIVE

Carlyle Clay is in the hospital suffering from a broken rib and injured back, besides being badly bruised, as the result of an accident yesterday afternoon at the box factory. While he was on a scaffold between a railway car and the factory platform, the scaffolding was struck by a moving car, which was being shunted, and he was thrown to the ground below. Though suffering considerably, his condition is reported satisfactory.

MUST BE KNOWN

There was sent to The Review this week for publication a letter signed "Evoe," but the writer did not disclose his identity and for this reason we were not able to publish the correspondence. Will contributors please keep in mind that we must know who is contributing to our columns, though the writer's name will not necessarily be attached to the published article.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weeks, old time residents of Summerland, who returned here from the old country some weeks ago and have been staying with Mrs. Pacey, left here with their two children on Saturday to go to Winnipeg.

Accompanied by two Enderby friends, Dr. Keith and Mr. Reeves, C. B. Winter, manager of the Bank of Montreal here, started some days ago to motor to Edmonton by way of the Banff-Windermere road. Mr. Winter has three weeks' holiday.

Mr. L. E. Taylor, Kelowna, has a contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway to supply that company with cantaloupes for use in its hotel and dining car services as far east as Montreal. He is drawing on the Oliver district considerably for his supply of this fruit.

The editor of the Review is indebted to Wm. Beattie for another generous sample of the celery which he is growing this season on a piece of bottom land in Garnett Valley. As the season advances it is becoming finer in quality than were the excellent early specimens.

Quite a number of Siwashas went north through town last week to attend a church function at Westbank, where Indians gathered for many miles around, some of them coming from down across the line. While many rode in saddles and others in horse-drawn vehicles, there were not a few who drove expensive cars.

His Summerland friends will be interested in the announcement that Rev. D. E. D. Robertson, rector of the Anglican church of Rossland, has resigned the charge of the parish, his resignation to take effect on September 11th. Mr. Robertson was for a time rector of St. Stephen's church here in Rev. H. A. Solly's absence.

M. G. WILSON HAS STRAINED KNEE

M. G. Wilson has been confined to his room all week at Vernon as the result of an accident on Monday. While coming out of the office of the O.U.G., of which he is liquidator, his heel caught on the metal plate, and, to avoid falling forward down the stairs, Mr. Wilson threw himself backward, but with such force as to badly wrench the knee of the leg which was weakened in a former accident.

STREET LIGHTS COME ON LATE

The question has been put to The Review several times within the past few days as to whether the municipality was saving much by keeping the streets in darkness during the earlier part of the evening. The complaint is that the street lights are very late in being switched on and the suggestion is made that if they are to burn only a certain number of hours, they might be turned off that much earlier after midnight.

REVIVING INTEREST IN LOCAL DAIRYING

That there is to be a revival of the interest formerly taken in dairying here seems more than probable. Through the efforts of L. W. Rumball, Mr. Patterson, of Kamloops, representative of David Spencer, Ltd., who have recently opened a large creamery in Kamloops, visited this district a few days ago and with Mr. Rumball called on a number of those who are or have been in the past producing milk. He hopes to sign up about 150 cows and we are informed that Mr. Patterson's firm is prepared to supply the farmers with cows, payment for the animals to be made on the installment plan. It is hoped to have about 150 in this district. The cream will be gathered twice a week. It is not improbable that the cream will be converted into butter here in the Valley.

HALF A MILLION FOR ADVERTISING

The State of California intends to let the world know what it is and how superior it is to other states of the union. To that end an advertising campaign has been started with a budget of nearly half a million dollars for the coming year, of which San Francisco alone has subscribed three hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the advertising of northern and central California. Thus again collective advertising has scored a big point.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1923

ONCE we saw a play called The Servant in the House. The servant was a crude but indispensible sufferer who was honest and who brought home to the other characters the spirit of the Redeemer. Once he said to one of the other men: "Did you ever hear of 'ell'?" and the other man said "Yes." "Then go there," retorted the man of mystery. And thus the skilled writer put over a thought that if he had been honest he would have been forced to suppress. It would never have done in this heat of literature, to allow a man to tell another man to go to hell. Shocking? The holier than thou would have been in arms, and the censors would have got busy, those men who would regulate our lives and teach us that hypocrisy and not plain dealing is the chiefest aim in life. Heigho.

Current Events of Town and District

Mrs. John Noyes celebrated her birthday, on Monday last by entertaining a number of old friends from the east, who were staying in Pentiction, and came up by special trip on the "Trepantier."

A number of members of the C.G.I.T., under the supervision of Miss Seevers, made up a camping out party on Wednesday night, and spent a pleasant time, including a corn roast supper, on the wooded point past the old mill site, going to and from their camping ground in boats lent by Mr. Hancock and Leslie Smith.

On Friday evening the Boy Scouts entertained the C.G.I.T. and the Girl Guides at a corn roast on the beach in the north bay, when the three clans foregathered for a merry time.

NARAMATA SCOUTS

On Wednesday we had a full Cub meeting at which the Tenderfoot tests were the main item of work. Nearly all the boys know that section of the work pretty thoroughly. Several of them, namely Sixer Eric King, Cub Douglas Amaron, Cub John Aikins and Cub Robert Walker were granted their badges.

On Friday evening a corn roast was held in honor of those who are leaving the troop. The invited guests included the Scout Council with their wives, the C. G. I. T. and the Girl Guides. All sat around the bonfire and sang-songs until the corn was cooked. After refreshments were served cheers and yells were given by the girls. An investiture then took place, at which Scout Robert Iverson and Cubs John Aikins and Douglas Amaron were invested. A happy crowd broke away a little after nine o'clock.

We are all very sorry to lose several of our number as the result of a lack of school facilities. Second Charlie Kennedy has gone to Victoria, where he will attend High School. Scout Robert Iverson has moved to Pentiction. Cub Douglas Amaron has left for Montreal, and Cub John Aikins has gone to private school in Kelowna. We hope and trust that these boys will join troops in their several places of abode, that their work will be successful and that they will return unto us in time to attend the next annual camp.

Mr. W. M. Horace of the lecture staff of the International Bible Students Association, Toronto, gave a Biblical exposition in the Municipal Hall on Monday evening. His subject was "The Kingdom of Heaven is at Hand, and That Because Thereof, Millions now Living Will Never Die."

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wells and family recently left after spending a short time in Peachland visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. Young. They are returning to their home at Caron, Sask., where they are occupying and working a section of land belonging to Fred's brother.

Mr. A. McKay and his sister, Miss G. McKay, received the sad news on Tuesday morning of the sudden illness and death of their father, following an operation. This is all the more sad due to the fact that but a matter of three weeks before, Mr. and Mrs. McKay, sr., had a fire which wiped out their home completely, they just escaping in their night robes.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Trimble left on Sunday last by auto on a hurried business trip to Oregon.

Mr. W. Lambly and Mr. Jas. Moore have severed their business relations, and Mr. Moore expects to leave shortly for Ponticton.

The Peachland schools opened according to schedule on Tuesday morning, with Miss A. Elliott in charge of the Trepantier Townsite school, Miss Illyva Murdin in the primary room in the Central school with Mr. J. Harris, former teacher, as principal, and Mr. MacMillan in charge of the High School room. Mr. Harris returned on Tuesday morning after spending the vacation at his home in Summerland.

VALUE OF THE SPEEDOMETER

We are glad some people are not what they seem.

The souvenir business is the modern way of disposing of stuff that no one has any earthly use for.

A hypocrite is a man who claims to be as good as he knows he ought to be.

The speedometer has been called the watchdog of the automobile, but it might more truly be called the watchdog of the owner's pocketbook. The wise automobilist checks up speedometer periodically to insure its accuracy. Then he checks up regularly on the speedometer's readings to make sure he is getting maximum gasoline and oil mileage. Thus his speedometer tells him if the component units of the car are functioning as they should.

Some knowledge of the speedometer's make-up is essential to the car owner who would keep it in proper condition for the work it must do.

Four definite types of speedometers are in use. These are magnetic, centrifugal, hydraulic and air-actuated. The magnetic type is probably most common.

This type employs but one moving part—a circular magnet. Over this, but not touching it, is an inverted metallic cup on the rim of which is a row of figures that indicate the miles per hour. The magnet is revolved by a flexible shaft, its field acting on the dial cup. As the magnet's speed increases, so does its magnetic pull. Thus the dial cup is drawn around to indicate the increased speed.

All speedometers have certain characteristics in common; the variations are in the means employed of actuating the mileage dial. All these instruments have a rotating shaft that is flexible and is housed in a flexible housing running to some moving part of the mechanism, usually the front wheel.

While it practically has been the universal custom to connect the speedometer with a front wheel, recently the idea of utilizing the propeller shaft has come into marked favor. A few makers are connecting the speedometer with the transmission unit, and claims of maximum quiet, perfect lubrication and protection are made for this location.

When something goes wrong with the speedometer itself the car owner is advised to take it to the service station. He would stand just as much chance of repairing his watch as this instrument.

There are, however, other derangements that he can repair. For instance, the coupling at the bottom of the speedometer head sometimes shakes loose, so that, while the shaft still revolves, the dial does not register. To fix this, the end of the shaft should be loosened from the head, pushed firmly in place and tightened again. The flexible shaft may bind in the housing due to abrupt bends. When trouble occurs look first at the shaft and see that it has as few bends as possible and these long and sweeping.

Another thing to watch is in making a change from one size tire to another on the wheel that drives the speedometer. These will make the readings inaccurate. Even a change to oversize will cause inaccuracy.

REPARATIONS

There is but one way to stabilize the world's currency and bring commercial progress. That is to fix definitely and finally the indemnity that Germany is to pay. That indemnity when fixed should be underwritten. And when underwritten it would become valuable commercial paper throughout the world.

As an illustration: Suppose they say that Germany shall pay twenty billion gold dollars, which would be a very reasonable amount. Germany could pay that amount, but she should be given sixty or eighty years in which to pay it. Suppose we say eighty years. Then she would have to pay $250,000,000 a year.

If you fix the note at twenty billion dollars, turn the note over and let England and America endorse it, then it becomes worth face value throughout the world and would be a good investment for any individual or for any country. America could afford with England to guarantee the payment of $250,000,000 per year to France and Belgium.

Looked at from a selfish standpoint, it would be worth commercially a thousand times that amount of money to America and England. Fix the amount definitely and finally. Give Germany eighty years in which to pay it, endorse her note for that amount, underwrite her securities, and let her begin to reconstruct her commercial institutions and to enter the marts of the world.

This is a plain, simple, common-sense method of establishing commercial peace, progress and prosperity. Away with the selfish Pharisees who refuse to adopt this policy. Put it into effect. Let America take her place as the leader of the world.

WHY I AM A CHURCH MEMBER

Because if nobody belonged to the Church, there would be no Church; and if the Church left town, I would want to leave on the next train.

Because I share the blessings and privileges of the Church, I want to be square enough to have a part in its work.

Because, as the greatest organized force for righteousness in the world, it offers me a better chance for the real service of humanity the world over than any other institution.

Because, while I may not agree with all its ideas of theology, I do believe in its ideals of life.

Because, while it may be abstractly possible to live a Christian life outside the Church, I know that about ninety-nine out of every hundred Christians are members of the Church. I'll take my chances with the ninety-nine rather than with the lone one.

JOBBER HAVE STRANGLEHOLD ON PRODUCERS

Visiting Prairie Merchant Here to Buy Says Farmers Must Break Grip.

British Columbia apple growers did not go far enough in their organization, in the opinion of M. H. Bridges, formerly with the U.F.A., now running a large retail store at Cardston, Alta., and who is here this week for the purpose of buying several carloads of fruit.

Mr. Bridges strongly approves of organization by fruit growers, but says that the movement will never be effective until the growers organize the selling end. His idea of organization at the other end is that the growers should fix the price to the retailer, particularly the one who buys in car lots, and he is equally insistent that the price should be fixed at the point of production, so as to give the grower a satisfactory rate. Mr. Bridges declares that the British Columbia fruit grower does not realize the strength of his position and that prairie jobbers are using a good deal of bluff. The prairie consumer must have B.C. fruit and is willing to pay a fair price for it. The growers' organization should exercise their control to be sure that the middlemen do not put on excess profits. As Mr. Bridges sees it, the province of the jobber is to take the fruit in car lots and distribute it in smaller quantities to the retailers. Very many of the retail stores, he says, can buy mixed carloads of fruit and should have the privilege of buying direct in that quantity.

Until the growers are able to shake off the grip in which the combination of jobbers now hold them, continued Mr. Bridges, they will not be able to enjoy the fullest market possible, because they are not able to fit a reasonable price to the consumer, nor will they be able to get a satisfactory price for the producer.

Mr. Bridges is also of the opinion that the fruit grower should go farther and preserve much of their crop, which could be sold later, evaporated, canned or otherwise, to the prairie trade. He would have Associated Growers salesmen calling on the carload-buying retailers and these salesmen could be kept busy through the late winter and spring in selling canned goods and other by-products.

OKANOGAN MAN ON RETAILING

Says His Success Due to Investment with the Home Town Paper.

Charles E. Blackwell, Okanogan, Washington, one hundred miles down the Valley south of Summerland, is a frequent visitor to this part of British Columbia and a great admirer of the beauties of our scenery. Mr. Blackwell is said by many to be the most successful country merchant in the state of Washington and anything that he has to say on the subject of retail store keeping is worth listening to.

In addressing a recent gathering in his home state, Mr. Blackwell said: "There are many lines of publicity that the country store can use to advantage, but the one he can use to best advantage is his home town paper. I venture to say that if the money spent each year for fancy calendars and other knock-knack give-aways were invested (I say invested, not spent or donated) in carefully planned newspaper publicity, the actual net returns to the advertiser would be ten times as great, to say nothing of the advantage the small town paper would derive from the additional and much-needed revenue."

DID NOT FANCY APPEARANCE OF JAIL

An interesting sequel to the police court case of last week when several young men were up on a charge of robbing a corn patch was the arrest of Sherman, one of the trio. Sherman, it is stated, refused to pay his lawyer's bill and was summoned before the magistrate and ordered to pay by Saturday morning the $12.50 or go to jail. Failing to come through with the money, he was arrested and taken down to the jail, but not relishing it as a place of residence, he repented and paid the bill.

Sherman is no longer at Johnston's bakery, where he has been employed since coming to Summerland.

REVERTING LOT NOT SUBJECT TO TAXATION

S. S. Board Claims Lands Given Up by Buyers Not Taxable.

That the Soldiers' Settlement Board is not liable for taxes on property abandoned by returned men who were paying for the lots bought from the Soldiers' Settlement Board, was the purport of a letter received by the Municipal Council a few days ago. In this letter the Soldiers' Settlement Board tendered a cheque for one-third of the 1923 taxes in full settlement of the taxes against the Bardsley lot. The Board pointed out that Mr. Bardsley had quit the property at the end of April, when it reverted to the King and was not taxable. The Council did not accept this view. This is a question that is likely to be fought by this and other Councils.

The ore from the I.X.L. mine at Rossland is so rich that the railway has refused to handle the ore and guarantee safe delivery, so the lessors are sending the ore to Kellogg by motor truck. One shipment netted the eight lessors over $3,000 each.

GASOLINE NOW FORTY CENTS

Drop of Five Cents Follows Coast Cut in Gasoline Price.

Following a reduction in the price of gasoline at Vancouver, local dealers are now charging 40 cents per gallon. The drop in the price at Vancouver is said to have been brought about by the efforts of the automobile organization, who took the matter of price up with the managers of the oil companies. The Vancouver price is now 30 cents.

It was stated that private dealers were selling gasoline purchased in Blaine, Washington, at a price considerably under the oil companies' quotations. The retail price in Blaine is 10 cents, or 16 cents if purchased in 50 gallon lots. This is equal to 10.2 cents per Imperial gallon.

The same condition has existed to a considerable extent in this Valley. At Oroville the retail price is 23 cents. This includes the State tax of 1 cent per gallon, which means that Oroville retailers are getting 20.4 cents a gallon for our measurement. Just why our neighbors a few miles to the south should get for 26 cents what we are required to pay 40 cents for is something our citizens cannot understand. Oroville is probably much farther from the refining plant from which it draws its supply than is the Okanogan from its supply center at Vancouver and it is suggested that a very profitable piece of business might be developed if someone would take up the importing of gasoline from across the line and sell it to the local retailers. Duty ranges from 1 to 2 1/2 cents, according to grade.

SCHOOL BOARD MUST PAY FOR SUBSTITUTES

Four Dollars Per Day Is Price To Be Paid For Sick Teachers' Relief.

Under the new School Act, which went into effect on July 1st, the school boards are required to pay substitutes for teachers on sick leave up to ten days in each year and, if a teacher has not been on such leave, this time will stand to the teacher's credit up to thirty days. In other words, a teacher who has not been off in two years may have a substitute provided for thirty days sick leave in the third year. This is the substance of a clause in the Act which was drawn to the attention of the Board by S. A. McDonald, principal of the Central School. While it was apparent that the Board did not appreciate the new measure, the principal was directed to find a substitute at four dollars per day, should occasion arise.

The principals of the High and Central Schools were authorized to dismiss at 2.45 p.m. during Chautauqua. The secretary asked the board that some decision be arrived with respect to a suggested plebiscite on High School fees and, after some discussion, the Board decided to request the Council to submit a by-law to the ratepayers at the next annual election.

Night school will be revived shortly and, for the purpose of defining the courses and working out details, a number of citizens have been asked to confer with the Board. These are Miss Jones, Mrs. C. J. Amm, Messrs. F. J. Nixon, C. P. Nelson, A. H. Steven, R. Pollock, H. W. Harvey and J. W. S. Logie. An average attendance of ten is necessary in order to obtain the government grant and the Board decided that a minimum of fifteen must be enrolled in each class.

The secretary was instructed to provide a visitors' book for each room of the High School and also a register in which each teacher will note the time of his or her arrival each morning at the school.

Mrs. Solly was appointed delegate to attend a session of Okanagan branch, No. 2, of the B. C. School Trustees Association, which is being held in Kelowna today.

Accounts totalling $370.50 were approved for payment.

TENNIS MEETING AT ORCHARD CITY

Messrs. P. G. Koop, E. R. Faulder, F. A. Miller, H. M. Lumsden, R. G. Russell and J. G. Dodwell, members of the local tennis association, were at Kelowna over the week-end. Mr. Dodwell was delegate from the Summerland Lawn Tennis Association held in Kelowna Saturday morning. During the afternoon friendly matches among delegates and others were held on the grass courts. On Sunday men's doubles were played with the Kelowna club on their hard courts, Summerland going down by 6 to 3. Messrs. Russell and Dodwell won their matches, while Messrs. Koop and Faulder, and Miller and Lumsden lost out.

BIRD SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

The season for deer, grouse, ducks, geese, plover, etc., will open on Saturday next. Many parties are planning to go grouse hunting, but it is hardly expected that there will be much duck or deer hunting for another month, until the ducks begin to come down from the north and the deer from the higher hills. The grouse bag limit is six of one species or twelve of all species in one day, fifty in the aggregate for the season. The duck bag is 20 for the day and 150 for the season. The deer limit is three bucks.

IRRIGATION SEASON ENDS ON SATURDAY

Irrigation service for the 1923 season will end on Saturday of this week, September 15th. At the request of Foreman Tomlin, he was authorized at the meeting of the Council on Tuesday to continue the service a few days longer in Garnett Valley and on parts of Jones Flat. Water will no doubt be available at other sections for later irrigation as required.

There has probably been more water available for irrigation this season than in any year since irrigation has been practised here. Storage water has not been drawn on to the limit and there has been an abundant supply for all except in a few instances, where the system has not been in condition to deliver the desired amount.

EXPORTING CRABS TO MINNEAPOLIS

Transcendent crabapples from the Okanagan district are being rolled for Minneapolis and other middle western markets by the Associated Growers, according to late reports received at Spokane. It is stated that at good demand has been noted so far, although definite price range on the deal is yet to be established.—Markets Bulletin.

EXTENSION ON JONES FLAT PROPOSED

Council Would Take All Irrigation Connections off Pipe Lines.

Next year's Council will be asked to extend the Jones Flat main ditch to serve all the properties on the east side of that district. A petition requesting this extension was submitted to the Council on Tuesday, and was supported by Messrs. Huddleston, Shepherd, Broad and A. E. Smith. The Reeve promised that a survey and estimate will be prepared and a recommendation passed on to the 1924 Council that the work be done.

The petitioners registered serious complaint of unsatisfactory service from the pipe line and the ratepayers mentioned above all pointed out the impossibility of continuing under present conditions.

Reeve Campbell replied that in 1922 some 50 or 60 acres were taken off the pipe line and during the present season another 50. The delegates admitted that at times there was ample flow with a good pressure, but when most needed there were too many drawing from the pipe line. The Councils for some years have had in view extending the Jones Flat ditch and it would be only a question of money.

Coun. Johnston and other members of the board declared that as fast as possible all irrigation connections should be taken off the pipe lines.

SUMMERLAND JOINS AUTO ASSOCIATION

Mass Meeting of Motorists Hears Other Side and Lines Up.

Anxious as the motorists of Summerland have always been to link up with any organization which has for its function good roads or the welfare of the motorist generally, it was demonstrated on Tuesday night that it sometimes pays to make haste slowly. A recent tour of the Valley was made by Mr. J. R. Signore on behalf of a newly formed club known as the British Columbia Automobile Association; and it is noted that several towns in the Interior were induced to link up with that organization. It is feared that many were prevailed upon to sign up under the impression that they were affiliating with the Automobile Club of British Columbia; an organization from which it is now asserted Mr. Signore was retired on the reduction of the directorate.

Believing it desirable to listen to what the other fellow had to say before signing the dotted line in Mr. Signore's organization, Summerland did not yield to the blandishments of the visitor, whom it was freely stated at Tuesday's meeting, was a disgruntled member of the retired directorate of the original association, and a senior partner in the Signore house of automobile accessories. It was to get the matter right that a mass meeting of citizens was held at the Riato Theatre on Tuesday, and after listening to explanations and a recital of the true facts from T. H. Kirk and F. J. Elkins, president and manager respectively of the Vancouver branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, it was unanimously decided that our local association affiliate with that body, and Summerland has the proud distinction of being the first town in the Interior so to do.

The itinerary of the ambassadors from the parent organization includes every town in the Valley, and all points likely to be affected by the building of either of the proposed new routes to the Coast.

There was a very representative gathering, and Mr. W. C. Kelley in the chair pointed out that it was practically a Board of Trade meeting. He gave the visitors, who were (Continued on Page 6)

NORMAL TERM TO REMAIN ONE YEAR

Persistent current reports backed by newspaper items to that effect have stated that, beginning with the fall term of 1924, all students at British Columbia Normal schools would be required to complete a two years' course. In order to get first-hand information on this subject, G. A. Lundie, principal of the Summerland High school, wrote S. J. Willis, superintendent of education. Mr. Willis in his reply states the Department of Education has no intention of extending the Normal School course to a two years' course, and that students who enter Normal in 1924 will be able to complete the course in nine months.

ARRANGING FOR EMPIRE EXHIBIT

Frank Dollart, of Kelowna, has been appointed by the Dominion Government to gather B. C. fruit for exhibition purposes at the British Empire Exhibition, to be held in London next year.

Mr. Dollart is arranging to have 600 boxes of the best apples procurable exhibited, as British Columbia's contribution to Canada's display. It is his intention to add samples of nuts, tobacco and other products which can be grown to advantage in the Okanagan.

CAR GOES OVER THE GULCH EMBANKMENT

While driving his light truck along the road towards West Summerland a short distance past the head of the town gulch, H. C. Howis experienced what might have resulted in a much more serious accident last Saturday night. He and his little daughter, Doreen, were driving towards the Flat, when, just after making the turn at the head of the gulch, Mr. Howis turned to offer a couple of pedestrians a ride, and as he looked back, the car swung towards the bank and, slipping over the edge, completely overturned, resting right side up in the ditch below. Fortunately, beyond a slight shaking up, both passengers escaped without injury.

INCREASED ACTIVITY IN FRUIT SALES

Prairie Markets Absorbing Shipments in Satisfactory Volume.

J. A. Grant, prairie fruit commissioner for B. C., reports considerable activity in the fruit market, with very little competitive fruit now entering from the States.

In his bulletin of Saturday last he states: "The fruit volume now moving is satisfactory, and this week's car arrivals of mixed fruit from B. C. have shown a big increase. Very little fruit is now being imported of a competitive kind; peaches and prunes have been the heaviest of the imported fruit. These are falling off fast as the B.C. products come in. Apples from B. C. are rolling in straight cars and the pack and color shows a marked improvement over other years. The trade appears to be satisfied with the quality and price now offering.

"The tomato situation is rank. Orientals are not only engaging independent brokers, but are shipping cars direct. We regret to note that (Continued on Page 2)

OUTLOOK IS MUCH BRIGHTER

Encouraging News Bulletin Issued from Head Office of Associated.

Generally speaking, there is a decided improvement in the demand from prairie points for fruit, particularly in mixed cars. According to a statement given the Review early this week by the Associated, country distribution has never been wider. The main trouble which the Associated has been experiencing during the past week has been to get orders filled quickly enough, as some of the locals do not seem to have loading capacity proportionate with their accommodation, tonnage and warehouse.

Last week the Associated averaged at least 40 cars daily, mostly fruit, and 65 per cent. of which was sold at firm f.o.b. prices.

One of the puzzles which confronts the Associated is to know what to do with Italian prunes and Walthams, which are far in excess in the requirements for mixed cars. They are already commencing to back up. The percentage of Walthams of suitable size and quality for export is very low, which adds still further to the Waltham problem and is forcing farmers to the prairie than they should regularly be expected to take.

Vegetable business is dull excepting onions and this line promises a very active and firm market due to reduction in estimated tonnage to crops in all onion producing sections.

Sixteen horses and about 70 tons of hay were lost in the fire which destroyed the big barn of the B. C. Hop Company at Agassiz.

A PRE-COOLING PLANT FAVORED IN EACH TOWN

J. A. Ruddick So Advises After Making Local Investigation.

Following his recent visit to the Okanagan, J. A. Ruddick, Dominion dairy and cold storage commissioner, announces that, in his opinion, pre-cooling plants should be established at all points in the Valley where soft fruit is grown and packed. The damage is done to the fruit, he says, before it can be assembled at any one point for pre-cooling.

It is ten years since Mr. Ruddick was in the Okanagan and owing to the efforts which are being made to secure government assistance in establishing a pre-cooling plant to help in handling soft fruits he came to make a survey of the situation and prepare a report to be placed before the Department when the matter is being considered.

There is no question, he says, but that the fruit industry here requires refrigeration facilities. Growers in the Niagara district find it a big advantage. He believes it is in cherries that the greatest benefit is derived, as they had been enabled to ship to more distant markets and land their fruit there in better condition as a result of pre-cooling, than was ever possible before the refrigeration plants were installed. The greater portion of the Okanagan cherry crop, which fell down this season could, in his opinion, have been saved by pre-cooling.

Mr. Ruddick explains that there is no direct way in which the government can assist in the establishment of pre-cooling plants, except by direct grants through the appropriations.

Mr. Ruddick was not in a position to commit himself with regard to what his recommendations would be to the government. It was all a question of finance, he said, but his report would be prepared as soon as he reached Ottawa and all the necessary data would be ready when the matter came up for consideration by the Department.

In connection with the question of refrigeration, he went on to say there were two propositions. The first was that of a plant for pre-cooling purposes only, and the second was a plant large enough to use for (Continued on Page 6)

PRESIDENT IS OPTIMISTIC

Says Associated No Weaker Since Departure of Pratt.

Vernon.—Declaring that marketing conditions were more favorable at present than they have been for some time, President A. T. Howe of the Associated Growers at the meeting held in the Court House on Tuesday night, referred to the short crop in England, which would be to our advantage.

"I have been in business a long time and I have seen depression come and go, and we will see this depression go," he continued.

The prairie he expected would take fifty per cent. of the apple crop of the Associated, which meant that the balance had to go elsewhere. "But the independents will ship all of their 15 per cent. into the prairie," he declared, as he pointed out that they had already started to cut prices.

"We know that some independents will be giving better returns than we will," he continued, and added that they did not have to take over any big packing houses and other equipment.

In referring to Mr. Pratt, Mr. Howe said that prior to his leaving (Continued on Page 6)

Editorial

EXCEEDING THEIR RIGHTS.

Three weeks or more ago, some workmen, said to be employees of the Okanagan Telephone Company, cut down some trees and disfigured others on the roadside between Shaughnessy Avenue and the lake. Thinking that they might come along later and at least clear up the cuttings, we have refrain from giving any expression to the public indignation which their action has caused. Not only have they let the slashings lie where they fell, but at least one of the trees has a large part of its top partly cut and suspended up side down, adding further to the untidiness of the roadside. Apparently it will be necessary for municipal authorities to take action to have the matter remedied.

THE "PROVINCE" EARNS OUR THANKS.

Under the heading "Buy B. C. Fruit," the Vancouver Province of Saturday last published the following editorial, for which Okanagan growers will be grateful.

"Pears, peaches, plums and early apples are now arriving from the Okanagan and other orchard districts. Similar fruits are also offered from abroad. The foreign products have in some cases the advantage of earlier maturity and may show to advantage at the beginning. But the home product is good and is ripening fast. There is ample supply and a surplus of British Columbia fruit. Every box that is bought of foreign growth reduces the home market by so much. British Columbia fruit-growers are having a hard struggle this year as they had last year. They should have all the patronage that citizens of Vancouver can give them.

Money sent to the Okanagan goes back to local channels. The fruitgrowers who receive it share the taxes in Canada. They are customers of our merchants. They contribute to the trade of the port. They add to the wealth and prosperity of the country. They are our fellow subjects. They have no chance to sell perishable fruit in any foreign market.

If Vancouver people made a mistake in buying apricots before the native supply arrived let there be no mistake about peaches, pears and other fruits which are now required.

TRY THE RULE OF REASON.

Perhaps no one is more familiar with the conflicting ideas of our home dwellers than the editor of this newspaper. Scarcely a day passes but he receives some criticism of the way in which the affairs of the community are run. It would take columns, and also it would be very unfair, to publish many of these criticisms.

The most important thing for our taxpayers to realize is that little is to be gained by simply complaining and that everything may be gained by constructive criticism, if it be accompanied by an idea of how the condition complained of may be improved.

It is not a difficult matter to improve our community. All it needs is a little study of the principles of community building and a reasonable amount of money. However, there seems to be the rub. The officials cannot get money out of the air. They cannot make improvements without spending money, and the spending of money means a jump in the tax rate. No one need be reminded what happens when there is talk of increased taxes. The howl echoes even throughout the district. As a fact, slight increases for legitimate improvements should not be deplored. Only waste of public monies should arouse our indignation. Money spent in useful public improvements is an investment, not an expense. We are all stockholders in the corporation, and we always get dividends in the shape of increased value to our properties when we add something of public moment. Just a little reasoning will make a good many of us much happier, and perhaps a little more prosperous.

IS IT HOURS OR MORE MONEY WANTED?

Public opinion generally will uphold Judge Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, in the decision to make the eight hour day a straight eight hour day and not a basic eight hour day. This change will put the acid test to the contention of labor that a work day of more than eight hours is harmful to the workers.

No one begrudges labor its right to a front line on the pay roll. It has been found, however, that after employers in some industries conceded the eight hour day the workers, have continued to work just the same hours they worked before, their battle for the shorter day obviously being to get extra pay under the questionably justifiable overtime schedule. In brief, most of the fights for the eight hour day have not been fights for the eight hour day at all, but camouflaged efforts to obtain excessive advances in wages.

This is unfortunate, because the reaction will be clearly injurious to those who toil. Perhaps the greatest trouble is not caused by those who toil, but those who, like the lilies of the field, toil not, neither do they spin. There would be little complaint about high wages or short hours if men would give an honest day's work.

From Our Exchanges

MARKETING THE FRUIT CROP.

Trying to sell our fruit crop on sentiment is just like trying to sell Palmolive soap on sentiment or Ford cars on jokes. Both the fruit crop, the soap and the cars are wonderful value, and no doubt sentiment and jokes will help sales, but the only way to market any appreciable quantity of these products is to advertise them.

Instead of adding a few cents per box to the price of fruit and spending that money to advertise, our growers are hoping that sentiment will dispose of their crop; they are talking of selling fruit with blotters and envelopes.

The marketing problem of the fruit growers in British Columbia is serious; in fact, every producer of farm products is in the same position. That being the case, it is always best to get down to facts, and in the case of fruit, the fact is that city people will not buy fruit on sentiment any more than farmers will buy Canadian implements on sentiment.

The farmer has got to fight for everything he gets; he has always done so and always will, and the only possible way he can recapture that fruit business is to go after it is a business way.

The only remedy is to advertise B. C. fruit until the consumer will think, talk, and eat nothing but B. C. fruit; until, for his selfish interest, the consumer will be afraid to buy anything except B. C. fruit. Appealing to a man's greed or his desires will get nowhere, but appeal to his necessities and his fears and he will begin to talk business. Tell him how to prepare fruit; how to preserve it. Tell him about the economy of fruit, the health resulting from a fruit diet, and keep on telling him, and you will keep on selling him.

If there were any other way to successfully market fruit or other commodities, it would have been adopted by successful institutions long ago.—Farm and Home.

CASE FOR INVESTIGATION.

Of the resignation of W. H. Stevens, district superintendent of government telegraph and telephone service, the Kamloops Standard-Sentinel says:

"The entire community will regret the necessity that prompted W. H. Stevens, superintendent of government telegraph and telephone service, to resign his appointment. He has filled a very important position, both to the satisfaction of the government and the general public. His ideal has been 'betterment of the service,' and in attempting to realize that, he has had to relinquish his fine work.

"Mr. Stevens was an appointee of the Conservative government; he is, of course, a brother of Hon. H. H. Stevens, and while this may have served him well in the past, men of all sorts of political color endorse his high sense of duty and it can be said that he has no party enemies. In the ten years' tenure of the position, Mr. Stevens learned his work well; if he had a fault it was that he was too assiduous a servant and attempted to do two men's work.

"What were the reasons for Mr. Stevens' resignation? Briefly, Hon. Dr. King, Minister of Public Works, overrode Mr. Stevens' authority and made his fine record of no avail in the Okanagan district, by reinstating an employee who had been dismissed by the superintendent because she had been twice found guilty of neglect of duty, which in one case endangered the very life of a citizen.

"Dr. King was guilty of two glaring faults: he had no right to override the superintendent, who was acting for the best interests of the service; and he had no right to reinstate the employee until the civic service commission had dealt with the case.

"Those who know Mr. Stevens, and the number is legion, will accept his statement of the case unreservedly. He is known to be a man whose word is bond. Those who know the inside of politics, and their number also is large, will see the action of Hon. Dr. King in a sordid light, that of a Minister who was not strong enough to back up a loyal servant, but had to kow-tow to a few miserable time-servers, whose backing he was afraid to lose.

"What can one do but question the efficacy of the civic service commission? Its appointment was sound; its chief function was to take charge of just such a case as the present one; in overriding Mr. Stevens, Dr. King has snapped his fingers in the face of the commission; he has deliberately flouted an important statute, and he has sacrificed an excellent superintendent.

"Liberals and Conservatives alike will demand a full and unprejudiced enquiry. The matter should not wait until the House sits. Surely it is the duty of the civic service commission to take steps to insist on an explanation. We hope the local member can see his way, especially as he is aligned with neither the present government nor those who appointed Mr. Stevens, to protest against such an unfortunate circumstance as compelled the superintendent to resign."

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Nearly four hundred pupils enrolled when school opened last week. In the Central School there are now nine divisions. In their order of number the teachers of these grades and the number of pupils under them are: S. A. MacDonald, 35; H. W. Daniel, 34; M. Harwood, 35; B. Ball, 35; J. Nicholson, 38; R. Graham, 39; R. Dale, 40; K. Elliott, 39; F. Banks, 31.

According to figures given the Review by Principal Lundie of the High School, there are now enrolled for the new term 58 pupils. In the first year there are 8 girls and 12 boys, in the second year, 12 girls and 10 boys; and in the third year 9 girls and 7 boys. There are yet others to come who are still employed in the fruit harvest, so that the roll will probably be considerably increased by November.

HOSPITAL DONATIONS

Donations for August to the Summerland Hospital are listed below: Mrs. Fanchon, raspberries, tomatoes and corn; Lim How, vegetables; Boy Scouts, vegetables and eggs; Mr. Gar-nett, vegetables; Mrs. Plant, eggs; Capt. Creese, vegetables; Mrs. Taylor, tomatoes, apricots; Miss Pollock, old linen, 3 quarts fruit, plums; Mrs. Inglis, tomatoes, flowers; Mrs. Fanchon, tomatoes and corn; Mr. Suddaby, apricots; Mrs. Lipsett, cucumbers; Mrs. Fisher, flowers and vegetables; Mrs. Schwaab, 6 quarts fruit; Mrs. Tweedie, 8 quarts fruit; Mrs. Gayton, 3 jars fruit and grape juice; Dr. Lipsett, peaches; Mr. J. ### MAN KILLED AT OKANAGAN LANDING

Robert A. Garden, 46, who had been employed on the job only two days, slipped while working at the C.P.R. ice crushing machine at Okanagan Landing on Saturday. He fell between the long prongs and was so badly injured that he died shortly afterwards. The body was taken to Enderby, where burial took place. He was not married.

some of the reliable pool jobbers are handling these cars.

A car of Italian prunes arrived here from Hatzic this week, shipped by the Berry Growers' Union. These prunes arrived in excellent condition and the crates (peach box) weighed about six pounds more each than those arriving from Washington in suit cases. The jobbers fear to ship Lower Mainland prunes to country points on account of brown rot which usually develops in them. This car seems to be immune. Several L.c.l. shipments from Hatzic of Ponds Seedling plums arrived here apparently in good condition, and of fine quality. In a day they fell down badly with brown rot.

"Everbearing strawberries are falling off in quality. Some are being wholesaled for $2.50 per case.

"A car lot of Italian prunes arrived in Edmonton last Monday and were sold at the rate of 65¢ per peach box. This cut, in our opinion, was not justified by the quality of the prunes. Placing a car lot of good prunes there at a cut price, had a bad effect on other prune sales. We are informed they were shipped by W. K. Munson, an independent shipper, doing business in Chilliwack, to Weeks and Co., who sold them to Wilson, a retail grocer, at the above named price."

In the same bulletin Mr. Grant lists the following prices as f.o.b. quotations at B. C. shipping points:

EVEN SUPPLY OF WATER NECESSARY

In his weekly report dated last Saturday, covering the Vernon district, W. T. Hunter, district horticulturist, says:

"A few orchards are showing the effects of lack of moisture, due to the discontinuing of irrigation at too early a date; and it is apparent that greater attention must be given to a constant and continuous supply of moisture throughout the growing period and for a longer period than is usual in many instances, as it is felt generally by those making a study of tree growth, that the cause of some of our orchard troubles is most certainly due to unequal and insufficient moisture conditions.

During the early part of the evening the young folk played games and the older folk sat around and chatted until it was announced that the corn and fire were ready. It was a merry and a busy crowd that circled the boiler and the open fire for the rest of the evening. The host had lanterns hung in convenient positions. Mr. Sanasack showed the party through his comfortable cottage home and his spacious root cellar and proved a delightful host. Before breaking up the party sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and gave three rousing cheers for the host. There were over thirty who enjoyed this, the first corn roast Peachland has sported for some time.

The Union preaching service on Sunday evening was conducted by Mr. R. J. Hogg, the Rev. T. A. Sadler, not having returned from his vacation tour. The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trade was held on Wednesday evening, President Geo. Weaver in the chair. Several matters of interest were dealt with, amongst them being requests for information concerning tourist accommodation, and also for pictures of any sports held in the district. These were left in charge of the secretary. The question of street lighting was again discussed, and a draft plan of proposed points for lights shown. This matter now rests with Mr. Gibson, local manager of the Kootenay Power Co., and the committee await Mr. Gibson's next visit. The secretary reported that Mr. Keats, assistant surveyor, from Nelson, was in Naramata recently looking over the situation regarding the needed carslip, and arranged to return in a week or two to make the necessary survey, to be followed by an estimate of the cost. The dumping of cull fruits was taken up, and the secretary instructed to request the local co-operative to use a spot specified as being suitable for that purpose. The secretary was authorized to attend the meeting to be held at Penticton shortly for the discussion of the lake level. The meeting adjourned at 9.30.

THE 1923 HONEY CROP.

By Geo. Weaver. Many people who know nothing of bee matters, and some who have that little knowledge which is said to be a dangerous thing, have an idea that the honey crop is a more or less fixed quantity, and that, given so many hives of bees, there will be so many pounds of honey as a matter of course. This is something like the average a hen lays on, so dear to the heart of the amateur poultry keeper. As a matter of fact, there is hardly any crop which is so variable from year to year. The difference in returns between those of last season and of this, affords a striking example. Last year was an exceptionally good one for the beekeeper, even if we ignore some averages which were published by some unknown authority, and were not supported by any official figures. This year, so far, as reports have come to hand, the yield will fall far short. Figures compiled from the various states to the south of us, and published by Messrs. Dadant of Illinois, fully support the opening sentence of the summary: "Not since the year 1912 have the reports been so universally in agreement that there will be the shortest honey crop in years." Texas and California, two of the heaviest honey producing states, will not have over 25 per cent. and in the latter state many apiarists expect to have to feed their stocks for the winter. Those states which report favorably are chiefly the smaller producers. Last month's forecast for Ontario was that the crop for the province would certainly be light, partly owing to the curious fact that the alsike clover, so plentiful in the banner province, was a blank as far as nectar was concerned. I have not seen any figures for British Columbia, but have reports from Penticton of poor yields, and shall expect to find that condition pretty general.

This brief synopsis of reports up to date may be of interest to local beekeepers, and should help in the matter of price fixing.

On Wednesday the Cubs met as usual and a good meeting was held, at which Sixor Eric King passed his First Star Test.

The Scout meeting on Friday opened on time with the full number of boys present. The work taken up was that preparatory to taking the Second Class and First Class tests. Several of the boys passed a portion of the above badges at the meeting, the remainder of the test being left for the next meeting.

The manner in which the patrol competition was proceeding was announced and all were surprised to learn that both patrols were running neck and neck with the Coyotes one point to the good. Only another week remains from the time of writing until the competition closes, so all are working at top pitch to be winners.

Monday's meeting consisted entirely in passing tests. Three examiners were kept busy during the evening and we are pleased to announce that Scouts Norman Hinnck and Harold Young have completed and passed their Second Class badges, while T.L. Stanley Allen and P.L. Eric Rayner both were successful in obtaining their Interceptor's badges. At the close of the meeting a short session of the Court of Honor was held.

HELPFUL HINTS

In a Sewing Basket.—Tie a little bow of bright ribbon on the handle of your scissors and they will be much easier found.

Salad.—In fixing a lettuce salad a leaf of mint and grating of onion is a pleasant addition to some tastes. Try it.

Mice.—If one wishes to catch mice, put some pumpkin seeds in the traps. It is a very attractive bait.

Scorch Spots.—A scorch spot may be removed from a very delicate fabric by wetting with clear water and sprinkling with Borax.

Ice Cream Spot.—A very ordinary stain which few people know how to remove is an ice cream stain. Take the spotted material and lay on a clean folded cloth and rub lightly with luke-warm water. This will take the protein (sweet) out of the stain. Then take some ether or benzine and rub lightly but firmly. The latter to remove the grease.

Lemonade.—If the whole lemon is put through the food chopper for lemonade, instead of just squeezing the fruit, you will find it to have a much better flavor and have twice as much.

Singeing Feathers.—When singeing chickens, hold over an oil or gas stove and the skin will not blacken, as where a burning paper is used. Also use a pair of tweezers to remove pin feathers. They will take hold of the very small ones.

Camisole Straps.—If underneath the plain ribbon used for shoulder straps a piece of narrow elastic is sewed, there will be no trouble about "straps slipping."

Fine Linens.—Fine linens and embroidery will have a longer life if they are washed in cold water with white soap and a little dissolved borax.

Grease Spot.—To remove a spot of grease from wallpaper. Rub the place with a piece of flannel dampened with alcohol.

MAKING IT REAL COMFY FOR TOURISTS

Mountain Camp That Other Communities Might Duplicate to Advantage

Rossland, whose population is very little larger than that of Summerland, has been receiving much favorable publicity during the last few weeks, through its beautiful tourist camp, which has been constructed at considerable effort and expense. With the view to making it a children's playground as well as accommodating tourists, Wm. K. Esling, M.P.P., has taken the leading part in the completion of this park.

It differs from all other camps in that nothing is neglected for the comfort of the traveller, and everything is free. The expense of the camp was met by subscriptions from business men and others, numerous checks having been received from former residents of Rossland, who still felt an interest in the welfare of the historic mining camp. The location, which is but two blocks from the business center, adds to the merit of the park.

The entrance was designed by A. E. Wright, of Rossland, and contains modern sanitary conveniences, with showers for men and women. Against a long rock bluff, which forms the background, is a series of five terraces, on which to pitch tents, and alongside of each is a covered cook-shelter of rustic design. Each of these contains a stove, table, and city water with plenty of free fuel, cup to stove length, and each shelter has a receptacle for refuse and garbage. The city sees that the park is cleaned each morning, and as soon as a tourist pitches his tent, R. Timms, chief of police, is on hand to see that every need for the comfort of the visitor is supplied.

Near the entrance is a little building where the traveller is supplied with plenty of stationery, maps and post cards, all free, and where he may register.

Through the length of the grounds is a creek of clear water. This creek is lined with trees and plants, while a flower bed, kept in condition by the citizens, adds to the beauty of the entrance. More than 50 shade trees have been planted, and a half-acre of sod laid. There are benches in every shady nook of the park, and children and parents take advantage of the conveniences for afternoon lunches.

At the far end is a miniature lake in which the kiddies paddle, and in the center of which is a constantly playing fountain. Beyond this is a plunge, where travellers may take a morning dip, and where men and boys find pleasure in a swim on hot days. The water is fresh and constantly running, and enters the little lake below by a pretty waterfall.

The whole camp is brilliantly lighted by the city, and only the most favorable comments are registered by tourists.

The city council and the board of trade name the park after Mr. Esling, who initiated the work and gave his time to its construction.

B.C. GOVERNMENT SWIFT TO AID JAPAN

Victoria.—No matter what the opinions of the government and the people may be on the general Oriental question, it is conceded that the government has but one thing to do at present in dealing with the Japanese people. That is to rush all possible relief to the stricken nation. Feeling this to be the wish of the people, the government has announced that a cargo of lumber, probably 5,000,000 feet, will be shipped as a present as soon as possible. The announcement of this aid was the first to come from Canada.

PARLIAMENT OPENS MONDAY, OCTOBER 29

Victoria.—The fourth session of the fifteenth Legislature of British Columbia will open on Monday, October 29, and while no legislation of a contentious nature is anticipated, it is expected that many matters of provincial importance will be disposed of. Among these will be the redistribution of seats in the House, and Premier Oliver states that a redistribution bill will be introduced at the beginning of the session, so as to permit of the fullest consideration of this important matter. The Pacific Great Eastern Railway, liquor amendments, road policy, taxation and revision of the statutes are on the agenda.

Interested friends—"Is your wife a good cook?"

MORE PUBLICITY IS ADVISED BY OLIVER

Urges Loyalty to Officials of Associated to Assure Success.

Mr. Boyd Oliver, during a recent visit to the Valley, urged that more publicity be given to the affairs of the growers' organization.

"More co-operative concerns have gone on the rocks by withholding information than perhaps for any other reason," was the statement of Mr. Oliver, who went on to say that only by giving the fullest publicity to its affairs could any growers' organization hope to succeed.

Mr. Oliver thought the Associated Growers was doing good work and he pointed out that growers should not expect too much the first year.

It was a big job to sign up 85 per cent. of the growers, and the work entailed in organizing the shipping of such a tonnage meant that many problems had to be solved. By the exercising of patience and giving those elected to positions loyal support the organization would assuredly be a success, he said.

PRAIRIE BUSINESS IS MORE CHEERFUL

Independents Are Cutting Prices and Undermining Markets, Says McDonald.

"There is a decidedly better spirit on the prairies," said B. McDonald, sales manager of the Associated Growers on his return from a business trip a few days ago. "Conditions generally are much improved and business particularly is in a healthier state."

Wealthies, thought Mr. McDonald, would go into consumption fairly well, but the price cutting of independents was seriously undermining the markets to the detriment of the growers.

The fruit business in Alberta was 25 per cent. better than for the same time last year; Saskatchewan was about the same, while Manitoba showed a slump, was the way the sales manager sized up the prairie situation.

"I would not be surprised to see a complete change with Alberta being the low and Manitoba the high province within another month," he added, in commenting on fruit sales.

Americans were trying hard to get a share of the business, but with the Associated's representatives working hard, the visiting salesmen were not doing as well as they had anticipated.

A REAL STORY.

Here is a little story from real life. It came to us the other day, and we think it one of the finest stories ever told.

They had grown old together, he and she—man and wife. They had battled together for years in a little business, all their own. For years she and he had kept a little store in the middle of the block—a little store.

One day she—the "old woman," as he would often speak of her—his comrade, was taken ill. Then she was taken home, and later they hurried her off to the hospital. There she had a nice room—a room that cost all too much for the old man's pocketbook.

After a time this dear old pal recovered, but was never well enough to return to the store.

One night he came home, and she asked: "How was business today?"

The old man stood washing his at the sink, and answered: "Pretty good—pretty good today. But somehow, that store will never be the same without you. I'm sorry you're not strong and well like you used to be, for I miss you so much."

There was a faint flush of a younger color in the old woman's face—for wives only live for the finer sentiment of life, and years only quicken their interest.

One day she started to visit the little store. But it was a long, hard walk for a woman of her age.

On the sidewalk, not far from where the old store stood, she saw him standing with a tray fastened to his shoulders, and on the tray a collection of collar buttons, shoestrings and paper pins.

He had sold the old store to pay the doctors' bills, the hospital bills and other expenses of her illness. Where the little old store had been was a fruit stand.

That night, when he arrived at their little home, she, in her usual cheerful manner, said: "How was business today, William?"

"Business is pickin' up, Jane," was his optimistic reply.

That night they sat where they had grown old together, and each harbored a secret from the other—the brand of secret that spells sacrifice and deeper sentiment.

Old age, like sorrow and solitude, has its revelations. As we grow older, life grows darker, till only one pure light is left shining for us, and that light is—faith.

Jane and William still had this faith in the immortal future. That was all that was left them, but, oh, what priceless possession it was!—Ex.

LADY BUGS FOR CONTROL OF APHIS

This season has been particularly bad for aphis infection throughout the entire Wenatchee-North Central Washington District.

Some growers in the Okanogan purchased quantities of lady bugs early in the spring and turned them loose in the orchards with considerable success. This is a practice which has been followed in some sections for several years.

When the cold weather of fall arrives, the lady bugs generally leave the low altitudes and may be found on the high points of hills and mountains on the leeward side of bluffs or rocks. Frequently they are so thick in such places that they can be shovelled into sacks or boxes by the thousands.

When found in this condition the bugs are inactive and dormant, neither eating nor carrying on bodily functions. They may be kept in this condition as long as they are kept cold, but as soon as they are warmed up they are wild with hunger and will eat anything in sight in the way of their normal food.

On account of this custom of the lady bugs, they are frequently gathered late in the fall and kept frozen till the heat of summer, after the aphis have appeared in quantities in the orchards. If they have been kept in cold storage till June, the long fast has made them particularly hungry and as soon as they are exposed to the warm air of that season they start out to fill up and their inroads on the aphis is a great help in controlling this pest of the fruit grower.

The insects should not be gathered until after frost unless they are immediately placed in cold storage. As long as they are warm they must eat or starve, but in the frozen condition they may be kept for months.

Several growers have signified their intention of going into the hills after harvest and gathering quantities of the insects for next season's use. Different ones living in sections where quantities of them winter have inquired as to the market for lady bugs in quantities.

What would a bushel of lady bugs be worth to you?—Wenatchee Fruit Grower.

Mr. J. M. Frank says—"All imitations are not in vaudeville—many are in everyday life."

THE BUSY TEN DOLLAR BILL

Mr. Brown keeps a boarding house. Around his table sat his wife, Mrs. Brown; the village milliner, Mrs. Andrews; Mr. Black, the baker; Mr. Jordan, a carpenter and Mr. Hadley, a flour, feed and lumber merchant.

Mr. Brown took ten dollars out of his pocket and handed it to Mrs. Brown with the remark that there was ten dollars toward the twenty dollars he had promised her.

Mrs. Brown handed the bill to Mrs. Andrews, the milliner, saying, "That pays for my new bonnet."

Mrs. Andrews in turn passed it to Mr. Jordan, remarking that it would pay for the carpenter work he had done for her.

Mr. Jordan handed it to Mr. Hadley, requesting his receipted bill for lumber.

Mr. Hadley gave the bill back to Mr. Brown, saying, "That pays ten dollars on my board bill."

Mr. Brown again passed it to Mrs. Brown remarking that he had now paid her the twenty dollars he promised her. She in turn paid Mr. Black to settle her bread and pastry account. Mr. Black handed it to Mr. Hadley, asking credit for account on his flour bill.

Mr. Hadley again returned it to Mr. Brown, with the remark that it now settled the balance for that month's board.

Mr. Brown put the bill back in his pocket, observing that he had not supposed a greenback would go so far.

But, suppose Mrs. Brown had sent to the mail order house for her new bonnet, then the $10 would have gone out of town and never come back.

The dollar that goes out of town never comes back, and the money spent at home is used to develop the community and help make improvements. If home trading were discontinued entirely there would be no towns in the country, and even the occasional dollar taken outside hampers the growth of the community.

The Real Reason for A Pretty Skin

Why is it that one girl has a fresh smooth complexion and another a skin which is lifeless, dull and sallow? Is it a gift of nature or some guarded beauty secret?

It is a secret, but an open one in which every woman may share. It consists in knowledge of the care which keeps the skin free from clogging, poisonous accumulations. In the removal every day of all dirt, oil secretions, excess cold cream, powder and rouge.

To do this, use mild soap, massage it thoroughly into your skin and remove with many rinsings. The mildest soap you can choose for this purpose is Palmolive. It contains Palm and Olive oils. These rare oils are the mildest cleansers nature ever produced. They are the oils used by Cleopatra thousands of years ago.

Their combination in Palmolive produces a profuse, creamy lather which penetrates every tiny pore, removes every trace of dirt, oil, rouge and powder and leaves the skin smooth and fresh as a rose.

NELSON BOY DROWNED AT PENTICTON

Washed ashore yesterday morning, the body of Thomas Meredith, drowned at Penticton on Saturday, was given up by the lake after days of fruitless search. Meredith, a lad of seventeen, and his younger sister, Betty, recently moved from Sandon, near Nelson, to Penticton to attend High School.

The two went down to the beach on Saturday afternoon and the boy went off some distance from shore in a canoe and dived into the lake. The high wind blowing off shore quickly carried the craft away from him. For a time Meredith tried to reach the canoe, but, finding that an impossibility, he turned toward the shore, but almost immediately went down. His sister gave the alarm and a crowd quickly gathered and boats were put off in an effort to save him.

Delegates from Summerland were K. S. Hogg and T. A. Walden.

The Council on Tuesday decided to repair the engine with which the water for Paradise Flat is lifted during the winter. The hope was expressed that by another year there would be enough users of electric power to warrant extending the power line in that direction, when an automatic electric pump might be installed.

A beautifully clear atmosphere afforded ideal conditions under which to observe the partial eclipse of the sun which occurred on Monday. Many citizens were out with bits of smoked glass or camera films to watch the progress of the moon across the face of the sun. For many, particularly the younger people, this was the first time they had viewed an eclipse of the sun.

Leo McLaughlin has a three-year old peach tree in his back yard, a seedling, which has attained marvellous size and is producing an excellent quality of fruit. The tree has been well pruned and the fruit thin and of excellent color. The latter is of excellent color, with yellow flesh and frost-tolerant of delicious flavor. The fruit is of good size and Mr. McLaughlin believes he has a superior variety worthy of propagation.

Pupils of the High School listened to an inspiring address by W. C. Kelley last Friday afternoon, when he spoke to them on the subject "How to Study." Mr. Kelley advised the young people to systematize their work, and pointed out that their teachers cannot give them an education, but can only assist them in educating themselves. J. W. S. Logie will be the lecturer on Friday of this week. His subject will be "Arts and Crafts."

The Earl and Countess of Stafford and their two daughters, Lady Mary and Lady Elizabeth Byng, were visitors to the Experimental Farm yesterday, where they spent two hours looking over the Farm under the direction of Geo. W. Johnson. Earl Stafford is an older brother of Byng of Vimy, our Governor-General, and is a member of the Empire Forestry Commission, which recently visited the Coast. The party was greatly interested in the orchard work at the Farm and also in our native timber. They will spend two or three days with Hugh Fraser near Okanagan Falls and will later visit friends at Invermore.

Extra keys for fire hydrants that will be attached to the hydrants will be provided by the municipality if the cost is not too great. The clerk has been instructed to obtain prices. Just now there are one or two hydrants on Shaughnessy Avenue the keys of which have been broken and these will be repaired.

Rev. H. A. Solly and Mrs. Solly motored up to Revelstoke early this week to attend a Deaneys meeting. They took with them as far as Vernon their daughter, Dorothy, and Helen Sutherland, who will attend the girls' school here. Mrs. Solly is attending a trustees' convention in Kelowna today.

Through a typographical error, Coun. Bristow was credited with proposing a resolution with respect to a right-of-way for a roadway through the Rose property. The resolution mentioned was proposed by Coun. Kirk and seconded by Coun. Bristow, the latter explaining that he did not favor the change of road, but had no objection to asking for the information.

D. F. Fisher, United States plant pathologist, stationed at Wenatchee, and originator of oil wraps, and Dr. Charles Brookes, of Washington, D.C., in company with H. R. McLarty, plant pathologist with headquarters at the Experimental Farm here, for some days have been studying orchard conditions in the Valley. They are paying particular attention, it is stated, to the breakdown of the Jonathan. The Dominion government has sent from Ottawa a Mr. Daly, who was here for a few days and left for Salmon Arm this week. He is supervising the picking and handling of Jonathans from trees that were known to have produced apples which caused trouble last year.

Hilton Snider spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Dale and left on Monday for Calgary.

Major E. E. Hutton returned this morning from Vancouver. He went down to the Coast city on Sunday.

It was stated at the Council meeting on Tuesday that the level of the water is dropping and it is thought that the present road will be bared after the irrigation ceases.

An electrically operated freight elevator with capacity of two tons is being installed in the big Co-Operative building. It is expected that the elevator will be ready for use by the end of the week.

A. E. Rose is not prepared to put a price on a right-of-way through his orchard, and in a letter to the Council pointed out that if the situation there was allowed to remain as it is, his and other properties and also sections of road further on would be flooded.

The "Pets Parade" which will be organized during next week will be a feature of the opening day of the Chautauqua, Saturday, September 22. Last year there were many who were disappointed in that they had not attended certain numbers of the program of Chautauqua, not realizing how worth while they were until told of them afterwards. Chautauqua comes but once a year, and although it is in the busy season, every number is well worth the time and cost. Only under the Chautauqua plan could seven such entertainments be provided for $2.50. Individually, each number would probably cost one-half that price.

WILL NOT CHARGE HIGH SCHOOL FEE

High School fees will not be charged Penticton residents, according to a decision reached by the school board of that municipality at a recent session. This decision disposed of a proposal to impose graded fees for High School tuition. Pupils from outside districts, whose families are not living within the municipal limits, will be charged $90 per year each.

Okanagan uses annually between forty and fifty carloads of fruit wrappers.

SUMMERLAND JOINS AUTO ASSOCIATION

(Continued from Page 1) accompanied by Col. Clayton and F. J. Roe, Penticon, a hearty welcome. Col. Clayton referred to the existing rivalry for recognition by the government of the merits of the Fraser River route and that of Hope-Princeton. He said there had been a tacit understanding hitherto between Kamloops and Penticon to abide by the decision of the government and its engineers, but lately Kamloops had broken away from that faith and were now in the heat of a whirlwind campaign for the building of the proposed road by way of Fraser River.

He admitted that injustice had been done some growers when picking was stopped, but added that the growers were to be congratulated that more mistakes were not made.

He explained that Mr. Pratt had sold Macs at $1.75 and later the price dropped to $1.65, but with the market for Jonathans in the States at $1.40 f.o.b., the outlook was not overly bright.

we were frightened that they might be put into some market and break it, stated Mr. Bulman.

In answering Mr. Ricardo about the crabapple estimate, Mr. Bulman admitted that it was unfair the way the deal had worked out, but Central did not know till July 15th how many crabs could be sold, or at least estimated what could be sold.

He explained that Mr. Pratt had sold Macs at $1.75 and later the price dropped to $1.65, but with the market for Jonathans in the States at $1.40 f.o.b., the outlook was not overly bright.

Col. Vernon voiced his objection to the tone of the circular in which it was stated that the growers were not backing up Central.

To this Mr. Bulman replied that the Central was working on the principle of getting one variety out of the way before another came on. The pooling according to sizes, he continued, was being done in the best judgment of the executive to give the growers a square deal.

"We must give the Associated more support than is evidenced here tonight," was the declaration of J. T. Nutrie, near the close of the meeting.

"If the independents are making trouble: give every publicity to the fact," was his declaration. "Let the growers know about their actions; I know they have sent out offers for stuff which they didn't have. Public opinion must be aroused on this question. It is the old story over again; are we going to damn this organization before it has got started," was his parting remark before he urged that the light of day should be let in on what is going on.

A short discussion followed on Jonathans, and it was explained that Central was working on a scheme where the breakdown could be traced back to the grower.

Mr. F. J. Elkins followed with an instructive array of data in which the association played a prominent part for the benefit of the Province in general, and motorists in particular. He said that at the U. S. port of Blaine, no less than 9,688 tourist cars entered Canada in the month of July, whilst for August 9,885 were checked. This aggregate was irrespective of cars entering British Columbia at Sumas, Aldergrove and other points up and down the line. 50,000 passengers visiting Vancouver through one port alone gave an idea of the expanding traffic.

PRESIDENT HOWE IS OPTIMISTIC (Continued from Page One) the late general manager had said that he had misjudged Mr. McDonald and that after having a talk with him (Mr. McDonald) everything was all right. In Mr. Stewart, the Associated had a careful wife, and busy man, said the speaker. The organization has not been weakened by Mr. Pratt going.

PRE-COOLING IS FAVORED (Continued from Page 1) cold storage purposes as well. The space occupied was the material difference, as the machinery required was practically the same. It takes the same amount of cooling energy to reduce the temperature of warm fruit ready for shipping as it does to hold the fruit at the right temperature for a long period when it is once cooled. To his mind, however, it is a question whether the growers require cold storage at the point of packing, and he did not think it advisable for them to go into the construction of cold storage plants in the markets where their fruit is sold.

NIGHT SCHOOL IS OUTLINED BY MEETING

Citizens Confer with Board and Outline Courses—New Ones Probable.

At the invitation of the School Board, Miss V. Jones, Mrs. Amm, Messrs. R. Pollock, F. J. Nixon, J. W. S. Logie, Alex. Steven and H. W. Harvey met with the Board Wednesday night and made preliminary arrangements for the night school to be held this winter. There will be classes in a commercial course, manual training, physical culture, domestic science, arts and crafts, and probably in first aid and in home nursing.

Messrs. Steven and Pollock, for the commercial course, suggested making a division, if enrollment permitted, into advanced and elementary grades. This would apply in the three branches, bookkeeping, shorthand and commercial arithmetic. Mr. Pollock would like to see a special course for farmers in simple bookkeeping, land measurement, etc., such course to commence after Christmas.

Mr. Harvey said there would be two kinds of students enroll for manual training and he would divide the class accordingly. The one would have in view carpentry as a trade, and the other, finer work or "cabinet making" as a hobby.

Miss Jones pointed out that a piano is absolutely essential in a physical culture course. She would give one hour in practical work and the other hour per night in theory, such as elementary physiology, hygiene, etc.

Mr. Logie outlined a possible program for the arts and crafts. In every case the class would be divided into advanced and elementary sections. The elementary division in pottery would take up the preparation of clays and modelling, while the advanced undertook "throwing on the wheel," glazing and firing. This part of the course would be completed by Christmas. After the New Year color and design, including archaeological and Indian designs. The term would then be finished out with basketry.

Domestic science, would not be started until after Christmas, as Mrs. Amm pointed out that the packing season would extend almost to that time.

Courses were proposed in first aid and in home nursing.

In order to get the government grant for the night school there must be a minimum average attendance of 10 per cent, and the instructors must teach at least two hours two nights a week.

Definite announcements will be made in these columns next week, when the date for enrollment and courses offered will be fixed. As last year, fees will be $5 per subject. This was the lowest fee in the Valley last year.

AIKINS GOES TO SEATTLE

Accepts Important Post as Director of American School of the Theatre.

It is with interest that we learn that the Cornish School of the Theatre, Seattle, has secured the services of Mr. Carroll Aikins as director for their winter season. In this important position Mr. Aikins follows the well-known Anglo-American director, Mr. Maurice Brown, and he will conduct a school for young Canadian actors, which have made the Cornish School famous both in the professional and artistic world.

Mr. Aikins wishes to have it understood that he will continue his directorship of the Canadian Players, who, since their foundation three years ago by himself and Mrs. Aikins, have received such widespread support. An adequate endowment is being solicited to maintain The Home Theatre as a school for young Canadian actors, and Mr. and Mrs. Aikins will return to Naramata in April of next year to continue this branch of their work on a larger scale.

Mr. and Mrs. Aikins left Naramata on Monday last by motor for Seattle.

SAMPLES OF NUTS ARE REQUIRED

J. U. Gellatly, who has been taking a lively interest in nut growing in the Okanagan, has been requested by Professor Neilson, of Vineland Experimental Station, Ontario, to collect an exhibition of the nuts grown in the Okanagan; this collection to form part of an exhibition going to the Northern Nut Growers' Convention at Washington, D.C., early in October.

Mr. Gellatly will not have the time to visit the individual growers and he has asked The Review to request any of its readers who are growing nuts to send samples to him. Mr. Gellatly requires twelve nuts from the best tree of any one variety. At the same time, growers should have definite record of the tree producing the nuts submitted and should forward name and address to Mr. Gellatly along with the nuts. One of the objects is to learn the whereabouts of trees that produce the nuts that shall be judged worthy of propagation.

ASSOCIATED APPEALS TO ALL GROWERS

Says Difficulty of Marketing at Fair Prices Fault of Independents.

In a letter to the press the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Limited, states in part:

"We are finding independent shippers very troublesome in our endeavor to maintain prices on the markets and as the prospects for being able to market our crop to advantage are improving, it is very discouraging to have this competition."

Accompanying the letter is the following bulletin, which is being published at the request of the Associated:

"There seems to be an unusual amount of pessimism among the growers and others as to prices which will be received for the crop this year. Pessimism, however, will not increase the prices but it may have a depressing effect upon them.

Marketing our crops is just as much the problem of the growers as is the production of the crop and the growers are entitled to know what is going on from day to day in the markets in which their fruit is sold. The two factors to be considered in marketing are the producer and the consumer, and there is a continuous warfare being carried on between the producer and the consumer by the jobbers and retailers. Their effort at all times is to get the price up for the consumer and down for the producer.

The independent shippers furnish the means to destroy the prices of the producer and many still insist on supplying the ammunition to carry on the warfare in which they only will suffer. All the other factors in the struggle are protecting themselves, taking advantage of conditions to make profit and are growing rich on the foolishness of the selfish grower.

If it is possible, imagine the world war being conducted as the growers of this Valley are (even in the face of the reverses suffered last year) carrying on their war to obtain justice from the markets.

A large section organizes and with officers of the best selection possible, plan a campaign, then several smaller units of growers place themselves at the disposal of other officers to upset and destroy this carefully planned campaign and because of the plunder obtained by this independent (Continued on Page 6)

BRITISH APPLE MARKET BRIGHT

Disappointingly poor fruit crops, the poorest in years, in Britain will give Canadian apples a good opening on the British markets. A British importer is quoted as saying that a much better price will be obtained for Canadian fruit than last season. There will be no good English dessert apples on the market after October, and Canadian fruit will have none but American competition for at least three months.

INDEPENDENTS ARE SPOILING THE MARKETS

Calgary Jobbers Complain Rowcliffe Is Under-selling The Associated.

Calgary, Alberta, September 19th. Associated Growers, Vernon, B. C. Rowcliffe booked up five cars McIntosh for south Calgary to retail fall trade. Distributing to several merchants in one town on basis of dollar forty for fancy, dollar for crates. Investigating other territories and if same conditions prevailing will be forced to cancel our order for McIntosh, except at reduced prices at which we can make reasonable profit.

Same shipper and other independent shippers quoting Winters, mixed cars at dollar quarter for fancy, wrapped stock, dollar for crates. These prices also going direct to retail trade. Looks like bad market for apples this year. Fear we will have to direct our efforts moving other lines rather than apples unless you can cope with situation in some way. (Sgd.) Plunkett & Savage.

The above is a copy of a telegram received yesterday at Vernon and passed along to the Review with the request that it be published.

Ths. Bulman, vice-president of the Associated, commenting on the telegram, stated that the prices of the Associated Growers, f.o.b. shipping point are: McIntosh Extra Fancy, $1.75; McIntosh Fancy, $1.45; McIntosh crates, $1.00. Assorted mixed winter varieties, $1.35. These are wholesale prices at point of shipment, Mr. Bulman pointed out, while figures given in the telegram indicate that some independent shippers are going direct to the retail trade with considerably lower prices.

Whale meat, canned in British Columbia this season will all be shipped to England, where it has been sold in advance. Whales are reported to be more plentiful on the Northern Pacific coast this year and the market for both meat and oil much improved.

FINE DISPLAY BRINGS PRAISE

Okanagan Exhibit at New Westminster Outstanding Feature.

In its report on the New Westminster fair, Farm and Home makes a special mention of the splendid exhibit staged by the Associated, and pays a tribute to the fruit growers of the Okanagan.

Farm and Home states: "The Associated Growers of B. C. staged a most attractive display of fruits in the agricultural building, arranged by D. MacFarland, Kelowna. As befits the great co-operative organization which embraces every part of the province famed for fruit production, the exhibition was wonderfully complete and admiration compelling, both by reason of the quality of the produce and its artistic showing. The pack all through was commercial, and the highest example of the packer's art. The apples included McIntosh Red, just being picked, Wealthy, Gravenstohli, Cox Orange and Joffries. Flemish Beauty and Bartlett pears made a fine display; and crabs were worthily represented by splendid Hyslops. In plums the selection comprised Italian Prunes, Black Diamond, Burbank, Yellow Egg, Climax and English Damsel—all of the very best. Other products, chiefly from the Okanagan and Salmon Arm district, included cantaloupes, tomatoes, green peppers, table and pickling onions, and egg plants. All told, 200 boxes of the finest fruit B. C. ever produced were utilized in the display, and replenishments were made daily, or as necessary to ensure the whole being in the very best condition throughout the week of the exhibition. It was one of the most genuinely and widely admired displays in a building crowded with outstanding produce, and the packing and arrangements served as a practical demonstration to many keenly interested growers, as well as impressing housewives and visitors."

PRATT IS SELLING ELEPHANT BRAND

A. H. Pratt, for a short time manager of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, is now sales manager of the Elephant orchards of Redlands, California, with houses in other southern California orange centres. Prior to coming to British Columbia, Mr. Pratt was for many years sales manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors. It is stated that he is drawing the same salary in his new position as he did with the Associated.

BIG SLIDE ON NORTH LAKESHORE ROAD

Another big slide has occurred north of Crescent Beach at the point where the big slide came down about two years ago below the McDougald property. Previous to the big fall a small volume of earth had come down on to the road and the road men had gone out from here to clear it. Noticing the condition of the cliff above, they decided that there was imminent danger of another slide, and while they stood considering the situation, an enormous piece of the cliff broke away, burying the road to a great depth. It will require some days work to clear the highway of traffic, which in the meantime has been closed to all travel beyond Crescent Beach.

CHAUTAQUA ON SATURDAY

Fine Program for Initial Performance at the Empire Hall Saturday.

Chautauqua 1923 program is described as of very high order throughout and worth much more than the price asked for the season ticket. It will be a misfortune to miss any one of the seven numbers.

Davis, the man of magic, gives a wonderful program. Boys and girls who want to have a lot of fun should be right up in the front seats, because he will take some of you up on the platform to help. He will put a guinea pig in a paper bag and hand it to you, but when you open the bag, the guinea pig won't be there. There will be all kinds of laughs for you all.

The Swiss yodlers have come all the way from Switzerland. They wear the costumes of their country and are the best yodling company on the circuit. Mrs. Flecht and her daughter, Anna Flecht, give an imitation of a mountain echo in Switzerland. They yodel to each other, one staying in the hall and the other several blocks away. Mr. Weisflich accompanies them on the sither, which is the Swiss national musical instrument.

The Eller-Willoughby orchestra will be a treat for all real music-lovers. Miss Eller, the violin soloist, is an artist of the highest order, and she and the whole company made a wonderful reputation in Western Canada last year.

Glaude Schell, the tenor soloist, is a pupil of Witherspoons in New York. As for the lecturer, J. Franklin Babb, he was the most popular speaker this summer in every town on the Eastern six-day circuit.

You can't afford to miss any of these programs.

NATION-WIDE APPEAL FOR SUFFERERS

Local Red Cross Will Assist Fund with Tag Days at Chautauqua.

At the request of the Dominion Government, the Red Cross Society has undertaken to raise a nation wide relief fund for the sufferers of the recent terrible disaster in Japan, which the latest official reports show to be without precedent in the world's history. Every country in the world is responding to the call for help, and it will require their united efforts to assist adequately in caring for the homeless and destitute, of whom there are considerably over a million.

The British Columbia branch of the Red Cross took immediate steps to send relief, as soon as the disaster became known, and a large consignment of tinned and powdered milk went forward on the "Empress of Russia." The Division has also sent its Director of Nursing and a staff to assist in caring for the sick and injured, and they will remain as long as their services are needed.

The children in the schools, through the Junior Red Cross, are raising a fund for the Japanese children, and there is scarcely a child who will not want to make some little sacrifice to help these unfortunate little ones.

The mayors and Reeves throughout the Province have been asked for their support and co-operation in raising funds, and the Red Cross appeals to every citizen of British Columbia to contribute. Where there is a local Red Cross campaign subscribers are asked to hand their donations to the local relief committee. It is not possible to cover every district in the Province by these means, and residents of rural communities are asked to send their contributions in direct to the British Columbia Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, 626 Pender Street West, Vancouver, B. C., or hand them to the Government agent. All donations will be promptly acknowledged. (Continued on Page 2)

TO MAINTAIN LAKE LEVEL

Meeting Resolves to Petition Government to Improve Okanagan River.

That so far as possible the level of Okanagan Lake be maintained between the limits of 99.5 and 102 foot elevation and that the Dominion government be requested to so improve Okanagan River as to permit the lake level limits noted above to be given effect, is the substance of two resolutions unanimously adopted at a meeting of interests concerned with the levels of the lake, which was held on Thursday evening in Penticton.

B. Brydono-Jack, of Victoria, Dominion and Provincial officials present Canada occupied the chair, and there were a number of other Dominion and Provincial officials present. The C.P.R. and K.V.R. were also well represented. Summerland, Kelowna, and Penticton municipalities were represented by municipal officials and citizens. Those attending from Summerland were Roevo Campbell, M. Tait and W. Vorty.

Kelowna favored a lower high water level, while the C.P.R. was opposed to lower low water levels. General satisfaction was expressed in the manner in which the water had been controlled since 1921.

PIANO RECITAL AT ST. ANDREW'S

There will be many Summerland people who will be delighted to learn that they are to have the opportunity to hear Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith during their brief stay at the home of Mr. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith. Mr. Smith is well up in his profession as a pianist, and his wife was, before her marriage, a professional singer. They will give a recital in St. Andrew's church tomorrow night as announced in another column.

"ARTS AND CRAFTS" SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Mr. Jack Logie gave a most interesting and stimulating address to the students in the High School on Friday last, his subject being "Arts and Crafts." Mr. Logie stressed the value of handicraft work for young people as a source of both emolument and pleasure. He foreshadowed great activity in the immediate future in such diverse crafts as pottery making, basket weaving, decorative pottery, candying fruit and Indian work, and hoped High School students would interest themselves in the various movements and classes when formed. Capable lecturers and instructors would be on hand to stimulate interest and give practical help. Mr. Leslie Gould and Miss F. Campbell thanked the lecturer heartily for his able address.

Following the example of Summerland, Penticton will have a branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia.

SUMMARY OF VALLEY AND LOCAL CROPS

W. T. Hunter in Final Bulletin for Year Corrects Previous Estimates.

W. T. Hunter has issued the following summary of crop conditions in the Okanagan district:

With the prevailing hot days and cool nights, all fruit is now coloring fast. Where good moisture conditions have been lacking, or where over thinning methods have been practiced, Jonathan apples and some of the later varieties, are not sizing as well as was expected from the growth conditions earlier in the season.

As an indication at this date of the condition of the apple crop of the various districts throughout the Okanagan Valley, the following percentage estimate, in comparison with previous estimates is published.

On account of heavy hail damage there will be a decrease of at least 20 per cent. in the Armstrong district, and if none of the hailed fruit is moved out in crates, the percentage will probably be greater.

In the Vernon district it is estimated there will be a decrease of approximately 12 per cent, caused chiefly by Scab and "internal browning" in the McIntosh.

The district of Kelowna reports a possible decrease of 15 per cent. from previous estimates, due to lack of sizing in the Jonathans, and post injury to this and other varieties.

Penticton and Keremeos districts report approximately a 10 per cent. decrease from previous estimates, chiefly on account of post injury.

On account of lack of sizing in the Jonathans, there will be an approximate decrease of 10 per cent. in the Okanagan Centre and Winfield district.

Owing to the unavoidable absence on urgent departmental duties of the official in charge of the Salmon Arm and Main Line points, no reliable report is available covering those points.

The only summer apples have apparently dropped below the first estimates, but from the information that is to hand at the present time, Wealthy will run very closely to the figures given in the first estimates, excepting in isolated instances where Scab or hail caused considerable damage.

The prune crop appears to be holding up to earlier estimates, and if all are shipped there may possibly be a slight increase when the season is finished. Stone fruits in the Vernon districts are practically cleaned up, and from this on apples will be moving in heavy volume.

Vegetable crops are maturing rapidly, and from all available information, the tonnage of winter potatoes will be considerably under the crop produced for several years. The same applies to the onion tonnage. The bulbs of this vegetable are maturing fast, and harvesting is becoming general in the more favored locations.

Note.—The above issue will be the final one of the 1923 weekly news letter, but should occasion arise a special edition will be published.

EXPLAINING REASON FOR CRAB SLUMP

Associated Take Growers into Confidence and Suggest Future Remedy.

Under date of September 14th, the Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd., sent The Review the following summary of the transcendent crab-apple situation:

The market confronting the sale of crab-apples this year has been unprecedented and on that account very difficult to foresee the conditions that now prevail.

In previous years it has always been possible to market about forty cars on the United States markets, some of which found their way to jam factories. This year four cars were sold and more could not be disposed of at an f.o.b. delivered price. Our brokerage arrangements in the United States cover twenty-five hundred points, all of which were communicated with and asked to make a special effort to place some of our output of transcendent crabs, but only five cars were sold, and on one of these we have been unable to get the consignee to accept delivery. The balance of the cars rolling on the United States markets have been found impossible to place either there or in Western Canada, and the jobbing trade do not want to handle them even on commission, which indicates the difficulty of marketing crab-apples this year.

On August 8th the following instructions were issued by the sales department: "Transcendent Crab-apples. 'Fancy' grade must be yellow or showing fair color for the variety. Minimum size, 1 1/4 inches. 'C' grade, no color requirements. Minimum size, 1 inch diameter. 'As it is, always very difficult to find a profitable market for small uncolored crabs, therefore we advise that not over 10 per cent. of these be packed."

On August 16th, the following information was sent to all locals: "We have a very difficult situation ahead of us with this particular variety. The total estimate of 120 cars is far in excess of what our American markets, as well as our prairie markets will consume with a fair return to the growers. It is going to be necessary to dump—or in other words 'not pick,' a fair percentage of this transcendent tonnage, consequently YOU MUST INSTRUCT YOUR GROWERS TO PICK AND DELIVER ONLY CRABAPPLES THAT WILL PACK 'FANCY.'"

"CEASE ABSOLUTELY PACKING ANY MORE 'C' GRADE CRABAPPLES. Instruct your growers that they must let their crabapples contain some color before picking. There is no sense in placing these crabapples on the market green, as is being done at the present time—we are only retarding sales."

ROAD FOREMAN IS INJURED

Struck by Fragment of Debris Whilst Blasting on Highway.

J. C. Arkoll, local provincial road foreman, suffered severe injuries to his left hand and a laceration wound on the left thigh Tuesday about one thirty. He and his men were busy clearing the road at Mellor's of some fallen earth, which included a big stump and in order to remove the latter they were using stumping powder. The charge was set and the fuse fired and he and another of the men were about two hundred yards away when the explosion occurred. Instantly Mr. Arkoll's hand, which was hanging by his side, was struck by a piece of flying wood and a bone leading to the third finger was broken and the fourth finger almost severed. He was taken to the hospital, where the hand was X-rayed and treated. He will be able to attend to the work after another day or two.

Editorial

WILLINGNESS TO TAKE ADVICE IS SOMETIMES BEING GREATER THAN HE WHO GIVES IT

CUTTING APPLE PRICES.

It is very disquieting news on the marketing of the Okanagan apple crop which is contained in the telegram published in another column at the request of the Associated Growers. Opening prices quoted by the Associated were disappointingly low to begin with. According to prairie reports, confirmed by the bulletin issued by the prairie markets commissioner, there are very few American apples on the prairie market. Presumably they have been crowded off by the low price at which British Columbia apples are being offered and there are not a few who are inclined to feel that the prices quoted by the Associated have been unnecessarily low; that the wholesalers, through their buying houses, which act as brokers for the Associated, have succeeded in inducing unnecessarily low prices.

Whatever the reason, the prices quoted by the growers' organization are already so low as to leave little or no profit to the grower and, if the facts are as stated in the telegram, and Okanagan fruit is being used to break the already low prices fixed by the Growers, there is sure to be keen and bitter resentment.

The growers started out this spring to put themselves in a position to be able to control the fruit output of this province. Apparently the work has not been completed.

HELP MARKET OUR APPLES.

No matter what your occupation, you are, as a resident of the Okanagan Valley, vitally concerned in the successful marketing of the fruit crop. An expanding market at reasonable prices would mean more money for every resident of the Okanagan.

One of the methods adopted to obtain wider sales and more publicity is to have each individual advertise Okanagan apples with every letterhead, envelope, etc., he sends out. The Review has been supplied with cuts specially designed for the purpose. Your present stationery can be printed with these at small cost, or any new stationery ordered can be printed with the slogan at no additional cost. Here is a design which you are asked to use on your stationery.

Another is in two colors, red and green, with a picture of an apple with the words: "Eat More B. C. Fruit." These are very effective and the work is being done by the job department of this publication at the smallest possible prices.

THE "BROWN CORE" BREAKDOWN.

"Brown core," which caused growers of Jonathans such heavy loss last year, is showing up again in different parts of the Valley and this year is found to a serious extent in McIntosh, particularly in centres north of here. It is stated that the trouble develops in the fruit of trees grown in impoverished soil and it is evident that wrong cultural methods are responsible, but just now it is not the cause of the "brown core" which demands immediate attention, but rather that some effective and, if necessary, drastic action be taken to prevent the mixing of the fruit affected with sound apples and thus opening the way for heavy claims which will result in losses to the producers of good fruit.

It is stated that trees producing the brown core apples are easily detected by the fact that they have dropped a number of the apples.

Honest growers are either leaving those on the trees or are shaking them off and allowing them to remain on the ground for the time, but there are some who will attempt to market them and against these growers who are bringing in sound fruit should be protected.

It is officially stated that the Associated is endeavoring to keep the wrapped fruit entirely clear of brown core and only slightly less precaution will be taken with crated fruit.

Analysis of the white clay deposits at Williams Lake shows that the composition is much like those of Bendorf on Rhine, Germany, which are used in making fine white porcelain.

EXPLAINING REASON FOR CRAB SLUMP

cial circular to local managers, as follows:

"Re packing of Transcendents.
"Confirming our instructions by phone, please stop picking Transcendent crabapples until further instructed.

"We have upwards of twenty cars not shipped and movement slow, therefore, think it advisable to clean up before resuming picking.

"Had crabapples been in all cases left unpicked till ready this action would probably have been unnecessary, but many cars of Transcendents have been going out poorly graded and in immature condition, thus causing dissatisfaction to the trade and crowding too many on the market at once.

"Closer attention of our local managers to receiving only fruit in proper condition would assist the sales department in making quick sales."

On August 21st, the following summary of the crab situation was sent to all locals:

"Transcendent crabapples. This will cancel all previous instructions, with the exception that locals will pack Fancy stock only, which must contain some degree of color and be of uniform size.

"To date we have sold and shipped twenty carloads of Transcendents at 90 cents to $1.00 per box, mainly $1.00. We have ten cars rolling to the U.S. markets, which, judging from information before us, will sell on the basis of 75-90 cents f.o.b. point of shipment, and even these prices are not guaranteed against further decline. We estimate there should be another 30-40 carloads used on our prairie markets, and there may be a similar quantity disposed of in the American markets at around 75 cents or better. This, if it materializes, will make a total sale of about 90 cars, whereas our estimates show 129 cars.

"Under the circumstances you will have to use your own judgment as to picking or otherwise. However, should you allow your growers to proceed with picking we would strongly suggest that the crabapples be held in the picking boxes in your basement or some similar cool place.

"The above instruction from your selling organization seem imperative and are based on the fact of the many wild rumors to the effect that the locals are not being fully advised on the market conditions. It is also in keeping with the rumors of many growers to the effect that they do not approve of "red ink" on any of their crop. We are, therefore, passing this information along so that if any growers or locals insist upon their fruits of any lines being shipped, which forces consignment, they may then expect to suffer the consequences."

To date we have sold about 77 cars of Transcendent crabs, which is approximately sixty per cent. of the estimate. It is undoubtedly a hardship for growers who have crabs coming on later than other districts to find the markets satisfied, yet if they had been picked and forced on the market they would be not only losers of the picking and hauling charges to the packing houses, but also a proportion of the loss that would have resulted in the crab pool.

The executive of the Associated Growers have been and are still considering the question of including all crabs picked and unpicked in the pool, so as to deal equitably with all growers and it may be of interest to the growers to know that last year approximately 30,080 boxes of Transcendent crabs were shipped to points in Canada and 30,800 boxes were shipped to the United States; both of these amounts were shipped largely on the consignment basis, and 50 per cent. of the shipments returned an additional loss to the loss of the fruit of 3 cents per box on No. 1 quality and 1 1/4 cents per box on No. 2 quality, while this year the Associated have sold, f.o.b. shipping points, 35,770 boxes to Canadian points, and 3,200 boxes to the United States, all of which brought from 75 cents to $1.00 per box, and to the United States only we have had to place on consignment, 10,000 boxes. These having met with poor results it was decided to stop picking, which has no doubt saved the growers considerable money that would have been wasted under shipping conditions such as prevailed last year.

There has been evidence this year through the lack of co-operation of growers and local inspection much fruit of a quality that neither assisted distribution nor invited consumption, got onto the market and along with our production in excess of market requirements was a factor in the preventing of obtaining the best results. This, no doubt, will be corrected in another season and growers who have crab orchards in very late districts or that do not produce high class quality of crabs would be well advised to top work the trees or replant to varieties more certain of returning better results.

NATION-WIDE APPEAL FOR SUFFERERS

If it should be decided to purchase relief supplies with the money raised, or even a portion of it, such supplies will be purchased in British Columbia and forwarded from Vancouver.

The Japanese Consul advises that clothing is badly needed, particularly underwear and towels. The Red Cross requests that only new clothing or garments in excellent conditions be sent in, as only such will be forwarded.

There being no Red Cross organization in Summerland at present, the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary have undertaken to open a fund for the relief of the Japanese and to forward the money to the Red Cross at Vancouver. Tags will be sold at all the Chautauqua meetings and it is hoped that the ladies will be met with a generous response for this worthy object. Anyone wishing to send in donations of money may do so to any of the following: Mrs. H. A. Solly, Mrs. F. W. Andrew or Mrs. G. H. Inglis.

Following are the names of the members of the Auxiliary who have undertaken to sell tags at the Chautauqua: Saturday night, Mrs. Andrew, Mrs. Lipsett; Monday afternoon, Mrs. Stark, Mrs. Walden; Monday evening, Mrs. Lipsett, Mrs. Andrew; Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Stark, Mrs. Walden; Tuesday evening, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. W. Inglis; Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Leslie, Mrs. Ross; Wednesday evening, Mrs. Solly, Mrs. Pares.

SHORTER SEASON—BAG LIMIT BIGGER

Pheasant Season Reduced Six Days—Fifteen Birds is the Limit.

A number of amendments to the Game Regulations appear in "The British Columbia Gazette." The only changes directly affecting Okanagan sportsmen are in regard to pheasants and quail.

The open season for pheasants is shortened six days, the dates now being from October 20th to November 11th inclusive, instead of to November 17th. As a measure of compensation, apparently, the seasonal bag limit is increased from 12 to 15 birds. The seasonal bag limit for quail is raised from 50 to 100 birds.

MEMBER ENDORSES SCHOLARSHIPS

J. W. Jones, M.L.A., whose name was included among those published last week who have promised to contribute to the High School Scholarship fund, wrote the principal as follows:

"Dear Mr. Lundie:
In reply to your favor of the 8th I will be delighted to contribute the sum of five dollars to your Scholarship fund.

I noticed an account of what you were starting in last week's Review and I thought if all the school districts which have High Schools would only follow suit, there would be an additional impetus to the studies of our young people.

With best wishes for success, I am
Yours truly,
J. W. Jones."

Alberta newspapers credit British Columbia with having made thirty-five million dollars in the tourist business last year. The following comparison is made by one of these newspapers:

"Alberta is far behind British Columbia in road policy and the Pacific province is keenly alive to the value of its highways system and the resulting profits from tourist traffic."

Chestnut Charley says—"Chickens in the car have wrecked a lot more autos than chickens in the road."

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

The ladies of the Orange Association held their regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening in the Municipal Hall, with a goodly number of members present.

Mrs. William Douglas was an outgoing passenger on Thursday morning for a short stay out of town.

Fruit Inspector Hamilton paid the local Union an official visit last week. J. Tait, fruit pests inspector, was also a visitor in the community last week.

Peachland Women's Institute held its fall opening meeting in the Municipal Hall on Friday with about forty members present. The principal business was the making of arrangements for the flower show and fruit exhibit to be held on October 3rd.

The executive regret that arrangements can not be made this year for a school section exhibit. Mrs. Bulve favored the gathering with a variety of tea. The executive served a variety tea, each member supplying her own culinary specialty.

R. A. F. Moore and son, Jack, of Penticton, were in town on Friday, having motored up.

Several hunters have been on the job since early Saturday morning, but so far no reports have come in of any horns being brought down. A few grouse have been bagged, however.

Mrs. H. E. McCall is enjoying a visit from her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. K. Sharp, of Caistorville, Ont., who has been visiting at her native home in the Chilliwack Valley and at other Coast points, and is on her way East, and came K.V.R. to West Summerland, where Mr. McCall met her by auto. She is very much interested in her trip through this part of the country, her husband, Rev. A. K. Sharp, having travelled through the Valley on horseback some thirty odd years ago, when he was stationed at Keremeos. There were no autos in these parts at that time, and many miles of the valley were not supplied with wagon roads.

Rev. H. A. Solly, Summerland, conducted the regular service in St. Margaret's church on Sunday.

Rev. Isaac Page, accompanied by some of his Penticton friends, and Gilbert Thornber, of Summerland, motored up for the regular service in the Baptist church on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Thornber assisted Mr. Page in the service.

Mrs. Dorland returned home on Friday morning after visiting friends at Vancouver for several weeks. She came by K. V. R. to Summerland and was met there by her son, Hugh, and brother, Mr. J. E. Kerr.

A. J. Mackenzie and Hugh Williams motored to Vernon and back on Friday on a business trip.

George Jones received bad news by wire last week from his son in Saskatchewan. It told of a fire which destroyed their barn with a team of horses and three granaries. The cause of the fire and other particulars were not mentioned and Mr. Jones does not know whether there was any grain destroyed, and is anxiously awaiting further particulars. The loss even as stated by wire was a heavy one, being only partially covered by insurance.

NARAMATA NEWS

Current Events of Town and District

Miss Rushbury arrived from Vancouver on Monday for a short stay with her parents.

Mr. Hancock journeyed to Hedley on Saturday, returning on Monday with Mrs. Hancock, who has been visiting there for a week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Aikins left last week for Seattle, where they expect to stay for a time. The orchard is in charge of Duncan Munro.

Mrs. Morley has been visiting at the Languedoc ranch for a few days.

Mrs. Loveday and daughter, Joan, went across to Summerland on Thursday, when the latter had her tonsils taken out by Dr. Andrew.

Rev. J. C. Wilson, retired Methodist minister of Toronto, with his daughter, Mrs. Hudson, have been staying with Mr. and Mrs. King, leaving on Wednesday morning. Mr. Wilson preached at a special service on Sunday evening.

We are informed that the invitation corn roast at Miller's Point was given by the Girl Guides and not by the C.G.I.T., as reported last week.

Bear tracks have been in evidence on the Languedoc ranch lately. It is not known whether Bruin is after apples or honey.

Saturday's rain left Naramata considerably disappointed, there being a great deal more promise than performance. A heavy downpour would be welcome, irrigation having practically ceased for some time.

NARAMATA SCOUTS

On Wednesday, September the 12th, there was a full meeting of Wolf Cubs. Those who had finished their Tenderpad were taken in various other sections of the work, while the remainder worked and tussled with the jingle dance, the last section of the badge before investiture.

The meeting on Friday commenced at 7 p.m., with the full number of Scouts present. The whole of the time was devoted to ambulance work on the 1st class badge, some being carriers and other passing the tests. The Scout Council were present at the meeting and held an informal discussion afterwards. A short Court of Honor meeting was held at the close.

Monday night was a night to be remembered. The usual work was taken up and then all the Scouts were lined up and the following badges were issued: First Class, Stanley Allen, Eric Rayner, Howard Routh, and Robert Horswill; Ambulance, Eric Rayner and Howard Routh; Interpreter's, Stanley Allen and Eric Rayner; Horseman's, Stanley Allen; also Service Stars to all. The Scoutmaster announced that all badges in the future would be issued free instead of the former charge being made. The Scouts also wish to express their regret that their Scoutmaster has to leave them to go to the University. A.S.M. Leslie Smith will be in charge for the winter. We still hope to make a good try for the shield.

The result of the patrol competition were announced and it was found that the Coyote Patrol were in the lead by three points.

The winners of the competition were invited to the home of the S.M. for tea on Tuesday evening. After a bountiful supper, games were indulged in till nine o'clock, when the party dispersed.

A note from the Scoutmaster—This was certainly a hard fight for supremacy, and the Owls are to be congratulated on the work they have done. Worthy of mention in signalling is Robert Horswill, who, in his 1st Class test made a record of 40 letters per minute. Well done, Bob!

The S.M. also appreciates the faithfulness of the boys that were under his charge during the summer and is looking forward to a speedy return, when he will again proceed with the work, which will be carried on well in his absence by the A.S.M. A NARAMATA SCOUT.

OKANAGAN-CALIFORNIA HIGHWAY

Would Be Open Twelve Months of the Year.

While there is now an excellent highway along the Coast from Vancouver to the Mexican border, it is pointed out that it is a summer road as there are places along the route impracticable for motor traffic during the winter. A movement has been outlined by Samuel Hill, a good roads advocate of Washington State, to provide an "everyday highway" between British Columbia and California.

Mr. Hill has stated the tentative route would be from Oroville down Okanagan Valley to Wonatchee; south along the Columbia river to Vantage Ferry; south to Sunnyside; south to Goldendale; south to Columbia river, where it is proposed to build a bridge to connect the road with central Oregon highways, through Bond and Klamath Falls and to Redding, Cal.

The Oregon end of the road already is complete and is drawing heavy tourist travel this year. It is known in Oregon as the California-Banff "boo-lno" highway, but turns east at the Columbia River to Pendleton and north via Walla Walla to Spokane. It is planned to ask the 1925 Washington legislature to appropriate $500,000 to build the bridge across the Columbia, with Oregon sharing the expense.

Because of natural climatic conditions, Mr. Hill declared, the road would be open throughout the entire year, hence the fitness of the name decided upon—The Everyday Highway. The road is already open through Washington, along the proposed route, but, of course, would require considerable improvement.

Our Poor-Try. There's naught so irritating, Naught 'neath a lonesome star; As to meet an age-old pennut, In a brand-new pennut bar.

HELPFUL HINTS

By A. Leda

Snappers on Curtains.—If one wishes to save laundry bills, trouble, and have curtains stay clean, sew a snapper at each side on the lower part of the curtains. Then sew the corresponding fastener about eighteen inches from the top of the curtains. At night just snap them up and they will not be soiled blowing against screens, etc.

Quick Hanger.—In an emergency a newspaper rolled up tight and tied in the center with a loop to hang up by makes a good substitute for a dress hanger.

Meat.—Did you know that paper absorbs juice? Well, it does, therefore always remove any before putting your meat away.

Cooking Eggs.—A spoonful of flour added to the grease in which eggs are to be fried will prevent them from sticking as well as breaking.

Cleaning Parchment Lamp Shades.—If one wishes to clean their parchment lamp shades, take any good polishing cream and put it in a soft cloth. Rub a small part of the shade and then rub off with a moist cloth. Repeat this until the shade has been gone over. You will find that your shade remains clean for a long while.

Match Scratches.—Disfiguring marks on woodwork, made by scratching matches, will disappear if rubbed with a cut lemon.

Dyeing.—Next time when dyeing with a cake variety of dye, use a soap shaker as sieve. It keeps undissolved particles of dye from spotting the clothes. Saves time and protects the hands from dye and hot water.

Hot Tea or Coffee Stains.—Soak the stained fabric in cold water. Let it remain about twenty minutes, then wring out and pour a few drops of glycerine on each stain. After it has stood several hours wash well with cold water and soap. The stain will disappear.

Confessing.

Open Letter to the People of Summerland.—No. 1

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Summerland: The time has arrived when the Review must have a heart-to-heart talk with you. First, because we know you are amenable to reason, and second, because we are convinced that there must be a more spontaneous acceptance of the responsibilities vested in us all as Summerland citizens, if Summerland is to keep the home fires burning.

It is our intention in this first open letter to discuss frankly the penchant some have for shopping out of town; and, let us remark right here, that thousands of dollars—good Canadian—Summerland-earned dollars—to the aggregate of many thousands of dollars left Summerland during the past year, and, sad to relate, they have gone for ever. This magnificent amount, so much needed here, has gone to swell the coffers of the mail order concerns which are sapping the financial vitality of our community. And yet the pernicious practice of sending cash away goes habitually on, and will continue to go on to our defacement, unless we stand loyally four-square to the assault, and call Halt!

It is a habit! It is as much a habit to finger the pages of a mail order catalogue as it is for the dipsomaniac to reach for the bottle, or for the dope wreck to sniff the "snow." All think they are getting a beneficial kick out of it—and all three are losers.

These mail order houses would give much to be able to advertise their wares in the community newspapers of Western Canada; but there is an unwritten code of faith and honor among Western newspapermen to exclude that class of foreign advertising, great as is the financial sacrifice to themselves, solely and unequivocally because they know that Jeremiah Sampson or Timothy Beatson do not build sidewalks, grade roads or pay taxes or even take out a trader's license here; neither do they take the slightest interest in, or care two whoops for the social welfare of the newspapermen's respective burgs. The catalogue house in distant fields harvests our cash without bearing even an infinitesimal portion of the burden which goes with community upbuilding. We refuse their advertising contracts, and that is where, Mr. and Mrs. Summerland, you may say we deserve to lose out. But, we have a conscience—and it might be added in that immediate regard—few regrets.

It has been our praiseworthy aim to produce a weekly organ, of which Summerland could proudly boast. We THINK we fill the bill; we KNOW that the Review stands shoulder-high in the estimation of those whose business it is to establish the rating of Canadian newspapers. So much for ourselves.

We agree with you, in perfect candour, that some commodities, both commercial and domestic, may be purchased cheaper through the catalogue channel. But that does not save the duty you owe to your community. Duty! What business have we to prate of duty? What right have we to dictate or even recommend where you should spend your money?

Get this! As a parent loves, but chastises his child; as a pastor reproves his flock; as an officer admonishes his men, so similarly it is our Duty as this community's champion and mouthpiece to remind transgressors of theirs.

The lure of the catalogue is an illusion. Make an analysis of the pages. Observe that b-e-a-u-t-i-f-u-l cloak on page umpteen for only $97.50. Now turn to the opposite page and you will find your enraptured gaze dwelling upon an even more beautiful creation, more modish, more serviceable, for the ridiculous low price of $13.99! That's the bait! They are specialists in advertising; it is their business. You have saved $83.51 (in your imagination) and you immediately rummage the pages for more bargains (just to make up a decent parcel, you know), until your entire system is saturated with Timothyitis. You've got the habit! Halt! Your town needs the money. Your immediate friends will feel the immediate benefit if you circulate the money locally. They and another large circle of local friends all get a crack at it, and if all did the same we would all be a happier, more prosperous community.

Be the doctor and apply the cure.

PRICES HOLDING FAIRLY FIRM

All fruits now being shipped by the Associated are going out at firm prices and there are brighter prospects of fair returns being received that will leave some margin for the growers. In fact, apples of the better grades may bring fairly satisfactory net returns.

A summary of the market conditions and comments on grades and packing taken from the reports sent to the locals by the Associated central follows:

The pack of plums must be a first class one in order to be sold advantageously, and no No. 2s must be packed, as the market is already overloaded. The prices are, No. 1s, 90c; No. 2s, 75c.

Only one car of prunes was shipped up to Sept. 4, and this car sold at 60c per crate, but as the movement becomes heavy the price will have to be reduced to 55c to meet Washington competition. In mixed cars the price was 65c up to September 4.

Wealthies are moving at firm sales, the f.o.b. price at shipping point being $1.25 for Fancy grade. Five cars of Fancy grade were exported. Special attention was called in the report to the necessity of the grade and pack being first class, with nothing included of less than 188 size. In this connection it was pointed out that neither the grower or the organization would benefit by packing anything smaller.

Three straight cars of Jeffries were sold at $1.35 f.o.b. for 150s and larger, while smaller ones were exported.

Prices on peaches have been maintained, but will probably be somewhat lower on straight car lots than is at present being secured for l.c.l. shipments. The prices are: Freestone, No. 1, $1; No. 2, 85c; Clingstone, No. 1, 85c; No. 2, 70c.

Bartlett pears are about over and were cleaned up on an f.o.b. at shipping point basis, except three cars which went to Vancouver. Those last mentioned will net about $1.25 for jumbo pack and 1.50 for wrapped, f.o.b. shipping point. The entire estimated output of slightly over 30 cars of Flomish Beauty has been sold at Fancy, $2; and C grade, $1.75.

The prices quoted on Fancy Wealthies was $1.25 and for combination pack Extras and Fancy Gravenstons, $1.40. Other varieties, combination wrapped, $1.25; all crates, $1; Transcondents, 75c; Cantoloups, $2.75.

PACIFIC HIGHWAY A DECIDED BOON

Victoria.—Despite criticism directed against the government for the finishing of the paving of the Pacific Highway when that project was undertaken, the general public and prominent businessmen from all over the province are now united in the opinion that the undertaking was in the best interests of British Columbia and is bound to show handsome profits. Already thousands of American tourists have come into British Columbia over the new highway, leaving hundreds of thousands of American dollars on this side. Automobile clubs predict that the completion of this work will bring huge tourist profits to even the remotest sections of the province.

PRAIRIE ROADS ARE VERY BAD

Coun. Johnston Says Saskatchewan Neglects Highways.

Speaking of his motor trip to the prairie provinces, Coun. Johnston says that the roads in the province of Saskatchewan are a disgrace to the country, while those in Manitoba and Alberta are fairly good. Saskatchewan seems to have no road policy. In many places he had to be towed at considerable expense, and there were very few road signs. He was grateful for signs erected by the Regina Leader near that city.

On the way east he got as far as Bengough, one hundred miles from Regina, and had to leave the car there for a week before getting it to the capital. Going out of that city, it cost him five dollars to be towed to a joint beyond the jail, three miles out. Another place it cost him ten dollars to be towed two miles. He broke two front wheels and a spring. From the Saskatchewan border to Brandon, Manitoba, he found a good gravel road.

Mr. Johnston was delighted with the new Banff-Windermere road, but

THE PROPER TIME FOR PICKING

Bulletin 587 of the United States Department of Agriculture makes the following suggestions on the picking of fruit after extensive investigations in the Pacific Northwest:

"Regarding the stage of maturity at which apples should be picked, it is difficult to give directions which will apply to all conditions and seasons. Proper maturity certainly does not mean eating ripe, as in nearly every case an eating-ripe apple is overmature for storage. The individual growers should study their own fruit and their own conditions and, whenever possible, should make experiments to determine the stage of maturity at which the varieties they grow hold best in storage. The color of the seeds gives some indication, yet in spite of many opinions to the contrary, it is an unreliable index to the maturity of the fruit. Many factors may cause the color of the seeds to vary without affecting greatly the time at which the fruit reaches full maturity. The bluish or red color of the apple taken by itself also is unreliable. Both of these factors should be taken into consideration, however. Perhaps the most reliable single indication is the 'ground' color of the fruit; that is, the color which underlies the red color or bluish. The 'ground' color, which is green when the fruit is immature, begins to whiten or yellow slightly as it approaches full maturity. As a rule, in a mature apple the green color should be largely replaced by a white or light yellow color. A dark yellow, on the other hand, usually indicates overmaturity. Allowances, of course, should be made for the natural color of the variety, the amount of exposure to sunlight, etc. Experience will enable a grower to give the proper weight to each one of these factors and properly to co-ordinate them.

"It may be stated that certain varieties, of which Rome Beauty and Winesap are examples, are, as a rule, picked too early to keep in the best condition in storage. Some other varieties, however, such as Jonathan and Esopus (Spitzenburg), sometimes are left on the trees later than is advisable. It should be understood clearly that maturity does not mean overmaturity, and that overmaturity may cause losses as serious, or even more serious, than those due to immaturity. As might be expected, the storage troubles resulting in this case are physiological and fungous decays. An apple allowed to remain on the tree until overripe is much farther advanced in its life processes than it is if picked at proper maturity and breaks down just so much faster in storage. The final breakdown may be due either to premature physiological decay or to a fungus rot which the weakened fruit cannot resist. The complete destruction of the fruit follows in either case."

says that there are stretches between Windermere and Trail which need improving and on some of which they are now working.

er to give the proper weight to each one of these factors and properly to co-ordinate them.

How to make your skin fresh and clear

Every woman passes as pretty if only her skin is fresh, smooth and young. It is within the power of every woman to possess this attraction to make her complexion as beautiful as she longs for it to be.

The secret? Cleopatra knew and practiced it in the days of ancient Egypt. She observed a daily ceremonial cleansing. The cleansers she used were the same you may have today, Palm and Olive oils.

These beautifying oils are scientifically blended in famous Palmolive Soap. They give it mildness, wonderful soothing qualities, profuse, creamy and refreshing lather.

Cleansing with Palmolive is a beauty treatment in itself. No woman should say her skin is too sensitive to use soap until she has tried Palmolive.

The attractive green cake, the natural color of the oils, is within the reach of every one who appreciates that cleanliness is the greatest beautifier.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first class dealers.

Walters, in being able to make up complete orders for mixed cars.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING IS BEST SYSTEM

Diversified farming rather than exclusive fruit growing was strongly advocated here for several years and was becoming more and more practised when the high fruit prices of 1919 and 1920 further stimulated fruit production.

That he has all along practised diversified farming and will continue to do so, was the statement made by Geo. H. Doherty in a brief interview recently with a representative of the Review. Mr. Doherty states that under his plan he is not wholly dependent on the fruit markets for a living and, too, the keeping of stock on the orchard permits him to build up the soil and produce a better grade of fruit. He is a strong advocate of sweet clover as a cover crop. He does not permit it to go to seed, and cut it three times last year and again three times this year. The roots of the plants grown from seed last year will not grow again next year and will greatly increase the humus and nitrogen in the soil.

EXCISE STAMPS REQUIRED FOR CHEQUES, ETC.

Change in Stamp Regulations Goes into Effect on October 1st.

The provisions of the special War Revenue Act of 1915, which permitted the use of postage stamps in payment of stamp taxes on cheques, receipts, bank drafts, etc., has been repealed. After the 1st October, 1923 only excise stamps can be used for such purposes.

These stamps will be on sale at banks at such other places as may be designated by the Department of Customs and Excise, but they are not to be sold by postmasters for the reason that it would not always be understood by the public that stamps obtained at the post office could not be used for postage.

The result of such a misunderstanding, this explained, would be that letters would be put into the mails prepaid with excise stamps, which are not valid for postage and would not be recognized as such by other countries.

The confusion, annoyance and delays that would be thus caused can only be avoided by confining the sale of stamps in post offices to postage stamps.

The above does not apply to money orders and postal notes on which war tax has still to be paid by affixing postage stamps, but the war tax on receipts given by savings bank depositors, that is, the receipts attached to withdrawal cheques must be paid by affixing excise stamps on and after the 1st of October.

The above extract is from Official Monthly Supplement to Canada Official Postal Guide.

YAKIMA JONATHANS BRING GOOD PRICES

The first carload of Jonathans reaching New York from the Yakima district brought the following prices: extras, hundreds and larger, $4.50; balance standards, $3.50; Fancy, hundreds and larger, $4.00; balance standards, $3.40; C grades, largest $3; balance standards, $2.65; five tier, $3.00, $2.75 and $2.45 for the respective grades.

The next regular meeting of the Municipal Council will be held on Saturday, October 13th. This change has been made in order to avoid the last day, October 10th, when taxes may be paid without the penalty.

By-laws 181 to 184, authorizing the exchange of road allowances in Peach Valley, Prairie Valley meadows and at the foot of the gulch road, were finally approved by the Municipal Council in session on Tuesday.

WILL NOT PAY COST PRICE

Coast Jobbers Will Not Pay Decent Price for Okanagan Fruit.

Coast visitors to the Okanagan and local residents who have been at the Coast recently have had a good deal to say with regard to the difficulty in securing Okanagan fruit there. Replies to enquiries, says an exchange, indicate that the situation hinges on the question of maintaining prices.

The portion of the peach crop which has been sold has brought approximately $1 per box for No. 1's f.o.b. here, it is stated, while Vancouver and Victoria jobbers demanded a price of 90c laid down at the Coast.

The average consumer is paying 1.50 per box for peaches at Vancouver, and the reason the Okanagan fruit has not been more in evidence at the Coast is that the price offered by the houses handling it there would not net the grower cost of production. There was a steady market on the prairies and at points near the Coast for peaches at $1.00 per box f.o.b. To sell at a reduced price in Vancouver would have broken the market all around.

Visitors here have found that the (Continued on Page 8)

MANY COURSES FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

Attention is directed to the announcement in our advertising columns of the re-opening of night school for the winter months, on Monday, October 15th. A number of courses will be given, if sufficient enrollment can be made. These courses will cover commercial work, manual training, physical culture, arts and crafts and first aid, while courses in domestic science and home nursing are planned for after Christmas holidays. All who intend taking advantage of any of these courses should be at the Public School building on Wednesday, October 3rd, at 8 p.m., for enrollment. Important announcements will also be made at that time regarding the different courses.

BOARDS SEEK MANY CHANGES

School Act Apparently Far From Satisfactory to Trustees.

There are a number of interesting resolutions which will come up before the 20th annual convention of B. C. School Trustees' Association at Duncan, October 16th to 18th. These have been submitted by Boards from many parts of the Province.

Sooke School Board would have cities and municipalities encouraged, if not compelled, to give newly qualified teachers initial experience in teaching for at least two years, so that rural districts may be enabled to more readily obtain experienced teachers for their more difficult administrations.

North Vancouver district, pointing out the importance of music in a child's training and that it is impracticable for a child to take the high school course and music as well, would have the Department of Education place music in the high school curriculum as one of the subjects from which a choice is allowed.

Maple Ridge asks that the high school curriculum be changed in all farming districts, so that the studies include dairying, fruit growing, poultry raising and bee-keeping.

Greater Vancouver and New Westminster desire that the Department better facilitate the procuring of school text books and at a lower cost and that as few changes as possible be made.

Resolutions from North Vancouver district would make it compulsory for the Lord's Prayer to be used as an opening exercise in all schools, while Burnaby would have Bible reading included in the curriculum.

Pointing out that all rural school districts include a number of residents who are able to take advantage of the schools, while paying no local school tax, the Sooke school board requests adjustment in the method of taxation or assessment in rural districts as to create a more equitable distribution of the tax burden. The same board desires that cost of education beyond public school be borne partly by parents of children attending and that state assistance be given by a system of scholarships to selected students.

Pointing out that the rate of assistance that the government gives toward paying teachers' salaries was fixed many years ago and that government taxation has greatly increased and that the scale of teachers' salaries has also increased, Slooan and Arrow Lakes desire that the government re-adjust the rate of its assistance toward the payment of teachers' salaries.

Under the new School Act, a teacher may resign his position before the first day of August of the 10th day of December, and the school board then have no way of filling the vacancy except from teachers who have definitely resigned other positions. The Trail school board urges that the section of the Act covering this be repealed.

Maple Ridge school board would make it possible to award each trustee a stipend of $100 per annum. Disapproving of the present method of providing money for the building of schools, North Vancouver would ask the Provincial Government to create a fund for an adequate school building program throughout the Province.

Maple Ridge and also Slooan and the Kootenays would abolish prospective outlook in its favor, especially for good apples.

HIGH SCHOOL ADDRESS BY MRS. ANDREW

Talks Earnestly to H.S. Girls On "Nursing as a Career."

Drawing from a fund of reminiscence and practical experience as a nurse, Mrs. F. W. Andrew on Friday afternoon last in the High School, gave a valuable and greatly appreciated address to the girls upon the subject of "Nursing as a Career." Incidentally Mrs. Andrew drew aside the veil of sentimentality which has in numerous instances inveigled girls to attempt the profession, who have proved eventually to possess no real vocation for it, and stressed its hardships as well as its ultimate reward.

The lecturer indicated that "doe-ness of nurses, Florence Nightingale, as an ideal mentor to follow. "The life is not an easy one," said Mrs. Andrew, "but one of ideal service to the cause of suffering humanity."

Upon the question of qualification for the life, Mrs. Andrew mentioned essentials, good health, a good education, and unimpeachable morals. Training was of course vital, and though at times irksome, it fitted young women to become good homemakers, taught them the value of patience and self-suppression.

Besides the actual care of the sick, valuable training was given in dietetics and numberless subsidiary activities calculated to turn out "the complete woman."

"In a specializing age," pursued Mrs. Andrew, "it is but natural that aspirants should concentrate upon some definite branch in this career of service, such as the Red Cross," in (Continued on Page 4)

APPLES GRADING MUCH HIGHER

There are practically no cull apples being received at the Co-operative packing houses, according to M. Stewart, manager. In past seasons, culls have been a serious problem and it had been proposed that a record be kept of each grower's culls and that he be charged back with the cost of handling them.

Their absence this year not only indicates a higher general average of quality, but is evidence of the greater care being exerted by the growers to produce only first quality fruit.

WILL REQUIRE OUR APPLES

Report from London Broker Says Okanagan Apples Will Be in Demand.

According to a report made by J. O. Sims, fruit broker and auctioneer, London, England, the prospects for Okanagan fruit on the British market this season are unusually good.

The report states: "Reports regarding the apple crop in the west of England state little or no fruit can possibly come from that direction, but in Kent, Cambridgeshire and Lincolnshire conditions are different. From these counties earlier reports indicated prospects for good yields of small inferior apples, but there is at present a 'heavy drop' in progress, caused, it is alleged, by the continued hot, dry weather; thus the supply of home-grown apples, whatever the quantity, will be inferior quality and the fruit small."

"The consumption of apples in all countries increases every year, especially in the United States; therefore America, even with a good crop, may have a reduced surplus for export."

"Exporters in France, Switzerland, Italy, Belgium and Holland expect fair apple crops, but there is little or nothing to be feared from those directions because the high costs of transportation will allow only the best lots to come forward when outlets here are exceptionally favorable."

"It is quite certain that all markets in England and Scotland will require your apples during the coming season and at higher prices than those of last (1922-1923)."

Briefly my honest opinion is: "The prospective outlook is very favorable, especially for good apples."

CHANGE DATE OF PEACHLAND FAIR

It was reported in a recent issue that Peachland Women's Institute had decided on Friday, October 3rd as the date for the Flower Show and Fall Fair. This had been given out at the last meeting of the Institute, but as this date conflicted with the Kelowna dates, the Peachland show has been changed to October 5th. The roll call at the last meeting of the Institute was answered by suggestions pertaining to the Fair. The roll call at the next monthly meeting will be responded to by old fashioned sayings such as "A stitch in time saves nine."

CHAUTAQUA ENJOYED BY FAIR CROWDS

Four Day Program Fine Treat —Small Deficit for the Season.

Just how well satisfied was the large number who attended the Chautauqua programs, was proven by the endorsement given the local committee and the response made on Wednesday night for a general contribution toward the cost.

It was with considerable misgiving, occasioned by the unprecedented stringent local conditions due to the fact that the co-operative has not yet paid the growers anything on this season's crop, that the committee responsible for providing the community with the Chautauqua program took up the sale of tickets.

Chautauqua had been contracted for twelve months ago, when it was hoped that the program would be put on here not earlier than the middle of next month. It is greatly to be regretted that it arrived at this season when most of our citizens have no time to spare from harvesting their fruit. Throughout, however, the attendance has been very satisfactory and the season closed with but a very small deficit, less than $100. Particulars of the finances will be given next week.

Throughout, the program was a real treat, so much so that a number of citizens, declaring that our young (Continued on Page 4)

ORDER THIRD HOSE REEL

Will Be Made by Local Firm —Intended to Carry Sur- plus Hose.

An additional hose reel will be provided by the municipality to better handle the fire hose. The two reels now in use are overloaded, making them difficult to handle and further, as only one hydrant can be connected up from each reel at one time, an additional reel will have the advantage of getting a second stream on a fire quicker. The local firm of Scurrah Brothers will make the reel, which will be of substantial construction to stand trailing behind a swift-moving motor vehicle. A number of additional hydrant wrenches have been ordered from Chas. Schwass and Scurrah Brothers.

ROWCLIFFE CONTRADICTS CO-OP REPORT

Says Published Telegram Was Untruthful and Deceptive —Own Version.

Publication last week in the papers of the Okanagan Valley of a contribution by the Associated Growers concerning a telegram which charged Geo. Rowcliffe, Ltd., of Kelowna, with cutting the price of McIntosh apples, caused considerable excitement throughout the Valley. The charge was promptly denied by Rowcliffe, who circularized his growers on the subject. A copy of this circular has been forwarded to the Review with the request that it be published.

Under the heading "Why it looks like cheap apples—the real truth," the circular reads:

In view of the fact that the Associated Growers through their chief officers have not only published in nearly all the local newspapers throughout the fruit districts of the Province, but it is reported to us, have, in some instances, personally canvassed many of our growers displaying an untruthful and deceptive telegram, which purports to have been issued by Plunkett & Savage, of Calgary, but which seems to us bears all the earmarks of having been manufactured in Vernon, we can only assume from the methods employed that those in charge of the affairs of the Associated, perhaps warned of impending doom, are seeking to lay the results of their own doings at the door of another.

RAISE FUND FOR SUFFERING JAPAN

Seventy-five dollars is the sum realized from tags sold by the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary during Chautauqua week. The money is for relief of victims of the Japanese disaster. A further sum of twenty-five dollars for the same purpose has been raised by the Junior Red Cross among the school children.

The burning out of a transformer near the Bank of Montreal deprived that section of the community of electric lights last Saturday night.

HOLDING BACK ON WEALTHIES

Report on Associated Regula- tion of Fruit Crop Movement.

Salmon Arm Observer of last week publishes the following on the operations of the Associated, which will be of interest to growers in this section of the province.

It has been decided by the Associated Growers that when, in consequence of a poor market, or from other cause, it becomes necessary to issue a "stop picking" order for any variety of fruit, the returns received on account of such of its members as may already have shipped fruit to which such order applies, shall be prorated to all growers of this variety, whether they have shipped or not. This is being done to give effect to the co-operative principle of "share and share alike, whether gains or losses."

"Stop picking" orders have been issued in regard to Duchess apples and Transcendent crab apples, and peach plums, and in order to ascertain how all Salmon Arm growers of these fruits should share in the Provincial pools, a representative committee consisting of Messrs. B. S. Wood, R. H. Fortuno, and P. McLeod, have been appointed by the Exchange Directorate to obtain the necessary data. The gentlemen serving on this committee deserve the fruit-growers' best thanks for coming forward at the busy season to give time and labor in their interests.

Salmon Arm growers of Wealthy apples have been urged to get their variety picked and hauled. This request has not met with a ready response on the part of some of our growers. It should be realized that (Continued on Page 8)

TENDERS RECEIVED FOR LIGHT EXTENSION

Four different tenders for building an extension to the electric light system from Dale's corner to the upper end of Prairie Valley were opened and considered at a meeting of the Municipal Council on Tuesday afternoon. Each tender was made up on a somewhat different basis from the others, but it is apparent that the estimate made on the job by T. P. Thornber, municipal electrician, is a conservative one. The lowest tender is apparently within $100 of the cost as calculated by Mr. Thornber.

RECITAL WAS MUCH ENJOYED

J. Chandler Smith is Pianist of Great Ability and Pleased Audience.

Many Summerland music lovers enjoyed a real treat last Friday evening when Mr. J. Chandler Smith, assisted by his wife and Mr. Ben Newton, gave a piano recital. The program was arranged at the request of friends who desired to hear Mr. Smith while he was here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Smith. Every seat in the main auditorium of St. Andrew's church was occupied and it was very apparent that the program was highly appreciated throughout.

The exceptional musical talent which Mr. Smith possesses was recognized when he was a mere lad and since he has made music his profession he has steadily climbed until he has obtained considerable recognition in the musical world. He is now a teacher of piano and resides in San Francisco.

It is not within our capacity to deal technically with his rendition of the several numbers and can only state that his work satisfied the most critical, and delighted all who heard him.

Mrs. Smith was heard here for the first time, and her beautiful soprano voice was also highly appreciated. The splendid tenor voice possessed by Ben Newton never fails to delight his audience and on this occasion his rendering of his several selections was greatly enjoyed.

The program was as follows:

- a. Polonaise—Paderewski.
- b. Rustle of Spring—Sinding.
- c. Waltz, E minor—Chopin.
- J. Chandler Smith.
- a. So Fondly I Caree Thee—Edwards
- b. Thank God for a Garden—Del Rio.
- c. A China Tragedy—Thomas.
- Mrs. J. Chandler Smith.
- a. Serenade—Schubert.
- b. Once Again—Sullivan.
- c. Mary of Argyll.
- Ben Newton.
- a. Liebestraume—Liszt.
- b. Bells of St. Mary's—Adams.
- c. Chimes arrangement by J. Chandler Smith.
- c. Cavalier Fantastique—Godard.
- J. Chandler Smith.
- a. Ave Maria—Luzzi.
- b. My Lullaby—Thayer.
- c. Annie Laurie—Lady Nairn.
- Mrs. J. Chandler Smith.
- a. Sunshine of Your Smile.
- b. Absent—Metcalf.
- c. Sign No More, Ladies—Shinko-spono.
- Ben Newton.
- a. Prelude—Rachmanninoff.
- b. Three O'Clock in the Morning (by request).
- c. Rigolotto Paraphrase—Verdi-Liszt.
- J. Chandler Smith.

TRUSTEES ASK AMENDMENTS

Trustees Claim that the New Act is Unduly in Favor of Teachers.

The Okanagan branch of the British Columbia School Trustees' Association held its regular meeting in the High School, Kelowna, at 10.30 a.m. on September 13th.

There were present, Mrs. Solly, Summerland; Messrs. R. W. Paton, Coldstream; W. G. Gray, Rutland; N. D. McTavish, Kelowna; D. H. McClure, Oyma; A. M. MacPhail and H. A. Fraser, Armstrong; president G. F. Reinhard and secretary W. S. Atkinson, Vernon. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and on motion of Messrs. Paton and Gray, were adopted.

The president, in placing before the meeting the matters which were down for discussion, regretted the fact that there were so few present, but this was no doubt on account of this time of year being the busiest for those engaged in the fruit industry. The president pointed out that the convention will be held at Duncan on October 16th, 1923, not on the 22nd, as set forth in the previous letter, and asked the secretaries to kindly make note of this change of date. ## DISTRIBUTORS SAID TO BE RESPONSIBLE

Fraser Valley Farmers Making Outcry at Not Receiving Our Peaches.

Inability to obtain Okanagan fruit was discussed at some length at a Board of Trade of the Fraser Valley recent meeting of the Associated Growers. Following is a report of the discussion as published by the British Columbian, New Westminster:

"Discussion of the Okanagan fruit situation and the total absence of this fruit on the local markets at this time of year was taken up at the regular meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of the Fraser Valley, which was held in the Council Chamber yesterday. This momentous question was brought up by Mr. N. F. Kendall, who pointed out that, although British Columbia peaches and apricots are now in season, they cannot be obtained on the local markets, a fact which forced the consumers to purchase the foreign variety. In view of the campaign urging Coast residents to give preference to B. C. fruit, which was staged by the growers, this seemed to be a peculiar situation.

Mr. E. A. Riddell, president of the New Westminster Board, gave further light on the matter and laid the entire blame on the distributing agencies. "If the fruit could be distributed in the east no thought was paid to the Coast, but if any difficulty was experienced in unloading the crop, a clamor was immediately set up urging the local consumers to demand B. C. fruit. The situation is very unsatisfactory, he concluded.

Other speakers on the subject included Rev. H. Hoodspeth and E. Streetford of the Langley Board, Mayor Colley of Kamloops, and Capt. F. J. R. Wilkie, of Abbotsford. A resolution was passed referring the matter to several of the interior Boards of Trade with the request that they take it up with the distributors."

On the same line is the interesting announcement made in a grocery advertisement appearing in the same publication. This advertisement reads: "Okanagan Peaches."

"It looks as if the Lower Mainland is going to be 'out of luck' as far as Okanagan peaches are concerned."

Saw a telegram from fruitgrowers stating their peaches are moving to the prairies and not able to fill contract for the Coast, and further advising wholesalers to get their supply in Washington.

It is unfortunate. We have been trying to boost B. C. Products and B. C. Fruit, but we can't sell them if we can't get them. Prices are firming up. Our advice—buy now!"

How to Make Peaches More Popular

R. C. Palmer, Assistant Supt., Experimental Station.

To anyone who has been fortunate enough to sample a tree-ripened Yellow St. John grown in the southern Okanagan it may seem absurd to question the popularity of such a delicacy.

The fact remains, however, that the peaches of the Okanagan Valley do not enjoy that full measure of popularity which their quality merits. The grower estimates the popularity of his peaches by the price he receives for them. The comparatively low net returns received for his product during recent years have led him to believe the public does not appreciate his peaches. From this he reasons that there must be something wrong with the public. But on analysis it seems much more likely that there is something wrong with the peaches at the time they reach the consumer.

Any commodity, to be popular, must supply a definite want. It must appeal to the consumer. Further, its appeal must be greater than that of other commodities listed at the same price. To make peaches popular it is necessary to create in the mind of the consumer a desire for peaches, and then cater to that desire by supplying a first class product at a price which the consumer can afford to pay.

To the layman unacquainted with the complexities of fruit production and marketing, the carrying out of the above suggestion might seem an easy matter, but in reality it involves many difficult problems, the details of which are known only to those actually engaged in the business.

In the commercial era of to-day it is necessary that many services be performed before Mrs. Smith of Regina can be persuaded to purchase a crate of Summerland peaches. After the fruit is grown it must be advertised, picked, assembled, graded, packed, aged, transported, distributed, and sometimes stored or processed. In the performance of these essential services many men are employed. If after passing through all these hands, peaches can be delivered to the consumer in first class condition at a price which will not be prohibitive, and which, at the same time, will return a fair profit to the grower, their popularity is assured. In order that such a state of affairs may be brought about it is essential that every marketing service be performed with the greatest efficiency and least duplication of effort. To this end the Associated Growers, a co-operative marketing agency, has been formed.

Every grower should remember, however, that on him rests the final responsibility for the quality, hence largely for the popularity, of the fruit he produces. No matter how efficient the marketing organization may be it cannot make a cull peach popular.

It is up to the grower, then, to produce No. 1 fruit. This means proper attention to every orchard operation, pruning, spraying, thinning, irrigation, cultivation, etc., but more especially at this time of year it means picking the fruit at the right time and getting it into the packing houses in good condition, so that the consumer can be provided with an attractive product at an attractive price. Only in this way can peaches be made more popular.

taste. Potatoes, onions and parsnips are also considered valuable anti-scorbutic foods. Rhubarb, lettuce and cauliflower must also be included in the list, while lovers of cabbage salad and "slaw" will be glad to know that raw cabbage is one of the best sources of vitamin "C" that we have. Tomatoes have the three kinds of vitamins necessary to human health. Most vegetables have one or two, but seldom all three.

It is probably best to eat our fruits and vegetables in the fresh form when it is possible to do so. There is little, however, to be feared from the usual methods of canning and cooking. If we eat a sufficient amount of vegetables and fruits throughout the year, it will not matter if a small percentage of the vitamins are destroyed in the cooking process. As a rule, long continued heating or cooking is considered undesirable, and air should be excluded as far as possible.

It is not necessary that we be vegetarians. We should be reasonable and sensible and not faddists. Every diet, especially that of growing children, should contain milk, butter, eggs, fresh vegetables, and fresh fruits if we expect to obtain the best results.

Various fruit and vegetable canning recipe books have been issued from time to time, but the best that has recently come to my attention is that issued by the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture. These booklets contain recipes which have been thoroughly tested, are practical and economical. They may be had free upon application to the Fruit Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Eat Vegetables for Vitamins

L. F. Burrows, Secretary, Canadian Horticultural Council.

Comparatively recent is the addition of the word "vitamin" to our vocabulary, and even though the use of the word is now common, its meaning is not yet understood. Physicians have long recognized the value of vegetables in the daily diet and we are now told that this value lies largely in the fact that they contain vitamins, and that vitamins are necessary to life. Some vegetables contain greater quantities and of different kinds than others. Three distinct kinds of vitamins have been named: "A," "B" and "C."

Vitamin "A" is a mysterious element in food, without which children cannot grow, but which grown folks also need. Shortage of vitamin "A" leads to disease of the eye, skin and kidneys; and it may cause bad teeth, diarrhoea, pellagra, and other ailments. As a rule, seeds of all kinds are rather deficient in vitamin "A," although green peas contain appreciable amounts. Leafy plants, on the other hand, are valuable foods in this regard. Spinach and chard are probably the richest of the common leafy foods in this element, lettuce ranks next, with cabbage holding third place.

The roots and tubers vary, sweet potatoes and carrots ranking first, while white or Irish potatoes contain but a small amount, and it is doubtful if beets, rutabagas and parsnips contain appreciable amounts. Tomatoes, however, are very rich in vitamin "A" and Hubbard squash is also a valuable source. Little work has been done on the fruits, but there is evidence that apples, bananas and oranges contain small amounts of this vitamin.

Vitamin "B" is guardian of good digestion and proper functioning of the liver and other glands. This vitamin is found in the germ and bran portion of cereals. In the milling of wheat, however, this vitamin is so completely removed that the best grades of flour are entirely lacking. This does not mean that we should condemn the white breads, starchy foods, white rice, etc., it merely means that we must choose our foods intelligently and eat more vegetables.

Potatoes, sweet and white, contain appreciable amounts of vitamin "B," although the turnip and onion are more valuable in this regard. The beet root contains a fair amount although its leaves appear to be much richer. This vitamin is also found in the tomato, cabbage, spinach, lettuce, parsley, and the lowly dandelion, the tomato being especially valuable.

While many fruits have not been studied, it is probably safe to state that most fruit juices contain appreciable amounts of vitamin "B." It is likewise probably true that nuts are valuable sources of this vitamin, inasmuch as all nuts that have been studied contain appreciable amounts. Vitamin "C" prevents disease and promotes the general health. Lack of it gives the skin a bad color and makes the heart weak. It has long been known that lemons, limes, oranges, and fresh fruits are curative in scurvy. It has only been in recent years that we have understood that this curative effect was due to vitamin "C." While oranges have been used for a number of years in the treatment of infantile scurvy, it is only recently it has been discovered that tomato juice is practically equal to the juice of the orange in this regard, and many physicians in the poorer districts of the large cities are prescribing strained tomato juice in place of orange juice. The juice of canned tomatoes seems to be very satisfactory for this purpose, indicating that the canning process is not particularly destructive as far as vitamin "C" is concerned. Berries are known to have scurvy-curing properties, although little investigational work has been done.

The Swedish turnip or rutabagas is very valuable as a source of vitamin "C" and the same is true of the carrot. Young carrots are apparently more valuable than old carrots and this appears to be true for many vegetables. As a rule, it is probably safe to state that the vitamin content of vegetables is highest at the time that the vegetable is most prized from the standpoint of tenderness and

Are You Hitting Below the Belt?

Open Letter to the People of Summerland.—No. 2

"Hitting below the belt" is understood in clean sport to mean a foul blow that admits of no exoneration. As the English have it: It is not playing the game—it is not "Crickeet."

In the great game of community building can you yourself answer your conscience truly that you have always played the game? In our last article we alluded to the alarming fact that thousands of dollars were annually filched from Summerland and gobbled up by the mail-order octopus. If, after perusing that article, you still remain in the ranks of the habituals who blend Timothyitis with their morning porridge, then you stand convicted of not "playing the game"—you are guilty of "hitting below the belt."

In the evolution of things, towns can not stand still. They progress or digress; they forge ahead or they slip backwards. Now, what about ours? This is no conundrum, but the answer, and the remedy if needs be, must be supplied by you. Every dollar that circulates in Summerland is a bright little agent for "better times." It journeys round and round the stores, the farms, and the homes and shops, imparting smiles and happiness as it goes; and here let us remark, if everybody did their bit towards making that dollar a permanent Summerland dollar, it would come smiling back to you at regular intervals. But, alas, it soon, too soon, comes into the possession of one of those habituals referred to, and pouf!—it is gone—for ever.

The men who take the keenest interest in the upbuild of our community are our merchants and business men. Outside of the fact that they have the right and praiseworthy community spirit, it is in their best business interests so to do. A brighter town, socially and materially, means a larger population, which in turn means increased business for the business man. The live merchants realize that a weekly newspaper in Summerland is as essential as all the other institutions, and they accept it as a responsibility and a duty to support it; they are thus paying for their demonstration of faith in the community spirit in no small measure. A glance each week through our advertising columns will enlighten you as to "Who's Who" in the east of "Playing the Game."

The live business men who are ever to the fore in matters for the public good are our consistent advertisers. There is a duty that every citizen owes to them. Every ad. published by these merchants in our columns is a direct invitation for you to shop with them, but there are others. There are others here doing business who bear no proportionate share of the community advertising; these are not only "hitting below the belt," but they are getting in on something to which they are not justly entitled. We trust we make ourselves plain. We mean exactly this: THAT THE PEOPLE OF SUMMERLAND SHOULD SHOP ONLY WHERE THEY ARE INVITED TO SHOP, or a weekly newspaper for them in the future may be but a dream of the past.

Nor must it be imagined that the shoppers only have the monopoly on "hitting below the belt." Oh dear no! Some of our business men are transgressors themselves. If an out-of-town stationary drummer flits in and offers them an imaginary snap on some questionable quality printing, there are some who "fall" for it just as easily as Mrs. Jones did for the cloak on page umpteenth of the O'Timothy picture book. What of it?

Only this! We have a plant—a highly equipped modern plant—and a competent staff. Your printing must keep them employed. Your printing pays for the wages of the printers here, here—right in Summerland, not of those in Vancouver. If there is no intention on the part of these offenders of "hitting below the belt," then for goodness sake at least give us the sporting opportunity of figuring on the job.

Here endeth the second lesson.

Moved by Mrs. Solly, seconded by W. E. Gray, "That the date of the annual convention of the B.C.S.T.A. be changed in future to a more suitable time of year, the months of July and August being preferable, so that Okanagan Valley delegates engaged in the fruit industry may be better able to attend." Carried.

Moved by D. H. McClure, seconded by R. W. Paton, "That, whereas there are many persons resident in this province who, entirely escape taxation in any form in unorganized districts, the burden being therefore inequitably distributed; therefore be it resolved that this association recommend that legislation be enacted, whereby all persons of the age of twenty-one years, not already assessed, pay at least a minimum tax for educational purposes in addition to the poll tax." Carried.

Moved by H. A. Fraser, seconded by H. A. Fraser, "Whereas, the recent legislation making it compulsory for trustees to give any notices of dismissal to teachers on or before June 30th in each year, while the teachers on their part have until July 31st in each year, to place their resignations in the hands of the trustees, thus leaving a space of one month only in which the Board of Trustees have to find a substitute. Therefore, be it resolved that this branch of the B.C.S.T.A. go on record as being opposed to this legislation, and request that steps be taken by the B.C.S.T.A. to have such legislation amended whereby all notices and resignations may be given and received before and up to Jun 30th in any year." Carried.

No action was taken with regard to standardization of teachers' salaries, it being felt that this matter would no doubt be coming before the convention on October 16th. On motion of R. W. Paton, seconded by A. M. MacPhail, the meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the executive committee.

During the period from 1919 to 1922 lumber exports from the Port of Vancouver increased from 30,000,000 feet to 300,000,000 feet, states W. G. Swan, chief engineer for the Vancouver Harbor Commission. In the period 1920 to 1922, in terms of crop years, grain export had increased from 500,000 bushels to almost 20,000,000 bushels. When the present pier construction is completed, the harbor will have berthing space for 32 deep sea ships.

Will Not Pay The Cost Price

explanations which they have been given at Victoria and Vancouver as to why Okanagan fruit was not for sale there did not compare favorably with what they saw while in the Okanagan. Quite a few of them have taken samples of peaches to send to their friends, showing the kind of peaches grown here and which they could secure if the channels through which they purchase their fruit would handle them.

No other business, it is claimed, would continue if its products had to be sold at a loss and it is hard to understand why the fruit grower should be asked to do something which even the man who asks it of him, would not do himself.

The Associated Growers have been holding back the McIntosh to give Salmon Arm, and other into districts, the best chance of cleaning up the Wealthy, and that it is up to us to play our part in the game and use reasonable despatch in getting the Wealthy crop in. If growers are holding back with the idea that they will get a larger proportion of "Extra Fancy" and thus a personal advantage, they are likely to be mistaken. The whole pool will suffer as the dealers are demanding "Macs" and if the Associated Growers do not supply them, they will soon turn elsewhere. The independent growers have been shipping Macs for some time past, and if the market remains bare much longer supplies from the east will come in in volume.

Once these Macs are on the market, prices on Wealthy apples will slump. This holding back of Wealthy plecting will prove to have been a very short-sighted policy.

On September 14, we received this wire:

"Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 24, 1923. Geo. Rowcliffe, Ltd., Kelowna, B. C. McIntosh sold by Plunkett & Savage were Fancy and Extra Fancy to Keeley Claresholm at one ninety. Merchants here to-day complain that we are from fifteen to twenty-five cents higher on McIntosh than the Associated jobbers. (Sgd.) John Rowcliffe."

Freight rate, Okanagan points to Claresholm forty-two cents per box. We can assume that Plunkett & Savage are not working for less than twenty-five cents per box. Should the total charges to be deducted by the Associated reach eighty cents per box, this would leave only forty-three cents for Extra Fancy and Fancy to the grower.

Should the outlets of the Associated be selling in all markets at the same comparative prices, it looks unfortunately, like VERY cheap apples for their growers at least.

Yours truly,

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

The hunters' blood has started to tingle since word has got around that one pair of horns have been brought to the ground during the past week.

Miss R. Law returned last week from Penticton, where she was a guest of her brother, Everett Law and his wife. She was accompanied on her return by Miss McKnight, a friend of the family in Toronto. Miss McKnight is visiting with Mrs. Vivian, and Miss Law at Mrs. Vivian's pretty little cottage and grounds in town.

Friends of the family will regret to learn that Mr. A. W. Millor is suffering a severe illness since last week. Dr. Buchanan and Dr. Andrew, of Summerland, are in charge of the case.

After a week's visit with her slator-in-law, Mrs. H. E. McCall, Mrs. Sharp left on Friday to return to her home in Clatsopville, Ont.

The members of the W.C.T.U. held the opening meeting of the fall session at the home of Mrs. H. E. McCall on Friday afternoon. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Bulyea. She gave a talk on "Christ's prayer for his disciples," which was an inspiration to all. The resolutions and plan of work submitted by the last district convention were read and discussed. The president read a communication from the district president, Mrs. Alton of Naramata, announcing that the 1923 convention would be held at Peachland. The following motions were carried unanimously: Moved by Mrs. Bulyea and seconded by Mrs. L. D. McCall "That Mrs. Sadler be superintendent, and Mrs. H. E. McCall assistant superintendent of the Loyal Temperance Legion for the coming year." Moved by Mrs. Bulyea and Mrs. Sadler "That one copy of the 'White Ribbon Tidings' be secured for the local union."

Mr. Weitzel, sr., has sold his cottage and town property to Arthur Mowat, of Edmonton, a relative of Mrs. R. J. Hogg, the deal having been put through by Mr. R. J. Hogg. Mr. and Mrs. Weitzel expect to move to Penticton, but their ultimate plans are not completed. The Municipal authorities will have to look for a new constable when Mr. Weitzel leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Robins and members of the family motored to Kelowna on Saturday to spend a part of the day.

The Elks' band, from Penticton, passed through by auto on Sunday. They stopped long enough to furnish any person within hearing with some music. Unfortunately few people knew of the possibility of such a treat.

At the Union church on Sunday evening Rev. T. A. Sadler gave place to Miss Mary M. Campbell of Winnipeg, acting deputation secretary for the Canadian auxiliary of the Zenana Bible and Medical Mission. This is the oldest missionary society working especially for the women of India. Its work has been greatly blessed. The opportunities for reaching the women are greater than ever. It is evangelical in its doctrine, scriptural in its methods and inter-denominational in its character. Miss Campbell gave the congregation a very interesting account and made an inspiring appeal for support of the work. Peachland has been supporting a bed in the Kinnaird hospital in Lucknow through this mission, but unfortunately, the support has been falling behind of late and unless the supporters are increased, or the amounts increased, the plaque over the bed will have to come down. During her remarks she read an interesting letter addressed to the supporters of the "Peachland bed."

Mr. John Riha, of Omaha, Nebraska, is a guest of the Morsh family at their fruit ranch. Mr. Riha has been visiting friends in Summerland for a time, and expects to spend a few days in this district. He is quite taken up with this part of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Robins and family left this week to return to their former home on the prairie. They left here by motor, having billed their goods C.P.R.

Apple picking is in full swing here now. The Macs are being hustled in and, some have picked their Jonathans, both of these varieties showing better color than was anticipated a short time ago.

"You know, Mrs. 'Arris, I'm harmonic." "Lo', Mrs. 'Awkins, I thort yer were British!" "You don't understand, dearie; harmonic means that I ain't got no blood in me!"

School Days 'Again!

Teacher: "Give correction and reason in the following sentence: 'The horse and cow is in the field.'" Tommy: "It should be 'The cow and the horse is in the field,' because 'ladies should always be mentioned first'."

Be Appropriate. "Smile!" commanded the photographer—"You look too mournful." "But, I'm going to use this in my business advertising," the subject protested.

"Well don't you think it would be better for your business if you didn't look so solemn?" "No," was the surprising reply. "Who in thunder would hire a grinning undertaker?"—Good Hardware.

Editorial

DOESN'T KNOW US.

Premier John Oliver is reported by a Coast paper as declaring at a public meeting at Cloverdale that what is needed in B. C. is a better mental attitude towards life and duty to the community. He instanced the manner in which, in Washington and Oregon, everyone responded to the call of fruit picking and canning concerns when labor was needed to prevent products being wasted, and contrasted that community spirit with "the prevailing mentality of residents in the Okanagan, where cherries had rotted for want of picking this season."

Is this not an astounding statement to be made by the Premier of our province? What has he got against the Okanagan? If any cherries rotted on our trees, it was not for lack of pickers so much as lack of market, and there are many among us who feel that Premier Oliver has not done all that he might have done to retain the Canadian market for Okanagan soft fruits. Premier Oliver owes an apology to the Okanagan for so grossly misrepresenting the attitude of our citizens.

EXTENDING OUR MARKETS.

Attention which the Okanagan is attracting in the commercial world, is indicated by an announcement that Hon. T. A. Lowe, Federal Commissioner of Trade and Commerce, is soon to visit this part of the Province for the purpose of looking into our fruit export possibilities. As our Valley grows, more and larger foreign markets must be found for both fresh and preserved fruits. Mr. Lowe no doubt will be given every assistance in obtaining the fullest information and the need of wider export markets will be impressed upon him by the heads of our fruit concerns.

FINANCING THE ASSOCIATED.

Growers were reminded in this column two or three weeks ago that their big marketing organization had been launched without any capital and a brief explanation as to how it is being financed was given. About the same time, another Valley paper, apparently wrongly informed, gave a rather alarming story as to the deductions that would be made from fruit returns for capital expenditure.

One hears so many views on this subject that we are convinced that many are not clear on just what will be withheld from the grower for investment as capital, including the purchase of the packing houses of former shipping concerns, and also the methods of repaying the money borrowed. The following is an explanation given by the Associated Growers in answer to the misleading statement of our contemporary:

"It was originally intended, as mentioned in the editorial, to raise the money by a debenture issue which members of the Vancouver Board of Trade offered to purchase. They were to be secured by first mortgage on the property purchased and a five-cent reduction from all apples and pears and two and a half cents from crates and sacks.

This offer was not taken advantage of for the reason the Bank of Montreal agreed to loan the money through the Royal Trust Company at 6 per cent. interest, and a debenture issue through the Vancouver Board of Trade was to cost at least 7 per cent. and might have cost more as the debenture issue would have been for five years and a sinking fund would have to be created, which, if it could not be invested to yield 7 per cent., would have added to the expense. Whereas, in the arrangements made with the Bank of Montreal, the revenue from the per package deduction is estimated will be equal to the first to the amount of their loan, and the independent shippers agreed to take the second mortgage debentures for the balance of the purchase price, which are to be retired as soon as money is received from the per package deduction.

You will note that the question of repayment as far as the growers are concerned remains the same under either method, and the one adopted saves considerable money in loss of interest. Even five cents a box having to be invested in plant is not interesting or pleasing to the growers when prices for fruit are as low as they are, yet it is a remarkable solution of a difficult situation for by obtaining the control of the large volume of fruit prices will easily be more than five cents a box better than they would be if the old system of independent shippers had prevailed this year the same as it did the year previous.

Never since 1914 have the markets been in a more deplorable condition for obtaining a price, and if, as is expected, an advance over last year's prices is secured, the credit will be due to the co-operative, and much can be expected in the future if the growers will stick together and face these difficult times with courage and their investment will be worth their sacrifice.

It may be interesting to the growers to know that the Associated Growers do not owe the Bank of Montreal anything, but have a credit balance which is being distributed in proportion to the shipments from the various locals. This will apply on the bank loans borrowed by the various locals. The Growers' Packing House, Limited, on first mortgage debentures, have borrowed $165,000, and will have a second mortgage

5 year debenture issue of approximately $200,000. These two issues of debentures will be retired from the deductions received from the Associated Growers.

Yours sincerely,
Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd.
THOS. BULMAN,
One of the Executive."

"COMMUNITY'S BEST INVESTMENT."

An ex-governor of one of the states across the line, a short time ago, said something on the value of the local newspaper that will bear repeating as it answers so fully the whimsical fault-finding of the highly esteemed critics of the average local paper:

"Each year the local paper gives from $500 to $1000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his own town than any other ten men, and in fairness he ought to be supported, not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliantly edited or may not be brilliantly crowded with thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the preacher or the teacher. Understand me, I do not mean mentally, and yet on moral questions you will find most of the papers on the right side. Today the editors of local papers do the most for the least money of any people on earth."

From Our Exchanges

USE THE NEWSPAPERS.

An application to erect signs in Hamilton was made by the De Luxe Advertising Company of Toronto.

According to The Stirling News-Argus, Magistrate Jelfs, of Hamilton, said he could not appreciate the advertising merits of such sign-boards throughout the country, when there was an influential and efficient press available for those who wished to advertise their wares.

Newspapers were the right medium for advertising, and not sign-boards littered throughout the city and country, he said.—Exchange.

STRIKE IS HARD ON MERCHANTS.

The breakdown in newspaper service in New York, due to the strike of 2500 web pressmen, furnishes an interesting example of the power of advertising.

A New York story published on the front page of the Vancouver Province this week states that the merchants of the city are complaining bitterly of the loss of trade due to the fact that they are unable to place their advertising before the public.

This does not apply to so great an extent in a small town, where the public is somewhat acquainted with the individual storekeepers. Nevertheless, the principle holds good.

Further than that, the merchant who advertises is, generally speaking, a business man who is aggressive. The fact that he advertises is a sign manual that he is "onto his job." Apart from the information he gives to the buying public in his advertising, he demonstrates by virtue of his energy that he is a storekeeper worthy of support!

The non-advertiser may not be a mugwump in other respects, but who is to know it? All the public can tell about him is that those who pass his door are able to see his sign, know that he has a place of business. It takes more than that these days to sell goods.—Exchange.

HAS PRODUCED SOME RESULTS.

Red ink entries on the books of the fruit growers are not expected this season.

If it works out that the growers receive actual monetary returns for their 1923 fruit instead of debit notes, to what should we attribute the reason?

In 1922 general business conditions in our fruit markets were fully as good if not better than in 1923. Our crop last year was well up to that of this season.

Then why should we expect a return this season, when nearly all of our growers sustained heavy losses last year?

This is why. We have the co-operative movement actually in operation. Last year the co-operative hardly controlled half the tonnage, and with all the local competition, as well as the foreign fruit, our markets were demoralized and consignment ruined the whole business. This year, in the face of general conditions probably worse than those of 1922 with respect to the financial ability of prospective buyers of fruit, we are expecting to achieve actual returns for our produce.

For this we must thank the co-operative movement. And we venture to predict that in two seasons from now it will be doing much better for us than at present, because by that time there will be some measure of co-operation between the B. C. growers and those of Washington-Oregon, which is what we require to prevent the glutting of our various markets.—Penticton Herald.

THE ASSOCIATED.

In a season such as this, when our fruit growers are facing difficulties sufficient almost to sap the courage of the average man, it is not strange that one hears a good deal of criticism regarding the association which is handling the big bulk of the crop throughout the Okanagan. We are convinced, however, that when the season is over the general verdict will be that the officers of the Associated Growers have given the very best that was in them to their most perplexing and, we fear, thankless tasks. Our impression is that no group of men could render more faithful and energetic service than is being offered without stint by the men who have been placed in charge of the organization by the orchardists of the Okanagan. They have had plenty of criticism, what they need now is a little encouragement.—Vernon News.

ASSESSMENT AS LAST YEAR

Council Likely to Adopt Last Year's Assessment Roll for Taxing.

It has been practically decided by the Municipal Council to adopt last year's assessment roll. This will obviate the necessity of employing an assessor. The question will come up at the next regular meeting, when it is practically certain that a by-law to this effect will be adopted. Capt. H. H. Creech, who wrote up the assessment roll last year and did other necessary work in connection therewith, has again applied for the position and he will be offered the work at last year's remuneration.

The adoption of last year's roll does not mean that there will be no changes in valuations, but these will have to be made by the court of revision.

Mrs. Andrew's remarks were punctuated with illustrations from her own personal experiences, which were as interesting as they proved enlightening. In conclusion, the matter of salaries was touched upon, ranging as they do from $3 to $6 per day for "R.N.'s" to $100 or $125 a month for school nurses. Mrs. Andrew discussed the salary schedule, to stress the vocational side of the calling, rather than its adoption merely as a means of earning a living.

The general effect of Mrs. Andrew's lecture was most uplifting from her hearers' viewpoint, and left a deep impression upon those of our young people who hope some day to pursue the active avocation of nursing, than which there is scarcely a higher call to a woman in the world.

Miss V. Jones of the staff, who was in the chair, invited the Misses Helen White and Mary Hanna to thank Mrs. Andrew for her splendid lecture, the students' applause certifying that the laudatory remarks made by those young ladies were heartily reciprocated by all who had been privileged to listen to the lecture.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 570 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

CHAUTAUQUA IS ENJOYED BY PEOPLE

people and citizens generally could not afford to miss the opportunity, expressed themselves as willing to assume the responsibilities of providing a similar program next year.

On Saturday night Richard Davis entertained an almost full house with some of the very best tricks of the magician.

Monday was specially children's day, when the Pets' Parade and Will Lea, "the clown," were greatly enjoyed by the school children at the afternoon performance. On Monday evening a musical treat was furnished by the Swiss Alpine Yodlers.

Two inspirational lectures were given by Dr. J. Franklin Babb, the subject of his afternoon lecture being "You and Your Town," and the evening lecture "The One Hundred Per Cent Man." Dr. Babb is one of the prominent lecturers of the day and has accomplished much toward the development of the community spirit and bringing together the several denominations for co-operative church work.

As a prelude to both lectures, Patsy and Ola Anderson, two remarkably clever Vancouver girls, until recently resident at Kelowna, greatly delighted the audience with their dancing.

As a fitting climax to the four day program, came the musical entertainments of yesterday afternoon and evening, given by the Eiler-Willoughby ladies' orchestra and Claude Schell, noted New York tenor.

Wenatchee district has launched its second advertising campaign under the direction of the "Eat Wenatchee Apples" organization. A quarter of a million dollars will be expended on advertising the 1923 crop.

Timely Tips

Blueing Spots—If the blueing stains an article when washing, wash the spot in alcohol and it will disappear.

Silks—Always wash your white silk gloves, stockings, etc., in cold water. Otherwise they will turn yellow.

Salty Ham—If a salty ham is soaked in milk it will remove a great deal of the salt, as well as improve the flavor.

Culinary Success—Nearly everyone likes grated cheese on their macaroni. If one is desirous of saving labor, cut the cheese in small pieces and put them through the potato ricer.

Drying Dainty Materials—Remove dainty lawnes, organdies, etc., from the line as soon as dry, as the wind will make them limp.

Starch Substitute—Borax is a very good substitute for starch. A teaspoonful of borax used to each gallon of water will stiffen curtains sufficiently yet not have the cloudy appearance given by starch.

Wall Paper Paste—A good wall paper paste can be made by using rye flour and water. Take some flour and stir in warm water, then boil and cool, stirring constantly. No exact recipe can be given for the quantity of flour to use as different flours vary in different paste-making qualities. A few drops of carbolic acid will help preserve the paste.

Table of Baking—Bread, 40-75; Biscuits, 10-20; Piecrusts, 30-40; Puddings, 30-60; Custards, 15-20; Cake, 30-60; Gingerbread, 20-30; Beans, 8-10; Potatoes, 30-45.

C. B. Winter, manager of the Bank of Montreal, is back in his office again after a three weeks' vacation. During his holiday, Mr. Winter incidentally visited every town in B. C. in which he has been in the banking business. He visited first the northern end of the Valley, and later motored across the southern part of the Province to Calgary and southern Alberta, visiting a number of towns on the way. He found much optimism even among those towns which to him seemed to be down and out. Even Greenwood, a town of empty buildings, is looking for a revival in mining.

Gartrell and other properties, has recently been prepared and referred to the roads committee. This was for the purpose of enabling them to run proposed ditches in proper location.

At this week's meeting of the Municipal Council, a letter was read from S. Turner, in which he again complained of seepage water on his Paradise Flat property. Dampening Clothes—Use water as hot as can be borne on the hands. It will not be necessary to use as much on the clothes.

Stained Hands—A little kerosene will remove all grease and paint from the hands. A few small cakes or crackers should go with the drink. This gives a delightful chance to talk and get acquainted, but if this becomes tiresome, try a little card game that both know. If your caller prefers to go out, have a croquet game, tennis, or take a long country walk. Afterwards bring him in to have a "little tea." A very pleasant afternoon may be passed this way.

Dear A. Leda—

AT THE EMPRESS.

"Hunting Big Game in Africa with Gun and Camera," which will be showing at the Empress Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, is a picture which will interest young and old alike. The picture is not an ordinary one. It was secured by H. A. Snow, the hunter and Sidney Snow, the photographer, underneath the Southern Cross, surrounded by savage tribesmen, with the cries and trumpeting of wild animals bidding them defiance and even charging into the eye of the camera. They crouched in the tangled African "bush," lashed by insect pests, breathing the fumes of dank earth and parched with desert thirst until they achieved that for which they had set out.

The production enables the audience to vision what these dauntless men saw and realized—the last authoritative record of the kingdom of beasts, which is fated by civilization's urge to disappear and to become a memory. It is one of great educational value as well as providing plenty of thrills and entertainment.

Blonde Bess Opines: My oh, my—Labor Day has come and gone; the last picnic day of the year. We will now have to eat our sardines indoors.

Where Does The Trouble Lie?

One would think that Canada, a country with ample room for many times our present population, with abundant natural resources waiting to be exploited, with a climate that, taken the year round, can be favorably compared with that of many older portions of the globe, and offering many advantages and attractions to newcomers, would be the Mecca of millions of people who see but little future for them overseas. Yet we are unable to attract these people save in insignificant numbers. No one seems to know just why it is that in spite of her manifold advantages, the Dominion lacks people, and though many reasons have been advanced to account for this, yet none of them seem sufficient to remove the unseen obstacle and release the flood of immigration we need and must have before a permanent and stable prosperity can be our lot.

The greatest immigration agents any country can have are the people who already live there, but if conditions are such that a section of our present population is unable to show definite results for his work year after year, it is not unreasonable to suppose that they fail to invite their friends and relatives to join them in their lot. On every side we hear the complaint that business is slow because people have not the money with which to purchase the necessities and luxuries of life. Yet Canada is essentially one of the rich countries of the earth. The coming harvest, for instance, will produce between 400 and 500 million bushels of grain than which there is no better grown. Yet, we still find that the farmer is unable to buy because he has not the cash and he lacks credit.

Somewhere there is a dark complexioned gentleman in the wood pile, and until we find and root him out Canada's prosperity is going to be a matter of anticipation rather than reality. Yet the farmer, year after year, produces enough to make him fairly well off—but he is not well off. The average workman, compared with his fellow in Europe, earns big enough wages to make him comfortably situated—yet he is not in this happy state. Why is it?

In British Columbia this year growers find prices are so low that it is not worth while to gather the fruit; but on the prairies we are paying high prices for fruit of every kind and not using one-half the amount we would use were prices more in line with those of, say, prairie farm products.

The grain growers of this part of Canada are forming pools, not to hold up the consumer but merely to give them sufficient return for their product that will assure covering the cost of production. They fear that prices for this crop will be lower than ever, due to the greater yield, yet recent Liverpool quotations for our wheat were about $2.00.

Last winter the eastern provinces were faced with a fuel famine; the people had the means to buy coal, but they were only able to get poor grades and in small quantities. This winter prospects for fuel supply in Ontario are even less promising. There will be a shortage of hard coal in any case, and if there is a strike in the anthracite fields the situation will become serious.

Yet Alberta contains 15 per cent. of the world's visible supply of coal. Existing mines are equipped to handle treble the present output. There are two transcontinental railroads connecting the coal-producing provinces with the coal-using provinces—but our mines are working less than half time, due to lack of orders. Ontario people want western coal; western people want Ontario coal. On the one hand there is no work; on the other, no fuel.

One could go on enumerating similar instances almost without end. Plenty here, with low prices ruling; scarcity with corresponding high prices somewhere else. Where is the spread? The manufacturer says he is losing money. The farmer is in a like state. The retailer is losing; as is proven by the number of retail failures. The workman is constantly demanding higher wages in order to keep his family in reasonable comfort. And finally—we are told often enough—that the railroads are a losing proposition. Why is it that every factor is losing so heavily? Someone must be winning or there would not be the spread between producer's price and that which the consumer pays.

What is the answer? Is our distribution system getting top-heavy? Why should we be producing grain at a loss while other parts of the world are starving for our product? Why should we on the prairies be doing without fruit owing to high prices, while the growers only a few hundred miles away are losing thousands of dollars through not being able to market their product?

Why should Ontario people face a fuel famine in Canada with millions of tons of coal available in Alberta? There is grave economic waste somewhere. It appears to be in our distribution system. Canada is able to produce for the multitude, yet because of high distribution costs we cannot attract population from parts of the world where there are famine conditions. Right in our country we see the sad effects of high transportation and distribution costs.

Of course, things like these cannot be remedied in a day, but if we would set ourselves to it we could overcome much of the difficulty and make Canada so prosperous that millions who are living next door to poverty in other lands would flock to us. So long, however, as conditions are as they are at the present time, we cannot have real prosperity.

flavor and quality of the apples.

The varieties in this experiment were McIntosh, Red, Jonathan, Grimes Golden, Rome Beauty and Wagener. The results may be briefly summarized as follows:

McIntosh picked between the 20th and 30th of September remained in good condition until the end of January. Apples picked previous to September 20th shrivelled badly in storage and failed to develop their full flavor. By the end of September practically all apples had dropped from the trees. By September 25th, the seeds were light brown and the ground color of the skin had changed from green to yellow.

Jonathan kept best when picked between the 1st and 10th of October. Apples gathered previous to October 1st underwent an undue amount of shrivelling, while those picked subsequent to October 10th showed a marked tendency to break down in storage. Between October 1st and 10th the seeds were light brown in color, and the undercolor changed from green to yellow.

Grimes Golden picked between October 9th and 15th held up better in storage than did those harvested before or after these dates. The seeds at this time were brown in color and the undercolor light yellow.

Rome Beauty kept well in storage when picked between October 1st and 10th. Apples picked subsequent to the 10th were badly water cored. The seed color ranged from light to dark brown and the undercolor changed from green to yellow over October 1st and 16th.

Wagener gave best results when harvested between October 5 and 20. The seeds during this period varied from light to dark brown, and the undercolor changed from green to yellow.

These results suggest that the above varieties of apples should be harvested during the period when the seeds are light brown in color and the ground color is changing from green to yellow. It would also appear advisable to have all apples off the trees by October 20th.

What the Others Say

DANCING.

Oyama women have taken the lead in opening a discussion on the many and varied styles of dancing which one sees today. They have given expression to what is in many persons' minds. There is dancing and dancing. The stately quadrilles and other round dances of olden times are much different than those seen at many functions today.

The world has advanced in many things, but yet one can hardly say that it has advanced very far if we are to consider the rather immodest dancing of so many young people of the present generation.

There was a courtly grace and stately manner of the old time dances that is not seen now on the ball room floors. In those times the gavotte, minuet and others were marked by a chivalry, courtesy and ceremony that has been lost in the modern dances. They were eloquent of graces and outward refinements of which we cannot now boast, to quote a leading work on the subject.

The introduction some years ago of the tango, no doubt, brought about the change to the present dances. Jazz, too, has had a share in introducing many new steps.

There is encouragement in the recent announcements that jazz is gradually being forgotten. The war made it popular, and perhaps we needed jazz at the time, but one can hardly say that it is a requirement of the present.

There is a proper way to dance and no matter what the step or how intricate, the stateliness of old can be retained. It lies, perhaps, with the older folks to exercise an intelligent supervision over the dances of today. Particularly would this be effective at the dances for young folks. If they learn to dance properly in their youth, one need have no fear of the future.—Vernon News.

HIGH TAXES KILL CANADIAN INDUSTRY.

Dominion revenue for July totalled $32,000,000. What does this mean? To the party politician it means opportunity for expensive rhetoric about national prosperity. To those who take a more serious view of public affairs, it has a graver aspect. To them it measures the appalling burden of taxation which is being imposed upon the country. And, unquestionably, it is appalling. Imagine this country paying out a million dollars a day! Imagine this country paying as much in a month now as it paid in a year less than twenty years ago! Consider a scale of taxation which, if the American people paid its equivalent, would cost them $300,000,000 a month!

Before the war people complained of customs taxation: Today customs taxes are higher than ever, and direct taxation is higher than customs taxes. Before the war we had no direct taxes at all. In July the Sales Tax alone amounted to $11,000,000. Before the war we had no income tax; in July it totalled $4,000,000. And so to the end of the chapter.

The effect is too obvious. It is seen in millions of capital diverted from development channels. It is seen in timidity and depression in industry. It is seen in a cost of living that will not come down. And it is seen in emigration figures that tell their own tale.

There are two ways to develop Canada. The first way is to bring in capital; the second to bring in immigrants. But capital does not come where taxation is high, and immigrants do not come where living costs are high. Hence the existing depression.

The Government may try to ignore facts. It may go on talking about "buoyant revenues" and "unbounded resources" and all the other catch-words of unthinking optimists. But the people are not fooled. They are feeling the pinch of taxation, and they are preparing to deal hardly with politicians and Governments that will not quit their extravagance.—Ottawa Journal.

The conifer tree cone crop of the Fraser River valley, British Columbia, will be a good one this year. This crop figures little as yet in statistical reports. Nevertheless, it is part of a movement that will be of vast importance to future generations, for the seed is being used in reforestation schemes that, as yet only in their infancy, will eventually be of great magnitude. Three years ago a seed extraction plant was established at New Westminster, B. C. Its primary object was to supply the needs of the British government for reforestation in the British Isles. The operation of this plant, the only one in the world working on a commercial scale, became noised abroad, and as a result it was called upon to meet demands from all parts of the earth. Seeds are chiefly collected from the Douglas fir, Western hemlock and Sitka spruce.

In the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, south-east of Edson, Alberta, on the Canadian National Railways, there are some remarkable deposits of semi-bituminous coal. These deposits lie in great hills the seams being from 50 to 150 feet deep and the coal is loaded on the railway cars with steam shovels, after being loosened by means of powder. The overburden of earth, four to twenty feet in depth, is first removed, exposing the great beds of coal for mining operations. Two of the mines are now able to ship out 50 carloads every eight hours, but can easily double that, cars being run alongside the immense walls of coal for loading. These deposits are in the Brazeau field, one of the most extensive in Alberta.

Breaking It Gently.

Daughter—"May I go to a wedding, father?" Father—"Well, alright—but must you go?" Daughter—"I suppose so. I'm the bride."

Cleopatra Washed Her Face This Way

She used Palm and Olive oils, the same rare oils which are blended in Palmolive. She knew that to have a fresh fine skin, thorough cleansing was necessary. The crude combination of Palm and Olive oils which was the best that even royalty could then obtain is now brought to perfection in Palmolive.

The girl of today, if she would be beautiful, follows Cleopatra's practice. Every day she cleanses the skin thoroughly with mild Palmolive Soap. Never does she permit cold cream, rouge and powder to accumulate and clog the pores of the skin. She knows that this starts irritation and blackheads, pimples and other blemishes result.

Palmolive with its mild creamy lather is lotion-like in its action. It freshens, revives and stimulates and leaves the skin delightfully fresh and rosy.

This a great luxury may be enjoyed at the price of ordinary soap. You can pay more, but you can't get a finer, milder cleanser.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first-class dealers.

Palm and olive oils — nothing else — give nature's green color to Palmolive Soap.

Who Pays for Advertising ?

Why, nobody pays for it. Like the labor-saving machine that cuts down overhead and increases production. It pays for itself.

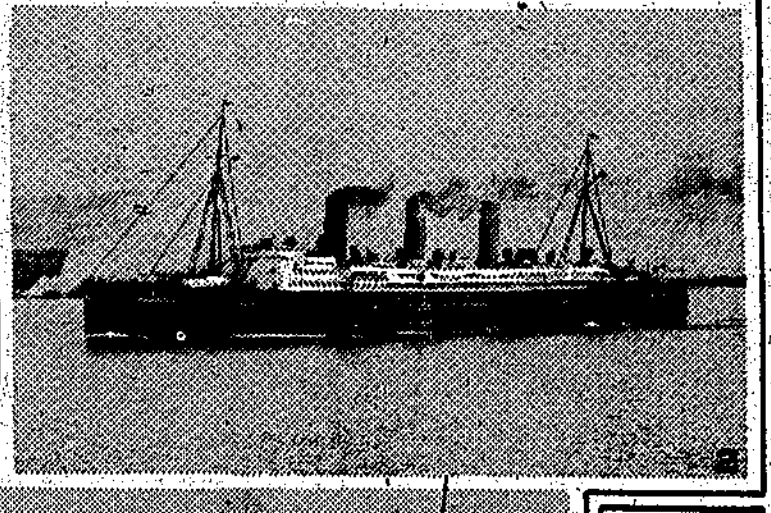

Or like the truck installation that decreases delivery charges by increasing efficiency. It pays for itself.

Advertising cuts down selling costs — breaks down sales resistance. It pays for itself.

Captain Hailey

Empress of Russia

Empress of Canada

Captain Robinson R.N.R.

Empress of Australia

(1) Captain A. J. Hailey, R.N.R., commander of the "Empress of Canada," was born at Bradford in 1874. In 1900 he joined the Canadian Pacific and in 1910 received his first command. During the war he commanded hospital ships, notably the "Empress of India" and the "Manitoba." His appointment to the "Canada" dates back to the launching of the liner. His last accomplishment was the capturing of the Blue Ribband of the Pacific for the fastest journey across.

(2) The "Empress of Russia" was built by the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering Co., Ltd., of Glasgow, has quadruple screws and driven by steam turbines, which develop a speed of 20 knots per hour. She is a product of English best engineering and has the utmost in accommodation and luxury.

(3) The "Empress of Canada," 21,500 ton liner, was the second liner to give aid and shelter to destitute of the Oriental turmoil. In addition to carrying about 800 passengers, she took 1,500 more on board where they received clothes and medical attention. She recently came to the limelight when she captured the Blue Ribband of the Pacific, making the voyage from Yokohama and Vancouver in 8 days, 10 hours and 25 minutes. Her next winter program includes an elaborate cruise of the world, where she will take a limited number of globe trotters to no less than 18 foreign ports with many inland excursions included in the itinerary.

(4) The "Empress of Australia," often called the pride of the Pacific on account of her luxurions and comfortable accommodations, flies with a length of 324 feet and is an all-berthing vessel of a registered tonnage of 22,000 tons.

(5) Captain Robinson, R.N.R., of the "Empress of Australia," whose heroic feat on the scene of the Oriental disaster, has prompted the Spanish ambassador at Tokyo to confer the King, recommending the bestowal of a decoration. Captain Robinson is one of the most popular seafarers on the Pacific and has served on Canadian Pacific ships since 1895.

GRAPHIC tales of the Oriental disaster are daily being received on this continent. Many of them contain harrowing experiences of surviving inhabitants of Tokyo, Yokohama and mountain resorts nearby, and make true the age-old adage, "Great disasters have produced great men."

Canada's participation in rescue work in the Far East was the first foreign aid to reach that stricken country and to-day the world has learned of unaccountable feats of bravery, deeds of generosity and self-sacrifices on the parts of several Canadians, who at the time of the turmoil were engaged in missionary or mercantile fields.

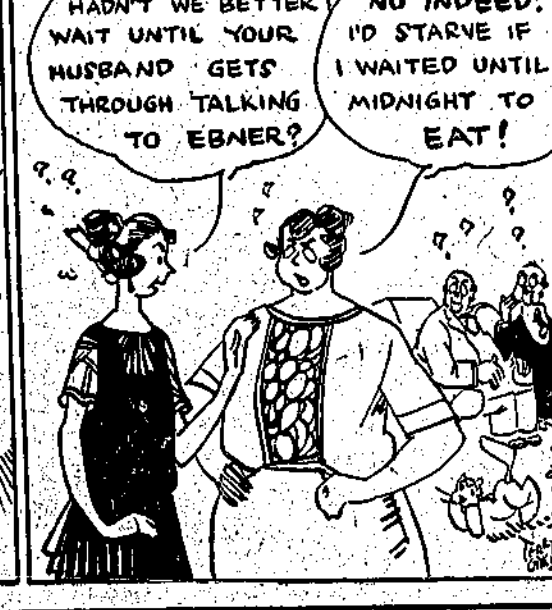

To Captain Robinson of the "Empress of Australia" and Captain Kent, river pilot, the country stands indebted for the rescue and care of 4,000 lives. The report goes on to state that the "Australia" was making ready to sail for Vancouver, when the city of Yokohama was seen crumbling and smothered under the tidal wave. The sea became so agitated that other ships broke loose and rammed the "Australia" in-

DEHYDRATING PLANT DAMAGED BY FIRE

Damage by fire estimated at $2,000 was suffered by the new dehydrating plant recently installed at Pentleton by the Dominion Department of Agriculture for experimental purposes. The equipment had been put in a building owned by the Pentleton Co-operative Growers opposite the Co-operative packing house. The fire, which originated from the furnace under the evaporating chambers, occurred Tuesday evening, but was quickly detected and put under control before the equipment was entirely destroyed. It was only the quick application of water that saved the plant from destruction.

Correspondence TO OUR JAPANESE.

Editor Review. Sir,—It may be from oversight on my part, in reading the columns of the Review lately, that I have not seen any expression of sympathy with the Japanese residents of this community, over the recent appalling disasters that have overtaken their finest cities, and taken the lives of many thousands of their countrymen; and perhaps not a few of their relatives and friends; but while personally offering them my condolence, I would in particular as a local leader of the Boy Scouts of Canada like to offer the Japanese residents of the Summerland district an assurance of the sympathy of the Boy Scouts of the Southern Okanagan and to tell them that the Boy Scouts of the whole British Empire are being organized to offer relief and help to stricken Nippon and to tell them that nearly a million Scouts in the Empire will soon be doing just a little bit each to help Nippon in the hour of its trouble.

Yours faithfully, H. H. CREESE, Captain, District Commissioner, The Boy Scouts Association of Canada.

Editor Review. There are several remarks made by the officials of the new co-operative that I think ought to be looked into and that as soon as possible. We were told before we signed up, if they got eighty per cent. they could set prices and hold them there. They got the eighty per cent. and over, and now what are the consequences? At the very first they set the prices low so that the grower would just make a fair living. Then they cut the price to keep the American fruit off our market. After a few cars are sold one independent undersells them, then another cut to compete or undersell them (what is the difference between what they are doing and consignment?). I presume if they had ninety per cent. or even ninety-nine they would be compelled to do the same.

I wonder if our brave officials at Vernon know that it was this kind of price cutting that broke up the old O.U.G. here in the Okanagan. They claim the price before the last cut practically drove the American fruit off the market; then why not turn our back on the few independents and let them go ahead and sell at such prices. One more year as the last two will be enough, as nine out of every ten of the growers will have to quit, and there is no use of putting the other eighty per cent. along with the twenty.

The statement was made by Thomas Bulman, vice-president, at the Court House: "I do not think the growers will lose any more than in former years."—A great expression to make by a man who was hired to make a better showing than in former years! Or why did we organize?

The only satisfaction I can see ahead of us is that while they are slowly bleeding us to death it is to kick them off and next March to put in a whole new bunch.

It is no wonder that a man of Mr. Pratt's record had to resign rather than lose his reputation and I think his first impression of our sales manager was correct, when he said he was no good.

Yours truly, FRUIT GROWER.

FLICKERING LIGHT ACCOUNTED FOR

Users of electric light east of the transforming station have noticed frequent flickerings in the light and have wondered what is the cause. The municipal electrician states that the throwing in of the switch for the new electrically operated elevator at the storage building is responsible. For a fraction of a second when the power is turned on to change the position of the elevator, a heavy current is drawn. To overcome this it would be necessary to run a heavier power line from the main transformer to the big building.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

As the Log Cabin has just closed for the season and the winter program for the Art League is now under advisement, the editor of the Review has kindly given the officers of the League an opportunity of re-stating their aims and of publishing the results which have been accomplished up to the present.

In the first place the Art League is now definitely past the experimental stage and has proven its value as a factor in the community life. At the outset of its career some doubt was expressed as to its practicability and for that reason we will lay stress on its commercial aspects and leave the cultural side of the organization for a later issue.

Is there a market for products of home-manufacture, and will it be possible to develop such market to the point where the volume of sales will make it profitable for a number of workers to give their spare time to the making of handicraft? At the close of our second season we have no hesitation in saying that the market is unlimited, provided, of course, that the articles offered for sale are artistic, distinctive and up to a certain standard. It will take time to prove which articles are going to be most saleable, but there is no doubt about the demand.

In our first season we had two hundred visitors at the Log Cabin, this year we had five hundred, mostly tourists from outside points. Our stock was limited and yet we sold one hundred and twenty-five dollars' worth of pottery and small souvenirs. In one day we have registered visitors from Vernon, Kelowna, Kamloops, Penticton, Omak, Wenatchee and Nebraska. We have been given publicity from Wenatchee to Los Angeles, and from Vancouver to Toronto, and as our excellent tourist camp becomes better known we will have a steady stream of tourists. With the building of a through road to the Coast this stream, which is new but a mere trickle, will become a torrent.

We scarcely realize that here in the Okanagan Valley we have scenery and summer climate unexcelled anywhere on this continent, and that Californians, with the burning desert on one side and the ocean on the other, must come north for their vacation trips. As there are a million automobiles in California, anyone can readily see that our tourist traffic is only beginning.

That is why we should spend this winter improving our camp so that it will be favorably remembered by
