BASKETBALL GAMES DRAW LARGE CROWD

Vancouver on Long End of a 33-25 Tally after Exciting Play.

Although the Summerland senior team was defeated by the clever aggregation from the Coast on Saturday night, local enthusiasts of the popular indoor game of basketball were greatly elated at the splendid showing our boys made at the College Gym, when they held the visitors down to a score of 33-25.

The first real storm of the winter undoubtedly kept many away who would have otherwise been present, but despite the blizzard and extreme cold outside there was a good crowd present to greet the visitors and cheer our boys. Keen disappointment was felt at the non-appearance of the Naramata team, which was scheduled to meet the second string of the Vancouver Rowing Club's basketballers in the opening game. The sudden coming of the storm made the lake un-navigable with safety, and thus it was that a scratch team was made up to do battle with the "B" team. This game ended with a lopsided score of 44-11 in favor of Vancouver.

The big game of the evening was held up for some time pending the arrival of the eastbound train, which was delayed some fourteen hours owing to the storm. Upon this train was Howard Daniel, speeding back from Vancouver specially to line up with the home side against the visiting attack, and when he ultimately arrived he received a great ovation. In the meanwhile the visiting teams staged an exhibition game, which kept the crowd in good humor.

No one present was optimistic enough to anticipate a victory for the home team, all feeling that everything would be hunky-dory if our string gave the visitors a good game and made them extend themselves. That they flattered their supporters is putting it mildly, for they had their speedy and clever opponents on their toes from the first blast of the whistle. It was a close game, it was a keen game, it was a game in which every known artifice and code of signals was required by the visitors to hold down the dashing onslaught of the local boys, who played the game of their lives. In mid-field and passing tactics the visitors had nothing on our young athletes, but they had a slight edge by reason of the average height of their team, a big factor in passing the ball above the reach of their doughtier opponents. They had the happy faculty also of finding the net at most unexpected times, and this must be rightly credited to the clever tactics of H. Arkley of the visiting side, who besides being a voracious jack-in-the-box, was invariably found immediately under the home hoop when a long stray shot drifted his way. In nearly every instance he converted such passes into tallies, and it was thus that the score sheet of the visitors mounted up. Despite the close surveillance of Mike Clay the mentioned player proved too tricky for him in that regard, Arkley placing to his credit no less than eleven baskets in the game.

The call of play in the first period found the visitors in the lead by a score of 17-10, but after the welcome rest it looked for a time as if the home team would more than hold their own. Manager Bill Johnston had evidently been whispering into the ear of Kenny Walden, for immediately upon resumption of the game that diminutive ball-tosser adopted the tactics of the irrespressible Arkley, and before they could break up the combination of long passing to him he had notched six baskets. From then on he was watched closely, and the visitors' score crept steadily up again. A really splendid exhibition of basketball resulted in a score of 33 to 25 in favor of the Vancouver Rowing Club.

Many nice things were heard on all sides of the refereeing of E. L. Yeo, the don of the Pacific League. His extreme fairness and close attention to the game ranking him as a pastmaster. The teams gave an exhibition of clean sportsmanship that will long be remembered, their general

RURAL ROUTE MAIL MEN GET HOLIDAY

Rural route mail couriers do not have any holidays except Sundays. This Christmas season the authorities at Ottawa, evidently sympathizing with the couriers in their position, made New Year's day a legal holiday for them all over the country. Advice to this effect was received here on Monday. Unless objection is taken by patrons on the rural route this innovation of giving the couriers a holiday on January first will be continued.

KELOWNA GROWERS TALK OF ERECTING PRE-COOLING PLANT

Kelowna.—The management of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange is considering the possibility of the erection of a pre-cooling plant here, the need for which is becoming more and more apparent. Though the present federal Act only allows grants to be made for such undertakings when handled by municipal councils, it is thought that a direct grant may possibly be included in next year's estimates. Statements in the United States press show the advantage gained by the installation of pre-cooling plants, one instance being cited where a car of pre-cooled cherries sent from California to the New York market fetched almost six times the price obtained for similar carloads of identically the same fruit, which had not been treated in the same way. Another matter which is engaging the serious attention of the management is the necessity of inducing local growers to pull out their filler trees, which for the most part consist of poorer varieties. It is expected that not only would the horticultural results obtained be good, but also from a marketing point of view a great step in advance, as the Exchange would not have to look after a great quantity of fruit for which it is extremely difficult to find a satisfactory market. In the event of it being possible to secure funds for a pre-cooling plant, it is proposed to add two storeys to the old building of the Kelowna Canning Company, which is now the property of the Exchange.

TELEPHONE CO. SEEKS RENEWAL OF FRANCHISE

Ratepayers Required to Give Their Approval to New Agreement.

It is ten years since the Summerland Telephone Company was given its franchise by the municipality. As it was for a period of ten years this privilege was granted, it is now necessary that a new agreement be entered into by the telephone company and the municipality.

This matter has been before the board of directors of the company and the municipal council and the result is an agreement similar to the first one but altered in a few important points. This agreement is embodied in a by-law which the ratepayers will be asked to sanction. This by-law is published in another column.

Under the original agreement the municipality undertook to supply, free of charge, electric power for charging the central energy batteries. From now on a charge of 4 cents per kilowatt hour will be made. The new franchise requires a twenty-four hour day service, but this was obtained from the company some time ago when it was permitted to increase its former rates of two and three dollars to three and four dollars per month for resident and business phones respectively.

Under the old agreement the company was granted the right to use municipal poles at an annual rental to be mutually agreed upon. The new contract gives the municipality similar rights on company poles. Provision is also made in the new deal for regulations for removal of trees or branches overhanging, or on streets and lanes used by the telephone company.

INSTALLATION HELD HERE A JOINT AFFAIR

Masons of Summerland, Peachland and Penticton Erect Officers' Banquet

Some 90 members from Penticton, Peachland and Summerland attended a joint installation ceremony at Summerland Lodge, No. 56, A.F. & A.M., on Thursday night, the installing master being H. B. Morley. One of the pleasing functions was the presentation of the Past-Masters jewel to the retiring master of the Penticton Lodge.

After the installation of officers the local lodge banqueted the visiting brethren at the Summerland Hotel at midnight, where a capable staff under the supervision of Mrs. K. S. Hogg and Mrs. F. W. Andrew spread a bounteous repast.

C. J. Huddleston officiated as toastmaster, and among the toasts given were "The Grand Lodge," which was proposed by S. A. Macdonald, and responded to by H. B. Morley; "Our Visitors," proposed in a happy speech by Mr. Clark of Penticton, and responded to by Grant Lang of Peachland; "The Ladies," proposed by K. S. Hogg, and responded to by Kenneth Elliott; "Our Host," (Summerland Lodge No. 56) was proposed by Grant Lang, while the duty of responding fell to C. J. Huddleston.

A pleasing feature was the rendition of several songs by J. O. Steeves, who was accompanied on the piano by T. P. Thornber.

COUNCILLOR KIRK QUITTING CIVIC WORK

Councillor J. A. Kirk informs the Review that he is retiring from municipal work.

Coun. Kirk has served his municipality long and faithfully, for many years as chairman of probably the most important committee, that of public works, under whose charge fell the irrigation and domestic water systems. Always thorough and efficient, his services have been of great value to the municipality and he has given freely of his time in connection with matters of technical nature. His retirement will be regretted by many.

A portion of a tunnel belonging to the old Douglas mine, which was closed at Nanaimo in 1891, running underground in the vicinity of the intersection of Nicol and Grace streets, suddenly collapsed on Christmas Eve, resulting in a cave-in from six to twelve feet in depth in different parts of the thoroughfares in that vicinity.

MUNICIPALITY GETS ITS DOLE FROM VICTORIA

Race Track, Liquor and Motor Licence Cheques Arrive.

Cheques in favor of the municipality totalling $4,404.08 have been received recently by treasurer F. J. Nixon from Victoria. This sum represents the municipality's portion of motor licence fees, pari-mutuel receipts and liquor profits.

From the motor licences Summerland gets $1,855.68; pari-mutuel $1,032.10 and liquor board $2,152.70. From this latter sum the Attorney-General's department has deducted $130.55, which is represented as being chargeable to the corporation for cost of investigation and prosecution under the Liquor Act between the dates April 1 and September 30. As the municipal officials have no knowledge of any incidents which would incur such expenses to be charged against the municipality, an explanation is being asked from Victoria.

Ottawa.—The government is likely to modify the new sales tax act. Newspaper may be exempted and the inventory of regulations simplified.

KELOWNA MAN INVENTS A NEW SAWDUST STOVE

A resident of Kelowna, Mr. A. Brunette, has invented a sawdust burning stove which really does all that is required of it. At his nine-roomed house at the orchard city he has given his invention a strenuous try-out during the prevailing cold spell and it is being entirely up to his expectations besides being a source of wonder to his visitors. In being a large house he has established two of these burners, and it is claimed the house is cosy and warm at all times. The apparatus is easily installed, and in appearance resembles any wood burning stove. It is not at all unsightly and it requires to be replenished with sawdust every four and a half hours. At bedtime the sawdust is slightly ped down, and in the morning there is a beautiful glow from the stove.

Another feature of Mr. Brunette's invention is that it is smokeless, and the ash residue almost negligible.

PRODUCES NEW LATE APPLE

Peachland Grower Develops a Winter McIntosh—New Late Peach.

One of our local fruit growers, C. Aitkens, has developed a new apple, and it is understood satisfactory arrangements have been made with him for the putting of this new tree on the market. Its superior winter qualities having somewhat the flavor of the McIntosh, have resulted in it being honored with the name Winter McIntosh. To Peachland also goes the credit of a possibility of a new peach. A sample of this fruit was shown late this past fall, when, practically every other type of peach was off the market. Its bid for popular favor lies in the fact that it is of superior quality for eating out of the hand, is large in size and of very handsome appearance for so late a fruit. Mr. Oliver Keating, the producer, says it originated from a seedling. It has been well spoken of wherever it has been shown or tried. The writer undertook to can a couple of them as a sample and was barely able to get two of them in a No. 2 1/2 fruit can. So far we understand Mr. Keating has not made any arrangements for its disposal to the public.

THOMPSON'S WORK IS RECOGNIZED BY U. S. A. EXPERTS

Successful Experiments at Peachland on Sweet Potatoes and Early Melons.

H. H. Thompson of the Lako View fruit ranch received a communication from W. R. Batty, one of the horticultural experts of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, Washington, to whom he sends annual reports on his sweet potato culture experiments; and Mr. Batty states that Mr. Thompson's success with the sweet potato adds a new chapter to its history in America. Mr. Thompson had previously received trial seed from this department and the department have notified him that they are sending him some further varieties to test next year.

Through his seed culture Mr. Thompson has made it possible for some of the growers at Oliver, B.C., to get in on a specially early variety of musk melon and tomato which he has developed, they having purchased all the available supply of seed of the former as well as a supply of the latter from him. These people had learned through some of the fruit inspectors where and from whom the earliest melons were being shipped and hence their application to Mr. Thompson for the seed.

Allan Iverson, a former student of the Peachland High School and a resident here with his parents, was a visitor in town recently, spending a day or two with friends.

J. McDonald, a former resident and land owner in the district spent a few days in town last week visiting his sister, Mrs. Luchmann, St. Since his former days here he has

LOCAL MAN'S INVENTIONS ARE PRAISED

P. G. Koop Receives Laudatory Write-up for Automobile Improvements.

Many of his neighbors know more or less of the many ingenious inventions of P. G. Koop, who has devised appliances, machines and other ingeniousities of help in the work about his orchard and more particularly of the several accessories for his Studebaker car. Nevertheless, there will be many of our readers who will find the following, taken from the Pacific Coast Motorist, published at Vancouver, of real news interest.

"It is so unusual in these days to find genius hiding its light under a bushel that the discovery is made with a sense of wondering admiration.

The little town of Summerland possesses a mechanical genius of unusual type in the person of Mr. P. G. Koop. Not a few of his clever inventions are fittings and attachments for his handsome Studebaker car, and whether the material be wood or metal, the workmanship defies criticism.

In a central position just in front of the windshield is a small lamp, which lights only when the machine is turning corners. By a cord attached to the bar of the steering wheel and operated in connection with two pulleys, this lamp yields to every movement of the wheel, and gives a clear steady light on the road at that precarious moment before the headlights come around.

The most disconcerting moment of a car thief's life would be the one spent in the driver's seat of Mr. Koop's car, for, by a clever connection with the horn, operated by a secret switch, the owner can, on leaving the car, prepare for the next occupant a horrible shock. The luckless one, immediately his weight is on the driver's seat, attracts the attention of the entire neighborhood, and the horn shrieks healthily and persistently until the seat is vacated.

LOCAL CO-OPERATIVE HOLD MEETING TODAY

It is expected that there will be a large attendance of members of the Summerland Co-operative Growers this afternoon at the Rialto Theatre, when a general meeting is being held. T. Bulman, vice-president, will attend the meeting.

HAPPY SOCIAL GIVEN FRIDAY BY METHODISTS

Young People Gather to Welcome Back Old Friends—Also Farewell.

One of the most successful events of its kind was held in the parlor of the Methodist church on Friday evening last when about forty young people gathered for a social evening. This was arranged during the holiday season while a number of our young people are home on vacation and at the same time in farewell to several more who have left during the past week to take up various studies.

Music and games were the order of the evening, the program being in charge of G. Thornber, assisted by Mrs. Angove and S. F. Sharp. One game which found particular favor was a story-telling contest in which Noel Wright was the winning contestant. Musical items were soloed by Mrs. Armitage and Mrs. Kathleen Brown and a duet by Mrs. W. White and Mr. Sennrich, while Mr. Terry of Vernon and T. P. Thornber gave instrumental selections. Brief speeches were made by Rev. J. H. Armitage, G. Thornber and S. F. Sharp.

Refreshments were served during the evening.

GASOLINE PRICES ADVANCED 3 CENTS

Beginning with Tuesday, the retail price of gasoline was advanced three cents to provide for the provincial tax on gasoline which went into effect the first day of 1924.

More British Columbia geography is to be taught in the schools of the Province, according to a statement contained in a letter received by the Native Sons of British Columbia from the Department of Education.

ARGUES AGAINST PROPOSED INCREASE OF EXPRESS RATES

That the C. P. R. should take into consideration its revenue from lands granted that corporation by the Dominion when it is fixing its rates for freight and expressage, is an argument advanced by G. G. McGeer, who represented the British Columbia government at the recent sitting of the railway commission at Vancouver.

Mr. McGeer contended that the C. P. R. had huge revenues from the sale of such lands, as well as big reserves from operating the railway, and said he would contend that instead of asking the fruit growers of British Columbia, who were already almost on their last legs, to pay more for express rates that it should meet part of the loss it was complaining of from such reserves.

"That is an old argument," remarked Commissioner Carvell, and Mr. Phippen together. "It has been advanced often before."

"Well, if the C. P. R., which has hundreds of millions in reserve, has to come to the hard-up fruit growers of British Columbia to enable it to increase its revenue, it is a startling state of affairs—and this argument has remained long unheeded, if it is so old," remarked Mr. McGeer. "Surely," he added, "the C. P. R. cannot take the position that it must allow this poor infant of the company, the Dominion Express, to come to the Okanagan fruit growers for the sustenance which will enable it to live."

Mr. McGeer indicated that he would argue that the C. P. R. should meet any loss the Dominion Express might be operating under from the railway company's reserves, and let the fruit growers have the lowest rate possible till they were more successful in the Okanagan.

REFERENDUM WILL DECIDE FEE QUESTION

Municipal Election Day is Jan. 19th, and Will Vote on Matter Then.

To determine the question of payment of High School fees the Summerland Municipal School Board has decided to let the electors settle it among themselves by way of a referendum, which opportunity will be given them on January 19th next. That is the date of the Municipal election, the proclamation which is in the hands of the printers giving the date of nomination of candidates as the 14th inst.

A straight "yes" or "no" will be required from the electors on the following question on the 19th: "Are you in favor of the Summerland Municipal School Board charging High School fees?" Polling stations are at the Municipal Office, and the Summerland Hotel.

It is to be hoped that every elector will register an answer to this vexed question and settle it for all time. To a great many it has for a long time appeared that the charging of high school fees to the students whose parents are already paying taxes is out of all proportion to other towns and cities, where such charges are unknown. This was the consensus of opinion of a large number at the last public meeting of the ratepayers, and a vote to abolish such charges was then put to the meeting and carried. Acting upon the feeling of that gathering the School Board are taking the above means of settling the question in a legal manner.

WEATHER OF PAST WEEK WAS SNAPPY

By Comparison with 1916 and Previous Winters Present Spell is Mild.

It may be poor consolation for residents of the Okanagan to learn that down on the prairie, they are experiencing 40 below zero weather, but nevertheless it is worth while cogitating upon when we imagine it is cold here. Calgary papers of Monday's date tell of that city being in a 35 below grip, whilst Saskatoon and Lake Louise were experiencing as low as 40. Edmonton reached nearly the same mark, whilst Medicine Hat went one lower. Local conditions may be described as "snappy," but there have been no extraneous happenings.

The cold spell began with the setting of the sun on Saturday, when the thermometer dropped rapidly until the minimum was reached on Sunday of 5 below. The lowest notch was reached on Monday when 7 below was also registered at the Dominion Experimental Station.

The last similar cold spell occurred in January 1916, starting early in the month, and continuing until the minimum was reached on Sunday of 5 below. The lowest notch was reached on Monday when 7 below was also registered at the Dominion Experimental Station.

The S.S. Sicamous failed to continue further south than Summerland, and Penticton was then cut off from communication by lake and rail, the K.V.R. being in a precarious condition owing to slides. Passengers and mail from the north were transferred and taken to Penticton by road, and by the end of the first week traffic on the railway had become almost entirely suspended. During this cold spell the steamer froze solidly in the ice near Crescent Beach, and postmaster Hayes had to convey the mails from the boat by hand sleigh. Two men endeavoring to reach the steamer by skating had a narrow escape from drowning.

It was thought that the steamer was frozen in for the winter, but Captain Robinson pluckily stuck to the formidable task of making a channel through the ice from Summerland to Okanagan Landing, and this he did eventually, despite much propeller trouble. That was the last the people of Summerland saw of the Sicamous for twenty-five days, it being able to make trips daily between Okanagan Landing and Kelowna only. For a long time Summerland was deprived of any mail service, and the whole of the South Okanagan was cut off from the outside world. Local merchants were faring badly in the matter of replenishing their stocks, while some of the staple lines of groceries were absolutely depleted.

The spell continued throughout the remainder of February, and before it broke up there were several narrow escapes from death. E. C. Graham, accompanied by Dr. Andrew as a passenger, in the former's Ford, went through the ice near Trout Creek point, they luckily jumping in time, and being both good swimmers reached safety. O. Atkins going to their assistance in his car had a narrow escape, one of the front wheels of his car crashing through. The car owned by Mr. Graham was later salvaged from twenty feet of water, whilst it took a lot of work and daring to regain the car owned by Mr. Atkins.

On Sunday, February 27th, the siren of the Sicamous again awoke the ozone, and a motley crowd assembled at the wharf to give her welcome. Flags were waved by excited citizens, while horns, buzzers, tin cans and noise-making devices aided in the celebration of din and joy at the tense situation being relieved.

From then on the boat made progress every day in continuing its way to Penticton, much dynamite being used in blasting a channel. On March 2nd a welcome chinook arrived, and Summerland once again took on its normal aspect.

CONFISCATING CAPITAL.

Labor may rule the British Empire. Lloyd George says Labor has the right to show what it can do. It won the recent election. Ramsay Macdonald, head of the Labor Party, would be Prime Minister. He tells of Labor Party plans.

First, it would tax wealth, not the income. That is only child's play. It would take a piece out of every fortune above $25,000. The bigger the fortune, the bigger the piece taken. Small fortunes would lose 1 per cent. of principal, big fortunes, 50 per cent. The capital tax will be taken gradually, to avoid destroying values by forced sales.

Whether the experiment would work well no man can say. The nomadic Tartars, driving cattle with them, cut pieces off the living animals as they went along. That was a capital tax on the animal, but not good for cattle in the long run.

If Labor came to power it would avoid many things that it now hates. To run a nation, and keep the complicated machine going, is not easy. It is especially dangerous to interfere prematurely with selfishness, which stimulates energy and accomplishment.

HOW THE BILLBOARDS FAIL.

The same principles apply in selling a cake of soap, a phonograph or a sewing machine as apply in selling the League of Nations or any idea calculated to affect foreign or domestic legislation. The people must be told about the article, they must be convinced that it is worthy, they must be stimulated to interest and moved to a determination to buy or to demand action.

In these days the recognized principal factor in selling is advertising. It is the only means of reaching the people. All of which brings us to the question of the kind of advertising that is most effective. Of course, there always will be some difference in opinion, but it is enlightening to note that the strong advocates of billboard appeal run to cover quickly when they have a desire actually to sell.

Quite apart from the unsightly aspect of the billboard, it seems strange that when its supporters wish to sell the people an idea with a view to bringing about beneficial legislation they see at a glance the billboard is a failure. When the large corporations want to really sell an idea they proceed as a rule to engage a press agent, or a "director of public relations." Then a drive is made to get their story before the public through the news columns of the newspapers. This is not always attempted because the corporation likes to get advertising without paying for it. The policy often is adopted because the corporation realizes that only newspaper advertising has a definite selling power.

The people to whom the corporations wish to sell their ideas are the same people to whom the corporations wish to sell their merchandise, and the same selling principles apply. Is it not strange that thinking men should in such circumstances adopt rules of advertising so diametrically opposed as the newspaper and the billboard?

The more thoughtfully conducted corporations tell their stories over their signatures in paid advertising appeal, recognizing the force of frank and open statement that can stand the light of public investigation. There are enough of the others left, however, who still cling to the old time poster idea of advertising, just as there are homes today that resent the installation of modern plumbing and hang on to the old time pump and bucket.

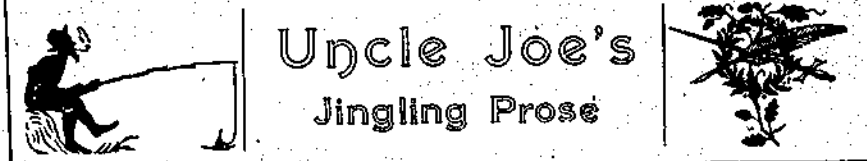

The billboard is an economic waste. It is thrust under the nose of a suffering public with its garish designs and half finished message. Instead of being taken into the home as a friend it is resented as an intrusion on public privacy and a menace to the public landscape. Newspaper advertising will stand the acid test as against the billboards any day in the week for any purpose.

BACK TO THREE.

The "three estates" of olden time, a trinity ruling all earth's affairs, were Royalty, Nobility, Clergy.

Journalism was recognized, in a condescending way, as "the fourth estate."

John Galsworthy, writing for the London Times about fair play in international thought, says that the three estates now ruling mankind are Science, Finance, and the Press.

These Jingles must not be taken as Editorial opinion, nor necessarily the opinion of the writer, being merely philosophic vapourings of an absolutely fictitious character.

NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS.

ALWAYS SMILE and grin awhile the day New Years are born, to see my Resolutin' Friends with mugs all shaved and shorn; —they've sworn off all terrabacy and off shindings for a year, and said goodbye to Scotch and Rye and Manson's bottled beer. A game of craps or stud, perhaps, would cause unholy fits, for into twice ten thousands scraps they've torn their hooch "Permits." Says I to them, says I, I says, "What means this Revolution? Has change of moon bestowed this boon, likewise your constitution?" "Gadsooks," said one, "you jangling bum, like us your shackles free, and spurn the vices you accrued in Nineteen-twenty-three!" Why, bless my soul, they're up the pole; they're full of beans and prunes; I'll tell in verse they're getting worse, the Resolutin' Loons. Resolves they make and quickly break, for by the age-worn token, they'll show once more in '24 how quickly they'll be broken. To hear them toot and resolute just fans me to a fury. They give me pain, for I remain a fellow from Missouri!

UNCLE JOE OF SUMMERLAND.

Of the three, science is incomparably greatest. Newspapers can overrule all the power of finance if the newspapers happen to be in the right. Newspapers and finance combined can do nothing against science, except postpone its benefits.

REVIEWS THE QUESTION.

This will interest millions of husbands and wives more than any other news of the day:

Jean Francois Pennel and his wife, Marie, died at their home near Lille in France at exactly the same minute.

Ill in separate rooms, neither knew of the other's illness. Where did those two souls that had lived so long together go as they left the earth simultaneously?

How fast did they travel and in what direction? Did the souls recognize each other as they started off? What are they doing and saying now?

Can they talk without vocal cords, tongue, teeth and the other machinery for articulate sound? Are they united at last, never to be separated, to live through all eternity, never worried, never ill, never poor, above all, NEVER JEALOUS?

Doctors don't advertise. Ethics prohibit, and leave the field open for the quacks to unload fake nostrums on the suffering public. No wonder the Frenchman asked what is an ethic?

Germany prints notes for one billion and five billion marks each, most appropriately decorating them with thistles and thorns. The note for one billion, which would have been worth two hundred and fifty million dollars before the war, will be used for "small change."

Recent study of cancer shows that the vicious growth within the body to be a separate existence, stimulated by its own excretions, and growing with the furious energy of embryonic life. Cutting out or destroying with X-rays or radium are the only cures now. But a way may be found to check growth and bring about cancer destruction by scientific control of growth-stimulating substances. Cancer is to some extent an embryo in the wrong place, a body within a body.

Advertisements are trade announcements that affect almost every phase and hour of our lives. The folks who don't read them lose out to the fellow who does. He buys better and constantly adds to his store of knowledge, which is education.

Produces New Late Apple

spent considerable time in the Old Country.

Little Miss Edna Cudmore returned home last week after a couple of days' visit with friends in Kelowna.

About eighteen local Masons of the Trepanier Lodge, A.F. & A.M., journeyed down to Summerland on St. John's night, December 27th, to attend the joint installation meeting being held there. Penticton, Summerland and Peachland lodges were represented. Following are the local officers for the ensuing year: W.M., W. Bro. Lang, P.M.; I.P.M., W. Bro. McKay; S.W., Bro. Gummow; J.W., Bro. J. M. Buchanan; treasurer, Bro. Cudmore; sec'y., Bro. G. W. McEwan; S.D., Bro. Moffat; J.D., Bro. H. Miller; D. of C., W. Bro. Coldham, P.M.; I.G., Bro. J. P. Long; S.S., Bro. Goro; J.S., Bro. Lambly; taylor, Bro. J. T. Long.

R. A. F. Moore and son Jack returned to Penticton last week and after a couple of days here with friends and relatives.

The Baptist church Sunday School held a Christmas tree social on Friday evening when those of the congregation who were able to get out had a very pleasant evening together. The social was opened with song and scripture reading and prayer, all hearing on the Christmas story, after which the evening was thrown open for a time to suitable games. Then followed a few numbers of program, including a solo by Mrs. Bulyea and some recitations from other members of the school. The ladies then served dainty refreshments and this treat being satisfactorily dealt with all eyes and attentions were turned to the Christmas tree which had been beautifully decorated and illuminated for the occasion and a bag of confections was handed out to all present which brought a delightful evening to a close.

Mrs. J. L. Elliott and daughter Willa spent a couple of days of last week with relatives in Kelowna and getting Willa's shoulder attended to. On their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Elliott's niece who came to visit for a few days.

Mr. Tripp, of the auditing firm of Crehan, Mouatt & Co., was in town recently attending to the Municipal books, preparing for the annual report.

The wind on Saturday evening last drifted the snow so badly that it made travelling on some of the roads difficult either for cars or for horse-drawn vehicles. Mr. Kudolka, undertaking a fitney trip north was forced to turn back and Rev. T. A. Sadler, undertaking to drive his auto to Westbank to conduct his regular Sunday afternoon service there, was also obliged to turn back. However, Monday saw the road open again and cars have been getting through all right since.

Mrs. Seaton and Miss B. Seaton and Mr. A. West were arrivals on Monday morning last.

Miss Flossie Clements and Mrs. J. Vass spent Wednesday last in Kelowna.

G. H. V. Bulyea left on Saturday evening for Summerland to celebrate the New Year with relatives. Mrs. J. B. Robinson left on Monday evening to join the same party, while Mrs. Bulyea and Mr. Robinson remained to look after the home.

The heavy wind on Saturday evening put down a number of poles in the district, including telephone and electric light. A dog owned by the Topham family was electrocuted when it crossed the live wires attached to some of the poles blown down and the lights in part of the district were cut off for a short time. Mr. Fred Layton, of Penticton, was obliged to come up and raise some of the telephone poles on the Government line, over which he has charge.

Mrs. Hohensee and the girls left on Monday for Bellingham to join Mr. Hohensee, purposing to make their home there. Their goods were shipped the same day.

There was quite a large exodus of citizens on Monday morning's boat, many of them spending the day in Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. Aitkens, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Aitkens, Jr., went to Kelowna on Monday to spend the festive season with relatives.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot, Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. ***

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stampage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partially free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

After a period which has obviously been quite long enough to allow of full investigation, the committee formed to examine into, and pronounce judgment on the results of the Price campaign in Vancouver has finished its work, and an extended report has lately been published. Put very briefly, the findings may be thus epitomized:—Out of five thousand persons "anointed" at the Price meetings, only three hundred and fifty came forward with information—not one cure of organic disease was found—only five cures of functional complaints were recorded—thirty-nine of those treated are dead—five are insane, and the remainder are as they were previously. There are also four cases of insanity among relatives of those anointed, brought about by disappointment. It is also to be noted that the five functional cases cured were found to be of a character which is well known to be curable by mental suggestion, and the committee state that they expected to find a larger percentage of such cures.

Thus we see the bursting of the bubble of this man's alleged divine powers. A more damning indictment of ignorant superstition was surely never presented. And let it be kept in mind that the investigating committee included members of various churches, as well as of the medical, scientific and legal professions, and therefore must be accepted as representative. Another fact to be remembered is that only a small percentage of the treated persons came forward in response to the invitation of the committee. Why did the remaining four thousand six hundred and fifty remain aloof? The reason is plain—not one of them was cured, and all were disappointed. We may very justifiably go further, and assume that among those thousands of deluded people, there are many who are distinctly the worse for the cruel disappointment, and that if all were known there would be a record of despondency, insanity and death which would match the one revealed, but be many times greater. Such an assumption is clearly supported by the issue pointed out in one of the concluding clauses of the commission's findings, which reads thus: "To substitute for the careful diagnosis and intelligent treatment of disease, an emotional excitement strongly re-inforced by hypnotism and mass suggestion, is so dangerous a procedure that no one who intelligently and sincerely desires the welfare of his fellow men, either in the physical or spiritual sense, would think for a moment of resorting to it. The injuries would by the very nature of the case be bound to outweigh the benefits."

Well, the episode is ended. The reverend exploiter of human credulity has departed, taking with him the uncounted financial proceeds of his campaign, and leaving behind him a pitiful trail of disillusion. It may perhaps be over sanguine to hope that the next exploiter of the kind will be refused a hearing by those ministers who so foolishly welcomed this particular American evangelist, but we may reasonably claim that some check ought to be put on from other quarters. There should be a limit to the allowable activities of harmful fraud and folly, no matter how they are supported. We very properly deport drug peddlers from over the border—why should we allow free entry to men who just as surely spread insanity and death by means of imposture cloaked under the guise of religion?

To the vast majority of normal thinking people there must have been a good deal of satisfaction at the failure of Mr. H. G. Wells to get any higher than the bottom of the poll during the recent election in Great Britain. It is H. G. WELLS—only fair to admit that he increased the total IMPERIALIST! number of his supporters from one thousand in the previous election to one thousand and eight on the second occasion, but the additional gain was almost microscopic when viewed in the light of the several thousands by which he was snowed under. He and the lone communist who sat in the last parliament but was defeated for this, may condole with each other in their joint defeat, but the plain citizen will be glad to note the dislike of the electorate to the extreme theories preached by them. If Mr. Wells could possibly discover the names of his eight new adherents, it would be a graceful act on his part to present them with some little memento of the occasion, say "An Appreciation of Lenin," bound in Russian leather. Possibly there is no such work published, but Mr. Wells could soon overcome that deficiency, seeing that he turns out a new book every week or two.

In "The Evening Standard" (London) of November 21st, there appeared an article entitled, "Mr. Wells, Arch-Imperialist," in which the writer whimsically contends that, on the evidence of his own published works, H. G. is so Imperialist that Mr. Churchill, for example, is nothing but a Little Englander beside him. His first step in this direction came after he became aware of the prickly barriers which divide one human species from another, and which he only discovered when he fell head over heels into them. "A fall of that kind," says our author, "is exasperating, and explains why so many who start with grandiose visions of the 'Parliament of Man' finish as advocates of repression and oppression here, there and everywhere." When Mr. Wells had extirpated himself from the prickles, he began to get some knowledge of the "cussedness of allons," and the hero of his book, "The Research Magnificent," lets himself go in fine style concerning certain continental people with whom he comes in contact, describing them as "accursed things," "dogs" and so forth, and winding up with a pious wish that he could exterminate them. It is therefore not surprising that in "The World Set Free" it is a king of England who takes the leading part in drafting a Constitution for the world, and that English is destined to be the language of the human race. Nor need we feel astonished to learn, from this and other books from the same prolific pen, that really inferior races ought to be got rid of by segregation of the sexes, and that the Balkans would have to be coerced before the hegemony of the superior races could be established. The "superior races" smacks somewhat of the German superman, and Mr. Wells seems to be running in a circle. By the time he has written a few more books explaining how to run the world he may be back to where he started from wherever that may be, and no one will be one penny the worse. Better, perhaps, in one respect, since he will have given us a good deal to laugh at in the meantime.

There used to be a copy book headline in the school exercises of bygone years, the moral of which was directed against the sinful habit of procrastination, the thief of time. It is a matter of some doubt whether the old proverb ON BEING should not be amended to read, "Punctuality is LATE. the thief of time," in view of the waste incurred by punctual people who have to wait on those who are not of similar habit. There was reason in the reply of the condemned man who was admonished that he was due on the scaffold, and who pointed out that the proceedings would certainly wait for him, but not so good an excuse for those unpunctual people who squander the time of others as though it were their own. We cannot all be so particular as the business man who kept an appointment for twelve o'clock, and went away at five minutes past, refusing to wait any longer for the tardy one; but it remains indisputable that the habitual late-comer is a byword and a reproach among men. In the concert hall he (or she) is a disturber of the peace, and at business meetings he either retards proceedings or himself loses information which he ought to have. The man who comes late to church bears his own burden, as his boots invariably squeak at that time if at no other:—the woman who comes late has her own reward, since she generally wears a new hat on the occasion. The individual who is late for the train, loses it, which he ought to expect to do. Thus we see that in certain cases being late carries its own penalty (or reward, as may be), but in the too common experience of daily life, it is the punctual man who suffers, and the hardened offender who doesn't care a snap!—Which suggests another well worn saying—"Such is life!"

CORRESPONDENCE

Letters to the Editor.

RUSSEL LETTER IS REPLIED TO

To the Editor,

Summerland Review.

Dear Sir,—The suggestions of your correspondent of last week for increasing the membership of the Co-operative and thus further reducing the independence of the agricultural community, are so excellent that they deserve the enthusiastic endorsement of all who have at heart the maintenance of British freedom.

"But is it not possible that the remedies specified are much too mild for existing conditions? I would further suggest that municipal legislation be at once enacted, denying to independents and their families, their oxen, their asses, and the strangers within their gates, all municipal privileges,—domestic and irrigation water, electric light, schools and roads. The clerk should also be instructed to refuse to accept their taxes.

Provincially it would be well to enact laws forbidding medical men and dental surgeons to attend independents or their employees, producers who sell to them, wives, sons, daughters, brothers, sisters and mothers-in-law, aunts, uncles, great aunts and great uncles, parents and grandparents of these stubborn producers.

Any other efforts of resistant producers along lines tending to independence should be boycotted by the inmates of the Co-op by the refusal to buy milk and butter from independent cows, eggs from independent hens, and honey from independent bees.

It would perhaps be worth while to bring pressure to bear upon the churches to deny rites of baptism, marriage and burial to the delinquents and their families. Failing amenability, still stronger steps might be taken, such as shooting at sight, or lynching.

If, in the face of all these deprivations—loss of life, under conditions of slavery, not falling in that category—there still survives in the spirits of the freedom an objection to servitude; if there still stirs in the blood of the vigorous, individual initiative and a desire for personal achievement, there is yet another way, overlooked, no doubt, on account of its simplicity.

Show these outlaws an economically managed organization on a truly co-operative lines, where corporate officials and employees profit only in proportion to the producer. Present to them a made-in-Canada contract for one year only, so framed that it precludes the possibility of an exploitation of the grower equal to if not exceeding any exploitation in the history of private enterprise, not a form of contract that is said by the attorney of the Farm Credits Bureau of the chief agricultural state in the Union to be filling the law courts of America with litigation, to the apparent satisfaction of its originators.

And in taking this or any decisive action, think of the words of General Smuts in speaking of that great organization called the British Empire, which apply equally to lesser ones than empires.

"Other empires, founded on force, have passed away. Force is again being tried today as a principle by others, in spite of the lessons of the war. The result is a foregone conclusion."

Yours very truly,
LILLY FOSBERY.

ANOTHER ANSWER IS RECEIVED

Editor Review,

Dear Sir,—I read the communication in your last issue written by R. G. Russel, and all the remainder of the week have been looking for a club. Generally speaking, his letter is scholarly, academic, illogic, ambiguous, paradoxical and plain bunk. He starts off by hoping there would have been more discussion ere this on the elimination of the independent, and then raises a holler because those who HAVE written think they know more than the directors of the Co-operative. But what's the use of arguing with a person who makes a statement like the following: "Owing to inherent weaknesses in any co-operative concern, however well managed, it is not in the same position to meet competition as an ordinary business."

What a confession for the gods to giggle at! What in thunder have we co-operated for if co-operation can't fill the bill? We have been taught to believe that co-operation was a panacea for all our ills, and this gentleman comes along with this sugar-coated pill. But wait; here's another gem of thought from the same epistle.

"Supposing we had 100 per cent. co-operation in B. C. there would still be enough outside competition to maintain efficiency."

Read it again (once more, please), and then try it on your uterole to the tune of "Yes, We Have No Bananas."

Your correspondent is so bitter against the independents that he proposes for them two kinds of pleasant deaths just as if he had some kind of vaccine to administer. His first is Compulsory Co-operation, his second is Moral Pressure, but after he has analysed and dissected the arguments he has himself set up he admits it can't be done, or to be correct, doubts if it is workable.

There is one clause in his Moral Pressure propaganda which has me and all my friends wondering what manner of a man the writer is, and it is this:

"Grower must be prepared to sacrifice their feelings for their neighbor by refusing to have anything to do with independents, their connections, or their children."

I said I wondered what manner of a man the writer is. After perusing his letter again and again I know I'll gamble he has neither chick nor child nor a drop of the milk of human kindness in his whole system, or he would never openly advocate such scoundish tactics to secure his slice of the pie. I'm strong for co-operation, but I draw the line at living to hate my neighbor, and particularly his lovable children. My greatest surprise is that the writer did not go further and recommend a public burning at the stake or something lingering like holding oil for all the independents, their families, their friends, and a life sentence for the padre who prayed for them.

BY-LAW No. 192

A BY-LAW TO LICENSE THE SUMMERLAND TELEPHONE COMPANY, LIMITED.

WHEREAS the Summerland Telephone Company, Limited, on the Second day of January, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Twenty-four, entered into an Agreement with the Corporation of the District of Summerland, which said agreement is in the words and figures following: MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT MADE THIS SECOND DAY OF JANUARY, A.D. 1924.

BETWEEN The Corporation of the District of Summerland in the Province of British Columbia, hereinafter called the Municipality of the first part, AND Summerland Telephone Company, Limited, a body Corporate under the laws of said Province, with its registered office at Summerland, in said Province, hereinafter called the Company, of the second part,

WHEREAS the Company owns and operates an up-to-date Telephone System within the Corporate limits of the Municipality and has applied to the Municipality for a licence or franchise to operate said system and to maintain and erect poles, wires, cables and other necessary apparatus, on the streets and lanes within said limits and the Municipality has agreed to grant the same subject to the terms hereof and subject also to the same being ratified and assented to by the electors of the Municipality in a By-law to be submitted to said electors as required by the Statute Law in that behalf:

NOW THIS AGREEMENT witnesseth that, in consideration of the premises and of the sum of One Dollar ($1.00) now paid by the Company to the Municipality, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto each covenant, promise and agree to and with the other of them as follows:

FIRST: That the Company shall have the right and privilege to operate, maintain and complete the said telephone system and to make any extensions thereof within said limits and to carry on a general telephone business within said limits.

SECOND: That the said Company may operate, maintain, construct and erect a line or lines of telephones along the sides of and across and under any highways, streets, lanes, alleyways, public bridges or any such places, for the purpose of operating, maintaining and erecting its line or lines of telephones along the sides of or across or under the same and to construct, erect and maintain such and so many poles of standard size and other works and devices as the said Company may deem necessary for making, completing, supporting, using, working, operating and maintaining the system of communication by telephone and may stretch wires thereon. Such highways, streets, lanes, alleyways and public places to be left in a condition satisfactory to the Municipality after any work has been done thereon by the Company.

Whenever it is considered necessary for the proper operation of the said Telephone System to remove any trees or branches overhanging, or on, such streets and lanes, such work shall be done by the Company at its expense, subject to the approval of the Municipality. All trees and branches cut down and other debris shall be immediately removed by the Company at its expense. Failing compliance of the above the work may be done by the Municipality after giving one week's notice in writing to the Company of its intention to do such work and the expense of such work shall be paid by the Company.

THIRD: The Company agree that if, in the interests of the Municipality, by reason of congestion or otherwise, in any area within said limits, the Municipality shall deem it necessary that the Company's lines should be placed in cables, that it will, within a reasonable time after notice from the Municipality to that effect, remove all its overhead wires and poles within any such area in said limits and will maintain its system within such area by cables.

FOURTH: The poles, wire and cables required to install the said Telephone System shall be placed by the said Company in such places and at such distances and of such a height as shall be satisfactory to the Municipality or to the person delegated by the Municipality to oversee the placing of such poles, wire and cables.

FIFTH: The said System, now in operation and any extensions thereof with requisite exchanges, shall be first class and up-to-date in every respect and the said Company will at all times hereafter, properly and efficiently maintain, repair and operate the same. The Company shall give a twenty-four hour service daily and shall not charge their subscribers a higher monthly rental than $3.00 for telephone service for each dwelling or residence house, nor more than $4.00 monthly rental for each other telephone service.

Provided, however, that these rates shall prevail only where said monthly rentals are paid by the subscriber to the Company in advance and if said rentals are not paid in advance the same may be increased to $3.50 and $4.50 respectively.

SIXTH: In the event of the said Company allowing their telephone plant or any part thereof to become in a dilapidated condition, and thus failing to give a good up-to-date service, commensurate with the requirements of the Municipality, the Municipality may call upon the Company to place their system in good condition and to furnish a good service, commensurate with the requirements of the Municipality.

(A) Should the Company neglect, or fail to comply with the request of the Municipality, as laid down in the preceding section, the Municipality may call for the appointment of a Board of Arbitrators, who will have power to examine into the books and affairs of the Company for the purpose of ascertaining whether the Company is furnishing or can furnish an up-to-date service, commensurate with the requirements of the Municipality.

(B) If the Board of Arbitrators find the service being supplied by the Company is faulty, they shall have the power to call upon the Company to make such changes as will bring the efficiency of the said plant up-to-date.

(C) The Company shall be allowed a reasonable length of time in which to make the necessary additions or alterations to bring about the desired result.

(D) If, after being given one month's notice, the Company fails or neglects to obey the mandate of the Board of Arbitrators, this agreement shall become null and void and all rights thereunder shall terminate, or the Municipality, by giving one month's notice of their intention so to do, may take over the plant of the Company at a valuation to be fixed by the Board of Arbitrators.

(E) All matters submitted to the Board of Arbitrators by virtue of this agreement, shall be decided by them with as little delay as possible and their decision shall be final.

(F) The aforesaid Board of Arbitrators shall be appointed as provided for in the British Columbia Arbitration Act.

SEVENTH: The Municipality agrees to furnish the Company such electricity as may be required to charge the instruments of the Company, at a rate of four cents per Kilowatt hour for such current, which rate is to be paid by the Company quarterly. Such charging is to be done at such times of the day as shall be suitable to the Municipality.

Provided, however, that if the Municipality during the existence of this Agreement, shall dispose of its electric system, or shall be unable to furnish such electricity, then, in any such case, the right of the Company to obtain such electricity shall cease and determine and the Company shall have no claim for compensation by reason of such disposal or inability. The supplying of electricity as above, can be terminated at the end of any year by giving at least three months' notice in writing.

EIGHTH: The Municipality agrees to allow the Company, during the existence of this agreement, to use the poles of the electric light system belonging to the Municipality, in so far as such use does not interfere with or injure the maintenance or efficiency of said electric light system, as to which the Municipality shall be the sole judge, and for such use the Company shall pay to the Municipality a sum per pole per year to be mutually agreed upon; and the Company agrees to allow the Municipality during the existence of this agreement to use the poles of the said telephone system under similar terms and conditions.

NINTH: The Municipality shall forthwith pass a By-law granting to the Company the rights and privileges necessary to it to operate, maintain, construct and install the said Telephone System and shall submit the same to the electors of the Municipality for their assent as required by Law.

THIS AGREEMENT shall be binding upon and enure to the benefit of the parties hereto, their successors and assigns for a period of ten years from the date of this agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Municipality has hereunto affixed its corporate seal, attested by the hands of its Reeve and Clerk; and the Company has hereunto affixed its corporate seal attested by the hands of the proper officers in that behalf.

SIGNED, SEALED AND DELIVERED in the presence of

Seal of the Corporation of the District of Summerland.	J. R. Campbell.	Reeve of Municipality.
	F. J. Nixon.	Municipal Clerk.
Seal of Summerland Telephone Company, Limited.	H. C. Mellor.	President.
	K. S. Hogg.	Secretary.

AND WHEREAS in order to carry out the said agreement, it is expedient to pass this By-law.

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the District of Summerland in open Meeting assembled as follows:

1. That the said Summerland Telephone Company, Limited, be and they are hereby licensed to operate a telephone system within the corporate limits of the Municipality of Summerland and to carry on a telephone business within such limits for a period of ten years from the date of said agreement.

2. The said Company, for the said period of ten (10) years, are hereby authorized to operate, maintain, construct and erect a line or lines of telephones along the side of and across or under any highways, streets, lanes, alleyways, public bridges or any such places, in or throughout the corporate limits of the said Municipality of Summerland; and also to enter upon any such highways, streets, lanes, alleyways, public bridges or any such places for the purpose of operating, maintaining and erecting its line or lines of telephone along the sides of, or across or under the same and to maintain, construct and erect such and so many poles and other works and devices as the Company deem necessary for operating, maintaining, making, completing, supporting, using and working the system of communication by telephone and may stretch wires thereon.

3. The licences and authorities hereby granted to the said Company are subject, however, to the terms and conditions of the agreement above recited.

4. This By-law shall, before the final passage thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Municipality of Summerland, in the manner provided by the Municipal Act.

DONE AND PASSED by the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the District of Summerland this Second day of January, A.D. 1924.

RECEIVED THE ASSENT OF THE ELECTORS of the Corporation of the District of Summerland this day of A.D. 1924.

RECONSIDERED AND FINALLY PASSED AND ADOPTED by the said Municipal Council, signed by the Reeve and Clerk and sealed with the Municipal Seal this day of A.D. 1924.

Reeve, Clerk.

TAKE NOTICE that the above is a true copy of the proposed By-law upon which the vote of the Municipality will be taken at MUNICIPAL OFFICE, WEST SUMMERLAND, B. C.,

AND HOTEL SUMMERLAND, SUMMERLAND, B. C., ON SATURDAY, 19th JANUARY, 1924, between 9 o'clock a.m. and 7 o'clock p.m.

Local Happenings

Basketball Dance, Parish Hall, Friday night. Admission 50 cents. 23L Geo. C. Denmore made a business visit to Kelowna on Monday morning.

Miss Edith Bristow is leaving this week to return to her school at Na-kusp, B. C.

Gordon Blewett left on Saturday for Chicago, where he will take a course in electrical work.

J. K. Hamill, who has been acting as relieving agent at the C.P.R. office here, returned on Saturday morning to Armstrong.

After spending Christmas with his
this morning to return to his school at Runnymede, Sask.

John Denike, who has been spending the holidays at his home here, left this morning to resume teaching at Runnymede, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Simpson and family spent Christmas week up Garnett Valley with Mr. and Mrs. Jas.
Dunsdon and family, old-time friends.

Men's and boys' heavy gum rubbers. For quality and variety of style and price try A. J. Beer, West Summerland. 23L

Miss Carrie Dorman, of Vancouver, came in on Saturday's train to spend the holiday season here. While here, she is the guest of Miss Ida Shields.

Messrs. Mattice and Crooker, members of the Keremeos school board, were recent visitors to Summerland.
While here they interviewed a number of citizens.

Miss Erma Fash, of the high school staff of Red Deer, Alta., spent her
and Mrs. Z. L. Fash, returning east on Monday morning.

Tom Nelson, who went down to California some weeks ago, returned last week. Archie Chisholm, who went south at the same time, came in a few days before to spend Christmas at his home here.

After spending the Christmas vacation here, the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Z. L. Fash, Mr. Claude Hicks, of Alberta College, Edmonton, returned on Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lees and children returned to Kelowna by motor on Saturday. They were guests of Mrs. Lees' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.
H. Hayes, during Christmas.

Some people go to California to escape cold weather. A. J. Beer, in a recent letter to Mr. Harding, reported eight above zero at Atascadero, midway between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Teddy Atherton arrived from Kelowna on Saturday night to spend the week end with his parents, returning to his work on the C.P.R. telegraph service at Kelowna on Monday morning.

After spending Christmas at his home in Vancouver, H Daniel, of the Central school staff, returned on Saturday's train to play on the local basketball team in the match with the Vancouver Rowing Club team.

On account of the severity of the storm on Saturday night a number of Summerland visitors who travelled by car to Penticton were compelled to stay there for the night because of snowdrifts on the shore highway.

K. S. Hogg received a wire Saturday morning advising him that his aged father, Rev. John Hogg, D.D., was critically ill. He left by the noon train that day for Vancouver.
The reverend gentleman is living with his daughter, Mrs. Ledingham, Vancouver.

The Beta-Pi Sorority of Ranger Guilds held a very successful dance in the Parish Hall on New Year's Eve, which was well attended. The decorations, which were carried out in overgrown and colored streamers, added much to the festive appearance.
Music was provided by Miss Thelma Lockwood and J. Kenn.

Mifanwy Wright, the 11 year old daughter of Mrs. F. A. C. Wright, had a nasty accident on Saturday evening when celebrating her birthday at the home of her mother, at which a number of young guests were present. It appears that the little one had taken off her shoes, and a large splinter from the floor pierced entirely one of her toes. She was immediately carried to the surgery of Dr. Andrew, who extracted the splinter, and the child is progressing favorably.

C. M. Broad is leaving tomorrow for Calgary, Alta.

Laurie Beavis left on Tuesday for Vancouver, where he will take up a course in telegraphy.

Alan Cross came down from Salmon Arm on Monday to spend New Year with friends here.

Lloyd Whiteford returned from the Coast on Saturday's train, after several weeks spent there.

Cliff Roe went down to Vancouver on Tuesday for a short holiday. He will probably also visit Seattle.

Seize the opportunity and secure first quality gum rubbers at a reasonable price at A. J. Beer's, West

Mr. John Fisher is leaving tomorrow morning for Tranquille, B. C., where he will enter the hospital for treatment.

Miss Mabel Shields left on Tuesday's train for Vancouver, where she will enter Vancouver General Hospital as a probationer.

Rev. Fr. Carlyle, missionary priest from Bear Creek monastery, Kelowna, is expected to arrive for celebration of mass on Sunday.

Remember Basketball Club dance
Friday, January 4th, Parish Hall.
Admission 50 cents.

Bill Wilson came in from the Coast on Saturday and spent the weekend here, leaving for Victoria on Tuesday's train.

Mr. Geo. W. Johnston, of the Experimental Station, returned last week from Nicola, where he had been to visit Mr. R. H. Helmer.

Miss Stella Creese, who was taken to the hospital on Tuesday suffering from bronchial pneumonia, is reported to be much improved today.

W. J. Maek came in on Saturday night from Swift Current, where he is now employed, to spend New Year at his home here. He expected to leave on Saturday for the prairie.

Thos. Bulman, of the Associated Growers of B. C., came down last night to attend the growers meeting here today.

Donald McIntyre, who has been taking a teachers' course at the University of B. C. during the past term, is spending the holidays at his home here.

Two junior basketball games are being played tonight in the College gymnasium, one between Summerland Baptist Tuxis boys and Penticton Tuxis boys and the second between St. Andrew's Tuxis boys and a local Scout team.

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Lockwood and family have gone down to Bellingham, Washington, to visit relatives.
They will be away during the month of January. Nesbitt & Forster are operating the Rialto during Mr. Lockwood's absence.

Donald Ross returned on Saturday noon train from Castlegar, after a two weeks holiday spent with relatives there and at the Coast. His mother, Mrs. R. M. Ross, who has been with her son George at Castlegar for some weeks, went through to California on the same train, where she will visit for a time.

The Kelowna-Penticton stage, which usually reaches Peachland on its southern daily trip about 10.30 a.m., did not arrive there on Monday last until 2 p.m. The delay was caused by snowdrifts, which necessitated much shovelling. The stage did not proceed further south that date, but returned at once, just barely catching the last ferry.

INTERESTING BOOK

ON OUR COUNTRY

A wealth of information on Canada's natural resources, developed industries and commercial growth has been assembled in "Canada—Natural Resources and Commerce,"—a small, compact volume issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior. This is not a government blue-book but an attractive publication compiled especially for the business man. It gives a condensed but thorough survey of Canada's varied resources and of the broad features they impart to the commerce of the Dominion by their limitations as well as by their diversity and abundance. It gives, in short, a bird's eye view of Canada's physical assets, developed and latent.

Separate chapters of this volume are devoted to the industries and trade that have been built up around each form of natural resource—farm lands, forests, minerals, water powers, fisheries and fur-bearing wild life. Special attention is also paid to Canada's advance in manufacturing and to her position in international trade. It is pointed out that the rapid development of the past quarter of a century has had the effect of precipitating the Dominion into international trade on a huge scale—most conspicuously as an immense exporter of farm and forest products in raw or finished state, but also as a very heavy buyer abroad of certain classes of mineral, textile and agricultural products. Moreover, during a period of less than a generation the whole commercial aspect of the Dominion has been transformed by the sensational advance of Western Canada in cereal production and by the equally amazing rise of the pulp and paper industry in the east and on the Pacific coast.

"Commerce" is well illustrated with photographs. In addition it contains two very illuminating maps, one showing the main economic units into which the country is naturally divided, and the second indicating transportation routes, industrial areas and the distribution of resources such as arable and ranching lands, forests, water powers, mineral areas and commercial fisheries.

Not only to the Canadian business man but to the visitor and to the student abroad this volume gives a quick grasp of the larger features of Canada's industrial and commercial life. Copies may be obtained free of charge on application to the Superintendent, Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

HELPFUL HINTS

By A. Leda

Powder Puffs.—A soiled powder puff does not need to be thrown away, as many believe. Instead, just use a little soap with luke warm water and after rinsing thoroughly hang up to dry. The puff will be good as new and may be used for a long while.

Custard Pie.—If one wishes to have custard pie a nice even brown, sprinkle a little sugar over the top before putting in the oven.

Beating Rugs.—A rug may be beated twice as easily and thoroughly if placed on a pair of old springs face down. Then turn over and swoop.

Shoes.—When putting shoes away for next summer, stuff them full of tissue paper or cotton batting.

Oil Stove.—If an oil stove smells, drop a small piece of gum camphor into the tank.

Beads.—If you have some large heavy beads that must be strung, try violin strings, they stand a lot of strain.

The RIALTO THEATRE

Friday and Saturday, January 4 and 5—
"PEG O' MY HEART"
Adapted by Mary O'Hara from the story by J. Harlow Manners and directed by King Vidor and featuring LAURETTE TAYLOR
Miss Taylor created the role of Peg in the original stage play, which has been performed more than 15,000 times.
Comedy: "SOME BABY"

Friday and Saturday, January 11 and 12—
"THE TOP OF NEW YORK"

Repairing Wall Paper.—When next you would repair wall papers, instead of cutting a square piece just to fit the place, tear an irregular piece and put it on the wall, being careful to match all lines and figures. The irregularity of the line forms a camouflage which the eye can scarcely detect.

Acid Burns.—If one has been burned from an acid, flush the place liberally with water and then wash with a strong solution of baking soda.

Babies.—Never let a child use a pacifier. It strains the muscles of the throat, is liable to cause adenoids, and spoils the shape of the mouth.

Sleeping.—Do not sleep on a high pillow. It will cause one to be round-shouldered.

Coffee Stains.—Coffee stains are not easily removed unless done so at once. Boiling water will remove them if the coffee has not had time to become thoroughly absorbed. But if it is an old stain, use equal parts of yoke of egg and glycerine. This applied to the spot is almost the only method of removing them.

Oil Cloth.—Oil cloth may be kept from breaking at the corners over a table if you paste heavy muslin or pieces of adhesive cloth on the wrong side where the corners of the table come.

Eyebrows.—Petroleum jelly is good for making the eyebrows grow. When applying let the finger follow the line of the growth of hair.

"Who was that talking to you a while ago?"

"That was Archie Johnson, my family physician."

"What did he say?"

"He said, 'No.'"

Etiquette

What & When
to do it

By A. Leda
Any questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to A. Leda, care of this news paper.

Dear A. Leda:
Is it necessary to send both invitations and announcements for a wedding?
Thank you.

Marion B., Texas.
No. Send the invitations to the friends you wish to invite and then after the ceremony send announcements to those who did not receive invitations.

Dear A. Leda:
Please state just what part of a wedding (where there is to be a modium-sized reception) falls to the groom to finance? Also, if his best man comes from some distance and lodges at a hotel for a night, should the groom offer to pay his expenses?
With thanks, A Masculine Reader.

On comparison to the bride's end of a wedding financially, the groom has the small part. However, his duties are very divided and they start with the fees for the marriage license. Also the clergyman and sexton are paid by the groom. In addition to these fees he must tip the sexton if the church is opened for a rehearsal. He must provide the marriage ring, the bride's bouquet, the bouquets of the bridesmaids, and if he chose, neckties and gloves for his ushers. Then the groom sees that carriages are provided to take the ushers to and from the church, and another carriage to take himself and his bride from the church. Such are the bridegroom's duties.

Dear A. Leda:
(1) Will you please tell me what bridesmaids should wear in the evening in the way of hats? (2) Are bandeaux incorrect? (3) Do the bridesmaids wear gloves nowadays as they used to? Thank you.
Phylis B., Ala.

Small turbans are worn a great deal. Fitting close to the head as they do they go better with a dressy afternoon or evening dress than a large brimmed hat. Bandoaus are worn occasionally, but not often.
Undoubtedly the reason for this is that in some churches women are forbidden to uncover their heads.
(3) No. Gloves are seldom worn by the bridesmaids of today. That as well as a few other dress accessories seem to be a relic of the past.

Dear A. Leda:
At luncheon which side of the plate should the knife and fork be put? 2. Do spoons go on the side with the fork? 3. And if there is a wine glass, where should it be placed? 4. How should the knife and fork be laid on the plate when through eating?

At luncheon as any other meal
the knife is placed on the right side of the plate and the forks on the left. 2. Any spoons used are laid beside the knife on the outside. 3.

A wine glass stands directly beside the water glass on its left side. 4.
The knife and fork should be laid side by side across the plate. It is very poor form to let them lay separated on the plate.

MONDAY NEXT IS LIMIT FOR NOMINATIONS

Possible Shuffle on the School Board—One Change on Council.

Nominations for reeve, councillors, three school trustees and police commissioner are required on Monday next, but seemingly there is very little interest being taken in the pending elections.

Coun. Kirk has announced his intention of withdrawing and S. F. Sharp, chairman of the school board, intimating to The Review that he was not seeking re-election and we understand that G. H. Inglis, another trustee whose term is expiring, will not be a candidate for re-election. The third member of the school board whose term of office has expired is J. R. Campbell.

We have heard of no one opposing Reeve Campbell who, we understand, is ready to serve again both as reeve and as school trustee.

G. S. Drewett has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the council and Miss Sinclair has accepted nomination as candidate for the school board.

With the exception of Coun. Kirk, we understand the other members of the council are prepared to serve another term.

All hospitals in British Columbia, whether denominational or otherwise, are to be put on the same basis as regards government assistance.

MORE ABOUT CO-OPERATIVE PEACH PRICES

Claimed by Pentiction Co-op. That Prices Paid Are Right.

Peach prices here and at Pentiction is the subject of an article in the Pentiction Herald following publication in The Review of comparative prices. In addition to publishing the story from The Review, our contemporary gives publicity to the following:

"Local officials explained that pools for Alexanders and some other varieties were closed out weekly, thus there would be a difference in price between those shipped early and those shipped later in the season. Between July 26 and August 1, Pentiction shipped 81 boxes of No. 1 Alexanders at a price of 98c to Central. On August 6 Pentiction shipped three boxes, which went into a different pool at $1 per box, and on August 9, when practically all Summerland peaches were shipped, Pentiction sent only two boxes, upon which the Central return was 72½ cents. This would make considerable difference between the Summerland returns and the Pentiction returns, and the same explanation would apply to other varieties, such as Trumphs and Crawfords.

For Elbertas there was a season pool. Pentiction shipped nearly double the quantity of packed Elbertas as it put through the cannery.

The shipment of No. 1 packed Elbertas was 23,701 boxes, for which the return was 74½c from Central; No. 2 packed Elbertas made 2,500 boxes at 67c per box. It put through the cannery 290,405 pounds, which Central converted into boxes at 17 pounds to the box, amounting 17,435. The proportion of No. 1s and No. 2s estimated as going through the cannery was the same as that of the packed fruit, namely 90 per cent. No. 1 and 10 per cent No. 2s. For the cannery peaches, estimated at 17 pounds to the box, Central paid the same price as for packed fruit, 74½c per box for No. 1s and 67c for No. 2s per box. This shows that the pooling of cannery peaches and packed peaches was the same.

MUSIC TREAT IS PROMISED

Many music lovers will be delighted to learn that they are to have an opportunity to hear Cyril Mossop sing again. Not until the annual school concert just before Christmas did it become generally known that there was in our midst a young lad with such a well trained and wonderful voice. There is also great satisfaction in the announcement that his mother, Mrs. Frank Mossop, will be heard at the piano. Ben Newton, another citizen of exceptional vocal talent; will also feature in the program. Announcement of the recital is made in another column.

GREATA RANCH HAS BEEN INCORPORATED

J. T. Long and associates, who recently purchased the Greata Ranch situated between Summerland and Peachland, have organized a joint stock company to take over and operate the property. The company is known as Greata Ranch, Limited, and has an authorized capital of $50,000.

Complete revision of British Columbia's statutes, a task occupying two and a half years and carried out for the most part by A. V. Pineo, legislative counsel, has been completed at a cost of $17,300.

THE SUMMERLAND OPERATIC SOCIETY HAS COMMENCED

Another step in the production of "H.M.S. Pinafore" was made last night when at a well attended meeting of the members it was decided to commence rehearsals forthwith. Thursday night next was decided upon as the opening night for the first "call," but a final decision as to the regular rehearsal nights will be made by the members themselves on a majority vote, so that no clash will be made with the meeting nights of any other organization. Comfort-quarters for rehearsals have been found in the G.W.V.A. rooms. The committee is anxious to meet all who have been approached to become members, and any others who have been inadvertently overlooked, at the first rehearsal. A small fee is charged to members which is applied to initial expenses. Merit will determine the selection of the cast, the final selection of the principals being left entirely in the hands of the musical conductor (G. W. Cops) and stage-manager (J. J. Atherton). Instrumentalists should get in touch at once with the conductor or Messrs. S. B. Snider and J. O. Staevos.

FAMOUS POET COMING HERE

Wilson MacDonald Will Give Recital of His Own Works Next Week.

Wilson MacDonald, the Canadian poet, who is making a recital tour, will appear in Summerland under the auspices of the Art League. He has been so well received everywhere, that he is beginning to achieve that fame in his own land that has been accorded him in other countries, where the fine quality of his work has been appreciated for some time.

Six short years ago Wilson MacDonald was all but unknown. This year sees the reprinting of his "A Song of the Prairie Land and other Poems" and "The Miracle Songs of Jesus" as well as the publication of the two new works, "A Song of the Undertow" and "A Song of the Valley and other Poems." He has given readings from his poetry in Eastern Canada and the United States to enthusiastic audiences. Twice have his poems been read at recitals of prose and poetry at Hart House Theatre, University of Toronto. His poetry has been accepted by the leading literary magazines of America and Great Britain, "Contemporary Verse" giving his "Maker of Dreams" first place a few months ago. The leading poets and critics of two continents praise his work in the most unqualified manner.

Wilson MacDonald's name stands among the greatest of Canadian literature.

Proposes Plan for Providing Summerland with Much Needed Pre-Cooling Plant

Through Assistance from Ottawa Can Be Obtained without Cash Outlay by the Co-Operative—Members of Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association Hold Interesting Meeting—Thos. Bulman Outlines Progress Made by the Associated.

Since December 1st Summerland Co-operative Growers Association is being paid 3 cents per box per month storage on all apples in the Summerland storage building. This statement was made by G. I. Gray, president of the local, at a regular meeting of the members held in the Rialto Theatre last Thursday afternoon. The revenue from this source is about $2,000 a month on the quantity of apples in storage as at present.

The meeting was well attended and attentive hearing was given the speakers, the principal of whom perhaps was Thos. Bulman, vice-president of the Associated. Basil Stewart, managing director of Associated, was expected to be present but wired his regrets.

Following the reading of the minutes of last meeting, an amendment was made in these to provide a remuneration for the president of three hundred, and twenty-five dollars to each of the other directors for the balance of their term.

The president reported that the board had decided to make a hauling charge of 2 cents on apples, pears, crabs and green tomatoes moved from the upper to lower warehouse and one cent on smaller packages.

To Make Last Call on Shares Several calls had been made on subscribed shares. The fourth and final call will be made on February 1st next.

Crehan, Mouat and Company were the successful tenderers among four for the position of auditors, the members appointing that firm at $150 per year. Two of the other bids were $300, and the third $225, and expenses.

R. Pollock, secretary, explained to the meeting at some length the position of the Co-operative with respect to peach prices. Among other things objected to was that cannery peaches should be settled for on the basis of 17 pounds as a box, whereas the local packing house put 19 pounds in a box.

The method adopted by central for apportioning the returns was explained and it was stated that central directors admitted the plan was not perfect. Peach prices were still a subject of negotiation between central and local.

President Gray pointed out the necessity of something being done before next season to provide better and safer methods of handling soft fruits, particularly cherries and stated that the question of pre-cooling had been carefully considered by the directors. He asked Mr. Bulman, vice-president of the Associated, who had been giving this matter special attention, to address the meeting.

Growers Acted More Wisely than Realized

In opening his remarks, Mr. Bulman said that he had hopeful expectations for the coming year. The growers had built more safely and soundly than many realized. Though not getting what they should, our growers are not as bad off as are many industries and other branches of agriculture. When we think of what the situation might have been, we will not feel so badly of what it is. We have, said Mr. Bulman, the right to feel glad of the heroic effort made a year ago to organize our industry. In the United States, where general conditions were good and there are bounteous crops, fruit growers are going to receive red ink returns, due to their chaotic methods of marketing. We in Canada have not been enjoying such good commercial conditions, but by getting together fruit growers here have had an f.o.b. market throughout the season. British Columbia fruit growers have fared the best they have ever done on the markets this year and have been getting loyal support from the distributors, who could have imported at any time at less price than they paid the Associated. The independents early saw and were afraid of the situation.

Summerland Used Least Borrowed Money

The efforts of Summerland were to be commended. The Bank of Montreal had commented on the economic administration of the Summerland local, which had operated under a less per box loan than any other district. This was very encouraging for the future.

Referring to the season's experience, Mr. Bulman pointed out that packing and marketing fruit too green had the effect of backing up the demand from the consumer right back to the orchard.

The experience of the United States was that pre-cooled pears held up much better and cherries were shipped from California to New York those which were first chilled realizing as high as $6,000 a car as compared with $2,000 for fruit not so treated.

Chilling of Cherries Pears, etc., Profitable

Mr. Bulman then outlined a proposition for providing Summerland with a modern pre-cooling plant. As an association, a subsidy may be obtained from the Federal government which no independent house could get. The Hon. Mr. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, had been convinced that it would be a great help to cool our fruit before shipping and he was prepared to assist. The Minister had suggested that the district covered by the Associated be cut into zones, with a pre-cooling plant in each and Mr. Bulman suggested that Summerland consider utilizing a portion of the present storage plant for pre-cooling. About ten thousand dollars would be required to equip the building with the necessary ammonia plant. The government, explained Mr. Bulman, would provide one-third the value and he suggested that the building which the Co-operative would contribute would well make up the other two-thirds. He believed, the plant could be installed without any cash outlay on the part of the growers. Similar plants had proven very advantageous in Ontario and he urged that caution be taken to provide against disaster to our soft fruit as happened to our cherries last year.

The speaker urged growers to be careful to do nothing towards wrecking their present organization; to do everything to guard against falling back to our old position of competition. No man could succeed by disrupting his own business, neither can the fruit growers. Be watchful for economy. He complimented Summerland on its real spirit of co-operation as manifested by this meeting. Remomber, he said, that we farmers got together and established a four million dollar business. There had been remarkably few mistakes but there would be changes and corrections to make for some years in order to perfect the organization.

Sunday Boat In Soft Fruit Season

In answer to enquiries, Mr. Bulman said an improvement can be made in handling cherries next year. Many of them go farther afield. Independent houses accepted no cherries in excess of their orders, while the Associated took cherries as they came in, much in excess of their markets and the fruit did not carry to distant points. A Sunday boat service was necessary during the soft fruit season. Excellent support had been received from the brokers and wholesalers and we have been getting five, ten and fifteen cents a box extra price as compared with Washington apples and still have kept the American apples off the market. We have a large percentage of fall varieties and Mr. Bulman thought these had better be moved to the farmers in crates and he urged that we gradually get down to seven or eight standard varieties.

The speaker referred to the Jonathan deal in Vancouver. He explained that the Associated was not getting the Coast market for apples. The independents kept persistently under the Associated price. Finally he and Mr. Lewis went to Vancouver and took the matter up with the jobbers, who were ready to give the Associated fruit preference but wanted it at independent prices. After considerable negotiation, they finally agreed to push the Associated fruit and to refuse to accept independent fruit on consignment. Between thirty and forty cars of Jonathans were in this way disposed of.

Dehydrating Method Proves Practicable

Answering a question from A. E. Smith, the speaker said that the government had demonstrated the practicability of a new dehydrating system. By-products plants were necessary, but he did not favor the fruit growers operating them, except as separate companies.

Though he did not condemn the Jonathan, he advised cutting out Jonathan trees where used as fillers. Yellow Newtons and Winesaps were safe varieties to grow.

Asked regarding the crab deal, Mr. Bulman said that the Associated had given way and shipped at a loss. He advised for the future, that when such a situation developed, the pool be immediately closed and all other fruit be handled separately.

Answering an enquiry regarding some local pools, the speaker said that the Associated must try to market the fruit equitably for each district. There must be some give and take and a remedy for the several evils worked out.

G. J. Coulter White thought that more attention should be given to advertising and in this Mr. Bulman concurred. An appropriation of five thousand dollars had been made last season; this should be increased.

Mr. Lewis had demonstrated the value of his services in the marketing of onions alone. He had sold all the onions that growers would sell, realizing $34 a ton to members.

Might Market Pack of Independents

Asked by J. S. Campbell if anything was being done toward getting 100 per cent control, and if the grower cannot be signed up could the Associated line up the shippers, Mr. Bulman replied that if complete control could be had, five to ten cents more per package might be obtained. The Associated was certainly selling better than the independents. Perhaps the Associated might sell for them. He hoped for some solution. The greatest stumbling block, he said, is the grower. However, he had much sympathy for people who were not getting enough to live on.

Mr. Bulman dealt at some length with the present marketing system, which had proved very efficient and pointed out the importance of having men of judgment and who have the confidence of the market. We must strive to pack at a minimum and sell at a maximum.

Unwise comments which one hears is costing the growers real money and in some cases losing them the confidence of the banks. All admit that co-operation is the only salvation. Then let us build up and improve our system. All the employees can be let out on thirty days' notice and the officials changed at the annual meeting. The association cannot finance all its five year contracts unless it has the support of the growers.

Asked why the sales manager, B. McDonald, had resigned, Mr. Bulman said it was on the advice left by the managing director before he went to England. Under the circumstances there was no alternative. Things might have been different had Mr. Stewart been at home.

The question of forming a district pool for south lake points and a number of other matters of policy was left with the directors.

O.U.G. IS SUING CRESTON LOCAL

K. M. Elliott is leaving on Sunday next for Vancouver expecting to be away about two weeks. He is going in connection with the suit entered by M. G. Wilson, assignee of the O.U.G., against Creston Fruit Growers' Union, Ltd., in which Mr. Wilson is endeavoring to recover around $10,000 overpaid the latter by the O.U.G. As was the case with other locals, the money was advanced on pools when the outlook was good but when the season wound up it was found that over payment had been made.

ROBERT CLOUSTON DIES SUDDENLY

Robert Clouston, one of Summerland's best known citizens, died suddenly this morning at the Summerland Hospital where he had been but a few hours, pneumonia being the cause of his death.

Mr. Clouston, who was 78 years old, came to Summerland about sixteen years ago and he has since resided in Peach Valley. He was a member of a well known pioneer family of eastern Canada and leaves one brother, Wm. Clouston, of Montreal, and one sister now residing in England.

Besides his widow, there remains one daughter, Mrs. L. R. Dunrobin, of Los Angeles, who is leaving that city tomorrow to visit her mother. It is planned to hold the funeral on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

DONATIONS TO THE HOSPITAL FOR DECEMBER

The matron of the hospital wishes to acknowledge the following donations, received during the month of December:

Mr. Denny, 2 doz. eggs; Mr. McLarty, 1 sack potatoes; Mr. Smith, 2 chickens, sweet potatoes; Mrs. J. P. McIntyre, 8 quarts fruit; Mrs. Clouston, 1 plum pudding, jar of mince meat; Dr. Lipsett, cream; A. B. Elliott's, chocolates. Japanese: 5 heads celery, 2 quarts jelly, 1 box potatoes, 1 box carrots, 1 sack beets, 1 chicken, 2 boxes apples, 1 sack onions, half sack beans, 4 squash, 1 sack potatoes, 1 box onions, 1 sack carrots. Mrs. McLarty, 2 pr. pyjamas.

PURE BRED JERSEYS AT THE FARM

Registered pure bred Jersey cows are being introduced on the Dominion Experimental Farm here. Five registered cows from the Fraser Valley and Vancouver Island have been purchased and it is probable that other animals of this breed will be added later.

AGUR QUITTING AS DIRECTOR

Says Will Not Have Time to Serve as Director in B.C.F.G.A.

That he will not be in a position to serve longer as local director and representative of members in this district of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association was the statement made this week by R. V. Agur to The Review.

Mr. Agur has served for a number of years in this capacity and, through the support of the fruit growers of the district, was successful for several years in placing this district at the head of the membership list. In this he was envied by many of his co-directors.

It is stated that he has not been able to give the necessary time to the work during the past year and, further, that the Co-operative Association did not throw its full membership in with him as was done by the Union for several years. Summerland will, therefore, not do better than attain second position, a Vancouver Island district being in the lead.

An announced elsewhere, the annual general meeting is to be held tomorrow, Friday afternoon at the Rialto Theatre, when a director must be appointed and a delegate named to attend the annual convention.

APPLE PRICES ANNOUNCED BY CO-OPERATIVE

Local Growers Receive Checks for Several Varieties—Cox's Orange Lowest.

Members of the Summerland Co-operative were paid this week for several varieties of apples marketed in crates. Crated Gravensteins netted the grower 30 cents at packing house. Wealthies, Snows and a number of other varieties were close to this price. The Cox's Orange shipped in crates brought the lowest of the crated fruit covered in this settlement. Here are the f.o.b. prices:

Cox's Orange, 75½ cents; Jeffries, 80 cents; Wismer's Dessert, 83c; Snow, 86½c; Wealthy, 86½c; Gravenstein, 89½c. In addition to above there is a group of a number of varieties in one pool which realized 88½c. Following are included in this group: Sweet Bower, Raspberry Pippin, Alexander, Golden Sweet, Keswick Codling, Scarlet Pippin, Beitinger, Nons River, Cellini Pippin, Peasgood Wolfcruch, Haas, Gloria Mundi, Blenheim Orange and Fall Pippin.

From above prices central takes a handling charge of 5½ cents and there is invested in Growers Packing Houses, Ltd., 5 cents, and in central capital fund practically 1 cent. Local packing and handling charges are 43 cents with a further deduction to cover interest, insurance, depreciation, etc., and a deduction of 2c for local capital purposes, making in all a total deduction of 69½ cents. A further charge of 2 cents per package for hauling is made against fruit delivered at the upper packing house.

MOCK WEDDING AT PEACHLAND ENTERTAINING

Proceeds of Splendid Concert Is Donated to G.W.V.A. Local There.

Readers of The Review will remember the excitement which was created in Peachland last fall by the announcement of a wedding about to take place. Owing to an epidemic shortly afterwards the arrangements were called off for the time, but that wedding, which proved to be a noted one, and was very unique, was celebrated on Friday evening last in the G.W.V.A. Hall. The principal parties in the tragedy were Miss Midgett Fair (little Miss Evelyn Stewart), who was brought in on the arm of the father, Master Willis Sanderson, and given in marriage to Mr. Tom Thumb (Master Willie McCall), Jimmy Sadler, the officiating clergyman, performing the very unique ceremony. There were four bridesmaids: Misses Mavis Wright, Joan Hyde, Dorothy Kudolka and Phyllis Wright, who were led up the aisle by four ushers: Masters Peter and Arthur Topham, Edward Hyde and Kenneth Wright. Hazel Mabon and Evelyn Sadler were flower girls, and little Miss Peggy Houghway was the charming maid of honor. The groomsmen, Master Orville Williamson, very deftly handed the ring to the groom at the critical moment.

The bridal party were proceeded to the platform by eight chorus girls, who wore all celebrities of note. These came on the scene in pairs: Madame Gail Curel and Mary Gar- (Continued on Page 4)

LIKES NIAGARA FRUIT DISTRICT

Jack Lawlor is expected home about March but will probably return next again next summer. Since leaving here last summer he has been in great demand as an instructor in modern methods of grading and packing fruit. In a recent letter to M. G. Wilson he states that he has been packing apples all the way from 44 to 84¢ to the package and some of their peaches have run as large as 21 to the box. He likes that part of the country very much and refers to a recent visit to New York where he found western apples selling as low as $1.50 a box.

THE ASSOCIATED GROWERS.

One dollar and twenty cents is the average price received for all wrapped apples sold up to a recent date by the Associated Growers and unless something unforeseen develops to cut down this average, growers should receive returns of close to fifty cents per box.

Such apples as were sold in crates averaged 78 cents with a net return to the grower of about 20 cents. Despite all rumors to the contrary, apples exported to the Old Country are not going to bring red ink to the Associated. According to a statement made by Basil Steuart, managing director, the average price f.o.b. B. C. points on 300,000 packages was 94 cents. There was an additional 50,000 boxes en route to England.

This and a mass of other information was gathered at a conference of editors of newspapers with the executive of the Associated. Space required by the report of the important meeting of Summerland growers and to publish the financial statement for the municipality makes it impossible for us to do justice to the information gathered at this conference and in conversation with officials of the big selling organization. Much of this we will give in our next issue and more from time to time as opportunity permits.

There is one thing on which all the editors are agreed. That is that the growers, in organizing last year, did more for themselves than is generally realized. Without the stabilizing effect that the growers have been able to bring about through their organization, absolute ruin would have overtaken this valley and other parts of the Province wholly or nearly wholly dependent on fruit growing. In that one move they have put themselves in the position to be the envy of many big and older fruit districts south of the international boundary.

THANK YOU, GENTLEMEN.

Some people are apt to look upon the accomplishments of the reeve, and councillors, school trustees and police commissioners during their term of office as trifles that are to be naturally expected. It is their lot to be jumped upon if anything goes wrong, but whoever thinks of saying: "Well done thou good and faithful servant!" Their services can not be measured in cold cash, but in the goodwill of the community and its individual residents. If you think they have done well, then tell them so to their faces. A friendly pat of appreciation on the back is acceptable to even a human being.

MANUAL TRAINING.

Through the exceptional offer made by S. W. J. Feltham Summerland has an opportunity to resume manual training in the schools at a very nominal cost. The workshop, equipment and material have already been provided and all that is needed is a small cash outlay to make up that part of the instructor's salary not covered by the Department of Education. This is a question which should be considered at the annual meeting of ratepayers.

Law is all right for the other fellow.

DEMENTED WOMAN WAKES HOUSEHOLD

Clad in slippers and a nightgown one of the female patients of the Kelowna General Hospital suffering from temporary mental aberration evaded the night nurse on Thursday last, and started off through the piercing cold at 4 a.m. for the home of F. W. Simmons, manager of the Empress Theatre. The occupants were alarmed at hearing someone walking about the house, and upon investigation discovered the distracted woman. She appeared to have suffered no ill-effects from the extreme cold despite her light raiment. The poor woman, who is a resident of Westbank, was obsessed with the idea that she would find her children there although she had never visited this house before, and appeared to talk quite rationally for a while. After a time Mr. Simmons got in touch with the hospital authorities and the chief of police, and it was found that the woman had disappeared from the hospital. No bad after effects have resulted.

THE INVADER.

HERE IS trouble in the offing; there's a rift within the lute; A fly is in my ointment, for my Throne is in dispute. To yank me from my lofty plane (first poet of the Valley) they're bringing here a Rhyming Peer (Macdonald of Doolally). My foot's upon my native heath, I scorn the proud invader; my flag's unfurled, I'll tell the world, to flaunt this jangling raider. "I have no Peer, you Rhymster queer, you vain Macdonald poet! I've got the pull with my own bull,—I'm darned if you shall throw it. Against your spooks and babbling brooks and flights of fancy funny,—I'll match my rhymes and jangling chimes for marbles, chalk or money. Avant and rave about your Brave, your Dicky-Birds and Fishes—for Me poetic platitudes on pumps and prunes and dishes. Lay on Macduff, I call yer bluff, you bold invading poet; if you've the Goods—Me for the woods—I challenge you to show it! One man one vote, one dog one bone is my plain way of speaking—sin't I got cause to clench my claws when my domain you're sneaking? So, I'll be there for sure, old dear, on Tuesday by your leave; moreover I shall be there with a brick-bat up my sleeve.

NARAMATA NEWS

Current Events of Town and District

The members of the Women's Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Fred Manchester on Friday, Mrs. Languedoc presiding. The annual election of officers formed part of the business of the meeting and resulted in the re-election of Mrs. Languedoc as president, Mrs. Geo. Weaver, vice-president, and Mrs. Horswill as secretary-treasurer. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. Gibson of the W. Kootenay Power Co. was in town on Saturday.

Mr. Patterson was under the weather a few days last week, and his trips were made by Asa Eastman.

Mr. Gowen, of Summerland, was a visitor to town on Monday.

The Board of Trade meeting was postponed until Monday evening next, when the annual election of officers will be in order.

Mrs. Languedoc and her mother, Mrs. Mason, left on Tuesday for a trip to San Francisco, where they will stay with Mrs. Ronald Smith, formerly Miss Mason.

A fairly good audience assembled in the church on Tuesday evening to hear an address on the problem of tuberculosis, given by Dr. A. S. Lamb, travelling medical health officer. The lecture was under the auspices of the W.C.T.U. and conveyed many useful hints. Mrs. T. Williams presided.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute took place in the Unity Club on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Williams, president-elect, in the chair. A program of activities for the coming season was presented for discussion, and was unanimously approved. Mrs. Dean Walters made an appreciative speech dealing with the previous work of Mrs. Howard Rounds as president for three years past and also welcoming new members.

MORE ABOUT PEACH PRICES

nery peaches, $3 per ton. This handling charge, was pooled with the packing charge, the average packing charge being 20 cents per box, thus all growers were paid on the same basis.

Regarding the explanation given by the Summerland officials to the effect that the Penticton cannery peaches could not have been pooled with the peaches from other centres, Manager H. Barnard, of the Penticton Co-operative, pointed out that the local returns showed that all cannery peaches were pooled together by Central.

It was noticed from reports in the Summerland Review on December 20, that the returns for No. 1 Elbertas were 77 1/2¢ and No. 2, 67 1/2¢, which is half a cent higher for No. 1 and one quarter cent higher for No. 2 than Penticton.

Penticton shipped a total of 24,261 boxes of packed Elbertas and the equal of 17,435 boxes of Elbertas went to the cannery.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNUAL TREE

On Thursday evening the Sunday School scholars of St. Stephen's church had their annual prize-giving and Christmas tree.

The Parish Hall had been seasonably decorated by Mrs. Solly and the teachers and a very fine Christmas tree graced the centre of the room.

The loaded tea tables were soon surrounded by a host of happy, excited youngsters who did full justice to the good things provided and who had days before formed themselves into an entertainment committee and the following program they submitted was much enjoyed by the rest of the children and their friends. Carol by scholars; piano solo by Alanah Sutherland; recitation by Veronica Solly; piano solo by John Benmore; song by Dorothy Nield; piano solo by Tommy Harris; recitation by Margie Simpson; duet by Clare Clarke and Veronica Solly; recitation by Tommy Mack; piano solo by Dick Benmore; song by Dorothy Nield; carol by scholars; Ivor Solly made an excellent chairman. Several of the above items were encored and all were remarkably well given.

After several round games had been enjoyed Santa Claus made his much welcomed appearance and distributed the prizes for good attendance and the gifts from the tree, after which games became the order of the rest of the evening.—Cont.

Book the date, Friday, 18th, for popular Ice Carnival.

OBITUARY.

MRS. JOSEPH DARKE

The funeral of the late Mrs. Joseph Nettle Darke was held from St. Stephen's church yesterday, the service being conducted by Rev. H. A. Solly. Mrs. Darke, who was 63 years old, passed away on Monday evening. She had been ill for about two weeks but in bed but a week. The deceased lady had been a resident of Prairie Valley for some years and lived on her property adjacent to the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Walton. One son resides in England.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot, Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. ***

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 3,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 30 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional on a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Fees, or partially free, permits are available for hunters, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

By AUTOLYCUS

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles." The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

Bishop W. J. Manning will probably have the sympathy of a good many people in his task of combating the various ebullitions of "religious" fervor reported from certain churches in his diocese of New York. It is impossible not to sympathise with any man who is confronted with an insuperable duty, and that certainly seems to be the position of this prelate of the church. What is to be done with a recalcitrant clergyman whose sense of the fitness of things is so manifestly out of gear as to be responsible for the doings reported from St. Mark's in the Bowery? Is there any provision in the Act of Uniformity against "interpretative dances," with or without colored spotlights, such as have scandalised church authorities of late? It might perhaps be possible to proceed against the offender by virtue of the clause which forbids any person, by the use of "Entertainments, Plays, Songs, Rhimes, or by any other open words, (to) declare or speak anything in the derogation, depraving, or despising of the said Book of Common Prayer," but the issue of the action would be doubtful, and in any case the scandal and offense would remain. It might be argued by the defendant in such a case, that his "avowed bringing of beauty into religion" could not be classed as either "derogation, depraving, or despising," and the question would then resolve itself into a definition of beauty. The spectacle of young men and women, dressed like the signs of the zodiac, might appeal to some of the "twelve men" authorized by the Act, while others again might prefer the dances of Greek classical variety, given by young girls scantily clad. In either case the verdict would be inconclusive, and we should have to fall back on the probable decision of "tomfoolery" pronounced by the sane and level-headed majority of the public. The curious part of the episode is the assumption of the name of "modernism" in connection with these outbreaks, since dancing has been part of almost every pagan religion since the world began. Reversion to it on the part of a twentieth century clergyman is certainly not modernism—it is, on the contrary, a form of the most pronounced and decided retrogression.

A turning back on different lines is reported from England on the authority of the New York Times Co. The extreme high church party is said to be instituting an endless chain of prayers for the "conversion" of the country, and the old Scottish custom of sending a fiery cross from town to town is to be copied. Just what England is to be "converted" from or to is not stated—maybe there is no special objective, but merely a drive against ordinary "cussedness," so to speak. London and the southern counties are to be prayed for in March, April and October, so that the world will have to wait until next fall to note the results obtained. Some of us will wonder why this special chain of intercession should be limited to the conversion of England in particular. If conversions are going to be the order of the day, there are one or two other spots on this earth which are at least as much in need as the tight little island, which pays its debts, and shoulders the burdens of others in an unusual degree. Emerson said, "The stability of England is the security of the modern world," a remark which seems to throw the onus of continuous prayer on some other people, the plea in that case being changed. Not conversion, but continued stability, should be the boon sought.

In future, if certain amendments passed in the last parliamentary session actually become law, the man who dares to accuse our government of wrongdoing will have to run the risk of his more or less sinful past being enquired into and exposed to an unfeeling world. A MISTAKE. If he had at any time in his younger days robbed an orchard, emptied his little sister's money box, or kissed Edith under the mistletoe, it is certain that these misdeeds will rise up in all their wickedness to confound him—and to protect the spotless persons he seeks to traduce. There is admittedly an atmosphere of haziness about the logic of the position, because we have always been given to understand that two blacks do not make a white, and the moral turpitude of an accuser who may be able to prove his case does not seem to alter the strength of his contention. And, as a matter of fact, the public, who are mostly concerned in such matters, do not look so much at the personalities of the accuser or accused as at the truth or error of the accusation. If they find that public funds, which they supplied, have been wasted in extravagance, loose management, or what not, they are not likely to be concerned about details of the past life of the person instrumental in bringing that waste to light, and as to his motives, well, they are his own affair. The real position is that the taxpayers of a province are practically in the position of shareholders, and have a clear right to know what is done with their money. The proper remedy of a government against false or misleading charges is provided for in legal procedure, and the premature checking of legitimate enquiry by methods which no judge on the bench would allow, must be considered bad policy.

Many writers have at different times touched on the cruelty of fate which necessarily precludes a person from taking an active interest in his own funeral. Mark Twain, I believe, broke down the usual barriers in the person of one TAKING RISKS. beside the driver of the hearse, and pass remarks on the details of the procession. Only the other day, a Viennese poet, by name Arthur Brehmer, went as far as he was able in the same direction, by giving out press notices of his own death, and later on reading his obituary notices and criticisms of his work. As soon as his curiosity had been satisfied, he calmly announced that he was still very much alive, and had merely died pro tem in order to find out just what people thought of his work. It does not transpire whether he was pleased or the reverse, the account simply stating that he was much interested. One cannot help feeling that this curious experimenter was unusually courageous in venturing to learn for himself how he stood in the estimation of that portion of the literary world familiar with his writings. If it is true that listeners hear no good of themselves, he may actually have received some severe shocks to his pride, and is possibly rather sorry he made the experiment.

Every day brings us some fresh proof of changing conditions in economic affairs all around us. We have become fairly hardened to the disturbing discovery that there may possibly be over-production of apples, just as the ANOTHER prairie farmer has decided that it is possible to IDYLL grow too much wheat, but when it comes to a ple-BROKEN thora of pigs in Ireland, we seem to have reached the limit. Ever since childhood's days we have known the Irishman's pig as the jentleman that pays the rent, yet now we learn that this national asset is being turned loose on the road in County Donegal because he can no longer be fed profitably to meet present market prices! "I've built me a neat little cot, darlin', I've pigs and potatoes in store." sang the Irish suitor to "Kitty-Tyrell," and we know that his impassioned lyric was successful—what will be the burden of his song now that pigs is pigs no longer? AUTOLYCUS.

MOCK WEDDING IS ENTERTAINING

The whole ceremony went off with marked success and the audience, which filled the hall to capacity, fully appreciated the efforts of the members of the Women's Institute who were able to provide such a treat. The balance of the program was: solo and duet chorus by the Misses Alice and Helen Wright, "Silver Threads Among the Gold." Two comic selections by Mr. Hawkes; solo by Mrs. McKay, "If Winter Comes." Duet, Masters Will and Edgar Wright, "The Girl I left behind Me;" solo, Miss Annie Taylor, "Believe Me in all those Endearing Young Charms." During an intermission the beautiful wedding cake (which had been made at the Peachland Bake Shop and exhibited in a conspicuous place on the platform till the maid, Mrs. Young, carried it to the bride) was cut in small pieces and sold at 5 cents per piece. The proceeds, about seven dollars, will be used for defraying expenses incurred in the getting up of the program. The program then continued: solo, Mr. Maben, "Out Where the West Begins," nursery rhymes by the bride, the two flower girls, the maid of honor and the youngest bridesmaid; solo, Miss Helen Wright, "Down the Trail to Home Sweet Home;" duet, the Misses Edna Cudmore and Willa Elliott, "Won't you Buy my Pretty Flowers?"; solo, Mr. Martin, "The Skipper;" solo, Miss Alice Wright, "Basket of Old Fashioned Roses;" solo, Mrs. McKay, "Song of Florian;" duet, the Misses Edna Cudmore and Willa Elliott, "Prairie Good-Night;" solo, Mr. Maben, "Mother Machree."

Mrs. Dryden, the president of the Women's Institute, who so ably acted as chairman, announced the proceeds of the admission fees, which the Institute were donating to the Great War Veterans to purchase chairs for their hall. Mrs. Dryden called on the veterans' president, Mr. F. Topham, and presented him with the proceeds, which amounted to $55.50. Mr. Topham, with a few well chosen remarks, on behalf of "the boys" thanked the ladies for what they had done for them while "overseas" and also since their return. Miss Whitman, who spent her Christmas holidays with friends here left last week to return to her school. Mr. Joe Snasac returned from the Kelowna hospital last Thursday after a short stay there as a result of his accident with a log and is improving nicely. His wife and her niece, Miss Ivy Law, went over and brought him home. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hogg left last week for Vancouver, having received word that Mr. Hogg's father was critically ill. Miss Gladys Edgcombe left last week end to return to her school, after having enjoyed the holiday season with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkes and household enjoyed a few days' visit from members of the family from Amazon. Mrs. McLatchie, Miss McLatchie, and little boy. They left Monday evening to visit Coast points before returning home. Mr. G. H. V. Bulyon and his sister, Mrs. J. B. Robinson, returned Thursday morning after spending New Year's day with relatives in Summerland.

The European Situation We might say—there's plenty of preparations but no reparations, Aspiring. "Here, waitress! This doughnut has a tack in it." "Well, I declare! I'll bet the ambitious little thing thinks it is a flavor treat." So Much Alike. Dunks: "What's the difference between a hairdresser and a sculptor?" Spunks: "Easy—the hairdresser curls up and dyes and sculptor makes faces and busts."

CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the Electors of the Municipality of Summerland that I require the presence of the said Electors at THE MUNICIPAL OFFICE, WEST SUMMERLAND, on the 14th DAY OF JANUARY, 1924, AT TWELVE O'CLOCK NOON for the purpose of electing persons to represent them as Reeve and Councillors, School Trustees and Commissioner of Police.

Rex Barnes left for Vancouver on Sunday to continue at the University.

Miss Scott, a nurse, came in on Tuesday from the Coast and will care for the McGregor children.

The youth of the district again wended their way to school on Monday after the Christmas vacation.

Mrs. S. J. Conway went down to Penticton on Friday night to visit her daughters there.

Alex. Smith returned on Monday to Kelowna, after spending the holiday at his home here.

Mrs. Geo. Guy came down from Westbank on Monday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Gray.

Donald McIntyre went down to Vancouver on Sunday to resume his studies at the University.

Miss Bertha Johnston left on Monday's train for a short visit to Coast cities.

Miss Emily Wallock came down on Saturday night's boat from Enderby where she had been spending Christmas.

Miss Marion Beavis went up to Kelowna Saturday morning to resume teaching with the opening of the new term.

Mrs. R. V. Agur and children returned on Friday night's boat from Vernon, where they had been visiting.

Miss Ruth Blair left by K.V.R. on Friday for Spokane and Portland. She will probably remain there for the winter.

Miss Thelma Hobbs, who has been spending the holidays with friends at Nakusp, returned home on Friday night.

News has been received here of the birth of a son on December 26th to Mr. and Mrs. A. Bishop, of Vancouver. Mrs. Bishop was formerly Miss May Whiteford.

Miss Jessie Moffat, who spent Christmas with her parents here, and New Year's with her sister, Miss Marjorie Moffat in Kelowna, returned to Grand Forks on Sunday.

Miss Sarabel Fraser, who has been for some time the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. L. McPherson, left on Monday for Vancouver, where she will visit for a short time, before continuing to her home in the east.

Twenty below zero was officially registered at Vernon on New Year's day, while at Kamloops the mercury dipped to 17 below. Six under was the best that old Boreas could give us as a New Year present.

Packing of apples has been resumed by the Summerland Co-operative. Yellow Newtons are the principal variety now in the warehouse and at the request of central these are being prepared for shipment.

On account of snowdrifts between Peachland and Westbank, nine passengers from Kelowna travelling by the regular daily stage last Friday were forced to stay here twenty-four hours on account of missing the train by a narrow margin. Most of the passengers were young folk returning to Normal school at Victoria.

Three Scout basketball teams from Kelowna, whose expected visit last week was postponed on account of unfavorable weather, are scheduled to meet local Scouts in the College Gymnasium on Friday night, this week, during the holidays at his home here.

C. A. Walter has moved into his new cottage in the Ponch Orchard. For several years past he has been living in the A. B. Williams cottage. His new house has been built on the lot formerly owned by the late Rev. J. M. Harrison.

Quite a number of teachers destined for points north of here arrived on K.V.R. train on Sunday. They arranged with W. Johnston, C. B. McCallum and P. S. Roo to take them through to their destinations, principally Peachland, Westbank and Kelowna. The motorists found the road very heavy and W. Johnston, who went first, stated that in places near Westbank he found heavy snowdrifts.

While coming south through Peachland last Friday, W. Johnston noticed an unusual animal running down the hillside toward the lake where it climbed a tree. Stopping his car, he approached the tree and found it to be a bob cat. Taking off his coat and leaving it at the base of the tree he went back a short distance and obtained a gun and brought down the cat.

C. H. Tate, who has been ill since Christmas is still confined to his bed.

Okanagan Lake Boat Co. is unloading another car of Drumheller lump coal. 24L

Miss Carrie Dorman, who has spent the holiday season here, left for her home in Vancouver on Sunday.

Louis Smith, who has been spending the holiday season here, returned on Sunday to resume his studies at U.B.C.

Miss Chilvers, who has been the guest of Mrs. Wright, returned to Vernon on Friday.

Mr. A. J. McGregor returned on Sunday from a short trip to the Coast.

Noel Wright returned to Vancouver on Saturday to continue his work at the University.

Kenneth Walden left on Saturday for Victoria, to continue his studies at the Normal School.

Pheasants in this district are being fed by the game warden since the recent fall of snow.

After a short time spent at his home here, W. J. Mack returned on Saturday to Swift Current, Sask.

Miss Dorothy Solly and Miss Mifanwy Wright went up the lake on Tuesday morning to return to school at Vernon.

Masters Harry Webb and Larry Higgin returned on Tuesday morning's boat to Vernon, where they are attending school.

Mr. E. L. Busch returned last Thursday afternoon from Spokane, Wash., where he was attending the "Ministers' Convention."

Mrs. J. Tait and daughter, Irene, returned on Friday from Victoria, where they have been visiting Mrs. Tait's mother, Mrs. Crossen.

George Washington, who has been visiting his young friend, Francis Stewart, at Vernon, returned home on Saturday night's boat.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mossop and family returned on Saturday night from Calgary where they have spent a short holiday.

Charlie Denike has returned to Ewing's Landing after having spent the Christmas holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Denike.

Stanley and Evelyn Adams, of Penticton, who have been spending a part of their holiday at the home of Mrs. S. H. Adams, returned to their home Saturday night.

Miss Alva Garnett, who spent the Christmas vacation with her sisters in Victoria, returned home last week. She has again resumed teaching at her school at Westbank.

News of the death of his father in England was cabled Major Tweedy a few days ago. Accompanied by his wife and two children Major Tweedy left this morning to sail from St. John on the 10th.

Throughout the recent rough weather the Summerland-Naramata ferry did not miss a single trip. Considerable credit is due the ferry company in thus maintaining the service, as during the same period the mill boat failed to call at Naramata more than once.

Mosses, Howland and Wharton, who have the lease of the tennis-club grounds for a skating rink, have developed an unusually fine sheet of ice and have installed four powerful electric lights so that the whole rink is well lighted. The improvements they have made are greatly appreciated.

Owing to heavy snowfalls, travel on the Koromoos-Penticton road has been very difficult, it taking 10 hours to make the 43 mile trip.

Ottawa.—Canada imported 30,125,147 pounds of tea during the 12 months ending November, which works out at around 4.4 pounds for every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

BOX FACTORY AND MILL SOLD

Summerland Lumber Company sawmill and box factory have been sold by the assignee to the Pacific Box Company of Vancouver, according to information gathered here today. The price paid by the Pacific Company is said to be $34,000. This does not include the manufactured lumber on hand, which will net the estate another $6,000. M. G. Wilson and W. Ritchie, two of the inspectors of the estate, went down to Vancouver last week end. Mr. Wilson passed through here this morning on his way to Vernon but Mr. Ritchie has not yet returned. The price at which the property has been sold means that unsecured creditors will receive nothing.

It is said the box factory is likely to resume manufacturing about the first of March.

A subscriber, now in England, sends the Review the following letter with the request that it be published:

"Dear Sir,—Having lately returned from the Okanagan, I was in Southampton in one of the best fruiters and saw O.K. boxes of Jonathans marked "Extra Fancy." No apples that went to the packing house this season from my orchard were as small nor as poorly colored. Nevertheless, about fifty per cent. of them were, according to the returns, culls, and I was charged accordingly. If this is the case, how do these apples reach England as the best sent out? The salesman told me that the Hood River apples, American of course, were better and fetched a higher price and he showed me the boxes bearing out his statement.

"I then went to a smaller shop in a side street and found precisely the same state of affairs, except that the Jonathans here were larger. The price in both places were 8 and 9 cents a pound for Jonathans and 12 cents for Hood River.

"As I picked nearly all my own fruit I know what went out of my place and there are doubtless many others who do the same."

PLAN TO OPERATE CHUTE LAKE MILL

It is stated that the price of apple box shoo will likely run over twenty cents for the coming season and may be as high as twenty-three cents. Such a price as this means profitable business for local box factories.

At a recent meeting of the inspectors and the trustee of the Okanagan United Growers, Ltd., in liquidation, the approval of the inspector was given to the liquidator's proposal that the Chute Lake mill be operated during the coming season.

Penticton's share of the liquor profits to September 30, 1923, amounted to $4,262.66 net, they having been docked $424.90 for a "bill of enforcement."

MANY RETURNING FROM CALIFORNIA

Many Canadians, lured by the stories of "good times" in southern California, are now headed northward. Harry Braun, who with Bud McCallum, left here by motor a few weeks ago intending to go to California, turned back at Portland. Harry arrived in Summerland by K. V.R. Wednesday morning. He says that many Canadians are footing it back from California, some of them being without enough money to buy food. There are many men for every job that is open and hundreds of Canadians now in the south would be glad to be back home again.

From Portland McCallum and Braun motored to Vancouver. McCallum is visiting his sister, Mrs. Bray, at New Westminster, and will return to Summerland later.

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Your correspondent has before him a letter addressed to one of our citizens, Mr. Geo. W. McBean, enclosing a copy of a Christmas card bearing a facsimile of the oldest Canadian Pacific Railway "Folder A" in existence—forty-eight pages, printed in one color, dated 1890; also a facsimile of "Folder A," thirty-three years later—one hundred and twenty-eight pages, printed in three colors. This was sent to Mr. McBean by the Southam Press, Limited, Toronto. The following extract from their letter to Mr. McBean will be interesting: "One of the difficulties we were under in compiling our mailing list was in not knowing the addresses of many of the old timers in the C.P.R. service. Mr. A. B. Calder has aided us very materially by furnishing your present address."

Among the list of travelling passenger agents when this folder was gotten out in 1890 is Mr. McBean, with his address at Winnipeg, and in talking the matter over with him, he states that in going over the list, so far as he knows, he is the only one left of the number who reside in British Columbia.

Mr. McBean had been in the employ of the C.P.R. several years previous to the date of this original "Folder A," and while acting clerk in the Winnipeg city ticket office in 1886 had the honor of selling the first ticket over the C.P.R. from Winnipeg to the Coast. His fellow clerk in the office at the time was Wm. Borden, brother of Sir Robert Borden.

Mrs. Seaton and daughter were recent arrivals by boat to spend the last few days of the Christmas holiday season here before Miss Seaton was obliged to return to her school.

Misses Dorothy Clements and Brenda Edgcombe have returned to Normal school at Victoria.

Mr. Dorland and son Hugh have completed installation of their radio and it is reported to be working splendidly, they having picked up quite distinctly on their first trial on Saturday.

urday evening last. They heard speaking and music quite plainly, but had not listened in early enough to catch the announcement, so were unable to tell where it was from.

Rev. H. A. Solly, of Summerland, braved the bad roads on Sunday last and motored up to conduct his regular service in St. Margaret's church.

Rev. T. A. Sadler having had difficulty in getting to Westbank by car last week made his Sunday afternoon trip by sleigh.

Mr. Macmillan and Mr. J. Harris returned after their Christmas holiday and have gotten off to a good start in the New Year term with a fair attendance since the quarantine and holiday.

Mrs. E. Brinson and members of her family who spent the Christmas and New Year days with relatives in Penticton, returned home on Monday morning.

Bert Keating returned to Kelowna on Monday after his week end visit home. He was accompanied by his mother and sister, Miss Myrtle. Other visitors to Kelowna the same day were Mr. Dryden and T. McLaughlin.

Miss Flossie Clements left on Monday morning for Vernon where she has accepted a business position.

Mrs. Shultz left on Monday evening for Coast points, and California, to spend the winter. She will return in the spring.

Mrs. Craig left on Monday evening to join her husband at Portland, he having preceded her some weeks and found suitable employment, expects to remain there for some time.

Mrs. J. L. Elliott and daughter, Willa, returned home on Monday evening from a short visit to Kelowna.

We are always sorry to see any settlers moving out when it means a probably permanent move as it seems to be in the case of Mr. and

Mrs. Weitzel and son Earl, who left on Tuesday morning for Penticton where they expect to settle for a time. They moved their household effects by auto truck, J. Kudelka and son taking the contract. During their sojourn in Peachland they have made many friends who are indeed sorry to bid them farewell and the municipality loses a careful, conscientious and faithful constable in Mr. Weitzel, Sr., he having acted in that capacity during the last year.

The young people in town had a pleasant surprise on Tuesday when they received an invitation from the Cousins family to come up and have a skate on their rink in "The Glenn." We say surprise, because many did not know there was such a rink all ready for a crowd to assemble on, and quite a number availed themselves of the opportunity. The rink

Quarterly Collection Of Irrigation Rates Suggested by Deficit

Operating System under very Low Rate—Ten Dollars per Acre would Make It Self Sustaining, Says Reeve—Would Result in Lower Taxes—Small Deficit in Electric Department—Should Encourage Consumption—Pipe Line Effects Saving—Seepage Troubles and Farm Contract Discussed by Ratepayers.

Through the fact that rates and taxes had not been as well paid, the municipal financial statement which came up for consideration at the annual ratepayers' meeting last Saturday afternoon, did not make as good a showing as that of the year before, commented F. J. Nixon, municipal treasurer, who spoke on the statement.

The sinking fund was short 5.7 per cent. as compared with 2.4 per cent. at the end of 1922. Sixty-four per cent. of the taxes had been paid in 1923, 75 per cent. in 1922. Fifty-eight and one-half per cent. of the irrigation rates were paid as compared with 71 per cent., 83 per cent., and 86 per cent., going back over the three previous years and it is the non-payment of rates that is rendering it very difficult for the council to carry on. Only sixty-six and one-third per cent. of the general water rates were paid as compared with 84 per cent. the year previous. Domestic water users had paid 87 per cent. of the rates while in 1922 85 per cent. and 1921, 90 1/2 per cent. were paid.

A very different story was told when it came to electric light rates, 98 per cent. of which had been paid. Mr. Nixon was disposed to credit this to the short term collections, electric light rates being collected monthly as compared with yearly for irrigation and general water. He suggested that quarterly payments of irrigation rates might improve the position of the municipality.

There were 1200 minimum users of electric light last year as compared with but 900 the year before. This he took to be a reflection of the times and explained the small deficit which had been incurred as compared with a small margin on the other side in 1922.

WATER CHIEF TOPIC TALKED AT PEACHLAND

Resolution of Sympathy to Former Reeve—Other Peachland News.

Peachland ratepayers meeting held last week end was well attended considering weather and roads. Reeve Lang presided. Clerk Wm. Dryden read the auditors' report and financial statement. Quite a considerable discussion on the report followed and some criticism as well. In answer to enquiries on irrigation rates the reeve stated that Associated Irrigation Districts of the Valley had brought sufficient pressure upon the government to induce the Minister of Lands to give partial relief to the irrigation districts as indicated by the following letter from the comptroller of water rights: "I am instructed by the Honorable the Minister of Lands to inform you that the government has, after careful consideration, decided to grant to irrigation districts on request, relief in respect of repayments of principal and interest to the conservation fund on February 15th, 1924, and on February 15th, 1925, to the following extent: (A) the sums repayable in respect of moneys borrowed for the acquisition of permanent structures, and (B) the sums payable in respect of interest on the district's total borrowings." This concession will allow the rate on the repayment to conservation fund to be reduced from $8.00 per acre to $4.00 per acre.

The trustees have also taken steps to have this amount further reduced as they consider the amount allowed for on permanent structures less than it should be. A committee was appointed to enquire of records at Westbank and Naramata for the purpose.

RATEPAYERS TALK SCHOOL AT MEETING

Matter of Manual Training Left for New Board—Library Growing.

Outside of finances, there was very little discussion on the subject of schools at the annual ratepayers' meeting held last Saturday. The financial statement was read by the secretary and in the absence of the chairman of the school board, Reeve Campbell presided.

During the discussion, the point was emphasized that only 64 per cent. of the 1923 school taxes had been collected and as only enough is levied to cover the year's expenses, the balance had to be met from other sources.

The night school is costing the municipality nothing, the liberal grants from the Department of Education and the fees paid by students being ample to cover all expenses.

Answering a question with respect to manual training, the chairman explained that the board did not think it had been getting value for the money that was being expended. In addition to the government grant, the board had to provide $1100 toward the instructor's salary and also certain materials. Satisfactory teachers were hard to get. He explained, however, the favorable offer made by S. W. J. Pelham who had offered to do the same work for $1,000 as the previous instructor, who had been paid $1,680. The department would provide $580 of this salary, leaving $420 per year to come out of the taxes. This offer had been left for the new board to act upon.

Other questions from the ratepayers brought up the information that the school library now contains about 250 volumes. The government goes fifty-fifty on the purchase of these books, the yearly grant not to exceed $50. Principal MacDonald of the public school is librarian and selects the books, subject to approval of the Department, which has never yet objected to a single choice he has made.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

Members of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary held their annual meeting in the Parish Hall on Tuesday, January 15, seventeen being present with Mrs. Solly, president, in the chair. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. H. A. Solly; 1st vice-president, Mrs. P. W. Andrew; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. A. M. Leslie; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Stark; treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Ingalls; corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. P. Thornber; house committee, Mrs. R. C. Lipsett; purchasing committee, Mrs. W. Ingalls, Mrs. Block, Mrs. Leslie, Mrs. Alexander; auditor, Mr. C. P. Nelson.

CATTLE MISSING

It is reported that quite a number of cattle put out on range last summer by Summerland owners have not been found, though several men have been searching the hills for many weeks. There are a number of reports current as to their probable whereabouts and one of these citizens whose cattle are missing is publishing a formal notice this week with the intention of exerting every effort to secure their return.

DOBERER RESIGNED

Eugene Doberer, manager Berry Growers' Co-operative Union of B. C., has resigned as a means of reducing the overhead of the organization. He will continue to give the executive assistance. The office staff is being reduced to the minimum during the slack season, but the executive will carry on.

CASH MARKET FOR CREAM IS BEING SOUGHT

Meeting of Milk Producers to Be Called at an Early Date.

Plans are being formulated for the holding of a meeting at an early date to consider the establishment of a cream shipping station in Summerland. More milk is now being produced here than ever before and while the local consumption of dairy butter is much greater, the need for an outlet for cream which will at the same time permit of the keeping of more cows and provide a monthly cheque to the producer is generally recognized.

The question has been under advisement by the executive of the Board of Trade who plan to have representatives of butter factories meet the local producers some time near the end of this month.

OLIVER DISTRICT WANT CREAMERY OPENED THERE

Oliver is to have a creamery if the decisions reached at the regular meeting of the Oliver Board of Trade last Thursday night are successfully carried out. It was stated that there are now 400 dairy cows in the district that would contribute to the creamery. The government is to be approached with the request that it help establish the creamery.

An organized campaign with a view to having a cannery established there has also been launched by the Oliver Board of Trade.

WAS PIONEER IN MINISTRY

Late Dr. Hogg Long a Leader Among Presbyterians of Canada.

Rev. John Hogg, D.D. died last Thursday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. P. Ledingham, Vancouver. He was ninety-three. The body was taken to Winnipeg for interment. Two sons, K. S., of Summerland, and R. J., of Peachland, and Mrs. Ledingham accompanied the remains. Two other daughters, Mrs. Teulon and Mrs. A. G. Smellie reside in Manitoba.

Born in Scotland, Dr. Hogg came to America as a lad. He entered the ministry in 1878 at Lawrence, Mass., and afterwards was pastor of churches at Oshawa and Toronto. In 1888 he moved to the new city of Winnipeg and was pastor of St. Giles church there until 1905 when he retired from active ministry.

For many years Dr. Hogg has been one of the leaders in the Presbyterian church in Canada. A good student, optimistic and of good judgment, his advice was often sought.

ODDFELLOWS INSTAL OFFICERS JOINTLY

Summerland Oddfellows were joined by members of the Penticton Lodge at their regular meeting last Monday night when a joint installation of officers was held. District Deputy Grand Master T. B. Williams officiated at the installation. Brothers Anderson and Nesbitt, Summerland, and several of the visiting brethren assisting.

The elected officers for Okanagan Lodge No. 58 are: Noble Grand, E. Thomas; vice-grand, T. A. Walden; recording secretary, R. S. Jackson; financial secretary, O. A. Atkins; treasurer, C. V. Nesbitt.

Following installation, the members retired to the banqueting hall where a sumptuous repast and splendid program was provided. This latter consisted of toasts, speeches, songs, instrumental selections and a chorus by the members of the visiting lodge. The affair was pronounced as one of the most successful of the kind yet held.

BIG GROCERY FIRM CHANGES NAME

The McDonald wholesale grocery company, with headquarters at Winnipeg, and houses in many centres throughout the west apparently will be styled McDonald's Consolidated, Limited, in future, according to recent press reports. The concern has just added another to its link by taking over a wholesale grocery in Victoria. The Occidental Fruit Company is affiliated with this concern.

PLACING IMMIGRANTS

Ralph Brown, field superintendent of the Soldiers' Settlement Board, was in town yesterday on one of his periodical visits. Mr. Brown informed The Review that the board, which is now under the Department of Immigration and Colonization, is actively engaged in immigration work. The plan is to learn of opportunities for employment on farms and to pass the information on to Canadian immigration agents in Britain.

1924 MOTOR LICENCE

Provincial Police Constable McConnell states that it is the intention of the government to collect promptly all motor licence fees. Apparently it is the opinion of the attorney-general's department that many car owners ran their cars for a time or occasionally last year and dodged the tax for the first quarter of the year.

FIFTY PER CENT CUT IN RATES ON IRRIGATION

Temporary Relief Given in Water Districts—Will be Made up Later.

Naramata orchardists received a welcome notification of a fifty per cent. reduction in irrigation taxes for 1923-24. The temporary deficit arising out of same is to be spread over the remainder of the thirty years period of amortization.

This measure of relief has been put into effect by the provincial government as a result of continued representation by the Associated Irrigation Municipalities and the local board of trade, which took up the question a year ago.

The immediate effect is that the Naramata irrigation tax for 1923 is reduced from $10 per acre to $5, and a corresponding cut will be made in the 1924 tax.

INVESTIGATING METHODS OF DEHYDRATION

Dehydrating, processing and other methods of preparing soft fruits for market are being investigated by the heads of the Dominion Experimental Farm here. Superintendent W. T. Hunter leaves today for southern points, including Berkeley, California, to study the subject. Assistant Superintendent R. C. Palmer left on Tuesday on a similar mission. They will be away about three weeks.

Mr. Hunter will consult Dr. F. C. Roimer, of Rogue River Valley, Oregon, probably the greatest world authority on pear blight.

Many Resolutions Bearing on the Fruit Industry Forwarded From Summerland

Despite the small attendance at the combined meeting of the B.C.F.G.A. and Farmers' Institute, held last Friday afternoon, considerable important business was disposed of. C. J. Huddleston was elected to the chair, with P. E. Knowles secretary. R. V. Agur, local director of the B.C.F.G.A., addressed the meeting. The membership in Summerland, though it has dropped to an even hundred, has not suffered such depletion as many farmers' organizations. This apathy is general throughout the country. However, during the past year the B.C.F.G.A. has done much good work, among which is its recent representations before the express rates commission. In this fight for lower rates it has been backed by the prairie provinces and the B. C. government.

Membership Loss

The main business of the meeting was the appointment of a director. Mr. Agur has served long and faithfully in that capacity, and it is largely due to his energy that Summerland attained and held first place in membership. However, since the formation of the new co-operative, the number has fallen off. Under the old Union every member was automatically a member of the B.C.F.G.A., but there are legal obstacles in the way of a continuation of this with the new organization.

Mr. Agur was urged to reconsider his decision to withdraw and to retain the directorship if he were relieved of the major task, that of canvassing for members, but he thought it best that one man undertake the whole thing. Mr. Agur was the recipient of many complimentary and deserving remarks, and the person who trends his footsteps will have considerable to do to live up to the enviable record set by the retiring director. Mr. Agur's work is not all local, for he was highly esteemed on the provincial executive.

Go To Convention

The annual convention of the B.C.F.G.A. is being held in Chilliwack on the 16th, 17th and 18th inst., and Summerland is entitled to two delegates. Mr. Agur, as 1923 director, is one, and it was for this meeting to appoint a new director, the same to act as delegate, thereby having his expenses paid. Several names were put up, but all declined, save Jas. Shepherd who, though not anxious for the job, expressed a willingness to take it on if Mr. Agur would give him some help, which was promised. Mr. Shepherd has represented Summerland once before in this capacity. He proposed dividing the district into zones for a membership canvass. This would ensure greater efficiency and less burden for one man.

Several resolutions were drawn up for presentation at the convention. Some of these are of the greatest importance and deserve positive action.

Some Resolutions

G. J. C. White had the monopoly on resolutions for a time, they being: "Whereas there is much confusion in the names given to different varieties of fruit, especially cherries, plums, and pears, so that fruit from the same trees are handled by different names on different years or by different people, causing confusion, and it may be disappointment both to growers and buyers, therefore, "Resolved that the Dominion Fruit Department be requested to prepare, or secure or recommend standard descriptions of standard fruits for B. C., and supply them to all inspectors, and supply them or make them available to all packing houses."

Many instances were cited in corroboration of this application of a (Continued on Page 6)

Associated Executive Discuss Marketing With District Editors

Growers Will be Kept Better Informed on Operations of Central, Is Promise—Have Succeeded in Face of Worst Conditions—Get Better Distribution—Better Method of Financing Proposed—Confidence Established and Co-operation of Distributors Obtained—Home Market Held for B. C. Apples—F.O.B. Market.

It was upon the invitation of the executive of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, extended to the editors of papers in the territory covered by the organization, that a number of the editors met the executive at the head office of the Associated a few days ago.

The Review and other newspapers had at different times pointed out to the heads of the Associated the need of more publicity and a closer connection between head office and the individual members. Members of the executive had also, on different occasions, expressed the desire of meeting the newspaper men and when they gathered in the board room at the Vernon office the editors were asked to state frankly anything that they had on their minds with respect to the organization and at the same time the executive, with equal frankness, laid before the journalists all information asked for by them and submitted reports covering the operations of the Associated.

A whole afternoon was thus occupied and many phases of the business were discussed in an informal and friendly way.

The chair was occupied by Thos. Bulman, vice-president. A. T. Howe, president of the Associated, welcomed the newspaper men and thanked them cordially for their response to the invitation and for their generous assistance to the co-operative movement.

There were present, President Howe; vice-president Bulman; Managing Director B. Steuart and F. E. Lewis, all of the executive; Director J. J. Campbell and Sales Manager B. McDonald; J. J. Kerr, Kamloops Standard-Sentinel; K. C. Wiles, Salmon Arm Observer; J. A. McKelvie, M.P., and W. E. McTaggart, Vernon News; G. C. Rose, Kelowna Courier; R. E. White, Summerland Review; R. J. McDougall, Penticton Herald; (Continued on Page 3)

OLD COUNCIL MEMBERS SEEK RE-ELECTION

Seven Candidates in Field for School Trustees—Polling Saturday.

Reeve J. R. Campbell was re-elected by acclamation as was R. Johnston as police commissioner, each being the only nominee for the respective positions when nominations closed at two o'clock Monday.

There are six candidates for the four seats around the council table, and seven for the three vacancies on the school board.

All four members of the last council are seeking re-election, including Coun. Kirk, who has served for several years as chairman of the water board. Coun. Kirk had early last year decided to retire at the end of the year and only at the last moment, as a result of persuasion by a number of ratepayers did he consent to stand for election for another term.

O. G. Smith and J. C. Arkell are the new candidates for the council, the others being J. A. Kirk, R. Johnston, W. Ritchie and H. Bristow.

Of the three retiring members of the school board, S. F. Sharp, J. R. Campbell and G. H. Inglis, only one J. R. Campbell, is up for re-election. The other candidates are Miss Sinclair, J. H. Bowering, G. W. Copo, H. H. Creese, J. W. S. Logie and H. Sharman.

Mrs. Solly and W. Ritchie were elected to the board last year and have another year to serve, trustees being elected for two year terms.

In addition to selecting councillors and trustees, ratepayers will be asked to give expression to their desires with respect to high school fees and to give approval to the Summerland Telephone Company by-law.

Voting will take place on Saturday and the polls will be open until 7 p.m. As there will be four sets of ballots, F. J. Nixon, returning officer, does not expect to have the results of the balloting compiled until nearly midnight. He has promised, however, to post the results at the municipal office and at the office of The Review.

BANK OF MONTREAL CLOSING SUB AGENCY

On Saturday of this week the Bank of Montreal will close its sub agency at Naramata. H. G. Fisher, who has been in charge, will be attached to the office of the bank here.

GETS COMMISSION AS POLICE MAGISTRATE

G. J. Coulter White has received his commission as Police Magistrate and judge of the Petty Debts Court and is now prepared to hear any cases.

TRADE BOARD OF NARAMATA HEAR REPORTS

Officers Re-elected—Will Seek Bank—Plan to Hold Banquet.

The fourth annual meeting of the Naramata Board of Trade was held on Monday evening, when the outstanding business of the past year was wound up.

A report of the year's work was given by the retiring president, Mr. Geo. Weaver. This included activities along the lines of reduction in the tree tax, and water charges, both of which objects have been secured, and also in the matter of wharf extension, which has progressed satisfactorily. The arrangements for street lighting had been delayed by no fault of the board, and would probably have to remain unsettled for the present.

The report was considered satisfactory and the president and secretary Mr. F. C. Manchester, were re-elected for a fourth term of office. Mr. H. P. Salting becomes vice-president in place of Mr. J. M. Robinson, on the motion of the latter, and Mr. Robinson was designated as Hon. President as an appreciation of his liberality to the board since its inception.

The councillors for the year are Messrs. Smith, Armour, Kennedy, Lyons, Horswill and Partridge. Now business included a discussion of bank matters, in view of the withdrawal of the Bank of Montreal at the end of the week and it was decided to endeavor to have a branch of the Royal Bank open here. The matter of a Board of Trade banquet was discussed, and the end of March was fixed as a suitable date for same, the arrangements being left in the hands of the council.

THE PEDLAR'S PACK

By AUTOLYCUS

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles."

The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

My friend, T. M. Fraser, for whom I wrote regularly when he owned and edited "The Saturday Press" of Saskatoon, was never very sparing in his handling of the banks and their methods. In one of his caustic editorials he referred to a well known picture depicting a string of camels laden with merchandise, and suggested "LET ME BE YOUR BANKER." that if the camels had been drawn as asses, the scene would be a fair representation of the train of depositors who constantly brought money for deposit in their local banks. He claimed that when money was plentiful the banker was anxious to lend, and when it threatened to become scarce he promptly insisted on calling in loans, no matter what the consequence to the customer might be. He wondered what had become of the self-evident truth that a trader needed assistance when he was short of money, not when he had plenty, and he sighed for the days when the affluent person in some last century novel was accustomed to say to a friend, "Let me be your banker,"—meaning, "Draw on me for what you need, and repay at your convenience." What he would have said concerning the revelations of the past year or two I can only faintly imagine—he might possibly have given up for lack of printable language.

I notice that Mr. W. Irvine, M.P. for East Calgary, has given notice of certain motions in the Ottawa house, one calling for further investigation of the Bank Act, and the other applying to the Home Bank case. A correspondent from Hamilton, Ontario, has written the "Calgary Herald" suggesting certain changes in the Post Office Savings Bank, by which the limit of deposit would be raised, together with the rate of interest payable. His idea is to encourage the transfer of savings to the Post Office institution, and provide for government issue of the circulation notes. He claims that the country would save $40,000,000 annually by this change, but does not say exactly how. It is doubtful whether the government will feel justified in thus invading what may be called banking territory, although, to a certain extent that is already being done. And there would certainly have to be greater facilities for withdrawal than at present exist. However, I take it that the circulation of notes would automatically relieve this defect, which unquestionably limits the business of Post Office banks today. The Hamilton correspondent suggests that Mr. Ledner and Mr. Irvine could work together on this matter in the coming enquiry, and doubtless there will be some collaboration of the kind. It may also be in order for this present scribe to remark that it is important for public opinion to strongly support the members in their insistence on some changes for the better. The banking system of Canada needs considerable improvement, and public opinion is the only force which will ensure it.

The same newspaper heading which tells of the awarding of the Bok peace prize, also informs us that the U.S. Senate is "at war" over the proposed solution! This at once carries us back to the episode of Henry Ford's peace ship, which was to bring about the laying down of arms at a certain date, but which never even reached the theatre of operations because of quarrelling and fighting amongst its peace seeking passengers. Something of the same kind is evidently to be looked for again, the chief feature of the prize essay being support of American co-operation with the League of Nations, which is anathema to many senators. Even in the emasculated form outlined by the writer of the prize paper, they will have none of it, and are ready to fight to the last ditch—in the interests of peace! Well, we must leave the U.S. Senate to settle these differences for itself, but in the meantime must commend the Bok winner for making clear the actual position of the League as it stands today. With five sixths of the nations of the world in the League there is clearly no room for a second organization of the kind, and it is equally certain that the going concern will not dissolve after four years of fairly successful existence in order to make way for an entirely problematical substitute. Thus it remains simply a question of acceptance or refusal of membership, and that is a matter for Americans to decide for themselves.

As far as the peace proposal itself is concerned, the weakest point is the suggestion that moral force is to take the place of military measures as a last resource against disturbers of the peace. A world ruled by moral persuasion and public

ELECTION TIME.

OF ALL THE ding gol busted things of which I ever wrote, I never had a job so bad as know which way to vote. I toss in bed and scratch my head and moan and groan and whine, and calculate that on the slate there ain't a friend of mine. It gets my goat just how to vote at Saturday's election, for I'll be durned if one has earned the right of my selection. There's Jimpson Dodds, by all the gods, who'll never get a show; I'm getting wise to frothy guys like William Joblots Blow, who says that he will cinch for me the job of "bull" or "crier," but well I know that Billy Blow's a monumental liar. There's Grumpy Jones, the lazy bones, who swears he'll start me working; and Jumpy Brown, the crazy clown, who'd start me City Clerking. With welcome paw and wagging jaw and pre-election pledging, just watch them fit with icy mitt when time comes round for hedging. Methinks I'll pump right off the jump for old man Jimpson Dodds; he's deaf and dumb and on the bum and can't see twenty rods—the harmless cuss can do no wuss than others I could mention (to pass him up like mongrel pup is everyone's intention). So how can man vote better than defying fearful odds?—that's why I'll tote my lonesome vote for J. K. Jimpson Dodds.

opinion is a beautiful vision, but it implies a race of beings which are not at present in existence. No law has yet been devised which has not found physical force necessary for its carrying out, and although it is a good thing to work for such an ideal condition, yet it is vain to expect, at this stage, practical results without a reserve of practical methods. Impracticable idealism is the worst enemy of real improvement.

On the whole the prize peace essay is calculated to help the movement towards greater sanity in the conduct of world disputes, and if it seems to place Uncle Sam on a pedestal as the ultimate arbiter of peace, well, we are accustomed to that amiable form of American egotism, and are learning to accept it as inevitable.

It is related of Sir Walter Scott that he was much disturbed in later life whenever he found his memory failing, regarding it as an indication of general decline. We know that in the ordinary course of things such a fear is well founded, but happily the process is usually very gradual, and possibly has certain compensations. Fortunately, also, we do not have to accept occasional freaks of memory as signs of imminent decrepitude, or some of us would be in a bad way all the time. When a man who has passed the half century mark begins to notice a tendency to forget the name of a person he met only yesterday, and yet finds he can recall names and events of his childhood's days, he knows that the cells of memory are merely less receptive now than they were then. The young mind is "wax to receive, and marble to retain";—later on the process is apt to be partly reversed. There is nothing freakish about this natural law. But when there comes a sudden hiatus, which for the moment breaks the chain of our doings, we must class it as a freak of nature more or less inexplicable. The most embarrassing instance I ever saw of this kind was in church. The clergyman was at the altar, reciting certain sentences of the communion service, when he suddenly came to a stop, hesitated, repeated the previous sentence, stopped again, made another effort to go on, but failed, and was only able to proceed after one of the choir boys had been sent up with a prayerbook. This clergyman had officiated for over twenty years, and never had to depend on the prayerbook, but on this occasion, something evidently slipped, and he could not recover it. A more amusing case, which I can personally vouch for also, was that of a young friend of mine recently married, who one day walked from his office to his parents' home, instead of his own, and sat down at the table just as he had been accustomed to do. The family looked astonished, and his mother said, with a twinkle, "I'm sorry you and Kate have had words so soon; John." This switched "John" on to the track again—he exclaimed, "Great heavens! I forgot I was married!" and bolted.

ROWDY WEDDINGS.

"Making fools of newlyweds" has resulted in rowdiness and levity at marriage ceremonies that makes a ribald affair out of a service in which sacred joy should be a dominant note, the Rev. Father Dr. John L. Belford, of the New York Roman Catholic Church of the Nativity, said recently. Actions of wedding guests have become so inappropriate, he said, a priest had to threaten to jail a "lady rowdy" who attended a wedding at his own church.

"For pagans, the manners of some of the members of our churches would be bad; for Catholics, they are indefensible," said Father Belford. "Why do people try to make fools of the newlyweds? Why should ribaldry and rowdiness characterize a wedding, with such stunts as the flinging of rice and pincarding of carriages. Those things are repugnant to the average bridegroom and bride, following the sacredness of a wedding ceremony, and they are repugnant to any one with fine sensibilities who witnesses them."—The Hook.

Satisfied Present Method Best for British Apple Sales

Basil Stuart, Managing Director of Associated, Gives Summary of His Report to Directors on Marketing of O.K. Brand in Britain.

B. Stuart, managing director of the Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd., gives the press the following summary of conditions as he found them in the British apple market during his recent visit to England and Scotland.

"The representatives of the Associated in the different markets were found to be thoroughly experienced in the fruit trade, and very much alive. There are many old firms which seem to lack force but this is not the case with the connections of the Associated Growers. The distribution to the different ports of arrival in Great Britain in the main was found satisfactory and had been carefully planned. There are times when it would seem desirable if our representatives would use Scandinavian and Continental markets for trans-shipments of limited quantities as occasions warrant. In this connection Mr. Simons intends to investigate these markets with a view to using them when prices will warrant trans-shipment.

Hold for Price
The present auction firms employed are strong firms with a thorough knowledge of the business. They have not hesitated on many occasions to refuse to accept low prices. They have repeatedly withdrawn the fruit and held it with a view to maintaining the market and increasing prices. It is not their practice to sell fruit at whatever price is offered for it without rhyme or reason. The two firms employed are, so far as the Associated accounts are concerned, working as one organization and have trans-shipped fruit from one market to another when the market conditions warrant. The concentration into one strong selling hand has proved this method the most successful. Buyers have been compelled to get their supplies through this source instead of being able to play one selling organization against another and trying to buy from the cheapest. While many buyers argue against the concentration because it is against their interests in the way of cheap buying, there are quite as many who are satisfied although it results in their having to pay higher prices because it brings to them the advantage of confidence in their purchase, knowing that their competitors cannot get supplies elsewhere at lower prices.

Is Best Method
The present auction method in dealing with large quantities is superior to that of private selling. The auction sales are attended by large crowds of buyers, attracted to them by the offering of all kinds of fruit, whereas the private seller is generally not so well equipped in variety and usually in a heavy season cannot compete with the auctions in any respect. The private seller, having no auction outfit is at a disadvantage compared with the auctioneers, who if they like, and they think it in the interests of the fruit, can make sales by private treaty, so that they have two methods at their disposal.

The private seller is similar to our commission merchant; in many cases he receives direct shipments, selling for the shipper's account direct from the dock, or from warehouses, and in some cases even resorts to the auctions in order to clear any stocks. This is not generally considered as good a method as the auctions, especially where fruit is out of condition.

Distributing Points
The markets at present being used are Glasgow, Liverpool, Manchester, Hull, London and Southampton and in a smaller way Cardiff, and these cover the distribution throughout the whole of Great Britain and Ireland. The smaller ports such as Newcastle, Leith and Bristol are not capable of consuming important regular quantities. These centres and their immediate vicinities are amply supplied through the large ports and the cost of conveyance of a box from the above ports varies from 3d. to 7d. per box, on an average not more than 6d. To ship direct to the smaller ports, therefore, would be no great advantage, and would simply take away the buying strength from the larger ports. When fruit is not in a rollable condition and requires immediate sale the smaller ports experience difficulty in effecting such sales because there is not the same mixed buying strength as exists in the larger ports. A concrete example of this can be instanced by a comparison between Glasgow and Leith.

Among the buyers of the former there is a large proportion of the hawking trade while in the latter and throughout Edinburgh few or no hawkers exist. The general practice at Leith when fruit arrives in a condition requiring immediate sale is for it to be sent to Glasgow for disposal.

Are Co-operating
The present auction firms consult each other daily by telephone and telegraph and there is team work throughout their operations. They have a standing in the trade second to none. Their principal and sole business is to receive and sell fruit to the best advantage. On the arrival of the fruit at the docks, it is discharged and supervised from the beginning to the end. The auction firms personally inspect the consignment and know exactly its condition and so are thoroughly able to judge whether the fruit is in condition to hold if necessary or whether it requires a speedy sale.

It is remarkable that in a season of low prices British Columbia apples have steadily all along realized higher prices than similar apples from other districts, quality and conditions of both being equal. One reason advanced for this is that while B. C. fruit has been strongly held in concentrated hands, fruit from other districts has been received by all and sundry competing against itself in every single market.

The terms on which the Associated fruit is handled are particularly favorable and the service received has been as good as it is possible to obtain from auction brokers. While their system is very complete they are very willing to make any change that would tend to better results to the shippers.

O.K. Brand at Premium
The Associated pack this season has been in the main satisfactory and for another year it will be advisable to market all our export to the United Kingdom under the O.K. brand and it should be the aim of the Associated to make this an absolutely uniform pack. The O.K. brand as turned out this year has brought a premium on the British market over the other brands used by the Associated.

On investigation into the plan proposed by Mr. Harrison to make a large shipment of apples to Trafford Park it was found to be unworkable and for the present at least of no use to the Associated Growers. Mr. Stevens, the general manager and Mr. Maycock, one of the directors, stated quite definitely that had a shipment been made as proposed by Mr.

Harrison, it would have been handed over by them to Messrs. J. & H. Goodwin, Limited, to be sold in the usual way. This would have meant a glutted market in Manchester making it necessary to trans-ship a large proportion of the apples to other markets.

Not a Sales Firm
Trafford Park has a very fine cold storage plant and the rates are very reasonable. The Associated is indebted to Mr. Stevens and Mr. Maycock for the kind way in which they explained in detail the facilities available through the medium of their organization. They were quite frank in admitting that they knew very little of the apple business and were only interested from a storage point of view, having no sales force connected with their company other than the channels we are already using.

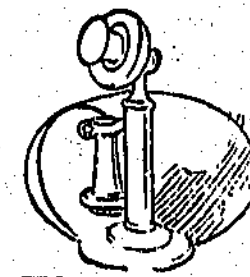

Mr. Moomaw, who does not sell fruit but acts as a guardian of the shippers, afforded every facility for investigating his method of handling fruit, as compared with that in general practice. He gave free access to his records and put himself to a great deal of trouble to supply information that might be helpful in understanding the whole method of marketing as it is carried out in the United Kingdom. Mr. Moomaw is highly recommended by Mr. Dana C. King, the sales manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, also by Mr. Wilmer Seig, manager for the California Fruit Distributors, who had business with him when he was with the Hood River Apple Growers Association and the North Pacific Fruit Distributors.

Mr. Forsyth Smith, Mr. Moomaw and others supplied a great deal of information which should be helpful to the Associated in making export arrangements for another year.

High Shipments
Prices received for export apples are very discouraging to the growers, but when they are compared with what has sometimes happened in the past there is perhaps some cause for congratulation. Up to the present time there is no red ink this year on the British export. The market values on all lines of fruit being low, British Columbia could not realize more than the market values. When comparison is made with what has been realized by others for similar varieties, sold in large quantities, it will be found that British Columbia has had its full share of what was being paid on the British market.

When account is taken of the heavy exports to Great Britain in 1923, as compared with exports for the same time in 1922, it seems surprising that the results are not even more discouraging.

Summary of United States and Canadian apple exports to the United Kingdom up to December 15th: 1923, 1,720,000 barrels, 2,213,000 boxes. 1922, 977,000 barrels, 1,723,000 boxes. Total estimated in terms of boxes: 1923: 7,373,000; 1922: 4,654,000. Scandinavian export: 1923: 75,000 bbls., 335,000 boxes. 1922: 15,000 bbls., 70,000 boxes. ASSOCIATED GROWERS OF B. C., LIMITED.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering any land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, is, carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commission, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be accepted for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE
Applications are received for purchase of unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $3.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESTEAD LEASES
Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homestead, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES
For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 40 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING
Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

EXECUTIVE OF ASSOCIATED MEETS WITH EDITORS
and W. A. McDonald, Farm and Home, Vancouver.

Adverse Conditions.
President Howe declared that conditions had been about as bad as possible during the year of organization of the fruit growers of British Columbia and it was remarkable that as much had been accomplished under such adverse conditions.

"There was the disability of the public to buy; the great over production of fruit, especially apples, in this continent; the bad financial condition of the growers after two disastrous years; the launching of a large business organization wholly dependent on borrowed capital and the general unrest of the growers which these conditions created; but yet the organization had paid its obligations to the bank in full and it was now handing money to the growers.

Every market had been a glutted one; the American market, usually open to our McIntoshes, had been filled against them and the Associated had to sell more McIntoshes on the prairies and export abroad.

Maintained f.o.b. Market.
Organization by the growers had brought about a changed condition on the prairies. The Associated had sold 95 per cent. or more of its apples at a net f.o.b. price.

Mr. Howe then explained how some independents handling a relatively small amount of fruit adversely affected the market of the whole output of the province. The coming of a single carload to a retailer in a prairie town, already covered by the Associated through the wholesaler, had the effect of establishing a price which too often was not sufficient to leave any margin for the wholesaler, who thereupon demanded lower prices from the Associated.

The wholesaler had bought in good faith on the assurance that price would be maintained. Quoting of lower prices to the retailer led the general tendency to drag the price down.

Mr. Howe complimented the sales department on the way it had handled the situation. He did not know how they had done so well. If the sales department had given way under the pressure of demands to meet these prices, they would have had a demoralizing influence and a return of the old conditions.

Speaking of the Associated's plans for feeding the market, such as holding back McIntoshes until Wealthies were cleaned up, he said it would have been much easier had the growers had complete control of their markets. Independents had brought on McIntoshes with the result that Wealthies had suffered.

More Apples Sold.
Apple consumption in the four western provinces had fallen from 3,000 cars in 1914 to 2,000 cars in 1922, stated B. McDonald, sales manager, but through organized effort in 1923 consumption was advanced to nearly normal. It is a fact that the growers cannot put a price on fruit and say to the market, take it or leave it; the buying public have been the dictators as to price this year. The independents, though affecting the market, were not as serious a handicap as they might have been. As Supra says, it is necessary to keep an eye on the consumer. Anything which discourages consumption has the effect of backing up the demand of the retailer and through the wholesaler checks the flow right back to the orchard. During this season, British Columbia has had the widest distribution ever for its fruit. This referred to other markets as well as the prairies. This latter can be built up as the Associated becomes better known.

Tried to "Bear" Price.
Taking as an instance of how susceptible the market is to depression, Mr. McDonald told of a new break in the Winnipeg market through an effort of a jobber there to buy Summerland into keeping apples at $1.15 for Fancy and 95 cents for erates, assuring the Summerland independent that these were the prices quoted by the Associated. Had not the Summerland independent taken the matter of price up with the Associated and held to the quotations of the organization, this one jobber might easily have broken the Winnipeg market. There is only one way to stop the slaughtering of prices, said Mr. McDonald, and that is to hold it off at the source of supply and the growers are the only ones who can do this. For the Associated to try to kill the market of 400 cars from independents with its thousands of cars would be absurd indeed.

Such a situation developed that it was necessary that he station himself at Winnipeg to head off the Ontario apples and those from the United States. In this he had been omnisciently successful through the co-operation of the distributors. There had not been more than 100 cars come into the four western provinces from outside points and Mr. McDonald declared he had returned to Vernon feeling that the Associated is the right thing.

Confidence Established.
The buyers now have the confidence that they will be protected in the prices that they pay and without that confidence we cannot go very far.

The jobbers are divided into two groups. There are two brokerage houses, believed to be jobber owned. The manner in which they are organized may not be pleasant but it was possible with three representatives on the prairies to reach through them practically the whole market and the three representatives of the Associated have been fairly treated.

In answer to questions, Mr. McDonald declared it would be disastrous to attempt to obtain distribution through other channels. The wholesalers would become "shoppers" and they would soon "bear" down the market.

Supporting this view, Mr. Howe declared that the jobbers have some 150 to 200 men who not only sell our fruit but handle citrus fruits, nuts, confectionery, soft drinks, tobaccos and many other lines. British Columbia fruit represents, perhaps 35 per cent. of their business. We would have to hire a huge staff of men and organize them for a brief part of each year in order to reach the retailer in any other way and there would be nothing to prevent the United States fruit flooding our market unless we have the loyalty of the brokers.

Would Need Huge Staff.
Mr. McDonald pointed out that the jobbers could get all the apples they want for the next three months from across the line on consignment but they are paying us from $1.00 to $1.75. It would require as many as 300 men to sell our output at the height of the season, when shipments ran as high as 87 cars per day.

Mr. McDonald explained that it had been the policy of the Associated to keep the market well supplied. To do so and also to keep the packing houses free, apples had been put in storage at many points. This had the effect of keeping out imported apples. Not more than 40 cars of Ontario apples had been shipped to the prairies. Latest United States government crop returns showed ten million more boxes of apples in storage in that country than the average for the past ten years. As the average on this continent is approximately five million boxes, this means that there is a two months' excess apple supply.

Apples in Storage.
The Associated had at the first of the year 234 cars in cold storage—70 at Niagara Falls, about 60 being McIntosh, the market for which is tending upward; 17 carloads were stored in Toronto; 19 at St. John; 46 at Winnipeg and 8 to 10 each in Regina, Moose Jaw and Edmonton; 15 in Calgary and 40 or more in Vancouver. Had not McIntosh been put in cold storage they would have had to be forced on the market, which would have been broken for all varieties and resulted in a consignment market generally. Storage in Winnipeg and Vancouver is having the effect of keeping out American apples. There were then held in the province 311 carloads, mostly Yellow Newtowns in bulk.

Too Many Varieties.
A review of some of the marketing difficulties impressed the newspaper man with the fact that the organization has a great handicap in the vast number of varieties of apples grown, there being about 147. Thirty per cent. of the crop handled is of varieties that had better not be grown at all. They cost as much or more to produce and a great deal more to market. The jobbers say, "Why waste your time and ours trying to sell off varieties?" and particularly in such a season as this they do not wish to touch any but the standard varieties. Asked to name those which should be grown to the exclusion of the others, Mr. McDonald named Wealthy, McIntosh, Gravenstein, Jonathan, Delicious, Wagner, Banana, Spy, Spitz, Rome, Newtown, Winesap, Stayman and for export, Cox's Orange. It was apparent that the working over or replanting of the orchards to eliminate more than 100 off varieties is one of the pressing problems of the industry.

Must Cut Costs.
In response to a suggestion from the editor of The Review that the plan in general practice across the line of the grower making his own boxes and grading and packing his own fruit might be more generally adopted here, giving the grower larger or financial returns, Mr. Howe thought this could well be done but that there must first be a closer inspection. Growers' packing houses at Vernon had caused considerable trouble last season through lack of sufficient inspection, but the growers must strive to bring down costs in every way. Packing costs are too great.

Questioned by the editor of the Penticon Herald on the matter of by-products, Mr. Howe said that this was receiving the attention of the executive. Mr. McGillivray, the Dominion expert, had advised them that a by-products plant could be successfully operated. This question will be further considered early in the coming year. The prairies are consuming from eight to ten million dollars worth of dried and canned fruits and this province two to three million dollars worth. Under the new method of dehydrating, a large part of this market should be open to B. C. fruit.

Anti-Dumping.
Mr. Bulman solicited the co-operation of the press in the endeavor to get adequate protection against the dumping of American fruit. He would have a tariff similar to the Fordney tariff in the United States. Under it the customs authorities collect the difference between the import price and a fair market price, arbitrarily fixed by government authorities. At present our protection against dumping is a 15 per cent. ad valorem duty.

Mr. Howe declared that great credit was due the brokers for the manner in which they supported the association. Without this co-operation independent fruit could have done much more harm. The brokers feel that the Associated has stabilized their business. They might have felt disgruntled when brokerage was reduced from $5 to $25 per car as they obtain a very much higher fee on all other fruit marketed by them, five per cent. on American fruit and on Ontario grapes from $45 to $60 per car. If there had been no competition the Associated could have received from 10, 15 and as high as 25 cents per box more without having imposed any hardship on the consumer. He was confident the jobbers would make little or nothing on the British Columbia soft fruit handled this year and an enormous business had been done by the Associated on the prairies, over 3,000 cars being sold.

J. A. McKelvie, M.P.
Mr. J. A. McKelvie, M.P., speaking on behalf of the newspapers of the interior, assured the executive that they were heart and soul in sympathy with the growers' organization. As for himself, he had supported the co-operative marketing movement from its earliest days. He congratulated the Associated Growers upon what they had achieved in the face of the tremendous difficulties encountered during their first year.

Mr. Bulman dealt at some length with statistics and opened his remarks by saying that the growers had accomplished more than they had dared to hope. There had never been a four million dollar business organized that had accomplished more in its first year. Up to the 18th of December the organization had packed 2,183,094 boxes of apples. Of these there were then 295,990 held in the packing houses and 206,082 in cold storage from the Atlantic to the Pacific; 14,479 crates of summer apples and 553,520 crates of winter apples had been packed. Of this 395,714 had been sold up to December first.

Better than U.S. Prices.
The gross average price received for crates, f.o.b., was 78 cents. Many of these crates were of inferior varieties and lower grades and when the price was compared with that quoted for Washington wrapped and boxed "C" grade, it was very satisfactory. Washington shippers had decided not to sell below 80 cents, but sales reports indicate that they will receive as low as 35 cents f.o.b. for the packed fruit.

Of the 1,375,068 boxes of Cox's Orange, McIntosh, Gravenstein, Snow, Wagner, Stayman, Winesap, Yellow Newtown, Grimos Golden, Spy, Jonathan, King David and Winter Banana, 800,236 boxes had been sold at December 1st at an average f.o.b. price on all grades of $1.20. Later sales, it was believed, would not reduce this average and, declared Mr. Bulman, Washington Extra Fancy are not bringing that price and the Associated had been compelled to send its very best apples outside in order to get distribution.

Summerland Costs.
During a general discussion on prices it developed that Summerland and Vernon had the lowest local charges, while Kelowna stood the highest.

Through the deductions being made on each package for capital investment the organization has already accumulated nearly a quarter of a million dollars. All the money borrowed from the Bank of Montreal, approximately two million dollars, has been repaid. In addition, Growers' Packing Houses, Limited, the subsidiary company financing the purchase of the buildings, will pay off this year $130,000 of the $165,000 borrowed.

Look for Better Deal.
Under the only deal which could be made with the bank, growers of early fruits suffered much hardship by having all their returns used to pay off the bank. An effort will be made for next year to borrow on a budget basis by commodities, a separate loan being made for each group of fruit or vegetables; so that cherry growers, for instance, will receive returns as soon as the bank has been paid for the money borrowed against packing charges.

B. Stewart on Exports.
B. Stewart, managing director, recently returned from a visit to Britain; described the conditions there as "not very rosy," nevertheless, the O.K. brand, as compared with American apples, had been getting 6, 9 and up to one shilling a box premium. The average f.o.b. price, B. C. points, on 300,000 boxes sent to the Old Country was 94 cents. An additional 50,000 packages were in transit and, as reports indicated a stiffening market, he did not look for any reduction on this average. If the Americans export heavily from their ten million box surplus they will break the market.

Control Sale B. C. Apples.
Mr. Stewart gave as one reason for the better price our apples command the fact that they are better controlled. Through the co-operation of the Simons and Goodwin houses these big concerns are as one channel. Even today our apples are bringing tremendous prices in the high class retail stores. The British public are consuming three times as many apples as they did a few years ago. The apples sent by British Columbia is a small factor in the total imports.

Mr. Stewart was then preparing for the directors a comprehensive report of his findings in the Old Country but he had prepared a summary for the press. This we are publishing under a separate heading.

Good Onion Deal.
Associated Growers have also handled a tremendous tonnage of vegetables. F. E. Lewis, the member of the executive representing vegetable interests, told the newspaper men that the organization had handled approximately 4,000 tons of onions, 1,500 to 1,800 tons of potatoes, 65,000 crates of semi-ripe tomatoes, and 25,000 of green tomatoes, beside many other lines. He was highly pleased with the results obtained for the onion growers this season. The onion pool, from September 1 to December 1, had brought a gross price of $38. Deductions at Vernon were $2.25 per ton with a higher charge at Kelowna.

Selling vegetables was a hard proposition because of the Oriental growers, who have no intention to enter co-operation. Mr. Lewis said the best the Associated could do would be to get control of the tonnage and even suggested purchasing from the Orientals in order to stabilize the market. The dealers were trying to give the Association loyal support but the market was affected by the Orientals.

Helps Fruit Business.
Controlling the vegetable market means helping to stabilize the fruit business. Independents on the market with vegetables would be "boot-legging" fruit. It would be good business for the fruit growers to handle vegetables at no profit but he intimated that the vegetable department had carried its own expenses.

Mr. Lewis is a strong advocate of having the vegetable grower make his own boxes and do his own packing and as much of similar work as possible, thus reducing packing house charges.

The vegetable association had been kept well informed of the operations of the Associated in the vegetable line through his office.

Mr. Bulman spoke in a very complimentary way of the manner in which Mr. Lewis had directed the vegetable department.

Before the meeting adjourned several of the executive endorsed the views of the press that grower members were not kept sufficiently informed of the business of the Associated and promised that some action would be taken to remedy this.

SUGGESTION TO COLLECT RATES EVERY QUARTER

(Continued from Page 1) Arrears Heavy The municipality was now carrying $51,000 in arrears of taxes and rates. While it can borrow against taxes it is not empowered to borrow on to enforce payment of rates. In this, pointed out Mr. Nixon, other districts are in a worse position as compared to Summerland. The non-payment of rates on the part of many water users was the subject of a somewhat lengthy discussion, in which Reeve Campbell, who occupied the chair, stated that the councillors had been too lenient during earlier years. The 1924 council, he said, will need to take drastic steps to collect rates if it is to deliver water.

Rate is Low Considerable repair work is absolutely necessary and the back rates are needed to finance them. The 1923 council had talked of making a change in the method of collections, but nothing had been done. The rates here, it was pointed out, are much lower than in other districts. The council, he declared, would be justified in increasing the rate to $10 as that much would be needed to meet the charges. If the rates were raised the taxes would be brought down.

Coun. Bristow as chairman of the electric light committee, reviewed the financial report covering that department. The revenue exceeded that of the year before by $883, and there had been a saving of 196 in operating expenses. $896 more had been paid the power company for current, but the municipality was not taking power during the whole year 1922. There were now 230 users, 18 more than a year before and this will likely be increased next year. The loss as shown by the statement, $434.81 is small on a $10,000 turnover. If current had been used as freely in 1923 as in 1922, results would have been different.

Light Rates He believed it possible to break even next year and was not strongly in favor of raising the rates. An increase of 25 cents on the minimum monthly charge and a half cent per kilowatt hour on the light rates would be ample to cover the last year's deficit.

Answering a question from the audience as to whether the municipality was doing anything to encourage the increased use of power, the speaker replied that only through a special rate for power was anything being done. The present rates were carrying the debt on the old plant.

Would Cut Power Rates C. J. Amm expressed the opinion that a better showing could be made by selling power for a lower rate during the hours of light load and cited his experience in another town with conditions similar to ours where 80 electric ranges were used and every encouragement made for consumption of power.

Is Big Saving That the investment made in the winter pipe line between Trout Creek and the reservoir had been a wise one was the statement of Coun. Kirk, chairman of the water committee. A great saving had been effected in operating expenses as before the pipe was installed there was a heavy annual charge in refilling the reservoir through the irrigation ditch. The domestic water service on the whole was fairly satisfactory. The weakest point in the system is the 8-inch main in the meadows of Prairie Valley, which is giving trouble. This will have to be replaced soon and the question of location should be carefully considered. It is now running through private property and the nature of the soil is injurious to the metal. It might be advisable to place it on higher ground along the highway.

Economic Construction Mr. Kirk reviewed at some length the rebuilding of the irrigation system under the two by-laws of 1918 and 1922, which authorized a total expenditure of $105,000. Under the more recent by-law, the improvement made in the south part of the district had been very effective. Storage had also been greatly improved. Much credit was due to H. Tomlin, foreman, who had completed the work well within the estimates. Iron had been substituted for concrete in parts of the Fawkes plan on the south main considerably shortening the ditch and improving the grades. The saving effected had permitted further work.

5,400 feet of small iron flume had been used to replace wood in maintenance work. In time, iron or concrete will entirely take the place of wood. The maintenance on the system had been reduced as a result. Last year's operating charges were increased, but this was due to the fact that the season had been opened a month earlier and continued later in the fall.

Serious Situation Referring to the heavy arrears in rates, the speaker declared he did not know how the 1924 council were going to carry on with this shortage. While affecting the relations of the council to irrigation, slides seepage etc. were not a liability of the municipality. The seepage problem is growing and whole orchards will be wiped out unless water is better controlled by the user. The use of more water than the land will hold creates a menace and every user should know just what his land requires.

Preparing Report The foreman is now busy preparing a report covering the requirements in the way of repairs and improvements. While the situation is a very unpleasant one, Summerland has in the past tackled and overcome some very serious problems. The need for a complete system of measuring boxes was dealt with by the speaker, who said that a few were being installed where most urgently needed and advised that more be put in from time to time.

There was some discussion which revealed a difference of opinion on the best style of box to use, but speakers and audience were evidently agreed on the necessity of equipping the system with these controlling and measuring devices. During the discussion, David Kean advanced the opinion that if measuring boxes had been used in the vicinity, there would be no Hilborn Lake problem confronting the council.

Was Good Business Concerning the report that a supply of water considerably in excess of contract requirements had been given the Experimental Farm, Reeve Campbell declared this might be very good business. In the past, when the government had been approached with a request for a further contribution to the system, the municipality had been confronted with the statement that it was not living up to its contract. Meters recently installed had proven to the satisfaction of all that the Farm was getting more water than the contract required. It was only reasonable to hope that the government at Ottawa would pay the municipality the present day cost of delivering the amount of water used by the Farm.

PEACHLAND DOINGS A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

A vote of appreciation was passed by the ratepayers. After some discussion as to the advisability of remunerating the chairman of the board of works for his arduous task throughout the year a motion was carried allowing the council to grant him a consideration for this extra work.

Reeve Lang informed the meeting that word had just been received that Dr. John Hogg, father of Mr. R. J. Hogg, our fellow townsman and former reeve of Peachland, had passed away in Vancouver. The late Mr. Hogg was an outstanding figure in the Presbyterian church and was respected in every community where his busy life had been spent in church work. For many years he was one of the leading ministers in the city of Winnipeg.

The reeve expressed the sympathy of the citizens for Mr. R. J. Hogg and Mr. C. Evans moved that the deep sympathy of the ratepayers be conveyed to Mr. Hogg in the loss he had sustained. Mr. John McLaughlin warmly seconded the resolution and spoke of the late minister's character. Mr. McLaughlin was able to speak with greater feeling, having been closely connected with St. Giles church as elder and church manager during the late minister's pastorate. The resolution passed unanimously.

I. E. Trimble had the misfortune recently to lose a Jersey cow. A heifer took sick showing the same symptoms shortly afterwards and they have come to the conclusion that over-feeding on roots was the cause of the trouble. They were able to save the heifer.

Miss Mary Miller came in from the Const last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miller.

Quite a number of young folks formed a surprise party to Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Stewart. They spent the evening with music and dancing, all having immensely enjoyed themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Long and family spent Thursday of last week in Kelowna.

Wm. White recently purchased from Hugh Williams the buildings and property which he has been occupying for butcher shop and dwelling. George Topham returned home on Thursday evening after a trip to the prairie. He was accompanied by Tom Robins and they have attached themselves to W. D. Miller's camp.

J. Wright left on the Friday south bound boat, spending the week end down the lake. He returned on Monday morning accompanied by Jas. Hayward.

Peachland pound was put into use on Friday last when Mr. Lambly brought in a bunch of horses which have been bothering him at the ranch. This is probably the largest bunch, at least for several years, to be put into the pound at one time. Many of them were locally owned, but as yet several of them are unclaimed.

Nominations for the Peachland council for 1924 resulted as follows: The retiring reeve and councillors were re-elected by acclamation. In addition to the two members of the school board retiring at this time, other members were disqualified by the new Act. Mr. Taylor and Mr. Cousins were re-elected and Mrs. Dryden, Mrs. McKay and Mr. Thompson new members, were elected by acclamation.

At the regular meeting of the Peachland Women's Institute held on Friday last, the convenors of the various committees for 1924 were appointed as follows: education and better schools, Miss Burdin; Women's Institute work and method, Mrs. Dryden; Institute entertainment, Mrs. Jones; social and refreshments, Mrs. Young; public health and child welfare Mrs. Murdin; agriculture, Mrs. Jones; immigration and industries, Mrs. Coldham; legislature, Miss Smith; neighborhood needs, Mrs. Smalls. The annual vote as to the advisability of continuing the "noon whistle" was carried unanimously. It was decided to hold a bazaar early in April. The president announced that Dr. Lamb would be in Peachland in the near future and deliver a lecture on "Tuberculosis—Its Preventative and Cure." She believed that this would be a very interesting and instructive lecture and hoped that there would be a good attendance. The executive were the hostesses and a very dainty afternoon tea was served. The officers for the year are: president, Mrs. Dryden, vice-president Mrs. Smalls; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Follett; directors, Mrs. Linga, Mrs. Trimble and Mrs. Young.

CORRESPONDENCE Letters to the Editor.

ADVISES IMPROVING AUTO PARK EARLY

Editor Review. Dear sir,—I believe the time is opportune to impress upon the incoming Council the necessity of making a special effort this year to get after the tourist trade. It is not my purpose to reiterate the benefits which would be derived by the municipality and the community in consequence, as they should be thoroughly realized by this time, but to urge that a substantial cash appropriation be at once set aside for the embellishment and improvement of one of Summerland's greatest assets—our Auto Park.

Your readers learned last week that the Municipality had just received a substantial cheque from Victoria as its share in the liquor sales, auto licences, and pari-mutuel machines, and I would respectfully suggest that a goodly portion of this unearned increment be devoted to the purpose I suggest.

I notice that our nearest neighbor to the south is straining every financial sinew to complete its auto park before the season opens, and I understand the sum of $1,500 has been appropriated for that purpose, while the towns to the north are getting keyed up for a successful campaign to the same end. We on our part should need no prodding to be up and doing so that the municipality will lose nothing by comparison in hospitality and service when the season opens. The time therefore to act is now, before the travelling public are on the move, and incidentally before the cash in hand is utilized.

We have a park of which we should be justly proud, and an asset which should be judiciously fostered. Its locale and environment are second to none in the Valley; snugly situated as it is in a secluded dell, with fine trees affording shelter from wind and sun, it will be the mecca of tourists if we handle our asset right. Apathy or "let-George-do-it" spirit will kill one of the finest chances yet afforded of interesting the stranger within our gates as to our vast potentialities. Moreover, without hitting disparagingly at other Okanagan auto camps, we can with truth point to the fact that there are no breeding grounds for the pestiferous mosquito, and that counts for something in the planning of a camping party. Such things are worth shouting about, particularly when we know we have the means at our command to send our visitors away indelibly impressed with happy memories.

Although a resident of British Columbia of long standing, it has been my lot but lately to become associated with the immediate district, therefore, I sincerely trust that the zeal I have for this subject will override any prejudice that may exist towards advice or suggestions tendered by a "johnny-come-lately." The writer during the past three years has visited more than a hundred auto tourist camps in Canada and the U.S., and he believes, generally speaking, the local public has no conception of the magnitude of the modern movement. Cities are vying with each other to give of their best, and it would astonish many to learn of the innovations to attract the modern tourist. We shall be lacking indeed if we do not stand out pre-eminently the best in the Okanagan; we have the natural attributes so much desired by the traveler, and the municipality should make it its business to go after the business that follows in the wake of these tourists.

My humble experiences and impressions gleaned are at the service of the gentlemen who worked so assiduously last year, and I have in mind some improvements and embellishments which should fructify providing a substantial cash grant is made for such purpose. Thanking you, Sir I am, yours truly, J. J. ATHERTON.

Editor Review.

Dear Sir,—In your issue of last week Autolyceus (whoever he may be) makes certain caustic references to the evangelistic and healing meetings conducted in Vancouver some time ago by Dr. Price.

Autolyceus takes as his cue, the findings of a certain committee of physicians and clergymen who appointed themselves for the purpose of dissecting the reputed cases of healing as the result of those special meetings. If I remember aright, the chairman of that committee was a pronounced unbeliever in the methods of Dr. Price from the first, and condemned him and his works through the means of pulpit and press.

Autolyceus thinks that because only 350 persons out of 5,000 who were reported as healed came forward to testify to the committee, that that is sufficient to "damn the whole enquiry. He says: "Why did the remaining 4,650 remain aloof? The reason is plain—not one of them was cured, and all were disappointed." That will be news to the committee. They wanted to know something about that 4,650; Autolyceus can tell them. Indeed he can go further. He says: "We may very justifiably go further, and assume that among those thousands of deluded people, there were many who are distinctly the worse for the cruel disappointment, and if all were known there would be a record of despondency, insanity and death which would match the one revealed, but would be many times greater."

How prone writers are to exaggerate. The fact is, there was a decided disinclination on the part of a large number of those who were reported to have been healed, having their personal affairs probed into. They rightly objected to being hauled up before a committee of critical if not doubting men. I can quite understand on the other hand that a large number of disappointed ones would be quite willing to appear before such a committee.

According to my understanding from newspaper reports, the meetings were of a distinctly religious character, and that Dr. Price was most guarded and careful in both his words and acts.

Neither has anyone doubted his ability and sincerity. That he possesses extraordinary gifts no one but Autolyceus will deny. Yet he constantly urged hearers to exercise Faith, and look to God for results. I do not think that he attributed the results to Divine powers which he possessed, but urged upon his hearers that he was but a simple instrument of God.

Faith healing and the laying on of hands are not new methods employed of the Almighty for the blessing of mankind.

Yet, here we have Autolyceus saying: "Thus we see the bursting of the bubble of this man's Divine powers. A more damning indictment of ignorant superstition was never presented."

I think, Mr. Editor, Autolyceus has much to learn yet. He should not put down such a work as "ignorant superstition."

Men have been healed by Faith and prayer through all the ages. We are willing to give our learned self-sacrificing physicians all the credit possible for their work. But these cheap sneers against good men who are accomplishing good wherever they go, are uncalled for, especially from such a man as Autolyceus appears to be. Says he again in conclusion: "Why should we allow free entry to men who just as surely spread insanity and death by means of imposture cloaked under the guise of religion?"

Certain men say that of all earnest Christian workers. They have not the eyes to see the good accomplished, but they wish to exaggerate the supposed evil. According to my understanding, many persons pronounced incurable were taken to those meetings. They would have died soon after in any case, therefore it is most unjust to attribute their death to Dr. Price. Do we blame doctors when discouragement and death comes through their failure to cure or heal? Of course not. Then let us be fair to Dr. Price.

The uncounted financial proceeds of the campaign, mentioned by Autolyceus, was a "freewill offering" given by the congregation at one of the last meetings. This arrangement was agreed upon before Dr. Price commenced his meetings. Similar arrangements are frequently made by public men.

The slur above is therefore a very cheap one. "Imposture cloaked under the disguise of religion" is the last charge made by the celebrated writer to The Review who does not give us his name. To some men all religious teachers and workers are impostors.

However, in these materialistic days men of faith and prayer are all too few, rather let us encourage them, and not seek to discredit them before the world. OLIVER E. MANN.

Editor Review.

Dear Sir,—The two answers to my letter are of the type I have already criticised as containing only futile suggestions and wild yarns and as far as they were concerned I would have refrained from further comments, but I feel very strongly that it is the duty of every co-operator to do something personally so venture to take up some more of your space.

Before proceeding to my main point I will refer to the expenses of Central. Any one who cares to figure will find that the three and a half cents a box about covers all executive and "selling" staff salaries, directors' meetings, and the executive salaries of the local packing house. Compare this with an independent packer handling 60,000 boxes and with two members in the firm. Are they working for $2,100? As Sapiro and others have tried to hammer into the growers the better prices paid by independents are due to certain marketing conditions over which the Associated has little control as long as there are an appreciable number of independents. Expenses of Central only affect the returns by a fraction of a cent.

Considering further the morality of putting on social pressure, take the case of the ordinary hold-up man. In his own eyes he is acting rightly and is only following the natural law of self-preservation. In former times the most successful became the chief or king, now because 99 per cent. of the people object to his methods he lands in gaol. In some countries slightly below us in civilization brigands are still numerous and are aided by the ignorant peasants. The situation in the Okanagan today is analogous on a higher plane, the brigands being represented by the shippers and the ignorant peasants by the independent growers. The brigands are just as morally right in their own eyes as the independent are in theirs and both will be eliminated more or less gradually by the more advanced and intelligent section of the community who have decided by a large majority that brigandage and independent marketing are wrong. Public opinion instinctively refuses to limit initiative and enterprise directed to the good of the community but refuses to allow itself to be preyed upon by its less intelligent members. In this case precious little courage or enterprise is shown either by the independent grower who meekly accepts whatever is left after other charges have been paid, or the shipper who undercuts a competitor knowing the loss will fall not on himself but on the grower.

I venture to say that within ten years independent marketing of fruit will be a criminal offense. Can the co-operator afford to wait so long with prices as at present or perhaps slightly better in good years? Would the trade unions have attained their present position if the members had sat back and left it to the committees to increase the membership? In case any co-operator is affected by the crocodile tears of the gentleman of the club, remember that the independent by breaking our nearest and best markets has robbed himof probably half the value of his crop.

Yours truly, R. G. RUSSEL.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot, Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. ***

Local Happenings

Summerland Oddfellows have issued to a large circle of friends invitations to a dance to be given next Tuesday in Empire Hall.

Miss Bateman came in from Vancouver on Tuesday morning and went on to Kelowna to visit her sister, Mrs. Corner.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rumball on Sunday at the Summerland Hospital.

A son was born on Friday at the Summerland Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. T. Seafie, Naramata.

Major W. T. Daniel went down to the Coast last week to enter Shaughnessy Hospital, where he has been taking treatment for some time.

Miss Kathleen Babbitt, a former Summerland girl, is to be married in Vancouver on the 20th. Her aunt, Mrs. T. J. McAlpine, leaves here tomorrow to be present at the wedding.

The ICE CARNIVAL on Friday night promises to be a huge success. The large rink of good ice, well lit, will assure patrons of a tip-top evening.

B. Robinson, M.S.A., who has for several months been taking a course at Oregon University, Corvallis, again resumed his work here as instructor in agriculture with the opening of the new term.

The meat market on Shaughnessy Avenue, for several years operated by G. K. Devitt, changed ownership on Tuesday, the 15th, Mrs. C. M. Bender being the new owner. In another column she solicits the patronage of Review readers.

RED INK CASE SOON TO BE HEARD

Action which was inaugurated some weeks ago against Major E. E. Hutton, shipper through the Fruit Union, now in liquidation, by the Dominion Bank, assignee of the book accounts of the Union, will be delayed until Major Hutton returns. It is understood that he deposited in a bank money to cover any possible judgment which the bank might obtain. As there are many members with debtor balances because of red ink returns, a test is to be made of another account, namely that of J. S. Campbell.

FOREIGN FRUITS Arabia Provides Dates

It is Arabia that brings golden dates into being, Arabia and the Land-Between-the-Rivers, which many generations of peoples have failed to wear out. The climate and soil along the banks of the Euphrates River make them better than the dates of the western hemisphere, with a fuller flavor and a more solid quality of meat. The date groves are as carefully cultured and watched as young peach orchards. The fruit is picked by natives and cleaned in packing houses. There it is packed in bulk in wooden cases, usually of seventy pounds, and loaded on lighters which carry it to steamers anchored in deeper water. The dates are swung in nets from the small boats to the deck of the ship.

The Succulent Fig.

There are no figs in the world to in any way compare with the figs of Smyrna. What the Euphrates River banks are to dates, Smyrna in Asia Minor is to the fig. Thin-skinned and juicy, they are luscious food indeed. There is an Italian fig and a Spanish fig, and Portugal and Greece attempt to compete with their special productions, but Smyrna has the divine combination and continues to produce the best fig. Figs are also grown in California, but do not compete in any way with their imported brethren. A complicated chemical process is required before the California fig is placed on the market.

Imported Nuts.

Filberts come in bags of fifty or one hundred kilos from Spain, Italy, and Turkey; almonds in bags of fifty kilos from Italy, Spain, France, Australia; walnuts also in bags of fifty kilos, from France, Spain, Italy, Manchuria and Chili, and Brazil nuts from the dense woods of Brazil, rich and oily from the warm, misty air which hovers over the equator. It is the only place in the world where they are grown, and the natives find it agreeable to pick them until the rubber season starts when they must take to harvesting rubber since that brings them more money. Brazil produces also the sapacla, or paradisa nut, which at least one importer claims is "the finest nut there is." Like most fine things, it is rare. Pecans come from the Southern States and Mexico.

LOCAL BOYS LOSE IN BASKETBALL

Three Kelowna Scout basketball teams, senior, intermediate and junior, visited Summerland last Friday evening to meet local Scout teams in the College Gymnasium, and to such purpose that the visitors carried off all the honors, running up a higher score than their opponents in every match.

Although the teams appeared to be fairly well matched our boys all showed evidence of lack of practice, the Kelowna players being in better condition and displaying superior combination throughout. Return matches will probably be played soon in the Orchard City, when we hope to hear a different story. The Summerland boys are handicapped this season through lack of finances, in consequence of which they are unable to secure the hall for as many practices as they would like.

The line-up for the teams was as follows:

Senior. Kelowna—A. McLurg, L. Cunningham, G. Meikle, D. Loane, H. McCarthy. Summerland—C. Chisholm, O. Dunham, E. Wilson, M. Laycox, A. Wilson.

Intermediate. Kelowna—E. Williams, I. Williams, I. Foster, L. Cook, B. Longly, A. McGibbon. Summerland—N. Solly, W. Thornber, C. Taylor, H. Wilson, R. Elliott.

Junior. Kelowna—H. Campbell, L. Williams, I. Peat, D. Lewers, E. Todd. Summerland, I. Solly, T. Harris, J. Purves, W. Gould, M. Dunsdon, A. Doherty.

COURIER REBUKES ITS CONTRIBUTORS

Complaining of the selfish individual or thoughtlessness of many of its contributors, the Kelowna Courier, in an effort to obtain better co-operation from these, has prepared a few simple rules that people who contribute occasionally to the press should follow. They are:

The paper used should have a dead white surface, never shiny, and should measure eight inches in width by six and a half inches in height. This size fits the copy desk of typesetting machines without folding.

The copy should be typewritten for preference, otherwise black ink should be used. Ordinary lead pencil should not be employed, unless black enough, and indelible pencil should never be used.

A very important point is that at least one inch of margin should be left at the sides, top and bottom of sheets, to permit of room for headings to be added in the editorial room, corrections and alterations. Never write to the edge of the sheet; it is a slovenly and unsightly practice even in private correspondence.

The lines should be widely spaced, to permit of subsequent interlineations and alterations being legibly made. Use double spacing on the typewriter, so that the lines should be one-quarter of an inch apart.

Write on one side of the sheet only; if the back is written on, it is quite possible that the matter will be overlooked, as printers are accustomed to deal with copy prepared in the editorial room, where the invariable rule is to write on one side of the paper.

Revise copy carefully after it is written and study the effect of other lack of or superfluity of punctuation marks. If you leave these out, the you mean to break your sentence, a printer cannot always divine where you mean to break your sentence.

Finally, and most important of all, send in your matter early. Much contributed material, such as letters to the editor, is not news in a strict sense, as it is not concerned with time and place and therefore there is no excuse to delay it until the day before publication. The average weekly newspaper requires at least two days antecedent to the time of publication to deal with news matter collected by itself, the regular weekly budget sent in by rural correspondents, and the technical work of proof-reading and correcting, making up pages, press work and folding, and to send in matter late that could quite easily have been forwarded for or five days before inflicts hardship and creates night work for the mechanical staff.

Head Work

Hubby (sitting in back seat and wife driving)—"What's the matter?"
Wife—"Oh, the car's running away."
Hubby—"What? Can't you stop it?"
Wife (exactly)—"No—Oh!"
Hubby—"Then run into something!"

WILL BE HEARD IN RECITAL TOMORROW

Cyril S. Mossop, talented young Summerland vocalist, who will take a prominent part in the program of the recital to be given in St. Andrew's church Friday night.

Before coming with his parents to reside in Summerland, Cyril had won signal honors in the musical world, having been awarded the silver medal in the boys' contest in the Alberta Musical Festival in 1922.

Ben Newton, another citizen, whose exceptional qualities as a singer are well known, and Mrs. Frank Mossop, Cyril's mother, are other artists in the program.

Copies of the latter are now on sale and will serve to admit the bearer to the recital.

"THE COW, THE MOTHER OF PROSPERITY"

"Where the cow is kept and cared for, civilization advances, lands grow richer, homes grow better, debts grow fewer."

The above is an extract from the preface of a book entitled "The Cow the Mother of Prosperity," copies of which are being distributed by the Bank of Montreal. This book is probably the best popular treatise on dairy farming which has ever been published. It has been written with a view not only to guiding the farmer in the selection and breeding of the best and most profitable types of dairy cows, but also to guiding him in the care and feeding of dairy cows in every condition of climate and soil throughout the continent of North America. The author, Mr. Ralph A. Hayne, of the Agricultural Extension Department, International Harvester Company, in his foreword, describes the cow as one of the greatest blessings to the human race. "No nation or people," he says, "has become highly civilized without her. She produces the best human food on earth. She makes this health-building, strength-giving food from grass and coarse plants. Without her agriculture is not permanent or prosperous, people are not healthy or happy. Wherever the cow has taken her rightful place, and man has done his part we find farms furnishing an income every week of the year. We find homes with conveniences. We find intelligent, thrifty, debt-free people with minds and hearts alert from steady employment. We find a good citizenship, a good agriculture. Truly the cow is the mother of prosperity."

He proceeds to describe typical localities to which the cow would bring prosperity. Then he tells how to select the right kind of cows, describing in detail the good and bad points of cows from head to tail. The breeding, care, and feeding of cows, the best kind of feeds in various localities, the construction of the barn, the making of silage, the testing of cows and their milk, methods of milking and the type and care of utensils, the best methods of marketing milk, the care of calves, either for rearing or for the production of veal, the use of manure, the best breeds for varying conditions and the treatment of diseases are all dealt with fully and in plain language that anyone can understand.

A valuable feature of the book is the fact that every point dealt with is illustrated by photographs specially taken for the purpose or by diagrams. Over 250 photographs are reproduced.

The Bank of Montreal is doing a splendid work for farmers by having a special edition of many thousands of this valuable book printed for free distribution throughout the farming districts in Canada. We understand that the demand for the book has exceeded all expectations, but that a reserve supply has been secured, so that a limited number is still available free of cost. Application for the book should be made to the local branch of the Bank of Montreal of cows and their milk, methods of milking and the type and care of utensils, the best methods of marketing milk, the care of calves, either for rearing or for the production of veal, the use of manure, the best breeds for varying conditions and the treatment of diseases are all dealt with fully and in plain language that anyone can understand.

MACDONALD DELIGHTS HIS AUDIENCE

Rare Treat by Poet of Canadian West—Reads from Own Works.

It is not within our capacity to write a criticism on poetry, but we can safely say that those citizens of Summerland who listened to the reading by Wilson MacDonald of several selections of his own composition came away not only satisfied that Canada has in him a poet of rare genius, but were inspired by the spiritual quality of his lines and surprised at their versatility.

MacDonald is a true westerner and a number of the poems given were inspired by the west. "Song of the West" was a picture of himself, lonesome in the city of Montreal and homesick for the great open spaces of the West.

"Whist a Wee" was an appealing little sketch of a child he had seen playing hide-and-go-seek at English Bay, Vancouver.

"The Mongrel," inspired by an incident which occurred at Harrison Hot Springs, is a remarkable piece of satire aimed at a money maker in Vancouver who claimed to be of the west and was proven not to be, neither was he a true easterner.

"Why Not?" recognized the grandeur of God in Nature. "Mellican Man," a very amusing little ditty, repeats the words of a Pender Street Chinaman in his efforts to describe the American.

Another beautiful piece, depicting the wonderful appeal Nature has for the writer is the "Song of the Snowshoe Tramp."

"The Song of the Undertow" is a volume in itself, telling of the early manhood experiences of the author when he crossed the ocean from St. John to Liverpool in a horseboat. Just enough was picked out of this and the story outlined by the author to make one wish to read it all.

The heaviest and perhaps most beautiful was his poem "Niagara," in which he uses the river, falls and whirlpool and the placid stream beyond to picture human life. One needs to read it or better, to hear the author to fully appreciate its beauty.

"These Friends of Mine" and a little poem on Pauline Johnston were other beautiful works of this comparatively young man who has sprung into prominence in the past half dozen years and whose talent is now recognized throughout the English speaking world.

A valuable feature of the book is the fact that every point dealt with is illustrated by photographs specially taken for the purpose or by diagrams. Over 250 photographs are reproduced.

A. MILNE LADIES' EMPORIUM

GIRLS SHOULD NOT DRIVE MOTOR CARS

San Francisco.—Driving gas chariots and using the right foot to play tunes with the accelerator is rapidly marking otherwise shapely young women with two malformations, according to Dr. Herbert R. Stolz, stat. director of physical education. One of these is what physicians term "bulging shin," which appears usually about halfway between the ankle and the knee, and the other is overdevelopment of the elongated muscles covering the shin bone.

Furthermore the girl who drives much discovers that her right calf is much larger and more unshapely than her left. Constant exercise at the foot throttle in an automobile results in a right calf that is bunched and knotted, with an overdeveloped ankle.

Dr. Stolz warns all girls that if they hope to have shapely legs and ankles that are of the same size and contour, they must let some other person drive the car.

An economist says there are fortunes in waste paper. That's where many German fortunes are.

The invisible ear drum invented by A. O. Leonard, which is a miniature megaphone, fitting inside the ear entirely out of sight, is restoring the hearing of hundreds of people in New York city. Mr. Leonard invented this drum to relieve himself of deafness and head noises, and it does it so successfully that no one could tell he is a deaf man. It is effective when deafness is caused by catarrh or wholly destroyed natural drums. A request for information to A. O. ## RAILWAY SERVICE IS APPRECIATED

Farmers' Exchange Expresses Satisfaction in Efforts of C.P.R.

When one writes to or of the railways it is usually for the purpose of registering a kick or demanding better service. Here is a letter that does not contain either:

"T. C. Macnabb, Esq.,
Divisional Supt. C.P.R.
Revelstoke, B. C.

Dear Sir,—I have been requested by the Board of Directors of the Salmon Arm Farmers' Exchange to convey to you our sincere appreciation upon the way in which your company have handled our shipments of fruit during the past season. We realize that a special effort has been put forth to give us the service which we have received, and while extending this appreciation to you, we would like through you to express to the Managers of the Refrigerator Car Service, the appreciation of the efforts which they have put forth towards improving their part of the service.

We hope that this will not be too serious a surprise to you, for we are possibly right in supposing you get more complaints than commendations.

We beg to remain,
Yours truly,
Salmon Arm Farmers' Exchange.
(Sgd.) W. C. Lundy,
Manager." 24

MANY RESOLUTIONS FROM SUMMERLAND

variety of names for identical fruit. Mr. Agur thought that the insertion of the picking dates would also save confusion.

"Whereas there is a large market for dried or dehydrated fruits in Canada and abroad, and

"Whereas every available market for our fruit is required, and

"Whereas the economical dehydrating of fruit so as to retain the flavor and make it attractive is not well understood among us and is somewhat in the experimental state, and

"Whereas the Dominion Fruit Branch has undertaken experiments and demonstrations in dehydrating fruits, therefore

"Resolved that the B.C.F.G.A. express its hearty appreciation of what has been undertaken, its regret for the loss and hindrance by fire to the plant at Penticton during the past season, and urge that the work be further prosecuted as speedily and thoroughly as possible."

It was thought that Ottawa would appreciate such an acknowledgment from the growers and would be inclined to go ahead with more confidence.

Dehydrating Plans

Mr. McLarty here asserted that an experimental dehydrating plant would probably be installed at the Experimental Station. It would not be on a semi-commercial basis as had been the Penticton one. Not until more data is compiled will any company undertake dehydrating as a commercial enterprise. Prices paid by such a plant would depend on the quality of the product and it would take a good product to compete with that from California. Large markets exist in Europe and the East. Eventually dehydrating would extend beyond apples and include all fruits grown in the Valley. Apple butter and relishes are also possible and profitable by-products.

Want Pre-coolers

"Whereas large losses were incurred during the past season in shipping cherries, and whereas other fruits, such as pears, have failed to stand up as well as they should, and

"Whereas it has been demonstrated that these difficulties may in part at least be overcome by modern systems of pre-cooling, and

"whereas this matter is still somewhat in the experimental stage in our country, and

"Whereas, owing to the condition of the fruit industry, growers have not the means to raise the capital expenditure required to put in pre-cooling plants, therefore

"Resolved that the Dominion department of cold storage be requested to undertake this work."

This led to another resolution calling for Sunday transportation, which together with the pre-cooling, should obviate the "falling down" of soft fruits. The following on Sunday transportation was passed:

Sunday Transportation

"Whereas the shipment of cherries during the season 1923 was seriously curtailed over the week end;

"Whereas the shipment of cherries and all soft fruits has to be moved without any undue delay;

"Whereas it is the desire of the stone fruit growers that a continuous boat and rail service be put on during shipment of same,

"Whereas the C.P.R. did run a daily boat and rail service the whole year round, when shipment of fruit was not half it is at the present time,

"And whereas the shipment of all soft fruits warrant more careful consideration in their quick movement,

"Be it therefore resolved that the B.C.F.G. Association executive be asked to take up with the C.P.R. that a continuous boat and train service be put on in the Okanagan and maintained at least during the movement of cherries, apricots and peaches."

R. V. Agur moved the following:

"Be it resolved that we re-affirm last year's resolution re Extension of Time on Express Rates, viz., "That the time during which reduced rates are to be operative on express shipments of fruits be extended to December 31st."

Besides many boxes being sent as Christmas presents, this would also mean in the general course of events, that more apples would go to the Coast.

Coast Service

W. A. Caldwell proposed a resolution re l.c.h. from the southern Okanagan to Vancouver:

"Whereas the growers of the Southern Okanagan have had the privilege of shipping by freight on the K.V.R. which is now stopped,

"Be it resolved that the B.C.F.G.A. be asked to take up this matter, so as to have a through freight car service on suitable days."

Mr. McLarty told the meeting that a permit must be obtained now from Ottawa before one could import nursery stock.

Among the views presented at the cause of the "falling down" of cherries, was that they should not be irrigated after they once start to swell. Mr. Caldwell had followed this and shipped cherries to Ottawa with no trouble. It is, of course, essential that up to that particular time they receive plenty of moisture. Others upheld him in this. Mr. McLarty said that the splitting of cherries during a rain was caused by changes in the surface tension of the cherry skin, brought about by the variations in the atmospheric conditions.

Farmers' Institute

The sole business of the Farmers' Institute was the election of 1924 officers, which resulted as follows: Jno. Tait, Ben Saunders, C. J. Huddleston, Jas. Shepherd and A. McLachlan. The financial statement showed a credit balance of nearly thirty dollars.

Although all were in favor of the following resolution, there was some doubt as to whether it was within the scope of a farmers' organization to deal with it. However, it was carried, with the opinion that, as a congregation of British citizens, such abuse and disrespect should be rectified.

"Whereas we believe that respect and love for our country's flag should be conserved and cultivated, and

"Whereas its use in all kinds of advertising at times associates it with that which is objectionable and degrading, therefore

"Resolved that it should be illegal to use the flag for private advertising or except under special permit and regulations."

Jas. Ritchie started the ball rolling when he told of the diseased apples sold by Chinamen in Vancouver, from unpruned, unsprayed and otherwise neglected orchards in the Fraser Valley. Such fruit was infected with scab and other disease. If the law covering inspection were brought to bear this poor stuff would be excluded and the market for our apples thereby increased.

It has always seemed desirous that the several farmers' organizations be amalgamated into one strong, and fully representative body. This was proposed at last year's meeting, and although several meetings have been called, the various bodies did not seem sufficiently anxious and nothing has been done. This, however, is not the end of the matter.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ELECTS OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the West Summerland Women's Institute held in the Parish Hall, Friday, January 11th the following officers were elected for 1924:

Mrs. Windeler, president; Mrs. Bentley, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Pares, Mrs. Washington, Mrs. Caldwell, directors; Miss Cartwright, secretary-treasurer.

After the regular business and reports for the past year, the following resolution was passed, moved by Mrs. Fosbery, seconded by Mrs. Pares.

"That whereas it is reported that in several instances during the past two years, male teachers of schools in this Province have been found guilty of undue familiarity in their relations with female students,

"And whereas, such a condition is admitted by all to be most detrimental to the moral tone of the school and a menace to young womanhood,

"Be it resolved that the West Summerland Women's Institute request the school board to require that in future a certificate of moral character signed by the board of the last school under his charge, be attached to the application of any applicant for a position in this municipality;

"And when there has been no previous position, a certificate of character signed by three reputable citizens of his home district be demanded."

Another good thing about bicycle riding, there is no wife on the back seat to do the driving.

Maybe men would weep, too, if it would secure for them the things they want.

When she's sure she can get him she's sure she'd rather have some other fellow.

NARAMATA NEWS

Current Events of Town and District

Miss M. B. Wilkie, of New Westminster has taken the position of teacher here, in place of Miss Vandenburg, resigned.

Mr and Mrs. Partridge, accompanied by Miss Gordon, left on Saturday for Vancouver, where they will stay a few days attending the B.C.F.G.A. convention at Chilliwack on the return journey. Miss Gordon is the Naramata delegate to that gathering.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Scaife on Friday night at the Summerland hospital.

Mrs. Roe has been unwell lately, but is now much improved. Mrs. Geo. Gray spent the weekend on a visit to her mother at the home of Mrs. John Noyes.

Miss Ball of Summerland was a visitor to Mr. and Mrs. Patterson over Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Cook has been in care of Dr. Andrew for a short time but is now considerably better.

Mr. Scaife's eldest son, Cecil, is on a visit to the Scaife home during his holiday from the Coast.

The annual meeting of the Anglican church was held after the Sunday afternoon service, the Rev. H. A. Solly presiding. Captain Languedoc was re-appointed as church warden, Mr. John Smith as secretary, and Messrs. Horswill and Cross as sidersmen. It was decided to inaugurate a series of quarterly social gatherings, at which Mr. Solly would be present, the object being the bringing the clergyman into closer touch with the members of the congregation.

At the Farmers' Institute meeting scheduled for Tuesday Mr. H. B. Morley will speak on "Co-operation" and there will be a discussion on the pros and cons of various growers' organizations, to be led by Messrs. W. S. Young and Littlejohn. There will also be a musical program.

Game Warden Robertson, of Penticton, has sent up a quantity of grain to Mr. F. C. Manchester for use in feeding quail and other birds during the severe weather. The grain was distributed by the Boy Scouts.

OBITUARY

JOHN FISHER

The death took place on Thursday last week at Tranquille, B. C., of John Fisher, for several years a resident of Summerland. Mr. Fisher who has been in poor health for some time, went to Tranquille but a week before his death.

The deceased was a native of Ontario, but before coming here lived for a number of years on his ranch near Saskatoon. It was because of Mr. Fisher's health that the family moved to Summerland about four years ago, where they have since resided, Mr. Fisher being for some time employed with the Agur estate in Prairie Valley.

Besides his widow, Mr. Fisher leaves five children, three girls and two boys. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from the house Rev. W. A. Alexander taking the service.

Three thousand years before the first sugar refinery was built, Jacob sent honey as a part of his offering to his unrecognized son, the chief ruler of Egypt. Today, about 80 pounds of sugar is consumed annually by every man, woman and child. Of course, many use less than the average, but to make up for it, some consume several times as much. Honey was used in the days of old as sugar is consumed today. It would be much better for the health of the present generation if honey could be at least partially restored to its former place as a common article of diet.

The almost universal craving for sweets of some kind, shows a real need of the system in that direction; but the excessive use of sugar brings its train of a long list of ills. When cane sugar is taken into the stomach, it cannot be assimilated until first changed by digestion into grape sugar. At times the over-taxed stomach fails to perform this digestion properly, then comes sour stomach and various dyspeptic phases.

In the wonderful laboratory of the beehive there is found a sweet that needs no further digestion, having been prepared fully by those wonderful chemists—the honey bees—for prompt assimilation, without taxing stomach or kidneys.

Honey should not be considered a luxury but should be placed on the shelf with the staples. The general health of the public would be enhanced if honey took its rightful place in the diet.

Honey, like fruits and other foods containing a high percentage of sugar, should be classed as a carbohydrate. A carbohydrate is one that furnishes energy rather than tissue building material, as does protein. The energy of honey amounts to 1485 calories per pound.

ICE CARNIVAL BROUGHT OUT LARGE CROWD

Exciting Speed Events and Revels of Masqueraders Greatly Enjoyed.

With the moon high in the heavens and a clear frosty night Nature gave of her best towards making the ice carnival last Friday the great success that it was. Messrs. Howland and Wharton, proprietors, had prepared a perfect sheet of ice and had kept the snow from overcrowding on the edges. Many remarks were passed among the skaters, which all testified to their appreciation and enjoyment of the fine ice.

During the middle of the evening the crowd numbered close to two hundred. Many came up from Penticton, several of whom contested for the various prizes offered. Although the skaters were not all conformed, a great many original and unique disguises were noted. It would be impossible as well as unfair to attempt any description or mention in particular since tastes and opinions vary too much.

The costume judges, Mrs. F. A. C. Wright, Dr. F. W. Andrew and R. F. Theed, made their announcements as follows:

Best lady's costume, Mrs. Collis, as an Indian. This carried out in accurate detail the dress of the aborigine.

The man's prize was awarded to Jack Miller, Upper Trout Creek, who impersonated a Mexican bandit in very characteristic style. His garb was complete with revolver and studded holster, knife, the vari-colored neckerchief, blouse and belt; not forgetting the volcano hat.

Miss Isabel Zimmerman, as a gypsy, was awarded the girl's honors. The bright colors with which this roving race adorn themselves make a fine costume.

The dress of a Mohammedan won for George Wilson the honor of best costume among the boys. With robes and turban he might have passed for a native of the Orient.

Comic costumes were quite numerous, but the judges picked out Jackie Blewett as the most deserving in this class.

The crowd evinced great enthusiasm when the ice was cleared for the speed races. There were entrants in the boys' and men's speed races from both Summerland and Penticton, which created lively rooting from the two bodies of supporters.

CAR HEADED FOR PLUNGE

To Avoid Child, Driver Narrowly Missed a Bad Accident.

To have the front end of their car projected out into space with the feeling that any move might cause its precipitation to the road below was the experience of a carload of strangers while going down telephone hill last Sunday afternoon. They were moving down very cautiously when a little girl was noticed approaching them, apparently quite unaware of the car and though warned by the horn she was evidently too intent on her play to scent the danger. The little one was lying face down on her stomach, which was propelling up hill.

Continued sounding of the horn falling to disturb the child, the brakes were vigorously applied and this had the alarming effect of throwing the car suddenly around at right angles shortly below the telephone office. Fortunately the dragging of the underworks of the car on the edge of the road held it from taking a downward plunge. One front wheel was well out into space, while the other merely touched the face of the cliffside. Horses were required to get the car back on to the road.

BOX FACTORY TO OPERATE AGAIN EARLY IN MARCH

Operations at the box factory will be resumed early in March, at least this is the intention of the new owners, the Pacific Box Company of Vancouver. R. B. Sharp, the manager of the company, and Mr. Perry, one of its mechanical experts, were in town this week and made arrangements for a general overhauling of the plant with considerable re-arrangements of machinery with the view to reducing cost of production.

Ben Mayne, who has been in charge of the mill at Myren, accompanied them and will bring down from Mineola some of the machinery remaining there.

The Vancouver men returned to the Coast on Tuesday morning, but Mr. Sharp is expected back next week.

Wm. Ritchie went over to the mill at Myren on Tuesday for the purpose of making a check up on manufactured stock. We understand that Mr. Ritchie has the selling of the sawn lumber still at the mill.

MEETING OF HOSPITAL SOC. IS ADJOURNED

Annual Meeting Called for Next Thursday to go over for Week.

The Summerland Hospital Society announces its annual general meeting will be held in accordance with statute on the last day of January at 3 p.m., in the Parish Hall. However, that afternoon the Co-operative Growers have called an important meeting at the Rialto Theatre and the hospital directors announce that they will arrange to adjourn the society's meeting until the first Thursday in February, that is the 7th, when they hope that all possible of those interested in the hospital will be in attendance at the same time and place.

PROGRESS IS SATISFACTORY

Annual Meeting of Baptist Church Reveals Healthy Condition.

Reports presented at the 18th annual meeting of the Summerland Baptist church congregation held in the church auditorium last Thursday evening revealed a healthy condition.

About one hundred enjoyed a bountiful supper, prepared and served by the ladies. Later, when the meeting was called to order, G. J. Coulter White was appointed to the chair, when the reports of the various departments of the church were read and discussed. About three thousand dollars had been contributed in the year for all purposes. Though the church has suffered to some extent by some removals the year ended with an increase of six in membership.

Rev. Z. L. Fash spoke at some length of his work as pastor in the past year and referred to the many kindnesses Mrs. Fash and he had been shown by the people of the church. He made a strong plea for still greater achievement in the new year and announced that special services would be held next month led by Rev. J. W. Litch, D.D., of Vancouver.

CHICKENS BURNED IN MIDNIGHT FIRE

Fire which was discovered about two o'clock on Sunday morning destroyed the chicken house on the Dale property together with about one hundred hens and it was only by hard work under favorable conditions that the barn close by was saved. For a time the end of the barn was ablaze, but a large number of neighbors turned out and through the organization of a bucket brigade greater loss was averted. Hot ashes which had been thrown near the chicken house many hours before are thought to have caused the fire.

CRESTON TO RETURN ALL OVERPAYMENT

Justice Murphy Hands Down Judgment in Favor of
O. U. G.

Mr. Justice Murphy of the Supreme Court has given judgment in favor of the O.U.G., in bankruptcy, against the Creston Fruit Union in the sum of $10,290 and costs.

M. G. Wilson, the trustee of the O.U.G. reached here on Tuesday from Vancouver where the case had just been heard, and when asked about the suit stated that the judge had given him all he had asked for. Justice Murphy was so satisfied of the correctness of his claim that he did not hear the counsel for the plaintiff.

During the season of 1922 the Creston Fruit Union shipped through the O.U.G., and from time to time moneys were advanced by the O.U.G. to the Creston Union. When the pools were closed it was found that the Union had been overpaid to the extent of more than $10,000 and it was for the return of this money that suit was entered. In the meantime the Creston Union had virtually been re-organized when its assets were taken over by the Creston Fruit Growers' Union, and at practically the same time the Imperial Bank was given a mortgage by the Union.

Mr. Wilson stated on Tuesday that he was fortunate enough to learn of these transactions in time to enter protest within the prescribed sixty days and he had notified the Imperial Bank that the Creston Fruit Union was insolvent and that the former had taken illegitimate preference in the way of mortgages after it had been made acquainted with the claim of the O.U.G.

Mr. Wilson does not anticipate any trouble in having this mortgage set aside and says it will be up to the Creston growers and the Imperial Bank to make a satisfactory deal with the O.U.G.

Counsel were, Mr. A. Alexander, Vancouver, and Mr. K. M. Elliott, Summerland, for the trustee of the O.U.G. in bankruptcy, and Mr. J. G. Gibson, Vancouver and Mr. C. B. Garland, Creston, for the defendant Union.

COMMISSION IS CLAIMED

Mill Manager Suing for $2500 on Deal which Did not Materialize.

An interesting situation is developing through the recent sale of the mill and box factory of the Summerland Lumber Company, Ltd., in bankruptcy.

Notice has been served on the trustee, G. E. Winter, Vancouver, and the two inspectors, W. Ritchie and M. G. Wilson, Summerland, by solicitors of Mr. Marley, for a time manager of the mill for the trustee, informing them that Marley is taking action to obtain payment of his claim for commission of $2,500 for having sold the property to the Hanbury interests.

Seen on Tuesday, M. G. Wilson gave his version of the situation. It would appear that the Hanbury people had negotiated for the purchase of the property and that they had obtained acceptance of their offer from the trustee and further, it is said that there was a notation on the acceptance to the effect that the estate would pay Marley $2,500 for making the sale. The sale price was $40,000 and included lumber on hand. There was no immediate cash payment, $5,000 to be paid later in the year and the balance spread over a period of years.

The inspectors, Messrs. Wilson and Ritchie, it is stated, considered the offer of the Pacific Box Company, a much better one for the creditors of the lumber company and would not give their consent to the sale to Hanbury.

Mr. Wilson states that he is in no way concerned in the Hanbury negotiations and that no deal should have been concluded without the consent of the inspectors.

B. C. CARS MAY CARRY ONLY ONE SPOTLIGHT

Victoria.—Through the passing of an order-in-council, change is made in the motor vehicle Act. The new regulation reads:

"No motor vehicle shall be equipped with more than one spotlight, and the beam of light therefrom, when such motor vehicle is in motion, must always be directed to the right of the medial length line of said motor vehicle, and the beam of light from the said spotlight shall strike the ground on the right-hand side of the motor vehicle on which the spotlight is mounted, at a distance not exceeding 100 feet in front of the said motor vehicle."

PARISHIONERS HOLD MEETING

St. Stephen's Annual Gathering Is Business and Social Function.

The seventeenth annual business meeting of St. Stephen's church was held at the Parish Hall, West Summerland, on the night of Jan. 17th.

In spite of bad roads and bad colds there was a good attendance, nearly 100 members sitting down to the excellent supper kindly provided by the ladies of the W.A.

The church wardens presented the financial report for the past year, showing that after payment of all local expenses and the sum required for the work of the diocese, a satisfactory balance remained on hand.

Dr. Andrew, speaking on behalf of the vestry, warned his hearers against undue optimism. He pointed out that the good showing of 1923 had only been effected by the curtailment of expenditure which was really necessary. Many good subscribers had left the parish, and so far from any relaxation of effort being possible, it would be necessary to increase the subscription list considerably if even the same standard were to be maintained.

The following officers were elected for 1924: church wardens, W. V. B. Webb and O. Vaughan; vestrymen, Dr. Andrew, G. W. Cope, J. S. Campbell, W. S. Nield, J. E. Docherty, C. B. Winter, F. J. Nixon, H. S. Lewes, and W. C. W. Fosbery, Auditor, Capt. H. H. Creese.

Very encouraging reports on the activities of their several departments were given by Miss Cartwright, Mrs. Barnes, Miss Rono Harris, and Mrs. Solly, representing respectively the W.A., Junior W.A., Girls' W.A. and Sunday School.

Illness and the claims of "Pinafore" prevented the appearance of several popular performers, and the usual musical program at the close of the business meeting was much curtailed in consequence. Miss Kathleen Nield and Miss Evelyn Burnett shared the burden and the honors of the evening. Miss Nield's delightful voice gave very real pleasure to her audience, whilst Miss Burnett's fine elocution was received with well-deserved enthusiasm.

It is hoped that this successful evening will be a prelude to a most successful year.

DIRECTOR TO BE ELECTED

Central Asks for Early Local Appointment—Meeting Called.

For the purpose of electing a representative on the board of directors of the Associated Growers of B. C., Ltd., members of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association are called to meet next Thursday, January 31st. Formal announcement of the meeting is given in another column.

Were the usual routine followed this appointment would not be made until the annual meeting in April, but the central directors at a recent meeting decided that it would be better to have the 1924 board appointed at an earlier date so as to give the directors ample time to formulate plans for moving next season's crop.

INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS HAVE ARISEN

Local Tangle of Unions Has to be Straightened Out by Judge.

An interesting development bearing on the relations of the Summerland Fruit Union in liquidation and the O.U.G. in bankruptcy has resulted from the finding of Justice Morrison of the Supreme Court in the matter of an adjustment of accounts between the two. M. G. Wilson is liquidator of the Union and also trustee for the O.U.G. in bankruptcy; and applied to the court for instructions in adjusting a settlement between the two with respect to offsetting the claim of one against the claim of the other.

At the close of the 1921 crop marketing season the Summerland Fruit Union was in debt to the O.U.G. to the extent of about $20,000 for shooks and other supplies purchased. It was arranged that Central would carry this account over to the next season but before settlement was obtained the O.U.G. became bankrupt. On the other hand the O.U.G., for sales of the 1922 crop, owed the Summerland Fruit Union $32,000, approximately, and this still stood to the credit of the Summerland Fruit Union when the O.U.G. assigned.

Naturally, Mr. Wilson, handling both estates concluded that offsetting the claim on the Union against the latter's claim on the O.U.G. was the proper course, but before taking action sought the ruling of the court.

Judge Morrison disapproved of such a proposal and held that the $32,000 due the Union from the O. U. G. was the property of the growers and that the debt would have been a just deduction from the returns of the 1921 crop, but would not be a just deduction from the 1922 returns when the body of growers supplying the fruit might be very different.

This ruling has the effect of establishing the Union's claim of $32,000 as one of its book accounts and to that extent adds to the security held by the Dominion Bank to whom the book accounts of the Union had been assigned and the $20,000 becomes a claim of the O.U.G. against the Union.

ODDFELLOWS' ANNUAL BALL

Invitation Function Greatly Enjoyed by Visiting Brethren and Friends.

Okanagan Lodge No. 58 achieved a signal success on Tuesday night, and once again upheld its proud claim of entertainer de luxe. The occasion was the local Oddfellows' seventeenth annual ball, this event always being keenly anticipated by devotees of the terpsichorean art. Those present were there by invitation and despite the bad roads a large number gathered at the Empire Hall.

Dancing commenced at nine o'clock the auditorium being tastefully decorated by the members of the lodge for the occasion. The floor was in perfect condition and the happy throng gyrated to splendid music supplied by Emmerton's three-piece orchestra until 2 a.m.

A feature worthy of mention was the excellent banquet supper supplied by the Women's Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. The lavishly decorated tables were loaded with good things.

R. S. Jackson made an excellent master of ceremonies and every member and officer vied with each other in extending hospitality to the large gathering of friends and visiting brethren.

APPLES MOVING

Several carloads of apples are being shipped out of the storage building by the Co-operative this week. Three will go out on Friday. Eight carloads are being prepared for export and will be started rolling early in February.

LOCAL DELEGATES AND THE PASTOR TO CONVENTION

Rev. Z. L. Fash, pastor of the Summerland Baptist church, left on Tuesday morning to attend the convention of the Baptist Union of Western Canada to be held at Calgary. Representatives from Baptist churches will be present from British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The convention opened this morning and will continue through until Monday evening January 28.

After the convention Mr. Fash expects to visit for a day his father and sister at Edmonton and his daughter at Red Deer. He will return in time to take charge of the services in his church on February 3rd. There will be no preaching service at the Baptist church next Sunday, but the Sunday School will meet as usual.

G. J. Coulter White and Wm. Ritchie are other delegates from the local church. Mr. White left on Wednesday morning for Calgary. Mr. Ritchie may not be able to attend.

RARE MUSICAL TREAT GIVEN BY ARTISTES

Talented Local Mossop Family with Ben Newton Give Recital.

Those Summerland lovers of music who were fortunate enough to be present at the recital given in St. Andrew's church on Friday last agree in wishing to hear Mrs. Frank Mossop and her talented son, Cyril, again in the near future, and my one regret was that of not seeing the building crowded to hear the rare musical treat that had been prepared for them.

Mrs. Mossop is certainly in the front-rank as a solo instrumentalist and her wonderful sympathetic and delicate playing as an accompanist

FARMERS MEET AT NARAMATA

Question of Discontinuing Institute Comes up—Cherry Cheques Received.

Cheques were sent out to local growers on Wednesday on account of cherries, the figures being as follows: Royal Annes, 5c per lb.; can-berry sour, 4 1/2c; Bings and Lamberts, $1.10 per crate; Black Tartarian 20c; Deacon 9 1/2c; Black Republican 6c. All not to growers, less 4 cents to capital account.

The second Farmers' Institute meeting of the season was held in the Unity Club, Naramata, on Tuesday evening, and drew a large attendance. Mr. W. H. Irwin was in the chair. In the absence of Mr. D. Walters, secretary, Mr. S. H. Simey took over his duties for the occasion. The 1923 report was read by Mr. King, and adopted without discussion. A feature of the program which was noted as a "discussion on the advantages and disadvantages of various local growers' organizations," ultimately resolved itself into a question of retaining or giving up the Farmers' Institute, since the B.C.F.G.A. was recognized as a paramount institution among fruit growers. The discussion was opened by Mr. Salt-ling speaking for the Institute, and was continued by Mr. W. S. Young, and others. Mr. John Tait of Summerland expressed his opinion that the Farmers' Institute should continue to co-operate with the F.G.A. On the motion of Mr. Horwill it was finally decided that the Institute and the local contingent of the F.G.A. be operated as a dual organization, with an inclusive annual membership fee of $1.50, one dollar of this being the B.C.F.G.A. subscription. Mr. H. B. Morley then read a paper on "Co-operation," which dealt with the three problems of payment by results to employees, advance payments to growers, and the handling of by-products. With regard to the first of these matters the speaker maintained that an employee is entitled

THREE OF OLD COUNCIL ARE RE-ELECTED

Miss Sinclair Tops Poll on School Board—Small Vote Brought Out.

Elections for municipal council resulted in but one change in the personnel of the civic board, O. G. Smith being the new councillor. Councillors Ritchie, Johnston and Bristow were re-elected.

Three new members were elected to the school board. Of the seven candidates seeking election as school trustee, only one was up for re-election, namely J. R. Campbell. He lost out by four votes.

Very little interest seemed to be taken in the election. Only 253 of the 524 electors named on the voters' list cast their ballots, this being 34 less than last year.

Apparently the candidates were little more concerned than was the general electorate as very few, if any of the new candidates for either council or school board made any effort to put their views on council or school matters before the public, and many voters were heard to complain of lack of information as to where the candidates stood.

Balloting for council resulted as follows: W. Ritchie, 178; O. G. Smith, 174; R. Johnston, 165; H. Bristow, 136 (these four being elected); J. A. Kirk, 119; J. Arkell, 108.

Miss Sinclair headed the poll in the balloting for school trustees, receiving 132 votes. J. W. S. Logie with 120 and G. W. Cope, 117, were the other two successful candidates. Votes received by others were: J. R. Campbell, 114; J. H. Bowering, 75; H. Sharman, 62; H. H. Creese, 53.

Balloting on the Telephone Co. franchise resulted as follows: for, 214; against, 19.

Of those who cast their ballots 153 favored the present practice of the school board of charging high school fees, 94 were opposed.

The polling officers were F. J. Nixon, returning officer, with R. Purves clerk, at the municipal office. C. P. Nelson, deputy returning officer, was in charge of the downtown booth with G. Thornber as clerk.

TO HEAR APPEALS ON ASSESSMENTS

Each year, following the assessment of property within municipal limits for taxation purposes, owners are given an opportunity to appeal against the valuation put on their property by the assessor. This appeal is heard by a court of revision appointed from among members of the municipal council. Notice of such appeal must be given at least ten days before the sitting of the court. Formal notice of this court is given in our advertising columns.

PROGRESS IS SATISFACTORY

Annual Meeting of St. Andrew's Union Church
Well Attended.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Union church was held on Thursday evening, January 17th, Rev. W. A. Alexander, pastor, in the chair. There was a good attendance of members and adherents.

After giving a resume of the year's work, noting that four members had been taken away by death, and a dozen more had removed by certificate, while thirty-five were absent from the district, the chairman called on the different departments for reports. The treasurer showed the finances smaller than in recent years, but considering the financial depression, such was only to be expected. On the whole the reports were considered good.

Mr. Goo. Harding was elected Sunday School superintendent to replace Mr. J. L. Logie, who will be absent a good deal during the year. A new board of stewards was elected.

The officers and workers of the past year were given a vote of thanks for their diligence. The ladies served refreshments at the close of the meeting.—Cont.

AMERICAN APPLE GROWERS.

Need for some form of co-operative organization that will save their industry from ruin has long been recognized by the apple growers of the three northwestern states and this winter serious efforts are being made to effect some such organization. The crop of those states is marketed through many channels, some co-operative, but working independent of each other, and others privately controlled. Last week there was held at Yakima a two day session of apple growers and bankers resulting in the decision to adopt a so-called bankers' plan of co-ordinating the existing agencies so that market information may be exchanged through a central office.

Any move on the part of the apple growers across the line that will result in the better control of the marketing of the crop will benefit the growers of British Columbia and their efforts will be watched with much interest by fruit growers in this province.

Rubber heels now are on 60 out of each 100 pairs of shoes worn by men. Such is the estimate going the rounds in the shoe industry. It is not surprising, if you have noticed how many men wear rubber heels. But maybe you remember back only a few years when rubber heels were unusual.

What brought them into popularity?

The answer is: advertising.

Three-fourths of the rubber heels sold are for men's shoes. This is because most of the advertising has been directed at men.

One of these days some wise manufacturer of rubber heels will notice this. Then he'll call in the advertising man and his staff of writers and artists. Campaigns will follow. And soon women will be wearing just as many rubber heels as men.

It's all a matter of advertising—the most powerful force in the sale of goods. The ideal combination is advertising, which reaches the consumers' brains through their eyes, and personal salesmanship, which reaches consumers' brains less vividly through the ears.

Our present standard of living is largely the creation of advertising. For advertising creates the demand, makes people want the thing advertised. When the lure becomes powerful enough, they hustle about and get the money to obtain what they want.

Advertising thus spurs sales. It also stimulates production—both of the things advertised and the things that have to be done on a bigger scale to obtain money for purchasing advertised wares.

There is a new thought for you—that advertising is a definite agency for production. Most of us have been thinking of it merely as a medium of salesmanship.

Advertising is what is making us buy.

Advertising is what is enabling us to buy.

It creates the demand. And the demand induces us to work harder to get the money to spend. If all advertising were abruptly discontinued, our standards of living would quickly drop to the levels of grandpa's day.

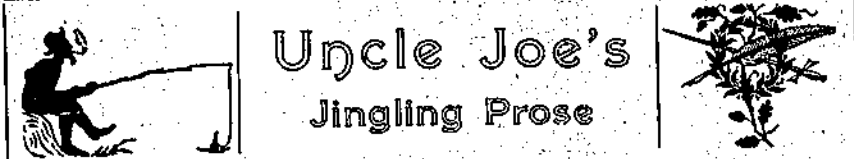

Read the ads. They are a part of the news, telling the intimate story of the average person's finer desires. The real history of civilization is written in advertisements.

UGLY ADVERTISING.

It is noted that a movement to curtail ugly advertising in England, advertising that defaces the landscape, is succeeding and a contemporary points out that a cable despatch reports two gasoline companies withdrawing an offensive campaign with signboards, which ruined the appearance of rural districts.

Sometimes one is inclined to believe that a similar movement is going on in Canada. A number of concerns that formerly practised this kind of publicity have withdrawn from the fields and the roadsides, observes the Ottawa Journal. Whether in so doing they have been governed by altruistic motives or by the discovery that this kind of advertising does not pay, has not been definitely revealed; but the London cable

"UNUSUAL!"

WONDER why we always lie (let's say prevaricate), and make a fuss when we discuss our own climatic state? For, bless my soul, from pole to pole, from east to west I patter; from far and near I always hear the same old line of chatter. From Africa's shore the same old roar; likewise from Sausalito, the eastern states the same relate, and all the world says "ditto." When Winter comes and all the bums migrate with ducks and geese, I stop to home and roast my dome and laugh at their excuses. When winds they blow and snows they snow I know that things are normal, for any fool that knows the rule accepts it all as formal. So why should I the truth belie and join the throng dolorous, who think that facts are nasty cracks to start an anvil chorus. Though twice ten thousand miles I've trod, o'er mountain, vale and heather, I always learn the same old yarn about "Unusual Weather!" I think it's grand in Summerland in winter or in summer, no matter though its wind or snow or if the heat's a hummer. It does no harm, it hath its charm, so let us all together, get out and root and blow and toot about our "usual" weather.

UNCLE JOE OF SUMMERLAND.

despatch referred to states that "firms in various lines of industry and commerce these days in large numbers are showing a preference for newspaper advertising as being the most effective medium of publicity."

It can hardly be considered that any altruistic thought has prompted the lessening of rural advertising in Canada. A run around this district will show that the old form of advertising, so ugly and repellent to lovers of Nature, is getting old and dishevelled. The fact is that it does not pay and what the Journal says is true, the best medium, after all, is the newspaper, which has built up fortunes for many and will make fortunes for many more.—Kamloops Standard-Sentinel.

LIVING OFF THE OTHER FELLOW.

A great deal is being said and done by civic bodies in British Columbia in support of the "Buy B. C. Products," all of which may be all right and proper and shows a spirit that is commendable from several points of view, but did it ever occur to you that the manufacturers' association is waving the flag and quietly accepting the plaudits of the congregation without putting up any coin of the realm for all the advertising being doled out by civic bodies and the Provincial Government departments? We are highly in favor of buying products manufactured in B. C., and we are also highly in favor of the manufacturers of these goods paying for their own advertising. Waving the flag does not pay the printers, neither is it accepted in payment for paper stock, the editor can't eat it, and it will never put shoes on the baby's feet. The Trail News has given the manufacturers' committee of the Vancouver Board of Trade more or less free advertising in the past, but henceforth and forever the "Buy B. C. Products" will receive scant consideration from us until such time as the manufacturers of these products show a disposition to pay as they go.—Trail News.

B. C. PRODUCTION OF FOODS INCREASES

Victoria. — Poultrymen in British Columbia will be interested to learn that during the year 1922 poultry production in this Province totalled 7,189,276 pounds, at a value of $2,012,997, as against 3,957,400 pounds, with a value of $738,408 in 1916. In general figures under this heading are naturally those of egg production, and over this same period the output advanced from 4,531,140 dozen at a value of $1,585,899 in 1916 to 6,009,217 dozen, valued at $2,002,841 respectively in 1922. These figures reveal an increase of 114.42 per cent. and 83.09 per cent. respectively. It is also interesting to observe in 1916 British Columbia was producing 72,709 tons of potatoes as against 115,122 tons in 1922. Fodder production shows a similarly gratifying increase, since in 1916 the production was 872,708 tons as against 518,804 tons last year. These increases amount to 58.03 per cent. and 90.01 per cent. respectively, whereas root crops showed a gain of 52 per cent. by reason of an increase from 48,388 tons in 1916 to 73,470 tons in 1922.

BANKRUPTCY ORDER AGAINST LAIDMAN

Arthur Oxley, whose counsel was K. M. Elliott, Summerland, has been successful in having a receiving order in bankruptcy made against Wm. F. Laidman, Vernon.

Laidman operated the box mill at Chute Lake and Oxley had obtained judgment against him for services rendered as engineer, his claims totalling $1038.

Laidman's counsel claimed that the factory got him into financial difficulties and contended a bankruptcy order would result in his estate, mostly orchard and farm property in the Coldstream, would not realize nearly what it was worth.

Oxley is well known here and was for a long time with the Summerland Lumber Co., Ltd.

Kelowna.—A blaze down town gave the firemen a run about 6.30 o'clock Sunday morning. John McKinley, occupying the upstairs rooms of the premises, was overcome with smoke and was rescued in his night attire by firemen. G. A. Fisher's financial and insurance agent's office was destroyed by the flames. Bowman's second-hand bookstore and Thorpe's butcher shop were damaged by smoke and water.

OKANAGAN FALLS GROCERY BURNED

The Okanagan Falls grocery owned by James Allen and A. Hamilton was destroyed Tuesday night by fire which started in the roof where the chimney passes through it.

With the help of neighbors about two-thirds of the stock was saved. The value of the destroyed stock is given as about $1,500. The building which was completely destroyed, was valued at $2,000.

Six hundred dollars insurance was carried on the stock and some on the building.

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE
Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, in minimum parcels of 40 acres, and second-class (arable) land $5 per acre, and 2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOME SITE LEASES
Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as home sites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES
For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 40 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING
Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administrator under a Grazing Commission. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranging, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PEACHLAND DOINGS
A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

Mrs. McHollister is spending a short time here with her parents.

Miss Ruth White is visiting with her parents. She has completed her course nursing and is thinking of going to California.

Our young people have had a couple more pleasant evenings at "The Glenn" enjoying the hospitality of the Cousins family. Others would like to have had the same pleasure, but the condition of the roads and scarcity of modes of conveyance has made it impossible.

Mr. Henderson, Winnipeg, representing the Great West Permanent Loan Company spent a day in town last week, interviewing some local shareholders in the interests of the company.

Emmit Brinson came home from Penticton last week.

Mr. Thompson, field supervisor for the S.S.B., motored down from Kelowna last week and during the following night quite a heavy fall of snow came rendering his return home by motor almost impossible.

Mr. Robinson, Jr., of Success, Alta., is here in the interest of his father, Gorge Robinson, owner of property adjoining the McCall lot. It is reported he is desirous of selling the goods and chattels and disposing of the property.

Mr. McMillan of the high school and Mr. Harris, principal of the public school, in the interests of the young people got permission to use the hydrant near the school to flood a rink. The teachers and scholars have got a goodly space in shape and the flooding is going on. If the frosty weather holds it is expected the rink will be in shape for skating toward the end of the week. At the moment of this writing it is practically ready for the first rough skating to commence.

Thanks to the convenience of the radio, a number of our citizens are enjoying sermons, concerts addresses, lectures, and music of all kinds from many important centres such as Calgary, Regina, Vancouver, Portland, Los Angeles, Frisco and others. Thos. McLaughlin has his machine in good working order and has been able to pick up the above points quite clearly.

Members of the Lady Orange Association held their regular meeting last week and advanced one of their members. They report a satisfactory meeting, and enjoyed a light lunch at the close.

A. J. MacKenzie was a visitor last week to Summerland and Penticton. He went on horseback as far as Summerland, returning from Penticton by Saturday morning's boat.

Mrs. J. L. Elliott and daughter, Willa, left by boat Saturday on a short visit to Kelowna.

Rev. H. A. Solly was again able to motor up from Summerland to conduct his regular service in the Anglican church here. He deserves commendation owing to the condition of the roads for motoring. There are very few who are attempting it at all.

Mrs. Bulyen left on Monday morning to attend meetings of the Western Baptist Union being held in Calgary.

The local Scout association, being in financial difficulties, will be glad to hear from any person having work, which a number of Scouts could undertake on Saturdays for a certain price. Persons having such work please communicate with the local Scoutmaster or secretary of the troop.

The regular Scout meeting for Friday, January 25th, will be held in the College Gym. All Scouts please turn out for a good night's practice, so that we will be able to put up a better style of basketball when we meet our brother Scouts in Kelowna.

HELP THE RATEPAYER
Editor Review,
We are all (it is hoped) familiar with the parable of the unjust steward (St. Luke 16) which shows how when in difficulties he made a bargain with his lord's debtors who wrote off a substantial portion of his liabilities and was commended for a smart stroke of business. Now, Sir, while it is not suggested that the stewards of our municipal finance are certainly unwise in contemplating a raise in rates or taxes because some unfortunates have not been able to pay. It would be far better, to the writer's way of thinking, if each delinquent could be approached and by writing off a part of his deficit induce him or her to pay right up. In that way the municipality would at least handle some money, instead of waiting like Micawber for something to turn up. It is not much of a prospect to have to anticipate periodical tax sales; we would rather see those who have in many cases fought a losing battle against circumstances, being helped to hold on to what they have.

Yours truly, SYMPATHISER.

AUTOLYCUS REPLIES
Dear Mr. Editor,
I am not concerned to answer criticisms of my impressions, but will ask for space in which to correct certain errors in the letter of your correspondent, Oliver E. Mann. Taken in order they are as follows.

The chairman of the committee was not a "pronounced unbeliever in the methods of Dr. Price from the first,"—on the contrary he sponsored the earlier meetings, and only withdrew his support after observing what he (very rightly) decided to be their harmful effects. Moreover, the committee was not composed of "physicians and clergymen" only, but included University professors also. Furthermore, it was not "self-appointed" but was formed in deference to a widely expressed public sentiment.

The financial proceeds of the campaign were not entirely "freewill offerings" but comprised also receipts from sales of books and leaflets. Further, it was definitely announced before Dr. Price left Vancouver, that a full statement would be issued to the public at the close of the campaign. Repeated applications to Dr. Price for the necessary figures elicited no reply, and the statement was consequently not forthcoming.

The thirty-nine deaths reported were not attributed by me to Dr. Price. My point was that the persons treated were publicly announced as being healed, but were evidently not healed, since they died very soon after.

There were no sneers, cheap or otherwise, against "good men who accomplished good wherever they go," but simply an emphasizing of the findings of the committee that no good had been accomplished, but much mischief wrought. The only positive cures were five in number, all of which were of functional complaints—against these were nine cases of insanity resulting from disappointed hopes. If Mr. Mann can see a balance of "good" in this record he has much keener vision than I can pretend to.

Concerning Mr. Mann's apparent uneasiness as to my identity, I may point out that the merits or demerits of a writer's opinions stand by themselves, and are not affected by the signature he adopts. Any reply to his inferences as to my attitude towards "religious teachers and workers" would entail personal handling which would not be of public interest, and I will only say that my past record in church work might possibly be a revelation to him. But I consider that such activities as the Price campaign are pernicious travesties on religion, and should be forbidden.

Yours truly, J. L. HILBORN

THE PRICE CAMPAIGN
The Editor,
As there is still a warm spot in my heart for Summerland, and the many good people who reside there, and as it is some nine months since the above campaign was held, I feel drawn to report on same, thinking it may be of interest to many, as sufficient time has passed to allow for excitement (if any existed) to pass off, and all have had ample time to consider and reflect on final results. Hence I will attempt although perfectly conscious of my inability to do the subject justice.

It is the opinion of the writer that wherever these campaigns are held, scores of seriously afflicted men, women and children have been cured of their ailments. It should occasion no great surprise if some physicians, druggists and nurses should criticise such a movement. So far as I have been able to learn many people benefited by the campaign, both in Victoria and Vancouver.

While I have no doubt that the great spiritual uplift obtained by the thousands who attended those meetings, is of the first importance, there is not the least doubt that scores, and even hundreds, were either wholly or partially healed. Many wonderful instances of the same came under my notice. One of the manifest ones, and of most importance to ourselves, was that of our daughter. For years she had been troubled with defective eyesight. We had her fitted with glasses by one of the best specialists in Vancouver to enable her to read ordinary print. After her healing she came home from the meeting with her glasses in her hand, saying that she could see better without them, and can read the finest print without them ever since.

I witnessed many miraculous healings throughout the campaign, and would state that Dr. Price made no pretence of having any power of Divine healing, but strongly urged the subject to look to the Giver of all good, and to pray most earnestly that God might remove all ailments.

The whole claim for physical healing in answer to prayer was based upon the promises of God. "I am the Lord that healeth thee." "If thou shalt ask anything in My name, I will do it" and "According to your faith be it unto you."

I could fill pages with descriptions of miraculous healings, which I saw obtained by people, who surrendered all to the Divine Master, and looked thence for aid, but fear to trespass too far on your space. I wish however, to add that now nearly nine months after Dr. Price closed his campaign here, many hundreds of people are ready to testify of the great spiritual uplift, and physical aid received and still hold, as a result of the influence of this evangelist. I wish to verify the latter statement by reporting on the mid-week prayer meeting held last night in the Metropolitan Methodist church (Jan. 10th). As there are some doubting ones even here, the pastor of a church of a different denomination took count, and record, of those who took part in the meeting and what they testified to.

Weather was very stormy, which no doubt kept many at home, still attendance, counted as carefully as he well could, was 650. Those who led in prayer, 23. Those who testified to partial healing, 20; to complete healing, 34; to spiritual blessing, 55. As there was not time for further testimony, Dr. Sippell, who was leading, asked that all who had not spoken but had received partial or complete healing to stand: 95 stood up in response. He then asked all to stand who had received spiritual benefit by the campaign. These could not well be counted, but estimated, that fully three-quarters of all present responded.

I have copies of some ten letters written by ministers of different denominations (in June last), all of which speak very strongly in favor of the work carried on by Dr. Price. I will enclose two or three of these in hope you may see fit to use some of them.

The one referring to the healing of Miss Dimmick is one of the cases I witnessed. I was sitting less than six feet from her, saw her go under the Divine Power, saw her revive in a few minutes, heard her exclaim that she was being healed, and when she began to walk shortly afterward she was limping on the wrong foot which was then short by one and a half inches by reason of the extension sole on what had been the crippled shoe shortly before. I heard her testify last night to the fact that she is entirely well and has been since her healing.

I cannot believe that any honest, unprejudiced person could pass through such a campaign without being impressed with its sincerity.

Yours truly, J. L. HILBORN

PROTECTION OF VEGETABLE SEED
Ottawa.—Vegetable growers who produce their own seed frequently find difficulty in wintering the mother plants satisfactorily. The Horticulture Division of the Experimental Farms at Ottawa experienced the loss of practically all the cabbage plants held during the winter of 1921-22, while the celery plants were seriously damaged. Formalin treatment of the soil previous to storing had been tried but with little success. In addition to this treatment, the plants after being taken in were sprayed with Bordeaux mixture at regular intervals. Previous to storing the plants, an experiment with Bordeaux dust was commenced. This material was sprayed over the sand floor of the cellar at the rate of 2 lbs. per 15 feet square of floor space. The roots of the plants were then placed in this mixture of Bordeaux dust and sand, and Bordeaux dust was applied at once over the tops of the plants, and at regular ten days intervals during the period of storage. The result of this test showed that the plants treated with Bordeaux dust were very little injured by disease, as more than 90% of the cabbage and almost 70% of the celery plants were found to be in first class condition at planting time.

Victoria, B. C., April 28.
Dear Dr. Price,
As the time draws near for you to close your meetings we feel that we cannot let you depart without expressing our deep gratitude to our Blessed Redeemer for the healing of our daughter through your coming to us.

As you know, our daughter was sitting with me in a pew in the Metropolitan church during a preparatory service when the Lord came to her with His healing power. Her affliction began eight years ago when she was 13 years of age.

She was operated on for appendicitis, but failed to recover health; she gradually grew worse until she was practically helpless; her spine curved until it drew her right limb up about one and one-half inches.

We had another operation performed of very serious character, but she did not get strong and her foot turned so that the ankle joint separated. We took her to an orthopedic hospital in Toronto where they succeeded in straightening her foot, but it never got strong enough for the joint to hold. They also tried to straighten her spine by having her swing by the head each day with a 20-pound weight on her foot, but they did not succeed.

For the past three years she has been able to walk around by the aid of a cane and a steel brace attached to her shoe.

We have had her under treatment practically all the time with the best doctors, and I am sure they did all that could be done by medical or surgical science and skill. When the Lord healed her, her spine straightened out and her foot became normal in shape and strength at once.

I had her examined since by two eminent doctors, both of whom had been treating her, and they pronounced her spine perfectly straight and her foot in perfect condition.

You are at liberty to use this as a testimony of God's healing power, so that other sufferers may be encouraged to reach out their faith in Jesus Christ and find Him able to save to the uttermost both body and soul, all who will come unto Him.

Yours for the glory of His name, (Signed) J. F. DIMMICK, Pastor Wesley Methodist Church.

Dear Sir,
Since coming down here (quite on my own) last November, I have read in Vancouver papers and my home town issue, many vilified hits at California, both N.S.E. and W. One article said California is "slipping" and people only think they are doing well. Another said boom is on wane and good times are over. Another said there are 6 men available to every open job. This is true in a sense, and yet it is a big exaggeration as a good man wanting work can find it at any time in any country, if he does not pick and choose his job and look for a snip. California is not slipping, except upwards. Study bank clearings of Los Angeles, and greatest knacker will be convinced. Many rich movie men and producers are coming from east and have sunk cold cash in Hollywood and other places near it by the million. Why is Jackie Coogan, Harold Lloyd, Mary Pickford, Talman Rogers and a host of others, drawing big rents from owned property and buying more all the time. (Mary Pickford has property in almost every block in Hollywood). Why is Stuart Blackton (a friend of my own) coming to live and produce for Vitagraph Co., having been in London and New York? Why is D. W. Griffiths coming soon? Why is Henry Ford putting in huge plant at Los Angeles? Is it because S. California is slipping? Well, hardly, unless they are all fools!!! I saw three men this morning from Kelowna pruning here since first day they "blew" in. I worked 2 days after arriving and my son all the time also. Philip Agur has sent for his wife to come to S. California and has good permanent job. I turned down three, as houses provided were not furnished. One thing I cannot boast here is the people, they are well never mind.

Yours truly, H. M. LUMSDEN.

PRUNE IN THE DORMANT SEASON
By R. C. Palmer, Assistant Superintendent, Experimental Station.

It is generally conceded by both scientific investigators and commercial growers that fruit trees should be pruned during the first two or three years of their life. This pruning is designed to produce a well balanced tree with a strong framework capable of carrying heavy crops as the tree grows older. Experiments have shown that as a rule unpruned trees come into bearing earlier than those which are pruned. Failure to prune trees when they are small, however, commonly results in serious trouble in later years. Such trees frequently develop too many main branches, bad crotches are formed and the percentage of breakage is heavy.

When the tree has passed the formative period the necessity for pruning is not quite so obvious, but most authorities are agreed that even after the tree reaches bearing age it is still advisable to pay it an annual visit with the pruning shears. The object of this is to remove all interfering branches and to open out the tree so that the sunlight can penetrate to each fruit spur. The labor thus expended is fully paid for by the improvement in the grade of fruit produced.

The dormant season is the logical time for pruning although when the wood is frozen the work may not be very agreeable to the grower. Where young trees or stone fruits are concerned it is probably advisable to delay the pruning until late winter or early spring, but bearing apple trees can be pruned in zero weather without apparent injury. Pruning is the one major orchard operation which can be performed to advantage during the winter months. At this time there are no leaves to interfere with the vision of the pruner and consequently he is better able to judge which branches should be removed. Furthermore, it is only during the winter that the grower has the time to give to this work.

Consistent and systematic annual pruning aid in producing more extra fancy fruit.

* * * * *
The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

The procession of discoveries in the realms of applied science has become so much a part of our daily life that we accept each fresh advance as a matter of course. When our grandfathers were presented with the invention of sending written messages to distant points by WIRELESS means of a wire, they probably imagined they had reached the culminating point of progress, and were later on, as we know, somewhat incredulous as to the possibility of actually speaking through a similar medium. They felt much as did the Indian who watched a frontier clergyman speak into a telephone connecting his house with his mission building, and was then told that the lady of the house didn't want any fish that day. "Your squaw in that little box?" exclaimed the noble red man. "You heap big liar!" Such an attitude seems funny to us today, nevertheless we know that Professor Graham Bell found it very hard to gain financial aid for his telephone company, and we are apt to forget that only a scant half century has passed since that period. Now transmission by wire has long been augmented by communication in the air, and if we may accept some recent statements by men of science, wires may before very long become quite superfluous. Radiography is already an established fact, and we are apparently on the threshold of an era when light, vision and power will be sent by wireless to any given points. It is a curious condition of things to realize:—it means changes so immense as to be absolutely terrifying, and seems to call for some equally pronounced changes in human nature to go hand in hand with them. We may conceivably maintain our mental equilibrium in face of the drastic advance of conditions in civil life, but what will be the position of the nations of the earth if science outstrips moral growth, and lets loose unlimited power of destruction before we are fitted to handle it? With the ability to see at long range, and the power of sending death and destruction through the air to the point seen, where will be the safety of the world? The only answer seems to turn on the fact that our powers will be so immense that we shall not dare to use them for destructive purposes, and eventually war will become impossible. But before mankind reaches that realization there will be many lapses to "that grand principle of immortality upon which rests the whole art of war," and it might be well for science to moderate its rate of progress in order to walk abreast with international ethics. Meantime there is obviously room in the world for a League of Nations!

I was astonished to read, in one of Sir Phillip Gibbs' articles on Europe, that the Salvation Army has been expelled from Russia "because it was a religious body as well as a charitable organization!" One would have supposed that even Lenin would have stopped THE SALVATION short of such a miracle of intolerance as that ARMY. Of all the philanthropic organizations of modern times, the Salvation Army has always seemed to me to stand head and shoulders above others. As a matter of fact, it is really in a class of one, there being nothing else quite so universal in its scope. Robert Raikes, Dr. Barnardo, and William ("General") Booth will live in national history as great benefactors of mankind, and to the latter must be credited the beginning of a movement covering ground hitherto untouched. What are the reasons for its enormous growth, and its very evident hold on the respect and even affection of every section of mankind? I think two features stand out as chiefly responsible, one being the absolute ignoring of creed or denomination of its beneficiaries, and the other its practical realization that man has a body to be nourished as well as a soul to be prayed for. In these respects it differs greatly from the average religious body, and seems to keep closer to realities as apart from creeds and dogmas. I have lately been looking through some old country church periodicals, and find the greater part of their contents devoted to doctrinal squabbles, in which one John Kensit is still taking as active a part as he was twenty years ago. This man's supreme object in life seems to be the ferreting out of imaginary "popish" tendencies in the "protestant" church, and I never could find one spark of real religion in any of his outbursts of fiery zeal. William Booth looked at things quite differently—he wanted an "army" to "fight for the Lord," and his notion of that was to look after men and women who needed help, and let hair splitting creeds and dogmas alone. He got his wish, and for many years this same "army" has spread kindness, help and goodwill in numberless towns and cities over a great part of the world. Only in the Russia of Lenin can they find no welcome!

Jascha Heifetz, violinist, has gone on record against what he terms the "characteristically American" fondness for "methods" in musical training. He allows that "for small children" it may be advisable to use a system which will interest as well as instruct, but that is the limit to which he will go. He very rightly maintains that the only known "method" for musicians is the right way of playing, and also claims that artificial systems lead to artificial styles of playing to the extinction of personality and real music. He does not see the need of "manufacturing" pianists when the player-piano is in the field, and suggests that more music and less method is what is wanted. The underlying idea is of course the need of developing the musical talent which lies more or less dormant in the great majority of human beings, and the suggestion that, to accomplish this, the teacher must himself possess the divine inspiration. In Washington Irving's "Life of Goldsmith" the writer, referring to Goldsmith's unusual gift of musical expression, says: "It is possible that his execution in music was like his style in writing:—in sweetness and melody he may have snatched a grace beyond the reach of art." Some such gift must lie in the personality of a teacher, or he cannot convey it to the pupil. The pupil may, and often does, eventually go beyond the limits of his teacher, but in such cases the teacher has the greater reward. There is, in these matters, a reciprocal benefit, which was well expressed by so great a master as Charles Villiers Stanford when he referred to those pupils "who, in learning from me, have taught me how to teach." There is certainly no hint of this or that "method" there.

Honey and Some of Its Uses

C. B. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist. (Experimental Farm Notes)
Honey consists of sugar about 75 per cent., water 18 per cent., and small quantities of mineral matter and other substances such as protein, acid and volatile oils.

Practically all honey produced in Canada granulates soon after extracting, but this does not affect its quality but makes it easier to handle. Granulated honey can be brought back to its liquid form by heating it slowly in a double boiler to a temperature of 155 degrees Fahrenheit, a higher temperature than this darkens the honey and injures the flavor. Honey must be stored in a dry place, as it absorbs moisture quite readily, which causes it to ferment and decompose. If stored under suitable conditions, well ripened honey will keep for a long time even from one year to another.

Honey has a claim to be used regularly in every home both on account of its sweetness which is delicately flavored according to the source from which it is gathered, and also because of its high food value, it being a concentrated and easily assimilated heat and energy producing food.

The bulk of Canadian honey is of unsurpassed quality, being light in color and delicately flavored, therefore, its uses in the home are practically limitless.

The most common way of using honey is as a spread upon toast or bread. It readily takes the place of either jam or preserves. In the making of cakes and cookies it has a decided advantage, especially for cakes that are meant to be kept for some time as it keeps them moist and improves the flavor with age. When honey is used in cooking it must be remembered that every cup of honey contains about one quarter liquid, therefore, the amount of liquid that the recipe calls for must be cut down in proportion. As honey contains acid a small amount of soda should be used, about one quarter of a level teaspoon to every cup of honey, and the baking powder reduced. Honey should not be boiled as boiling gives it a burnt flavor. Honey also readily takes the place of sugar in canning or preserving fruits, especially plums, peaches, pears, etc. It also gives them a richer flavor. Honey can also be used instead of sugar in making jams. As a sweetener for summer drinks, honey gives refreshing results. The kinds of candy that can be made of all or part honey are numerous. Candy made of honey is much better than that made from ordinary sugar, as honey is far easier to assimilate and does not tax the digestion. Icing made from honey will remain fresh and moist for months without being impaired in flavor or consistency.

Old Earth Cellar Best Storage

(Experimental Farm Note.)
W. T. Macoun, Dominion Horticulturist.

One of the problems of the householder each year is what quantity of apples he can store economically and another question, "Why did not my apples keep well last winter?" or "Is there any way by which I can keep them better this year?" This does not apply, of course, to those who are fortunate in having the old-fashioned cellar without a furnace which was cool but frost-proof, and moist without being damp. It was and is in such a cellar that apples can be kept to the best advantage and where they will best retain their flavor. The nearer the conditions approach those in this old earth cellar the better the results will be. First, the fruit should be kept as cool as possible without freezing. If the temperature can be kept between 35 and 40 degrees Fahr., this would be best. The higher the temperature the shorter the life of the fruit. Next in importance is retaining the moisture in the fruit. If the individual specimens are exposed to a very dry atmosphere they will wither, hence the desirability of keeping them in such a way as to retain the moisture as much as possible, even though the air of the storage room be dry. This can be obtained, to some extent, by keeping the fruit in a closed package, and, better still in addition, by wrapping each individual specimen in waxed or oiled paper, which will do much to preserve the moisture in the fruit, and to keep disease from spreading from one specimen to another. It is also desirable, if one has nothing else in storage that will be adversely affected, to keep an open vessel with water in it in the room. A careful choice of varieties should be made if one is going to lay in several boxes, or more than the family can use in a month or so, as notwithstanding favorable conditions for storage, the length of season that any variety will remain in prime condition is limited.

ICE CARNIVAL DRAWS CROWD

off the prize in the men's class, with Hugh Miller, Summerland, not far behind.

The contestants in the boys' race dwindled as the laps mounted, leaving Harold May, Penticton, and John Winter, Summerland, competing for first place. May set the pace, with Winter at his heels, until the last round, when Winter stepped into a burst of speed and finished with plenty to spare over May. It was a fine race, although Summerland rooters were rather concerned because Winter kept at May's heels instead of vice versa. However, as Winter started to pass, consternation slid to the Penticton side amid a mixture of groans and cheers.

The Summerland Brass Band, under the leadership of J. O. Steeves, supplied the "pop" as was advertised. To skate to music is a rare treat, and the selections were enjoyed to the utmost. On account of the drop in temperature, which had not been anticipated, the band had to play inside, but very little was lost on that account.

W. Johnston, Premier Hotel, dispensed hot coffee, baked buns and brown bread, etc., which certainly "went great" after skating in the cold. Remarks were freely passed back and forth as to the great success of the evening, and many are hoping for another carnival before the season breaks up.

GOOD STOCK FOR EXPERIMENTAL FARM

Chilliwack.—Superintendent W. T. Hunter of the Dominion Experimental Station at Summerland, B. C., has selected and purchased another Jersey heifer from the Chilliwack Valley, Mr. R. C. Phillipson of Calgarth Farm making delivery this week of a promising two-year-old, "Calgarth Starlight." This heifer is sired by A. J. Street's famous bull, "Owl Interest Count," and her dam is "Lady Bosie's Pet Girl," who as a two-year-old produced 571 pounds of fat, and as a three-year-old 634 pounds, and in June, 1922, produced 101 pounds of fat for the month, according to records of the local cow testing association. It is a matter of satisfaction that two out of the five head purchased for the foundation herd at Chilliwack herds, the other cow being purchased from Mr. E. H. Barton.

HELPFUL HINTS

Shampoo.—A nice shampoo can be made by dissolving a cake of pure castile soap in water. To have it in a jolly consistency use one pint of water to a cake of soap. If hair is very oily, wash once a week or every two days. Otherwise once every three weeks is enough. In either case be sure to rinse thoroughly afterward.

WHERE PREVENTION COUNTS IN ORCHARD

A. B. Jackson, Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, St. Catharines, Ont.

Plant diseases are controlled by prevention rather than by cure. Once an apple has become scabby, a cherry begun to rot or a peach leaf show signs of curl, it is then too late to apply any control. The damage done by these and all other plant diseases is avoided by preventing the disease from ever becoming established. Spraying is the most generally used method of prevention. The success of a spray application depends upon the chances at that particular time of killing the disease organisms, and so prevent any infection. For control of peach leaf curl it is essential to spray with lime sulphur while the trees are in a perfectly dormant stage, before the buds have even begun to unfold in the spring. All studies of the life history of the fungus indicates that the spores of the fungus pass the winter adhering to the bud scales and in the spring these spores germinate and attack the leaves as the bud is opening. As long as the young leaves are folded inside the bud and protected by its scales they are safe from the attack of the fungus, but as soon as the bud begins to open, the tender leaves become exposed to the infection. It is therefore essential that the fungus spores be killed by the spray while the buds are still dormant. It follows that spraying can be done at any time during the late fall, winter or early spring. All peach growers have noticed that the disease is much more prevalent after a cold, wet spring. In such a season on account of the slow rate of growth the buds are a long time unfolding; while dampness favors the germination of the fungus spores, and a low temperature does not check their growth. Thus the fungus is favored and has a considerable period of time in which it has every chance to infect the leaves. If the weather is warm and dry while the buds are opening we have the reverse conditions, the leaves shoot out quickly and are soon past the danger period, while at the same time, lack of moisture may prevent germination of the fungus spores.

Etiquette
What & When to do it
By A. Leda
Any questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to A. Leda, care of this newspaper.

Dear A. Leda:
Is it necessary for a man to put his chair under the table at the conclusion of a meal?
R. M.
No. Unless dining at home or at a friend's home where this is the custom, do not do so.

A. Leda.
Will you kindly state what is the correct thing for a man to say to the bride at the wedding reception? Also what might a woman say if she is not an intimate friend of the bride's?
R. L.
At a wedding reception a man usually compliments the bride on her appearance or he may say "pray accept my sincerest good wishes." The woman could say to the bride "let me wish you every happiness in your married life," and to the groom words to this effect, "I congratulate you most heartily on the good fortune that is yours today."

Dear A. Leda:
If one has friends in the audience during a play is it all right to go over and sit with them during an intermission? 2. If two men and two women are at a play together is it permissible for the men to leave the women to go and smoke during the intermission? 3. Supposing there is just a man and a woman alone, does the same rule hold?
An Interested Reader.
Yes. On one condition—which is, that your friends have also seats, otherwise you should go out in the lobby to visit. 2. Yes. 3. No. A man should not leave a woman seated alone in the audience.

R. V. Agur returned from the Coast this morning. After attending the B.C.F.G.A. convention at Chilliwack he spent a few days at Victoria.

Three games of basketball are scheduled for tonight in the college gymnasium between local and Kelowna teams. These will be two senior games, men and ladies, and a second men's contest.

Since writing the report of the Dale fire, it has been learned that there were about one thousand bushels of grain in the barn in addition to other material of considerable value all of which would have been destroyed but for the good work of neighbors.

TROUBLE IN KEREMEOS SCHOOL

KeremEOS High School has been closed for the past two days, the pupils having refused to attend, according to authentic reports received here. It is said that some of the students quit and went to school in a neighboring town and that later the others "struck" in a body. The strike, it is reported, is in the nature of a protest against the principal with whom there is said to have been trouble.

According to an informant there has been a move to dismiss the principal and he refuses to go before the end of the term.

The community has been greatly stirred up over the high school situation according to one report, which further states that a meeting is to be held with the view to having the school work resumed so that the students may not lose a year.

DANGEROUS GRADES

Consisting on several hills in the community has been forbidden. The recent snow has made good coasting a pleasure not frequently enjoyed here but, fearing bad accidents, the use of the main gulch, Peach Orchard gulch, telephone hill and the hill west of the Baptist church has been forbidden to coasters.

GOOD SLEIGHING

Though the weather has not been cold there has been very little thawing and the snow which fell on December 28th remains and seldom, it ever since the early settlement has there been such a period of good sleighing as has prevailed along the shore road and on the higher levels. During the recent moonlight nights there have been many sleighing parties.

EMILY SNOW
The funeral of the late Miss Emily Snow was held at two o'clock this afternoon from St. Stephen's church, Rev. H. A. Solly officiating.

Miss Snow who had recently completed her 67th year, has been resident of Summerland for the past thirteen years and was a native of England. She died on Wednesday morning, following a lingering illness. She was a sister of the late Wm. H. Snow. William and Channon are nephews and Mary, a niece.

COMMISSIONER GRANT RETURNS FROM THE EAST

Makes Report on the Probable Market Berries, etc., in Coming Season.

Vancouver. — According to J. A. Grant, prairie market commissioner for British Columbia, who has returned home after a tour which included New York, Boston, Montreal, Quebec, Philadelphia, Washington and other principal cities of the east, there has been a good cleanup of berries in barrels and coolers from the 1923 season all over the country.

Mr. Grant made the trip east primarily to check the apple storage situation as affecting frozen, or processed berries, and to study probable needs of these large markets for the 1924 season.

"The supply of processed, bulked and frozen small fruits and berries still on hand will not more than comfortably take care of the public's need on that score," he says, "but should fill all orders until the next season is at hand. There is a good prospect for marketing a normal crop of berries in fresh form to the jobbers and canneries on the coming deal for the coming fruit season.

"Last season itself was a puzzler to the North America trade, as it was faced with a heavy carryover and the canneries in such a financial condition that it could do little or no financing, and had to throw this burden upon the growers. This has made the deal hard for the growers, as they had to wait so long for their money.

"In British Columbia a part of this surplus was taken up through the manufacture of berry wine, which was absorbed through the government.

"I found on my eastern trip there are heavy holdings of barreled apples in all the eastern market centres, while most of the fancy western stock in boxes was B. C., a large quantity of which is sold," said Mr. Grant.

"Because of this situation as affecting barreled apples, the March and later market hardly looks buoyant for the east and is not likely to be good on the high priced apples."

GUARDING AGAINST "PEACH YELLOWS"

Peach orchards in the province of British Columbia are free from "peach yellows" disease that has been responsible for much damage to orchards in the Niagara district of Ontario. To prevent the introduction of the disease into this province, the importation into British Columbia of all peach nursery stock from Eastern Canada and from certain states is prohibited by regulation under the Destructive Insect and Pest Act. Not only are peach trees included in this order but also fruit pits or seeds for planting purposes. The section of the Destructive Insect and Pest Act governing this regulation is administered by the Botanical Division of the Experimental Farms at Ottawa.

PEACHLAND STOCK BREEDERS GATHER

At the annual meeting of the Peachland Stock Breeders' Association, held last week with president Evans in the chair, a report of the year's proceedings was approved. This report showed that the fees had been remarkably well paid up considering the existing conditions, and with the amount of cash on hand at present the meeting decided that the charge could be reduced to $4.00 plus the membership fee of $1.00. It was also decided that an application be sent in asking for a change of bull. The following were elected to office for the ensuing year: president, Mr. Evans; Sr., re-elected; also vice-president Mr. Ruffles and secretary-treasurer, J. Wilson re-elected with committee of Mr. Harrington and E. F. Smith.

IT WAS COLD

KeremEOS.—In the recent cold spell KeremEOS station reported 20 degrees below the point where a few years ago, scientists thought no further cold existed. This is a record for us. At Princeton it was 44 below, while a report from Tulameen gives 54 below. What unknown depths of minus temperature were reached at Penticton must have been truly awful as the observer at that point failed to publish the terrible catastrophe.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

Summerland Women's Institute held their annual meeting on Friday, January 18th, in the parlor of the Methodist church. The report of the financial statement for the past year was read, following which officers for the current year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. P. E. Knowles; 1st vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Andrew; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. A. Stark; secretary, Mrs. J. Tait; directors, Mrs. S. Angove and Mrs. J. J. Blewett.

KEREMEOS TOMATOES TAKE FIRST PLACE

KeremEOS.—At a gathering of the American Cannery at Portland, Ore., recently, an exhibit of sample cans of tomatoes from all over the Pacific coast and other points was held. The pack put up by the Dominion Cannery in KeremEOS carried off the palm, it being adjudged the best color and flavor, and also the cleanest pack. This speaks well for the local management as well as for the fruit, for it is a fruit produced by the district. The pack inspected was put up in September, in which month the best color and flavor is produced.

BIG COLLECTION FOR EMPIRE EXHIBITION

Victoria.—Recognizing the value of the British Empire Exhibition as an advertising medium for British Columbia in general, and its possibilities in particular, the provincial Department of Agriculture has collected together for display at Wembley Park the most comprehensive collection of representative British Columbia products that has ever been assembled. The exhibit in question will embrace every angle of the fruit growing industry and it will also include an unparalleled collection of grains, grasses, roots, seeds, and so on. It is worthy of note that one of the specially collected features of this splendid collection will be specimens of tobacco, sweet potatoes and various kinds of nuts from the interior of the Province. How extensive the exhibit will be is illustrated by the fact that the fruit section alone will comprise 800 boxes of all varieties.

RARE MUSICAL TREAT GIVEN

Her rendering of Asher's "Alice" was certainly her masterpiece and the gem of the evening, and the transcription of Sullivan's "Lost Chord" by Kuhe was a close second to it. Master Cyril Mossop was at his best in Sanderson's "Break of Day" and for so young a vocalist gave a charming rendering of Handel's "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," and the touching little "Coon's Prayer" was a simple and beautiful finish to his performance.

He possesses a singularly clear and beautiful voice which with care will strengthen as he grows older. His enunciation is very marked for a boy of so tender age and his quaint little mannerisms left little to be desired by a very critical audience.

Ben (as we Summerlanders like to call him), who was in capital voice, gave "Love Divine" by Gartner, and Sims Reeves' old favorite "Sally in our Alley" in his customary excellent style, while in his duet with Master Cyril he excelled himself in showing the complete control of voice he possesses when singing with a voice not half his strength.

Taking the concert as a whole, it is hard to individualize where all was so good. May we have many such concerts in Summerland, is the wish of one who went home delighted.

PRESENTATION TO FORMER PASTOR

Rev. Isaac Page, a former pastor of the Summerland Baptist church, and Mrs. Page, are leaving about the end of this month to again take up work in China, to which they have already given much of their lives. For several years Mr. Page has been pastor of the Baptist church at Pentiction and at the annual congregational meeting held last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Page were recipients of tokens of esteem and appreciation of the work they have done in that church. Mrs. Page was presented with a club bag and purse, accompanied by an address of appreciation and farewell from the women of the church. Mr. Page was presented with a travelling bag and a substantial sum of money. Among the speakers was G. Thornber of Summerland, who had been a close friend of the retiring pastor.

ELECTIONS IN VALLEY TOWNS

Sutherland Is Again Kelowna Mayor—Chambers Lost In Pentiction.

Municipal elections at Pentiction on Saturday resulted in the promotion of Councillor J. Kirkpatrick to the reeveship, he having defeated Reeve Chambers by 389 to 336. The only change in the personnel of the council of that municipality is the inclusion of H. L. Swan as councillor, Councillors Lochore, Clarke, and McKenzie being re-elected. E. W. Mutch was elected police commissioner over C. W. Nicholl.

Kelowna's mayor for several years, D. W. Sutherland, was again returned by acclamation and there was a keen contest for aldermanic honors, resulting in the election of Geo. A. Meikle, J. B. Knowles, J. W. N. Shepherd and C. B. Latta, the unsuccessful candidate being D. H. Rattenbury.

Alderman Galbraith of Vernon was elected mayor of that city. He was opposed by Alderman Brandon. These were the only two members of the 1923 council to again offer their services. T. Robertson, J. B. Monk, W. J. Oliver, I. V. Sauder and L. L. Stewart are the new aldermen, the unsuccessful candidates being E. W. Prowse and W. J. Nichols.

Trustees Dent, Harwood and Postmaster Lefroy were elected by acclamation, as was Police Commissioner Jacques.

S. OKANAGAN ASSOCIATION HAS BEEN PROPOSED

An effort will be made by the Pentiction Board of Trade to get together with the Boards of Trade of Peachland, Summerland, Naramata and Oliver and form an association of boards in the lower Okanagan.

This was suggested in the report presented at the annual meeting of the Pentiction board in the form of a recommendation from the new Board of Trade council.

The secretary was instructed to write to the above boards asking them to appoint representatives to attend a united meeting for the purpose of discussing the proposition, in Pentiction, on a date to be arranged.

Blight on the Filbert

The growing of the filbert nut has been receiving some attention in the province of British Columbia.

To protect growers against the possible introduction of the filbert blight from Eastern Canada and certain states, where it is found to exist, a regulation has been passed under the Destructive Insect and Pest Act to prohibit the entry into the province of British Columbia of plants or cuttings of all species, hybrids and horticultural varieties of hazel, cob or filbert nuts from Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Quebec, and Ontario. The matter comes within the jurisdiction of the Dominion Botanist at Ottawa.

ORCHARD FILLERS CROWDING ROWS

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTE

By R. C. Palmer, Assistant Superintendent, Experimental Station.

At the Summerland Experimental Station the permanent trees in the apple orchard were planted thirty feet apart each way, making forty-eight trees to the acre. Between these permanent trees an equal number of fillers or temporary trees were planted. The orchard is only eight years old, but the fillers are already crowding the permanent trees to such an extent that it has been decided to remove the temporary trees without further delay. The yields secured from these fillers to date may be of some interest to apple growers. The varieties used were Jonathan, Wagener, Cox's Orange, Duchess and Yellow Transparent. The total yield per acre of each variety for the eight years since date of planting, figured on the basis of forty-eight trees to the acre, is as follows: Jonathan, 377 boxes; Wagener, 301.5; Duchess, 281; Yellow Transparent, 220.5; Cox's Orange, 163.

It is apparent that even the highest producing filler, Jonathan, gave an average annual yield of less than fifty boxes to the acre. When the cost of trees, planting, cultivation, spraying, pruning, is considered, it is doubtful whether even the Jonathan and Wagener have justified their existence.

These observations suggest that the planting of fillers between permanent apple trees set thirty feet apart is a practice of questionable commercial value. The problem of planting fillers and the time for removal, is one which the individual grower must decide for himself. In making his decision however, he should remember that if he expects his permanent trees to produce large crops of marketable fruit, he must be prepared to allow them ample space to develop.

to what he is worth, and that it is good policy to pay a good salary to a good man. $10,000 men are scarce, and must be paid for according to their ability. Dealing with the vexed question of advances to growers on the security of their crops, he pointed out that in 1923 the bank had advanced to the growers collectively an amount equivalent to nearly 40 cents per package, which had to be repaid before any money could be paid to the grower. Thus, advances were out of the question, since there were no funds available. The matter of by-products, such as dehydrating, should be left entirely to separate organizations, and not be handled by the Associated. A vote of thanks was accorded to the speaker.

The election of officers for the dual organization led to some confusion, some members apparently failing to realize that it had to be governed by the constitution of Farmers' Institutes generally. Finally a tentative directorate of five was formed, and the names of the F.G.A. director and delegate were added as active members.

During the evening a song was contributed by Miss Lea Young, and a vocal duet by Miss Enid Rayner and Mr. Weaver. The proceedings closed with the national anthem.

It is proposed that the meeting will adjourn without transacting business for one week, as many members will wish to attend another important meeting.

SUMMERLAND CO-OPERATIVE GROWERS' ASSOCIATION

Summerland, B. C., January 17th, 1924.

To the Shareholders, Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association.

Dear Sir or Madam:
A special general meeting of the members of the Association will be held in the Rialto Theatre on the afternoon of Thursday, January 31st, at 2 p.m. Only those growers who have paid the first three calls of share capital will be eligible to vote.

Nominations must be left with the Secretary-Treasurer at least one hour before the time set for the meeting. Nomination forms can be secured from the Secretary.

Yours very truly,

Several matters came up for discussion. Correspondence was read regarding the control of the mosquito pest. Eric Hearle, the entomologist who has done a great deal of work in this connection, is expected to pay a visit to the district during the coming spring. The purchase of spraying material was also discussed and arrangements will shortly be made whereby members of the Institute will be able to purchase this at a reduced figure.

Plans Are Launched For Better Conditions In Soft Fruit Industry

Directors and Officers of Locals of Soft Fruit Growing Districts Discuss Many Phases of Industry — Many Resolutions and Suggestions Proposed for Betterment of Grower—Local Meeting Will Be Held Soon—Better Orchard Practice and Methods of Handling Urged.

Resolutions and suggestions covering every phase of the soft fruit industry from orchard work to marketing were discussed at a special meeting held at Kelowna on Tuesday. Representatives were present from the locals at Keremeos, Pentiction, Naramata, Summerland, Peachland, Westbank and Kelowna, affiliated with the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Limited. By request, Basil Steuart, managing director, and Thos. Bulman, of the executive were present. Summerland Co-operative was represented by T. Croil, F. J. Nixon, and A. C. Turner, directors; M. Steuart, manager, and R. Pollock, secretary. W. S. Young represented the Naramata Co-operative Growers' Exchange, and Directors Long, Gummow and Buchanan the Peachland Fruit Union.

Every phase of the soft fruit situation came up for discussion. Copies of the resolutions and suggestions are now being prepared in the form of a report for submission to the several locals concerned and meetings of the members of these locals will be held about the middle of February to consider this report.

The report is divided into two sections, one dealing with orchard practices, including the growing and handling of the fruit, and the other with marketing.

Orchard boxes were considered as permitting of too heavy a load for use in packing cherries and other soft fruit. The lug is suggested and suitable picking containers for other fruits proposed. It was suggested that a time be set when fruit shall be delivered to the warehouses.

Better ventilation and handling methods with the view to keeping the fruit cool were proposed.

Elimination of undesirable varieties among 'cots, cherries and plums, was advocated and a program to cover the four remaining years of the five-year contract for the elimination of these varieties suggested. This will not prevent any grower going right to it with his axe or grafting tools to bring about the change sooner. A committee to bring about this better situation was named and may go beyond soft fruits to suggest plans for eliminating undesirable varieties among apples, etc.

Certain recommendations were advanced to improve picking methods. Every effort is being made to get pre-cooling plants established at Summerland, Pentiction, Kelowna, and Salmon Arm.

It was pointed out that across the line fruit is given certain government inspection and once a dealer buys fruit which has passed that inspection, he has no recourse. A change

PAY GROWERS ON APPLES

Twenty Thousand Dollars Go Out to Producers as Part Payment.

Approximately $20,000 has been distributed within the last few days among Summerland fruit growers, about half this sum having been sent out by the Summerland Co-operative and the other by the Occidental. In both cases they were payments on account.

G. C. Bonmore, manager of the Occidental, explains that their payments are for the purpose of distributing cash received and is preparatory to final settlement later.

Payments made by the Co-operative represent 5 cents a box on apples packed up to a certain date and were made for the purpose of distributing among members money which has been coming in from the Central.

DATE FIXED FOR CREAMERY MEETING

For the purpose of considering the establishment here of a cream station, a public meeting announced in another column will be held next Thursday afternoon in St. Andrew's Hall. This is a subject in which many citizens are taking an active interest. Not only does it concern the man on the land but every business man and property owner is directly concerned in this question or any other that has any bearing on the prosperity of the community.

A representative of the Kelowna creamery, and one of the Pentiction Ice and Cold Storage Company, which also handles cream, and possibly other outside speakers will be present at this meeting.

W. RITCHIE IS CHAIRMAN OF SCHOOL BOARD

C. P. Nelson Appointed Secretary—Manual Training To be Resumed.

Wm. Ritchie was elected chairman of the school board at a short meeting of the trustees held on Friday night.

When the question of appointing a secretary came up, J. H. Bowering, who has served in that capacity for some years, informed the board that he was not open for re-appointment. The discussion which followed resulted in a vote of appreciation of the services of the retiring secretary during his long term of office, to which Mr. Bowering suitably replied.

It having become known that a new secretary would be required, there were several applications for the position before the board. Those who applied were C. P. Nelson, P. E. Knowles, H. H. Creese and C. E. Craig. On motion of J. W. S. Logie, seconded by Mrs. Solly, the position went to Mr. Nelson.

Manual training will be resumed on the first of February. S. W. J. Feltham was appointed instructor on motion of Mrs. Solly, seconded by G. W. Cope. The salary is $1,000 per annum.

Following a discussion of improvements to the school ground, it was decided to ask for a copy of the plans prepared some time ago and also to remind J. W. Gibson, director of elementary education in agriculture, of the requisition made for trees for planting this spring.

The Wednesday evening after the first Monday in each month will be the regular date of meeting.

The collector of licenses and Police Constable McConnell will be at the municipal office on Thursday, February 7th, at 10 a.m. to issue motor licenses. Anyone running an unlicensed car after that date will be prosecuted.

REEVE NAMES ALL STANDING COMMITTEES

Lengthy Reports on Irrigation Systems and Roads Go To Committees.

Regular Meetings on Second and Fourth Saturdays of Each Month.

Reeve J. R. Campbell and Councilors R. Johnston, W. Ritchie, H. Bristow and O. G. Smith took the oath of office last Thursday afternoon, that being the date prescribed by the Municipal Act for the first meeting of the new council. Reeve Campbell fixed the second and fourth Saturdays of each month, beginning the 9th of February, as the regular meeting dates, the sessions to begin at 1.30.

Standing committees were named by the Reeve and approved by council as follows: water, Johnston and Ritchie; public works, Smith and Johnston; electric light, Bristow and Smith; finances, Ritchie and Bristow, the first named in each case being chairman of the committee.

Among the correspondence read was a letter from the department of the Attorney-general in answer to an enquiry with respect to the deduction made from the last cheque sent the municipality from liquor profits. No explanation was given in this letter but it was intimated that the matter was receiving attention and would be explained later.

An offer from G. W. Cope of five dollars was accepted for standing timber on Blk. 47, D.L. 1073, Paradise Flat.

W. J. Beattie applied for the timber on Lots 55 to 57, D.L. 3194, Paradise Flat. This offer was referred to public works committee with power to act.

Foremen Dickson and Tomlin submitted a joint report on trees along the roadsides which are doing or are likely to do damage to domestic water mains. In a number of cases it has been found that the roots of pine trees force themselves between the pipe and collar and continuing to grow, destroy or damage the pipe.

In eight different locations it was reported pine trees were a menace to the pipe lines.

Apparently fearing the general removal of trees in their district, there was a petition from several ratepayers requesting that certain trees on the road skirting the Graham hill and on Jones Flat be spared.

The council decided not to do anything with trees where their removal was objected to unless doing immediate damage to the pipe lines. The question of trees on sections between Bryant's and the Humphrey and Fiske property and between A. C. Turner's and H. Sherman's was referred to committee for further report.

MANY CHANGES ON THE B. OF M. STAFF

This week has witnessed an unusual number of changes in the staff of the Bank of Montreal. H. G. Fisher, recently in charge of the Naramata office, has succeeded J. E. Clarke, who has been transferred to the Pentiction office. H. C. Miller has come from Vancouver to take the place vacated by J. B. McCallum, a Summerland young man who has been transferred to Duncan, B. C. Note has already been made of Miss Harrison joining the bank staff to take the position resigned by Miss Steuart. With the exception of the manager, C. B. Winter, Ewart Bowering, two months with the bank, has been longer on the staff than any other now in the office.

OUTLOOK IS MUCH BRIGHTER SAYS A. T. HOWE

Apple Market Better — Good Sales Abroad—Stock Moving Fast.

A. T. Howe, president of the Associated, is in town today and will attend the meeting of the members of the Summerland Co-operative being held this afternoon.

Briefly interviewed, Mr. Howe stated that sales made since average prices were published in these columns a few weeks ago will well maintain those figures. In fact, some particularly fine prices have been obtained for shipments to the Old Country and there is a general upward tendency in domestic prices.

Apples have been selling steadily and there are now but little more than two hundred carloads held in the Valley and about one hundred carloads in storage elsewhere and Mr. Howe expressed confidence in the Associated being able to clean up the entire stock by the end of February.

In a few pointed words, President Howe spoke very optimistically of the outlook for the growers' organization and declared that he felt a very different man from what he did four months ago because of the improved prospects.

By an unfortunate accident during the Young People's sleighing party on Monday evening, Miss Nellie Fisher is in the hospital suffering several nasty cuts, while Miss Phyllis Cline, though less severely injured, will also be confined indoors for several days. It was while returning to the hall, and coming down the hill near R. Johnston's, that the two girls in some way overbalancing, fell off the sleigh and it is thought, must have been struck by the second sleigh, which was coming close behind the first. Though painful, the injuries are in neither case likely to prove serious.

BROTHER WAS KILLED INSTANTLY

Mrs. Willis Walter was advised by telegram on Sunday afternoon that her young brother, Clifford Clemens, had been killed instantly at a lumbering camp near Spokane. The young man was about twenty-five years of age and unmarried. Mrs. Walter left on Monday morning for Red Deer, Alberta, where the funeral will be held.

MANSON TALKS OF INTERIOR HIGHWAY

Nothing definite has yet been given out as to the proposed Coast-to-Interior link of an all Canadian highway, but addressing the British Columbia Auto Association last Wednesday, Hon. A. M. Manson referred to it. While the route this link will take, he said, was still a secret with the Minister of Public Works, it would be started soon and completed in the course of two years. Three factors would determine the route to be selected, he said. These were the gross expense, gradient, and possibility of keeping open. The cost would be approximately one million dollars, likely more than less.

SCOTTISH BARD REMEMBERED

Local Caledonians Celebrate Birthday of Bobbie Burns.

"Let Whig and Tory all agree To spend the night w' mirth and glee; And cheerfu' sing along w' me The Reel o' Tullochgorum. For blythe and cheery we'll be a' As lang as we ha' breath to draw; And dance till we be lek ta' fa' The Reel o' Tullochgorum."

So hummed Johnnie, the sandler, as he emerged from the Parish Hall last Friday night, to be joined at the gate by his friend Davie, when the following confab took place:

"Man," says Davie, "dinna we ha' a gran time the night, and sic a crowd o' folk." "Aye ye're richt for aino," from Davie rejoins Johnnie, "for there were Scotch folk yonder frae Johnnie O' Groats in the north to the Mull of Galloway in the south, and frae Ardnamurchan Point to Buchanan Ness, a' vying w' ane another to pay homage to the memory of the Immortal Robbie. I tell ye, Davie, the poet was richt when he said that he wad get mair hono. showered upon him a hunner years after he had passed away, than he had obtained while still alive; and judging frae the enthusiasm o' that gatherin' in there," says Johnnie, "takin' his thumb in the direction o' the hall, 'there's nobody wad lurk gairn' that prophesy.'"

"Aye," says Davie, "and was it no real mair on the part o' the gran old chieftain of the local clan to end the spoil he did. He wad undoubtedly been there in person were it not for his physoccal disability." "Then there were they twa fine addies and gentlemen frae Pentiction that cam a' the way to help w' the programme. At this juncture, Johnnie was getting impatient for his cronie to finish his harango; and while the former paused to inhale the imaginary North Sea breeze, which "Callor Herrin'" conjured up, he bronks in

The quarterly meeting of the Co-operative Growers was held in Naramata Hall on Wednesday evening, the chair being occupied by Mr. W. S. Young in the absence of the president, Mr. F. W. Rolt. The primary business of the gathering was the election of a director for the district in place of Mr. Desbrissay, retiring at the end of the season. Before proceeding with the election, a report of proceedings at Vernon during the past year was read by Mr. Desbrissay, and was received with approval. Mr. E. J. Chambers, executive of Pentiction, was the choice of the Pentiction and Kaleden portions of the district, and their choice was supported by the Naramata growers, nem. con. Mr. Chambers, in voicing his appreciation of the local vote, briefly outlined his views on the brokerage question, and also as to a central management, which he considered should be entrusted to a chosen head.

A. T. Howe, the president of the Associated, was present, and gave an interesting account of the work of the past year. Referring to various criticisms on the activities of the central board, he welcomed legitimate criticism as an aid to improvement, but claimed that the Associated had done remarkably well under adverse circumstances. Speaking on the financial situation, he deplored the present position in which the grower had to wait the entire season for payment on his crop, and hoped that much better terms could be made with the bank for the coming year. Replying to enquiries as to apple pool prices he read a long list of figures of pools up to December 31st, and stated that they might be taken as minimum quotations, as the market was getting firmer at the present time. A curious feature of the returns as read was the tendency for small apples to sell for more than larger, and the fact that in many instances fancy packs netted actually more than extra fancy. With regard to packing costs, he said the approximate average of 53 cents was pretty general over the Valley, but said he believed an effort would be made this season to increase the proportion of packing by growers in their own orchards, and so cut down expense. But it would be necessary to have a system of government inspection as in parts of the United States, and that would mean a readjustment of methods. Mr. Howe's address was cordially received, and he made a good impression on the audience.

The chairman brought up the matter of soft fruit handling, and stated that a committee had delved into the matter very thoroughly at Pentiction, and also at Kelowna. It was generally felt that the C.P.R. had not

LOCAL NURSES RANK HIGH

Peachland and Summerland Graduates of Jubilee Make Good Marks.

Results of examinations for registered nurses' certificates, held in November 1923, just announced, show seventy-seven successful out of eighty-seven candidates.

Of those passing Miss Ruth White, of Peachland, a graduate of Vernon Jubilee Hospital, gained second place in the province, with a percentage of eighty-eight and one sixth. Another Vernon graduate, a Summerland student, Mrs. Olive Walmaley, was also successful, obtaining the high average of eighty per cent. It is noteworthy that of the seven candidates from Vernon Hospital, all were successful, all passing with a high average.

MAKE A WISE DECISION.

Kelowna growers have acted wisely in re-electing Bulman and Barret to the board of directors of the Associated Growers. So much noise was made at some of the recent meetings in the Kelowna district that many feared unwise action might be taken, but the better judgment has prevailed. Both are men of experience and intelligence and are zealous for the welfare of the growers' organization.

SCHOOL WORK.

It doesn't pay to make children work too hard. What they need in youth is warmth, affection, exercise, good food, long sleep. Heavy learning can come later.

You have read in the daily papers recently about William James Sidis, the boy phenomenon who, at eleven years of age, was in Harvard University, debating with professors on the fourth dimension, and came out of Harvard at thirteen.

That young gentleman is working now as a clerk at $23 a week and doing his "higher mathematics" on an adding machine. He says he hates the name of Harvard. He is discouraged, and, from a published interview, he appears to lack the greatest of assets, mental courage. It's easy to take that out of a human by over-forcing in childhood.

The vanity of parents ends sometimes in the destruction of the child's chances.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

A distinguished lady writer says: "When deep, powerful love cools, marriage should end in divorce." Newspapers discuss that because it sounds new.

Yet it is what the monkeys said, or would have said if they could talk, half a million years ago. Mr. Monkey would say: "When I am tired of one lady monkey, I go off and find another. That's my idea of love."

Marriage is an institution not established for the amusement of men or monkeys, but for the protection of children, to establish respect for women, and to make men gradually more decent.

We should be even closer to the monkeys than we are now, but for the institution of marriage, which has trained men to suppress the monkey within them.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

The farmer is about the leading automobile prospect in the world. Although most of them may own cars, they are not acquired as luxuries. The farmer uses his car in his business. It takes the place of a wheel-barrow, when he is taking his bees out for an airing and he can use the horn to awaken the hired man at 3 o'clock in the morning instead of putting the record on the Victrola.

Man is made of dust; and if he doesn't remain dry in this moral age, his name is mud.

From Our Exchanges

RECIPROCAL EGG TARIFF NEEDED

Public opinion in this province is solidly behind B. C. poultrymen in their request to Ottawa for a tariff on eggs equal to that of the United States.

While the poultry industry in British Columbia has succeeded in producing the finest eggs in the world, it is established on an insecure basis because of the economic abuses to which it has been subjected in the matter of competition.

At present American eggs, subject of course to rigid quality tests, are coming into this province on payment of a three cents a dozen duty.

On the other hand, Canadian eggs are barred out of American markets by an eight-cent duty.

This tariff inequality threatens the very basis of the poultryman's marketing system rendering the local market subject to the dumping of surplus Washington eggs at the most critical times of the year.

Under such conditions, marketing stability in this important industry is impossible. A reciprocal tariff is immediately necessary if the poultry business is to attain maximum progress in British Columbia.—Vancouver Sun.

Passion Play Too Sacred To Be Produced for Money

World Famous Players Refuse Offer of Great Wealth to Produce Play for Motion Picture Magnates.

In 1630, a great pestilence fell upon the land of Bavaria. Plague, poverty, hunger and death were at every hand. Finally the people turned to God and asked that they might be relieved—and their suffering was relieved.

In the little village of Oberammergau, which still stands near Munich, the people were very grateful. They gathered together and in 1633 a pledge was made—and an oath taken to always worship God who had delivered them.

Then was conceived the idea to establish a rite which would never let the people of Oberammergau forget. It was decided to re-enact the life of Jesus, the Christ, once every ten years for three hundred years. It was called "The Passion Play." That pledge will have been fulfilled ten years hence—1933.

From that humble idea has developed influences which have been world-wide in effect. It has made the people of that village devout, studious and Christian. It has made their village known in every land. It has caused thousands to journey across continents and seas to witness the great production—and thousands have lived better lives as a result thereof.

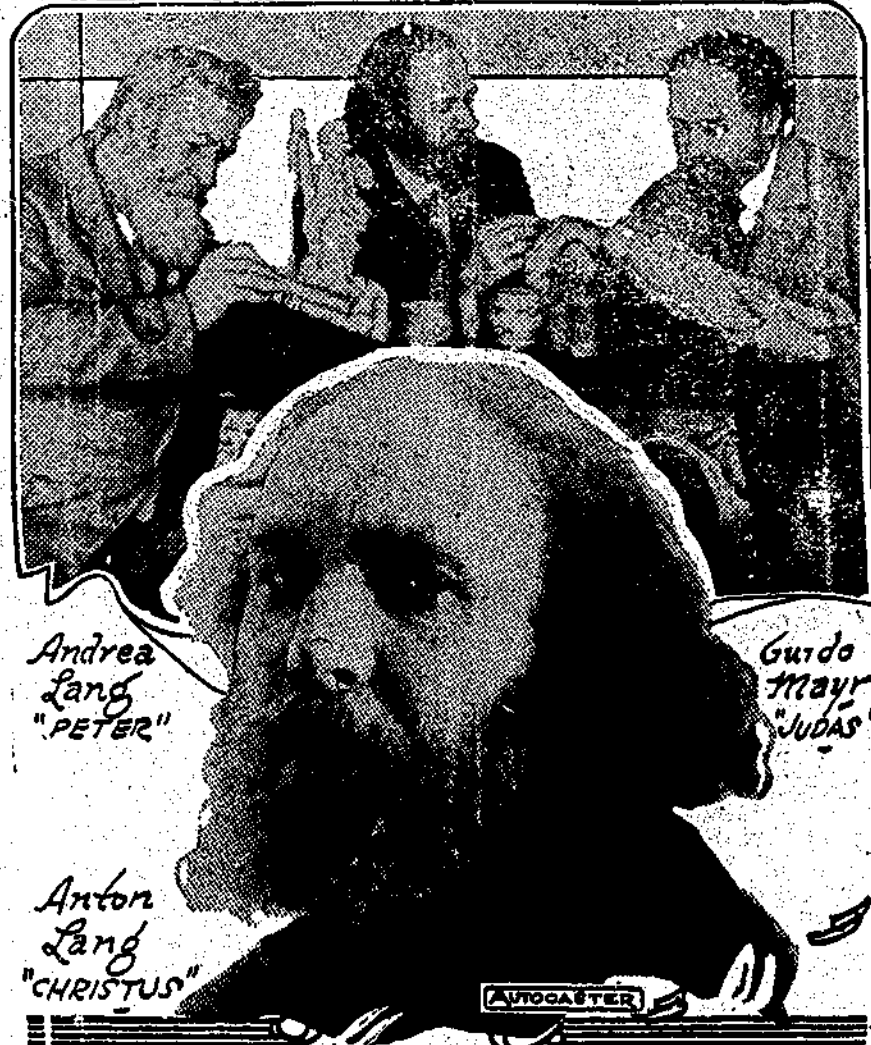

Quartered to-day in New York is a little band of potters and wood carvers—pilgrims from Oberammergau. They have come to sell their wares—all money therefrom to go toward relieving the now starving women and children of their little home. Considerable money has been advanced to us by kind Americans. All of this will be returned before we take one cent.

Standing with his hat off, Lang bore a marvellous resemblance to the traditional idea of Christ. His manner is simple and humble. On either side of him stood Peter and Judas. So much did the trio portray the characters that hardened reporters unconsciously assumed a reverent attitude completely out of step with their usual methods.

The Passion players have received many offers to produce the play for money. One motion picture com-

Passion Players Awe-Struck But Unaffected Amid New York's Glitter

Andrea Lang "PETER"

Guido Mayr "JUDAS"

Anton Lang "CHRISTUS"

From the valley of Oberammergau, in Bavaria, where their lives are molded to the character they aspire to portray in "The Passion Play" (produced every 10 years) has come a small band of wood carvers to sell their wares, all returns to help feed their starving women and children. It is their first trip away from their valley. Though awe-struck and marvelling at the life and glitter of New York, they refuse to be moved from their simple Christian thinking and ways of living. Heading the group is Anton Lang, who is the present Christus, having portrayed Jesus in the last three productions, his brother Andrea Lang, Peter, and Guido Mayr, Judas.

valley. When they have completed their task, visiting about twelve cities in the U. S., they will return to their work benches in the quaint crooked streets of idyllically peaceful Oberammergau.

Heading this band of craftsmen, is Anton Lang, who three times in the last thirty years has portrayed Christ in the great Passion Play. With him is his brother Andrea Lang (Peter), and Guido Mayr (Judas). Others who portray lesser characters are also in the party.

This is the first time any member of the company except Anton Lang has been out of Oberammergau. Before the party left for America they were gathered in the simple quaint dining room of Anton Lang, the Christ player. Many of the people did not want their great players to go out into an unknown world, where their minds might be distracted from the pure idyllic Christian lives they led. For he it known that every boy born in Oberammergau at his earliest age is imbued and inspired with the idea to live and think that he may mould his character and be selected to one day portray the Christ in The Passion Play.

The money for this expedition was advanced by an American relief society. Said Anton Lang (Christus): "We are here to save the little children of our village. We are serving HIM who said 'Suffer little children to come unto me.' Under no conditions will we present The Passion Play in America or outside of Oberammergau. We don't come here with the idea of getting rich. All we ask in return for our wares is sufficient to alleviate the suffering at pany offered $1,750,000 for the exclusive picture rights.

Herr Mayr, player of Judas, has been offered handfuls of gold to give one scene from the Passion Play in the home of a New York millionaire.

All of the party have lived in a virtual dream since leaving home. When the wonders of New York were reached they stood in awe-struck wonderment, knowing not what to do or say. Its magnificence and abundance dumfounded them. In fact, they have felt all along that they have been sinning. Every time they sit down to the luxury of a meal, according to those looking after them, they think of and mention the starving at home and it seems to spoil their enjoyment of the good things to eat.

New York with all its life, its glitter, its sin and materialism, has left these humble Christians awe-struck and bewildered. But he it also said these men of Oberammergau, holding true to their simple thoughts and humble ways, have awakened new thoughts to thousands here—and both shall profit.

SUGGESTS AN IMPROVEMENT

Editor Summerland Review. Dear sir,—Please grant me a small space in your valuable paper to speak about the Empire Hall.

Now we all know what a nice hall it is: large and well lighted, a good floor for dancing, a nice stage for plays, and a nice large dining hall to eat in. But have you been in the kitchen where the are no sink or taps, and a very small stove?

The water must be carried from the ladies dressing room. And I am very sure the very obliging old gentleman who looks after things would much rather face a raging lion than venture amongst the ladies. Also the thirsty gentleman who craves the cooling draught after the heating dance must wait until some kind hearted lady bustles off to find him a drink.

Now would it not be a lot better to have a sink and a tap with running water than have all this trouble; also a larger stove.

Surely it would not cost very much and the happiness and good feeling it would make to say nothing of the convenience to the caterers!

Thanking you for your space, I am, Sir, A WOMAN.

SUGGESTION TO EASE TAX BURDEN

Editor Review.

Dear sir,—At our annual ratepayers meeting I drew the attention of the ratepayers to the important nature of Mr. Tomlin's report to the Council in which he outlines the maintenance work on our irrigation system that should have immediate attention. The list is lengthy. To raise the necessary money by taxes and rates would be a heavy burden under present financial conditions. On the other hand, if the repairs are deferred the system and the service will rapidly deteriorate. I offer the following suggestion as some easement of the situation. Of the fifteen thousand dollars borrowed in 1922 for domestic water extensions there is five thousand, six hundred and forty-eight dollars unexpended for which we have no immediate call. This money could be used for domestic water and irrigation repairs, and a burden to that extent taken off the ratepayers. The change in the appropriation would require to be approved of by vote of the ratepayers.

We are paying six and a half per cent. on the bonds and have invested the money in Victory bonds drawing five and a half per cent. That is, we are paying one per cent. for the privilege of holding it on call, for Victory bonds could be sold at any time. If this suggestion is carried out we would have to meet the annual interest charge of six and a half per cent. but the proper maintenance of the systems and efficiency of service effected would more than offset this, and the relief afforded to the ratepayers would make it easier for those in arrears to pay up.

before the ground freezes, care being taken to preserve the buds on the crowns, and to keep as much of the earth adhering to the roots as possible. Past experience has proven that roots that have been completely frozen freeze much better and quicker. It will require at least ten days of quite severe freezing to put the roots in good condition for forcing.

When the time comes to bring in the plants, a dark collar should be available where a temperature of 50 to 60 degrees can be maintained. The frozen crowns are then placed on the cellar floor, as closely together as possible and the spaces between filled with moist sand or earth. It is a good plan to heap several inches of soil over the frozen buds and leave this covering on for a couple of days only to gradually draw out the frost. Water should be applied liberally, because upon the moisture supply will depend to quite an extent the success of the crop. It is not necessary to use rich soil in this work, because the roots already contain the necessary plant food for the development of the leaf-stalks.

While the first planting will produce for about six weeks, yet to maintain an abundant supply, it is well to have a second lot of roots out of doors, ready for planting when the first lot is just ready for use. These frozen roots should be brought in, planted and treated in the manner described for the first lot.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS.

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner. Pre-emption must be completed for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homestead, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after priority has given improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers raised, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Monetary Support of Church Is A Profitable Investment

Why It Is to Your Best Interest to Help Maintain a Church - Written for the Man Who Is not a Regular Church Goer.

By A LAYMAN

The financial difficulties of the churches are becoming a very serious problem to all those church members who are interested in such matters; and the fact that so few are interested has really more to do with these difficulties than the hard times from which we are all suffering.

In many places the most undignified methods are being employed to "attract custom," but the remedy is not to be found in moving pictures or in classical dancing.

Lack of church membership is not the trouble. Very few, if asked, will say bluntly, "I don't belong to any church; I believe in nothing." The vast majority will admit that they belong to some church or other, probably adding some such phrase as "But I don't take much stock in church-going."

If all the churches would look in to their statistics it would probably be found that some 60 per cent. of their members give no support at all, and that a good many of the remaining 40 per cent. are not very reliable.

It is the apathy, then, of the majority of church members which lies at the root of the trouble, and if the cause of this apathy could be detected surely something could be done to provide a remedy.

It is the considered opinion of the writer of this article, a layman, who makes no claim to be a particularly "religious" person in the usually accepted meaning of that term, that the cause of this indifference is ignorance of what churches stand for and of what they can, or could, do in a material sense.

This is a materialistic age, and the first thing the average man thinks of when asked to contribute to the support of any institution requiring funds, is "What good will it do me?" The clergy of all denominations have, naturally enough, devoted most of their efforts to showing the spiritual benefits to be derived from church support, overlooking the fact that there are material advantages to be obtained. Indeed, it may be something of a shock to many excellent people to hear that side of the question referred to at all.

Perhaps a layman may venture to rush in where parsons fear to tread, and point out what those material benefits are, for that there are such is beyond dispute.

Some years ago Guy Thorne wrote a book called, if memory serves, "Where it was Dark," in which he professed to show the results of an archaeological discovery proving that Christianity was based upon a myth. The very foundations of civilized society were undermined; law and order were swept away; and the whole world sank into a state of anarchy and chaos.

To most readers this seemed the wildest exaggeration, and perhaps the author was a little ahead of his time, but does it seem so now? The churches at the present time are the mainstay of civilization, let him deny it who will. What else but their will is holding back the forces of Bolshevism and anarchy? Certainly not the governments of the world which, in their error folly, are breeding Bolsheviks faster than they can crush them.

Smash the churches and history will show the result, from France of the Revolution to Russia of today. The revolutionary himself is under no delusion as to where his danger lies. His first effort when seeking power is to undermine the churches, and having obtained power, to destroy them.

Someone, no doubt, will say "The French Revolution occurred more than 100 years ago and Russia is a half-civilized country on the other side of the world. Things like that are not done in Canada in 1924." In Montreal or Moscow the leopard's spots remain unchanged.

What force their few active members can exert is frittered away to a deplorable extent on non-essentials. They are like a giant with one hand tied behind him and hobbles on his feet, and the pity of it is that their own members have fastened the knots. But church members do not realize their responsibilities any more than they realize their power. It is quite usual to hear people speak of the failure of the churches during the war and in dealing with the coils of post-war conditions, completely forgetting that they themselves are the churches. The broad principles upon which all the churches are based can never fail; such failures as there are and have been are the failures of the members themselves to apply those principles.

Perhaps, though, the intention is to suggest that the failure is on the part of the ministers. It is a common form of confused thought to mistake the clergyman for the church; whereas he is only an incident in the church's life, fortunate or unfortunate as the case may be. Here the clergy may be expected to rise up and call the writer anything but blessed, but this is true. To palliate the offense, let it be said that it is futile to blame the clergy for failing to lead people who will not be led and who will seldom listen to what they have to say. But this is more or less of a digression.

What the churches are doing, if only passively, has been touched upon. What they could do, if their strength were active and exerted by 100 per cent. of their members, is practically limitless, and if those members could be brought to see this surely their apathy would be dissipated.

This is no plea for pulpit politics, certainly not such party politics as are the curse of this country, but a reminder that the maintenance of law, order, and public decency is what the churches stand for, if they stand for anything. If the churches with all their thousands of members say that they will have clean government in every department of public life, clean government there will be. Graft and corruption are only possible because it seems to be no one's business to say that they must cease. Commercial dishonesty and social abuses of all kinds are deplored by all right-thinking people who are really in the vast majority, but they simply say, "What can we do? These things exist and we can't change them."

Pulling, if they pull at all, in fifty different ways, it is true that they cannot change them, but if they were all to pull together the force they would exert would be irresistible. It is true, too, that they cannot change human nature, but their combined voice could present to the grafting politician and the crooked financier the only argument that such people understand: "Your methods are not going to pay you any longer."

Are these things worth doing? Are they "material benefits" or merely abstract ideas? Make no mistake. They are just as practical, just as important to everyone of us as co-operating to sell our fruit, and they are attainable if we wish.

In England a society called the Crusaders has recently been formed, with ideals, at least, similar to those outlined. Its members deck themselves out in fanciful robes and address each other by high-sounding titles. In America the Ku Klux Klan has ostensibly the same object, though it would appear to be already rotten with the same corruption which it professes to condemn.

But what need is there for such creaking machinery when the members of the churches have their own ready for use if they care to set it going and, above all, keep the wheels oiled?

Here, then, is something practical to be done, which deserves the support of all practical men. Moreover, the field is common to all the churches. Why wrangle over church union and quibble over points of doctrine when there is a common cause of such importance in which all can join? Let every man stick to his own church if it suits him, but let him give that church his practical support.

The matter of church attendance, except in so far as it is the outward and visible sign of church support, is not within the scope of this article, the purpose of which is to insist on the importance and duty of financial aid. The contribution to the church should not be what is left over after paying for living expenses, and amusements. It should be a part of the household "budget" and be provided for just as rates and taxes should be.

It is to be feared that the ministers will consider this article too "worldly" and that the man in the street, if he considers it at all, will think it too pious; but let them be assured that it is not intended for a sermon. It is an attempt to show the church member who "doesn't take much stock in church going" that there are good practical reasons why he should support his church, and that he can do so without hypocrisy, the appearance of which he often dreads; if he values what is best in public life.

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

The 1924 council was sworn in on Thursday, 24th inst. Reeve Lang appointed the following committees for the year: finance, Couns. Huston and McBean; public works, Couns. Harrington and Huston; public utilities, Couns. McBean and Harrington; municipal property and health, Couns. McGirr and Huston. Council will meet on second Wednesday of each month at 2 p.m.

Trustees of the irrigation district who are in the case of Peachland the municipal councillors, met on Thursday afternoon. Trustee Lang was appointed chairman and Mr. Dryden, municipal clerk, was appointed secretary. The chairman appointed trustees McGirr and McBean as irrigation committee. Plans were discussed for necessary alterations and repairs on flumes. Meetings will be held monthly immediately after each council meeting.

Major Tallyour spent a day or two up the lake this week.

Mr. Sydney Hardisty spent Monday up the lake.

Mrs. J. L. Elliott and daughter, Willa, returned Monday evening after spending the week-end in Kelowna.

Having the misfortune to have a little car trouble, the Rev. H. A. Solly was obliged to leave his car in Peachland and return home by boat.

Visitors to Kelowna on Tuesday were Mrs. Morsh, J. Kudelka and Wm. White.

The ten day notice period having expired on the horses in the pound, Poundkeeper A. Alpaugh put them up at auction but the bidding was not very brisk. It was hard even to get a start on any of them, but at length a couple of bidders ran a mare and colt up to the huge sum of $2.50, when one bidder quit cold and the mare and colt were knocked down to Mr. Wm. White. The balance of the bunch, five in number, were bought in by the Municipality, shot and disposed of.

Mr. Malcolm, representing Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, accompanied by his wife, reached here on a motor trip from Vancouver. They were hoping to motor through to Kamloops, but were obliged to leave their car here as the road between Peachland and the Ferry is impassable for cars. They spent the remainder of the day and night at the Edgewater Inn, taking the north-bound boat in the morning.

Mrs. Wm. White spent Thursday in Kelowna.

The regular monthly meeting of Peachland W.C.T.U. was held last week at the home of Mrs. H. E. McCall. There was a good attendance. Mrs. Bulyea led the devotional exercise and gave a good talk on prayer. It was decided to start an honorary membership, enlisting all male members possible and to hold an open meeting in the near future at which it is the intention to entertain the honorary members.

Mrs. O. G. Miller and her little charge, George Ekins, spent a couple of days of last week with friends in Kelowna.

The church friends of Mrs. N. S. Elliott surprised her on her 78th birthday by assembling at her home on Friday evening, January 25th, to join in the celebration of the day. After some thirty-three had gathered and extended their individual greetings to the honored hostess, the Rev. T. A. Sadler, pastor of the Union congregation, took charge while a couple of suitable hymns were sung followed by prayer by the pastor. C. Somerville read an address on behalf of the members which set out clearly the esteem in which their fellow worker was held. She had long and faithfully assisted in the work of the church in all its branches up to within the past few years during which latter time failing health has prevented her from following her usual active service. On behalf of the friends, Mrs. Ferguson presented her with a beautiful bouquet of carnations and chrysanthemums after which the assembly rose and sang "Best be the Tie that Binds." Mrs. Elliott replied in words of inspiration and encouragement and thanked her many friends warmly for the kindness shown her. Following the singing of another (hymn refreshments, including a beautifully decorated birthday cake, were served by the ladies. After singing "God be with You till We Meet Again," the party broke up, bringing to a close a very pleasant evening.

Peachland growers met on Friday of last week for the purpose of nominating a director to represent them on the central board of directors of the Associated Growers. R. J. Hogg, representative for the past year, was unable to be present, not having returned home. It was suggested that it might be wise to postpone the meeting till Mr. Hogg could be present and report. Again, it was discovered that according to the constitution it would be impossible to nominate a representative who was not a member of the local board of directors and as the meeting seemed to be almost unanimous in their choice of one not a member of the present board, steps were taken to alter the situation. By giving fourteen days' notice a by-law may be altered, so the growers decided to close the meeting, give the required notice of alteration, and meet again on Thursday, February 7th.

Miss McBean returned on Friday after several weeks spent on the prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Lambly paid a visit in Penticton over Friday evening.

Miss Ruth White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White, was one out of five nurses from the Vernon Jubilee Hospital who did exceedingly well in provincial examinations of nurses for registration, she having taken second place for all B. C. with 88 1/2 per cent.

Mrs. Jas. Moore and daughter spent a portion of the week visiting relatives here, while Mr. Moore visited his parents at Powers Creek. Mr. Moore, Sr., had been suffering a bad attack of lumbago, but is recovering again nicely. Jim returned to visit in town with friends and relatives before returning to their home in Penticton.

After attending to the business interests of his father, George Robinson, Mr. Robinson, Jr., left on Saturday to return to Success, Alta.

J. E. Kerr boarded the boat Saturday evening to spend the week end in Penticton.

The skating rink at the school, which was fast approaching a point of perfection and on which many skaters expected to enjoy themselves on Saturday evening, was the scene of many disappointments. The thaw which struck hard on Saturday wrought havoc with the ice and has continued since, till the work of many days and nights has almost vanished. The school children had a measure of fun skating on it while it was in its rough state, but hardly enough to pay them for the energies expended. Perhaps "Old Jack Frost" will deign to accommodate the young folks yet before spring.

Quite a number of young folks took possession of the Veterans' Hall on Saturday evening and enjoyed a dance.

Wm. Gallatly came down with the Rev. T. A. Sadler after the preaching service at Westbank on Sunday afternoon. He returned by boat on Monday morning.

Owing to the thaw the Miller camp is somewhat held up with their hauling. They are hoping for a freeze up to set the snow before it all leaves the road. A few of the members of his crew took advantage of the day off and spent Monday in Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. Hogg returned on Monday afternoon after several weeks absence.

Directors Long, Gummow and Buchanan, representing the board of the Peachland Union went to Kelowna on Tuesday to attend a conference on the handling and shipping of soft fruits. Points south of Kelowna were represented at the conference.

A few of the members of the Baptist church were down to meet the boat on Tuesday morning to bid farewell to their pastor, the Rev. Isaac Page, who, with Mrs. Page, was passing through on a trip east prior to leaving for the mission field in China.

* * * * *
The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

The open letter of Bishop Fallon concerning banking matters, and the E. R. C. Clarkson report on the affairs of the Home Bank, cover a lot of ground, and provide food for a good deal of public thinking. The auditors' report, now being published in "The Hook," deals necessarily with the affairs of one bank only:—

THE BISHOP AND THE AUDITOR. The Bishop's letter surveys the situation in its broad aspect, and challenges banking conditions in Canada generally. His personal views, like those of any man, are open to judgment, but if his facts are correct he certainly makes out his case for government action towards improvement. One of his statements is particularly noteworthy, and should be either verified or disproved. In support of his claim that "there is no good basis for our sense of security" he states that "our ten largest banks have an average surplus of assets over liabilities of less than $12 in every hundred." If this surplus were not liable to shrinkage there might be no ground for criticism, but, according to the Bishop it is not so, since it includes frozen assets, bad debts, unprofitable loans and shrinkage in real estate values. I doubt very much whether the public has ever supposed that the margin of security is so narrow, and it will be a good thing if the coming enquiry will show that the Bishop's calculations are faulty on that point. However that may turn out, his case for drastic reform is as strong as it could possibly be, and it is therefore quite astonishing to read the reported comment of Sir John Aird on the letter in question. "It is a very poor cause," declared Sir John, "that has to be bolstered up by repetition of rumors and petty gossip." Sir John Aird it must be remembered, is president of one of our leading banks, and also of The Canadian Bankers' Association. Yet he is able to refer to the present agitation as "a poor cause!"—and the revelations of the past few years as "rumors and petty gossip!" If this fairly represents the mental attitude of the Bankers' Association, the need for enquiry is self-evident.

Turning to the Clarkson report, we find it just one continual record of financial juggling which takes us back to the days of Jabez Balfour and Whittaker Wright. Those men kept their various enterprises afloat by interchanges of capital from time to time, and exactly the same procedure is shown in the transactions of the Home Bank, an aggravated feature in the latter case being the fact that for over ten years this went on without check or discovery. Another detail in which the bank's transactions seem to compare unfavorably with the Balfour manipulations is that eventually one, at least, of the latter became a most profitable investment, and it does not appear that the Home Bank affairs show any such prospect.

There are a few paradoxes in financial matters which the average person hardly ever attempts to solve. One of them is the why and the wherefore of exchange vagaries—another centres around the mystery of nations still going MYSTERIES strong after being branded by experts as hopelessly bankrupt,—and still another is that hitherto FINANCE. unexplained problem of crushing taxation which somehow does not seem to crush. The exchange puzzle seems to be impenetrable, and about all we can glean concerning it is that it affords a fine chance for canny speculators. An insolvent nation presumably is not actually bankrupt unless her creditors file a petition and seize her assets—which they never do. The tax mystery may possibly be partly explained by the fact that some of our liabilities are owed to ourselves in a national sense, and that other portions of the burden are paid unknowingly in current prices of the commodities we buy. Otherwise it is not easy to see how we manage to live at all. Thus Mr. O'Leary, writing in "Maclean's Magazine," puts the annual total of taxation in Canada at $900,000,000, which means rather more than $100 per head for every man, woman and child in this fair Dominion, and he exclaims, "Fancy $500 a year taxes on a family of five!" Yes indeed, it does require some imagination to fancy such a position. We are almost inclined to look at the figures as Mark Twain did on those railway passenger statistics which showed that the American railways carried a great many more people in a year than the United States actually contained. The only solution he could think of was that they must have used some of those people over again! Even in British Columbia, which is, I suppose, the horrible example among all the provinces, we don't seem to be putting up one hundred dollars a year for every member of the family, although it feels like more than that when we haven't got it. Certainly, we spend provincially a proportion figured at $38.64 for every $31.61 received, and according to Mr. Micawber such a state of things means misery, yet we still keep on smiling! I fancy some of these figures must be used over again—or maybe some of them are just paper figures, which are carried on year after year, and might as well be struck off as not. We should at least save some bookkeeping expense that way. For instance, all those millions which have been spent on our national railways, and on which we are charging ourselves interest year after year, would be better forgotten, unless we wish to do as the Home Bank did, and lend ourselves the money to pay the interest with. The chief difference between the two cases would be that we should be lending ourselves our own money, while the bank used other peoples'!

The recent edict prohibiting Turks from having more than one wife "except in cases of strict necessity," reminds me of a whimsical story written, I think, by the late James Payn.

THE MONOGAMOUS TURK.

The hero of it, a married man, was in some oriental country not named, and happened to compliment a native lady on her beautiful hand. "It is yours, sonor!" was the staggering response which placed the gentleman in a serious plight, since he learned later that it was out of the question to refuse a proffered gift in that country. He yielded to custom, and married the lady, with the result that his household became a theatre of strife between the two wives. To solace himself he later on married a third lady, who possessed the qualifications of youth and beauty, and fondly hoped to find in her charms some alleviation of his marital sorrows. But there promptly came union between numbers one and two against number three and his fresh plucked flower began to droop. For a time the much married man was in despair, but being a person of resource he finally hit on a remedy which proved successful. He looked around for a woman of amazon type, big and strong, and married her, giving her to understand that she was to protect number three against the onslaught of numbers one and two. Number four was true to the bargain, and all was peace in the happy home!

EULOGISES B. C. FRUIT EXHIBIT

The following article dealing with the Imperial Fruit Show is taken from a recent issue of "Canada," London:

The Lord Mayor of Manchester, in opening the Imperial Fruit Show, on Friday of last week, said that the show proved that the British Empire could produce fruit second to none in the world, and the judges were unanimously of the opinion that the packing and grading showed a considerable improvement over previous exhibitions, especially that of British-grown fruit, which in that respect had much to learn from Canada.

Mr. W. G. Lobjoit, controller of horticulture at the ministry of agriculture, at the opening ceremony, read a telegram from the Prime Minister of Canada wishing the new enterprise success, and adding that Canada's fruit-producing industry was growing so much that such exhibitions as these were of permanent and far-reaching importance to her people.

The Earl of Ancaster (Parliamentary secretary to the Minister of Agriculture) pointed out that the object of the exhibition was to turn people from deleterious foods to home-grown and colonial fruits.

Mr. J. Forsyth Smith, the Canadian Government Fruit Trade Commissioner, attended the show in the general interests of Canada's exhibitors.

The Dominion government had a very effective stand, displaying the choicest products of the orchard in fancy baskets, and making use of the opportunity of calling the attention of the consumer to the value of apple eating by the free use of attractive mottoes.

Goodwin-Simons, Ltd., a commercial firm representing the Associated Growers of B. C., had a particularly fine display of apples from that association.

The Ontario government had a stand, over 50 feet long, on which was displayed an imposing exhibit of all the commercial varieties of apples grown in that province. Mr. S. E. Percival, assistant to the Agent-General of Ontario, was in charge of this exhibit.

The principal honors in the British Empire and Overseas sections of the show were taken this year by British Columbia, whose exhibits were all entered as from the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Ltd. They secured eleven gold medals in the Overseas section, taking first prizes for Spitzenberg, Wealthy, McIntosh, Jonathan, Cox's Orange, Newton, Wagner, King, Spy, Greening, and Delicious entered in Class 16; "And other variety." This meant a gold medal and $2 10s. in each class. Their Cox's Orange was judged to be the best British Columbia exhibit; and, therefore, received the Poupard prize of $10 and the Goodwin silver cup, worth $15. The same entry of Cox's was judged to be superior to its Nova Scotia and Quebec competitors, and, therefore, won the Daily Mail $50 gold cup.

In the British Empire section the success of British Columbia was even more remarkable. In the Dessert class, on account of Mr. Stark's dropping out, there were only three exhibits, two from B. C. and one from Quebec. One of the B. C. entries was that of the Kamloops Fruit Lands Co., and this was disqualified on account of arriving with the top layer wrapped. The Associated Growers were awarded first prize for McIntosh, beating the English Cox's. An English winner took the second prize with Cox's, and the third prize went to the Macdonald Agricultural College, St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec.

In the cooking class there was only one Canadian entry. This was Wagner from the Associated Growers of B. C. English winners took the first three prizes and the Associated Growers were awarded the fourth.

the result might have been even better. In the Small Exhibits section, Mr. H. L. Thompson, Ottawa, won the second prize ($3) in Class 3, and the Coldstream Ranch, Vernon, B. C., were prize winners in Class 5.

Of growers in the province of Quebec, Mr. Morley E. Honey, of Abbotsford, won first prize (gold medal) for Fameuse (Snow) in the Overseas section; and the Macdonald College second prize (silver medal), and the third prize (bronze medal and $5) in the dessert class British Empire section.

There were no entries from Nova Scotia growers in the British Empire class; and only seven in the Overseas section, a fact mainly due to the exceptional lateness of ripening in the Nova Scotia orchards this year. However, these seven entries won two gold medals, the first for Starks and Blenheim, with the attached $2 10s. in cash; also a second prize (silver medal), specially awarded by the judges to a very fine lot of Gravensteins in the "Any Other Variety" class. The T. J. Foupard $10 cash, and the J. and H. Goodwin silver cup, also went to the United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia for these Gravensteins, as the best entry from that province.

THOSE CATALOGS

Trail News: "They are here! And their number while not quite so numerous as in days gone by, yet they are here to the tune of nearly 1,000. We are speaking of a certain firm's big catalogs—the firm that is spending over $1,200 per year in Trail in advertising. This gigantic concern lays aside 4 per cent. of its gross receipts for advertising and finds it a profitable investment.

Over 900 catalogs from this house arrived in Trail this week by freight. They were delivered to the local post office, where 7 cents in stamps were placed on each one. Those addressed to parties who have departed for other places will be returned with added postage. From our knowledge of printing, we would estimate the cost of these books at 70 or 80 cents each, and with two catalogs a year, the amount of money being spent in Trail by this company would probably aggregate at least $100 per month—three times as much as any single local merchant spends.

We are not mentioning these facts in a spirit of criticism, but as indicative of the difference of methods. This mail order concern will probably receive from 25 to 40 orders each day for the next three or four months on the strength of its advertising! It is playing the game on a business basis. Advertising is its life's blood and as surely as the seasons come and go, just so surely will "the bibles" make their appearance. Big concerns lay out a certain line of action and are not deflected if "things are a little dull," or "collections are poor," or the other little things that are the natural heritage of the average merchant. Big concerns work on the reverse of those sentiments. When "things are slack" is the very time they make their hardest efforts to increase their sales, and as they sell for cash they are not concerned about collections being slow.

If local merchants would spend 1 per cent. of their gross sales on advertising and back up their advertising with good service, the mail order houses would cease to be a menace. But too many of them seem to look upon money spent on advertising as so much money thrown away. They fail to grasp the reason why some men fail while others prosper. And, on the other hand, all advertising is not profitable. Goods must not only be properly described, but they must bear prices. An eulogistic description of a dainty summer dress is valueless unless the reader is apprised of its price, yet many stores will advertise "20 per cent. discount," which, to the average reader carries no message at all. Short descriptions with the prices is the mail order way of getting business and it will get business in Trail as well as any other place.

The stores in Trail are a credit to the community. They are well conducted. The sales people are courteous and their prices are as low as good business with a fair profit justifies, and if those who receive the big mail order catalogs will investigate the quality of goods and then compare prices after comparing: the goods less money would go away from home.

TREES AND MICE

W. R. Leslie, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, Man.

The young tree plantation and older orchard have two serious enemies among our rodents. These are rabbits and mice. Each require separate means of combating. A fence of two-inch mesh poultry netting is admirable to keep rabbits from girdling the tree trunks but the smaller rodents, to be foiled of tree-bark fodder, must meet further obstacles. Many methods have been advocated and tried with total or partial success. Among these are the raising of a small mound of earth from eight to twelve inches about the base of the trunk; the tramping of snow firmly about the trees; the use of tar paper; the use of sulphite white building paper; the use of wire protectors—mosquito netting, or galvanized wire cloth; the use of wooden veneer protectors; poison, with one part of arsenic and three parts, by weight of corn meal.

Probably the cheapest safe protection is secured by wrapping each individual tree trunk with white building paper in late October or November and then placing a slight mound of earth around the bottom of the wrapping. This treatment has not failed in seven years' trial. The sulphite used in the making of the paper acts as a repellent to the mice. Tar paper may be used but there are instances where this paper has caused injury to the trees.

A durable protection is made from galvanized wire cloth. This is purchased by the roll and should be twice as wide as the protection is to be in height. The roll is cut in two and then into strips twelve to eighteen inches long to fit around each tree trunk. These protectors are rolled around an iron rod to give them a spring, then placed about the tree and pressed downward a couple of inches into the soil. Such protectors will last several years. Mosquito wire netting is fairly satisfactory as a temporary protection.

At the Morden Experimental Station the protectors most in favor are made from galvanized Perfect Metal lath. They are similar to those made from wire cloth except for difference of material. The protectors may be allowed to remain on trees from year to year, or gathered in spring and replaced in autumn. As a rule, mice will be generally troublesome only where a cover crop, grass, or weeds are growing, or where other harbors for nests are found. If clean cultivation is practised, it will probably be necessary only to protect the trees about borders of the plantation.

"BEES AND HOW TO KEEP THEM"

A revised and enlarged edition of the bulletin entitled "Bees and How to Keep Them," by the Dominion Apiarist, Mr. C. B. Gooderham, has been published at Ottawa and can be had free by applying to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa. There are chapters on how to begin bookkeeping; where to locate the apiary, on the races and developments of bees, on modern hives and their fixtures, on methods of handling, on spring and on winter management, on the production and extraction of honey, on swarming, on transferring and reuniting, on feeding, on diseases and their treatment, and on other matters. Practically everything connected with the keeping of bees is dealt with, and the text is profusely illustrated.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PER CENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly bright, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor; smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. B. Johnson, 579 McDermot, Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. *** with the office of the Okanagan Valley Land Company at the Centre.

St. Andrew's Young People's Society held a sleighing party on Monday night, when three sleighloads of young people gathered at the hall.
Following the drive, the crowd returned to the hall and enjoyed a splendid supper.

Donald Ross is now telegraph operator at Stony Creek, a station on the main line of the C.P.R. at the eastern portal of the Connaught tunnel. Donald went up to Revelstoke on Wednesday of last week and was successful in passing his examinations as railway telegraph operator.

Another one of Summerland's boys progressed this week in the commercial field. Jack McCallum, who has been for some time on the staff of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, having been transferred to Duncan, Vancouver Island, and left here Tuesday noon.

Judgment has been obtained by the Dominion Bank against Chas. Campbell, recently with the Summerland Lumber Company in the sum of thirty thousand dollars. Mr. Campbell was one of the guarantors of a loan obtained by the lumber company from the bank.

About twenty young friends of Jack McCallum gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Brock on Monday evening and enjoyed a pleasant time with music, games and dancing.
During the evening, A. Milne, on behalf of the assembled friends, presented Jack with a small token of their regard, at the same time extending to him the well wishes of all present.

teams are expecting to meet the Kelowna high school teams here tomorrow, Friday, evening.

Arthur Gould's lot in Prairie Valley was recently acquired in an exchange by Mr. Greenwood, who arrived here a few days ago from Saskatchewan with his wife and family.

Electric light service here and at other points served by the Kootenay company was interrupted briefly on Wednesday night, due to trouble on the lines near Rossland.

morning by way of Vancouver from Winnipeg, where he and other members of the family had gone to lay in its last resting place the body of his father, Rev. John Hogg, D.D.

George R. Castner, a pioneer or-chardist of the northwest and a former County Judge at Hood River, last week celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday. He is the father of J. B. Castner, for some years associated with the fruit industry of the Okanagan.

H. P. Scott of the Dominion Bank left on Monday on a month's leave of absence. He will visit his sister, who is ill in California. On Saturday night he was given a dinner by a number of business men, about twenty of whom gathered to give him a hearty send-off.

NARAMATA NEWS

Current Events of Town and District

Rev. H. J. Armitage was in town on Friday, calling on members of the church.

The regular meeting of the Unity
Club was held on Friday afternoon, the president, Mrs. J. M. Robinson, in the chair. Amongst other items of business done, it was arranged to have the survey of the cemetery property completed as soon as possible.
Miss Enid Rayner contributed a vocal solo, and little Miss Grimaldi made a first appearance as an elocu-tionalist.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robinson left for Vancouver on Monday, and expect to be away several weeks. Mr.
Robinson having various business matters to attend to in the city.

Mrs. Roe is taking a short rest in the Summerland Hospital.

The co-operative growers are sending out statements of 'rot returns this week, showing net prices to growers of 61½ cents for No. 1s, and 39½ cents for No. 2s.

The Lyons home was the scene of a surprise party on Friday night, when a number of friends gathered, and spent a merry evening, winding up with a 'dainty supper, and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The first council meeting of the season was held in the Board of Trade office on Tuesday evening.
President George Weaver in the chair.
Standing committees for the year were appointed, and coming activities outlined. Included in the agenda was the appointment of a new pound master, and the matter of tourist accommodation was also discussed. The subject of banking facilities was taken up, and the president reported on steps taken to bring in The Royal Bank. It was felt that, with the total of one hundred and seventy-five local accounts which had been held by the Bank of Montreal, Naramata depositors should not have to go outside the town to bank. The question of reducing the membership fee of the board was left over to the next general meeting.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Methodist church board was held on Wednesday morning, the Rev. H.
J. Armitage presiding. The chief business of the meeting was the consideration of the church's present position. Lunch was served in the basement. Later in the day the Ladies' Aid held their usual meeting, Mrs. F. Young, president, in the chair.

FIRE BLIGHT

Fire blight (bacillus amylovorus) of pear and apple is a well known disease. Growers should not be lulled into a false sense of security because of the presumable non-existence of this disease during the past year or so. No doubt the Horticultural Branch campaign of seeing that all blighted limbs and hold-over can-kers were cut out has done much to stamp out this most dangerous of all pome fruit diseases. The time is opportune right now to begin cleaning up. A thorough inspection of the trees should be made and the dead wood cut in order to prevent a possible outbreak next year. A diseased branch or spur will have the dead leaves still clinging to them, so that detection is made easy. One bad canker left until spring will help to spread the disease over a large area, which may cause blossom blight at setting time, and cause a serious reduction in next year's crop.

Get your orchard cleaned up at once, then call up your local inspector for final inspection, when, if found clean a (white) inspection card will be posted up.

The formula for disinfectant: use 1 part bichloride of mercury and 1 part cyanide of mercury dissolved in 1 pint of water.

Prunings should be burned as soon as possible as they carry a certain amount of infection indefinitely, and also a heap of prunings at any time is a splendid hiding place for mice, etc., and mice are a serious pest in and around an orchard.—Jno. Tait, District Field Inspector.

Stock yard manure at $3 a ton on board car here is a new low price, says R. V. Agur. Through arrangements made by the B.C.F.G.A. with the C.P.R. it is now possible to get manure at this price. Any desiring to obtain a supply should get in touch with Jas. Shepherd, the local director of the B.C.F.G.A.

Der Thick, a North Kamloops
Chainman, appeared before Judge Swanson, of Salmon Arm, on Wednesday charged with violation of the root vegetables Act in not marking the grade of a shipment of potatoes.
He was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

PLANS LAUNCHED TO BETTER CONDITION

(Continued from Page 1) in inspection methods and a tightening up of inspection by the Associated itself was advocated and it was felt at the Kelowna meeting that it would be desirable to make fruit sales subject to government inspection with no come back with claims later.

A move for more uniformity among the several locals affiliated with the Associated was launched. The idea is to have uniformity throughout, including packing house and loading methods, office forms and methods of preparing and submitting reports. The idea is to adopt the best practice of each of the locals.

Following a discussion of grades in which a wide-spread in the price of No. 1 and No. 2 fruit was emphasized, it was proposed that growers should be educated to realize this difference, No. 2s being unprofitable. As an instance, it was pointed out that in the Yakima pool of 123, totaling 93,000 packages, 84's and larger sold at 55 cents, from which packing charges would be deducted, and smaller sizes brought 20 cents, less packing charges, evidently red ink. With the Summerland Co-operative the Abundance group of plums showed a spread of 17½ cents between 1s and 2s, only 60 per cent. being No. 1s. In Black Diamond group, the spread was 23½ cents, 74 per cent. grading No. 1. Only 53 per cent. of apricots passed as No. 1s, and there was a considerable spread between the price of 1s and No. 2s.

Discussing this situation, R. Pollock, the secretary, declared that the difference in price between No. 1 and No. 2 fruit would much more than pay for the extra expense in pruning, spraying, thinning, etc., to bring this fruit up to No. 1 quality. Even more marked was the difference between Yellow Transparents of a quality to be marketed in packed boxes as compared with the lower grades shipped in crates, the difference being 55 cents a package. Mr. Pollock pointed out further that the canneries demand the best quality of fruit and frequently pay the higher prices.

Much of the time at Tuesday's meeting was given over to marketing in its different phases, and the excessive supply of second quality fruit came up again when it was stated that the high percentage of low grade fruit on the market had the effect of pulling down the price of the better grades.

GOOD ROADS ARE PROMISED

The predicted construction of the Kelowna-Naramata road will not materialize, at least this year. Commencement of its construction was urged recently by organizations at Kelowna primarily as a relief measure, but it has now been decided to give that project a hoist, and commence with the improvements on roads in the Kelowna district. The reason assigned for the deferring of construction of the Naramata-Kelowna road is stated to be one of economy, as to build camps at this season of the year would entail expenditure quite out of proportion to the value of the work that could be done.

On the other hand, however, the department has allocated a considerable sum which has been made immediately available for the improvement of existing highways in the vicinity of Kelowna. This work will be begun as soon as it is possible to do so, and particular attention will be paid to dredging, so that the main roads leading to Kelowna will be in better condition in the spring than heretofore. It is the intention to employ local help only on this work.

NARAMATA EDORSES E. J. CHAMBERS

(Continued from Page 1) given best facilities for transportation in bulk, but the findings of the various meetings would be forwarded to the local directorates to act upon if they wished.

The meeting was then thrown open to general discussion, and Mr. Irwin read a list of recommendations which had been drawn up by the growers of the district, and which he had been deputed to present at that meeting. The list was a long one, containing fifteen suggestions concerning matters of management of the packing house, the handling of culls and other features. The recommendations were endorsed by the meeting without dissent, and were handed to the chairman for consideration by the directors.

Other questions which were dealt with during the evening included that of closer touch between central and local bodies, and the matter of poor filling of orders for mixed car lots. The meeting closed at 11.30.

W. INSTITUTES ARE UNITED

Two Local Organizations Again Form Themselves into One Body.

The Summerland and West Summerland Women's Institutes have formed themselves into one body, which will be known as the Summerland Women's Institute.

The union of the two Institutes has been consummated for various reasons. A joint meeting of directors was held last week. The paramount reason is that the good work of the Women's Institute will be forwarded to better purpose and the end of their achievement accomplished to better advantage.

The newly appointed directors are now extending a hearty welcome to all the ladies of Summerland and West Summerland to join with them in this work. They also invite useful suggestions that will help to forward Institute work in this district.

Meetings will be held alternately in Summerland and West Summerland. The next meeting will be held Friday, February, 8th in the Parlor of Methodist church at 3 p.m., when an interesting address will be given. The directors of the combined Institute are as follows: president, Mrs. P. E. Knowles; 1st vice-president, Mrs. E. C. H. Windler; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Andrew; directors, Mrs. H. Pares, Miss M. Cartwright; secretary, Mrs. J. Tait.

SCOTTISH BARD IS REMEMBERED

(Continued from Page 1) afresh. "But what think ye o' yon address gien us by Maister Graham—it was simply graun'. Immense is the richt ward tae use. It was just a bracing tonic tae exiled Scotch he'rts. I looked round aince during his discourse, and I noticed yon man Richardson's tartan vest fairly expand by the knowledge that he had some claim on the land o' John Knox. We could overlook his fau't of chewing at the heather in his button-hole."

"Ha, ha," laughed Davie, "there was mair nor him wha's chests were expanding, but whether it was wi' Scotch pride or something else I canna say. Then," resumed Davie, "there was that Mrs. Clarke. The way that she sang 'Comin' Through the Rye' made me think o' the time I used to run aboot in ma bare feet in the burn at hame."

"Then there was Miss Sinclair with laurel victory still resting on her—she gave a graun' reading on Robbie." "The wumman sitting next me tel't me that it was written by an American poet. Yes, Johnnie man, it disna tak the Yankee lang to recognize true worth, even in a humble Scotch poet."

"But, man," broke in Johnnie, "you're surely no forgettin' Mrs. McGown. She was extra guid. Her absent husband, wha's rendering of these old Scotch ditties used to charm oor ears; he left in her an able substitute. The lilt with which she sang 'The Birks o' Aberfeldy' convinced me of the fact that my he'rt was still in the Hielans."

"Then Davie man, there was Alex and Jamie Smith—too muckle canna be said aboot them—they're just the Alpha and Omega of our society."

"Did you dance ony?" says Davie "Na," replies Johnnie, "I had mair fun watching them. It was gey warm in the hall aboot that time; and when the barber man started to divost, says I, he maun be gaun to dae it in the Cutty Sark fashion, when she was described in 'Tam O' Shanter' as

'Coosting her duddles to the warl And linket at it in her sark.'"

"But," continued Johnnie, "saw yo the shop-keeper man, him wha saves yer dollars. Ho ayo manngos to ha'o a guid time. The way he servod the tea was maist diverting. Advancing wi' two teapots, and in each hand, wi' that jaunty and self-possessed air, born only of the hantier, he started to pour into the teacups wi' the richt hand, while his left was engaged distributing the beverage among the feet o' the lodlies. The height o' Scotch hospitality thecht I. But I had to leave kind o' soon, and when comin' oot o' the hall, I passed Andy mopping his brow wi' his hanky. He was a' smiler, and says he 'The best cure I hev yet discovered for chilblains is a guid Scotch Reol.'"

Following that they had sized the night's entertainment up from the standpoint of a sage, Johnnie withdrew from his pocket the highly polished match-box, extracted a match, which perforce had to light the two licks, he and Davie each took off their respective wny's, while the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" floating out through the doorway of the hall, proclaimed the fact that another happy Scotch night had come to a close.—Cont.

NEW RULING ON CHAMPIONSHIPS

For the first time in the history of the interior of British Columbia it will this year be the centre for some of the provincial basketball finals. Announcement to that effect has been made by George Ross, secretary of the British Columbia Basketball Association, and further that the finals in two divisions will likely be staged up country.

There are eight divisions in the championships. At the present time there are seven different leagues operating in the province affiliated with the B. C. body. There are more than 200 teams, and the number of players in these teams reaches nearly 2,000.

In the Interior there is the Okanagan League, which includes teams from Summerland, Kelowna, Penticton and Armstrong, while Revelstoke and Kamloops form what is called a main line interior circuit. Mission, Sardis and Chilliwack combine for what is called the Fraser Valley League.

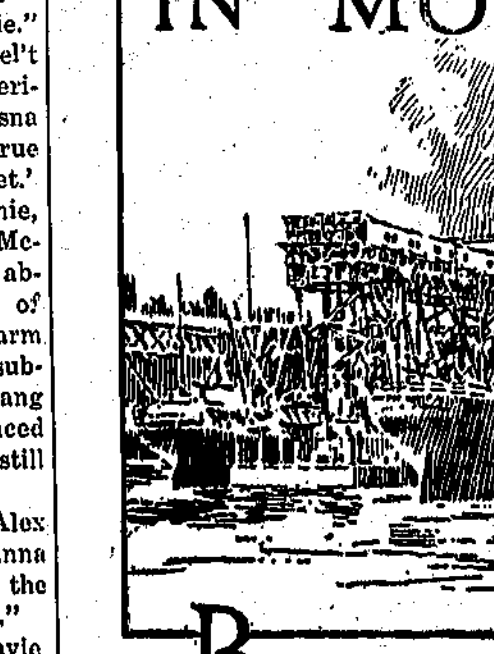

When the time comes for the playoffs, the winner of the Okanagan League will play the winner of the Revelstoke-Kamloops series for the right to play in the finals proper.

The winner will go into the hat with the Vancouver and District, Sunday School, Victoria, Upper Island and Fraser Valley winners to decide the championship. It will all be a case of the luck of the draw and rounds will be played on knock-out lines.

LOCAL ENGRAVER SKILFUL ARTIST

Some wonderful examples of the engraver's art are to be seen at the business office of P. O. Minnich, local jeweler and engraver. We have heard of the artist who engraved the full text of the Lord's Prayer on a Canadian 5 cent piece, but our local engraver goes one better. One day this week we were handed by Mr. Minnich an ordinary domestic pin, upon the head of which he had skillfully and tastefully interwoven a monogram in script of ye editor's initials. Along the stem of the pin are engraved the words "Review." The pin has been shown around, and much comment has been caused on the skill and patience the task entailed.

FIRST of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

BEFORE any steamship had crossed the ocean, and before either the locomotive or the telegraph had been invented, nine merchants of Montreal signed articles for the formation of the "Montreal Bank," now the Bank of Montreal. That was on June 23, 1817—more than 106 years ago.

Since that time Montreal has grown from a town of less than 20,000 to a city of more than 800,000 population.

The Bank, in continuous and successful operation from those early days down to the present time, has steadily pioneered its way across Canada. Today, through its Head Office and more than 550 Branches, it offers complete banking service—local, national, and international—in every section of the Dominion.

REEVE NAMES COMMITTEES

(Continued from Page 1) Collector Pineo asked the council for a ruling as to whether licensees operating under a trade license for automobiles for hire were required to also have a retail license if selling wood or coal. The council decided that when dealing in these commodities the retail license would be required.

Foreman Tomlin submitted lengthy and complete reports on the irrigation system and roads covering principally the work required to be done in order to put them in proper condition. The report on irrigation system was referred to the water committee and that on roads to the public works committee.

The by-law renewing the franchise of the Summerland Telephone Company, Limited, was finally passed. Another by-law was given its first three readings. This by-law will authorize the council to sell back to its recent owner property at English's corner, on Shaughnessy Ave., which had been acquired by the municipality at tax sale.

Silver.—If silver is put into a pan of sour milk and allowed to stand over night, it will be bright and shiny in the morning.

DEATH RESULTS FROM KELOWNA FIRE

Resulting from shock followed by pneumonia, the death has occurred of John McKinley, of Kelowna. Deceased was rescued from a burning building at Kelowna last week, but only after he had become unconscious through inhaling smoke and sustaining severe scalds. He was rescued and lowered through a window and rushed to the hospital, where for a time he progressed to such an extent that he was able to walk around. Pneumonia subsequently intervened, from which he never recovered. Deceased has resided at Kelowna for a number of years, coming from Ferguson, B. C., in 1904. He was a native of Ontario, took keen interest in politics, and was always a keen supporter of the liberal party, provincial or Dominion. He was about 63 years of age, and always took a keen interest in horse racing and all branches of athletics and sports.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

"Diogenes" in the Saturday Review, Victoria, has this to say on the subject of newspaper advertising that every business man who wishes to succeed should read and ponder:

"The first privilege of a newspaper is to afford the whole community the widest possible opening for publicity, at the lowest rates, consistent with sound business. Liberal, but discriminating advertising is the sure foundation of any paper, and I venture to think there can be no better place for an advertisement than the pages of a newspaper, where it is accessible to all and offensive to none.

"The ad as its record shows, The Queen of all inventions. By it the smallest business grows. When one of us on it bestows Our business-like attentions."

A Fun Fable
Once upon a time there was a man who never spoke unkindly to his wife. He was a bachelor.
