BIG FESTIVAL BEING PLANNED FOR MID-JUNE

Farmers' Institute Launches Plans for Big Valley Event.

Plans for a gigantic Valley festival and basket picnic are in course of preparation by the Summerland Farmers' Institute and Summerland Women's Institute, who have been assured the hearty co-operation of the staff of the Dominion Experimental Farm here, where the gathering will be held.

The undertaking was launched at a meeting of the Farmers' Institute held last night and Saturday, June 14th, was the date tentatively fixed upon. The flower gardens will there be at their best, lawns in their richest green and conditions generally should be ideal for such a festival.

A number of prominent speakers in connection with the department of agriculture and university will be invited to address the gathering and other program features are being arranged for. As soon as the speakers have been definitely secured, formal invitations will be sent out to Farmers' Institutes and Women's Institutes from Castown and Keremeos east to Grand Forks and from Oliver in the south to the northern end of the Valley and west as far as Kamloops.

It may be that special train and boat service will be provided and it has also been suggested that visitors from the more distant points be invited to come the day before and enjoy the camping in Summerland's beautiful natural park. Coming by motor on Friday they could return home at their leisure on Sunday.

Superintendent Hunter is already enthusiastic on the subject and has promised to provide guides and do everything possible to entertain the visitors while at the Farm.

A similar affair was held here several years ago and was very successful.

RED TAPE RESULTS IN LOSS AND TROUBLE

Musk rats are a great source of annoyance and trouble to men operating the municipal irrigation system. They are particularly bad in a section of Prairie Valley where they continually burrow through to the side or bottom of the open ditch, causing washouts, flooding of adjacent land and loss of water.

For some years past these rats have been kept down by trappers but it is stated that there has been so much difficulty in getting permits to trap that no one set traps for them last winter.

GIRL HURT IN BAD RUNAWAY

Ethel Donike Dragged Some Distance After Wagon Overturns.

Ethel Donike, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Donike, Prairie Valley, was hurt in a runaway accident on Saturday, and was fortunate in escaping death or serious injury.

She was in her father's wagon at the rear of the Molvin store and, at his request, turned the team which he started off on foot to make another call. In making the turn, the wheel of the wagon became cramped and the wagon overturned. This frightened the horses and they dashed for liberty. Ethel was dragged for some yards over to the foot of the hill in front of the Baptist church and those who saw the accident feared she had been killed.

She was picked up and taken to Dr. Winderler's office, where it was found that no bones were broken, and later removed to the hospital. After a day or two there she had sufficiently recovered to return home.

The runaway team freed itself from the wagon after running a few yards farther but was caught at Dale's corner.

CEMENT DITCH LINING IS GIVING TROUBLE

That steel will eventually have to be substituted for a section of the main ditch south of Giant's Head and near the Read property was the statement made by Foreman Tomlin at the council meeting on Saturday.

The ditch at that point is lined with cement and has been giving trouble for some time. This spring it was gone over thoroughly and apparently made watertight but water is again showing beneath the cement. Action of alkali from beneath or a poor mixture of cement are possible reasons for this trouble, according to Foreman Tomlin.

CO-OPERATIVES ENDORSE B.C.F.G.A.

Hearty appreciation of the excellent work being done by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association was shown by the members of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association in annual meeting on Tuesday when, by a unanimous vote, the latter association was instructed to pay for membership of each individual member in the B.C.F.G.A.

J. Shepard, Summerland director of the latter, briefly outlined the work of the association and, in doing so, referred to the financial assistance which it receives from the province. Other locals affiliated with the Associated Growers of B. C. have taken or are taking similar action to support the B. C. F. G. A.

Following is the motion adopted at Tuesday's meeting:

"That this meeting endorse the excellent work done by the B. C. Fruit Growers Association in the interests of the Fruit Growing Industry of this Province, and further that we hereby pledge the support of this organization by instructing our Secretary-Treasurer to deduct from returns due to growers the Annual Membership fee of one dollar, unless specific instructions to the contrary are received in writing by the Secretary-Treasurer within fifteen days from this date."

Bauxite is being mined near Victoria, and shipped to manufacturers in Seattle and Tacoma. Bauxite is the chief source of aluminum and is also largely used for refining gas and gasoline.

OUTLOOK FOR CO-OPERATION

Better Control Than Last Season Is Likely, Says A. T. Howe.

That the Associated will continue and that the fruit will be even better controlled than last year is the private opinion of President A. T. Howe of the Associated, who referred to the situation briefly at the annual meeting of fruit growers on Tuesday.

Creston and other large areas are practically assured for the Associated and he felt confident that some effective arrangement would be made to prevent competition from the relatively small proportion that may be shipped through independents. Reference to the negotiations to this end are given under another heading.

Mr. Howe felt sure that the growers will eventually develop a co-operative organization that will be 100 per cent strong. It has been proven he said, that co-operative marketing is the only system that will bring returns to the growers. If the present organization continues until better times and conditions arrive, it will be able to convince the most skeptical.

Referring to prices, Mr. Howe said he did not know why independents had not made better returns, considering the favorable conditions created for them by the growers' organization.

He was confident that the growers would insist on the functioning of the Associated.

Replying to the suggestion of C. N. Higgins that our government should practically compel co-operative marketing as New Zealand had done, Mr. Howe said it was a pity to have to do it, but he strongly favored such legislation.

QUICK RETURN TO MEMBERS IS ASSURED

Bank Promises Advances under Conditions Assuring Prompt Payment.

Growers shipping through the co-operative next season will not have to wait many trying months for payment as they did last year.

A. T. Howe, president of the Associated, outlined before the members of the Summerland local in annual meeting on Tuesday, proposed plans for more satisfactory financing. The Associated has been negotiating with the Bank of Montreal, the Royal Bank and the Canadian Bank of Commerce and Vernon Fruit Union has also been dealing with the banks on the subject.

These banks, stated Mr. Howe, had verbally offered to finance the locals and each suggested that in doing so it should have the Central account as well. Though nothing definite had been decided upon, it is probable that the locals will be permitted to borrow up to fifty cents a box and as the returns for fruit come in, the banks will require repayment at the rate of 60 cents until their loan is cleaned up. The balance over 60 cents would remain with the local to be distributed among members.

Mr. Howe states that the Bank of Montreal had finally agreed to finance the organization on a commodity basis, but legal difficulties had presented themselves. The suggestion now is that the individual growers assign their crop as security to the bank, which would finance the growers through the local. Mr. Howe looks upon the request as a reasonable one and the proposed plan of financing as sensible and said he would be perfectly willing to assign his own crop.

Basil Steuart, general manager of the Associated, had been in Vancouver last week interviewing the banks on the subject of finance.

In answer to some objections to the suggested plan, Mr. Howe stated he could not understand how any grower could expect advances from the bank with out giving security on his crop.

WANT DOMESTIC WATER SERVICE

An extension of the domestic water pipe line from the Campbell property near the Baptist church to his lot in Hillpark Gardens is sought by Mr. Killick, who personally applied for this extension at the meeting of the council on Saturday.

The service was promised, provided certain other property owners favored the extension. Users rates and frontage taxes were figured as ample to justify the extension.

"H.M.S. Pinafore" Excellent

When the curtain rang up on "H.M.S. Pinafore" last Monday night, any doubts as to the capabilities of our home talent to do full justice to Gilbert & Sullivan's opera was at once dispelled, for a spontaneous burst of applause paid tribute at once to the excellent nautical setting created by Geo. C. Benmore and G. W. Copo, and the audience settled down to witness one of the finest productions ever staged in the interior of British Columbia.

The scenery was excellent, the costumes of the Indies charming, while the uniforms from the First Lord of the Admiralty down to that of the midshipman and seaman were the real thing being supplied by the Parisian Costumiers and Theatrical Supply, Vancouver. Simultaneous with the rising of the curtain came the opening chorus by the sailors, "We Sail the Ocean Blue," and immediately the audience realized they were in for a real treat.

Of all the operas resulting from the collaboration of Gilbert & Sullivan, "H.M.S. Pinafore" is perhaps the most popular. While others have found lasting favor, it is conceded

CENTRAL COSTS ARE VERY LOW

To provide money for operating, directors of the Associated Growers of B. C. fixed a charge of 4 1/2 cents a box on apples and proportionate charges on other packages. The president, A. T. Howe, reported at the annual meeting of the Summerland local on Tuesday that this charge had provided a total sum of $162,000. The actual costs, however, were but little over $140,000, leaving a surplus of more than $20,000.

Mr. Howe quoted C. L. Lowe as stating that the lowest charge to growers in the Northwest States was ten cents per package for a like service.

News of the relatively low charge was received with applause.

J.W. JONES, M.L.A. AND R.L. MAITLAND, LL.B. TO SPEAK HERE

R. L. Maitland, LL. B., president of the Liberal-Conservative Association of British Columbia and J. W. Jones, M. L. A. for South Okanagan will be the principal speakers at a public meeting to be held next Monday night in the Rialto Theatre.

Mr. Maitland is described as a most interesting speaker with a quiet, convincing style.

Formal announcement of the meeting is made elsewhere in this paper.

MORE MONEY FOR MEMBERS

Co-operative Distributes Another Fifty-five Thousand More to Come.

Fifty-five thousand dollars was distributed among members of the Co-operative on Monday in payment of the late apple pools. Approximately nine thousand dollars is yet to be paid out to growers.

When beginning operations an estimate of 56 cents to cover all local expenses on a box of apples was made. Later this was reduced to 49 cents, resulting in a surplus of 7 cents per package on the earlier apples. Likewise there is a rebate of 3 cents on smaller packages and $6 a ton on cannery cots and peaches. These rebates will total about $4,500. Recently an adjustment has been effected with Central on peach pools, which will give the growers another 5 cents a box. This and other moneys due on soft fruits will total about $1,700. Between $2,000 and $2,500 still remains as a surplus from operating deductions. All of these will be returned to growers.

CHANCES FOR LOCAL POOL ARE BRIGHTER

Co-operative Members Unanimous in Demand for this Right.

Possibilities of Summerland Co-operative having a local pool are increasing as the next shipping season approaches.

A Summerland pool was the subject of discussion at the annual meeting of the members of the Co-operative on Tuesday. Local pools covering all fruits and vegetables up to and including McIntosh Reds was the subject of a resolution proposed by R. S. Jackson. Major Hutton would go further and include Jonathan. He pointed out that Summerland Jonathan growers had suffered heavy loss through having their good fruit pooled with diseased fruit from other sections. F. J. Nixon advocated making a lighter demand which would be more likely to meet with success and a compromise was finally effected a resolution from the local will go forward to the Associated, demanding local pools on stone fruits, early vegetables and summer apples, including the Wealthy.

G. J. Coulter White explained that this demand is not so much because of earlier seasons as that Summerland could make up its own mixed cars and the money would come back more directly to the growers. Summerland had suffered in the past because of poor handling and poor selling of its soft fruits and he thought it was up to Central to give the desired relief.

The resolution received unanimous support.

Speaking on the subject of pools, A. T. Howe, president of the Associated, referred to negotiations now in progress with the independents in which district pools were favored. For three days representatives of the Associated and independents had been in session at Kelowna, resulting in the following understanding on the subject of joint action in the sale and distribution of fruit.

(1) The Board of Control to consist of six members: three from the Independent Shippers and three from the Associated; said Board to appoint Sales Manager as seventh member.

(2) The Sales Manager to have two assistants to be appointed by him, one from selection of Independents and one from selection of Associated.

(3) Sales Department to have full control over all sales and distribution.

(4) All invoicing and collecting to be performed by Sales Department and returns, less selling charges, to be remitted to shipper interested within five (5) days after receipt of same.

(5) Rebates will be made by price representatives, but must have same confirmed by shipper interested (Continued on Page 3)

FURTHER IMPROVING AUTOMOBILE PARK

Signboards and arrows for use in directing tourist traffic to the auto park in Peach Orchard will be supplied by the municipality. At Saturday's meeting of the council the public works committee was instructed to have these signs prepared.

The committee will also endeavor to procure some old cast iron box stoves with tops, lids, doors, etc. intact and have these imbedded in cement as additional cooking stoves in the park.

Some seats will be built around some of the trees. This latter work is being done at the request of the women's committee.

MAY TAKE OVER ELLISON HALL

Ellison Hall was the subject of rather a lengthy discussion at the council meeting on Saturday, following a report that weeds had been piled up by wind against the rear of the building and were a source of danger from possible fire.

Reeve Campbell referred to the destructive work of some citizens and the need of repairs being made to the building. The hall has always been considered the property of the municipality but has been managed by the Agricultural Society, which organization has accepted responsibility and collected rents.

The council decided to have the constable attend to the removal of the weeds and the Agricultural Society will be formally requested to look after the property or surrender it to the council.

TAX RATES FIXED

Third reading and final approval was given on Saturday to the by-law fixing the tax rate for 1924. No changes were made and the rates stand as already announced. School rates will take one and one half cents on the dollar, land values only, and a like rate is required for bonded in than one cent, is demanded for general municipal purposes.

At Saturday's council meeting C. J. Rippin was granted a rebate of his 1923 irrigation rates on his lot No. 51, due to the fact of non service. This lot is not now connected with the irrigation system.

FROST DAMAGE VARIES MUCH

Much Lighter Here Than Elsewhere - "Practically None" says Farm.

Judging from all reports this part of the Okanagan Valley has been fortunate in escaping the severe loss suffered by many fruit districts during the recent frosty nights.

Further down the Valley eleven degrees of frost were recorded, Okanok and other large fruit districts across the line having suffered severely. There, it is stated, all the stone fruits were destroyed and it is feared that there will be no Delicious and that some other varieties of apples have been hurt seriously.

At the northern end of the Valley the dip was severe but the fruit was not so far advanced and the damage will not be so great. Around the southern end of the lake the loss is much less than farther south, although Pentleton reports would indicate that certain sections were badly hit.

Here and there, there are spots in the Summerland district where stone fruit buds were largely destroyed, while nearby others were little affected. Along the front benches the damage was light. Inquiries at the Experimental Farm brought the reply that practically no damage had been suffered there. Nowhere will there be much or any loss with apples. These orchards which did suffer by freezing of soft fruit buds are so located that air circulation is not good.

Various estimates of 20 to as high as 50 per cent have been made on the soft fruit damage, but even those giving the larger estimate admit there may still be a good average crop the district over.

Official records show that there were five degrees of frost on the morning of the 24th and also on the morning of the 20th.

CO-OPERATIVE ELECTS BOARD FOR NEW YEAR

T. Croil Official Shareholder in Associated—Only Two Directors Re-elected.

T. Croil, a 1923 director of the Summerland Co-operative will be Summerland's shareholder in the Associated Growers of B.C. and a director of that organization. His was the only name proposed at the annual meeting held at the Empire Hall on Tuesday.

His appointment to Vernon, the removal of A. C. Turner to Vancouver and the withdrawal of F. J. Nixon, who found it impossible to give the necessary time, made three openings on the local board.

G. I. Gray, the president, and G. J. C. White, the other members of the retiring board and Messrs. Huddleston, Hatton and Shepherd were elected by acclamation. F. J. Nixon was strongly urged to accept nomination but could not be persuaded to do so.

Crehan, Mouat and Company were re-elected auditors.

Remuneration for the directors was provided as follows: president, $300; directors, $60 each.

LIB-CONSERVATIVES APPOINT DELEGATES

Summerland Liberal-Conservative Association held its annual meeting on Tuesday in Parish Hall.

The gathering was addressed briefly by J. W. Jones, M.L.A. for South Okanagan, and A. T. Howe, the party's candidate in North Okanagan.

Following are the officers elected: R. S. Jackson, president; A. B. Elliott, 1st vice-president; Mrs. F. W. Andrew, 2nd vice-president; K. M. Elliott, secretary-treasurer.

Delegates to the nominating convention shortly to be held in Kelowna were appointed. These are: R. S. Jackson, A. B. Elliott, A. Davidson, J. R. Doherty, Dr. J. R. Graham, C. H. Tate, H. C. Mellor, G. H. Doherty, A. E. Rose, J. Gowans, F. R. Gartrell, T. A. Walden, C. J. Huddleston, C. E. Bentley, K. M. Elliott, Mrs. F. W. Andrew, Miss Dorothy Cooper.

EGG PRODUCTION GREATLY INCREASED

Summerland's egg output is rapidly growing. H. Sanderson, manager of the Poultry Association, reports that they shipped 3,800 dozen eggs during April. March had been a record month with 3,000 dozen.

During the three days, April 10, 21 and 22, Mr. Sanderson took in no less than 1,000 dozen eggs.

Shipments are very materially increased over those of a year ago.

MEASURING BOX PROVES WORTH

Ten More Made of Metal To Be Installed on Irrigation System

Ten more metal measuring boxes are to be installed at different points on the municipal system. Foreman Tomlin reports much satisfaction in the use of those already in service. Disputes are avoided and neighborhood quarrels forestalled.

At the regular meeting of the council on Saturday, the recommendation of the foreman that these additional boxes be put in was adopted. One will serve the F. G. Barnard, G. F. Robinson and Neve lots another for the Chas. Steuart property, and one will be put on each of the two flumes serving the Evans lots and one on the Drowett property. Two will be put on the Steuart hill, one on the upper east flume in Garnett Valley, and two on Jones Flat.

These metal boxes cost from $8 to $8.50 each. While they may not be perfect, Foreman Tomlin reports that all engineers state that when they fail to give accurate measurement, the error was always in favor of the user.

FIRE DAMAGES AUTOMOBILE

Damage to the extent of at least one hundred dollars was done to the McLaughlin car owned by E. F. Sanborn last Tuesday, when fire broke out at the back of the engine. Mr. Sanborn had attended the growers' meeting in Empire Hall that afternoon and on returning home, had left the car standing by the house while he went in to supper. He had been in the house but a short time when, happening to glance out the window, he noticed that the car was on fire, but, fortunately managed to extinguish the blaze before serious damage had been done to the engine. Just what caused the fire is not known, as it had been running apparently as usual shortly before. The front board, coil spring, distributor and timer were destroyed and the car put out of commission for a time at least.

NEEDED AIDS TO FRUIT INDUSTRY.

Pre-cooling plants for the Okanagan are among the possibilities, thanks to the efforts of our representative at Ottawa, J. A. McKelvie, M.P., who has been urging on the Minister of Agriculture the necessity of supplying pre-cooling plants. Hon. Mr. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, has intimated that he may make provision for these in supplementary estimates.

Okanagan fruit growers will be grateful to Hon. Dr. Tolmie for the support he is giving Mr. McKelvie in the demand for action to prevent the influx of early fruits from the United States, which is doing untold harm to the British Columbia fruit industry by satisfying the Canadian appetite before our fruit is ready, thus spoiling our home market. With what success these efforts will meet is not yet revealed.

The Agricultural Journal, published by the Department of Agriculture, carried in its April number detailed suggestions for a very interesting pageant, which any Women's Institute might adopt with profit and entertainment. The pageant was written by Mrs. Mabel K. Walters of Naramata, the setting, properties, music and cast all being given in detail.

COMPULSION IN CO-OPERATION.

Several governments in various countries of the world have enacted legislation which, in one way or another, compels co-operative marketing of any given commodity when a large majority of the producers of that commodity express their desire to market jointly.

This means that when from sixty to seventy-five per cent. of the producers of any given commodity voluntarily associate for the advantageous marketing of their product, thereby advancing the general welfare of the state, provision is made for inducing or compelling the support and co-operation of the minority, who otherwise might undo the beneficial work of the majority.

Whether such advanced legislation can be constitutionally placed upon the statute books of this country is a matter which is being investigated at the present time but several authorities are agreed that it can be done in view of the passage of the federal grain pool legislation at Ottawa.

In a province like British Columbia where the standards of education and natural intelligence rank comparatively high, legislation of this nature should be unnecessary. In snap decisions there is always an element of doubt but when several thousands of normal people give intense thought to any given problem over a period of several months, after which a large majority express approval of a plan for solving that problem, it is natural that the large majority should be right and the small minority mistaken.

This principle, practically applied, is manifested in trial by judge and jury, the basic rock of British justice throughout the ages.

And co-operation is on trial today in the fruit belt. Public opinion is the judge and the growers the jury. But we respectfully submit to all the hope that when eighty per cent. of the jurymen express their confidence in co-operation, the minority will agree to a unanimous decision. Along this path lies the hope of all.—Vancouver Sun.

"THE BOYS WANT TO KNOW"

By C. M. Burgdahl.
There isn't a lad but wants to grow
Manly and true at heart,
And every lad would like to know
The secret we (men) impart.
He doesn't desire to slack or shirk—
Oh! Haven't you heard him plead?
He'll follow a man at play or work
If only the man will lead.

Where are the men to lead today,
Sparing an hour or two,
Teaching the lad the game to play
Just as the man should do?
Village and slums are calling—come,
Here are the boys, indeed,
Who can tell what they might become
If only the man will lead?

Where are the men to lead a hand?
Echo it far and wide,

Man who will rise in every land,
Bridging the "Great Divide"?
Nation and flag and tongue unite,
Joining each class and creed,
Here are the boys who WOULD do right,
But where are the men to lead?

In one of the "back country" districts of Queensland, Australia, an aviator flies every Sunday some sixty miles to his nearest neighbor to make up a four for tennis, plays till almost dusk, and then flies home again. Enthusiasm could ask no more.

More than one-fourth of all the sugar in the world is consumed in the United States.

JACK LOGIE TO RUN FOR LEGISLATURE

J. W. S. Logie was the unanimous choice for candidate for Labor representative in the provincial house at a meeting held here on Monday night. There were present representatives from Peachland and Naramata and approval of the action has been received from Kelowna district, though the party is not organized there.
Mr. Logie states that the Canadian Labor party was organized in Vancouver on Tuesday and that it will have candidates in most of the ridings.

YOUNG MEMBERS GIVEN FAREWELL

Members of St. Andrew's congregation and friends gathered at the church hall on Wednesday night and spent a jolly social evening in honor of Misses Bertha Johnston and Verna Smith, two of the younger members, who are leaving on Saturday to enter St. Joseph's hospital, Victoria, as probationers. An impromptu program of piano and vocal solos and recitations was enjoyed and during the evening Miss J. Sinclair, on behalf of the Women's Missionary Society, presented Miss Johnston with a Life Membership in the Society, in appreciation of her services. Miss Johnston and Miss Smith will be greatly missed in church and social circles, and their many friends will wish for them every success in their new work.

WEIGHT BRIDGE TO PREVENT FLOATING

Under the direction of the provincial road foreman the bridge crossing Aeneas Creek at the upper end of the lower Garnett Valley reservoir has been weighted down and a covering of shale or stone placed on it.
During the time of high water in the reservoir last season the bridge lifted from its piers.

Reeve Campbell made a brief report on the subject at the last regular meeting of the council last Saturday, in which he stated that the municipality had been given some assistance with team and men, but that the work was not done by the direction of the municipality not did it assume any responsibility.

NIECE BADLY HURT BY SPEEDING CAR

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ritchie have received news of serious injury suffered by their niece, Isabel Ronald, a twelve-year old high student of Seattle. She was struck by an automobile driven, it is alleged, by a drunken youth and travelling at about fifty-five miles an hour.

The girl was dragged along the street for about 200 feet. One hip was dislocated, both legs broken and her right arm fractured in two places. The child was rushed to the hospital, where for a time her life was despaired of, but later news is that there is good hope of her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie visited the Ronald family last fall. Mr. Ronald is a brother of Mrs. Ritchie.
The driver of the car and his companions were arrested.

A Re-Introduction

IN THESE WESTERN towns it is customary to take our neighbors as we find them, concerning ourselves little of their past. There are many in our midst who have held important and responsible positions elsewhere and sometimes one has to go outside to hear anything of the earlier activities of a citizen.

Miss Janet Sinclair, one of our school trustees, recently attended the annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church at Vancouver and was written up by the Province. The Province story reads:

Among the delegates in attendance at the provincial annual convention of the Presbyterian church, was Miss Janet Sinclair, born in Toronto of Scotch parentage, her mother being a member of the Murray Mitchell Auxiliary, the first women's missionary society organized in Ontario.

While a very young girl she helped in the work of the Duchess Street Mission, Toronto, carrying necessities to the poor in that district. Later Miss Sinclair became president of the Mission Band of the "Old St. Andrew's" and was also a member of the general council board of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society, and while attending one of the annual meetings of this organization, held in Ottawa in 1909, heard Dr. Chone Oliver tell of giving up medical work to take charge of the Neemuch Orphanage as there were no missionaries available.

It was then that Miss Sinclair offered to go to India in any capacity and at her own expense. This offer was accepted and in the fall of 1909 she left for India.

After a year spent in learning the native language, she was placed in charge of the girls' school at Mhow, Central India, also assisting to train normal students at Indore College.

As her work increased and the trying climatic conditions sapped the vitality of the ambitious girl, at the end of five years she was invalided home.

Having the haunting experience of seeing the sad, hopeless lives of women and children in India and the joy of looking into faces of those who accepted Christianity, Miss Sinclair's special interest is still for the uplift of humanity.

She is deeply interested in conditions at Summerland, where she resides with her brother, and at the last election of school trustees she headed the poll. She is a member of the hospital auxiliary, of the W. C.T.U., and teacher of the adult Bible class, as well as being presbytery president of the Women's Missionary Society.

COMMUNITY SPORTS DAY IS PLANNED

Organization Effected for Big Field Day on Third of June.

June 3rd has again been chosen as Summerland's big sports day when all are invited to gather at Crescent Beach and enjoy a day's fun and outing.

At a recent meeting of interested citizens it was decided to hold the usual sports on this day, Ned Bentley being elected manager in chief for the day. Three governing committees were elected to carry out the arrangements, as follows: sports program, catering and advertising, Jackson, Cope, Keith Elliott, Bernard, Lockwood, Lipssett, Knowles, Walden, Barnard, Windeler and MacDonald. Finance and prizes, A. B. Elliott, Winter, Melvin, Huddleston, Gowans. Grounds, Newton, W. Atkinson, H. Vanderburg, Blewett, Dr. Graham, Mossop, Vaughan, W. Johnston, Baker, Nesbitt, McCutcheon, J. Barkwill, W. White, and D. Thompson, while E. R. Butler was appointed official announcer.

Children's sports are planned for the morning with a good program of events for the afternoon including a trap shoot and a baseball game between local and Peachland teams.
To complete the day, V. M. Lockwood has promised an especially fine picture, "Nero," at the Rialto Theatre in the evening, which will be put on as a G.W.V.A. benefit show.

The following is a toast once given to Harry Laurier:

A grace to this club you have lent, sir

In the best of good faith this is meant sir.

If the Jews and the Scots

Could only join lots,

They'd take from the world its last cent, sir.—Glasgow Herald.

ART LEAGUE IS IMPROVING GROUNDS

Great improvements are being made in the grounds around the Art League cabin in Peach Orchard under the direction of Wm. Simpson, landscape gardener for the league.

Rustic bridges have been put in across the creek. A walk has been built on the creek side from the main road through to the Lawler property, a lily pond established and also an island or two in the creek.

J. W. S. Logie states that when complete it will be a regular botanical garden with specimens of all the wild flowers of the district.

Tulips are now in bloom and already the place is looking beautiful.

SEES NO GRACE OR ART IN MODERN JAZZ DANCING

Miss Elizabeth Burchenal, the best authority on folk dances, in the United States, sees no grace or art in modern jazz dancing, and so is devoting herself to teaching the graceful, vivacious dances which the people of Europe dance. There the old folks, young folks and children all enjoy themselves together and no one feels "out of it" because of not knowing the latest strangle-hold and tutter. The same thing that has made the Virginia Reel live so many generations as the chief entertainment at many "mixed gatherings," will make the continental folk dances popular in America, Miss Burchenal believes: their democracy.

Miss Burchenal was at the State College of Washington recently and gave a series of lessons in folk dances, which the college opened to the general public, in order that school physical training teachers, playground supervisors, masters of granges and farm bureaus and other social groups could learn the dances and teach to the communities for all to learn.

There is a perpetual Sabbath on the earth. The Greeks observe Monday, the Persians Tuesday, the Assyrians Wednesday, the Egyptians Thursday, the Turks Friday, the Jews Saturday and Christians Sunday—sometimes.

STRAIGHTENING OUT CRESTON TROUBLE

M. G. Wilson and K. M. Elliott were recent visitors to Creston. As trustee of the O.U.G., Mr. Wilson had taken action against the Imperial Bank for the purpose of upsetting security which it had obtained from the Creston growers' organization.

It is understood that the bank has practically receded from its stand and amicable arrangements have been made to meet the claims of the O. U.G.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS
PRE-EMPTIONS
 Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intent to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.
 Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.
 Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.
 Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.
 Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvement made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.
 For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."
PURCHASE
 Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."
 Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.
HOMESITE LEASES
 Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.
LEASES
 For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 40 acres may be leased by one person or a company.
GRAZING
 Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

PEACHLAND DOINGS
 A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representatives.
 Little Miss Frances Robinson of Westbank was a recent visitor in town, spending a couple of days with friends.

Mrs. Lambly and her mother went to Penticton on Wednesday evening's boat, Mrs. Lambly returning the following morning.

Mrs. Cudmore left on Thursday morning's boat to spend a few days in Kelowna. Mrs. Lingo and Mrs. Trimble also spent the day in Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. Sadler attended the Union Bazaar on Thursday at Westbank, where Mr. Sadler delivered a short address. H. E. McCall accompanied them on a business visit.

Mrs. Eddie and son, Ormand, returned on Thursday to take charge of the ranch till Mr. Eddie returns in a couple of months.

Mr. O. Keating was a visitor to Kelowna on Friday. He was accompanied by his son Bert who had paid a flying visit home.

Mrs. B. Robinson of Westbank came down on Friday evening to join her husband and son who had been here a few days working on their new place. They are making ready for getting the place (the old D. J. White preemption) into shape to move down later on, possibly this fall.

Wm. Buchanan, Jr., received a telephone message last week which acquainted him with the fact that he now has an added responsibility, not in connection with his daily occupation as Union Manager, but in home circles. His wife presented him with a fine baby boy, born in Kelowna on Friday.

The Rev. Mr. MacLurg, of Kelowna Union Church, delivered the address at the Thursday and Friday meetings of the special week of Evangelistic meetings being held in the Union Church. This he did to relieve the local pastor, the Rev. T. A. Sadler, who has been filling in during the other evenings owing to the non-arrival of Dr. Unsworth who was too ill to come as scheduled. The meetings continued throughout the week, commencing with the Easter morning service. They are being carried on at Westbank throughout this week except Saturday. The meetings have been enthusiastically attended from night to night and quite an interest shown by those in attendance. The service of song was also appreciated, especially the solos rendered by the leader, Mr. Nichol, and his work with the choir. On Wednesday and Sunday evenings the Westbank Choir and others lent their services and attendance at the meeting which was much appreciated. It is expected that the Peachland Choir will return the compliment this week.

J. Stewart, A. Wilson and J. McKinnon were in Kelowna on Saturday.

Miss Agnes Giles returned on Saturday evening after a short visit out of town.

Mr. Mabon returned on Saturday evening, having spent a few weeks in Vancouver.

The postponed annual Scout Meeting was held on Saturday evening in the G. W. V. A. Hall and although there was a very poor attendance the business was attended to, as follows:- The committee will cease to function and the business of the association be turned over to scout master and scouts. A secretary, Gerald Elliott, was appointed from the ranks of the scouts and the retiring secretary turned the books and papers over to him and the supplies to the scout master.

Will Wright was brushed off horseback while passing under a tree on Sunday and sustained injuries to his arm and shoulder. He was taken to the Summerland Hospital and the word has come to Mr. Wright that besides dislocation of the shoulder joint there was a break in the bone of the arm about an inch and a half below the joint. No difficulty is anticipated and the boy is resting quite comfortably.

Andy Alpaugh is shaking hands this week with Billy Buchanan, but unlike Billy, Andy's present is a daughter.

Peachland general store has purchased the stock of feed from the Peachland Fruit Growers Union and are moving the grains, etc., over to their own premises, but for the time being are leaving the hay where it has been kept by the Union. They intend keeping the feed business separate from the other departments and will make it a distinctly cash business.

Mrs. J. B. Robinson paid friends here a farewell visit previous to joining her husband who preceded her as far as Vancouver and after a short visit there they will go to son George in Oregon. Having lived in the valley for a number of years, most of which time was spent in Peachland, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson leave many dear friends who will miss them greatly. They have both been prominent in Church and Sunday School.

After a pleasant visit here with their children at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer left on Monday to return to their home in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hogg moved out to their farm on Tuesday last. They have completed many improvements to the place and erected suitable buildings for habitation.

Thos. McLaughlan was a visitor to Kelowna on Tuesday.

Miss Snell and Miss Lawrence of the staff of the Miss Legalle Boarding School at Vernon left on Tuesday to return to their duties there after having sent a very pleasant Easter week at "Bally Allan" the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller. These ladies were delighted with the place and we understand it is their intention to visit here again at the first opportunity.

ONE DID
 A certain young girl cried piteously after her young man had proposed. "Why are you crying dear?" asked the young man solicitously. "Have I offended you?" "No dear," answered the girl. "That's not it. I am crying for pure joy. Mother always said that I was such an idiot that not even a monkey would propose to me, and now one has."

FRUIT-BUD FORMATION
 BY R. C. Palmer, Assistant Superintendent, Experimental Station Summerland

The question of fruit-bud formation is of perennial interest to the grower, for without fruit buds there can be no crop. Most progressive growers make a careful inspection of their trees as early as a month or two before blossom time. By a critical examination of the size and shape of the buds an experienced observer is able to arrive at a fairly reliable estimate of the crop prospects.

Few growers realize, however, that the possibility of a crop in 1924 is very largely the result of the treatment which the tree received as far back as the spring of 1923. Recent investigations have shown that with practically all deciduous fruits, bud differentiation occurs during the autumn or summer previous to the opening of the buds. In fact, it has been found that with apples fruit-bud formation starts about a year before the blossoms open. The discovery of this fact helps to solve some of the many problems which puzzle even the most intelligent grower.

Another important discovery made within recent years is that fruit-bud formation is dependent upon the nature of the food supplied by the tree to the developing bud. Every bud may be considered to be a potential fruit-bud, i.e. under certain conditions it will develop blossoms. Let us see just what conditions have been found necessary to bring about this result. The food utilized by the tree can be classified into two general types: carbohydrates or starchy foods, and proteins or foods of which nitrogen is an essential part. Both types of food are necessary to fruit-bud formation, but they must be supplied in the correct proportions. An over-supply of proteins results in excessive vegetative growth. The number of fruit-buds formed under such conditions is relatively small. On the other hand too great an excess of carbohydrates over proteins frequently results in the production of an abundance of blossom-buds, which, however, lack the vitality necessary to the setting of fruit. Conditions are considered to be favorable to the formation of fruit-buds and to the setting of fruit when there is an abundance of carbohydrates and a limited supply of proteins present in the tree.

The fact that the productivity of an orchard is dependent upon the maintenance of this due balance between the two types of food supplied to the buds should be clearly understood by every grower. Practically every operation which the grower performs in his orchard has an effect on the relative amount of carbohydrates and proteins, which the tree supplies to the buds. The various orchard practices should be so modified and inter-related as to keep the tree in a healthy, vigorous condition without encouraging excessive vegetative growth.

If the trees are divitized and are not making new growth, if they blossom freely but fail to set fruit, it is altogether probable that the buds are being fed an unbalanced ration. A search should be made for possible causes of this condition. It may be due, for example, to poor distribution of irrigation water, or to the fact that the soil has been allowed to become deficient in nitrogen. Remedies such as improved methods of irrigation and the use of legume cover crops will readily suggest themselves.

Again, should the trees make a vigorous growth and yet fail to produce fruit-buds or set fruit, it is quite possible that the ration may err on the side of too great a proportion of protein. Such a condition is frequently brought about by the removal of carbohydrates consequent upon heavy pruning. The injudicious application of nitrogenous fertilizers may also upset the balance. The same heavy pruning which may give good results when practised on a divitized tree may be sufficient to throw a well balanced tree in to the over-vegetive condition. Similarly the same application of nitrate of soda which may help to bring a neglected tree back to a productive condition may have an altogether different effect when applied to a tree which is already making vigorous growth.

The factors which may exert some influence on fruit-bud formation are many and varied, but the essential point which the grower should bear in mind is that healthy, vigorous trees take care of their own fruit-bud production. It is the grower's business to see that the trees are provided with favorable growing conditions throughout the year. A few months or even a few weeks of neglect may influence the crop for several subsequent seasons. In a dry spring it may be fatal to delay irrigation until after blossom time. Such a procedure may materially reduce the prospects of a crop for not only the current, but also the following year.

Study your tree, cater to its needs and it will respond by attending to the business of fruit-bud formation.

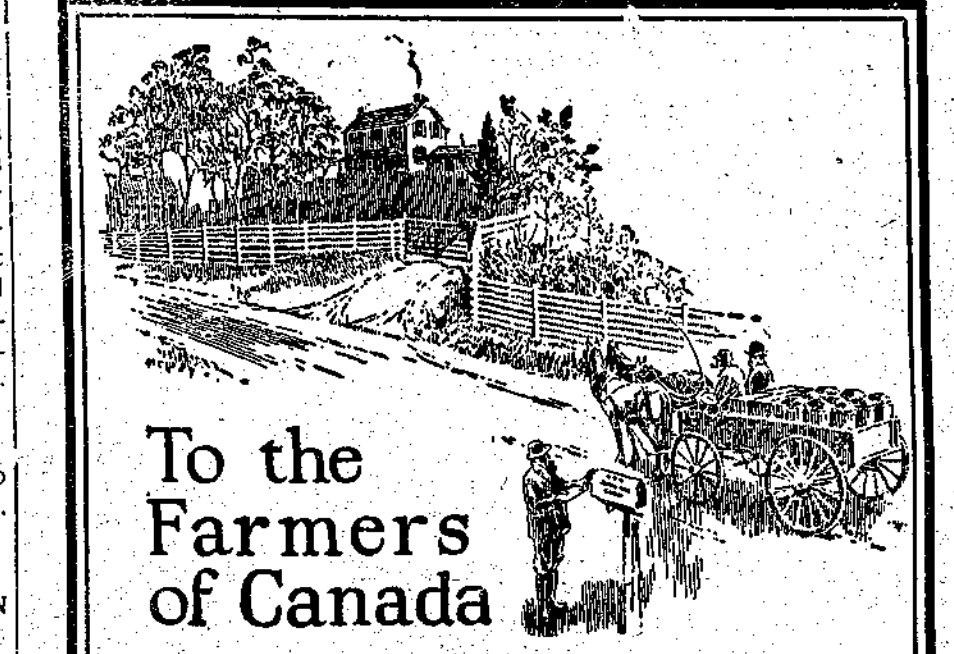

TEN COMMANDMENTS OF SPOTLESS TOWN

1. Don't throw anything on the side walk or street. Find a rubbish can.
2. Don't tear up paper and scatter it anywhere.
3. Don't let any piles of ashes or rubbish stay in your backyard.
4. Don't mix ashes and garbage in the same can.
5. Don't fill the ash-can or garbage-can too full.
6. Don't chalk the sidewalk, fences, buildings or pavements.
7. Don't deface park benches, school furniture or any public property.
8. Don't forget that horses love banana skins. A banana skin isn't dangerous if it is inside a horse's stomach.
9. Don't do anything that will bring disgrace to the town where you live.
10. Don't expect your town to become clean and perfect all at once. It will become an ideal community only when everybody does something every day to help make things better.

Revelations of the stock selling methods adopted by "go-get-em" salesmen from Chicago, recently made public by the "Calgary Herald," afford very interesting reading. The career of J. Rufus Wallingford had made us familiar with these methods in the abstract, but it has been reserved for a Canadian company to bring them into home prominence. We have nothing to do with such systems as long as they stay across the borderline, but they become of direct importance to us when their exponents are brought into this country to exploit investors who are led to believe their representations because of inherent confidence in the Canadian concerns which were ostensibly behind them. The question which will occur to many people hinges naturally on the apparent necessity of a Canadian industrial organization for placing treasury stock in the hands of an American firm. Why, in the name of all that is reasonable, is it necessary to pass over the many reputable brokerage houses in this country, and invoke the services of a Chicago house? Are we so absolutely destitute of business capacity that we cannot sell Canadian stocks to Canadian investors without importing a squad of salesmen from the other side of the line? If stock is to be placed on the American market, American brokers would doubtless be best able to handle it but no such situation appears in the present case, and we have the very edifying spectacle of a Canadian concern authorizing American brokers to exploit Canadian buyers to the tune of $2.00 per share for $1.00 stock, and accepting 85 cents a share as its own proportion of the returns! The further fact that the gentlemen who personally interviewed prospective clients found it advisable to make preposterous statements as to assured profits within thirty days is a mere detail, chiefly interesting as a commentary on "go-get-em" methods—the real point is the implied confession of inferiority of Canadian salesmanship, and that is a matter which will repay a little consideration.

We see the same rather humiliating line of thought operating in various directions, one of which has touched our own immediate district very closely. When the fruit growers of the Okanagan found marketing conditions going against them, they were told that their one and only chance of salvation was to be found in the calling for expert advice—not from Canadians, who were conversant with local fruit conditions, but from California! In deference to this insistent demand from certain quarters, Mr. Aaron Sapiro was brought across at considerable expense to tell us that union is strength, and that if the fruit growers wished to prosper they must run their business on business lines. These profundities were already known to all practical people, but, coming from an expert from across the border they naturally assumed that atmosphere of originality which was expected from such a teacher. It was only logical that the next step should be the securing of the services of a manager from the same country which had produced the great expert, and accordingly a Napoleon of industry was snatched away from the other side, and given a contract at $15,000 per annum, there being naturally no person of his calibre on the Canadian side! The sudden mysterious attack of ill-health which brought about this gentleman's abrupt departure at a moment's notice in the height of the season is a matter of record and need not be commented on. The curious feature in the case is that, notwithstanding his loss and the temporary dislocation of arrangements caused by it, the Association continued to function fairly well, and made a very creditable showing throughout the season, even though there was not an American expert among them!

There is a moral in these little matters, which we, as self-respecting Canadians, might take to heart.

The Volstead Act seems to be a target for attacks on various sides lately, a strange element in the case being the difference in "IN DIVERS" points involved. Thus "TONES," we see Mr. Samuel Gompers contending that the workman is "discontented" because of the deprivation of beer, Dr. James Whitney Hall, chairman of the Chicago Lunacy Commission declaring that alcoholism has increased alarmingly during the past three years, and finally Mr. Maxim

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles."

L. - C. ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

A meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association was held on Monday evening, when Mr. J. W. Jones, M. L. A. attended. The business of the evening was the election of officers for the coming year, and the voting gave the following results. Hon. Presidents, Mr. J. A. McKelvie, Mr. J. W. Jones, and Mr. J. M. Robinson; President, Mr. A. C. Horswill; Vice Presidents, Mr. T. Kenyon and Mr. Rosser; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. A. Noyes; Executive Committee, Messrs. Dunn, Stallard and Kenyon, with power to add to their number. The delegates to the Kelowna meeting on the 8th May are Messrs Noyes and Manchester with the President if he is able to attend.

Mr. Jones gave a short account of the position politically, and expressed confidence that the coming elections would sweep the present party out of power. He read a list of seats which the conservative party were contesting this year, and which had not been contested previously, and said that he had found a general impression of weariness at the unstable condition of affairs under the present administration, and a determination to bring about a change. He expected to see an election about the end of June. A vote of thanks to the speaker closed the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lyons left on Saturday for Vancouver, where Mr. Lyons expects to go into the hospital or surgical treatment.

At the Union Church Service on Sunday, the Rev. H. J. Armitage preached on the character of Pilate as illustrating the tendency of irresolution and fear of consequences. The offertory number was "Fear not ye O Israel," sung by Mr. Weaver. Announcement was made of the receipt of $46.50 from the choir concert of the preceding week, and its allocation to the Women's Auxiliary and the Ladies' Aid.

BERRY AND CURRANT BOXES

A warning has been issued by Mr. Geo. E. McIntosh, fruit commissioner of Canada, that after the first day of October, 1924, it is required by statute that boxes used for marketing berries or currants shall be of either one quart or one pint capacity. The dimensions for these sizes are given as 67.2 cubic inches for quarts and 33.6 cubic inches for pints. It is recommended that berry and currant growers place their orders for boxes of these capacities early, because the manufacture or sale of boxes of other sizes will not be permitted after that date.

HISTORY NOTE

The school board visited school the other day and, of course, the principal put his pupils through their paces for the benefit of said austere board. "Henry," he asked, turning to one boy, "who signed the Magna Charta?" "Please, sir, 'twasn't me," whimpered Henry.

The teacher in disgust, told the boy to sit down; but old Jed Smith, chairman of the tobacco-chewing board was not satisfied. After a well-directed aim at the stove, he said: "Call back that there boy. I don't like his manner. I believe he did do it."

BARTLETT PEARS KEPT WELL IN OIL WRAPS
 Experiments At Yakima Indicate Possibility Of Holding Pears Longer

According to the "Chicago Packer," experiments in holding in cold storage until late in winter Bartlett pears which were packed in oil wraps, conducted by the Horticultural Union of Yakima, appear to indicate possibilities of holding pears longer than the usual season.

Six boxes of pears were wrapped in oiled paper at harvest time last year and were placed in cold storage at once. They were taken out about the middle of February and were allowed to ripen in ordinary temperatures. On being taken out of the coolers, they were found to be firm and in excellent condition and with no decay showing. As soon as they were mellow, they were sampled and were proved to have retained their flavor and aroma.

"It has been thought that Bartlett pears could not keep long in cold storage without getting woody and losing flavor," said Mr. Fred Eberle, manager of the Horticultural Union, in commenting upon the experiment. "Our test shows that this is not the case. The Bartletts, which were wrapped in oiled paper and kept in cold storage, show no sign of woodiness and I think the flavor is as fine as that of any Bartletts I have ever eaten. Even the aroma is retained. Our success in keeping Bartletts in prime condition this late in winter opens a whole field of marketing possibilities. Certainly the test shows that there is no necessity for dumping properly handled Bartletts on a flooded market. This year we tried the experiment of shipping two cars of Bartletts to England. The fruit arrived in prime condition, and I think the cars were more profitable than any others we moved."

ON THE WRONG SIDE

Young Jack was talking to the new visitor soon after her arrival. He eyed her critically for a few moments, then looking up he said: "So you're my grandmother, are you?"

"Yes, dear. On your father's side," remarked the old lady smiling.

"Well, you're on the wrong side; you'll find that out," replied Jack.

AN HONEST JURYMAN

"Look here," said a young jurymen after the jury had retired, "if I understand aright, the plaintiff doesn't ask damages for blighted affections or anything of that sort, but only wants his presents back."

"That is so," agreed the foreman.

"Well, then, I vote we don't give him a cent," said the young jurymen hastily. "If all the fun he had with that girl didn't cover the amount the presents cost him, it was his own fault. Gentlemen, I courted that girl once myself!"—Mystic Worker.

A secret so simple many overlook it

Yet millions of women keep youthful loveliness this way

To realize the dream that is in every woman's heart, to keep the youth that every woman wants... Turn for a while from the elaborate treatments and methods. Try this simple but correct way by which millions of women are keeping youthful radiance and charm.

Authorities advise this Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin.

Wash thoroughly with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again.

Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, correct way
 You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive.

Just be sure to get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. Then for one week try this simple treatment. To your delight, results will be noticeable even in that short time!

The cost is so little that you can well use Palmolive for the bath, too.

Duncan Woods is leaving this week for Hedley, B.C., after spending the winter months at Trout Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. MacDonald returned on Sunday from Vancouver, where Mr. MacDonald had been attending the teachers' convention.

J. W. Jones, M.L.A., motored down from Kelowna on Sunday. He was accompanied by his daughter, Miss V. Jones, of the local high school teaching staff, who has been spending her holidays at her home there.

Miss Annie Williams, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Williams, was operated on at the Hospital last Thursday following an acute attack of appendicitis. Though she will be obliged to remain in the hospital for some time yet, she is doing well.

W. J. Tullett went down to Vancouver last week and is now engaged at carpenter work.

Mrs. R. Rau returned last night from the eastern provinces, where she has spent the winter.

Mrs. W. Estabrook returned a few days ago from the Coast where she has spent the winter months.

Miss Dorothy Tomlin returned on Sunday from Vancouver where she has been attending University.

A. Richardson, manager of the Chute Lake box mill, was a visitor to Summerland early this week.

Dr. Hilsley, provincial veterinary inspector, was a recent visitor here and gave several herds the T.B. test.

Mrs. C. G. Broad is on her way to Calgary from Brooklyn, N.Y., where she has been spending the winter.

Mrs. J. M. Sutherland and children left on Monday morning for Ontario, where they will remain for the summer months at least.

Miss Jean Moffat returned on Sunday from Grand Forks, where she has been visiting her sister, Jessie, on the teaching staff there.

Mrs. J. Downton has purchased from Mrs. R. H. English the cottage next to S. Angove's and now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Atherton.

A. E. Richards, of the Experimental Farm, returned on Saturday from an official tour of the various B. C. illustration stations under his supervision.

Rev. J. J. Baker of Mineola, took charge of both morning and evening services in the Baptist church last Sunday, in the absence of Rev. Z. L. Fash.

Alex. Smith returned on Sunday from the Coast, after attending the teachers' convention there. He continued north to Kelowna by motor the same day.

Miss Lena Snider who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Snider here during the holiday season, returned to Vancouver on Sunday.

Sam Rawlings, a recent arrival here from Stonon, Sask., has bought through P. E. Knowles four lots north of the Peck property and is now building on them.

Mrs. Gordon Robertson entertained a number of friends last Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Verna Smith, who leaves shortly to enter into training at St. Joseph's hospital, Victoria.

G. L. Salter returned to Vancouver on Sunday. He and Mrs. Salter came up from the Coast city some days before and opened their house here. Mrs. Salter will remain for some time.

Will Wright, son of John Wright of Peachland, is in the Summerland hospital suffering with a dislocated shoulder and broken arm as the result of a fall from a saddle. Particulars of the lad's misfortune are given in our Peachland column.

While fixing up an amateur telegraph line from the home of another boy to his own home one day last week Campbell McAlpine fell from a tree and in the fall suffered an injured hand as well as a severe shaking up. Medical attention was given and it was found that two small bones in the left hand had been broken.

The operators of the Summerland Telephone Company entertained a large number of friends at an informal dance in Empire Hall on Thursday evening. The hall had been decorated with streamers in attractive shades, while a source of much amusement and perhaps enlightenment was the printing on the windows of the numerous and bewildering questions which operators are required to answer numberless times each day. Splendid music was provided by Emmerton's orchestra. A bountiful and tasty lunch was served during the evening.

H.M.S. Pinafore Was Excellent

his willing stage-carpenter, Sid Thomas, must be given full credit. Who thinks of the work of the property man? Yet he has multitudinous duties to perform and must be right on the dot with the goods to prevent a hitch. The same with the electrician and the 'umble 'ombre who operates the curtain. With all of them it has been a labor of love demanding concentration, discipline and exactness, and we feel we are echoing the sentiments of all the people of Summerland when we say "Thank you, thank you, Ladies and Gentlemen!"

A special word of praise is due G. W. Cope. That he is a past master at conducting we have for some time been aware, but the excellence of the performance is a glowing tribute to his patience and ability. May he long remain with us, and may he again wield the baton for future operas in Summerland, and may we be there to see.

It would be difficult indeed to signal out any one of the performers for individual mention, and that fact in consequence makes of our task an easier one. As one gentleman remarked after the performance: 'Good! Gee! Darn it, they were all good!' and our sentiments are the same. As the Right Honorable Sir Joseph Porter K. C. B., First Lord of the Admiralty, our old friend Geo. C. Benmore filled the clothes and the part to perfection. His cultivated mannerisms were born to the character and his songs and work throughout were perfection. What a noble figure was J. O. Steeves as Captain Corcoran, commander of the "Pinafore," and how splendid his voice and acting. His commanding presence and cultivated style went far towards making the production the success it was. It would be difficult in any part of Canada to find a tenor voice so sweet as that of our own Ben Newton's. As Ralph Rackstraw he was the surprise packet of the performance for he entered into the spirit of the character with a gusto that made of him at once a lovable hero. All of his solos were rapturously encored. As Dick Deadeye the "bolshivist" able seaman, J. C. Clement made a great hit. He has a splendid voice and is a versatile comedian whose antics throughout kept the audience in roars. Frank Mossop made a capital Bill Bobstay, the boatswain's mate and his pleasing voice was heard to great advantage in "For he's an Englishman." With D. L. Sanborn as Bob Beckett, the carpenter's mate, he was right on the job with the necessary pep to put their parts over and the work of both was greatly admired.

Miss Carol Graham was a sweet Josephine. As "The Lass That Loved a Sailor" she endeared herself to the hearts of all. Prettily gowned in an early Victorian costume she presented a delightful picture at all times, while her sweet soprano voice was never heard to better advantage. Her acting throughout was charming. Miss Alma Lott who was entrusted with the role of Hebe, Sir Joseph's first cousin, was a perfect vision of loveliness. Her voice was always pleasing and her deportment and acting was clever. Mrs. Geo. Craig was assigned the difficult character of "Little Buttercup," a Portsmouth bumboat woman, and her portrayal was such that she leaped right into popularity with her first entrance. She handled the somewhat thankless character with a charm and finesse that would rank high in the best of operatic etretes, while her sweet contralto voice greatly pleased her audience in all her individual and concerted efforts. Little Myrtle Waldon as the midshipman filled the bill to perfection, it being a noteworthy performance when it is known that she attended but two rehearsals, filling the role at short notice.

The work of both the male and female choruses was an outstanding feature of the production, the participants not already mentioned being as follows: Mesdames Ethel Webb, Gwendolen Benmore, Molly Smith, Margaret Sutherland; Misses Ruth Graham, Mary Henry, Jean Cordy, Kathleen Nield, Sylvia Washington, Dorothy Melvin, Mable Lockwood, Amy Blonsdale, Ida Shields, Bortha Johnston, Hazel Stewart, Ruth Dole, and Marian Harwood.

Messrs. S.F. Sharp, W. V. B. Webb, C. C. Wharton, H. C. Howie, H. W. Daniel, A. R. Munn, J. G. Strother, D. L. Sutherland, G. Y. L. Crossley, R. Purves, J. C. Rarkwill, J. R. Campbell, R. M. Harwood, J. H. Dunsdon.

The personnel of the orchestra was: Violins, Miss F. M. Banks, Messrs. J. A. Read, B. H. Hunt, S. W. J. Poltham, R. D. Dunham; Cello, Mrs. Geo. R. Hookham; Flute, Mr. A. Harrington; Cornet, Mr. T. Charity; Double Bass, Mr. B. B. Snider; Drums, Mr. J. Keen.

Serving behind the scenes were: Property Man, Mr. A. A. Howland; Stage Carpenter, Mr. S. P. Thomas; Electrician, Mr. T. P. Thornber.

Throughout the preparations of "H. M. S. Pinafore" a heavy task has been borne by Mrs. Frank Mossop, the talented pianist, and to her a special word of praise is due. Every unit in the orchestra has also been practising assiduously for some months, and each and every participant in the opera may rest assured their efforts are highly appreciated by a grateful public.

The performance was repeated again on Tuesday night when another packed house greeted the performers. Tomorrow (Friday) "H.M.S. Pinafore" will be produced at the Senator Shatford auditorium, Penticton, and on Monday at the Empress theatre, Kelowna. It is fully anticipated that bumper houses will greet the company, as the performance stands up to the highest of criticism.

CHECKING UP ON APPLE COSTS

W. A. Middleton, in charge of horticultural work in the extension branch of the University, was a visitor to Summerland on Tuesday. From here he went to Keremeos, where he will start in on a check-up on costs of apple production. The Farmers' Institute hopes to be able to take advantage of his visit here later and to have an address from him on the subject of the cost of producing a box of apples.

"Don't stand in your own sunshine—you'll make a shadow."

TO ASSIST IN ENFORCEMENT OF GAME LAWS

Association Formed Here For Protection of Fish, Game And Forests

Summerland Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association was organized at a meeting of representative citizens held at Hotel Premier last Thursday evening.

R. M. Robertson, Penticton, game warden, was the principal speaker and gave material assistance in the organization of the association.

H. H. Creese was elected to the chair and H. W. Harvén acted as secretary pro tem.

The game warden outlined the aims of the movement, which has resulted in the formation of a number of such associations, all the principal centres in the Okanagan now being so organized. He also pointed out the importance to the community of such a body. The game conservation board of the province is often at a loss to know just what regulations to make with respect to open seasons and other matters pertaining to the game laws of the province, as the peculiarities of, and local conditions in each district or section of the province in many cases require special consideration. There is the further advantage that local organizations working in harmony with neighboring bodies can make recommendations with good results. Each organization will be kept posted on the best way of protecting game and in this way can do much good.

Assist In Law Enforcement
Mr. Robertson urged that each member uphold the game laws of the province and report any breach, as only in this way can annihilation of game be prevented.

The game warden referred briefly to the several destructive birds, the worst of which are the crows and magpies. The former, it is claimed, are responsible for the destruction of seventy five per cent of pheasant eggs.

Capt. Creese pointed out the advisability of having a large adult membership with a nominal fee and suggested that the younger people be encouraged to join the association perhaps without fee. This latter suggestion will be considered by the executive.

Twenty-nine members signed up and paid the membership fee of one dollar.

Officers Elected, Preparing Bylaw
H. M. Ramsay, Penticton, left with the new association a copy of the bylaws of the Penticton organization as a guide for the drawing up of bylaws for the Summerland association.

Officers were elected as follows, Honorary president, J. W. Jones, M. L. A.; president, W. Johnston; vice-president, W. C. W. Fosbery; secretary-treasurer, Carl V. Nesbitt; executive committee, Wm. Snow, Geo. M. Forster, Wm. Nelson, D. Rutherford and C. H. Eisey.

Bylaws are being prepared and will be submitted at another meeting to be held on the evening of May 9th, when each member is urged to attend and bring a new member with him.

MINOR CHANGES IN JONES FLAT SERVICE

Some changes are being made in the irrigation service at the east end of Jones Flat which, the water committee reported on Saturday, would give a more equitable distribution.

Lot 13, Blk. 454, has been given an inch and a half connection and Lot 10, which had a two inch connection, will be served through a one inch opening.

NARAMATA NEWS

Current Events of Town and District

The annual meeting of the Methodist church was held on Wednesday afternoon, opening at 2.30. There was only a fair attendance. The Rev. H. J. Armitage presided. The balance sheet showed total receipts of $504.12, with a deficit of $12.40. Certain other liabilities were discussed and arranged for, after which Mr. J. F. Young was appointed delegate to the conference at Penticton next week. The election of officers for the coming year was deferred until a later meeting. The matter of guarantee to the Summerland stipend fund was discussed, and the amount fixed at $300. The meeting closed with prayer.

The Ladies' Aid, who held their annual meeting at midday on the date of the church gathering, had a satisfactory year, with receipts of $213.69 and expenditures of $182.86. In addition to the cash receipts there is a quantity of work and material still on hand. Mrs. Young was re-elected as president, with Mrs. Patterson as vice-president, Mrs. Myers secretary and Mrs. Williams treasurer.

Miss Hall, accompanied by nephew Stanley, arrived from Vancouver on Sunday morning, and will be followed in a day or two by Stewart Allen. Mrs. Allen is expected a little later.

Mrs. Horswill returned on Monday from the Women's Institute convention at Vancouver, and reports an interesting time.

Mrs. Geo. Wolstencroft and her sister, Mrs. Cunliffe, were visitors to Naramata on Tuesday.

Mr. Walter Lyons was in town on Tuesday attending to the J. C. Lyons ranch.

The Game Association held a largely attended meeting in the home of Mr. Graham on Tuesday evening, Captain Languedoc presiding. Game Warden Robertson of Penticton was up for the occasion. Full details of the business done will appear in our next issue.

A Michigan woman at the wedding feast of her daughter, served strawberries and other fruit that was "put up" in the year the daughter was born, 23 years ago.

J. W. Jones Opens Campaign Here For His Re-Election

Supported by W. A. McKenzie, M.L.A., and R. L. Maitland, LL.B., at Well Attended Meeting Local Member Submits Plans for Improving Condition of Fruit Growers and Dealing with Tax Burden—McKenzie Deals with Provincial Extravagance and Maitland Lays Charges of Broken Promises by Government.

Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A. for South Okanagan opened his campaign for re-election at a public meeting held in Rialto Theatre on Monday night, at which he was supported by W. A. McKenzie, M.L.A. for Similkameen and R. L. Maitland, LL.B. of Vancouver.

There was a good attendance and all three speakers were well received. The speeches were refreshingly free from personalities and mud slinging, although there was no disposition on the part of the speakers to spare the government when they dealt with the subjects of taxation, government contracts, party policies, etc. R. S. Jackson, president of the Summerland Liberal-Conservative Association occupied the chair and introduced the speakers.

W. A. McKenzie, Penticton, to whom, as member of the opposition, had been assigned the special duties of watching the government's road policies and more particularly the erection of public buildings and the construction of bridges, gave most of his time to these subjects.

Money Wasted in Buildings

He described briefly the building erected at Prince Rupert, the Hon. T. D. Pattullo's constituency. The cost to the province for this building was $417,000. Half of this money would have been sufficient, declared Mr. McKenzie, who accused the government of wild extravagance and of a deliberate waste of money.

The new mental hospital at Esson-dale, now nearly finished, was another instance of wasteful extravagance. This building, being erected for acute patients, will cost $715,000 and so wasteful has been the policy of the government with respect to this building that even their own men have complained. After telling something of the waste of money in the building itself, Mr. McKenzie briefly described the extravagant interior, finished in mahogany, inlaid with ebony and boxwood. Forty-five thousand dollars had been spent in tile for the interior; blocks identically the same as those made in Ontario were imported from England by way of United States, sent back to the United States to be put into the doors, which were made there, and duty again paid on them when brought back in the doors, duty being paid four times. The mahogany doors cost $16,000 and not less than $150,000 was wasted in fancy work.

University Contract Worse

The contract recently awarded for the completion of the science building at Point Grey, the speaker described as the worst instance of contract awarding yet devised. No tenders were called for, the work having been given to the contractor on a ten per cent basis, under which he will be paid $60,000 for the use, for 10 months, of an equipment costing less than $10,000. One thousand dollars would be a good price for the use of this equipment and, allowing the contractor the fine salary of $1,000 per month to supervised the work, would make a total charge of $20,000. What of the other $40,000? Mr. McKenzie asked. Friends of the government were given the contract for the stonework and the same condition pertains with respect to the library building and the temporary buildings to be erected on the University grounds. The situation has become so bad that the big contractors at the Coast will not bid on government work, feeling that party favorites will get the work no matter what the price. Mr. McKenzie declared it was time the province got back to the policy of open bids and the awarding of contracts to the lowest bidder.

Jones Speaks on Politics

Satisfaction was expressed by Mr. Jones at seeing a large number of women present and in the fact that they were taking a more active interest in public questions.

Since the last election he had hesitated to speak on political questions but had frequently addressed public gatherings on the work of the House and of the responsibilities of the par-

REEVE G. LANG AND BRIDE GET PRESENTATION

Council and Officials of Peachland Honor Their Chief Magistrate.

Members and officials of Peachland municipality foregathered in the council chamber on Saturday evening to present to Reeve and Mrs. Lang a handsome clock in mahogany case. Inscribed on a silver plate was the following: "Presented to Reeve Grant Lang and Mrs. Lang by Council and Officials of the Municipality of Peachland, 1924." R. H. Huston, senior member of the council, made the presentation in a very eloquent address. He spoke of the cordial relation that existed between the reeve and council and in a very appreciative manner drew attention to Mr. Lang's many years of service to the district as citizen, school trustee, councillor and lastly as reeve. The councillors and officials were glad to take this opportunity to congratulate Mr. Lang upon his marriage, and to wish him and Mrs. Lang a long, happy and prosperous life, and to express the wish that the time-piece would ever be a happy reminder of the council's esteem and good will. Mr. and Mrs. Lang were deeply touched by the gift and expressions of good feeling. The reeve stated that he would always remember with the keenest pleasure the period during which he had the honor to serve the municipality of Peachland. It was also a matter of great satisfaction that for three successive years the present council had been returned at each election without one change in the personnel. The officers of the municipality had always worked in harmony, and he was glad to emphasize the fact and to lay stress on the services rendered by Mr. Dryden, the clerk, whose ripe experience and expert knowledge of municipal affairs was so large a factor in the administration of the business of the district. The reeve on behalf of Mrs. Lang and himself asked his colleagues and associates to accept their deep appreciation for a most useful gift and the united

BACK RATES BETTER PAID

Irrigation Rates Coming in Better, Second Payment Due Later.

Though the receipts have not been tallied it is believed that the collections for arrears of irrigation rates will be considerably better than the collections of a year ago.

The current year's rates are divided into two payments, one due on the first of May and the other due in August. Payment of the first installment it is hoped will measure up fairly well to the payment on the full year's rates of a year ago and with another payment yet to be made the hope is expressed that the total receipts for the year will show considerable improvement over those of 1923.

The municipal treasurer, F. J. Nixon, points out that the better collections are imperative as they fall much behind last year and a marked pick-up will be necessary in order to permit the municipality to finance the system.

WELL RECEIVED BY NEIGHBORS

Summerland Operatic Society Delights Audiences in Kelowna and Penticton.

Winning the approbation of theatre-goers of Penticton and Kelowna, and covered with blushing honors, the Summerland Operatic Society has returned home, after presenting "H.M. S. Pinafore" in those towns. Let it be said that the company acquitted itself even far better than it did here, improving the opera with each presentation, while it can go on record that the quality of the performance came as a distinct surprise to our neighbors. It is to be regretted that more citizens of both of the towns visited did not witness the production, but from whatever cause it does not enhance the reputation of either from a community viewpoint. Possibly a solution may be found in the expressed opinion that nothing worth while could be produced in a town so small as ours, but the fact remains nevertheless that the crowds did not turn out as they should have done, and those who did "take a chance" were well rewarded.

At Penticton the Shafford school auditorium was about two-thirds full, at least one-third of the audience being made up of Summerland folk who were so enthusiastic over the two productions here that they followed the trail of harmony again. It was a good appreciative audience, and the applause was hearty and generous.

A large number of Summerland enthusiasts followed the company also to Kelowna, the Empress Theatre being the venue. About two hundred witnessed the production there, but what the audience lacked in numbers was made up in enthusiasm, which to the performers meant Appreciation with a capital A. Every solo and chorus was encored, while in some instances the audience were not content with three repetitions. George Benmore received a great ovation on making his first entrance, his appearance "stopping the show" as the applause rose until it welled into vociferous cheers. Mr. Benmore for many years previously had been actively associated with The Kelowna Dramatic Society, and the ovation he received on Monday night was a sterling tribute to his popularity.

Taking the encore for his solo, "For He is an Englishman," Frank Mossop raised a furore among the members of the audience from the northern counties of the homeland when he sang "For he is a Yorkshire Man," and as Ben Newton's dialect has a distinct Yorkshire flavoring the audience caught on and roared lustily. The company returned on Tuesday morning, arriving about 2 a.m., a special ferry having been chartered.

It is sincerely to be hoped that the Summerland Operatic Society is with us to stay, and that we shall have the pleasure of witnessing a performance of another opera in the near future.

O.U.G. OFFICE IS ESTABLISHED HERE

M. G. Wilson and Co. had the five-ton safe formerly used by the Bank of Montreal at Naramata brought around Monday and put in their office here. The office and records of the O.U.G. in liquidation have been transferred from Vernon to Mr. Wilson's office here and additional accommodation was necessary.

CAMPAIGN MANAGERS HAVE BEEN CHOSEN

Several local campaign managers have been appointed in the interests of Jack Logie, candidate of the Labor Party for South Okanagan. These are: Hans P. Salting, Naramata; Walter E. Morach, Peachland; Wm. Simpson, Summerland, and A. J. Bear, West Summerland. It is planned to organize other districts as soon as possible.

WILL BENEFIT B. C. GROWERS

Absolute embargo of fruit and vegetables from all those parts of California known to be infested with foot and mouth disease is being urged by the provincial department of agriculture, which has asked the federal minister of agriculture to impose similar regulations as are now being enforced by the state of Washington on the import of fruit and vegetable products from California. Vancouver Board of Trade is also pressing for such action on the part of the federal authorities. Such enactment will have a direct beneficial effect upon the vegetable and fruit industry of this province.

STUDENT BODY NAMES OFFICERS

High School Students' Council Elect Leaders for Spring Term.

Election of officers for the spring term was held by the Students' Council of the Summerland High School at the last regular meeting with the following results: president, Rhodes Elliott, by acclamation; vice-president, Robt. Darke; secretary, Muriel Steeves; treasurer, Laura McLachlan; general committee, for third year, Alvin Wilson, Edith Cunliffe; 2nd year, Eva Johnston; 1st year, Ivor Solly; general athletic committee: 3rd year, Willie Ritchie, Colin Chisholm; 2nd year, Leslie Gould; 1st year, Shelley Knowles; general literary committee: 3rd year, Harry Hobbs, Marjorie Morrison; 2nd year, Jean Moffat; 1st year, Frank Simpson. Helen White was re-elected by acclamation, editor of the High School Tonic. She will appoint the other members of the staff.

Trustee Jack Logie briefly addressed the students and asked if there was anything they wished him to bring up at the next meeting of the school board. Tennis rackets are much needed by the athletic committee and Mr. Logie promised to donate one himself and to ask the school board to provide three or four in addition.

TAKES POSITION WITH GOVERNMENT

His many friends here will be delighted to learn that Jimmy Marshall has again led his class, 1925, at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Through some slip he failed to receive notice of one examination in time and therefore had to work on a possible 1600 as compared with the total of 1700; notwithstanding this he made the best score.

GOES BACK INTO LUMBER BUSINESS

Wm. Ritchie is again doing business at his old stand on the corner which has been occupied for the past two or three years by the Community Lumber Company. Some time ago Mr. Ritchie purchased the retail yard and stock of the Summerland Lumber Company diagonally opposite his present stand and this stock, combined with that of the Community company, which he is now handling, gives him a large range. Mr. Ritchie will give special attention to box shooek business.

PAVING AT ARMSTRONG

Victoria. — Contract for paving Main Street, Armstrong, B.C., near the C.P.R. depot with eighteen foot concrete pavement has been awarded by the Public Works department to A. B. Palmer and Co. of Vancouver, who were successful over five of the tenderers, with a price of $21,151. The new pavement will extend 1,850 feet. Half of the cost will be defrayed by the Armstrong City Council.

STILL RETAIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Summerland Checker Players Have Not Yet Met with Defeat.

Another interesting checker tournament was held here last Thursday evening when a Peachland team met six Summerland players, the result being 29-19 in favor of the home team.

The Peachland men brought with them D. Leckie of Kelowna, recognized as the best checker player in the Okanagan Valley. The privilege of including Mr. Leckie in their number was granted by the Summerland players. Mr. Leckie missed the boat coming south from Kelowna but crossed by ferry and was met by a Peachland car. This resulted in their arriving late in Summerland and playing did not begin until about ten o'clock. As a consequence four only out of the usual six games were played, Young and Ramsay being unable to play Mr. Leckie in the regular match.

To C. E. McCutcheon fell the honor of defeating Mr. Leckie, although several non-match games were won from him between the schedule games.

Counting two points for a win and one for a draw the result was as follows:

Peachland	3	1	0	6
Leckie	2	2	0	4
Dryden	1	2	1	3
Buchanan	1	3	0	2
Miller	1	3	0	2
McMillan	1	3	0	2
Morsh	0	2	2	2
Total	8	13	3	19

	W	L	D	P
Young	4	0	0	8
Ramsay	3	0	1	7
McCutcheon	3	1	0	6
Beattie	1	2	1	3
Harding	1	2	1	3
Jackson	1	3	0	2
Total	13	8	3	29

Locally there are two rival teams, each claiming local championship. One group known as "Beattie's Bulldogs," includes W. Beattie, R. Purves, A. J. Beer, G. Harding, H. K. Lott and W. McMillan; the other, styled "Young's Tigers," includes T. B. Young, T. A. Walden, T. Ramsay, R. S. Jackson, E. R. Butler and C. E. McCutcheon. It is expected that these two will meet in a tournament at an early date.

NARAMATA WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING

The regular meeting of May 6th was made most interesting by the following items: a successful sale of spring plants and vegetables; the report of the provincial convention, very ably presented by the delegate, Mrs. Horswill, and which brought forth much interesting discussion.

Mrs. Cargill gave a paper on Educational government, which was so splendid from every angle that the meeting voted that it should be sent to the Agricultural Journal, our official organ, for publication.

Miss Glasser gave an enjoyable reading, and the meeting closed with the national anthem.

TRAIN DELAYED BY DERAILED FREIGHT

Kettle Valley east bound train arrived here ten hours late on Tuesday. It was held up about three miles west of Princeton by a freight train which had gone off the track. The track was clear for No. 11 west bound which left here at noon on that day.

OILING ROAD SURFACE IN NORTH OKANAGAN

Grading, gravelling and oiling a two-mile section of Long Lake drive, near Vernon, is being done by the provincial government, the cost to be $2,750.

Many Tastefully Decorated Stalls Filled with a Great Variety of Articles to Tempt Buyers — Formally Opened by J. W. Jones, M.L.A. — Reeve Campbell Touches on Hospital Finances — Gross Receipts Run Close to Seven Hundred Dollars for Sales, Afternoon Tea, Supper and Dance — Women Grateful.

Empire Hall was the scene of much activity on Wednesday afternoon and evening on the occasion of the bazaar held by the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary. Nine stalls had been provided and each displayed some original touch in costuming and decoration.

Arts and Crafts, in charge of Miss Vicary, gowned in the pottery student's costume, was a revelation to many who have not before had an opportunity to appreciate fully the work in cottage industries being done by this league. Specimens of basket work of varied design and of many types of the product of the potter's wheel made up a most attractive stall.

The Old Curiosity Shop, presided over by Mrs. Fosbery and Miss Cartwright was well patronized, the vendors being attired in costume of the period, while Miss Mona Winter, also assisting, represented Little Nell of Dicken's Old Curiosity Shop.

The children's ware stall, attended by Mrs. Stark and Mrs. T. P. Thorner was artistically decorated with an abundance of beautiful daffodils.

An attendance of twenty-nine of thirty-two members at the meeting of the Game Association held last week shows considerable interest on the part of game lovers. The following resolutions were passed at this meeting, and are being forwarded to the convention shortly to be held at Vernon.

That the opening of the pheasant season be changed to November 1st and the period continued for thirty days to allow of fruit growers enjoying some shooting with out the possible neglect of harvesting their crops.

That the opening of the quail season be the same as for pheasants but extending to December 15th, the bag for season to be one hundred birds, as they are very plentiful.

That the hon pheasant season be for three days, bag limit two birds per day.

That the Naramata association will be pleased to receive dates and season for duck shooting in the Penticton district.

That the convention be urged to take all possible steps towards the improvement of fishing in Okanagan Lake, both by restocking same, and by enforcing the close season regulations.

That the same regulations as last year govern grouse shooting (including blues) the season being from September 15th to October 23rd, bag limit as before.

That the bag for deer be restricted to one buck and one doe, to be shot in order named.

That this meeting desires to impress on the convention the necessity of taking steps to exterminate all predatory animals and birds, and that all surplus funds accruing to the Game Conservation Board be applied for this purpose. To this end it is suggested that experienced hunters be employed throughout the year, and that they should guard against violation of the Game Act.

Mr. Robertson, game warden, addressed the meeting and gave many interesting points on local conditions.

The secretary, Mr. Stallard, invites correspondence from any persons interested.

The Union church service on Sunday was conducted by the Rev. H. (Continued on Page 8) while a magnificent window-box of these spring beauties made a beautiful background. Many dainty and useful garments for the little folk were here to be had.

Mauve and white formed the color scheme of the ladies' ware and apron stall, with which was combined the fancy work stall and at which Mrs. Wright, Mrs. G. H. Inglis, Mrs. W. Inglis, Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Lumsden, in old-time costume, presided.

Capable cooks in correct and appropriate costumes were Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. Walden, who had charge of the pantry stall, at which were to be had many toothsome cakes, bread, and pies and an abundance of other good things.

At the dairy stall, Mrs. M. Tait and Mrs. Ottley, as dairy maids sold the products of the dairy. This stall was prettily trimmed in green and white. Ice cream was sold here.

The ever-popular candy stall, in charge of Mrs. O'Mahoney and the Girl Guides, in costume, displayed their emblem, the sunflower, while a large treffoil, the Guide pin, formed a conspicuous part of the decorations.

An attractive display of things both dainty and novel were to be found at the Novelties table, in charge of the Rangers, where the Ranger colors of black and orange were much in evidence.

A miscellaneous stall, in charge of Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Blewett, proved popular, while the Scouts did their share in selling small swigger canes, which were quickly disposed of.

Naramata Women's Unity Club, who had also asked that they might assist by holding a booth, were in charge of a general stall of useful and dainty articles, presided over by Mrs. Manchester, Mrs. Routh, Mrs. Nuttall and Mrs. Noyes.

Across the hall, the C.G.I.T. had arranged an especially quaint Japanese tea room, lavishly furnished with lanterns of many colors, Oriental rugs and hangings, while all about were arranged low couches where one partook of delicious tea, seated Japanese fashion.

A helpful and unique innovation was the parcel stall in charge of Miss Cooper, with a nominal fee, while the magic goose and fish pond under the Baptist C.G.I.T. group afforded much amusement and interest.

Another feature which proved most fascinating to those with a desire to fathom the future was a fortune-telling booth, where Madame Rigolletti related much of interest concerning the course of events in store for those who sought her advice.

Ice cream was sold during the afternoon and was greatly in demand.

In the afternoon and evening a raffle was held, the ladies prize of a beautiful table runner being won by Miss Ruth Dale, while J. Strother held the lucky ticket in the gentleman's drawing.

ASSOCIATED TO SETTLE POLICY

Advisory Committee, Directors and Shareholders Are Meeting.

Reports from the different locals as forwarded to Vernon show gains in almost every district as the results of canvass for greater tonnage for the Associated, but definite figures are not available until all reports are in and the data reduced to percentages.

The advisory committee of the Associated is meeting today and the directors will meet on Monday next. The adjourned annual meeting of the shareholders of the Associated will be held on Wednesday of next week. At these meetings the whole question of organization and general policy will be definitely settled.

ALCOHOL AND GASOLINE.

Unfortunately this fair valley has a few citizens who believe it their right and privilege to get loaded up at a government liquor store or from the bottle of some bootlegger and speed along our highways without thought of other motorists or of pedestrians.

The Victoria Times commented on a recent Seattle speed maniac tragedy in its editorial column and the editorial is reproduced here in the hope that it may reach some of the few speed maniacs of the Okanagan.

The Victoria Times editorial reads:

A family of seven set out in their motor car from their home in Los Angeles on a holiday trip to British Columbia. In Seattle Sunday night the sixteen-year-old son went for a drive around town, met two friends and visited a bootlegger.

An hour later the family car had been wrecked and the son was in jail on a man-slaughter charge. With his brain crazed he drove his car full speed into a crowd coming out of a theatre. He hit one man so hard he sent him whirling in the air. The man had been killed instantly.

Even after that the youth drove furiously down a traffic crowded street until the ride came to an end when the car had a wheel torn off in turning a corner and was smashed against a bulkhead. The holiday tour has ended with the mother visiting her son in jail.

No safe way has yet been found of mixing alcohol and gasoline outside of the laboratory.

The coming campaign may reasonably be counted upon to prove that those who would live in white houses shouldn't pull bones.

KEEP THE HIGHWAYS CLEAR.

Our highways should be kept free of noxious signs of various kinds and characters.

It is an obvious fact that highways should be clearly and adequately marked, especially those used for motor traffic.

But it is also apparent that the highways should not be cluttered up with various markings and signs that tend to confusion and hazards of the traveling public.

For example, some unscrupulous vendor puts up a monstrous sign "Stop" in large letters and an advertisement in smaller ones. Such road signs are nuisances.

To make travel safe and easy the roads should be absolutely free of all but directions and explanations which the authorities find necessary.

All advertising signs should be back sixty feet from the highway lines. Such action would allow the motorist to drive along with intelligence and security.

The spring drives have been opened up by the motorists.

APPLE COSTS.

Creston Review: The question of just what it costs to grow a box of apples has frequently come up for discussion in the Okanagan and it is understood to have varied from about 80 cents to $1.20 per box.

Over in Okanagan county, Washington, the district horticulturist has just completed figures for that district showing that in 1923 it cost $1.27 1/4 per box, after all the charges for labor and material have been figured in.

The figure is based on an average yield of 370 boxes to the acre. Growers showed quite a variance in ideas, many not figuring interest on the capital invested or their own labor costs.

A friend is a person who tells you of your mistakes if they are worth noticing and keeps still if they are not.

Directors of the Woolworth five-and-ten-cent stores now value the company's "good will" at 20 million dollars. "Good will" is an invisible asset. It is, to a business, what reputation is to the individual. A business may lose its last dollar—everything tangible that it owns. But, as long as it retains its reputation for fair dealing and merit, there is still a lot to salvage. So with people, reputation is the best form of wealth. Good will is the direct heir of good service.

The Second Column

HOW TO BUILD UP SUMMERLAND.

Building a community is everybody's job. The home owner, the landlord, the merchant, the housewife, the minister, the doctor, the school principal, the school board, the civic authorities—in fact, everyone with a distinct home interest must play his part. The local newspaper is the point of contact through which these various elements must function and express themselves. The home town publication is a mirror of the life of the community, inspiring, suggesting, helping and usually sacrificing a great deal to the general work of upbuilding. It is the concentrated reflection of the home town interest, as opposed to activities in its midst, whose sole aim is to take the home town dollar out of town and attach it to the bank account of some foreign corporation.

The appeal of the foreign corporation for the home town dollar is usually an appeal to cupidity camouflaged as safe and economical buying. For the most part it is made in secret—direct by mail—the circular, the booklet, the disguised mimeographed letter systematically prepared by expert mail salesmen, with the usual "follow-ups" destined to extract and carry away to the distant bank account the money of the unthinking. The very secrecy of the appeal is its own condemnation.

It is amazing to note how slow is the average newspaper reader to appreciate the value of frank and open newspaper advertising. Not only in this way is the housewife enabled to learn what the market has to offer, but in the frank open advertisement lies an absolute security from exploitation. Newspaper advertising is the housewife's weekly insurance. The day has passed when the advertiser dare be dishonest. The statements in an advertisement are shouted from the housetops. They are too easily checked up. They become the guarantee of service and of honest dealing. The direct-by-mail appeal is like the secret whisper passed from ear to ear but without any general publicity that ensures complete honesty of statement. As a rule, its underlying principle is sinister. To supplement and become a part of any well-organized campaign it has its value, but standing alone it should arouse suspicion rather than confidence.

LET'S HAVE THE BEST.

Pay a better salary for a better teacher and give the incompetent teacher an opportunity to go away and fit herself to become a good teacher in some other community. Do not employ a poor teacher at any price.

The hard thing about making money last is making money first.

Keep Codling Moth Out

By B. HOY

Though codling moth has been known in the Okanagan Valley for more than ten years, it has not, so far, become a general pest: a great many fruit growers have never seen one. This state of affairs is extremely fortunate, and is not enjoyed by any other district on the continent, that has been producing fruit on as large a scale, for as many years as the Okanagan. Many do not realize it, but should they make a study of fruit growing conditions in the large producing sections of the United States and eastern Canada, they would at once be impressed with the enormous losses caused by this insect—the most serious insect pest of the apple and pear. A loss of 25 per cent in most of these districts is not at all exaggerating the seriousness of this pest. Besides this tremendous loss of fruit there is the added cost of control measures.

The Okanagan has been kept free of codling moth through the prompt and effective measures taken by the provincial department of agriculture. While to date the measures employed have been effective, codling moth control is becoming a more difficult and expensive task each year.

When the trees were younger and quarantine areas fewer and smaller, the codling moth was eradicated from some of our districts, but it was no sooner cleaned out of one place than it was found in another. At the present time there are four separate infestations in the Okanagan, some of them including hundreds of acres. Just how many years will pass before it will be considered by growers generally a pest to be dealt with, is difficult to predict; but the indications now are that codling moth is with us to stay, and the sooner this is generally realized by all concerned the better.

There is no doubt that if the seriousness of the pest could be properly impressed on the minds of fruit growers it would be a long time before it would ever become an established pest in the Okanagan Valley. At the present time, the percentage of infestation is so small it is almost negligible. With this knowledge and also the knowledge that it is universally agreed by apple growers and entomologists, that the codling moth is the most serious insect pest of apples, most people should be convinced of the advisability of adopting these methods that will hold this serious pest in check. If every apple grower would include a couple of recognized codling moth sprays in his spraying program each year there is no doubt that it would materially assist in preventing the codling moth from spreading and becoming firmly established in the Okanagan.

Dependence on the government quarantine is not enough; too much reliance is, owing to success in the past, placed on those measures. With the larger acreage, larger trees, and larger tonnage of fruit than in former years, eradication and even control is very much more difficult. While certain quarantine measures will help in the control of codling moth, if this pest is to be held in check, more spraying with poison sprays will have to be done. The only spray and cover sprays needed for codling moth control also hold in check other leaf-eating insects such as bud-moth and lesser apple worm. These two insects account for much cull fruit.

Now is the time to begin spraying for codling moth; not after it has become firmly established in every orchard and commenced to endanger your crop. To wait until it has become general throughout the district before commencing to spray is poor business. We have enough codling moth now to consider it one of our insect pests, and warrant each grower to spray for its control.

OPENLY VIOLATING LIQUOR LAWS

Vancouver.—The high price of cement is keeping out vast sums of American capital from this city and other places of the province, according to representatives of the capitalists, who refuse to be gouged by what they call the "Canadian Cement Trust." One visiting American selected the site for a proposed apartment house but changed his plans, he says, because he would not pay the price demanded for cement. Another syndicate with building plans contemplated for Main Street, have postponed their plans until they see the price of cement dropping to a reasonable figure.

Apologetic Advertising

A very genteel old lady who fell on evil days was compelled to hawk fish for a living. "I cry it very softly, my dear; I don't want people to hear me!" she apologized to a friend.

Crying it very softly is characteristic of a good deal of advertising which finds it impossible to strike a happy medium between saying nothing and shrieking like a fog-horn. Even in the case of fog-horns, it has been found that a low, insistent note repeated frequently at regular intervals produces better results than a prolonged cyclonic blast; but because the blast is still favored by some advertisers, there are merchants and manufacturers who regard advertising as something not very genteel. They either ignore it altogether, so far as its expression in printer's ink is concerned, or use it in an emasculated form from which all life and vitality have been squeezed.

Probably of all forms of advertising, the apologetic, "very soft" type is the least valuable.—Marketing.

Gladys (meaningly)—It's a good thing we can't see ourselves as others see it.

PUBLISHERS RATES FOR "FREE PUFFS"

Some rather unusual editorial generosity has been shown by a publisher of a certain weekly newspaper in an effort to standardize his service in the matter of free puffs so frequently demanded of editors. Here is his published schedule for such service: "Here you will find a schedule of prices from which no deviation will be made, but we hope to donate a certain percentage of our earnings toward an asylum for those feeble-minded people who believe an editor has a soft snap.

"Referring to one as a hero and a man of courage and one who will stand by his convictions when everybody knows he is a moral coward and would sell out for a dime, $4.12.

"Referring to some gossipy female as an estimable lady whom it is a pleasure to meet and know, when every man in town would rather see Satan coming, $3.10.

GIVES ADVICE TO RETAILERS

Compares Merchandising to the Power Planet of An Automobile

A man who knows the retail store business in its many phases comments thus on the use of space in the merchants local paper:—

A merchant who jumps in and out of the advertising columns of his local paper gets about the same results as a motorist would get were he to pull the spark plugs out of a couple of cylinders of his four cylinder motor. He wouldn't enjoy the long straight, ever-increasingly powerful pull of his motor; he would go by jerks and stops. And since advertising is the spark plug that ignites the desire of the prospective customer to keep the motive power of the merchant's store pulling steadily, how can that merchant expect his business to pull straight along if he slips out a couple of advertising spark plugs every once in a while.

Modern merchandising parallels peculiarly, the automobile power plant. Feed a good trade of gas into a properly functioning carburetor, let it be efficiently ignited by well cleaned spark plugs, and the rest of the mechanism is apt to do its work, and not too much of the power producing units will go out of the gas exhaust manifolds.

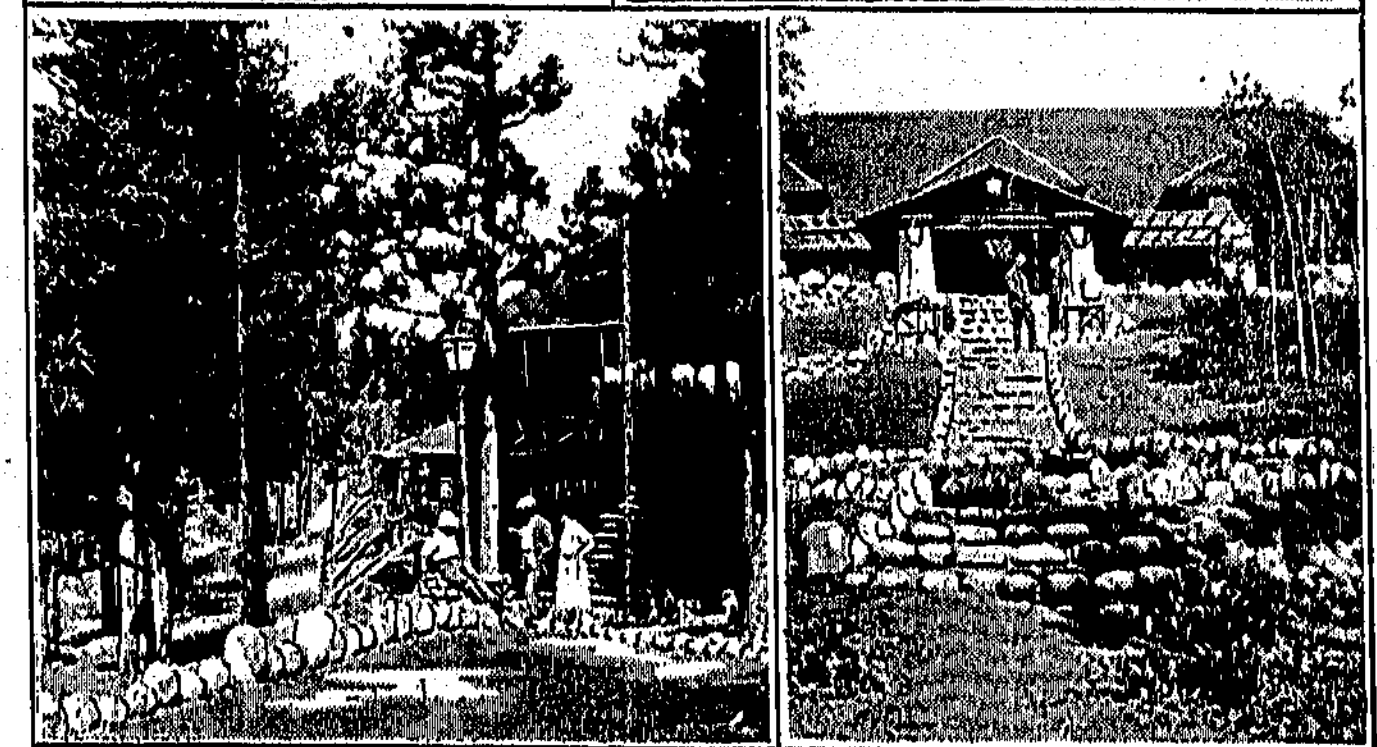

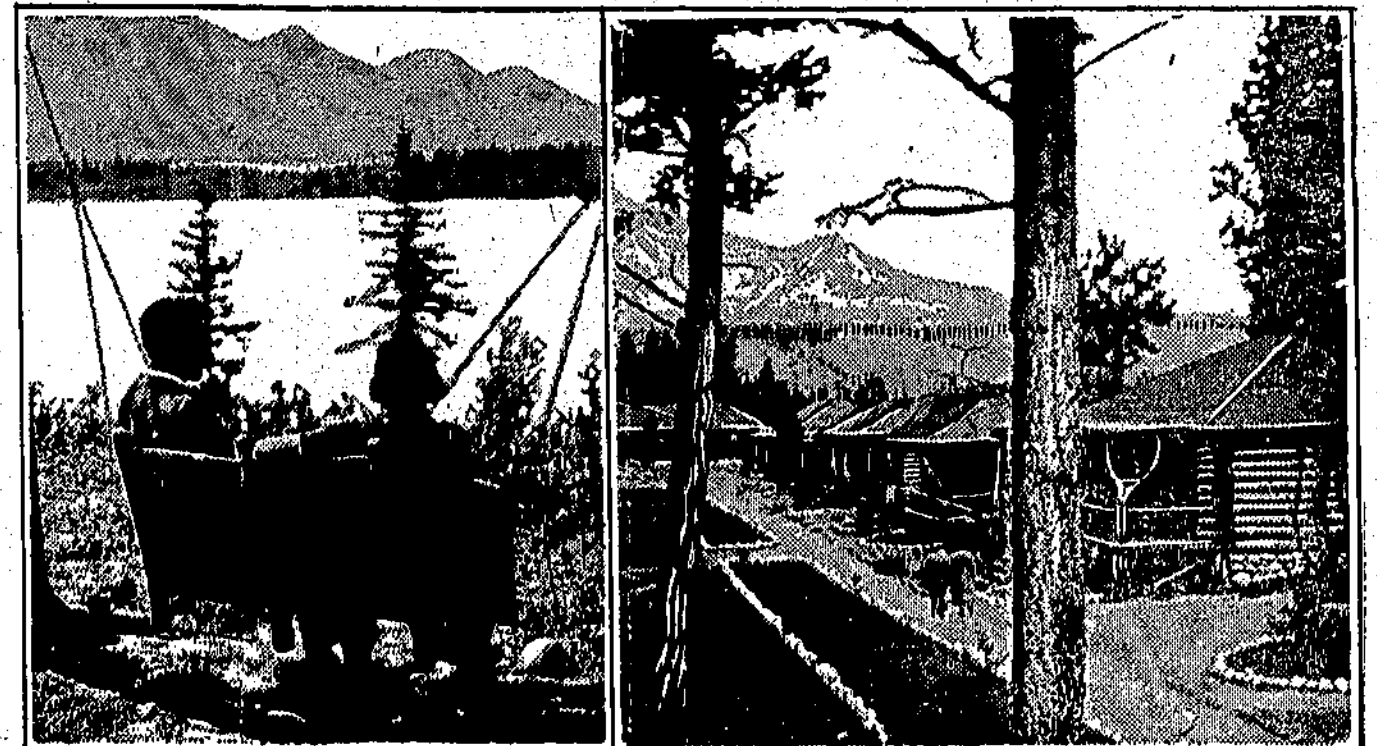

Just the same with the retail store. Appropriate a reasonable amount of money for advertising space in your local newspaper, let it "spark" regularly before your buying public, and the staff behind the counter can see to it that the stock is turned with consistent regularity and "dead" merchandise is held at a minimum. Small space consistently, continuously and intelligently used is a better foundation for retail merchandising than big space spurts and equally big dead spots in the continuity of your story.

The shortest day in the year, is the one before a note falls due.

The man who is a great man to his neighbours, is a very great man indeed.

It's a very real pleasure to tuck the children in bed, if you can manage to keep awake until the children come in.—Kingston British Whig.

CANADA'S NATIONAL PLAYGROUND

CANADIANS are fortunate in their National Parks, in that they have within their borders Alpine scenery which is not equalled anywhere on the continent, and more and more they are realizing that holidays in Canada hold for the lover of out-of-doors all the thrills that could be found anywhere in the world. Jasper National Park in the Canadian Rockies, contains many high peaks, eternally snowcapped, and on the sides of the mountains are glaciers which have stood the test of ages. Millions of tons of ice, stretching in some instances, almost as far as the eye can see, lure the adventurous climber to new attempts, while in the calm, peaceful valleys wild game of all kinds live at peace with mankind and the world.

Additional bungalows for the accommodation of guests are to be erected at Jasper Park Lodge, the log-cabin hostelry of the Canadian National Railways at Jasper National Park, in time for the opening of the 1924 season, it is announced by officials of the Hotel Department, Canadian National Railways. During last season the popularity of Jasper National Park was so great that the capacity of Jasper Park Lodge was taxed, and the additional bungalows being provided this year will take care of almost fifty per cent. more guests. Four 4-room bungalows, each room with bath, and two 12-room bungalows, each room also having private bath, are being erected. In addition, a double-deck bathhouse, with the upper floor for conventions, and dancing, is being constructed, and an octagonal curio building is being built near the main Lodge. Four new buildings are being erected to serve as employees' quarters, the kitchens are being extended, and the main lounge is being extended to provide for a ladies' reception room and for a men's billiard and card room.

 LAND ACT AMENDMENTS
PRE-EMPTIONS
 Vacant, unreserved, surveyed
 Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age,
 and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.
 Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series,
 "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge
 by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.
 Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.
 Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land-Recording Division, in which the land applied for
 is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.
 Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.
 For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE
 Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved
 Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes, minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin
 No. 19, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands." Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timberland, not exceeding 40 acres,
 may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.
HOMESITE LEASES
 Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20
 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled
 and land has been surveyed.
LEASES
 For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.
GRAZING
 Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts
 and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free permits are available for settlers, farmers and travellers, up to ten head.

J. W. Jones Opens Campaign
 Here For His Re-Election

 ties. At all times he had endeavored to keep out of party politics. Now on the eve of an election he felt it was only right that he should delve into the condition of the government.

Mr. Jones referred to the unsatisfactory conditions of affairs in the Okanagan and of the markets for our fruits and asked why it was that thousands are leaving the province every year. The government is aware of this condition, he said. Two hundred thousand people had gone from Canada to United States last year and official figures placed the emigration from B.C. as 26,000 but it was more than likely 40,000 or 50, 000. If the conditions are not satisfactory why are no steps being taken to improve them?

Okanagan's Great Need
 Mr. Jones declared he does not believe there is an overproduction of fruit. It is the duty of the department of agriculture, he said, to secure markets. Mr. Grant is the only agent British Columbia has so employed. Half our fruit crop had to be exported. There is an investment of from forty to fifty million dollars in the fruit industry of this province and the government should have awakened long ago to the needs of the industry. Of how much assistance has the minister of agriculture been to our fruit industry?

The speaker referred to the loan of a quarter of a million dollars made to the fruit growers by the McBride government, not one dollar of which had been lost. British Columbia, he said, maintains an office in London.
 He described Mr. Wade, the agent-general, as a capable, energetic, efficient business-like man, yet the minister of agriculture had never taken any action to make use of his services for the fruit growers. Mr.
 Jones, said he had protested against this indifference and to his question as to what Mr. Wade was supposed to be doing was told he was in London to get people and money, but, asked Mr. Jones, is he getting them?
 Emigrants are going to South Africa and Australia and not coming to B.C.

Fails to Use Facilities
 The office of the agent-general should be the central marketing office for British Columbia fruit, distributing our apples throughout the British Isles and in the markets of Europe. It was pitiable, Mr. Jones declared, that the minister of agriculture took no interest in the British Columbia fruit industry.

He told of repeated efforts he had made to obtain assistance for Kelown growers who wished to take up dairying and he had suggested to the government that they buy cows and sell them on easy terms to the farmers, whose cream would be marketed through the creamery, this latter to be responsible to the government for retaining a portion of the money to pay for the animals. Not until after much effort was he able to obtain an answer, which was to the effect that the minister of agriculture was surprised that the Okanagan should ask for such assistance, yet similar assistance was being given to others elsewhere. Further pressed, Mr. Barrow, the minister had come to the Okanagan and went away with a promise to send the livestock commissioner to Kelowna, the outcome being that the latter offered to purchase some cows on which the farmers would be required to pay 20 per cent down and the balance in three years at 7 1/2 per cent. This was finally amended, on representation of Mr. Jones, to 10 per cent down and an interest rate of 6 1/2 per cent. Mr. Jones' complaint was that the government had to be almost forced to take this action here.

Ruinous Imports
 The speaker deplored the large amount of agricultural products imported by B.C., $17,000,000 worth annually of bacon, butter, beef, etc., 8,000,000 pounds of butter in one year. The speaker said there are only 150,000 milk cows in the province and there should be nearly a million. The value of agricultural products had dropped $13,000,000 in one year.

It is strange, declared Mr. Jones, that we do not control our own fruit markets. Vancouver, he said, had imported 145,000 crates of stone fruits from the United States last year; 1,068 carloads of American fruit had come into British Columbia for distribution. Last year 264 cars had gone through to Alberta, 296 cars to Saskatchewan, 430 cars to Manitoba, in addition to 72 carloads of strawberries and 6 of raspberries, in all 110 cars more that were brought into Vancouver in 1922 for re-shipment to the prairies.

Mr. Jones referred to his efforts in the House in the session of 1922 to obtain protection against dumping of American fruit, when he proposed a resolution to be sent to the Federal government. This was defeated, purely on party lines. The premier the minister of agriculture, and K. C. MacDonald M.L.A. for North Okanagan, voted against the proposed anti-dumping resolution.

Losing a Golden Opportunity Forty-one thousand five hundred dollars had been voted by the legislature for the sending of exhibits to the British Empire exhibition and Mr. Jones had been assured that an exhibit of fruit would be included.
 He was astounded later to learn that there would be nobody in charge of this and sarcastically referred to the wonderful economy practised by the government. They could blow in $4, 000,000 in the Oliver district but could not send a man over with the B.C. fruit exhibit to talk up B. C.
 Further pressed by Mr. Jones in the House, the minister of lands had said that the man going over with the timber exhibit could look after the fruit. Imagine him, said Mr. Jones, to tell the people of this valley!

The speaker said he had offered to submit the names of twenty good liberals, anyone of whom would have been capable of handling the exhibit and represent our fruit industry. He could have boosted for the Oliver settlement and done much good for the province, but nobody was sent.
 Recently the federal government had wired F. R. E. DeHart, Kelowna, asking him to go as representative of the Canadian fruit industry. Mr.

 DeHart had offered to represent British Columbia but only received a curt reply declining his offer.

Provincial Finances
 Mr. Jones described the present financial situation of the province as very grave. In 1903 the provincial debt was $7,000,000. In the thirteen years of Conservative government ending 1916 it had grown less than a million a year. He described the situation today as so desperate that he and his associates almost shrank from the situation that will confront them after the election.

In 1916 the old government had an annual expenditure of $9,000, 000. Today it is nearly $21,000,000.
 The present government had raised $105,000,000 in taxes in seven years but that did not meet their needs and they had borrowed a further $52,000,000 up to November last.
 Since the House adjourned they have borrowed another $2,000,000 and now have an overdraft of $4,000,000 with the bank, a total of $163,000, 000 since 1916. When the present government came into power there was a net debt of $19,687,000. At November last it had grown to $59,
 000,000 and today it was $65,000, 000. This is why the finances are in such serious condition.

The people cannot stand more taxes. They are leaving the province and no capital is going into industry for fear of taxation. Twenty-two million dollars in short term loans will soon be due and to meet these more taxes will have to be imposed.
 Where is this money gone? asked Mr.
 Jones. At a later date he would deal with this subject. Much of it is beyond recovery.

Defines Policy of Conservatives
 He deplored the weak policy of the government with respect to settling the Oliver district. Twenty-five acres of land was all that was sold there last year and practically no effort had been made in advertising or otherwise to obtain settlers.
 In closing, Mr. Jones promised that his party, which, he said, would be returned to power, will revive the agricultural credits policy, as he believed the province needs aid of that kind. Of the money loaned under this policy prior to the election of the Oliver government, not a dollar had been lost. This method of increasing agriculture had been found successful in other countries.

Extension of the markets for fruits was another promise made by Mr.
 Jones. Agents would be placed on the prairies and overseas and his party would be prepared to stand behind the fruit growers.
 The transprovincial highway will be built and will not cost the ratepayers one cent. The present government had been playing with this question for years. Prior to the election of 1920 early completion had been promised; now again on the eve of another election further promises are made with the statement that the route will not be decided until after election.

Satisfactory settlement of the irrigation problem is also promised by Mr. Jones. In the United States the government has made loans to be repaid over a long term and without interest. He believed that water can be given to the grower at six or eight dollars per acre. His party will see that farmers are tied to the land and that discontent and despair cease.

He again asked for the support always accorded him in Summerland.

Says Jones in High Esteem
 J. W. Jones stands high not only as one of the leaders of the party but in the esteem of the people of British Columbia as a man of integrity and great ability and will be called upon to take heavy responsibilities following the next election declared R. L. Maitland, in opening his address and he was sure that Mr.
 Jones will administer his department well.

During the day the speaker had been given great insight into the problems of the irrigated district by Mr. Jones. He would return to the Coast with one more battle to fight, that of the fruit growers. Mr. Maitland declared that the people at the Coast do not realize the situation.
 "Neither," he said, "do you up here realize our lumbering, mining, fishing and agricultural problems."

The speaker declared that he will not attack any man personally but he proposed to show that the present government had not fulfilled its promises.

He paid tribute to the sterling quality of Mr. Brewster, who led the present government to victory in 1916. He was a true liberal and, declared the speaker, the liberal party have some wonderful old traditions behind them and it is the duty of the party to see that its leaders live up to them.

Charges Failure to Keep Promises
 The speaker then took the 1916 platform of the present government and undertook to show how that not a single plank had been lived up to.
 First, non-partisan civil service commission. The speaker noted that fifty-seven members of the provincial party gathering had been taken care of.

Second, abolition of one-man government. For eight years J. W. deB.
 Farris had had more enjoyment out of fooling the public than ever Barnum got. As an instance of the one-man government tactics and his big stick policy, Mr. Maitland told that of the action of the attorney-general, following the protest of the movie theatres against the amusement tax.
 A certain theatre in Vancouver had been using the screen to tell its patrons of the injustice of the tax and the manager was coolly notified by the attorney-general that if he allowed films or slides to be used referring to the tax or to the government he would cancel his license.

The speaker then named a number of liberals who had shown more or less independence of thought who were not even given a chance of re-election at the next election, and strongly derided the autocratic methods of the party boss.

Controlled by Liquor Interests Third, impartial administration of justice. Neither had this promise been fulfilled, said the speaker, who declared that Mr. Bowser, during his regime had given the most fearless administration of justice ever known. Mr. Manson on the other hand, had failed to prosecute supporters under the infraction of the Elections Act, and had even had the charge withdrawn without a hearing.

 There were 105 arrests last year in Vancouver for selling beer; about 5 of these had been sent to jail.
 Was this impartial administration?

He referred to Mr. Farris and the Findlay case and to the fast and loose policy of the government.

The government knows the limitations of a man to consume beer, yet one man in Vancouver from March, 1921, to September, 1922, had bought $35,153 worth of beer from the government store.

Another plank in the platform was economy and the speaker compared sources of revenue 1916 and 1924 to illustrate his claims of government extravagance instead of economy. Many new sources had been found, amusement tax, poll tax, Moderation Act, race tracks, increases in fire insurance, personal property and game license charges. The people, declared the speaker, are taxed on every opportunity.

Growing Costs of Government
 He then went on to show the

"A Snapper Up of Unconsidered Trifles."
 * * * * *
 The Winter's Tale,
 Scene II, Act IV

I came across a paragraph the other day which struck me as being particularly pertinent to a question of civility now being ven-
COURTESY tilted in a Vancouver weekly. An American chauffeur, crossing the international line into the province of Quebec, says, "We checked in as soon as I could find our grouchy customs officer, and half an hour later got our thirty day ticket across the border from a Canadian who greeted us smilin', and said he hoped we'd enjoy our stay. The boss noticed the difference in the two." Now this little passage formed no part of any attempt at propaganda—it is merely a sentence occurring in a short story, written by an American writer and published in an American weekly which is very widely known. Taken in conjunction with certain Vancouver complaints concerning discourtesy on the part of American Customs officials in that city, it seems rather significant. It is alleged that visitors from the other side are "bullied and bulldozed" in the customs office and that "some turn back in disgust". This kind of thing seems so extraordinary as to be almost incredible, but it so happens that a few weeks ago, I was told by a friend just back from the other side that the reception she and her lady companion received in the Vancouver office was so insulting that she personally reprimanded the officer, and demanded—and received—an apology under threat of a report to headquarters. The lady assured me that the official's behaviour was so discourteous that she was amazed. This happened some weeks ago, but judging from correspondence to the press from recent visitors the same discourtesy still exists. "The Canadian who greeted us smilin'" is a very refreshing contrast.

This is the description given by Richard Washburn Child to that instinct which operates in the carrying on of human beliefs, "THE SHEEP and renders their continuity possible. Next to the wish to believe certain propositions, he places this tendency in the forefront of all the elements of credulity, and gives several instances of its workings. Among them is the story of the Angels of Mons, which was an entirely fictitious incident in a tale written by a young Englishman during the war, but which was made the subject of a sermon by a London preacher, and from that time was accepted as a fact by thousands of people, notwithstanding the explanation of the writer that it was a purely imaginary incident. By some persons his denial of its actual happening was discounted on the ground that he was the unconscious agent through whom the truth was revealed, and no explanations had any weight whatever. Similar reasoning was used in the Houdini episode, when that skilful conjurer would free himself from a box thrown into the water, and emerge after a few moments, swimming to the surface. In this case Mr. Child's remark on the ingenuity of the trick was not by one man with the calm assurance that it was no trick, but an actual tomartization, and he very reasonably asks, What are we going to do about it.

A perusal of Conan Doyle's book, "The New Revelation" shows a current of this wish to believe, running throughout to a remarkable extent, and also not a little of the sheep mind which generally accompanies it. Thus the fact that the same sort of "information" concerning the hereafter has been recorded by mediums in various parts of the world, to his mind constitutes an argument for their truth instead of being just such an agreement as we should expect from people who already know what had previously been reported by others. And he accepts holus bolus the report of one Monsieur Jaccollet concerning occult phenomena among the fakirs of India, despite the fact that all the manifestations he describes have been repeatedly shown by different jugglers at various places. Levitation of the body, which is mentioned as one of the occult achievements, used to be demonstrated daily in the old Egyptian Hall, Piccadilly, and in that same building I have seen live goldfish caught from midday by rod and line, and taken wriggling from the hook after every cast. But I knew I was being deceived. Conan Doyle says of the Jaccollet report, "All this impressed me very much,"—not because of the ingenuity displayed, which would be a legitimate subject for admiration—but because "here we had, independently, the same results as in Europe without any question of fraud!"

 Well, if ever there was a complete begging of the whole question, it can be found in this conclusion.

The chief thing noticeable in the recent horseracing episode is the apparent willingness of the promoters to risk the introduction
A VICTORIA of disease into this produce of the winter's alleged sport.
 We are forced to conclude that this was so from the fact that every effort was made to take advantage of the opening which existed before the Federal embargo was secured, and to bring in a string of American racers at all risks. This attitude on the part of sportsmen does not commend itself to the public mind—when it is remembered that the introduction of foot and mouth disease would mean disaster for the whole province, it seems as though the really sportsmanlike stand would have been a prompt cancellation of proceedings by the promoters, instead of the unwilling acquiescence we have seen.

Another unsatisfactory feature brought to the front is the evident helplessness of our own racing enthusiasts to hold a meeting without the importation of most of the racers from over the border. It is claimed that horseracing and horse breeding go hand in hand, and that the latter is the end and aim of the former.
 That is probably true as far as some other countries are concerned, but it does not seem to apply very far in Canada. If Victoria has to bring eighty per cent of the entire showing from California, and failing that, is compelled to call off the event, as in the present case, it is open to suggest that a little more attention be paid to the producing end of this pastime of Kings, and the attainment of a position which will be of more national credit. The breeding of good horses is a fine objective—the annual importation of a string of American racers as a foundation for a week of betting, does not strike one as being nearly so good.

"Desert natives provide feast stranded airmen" was the heading of a news item the other day, telling of the forced descent
A PLEASING of Major MacLaren in REVERSAL the Sindh Desert.
 Probably a good many readers of this caption noted the reversal indicated on conditions of old days, when stray travellers were generally supposed to provide feasts for the desert natives, being themselves the chief item on the menu! Of course it is possible that a traveller descending from the clouds, as it were, might escape that culinary finish by sheer force of awe in the savage mind, and I think I remember that one of W. Stephen Hayward's heroes, descending from a deflated balloon, was straightway hailed as a god by the tribe to whose society he was unwillingly introduced.
 But I suppose to the present day desert natives such a thing as an aeroplane is a more commonplace detail, and the MacLaren feast, where "all sat round in a circle crosslegged, and with their fingers consumed rice, meat, and other village delicacies" was purely one of friendship of the ordinary kind. I wish, however, that the reporter had been rather more lavish in his details of the "other village delicacies," since rice and meat leave much to the imagination.
 And it is stretching a point to write of "consuming" with the fingers!

 greatly increased cost of maintaining the several departments of administration. Mr. Maitland declared there was no reason or cause for the steady increase in expenditure from 1920 to 1924. When the people were crying for relief there was a big increase in expenditure.

The next phase of the 1916 platform dealt with was development of natural resources. Since then there had not been one new pulp mill established, neither have we the promised smelter. The government did create an industrial commission and loaned money on mortgages to Graham Island industries only to find later that the Harbor Commission had a prior claim. Last year it cost nearly 83 per cent to loan $30,000 through the commission.
 Another promise unfulfilled was

 with B-H PRODUCTS

PROTECTION and preservation are as necessary to the tree that is moulded into new form, for building purposes, as it was when it stood in the virgin forest. Paint is that protection. Paint will preserve but, just as Nature protects with ever-renewing bark, so must paint be renewed.

Brandram-Henderson's products — and there is one for every painting purpose — bring real protection and preservation, no matter for what purpose they are used. And, to this protection, is added the economy of long wear and the beauty that comes from quality.

that the liberal government would get after the big interests; they had and got $15,000 out of the C.N.R. and $5,000 out of the B. C. Electric.
 An act to improve the company town condition was withdrawn by order of big interests.

Big Interests Dictate Policy
 The coal commission reported to the government that a coal combine was operating in Vancouver but there had not been a single prosecution.
 John Rettalick had been appointed public utilities commissioner and there was not a better man anywhere but he found himself so tied that he could not function and refused to draw the indemnity. No other had been appointed to the vacancy.

Still another plank was the abolition of patronage, but after making this solemn guarantee the government went back to it. There is some patronage in all party governments, but there is a difference, said the speaker, between patronage within bounds of decency and viciously abus-ing it. The speaker declared that it was always understood and a traditional practice that no member of a government would enter into contract with it, yet the attorney-general had been briefed by the Oliver government to go to England to argue cases before the Privy Council. His travelling expenses were $2,500 for three months and his bill for arguing the cases $10,000. This was not all, for it was discovered afterwards that Mr. Farris did not argue the cases but employed three British K.C.'s and that those, assisted by Mr. Farris, argued the cases for B. C. Their bills had not been submitted when the House adjourned. The speaker told of a similar extravagant trip made by the attorney-general, of large legal fees and a big liquor deal with the government in which sons of Mrs.
 Mary Smith were concerned.
 Purchase of unsuitable hotel buildings at Marpole and Ft. George for provincial use were mentioned by Mr.
 Maitland.

RESULTS OF UNIVERSITY OF B. C. EXAMS

Roy Elsey, of Summerland, Gets B.A. and Wins a Scholarship.

According to the results of the recent University examinations appearing in yesterday's Vancouver Province, all Summerland students were successful in gaining their year.

C. Roy Elsey graduated with honors in biology, obtaining his B.A. degree. He made a remarkably fine showing and won "the senior Canadian Club scholarship for original investigation."

Louis Smith passed from second to third year in the arts course, with a high second class standing.

Miss Dorothy Tomlin passed to second year arts with a good second class standing. Rex Barnes, of the same year, was also successful, as was Noel Wright, with a supplemental in mathematics.

C. Wm. Argue, an agriculture student who spent last summer with A. C. Turner here, won the B.C.F.G.A. scholarship in horticulture of $100.

Miss Alice Myers and Stewart Allen, both of Naramata, passed with second class standing to the third year arts. Miss Myers came all but one to the top of the second class list.

Stanley Allen, Naramata, in his first year, also attained a second class.

Mr. G. B. Riddehough, Penticton, carried off highest honors in the graduating class. Marks for the separate subjects are not yet available.

ARSENATE OF LEAD BELOW STANDARD

Information has reached the Canadian Horticultural Council that imported arsenate of lead paste, containing 20 per cent excess water, is being sold to fruit growers and others at a lower price than the standard article. In the United States, the manufacturer is required by law to publish the proportion of ingredients under guaranteed analysis and fifty per cent water is the maximum permitted. This information is not disclosed in Canada, but on examination, the paste is found to contain as high as seventy per cent water. If paste that is below standard is mixed with the usual proportion of water, it is likely to be ineffectual as regards the destruction of insect life, and will therefore afford little protection from injury. Last year, in the province of Quebec, growers who used this paste as though it were of standard preparation suffered serious loss from wormy apples, and fruit growers everywhere are warned against paste containing an excess of water, even at a reduced price, particularly when the proportion is not disclosed.

Remember Summerland Ladies' Aid entertainment, Thursday evening, May 15th. An evening's good fun. 40

Service was conducted in the Anglican church on Sunday by the Rev. H. A. Solly, of Summerland; in the Baptist church by Mr. Gilbert Thornber, also of Summerland; and in the Union church by the Rev. T. A. Sadler, assisted in the song service by Mr. Nichol, the evangelist. The two latter motored to Westbank in the afternoon to conduct the service in the school house there. The service in the local Union church marked the close of the series of special meetings which had been held here by Mr. Sadler and Mr. Nichol. The Westbank choir had motored down to assist the local choir in the song service on this, as on two former occasions, which was greatly appreciated by the choir and congregation.

Plan to attend entertainment given here by Summerland Ladies' Aid, Thursday evening, May 15th. 40

J. W. Jones, M.L.A., attended the organization meeting of the local conservative association on Wednesday evening. There was quite a representation of citizens present. Mr. Jones was called on for a short address and very ably complied with the request. The result of the organization was as follows: Dr. Buchanan, president; H. Hardy, vice-president; Mrs. Albert Small, 2nd vice-president; A. E. Henderson, secretary-treasurer; executive, Mr. Cousins, representing ward 1; H. E. McCall, ward 2; F. Topham, ward 3; W. Renfrew, ward 4. The delegates chosen to attend the convention in Kelowna were Dr. Buchanan, A. E. Henderson and H. Miller.

Mr. Moffat of Vernon was a week end visitor in town, arriving Saturday evening.

Mrs. Martin and her pupils entertained a large audience on Friday with a musical evening with the following program: Part I, chorus, Once I Got Into a Boat; piano solo, Entrance of the Witches, Ronald Stewart; piano solo, On the Playground, Constance Miller; piano duet, In the Bright Moonlight, Edith and Evelyn Stewart; song, Japanese Love Song, Francis Clements; piano solo, Pixie Ballet, Mary Sadler; piano solo, Tarantelle, Paxton Morsh; song, An Emblem, Mrs. McKay; piano solo, Busy Spider and Two Little Chicks, Evelyn Stewart; piano duet, Pretty Evening Star, Margaret Alpaugh and Evelyn Stewart; piano solo, Minuet, Paderewski, Edna Cudmore; song, Happy Song, Mrs. J. Elliott. During intermission dainty refreshments were served. The second part of the concert was as follows: piano duet, Dance of the Kewpies, Edna Cudmore; piano solo, The Hunters' Ronelay, Lillian Palmer; piano solo, Waltz Dream, Miss Murdin; song, duet, The Night Wind, Mrs. McKay and Mr. Martin; piano solo, Spirit of Poesy, Margaret Alpaugh; piano solo, In Merry May, Gerald Elliott; piano solo, Album Leaf, Leah Morsh; piano solo, Clayton's Grand March, Francis Clements; song, Evening Brings Rest and You, Mrs. Elliott with flute obligato by Mr. Martin; piano solo, On the Lake, Edith Stewart; piano solo, Absent Friends, Wylia Elliott; piano solo, Nocturne (Chopin), Edna Cudmore; chorus, Sweet Fairy Bells; God Save the King. F. Topham, president of the G.W.V.A., who acted at the door, announced the receipts of the evening to be about nineteen dollars clear, which amount was to be turned over to the Vets for purchasing necessary equipment for the hall. On behalf of the veterans he thanked Mrs. Martin and her pupils and others present for this assistance. It would hardly be complete to close this account without saying that great appreciation was heard on every hand of the results Mrs. Martin has been able to accomplish with her pupils, and the audience was well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Dr. Buchanan, Mossy Dryden, MacMillan, Morsh and Miller, assisted by Mr. D. Loekie of Kelowna, motored to Summerland on Thursday evening to ponder over the red and black spots for a while with their Summerland checker friends. They say they had some good games, but having had little or no practice they hardly hoped to hold their own on this first occasion of the season. However, they were able to tally up nineteen points against their opponents twenty-nine. Mr. Loekie spent the night here and boarded the boat homeward bound Friday morning.

The choir which had been rendering service in the Union church during the special services here joined with the Westbank choir Thursday evening in the special service there.

Master Will Wright returned on Saturday evening from the Summerland Hospital where he has been since his accident. His arm is improving nicely.

J. McKinnon and G. Lang returned Wednesday evening after a short visit out of town.

Mrs. O. G. Miller returned on Saturday evening's boat after a short visit in Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephens and Harry visited Kelowna on Wednesday.

H. E. McCall spent part of Thursday in Westbank.

Mr. and Mrs. Dryden motored to Vernon on Sunday to take their daughter back to her post following a two weeks' holiday.

Wm. White spent Monday in Kelowna.

Mr. Stephens is erecting an ice house at the rear of his bake shop and dwelling.

Wes. Waldriff is making alterations in his town dwelling, effecting quite an improvement.

J. W. Harris returned to his school here after spending the week end at his home in Summerland.

Mrs. J. McKinnon was out of town this week, going on the north bound boat on Tuesday.

The memorial committee had a meeting on Saturday evening of last week and work has commenced on the monument boulevard. Earth is being hauled to enrich the enclosure made by the cement curb which was put in last fall.

Vancouver.—Allegation that frauds on the Dominion customs and the Liquor Control Board aggregating two million dollars a year are made by certain wealthy exporters engaged in supplying the bootleggers of British Columbia and Puget Sound with liquor that is presumably shipped for foreign ports, is made by The Hook. It is said that the schooner Coal Harbor, owned by the Consolidated Exporters Corporation, which cleared for Colombia on April 9th with over ten thousand cases of whisky, unloaded part of her cargo outside Nanaimo on the same day to the ex-submarine chaser Trucilla, also owned by the same corporation, the Trucilla returning light to Vancouver within thirty-six hours. Hospital Bazaar

men's raffle, the prize being a handsome gold tie pin set with pearls. The bazaar was formally opened by J. W. Jones, M.L.A., who was introduced by Reeve Campbell, chairman of the hospital society.

The reeve thanked Mr. Jones for coming to Summerland for this purpose and for the interest he had shown in hospital work here, and touched briefly on the question of hospital finances, stating that it would be necessary that the institution be patronized almost to capacity to avoid deficits. The board had considered increasing the rates but thought this action would be unwise. He had heard some complaints of repeated demands for the hospital, but assured his hearers that committees are watching every detail and he did not think it possible to get much better results.

Mr. Jones described the Summerland hospital as one of the best equipped and most beautiful of the hospitals of the province. Summerland should be proud of it. All were interested in having the hospital succeed; like others it has been having a hard struggle during the last two or three years. More of the sick have been staying at home rather than incur hospital bills. This had affected the revenue, resulting in larger deficits. It was to meet this deficit that the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary had arranged this splendid bazaar and he hoped all the booths would be well patronized. He was glad to find there were so few "sick" people in Summerland who need hospital attention, but urged that the hospital be given the needed support as it was a valuable and necessary institution.

Financially the bazaar was a complete success. The figures are not available in accurate form, but approximately the receipts ran as follows: pantry, $70; Girl Guides, $40; women's wear, $40; children's wear, $65; Arts and Crafts, $27; fancy work, $62; Rangers, $36; dairy, $60; Old Curiosity Shop, $20; Unity Club, $20; magic goose and fish pond, $20; miscellaneous stall, $24; Boy Scouts, $10; fortune telling, $7; tea room, $43; parcels, $1.65; supper, $80; dance, $50; a gross total of about $675. The expense and purchase accounts have not yet been tallied.

To all those who in any way contributed to the success of the bazaar The Review has been asked to express the gratitude of the members of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary.

LECTURE ON LEGISLATION BY MEMBER

Farmers' Institute Given Interesting and Instructive Address.

The program committee of the Trout Creek Farmers' Institute are to be congratulated on the excellent meetings they have arranged for their members during the current year. The regular monthly meeting was held on Tuesday evening last when Mr. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., gave an address on "Parliamentary Procedure, and Legislation of the Past Session." For one and three quarter hours Mr. Jones kept his audience deeply interested, while in his easy, lucid manner he unfolded the story of the act of parliament from its inception to the time it is placed on the statute book. He reminded his audience that it was at meetings such as the one he was addressing that legislation originated. Farmers' Institutes and Women's Institutes are a most important factor in the government of the province. Last year no less than 150 resolutions were received from the Institutes throughout the province and duly considered by the Committees of the House. Obviously it would be impossible to introduce legislation on the many resolutions presented, but these often contain the germ from which the elaborate Act eventually develops. The Legislative Assembly at the present time, or rather up to the end of the last session, consisted of 47 members. The new house, when it assembles, will consist of 48 members. The man in the street often reads of "the first reading" and "the second reading" of a bill and that the house is "in committee." All these terms were clearly explained. Some of the fights during the past session were referred to in detail. For instance, the question of the shipment of raw logs to the U.S. The first resolution was, that an immediate embargo be placed on raw lumber to the United States. This was amended by the government to refer the matter to a Royal Commission. An amendment to this amendment was introduced by the opposition to place an embargo on such exports as from the end of December, 1924. After long debating the government amendment was carried.

Mr. Jones referred briefly to the question of our exports and imports. Why, in the name of reason, do we import 4,000,000 pounds of apples into this province? Why do we send out of the province $17,000,000 per year for goods which could be, and should be produced by ourselves? Last

Hot Weather - Little Rain

Temperatures of over 80 degrees have been recorded daily for the past week with the exception of Friday last, when the highest temperature was 76. Records made at the Experimental Farm back to 1916 show that from that date to the present there has been no such spell of continued hot weather so early in the season, though on occasional days as high or higher temperatures have been reached, according to the following figures supplied. 1916, May 2, max. 82; 1918, May 20, max. 81; 1921, May 24, max. 82; 1922, May 31, max. 85.

Not since before 1916, when the Experimental Farm began keeping records, has there been so little precipitation in the early months of the year, as is the case this season. To date from January first the total precipitation is 1.04 inches. For the same period in 1916, 3.81; 1917, 2.71; 1918, 2; 1919, 3.67; 1920, 3.81; 1921, 3.83; 1922, 3.38; 1923, 2.89.

PREMIER WILL SPEAK HERE

Coming Next Thursday to Address Meeting with C. B. Latta.

Hon. John Oliver, premier, and Chas. B. Latta, government candidate for South Okanagan, will address a public meeting here on Thursday evening next, May 22nd.

Mr. Latta, accompanied by A. E. Mitchell of Kelowna, was a visitor here and at Peachland early this week. Mr. Latta is a stranger to most of our readers and a brief introduction will not be amiss.

He is a native of Perth County, Ontario, a son of John Latta, a farmer of that district. For a time, he followed teaching as a profession, and in 1905 moved to the Govan district, Saskatchewan, where he engaged in farming and general business. During his residence at Govan Mr. Latta acted as Justice of the Peace and was a director of the Govan Agricultural Society. He was a promoter and one of the chief organizers of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company and one of its local directors. For seven years he was reeve of the Last Mountain Valley municipality. Six years ago Mr. Latta moved to Kelowna for his health. Last year he was elected a member of the Kelowna city council.

The municipality is offering for sale the two small cottages on Shaughnessy Avenue north of the blacksmith shop.

Associated Gets The Required Tonnage President Howe Resigns - Chambers Is Now President

A. T. Howe has resigned his position as president of the Associated Growers of B. C. and E. J. Chambers of Penticton has been elected to the position.

This action was taken late on Tuesday at a meeting in Vernon of the directors of the Associated. The reason for Mr. Howe's resignation is the fact that he has consented to run as a candidate in North Okanagan for the legislative assembly. This course will require that he give a large proportion of his time to the campaign just at a period when the services of the president of the Associated will be much in demand during the formation of plans for the coming season.

It is announced from Vernon that the Associated have secured control of well over eighty per cent of the crop and the officials are already busy formulating their 1924 selling campaign.

TRANSFORMER IS BURNED OUT

Summerland has been without street lights for several nights and it is likely to be some time before they are again turned on. The reason is a burned out transformer. Fortunately these are moonlight nights, but it is not known how soon another transformer can be installed.

Since Summerland has been under the new system, this particular transformer has been giving continual trouble, according to the municipal electrician; not infrequently have the lights been off because of this. Until now it has been possible to make repairs but this time the transformer has failed completely.

GET BILL FOR ROAD UPKEEP

Eight hundred and sixty dollars forty-eight cents is the municipality's proportion of the repair bill on the seven-mile stretch of the Okanagan highway within Summerland municipal limits for the last provincial fiscal year. A detailed statement showing an expenditure of $3,441.93 was laid before the municipal council last Saturday.

Under the new Act the municipality is required to pay 25 per cent of cost of building or maintaining primary highways within municipal limits.

WILL INSTAL BOXES WITHOUT CHARGE

Free installation of measuring boxes of approved pattern has been decided upon by the municipal council, following a request for a second box by E. Thomas. In all such cases the property owner must pay for the measuring box.

WILL OPPOSE BEER LICENSE

Form Local Organization to Maintain Reputation of Summerland

There was a good sized and representative audience at St. Andrew's hall last Tuesday evening to consider the question of organizing temperance workers for the vote on June 20th on the beer by the glass question.

It was the unanimous opinion of those present that every effort should be made to secure a large majority vote against the sale of beer by the glass; an adverse vote would mean practically to go back to the open bar.

Summerland has made a fine reputation on the temperance question and has never had an open bar. These present believed that the loyalty of the people of this municipality to the cause of sobriety and morality would pile up a heavy vote on June 20th, but they were also agreed that no effort should be spared and no chances taken to allow an adverse vote to win.

Mr. G. J. Coulter White acted as temporary chairman and gave a very clear and plain statement of the present situation. After some discussion it was decided to organize a committee with full power to add to their numbers, who will have full charge of a campaign against the sale of beer by the glass in the coming campaign. The following are the committee appointed, Rev. H. J. Armitage, Rev. W. A. Alexander, Rev. Z. L. Fash, Jas. Ritchie, J. R. Campbell, S. B. Snider, G. J. C. White, W. C. Kelley, E. F. Sanborn, Geo. Harding, Wm. Jonkinson, A. Davidson, Mrs. Mellor, Mrs. C. H. Gayton, Mrs. McAlpine, Miss Sinclair, Mrs. C. A. Mitchell.

Everybody present expressed much satisfaction at the business like way

Concrete Culvert In Peach Orchard

Concrete will be used to replace the last wooden culvert on the Peach Orchard gulch road. Last year a fill was made where the road crossed the creek near the Lawler property and the council now plans to take out the wooden culvert above the Cooper entrance and replace it with concrete. At the same time the road will be straightened at this point.

This change will make it possible to move the heaviest loads up or down this grade, the easiest of all the grades in the municipality leading from the lake to the bench above.

With some further widening and cutting out of a few kinks, the Peach Orchard road will become the most popular for a large part of the traffic.

The new proprietor of the saw mill near Shingle Creek arrived here a few days ago and is getting things in shape for operation. A few thousand feet of lumber have already been cut.

Domestic Water Being Mis-used

That it is the large number of unauthorized uses for irrigation of water from domestic pipe lines that is causing low pressure and lack of service in certain sections is the opinion of some at least of the municipal authorities. A request was laid before the council on Saturday for the privilege of opening a domestic water connection to irrigate some trees. Apparently in the past the trees have been irrigated from the domestic pipe line. The house on the property is closed this season and the present attendant asked that the domestic connection be opened in order to provide irrigation for these trees.

The request occasioned a discussion of the need of meters on the pipe line. The statement was made that the Penticton municipality has put meters on the pipe system on the bench, allowing a generous margin before beginning to charge for extra water. Coun. Johnston also stated that at Oliver all pipe water is metered. In the case referred to above the council felt that it was up to the owner of the property to provide water through his present irrigation connection.

INVITED TO ATTEND NAVAL RECEPTION

Summerland's reeve and council have received a formal invitation issued jointly by the mayors of Victoria and Vancouver to be present at the receptions given by those cities to the vessels of the British navy which will arrive at the capital city on Saturday, June 21st, and at Vancouver on Wednesday, June 25th. When the invitation was laid before the council on Saturday, no action was taken to send one or more members to represent the municipality.

An extension of the irrigation flume to serve the four town lots north of the A. S. Peck property, recently purchased by S. Rawlings, has been authorized. A competition off the pipe line was suggested but the council felt that there were already too many pulls on that line.

In which the situation was met and there was a determination that the good name of Summerland should be maintained on the temperance question.

A meeting of the committee followed immediately and the following permanent officers and committees were elected: W. C. Kelley, chairman; W. M. Jonkinson, secretary; publication committee, Geo. Harding, W. M. Jonkinson; Rev. Z. L. Fash; executive committee, the president, secretary and Revs. H. J. Armitage, W. A. Alexander and Z. L. Fash.

It was decided to call a meeting of the committee at St. Andrew's hall next Tuesday evening, when the voters' list and other items of importance will be considered.

FISH, GAME ASSOCIATION IN SESSION

Discuss Plans for Improvement Of Local Sporting Conditions.

Summerland Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association is asking for its members the privilege of carrying fire arms out of season for the destruction of pests, particularly crows and magpies.

A meeting of the association was held last Friday night at Premier Hotel, with the president, W. Johnston, in the chair.

The by-laws as decided upon by the committee were discussed and with brief amendments were adopted. One of these amendments provides for membership of boys from 14 to 17 years old as junior members and at a fee of twenty-five cents.

The president introduced the question of squaw fish in Okanagan Lake and the damage they are doing to game fish. H. H. Creeve spoke on the same subject and submitted a resolution, which was seconded by Geo. Forster, to the effect that the association deplores the great increase in the number of squaw fish, suckers and carp in Okanagan Lake and directs its committee to take every possible step to have them reduced materially in numbers by joint action with other associations.

Depletion of fish in Fish Lake was discussed and the poor spawning conditions, owing to inability of the fish to get in and out of the creek because of the existence of a dam, were reported. A suggestion was made that this lake be closed for a time and later, when it is opened, that the Garnett Valley reservoirs have a closed season, but no action was taken.

The question of having a government appointee in each district to destroy pests as compared with the present bounty system, was discussed and the decision was in favor of the bounty system.

Shooting of hen pheasants, open season of Hungarian partridge and quail were other subjects up for discussion, resulting in a resolution, proposed by Coun. Johnston, seconded by Dan Rutherford, that the executive consider the game laws in regard to this district and bring in recommendations regarding same.

revise the constitution of the organization.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted in the following being chosen: Hon. Presidents, Hon. Arthur Meighan and Hon. W. J. Bowser, K.C.; president, A. B. (Continued on Page 6)

Independents Form An Association

The negotiations which have been carried on during the past several weeks between the Associated Growers and independent shippers, with a view to establishing a control board for the marketing of this year's crop, came to a conclusion on Monday last when it was discovered that it was impossible to arrive at any definite arrangement that would be satisfactory to all parties, according to W. E. Adams, of Okanagan Packers, Ltd., Kelowna.

Mr. Adams states further that the time for the marketing of this year's crop is fast advancing. The shippers, realizing the seriousness of the situation and the necessity of immediate action, that the crops might be handled to the best possible advantage to the growers, called a meeting of shippers at Kelowna on Tuesday morning, at which the following firms were represented:

Occidental Fruit Co., Ltd., L. Hayes; Geo. Rowell, Ltd., Geo. Rowell, J. Rowell, E. C. Hill and L. J. Kelly; Okanagan Packers, Ltd., W. C. Duggan, W. E. Adams; B. C. Orchards, Ltd., B. McDonald, A. W. Hamilton; Commercial Orchards, Ltd., H. Lee; Federated Orchards, Ltd., Penticton, H. A. Finch, M. A. Clark; E. C. Skinner, Ltd., Vernon, E. C. Skinner.

The following named shippers not present at the Kelowna meeting have since signified their willingness to join the association:

Walters, Ltd., Summerland; McDonald & Co., Armstrong; Co-operative Farmers of B. C., Vernon.

The above mentioned shippers represent practically 100 per cent of all independent shippers of the Okanagan.

At the meeting referred to preliminary steps were taken to organize a shippers' association which shall be called "Fruit and Vegetable Shippers' Association of B.C.," its objects being:

1. To establish and stabilize values of fruit and vegetables on the Canadian markets.
2. To provide a medium for exchange of information on market conditions amongst its members.
3. To re-establish the confidence of the grower, the public and the financial interests in the industry.
4. That eventually a system of guaranteed prices to growers may be instituted amongst all shippers in B. C.
5. To provide quick returns to growers.
6. A combined effort to further the development of export markets.

SHAUGHNESSY AVE. FIRE PROTECTION

Better fire protection by the providing of a larger pipe line and a booster pump to serve the area adjacent to Shaughnessy Avenue as requested of the municipality by property owners was revived at the regular meeting of the council last Saturday, when a letter was read from a Vancouver firm substantiating their estimates as to size of motor necessary to give the required service. The letter was filed without any further action.

GETTING SURPLUS WATER SUPPLY

Water considerably in excess of the supply provided by the contract is being provided the Experimental Station by the municipality, according to a report of meter readings submitted to the council last Saturday. As high as 50 per cent excess has been going through the meter some days, in addition to a considerable volume diverted from the west flume. This extra service can only be maintained for a very short time until orchardists on the ditch increase their demands.

Three lengths of old fire hose will be sold by the municipality to the Penticton sawmill for a lump sum of fifty dollars. This decision was reached following a request from the mill company that the municipality sell some of its older hose.

Plans For Picnic Are Progressing

Plans for the big district picnic to be held at the Experimental Station here on Saturday, June 14th, are proceeding apace. Just as soon as the Summerland Farmers' Institute, with which organization the idea originated, has the program arranged, announcement of this and a general invitation will be sent out to farmers' and women's institutes throughout the district.

A number of speakers are being procured. It is hoped that W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist, will be one of these. Prof. Willard Saylor, of the agricultural department of the university, will be here as well as R. H. Holmer former superintendent of the government farm. His subject will be, "Preparing Land for Crops." Dr. D. Warnock, deputy minister of agriculture at Victoria, is also expected to speak. R. G. L. Clarke, Dominion fruit inspector, has promised to come and is very enthusiastic over the idea of holding this big joint picnic. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., will be another speaker, and the Summerland brass band will be asked to provide music throughout the day.

A contest in stock judging has been proposed and an effort is being made to have Prof. H. King a stock man on the staff of the university, come and give instructions in stock judging. Other features of the program will be announced later.

Supt. W. T. Hunter, of the Experimental Station, is heartily in accord with the movement and will do everything possible to give his guests an enjoyable day. Additional facilities for the convenience of visitors are being provided at the farm and arrangements will be made to take the visitors over the farm in parties with farm employees as guides.

TURNING STREAM FROM AUTO PARK

To rid the Peach Orchard park of an annoying little stream which floods part of the ground and sometimes the road, the municipal council on Saturday decided to divert the water at the point where it comes on to the Peach Orchard road out of the Blomfort property.

For some time this water has been running across the road through a culvert into the park. The culvert itself causes a hump in the road which is also objectionable. The council approved of the plan of the foreman to carry the water through a wooden box underground northward back of the D. L. Sutherland lots, following a road allowance to the creek.

TRANS-PROVINCIAL HIGHWAY.

Citizens of the Okanagan are already asking why the trans-provincial highway has been routed through the Nicola and Similkameen rather than the Okanagan. They declare that to get from Merritt to Princeton a high range must be crossed, which will very materially shorten the traveling season and will, to that extent, offset the advantages of the Fraser over the Hope-Princeton route.

For some time we have had a growing conviction that the Fraser was the proper course to follow, but the turning of the route eastward at Spences' Bridge will be a general surprise. Perhaps there will be satisfactory explanations forthcoming.

THE ASSOCIATED.

There will be general relief in the announcement made this week that the Associated has secured a safe margin over the minimum percentage of fruit tonnage which, according to the heads of the organization, was necessary to enable it to function efficiently.

Much valuable time has been lost during the past weeks and there will be much to be done to get the organization in the best of shape to realize fullest possible returns to its members.

It is cheering news that the daily press is giving us from time to time on the subject of sugar prices. For some time there has been a general downward tendency and indications are that the price of sugar will not be a detriment to the sale of preserving fruits this season.

Further encouraging news is that from Ottawa, which predicts a reduction in express rates on fruit.

Action of the British Government in turning down the proposals for inter-Empire preference has brought much disappointment to our fruit growers, but, as a result of the British action, this province may find the Australian embargo against its fruit removed.

Reminiscences

By Uncle Joe of Summerland

Well, well! So at last they have decided to build the interior highway, and Kamloops is cut off. But why, oh why do they always promise these sort of "gifts" to the people on the eve of an election? One would have thought those days were gone forever when a politician would emulate the example of a biddy and say, "Now, Johnny, if you are a good boy, a very good boy, you shall have some bread and jam when you come home from school!"

Ah, well! They've been promising the Hope-Princeton road for more than sixty years, so guess we can jog along for another sixty; the first sixty is always the hardest. Did you ever hear of the Rock Creek Rebellion? Well, folks, listen to a story of the early days when promises were just as valuable as they are nowadays.

In the early '60's there was a big stampede to the Cariboo. Gold was also struck at Rock Creek, which is close to the boundary east of Osoyoos. Over 5,000 miners and prospectors from the States flocked to a city at that point, but they refused to take out Canadian miners' licenses or to pay toll on dutiable goods crossing the boundary. British Columbia was a crown colony in those days, and Sir James Douglas was the governor-general at the time. He was apprized of the uprising and he himself crossed the Dowdney trail to pacify the rioters and enforce British law. The rough element refused to deal with him, and set him at defiance. Eventually he donned the full regalia of his office, with cocked hat and plume, knee breeches and sword 'n' everything, and addressed the multitude, and history records him with the following:

"Gentlemen, it is my intention to build a wagon road over the Hope mountains to Osoyoos thence around the foot of Anarchist mountain to Rock Creek, following the road of the Dowdney trail. Gentlemen, I will build you a nice track—but," and his black eyes flashed ominously, "there's to be no more nonsense about paying the Government dues. This is British territory; the law must be upheld, and d--- you, it will be, if I have to bring in 500 marines to enforce it. Though, gentlemen," and his voice became subdued, "I do not think this expediency will be necessary."

His listeners were dumfounded for a moment, and then there broke out tremendous roars of applause. He'd won! He'd promised them the same trail approximately they are promising today.

Hello! Don't wait for another opportunity; take the one that comes.

Prayer avails much if you will get on your toes after getting on your knees.

It isn't difficult to discover greater sorrow than we experience ourselves.

But that doesn't mean that we should go around seeking it so that we may have something against which to loose our wrath. The difficulty with the most of us is that we never know how fortunate we are and further more don't wish to be told. If we were we'd have to find something else to complain about, for who is there that is entirely satisfied?

Many times our greatest regrets are of our own making. Usually we could keep most of the sadness out of our lives. But unfortunately we are inclined to go about seeking new causes for complaint, despite the smoothness of nearly all the pathways we tread. Happy, indeed, is the man who knows his own blessings. Yet how few there are who try as hard to find reasons for rejoicing as to discern new causes for complaint.

Let us learn to smile at the world if we wish it to smile back at us.

ORGANIZATION.

Individual effort could never have built the Panama Canal or won the World War. One person, no matter how strenuous, never put a town on the map, or won distinction for a cause. Corporations, communities and schools are made big, dominating, and effective only through the everlasting team-work of organization.

THE TALE OF A SHIRT

As most men who have achieved success have strange superstitions and omens, which they believe aided towards their rise, it is not strange to hear from Hollywood that a "good luck" shirt, which James Cruze wore when he got his first acting job, now decorates his back for one day when over he makes a motion picture. Though nearly twenty years old, this shirt took its part in the making of the year's cinema success, "The Covered Wagon," and, more recently, a new Paramount picture, entitled "Ruggles of Red Gap," from the story by Harry Leon Wilson, which comes to the Rialto Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Somewhat worn and ragged and torn in spots, the conventions were preserved only because Cruze wears another shirt underneath. In other words, the shirt had long ago shelved its practical qualities and entered

It is estimated that there is more than 10,000,000 hydro-electric horsepower in the basin of the Columbia River.

GARNISHES FOR FISH

With broiled fish serve slices of onion covered with paprika or minced parsley. Some of both is effective. Crisp toast, well browned and cut in narrow strips, makes a pleasing garnish and accompaniment for creamed fish.

Quarters of hard-boiled eggs and the small claws of the lobster should garnish a lobster salad.

Place small fish with lemon quarter on a thick bed of watercress. Garnish with radishes.

Serve fried smelts with a tartare sauce put into green peppers or lemon cups.

Thick tomato sauce served with baked fish gives both color and delicious flavor.

Fish salads may be garnished with red beets cut in fancy shapes.

Baked fish covered with a white sauce over which a hard-boiled egg has been grated and then sprinkled with minced parsley makes an appetizing dish. A few capers may be added to the sauce.

CUBS MAY CAMP IN VANCOUVER

Summerland Cubs, a junior branch of the Boy Scouts, are arranging to hold their annual camp in Vancouver, leaving here on Sunday, June 29th, and returning the following Sunday, July 6th. There will be a meeting of the leaders and parents interested tomorrow, Friday, night to make further arrangements for the outing.

The Cubs are made up of boys from eight to twelve years of age. Carlyle Clay, the cubmaster, will be in charge of the boys while in camp and assistant cubmaster, Bernard Taylor, and a number of parents are expected to accompany them. Hastings Park will likely be the site of the camp but this will be decided later. A number of short excursions to the points of interest around the city are planned and the outing will be of great educational value to the boys.

Special rates have been obtained from the railway and it is planned that the fare will not cost each boy more than five dollars, the organization taking care of the difference.

NEW PIPE LAID IN SEEPAGE AREA

Work of laying the new pipe from Hilborn Lake to Trout Creek canyon has been finished. The pipe runs up to the east side of the road and at a meeting of the council on Saturday it was suggested that it might be extended to the west side and a new ditch dug along there across to the fence as the present ditch is immediately over the domestic water pipe line. Some members of the council did not think this further expenditure was advisable, though the reeve and Coun. Ritchie both believed it better to finish the job. It was finally referred to the roads committee.

the ornament class of four-leaf clovers, swastikas, etc.

The shirt, it seems was the one worn by the cowpuncher, Jim Cruze, when some twenty years ago he blew into a rehearsal bossed by David Belasco and demanded a job as leading man. He got the job, despite queer clothes and a cowboy haircut—and the shirt stays with him!

Sidelights on a Great Industry

One Man in Every Four a Lumberman

OVER 40,000 ENGAGED IN DIFFERENT BRANCHES OF B.C. WOOD INDUSTRIES

Workers and Their Dependents Outnumber Inhabitants of Vancouver City.

One man in every four in British Columbia is exclusively engaged in some actual process of logging, manufacturing or selling B.C. wood products, according to figures based on official estimates.

In other words, if a lumberman is a man who makes his living out of the produce of a log, then no less than twenty-five per cent. of the entire male working population of British Columbia comes under that category.

There are between 40,000 and 41,000 men employed by the 3,620 concerns handling B.C. wood either in its raw state or one of its numerous manufactured forms.

Four Groups Engaged

This army of workers may be classified as follows: 10,100 in the logging industry, 16,800 in the plants converting forest products, 2,200 in selling either the unmanufactured or finished material and 2,300 solely occupied in its transportation to the ship's side or the freight car.

Taking at least one-third of this great group of workers to be married men with wives and families, one comes to realize what a large proportion of the manhood, womanhood and childhood of the province look to the timber industries of B.C. for a livelihood.

It is quite reasonable to estimate that the wage-earners of the timber industries and their dependents comprise one-fourth of the entire population of the province, and so actually outnumber the inhabitants of the city of Vancouver.

This series of articles compiled and edited by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

A Modern Monarch

(By J. J. Atherton)

There drifted into Summerland on Monday a character such as you read of, but seldom become acquainted with in real life. We will call him Wilson because that is not his name, and it doesn't matter anyhow. He is a human whom the wanderlust has gripped with such a fierceness that since the age of 15 he has been constantly drifting along the beaten and unbeaten trails—always going "some place" and heading for Nowhere! He has now reached the mature years of sixty, and is still going strong.

He is a tramp, but not of the box car, jungle, panhandling variety. Yet he loves the great Outdoors with such a love that he has tramped through every state of the great American country. There is not a spot on this continent on which he cannot talk intelligently and interestedly, and if one could hold him long enough in one place he could impart volumes that would be mighty interesting reading.

Six times in his journeyings he has crossed the Hope-Princeton trail on foot, for he prefers "shank's mare" to a shabby Lizzie or the stuffy sedan. Yet he has the wherewithal to purchase any of these luxuries if he so desires, but this unique character finds real joy in toddling along the great highways and secluded trails.

Yet he is not friendless. He has many influential people on his calling list, and he has a chain of acquaintances in every town, village and city on this continent; and these he visits in turns, stopping a few hours—and then his restlessness becomes obvious, and you will hear him murmur: "Well, I guess I will be toddling on! See you again!"

One, two or three years may pass before the wanderer drifts along again—and he always receives a welcome. He has been known to stay in some places as long as three weeks, and on such occasions he outfits himself completely, but always leaves a trunk behind full of clean wearing apparel. There are not less than three such trunks in the Okanagan alone, and he laughingly tells you he has hundreds scattered around the country.

His great love is the Okanagan, and in conversation with him he expressed the regret that so few people in the States knew of it. He always returns to pass a few hours in each town with his acquaintances, and it was on Monday he trotted in from Kelowna to pay a friendly call upon the writer's family. Well clad, with tweed jacket, stout boots and pack at back his is a commanding figure. He is a living exemplification of what a life in the open spaces can accomplish in a man's physique. He is happy, carefree and robust, but, strange to say, he sees nothing remarkable in his mode of living.

When the writer penned the poem contained in the booklet "The Lure of the Road" he had this character in mind when "A Modern Monarch" was created. He is "a lord of his own accord" in very truthness; a "human flivver" and a King of Earth's Everything!

The writer frankly admits his regret that the visitor did not accept the hospitality of his household for the night, but that is his way. When the shadows of evening fell upon the porch of the house the old restive spirit became dominant, and as he reached for his pack we heard him once again murmur:

"Well, I guess I'll be toddling on! See you again!"

And so he passed once again, into the night, heading for Penticton, and in turns, stopping a few hours—and from there—Nowhere; there or bust!

SYNOPSIS OF

PRE-EMPTIONS
 Vacant, unreserved, surveyed
 Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age,
 and by aliens on declaring intention
 to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation,
 and improvement for agricultural purposes.
 Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series,
 "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of
 which can be obtained free of charge
 by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.
 Records will be granted covering
 only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board
 feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 3,000 foot per acre east of that Range.
 Applications for pre-emption are
 to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for
 is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.
 Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made of value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.
 For more detailed information see
 the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."
PURCHASE
 Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved
 Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes, at a minimum price of five dollars (cash) per acre, plus price of first-class cattle for settlers obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled
 and land has been surveyed.
LEASES
 For grazing and industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres,
 may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.
HOMESITE LEASES
 Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20
 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled
 and land has been surveyed.
GRAZING
 Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts
 and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual
 grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given
 to established owners. Stock-owners
 may form associations for range
 management. Free, or partially free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten
 head.

The above tabulated results of the Easter examinations will take the place of the usual bi-monthly home reports. The latter, however, will be furnished on request. The marks are the results from honest testing. The staff have no desire to make a fine showing on the work in their various subjects at the sacrifice of honesty. Our one desire is to deal fairly and squarely by the pupils and their parents, and to state conditions as they actually exist, without glossing over of defects or deficiencies.
 Although the standing in general is not what we should like to see it, yet, considering the various disadvantages against which we have had to contend, it is not by any means discouraging.
 As a staff we have felt all along that we have not received from all the homes represented in the High School the hearty practical support we should have hoped for in the matter of holding the boys and girls down to the proper allowance of home work. We do not see how any pupil of ordinary ability can hope to make a satisfactory showing with less than two hours of home work; and by that we mean two solid hours of honest concentration on the work in hand.
 By careful and consistent application from now on to examination time much may be done by all the pupils to improve their standing; and there is no good reason why any

 Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jones are enjoying a visit from Mr. Jones' daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thackeray, who came in last week to spend a few days here. The young couple were recently married in Regina and are making this a honeymoon trip.
 The Rev. T. A. Sadler, accompanied by Mr. Nichol, the evangelist, motor-ed to Pentiction last week for a short visit overnight. The following day after their return Mr. Nichol left to go east for a time.
 Mr. George Barber, for some time an absent land owner of the district and well known to a number here with whom he came in contact from time to time during his short visits to his place, was in town last week and it is rumored that he is to return with his family shortly and operate the packing house for Mr. Rowcliffe.
 Mr. E. Cudmore, owner and manager of the Peachland General Store, has been ill in bed for a few days, but we are glad to report quite an improvement in his condition.

Thursday of last week was the day set apart and advertised by the local branch of the Women's Institute for the annual clean up at the cemetery. There was an excellent turn out of citizens and it is very gratifying to see the improvement that has been

Annual Payroll

LUMBERMEN PAY HUGE PROPORTION OF WAGES IN B. C.

Sum Exceeds Provincial Revenue for Last Three Years

The payroll of the combined British Columbia timber industries is not less than $50,000,000 or close on one hundred dollars per capita of the whole population of the province's men, women and children.
 This enormous annual amount represents the total revenue for the last three years, that is to say, it costs less to run the province for three years than it does the B. C. lumbering industry for 12 months. This sum also exceeds the total paid up capital of the three principal chartered banks in the Dominion of Canada.
Over 3,600 Firms
 This estimate is not a rough and ready one, but is carefully calculated from the latest statistics made available by the Workmen's Compensation Board, the Department of Labor, Victoria, and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
 There are over 3,600 firms exclusively engaged in the production, manufacture and handling of B. C. wood products. They may be divided into three classes:
 Class 1 (Raw material) — 2,653 firms, includes logging operations, pole, post and tie camps, timber cruisers and forest engineers, scalers, inspectors and timber brokers.
 Class 2 (Manufacture) — 655 firms, includes sawmills, planing, lath and shingle mills, veneer plants, sash and door factories and concerns manufacturing B. C. woods into furniture.
 Class 3 (Distribution) — 413 firms, includes lumber exporters, wholesalers, lumber dealers, accountants, inspectors and woodyards.
 There is also a fourth class, which might comprise the tug-boat owners solely engaged in boom and raft towing and the firms exclusively manufacturing logging and sawmill equipment. (This class is not included in the present estimate).
 Fifty million dollars is a huge sum. It represents at least one-third of the total industrial payroll of the Province of British Columbia and at a conservative estimate proves the means of support for at least a quarter of its total population.

This series of articles communicated by the Timber Industries Council of British Columbia.

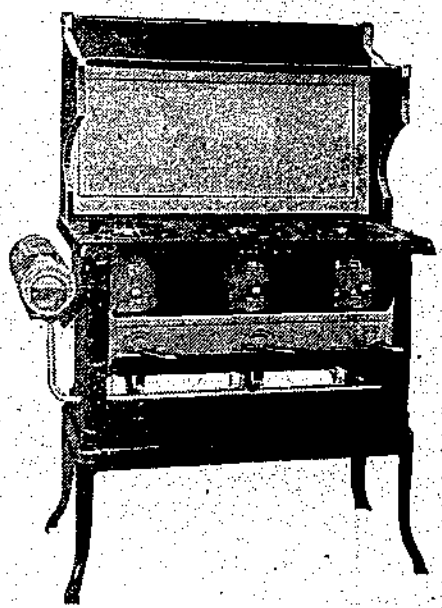

wrought. Much credit, in fact nearly all the credit of this endeavor, is due the Women's Institute. It is estimated that there were well over fifty on the job. The members of the Institute entertained the party to a sumptuous feast at mid-day and lunch again in the afternoon.
 Reeve and Mrs. Grant Lang were visitors to Kelowna on Friday.
 Dr. Buchanan, Messrs. H. Miller and A. E. Henderson represented the Peachland Conservative Association at the convention held in Kelowna last Thursday.
 The regular meeting of the Peachland Women's Institute was held on Friday, May 9th, in the Municipal Hall, and opened by singing the Institute Ode. Owing to the previous day being the annual clean up day at the cemetery, a day instituted and kept up by the Women's Institute, there were many members absent. Minutes were read and adopted and the treasurer gave her report and Miss Murdin read her report for the library committee. Members who promised flowers for planting in the school plots were reminded to send them as soon as possible. A letter from Mrs. Silletol was read thanking the members for the donation of $10 to the "Save the children fund" in Vancouver and a further donation of $5 is to be sent for quinine, which is needed very badly in some parts for the treatment of malaria fever. A very interesting report was read by our delegate to the Vancouver convention, Miss I. Murdin. Mrs. Trimble gave an amusing reading and Mrs. McKay sang a solo which was much enjoyed, after which a dainty tea was served by the hostesses. Roll call was answered by stating the most favorite pie and it seemed that lemon pie was the most popular. Bert Davis of Kelowna was a business visitor in town during the week. G. A. McBain, Vancouver, has been in Peachland a few days looking over the community and taking a rest. He states he is delighted with this part of the province.

 The Winter's Tale, Scene II, Act IV

Sir James Craig, premier of the Ulster parliament, is reported to have said that if the boundary question were allowed to pass FORGET IT! into oblivion it would be better not only for southern and northern Ireland but for the Empire as a whole. Southern Ireland will probably disagree from this, because it contains certain disaffected elements who are looking towards the dispute as a lever with which to try to upset present conditions, but people who wish the wearisome Irish question to remain settled will see that he has put his finger on the one possible solution. It is only necessary to look at the map of Ireland to realize that the taking away from the north of that territory which is suggested would be equivalent to cutting Ulster in half, but apart from that consideration there is the indisputable fact that Ulster, having, for the sake of peace, consented to the original plan of north and south parliaments, with the boundary fixed at that time, was palpably "double crossed" by Lloyd George's subsequent agreement with the late Michael Collins, and has an unassailable right to its present standing. In providing for a further change of boundaries, Lloyd George undoubtedly looked to the lapse of time and the chapter of accidents to bring about a tacit consent to existing conditions, and Premier Craig's suggestion to all parties to forget it is the really common sense solution. His earlier statement that as far as Ulster is concerned there is no boundary question is absolutely correct, and it is inconceivable that a British government will at this stage bring about a civil war by any such coercion of the loyalists of the north as was attempted by Mr. Asquith ten years ago. The leaders of the British army of that day taught Herbert Asquith a lesson which can hardly have been forgotten, and it is not to be supposed that those of the present time will be any more willing to march against loyal Ulster than were their predecessors. The situation seems to illustrate the acedemical problem of a conflict between an irresistible force and an immovable obstacle and the best solution is to forget it.

A certain well known preacher, whose name I forget, is reported to have favored the use of "secular" music in his church services on the ground that MUSIC: he did not see why the devil should have all the good music. The reverend gentleman was evidently unaware that by those words he revealed his own musical taste as being exceedingly poor, and that there is not, and never was the slightest danger of his St. John's Majesty possessing the best in music, since the church long ago established a prior claim. The debt of music to the church is in a general way overlooked by ninety-nine people out of a hundred, but it is still one of the facts of history. The foundations of harmony, as we know them, were laid by church composers of olden days, ancient melodies were preserved and handed down, and for centuries past the genius and inspiration of the world's greatest composers have been lavishly poured out in sacred melody. We can admit that all music is divine, and yet recognize certain distinctions in character which differentiate between "sacred" and "secular" music as generally known. And this recognition made, we are able to realize the supreme grandeur of the work specially devoted to the use of the church, and to see the great gulf which divides such music from the shallow stuff which our unnamed preacher wished to snatch from an imaginary devil. The most whimsical illustration of the power of church music I ever came across was a reference to "the sort of man who will often listen to a dull sermon in order to hear a good choir sing some stuff a hundred years out of date." While this is rather hard on the preacher it is an illuminating testimony to the unspeakable beauty of the immortal harmonies of the great church masters.

In music our friend the devil has been forestalled—he may have jazz and ragtime, but the classic walks are closed to him. Never did any travelling evangelist make a greater mistake than that of supposing the church had to reach out to supplement her own boundless store.

"Whose ferry boats are those in the hall?" he asked angrily, when he entered the drawing room.

"My dear, good ma," he said hurriedly, "who said ferry boats?" You misunderstand. I said fairy boots—

NEW CANADIAN APPLE

The much prized Wilder Silver medal, the highest award of the American Pomological Society, the oldest horticultural body in North America, has been awarded to the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa for the sixth time. The medal on this occasion was given for the Lobo apple, one of the many fine varieties of McIntosh Red parentage originated at the Central Farm. The Lobo is an apple very similar to the McIntosh but ready for use about a month earlier, thus lengthening the season of apples of McIntosh appearance and flavor. It has proved very promising not only in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, but in the state of New Jersey, where it has been fruiting for several years.

INTER-SCHOOL TRACK MEET

Preliminary Meet Held At Penticton Last Saturday—Finals at Kelowna.

Koen disappointment is being experienced by the students of the Summerland public schools in regard to the annual schools athletic meet. Quite a number of students attended the preliminary meet at Penticton last Saturday prepared to participate in a number of contests, only to find that, through some misunderstanding in regard to age limits, all but one of the Summerland public school students were barred from entering any of the events. The understanding among the local members of the athletic association was that the age limit was 16 years and under, while it appears that, as events were carried out, the standard was set at under 16.

A number of high school students took part in the elimination contests preparatory to the final meet, Enrico Wilson gaining the privilege of entering for the finals at Kelowna on Saturday next. A splendid race was put up by Shelley Knowles in the long distance run at Penticton, losing out by about 4 inches in breaking the tape.

WELL RECEIVED AT KELOWNA

Summerland Operatic Society Scored Another Success in Orchard City.

Summerland Operatic Society scored a decided success in the staging of "H.M.S. Pinafore" last week at Kelowna, which reflects more than ordinary credit on those responsible for its production, according to the Kelowna Courier, which paper states further that the audience was highly appreciative though comparatively small in numbers.

Following is an excerpt of the report of the performance as published by the Courier:

Of the leading members of the cast only one was a familiar figure on the local stage, Mr. G. C. Benmore, who took the part of the Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., a role which suited him to perfection. His mannerisms and acting were entirely those of a First Lord of the Admiralty, a theorist on matters nautical, who had never been at sea. His singing was also good and he made a hit directly he appeared on the stage.

Mr. J. O. Steeves, as the commanding officer of "H.M.S. Pinafore," gave a fine interpretation of the character. His acting was unusually good and his style of singing cultivated. "Ralph Rackstraw," a very difficult role, was excellently taken by Mr. Ben Newton, who has a high tenor voice of great sweetness and strength and who sang the hard passages with ease. All his solos were rapturously enjoyed. Mr. Frank Mossop, as the "Boatswain's Mate" and Mr. D. L. Sanborn, as the "Carpenter's Mate," gave a first-class rendering of those parts, while Mr. J. C. Clements, as "Dick Deadeye," the villain of the piece, was unusually good. The role of "Hebe," the First Lord's cousin, was well sung and acted by Miss Alma Lott, and that of "Josephine," the Captain's daughter, was exceptionally well taken by Miss Carol E. Graham, who as "a lass who loved a sailor" was extremely pleasing. Her sweet soprano voice was heard to great advantage and her acting was charming. The part of "Little Buttercup," taken by Mrs. G. Craig, could scarcely have fallen into better hands her portrayal of the role being such as to captivate the audience from the start, her low contralto voice and acting being both very pleasing. Miss Myrtle Walden, as the "Midshipman," also filled her part very well indeed.

As to the chorus consisting of the innumerable relatives of the First Lord and many able seamen and marines, it would not be out of place to say that it was wonderful for an aggregation of amateurs, for not only were the many choruses well rendered but all on the stage appeared to be at home in their surroundings, so that the entire piece went with a swing from start to finish. Practically every chorus and solo was enjoyed, in fact, if the audience had had its way, the entire opera would have been sung twice. However, though generous in the extreme in the matter of repeats, it was not found possible to always respond to the hearty, and at times boisterous, applause with which each item was greeted.

year the three prairie provinces imported from the United States 1068 cars of fruit. All of this, with the exception of a little early stuff, could have been, or should have been supplied by B. C. Our agricultural policy would appear to be stagnation; our leaders and advisers blind to the possibilities of the province.

The question of the P.G.E. was briefly referred to in answer to a request for information on this subject. The Oriental question the speaker considered one of the utmost gravity, and one which sooner or later will be most serious for this province. There are at present about 50,000 Orientals in British Columbia—one in every nine of the entire population. Not very long ago the birth rate of Orientals was one in every 261, now it is one in 13! Many other questions of vital interest were briefly touched upon and on conclusion a very hearty vote of thanks was accorded by the meeting.

In thanking Mr. Jones, a member mentioned his absolute fairness towards his opponents. He was a straight hitter; he gave credit where credit is due, and then, hesitating, his language apparently falling him he added: "In fact, Mr. Jones, you are a jolly good fellow," and the remark seemed to sum up the sentiments of all present.

J. W. Jones was nominated as candidate for the riding by K. M. Elliott of West Summerland, seconded by Dr. Dickson, of Ellison, and the nomination was made unanimous. Mr. Jones made a short speech of thanks and appreciation for the honor conferred on him, which was received with much applause. The proceedings, which were open to the press, then terminated.

BALL PRACTICE BEGAN THIS WEEK

Summerland has again taken up baseball. A team was organized at a meeting held in the Rialto Theatre last Thursday night and the first practice was held on Tuesday. Keith Elliott is the manager and H. Dantel secretary-treasurer. The captain will be elected at an early date.

Summerland has been asked to join the South Okanagan League, an organization which, it is expected, will be formed today at a meeting to be held in Penticton. V. M. Lockwood will likely represent the local team at that meeting.

Clean thoughts make clean habits.

PIPE PRESSURE MUCH IMPROVED

There is now no lack of pressure in the pipe line on Jones Flat according to Foreman Tomlin, who reported to the council on Saturday that there was good pressure at the extreme end where irrigation water is supplied the Huddleston property from the pipe. Each year, Mr. Tomlin reported, the pressure has been improved by cutting off a number of connections and putting the properties affected on the ditch system. The service from this pipe is much better than ever before but will be further improved by other proposed alterations.

THE WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

Summerland Women's Institute held the regular monthly meeting on Friday last. Unfortunately the attendance was small, as Miss Cartwright gave an exceedingly good report of the Institute convention held in Vancouver last month.

The object of the convention was to give information on material available to carry on the work of the standing committees in the province. Each member of the advisory board presented a report of activities in each of the four districts, the amount and scope of the work being done by the Institutes throughout the province being a revelation to delegates and visitors as well.

The report on the assistance of the organization in the "Buy B.C. Products" campaign was a tribute indeed to the influence of the Women's Institute as a provincial body.

Report of the progress in the Crippled Children's fund was more than encouraging, it was inspiring, and the hospital building fund of $1,000 augmented by the gift from Their Majesties, is a splendid start toward a provincial orthopedic hospital for children.

A demonstration in Women's Institute schools by Mrs. J. D. Gordon, was of peculiar interest, as the Women's Institute is the only organization extant to have realized the power of their organization as a factor in nation building, and through a special course of ten lessons in civics and citizenship, fits its members to measure up to their national responsibility.

Much assistance was received by the conference in the discussions from Miss Helen Beardmore, national convener of the standing committee of agriculture for the Federated Women's Institute of Canada.

Miss Cartwright was appointed convener of "Community Betterment."

LYSONS CHOSEN AT PROVINCIAL PARTY MEETING

Kelowna Man Consents to Stand for Election in S. Okanagan.

At a convention of delegates held in Kelowna last Thursday, H. B. D. Lysons was unanimously chosen as candidate for the provincial party in South Okanagan. For reasons of health, business and through his extreme modesty Mr. Lysons at first declined the offer, but was finally persuaded on Saturday to stand as a matter of public duty. Apparently the convention was made up of delegates from the Kelowna district only.

At a meeting of the executive held at Kelowna on Monday, supporters were enlisted from several sections of the Kelowna district as well as from Westbank and Peachland. Reports presented revealed tendered support and financial help from unexpected quarters, many, it is stated, from people who heretofore have never taken much interest in politics.

Mr. Lysons was born in Gloucestershire, England, in 1873. He came to B. C. in 1891 and started farming in the Kelowna district. It was he who had the first charter for the Kelowna-Westbank ferry. He also started the Kelowna boat building business. At present he operates a greenhouse business at Kelowna and has taken an active part in farming and irrigation problems. He is now president of the B. C. Tomato Growers' Association and, through his work in connection with the formation of that association and the successful outcome of recent negotiations with the canning companies, is well known.

Mr. Lysons is the fourth candidate for this riding, the others being J. W. Jones, M.L.A., C. B. Latta and J. W. S. Logie.

SEEK IMPROVEMENT NORTH BENCH ROAD

Improving the road north of Peach Orchard by straightening out the sharp turns at Shepherd's corner and widening the road near the Koop property was discussed at a meeting of the council last Saturday, as the result of a request for work on the road between the Koop and Webb orchards. The question of right-of-way to permit of straightening and other phases of the work will be investigated.

IMPROVING ROAD AT TROUT CREEK PT.

Quite a lot of work has been done on the road running east past the F. R. Gartrell property at Trout Creek. Fresh ditches have been run and the road considerably widened. The new ditch on the south side of the road running east from the main highway is expected to be ample to take care of all surplus water from the Zimmerman gulch. It is the opinion of Reeve Campbell and others that the ditch will absorb all this water before it reaches the lower end.

A report on the work done to that date was given verbally by the reeve at Saturday's meeting of the council. The grader was to be put on later. A petition was read from citizens residing along the road asking that the improvement on the roadway be carried on through to the lake. Reeve Campbell promised to visit the section in question and report at a later meeting.

FIRST SURVEY AND ESTIMATE OF 1924 CROP

District Horticulturist Issues Bulletin with Report on Orchard Conditions

First estimates of fruit crops in the Summerland district made by J. Tait, field inspector, place the cherry crop at 50 per cent; apricots, 75 per cent; peaches, 20 per cent; pears, 90 per cent; crabapples, 70 per cent and apples, 85 per cent.

The season is at least a week earlier than last year. Apricots were in full bloom on the tenth of April, cherries and peaches very soon after. Apples and pears are about ten days ahead of last year. All varieties of trees wintered well except peaches.

General conditions throughout the Okanagan are covered in the first weekly news letter issued last Saturday by M. S. Middleton, the district horticulturist. This report states:

"The season of 1924 in the Okanagan from a horticultural standpoint, promises to be a busy one judging from the number of pests and other orchard troubles looming up so far. The Codling Moth Control work is well in hand at Penticton, Kaleden, Kelowna and Vernon. Our greatest difficulties in regard to this pest are at Kelowna, where it has become very generally established in the City properties where on account of the small holdings and other inconveniences, fighting a pest of this nature becomes one of extreme difficulty. At Vernon and Penticton the areas are commercial and the possibilities of eradication greater.

"Fire Blight throughout the district has been exceedingly well cut out this winter. Leaf Roller infest-

OUT TO ENFORCE GAME REGULATIONS

At a meeting of the executive of the Summerland Fish, Game and Forest Protective Association held last week the following resolution was unanimously carried: "The members of this association, realizing that enforcement of game laws is more than a one-man job, hereby pledge the association to observation of the game laws and wish the public in Summerland district and vicinity to realize that the association and its members stand foursquare behind enforcement of fishery and game regulations and will co-operate with the government officials to this end."

A special general meeting will be held at Hotel Premier on Thursday night at 8 o'clock to discuss suggested amendments to game regulations.

Invitations Out for Valley Picnic

Evening Entertainment in Park Is Added Feature of Program.

Invitations to the big valley festival and basket picnic to be held at the Experimental Station here on June 14th have been issued to Farmers and Women's Institutes from Oliver and Keremeos in the south to Kamloops and Salmon Arm in the north, by W. T. Hunter, superintendent of the station, and the local Farmers' Institutes.

In addition to the program already referred to in earlier issues of 'The Review,' it is expected that a distribution of the calves to members of the calf club now being organized here will be made on that day.

It is expected that many visitors will arrive here on Friday and will camp in the Park in Peach Orchard and, after spending a full day at the farm, will return to the park for the night. Present plans are to provide an entertainment for the visitors Saturday evening while in camp. This part of the program will be under the direction of G. C. Bonmore.

W. Johnson has recently installed a refrigerator equipped with a small ammonia refrigeration plant, which is operated by a small electric motor. This is the first electric refrigerator in the district.

CHOOSING LOCATION OF PRE-COOLER

For the purpose of deciding on the location of a proposed pre-cooling plant for the south Okanagan, a committee made up of one representative each from Penticton, Summerland, and Kelowna locals and the Associated Growers was named at the last meeting of the Associated at Vernon. It is confidently expected that a grant for the purpose of establishing a pre-cooling plant in the Valley will be made by the federal government.

When the provincial government decided to experiment on pre-cooling, Summerland was selected as the logical site and because of its location with respect to the soft fruit industry, together with the fact that the storage building here is ideal for the purpose, it is confidently expected that again Summerland will be chosen as the right place for the pre-cooler to serve Peachland, Naramata, Penticton as well as Summerland.

Union Shareholders Pleased With Report

Liquidator of Fruit Union Explains all Phases of the Business.

Shareholders and creditors of the Summerland Fruit Union in liquidation were presented at a recent meeting with a financial report by the liquidator, M. G. Wilson, who also gave a very lucid explanation of the affairs of the Union as well as those of the O.U.G.

Those present expressed much satisfaction with the manner in which the whole situation was laid before them and also in the work of the liquidator. Regret was expressed that more of their numbers were not present to receive these reports and hear the frank and ready explanations given by Mr. Wilson.

Satisfaction was also expressed in the news that the Summerland Co-operative was buying some of its box stock from the Chute Lake Mill, as it was pointed out that every holder of an O.U.G. "pink note" is concerned in the successful operation of this plant.

RIVERSIDE HAS BIG FIRE LOSS

Riverside, one of the oldest towns on Okanagan River, Washington, suffered serious loss by fire on Saturday, May 10th, when eleven buildings with an estimated value of $50,000 were wiped out. The fire started about 4 a. m. in the "Cash and Carry Grocery" and destroyed other stores, warehouses, restaurants and rooming house, etc.

In 1916 this little town had two serious fires within six days of each other, when thirty buildings were destroyed, the estimated loss at that time being $80,000.

Before the Great Northern projected its branch northward up the Valley, Riverside was one of the most important of the Okanagan towns, being at the head of river navigation. Since then new towns, both to the north and south, have sprung up and Riverside has dropped behind.

Friends and acquaintances of Mr. A. N. They were enjoying a pleasant time together during the forenoon, Mrs. Lang not

LOCAL POOL IS A CERTAINTY

This is the Belief Following a Discussion of Demand by Summerland.

Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association is very likely to be granted the local pool for which it has been pressing the Associated Growers for many weeks.

The question came up before the Associated executive in session last week at Vernon and was discussed from many angles and, though definite action was not taken, the general belief is that it will be at the next meeting. On the suggestion of one or two of the members of the Associated the subject was left on the table until some further detailed information was available.

It is claimed that a local pool would put Summerland in the position to reap many of the advantages of its favorable location and the wide assortment of fruits, etc. grown here. Mixed cars, such as retail stores require, can be made up at this point and shipped direct to the dealer. With a local pool payments for each car, as the money is collected, can be made to the local, less the central charges, thus avoiding the long delay awaiting closing of provincial pools. This will make financing easier for the local and will tend to prompt payments to growers.

W. A. Grube, deputy collector of customs at Oroville and known to many motorists in this Valley, was recently ordered to Aberdeen, Washington. Rather than leave Oroville, where he has orchard and warehouse interests, Mr. Grube has resigned from the service and will devote his time in future to his orchard.

HOT WEATHER AT KAMLOOPS

Kamloops experienced the highest temperatures during the hot spell which struck the interior about the 8th and continued through all last week. On Tuesday of last week 96 in the shade was registered and the day before 94.8. Because of the excessive heat, a change in the school hours was introduced. A vote of the pupils favored starting the day at 8 and finishing at 1 p. m. As a matter of fact, some of the classes began at 7.30.

WOMEN LIGHTEN HOSPITAL'S DEBT

Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the Parish Hall, with twelve members present, Mrs. Solly presiding. Reports showed net proceeds from the bazaar to be $220.04 and resolutions were passed by which $300 of this will be given to the hospital board to pay on bank loan and $300 to go towards the local debts of the hospital. A resolution was also carried that a letter of thanks be sent to all those who so willingly helped with the bazaar, including Shelly's, Vancouver, for their donation of two hundred and fifty loaves of bread and Craig's, of Penticton, for three dozen jolly powders.

TAKES FIRST PRIZE IN ESSAY CONTEST

While at Conference in Vancouver this last week, Rev. H. J. Armitage received word from Toronto that he had been awarded the first prize in a "Stewardship Contest" conducted by the department of finance of the Methodist church. This contest was open to all Methodist ministers and there were about 100 contestants, calling for a sermon-essay on "Christian Stewardship." Rev. Mr. Armitage's essay won first place. It is to be published.

ASSOCIATED IS STILL SEEKING STABILIZATION

Committee Named to Negotiate with Independents for Improvements.

Associated Growers of B. C. have issued the following bulletin to 'The Review' and other papers with the request that it be published:

To correct an impression which appears to be prevalent among some of our growers, that the Associated has closed the doors against further negotiations with independent shippers for some practical, organized effort to control distribution and stabilizing prices, we wish to say that this is not in any sense the true situation.

The plan under consideration obviously required the support of all independent shippers to be a practical solution of the marketing problem. This to date has not been secured. The reported association including 100 per cent of independents was not formed until after they had reported to us that full support could not be obtained for the proposed board of control.

The Associated, being assured of the necessary 80 per cent control, of the question of their functioning for 1924 was definitely decided irrespective of the negotiations with shippers, but this does not mean that the Associated gives any less recognition to the importance of unified control of 100 per cent of the crop, or at least of united action for securing the best possible distribution and stabilization of prices.

With this in mind the directors of the Associated at their meeting May 14th appointed a standing committee consisting of the president, general manager and Mr. Thos. Hulman, to act in any further negotiations with the independent shippers for a practical solution of the difficulty, but no indication has been received that they are open to further negotiations and no reply has been given to alternative suggestions put forward by us.

BOX FACTORY IS OPERATING

Plant Has Been Remodelled and Capacity Increased—New Machines.

Summerland box factory resumed operations this week after a shut down of some months. In the interval the plant has passed into new ownership, the Pacific Box Company, with head offices at Vancouver, having acquired the box factory as well as the sawmill formerly owned by the Summerland Lumber Company Ltd.

During the spring a very marked change in the layout of the plant has been affected with the idea of cutting out all lost motion and giving the lumber a straight run through the mill from the time it is brought to the planer until it goes out tied up as bundles of box stock. During the same time the company has been buying lumber suitable for box material and when the mill started this week, about a million and a half feet of lumber was stacked in the yard.

Additional equipment to that in the plant last year has also been provided. The Woods planer in the mill, at Myren has been installed in the local box factory and has a much greater capacity than the planer used last year. There are two cut-off saws and a horizontal re-saw, and to these have been added two rip saws. The mill is also equipped with a clear saw and a two colored printer. Another new machine is a Morgan shock splicer, by which two pieces of wood are fastened together with metal for box ends.

As soon as some necessary adjustments are made and the mill is running to full capacity, between thirty-five and forty men will be employed. Geo. Perry, local manager, states that it is his intention to employ practically all local and white help. He has associated with him F. W. Grant, another Vancouver man, who will be in charge of the mill as mechanical superintendent. Two other men from the coast will be employed for a time until some of the local help are fully instructed on the machines, such as the planer and the horizontal re-saw.

Mr. Grant has leased the Arnett cottage, and his furniture arrived last week end. Mrs. Grant and family came in from the coast early this week.

PARTING LETTER TO PRES. A. T. HOWE

Directors of the Associated Growers of B. C. Ltd. gave expression of their appreciation of the service rendered the organization, and of their regret in losing A. T. Howe as president, after the latter had tendered his resignation:

A. T. Howe, Esq.,
Vernon, B. C.

Dear Mr. Howe:—
In accepting your resignation as President of the Associated Growers, the Directors greatly regret that conditions seem to make it necessary. We congratulate you on the honor that has been given you.

We wish to convey to you our appreciation of the whole-hearted devotion you have given to the cause during the last year, and our regret that it would be, we believe, impossible for you to give the necessary attention to the onerous duties attached to the office of President while occupied in a political campaign, or as a member of the Provincial Legislature.

We can assure you that we have no slightest feeling that you have in any sense deserted us; knowing that we can count upon your continued interest, assistance and advice in your capacity as a member of the Advisory Board.

Yours sincerely
(Signed) J. J. Campbell for the Directors.

At the invitation of J. W. S. Logie, a member of the school board, the trustees and teaching staff of the Summerland schools visited the Log Cabin in Peach Orchard and inspected the grounds, which are now in charge of W. Simpson. Refreshments were served at the Cabin during the evening and music and a friendly social time enjoyed.

CHURCH ENDS YEAR WITHOUT A DEBT

Summerland Methodist church was able to close its fiscal year, which ended April 30th, with all its financial obligations met in full. This cheering information was presented at the recent annual congregational meeting of the church when the various reports were presented. In all $2,056 was raised. Much credit is due the Ladies' Aid, and without the generous support of members and friends, this success could not have been attained.

Rev. H. J. Armitage, the pastor, has decided to accept the invitation of the congregation to remain another year, though he has had one or two pressing invitations from other churches.

Reports show a slight increase in membership and the Sunday school has an average attendance of about 100.

An interesting musical program was a feature of the annual meeting.

Creston In Line With Associated

Re-organized Growers Already Control Ninety Per Cent of Crop.

M. G. Wilson has been appointed trustee of the old Creston Fruit Union, which went into voluntary liquidation. Mr. Wilson returned from the eastern part of the province last Sunday, having left here about a week before for the purpose of attending a meeting of the Creston growers as liquidator for the O.U.G., the principal creditor of the Creston Union.

Through the trustee the new organization has acquired the assets of its predecessor. All obligations are to be paid by a box assessment and it will probably be three years before the obligations to the O.U.G. are cleaned up but they will be paid in full.

Mr. Wilson reports that the Creston Co-operative had already signed up 90 per cent of the tonnage of that district and has entered into a one year contract with the Associated for the marketing of the crop.

FOREST FIRE MAKES CALL FOR MEN

For several days this week as many as thirty men from here, under the direction of H. Reynolds, district fire warden, have been fighting a fire beyond the upper end of Garnett Valley.

The fire was discovered on Sunday and spread rapidly and is in the direction of Peachland and two or three miles beyond the old mill site in Upper Garnett Valley. A number of men were enlisted on Sunday and others were called into service on Monday. At present about five men from here are helping to keep the fire under control. Further particulars of the fire are given by our Peachland correspondent.

"O. K." Brand In Good Demand

Trustee Gets First Payment on Purchase Price from Associated

Eight hundred and forty-five thousand boxes of apples were packed and marketed last year by the Associated under the O.K. brand. It is said that the one season fully established in the minds of the officials of the Associated the value of this brand on the market, and that it was practically the only brand of apples demanded by the trade.

Under the agreement by which the Associated acquired this brand from the O.U.G., it was to be paid for at the rate of one cent per box and accordingly the O.U.G. in liquidation receives a payment of $8,450 on the total price of thirty thousand dollars. M. G. Wilson, trustee of the O.U.G. returned last night from Vernon and states that this sum has already been paid to him.

Kamloops growers, affiliated through their organization with the Associated, recently decided to dissolve their local and to dispose of their assets. Since then the Associated Growers, the largest creditor, has made an offer to take over the assets. It is understood that it is the intention of the Associated to operate a branch at Kamloops and that a man will be put in charge of the field there at an early date.

GROWERS WILL GET ANOTHER CROP PAYMENT

Co-operative Still Holds Few Thousand Dollars for Members.

Some thousands of dollars are yet to be distributed among the members of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association. About $3,000 comes from the Associated by a refund of 1 1/2 cents on apples, available through the fact that the Associated operated at a lower cost than originally estimated. It is also stated that there will be some refund on soft fruits.

The local will pay the growers 5 cents on peaches as an adjustment made with central and a further 3 cents as a refund on handling charges. On those apples, crabs and pears which were paid for prior to the last settlement, there is a further payment of 7 cents per box, through the fact that when settlement was made a larger deduction than was afterwards found necessary had been made for local operating expenses. Further payments of $6. a ton on canning fruit and 3 cents a package on other soft fruits will also be made.

The association is carrying over $12,500 in boxes and to that extent is handicapped in making final payments to its members, as it has but little working capital, not enough to pay for carrying surplus stock.

At a special meeting of the board held last Monday evening, finances were discussed with C. B. Winter, local manager of the Bank of Montreal, with the result that negotiations have been opened with that institution for a loan to permit the association to pay any balances due members.

GRADING APPROACH TO NEW BRIDGE

Work has been started on building up the new section of road which will lead to the new bridge to be constructed over the Okanagan river just at the foot of the lake. The present bridge with its long trestle running directly to the face of the cliff, has been partially condemned in that loads greater than four tons are forbidden. The new bridge will be at a lower level than the present structure and the roadway on the west side will turn northward.

It is stated that the site on which the roadway is now being done was the original surveyed location, but through the influence of some parties said to have been looking to the acquiring of lands of the Indian reserve, the road was swung westward, making the trestle necessary.

FIRST LEAGUE GAME HERE 3RD

Summerland vs. Penticton Ball Game Will be First of Series of Ten.

Summerland baseball club is now affiliated with the South Okanagan Baseball League, with its president, Keith Elliott, a vice-president of the league. In all, five towns are represented in the league, namely, Oroville, Oliver, Keremeos, Penticton and Summerland. Arrangements have been made for ten games during the season, two in each of those towns.

The first league game will be played here as a feature of the King's birthday sports program at Croascent Beach, and will be played between Summerland and Penticton. The Summerland boys are entering with great enthusiasm into the sport and are confident of being able to make a very creditable showing.

THE CO-OPERATING INDEPENDENTS.

Co-operators will look upon the organizing of the independent shipping concerns with considerable satisfaction. Effectively united in the marketing end of their business, they will become one factor in the matter of sale and distribution and will have thus reduced the selling organizations to two, the Associated and themselves, and it will be very much easier for the two to work together than had the independents remained entirely apart.

This move on the part of the independents should greatly improve the whole situation.

WATCH FOR THEM.

Here and there at scattered points grasshoppers appeared last year in rather threatening numbers. In fact at some points they did considerable damage and it would appear that this is one more pest to be added to our list of annual visitors. It is well that we be prepared to fight them before they become an overwhelming menace.

Grasshoppers are commencing to show up in some parts of the Oliver district in large numbers and growers are looking forward to their becoming a serious pest again this year. Farther down the valley on the American side this pest is becoming a serious menace. At Omak a bulletin has been issued in which it is stated that the dry lands are alive with grasshoppers and the situation is the most serious ever known. In places they have already taken the alfalfa and have started defoliating fruit trees. Oroville and districts between are also suffering from this pest. Reports from Kelowna also indicate the prevalence of hoppers in sections of that district.

SEEKING THE PUBLIC'S GOOD.

The Review as a property is privately owned, but as a newspaper, it is dedicated to the service of the public.

Its aim is to contribute as much as it may to the life, growth, and cultural development of the communities it represents and also the Valley as a whole.

It seeks to reflect the best thought and sentiment of the people, but it will not cater to passing public opinion.

It desires to assist the people to achieve their legitimate aspirations, but will not knowingly encourage their illusions.

In politics, it is uncontrolled, with factions it has nothing in common, with the political feudist and demagogue, no patience.

Its position on public questions shall be conscientiously taken, fairly presented, and faithfully maintained.

It knows no classes, recognizes no interests, seeks no favors, but shall strive to merit the public's confidence, respect and support.

LET'S QUIT ALIBI-ING.

The "panicky" business man is ever with us—a slight depression and he immediately climbs to the house top and shouts that the country is going to the eternal bow-wows. He is not content to meet the situation courageously by adopting such policies that conform with trade conditions, but instead means to his fellow tradesmen the "seriousness" of what he interprets as calamity. You heard him when the so-called Associated crisis came and again after the early May frost. He surrounds himself with an atmosphere of doubt and anxiety; he becomes a destroyer of business morale, destructive to the end of his unfounded conclusions.

Business today not only calls for men with faith in the future of our Valley, but a faith in the industry they collectively represent—men who not only have a true vision of the future but the will and courage to grapple intelligently with the problems that arise from the "ups and downs" of trade and commerce which, as cycles, come and go like summer and winter, and to meet these problems with no loss of warranted optimism.

Let's not talk about "poor business," let's plead for "better business." When the monthly sales report shows a lower level, turn on more steam, mix more aggressiveness with your initiative. Spend more time "trying" than "alibi-ing" and you will be a bigger asset to your business, to your community and to yourself.

The Second Column

REMEMBER, THIS IS ELECTION YEAR.

This is election year. The campaign is on. Candidates are coming around shaking our hand, and telling us how much they want to do for the people. It is to laugh! They have said the same thing before, and behold, taxes are higher than ever.

The politicians are waxing eloquent about this, that and the other, pro and con. But look out! It is mere camouflage to get the attention of the voters away from the things nearer home. Keep your hand on your pocketbook.

Taxation is pauperizing farmers, disrupting business houses and impoverishing the people. The power to tax is the power to destroy. The time to begin is right now. Get acquainted with the public business. Dig into the records. What you find there will astonish you—it may make you mad—but it's a cinch you will go to the polls and vote with more enthusiasm than you ever did before.

BOOSTING.

Boosting is the cheapest commodity on the market. And yet it does more actual good for the individual and the community than the expenditure of thousands of dollars.

Some people are natural born boosters. Others have to cultivate the art. But whatever it takes, it is certainly worth the effort.

But boosting doesn't consist simply of talk. The real booster has also to be a "doer." Your booster is the fellow who is back of the civic program. He is the man who attends mass meetings, reads this paper and otherwise keeps himself informed on what is going on. The booster is slow to criticize. There are plenty of things with which he is not in hearty accord. But he takes the time and pains to equip himself with the facts before he starts talking.

The booster knows there are two sides to every question. And he knows the other fellow may be right at least part of the time. For that reason he tries to get the mass perspective on any question which concerns others besides himself. He is forever asking himself the question: Will this thing react for the general good of the most?

The smallest individual in the community is the man who, for various reasons is forced to live on in a place about which he hasn't one good thing to say. The fellow who is forever making disparaging comments about his city and neighbors is not a very valuable citizen, any way one looks at it.

But the booster never overlooks a chance to cast a vote in civic, provincial and national elections.

A SIMPLE CREED.

I am thoroughly convinced that The Golden Rule is practical religion and that it works both ways—for others and for me.

I respect all real religious creeds and shall not interfere with any man's honest political convictions.

I shall always be square with those who trust me and always fair with those who do not.

I want to live as long as I can be useful to my country, my community and to those who love me.

I firmly believe that selfish interest defeats self-interest—that my permanent profits and lasting satisfaction in success will only come through capable and dependable Service.

I would not exchange my Friendships for all the currency in this country.

I am unspeakably grateful to my Maker for each and every day that I am permitted to live, and I want so to live that several will really miss me when I take the long, long trail.

Finally: I want so to live that my Mother will smile down and still call me her boy.

THE REALLY PRECIOUS THINGS.

As we grow older, and the shadows begin to lengthen, and the leaves which seemed so thick in youth above our heads grow thin and show the sky beyond, and as those in the ranks in front drop away, and we come in sight, as we all must, of the eternal rifle-pits beyond, a man begins to feel that among the really precious things of life, more lasting and more substantial than many of these objects of ambition here, is the love of those he loves and the friendship of those whose friendship he prizes.

"DO YOU KNOW—"

One of the first qualifications of a town booster is that he shall know his community, and be able to tell of it intelligently to those whom he wishes to impress with the advantages of life there. Summerland grows around us in many ways, yet there are few who could mention the concrete examples of growth, or tell in exact terms why Summerland is a great place in which to live.

It is not sufficient to tell the prospective resident that Summerland is the finest town in the province. You must tell him why it is "the finest town."

It is your duty to become an intelligent, as well as an ardent booster for Summerland. Know your community, and let others know about it.

The man who can acknowledge a mistake without blaming it on someone else has true moral courage.

It is queer how many people there are in the world looking for the biggest half when common sense tells us there is no such thing.

INTER-SCHOOLS TRACK MEET

Earl Wilson Makes Good Individual Score, Coming Second.

At the third annual inter-school track meet held last Saturday in Kelowna, that city was victorious in carrying off both the Kelowna cup for Division A, under 17, with a score of 54 points, and the Vernon cup in Division B, High School, with a score of 72 points, making a total in all of 124 points, as against Penticton, who won second place with a total of 109 points. Vernon, 3rd, total 63 points; Grindrod, 4th, 9 points; North Enderby, 5th, 1 point; and Enderby 1 point. Summerland did not enter for the trophies competition, but only for the individual scoring.

Through a misunderstanding in age limits, no Summerland pupils were entered in the public school events, while but three stood the tests for the finals. These were Jean Moffat, Rene Harris and Earl Wilson.

In the boys' open division, high school, Earl Wilson ran up a score of 17 points, gaining second place. The winner in this division was Gordon Meikle, of Kelowna, with 22 points. Earl's record follows: boys' open hurdles, 2nd; boys' open 100 yds., 3rd; boys' open 220 yds., 2nd; boys' open high jump, 1st, 4 feet 11 inches; boys open broad jump, 3rd, 17 feet 4 inches; boys' open 440 yds., 2nd; boys' open pole vault, 3rd, 6 feet 6 inches.

In the girls under 17, 75 yards dash, Jean Moffat gained third place. In Division A, boys under 17, S. Burch, Kelowna, led with 16 points; Div. A girls under 17, M. Weaver, Penticton, 6 points; Div. B, boys high school open, G. Meikle, Kelowna, 22 points; Div. B, girls, high school, K. Richards, Vernon, 16 points.

HOW A PLANT FEEDS FROM THE AIR.

When wood is burned it becomes black. This black substance is carbon. A large part of every plant or tree is carbon. A large tree, weighing let us say, six tons, requires for its growth carbon from 16,000,000 cubic yards of air. All the carbon that a plant gets is taken from the air, none from the soil. It is the leaves of plants that do this work. The leaves are the carbon catchers.

When wood or coal is burned the carbon goes back into the air and other leaves take some of it up, and thus plants grow. Of a whole plant only a very small part comes from the soil. If this were not so every tree would dig a hole as it grows. The fact is, over one-half of a tree is built out of the carbon material that the leaves take in from the air.

Only green plants can use the carbon of the air. Moreover, plants can do this work only in the sunlight. Hence, there are two essential things about taking in the carbon. There must be sunshine and the leaves must be green. The green coloring in leaves is known as chlorophyll. With these two facts being present, carbon is taken into the leaves through little mouths on the underside of the leaves, and then in the leaves the carbon is made into two foods which are called starch and sugar. The plant uses this starch and sugar in its growth, or for the building of the plant tissue.

The plant may be compared to a manufacturing enterprise. The green coloring matter of the leaves is the machine, the sunlight is the engine or power that keeps the machine running, and so growth follows. All the carbon of a farm crop is the result of leaf work. None of it is from the soil. The roots have another job—they take in water and minerals. But getting water into the plant is their great work.

Some people have made a decided success in life by attending to their own business.

How foolish a man feels when he hears of a baby being named after him.

Sidelights on a Great Industry

Thirty Million Dollars

INVESTED IN SAWMILLS AND LOGGING EQUIPMENT IN B. C. INTERIOR

Inland Timber Industries Have Payroll of $10,000,000

Approximately $30,000,000 is invested in lumber mills and logging equipment in inland British Columbia.

At a conservative estimate 3,000 men are engaged in the combined timber industries of the interior, with a payroll of close on $10,000,000.

The standing timber of inland British Columbia is reckoned at 150,000,000,000 feet, and 43% of the area is described as absolute forest land.

According to the last official report published, there are about 150 sawmills and shingle mills operating with a daily capacity of 4,000,000 feet.

Heavy Production in 1923

In 1923 the logging camps in the interior produced 442,000,000 feet of logs of all descriptions and the value of the sawn lumber alone was not less than $8,000,000. In addition large quantities of poles, fence posts, railway ties, shingle bolts, etc., would add many hundreds of thousands of dollars to this total.

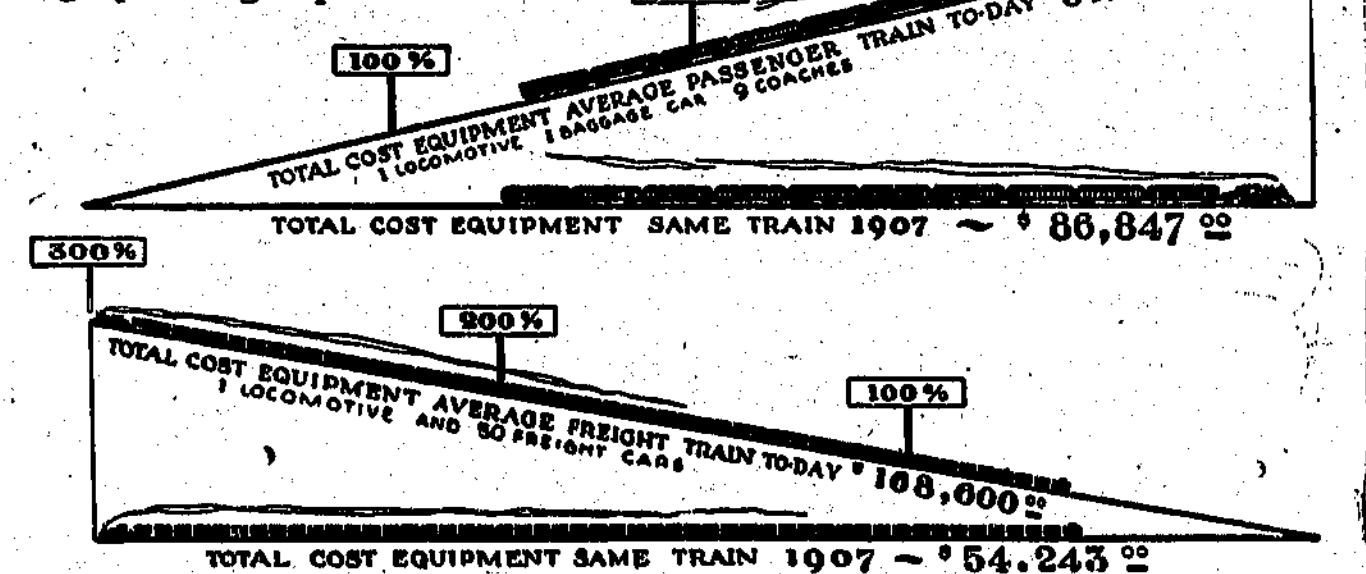

The pole and tie industry of Central and Northern B. C. is developing into a most important branch of logging. As yet the pulp and paper industry has no plant operating in the interior although an enormous quantity of the very finest pulpwood on the continent is available.

These facts and figures demonstrate the vital importance of its inland lumber industry to the whole province of British Columbia.

RAILWAY COSTS SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO AND NOW

Difference in what roads have to pay for equipment makes stiff grade for trains to climb on road to paying operating expenses.

It is becoming daily more important that the public in a country of such vast extent and small population as Canada should thoroughly appreciate the importance of the maintenance of an adequate railway system whereby the producer may reach his markets. It is obvious that the very extent of the country and its scanty population make this maintenance very costly. Until such time as the population increases by immigration to the extent that the traffic on the railroads is heavy enough to enable them to reduce passenger and freight rates, and yet meet expenses, it is impossible for rates to come down without serious loss of efficiency. Those who demand such reductions and even expect the rates to return to the standard of ten years and more ago do not seem to realize that unavoidable expenditures have risen phenomenally of late years in practically every direction, giving the railroads a stiff grade to surmount before they can pay operating expenses, compared to which such expenditures were formerly a level track.

This is especially true of railroad equipment, the cost of which in almost all cases has doubled or even tripled. It is true that the quality of equipment has improved during the seventeen years covered in the above diagram. The public has demanded improved service such as could only be given by improved equipment and the railways must pay accordingly.

The diagrams shown above graphically illustrate the facts as they apply to only one class of equipment, locomotives and certain kinds of rolling stock. In studying them it is important to bear in mind that they do not account for cost of repair, maintenance or operation, including wages, but only for actual construction, and those costs, not touched on here, have gone up in somewhat similar fashion.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS
PRE-EMPTIONS
 Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.
 Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.
 Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 3,000 feet per acre east of that range.
 Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.
 Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.
PURCHASE
 Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes, minimum price of first class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."
 Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.
HOMESITE LEASES
 Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.
LEASES
 For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.
GRAZING
 Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commission. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Fees, or partially free permits are available for hunters, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

Irrigation of Vegetables

Results of Experiments at the Summerland Experimental Station, as Told by R. C. Palmer, Assistant Superintendent.

The successful production of vegetables under irrigated conditions is not the simple matter which the uninitiated imagine. Irrigation brings with it many problems which are not found where the natural precipitation is sufficient for vegetable growing.

Theoretically, irrigation makes it possible to supply the plant with just the right quantity of water just when it is needed. Where the water is applied by a skilled irrigator, it is often possible to approach this ideal. If far more frequently happens, however, that water is applied at the wrong time and in the wrong quantity for most satisfactory results.

Many growers seem to be of the opinion that an increase in the amount of water applied always results in an increase in the yield of produce. This idea is quite erroneous as is proved by much experimental evidence on the subject. In fact, the application of more water than necessary to a given crop often results in an actual decrease in yield.

In this connection the results of an experiment which has been conducted at the Summerland Experimental Station for the past four years may be of interest.

The subject of the experiment was to obtain reliable data concerning the irrigation requirements of various truck crops grown in the southern Okanagan Valley. Irrigation water was applied at the rates of 6, 12, 18, and 24 acre inches per season to such crops as Cantaloupes, Corn, Potatoes, Beans and Tomatoes. Some plots received 3, some 4, some 5, and some 6 irrigations during the season.

It was found that just as large, and in some cases larger yields were secured where 12 acre inches of water was applied than was the case where double the quantity of water was used. Furthermore, the application of more water than necessary delayed the date of maturity of such crops as Cantaloupes and Corn for as much as ten days.

The amount of water and frequency of application which will be found most satisfactory depends largely on the type of soil. In these experiments the soil was a silt loam about two feet in depth, underlain with fine sand. The water was applied in furrows three feet apart, and it was found that the crops made excellent growth where water was applied every fortnight in quantity sufficient to moisten the soil to a depth of three feet. More frequent irrigations and the application of greater amounts of water appeared to be wasteful of both labour and water.

From these results it is apparent that where the soil is in good physical condition the quantity of water necessary to produce maximum yields of such crops as tomatoes, potatoes, beans, corn and cantaloupes is considerably smaller than most growers realize.

To make the most efficient use of his available moisture supply, the irrigator must study the moisture-holding capacity of his soil and the water requirement of his crops, and then apply his water accordingly.

In a speech to the higher officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway on the occasion of the recent convention at Quebec, Mr. E. W. Beatty, president, pointed out that 50 per cent of the company's stock is held in Great Britain, 21 per cent in Canada and 20 per cent in the United States. It is, therefore, a corporation absolutely controlled within the British Empire and, he added, that control is being appreciably strengthened as the years go on.

Talks on Honey

From the Naramata Apiaries
 There's a lot of work done in producing a pound of honey.

In the form of nectar, as thin as water, the bees collect it from the flowers, drop by drop, and carry it in their honey sacks to the hive and deposit it in the honey comb, which they make from pure beeswax. (Beeswax itself they make from honey). Then they "ripen" it, by fanning it with their wings until it has become thick, and much of the water evaporated. After it is fully ripened, they put an airtight capping over it made from pure wax.

It is estimated that it requires 40,000 trips of a honeybee to gather one pound of honey. As a worker bee wears itself out in about six weeks in a heavy honey flow and then dies of overwork, it is evident that it takes a great many bees a great many trips to gather a single pound of the honey that you buy for a few cents.

After the bees have completed the work of gathering, storing and ripening the honey, there is still a great deal of work to be done by human hands before the honey is ready for your table.

The ancients "robbed" their bees and took out the honeycomb in chunks (none too cleanly the way they handled it), and crushed honey, wax and all into a sticky mass. And in this way it was eaten.

Up to 70 years ago there was not much improvement in the method of preparing honey for eating. Those who did not care for the wax in comb honey, melted the chunks, and skimmed off the wax as it came to the top, or strained it through cheesecloth or screen wire. Hence we have the term, "strained" honey. Many primitive beekeepers still prepare their honey for market in this manner. Such honey may be excellent in quality if it has not been overheated in the process. Heating honey above 160 degrees, at the highest, injures the flavor, and also darkens its color.

FIRST SURVEY AND ESTIMATE OF 1924 CROP

District Horticulturist Issues Bulletin with Report on Orchard Conditions

 ation is becoming fairly general, and a great deal of control work with different sprays is being carried out in the Horticultural Branch in conjunction with the Dominion Entomological Branch staff at Vernon. The results so far have been very satisfactory. Tent Caterpillars in the north end of the Valley have been very numerous this year and are at present causing considerable alarm. Spraying with Arsenate of Lead has been advised in some bad instances but the majority are resorting to hand destruction as the most economical way to keep them down. Grasshoppers are also giving trouble to vegetable growers and much work is being carried on with poison controls with good results.

"Spring frosts did considerable injury to blossoms in the south end of the Valley but latest reports indicate that the crops, with the possible exception of cherries and peaches, will not be affected to any appreciable extent. In many instances the freeze has just served as a thinning of the fruits. Orchards generally have received exceptionally good care this winter and spring when one realizes the trying financial difficulties most growers have been working under during the last few years. The early spring gave growers plenty of time to do good cultivation. Pruning and fire blight cutting has been well carried out. Many thousands of trees have been pulled out in all parts of the Valley. The majority of these were odd varieties or fillers so that the total crop yield should not be materially affected.

"On the whole the crop prospects for the coming season may be summed up as very promising. Should marketing arrangements now fairly well decided upon result in even a fair price to the growers, the outlook would appear bright and warrant the existing more general feeling of optimism."

Creston will have a light crop of cherries, not over 50 per cent. Crabapples were slightly damaged by late frost and pears and plums have been affected to about 30 per cent. Apples give promise of a heavy crop in the leading varieties planted in that district.

Grand Forks anticipates a good crop of apples and reports prospects of a prune crop as most excellent. The pear crop will be very light due to winter injury.

At Kelowna all fruits, with the exception of cherries, are showing promise of a good crop. Jonathans and Wealthies are patchy, McIntosh a full crop in most sections. Indications point to an 85 per cent crop in apples and about 50 per cent in cherries.

But little damage was done by the late April frost in the Vernon district. The effects of the unprecedented dry spring are becoming apparent on all crops. Crop indications are shown by blossoms predict a smaller production than in 1923. McIntosh, Grimes, Spy, Duchess, Baldwin, Delicious and Rome appear heavy; Wagner, Jonathan, Jeffries, Newtown, fair; Wealthy poor; pears, fair to good; sweet cherries, fair; sour cherries, good; Transcendents poor to fair; Hyslops, fair to good; apricots and peaches, fair; plums, light; prunes, not so heavy as in previous two years.

At Penticton the peach and cherry bloom was seriously injured by the late frost, but apricots did not suffer serious damage and at present point to about a normal crop. There is a good crop of pears in prospect while the apple crop will not be as heavy as last year.

The Kerecenes district suffered considerably, particularly in cherries, peaches and pears. Peach crop is practically nil and cherries will be very light. A portion of the apple bloom was rather severely frosted, although there is a fair crop in prospect.

Strained honey can be distinguished from the best grades of extracted honey by a cloudiness or murkiness in the finished product that cannot be gotten rid of.

The modern, up-to-date bookkeeper of the highest type neither kills his bees nor "robs" them to get the honey. Instead, he has "supers" or top hives that he sets above the regular beehive, and the only honey he takes is what they store in the supers after they have gathered a plenty for themselves and stored for their use in the hive below. Sometimes there isn't any surplus for the bookkeeper.

Correspondence

Editor, The Review,
 The following information, extracted from a report recently received from the Supt. of Dominion Meteorological Service, Victoria, on hail frequency will I think be of sufficient interest to your readers to merit space in your valued publication.

Although the superintendents report covers the whole province I only quote Summerland, Kelowna and Vernon. As Penticton does not appear in the report it would seem that there is no observer there.

The superintendent points out that hail has not always been reported by observers and therefore reports of thunder storms also, as hail frequently accompanies the latter.

From May 1st, 1914, to Sept. 30th, 1923, and for those five months only, Summerland district has suffered six destructive hail storms and 52 thunder storms, Kelowna 3 hail and 144 thunder storms, while Vernon, from May 1st, 1920, only, to the latter date has suffered nine hail and 63 thunder storms. The thunder storm figures indicate that Kelowna may have suffered hail which was not reported.

Yours very truly,

The Winter's Tale,

Scene II, Act IV

Stephen Leacock has recently given us what he calls a "road map of the new mentality," in which he deals with such things as "COMPLEXES": complexes, reflexes, and impulses, all of which we have had since the beginning of the world, but only of late years discovered. The professor has a way of expressing his views which gives many people the impression that he writes only to amuse, and we all admit that he is very successful in that particular respect. But there is often a great deal behind his humor, and it would be a good thing if the real drift of his philosophy were taken seriously by those who could apply it in their daily round. The article I am now referring to, for instance, might do some good if copies of it were pasted up on the walls of a few of our court rooms, or better still, put in prominent position, on the desk of those judges who are given to listening to sobriest stuff concerning some thug convicted of robbery with violence. The administrators of justice would then have the opportunity of realizing the lack of any real difference between "psychology of impulse" and the plain crime which he is there to punish and hold in check. And a copy sent to the official who is in the habit of modifying lash sentences imposed by a good, matter of fact, sensible magistrate over whom he claims authority, might have a salutary effect, although I fear that is doubtful!

Professor Leacock must certainly have revelled in his subject when he wrote about the modern intelligence test, and I fancy had the estimable Thomas Edison in mind in his samples of test questions. It will be remembered that the American inventor not long ago propounded a list of propositions which he claimed should be easily answered by applicants for business positions but which were not so answered by those whom he tested. As a matter of fact the questions were absurdly irrelevant and naturally calculated to provoke the sort of answer given by a real applicant for a real position, when asked how many years it took the light of a certain remote star to reach the earth. "I don't know," said this matter of fact youth, "but I'm quite sure that won't hinder me from doing the work of this position if I get it." Our professor parallels this with such tests as an estimate of the number of cubic centimetres in the Woolworth building, or a prompt reply to the question of how much is 13 times 147. By these and other questions of a like nature, he points out that it is quite easy to determine personal fitness for a given work without the old-fashioned, cumbersome method of practical experience. In one case, for example, it was found that certain highly successful salesmen were shown by psychological examination to be quite unfitted to sell anything! and a number of gardeners, examined by a society aiming to develop the psychology of celery growing, were found to know nothing about the psychological aspect of their profession, although they had been producing good celery by loads for many years!

It is all very funny and I has a moral which could with advantage be studied by quite a number of people. Painters of cubist monstrosities, writers of "free" verse, itinerant evangelists and "healers," Doyleites, and Marxian apostles, are among the many culturists who might benefit from a course of Stephen Leacock on the New Mentality.

The contributor of a daily column of good comment to the "Province" of Vancouver, has a bad lapse in his reference to the recent arrest of a "spiritual" "EXTRA. Dr. Price by a doctor ORDINARY" of medicine of the same name. He refers to it as "extraordinary" and apparently takes that stand on the ground that a preacher cannot be held responsible if one of his hearers "throws a fit." As a matter of fact, this slipshod way of handling the matter does not touch the root of it at all. The united testimony of a body of investigators, medical, clerical and legal, recently given to the public was to the effect that this preacher's methods had led to mental disturbances of pronounced character, including a certain number of cases of definite insanity. The epithet "throwing a fit" is not a good one to use in dealing with the subject, and the word "extraordinary" is also misplaced. The really extraordinary feature of the whole matter is the fact that a city like Victoria, the seat of the provincial legislature, and a center of intelligence and culture, should permit a travelling preacher of this type to hold his irrational and devastating meetings in its midst. The authorities obviously had no jurisdiction in the arrest, but they presumably have the power to forbid gatherings which are calculated to do harm, and it is surprising that this power was not exercised. I can understand that Vancouver might not be so particular, since that city tolerates daily advertisements of palmists, clairvoyants, phlogarists (whatever they may be) and psychics generally, and therefore could hardly be expected to balk at a mere evangelist healer of disease. But one looks for better things from Victoria.

"If a hen and a half lays an egg and a half in a day and a half, what is the answer?" A depletion of natural vigor, a general AN EGG deterioration, an increased A DAY tendency to disease, and an ultimate inability to reproduce strong specimens of its kind. I have, in my time, kept more hens than I could shake a stick at, but I never found it pay to force them beyond their natural limit. Confirmed poor layers were eliminated, and only the finest specimens retained for breeding purposes, but all artificial stimulants and artifices were barred. It may be possible to increase the egg average by stimulative feeding and by turning night into everlasting day by means of electric current, but for all these things nature will finally exact a penalty, and that is now being found out by poultry breeders today. The Langley chicken men find that the mortality among the youngsters is much greater than it used to be, and the provincial expert opines that the cause is weakening of stock by heavy laying. The provincial expert is correct, but he should go further and warn against the folly of the suggestion that other breeds be exploited in place of the White Leghorn, which is the breed hitherto most sinned against. It is suggested that the Brown Leghorn and the Plymouth Rock be bred up for heavy laying—in other words, having pretty well worn out one breed by means of artificial strain, we will pursue the same method with other varieties ad infinitum!

Damages and Repairs

A negro woman of mammoth proportions and inky complexion was in an automobile accident. She was taken to the hospital, where she soon regained consciousness. The doctor seeking to comfort her a bit, said to her:

"You will undoubtedly be able to obtain a considerable amount of damages, Mrs. Johnson."

"Damages!" said Mrs. Johnson. "What Ah want wif damages? Ah got enough damages now. What Ah wants is repairs."

No Yong Park is one of the outstanding figures of the Oriental world. He is a Korean, possessed of all the keen intelligence of the upper classes of his people. Everyone knows of the unjust acquisition of Korea by Japan. It is one of the international branches of faith which causes all right thinking people to blush. No Yong Park was a newspaper editor. He dared to come out openly and fearlessly against the seizure of his native land by an alien power, and for this most worthy and patriotic stand he was thrown into prison by Japan. Later, he was exiled, and since that sentence was imposed upon him, he has been around the world a number of times. There is no one who has made a more thorough study of the age old foreign policy of the Japanese Government than has No Yong Park. In addition to the clear cut, logical discussion of his subject, Mr. Park brings a wealth of rare humor. He is known as the Mark Twain of the Orient. Mr. Park speaks English fluently. You cannot afford to fall in attendance upon this most instructive and entertaining lecture.

Mr. Wilson Sr. arrived from England last week to join his daughter and son John Wilson, and spend a time in Peachland again.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mowat of Edmonton, recent purchasers of the Weitzel property, arrived last week and are getting settled in their new home. In the meantime they are guests at Bally Allan with Mrs. A. J. Miller.

A well entertained audience giving glowing accounts of a two act play put on in the G. W. V. A. Hall on Thursday evening of last week by Summerland talent. It was rather disappointing that there was not a larger attendance for those who were there were loud in their praises for the entertainers and say it was one of the best of its kind put on in Peachland for some time.

A crew was rounded up in a hurry in Peachland on Sunday afternoon last and others added on Monday to go out and fight a fire which broke out in the valley south east of what is commonly known here as "The Old Favorite" mountain. As far as can be learned so far the fire started some distance south of where W. D. Miller carried on part of his last winter's logging operations, but the fire was carried northward till it got into Miller's logs and destroyed a portion of some skidways he had been forced to leave in the bush when the snow gave out in the spring before he finished the haul. There is also a crew out from Summerland working on the south side of the fire and they are gradually gaining on it. W. D. Miller was placed in charge of the crew.

There was quite a little excitement in town last week when it was learned that a small crew was about to start work on the Peachland-Princeton road. A petition was circulated throughout the district and also in Westbank urging the government to push this work to completion in order to prepare the road for traffic as soon as possible. Judging from the signatures to the petition it would seem that it is almost unanimous. Part of the crew and provisions went out as far as McKay's pre-emption on Saturday and the rest was to have gone out Monday under the leadership of W. D. Miller, but the fire has interfered to some extent with the road activities.

The Rev. H. A. Solly was in town on Tuesday of this week, having motored in.

Mr. Wm. McQueen of Glon Rosa paid a short business visit to town on Tuesday.

Mr. E. Cudmore, who had been ill for a week, is again able to take charge of the store.

Peachland has been visited recently by representatives of two of the political parties in the field for the forthcoming election. Mr. John Nelson of Vancouver, Mr. Duncan, member for Cowichan and Mr. Ross of Kelowna representing the Provincial party addressed a public meeting in the Municipal Hall while the Liberal Candidate for South Okanagan, Mr. C. B. Latta, supported by Dr. Knox, Mr. H. V. Craig and Mr. Mitchell all of Kelowna addressed a meeting also in the Municipal Hall. Both of the meetings were pretty well attended and those present listened with interest to the questions of importance as dealt with from the different view points.

Mr. Baptist, manager of the Crystal Garage has clothed his garage in a new coat of paint, as have also the butcher and the baker which has added greatly to the general appearance of that section of the town.

Mr. Wheeler, formerly manager and owner of the Summerland Lumber Co, was a recent visitor in town.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Bernard have rented the Clouston house in Peach Valley.

Miss Ella Morrison left by K.V.R. on Saturday to resume her duties at the Jubilee Hospital, Victoria.

W. C. Kelley has bought the 20 acre orchard of the Koop group lying east of the Koop residence.

Jack McCallum left on Saturday noon to return to his position with the Bank of Montreal at Duncan, V.I.

Arthur Smith left here on Wednesday for Vernon, where he will be employed with the Associated Growers.

A. J. McGregor is planning to return to Saskatchewan and is offering his household effects for sale at public auction.

Mrs. F. H. Worthington, of Cranbrook is visiting her mother, Mrs. Todhunter, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Coulter White.

H. C. Mellor, lay delegate from the Summerland Methodist church to the conference in Vancouver, returned last Saturday morning.

G.W.V.A. tennis court is now open for play. Second court will be called for official opening day, Thurs. June 5th. Membership open to all. 43L

J. W. S. Logie, a member of the school board, addressed the high school pupils yesterday morning on The League of Nations. He did this at the request of the students.

K. M. Elliott is making plans to join a number of others of his profession in an excursion to England to attend the British Empire Exhibition. He will be leaving here in about a month.

Major W. R. Tweedy, Mrs. Tweedy and the children returned last week end from England, after an absence of several months. They were accompanied by Miss Marshall, a friend of Mrs. Tweedy.

From Peachland, Naramata and even more distant points along the K.V.R. shoes are being received by Beer's Shoe Store for repairs. This is another evidence of the value of advertising. 43L

J. C. Melvin has leased the A. J. McGregor cottage and will move in about the end of this month. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Benmore will move into the Patterson cottage at present occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin.

Mrs. P. S. Roe, Mrs. Brock, Mrs. J. J. Blevett and Cliff Roe left by motor on Tuesday for Vancouver, via Portland. Cliff will return by train, while the rest of the party expect to remain at the Coast for about a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Todhunter and child and Messrs. Gibson and Albert Todhunter of Elko, B.C., motored over via Spokane and Grand Forks and spent a day visiting their mother who is ill at Mrs. G. J. Coulter White's.

Donald Ross arrived home on Saturday's boat from Stardee, B.C., where he has been relieving at the C.P.R. telegraph station since the closing down of the station at Stony Creek, where he acted as operator for several months.

Mrs. H. J. Armitage went as a delegate of the local W. M. S. to the Provincial Women's Missionary Convention held in Canadian Memorial Church, Vancouver. She describes it as a great gathering and will give a report to the local W. M. S. shortly.

Noel Wright received a severe cut on his wrist last Friday evening, it being necessary to have several stitches put in. While driving their Chevrolet car, he reached forward to close the windshield. In pushing this in, the heavy glass cracked in two and the larger piece fell across his wrist, inflicting the wound. His brother, Rupert, who was driving with him, rushed him to the hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Andrew.

We have been asked to state that the matron of the hospital would be grateful for donations of fresh vegetables and rhubarb.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Simpson and family have moved into the Pennant house on the hill and will reside there for the summer at least.

Miss Lillian Darke returned to the Coast today, where, after spending a few days visiting friends in Vancouver, she will resume her duties at Jubilee Hospital, Victoria.

Miss Edna Knowles entertained a large number of young friends at her home on Friday evening, when a very jolly informal time was enjoyed in music and dancing.

Rev. H. J. Armitage and Mrs. Armitage returned on Tuesday from Vancouver, where they had attended the annual conference of Methodist churches of this province.

Stores will be open Friday night, due to the fact that Saturday is a holiday. They are not taking advantage of the regulation which permits their remaining open during the usual Thursday afternoon half holiday.

Mrs. H. H. Elsey and son Roy arrived home on Sunday from Vancouver, having made the trip by motor. They were accompanied by Mrs. Fee and her son, of Vancouver, who will visit here for a time. Roy left again by today's train to return to Vancouver.

Mrs. E. A. Young and two children, who have been guests for some weeks of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Treffry, left on Wednesday morning's boat to return to their home in Hirsch, Sask. They were accompanied as far as Sicamous by Mr. Treffry who will return tonight.

Mr. E. Wahley, who came here several weeks ago to recuperate following a severe illness, left this week to return to his home at Michel, B.C. Mr. Wahley, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. Scurrah, was greatly benefitted in health during his stay in Summerland and can not say too much for the Okanagan climate.

Roland Reid came in on Monday from Vancouver and expects to spend the summer here. Roland still retains his enthusiasm for sports and on Saturday last took part in the Olympic trials at Brockton Point. Though not in training, he gained second place in the 220 yards dash, and third place in the 100 yards and 440 yards. Mrs. Reid, who is still in Vancouver, expects to join him here in about a month.

Students in the local high school are putting in much hard work and long hours in an effort to make up for lost time and an earnest endeavor to make a good showing in the final examinations, which are to be written in about a month from now. Matriculation students are attending classes from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. three days a week, as well as on Saturday mornings. Other classes are also putting in much extra time.

What should prove a most interesting basketball game is being staged tomorrow night in Portleton between the girls' team of that town which recently made such a good showing against the Victoria Interior champion team, and the champion ladies' team from Edmonton. The latter team, which has not yet suffered defeat, recently defeated Chicago, 44-11, and at a game in Kamloops last week, won by a score of 28-4.

ORGANIZE TO OPPOSE BEER LICENSING

Local Committee Will Actively Fight Brewers' Demands.

Last Tuesday evening the local joint temperance committee organized to oppose the sale of beer by the glass in the forthcoming plebiscite. The meeting was held in St. Andrew's hall.

The voters' list was carefully gone over and the constituency was divided into districts for canvassing. It was decided to have a meeting of the whole committee each Tuesday night at St. Andrew's hall. Next week reports from the various district leaders will be received.

Satisfaction was expressed in the action of the Methodist conference recently held in Vancouver which utterly opposed the present system of government sale of liquor and declared, by unanimous vote, against the extension of the facilities for the sale of beer as proposed by the forthcoming plebiscite. One speaker declared the system was "the sum of all villainies." The lay association of the conference went on record as emphatic in their opposition and passed a lengthy resolution calling attention to the glaring facts against the liquor control laws both in this province and in Quebec. The concluding paragraph of the resolution states, "The plebiscite if carried would enable the government liquor board to license private persons and institutions to sell beer by the glass to be consumed on licensed premises and at meals, thus re-establishing in the province the vicious principles of private gain from the sale of liquor, but accompanied by more dangerous forms of sale to persons of both sexes, old and young, than was ever with us under the licensed bar. We call upon the people of this province to do all in their power to defeat the beer plebiscite and pledge ourselves to take immediate steps to organize our respective localities against the plebiscite."

The prohibition association of British Columbia, in a recent statement by Rev. A. E. Cooke, president, came out very strongly against the beer clause. He said in part, "The resolutions passed by the executive of the prohibition association recently, and endorsed by the committee of one hundred, indicate our official attitude: 'This association re-affirms its policy of absolute prohibition of the manufacture, distribution and sale of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes; expresses its antagonism to any extension of facilities for obtaining liquor by the glass as provided for in the forthcoming plebiscite; regards the proposal as a preliminary step to the rehabilitation of the bar and pledges itself to organize the temperance forces to defeat the proposal. We intend opposing the proposition to extend the sale of liquor by putting beer on sale by the glass throughout the province.'"

The temperance committee of Summerland district agrees with the prohibition association in this respect and are working for the defeat of the beer by the glass plebiscite on June 20th.—Cont.

Greatly Enjoy University Players

A good audience greeted the presentation by the University Players of "The World and His Wife" on Saturday night. Though this is much more difficult for amateurs than those plays given in previous years, the acting was splendid, while the story of the tragedy is a revelation of evil misery which may be caused by evil minded gossip and in the last act creates many tense scenes.

Peter Palmer as Don Ernesto gave a very realistic interpretation of the hero, while Miss Betty Somerset, as Tondora renewed her popularity as an actress. Miss Alfreda Berkeley as Donna Mercedes and Alex. Zooni as her husband took their parts cleverly, while T. Taylor as Captain Bonchamp, excelled himself. If N. Cross as the Spanish diplomat appeared to good advantage, especially in the last act, while Fraser Lister, as Don Popito, was a favorite from his first appearance on the stage, his ability to present such sequence in changes of mood being noteworthy. The minor parts taken by H. Singh and Miss Teeple were well sustained.

One trouble seems to be that the girl who has the initiative to make a Leap Year proposal probably will turn out to be a buck seat driver.

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

Of all the sheets from East to West the local paper is the best. Deep is our love and deep our debt to Record, Journal or Gazette. When first I landed on this ball, a bit of flesh wrapped round a squall, it welcomed me with joy and pride my life has never justified. It follows me my whole life through, with words all kind and mostly true; and even after I'm hearsed 'twill tell my best and hide my worst. When in Oshkosh or Wickiup I wander homesick as a pup, or if in foreign lands I roam, it brings me pleasant news from home. Across the sands, across the sea, the old home paper comes to me. It is a friend both true and tried, and to its gents, I point with pride; yea, I will hook my Sunday pants to pay up six years in advance.—Bob Adams.

FIRST NUMBER OF NEW PUBLICATION
"The Canadian Statesman," edited by Jack Logie, has made its first appearance. This number and the second number, which is to be issued prior to the provincial elections, will, no doubt, be factors in the present political campaign in this constituency. In its introductory editorial, The Canadian Statesman states frankly that it is out for a new order in economical, political and social life. The political situation the world over is briefly reviewed in an article headed, "The Political Situation." It gives a reprint of an article by Walter Locks in "The New Republic" depicting his views on the position of the farmer in present day economics. Richard Wagner, the German composer, a radical whose extreme political views brought him exile, is the subject of another article by "R. Ubato."

Dr. Frank Bohn, Author, Lecturer, Investigator and an Expert in Social Science, has the happy combination of education and experience. He has studied at the great universities of this continent, has travelled extensively throughout Europe, and yet is primarily a man of the people. For the sake of gaining real knowledge, he has worked with section hands, has become intimately acquainted with leaders of Labor and Captains of Finance, and to such experiences he brings a strong and well-trained mind. He can speak with the authority of the man who knows; he is afraid of neither Capital nor Labor—he understands both; he comes with a comprehensive knowledge not confined to this country; and finally, he is a Foreign Representative of the New York Times, and has an inside knowledge of affairs that come to comparatively few men in this world. YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY SOCIAL

At a recent meeting of the executive of the St. Andrew's Young Peoples' Society, it was decided to again hold the regular weekly meetings which have been discontinued during the busy winter season, and the first of these, in the form of a social gathering, was held in the church hall on Monday evening. The society was reorganized with a new membership enrollment of about twenty-five members, to which it is hoped many more names will be added at the next meeting. The former officials and committee will again be in charge, with the exception of convenors for the Literary and Missionary committees. By a unanimous vote H. Daniel was elected convenor of the Literary committee, while the question of a leader to take charge of the Missionary program each month was left until the regular meeting next Monday evening.

A splendid social evening was enjoyed in games and contests, with an encouraging enthusiasm in evidence among the young people for again resuming this splendid work.

GENERATION after generation has mounted those steps and entered that door, and still—although the original owners are gone—the old home clings to its youthful appearance. The bride and groom of yesterday, who made this their love nest, planned wisely. They saved and preserved by the use of paint. Other generations saw the wisdom of this, and today the old home stands as a monument to those who not only built well but knew the economy of surface preservation by paint.

"Vote For Latta If You Endorse Fight For Equalization"

This is Argument of Premier Oliver in Speech Here in Support of Party Candidate—Mr. Latta Gives Views On Public Questions—Dr. Knox Makes Address to Women Voters.

Premier John Oliver in a speech before a large audience in the college gymnasium last Thursday night, dealt at some length with his efforts to obtain equalization of freight and express rates for British Columbia. He also gave a resume of the history of the P. G. E. and outlined what he termed the only solution of this problem. His plea for the return of himself and his party was based on his activities in transportation matters and toward solving the P. G. E. question. He declared that he was not asking for the support of the electorate. He had been honored by the position given him but had squared this by giving the best that was in him.

The chair was occupied by W. C. Kelley, president of the South Okanagan Liberal Association.

The Beer Question

Rev. H. J. Armitage on behalf of the local organization opposed to the efforts being made by the liquor interests to have the sale of beer in licensed places legalized, was given a few minutes in which to address the audience. He declared that the proposed amendment would result in a far greater calamity than the bar. Everywhere our young people would be confronted with temptation. No doubt young women would be largely employed in the serving of beer should the licenses be granted. This, he declared, would be an additional temptation to our young people to acquire the habit of drinking alcoholic liquors. The school, church, home, finance, industries, banks, merchants and manufacturers are all opposed to the liquor traffic, and the speaker challenged any to prove where it had done any good. The increased sale of beer would mean more poverty and every legitimate business would suffer in consequence.

The speaker closed with a brief appeal to save the youth by keeping away this temptation.

Dr. Knox Speaks

Dr. W. J. Knox of Kelowna accompanied the premier and C. B. Latta, the government candidate, from Kelowna, where they had spoken during the afternoon and, in opening a short speech, referred to his professional visits to Summerland during the years of 1903, 1904 and 1905, when there was no doctor between Kelowna and Fairview.

Dr. Knox addressed his speech particularly to the women, telling them they were not voting for man nor party, but for the government which would do them the most good. It is the independent vote, he said, rather than the person who sticks to party through everything, that governs the country, and he asked the women to use their intelligence. "The only way to purify politics," he said, "is to vote the way your brains tell you."

Dr. Knox did not approve of three or more parties, as an efficient means of purifying politics. We have to have parties, but not blind party support, because then you play into the hands of crooks.

The speaker declared it was the Conservatives who turned out the Bowser government and, he asked if the people wanted Bowser back again. He charged that the Bowser government had alienated many thousands of acres of land which was now coming back to the province through the higher land tax being imposed on wild land. He asked his hearers to consider the excellent condition of the finances of the province as indicated by the price of B. C. bonds, and also asked for support of the government because of what the premier was doing in the matter of

For Peachland-Princeton Road

Endorsement was given a Peachland petition for a road from Peachland to Princeton by the executive of the Board of Trade at a recent meeting attended by Messrs. Kelley, Roe, McLachlan, Crossley and the secretary, P. E. Knowles. Copies of the petition are to be circulated here for signature.

Another resolution was adopted, urging upon the government the consideration of constructing a bridge across Trout Creek to afford passage to the farm, near the present railway bridge.

That the local fruit packing houses be urged to patronize as far as possible the local box factory was the purport of another resolution adopted by the Board of Trade executive.

WOMEN HAVE MONEY FOR TOURIST PARK

Additional cooking accommodation in the nature of outdoor fire places with tops of sheet metal, are to be put in the tourist park in Peach Orchard.

Upon the suggestion of Reeve Campbell, the road into the park is to be repaired. The reeve reported that the women's committee had requested that the kitchen be moved to a better location and that the women were holding thirty-three dollars which they proposed to use in improving the kitchen, after it is moved to the new site. Arrangements were made at Monday's meeting of the municipal council to have this work done.

Measuring Box at Sutherland Lot

For the purpose of definitely ascertaining the amount of water to be supplied the lots below, a measuring box is to be put in the flume crossing the D. L. Sutherland lot, and serving it and several properties to the south and east. This decision was made by the council on Monday following a lengthy discussion of the service along that ditch and the complaints of interference by individuals and of irregular and insufficient service.

DATES FIXED FOR FALL FAIR

Would Take Best Exhibits From Here to Show at the Coast.

Summerland's fair dates have been fixed by the provincial authorities for October 29th and 30th and it will be necessary for the Summerland Agricultural Society to get busy at an early date if the fair is to be made a success.

It is probable that a provincial apple show will be combined with the now well established annual potato fair and which will be held in Vancouver. The suggestion has been made that the best fruit should be picked from the local fair and sent down to the combined apple and potato exhibit, which will be held in the second or third week of November.

The opinion has been expressed that Summerland could make a clean-up and that such an exhibit would be of great advertising value to the district.

STILL WITHOUT STREET LIGHTS

Continued absence of street lights was referred to by Coun. Bristow in a brief report made by him at the council meeting on Monday as chairman of the electric light committee. No satisfactory arrangement had been made with the company from whom the transformer, which had recently burned out, had been purchased, their last letter stating that they had taken the matter up with the factory. This was looked upon as an evasion of the question.

It was stated during the discussion that the transformer had been a constant source of trouble and had not given satisfaction from the first. The electrician was authorized to confer with others as to the best style of transformer. A new transformer will probably cost over $500.

NO ACTION YET ON SHAUGHNESSY PIPE

Reminding the other members of the council that the question had been left on the table until after the time for paying irrigation rates, Coun. Bristow on Monday asked what the council proposed to do on the question of the pipe line on Shaughnessy Avenue. His question was sidetracked by the revival of a discussion on the question of purchasing a gravel pit and as it was then nearly seven o'clock, nothing more was heard of the subject.

MEETING CRESTON UNION CREDITORS

For the purpose of attending a meeting of the creditors of the Creston Fruit Union, N. G. Wilson left this morning for Nelson. Mr. Wilson has been appointed by the assignee of the Creston Union custodian of its property, the appointment having been made at the request of the Imperial Bank, the chief creditor. From Nelson he will proceed to Creston to endeavor to complete the sale of the property to the now association. From there he will go to Spokane, Yakima and Portland, Oregon.

Will Get Needed Water Extension

S. G. Davies, whose application has been before the council several times has been granted an extension of the domestic water pipe line to his Paradise Flat property. Decision to make this extension was arrived at by the municipal council on Monday conditional upon the municipality obtaining permission to cross the Bonnett lot and Mr. Davies giving a guarantee of at least one year's use.

Big Improvement on Peach Orchard Road

When the surfacing has been completed there will be a big improvement in the Peach Orchard road made by the building of a concrete culvert over the creek and straightening the road at that point.

NO ARRANGEMENT FOR FINANCING

Associated Growers have not been successful in concluding arrangements with the Bank of Montreal for financing the approaching season's operations, according to reliable authority. It is stated further that the organization is negotiating with the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the Royal Bank of Canada in an endeavor to get a satisfactory deal. Premier Oliver is quoted as saying that nothing will be done by the government until after election in the way of guaranteeing a bank loan to the Associated or locals.

SHORTEN HOURS FOR LAWN SPRINKLING

Lawn sprinkling will be limited to the hours of 7 to 10 p.m., beginning the first of June. For several years the foreman has been seeking an amendment to the bylaw to further restrict the use of lawn sprinklers but always there has been so much objection that the amendment has never carried. On this occasion, however, he was successful in having an amendment put through its first readings. Another meeting is being held today to give it final approval.

No Satisfactory Offer For Small Cottages

An offer of one hundred dollars for one of the twin cottages on Shaughnessy Avenue owned by the municipality was laid before the council on Monday but the offer was not accepted. It was decided that a committee should examine the properties and put a price on the north building with the idea that it would be removed the opinion being that it would be better to leave the south building on the lot. Failing to get a satisfactory price the council may move the north building to another lot and offer both cottages with their lots for sale.

GUIDES-SCOUTS ENTERTAINMENT

Naramata Young People Provide Fine Program—Other Naramata News.

A full and appreciative audience assembled in the Naramata Hall on Tuesday evening for the concert given by the Guides and Scouts, and followed the program with much interest. The chairman of the evening was Captain Creese (of Summerland), who opened the proceedings with an outline of the aims of the two organizations, and dwelt on the non-martial element, pointing out that it was quite a mistaken idea that militarism entered into the objects of the troops. The discipline inculcated was that which was necessary in any community organization and the speaker appealed for the moral support of the public to the movement. The curtain rose to the playing of the National Anthem by Miss Alice Myers, and disclosed a tableau of Guides, Scouts and Cubs, who filled the stage to overflowing, and sang "O, Canada," the audience joining. This was followed by the numbers enumerated in the program (appended below), the songbook being divided by an intermission during which Mrs. Gillespie was called upon and gave a short but very sympathetic talk on the privilege and duty of training those who are to succeed the present generation in carrying on the work of the world.

Of the program in general it is only necessary to say that it reflected considerable credit on both trainers and trained. Certain items which particularly appealed to the audience included the exhibition of club swinging by the Scouts, a pinnacole trio by Guides Horawill, Alice and Dora Cross, the signalling drills, the camp scenes, and a delightful Irish jig by Guides Alice Walters and Annie Smithers, this item being twice repeated by insistent demand.

Following is the detailed program: God Save the King; O, Canada; tableau by Guides and Scouts; picture poses, by the Cub Pack; song, Dora Cross; drill and exercise, Scouts; pinnacole trio, Guides Ellean Horawill, Alice and Dora Cross; sign.

MARLEY LOSES COURT CASE

Sued Assignee of Summerland Lumber Co., Ltd., for Commission.

Action dismissed, plaintiff to pay costs, was the judgment in a case heard in Vancouver which has considerable local interest.

Action had been entered by M. A. Marley, for a time representative of the assignee of the Summerland Lumber Company, Limited, in bankruptcy, against Geo. E. Winter, the authorized assignee of the company.

Briefly the claim of the plaintiff was that Mr. Winter had authorized him to sell the assets of the company, Marley to be paid a commission. Marley claimed to have found a buyer, the Hanbury Lumber people, and alleged that this sale met with the approval of the assignee. However, the deal was not satisfactory to the inspectors, who refused to let it go through, and later the property was sold to the Pacific Box Company. Mr. Marley sued Mr. Winter for his commission with the above result.

AWARDS PRIZES FOR BOYS' BIRD HOUSES

Last week R. M. Robertson, Honorary Migratory Bird Officer, Penitentiary, visited the manual training department of the Summerland schools and judged the local bird house competition. There were eighteen entries and the awards were as follows:

1st prize, Arnold Cowan; 2nd prize, Walter Cunliffe; 3rd prize, Edward Joy. Highly mentioned, Albert Doherty. These with two other houses, by Robert Scourrah and Wesley Tavender are being sent to Vancouver to compete in the Provincial Contest. Mr. Robertson was well pleased with the boys' efforts, many of which showed great originality.

The three prizes are contributed by local residents.

TO IMPROVE SOUTH BENCH ROADS

The road along the south front bench, sometimes referred to as the Hayes-Caldwell road, is to be improved by the use of the grading machine, as is also a section of the road near J. S. Campbell's. Both these jobs were referred to the public works committee at a meeting of the council on Monday, with instructions to make the repairs as soon as there is sufficient moisture to permit of a satisfactory job.

FORD SEDAN TURNS UPSIDE DOWN

A Ford sedan occupied by two young men, said to be residents of Pentleton, turned completely over on the shore road just south of Trout Creek bridge. They were going south at rather high speed when they met M. G. Wilson coming north and not far behind him was L. W. Rumball. Mr. Wilson had scarcely passed them when the sedan turned completely over. The accident is said to have been caused through loss of control occasioned by the sandy roadbed. Mr. Rumball helped them right the car, the top of which was badly smashed. The boys were cut a bit about the arms by broken glass.

More Money Spent On Preparing Ditches

About thirteen hundred dollars was expended this spring by the municipality in the work generally termed ditch-cleaning. This is about five hundred dollars over the expenditure of last year. Under this head would come the filling up of open swamps in Sumner and this item alone probably accounted for a good portion of the expense.

Naramata-Kelowna Road Gets $10,000

Among expenditures recently authorized by the minister of public works is a sum of $10,000 for work on the proposed Naramata-Kelowna road. Work has already commenced at each end.

Main Reservoirs Filling - Eneas Creek Dams Will Be Low

Trout Creek Dams are Filling and Canyon Creek Dam Now Overflowing—Aeneas Creek Dams Have Much Below Normal Supply—Mistaken Not to Close the Lower Dam in Fall Says Chairman Johnston.

Failure of the dams on Aeneas Creek to fill and current reports of low water in other reservoirs in the Summerland irrigation system have occasioned some apprehension on the part of the municipal authorities as to the available supply of water for the irrigation season. There has been much less than the usual fall of snow in the hills here as elsewhere all up and down the Valley, but with a reasonable amount of rainfall and proper application of the water this district is not likely to suffer.

Coun. R. Johnston, chairman of the water committee, returned yesterday noon from the reservoirs at the head of Trout Creek and reports conditions there better than he had anticipated. Number one dam, the main reservoir, lacked about four feet of being full but the water raised an inch in fifteen hours during his stay there and there was a big flow of water running in so that he expects that this dam will fill or nearly fill.

Number two dam, above number one, into which it enters, is already full and there is a good stream of water flowing from it into number one. The water in number three dam was about three feet below the top with quite a stream of water running through the ditch recently opened to feed this reservoir and Mr. Johnston says that this will nearly fill. All the beaver dams were full.

Quicker Trip He left here at seven o'clock Tuesday morning and motored to within eleven miles of the main dam. There

Approve Bill For Road Up-keep

Close on to five thousand dollars has been expended on the seven miles of the Okanagan highway between Summerland's northern and southern boundaries in the two years ending March 31st last. Two years ago the province, having classified this road as a primary highway, took over the work of improvement and maintenance. Under the new Act the province expends three dollars for every dollar paid by the municipality. One thousand dollars was spent for the new location of the road through the Mellor property and of this the municipality paid $250.

Recently the municipal treasurer received a bill of $800, being the municipality's share of the work up to March 31st. This account was approved by the council on Monday.

MAKING PLAYTHING OF MAIN DITCHES

Reports and complaints reaching the municipal council indicate interference with the irrigation system at a point east of the Kettle Valley railway station that is not only exceedingly annoying but may at any time result in more serious damage. It is alleged that the mischief is the work of children who are said to have been interfering with the main ditch and charged with opening gates, putting obstructions in the channel and in other ways causing annoyance and trouble to the ditch man and property owners in that vicinity. Necessary measures are to be taken to have the trouble stopped.

MAKING REPAIRS TO STORAGE BUILDING

Under the supervision of T. J. McAlpine, twelve of the big concrete pillars under the storage building have been repaired. These had been damaged by the action of the lake water. The directors are now making negotiations for closing the opening under the building around the east side and south end. This will have the advantage of giving additional protection to the floor against frost. Arrangements have been made with J. A. Darke to reinforce some of the beams on the second floor.

he was met by Mr. Sanderson of Peachland and the journey continued on horseback, the whole distance being about forty miles. They left camp at 6 a.m. on Wednesday morning and Mr. Johnston was home by 11.30 that morning, the best time he has yet made on this trip. It rained about half the night they were there. The precipitation was in the form of snow at only a little higher level and Mr. Johnston says there is a little old snow yet remaining.

Coun. Johnston spent Thursday and Friday of last week visiting Canyon Creek dam. This was earlier than the annual inspection trip is usually made but he found conditions there as good as is usually found at the later date. The water would need to raise two feet more before it overflowed, but there was quite a lot of snow around and the creek was running strong and Mr. Johnston was confident that the dam would be filled in another two days.

In Garnett Valley

Aeneas lakes are not nearly full, nor is Deer Lake, which lies near these but is tributary to Trout Creek. Asked if all the dams had been closed last fall and every precaution taken to impound all the water possible, Mr. Johnston stated that all the dams had been closed in the fall with the exception of the dam in Garnett Valley and this had not been allowed to fill in order to satisfy some of the residents in the Valley who felt uneasy when the dam was full of water. This he considered ungrounded fear. He had not yet visited the headwaters of Aeneas Creek, nor Deer Lake. Had Aeneas Creek dams filled the storage situation for the Summerland district would be very satisfactory.

According to current reports there is likely to be a shortage of water at Kelowna, where it is said the creeks have not had their usual freshet run. Similar reports are heard from other parts, particularly from the Omak district, south of the line, where very little water has flowed into the big reservoir on the federal system there.

MAKES SEATTLE RUN IN DAY

Mark Manchester Drives Car Seattle to Naramata in Fifteen Hours.

From Seattle to Naramata in one day, if not a record, is at least remarkable driving for one man. Mark Manchester left the Coast metropolis about one o'clock in the morning and arrived at the home of his brother, F. Manchester, between four and five that afternoon. He made this fast time notwithstanding the fact that he had the misfortune to break an axle in the Blawett Pass and had to take the time to have another one put in. His car is a big six Studobaker.

For a number of years Mr. Manchester has been electrical engineer with the Guggenholmer people in the Yukon. Since leaving Naramata his family have been residing in Seattle. He is now visiting his mother, Mrs. Gillespie, who arrived here a few weeks ago from Battle Creek, Mich., and his brother, Fredric Manchester. Mrs. Gillespie, who was a very active community worker during her residence in Naramata and was the founder and is honorary president of the Unity Club, was the principal guest at a big reception held recently by the Club. Mrs. Gillespie and her son Mark Manchester left this morning for Seattle. From there Mrs. Gillespie will return to Battle Creek. Mr. Manchester will likely remain at the coast for the summer and is planning to go to the Malay Peninsula next fall, again as an employe of the Guggenholmer concern.

CRITICISM OF THE REVIEW.

Criticisms intended to help the publishers are features of several magazines published in the interests of printers. One of the leading American magazines of this class maintains a department, headed by experts, for the purpose of examining newspapers sent to it for the purpose and to give advice and offer criticism.

Commenting on a copy of The Review sent the magazine referred to, the editor says: "We like to read a paper that has its heart and soul concerned about the welfare of the community it serves and yours is very pleasingly made up too; the editorial page especially pleases our taste." In the nature of criticism of the particular copy sent him the editor says: "There are too many large capital heads on the front page and with this one exception the paper is typographically excellent." Right here we might state that we had already made provision to remedy this defect, which was apparent to ourselves, by buying another supply of type. Our critic also thinks we are too generous in the space we are giving to our classified advertisements.

"Smaller sub-heads would suffice to display these ads. Besides you use a fine quality of paper and need not go to as much pains as other papers in order to assure the advertisements proper display."

It is gratifying to learn from such an authority that we are approaching our ideal of what a small town weekly should be and that our efforts to make The Review pleasing in typographical design are thus recognized.

TRANSPORTATION RATES.

Prairie jobbers are going to have something to say on the question of express rates on fruit from the Okanagan as compared with charges on fruit moving west from points in Ontario.

Okanagan fruit has now become a necessity to the prairie trade and Winnipeg fruit jobbers are to bring to the attention of the Board of Railway Commissioners, which sits in that city on July 14th, the large spreads in favor of eastern shippers as compared with the cost to move fruit from British Columbia to prairie points.

PROTECTION IN DANGER.

Persistent are the efforts being made by the prairie Progressives in the House of Commons and particularly by prairie jobbers to have the government abolish the anti-dumping regulations on American apples. The Western Canada Fruit Jobbers' Association has organized a vigorous campaign to effect this end.

It will be necessary for fruit growers' and fruit shippers' organizations of this province to exert every effort to offset this pressure upon the government at Ottawa.

WILL BENEFIT FRUIT INDUSTRY.

It is all to the good of the fruit grower, this steady slide in the price of sugar. Almost daily, reports are published of still further reductions. Yesterday New York quoted fine granulated at $6.70 in sacks and San Francisco $7.10, a drop of seventy cents per hundred pounds in ten days. At present the Vancouver price is $8.35. Why there should be this difference between two Pacific ports we can not say.

TODAY.

Look to This Day for it is Life—the very life of life. In its brief course lie all the virtues and realities of your existence.

The Bliss of Growth,
The Glory of Action,
The Splendor of Beauty.

For yesterday is already a dream and tomorrow is only a vision; but today, well lived, makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope. Look well, therefore, to this day. Such is the salutation of the dawn.

Every man should study conciseness in speaking; it is a sign of ignorance not to know that long speeches, though they may please the speakers, are the torture of the hearer.

THE WHITE-BREAD PLAGUE.

White bread and other highly refined foods are to blame for 90 per cent of all human ailments.

Unrefined wheat from the field contains all the organic elements essential for life, health and growth. Chickens, mice and guinea pigs, fed on natural wheat, live and thrive indefinitely. Fed on white bread they die in from five to seven weeks.

The reason white bread lacks nourishing qualities is the fact that the milling process removes eight of the sixteen essential elements from wheat and destroys four others to the extent of 75 per cent.

From ground grains three-fourths of the mineral salts and colloids are taken, including iron, phosphorus, manganese, sulphur, calcium, magnesium, chlorine and potassium. These are contained in the outer skin, the germs of the berry and in the cells underneath the skin. The milling process sifts these out and leaves only starchy cells as indigestible as so much wood pulp.

Most of the nourishing part of wheat is fed to cattle and hogs. Sensible men will give their own stomachs at least an even break with the stomachs of their livestock by demanding breads that contain ALL the life-giving elements that old Mother Nature put into wheat.—The Vancouver Sun.

NEWS WE DO NOT GET.

Vernon News.—It occasionally happens that a newspaper is criticized for having failed to mention some event of more or less importance, but one in which, nevertheless, a considerable number of people are interested. Usually it happens that such affairs have been of a somewhat private nature, have not been advertised to any great extent, if at all, and at any rate no representative of the local paper was able to be present to prepare a report.

In this connection it will be readily understood that no one man can possibly attend every concert, entertainment or banquet, even though he might wish to do so. Therefore it should be considered incumbent on those in charge to see to it that the paper is supplied with particulars of such affair. The paper is always anxious to get it, and will be only too pleased to publish such news. But, as stated, someone should see to it that the necessary information is supplied to the editor as soon after the event as possible. Whether or not it is written in newspaper style does not matter, as that can be looked after by the editor. All that is required is the necessary information as to what happened and any special features in connection therewith.

Fraternal societies should appoint some member to attend to this, whose duty it should be to keep the local editor informed as to what transpires which may be considered of public interest, or of interest to their members.

All newspapers, particularly those located in the smaller centres, are most anxious to promote and encourage all local undertakings, and are even on the lookout for items of local interest. Consequently, if any event is inadvertently overlooked, it is because it has not been brought to the notice of the editor, and has not been through any fault or wish on his part.

Since a bright newsy paper is the very best advertisement any town could desire, and since it reflects the nature of a community, and the energy and enterprise of its people, it may readily be seen that co-operation on the part of the people with their home paper is very much to be desired; and if this is done, then The Vernon News will be able to maintain the proud position which it now holds among Canadian weekly newspapers, having been adjudged the best of those papers which entered the competition during the convention last June, when this paper was awarded the silver cup. Loyal support and good will of the people of Vernon and district will enable us to hold this cup for another year, which should be the desire of the citizens as well as it is that of the publishers.

Value of Arsenical Sprays

BITING INSECTS AND HOW TO GET THEM.

H. H. Evans, Department of Agriculture, Vernon, B. C.

The insurance of personal property is recognized as an individual and national necessity. Insurance of the food supply of a nation can be placed in a similar category.

It is a recognized fact that the higher the degree of development reached in either the plant or animal kingdoms, and the more intensive becomes the cultivation and breeding of the same, so they become more subject to ravages of pests and diseases. If this factor is borne in mind the producer will be in a certain degree forewarned to the advent of many of the pests and diseases with which he may have to contend. Some of the pests and diseases of fruit and vegetables are continually with us; others are more or less periodic and only become of economic importance over intermittent periods.

The Codling Moth And Lesser Apple Worm

These two pests have been placed under the same heading: owing to the similarity of their feeding habits and the methods of control for both pests. Wherever the Codling Moth has become firmly established, it is annually the cause of tremendous economic waste, it is very difficult of eradication once firmly established in an orchard section devoted to the growing of Apples and Pears. In the Okanagan the pest is two-brooded and in some sections there may possibly be three broods. The Lesser Apple Worm is often mistaken for the Codling Worm owing to their similarity in appearance and the fact that both worms enter and feed upon the flesh of the fruit; in both cases ruining the fruit for market. Egg laying of the moths of these two pests commences at or shortly after the blossom period. Owing to the extended emergence of the moths, egg laying is extended over a considerable period which is an important feature to be borne in mind when planning control. In quarantine areas for Codling Moth Control the Department of Agriculture have worked along definite lines, and are obtaining good results from such measures. Growers situated outside quarantine areas should use every endeavour to prevent the spread of these two pests by protective sprays and should not fail to apply an Arsenate of Lead spray at the Calyx stage and a cover spray two or three weeks later; the rate of application is one pound of Arsenate of Lead to forty gallons of water.

FRUIT TREE LEAF ROLLER:

Much has already been written regarding this destructive worm, a great deal more should and no doubt will be written in an earnest effort to bring to the attention of the orchardist the destructive nature of this pest and the absolute necessity of adequate control measures. This worm over-winters in the egg stage on twigs and limbs. Where applications of oil emulsions were given in the dormant period and the work done in a thorough manner, good results have been obtained. Even with the best of spraying it is impossible to get 100% of the eggs covered on large trees. For the above reason it becomes essential that for adequate protection an Arsenate of Lead spray should be applied in the Calyx period at the rate of two pounds of Arsenate of Lead to 40 gallons of water.

THE OBLIQUE BANDED LEAF ROLLER AND THE BUD WORM

These two worms differ from the Fruit Tree Leaf Roller in that they over-winter as partly grown worms spun up in a silken case in any convenient crevice of the tree; so far these cases seem to be impervious to the action of oil sprays. Owing to this feature we must place our dependence for control in the Arsenical sprays. As these two worms leave their winter quarters early in the season to start feeding, early applications of spray are necessary. At least one spraying should be given prior to or by the early pink stage of the blossom, followed by the calyx application.

Eggs of these two pests are laid on the foliage in early summer during the month of June. Where infestation is heavy another Arsenate of Lead application should be given during the latter part of June or early July depending on the hatching period. No definite date can be given. Two pounds of Arsenate of Lead to 40 gallons of water is advised for each of these three sprays.

Green Apple Worm, Measuring Worm, Tussock Moth Larvae, Tent Caterpillars, and various other solitary and colony worms are also controlled by the application of Arsenate of Lead as recommended above. It may be advisable to point out a few features necessary to success in combating any orchard pest. They are the correct materials at proper strengths. Correct time of application. Adequate equipment of high efficiency loaded only according to its average capacity. The addition of a Casoin spreader to all sprays at the rate of 1 1/2 pounds to the tank, adds materially to the spray's efficiency. Most important of all is the best man possible on hand and of spray rod or gun to ensure a thorough job.

The combination spray of Arsenate of Lead, Lime Sulphur and Nicotine Sulphate 40 per cent at this period is good insurance.

THE PRINTER.

In far-off days a monk, in dreary cell,
Fashioned a book, his wisdom great to tell
To men who know not. Patiently each day
His tolling fingers ever worked away, Illumining each character with care.
Till it was finished—perfect, true, and rare.

In later days a printer, day by day,
Gave to the world the things men wished to say—
Each little type in place set, one by one,
And warred oft before the day was done;
But, like the monk, with patience did succeed
To print the things he wished that men might read.
Then came there one with mighty

THE MOST POPULAR OF ALL BOOKS

If a vote were to be taken to decide what is the most popular book in the world, there is no question about it that the Bible would be named by the vast majority. Although the Bible is one of the oldest books in the world, and has circulations running into countless millions of copies, yet it still retains its great popularity, and is still "the best seller" at all the good book stores. Is there any other book that can approach this splendid record?

Before the invention of movable type by John Gutenberg, a citizen of Mainz, Germany, about the year 1455, copies of the Bible had to be produced by the hand-lettered process, or by means of engraved wooden blocks. But with Gutenberg's wonderful invention it was possible to print unlimited numbers of the Bible at comparatively small expense. Ever since the production of Gutenberg's now famous "42-Line Bible" the Bible publishing business has been constantly increasing, and doubtless it will keep on expanding until the end of time.

The 42-Line Bible derives its name from the fact that for the most part each of the two columns on every page consists of forty two lines of printed words. The type used for this work was cut by Gutengerg in the style of the book-Gothic letters of the fifteenth century. It has been estimated by expert printers that more than 125,000 individual type characters were required to print this book, which was made up of 641 leaves, or 1,282 printed pages. There were two editions of this first printed volume—one printed on paper and the other on vellum. The size of each page is about 12x16 inches. Only about 210 copies of this first issue were printed, 180 copies on paper and 30 copies on vellum.

In setting up the type for the 42-Line Bible, Gutenberg and his apprentices left blank spaces on certain pages for the reception of hand-drawn initial letters of large size. After the sheets had been printed in black ink, the initials were applied by artists. Many of these letters are done in several colors. Several copies of this book are beautifully illuminated, both as to the initials and margins.

There is a number of copies of the Gutenberg Bible in existence, and nearly all are in good physical condition. The British Museum has one copy that is illuminated. In 1911, Henry E. Huntington, of New York, paid $50,000 for another copy, printed on vellum, which had been in the private library of Robert Hoe. The library of J. Pierpont Morgan contained two copies, one printed on paper, the other on vellum. There is one copy each in the New York Public Library, the library of the General Theological Seminary of New York, the library of J. W. Ellsworth, New York; and in the Widener Library of Philadelphia.

The first book printed from movable type was the 42-Line Bible, and it was the increasing demand for the Bible that led up to Gutenberg's most useful invention.

According to the reports of the American Bible Society, the Bible is now being printed in no less than seven hundred and seventy different languages, something that cannot be said of any other book ever produced in the history of the world. Think of the arduous labors which were essential to have the translating done. Then, try to realize the colossal task of having the many pages of the Bible set up in type, and in all of these languages.

At the present time, many large publishing houses throughout the world are devoted exclusively to the manufacture of the Bible in very large editions.

The types no more are handled one by one;

HIGHEST PEAK IN CANADIAN ROCKIES

THE Alpine Club of Canada will this year hold its annual camp at the foot of Mount Robson, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, which towers 13,068 feet above sea level.

Mount Robson Park, named from the mountain which it surrounds, is a favorite stopping place for tourists from United States points who make the Triangle Tour of the Canadian National Railway, which embraces Vancouver, Jasper and Mount Robson Parks and Prince Rupert with a journey over the Ip-land seas of the Pacific coast on one of the Canadian National Pacific Coast Steamships.

Among other things, Mount Robson can be regarded as the most frequently photographed mountain in the whole of Canada, the Continental Limited of the Canadian National Railways stopping for five minutes at the foot of this monarch of the Rockies in order that tourists who are passing through may secure photographs showing its lofty, snow-capped peak.

Just outside of the boundaries of the National Park is one of the finest big-game hunting grounds of the continent, where black, cinnamon and grizzly bear abound and where other big game, such as big-horn mountain sheep and mountain goats are to be found in great numbers. Hundreds of hunters annually make Mount Robson their headquarters for their excursions into the passes of this region after big game, for here excellent accommodation may be secured during the summer tourist or later in the fall when hunters are out after their game.

PRE-EMPTIONS
 Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 3,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

PURCHASE
 Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOME SITE LEASES
 Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as home sites, conditional upon the applicant being domiciled in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES
 For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING
 Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Fees, or partially free, permits are available for hunters, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

"Vote For Latta If You Endorse Fight For Equalization"

This is Argument of Premier Oliver in Speech Here in Support of Party Candidate—Mr. Latta Gives Views On Public Questions—Dr. Knox Makes Address to Women Voters.

 freight rates and the building up of Vancouver.

Liberal Candidate
 C. B. Latta, Liberal candidate for South Okanagan, gave much of his time to questions relating to the farmer in the unorganized districts and appealed for support on the ground that only by voting for him could the people endorse the work of Premier Oliver.

Mr. Latta said he is not a party man, but he is supporting the Oliver government because he believed it one of the best governments B. C. ever had. He was supporting the government on its record and its vindication by the royal commission.

The speaker said that from the financial standpoint the condition of the farmer could not be much worse. He attributed this to bad marketing conditions, general world conditions and the farmer's own mistakes, high cost of production, into which entered transportation charges, taxes, etc. Anything that the government does to remedy these must be based on equity and justice. He declared himself in favor of protection for the fruit industry and that the provincial government should press for protection by the federal government.

Contradicts Jones
 Mr. Latta declared himself as satisfied with the present Dumping Act and did not think the situation with respect to importations into this province were as bad as described by his opponent and gave it as his opinion that the statistics given by Mr. Jones covering importations, included tropical fruits.

With reference to importations of butter, complained of by Mr. Jones, Mr. Latta said that the Dominion records showed that B. C. had imported one million dollars' worth of butter and had exported five million dollars' worth. He also doubted Mr. Jones' figures as to the number of people that had left the province.

The candidate declared himself in favor of good roads and better railway facilities. On the question of taxes he pointed out that the government had already greatly reduced the tax on land. Much of Mr. Latta's speech was devoted to this and to the relation of farmers in unorganized districts to the provincial government.

Provincial Taxes
 He would have equitable assessment over all the province, as, for instance, the Fraser Valley as compared with the Okanagan.

When the fruit growers of the Okanagan bought their land the price which they paid took into consideration the irrigation water and they should not have to pay twice for the latter. The farmer's income tax should be based on his average rate over a term of years, not on a year to year income.

Mr. Latta expressed himself as opposed to the government tax in relation to trees and pointed out that the government had greatly reduced this, and said Premier Oliver had consented to recommend to the government that the tax on trees be removed. The exemption to farmers on the personal property tax had been raised from $1,000 to $2,000. He did not favor any rebate of interest charges on money advanced to irrigation districts as had been advocated by his opponent. This, he said, would not be fair to organized districts. He understood that the government was considering extending the re-payment of these loans over a longer period.

With respect to the moratorium demanded by irrigation districts the speaker said that Premier Oliver had consented to recommend that, if in two years conditions had not improved, the moratorium be extended to five years.

The speaker declared himself as opposed to tax sales. The property on which taxes had not been paid should automatically revert to the municipality or province, according to its location.

He pronounced the government road policy sound and declared that it was up to us to capitalize our climate and scenery through development of our highways and the tourist trade.

He declared the laws with respect to game and fish protection were not being enforced and favored appointing a game warden for South Okanagan.

Premier Oliver

"Though in opposition, South Okanagan has had more government money spent within its boundaries than any other constituency in British Columbia." This was the statement made by Premier Oliver in opening his address.

The premier claimed to have given British Columbia the most perfect election machinery in the world, making fraudulent voting and impersonation impossibilities. He also claimed credit for the system whereby non-residents could vote without having to take long journeys to their home constituencies.

He admitted the method of taxation could be improved and said he did not think it had been intended that the Taxation Act should include fruit trees planted by man. His attention had been drawn to this taxation over a year ago and further remedy was promised. Declaring that the man on the land gets less for his capital and labor than in the case in any other endeavor, the premier assured his audience he was always ready to act to relieve the farmers' lot.

The water tax, so called, he explained as interest on moneys borrowed by the water municipalities through the government. This loan is a first mortgage on the lands. The policy advocated by Mr. Jones, declared the premier, under which the former would assist the farmer financially would be destructive to the credit of the province and unjust to other people.

Never Have Opportunity
 Mr. Jones, he continued, had made certain promises, if his party was returned, but the premier declared the day will never come when Bowser will be at the head of this province and Jones will never have the opportunity to fulfill those promises.

He agreed with Mr. Latta as to tax sales and said that the finance minister had called a meeting of the assessors throughout the province to discuss the methods of valuing land for taxation and he assured his hearers that a better system would be introduced and that fruit trees would not be considered taxable by the assessors.

Premier Oliver described the P. G. E. as one of the biggest blunders committed by any government and charged his opponents with trying to put the responsibility on the present government. Going back to 1921, the premier gave a review of the history of the launching of the P. G. E. project and told of the assistance given the builders by the province, first through the guaranteeing of bonds thirty-five thousand dollars per mile, later the issuance of shares at a par value of twenty-five million dollars, which had been sold for forty thousand dollars, fully paid up. In 1914 an additional guarantee of seven thousand dollars per mile was given and the contractors came back again for more money. Here it was the speaker said, that Premier McBride and his attorney-general, Mr. Bowser, disapproved. McBride was shipped to England and Mr. Bowser put through a bill giving the P. G. E. a further six million dollars, in all a total of $20,100,000. In 1918 the government began paying interest, secretly at first, on the guaranteed bonds. The speaker then quoted from the report of a select committee on the P. G. E. which committee submitted fifteen findings and these had been unanimously adopted by the legislature. The premier charged that money had been paid on excess mileage and on uncompleted work and that the company had been overpaid $5,700,000.

The P. G. E. Problem
 When the present government took office they were asked to contribute in the same manner to the P. G. E., but refused with the consequence that the company abandoned the railway and refused to carry out its contract. The government then took over the railway and obtained refund of $750,000, in cash.

"It does not lie in the mouth of Bowser or Jones to criticize what was done at that time. Mr. Bowser wrote Mr. Brewster, giving his approval and offering his assistance to get a Dominion subsidy for the P. G. E.," said the premier. Since the government was forced to take over the railway it has paid twelve and three quarter million dollars in interest and yet Bowser had said it would never cost the people a single dollar. The speaker then dealt at some length on the subject of re-construction necessary, stating that altogether twenty-six miles out of one hundred and ten had to be rebuilt. The P. G. E., he said, is not his responsibility. "I have nothing to hide nor be ashamed of. Neither Bowser nor Jones have offered any policy with respect to the P. G. E. What is needed is a man of vision."

The speaker then referred to the building of the E. & D. Railway into the Peace River country and stated that the Peace River should be linked up with the P. G. E. and told of his efforts at Ottawa to have this brought about, stating that he had obtained an understanding that a thorough investigation would be made this summer for the provinces of Alberta and B. C. and the two railways and if something satisfactory did not come out of this, he saw no hope for the P. G. E.

Railway Rates
 The transportation question was the theme of the most interesting and perhaps the most effective part of the premier's speech.

Starting away back with the agreement between the Dominion and the Province with respect to the building of the C. P. R. the premier told how this province had contributed fourteen million acres of land to offset the extra construction and operating costs and declared that this fully compensated the railway. When the C. P. R. started to operate they charged fifty per cent higher rates west of Fort William than in the east. Later this was changed to the basis of a dollar in the east, $1.20 on the prairies and $1.80 in British Columbia. For thirty-six years B. C. had been subject to these exorbitant rates.

The speaker then reviewed at considerable length the efforts made up to date to remedy this situation. He explained the Crow's Nest deal between the Dominion and the C. P. R., whereby grain was moved eastward at a lower rate and other commodities moved westward at a reduction from previous charges. For several years the Crow's Nest deal had been in suspension and it was likely to be restored and would adversely affect very materially British Columbia.

The premier then gave the history of the westward grain movement, telling how it developed from one-half million bushels in 1920 to possibly fifty-five million bushels for the 1923 crop.

Comparative Charges
 Referring to charges on fruit, the premier declared that fruit growers were paying more in excess rates than the whole sum they were receiving for their crops. He then gave the comparative express charges in eastern Canada and for B. C.; Okanagan to Calgary (350 miles) rates are $2.40 in carlots; Grimsby, Ont. to Halifax (1186 miles) $1.50; Okanagan to Vancouver (350 miles) $1.90; Grimsby to Montreal (390 miles) 95 cents. "This is what is the matter with our fruit industry," he said.

Some months ago the express companies had the audacity to ask for an increase of rates. This the province had had to fight and counsel had been instructed to file application for equalization of rates. During the investigation it was learned that the express companies do not know what it costs them to operate in B. C. They now divide Canada into four zones, eastern Canada, prairies, B. C. and Peace River district. Fruit, originating in this zone, carries the high rate right through the others. Again, wheat to feed the Chinese pays $4.50 a ton to Vancouver; for local consumption, $3.30.

West vs. East
 The premier declared he would make it a fight of the west against the east if it were necessary in order to obtain equalization. If the railway board refuses to grant B. C. the lower charges, he would rally the whole of western Canada in a united battle for justice. The premier observed significantly that with a Liberal government in Ottawa and a Liberal government at Victoria there was a reasonable chance of obtaining justice for all the country, instead of favoring the east as at present.

"I am not finished with this fight," he declared, "and I will not stop until we get full rate equalization. If you want us to go ahead with this work, there is only one thing for you to do in the coming election, for there is nothing in the records to show that the old government ever did anything to lighten the burden carried by this province in unjust transportation rates."

Manager: "Willie, I'm surprised at you. Do you know what they do with boys who tell lies?"
 Willie: "Yes, sir. When they get old enough the firm sends them out as travelling salesman."

At a meeting of directors of the co-operative growers held on Monday Mr. A. C. Horswill was appointed managing director for the coming season.

Considerable work is being done on the road between Naramata and the Pentiction boundary, some of the worst corners being straightened out and the road widened.

Mr. James Young and wife are visiting their son, Mr. W. S. Young, at the old home. Mr. Young says the season in Vancouver has been exceptionally dry.

Mr. W. A. Middleton, Extension Assistant, was in Naramata last week, gathering crop statistics.

The Languedoc home was the scene of a surprise party on Friday evening, when a party of friends came up from Pentiction, and spent a merry time with music and a hand at whist.

Leslie Smith returned from Kamloops on Friday.

Mrs. Avison of Summerland was a weekend visitor.

Mother's Day at the Church attracted a full congregation on Sunday afternoon, when a pageant representing "Girlhood to Motherhood" was presented by the young people in a series of tableaux. Rev. H. J. Armitage conducted the service, and preached a special sermon on Motherhood. Miss Alice Myers presided at the organ.

In last week's notes the name of Mr. Gilbert Thornber was given in error as the preacher at the Union Service on Sunday last. The service was taken by Mr. W. S. Bartlett.

A service was conducted in the Unity Club on Sunday evening by Mrs. Gillispie who preached on the text "A new heaven, and a New Earth." Mr. F. Manchester gave a solo during the service. There was a fairly good attendance.

A liberal meeting was held in the Naramata Hall on Friday evening, when Messrs. Latta and Mitchell were the speakers. Mr. R. H. King was chairman. The meeting was well attended, and the audience followed the addresses with close attention.

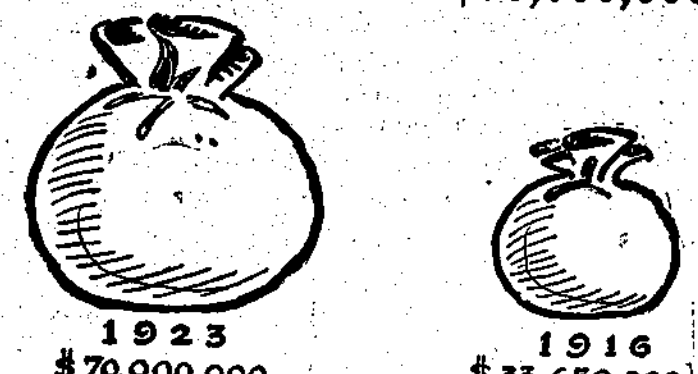

The many friends of Mrs. R. H. Huston, of Peachland will be very pleased to learn that she is recovering from the long and tedious illness that has necessitated her remaining in Vancouver much longer than she expected to when she went to that city last winter for medical advice. She hopes to return to Peachland in the near future.

BEING "A LADY"
 Every woman who wishes to do so may become "a lady" in every sense of the word. It requires only cultivation of gentleness, grace, generosity, patience, usefulness, reserve—but not haughtiness or superiority. The true lady is kind and courteous to everyone, and conducts herself with a calm, unassuming grace that naturally wins the responsive respect of those she meets. In her manner towards men she is modest and reserved. Sometimes, in the desire to be considered "a good sport", girls forget this.

What do other eyes see?
 Ask and answer this question honestly

Your mirror can tell you what other eyes see—if you will consult it honestly, and honestly accept its judgment. But you need not fear its verdict. Because unlovely skin need not remain unlovely. The alluring youthful complexion Nature gave you may be yours today. Millions of women now follow this simple rule to keep the radiance and beauty of schoolgirl complexion. You can, too.

Just this
 Cleanse the skin regularly, authorities say, to keep your complexion lovely, radiant, youthful. But beware of harsh cleansing methods. They injure skin. Wash thoroughly, with Palmolive Soap—each night before retiring. Rub the creamy, foamy lather well into the tiny pores. Rinse—and repeat the washing. Then rinse again. Then—if skin is dry—apply a little cold cream. That is all. Skin so cared for is not injured by cosmetics, by wind and sun, or by dirt.

The simple, and correct way
 You cannot find a more effective beauty treatment. Because Palmolive Soap is blended of rare palm and olive oils—famous for mild but thorough cleansing qualities since the days of Cleopatra. And it is inexpensive. Be sure you get Palmolive—which is never sold unwrapped. All dealers have it. After even a short period of this treatment you will see a marked improvement in your skin. Many now use Palmolive for the bath—letting it do for the whole body what it does for the face.

Volume and efficiency produce 25c quality for 10c

The Pedlar's Pack

By AUTOLYCUS

In an editorial commending the Ottawa suggestion of the appointment of a tariff commission, the "Province" takes occasion to remark that, CONFESSION as between a possible destiny along agricultural lines, and the alternative of becoming a great industrial nation, "we do not know whether we are bound, and we have not taken the trouble to find out." In another column it supports, or explains, this position by reference to the "widely diverse" interests of our various provinces. Well, if diversity of interests is a good reason for indecision, almost every country in the world stands excused, since it would be very hard to find one which has but one branch of production or industry to depend on. Our neighbour to the south has so many diverse interests that it is quite a task to enumerate them, yet we do not notice much uncertainty on his part, as to whether he is bound, nor do we see any hesitation in his decisions on tariff policies. It is not quite clear why it should be different in Canada, or why the possession of vast and varied sources of wealth should paralyse our general policy. One would suppose that our immense natural resources would be a key to the door of prosperity, and that we ought to have no trouble whatever in finding the keyhole. But apparently "we are wavering, and allowing sectional and political motives to guide our steps in economic paths." In other words, the various interests are jealous of each other, and class government is looked for by each section to remedy the particular injustice under which it suffers, or fancies it suffers. That is, of course, a state of affairs which is already beginning to adjust itself, the failure of the Farmer government of Ontario being the first lesson.

The question is how will a tariff commission of experts be constituted, and how will it be superior to the commission of electors of Canada who at present are mainly instrumental in fixing tariffs? What is a tariff expert to begin with? And if the tariff of a country is susceptible of tabulating and handling like a Euclid problem, how is it that there are so many differing views? Mr. Crerar says that Canada has her basic wealth in her grain lands, and that tariff should be adjusted to meet that fact—he is also probably in favour of American fruit coming into the prairies free, a contention the Okanagan fruit grower strenuously and very properly objects to. Then we have the case of the manufacturer, who claims that a lowering of tariff in certain cases will practically put him out of business. These diverse claims are all justified from their individual standpoint, and all have to be considered. The way in which they would be handled by a commission would depend on the way that commission was constituted, and it is not easy to see how it would be free from the bias of personal predilections. If it could arrive at decisions with the indisputable accuracy of a Burroughs adding machine, all would be well, but tariff has not yet reached a stage which makes that possible. And it probably never will.

Is it safe for a man to be measured for a suit of clothes one year, and come back on his tailor the following year for a refund of SARTORIAL cash on the ground of ODDITIES a tight fit? Mr. Justice Ruggles apparently having non-suited a Mr. Jones under just such circumstances. The tailor suggested that Mr. Jones' figure had changed since the suit was ordered last June, and the plan evidently appealed to his worship. Thus the customer is non-suited in two respects—his suit doesn't fit, and he can't get his money back. It was directed that the tailor should effect alterations to adapt the suit better to the plaintiff's figure, but, unless plenty of width was originally allowed in the seams, danger lies that way! The incident reminds me of a case where a customer was fitted too tightly, and in showing his tailor where the waistcoat gripped him too hard, remarked that he could not draw a long breath without danger of ripping off some buttons. The tailor said that if his customer could disturb a single button he would make him a new suit, whereupon the wearer, who was a Sandow medallist for physical development, filled his lungs and expanded his chest to such an extent that the top button incontinently parted company with the cloth, leaving the tailor wide eyed with astonishment. The new suit was not insisted on, but the necessary alterations were gladly made.

While on the subject of dress, I may note a very curious slip on the part of a writer in one of the dailies when dealing with headgear. He is referring to the proposed abolition of the fez as a regulation Turkish head covering, and remarks that it is "to go the way of the unlamented British top hat." Since when has the top hat gone into limbo? Let any reader call to mind the various newspaper illustrations of notable events during the past few months, and he will remember that not one of the chief actors in them has failed to wear the top hat. Mussolini and Ramsay MacDonald are the two latest I recall at the moment, and neither of these will be accused of undue leanings towards exploded paraphernalia. The lamented British top hat is not gone yet, and, as a matter of fact, there is no valid reason why it should go.

From Yaroslave, Russia, comes a report of a trial in which the accused, the prosecutor, the defender, the judge, the jury VERY SPECIAL and the entire audience, numbering several thousands, were women. The prisoner was charged with beating her three year old daughter so badly that the child died from the effects of the punishment. The prosecutor, however, pleaded for leniency on the ground that the conditions of misery and oppression under which the working classes were forced to live during the czarist regime had forced from the heart of the woman all human feelings! Considering that the czarist regime was ended seven years ago, and that Russia has been enjoying the beneficent influence of Bolshevism for a considerable period since then, the plea seems somewhat forced. However, it appears to have satisfied the "several thousand women who looked on pityingly," and that is satisfactory, as far as it goes. But a little pity for the child brought into the world to be beaten to death by its own mother would not have been out of place.

Canada's Most Popular Apples

McIntosh And Spy First And Second Choice of Wholesale Trade, Followed by Gravenstein, Delicious And Baldwin.

During the past year the fruit Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has received numerous requests for information concerning the best varieties of apples to plant in certain districts, and the varieties in greatest demand in the distributing markets of the Dominion. Before deciding upon definite varieties for planting there are a number of matters to be taken into consideration such as the climatic conditions, nature of the soil, growing season and proximity to large markets. One of the most important considerations is the preference of the most accessible market. In order to secure reliable information on the latter question, the wholesale fruit dealers in all the most important marketing centres of the Dominion have recently been circularized with a view to securing their opinion as to preferred varieties. The result of this survey shows that the apples in greatest demand are McIntosh, Northern Spy, Gravenstein, Delicious and Baldwin. Classified by provinces, the five preferred varieties in the wholesale markets are as follows:

- British Columbia: McIntosh, Yellow Newton, Jonathan, Delicious, Winesap.
 - Alberta: McIntosh, Wagoner, Wealthy, Delicious, Winesap.

PEACHLAND DOINGS

A Weekly Chronicle Furnished By Our Local Representative.

The Westbank baseball nine met the local boys on Tuesday evening of last week, on the Peachland diamond. Peachland's line-up was as follows: Gummow, pitcher; Buchanan, catcher; Lambly, 1st base; D. Cousins, 2nd base; L. Shaw, 3rd base; E. Cousins, Short; H. Miller, R. field with F. Cousins playing part time, A. Cousins, L. field and N. Evans, C. field. It was a pretty keenly contested game throughout, with the balance of power apparently on the Peachland side as shown by the score nineteen to fifteen.

George White and Cecil Brown came in from the coast last week and are on the road gang working in the Glen.

George Barber and family have moved down to Peachland from Kelowna and are living in the house vacated when Mr. Kudelka and family left recently for the prairie. Mr. Barber will commence his duties as manager of the Rowcliffe packing house about the first of June. Mr. Barber and family could hardly be classed as strangers in Peachland, they having lived here for a short time about seventeen years ago, and visited different times since, to look after their property.

Fruit growers of the district met on Thursday evening last to hear the Central director's report as to the policy of the Associated now that the decision has been made to function. Mr. William Douglas, president of the local, took the chair and called on Mr. Dryden for his report. Mr. Dryden stated that they had not been able to come to any definite understanding with the independents but had submitted a proposition to a delegation representing the independents. Up to the present however, they had received no reply. He understood from information he had received that the independents themselves had gotten together and formed an association 100% strong, which reduces the business to two shipping organizations. He referred to the resignation of President Howe and appointment of Mr. Chambers. He touched on the matter of selling direct of the retail trade, and referred to the soft fruit problems, giving many details of interest, and read a synopsis of the policy of the general manager, and explained it. The chairman brought up a question which had been discussed by the local board and they recommended that the local growers who stored apples should receive a small amount per box compensation for storing, to be subtracted from extra returns expected on the seasons crop and distributed to those in question. After some discussion a motion was brought forward, seconded and carried.

The members of the Orange Lodge were at home to the Lady Orange Lodge in the Municipal Hall on Friday evening last and a very pleasant evening was spent by all. Representatives were present from Westbank and Glenrosa.

Mrs. George Latham, of Moose Jaw, Sask., sister of Mrs. Clarence, arrived here last week and has since been looking after Mrs. Clarence's interests. Since coming she has visited Mrs. Clarence at the Summerland Hospital several times.

Mrs. Morrison returned from Vancouver on Saturday after several months spent in the city with her son Charles.

Stuart Burton of Westbank was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCall.

J. S. Moore, his wife and little girl, motored up from Pentiction on Saturday evening intending to visit Mr. Moore's parents at Powers Creek, but they had the misfortune to have an axle break as they were making the Townsite Hill and the car had to be towed back to town for repairs. Mrs. Moore got a chance to go on to Powers Creek while Mr. Moore stayed behind till he repaired the car. They were able to make the return trip home on Sunday evening, as Mr. Moore had to report for duty on Monday morning.

The Cousins Bros. and Lorne Shaw left on Monday to return to their work at Beaver Dell after a week's visit at home.

Miss Joan Dryden and Miss Flossie Clement made a short visit down from Vernon last week end.

Mr. Palmer came in from Vancouver on Sunday last, to join his children at Mrs. Miller's home, Daily Allan.

A WORD ABOUT

Automobile Tires

You may know that even in the best factories there is a proportion of poor tires—tires which during inspection are found weak or defective. These are at once condemned and are never marketed under the maker's brands. Some one may buy them at a price and market them as cheap tires.

We offer you only

made by reliable concerns whose guarantee is worth while and who will stand behind us in our guarantees to our patrons. We sell these tires at prices that compare favorably with mail order quotations.

You will find here prices to suit every pocket in both

Cement Walk in Front of the Rialto

V. M. Lockwood has applied to the municipality for a concrete sidewalk in front of the Rialto Theatre. He offered to build the walk provided the municipality would furnish the cement. The council favors the proposal and the work will be done under the direction of the public works committee and the grade will be prescribed by the municipal foreman.

CUP CAKES

1/8 cup butter 1 cup granulated sugar 2 eggs, whites and yolks beaten separately 1/8 cup of Borden's St. Charles Milk and water in equal parts 1 1/2 teaspoonfuls baking powder 1 teaspoonful flavoring Raisins, chopped nuts or melted chocolate, as desired. Cream the butter, add sugar, beat thoroughly, and add yolks of eggs. Gradually beat in the milk and flour sifted with baking powder. Beat until very light. Fold in the whites lightly. Bake in small tins (12) in a rather quick oven. If you wish to vary these cakes, cover the bottom of each tin with the dough. Drop in a few raisins, nut meats, or a teaspoon of melted chocolate, as preferred. Cover with dough, and bake as usual. If desired, one egg white may be reserved for frosting. MAIL ORDER PROFITS

The annual report of the Robert Simpson Company, Toronto, for the year ending January 31st, 1924, should give food for thought to those people who send their money from the smaller centres to help swell the profits of these big mail order concerns, says The Picton Gazette, an Ontario weekly, which comments as follows:

This company's net profits after paying all expenses, amounted to the very comfortable sum of $1,547,753, as compared with $1,236,609 in 1922 and $766,853 in 1921. In the last three years this firm has made a clear profit of over three and a half million dollars.

Last year an eight story addition was made to the store premises at a cost for building and equipment of over a million dollars, all paid out of profits.

Certainly the Simpson Co. are doing business at a very comfortable margin. And in this respect their experience is in no way different from that of the other big mail order houses.

They are all making good profits, building up enormous businesses, erecting magnificent stores and employing thousands of hands; largely out of the mail order business.

This will continue so long as the people from the rural sections and the smaller towns and villages keep on sending away their money from their home communities to help build up the cities.

The result is prosperous growing cities with enormously profitable businesses, while our smaller centres are being drained of their men and money to make these cities greater and wealthier.

There is a sort of popular idea that the mail order houses offer better value than the local store, but it is difficult to square this theory with the fact of the enormous profits of the mail order just quoted.

In fact it is largely a case of far off being green. If an honest comparison of prices and quality were made, the advantage would generally lie with the local store.

At any rate there is not the slightest doubt but that if the money that is annually sent from this county to enrich the big city stores were spent with the local merchants, thus enabling them to carry larger stocks and keep their employees profitably busy that the local merchant could easily outsell in value his city competitor.

It is unexplainable how we undervalue local prosperity. There are some people who would rather help some outsider to live and make a profit than help their neighbour in the same way.

In these times of trying financial conditions the local merchant and retailer is having his difficulties as well as the farmer. In fact, in many ways he is in just as difficult a position.

Few retailers in the smaller centres have been able to do business at a profit during the past three years. In the case of far the greater number it has been a history of serious losses each year with a corresponding encroachment on their capital and resources.

Very many of them are finding it very, very difficult to finance their business and carry on. And yet the very money that is needed to keep these businesses alive and afford their owners a very modest profit, is going into the millions of the big mail order house.

Without the prosperous small town and village, farm life would lose its chief asset. Prosperous towns make prosperous farming communities. And prosperous towns cannot exist if the money all goes to the big city.

Every retail business is an employer of labour. Everyone admits the value of employment to the community. Towns and cities strive to secure manufacturing concerns to locate in their midst. Inducements are frequently offered in the way of fixed rates, etc.

Who will question the value of the canning industry, and the local seed house as employers of labour in Picton? Just now the town council is trying to induce the location of a manufacturing concern in Picton. This is very commendable and yet how ready the public are to withdraw their support from businesses that have been employers of labour in Picton for years.

There are retail firms in this town that pay out to their employees for wages from $100 to $500 per week. Yet how rarely is this side of the question considered.

The public abuse the capitalist and big financier and instead of encouraging home industries, home capital and home progressiveness, help to swell the coffers of the very class that they profess to consider as the main source of all their evils.

This is not an indictment of big business but it is an endeavour to point out the results of failing to appreciate the value of local interests and local prosperity.

YES-They all know you're in business That is, they did know — you have told them so in times past — but do they all remember it? We all know that Ivory Soap floats, and that Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, and that children cry for Castoria and the kind of soap that makes a skin you like to touch, etc., etc.—and we're not going to forget about them for a minute, because the manufacturers spend millions of dollars a year telling us about them, day by day, and week by week, and month by month. They take no chances on being forgotten. How about your business? Isn't it just as important that you be kept in mind by the buying public in your territory as it is to the national advertiser that his product be remembered? You can cover your trade territory more easily, more cheaply in proportion, and more thoroughly than the national advertiser can cover the whole country. But you've got to keep it up to get the results that he gets. And you can't expect to advertise in flush times and live on the memory of it when you're hard up. The Review

Summary Fruit Crop Prospects

All crops in the Summerland district are growing rapidly, according to the weekly newsletter issued by the district horticulturist. Apricots, cherries and peaches are sizing up well and the thinning of apricots should have been well advanced by last weekend. The Summerland report states further that powdery mildew is showing on several varieties of apples, particularly on Jonathans. Woolly aphids are showing up in large numbers in many orchards. Coal oil emulsion, applied with swabbing brush, will give good control.

Cooler weather is reported from all sections of district No. 3, the Okanagan district, and all report an unusually brief blooming period.

Salmon Arm reports prospects of heavy tree fruits crops if the set is normal. Rain is much needed.

Vernon: Fruits, where set, are sizing rapidly. There is every appearance of a heavy drop in several varieties of apples and also in prunes. Tent caterpillars have caused considerable damage through the northern portion of the Valley. They are now past their worst stage. Many thousands have been noticed during the past week dying from some natural cause, either insect or bacterial parasitism. Leaf roller injury is very general and growers are advised to apply arsenate of lead consistently to prevent considerable fruit injury. Powdery mildew is also prevalent and with damp weather there is the possibility of apple scab. Cut worms and onion maggot are taking their toll on the onion acreage and in one section of the Vernon district the grasshopper is to be found in considerable numbers.

Penticton: Apple powdery mildew and aphids have developed very rapidly and unless controlled will cause considerable damage. Jonathan apples are showing more powdery mildew than any other varieties, while the aphids' attacks are confined largely to peaches.

Investigator Says Much Drunkenness

Anti-Beer Committee Hear Report on the Situation in Quebec.

That the people of British Columbia are facing a crisis in matters of true temperance and the safety and well-being of our young men and women depends upon a substantial vote against the beer-by-the-glass proposal, was the unanimous opinion of the local committee opposing the sale of beer which met Tuesday evening. If the brewers' plebiscite should carry we would be in a position worse than when we had the open bar, because additional inducements would be presented to tempt the young people to acquire the appetite for intoxicating liquor.

Reference was made to an article in the Ladies' Home Journal on "Whirlpools of Beer"—the Quebec experiment that brings the reverse of temperance and sobriety. This article is by a level headed, experienced newspaper man, A. B. MacDonald, who made a fair, unprejudiced investigation. He found many people dead drunk on beer and the whirlpool flow of beer had tremendously increased drunkenness in the province as was shown by statistics issued by the government. He also said that the brewers of Quebec four years ago made it a chief argument in their propaganda for light wines and beer that bootlegging would decrease with the consumption of beer and wine beverages, if they were legalized. Bootlegging had greatly increased under the new law. Mr. MacDonald goes on to show that the brewers in the province of Quebec are in control.

It was felt by the committee that the carrying of the plebiscite for beer-by-the-glass on June 20th would greatly strengthen the hands of the brewers. It is really a vote for or against the brewers of British Columbia. A communication was read stating that A. B. MacDonald, who wrote the article in the November issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, on "Whirlpools of Beer," had been in British Columbia recently investigating the conditions here under government control and the result of that investigation will be given in the same journal this coming June. Everyone who wants to know the real situation should read this article.

It was further agreed at the committee meeting that prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists have a common ground now stand upon in opposing this measure which threatens the province. It is a real moral issue. Everybody should recognize the camouflage of the brewers who are trying by radio and propaganda and newspaper articles to cover up this deadly thing. The people of Manitoba not long ago voted for government control, then shortly afterward voted emphatically against the sale of beer by the glass.

The committee, after canvassing the situation pretty thoroughly, believe that the people of British Columbia will be wide awake as were the people of Manitoba. The committee are anxious not so much to make a canvass of the people as to get them in possession of the real facts concerning the serious condition involved in adoption of the beer-by-the-glass clause which the brewers so enthusiastically approve. That is why the committee are anxious for everyone to mark the ballot "NO."—Cont.

Is Naramata's New May Queen

Miss Alice Cross has been chosen as Queen of the May Festival which is being held at Naramata on Saturday, May 31st. This is the second annual May festival, the queen last year being Miss Florence Lyons.

A regular May Day pageant has been arranged for Saturday afternoon of this week. Besides the usual maypole and features incident to the crowning of the queen, there is to be a parade, sports, etc.

The committee has gone to considerable pains in providing costumes and a very nice program is assured. There will be a special ferry leaving here at one o'clock, returning about 5.30.

CHURCH WOMEN IN SESSION

Representatives of Anglican Churches in Okanagan Met Here this Week.

Delegates from the Women's Auxiliaries of Anglican churches in the Okanagan diocese, extending from Revelstoke to Penticton, and including representatives from Revelstoke, Armstrong, Enderby, Vernon, Woodside, Kelowna, Peachland, Naramata and Penticton met here on Wednesday. The opening session commenced at 10.30 when all joined in co-operate communion, the speaker being Rev. Canon Thompson, of Penticton. About sixty-five were present at the sessions. Luncheon was served in the Parish Hall by the local W. A. and the business meeting commenced at 1.30. Mrs. Mellor, Mrs. G. J. C. White and Miss J. Sinclair were present as representatives from each of the other local churches and spoke a few words. Reports from the several centres represented were received, when a helpful comparison of the progress of the work was presented. Mrs. Solly, president of the Okanagan Diocese, presided and Mrs. Vaughan acted as secretary. Following this meeting, the guests were driven out to the experimental farm and greatly enjoyed the outing.

D. C. Coleman Intimates that Matter Only Tentatively Discussed.

(Princeton Star)

"So far the matter has only been tentatively discussed," stated D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the western division of the C.P.R., to representatives of the Princeton board of trade, who met him and President E. W. Beatty at the depot as they were passing through to Vancouver.

The remark was in answer to a statement made by A. E. Howse that he failed to see why the company should admit any financial responsibility for destruction of the old Cariboo road as it was left in good condition when railway construction work was completed, and further he could not understand why they did not oppose the building of the highway up the narrow canyon as it must of necessity interfere with the railway track.

Apart from repudiating the suggestion that there was any possible conclusion between the C.P.R. and the government, Mr. Beatty's remarks would indicate that the matter had not yet been even brought to his attention. He evinced considerable interest, however, in a map that was given him showing the advantages of the southern route.

The Canadian National Railways crop report for the week ending May 17, said "Seeding of wheat in the prairie provinces was practically finished, and in a number of districts the crop was showing well above ground. Oats and barley have been sown in a number of districts. The weather was reported to be ideal for work on the land, though a little cool for promoting growth. One or two districts reported need of moisture, while in others part of the fields were still under water. Several stations in the Regina district reported cut-worms appearing in large numbers."

Judging from the conduct of some of the elders, the age of discretion is childhood.

SIXTH of the series dealing with the establishment of the Bank of Montreal at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere.

WEST OF THE GREAT LAKES

THE growth of the Bank of Montreal has closely coincided with the gradual development of Canada from a small colony to a great Dominion.

In the Bank's westward advance to the Pacific Coast, one of the important links in its transcontinental chain of Branches was formed in 1878 at Winnipeg, when the Bank opened its first Branch west of the Great Lakes.

This forward step, taken seven years before railway communication was opened up between Montreal and Winnipeg, made available to the incoming population on the prairies the stabilizing co-operation of a strong, conservative and at the same time energetic financial institution.

Of the Bank's 567 Branches, 12 are situated in Winnipeg and 180 in the Prairie Provinces, including Winnipeg.
