PETITION MUST BE SIGNED BY RATEPAYERS BEFORE COUNCIL CONSIDERS GROUNDS PURCHASE

Reply Given to Board of Trade Request That Municipality Purchase Crescent Beach Grounds as a Recreation Centre—Dr. Patterson Protests Against Application for License at Canyon Creek by Municipality.

The Summerland municipal council requires that a petition be secured from a goodly representation of the ratepayers of the district before consideration can be given to the proposal that the municipality purchase the Crescent Beach Grounds as a recreation centre for the community.

FINE SHOWING AT FESTIVAL

Summerland Boys and Girls At Kelowna Musical Festival MARJORIE KING WON FIRST SOLO PRIZE

George Mossop and Cameron McGown Also Secure Prizes

Saturday, May 1 was a red letter day in the musical history of the valley when Kelowna held its first musical competition, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association of that city.

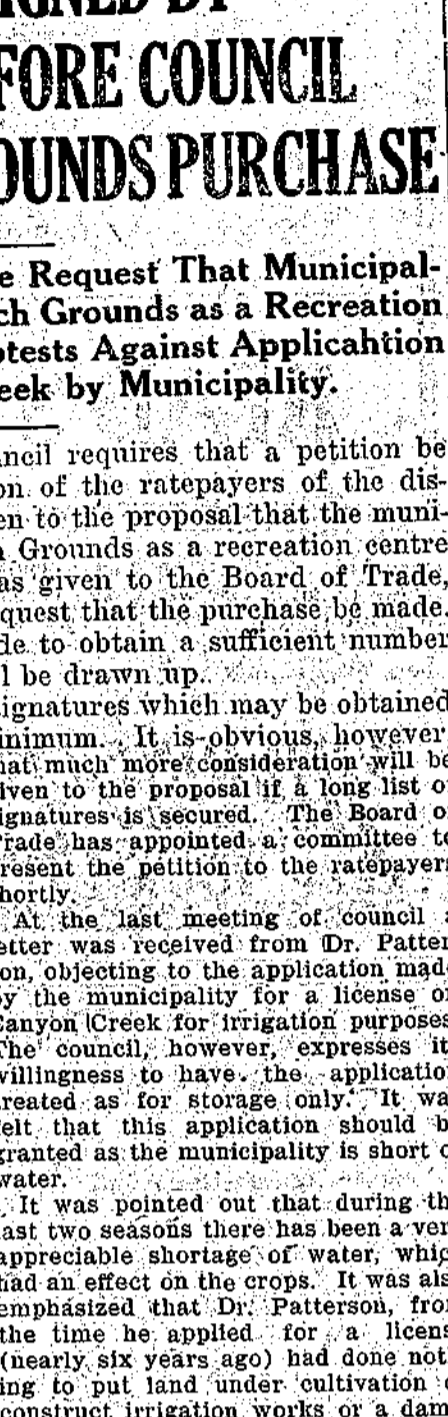

A large crowd greeted the first competitor when he faced the adjudicator at 10 a.m. in the Scout Hall.

The nineteen different classes included juvenile choirs, boys' choirs, elocution, piano, vocal duets and solos, violin solo, vocal duets and adult classes in mixed quartette and ladies' trio.

Competitors were entered from all parts of the valley, from Enderby in the north to Pentiction in the south, and there was a keenness shown which was most gratifying.

Miss Marjorie King, in the young vocalist class (soprano), in which the test piece was "I Passed by Your Window," Brake, secured first prize with 71 marks.

Special Effort Will Be Made To Make June 3rd Celebration Big Success

June the third, the King's birthday, is to be Summerland's Day. Efforts will be made this year to make the event more successful than upon any occasion in the past.

The first step in the preparations will be made at a meeting to be conducted in the G. V. A. Hall on Monday, May 10th, at eight o'clock.

Committees will be appointed and discussion conducted upon the programme of activities to be outlined. Summerland should be the "Mecca" of the entire Southern Okanagan on this one big holiday of the year which is "Summerland's Day."

Lieut.-Governor To Attend Picnic

An interesting announcement was made by Mr. John Tait at the board of trade meeting on Tuesday evening when he stated that efforts were being made to have His Honor the Lieut.-Governor attend the Experimental Farm picnic this year on June 12. Indications were that the picnic this year would prove most successful.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Special services have been held all this week in the Baptist church. A full choir has been leading the service of song and rendering special pieces in a very attractive manner.

First Carload Of Ore Leaves Here

The first carload of ore ever to have been shipped from Summerland was despatched on its way to the Trail smelter this week from the Kelley mine at Trout Creek. It is believed to be good galena ore, containing silver and lead.

PRAISE FOR BOY SCOUTS

Mr. Ned Bentley has drawn the attention of The Review to an article which recently appeared in a coast newspaper in which it was pointed out that less than a dozen of 100,000 boy Scouts of New York have ever been in the Okanagan valley.

OFFICERS OF BAND ELECTED

Summerland Community Band Is Progressing Favorably

The annual meeting of the Summerland Community Band resulted in the election of Jack Logie as manager. Other officers are: Honorary president, Reeve Johnston; conductor, G. W. Cope; secretary treasurer, T. Charley; sergeant, John Botazzi.

The band at present contains principally young beginners. The boys have been practicing for some time now, however, and are coming along very nicely. It is hoped that they will have reached a sufficient state of proficiency to give their first public concert in Summerland during July or August.

Every member of the band is determined to "stick to it" and in time attain a reputation in the valley akin to that obtained by the Summerland band of some years ago. At present there are about eighteen players. Mr. Cope, their conductor, has had considerable experience in that direction, and is coaching the boys along in a very able manner.

OPTIMISTIC PREDICTION IS RECEIVED FROM HIGH SOURCE

London Police Force Increased From Thirty to Eighty Thousand — Twenty-five Thousand Volunteers Are Enrolled—Troops Wearing Steel Helmets — Danish Unions on Sympathetic Strike.

(Special to the Summerland Review)

London, May 7.—The guarded prediction was made this morning by influential labor leaders that the strike crisis might be settled early next week. It was the most optimistic suggestion so far from a high source. On what it is based has not been divulged. The government's mid-day bulletin declared that conditions throughout the country were improving, with the workers trickling back to their jobs or making overtures for protection in case they do return.

The statement declared no overtures had been made to the Trades Union Congress for a peace movement.

Yesterday, in the London area, 25,000 volunteers were enrolled, making a total of 75,000.

The London police force is being increased from thirty thousand to eighty thousand.

Troops, wearing steel helmets and carrying full field equipment, were sent this afternoon into the dock districts of London, where the rough crowds are becoming too unruly for the unarmed police.

There was sporadic rioting in London and many other cities. The police had a fierce engagement with strikers in Glasgow, sixty-six were arrested. Many were injured. Hull, Aberdeen and Cardiff all reported disturbances, injuries and arrests.

Jail sentences have been given many strikers. Danish unions have gone on a sympathetic strike. British labor threatens to call out another two million men if settlement is not reached soon. This will make five to six million in all on strike.

Labor leaders show signs of discouragement owing to the government's firmness against the general strike.

WOULD HAVE LARGE FISH HATCHERY STARTED HERE

Board of Trade Does Not Want Westbank-Kelowna Ferry to be Privately Owned — Summerland Wants More Settlers of Retired Type — Orientals Must Not Buy Land.

The establishment of a fish hatchery on a large scale in Summerland was urged at the Board of Trade meeting on Tuesday evening. The meeting followed a very fine banquet in the Premier Hotel. The point was emphasized that Lake Okanagan needs re-stocking with fish. Summerland was a logical place for the hatchery to be established. The matter will be looked into by the board and representations made to the government.

The question of the new government ferry between Westbank and Kelowna was brought up for discussion. It was pointed out by Mr. Bentley that unofficially he heard that the government intended to supply the boat, then ask for tenders for running it. A lease would be given and in a few years the boat would be bought from the government.

It was the general feeling of the Board that private ownership should be avoided in connection with the new ferry. It was pointed out that in the original request for a ferry made by the board some time ago, "government ferry" was specified. A motion was finally passed requesting information from the government in respect to their plans and protesting against any project whereby the boat would in time become privately owned.

A number of the members of the board spoke regarding the ways and means whereby new settlers could be induced to come to Summerland. Mr. Campbell touched on the Oriental situation in Summerland. He admitted that the Japanese were, as a whole, fine fellows and easy to get along with, but were unfortunately of a race which would not mix with white residents. He felt that on no account should land be sold to an Oriental.

The Oriental situation was becoming of serious moment in Summerland, according to several speakers. It was something which was not realized fully by the majority of Summerland residents. It was urged that before a Summerland resident sells his property to an Oriental that he communicate with the Board of Trade executive, allowing reasonable time for someone else to bid.

Summerland needed new settlers. The class which Summerland would set out to acquire was that termed the "idle rich." Summerland possessed wonderful advantages to those people who had made sufficient money to enable them to retire for the rest of their days. Where could more beautiful surroundings be found than in Summerland? Publicity was needed.

The Board decided to enquire into the cost of pamphlets which could be circulated around the country describing the advantages of Summerland as a residential district. The Board of Trade intends to make an effort to attract settlers here, and hopes for the co-operation of present residents.

The Board received a communication from the municipal council in regard to the Crescent Beach grounds proposition. A petition must be circulated among ratepayers before the question of purchase could be considered. The matter of circulating the petition was left in the hands of the executive.

Kelowna is seeking to establish an Associated Board of Trade in the valley, but Summerland is not in favor of the project. As a consequence letters dealing with the matter have been filed.

Mr. Ned Bentley, of the roads committee, drew the attention of the members to some important new automobile regulations. Henceforth anyone operating a stage is required to have a special license and the stage must be run on schedule. It must stop before railroad crossings. Mr. Pollock is looking into the matter of extending the community service activities of the Board of Trade. He thought there was room for a committee to work along the lines of Gyro, Rotary and other organizations. There was not a particularly good turnout at the meeting, owing to the fact that lodge meetings were in progress upon the same evening. The next meeting will be conducted on a more "open" evening. Mr. J. B. Campbell ably presided during the absence of Mr. K. S. Hogg, who was called away.

PRESIDENT'S TEAM WON OUT

First Golf Competition Held — Ladies Play Next Saturday

Summerland golfers are taking full advantage these days of the fine new golf course on Paradise Flat. While golf has been played for many weeks, the course was officially opened on Thursday afternoon of this week, when a competition was conducted with thirteen players to a side. The president's team won by a score of ten points to three and the vice-president's team, as a result, will be hosts to the victors at a dinner to be held this evening. At one o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Summerland golfers will journey to Pentiction, where they will play Pentiction golfers on the new Pentiction course. There will probably be a return tournament in Summerland in the near future at which Pentiction golfers will be the guests. The lady members of the Summerland golf club will hold an eighteen hole stroke competition on Tuesday, May 11th instant. This will be the first of a series of medal competitions. Little Lawrence Hickey sustained a bad cut on his head last evening when he was hurt by a bicycle while playing in the lower town.

PRETTY WEDDING AT PEACHLAND

At Home of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson—Other Newsy Items

Peachland, May 6.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, of the Trepianer Township, Peachland, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday afternoon, April 28th, when their daughter Elva Mabel became the bride of Mr. John P. Long, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Long of Greata Ranch, Peachland, B. C. The service was conducted by the Rev. T. A. Sadler, pastor of the United Church, Peachland. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a gown of and-crepe-back satin, trimmed with applied-colored flowers, and sand hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Miss Doris A. Long, sister of the groom, wearing blue, flat crepe with picture hat, and carrying pink carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Geo. E. Long. Miss Mary Sadler played the wedding march. After a dainty buffet lunch, Mr. and Mrs. Long motored to Pentiction en route to the coast, where the honeymoon will be spent.

through Peachland early this week, motoring to Vancouver where he expects to remain for some time.

Mr. Lorne Shaw motored over from Beaverdell last week to make the exchange of his Gray-Dort car for a brand new Star roadster which he took back with him on returning to Beaverdell. Another brand-new car being purchased by a local resident is the new model Ford owned by George E. Long. Our local butcher has recently purchased a Dodge car which he needs in his business.

Mrs. Johnson, who has been a guest at the Edgewater Inn for a few weeks, enjoyed a visit last Thursday from her husband, who was motoring through. Mr. Johnson is valley representative for the W. H. Malkin Co. of Vancouver.

Mr. H. E. McCall spent a day last week in Kelowna attending a special meeting which was addressed by two of the head office staff of the London Life Insurance Co. He returned home on Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Slater and three children from Vernon spent Thursday evening in Peachland en route on a motor trip through to Portland, Oregon, where Mrs. Slater and the children expect to visit for the summer months. Mr. Slater returns to his post of duty in Vernon.

Miss Jean Leddingham of Vancouver made a short visit in Peachland last week with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Hogg.

Mr. William Gellatly passed

Corporal Sullivan, formerly game

warden, stationed at Kelowna, paid Peachland a short visit last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brown and two children were among the arrivals on Friday evening of last week to pay old scenes, relative and friends a visit. They are guests at Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White.

After a pleasant winter spent at Victoria, Mr. Wilson returned on Saturday last; and after a brief visit with his son Jack, has taken residence in the cottage vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Hunter.

A number of Peachlanders spent Saturday last in Kelowna attending the Grand Musical Festival held there. Three local students were in the contest: Miss Frances Clement, vocal, and the Misses Edna Cudmore and Wyla Elliott, piano-instrumentalists. They each figured in two numbers and Miss Frances Clement was successful in taking first place with one of her solos. All enjoyed the festival very much.

Mr. Smith of Kelowna was among the arrivals in town on Monday evening's boat and expects to remain in Peachland for the summer months, employed at orchard work.

Mrs. Johnson returned on Monday morning's boat after spending the week-end in Pentiction with her husband.

The Rev. T. A. Sadler, pastor of the United Church in Peachland, exchanged pulpits on Sunday last with the Rev. Henry Wilson of Summerland. Mr. Wilson conducted the regular afternoon service at Westbank and the evening service in Peachland, while Mr. Sadler took Mr. Wilson's services in Summerland and Naramata. At the evening service in Peachland Mrs. Margerson favored with a solo, "Just for Today."

A small crew of men have been doing a little repair work on the Wilson Lake dam during the last week and the board have just decided it would be good business to raise the dam another two feet. The work thus far has proven quite a success. The dam has held well and the storage there promises to be well up to if not more than up to expectation. According to last reports it is better filled than the other reservoirs.

NARAMATA

Mrs. Raitt and daughters have arrived from Arizona and taken up residence on the Raitt ranch here.

At the Union service on Sunday afternoon the Rev. Sadler of Peachland was the officiating minister. Miss Florrie Lyons accompanied the singing.

Mr. Stanley Allen returned from Vancouver on Monday evening to spend some time on the Allen ranch. Mrs. Allen is expected to arrive early next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Burtonshaw, old friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, came in on the "Okanagan" on Monday evening, and hope to settle in Naramata. They are from London, England.

A dance in aid of a fund for the creation of a tennis court was held in the Unity Club on Monday evening, and was fairly well attended. Mrs. D. I. Walters was pianist for the occasion.

Mrs. E. W. Hughes of Pentiction interviewed the Board of Trade here on Monday evening regarding a Naramata exhibit at the autumn exhibition in New Westminster, and was assured of the hearty co-operation of the directors.

Mr. H. P. Salting is evidently looking for trouble, having taken over the colonies of bees formerly belonging to F. C. Manchester, and transferred them to his orchard. "He jests at bees, who never felt a sting."

MY VALLEY HOME

Softly through my open windows, Dancing sunbeams come and go, Trim, green lawns and open mountains With warm spring sunshine all aglow; And from my favorite, shady nook Comes the murmur of the brook.

And the joyous, tender trilling Of the song-bird in the trees, All the air with music filling, All the blossom-scented breeze. The birds, the blossoms, brook and bee All breathe a welcome home to me.

Hark! I hear the church bells pealing; As once again I hear them ring. There comes gently o'er me stealing 'On fond memory's golden wing. Thoughts of the happy days long past, Of days that were too bright to last.

Recollections of my childhood, Of those sunny-footed hours, When we wandered in the wildwood, Playing 'mong the birds and flowers, Like the birds, we wandered free, Listening to their melody.

As we listened to them singing In rushes of exultant song; We could hear those same bells ringing.

Calling then, as now, to raise Hearts and voices; to His praise.

To the same old church they're thronging; Familiar faces there I'll meet: Gone is now the home-sick longing, Since home-folk and friends I greet In other lands than I may roam, There's no place like my valley home. —F. S. Tucker, Pentiction

WILL BORE FOR OIL IN OKANAGAN VALLEY

A recent issue of the Western Canadian Mining News contains the following: With a view to boring for oil the Shell Oil Company has secured options on territory in the Okanagan Valley. It may easily be that British Columbia will have its oil flurry, though it will take some months before any definite results are obtained.

The Shell has taken an option on 1400 acres of land belonging to V. L. Miller of Trinity Valley, 23 miles from Enderby at the south end of Mabel Lake, and it is stated also that an option is sought on 3000 acres in the vicinity of the well-known B.K. ranch near Vernon.

Nothing is known at the Vancouver office of the Shell Company in the office of the Shell Company about the deal.

Operations of the Shell Company in the Okanagan will be watched with interest. Evidently company experts Okanagan will be watched with interest. Evidently the company's experts have looked the ground over and taking the options would indicate that there is a chance of striking oil.

KEREMEOS MAN IS SENTENCED TO OKALLA

Louis A. Welderman of Keremeos, charged with carnal knowledge of a young girl, was convicted and sentenced to one year at hard labor at Okalla, by Judge Brown in the county court Tuesday. M. M. Colquhoun prosecuted and H. H. Boyle was appointed by the judge to defend.

WHO IS THE HOME MERCHANT?

The home merchant, who is he? He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who meets you at the door with a handshake and lets you out with a message to the 'folks' and a real 'come again, goodbye'.

He is the chap whose clerks live in the home town and spend their money with you and other local people.

He is the chap who helps support our churches and charitable organizations and talks for the home town and boosts for it every day in the year.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in time of need.

Don't you think you ought to trade with him and be his friend and his helper in time of need?

Don't you know that every dollar you send out of town for merchandise is sent to strangers—to men who never spend a dollar here? You don't save much, usually nothing, when you send your money out of town. And you know that the growth and prosperity of this town and community depend very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchant? Out of town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores, and the degree of enterprise shown by our merchants. And our home merchants cannot succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.

MORE POULATION NEEDED

The most difficult problem facing Summerland residents at the present time is that involving ways and means of increasing the population. This point was emphasized at the Board of Trade meeting this week, and it has been emphasized at many similar meetings in the past. The best way to "go after" an increased population, however, has not yet been determined.

A class of settlers which Summerland has possibly the better opportunity to acquire is that generally termed the "idle rich." Summerland has priceless assets, which if broadcast, would undoubtedly attract men and women who can afford to retire and who are seeking a location as nearly akin to Paradise as possible. A wonderful climate, natural beauty of the surroundings, and a progressive, friendly class of citizens now resident here, are assets which Summerland possesses.

The Review is entirely in accord with the proposed line of action discussed at the last Board of Trade meeting. Publicity for Summerland and district must be secured. Lack of knowledge of the advantages of this community is the only impediment in the way of an influx of retired men and women here. Either by advertisements in the newspapers of Canada and the United States or by the wholesale circulation of pamphlets describing Summerland—or by both—can the desirable end of increase in population be secured.

Every Summerland resident should endeavor to make an effort to attract at least one family to the community. Every time a letter is written, the opportunity should not be missed of boosting Summerland. Every scrap of publicity possible to obtain should be secured. If everyone would co-operate in securing publicity for Summerland, we predict that in a comparatively short time Summerland would become the leading community, in point of population, in the valley.

It was because Los Angeles and other American cities determined that they would grow in population that they did become large cities. While we do not expect, or particularly desire Summerland to become a large city in the years to come, we do want Summerland's population to be increased by a few thousand people. And we believe it can be done.

A CHERISHED CONVICTION.

Toronto Globe—It is a conviction to which the people of the United States so conspicuously wedded, that they won the Great War. A few of them may be worried with doubts, but if so they are not vociferous in expressing them.

World of Politics

(By an Ex-Writer of the Ottawa Press Gallery.)

It is perhaps characteristic of the frailties of the human race and the perversity of mankind that revelations as to the acceptance by a former minister of the Crown and a number of civil servants of a few cases of liquor, from other civil servants in touch with the liquor business in an administrative capacity, should have all but submerged the interest in the budget discussion during the past week. The groans of the members of the committee making the customs probe and others present at the inquiry when a member of Parliament, formerly collector of customs at Montreal, told how he had poured the contents of a whiskey barrel sent to him as a present down a sink hole in order to ease his conscience and comply with the law reverberated across Canada in big newspaper headlines, while the discussion of the business of the country in Parliament, was practically neglected. It is not the business of this column to attempt to give an explanation of this curious state of affairs that has developed at the capital, and it is doubtful if there is any explanation of it beyond the statement that, as long as people are constituted as they are, the wrong doings or mistakes of people occupying positions of trust will always command a great deal of interest. The fate that has overtaken the two members of the civil service commission in losing their nice fat government berths for offenses which will be regarded by many people as being nothing worse than indiscretions, should have all but warned to all government officials of the danger of departing in the slightest degree from the straight and narrow path of strict adherence to duty. Down in Ottawa, where former civil service commissioners Jamieson and Laroche and "Bob" Farrow, commissioner of customs, are well-known, there will be a lot of sympathy for them in their misfortunes. The two commissioners were former members of Parliament—Laroche, a Liberal, named a commissioner by the Laurier Government; Jamieson, a Conservative, appointed by the Borden administration. Laroche hailed from Quebec province. Jamieson represented Digby, Nova Scotia, in the House for at least two Parliamentary terms. Before entering public life he was town clerk for Digby and his £6000 a year salary as a civil service commissioner was the biggest money he ever made, no doubt. Farrow, who has suffered a breakdown under the strain he has undergone, is the type of man who would feel his position keenly. He has been a quiet, hard-working and capable administrator, a man who has commanded the esteem and respect of successive ministers of the Crown. Should he lose his position as a consequence of his slip, as seems very probable, he is more likely than either of the other two men involved, to secure an equally good post in the world of business, because he possesses the kind of training that commands larger pay outside than inside the service. Of the three men involved in the developments, the case of Laroche is the most pathetic. He was well past middle age when he received his appointment nearly twenty years ago and must be in his seventies. Surely a regrettable ending for what has otherwise been a long and meritorious career and one that should serve as a warning to all public officials to carefully "watch their step."

MR. ROBB FINDS THE "MILK IN THE COCONUT"
When General Clark, of Burrard, was objecting in the House of Commons last week to the reduction of the duties on automobiles, he had some enlightening exchanges with Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance. Here is an example:

Mr. Robb.—We are returning 25 per cent. of the duty paid, and I should like to make it clear that that rebate goes to the manufacturers of parts as well as the manufacturers of automobiles.

General Clark.—I do not think the average Canadian manufacturer today is in a position to produce 50 per cent. of the car.

Mr. Robb.—That is the milk in the coconut—that is what all this row is about.

General Clark later on in his speech made a calculation that in the case of a particular car the duty on parts used just about offset the new duty. The Minister of Finance intervened to remark: "I admit frankly that we intend that these companies shall manufacture fifty per cent. in Canada. That is the ideal." General Clark replied: "That is an arbitrary statement; the part of the minister irrespective of whether or not it is possible for companies to do that." In these exchanges we have set forth the real reason why the cut in duties is bearing heavily upon an industry that is not, in a true sense of the word, a manufacturing industry, but one engaged in the assembling of parts made in the United States into the complete car. It is stated that there are only two cars which can fulfil the conditions which enables their makers to recover 25 per cent. of the duties paid on parts. It must be admitted that there is a strong Canadian note in Mr. Robb's policy. After years of protection for Canadian-made automobiles, we have developed in Canada practically nothing more or less than assembling plants for big American motor car corporations. Should Mr. Robb's policy result in the production in Canada on a large scale of Canadian cars, made by Canadian labor, it will be a difficult thing, even from the protectionist standpoint, to dig up an argument against it. All the manufacturers have to do to get practically as much protection as they had before is to make 50 per cent. of the finished product in Canada. A majority of people will probably agree that the minister's proposal is not unreasonable.

THE PEDLAR'S PACK

BY AUTOLYCUS

"A Snapper-up of Unconsidered Trifles"

I see that a donation of $100 is in the offering for some charitable institution. If the story of Jonah and the whale can be proved, a gentleman from New Jersey having offered that amount.

AN AMBIGUOUS CHALLENGE conditionally. There is, however, a certain ambiguity in his challenge;—he not only requires proof that a whale could swallow Jonah, but also has to be convinced of the truth of the story that a man was actually found alive in a whale's interior in 1895. This is a double-barrelled sort of demand although it may be said that if the modern swallowing can be authenticated, then the ancient story will be shown to be possible. It seems to me that a second $100 should be forthcoming, one on each count, and that the challenger will be getting too much for his money otherwise. However, passing over that question and dealing only with the testimony of "any zoologist who is a recognized authority," I wish to put in a word on behalf of some charitable institution by once again pointing out that one Frank Buckingham, who knew more about whales than most men, tells of their disgorging in their death agonies, portions of huge squids at least as large as a man's body, and this appears to be pretty good evidence of the possibility of a man being drawn in by the mammalian void. The New Jersey gentleman has overlooked the fact that there are several varieties of whales and that their swallowing capacities vary.

The scandal of the ever-awelling flood of American magazines which is submerging the Canadian product has moved, Mr. Hootton, M.P., to launch a vigorous protest against a continuance of free trade mission, and to demand a protective duty which will at least have the effect of reducing the torrent. He proposes a remedy which is by no means new, but which loses none of its value on that account. He wants a duty of 10 cents per pound on magazines, or 15 cents on the advertisement sections only. This would necessarily raise the price in Canada very considerably, and we may suppose that the reading public would think twice before paying 25 cents for a magazine which they have been getting for 15 cents hitherto. And our national revenue would get the benefit of the duty. This is just good common sense, and has been put before our governments so often that it is astonishing to realize that nothing has been done in the matter. Possibly the onslaught of the Toronto member will bring things to a head.

Assuming that some relief is given to our own publishers and that they get a fighting chance to compete with the American product, there still remains the vital element of quality. It is indubitable that many of the publications from the other side are more despicable from the standpoint of literary excellence, and that they attract chiefly through qualities of the lowest order. It is, however, unfortunately also true that certain of our Canadian magazines are lacking in that indefinable power of attraction which rivets the attention of the reader, and ensures wide circulation. Personally I must admit that, having tried them all, I find them unsatisfying—their short stories are mostly pulp, tinged with a flavor of advertisement, and their continued stories are in nearly every case syndicated. No doubt these faults can be traced to those very conditions of unfair competition which have been so long protested against, and it is quite easy to realize the impossibility of high quality and low circulation being hand in glove. But it is important that our publishers shall attach full value to the necessity for attracting the public—it is one thing to curb the entry of American publications, and another to supply their place.

By the way—that 10 cents per pound is going to hit some of the really good magazines pretty hard. It seems hard to believe that some issues of the S.E.P. weigh one and a half pounds, but it is actually true, and we have to foresee a jump from five to twenty cents in its price under the conditions aimed at. On the other hand, the flimsy rubbish which we would like to see kept out, will escape comparatively lightly. I suppose this is just one more of life's little ironies.

THOUGHTS FOR EXAMINATION DAYS

(Okanagan Commoner)

School children are counting the days when "exams" begin. We hear a lot these days about the difference between the boys and girls of today and the boys and girls of the days of our fathers and grandfathers, with usually censure on the boys and girls of today. This is tommyrot. The boys and girls of today are no worse and no better than the boys and girls of long ago. The period of exams has been the same to all. It will not be amiss, however, to draw attention to some facts about education which are usually overlooked.

Compulsory education is one important thing. Compulsory knowledge is another. The state can compel a boy or girl to attend school up to a certain age. But the state cannot compel a boy or girl to learn the things school attendance is intended to teach. It is said by statisticians to cost the parents $4,000 to raise the average boy or girl and give him or her the proper schooling.

Think of it! Four thousand dollars! Are you worth it, boys and girls? It is up to you.

When you count what you eat and what you have to wear, the school books, the doctor's bills, the sleds and toy wagons, the stoves and mufflers, the movies, the pictures and what not, it will cost the father at least $100 a year for every child.

So much for Dad. But what about Mother? Mother cooks for you, makes your clothes, patches them, washes and irons them and takes care of you little fellows when sick, and she never charges anything for that. If she were gone and Dad had to pay for all that it would cost another $100 a year. Four thousand dollars for a boy or girl! What do you think of that?

only on their thrones." Looking at the matter dispassionately, we can see a certain prudence and sagacity in Job's choice of the daughter of the powerful king of Tyre and Sidon, and the history of the following thirty years or so shows that, on the whole "the wise foreign policy of Jezabel" worked to the benefit of the people, and Israel was strengthened. And it is noted that Jehu, who finally rebelled against the rule of Jezabel and her son, afterwards set up two golden calves to be worshipped in Israel, in spite of the fact that his rebellion was directed against idolatry! Much of the execration lavished upon this woman rests upon the painting of her face and tiring of her hair, but our writer suggests that her only thought may have been to appear at her best in the hour of danger. And certainly, in these days of beauty parlor, it would not do to throw out of the window every woman who paints her face!

The flow of advice on the conduct of our lives and general affairs seems to be inexhaustible. Not long ago some inspired genius broached the idea of establishing commissions to regulate the conduct of married people by intervals of enforced separation, during which their behaviour would be looked after by members of the commission;—the other day an unmarried lady proposed a systematic course of training for mothers, many of whom, she said, did not know how to hold a baby;—and now we are informed that the best way to prolong our lives is to hibernate through the winter. Tom Moore had a directly opposite method than this in mind when he wrote that "The best of all ways, to lengthen our days, is to take a few hours from the night, dear boy." Our modern mentor points out that the best way to stretch out our span of life, is a beautiful idea, and probably is a good one, if we adopt the bear system, but there seems to be some drawbacks under existing conditions. George says he is perfectly willing to do a lot of hibernating in the winter, provided there will always be someone around to keep the fire going, and administer some nourishment whenever he happens to wake up. He thinks it would be quite delightful to be able to sleep just as long as he wanted to, but has his doubts as to the lengthening of life in consequence. He wants to know how it is that the span of human life is increasing under present conditions. If hibernation is a contributing factor, and says he fancies this latest professor of hygiene is a little off the track. Which is not at all improbable.

The more we study and analyze the conditions of the times in which the great people of history lived, the more reason we find for some modification of our generally accepted judgments of them. It has been said that even Nero, who fiddled while Rome was burning, might emerge from a close analysis in a much better light than we are apt to grant him, and long ago I saw a defence of Caesar Borgia. Bible characters are by no means exempt, and it is claimed by many people that, in the case of Esau and Jacob, the usually accepted verdict should be reversed, and that our sympathies should be extended to the former. Certainly Esau's pathy should be extended to his crafty brother, and I have no doubt but that some of us have often derived a good deal of satisfaction from the recital of how Jacob was later on tricked by his wily father-in-law in his matrimonial affairs. We feel that the extra seven years' service he had to give before he got the woman of his choice was a sort of tit-for-tat for his shady treatment of his brother in earlier days. In that case the evidence is all before us, and we can form our own opinions. We can hardly claim the same position in the episode of Joseph, and it is likely that the immense popularity of the usually writer in "John O'London's" puts it that if reference were made to any respectable woman as a Jezabel, almost any jury of today would give the woman heavy damages for libel. Yet, the same writer points out that the story of Jezabel was doubtless written under the influence of local opinion of that day, and that a study of conditions reveals facts which are generally ignored. It is forgotten that "those were critical times in Palestine. Israel and Judah had broken away into separate states, and kings sat in-

SAPIRO WINS APPEAL IN NEWSPAPER LIBEL

Retrial of $100,000 Suit Is Ordered by Regina Court

Regina, May 4.—Retrial of the $100,000 libel action brought by Aaron Sapiro, United States lawyer, against the Leader Publishing Company of Regina and the Star Publishing Company of Saskatoon was ordered by the Court of Appeal in a judgment written by Mr. Justice Lamont and made unanimous by the concurrence of Chief Justice Haultain and Justices Martin, McKay and Turgeon.

Their lordship's judgment is a reversal of the judgment of Mr. Justice Macdonald that the plaintiff in the course of his action had failed to show that the articles published in the Leader in Regina, and the Star in Saskatoon referring to the plaintiff's conduct in connection with the formation of co-operative marketing associations in the United States were not published on a privileged occasion. By this finding Mr. Justice Macdonald brought the libel to an end with dramatic suddenness at the conclusion of the case for the plaintiff.

He found that in their articles giving details of Sapiro's alleged methods in organizing pools the defendant newspapers were fulfilling their proper functions in publishing all available information on a subject that was of vital interest to every one of their readers. With this opinion the Court of Appeal differs and allows the appeal of Sapiro with costs. The costs of the original action are to depend upon the results of the new trial.

BERNARD SHAW PLAY AT EMPRESS THEATRE

Bernard Shaw's witty comedy, "Pygmalion," as presented by the Players' Club of the University of British Columbia, has received very hearty endorsement from all sources. Vancouver critics are unanimous in praising this amusing story of the flower girl who wished to become a lady. In New Westminster and Nanaimo, the presentation was equally successful. In the former place, the Columbian remarked: "The presentation of 'Pygmalion' at the Edison Theatre last night proved to be the best yet of these pleasing annual affairs, and certainly the audience was not slow in marking its appreciation of the clever, finished manner in which the various characters were portrayed." The Nanaimo verdict was equally enthusiastic. "Patrons of 'Pygmalion' left the Dominion theatre last night convinced that no production was not only to date the Player Clubs most brilliant achievement, but the season's finest comedy. Each and every character was rightly interpreted, and in a manner that would grace a professional stage."

This genuinely entertaining comedy by England's most brilliant dramatist will be produced at the Empress, Pentiction, on the evening of Thursday, May 13th, at 8:15 p.m. sharp. Patrons may feel assured of a pleasurable evening's entertainment.

mon of the land becoming badly in need of water before it can be reached. This results from beginning to water too late. Considerable loss of fruit has occurred from early drought, and will continue to occur until earlier irrigation is practiced. The time to irrigate varies so much for different types of soil that the practice for each orchard or portion of an orchard becomes a problem in itself.

"Land upon which a heavy cover crop is established can be irrigated in the fall. Trees carrying heavy crops of fruit should be kept well irrigated up to picking time.

"When rapid growing trees reach the age at which they should begin fruiting they should be caused to grow slowly by easing up on the water supply, so as to influence the formation of fruit buds.

"The frequency in which water should be applied to orchard soils depends upon the amount they are capable of storing. With a coarse or shallow soil, the length of time it can maintain normal crop growth is somewhat less than for a soil having greater storage capacity. Many orchards require to be irrigated every week; others again can go for from ten days to three weeks. Where cover-crops are being grown in the orchard water should be applied at more frequent intervals.

"The conservation of soil moisture is greatly fostered by thorough cultivation. This is important, whether the soil is clean, or in such crops as alfalfa or vetch. The fertility of the soil has a marked influence upon the water requirements of the orchard, hence it is important for this reason, as well as that of adequate growth of the crops to keep the soil in a fertile condition. Not only does the water contained in fertile soils give better results on account of the heavier load of dissolved plant food material that it carries, but soils made rich by use of leguminous crops or other organic fertilizers are capable of holding much more water than similar soils in a depleted condition. To maintain a high state of fertility in the soil as a practice of water economy, and to create a uniform demand for water each year a rotation system for cover-cropping is very essential.

SHOULD NOT WATER LATE

John Tait Gives Some "Irrigation Pointers" to Local Growers

The most vital problem in connection with the fruit growing industry in the Okanagan Valley is that of proper irrigation. Mr. John Tait, district field inspector, has furnished The Review with an instructive article of timely interest, which contains many important "pointers" for local growers. Following is the article:

"The methods and practices involved in the irrigation of orchards in the Okanagan, where a wide range of soil and climate conditions exist, are continually undergoing changes and improvements.

"These changes all appear to be to the best interests of the fruit industry, as with each change has come better and more economical practices.

"When vetches, alfalfa, and other crops are seeded in orchards it must be with a realization that they require a liberal supply of moisture, and provision must be made to satisfy both the trees and the cover crop. To fail in this results in heavy loss of fruit and unsatisfactory growth of the cover crop.

"A common error in irrigating orchards is to make the first application of water too late in the spring. This frequently results in the dropping of much fruit; sometimes the most of the fruit falls soon after it is set. Drought frequently occurs between irrigations where improper care is exercised. Water should be applied before the soil begins to fall apart, after being pressed firmly together in the hand. Its falling apart indicates an insufficient quantity of water to hold the soil particles together, which in turn indicates a scarcity almost critical to plant growth. Since trees feed to a considerable depth, it is important to know that sufficient moisture is present at all times to the full depth of the roots.

"It is important to irrigate while the soil is yet moist, for then it takes the water more readily and more uniformly than when it becomes dry. The air in a dry soil gives way slowly to the entering water, thus rendering irrigation much slower than if there is moisture present.

"Three causes appear to influence the late use of water. Insufficient attention is paid to the condition of the soil to determine when water should be applied. The occurrence of light showers which do not materially influence the amount of soil moisture is often considered proof that irrigation is not necessary. Inadequate facilities for hastening the operation of irrigation, frequently result in a por-

SAFE FROM FLYING GOLF BALLS

If you're a regular at a crowded public golf course, you've probably often wanted to step out for your morning's round and like the gentleman at the right above—in a suit of armor!

And really, the idea is not a bad one at that. You could tell fellow golfers to "Just try and play through me" and the word "fore" wouldn't mean anything in your young life. Besides, think of the protection you would afford your anatomy against mis-aimed, flying balls coming from the tips of clumsily swung drivers.

But all kidding aside, this seems a naturally took place on the links of a fashionable country club out west. The steel-protected knight-golfer is Irving C. Franklin and his caddy is Mrs. J. T. Van Cleve.

SUMMERLAND DISTRICT MOURNS PASSING OF MUCH BELOVED PIONEER

Late Jeremiah R. Brown Succumber to Internal Injuries Sustained in Accident — Came to Summerland in 1903—Citizens Attend Funeral en Masse to Pay Last Respects to His Memory.

The entire district of Summerland is mourning the loss of one of its most prominent and best loved residents, in the person of Jeremiah Robert Brown, who passed away on Tuesday afternoon following serious internal injuries sustained in an unfortunate accident when he was struck in the abdomen by the handle of an axe. The late Mr. Brown would have observed his sixty-ninth birthday on October 24th of this year.

Tribute was paid to the memory of "J.R." by many friends and acquaintances, the funeral procession being probably the largest ever conducted in Summerland. Floral offerings were numerous and beautiful and testified the regard and esteem in which the deceased was held throughout the Okanagan Valley.

It is doubtful if there is one man in Summerland district who is more widely known, more highly regarded or more interested in the welfare of Summerland than was the late J. R. Brown, president of the Old Timers' Association. Nothing delighted him more than to attend the meetings of that body. During his twenty-three years residence in Summerland he always maintained a keen interest in the activities of the community, of which he was a pioneer, and was at all times an advocate of the advantages of Summerland as a settlement.

The late Mr. Brown was born at Carleton Place, Ontario, Canada as a youth of about twenty years, settling at Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan. He remained in that district as a prairie farmer for some twenty-two years. From thence he went directly to Summerland in 1903, working as a pioneer fruit rancher for a number of years at Trout Creek. Later he moved into the town of Summerland.

When Mr. Brown came to this district he was very sparsely settled indeed. He recognized, however, that fruit growing would in time become a very important industry, and before a very long period had elapsed new settlers would arrive in that section of the valley. His children and those of J. M. Robinson comprised practically one classroom during the first year of his residence here.

The deceased was a Summerland councillor for a number of years. He received the appointment of Indian agent for the district and acted in that capacity in a very capable manner. The Indians liked and respected him. During the years of his residence here, the late Mr. Brown was a member of the Lakeside Methodist church. He had no lodge affiliations.

ABUNDANT MUSICAL TALENT IN OKANAGAN, BELIEVES JAMIESON

Adjudicator at Festival at Kelowna Greatly Impressed With Showing—Standard of Performance Was Well Ordered—Losers Showed Themselves Good Sports.

(Special wire to The Review)
London, May 14.—Reports say four hundred killed in street fighting in Warsaw yesterday. Civil war in progress. Pilsudski captures Lodz.

Mr. R. Jamieson, musical critic of the Vancouver Province, and adjudicator of the Okanagan Valley Musical Festival held at Kelowna last week was very favorably impressed with the festival as a whole. His impressions, in part, as published in the Province, are as follows:

The orchard city was alive with music and the sole topic of conversation was the festival. Budding singers, instrumentalists, and elocutionists came from Penticton, Vernon, Endersby, Summerland, Peachland and other points, and it was obvious to the visitor that the musical competitive movement had taken firm hold on the harmony-loving folk of the valley.

It was a long, trying day for the young people, and that they came through the ordeal with credit cannot be denied. It is gratifying to be able to state that the festival was conducted without a cent of deficit, the secretary informing me that there would be a balance on the right side. This is a record for the festival movement, and one which will always stand to the credit of the Okanagan and its public-spirited people.

The festival proved conclusively that there is much vocal and instrumental talent in the Okanagan Valley. At the morning session, the main feature was the piano elementary events for class 10 (13 years and under), the test music being "Merry Peasant" and "Sicilian Air" from Schumann's "Scenes from Childhood." Twenty-two candidates took part in this contest, and excitement developed as the competitions progressed.

The standard of performance was on the whole fairly well ordered, and but for nervousness on the part of some of the less experienced performers, the results would no doubt have been different. An example of this was found in the case of Maureen Hamilton, a clever little Kelowna child, who played with exceptional technical clarity and artistic taste. She managed to secure first place in the markings in the morning, but unfortunately at the finals in the evening, owing to nervousness, she dropped back to concede premier place to George Mossop, a talented lad from Summerland.

A difference of two points separated the leaders and the audience gave the winners a rousing reception. Other features of the festival were the competitions for boys' solos, juvenile choirs and boy choirs. The friendliest rivalry was in evidence here. Hugo Swanson, a small chap from Penticton, captured first place, with another lad from Penticton taking second position. The test piece was the popular "Drink to Me Only," and for the little fellow it must be said that they gave a highly creditable account of themselves. It is a foregone conclusion that the boys in the Okanagan will be out in force next year to have another try for the honors in this event. The lads were on their best behavior, and as showing their sporting spirit, the losers gave the winners a reception that shook Scout Hall to its foundations.

More enthusiasm followed over the singing of the juvenile choirs for class 1 (nearly school age) (sixty voices), the contestants being Kelowna and Penticton choirs. First prize went to the Penticton choir, and again the sporting spirit was revealed when the losers rose to their feet and cheered the winners. The audience, too, joined in the demonstration, and it was apparent that the verdict was a popular one.

Kelowna is to be congratulated on the success of its first Okanagan Valley Musical Competition Festival. It has shown convincingly that the abundant talent in the valley and that the people in the Okanagan are alive to the value of music as a factor in the life of the community.

The success of the Okanagan festival will be gratifying to the B. C. Musical Festival, so ably sponsored by the Knights of Pythias. The influence of the B. C. festival as a matter of fact brought about the Okanagan festival and it is almost certain that festivals of a similar nature will spring up all over the province in the near future.

"One morn. I missed him from his customed hill." Such thoughts as these crowd in one's mind when we stand in the face of realization that Mr. J. R. Brown has passed from amongst us. Accompanying us we all have been to the large place he has occupied in the welfare of our community since its inception, to the radiating influence of that abounding, cheerful disposition, it is indeed difficult for us to reconcile ourselves to the irreparable loss thus sustained.

A heart that throbb'd with every generous and kindly impulse, a smile that disarm'd suspicion, and a laugh that captivated every one within reach of its sound. Of a truth he added much to the sum of human joy, and only those who knew him best will miss him most.

"Taking him all in all we shall not look upon his like again." "Large was his bounty, and his soul sincere."

"JUNK DAY" SUCCESSFUL

Sum of $67.00 Turned Over to Summerland Hospital

That the Junk Day recently conducted in Summerland was well worth while is evidenced by the fact that the committee of the Board of Trade in charge of the finances in connection with the event, were able to hand over $67.00 to the Summerland Hospital. The total amount realized clear of slight was $76.00, from which had to be deducted expenses of $9.00.

The committee were successful in getting the highest possible price. All the goods were sold to the very best advantage. Lack of tonnage was the only thing responsible for the sum realized not being much higher. Mr. R. Pollock was chairman of the committee.

PEACHLAND NEWS

By Our Resident Correspondent

Little Miss Sylvia Collier-Wright arrived in town last week, having just come over from England with a friend to join her mother and sister, who have been guests with Mrs. L. C. Miller for some weeks now.

The box-makers have started operations for the season at the Union warehouse, getting a goodly supply of boxes ready for the season's run.

Mrs. Baptist returned home last week from Summerland, where she had been spending a short time in the hospital.

The Rev. N. A. Harkness, of Vancouver, district secretary of the B. C. Auxiliary of the Canadian Bible Society, addressed a public meeting in the Baptist church on Thursday evening of last week. His subject was "The Romance of Translation, Publication and Distribution of Bibles" by the British and Foreign Bible Society. The expression "He was full of his subject" would be very fitting in speaking of this address and the speaker thrilled his hearers as they listened to the extremely interesting account of the work of this great society. After the address Mr. Harkness reorganized the local committee with the following result: Mr. Hogg, president; Mr. McCall, secretary, and Mr. Sadler, treasurer.

The weekly card games were played as usual in the G. W. V. A. Hall on Wednesday evening of last week.

Mr. H. Williams has just removed the boat houses recently acquired by him, which have been situated for several years on the beach at the end of Third street, and has set one of them on the beach at the end of Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornber of Kelowna were visitors in town last week, while passing through on a motor trip from Summerland.

Peachland clean-up day has not ceased as yet, judging from the improvements continuing. The painter has just commenced putting a new coat of paint on the municipal hall which when finished will be quite a fitting background for the new lawn and shade trees recently planted in front.

Mr. Thompson and son of Viking, Alberta, arrived in town last week, having motored through with their own car. They are spending a few days in this vicinity looking for a suitable place to settle.

Arthur White and Cecil Brown recently went down to Oliver, where they have taken employment. They motored down with George White who had come home for a few days visit with the folks here.

Tame roses are in bloom and wild strawberries ripe in Peachland, according to reports sent in for publication, and the children are starting to eat some of the cherries, but we would not suggest that these latter are by any means ripe.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodison and their two children have just arrived from England and are guests with Mr. Goodison's sisters, Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Crook. Providing they like the country and see anything suitable, they may become settlers.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Kelowna arrived with some household equipment on Monday evening's boat and are going to work in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. Trimble for the summer.

The Rev. T. A. Sadler left on Monday, intending to motor as far as Summerland, where he expected to leave his car, while he went by K.V.R. to Vancouver to attend the B.C. United Church Conference.

A dance was held in the G. W. V. A. hall on Friday evening of last week, the music being supplied by the Len Davis orchestra of Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Long returned home last week after a pleasant honeymoon spent at Coast points, and are now busily engaged getting settled in their new home.

Mrs. Taggart of Kelowna was among the visitors in town on Monday evening last, when she came to attend a meeting of the Peachland Lady Orange Benevolent Association. She returned home on Tuesday morning's boat.

After a pleasant visit in Peachland, a guest at the Edgewater Inn, Mrs. Johnston returned home to Vernon feeling quite improved in health as a result of her sojourn here.

Mr. and Mrs. Koler and daughter Minnie left on Tuesday morning, going by car to Summerland to catch the K.V.R. westbound for Vancouver. They expect shortly to sail for their former home in Hungary. They came to Peachland last fall from Alberta, to spend the winter months in the Okanagan on account of the ill health of Mrs. Koler, to give her the opportunity of picking up before starting the long journey home.

Word was phoned to Peachland on Tuesday of the death at Summerland of one of Summerland's oldest pioneers, in the person of Mr. J. R. Brown, well known to many in Peachland, who will sorrow with other mourners at the loss of a friend who at all times and under all circumstances was cheerful and a friend to all.

POLITICIANS TO BOOST FESTIVAL

Got Some Good Pointers at Kelowna Says Coast Writer

Even the politicians are becoming interested in the festival movement, writes R. Jamieson in the Province. J. W. Jones, M.L.A., for South Okanagan and W. A. McKenzie, M.L.A., for Similkameen, were on hand at the musical festival in Kelowna, he states, from early morning until late in the evening. Mr. Jones informed me, he writes, that he and his political friend picked up many pointers on the value of good diction in speaking and singing. The South Okanagan member, by the way, has been boosting the valley festival everywhere and as chairman of the final concert he roused the enthusiasm of the audience with his admitted conversion to the cause of music education and music appreciation among the masses. Mr. Jones stated that he considered the festival the finest community movement in the Dominion of Canada and that he would personally do all in his power to influence his political associates at Victoria to give their best support to the cause.

Mr. Jones added that he and Mr. McKenzie had derived considerable pleasure and benefit from the competitions and that the timely remarks of the festival adjudicator had provided them with much needed inspiration. His Worship Mayor D. W. Sutherland, who opened the festival, also spoke enthusiastically of the inauguration of the festival in the Okanagan, adding that he would do everything possible towards developing and encouraging the movement.

NEW LEGISLATION IN PROSPECT

Victoria, May 11.—If the provincial government accedes to the demands of British Columbia fruit-growers, as it is expected to do, legislation will be introduced at the next session of the legislature to make it illegal for fruit jobbers to operate brokerage firms. Such a measure would be designed to protect growers from the imposition of double commissions. The proposal is one of the results of the recent prosecution of the Nash fruit combine in the Vancouver courts.

The government, it is understood, is very sympathetic towards the proposal of the growers that their business be put on a new basis through the passage of further legislation. It is considered entirely probable that it will introduce legislation along the lines desired by the fruitmen. This would form part of a substantial programme of legislation in the last few years, all with the object of aiding the fruit industry.

Many fruitmen's organizations are considering marketing problems now with a view to representations on the subject to the provincial government. The B. C. Fruit Growers' Association is sponsoring the proposal that jobbers be prevented from operating brokerages, and this scheme also will be taken under advisement by the Canadian Council of Horticulture, which is interested in fruit-growers' problems as they affect Canada as a whole. Growers Asked to Support Movement The Keating Co-operative Fruit Exchange is sponsoring a province-wide movement in favor of a new investigation into the fruit industry like that conducted some time ago by Lewis Duncan, Dominion government investigator, whose work led up to the Nash prosecutions. The exchange is asking other growers' organizations to support it in a request to the provincial government for the appointment of a commission of one to carry out this inquiry immediately and recommend the necessary legislation to be passed at the next session of the legislature. The Saanich organization feels that Mr. Duncan's investigation accomplished useful results but that a further investigation is needed to determine what methods shall be used to prevent abuses in fruit marketing in the future.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects; conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement for agricultural purposes.
Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.
Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is not timber land, i.e., carrying over 5000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range, and 8000 feet per acre east of that range.
Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.
Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least two acres before a Crown Grant can be received.
For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE
Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land, $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

HOMESITE LEASES
Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES
For grazing and industrial purposes, areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.
GRAZING
Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued, based on number of head, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

What You Get For The Last $10

YES, there are lower-priced bicycles than the C. C. M., but the C. C. M. is by far the cheapest in the long run.

That last $10 you pay for a C. C. M. is the most important part of your purchase. It assures you—

- extra years of easy riding,
- extra reserve strength,
- extra durable finish,
- fewer repairs,
- a higher selling value for your "used" C. C. M.

For that last $10, you get, among other things—the smooth-running Triplex Hanger, a frame of English Seamless Tubing, reinforced at the joints, extra coats of rich, lustrous enamel, 20-year nickel-plate over copper, the classy Gibson Pedal with rustproof aluminum frame, the new improved Hercules Brake, a bicycle with everyone of its 1761 parts made with watch-like accuracy; a bicycle "trued up" at the factory.

And, remember, five years from now your "used" C. C. M. will easily bring $10 more than a five-year-old inferior machine—if the inferior machine has not already reached the scrap heap. You simply cannot lose by buying a C. C. M.

Visit the C. C. M. Dealer

The C. C. M. dealer will explain the extra value you get in the C. C. M. bicycle. C. C. M. bicycles are 90% made in Canada and 100% value. Investigate the easy payment plan that makes it easy to own a C. C. M.

SUMMERLAND'S LOSS

Summerland will not seem the same without J. R. Brown. During his twenty-three years residence in this district, the late Mr. Brown won the regard and esteem of each new settler. It is inconceivable that a newcomer could remain long in the district without becoming acquainted with "J. R." and his friendship was greatly prized.

It is among the old-timers of the district, however, that the presence of the late Mr. Brown will be missed most keenly. One more link with the past has been snapped. The Old-Timers' Association, in which Mr. Brown took such a keen interest, has lost its president and most prominent member.

Back in the old days Mr. J. R. Brown's children and those of J. M. Robinson comprised practically the total school population of Summerland, or more correctly, Trout Creek, which was the settlement in 1903. A pioneer fruit grower, working under difficulties which the fruit grower of today does not have to meet to the same extent, Mr. Brown showed courage and determination in no small degree.

A memorial service, quite properly, has been arranged for next Sunday. Summerland residents will welcome the opportunity to pay respect to the memory of one who was a "friend of all."

MONEY NOW AVAILABLE

Announcement that money is now in the hands of the district engineer for the purpose of placing men on the Peachland-Penticton road to take out some of the dangerous curves, will be hailed with pleasure by Summerland residents. Such action was urgently needed. In the present state of the roads accidents would be inevitable with heavy tourist traffic.

The Summerland Board of Trade has taken a firm attitude in regard to a rumor that the ferry between Westbank and Kelowna is to be privately operated—the boat to be built by the government and leased to some individual who would be allowed to purchase it in the future. The Board of Trade feels—as do the people of Summerland generally—that the ferry should be a government boat, run by a man appointed by the government on salary, with low rates for passengers and cargo.

It is to be hoped that work will be rushed on the highway, in order that it may be well on the way to completion before the very heavy tourist traffic commences. The Cariboo highway, it is announced, will be open to traffic in August. During the latter part of the summer and early fall, tourist traffic through Summerland will be increased to an extent, hardly as yet realized.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Summerland boys and girls, participants in the recent musical events at Kelowna, did exceedingly well. There is undoubtedly talent among our younger generation.

The radio inspector has come and gone. He no doubt removed much of the interference which had been bothering radio fans during the winter, but the demon summer static is becoming so pronounced these evenings that radio fans are just about as badly off as ever. There will no doubt, however, be many clear evenings to come and the absence of very pronounced interference will prove most welcome.

Former Days In This Community

MONTH OF MAY, 1910.

During the past two weeks the real estate market has been very active indeed and several large deals have gone through. Property to the value of $40,000 has changed hands, and the price per acre on most all the lots listed has been steadily advancing and several lots have been taken off altogether, the owners having no desire to sell. Summerland is healthy.

Miss Fordham, of London, England, a cousin of the Bentleys, of Crescent Beach, arrived in town this week. She is spending the summer in Summerland.

The batching bachelors have bunked from their quarters on Shaughnessy Avenue and are now dining in the house lately occupied by Mr. T. Washington opposite the drug store.

At the meeting of the school board on Monday last, Miss Ballantyne, of Garnett Valley, sent in her resignation, which same was accepted. The clerk was instructed to write her expressing the Board's regret and acknowledging her faithful service during the years she has been with them, the excellent work which she has done being highly appreciated by the Board.

Mr. Mallory, who has been in town for a week or two, has some very interesting reminiscences of this country forty-one years ago. He was one of the twelve who made up Frank Cunningham's prospecting party and they came down Okanagan Lake on a raft with two tons of provisions on board. They had a blanket for a sail and arrived at Penticton in two and a half days. T. Ellis had located there about twelve months previously—that is, in 1868.

Mr. C. N. Borton received quite a shock the other day—it was Monday—when he saw one of his chickens with four legs. He rubbed his eyes hard, but there it was, he couldn't get away from it. Whether the bird will live to a ripe old age and be the advance agent for a new tribe of quadrupeds, remains to be seen, but it is still alive and looks healthy.

The first shoot of the season over the long ranges took place on Saturday last. A tricky gust wind was responsible for low scoring. Following were the scores: J. Dunsdon, 45; H. Dunsdon, 44; O. Smith, 43; G. Gartrell, 40; A. E. Nelson, 40; B. Steuart, 40.

You may love some women all the time and all women some of the time, but you can't love all women all the time and live with one of them.

COMMENT FROM Provincial Press

MAKE THOSE PAY WHO CAN

(Vernon News)

The proposal now before the city council, to collect taxes by court judgment, if necessary, may be decided upon before the end of the current month. In the meantime, at the request of those who may not have made up their minds or are in opposition to the proposal, information is being sought elsewhere as to how the enforcement of similar legislation has worked out. Undoubtedly the proposal arises out of abuses. During the period of inflation many persons purchased property for speculation, and some of them found it on their hands when the period had passed. Confronted with the necessity of paying taxes for a period of years, possibly on property which was not revenue producing, the tendency has been to refuse or neglect to pay the taxes and to permit the lands to go up for tax sale as the easiest and cheapest way out. As a consequence, hundreds of thousands of parcels of land passed to the ownership of western Canada cities and towns.

Many of the persons who purchased property for speculation during periods of inflation were the most insistent on the corporation making new streets, laying sidewalks, and even sewers and water mains. Self-interest prompted the clamour for improvements which they loudly proclaimed they should receive because of their expressed willingness to pay for, and not because of actual need. So insistent were these demands by speculators that improvements were laid down that never should have been given serious consideration. When the period of inflation passed and these lands remained on their hands, many persons, though willing to retain their interests, were unable to do so. Others, unwilling to send good money after bad, ceased to pay taxes they had helped to pyramid and by relinquishing title to the property piled additional loads on the shoulders of those who had purchased their obligations to the corporation.

Services installed during boom days must be paid for, and a fair share of the increased load of taxation is due to be paid by those who are well able to pay.

Opposition to the proposals to enforce payment on the part of all those who are able to do so may arise from a variety of reasons. One is the natural hesitancy on the part of many people towards the adoption of new ideas. It may even be due to a fear that enforcement of such legislation may deter people from purchasing property. Or it may be because the decision as to who can and is therefore to be forced to pay, places discriminatory powers in the hands of individuals or groups, and that this power may be used as a club or for the benefit of friends.

A considerable amount may be said in support of either view, but opposition to the change, because it is new, is not well-founded. Change very often has meant progress. There can be no progress without change. Then some timid persons may be deterred from purchasing property through fear that they may not win through with their undertakings. Perhaps it is well for such timid souls that they be warned off, for they are liable to lose in whatever they undertake. But the fear that legislation will compel those to pay who can may work injustices, is the weakest argument of all. If this system is adopted, some injustices will be done but they will have to pile up in astonishing volume to even approximately equal the impositions that are now placed on the shoulders of those who have loyally held on, paid their share of the bills, and another portion that has been added through the evasion of their obligation by those who voluntarily let their property go to tax sale.

Surely western Canadians have had enough experience with speculators not to want any more, or to knowingly permit inflation of values, to serve their selfish ends. No man who has sound reason for considering the purchase of property will be frightened off by the prospect, in the event of failure, of being forced to pay to the extent of his ability. Other covenants are thus enforced. Why then should this community suffer the continuance of a system which permits the speculator to unload a portion of the debt he helps to create on other shoulders if he decides it is cheaper to take his loss? Others must pay more because of his voluntary default.

Passage of legislation, enabling the city to collect from all those able to pay, unless clearly shown by the experience of other municipalities to be unworkable, looks like a measure of protection to which the more conscientious property owners are entitled.

It's a poor kind of rooster that doesn't want to crow about something some time.

The coming out parties of the girls are about the same as ever but the dear things come out a little further.

Through the "Russian Cathedral Choir," the Chautauqua will present truly magnificent music—liturgical, operatic, folk songs. Every member of choir an artist. Picturesque, colorful native costumes. The musical event of the year!

's Great! KS - BC BUSINESS Harrison Hot Springs Yield is High Prospects Good. By HOWARD T. MITCHELL. IN ITS issue of 2250 preferred shares the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel Company seems to have been almost unnecessarily generous. It is not surprising that the response to the offering is good and that the company is getting what it sought—wide distribution of its shares. Not only do the shares carry 8 per cent interest and a bonus of two common shares of $10 par value with each cumulative preference share of $100 par, but holders of preferred stock will participate in surplus profit after 8 per cent has been paid on the common stock. Promoters of the company have taken common stock in return for the money they have spent in rebuilding the resort. Thus they will not profit on their investment until preference shareholders have been paid 8 per cent on their investment. The offering seems highly attractive, for it is nearly a foregone conclusion that the hotel will be unable to meet the demands that will be made upon it for accommodation. It is another Bonif, Jasper or Lake Louise within a few hours of Vancouver. Calgary Oils.

PAID TRIBUTE TO DEPARTED

A congregation which filled Lakeside United Church to capacity paid tribute to the memory of the late J. R. Brown at a public memorial service conducted on Sunday last.

Rev. Mr. Wilson reviewed the life story of the late Mr. Brown, referring to him as a faithful husband and loving father.

A SUGGESTION. The recent fire in the Lower Town again draws the attention of Summerland residents to the advisability of forming a volunteer fire department.

It has been suggested that the offices of police constable and fire chief be combined, a suitable remuneration to be given the man holding the dual office.

It is not so much as a director of operations at an actual fire that a responsible man is needed—everything humanly possible was done to extinguish the last fire—but a man who would be responsible for keeping the fire equipment in shape.

BIG CROP AHEAD. The mild winter and early spring in this section of the Okanagan will probably result in one of the earliest fruit crops on record.

The period is brief now until the fateful passing of the first of June, when the danger of frost will be practically removed and orchardists will have little to worry about save the picking of a bountiful crop.

EDITORIAL NOTES. About the only way to save the old College buildings from being entirely wrecked, is to place a barbed wire enclosure around the buildings.

Judging from advance notices, a very high class of entertainment will be given by Chautauqua performers upon their visit to Summerland next week.

Mutual brokers will spend at least one day in jail and pay a fine of $25,000 each. They will not receive a great deal of sympathy from Okanagan fruit growers.

Many Summerland residents will visit Kamloops or Oliver on the 24th. In both centres splendid programs have been arranged, Rontember, June 3rd is Summerland's day.

INTERIOR FRUIT CROP PROSPECTS VERY PROMISING

All Tree and Ground Crops Came Through Winter in Good Shape

VERNON HAS SERIOUS PESTS

"Blister Mite" and "Leaf Roller" Found in Many Northern Orchards

The weekly news letter of the Provincial Department of Agriculture office at Vernon, under date of May 14th, contains the following survey of crop conditions:

Salmon Arm and Main Line: Apples and pears in the Salmon Arm, Sorrento and Main Line points promise a heavy crop.

The Martin Erwin Players, who will present the Chautauqua play, "Cappy Rick's." A comedy delight—the play that has made millions laugh—adapted from Peter B. Kyne's stories in the Saturday Evening Post.

applied very generally at the present time. Raspberries are very promising on the whole and other small fruits look exceedingly well.

Vegetable crops are doing fairly well. The potato acreage will be larger than usual.

Cut worms have been very troublesome this spring. Rhubarb is being shipped in carload quantities from Salmon Arm.

After the mildest weather conditions during the past winter for a considerable number of years all trees and ground crops came through in excellent shape.

Our pest problems are going to cause considerable worry this year as Blister Mite is very prevalent in many orchards and Leaf Roller is also serious in some places.

In the tree fruits sweet cherries and apricots are at the stoning stage, and with no mishap through this period promise a good crop.

Pears and crabapples this year promise a full crop and this applies to all other apples with the exception of Duchesse and Wealthy, which are generally not heavy over the whole district.

To date no definite survey of ground crops has been made, but speaking in general terms there will be approximately the same acreage in the major vegetables that were in in 1925.

Grain, alfalfa and hay fields look excellent and give promise of some wonderful crops with present weather conditions.

The calyx spray for codling moth has been completed in the Okanagan Kelowna section of the Vernon district.

This spring is about ten days earlier than last year and growing conditions are excellent. Fruits of all kinds show a promise of an excellent crop.

The vegetable acreage has increased there being a much larger acreage of onions than last year. Tomatoes, plants are being set out in the field and most of the acreage will be planted in a few days.

Leaf Roller on apples is not so much in evidence as usual. Cut worms and wire worms are numerous and are taking their toll of field and vegetable crops.

The 1926 spring will be noted as the earliest for many years. Apricots were in full bloom on the 1st of April, cherries, peaches and early plums by the 13th, and pears by the 18th.

The spraying has been dry with variable weather conditions and irrigation water was applied in good time in many orchards.

Early vegetable plantings will be as large as last year with most of the plants set in the fields now.

The season is well advanced in all sections, and is about two weeks ahead of last year. Weather was unusually dry and warm in April which brought growth on very quickly.

The sweet cherry crop is looking good. The bloom is very heavy and the not appears to be above the average. Indications are that this crop will be 20 per cent better than last year.

There has been a very heavy planting of young sweet cherry trees this spring in many sections. Pears had a very heavy bloom and the crop should be a heavy one.

Plums and prunes are showing above the average crop. Peaches are very heavy in the Lower Arrow Lakes, however the acreage is very small and the tonnage will not be large.

On present showing the apple crop will be about 20 per cent larger than last year.

Much discussion regarding the origin of the strenuous dance called the Charleston has been going on for some time. After reading upon the subject to some extent, we are inclined to accept the following version:

It happened on a South Carolina farm not far from Charleston. The farmer, armed with a pitchfork, and accompanied by a hound dog, caught a young negro in his chicken coop.

The next time you see the Charleston dance, watch the movements closely and you will probably conclude that it could be evolved in no other manner.

These initials stand for the name of an organization known as The Industrial Christian Fellowship, whose stated objects include the promotion of Christian principles in the settlement of industrial affairs.

THAT SMOKE SCREEN overhanging pall of smoke which brings down soot by the ton whenever a fog thickens proper to spread its gloomy mantle, and, if all reports are true, not very much improvement is as yet noticeable.

Early potatoes are well up and making fine growth. Main crop is just being planted.

Moisture conditions are good and all crops should mature early as the season is early and seeding was done very generally and under congenial conditions are liable to cause considerable worry before the season is far advanced.

Following an unusually mild winter with a plentiful snow-fall and no frost in the ground, soil moisture conditions this spring were almost ideal.

All tree fruits showed an unusually profuse bloom. The period of blossoming was very short, and indications are for a heavy crop.

Stone fruits will be very light this year. All small fruits look exceptionally well and give promise of an abundant yield.

Field crops are in fine shape this spring. Alfalfa fields are in splendid condition.

Potato planting is very nearly finished and a considerable acreage is devoted to this crop.

The winter of 25-26 was the mildest experienced in this district for many years and no winter injury has been reported.

The bloom was very heavy and a good set is widely anticipated. The majority of the trees look healthy and are leafing out rapidly.

Cherries should be a normal crop this year. Pears will be light. Plums, Raspberries look well where they received irrigation last summer, but the growth of cane was short on the clay and drier situations, and the yield will depend upon the amount of rain we get between now and harvest.

Rhubarb and asparagus are moving freely. Tomato planting will soon be in full swing and the early plants are already out.

HOW IT STARTED. Much discussion regarding the origin of the strenuous dance called the Charleston has been going on for some time.

It happened on a South Carolina farm not far from Charleston. The farmer, armed with a pitchfork, and accompanied by a hound dog, caught a young negro in his chicken coop.

The next time you see the Charleston dance, watch the movements closely and you will probably conclude that it could be evolved in no other manner.

our individual dwellings with considerable amusement, tempered perhaps with a certain amount of sympathy. They will have the necessary heat supplied by electricity, just as we have our light, and most of our coal will be consumed in central plants from which the current will be distributed.

If we are to accept the conclusions of certain of our scientists concerning the ultra-violet light, which is invisible but potent, those who come after us will certainly be healthier in direct ratio to the abolition of smoke from the atmosphere of our towns and cities.

Smoke arrests it in its passage to the earth, from which we can gather that a smoke-laden air is considerably more than a mere nuisance.

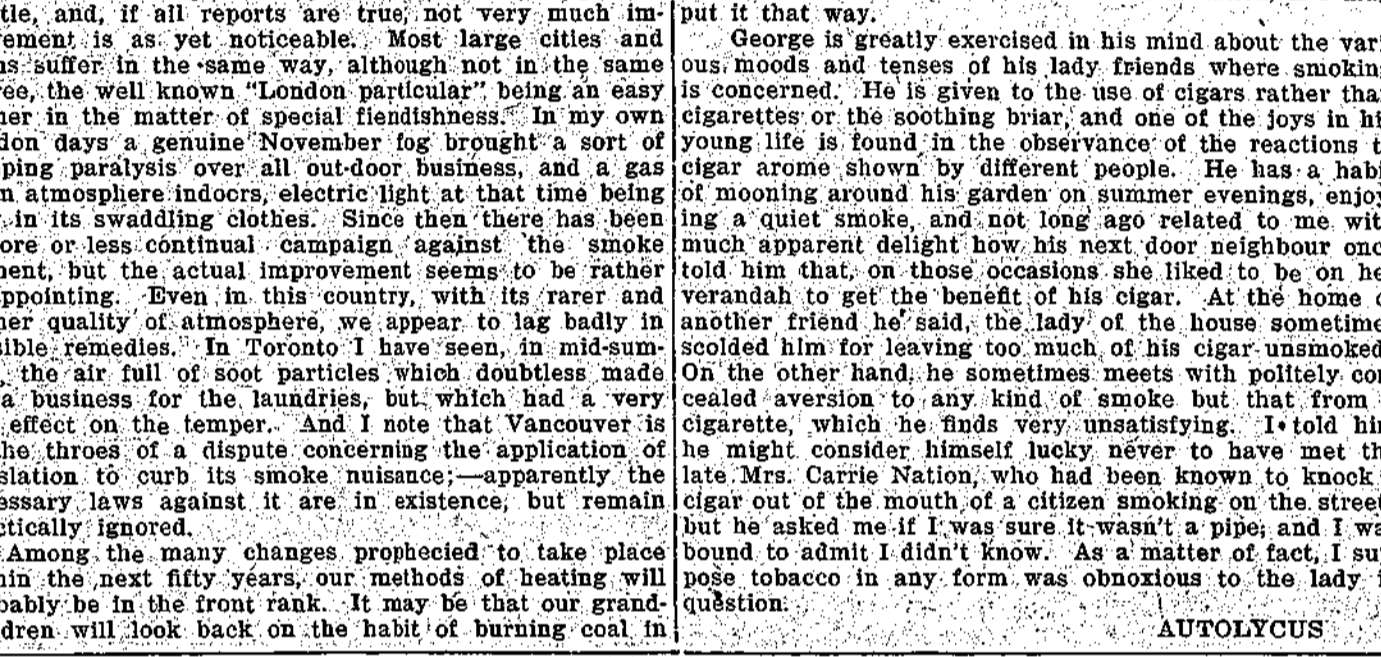

Mankind is generally debited with a very dull sense of smell when compared with that possessed by most of the animal creation, and this is probably true, but it is also true that there is a distinct connection between early years by the scent of a certain flower — for my own part I never smell wall-flowers or lilac without seeing in my mind's eye a garden which I have lost these fifty years and more.

George is greatly exercised in his mind about the various moods and tenses of his lady friends where smoking is concerned. He is given to the use of cigars rather than cigarettes or the soothing briar, and one of the joys in his young life is found in the observance of the reactions to cigar aroma shown by different people.

Among the many changes prophesied to take place within the next fifty years, our methods of heating will probably be in the front rank.

BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY AT CROWNING OF MAY QUEEN

Annual May Day Celebration is Conducted at Naramata—May Queen Was Rhoda Crgill—Races and Sports Conducted With Splendid Dance in the Evening—Under Auspices of Women's Institute

(Contributed) Tomorrow wake me early, wake me early, Mother dear, Tomorrow will be the happiest day in all the glad New Year.

So sang the great Alfred about 1842, producing the same year, "Lockesley Hall" and "Morrie d'Arthur."

Yes, our Alfred wrote some fine poetry, heavenly poetry, aesthetic maidens called it. He gave us Arthur and his round table companions, those noble knights, sans peur et sans reproche, who went forth in quest of the Holy Grail, that pure and most beautiful of all legends.

He was a fine man, was Alfred Tennyson, a man of commanding presence and personality. He led a pure life and was greatly respected and beloved by all. Queen Victoria, who was a good judge of men and woman, had great regard for him, called him her dear friend.

But I am side-tracking from what I want to say today, namely that yesterday, the 20th, we had here our annual May Day celebration. It turned out a great success. It was a perfect day. Mr. J. M. Robinson led us have the grounds near the old regatta stand, i.e., south of the hotel. It is a lovely bit of ground—under the trees, near the clubhouse—such as it is difficult to find anywhere else around the Okanagan Lake.

At 2:30 to 3 p.m. the ladies in charge made their appearance, getting ready for the children, who came at 3:30 when school was over. Well they had to dress and trim up, which took time. An orchestra was there, which struck up as the head of the procession came in sight.

First came the band (Lois Walters) with trumpet, and in tabard and full regalia. Then came six of the bonniest bright-eyed little girls who could see. They were dressed in white and decorated with garlands and flowers.

Next followed the Queen (Rhoda Cargill), attended by two maids of honor (Margaret Nuttall and Doris Hawk). The Queen's train was carried by two pages dressed in sky-blue and silver (Catherine Aikins and Agnes Armour).

Behind the Queen came John Bull, got up in orthodox fashion—high hat, black stock, with the Union Jack as waistcoat, and wearing top-hat. With him walked "Canada" (William Brown). John Bull represented John Bull, John Bull represented John Bull.

WALK-OVER FOR LOCALS

Summerland Team Defeats Pentiction by 20 to 1 Score

After a succession of reverses in basketball all winter the young sportsmen of Summerland finally came into their own last night when the baseball team gave the Pentiction boys one of the worst trimmings in the history of Okanagan baseball, at Pentiction.

The local team played real ball from first to last and clearly proved their superiority over Pentiction, who pulled boners, errors and everything known in the game. Warren Gayton, on the mound for the locals, was practically invincible, and with the support which he enjoyed from first to last the locals easily ran away with the game.

The game was fairly close up to the fourth inning, with Summerland enjoying a one-run lead, but a score in the first three innings gave over to the fourth and game in the fifth. The eighth was scoreless, but in the seventh the local boys went wild and counted the assorted offerings of Broderick and Parmley for twelve runs. In the final and eighth innings three more came in, to make an even score. Pentiction's lone counter came in the fifth.

WAR FILMS TO BE SHOWN

Dominion G.W.V.A. to Give Public Showing Here Sunday

An event of interest to all citizens is the arrival in Summerland on Sunday of C. G. McNeil, Dominion secretary of the G.W.V.A.

Mr. McNeil is one of the prominent war veterans in Canada, it having been through him that the adjustments of soldiers and widows pensions, etc., have been adjusted with the government.

By name he is known to every returned man and the announcement that he will lecture in the school auditorium will be welcomed with enthusiasm. Mr. McNeil brings with him a film entitled "Canadians in Action," which chronicles many of the thrilling actions of the Canadians while overseas and illustrates their post-war re-establishment. The motion pictures in the main were taken under shell fire, and form one of the most remarkable of the Canadian records of the war.

The public is cordially invited to the lecture and showing of the motion pictures on Sunday afternoon, a silver collection only being taken up to defray expenses.

Local Fishermen Had Day's Fishing Spoiled

The sun was shining brightly, birds were singing in the trees. The winding stream, with a background of low hills, trickled merrily along. All was well with the world.

Three Summerland men were enjoying life immensely. The long Sunday afternoon could not have been spent more pleasantly. What better occupation than fishing under such ideal conditions—and, best of all, the fish were biting.

But there is always a serpent in the Garden of Eden. In this case it proved to be a fishery inspector. He rudely disturbed the peaceful frame of mind of the fishermen when he happened along just as they were admiring their catch of trout. Informing them that trout were not to be caught in creeks at this time of year, the now dispirited fishermen were warned to appear in court the following day.

Magistrate Coulter White fined each of the Summerland residents five dollars and costs, with a warning.

These trout which still had a "kick" left in them were thrown back into the stream. One solitary trout was kept as evidence and had an honored place in the court room during the examining of the luckless fishermen.

CHAUTAQUA PLEASES ALL

Excellent Programme Is Offered by Talented Artists

JUNIOR CHAUTAUQUA WAS FORMED HERE

Russian Cathedral Choir Proved a Wonderful Treat

Appreciative audiences have greeted Chautauqua entertainers this week and many favorable comments have been heard regarding the excellence of the programmes provided. Empire Hall has been well filled upon each afternoon and evening, the response declared to be highly gratifying to the local committee and the Chautauqua organizer, Mr. Wells.

Rather a new departure for Summerland was the formation of a Junior Chautauqua here. The boys and girls enjoyed themselves immensely. Under the supervision of the organizer, a dress parade was conducted and a "peanut hunt" provided which delighted the youngsters. A large bag of peanuts was emptied in the lot west The Review office and the scramble which resulted proved not only amusing to the children but to many spectators as well.

The gem of the program this year was undoubtedly the "Russian Cathedral Choir." Scolded, indeed, no Summerland residents have the opportunity to hear really first class grand opera at home and last night's entertainment was to be remembered with pleasure for long to come.

Who could remain unmoved as the talented Russians rendered their wonderful Russian folk songs, including the famous "Song of the Volga Boatmen." They proved their voracity by an admirable rendition of the famous sextette from Lelch Di Lammor-rond. This gem of Grand Opera was rendered with marvellous effect. One of the artists also rendered with skill another gem of folk songs, the "Toreador Song" from Carmen, which was received with enthusiasm.

One of the features of the night's entertainment was the queer introduction made to each selection by one of the Russians. In stumbling English he managed to explain each selection very vividly. The only member of the party unable to speak English, even in some degree, was the mezzo soprano.

John Duxbury, England's famous dramatic tenor, delighted his audience. It would be difficult to choose one selection which pleased the audience more than another, though possibly Poe's "The Bell" was most familiar. It is a recorded fact that Mr. Duxbury delivers annually a greater number of recitals than any other artist in the United Kingdom.

Lenka's famous orchestra presented a happy combination of personality and musicianship with a proper blend of clarity and merit. The orchestra proved exceedingly popular.

COMMUNITY HALL FOR O. K. FALLS

Women's Institute Receive Title For Lots of Proposed Building

A very successful meeting of the Okanagan Falls Women's Institute was held at Mrs. Wood's house on May 19th. Twenty members were present and six visitors.

The members had the pleasure of receiving the Certificate of Indefinite Title for the two lots on the south shore of Skaha Lake for the proposed Community Hall.

It was a great pleasure to all present to welcome Mrs. J. B. Fraser, the mother of Major Fraser, who had always endeared herself to all present by the many thoughtful and kindly gifts which she has made from time to time to the Institute and children.

Many questions were asked, showing that those present realized what a boon it would be for a district like the Falls to have the services of such a highly qualified Victorian Order Nurse.

Interval. Part two: Piano solo, "Santa Claus March," by Orville Williamson; song, "The Old Side Car," Mr. Martin; piano solo, "Flower Song," Miss Mary Sadler; song, "The First Violet," Mrs. Elliott; piano solo, "Le Yet D'au," by Miss Edna Cudmore; song, "Daddy," Miss Frances Clements; violin solo, "Chinese Serenade," Mr. Cooper, accompanied by Miss Goldham; song, "Today," Mrs. Follett; piano solo, "In a Monastery Garden," Miss Wylia Elliott. At the interval Mrs. Martin, assisted by some friends, served ice cream, cake and cookies. Ten dollars of the proceeds was donated to the Veterans.

The Rev. T. A. Sadler returned home on Wednesday morning after a week spent at Vancouver in attendance at the Union Church Conference which was held there.

Miss Margaret Burch of Kelowna was among the visitors during the last week, spending several days here with her mother. She returned home on Tuesday morning.

We omitted last week to get the particulars of a baseball game played on the Peachland diamond between the Westbank and Peachland junior teams. The visiting team was rather unfortunate in not being able to get all their players rounded up for the occasion and not to disappoint the Peachlanders, who had made all preparations for the game, came down anyway and got volunteers enough from the bleachers to fill up their vacancies. Whether the substitutes could in any wise compare favorably with the Westbank regulars we are not informed, no reasons being given, but the Peachland team had the game pretty much their own way and a rather lopsided victory was the result. The visitors put up some good play however, and showed themselves sports by being good losers. On Saturday last the Peachland team motored to Westbank by truck for the return game. Unfortunately the same condition prevailed in that the Westbank team was not complete and some of the boys who accompanied the players filed out of the opposing team. This was a move even match, or at least the results were such as the tally at the finish read 10 to 9 in favor of Peachland. One of the substitutes playing for Westbank on this occasion, Gerald Elliott, hit a three-bagger.

Mr. Thompson, who recently came in by car from Viking, Alta., to look over some properties, was quite a let later to return to the prairie. He had not definitely decided on anything locally before he left, but he left his car here and his young son Earl has accepted a position and is engaged with Mr. and Mrs. Stephens in their bakery business and store.

The municipal hall stands out quite prominently now among the front street buildings and looks quite improved in its new coat of paint, body white and grey trimmings. The lawn grass which was recently planted is coming on now and will soon form a green blanket in the front grounds of the hall.

The dance which was gotten up by the baseball club and held in the G. W. V. A. hall recently was quite a success. There was a good average turnout and all had a good time. The music was supplied by the baseball orchestra which consisted of the following instruments: Piano, drums, violin, banjo, accordion and mandolin. The net proceeds, which amounted to approximately thirty dollars, goes to increase the funds of the club.

NARAMATA

Mrs. F. T. Williams returned home on Thursday evening from an extended trip to the east.

Leslie Smith and Bert Partridge are away at Beaverdell, where they are doing development work on the Partridge claims there.

Mrs. Myers and Miss Alice Myers are home from the coast. Miss Myers expects to spend the summer here.

The May Day festivities were favored with fine weather and attracted a large attendance. Further details are contributed in another column.

OROVILLE WINS KEREMEOS GAME

Three Close Games at May 24th Tournament—Forbes Pitches for Pentiction

The three games in the KeremEOS ball tournament on the 24th were among the best that have been played in the south part of the valley for some seasons. All three games were close and interesting and with plenty of rooters on hand from each of the centers represented in the tournament, excitement ran high.

The first game in the morning between KeremEOS and Oroville resulted in a tie, 3 to 3. An American after a hard, closely contested game.

Pentiction Wing First The other preliminary game between Pentiction and Summerland, old time rivals in baseball, was a real thriller from start to finish. With Warren Gayton pitching for Summerland they showed real strength and fought for the game from first to last.

Summerland secured a run in the first when Vanderburgh made the circuit, coming in on Gayton's hit. Mel-drum, O'Connell and Phinney went out in order for Pentiction. Calloway, Johnston and Gould were turned back by Ritchie at the start of the second. For Pentiction Ritchie got on but went out at third; Parmley hit for two bases, was advanced by Mahoney and came in on Thomas' hit. Both the latter went out going second. Snow and Vanderburgh brought in the remaining runs in the third and from then on Summerland batters were down in order before the steady pitching of Ritchie. Johnston was the only batter to reach first which he did in the seventh, but went out on the path. Phinney made his second run in the 4th coming in on Mahoney's hit. Mel-drum advanced as far as third in the 5th but was left stranded when two other runners went out. Phinney made his third run of the game in the sixth and tied the count at three all, while Thomas brought in the winning run in the seventh, coming in on a hit by Nesbitt.

Both teams played splendid ball and supported the pitching well. Ritchie turned back an even dozen batters in the seven frames by the R.O. route, while Gayton retired seven. Gayton was responsible for the only bases on balls of the contest. Phinney made three hits and the same number of runs in his three trips to the slaughter. He was lining them out all through the game. Mahoney of the Winter Garden was tried at first and made a thorough job of it until he injured his hand and was forced to leave the game.

The line-ups were: Pentiction: Goldrum, r. f. O'Connell, c. Forbes, ss. Ritchie, p. Phinney, 3b.

Mahoney 1b, Thomas of, Nesbitt 1f, Parmley 2b, Beatty 1b.

Summerland: Vanderburgh of, Adams 1f, Britteney 2b, Gayton p, Nicholson ss, Calloway 3b, Johnston c, Gould, McAlpine 1b, Snow 1r.

Final Game Real Battle

The final game for the tournament championship brought together Pentiction and Oroville for the fifth time this season and proved the best contest which has been played for some moons. While errors cropped up frequently the class of ball was higher and the battle provided more thrills per inning than any previous contest between the two squads.

The struggle raged eleven innings before Oroville finally brought over the winning counters which gave them the first money. The game marked the first appearance of Forbes on the mound for the locals. He hurled excellent ball, although inclined to be wild at times. Considering that he has done little in the chugging line for nearly year his lapses in control were excusable. He took Ritchie's place on the mound after the first inning and from then on his assortment of curves and speed kept the southern team on the run. He struck out twelve batters, hit two and walked a couple more.

Callahan for Oroville was in his usual brilliant form and kept the hits scattered. He struck out ten and walked two. Outside of the seventh inning he was in very little trouble. Oroville certainly made a real find when they picked Callahan up and so far it looks as if he will keep his team out of the league or thereabouts single-handed.

Kernan, up first for the United States team, struck out. Callahan hit safely, took second and third on following plays, but was left on the tracks when Sartain went out at second and Gerde died at the plate. Mel-drum, O'Connell and Forbes were set back in order for the locals.

Bains hit safely, was advanced while Peterson and Ferguson were striking out, and came home on a hit by Crabtree. Kernan went out for number three. Broderick went out. Phinney got on but went out at third. Beatty hit safely and was left when Thomas went out.

Callahan went out. Sartain made the circuit, Baines went out and Gerde, who reached first safely, died trying to purloin second. Nesbitt hit safely for Pentiction but Parmley, Mel-drum and O'Connell died.

Oroville failed to score, although Bains reached third on a hit and stolen bases. Pentiction failed to counter. The fifth and sixth innings drifted by without a run, although both teams had runners on bases.

The seventh was Pentiction's big inning, three runs coming over to give Pentiction the lead. Phinney, Beatty and Thomas made the rounds, while Nesbitt and Parmley went out on bases. Gerde tied the score in the first half of the eighth and it remained thus knotted until the eleventh when the locals weakened to allow Oroville a win. Forbes, who had hurled splendidly until the last canto, hit two batters, the third walked and filled the paths. Kernan went out and Peterson went out at home. Callahan won his game by hitting safely to score. Ferguson and Crabtree and both Callahan and Sartain came home on Baines hit to make the game certain at 7-4. Thomas reached first for Pentiction after Broderick and Phinney had gone out, but was left there when

Nesbitt also took the count. The line-ups were:

Oroville: Kernan 2b, Callahan p, Sartain 1b, Baines c, Gerde ss, Bains 3b, Peterson of, Ferguson 1f, Crabtree 1r.

MUCH PLANTING HAS BEEN DONE

Many More McIntosh Apple Trees in the Valley Being Planted

BLOSSOMING TIME WAS ADVERSE HERE

Crop Will Be Heavy, But Not as Heavy as First Anticipated

The weekly news letter of the provincial department of horticulture, regarding fruit conditions in the Okanagan, states as follows: After a general inspection of the Okanagan district the following conditions might be noted at this date:

Apples and pears are generally well loaded. The drop will be fairly heavy in some sections due to the rather cool, unfavorable weather during the setting period. Much thinning will, however, be necessary in all sections in order to ensure size and quality. In the Salmon Arm and Armstrong non-irrigated districts there is considerable tree injury, mostly the root form; some trees are dead and many very weak, which will cut down the yield. At Vernon there are some trees of certain tender varieties which have gone back, but the remainder are in good health and fair vigor. At Kelowna trees are in splendid health and the crop should be good. Farther south the trees are all in good condition and the crop will be a fair one. This is only natural after the heavy crop of last year. In the well fertilized and cared for orchards the crop will again be heavy.

There has been considerable new planting done in all sections of the valley in apples and pears. McIntosh has been the variety most heavily planted in the north and pears have been planted fairly generally but heavier in the southern end.

All trees are very free from pests with the exception of the Blister Mite where the dormant spray of lime sulphur was not used to combat it. Stone fruits will be a heavy crop all through the valley, winter conditions having been very favorable. In the southern end of the valley apricots are very heavy. Peaches are showing a fair set and cherries are good on the whole, although a bit patchy, due to spring frost injury.

Small fruits grown principally in the northern end of the valley are in excellent shape for a bumper crop.

Vegetable Crop The majority of the creeks have fallen extremely low for this season and in some sections storage water is already being drawn upon. It is hoped that the reservoirs will continue to hold up better this year than others, on account of the slow "run-off" due to the ground not having been frozen last winter. It is felt that a great deal will depend on our summer rainfall this year as to whether or not there will be sufficient irrigation water to excellent for transplanting. Potatoes have been planted very heavily at Vernon, Armstrong and particularly along the new Canadian National line to Kamloops and at points on the main line of the C.P.R.

Cut worms have been the most serious pest this year.

Field Crops There has been large seedings of grain in the Kelowna and Vernon sections due to the favorable fall and spring conditions and the crops never looked better. The early seeding and the many heavy rains have brought these crops along in great shape. Considerable anxiety is being felt in respect to injury from grasshoppers in the Vernon and Armstrong sections. Alfalfa is outstandingly good everywhere. Cutting will be earlier than last year. Timothy and clover is also starting to show recovery now and should be a good crop where irrigation is available. In the non-irrigated sections much will depend upon the later rains. Grasshoppers and crickets are very bad again in the Vernon and Livingston sections and are also bad around Armstrong.

The importance of intensive cultivation has been emphasized at various public meetings in Summerland and elsewhere throughout the Okanagan Valley of late. The results being achieved in the Wenatchee Valley in this regard are remarkable, according to a circular received by The Review, headed "What's the Matter with the Apple Business in Washington?" The American growers are firm believers in the value of cover crops, and even in cases where the growers keep cows, hay is often purchased rather than use the alfalfa grown in the orchards. Following are the claims made, which should prove interesting to growers in the district: (It should be taken into consideration that the crop on which the reports are made was a record one).

Mr. Arthur Campbell, Manson, Wash., on Lake Chelan:
 I have 20 acres bearing apples. I harvested in 1924, 20,400 boxes of apples. My total gross receipts were $30,500; my net receipts were $12,140.00.

Mr. C. W. Ostrom, Manson, Wash., on Lake Chelan:
 I have 20 acres in bearing apple trees. I harvested in 1924, 12,500 boxes of apples. My gross receipts were $24,900. My net receipts were $12,000.

Mr. H. L. Childs, Manson, Wash., on Lake Chelan:
 I have 10 acres in bearing apples. Varieties: Delicious, Winesaps, Rome Beauties. My gross crop was 8,153 packed boxes. My gross receipts were $15,800.00. My net profit was $8,800.00.

Mr. P. A. Campbell, Manson, Wash., on Lake Chelan:
 I have two acres of apple trees, from five to nine years old. I harvested and sold $2771 worth of apples in 1924.

Richardson & Walker, Manson, Wash., on Lake Chelan:
 We have 5 1/2 acres of apples—we packed 4554 boxes of apples in 1924, sold them for $8,222. Net profit was $3450.

Thomas Sigurdson, Manson, Wash., on Lake Chelan:
 I have 3 1/2 acres in bearing apple trees 11 years old. I have four varieties, as follows: Delicious, Stayman, Romos and Jons. Our gross crop for 1924 was 4500 boxes, for which we received $8,700. Our net profit was $6,000.

Mr. Fred Burrows, Manson, Wash., on Lake Chelan:
 I have 9 1/2 acres in full bearing apples, 18 years old. Our crop in 1924 was 13,400 boxes. Gross receipts were $28,000. Net receipts were $14,000.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Roman Catholics in Summerland are to be congratulated upon their determination to build a church for members of that denomination in the district. Such a building is badly needed.

The general excellence of the Chautauqua entertainment this year is making it an easy matter for the canvassers to arrange the contract for next year.

Former Days In This Community

SUMMERLAND, JUNE 1910

An affair of a special and wide-spread interest in the community was solemnized on Monday last at St. Stephen's church when Mr. Frederick J. Nixon, accountant for the Summerland municipality, was joined in wedlock to Miss Christina Tait. Both of the contracting parties are extremely popular in the neighborhood, and this was evidenced by the large number of people assembled at the church and remained throughout the ceremony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Solty.

Mr. John Tait is at present experimenting with the calabash plant, seeds of which have been forwarded to him by his brother in South Africa. The gourd from the calabash plant furnishes the famous calabash pipes, the manufacture of which is now quite an industry, and acres of these plants are now grown in South Africa.

Mr. T. G. Beavis has sold his property at Trout Creek, consisting of a house and seven acres. Mr. Robert Johnson of Bradwardine, Man., was the purchaser. Tom intends to stay in Summerland for the present.

A motor car has been purchased to run in connection with the hotel. It is expected to be in town in a few weeks' time.

It is reported that an asbestos mine is being opened at Peachcliff in the Okanagan. Peachcliff is not in the postal directory, neither is it on the map of the Okanagan district, maybe it refers to Peachland. If the report is true, then more power to their elbow.

Editorial Note by George Ade: "I read not long ago that down in Brown County, Indiana, the front room of the county poorhouse—a large cheerful apartment with southern exposure and plants in the windows—is occupied by men who for many years conducted a newspaper that pleased everybody."

The Rev. Frank Hardy, the new Methodist minister, is expected in on the 14th or 15th inst.

The estimates of the Summerland fruit crop for this year are as follows: Apricots, 2000 crates; plums and prunes, 2000 crates; apples, 15,000 boxes; peaches 66,000 boxes and cherries, 500 crates.

MUCH LLANTING HAS BEEN DONE

 bringing the heavy crop through successfully.

Vernon
 Weather conditions are keeping on the cool side with occasional showers. Growth of all crops is very rapid and with a continuance of such conditions will be far enough advanced that no serious check should occur if hot weather should prevail in the near future. Tree fruits are looking well but a heavy drop is occurring in all varieties. The extent of this drop cannot be accurately estimated for possibly two weeks. Some of the earlier varieties in the Okanagan Centre and the Oryama districts are ready for thinning and no time should be lost in commencing this operation. Blister Mite is very badly spread throughout the Vernon district and is serious enough in many orchards to cause grave concern to the owners. All small fruits are doing well. Early strawberries are being picked in small quantities and the next week should see these berries on the local market. Raspberries promise a good crop as do also black berries. Growth of the hay and grain crops is so rapid that they are getting ahead of the grasshoppers and little serious damage to these crops from this pest is so far noticeable. Undoubtedly more serious damage will occur to the second growth of clovers and alfalfa. Cut worms are this year almost a plague, and are doing serious damage to late sown grain fields. Spraying operations are general and excellent attention is being given by orchardists to all the necessary operations.

Kelowna

Present indications are that there will be a good crop of fruit, but not so much as the blossom indicated. Fruit is sizing well and thinning will commence immediately. Ground crops are growing well. Tobacco planting will commence next week.

Penticton, Keremeos, Cawston, Oliver
 With an exceptionally mild winter and an early spring, the orchards are in excellent shape. There was a heavy bloom on all varieties of tree fruits, which gave promise of a very heavy crop but with adverse weather at blossoming time there has not been the set that was expected, although the crop generally will be good.

With more prosperous times there is a decidedly better feeling among the growers, which is evidenced in the increased amount of spraying, use of fertilizers and general orchard work.

The trees in the Keremeos district are looking well and the crop should show considerable increase over last year. The tomato crop is being set out now and will run about 225 acres. The Cawston district will handle about 125 acres of tomatoes, and in addition will grow some 75 acres of sweet corn for canning.

The cantaloupe crop will show an increase in the Oliver district and if the same care in picking and packing is taken as in former years, the reputation this district has for cantaloupes will be well established.

In the Oliver district the tomato crop will run about 130 acres and will go mostly to the cannery. There should also be a small tonnage of stone fruits this year and will really be the first shipments of any consequence. The orchards have come through in good shape and it will not be long before this district will contribute considerable of the fruit tonnage of the valley.

Summerland
 The Summerland crop is showing a decided drop and the prospects are that the crop will not show up as well as at first expected.

Apricots are a full crop with much thinning yet to be done. Peaches have set well.

The apple crop has begun to drop very noticeably already, although in many orchards this natural drop will materially help thinning.

Cut worms have been very troublesome to tomato growers this season. Hot house tomatoes are being picked and shipped.

Creston
 The past week has been decidedly cooler.

The calyx spray was completed early in the week in most instances and where irrigation was installed the growers are applying water.

Rhubarb is still coming in but the Cranbrook area will be able to draw on its own local supply by now. Gooseberries are sizing rapidly and a few may be on the local market by the end of the week. Tomato planting has started. A few of the growers in the drier situations were busy last week but the bulk of the planting will be this week. The acreage will be slightly less than last year. Cabbages are growing nicely but the total acreage is less than last year. Strawberries have been hoed and mulched and are looking very vigorous with blossoms still showing. Shipping may be expected by the end of the month. Tree fruits are sizing nicely and the season is still well advanced. The crop shows no apparent injury to the set by the early changeable spring weather that was experienced.

Just think, Men—His 1926 Premium is down to $2.55

BACK in 1881 at the age of 25, a young manufacturer's agent took out a $1,000 policy in the Mutual Life of Canada; in the ordinary life, profit-participating plan. For the first three years his premium was $18.40. Mutual profits then began to show and in 1886 his premium was reduced to $15.72. Steadily, year by year, his profits grew and his premiums diminished in proportion. This year his premium has almost disappeared. He paid $2.55 for his protection for 1926. He has been protected all this time to the full amount of $1,000, and is so protected today.

There are thousands of policyholders and the beneficiaries of policyholders who have had similar experiences to this one of the "Vanishing Premium" illustrated here. Let us send a copy of the Mutual Book.

Harrison Hot Springs Hotel Company Limited

MAKE AN UNUSUAL GENEROUS OFFER TO BRITISH COLUMBIA INVESTORS

Sound Security - Sure Dividends - Attractive Profits

A few British Columbia business men have invested more than three-quarters of a million dollars of their own money in the development of the famous Harrison Hot Springs as a health and pleasure resort. The magnificent hotel opens about May 15th. This resort is now on a par with such famous resorts as Banff, Lake Louise and Jasper. The new resort will be known as the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel Company, Limited.

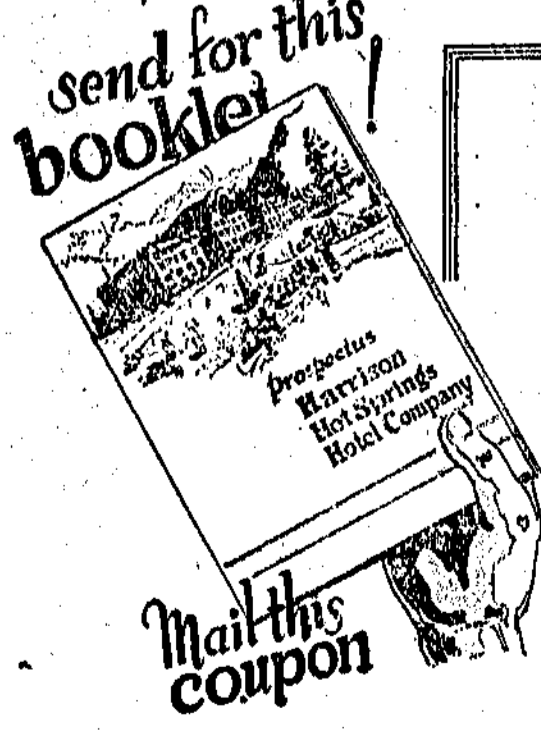

This Company now offers 2,250 8% Cumulative Preference Shares, par value $100.00, to the investors of British Columbia. With each Preferred Share they will give a bonus of two shares of Common Stock, par value $10.00 each.

Resort experts estimate that the earnings of the Company will be three times the requirements for interest charges and dividends. The Preferred Shareholders have first claim on the earnings of the Company up to 8% on their investment. The shares are cumulative, and this 8% dividend must be paid annually before the Common Shareholders, who are the promoters, can participate in the profits. The Preferred Shareholders will participate equally in the surplus profits in addition to their 8%, after the Common Shareholders have been paid 8%. The Preferred Shareholders will also participate in the increasing value of the Company's holdings.

From the investor's viewpoint it is an unusually attractive offering. The security is at a ratio of 4 to 1. The assured dividend of 8% is above the average. The anticipated speculative profits are very attractive.

The Financial Editor of the Vancouver "Sun," in reviewing this offer of Preferred Shares, says: "It seems unnecessarily generous to the investor." Responsible brokers, such as Gillespie, Hart & Todd, Ltd., of Victoria and Vancouver, Victor W. Odum & Co., of Vancouver, and others, are recommending it to their clientele. You will find it the most attractive investment that has been offered to British Columbians in recent years. We will be glad to send you full particulars. Mail the coupon today.
