The Drive Is On

The green light has been signalled, the track is clear and the engineer has given the throttle a pull for full speed ahead in Summerland's Living Memorial campaign. The campaign will commence on Monday, November 11, and it is hoped that by the end of the month there will have been subscribed $25,000 for this district's park project.

Now, the co-operation of the good citizens of this community is all that will be necessary to ensure the success of the campaign being launched by the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee.

It will not suffice for token payments on the part of the citizens. Each citizen should weigh this matter carefully in their minds. They should estimate what they can afford to give, even though it may pinch somewhat at the time.

As we pointed out in this column last week, to raise $25,000 on a public subscription basis will require, on the average, $25 per family. Some families will not be able to subscribe that much, while others will be able to contribute many times that sum.

But, in the main, families cannot "get by" with five and ten-dollar donations and expect that the campaign will be successful. It is at all possible, Mr. and Mrs. Average Family should try to give at least $25, even though some of the luxuries of life have to be dispensed with for a short time.

It is really not a great deal for a family to donate to such a cause . . . a cause which will serve as a "Thank You" to the men and women of the armed forces who were instrumental in defeating the Nazi horde and made it possible for this editorial to be written, and this campaign to be carried on in a free country.

But combined with the gratitude to the returned veterans comes the realization that by creating these parks as a Living Memorial we are really helping ourselves. The beauty of the central area of West Summerland will be greatly enhanced with the completion of the parks-playground.

A lovely expanse of grass, graceful shade trees, a playground where children can romp at will, a public rest-room, will be one of the greatest assets of which this community can be proud. And in another section of the community will be provided the best baseball and athletic field in the Okanagan.

That is the plan and it is a worthwhile one. Not only will we be recognizing the valor and courage of our veterans, but we will be helping ourselves by providing facilities for the amusement and benefit of our youngsters of today and tomorrow.

Surely an average of $8 for every man, woman and child in the community is little enough to pay for such a project.

Help The Canvasser

Some time in the next three weeks a canvasser will call at your door to solicit your contribution to Summerland's Living Memorial campaign. This canvasser will be just like you, an average Summerland citizen who realizes his responsibility as a member of the community.

He will not like his job, as few do envy the role of a canvasser. But he realizes that the success of the campaign rests on the public service of men and women like himself, so he takes on the task as his normal duty.

The home owner who will be called upon can lighten the work of this volunteer canvasser a great deal by preparing for the visit. There are various ways in which contributions can be subscribed to this Memorial project and the citizen can make his decision beforehand.

The head of the house can make a straight cash donation, he can hand over Victory bonds or War Savings Certificates, or he can sign an order which will mean his employer can deduct a specified sum from weekly or monthly pay cheque for a certain stipulated period.

And, in the case of fruit growers, an order can be made on his returns from the 1946 fruit crop.

So, there is no valid reason why the situation of the various residents cannot be covered by one of these provisions. Mr. Summerland Resident can weigh his financial situation carefully beforehand and be prepared to greet the canvasser with a ready answer when he calls.

If careful thought is given to the campaign now, the tedious work of the canvasser can be lightened considerably.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

WHEN an Agricultural Scientist has carried out an experiment, the job is only half done. The results of his work must be brought to the attention of the practical farmers, processors or distributors concerned.

A marvelous new variety of wheat is of no benefit to anyone so long as the seed remains in the bin. Farmers must be notified that it is available and told what its special qualifications and limitations are. A new development in cherry processing is of no importance until processors have been persuaded to make use of it. Improved methods of selling fruits and vegetables are of no avail unless brokers and wholesalers are convinced that adoption of these methods will ensure the delivery of superior products to consumers.

Unfortunately, very few scientists have the ability to present the results of their work in a form which is interesting and attractive to the general reading public. It is for this reason that I have decided to appoint myself unofficial interpreter for the scientists employed at the Summerland Experimental Station.

I am quite aware of the pitfalls which bestrew the path of every columnist. I realize that I shall—or is it will—probably call down upon my head the ire of the scientists concerned. I also know full well that my writings will elicit taunt and jeers from the public which I am attempting to serve. Nevertheless, owing to the fact that I once spent two weeks at an agricultural college and have visited the Summerland Experimental Station on several occasions, I feel that I am especially qualified to undertake this important work.

I propose to reveal what goes on behind the scenes—in short, to present to the good people of Summerland the Inside Story of their own Experimental Station. All that I ask is, when readers find something interesting or entertaining in this column, they notify the Editor immediately as my pay is based on public reaction and the coppers that I receive for my efforts are urgently required to enable me to pay my Income Tax.

Canada's HEALTH

The Feminine Front

by MURIEL HURRY

SCHOOL - CHILD CARE

For families with school-age children, the Child and Maternal Health Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, has drawn up the following "Safety Rules" which, it says, should become the "order of the day" in every household:

- (1) Adequate rest, plus a properly balanced diet, will set up safeguard against the hazards of ill-health.
- (2) Never allow a child to go to school without breakfast. This invites trouble.
- (3) Allow sufficient time in the mornings for proper toilet habits, dressing, eating (not just stuffing)—and caution the child against traffic hazards on the way to school.
- (4) Make sure that your child receives the "booster" dose of Diphtheria toxoid. Diphtheria still kills Canada's children.
- (5) Protect your child with Vaccination. Smallpox is almost a thing of the past here, but it can return if all children are not vaccinated.
- (6) Teach your child to drink at least three glasses of water daily. This aids in elimination of waste and poisonous products by washing the body tissues.
- (7) Dirty handkerchiefs spread disease. Teach your child the safe way—use of sanitary tissues.
- (8) Clean hands and clean teeth discourage disease. Ensure this several times daily, plus a tub bath at least weekly.

RHEUMATIC FEVER

The greatest scourge of school-age children is Rheumatic Fever. As an end result, it causes five times as many deaths as whooping cough, meningitis, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever and infantile paralysis combined!

Declaring war on rheumatic diseases, National Health authorities urge constant liaison with the family physician to detect signs of trouble. Early symptoms must be treated seriously if the child is to be given a fighting chance before the disease attacks, cripples, or kills.

What many people shrug off as just "growing pains" in their young ones may, in fact, be the very signs for which the physician must watch. Many cases of rheumatic disease exist in Canada and medical people know that fever wards of children's hospitals are filled with them. Rheumatic fever is a problem which must be tackled vigorously, if lives are to be saved.

VITAL STATISTICS

Canada was the first country to adopt scientific methods of compiling and utilizing vital statistics. A national vital statistics system was established in 1920.

Under this system registration of births, deaths and marriages, through facilities of the provincial governments, became compulsory. The development of the Vital Statistics branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics exemplified the cooperative spirit in which provincial and federal governments have kept pace with the changing statistical picture, in order to assess the health and welfare status of the people, and to ascertain where to strive for improvement.

EYES FOR STUDY

Poor grades at school do not necessarily indicate inferior intellect. All sorts of handicaps may interfere with the normal training of a child, and among the most common is eye affliction. In this modern age teachers are taught to recognize the child with defective vision and to make allowances accordingly.

In dealing with a child's eyes, medical men give due consideration to harmful effects of unsatisfactory diet. Vision of children during convalescence from illness also calls for special care. And, at all times, children should be taught the importance of conserving vision by avoiding eye-strain.

The other evening, my home was filled with ghosts. It was Halloween again, and shrouded figures were on the prowl. Large and small, with hideous masks for faces, they came to the door, demanded gifts as their price for peace.

It was hard to believe that these grotesque creatures were the familiar children who live along our road. But my own two school-agers looked just as horrifying as they started away with two playmates on their first Halloween hunt without adult guidance. At least, it was supposed to be without adult guidance, for although they were instructed to go only as far as the corner, a dozen houses away, I felt a few qualms about them being abroad in the 8 o'clock darkness, so my husband and I, after giving them a ten-minute start, decided to stroll down the road and see how they were faring.

As they were coming from a neighbor's home, we stood quietly beside the roadway until they were abreast us, when my husband emitted a low wolfish growl (distinguishable from a wolf whistle), and the brave ghosts, after a startled pause, took to their heels in a chorus of frightened squeals. My brave son, who was supposed to protect his little sister and the two little neighbor girls who were with them, was the most terrified of all. While my tomboy daughter, after a few steps, saw through the hoax, and cried to the others that it was "Daddy." So we relieved them of their loot, and let them go their way in the light of a large jack-o'-lantern, and with pop-corn balls and candy clutched in our arms, dashed home, to be greeted by our youngest son, Ronnie, who had been allowed to stay up later than usual for the occasion, and had been dressed up during our absence by the friend who was spending the evening with us, to look more spooky than the other children who were abroad.

I think that my husband and I had as much fun as the children, for they came home with such a haul that we all had candy and treats.

We have already had snow this year, and although at the time of writing, it has gone again, the mountains are shrouded, and the local skiers are eagerly preparing for the season ahead. A new ski-tow has been ordered by the local ski club, who hope it will be in working order by the time that the season begins.

It will probably be January before snow conditions are proper for good skiing, but already the membership of the club is starting the seasonal activities, improving the hill and completing a cabin for shelter.

Many of the women of Summerland are enthusiastic skiers and it is expected that this year there will be many new feminine members added to the club.

Smart women will find a wide variety of colorful ski clothes for winter wear this season. There are seldom any leading color combinations in mode for ski outfits, so if you have a secret love for gaudy colors, now is your time to indulge it. All-white is always considered ultra-smart on the ski hill.

Co-operation between teacher, parent and family physician will ensure that a child receives the requisite medical advice and supervision to provide him or her with the health and facilities needed for attention to material presented in classroom and library.

NO EVASION INTENDED

West Summerland, B.C., Oct. 7, 1946.

Editor, The Review:

I read with interest the letter of Mrs. Plunkett in the Review of Sept. 26, regarding my suggestion that Canadian citizens should, without delay, proclaim their intention to resist tax levies for destructive purposes.

Mrs. Plunkett's use of the word, "evasion," in relation to an open and public announcement of intention is hard to understand. In my proposal there is no more evasion than in the proclaimed decision of the House of Commons members to refrain from tax payments on the meagre cost of living subsidies of $2,000 a year which they granted themselves a few months ago. No evasion there! Quite the reverse. An open denial of responsibility to the electorate. A crude, cynical, boastful assumption of their own worth as compared to the worth of thousands of deserving Canadians who are existing on a mere pittance.

A direct and explicit statement denying responsibility for debts contracted by one party in the name of another is anything but evasive. Occasionally a man is driven by circumstances to advertise the fact that from a specified date he is not responsible for his wife's expenditures. A wife can similarly refuse to pay her husband's debts. I believe the procedure is legal.

As so what can be done to force these payments from a large number of subscribers to a petition such as I drafted, I am of the opinion that the government would be puzzled to find suitable places of detention for thousands of peaceful "criminals"; hampered in feeding them; distracted by the complaints of the remaining willing war supporters who would in time discover that the ultimate penny-pusher had become a dependent instead of a provider.

Mrs. Plunkett doubts the efficacy of the procedure suggested. She says, "Has a government on the warpath no other sources of revenue?"

It has. It has the huge cartels and trusts that hope to profit by supplying war materials at desperation prices; the great insurance companies holding the savings of many whose policies will be worthless in "war or revolution. Of all the life insurance held by Russians at the time of the 1917 revolution, how much was collected? Can anyone prove that Stalin was the beneficiary? Or that the families of the deceased ever received a cent? How many claims due to war conditions in Europe have been honored by the companies operating in the areas? Has there been operation of these indefatigable collectors of premiums other than than to establish their "Soundness?" Occasionally a sound exterior conceals a rotten core.

Indeed, a government on the warpath has other sources of revenue! But those other sources provide funds in the assurance of repayment with interest. A strong assertion that the people will not pay for what they did not order puts lenders as well as borrowers in an awkward position. It is most disconcerting to discover that the dutiful payers of tribute exhibit a dawning intelligence. They no longer humbly worship institutions; they boldly respect humanity. They doubt the sanity of educating boys and girls for life, only to kill or maim them in thousands in the name of patriotism when the stream of gold must flow or stagnate.

The phrase, "conscription of wealth" is ambigious and hackneyed. To me it means one thing; to others something different. It is precisely what should be stopped. For wealth, real wealth, is close to the source of living, and already conscripted to a wellnigh intolerable degree. For instance: I make a long distance telephone call. The bill is 85 cents, the federal tax is 13 cents. I have no assurance that this tax of over 51% ever reaches the federal treasury, yet I am expected to meekly pay the sum to an employee of a private company. This is a conscription of wealth which should cease.

Space will not permit a review of the various taxes open and concealed, imposed to repay with interest loans secured for war purposes. If the people choose to exert their power of resistance they can avoid further raids upon their resources, made in a pious pretense of patriotism.

Faithfully yours,
SARAH L. FOSBERY.

Poundkeeper Would Resign

Summerland council on Monday Oct. 28, had pound trouble, and is faced with the resignation of F. G. Haddrell as poundkeeper. It was decided to leave any decision on the question until the return of Reeve W. R. Powell from the coast.

Mr. Haddrell visited the council session and informed the municipal fathers that he had fifteen horses impounded, with eleven being claimed. However, the remaining four are not thought desirable by their owners as no attempt has been made to claim them.

There is also a lack of interest in horses as he has not been able to dispose of them and collect the ever-mounting pound fees.

Damage claims against the eleven horses claimed, including the original cost of bringing them in to the pound, amounted to $49.85, and this sum has been paid over to Mr. Haddrell by the claiming owners, plus the accumulated fees.

However, the damages caused by the other four will not be forthcoming, it was explained.

DAMS ARE FULL

Municipal dams are full now and with a normal flow of snow there will be plenty of water available next year, it was intimated at the council meeting last October 28. Water Foreman E. Kercher reported that his department had cut the trail to Trout Creek headwaters and had cleaned out the ditch, besides making some repairs on the trestles. Flume repairs would have to wait for the spring, he said.

REVIEW CLASSIFIED ADS BRING RESULTS

ERECT ROAD SIGNS

Les Gould, Municipal Roads Foreman, presented a report to the council on Oct. 28, seeking permission to erect some fifteen directional signs in the municipality. Some signs have already been placed including those directing traffic to the hospital, and the council agreed that Mr. Gould's suggestions should be carried out. Cost will be approximately $1.50 per sign.

COST OF SERVICE

A. A. Fenwick will be informed by the municipal council that the cost of providing electrical energy will be $128.55, but as others will benefit by an improvement in service, the council will cut this amount in half thus providing him with service at a cost of $65.

Low-Cost Loans, Repayable on Instalment Plan, Available For Every Useful Purpose.

"Many of our new customers are pleasantly surprised when they first borrow money from the B. of M.," says Mr. H. E. Woodford, local manager of the Bank of Montreal. "They realize then what it really means when we say that you don't ask a favor when you ask for a loan. People need money for a great many purposes, to meet emergencies, to take advantage of an opportunity—and the B. of M. is anxious and ready to help on such occasions."

If you are in a position to repay, it is easy to get a personal loan from the Bank of Montreal. The cost works out to only 27 cents a month for a $100 loan, repayable in instalments over a twelve-month period. Of course, more or less than $100 may be borrowed for shorter or longer periods; the cost to you is proportionately the same.

Drop in and see Mr. Woodford, or his accountant, Mr. Spencer, at the B. of M. next time you need ready cash. You will find that they are glad to assist you—and this in strict confidence.

Water Foreman E. Kercher, who was satisfied that it was feasible.

This park-playground can be developed at a cost of between $9,000 and $10,000, Mr. Bennett intimated, while maintenance for five years would cost a further $5,000, it was thought.

Main cost at the outset at the Drake lot would be for levelling and providing a proper surface, Mr. Bleasdale informed the meeting. A regulation baseball field, with grass infield and outfield, would be provided, encircled by a quarter-mile dirt track. A hundred-yard straightaway would be laid down with cinders, but the rest of the track would be packed dirt, he stated.

A football field can be provided between the baseball infield and the outer circle of the field.

Athletic Field Cost
Cost of levelling, hauling dirt, seeding and providing necessary bleacher accommodation, a retaining wall along the bottom of the hillside, dressing-rooms and dugouts, was estimated at $6,250, with another $1,000 for maintenance for three years.

Mr. E. R. Butler, head of the finance committee and treasurer for the drive, appealed to his listeners to give generously to the campaign.

Among the representatives of organizations who spoke in favor of the Living Memorial as outlined, were: Reid Johnston, board of trade; J. R. Butler, A.O.T.S.; Mrs. Magnus Tait; Women's Institute; Gordon Smith, Canadian Legion; C. J. Bleasdale, Rotary Club; Len Hill, Retail Merchants' Association.

Council support was provided by the chairman, and Councillors Harvey Wilson and Eric Tait. Reeve W. R. Powell had not returned from his holiday trip to the coast when Friday night's meeting was held.

In answer to a query from the audience, it was stated that title to the property involved would be vested eventually in the municipality. But the park's committee plans to develop the project until it has been completed before handing it over to the municipal council to carry on the maintenance.

At this juncture, Reid Johnston proposed the motion which gave the committee power to proceed with its plans. Dr. J. C. Wilcox was the seconder, and the motion was as follows:

"I move that this meeting, representing the residents of Summerland, endorse the plans of the Memorial Park Committee for the development of the board of trade lot as a playground and park, and the development of the Drake lot for sports purposes, and that a canvass of the district be instituted by this committee to raise funds for this worthy purpose."

"Twenty-five thousand dollars may seem like a lot of money now, but it wouldn't have seemed much two years ago with the war still on," declared Dr. F. W. Andrew. "The least we can do is to show our appreciation to the war veterans. The returned men some time ago expressed their wish for a Living Memorial very much along the line that has been planned."

Promises of support were registered by Dr. R. C. Palmer, Summerland Experimental Station superintendent, and other speakers.

W. Snow told the meeting that the committee planned to develop the hockey rink this fall as soon as it is known that the campaign will be successful. Levelling of the Drake lot is also planned for this fall.

merland Merchants out ahead, 32-30. It was a grandstand finish which bodes well for the popularity of the game here this season.

Jackie Walsh was the big scoring threat with 17 points, but he shared honors with George Clark on the offensive. Norman Thompson was a tower of strength in the rear court. Jimmy Thompson, breaking into senior circles this year, gave a good account of himself, while Rocky Biagioni indicated that he will be back in form with further practice.

It was a one-sided contest in the preliminary game, however, with Pentiction showing to much better advantage than the Summerland Intermediate "B's," the final score of 38-20 indicated the run of the play.

Ray Moore was the only Summerland player on the offensive who could find the netting and he ran up 16 markers. Jim Hack played a useful game in the rear court but the locals were out-classed by the bigger and more experienced Pentictionites, Goulding and Raptis showed to advantage for Pentiction, while Bud Russell turned in a flashy performance. Score at half-time was 18-9 for Pentiction.

A well known resident of Summerland for 17 years, Albert N. Tellman died at his home on Wednesday morning, November 6. The deceased, who was 63 years of age, was born in Sweden, but came to Nebraska with his family when he was four years of age, and moved from there to Alberta in 1902. He came from there to Summerland with his wife and family in 1929, where he has since made his home.

Mr. Tellman is survived by his wife, Victoria Tellman, a son, Al Tellman of Kelowna, and four daughters, Mrs. Lily Wolffer, Summerland, Mrs. Edna Fowler, Summerland, Miss Edith Tellman, Kelowna, and Mrs. Mildred Vogel of Pelly, Sask. Four grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services for the late Mr. Tellman will be held from the Lakeside United Church on Saturday afternoon, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating. Family friends will act as pallbearers.

We hope this will not apply to anyone, but a fine of 50c will be handed out to anyone wanting to get in without a costume. But take a hint and come in a costume and you'll have twice as much fun.

I.W.A. President Gives Labor Viewpoint In Speech Here

Condemnation of the government for its failure to adopt labor's suggested Canadian Labor Code, a suggestion which was made prior to V-J Day, and a statement that Big Business is operating a sit-down strike and is not releasing produced goods for consumption by the Canadian people, were two of the highlights of an address given in West Summerland on Monday, Oct. 28, by Harold Pritchett, I.W.A. president for B.C. and the first international officer ever elected by his union from this province.

Only some fifteen to twenty persons attended the meeting, which was held in the sample room of the Nu-Way hotel. Tom Charity was chairman of the meeting and the speaker was introduced by Mr. Fulton, I.W.A. district representative.

Labor Progress
"Labor in the Post-War World," was the subject of Mr. Pritchett's address and he lost no time in referring to the visit of C.C.L. and A.F.L. heads to the Canadian cabinet prior to the close of the war, when these labor bosses sought a five-point improvement program.

Labor asked then that a complete survey be made of Canada from an industrial standpoint, that the reconversion to peace-time basis be made with as little dislocation as possible; that Canadian labor had done an outstanding job despite the fact their wages were frozen, and that in the post-war world they should be protected by a Canadian Labor Code; that a standard minimum wage should be established across Canada, with a minimum of 75 cents per hour; and lastly, a national health bill.

"The only way to maintain prosperity and a proper standard of living is to maintain wages at a high level," declared Mr. Pritchett.

Big Business
"Labor was afraid Big Business would go on a rampage of profiteering," declared Mr. Pritchett, "but the government paid no heed to the voice of labor," this, despite the fact that both labor groups had trebled their memberships until they each had 360,000 members.

"The government said we were asking for things no reasonable person would ask. We believed the war was fought to make Canada a free country. The federal government has pursued a reactionary attitude."

Mr. Pritchett condemned the continuance of PC 9384, which pegs wages at a pre-war level. The government continued wage control on the premise that if wages go up then inflation will follow, he continued. But the government raised prices and "we can prove the cost of living to the wage-earner has gone up thirty per cent."

Increase Lost
"The fifteen-cent per hour wage increase you obtained from the strike last spring has been wiped out by this increase in price levels," he declared. "Big Business is trying to force back the open shop, hoping that they can destroy organized labor by increased price levels and withholding commodities."

Mr. Pritchett stressed that production has not gone down but has been increased this year, and quoted figures for the first seven months of 1946, compared to a similar period in 1945. This year 5,908,875 barrels of cement were produced, against 3,683,268 in 1945. Similarly, bricks were produced on a ratio of 135,353,000 to 90,973,000.

Regarding lumber, production has increased 25 per cent since the strike terminated and the 1946 production promises to be an all-time record he maintained. "Lumber yards in B.C. are fuller of finished lumber than at any time in history," he declared.

He instanced a veteran who tried in vain to obtain finished lumber at the coast. Finally, he contacted a Bellingham, Wash., yard who agreed to sell him lumber at $20 per thousand more than the Canadian price. The next day his lumber was delivered by a New Westminster lumber yard at the increased price on the order of the Bellingham firm, Mr. Pritchett contended.

Black Market
The I.W.A. convention had gone on record as demanding a royal commission to investigate the black market in lumber in this province and throughout the Dominion. "Black markets are rampant not only in the lumber industry but in tire production. There is no shortage of tires but the manufacturers have put them into storage until they can force the government to take off the price ceiling."

"It is a sit-down strike on the part of big business," said Mr. Pritchett, "and the federal government has become the voice of Big Business."

Next he deplored the large number of non-essential buildings being erected when veterans and laborers were in desperate need of homes. Cost of such structures amounted 74.9 millions this year, he said.

Dealing with the woodworkers' strike last spring, Mr. Pritchett stated: "This strike could have been avoided, as we proved to the government that the employers could pay the increase of 25 cents per hour out of his profits because of the decrease in excess profit tax. We proved labor was justified in asking for this increase because of the rise in living costs."

Spread Out Jobs
Before the war ended, labor asked for a forty-four-hour week because of the improvements in machinery and equipment and the need to spread out jobs to take care of the returning veterans. The proposed closed shop is nothing more than industrial democracy and is not a new thing as it has its counterpart in England, New Zealand and other countries.

"The I.W.A. strike was an effort to put into effect what the government failed to do and whatever persons in high places promised during the war," the speaker continued, stating that if a depression is to be avoided the laborer must obtain a higher wage scale.

He also dealt shortly with the removal of the milk subsidy. Subsidies are not new, he said, as railroads and shipping concerns have been subsidized by the government, but now the government refuses to subsidize the people to ensure that all youngsters obtained their supply of this essential food commodity.

Mr. Pritchett believes there is a big job ahead to establish international peace and to avoid a third world war he stated labor is demanding that the World Federation of Trade Unions be given a voice on the council of U.N. Labor also seeks a commission to handle the atomic bomb so that it can be utilized or all peoples.

Atomic Age
The atomic age which the world is approaching, will be the greatest period of production ever known, he believes.

"But if atomic energy is to be used by a small group of financiers, then we will be plunged into the worst era of depression ever known, with five million unemployed in Canada instead of one million."

"We want a situation where every citizen who is able and willing to work will be given a chance to work. There is only

(By TING)

Another exciting (?) week has come and gone!

Our Hallowe'en dance in the Legion hall last Friday, was a huge success! The Social committee is to be congratulated on the seasonal decorations and good refreshments. There were enormous black, scary cats (paper, of course), and several Jack-o'-Lanterns! To get everyone in a "dancing mood" there were several "mixers" and, of course, dancing by Jack-o'-Lantern light really does something to you. (If you don't believe me, try it yourself next year!)

During the evening, there were several spot dances, the prizes being gum and chocolate bars (where can you get them?). Presently, several students pestered Min (our official record-keeper) for a schottische. Request granted, but by the time it was over all felt tired, and happy. To satisfy the latter, refreshments served (and I was really glad!) Again we danced and to our dismay, found it twelve o'clock. Time for all Cinderellas to be in bed. This was done after the playing of God Save the King.

Last week the school paper, the Campus Chaff, came out. The Chaff is printed every two months and is just full of "this and that." In it was the announcement of the Mr. and Miss S.H.S. contest, which is to be held soon. Each year, one boy and girl are chosen from the students and are given the honor of being Mr. S.H.S. and Miss S.H.S. The contestants this year are, for Miss S.H.S., Audrey Prior, Betty Cameron, Jean Bryden, Pat Broderick and Shirley Harvey; for Mr. S.H.S., Wally Day, Jim Hack, Bob French, Basil Thornthwaite and Norman Verrier. Elections will be held November 21, so just wait for the big news!

Hurray! Badminton has started. Last Friday, four of the more ardent players tried their luck but I heard they ended up learning how to "jitterbug"! (Girls, I'm surprised at you.)

Now, here's big news to all soccer fans! On Saturday, Nov. 9, there is to be a big game here between Summerland and Oliver. Now we all want Summerland to win, so how about coming out and supporting your team?

one way for labor to attain this end and that is to organize. You cannot do anything as individuals but you must organize to protect your own interests.

In conclusion, he urged every trade union member to become active and give his audience an inkling into future I.W.A. plans, which include an "invasion" of Quebec and Ontario lumber camps where he stated "conditions are unbelievable" compared to B.C.

Here is our opportunity. Commencing November 11, the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee starts its drive, to raise $25,000 for Summerland's Living Memorial to those who fought in the two World Wars.

Two Memorial Park projects have been planned. One will be a Park-Playground on the Board of Trade property in West Summerland, and the other will be an Athletic field on the Drake lot.

These two parks have been planned . . . as a living, lasting tribute to Summerland's soldiers, sailors and airmen as playgrounds and recreational centres for the youth of today and tomorrow . . .

Funds for the erection of this Living Memorial are urgently needed . . . The Memorial Parks Committee wishes to make an intensive but short drive . . . This campaign commences on Monday, November 11, and will conclude November 30 . . . Summerland has been divided into thirteen areas . . . Canvassers have been appointed for each district . . . A canvasser will call on YOU within the next three weeks. There must be many contributions and many contributors.

Be ready for the canvasser when he calls. You can make cash donations, Victory Bonds, War Savings Certificates, or you can have deductions made from your pay or from crop returns.

Living Memorial Drive Starts In Summerland

With Monday being a holiday, it was impossible at press time to receive any accurate report from canvassers as to their results in the drive to raise $25,000 for the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee's Living Memorial campaign.

Official start of the campaign was on Monday, November 11, but not all the canvassers have been able to start in their districts.

Mr. Alf McLachlan is chairman of the canvassers group and Mr. E. R. Butler is head of the finance body.

A large thermometer has been erected on the Smith and Henry building to detail the results of the campaign as it progresses.

The municipality has been divided into thirteen districts with one or more canvassers appointed for each district.

With the sum of $25,000, the committee feels that it can develop these two parks and maintain them for a period of five years until all features are completed and a finished project can then be turned over to the municipal council.

In next week's issue of The Review will be given the latest figures on the progress of the campaign, along with a list of contributors who have allowed their names to be published.

This drive will be completed by November 30, when every resident will have been canvassed to make a contribution to the Living Memorial, it is hoped.

OVERHAUL TRUCK

The International truck operated by the local council will be completely overhauled, provided the estimated cost is within reason, in preparation for next year's work.

Council Re-affirms Its Stand: Charges Water Rate for Fish Hatchery

With two councillors failing to vote, Summerland council re-affirmed its stand that it would not deviate from ordinary charges for water for the proposed provincial fish hatchery here.

At last Thursday's second annual sportsmen's banquet, Commissioner J. G. Cunningham was informed the charge for water connection would be $50 up to two-inch pipe and $100 per year for a three-inch connection.

Yesterday afternoon, W. Snow, president of the Summerland Fish, Game and Forest Protective Assn., waited on the council to seek free water for the proposed hatchery.

Councillor D. Taylor moved, seconded by Councillor F. E. Atkinson, that the council's stand of the previous meeting be re-affirmed.

Expressed Surprise "I was surprised, to put it mildly, with the deal you made with Game Commissioner Cunningham," declared Mr. Snow in opening the discussion yesterday afternoon.

Many Parents Visit Halls of Learning

Thursday, Nov. 7, was selected by the elementary and high schools as visiting day, during the educational week.

At the high school, parents saw an educational film, a history of the development of aluminum.

Immunization Urged Locally

G. L. Hutton, M.D., director of the Okanagan health unit, has issued some instructions for parents to follow in immunizing their children against such diseases as whooping cough, scarlet fever, diphtheria, and small pox.

During the last ten-year period there have been 228 deaths in B.C. from these four diseases and they were preventable if the children had been protected, states Dr. Hutton.

She recommends that diphtheria and whooping cough immunization should be provided from three to six months, smallpox three months to one year, and scarlet fever at one year.

In the Summerland district there has been quite an epidemic of chickenpox among children, while a few adults have also contracted this disease.

Chlorination Is Not Costly Summerland can obtain a chlorination plant for slightly more than $1,000 to ensure pure water for domestic use.

Chlorination Is Not Costly

Additional expense would be incurred in extending the power line and building a small shed to house the plant.

"Next year's council should give early consideration to supplying chlorinated water for municipal use," declared Reeve W. R. Powell. Several positive tests were taken from the domestic water supply during the summer and fall months.

Vernon Area Teachers Given Salary Schedule By Arbitration Board

A board of arbitration, sitting in Vernon on Tuesday and Wednesday, allowed teachers of Vernon School District No. 22 all their requests for salary schedule minimum, based on the B.C. Teachers' Federation schedule.

Board Findings

Under the provisions of the board findings, teachers of the elementary grades will receive a minimum of $1,300 annually. Secondary school (or high school) teachers receive a $1,600 minimum.

Five increments will be put into effect before the end of the year, at which time a further adjustment covering fifty percent of the increase will become effective on January 1, 1947.

The arbitration board consisted of Judge J. R. Archibald, Kamloops; H. H. Boyle, Penticton, representing the Vernon school district; and Victor L. Dryer, Vancouver, teachers' representative.

The teachers' case was presented by C. Ovans, general secretary of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, while the trustees' brief was given by Gordon Lindsay, Vernon lawyer.

Visited Vernon

Members of Penticton School District No. 22 went to Vernon on Tuesday to hear the proceedings, the party consisting of Trustees P. G. Dodwell and Roy F. Angus, Summerland, Chairman Dr. T. F. Farnley, W. W. Kiddell, H. A. LeRoy, Secretary, K. J. Palmer and School Inspector J. J. Burnett, Penticton.

Of the 73 school districts affected by the federation, 25 have already adopted the teachers' salary schedules.

If Penticton district does not accept the findings of the arbitration board in Vernon, then a similar hearing would have to be held in this district.

Council Will Accept Title To Property

Summerland council, at the request of the board of trade and the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee, has agreed to take over the board property and accept the title thereto.

The board purchased this land from George Inglis some time ago but did not register the deed as it could not do so in the organization's name and was loathe to appoint trustees at the time.

Reeve Powell suggested that the property should be registered in the name of the trade board before it was decided to the municipality but the council waived any objection when Mr. Butler pointed out that the Board of Trade, as a body, could not take out the registration of the title.

Regarding development and upkeep of the park-playground, the council was assured by Mr. Bennett, and later confirmed by Councillor F. E. Atkinson, chairman of the parks group, that the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee is prepared to develop the Living Memorial and maintain it for a period of five years, by which time the project should be fully developed.

This undertaking was made, as far as the committee could possibly go, as Councillor Atkinson pointed out that the individual members of the committee could not foresee the future.

In its campaign to raise funds, the memorial parks group has already announced that it was prepared to develop the parks for a period of five years, if the necessary funds are forthcoming to finance the project.

Remembrance Day Observed In Sunshine

Blessed with bright sunshine, Summerland citizens gathered in front of the high school, by the Cenotaph, on Monday morning at 10.45 o'clock, to pay their tribute to those who fell in two world wars.

It was Remembrance Day morning and the cloudless sky and beautiful fall coloring of the trees provided a peaceful setting for such a solemn occasion.

Veterans of two world wars and troop stood very stiffly to attend the First Summerland Boy Scout tition in memory of the fallen heroes.

Legion Padre, Rev. Canon F. V. Harrison, conducted the short service, which consisted of prayer, three verses of O God Our Help in Ages Past, and a scripture reading.

William Grant, president of the Canadian Legion, Summerland branch, No. 22, read the honor roll, which consisted of 105 names. Wreaths were placed on the Cenotaph, while the Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Trumpeter J. Betuzzi.

Elections In December Now Being Planned

When the municipal elections are held on Saturday, December 14, voting will take place at the municipal hall in West Summerland and at J. Gowan's store in lower town, the council decided on Wednesday afternoon.

W. C. W. Fosbery will be the returning officer with Chas. Clarke as deputy returning officer, in charge of the poll in lower town.

Besides the election of a reeve, two council positions will be vacant, while the number of school trustees to be elected is not yet known. There will also be two referendums to be decided upon, one to change the weekly half-holiday from Thursday afternoon to Wednesday afternoon to conform with the general trend throughout the province; the other to decide if the ratepayers wish to dispose of a portion of the Peach Orchard park for tourist camp purposes.

On the latter subject, Reeve W. R. Powell expressed his views on Wednesday afternoon.

"I feel that it would be a wonderful thing for the people to keep the park for everybody and not for tourists only," declared His Worship. "I feel that in two years the people would be sorry that they allowed the park to be sold."

"I feel the same way," remarked Councillor Eric Tait. "I think the park could be a real asset to Summerland and should not be sold at a time most districts are trying to acquire such land rather than selling it."

Councillor Atkinson also expressed a viewpoint similar to the two previous speakers but also thought that a definite policy of improvement to the park should be decided upon and carried out. With this thought His Worship was in accord, but he did not think much of an expenditure should be made, rather that the underbrush should be cleared out, grass planted, but the natural aspect of the property should be retained.

ASKED TO CONTINUE

F. G. Haddrell, who sought release by the municipality from his position as poundkeeper in Prairie Valley, will be asked to continue for a time longer, the council decided yesterday afternoon.

Pronounced cured of polio is 17-year-old RAMPERSAD JAG-GERNAUTH whom the Junior Red Cross brought from Trinidad for treatment at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. He was terribly crippled but it now predicted that he will walk again.

Prepare Plans For Four-Room Addition To Elementary School

Plans for a four-room addition to the Summerland elementary school, with a further addition of a primary playroom enclosure, have been received from the architect, J. Y. McCarter, Vancouver. These plans have been returned to the coast by Penticton School District No. 15, for revision, as further alterations to provide for a complete rejuvenation of the elementary school are planned.

May Exceed $50,000 No accurate estimate of the cost has been made here but one source indicated that the figure would be more than $50,000, including the price of the Kelley property.

This elementary addition is part of the proposed school project for Summerland which would cost more than a quarter million dollars. However, with soaring building costs and scarcity of supplies, it is unlikely that the main project will go forward for several years, informed sources here state.

A two-storey section will be added to the south wing of the elementary school, if the proposal is accepted, thus giving four additional classrooms. Immediately south of this will be a primary school enclosure, with a hard-surfaced playground floor and plenty of window space for sunshine.

It is planned that alterations be made to the front entrance to provide two teachers' rooms on the ground floor and enlarging the nurse's room and Principal Macdonald's office on the second storey, besides a small public waiting room.

If these additions can be made, then the elementary accommodation problem can be solved for a few years and relieve the present crowded conditions which includes use of basement rooms for classroom facilities.

Suggested alterations to the building have been forwarded to Mr. McCarter with a request for revision of the submitted plans as well as an estimated cost of the entire work.

If this project is approved, Summerland ratepayers would be called upon to pay one quarter of the cost and the balance would be forthcoming from the rest of the school district, Penticton municipality and unorganized territories of Naramata, Allen Grove and Kaledon.

At present, Summerland ratepayers are having to absorb one-quarter of the Penticton school debt, or $7,000 yearly.

Only One "Gripe" Question of school debts was discussed shortly at yesterday's council session here when Reeve W. R. Powell stated that Summerland has only one real "gripe" concerning the new consolidated school district instituted this year.

He referred to Summerland being saddled with one-quarter of Penticton's school debt, when Summerland had, by economies effected throughout the years, been free of debt.

"It is a wrong principle to ask Summerland citizens to pay interest and sinking fund on a debt which they had no voice in contracting," declared His Worship.

The principle of school consolidation is all right except for this instance," he concluded. In referring to the proposed elementary addition, Reeve Powell told the council that (Continued on Page 8)

Will Reach Some Decision On Beach Water

An attempt will be made to come to some agreement between the council and interested property owners to supply Crescent Beach and the property on the cliffs above the beach with domestic water.

This was the council decision yesterday afternoon when Councillor F. E. Atkinson and Harvey Wilson, who had been appointed some time ago to go into this subject more fully, declared their intention of obtaining more data.

W. G. Hack and F. J. Menu have acquired portions of the C. E. McCutcheon property and they have made applications to the council for domestic water service. Mr. Menu was present at the council session yesterday and declared himself as willing to bear a share of the cost.

Again the council considered briefly the possibility of paying for such a domestic water extension on a twenty-year frontage tax basis which would pass the cost around to all property owners and spread the expense over a much longer period.

It was also stated that unless a large portion of the Crescent Beach property holders were willing to share in the cost, then the council would probably only extend the service to those orchard properties which are on the high ground above the beach.

The possibility of a pumping scheme for the beach lots was also mooted in a brief discussion.

However, the council delegation, with Water Foreman E. Korchor and possibly with the assistance of an engineer will determine the best route such a service should take, the approximate cost of this project and then meet interested owners to decide how far they are willing to meet the council in the anticipated cost involved.

CROW AND MAGPIE WINNERS GIVEN

In the crow and magpie competition conducted by the local sportsmen's organization, Melvin Monro was winner with 25 pairs of legs and five eggs turned in; John Huva was next in line with 23 pairs of legs.

Others who stood well in the competition were: F. Smith, 20 pairs; Donald Blacklock, 9 pairs; Glen Youngusband, 5 pairs; George Brake and Richard Lewis, one pair each, and Melvin Mitchell, four eggs.

What Can You Give?

There was surprise expressed in some quarters by those who read in last week's issue of The Review that we felt everybody should look beyond the $5 and $10 stage and think in terms of $25, $35 and up as their contribution to Summerland's Living Memorial.

But there shouldn't be surprise. A sum of $25 or $35 is little enough for citizens to give so they can show their gratitude that men and women from this district gave their services that we may live in freedom.

Besides this side of the picture, these same citizens are helping themselves. They will be providing, by their donations, two splendid outdoor parks which will be a joy for their youngsters and future generations of youngsters for years to come.

These parks will provide healthful recreation for the younger generations for years to come. They will keep the young people off the streets and away from tempting influences. They will help build young bodies and clean, healthy minds. And in the older sphere they will provide athletic facilities second to none in the Okanagan.

When we add all these advantages together, we have no hesitation in saying that every one of us should give generously—in fact, give until it hurts.

Science Helps The Growers

Growers can well feel jubilant over the announcement by the Okanagan Spray Committee last week that the lowly codling moth, long an orchard pest costing thousands of dollars, is to be dealt with by an insecticide known as DDT.

Other pests will be controlled by heavier applications of oil and by the new British formula commonly known as 666. A full-fledged war is to be waged on behalf of the growers by the chemists.

For three years entomologists, pathologists and field inspectors of both provincial and dominion departments of agriculture have been relentless in their search for new methods of combatting the dread orchard pests. They labored long and faithfully and it was not until they were certain of their results that they announced their findings.

It is not often that government men in such a position will recommend such devastating changes in methods of control. If there is a shadow of a doubt about their findings they cannot afford to recommend revolutionizing steps which will involve a complete change in methods. So, it is with a great deal of satisfaction that growers and those closely allied with the immense fruit industry, read the news in last week's Valley press.

Not that these changes mean a complete cure-all for the orchardist. But the change-over from arsenate of lead to DDT in the control of codling moth will mean a decline in costs of nearly fifty per cent. That is a big saving to every grower, large or small.

And coupled with this saving is the removal of the fear which has clouded the apple industry for years—the fear that expensive wiping machinery would have to be installed to remove the arsenate of lead to a point of accepted tolerance.

We hasten to join the growers in thanking these government employees whose hours of tedious and painstaking labor and experimentation have brought about this new era for the industry in its continuous fight to control the orchard pest.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

When I visited the Experimental Station last Monday, I was surprised to find our Superintendent, who is usually so genial, toying with a vial of strychnine. Noting the murderous gleam in his eye, I sought myself in the farthest corner of his sanatorium, whereupon the following conversation took place:
 Agrologist: "You aren't contemplating suicide, I hope?"
 Superintendent: "Oh, no. It is the death of my enemies I have in mind. During the past summer we had a good deal of trouble from pocket gophers eating off the roots of young fruit trees and making the lives of our irrigators miserable by diverting the water. This is a good time to make war on pocket gophers and there is no international law against the use of poison bait."

CANADIAN FASHION

WINTER HAT of fur to be worn with a fur or cloth coat or a suit. A bennet style in smartly striped skunk over a draped black wool scarf, which keeps the ears warm. Designed by Lola Lanyi, it will retail for about $45. The driving mittens which complete the ensemble were styled by Louis Fischel.

Agrol.: "How do you make up the bait?"

Supt.: "We cut carrots into small pieces about 1/2-inch thick and 1 inch long. Over these we dust powdered strychnine alkaloid. Due to the bitter taste of strychnine, it is a good plan to mix with it about 1/10 of its bulk of saccharin. The mixture is put into a discarded salt shaker and dusted over the bait while the pieces of vegetable are still fresh. The pieces should be stirred in the pan while dusting on the poison to ensure even distribution. 1/8 oz. of strychnine is sufficient for 3 quarts of bait."

Agrol.: "What procedure do you follow in putting out the bait?"
 Supt.: "Entrance to the burrow is effected by the use of a prod 1 inch in diameter and 4 feet long. The prod has handle grips at the top and a short foot rest about 1 foot from the point. To find the burrow, prod the earth between two adjacent mounds. After a little practice it is possible to feel the prod strike the open runway, then drop in 2 or 3 pieces of bait and plug the opening with a clod. It is a good plan to level the pocket gopher mounds after poisoning. If any gophers have escaped, a new mound will be seen and the run can be retreated."

Agrol.: "I presume that mice can also be destroyed by poisoning?"

Supt.: "Yes, that is so, but special care must be taken to guard against injury to children, domestic animals and game birds. I have an article on that subject and will be glad to give you a copy."

Agrol.: "Many thanks. Can I have additional copies for my neighbors?"

Supt.: "Well, we are rather short of copies at the moment. However, your neighbors should have no difficulty in securing copies from Alex. Watt, that smart young college upstart who is taking John Tait's place. He is quite a good chap when you get to know him."

Canadian Warriors At Rest

In eight permanent Canadian cemeteries in northwest Europe, 11,000 of 13,000 Canadian soldiers who lost their lives in the long advance from Normandy into Germany, now lie buried.

The war graves organization of the Canadian Army has carried out its task with great care and the cemeteries are among the best kept in Europe.

Of the 2,000 other Canadian soldiers lost in the Western Front campaign, 400 to 500 are still unaccounted for and about 1,500 are buried in British military cemeteries or civilian graveyards.

Four of the Canadian cemeteries are in France, one in Belgium and three in Holland. General H. D. G. Crerar, retired commander of the 1st Canadian Army, decided no Canadian soldiers would be buried permanently in Germany.

The finest cemetery of the eight is probably near Beny-sur-Mer in Normandy, where the men killed on D-Day and in the great battle for Caen are buried. It is on a slope overlooking the invasion anchorage and the beaches. There are 2,400 white metal crosses marking graves, each with a mound of earth and two feet of green grass between the rows.

In the centre of the cemetery is a 12-foot Cross of Sacrifice bearing a crusader's sword and the Canadian Ensign waves from a white flag pole. The gray gravel avenue leads to the cemetery with a white picket fence along its frontage.

All the Canadian cemeteries have been built in the same simple design and shrubs and landscaping are being added gradually. There is a hut at each one where a caretaker keeps records of the buried men.

The cemeteries will be shortly turned over to the Imperial War Graves Commission. Eventually the metal crosses will be replaced by permanent stone crosses.

All the Canadian plots are to become Canadian territory with France, Belgium and Holland giving the land as a tribute to the men who helped liberate their countries.

Beside the Caen-Falaise road near Brettville-sur-Laise is another large Canadian cemetery. The other two in France are on the hills behind Dieppe, and at Leubringhen, between Calais and Boulogne.

The cemetery in Belgium is at Adogem, between Ghent and Ostend and less than one mile from the Leopold Canal where one of the fiercest Canadian actions took place.

The largest is near Nijmegen where the dead from the Reichswald and Hochwald forest battles are buried, and where most of the Canadians killed in Germany are interred.

The other two in Holland are at Bergen-op-Zoom and at Holten, 12 miles east of Doornik on the IJssel river.

FOOD FOR DEVELOPMENT

Pointing out that the food people eat may be compared to the soil in which plants are set to grow, nutrition authorities of the Department of National Health and Welfare urge more attention to the daily diet or growth, development and replenishment.

"The body's source of nourishment requires the same care and selection as is given to the soil," said a leading food authority. "Meals may be as nutritious as they are tasty. There are certain basic rules to follow—not a complicated regimen, simply realization and practice of well-known laws indicating essential food requirements."

As a guide to those who realize that health is wealth, and that more than cost deserves consideration in food purchases, the government has printed a set of "Canada's Food Rules." These, and other informational material, may be obtained, on application, through provincial Health Departments, or the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa.

HEALTH OUTDOORS

Those who complain that the climate of Canada is not conducive to a fit standard of health, find little support among health experts at Ottawa. Officials in the Department of National Health and Welfare, pointing out to Canada's well-known hardiness of human material, declare that such weather as the Dominion offers is excellent for development of a sturdy, disease-resisting stock.

While wind, rain, sun or snow may be hard on such lifeless objects as structures of brick and stone, they are essential to life. As an example, the experts point to growing things which, when robbed of a fair share of the outdoors, become stunted, pale and anaemic. Likewise, human beings who spend their time indoors, are afraid to venture into the elements and who coddle themselves, are becoming ill-fitted to withstand the buffeting winds of fate, mental as well as physical, as they are to stand up to the blustering day.

SOCIAL WORKERS WANTED

Under special arrangement with the federal government, courses for welfare workers are being expanded in Canadian universities to meet the growing need for trained social service personnel. Grants for scholarships and aids in training students for this profession, have been arranged with the Maritime School of Social Work, at Halifax, and in cooperation with the Schools of Social Work at the universities of Montreal, Laval, McGill, Toronto, Manitoba and British Columbia.

With development of its welfare programme, Canada has issued a call for those with special social service qualifications to join in the work of raising the standard of conditions in the Dominion. Relatively few are already qualified, but it is expected that the country's needs will be met as training of newcomers to this field progresses.

NOISE AND VIBRATION

Noise, one of the many disadvantages of complex modern life, is recognized as a social evil. Centralization of traffic and industry in urban areas has so intensified destructive effects of noise and vibration as to constitute these conditions a major health engineering problem.

Transit development, as well as growing street traffic, brings a rapid and continual increase in the sources of vibration and noise. Increased traffic facilities are accompanied by increased height of buildings, and, since the susceptibility to vibration of steel or concrete structures increases with their height, the effects of vibration are intensified. Modern business conditions increase human susceptibility, moreover, so that vibration and noise become a menace to health.

In appreciation of this threat to health, the Public Health Engineering Division of the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, has published a careful study on "Noise and Vibration Control." This report will be available shortly, through Provincial health departments.

BUYING HEALTH

Despite all assertions that money cannot buy health, authorities in the nutrition field now suggest that strength and physical well-being are, in fact, purchasable commodities. Health, they say, comes in shopping bags—when those bags are filled with health-giving foods.

For a long time, science has known of the importance of diet in preserving health. Modern nutritional science goes farther and states that some foods are definitely health-giving, while others tend to favour lowered body resistance to disease germs.

Among the healthful foods recommended by the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, and listed in the booklet "Canada's Food Rules," are:

The various women's clubs and organizations in Summerland are now resuming their activities for the fall and winter season. Although the majority of these clubs are discontinued during the busy summer and harvest months, they do an amazingly large amount of good work during their active season.

There is a wide selection of clubs in the district, both denominational and undenominational, as well as lodges, which are affiliated with the well-known men's lodges.

One of the most necessary of the auxiliaries is the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Ina Atkinson is the capable president. The Hospital Auxiliary aims to give the citizens of Summerland an up-to-date hospital with the best equipment, and efficient but kindly service.

This auxiliary to the Summerland hospital also purchases all the linen required for the hospital, as well as doing a great deal of the necessary sewing, and the entire year's canning, including all the tomato juice used by the hospital.

The nurses' requirements in furnishings and a great deal of hospital equipment are also purchased by the Hospital Auxiliary, who raised a large sum for the new X-ray machine, which was recently installed.

All requirements that are possible are purchased in Summerland. Funds are raised through the generosity of citizens, who support the Auxiliary at dances, teas and other functions.

With the erection of the new hospital wing, the work and responsibilities of the Hospital Auxiliary will be heavier than usual, and a busy campaign for the winter is being planned.

Hospital Auxiliary meetings are held at the hospital on the first Monday of the month, at 8 p.m. who spend their time indoors, are afraid to venture into the elements and who coddle themselves, are becoming ill-fitted to withstand the buffeting winds of fate, mental as well as physical, as they are to stand up to the blustering day.

Another active group of women in Summerland is the Women's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada. There are two branches to this auxiliary, the afternoon and evening branches. The W.A. is responsible for the maintenance of all women's missionaries of the Church of England in Canada, and of all the work among women and children in the overseas field, as well as occupying a similar responsibility towards all such work in Canada. The W.A. undertakes a definite share towards the grants made for white, Indian and Eskimo missions.

"The love of Christ constraineth us" is the motto of the W.A., using this motto as the keynote of all its work.

Though primarily organized for missionary work, the branches are also responsible for work in their own parishes. In Summerland, the W.A. built the Parish hall and is solely responsible for its maintenance. Meetings are held twice a month for the afternoon branch, and once a month for the evening branch, which is composed of the younger women. Any baptized woman may become a member of the W.A., and new members are very welcome.

Prominent among the women's lodges in Summerland is the Hope Lodge of the L.O.B.A., which is headed for the 1946 season by Bertha Advocate. This lodge exists for the purpose of preservation and development of Protestantism, the maintenance of laws and the constitution of our country, to exercise benevolence and charity, and to minister to the need of the sick and afflicted.

The Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association is, as the name implies, an auxiliary to the Loyal Orange Association, and the motto is: "One School, One Flag, One Language." Each member is called upon to protect and influence to the best of her ability the public school system of the land, and to promote by means of her time, money and individual efforts, the welfare and Christian development of the young, and particularly of orphans.

The work of the Hope lodge is mainly in support of the Loyal Protestant Home for Children, in New Westminster, to which many donations, such as apples, are sent. Donations are also made to local charities and to the hospital.

There are many other lodges, auxiliaries and clubs for women in Summerland that are doing excellent work in a wide variety of fields, and in recognition of this work there will appear in this column on occasions throughout the fall similar comments and descriptions of these organizations.

Anglicans Hold Women's Institute Makes Vernon Meeting Donation To Memorial Fund

VERNON—Church officials and lay delegates of the Anglican Church, gathered last week in Vernon to attend the Okanagan Clerical Chapter and Deanery Hall. Under the leadership of the Most Rev. W. R. Adams, Archbishop of the Kootenays, and the Venerable Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole, Kelowna, meetings were held with the Rev. Canon H. C. B. Gibson presiding.

Rev. Yerbergh was selected to take over secretarial duties because of Rev. Sharman's transfer to Revelstoke. Written reports from the parishes revealed that all had fulfilled their Block Assessments and it was decided to maintain these at their present level for the ensuing year.

In the recent Anglican Advance Appeal, the Okanagan deanery drive was supervised by P. S. Sterling, Vernon, and Mr. Webb, Kelowna. Mr. Webb's report showed that the district had raised 20 per cent more than its quota in this effort.

The executive report tendered by Archdeacon Adams, was of particular interest to the assembly because of the many topics at present under advisement. Following Rev. Brisal's report on ministers' pensions, this matter was discussed fully.

V. Pellett, Armstrong, president of the Laymen's Order, informed the clergy of the work being done to foster and organize Men's Clubs in the various parishes and he invited suggestions from the club members in developing the organizations into an essential part of the Church.

Guest of honor at the dinner served by the ladies of All Saints' Parish, was the Very Rev. Cecil Swanson, Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, who gave a comprehensive report on the recent Synod meeting in Winnipeg. He also urged that younger clergy consider accepting work in northern Canada, both to further the work of the Church and to gain valuable experience.

Summerland's Women's Institute voted the sum of $50 towards the Living Memorial campaign, when the monthly meeting was held in the Parish hall on Nov. 8, with 32 members in attendance.

Besides this contribution, another $25 was voted towards the W.I. memorial fund, which is to go towards the scholarship in home economics at U.B.C. This amount is the assessment for each Institute in the province for the year. This is a provincial project now that the Othea Scott memoria is complete.

As the Women's Institute has been largely responsible for the creation of a chair of home economics at the university, it was felt that its war memorial should take this form.

Mrs. S. A. MacDonald reported that all jars of coins had been collected from local stores and the receipts, $13.50, are to be handed over to Mrs. R. C. Palmer, treasurer of the local Red Cross, for the purchase of fruit juice for Britain.

Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon reported that 180 valid meat coupons had been turned in. Many more which had been cancelled, were also collected, but these are of no value now.

Suggestions from provincial conveners were read from the W.I. bulletin.

Mrs. A. McLachlan, convener of crafts and industries, advocated a survey of each district to ascertain the skills and abilities among the people, especially those from other nations where there is such a wonderful opportunity to graft their knowledge to that of the new world.

Names of gifted workers who would like to exhibit and sell their work are being sought by Mrs. McLachlan by the year-end. It is hoped an exhibition and sale of such homecraft will be held in 1947.

Mrs. J. J. Blewett demonstrated the making of painted ornaments and decorations from salt, flour and water, while Mrs. A. K. MacLeod showed methods of making lino cuts for the production of Christmas cards and decorative mats.

Members and visitors tried their hand at these fascinating occupations. Tea was served by Mrs. McCutcheon and Mrs. Bingham, making the afternoon a complete success.

IMMIGRATION IS TOPIC OF FORUM

"Immigration" was the topic discussed recently by citizens' forums throughout Canada. Here are highlights from reports just received by the provincial secretary from B.C. forums.

(1) Canada can support more people, provided we manage our economy so as to develop fully our natural resources. Immigrants mean more goods, a greater home market, reduced government costs per capita.

(2) Half B.C. forums say, "Let's have no discrimination amongst immigrants as to race, color or creed." The other half say, "Accept only immigrants from other countries whose climate and way of life are similar to ours."

(3) Its a majority opinion that Canada has a moral obligation to accept refugees but some forums feel there should be careful screening by government authorities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Heichert were weekend visitors to Spokane.

Council

to give the commission free water," he concluded, pointing out that this is not an industrial proposition.

Reeve Powell, in reply, pointed out that the revenue from sportsmen's licenses this year amount to $435,000, while the government is only allowing the game commission about $300,000 for its operations, thus retaining more than $100,000 for consolidated revenue. "You may think that water is free, but that isn't sound logic," he continued, pointing out that there is a cost to keep up the water system.

Would Not Co-operate

Reeve Powell also reminded Mr. Snow that several years ago, when the municipality was planning on increasing its water services in lower town, the council of that day asked the government to come in with it in its scheme to make provision for just such a hatchery as is now proposed. But the government would not entertain such an idea.

The pipe line which the hatchery would tap was installed at a cost of $2,000 to the municipality.

Plain Business

"It's just plain business," was Councillor Atkinson's contention in defending the council's decision to conform to its normal water rates at the meeting when he was acting reeve.

"I haven't appreciated the rumors going around about myself as the result of that meeting with Commissioner Cunningham."

Councillor Eric Tait believed that the Commissioner made a mistake in stating his objections to the council attitude when he addressed the sportsmen's banquet. He should have told the council his objections.

That the government is asking the municipality to pay for too many of its services now, was Councillor Wilson's contention, pointing to the fact that Summerland is employing a policeman here but he has to do work of a government agent.

Councillor Wilson also voiced the opinion that most of the objections to the council attitude emanated from Granville Morgan, local fisheries officer.

"I think that the government should pay for the water but I'm not in favor of taking the money from the game club," he stated.

Favors Free Water

Councillor Tait declared himself in favor of giving free water to the hatchery, although he differed from Mr. Snow in the importance of the hatchery, believing that there were many concerns which could be established on this important waterfront which would bring in more revenue to Summerland as a whole. Municipal Clerk Nixon pointed out that a bylaw would be necessary to give the hatchery free water, as the council would not be empowered to take such a step by itself.

"I don't look at the situation any differently than I did at the last meeting," was Councillor Atkinson's viewpoint.

"I move the action of the last council meeting be sustained," was Councillor D. Taylor's offering.

"I'll second that to support myself," stated Councillor Atkinson. On the vote, Councillor Wilson declined from voting, saying he is a member of the local sportsman's club. Councillor Tait gave no reason for not voting.

Before Mr. Snow had appeared before the council the contentious subject came up for discussion, it being pointed out that the quoted rate for water is a normal rate and does not constitute any raise to the hatchery.

Reeve Powell gave his opinion then that Commissioner Cunningham had been indiscreet to make an issue of the subject when he did—at a public meeting, rather than to return to the council with his objections.

"Mr. Cunningham seemed satisfied when he was here," was Councillor Taylor's reaction.

Mrs. H. A. Solly, who recently suffered from a bad fall, in which she injured her leg, is improving slowly but is still confined to her home.

REV. KENNETH L. MILES

At the Baptist church in West Summerland, on Sunday, Nov. 17, Rev. Kenneth L. Miles, minister of the First Baptist church, Wenatchee, will preach on the occasion of the 41st anniversary service of the church here. At the old Summerland hotel, the first services of the Baptist congregation were held 41 years ago, with Rev. Thomas Ritchie, a brother of Will Ritchie, officiating. Rev. Ritchie is now retired in Victoria. The only surviving charter member of the congregation is Mrs. James Ritchie.

Clothing For Europe Dire Need Now

Pressing need of clothing for the ragged and starving women and children of Europe will keep Red Cross workers busy for some months, states Mrs. F. D. Goddard, chairman of the provincial women's work committee for the B.C. division, Canadian Red Cross Society. A special appeal is made to women all over the province, who knit for their own families, to spare a few moments for the homeless and cold thousands of Europe.

British Columbia's quota for the winter work has been set at 1,500 layettes and 33,215 articles of clothing for infants, children and women, with an almost unlimited number of children's socks, sweaters, caps, mitts and scarves. Already two large shipments have been sent from the national Red Cross warehouse in Montreal to the Red Cross Normandy committee where they were distributed in co-operation with the French Red Cross.

Dr. Fred W. Routley, National Commissioner, who recently returned from a trip to England, France and Geneva, stresses the need for more supplies for those areas. Reports are being sent from various European Red Cross societies of their most urgent needs and it is hoped that the Canadian Red Cross will be able to make substantial gifts towards meeting them.

"I have returned from seeing and discussing the great needs of scores of millions of people in Europe," states Dr. Routley. "Little children, who are at starvation's door and whose little arms, legs and necks can be spanned by the finger and thumb of one hand; whose emaciated bodies are covered by rags and tatters, whose bony little feet are bare." The plight of hundreds of thousands of little children is screaming their tragic condition and their dire needs.

"I wish every Red Cross woman who has had a part in this great work of mercy, could have heard with me the dramatic expressions of gratitude by Red Cross representatives from all countries who attended the recent Red Cross conferences. If they had, every heart would have swelled with fervent desire to continue this work."

Jack Walsh and Don Rand left on Saturday for Nanaimo, where they will spend several days.

LECTURE TOUR ON ART IS PLANNED

The U.B.C. department of university extension in co-operation with the Federation of Canadian Artists, B.C. region, has arranged a unique lecture tour in the interest of community art.

Between the dates of November 15th and December 6th, Mr. B. C. Binning, the noted Canadian artist and president of the federation, will visit centres in the Kamloops, Okanagan, border, west and east-Kootenay areas.

Purpose of this tour is to seek information for an art survey of these districts and to offer assistance, if needed, in the field of community art. Mr. Binning will meet local artists and see their work, discuss community art programs and, as a representative of the U.B.C. extension department, will give public lectures on some phase of Canadian art today.

He will also attempt to discover ways in which the university and the federation of Canadian artists can assist communities in the development of their art program.

It is emphasized, however, that this unique tour has been arranged subject to the interest shown by these particular centres. Individuals in each community are being asked to form a sponsoring committee which will handle all the arrangements.

SPRINKLER SYSTEMS

Summerland council will investigate the entire question of providing irrigation water for sprinkler systems, following the application of Alf Johnston for water seven days a week rather than the two days he now receives his irrigation supply. It is expected that other similar applications will be received and the council must reach a conclusion which will be fair to all water users.

FIRE PROTECTION UNDER DISCUSSION

Reeve W. R. Powell has met A. E. Smith, chairman of the Board of Trade fire protection committee and J. R. Campbell and W. Beattie of the West Summerland Fire Protection Assn. with a view to discussing further improvements to the fire protection system.

He reported to the council on Wednesday that no definite conclusion had been reached but that a further report would be forthcoming shortly. He hoped that before long some further equipment could be purchased without any great expenditure.

His Worship pointed out that the present fire brigade, with its equipment, had handled recent blazes extremely well which would indicate that there was no reason for any excessive purchases to be made.

POPPY SALE HERE BRINGS RESPONSE FROM ALL SIDES

Members of the Boy Scout troop in Summerland sold poppies throughout this municipality on Saturday, Nov. 9. Results of the day's sale have not been announced yet, but it is known that the public generally contributed generously toward this fund, which goes to veterans who were incapacitated in World War I. Wounded and crippled veterans who cannot otherwise be employed, manufacture these poppies and wreaths and the sales go towards their reimbursement.

Mr. George Fudge, who handled the distribution of the poppies for the Summerland branch of the Canadian Legion, states that the results of the sale, also the sale of wreaths to organizations and business houses, will be announced next week.

Mexican Braised Liver.

Simmered with vegetables and served on a bed of rice, liver takes on the airs of a Spanish-American supper. Liver's rich flavor is equaled by all its rich supply of vitamins A and D, thiamin, riboflavin niacin, iron and other minerals. To prepare Mexican Braised Liver: Dredge 1 1/2 pounds sliced liver with flour. Brown in 8 tablespoons bacon drippings. Prepare and dice 6 carrots, 2 green peppers, and 6 small onions. Arrange in mounds on pieces of liver. Season with salt and pepper and add 1/4 cup water; cover. Simmer gently for about forty-five minutes or until vegetables are tender, adding more water if necessary. Serve on a bed of fluffy brown rice. Serves 6.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY

Twenty-one miles of the trans-Canada highway between Chase and Revelstoke, have been repaired and surfaced. Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, states that tenders have been called for the reconstruction of nearly nine miles of the southern trans-provincial highway in the Grand Forks-Greenwood district. The bids were returnable Nov. 13. The work planned is rebuilding the six miles from Rock Creek to Ingram Bridge, and rebuilding of 2.8 miles of the Kerr Creek revision.

Capilano To Make Another Bid For Route

KELOWNA—W. G. Townley, of Capilano Airways Ltd., Vancouver, told the aviation committee of the Kelowna Board of Trade last week, that his company is definitely interested in establishing circular air routes between Kelowna and Vancouver, touching at Vernon and Kamloops, just as soon as suitable facilities were available and a licence could be obtained.

Mr. Townley stated that his company was reapplying for a franchise to operate a route from Vancouver to Lethbridge. A former application had been turned down by the transportation board, but the decision is being appealed. The company hopes, Mr. Townley stated, that a franchise will be granted.

In a brief going forward from the company to Hon. C. D. Howe, the company offers to carry air-mail for 37 1/2 cents per mile. The original request was for 50 cents, the amount now being paid on most of the C.P.A. routes, and somewhat less than 60 cents which was paid the Trans-Canada for four years. The government has offered the company a contract at 20 cents.

In suggesting the figure of 37 1/2 cents, the company states it would only seek this rate for two years until it can get established.

Originally, three companies applied for licences to operate the Vancouver-Lethbridge route, but only the Capilano carried through. That company's application was turned down for a number of cited reasons by the air transport board and the decision caused considerable adverse comment, as the reasons seemed entirely inadequate.

Subsequently, in Parliament, Mr. Howe admitted the "real reason" was the air-mail rate.

According to Mr. Townley, Capilano, if successful in its appeal, will commence operating one daily Lethbridge, stopping at Penticton, round trip between Vancouver and Salmo or Castlegar, and Kimberley or Cranbrook.

In its original application, the company asked that it be granted reserve rights on a line serving the Okanagan to Vancouver.

The company is strongly financed and has on its board of directors several of the province's most prominent businessmen.

Len Hill Urges Window Decorations

Summerland Retail merchants were reminded by their president, Len Hill, that decorations should be provided in their store windows and along the street for civic holidays and for the Christmas season.

Mr. Hill spoke of The Review editorial of some months ago when attention was drawn to the fact that only one flag was visible on Granville street on Dominion Day.

A request will be made to the council to provide Christmas trees for the business section during the Christmas season.

Christmas carols will be provided by the retail merchants over a loud speaker system in the business section on Christmas Eve, while other plans are being formulated to attract prospective shoppers to the town area during the shopping days just prior to the holiday.

Mr. C. B. "Tim" Hill was a week-end visitor to Vancouver, returning to Summerland on Tuesday morning.

Freight Rates Battle To Start

Mr. C. H. Locke, K.C., of the legal firm of Locke, Lane, Guild and Sheppard, of Vancouver, and one of British Columbia's outstanding lawyers, has been appointed counsel to represent the B.C. Government in the presentation of the province's case for equalization of freight rates, and any objections the government may wish to make in connection with the recent application of the railway companies for a 30 per cent increase in railway freight rates, it is announced by Premier John Hart.

This is another step in the provincial government's fight to secure an equalization of freight rates involving the abolition of mountain rates which have long been a "bone of contention" insofar as western manufacturers and agricultural producers are concerned. For some time, the premier stated, the Bureau of Economics, under the direction of Mr. Neil Perry, economic adviser to the government, has been studying this question and preparing the necessary information. Mr. Perry and his staff will continue to work in collaboration with Mr. Locke in the preparation of the case.

The premier has telegraphed to Colonel James Alberta Cross K.C., chief commissioner of the Board of Transport in Ottawa, asking him that in connection with the application from the railway companies for an increase in freight rates that "no consideration be given the application for increase in rates until such time as the question of rates has been considered and dealt with" by the board.

The premier also stated that the government of British Columbia wishes to be represented at the hearings and asked to be advised as to the date when the hearings would commence.

Some time ago, the premier consulted with the three western premiers so that there would be a unanimity of action in connection with this question. The premiers of the three western provinces agreed to act in concert in connection with the presentation of the case for equalization of freight rates.

KELOWNA EDITOR HEAD OF WEEKLIES

R. P. MacLean, editor of the Kelowna Courier, succeeded Grev Rowland, Penticton Herald publisher, as president of the B.C. Division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Assn., which held its annual convention at Harrison Hot Springs on Oct. 18 and 19. Directors are: Ralph White, Kamloops; Eric Dunning, Haney; A. H. Alsgard, Powell River; A. B. Stanley, Nakusp; Stanley Orris, Grand Forks; Cecil Hacker, Chilliwack; Frank Marshall, Salmon Arm; F. C. E. Ford, Sidney.

One of the highlights of the convention was the presentation of a life membership to retiring Secretary J. E. Jamieson, Armstrong. Mr. Jamieson has held this post for 15 years and is being succeeded by A. W. Lundell, Revelstoke.

Speakers at the convention included W. L. Mackin, president, Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Assn.; Lt.-Col. D. J. Baldwin, Chilliwack; M. J. O'Brien, Vancouver; Senator J. W. deB. Farris, Vancouver.

An interesting film, "River of Paper," was presented by Powell River Sales Co., Ltd., detailing the intricate process of producing paper.

J. R. Armstrong, editor of The Review, was present for the convention.

MUNICIPAL COMMISSION

H. Carl Goldenberg, sole commissioner on provincial-municipal relations, is now busily engaged in preparing his report for submission to the government and vowing to crystallize the main issues in the hands of the premier towards the end of December. Out of a bewildering maze of over half a million words of transcript and briefs, Mr. Goldenberg is endeavoring to crystallize the main issues upon which to base his findings.

PEACHLAND—Rev. H. S. McDonald officiated at the thirty-fifth anniversary service held in United Church recently. Mr. McDonald's address touched on the formation of the church in Peachland, and the first service which was held on November 5, 1911. This was followed some years later by Union.

The minister took for his text, Matthew 16, verse 15: "But whom say ye that I am?" Mr. McDonald spoke of forming a Young People's Society. "The young people of today are tomorrow's congregations," he said. Mrs. W. E. Clements sang, "Open the Gates of the Temple." C. C. Inglis was organist.

FRUIT GROWERS NEED TO BUILD PICKERS' HOUSES

Fruit Growers in the Summerland district have been told by competent labor officials that they must provide adequate accommodation for their hired help if they wish to have their crop harvested in time. Without this accommodation, a fruit grower cannot be assured of the help necessary to pick the fall and summer crops.

If you, as a fruit grower, are not in a position to finance such a building programme, why not visit the Bank of Montreal? Mr. H. E. Woodford, Manager of the West Summerland branch, will be glad to discuss any grower's problems. Financing for these pickers' houses and other necessary additions to the economical operation of the fruit ranch, are part and parcel of the Bank's services.

Such investments are good business and the Bank of Montreal stands ready and willing to assist the fruit grower in his financing problems.—Advt.

Game Comissioner Does Not Like Local Charge For Fish Hatchery Water In Summerland

Summerland council received a gentle chiding from Game Commissioner James Cunningham, guest at the second annual banquet of the Summerland Fish, Game and Forest Protective association, held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Thursday evening, Nov. 7. The well-known sportsman, who heads the game commission, was not satisfied with the offer made by the Summerland council to supply water at $100 per year and "made no bones" about his displeasure when he addressed the crowded banquet hall.

It was a pleasant affair, this second annual sportsmen's dinner, the venison having been supplied by Gordon Mountford and the ladies of the Rebekah lodge turned out an excellent repast for which they received warm plaudits from many of the speakers. More than 125 persons sat down to the banquet.

Bill Snow, president of the association, was chairman, while greetings were brought from Mark Hugo, Pentiction club prexy; Abe Braun, Oliver, vice-president of the Interior Sportsmen's association; and Gordon Toombs, organizer of junior fish and game groups in the interior.

Inspector C. H. "Jimmy" Robinson, Nelson, of the fisheries department, spoke briefly on the need for more conservation of fish and game, with the supply being taxed more than ever before.

Mr. Cunningham, after discussing the needs of the game commission for increased expenditures on fish and game, branched into his favorite subject, the fish hatchery proposed for Summerland.

Chose This Site

He reviewed the commission's aim to establish permanent hatcheries, as there is more need to spend money on fish propagation than game. Each district in the Okanagan was given an opportunity to sell the commission a choice of sites, but in the end, Summerland was chosen, mainly because of the water supply.

Mr. Cunningham then explained that he had approached the council and obtained a price of $230 for an extra 34-foot frontage adjoining the present hatchery site and this would be sufficient for the needs. Mr. Cunningham seemed fairly satisfied with this cost.

But he took exception to the announced decision of Acting Reeve F. E. Atkinson, who said that the hatchery must pay $100 per year for a three-inch connection. He did not explain to the meeting, but the council had given Mr. Cunningham assurance that if a two-inch connection would meet all requirements, the cost would be $50 per year.

Given Free Water

"Your acting reeve was certainly looking after the interests of the municipality," commented the big game commissioner, who stated that Vancouver, Nanaimo, Nelson, and any other spot which had a hatchery, provides water free for the propagation of fish for sport purposes, knowing that this project is a great incentive to the tourist industry.

"I began to boil inside the more I thought about this $100 water, knowing that your sportsmen here want the hatchery and we want to give it to you," he declared.

Some of the game commission's difficulties in coping with the need for more work on fish and game with little more financial assistance, was stressed by Mr. Cunningham.

"There is no place like the lower half of Okanagan lake, but the fishing isn't what it should be," he declared. "There are few spawning grounds left in the Okanagan lake watershed, so we have to raise fry by artificial means and liberate them to keep up the sport fishing."

In twelve years, the game commission's revenues have gone up nearly three times, but there has been little increase in staff and not much more equipment, he continued. In 1933, there were 637 non-resident licences issued in B.C., while in 1944, that figure had jumped to 2,004. Sport fishing interest in this province had increased by a greater amount than game.

The increase in non-resident licences from 1944 to 1945 alone was more than one thousand.

Need For More Funds
Mr. Cunningham declared that the present attorney-general and his predecessor, the late Hon. R. L. Matland, were keen to add to the facilities for sportsmen, and to increase the financial assistance to the commission, but one member could not get far in the legislature without support.

He urged the sportsmen present to acquaint their member in the provincial legislature with the sportsmen's problems and the need for increased expenditures. He instanced the State of Washington, which is spending more than a million dollars this year "to try and bring back what they have lost" in fish and game facilities.

Another interesting speaker at the banquet was Gordon Toombs, Pentiction, who has been authorized to promote junior rod and gun clubs throughout the province. He stated that within a short time a junior sportsman's club would be started here.

"I find wherever I go in B.C. that junior boys and girls are willing to organize and build up fish and game," he declared. He instanced one project for this district in the

Granville Morgan Honored By Local Sportsmen At Dinner

Tribute to an outstanding Summerland sportsman who has probably accomplished more for fish and game conservation and extension in this district than any other person, was tendered at the second annual sportsman's banquet to Granville Morgan, retiring fish hatchery supervisor.

Mr. Morgan has lived in this district for 54 years and has devoted the past twenty years to the fisheries service. He announced his retirement here a few months ago, knowing that his dream of a permanent fish hatchery which would be a credit to the district, was about to be fulfilled.

A handsome presentation of a fountain pen was tendered Mr. Morgan on his retirement, Reeve W. R. Powell officiating on behalf of the sportsmen present.

"You've been a 'good egg' as long as you have been in service," declared His Worship, adding a facetious remark regarding Mr. Morgan's constant endeavors on behalf of the fish hatchery.

Mr. Morgan referred back to the early days before there was any need for game regulations and game was plentiful. After the turn of the century, Mr. Morgan acted as a provincial policeman and later as a game warden, becoming thoroughly conversant with the need for enforcement of regulations.

For fifteen years he served as a member of the Dominion Fisheries Service, and then for five years in the Provincial Fisheries Service when that department was taken over by the B.C. government.

In conclusion, he urged every member to become an honorary game warden for the conservation of fish and game in the province.

"I am very sorry to see Granville Morgan retiring, as he is one of the most faithful servants we have ever had," declared Commissioner James Cunningham, during his address to the banquet.

During the course of the banquet, a vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Smith, of Detroit, who is visiting her brother-in-law, Mr. Louis Smith, in Summerland. Johnny Betuzzi's cornet solo also received the plaudits of the gathering.

Two proud Summerland juniors came forward to receive their prizes for the greatest number of legs and eggs of crows and magpies captured this season. These lads were Mel Monro, with 25 pairs of legs, and John Huva with 23 pairs.

At the outset of the banquet, Reeve W. R. Powell expressed his pleasure at the invitation to the banquet, and spoke briefly on the need for organization among sportsmen so they could present a united voice for the authorities and also strengthen the principles of sportsmanship.

At the conclusion of the banquet, some excellent films were displayed by Game Commissioner Cunningham.

Kelowna Memorial Fund Nears Top

Kelowna and District War Memorial Committee has collected $95,000 and has pledges still to be redeemed to bring this sum up to $100,000. Objective when the drive was instituted a year ago, was for $130,000, which was deemed sufficient to erect a recreational centre in Kelowna.

A. K. Loyd, chairman of the Kelowna committee, has stated work has not been undertaken on this project because of existing conditions in the building trade. No tender can be obtained giving a firm bid, so the committee, as trustees of the fund, does not feel that it is justified in commencing construction unless it can be shown the actual cost.

"A further secondary campaign will be necessary to reach our basic objective," states Mr. Loyd. He hopes that with many newcomers in the district since the

Andrew Bennie Re-Elected To Interior Body

Andrew Bennie, of Penticton, and formerly of Summerland, was re-elected president of the Interior Basketball Assn., when delegates from Princeton, Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna, Vernon and Kamloops gathered at the Women's Institute hall in Kelowna on Sunday afternoon for the annual meeting.

C. J. Bleasdale, Summerland, retired as secretary of the Interior association and this post has been taken by Jack Hooper, Penticton. Mr. Bleasdale was named first vice-president, and Chris Wright, Kamloops, as 2nd vice-president.

In his annual report, Mr. Bennie stressed that basketball staged a big comeback last season and is expected to be even more popular in the coming winter. There were 34 teams entered for the interior playoffs last season and this figure is expected to be boosted.

One of the main resolutions to meet the cage representatives' approval on Sunday was a request to the B.C. body that the Kootenay area be disassociated from the interior association as the set-up has become too spread out for proper control.

Attempts will be made to force all teams who enter playoffs to go through with their commitments as defaults last year caused much grief and some clubs were out of pocket thereby.

Only one team will be accepted as an entry in any one division from one town in the interior, it was decided, and the interior champions from the year before have the right to play the final of the home and home series on their own floor.

An expression of confidence in the interior referees' association was recorded by the meeting and the Kelowna officers, Chas Pettman and Jim Whillis were asked to carry on their work.

Honorary presidents elected were Dr. A. Irving, Kamloops; A. Alexis, Vernon; W. Spear, Kelowna; C. J. Huddleston, Summerland, and Reeve Robert Lyon, Penticton.

Directors consist of "Dolly" Grey, Vernon, for the North Okanagan; central Okanagan. Jim Whillis, Kelowna; south Okanagan, George Hope, Penticton; Mr. Mulen, Similkameen.

Vernon Cagers To Appear Saturday

One of the strong contenders for the interior senior B. cage championship this year, Vernon's senior squad, will appear on the floor of the school gymnasium on Saturday night for the feature attraction of the second in the series of exhibition games.

Summerland juniors go on the floor for the first time when they meet Penticton juniors in the curtain raiser at 8:30 o'clock.

Last week-end, Princeton seniors showed the calibre of ball which swept them to the interior title last season when they downed Penticton seniors in a fast-scoring tilt.

Vernon has added several players of note a few years back, including the Ward brothers, Bill and Earl, who were prominent in Kelowna circles prior to their enlistment in the air force.

SOCIAL EVENING IS ENJOYED BY MANY AT ELLISON HALL

Legion members and their guests enjoyed a social evening and dancing at Ellison hall last Monday evening, Remembrance Day. Two hours of varied entertainment kept the large audience attention from eight o'clock to ten o'clock and, following a delightful supper, dancing was continued until one o'clock Tuesday morning.

The WA of the Canadian Legion, assisted by a committee from Summerland branch No. 22 was in charge of the annual Legion party. Music for dancing was provided by a local six-piece orchestra which had been formed for the occasion.

Vocal solos during the social were rendered by A. D. Glen, Mrs. L. Fudge and Mrs. Bert Stent, while a month organ solo by Dr. H. R. McLarty was another feature. Community singing was led by Harry Howis, who also entertained with a recitation.

One of the main features of the evening was a spirited quiz program, with Dr. McLarty, Alex Watt, D. C. Thompson and Miss Margaret Dickson participating. A "shadow operation" brought many laughs as the concluding number.

C. E. "Ned" Bentley was the master of ceremonies for the social part of the evening.

LOWER TRADE'S LICENSE

It was agreed on Wednesday afternoon at the Summerland council session that the trade's license for bowling alleys had been set too high and the charge of $5 per alley will be reduced to $10 per alley in time for the first of the year, date of repayment of such licenses. Mr. John Hecker, whose local bowling alley will open this month, told the council in a letter that no other alley in the Okanagan is paying such a high trade's license.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lamey were visitors to Vancouver over the holiday weekend.

Prepare Plans

this is an immediate and urgent need, whereas the proposed junior-senior high program can be accomplished later, when building supplies are possible of attainment.

Differences in assessment under the school and municipal acts were discussed following receipt of a questionnaire from B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs. Whether fruit trees are included in the school act for assessment purposes along with land is a subject which is open to interpretation, Municipal Clerk F. J. Nixon contended, and he was asked to obtain a ruling.

Under the municipal act, trees can be assessed or they can be eliminated.

Answers to Mr. Bracewell's questionnaire are being sought for purposes of an equalization board which is to endeavor to determine a fair and equal basis of assessment for all municipalities and rural areas in B.C. for school purposes.

Mr. Torchy Anderson, well-known Vancouver Province news staff representative, who recently returned to Vancouver from Ottawa, where he was covering the sessions of the House of Commons for the Southam Bureau, was a visitor to Summerland on Monday. Mr. Anderson was renewing acquaintances in the Okanagan after an absence in the east for six years.

Living Memorial Drive Tops $6,000 Than One-Third

With less than one-third of the citizens canvassed, the Summerland Living Memorial Drive, sponsored by the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee, had received more than $6,000, or approximately one-quarter of the objective of $25,000, it was revealed on Tuesday night when canvassers and members of the finance committee met in the municipal hall. Some canvassers have only just started on their tour of their districts, while others reported less than half the houses had been visited. The drive is expected to close at the end of this month and a concerted drive has been promised by all canvassers to endeavor to visit all homes before that time. The objective is to raise sufficient funds to develop two parks in West Summerland and maintain them for five years, when they will be handed over intact to the municipality as Summerland's Living Memorial to those who fought in the two World Wars.

Encouraging Results

Although some canvassers were not overly-jubilant as to the results to date, it was felt by all members that the results at this early date were encouraging.

Many large contributions have been received, including a number of $100 and $200 donations from business firms. The board of trade leads the way with $544.66 from its parks fund which has been held for some time for this express purpose. The board of trade is also donating $100 from its general revenue.

The Occidental Fruit Co. is next in line with $300, while the B.C. Fruit Shippers Ltd., has sent along a $100 cheque. Both these firms donated generously to other Summerland funds, including the original purchase of the board of trade property as well as the scholarship fund.

Contributions range all the way from $1 to $100 from individuals and families. War Savings certificates, Victory bonds and cash make up these donations, while others are giving cash and signing crop orders, or orders on their employers or bank for monthly deductions.

Some citizens have given to their utmost at present and have indicated to the committee that they would like to make further donations at a later date when their financial situations have been made clearer.

All donors are given an opportunity to have their donations published in The Review, or they can remain anonymous.

What To Give

"What amount should I give?" is a common question asked the canvasser. In reply, the committee points out that there is no stipulated amount from any person.

"We feel that it is the most worthwhile project ever to confront the citizens of this community," declared Chairman F. E. Atkinson to the Review yesterday. "With this in mind, every person should give to the utmost of their ability."

"We have estimated that if we can obtain an average of $25 to $35 per family, then we can reach our objective of $25,000. Some families cannot afford to give that amount, others can afford a lot more. But we must have an average of that sum in order to go over the top," he concluded.

A list of those whose donations had been turned in to the Memorial Parks Committee Treasurer, E. R. Butler, up to Tuesday night can be found in another column of this issue.

Rush of Fruit To Markets Has Dropped Down

Movement of fruit from the Okanagan has slackened considerably in the past ten days to two weeks after the big rush which featured October and the early part of the month. Car loadings last week only amounted to 135, but even at that movement is still two thousand cars ahead of any previous season.

At Saturday, total movement was set at 11,500 cars, compared to 7,974 at the same date in 1945 and 9,502 in the previous year.

Because of lack of shipping there is a temporary lull of apples going to the Old Country but it is expected that ships will be available from the west coast early in December.

The United States market has firmed somewhat but only about ten cars a week are proceeding to the markets to the south. Shipments to the U.S. are only a quarter of the figure for the same period in 1944, the previous big crop year.

Rod Delicious in reasonable quantities are going forward for delivery to Brazil from New York port.

Demand for B.C. apples in eastern Canada is better this week but only extra fancy and fancy grades are being shipped, to the exclusion of cee grades.

Creston and Nelson packing houses have stopped operation because of the volume of snow which has fallen this week.

The Summerland Review

Vol. 1, No. 25. West Summerland, B.C., Thursday, November 21, 1946.

Once upon a time there were two little puppies looking for a home. One found one and the other found none. And, above, is how it looked. The little pup on the left was ahead of the other one and found this cozy glass house in Kent, England. He sneers. The other (paging Wartime Housing) sadly looks on.

Weather Man Turns His Icy Grip On Area

Summerland lies blanketed under a covering of three inches of snow today, first snow fall of the year having descended on Sunday. Temperatures have dropped to 10 above zero and with a cold north wind blowing furnaces are being stoked at a rapid rate, motor vehicles are getting around with difficulty and the entire district is in the grip of Old Man Winter.

Snow started to fall early Sunday morning and continued most of the day, stopping for a few hours at dusk. The north wind sprang up late Sunday evening bringing with it continuation of the snowfall.

Monday saw snow falling most of the day and intermittent falls have been recorded since.

Tuesday night saw the wind rise in intensity as the temperature dropped for the second straight night to ten above.

This is one of the earliest really cold snaps recorded in the history of the area although no records have been set, according to old-timers. There have been earlier snowfalls but this is one of the severest cold snaps for this time of the year.

A few water pipes have been frozen and some cars which were not properly tended have been stalled by the cold blasts.

Railroad schedules have been disrupted considerably as the cold weather has spread throughout the entire interior of the province. Snow fell in Vancouver, as well as throughout the rest of B.C.

On Tuesday morning the west-bound train was eight hours late and yesterday morning the west-bound went through at 8:22 o'clock instead of 11:50 p.m. Tuesday night.

However, the eastbound Kettle Valley train was only twenty minutes late going through yesterday morning.

Roads in this district are slippery, to say the least. Peach Orchard hill has been extremely dangerous, but some sand and gravel have been applied to alleviate the condition to a slight degree.

There have been no serious accidents reported although some motor vehicles have collided when they were unable to prevent sideswiping on the glass-like surface.

FRUIT OFFICIALS TO EAST

Three prominent fruit officials left the Okanagan yesterday for a conference with the Dominion Department of Agriculture and officials connected with American fruit interests in eastern Canada. They are A. K. Loyd, general manager, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., G. A. Barrat, chairman of B.C. Fruit Board, and J. R. J. Stirling, president of the B.C. Fruit Growers Assn.

represent them on the school board. Trustee Roy F. Angus, who has now become municipal assessor and building inspector, states he will not allow his name to go forward for another term because of pressure of other business.

Dodwell To Run
P. G. Dodwell is the other trustee whose term expires and he has intimated that he will stand for re-election. One trustee will be elected for two years and another for one year, so that in succeeding years there will be one trustee from Summerland and two from Ponticton elected each term.

No other name has been forthcoming as a likely candidate for school trustee, although it is understood that J. C. Barkwill, a Summerland trustee for ten years, has been approached.

"I am still very interested in school matters in Summerland," Mr. Barkwill told The Review on Wednesday, "but whether my health would stand it, I cannot say. If anybody else would care to take the post I wouldn't consider it."

It is understood that a number of the business men in West Summerland have been approached to contest the municipal elections as councillors, as there is a feeling in some quarters that the business section, now that improvements are being taxed and trade's licences raised, should have representation in municipal affairs.

Peach Orchard Park Bylaw Shelved: Offer Made For Hatchery

As a result of a plea from Reeve W. R. Powell, the Summerland Board of Trade as its monthly banquet in the I.O.O.F. hall, Thursday evening, completely reversed its previous decision to seek a plebiscite on the Peach Orchard Park and will go to the municipal council and ask that the public not be allowed to vote on the question of disposing of a portion to private interests for tourist camp purposes. Other interested parties spoke of long associations with this park and its possibilities as a natural beauty spot for the municipality. Coupled with their pleas was the suggestion emanating from William Snow that the game commission be asked to install its prospective fish hatchery in Peach Orchard Park rather than on the lakeshore where property is now being sought. It was felt that free water could be provided for the hatchery in the park, whereas the council had ruled that a charge of up to $100 per year would have to be made if the domestic water system is tapped.

Asked For Plebiscite

At the October meeting of the trade board, a report from the tourist and publicity committee asked the board to approach the council to seek a mandate from the people as to their wishes regarding Peach Orchard park. Earlier this year, private interests attempted to purchase a portion but the deal fell through. However, a straw vote at that time indicated a small majority of the ratepayers were in favor of selling the property, as a tourist campsite.

The board did approach the council and on Wednesday afternoon of last week three readings of the bylaw calling for the plebiscite, were passed.

However, after Thursday's session, the board will approach the council and ask that its previous request be rescinded and that no vote be taken at election time.

Last week, the council was asked by W. Snow, as president of the Summerland Fish, Game and Forest Protective Assn., to provide free water for the proposed hatchery on the lakefront. This request was turned down by the council, as reported in last week's issue of The Review.

Suggests Alternative
Then Mr. Snow, on Thursday, suggested an alternative plan whereby the hatchery could be installed in Peach Orchard park, providing an added tourist attraction for this spot.

Reeve W. R. Powell addressed the trade board Thursday night, advocating that the park in question be not allowed to go to one operator but be kept in perpetuity as a natural park. Twenty-five years ago Reeve Powell camped at this park and was so delighted with its natural beauty that he decided to remain in this district.

"It would be a tragedy to this district to let the park go to one operator," he declared. "Instead, let us operate it, not as an expensive park, but leave it in its natural state, for the benefit of everyone, not for the exploitation of a few."

He declared that it would be an expensive undertaking to clear out the underbrush and keep the park clean from year to year.

"The council will give a 99-year lease to the provincial game commission and free water if it will place its hatchery in this park," declared Reeve Powell. He admitted that previous councils had taken little cognizance of the park, but he reminded his audience that the war was over only a year and not all improvements could be undertaken in such a short time.

Roy F. Angus asked about the water supply and His Worship replied that to the best of his knowledge the water from the park spring would be as suitable (Continued on Page Eight)

Singers Section Joins Ponticton

For a special Christmas musical treat, the singers' section of the Summerland Singers' and Players' Club will join with the Ponticton United Church choir, under direction of Mrs. Monica Craig Fisher, it was announced on Tuesday evening. Practices will be held in Ponticton, commencing next Sunday afternoon, while the concert in Ponticton will be held on a Sunday close to Christmas, the date not being definitely set. Mr. Bud Steuart is the leader of the Summerland singers.

New Processing Plant Mooted For District

That Summerland is a strategic point for the establishment of an apple processing plant was pointed out by Summerland Board of Trade members last Thursday evening when various members sought action to provide some plant to replace the T. B. Young evaporating plant, destroyed by fire.

Reeve Powell, who is a director of B. C. Fruit Processors Ltd., spoke briefly on the subject and the entire matter was left with the industries committee to take whatever steps necessary to try and establish such a plant for this district.

Film Council Backed

The proposal to establish a film council, which would become a member of the provincial-wide film library and provide films on any subject desired for public and private meetings, met with the approval of the board and a sum of $50 was voted towards (Continued on Page Four)

Reeve Powell Expected To Run For Second Term

With nomination day for the Summerland municipal elections only slightly more than two weeks away, there is still no indication that there will be many new candidates coming forth to seek election.

Although he has made no definite statement, it is believed that Reeve W. R. Powell will seek re-election to the position of Chief Magistrate of the municipality. If His Worship chooses to run for a second term, there is little likelihood that he will be opposed.

Councillors F. E. Atkinson and D. Taylor have their terms concluded this year. Mr. Atkinson has stated he will allow his name to go forward for re-election, but Councillor Taylor told The Review on Tuesday that he had made up his mind to withdraw from municipal politics.

"I've had six years in office and that is enough," declared Councillor Taylor to The Review. "I don't think there will be any trouble in getting candidates as the first year I was elected, there were six candidates for council."

Besides the vacancies for Reeve and two councillors, there will be two vacancies for the Ponticton School District No. 15. Two trustees will be selected from Summerland area to serve on this board, four from Ponticton and one from the rural area of Naramata, Kaleden and Allen Grove. Summerland citizens alone will have the voice in stating who will

Council Quashes Bylaw On Park

On Friday morning, the municipal council, sitting after the court of revision on the voters' list, quashed the bylaw for the plebiscite on Peach Orchard Park. The trade board will, therefore, not have to make an appearance at the next council session.

Mr. W. Snow reported to The Review yesterday that he has written to Game Commissioner J. G. Cunningham, detailing Reeve Powell's offer of a 99-year lease and free water at Peach Orchard Park. At press time, no reply had been received from the commissioner as to the probability of his acceptance of the offer.

Level Surface of Hockey Rink

Levelling off the hockey rink surface was completed last week on the Memorial Parks playground property, volunteer youngsters having hacked out the woods and the municipal grader being pressed into service to do the levelling job. Some hand raking here and there will provide a surface for flooding later in the winter.

The sub-committee on this project, consisting of W. Snow and E. H. Bennett, has been empowered to proceed with the proposed outdoor hockey rink as part of the Living Memorial.

If material can be assembled, and the services of a reliable carpenter obtained, a hockey shelter containing two dressing-rooms, a kitchen and toilet facilities will proceed in the near future. Mr. Snow states. The building will measure 10 by 28 feet.

Once it is known that labor and materials are available, the shack now standing at the rink will be torn down and the material salvaged for the new structure.

EDITORIAL

Peach Orchard Park

On the surface, the Board of Trade's complete reversal of its decision to ask for a ruling by the people of Summerland regarding sale or retention of the Peach Orchard park comes as a surprise. In fact, it could almost be called astounding.

But, digging down underneath, it is not as surprising as it appears.

For years, Peach Orchard park lay, untidy and neglected. In fact, it still is in that shape. No council could, or would, deviate from humdrum duties to repair the ravages of time. The citizens of Summerland, both old and new, came to look on the park as a place of twisted underbrush and passed it by with hardly a second glance. Some newcomers didn't even know it was a park.

So, last spring, when an offer was made by a private individual to purchase a portion of the park and erect a modern tourist camp, those who saw only an unkempt plot of ground and did not attach any sentimental significance to the park, voted that it should go to private enterprise.

But the deal could not be consummated until a proper vote of the people was taken. It was known that the reeve and some council members did not favor selling the park. But the council did not tell the people any of its intentions regarding the park. As far as the public knew, it would continue in its unkempt state, now that the individual's offer had been withdrawn.

With this situation in sight, the tourist and publicity committee of the Board of Trade decided some action should be taken. Either the park should be sold for tourist purposes or the people should decide what should happen.

The first meeting of the Board of Trade let the matter slip by uncontested. Those who were definitely against the park sale did not offer any protest.

Then a month elapsed. Those for retention of the park heard that Reeve Powell was going to speak strongly against any sale of the park. They rallied around and voiced their opinions, both against the sale and for some proper attention being paid to a spot which they admitted could be developed into a beautiful natural picnic and camping grounds.

There was added the incentive of the possibility of the fish hatchery dispute being settled with the moving of the hatchery to the park. There the hatchery could be housed with a long-term lease and free water, the latter being the main bone of contention between the sportsmen and the council.

With those facts in front of them, the trade board members did not hesitate to turn completely around and rescind their previous plea for a plebiscite on the future of Peach Orchard park.

The Board of Trade had fulfilled its purpose. The board had aroused public lethargy to a point where there is a definite hope for improvement of the park and to a point where it will serve a useful purpose. The board's work was accomplished, although in a roundabout fashion.

The Inside Story

AGROLOGIST

Nat May, gardener at the Summerland Experimental Station, seems to agree with the poet that "a thing of beauty is a joy forever." I found him in the greenhouse displaying his beloved chrysanthemums to a group of admiring visitors. There are truly some magnificent blooms. The varieties are named so that visitors can become personally acquainted with them even though Nat does not happen to be on hand to make the introductions. Some of the finest in bloom this week are Yellow Turner, Yellow Pocket, White Favorite, Mrs. E. Rusland, a fine bronze; and Rod McKenzie, a magnificent crimson.

Being in a somewhat critical mood, I fired a number of questions at Nat to see if I could ruffle his Irish temper. I was not very successful as is indicated by the following verbal battle:

Agrologist: Why does the government spend good money growing a lot of flowers which have no value to anyone?
Nat: You are wrong on all three counts. The government spends very little money raising these 'mums. They are largely a hobby with me. I start the cuttings early in the spring and grow the plants in the open ground behind my cottage, where I can water and disbud them after regular working hours. In autumn, I bring them into the greenhouse when we do not require the space for any other purpose. They do a lot of good to others, too, for many visitors enjoy looking at them. What's more, we send blooms to the hospital where they bring joy to those who are ill.

Agrol.: But you do spend money for propagating material of new varieties, I suppose?

Nat: Oh, no! We get all our new varieties by exchanging cuttings with other 'mum enthusiasts.

Agrol.: From what you have said, I think, perhaps, the growing of greenhouse 'mums by the Station is justified, but how do you justify all the expenditure on lawns, borders and rockeries?

Nat: Here, again, the expense involved is much less than you seem to think. Furthermore, I assure you that the money is expended to very good advantage. Dr. Saunders, the first director of the Experimental Farms Service, realized that encouragement of home beautification is an important function of an Experimental Station. The policy which he established has been maintained, which is the reason why we devote time and money to the maintenance of a good landscape section at this station. Many people derive great pleasure and inspiration from our ornamental grounds.

Agrol.: Do you get well paid for your job?

Nat: Not nearly as much as I am worth. In fact, I could probably make a lot more money operating an orchard or a nursery, but I enjoy the work I am doing here.

The Feminine Front

by MURIEL HURRY

Poetry is becoming a lost and neglected art in the literary world of today. The modern generation has bred few great poets whose names will live through the ages, such as the names of Shakespeare, Browning and Tennyson.

In the busy and war-torn atomic age, few have time for dreams and poetry. A great many people look upon verse with scorn; there are important things to be written and done; there is no time to spend with pensive scribbles. This fast-growing attitude is truly a pity, as the greatest of all the ages will live forever because some poet has had the foresight to set the words to metre.

Poetry is the natural expression of beauty. This is proved by the fact that lisping children find pleasure in the rhythmic cadences of verse, and the old search for comfort in the wisdom of the poet-sages of old.

One of my favorite modern poets is Edna Jaques, who writes in a simple and homespun way about everyday subjects. But her poems carry no flaming message. They are written to comfort and charm, not to become a driving force to the ambitious, as is the famous poem by Longfellow, "A Psalm of Life."

Some of the greatest poems written are of love, and one of the foremost of these is Elizabeth Barrett Browning's "How Do I Love Thee?"

As for wisdom and ponderance, the "Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," by Edward Fitzgerald, probes deep into the elusive mysteries of life.

I have read many good books of verse, but I have found my greatest pleasure in my worn and dog-eared copy of "The Pocket Book of Verse," which cost me the small sum of 25 cents. A wide selection of familiar poets, ranging from Geoffrey Chaucer, who lived from 1340 to 1400, to poets who are still writing, contribute to the wonderful selection of verse in the book. I find a great deal of pleasure in this little book, and heartily recommend it to poetry-lovers who are fond of reading and re-reading familiar verse.

There is beauty in many of the modern poems that appear in magazines, by comparatively unknown writers, which lends hope that poetry may undergo a survival.

We would find more pleasure in life if we could understand that there is poetry in everything lovely that surrounds us, and spend a little more time looking at this loveliness.

Bonnie and Ronnie are rather dejected these days. They have been temporarily separated.

Ronnie has always been a very impatient child. When he needs anything, he needs it NOW. When he goes to bed, it is time for his medicine NOW, and so on and on. To a great extent he is outgrowing this annoying habit, but not soon enough to avoid giving it to Bonnie.

Generally a placid and patient child, Bonnie has decided to try a bit of the high pressure stuff herself, with the result that after due warning and several conferences between her mother and myself, Bonnie is being confined to her own backyard, until all alarming symptoms are past. And we miss her running in and out.

Bonnie is a sweet and lovable child, and I grew very fond of her when Ronnie was away so many months in hospital. She is very good natured, but has a healthy streak of mischief in her that always amuses me. She seems to love to get dirty, which is not rare in a healthy two-year-old. In the morning (for about ten minutes) she is clean and shining. But if there are any puddles around, Bonnie will find them.

I remember a day during the summer, when Bonnie came over, fairly shining from a bath, her hair in curls and ribbons, and a fresh white dress and socks. Also a strict warning to keep clean, as relatives were momentarily expected who were to view her for the first time.

I watched her from the window as she started homeward, but not for long enough, it was soon apparent. For a few minutes later, when I passed the window again, there was Bonnie, sitting in a puddle of muddy irrigation water, and energetically washing her face and hair. Of course, as soon as she reached the front door of her home, there were the relatives arriving.

And there was the time when she got into my lipstick, and massaged her face and arms with it. It took three washings and a few applications of cold cream to remove that, and she was running around for two days with a suspicious pink tinge on her face. Whether it was embarrassment or not, I cannot say.

Canada's HEALTH

DISEASE FROM GARBAGE

For the sake of public health, as well as in the interests of civic pride and neatness, garbage should always be put out for collection in substantial, covered containers. The Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, has issued a caution on handling of garbage, pointing out that use of cardboard packages, paper bags or newspaper bundles for the discards of kitchen and closet makes not only unsightly piles but creates ideal breeding places for flies and vermin, and for the spread of disease.

Flimsy garbage bundles, say the departmental officers, are liable to be disturbed and scattered by scavengers, including rats, who are among the most notorious agents in spread of epidemics.

SNORING

Snoring and breathing through the mouth are serious matters not always given the special attention they deserve. For instance, doctors know that mouth breathing, in children, can lead to pronounced change in actual facial structure.

Snoring indicates failure of the nasal passages to perform their proper functions and is common among those suffering from some form of blockage of the nose.

Medical advice should be sought for the chronic mouth-breather and where there is a tendency, particularly in cold weather, for a child to develop nasal colds with persistent discharge, the family physician should be consulted at once.

LISPING AND STAMMERING

More than half the children who stammer or stutter in early school years eventually overcome the handicap. Stammering, which is more common among boys than girls, is the result of a spasm of the muscles associated with speech and indicates some emotional disturbance—often traceable to bad environment or faulty training.

Lisping is due to tongue-tie, cleft palate, hare-lip or maladjustment of the teeth. It can be helped considerably and the cure lies primarily in sympathetic co-operation of parents and teachers with medical advisers.

LEAD POISONING

Lead poisoning is one of the most common occupational diseases. Metallic lead or any of the numerous lead compounds may cause poisoning. About 900 industrial occupations involve an exposure to lead and poisoning can occur in many of them unless proper precautions are taken by employer and employee. In an announcement on this type of industrial hazard, the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa, points out that the main cause of lead poisoning is the repeated breathing of lead dust or fumes. The control and removal of dust and fumes from a work-room by "good housekeeping" methods, and adequate ventilation, is stated to provide the best protection.

Lead may also be absorbed through the skin or by swallowing lead compounds. Industrial health authorities declare that eating at the workbench is a common source of lead ingestion.

PROP.
(Behind I.O.O.F. Hall)

"You may smile when I say this, but there is every possibility that by 1960 Summerland may have a population of 10,000 persons," declared Rev. Frank Haskins, Summerland Baptist minister, who was guest speaker at the monthly board of trade banquet on Thursday evening.

"My reason for making this statement is that I don't know any part of Canada to compare with the Okanagan," he continued, stressing that the climate and surroundings are ideal for elderly people to retire to and when they find out more about the Okanagan, they will not be content to stay in the cold, blizzard-swept prairies but will flock to the Okanagan in their thousands.

"Be guided in your future development to build a country here of which we will be proud," he cautioned.

Rev. Haskins' topic was "The Okanagan—The Unknown" and throughout his talk, which carried a humorous vein along with his serious thought, he stressed that the Okanagan is still unknown in its true aspect to Canada as a whole and also to many who live right within its confines. He stressed that most of the advertising for B.C. has been for the millionaires' resorts of Banff, Lake Louise, Jasper. The Okanagan has not spread its story widely enough.

He believed that the insecurity of the basic industry, fruit and vegetable growing, prior to the war, prevented the Okanagan from planning for great things. Lack of facilities for travellers was stressed by the speaker, mentioning one instance of the poor rail and road connections with the main lines of the railways.

Another aspect of the Okanagan which detracts from bringing in many more tourists, is the apathy of the fruit grower. He is only interested in producing his crop during the season when tourists are flocking into the province and he cannot be bothered to lend a welcoming hand, said Mr. Haskins.

Rev. Haskins sketched the development of the valley from the ice age, to the Indian time, the coming of the colorful fur traders, the cattle rancher and, finally, the agriculturists. He painted a colorful picture of the Okanagan's attractions in hunting, fishing, geological features which have never really been explored to their fullest extent, the flora and the fauna and the many attractions of ancient origin which have never been fully publicized.

"We in the valley are so interested in our own little communities that we don't visualize what we have in the Okanagan as a whole," declared the speaker.

The beneficial aspects of our climate were stressed and Mr. Haskins stated that between here and Penticton there could be a townsite to accommodate hundreds of retired people who could benefit greatly from the climate.

Rev. Haskins has just returned from a visit to eastern Canada and he has also travelled extensively in the United States and he was quite frank in telling the trade board members that there is nothing on the continent to compare with the Okanagan Valley.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. J. C. Wilcox and thanked by Councillor Eric Tait. He was given spontaneous applause for his meaty subject.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lamb and two sons of Edmonton, who were en route to Vancouver, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Huff.

Second Straight Win Recorded By Summerland Hoop Team

A big third quarter, when they doubled the score on the visitors, was quite sufficient Saturday night to provide the Summerland Merchants with their second straight victory over the visiting Nick's Aces from Vernon, by a 34-30 count. In that third stanza, Summerland put on a power play to swish in 14 points to the visitors' 7, and therein lay the margin of victory.

Vernon brought down only five men, three ex-Kelownians, one ex-Victoria and the fifth a true blue Vernonite. The Merchants used every man on their roster for a good try-out of players, with George Clark and Jackie Walsh showing the way on the scoring honors with ten markers apiece.

In the curtain-raiser, Summerland had just as much of the floor play as the Penticton juniors, but they could not work the ball into the basket and were outpointed, 29-14.

Walsh Big Threat Jackie, Walsh provided the main scoring punch in the first ten minutes of the senior "B" struggle, with the result that the Merchants led by 10-5 going into the second quarter. But Vernon's Aces pressed hard and started to click in the final five minutes before the breather, and had a one-point edge at 16-15.

With George Clark on the centre spot and flanked by Walsh and Biagioni with the two Thompsons, Norman and Jimmy, in the rear court, the Merchants showed a rare sparkle in the first five minutes of the second half and went always in the lead.

Vernon fought back in the final stanza but could not quite come through, Jimmy Thompson's under-the-basket counter just before the final bell proving the conclusive marker.

Both on defensive and offensive work, young Jimmy Thompson showed up well in Saturday's encounter, while Norman Thompson was there in the pinches throughout.

Scored 14 Points Ruppel was the main scoring threat for the Summerland youngsters in their vain struggle against a smoother-working Penticton outfit. He flipped in four field baskets, while Kita was next in line with five points. D. Echelman was the big scoring threat for Penticton, with 14 points, four of which were on free throws.

Penticton had the edge in all quarters, going into a 6-2 lead in the first, and holding a 13-6 lead at the half-way mark. Summerland held the visitors, 5 to 6, in the third quarter, but faded in the final ten minutes.

Hilly Smith officiated in both games, with Ray Moore assisting in the junior contest. Len Hill shared the whistle-toting in the final game.

Teams lined up as follows: Penticton Juniors—Daw, Kenyon 4, D. Echelman 14, Atkins 2, V. Echelman 5, Pettley 4, Slean, Tidball, Young—29.

Summerland Juniors—Fleming, Hack 1, Ruppel 8, Kato, Day, Cristante, Turnbull, Elliott, Kita 5, Jomori—14.

Nick's Aces—Ward 3, Barnett 10, Fowle 5, Inglis 10. McClymont 2—30.

Summerland Merchants—Biagioni 1, Clark 10, J. Thompson 6, Walsh 10, Scriver 1, Rand, N. Thompson 4, Tait, Mountford 2—34.

Building Slacks Off Suddenly

Indication of the scarcity of building supplies, was given in the October report of Building Inspector Roy F. Angus, which showed that only one new dwelling permit was taken out last month and the total permits only valued $3,695.

One house at a value of $1,000 was decided upon and fourteen alterations and additions, at a value of $2,695 had permits issued.

This is a big let-down from the summer months when building here was booming.

From the time building permits were first issued, on April 23, 177 permits have been given out for a building value of $200,325. It is estimated that building commenced before that time equalled $28,235, so that the total for ten months is $228,560.

Hugh S. Scriver New Processing Dies Suddenly

One of the most popular figures in this community for the past 27 years, Hugh Sanford Scriver, died of a heart ailment on Monday morning, November 18, at his home in Summerland. Funeral service was held from St. Andrew's United church, West Summerland on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 20, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating.

Born in Norwood, Ont., 56 years ago, the late Mr. Scriver came west in 1909 and settled in the north Okanagan, making his home in Vernon, Armstrong and Enderby for ten years. He was mainly employed with the telephone company at that time.

Coming south in the valley in 1919, Mr. Scriver was a well-known figure in packing house circles here and in Penticton from that time forward. For many years he had been a valued member of the Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn., latterly serving as field man during the spring and summer months.

During World War I he served in the Canadian Army and it was on his return from service that he came to this district to reside. He was a member of the Masonic order, being a member of the Vernon lodge.

Besides his wife, who is a patient in the Summerland hospital, he leaves two sons, Robert and Roland, in Summerland; two daughters, Mrs. Mary St. Dennis, Lypton, Sask., and Muriel at home; and three brothers and one sister in Ontario.

A large group of friends gathered at St. Andrew's for the funeral service yesterday afternoon and followed the remains to Peach Orchard cemetery for interment. Penticton Funeral Chapel was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Pall-bearers were as follows: George Clark, Jack Wood, E. R. Butler, Bob Richards, C. J. Hud-the necessary expenditure of $200.

C. E. Bentley spoke briefly on the subject, stating that the Canadian Legion had voted a like sum and was willing to co-operate with other organizations.

B. H. Robson and George Graham were appointed members of the trade board on the film council, when it is formed.

Francis Steuart, who has charge of the children's Christmas party, stated that 700 bags of candy would be necessary for this year's effort. Some 120 pounds of candy had been obtained to date and he felt that the project is proceeding satisfactorily.

Tourist Bureau

W. M. Wright reported on his attendance at the Okanagan Tourist Bureau, held recently in Kelowna. Seven communities in the Okanagan have linked themselves with this bureau and it is aimed to produce a travel folder at a cost of $1,100. This folder will not advertise individual centres but the Okanagan as a whole.

Mr. Wright, assisted by J. R. Armstrong, will provide the necessary material for the folder.

Reid Johnston, board chairman, reported that investigation into a map for Summerland is continuing, and further reports will be made.

Donations were made to two well-known Summerland organizations, the Rehabilitation Committee and the Crystal Ski Runners, each being granted $25 to carry on their work.

Ski Club Progress

W. Snow reported on progress being made by the ski group.

dleston and Doney Wilson.

Honorary pallbearers were Chas. Steuart, Pete Guidi, Fred Dunsdon, Don Tait, George Washington, Norman Thompson and L. Lewis.

Lecture On Art Saturday Evening

Mr. B. C. Binning, of the Vancouver School of Art, will address local art enthusiasts at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, Nov. 23, at the I.O.O.F. hall, West Summerland.

An exhibit of the work of artists from the Summerland district will also be a feature of the evening, which is sponsored by the Summerland Women's Institute.

Mr. Binning is president of the Canadian Federated Art Association and is at present touring B.C. under the auspices of the U.B.C. Extension Department, and addressing similar gatherings throughout the province, with the purpose of stimulating community art.

Mr. Binning will speak here on Saturday evening, while en route from Vernon to Penticton.

which plans to install a lengthy towrope, power-driven, besides completing the ski cabin which was commenced this summer. He stated that the younger members are giving enthusiastic support for this endeavor.

A raffle of two tickets to the rehabilitation dance on Nov. 15, was won by Mel Ducommun.

W. McGillivray, director for B.C. of the farm labor service, wrote the board thanking it for its letter of appreciation of his services and those of Mr. Wm. Beattie, local representative. He expressed his gratification that the board thought so highly of Mr. Beattie's efforts on behalf of both labor and the farmer.

Reid Johnston will head a delegation to the next conference of the Southern Interior Boards of Trade and will be accompanied as official delegates by Vice-President George Perry and L. W. Rumball. There is a possibility that several more members may make the trip, if a bus can be chartered in co-operation with Penticton. Greenwood is the venue of the next conference.

A NEW WORD

West Summerland, B.C., Nov. 12, 1946.

Editor, The Review:

In reference to my letter in The Review of Nov. 7, may I publicly thank the typesetter for the invention of a most attractive word: "ambitious."

Seldom do we find two such entertaining examples of type behaviour in one paragraph. The first is good enough to retain in the language; one naturally knows what it means. The second must be discarded in favor of the copy which read: "15%."

SARAH L. FOSBERY.

Lino Lament

Dear Correspondent:

I feel that I must answer your veiled, or is it unveiled, sarcasm, which I have just put into type for this issue and, although I do not make a practice of writing screeds which do not mean a thing to myself, let alone anyone else, I think it should be answered.

Somewhere I have heard it said that no one is perfect, not even newspaper correspondents, also another quotation: "To Err is Human"

But first things come first: I note that you call me a typesetter; that title went out with the Dodo. whatever that is, and we are now called linotype operators, much more dignified—eh, what?—that for future reference, please. Then comes the sarcasm beforementioned, which is hardly worth thinking about.

But the word "dexterity" intrigues me. I think the word should have been "ambi-dextrousness,"—whoops, that is much too big a word for me to remember. But look it up in Webster.

LINOTYPE OPERATOR.

THIS WEEK'S RECIPE

DELIGHTFUL NOVELTY—SAUERKRAUT VEGETABLE CUP

(Serves Six)

One and one-half cups chopped sauerkraut, 1/2 cup shredded raw carrots, 1/2 cup diced celery, 3 tbs. diced green pepper, 3 tbs. diced cucumbers, 1 tbs. lemon juice, 1 cup sauerkraut juice, 1/2 cup tomato juice, 1/4 tsp. salt. Combine the above, mixing well. Chill thoroughly, arrange in fruit-cup glasses. Garnish with crisp parsley sprig. Sauerkraut juice may be drained from the sauerkraut in the can or the regular canned juice may be used.

School News

(By TING)

Saturday, Nov. 9, taught us a lesson in sportsmanship when we lost both soccer games to Oliver and had to like it! The Juniors, coached by Mr. Roper, put up a noble fight but despite all efforts on our part, Oliver won, the score, 1-0.

Between the Junior and Senior games, coffee and hot dogs were served to heat up the players and spectators.

The Seniors, coached by Mr. Evans, were now ready to go in and beat Oliver. Ed Kita did all he could on the free kicks but even that didn't get the boys warmed up.

Don Cristante, Mary Ward and Shirley Harvey did an excellent job of cheer leading, but what really made Oliver win was the Summerland cheers! Since Oliver hadn't brought up any cheer-leaders, we cheered for them and look what happened!! Half-time was called and a number of pep talks were given as well as words of encouragement from all spectators. Once more we tried to score but with no luck. Oliver winning, 3-0. Congratulations, Oliver.

Education week, Thursday afternoon was openhouse at S.H.S., and parents and friends flocked to see us perform (of course, we had been told to be on our best behaviour, so I don't think any parent was disappointed). After the guests had seen their fond child (?) at work they were asked to sign the visitors' book and then continued their tour of S.H.S.

Basketball is the main sport among the girls now. It is expected that inter-town games will start soon. I hope they do!

All badminton players learned with interest of the intermediate badminton club which has been formed. Every Thursday and Saturday afternoons we play and receive excellent instruction from George Fudge and Bill Evans.

Money, money, money! At the Rehabilitation dance last Friday, several high school students checked hats and coats and served refreshments. The girls did a splendid job chocking but the occasional hat got mixed up (all the more fun!). Now, thanks to the girls, the students' council is $13.30 richer! Nice going.

This Friday, the boys' and girls' basketball teams are going up to Kolowna to start off the season's games. Mr. Evans, the coach, is doing a splendid job and his keen interest shown and the help he gives is greatly appreciated.

Volley ball is also holding first place at S.H.S. and here's big news: There is to be a volleyball tournament in Penticton next month. Let's all dig in and try to get up a good team.

Since the snow has come, the Ski Enthusiasts (B. H. especially) have shown a keen desire to go skiing. They also want to work on the Ski Hill! How much work they do every Saturday is a question. A tally-ho is also rumored—here's hoping the snow lasts.

Since the election day for the Miss S.H.S. and Mr. S.H.S. contest is rapidly approaching, all candidate managers are working twenty-four hours a day. Blackboards and bulletin boards have daily news and campaign speeches and everywhere you go you are told just what handsome fellow and cute little trick to vote for on the 21st.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The first meeting in the school gymnasium last Friday, was most successful. The troop had nearly a perfect turnout—27 boys in all. Only one patrol fell down on the job—how about it, Hawks? Patrol scores for the week and for the season, are as follows: Buffaloes, 90, 398; Hawks, 77, 341; Beavers, 74, 290; Eagles, 55, 244. Remember, every second class badge wins 10 points for your patrol, and every first class badge 20 points.

The evening was again occupied with two basketball games and tumbling exercises led by Scoutmaster Blewett. Several lads passed their Kim's game test on their second class badge. Next week we are going to take a lot more tests for those who are ready to pass them.

NOTICES—Next meeting, Friday, Nov. 22, will be held in the school gym. Those boys who do not have running shoes or rubbers, should try to obtain a pair so that they may take part in games on the gym floor. Major Tweedy has consented to give a demonstration on knot tying. There is still room for several more boys in the troop. Duty patrol, Hawks.

Have You Done Your Share?

The Living Memorial Campaign is in its Second Week. Enthusiastic, loyal canvassers have been covering their districts, calling at each house to solicit funds for this biggest of all Summerland Projects.

Has a canvasser called on you? If he hasn't rest assured that he will be around, as not a home will be missed. Everyone will have an opportunity to contribute towards this worthwhile Community Effort.

If the canvasser has been to see YOU, have you given all that you can afford? Search into your heart and really ask yourself:

"Have I given generously?" Have I contributed all I can afford to aid a Memorial which will show my appreciation to the heroes of two wars?" "Have I contributed sufficiently to ensure that a splendid park-playground is going to be available for my youngsters and my youngsters' youngsters?"

"Have I donated enough to make sure that the young athletes of today and tomorrow will have a proper baseball diamond, a quarter-mile running track and a football field, as fine as any in the Okanagan?"

If you have answered these questions to your own personal satisfaction, then you can rest assured that you have done your bit for the war heroes and for Summerland as a whole.

Let's Give Generously — Give Until It Hurts.

Army Planning For Occupation Outlined Here

Plans which had to be formulated prior to the surrender of Germany for the occupation of that country, and some of the steps taken to prepare for the time when Germany had capitulated, formed the basis of an interesting talk to the Rotary Club of Summerland on Oct. 25, by Maj. John Aikins, Penticton, who was picked to assist in the planning campaign while a member of the 1st Canadian Army staff.

When the army was still battling before the Rhine, Major Aikins was sent on a course at Worthing, in England, to undergo two weeks training.

There, the over-all policy to be adopted by the Allies was given a thorough inspection. At that time, it was planned that Germany would be controlled from Berlin and would be divided into four zones.

Shadow Control
In order that all four zones would be controlled, a cumbersome plan was evolved, dealing with the shadow control of all the German ministries. These ministries were to be reviewed as soon as possible, denazified, and operated with shadow control ministries, appointees to be made from each of the four Allied nations.

This course also instructed the officers on how to treat German officers, not to be too overbearing but not too friendly, either. Instruction was given on the type of German army to be left and the type to be weeded out.

On his return to staff headquarters, Major Aikins assisted other picked officers in formulating a plan for the Canadian army in its occupation role.

One of the main purposes of the plan was to achieve a maximum of effort with a conservation of manpower. Security of the German population was another problem and denazification of the people was one of the biggest tasks.

Major Aikins pointed out that this planning had to be done while the Allies were still fighting fierce battles and the ultimate condition of the German armies when they would surrender was an unknown quantity.

General Order
So, a general order was formulated, dealing first with a standstill order to all Germans, secondly a general disarmament, and thirdly, to gain full particulars of German formations. The final step would be to move the German armies to a concentration area.

Also included in the planning was the care of the released P.W. allied personnel and the rounding up of displaced persons, there being 50,000 to 60,000 in the Canadian zone alone.

When the surrender actually came, there was confusion as to the number of Germans actually in the Canadian area. It was estimated that there were 120,000 Germans in Holland and another 80,000 in northwest Germany, all to be cared for by the Canadian army.

Ten Thousand Daily
Ten thousand a day were marched out of Holland and by the end of ten days they had been taken to their concentration area. The route was marked, staging areas pinpointed and the Germans made out their own march orders. Policing was undertaken by the Canadians.

At the concentration point, the Germans, by then a bedraggled and downcast group, were put through a screening centre and placed in three large brigade areas. There they were responsible for their own administration.

After that initial work was accomplished, demands for workers began to come in, mainly from agricultural areas. German soldiers were given their discharge slips, according to their ability to undertake necessary work, and transported to the areas where they were needed.

Agricultural labor, policing, railways and mines were the main industries needing assistance. One of the main difficulties in this classification work was the large number of non-Germans found in the German army. Major Aikins concluded, stating that Polish and Russian troops formed the main portion of these non-Germans.

To Conserve Cascara
Possibility of a new major industry being developed in British Columbia is foreseen in plans for further production and protection of cascara bark and medicinal herbs and plants. The provincial food production committee is now working on those plans, formulated at a recent meeting in the Legislative buildings at Victoria. British Columbia was formerly the largest producer of cascara bark in the British Empire, but exploitation has been on a haphazard basis, with the result this precious native tree has been seriously threatened with extinction. It is the hope of the committee to take concrete methods to conserve this valuable asset.

"DOLLY", who broke her legs in a fall from a second-storey porch in Washington, DC, is on the mend with the aid of specially-made crutches.

Film Council Planned Here

Formation of a local film council to control showing of films in co-operation with the National Film Board, took a step nearer on Nov. 6, when the Canadian Legion monthly meeting recommended that other organizations be approached to co-operate in setting up the necessary group.

If a local film council is set up and can provide a sum of $200, facilities of a big bank of films can be tapped and films provided for local showings on practically any subject desired.

Also, the National Film Board will assist the local projectionists and provide other forms of assistance.

It was decided last week that a Christmas tree should be placed in a local store so that interested persons could leave at its base gifts for returned men in military hospitals. Cigarettes, candy, books, toilet articles and other presents are being sought.

The Legion has made a donation of $10 towards the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. A house-cleaning bee to renovate the Legion hall premises is being planned for Thursday afternoon, Nov. 14.

As the radio at the hospital has deteriorated rapidly, the Legion branch here has committed itself to the purchase of a new machine. Two tents will also be provided for the Boy Scouts here.

Okanagan Apples Go By Alcan Road

Something new has been added in the way of apple transportation. B.C. Tree Fruits Limited, always on the alert for market expansion, last week made arrangements for the delivery of apples by heated truck over the Alcan Highway to Alaska. The shipment was a straight car of eight hundred boxes of Delicious. They were shipped by rail to Dawson City, where they were loaded into specially constructed heated trucks and speeded through the snow to brighten the long winter of the north.

Records Fall In Shipments To U.K. Marts

An apple in every Briton's stocking this Christmas may not have been the idea behind the chartering of S.S. Durango, to carry a full load of British Columbia apples to Great Britain, but such could be possible.

Records have been falling like ten-pins in this year's fruit movement, and another was added when the S.S. Durango left the Pacific Terminal dock, New Westminster, last week for Great Britain. She carries two hundred and fifty thousand boxes of British Columbia apples, mostly McIntosh and Jonathans, and will arrive in time for the apples to be distributed for Christmas. As the United Kingdom prefers small sizes, this shipment will contain about fifty million apples.

The S.S. Durango, which is under the agency of the Royal Mail Lines, is fully refrigerated, and her present cargo represents the largest single shipment of apples ever to leave a Pacific port. Last year, the S.S. Pipriki broke the record with 234,000 boxes.

Another boat loading for Great Britain is the Blue Star Line's "Royal Star." She is loading 150,000 boxes, while the Balfour Guthrie Steamship, "Corrientes," left New Westminster last week containing 120,000 boxes. Total shipments to Great Britain so far this season have reached the one and three-quarter million mark. Shipments will continue during December and January until a total of two and one-quarter million boxes has been shipped.

Cranbrook's Park
Canon F. V. Harrison told the audience of Cranbrook's magnificent park, across the road from which is the fish hatchery, providing a great asset as a tourist attraction.
Later in the meeting, the subject was re-opened, with C. E. "Ned" Bentley speaking in favor of the retention of Peach Orchard park. "It's ridiculous to sell any park," he contended, saying there were other sites for tourist camps other than the park.

Gordon Blewett, who could remember his childhood days when he played in the park, made a strong plea for retention and asked that the council put the park back into shape for campers and picnic parties.

B. H. Robson spoke on the present unkempt condition of the park and felt that "something good" could result from a clean-up.

On the other hand, L. H. Hill declared himself in favor of allowing the plebiscite to go forward. He stressed that he had an open mind on the subject of sale but he considered the rate-payers should be given a chance to decide.

Chas. Smith, head of the tourist and publicity committee, stated emphatically that his committee had never advocated the sale, but felt that some development should take place. With this change in view from the previous meeting, he suggested that the council should make the development of the park part of the platform for re-election next year.

E. H. Bennett, Councillor Eric Taib and others spoke in favor of keeping the park and finally the motion to rescind the October resolution was carried without a dissenting vote.

TRANSFORMERS BURN OUT

Two transformers have burned out and another transformer had to be taken out as it was causing severe radio trouble, the council was informed on Monday by Electrical Foreman T. P. Thornber. Two of these transformers will be sent to Vancouver to be rewound and enquiries will be made about rewinding the third one, as it is not known if it would be feasible to rewind or scrap it in favor of a new transformer.

REPORT ON CEMETERY

Councillors F. E. Atkinson and Harvey Wilson will look over additional property owned by the council near Peach Orchard cemetery which the council intends to open as a cemetery extension. Municipal Clerk F. J. Nixon proposed that rows of individual plots be marked out instead of dividing the new area into blocks, as was done in the cemetery now in use.

Are We Grateful?

F. E. Atkinson, chairman of the Living Memorial Drive, has issued the following statement to the citizens of Summerland, as the campaign enters the third week:

"We are now well started on a community drive to raise funds for a playground-park and athletic field to be a memorial to those who served in both wars. The response to date has been very encouraging and shows that the great majority of the people are in favor of the project. This is as it should be as there was an unlimited effort on the part of local citizens during these wars that we wish to commemorate.

"The man who faced the enemy—fired the rifle, threw the grenade, dropped a bomb or a depth charge, took a chance that cannot be measured in earthly values. Nothing was more important in the war effort than this man who actually traded blows with the enemy, risking his life to protect ours. Many paid the supreme sacrifice—giving more than any worldly goods can replace.

"In my own living-room, I see daily a young fellow of twenty-two, a good, clean sport, well liked by his whole outfit. Twice his tank was burned by a direct hit—the third time he wasn't lucky. He and the remainder of the tank crew rest beside the Adriatic. We want to build a memorial here befitting our respect for men like him who died; for those who were fortunate to return; a memorial to all those who served. We want this memorial to reflect fittingly the thanks of a grateful community—thanks for the freedoms we still enjoy, which we could have so easily lost; thanks for being spared the loss of a home, family disruption, starvation, disease and death on the home front.

"Here in this prosperous community the vast majority have benefited very materially by the upswing in economic conditions brought about by the war. Is it asking too much when we suggest that you contribute to the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee's campaign so that the contemplated projects can be completed and be of a quality that as individuals and as a community we will be proud?

Premier Hart Has Left For Ottawa

Premier John Hart, accompanied by Mr. Neil Perry, economic adviser to the government; Mr. J. V. Fraser, deputy minister of finance, and Mr. Percy C. Richards, secretary to the premier, departed for the east on Sunday, November 24, there to discuss Dominion-Provincial matters as they appertain to the termination of the wartime tax agreements.

It is expected that while in the east, the premier also will discuss the question of extending the Pacific Great Eastern railway into the Peace River district and matters related to the provinces plea for equalization of freight rates prior to any consideration being given to the railway's application for a 30 per cent increase in freight rates.

C. E. Bentley New Prexy Of B.C.F.G.A.

C. E. "Ned" Bentley replaced J. Y. Towgood as president of the Summerland local of the B.C.F.G.A. at that body's annual meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall on Friday afternoon last. Mr. Towgood retired from the post after four years of service. Councillor Eric Tait, who has also served several years as secretary of the local, did not allow his name to stand and he is replaced by Walter Bleasdale.

Members of the executive are J. Y. Towgood, Colin McKenzie, Eric Tait, Roy Smith and Bud Steuart. The directorate will serve as delegates to the annual growers' convention in Kelowna in January, while alternative delegates will be Joe Burnell, Francis Steuart and Mr. Cross.

Besides a balance in current account of $111.46, the local also revealed a surplus of approximately $200 in Victory bonds and war savings certificates. At the suggestion of Mr. Bob Richards, this money, which was devoted to war purposes, will be turned over to the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee for the Living Memorial.

"I don't know of any finer way to show our appreciation to those who fell and those who served," declared Mr. Richards, and the meeting endorsed his thought.

In reviewing the past year's activities, Retiring President Towgood stated the local's main efforts were concentrated in endeavoring to find a settlement in the woodworkers' strike.

Although no direct results were shown, Mr. Towgood believed the local added its weight to the pressure for an early settlement of the strike, so that sufficient boxes could be produced to take care of the fruit harvest.

Mr. Beattie outlined the work of the farm labor service office this past season and told the meeting that there is a balance in this fund of $160.02. Some placements had been recorded during the season.

He warned that the government will not contribute towards costs of transportation, housing or cooks in relation to farm labor next year and the growers would have to be prepared to foot these expenses if they wished to carry on as in the past.

This question will be dealt with at a spring meeting. Another growers' session, to consider the resolutions which will be placed before the growers' convention, will be held on Monday afternoon, Dec. 16, if a hall is available.

Recognition of the fine work undertaken on behalf of the growers by John Tait, retired provincial government agriculturalist, was given by President Towgood, who also introduced Mr. Tait's successor, Mr. Alex. Watt.

J. R. Armstrong, Memorial Parks committee secretary, spoke briefly, outlining the Living Memorial plans and urging the growers to support this cause.

A vote of thanks to the retiring executive was passed just prior to the meeting's conclusion.

Mrs. W. G. Pennington has returned from Kamloops, where she had been receiving medical treatment.

Mrs. Dorothy Mills, who has been a resident of Summerland for the past several months, has returned to Penticton.

Board Transfers Money To Parks

Summerland Board of Trade voted the sum of $644.66 to the Memorial Parks Committee Living Memorial campaign when members met at their monthly session last Thursday evening.

Of this sum, $100 comes from general account, while the balance is a fund set aside some time ago for development of the board of trade lot which is to be come the park-playground, part of the Living Memorial.

Most of the latter portion was raised from a street carnival held in West Summerland.

That this money be transferred to the Living Memorial fund was the recommendation of the executive and the latter group received the meeting's endorsement on a motion by Carl Nesbitt and Walter Charles.

PAY FOR ROUGH GRADING

DAILY TRIP TO PENTICTON

At the regular monthly meeting of the United Church Women's Service Club, held on Monday evening, Nov. 18, in the United Church hall, it was decided by the members that the club would become affiliated with the newly-formed Kamloops-Okanagan W.A. Association.

A letter was read by Mrs. H. Wilson, president of the Service club, from the Kamloops-Okanagan W.A., which invited the local club to join the organization, which was decided upon by an unanimous vote.

It was also reported by the president that the kitchen of the United church hall, which has been remodelled and improved by the club, is nearly completed. Cost of kitchen cabinets, work area and the application of wall-board to the walls and ceiling, was undertaken by the Service club, and except for a few minor finishing jobs, is now completed.

Following the business meeting, at which details of the Service club bazaar, to be held on Saturday, Nov. 30, at the church hall, were discussed, refreshments were served.

SHIP FERRY NEXT MONTH

Satisfactory progress is being made on the $152,600 ferry for the new Kelowna-Westbank ferry service, it is announced by the public works department. Sections of the ship will be sent from Yarrow's, Limited, Victoria, where construction is taking place sometime next month. The ferry is the largest one ever built in sections at the Victoria shipyard and will be 140 feet in length. Welding of the ship sections will be done upon arrival at Kelowna.

G. A. Graham, local electrical contractor, approached the Summerland council on Monday to request the municipality to institute a combination rate for domestic light and electric range. He declared the present system of putting in separate meter for a range and making two charges is out of date and is not being applied anywhere else, to his knowledge.

The municipality's present method means extra expense for the municipality and for the owner of the range, he claimed, suggesting also that the municipality obtain a flat rate charge for water heaters.

He suggested that the municipality approach the West Kootenay Power and Light Co. for a cheaper rate for water heaters. At present, Summerland buys its electricity, with the exception of that for the packing houses, at a flat over-all rate of 2½ cents per k.w.h.

Reeve W. R. Powell pointed out that Summerland has endeavored to better its rate with the West Kootenay, but being between Penticton and Kelowna, which show a profit of $60,000 to $80,000 annually from retailing electric current, he held out little hope of the company agreeing to any decrease in rate.

However, he thanked Mr. Graham for his suggestion and stated that the council would consider it seriously.

On the subject of the new regulators being installed by the West Kootenay, Mr. Graham stated that they would assist domestic light users but did not go far enough. He contended that power supply should be regulated, as well, in order that too great fluctuation would not take place. 'Your power situation isn't any too good,' declared Mr. Graham.

John Heichert To Be New Poundkeeper

John Heichert agreed on Monday afternoon to replace F. G. Haddrell as poundkeeper in the Prairie Valley area. Mr. Haddrell asked the council a month ago to be replaced but the municipal body requested him to carry on until a successor could be found.

Mr. Heichert visited the council meeting on Monday and accepted the position, stating that he did not wish it but considered that some action would have to be taken to keep the stock roaming the region in check.

He had twelve years as poundkeeper in another municipality, so he is acquainted with the general requirements of a poundkeeper.

Reeve Powell stated that the council has requested permission to install a cattle guard near the intake as a further attempt to control cattle from getting into orchards in Prairie Valley.

Two Summerland teams travelled to Kelowna on Tuesday night and dropped close decisions to the Kelowna intermediate Tuxis quintette and the northern Legion junior squad. Despite the cold weather, the players put up a strenuous fight and showed a big improvement over their first appearance at home.

In the first tussle, the Summerland juniors, who are also sponsored by the Canadian Legion, came from behind in the final quarter with a drive which knotted the count at 20-all. In the overtime play, Kelowna managed to squeeze in the extra basket to win, 28-26.

It was one of the best exhibitions of junior play seen in the Orchard City for some time. Summerland intermediate "B" held the Kelowna Tuxis lads even at 14-all in the second contest, but faded in the final 20 minutes to lose out, 28-20.

Scoring honors for the Summerland B's were evenly divided with Dunham having an edge with six points. Nesbitt and Hack both contributed five markers, and Ray Moore finished off the scoring with four points. In free throws, Summerland shone, sinking eight out of eleven tries. Only one foul was called on Summerland players, while eight fouls were marked on the northern contestants. Jones was top scorer for the winners, while McGuire and Kee both scored six points.

Ruppel was again high scorer for the Summerland Legion juniors, while Fleming and Hack weren't far behind. B. Weddell and Welder were top markers for the winners.

The local juniors trailed the ultimate winners, 1-4, at the first quarter and were behind, 4-8, at the half-way mark. Three-quarters through regular time, Kelowna had an edge of 15-10, but in the final ten minutes, Summerland staged a scoring spree to double Kelowna's attempts, and knotted the count at 20-all.

In overtime, two free throws by Howarth and Willis cinched the game, as each side scored two field baskets.

Teams were as follows:

Summerland Legion Juniors—Fleming 6, Hack 5, Ruppel 9, Kato 2, Elliott, Kita 2—24.

Kelowna Legion Juniors—Howarth 5, Willis 1, Holland, B. Weddell 9, J. Weddell, Welder 9, Marshall 2, Botham, Duggan—26.

Summerland Chiefs—Moore 4, Nesbitt 5, Hack 5, Jacobs, Dunham 6, Guidi, Stein, Adams—20.

Kelowna Tuxis—Gee 6, Matheson, Jones 10, Horner 4, Hardy, Day 2, McGuire 6, Gunnarson, Naka—28.

SMART WOMEN BRIGHTEN HOMES BY PERSONAL LOAN FINANCING

Instalment Repayment Plan Makes Buying for Cash Simple.

When cash is not readily available to buy new slip covers, curtains, drapes, and such like, or to take care of the long overdue paint job around the house, many women are consulting with their husbands and getting them to arrange the necessary financing through the Bank of Montreal.

The procedure is simple... a personal loan, repayable in easy monthly instalments. The cost is very low: just 27 cents a month for each $100 borrowed when repaid over a 12-month period. Nowhere can you borrow for less, or on more convenient terms.

If you would like to do a spring job around your home, tell your husband to see Mr. Woodford, manager of the Bank of Montreal.

He is ready, willing and glad to help in providing the wherewithal for this and a score of other useful purposes.—Advt.

Peachland Nuptials Of Interest Locally

A pretty wedding took place at the United Church in Peachland on Monday, November 25, when Charles H. Topham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Topham, Peachland, and Sylvia Elsie Grant, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Grant, West Summerland, were united in marriage by Rev. McDonald.

The bride chose a gown of blue satin with an overskirt of net and white veil falling gracefully from an orchid coronet. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, while she carried a bouquet of American beauty roses.

The sister of the groom, Miss Anne Topham, was bridesmaid and she was gowned in pink floor-length satin, with a matching shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Peter Topham was his brother's best man.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Vernon, Trepanier. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a white and yellow motif.

On their return for a honeymoon at Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Topham will reside in Peachland at the groom's orchard home.

Sidewalks Sought For Hastings Road

Only one owner is against the placing of a permanent cement sidewalk on both sides of Hastings street, from Granville to Kelly, the municipal council announced on Monday afternoon. It was stated that W. D. Laidlaw does not wish a sidewalk in front of his residence as it would mean the removal of several shade trees. Len Hill, chairman of the Summerland Retail Merchants' association, was called in to the council session and asked to meet Mr. Laidlaw and endeavor to impress upon him the advantage to owners of business property along the street of such a move.

Norman Holmes and A. E. Soderberg visited the council on Monday and assured the municipal fathers that all other property-holders on the street would be agreeable to pay their share of the cost.

Reeve Powell explained to Mr. Hill that the council has the option of placing such a sidewalk project under a local improvements plan, which calls for only a percentage of property-owners being in favor to force the minority to pay their share.

However, His Worship explained that this is a cumbersome operation when such a small individual cost is involved.

Three trees which have been the subject of much council discussion, have been felled on the roadway adjoining the W. Arnett property, the council was informed on Monday afternoon. ## Teen Town Rental Control Continuation Is Advocated

By MIKE

On Friday, Nov. 8, we held the annual "Sadie Hawkins" dance. Even though there was not a large crowd, I know everyone had a swell time. I think something that scared some of the boys into not coming, was the fact that they would be coming stag. Some did, and had a good time. Costumes were the main attraction of the evening and loud whistles and cheers were heard when some of the girls entered the hall as "Daisy Mae." Costume judges were Mr. and J. McLachlan and Mr. and Mrs. F. Steuart, who made very good decisions in picking the winners, even though they did have close competition.

Winners were: Boys, Murray Elliott as "Marryn' Sam"; girls, Shirley Harvey as "Daisy Mae"; couple, Rae Armour and Don Nesbitt. The hall was nicely decorated with various posters. There was even a spittoon for apple cores and other refuse, including "oyskers." The girls of the social committee and their helpers must be congratulated on the fine job of preparing the refreshments and the hall.

A Teen Town Bowling league has been formed, with President Don Nesbitt and Ruth Nesbitt. It will commence as soon as alleys open. League-night will be Monday. The cost to each player, per week, will be 55 cents. This will include three games at 15 cents per game; 10 cents is added to contribute to buying prizes which you, yourself, may win. There are several teams and here are the leaders and team captains:

No. 1 team, Noreen Anderson; 2. Harry Daniels; 3. Basil Thornthwaite; 4. Shirley Harvey; 5. Edward Kita; 6. Joan Howard; 7. Lee Miller; 8. Helen Burness.

"Elimination of rent and eviction controls would mean hardship to thousands of Canadian families," said Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, in the fourth of his series of broadcasts. He frankly admitted that these controls give the prices board more worry than all the others put together because any decision and ruling means that one party to the dispute is dissatisfied.

"All of you know, of course, why these regulations were made," said Mr. Gordon. "Without this protection, thousands of helpless tenants would be put out and they and their families would be helpless. Alternatively, the tenants could be victimized by some unscrupulous landlords only too willing to take advantage of the dire need of the tenant. Without eviction controls no tenant family would have felt secure these last few years."

Mr. Gordon went on to explain that the housing shortage was cumulative. In 1928, a boom year, 50,000 houses were built. In 1933: only 14,000 were built, and not many more in succeeding years. Even in 1939, there were only 32,000 housing units constructed, so Canada entered the war with a serious housing shortage and, naturally, little construction was possible during the war years.

The chairman paid a tribute to the majority of landlords who had observed the regulations in spirit and in letter.

"If it had not been that the vast majority of landlords are decent people with a sympathetic attitude towards their tenants, enforcement of these controls could not have been accomplished," he said. "It is the small minority of offenders who make matters difficult for everybody, and this is true of tenants as well as landlords."

He admitted that many a landlord has a good case for special treatment in the case of rents.

"However," said Mr. Gordon, "if controls were abandoned, not only would rents rise substantially, but there would be many thousands of evictions and painful distress in the process. Here we have a situation, therefore, where the security of tenure and the peace of mind of many thousands of citizens have to be weighed against the dissatisfaction of owners who are temporarily prevented from improving their profits or getting possession of their own property."

Mr. Gordon said the regulations reflected the policy of the government in its efforts to meet the threat of a serious inflation in rents arising first under the emergency of war and continuing during this period of serious congestion and shortage of dwellings.

TO GET IRRIGATION

T. J. McDonald's application for irrigation water for two acres of property he recently purchased from Mr. Spaulding, has been granted by the Summerland council.

School News

(By TING)

Another defeat. Friday night, both the boys' and girls' basketball teams were defeated at Kelowna. Those on the girls' team are: Doris Cristante, Mary Ward, Ruth Nakamura, Noreen Anderson, Beverley Fleming, Joan Howard, Joyce Jomori, vice-captain, and Shirley Harvey, captain. For a first year team the girls did very well—the score, 25-2, for Kelowna.

Shirley Harvey scored the "one and only" basket. The boys' team follows: Ed Fleming, Gilbert Jacobs, Gerry Adams, Ed Kita, Denny Hack, Jim Hack, Jack Dunham and Dan Nesbitt, coach and captain.

The boys put up an excellent show, but still they didn't win. The score, again in Kelowna's favor, was 26-19.

Mr. Evans is the coach and a great deal of credit is due to him. On the way up to Kelowna there was a little excitement—a "blow-out!" Some of the more curious boys got out of the bus and looked at the tire but didn't strain themselves any. At the ferry, a number got out and drank cold pop and thereby nearly froze. Finally we arrived at Kelowna half frozen, the reason we lost. This Friday, Kelowna will be coming down here to play a return game.

Last week, elections for the Mr. and Miss H.S.H. contest were held. Now, here's the news: Results of the election will be announced in the Xmas. Chaff!!

SCOUT NEWS

The meeting on Friday night suffered somewhat from the High school basketball trip to Kelowna, with the result that we had only a 50 per cent turn-out. Next Friday we hope for a 100 per cent turn-out since we have two important items on the program. In the first place, four of our new recruits have completed their tenderfoot tests and at the investiture on Friday will be admitted to the great world brotherhood of Scouts. This is an important step in the career of any boy, and we always welcome the parents of the new Scouts to be present at the ceremony.

In the second place, we are to be honored by having Major Tweedy give a demonstration of knot-tying. This was supposed to have been part of our program last week, but was deferred to this week so more boys would be present.

At our last meeting a number of tests were passed, principally in knot-tying, and first aid. To become a second class Scout, amongst other things, a boy must know how to tie "sheer lashings," "square lashings" and the "guy-line hitch." The following boys successfully tied all three knots—Tingley Haskins, Vic Smith, Jack Miller and Blacklock. It looks as if we are going to have a lot of second class Scouts before long!

NOTICES — Since the school gym is being used for basketball the meeting on Friday night, Nov. 29, will be held in the Legion hall. Duty patrol—Beavers.

CORRECTION

TENDER FOR ROAD IN SOUTH IS LET

The Mail Box

West Summerland, B.C., Nov. 25, 1946.

Editor, The Review:

I had rather a shock when I read in your last issue that I considered myself in ill-health and possibly unable to stand the rigorous duties of a school trustee. Visions of an eagle-eyed pressman detecting in me signs which had escaped my notice, of an early demise, and all that sort of thing. What I intended to imply was that board meetings at Penticton generally last to well beyond midnight and I would not look forward with any degree of pleasure to frequent visits there, often at very late hours. However, I understand this has now been improved.

I have now told my friends that if it is felt I can be of service to Summerland. I would allow my name to go forward for school trustee. Personally, my feeling is that Mr. Dodwell should have all the support there that we can possibly give him, and in the interests of Summerland, it is vital that a close and watchful eye be kept on developments on that Board in the very near future.

No one acquainted as I am with the thankless job of school trustee, would tumble over himself to get it, or shed any tears at being passed up but, like many others, after living here for many years, one takes rather a liking to this little town and, if the residents wish me to look after their interests again, I will do the best I can.

Yours truly,
J. C. BARKWILL.

Federation of Agriculture To Meet Dec. 3-4

Three D.C. cabinet ministers, Hon. Frank Putnam, minister of agriculture; Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works; and Hon. Leslie H. Evers, minister of trade and industry, have been invited to address the thirteenth annual meeting of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, which will be held in Salon "A," Hotel Vancouver, on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 3 and 4.

Alex. H. Mercer, B.C. director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, will report on the meetings in London, England, last May, at which the International Federation of Agricultural Producers was brought into being. Mr. Mercer was the representative of the B.C. federation at this world conference.

Other speakers invited are: Wm. MacGillivray, director, extension and development, B.C. department of agriculture, and director of the Dominion-provincial Farm Labor Service for B.C., who will discuss land clearing and labor problems; George A. Cruickshank, M.P., who featured B.C. peaches and berries in the House of Commons' recent session, and Mrs. Stella E. Gummow, superintendent of provincial Women's Institutes. President Mrs. A. S. Demis, of the Provincial W.L., and other officers of this organization, have been invited to attend the session.

Mayor J. W. Corbett and President W. J. Borrie, of the Vancouver Board of Trade, will extend greetings to the delegates on Tuesday.

Parity prices and the need for a Dominion natural products marketing act will be among the issues which the delegates will discuss.

The delegates will elect fifteen directors representing eight main commodity groups and one for miscellaneous products.

The present directors are: Field crops, A. S. Parker, Revelstoke, and P. E. French, Vernon; dairying, A. H. Mercer, Vancouver, and James Woodburn, Salmon Arm; fruit, J. R. J. Stirling, Kelowna, and J. W. Little, Matsqui; poultry, Gordon Billingsley, Chilliwack, and Cyril Hendey, Cloverdale; farm animals, Brian K. deP. Chanco, Douglas Lake, and William Harrison, Pritchard; vegetables, Les Gilmore, Vancouver, and Tom Wilkinson, Kelowna; miscellaneous, Sidney Pickles, Saanichton; president, P. E. French; vice-president, A. H. Mercer.

HUMAN FACTS BEHIND THE FIGURES

Merchants, businessmen and people in every sort of enterprise borrow a lot of money from the B of M. One of these was Mr. P. R. B., an expert baker, who, after service with the Forces, wanted to own a small wholesale bakery again. Lacking the ready cash, he came to the B of M, obtained a $5000 loan, and is now running a profitable little business. Thousands of business men—with big enterprises and little ones—use B of M loans to help them in their financing. The dollars they borrow oil the wheels of commerce and industry, facilitate production and create employment.

B of M Personal Loans helped no less than 157,020 people during the past year—people like Mr. A. L. T., who needed money to help him finish constructing his own home. He got three B of M Personal Loans, totalling more than $600, over a period of 18 months, and he has paid them off regularly in monthly instalments. Now his home is in fine shape and the loans are repaid. Interest cost of loans: $32.53. Over 500 people from every walk of life come to the B of M every business day to borrow for personal needs.

Farmers all across the Dominion use the B of M to finance their needs in buying seed, cattle and machinery—in marketing crops—and in improving their farms generally. This means more prosperous farming communities—and bigger agricultural production to meet the urgent needs of a hungry world. Typical of these go-ahead farmers is Mr. R. B. L., who wanted to clear and break 50 acres on his farm. The job would cost $325, but his ready cash amounted to only $125. With the aid of a B of M farm improvement loan of $200, he completed the job and has considerably increased the production and profits from his farm.

To municipalities, school districts and governments, the B of M is constantly lending money for undertakings that benefit the whole community. Take the case of an Ontario town, which—to pay for a new sewage system—was selling debentures amounting to $305,000. The Bank of Montreal bought 44% of the issue, a total of $134,000, which is now being used by the town to complete the undertaking. Many municipalities use the B of M's facilities to finance community improvements and to handle their financial transactions generally.

If you are a B of M depositor, then it may be your money which assisted Mr. P. R. B. to buy his bakery—which helped Mr. A. L. T. finish constructing his home—which enabled Farmer R. B. L. to make his farm more profitable—and which helped finance the new sewage system for the Ontario town. That working money of yours is part of $1,700,000,000 which well over a million Canadians have deposited at 498 B of M branches from coast to coast. Each one of the 1,531,658 B of M deposit accounts is an expression of trust in Canada's first-established bank, which has been working with Canadians in every walk of life for 129 years.

THIN OUT WOODS AT POWELL BEACH

Surplus wood from well-marked blocks will be taken out of the Powell Beach area this winter under municipal council supervision, the Summerland council has agreed following a report from Councillor Eric Tait.

This councillor declared that one person is willing to undertake this work of clearing out surplus trees, especially a number of alder trees. Stumps will be cut off at ground level, it was decided.

The area which will be thinned out extends from the spur to the parking lot, it was stated, and the wood will be blocked out for the purpose.

Dr. J. G. Marshall, at the request of President Towood, outlined his need of a permanent chemist to assist the Dominion Entomological department here. A "Bug Hunter" is lost without a "Test Tube," Dr. Marshall declared.

As a consequence of his talk, the growers will ask their central office to urge upon the Dominion Chemist the necessity of establishing a permanent post of chemist in Summerland.
