Here is a vivid view of the illegal Jewish immigration ship, Exodus 1947, tied up at the dock at Haifa, Palestine, after it had been attacked and intercepted by British naval forces off the coast. Small arms fire were used. After the ship was intercepted, a fierce battle ensued between male refugees and members of the naval forces. Here Jewish refugees stand amid wreckage while others find their way down the gangplank. Many of the 4,500 persons aboard the ship are being returned to France.

Nearly Five Hundred New Residents Work In Orchards, Factories

Nearly five hundred persons not usually resident in Summerland municipality are now engaged in harvesting, packing and canning the big 1947 fruit crop or are here with their families to visit during the busy season, it is estimated by those in charge of operations here. The labor office in Summerland, under management of Mr. William Beattie, has made 503 placements in the orchards and canneries of Summerland, while the packing houses employ another 250 persons.

Seventy-five percent of the placements in orchards and canneries consist of persons from other points, either from the interior of B.C. or prairie points. It is roughly estimated that at least twenty-five percent of the packing house employees are from outside the municipality.

In the four Summerland packing houses and the four local canneries, employment is now being given to more than four hundred persons, a survey of the district indicates. Another four hundred, at least, are employed in the orchards, thus giving an indication of the terrific payroll which is being provided this district by the harvesting and preparing for market of the 1947 soft fruit crop.

Cannery Employment
It is estimated that there are 143 female workers and approximately 20 male workers employed in the four Summerland canneries, the Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn., Barkwill's Ltd., Milne's Cannery, and the Underwood Cannery.

Approximately 160 female employees and some eighty men are busy at the four large packing houses in this community, Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn., Occidental Fruit Co. Ltd., B.C. Fruit Shippers Ltd. and Walters Ltd.

Another twelve men and fourteen women are employed at the Sunoka Fruit Products Ltd., processing plant.

Commenting on the labor situation generally, Mr. Beattie informed The Review that most of the outside help has been recruited from interior of B.C. points and the prairies. Generally speaking, workers from the coastal cities do not measure up to the standard of prairie or interior help, as they are not prepared to turn in as satisfactory a day's work.

Unlike the last five to six years, employees have almost reached the plentiful stage, but skilled workers are still not plentiful. However, there is sufficient labor available that if the worker does not show an inclination to put in a full day's work, he can be fired and a replacement found.

"The employer is in the driver's seat now," commented Mr. Beattie, indicating that the situation has been considerably reversed this year from any in the past several years.

Need More Pickers
With the three V's coming into maturity next week, still more pickers will be required for the two weeks peak peach harvest.

Asked if this extra help will be available, Mr. Beattie expressed assurance that there will be little difficulty. As the season is not as far advanced in the northern part of the valley, extra help can be drawn from Kelowna and north as desired.

Berry picking is completed in the Black Mountain section near Kelowna and extra help has been made available for Summerland from that area.

"The Kelowna and Penticton labor officials have helped out wonderfully," declared Mr. Beattie. As these bigger centres get a large number of requests for employment, they are able to pass along some workmen whenever Mr. Beattie communicates with them.

Lack of proper accommodation is still a bugbear in obtaining skilled workmen who are willing to turn in a good day's work, the labor officer declared. No orchard owner can be certain of keeping the type of help he desires if fairly adequate accommodation is not provided.

Blood Donor Service Meets Demand in B.C.

Blood transfusion is saving lives in B.C.'s hospitals today as miraculously as it saved lives on the battlefield, according to the record chalked up by the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service during its first six months of operation in hospitals of this province, states the B.C. division of the Canadian Red Cross society. "Mortality rate has been depressed and hospitalization of patients cut by days through this newly established service," states Dr. Lyall Hodgins, chief of staff of Vancouver General hospital, the first B.C. hospital to adopt this system. Seven other Vancouver hospitals now use this service and eighteen hospitals throughout the province called on this Red Cross service for blood supplies during June.

"We find this free blood and plasma invaluable," states Dr. Lionel Appleby, outstanding surgeon at St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver. "It has revolutionized the whole blood transfusion service in hospitals by making blood available to everyone on short notice. It has been particularly useful to doctors for patients who could not afford the heavy cost entailed in frequent necessary transfusions."

Twenty-five B.C. hospitals called on the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service for supplies in June. In addition to the seven Vancouver hospitals, blood was supplied to North Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster, Chemainus, Ladysmith, Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Kamloops, Prince George, Penticton, Kelowna, Sardis, Nelson, Powell River, Chilliwack, Abbotsford, Mission and Harrison.

To keep this supply flowing, 2,500 citizens are attending Red Cross blood donor clinics every month. Since blood only keeps for 2-3 weeks, it is necessary to have a steady supply for use of all hospitals needing this service. During August Vancouver donors will be called on to supply 4,376 transfusions while the mobile clinic will visit Victoria, Sidney, Patricia Bay, Peachland, Vernon, Summerland and Osoyoos.

"Never has such a great gift been made by B.C. civilians on behalf of their fellow-men," states P. S. McKergow, B.C. president of the Red Cross. "British Columbia Red Cross is proud of having pioneered this service in Canada, but it only can be maintained by cooperation of citizens. We hope more and more people will realize that by becoming blood donors they are saving lives."

This Red Cross blood donor clinic will be in Summerland at the Legion hall, on Tuesday, August 28, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. Persons who will donate blood but who have not registered, may do so at The Review office or the Bank of Montreal office in West Summerland.

TORONTO VARSITY STUDENTS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. F. O'Donnell, University of Toronto students, who are spending a summer honeymoon touring Canada, will be making West Summerland their home for the next few weeks. They are residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loyle Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell are both veterans, Mr. O'Donnell having served overseas in the 1st division of the Canadian army. Mrs. O'Donnell was a member of the WRCNS.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell are both arts students, with Mr. O'Donnell majoring in political science and economics, while his charming brunette wife is majoring in English, with creative writing her ambition.

Great interest in the history and legends of the Okanagan is shown by the versatile young couple, who will resume their studies at the University of Toronto in September.

Canned Supplies Will Be Good This Winter

Of especial interest to this community which has four canneries in operation is the report from F. J. Perry, chief canning inspector for the Dominion agricultural department, that there will be a good variety of canned fruits and vegetables on grocers' shelves this winter.

This statement, of course, is also of chief concern to the housewives of the nation.

The strawberry crop was the largest in several years and will probably equal that of 1941. Mr. Perry forecasts more strawberry jam than usual, but no more frozen strawberries than were packed last year.

There will be less than average pack of canned cherries as a fair sized pack in B.C. is more than balanced by the small quantity available for canning in Ontario. An average pack of raspberries and loganberries is assured from this year's good crop of these fruits.

Imported Apricots
Deliveries of apricots to canners in B.C. was only thirty percent of normal, Mr. Perry states but canning firms imported enough 'cots to bring the canned pack up to average.

It is expected the pack of peaches will be larger than normal despite the decline in the Ontario crop. Production in B.C. is twenty percent above last year's big packout and the crop will run to two million boxes.

There is a heavy carryover of canned plums and prunes so that despite the big crop in B.C. it is unlikely the canners will pack more than in 1946. The reduced crop of pears will result in fewer canned pears available for the market, but there is a small carryover from last year's packout.

Quantity of apples to be dehydrated and canned will depend largely on the requirements of the United Kingdom.

Vegetable Pack
As for canned vegetables, the quantity of asparagus canned this year is small. Canners bought little, as a result of the high prices for fresh asparagus. An average pack of spinach is forecast.

Last year canners put up a record pack of canned peas so this year's output will be smaller. There is a sufficient carryover to give the customers all the canned peas they desire. An average of green and wax beans and canned corn is in prospect.

"Many growers and canners were pessimistic early in the season regarding tomatoes, but the long spell of hot weather in the principal producing areas has brought tomatoes along remarkably," declared Mr. Perry.

"But even if it continues and harvesting is good and there is enough labor, canneries will probably have a smaller output of tomato products than in 1946. Tomato products include: tomato juice, tomato puree and so on. But there are prospects for more canned tomatoes," he concluded.

Dr. J. H. Craigie, dominion botanist, Ottawa, is paying an official visit at the laboratory of plant pathology, Summerland.

Frank Harrison Knocks Off Four Wickets for 16

Keen interest in the progress of the B.C. cricket team playing in Ontario for the Canadian title is being evidenced here as Frank Harrison, former Lancashire cricketer who came out to Summerland to make his home, is a member of the B.C. team.

On Monday, B.C. defeated the prairie eleven by 274 runs to 100. Harrison was stumped for four runs but shone in the bowling column, taking four wickets for only sixteen runs.

This B.C. team established what is considered another record in flying from Vancouver to Toronto last week-end. It was the biggest party of sportsmen ever to take to the air for such a distance in the history of Canadian aviation.

New Homes In Sight as More Permits Issued

Construction of homes in Summerland continues to highlight the building permits issued at the municipal office by Roy F. Angus, building inspector. In July, out of a total of $17,785 worth of permits issued, $14,500 was allocated for new dwellings.

Only one permit, for $1,000, was issued for commercial enterprises, while alterations, additions and garages made up the balance of $2,285.

This building permit figure approximates the July, 1946, total, which amounted to $17,960.

Since the first of the year, permits valued at $171,910 have been issued. The permits for July numbered 21, including eight homes, bringing the seven-month total of permits issued to 145.

In Kelowna, building permits valued at $973,180 have been issued so far this year and it is expected the 1946 record of $1,046,990 will be equalled if not surpassed this season.

Peach Demand Remains Firm At One Dollar

Rochester peaches are moving out of the Okanagan at a rate of 20,000 cases daily with the result that 105,000 crates had been shipped up to Wednesday morning. Demand for Rochesters at an FOB price of $1 remains strong in western Canada, J. G. West, advertising manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., central sales agency, reported from Kelowna yesterday.

Importations of bushel baskets from Georgia and the southern States into eastern Canada at a weak FOB price has limited shipments from the Okanagan to that market.

To compete with these U.S. shipments, the Okanagan sales agency would have to sell at an FOB price of 75 cents. Despite this competition, a car of pre-cooled Rochester peaches is leaving today for Quebec City at an FOB price of one dollar.

Stopped Picking
In the western United States, the Rochester peach deal is finished and the freestones are not moving in any quantity yet, thus giving the B.C. product a more or less free market in western Canada for the time being.

Down in Washington, the market on Rochester and Jubilee peaches was so weak that the tail end of the crop was never picked. The growers left the fruit on the trees rather than pick them at a loss.

Vancouver market was never better for Okanagan Rochesters and the housewives there are taking a lot of peaches, declares Mr. West. Demand is active for Bartlett pears which have opened at a price of $2.80 for fancy pack.

All apricot shipments to the fresh fruit market are completed but deliveries to the canneries will continue for a few days yet. The sales agency was able to maintain its opening price of $1.40 on apricots, throughout the season, except for a few cartloads to eastern Canada.

A few lot shipments of cherries from Creston and Nelson areas are still going out but the cherry pool is practically completed now.

Demand for early apples has fallen way off in western Canada and the only export shipments are

Union Members Split On Vote at Box Mill; No Bargaining Body

As a result of a vote conducted by the provincial department of labor at the Summerland Box Co. plant on Tuesday afternoon, workers at this industrial mill have no union acceptable as the collective bargaining agent, it has been revealed. Neither the AFL or CIO unions which claim membership among the box factory employees obtained sufficient votes to be recognized as the bargaining agent, it is stated by those conducting the vote.

Only forty-five of the sixty-four employees registered a vote on Tuesday afternoon and although the AFL vote was double that of the IWA, it did not come up to the 38 votes needed to give a clear picture.

Fifty percent plus one vote is necessary to allow a union to become the certified agent of the workers, once there is a dispute between two unions in the same plant, it is stated, according to regulations laid down by the provincial labor department.

Last year, the IWA obtained the certification for the Summerland Box Co., along with most other mills in the interior. Last winter, the AFL swung over most of the workers employed during the off season and was awarded the certification. This right was contested by the IWA with the result that the certification order was suspended by the labor department on June 30. The vote on Tuesday was the result of the dispute between the two unions.

Scrutineers at Vote
Mr. R. Forgie represented the department of labor at this Tuesday voting. Scrutineers for the employer, the Summerland Box Co., was George Perry, manager, Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union No. 2742, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (AFL) was represented by the newly-elected local chairman C. R. Morgan.

F. M. Fulton, president of the Valley local of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO) was scrutineer for IWA Local No. 1-423 at the local mill.

Result of the vote was as follows: AFL 28, IWA 14, spoiled 3; total 45.

The AFL union failed by five votes to obtain the necessary percentage, to be awarded certification rights.

What will be the result of this segregation is not clear at present, but it is stated by authoritative sources that the workers will have to get together in more general agreement on either the AFL or IWA unions, or break away from both unions and seek other affiliation.

Vote on Wages
The IWA union has been holding meetings among Valley locals to determine the attitude of Okanagan workers to the employees' vote of 12 1/2 percent increase in wages. Kamloops and Cranbrook workers turned thumbs down on this offer and want 12 1/2 cents increase, which is approximately 20 percent.

Last week, the IWA meeting was attended by eight members, which was not considered sufficient to decide on rejection or otherwise.

Under Bill 39, if the workers wish to vote on a strike over failure of negotiations with employees, then such a strike vote must be supervised by the department of labor following a certain definite lapse of time.

IWA officials have indicated that their own vote count would be sufficient basis for a strike. Mr. Fulton was quoted in Vernon last week as stating that the vote in Kamloops in favor of a strike was sufficient basis to call a strike there.

On the other hand, the newly-formed AFL unions state that their membership will not take part in any strike called by the IWA. W. J. Baker, Summerland, Okanagan organizer of the new AFL unions, informed The Review last week that his brotherhood would only consider a strike if voted upon by its members after a government-supervised count.

"In the event of a strike, Bill 39 lays down the law for us to follow. Maybe we don't like it (Bill 39) but we must obey it. We might as well go out and rob the bank," Mr. Baker stated in Vernon last week, (as strike without government supervised voting).

Tea and Coffee Prices on Rampage

Tea and coffee is on the rampage throughout Canada and price rises are general. There are still some retailers who have not raised the prices but this situation will only continue for a matter of days.

Tea which ordinarily retailed at 85 cents per pound was subject to a fifteen-cent rise on Saturday, August 2. Reports from Vancouver yesterday indicated that another increase of approximately twelve cents is in prospect.

It may well be that before long that same tea which sold at 85 cents will be retailing for $1.20. Controlled buying in tea is no more and this beverage, which is sold at auction, is subject to the highest bidders. This is claimed to be the main reason for the price rise.

Today, coffee is subject to a ten-cent per pound increase, which brings the level to the 50 cents mark as soon as retailers wish to apply it. Coffee prices will probably not stop there, local retailers warn. Only a week ago some coffee was available at the 45-cent mark.

Ball League Tied in Knots; Play Sunday

The South Okanagan baseball league is tied into a tight little knot this week and the only team not concerned with the league schedule is Osoyoos, and they never won a game all season, anyway.

It happened at Peachland last Sunday when the home towners eked out a narrow 8-7 victory by scoring seven runs in one inning from the protesting Rutland club. This was the second of the two protest games which have held up the playoffs.

As a result of this Peachland win, Summerland and Peachland are knotted at the top of the heap, while Rutland and the Kelowna Cubs are similarly tied up for third place.

So Peachland is coming to Summerland this coming Sunday to break the tie for first place, while Rutland and the Cubs tangle in Rutland to decide which team will take over undisputed possession of the third place spot.

Once these two games are out of the way the playoffs can commence with the third place team travelling to the second place squad's home field for the right to meet the league winners in a two out of three series.

In the meantime, the Similkameen portion of the league is away to a good start with Hedley, having eliminated Keremeos, tangle with the pace-setting Princeton nine for the championship of that league.

Once the South Okanagan has settled its league leadership, the two champions will meet to decide who is the champion of the South Okanagan-Similkameen district.

Ted Clements and his catcher, Verne Cousins, were back in the Peachland fold last Sunday and they made all the difference, sparking the Peachland crew to their victory.

Peachland In Big Rally To Down Rutland

Blasting out "Hank" Wostradow, skil, with seven runs on six hits, and two errors, Peachland on Sunday at home went on to a close 8 to 7 victory over Rutland in a replay of the protest game of June 15, which Peachland had won 8 to 4.

Peachland trailed 4-1 going into the bottom half of the fifth as Rutland went ahead on singles by Wostradowski, Holitski, and then a three-run homer by Johnny Lingor.

In the fifth Ted Clements doubled down the right field line and scored on Fuiks single. Sutherland singled; D. Cousins was safe on an error, Fuiks scoring. Mohls doubled scoring D. Cousins and Sutherland. Warren Cousins was safe on Heldick's error and Verne Cousins singled scoring Mohls. At this point Wostradowski was relieved by Lingor on the mound.

Ted Clements singled for his second hit of the inning scoring Verne Cousins with the seventh run of the big inning, giving Peachland an 8-4 margin. Rutland pulled up to 8-6 in the sixth on singles by Kitach and Brummett and a two-base hit by

An Open Letter

Dear Mr. Producer:

This is an open letter to you, the fruit producers of the Okanagan, with a kindly note of warning intended in the right manner. We hope you will take it in the spirit given, that of friendly advice for the months and the years ahead.

You know, and we know, that the years of super income are over. You have had six years of bumper returns for a product which, in ordinary times returned you a fair living for the capital involved and the work undertaken. For six years you have been reaping a small bonanza and most of you had to send in those nasty returns to Mr. Ilsley and then Mr. Abbott.

Those of you who were wise made the most of those bumper years. You consolidated your position, so to speak. You made all the capital improvements on your orchard that were so badly needed, you improved the fertility of your soil, you replanted your orchards with more desirable varieties.

Best of all, you put some money aside for those years when the returns will not be so good. You are lucky and farsighted people and do not need any friendly advice.

But there are others who are not in such a good position. You are mostly the ones who purchased fruit lands at a high figure and have not been able to earn back your investment or clear the title.

It is to you people and those who did not take advantage of the rich years to whom we would like to talk.

We have lived for many years in this bountiful Okanagan. We remember the days of the early '20s when red ink was splashed so plentifully and so painfully across this beautiful valley. We remember the ugly thirties when that bright color was as pronounced again.

We have followed each step of the re-organization of this big fruit industry. We have had the opportunity to sit in on countless meetings from Oliver in the south to Vernon in the north and have watched the steps which had to be undertaken before you could bring yourselves to the fortunate position in which you are now.

There are many who do not know of the days when the producer brought his fruit in to a commercial packing house, handed it dutifully over to the receiver and asked the manager to sort it, grade it, try to sell it and if there was anything left after all these operations he would be glad of the crumbs.

Those days are long distant and let us all hope and pray that they will continue to be more distant. Now, you have your own representatives who sell your product for you. They act in your place. Instead of you making the contact with the trade, they do the job for you. They endeavor to obtain the best possible price for your product and are directly responsible to you for their efforts.

Granted, those representatives of yours have made some mistakes. And they, being only human after all, will continue to err. But you praised those same representatives at the central sales office, when it was a buyer's market. Do not forget that praise now that the tide has turned and it is a seller's market.

Those same men on the long distance telephone at Kelowna who are trying to dispose of the biggest peach crop ever produced in B.C. are the same men whom you thought were wonderful when they brought you prices of $1.60 and even better in the past few years.

They didn't have to face a glutted market across the border with Washington peaches being offered for fifty cents, a sum less than the cost of production. But they did a good job then and they will continue to do so now if you will only give them a chance.

Of course, we don't mean that they should be given an absolutely free hand. Certainly not. Watch them carefully, criticize their mistakes, but do it in a friendly way. And by all means, do not start to tear the organization to pieces simply because of the error of an individual.

You have built up an organization in your central sales agency which is the envy of every other fruit producing area on this continent. You have shown an organizational spirit second to none other. So don't be hasty or foolish in your actions, in years to come.

In order to keep that sales office in operation, you have to sign a contract next year. Don't be content to sign it and sit back. See that your neighbors know all the angles and see that they sign up, as well. If they don't know of the heartaches and needless wrangling and price-cutting which was the downfall of this valley in the early thirties and before, just let an old-timer tell you all about it. You won't hesitate about signing then.

So, we close, Mr. Producer, with the fervent hope that in the years to come, when competition becomes a little tougher and you have to work a little harder for your daily dollar, don't for one minute lose sight of the benefits to be derived from your organization. Foster it, nurse it along, and keep together, because it means your bread and butter.

So long,
The Editor.

The Feminine Front

by MURIEL HURRY

Frozen foods are much more attractive and appetizing than canned foods, and are more easily prepared for freezing than for canning.

With the erection of a frozen food locker in Summerland, local housewives will be interested in the methods of preparing and freezing garden and orchard products.

Lockers may be used for meat and vegetables, such as peas, beans and corn, which are difficult to can. Fruits may be frozen successfully, adding variety to winter meals.

Containers for frozen fruits will probably be stocked by the operator of the lockers, and the most desirable of these containers is a moisture and vapor proof carton, which can be heat sealed. Flat, rectangular containers take up less space than round containers.

Glass jars may be used, but are not advised, as they waste space in the locker, and are apt to break. A head space of one inch to allow for expansion is necessary with glass containers.

Fruits for freezing should be selected at the best stage of maturity, as for table use. They are prepared as for canning, and packed with syrup or sugar, with a head space allowed for expansion in freezing.

Each container should be labeled with date, variety and locker number, and sharp frozen at 20 degrees below, with as little delay as possible. They are then held in storage at zero.

Fruits for freezing are prepared in much the same way as for canning, but no processing is required. This does away with all the heat and work of canning on a hot summer day, as well as saving fuel.

Speed is most important. Keep the fruit chilled, as fruit loses flavor, texture and vitamin content if left standing.

Fruits may be frozen without sugar, but much better results are obtained when syrup or dry sugar is added. The amount used varies with the taste of the family, and the amount of sugar available. The following amounts are suggested in a booklet published by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

Dry pack: Use 1 lb. sugar for 5 lbs. fruit.

Syrup: Use 1 cup sugar to 2 cups water. Boil together for about 5 minutes, and cool thoroughly. A pint container requires about 1/2 cup syrup.

Handle and pack fruits and vegetables quickly and carefully, in not too large quantities.

All vegetables require blanching before freezing, which destroys the organisms present in the food which might otherwise cause deterioration. Blanching preserves, rather than destroys food value, and assists in retaining natural color and flavor. The time required for blanching vegetables is obtainable in the booklet, "Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables", also issued by Tree Fruits, and my copy at The Review office is obtainable for consultation.

Peaches and rhubarb are the only fruits that require blanching. Vegetables may be packed dry, or in cold 2 percent salt brine. Freeze foods immediately after packing.

Tin cans may be used for vegetables, and for all fruits except rhubarb. Plain cans are suitable for all vegetables, and most fruits, but re-enamel cans for raspberries, cherries and plums. Since food frozen in tin cans is not sterilized, as when canned, it should be removed from the can while still frozen, or immediately after thawing. Honey and jam tins also make satisfactory containers.

Corn-on-the-cob is also suggested for freezing, and can be more easily and conveniently frozen than canned, with enthusiastic reports on the results.

Frozen vegetables require some cooking, regardless of the manner of serving. Cooking methods are the same for frozen as for fresh vegetables, except that the frozen require a much shorter cooking period, about 1/3 to 1/2 the time. Care should be taken not to overcook them for best results.

Frozen vegetables should be put on to cook while still frozen, and if more than one package is to be used at the time, a large saucepan should be used, with room for both frozen blocks to rest on the bottom, as one frozen block should not be placed on another. Corn-on-the-cob is the only vegetable which should be thawed before cooking, otherwise the kernels will be overcooked before the cob is hot.

Frozen fruit, if served raw, should not be thawed until needed for serving. To be cooked, fruit does not need to be completely thawed. Fruit should always be thawed slowly. Fruits packed in syrup may be served as are canned fruits. Fruits packed in dry sugar are ideal for pies, and other desserts. Strawberries are excellent for short cakes, or as fresh fruit.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

Arthur Mann's office looked to me like a cross between a museum and super fruit market. There were numerous plates of apricots, peaches and plums systematically arranged on shelves and tables. Each plate carried a label indicating the variety and the date on which it was picked. When I asked Arthur what this was all about, he informed me that it is a phase of the fruit variety testing program which is being carried out at the station. Samples of each new variety under trial are harvested at various stages of maturity and held to determine the quality which they develop. Records are also made regarding the length of time which they remain in good eating condition and their susceptibility to storage disorders such as shrivelling, flesh discoloration, rots and breakdown.

Detailed records are also made of the behavior of each variety in the orchard. For example, notes are made concerning vigour, hardiness, disease resistance and growth habits. Data are also recorded regarding the productivity and bearing habits of each variety. In evaluating a new variety it is most important to note whether the fruit matures evenly or reaches harvesting condition over a long period. In this connection it is interesting to report that the new Spotlight peach, originated at the Summerland station, matures its crop within a short period with the result that it can all be harvested in two pickings. This is in sharp contrast to the Rochester variety which matures its fruit unevenly, often necessitating as many as 4 or 5 pickings.

When a variety has been found promising from the growing and harvesting standpoints, it is subjected to tests designed to ascertain its suitability for fresh shipment and processing. In order to meet present day commercial requirements a new variety must have good handling characteristics. It is also highly desirable that the fruit be suitable for canning and freezing. Here again I was interested to learn that the Spotlight peach develops good color while still hard enough to withstand modern grading and packing procedures. Furthermore, processing tests have revealed that it makes an excellent canned and frozen product.

When a variety shows as much promise as Spotlight it is the policy of the Experimental station to propagate about 100 trees and distribute these to cooperating growers for more extensive tests. This has already been done, but it will be several years yet before information is available as to how this new variety behaves under commercial conditions. If it continues to give good results, budwood will eventually be released to nurserymen in order that the variety may be propagated and grown on a large scale.

UNITED STATES CURRENCY MUST BE TURNED INTO THE BANKS

Why? because U.S. dollars spent by tourists are needed to pay for the many imported goods and services essential to keep Canadian industry at a high level of production and employment.

To ensure that U.S. dollars are made available for this purpose, the Foreign Exchange Control regulations require that merchants, hotel-keepers, service stations, and all others turn in whatever United States currency they receive to their banks.

In his own interests as well as in those of Canada, it is the obligation of every Canadian to comply with the regulations which are necessary for the orderly and proper use of our foreign exchange resources.

IF YOU REQUIRE U.S. FUNDS, APPLICATION
CAN BE MADE AT YOUR BANK

FOREIGN EXCHANGE CONTROL REGULATIONS IN BRIEF

1. In no case is it legal for a Canadian resident to pay out U.S. currency to anyone in exchange for Canadian currency.
2. In no case is it legal for a Canadian resident to pay out U.S. currency in change to another Canadian resident even though the latter has tendered U.S. currency in payment for a purchase.
3. No Canadian resident is permitted to retain in his possession U.S. currency in excess of $10.00, but is required to turn in such funds to his bank for conversion into Canadian funds.
4. Merchants or others catering to the tourist trade may pay U.S. currency to non-resident tourists in change if U.S. currency is tendered for a purchase, and may retain in their possession a necessary amount of U.S. currency for this purpose.

BREACH OF THE REGULATIONS RENDERS THE OFFENDER

SUSPEND RIFLE SHOOT

Because of lack of ammunition, the Summerland Rifle Club is suspending its Sunday shoots for a short period. Winners of the Sunday shoot on July 27 as follows: G. M. Dunsdon 90, P. S. and A. R. Dunsdon 89, H. Dunsdon 88, D. Taylor and Ed Gould 84, Len Shan-non 83, W. C. W. Fosbery 69.

Perfect Scores At Trap Shoots

Three perfect scores were registered in the past week by members of the Summerland Skeet club, participating in trap shoots at Kelowna and here at Summerland. On Wednesday, July 30, eight members of the club visited the Kelowna traps with the result that Bill Laidlaw and Ken Blagborne excelled themselves with two possible, 25 each.

Until that evening, only two possibles had been made at the Kelowna trap club this year, one of them being registered by a Ver-gon marksman.

Other scores registered by the Summerland visitors to Kelowna were: John Khalemback 22, Jerry Laidlaw 21, Jerry Nelson 20, Dr. L. A. Day 19, T. Nelson 18.

On Sunday morning, at the local traps, Harry Dickson made the first perfect score which has been registered at this new range, when he obtained a possible 25.

The calibre of shooting was excellent last Sunday as there were four marksmen, John Khalemback, A. E. Munn, Dr. Day and A. Elsey who scored 24 out of 25 and three others, Jerry Nelson, Ken Blagborne and Bill Laidlaw had 23s. C. H. Elsey and G. W. Pennington were close behind with 21 each.

New Scholarships At University Are Announced

Two scholarships, valued at a total of $250 each year, and three prizes for a total annual value of $150 have been accepted by the board of governors of the University of British Columbia, the president's office announced today. Acceptance is subject to approval of the university senate, which meets August 29th.

A scholarship for a student taking major work in history, economics, government, international studies or political science is offered by the trustees of a fund established by the late Alan Boag. It is valued at $250 annually.

Applicants must be proceeding to a further year at the university, and must be graduate students or students in their final year.

It will be awarded for the best essay or report on some aspect of socialism; special consideration will be given for originality in analysis and treatment. The award will be made on recommendation of the heads of the departments of history and economics and the director of international studies.

If no essay reaches the required standard, the award will be withheld, and students must obtain approval of their essay subject from the department concerned.

The N. Leo Klein memorial scholarship, valued at $100 annually, is the gift of Mr. I. J. Klein of Vancouver. It replaces an earlier, memorial scholarship of $50, and will be awarded to the student obtaining first place in the examinations of third year commerce. Two book prizes, valued at $25 each, are the gift of the Chemical Institute of Canada, and will be awarded to students entering fourth year. One is for the student obtaining the highest standing in chemistry in third year arts and science; the other will be awarded to the student obtaining the highest standing in third year chemical engineering.

A $100 prize, the gift of Mr. Jack Bell of the Northern Peat Moss Company Limited, is available for undergraduates in third or fourth year, and for graduates, in agriculture or agricultural engineering.

The award will be made on the recommendation of the faculty of agriculture to the student submitting the best report on any phase of peat moss, its formation and use. If no report reaches the required standard, the prize will be withheld.

Students intending to compete must consult the dean of agriculture before beginning work on the subject. First award of this prize will be in May, 1948.

The board of governors has also been advised that a $200 scholarship awarded annually to a student from Ocean Falls, Powell River, Port Alice, Port Mellon or Woodfibre by International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphide and Paper Mill Workers, Local 312, Ocean Falls, B.C., will be raised to $250 from this year. It is awarded to a student entering first year at UBC, on the basis of written examinations in scholarship subjects.

CHARLES NESBITT WINS RADIO AT LEGION SMOKER

Charles Nesbitt, with ticket No. 10, was the winner of the radio given away at the Canadian Legion annual midsummer smoker at the Ellison hall last Friday evening. More than 150 persons attended this smoker and participated in the games, chief of which was bingo.

D. C. Thompson was the winner of the ham, which was also given away at the affair.

Tom Charity was the organizer of this smoker which has become a popular event of the summer season. The Legion also stages a smoker just prior to the Christmas season each year.

Advocate New Agricultural School

S. Speers, of Enderby, has been elected president of the Okanagan-Mainline Associated Boards of Trade, succeeding W. T. L. Roadhouse, Kelowna. J. Ratcliffe, Kamloops, is first vice-president and W. C. Panton, Enderby, is the new secretary.

One of the chief resolutions passed at the quarterly meeting held last week was one asking the provincial government to establish a school of practical agriculture in the interior on a site to be selected by the government.

Delegates to the meeting suggested that this school should be separated from UBC and established under the department of agriculture, rather than the department of education. A practical study rather than an academic one was advocated by the speakers.

DROWNS IN DITCH

MEN WHO MADE OKANAGAN HISTORY

ARCHDEACON THOMAS GREENE

"Tell Wong Foo I Will Come"

ANOTHER life was at stake—stricken with the deadly influenza plague. It was the winter of 1918-19 and the epidemic which followed the first World War was at its worst. Archdeacon Greene was not the man to refuse a call for help. For weeks he ministered to the Chinese inhabitants of Kelowna and his nursing saved many of their lives

As early as 1897 Archdeacon Greene had been associated with the history of Kelowna, as rector of St. Michael's and All Angels' Anglican Church. After lengthy tenure of the office of Rural Dean of the Okanagan, he was advanced in 1916 to the dignity of Archdeacon. He took a keen interest in the Kelowna Hospital and was a constant visitor to its wards. His catholicity of spirit, his tolerance, established him firmly in the affections of the whole community, irrespective of race or creed.

For the past thirty-eight years, from the time they were established in Kelowna in 1909, Okanagan Investments Ltd. and Okanagan Trust Company have taken a prominent place in the industrial and community development of the Okanagan.

 Mr. Ancomb stated at the board of trade meeting in Penticton that the road would not be opened for traffic until it was hard surfaced. In my opinion this is an excellent idea as the road would certainly be given a black eye if it was not in perfect condition at all times which could not be obtained without being hard surfaced.

Aid Any District

An emergency team composed of one public health physician and three public nurses stand ready to supplement local health services if necessary throughout the province in the event of sizable outbreaks of poliomyelitis.

Team members, enlisted by the provincial department of health, have completed a period of observation and training in the Vancouver General hospital isolation department, on the newest "polio" treatment methods in use.

The nurses, who have concentrated on nursing techniques and general measures which will cut down the spread of the disease, will travel if necessary to any locality in the province outside of the greater Vancouver and Victoria areas.

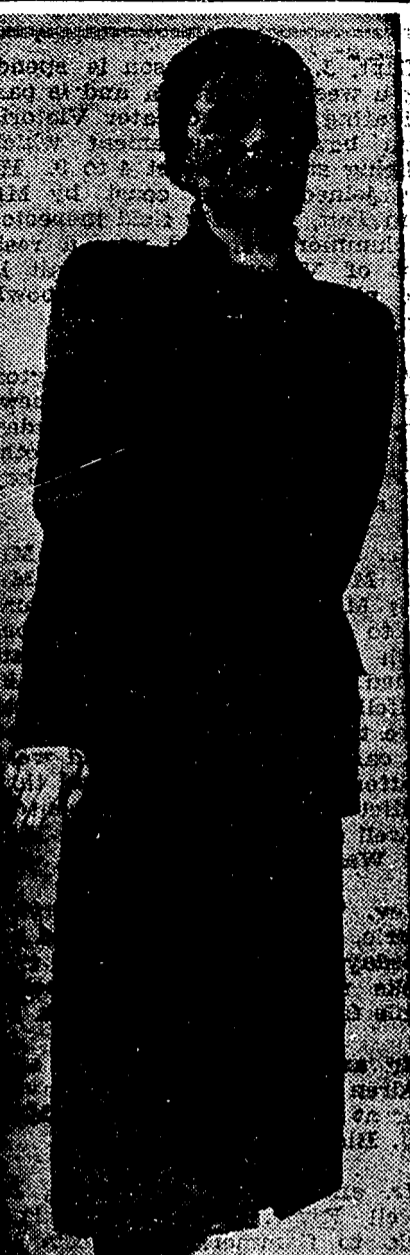

Hospitals in interior centres will be visited by the public health physician, who will assist them in improvising facilities so that up-to-date treatment can be available for possible poliomyelitis victims.

Meanwhile, poliomyelitis control information has been circulated to all medical health officers in British Columbia by the provincial department of health.

Provincial statistics, which place the total of poliomyelitis cases for 1947 to date at 88, indicate that "polio" is still mainly restricted to the Greater Vancouver area and the lower Fraser Valley.

POISON IVY
IS IMPORTANT

Prevalence of poison ivy in Summerland district is quite well known to most persons but to many youngsters the danger of the plant has never been unfolded. On some of the roadways in the municipality, poison ivy grows along the sides and presents a danger to pedestrians who are forced from the main travelled portion by passing automobiles.

Poison ivy is one of the worst, if not the worst, skin-irritant plants in North America, and it grows under a variety of conditions, wet or dry, shady or exposed, and in any soil from fine sand or rocky ground to rich soil in the woods, experts state.

It is seldom found in cultivated land but it may be plentiful in unoccupied areas, or in secluded nooks and dells which children love to explore. Poisoning is the result of contact with any part of the plant—leaves, flower, stems, and roots—or from clothing, boots, and tools that have the juice of the ivy on them.

If it is anticipated that poison ivy may be met in the day's outing, it is a good plan to carry a piece of strong laundry soap in the equipment because washing with this kind of soap in running water immediately contact with the ivy is suspected and before the oil of the plant can penetrate the skin, is the popular and effective treatment.

In the event of poisoning, the initial stage is a mild itching sensation, followed by blisters which on breaking become painful oozing sores. In that case, medical aid is advisable.

The extermination of the poison ivy plant has always been a tough job. During the war, the plant was killed around the military camps in Canada by the use of ammonium sulphamate, and now the new wonder weed killer 2,4-D is being used, but even with this devastating chemical it takes two applications to complete the entire destruction of the obnoxious poison ivy plant.

In the use of the 2,4-D weed killer, George Knowles, weed control expert, field husbandry division, Experimental Farms Services, advises considerable care, particularly when near vegetable or flower gardens or ornamental trees. Spraying should be kept well away from them and should not be carried out on a windy day because the fine spray carried by the wind might be carried some distance.

Mrs. Wm. Kennedy and children, who have been visiting for some time at the home of Mrs. Kennedy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott, left on Saturday evening to return to their home in Vancouver.

Teen Town
By ALF

In order to give the public a better understanding of Teen Town, your writer explains briefly in the article below the role that Teen Town plays in the life of the teen-agers. It is hoped that this article will be read not only by the teen-agers but also by their parents.

Teen Town can be concisely defined as a recreational center for the teen-agers, of the teen-agers, and by the teen-agers. In many communities throughout Canada, it has solved the difficult problem of providing the teen-agers with recreational needs.

There are many reasons why Teen Towns are being organized in one town and city after another in Canada. When given their own fun in their own way and place (with help here and there from adults) most teenagers cause little trouble. When left to dangle aimlessly between children's groups and parties, and adult clubs and bridges, they flounder and fidget, give parents headaches, teachers nervous breakdowns, and sometimes cause the police real difficulty.

Teen Town is helping greatly to decrease juvenile delinquency, a problem confronting many communities for a long time, as it provides the teenagers with a place to spend their leisure time under supervision. As well as receiving the best possible entertainment, they acquire a feeling of companionship and a sense of belonging. One can drop into Teen Town and find enthusiastic teen-agers of all types and races, and from all sorts and circumstances, dancing, playing games, listening to recordings, drinking pop, and generally having a wonderful time.

One of the most important contributions of Teen Town is the training which the teen-agers are receiving themselves from their mutual participation in the planning and in the conducting of their program. Teen-agers too often miss this training which is invaluable preparation for their places as honest, capable citizens of the world.

Some illustrations of this training are the knowledge of municipal government that they are gaining from Teen Town, an organization which runs like a real city; and the responsibilities and duties of the mayor and council, who head the administration, and the other civic officials are such that they provide teen-agers an excellent training in leadership. In this Teen Town is helping the youth of

Electrical Service Shut Off Twice

Electrical current was shut off throughout the entire South Okanagan for approximately three hours Sunday evening, due to a severe electrical storm in the West Kootenay between Grand Forks and Greenwood. The lights and power failed at about nine o'clock and full service was not resumed until shortly after midnight.

Again on Monday morning the West Kootenay had difficulty in supplying electrical energy due to adjustments necessary because of the storm. Just as the West Kootenay service was restored, trouble developed in local lines and it was not until noon on Monday that full service was restored.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED HERE

The 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott was the occasion for a surprise party on Saturday evening, when about 26 friends of the popular couple staged an impromptu party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

A silver cream and sugar set on a tray was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott by Mr. "Bill" White on behalf of the guests. A jovial response was made by Mr. Elliott.

Those attending the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. H. Thornthwaite, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Steuart, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Les Gould, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunsdon, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walden, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith, Mrs. I. C. Schwass, Mr. Phil Dunsdon, Mr. Bill Nelson and Mr. Talmadge McDonald.

Old Age Pensioners To Get Ten Millions

Old age pensioners in British Columbia in future will receive up to a maximum of $40 a month as a result of an agreement that has been entered into between British Columbia and the Dominion government and the decision of the provincial cabinet to continue the $10 a month cost-of-living bonus, it is announced by Premier John Hart.

The agreement between British Columbia and the Dominion likewise brings into effect, the premier stated, modified regulations which will increase the number of old age pension recipients from more than 18,000 at the present time to 25,000.

The increased pension is made retroactive to May 1st.

Premier Hart explained that at the present time, the maximum amount an old age pensioner may receive is $35 a month. This is made up of $25 a month borne on the basis of 75% by the Dominion and 25% by the province and a further $10 a month cost-of-living bonus which is borne solely by the province.

The Dominion government at its recent session, increased the statutory pension from $25 a month to $30 a month with the Dominion sharing 75% and the province 25%. The new statutory pension of $30 a month, plus the provincial cost-of-living bonus of $10 a month, therefore makes the maximum old age pension allowance in British Columbia $40 a month.

Of the maximum $35 a month allowance now paid, the provincial contribution is $16.25 and the Dominion contribution $18.75. Under the increased scale of $40 a month, the province will contribute $17.50 and the Dominion $22.50, Mr. Hart explained.

At the present time, Mr. Hart explained, more than 18,000 persons are in receipt of old age pensions in British Columbia.

"It is anticipated, however, that with the modifications in regulations between 6,000 and 7,000 more persons over 70 years of age will become eligible for old age pensions or partial pensions, thus bringing the total number of persons in receipt of allowances to 25,000.

At the present time, B.C. pays to old age pensioners $3,100,000 made up as follows: 25% share of statutory pensions—$1,400,000; cost-of-living bonus—$2,000,000. It is estimated that under the new arrangements, the cost to the province will rise to $4,800,000 made up as follows: $2,000,000 representing 25% share of the statutory pension and $2,800,000 representing the cost-of-living bonus.

The old age pensioners will receive under the new arrangements a total of $10,500,000, which amount includes the Dominion government's contribution toward the statutory pension.

Girls Fastball Play-offs Are Tied One Each

Summerland girls' fastball team fell apart at the seams in Penticton on Sunday evening in the second of the play-off series for the southern interior championship and the H. W. McInnes cup. When the debacle was completed Penticton had turned in a sparkling performance and had won going away 15-0.

Nothing that Summerland could do was right and everything Penticton did was letter perfect. That was just the story and it means that the third and deciding contest will be played in Penticton this Sunday.

Summerland won the first game at home 8-4 and were just as good then as they were terrible last Sunday.

Doreen Howard was shaky for the first few innings and was battered for twelve runs in the first two frames. But it certainly wasn't all her fault as errors were plentiful among her teammates.

After those first two innings, when Penticton scored seven in the first and another five in the second, Summerland tightened up and put on a much better exhibition. But the girls couldn't connect with the offerings of Walsh, the Penticton hurler.

In the fifth, with one away and the bases full, Summerland couldn't push runs across and the same sorry story was repeated in the sixth. But never at any time did the local girls even look like threatening the southern squad.

Teams were as follows:
Penticton: N. Smuin 2b, J. McKee ss, M. Kincaid 1b, W. McKee cf, J. Kinkade 3b, S. Kloster lf, Neal rf, Gordon rf, Walsh p, R. Kinkade c.

Score by innings:
Summerland 000.000.000—0
Penticton 750.010.20x—15

In order that the programme for the year may be planned effectively the number of pupils in each grade, credits previously gained, and courses desired by each pupil must be known. All new students except those promoted from Summerland Elementary are asked to write to Mr. Macleod giving the required information. Those knowing of intending students who may not be in the district now are asked to convey details to Mr. Macleod.

The following new courses will be given 1947-48.

1. Junior Business—for Grade X pupils not intending to proceed further in mathematics.
2. Journalism—Grade XI, 3 periods; 2 periods 1948-49.
3. Biology A—Grade XII, primarily for students proceeding to Nursing, Science, Engineering, Agriculture.

Pupils electing any of these courses should phone their choice to the principal (384 or 104). Any course with too few applicants will not be given.

N.B.—Pupils having any text-reference or library books, study aids or equipment of any sort on loan from the high school will please notify the principal promptly so that an accounting may be made before term begins.

A MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA - -

Because nearly one-third of the land surface of our Province is suitable only for the growing of tree-crops, it is essential that we manage and cut our forests so that they will provide an annual harvest for all time. Over forty thousand workers in this Province, and their families, are directly dependent on the forest industries for employment and many additional thousands are indirectly affected. No other industry in British Columbia could absorb this body of workers, should the forest industries cease to exist. They and their families would perforce have to migrate elsewhere. The B.C. Forest Service is working to ensure continuous production of forest crops for all time, for the benefit of the people of British Columbia. You can also help by being careful with fire when in the forests.

PEACH DEMAND

Continued from page 1 to the eastern market. Wealthies Next Week Wealthy apples will not be available for marketing until the end of next week. Crabapples, always a headache to the sales staff, are now rolling in small quantities and the demand is about equal to the supply at present. Wapita, Wash., cantaloupe salesmen are proving a thorn in the flesh of the sales agency as far as Vancouver and Victoria markets are concerned. The Washington product is being dumped onto the coast markets at a low figure and shut off the B.C. sales. However, the Okanagan product is being sold at a reasonable figure on the prairie markets.

Advertising of B.C. tomatoes for home canning purposes is reaping good results on the prairie markets and a large number of straight case sales to the housewives are reported from prairie points. Market is firm on tomatoes. Last week, 220 cars of fruit and vegetables left the Okanagan, with the biggest day's shipment being on Saturday with sixty cars. Total cars shipped to Saturday, August 2, amounted to 1,256 against 1,194 last year at the same date.

Rochester picking and packing is in full swing in the Summerland area now with the three Vs, Veidettes, Valiants and Veterans commencing to roll next week. Clapp's Favorite pear picking will commence about Monday in a general way and some Bartletts will also be reaching the packing houses at the first of next week. Duchess packing is now cleaning up but it will be some time before Wealthies are being picked in any quantity.

Mr. T. B. Lott and Dr. H. R. McLarty have returned from Yakima, Wash., where they attended the annual meeting of the Northwest Association of Horticulturists, Entomologists and Plant Pathologists. Of special interest was a round-table discussion of the Little Cherry disease situation in the northwest.

GOOD PROGRESS ON HART ROAD

Good progress is being made on the eastern section of the Hart highway from Prince George to the Peace River, it was announced by E. C. Carson, minister of public works.

Mr. Carson has just completed a 2,000 mile inspection trip of British Columbia roads by motor and airplane extending up to the Peace river, across central British Columbia to Queen Charlotte Islands, and from Comox to Victoria.

The bridge at East Pine is more than half finished and will be connected by August 15, the Minister estimated.

Miss Jean Flatt, librarian in the Technical Collegiate, Saskatoon, Sask., returning from a month's vacation in Victoria is visiting for a few days at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mrs. J. Moffat and Mr. H. E. Fraser.

Mr. H. G. Kingsley of San Bernardo, Cal., has been visiting old college friends in Summerland, where he has been a guest at the homes of Mrs. M. V. Dale and Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Wright. Mr. Kingsley is a former resident of Summerland.

Life Saving To Be Demonstrated

A demonstration of life-saving will be a feature of the swim classes at Powell Beach next Wednesday, August 13. Cecil Wade, who is in charge of the swim classes of the Summerland Board of Trade, will be in charge of this demonstration and will be assisted by Don Johnston and Miss Lavella Day.

All swimmers who are attending the swim classes are being asked to turn out one hundred per cent as this is an important part of the instruction they receive each summer. Any others who are interested are welcome to come down to Powell Beach next Wednesday, states Mr. Wade.

FAILS TO PLACE

Richard Lewis was the only single competitor from Summerland at the Kelowna Regatta this year but the war canoe trials had entries in both the senior women's and men's races. In the women's race, Summerland crew was behind Penticton and Kelowna and in the men's contest the Summerland boat swamped. Penticton won both war canoe races on Wednesday afternoon, the final day of the regatta. Richard failed to place in the junior races.

Markets For Fresh Fruit Firm As U.S. Competition Fades

Markets on all fresh fruits being offered by the Okanagan are firm this week and with a tremendous quantity of peaches rolling across Canada from this valley, the picture is much brighter from a sales angle, B.C. Tree Fruits advertising manager J. G. West, reported yesterday afternoon. In Washington, the peach market has firmed at one dollar, and importations to the Pacific Coast and prairie points have almost ceased.

This lack of competition at bargain basement prices has had a decided effect on the Canadian market with the result that the demand for Okanagan peaches has increased considerably.

Some 330,000 cases of peaches have been shipped to fresh fruit markets as far east as Quebec City. Rochesterers were sent to that city while Toronto and northern Ontario points have been accepting the three V's from the Okanagan.

Ontario peaches are not being harvested in any quantity yet and the Okanagan product has been finding fairly good acceptance in eastern Canada despite importations at rock bottom quotations from the Carolinas and Georgia.

Depends on Yakims

Continuation of the firm market conditions for peaches depends entirely on Yakima conditions, Mr. West indicated. The growers there have tried to hold the market at a fair price of one dollar and have been successful for the past week. Washington peach growers are in the middle of their Elberta harvest.

Rochester picking and shipping is about concluded in this area but is just getting into stride in the Kelowna area. Oliver-Osoyoos has almost finished its three V's and Penticton-Summerland area is about fifty percent cleaned up on these varieties.

Peach shipments to the fresh fruit market now amount to one-quarter of the total to be shipped. One-third of the entire crop or about 600,000 cases will go to canneries, it is believed.

Dr. Jules and Clapp's Favorite pears are about completed and Bartlett's are in full swing. Bartlett picking in Oliver-Osoyoos is completed and is fifty percent over in this area. Harvesting of Bartlett will be heavy in Kelowna this weekend. The market for pears remains firm with a good demand. There has been no alteration in the price structure.

Firm Markets

Plums are also moving in fairly heavy volume with big shipments from the Creston and Kootenay valleys. Prices are in line with other commodities firm and with a good demand. Some plums have been shipped to Quebec points. Even crabapples show a "surprisingly good demand." The market is firm at $1.35 for fancy crabs. Sixty percent of the Transcendents have gone to market. A few cases of crabapples have gone to the Dakotas in the United States.

Duchess and earlier apples are about finished, there being only 1,500 boxes of Duchess left to sell. These are expected to move out shortly.

Demand for Wealthy apples is so great that it is anticipated available supplies will not meet the catch up until the middle of next week. Wealthies, unwrapped, are being quoted at $1.40.

Tomatoes Strong

In western Canada markets, local supplies of vegetables are such that the vegetable demand has slowed down to a slow walk. Only exception to this condition, are the B.C. tomatoes, which have been advertised extensively on the prairies. The demand is still strong for B.C. tomatoes.

Last week, 380 cars of fruit and vegetable rolled to market with the peak day of the year to date being Saturday, when 95 cars left the Okanagan. Total shipments for the season, to date, amount to 1,731 cars, compared with 1,559 cars a year ago and 1,182 in 1945.

Some idea of the volume of produce moving from the southern

Helicopter Lands Here For First Time

Piloted by C. C. Agar, Penticton, the new helicopter owned by Okanagan Air Services Ltd., landed in Summerland on Wednesday afternoon, creating a considerable amount of interest. Mr. Agar conferred with Dr. J. G. Marshall, Dominion entomologist, and other officials, regarding the proposed experiments to be undertaken towards pest control from the air.

"The age of slow speed pest control, especially for fruit orchards, is finished," declared Dr. Marshall in commenting on plans being laid for experiments in this area. Pest control from the air is not new in the United States but this will be the first experiments ever undertaken in Canada for orchard pest control from a helicopter, Dr. Marshall explained. In order to assist in the experiments to be undertaken and to assess the workings of the helicopter from a standpoint of coverage, Mr. W. W. Hopewell, of the Suffield Experimental Station, Alberta, has been sent to Summerland by the Dominion department of agriculture.

Assisting Mr. Hopewell will be another chemist, J. R. W. Milos, who came to Summerland recently to become a permanent member of the entomological staff under Dr. Marshall.

Trial runs were commenced yesterday afternoon by Mr. Agar with the entomologists taking recordings. What nature the later experiments will take has not been indicated by the pest control authorities, as they are still working out details.

Mr. Agar flew the new helicopter from Yakima to Penticton on Saturday, having to go up between 6,000 and 7,000 feet at one stage to clear the mountains. As the machine has an open cockpit and Mr. Agar and his companion were not clothed for such altitudes, they were extremely cold.

They landed at Wenatchee and end of the valley can be gained from the statement that 85 cars of fruit arrived in Penticton on the southern line of the CPR on Tuesday evening. Most of these cars were transferred to barges and moved up the lake to go out on main line tracks.

Penalty Pool For Macs Is Recommended

Members of the Okanagan Federated Shippers Assn., in collaboration with the Better Fruit Committee of the BCFGA have suggested to the governors of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., that a "penalty pool" be established in the McIntosh deal and all Macs not packed and placed in cold storage within thirty days of the general picking date of that variety would be penalized.

The pooling committee of the BCFGA will have to pass on this recommendation.

The combined meeting discussed mainly the better handling of the McIntosh crop as the biggest single factor toward better quality pack-out.

Additional cold storage space, more graders and more workers are considered to be features which will work towards production of a better quality pack this year.

However, to ensure that the grower and the packing house do not leave the fruit in the orchards or in common storage in the packing house for too long a period, the meeting advocated the formation of a penalty pool.

This pool would be separate from the main McIntosh pool, it is explained, and the main pool would benefit by the penalties levied on the fruit which was not handled properly within the thirty-day period.

This suggestion was discussed by the Better Fruit committee with governors of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. on Tuesday afternoon, following the shippers session in the morning.

WATER SUPPLY IN HILLS GOOD

Only two dams have been opened this year. Water Foreman E. Kercher informed the council on Monday afternoon, these being Canyon and Crescent dams. They are both about empty now.

No other dams in the headwaters have been touched and these are all full, Mr. Kercher stated.

He believed that the water supply in Garnett Valley dam would be sufficient to last until September 15, the end of the irrigation season.

For the first time, Rowley meadow has been flooded and Mr. Kercher believed that beavers building dams has caused this flooding.

Box Factory Strike Threat Diminishes As Lumber Mills Agree

Possibility of any strike in the box factories of the Okanagan Valley diminished this week as the IWA and the Interior Lumbermen's Assn. came to an agreement in Cranbrook and Kamloops areas on wages to be paid to workers in the logging and sawmill industries.

The lumbermen and the IWA locals in those two areas agreed to a wage boost of 12 1/2 cents per hour across the board and reduced the probationary period from ninety to sixty days.

Cranbrook settled its labor dispute last Saturday while Kamloops area agreement was reached on Wednesday morning, it is understood.

No Word Locally

However, there has been no announcement concerning the box factories of the Okanagan. The IWA was demanding increased wages for the box factory workers, as well as those employed in logging and sawmill operations.

In the Okanagan, the IWA has certification in Kelowna but in Vernon and Summerland, the vote taken last week did not provide a sufficient majority for either the IWA or AFL locals to obtain bargaining rights for the employees.

This lack of certification has weakened the position of the IWA in its fight to obtain higher wages for the box factory workers of the Okanagan, it is stated in informed circles.

Also, the possibility of loss of export lumber markets to Great Britain is tending to stave off any further increases in wage levels in the lumber industry.

Now that the Okanagan fruit harvest is meeting stiff competition with American supplies, with a consequent drop in some returns, growers are feeling that they cannot stand any further rises in the cost of box production,

New Buildings At Osoyoos Expected

According to information which has reached the Kelowna Board of Trade, a new customs and immigration office at Osoyoos, may be built in the next year at a probable cost of around $100,000. It is expected that the new facilities will be modelled along the same lines as the new buildings being erected now at Coutts, Alta.

The appropriation is expected to come before the House of Commons at its next sitting.

Pet Parade Is Feature Of Street Carnival

Plans for the big Legion Carnival to be staged on Granville street on Saturday, August 23, are well advanced, states Alex Watt, chairman of the carnival committee, although he would like to see more interest among the youngsters in the pet parade, which is to be a feature of the annual event.

This pet parade promises to be an unusual attraction and Dave Thompson is patiently waiting for more young people to enter their pet dogs, cats, rabbits, or what have you.

Mr. Thompson states that the pedigree of the animal is no criterion that it will be judged a winner. The behaviour of the animal and originality of its appearance in relation to its owner will be factors in the awarding of the prizes.

Another contest which is bound to create a great deal of interest will be the Beauty Contest, which is being staged in co-operation with Teen Town. Any Summerland girl in the teen-age bracket is eligible to enter this contest, and Mrs. B. H. Robson, who is receiving the entry lists states that already some ten young ladies have indicated that they will parade on the Saturday evening show. The girls may be attired in either bathing suits or sun suits, carnival officials state, but they are not releasing names of the contestants until next week.

Penticton Canadian Legion pipe band has signified its intention of joining the Summerland fun-seekers on Carnival night. This band is always a feature attraction and will draw a big crowd to hear the skirl of the pipes.

Games and refreshments stands will fill the block on Granville street set aside for this gala evening.

Avalanche Of Mud Sweeps Down Ravine Just Missing House

Hurling down a narrow hillside ravine, an avalanche of muddy clay just missed the lakeshore residence of Mrs. F. Fudge and her son, Mr. George Fudge, manager of The Review, at about four o'clock Monday morning. Starting at the bottom of a cliff-face below Tom Croil's orchard, some five hundred yards from the shore, the mud slide roared down the hillside and disgorged its mass over Crescent Beach road and the Fudge garden and orchard property immediately south of the residence.

Two huge cottonwood trees were toppled over and completely buried in the slide and some ten fruit trees were wiped out. So close did the avalanche come to obliterating the home that the southern wall of the house was bulged. This was the room where Mrs. Fudge lay sleeping.

Neither Mrs. Fudge or Mr. Fudge were aware of the impending disaster until they were awakened by a mighty roar. It only lasted about fifteen seconds and if the house had been in the direct path of the slide, the building would have been buried and probably crushed, as well.

A slight curve in the ravine deviated the slide sufficiently to just miss the house. The presence of other trees also saved the house from further damage.

By Monday afternoon, a bulldozer hired by the municipality from the Interior Contracting Co. Ltd., Penticton, had provided a road of sorts over the mud heap, sufficient to allow passage of cars.

A large shovel is being hired from Penticton to complete the removal of the dirt from the roadway and partly from the Fudge property, the council agreed at its meeting on Monday afternoon.

Base of Hill Gave Out

There has been a year-round fall of water down this ravine, indicating that there are springs in the neighborhood, observers state. A small culvert was placed across the road some time ago by the municipality to draw off the water coming down the ravine.

From observations made Monday morning, it is believed that the base of the hillside, below Mr. Croil's orchard, became saturated with water and suddenly went out. The face of the hillside fell, removing fifteen to twenty trees on a row and a half of the Croil property.

Two picking ladders went down, as well, and it took several hours to extricate them from their burial spot. The trees lost by Mr. Croil were crabapples and Newtown apple trees.

The mass of clay mud slide down the ravine and squirted out the opening across Crescent Beach road and onto the Fudge property. Some of the mud was carried by the force of the descent fifty feet out into the lake.

At the highest point, the mud was piled up twelve feet high across the Crescent Beach road. The Fudge house is in a hollow and the dirt from the avalanche was piled up higher than the house on the south side.

Took Out Huge Trees

Two huge cottonwood trees stood in the middle of the slide which descended with such a force that they were uprooted and buried completely.

Ten pear trees with their harvest of fruit which was due to be picked this week, were buried in the mud.

The dirt which cascaded over the road and on to the lakeshore was saturated with water to become a quagmire. Persons standing on some portions of the slide felt as if they were standing on a huge spring.

The Crescent Beach road was buried to a width of seventy-five to a hundred yards and the distance from the ravine where the avalanche spilled forth to the lakeshore is about 125 feet.

It is feared that the movement of this huge section of dirt has formed a dam partly down the ravine which will trap seepage water and water from any springs in the vicinity.

This dam, unless some method of control is obtained, may hold back the water until the soil is so saturated that another slide will occur, municipal officials state.

Action of the water in this instance recalls the appearance of the "mysterious stream" below the Councillor H. Wilson property last fall when a similar slide took out part of the Wilson orchard and changed the contour of the land in that area.

Council Action

At Monday afternoon's council session Councillor Bentley queried the procedure to be taken towards removing the slide.

"If we clear the road and push the dirt onto the Fudge property what about our liability?" he queried.

Councillors were generally of the opinion that some assistance should be given the Fudge family although the council is not legally bound to clear away the debris deposited on the Fudge property, it was stated.

No definite reason for the slide was given, although it was suggested that the action of hidden springs in the hillside, combined with seepage probably caused the action of the soil. No irrigating has been undertaken by Mr. Croil in that portion of his orchard for nearly two weeks, his helpers stated on Monday.

Road Foreman Les Gould appeared at the council meeting to state that a road had been made over the slide. He reported, however, that the bulldozer is not capable of clearing the slide.

Chlorination Is 'Must' For Next Year

Installation of a chlorination system in West Summerland water supply is a "must" for 1948, declared Reeve W. R. Powell in the midst of a discussion on the outbreak of stomach disorders here last month.

His Worship declared that next year's council would have to meet the situation and in this the council agreed. Councillor H. L. Wilson went so far as to suggest that the chlorination system be ordered for delivery next year, and such action may be forthcoming at the next session of the municipal council.

Bacteriological tests of West Summerland's water supply brought positive results in January, February, May, June and July, a report from Dr. A. N. Beattie, medical health officer for the Okanagan Valley health unit, which was read at Monday's council meeting, indicated.

Had to Shelve Project

Previous tests also indicated that at certain times the West Summerland water supply should receive chlorination treatment.

Last year the subject was broached and earlier this year the council obtained estimates indicating

Commission Appointed For School Disputes

A six-man commission has been set up to inquire into school taxation in the province with four items in the terms of reference, it was announced by Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, minister of education, following the meeting of the executive council.

The members of the commission are as follows: H. A. Maclean, assistant deputy attorney-general as chairman of the commission; B. C. Braeewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs; J. T. Clark, surveyor of taxes; R. F. Sewell, secretary of the Union of B.C. Municipalities; R. C. Grant of the department of education; and J. A. Stewart, provincial assessor and collector at Nelson. Mr. L. F. Detwiler, of the department of finance has been appointed secretary to the commission.

"The commission will inquire into taxation incidence, not only in rural areas, but in areas where the problem is still not satisfactorily solved," Dr. Weir stated.

The commission has been instructed by the government to inquire into the following: 1. Performance of the assessment function for school taxation purposes within the province, and particularly in unorganized and organized areas of large municipal school districts.

2. Degree to which land and improvements are being assessed in accordance with the definitions in the public schools act for school tax purposes in unorganized and organized areas of certain large municipal school districts.

3. Applicability and suitability

At Last Some Action

Action of the provincial government in appointing a six-man committee to study the involved question of school taxation comes not a minute too soon as far as School District No. 15 is concerned. In fact, the action is long-overdue and any recommendations to be made this year will not provide a solution to the problems facing Summerland and Penticton municipalities.

The councils representing these two communities have reached an impasse. They do not see eye to eye on assessments and Summerland council has gone as far as renouncing the decision of the educational department in fixing the amount of its assessments upon which Summerland's portion of school costs is based.

This new committee is only appointed to study the question of school taxation. But Hon. Dr. Weir gives sorely vexed districts some reason for hope, when he states that "as a result of the committee's findings, the public schools act will be amended to make taxation as equitable as possible."

Recently, Mr. F. J. Nixon, Summerland municipal clerk, advocated a change in policy which appears feasible and which would provide a fairer means of apportioning school costs.

Mr. Nixon contends that school costs in a district could be apportioned according to the school population. With such a method differences in methods of assessment would be eliminated and a fixed basis could be provided for dividing the costs.

It would appear to be a sound and sensible plan and one which should be propounded at greater length when the newly-appointed committee visits this section, which it undoubtedly will, to hear the views of the two disagreeing communities.

But while the department of education is appointing its committee and this body studies the situation, Penticton and Summerland are still at loggerheads and the much needed improvements to the district schools are no nearer fruition.

When the fall term opens, the Summerland and Penticton schools will be crowded. They were crowded before but the situation will be more aggravated this winter.

And still neither municipality can place the bylaw before the taxpayers to provide the legal machinery to obtain this sorely-needed classroom accommodation. Teachers and students alike will suffer because of the impasse created by differences in assessments and the lack of a firm and helpful policy in the department of education in Victoria.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

Friday was Rutland's day at the Experimental Station. Members of the Rutland BCFGA and Women's Institute came down in force to attend their annual picnic at "The Farm". They arrived shortly before noon, having chartered a special bus in addition to a large number of privately owned cars. They were welcomed by the Superintendent who drew their attention to a table of fruits which had been arranged by A. J. Mann and F. W. Keane. On this table several new varieties of peaches were shown in comparison with Rochester. The new varieties included Glamour, an early ripening sport of Rochester, and Redhaven a promising new variety secured from Michigan. There were also plates of prunes showing the comparative maturity of the regular Italian and early ripening strains of this variety.

A new seedling peach, No. 6-10, which originated on the Summerland Station, was available in sufficient quantity for visitors to make an eating test. Unfortunately this new seedling is somewhat cling stone. However, this did not prevent the visitors from consuming the available supply in record time. By unanimous verdict the flavor was rated excellent.

After lunch Nat May guided the visitors through the ornamental area which now presents a most attractive appearance. Some of the ladies were so impressed that they decided to spend the afternoon among the flowers and shrubs. However, a goodly number accompanied their husbands to the dairy barn where Roy Noble gave a masterly exposition of the reasons why the Summerland Jersey herd was established and the methods which have been followed in developing this herd to its present high standard. He explained that although animals in the herd have made many high production records, these awards have been obtained without resort to forcing. The cows are on twice-a-day milking and are fed mainly alfalfa hay in winter and irrigated pastures in summer. Supplementary grain rations are fed in lower amounts than those used by many commercial dairymen. Roy Noble paid high tribute to Jimmy Aitken, the master herdsman, to whose skillful management and untiring care, the remarkable achievements of this herd are so largely due.

The next stop was at the Fruit and Vegetable Products Laboratory where Miss Marian Casselman explained clearly and concisely the procedures which it is necessary to follow in order to secure good results in the preservation of fruits and vegetables by freezing. This information was of special interest to members of the Women's Institute who have frozen food lockers and plan to use this method of preserving their winter requirements of fruits and vegetables.

Pioneer Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO

August 10, 1917

Sir Richard McBride, agent-general for B.C., and for twelve years premier of the province, has died in London. A native of New Westminster, his temperament and disposition were of such a nature that they won and retained for him a host of friends in public and private life. He was first elected to the legislature in Dewdney riding in 1898. He became premier on June 1, 1903.

Mr. James Lawler, aged 68, has answered the nation's call for increased production in no uncertain terms. Using two wild lots in Vancouver, he cleared the land and produced this year 1,600 heads of cabbage and cauliflower, two sacks of potatoes, and has planted 500 celery, carrot, turnip, pea, corn, kale, brussels sprouts, etc. On Thursday he will plant 1,000 celery plants and the same number the following day. His son John, is manager of the Fruit Union at Summerland.

The provincial government has issued instructions to repair the lakeshore road through Summerland and Peachland, thus recognizing its responsibility for these portions of the Okanagan highway for the first time.

A visit to the headwaters of Trout Creek has convinced one party of local men that Summerland has abundance of watershed and many good sites for storage of water. Councillors Johnston and Campbell, with W. M. Wright, made the trip recently.

Formation of the Summerland Automobile association was instituted on Monday with Dr. F. W. Andrew as temporary president, Rev. H. A. Solly as vice-president and T. H. Riley, secretary-treasurer.

Following last year's lead, when several carloads of apples were sent to B.C. boys at the front, another similar drive is being instituted.

Companies with headquarters in Minneapolis and Grand Forks, N.D., and controlling 130 wholesale grocery and fruit houses in Canada and the United States are being charged with "combination in restraints of trade." Nash Brothers forms the chief firm involved.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

August 5, 1927

Two cars of apples will be sent to the Imperial Fruit Show at Manchester, Eng., and the Toronto Winter Fair, by the Associated Growers.

President Coolidge's conference at Geneva to limit auxiliary naval craft, cruisers, destroyers and submarines, has collapsed and its failure is interpreted as the most severe post-war blow to hopes for disarmament among the nations.

White & Thornthwaite, Smith & Henry and R. Dunham have received contracts for school conveyance routes.

Clifford N. Macdonald has attained outstanding success in connection with a special course at the B.C. school of optometry.

Oliver will have the first crop of apples of any size in its history this year and will ship 10,000 boxes.

An excellent attendance was registered at the annual Legion picnic in the park.

Fire protection for the entire municipality was discussed at great length by a meeting called to talk on the lakefront problem particularly. The entire question was left with the council to endeavor to work out.

bragging. For example, the young legitimate stage and the opera are becoming truly great and wonderful institutions, and are providing worth while fields for Canadian talent and genius. These forms of culture are on a par with some of the best that London and New York can produce; and fortunately, remove the necessity of Canadians going abroad to study and produce.

In closing I should like to comment on the Summerland Review itself. As a small town newspaper I have not seen its equal. In the first place you can read the type, a rarity I assure you, and in the second place when one finishes reading, one comes away with information which includes more than the local birth, death and marriage figures; This also is a rarity. Now I must prepare for a long day at the cannery, one aspect of Summerland with which I expect to become very familiar and the story of which no one at home will believe, Heigh Ho!

RCMP TO CHECK STORES FOR U.S. CURRENCY STOCK

At the request of the foreign exchange control board, the RCMP have commenced a country-wide check of the way in which storekeepers, service stations, hotels and others are handling U.S. currency received from tourists.

The U.S. dollar expenditures of tourists in Canada are one of the main sources of the foreign exchange needed to pay for Canadian imports and other normal expenditures in the United States. So that the U.S. dollars spent by tourists will be available for these purposes, the foreign exchange control regulations require that Canadian merchants and others turn the U.S. currency they receive into their banks.

Officials of the board said that reports they have received indicate that many merchants are not turning in their U.S. dollar receipts but are paying them out freely in change and in some cases are selling them to members of the public in exchange for Canadian currency. This has led to the check-up now being made and where breaches of the regulations are found, prosecutions under the foreign exchange control act will be commenced.

Under the regulations a merchant, hotelkeeper or other person engaged in a business serving tourists may accept U.S. currency at par and may make change in U.S. currency for a non-resident tourist who tenders U.S. currency in payment for purchases. For this purpose a merchant may keep on hand a reasonable amount of U.S. currency but, with this one exception, is required to turn in to his bank all U.S. currency he receives.

In no circumstances is a merchant, hotelkeeper, etc., entitled under the regulations to pay out U.S. currency in exchange for Canadian currency or in change to a Canadian resident, even though the latter may have tendered U.S. currency in payment for a purchase.

The Misses Margaret and Laurana Angus of Mission City, B.C., were visitors for several days last week at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. R. Whitmore. At the beginning of the week, Rev. and Mrs. Whitmore and sons, Angus and Alan and the Misses Angus were visitors to the Lakeshore Inn, Wood's lake, where they spent a short vacation.

Mr. Kenneth Dykeman, of Kitchener, Ont., is visiting for three weeks at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Boothe.

The Feminine Front

by MURIEL HURRY

This week the Feminine Front will be written by a guest, Mrs. S. T. O'Donnell, a student of the University of Toronto, who is spending a few weeks in Summerland.

Mrs. O'Donnell is a writer, using her maiden name of S. T. Barrett professionally. She hopes to become a playwright, and is a poet of no mean talent. However, with this introduction, I had better let Mrs. O'Donnell use the remaining space to tell you of her views of Summerland, and other facts of interest which she has collected on her interesting trans-Canada honeymoon.

By way of something different in feminine news and views, I am going to recount some of the story of a rather unusual trip which my husband and I decided to take for no particular reason other than that we wished to have some adventures before settling down to a more or less routine married existence.

The final exams were just over and everyone was heaving sighs of what was sometimes unmerited relief. The idea of hitch-hiking across Canada, which we had often thought about, became a very definite possibility when we looked over our finances. We had exactly 35 cents and a package of cigarettes. Nothing daunted we packed a haversack, the contents of which were 2 tins of pork and beans, sugar, salt, and change of underwear and a can opener. Without more ado, we started from Toronto at three o'clock in the morning and made Sudbury the next evening. By that time the travelling bug had bitten us rather badly and with light hearts and empty stomachs we began a non-stop hike to Kenora. On the way there, we travelled through the States, and crossed the border at International Falls. Our friends in Kenora were not quite sure what had arrived on their doorstep, but a little identification and the recalling of a few private jokes convinced them that they were not harbouring some specimens from Mars.

Two weeks of rest convinced us that a stationary existence, no matter how pleasant, was not for us and, with no tears in our eyes we set forth across the prairies. This incredible stretch of country was almost our undoing. Once in a while one would come across a service station; with no one there, and no water, visible or actual.

The roads were so unlike anything that we had known that often we suffered a few misgivings as to whether or not we were actually on Canada's No. 1 highway. But despite many trials and amusing hardships we reached Calgary in time for the big stampede. From there we journeyed into B.C. and thanked God for the first sight of trees and fresh water we had had in a long time.

After a quick trip over the Big Bend highway we stopped in Revelstoke and earned a few much needed dollars. With these meagre bits of legal tender we made a fast hop to Vancouver and there, our objective gained, we rested with some friends for a while.

Our next move was to get back but the fates and the American customs were seemingly against our immediate return so we decided to do some fruit picking in the Okanagan in an effort to amass some capital. This is the how and the why of our stay in Summerland.

My husband is working in the packing house and I am putting in time at the cannery. We have both found this work new and interesting, even though our heretofore unused muscles have been raising some serious objections; in fact, all was going well until one after the other we both came down with a peculiar type of flu which rendered us terribly active inwardly and quite incapable in all other respects.

It is natural now that I should mention some of my impressions of your town and province. In comparison with the rest of the dominion it is a very flourishing and wealthy sector. One does not notice here the lack of education and the prevalence of inbreeding and ricketts that characterize places in the east in a similar terrain, and at great distance from a centre of population which can afford to send out medical and social staffs.

Rather than go into this subject and its relation to the science of irrigation I will, if given the opportunity, write about it in a later edition. I will not, however lose any time saying that the hospitality of the people in the west is something that I shall never forget or ever cease to talk about. I don't know whether the easterners are too busy or what it is, but they certainly do not possess, generally the overall friendliness that one meets wherever one goes in this part of the country.

Despite this fact I shall be very glad to get back home and on to the old familiar ground for it seems that home is always best. Of course, there are things in the east that, although they do not replace the casual ways of the west, manage to hold a person and even inspire the odd bit of

Spencer Cup Is At Naramata For Ensuing Year

Although Naramata sustained its first loss of the season on Sunday afternoon, at home, when Vernon cricketers won by a score of 116 runs to 86, the Naramata team was presented with the coveted Spencer cup, emblematic of the Okanagan cricket championship.

The cup, which was held by Vernon last year, was presented to Naramata by the president of the Vernon cricket club.

On Tuesday, Naramata was host to the visiting all-star Vancouver cricketers while on Saturday afternoon this touring eleven will meet an Okanagan all-star side at Kelowna.

Dave Pudney, of the Bank of Montreal staff in West Summerland, has been playing with the Naramata team this summer, and will be a member of the Okanagan All-Stars on Saturday in Kelowna.

Mrs. A. N. Tellman and her grandson, Donnie Fowler, left on Saturday for Meeting Creek, Alta., where they will visit Mrs. Tellman's brother, Mr. Bob Klingsell, as well as relatives in Wetaskiwin, for about two weeks.

George Taylor Sparkles As Merchants Triumph Over Peachland By 8-3

Highlighted by two sensational catches by George Taylor and a home run along the third base line by "Tiny" Hankins, Summerland swept into undisputed possession of first place in the South Okanagan ball league last Sunday with an 8-3 victory over Peachland.

In the other game at Rutland, to decide third and fourth place teams, Rutland defeated the Kelowna Cubs 6-3 and earned a place in the playoff series.

Next Sunday, Rutland travels to Peachland for a sudden-death game to decide who will play Summerland in a two out of three series for the championship of the South Okanagan section of the league and the right to meet the Similkameen winners.

It was a colorful ball game at Crescent Beach last Sunday as the biggest crowd of the season turned out to witness a sparkling display which was really much closer than the score indicates. More than a hundred cars lined the ball ground.

It was a much heavier hitting game than when these two teams last faced each other, as Evans only whiffed four batters and Clements only ticked one on the strike-out procedure.

Evans, however, proved Peachland's downfall as seven Summerland batters obtained passes to the first base sack from errors. Both sides made double plays to nip off scoring possibilities at crucial moments.

George Taylor leaped high in the air and speared a clean line drive which was headed for the tall timbers, to pull off the most sensational one-handed clutch seen here for years. He nearly topped this performance when he raced in to spear another ball off his shoestrings to bring down the house again.

Hankins' home-run was the cause of some dispute, as he lined it in practically a straight line over the third-baseman's head to land far out into left field and roll under the cars. Peachland protested that it should have been a limited hit but as no ground rules had been drawn up at the start the clout went for a home run.

Summerland Merchants went into the lead in the first frame after just escaping from a Peachland scoring threat. Kuroda and Clark scampered across on the strength of two Peachland errors and a sacrifice bunt by Vanderburgh.

The latter player drove in Summerland's third run in the third when he singled Clark across.

Peachland's first tally came in the fourth when John Gummow singled and was driven home by Ferguson's single. Two close plays at the plate robbed Peachland of further scoring chances in that frame. Hankins' homer brought the count to 4-1 going in to the fifth.

There was little scoring action until the ninth when Summerland staged another rally to drive four runs across and clinch the ball.

"MEANEST THIEF" STEALS APRICOTS

Mr. J. E. O'Mahony, well-known secretary of the Summerland Hospital Society reports to "The Review" the latest in the "meanest thief" stories. The staff at the hospital planned to pick the two apricot trees in the grounds of the hospital on Monday, August 4, and provide canned apricots for the hospital patients.

"On Sunday evening, a 'mean thief' stripped the 'cot trees of the entire crop."

Now the hospital patients will be minus their canned apricots this winter.

game. Peachland came back with their last two in the final half of the ninth but couldn't extend the rally enough to draw level.

If Peachland defeats Rutland in the sudden-death contest next Sunday the final playoff with Summerland should prove a real drawing card to ball-loving fans in this district.

Penticton Wins Fastball Cup By 13-4 Count

Playing a superior team in practically every department, Summerland fastball girls, champions of the southern interior in 1946, bowed out of the playoff race at Penticton last Sunday afternoon to a smooth-operating Penticton crew. The latter annexed the coveted Rexall trophy by a count of 13-4 in the final game of the two out of three playoff series.

Summerland was outth, and made more costly errors than the newly-crowned champions, who were good value for their win.

It was anybody's game for the first three innings, when Summerland enjoyed a 3-2 lead but the balloon went up in the fourth and Penticton raced across six runs, mainly on errors by Adank, at short for Summerland.

That was the deciding factor and although Penticton countered with four more tallies in the eighth they weren't needed, the damage had been done.

Summerland outfield was airtight and accounted for nearly half the putouts. Penticton was able to hit Doreen Howard, on the mound for the losers, more frequently than the Summerland batters could touch G. Walsh, the champ's hurler. Miss Walsh had the Summerland batters shackled and accounted for eight strikeouts.

Two double plays featured the defensive efforts, both sides obtaining one each.

Klix hit the longest clout of the day to score Tada in the first inning, but that was the only long hit off Walsh for the rest of the contest.

Penticton girls will now take on the winners of the Rutland-East Kelowna contest, to decide the interior champions. East Kelowna won this title last year by defeating Summerland in the odd game in three.

Colorado Potato Beetle In Last Stand In B.C.

Mr. H. B. Parsons of the B.C. department of agriculture called in Summerland on Wednesday in connection with control of Colorado potato beetles. Mr. Parsons travels throughout the southern interior of the province inspecting potato fields and helping the farmer to stamp out those striped orange and brown bugs so well known to any prairie farmer.

British Columbia is one of the last frontiers to be explored by the Colorado beetle, which has been gradually spreading westward since the early pioneer days.

Shaped somewhat like a lady bug but about five times its size, the Colorado potato beetle has nine dark brown stripes parallel to the longitudinal axis of its body. The rest of the back color is fawn and the color of the belly is orange. This insect is very hard shelled and can be stamped into soft dirt without any injury whatever to itself. The feeding injury caused by the young of the beetle is often disastrous if left unchecked. Plants are often eaten off right down to ground level. These young are brick red, spotted, soft larvae.

Although its activity has been at a low level the bug has nevertheless been present in the Oliver-Osoyoos area for some time. Each year the cooperation of farmers is sought in preventing the spread of this serious pest. Where an infestation is found the department supplies the necessary 3% D.D.T. dust free of charge and loans the grower a mechanical duster with which to apply the material.

Mr. Parsons urges growers to note carefully the description of these beetles and to notify the local district agricultural office if bugs answering this description are seen.

IMPROVE LIGHTING SERVICE

As an improvement to the service, a third line will be strung on the municipal system on the east side of Giant's Head, at a cost of $175, the council agreed on Monday.

India's New National Flag

PANDIT JAWAHARLAL NEHRU, vice-president of the Interim Government, holds the silk flag which has been adopted as the national flag for India. The flag was adopted by the Constituent Assembly at New Delhi. It consists of three horizontal stripes of equal width—saffron, white and green—with the wheel of Asoka in the centre.

Mrs. Pat Lalor, who has been visiting for a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Menu, left on Monday to return to her home in Pine Falls, Man.

Only half of all homes in Canada have a private bath or shower.

Last year 60,000 furnaces were manufactured in Canada.

To avoid discoloring sinks and basins when a tap is dripping, drape a cloth from the faucet to the drain until the washer can be replaced.

COMPLAIN OF LIGHTING SERVICE

Poor lighting service at their homes in the Trout Creek area brought complaints to Monday's council session from Magnus Tait and D. L. Gartrell. Electrical Foreman T. P. Thornber stated that the condition could be rectified with the installation of a transformer and a third wire. This work will be undertaken.

Accounts totalling $14,709.67 were passed for payment by the municipal council at its first session for August last Monday afternoon.

STILL WARN OF POLIO MENACE

VICTORIA — A precautionary warning not to slacken up on observation of "polio" precautions is being directed this week to the British Columbia public, and particularly, parents of small children and adolescents, by the provincial department of health.

"Polio" cases continue to be reported almost daily to the department. The majority have been reported from the Greater Vancouver area and the lower Fraser Valley. The department re-emphasizes the necessity of continuous war on flies and safe disposal of human sewage, and repeats warnings against consumption of water of doubtful origin, unpasteurized milk, and unwashed fruits and vegetables. Parents are advised to see that children do not swim in water which may be polluted, or become chilled or over-fatigued. Tonsil and adenoid operations and tooth extractions should be postponed whenever possible.

The public health physician attached to the emergency "polio" team enlisted by the department begins a tour of interior hospitals today to offer advice and information where requested, on up-to-date treatment facilities and phases of the disease. Three public health nurses, also team-members, are available when necessary to supplement local health service personnel in any part of the province.

CHLORINATION—

that it would cost more than $3,000 to install the system. This sum was allocated in the initial municipal budget but had to be dropped because of increased expenditures on roads and the rising school costs.

On Monday, the reeve and council intimated that they would recommend strongly to the 1948 council that the chlorination system be installed as a safeguard for those who use West Summerland's water supply.

If, however, the council was not in agreement with Dr. Beattie's report, which intimated that the cause of the stomach disorders which became prevalent here on July 20, 21 and 22 was mainly the water supply.

Out of 69 cases reported to the medical health authorities only a small portion could be traced to canned meats and green apricots, or the excessive heat of that particular period, Dr. Beattie stated.

Others Suffered
Council members pointed out that the stomach disorders were not confined to persons drinking West Summerland water. Persons in Trout Creek, Crescent Beach, lower town, and even in Meadow Valley, became affected in that period, various councillors informed the meeting.

These places do not draw their water supply from the West Summerland system. Other places in the province reported a similar mild outbreak of stomach ailments at that time. It was stated.

The council took exception to Dr. Beattie's linking the mild epidemic with the water supply, although council members were unanimous in the opinion that the water system should be chlorinated as soon as funds will permit. It was deemed too late in the year to install the apparatus now.

STATION ROAD TO BE SURFACED

Surfacing of the roadway leading to the Dominion Experimental Station in Summerland is to be undertaken shortly and the municipality will assist in the procedure, Monday afternoon's council session was informed.

The provincial public works department is supplying the mulch mix for the hard surfacing while the municipal public works department is to grade and level the road and grade on the mulch.

For this work, the municipality will charge $2 per hour for its truck and $3 per hour for grader work. This is the same rate charged the Summerland Memorial Parks committee for its projects work.

FLOWER SHOW TO FEATURE GLADS

New varieties of gladioli will be featured at the 22nd annual gladioli and flower show, sponsored by the Summerland Horticultural Society, which will be held in the Ellison Hall on Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 20.

An exhibit of the usual high standard is expected, with outside exhibits from Naramata, Kerameos, and other Okanagan points adding interest to the affair.

A show committee comprised of E. H. Bennett and Wm. Snow is in charge of arrangements and they suggest that prospective exhibitors should get underway with last minute improvements on their entries. Dead blooms and seed pods should be kept clipped, and dis-budding of certain varieties, such as carnations and dahlias, will add to their appearance. Tea will be served during the afternoon of the show.

PEACHLAND

Miss Grace Hill, of Pembroke, Ont., and her sister, Mrs. Bivnr, of Salmon Arm were visitors here on Sunday, August 10.

Mrs. H. Ibbotson, Mrs. Nell Witt and Miss Gail Witt were visitors in Oroville on Friday, Aug. 8.

41st Regatta Was "Bigger and Better" Than Ever Before

Kelowna's forty-first annual regatta has passed into history as "the biggest and best" ever held.

Each year this claim is made, but from an attendance and competitive standpoint this claim was well justified this year.

It is estimated that fourteen thousand persons jammed the city park at Kelowna during the two days. All seating accommodation for the afternoon events was sold out days before.

Gross revenue is expected to be about $15,000, more than $5,000 higher than the previous record year.

In contrast, however, the expenses of the big two-day show were greater and the net revenue for the Kelowna Aquatic Assn., who stage the regatta each year, will be in the neighborhood of $4,000.

Swimmers and divers came from all over the continent to this affair, including Toronto, Vancouver, Victoria, Powell River, Chelan, Wenatchee, Yakima, Seattle and many other points.

Rowing crews were there from University of Washington, Vancouver and Victoria. Power boats from Vancouver and other coastal points swept most of the prizes in competition against interior boats.

Commodore of the regatta was Senator G. G. McGeer, mayor of Vancouver, whose sudden death on Monday shocked the entire province.

Miss Betty Ball, 18-year-old Kelowna girl, was judged Lady of the Lake in the annual competition to decide who will reign over the regatta in the following year.

Her attendants are Miss Minnie Lockhart, Pentiction Teen Town and Miss Sharon West, Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss West is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. West, Mr. West being the advertising manager for B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd.

Summerland sent two war canoe crews to the regatta but they failed to meet the stiff competition of Pentiction and Kelowna.

Pentiction won both senior men's and women's canoe races and showed more experience and training.

At the banquet on Wednesday evening, at the close of the competitions, regatta officials were advised by L. C. Reid, of the provincial swim association, that the regatta is becoming too large for just two days of competition and in another year it will have to be enlarged into a three-day affair.

Hundreds of Summerland persons attended the affair during the two days, and especially on Wednesday which is a store closing day.

Only swim competitor from this community was Richard Lewis, who entered junior events. He failed to place against strong competition from coast and other interior stars.

In fact, Wednesday was not a good day for Richard, as he not only lost his race but when he returned to the dressing room he found he had lost his last remaining five dollar bill.

Mrs. Ida Mitchell, of London, Ont., was a visitor for the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Magnus Tait, Trout Creek. Mrs. Mitchell's father employed Mr. Tait, when he first came to Canada and the two families have kept up their friendship ever since.

Britton Reports On Storage and Care of Fruit

(Experimental Farm News) Storage and care of fruit after harvest and during distribution is important towards preventing wastage and ensuring the delivery of high quality fruit in good condition to consumers.

Wholesale dealers are generally looked upon as the main distributors of these fresh and perishable products, but actually, distribution begins in the orchard when harvesting starts, and ends when the fruit reaches consumers.

The excessive wastage which often occurs during distribution consequently affects both primary producers and ultimate consumers, as well as every other group concerned with the distribution.

For these reasons, attention is being given to distribution and storage problems, as wholesale dealers realize that their customers—the retailers, should have improved facilities for handling these products, and a better understanding of their storage requirements.

Even when the product has reached the final outlet in the chain of distribution at the retail store, consumers' top could obtain better satisfaction by more intelligent buying, and by employing greater care in the storage and use of the commodity.

To obtain the best quality in fruit, it must be picked at the right maturity. Prompt and careful handling from the orchard to a cold storage plant where the field heat can be quickly removed, helps to maintain quality and preserve the condition.

Fruit is actually in storage the moment it is picked, regardless of where it is held. It has a definite storage life, and at high temperatures that life rapidly passes.

Under refrigeration, the life and condition of fruit is conserved, but different kinds and varieties react differently to low temperatures and so must be treated accordingly.

Pears, for example, should be cooled and stored at 31 degrees F., but to be properly ripened, they must have a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees F. with a high relative humidity.

The earlier varieties of all fruits have a much shorter storage life than the later ones. Thus the Bartlett pear has a storage life of eight weeks, while the Anjou pear, picked four to five weeks later, has a life of about 16 weeks.

It is the late, and not the early varieties of fruit that are kept in cold storage at 32 degrees F. for the longest time. Peaches and other stone fruits are generally pre-cooled, as they do not respond well to cold storage except for a very short time at 32 degrees F., and then they should be ripened at room temperature with a free circulation of air.

All stone fruits are rather susceptible to mold growth and rots, especially if confined to warm, moist air. They need good ventilation and it has often been recommended that fans be employed to force a current of air through stacks of peaches, prunes or other stone fruits.

Apples and pears do not require air circulation except for the purpose of refrigeration in cold storage. Exposed to ordinary room temperatures for any length of time these fruits may soon become overripe, shrivel and begin to lose flavour.

From picking to consumption, fruit is in storage of some kind or another and is also in the process of distribution. Specific and suitable treatment all along the line prevents wastage and maintains quality and condition.

Publicity and Extension, Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Only one in eight Canadian farm homes are equipped with inside running water.

CANADA'S GAIN IN POPULATION GIVEN AT 800,000

Canada's population last year was 12,307,000 according to the annual estimate of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, recently released. This was an increase of 188,000 over the previous year.

Since the last Dominion census was taken in 1941 the gain in population is estimated at 800,000, or over seven per cent.

According to the estimate, the provinces of Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia made the largest absolute gains in population between 1941 and 1946. Ontario's increase during that period was 319,000; Quebec, 298,000; and British Columbia, 185,000.

In the same interval the population of Nova Scotia increased 34,000; New Brunswick, 23,000; Alberta, 4,000; North West Territories, 4,000; and the Yukon, 3,000.

The population, as estimated, for the year 1946, by provinces, was as follows, with the totals of the 1941 census given in brackets: Prince Edward Island, 94,000 (95,000); Nova Scotia, 612,000 (578,000); New Brunswick, 480,000 (457,000); Quebec, 3,630,000 (3,332,000); Ontario, 4,107,000 (3,788,000); Manitoba, 727,000 (720,000); Saskatchewan, 830,000 (896,000); Alberta, 850,000 (796,000); British Columbia, 1,003,000 (818,000); Yukon, 3,000 (5,000); North West Territories, 16,000 (12,000).

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cole left at the weekend to return to their home in Vancouver, after visiting for several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lamey. Mrs. Cole is the former Lucille Flamank, and was a resident of Summerland at one time.

Less than four out of ten Canadian homes are equipped with central heating systems.

UNIQUE PRIZES ARE GIVEN BY FRUIT SALES AGENCY

A unique prize for students in the faculty of commerce at University of B.C. has been awarded by Arthur K. Lloyd, president of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., Kelowna.

The three top-ranking students in the examinations for commercial geography of the 1946-47 session.

Douglas Rex Hundley, second year commerce; Henry Newton Barraclough, second year commerce; and Gordon Kenneth Goundry, third year commerce, have been the winners of the awards. They will visit Kelowna to survey the fruit industry shortly after the opening of the 1947-48 winter session in September.

Expense accounts of $100 each have been provided for the students by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. It is expected a member of the department of commerce will accompany them on the survey.

Catherine Clark, who has been visiting at the home of her friend, Barbara Fudge, left on Saturday to return to her home in Kelowna. Catherine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Clark, former Summerland residents.

Mrs. M. Twiname Is Honored By Peachland Friends

PEACHLAND—The Women's Institute, the Red Cross and the Women's Auxiliary to the United Church combined recently to honor Mrs. M. Twiname, who is leaving Peachland.

Mrs. Twiname, who has resided in Peachland for many years, has been an active member of the W.I., the Red Cross and the W.A., and will be greatly missed. She has been presiding officer of each of these societies and performed her duties in a very creditable manner.

The ladies, some thirty-five in number, gathered on the lawn at the manse on Thursday evening. A lace-covered table decorated with a bowl of roses and two shell-pink candles, was the center of attraction.

Mrs. A. Smalls, Mrs. J. Cameron, Mrs. A. D. MacKay and Mrs. T. Redstone presided at the tea table, assisted by Mrs. Ted Clements, Mrs. C. LaDuke, Mrs. Harry Ibbitson, Mrs. Jack Long and Mrs. Geo. Tophan.

Mrs. MacDonald pinned a corsage of carnations on the guest of honor and Mrs. Jack Long presented her with a picture of the Okanagan lake near Peachland. A card of remembrance was signed by each guest.

Mrs. Twiname having disposed of her property here, is leaving on Friday, August 8th for Tranquille, B.C., to reside with her brother for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kinchen have gone to Calgary for a month, leaving on Aug. 6.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Twiname and children of Westbank; Mr. and Mrs. R. Caldwell and children of Glenmore, and Mr. and Mrs. D. Caldwell, of Tranquille Farm spent Sunday, Aug. 3 with Mrs. M. Twiname.

European Red Mite Is Proving Major Fruit Pest Over Entire Okanagan

Salmon Arm, Sorrento and Main Line Points

In Salmon Arm, apples and pears are, for the most part, sizing well. In some orchards, however, many individual fruits are small and do not appear to be gaining in size. Yellow Transparent and Duchess are pretty well cleaned up while it is expected that the first Wealthies will be picked for green cookers about the middle of next week. Transcendent crabapples will be ready in ten days time. Apple scab and codling moth activity is still light but European red mite is causing concern among growers and shippers alike. Some growers are applying mite sprays.

The movement of vegetables has slackened off somewhat. Mature green tomatoes are about all that are moving in any volume at the present time and even shipments of this commodity are less than they were for the previous week.

Armstrong, Vernon, Oyanah, Winfield and Okanagan Centre

As reported August 5th: In the orchards, tree fruits are in good growth and the fruit is sizing satisfactorily. The Duchess harvest is tailing off and Wealthies will be available shortly as green cookers. Apricots are about over. The peach plum crop is about cleaned up and Bradshaws are now being harvested. Early peaches of the Fisher and Rochester varieties are moving in small lots. Pears of the Dr. Jules variety are now being harvested and Bartlett's should be available in about ten days. Picking of Transcendent crabs has commenced and should be general by the end of the week.

In the general pest situation, European red mite is now the No. 1 orchard problem, and control sprays should be applied. The emergence of codling moth has been erratic, being influenced by weather conditions and second brood codling moth spray programs should be consistently followed.

Kelowna

As reported August 6th: Since the last report weather has been favorable for good growth.

Where thinning has been well done, apples are sizing well.

Early peaches are being harvested and Bartlett pears will start in a week to ten days.

The first cover spray for second brood codling moth is about completed. The second spray will commence next week.

Pacific mite is numerous in some districts, but most growers are taking measures to hold it in check.

LABOR DAY AT PENTICTON TO BE BIG EVENT

What may prove to be the biggest celebration ever staged in Penticton is being planned by the Knights of Pythias lodge of that city for the Labor Day weekend.

Two days of horseracing, a full boxing card and a big baseball tournament are some of the main features.

On Saturday, August 30, there will be a racing card at Queen's Park in Penticton which will take in the entire afternoon. Another big race card is scheduled for Labor Day, Monday, September 1.

Saturday evening in Penticton will see a galaxy of glove-pushing stars, headed by the Golden Gloves contender, Hank Egli, of Keremeos, in a bout with Ralph Hutcheson, of Oroville.

Baseball preliminaries are to be staged on Sunday afternoon, also at Queen's park, with the final of the ball tournament to be held on Monday afternoon, while the horse racing is being featured.

Summerland is entered in this big ball tourney which will feature teams from Kelowna, Penticton and other interior points.

There is to be a big street parade on Labor Day and for the youngsters one of the main attractions will be a soap box derby. Rules for this contest may be found in the advertising columns of this issue. Summerland youngsters are being urged to compete in this derby.

Not for many years has there been a running of the Okanagan Derby, which was a feature of Penticton horse racing before the war interfered. This feature is being brought back to light and will feature the Labor Day horse-race program.

Norman "Bananas" Tranelini, who used to panic the crowds in Vancouver for years with his baseball antics, will be a performer during the baseball tournament at Penticton. He is now residing in Trill.

The whole festivities will be wound up with a big carnival and dance at the Gyro hall on Labor Day evening.

Mrs. N. Worawa and daughters, Lillie and Malzie, and Mrs. Ted Bobler and twin daughters, Mary and Margie, all of Wells, who were on route from a visit in Oliver, were guests at the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gould.

John Newton was a weekend visitor to Kelowna.

Summerland, Westbank and Peachland

As reported August 6th: Cloudy cooler weather followed the issuing of our last report. This culminated a heavy rain on July 28.

The season continues to run a week to ten days ahead of last year. The rain improved the condition of both tree and ground crops and added a touch of color to the apples. Unfortunately, this same rain also was responsible for a considerable amount of splitting in the apricots, which were just past peak at the time.

With the apricot deal over and early peaches past peak, the Rochester are now beginning to roll. Growers are picking Clapp's Favorite and Dr. Jules pears. Bartlett's are coming along very fast with first picking expected by the end of this week.

Harvesting of field tomatoes and cucumbers is in full swing.

European red mite continues to be very active and has become the most serious problem for many growers this season. Most pear psylla outbreaks are either under control from sprays or have dried up in the hotter weather. Woolly aphis infestations, which have been the worst in years are now showing signs of decline. In some orchards the parasite has been observed at work cleaning up this pest. Codling moths are flying and new entries are being observed. Most growers have completed the first of the second brood sprays.

Penticton, Naramata, Kaleden and Keremeos

As reported August 8th: The heavy rain over the weekend of July 26th eased the irrigation situation in the Penticton district. Enough rain fell to refill the dams and supply a fair amount of extra water.

Clapp's Favorite and Dr. Jules Guyot pears are about cleaned up as is the apricot crop. Early cookers are about finished and Wealthy and Gravensteins are maturing rapidly. The harvest of Bartlett pears is moving and from present indications the three V's should be moving in volume by the 15th.

The codling moth situation at this time is better than a year ago, but both European red mite and Pacific mite are very prevalent.

Okanagan Falls, Oliver and Osoyoos

As reported August 6th: Growers are chiefly occupied in harvesting and winding up codling moth sprays at present. Bartlett pears are moving in volume. Rochester peaches are past their peak and the V peaches are being handled in quantity. Some early packing of prunes may be expected in the next week or ten days.

The cucumber deal is over, tomatoes are well over their peak, cantaloupes and zucca melons have commenced to move.

Crops are progressing favorably for the season. Codling moth control is reasonably good for this time of the year. The European red mite which threatened severe damage a month ago has been brought under control in most cases. Pacific mite is appearing and sprays are being applied for its control. Fire blight on pears is more prevalent this season than it has been for several years.

CRICKET SCORE FOR BALL GAME

Playing at Osoyoos on Sunday, August 3, the AOTS junior ball squad continued its string of victories but they weren't exactly proud of the result as they triumphed with a cricket score of 30-14. It took three and a half hours to finish the contest, the final inning seeing ten runs scamper across before the final put-out.

E. Jomori was the winning pitcher while R. Pratt was the hapless Osoyoos hurler. Osoyoos led for the first two frames, 7-6 but Summerland garnered five more in the third and never looked back. Summerland lineup was as follows: E. Kita ss., B. Weitzel c., W. Day 3b, Elliott rf., Cristante rf., A. Gould lf., F. Gould 1b, Jacobs cf., D. Weitzel 2b, E. Jomori p.

Score by innings:

PENTICTON—Complete dissatisfaction with the present impasse in School District 15, and intolerance of further delays in separation was expressed by the Pentiction council at the Monday night, Aug. 4, meeting.

"The present plan is unworkable," said Councillor J. W. Johnson. "I move we take it up with the minister of municipal affairs. We've tried the department of education—it is their baby—without success so far."

The council as a whole concurred in this view, instructing assistant municipal clerk William Cooper to draft a letter for the minister.

This action indicates the local council does not consider the statement received from the department of education through the district school inspector and the district board as final.

In this statement it was declared that the "original assessment" from Summerland, which included the tree-valuation, would be used as basis for the 1947 school levy.

Speaking of this, Councillor Johnson remarked "Even if Summerland pays this year, they will dispute it next."

Two more possibilities were registered at the trap shoot last Sunday by Alf Johnston and Ken Blagborne. The scores were all on the high side with two competitors, Bill Laidlaw and George Pennington scoring 23 and six more registering 22 scores. They were Jerry Nelson, Dr. L. A. Day, Frank Pollock, A. Eisey, Jim Gould and Dewey Sanborn.

TEXANS VISIT SUMMERLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Abel of Adrian, Texas, are visiting Mr. Abel's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Steeves, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamb.

This is the first time Mr. Abel has seen his sister, Mrs. Steeves, since 1913, when Mrs. Steeves visited Mr. Abel in Texas.

Mr. Abel saw a great change in Canada, which was a pioneer country when he left Vancouver for Texas in 1908, and thinks that the living conditions in Canada are now as advanced as those in the U.S., although in his opinion Canadians work much harder for their living.

According to Mr. Abel, who owns and operates a 300 acre wheat farm as well as a large boarding house in Adrian, which is in the Texan Panhandle country, Texans work only about three months a year, or less.

Mr. Abel was born in Missouri, and came to Canada at the turn of the century, where he pioneered near Oids, Alta., and later in Vancouver. Mrs. Abel was born in North Carolina, moving to Texas when she was a child, and she speaks with a southern drawl.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel travelled to Canada via Ean Francisco and Vancouver, and will visit here and in Salmon Arm this week, before going on to Alberta to visit other relatives. They will return to Texas at the end of August, travelling via Montana and Wyoming.

Hedley Champs Of Similkameen Baseball Loop

Hedley has won the playoffs in the Similkameen section of the South Okanagan-Similkameen baseball league, defeating Princeton two straight. The final game saw Hedley wallop Princeton 16-2.

This came as somewhat of a surprise as Princeton went through the regular playing season without dropping a league game to any Similkameen team.

Summerland, waiting for the outcome of the Peachland-Rutland game on Sunday, is travelling to Hedley for a return match to the evening contest at Crescent Beach two weeks ago when the local Merchants won 3-2.

This will be in the nature of a preview of the final series when the winner of the South Okanagan section meets Hedley, as winner of the Similkameen section. Summerland is favored to win the South Okanagan area title but either Peachland or Rutland could turn the tables.

Last week, at the Kelowna Regatta, Hedley went to pieces and absorbed a 14-0 defeat at the hands of the Kelowna Red Sox. Harold Cousins and Owen tagged a pitcher's battle until the fifth frame when Hedley fell to pieces and five runs romped across. The Red Sox scored five runs off Brewer and a similar number off McDon. ald, two relief hurlers.

able of removing the dirt as it would take ten days to two weeks to do the job with the small machine available. Choose Shovel Method

Consideration was given to removal of the dirt by hydraulic method and also a dragline, but neither methods were deemed feasible in this instance.

It was decided that a shovel should be rented from Pentiction and the dirt hauled away by municipal trucks and dumped at the nearest point. A few loads will be hauled to the Peach Orchard bathing beach lot, but the council has no funds available to haul any quantity of this soil any distance, it was stated.

Cost of the shovel is estimated at $65 per day and if the dirt was to be hauled any distance cost of trucks to keep the shovel occupied would make the total cost amount to about $200 per day, it was stated.

Crescent Beach residents were forced to use the steep back road on Monday. This road was graded only last week and thus provided a better means of access than would otherwise have been the case.

The Mail Bag

Labor Disputes Summerland, B.C. Aug. 12th, 1947.

Editor, The Review:

When either party to a dispute stoops to personalities and misrepresentation it is usually found that the abusive party is losing the argument; this seems to be the case in the struggle between the AF of L and the CIO. The latter has not only resorted to gross personal abuse bordering on the libellous but, in its small local bulletin it has given an absolutely untruthful report of the voting at Summerland on Tuesday, Aug. 5th. This report, under the caption "A.F.L. on the way out," states that the A.F.L. was "overwhelmingly defeated," on this occasion; the truth being, of course, just the opposite; the A.F. of L. vote was double that of the CIO and only wanted five more votes to become the recognised bargaining agent; three ballot papers were spoilt. Any organisation that has to bolster its arguments with lies and abuse is not to be trusted.

The indecision shown at the Summerland voting indicates a need of education in trade union policy and procedure among some of the workers so that valuable time and effort will not be wasted.

The CIO evidently tries to appeal to the less-informed section of the workers by abuse of opponents and falsification of facts. It is an undignified attitude for any organization to take and such tactics can only disgust the intelligent and fair-minded worker.

Yours truly, C. R. MORGAN, Chairman A.F. of L. Summerland Local.

STREET OILING AND SIDEWALK PROJECTS PROCEED

Improvements to the business area of West Summerland are partly completed but more public works is being planned for the near future, it was stated at Monday's council meeting.

First of the oiling program was commenced yesterday when the strips on either side of the hard top on Granville street from Hastings to Kelley avenue were covered with a light coat of oil, as a dust layer.

The sidewalk program on Granville and Hastings is about completed. The cement walk on Granville from the Credit Union building to Sanborn's Garage is completed. So is the cement walk on the east side of Hastings from Granville street intersection to the B & B Body Shop.

This walk may be extended as the council was informed on Monday afternoon that Mrs. T. J. McDonald and Mrs. L. Shannon were now agreeable to paying their portion of the cost of the walk extension.

On the west side of Hastings, the cement walk is completed to Pollock Motors and the last portion in front of that garage will be finished this week, it is expected.

Mr. E. Kercher, water foreman, in charge of the sidewalk construction, originally estimated that the concrete walks would be laid at a cost of $2 per foot. He reported on Monday that the actual cost was $1.96 without any cleaning up of the surrounding area.

The walk from the high school to the Legion hall will be given attention this year, while the Pender street walk will be given another treatment of asphalt, the council has decided.

In lower town, the existing sidewalk on the west side of Shaughnessy avenue will be given a face lifting.

The Summerland Review

Vol. 2, No. 33 West Summerland, B.C., Thursday, August 21, 1947

Pear and Peach Advance — Export Deal to U.S. Clarified

Advances in peach and pear prices to the domestic fresh fruit markets and the reaching of an agreement between Canada and the United States which allows this country to ship 3,500,000 boxes of apples into the United States if markets can be obtained, are the two major "good news" highlights of the fruit marketing situation this week.

Not only did peach prices advance a nickel on Monday but they were boosted another five cents yesterday.

Last Saturday, pear prices to eastern Canada markets went up twenty cents and last night they advanced twenty cents to western Canada markets.

Demand for peaches, pears, apples and sundry other fruits remain good and movement is brisk, B.C. Tree Fruits general manager A. K. Loyd told The Review yesterday.

General firming of the peach markets in western United States has been the major factor in allowing the Okanagan producers to advance their prices on freestone peaches, he stated. It is also understood that the Rochester crop did not come up to estimates, which indicates that the peak production of two million boxes estimated earlier in the season will not be reached.

Demand Red Color

For some years past the B.C. fruit industry has been developing markets in the United States for large-sized apples with plenty of red color. Last weekend, at a conference in Detroit between representatives of Canadian and American horticultural committees, an agreement was reached to allow Canada to ship 3,500,000 boxes of apples into the States this year.

Of this total, 2,275,000 boxes can be shipped as fresh fruit and the balance is to go to processing plants.

B.C. has the best varieties of dessert apples which States markets demand and Mr. Loyd states that it is reasonable to suppose that this province will be granted the lion's share of the slightly more than two million box fresh fruit export deal.

Ontario and Nova Scotia will be bidding for a portion of this export, especially the latter province since there is still no likelihood that there will be any export to Great Britain.

Mr. Loyd points out that this is merely an opportunity to sell to the U.S. and does not mean that the markets there will be suitable for sale of Okanagan apples.

"The U.S. consumer demands red color," repeat RED," said Mr. Loyd to The Review, and coupled with that they want large-sized apples. From present indications the apples here will not size up to these requirements, it is feared.

Mr. Loyd's representative, Tree Fruits sales manager, was present at the Detroit conference.

Shipments Still High

Shipments from the Okanagan amounted to 550 cars last week, making the grand total up to Saturday 2,295 cars, compared with 2,069 at the same time in 1946 and 1,611 in 1945.

Nineteen cars of pears and peaches were shipped out of Summerland yesterday.

Rochesters are practically finished now and the three V's are at their peak. Elbertas are starting to roll from the south.

The price rise on peaches brings the price level on fancy to $1.35 per case.

Demand remains good on peaches as with Bartlett pears, which have nearly all been completed. Flemish Beauty pear picking has commenced.

Vegetables are still slow, due to local supplies, while onions are fair and tomato movement continues good. Cantaloupes are still creating a fair demand and most of the competition from Washington has stopped.

Demand is good for apples, states Mr. Loyd, although Wealthies were being held back for a time to gain more color. To meet an opening in the eastern Canada market a lessening in color requirements was given out this week.

Transcendent crabapples are about wiped out and Hyslop crabs are now coming into the picture. Demand for this variety of fruit remains quite steady.

NEW MANAGER OF BANK ARRIVES

James Muirhead has arrived in West Summerland from Williams Lake to assume his new duties as manager of the Bank of Montreal. He arrived on Thursday while Mrs. Muirhead and their teen-aged son "Kit" reached here on Tuesday morning.

Mr. Muirhead replaces Mr. Hubert E. Woodford, who goes to Vancouver, to enter the superintendent's department. Mr. and Mrs. Woodford left on Saturday for their new home in Vancouver.

The new Bank of Montreal manager is a native of Glasgow Scotland, coming to Canada in 1910. It was in 1917 that he entered the Bank of Montreal in Vancouver, being transferred to Trill in 1928. In 1938 he was made accountant at Rossland and his first branch manager experience came in 1938 when he took charge at Bralorne.

Mr. Muirhead has been manager at Williams Lake since June, 1945.

Blood Donor Clinic Here Next Thursday

Plans to accommodate more than one hundred persons at the Red Cross blood transfusion clinic which will visit the Legion hall, West Summerland, next Thursday, August 23, are now well ahead, states J. Y. Towgood, in charge of the clinic on behalf of the Summerland branch of the Red Cross.

From 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening until after 9 o'clock, a steady stream of blood donors is expected to pass the reception line at the Legion hall.

Accommodation for fifteen persons every fifteen minutes is being arranged, as the operation of removing a small quantity of blood for transfusion purposes does not last longer than ten to fifteen minutes.

At this rate, sixty persons an hour can be passed through the clinic.

Mrs. R. G. Russel is arranging the personnel requested to organize the reception of blood donors, while Mrs. A. K. Elliott is taking care of catering arrangements. The local Red Cross branch is providing tea and coffee and other sweet drinks.

One doctor and eight nurses or assistants comprise the members of the clinic, while thirteen local workers will assist in reception arrangements, besides the catering staff.

Although there were nearly 150 names on the original list of donors gathered last winter, a number of these persons will not be available when the clinic arrives in Summerland, Mr. Towgood points out.

Therefore, as many donors as possible are necessary to fill out the required number. Registration forms are available at the offices of The Review and the Bank of Montreal in West Summerland.

Rutland Here This Sunday For Play-offs

With Rutland's surprise win on Sunday over Peachland, the final stage in the South Okanagan baseball league play is all set. Rutland plays the Summerland Merchants in a two out of three series with the first game scheduled for Crescent Beach diamond next Sunday.

In the meantime, the Similkameen section of the league has completed its playoffs and Hodley is now sitting comfortably with the title in its grasp. Unfortunately for that town's team, its imports are scheduled to return to the coast at the end of the month and will probably not be available to play when the South Okanagan league winners are announced.

These imports are mainly Vancouver College lads who took jobs at the mining camp to bolster the Hedley team's chances of winning the league title.

Summerland Merchants were scheduled to play at Hedley last Sunday in an exhibition game but were unable to keep the appointment. In the only meeting between these two squads, Summerland won 8-3 in seven hotly-contested innings.

The Merchants are favorites to top the South Okanagan title but Rutland has proved a dangerous opponent before now and the local lads will know they have been through the mill before they are through.

Drowning Victim

Bodies of Peter Dodwell And Miss Doreen Wilkinson Still Missing; Mrs. Dodwell Rescued

Tragedy struck swiftly in Okanagan lake waters about 9 pm. Tuesday, Aug. 19, when Peter Laurence Dodwell, well-known native son of Summerland, and Miss Doreen Wilkinson, of Vancouver, were believed drowned in an accident in mid-lake when their 16-foot outboard motor boat became involved with a CPR tug and barge. Mrs. Peter Dodwell, third member of the ill-fated boat trip was rescued.

In a high wind and with extremely choppy water, the Dodwell boat was returning to Crescent Beach, Summerland, from a picnic party at Chute creek, near Naramata, on the east side of the lake. The boat developed engine trouble mid-way across, it is believed, and while the party was endeavoring to remedy the engine trouble the big diesel tug Okanagan and two barges loomed up in the night.

All three members of the Dodwell party jumped overboard to escape the oncoming vessel, Miss Wilkinson was held up for a time by Mrs. Dodwell and then she disappeared. Peter Dodwell disappeared and no sign of the young Vancouver girl or the 25-year-old Dodwell man has been seen since.

The tug skipper, Capt. Walter Spiller, believes he saw the wreckage of the boat upside down in the water but no sign of the wreckage has since been discovered.

Boats have been searching Okanagan lake waters from Summerland south to Pentiction ever since the tragedy but no sign of the missing persons or the boat has been uncovered.

Although suffering from extreme shock, Mrs. Peter Dodwell is recovering from her harrowing experience.

Return from Picnic

According to reports uncovered since the tragic accident, it is understood that the Dodwell party was returning from the Naramata side after a picnic supper. It was about nine o'clock and fairly dark when the accident occurred. A high wind was blowing and the waves were rolling high. The engine in the sixteen-foot outboard motor boat started to give trouble and Peter Dodwell endeavored to put it back in good running order.

As it was a cold night wind, the party was heavily clothed and had their backs to the wind. They failed to hear the oncoming tug and barge until one of the party happened to glance back and saw the big vessels looming out of the night.

Gordon Coderre, a crew member of the m.v. Okanagan was in the wheel-house and thought he caught sight of the small boat ahead. The engines were sounded to stop and stand by and Coderre ran down onto one of the barges and endeavored to spot the small craft, but to no avail.

One of the barges was cut loose and the searchlight turned on. A lifeboat was lowered in charge of 2nd Mate Alex Oseroff and circled around the spot but could not find any trace of the boat.

The Dodwell boat was discovered yesterday afternoon on the east side of Okanagan lake about five miles north of Pentiction, by a party of Summerland men, D. L. Sanborn, Ned Bentley and Noel Higgins. The boat is badly smashed and the engine is missing.

The tug backed up still further and the searchlight eventually picked up the figure of Mrs. Dodwell in the water. The lifeboat was directed to the spot and Coderre jumped overboard to rescue the near-drowning woman.

Almost on top of Mrs. Dodwell's story the big tug was only about fifteen feet away when they saw it. They jumped overboard to escape the impending crash and for a time the three swimmers were together. Mrs. Dodwell managed to hang onto Miss Wilkinson for a time but just before the searchlight picked her out she was forced to let go of the young Vancouver girl. Her husband also disappeared about the same time.

Soundings taken by the CPR at the spot where the accident is believed to have taken place indicated yesterday afternoon that the depth of the water is three hundred feet.

GUEST SPEAKER IN MANITOBA

Councillor and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson left Summerland on Tuesday evening for a trip to prairie points. Councillor Atkinson, who is in charge of the fruit products laboratory at the Summerland Experimental Station, will travel next to Morden, Man., where he will address the Great Plains section of the Society of Horticultural Sciences.

Mr. Atkinson will deliver two talks, one on the progress of processing fruit and the other on similar lines in relation to vegetables. Mrs. Atkinson will spend a holiday at Banff, Alta., while her husband is in Manitoba.

CALL FOR TENDERS

The department of public works called for tenders this week for a courthouse at Pentiction, estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $200,000. Bids will close in Victoria at noon, September 10.

MOTOR LICENCE SHARE DOUBLED

The municipalities' share of motor licence fees for the fiscal year 1946-47 is more than doubled in a schedule of payments approved by the provincial cabinet this week. It is announced by Hon. Herbert Ansoomb, minister of finance. The increases, which raise all payments to municipalities by 116.4 per cent, are in accordance with legislation passed at the last session of the legislature implementing a recommendation of the Goldenberg report that the curtilage of 8770,000 be removed. Against that curtilage of previous years, distribution for 1946-47 will total $1,253,251, an increase of $663,251, Mr. Ansoomb stated.

Only Married Last May 3

Married Short Time

The tragedy which struck with such suddenness into Summerland and Vancouver homes on Tuesday brings a separation into a marriage which had lasted less than four months.

It was on May 3, in St. Nicholas' church, Vancouver, that marriage vows were exchanged between Doreen Elizabeth (Betty) Jenkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenkinson, 3723 Trinity St., Vancouver and Peter Laurence Dodwell, now believed drowned in Okanagan lake.

The solist at the lovely wedding was Miss Doreen Wilkinson, a close friend of the bride, and who was the second victim of the drowning accident. Miss Wilkinson, who was about 19 years of age, was a resident of Vancouver.

The late Peter Dodwell was born in Summerland, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Dodwell, well-known Summerland residents. Mr. P. G. Dodwell is a member of the district school board and was chairman for many years of the Summerland school board.

Peter was prominent in sports circles while attending school here and later entered UBC. His scholastic career was terminated by the war and he entered the RCAF, emerging as a flight lieutenant after serving a complete tour of operations commencing with D-Day in Normandy.

On his discharge from the air force he entered UBC and took up agriculture. On completing his third year in the faculty of agriculture last term, with second class honors, he was awarded the coveted $125 scholarship devoted to Okanagan students in agriculture by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Assn.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodwell went to the coast last week and returned with a new automobile, bringing Miss Wilkinson with them. The latter only intended to remain here three days and would have returned to the coast Wednesday night.

Besides his parents, Peter Dodwell leaves two brothers, Charles in Vancouver and Constable Myles Dodwell, serving with the RCMP in Sussex, New Brunswick; an uncle, Mr. C. Noel Higgins and two aunts, Mrs. M. E. Collins and Mrs. E. M. Hookham, all of Summerland.

Local Cricket Players Aid In Valley Wins

Frank Harrison and Dave Pudney, the two Summerland cricketers who have been showing rare form in Okanagan cricket circles this year, proved too stout an offensive pair when the South Okanagan All Stars played the visiting Vancouver cricketers at Kelowna last Saturday.

Pudney rolled up 54 and Harrison a neat 38 to bring the All Stars total to 149 runs, which Vancouver could not match, only amassing 85 points.

However, it was a different story on Monday at Naramata, when the Spencer Cup holders met the touring Varsity team. Splendid bowling and fielding kept the Naramata squad down to 92 runs while Varsity piled up an impressive 139 runs.

Harrison was only able to score 19 runs and Pudney was bowled for a "goose egg".

On Saturday, the South Okanagan All Star, made up of Naramata and Kelowna players, will meet the Varsity side at Kelowna, after having played Kelowna and Vernon elevens earlier in the week.

Both Harrison and Pudney are invited to take part in this match but it is not known yet if they will be able to participate.

Eleven Enter Beauty Contest For Saturday

Eleven entries have been recorded so far in the teen-aged bathing beauty contest which will be a feature of the annual Canadian Legion street carnival on Granville street Saturday, August 23.

New games, more novelties and other attractive features have been arranged to make this carnival one of the most attractive events in the series of street festivals staged by the Summerland branch No. 22, Canadian Legion.

Mr. Alex Watt, chairman of the Legion carnival committee, states that all plans are in readiness for a gala event and if the weather man is kind, he expects a record crowd to be in attendance.

Headed by the Pentiction Legion pipe band, the pet parade will open the carnival at 7 o'clock. There are more than twelve entries for this novel feature now, D. C. Thompson reports, and he expects further entries before the weekend. All types of animals are expected to be entered.

At 8 o'clock the promenade of teen-aged bathing beauties will commence. Mrs. B. F. Robson has been receiving entries for this contest and up to yesterday eleven names had been registered.

These include Alma Huva, Laura Heinrich, Beverly Cousins, Beverly Fleming, Shirley and Marcia Harvey, Jean Bryden, Julia Hack, Olive Mason, Lavella Day and Ruth Nesbitt.

Two prizes will be awarded these contestants, a $10 gift certificate going to the winner and a $5 certificate to the runner-up. These prizes are being donated by Hills' Ladies' Wear and the Linnea Style Shop. Robson's Studio is presenting portraits to the winners.

Games and other attractions will commence as soon as the bathing beauty contest is concluded. One of the features of the Legion WA stalls will be a home-cooked fruit cake which will be won by the person guessing the correct or nearest-correct weight.

Local Cricket Players Aid In Valley Wins

Frank Harrison and Dave Pudney, the two Summerland cricketers who have been showing rare form in Okanagan cricket circles this year, proved too stout an offensive pair when the South Okanagan All Stars played the visiting Vancouver cricketers at Kelowna last Saturday.

Pudney rolled up 54 and Harrison a neat 38 to bring the All Stars total to 149 runs, which Vancouver could not match, only amassing 85 points.

However, it was a different story on Monday at Naramata, when the Spencer Cup holders met the touring Varsity team. Splendid bowling and fielding kept the Naramata squad down to 92 runs while Varsity piled up an impressive 139 runs.

Harrison was only able to score 19 runs and Pudney was bowled for a "goose egg".

On Saturday, the South Okanagan All Star, made up of Naramata and Kelowna players, will meet the Varsity side at Kelowna, after having played Kelowna and Vernon elevens earlier in the week.

Both Harrison and Pudney are invited to take part in this match but it is not known yet if they will be able to participate.

Will You Give Blood?

There is an opportunity afforded every one of an adult age and in reasonable health to perform a good deed on behalf of humanity generally. We refer to the blood transfusion service which is operating in British Columbia through the guidance of the Red Cross.

Here in Summerland, the appeal for blood donors met with fair success, but the local Red Cross representatives are not yet satisfied that there are sufficient volunteers to keep this community up to the standard set in other centres of the province.

There is still an opportunity to register and donate your quota of blood to this worthy cause. Forms are available at this office and at the Bank of Montreal and may be filled in with no waste of time.

The blood transfusion service clinic will visit Summerland on Thursday, August 28 and expects to receive blood from more than one hundred persons. You still have time to register and pay the clinic a visit next week and we urge all persons willing to do their part for humanity's sake to hesitate no longer but place their names for a visit to this important clinic.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

There was great excitement at the Experimental Station last Thursday afternoon. The helicopter recently purchased by the Okanagan Air Services Limited was due for a trial as a means of applying dust used for the control of orchard insects. Carl Agar, veteran pilot that he is, made a perfect landing on a spot of open ground not more than 60 feet square near No. 3 orchard. Steve Canning and Dave McIntosh were on hand with their cameras to record the great event. Dick Palmer was also on the job with his 16mm. movie camera. However he was so excited when the helicopter came down that he neglected to press the button at the appropriate moment. When this minor catastrophe was explained to Pilot Agar, he obligingly agreed to take the machine up again and bring it down on the same identical spot in order that the photographic record might be complete.

Jimmy Marshall was in charge of operations. He supervised loading of the dust bins and indicated just how and where he wanted the insecticide applied. There were plenty of witnesses as Donald Strachan had obligingly given his entire orchard crew jobs to do in the immediate vicinity. It so happened that Loren Milliman, editor of the Better Fruit magazine, and Jim Purvis of the Canadian General Electric Co., also arrived at the opportune moment.

With Pilot Agar at the controls the machine behaved beautifully. The advantage of the helicopter over the conventional type of aeroplane for the application of insecticides to orchards lies in the fact that it can be manipulated just above the tree tops and propelled at low speed. This makes it possible to exert accurate control over the placement of the spray material. The efficiency of the equipment in this respect was accurately checked by Walter Hopewell of the National Defence Service who had come in from Suffield, Alberta, especially for this purpose. He was ably assisted by Ralph Miles of the Chemistry Division, of Science Service. These experts reported a very good coverage of both leaves and fruit.

When questioned regarding the possibilities of the helicopter as a means of controlling insect pests in commercial orchards, Jimmy Marshall was somewhat reserved, indicating that further trials would be necessary before statements could be made. Nevertheless the smile on his cheerful face and the glint in his eye indicated that he was quite enthusiastic and very hopeful that application of insecticides from the air on a large scale may soon become a regular orchard practice in the Okanagan.

Trouble - Trouble Everywhere...

(The Kelowna Courier)

The Kamloops Sentinel, noting the unrest throughout the province regarding the present financing arrangement for education, suggests that there should be a special session of the Legislature called to consider all aspects of the problem. This, says the Sentinel, "is the province's most urgent need."

There can be no doubt that the unrest caused by the hurried institution of the recommendations of the Cameron report is growing. From all sections of the province there come reports of dissatisfaction. There are plenty of indications that a storm is brewing. It may well be that the question of education, its administration and its costs, will be the rock upon which the government may flounder.

Penticton and Summerland have come to the parting of the ways and have petitioned for division of their consolidated school district. Their request will probably be granted just as it was in the case of Abbotsford and Mission. Other similar requests will probably follow. The Government has made concessions to appease rural taxpayers and in most areas there is apparently a general dissatisfaction of the whole picture. Much of this might have been avoided possibly had the ground for the drastic changes in school administration been properly prepared and some attempt made to analyze the effect of the new regulations before they were made law. The Cameron report itself specifically urged that this be done, but the Government in its haste to implement the report chose to ignore this advice with disastrous effects. It is now reaping the whirlwind. Unfortunately, too, extremely large increases in teachers' salaries came at the same time and, unfairly, this is being blamed upon the enlarged school districts.

The problems are many and thorny, and it may be that the Kamloops Sentinel is upon the right road when it suggests that the matter is important enough to warrant the calling of a special session to consider this matter alone.

THE Feminine Front

Muriel Hurry

A community is developed and shaped by its pioneers. Their courage and spirit leave an unremovable mark upon the character of a district, and I have observed in Summerland that many of the pioneers are still active in community affairs and business.

Sketches of these characters and their enterprises should be of particular interest to the women of Summerland, who are raising families and building futures here. We are proud of Summerland and we should know and be proud of our pioneers, who made Summerland what it is today.

For the first of these sketches, which will become an occasional feature in the Feminine Front, I have chosen a familiar couple, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Young, the latter who was formerly Miss McLaren, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McLaren, came to Summerland at about the same time, in 1906, and were married in 1914.

Mrs. Young is active in community affairs, and her fine taste is obvious in her beautiful new home, one of the most modern to be built in Summerland in many years.

Although Mr. and Mrs. Young are among the most youthful of the district's pioneers, they are classed as real old-timers of the community, and played a real part in its building.

Mr. Young has been very versatile in his business life, seizing opportunities fearlessly, and accepting failures and losses as a necessary part of experience. To give an idea of his versatility a few of his many occupations included those of orchardist, teamster, lumberman, salesman and businessman.

He was a student at one time at the old Okanagan College, under the tuition of Walter M. Wright, who was then on the staff of the college. In 1911 Mr. Young started a feed business in a building owned at that time by Judge W. C. Kelley, and the business progressed so favorably that by the following year he purchased the building from Judge Kelley, and extended it to accommodate the addition of a line of farm machinery, as well as stables for seven prize-winning horses.

In 1918, he changed from the feed to the trucking business, incidentally being the first person in town to operate a truck, which fact should recall memories to many of the old-timers.

Two of Mr. Young's most serious errors were in the operation of a small sawmill at Trout Creek in 1920, and a more costly one in 1921, when he built a large addition to his building, and went into the Oldsmobile selling business. Unfortunately this was on the eve of the 1922 "red ink" year, and as Mr. Young philosophically puts it, "the least said is the soonest mended."

It took courage of the pioneer variety to rebuild a profitable business from these losses, and Mr. Young started then to concentrate on the machinery business, which he has built up to a very considerable volume.

With a touch of humor, Mr. Young explains that, acting on

COMMUNITY AIDS YOUNG GIRL IN EYE OPERATION

VERNON—A dance held at Cherryville Community hall last Saturday brought in nearly $200 for little Heather Patrick, 5, who is urgently in need of an operation to cure what her mother, Mrs. Thomas Patrick, calls a "running eye."

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick hope to send the little girl to Vancouver, where her right eye will have to be "probed through," an operation which doctors say should have been performed when Heather was at the age of six months. This would result in a clear passage from her eyes to her nose which, according to doctors, has never functioned since Heather was born.

Honther is a brown-eyed, brown-haired, healthy child who romps and plays with the other children in the Sugar Lake district where her father is forestry patrol man. She is the second eldest of a family of six children.

The little girl has suffered from a running right eye since birth and though her parents took her to a doctor shortly after she was born, they were told it was merely a bad cold in the eye.

Her parents are worried because if infection sets in she may lose her sight. It may take a possible three operations, doctors believe, to completely restore the running eye to normalcy. If results of the "probe through" operation do not prove successful, little Heather may have to have her tear gland removed and if she still suffers, another operation would be necessary.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hedley from Edmonton, are visitors, here this week.

Pioneer Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO August 7, 1947

Water situation in Garnett Valley is serious as every bit of water available at the headwaters of Eneas creek has been released and no more water will come from there until there is a good rainfall. Had the municipality been able to store water on the site of the old Dunsdon dam the situation would not be so acute now. Still further precautions in the providing of sufficiently large ditches and flumes to carry the Trout creek water around to the lower end of the valley will be necessary. The extra dam would be good assurance against shortage for the valley proper. Reeve Blair on Saturday offered to contribute personally $100 towards the work of rebuilding this dam, provided other citizens under the system would assist with labor or cash.

The council is considering a by-law to establish policy regarding requests for sidewalks and also to cover the distance of buildings from the street line.

While working in his orchard, William K. Mackay, well-known fruit grower, collapsed and fell from his picking ladder. Death was due to heart failure. He was born at Halkirk, Caithness-shire, Scotland, in 1874 and has been a chief marine engineer.

A sport common to this section of the country each fall, that of gaffing or netting the kokanee, also known as the "kickaninney", has been prohibited by the fisheries regulations issued recently.

Pte. William Snow had a narrow escape when a German bullet passed through his steel helmet and another bored its way through his knapsack. He came out of the encounter unscathed.

William Ritchie has returned from the historic convention of party leaders of western Liberals at Winnipeg.

At a meeting of Conservatives in Keremeos, W. A. McKenzie, reeve of Penticton, was chosen as candidate in the coming by-election to replace L. W. Shafford, now a member of the Senate.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

August 21, 1917. Upper headwaters storage has now been drawn upon and Canyon creek dam is completely opened. No. 1 dam on Trout creek will be opened Wednesday.

O. Atkins has sought permission to establish a Delco light plant at Crescent Beach to provide lighting service for residents there.

C. N. McDonald plans to open a new drug store in West Summerland on September 1.

Duchess apples have now started to move and Wealthies are being held back to allow the Duchess to clear.

Hon. Dr. J. D. MacLean, acting premier, told a banquet attended by more than 200 guests at Hope that the Liberal government would build the Hope-Frinceton road.

A. W. Nisbet has taken over the book and office work at Walters Ltd.

STRESS PROMPT FRUIT DELIVERY

Importance of growers having their fruit delivered to the packing house within twenty-four hours of picking was stressed last week when the Okanagan Federated Shippers Assn. met the Better Fruits committee of the BCFGA.

Representatives of the experimental station in Summerland and the provincial horticultural branch endeavored to impress upon those present the disastrous effects of leaving apples in the orchards.

Difficulties of obtaining this desired movement from the orchards to the packing houses were recognized by the meeting, but it was agreed that three days is the maximum period that any McIntosh or Delicious should be allowed to stand in an orchard.

Also, three days is the maximum period any lot of McIntosh or Delicious should be allowed to remain standing on the packing house floor. If the fruit is not loaded immediately for shipping, after packing operations, it should be placed in cold storage.

The Better Fruit committee was assured by the packing house representatives that every facility will be provided to handle the apples as rapidly as they are picked.

Organization of schedule hauling was strongly advocated as a means of avoiding unnecessary waste of time waiting in truck lines at the packing plants.

REFORESTATION!

A MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA...

To ensure that British Columbia's forest lands are kept continuously productive, it sometimes is necessary to reforest, artificially, those parts that have been logged over or burned over. That means, to plant the areas with young trees, grown in forest nurseries, instead of depending on natural seeding from seed trees growing in the vicinity. At the present time, the British Columbia Forest Service is expending nearly $500,000 a year to grow twenty million young trees annually in its three forest nurseries, and plant them on forest land that is not satisfactorily reforested.

These young plantations are very vulnerable to forest fires. They represent a big expenditure of time, effort, and money and should have every care taken of them.

Improve Facilities For Making Loans To Farms

OTTAWA — Improved facilities for making farm housing loans are now available following announcement of proclamation of Section 14 of the National Housing Act in the House of Commons on June 30.

The announcement stated that there would be some delay before loans could be made on any type of farm in Saskatchewan or on grain-growing farms in Manitoba and Alberta.

It was explained that early in the year discussions had been held with the governments of the prairie provinces with a view to introducing a flexible payment mortgage for use on grain-growing farms. This new method would replace the orthodox mortgage calling for a fixed annual money payment regardless of crop conditions. The flexible payment principle would provide an adequate escape clause to relieve farmers of making payments during years of crop failure. In good crop years, instalments would be increased in direct proportion to the yield and value of the grain crop grown.

"To use this new mortgage form," it was stated, "certain adjustments in provincial legislation in all three provinces were considered necessary. While there was a great deal of interest shown in the proposals, the required amending legislation was not passed at the last sessions of the three legislatures. Negotiations are continuing with the governments concerned, however, in an effort to complete arrangements for using flexible payments mortgage." "As far as Saskatchewan is concerned, the statement explained that "the facilities of the Act cannot be extended to any kind of farm until more general debt legislation problems are clarified."

Applications will be received from Manitoba and Alberta farmers, however, and where the applicants operate farms which are not primarily grain-growing and where Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation agrees that the ordinary payment mortgage is satisfactory, such applications may be approved. Applications will also be considered from the five eastern provinces and British Columbia.

Under the provisions of Section 14 of the National Housing Act, loans may be made to farm owners to assist in the construction of modern, attractive and comfortable farm houses. Such loans bear interest at 4 1/2% per annum and are repayable over a period of up to 20 years after the date of completion of the house.

The maximum loan available to the owner of a farm on which there is no existing mortgage or other encumbrance is limited to the least of $5,000, the cost of building the house or two-thirds of the appraised value of the farm. However, if there is already a mortgage or other encumbrance on the farm, Section 14 of the Act permits a maximum loan amounting to the least of $8,000, the aggregate of the cost of building the house and the amount necessary to pay all encumbrances, or two-thirds of the appraised value of the farm.

To assist the farmer in repaying a loan, arrangements have been made for payment in annual, semi-annual or monthly instalments depending on the type of farm he operates and the frequency with which he receives his income during the year.

A pamphlet entitled "Farm Housing Loans," which explains the farm section of the national housing act in detail, is being prepared by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. When it becomes available, a copy will be sent to prospective borrowers to answer enquiries concerning NEA farm loans. Enquiries should be directed to the nearest regional or branch office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Auxiliary Provides 750 Cans Apricots

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, president of the Summerland Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary has informed The Review that despite the deprivations made on the hospital apricot trees, as reported in last week's issue, when the "meanest" thief stole all the fruit, the hospital will not be without canned apricots.

In fact, there will be 750 cans of apricots available this winter, Mrs. Atkinson proudly announces. The ladies of the auxiliary have prepared these apricots and the actual canning has been accomplished by Barkwill's Ltd.

The fruit stolen from the hospital was to have been made into jam, by the hospital staff itself, but the canned product situation is well in hand, Mrs. Atkinson indicates.

There have been offers to donate some preserved fruit to the hospital since publication of the "meanest" thief story, but Mrs. Atkinson states the auxiliary has the canning business well in hand.

Temperance Head Tours Continent In September

H. L. Campbell, assistant superintendent of education and chief inspector of schools has been appointed to the position of director of temperance education, it is announced this week by Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, as the first step in implementing the legislation on temperance education, passed at the last session of the legislature.

Section 17 of the liquor act made provision for funds to be expended under the direction of the minister for a temperance education program in schools and in young people's groups throughout the province and Dr. Weir has just recently returned from a trip to eastern Canada where he discussed with medical and other leaders the features of a desirable program.

Early in September, Mr. Campbell will visit the major centres on this continent where progressive programs of temperance education are developing.

These include the headquarters of the Research Council on problems of alcohol, the national committee for education on alcoholism, the American Medical association, the Bureau of Health Education, the National Committee on Alcohol Hygiene and Yale University School for studies in alcoholism.

Three or four of British Columbia's best public school teachers will be chosen to take special courses in temperance education so that they may assist Mr. Campbell, it was further announced by Dr. Weir.

Education Appointment
 A. M. Fotheringham, B.A., of Kelowna high school staff has been appointed assistant director of school broadcasts for British Columbia. Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, in making the appointment, stated that Mr. Fotheringham has been a member of the University Players' Club, and has had wide experience in school dramatic presentations.

Mr. Earl Murchison of Kelowna was a weekend visitor at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Day.

Start Work on New Medical Dental Home

Work of excavating and laying the foundation for the new medical-dental clinic on Granville street in West Summerland is now well underway, with Capt. J. E. Jenkinson in charge of construction work.

This building is being erected by Drs. A. W. Vanderburgh and W. H. E. Munn and will house, besides these two medical doctors, the offices of Dr. L. A. Day, dental surgeon.

This new building, which will be a decided acquisition to the business section of the community, is expected to be ready for occupancy by November 1, Capt. Jenkinson states.

Situated between Clough's Bakery and the Okanagan Telephone Co. office, the new structure will be one storey in height and will have a width of 32 feet and a depth of 71 feet.

On the west side, provision is made for two operating rooms for the dentist, with a dark room and a laboratory adjoining the office and waiting rooms. Entrance to the waiting room will be gained from the west side and not directly off Granville street.

On the east side and farther back from Granville street will be the entrance into the waiting room for the medical doctors. To the rear of the waiting room provision is made for offices, wash room and examination rooms, served by a central hall.

Accommodation is provided for three doctors in this new clinic, as the present medical men feel that they should look to the future when a further addition to the medical fraternity in the community may be required.

Space will be provided in front of the building for a small lawn, and shrubbery while inside, modern heating, plumbing and electrical fixtures are being ordered.

The outside of the building will have a siding of cedar-grain asbestos shingles, which are fireproof, and provide a neat, clean appearance.

Accommodation for cars is provided in a parking space at the rear of the building.

GRAND COULEE TRIP PLANNED

The Rotary Club of Summerland will make plans on Friday at its regular weekly supper session, for the entertainment of Summerland high school Grade XII pupils on a trip to Grand Coulee dam in Washington.

This trip was inaugurated last year and the pupils enjoyed the trip so much that the Rotarians have agreed, to try and make it an annual event.

No date has been set yet but it is understood that the trip will take place in September.

TEEN TOWN TRIUMPHS

KELOWNA—This city's Teen Town softball team defeated Castlegar, Kootenay champs, 18-1 and 10-0 last Sunday to earn the right to travel to Vancouver for the Little World Series and the championship of B.C. Summerland Teen Town was entered in this playoff but lost out to Penticton. That town's team was beaten in a play-down for the Okanagan honors with Kelowna being on top. Kelowna leaves for Vancouver tomorrow.

TENNIS TEAM IS BEATEN BY KELOWNA CLUB

Summerland tennis players competed against a team from the Kelowna tennis club last Sunday afternoon at the Orchard City courts and lost the series six matches to four, with two others being drawn.

This is the first defeat of the season for the local players, they having played Penticton and Okanagan Centre teams and a Kelowna group in previous encounters.

Summerland won two ladies' doubles, drew one and lost one. Three of the men's doubles went to Kelowna and the other was drawn, while the two teams split the mixed doubles.

Results were as follows:
Ladies' doubles: Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Cornwall lost to Mrs. Brunette and Miss J. Wasson, 6-3, 6-2 and won from Miss Pearcey and Mrs. Parker, 6-2, 6-0; Miss Carruthers and Miss Redlich won from Mrs. Brunette and Miss Wasson, 6-3, 6-5 and drew with Miss Pearcey and Mrs. Parker, 6-1, 4-6.

Men's doubles: Cornwall and Macleod lost to Shugg and Chapman, 4-6, 1-5 and were defeated by Winter and Oatman, 6-6, 2-6.

Russel and Solley drew with Winter and Oatman, 6-4, 3-6 and lost to Shugg and Chapman, 2-6, 2-6.

Mixed doubles: Solly and Miss Carruthers won from Chapman and Mrs. Parker, 6-1; Mr. and Mrs. Russel won from Shugg and Miss Pearcey 6-1; Mr. and Mrs. Cornwall lost to Winter and Mrs. Brunette, 1-6; Macleod and Miss Redlich lost to Oatman and Miss J. Wasson, 8-10.

Mrs. T. J. Garnett returned last weekend from Vancouver.

POLICE RESCUE
MAN FROM LAKE

Two Kelowna police officers had an impromptu early morning dip in the "tule-tufted" waters of Lake Okanagan last week and are credited with saving the life of a district resident.

A call to the police office shortly after 8 a.m. sent Constables Jack Poole and John Murdock rushing to the lakeshore in the vicinity of Christleton Ave. Several yards off shore was a man, fully clothed, up to his waist in water.

Without so much as removing their hats, the officers took to the water and thrashed their way through the bulrushes. Persuaded to come ashore, the man was later certified as mentally ill and sent to a coast hospital for treatment.

Red Mite Is
No. 1 To Fruit

Public Enemy No. 1 is no longer the codling moth but is now the European Red Mite in Okanagan orchards, Alex Watt, provincial field inspector for Summerland, Peachland, Westbank area explained in an interesting address to the Rotary Club of Summerland on Friday evening, at the Nu-Way annex.

This season, the red mite has become more of a problem than ever before, he stated, as the DDT used to combat codling moth has killed off some of the parasites which usually kept the mites in check.

However, this is not the only reason for the spread of this orchard infestation, as they have become extremely prevalent in some orchards which did not use the DDT spray.

Control in Sight
"We are making definite progress to control this mite," he declared and emphasized the work of Dr. J. G. Marshall and his staff of entomologists who have been working all out to gain control. "The end of the mite trail is in sight," he prophesied, and stated that in a few seasons he believed that the hundred percent control of the mite will be obtained.

This particular mite is smaller than a pin head, he explained, and resembles a spider in most characteristics. It is blood red and attacks all types of fruit trees. However, it has a special liking for apple trees and of this fruit Delicious is the favorite.

The eggs are generally laid in the late fall and remain dormant until late spring when the blossoms commence to bloom.

However, the cycle of the mite is a rapid one as within three weeks of the time the egg hatches, the mite can develop to the stage where it lays up to thirty more eggs. It can be plainly seen that the mites can develop in huge numbers in a short space of time, he declared.

Takes Out Sap
The mite is a sucking insect and it takes the sap out of the leaf of a tree so that the leaves do not develop a true deep green color and the fruit does not develop in size or color. The leaves, besides being only a light green are speckled with spots resembling pepper, when attacked by the mites.

As a general rule peaches and apricots are harvested before the main force of the mites gets to work but even these fruits can be harmed.

The mites continue their activity until the end of summer and by September they are reaching their dormant stage.

Asked why the Delicious tree is attracted to greater degree than other varieties, Mr. Watt explained that the tissue of the leaves of some trees are more tender than others and are easier for the mite to obtain the sap.

The parasites which tend to keep the mites in control are the thrip, a black beetle and another predatory mite which lives on mites rather than on the tissues of leaves.

Mr. Watt was introduced by Mel Ducommun and given a vote of thanks by Francis Steuart.

President C. J. Bleasdale announced that the September 5 meeting of the Rotary club would be held at the experimental station and Rotary Annex would be guests.

$80,000 BYLAW
Kelowna ratepayers will be asked to approve an $80,000 money by-law to complete the cost of erecting the war memorial arena. The war memorial committee, already has around $100,000, but recent estimates indicate the building will cost $175,000, while architect fees will be around $5,000.

Vernon Frontier Days
Proves Huge Success

For the tenth successive year, Vernon turned back the clock and emerged in the dress of the gay nineties. Shops in the business area were decorated with slabwood and signs of yesteryear. The populace decked itself in trappings of days gone by and every male resident sported a beard. This was all in support of the annual two-day Frontier Days festival sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Vernon.

Two major events of the opening day, Wednesday, were the kiddies pet parade, with 400 entries, and the stampede. Finals of the stampede, horse and chuck wagon races featured Thursday afternoon's events, while in the early evening they staged the monster frontier parade. The whole affair wound up with a carnival and dance in the Vernon civic arena.

flapped its wings and carried an imitation baby in its beak. Beard contest winners were as follows: Wildest, Rod "Red" McIndoe; black trimmed, Bill McNeill; black untrimmed, Fred Hoffman; brown trimmed, Eugene Wiseman; brown untrimmed, Tommy Murphy; red trimmed, George Carter; grey, Ralph Laurence; silvertip trimmed, G. R. Hopping; silver untrimmed, Cecil Porter; best trimmed, any color, Romaine Newman.

Entreaties of storekeepers, who had gone "plumb loco" overwhelmed the slap-happy populace. They wanted to sell "pison cawfee", nerveless neckter", "Tules", and parts for horseless carriages.

Stores reported to be doing a teeming trade enticed their customers with signs like these: "Why walk around all daid when we can finish you off for only 15 cents?" and "Free Beer served to anyone over 90 IF accompanied by parents."

Shaggy, bearded customers were warned at one store to violate the "feuding hours" at their own risk, while a noose dangling in the store window served as a grim reminder of what happens to Bad Man Pete when he feuds all night long and thinks he can get away with it next day, too.

FRUIT BOARD WARNS CANNERS OF INFRACTIONS

A warning that prosecution will follow any infractions of the prohibition against private deals by growers with processing plants was given this week in a circular from the B.C. Fruit Board, at Kelowna. The board stated, under date of August 11:

"We hear some reports again this year of private arrangements being made with processors by individual growers for deliveries of fruits.

"Below we quote regulation issued by the board on July 3, 1946; "Sales or deliveries of tree fruits, graded or otherwise, to processors are prohibited, except as authorized by the sales agency, B.C. Tree Fruits, Limited.

"This regulation is still in effect and applies to deliveries by growers or shippers and also to deliveries from orchards that may be owned by the processor.

"If the pooling of returns from the crop is to be done in a manner that will be fair to all growers it is necessary that this regulation be adhered to by all. It follows that, if there are violations, it may become necessary to prosecute the offender in the courts.

SHIFT SYSTEM FOR HIGH SCHOOL

VERNON—Work on the new shift system which is going into effect at Vernon High school this fall was announced as now being completed by Principal George Falconer at the Tuesday night meeting of the board of Vernon School District No. 22.

Mr. Falconer said the scheme calls for three shifts during the school day, so timed as to allow the least amount of friction and inconvenience caused through overcrowding in the school which was built for 500 students and this fall will be called upon to house 900, an increase of 100 over last year's total registration.

For city children, grades seven, 10 and 11, school will start at 8 a.m. and they will work through to lunch period which commences at 10:30 a.m. and will return to school for the afternoon session at 1 p.m. and study until 3:35 p.m. when school, for them, will be out.

City children, grades eight, nine and 12, will come to classes at 10:20 a.m. until 12:15 p.m. when they will go home for lunch and return at 2:20 p.m. for schooling until 5 p.m.

Children from outlying areas will maintain their 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. school hours, with 40 minutes off for lunch.

Under this system, Mr. Falconer said, no teacher will teach for more than the regular seven periods.

"Last year there were five grade sevens and five grade eights. This year there will be six grade sevens and six grade eights," said the principal.

NEW COLD LOCKERS

Cold storage locker plant in Abbotsford, the largest of its kind in British Columbia, has opened 275 new food lockers in order to accommodate the needs of the community.

Carry Blood By Many Means

By plane, train, boat, bus and car, emergency supplies of fresh blood and plasma have been rushed to all parts of British Columbia through the Red Cross blood transfusion service since its inception in February. In the intervening six months, in addition to regular supplies to hospital blood banks in B.C., 172 emergency calls from doctors and hospitals all over the province have been answered by the Red Cross blood bank in Vancouver.

Plasma rushed to Chilliwack in the middle of the night by Red Cross transport saved the lives of two seriously burned men, blood flown to Vancouver Island helped save the life of a severely injured logger; emergency operation at Prince George was performed with the aid of transfusions flown from the Vancouver Red Cross blood bank; while other cases at Port Alberni, Kamloops, Fernie, Penticton, as well as at scores of other spots, have received supplies of the miracle fluid.

Twelve British Columbia babies are alive and healthy because of blood replacements made through transfusions supplied by the Red Cross service. Affected by the dreaded RH Factor, which almost invariably takes the life of a newborn child, these infants have received an entire new supply of blood under a new therapy of blood replacement which has been adopted for the first time in Canada.

Complete equipment for this replacement with supply of the necessary type blood was recently flown from the Vancouver Red Cross laboratory to Lethbridge and transported from there by train to Fernie at request of a doctor in that locality. Just before the birth of the infant, Dr. W. G. Rice, medical director of the Red Cross service, instructed the Fernie doctor by long distance on this replacement technique. The child is alive and healthy today, and serum from the mother has already been received at the Red Cross laboratory to be used for testing the RH Factor in other cases.

CLEMENT URGES TWO-WAY SYSTEM

"I feel that the day of treatment of power and water schemes separately is past," declared Dean F. M. Clement, in a recent telephone conversation with the Vernon News. Dean Clement is one of the foremost agriculturists in B.C. and headed the commission which reviewed irrigation conditions in this province recently.

"Up to the present time the two problems have been thought of as two separate entities," he continued. "I am a firm believer in the idea that the expansion of the one should be co-related with the extension of the other.

"Pressure must be brought to bear on the provincial government that a survey for one must be accompanied by a survey for the other. Water used for generating power can then be used for irrigation purposes and not wasted; "The cost of power will absorb part of the cost of the water. Frequent attempts to treat the problem separately have practically made the cost of water for irrigation prohibitive to the farmers in the Okanagan."

At the request of the school district, Summerland council is sending a communication to Victoria, urging the government to send in its new commission on school costs and obtain a ruling on the tangled assessment squabble between municipalities and rural area in Pentiction School District No. 15.

This dispute is beginning to pinch the school district which is in need of funds and will not be able to function unless the full amount of the levies is obtained before the year end.

Summerland has refused to accept the department of education ruling that it should share school costs on the full amount of the 1946 assessment figures, including school fees, which are part of the total as improvements.

This school trees question has been the major stumbling block facing the school district and its component parts since early in the year. Several thousand dollars are involved in the dispute.

Without taking sides in the question, the school district asked the local council on Monday evening to take some action which would clear the air and allow the school board to proceed as planned.

This request was considered reasonable by the local municipal group, which stated it would press Victoria for the newly-appointed commission to come to the Okanagan immediately.

However, The Review wired H. Allen Maclean, chairman of the commission, on Saturday asking when this body would visit the Okanagan. In reply, Mr. Maclean stated:

"Commission has not yet been called together but present indications are that there will be no public hearing in Okanagan Valley until mid-October."

This six-man commission has been instructed by the government to inquire into the performance of the assessment function for school taxation; the degree to which land and improvements are being assessed in accordance with the public schools act; the applicability and suitability of the definitions of "land and improvements" in the various acts for assessment purposes; and general incidence of taxation under the schools act.

Dr. T. F. Farnley, chairman and W. W. Riddell, finance committee head, of Pentiction, and P. G. Dodwell and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Summerland trustees were the visitors to the Summerland council meeting Monday night.

Wants Clarification
Dr. Farnley pointed out that the Summerland council does not agree with the education department's ruling on Summerland's share of school costs and the school district wishes Summerland to place that stand before the department to try and clarify the situation.

"We don't presume to advise you on your steps but we would like to see the situation clarified and let us get on with our work," was Dr. Farnley's contention.

Reeve W. R. Powell, speaking on behalf of the Summerland council, took umbrage at the picture of the Summerland actions which has been brought out by the Pentiction council and by the Pentiction press.

He declared that the Summerland council has always considered its stand on the trees question a matter of common justice, to this community and will continue to fight on this contention until the stand is upheld or proved wrong.

He referred to the meeting of Pentiction and Summerland councils with members of the school board when Pentiction council bluntly stated that it wished Summerland divorced from the school district.

Reflection on Council
At that time and in future council meetings reported in the Pentiction Herald, the Pentiction municipal body inferred that "it could not work with Summerland."

"This is a reflection on the present and future councils to which we take objection," declared Reeve Powell. "We went to that meeting prepared to support the school bylaw and we are still prepared to do that. Can't you see how our feelings were hurt when we were told by Pentiction councillors that the bylaw wouldn't pass in Pentiction and that they wouldn't work with us?" he queried.

Dr. Farnley hurried to remind the Summerland council that the school board was just as surprised as Summerland councillors at the Pentiction decision to ask for a divorce from Summerland in the school district.

Throughout subsequent discussions, Summerland councillors expressed their desire to see the issue settled as quickly as possible and if a ruling could be obtained from this school costs commission, then the local feeling would be to "let the chips fall where they may."

Summerland paid on trees to the school district once but that is no reason to do it again, was another pointed remark.

Give Fair Trial
The general opinion was also expressed by local councillors that they would like to see the amalgamated school district given a fair trial but in view of the Pentiction council attitude toward Summerland they could not see how such a situation could continue.

With the Pentiction council taking the stand: "We don't want anything to do with Summerland," I don't think we will ever be able to work with them, one councillor remarked.

Throughout the Monday night session the meeting was quite harmonious and there was a general opinion expressed that some action must be taken soon to bring the impasse to a conclusion one way or another.

Some doubt was expressed that the commission is empowered to bring down decisions on questions such as face the local school district but it was considered that the government might give authority for such a step to be taken in this emergency.

Express Sympathy For Dodwells

Members of the municipal council expressed their sympathy for the Dodwell family in their tragic loss last week when Peter Dodwell was drowned in Okanagan lake, when his boat was rammed by the CPR tug and barge.

A letter of sympathy to the bereaved family was ordered sent to the Dodwell family when the council met on Monday afternoon.

It was also suggested by Councillor C. E. "Ned" Bentley that some public recognition should be given to Gordon Coderre, Kelowna, a member of the tug crew who dived into the water and rescued Mrs. Peter Dodwell.

Reeve Powell directed Councillor Bentley to obtain exact details of the occurrence concerning Coderre's action and the action to be taken would be made known at a later date.

Mud Slide Is Cleared From Beach Roads

Removal of the mudslide from the Crescent Beach road and from the Fudge property on the lake-shore was completed on Monday afternoon, the council sitting in bi-monthly session was informed that day.

The big shovel from the Interior Contracting Co., Pentiction, commenced work last Thursday and worked until Monday afternoon to clear away the huge pile of mud and debris which swept down the narrow ravine on the morning of August 11.

This slide nearly inundated the Fudge home, being diverted by a slight bend in the ravine to miss the house by a narrow margin.

Private trucks hauled away most of the dirt scooped up by the shovel, Les Gould, road foreman, declared in his report to the council.

Concerning this slide, the municipal council sought legal advice as to its responsibility and was informed that no legal blame could be attached to the municipality for this occurrence.

Leader Is Through
Mr. Gould reported that the municipal tractor loader has deteriorated to such an extent that it would be unwise to spend any more money on its repair. The transmission is beyond ordinary repair, he indicated.

The road foreman also suggested that it would be economical for the council to purchase another grader and obtain a turn-in value in the present machine. He believed that the trade-in value of the present grader would be about 65 percent of the original cost.

Mr. Gould advocated the present council ordering a new grader, which would cost about $12,000, for delivery next spring. This order could be ratified by next year's council if it wished to proceed with the purchase. Otherwise, if the order is delayed a new grader would not be available until next fall and by that time Mr. Gould is afraid that expensive repairs would have to be undertaken on the present grader.

Jubilee road is being treated with a coating of oil this week in preparation for school opening. It is hoped to have this work completed so that the oil will have hardened before next Tuesday.

Hastings road and possibly Kelley street are to have an application of asphalt as a permanent surface. The high point on Hastings is to be removed before the hard surfacing is laid, it was stated.

Other streets in the West Summerland business district will receive a coating of oil as a dust layer.

Council Seeks Reason For Juice Halt

Electrical Foreman Percy Thornber faced a disturbed municipal council on Monday afternoon to give an accounting for the cessation of light and power within the municipality for an hour on that morning.

The Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn. wrote a strong letter of protest concerning the power shut-off, claiming that in the cannery alone the loss of fruit and workers' time would amount to $150.

While the power was shut off in mid-morning, the municipal office was besieged with telephone calls from business people and maddened housewives whose weekly washings were hindered by the stoppage of electricity.

Mr. Thornber explained to the council that there had been some trouble in regulating the current and he had taken the opportunity of obtaining advice from a friend, Mr. Stacey, of UBC, who was in Summerland that day.

One Minute More
The shut-off, he explained, was not to have been for more than one minute, but when he threw the switch over to re-connect the current, the corresponding switch in the Pentiction office of the West Kootenay Power & Light Co., was thrown out.

Mr. Thornber immediately telephoned Pentiction but received no answer from the West Kootenay office. He tried to locate the Pentiction municipal electrician aid in the emergency, but to no avail.

At this critical moment, J. D. McMynn, West Kootenay manager in Pentiction, arrived on the scene in West Summerland. He turned around and drove rapidly back to Pentiction where he endeavored to put back the switch.

So great was the load from Summerland, however, that the switch at Pentiction was driven back forty times and it was only when it was "shorted" that the connection was finally made.

"Why couldn't the shut-down have been made at the noon hour or some more convenient time rather than in mid-morning" queried Councillor Bentley.

"Why don't you say something to the West Kootenay when they have a shut-down in power?" Foreman Thornber retorted in reply. "You never say anything to them when they are off for half an hour and we only meant to be off a minute."

Everything Against Him
Mr. Thornber was told to leave the West Kootenay power failures out of the discussion, for the time being.

He further explained that a minute's shutoff would not have hurt anybody and he had no idea that the West Kootenay office would have been abandoned at that time Monday morning.

"Everything went against me this morning," he stated.
Reeve Powell warned Mr. Thornber of the loss in time and possible damage to fruit which could result at this time of the year with a power failure while Councillor Wilson pointed out the necessity of making sure that there is a man in the West Kootenay office before making any such tests.

The council concluded its cross-examination by exacting a promise from Foreman Thornber that it would only be in the case of "life and death" that he would turn off the power for such tests in the future, at least at such an inconvenient time of the day.

R. B. Elliott's offer of $150 for six lots in "Chinaman's Gulch" was turned down by the council on Monday but the latter agreed to rent them for a fee of $15 per year. These are sidehill lots and the council deemed it advisable to retain them.

RIFLE TEAM IN SIXTH PLACE

Summerland rifle club members placed sixth in the first annual meet of the Vernon Military Rifle Assn. held at the Vernon military range recently. There were fourteen rifle teams entered from Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna and Summerland.

Kamloops No. 1 team had top score with 476 points, followed by that town's No. 2 team with 454. Vernon was third with 450 closely followed by Kelowna No. 1 with 449 and Kelowna No. 2 with 415. Summerland's entry was next with 402.

The interior championships will be held next month when the Spay Royal cup will be at stake. It is probable that this meet will also be held on Vernon's military range.

J. J. BLEWETT IS BURNED IN FIRE

Mr. J. J. Blewett is suffering today from gasoline fire burns to his back, chest, neck and ear, received when a gasoline stove exploded in the basement of the Blewett home in Peach Orchard late Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Blewett were attempting to light the fire preparatory to canning fruit when the stove exploded. Mr. Blewett, despite his severe burns, fought the blaze until it was practically under control. Neighbors assisted to put out the remaining embers and the West Summerland fire brigade arrived promptly on the scene but too late to be of much assistance.

Timbers and wiring below the main portion of the house were burned and smoke damage also resulted in some loss.

Mr. Blewett's shirt was on fire at one stage and had to be ripped from his back but the elderly man still insisted on going back into the cellar and fight the fire.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR LAKE VICTIMS

Memorial services for the late Doreen Wilkinson and Peter Dodwell, who were tragically drowned last week, were read in St. Stephen's Anglican church on Sunday afternoon, August 24, with Canon F. V. Harrison officiating.

The church, which was beautifully decorated with masses of red and white gladioli, through the kindness of E. H. Bennett, was filled to capacity, as life-long friends of the family paid their last respects.

Routine memorial services were conducted in a dignified, but simple ceremony. Mrs. Robert Jenkinson, mother of Mrs. Peter Dodwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dodwell, all of Vancouver, were present for the ceremonies.

Valley Girls Leave Anglican Camp To-day

Fifty girls from all parts of the Okanagan and Similkameen are going back to their homes today following a highly successful girls' camp at the farm beach, Summerland, conducted by the W.A. of the Diocese of Kootenay of the Anglican church.

Mrs. N. O. Solly, Summerland, has been in charge of this camp, assisted by Mrs. J. Batchelor, Castlegar, and Miss Helen Moore, Hedley.

This camp is an annual affair for girls of the Anglican church from the Okanagan and Kootenays. Although the attendance increased this year it would have been much greater had not the polo scare caused many parents to keep their youngsters at home, Mrs. Solly declares.

Age limits for this camp are from 10 to 16 years and the fifty girls who attended the 1947 camp had a grand time.

The daily routine included chapel, organized games, swimming and swimming instruction, boating, handicrafts, and special talks. Two of the special speakers who came to the camp were Mrs. M. T. C. Ferrell, of Proctor, B.C., secretary of the girls' auxiliary for the Diocese of Kootenay, a group which the Anglican church hopes will become better known throughout the area and increase in size; and Mr. John Vander Loist, formerly of Holland, who is a visitor at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Beames, in Pentiction.

Mr. Vander Loist, who is an Anglican theological student, gave the girls an idea of some of the Dutch experiences during the war years and also told of conditions in present-day Holland.

Sunday, August 24, was visitors' day at the camp and between fifty and seventy-five parents and friends took this opportunity to see their girls in camp.

Camp attendance was made up of girls from Cawston, Hedley, Princeton, Kelowna, East Kelowna, Pentiction, Naramata, Summerland and Westvold.

Mrs. Solly gave special praise to the fine work of the camp cook, Mrs. W. Lowman, and also expressed appreciation of the co-operation of Summerland merchants who have been helpful in giving discounts for camp provisions. The girls only contribute fifty cents per day for camp, so Mrs. Solly has had to be extremely careful to balance the budget.

At a price of $400 Dan Ulrich has agreed to purchase three tax sale lots from the municipality in lower town. He offered $850 and the council's previous figure was $450, but the compromise figure was agreed.

Schools Open With Buildings Full To Capacity — 600 Pupils

Every available inch of space in the two Summerland schools will be occupied on Tuesday, September 2, when the halls of learning open for the fall term. Old records for attendance will fall by the way, side as more than 600 students will be crammed into accommodation built for figures much lower in number.

In the elementary school, it is estimated that 484 students will register for the new term and Principal S. A. MacDonald is afraid that this is a low estimate. In the high school, Principal A. K. Macleod gives a probable enrolment of 126 and this may also prove too low a figure.

All basement rooms in the elementary school, plus the library room, are to be used as classrooms. In the high school the situation is just as bad, as even one end of the main hallway is to be utilized for classroom purposes and students will also alternate between the high school building and the elementary rooms, when the latter students are taking industrial arts and home economics.

Four Basement Rooms

Four divisions are to be housed in the basement of the elementary as that school endeavors to cope with 480 pupils. At the close of the spring term, there were 444 pupils enrolled.

Some minor improvements have been undertaken in this building this summer but most of the alteration work is being left until the school bylaw allowing for a complete renovation of the building is passed.

At the high school, floors have been varnished, the home economics room painted and extra lighting is still to be installed at the west end of the main hallway, which will be used as a teaching area.

Grade X shows the heaviest increase in the high school and is creating a major problem for Principal Macleod. He states that any students who are new to the district and have not yet registered should do so at once.

He also urges pupils to provide themselves with running shoes for the physical education periods and the required text books, so that their work will not suffer should shortages develop.

New options will be given next term in the high school provided there is a sufficient demand. These consist of junior business in Grade X, journalism for grades XI and XII and biology A for grade XII.

Many Changes

Only two new teachers, Mrs. Clarie Wilkin in science and maths and S. W. Feltham, industrial arts, remain of last year's high staff. New teachers consist of the following:

Miss Mavis Huston, Vancouver, social studies, health, physical education and guidance; Miss Eileen Moore, Vancouver, English, French, general science; Miss Irene Wilson, Victoria, home economics; Mr. John T. Smith, Vancouver, mathematics, health, physical education and guidance.

Mr. Charles D. Kennedy, E.A., of Naramata, who was formerly a principal at West Vancouver, has been added to the staff of the Summerland schools to take part-time work in both high and elementary grades, thus relieving the principals in both schools. He will teach science, junior business and journalism in the high school. He is interested in track and field and other branches of school sports.

In the elementary school, there are four new staff members. Mr. Ben Nesbitt will teach grades 7 and 8. He is a graduate of Victoria Normal school and has taken on a summer school course in physical education.

Miss Ethel Joslin, from Meadow Lake, Sask., is taking Grade 6 classes. Miss Mildred Kirkpatrick, of Fernie, a graduate of Vancouver Normal, will be instructor for grades 4 and 5. She plans to specialize in music.

Another graduate this year, of Vancouver Normal, is Miss Marion Nichols, of Vancouver, who is taking classes in grades 2 and 3.

THORNER LOSES BY NEW RATE

With the new electrical rate being allowed by the West Kootenay to the municipality there is one consumer here who is liable to suffer somewhat.

Municipal Electrical Foreman Percy Thornber has been allowed a special rate for years by the West Kootenay company, suppliers of the juice, in the same manner that West Kootenay officials themselves are given juice at practically cost.

This courtesy rate to the electrical foreman has now been discontinued but Mr. Thornber was not notified until near the end of the month. Because he uses a water heater, his electrical bill ran to $30.

The council informed Mr. Thornber on Monday that it would review this bill with the West Kootenay, stating that his contention that he should have been notified at an earlier date is a correct one.

Councillors F. E. Atkinson and M. M. Tait were absent from last Monday's council session, the former being in Manitoba and the latter being busy employed in harvesting his peach crop.

Ruth Nesbitt Beauty Winner At Carnival

Largest crowd ever to attend the annual street carnival staged each summer by the Summerland Canadian Legion branch, lined Granville street Saturday night to watch the pet parade, admire the bathing beauties, play many of the games of "skill," drink gallons of cider, eat copious quantities of hot dogs and generally make merry for a few hours.

Thirty-two entries lined up for the pet parade shortly after seven o'clock to parade in two groups up and down the block on Granville street roped off for the occasion and led by the Pentiction Legion pipe band.

Pets of every description, including dogs, cats, chickens, rabbits and many other household birds and animals gave the crowd a big laugh as the children attempted to keep them under control.

Judges Task Difficult
Judging was a high standard and it was only with difficulty that the judges were able to make their decision. In fact, so harassed were the judges that they prevailed on Legion official Dave

Perry-Rees Nuptials Take Place at Coast

Of major interest to Summerland was the wedding in Vancouver on Wednesday afternoon, August 20, at the Kersisdale Baptist church, when Rev. Frank Haskins, of West Summerland officiated at the marriage of Mr. Lorne Graham Perry, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George Perry, West Summerland and Miss Sylvia Margaret Rees, younger daughter of Major and Mrs. Brinley Rees, of Penylan, Cardiff, Wales.

The bride travelled from Wales for the ceremony, which was the climax of a romance started overseas, when the groom served as an officer in the RCAF. The bride served in the WRNS. Mr. Perry is a graduate of the UBC, and is affiliated with the Delta Upsilon fraternity. He is a prominent young businessman in West Summerland.

The bride was given in marriage by a family friend from Wales; Major Kenneth Morgan, and was gowning in a smart winter white crepe suit with maroon accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of American Beauty roses and stephanotis.

Matron-of-honor was Mrs. Harold Graham wearing a French beige crepe dress with brown accessories, and carrying a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and white sweet peas.

Mr. Harold Graham, fraternity brother of the groom, served as groomsman, while ushers were Dr. Wilford Evans, who is well-known in Summerland, and Mr. Gerald Haskney.

The reception which followed the wedding was held at the home of the groom's cousin, Mr. J. C. Ashdown.

For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver Island, Seattle and Portland, Mrs. Perry wore a wine and navy English tweed suit and topcoat. Mr. and Mrs. Perry will make their future home in West Summerland.

Mr. and Mrs. George Perry, parents of the groom, as well as the officiating minister, Rev. F. W. Haskins and Mrs. Haskins, were visitors to the coast for the Perry-Rees nups.

Lake Tragedy

Summerland in particular and the entire Okanagan was shocked last week to hear of the tragic death on Okanagan lake of Peter Dodwell, of this community and Doreen Wilkinson, of Vancouver.

Peter Dodwell was a native son of Summerland. He grew up in the community and the young people knew him well and liked him. So did those of the older generations with whom he came in contact.

He was a lover of the outdoors and was at home hiking up Snow Mountain as he was on the lake, in swimming or boating. He answered the call to service in World War II and distinguished himself in the air force, graduating from that hard school as a flight lieutenant, after serving a term of operations in those strenuous and heart-breaking days of the Normandie invasion.

After all his brushes with death in the air, it is sad that a young man with such possibilities ahead of him, should meet such a tragic and sudden end.

Little is known here of Miss Doreen Wilkinson, who met the same fate as Peter Dodwell. But we do know that she was an intelligent young lady whose devotion in girls' work at the coast had won for her a host of friends.

To the families who were so suddenly bereaved in such a shocking manner, the community of Summerland offers its heartfelt sympathy.

The huge crowd which attended the memorial service at St. Saviour's church last Sunday bore mute testimony to the feelings of the community.

The Flower Show

Once more Summerland has taken the lead in the cultural life of the South Okanagan. Last week's flower show staged by Summerland Horticultural Society had the best displays of summer flowers which it has ever been privileged to feature in twenty-two years of keen competition.

Propagation of flowers is a hobby which brings keen enjoyment to the home owner. To produce the best quality of bloom takes an infinite amount of patience and hard, careful work. It also takes study and knowledge of the plants and their idiosyncracies to produce blooms of sufficient quality to capture prizes or admiring glances.

To stage a flower show properly is another product of hard work and patience. As usual, it was only a handful of faithful workers whose energy gave forth the high quality results of last week.

Summerland, generally, is congratulating not only the energetic members of the Summerland Horticultural Society whose efforts attained such heights in the 1947 show, but also the many garden lovers whose displays won such merited praise.

Another indication of the respect and esteem this show has gained in the South Okanagan is the number of entries from outside points. These flower lovers in neighboring communities have a high regard for the Summerland summer flower show and it is to their credit that they travelled many miles to display the results of their garden efforts and take away so many prizes.

Back To School

On Tuesday school re-opens after the brief summer holidays. Children from six to nineteen will trudge back after their short respite to delve further into the realm of education.

This will be a difficult year ahead for students and teachers alike. Both schools will be crammed to the utmost. In the elementary school, all basement rooms will be filled and this is not a proper atmosphere in which to instill learning. Facilities at the high school will be more crowded than ever.

The irony of the situation is that there will be no respite for another full year. If the bylaw to remodel the elementary school had gone forward this summer it is possible the building could have been completed by the turn of the year.

But with the present impasse in school affairs, there is little likelihood that the bylaw will reach the public for passage in 1947. At least, it probably will not come until it is too late to start construction work this year. This means that the school will not be renoated until next spring or summer, at the earliest.

The situation here is certainly not a lone one, as far as accommodation is concerned. It is being felt everywhere and the entire system of education is suffering thereby.

Let us hope that the newly-appointed commission to inquire into school taxation will visit this school district in the very near future and endeavor to find a solution. We are not hopeful that it will take action, but there is always the hope.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

Column writers certainly earn their pay. As evidence of the truth of this statement consider the ordeal which I went through to secure the information presented in the following paragraphs.

Last Saturday afternoon when I called on Dick Palmer to secure information regarding what was going on at the Experimental Station I found him busy canning peaches. The printable portions of our conversation are summarized below.

Dick: You are just the very man I want. My wife and boys have gone off on a holiday and have left me with this mountain of peaches to can. If you are willing to help me I am prepared to reveal to you the secrets and mysteries of the ancient and honorable art of peach canning.

Agrologist: I am actually very busy but I might stay a few minutes and give you a hand. I understand that full instructions regarding the canning of peaches are available in bulletin form so that it will hardly be necessary for me to work all afternoon to learn how the job is done.

Dick: That's where you're wrong. The deep secrets of the art are learned only by actual experience. For example, I have ascertained that the job can be speeded up immensely by canning the fruit without peeling it. This procedure also improves the flavor of the final product. The method I follow is to run a knife around the peach, then place one hand on each half and give a slight twist. By this procedure the two halves are readily separated, leaving the pit adhering to one half. Then cut each half in half again which makes it very easy to remove the pit even from varieties that tend to be cling stone.

Agrologist: That sounds like a good idea. I notice that you are using wide mouth jars. Have you had any difficulty in getting these jars to seal?

Dick: No, I have devised a technique which gives almost 100 per cent success. The first essential is to avoid filling the jars too full. The hot syrup should be filled in only to the neck of the jar, leaving about half an inch headspace. Care should be taken to see that the top edge of the jar is clean and free from nicks. The lid should then be placed on squarely and secured by turning the screw band as tightly as possible. Furthermore, you will note that I am using three different makes of wide mouth jars, namely, Kerr Mason, Sure Seal and Dominion. These jars are almost identical and the same lids will give satisfactory results with all of them. However, the screw ring for the Kerr Mason jars does not make a good fit on the other two. Similarly, the screw bands for the Dominion and Sure Seal do not make a good fit on the Kerr Mason jars. If you will look closely you will note that the screw bands for Kerr Mason jars have a narrower phlange than the other two. Care should be taken to use the right kind of screw band on each kind of jar.

Agrologist: Do you tighten the jars again after you remove them from the boiler when they are cooked?

Dick: With this type of jar it is not desirable to tighten up the screw band after the jars are removed.

Agrologist: How do you tell when the jar is sealed?

Dick: The vacuum created in the jar when it cools causes the fruit to rise, leaving about half an inch of clear juice at the base.

Agrologist: Do you have any difficulty removing those screw bands?

Dick: No, I remove them as soon as the jars have cooled. The hands can be removed quite easily at this time but if you are foolish enough to leave them on until you wish to use the fruit, they will have become firmly stuck, making removal very difficult.

Agrologist: The information which you have given me indicates that Summerland housewives will be well advised to go off on a holiday and leave their husbands to work out the fine points of the canning operation. I am quite sure that Muriel Hurry will be very jealous of my column this week.

The Feminine Front

by MURIEL HURRY

General cross-sections of opinion have always interested me, and I think they do most people. I spent an interesting hour on Saturday morning when I walked from one end of the main street to the other, and asked each person I met his (or her) opinion of the proposed chlorination of the water supply in Summerland. Some of the answers were amusing, and all were interesting.

Apparently the recent outbreak of intestinal troubles was still fresh in the minds of several, and I think that this minor epidemic had a great deal to do with influencing the opinion of the general public in favor of the proposed chlorination.

As it was rather early on Saturday morning that I made my tour, the people I met were more or less familiar figures of the street, which fact will probably make the answers all the more interesting.

Dave Thompson, electrician: "I have read about the chlorination controversy at the coast, and many of the objections then were by people who did not realize the benefits which could be derived from the chlorination. Our reservoir here, to the best of my knowledge, has never in the 36 years I have lived in Summerland, been cleaned. In my opinion the water supply should be purified in some manner."

Bill Sherwood, grocery clerk: "I am entirely impartial. I do not think there would be any real benefit from the chlorination, but on the other hand it would not be harmful."

Mrs. B. Hankins, housewife: "If it would help matters any, it certainly ought to be done."

Bill Barnes, businessman: "I have drunk a great deal of chlorinated water during service years, and it certainly never hurt me. It is a good health measure."

W. Verrier, businessman: "I certainly think it ought to be done, even as a measure of cleanliness."

Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw, housewife: "It is a good idea for general health reasons."

George Milburn, of Toronto, who is spending the summer in Summerland: "Having drunk chlorinated water for years, I can find nothing wrong with it. Water in Toronto is really good, and has never done me any harm."

Jack Dunsdon, department store clerk: "I don't like the idea, as I dislike the taste, and I don't think it is necessary."

Eddie Hannah, taxi driver: "I think it is a gold-darned good idea. I am getting sick and tired of having a stomach ache. It will be the best thing the council has ever done."

Miss Evelyn Reid, telephone operator: "I haven't given the subject a great deal of consideration, but it sounds like a good idea."

Alex Watt, district horticulturist: "I think it is a very good idea, a precaution that should be taken."

Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh, doctor of medicine: "Absolutely all in favor of chlorination. There is no doubt in the world that if the water is chlorinated it is a certainty that it will not carry disease-forming organisms. Chlorination cannot do any harm, and I fail to see anyone's argument against it."

Mrs. Dave Turnbull, housewife: "All for anything that will improve matters."

Bill Laidlaw, businessman: "If it will do away with the danger of an epidemic, I am all for it."

Roy Angus, building inspector: "All in favor of doing it, providing it can be done at a reasonable cost."

Ken Boothe, businessman: "Wonderful idea."

It certainly seems that the general public, locally, favors the idea of chlorination, although many are a little nervous about the resultant taste. I have drunk chlorinated water in Vancouver, and have never noticed any difference in taste.

Dr. Vanderburgh explained that there are many people in Summerland who are at present chlorinating their own water supply at home. Three drops of Hygoc in a gallon of water is a good home method, he instructed, and will leave no noticeable taste.

ing car driven by Mrs. Hookham. No bones were broken but he was severely out and bruised. Not knowing in which direction the Turkington car was proceeding at an intersection, Wesley attempted to pass between the two cars on his bicycle.

Miss Allan, of the Vancouver General hospital, is the new matron of the Summerland hospital, replacing Mrs. Fletcher, who has gone to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott welcomed a baby girl at the Summerland hospital on Saturday.

Rold Johnston has purchased the Clouston property near the station.

Mrs. David Turnbull and sons, Arthur and David, were recent visitors to Kelowna, where they were guests at the home of Captain and Mrs. T. Standbridge. They were also visitors to Vernon for a short time.

Death claimed Premier John Oliver at 11:20 o'clock Wednesday night and removed from political life of B.C. one of the province's strongest and most cherished leaders. A state funeral will be held in Victoria on Friday. He was born at Hartington, Derbyshire, England, on July 31, 1856, and came to B.C. in May, 1877.

He first entered the legislature in 1900 as a supporter of the Martin party, but disagreed with his leader and in 1902 was elected as a free lance in opposition to the Dunsmuir administration. In 1918, at the death of Premier Brewster, he was chosen leader of the Liberal party and premier of B.C.

Two boys, Jackie Blewett and Thos. Birrell, Enderby, swam Okanagan lake from the CNR wharf here to the wharf at Naramata.

They took their boat to Agate Bay, near Naramata, loaded it with stones and endeavored to return. They ran into rough water and the boat filled but did not sink. STIMULATE OIL DEVELOPMENT

Designed to stimulate exploration and development of the province's oil resources, British Columbia's new Petroleum and Natural Gas Act became law last week, it is announced by Premier John Hart. The act was passed by the last session of the legislature, but was not proclaimed until this month, to allow time for changes in administrative machinery.

Dr. T. B. Williams, controller of the province's coal, petroleum and natural gas resources, stated that the new legislation will remove many of the impediments that have discouraged oil companies from carrying out extensive prospecting in the past, and will encourage big and small operators to go into the field.

The new act sets up a system of permits and licences, leading to leases for expansion of drilling, where preliminary operations prove successful.

Cents Make Dollars And Dollars Make Cents Says A. K. Loyd To Fruit Men

Under the heading "Cents Make Dollars, and Dollars Make Sense," A. K. Loyd, president and general manager of B.C. Tree Fruit Ltd., growers' central sales agency, has outlined some pertinent facts to both managers of packing houses and to growers themselves in a recent circular to shippers.

"There is no reason to disguise the well-known fact that shipping houses are naturally in a competitive position one with the other and it is the objective of each to show the best returns. This state of affairs is accentuated by the fact that in far too many cases growers are apt to judge the result of a shipping house operation entirely by the net returns and packing costs at the end of the season.

"From where we sit we cannot help noticing that very often the temptation to save a few cents—often a fraction of a cent—is yielded to at the expense of the product.

Ultimate Test

"We would earnestly like to enlist your support in avoiding this short-sighted policy and we will also guarantee, both through your own efforts and those of the B.C. FGA to persuade growers that the ultimate test of a good packing house and its operator is the return of properly handled fruit which is presented to the public at a reasonable but not hazardous cost.

"When we talk about a hazardous cost, we mean that the product is risked in order to cut handling charges, or, alternatively, that the product is received and packed with the knowledge that it is not in proper condition and may easily make a poor delivery on the market.

"The 'fat' years which we have enjoyed recently have induced a frame of mind in many quarters, and particularly amongst the growers themselves, where they have almost come to adopt it as a principle, that 'anything that is grown will find a market somewhere'.

"It is being proved in 1947 that this state of affairs is past, and that if, as in industry, we are to survive, we have to be not 'as good as a lot of other people', but 'better than any'. It is not too much to say that from already existing conditions, shoddy, second-rate or off-color goods will be mercilessly dealt with by the public.

Consumer Groups

"It will be the job of the sales agency to persuade the trade that their margins must be brought in line with the changing public viewpoint. All of us have read of the existence and continued organization of consumer groups, who are determined to boycott any products which appear to be excessively high priced. They are also in the mood to boycott goods which, in their opinion, have not given them value for the money.

"The worst mistake which could be made is to think that by reducing costs at the expense of the product, any real progress is being made. Sooner or later this procedure will boomerang, and with the tremendous crops which are now forthcoming from the Okanagan and Kootenay valleys, unless they command a premium appreciation by the public, the returns for what we are able to sell will be completely offset by surpluses which have been offered to and refused by an 'indifferent public'.

"There is no reason at all why we should turn our buyers into an 'indifferent public'. We have been able—due to many natural advantages and the skill of our industry generally—to present a product which is better. Not only in the Dominion, but in the United States and other countries, buyers have been taught to expect the best from British Columbia fruit.

Avoid Costly Claims

"The saving of a little money here and there by avoiding overtime, by delaying the operation of coolers, and by other methods, is not sensible, and will not pay dividends on the competitive market into which we are moving. As the buying trade, and the public generally, becomes more discriminating, products which have been moved to market under handicap will be rejected by the consumer, and will be the subject of increasingly heavy claims by the buyer.

"Such claims can, at one stroke, cancel and swamp completely the small savings that have been made by 'penny wise, pound foolish' methods.

"Put away those extra sharp pencils during the packing season. One can be prudent without being niggardly. Give the fruit all it is entitled to in the way of handling and storage protection, and it will be the most far-sighted and sensible program that can possibly be adopted for future years.

"The expenditure of a few more cents will make many more dollars, and many more dollars to the producer will make sense."

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Libidoff at the Summerland hospital on Monday, August 18.

Angry Fans Protest Call By Umpire As Rutland Wins Game

Was it caught or was it dropped?

That is the question which will be the subject of discussion around the hot-stove league for many a moon, following the exciting and dramatic finish to last Sunday's ball game at Crescent Beach when Johnny Lingor was ruled by Field Umpire Fraser to have caught a line drive by John Vanderburgh which ruined a ninth inning Summerland rally.

Rutland won the first of the best of three series last Sunday against Summerland Merchants 4-2, but it was the concluding inning which had all the fireworks.

The visitors had blanked the local Merchants until the ninth frame when two runs were scored and another runner was on the paths, with two down, Vanderburgh connected for a low drive over the infield. Lingor, who played a sensational game in the centre garden for Rutland, came in fast and made a dive for the ball.

Claim Never Caught
Fans who lined the field on the left side and who were in a good position to see the play, claim to a man that the ball bounced but that Lingor trapped it and made it appear as if he caught the horsehide.

Anyway, Fraser ruled that the ball was caught and that ended the ball game, except for half an hour of excited protest by local players and spectators alike who milled around the field, made threatening gestures towards Umpire Fraser and vociferously announced to all and sundry that: "We Wuz Robbed."

On the general play, Rutland should have won by a 2-0 score, as they nicked Bill Evans for twelve hits while Henry Wostradowski only yielded eight. The latter struck out nine Summerland batters while the best that Evans could do was four whiffs; all in the third and fourth frames;

Take Early Lead
The visitors jumped into a 1-0 lead which looked as big as a house later on. In the first frame, with two away, Lingor singled and Holisky bounded one to Walsh. The latter threw slightly wide of first base, where Vanderburgh got his glove on the ball, but the runner joggled him a bit and it went for an error, Henry Wostradowski scoring from third.

In the fifth, two more Rutland runs scampered across, all on hits which went between first and second. These were balls hit late by right handed batters who caught the infield out of position. Shishido walked, Kitsch singled and the former scored when Wostradowski hit one to short right field, Thompson picked up the ball and heaved it to Walsh who relayed it fast to Imayoshi who cut off Wostradowski trying to gain second base. Lingor singled to Kitsch and that ended the scoring.

Double plays in the fourth and fifth cut off Summerland scoring chances but the sixth provided some real excitement. With two on and two away, Rutland deliberately walked George Taylor to fill the bags, while the fans roared their disapproval in their usual style.

Has Big Opportunity
Jackie Walsh had a big moment and could have made a name for himself but Hank Wostradowski bore down hard and struck him out. Walsh had registered two hits in his two previous trips.

Rutland added another, in the seventh when Jackie Amm made a bad miscue at second, he having replaced Hankins in that position.

Going into the last half of the ninth, with the score 4-0 against them, the Merchants tightened their belts and dug in, Thompson was safe at first when Hickichi made a costly fumble. Imayoshi belted one to centre and Thompson landed on third sack, Evans connected for a high fly to centre and Thompson scored when the catcher fumbled the throw-in. Imayoshi scored on Kuroda's single and the fans were going wild.

Clark hit one to deep centre where Lingor gathered it in, and Vanderburgh lined out the drive which is still the talk of the town. With a reverse decision, the score would have been 4-3, with the tying run on the paths and George Taylor at bat.

On the offensive, Walsh was the best for Summerland, while Kitch, Wostradowski, Lingor and Hickichi did most of the damage for Rutland. Imayoshi shone on the infield, handling nine chances, while Lingor and Bullock were the best for Rutland.

Teen Town

By ALF

The big issue now, of course, is elections, which will be held at the next dance, which will take place this Saturday.

Nominations have been handed in for mayor and aldermen. Those elected will serve a part term until January as this is only a bye-election. Campaign managers of candidates will do everything in their power to get their various candidates in.

The reason for the bye-election is that Alf Kita, our present mayor, is leaving, and also Shirley Harvey, our present secretary. We all deeply regret that Alf and Shirley have to leave as they have both done a swell job in helping to bring Teen Town back on its feet.

The following have been nominated to fill the vacant positions: For mayor—Ray Moore, Carroll Brawner, Jack Dunham. For aldermen—J. B. Hack, Ruth Nesbitt, Ed Fleming, Gwen Lamacraft and Mary Ward.

Welcome to Canada

Ontario PREMIER GEORGE A. DREW, (right) is shown as he greeted the first group of British immigrants who arrived at Malton Airport, Toronto, recently. The Premier is welcoming MRS. GONDA BLOW, followed from the plane by her husband ERNEST, L. BLOW, of Southampton. Flights will be made regularly until the movement of 7,000 is completed.

Duck Season Shorter By One Month This Fall

As anticipated by hunters and game conservationists, a number of far reaching changes has been made in the regulations regarding migratory birds for the current year. In contrast with 1946, the season has been shortened by one month; the bag limit for ducks has been reduced to seven per day and 100 for the season. Hunting hours have also been altered.

In the Salmon Arm, North and South Okanagan, and part of the Similkameen districts the season for ducks, geese and coots is from Wednesday, October 1 to Friday, November 14. The season for Wilson's snipe is from Monday, September 1, to Tuesday, September 30. Last year, the ducks, geese and coots season was from October 1 to December 15.

The bag limits as set for any one day this season are: seven ducks; five geese (including black brant); 25 coots; eight Wilson's snipe—1946 bag limits per day were 12 ducks and five geese. The season limit for the current year is 100 ducks (compared to 125 last year); 25 geese; 150 coots and 50 Wilson's snipe. 14 ducks and 15 geese are allowed in possession at any time.

The shooting of migratory game birds earlier than sunrise or later than one hour after sunset is prohibited. In 1946, this regulation allowed no shooting earlier than a half hour before sunrise and later than a half hour after sunset. There is a closed season through out the year on elder ducks, wood ducks, swans, cranes, all the shore birds not provided with an open season and all migratory non-game and insectivorous birds. The possession of migratory game birds killed during the open season is allowed in British Columbia for three months after the close of the open season.

Pump, repeating or automatic (autoloading) shotguns must have the magazine permanently plugged or altered so that it cannot carry more than one shell. Forbidden weapons include swivel or machine guns, or battery or rifle, shotgun loaded with "single" bullet, any gun larger than a 10 gauge or any weapon other than a gun or a bow and arrow. The use of live birds as decoys, or of any airplane, power-boat, sail boat, or night light and shooting from any motor or wheeled vehicle to which a draught animal is attached also is banned. The hunting of migratory game birds by the use or aid of baiting with grain or other artificial food is prohibited.

The penalty for violation of the migratory bird laws is a fine of not more than $300 and not less than $10, or imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both fine and imprisonment.

SLIDE ON HIGHWAY

A slide has come down on No. 5 highway between the bottom of Peach Orchard hill and the packing house district but it is not of sufficient extent to impede traffic to any extent. Seepage water started to come down at this spot Aug. 17 weekend and on Wednesday mud was dislodged.

UPWA GAINS IN VALLEY HOUSES

KELOWNA—The United Packinghouse Workers of America (U.P.W.A.) are now government certified bargaining agents for all workers in the Okanagan Packers' Co-operative Union plant in Kelowna and in the Osoyoos Co-operative packing plant in Osoyoos, Frank McCarty, international representative of the union reported Wednesday.

Certification for the Osoyoos plant was received by the union in Kelowna about two weeks ago and for the Kelowna plant on Monday, he said.

Last Sunday a contract was concluded but not signed between the UPWA and Canadian Cannery (Western) Ltd. and negotiations are now in progress between the union and the Rowcliffe Canning Co. Ltd.

Basis of the contract with Canadian Cannery is (1) maintenance of membership in the union, (2) improvement of seniority provisions and (3) the bringing of wages into line with those paid for comparable work elsewhere in the area.

The department of labor is to rule on whether the existing contract at the Osoyoos plant is to be executed by the union or a new one negotiated.

Trench Mouth Not Rampant In Last War

Operation and disposition of a dental company in action in France was described to members of the Rotary Club of Summerland on Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex by Dr. L. A. Day, dental surgeon, who was a lieutenant-colonel in the Canadian Dental Corps during World War II.

Trench mouth, he contended, was kept at a much lower ebb in the last conflict than in World War I. When a dental officer was sent on detachment, every man in the unit was charted and if it was at all possible every man had his dental work cared for, with the worst cases given priority.

When the call came for the trip to France, Dr. Day declared that all officers out on detachment were gathered into company headquarters and every piece of equipment was labelled with a definite colored tag and numbered. These colors and numbers were for definite destinations and designations of boat loads, he explained.

In his company, there were forty vehicles, the heaviest of which weighed fifteen tons. The company was divided into two boats and the vehicles were loaded by means of huge slings.

On arriving at destination, the vehicles were unloaded by means of the same slings into L.C.T.'s and the company was directed to a marshalling area. From there they were despatched to the same units they were attached to in England.

In a matter of a few days, all dental officers were back with the units they had known before embarking for the scene of combat.

He declared that the Canadian Army aimed at one dental officer for every eight hundred men but the average actually was one to every eleven hundred or twelve hundred men, as there were not sufficient dental officers available.

Thanks of the Rotary club was tendered the speaker by Mel Ducommun.

MEN WHO MADE OKANAGAN HISTORY - Rev. Father CHARLES PANDOSY, P.M.I.

The Apple Tree that made $150,000,000

FATHER PANDOSY was no prophet. Little did he foresee that the first apple tree in the Okanagan, planted by his hands, was to be the foundation of the Valley's chief industry

In 1857 Father Pandosy was the first white man to settle on the east side of the Okanagan Lake at Mission Creek. Two years later he was joined by other Oblate Fathers of his Order. Versed in horticulture and medical science, Father Pandosy was the most outstanding figure at Okanagan Mission. He travelled mountain trails wherever his spiritual or medical duties called him, ministering to his people in 30 years of loving labor. Those whom he served have long since passed away, but the fruit trees planted nearly ninety years ago on the site of the Old Mission, still stand as his living memorial.

It's a far cry from the first planting of Okanagan apple trees to the millions of boxes now produced every year. In the course of thirty-eight years, Okanagan Investments Ltd. and Okanagan Trust Company established in Kelowna in 1909, have contributed in no small way to the success of the Okanagan fruit industry.

Now Flies From Khartoum Base

KELOWNA—Capt. Geoffrey Rennie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rennie, of North Street, is now living in Khartoum, Anglo-Egyptian-Sudan. After taking his pilot's and navigator's exams in London, England, with a class of which the British government passed only 9 per cent, he has accepted a post under contract with the Sudan government airways, with the rank of captain and the status of senior civil servant. He is flying one of the new de Havilland "Doves," and at present is engaged in mapping the desert preparing new routes for the service which the Sudan government is instituting, and which will reach out to points in Eritrea, Abyssinia and Egypt. Capt. Rennie has recently been joined by his wife, who flew out from England.

Kelowna City Council Is Unhappy Over Its Share Of School Board Costs

KELOWNA—An unhappy Kelowna City Council agreed that the ratepayers of the city should vote upon a school money bylaw as soon as possible, when the city representatives of School District No. 23 visited the council. While under the law there is nothing the city council can do but follow the requests of the school board, council members on Monday night definitely indicated that, while they were entirely in sympathy with the necessity of building a new school, they were not at all happy about the present school setup and the financial costs.

The school board has a building program for the coming year of $1,158,500.00 of which the provincial government pays fifty per cent. To raise the balance bylaws will be submitted in the rural areas and the three municipalities, Kelowna, Peachland and Glenmore. The rural areas will vote, it is expected, on September 8th, while the municipalities will vote on a later date. The bond issues, if the bylaws pass, will be 20-year serials at three per cent.

ratepayers. No criticism of the work of the board is intended." Mr. Hume pointed out that the percentage figures may change from year to year as the assessments in the various units of the district are altered.

He expressed the opinion that the rural percentage would increase materially when the recently appointed government committee gets through its work of equalizing assessments. With the increase in rural area assessments, those areas would bear a greater proportion of the costs of education, he said.

"The statement that the city of Kelowna is bearing 50.27 per cent of the cost of education is not correct," G. Mervyn, one of the Kelowna representatives on the board of School District No. 23, told the Courier.

G. C. Hume, chairman of the school board, acted as spokesman for the delegation and urged that the vote on the bylaw be taken as soon as possible.

Replying, His Worship stated there was little the Council could do but follow the board's instructions. However, he did feel it was his duty as head of the City of Kelowna to point out to the ratepayers that the city is bearing more than its proper share of the costs of the district's education under the present scheme. In his opinion the city would be further ahead to be on its own and outside the present school district.

While Kelowna will only vote on a bylaw for $95,000.00 its actual contribution to the building costs is $291,700 which is 50.27 per cent of the amount to be raised by the whole district.

Regardless of the money Kelowna raises, it will repay, on this year's basis, 50.27 per cent of the costs, as each year the amount necessary for the school board's sinking fund and other expenses will be proportioned out to the various units on a proportional basis, based on assessments.

He estimated that Kelowna is paying eleven per cent more of the school costs than it should.

For school purposes, assessments are based on one hundred per cent of the land and seventy-five per cent of the improvements. This makes the city assessment $8,738,861, while the outside areas, including Glenmore and Peachland, are $6,664,660. The percentage figures are 50.27 for Kelowna and 49.73 for outside the city.

"On July 31st, there were 1,724 pupils in city schools and 1,581 in other schools in the district, making a total of 3,305 in the district. But in the city schools there were 425 who lived outside the city, leaving 1,299 from the city. In other words 39 per cent of the pupils come from the city, while 61 per cent come from the rural area, while the city pays over 50 per cent of the cost.

There are 98 teachers in the district, 50 being in the city and 48 outside.

His Worship emphasized that his remarks were in no way a criticism of the board, itself, but rather of the present school system. "You have a very difficult task," he said, "and I know you are doing it to the best of your ability. It is no fault of yours that this situation has arisen."

"The council recognizes that a new school is a necessity in the city, and steps were taken two years ago to provide one. As you know a money bylaw was actually passed. However, the present financial setup is so unfair to the city, that I feel it should be brought to the attention of the

Mr. Mervyn was speaking on behalf of the school board and was referring to a statement that has been used frequently during the past few days in discussions on school board matters.

"The use of the figure of 50.27 per cent arose," Mr. Mervyn stated, "from the fact that in the division of the building program costs among the district's units, it so happened that the city's share of the proposed bond issues was 50.27 per cent. This percentage was worked out on an assessment basis.

However, the city actually only pays 46 per cent of the current educational costs. That is, in 1947, of the costs of education for the whole district, Kelowna pays 46 per cent, the unorganized areas 49 per cent, Peachland 3 and Glenmore 2 per cent. The current year's school taxes are based on 1946 assessments, while the bond issue was calculated on 1947 assessments.

ENGINEERS ARE NOW REMAINING IN THIS COUNTRY

Only one of the 1947 class of mining engineers from Canadian universities left this country for the United States, a survey by the Canadian Metal Mining association shows.

Though this year's class of 54 from eight universities and mining schools is the largest in many years, 1948 will see graduates nearly doubled to a total of 97. Of this year's graduates 50% are veterans, the survey revealed.

"For one profession, at least, it is evident that opportunities in Canada are attractive enough to prevent a drain of technical talent to the United States," commented J. G. McCrea, president of the association. "No other country is more dependent on mining for its future than Canada, and mining engineers are essential to that development."

"Canadian mining engineers, thanks to our universities and mining schools are second to none," he said. "For that reason some leave Canada, temporarily, for work in South Africa, or with Canadian mining companies abroad, but most of them return to Canada."

It was a Canadian who tapped the rich placers of New Guinea and solved the problem of transportation in a country where no roads to the area existed. It was a Canadian who found and developed the new rich diamond field of Tanganika. Canadians may be found in many of the mines of the Rand.

"As in all professions," said Mr. McCrea, "mining engineering is becoming more and more specialized. There are four general fields of specialization open to a mining engineer after his preliminary training. He may work up through the production side to a mine supervisory position. He may decide to specialize in prospecting and developing, and for this field will probably return to university for his doctor's degree in one of the branches of geology. A few will specialize in ore dressing or milling practice which may require university study. Or he may choose one of the other purely technical fields of mine surveying, design, mine safety or ventilation."

The following Canadian universities graduate mining engineers. The 1947 figures are given after each with the expected graduates for 1948 in brackets. Nova Scotia Technical College 4 (12); Laval University, Quebec 2 (6); Ecole Polytechnique, Montreal 6 (7); McGill 5 (6); Queen's 18 (21); Toronto 7 (18); Alberta 8 (20); British Columbia 4 (13).

THRILLED AT WINNING
VERNON—"It's just wonderful—marvelous," says Mrs. J. T. Fowle, jubilantly toasting the superlatives around since she was announced winner of the new 1947 Mercury automobile at the Vernon-Frontier Days windup dance.

Dr. T. B. Williams, who is directing resources surveys along the route of the proposed extension of the Pacific Great Eastern railway, returned to the Hazelton Creek area this week to supervise the expansion of the season's exploratory work. Since early summer these survey parties and bulldozer and diamond drilling teams have been operating in the field.

SEPTEMBER 14 IS DATE FOR ROTARY TRIP

Sunday, September 14, is the date set for the annual treat which the Rotary Club of Summerland is tendering to the pupils of Grade XII of Summerland high school. A dozen Rotarians indicated they wished to take their cars on this trip, which will provide an ample means of transportation for the school students.

Destination will be, as last year, Grand Coulee dam, a visit which will prove a great educational value to the students, as well as providing an entertaining trip. Guests welcomed by President C. J. Bleasdale at last Friday's Rotary meeting included G. Cormie, Edmonton; Anderson, Campbell River; and Allen Bent and William Fletcher, of Penticton.

CFA DIRECTORS TO HOLD OPEN SESSION SEPT. 23

When the Canadian Federation of Agriculture directors gather in Kelowna from September 23 to 25, the first and third days will be devoted to their own sessions, but the meetings on Wednesday, September 24, will be open, declares C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture. President Hannam has recommended that resolutions of inter-provincial, national or international importance should be submitted and discussed on Wednesday.

All growers will be welcome to attend the Wednesday meeting, Mr. Hayden declares.

This is the first time in history that a directors' meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture has ever been held in the Okanagan and it is expected that more than 25 of the most prominent Canadian agriculturists will be present for these important sessions.

DIG BEST CALF

SALMON ARM—A young beef calf that weighed almost as much as a small cow was raised by A. Bouchard, of Cenos, this summer. The calf was exactly three months old when slaughtered. It weighed 460 pounds dressed and netted Mr. Bouchard the tidy sum of $87.40.

CARNIVAL

Thompson to give out an extra prize in each class.

There were fourteen entries in the under five class, with Wayne McCarger taking first prize, Lynn Boothe second, Warren Gould third and Beverley Bulloch fourth. Eighteen youngsters competed for the over five class with Dianna Wildman winning the competition, Leonard Burden second, Bonnie Wilson third and Bill Dunsdon fourth.

Reeve W. R. Powell, Mrs. A. K. Elliott and Ed Britton were the judges who had a difficult task in making their decisions.

Under five: Bill Kersey, Jo-Anne Hill, Louise Shannon, Keith Skinner, Douglas Laidlaw, Victor Blewett, Lennie Hill, Tommy Brennon, Robert Hannah, Teddy Burden.

Bathing Beauties

As soon as the pet parade was concluded, Bingo was commenced and a big play was recorded all evening.

At eight o'clock sharp, the bathing beauty contest, arranged by Teen Town under the sponsorship of the Legion W.A. committee headed by Mrs. E. H. Robson and assisted by Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, commenced.

Seven teen-aged lovelies paraded slowly across a raised platform and stood before the large and admiring crowd.

Miss Ruth Nesbitt was judged the winner of this contest, with Miss Olive Mason being awarded second prize. They obtained gift certificates donated by Hill's Ladies' Wear and the Linnea Style Shop. These gifts were presented by last year's Beauty Contest winner, Mrs. Joan Walker, nee Nisbet.

Judges for this contest were Mrs. A. J. Mann, Mr. J. H. Lee-Grayson and Mr. J. Muirhead.

Others who participated and whose marks were extremely close to the winners were Misses Jean Bryden, Marcia Harvey, Julia Hack, Beverley Fleming and Shirley Harvey.

Other games were commenced at the conclusion of the beauty show including a ball shy, a new concession for the street carnival.

Other Contests

Legion W.A. members sold cider, coffee, hot dogs and vegetables to swell the coffers of the fund. There were a number of contests staged by the W.A. which intrigued the crowd. The bean guessing contest went to "Kil" Muirhead, who guessed that there were 1,367 beans in the jar. He was nearest to the correct number, which was 1384.

However, the cake weight guessing contest was not so easy. In fact, four persons each obtained a quarter of the cake which actually weighed six pounds, 12 ounces.

Paddy Borton and Mrs. Frank Settle each guessed the weight at six pounds thirteen ounces while Mrs. W. Milne and Mr. Johanson guessed six pounds eleven ounces.

In the draw for the pair of blankets, Mr. W. J. May held the winning ticket.
