Federal By-Election

Progressive-Conservatives in Yale riding sounded the first official bombardment in the forthcoming election contest to choose a successor to Hon. Grote Stirling, as member for this constituency, when they selected W. A. C. Bennett, of Kelowna, as their standard bearer.

It is not known when this by-election will be held, as Ottawa has made no official pronouncement. A member must be selected within six months of the retirement of the member.

Politicians in the Okanagan believe that the by-election will be undertaken within a short time, although the prime minister's announcement last week that the next session of parliament will commence on December 5, hardly gives sufficient time for a new member to be elected by that date.

Yale Liberals are to choose their candidate at Penticton next week and it is presumed that the CCF party will not be long in seeking their choice for this election.

This by-election not only concerns Yale riding but will have a national tinge. The Conservatives have held this riding for more than thirty years, and the Progressive-Conservatives under John Bracken will leave no stone unturned to return a Tory to Parliament Hill.

Since 1935, the CCF party has come to the fore as the main threat to the Conservative member. It is conceded that Hon. Grote Stirling's own personality, recognized integrity and honesty of purpose were among the main factors in his continued success at the polls.

His Tory successor, W. A. C. Bennett, has established himself in South Okanagan provincial riding as a man who favors coalition. He has been one of the chief proponents of coalition thought in a coalition government which many think will not be able to continue now that Premier John Hart is retiring as leader.

Mr. Bennett, in the face of criticism from his own party members, has shown a fearless attitude in his stand on coalition. By his stand, he has displayed a courage to think for himself apart from party ties. Such courage does not endear him to strictly party men but raises him in the eyes of those who do not adhere strictly to the party line.

The Progressive-Conservative candidate has a good start on any other candidates to be chosen from this constituency as he has had experience in political procedure through his tenure of office at Victoria. He is probably the most dangerous opponent the Tories could have pitted against the Liberal and CCF choices.

Poppy And Remembrance Day

"To honor the dead by helping the living."

Such is the ideal of Poppy Day, which will be held in Summerland this Saturday, November 8, just prior to Remembrance Day, Tuesday, November 11.

Volunteer workers will assist in the sale of poppies on Saturday, and the appeal will be: "Buy a Poppy". Those who answer this appeal will not only be honoring those who paid the supreme sacrifice in two world wars, but they will be contributing literally to the relief and welfare of needy and disabled veterans of these conflicts, their dependents, and to the widows and orphans of our war dead.

First, we wear the poppy once a year to express the feeling of reverence which is always in our hearts for the men who died for Canada. The poppy is their flower. It grew over many of their graves—the one touch of beauty and life in a region of destruction and death.

Second, we wear the poppy to help lighten the burden for those who are still undergoing sufferings and hardships because of the wars, the disabled veterans and the families of the disabled and the dead. Making the flowers gives employment to many men who otherwise would be unable to earn anything towards the support of their families.

Funds derived from the poppy sale constitute the largest source of revenue for the rehabilitation and welfare work of the Canadian Legion. Poppy Day is the one day when the public is privileged to contribute towards this great work.

The need for the relief work, which the poppy funds make possible, has grown greater each year. Pensioners, despite the trememory die

Of valiant sons in far-

With gallant hearts themselves they gave,
In air, on land and sea,
And stood on guard,
O Canada, that still thou might be free.
O Canada, thy destiny
Was sealed by those who died on guard

By those who, nobly daring, died for thee.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

November 2, 1917

A. E. Sharp, of Shuswap, has been appointed CPR agent here. The long-pending case of the Okanagan Telephone Co. vs the Summerland Telephone Co., was heard at the Vernon assizes this week but was adjourned to December 5. Suit for $4,000 was brought by the plaintiff for alleged damage to its local system by the removal of poles in Garnett Valley. About four miles of line is involved.

Poultry are being added to the experimental station and already one hundred White Wyandottes have been ordered from Sidney. Thirty carloads of apples a week are being shipped from the CPR wharf, and every available person is busily employed endeavoring to harvest the apple crop.

Liberals and Conservatives met in convention on Wednesday and selected Hon. Martin Burrell, secretary of state and minister of mines, as their choice as candidate in a "win-the-war" election. J. A. McKelvie, Vernon, was named president of the newly-formed Liberal-Conservative Assn. of Yale.

Eleven prizes out of twelve entries were won by the Associated Growers for apple exhibits at the Imperial Fruit Show in Manchester, England. These prizes were six first and five seconds in the six classes entered. The Occidental Growers took one second prize and four thirds.

In order to obtain more water for their system Trout Creek water users sent Magnus Tait and S. A. Liddell up to Bear Creek and then up an unnamed creek and they have marked out a storage site.

Charles Augustus Semlin, a former premier of B.C. and a man who was first elected to the provincial house in 1871, died at Ashcroft at the age of 91.

Formation of a quarantine district, with attempts being made to supply needed areas with spray equipment, is being advocated by the committee set up a year ago to study the codling moth situation. A codling moth worm was discovered last week in Mrs. Orr's orchard on the east side of Giant's Head.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gayton are motoring in from the coast to take up residence here again.

First frost of the fall was registered on October 31, with two degrees.

Revival of the old favorite, HMS Pinafore is being planned by the operatic society.

Of course you are all up to your ears getting parcels ready to send off to your overseas friends in time for Christmas. And by the way, isn't it amazing how the list has grown since hubby was over there?

And naturally you think there are certain items which you should send, and some you should not. But I have it straight from the mouth of a young Scot who's just landed in Canada, that if you DON'T send bouillon cubes, or cheese, or oxtails, or powdered milk, or juices, or tinned soups, or custard, or apple flakes, you'll save a lot of disappointment, money and valuable shipping space.

AND if you DO send candied peel, and Christmas cake decorations, and minced meats, and canned salmon, three-pound boxes of white flour, any sugar you can spare, jam, butter, WASHINGTON (not laundry) soap, and canned chicken (sans too much jelly), they'll love you forever and a day!

These chilly nights are enough to make a bachelor girl give serious thought to marriage. However, it's only cold for about five months in the year. BUT you would have to wash dirty socks for the whole 365 days! Maybe a pair of bedsocks would be the answer to the maiden's prayer.

Some say yes, and some say no. But I say DO sneak a smattering of garlic into everything you can, from a salad to a stew. That way everybody gets that same whiff to their breath, and believe you me, food is changed to ambrosia by just the merest rubbing of the garlic clove on the cooking pan, or salad bowl.

You know, by munching on a sprig of garlic, you can make that smell disappear anyway. While the taste lingers on inside.

Some day when you're mashing your potatoes, grate some carrot into them (raw). Pretty, that's what. And tempting to jaded appetites.

When you're prettying yourself up for dinner, don't neglect to dab a speck of rouge on your chin. Yes. Does things to your eyes. Imagine!

A man who should know about such things, has expressed the belief that women are here to stay.

I see the women in England are not allowed to have longer skirts. But my last quarter says they will. There are limits to just how far man-made laws can go.

mendous rise in cost of living, have not had an increase in pensions for twenty-five years

When you buy a poppy think of the disabled veteran in a workshop fashioning the little blood-red flower.

Think of the fatherless family whose struggles, during the coming year, will be lightened by the coin you drop into the poppy workers' box.

Think of the brave Canadian boys who lie in far-flung fields.

Think of these things and you will understand the true significance of the poppy.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

I arrived at the Fruit Products Laboratory at a most opportune moment; there was a farewell party in progress. This party was being held in honor of Marion Casselman who was on the point of leaving for Ottawa. Marion is actually on the staff of the consumers section of the Dominion Marketing Service. Being a native of Vancouver she naturally welcomes any opportunity to return to British Columbia.

While the party was, on the surface, quite a gay one, I detected an undercurrent of sadness at the prospective departure of this popular young lady. Her cheerful smile and pleasant disposition have evidently endeared her to her fellow workers.

While Marion's headquarters are at Ottawa she has spent the past two summers in the Summerland Fruit Products Laboratory co-operating with the local staff on methods of preserving fruits and vegetables by freezing. The results of this work are made available to housewives as well as commercial processors through the medium of bulletins. Thus, those who are interested in preserving fruit and vegetables by the frozen pack method can now secure reliable information as to how the job should be done.

Another field of work in which Marion has been active is the making of frozen desserts from fruit purees—which is the technical name for thick juices. As every apricot grower knows, the full quality of apricots is only achieved when the fruits are allowed to remain on the tree until they are fully mature. At this stage they are too ripe for fresh shipment but can be used for making purees. Delicious frozen desserts can be made from these purees. However, the most satisfactory results are secured when small amounts of such materials as gelatine and pectin are added to the juices before they are frozen. In order to determine just the right combination of these materials, Marion made up innumerable batches of so called "Velva" fruit this summer.

Marion co-operated in another project wherein the sampling of the resulting products was not nearly so pleasant as the sampling of Velva fruit desserts. This project was designed to ascertain the effect of Gammexane sprays on the flavor of fruit. Readers of this column may remember that Gammexane is a powerful new insecticide which is very effective in wireworm control. It is also very lethal to many fruit insects.

However, in addition to having a violent odor it has a tendency to impart undesirable flavors to fruits which are sprayed with it. It was Marion's unenviable job to cook and sample several hundred lots of peaches, pears, prunes and apples which had been sprayed with Gammexane at various times and at various strengths. I was offered one of those samples to eat; it had such a vile flavor that although I spit it out immediately, the taste lingered in my mouth for the rest of the afternoon.

Most assuredly, Marion earned her pay while she was doing this Gammexane job and I sincerely hope that Jimmie Marshall and his associates are duly appreciative of the careful and unflinching manner in which she carried out the work.

Everyone in the fruit products laboratory looks forward to Marion's return next spring. They are confident that she will find some very good reason for returning to God's Country—the Okanagan Valley.

Summerland Men Head New Baptist Valley Group

PENTICTON—An association of Baptist churches in the Okanagan was brought into being at a session held in the Penticton Baptist church on Tuesday of last week.

Representatives of seven valley congregations, numbering some 50 delegates attended the afternoon and evening functions at Penticton. About 75 persons, in all, attended the gathering.

The church at Vernon, First Baptist and Grace Baptist at Kelowna, those at Peachland, West Summerland, Kaleden and Penticton are included in the new group. Object of it is stated to be inspiration and fellowship.

The delegates met in the afternoon, first, and, following a "picnic" supper at the church assembly room, again in the evening. Rev. T. T. Gibson of Vernon was chairman.

In the election of officers, Rev. F. W. Haskins, of West Summerland, was elected president, and Roy Wellwood, of the same congregation named secretary-treasurer. The remainder of the executive will comprise one representative of each church, plus a representative of the Women's Missionary Society. Meetings will be held in the fall and spring of each year.

VERNON IS FIRST IN SEEKING NEW RENTAL HOUSING

VERNON—Vernon will probably be the first centre in British Columbia to secure a rental housing under terms of the new Dominion-Municipal agreement announced in Vancouver less than a month ago by the Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of reconstruction.

Preliminary negotiations looking to acquisition for Vernon of 100 of these dwelling units were taken last week in a series of conferences and meetings between Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the city council and civic officials, and representatives of the board of trade and the Canadian Legion.

The principle that this city should provide a unit of such houses to relieve terribly overcrowded and congested conditions that have existed since establishment of the military camp area in 1940 has been recognized by the city council, which must make the agreement with the government corporation.

Every effort will be made to have construction started before freeze-up so that work will proceed through the winter months. Selected as site for these homes is the tract of land situated in the northeastern part of Vernon. Some lots are in the block bounded by Sherbourne and Connaught and on the north side are additional lots.

Conducting negotiations on behalf of Central Mortgage is D. H. Back, of Vancouver, assistant regional supervisor for the corporation, who praised the site allocated by the council as being "excellent."

Mr. Back told the gathering that Vernon's preliminary enquiry for the new deal in government-built housing was the first such application made in British Columbia since Mr. Howe had announced the terms in a Vancouver address. "With luck," he declared, "a start might be made in six weeks."

Everyman Theatre To Present 3-Act Comedy This Month

The Everyman Theatre, western Canada's only touring Repertory Company will pay a return visit to Summerland on Wednesday, November 19, when they will present George Bernard Shaw's three-act comedy, "Arms and the Man", in Ellison hall. The performance will be sponsored by the Singers' and Players' club.

The Everyman Theatre was organized a year ago by Mr. Sydney Risk of Vancouver. Last season the company toured western Canada from Victoria to Winnipeg for five months, with two plays, "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Last Caveman". Both plays were presented in Summerland last season.

This year the group is making its permanent headquarters in Vancouver, conducting several tours, during the year, of the Okanagan, Vancouver, Island and the Fraser Valley. At the end of January the company will open an extended Vancouver season in its own theatre at Little Mountain in Vancouver.

Through the cooperation of the University of British Columbia The Everyman Theatre has obtained the use of three former army buildings at Little Mountain. One of these is the company's living quarters, one a workshop, and the other is being converted into a fully modern theatre.

When the Vancouver season opens the group will have in its repertory, besides the three aforementioned plays, Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night", Ibsen's "A Doll's House", and a new Canadian play by Lister Sinclair, "One John Smith". A program of one-act plays is also planned by the company's studio group in training.

Through the close cooperation of the provincial department of education and all schools, the theatre hopes this year to play a great many special school matinees in schools throughout the province. The aim of The Everyman Theatre is to establish a professional Canadian theatre of a high standard, and to encourage and give an opportunity to Canadian actors, playwrights and audiences.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young, Mrs. Bonnik, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Gerhart and daughter Marcia of Melville, Sask., were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Young.

Last meeting was well attended, there being 26 present including four new boys. The troop still has openings for 6 recruits. At the recent Court of Honor meeting it was decided that the Buffalo patrol be temporarily disbanded to fill up other patrols. New appointments are Mel Mitchell as second of the Beavers and Vic Smith as P/L, and Glen Younghusband as second of the Hawks. All appointments are acting ranks for two months to enable the boys to prove their ability to hold the rank.

A number of Scouts lack only signalling to complete their second class badges. The troop is fortunate in having a former King Scout of the troop, David Collins, to supervise training and tests in signalling. There will be an opportunity for those needing signalling instruction to practice at each meeting.

It has been the practice for a number of years for Scouts to assist their sponsors, the Legion, by selling poppies on the Saturday, preceding Remembrance Day, Nov. 11. Twenty Scouts will be required and full details will be given at Friday's meeting. The troop will also parade as usual, with the Legion to the Cenotaph service on Remembrance Day. It is hoped that as many Scouts will have a complete uniform as possible, for the occasion.

Notices: Next meeting, Friday, Nov. 7 in school gym. Full uniform with long or short pants optional. In order to play games all boys must have rubber-soled shoes or sneakers. The hike will have to be delayed a week on account of Poppy Day. Orderly patrol, Beavers. Let's have a hundred percent turnout.

Mental Hospital To Be Established At Vernon Camp

VERNON—Establishment of a mental hospital in Vernon will mean about $200,000 new business annually in this city, said Mayor David Howie, in discussing the provincial government's decision to use the military hospital for this purpose. A. C. Dean, of the office of the provincial secretary, was in Vernon recently and, according to Mayor Howie, he said the institution would do all its purchasing from local wholesale and retail houses.

"No violent cases are to come up here, Mr. Dean assured me," said Mayor Howie. The intention is to provide accommodation for feeble-minded and older patients.

The province has purchased from War Assets the 200-bed hospital and two other buildings in the block of land just southeast of the Vernon Jubilee hospital site. It is understood that the buildings were sold for eight percent of the original cost. Extensive alterations, both inside and out, will be begun as soon as possible, with contracts being issued locally.

A staff of about 85 will be required at the hospital. The two extra buildings on the site probably will be used to accommodate them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bettoni and children and Mrs. L. Bartolo have returned from "Kaituma" after a

The history of scientific agriculture is one of ever-increasing mastery over the forces of nature. Now comes dehydrated grass, sweeping away another barrier to better, more abundant food production.
Young, fast-growing grasses have long been recognized as nature's finest food for livestock. Modern dehydration preserves the full potency of this food for year-round livestock feeding.
In Canada, British Columbia has taken the lead with the first large-scale dehydrated grass operation. Occupying 2500 acres in the fertile Sumas Lake region, Buckersfield's Vita-Gras farm grows, cuts and dehydrates successive grass crops over a period of seven months in the year. To Canadian agriculture it has given a new stimulus to production through improved livestock rations; to British Columbia a new and permanent basis based on the soil.

Peachland United Church Marks 36th Anniversary

PEACHLAND—Sunday, November 2, marked the 36th anniversary of the United church in Peachland and for the morning service; the pulpit was taken by Rev. H. R. Whitmore, of Summerland. Rev. H. S. MacDonald, the Peachland United minister, took the service at St. Andrew's in West Summerland.

Also to mark this occasion, the Westbank choir joined with the Peachland choir, with Miss G. Reece as soloist.

Beautiful floral decorations were provided from the garden of Mrs. Jack Cameron.

The dance staged by the Peachland Students' Council on October 31 was well attended and several musical numbers by the "Kids Orchestra" were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Jack White of Penticton visited Peachland last week at the Vic Jones' home. She was joined at the weekend by Mr. White and they returned home on Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Jones, who is spending a few days there.

The Halloween party for the Peachland children under fourteen years of age, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Assn. was held in the Athletic hall. Nearly all the children wore costumes, both fancy and comic. Games were played and a bountiful lunch provided for everyone present. It was voted a decided success.

Mrs. Nancy Wright, Mrs. Bartee, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Witt, Col. St. John and Peter, and Mrs. E. Pierce were among those attending the Christian Science lecture given by Arthur C. Whitney, of Chicago, Ill., on Sunday at Kelowna.

Mrs. Elizabeth St. John is visiting in Victoria and Vancouver for two weeks.

Spray Committee Recommendations Ready Tomorrow

Today in Kelowna the annual convention of the Okanagan Spray Committee is going into its second day's discussion of results of last season's spray work and expectations for the coming season. Tomorrow the spray committee meets with commercial spray company representatives to give them the results of their findings.

Control of European red mite and Pacific mite are expected to be among the main topics under discussion, as these two pests proved the greatest detriment to the Okanagan fruit crop in the 1947 production season.

The sessions opened in Kelowna on Wednesday.

Among the Summerland leaders in pest control who are attending these sessions are:

DON AGUR IS RE-ELECTED PREXY OF SKI CLUB

Don Agur, was re-elected president when the annual meeting of the Summerland Ski club was held on Monday evening in the Nu-Way annex. Most of last year's officers were re-elected to their posts.

It is planned to institute a work party on November 16 to finish the cabin, put the tow in shape for the winter, and complete the re-building of the downhill run. This hill will be made wider and steeper, the meeting was informed.

President Agur, Walter Powell and Phil Monro will be sent to Silver Star in December to participate in the instructors' course under the direction of Peter Vadja. Alternative member of this party is Gordon Mountford.

The annual ski club dance date was set for Friday, December 5. Other officers elected at the annual meeting were:

Vice-president, Bill Snow; secretary, Miss Dorothy MacDonald; treasurer, Bill Laidlaw; hill captain, Phil Monro; sports committee chairman, Walter Powell; school representative, Bob Weitzel; social committee, chairman, Miss Margaret Smith, Doris Cris-tante and Barbara Munn.

At the Summerland hospital, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Henry on Wednesday, October 29.

POSTPONE COUNCIL SESSION NEW TAX RECORD

As the school taxation commission is holding its session in Penticton on Monday, November 10, the regular council meeting scheduled for that date has been postponed until Thursday, November 13.

KELOWNA—City tax collections set an all-time record this year, when 98.22 per cent of taxes were collected by the city assessor. The previous high was in 1945 when collections equalled 97.955 per cent of the tax levy.

Pave 300 Miles In Province By End of Year

Nearly 300 miles of highway have been paved during the past season, with still more mileage to come, states Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works.

Out of the 297 miles already completed, 125 miles are of hot plant mix of the asphalt type and machine laid; 40 miles are of road mix; 50 miles are of double surface treatment, and 82 miles are of single seal coat.

The use of mechanical finishing machines has resulted in a much superior pavement than was heretofore possible.

In all, eight different contracting firms were employed in these projects, but due to delays in delivery of equipment they were in some cases unable to make as early a start as was intended. Most of the contracts, however, will be completed this fall so that the mileage is expected to exceed the 300 miles.

Reid Johnston Wields Hammer

Second annual auction of the Rotary Club of Summerland is projected for Saturday, November 22, in the Oddfellows' hall, with Reid Johnston wielding the hammer, the Friday meeting of the club was informed.

Last year a large group attended this affair and purchased articles, literally from soup to nuts. All proceeds from the auction will be devoted to community work, Rotarian President C. J. Bleasdale stresses.

In the meantime, Rotarians are busy trying to gather a variegated list of articles for disposal on the big evening. They are soliciting donations of articles of all kinds and they are not too particular what they offer on the auction block.

REVISE VOTERS' LIST

Court of revision of the voters' list will be held on Saturday, November 15 at 10 a.m. with the reeve and councillors Bentley and Atkinson as members, the council agreed on Monday.

The $64 Question: Where is This Town?

Where is Summerland?

If any board of trade members are lurking in the vicinity their ears are going to be slightly pink.

Last week, Frank Read happened to meet a former acquaintance from Saskatchewan, at the bus station. Enquiring where the friend was headed, the reply was: Summerland.

Frank wasn't thinking very fast and didn't make any comment when his acquaintance boarded the bus and went on his way.

But the next day, when he met his friend on the street again, said friend was very angry, indeed.

"Why didn't you tell me I was in Summerland, instead of going on to Penticton?" the visiting friend demanded of Mr. Read. And Mr. Read had to admit that he wasn't thinking very fast.

But in fairness to the board of trade, the Saskatchewan man should have noticed the welcome sign at the entrance to the community, or the road signs along the way. And he could have asked the bus driver when he would reach his destination.

PEACH FESTIVAL GAINS IN FAVOR

PENTICTON—The joint service club central committee is planning a return to the Peach Festival idea.

This emerged from the first official meeting of the new group. As yet the idea is only in the "suggestion" stage, but it superseded talk of a Dominion Day celebration almost entirely.

Neil McKerracher was unanimous choice as chairman of the new group, with A. J. Tough, vice-chairman, Walter Beckwall, secretary, and E. Gibbs, treasurer.

Club representatives attending the gathering were as follows: Rotary, Neil McKerracher, W. Fletcher, Harold Davies, Gyro E. Gibbs, A. J. Tough, W. "Pete" Watson, Kiwanis, H. W. Black, Kinsmen, Gerry Ritchie, Walter Beckwall, Ted Moore.

EXPLORATION IS CONTINUING AT HIGHLAND SILVER

Exploration work has been carried on vigorously at the Wallace Mountain properties of Highland Silver Mines Ltd. during 1947 and it is now proposed to continue work during the coming winter under the direction of B. I. Nesbitt, consulting geological engineer.

First exploratory work was done on veins which are easily accessible even during the winter. The work consisted of extensive diamond drilling and tunneling which succeeded in finding high grade though discontinuous mineralization of minable width. Ore broken while drifting has been saved and is stored in the ore-bin awaiting shipment. A representative sample sent to the smelter at Trail by D. Fairbairn, resident engineer, gave a net return of $117.08 per ton, and a gross of $134.89.

At a meeting of the board of directors held at the mine camp in September, it was decided to continue work on interesting possibilities of the Buster vein; for several months before returning to the Rambler veins. Present at the meeting were: A. Basham, president; Dr. W. A. Rutledge, J. E. Patterson; directors: L. R. Stephens, secretary; B. I. Nesbitt, consulting engineer, and D. Fairbairn, resident engineer. Other directors include the Hon. Frank Putnam, A. C. Lander and J. E. Eades.

Folks keep asking about those new Chevron signs

And those questions are music to our ears—because we want you to know all about 'em. You see, lots of people appreciate the careful, friendly service they get at independent stations but they don't always know they are locally-owned. So those new Chevron Signs and the distinctive burgundy, cream and green paint jobs on our stations mean that we're independent business-men in the community.

It's mighty important to us that our customers get the finest—so you can be sure we'll continue to handle products like Chevron Supreme Gasoline and RPM Motor Oil. Our services and accessories will be the same high quality, too.

Chevron Gas Stations always honor Standard of B.C. Credit Cards, too. If you haven't applied for one yet, we'll be glad to take your application at any time.

REMEMBER...the same products, the same service, the same folks to serve you

Winn Is Chairman Of Dispute Board

PENTICTON—Members of the board of conciliation appointed under Bill 39 to hear a dispute between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the municipality, over a question of wages, have been named by the provincial government.

Chairman of the board is E. S. H. Winn, K.C., and other members are T. Uphill, M.L.A. representing the union, and W. R. Kinsman, representing the municipality.

START CONSTRUCTION

PENTICTON — No formalities will mark the "turning of the first sod" for Penticton's new $239,000 provincial building. Instead the commencement of work will be treated by the contractors like any other "job of work".

Food Relief Shipments Go To Europe In November

MONTREAL—One half of the $1,000,000 Canadian Red Cross food relief shipment to Great Britain and Europe is expected to be on the high seas by mid-November, says H. H. Bishop, chairman of the national purchasing committee.

Representatives of the countries concerned have already specified what types of bulk food are most necessary, Mr. Bishop said, and purchases have been made accordingly for the shipment which is designed to ease the coming winter's food crisis overseas.

More than $642,300 of the $1,200,000 appropriated for the Canadian United Allied Relief fund in 1947 was spent by September 30th and an additional $160,961 worth of goods was purchased from designated funds, earmarked for specific foreign countries. Among reports of Red Cross services in Canada presented at the central council meeting was that of Dr. R. W. I. Urquhart, national chairman of first aid, swimming and water safety.

One third more children, a total of 16,595 across Canada, were taught water safety under Red Cross auspices in the first nine months of this year than in the whole of 1946. Dr. Urquhart told the delegates. In all, 692 instructors held 1,365 classes. Over 1,120 new instructors were qualified through the teaching programme.

New highway first aid posts are being established in Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Quebec as part of the expanding first aid program.

The chairman pointed out that Red Cross first aid work is directed particularly to areas where no other organizations function, although it works on request with other nationally organized voluntary bodies.

Growing demand for diversional therapy has increased the number of Red Cross supervisors to 31 in the arts and crafts department, which this year took over the entire DVA recreational arts and crafts work for veterans. Red Cross volunteers numbering 85 are assisting in 24 DVA institutions.

Three paraplegic veterans are now employed in the arts and crafts department, chairman D. W. Lang reported, and plans are being made to train more for supervisory positions.

Two large tubercular institutions, one at Fort Qu'Appelle and the other, Prince Albert sanatorium in Saskatchewan, serving 131 DVA patients, are now included in the arts and crafts program. Instruction is also given to the civilian patients there, on request from hospital authorities.

James A. Cooper, chairman, reported that 6,196 entertainment films supplied by the Canadian Red Cross have been shown for veterans in 52 DVA hospitals in the first nine months of this year.

MATRON RESIGNS
PENTICTON — Miss Florence Orton, who came to the local hospital as matron in mid-September, has resigned. Her resignation, it is understood, was handed to J. T. Hyde, hospital superintendent, last week.

Fifty Attend United Presbytery Meeting — Enderby

ENDERBY—Some 50 delegates to the Okanagan Valley Presbyterial meeting gathered in Enderby recently to attend the annual convention in St. Andrew's United church. The delegates were from all the centres in the valley, from Osoyoos to Revelstoke, and from Golden to Ashcroft.

President of the presbytery is Rev. Roy Stobie, of Penticton, and secretary is Rev. H. R. Whitmore of West Summerland.

On Tuesday evening, the women of the United Church W.A. supplied a complimentary supper to those attending the meeting. Fraternal greetings were brought from Rev. R. E. M. Yerburch of St. George's parish, and Rev. L. Robertson, of the local Baptist church, Mayor Howard Logan brought a fitting welcome from the City of Enderby.

Following the supper, the meeting was opened to the public, and proved to be a most interesting session. Rev. R. A. McLaren, who is principal of a youth training school, described highlights in connection with the operating of the school. The school is open to all the western area and 18 students are enrolled. He expects to have 40 by the new year.

The courses are most varied and said to be of infinite value in training youth.

Reports were given by the chairman of the various committees. Report on home missions was given by Rev. W. M. Leas, of Kelowna. An overseas missions talk was given by Mr. MacKenzie, as well as the report on social service and evangelism.

Rev. G. Payne, of Vernon, gave a report on Christian education, and Rev. Runnals, of Armstrong, gave a report on the missionary and maintenance work.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Dawes have sold their orchard and home in Prairie Valley and have purchased a smaller property on the South Prairie Valley road. Mr. Jacob Geres, purchaser of the Dawes' property, will take possession in December.

Cemetery Work Party Planned For Saturday

On Saturday afternoon, November 8, a big cleanup party is projected at the Peach Orchard cemetery. Plans for this work party were laid on Thursday night when the cemetery committee, formed earlier this year, held a session.

Every person who can possibly join in this endeavor is being requested to be at Peach Orchard cemetery on Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Hoos, rakes and forks are the main implements needed to complete the necessary work.

Tumbleweeds and other growth will be eradicated by the work party. The Women's Institute is going to be on hand to revive the workers with refreshments during the afternoon.

E. H. Bennett has been appointed chairman of a special committee which will meet during the winter months and formulate plans for cemetery improvement in 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Avery of Toronto are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy F. Angus. Mrs. Avery is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus.

SEEK INCREASE OF ITINERANTS' LICENCE HERE

Formal request for an increase in the peddlers' licence from $25 per six months to $50 was made by the Summerland Retail Merchants' Assn. to the council by Mr. L. H. Hill on Monday afternoon.

This increase would bring the peddlers' licence in line with licence fees charged by other municipalities in the Okanagan. Mr. Hill contended, pointing out that the retail group had advocated the higher rate last year when licence fees generally were boosted, but the council had only gone half way.

The retailers representative also stated that the present licence is not enough to give legitimate merchants protection nor does it give the municipality sufficient revenue in light of the amount of money taken out of the municipality by itinerants.

Councillor Wilson contended that a lot of persons wished peddlers "such as the Watkins man" to come to their door, and Mr. Hill agreed that the case of a peddler living in the community is an exception.

Acting Reeve Eric Tait assured Mr. Hill that the council would take the subject under advisement.

IS LABOR'S
BILL OF RIGHTS

The right to strike . . . after responsibility to the public has been discharged and after a secret ballot: That is what British Columbia's labor legislation (Bill 39) guarantees to labor.

But it guarantees more than the basic right to strike.

It provides that before a strike can legally be called, there must be in the interest of all concerned:

- (a) Negotiation in good faith between employer and employees' representatives; (An employer who does not bargain in good faith can be charged in court and fined).
- (b) A period of conciliation with representatives of the Department of Labor attempting to reconcile the difference;
- (c) A conciliation board acting as mediator; and, if no settlement is reached
- (d) A government-supervised secret ballot of employees affected to determine whether or not they want to take strike action.

THE ONLY THING NEW IN THIS PROCEDURE IS THE SUPERVISED SECRET BALLOT ON STRIKE ACTION.

It is a reform designed to free labor from the possibility of pressure and intimidation that can exist where there is open, show-of-hands balloting, often at small, unrepresentative meetings where a minority could impose its wishes on the rank and file.

It brings the democratic secret ballot to employees faced with a critical decision.

WHY SHOULD THE SECRET BALLOT BE OPPOSED ?

Mr. and Mrs. Sigalet who sold their home in Prairie Valley recently, are on an extended visit to Penticton and Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Sigalet have been residents of Prairie Valley for the last five years.

Mrs. Edith E. Garratt who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. Pohlmann for the summer, left last week for her home in Regina, Sask.

Mrs. C. Archibald, of Vancouver, niece of Mrs. S. Angove, is in Summerland visiting her aunt, who is a patient in the local hospital with a broken hip. Mrs. Archibald was accompanied by Mrs. R. W. Smith.

A delightful party was held in the Parish hall by the evening branch of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary last Thursday evening. The hall was decorated in Halloween colors and a very striking centre-piece, a huge carved pumpkin containing a beautiful bouquet of orange 'mums, set off the tea table. Entertainment for the evening was in the form of games and contests and was in charge of Mrs. C. Strachan, Mrs. R. Fredrickson and Mrs. Adrian Moyles. Mrs. W. Mitchell and Mrs. J. Green were in charge of the refreshments and the credit of the decorating goes to Mrs. W. Baker and Mrs. A. Dundon.

United W. A. In Presbytery Session

The annual meeting of the United Church Women's Association of Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery took place in Vernon, October 24th. Roll call showed that delegates were in attendance from associations throughout the valley from Oliver to Salmon Arm and west to Kamloops. Six delegates attended from the Service Club of St. Andrew's United church in West Summerland.

Sessions were held morning and afternoon and at noon a delightful luncheon was served by the members of the Vernon W.A. Routine business was conducted and officers and committee chairmen were elected. Arrangements were made for the next meeting to be held in Summerland.

Outstanding in the program arranged was a talk given by Mrs. C. G. Mackenzie of Enderby, who took as her topic "The Purposes of the Women's Association".

The afternoon concluded with a panel discussion on the topic "In What Phases of Church Work Should Women be Interested". This was arranged and led by Mrs. G. W. Payne of Vernon.

Mrs. T. A. Walden spent the weekend with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. Nesbitt, in Kamloops, returning to Summerland on Monday.

Mrs. C. E. Jarrett, of Penticton, and her daughter, Mrs. Munson, of Montreal, are spending a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walden.

Edna, Lady Ritchie, left last week with her grandson, Mark, for her home in England after spending the summer months at the home of Mrs. Lee McLaughlin. Her daughter, Dr. Allison Ritchie, is leaving next week to return to London, England.

Word has been received here that Mrs. T. H. A. Ramsey has returned to her home at Tappen, B.C., from the Kamloops hospital, greatly improved in health. Mrs. Ramsey is an old-time former resident of Summerland.

Rev. F. W. Haskins visited Peachland on Monday evening to be guest speaker at a social function staged by the Peachland United church to mark the 36th anniversary of that church's existence.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott and Mrs. A. B. Elliott left on Tuesday evening's train for the coast. The latter expects to reside in Vancouver for the winter months.

Mr. George Broderick of Penticton is visiting at the home of Mrs. J. Broderick this week.

Cpl. J. Howard, of the RCAF, Rockcliffe, Ont., is spending his furlough in Summerland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ritchie, of Lilloet, B.C., arrived in Summerland on Wednesday and will visit in the district.

Mr. George E. Brown, secretary of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., was a Summerland visitor on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Henry Grone, shop foreman at Pollock Motors Ltd., left on Thursday by motor for the coast, where he will be employed in future. Mrs. Grone and family will remain in Summerland for the winter months.

Rev. F. W. Haskins returned on Friday, October 24, from the Missionary conference of the Baptist church held in Toronto. During his trip, Rev. Mr. Haskins visited his son, Bruce, at Brandon College, and also called on various churches in B.C.

Mr. Harry Peterson left on Thursday last for New Westminster, where he was called on the sudden death of his mother. He returned to West Summerland on Monday morning.

Mrs. E. McClement was a Peachland visitor over the weekend.

Mr. Percy Miller left over the weekend for a short visit to the coast.

STREAMLINED, MODERN FURNISHINGS—

Shown above is one portion of the renovated Bank of Montreal building in West Summerland, which visitors to the Open House on Saturday can inspect at their leisure. The interior furnishings have been completely renewed with modern, light oak fixtures and an up-to-date office is the result. The interior has also been completely re-decorated and brightens the office considerably.

REVIEW FILES REVEAL NOTES ON BANK START

The Summerland Review files of thirty years ago reveal some of the steps taken in completing the new Bank of Montreal office in West Summerland on Saturday, November 10.

From the Summerland Review of November 16th, 1917: "The members of the local staff of the Bank of Montreal were entertained at dinner at the home of the Manager, Mr. E. B. May, on Monday (November 12th). Four coinciding events were commemorated by this social time together, namely, the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. May's entering the employ of the big financial institution, his wedding anniversary, the centennial of the bank, and the opening of the new local office." Advertisement from the Summerland Review, Friday, November 9th, 1917: "NOTICE OF REMOVAL THE BANK OF MONTREAL Will move its effects from the present office to the NEW OFFICE BUILDING at WEST SUMMERLAND, on the afternoon of Saturday, November 10th, and will open for business there on Monday morning next. The old office will be permanently closed after noon of Saturday, the 10th instant. E. B. May, Manager." From PASSING EVENTS column, the Summerland Review, Friday, November 9th, 1917: "As announced elsewhere in this number the Bank of Montreal will close its lower office on Saturday at noon to open for business in the new bank building on Monday morning. As much of the fixtures as could be spared have been moved from the old to the new office in the meantime and Contractor Harvey will complete the change tomorrow afternoon and evening. The bank's accountant, Mr. R. S. Shaw, will, with Mrs. Shaw, occupy the fine suite of rooms on the upper floor of the new building."

Mrs. F. V. Harrison, Mrs. H. A. Solly and Mrs. N. O. Solly attended the board meeting of the Diocesan Women's Auxiliary in Oya-ma on Tuesday, November 4th.

Mr. H. Charles of Copper Mountain spent the weekend with his brother Mr. Paul Charles. Mr. Charles was accompanied by three of his friends also of Copper Mountain.

Open House At Local Bank Marks Progress

November, 1947, is an important month for the Bank of Montreal's local office. Not only is the West Summerland branch observing the 130th anniversary of the parent institution which occurred last Monday, November 3, but it is also celebrating this month the completion of 30 years' operation as a full-time branch and its occupancy of its present building.

To mark these two important events and also the recent completion of extensive alterations to its office, the branch will entertain at an open house this Saturday, November 8. From 2 to 5 p.m., manager James Muirhead and members of the branch's staff will be "at home" to residents of the Summerland district, when tea will be served by the Summerland Ladies' Hospital auxiliary. The occasion will give everyone ample opportunity to see the many changes that have been made to the bank's quarters.

Entirely modern in design, new counter fixtures in light oak are now installed throughout the office. All grill work in front of the current and savings accounts departments has been removed, as has the large, gridded teller's cage. Safety deposit box holders will be pleased with the various alterations carried out for their convenience. At the rear of the office, a new entrance provides easier access to the vault. In addition, two private coupon booths are now available for customers making use of the bank's safekeeping facilities.

Already Mr. Muirhead and his staff find that the modernized counter line is enabling the branch to give the public a much more efficient service.

EXTENDS INVITATION

James Muirhead
Manager of the Bank of Montreal, West Summerland, who is holding open house next Saturday to recognize the renovation of the building and the completion of thirty years' business in that stand.

Mrs. D. Lacy left last week for a ten-day visit to be spent in Vancouver.

AMERICANS STILL PRESS FOR PGE INTERESTS

Further representations have been made by American interests with respect to the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern railway, during the past few days, it is announced by Premier John Hart. The premier stated, however, that he is not prepared to discuss the matter further as his negotiations with the CPR, the CNR, and the Dominion government are still in progress.

Dr. F. W. Andrew Gives Historical Facts on Bank

Dr. F. W. Andrew, Summerland's chief historian, has provided an interesting resume of banking activities in the early days of Summerland. He sketches the progress of the Bank of Montreal through forty years in this district, besides linking the development of Summerland with this bank.

Following is the historical resume provided by Dr. Andrew:

In 1902 J. M. Robinson, the founder of Peachland, interviewed George A. Henderson, manager of the Vernon branch of the Bank of Montreal, with a proposition for developing this district, later known as Summerland, into a fruit growing district. Mr. Henderson was impressed and arranged for an interview with Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, the president of the CPR. Sir Thomas became interested and agreed to furnish the necessary capital. So the Summerland Development Company was incorporated in June, 1903, with the following named as directors: Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, capitalist, Montreal. George A. Henderson, banker, Vernon. J. M. Robinson, real estate, Summerland. H. J. Cambie, surveyor, Vancouver. T. Kilpatrick, railway superintendent, Revelstoke.

Mr. Henderson never lost interest in the new development scheme. In 1907 he established a sub-branch of the Vernon branch in a building where the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Canery now stands. The manager was E. B. May with Holmes Walker as teller and Charles Kerr as junior. In a short time this became a full branch 1-775 and when Empire Hall was re-built with cement brick, it moved to new quarters in this block on 8th Avenue.

In 1911 a sub-branch of the Summerland branch was opened in West Summerland with H. J. Collas in charge. The location is now occupied by the Cake Box Bakery. In June 1917 the contract for the present building was awarded to H. W. Harvey, and the new premises were opened on November 12th, 1917. Mr. May then moved to the West Summerland building which then became a full branch while the office in the lower town operated as a sub-branch. Mr. May was succeeded by E. J. White who was followed by C. B. Winter, J. N. Cran, A. G. Dunoan, Walter Wright, H. E. Woodford and J. Muirhead.

The position of the Bank of Montreal, here, was not without opposition. The Eastern Townships Bank opened a branch in the lower town and this was taken over by the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and later closed. The Commerce again opened a branch in West Summerland and erected the building now used as the Post Office. Later, the Dominion Bank opened a branch, both these Banks closed their branches after a couple of years. Mr. Henderson seemed to have understood the requirements of the fruit grower, and his policy seems to have been fully justified as their losses in the 40 year period have been practically nil.

OKANAGAN CAN EXPECT INCREASED IRRIGATION AID

Further irrigation projects in the Okanagan are expected next year under the federal Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act, it is announced by Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of land and forests.

George Spence, director of the act, and his engineering staff were in Victoria this week to confer with the deputy minister of lands, George Melrose, and other government officials regarding British Columbia's plans for irrigation in the Okanagan.

Mr. Spence will take back the plans to Ottawa, and it is expected that the money for some of them will be voted at the next session of the house of commons.

CANADA'S FIRST REAL MONEY

One of the first steps taken by the Bank of Montreal after its founding, in 1817, was to issue its own bills. Canada's first domestic bank bills, they did much to facilitate the development of trade and commerce in the young colony. Until then, Canadians had to rely on an unwieldy mixture of foreign currencies which circulated in the country. As their rates of exchange constantly fluctuated, the transaction of business was a difficult matter, and trade was conducted chiefly by barter.

The bills reproduced above are specimens of the bank's first money. On the two-dollar bill appears a picture of one of the steamboats that travelled on the St. Lawrence river in those days. It is believed to be one of several owned by the Hon. John Molson, a famous Montreal merchant of the early 19th century, who, from 1826 to 1834, was president of the Bank of Montreal.

Tories Choose

big benefit from the farmers, but doesn't give them a thing in return," declared Mr. Bennett in turning to the subject of irrigation. He claimed credit for first endeavoring to get the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act applicable to B.C. He stated he was responsible for sending two members of the Okanagan to Ottawa, to seek application of this act, "but they weren't strong enough to convince the Liberal government at Ottawa."

"The non-application of the P.F.R.A. to this province has hindered the progress of such areas as Cawston, Penticton benches, Grand Forks and Vernon," was Mr. Bennett's opinion.

Highway Program
Turning to highways, Mr. Bennett criticized the federal authorities for their lack of responsibility in the road program. In the U.S. the federal government pays fifty percent of the cost of roads, but not so in Canada.

He advocated the Dominion government going in on a fifty-fifty basis with the provincial government not only on the completion of the TransCanada highway, but of the southern trans-provincial highway and the north and south feeder routes.

In conclusion, Mr. Bennett urged higher old age pensions, with a minimum of at least $50 and a decrease in the age limit to 65. Only one other province, Ontario, pays its old age pensioners as much as B.C., but this is still not enough, he declared. He pointed out that Saskatchewan, under a CCF regime, has dropped its bonus to the old age pensioners and now they only obtain $30 in that province. They receive $40 in B.C.

Good Reports On Savings Loan From All Parts of B.C.

Canada's Savings Loan, series two, officially closed on November 1 but final returns are not expected until around November 15, when all payroll firms' reports will be in.

At last official report it was announced by Lewis F. Worsley, B.C. payroll organizer, that up to and including Friday, October 22, that B.C. payroll firms had achieved 70 percent of their 1946 purchases with 62 percent of employees of these firms applying for Canada Savings Bonds.

The current objective is 85 percent employee participation but these figures do not include reports from federal, provincial or civic employees or from the railways and armed forces.

At that date Kootenay district had already attained 110 percent of the 1946 sales total and 108 percent of applications.

Eleven out of 19 New Westminster industrial firms had already exceeded 100 per cent of sales totals and applications. Outstanding among these was Westminster Paper Company Limited. Sales totalling $16,000 were more than double the 1946 figures.

Fifteen Vancouver firms had already exceeded 1946 sales totals but were continuing canvasses.

Powell River Pulp and Paper Company employees had invested $278,000 against $262,000 in 1946.

Sorg Pulp and Paper employees were over $31,000 ahead of 1946 with $74,000.

B.C. bank employees had purchased over $70,000 worth of bonds. Reports from the general public purchases were down, due in part to the $1,000 limit against $2,000 last year and in B.C.'s three major cities the street car strike.

A very successful Hallowe'en tea was held by the members of the Rebekah lodge in the IOOF hall on Saturday afternoon last. The hall and tea tables were very tastefully decorated in the Hallowe'en colors and motifs throughout. This tea was in support of the cancer fund.

CANAL LININGS UNDER STUDY TO HELP IRRIGATOR

Assisting the British Columbia tree fruit industry in the never ending search for increased supplies of water, the British Columbia Research council is studying irrigation canal linings. As a first stage in this important study, a survey is being made of the methods and materials tried in other areas.

New sources of water for irrigation in the interior are becoming increasingly scarce. Most available creeks are already in use. Yet hundreds of acres of arable land require only the magic touch of water to bear bumper crops.

By elimination of seepage, lining a canal can, in some cases, double the amount of water delivered to the orchard.

But most canal linings are expensive. The recent estimate for the cost of lining one ditch in British Columbia was nearly $25,000 a mile. Plans must consequently be made with care.

To make existing information on canal linings more readily available to the irrigator, Mr. P. M. Cook of the councils engineering division is preparing a bulletin describing lining methods, materials, costs and machinery. Mr. Cook has been conducting an extensive study of technical publications and has visited irrigation projects in the U.S.A.

Mrs. M. Powell and son Freddy of Kelowna were weekend guests of Mrs. Powell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Page.

TCA EXPANDS IN OKANAGAN

Further expansion of Trans-Canada Air Lines' activities in the Okanagan Valley has been made known through an announcement by the company that James A. English, for the past eight years TCA radio operator in charge at Penticton will assume responsibility for traffic and sales in this territory.

Mr. English's headquarters will remain at Penticton and he will continue in charge of TCA operational functions there with the new title of station manager. However, as traffic representative, the first to be appointed by the airline in the valley, his responsibility will extend to the whole valley area said J. E. Nickson, district traffic manager, who made the announcement.

A native of Enderby, B.C., James English has been a constant booster of the Okanagan Valley and pioneered in its aviation development.

Just A Week

Next Thursday, November 20, is the date when Princess Elizabeth, heiress presumptive to the British throne, will wed Lt. Mountbatten in London. It has been the express wish of the pretty Princess that her loyal subjects do not send her wedding presents directly, but rather these presents should take the form of food parcels for the people of Great Britain.

It was to carry out the spirit of this royal request that organizations in Summerland got their representatives together and planned the Royal Wedding Fund. To date, the response has not been great, although more than $500 has been subscribed through voluntary donations.

Not one penny of these subscriptions will be used other than for the purchase and transportation of these food parcels to Great Britain. Through the medium of Canadian CARE, the problem of distribution at the lowest cost has been cared for.

Hundreds of persons in this district have been sending personal parcels to their friends and relations in the Old Country. That spirit is extremely gratifying and commendable. But there is more to be considered.

There will still be thousands of Britishers living on those tiny islands who have no friends or relatives in this bountiful land. They will not receive extra parcels of food this winter, unless such patriotic funds as has been started in Summerland is given its proper support.

So, there is another week to go. The Royal Wedding Fund will be closing its books on the Royal Wedding date, November 20.

Let us hope that the good people of this community—and there are so many—will not hesitate to make their donations to this fund and so bring a modicum of cheer into many British homes this winter.

As you know—even the spud is rationed in England now.

Immunization

In a current issue of Canada's Health & Welfare, a noted medical doctor and a director of national health and welfare has this to say:

"Protection of the lives of mothers and babies is one of the fundamental problems facing every civilized country. Upon the health—mental, physical and spiritual—of the children depends the future greatness or lack of greatness of each nation."

In this respect, the immunization schedule arranged by the public health services and available to all pre-school and school children is of great benefit.

There are always some who scoff at such services but statistical figures indicate the great value of such programs. The City of Brantford, an outstanding leader in immunization, reported its last case of diphtheria in 1930, a world record for cities of more than 30,000 population.

Medical science states that it has perfected the most effective procedures to combat the four diseases, diphtheria, whooping cough, smallpox and lockjaw. These are almost completely preventable through proper immunization.

Today, in Summerland, through the public health service, and in co-operation with the medical practitioners, complete immunization against these diseases is possible for every youngster.

We must recognize the advance of medical sciences and the role which public health services play in our daily life. We should not only recognize them but pay strict attention to the warnings they issue.

There are deaths every year because of neglect on the part of parents. They did not bother to see that their children were immunized. Would you willingly accept the responsibility for such deaths? We believe not.

This morning when coming to work, there were four children walking abreast on the left hand side of the road, another was walking parallel but on the right hand side. We could hardly get the car through between the children. It is the duty of parents and teachers to insist that children walk against the oncoming traffic. Grownups should know better by now, but the children should be taught.

Isn't it the darndest thing . . . the way the bobbin ALWAYS runs out just seven inches (or so) before you reach the end of the run on your sewing machine?

I call my purse my Fumble Bag, because it takes anywhere from three to 11 minutes to find a lipstick, or a street car ticket or a pencil in it. Some day I hope to run into a handbag something like a filing cabinet, with a place for everything, marked in plain print. Then I'll be all set. Maybe!

"Is your husband happily married?" That's the title of an article I read recently in a woman's magazine. Just try asking yourself that one, and see what answer you come up with!!!

If you're really stuck for storage space in your little home, you COULD help solve the problem by painting two low unpainted wooden chests of drawers some gay color and parking them at the ends of the chesterfield, or beside a big chair. That way they serve double duty as an end table for lamp, ash tray, books, etc., and also hold towels, or pillowslips, tablecloths, place mats, or even gloves and undies, if you're hard put.

Mind you, it's not HERE yet, but they HAVE up and invented a waffle maker that cooks up two of the crisp things at once. It works on the somersault system, and (ho hum) costs $20—Cash.

You may iron more quickly when you stand up and do the job, BUT it's a lot easier on the back to do it sitting down. A high-ish kitchen stool is ideal for the iron-shoving hours.

Say, why don't you get a day ahead of yourself in your cooking once in a while? Cook enough potatoes at one time for two meals, and the next day you can either cream them, fry them or make them into salad.

When you pop out of your bath of a morn (or do you ablate the body beautiful at night?), use the towel as an exercise stick to straighten your shoulders and otherwise keep you in trim. Hold it at both ends with both hands, and swing it high, low, back, front, over, under, thither and also yon.

Play Commences In Badminton Club

Badminton enthusiasts are expecting the best winter's sport since prior to the war years, as many new members have indicated that they will join the ranks of the shuttle artists.

Play will be on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons at the big badminton hall in West Summerland. A bigger membership than has been possible for many years will be participating.

At a recent annual meeting, the badminton club elected an executive of N. O. Solly, G. R. E. Fudge, W. Evans and Mrs. R. Cuthbert to guide the destinies this season, with Miss Margaret Cammaert as secretary.

A boost in junior ranks is expected with the announcement that Geoffrey Waddell, a member of the Dominion Entomological Laboratory staff will assist in coaching the younger players. Mr. Waddell was a professional coach in Toronto for some years and his expert advice to the coming stars of tomorrow will be of great value to the local club, it is expected.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

Ted Atkinson does not look like a minister of the Gospel. Nevertheless he is one—and a very good one, too. Some people think that to be a missionary it is necessary to journey to India, China, or some other foreign land where the heathen can be educated to follow the golden rule. Actually there is important missionary work to do right here at home. Anyone who can educate hard-boiled canners to love one another is a missionary of the first order.

When I arrived at the fruit products laboratory last Thursday the Okanogan Cannery Club was holding a service. This group is not exactly an orthodox cult. However, when I entered the door the congregation was just as quiet as that found in any church.

I soon discovered, however, that none of those present was asleep. On the contrary, they were very wide awake and listening intently while Saint Francis Edward read the lesson for the day. The book from which St. Francis was reading is indeed a massive tome. I learned later that it is a loose-leaf affair provided with a binder made of stiff cardboard.

This precaution has been taken because it is expected that the book will not only be perused on Sundays but used in canneries and processing plants throughout British Columbia every day in the week. This book, in fact, contains the latest information on methods, materials and equipment used in the fruit and vegetable processing industries. Additional sheets will be added each month, as new information becomes available.

In place of the bread and wine commonly used at communion services, the congregation was treated to a wide assortment of canned prunes, apricots and peaches. This enabled them to see and sample at first hand the products made from new varieties such as the Groat and DeMar's strains of Italian prune, the Rose, Reliable, Leslie and Perfection apricots, and the Spotlight and Red Haven peaches.

The service was brief and there was no lengthy sermon, although Dick Palmer did pronounce a short benediction. At 12 o'clock sharp the congregation boarded their cars and repaired to the Oddfellows' hall in Summerland where Bill Barkwill presided at a sumptuous dinner served by the Hospital Auxiliary.

In the afternoon a vestry meeting was held at which affairs of the cult were thoroughly discussed. This meeting was under the chairmanship of Archdeacon Ernie Buffum, chief engineer of Bulman's Limited at Vernon. He made an ideal chairman and kept everyone in good humor. The duties of secretary were performed by St. Francis himself in a very efficient manner.

In the two years that this Cannery Club has been in operation it has achieved a remarkable degree of harmony between some 20 cannery managers and engineers, who had previously been most suspicious of each other. Under the auspices of the club, canners visit one another's processing plants and exchange information with regard to new processes. This is a far cry from the day when each processor guarded jealously what he considered his own trade secrets. It is now realized that the whole industry benefits from the widest possible exchange of ideas and information.

Here's wishing the new cult every success in its efforts to promote peace, goodwill and inter-cannery understanding!

Those "Flying Discs" Again

By REIDFORD

Worth working for!

Watching the men at work on his new barn, Jim thinks of the friendly talk he had with his bank manager. "I've got good land and I can work it. With a little extra money I can really make a dream come true . . ."

So Jim got his bank loan. Soon, there'll be new farm equipment . . . improved livestock . . . a well filled granary. More work for the community, more farm products, more food for home and export.

Helping people in all walks of life to profit from their own enterprise and industry is one of the chief functions of Canadian banks.

THIS IS ONE INSTANCE OF how Canada's 3,200 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

MAJOR KINLOCH TAKES COMMAND OF REGIMENT

KELOWNA—Lt.-Col. Harry Angle, DSO, whose command of the Okanagan Regiment was completed on August 31 of this year, is handing over command of the unit to Major David Kinloch, of Coldstream. Col. Angle will continue to serve with the reserve army in another capacity. Major Kinloch was badly wounded while commanding "A" squadron, BCD's in Italy at the end of 1944. Col. Angle was commanding the regiment at the time. Major Kinloch has been in charge of "A" squadron 9th Recce Regiment (BC D) reserve army since his discharge from the active force. With the change of command, regimental headquarters will move from Kelowna to Vernon. Headquarters squadron and "B" squadron will remain in Kelowna.

Teen Town

By NEB

Halt! Don't overlook this column, there is news to be read. The subject these days is the annual Sadie Hawkins dance. What is a Sadie Hawkins? Here is the idea:

The girls take the masculine part in asking the boys. They pay the admission, which is five times the size of the girl's shoe. The girls take their partners home. In Dogpatch, the girls kiss their man good night but we leave this up to you.

There will be a small fine if you are not in costume. It has been suggested the boys make the food. There will be a grand parade, a marriage ceremony if Marry'n Sam isn't too full of kick-a-poo juice. Prizes will be given for the best dressed couple, also the best dressed male and female.

The Teen Town orchestra will make its first appearance at this dance. So for a real good time don't miss the Sadie Hawkins dance on Nov. 22 at the Legion hall at 8:00 p.m. sharp.

A council meeting was held last Wednesday night at adult advisor Joe McLachlan's, Mayor Jack Dunham presiding. Aldermen attending were Joan Howard, Ruth Nesbitt, Gwen Lamacraft, Doris Cristante, Ray Moore, Don Nesbitt and Ed Fleming.

Discussions were on the Sadie Hawkins dance, the Teen Town orchestra, the Parents Social on the 28th—more news about that next week.

Summerland Teen Town has been awarded first place in the annual Vancouver Teen Town Bureau ratings for 1947 by C group with a membership of 'under 100.

Flash! Any Teen Town member whose parents haven't received an invitation to the parents' social Nov. 28, please let City Clerk Ruth Nesbitt know immediately.

That's all for now, see you next week.

SHAW AT HIS WITTIEST WILL BE PORTRAYED

On November 19 the Everyman theatre will present George Bernard Shaw's amusing satire on love and war, "Arms and the Man". It will be held in Ellison Hall, Summerland under the sponsorship of the Singers' and Players' club. The play is directed by the founder and director of the company, Mr. Sydney Risk.

Although it is a prime example of Shaw's mastery of satire, "Arms and the Man" is one of his most amusing comedies. He propounded his philosophy of "anti-romanticism" through a group of pseudo-civilized Bulgarians suddenly confronted by the practicalities of a professional Swiss soldier.

It is a shock to the beautiful Bulgarian dreamer "Raina" to find that the Swiss thinks supply of chocolate creams more important in battle than cartridges. As she begins to realize the folly of absolute romanticism she no longer finds her dashing fiancée, "Sergius" as perfect as she had believed.

"Sergius" himself is brought to earth by "Raina's" very practical but bewitching maid, "Louka". Through it all strides "Raina's" social-climbing "Mama" who is determined to be a Viennese lady, and to make a gentleman out of her barbaric, completely dominated husband.

The cast includes members of last year's company, Floyd Caza, as Captain Bluntschli, the Swiss soldier, and Lois McLean, as Catherine, the social-climbing Mama; as well as newcomers Lillian Carlson, "Raina"; Robert Newton, "Sergius"; Beth Gilanders, "Louka"; and Lacey Fisher, "Papa". Also featured are Ronald Marvin as a Russian officer and Alison Cumming as "Nicola" a manservant. Peter Garstang, stage manager, has designed and built the colorful sets for the production.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lester, left on Saturday, November 8 for Chilliwack where they will reside in future. Mr. Lester was a former employee of The Review.

'Penny Wise' Writes For Local Women

Readers of the Vancouver Sun have long followed with avid interest one of that paper's chief columnists, Penny Wise, who not only gives her readers notes on shopping in the coast city but also provides hints on housework and other similar duties.

Believing that the female readers of The Review would be interested in having Penny Wise notes brought home in the weekly press, this paper has arranged with the Vancouver Sun that her column will appear weekly.

The Penny Wise column will appear each week on Page 2.

Laying The Foundations for Peace

A CHALLENGE AND AN INVITATION
Reprinted from Nov. 6th Issue of the CCF News

Despite rain and the local transit strike, the main ballroom of the Hotel Vancouver was almost filled last Friday when M. J. Coldwell, M.P., CCF national leader, spoke here in the course of a nation-wide tour in support of the CCF membership-subscription drive. The following is a transcription of Mr. Coldwell's address.

The CCF is a people's movement, controlled by the democratically elected conventions. Our program is built up on the needs of the people and expresses the wish and will of the Canadian people. I have been asked: "Suppose the national convention adopted a program with which you were in complete disagreement?" My answer was: I would revert to simple membership in the CCF and try to convert the CCF to the point of view that I held.

Results of all the federal by-elections held since the general election in 1945 show that the Liberal vote has dropped by 9 percent, the Progressive Conservative vote has declined by 15 percent, and the CCF vote has grown by 58 percent. It is a moot question whether the Progressive Conservative party is disappearing or is being reduced to a mere handful of Ontario imperialists.

All over the world, except perhaps in the USA, the people are on the march and determined to lay the foundations of that new social order which will give to our men and women that measure of social justice and economic security which the times in which we live warrant . . .

Everywhere I have gone on this tour people have told me how difficult they find it to pay the increased rent, to pay for homes, to pay for food and clothing that is necessary for the maintenance of decent living and health. But I have this to point out—they are getting exactly what they voted for in 1945. The Liberals said before the last election that at the end of the war they would remove controls as fast as circumstances permitted. In this the Liberal party has fulfilled an election promise. John Brackton said the same thing and one Conservative after another has demanded the removal of controls.

The cost of living had increased by 14 percent up to the end of August and since then it has gone up another 4 percent. Before the end of the year I predict that it will have jumped 20 percent. We have placed the affairs of this country in the hands of profiteers. The latest evidence of this is that the Government has said it is going to return oats and barley to the Grain Exchange.

Fiorella LaGuardia, when director general of UNRRA, said: "The farmers of the world will never get a just price for the things they produce, nor will the consumers obtain a square deal, until you make up your minds that you will close every gambling grain exchange, whether it is in Chicago, Winnipeg or Liverpool." In his own country the Chicago Exchange was pushing up prices so that the people of the world could not purchase grain. And now, in Canada, the price of barley and oats is to rise, which will be reflected ere long in the pork, beef, eggs, butter and cheese you buy.

In Britain, since August 1945, there has been no increase in the cost of living. In New Zealand there has been an increase of one percent, in Australia of three percent. These countries have Labor governments. In Britain a pound of butter sells for 1s 4d; margarine, 8d (15c), and a shilling will still buy a pound of medium quality meat. And every mother in England knows that she can only buy at that price, and the rich can get no more than the poor. No doubt there is a black market, but when they are caught they are dealt with to the utmost severity of the law.

When Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner recently returned from the U.K., he said: "When I left Britain, after having gone over the entire country, I observed that the people looked better fed than they ever did." It is true. Before the war one-third to one-half of the British people were underfed. Now the people who were overfed are slightly underfed and those who were badly underfed are now only slightly underfed.

Under the Labor government's system of subsidies, the consumers pay less and the farmers of Britain get more for their wheat and butter than do the farmers of Canada. Those people who benefit are those who need to be benefited, and the people who pay are those who can afford to pay. No rich man can build a luxury home in Britain. No house must exceed $4000 and the bulk of the houses built cost around $5200. These rent for $1 a week, and 10s 8d ($13) a month, by means of subsidies.

In Canada you veterans get a gratuity from a grateful country but that grateful country has found ways and means of parting you from that gratuity.

We face in Canada an economic crisis (because of the shortage of U.S. dollars). How can it be overcome? The world will never go back to the old way of doing business. You will never see Britain rely for her food supplies on thousands of individual traders who charge high prices for their services and contribute to the starvation of the British people. You will see the people of Britain and every other democratic country endeavor to make long-term agreements for the supply of their basic foods and raw materials. They are going to plan the distribution of imports and they must control their imports.

By the same token they are going to control their exports. There is going to be planned trade. That is what the Americans are fighting all over the world. They want to drive the world back to free enterprise—which is not enterprising and is not free because it is controlled by so few in the interest of so few.

The press says that labor is the cause of the up-swing in prices. The government permitted the price of steel to be raised $5 a ton. This increased the cost of building materials and many other commodities. A few weeks afterward the federal budget removed the excise tax on such things as washing machines and refrigerators, and some people thought they would get these things for the old price, less the excise tax. But the washing machine that sold for $200, of which $40 was tax, still sold for $200. The government allowed the manufacturers to retain the excise tax in their profits and the people paid. The costs went up first; steel, farm implements, clothing. And prices are still going up step by step and labor has been trying to catch up. But wages never catch up to prices. Wages will fall before industrial prices, and with wages will go farm prices.

Other countries are taking steps to prevent these disasters, by electing people's governments. We in North America lag behind the world trend and we shall suffer more acutely than those who have taken the necessary steps to meet the onset of economic difficulties that will face us then. You cannot have a peaceful world in which one group of people is exploited by another. . . . The basic problem of our time, in the material sense, is how we shall best provide food, clothing and shelter for the mass of the people all across the world. It cannot be done when the motive is profit, but only when we shall nail to the masthead the banner "Humanity First."

We live in dangerous times, but I agree with what General Eisenhower said a short time ago; that war is neither imminent nor inevitable. At Lake Success recently I found a lot of pessimism and a lot of horror at what was going on in the USA. Delegates asked me: "Have you the same psychology in Canada?" I said I did not think we have. In the USA there is almost a war psychology, expecting war with Russia. The nations of Western Europe, above all things are striving for friendship both with the Soviet Union and with the USA.

We have ten or twenty years in which to prevent war, but if we are to do it the democratic nations of western Europe will have to stand firmly together and hold the balance between the two great extremes; build up a world bloc holding the balance for a few years, and the world can escape that great catastrophe.

Canada can play a great part in this and it is only by the leadership of the countries in the British Commonwealth, and particularly the United Kingdom, that this great community of nations, holding the balance and preserving the peace, can be brought into being.

The USA controls 54 percent of the industrial output of the world. Her strength is unchallenged but, in spite of what we read in the press, recruiting figures in the USA have not come up to expectations; indicating that American parents do not want their sons in the armed forces; their sons do not want to enter the armed forces and the USA does not want war.

Upon what do I think the external policy of Canada should be based? I think it should be a Canadian policy. We are in danger today of substituting for the age-old control of Downing street—which has largely disappeared—a new control, domination by Washington. I believe Canada should stand firmly against domination by any country. I think we should place our external policy squarely upon our obligations under the United Nations Charter, and that we should refuse to participate in any understanding which is not based on the Charter.

There is no Marshall Plan. There was only a Marshall speech. Secretary of State Marshall invited a plan. He thinks European nations can get together in Paris and formulate a plan for the rehabilitation of western Europe. Unfortunately, Russia and the countries around her have not joined in. That plan can be of great value in the very field which I mentioned—the building up of that middle group of nations—but that plan must be a European plan and the USA must not expect to inflict its ideology upon the European nations. Harold Stassen, now a candidate for the Republican nomination for President, at San Francisco was looked upon as one of the most progressive men at the conference, yet he has said no nation that proceeded with plans for socialism or national ownership should be given assistance by the USA. By what right does any politician or statesman in any country dictate the internal affairs of any other country? That is what the USA is always complaining about Russia doing in Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and the Balkans.

As for Canada, with our vast northland bordering the great northland of the USSR, and with our far-flung southern boundary contiguous to the border of the friendly USA, let us see to it that we become entangled with neither, but pursue a policy of world-wide interest and world-wide affairs and play our part in the only instrument the world has for peace—the United Nations.

At Lake Success it seemed to me that the Chinese delegates measured up much better than some of the delegates from some of the most important nations. When we have banished all forms of discrimination and racialism, and have planned not to make profits for a few, but to raise the living standard for all mankind, we shall have laid the foundations of peace.

Believing that all citizens of good will should be interested and read carefully this statement of M. J. Coldwell, I am taking full responsibility for this printing of same by the Review.

Your opinion, criticism or re-notation to same is invited by

SUMMERLAND

years from 1912 onward.

Summerland has already paid for this period and is now being asked to pay again by taking over a portion of Penticton's debt, he declared.

Councillor Atkinson spoke briefly on the famous meeting at which Penticton council announced to Summerland council and the school trustees that it wished Summerland taken out of district 15.

He pointed out that some persons contend that any inequality in debt payment will be equalized when new buildings are erected in Summerland for school purposes, to bring this community up-to-date with the rest of the district.

But when the school trustees wished to submit a bylaw which would provide Summerland with additional accommodation, the Penticton council would not sanction the bylaw, stating it would be defeated.

"If there is no spirit of give and take then you cannot expect one unit to continue paying for indebtedness incurred by another unit," he maintained.

In answer to a query from a commissioner, Councillor Atkinson also voiced the opinion that if there had been no district board formed the school addition plan in Summerland would be farther advanced at the present time.

Production Values
Turning then to acreage production Councillor Atkinson gave the commission some comparisons of orchard bearing.

In 1945, he said, Penticton lands produced fruit valued at $1,572,170 while Summerland produced a valuation of $1,362,162. In 1946 these figures were increased to $1,847,824 for Penticton and $1,627,163 for Summerland.

But Penticton has 2,409 acres of irrigable land under production and Summerland 3,100 acres, which means that Penticton land produced, per acre, in 1945, $652 and Summerland $439 worth of production, and in 1946, $767 and $525 respectively.

On the basis of these figures, Summerland assessment values on orchard land are high in comparison to Penticton, when production results are taken into consideration, the councillor contended.

He also instanced some more figures to refute Penticton charges that Summerland has placed a low valuation on its producing land.

Comparative Figures
Councillor Atkinson quoted one block of orchard land in the Skaha lake area in Penticton which paid taxes on an assessment of $108 per acre for land. Similar land on Trout Creek point, Summerland, also low-lying orchard land, is assessed at $200 per acre for land and $145 for tree improvements. When tax payment is made on the basis of 100 percent for land and 75 percent for improvements, then the Trout Creek Point owner paid on a basis of about $300 per acre while the Skaha lake owner paid on $108.

He cited the Penticton brief which states that orchard land is assessed from $250 to $375 per acre. North of West Summerland, in Siwash, Flat, the average assessment for land is $312 per acre, he declared.

Dealing briefly with the contention that allocation of costs should be on a school population basis, Councillor Atkinson gave the following figures: Penticton, 1631; Summerland 573; rural area, 161. On this basis, Penticton would pay 69 percent, Summerland 24 percent and the rural area 7 percent of the school costs. Summerland is being asked to pay 28.45 percent with the trees included.

"Summerland has always paid its way and never obtained any help from the B.C. government on irrigation, despite the high percentage of rural land in the municipality," he continued.

Okanagan Board
As his final points, Councillor Atkinson wished the conflicting definitions in the school, tax and municipal acts clarified; the differences in voting between rural areas and municipalities rectified; and suggested that if assessment allocations are to continue, the only way to eliminate dissension between units is to have an unbiased assessment board for the entire Okanagan valley.

In speaking shortly on Penticton's plea for separation from Summerland in the school district, Councillor Atkinson declared the council's stand is that if no equitable basis can be arrived at, then there will be no objection to separation.

Tree Replacements
Assessor Angus, in answer to a series of questions, made the statement that land is being assessed in Summerland at approximately 60 percent of its declared value, in the cases where he has known declared values.

Although there are many instances of higher re-assessments in Summerland, a number of acreages had undergone a tree replacement program which reduced the valuation for the time being, he explained.

Mr. Angus declared that he is not an expert on various forms of assessments, but he had come to the conclusion that the only sure method is to inspect each individual parcel and assess accordingly in relation to surrounding areas and conditions.

He termed as "ridiculous" the method of zoning in relation to distances from a given point, when dealing with orchard land.

Ninety percent of the assessable land in Summerland is orchard land, he told the commission.

Answering a query from B. C. Bracewell, Mr. Angus stated that good orchard land should be valued at $300 for land and $300 to $400 for improvements, but the average land assessment in Summerland would be $200. Siwash Flat area in Summerland averages $312 for land and $210 for improvements, he declared.

Broken Terrain
The local assessor also stated that Summerland has the most difficult terrain in the Okanagan to assess, as the orchard properties are broken into hills and valleys and there is little flat land.

Before the commission concluded its Monday morning session, Acting Reeve Tait again carne forward and stressed that for its internal purposes Summerland's system of assessment had fitted the needs of the municipality. Only four or five protests against as-essment had been heard at the last court of revision despite a general upward trend.

Answering a query, he stated that the average orchard holding here is eight acres.

Also asked why Summerland had decided to tax improvements in 1946, the acting reeve replied that the council of that time had decided that the business and residential districts should be paying more towards the rising cost of municipal operation.

SUMMERLAND KEEPS PACE IN BUILDING BOOM

Summerland is keeping pace with other Okanagan communities in its building permits and for the ten months of 1947 permits to a value of $243,195 have been issued, states Roy F. Angus, building inspector. Last year's ten-month total was $223,560.

Twenty-two permits issued in October, for a value of $12,935, while in October 1946 fifteen permits valued $3,695. There were four dwelling permits issued last month, valued at $6,500; five commercial and institutional permits for $1,450; and thirteen permits for alterations and additions, at $4,980.

The three main Okanagan municipalities have now passed the million dollar mark in their building permits. Vernon for the first time in its history has gone over the million mark $1,015,730.

Penticton's permits are about the same as Vernon with $1,087,052. As stated last week, Kelowna has the greatest permit value, with $1,446,966.

Two Hoop Teams Are Trowned In Opening Games

Two Summerland teams were soundly trounced at the school gym last Thursday evening before a medium-sized crowd. The season's opener was not a popular one from a local standpoint as the Penticton Int. A's won easily 46-26 and the Penticton juniors walked away from the local Legion juniors 49-17.

In the curtain-riser, the local juniors were badly outweighed and out-limbed, as a husky group of youngsters from Penticton looked like giants beside the Summerland midgets.

The visitors, outscored the local lads in every quarter, after taking a 14-1 lead in the initial stanza and holding a 23-5 margin at the half-way mark.

Eshelman and Boulding led the scoring; spree for the visitors, taking full advantage of their extra height and weight. Don Cristante played the best all-round game, for the Summerland lads, although his shooting was deplorable. Kato and Sam Jomori were in most plays for the luckless locals.

John Bracken Reviews Platform Of Progressive-Conservatives To Yale Nominating Convention

"Canada has a type of unbalanced economy and is thus vulnerable to attack from foreign interests," declared John Bracken, Canadian leader of the Progressive Conservatives, in addressing a crowded nominating convention for Yale riding at the IOOF hall in Penticton Saturday evening.

"Canada produces more fruit, wheat, bacon and cheese than we need, and we have made ourselves dependent on foreign nations," he explained. "When hard times set in, their business slumps and we are retarded accordingly. That is why I say we have a vulnerable economy in Canada today."

Throughout his address Mr. Bracken paid tribute to Hon. Grote Stirling, retired M.P. for Yale. He has brought honor, distinction and credit to this constituency and is stilling in character as well as name.

Dump Duties

"Hon. Mr. Stirling stood for the protection of the producer against outside competition," continued Mr. Bracken. "We were responsible for the application of dump duties in 1926. The Liberals took them off and we put them back in 1930. Since then the government has not had the courage to take them off."

"As long as I am leader of this party, the Progress Conservatives will stand for protection of the producer against unfair outside competition," he emphasized.

Dealing with the natural products marketing act, Mr. Bracken told of its introduction in 1935, but he claimed that the Liberal government then submitted the act to the Supreme court in such a way as to invite that jurisdictional body to toss out the legislation.

"When Canada gets good government and I am prime minister of Canada you will have the natural products marketing act," he promised.

More Population

Mr. Bracken also stressed the need for more population, contending that twelve million people are not sufficient for Canada's economy. He noted that the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act has been extended to a few parts of Canada. "I want it for every section of Canada. Are you going to be content with fifteen million people?" he queried.

The Tory chieftan also advocated decentralization of industry, mentioning that price rises are mainly due to the high rate of taxation which the government is maintaining. Before the war, taxes raised amounted to $500,000,000. At the highest point in the war, taxes amounted to $2,500,000,000 while they have now only been reduced to $2,200,000,000.

For 150 years, Great Britain was Canada's best customer. That country is poor now and "we had better watch our step or we will be poor also," he contended, in switching to international affairs.

Benefit of Britain

"We are learning now the benefit which Britain was to the world. It is our job to get her re-established, not in her interests alone, but in our own interests. If we don't make it possible for Britain to buy our stuff, who will buy it?"

"We, the Progressive Conservatives, must be prepared to gamble on the reconstruction of Great Britain and the western European countries. Great Britain has a production crisis; ours is a trade crisis."

It was mainly poor shooting and inability to work the ball around satisfactorily that cost the Summerland A's their victory. Only in the third quarter did the local lads hold their own in the shooting match but this wasn't enough.

Moore and Hack made the best dint in the scoring sheet but the whole team lost enough good chances to win several ball games. Dr. Lloyd Day's proteges showed they need plenty of practice in ball-passing before they can hope to compete against the southerners.

Boulding, the visitors' lengthy centreman, topped their score sheet with 15 markers, while Raptis made himself quite useful with another dozen.

Teams were as follows:
Penticton juniors: Dow 2, Eshelman 14, Campbell 6, Berdine 2, Kenyon 5, Boulding 10, Maisonneuve, Swanson, Evans 2, Young 8-49.

Summerland juniors: D. Weitzel, Kato 6, B. Weitzel 2, Cristante, L. Nesbitt, Holmes 2, Macrae, S. Jomori 7, Bolton, Ritchie-17.

Penticton Int. A: McPherson, Raptis 12, Drossos 4, Drossos, Ryan, Russell 9, Street 6, Boulding 15-46.

Summerland Int. A: Vanderburgh 2, Clark, Guidi, Thompson 4, D. Nesbitt, Rand 4, Moore 9, Hack 7, Shelley-26.

Referees: Moore, Rand, Young, Dunham.

Summerland Council Submits Its Brief To Tax Commission On School Assessments Here

Summerland municipality's main contention before the school tax commission which sat in Penticton on Monday and Wednesday was that taxation should be upon the same basis in all sections of a school district and should include the same items.

In this respect, the Summerland council quoted from a letter written by the deputy minister of education in support of this theory. Therefore, Summerland continued its contention that it should not pay its portion of the school district costs based on an assessment which includes fruit trees when Penticton and the rural area do not assess trees for either school or municipal purposes.

Following is the text of the Summerland brief to the school tax commission. It was submitted by Acting Reeve Eric M. Tait on Monday:

Apportioning Costs

This municipality is chiefly concerned in the apportionment of costs as between the three units of School District No. 15, this being based on assessment.

The definition of land in the school act included 'all trees and undergrowth growing upon land.'

Summerland for their assessment and taxation under the municipal act, assess and tax fruit trees. Penticton municipality and the rural area in this school district both exempt fruit trees from taxation.

We claim that if the definition in the school act means what it says then all trees, which would include fruit trees, should be taken into the assessment for allocation purposes as between the tree units of the district.

Conversely, if there is some hidden meaning in the definition, and fruit trees are not supposed to be trees for the purpose of the act, then our assessment should be the amount of land and improvements less the value of the fruit trees.

Summerland would be quite satisfied if either scheme were adopted so long as it is the same basis for each unit, and this we insist on.

Quotes Authority

We would draw your attention to an extract from a letter dated October, 1946, of the deputy minister of education, as follows:

"Assessments in municipalities or municipal portions of school districts:

"Section 19 of the public schools act states that the basic grants, payable by the provincial government are based upon 100 percent of the assessed value of land and upon 75 percent of the assessed value of taxable improvements. This implies that all assessments, whether in municipalities or rural areas, must be upon the same basis and include the same items."

In the same letter is the following paragraph:

"For the computation of grants for school purposes and for the calculation of the respective shares of school expenditures, in a large municipal school district, or a large rural district, it is essential that all assessments rolls include the same items."

Again, from a press report of the proceedings at Harrison Hot Springs in September, we quote the following:

"Col. F. T. Fahey, deputy minister of education, outlined government efforts to make adjustments under the Cameron plan more equal. He lauded the plan and said: 'We must get down to the basic fact that unless land and improvements are taxed on a universal pattern we will never have any equality.'"

Did Not Agree

It is on the foregoing that this municipality while accepting the total amount of the school district's estimate for current year's expenditure, notified them that they did not agree to the allocation of such expenditures as between the three units, and asked for the revised amount.

In this regard, it might be mentioned that we have had three estimates submitted by the Board, one the 14th February, 1947, in which allocation was based on the 1947 assessment; another on 22nd February, 1947, taking the 1946 assessment figures which the trustees said the department ruled had to be used. On the 10th March, another allocation was used taking the 1947 assessment as the basis.

As the time was getting near when the municipal tax rate had to be struck for the year, this was done on the latest figures given, less the fruit trees.

On the 19th May, however, another letter was received from the board based on the 1946 estimates again, and this was received after the date when our tax rate bylaw had to be registered.

In July, the board, after having taken the matter up with their department, found that they were in error in using the 1947 assessment figures and the council in acknowledging their letter agreed under the circumstances, as it was an error on the board's part, to accept the 1946 figures but without the trees, which means that more money must be found for school purposes than the levy will provide, and so the matter stands.

Had No Capital Debt

Another item which places this municipality in an unfair position is that under the amendments to the school act the carrying charges of any outstanding debentures debt has to be borne by all the units as an annual expense. Summerland has no capital debt at present on schools while Penticton has a considerable amount, at the end of 1946 being $421,000, about half of which is covering the years 1912 to 1936.

It has been advanced that Summerland now has the opportunity of making use of the Penticton facilities for more advanced students but from the number of the latter who have been able to do so, the paying of the proportion of the debt service has been a very costly business and quite out of line for any benefit received.

However, this municipality accepted the situation in that regard, but as to the assessment angle and allocation made this is most unfair, inequitable and as will be seen from the quotations given was not the intention of the department of education.

In conclusion, it is suggested that it should be quite possible to find a much more satisfactory formula for the apportionment than by assessment.

PROTECTS
in the
RULE OF LAW

British Columbia's labor laws contain many guarantees of the rights of employees to organize and bargain collectively.

Along with these privileges go responsibilities. One of the requirements, if negotiation and conciliation fail to settle a difference of opinion between the employees' bargaining agents and an employer, is that the issue of a strike shall go to a secret, government-supervised vote of all the employees whom the bargaining agents represent.

Surely that is fair and democratic.

It is legislation passed by the elected representatives of the people because they realized that some bargaining agents could, if they wished, tie up industrial production and lose payroll money to workers by strikes called after improperly conducted votes.

Notes: "Bill 39" is not perfect legislation. No one claims it is. Where necessary it can be improved by wiser and democratic action in the Legislature. The public at large is best judge.

For instance, there have been actual instances in B.C. where employees were required to cast their ballots openly in two ballot boxes. One was marked "YES" and the other "NO".

How a man voted was, of course, immediately apparent.

This kind of intimidation is not tolerated in electing a man to a minor political job—yet, until "Bill 39" was adopted this year in B.C., major strikes could be called legally with scandalously lax voting procedures.

It is a return to the old evil of the right to rig votes that certain labor leaders are demanding . . . and making the demand in the name of the very people whose expression of wishes by SECRET BALLOT the Legislature has sought to safeguard.

OPEN HOUSE AT BANK SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL EVENT

One of the social highlights of the fall season was the Open House staged by Mr. James Muirhead and staff of the Bank of Montreal on Saturday afternoon, November 8, when nearly two hundred persons inspected the bright new interior of the bank premises.

After thirty years in these West Summerland offices, the entire bank interior has been modernized and new furnishings provided throughout.

Under the charge of Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, president, the Summerland Hospital Auxillary catered to an attractive tea served to all visitors. Mrs. F. W. Andrew and Mrs. H. A. Solly poured during the afternoon.

A pleasant feature of the Open House ceremony was the presentation made by Mr. Muirhead to Dr. F. W. Andrew, pioneer Summerland doctor and historian, of an original etching of the Bank of Montreal head offices in Montreal. Dr. Andrew assisted the bank manager in obtaining data of the early bank history in this district.

Mrs. J. Muirhead, Mrs. R. Cornwall, Mrs. M. Robinson, Mrs. Fred Walker, Miss E. Clark and Miss Audrey Grant assisted in receiving the guests.

The Missionary Society of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. Z. C. Witt on Nov. 5. One quilt was quilted. The president read the first chapter of the book "Great is the Company", by Violet Wood, to be read this year. Tea was served by the hostess.

Mr. Charles Munro returned from Vancouver on Sunday.

FIFTY-NINE YEARS OF MARRIED LIFE BROUGHT TO CLOSE

An elderly and respected community worker, Mrs. Katherine Trautman, aged 78, died in West Summerland on Wednesday, November 5, after an illness of some years. She was the wife of John Trautman and they made their home for the past seven to eight years in the Victoria Gardens area. Born in the United States, the late Mrs. Trautman spent 23 years in Alberta before coming to Summerland where they first resided in Garnett valley and then at Faulder, before moving to Victoria Gardens.

If Mrs. Trautman had lived to 1948, they would have been able to commemorate sixty years of married life.

During the war years the late Mrs. Trautman was a member of an energetic quilting bee, and once a week she and her friends turned out a quilt, either for the Red Cross or for British bundles. She was one of the most energetic workers in the community, despite her advancing years.

Besides her husband, she leaves four sons, Leonard and Andrew, Peachland; Walter, Penticton, and Peter at Camrose, Alta.; three daughters, Mrs. Robert Miller, Penticton; Mrs. L. Anderson, Auburn, Wash.; Mrs. Clara Vanouck, Wetaskiwin, Alta.; 26 grandchildren and 22 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday morning November 10 from the Holy Child Catholic church, Summerland, with interment in the Anglican cemetery on the Giant's Head road.

Pallbearers were Roy Gilbert, J. Betuzzi, Frank Jacobs, Frank Wiggmhauser, George Henry and Peter Gow, Penticton.

Mrs. S. Languedoc of Naramata is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. A. Solly this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Daniel and Mr. Wiley of New Westminster were weekend guests at the Dale's home.

Mrs. A. Gayton and Beverley of Vancouver arrived last Saturday to spend a week visiting Mrs. J. Darke.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Steuart (nee Virginia Harvey) at the Kelowna hospital on Thursday, November 6.

J. Sheeley, L. Fudge and J. Heavysides left on Tuesday morning on a hunting trip in the Ashnola district.

Members of the Summerland IOOF lodge who attended the semi-annual conference of Okanagan district association No. 1 at Armstrong on Wednesday, November 5 included Les Gould, John Khalembach, J. Kean and W. S. "Scotty" Ritchie.

At the Summerland hospital on Friday, November 7, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Inaba.

A daughter was born at the Summerland hospital on Friday, November 7 to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. French of Hadley spent the weekend visiting in Summerland, the guests of Mr. French's sister, Mrs. George Garrett.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jensen of Victoria are visitors at the home of Mrs. Jensen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Muirhead left on Tuesday for Williams Lake, where they will spend ten days renewing acquaintances and hunting.

Mr. W. Lee spent the weekend in Penticton.

Summerland, B.C. November 12, 1947

Editor, The Review: The following letter has been sent to the Summerland schools and we would appreciate space in your paper to bring it to the attention of the public: Summerland Public School

The committee in charge of the Princess Elizabeth Fund acknowledges with thanks the receipt of cheques for $155 and $28, being respectively part proceeds of the Halloween hand-out and a special collection.

All of this money will be used to purchase food parcels for needy families in Britain, in accordance with the wish expressed by Princess Elizabeth that presents to commemorate her wedding be given in this manner.

The cooperation of the school staff and pupils in this campaign is very commendable and an example to the community.

Yours truly,

L. G. Perry, Secretary, Princess Elizabeth Fund

Forty energetic workers were present on Saturday afternoon, November 8, at the Peach Orchard cemetery for the fall work party. The cleanup bee was voted most successful and the entire area was cleared of weeds and put in good shape for the winter months.

Members of the Japanese group in Summerland were well represented and did a good share of the work.

Women's Institute members were also present and served tea and light refreshments to the workers, these being greatly appreciated.

Conservation of Fish And Game In B.C. Most Essential For Future, Annual Game Banquet Is Told

Conservation of game and fish and the ever-present struggle to influence sportsmen and business men throughout the province to realize that some drastic action must be taken to prevent further depredations of the wild life of British Columbia was the theme for the annual game banquet of the Summerland Fish, Game and Forest Protective Assn. in the IOOF hall on Friday evening, attended by some 80 members and guests.

Headline speakers for this banquet were Bill Eastman, president of the Interior fish and game group and J. G. Cunningham, B.C. Game Commissioner. Greetings from Oliver, were brought by Mr. Williamson, and Avery King, president of the Penticton sportsmen, extended best wishes from that club.

Acting Reeve Eric Tait complimented the Summerland sportsmen on their vigor and realized the major task confronting sportsmen to try and bring back the game to the point once enjoyed.

Members of the Rebekah lodge served a delightful banquet, with the venison being provided by Gordon Mountford. The ladies were complimented highly by all speakers on the excellence of the repast.

Wants Short Season

"There is no place now existent in B.C. where you can go off the road a short distance and bag deer," commented Mr. Eastman in delivering an inspiring address on the need for conservation.

He advocated a further shortening of the deer season to prevent wholesale slaughter of the animals when they are spent from bucking the deep snow and are driven down at the last of the shooting season. He stressed the need for education along the lines of recreational shooting only in this province.

"Hunting and fishing should be for their recreational value only," he declared, "for if you place a dollar value on them there will be no sport. Place it on my basis and there will be fish and game for our children and our grandchildren."

Mr. Eastman also condemned the practice of reclaiming wild land merely as a boon to unscrupulous politicians and with little resultant financial gain at the completion of the scheme.

Spending Millions

The United States is spending millions on schemes trying to place reclaimed land back in its original state, for the propagation of wild life, but scientists have failed in this plan, he stated.

"It's very easy to do the damage but very difficult to undo that damage," he stressed.

Hunters are increasing at the rate of 15 to 20 percent yearly but the area for hunting is decreasing in an equal inverse ratio, he continued. "We must be more careful of our shooting. We must teach the better elements of sportsmanship. We must endeavor to retain submarginal land areas in public ownership."

In conclusion, Mr. Eastman stressed the need for keeping persons from invading wilderness areas unless assured of financial success in their undertakings.

Hunters In Clubs

"Not all hunters are sportsmen," declared Commissioner Cunningham in stressing the need to get all hunters into sportsmen's clubs to educate them along the lines of conservation.

He told the banquet audience of his continued fight at Ottawa to obtain uniform regulations throughout Canada for migratory birds. Ottawa admits that B.C. is in a better position than any other part of Canada in the light of less overshooting and drought, but has never allowed any concessions.

Mr. Cunningham declared that migratory birds still can be sold for profit in the eastern provinces, while pump guns are still allowed in Alberta and Saskatchewan, along with a week's longer shooting season.

Ottawa promised uniform regulations this year but did not give them. However, the B.C. commission will continue its fight for this fairer deal, he promised.

Mr. Cunningham spoke briefly on a subject introduced by Mr. King, of Penticton, the matter of hunters using airplanes for locating game and to provide easier access to the fishing spots.

Chartered Trips

Two Bellingham airplane companies are chartering trips into B.C. lakes and are defying B.C. to regulate against them, he continued. This matter was reported to Attorney-General Wismer, who broached the subject to Ottawa, only to be told that the federal authorities are powerless to prevent such action.

The speaker promised that this would be the main subject for discussion at a forthcoming conference of representative sportsmen throughout B.C., in conference with the Attorney-General.

Mr. Cunningham did not agree with those who believe that deer are scarce. "They'll be here before very long," he prophesied, stating that they are farther back in the early part of the season.

Lack of pheasants was placed on the doorstep of farmers using DDT and he claimed tests made in Vernon could prove his point, also the pheasant areas are becoming more confined.

He did not worry about big game at the present time, except in two localities, but with the great influx of American hunters big game will not be prevalent long, he warned.

"We will have to do something to slow them up," he stated.

Trained Hunters

Answering those who wish higher bounties on predatory animals, the commissioner considered that predatory hunters answered the need to a greater extent, but experienced hunters of this type are few at present. A school is being conducted now to train such marksmen.

He also spoke briefly on the poisoning of lakes to rid them of predatory fish. Two lakes, 100 acres in extent, were treated in the Princeton area at a cost of $2,300. This is too expensive a project to undertake on a large scale, he concluded.

William Snow, local game club president, was chairman of the banquet. A short musical skit by Al Soderberg and Stan Taylor entertained the banquet. At the conclusion of the talks Commissioner Cunningham showed some splendid films.

VERNON ANGLICAN CANON TO RESIGN

VERNON—The Rev. Canon F. C. B. Gibson announced last week that after 26 years in Anglican church work in Vernon he intended to resign his position in order to seek service in a less arduous charge. His departure is not expected to take place until the New Year. Miss Mabel Gibson, his sister, is expected to accompany him to a new charge.

Mr. Frank Deitrich of Podrille, Sask., was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Eden.

Dr. Alison Ritchie, who spent the summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee McLaughlin, left on Tuesday night's train for her home in England. Mrs. Ritchie will visit with friends in New York for a few days before sailing on the Empress of Canada, on November 29.

LIKE POLAND'S

ARE STILL UNHEALED

The people of Poland are making vallant efforts to recover from their war wounds.

But food, materials, farm animals, clothing, medical supplies are pitifully inadequate... especially the nourishing foods needed by more than 3,000,000 children, over half of them orphans.

These innocent war victims are in desperate need of help from more fortunate people like Canadians.

That is why YOU are being asked to help in furnishing $1,500,000 for this IMMEDIATE purpose.

All money will be spent in Canada for relief supplies, to be distributed in Poland under the supervision of Canadian citizens or under such other safeguards as will ensure their reaching only those in need.

Won't YOU help in this compassionate task?

Rebekahs From Valley Points Hold Big Session

Okanagan Rebekah district association held its semi-annual meeting in the Oddfellows' hall, Armstrong on Nov. 5. Sister Irene Doherty of Penticton was chairman with seventy-nine members and three visitors in attendance. The district association officers were presented with beautiful corsages from Sister Doherty. The Grand Lodge officers, district deputies and past presidents were presented with handkerchief nose gays from Faith No. 32, Summerland.

During the session, Sister Matson, past president, gave a very interesting report on Sovereign Grand Lodge sessions held in Winnipeg. Sister Matson was presented with a corsage from Hedlands No. 12 at this time for the honor she brought to them by being flag bearer for Canada.

The Lodge reports showed much activity among the members. The degree was very beautifully exemplified by Sunset Lodge No. 29.

Armstrong, as hosts entertained, with cards and a musical evening followed by a dance. During this social the subordinate lodge presented a Rebekah from each lodge was a beautiful corsage.

All returned home feeling that a very enjoyable and successful day was spent and are looking forward to the spring sessions to be held in Oliver.

Attending from Summerland were the following: Mona Thompson, D.D.P.; Loretta Schuman, vice-chairman District Association No. 1; Ina Atkinson, vice-president, Rebekah Assembly; L. Hack, N.G. Faith No. 32; L. Gillard, F. Ritchie, N. Kean, R. Caldwell and B. Nesbitt.

Protests Method Of Killing Animals

VERNON—Declaring that "you might as well hit a human being on the head with a hammer," Miss L. M. Bishop, secretary of the Vernon branch of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, protested to the city council last week against the hammer blow method used to kill animals at the city pound. The complaint followed another lodged last week after two boys had found a dog partially buried on the side of a creek by the disposal ground near where the pound is located. When uncovered, the animal was not dead, but partly paralyzed. It was later dispatched by Robert Hunter, poundkeeper. F. Bazeiro laid a complaint against his action.

Revenue Low Says Chief Postmaster

PENTICTON—Stating that council would no doubt appreciate that there must be "some reasonable relationship between cost and potential revenue," the postmaster-general, Hon. Ernest Bertrand, has given a comprehensive reply to the municipality's recent urging that air mail service be inaugurated here as soon as possible.

Agricultural Federation Meets In Vancouver Soon

High cost of farming will be a major issue discussed at the 14th annual convention of the British Columbia Federation of Agriculture in Hotel Vancouver, Wednesday and Thursday, November 26 and 27. Emphasis will attach to the prices of feed stuffs as these affect dairymen, poultrymen and other primary producers and also the feedstuffs contracts with Great Britain.

Resolutions already in hand recommend that old age pensions begin at 65 "without a means test"; extension of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation act to British Columbia, removal of the regulation of the income tax branch, Vancouver, which refuses to recognize a 20% exemption on power equipment on farms other than motive equipment; increased bounties on predatory animals which are menaces to livestock on B.C. farms and ranches with a new scale of $50.00 for wolves, $40.00 for cougar, $5.00 for coyotes all the year around with the hunter to keep the hide; school taxation; oleomargarine; and an investigation of the Indore process of making humus.

Hon. Frank Putnam, minister of agriculture, will address the convention Wednesday morning and Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works on Thursday morning.

Vice-president Alex H. Mercer will outline plans Wednesday afternoon for the development of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers. He is a member of the important policy committee of the I.F.A.P. Another address of international flavor will be that of Mrs. Stella E. Gummow, superintendent of British Columbia's Women's Institutes who attended the recent meetings of the Country-women of the World in Holland.

Dr. J. B. Munro, MBE, deputy minister of agriculture, has been invited by the directors to address the delegates Thursday afternoon.

The meetings will be open to all primary producers and the general public.

Army Recruiting Unit Will Visit Pentiction Soon

A mobile recruiting unit of the Canadian Army will visit Pentiction on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, November 18 - 19 - 20.

In charge of recruiting will be Major S.B.-I. Sweeny, MC, veteran of the western desert and Mediterranean campaigns, who will interview prospective recruits at the Pentiction armouries.

In this era of fear and distrust, says Major Sweeny, it is the duty of every young man to consider deeply and carefully how he can best contribute towards world peace and sane living. One such way of serving the nation is to join the Army and make CANADA strong.

Aside from the patriotic and citizenship viewpoint, added Major Sweeny, the material conditions of enlistment in either the Active or Reserve Army are attractive. Young men with the necessary medical and educational qualifications can make an interesting career of soldiering with the possibility of learning a trade and earning steady promotion. Security is assured for any man who joins with the right motive and who applies himself diligently.

A serving soldier receives free medical and dental care, may earn trades pay proportional to his skill in the trade he practices, and can rely upon steady promotion based upon service and ability. Free board and lodgings are provided for single soldiers, while allowances are provided for married men. All soldiers are required to contribute to the Pension fund, which provides excellent security for later life.

There are many branches of the service providing opportunities for widely varied trades and specialist skills. Young men between the ages of 18 to 25 can find in the Army excellent scope for their interests in travel, sports, trade and educational advancement. For those who wish to serve part time, the Reserve Army provides many openings, with pay at Active Force rates for all time spent on duty.

land out of the district the rural area would pay more and Pentiction less.

"Do you think Summerland and Pentiction are so different they can never get together?" Reeve Lyon was asked at another point. He replied that climatically and in other ways the communities are the same.

"What's the difference, then?" further queried Mr McLean, the reply being that it was on the basis of assessment.

Must Play One Way
"Then they would have to assess on your basis before you could agree, and not you on theirs?"

"Pretty nearly so," replied the Pentiction reeve.
Sydney Cornock, originator of Pentiction's streamlined assessor, was called upon to answer a barrage of questions, most of which were submitted by B. C. Bracewell, a former municipal clerk and assessor for Pentiction and now deputy minister of municipal affairs.

Mr. Cornock quoted the municipal act when he declared that rural land could not be assessed lower than $250 per acre. In this contention, the commission took a different meaning from the enactment.

Scores Point
In final rebuttal, Acting Reeve Eric Tait, Summerland, took objection to the apparent fact that Pentiction has not completed its re-assessment but was promising a lot to be done in 1948.

"It is claimed that 1948 will be different. But we do not see that this has anything to do with the case in hand," was Mr. Tait's objection.

"Neither do I," replied Chairman McLean.

"I think the reason we do not get along together is that we will not stand for injustice," concluded Mr. Tait, stating that Summerland would be quite satisfied if, out of the present sittings, Summerland was separated from district 15.
Reeve Lyon requested further opportunity to speak but Chairman McLean ruled that this could not be allowed, in accordance with the rules of the commission.

C.C.F. Candidate

On Saturday in Penticton the CCF party chose as its standard-bearer Ald. O. L. Jones, well-known furniture man who operates retail outlets in both Kelowna and Penticton. In so doing, the CCF chose the strongest candidate which the party has in the entire Yale constituency.

O. L. Jones has contested Yale riding on two previous occasions and also was a candidate for South Okanagan provincial riding. Although he has not been returned to public office in these contests his showing has always been an outstanding one and he has polled votes of considerable magnitude on every occasion.

Yale riding has been Conservative in its politics for nearly half a century. It is one of the strongest constituencies which the Progressive Conservative party has to defend in Canada and there is no doubt that every effort will be made by that party to return its candidate, in this case W. A. C. Bennett, at present MLA for South Okanagan.

There are several factors to consider in this coming by-election, and one is the new vote which will be going to the polls for the first time in Yale. The phenomenal growth of the Okanagan has created a new vote estimated by some to be in the neighborhood of 5,000 persons. A goodly number of these new voters hail from Saskatchewan, where the CCF formed its first provincial government in Canada. It is quite likely that the CCF movement in Yale will derive a good portion of the vote of these newcomers.

Another factor in past votes in Yale was Hon. Grote Stirling's record. He had built up a large following who respected him regardless of political ties or affiliations. They recognized him as a man who had won the respect of all parties on Parliament Hill at Ottawa.

W. A. C. Bennett is contesting this by-election as a newcomer to federal ranks, although in 1945 when Hon. Grote Stirling was ill, he stumped for him on most of the platforms.

O. L. Jones failed by only 2,000-odd votes in 1945 to defeat the member for Yale. With the new vote and a new Conservative candidate, it promises to be a battle for supremacy in Yale riding which will leave the issue undecided until the last ballot is counted.

A great deal will depend on the strength of the Liberal candidate. If a widely-known and respected candidate is brought forward who is also renowned for his work on behalf of the B.C. interior, then the picture may change entirely.

No matter what the outcome, we can look forward to an interesting and intensive campaign before the next member for Yale is selected.

That School Bylaw

Summerland and Penticton municipalities have been given their opportunity to air their views on the vexatious subject of assessments in relation to the school district. The government school tax commission has obtained all the necessary information on that point and it now rests with the provincial government to act on the findings of the commission and revise provincial legislation to remedy the inequalities which exist.

But in the meantime, what of the schools and their over-crowded condition?

The school board is ready to present a bylaw to the taxpayers of School District 15 for necessary renovations and additions to school accommodation. All that is necessary is for the two municipal councils to present the bylaw to the people.

The school board has stated that the condition of Summerland and Penticton schools will be chaotic next September if additional accommodation is not obtained. The only way to obtain these proper classrooms is for the school bylaw to be presented and passed.

Summerland council, on several occasions, has indicated that it is willing and ready to submit the bylaw as long as its stand on division of school costs is not jeopardized.

Penticton council has not been in favor of the bylaw, fearing that it will not meet with public approval in Penticton.

The bylaw is long overdue. It should have been passed months ago and building

By DUGGAN

The Inside Story

By AGRICULTURIST

Some time ago I ordered fertilizer for my orchard. It arrived last week, but before applying it I went over to the experimental station to see Jack Wilcox and get the latest information on orchard fertilizer requirements. We had quite a long and interesting discussion, the gist of which is incorporated in the following paragraphs:

Agrologist: I have come to ascertain your recommendations with regard to orchard fertilizers. I have apples, pears, cherries, peaches and apricots in my orchard and they are not making the growth or giving the yields which I think they should do. What fertilizer should I apply?

Jack: Our investigations indicate that most Okanagan orchards respond to an application of nitrogen. The amount to use depends on the age of the trees and on the cultural methods which you employ. Sufficient fertilizer should be applied to cause apples, pears, prunes and cherries to make about 12 inches of new terminal growth. Apricots and peaches should make from 18 to 20 inches of new growth. This of course applies to trees of bearing age. In younger trees the growth is usually longer. How much growth have your trees been making?

Agrologist: I have not examined them very closely but I believe that the apples and pears are making about 6 inches of new growth and the apricots and peaches about 10 inches.

Jack: What fertilizer did you use last year?

Agrologist: I put on about 5 pounds per tree of Elephant Brand.

Jack: What was the analysis of this fertilizer?

Agrologist: I am sure I do not know, but the label carried the figures, 8-10-5, whatever that means.

Jack: Those figures indicate that the fertilizer you used last year contained 8% nitrogen, 10% phosphorous and 5% potash. Judging by the growth which your trees made this year I think that you would be well advised to double the application of fertilizer. Is the soil in your orchard heavy or light?

Agrologist: My orchard is on fairly heavy silt soil.

Jack: Under this condition I think that you should use a straight nitrogen fertilizer such as ammonium sulphate or ammonium nitrate. Many growers are securing good results with straight nitrogen fertilizers even where their orchards are on light, gravelly soils. However, the light soils may eventually become deficient in phosphorous and potash. Accordingly with orchards planted on light soils, it is good insurance to use a fertilizer such as ammophos 16-20 or a so-called "complete" fertilizer such as 8-10-5.

Agrologist: How much ammonium sulphate per tree should I apply?

Jack: About 4 pounds per tree should be sufficient.

Agrologist: But that is less than I used last year.

Jack: No, it isn't, because the ammonium sulphate contains about 20% nitrogen, whereas the 8-10-5 mixture which you used last year contains only 8% nitrogen.

Agrologist: If I use ammonium nitrate, how much should I apply per tree?

Jack: Ammonium nitrate contains about 32% nitrogen so you will need only 2 1/2 pounds per tree.

Agrologist: Which is the cheapest fertilizer to buy?

Jack: The 8-10-5 mixture costs less per ton, but ammonium nitrate is the cheapest per unit of nitrogen.

Agrologist: The trouble is I have already ordered ammophos 16-20 and it has been delivered. What should I do now?

Jack: Ammophos 16-20 contains 16% nitrogen and 20% phosphate, accordingly if you apply 5 pounds per tree, you will actually be giving double the application of nitrogen which you gave last year when you applied 5 pounds of 8-10-5. Although you probably do not need the extra phosphorous it will not do any harm to apply it.

Agrologist: That is a relief. I am going home now to spread my fertilizer and will remember to order ammonium nitrate next year. By so doing, I should be able to save enough money to make a trip to Vancouver.

already commenced. It is time for the two councils to forget their differences for the time being and co-operate in the common aim of obtaining more suitable accommodation for the young people of these communities. As Penticton council was the first to turn the cold shoulder to this bylaw, let that august body now come forward and express a willingness to bury the hatchet for the time being, at least.

Councillor Simpson asked the council this week if improvements are being assessed carefully as he believed the time is soon coming when a tax should be put on improvements. He asked that a referendum be taken on this question at the next elections. Mr. Cooper was appointed to assist the municipal clerk in making up the assessment roll. Assessor Logie did not believe the people would permit the council to change from the single tax plan.

G. Thorner, representing Trout Creek Point taxpayers, waited on the council and asked for a refund on their proportion of taxes so that necessary repairs could be made to the irrigation system, particularly to raise the dam. He was asked to submit an estimate on the work required and the council would make an effort to finish the project.

Extensions to the electric light system are being sought on all sides and many persons are holding up the purchase of electric light debentures until these extensions are instituted. The council asked Mr. Thorner for a report and was informed that work would start tomorrow on the proposed extensions. Mr. Thorner also asked to be placed on a monthly wage and it was agreed that he be paid $100 per month.

The Military Medal was presented recently at the Canadian Military hospital, Orpington, to Pte. W. E. Grieve, of Summerland. A. H. Read and W. D. The Board of Railway Commissioners has ruled, on an application by the Associated Growers for lower rates, as follows: "... the general basis of fruit rates from the Okanagan should not at the present be disturbed."

The lakeshore road is blocked again, this time half a mile north of Crescent Beach, between Summerland and Peachland. The slide of mud and rocks is so great that it is uncertain when the thoroughfare will be re-opened. The slide came down on Saturday and repairs are now being made to the old upper road to be used in the interim. It is passable although somewhat narrow and has some sharp pitches.

Did the frost get your 'mums? Never mind, just think of all those daffodil bulbs, and tulips, and bluebells snuggling 'way down there just waiting for the first breath of Spring. If it's too cold where you live, you'll just have to dream.

Anyway, you can always grow one of those midget ivy plants in your house, and maybe some hyacinth bulbs. I saw some ivy trailing out of a small drawer the other day, with the lady-of-the-house sitting at the other end pouring tea for some glib-festers.

You'll likely find those offspring of yours will keep their rooms much more tidy if you paint names on everything. "Dresses" on one drawer, "Shoes" on the side of a big box, "Toys" on another, "Coats" on the closet door. Even if they can't read, they soon learn to recognize words by sight.

Those of you who live in the country these days have the edge on your city sisters, many of whom have decided to bake bread to try to cut down expenses now that it's about 12 cents a loaf. Just think! They have to go through all those painful first attempts which you left behind you 20 years ago, or so. 'Tis a funny ol' world, for sure!

Every time you get to town pick up another piece of colored pottery, and in no time at all you'll have enough to make your whole table gay as a Mexican picture. The family will eat more, you'll find, when things are bright and cheery. (Eat MORE! you say, Heavens!)

If you want to go really posh at your next party, stick a lot of toothpicks in a shiny, red apple, and then stick baby sausages on them, piping hot. One ordinary sized sausage can be squeezed in the middle and twisted to make two itty-bitsy ones, you know. Men go for them like blondes.

Don't be too jealous of those pictures of gorgeous gals lying around on beaches in the sunny south these days. Remember they still get that horrible whiff of hot-dog, children still throw sand in their eyes, and sunburns still burn.

I've got some Christmas shopping done ahead of time for the first time in my life. Bought ten sheets of that fancy wrapping paper. Ah ha!

I know a Frenchwoman who runs true to form in that she's a wonderful cook. And this is what she does to cabbage. Melts some butter in a thickish pot, then grates the cabbage up and lets it simmer in the butter for about 10 minutes. It's the kind of dish you'd dream about, and wish you'd dream about, and wish you'd drooling. I don't see why good beef dripping wouldn't do as well, or, maybe, bacon fat, but she says: BUTTER!

Your husband (and the neighborhood cow) may stand and stare, but don't you care — you just tie that cameo brooch to a narrow black ribbon and then tie it snugly around your neck, and off to your little "do". It's new, that's what.

1898 from Whitewood, Sask., passed away last week. She was 71, and would have celebrated her golden wedding anniversary next year.

Mrs. Van Alan has made a generous donation of $1,000 to the Summerland hospital for certain specified improvements which she believes are needed.

Approval of the proposed new contract of the Associated Growers was given by the Penticton Co-operative Growers' Assn.

George Cawston, Penticton butcher, was found guilty of the theft of a cow and sentenced at the Vernon assizes to two years imprisonment.

TRADE BOARD MAY DONATE LIGHT SYSTEM

Possibility that the Summerland Board of Trade may donate an operating room lighting system to the Summerland hospital was mentioned at the monthly board meeting in the Parish hall Thursday evening.

Vice-president J. E. O'Mahony informed the meeting that the board had first considered an electro-cardiograph machine but the medical men did not deem this equipment as essential to local hospital needs as some other type of installation.

Modern lighting fixtures suitable for the present operating room would cost in the neighborhood of $310, plus installation costs, Mr. O'Mahony declared. He stressed that the present lighting is inadequate as shadows are thrown by the fixtures, thus hindering doctors in their operations.

Athletic Group To Embrace All Sports Mooted

Representatives of several sports organizations in Summerland discussed at great length the probable formation of an athletic association in this community which would assist all sports groups to finance and operate on a sound basis. This discussion took place last week in the Nu-Way annex with a dozen interested persons in attendance.

The upshot of the meeting was the decision to circularize all sports clubs in Summerland, asking that the question be debated and representatives be sent to a further meeting, to be held some time next month, when the formation of this projected organization will be finalized, one way or the other.

Jock Smith, Vancouver Canucks hockey star, who is now a member of the Summerland high school teaching staff, is a prime mover in this effort and he has received the backing of several others interested in promoting sports in the community.

If formed, the association will probably copy the Kelowna Athletic Round Table which has been in existence in the Orchard City for the past few years.

Provide Insurance

This parent sports group would operate to provide financial insurance against sports clubs ending their season with a deficit and thus leaving creditors holding the bag for several months.

If organized, the association would probably make an annual appeal for funds and that would be the only appeal allowed during the year. It could also sponsor sports days and other attractions to raise money for the common fund, it was stated last week.

Bill Wilcox, Pro-Rec organizer at East Kelowna, attended the meeting on behalf of Ernie Lee, provincial government department of physical education organizer. He assisted the local group in formation plans.

A committee consisting of Jock Smith, Les Gould, Bob Bleasdale and J. R. Armstrong was selected to draft an official letter to all sports clubs in Summerland outlining the proposal and asking that it be discussed by their memberships prior to another general meeting of representatives.

ASSISTANCE TO PREVENT CREEK FLOODING SOUGHT

"That (Eneas) creek is going to flood over this winter as sure as God made little apples," declared F. McDonald to the Summerland council last Thursday afternoon in making an earnest plea for some form of council assistance to clean up a serious situation.

Last winter, he contended, the water flooded his rockpit and he was without proper sanitation for three months. From a sanitary standpoint the council should take a stand on this question, he considered.

Although the council expressed sympathy for his position, Acting Reeve Tait re-iterated a previous statement that the council had carried out its part of the bargain. In this respect but the property owners had not lived up to their bargain.

Should Deepen

Asked if the creek should be deepened eighteen inches to allow a better run-off and prevent flooding in the upper portion of the subdivision, Water Foreman E. Kercher replied: "The gentleman who put the creek there in the first place promised to deepen it thirty to thirty-five years ago."

This entire area was under a subdivision plan years ago, Mr. McDonald was informed, and the council and lot owners had come to an agreement some time before Mr. McDonald acquired property there.

"The municipality doesn't own the land as it was all placed in a subdivision," explained Councillor C. E. Bentley. "The property is responsible for the control of the creek," he explained. Council assistance has been given in the past.

Acting Reeve Tait finally told Mr. McDonald that if he could get the property owners who would be affected together on a joint proposal, the council would assist to the utmost of its ability.

With this assurance, Mr. McDonald took his departure, agreeing to make a further effort to obtain co-operation of adjoining land owners.

It was pointed out at a later stage that the municipality has built a lane along the creek between the latter and the property. This act may cause a difference in council responsibility, it was suggested.

Government Not Likely To Operate Labor Office In 1947

"It is very doubtful that the department of labor will carry on a joint labor office in Summerland next year," declared W. J. Beattie, local labor officer, in reporting on the past year to the BCFG annual meeting in the IOOF hall on Friday evening.

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor, believes that the time has come when the growers should help themselves, Mr. Beattie reported, having last week had a visit from William McGillivray, the provincial labor officer.

Mr. Beattie expressed regret that the growers had shown such a small amount of interest in labor relations work last year. Cards had been sent out asking for authorization to deduct one-tenth cent per box for labor employment work, but of the 392 cards issued, only 171 were signed.

As this was not considered a proper proportion, the scheme was called off, and no costs of transportation were paid by the local labor office as had been planned.

SCOUT NEWS

At Friday's meeting there was the best turn-out of the season, a total of 29. With a possible of 33 this is good going. Basketball practice was enjoyed and plans laid for the hike last Saturday to Rattlesnake mountain. The hike conducted by A.S.M. Bill Barkwill was a great success. We shall try to have more—maybe some during the winter with snow on the ground.

The Scouts are to be congratulated on the good showing they made selling poppies. At the celebration tonight on the wedding of Princess Elizabeth there has been a request for 6 Scouts to collect funds.

Notices: Meeting Friday night at school gym. Running shoes must be worn. There will be a few rounds of boxing. Practice on your knots for another competition. There will be an opportunity to pass tests. Duty patrol, Hawks. Court of honor meeting for P/L's and seconds just before Friday night meeting.

Made 914 Placements

During the 1947 season, 914 placements in orchards, packing houses and canneries were made by the Summerland labor office, Mr. Beattie informed the meeting.

Balance of funds on-hand in the labor account amounts to $93.09, Mr. Beattie reported. This fund would be valuable if the local growers decided to carry on for another year, but otherwise he advocated the closing of the account. President C. E. Bentley commented on the "terrible showing" of the growers in the matter of card signatures. He expressed his amazement at the lack of interest shown by the growers in a scheme which was entirely for their own benefit.

"All growers should consider this subject seriously," he concluded.

Trade Board Declines To Vote On Sale Of Margarine In Canada

Summerland Board of Trade members declined to vote on the question of the Canadian government allowing the sale of margarine, when seventy-five turned out for the November monthly meeting at the Anglican Parish hall on Thursday evening.

A resolution from an Ontario board was presented the Summerland group on Thursday through the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, who is conducting a referendum on the subject.

The resolution pointed out that the banning of margarine sale in Canada, in preference to dairy products, "denies the basic use of free enterprise," and also adds considerably to the cost of living.

The Canadian Chamber, in sending out the resolution, is seeking the opinion of member boards across the country so that it can adopt a national policy.

After some discussion, however, Summerland board members decided to shelve any vote on this contentious subject, as all the facts were not at the disposal of the meeting and the dairymen's point of view could not be brought forward.

Warn About Action

Walter M. Wright suggested that there be no vote, while Dr. R. C. Palmer asked that the subject be shelved until the dairymen's interest could be introduced, suggesting that C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture could give all the information desired.

"What more information do you want than you can get on the grocers' shelves?" queried B. H. Robson.

Lloyd Miller declared that the majority of farmers on the prairie have been going out of the milk and butter business as they refuse to be slaves to their jobs for the benefit of the Dominion treasury. This backward trend on the part of the dairymen is causing a shortage and resultant rise in prices, he contended.

T. W. Boothe also stated that the Ontario dairymen is going out of this "dirty, slavish work", in preference to other forms of agriculture which do not hold him down so much and are just as lucrative. He blamed the high prices on those in authority who allowed controls to be lifted entirely.

At this juncture, R. A. Johnston moved that the resolution be filed without a vote on this question which has caused bitter discussion in many parts of Canada and the meeting agreed this would be the wisest course.

Wharf Warning

The trade board was informed that a sign is to be erected on the old wharf in lower town warning all persons that the structure is in a dangerous condition and should not be travelled on.

Reid Johnston stated that J. L. Palethorpe, KVR superintendent in Penticton, had agreed that the placing of a sign at the station welcoming travellers to Summerland would be a good idea. This suggestion was made to the previous meeting by Lorne Perry, tourist traffic chairman.

G. E. Williams asked the board what action had been taken on appointment of a town planning commission. President Schumann replied that no action had been taken yet but that the executive would act soon on the suggestion, and investigate the possibilities.

The banquet was served at the Parish hall by the Summerland Hospital auxiliary. Films from the National Film Board bank were shown at the conclusion of the business session, depicting windbreaks on the prairies and the work of Ducks Unlimited.

PENTICTON GETS 1948 CONVENTION OF B.C.F.G.A.

The executive of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association has selected Penticton as the site for the 59th annual convention, with the dates Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 20-21-22, 1948.

A record number of delegates is expected to represent the 3,710 registered tree fruit growers in the area extending from Kamloops and Salmon Arm through the Okanagan and Kootenay to Creston.

Hon. Frank Putnam, minister of agriculture, has accepted an invitation to speak Wednesday morning, and Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, similarly has accepted an invitation to speak Thursday morning.

Early enactment of Dominion Natural Products Marketing legislation will be recommended in a resolution which the executive will present to the convention.

Delegates from the BCFGA to the 14th annual convention of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, in Hotel Vancouver, November 26 and 27 will be: President J. E. J. Stirling, of Kelowna, who is a director of the federation; J. G. Campbell, Salmon Arm; George A. Lundy Oliver, and Ivor J. Newman, of Glenmore.

Delegates to the Washington State Horticultural Association convention in Wenatchee December 4 - 5 - 6 will be W. T. Cameron of Vernon and John S. Hall of Creston.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kercher returned last week from a ten day visit to Vancouver.

Council Could Be Prosecuted Is Claim Of Union Official Here

That the Municipality of Summerland could be prosecuted under Bill 39 for raising the wages of municipal electrical employees while the subject of wages was under formal negotiation was the news which startled Summerland council members on Thursday afternoon upon the visit to the session of George Gee, Vancouver, accredited representative of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL). "It is against the law (Bill 39) to raise wages when they are under negotiation. We could have prosecuted both here and in Penticton but we did not wish to take such a drastic step," declared Mr. Gee. Some weeks ago, an electrical workers' union representative, waited on the Summerland council with a request for a new agreement between the council and wage earners in the municipal electrical department. As negotiations were underway in Penticton and would be subject to an arbitration board, the council took the stand that it should wait the outcome of the board's decision. Await Decision This board met in Penticton on Wednesday and Thursday last week with E. S. H. Winn, K.C., chairman, W. R. Kinsmen, Penticton lawyer, representing the Penticton municipality and Tom Uphill, MP for Fernie, representing the Penticton employees. Last month, the Summerland council decided to raise the wages of Gordon Blewett and Stewart Sanborn, local electrical department workers. "Disregarding anything the union stated it wanted, we recognized that the wages were too low and wanted to rectify them for the benefit of the men," explained Acting Reeve Eric Tait. "We were only doing it in fairness to the men." At the outset, Mr. Gee declared that while he was in the district he wished to give the council an opportunity to ask him any questions regarding the requests of the electrical workers for further raises in wages. He explained that the union wishes to have a standard wage rate settled for all municipalities throughout the interior, based on the results of the arbitration in Penticton. He pointed out that the wages asked for municipal employees are seven cents less than those sought from big companies and the B.C. Power Commission, as employees of these companies work under different conditions. "The wages we ask here are not out of line and we feel confident that we will be upheld by the arbitration board, as it was an arbitration board which set the standard for the B.C. Power Commission wage scale. Lost Friendly Touch Councillor Tait declared that when the employees asked a union representative to present their case to the municipal council instead of discussing the subject with the council themselves, it took away the friendly basis which had been known before. The men did not make a direct request for higher wages before the union representative was brought in. Mr. Tait declared. "That is a man's own right, by law, to join a union and be represented by a union," was Mr. Gee's reply, refusing to accept the stand that the friendly basis of dealing had been lost. "We are a fair municipality to deal with," was Councillor Tait's assurance to the union visitor before concluding the discussion. Mr. Gee stated that as soon as the arbitration board decision has been announced the union will send an amended agreement to the municipality with a request for its recognition and signature.

IRRIGATION MEN DISCUSS ARREARS WITH VICTORIA

Possibility of a new irrigation project under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act, in co-operation with the provincial government, in the Westbank district has been announced by the Association of Irrigation Districts by its president, A. W. Gray, of Rutland. This association has been steadfast in its efforts to have the P.F.R.A. extended to this province. New dominion legislation embodied in an "Act for Development of New Lands" provides the necessary scope for P.F.R.A. extension, the association points out, and it is under this act that developments at Kamloops and Pemberton Meadows have been carried out. Engineers have surveyed the Grandview Flats area recently, investigated a new irrigation dam at Okanagan Falls, studied the possibility of a new irrigation project at Westbank, have surveyed to locate storage in the Similkameen for the Cawston bench and have made available full data on a scheme at Salmon Arm. "We are not in a position to disclose which will be certain of development next year, but we do know that the provincial government tentatively discussed projects in the interior running into an eventual expenditure of over $6,000,000," when Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Hon. E. T. Kenney, Hon. Frank Putnam and Mr. Gray held a meeting at Lethbridge last summer, declared the association president.

Regional Planning

Further statements are as follows:

"While this is definite progress, the association will continue to press for more extensive schemes, particularly with a view to the combined development of hydro-electric power and irrigation, by joint federal-provincial action. "When we consider that the federal government has already begun work upon the St. Mary's river dam, which will involve an eventual expenditure of $15,000,000, there would seem to be little reason to consider the British Columbia government's $6,000,000 program as being at all out of line. There is no good reason why reclamation work undertaken in Alberta should not be duplicated in the B.C. dry belt for, on a comparative basis, the productive value per acre and the amount of population that could be supported per acre is far greater here than on the prairie. "This new act provides the means for such development, and we look to see the initials A.D.-N.L. become as well known here as the P.F.R.A. on the prairies. "The ultimate goal of the association should be regional planning, with all aspects of the development of the area considered, irrigation, power, flood control and development of the productive capacity of the land, and conservation of the forests to preserve the water-sheds.

Seeks Method of Financing Service To Subdivision

H. F. Sargeant sought assistance from the municipal council last Thursday afternoon on a scheme to obtain domestic water service for his subdivision on Jones Flat. Mr. Sargeant has two subdivisions in that area, and is seeking water service for his second subdivision, which contains sixteen properties. Mr. Sargeant explained that he has sold seven of his lots and expects to sell or build on the remainder by next spring. However, he did not wish to freeze his finances by footing the entire bill for the water system now, but would give the council a guarantee for all services on the property. "The council would be financing a private project; it would be to your interests and actually is your responsibility to have the system installed," pointed out Acting Reeve Eric Tait. "Freezing of that money now would not be doing anybody any good," came back Mr. Sargeant. "Whatever capital is around this municipality should be working, not being frozen," he contended. The acting reeve informed Mr. Sargeant that his proposal would be investigated more fully and a reply would be forthcoming after the next regular council session on November 24.

Cemetery Approach Is Improved

Summerland council has written to the Peach Orchard cemetery committee expressing its gratification with the improvement made in the cleanup drive held on Saturday, November 8, with special mention of the co-operation shown by the Japanese workers who turned out and worked so diligently. In a communication to the council, the cemetery committee asked that the approach to the cemetery be repaired. Councillor Harvey Wilson reported for the roads committee that this work had been undertaken Thursday morning. The approach to the cemetery was widened and crushed rock applied to the surface.

Harvey Wilson New President of Local Grits

Councillor Harvey Wilson was named president of the Summerland Liberal Assn. at an annual meeting held in the Nu-Way Cafe annex recently. W. M. Wright is vice-president and Colin McKenzie secretary-treasurer.

Members of the directorate are: Reeve W. R. Powell, R. A. Johnston, Gordon Robertson and Will Ritchie.

The meeting also named some of the delegates to the nominating convention for Yale riding by-election when it is called. These are: Will Ritchie, Gordon Robertson, Harvey Wilson, Dr. A. W. Vandenberg, Reeve W. R. Powell, Reid A. Johnston, W. M. Wright, M. A. Metropolit, Colin McKenzie and three more to be named.

Honorary president and vice-president selected by the meeting were Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Will Ritchie, respectively.

The Yale Liberal nominating convention date has yet to be decided.

Rural Leadership Course To Open At UBC January 12

Tomorrow's leaders in the rural communities of British Columbia will have a unique opportunity for training when the third rural leadership training course, sponsored jointly by the Dominion department of labor, the B.C. department of agriculture and the B.C. department of education, meets at the youth training centre in UBC's Acadia camp next January.

The course will be under the direction of the university's department of extension. It will run from January 12 to March 5, and will cover everything from citizenship to farm mechanics.

Approximately 115 students can be housed at the self-contained youth training unit in Acadia camp, but registration for the course is limited and students should apply early. All applications must be in the Extension Department offices by December 15; notification of acceptance will be made by December 31.

Young men and women between the ages of 16 and 30 who live in rural areas are eligible, and no special educational qualifications are needed. Consideration will be given in selecting students for their character and their interest in rural community problems.

Plenty of Study Needed For Air Strip Location

In accepting the chairmanship of a special committee to investigate the possibilities of a landing strip for small planes in this community, George Washington told the board of trade at its monthly meeting in the Parish hall Thursday night that Summerland is badly in need of such facilities but it would be a costly undertaking.

Mr. Washington declared that, to his knowledge, there is only one place in Summerland where a landing strip might be located, on a pre-emption at the top of Prairie Valley.

It would take months of testing air currents, soil conditions, and other features of the area to determine if a small landing strip could be constructed there, Mr. Washington pointed out.

"Flying is a lot of fun but it can be dangerous fun at the same time," he declared, pointing out that the Penticon airport is too rough and windy for small airplanes.

If a landing strip cannot be located here, Mr. Washington advocated the board turning its attention to a suitable seaplane landing base, which would be ideal for this part of the country.

One Summerland man is contemplating purchase of a seaplane, he told the board.

ELECTRIC SERVICES

Electric light applications have been received by the council and approved from A. S. Hansen, three connections for his tourist cabins at Trout Creek; H. F. Sargeant, A. J. Adams, A. M. Cowan and J. Glaser, Mr. Cowan's domestic water application was also approved. Estimates have been obtained on the cost of extending light and power to the T. B. Young property on Okanagan highway, which formerly housed the Westmore Poultry Products.

Savings Bonds Svings Bonds

OTTAWA—Denying reports that the second series of Canada Savings Bonds would be withdrawn from sale on November 15, Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, said the new security would continue to be available until further notice.

"The terms of issue," said Mr. Abbott, "specified that the new bonds could be withdrawn at any time after November 1, but no decision has yet been taken on the date of withdrawal. From reports compiled by the Bank of Canada, representing sales to the end of November 7, it is clear that buying by the general public is continuing and that some purchases under the payroll saving plan have yet to be recorded."

Bank of Canada figures referred to by Mr. Abbott revealed that combined purchases amount to $20,615,950 up to November 7. This amount, which represented total applications of 684,795, includes purchases under the payroll savings plan of $95,566,400 from 478,283 applications by employees. The average purchase under the payroll savings plan continue high at $199.81.

Payroll sales for the Province of Ontario are 14% ahead of sales to the same day of last year and other regions are running close to last year's figures.

NO PROSPECT OF PIPE DELIVERY

That water pipe is extremely difficult to obtain and there is no prospect of immediate future delivery was the disheartening news given the local council on Thursday, November 13 by Water Foreman E. Kercher, who returned last week from a visit to Vancouver.

There is no pipe in wholesale houses at Vancouver and they do not know when any further supplies will be available. He found that one carload of pipe expected to be delivered to Summerland this month had been diverted to a housing scheme in Kelowna.

Foreman E. Kercher's crew will be asked to cut down pine trees on the road allowance above F. Salto's property, following the latter's request for such action. Permission has also been granted by the council for Oliver Smith to remove Lombardi poplars on the road allowance near his property.

COST OF NEW PIPE

Cost of installing a one-inch pipe to supply water to the Living Memorial athletic park (Drake lot) has been estimated at $261.70, Water Foreman Kercher reported to the council on Thursday. The Memorial Parks subcommittee chairman, C. J. Biesdale, has requested an increased size pipe be laid to provide sufficient water for the new athletic grounds.

... A LABOR LAW THAT PROTECTS LABOR'S INTERESTS

LUMBER WORKERS, FISHERIES EMPLOYEES AND MANY OTHER UNION GROUPS HAVE NEGOTIATED GOOD AGREEMENTS WITHOUT TROUBLE UNDER THE I.C.A. ACT (1947).

"An Act respecting the Right of Employees to organize, and providing for Mediation, Conciliation and Arbitration of Industrial Disputes."

Remember that official description of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act (1947) -- commonly known as Bill 39--when certain people raise a row about the legislation without saying just why they are against it.

The Act DOES safeguard the right of employees to organize. Its basic purpose is to assist organized labor in its legitimate aim.

A few union leaders have defied the law because they don't like the penalties against law-breakers and are afraid of the secret ballot under government supervision which it provides to protect employee groups against being called out on strike without a fair chance to express their views.

Nearly all unions respect the law and get along well. Forty thousand lumber workers, thousands in fisheries and other industrial groups have been working in B.C. this year under agreements negotiated under 'Bill 39'.

But a few leaders carry on the fight against democratic provision for a government-supervised pre-strike vote.

BRIDE IS HONORED WITH SHOWER AT KINCHEN HOME

PEACHLAND—About 40 guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kinchen on Monday, Nov. 10, to honor Mrs. Nick Langor with a bridal shower.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in pink and white. Mrs. W. Wilson and Miss Agnes Wilson helped unwrap the gifts, which were many and lovely. Little Gracie Collins presented the bride with a beautiful bouquet.

The guests were formed into groups, some selecting pictures from magazines to represent different periods of Mrs. Langor's life, while other arranged and pasted them into scrap albums. Spaces were reserved for photos, and newspaper clippings.

Supper was served, one feature being a grand cake, also decorated in pink and white. Heartiest best wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Langor for a long and happy life.

The Women's Auxiliary to the United church met at the manse on Wednesday, Nov. 12, with fifteen present. Final arrangements were made for the bazaar to be held in the Legion hall on November 27. Tea was served by Mrs. MacDonald.

VERNON—Resulting from his recent promotion to position of commanding officer of the 9th Reconnaissance Regiment, B.C. Dragoons, Lt.-Col. D. F. B. Kinloch has advanced to his new rank from that of major. The promotion accompanied the retirement of Lt.-Col. Harry Angle, of Kelowna.

Miss Edith Tellman, bride-elect of December 15, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held in the ladies' tea room of the Summerland Co-op on Tuesday afternoon, November 18. The employees of the Co-op presented Miss Tellman with a beautiful table lamp and tea set; individual gifts were also received from many friends and were displayed on a table decorated in red and blue liners and covered with confetti. Refreshments were served to about fifty guests after the presentation to Miss Tellman.

Mrs. S. E. Gummow Will Address B. C. Agriculture Group

Women's part in farm affairs will be stressed at the fourteenth annual convention of the British Columbia Federation of Agriculture in Hotel Vancouver, Wednesday and Thursday, November 26 and 27, when Mrs. Stella E. Gummow, superintendent of Provincial Women's Institutes will address the delegates.

Mrs. Gummow was formerly a primary producer in her own right as a fruit grower in the Okanagan, and who was reeve of Peachland for several years, and attended the first conventions since 1927 of the Country Women of the World last September. This important gathering was held in Amsterdam, Holland.

Previously, Mrs. Gummow attended the bi-annual convention of the Federated Women's Institutes of Canada in Halifax.

Decisions reached at these conventions relating to higher standards of farm life throughout the world will be discussed by Mrs. Gummow.

Mrs. G. E. Tedder of Kamloops was home for the weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Darke.

Messrs. John Vanderburgh, Don Rand and Jack Walsh were visitors last week to Vancouver, returning to Summerland on Thursday.

SPEAKS AT PEACHLAND

A. K. Loyd, president of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Peachland BCFGA local on Monday evening. Due to lack of space, his report to the growers on the necessity of making accurate estimates will be reported in next week's issue.

Mr. and Mrs. W. White left on Monday night's train for Vancouver, where Mrs. White is receiving medical attention.

CO-OP SPECIAL SESSION

Shareholders of the Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn. held an extraordinary meeting in the IOOF hall on Wednesday afternoon, the main purpose of the session being to amend the co-op by-laws to conform to the new income tax regulations concerning co-operatives. President Eric Tait was chairman and the directors were assisted in their presentation by R. G. Rutherford & Co., auditors.

Walter Charles Heads Committee

Walter Charles has been named by the board of trade as chairman of the Christmas tree party, an annual function held each Christmas Eve by the trade board which brings joy to hundreds of local youngsters.

D. C. Thompson had been proposed for this position but had to decline the effort. Associated with Mr. Charles on this committee will be Bob McLachlan and other members who will be named by Mr. Charles at a later date.

A full report on plans for the Christmas tree party will be expected at the December board meeting, President F. W. Schumann declared on Thursday night at the Parish hall board session.

Research Work Value To Tree Fruit Industry Is Stressed By Local Fruit Men At B.C.F.G.A. Annual Session

That Summerland growers appreciate the work carried on in their behalf by the Dominion Experimental Station and the Dominion Entomological department was instanced on Friday evening when the annual meeting of the BCFGA Summerland local unanimously requested the 1948 growers' convention to continue the $5,000 grant to the experimental station for research work and to add a further $2,500 to last year's grant for assistance to the insects laboratory.

J. Y. Towgood led the short discussion on these resolutions, praising the research staffs of both departments for their beneficial work on behalf of the tree fruit industry.

"The experimental station work is highly respected in far distant fields and men come from all parts of the world to visit this station here," declared Mr. Towgood. "These men recognize the research work being done by the experimental station. We should be proud that the station is located in Summerland and be proud of the contribution the BCFGA is making towards research."

Saving on Spraying

Mr. Towgood also instanced the great saving occurring to the growers in the advance of new methods of spraying, as advocated by the insects laboratory, of which Dr. James Marshall is in the head. "This is a very important department and if statistics could be obtained on the savings effected this year they would prove conclusively to everyone the value of the laboratory."

Dr. R. C. Palmer, experimental station superintendent stated that because of lack of suitable research men all of last year's $5,000 BCFGA grant will not be expended. However, progress has been made in the study of nutrition for fruit trees and the research work on cold storage is continuing.

The BCFGA grant has a profound effect on Ottawa, he continued, as the head offices of the department of agriculture are appreciative of the interest taken in experimental work by the producers.

Dr. Palmer also informed the meeting that Dr. Marshall still has hopes that the army H-hut which was purchased this year will be moved this fall to Summerland to establish the first portion of the new entomological laboratory.

New Laboratory
The meeting was reminded of the efforts expended last summer at the instigation of the Summerland local to press for Ottawa action towards providing modern facilities for the entomological laboratory. The BCFGA head office and all other branches of the fruit industry worked diligently to have Ottawa pass a grant in supplementary estimates to provide for the start of this new laboratory. Dr. Marshall has had difficulty in obtaining a proper contract for the removal of the army hut from Vernon to Summerland and the re-erection of the structure at Trout Creek. He has hopes that this work can be undertaken before winter sets in, the meeting was informed.

Colin McKenzie enquired if a soil analysis survey department would be feasible, to be set up out of the growers' grant to the experimental station. Dr. J. C. Wilcox replied that the plan is feasible but he did not wish to suggest this move for 1948 as it might interfere with the valuable research into cold storage facilities.

Summerland growers are also pressing their head office to have a chemist from the plant protection division given suitable accommodation at the entomological laboratory here. There are chemists at Calgary and Vancouver now but the meeting was informed that the chemist at Calgary is to be moved. The Summerland resolution will ask that this chemist be brought to Summerland to work in co-operation with the entomological branch.

Soft Fruit Storage

A recommendation is going forward from Summerland that greater use be made of cold storage facilities in the handling of apricots and peaches during the hot weather. This recommendation was advanced by President Bentley and he received support from Dr. Palmer, who declared that the experimental station has been advocating this move for quite a time.

Dr. Palmer explained that increased costs in cold storage charges would be offset by lessening of claims and the arrival of the fruit in better shape for the approval of the housewife.

Uniform charges for culls throughout the packing houses of the Okanagan is the goal of the Summerland BCFGA local expressed at its annual meeting in the IOOF hall on Friday evening. To obtain this aim, the BCFGA central office is being asked, through the 1948 convention, to approach the shippers' federation and seek co-operation.

Major W. R. Tweedie introduced this subject which, cloaked in other phraseology, was turned down by the 1947 growers' convention.

Asked to speak on the subject, George Washington, Summerland co-op manager, declared that it is unfortunate that packing houses are in their present position in relation to the growers. The packing houses are competing against each other and try to hold down the packing charges even if the quality of the fruit suffers in consequence.

"Sometimes we are inclined to tem for imports of fruits and vegetables from the United States. This system was in vogue during the war years and worked to the entire satisfaction of the Okanagan deal, it was stated.

Mr. Richards pointed out that Canada has a scarcity of United States dollars yet this year a tremendous quantity of peaches and apricots were shipped into Canada just prior to the Okanagan harvest.

This resolution will also be placed before the 1948 convention, although Councillor Eric Tait warned that the United States would disagree with any such policy and it is therefore unlikely that Ottawa will agree.

Canned Fruits
President Bentley asked if the meeting wished to advocate once again the advertising of canned foods but did not meet with any response. Councillor Tait declared himself in favor of such a move as "fruit is a liability to the grower whether it is in the can or in a fresh state, until it is sold."

The meeting also considered passing on recommendations to the B.C. Federation of Agriculture regarding a brief to the school tax commission, but in the end a negative vote was recorded and no action will be taken.

In the election of officers, President C. E. "Ned" Bentley and Secretary-Treasurer Walter Dieasdale were re-elected by unanimous vote. Directors who are also delegates to the BCFGA convention are J. Y. Towgood, Eric M. Tait, Roy R. Smith, Colin McKenzie and John Caldwell.

(A. K. Loyd, B.C. Tree Fruits president, circularized shippers last summer, stressing that a small saving effected in the picking might mean serious loss on the market.)

"Such practice must stop sooner or later even if the packing charges go up," Mr. Washington declared.

"The grower will have to grow better fruit and we will have to pack it better if we are to meet competition in the future. We must deliver better fruit, and B.C. Tree Fruits is starting to put on the pressure. But sometimes the only way to make the grower sit up and take notice is to hurt him."

"It is not fair for the producer of good fruit to stand part of the cost for the grower producing poor fruit," elaborated Mr. Washington, in expressing himself in favor of the "drastic step" of a higher culling charge.

At the conclusion of this discussion, N. O. Solly enquired what progress had been made this year towards the appointment of a production department, as advocated at the 1947 convention. He was told that a production department had been inserted in the Better Fruit committee setup.

Consumers Group Opens Nation-Wide Campaign

OTTAWA—The Canadian Association of Consumers will open a three weeks' membership campaign on November 24, Mrs. R. J. Marshall of Agincourt, president of the association, announced today. The immediate objective is 250,000 members.

The Canadian Association of Consumers was formed at a meeting in Ottawa on September 29 and 30 with the unanimous endorsesation of representatives of some 56 national women's organizations and the major French-speaking groups.

"It represents a co-operative effort on the part of Canadian women to develop their own channel through which they may become better informed on such matters as prices and the cost of living, the quality of consumer goods, the need for more and better housing and how to secure it, the services we expect from government and what they should cost, and other matters of vital concern to us as homemakers or businesswomen and as citizens," Mrs. Marshall explained. "It represents also an attempt to unite our strength to secure joint consumer action on such matters."

"Now that the association has been established, the first step is to secure a membership to make it self-supporting and to ensure its independence," she said.

"Delegates to the organization meeting voted to make it self-sustaining, to be financed by the women of Canada themselves through an annual membership fee of fifty cents. The association requires 250,000 members in order that it may have an adequate budget on which to operate effectively."

Mrs. Marshall stated that Mrs. Rene de la Durantaye of Ottawa, director of the prices board consumer branch for some time prior to its discontinuance last May, had been the popular choice of the organization meeting for convenor of the membership campaign.

Mrs. de la Durantaye's plans for the campaign were well under way, Mrs. Marshall said. Her plans called for conducting the campaign two ways, through provincial campaign committees on the one hand, and through national women's organizations on the other.

Mrs. Marshall emphasized that membership in the Canadian Association of Consumers was open to every woman in Canada.

Teen Town

By NEB

ATTENTION GIRLS! Don't forget the Sadie Hawkins dance this Saturday, November 22. Let's see all the girls with a partner to be sure of a good crowd. This is a costume dance so get together on those costumes. There will be prizes for the best male and female costumes and a prize for the best couple.

The Teen Town orchestra will be playing at this dance so let's all turn out at 8:00 sharp and give them a chance. The orchestra has at last found someone to play the drums, none other than Don (KRUPA) Cruickshank.

A number of Teen Towners have been complaining about not having anything to do on Saturday nights. Here's your chance. The Sadie Hawkins dance at the Legion hall, Saturday night. If you enjoy it more than Friday night dances let us know and we will continue Saturday night dances.

Remember November 28 the Teen Town Parents' Social. Any parents who are in doubt of Teen Town's purpose will have a chance to find out at this social. Our mayor will discuss more than the four basic rules which are: 1. No smoking; 2. No drinking; 3. No gambling; 4. No profanity.

Any Teen Town member whose parents have not received an invitation to this social please let the City Clerk Ruth Nesbitt know immediately.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Make Survey of District For New Traffic Signs

Herb Pohlmann's newly-formed traffic safety committee was asked at the board of trade monthly supper meeting last Thursday to take under advisement a complete survey of the roads in the district with a view to advocating stop streets and other traffic signs.

Some of these signs would come under provincial government jurisdiction while others would be subject to a municipal bylaw, declared J. R. Armstrong in advocating that this move be taken.

Mr. Pohlmann agreed to take this work under the direction of his traffic safety committee which is planning a children's safety drive in the next few weeks, details of which may be found in another column of this issue.

Only Standard Signs

The committee head told the meeting that he had already approached E. C. Police Constable Thorsteinson with several suggested signs for the lower town area, but had been informed that the provincial government would not allow any signs but those of a standard nature on the highway.

Consequently, he requested the trade board to circularize all trucking companies in the municipality requesting their drivers not to make a U-turn at the bottom of Telephone hill in order to approach the packing houses after coming in from the north. Truckers should travel further south and make their turn at the intersection in front of the cannery, where visibility is good from all directions.

Letters were also suggested to packing house managers and the processing plants in lower town asking that the help be requested to walk on the proper side of the road when going to and from the industrial plants, so that the danger of traffic accidents could be lessened.

"During the busy packing season, this industrial area in lower town is a serious traffic bottleneck," was Mr. Pohlmann's contention.

No Warning Sign

It was pointed out by several speakers that there is no warning sign to indicate the sharp curve at the bottom of Peach Orchard hill. On Saturday, November 8, a serious accident occurred when a U-drive car, driven by air force men strangers to the district failed to negotiate the curve and went over the bank at the bottom of Peach Orchard.

No one was hurt in the accident but it was fortunate for the occupants," witnesses declared.

Mr. Pohlmann also stressed the need for traffic to slow down in the summer season while driving past the municipal beach at the bottom of Peach Orchard. This is a children's playground and should be treated as such, he contended.

In some places, the narrowness of the hard surfacing is responsible for traffic accidents, Mr. Pohlmann declared at another point.

A communication from the public works department to the trade board indicated that previous suggestions on traffic signs have been turned over to H. W. Stevens, Kelowna, assistant district engineer, who would be in communication with the B.C. Police here.

G. E. Woodlams advocated a speed limit for the Trout Creek area, which has become a speed-

You get friendly, personal service at those new Chevron Gas Stations

Folks have always enjoyed the thoughtful, interested kind of service they receive at independent gas stations. But many people don't always know they are locally-owned. Well, as Chevron Gas Dealers, we're establishing our identity as independent businessmen in our community. That's the reason for the new Chevron Signs and the burgundy, cream and green paint jobs on our stations.

It's "only the best" for our customers—and that adds up to products like Chevron Supreme Gasoline and RPM Motor Oil. Our other services and accessories will be the same top grade, too.

Local Hoopsters Lose Three To Kelowna Teams

Kelowna basketball teams scored three victories over local hoopsters last weekend, the Summerland Int. A losing at Kelowna 37-31 and again on Saturday here by a 58-38 count; also on the local card at the school gym Saturday night, the Summerland Int. B team was outpointed 35-24. The class of basketball improved considerably in these exhibitions over the opening games against Penticton and although the teams failed to score victories they indicated that they are getting in better shape and are starting to have more teamwork.

For the B's Dunham and Jacobs were the high scorers, while Don Rand was hot in both games for the A's.

Election Time

In just over two weeks, Summerland ratepayers will be asked to go to the polls and register their votes for the offices of reeve, councillors and school trustees. This will be the first time that a reeve has been elected for a two-year term, as provided for in an amendment to the municipal act passed by the B.C. Legislature following the submission of the Goldenberg report. Two vacancies for the position of councillor will occur and one vacancy for a two-year term as school trustee. It is to be hoped that there will be a contest for all the vacancies this year. The returning of candidates by acclamation may indicate that the ratepayers are satisfied with the progress having been made in the past year or two but does not provide a positive answer.

Generally, when there is no contest for the vacant seats, it is an indication that the public generally has not taken enough interest in municipal or school affairs. This is not a healthy situation from a civic standpoint.

If the present holders of civic positions wish to be returned to office, we are certain that they would rather be returned following a contest at the polls. If they are returned then they are certain that their past record has been approved. If they are defeated, then they will know that either the public did not favor their past performance or some more popular citizen was selected in their place. Whatever the outcome, a well-contested election is a more healthy state in municipal politics.

Get Out And Vote

"It's Vital, Get out the Vote."

The foregoing is the slogan adopted by the Vancouver Junior Board of Trade for the December civic elections in that coast city. The young business men of Vancouver, operating as a body, do not care who is elected. All they desire is that a large proportion of the voting population makes the effort to go to the polls and register their choice for the public offices.

In Summerland, we do not have a junior trade board, but there are enough energetic members of the board of trade to organize a Get out the Vote campaign for the December elections. In fact, this could be a suitable project for the civic affairs committee of the board. A conscientious effort to have all registered voters exercise their franchise on December 13 would be a worthwhile community endeavor for the trade board.

With a fully representative cross-section of the community voting at the December elections, the candidates for public office would be assured that they had obtained a full consensus of opinion in the result of the ballots.

Combined with a vote-gathering campaign, there could also be an endeavor to obtain a large group for the annual ratepayers meeting preceding nomination day. Last year's meeting was not well attended, in comparison to the size of the district.

It is not a great incentive to the elected representatives of the people to attempt to give a report of their stewardship to a handful of souls at the annual civic meeting. They are inclined to believe that their efforts were not really worthwhile, when no more attention is paid to their reports than was shown last year.

Royal Wedding Day

In Summerland, the youngsters will remember for a long time the celebration of the Royal Wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

Hundreds of young people had never before seen a display of fireworks. This grand spectacle of cannon shells, rockets, wheels and dazzlers was a source of continued amazement to them. When the fireworks were combined with a huge bonfire and free hotdogs, their ecstasy knew no bounds. It was strictly a celebration designed for the youngsters, but hundreds of those not so young braved the cold, north wind and were not so old but that they could not enjoy the spectacle to the utmost. Such an outing will live longer in the

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

On my weekly visit to the experimental station I was surprised to find Ernie Deringer and Tom Gaylord very busy chopping down a block of 9-year-old apple trees. When I asked Ernie why this wanton destruction, he replied: "Ours not to reason why—when Mr. Mann says, 'Chop down those trees', we chop them down." Whereupon I went up to the office and interviewed A. J. Mann. He was busily engaged with Fred Kean organizing their 1947 annual report. However, he took time off to answer my questions, our conversation running much as follows:

Agrologist: Why have you given orders that those beautiful apple trees be chopped down?
A. J.: It is all part of a carefully planned test of apple tree framework stocks.

Agrologist: Surely you do not need to chop down the trees to find out whether or not they are satisfactory.
A. J.: Oh, no. We have already secured the information for which these particular trees were planted. Nine years ago we set out about 400 trees to secure information regarding suitability of 9 hardy framework stocks for use with Winesap, Stayman, Delicious, Jonathan and Newtown. The procedure followed was to plant trees of the framework stocks, allow these to grow for several years until good frameworks had been developed and then bud these over to the scion varieties.

Agrologist: What framework stocks did you use?
A. J.: We used Antonovka, Canada Baldwin, Melba, Charlamoff, Hibernial, Virginia Crab, McIntosh, Winter St. Lawrence and Osman Crab.

Agrologist: What information have you secured from this project?
A. J.: We have secured a wealth of data regarding the congeniality of the various framework and scion varieties.

Agrologist: That is a big word, "congeniality". Just what does it mean?
A. J.: It refers to the kind of unions made between the stock and scion varieties. For example, we have found that Winesap and Stayman make poor unions when budded on Virginia Crab. Then again, all scion varieties included in this test have a tendency to outgrow Osman Crab when they are budded on a framework of this stock.

Agrologist: Which framework stocks are you prepared to recommend?
A. J.: We have had very good results with Hibernial and Antonovka. These stocks not only make good unions with our standard commercial varieties but also make very strong, well-branched, frameworks. In addition, Antonovka has proved to be quite resistant to the organism which causes crown rot of apple trees.

Agrologist: Do you recommend the use of these hardy framework stocks in Summerland?
A. J.: We are testing these hardy stocks mainly for the benefit of growers in the colder areas such as Kamloops and Creston where serious losses have been experienced from winter injury to trunks and frameworks.

Agrologist: Then, I would think you should test these hardy frameworks in the cold areas rather than in our favorable climatic conditions here at Summerland.
A. J.: That is exactly what we are doing; we have thousands of hardy framework stocks under trial in grower-orchards from Kamloops to Creston.

Agrologist: That, I suppose, is one of the reasons why you are chopping down the trees in your orchard here at Summerland.
A. J.: Yes, that is one good reason for reducing our plantings here. However, if you had observed closely when you were down in the orchard you would have noted that we are chopping down only every other tree, leaving the remaining trees 30 ft. apart each way.

Agrologist: What information do you expect to secure from the trees which you are retaining?
A. J.: We hope to find out what influence the various hardy framework stocks have on the longevity, size and productivity of the trees. We also hope to determine what influence, if any, the framework stocks have on the grade and quality of the fruit produced.

Agrologist: How many years will be required to secure this information?
A. J.: Probably another 20 or 30.

Agrologist: Evidently you expect to live to a ripe old age.
A. J.: Probably another 20 or 30.

Agrologist: Evidently you expect to live to a ripe old age.

memories of the younger people of Summerland than any mementoes would ever do, and will serve to keep the historic occasion fresh in their minds. It was an accomplishment which deserves a lot of credit to the committee which had charge of the many details.

And when the celebration was coupled with the raising of funds for food parcels for Great Britain, the work was doubly creditable. That the people of Summerland, without any particular fanfare, would contribute nearly $1,200 towards this worthy cause is a tribute to their generosity and kind hearts. We truly live in a co-operative community.

Pioneer Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO
November 23, 191

Hon. Martin Burrell will again represent Yale at Ottawa. Of the thirteen Unionist candidates he was the only one not opposed. "This is only one more indication of how thoroughly the win-the-war spirit has taken hold in this part of B.C., especially in the Okanagan, which has probably sent a larger proportion of its population overseas than has any district in Canada of like size."

A cable received Saturday brought to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gallaugher the sad news that their only son, W. E. H. had been killed in action.

Rev. H. A. Solly was named chairman of the Summerland Victory Loan canvass at an organization meeting, with T. H. Riley as secretary. According to the provincial committee, $60,000 is expected from Summerland.

Alfred Vanderburgh has successfully passed his examinations and is now an officer of the Royal Flying Corps in England. Harry Jennings, another young Summerland man, is now in Egypt with the RFC.

Miss M. M. Elsey has been appointed teacher of the Upper Trout Creek school in place of J. W. Harris.

A badminton club has been formed to meet every Saturday in the college gymnasium.

A carload of sheep arrived here on Tuesday for the experimental station, part of the lot being pure Cheviots from Quebec.

A petition is being largely signed to allow venison to be sold or the limit of three deer be increased in order to conserve beef for war purposes. Meat is extremely scarce now.

Capt. P. S. Roe has moved his family from Naramata to Summerland and will establish the Okanagan Lake Boat Co. headquarters here.

H. S. Lewes, after months in an English hospital, has received his discharge from the army and expects to return to his orchard property here shortly.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Information was dismissed by Magistrate J. A. Coleman at Grand Forks in a test case involving the Committee of Direction and J. A. McCallum, and associated growers. The magistrate ruled that the committee had acted harshly in cancellation of McCallum's shipping licence and subsequent actions of the committee staff had led the defendant to believe that he could continue to market.

Cecil Cope has won prizes in an international fishing contest with four entries of local fish.

How long is it since you've taken a real look in that medicine cabinet in your bathroom? It's probably got more useless stuff in it than your purse. But here's my point: give it the once-over right NOW. And if you find there are more powders and make-up materials there than pills and medicine, you may be pretty sure you're a happily married woman. I've got my fingers crossed for you.

Get out your measuring tape and see how YOU compare with the royal bride for figure measurements. She's five feet four inches high, with the perfect 34, 24, 34 count. That's from bust, through waist, to hips, you know. I don't do too badly myself, being okay on the first two, and half an inch more on the third. Too much sitting at this typewriter, I guess.

Next Saturday is the day when your parcels to Britain should be in the mail in order to reach those needy people in time for Dec. 25. And DO include a pair of nylons... almost any size. If your parcel is to a man, so much the better. There's hardly a male alive with no woman in his life and some of the greedy ones have several.

You may not be able to keep burglars from sneaking into your home. BUT you can make them work harder for their booty if you don't put all your money and valuables in the left-hand corner of your top drawer. That's strictly a woman's trick, and burglars all know it. Husbands do too, which helps make up for the times you poke into their pockets.

Best and easiest way to make that old stand-by, applesauce, is to cut up the apples (skin, core, seeds and all) cook them and then stir through a sieve. Add sugar, cinnamon and lemon juice (if you wish) to what squeezes through the wire. No waste that way, and you all know the old adage: waste not, want not!

Aren't cats the pernickiest things about food? My little black-and-white number will eat raw carrot, raisins, cooked apples, creamy porridge, bread-and-milk, cooked peas, bread-and-butter, ONLY if they are offered to her on a spoon. Put them on a dish and up goes that hoity-toity pink nose.

Next rainy day Junior gets in your hair, take time out to teach him how to operate the record player, and you'll find he will put in countless hours. Even if he can't read the names, he'll soon learn to identify them in his own particular way. Don't make him stick to the so-called "children's" records either; his ear is not too small to be subjected to the music of the good masters.

If you buy (or make) just one Christmas present per week from now on, you'll have half a dozen bought by the great day. And don't forget lots of your friends, particularly bachelor gals and the like, would rather have three or four jars of your own pickle, or jelly, or jam than anything else you could dream up for them. 'Tis true.

Isn't it disgusting — how dirty your feet become when you wear overshoes. Even if you wash out the inside of them every so often, the dirt filters through somehow. Hurry up, Spring!

Wind your pearl necklace around your arm a couple of times, and lo, you've a brand new bracelet. Particularly smart with a black dress that has long close-fitting sleeves.

ENLARGE WATER SERVICE

Summerland council has agreed to enlarge the pipe serving the Living Memorial athletic park by installing a one-inch pipe when it is available. Cost of this replacement will be $291.70, less the salvage cost of the smaller pipe laid now.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION TO SIT AT CRESTON

Mr. George Melrose, deputy minister of lands, has been instructed by his minister Hon. E. T. Kenney, to present before the International Joint Commission in session at Creston, a brief on behalf of the government with reference to the application of the Creston Reclamation Company Ltd., for permission to construct certain permanent works adjacent to the Kootenay river and its east branch for the reclamation of certain flood lands between the international boundary and Kootenay Lake near Sirdar. The project would cover some 7,760 acres, the property of the crown in the right of the province. When developed, this land would have a conservative value of $100 per acre or a total value of $776,000 which would, at the present rates, return to the province approximately $4,000 per year in land tax alone. It is estimated that the area would produce in excess of $200,000 worth of crops sufficient to support an additional population of 400 persons.

There has been some opposition to the project on the grounds that it would damage migratory water fowl. The government's contention is, however, that even after the reclamation has taken place, sufficient flat lands would be available where migratory water fowl could thrive.

Improvement of Rural Homes Is Committee Plan

In March, 1947, the Provincial Government and the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation organized "The Rural Housing Advisory Committee for British Columbia". One purpose of this committee is to assist in the improvement of rural homes. (Remodelling, repairs, and beautification.) The second purpose is to assist in planning of new homes. In September of this year, the committee decided to concentrate for a six-month period on the first of a series of publications which would consist of material on modernization and repairs. It is hoped that this material will be available for distribution in April, 1948. The preparation of all bulletins will be under the direction of Professor F. Lassere, department of architecture, University of British Columbia, with Mr. M. Whiteman as research assistant. It is expected that bulletins will be forthcoming on subjects such as: "Water Supply and Sewage Disposal", "Plumbing and Heating", "Wiring, Lighting and Electrical Services" and "Painting and Decoration". Some of this material will be available for distribution during 1948 and will be prepared so as to be of greatest value to those who desire to do their own work. The bulletins will be copiously illustrated by diagrams, charts and illustrations.

The advisory committee, in co-operation with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, is also sponsoring a "Better Farm House" competition. This competition will be handled by Mrs. S. E. Gummow, superintendent of Women's Institutes, and is open to all organized groups of farm women in British Columbia. The competition will probably begin early in the new year, its purpose being to stimulate interest on the part of farm women to discuss the important topic of rural homes. From it will also come many ideas on home planning which will be of use to the advisory committee in the preparation of bulletins.

The department of agriculture has indicated a great interest in the beautification scheme being carried out in the eastern provinces. The committee heartily endorsed the government's interest and offered its wholehearted support. The beautification program will consist of improvement of road fronts, grounds surrounding the house, painting and decorating of buildings, the removing of rubbish and unsightly garbage dumps and dilapidated structures. It is hoped that this program will enhance the interest of rural people in their living conditions and surroundings.

The co-operation of everyone in this project would go a long way towards making the province more attractive to its citizens as well as to the tourists.

WILL IMPROVE BRIDGE

The bridge on the road leading from Peach Orchard to the property of Mrs. F. A. Bleasdale is to be improved and a permanent structure installed, the council decided on Monday on the recommendation of Councillor Harvey Wilson.

LEGALS

There will be offered for sale at Public Auction in the office of the Forest Ranger at Penticton, B.C., at 4:30 p.m. on the 12th day of December, 1947, Timber Sale X.42922, on an area 12 miles west of Peachland, on Greata Creek, to cut 618,000 f.b.m., Douglas Fir and other species sawlogs.

Two years will be allowed for removal of timber. "Provided anyone unable to attend the sale in person may submit a sealed tender to be opened at the hour of sale and treated as one bid."

Further particulars may be obtained from the Deputy Minister of Forests, Victoria, B.C., or the District Forester, Kamloops, B.C. 47-1-a.

PLAY SAFE AND PAY BY CHEQUE

CASH TRANSACTIONS ENTAIL RISK AND INCONVENIENCE

Ever sympathized with a friend who mislaid some cash and never found it? It was hard luck... and so unnecessary.

Your friend couldn't mislay money kept in a Bank of Montreal account, where it would earn interest as well. He'd find a chequebook just as convenient as a roll of bills... and much safer.

Or perhaps your friend paid cash for something, forgot his receipt and needed one later. That's another unpleasant predicament... and also unnecessary. If he'd paid by B of M cheque, the missing receipt wouldn't matter because the cheque when cashed, becomes proof of payment.

You'd do that friend a sound service by suggesting that he open a B of M account. Mr. Multhead local branch manager, and his staff will welcome the opportunity to look after his interests... and yours.—Advt.

Everywhere in Canada—in villages, towns, metropolitan centres—you can find them.

They are the people—1,500,000 strong—in every walk of life who are building their futures and doing their day-to-day financing by saving or borrowing at the Bank of Montreal.

Every member of this B of M family has a hand in building the resources of the Bank while he builds his own future. These resources, which amount to nearly two billion dollars, exist almost entirely because of the balances these people can show you in their B of M passbooks.

This money does not stand idle... it works constantly for the building of the nation.

Here is the money that makes the wheels of commerce turn... that helps the farmer garner his crops... that helps the lumberman buy equipment and pay his men.

Here are the dollars that enable the Bank to make more than 500 personal loans every business day of the year to men and women who need money to meet emergencies and take advantage of opportunities.

Here is the credit that provides thousands of business enterprises—from the largest company to the smallest one-man show—with the ready money they need to buy raw materials for manufacture, to pay wages while awaiting returns from the sale of finished goods, and to carry out plans for expansion.

To citizens on salaries... to farmers with seasonal incomes... to merchants, manufacturers and businessmen in every worthwhile line of endeavour... to municipalities, school boards and governments... to churches, hospitals and all types of public institutions... hundreds of millions of dollars are being lent by B of M managers at more than 500 branches from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

These millions of transactions add up to a billion-dollar story that makes interesting reading—not so much on account of the figures involved, but because of the human stories behind them.

For 130 years Canadians have put their trust in the B of M. Never in that time has the Bank failed to repay a dollar left in its care... never has it failed to open for business on a single banking day.

Reporting

THE FACTS BEHIND THE FIGURES

WHAT THE B of M HAS TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS:

CASH: The B of M has cash in its vaults and money on deposit with the Bank of Canada amounting to $ 203,696,837.69

MONEY in the form of notes of, cheques on, and deposits with other banks. 136,768,245.65

INVESTMENTS: The B of M has close to one billion dollars invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities, which have a ready market. Listed on the Bank's books at a figure not greater than their market value, they amount to 957,888,826.81

The B of M has other bonds, debentures and stocks, representing to some extent the extension of credit to industrial enterprises for reconversion and for expansion of productive facilities in established fields. Valued at no more than the market price, they amount to 96,866,538.42

CALL LOANS: The B of M has call loans which are fully protected by quickly saleable securities. These loans amount to 36,807,209.71

QUICKLY AVAILABLE RESOURCES: The resources listed above, all of which can quickly be turned into cash, cover 78.79% of all that the Bank owes to the public. These "quick assets" amount to $1,432,027,658.28

LOANS: During the year, many millions of dollars have been lent to business and industrial enterprises for production of every kind, including housing and construction—to farmers, fishermen, lumbermen and ranchers—to citizens in all walks of life, and to Provincial and Municipal Governments and School Districts. These loans now amount to 421,704,063.46

BANK BUILDINGS: In hamlets, villages, towns and large cities from coast to coast the B of M serves its customers at more than 500 offices. The value of the buildings owned by the Bank, together with furniture and equipment, is shown on its books at 13,276,623.00

OTHER ASSETS: These chiefly represent liabilities of customers for commitments made by the Bank on their behalf, covering foreign and domestic trade transactions. 31,396,960.45

TOTAL RESOURCES WHICH THE B of M HAS TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS $1,898,405,305.19

WHAT THE B of M OWES TO OTHERS:

DEPOSITS: While many business firms, manufacturers, merchants, farmers and people in every type of business have large deposits with the B of M, the bulk of the money on deposit with the Bank is the savings of more than a million private citizens. The total of all deposits is $1,783,441,647.31

BANK NOTES: B of M bills in circulation, which are payable on presentation, amount to 4,783,548.00

OTHER LIABILITIES: Miscellaneous items, representing mainly commitments undertaken by the Bank on behalf of customers in their foreign and domestic trade transactions. 29,100,538.78

TOTAL OF WHAT THE B of M OWES ITS DEPOSITORS AND OTHERS $1,817,325,734.09

TO PAY ALL IT OWES, THE B of M HAS TOTAL RESOURCES, AS SHOWN ON THE LEFT SIDE OF THIS STATEMENT, AMOUNTING TO 1,898,405,305.19

WHICH MEANS THAT THE B of M HAS RESOURCES, OVER AND ABOVE WHAT IT OWES, AMOUNTING TO $ 81,079,571.10

This figure of $81,079,571.10 is made up of money subscribed by the shareholders and, to some extent, of profits which have from time to time been ploughed back into the business to broaden the Bank's services and to give added protection for the depositors.

EARNINGS— After paying all overhead expenses, including staff salaries, bonuses and contributions to the Pension Fund, and after making provision for contingencies, and for depreciation of Bank premises, furniture and equipment, the B of M reports earnings for the twelve months ended October 31st, 1947, of $ 9,579,285.29

Provision for Dominion Income and Excess Profits Taxes and Provincial Taxes 4,156,000.00

Leaving Net Earnings of $ 5,423,285.29

This amount was distributed as follows: Dividends to Shareholders $ 3,600,000.00 Balance to Profit and Loss Account 1,823,285.29

B of M EARNINGS ON THE SHAREHOLDERS' INVESTMENT

On each dollar of the shareholders' money invested in the Bank of Montreal, the Bank earned 11.81 cents in 1947.

Necessity For Accurate Estimates of Fruit Crop Is Stressed by A. K. Loyd

Including in a review of the season's marketing problems, the necessity for accurate estimates from the growers on their expected production, A. K. Loyd proved an interesting speaker to the Peachland BCFGA local on Monday evening last week, on the eve of the new tariff announcements.

Numerous questions on the operation of the sales staff, settlement of claims, the cannery peach deal and similar subjects were asked by the Peachland growers, who showed a keen interest in their own business.

Mr. Loyd, although not conversant then with the details of the new tariff arrangements, stated that the Okanagan apple grower has lost the Imperial preference on sales to the United Kingdom market.

He was a delegate to the Geneva conference on international trade agreements, having been sent there to provide information on the B.C. fruit crop and the essential needs of the industry here for protection.

Later Production

He stressed that because of the Okanagan's geographical position it must have tariff protection as the producing areas south of the line harvest their crops at an earlier date.

Prefacing his remarks that no particular study was possible at that moment, Mr. Loyd declared on Monday night that the tariff changes "could be a weighty blow."

"We had an edge on the U.S. market. I don't know how it will affect us but we will be put in direct competition with supplies grown on this continent." These changes may affect Nova Scotia more than us. We are worried but not alarmed," he said in dealing solely with loss of the Imperial preference.

"We know we can grow the best fruit on the continent, if handled right. We can expand our markets with superior fruit but not with second or third-rate fruit," he continued.

Loss Exaggerated

The past season has been fairly normal, Mr. Loyd declared at the outset, instancing that the cherry crop did not realize the loss through splitting that the first exaggerated statements indicated.

"In fact, there were more cherries shipped to the fresh fruit market than were shown in the grower estimates," he declared in instancing the need for a closer check of the future possibilities of the crop.

Contracts have to be made with the canners and it is only on estimates that it can be determined the quantity of fruit available in relation to what the traffic will bear. Prices are determined at the outset on this relation, he indicated.

Cherry returns will come up to expectations, he believed, but the housewife is getting more "choosy" than before and is not so inclined to spend money freely on fresh fruits.

During the war, price spreads between the wholesale and retail outlets were controlled by the WPTB and the sales staff has not attempted to interfere since those controls were removed. An analysis of the price spreads made in the past two weeks indicates that most wholesalers and retailers are continuing the war-time mark-ups fairly closely although there are some instances in remote places where the margins have been increased.

Not Enough Apricots

Apricots, he stated, provided enough supply for the fresh fruit market but not enough for the canner, so that only Valley canners could be supplied. Prune estimates were away short and growers placed their sales staff in an embarrassing position in respect to this fruit.

B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., asked the wholesalers to wait for ten days for the B.C. prunes to arrive, believing that, according to the estimates, there would be an ample supply. Such did not prove the case and the wholesalers naturally objected to the misinformation given them, he intimated.

Quantity and size of peaches available are tremendously important in marketing this fruit and he urged growers to inform the sales staff if there is any marked change in sizing or quantity from the original estimates.

He reviewed the peach deal at some length, instancing the prices of 50 cents and 60 cents quoted by Washington Rochester growers. Either the Okanagan had to meet those prices or hold back and they chose to hold back, with the result that U.S. peach growers refused to pick the rest of their Rochesters and the market steadied.

Plenty of Rochesters

Asked as to the future of the Rochester variety, Mr. Loyd replied: "We have all the Rochesters we can use, and maybe a bit too many." He pointed out that there are four large producing areas across the line which can place freestones on the market at the same time as B.C. Rochesters. In handling of pears, he believed that the answer is to get this fruit reduced to the lowest temperature as quickly as possible.

About the balance of the 1947 apple crop, Mr. Loyd stated that local supplies across Canada will disappear about the month end and he has no fear as to the future of the deal after that date.

Mr. Loyd spoke briefly of the Better Fruits committee, whose main objective is to get the growers and packing houses to turn out superior fruit. He gave one instance of Okanagan apples obtaining a sixty cents per box premium in the United States against U.S. supplies.

Three-Day-Period

Three days from the orchard and three days to cold storage are the maximum time elements in producing high quality fruit, as far as handling is concerned, he stated. "If you can accomplish this, you won't have to worry."

Operation of packing houses this year was better than ever before, he declared. "If we can handle out fruit correctly then we haven't much to fear from competition."

A. J. Chidley stated that one cannery wishes to take all its peaches from Peachland but was refused by Tree Fruits. Mr. Loyd replied that the cannery deal must be spread over the entire area and no one area could obtain preferential treatment.

Asked about hall insurance, Mr. Loyd replied that only with a revision of the contract could a blanket scheme for the whole valley be instituted.

Police Costs To Rise Again in '48

Costs of policing the municipality will rise again in 1948, the municipal council was informed on Monday when a communication from the B.C. Police revealed that the charges to this community for a B.C. Police constable will be increased from $1,383.46 to $1,644.20.

Increases in salaries and travel costs have caused this boost in the local costs, Commissioner Shiras informed the council by letter.

This cost to Summerland is only half the charge, as the balance of the police costs are divided between Peachland and the unorganized district which is patrolled by Constable Thorsteinson.

"With costs going up it would seem reasonable to expect service such as Summerland is getting now," declared Reeve Powell and this expression will be forwarded to the B.C. Police along with acceptance of the new contract.

No resolutions were submitted to the annual BCFGA convention in Penticton next January.

H. C. MacNeill was chairman of the Peachland meeting.

Hospitals Ask For Increase In Victoria Grants

J. E. O'Mahony, newly-elected vice-president of the B.C. Hospitals Assn. and secretary of the Summerland Hospital Society gave the local hospital directors a comprehensive report on the Victoria convention, at the monthly board meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Increased grants from the provincial government and adoption of a resolution seeking a province-wide health insurance scheme were among the topics discussed chiefly.

It was stated that the department of transport ruling that diathermy machines must be so installed that radio interference cannot ensue in bands used by air transport has caused grave concern throughout Canada.

In the United States, hospitals have been given five years to rectify this disturbance, as it is known that no machine is available which has been proved not to give out interference. In Canada, the change-over must take place by December 31 and the Canadian Hospital Council is endeavoring to have the transport department amend this ruling.

In Summerland, a new machine which might be out-moded within a short time, would cost about $1,000, Mr. O'Mahony stated.

The provincial women's auxiliary council, encompassing all hospital auxiliaries in the province, also held its annual session in Victoria, the report of the president complimenting the Summerland auxiliary on its fine showing in the canning of fruit and vegetable for local hospital needs.

Urge Playgroup For Children of Pre-School Age

Mrs. J. D. McMynn, Penticton, guest speaker during the afternoon meeting of the Women's Institute on November 14, held the interest of many mothers with an impressive talk on playgroups for children.

Mrs. McMynn had a great interest in this line of work and three years ago decided to try it out in a small scale at her home in Penticton. It wasn't long until the enthusiasm of the different mothers was so great, that the number of members increased to 19 mothers and 18 children... the number in enrollment at present, and which cannot be increased due to lack of space for equipment.

Mrs. McMynn's main purpose for the talk and demonstration at the W.I. meeting was to interest mothers and children in beginning the same groups in Summerland. She stressed the point that children between the ages of 3 to 6, when allowed to work and play together in such a manner, develop a much happier life, becoming more confident in themselves and better mixers before entering public school.

Easy Stepping Stone
"It can be classed as an easy stepping stone from home to school a good character builder for a happy outgoing child instead of a fearful one", stated Mrs. McMynn. A closer relationship between mother and child develops; each accepting a different responsibility.

The hours of school are 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and the plan includes work along the following lines: Flannel board story telling, puppet theatre, group plays, store box, playhouse and dolls, woodwork and blocks, drama (acting stories), rhythm band, singing games, plasters, painting, etc. A small fee is charged for each child and with the volunteer help of one mother each morning, to aid the instructor, the work can be accomplished easily.

The Women's Institute sponsored Mrs. McMynn's talk in the hope that it may lead to a playgroup school for children in Summerland.

Art Exhibit Planned
Allowing all the time possible to Mrs. McMynn, the business section of the meeting was very short. Committee reports were heard and Mrs. A. K. Macleod reported that the hall was engaged for the first class of the art exhibit, and will be held in the IOOF hall, Saturday afternoon and evening, December 6. The W.I. is sponsoring a series of four such classes during the winter.

The Institute was also informed that Miss Jean Travis, travelling representative of the UBC extension courses, will be coming to Summerland soon and will give information on youth leadership courses.

Arrangements were made by Mrs. Collas for the hot dog stall last Thursday night, and Mrs. McLarty was given full responsibility to undertake the sending of two Christmas parcels to two members of an Institute in England.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting by W. I. members.

WILL BUILD BRIDGE
SALMON ARM—Positive assurance that the proposed bridge on the Trans-Canada highway at Sicamous will be constructed as soon as possible was reiterated by Hon. E. C. Carson, provincial minister of public works, in the course of an informative address at the meeting of Salmon Arm Rotary Club.

THEATRE GROUP HAS CAR TROUBLE

Several members of the Everyman Theatre cast had a narrow escape from serious injury in an auto accident which occurred on the Cariboo highway between Chilliwack and Hope while the party was en route to Salmon Arm.

The thrilling experience was related by Director Sydney Risk at the start of the Salmon Arm performance. The cast was extremely lucky and the journey was only completed after considerable difficulty, he said.

The first mishap came when one of the cars broke a king pin, plunged off the road, hit a telephone pole and overturned. The pole came down on top of the car, but while the occupants were shaken up and bruised none was seriously injured.

The second car developed engine trouble which was finally corrected and the party completed the trip by doubling up in this vehicle while two members travelled by bus.

The truck carrying the various equipment and properties got through without difficulty.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Dawes moved into their new home on Prairie Valley road last Saturday. They purchased the Wolden property in that district.

TWO HORIZONS for B.C. FRUITS and VEGETABLES

FIRST HORIZON: To produce the best possible Quality
SECOND HORIZON: In Quantity to supply the demand.

RESULTS:

B.C. Apples are found on all the best markets from Coast to Coast. About half of the total Canadian Apple Crop comes from this Province.

B.C. Peaches have increased 500% in volume in the past eight years. The 1947 crop is being sold as far east as Montreal.

B.C. Potatoes both "Certified Seed" and "Culinary" are finding export markets in U.S.A., South America and the Orient.

B.C. Pears are increasing in volume (doubled in the last eight years) and are to be found on markets as far east as St. John, N.B.

Other popular stone fruits, bush fruits, berries and vegetables, as well as B.C. agricultural production generally, are developing along the same two-horizontal planes.

Scientific Research, effective organization, grower loyalty, hard work and a bountiful Providence, combine to make possible the production and economical distribution of these healthful and popular foods.

Montreal Woman Returns Cheque For Five Cents

KELOWNA—A typical example of wasted energy—as well as money—was brought to the attention of city council Monday night when a cheque, issued for the amount of five cents to a Montreal woman, was returned to the city. The cheque was sent to Mrs. Dorothy Christie for a rebate in taxes. Actually, before the cheque was returned to the city, the postal revenue department had benefitted to the extent of 12 cents. It cost the city a three cent stamp to make the cheque legal and four cents for letter postage. When the cheque was returned, Mrs. Christie only put a three cent stamp on the envelope, so it cost the city another two cents for "postage due".

"I will refuse to sign cheques for small amounts such as this, if I am ever in the position again," declared Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games.

Alderman J. J. Ladd said he has a new proposal to put before council early in the new year.

Returning the cheque, Mrs. Christie wrote: "I would like to frame this, but it might ruin your bookkeeping, so I have endorsed and returned it, and you can frame it. It is economically unsound to pay 15 cents exchange on it here and my Scottish soul can't bear the thought!"

Everyman Theatre Group Plays To Large Crowd Here

Now making its second tour of Western Canada, the Everyman Theatre played at Ellison hall, on Wednesday night, November 19, and presented George Bernard Shaw's popular satirical comedy, "Arms and the Man." This talented theatrical organization appeared here under the auspices of Singers' and Players' Club and performed to a large audience despite numerous counter attractions. Shaw's "Arms and the Man," with its wit and charm and its delightful satire on heroism and high romance, is one of the Irish playwright's most widely performed and best loved comedies.

The scene in the first act was Raina's bedchamber. Capt. Bluntschli broke into the room to escape capture and is hidden by Raina while the house is searched. Later he escapes in Petkoff's coat. The action in the second act takes place in the garden of the Petkoff home. The major comes home from war, and tells the story of a captain being helped to escape by women. Subsequently, Bluntschli arrives to return the coat.

The library of the Petkoff home was the locale of the third act. Bluntschli proved his help in assisting the major to get his forces out of the country. The maid betrays Saranoff, Raina's fiancée, as not being in love with her. Saranoff finally falls in love with Nicola, a servant, and Raina with Bluntschli.

Major Petkoff was played by Lacey Fisher, one of the newcomers in the cast, and Catherine, his wife, was portrayed by Lois McLean. Other members of the cast were: Major Saranoff, Robert Newton; Louka, a maid, Beth Gillanders; Nicola, servant of the Petkoffs, Alison Cumming, and an officer, Ronald Marvin.

The settings were designed and built by Peter T. Garstang.

The play was directed by Sydney Risk and the cast comprised a number of new members. The splendid direction and sympathetic handling of the various roles proved conclusively that the Everyman Theatre is fulfilling its aim to establish a professional Canadian theatre of a high standard and to give opportunity to Canadian actors and playwrights, coupled with the objective of providing the best in theatre.

Lillian Carlson, in the leading feminine role of Raina, daughter of Major Petkoff and his wife, Catherine, was particularly outstanding. Capt. Bluntschli, the leading man, was played by Floyd Caza.

MALNUTRITION OF "UNCLE JOE" IS POLISH CHILDREN UNPOPULAR WITH ALARMING TO FAO POLISH FLYER

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Immediate shipment of dried milk and codliver oil to Poland to arrest alarming malnutrition of children there was urged by Sir John Boyd Orr, director-general of the United Nations Food and Agriculture organization (FAO) today in a statement to officials of the United Polish Relief Fund of Canada.

When informed that the UPRFC was conducting a campaign in Canada this month to raise $1,500,000 for relief to the people of Poland, the noted Scottish nutritionist commented on Canada's extraordinary generosity during the war.

"The voluntary reduction of the consumption of bacon and butter by Canadians saved Britain in its hour of need," he said. "The people of Canada continue to show the same generosity and I hope that there will be an excellent response to the special appeal for help to Poland. I am certain that when the food story of the war and post-war period is written, the rising generation of Canada will be proud of the great contribution their country made to the alleviation of hunger and misery among their fellowmen in less fortunate countries."

Stating that he was exceptionally moved by the preliminary report of an FAO mission on the urgent need for help especially for mothers and children, Sir John said that in all European countries which were ravished by the war there will be difficulty this winter to retain rations even at the low level of last winter.

"Shortages of food, fuel and housing," he said, "is undermining the health of the people in these countries, and apart from the excessive death rate, the future of the countries, will be affected by the undernourishment of the children. People who are living in countries where food is relatively abundant should give all the help they can, even though it involves a certain amount of sacrifice."

In the special report made by the FAO economic mission to Poland it is stated that on ration cards milk will be available only for children up to three years of age at the rate of 7 litres (just over 6 quarts) per month, but none will be available on ration cards to children of other ages. The report also states that the inadequacy of the supply of vitamin concentrates in Poland is second only to the shortage of milk, and that this vitamin deficiency is responsible for the high proportion of ricket cases among Polish children.

RENTS ACREAGE

Mr. E. H. Bennett asked the council on Monday for rental of nearly four acres on Paradise Flat opposite his present gladioli farm. His suggested $60 per year rental was raised by the council to $75 per year.

WILL SELL LOT PORTION

Mrs. James' application for lot 3754, adjacent to her present property near the box factory, received council approval insofar as approximately three acres below the irrigation ditch is concerned. The council has decided it will sell this portion for $500. Councillor F. E. Atkinson, chairman of the real estate committee, reported on his inspection of this property.

SNOW MOUNTAIN AS SKI RESORT IS SUGGESTED

Reeve W. R. Powell and municipal council members expressed keen interest in the proposed Summerland Athletic Association, when a circular was read at Monday's council session from Jock Smith, organizer of the proposed parent sports group. His Worship intends to be present at the next organizational meeting.

At the same time, Reeve Powell expressed the thought that Snow Mountain would present a much better hill feature for an Okanagan ski resort than Silver Star, which is being boosted by Vernon for a provincial sports park.

"We could draw more at Snow Mountain for the amount involved than at Vernon," declared Reeve Powell, while Councillor Bentley observed that there is already a roadway part way up the hill feature.

"Skiing is a fine, clean sport," declared Reeve Powell, who will probably advocate the project at the next meeting of the sports representatives.

Have you taken the absorbent cotton out of your ears yet? The orchestra can make lots of noise but it doesn't always sound like music. We hear that Noreen Anderberg is going to sing with the orchestra; that's the way to do it Noreen, get in there and show the kids you can sing.

Our mayor informs me that the Saddle Hawkins dance was a big success. The highlights of this dance were the costumes and odd-looking mammals that strolled in. The boys cooked the food—hamburgers that weren't cooked properly—and as for the onions, we won't say.

Congratulations to the decoration committee for the nice job, or should I say mess.

The prize winners were: Best couple, Don Nesbitt and Gwen Lamcraft; best-dressed male, Ed Fleming, and the best-dressed female, Noreen Anderberg. What prizes they were: "This could happen to you."

We were honored by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Jock Smith and Miss Huston, who came with bells on.

Kids, don't forget to bring your parents out to the Teen Town social this Friday. There is a good program and this is our chance to show our parents what we do at Teen Town. So let's make it a big success.

SCOUT NEWS

The troop is building up fast with an excellent lot of boys and plenty of enthusiasm. All but perfect attendance was recorded last meeting with only two P/L's and two Seconds away. The troop has welcomed eight recruits this year, Hooker, Seigrist, Allen, Scriver, Coggan, Settle, Eyre and Arndt. We are also fortunate in having Doug Wakefield, who has transferred from a prairie troop and is now our new P/L of the Buffaloes, with Bill Eyre as his second.

Friday's meeting was highlighted by a visit from District Commissioner, Hatfield and District Scoutmaster Allington from Kaleden. Several new games were tried out and Commissioner Hatfield warned the boys about the danger from playing with dynamite and blasting caps. He complimented the troop on its turn-out, but asked the boys to try to get, and wear, full uniforms as soon as possible.

Any boys wishing to qualify for proficiency badges should talk to the Scoutmaster to find out the badges that can be earned and how they can be earned. There are some new regulations about badges.

Notice: Meeting, Friday, November 28, in school gym. Full uniform except short pants. Gym shoes are a must for games. More basketball and boxing this week. Duty patrol, Buffaloes.

Hall Crowded To Hear Report On Branham Revival

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 16, the IOOF hall was the scene of an inter-church rally, the occasion for report of the William Branham revival services at Vancouver, and also at Calgary and Edmonton.

Pastor A. J. Bowden, of the Evangelical Churches of Pentecost, convened the meeting. The first speaker was Rev. Greatorex of the Pentecostal church, Kelowna. He was followed by several lay members of various churches, who had attended the Branham campaign at Vancouver, some of them local people and some visitors from other Okanagan Valley towns.

Among the ministers on the rostrum were Rev. Larwill of the Standard church, Rev. Howell of Oliver Pentecostal church, Rev. Marks of Penticton, and Rev. Angell of West Summerland Free Methodist church.

The hall was filled to standing capacity by a happy crowd who entered heartily into the singing of spirited old-time hymns and the enjoyment of the testimonies of those who had taken part in the services at the coast, and had seen the miracles of healing in the ministry of Rev. Branham.

Revs. Larwill and Greatorex and some of the lay members had also attended the Calgary and Edmonton services, and bore word of these meetings. The general trend of the service was toward a re-affirmation of the simplicity of the Gospel in all its scriptural power for these modern times; especially in the matter of the occurrence of miraculous intervention on the part of God in lives of those who confessed to the Evangelical faith. Also in evidence was the unity of the Christian confession without regard to denomination.

Rev. Angell brought the concluding address of the afternoon, stressing the facts of the miracles as witnessed by the thousands in attendance at the various meetings. Contrib.

Weekly Paper Film Underway

The vital role of the Canadian weekly newspaper in the life of the community and the nation soon will get recognition on the motion picture screen. A film, still untitled and currently in the stage of being edited, is to be produced by the National Film Board depicting the important position held in each community by its weekly paper.

When released, the film will be available to film councils and film libraries and is being considered for release to theatres. It will also get nationwide screening on the NFB's extensive system of rural circuits. Eventually, it will be given international distribution through the board's foreign offices, Canada's embassies, legations and trade commissioners' offices. In this it will probably be produced in a number of foreign languages and may go to as many as 70 countries other than Canada and the United States.

NFB's film on the weekly newspapers of Canada will not be a mere screen document of the mechanics of publishing a paper. Of necessity, it will show the operations of publication, but the principal aim of the production will be to emphasize how vitally the paper and its editor and staff enter into community life and activities, how they serve the area covered by the paper and how the activities in that area affect the paper and its contents and services.

Rather than leap from one place to another and try to cover all of the hundreds of weekly newspapers in the Dominion—a process that would result in confusion and defeat the purpose of the film—the production will center around a single publication and use it to tell the story of all weeklies. Morten Parker, NFB director and his production crew spent several weeks filming the community and neighboring countryside at Vernon, B.C., concentrating on the Vernon News. The News, well-known to all weekly publishers and editors, was selected as representative of all Canadian weeklies. Release dates for the film have not been set.

SIX MILLIONS IN IRRIGATION PROJECTS SOUGHT

A delegation of ten, representing irrigation districts from Keremeos to Vernon went to Victoria on November 6 for an interview with Hon. E. T. Kenney to discuss differences in views as to the status of arrears accumulated between 1933 and 1937, prior to the 1938 agreement.

Some progress was made, in that the officials of the Water Rights branch were willing to accept the principle that token payments would be accepted after 1963, the date of termination of the Loughheed 30-year term, in payment of arrears and interest until the entire debt is liquidated, states A. W. Gray, president of the Association of B.C. Irrigation Districts, who headed the party.

The delegation held to its view that arrears that were amortized and subsequently collected, could not be charged against the district, and the districts should receive full credit for a payment in those years.

The final outcome was a decision to hold a conference in Vancouver with Dean Clement, Hon. E. T. Kenney and department officials, together with representatives of the Association of Irrigation Districts in the course of the next week or ten days, at which time the matter will be finally settled.

On the return trip from Victoria, the president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer called upon Dean Clement at the University, and after a talk with him on the subject, were more than ever convinced that the association was justified in its stand for complete implementation of the Clement report, and the necessity of getting the settlement established beyond any possible chance of misinterpretation by having it embodied in legislation.

TIMBER GRANT
The government has passed an order-in-council conveying to the University of British Columbia, title to nearly 10,000 acres of timber land contiguous to Garibaldi park for the purpose of offering a course of study in forestry at the university, it was announced by the Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests. Conveyance of this title now makes it possible for the B.C. Loggers' Association to proceed with its gift of $120,000 to the University School of Forestry.

SURVEY LIGHT LINES

As soon as J. D. McMynn, West Kootenay manager at Penticton, can spare the time, he will make a survey of the Summerland electrical system, along with Foreman T. P. Thornber, Councillor F. E. Atkinson told the council on Monday. He had expected the work to proceed before this but Mr. McMynn had been too busy with other matters.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Letter of appreciation for the widening and improvement work done on the Paradise flat road from the KVR station past his property was received by the municipal council from E. H. Bennett on Monday afternoon. "We should frame that one, as we don't get many such letters," was the council comment.

HEAVY INDUSTRY: HEAVY EQUIPMENT

Costly Machinery

IN the coastal region of British Columbia you can't make lumber by hand. It is an industry of big trees. That means its a heavy industry.

For every single workman on a company's payroll, someone must put up thousands of dollars... as much as six or seven thousand dollars per employee... to buy the tools of timber production.

Making lumber at a profit, then, becomes the joint enterprise of the people who put their money into tools of production and the people who receive good pay cheques steadily because they have the right tools to work with.

These tools wear out... become obsolete... have to be replaced. The industry must operate at a profit so that it can buy the new efficient machinery needed to pay good wage rates and keep B.C. lumber competitively priced in far distant markets.

Thus steady jobs, good wages, ability to sell lumber as reasonably as competitors, all depend absolutely on adequate profits being earned.

DESTROY ANIMALS WITH POISON GAS

VERNON—A member of the local branch of the SPCA will instruct Vernon's poundkeeper in the humane destroying of animals through poison gas. An offer from the society was accepted by the City Council following receipt of a letter from Miss L. M. Bishop, secretary of the Vernon SPCA. In writing the council, Miss Bishop said that the society had received a number of complaints and she again asked that "more humane" methods in disposing of unwanted dogs be used. "There ought to be a little more humane way of disposing of these dogs, alright," Alderman D. D. Harris declared. Council accepted the SPCA offer. Arthur Beasant, a member, will teach the poundkeeper.

Kelowna Wants Limited Taxation For School Costs

Complications of the district school setup under the Cameron plan were outlined by Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games of Kelowna in a lengthy brief to the school tax commission sitting in Vernon recently.

"We would like to point out the complications of the system when we state that when a school has to be built the school board has to go to no less than five authorities, five separate bylaws have to be passed and each authority has to float separately its own bonds." (In district No. 15, this number is reduced to three—the municipalities of Summerland and Penticton and the unorganized territory).

"We submit that it would be more satisfactory if the school district issued one bylaw for the whole district and sold its own bonds as the asset created by this borrowing becomes the property of the school district," continued the Kelowna brief.

"Thus, in that case both the liability and the asset becomes the district school boards and they would be responsible for repayment, collecting of course for this purpose by levy according to the act from each municipality and unorganized territory through their annual estimates.

"We submit that the taxation on the land has again become more than the land can bear and is badly hampering improvements in municipalities which are proper responsibilities of real property.

"We believe that Professor Cameron's original intention (five mills limit on 100 percent of the land and 75 percent of improvement) should be carried out and the taxation actually limited on land and improvements to that suggested by him and that should be the limit of this taxation for school purposes.

"All other costs should be taken from the consolidated revenue of the province and to safeguard the government, administration should be taken over by the province with, possibly, local advisory board representing the local taxpayer.

"We think that for school taxation purposes there should be one assessment authority and that should be provincial-wide and be independent of municipal assessment and should be the assessment for school taxation only.

"This council is not in favor of a sales tax for the purpose of education. Such a tax, we believe, would further aggravate the rising cost of living and would bear very heavily on those with fixed incomes, especially those with small pensions and would be in many cases a tax on those less able to pay."

Gordon Wismer to Broadcast Tonight

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., will take to the airwaves this evening to explain to the people of B.C. the provisions of the new "public safety and financial responsibility" amendments to the motor vehicle act. His address will be heard over CKOV or CKOK at 9:45 p.m. tonight, Thursday.

The motor vehicle act, which comes into force next March, was passed after a thorough study of similar legislation in other Canadian provinces and in the United States. The attorney-general will outline briefly its benefits, both to the public and the motorist. The major benefit will be the decrease in traffic fatalities and accidents which should result from implementation of the act's provisions.

MAT HASSEN TO RETIRE FROM FAIR

After thirty-four years as secretary-manager of the Interior Provincial Exhibition at Armstrong, Mat Hassen is retiring from that post. Pressure of his private business has caused him to take this step, he informed the directorate last week in tendering his resignation.

In those 34 years of operation, the exhibition has only once shown a debit balance and that was in 1915, Mr. Hassen stated. His resignation takes effect by April 30, 1948.

TALKS ON EARLY HISTORY OF B.C.

Tracing the history of British Columbia from the year 1774, when it was first discovered by the Spaniard Perez, Councillor F. E. Atkinson proved an interesting speaker at a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Summerland.

He spoke of the Royal Engineers party who came from Great Britain in 1858 and were mainly responsible for the establishment of the first type of civil government in the province. The gold rush brought in 30,000 reckless fortune seekers to mingle with the twenty forts which were prospering in furs and fishing along the coast.

In those days the law of the club and fang was the arbiter in all disputes. His anecdotes of early pioneer days, as discovered in his research into early B.C. history proved an interesting part of his talk.

NORTH OKANAGAN WANTS PROVINCE TO ASSUME COSTS

VERNON—"School taxes are going up and up. We can't pay a cent more. We already are paying more than our neighbors." This was gist of "tales of woe" from North Okanagan taxpayers heard during two days of hearings by the provincial commission hearing submissions on the school tax question at Vernon last week.

The cure, according to those who suggested one, was that the province take over the whole problem of raising school funds. There also was a general request that taxes be taken off the land and that costs be made a charge against general provincial revenue or be raised by a sales tax.

Kelowna Board of Trade went on record on Thursday evening as being opposed to the suggestion that school finances be raised by means of a sales tax, arguing that this would mean a tax upon existing taxes.

BENNETT HEADS CEMETERY GROUP

In order to formulate plans for next season's cemetery improvements, a planning committee headed by E. H. Bennett has been selected and consists of Dr. James Marshall, V. Charles, Fred Garrett and J. Imayoshi.
