

Hospital Insurance Plan Changes Operating Surplus To Deficit Meeting Is Told

Due to an insurance plan operating loss of almost $4,000 in the past year, the Summerland Hospital Society financial statement showed a loss of $1,528.80, despite an operating surplus of $2,298.24, the annual meeting of the hospital and the society learned last Thursday afternoon at the Parish hall.

Highlight of the year was the opening of the new maternity wing and nurses' home, built at a cost of $43,983.16, which money was raised by the Municipality of Summerland and the provincial government.

In giving the financial picture of the hospital, Secretary J. E. O'Mahony gave the meeting figures which showed tremendous increase in earnings and expenditures in the past six years.

In 1942, expenditures amounted to $13,511 while the 1947 expenditures increased to nearly $33,000, it was pointed out. Earnings had increased in proportion. Also the number of patient days at the hospital had jumped up from 2,472 in 1942 to 5,417 in 1947.

Big Wages Paid

Half the expenditure in 1947 was made up of salaries and wages which amounted to $16,892.81 after board and lodging were deducted, the statement showed. Total expenditures were $22,934.73, after allowing $3,287.18 for depreciation. The operating surplus was listed at $2,298.24.

Patients under the hospital insurance plan would have paid $10,202.05 for their stay in the hospital if the scheme was not in effect, while the instalments earned by the insurance plan amounted to $6,202.75, making a loss on the plan of $3,999.30.

Ordinary patients' fees for 1947 amounted to $15,808.56, while grants amounted to $8,516.35. Donations totalled $705.11 for a total revenue of $35,233.07. The provincial government per capita grant amounted to $4,996.15 and social assistance grant was $387 for a total of $5,383.15. The Corporation of Summerland paid in $2,876.30 on the per capita grant.

The auditor's report indicated that a reserve of $1,500 would be necessary this year to take care of estimated bad debts which would have to be written off. Last year, $589.58 was written off for bad debts, and a reserve of $773.75 had been listed.

Complete figures on the past six years expenditures and earnings were given by Mr. O'Mahony, as follows:

Year	Expend.	Revenues
1942	$13,511.03	$10,829.84
1943	13,917.94	11,581.15
1944	17,495.44	14,722.39
1945	20,957.17	22,464.98
1946	25,456.28	26,700.73
1947	32,934.73	35,233.07

Increase in the number of patients was also listed as follows:

Year	New	Out	Pat.
1942	36	235	2472
1943	35	235	2708
1944	39	292	3542
1945	46	404	4713
1946	76	619	5417
1947	92	633	5417

Emergency Lights

Mr. O'Mahony listed improvements in the past year as opening of the new wing and nurses' home, emergency lights for the operating room, new revolving clothes-line and improvement in the oxygen supply.

Four Hundred Car Licences Are Issued

Up to yesterday afternoon, 400 car licences and 178 truck licences had been issued by B.C. Police Constable Terence Thorsteinson at the local police office, a near record for this community.

Summerland car licence's total is impressive, being one-third of the total issued from Penticton up to mid-week, Constable Thorsteinson reports and he was completely sold out of car licence plates yesterday afternoon.

He still had 25 truck licence plates on hand when he went to Penticton to obtain more car licences.

No provision was made this year for licences to be issued by a local business man to relieve the local police constable and allow him to carry out his normal police duties.

In the past two years, arrangements were made through the government office in Penticton for this service for local motorists but such a deal was not forthcoming this year, despite efforts on the part of the police constable, the government agent in Penticton, Reeve Johnston and the Summerland council and members of the Summerland Board of Trade, who sought assistance from W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South Okanagan.

Mr. Bennett promised to discuss this subject with governmental departments this week at Victoria.

Delegation On Separation To Go Next Week

"We expect to go to Victoria on this school question next week, probably towards the end of the week," declared Reeve Reid A. Johnston to The Review yesterday when asked concerning the delegation which plans to interview the government on the matter of separation of Summerland from School District No. 15.

Reeve Johnston will be accompanied from Summerland by ex-Reeve W. R. Powell and Municipal Clerk F. J. Nixon.

Penticton's delegation is expected to consist of Reeve Robert Lyon and Councillor J. W. Johnston.

Dr. T. F. Parmley, chairman of the school district, will accompany the delegation to present the trustees' side of the question.

The Union of B.C. Municipalities has already met the cabinet and presented the municipalities' stand that they cannot meet the increased costs of education as shown by the budgets being introduced throughout the province by the school districts.

Baseball For 1948 Topic of Meet Friday

Prospects for 1948 baseball in Summerland will be the subject of the annual meeting of the Summerland Baseball Club tomorrow night at the Nu-Way Annex and some important decisions regarding entry of the local club in valley competition are likely to be made.

This spring, the Living Memorial athletic park will be available for baseball and in some quarters it is stated that Summerland should step up into keener competition, in lieu of the new grounds.

Last year, Summerland won the South Okanagan division ball championship and then lost to Princeton in a sudden-death final game for the championship of the South Okanagan-Similkameen baseball league.

At the same time, Summerland put up an excellent showing against teams from the international league in exhibition games.

Last Friday evening, delegates from Osoyoos, Hedley, Summerland, Peachland, Rutland and Kelowna Cubs met at the Nu-Way Annex to discuss prospects for the South Okanagan-Similkameen league.

It was decided that this league should be continued and all ten clubs of 1947 were given three weeks to register with the league and attend an annual meeting in Summerland on Sunday, March 21.

Princeton is definitely seeking a berth in the Okanagan-International league which last year comprised teams from Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver, Osoyoos, Oroville and three other American towns just south of the border.

However, a meeting of the international loop was held last Sunday and considered thirteen applications for 1948. The league decided it could not cope with that many teams and decided to include only those eight clubs which registered last year.

Princeton and Hedley are now believed to be talking a loop which would include Kamloops, Vernon, Summerland, Hedley and Princeton, with the possible inclusion of Kelowna, if that team did not wish to continue in the international schedule.

This suggested setup would mean that Summerland would be forced to travel 140 miles to Kamloops and 85 miles to Princeton for games, an expensive proposition.

First Blooms Give Proof Spring Is Here

Last week, Mrs. Magnus Tait reported Snowdrops and Winter Aconite in bloom, heralding the arrival of spring, although the weather man has had the odd thing to say about that question this week.

On Monday, Mrs. E. Kercher reported to The Review that the first crocus blooms have been appearing.

The Review reporter, believing that the J. J. Blewett's have generally heralded the arrival of the first crocus, telephoned to Mrs. Blewett but she admitted that Mrs. Kercher must have an edge this year, albeit rather sadly.

A few minutes later, however Mrs. Blewett phoned back to The Review that she had had another look in her garden and, sure enough, there were some crocuses peeking out from the damp soil.

HOCKEY COACHES GUESTS OF AOTS SUPPER MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the AOTS club was held in Lakeside United church on February 26, preceded by a supper put on by the Lakeside Junior W.A. The men had as their guests the five men who had helped coach the junior hockey teams during this season: Dennis Nield, Art Dunsdon, Sam Imayoshi, Godfrey Chadbourne and Bert Berry. Following a sing-song led by Frank Doumont and T. Wallace Boothe, the guest speaker, Mr. J. A. English of Penticton outlined the work of a meteorologist in compiling weather reports. Mr. Harvey Wright thanked the speaker on behalf of the club members.

Following the business meeting, a nominating committee of Gordon Beggs, Walter Charles and Honey Wilson was appointed to select nominees for the officers to be elected at the next meeting, which is the annual meeting of the club.

School System History Told To Rotary Club

Development of the educational system in Summerland was the theme of a short talk given to the Rotary Club of Summerland on Friday evening last by S. A. MacDonald, elementary school principal, who came here to take charge of the school in 1919, and had not missed one day of school until late last year.

Mr. MacDonald went back to 1903, when the first school was established in the lower town, followed by a "town" school below the present hospital. Schools in outlying sections of the community were brought into existence in 1908 in Prairie Valley and 1907 in Garnet Valley, followed the next year with a two-room school on Slush Flat.

This two-room school project was submitted to tender but the bids were too high, stated Mr. MacDonald, drawing the comparison with present-day conditions. A principal, the late J. C. Robson had been employed to operate this prospective school but he was forced to start in the upstairs portion of the building now occupied by Laidlaw & Co.

Now School Gym However, Mr. Robson was an energetic man and he soon obtained the assistance of Hon. Price Ellison, who pushed through a contract in ten days and the school which now comprises the main portion of the present school gymnasium, was built.

Okanagan College for pupils desiring higher education, was made available from 1908 on and in 1910 a high school was incorporated into the school system here.

It was in 1911 that the school board decided to build a central school and bring in the pupils from outlying territories by horse-drawn vans. Thus a four-room school, which is the present high school, came into being.

In the meantime, a school had been established at Trout Creek.

By 1918, manual training classes were commenced in what is now the boys' dressing room of the school gym.

Travelled on Foot

When Mr. MacDonald came to Summerland in 1919, he was principal of the four-room central school and also supervised the schools in Garnet Valley and Trout Creek and the "Town" school, covering this wide territory on foot, as he had no means of transportation.

The years 1919 to 1922 showed great expansion and the present library building was pressed into use as a school room. The high school was moved up to the Okanagan College buildings for a time and then in the annex to the hotel in lower town and also in the old Methodist church building, since torn down.

The larger eight-room central school was built in 1922, by which time the outlying schools were closed and the high school was moved to its present quarters.

No major changes in school system were made from then until 1946, when District 15 was organized.

This change, however, does not affect the teaching staff to any extent but has been observed mainly in changes of administration, he observed.

Mr. MacDonald closed his brief talk with the observation that, "the tales brought home from school classes are nothing to the tales told by the pupils at school."

Big Crowd Thrills To Speed and Skill of Ski Entries at Local Meet

Most successful ski tournament in the history of Summerland and one of the outstanding sports events of the winter season in the Okanagan was staged last weekend by the Summerland Ski club at its grounds in Meadow Valley. Competitors from Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton and Princeton vied with local club entrants for honors in the downhill and slalom races for junior and senior men and ladies.

A large crowd of spectators thrilled to the speed of the skiers in the downhill events and expressed their admiration of the adroitness displayed by the slalom entries.

Don Agur, was the outstanding Summerland contestant, winning the men's downhill event in the speedy time of 1 minute 44 4/5 seconds and placing fifth in the senior men's slalom, to capture the combined aggregate trophy.

Dudley Paul, whose brother was winning national honors at Banff and Steve Cassa, also of Princeton, were chief proponents of the art of skiing from the Similkameen and won both major prizes in the junior men's events.

Penticton, Kelowna and Summerland ladies were the major winners of the feminine events, with Ruth Kliz capturing the major local prize with first place in the junior ladies' downhill.

Twisted Ankle

Despite the steepness of the runs, only one accident occurred to any competitor, when Bill Stewart of Penticton twisted his ankle. Barry Agur, 13, of Peachland, although he was not in any races, suffered a broken arm in a fall.

Only other casualty was reported by Walter Powell, who broke his valuable pair of skis.

At an Okanagan zone meeting on Saturday night here prior to the meet, it was stated that Summerland can have the Okanagan ski championships for 1949 if a jumping hill can be located.

Don Agur, president of the local club, believes that a hill can be built at a cost of $250 and he intends to make every effort to have the hill located before next ski season rolls around.

Recent falls of snow were sufficient to last out the events, although the slalom hill was nearly bare in spots after some thirty-five entries had been over the course.

Two-Way Radio

One of the features of the day's arrangements was the two-way radio communication system provided through the Summerland high school Cadets Corps.

This system proved of great value in providing accurate timing, with the competitors actually starting on a signal received from the finish post where the timers' stop watches were located.

This system was operated by Cadets Lorne Logie and Don Allison under the supervision of Howard Shannon.

A public address system was handled by Mrs. J. McLachlan, assisted by Mrs. Nancy Avery, while entries were handled by Miss Dorothy MacDonald, Miss Gwen Atkinson, Mrs. Phil Munro and Mrs. Don Agur.

Mrs. McLachlan and Mrs. W. B. Powell also handled the scoring of winners. Starters included Bill Snow, Bill Strachan and Verne Ahrens of Kelowna. Timers consisted of Joe McLachlan, Francis Stuart, Glen Ferguson and Fred Dunsdon.

A ski patrol under the management of Howard Morgan of Kelowna, assisted by Don Tait, Walter Shannon and Fred Dunsdon.

Mrs. A. B. Elliott has returned from Vancouver, where she has spent the winter months and is taking up residence at her home in Parkdale area this week.

Red Cross Launches Annual Appeal For Funds Throughout This District

Annual appeal for the Canadian Red Cross is being launched in Summerland district this week along with a drive across Canada to raise $8,000,000. Canvassers have been appointed and everything is in readiness to ensure that the citizens of this district make a worthy contribution to this annual appeal.

Mr. Jack Dunsdon is in charge for the second year of the Summerland campaign on behalf of the local branch of the Red Cross Society. The quota in Summerland is set at $1,800 this year, the campaign committee states.

This three million dollar appeal will support services "which cannot be neglected without loss to the health and welfare of the Canadian people." Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King stated this week from Ottawa, "In contributing to the Red Cross appeal citizens will be performing a humanitarian service of nation-wide significance."

These Red Cross services include extension of the blood transfusion service, commenced in B.C. last year; disaster relief, continuation of the outpost hospital and nursing station services now active in 71 frontier communities; crippled children's work, free public instruction in swimming and water safety, first aid, home nursing and nutrition and other work for the improvement of health, prevention of disease and relief of suffering.

Five more provinces have signed agreements with the Red Cross blood transfusion service and this service will soon be available to citizens of Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, besides B.C. and Alberta, where the system is already in operation.

In Summerland, a first aid centre at the medical-dental clinic has been made possible through arrangement with the Red Cross. A stretcher and blankets are on loan there from the Red Cross and a list of first aiders has been made available through arrangement with the St. John Ambulance Assn.

Canvassers have been arranged by Mr. Dunsdon's campaign committee as follows:

Mrs. E. L. Farnham, Hospital Hill; Gordon Mountford, Paradise Flat and Peach Valley; Phil Dunsdon and Albert Dickinson, Garnet Valley; Clive Atkinson, Giant's Head; John Betuzzi, Happy Valley and Front Benches; Francis Steurt and Jack Dunsdon, Jones Flat; Ken Boothe, Switchback road; Bob Blensdale and Bill Sherwood, Victoria Gardens; Les Gould, Prairie Valley; Gerry Laidlaw, Baptist church hill; W. H. F. Welsh, Station Road; Edward Smith, Solly subdivision; Alan McKenzie and W. S. Ritchie, Quin-pole Flats; Doreen Tait, Trout Creek Point; Mrs. E. Britton, Peach Orchard; Dr. J. C. Wilcox, Experimental Station; Mel Dunsdon, West Summerland business district; Mrs. George Forster, Crescent Beach; Jim Hock, Jubilee road; Mrs. A. Stark, lower town.

FOR Human KINDNESS...

With suffering reaching unprecedented proportions abroad—and with our people at home facing many complex problems of peace, the need for generosity and kindness of heart was never greater than right now.

In such times as these, people turn to the Red Cross as to an old friend, confident that they will receive help seasoned with friendship and a deep understanding of their problems.

In Canada, the work of mercy moves ahead. Red Cross services are now established in many humanitarian fields . . . Blood Transfusion Service; to save lives of mothers in childbirth, accident victims . . . Out-patient Hospitals in northern settlements, so that our isolated citizens may have medical care in their times of need . . . Aid for our veterans, disabled, in distress . . . Junior Red Cross, inspiring our children to better health, good citizenship . . . and many other important services. We invite you to share in this great and far-reaching work.

That Government Office

Failure of government departments to agree on policy was demonstrated again in Summerland in the past couple of weeks when the motoring public was put to great inconvenience in the matter of obtaining motor licences.

B. C. Police, when a new contract was signed with the municipal council last year, agreed to see that the local constable would not be burdened with the task of issuing new licences during the rush season of February and early March.

It was explained then that the policeman, to enforce law and order in the large territory allotted to him here, could not spend the time on the issuance of licences. And at the same time it was pointed out that the motoring public was not getting a fair deal when only the policeman was available as an issuing officer.

Last year, at the last moment, government departments agreed and a local business man was given the task of issuing these licences. When the new police contract was signed this year, it was suggested that the same policy would be continued, but it was not pressed.

Consequently, the governmental departments did not agree to an appointment this year and the B.C. Police constable had to cope with the situation. Some persons did not choose to wait in such a lengthy queue but went to neighboring towns. Others were greatly inconvenienced, when the policeman was called away from issuing licences to attend to police duties, after standing in line for long periods.

This situation results from disagreement between government departments. The B.C. police have the contract with the municipality to police the district. The motor vehicles branch is the issuing authority for licences, while the provincial secretary's department handles government agencies.

It would come under the scope of the government agents' group that a licence issuing officer would be appointed, we understand.

Such confusion and government department ineptitude leads us more firmly to the belief that it is high time another effort, a determined effort this time, be made to obtain a governmental sub-agency for Summerland district.

Summerland residents have been penalized long enough by having to travel twenty miles to deal with governmental agencies.

One of these days, the B.C. Police will refuse to handle licences in Summerland and all motorists will have to go to neighboring towns where there is a government office. It has already happened in Castlegar, where motorists have to travel 28 miles into Trail to get their licences.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

Jack Manten is a most enterprising nurseryman. I met him in an apple storage room at the experimental station. He had come all the way from White Rock to see a new seedling apple, number 513. I had a most enjoyable chat with him which went somewhat as follows:

Agrologist: Good afternoon, Jack, what brings you all the way from the coast in the dead of winter?

Jack: I've come to see for myself whether this new apple A. J. Mann is so enthusiastic about is really as good as he says it is.

Agrologist: Have you been disappointed?

Jack: On the contrary, I'm very favorably impressed.

Agrologist: What do you like about seedling No. 513?

Jack: I like the tree characters. It seems to be vigorous and has a very strong framework. Furthermore, the uneven length of the spur growth indicates that it is an annual bearer.

Agrologist: What about the fruit characters?

Jack: As you can see from these specimens the shape is much like that of Jonathan, which I understand is one of the parents, but the contour is smoother and more symmetrical. The color also is similar to Jonathan.

Agrologist: How about the flavor?

Jack: As you will find out if you try one the flavor is unique. To me it is most pleasing, and I understand that other people who have had the privilege of sampling number 513 like the taste of it.

Agrologist: The texture seems to me a little tough. What do you think?

Jack: I agree with you that several varieties, for example Golden Delicious, have a finer texture, but I think most consumers will be satisfied with the flesh characteristics of number 513.

Agrologist: What is your impression of the storage life of this new apple?

Jack: That is what impresses me most. It appears to be very resistant to storage troubles such as shrivelling, scald, spotting, mealliness, rots and breakdown. It has a good tough skin which should give it excellent handling characteristics. As you will note these specimens here are still in excellent condition, whereas McIntosh, Jonathan and Delicious held in the same common storage are no longer fit for sale.

Agrologist: Do you think number 513 is worth growing on a commercial scale?

Jack: That is a 64 dollar question. I'm going to gamble on a few trees myself, but I'm quite sure even the originator, A. J. Mann, will want to test this new apple for another ten years before he is prepared to state whether or not it should be planted on a commercial scale.

Agrologist: This business of breeding new apples surely does require plenty of patience.

The Mail Bag

Box 64, Summerland, March 1, 1948.

Editor, The Review:

I crave the hospitality of your columns to make some comment on a sheet that came by mail, entitled "I'm Sick of Socialism"; inasmuch as I understand that it has been widely circulated in and around this district.

Normally, communications of this kind find their way to the wastebasket unread, especially the ones, such as this, whose parentage is of such a nature that the less said about it the better; as I have found by experience that the time spent in reading them is wasted.

This particular sheet is no exception, and were it not for the fact that it is evidently part of the current political campaign I would not do it the honor of a moment's notice.

I would like to say at the start that I am sorry for the reputed author of this attack on the present government of Great Britain; she has evidently suffered, along with millions of others, both during the war, which was to be expected, and before it, as she says herself "those disastrous years of the twenties were a grim reminder that the price of victory could be destruction". Which government is she blaming for that?

She wanted peace without poverty. "It was not too much to expect". Here she is absolutely wrong. It is too much to expect, as far as Britain is concerned—the war beggared Britain.

Those rations which, as she says, were carried across "seas swarming with submarines" didn't have to be paid for; the food she eats now, has to be bought and paid for, in competition with the greater part of Europe and Asia.

As for the housing, how many houses does she want? She already has one! And it seemed to me that Anaurin Eovan's reason, not excuse, for having to reduce the target was perfectly valid; there just wasn't that much material to go round.

And let me assure the lady, that I could mention a country where the housing shortage is almost as bad as it is in Britain, and not through lack of material, or the overhanging presence of a socialist government.

As to the cost of living, well, Britain is not the only place where that has gone up.

One other point I will deal with. The author says that "one of the main reasons for the decline in popularity of the labor government is its insistence in carrying on with the party program." This is where she lets the cat out of the bag for party program you must read election program.

It is the insistence on keeping its pledges to the electorate that is biting Mrs. Skinner.

The Labor government is not trying to make Mrs. Skinner's life a misery. They are doing the best they can, under the circumstances, to see that she and the other members of the population, are fed and clothed and sheltered to the greatest possible extent.

After all they have to seek reelection. And the proof of the pudding lies in the results of the by-elections. I do not wish to be unkind to Mrs. Skinner, but I must say that I much prefer the old costerwoman in the Lambeth Walk as my guide to the spirit of Britain.

Yours very truly, F. E. G. PLUNKETT.

Teen Town

By NEB

Well, Teen Towners, at last we have some news for you.

Last week a council meeting was held at yours truly's house with our mayor, Jack "Scoop" Dunham presiding. Aldermen attending were Mary Ward, Dennis Hack, Marlon Richards, Chuck Brauner, Wally Day and Don Nesbitt.

Among the items discussed and decided on at this meeting were: Our new secretary is Mary Ward; our new treasurer is Don Nesbitt—trusting souls, aren't they. Wally Day was "railroaded" in as city engineer; our new police force is Chuck Brauner, Marlon Richards, Hugh McLarty and David Turnbull.

The entertainment committee has two new members Luella Polesello and Joan Howard.

We have received our 1948 membership cards and they are now on sale by our membership committee which is headed by Ruth Nesbitt. Let's bring our membership up to 200 this year.

Ruth Nesbitt and Marlon Richards attended an interior Teen Town association conference in Vernon two weeks ago. The council heard a very interesting report on this conference by Marlon, who even mentioned, and I quote: "Stop the bus."

The next dance may be held on the 12th so watch for the dodgers.

That's 30 for tonight, see you at Teen Town.

Dominion Must Assist Provinces Financially To Greater Extent, Says Bennett To Tory Banquet

"The province has reached the limit of its finances in roads and social assistance expenditures and must obtain help from the Dominion," was the declaration of W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South Okanagan and candidate for the Progressive-Conservatives in the Yale federal by-election, at a Progressive-Conservative banquet held in the Legion hall on Tuesday, Feb. 24.

"Great provincial highway systems are being planned, but unless we get federal assistance these plans cannot be fulfilled," he continued, instancing that the Dominion takes a big share of revenue from tourist trade and should support the provinces in their road programs thereof.

No Word on Aid
He instanced United States highways, which are built with at least fifty percent federal money being involved. Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, had no information on when the Dominion government is going to help out on B.C.'s highway program of national and international highways.

At the outset of his talk, Mr. Bennett brought a message from Hon. Crote Stirling, the retired M.P. for Yale, who wished to thank Summerland for its support in past elections.

"It was not an easy choice to leave the provincial political field as I have been very happy there and the things you deal with in Victoria are closer to home, more day-to-day affairs.

"I was elected as a coalitionist and I have endeavored to keep that pact and support the coalition whenever possible. But I did not hesitate to vote against the government when I thought the vote was not in the interests of the province as a whole.

"I never looked for the Yale nomination because I felt happy at Victoria," Mr. Bennett explained, "but in the face of that unanimous standing vote at Pentiction I could not do otherwise."

Imperial Preference

Mr. Bennett declared that the Okanagan depends on the fruit industry and there must be proper protection for that industry. But Mackenzie King has never felt that the apple industry is important, the speaker stated, as he has eliminated most of the imperial preference and taken away the advantage which this valley obtained thereby.

"We must have that imperial preference for our fruit and we cannot close our eyes to losing that market, which is sought by the United States.

"When the Progressive-Conservative party is re-elected to power, we intend to get back that preference, which was given to us by the R. B. Bennett government." He also advocated the placing of adequate dump duties at the time the Okanagan commodities are for sale.

Mr. Bennett did not consider that the previous federal marketing act, as provided by the old Bennett regime, was ever properly presented to the Privy Council, which legislative body declared the act ultra vires.

"But the Mackenzie King government is getting scared now and may put back that federal act before the session is over.

No Representation

"That is one of the reasons it is a shame Yale is not represented right now at Ottawa," he continued, pointing out that there is still no by-election in sight. He blamed the Liberals at Ottawa for stalling on the by-election and also noted that the local Liberals had postponed their nomination convention when told to do by "higher up" authority.

"This Valley should protest in every way that it is not represented at Ottawa now," Mr. Bennett urged.

The speaker then swung into a discussion of John Bracken, the P.C. federal leader, and claimed that agriculture is fortunate to have such a leader as John Bracken.

Mr. Bennett termed his party the most progressive in Canada, the party which has always placed the country first.

Spoke Against Act

For a moment, Mr. Bennett was diverted to provincial politics when the dwelt on the school costs debate. "He believed the government acted too quickly in allowing the minister of education, then Dr. Weir, to shove through the new school act. He was the only member who opposed the legislation, both in caucus and on the floor of the house, Mr. Bennett declared.

The provincial government, despite the fact that the Dominion is taking the lion's share of income tax revenue, is spending millions more than the Dominion on education, social services, health and hospitals, Mr. Bennett advocated a per capita grant of $5 from the Dominion, to take the load off the land.

"I was the first member in the legislature to advocate that the PFRA come into B.C. Mr. Bracken agrees with this policy and will make the act applicable to every province," Mr. Bennett promised. "We must develop our resources and build up our country into a great power," he enthused.

Lost Billion Dollars

At this stage, Mr. Bennett spoke at some length on the dollar shortage and expressed the belief that the King government has "missed the boat" by not watching the U.S. dollar situation. A billion dollars in U.S. funds were lost to Canada in two years he declared.

"When our dollar was placed on a par with the American dollar it tempted everybody to buy U.S. goods," explained Mr. Bennett. "We lost our chance right then to start building up our country. Canada has been placed in an almost bankrupt state. We must settle our bills with the United States direct because the triangle between Canada, the U.S. and Great Britain has been broken.

"Our party pointed out time and again where this policy would lead us, but the government wouldn't listen," he continued. "I ever a country was brought close to near bankruptcy, it was Canada last fall."

Mr. Bennett also declared himself in favor of a policy of dealing with the United States on a basis of equality, "not being led around by the nose." He claimed that Washington dictates too many moves on the part of Ottawa.

"The Liberal policy of free trade has fallen down completely and what we need is a new national policy."

He referred to the government action of removing price ceilings and subsidies at the same time, thus providing a "ridiculous situation and wild inflation."

Subsidy Continuation
"The good work of the government in the war years was entirely undone in the two years since," he believed, pointing out that subsidies should have been continued, if not increased, when price ceilings were removed, so that the consumer could be protected.

Mr. Bennett then swung into a discussion on old age pensions, going back to 1941 when he moved at the first caucus of the coalition government that the old age pensions be boosted $5 per month.

Now there is a $10 bonus and the federal rate is $30 per month, of which the federal government pays 75 percent and the province 25 percent. The P-C government in Ontario is the only other government which can equal this old age payment, he stated, pointing out that the CCF government in Saskatchewan has cancelled its bonus completely.

"At $40 it's still not on a satisfactory basis," continued Mr. Bennett declaring there should be no means test and no penalty on thrift. He advocated a minimum of $50 per month, payable at 65, with everybody obtaining this grant and everybody paying in to its attainment.

"I have been asked how we can have development in Canada and taxation reduction at the same time, and I say that the government has set up a surplus of more than $750 million dollars in the past ten months.

"We have war-time revenues with peace-time expenditure, and if we continue like this, it will change inflation to deflation.

"Our people must be freed so that they can produce more goods at a cheaper level and compete with other countries," he concluded.

Soil analysis

Soil testing to determine requirements is basic to intelligent fertilizer application.

Since 1937, Buckerfield's Soil Test Laboratory has tested and reported on more than 10,000 soil samples from all parts of B.C.

This funded experience has led to an intimate knowledge of the fertility status and requirements of the soils of British Columbia.

If in doubt, write your nearest Buckerfield's branch for soil test forms. This service is modern, unprejudiced and free.

We have introduced a number of highly concentrated mixtures, such as 6-30-15 and 10-20-10, providing economies up to $10.00 per ton, with further savings in freight and labour.

True reports on the works of the Red Cross by leading Canadian writers

The case of the 7 strangers

by Claire Wallace

There is a man in Canada who has the blood of seven total strangers in his veins. Maybe you wince at that idea. He doesn't. Without it, he would be dead.

Two years ago he was seriously injured in a crash. He received desperate head injuries, and a delicate operation was imperative. But shock and loss of blood had so weakened him that he couldn't have survived one. If seven strangers had not stepped in,

They were Canadian men and women who had each given a blood donation to the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service. When the doctors called for blood to save the life of the accident victim, it was the blood of those seven which pulled him through.

"Were you one of them?" Today he is a healthy, happy, useful citizen of Victoria, British Columbia. The only thing that marks him as different from the average man is a rather searching look that sometimes comes into his eyes as he walks along the street. For he often thinks of the seven who saved his life and wonders who they are. As he looks into a stranger's face, he silently asks: "Were you one of them? If so, I thank you from my heart."

Similarly, the mother who gave birth to twins and would have died except for blood transfusions... the baby so anemic at birth he could be kept alive only by donated blood... the maimed... the sick... the old—all those who owe their lives to blood transfusions say: "Thanks, unknown friend."

Free blood for Canadian hospitals

The Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service plans, as soon as possible, to extend whole blood and plasma free to all patients needing it, in hospitals across Canada. Already, two provinces—British Columbia and Alberta—provide this life-saving service. Last year, Alberta and British Columbia distributed 21,644 bottles of whole blood and 2,304 bottles of plasma, resulting in the saving of many lives.

But it takes money as well as blood to save these lives. Remember this, as the Canadian Red Cross appeals to you now for funds. Give generously. A life may depend upon your donation.

The work of mercy never ends... Give generously to the CANADIAN RED CROSS

Red Cross Services include: Blood Transfusion, Outpost Hospitals, Aid to Sick and Disabled Veterans, Treatment for Crippled Children, Disaster Relief, Nutrition Services, Home Nursing Courses, Swimming and Water Safety, etc.

THE FARMER'S PART

IN ALL cities and towns, of wheat growing countries, a common sight is the grain elevator—very often where there is little else to be seen in a village, the elevator stands as an indicator of the industry and well-being of the farmers in that district. This is where he takes his produce; where it is sorted for grading and re-loaded for shipment. The word "elevator" is applied to these large storehouses because of the manner in which the grain is elevated by machinery into them from ships and cars.

"When we contemplate the vast industry of baking we must needs pause and consider the farmer upon whom it is wholly dependent. Were it not for his energetic toil from rise to set of sun the entire system of the world today would fall. The amount of our dependence on this hard-working man cannot be approximated. Without his wheat we would have no bread; we could not live.

Hospital Insurance

machine has had to be sent to the coast to be remodelled with a crystal control unit to eliminate radio interference, as demanded by the department of transport. This will cost about $260 and is only a temporary measure.

Fire fighting equipment at the hospital is in first-class shape and new extinguishers have been purchased, he stated. He noted that the blood transfusion service offered by the Red Cross Society is made available here with the supply being kept at Penticton.

A new scale of salaries went into effect last July 1 and the hospital insurance contract rates were increased in view of the increasing deficit.

Mr. O'Mahony expressed the thought that health insurance may be adopted on a national basis this year as the B.C. government is pressing hard for some policy to be put into force.

Auxiliary Lauded
Throughout the meeting, speakers lauded the hospital auxiliary for its efforts on behalf of the hospital. Retiring president, Mrs. F. E. Atkinson and her members were given hearty votes of appreciation for the auxiliary efforts.

Mrs. Atkinson, in giving her report, stated that 1947 was one of the heaviest years since she took over the presidency with the opening of the two buildings making it necessary to provide a large number of furnishings. She lauded the "wonderful co-operation" of auxiliary members.

Growth of the auxiliary has been steady but not spectacular, she stated, and also referred to criticism which had been voiced on auxiliary purchasing.

This criticism she termed unfair as the buying committee had been instructed to purchase from local merchants whenever possible. In some cases, she stated, a hospital supply house at Vancouver was able to furnish more goods than were obtainable in Summerland and the buying committee was forced to make its purchases there.

Many Contributions
Starting the year with a balance of more than $600, the auxiliary ended the season with a balance of $404, after providing hospital equipment to the value of $1,392.79. Of this total $430 worth of donations had been received, plus a $100 donation from Miss Van Allen, Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon, the new auxiliary president, reported.

The Dorcas report, read by Mrs. Morgan, gave the hospital society members a comprehensive idea of the great number of items which the auxiliary has donated throughout the year to the hospital.

Another feature of the hospital auxiliary year was the canning of fruits for the hospital. This was carried out at Barkwill's Ltd cannery and a large quantity of fruit was prepared, with members of the cannery staff assisting greatly in the operation.

In making her final report for the auxiliary and as a retiring member of the hospital board of directors, Mrs. Atkinson expressed her regret at leaving this type of work, which "has been a pleasure and an education."

She urged her listeners to adopt as their motto: "What can we do for our community to make the hospital a better place."

Directors Elected
In the election of directors, Dr. J. C. Wilcox and Capt. J. E. Jenkinson were returned to office and Mr. James Muirhead was appointed for the first time.

Bylaws of the hospital society and the hospital, as prepared by a committee headed by Dr. J. C. Wilcox, were adopted by the meeting.

Dr. F. W. Andrew spoke briefly, congratulating the directors on the splendid showing of the hospital despite rising costs which create many headaches. Rev. H. R. Whitmore added his praise of the work of the hospital directors, auxiliary and nursing staff. The nurses, he stated, are doing a great work.

Drs. W. H. B. Munn and A. W. Vanderburgh spoke briefly, and urged the directors to obtain better facilities for x-ray work. A radiologist is available at Penticton, they pointed out, and suggested that he might be made available one day per week at the Summerland hospital.

X-ray work of this kind is nearly a specialty, the medical men declared and assistance of a properly-trained technician would be a welcome addition to the hospital facilities here.

C. J. Huddleston spoke in praise of W. M. Jenkinson, who undertook the contract for the nurses' home and maternity wing.

S. A. MacDonald, hospital board president, was chairman of the meeting and expressed the directors' delight in the excellent job done by Mr. Jenkinson in erecting the two buildings. He also spoke of the recognition accorded the hospital secretary, Mr. O'Mahony, who was named vice-president of the B.C. Hospitals Assn.

Mr. MacDonald also spoke of the recent disagreement between members of the nursing staff and the matron, and expressed the hope that staff matters would right themselves soon.

WANTS POLES REMOVED

Granville Morgan has applied to the council for removal of four electric light poles which are placed on his land at Trout Creek. He was informed that a report would be obtained from Electrical Foreman T. P. Thornber on this project and the entire question studied by the council.

Up to yesterday afternoon, Summerland citizens had contributed $630 to the Canadian Appeal for Children fund, considered an extremely fine showing.

DELEGATION ON

larger burden is placed on the municipalities. This is the case in District 15, according to the budget presented last week to the municipal councils.

Penticton turned down the budget in its entirety while Summerland approved the estimated expenditures but withheld approval of the apportionment in lieu of the fight over fruit tree assessments.

On Wednesday evening last week, the school district tossed the budget back at the municipalities. In the case of the Summerland council decision, despite the local council's acceptance of the estimates as a whole, the school board stated:

"The board must consider this a request from the council to reduce the estimates apportioned to Summerland to an amount which would be arrived at after elimination of fruit tree values from the assessment figures originally used."

No Reduction
The following resolution was then ordered sent to Summerland council:

"That this board regrets that the Summerland council cannot agree to the estimates for 1948 as apportioned.

"After reconsideration this board must inform the council that it cannot reduce the estimates as originally presented.

"Further that the attention of the council be called to the provisions of Section 54 (1) of the Manual of School Law."

This resolution was adopted by the school board over the protests, and negative votes of the two Summerland trustees, P. G. Dodwell and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh.

A letter was also forwarded by the board to Penticton council stating that "this board... has duly reconsidered the school estimates for 1948 and wish to inform the council that it cannot accede to the request for reduction."

It is considered that the only course now open is for appeal to an arbitration board, if the councils so wish to carry the dispute of the estimates any further.

Full details of the school board submission on the subject of separation of Summerland from the school district, containing copies of letters which have been sent between the school district and the municipalities of Summerland and Penticton during the past year may be found on another page of this issue.

Miss M. Ellis, former hospital matron here, has returned to Alberta, leaving on Monday, March 1.

What's the Good of UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE?

$87,500,000 was paid from the Unemployment Insurance fund to unemployed Canadians from September 1, 1945, to October 31, 1947.

500,000 individual unemployed workers and their dependants benefited from these payments.

In many cases had payments not been available the unemployed would have suffered want!

What's the good of Unemployment Insurance?—Can there be any doubt!

Unemployment Insurance helps the employer by providing unemployed with purchasing power; and helps the worker by providing maintenance allowances during unemployment. Employer and Employee and the Government all have an interest—Unemployment Insurance is a large factor in a healthy National Economy.

Miss Audrey Tavender, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. H. W. Tavender for the past three weeks, has returned to her position as stewardess with TCA in Vancouver. Accompanied by Mrs. Tavender, who will spend the next two weeks visiting friends in Vancouver and on Vancouver Island, Miss Tavender left on Friday, February 27.

Miss G. Patmore, who is associate secretary for the Christian education branch of the United Church in B.C., gave a three-day series of lectures to Sunday school teachers in Pentiction United church on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Mrs. W. G. Gillard, Mrs. Donald Orr and Miss R. Smith went to Pentiction to attend the Monday night meeting, and on Tuesday Rev. H. R. Whitmore attended, accompanied by Mr. Cyril Stent, Mrs. A. McKenzie, Miss Kay Bissett and Mrs. Pollock, Sr.

Constable Myles Dodwell, of the RCMP Edmonton detachment, arrived home in Summerland Tuesday on a three weeks' leave. Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Dodwell and Constable Dodwell will leave by car early next week for Vancouver, where they will spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dodwell.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Garnett entertained Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver of Pentiction on Saturday evening to dinner and bridge. Several old-time Summerland friends of the Pentiction visitors were invited to the Garnett home for the occasion, which was Mrs. Weaver's birthday.

Dr. R. C. Palmer of the experimental station has gone to Vernon today to display topical slides to the B.C. Seed Growers' Association meeting there this week.

Mr. Gordon Thorpe is conducting an agricultural short course in Creston this week, and Dr. J. C. Wilcox of Summerland spent Wednesday and today there assisting Mr. Thorpe.

Dr. D. V. Fisher and Dr. J. C. Wilcox of the experimental station will go to Kelowna on Monday, March 8, to attend an executive meeting of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association.

Mrs. C. A. Dunbar has returned from a visit to Cranbrook, Kimberley and other East Kootenay points. Her trip was made via CP Airlines.

Miss M. M. Henderson is planning a visit to Vancouver next week, returning to West Summerland to re-open the Maywood Photo Finishers studio by March 15.

Mrs. W. Sherwood, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baldwin, drove to Vancouver over the weekend. They plan to spend a month's holiday visiting at coast points.

Mr. Percy Thornber left on Monday night for a trip to Vancouver.

Mr. George Fudge is paying a visit to Vancouver, having left on March 1st.

Mrs. W. C. Wilkin went down to the coast on Monday, March 1.

Dr. R. C. Palmer returned to Summerland Tuesday morning after a short trip to Vancouver and Vancouver Island.

Mr. W. I. Wotton has joined the staff of the Plant Pathology Laboratory this week, taking the position left vacant by Mr. Tom Joy's retirement in December.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. B. Munn are leaving next week for a visit to Vancouver, where Dr. Munn will take a post-graduate course at Vancouver General hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Ducommun returned to Summerland on Saturday, February 28, after a trip to the coast. They had an interesting tour over Vancouver Island, going as far as Youbou on the west coast. Mr. Ducommun reports lots of lovely scenery, but he is glad to get back to "Summerland's sunshine".

Canon and Mrs. F. V. Harrison had as guests from Tuesday to Friday last week Miss D. Illingworth and Miss M. Hannah of Vancouver.

Mrs. Harold Smith of the Dominion Experimental station is spending a short holiday in Westbank at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bleasdale.

Of great interest to the many friends of the principals here, is the announcement made today by Mrs. Edgar Gould of the marriage of her daughter Ann to Mr. Art McPhail. Both former residents of West Summerland, the young couple will make their home in New Westminster, where the wedding took place.

Mrs. H. V. Stent left on Monday, March 1, for a month's visit with her parents in Saskatchewan. By way of a "farewell" prior to Mrs. Stent's departure, Mrs. Alan McKenzie invited a few friends to her home on the evening of February 25. Her guests were Rev. and Mrs. H. R. Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. Jock Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, Miss C. Mair and Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Stent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnston and daughter Patsy, of Armstrong, were visitors at the home of Mr. Johnston's mother, Mrs. R. Johnston, during the past weekend.

Miss I. Wilson, teacher of home economics here, spent two days last week in Pentiction observing the home economics classes held in the Pentiction high school.

Mr. Mac Johnston will spend the next ten days in Merritt, relieving the agent there, Mr. E. W. Blunt of Trail will be Mr. Johnston's relief in Summerland during that time.

Mrs. Vanderburgh Heads Girl Guide Group Locally

On Friday, February 27, a number of local ladies met with Mrs. F. V. Harrison at St. Stephen's Parish hall to form the sponsoring group for the establishment of a Girl Guide branch in Summerland. Mrs. Harrison, who is divisional commissioner for the South Okanagan, installed Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh as president, Mrs. James Marshall as secretary, and Mrs. Carl Nesbitt as treasurer.

On Friday of this week a second meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the Parish hall, when Miss D. Illingworth, provincial commissioner of Girl Guides, and Miss M. Hannah, provincial head of training, will address the group on the purpose and aims of the Girl Guide organization. Mothers and others interested in this type of activity for 8 to 16-year-old girls are being asked to attend this meeting.

A meeting of "guiders", those senior girls who will be responsible for the training of Brownie and Girl Guide groups through the various stages of Girl Guiding, will be held at the Parish hall this evening, March 4.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dunsdon on March 2 at Summerland hospital.

Born at Summerland hospital, March 2, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Taylor, Jr.

Leaving Summerland on Saturday, March 6, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barkwill, accompanied by Mr. Ben Saunders, will travel to New York there to embark on the Queen Elizabeth on March 12 for England. They expect to stay in the Old Country for several months.

Mr. G. E. Woolliams left this morning for Vernon to attend a meeting of the B.C. Seed Growers' Association.

Miss Mary Beard, whose field of Missionary work is Bolivia, was an interesting speaker at the morning service at the Baptist church on Sunday, February 29. Miss Beard also told of her work at the Sunday school session in the afternoon.

Mrs. W. R. Boyd and small daughter Rosalind returned on Friday, February 27, from Walkerton, Ontario, where they had spent a month with Mrs. Boyd's mother.

Mrs. W. Collins has had visiting her for the past several weeks her niece Miss Steadward of Eston, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Henry of Hedley, B.C., has been spending the past week with her mother, Mrs. William Hack at her home in Victoria Gardens.

Mr. Eric Tait and Mr. J. Y. Towgood attended the convention of the B.C. Cooperative Union in Kelowna on Friday, February 27.

Mrs. Robert Johnston was the recipient of many congratulations on her 88th birthday on Thursday, February 26.

Mrs. R. R. Smith's daughter, Chrissie left on February 26 on a trip to Salt Lake City, where she will visit Miss Carrie Layton.

School Board Favors Separation

Full Statement On Past Year's Efforts Is Given By School Trustees

Following a lengthy and somewhat stormy session last week, the trustees of School District No. 15 approved a submission to be presented by the board to Victoria on the subject of separation. It is based, mainly, on the correspondence which has passed between the board and the two municipal councils and deals almost entirely with Summerland's contention that it has been treated unfairly in the matter of assessments for school purposes, in relation to Penticton and the rural area. Penticton's refusal to submit the suggested by-law for school renovations is also given prominence. The complete text of the school board submission is given below:

In April, 1946, School District No. 15 was formed obliging the municipalities of Penticton and Summerland to operate as a unit in the matter of the financing of education. By the end of the initial year the routine of organization had been fairly well established and it seemed that 1947 would see the beginning of the fulfilment of some of the more urgent plans for the necessary expansion of school accommodation.

However on presentation of the school estimates to Summerland Municipality for 1947 the board was informed that, "At a council meeting last night the School Board estimates were passed for the current year, but the council do not agree to the allocation given as between the three units," (signed) F. J. Nixon, Municipal Clerk.

Later, on June 16 the extraordinary estimates for by-law purposes were laid before the council and this answer was received from Summerland: "I laid your letter of the 11th inst. with estimates for extraordinary expenditure before the municipal council yesterday, and they approved these estimates, but subject to the apportionment being based on the 1947 assessment without trees," (signed) F. J. Nixon, Municipal Clerk.

On 28 June the letter below was delivered to the board by the Penticton council: "Please be advised that a meeting of the council was held on Thursday, June 26, and the matter of school costs was fully discussed.

I have been directed to advise you that the council gave full consideration to the withdrawal of the Municipality of Penticton and the rural districts of Naramata, Allen Grove, Kaleden, from School District No. 15, and it is the intention of the council to take such steps as are necessary to

EASTER SEALS TO HELP CRIPPLED B.C. CHILDREN

With the challenging slogan "2 out of 3 can be cured", twelve Lions Clubs are crusading to give every sick and crippled child in B.C. a place in the sun. Sheets of colorful Easter seals are being mailed to every home in British Columbia. Funds realized will go entirely into the expansion of hospital space and facilities for treating handicapped children throughout the province.

"At present, space and facilities in our children's hospitals fall far short of provincial needs," states Perry Moore, chairman of the drive, "but if every home in B.C. sent in their dollars for Easter seals, enough funds would be provided to look after all our sick and crippled children." The Easter seal idea, points out Mr. Moore, makes it easy for the public to give.

Splendid results have already been achieved. Returns from Easter seals over the past two years were sufficient—along with government grants—to build a new wing to the Crippled Children's hospital at Vancouver, doubling its accommodation.

In addition, the following received substantial financial aid: Vancouver, Preventorium, Queen Alexandra Solarium, V.I., and St. Christopher's Home, North Vancouver. All these institutions administer to handicapped children on a province-wide basis. This year the Spastic Paralysis Society of B.C. has been added to the list of beneficiaries.

The worthiness of this cause is emphasized by the splendid results now being achieved by modern medical science in this field, states Mr. Moore. "How tragic, if B.C. children are denied this treatment for want of the comparatively small sum needed to provide it."

Oct. and the following day the council decision was forwarded to the board:

"In reply to your letter of the 3rd inst. and following last night's meeting with your representatives, Dr. T. F. Farmley and Mr. W. W. Riddell and the Summerland members of your board, I have been instructed to re-affirm the position the Council has taken when we first met you this year on 10th February.

"The passage of time only goes to prove that the approach to the apportionment is unjust. Therefore the council feel that the only way this can be settled is by an independent commission which it is understood will be sitting in Penticton on 10th November, and in the meantime this matter should wait until then.

"We would appreciate it if you would inform the representatives you met in Victoria of the contents of this letter."

Fairey Replies

This was communicated to the department and on 7 November a reply was received stating not only the opinion of the department of education but also that of the taxation branch and the department of municipal affairs.

"I acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 9th ultimo, which concerns the decision of the Summerland council in the matter of payment of Summerland's share of the 1947 school costs. The urgency of action to settle the assessment dispute in order to facilitate the placing of the school by-law before the people was also stressed.

The deputy minister counselled that the Summerland Council should be approached again and given a full explanation of the department's ruling and the provisions of the School Act governing the matter. This was done on 3

YOU CAN BORROW TO PAY TAXES

LOW-COST FINANCING SIMPLIFIES REPAYMENT

"Many people who lack the ready cash to pay off the balance of last year's taxes have welcomed the convenience of a B of M Personal Loan," James Muirhead, local manager of the Bank of Montreal said, in discussing the bank's Personal Loan Plan.

"Lending money, after all, is our business," Mr. Muirhead pointed out, "and we are glad to lend for any reasonable purpose if a person is in a position to repay.

"The cost is very low. For instance, you can borrow $100, repayable in twelve monthly instalments, for only 27c a month. For loans extending over longer or shorter periods, for more or less than $100, the cost is proportionately the same—equal to 6% per annum, and there are no extra charges."

If you need money to pay taxes, or for any personal requirement, pay a visit to Mr. Muirhead or to Mr. Cornwall, accountant at the Bank of Montreal, who will be glad to discuss your plans and requirements with you. You will find that if your proposition is sound, there's money for you at the B of M.—Adv't.

BOYLE & AIKINS

Barristers and Solicitors Thursdays, 2 to 5 p.m. MONRO BLDG. West Summerland, B.C.

"I beg to state that this matter has been under close examination. It is the opinion of this department and that of the taxation branch, that the 1946 assessment roll was the only official roll at that time, and the school costs should be based upon it.

"Because Summerland is a municipality, it appeared to me that a ruling should also be made by the deputy minister of municipal affairs, and so communicate to the Summerland council. I am in receipt of a copy of a letter, from Mr. Bracewell to Mr. Nixon, municipal clerk, District of Summerland, in which Mr. Bracewell points out to Mr. Nixon—

"At the time the 1947 school estimates were prepared the last revised assessment roll would be that for the year 1946 and therefore the apportionment of school costs should be based upon the values as shown on the 1946 assessment rolls."

"It is my hope that, as a result of this communication from the department of municipal affairs, the Summerland council will meet its obligations."

(Signed) F. T. Fairey, Deputy Minister and Superintendent of Education. A copy was sent to the council in question for their information. The taxation commission met in Penticton on 10 November and representations were made by parties interested.

By-Law Proposals

On 1 December the board, now that the commission had heard all submissions and therefore no danger existed of cases being prejudiced, and anxious to get action on the by-law for increased school accommodation, again approached both councils requesting co-operation. The replies noted below are self-explanatory and, if anything, only emphasize the impossible and unenviable position of the board in this school district:

"School By-law. Following conversation between representative of your board and the municipal council at the meeting held here last night, this will confirm conversations at this meeting and previous meetings expressing our willingness to submit the above by-law to the ratepayers of Summerland, but we have always desired to maintain our contention viz.—that the assessment of fruit trees should not be taken into the apportionment.

"We have been advised by our solicitor that this can be taken care of and we submit these recommendations which are:

"1. That you submit your by-law estimates, and the Council approve same on condition that the portion to be provided by each constituent part of the school district is based upon assessment within the meaning of the Public Schools Act.

"2. You to give the apportionment for each unit in the district.

"3. If the council do not consider the apportionment correct, while approving the total proposed expenditure they would disapprove of the amount to be provided by each constituent part.

"This the council consider would leave the way open for the submission of the by-law as far as Summerland is concerned, as it is felt the registering of the disapproval would be sufficient protection."

(Signed) F. J. Nixon, Municipal Clerk, Corporation of Summerland.

"With reference to your letter of December 12th regarding the submission of a by-law to provide funds for the erection of school buildings in this municipality.

"The municipal council have carefully considered your request and are prepared to submit the by-law under the following conditions:

"1. That the provisions of the Municipal Act dealing with the raising of money by debenture issue be complied with.

"2. That the report which will be submitted by the commission on school taxation be received and studied before the money by-law is submitted to the electors."

One Final Try Toward the end of December the board made a final effort to have Summerland agree to pay arrears on school estimates for the year. The reply was definite, but unfortunately, negative.

"Further to telephone conversation last week, the council have now received legal opinion on the whole matter, and in view of the many illegalities we are advised have taken place, the council are not prepared at this time to meet your request for a further payment and are taking the question up with the departments at Victoria."

(Signed) F. J. Nixon, Municipal Clerk,

Corporation of Summerland. This was duly reported to the deputy minister on 5 January 1948. His reply is as follows:

"RE: Submission of By-law—Summerland council. I have your letter of the 5th instant, enclosing a copy of the letter from Mr. F. J. Nixon, municipal clerk, Corporation of the District of Summerland. There is also a file on the minister's desk which has been the subject of discussion.

"The Honourable Mr. Straith is studying this question, and until he has given his opinion, I am afraid there is nothing further that I can add to what has already been said."

The foregoing covers the period of a year and it can be said to be truly a year of no progress and actually one of continual frustration. Accommodation conditions are deplorable and as of 1 September even with all available rented facilities in use resort will have to be made to half-time classes.

This board has exhausted all means in its power to effect a settlement that would allow it to carry out its duties toward the children of this district. It has refrained from taking any sides in the issue which has caused so much bitterness during the past six months. The situation however, is now such that even the most conciliatory agree that holding the two municipalities together in the school district can cause only further discontent and friction; the sore has been allowed to fester too long.

Reluctantly this board requests in the interests of educational progress in the area that separation be effected as quickly as possible.

WANT BREAKDOWN
On behalf of the Summerland Hospital Society, T. Croll and J. E. Jenkinson appeared before the local council last week to ask for a breakdown in the statement which they received from the municipality for 1947 in connection with extending light service to the nurses' home. The council promised a detailed statement would be forthcoming and the electric light committee could discuss the subject further, if necessary.

No Idea on Gas Pumps Removal

D. L. Sanborn was asked point-blank by Reeve Reid Johnston at last week's council session when he intended to remove his gas pump from the street allowance on Granville according to an agreement he made with the council on the purchase of municipal lots adjoining his garage property.

"There has been no attempt to live up to your agreement," complained Reeve Johnston.

"I can't tell you right now when I can do it," replied Mr. Sanborn. "I prophesied once and the deal fell through and I won't guess again."

"There should be a time-limit, as we gave you that property at a sacrifice price," replied Reeve Johnston, and to this Mr. Sanborn took exception, stating that he had paid a fair market price for the lots.

"I won't discuss my plans in public but I am quite ready to meet you in committee," declared Sanborn, terminating the discussion. The council agreed to meet Mr. Sanborn in committee next week.

The thoughts I think seem wiser than any thought I write. It's strange how wisdom dwindles when down in black and white.

Canned Fruit More Plentiful For This Year

More canned fruit, more jams, jellies and marmalade, but fewer canned vegetables, will be available in 1948, according to a preliminary report on the 1947 pack of canned fruits and vegetables issued by F. J. Perry, chief canning inspector, fruit and vegetable division, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Heavy crops of strawberries, raspberries and blueberries highlighted the 1947 fruit pack picture. The strawberry pack increased from 8,040 cases in 1946 to 93,222 cases in 1947, an advance of 1,060 percent. Raspberries were up 316 percent and the 100,000-case crop of blueberries represented a 566 percent increase over the previous five-year average pack of 15,000 cases.

Production of jams, jellies and marmalades from the 1947 crop is expected to reach 104,000,000 pounds, an increase of nine percent over the 1946 figure and just double the figure for 1939.

The combined 1947 pack of canned fruits and vegetables was considerably less than in 1946. Canned fruits showed an increase but there was a big drop in vegetables compared with 1946.

Although the quantity of the 1947 pack suffered by comparison with that for 1946, there was, however, an improvement in the quality, particularly in peas, tomato juice and some fruits.

Gains in the amount of fruit canned were made by cherries, apricots, peaches and pear. Although there was a poor crop of sour cherries, sweet cherries were plentiful and the cherry pack as a whole was 50 percent better than in 1946. Apricots, chiefly a British Columbia product, increased by 26 percent. Peaches, too, improved but only by one percent. No definite figures are available yet on pears, but the pack is known to be larger than in 1946.

Because a slackening in the demand for canned plums had become evident, canners cut back their production of this product in 1947 by about 13 percent.

In the vegetable pack, green and wax beans showed the only improvement over 1946, gaining five percent. Corn and peas each dropped by 31 percent and tomatoes were down 17 percent. Tomato juice, canned, decreased 22 percent. Generally, however, there was a definite improvement in quality. Spinach and asparagus were packed in quantities about equal to that of 1946.

Poorer yields, even crop failure, accounted for most of the drop in quantity. A late, wet spring delayed seeding and planting with the result that some crops, notably corn and tomatoes, suffered up to a 50 percent loss through the heavy frost that struck parts of Quebec, Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia during the middle of last September.

In spite of the decrease in canned products there are still ample supplies of all types of canned fruits and vegetables to meet heavy consumer demands until late in 1948.

KELOWNA LEGION PLANS EXTENSION

Members of the local branch of the Canadian Legion unanimously approved the building committee's suggestion that the present premises be extended to the street level of Ellis street and that a second storey be added to the building which will be used as a gymnasium and auditorium capable of seating approximately 800 people. This action was taken at the annual general meeting which was attended by close to 200 ex-servicemen. Financial reports showed the club is in excellent standing and that net revenue had exceeded last year's total.

Looking over the assortment of new perfumes, such as "Take Me," "My Sin," "Breathless," and a myriad of other lurid names, the shy young girl asked the sales clerk: "Haven't you anything for a beginner?"

D.V.A. HOSPITALS HAVE BIG LOAD, RED CROSS TOLD

With the patient load in Canada's DVA hospitals greater now than during the wartime peak, the Red Cross has an important work to carry on for veterans, stated Dr. Wallace Wilson, medical officer Western Region DVA. He was speaking to the annual conference of the B.C. division of the Canadian Red Cross meeting in Hotel Vancouver and attended by delegates from all over the province.

Commending all Red Cross veterans' services, and particularly the arts and crafts which heal men's minds by giving them new interests, Dr. Wilson stated that treatment of veterans for recurring war disabilities will continue for years to come.

W. Orson Banfield was elected president of the B.C. division to succeed P. S. McKergow. Vice-presidents are: T. C. Clarke, Mrs. W. H. Molson and J. L. Trumbull; honorary solicitor, Clarence Darling.

Co-opted members, Mrs. Austin Taylor, George H. Baillie, H. H. Smith and Harry Beach. Honorary secretary, Stewart G. Clark; honorary treasurer W. McDonnell.

Regional representatives are: Central interior, Mrs. S. J. Cadden, Ashcroft; Lower Fraser Valley, Mrs. J. A. F. Shepherd, Richmond; Upper Fraser Valley, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Agassiz; Mainland coast, Mrs. F. McVicker, North Vancouver; Northern interior, Mrs. C. W. Dawson, Prince George; Okanagan, Mrs. W. S. Mrs. R. F. Angus was the Summerland delegate to this important conference.

To Our Customers:

Due to the great increase in power consumption and peak load conditions in the Okanagan area during the last two years, the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, Limited find it necessary to increase the size of copper conductor on the two transmission lines between Trail and Greenwood, a distance of fifty miles.

The restringing of this section will involve an expenditure of approximately $500,000.00. Work will commence immediately and we expect completion by June.

Beginning about March 1st restringing will proceed between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily and during these hours the total power load must be carried on one line, which may cause a slight drop in voltage. Between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily, voltage conditions will be normal, since it is our intention to tie in each night so that both lines will be in operation during these hours.

Completion of this work will improve power conditions generally and will take care of the additional load to be expected in the Okanagan area during the next few years.

Legislators Must Cope With Many Topics

A number of matters of major importance are expected to be dealt with during the present session of the legislature, which opened at Victoria on Tuesday, March 2, it is announced by Premier Byron Johnson.

Consideration is being given by the government to such matters as hospital finances, municipal aid, school taxation, labor laws, legislation affecting mining, agriculture, fisheries and trade and industry.

The speech from the throne indicated that action would be taken in connection with a number of these problems.

The debate on the motion in reply to the speech from the throne was led off by Mrs. Nancy Hodges, member for Victoria, and Air Vice-Marshal Leigh Stevenson, member for Point-Grey riding. It is expected that Mr. Harold Winch will speak today, Thursday, followed by the premier with an outline of government policy on Friday.

Representatives of the Union of B.C. Municipalities waited upon the government on Friday and placed before them a plea for further financial assistance. It was suggested by them that the government impose a sales tax to assist in the defraying of the cost of education thereby relieving the municipalities of that burden.

Gasoline Situation
Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Coal and Petroleum Control Board, has submitted further data dealing with the gasoline price situation, which is now being studied by the government in the hope of finding some solution to the shortage of supplies that has been brought about by the inability of some of the oil companies to import refined gasoline due to the price prevailing on the California market.

Indications were that the problem could only be solved by a further rise in price but no decision has yet been reached.

VOLLEYBALL SEMIS

Summerland school's strong volleyball teams are due to play the semi-final games for the Okanagan school championship this Saturday, but up to press time Sports Director Jock Smith had no information where the semis would be played or what teams Summerland would be against.

Relief in Educational Costs Promised in Speech from Throne

(Special to The Review)
VICTORIA, March 2—Indications of assistance to municipalities, hospitals and further relief in educational costs, together with revision of labor legislation, in addition to several other important items of government policy are indicated in the speech from the throne which today marked the opening of the 3rd session of the 21st parliament by His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor, Charles A. Banks.

The speech from the throne dealing with government policy reads in part as follows—"The serious condition of the hospital situation is engaging the attention of my government, and proposals are being studied with a view to finding a solution to this problem. Careful study has been given to a number of provincial-municipal problems as well as to the rising cost of social security and other important public services. My government is aware of the situation created thereby and proposes to place before you measures designed to alleviate this situation.

"It is the intention of my government to submit for your approval legislation revising and amending our labor laws, thereby bringing into effect further improvements in employer-employee relations which are so desirable.

"Further benefits will be extended through increases in certain allowances granted those coming within the scope of the workmen's compensation act.

"Important amendments to the forest act will be submitted, thereby improving the economy of this important industry and widening the scope of the sustained yield program.

"Ample provision will be made for the further improvement of our main highways and the completion of major public works projects already undertaken.

"Amending legislation governing agricultural matters will be submitted with a view to improving this important basic industry.

"You will be asked to give approval to legislation, the main purpose of which will be to introduce a new method of admission to our mental hospitals and to provide a clinic for treatment of patients who may be saved thereby from the stigma of being committed to a mental institution. Other legislation dealing with welfare matters will be placed before you.

"You will be advised of the steps taken to provide new technical

SCOUT NEWS

Last Friday an investiture was held at which Scouts Carey, Leslie Younghusband, Vernon Campbell, Stephens, Eyre and Coggan were welcomed into the troop. The end of the first three months patrol competition resulted in the award of the Sharman cup to the Eagles under P/L Adams and Scout Rempel. In order to win this cup the most important source of points is a patrol in full attendance with complete uniforms.

Signalling, second class lashings and tenderfoot tests formed the instructional program for the evening. Boys are reminded that in order to pass tests, especially lashings and signalling, some practice at home is necessary.

Suggest Field Day Staged By Sports Club

Possibility that the fish and game club will hold a field day in Summerland this year was voiced at the monthly meeting of the local sportsmen's group on Monday evening in the IOOF hall, presided over by W. Snow.

There were a number of suggestions made and these will be considered by the club executive and a tentative program arranged to hand back to the club members at a later date.

Possibility of a tie-in with the opening of the provincial fish hatchery here was also mooted.

Discussion ensued regarding another drive for membership and it was decided that a further draw on the membership tickets would be held later in the season.

George Stoll brought down the house with his offer: "I'll go down to the lake and catch a ten-pound trout as a prize."

Convention Dates
President Snow announced that the annual convention of the B.C. Interior Fish and Game Assn would be held in Oliver on April 22 and 23 and urged as many members as possible to attend this important conference.

It will be followed by a provincial fish and game conference at Harrison Hot Springs from April 28 to 30.

One resolution, emanating from Oliver, which will be of great interest at these conventions, concerns the control of aircraft used in fishing and hunting. This move would have the Dominion government pass regulations prohibiting the landing of aircraft for this purpose other than at registered airports or at places designated by the game commission.

A fine of $1,000 is suggested by Oliver for any infractions of this regulation.

Chiefs Out of Playoffs As Big Lead Goes

Going into the game with a fourteen-point deficit, Summerland Chiefs ran up against a whirlwind offensive at Penticton last Saturday night and lost to the Penticton Int. B contenders by a score of 56-31, which more than offset the previous victory. On the round, Summerland lost to Penticton by a count of 83-72.

On the same card, the Summerland Legion Juniors, down 15 points at Summerland, lost out by another nine points and were defeated on the round 82-58. On the single game, Summerland lost to Penticton on Saturday 43-34.

Thus both Summerland entries in the interior playoffs have been knocked off in the first round and this just about winds up basketball for the winter. However, there probably will be some more exhibition games before the strips are tucked away for the spring.

Eshelmann Too Good
It was a young man named Eshelmann who spelled doom for the Summerland Chiefs on Saturday night. He was ably backed by two other point-getters named Tidball and Hancock but it was Eshelmann who set up most of the plays and whisled the ball through the netting for an outstanding 19 points.

The Penticton shooting was sensational, to say the least, and an accurate accounting of their percentage of shots made would probably have set a near record.

Summerland was outscored in every quarter and at half-time had relinquished all but five points of their margin and it began to appear that it would be a question if they could stave off the determined Penticton crew.

And by the end of the third quarter there was no doubt about it, as Penticton had wiped out the Summerland 14-point advantage and had knotted the contests at 65-all. That third period was just one mad dash from one basket to the other with Penticton outscoring Summerland by 17 points to 12.

Having taken the initiative all through the game, Penticton never stopped the onslaught and in that final period ran up 18 points while Summerland could only garner seven.

Moore, Dunham and Hack led the Summerland Chiefs' offensive but they could not cope with the uncanny shooting of the southern lads.

In the free shot department, had a chance to pull off a victory as they scored only five of eighteen attempts. Penticton had a much better percentage, sinking four out of eight tries.

Refereeing was under the management of Maurice Ruud and Jack Walsh and a better exhibition of refereeing hasn't been observed all season.

Ruppel Is Star
Ruppel led a one-man foray on the basket Saturday night to wind up with fourteen points, but it wasn't enough to bring off a victory for the Legion Juniors. A bad third quarter, when they were outscored by ten points, made all the difference. It wasn't until the final ten minutes that the Legionnaires really woke up, and played a snappy brand of basketball.

At half-time, the Chiefs were ahead 16-17 and were trailing by fourteen points on the round. That third quarter killed their hopes of overcoming the Penticton lead. Kita bagged nine points in the encounter and turned in one of his best efforts of the season.

Summerland Council Delegation To Meet Premier Johnson Today

Summerland's municipal delegation of Reeve Reid A. Johnston, Municipal Clerk F. J. Nixon and Councillor F. E. Atkinson was expected to interview Premier Byron Johnson in Victoria this morning on the question of the much-disputed fruit tree assessment, and the entire question of assessment inequality between Summerland and the rest of School District No. 15.

This Summerland delegation is expected to meet other governmental department heads and some members of the cabinet in the course of their official visit to the B.C. capital.

Summerland officials will also join with Penticton council delegation and Dr. T. F. Farnley, school district chairman, in discussing the Penticton proposal that Summerland be separated from the school district because of differences in assessments and division of school costs.

Ex-reeve W. R. Powell was to have accompanied Reeve Reid Johnston and Municipal Clerk Nixon to Victoria but due to ill health was forced to remain at home. Councillor Atkinson was urged to join the delegation at the last moment when Reeve Powell found he could not make the trip.

Arranged Interview

It was Mr. Powell who wrote to Premier Johnson arranging for a meeting with the Summerland delegation last night, but when he found himself unable to attend he telephoned the B.C. premier and arranged that the meeting take place at nine o'clock this morning.

Councillor Atkinson was not able to leave until last night's Kettle Valley train and he expected to reach Victoria by plane from Vancouver this morning in time to join the session.

It is learned that the Summerland delegation is armed with considerable data to show that the council contention that it has not been treated fairly in the matter of assessment division of school costs is a correct one.

Summerland figures are said to show that even with the troublesome trees included in the assessment totals for school purposes, that this municipality is being called upon to pay a higher per capita and a higher per school student cost than either Penticton or the rural area.

Reeve Johnston left Summerland for the coast on Sunday evening, but gave The Review no intimation of what steps he planned to take in regard to the school assessment problem.

Municipal Clerk Nixon left to join Reeve Johnston on Tuesday night's train. There has been no word come out of Victoria regarding the findings of the commission on school taxation which presented its report to the provincial cabinet about ten days prior to the opening of this sitting of the legislature.

Premier Johnson intimated in his policy speech last Friday that further assistance to municipalities to meet rising school costs would be forthcoming, but gave no intimation what the government plans to do to equalize the differences in assessments which have been disclosed in various school districts of the province.

Ex-reeve W. R. Powell had intended to go to Victoria to assist in presenting Summerland's views on inequality of assessment between this municipality and Penticton and the rural area. He had no intention of taking any part in the discussion on separation, he states.

"I still believe that we have been put in the wrong light and that if we had an impartial body to analyze our position we would show that our contentions have been correct all along," declared the 1947 reeve.

Above Normal Water Content In Hills Here

Above-normal precipitation during February has so increased the snow cover over the whole of B.C. that above-normal summer runoff may be expected in most areas, providing no extremes of temperature nor deficient precipitation occur during March and the summer runoff period, declares the water rights branch of the department of lands and forests.

This report is issued for March 1 and declares that conditions in the Okanagan last month improved, bringing up the water content of the snow to 98 percent of last year's March 1 measurement.

"Soil moisture conditions in the Okanagan are favorable, so most of this snow cover should be available for the summer runoff," the report states.

"Precipitation in February was above normal, which brought the total from November to February inclusive to a point just slightly below a ten-year normal.

At the 4,700-foot elevation on Trout Creek the snow depth was 31.8 inches, with a water content of 6.3 inches, compared with 6.2 inches last year and 8.0 inches in 1944. The water content over nine years averaged 5.1 inches at this measuring spot.

PADLOCK LAW INVOKED—Likenesses of Russia's Joseph Stalin and V. M. Molotov, shown above, were seized when Provincial Police, acting under direct orders from Premier Maurice Duplessis in his capacity as attorney-general, raided and padlocked the offices of the alleged Communist journal "Combat," French-language weekly, recently. This is the first time since the N.U. Government's return to power that the famous "Padlock Law" adopted in 1937 and directed against subversive activities has been invoked. Combat's editor-in-chief, Pierre Gelinas, insisted that the weekly was solely a labor paper, denied that there was any justification for the padlocking and declared that activities would be carried on "elsewhere."

Les Gould New President Of Local Ball Club; League Play Indefinite

Appointment of an executive and a general discussion on plans and prospects for the 1948 season occupied the main part of the annual meeting of the Summerland Baseball club at the Nu-Way Annex last Friday evening.

Les Gould, former Summerland ace hurler, was appointed president of the club, replacing Charles Steuart, while Bob Bleasdale was named secretary. Jack Dunsdon is treasurer and George Clark was again selected as playing-manager.

An executive consisting of George Taylor, Norman Thompson and J. R. "Tim" Armstrong was chosen.

It was stated that a meeting to discuss the probable organization of a league consisting of Princeton, Hedley, Kamloops, Vernon and Summerland is in the offing, but nothing concrete on the proposal was available. Players and supporters attending the meeting agreed that such a league would provide top-notch playing ability and would be a great drawing card for the spectators.

However, Secretary Bleasdale and Manager Clark, the two delegates to the annual meeting of the South Okanagan-Similkameen league were not given any definite instructions. This league meeting will be held on March 21 in Summerland.

There is a possibility that Peachland may not be able to field a team for league play this season and some of the stars of last year's team may be available for the Summerland roster, it has been rumored. Keremeos and Caston are said to be planning on bringing along younger players and may try to form a league in their own district with Loomis, Wash., and possibly Osoyoos, if the South Okanagan league decides not to function this season.

Until more discussion has ensued on the prospects of the proposed new league involving Similkameen and Kamloops with Okanagan teams, then no definite commitments will be made by the local club, it is stated.

In the meantime, the international league, with Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver and five American teams has organized for the season. There is no possibility that Summerland will be allowed to enter this loop, state officials.

Polio Fund Goes Over Top With $2,000

C. J. Bleasdale, president of the Rotary Club of Summerland announced yesterday that the Summerland Polio Fund has gone over the top and that the minimum objective of $2,000 has been reached.

This amount has been subscribed by some 384 public-spirited citizens and every day there are some contributions still coming in, Mr. Bleasdale states.

Exact details as to the method of distribution of this fund has not been announced but the project is being planned carefully by the executive of this service club.

RENT PROPERTIES

Municipal property is now being rented by local persons and three transactions were agreed to by the council on Tuesday. Properties were rented to Miriam Whittier and Harris, G. Furuya and J. Kinsoff.

Governor-General Visit To Okanagan Does Not Include Summerland

His Excellency Field Marshal the Right Honorable Viscount Alexander of Tunis, GCB, GCMG, CSI, DSO, MC, ADC, governor-general of Canada, will pass through Summerland on May 10 but there has been no intimation that he will include Summerland in his official visit to the Okanagan, it is learned here.

Last Friday municipal officials communicated with Major-General R. F. L. Kellar, honorary aide to the governor-general, in Kelowna, but was informed that he (Kellar) could not include Summerland in the itinerary.

Consequently, the municipal office has written to Major-General H. F. G. Letson, secretary to His Excellency, seeking a visit from the vice-regal party on its way to Kelowna from Penticton or on the return trip.

It is understood here that the itinerary of the trip was set about a year ago.

Lady Alexander will accompany Viscount Alexander of Tunis on their first visit to the Okanagan.

Arrive in Penticton

Announced plans for the official visit state that the party will arrive in Penticton on Monday morning, May 10, on a private train and will spend some time there before leaving about 11:30 a.m. for Kelowna. A two-hour visit will be spent in Kelowna following lunch and the party will return to Penticton in time for dinner before the train proceeds on to Vancouver that evening.

Although Their Excellencies will be driven through Summerland on their way to Kelowna no word has been received of their intention of stopping for any length of time here.

After five days at the coast, the party will travel to Kamloops, where they will remain for four days, from May 16 to 20, arriving on Sunday afternoon and leaving on Thursday, May 20.

An official visit to Kamloops will be paid on May 17 and on May 18 and 19 Viscount Alexander intends to try his luck and skill against the wily Kamloops trout in the main line area.

On May 20, the party will proceed into the North Okanagan, visiting Vernon at noon before returning to the main line and proceeding east.

Municipal circles state that Summerland was one of the first communities in the dominion to request a visit from Viscount Alexander. Summerland council despatched an official request that he visit this district, shortly after his appointment, it is learned.

As a consequence, it is believed that there is a good possibility that the distinguished visitors will be persuaded to spend a short period here, at least long enough for the school children to see Their Excellencies.

A half-hour stopover here has been requested, it is understood.

Yale By-Election Likely Early In June

There is no confirmation in local Liberal circles of a report from Vancouver early this week that the Yale federal by-election will be held some time in the first ten days of June.

It has been considered likely that the Vancouver Centre and Yale by-elections would be held on the same day and reports were issued from Vancouver Centre at the weekend that the likely date would be early in June.

Officials who will conduct the canvass to bring the voters' list up to date have been appointed here, it is learned.

The Liberal nominating convention is set for March 27 in Penticton, when Hon. J. L. Hiesey, minister of justice and Mr. Tom Reid, MP for New Westminster will be guest speakers. If the election date has not been set prior to that time, it is considered likely that it will be announced on March 27.

RED CROSS DRIVE WELL ADVANCED

Red Cross canvassers are well advanced in their annual canvass in most districts of the municipality, Jack Dunsdon, campaign manager, informed The Review this morning. However, it is still too early for any returns to be tabulated.

Summerland's quota is $1,800, while B.C. is being asked to contribute $800,000 out of Canada's allotment of $8,000,000.

Mr. Dunsdon states that any persons issuing cheques as their donation should make those cheques payable to the Red Cross Society and not to any individual. Mrs. M. D. Proverbs is assisting Miss Doreen Tait, in the canvass of the Trout Creek area and is an additional canvasser, to the list published in last week's issue.

Cannot Repair 'Hot' Lines, Say Board Officers

No lessening of the restrictions on repairing "hot" electrical lines will be allowed by the Workmen's Compensation Board, Electrical Foreman T. P. Thornber reported to the municipal council on Tuesday following a visit to the board officials in Vancouver last week.

Mr. Thornber declared he had made a further application for permission to carry out electrical maintenance without power shut-downs but received an emphatic "No" from the board of authorities.

Only other method possible would be for the installation of a grounding transformer but for local purposes operation of such equipment would be too involved and costly, he stated.

"We will have to continue with shut-downs," declared Mr. Thornber.

Split Cost

Council was informed that the cost of moving two poles on the Granville Morgan property would involve an expenditure of about $20. As the municipality has a registered right-of-way through the Morgan property council decided to make this change on a 50-50 split with Mr. Morgan, who had requested that the position of the pole line be altered.

Mr. J. Y. Towgood's request for reconsideration of the estimate.

AOTS Request Concert Plays To Big Crowd

Standing room only was available at Ellison hall on Thursday evening, March 4, when the AOTS club presented its all-request program concert for a record crowd of appreciative listeners. The AOTS choir put the audience in the right mood for an excellently varied program with an opening number, "Sing me a Chantey".

Among the highlights of the evening was Mrs. James Mayne's humorous monologue, in which she portrayed with professional skill the trials and tribulations of a department store clerk.

Rev. R. F. Stobbe's recitation of "Albert and the Lion" brought forth such an enthusiastic response that he was prevailed upon to encore with "The Return of Albert" and Misses Barbara Fudge and Lynn Boothe delighted the audience with the old favorite "I don't want to play in your yard." A novelty in entertainment were the bell-ringing selections played by Mr. and Mrs. George Ryman, and the Lakeside Choir Kitchen Band really "went to town" on their weird assembly of pots and pans.

Other performers were Mrs. Alma Fudge, who sang Schubert's "Ave Maria"; Bonnie Wilson, who gave a solo dance, as also did Merle Honysides; Mrs. J. Sheskey, singing "The Rose of Tralee"; the Schumann sisters, who presented a piano and violin duet; Mrs. H. R. Whitmore, who sang Geoffrey O'Hara's "One World"; and Mrs. Jack Smith, who sang "Annie Laurie." Kay Hamilton's Summerland Girls' Choir pleased as always with two numbers, "Dear Land of Home" being especially well done.

Mr. John Betuzzi's cornet rendition of "Blue Bells of Scotland" was good listening, and the program closed with T. Wallace Boothe and B. Newton singing "The Battle Hymn."

The extremely successful concert will provide funds to purchase baseball uniforms for junior teams in Summerland. It is estimated that nearly 350 persons were in attendance.

Our Backyard Garden

During the war years, our government urged on everyone to promote Victory Gardens, so that the supply of fresh vegetables and small fruits could be sustained not only for domestic supply but for the needs of the armed forces.

Canada co-operated well for a few years and increased the supply of home-grown vegetables a great deal. But with the cessation of hostilities the supply dwindled with the result that in 1947 370,000 tons of fresh vegetables were imported into Canada from the United States at a cost of $515,000,000.

These are staggering figures for a country which is supposed to be in the forefront in agricultural production.

The time for the Victory Garden is here once more. In order to save dollars, Canada must increase its vegetable production so that unfavorable item on our unbalanced trade roster can be eliminated and the health of the people sustained.

The nutrition division of the department of health and welfare recently issued a short ditty which inferred that for lots of pep we should eat all kinds of vegetables known. It is a bit ironical that this government department should issue this statement at a time when the supply of fresh vegetables, due to the lack of production at home and the ban on import from the United States, has decreased to its lowest ebb.

However, the idea of eating plenty of fresh vegetables is a correct one and the only way in which a plentiful supply for everyone in Canada the year round can be assured is for each person to cultivate bigger vegetable patches.

Those who haven't root cellars can take advantage of the locker service now available in this community to store fresh vegetables for winter.

Undulant Fever

Important facts concerning the danger of undulant fever, the serious disease transmitted to humans by domestic animals—cattle, hogs and goats—that are infected with Brucellosis, are stressed in literature which has been issued through the medium of the Okanagan Valley Health Unit.

Although there are some cases where hogs and goats have been known to transmit the disease, the majority of undulant fever cases have been traced to the use of unpasteurized milk and other dairy products, these health authorities stress.

Infected meat from newly-killed livestock can transmit the disease even to those who are handling the meat only.

Originally this dread disease was termed "Malta Fever" and was believed to be known only in the subtropics. However, more recent tests have proved that it is prevalent in North America.

The intermittent rise and fall of temperature has created the name, undulant fever. A deadly feature is its power to appear in a number of different disguises, often masquerading as malaria, tuberculosis, typhoid and influenza. It can also lurk for years with no outward symptoms and is particularly difficult to diagnose then.

One of the main points stressed by health authorities is for a person who suspects he has contracted the fever to contact his physician for a skin and blood test.

Health authorities also state that undulant fever can be prevented by drinking only pasteurized milk. Farmers and others who are likely to handle infected animals should wear rubber gloves to protect cuts in the skin from becoming infected with the germ.

Milk not treated to prevent spread of disease is termed the "poison cocktail" by medical men.

GROUNDLESS ACCUSATIONS . . .

Criticism has been levied against the government for passing the Public Safety and Financial Responsibility Amendments to the Motor Vehicle Act on grounds that the new law will do virtually nothing to curb motor accidents but will line the pockets of the insurance companies.

These, and similar charges that the new law denies driving privileges only to the financially irresponsible but sanctions accidents for anyone who can afford them, are groundless accusations based on inaccurate interpretations of the law.

To a certain extent, motor vehicle accidents are the inevitable result of our mechanical age. No legislation can ever eliminate all traffic accidents as long as motor vehicles

The Giant of Giant's Head

By B.A.T.

The story is told (and believed by many) that in the days of long, long ago, when the world was much younger, a Giant lived in a cave beneath the Head, and ruled the surrounding country.

In those distant days, the climate was much colder than it is today the sun did not have much power, and the moon only shone on Sundays and holidays. No fruit trees flourished in the Okanagan, and even in mid-summer, icebergs floated about in the lake. The mountains were higher, the ravines were deeper, and to us who live in the present age, conditions would seem amazing and strange.

The Giant, and he was a giant in every sense of the word, reigned over the entire countryside, and there was no one great enough to dispute his claim to supreme power. There were lesser giants, of course, for it is so in nature that where there are large ones in a species, sooner or later, there will be small ones as well.

Our Giant lived on deer, moose and the fish he caught in streams and mountains lakes. But not even he dared to fish in Okanagan lake, for it was inhabited by many Ogopogos much larger and fiercer than the present lone survivor.

The Ogopogo species has fallen very low since the days of Giants, for the present denizen only dares to show himself once or twice a year, usually when both the moon and the beholder are "high."

The Giant used Cartwright's Lake as a swimming pool, so the legend goes, and the monster footprints are still discernible up on the mountain to anyone with a very vivid imagination.

One year our Giant decided that he needed a place for a summer home, so gathering the lesser giants together, they built Bald Mountain about twenty miles away which we moderns know so well. The material used was excavated from what is now Trout Creek Canyon. Many who are not familiar with the history of ancient times have wondered how this great ravine was formed.

In those days, everything was done on an enormous scale. For instance, when the Giants wanted some level land for a tennis court, it took them only half a day to level Paradise Flat where the golf course is today. Large rocks were used as tennis balls by the players, and many of the rocks, lost from the court, can still be seen scattered over the adjoining hills.

There was constant war between the Ogopogos and the Giants. The latter had one advantage as they could throw rocks and thus fight from a distance, while the Ogopogos had to get near enough to strike or sting with their tails. Near the water, the Ogopogos usually were victors, but when the battle took place on the hills and flats far, from the lake, the Giants had the advantage as the water beasts soon weakened if they were away from their element for any length of time.

The numbers of the opponents steadily diminished due to this prolonged war, and both races were near extinction before peace was finally signed. At last there only remained one Giant in this part of the world—the one with whom we started the story. When he saw that his species was doomed, just like the kings of ancient Egypt, he did not want to be forgotten in future ages. That is why our Giant carved his likeness on a jutting rock looking south, on the mountain that bears his name. And the sculptured head can be seen to this day.

When the White Man entered the valley, the Giant knew his day was over, so he went into his cave and blocked up the entrance. Whether he is still alive in there, we do not know, but many believe that humans will some time leave the Valley and the Giant will take over his lost kingdom.

It has been suggested that radio interference here is caused by the Giant in some unknown way, but this cannot be proved. But many of us think that the occasional dimming of the electric lights is caused by a sneeze of the Giant. And late some night, when you hear a rumble in the bowels of the earth and you remark: "I wonder what makes the water pipes so noisy!" those of us who have kept perception know that it is the monster snoring, or more likely, cursing the rule of the human.

The Giant, who lives in a cave beneath the Head, May come soon to town on a visit 'tis said; He's hungry and wild, eats man, dog or child— You'd better play safe and crawl under the bed!

Pioneer Days

March 8, 1918

Professor F. M. Clement, horticulturist on the faculty of agriculture at the university and secretary of the BCFGA strongly advocated the planting of peaches in Summerland when he addressed the Farmers' Institute here. He also condemned the practice of planting peach trees with apples, as they require different treatment. More varieties of tree fruits can be grown in Summerland than in some of the other colder districts, M. S. Middleton, Vernon, provincial horticulturist, informed the meeting.

Hon. H. C. Brewster, premier of B.C. died at Calgary last Saturday after a few days' illness.

Building of a new flume on the north main ditch will be undertaken soon with A. Rutherford in charge.

J. W. Jones, MLA for South Okanagan, criticized the department of lands for giving insufficient and inadequate attention to the irrigation situation, when he gave a lengthy speech in the legislature last week. The investment of twenty thousand people is at stake upon the irrigation legislation of the administration, he pointed out.

Miss Amy Brown, who is completing her nurses training at Toronto has signed for service overseas as a nurse. Miss Kate Miller, of Peachland has also signed in a similar capacity.

St. Stephen's W. A. officers elected are: President, Mrs. H. A. Solly; vice-presidents, Mrs. F. A. C. Wright, Mr. Clouston; secretary, Mrs. Barnes; treasurer, Mrs. E. B. May.

Boys of St. Andrew's Sabbath school have organized a local branch of Soldiers of the Soil, David Lister is president, Russell Munn treasurer, Fraser Lister secretary and W. Bates outdoor secretary.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Officers elected by the board of trade are: President, C. E. Bentley; vice-president, J. R. Campbell; executive, John Tait, W. D. Laidlaw, W. C. Kelley, T. Hermon, C. J. Huddleston.

It is hoped that the McDougald slide, north of Crescent Beach, will be cleared by this weekend, with the use of the gas power shovel.

C. E. Bentley was named president of the Summerland branch, Canadian Legion, with J. E. Jenkinson, and W. Atkinson as vice-presidents, W. R. Tweedy as secretary and C. Noel Higgin as treasurer. The executive members are W. R. Boyd, F. J. Nixon, Ben Newton.

W. E. Powell was named president of the Summerland Horticultural society at its annual meeting. Other officers are: Vice-president, Mrs. Otley; directors, John Tait and Mrs. Simpson; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Collas.

Two accidents occurred in the past week when Harold Smith's car was badly smashed in a fall over the hospital hill on Saturday and on Monday a light delivery driven by L. Rumball collided with a new car driven by W. Nicholson, with George Inglis as passenger, at the CPR wharf. Mr. Rumball was seriously hurt about the head and leg and Mr. Inglis sustained a cut on the head. No one was hurt in the Smith accident as the car ran out of gas and slipped over the bank when the passengers were endeavoring to push the vehicle.

It gets me—how you can sweep a floor once, and get so much dirt off it. And THEN, sweep it again, and get another amazing mound of the stuff. They do say that a good sweep is better than a poor scrub, though.

grey in time—or maybe I shall.

Once I ate prune and raisin soup. On a Norwegian freighter it was, and I've often wondered since just how it was made. And lo! the other day I ran into a recipe for it, and I'm passing it on to you, hoping you'll find it as unusual and delectable as I did.

It's easy to make, too, which is a help these busy days. You soak one pound of prunes and a half pound of raisins for two hours, then drain, and add water to more than cover. Pop in a stick of cinnamon, too, and boil until well done. Then add a teaspoon of cornstarch and sugar to your own taste, cook for another five minutes and serve while it's still warm.

I wonder if you, too, have daffodils in bud in your garden. I have two of them, showing a distinct yellow. And a hyacinth with the bud nicely formed and shooting quickly heavenward. If you're still snowbound, you'll feel like slitting my throat from here to there.

If you must keep on wearing that old dress, because the kiddies need new shoes and hubby simply must have a new business suit with a seat that doesn't shine, dress it up with a gay silk scarf around the neck or the waist. And invest in a pair of colorful earrings which'll take eyes off the dress in a sec.

Do you know what? Buy a 25-cent hair shampoo made by that English company that does such wonders with lavender. Slip it in your purse and leave it there, and every time you open it you'll get the most nose-appealing whiff. It'll make your hankies sniff nicely, too, and soon everybody'll come to associate that dainty fragrance with you, and you alone.

If you've the kind of husband who owns a white evening scarf which he wears once a year, borrow it sometime and wear it with your winter coat and see how it makes your face seem clearer, and younger—somehow. Be sure to launder it again and tuck it back for his nibs, or he'll be crosser'n a bear in February. And a bear in February can be awful cross they tell me.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

Ted Atkinson had just returned from the Canners' school at Vancouver. He was greatly enthused about it so I had no difficulty getting the information for this week's story.

This is the fourth year that a short course for Cannerymen has been held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Canned Foods Association of B.C. The Cannerymen school is the result of good teamwork between such organizations as the American Can Co., commercial processors, the University of B.C. and the Summerland Fruit and Vegetable Processing Laboratory.

This year's short course was held in Moose Hall, in the heart of Vancouver. Attendance included representatives of every commercial fruit and vegetable cannery in B.C.

The program had been well organized, addresses being presented on such important topics as: New developments in canning, storage of fruits in canning, quality control, activities of the food technologist and cannery cleaning procedures.

The speakers were men of outstanding ability and international reputation, for example: Professor E. H. Wiegand of Oregon State College; A. N. Neubert, of the U.S. Fruit and Vegetable Laboratory, Pullman, Wash., and Dr. C. C. Strachan, of Summerland.

One whole day was devoted to the opening, examination and judging of samples taken from the regular commercial stocks of canners and jam makers operating in this province. F. J. Perry, chief canning inspector from department of agriculture at Ottawa was on hand to point out the good and poor features of the various packs.

One of the most important features of these annual canning schools is the opportunity they afford commercial canners, government inspectors and research personnel to get together and become well acquainted. Everyone benefits from the close association and general atmosphere of good fellowship which pervades gatherings of this kind.

This year the proceedings were enlivened by the presence of an attractive young lady who attended every session with the exception of the final banquet. You're right, this special attraction was none other than Summerland's own Peggy Burton.

are allowed to be driven. But if the law works anything like as well here as similar legislation has worked in the province of Manitoba and the states of New Hampshire and New York, B.C.'s accident toll will decrease.

The new law offers no sanction to careless drivers simply because they are insured or are otherwise financially responsible. In the case of accidents resulting from some infractions of the Motor Vehicle Act the driving suspension penalty is automatic and is imposed in addition to any financial judgments that may be handed down in respect to claims.

Insurance companies on the whole are not looking for new public liability and property damage policy holders. No one, not even the wealthy, can long afford the expense of repeated accidents, nor will any insurance company long carry such risky policyholders.

If it were to accomplish nothing else, the new legislation makes an important contribution to social welfare by ensuring financial redress to every innocent victim of careless motorists.

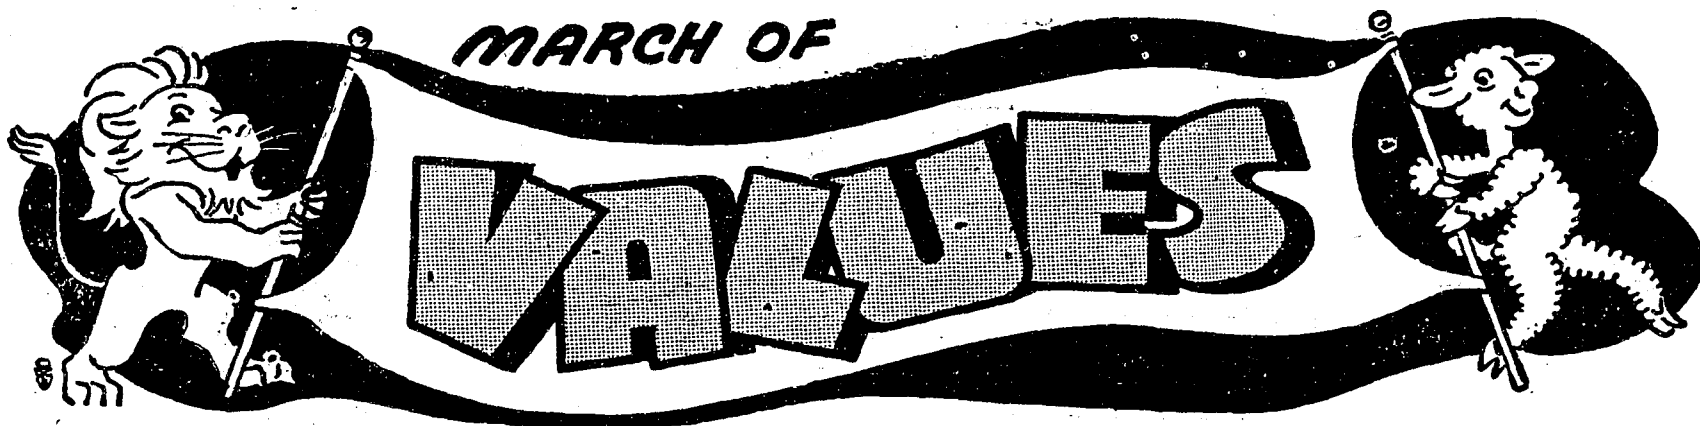

The law bars no man from the roads until he shows himself unwilling to accept his full responsibility to society. It does not compel him to take out insurance. But it does warn him to be careful.

ed cost of supplying power for pumping in connection with sprinkler irrigation found the council in a considerate mood. It was found that there will be improvement to service with the installation of an extra transformer, so the council agreed to take over $150 of the net cost, with Mr. Towgood paying $195 for fifty percent of the extra transformer and the stringing of the line.

Gets Entire Bill

The involved electrical extension to the T. B. Young building on the Kelowna road was again discussed briefly. This extension has been installed but there has been no progress in the supplying of power to neighboring orchardists who were considering pump installation for sprinkler irrigation.

The council decided to submit its account to Mr. Young and if the orchardists agree to come into the scheme then rebates can be worked out. This deal has been hanging fire since late last fall.

No decision on the expenditure of the hospital to provide electrical service to the nurses' home has been reached. A new 25 kva transformer was installed and now provides electric light to the hos-

Bandmaster Here Before First War Dies at Victoria

Mr. J. J. Blewett has received word from Victoria of the death there last month of Arthur Pierce, who was bandmaster here in the early days of this community, from 1910 to 1912.

The late Mr. Pierce was a celebrated musician and was bandmaster of the world-famous Coldstream Guards band prior to coming to Canada for health reasons.

He came to Summerland and resided for nearly five years, organizing a fine Summerland band of 28 members in that time. At the height of the band's success, this aggregation accepted an invitation from the coast and played to Vancouver audiences for a week.

The deceased man left Summerland for the coast, where he resided until his death last month.

It was also decided that persons who had made application for range and hot water heater installation last fall, in order to get the low rate, and who had not completed their installation, would be informed that the council cannot retain their applications in view of further applications from those who had already purchased the necessary equipment.

According to the council agreement with the West Kootenay only ten domestic water heaters will be allowed at the low rate until the power company can bring its proposed 60,000 watt line into West Summerland.

Hot Water Heaters

It was also decided that persons who had made application for range and hot water heater installation last fall, in order to get the low rate, and who had not completed their installation, would be informed that the council cannot retain their applications in view of further applications from those who had already purchased the necessary equipment.

According to the council agreement with the West Kootenay only ten domestic water heaters will be allowed at the low rate until the power company can bring its proposed 60,000 watt line into West Summerland.

COLD WEATHER ON PRAIRIES SLOWS APPLE MOVEMENT

Cold weather on the prairies is slowing up the apple movement so far this month but good demand is expected when the weather breaks, B.C. Tree Fruits official stated yesterday to The "Re view."

Last week, 120 cars rolled out of the interior, bringing the total movement to 12,681 cars compared with 15,780 in 1947 and 10,550 in 1946.

Last, Delicious apples were sold yesterday and now it is a straight Winesap and Newtown deal.

Ottawa Ham Says B.C. Apples Hard To Get

"B.C. apples are extremely hard to get in Ontario right now," was the message which flashed across the airwaves on Sunday afternoon from Ottawa to Summerland.

Howard Shannon, one of the leading Summerland "Hams", was broadcasting from his short-wave set VE7AGE on Sunday afternoon, and was being picked up by Station VE3JA at Braeside, near Ottawa.

Howard was talking about the Ogopogo and other matters relative to Summerland when his Ottawa listener flashed back that he knew a man who had been employed at the Summerland experimental station.

The eastern Ham also said he was quite fond of B.C. apples but they were scarce right now, in Ontario.

It has been stated by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. officials that Ontario apple producers have been publicizing their own crop quite extensively in the past two months and it has been difficult to make sales in Ontario markets.

Fruit Men Here To Study Needs Of Processors Club

On Wednesday afternoon at the Summerland fruit products laboratory, the Okanagan Processors Club staged a cutting demonstration to some sixty packing house managers, operators and fieldmen. Ewart McNaughton, Osoyoos, president of the club, was in charge of the show, and was assisted by Mr. F. E. Atkinson and his staff members of the laboratory.

The demonstration was staged to endeavor to show the packing house operators the different grades and fruits which are most acceptable to the cannery operators, and the maturity which brings the best results.

"We are endeavoring to narrow the gap between the cannery and the grower," one representative of the processors club indicated.

Again Request Light For Baptist Hill

Request for a street light at the top of the Baptist church hill was again made to the council on Tuesday, Mr. E. J. Minshall and Mr. A. E. Smith appearing on behalf of the residents of the Parkdale area.

Acting Reeve Harvey Wilson explained that the street lighting request, although submitted many months ago, had not been forgotten but could not be proceeded with until the entire street lighting project had been considered.

The present street lighting transformer cannot stand any further load and until a new transformer is purchased, the project cannot go ahead, he stated.

RESIDENT FOR 35 YEARS GOES TO HER LAST REST

Remains of Mrs. Nannie Pardee, a resident of Summerland district for 35 years, were laid at rest in Peach Orchard cemetery on Wednesday, March 3, following her demise in Vancouver on Monday, March 1, at the age of 85.

It was just 35-years ago that the late Mrs. Pardee came to Summerland from New Jersey and in that time she made a host of friends. She was predeceased here by two sisters, Mrs. Frank Hopkins and Mrs. J. W. Wheeler.

Accompanying the remains from Vancouver were her niece, Mrs. Arthur H. Ruggles and Mrs. D. G. Barry, who returned to their coast homes on Thursday evening.

Officiating at the interment service at Peach Orchard last week was Rev. F. W. Haskins, with the following as pall-bearers: E. R. Butler, C. E. McCutcheon, L. W. Rumball, Alex Smith, T. A. Walden and T. B. Young.

Funeral services had been held at Vancouver on March 2 with Rev. J. P. Westman officiating.

TEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL DIES AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral services were held on Monday, March 8, at St. Andrew's United church in West Summerland for Leona Deloris Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wright. Leona, who was 10 years old last February 7, passed away after a short illness, on March 5. A pupil in Grade 5, her death came as a sad shock to her teachers and playmates.

Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiated at the service, and pallbearers, friends from Keremeos where the Wright family formerly resided were: Mr. G. Carlson, Mr. J. Smunk, Mr. R. Smunk and Mr. N. Stanley. Interment was at Peach Orchard cemetery.

Besides her parents, Leona leaves to mourn her passing one sister, Mrs. M. Freylinger of New Westminster, and one brother, Elwood R., at home; an aunt, Mrs. H. Corpron of Seattle, Washington, and an uncle, Mr. M. Halfpenny of New Westminster.

Coming from out-of-town to extend sympathy to the family were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Corpron, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. M. Freylinger and Mr. M. Halfpenny, New Westminster; Mrs. J. Bynuck and daughter Irene, of Spences Bridge; Mr. and Mrs. Rabb and daughter Freda, Mr. and Mrs. G. Carlson and Mrs. Ray Walters, all of Keremeos, and Mr. and Mrs. Albin Ante, of Penticton.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold Are Principals As Friends Gather For Golden Wedding

Fifty years of married life were celebrated on Thursday, March 4, by two recent arrivals in Summerland from Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold, who are now residing in lower town. Prior to moving here in October of last year, they were residents of Rocanville, Sask., for more than sixty years.

The homes of the wedding principals of fifty years ago and of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Arnold were the scenes of gatherings of friends and relatives both afternoon and evening last Thursday, and visitors from Vancouver, Penticton and Rocanville were present for the happy occasion.

An afternoon tea was arranged by Mesdames Adrian and Elmor Arnold, the attractive tea table being graced with yellow daffodils and a wedding-cake, trimmed in white greetings and rosebuds in mauve. The bride of fifty years ago looked charming in a mauve crepe dress with a corsage of pale pink carnations. Congratulations from many

TURN DOWN SCHOOL ESTIMATE PEACHLAND

Members of the Peachland municipal council turned down the 1948 school board estimates when they were submitted at a special meeting held recently. Total estimates amounted to $5,381.88, or 2.98 percent of the total school costs in School District No. 23. A resolution rejecting the estimates was passed unanimously.

Gordon Smith has been appointed acting treasurer of the municipality in the absence of the coast of Municipal Clerk F. J. Nixon.

points in Canada, too numerous to mention, were received by the principals, and many gifts were received among them being a pair of boudoir lamps, presented by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lee-Grayson, Summerland; electric table lamp, from Mr. and Mrs. Borden Arnold, Rocanville, Sask.; an eight-day chime clock, from the Elmor and Adrian Arnold families.

Mrs. Adrian Arnold served a delicious dinner and in the evening a number of old friends of the happy couple came from Penticton.

A lovely oval mirror in a gold frame was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold by Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Day, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Day, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hackman, and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Nicolls, all of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Acton and Mr. and Mrs. George Beatty, both of Rocanville, who happened to be visiting in the Okanagan at this time.

A suitable reply was given by Mr. Arnold, who has withstood the onslaught of the years in a remarkable fashion.

The evening was spent in talking over old times and in singing, music being provided by Mrs. K. Nicolls on the piano, Mr. Nicolls with his violin, and Adrian Arnold with his accordion.

Twenty-two guests sat down to a dainty lunch served by Mrs. Adrian Arnold, thus proving the climax of the evening. Dorothy Arnold and Elizabeth Morgan were servers.

Mr. A. D. Glen, Summerland, was among the guests, while Mr. and Mrs. Elmor Arnold and Mr. Sam Elliott motored from Vancouver for the occasion.

Mr. George Inglis returned to Summerland from Vancouver on Friday, March 5.

Weekend visitors to West Summerland were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Grant of Vernon, visiting Mrs. Grant's sister and brothers, Mrs. Al Soderberg and Messrs. C. and J. Betuzzi.

Mr. Harry Braddick arrived back from a trip to the coast on Monday, March 8.

Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Solly left by car Monday morning for a trip to Vancouver. They expect to return by the weekend.

Miss G. Patmore's series of lectures to Sunday school teachers concluded on Wednesday, March 4. Going to Penticton to attend the lecture on primary work Wednesday afternoon were Mrs. F. R. Steuart, Mrs. J. Sheeley, Mrs. Jack Dunsdon, Mrs. H. Braddick, Mrs. Clarke Baker, Mrs. L. Hill; and from lower town, Mrs. A. G. Bissett and Miss Scott. Mrs. F. E. Atkinson and Mrs. E. Bennett attended the concluding lecture on Wednesday evening.

Little Mayne McCutcheon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. McCutcheon, is a patient at Summerland hospital. He is progressing favorably, and is expected home soon.

Mrs. W. S. Nield left on Monday, March 8, for a trip to the coast.

Miss Iris Braddick of Vancouver is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Braddick. Miss Braddick intends to remain in Summerland for an indefinite period.

Mr. I. Claypool has returned to Summerland following a visit of some three months to friends and relatives in the eastern states, including Detroit, Mich.

Miss Chrissie Smith returned home on Monday after spending two weeks in Salt Lake City.

This evening the executive of the Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh to select the Summerland entry of a plan for a model farm home to be submitted in the dominion-wide contest being sponsored by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation of Ottawa. There has been an active interest shown in this contest, with several groups of women putting their ideas together to make worthwhile contributions. The selected entry will be announced at the regular meeting of the Women's Institute.

Mrs. S. Angove, who has spent the past four and a half months in Summerland hospital, is recuperating at the home of Mrs. G. Woite, Peach Orchard. Mrs.

Angove has expressed her appreciation of the efficiency of the nursing and hospital staffs indicated by their good care during her long stay in the institution.

Form Girl Guide Company In April

The organization of a Girl Guide association in Summerland is going on apace, with the mothers and Guiders becoming familiar with the history and aims of the association in weekly meetings. Last Thursday evening Miss D. Illingworth and Miss M. Hannah talked to a group of Guiders, and on Friday afternoon, March 5, mothers and others interested in sponsoring this worthwhile organization for growing girls met at the Parish hall to hear the same two speakers outlining the work past and present, and outline the aims for the future. It is hoped that the first girls' company will be formed immediately after the Easter holidays.

Mrs. James Marshall, secretary, reported a good turn-out of eighteen to twenty women, who will form the nucleus of an active and comprehensive Summerland Girl Guide group.

Pinafore Cast In Regular Practices

Rehearsals for Singers and Players Club forthcoming production of "Pinafore" are going forward, and in spite of some unforeseen difficulties Mr. Bud Steuart, director of the opera, is hopeful of being ready to show the production by the middle of April.

Casting has presented some problems, but the main parts are tentatively apportioned to Mrs. J. B. McNeil, Penticton, as Josephine; Mrs. Alma Fudge, as Buttercup; Mr. A. K. Macleod, as Sir Joseph Porter; Mr. Frank Plunkett, as Dead-Eye Dick; Mr. Harry Howis, as Captain Corcoran; Mrs. Laura Boothe, as Cousin Hebe; Mr. Delmer Dunham, as the Boatswain; and Mr. Hart, as the carpenter's mate.

The chorus rehearsals are held every Tuesday evening at the high school, and Mr. Steuart stresses wistfully the crying need for more tenors and first basses. He feels sure there must be some buried talent in Summerland with free Tuesday evenings, Tenors and baritones with an urge to sing will receive a hearty welcome any Tuesday evening.

Canon F. V. Harrison, accompanied by Mr. C. J. Huddleston, Mr. C. J. Clark and Mr. Alan Calvert, left on Tuesday morning to motor to Nelson to attend the Diocese and Synod meeting held there on Wednesday, March 10, for the purpose of electing a bishop. The bishopric has been left vacant by the recent retirement of the Right Reverend W. Adams.

Mr. Harry Ruppel is taking a few days' vacation from the Family Shoe Store. He left for Vancouver on March 7.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Butler have moved from their place on Giant's Head road to the home formerly occupied by Mr. F. Hopkins on Parkdale.

DID YOU KNOW?

FLOUR FOR BREAD . . .

The beginning of the modern flour mill, started with the invention of the steam engine. In 1783 James Watt helped to build a large mill on the banks of the Thames. It was equipped with twenty pairs of millstones, each pair capable of grinding ten bushels of wheat an hour. Two engines, each of fifty horse power capacity, supplied the power.

The railroad made it possible to carry wheat from long distances inland to the mills, and to ship flour to distant markets. With increased transportation facilities large mills began to replace country mills, for, by reason of their large output, they could grind the wheat at much less cost. The next advance was the introduction of iron and steel rollers instead of stone grinders.

Today the flour mill has many new machines for cleaning and separating, scouring and tempering, grinding and purifying, the wheat. It is a marvel of a mechanical age, with its processes supplying the fine flours used by the modern bakery.

Further Aid To Municipalities And Hospitals Forecast In Policy Speech Of Premier Byron Johnson

(Special to The Review)

VICTORIA—Further indications have been given to the provincial legislature that the government will in all probability advance further financial aid to municipalities but that such aid would be considered final until the municipalities had implemented the Goldenberg Report; that financial assistance would be given to meet the serious plight of hospitals, either by way of direct grants or through some measure of hospital insurance; that the government would take the necessary steps to prepare a brief for submission to Ottawa for implementation of social security measures in order to make the existing tax agreement fair; that further power development would be carried out as well as an extensive public works program designed to encourage industrial growth.

These indications were contained in the policy speech delivered by Premier Byron Johnson on Friday last when he spoke to the legislature for the first time as premier of this province.

His speech may be summarized under the following headings:

Green Book Fact

Existing tax agreement between dominion and province cannot be considered fair unless social security proposals outlined in Green Book are put into effect.

Implementation of social security measures important due to rapid rise in costs.

Assurances given by Prime Minister King that social security measures would be implemented when a sufficient number of provinces signed tax agreements.

Green Book proposals estimated 16,670 old age pensions in British Columbia by 1948. Actual result 17,768 recipients last October and 21,305 recipients at the beginning of 1948. Anticipated rise by the end of year—25,000.

Due to change in old age pensions regulations, British Columbia assuming greater share of social welfare burden of other provinces of 2,079. Old age pension cases assumed in the past five months, 423 or 20% are from other provinces and not really British Columbia cases in the true sense.

Social assistance allowances to unemployables have risen at the rate of 2,000 new cases a year for the past two years.

Pensions Doubled

Cost of old age pensions, social allowances, and mothers' pensions has risen from $4,100,000 in 1945-46 to an estimated $8,900,000 in 1948-49, an increase of more than 100%.

Cost of social services on per capita basis has risen from $1.60 in 1944-45 to $2.07 in 1946, in contrast to a per capita rise in Saskatchewan during the same period from 56c to 76c.

Aggravating financial situation is serious financial plight of hospitals.

Dominion government has yet to assume full responsibility for unemployment.

As a result of increased health and welfare services, costs have risen in province from $9,300,000 in 1945-46 to an estimated $19,346,000 in 1948-49, an increase of approximately $10,000,000 or more than 100%.

Dominion collected for year ended March 31, 1947, $139,958,000 from income, corporation, and succession duty taxes. The province received back $23,000,000 or only 16%.

Larger Share

Consequently, government has urged upon the dominion to bear a larger share of old age pensions, institute compulsory contributory superannuation, give financial assistance in the cost of hospitals and implement a system of health insurance.

Government will take necessary steps to prepare case for presentation to the federal authorities.

$550,000 granted to hospitals to meet emergent financial position. Hospital costs have risen 100% since 1945-46; the cost to the government for the year 1947-48 being $2,359,000 or an increase of $1,160,000.

Two courses of action appear necessary. First, revenue sources must be pooled to provide adequate services for money available. Secondly, hospital administration should receive strict examination to ensure maximum of service for money expended.

Hospitalization Plan

Government proposes to submit measures designed to bring hospitalization within financial reach of the people.

Municipalities have been relieved of many social burdens during past several years; have been assisted provincially in connection with reduction of their debts as well as being aided by successive upward revisions in provincial financial grants for education and in respect to motor license revenue.

Further financial assistance to municipalities assured; but this assistance will be regarded as final.

Municipalities should implement recommendations of Goldenberg report as has the provincial government.

Inflationary costs should be met by inflated tax dollar. Assessment basis at present is deflated.

Provincial administration affected by two factors—rapid rise in cost of social security and education and spiral of inflation.

Surplus revenue account almost entirely appropriated so there are no reserves to meet abnormal conditions.

Added revenues required to meet mounting costs and spiral of inflation, and to assist municipalities and hospitals.

PGE negotiations for extension to be resumed this spring.

Labor legislation to be revised but broad underlying principles maintained.

B.C. Power Commission adds 4,000 more customers in past eleven months bringing total to 27,000 consumers.

Rate reductions given in 11 out of 18 power districts.

New rate reductions to be made effective on Vancouver Island by April 1 of this year.

Second 25,000 horsepower unit at Campbell River to be put in operation within next few weeks.

Campbell River power plant expected to reach 100,000 horsepower stage within next 12 months.

Nanaimo-Duncan load to be transferred to Campbell River plant on March 7.

New Pulp Mills

Commission negotiating to supply further 10,000 horsepower to another new pulp mill for Vancouver Island, Mill expected to be in operation by 1950.

Third pulp mill also under consideration on Vancouver Island with an expected 35,000 to 50,000 horsepower requirement. Other industries are applying for power.

Tenders called for generators, turbines and tunnel in connection with Whatshan Lake 25,000 horsepower development for Kamloops and Okanagan area. Bids close on April 15.

Commission has been able to pay out of all operating revenue the full interest on capital advances, full sinking fund requirements, adequate reserves, all administrative and operating expenses and yet set aside in nine months of this fiscal year $186,000 as a rates stabilization reserve.

Lowest Gasoline Price

First increase in price of gasoline in British Columbia over a period of six years granted on interim basis, increase being 3c per gallon.

Revision made as a result of heavy importations of refined gasoline to meet demand and following three upward revisions of price of crude oil at source of supply. Increase of crude oil during past 12 months 90c per barrel.

No other revision to be given until further examination of oil company books.

Price in British Columbia still lowest in Canada.

Premier sounded optimistic note in conclusion. Said problems of inflation and rising social security and education costs not insurmountable.

Confident of B.C.'s future. Population growth in past two years 95,000. Payrolls stood at $402,000,000 in 1946 or $20,000,000 more than previous year. Greater grain expected for 1947.

Industrial development growing apace as more power provided and roads improved and new territory opened up through public works.

Mark Time On Visit Of Speed Boat Champion

KELOWNA—No new developments have taken place in connection with the probable visit of Sir Malcolm Campbell to Kelowna this summer to attempt to set a new world speed-boat record with his rebuilt, jet-propelled Bluebird II. Financial arrangements are still underway, and local representatives of Sir Malcolm are awaiting word from the British speed-boat king as to whether he will be given permission by the British government to bring his boat to Canada.

W. T. Buss and F. S. Moore, of South Kelowna, local representatives of Sir Malcolm, have been attending the Seattle Boat Show. Meanwhile officials of the Kelowna Board of Trade and the city council have been in close touch with government heads and other prominent individuals in an effort to complete financial arrangements, and definite word is expected within the next week or so.

Both Mr. Buss and Mr. Moore first thought of the idea of Sir Malcolm coming here when they were crossing Lake Okanagan on the Kelowna-Westbank ferry last year. Mr. Buss, a new-comer to Kelowna, was impressed with the lake's glassy surface, and the two men wrote to Sir Malcolm. Much to their surprise, the British speed-boat king wrote back asking for more information.

"The lake is a perfect spot because it is so deep, and for that reason, at times has a surface like a mirror," Mr. Buss explained. "The Okanagan also has a dry atmosphere, which is necessary. A jet engine can't be tested on salt water, because the moist salt atmosphere corrodes the vanes of the turbine.

Perfect Course
"There would be a perfect nine-mile run and the measured mile would be right in front of the Aquatic Club," he said. "Of course, he might have to wait around for days to get the proper conditions and the test might be made at 5 o'clock in the morning," he concluded.

Possibility that Sir Malcolm may come to Kelowna to better his speed boat record, was "played up" in practically every newspaper on the North American continent and in Great Britain. Several Eastern publications gave the event front-page layouts, and the news has resulted in a tremendous amount of publicity for Kelowna.

Peachland Loses Three Cage Games

Peachland school students played four games of basketball here on Friday, Feb. 27, losing three and coming out with a draw in the fourth. Chief feature of all games was the exhibition of Don Cristante of Summerland and Shaw of Peachland in the junior boys' game. Cristante had a slight edge, scoring 17 points while Shaw garnered a big fourteen. This game ended in a 27-23 victory for Summerland.

In the senior girls' contest Summerland won 16-8, Olive Mason being high with six points. The juvenile girls, 13 and under, played to a 6-all draw and the juvenile boys triumphed 16-2.

Kelowna Starts Historical Society

KELOWNA—Members of the Okanagan Historical Society and friends met recently to discuss the formation of a Kelowna and District branch of the society. The society has already formed a branch and it was the unanimous opinion of those present that a similar move should be made here. F. M. Buckland was unanimously elected president, J. B. Knowles was elected vice-president and L. L. Kerry, secretary. A board of directors was formed consisting of E. M. Carruthers, H. C. S. Collett, W. R. Powley and Mrs. Dorothy Gellatly.

NO OBJECTION TO STAIRS

Application of W. G. Rempel, on behalf of the Cardiff Co., operators of the former Summerland Co-op cannery, for council reaction to the placing of a four-foot entrance stairway in front of the cannery building, met with mixed response recently. However, the council decided not to raise any objection, "until such time as developments require this space." The proposed stairway is actually on the road allowance and final permission will have to be obtained from the B.C. government.

Vital Victuals

Most people know that there is danger in violent exercise in middle age but, ask health authorities, how many older people realize that there may be a danger-factor in diet, too? Experts say that it is very important for a person in the middle years to maintain normal, or slightly below normal, weight. Otherwise, the heart and other vital organs may be overtaxed. Those who find that they are putting on weight should cut down on starchy and fatty foods. They are urged to turn, instead, to such things as milk, green vegetables and whole grains.

Bright Lights

The "bright lights" have been blamed for many things. Now, along come Canadian nutrition experts to declare that bright light is sometimes bad, too, for what goes into the stomach. They point particularly to that most valuable of all food—milk. Sunlight destroys some of the vitamins in milk which, they say, should always be stored in a cool, dark place.

Child Training

The foundation for good mental health, as well as for physical development, is laid in pre-school years. Behaviour patterns are formed then. Health authorities say that some early trends in thought and action are desirable and should be encouraged and

Salmon Arm Suffers From Padlock Action

It is reported from Salmon Arm that the recent action of Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., in closing down the activities of six mutual health associations operating from Vancouver will affect that district considerably.

The Industrial Health Association

is reported to have a membership of more than 1100 in the Salmon Arm area and it was one of the most popular health groups operating in this district. Reports on the operations of the association presented to the attorney-general by chartered accountants state the organization has current liabilities of $12,697, including $12,500 in members' claims, and its current assets amount to $4,827.

The Industrial Health has a number of group policies covering the employees of large firms operating in Salmon Arm.

strengthened. Some must be directed, and others changed entirely, so that a child will grow up to live happily and comfortably with his fellows. Wise parents are advised to study carefully how to direct and mould tendencies which are bound to have lasting effect on the lives of their children.

Finding Their Feet

Children should never be frightened into avoiding danger, warn the health authorities. Better, they say, to point out the peril and then watch the youngsters to ensure their safety. Too much parental interference with juvenile initiative and experimentation is unwise. Of course, no one would suggest that a child should be allowed, free play with a sharp knife or with a hot stove, but there are situations in which the youngster is better left to find his or her way personally, without serious danger. That's necessary for experience and personality development.

Appetite Appeal

If your food is becoming tasteless, and always seems to consist of the same old thing, nutritionists suggest that you try something new—fish, for instance. They say that Canadians often overlook the fact that the protein in fish is as good as it is in a filet mignon or in a hamburger. And fish can be served in such a variety of ways, so that it will not only tempt the appetite but provide, as well, for nutritional needs.

About Wrinkles

Want a wrinkle to save you from wrinkles? Well, according to Canadian nutrition experts, dried fruits will do it. Such edibles as dates, figs, raisins and currants are high in fuel value, due to their low moisture content and to their richness in sugar. The dried fruits, too, contain calcium and iron. They can be used to advantage in cooked foods to add flavor as well as nutritive value. Prunes, which belong to this group, are good sources of vitamin A and B.

Food Formula

To your recipes for good eating add this food formula, which comes from Canada's nutrition experts: take a slice from Canada's Food Rules (free and unrationed), spread generously with appetite (to be found in all healthy people), garnish with eye and nose appeal (guaranteed to stimulate the gastric juices) and serve with the relish of good cheer (essential to proper digestion). Then, according to the authorities, you have indeed pleasure as well as profit on your platter.

Body Water

Did you know that water constitutes almost two-thirds of the weight of the body? That's why water is even more necessary to maintain life than food. Water regulates the temperature of the body, aids digestion, thins the blood, assists circulation and helps to carry off waste. So, it's a good health habit to drink a quart of water every day.

Tumblers at Tables

Should we drink water with meals? Well—public health authorities say that, although water dilutes the digestive juices, these fluids operate more efficiently when diluted. Water at meals is not harmful unless, of course, it is used simply to wash down unchewed food. Experts warn however, that, when the stomach is suddenly chilled, digestion is interrupted. So water at table should be only cool enough to make it palatable.

ONE SHOT ISN'T ENOUGH — STENT

"One shot, whether it's a hit or a miss doesn't mean much," explained H. V. Stent, in a short talk to the Summerland Fish and Game Club at the IOOF hall on March 1, the topic being Guns and Ballistics.

Mr. Stent emphasized that the main feature concerning accuracy in shooting is the man behind the gun, but also pointed out that the quality of ammunition being used play vital parts in shooting.

He explained the firing mechanism, when a pressure up to 50,000 pounds per square inch is built up with the burning of the powder. He also explained that rifles do not shoot flat but the bullets respond to a gravity pull.

A bullet dropped at the same time as another bullet is fired will hit the ground at the same time as the bullet which is fired, it has been claimed.

He termed the .22 long rifle as the most accurate sporting rifle and it is possible to obtain two-inch groups provided there are good sights and ammunition.

MIRACLE FLUID

By W. R. STEWART

THE WORK OF MERCY NEVER ENDS . . .

New hope glowed on the faces of the little group watching the tiny figure on the bed.

"She will be alright now," said the doctor quietly.

Plasma . . . the miracle fluid . . . had worked its wonders once again. Another life had been saved.

A few hours before Janet had been a happy and contented little girl playing on a cabin floor.

Then it happened. No one knows quite how. An oil lamp crashed from the table followed by a searing flash of fire . . . then an agonized cry of pain. It was all over in a moment. A tortured young life hung in the balance.

Finally, the doctor arrived. His diagnosis was quick and certain. The symptoms were obvious. Marked pallor . . . cold perspiration on the forehead, upper lip and hands . . . fast, feeble pulse. Shock!

"Plasma," he said, "if she is to live."

The doctor had come prepared. Within a matter of minutes his skilled application of one of the most important discoveries ever made in the field of medical science had given new life to a stricken child . . . and new hope to her parents.

Janet's case is symbolical of hundreds of others . . . people from all walks of life whose lives have been saved through the efforts of a remarkable new undertaking, the Canadian Red Cross Society's free blood transfusion service.

This service, designed to provide hospitals with adequate supplies of whole blood and plasma necessary to meet all emergencies, is already in operation in British Columbia and Alberta and other provinces are rapidly completing plans to begin operations in the near future. When building materials, suitable premises and labor become more readily available the Service will be extended.

Since its inception in British Columbia in February, 1947, and more recently in Alberta, the Red Cross Society's free blood transfusion service . . . by air, train and car . . . has rushed emergency supplies of whole blood and plasma to save Canadian lives. A total of 21,044 bottles of whole blood and 2,364 bottles of plasma were distributed to hospital banks throughout British Columbia and Alberta between January and December of 1947. During the same period more than 33,000 voluntary donors were called to give their blood.

Plasma rushed to Chilliwack by Red Cross transport and to Vancouver Island by plane helped save the lives of seriously injured loggers . . . an emergency operation was performed at Prince George with the aid of whole blood flown from the depot. Other cases at Port Alberni, Kamloops, Penticton, as well as scores of other centres have received emergency supplies of the miracle fluid.

Benefits of the Red Cross blood

transfusion service are already being recognized in Alberta where it is comparatively new.

A young Albertan hunter accidentally wounded recently by a rifle bullet which penetrated one of his lungs, was given four blood transfusions while being rushed 220 miles by truck to the Edmonton University hospital.

The transfusions, supplied enroute from hospital blood banks, were administered while the critically injured youth lay in the truck. Prompt administration of the whole blood provided by the Red Cross was credited with saving the hunter's life.

Several new-born babies, previously affected by the RH factor, are still alive and healthy today because of total blood replacements supplied by the Red Cross blood transfusion service.

Complete equipment for a transfusion of this type, along with the necessary supply of typed blood, was flown from the Vancouver depot laboratory to Lethbridge and transported from there by train to Fernie, B.C., at the request of the local doctor for a patient who was to bear an RH baby.

Immediately before the birth of the infant, the medical director of the blood transfusion service in British Columbia, Dr. Walter Rice, instructed the Fernie doctor by long distance telephone on the replacement technique.

This child is alive and healthy today and serum from the mother will be used for testing the RH factor in similar cases.

Medical practitioners, surgeons, and specialists throughout British Columbia and Alberta are high in their praise of the service. They are in a position to observe satisfactory response to whole blood or plasma transfusions. Surgical and maternity patients react quickly to this comparatively new therapy and surgeons depend on transfusions for assistance in performing their most exacting operations.

"We find this free blood and plasma invaluable," reports Dr. Lionel Appleby, surgeon at St. Paul's hospital in Vancouver. "It has revolutionized the whole blood transfusion service in Vancouver, by making blood available to anyone on short notice. It is particularly useful for those patients who formerly could not afford the supply of blood that would give them a better chance for life."

The senior transfusion officer in another large western hospital has this to say: "You have to feel the pulse of a patient while he is receiving blood to know that a miracle is taking place. Even the color of his face improves during the time he is receiving a transfusion."

This has been but a brief glimpse of the Red Cross Society's newest service. Still young in years and growth, it has, nevertheless, become firmly established as a "necessity" with the medical profession and citizenry alike in British Columbia and Alberta.

The Red Cross has tested and proven, in terms of lives saved, the value of their free blood transfusion service . . . a service that will be extended to the rest of Canada as soon as it becomes humanly possible to do so.

To Our Customers:

Due to the great increase in power consumption and peak load conditions in the Okanagan area during the last two years, the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, Limited find it necessary to increase the size of copper conductor on the two transmission lines between Trail and Greenwood, a distance of fifty miles.

The restringing of this section will involve an expenditure of approximately $500,000.00. Work will commence immediately and we expect completion by June.

Beginning about March 1st restringing will proceed between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily and during these hours the total power load must be carried on one line, which may cause a slight drop in voltage. Between the hours of 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. daily, voltage conditions will be normal, since it is our intention to tie in each night so that both lines will be in operation during these hours.

Completion of this work will improve power conditions generally and will take care of the additional load to be expected in the Okanagan area during the next few years.

of TWO who came back

by Lotta Dempsey

Of course, quite a few air force personnel got their faces smashed in crack-ups. But a girl . . . well, girls have a very special feeling about their faces. And when they brought the tall slender WD corporal into hospital—one of the eight of twenty-seven left alive out of a flight that crashed between Vancouver and Prince Rupert—she was about the most unrecognizable Airwoman still breathing in this country.

They flew Helen—and Mary, another WD with a badly burned back—to Toronto's Christie Street Military Hospital, for skin grafts and burn treatment. A Red Cross worker told me she'd never forget it. The Red Cross room is in the heart of the wards, next door to the room those girls had.

For weeks workers just tiptoed in and out on their rounds—writing letters, supplying stamps, cigarettes and chocolate bars to the patients.

'No Visitors'

One operation followed another through the weary months in which doctors built a new face for Helen and treated Mary's back. The girls became great friends with the Red Cross workers. But they didn't want to meet people from the 'outside', right then. Even when the 'No Visitors' sign went down and Air Force boys and other vet. patients wheel-chaired and crutch-tapped in, they were still shy about seeing 'just people'.

The Red Cross was different. Those women in the deep blue smocks were part of their own submerged world of pain and illness, yet attached to the country outside. They did the little things the girls needed—feminine bits of shopping, letters and messages, planned small celebrations.

New Trades

As the girls progressed, going from one hospital to another for treatment, the Red Cross was always there. Supplying ambulances, at first—later, escorts to hockey games, concerts, plays. Offering quiet practical assistance whenever it was needed.

Today Helen and Mary are learning new trades. Helen can no longer teach physical education or model. Mary cannot continue her typing, because of permanently stiffened fingers. But while DVA prepares them for their new lives, the Red Cross still stands by as they do with all our Canadian veterans in hospitals everywhere. In proof that we, the people, have not forgotten.

The British Columbia milk consuming public will have an opportunity of presenting their case against a further increase in the price of milk, it is announced this week by Hon. It is expected that the milk board will hold hearings shortly in Vancouver and in Victoria. Any government action on the application of the producers and the distributors for an increase in the prices will be delayed until after the hearings and recommendations have been presented by the controller.

Films available for March and April through the Summerland Film Council have been announced by Mrs. J. McLachlan, secretary, and include a wide variety of subjects. These films are available to organizations in Summerland who wish to have entertainment features at their meetings.

Canadian Screen Magazine film, 4 minutes, contains two parts: Lumbermen's Picnic and Canadian Authors Meet. An eighteen-minute film entitled Cowboy documents the life of a cowboy on a large ranch.

An expository on how to combat syphilis emphasizes the role of the individual and is an education ten-minute feature. Another educational film is the nine-minute short on the importance of cereal as a balanced food and is entitled Six Slices a Day.

Others in this series are: Flight Six, airmail service from Vancouver to Montreal and overseas; Great Lakes, featuring the stream of ships plying the lakes and the main industries they serve; Highways North, a picture of Alaska highway development; Let's All Sing, four popular songs with animated backgrounds; New Home for Beavers, a story of the re-stocking of the James Bay area; Valley of the Tennessee, a reclamation picture; Warble Fly, a silent film depicting the damage done and a description of the measures for their control; Your Children and You, a study of child reaction containing many interesting and down-to-earth facts on how to raise a child.

Of this total, the elementary school pupils contributed a handsome sum of $267.36. Posters were distributed throughout the school advertising this appeal but all donations were on a voluntary

TWENTY BUYERS PLAN TRIP TO UNITED KINGDOM

The department of trade and industry, in co-operation with W. A. McAdam, agent-general for British Columbia in London, has organized a group of twenty British Columbia buyers to visit the United Kingdom in April, states Hon. L. H. Eyres, following a report that he would leave for the United Kingdom at the close of the legislative session.

Mr. Eyres said it is felt that every effort should be made to encourage two-way trade between the United Kingdom and British Columbia, as world trade is the keynote of British Columbia's best customers.

The delegation, under the leadership of Mr. Eyres, will explore the possibilities of the British market with a view to increasing British Columbia purchases from that source. The party will leave Vancouver on April 15, sailing from New York on April 22, and returning, will leave England on June 2.

Blakeborough Not Available For 1948 Roads

H. A. Blakeborough, former Kelowna city engineer, will be unable to take on the work of supervising Summerland's 1948 road surfacing program, due to pressure of business in the Orchard City, the council was informed by letter on Tuesday.

Mr. Blakeborough was invited to take on the task of advising and supervising the road program which calls for the expenditure of $28,000 in hard surfacing the principal roads in the community this year.

The Kelowna city engineer advised the local council that it make certain of the drainage of the roads and that a permanent foundation is in place before making any expenditures on hard surfacing.

He has observed thousands of dollars wasted in applying hard

Shuttle Stars Play at Kelowna This Week-End

Summerland shuttle stars will invade Kelowna this weekend to participate in the annual Interior of B.C. badminton championships and many are favored to reach the final rounds.

Included in the Summerland contingent will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cornwall, Mrs. R. G. Russell, Miss Joyce Hutchinson, Miss Dorothy McLeod, Dave Collins, Len Hill, Bill Evans, George Fudge and Gordon Smith.

This winter has seen a big upsurge in badminton interest and there has been more keen play than for many years past, although there have been no inter-club tournaments held.

Mrs. Cornwall will be defending her Interior of B.C. women's singles title this weekend, while George Fudge and Bill Evans will be defending their men's doubles crown won last year.

Confusion

Thirty years ago, the board of trade complained about the confusion which exists in the minds of those not well acquainted with this district regarding the names Summerland and West Summerland.

Today, the board of trade has considered this subject a good many times and it is a "pet peeve" of J. E. OMahony, the board's vice-president.

Those who know Summerland only slightly cannot be told easily that Summerland and West Summerland are really one and the same place, both part of the Municipality of Summerland and only because of the presence of two post offices that the differences in names occur.

Thirty years ago, board members advocated the adoption of Summerland, West, instead of West Summerland. There are some who suggest such a change, even today, but that does not appear to us to be the answer. It is a clumsy substitute.

The answer is to have but one post office and name it Summerland. Then all mail could be delivered to the central post office and be distributed from there. It could be located either in lower town or in the upper portion, but wherever the choice, for the convenience of the other section, a second office would have to be maintained. The second office would serve the immediate vicinity and sell stamps and provide mail collection facilities.

If such a scheme was undertaken, then Summerland could be listed in all directories, postal guides, and like publications under the single heading and with one population recorded. A lot of confusion would be eliminated and about the only person who might suffer would be one of the postmasters.

That Spring Feeling

When people start talking baseball, then old man winter is on his way out and you can start ducking to prevent being involved in spring cleaning.

This year of 1948 may loom large as far as baseball is concerned as the boys have serious plans afoot to stride out and look for bigger and better Goliaths. They plan to link themselves with Kamloops, Vernon and the best the Similkameen can provide.

With the opening of Summerland's new Living Memorial athletic park this is a natural move on the part of the baseball followers. With a spanking new park the brand of baseball should be bettered and keen competition provided.

But the boys will have to settle down in earnest and practice diligently to hope to compete with such teams as they have challenged. Despite the best of ball parks, the class of baseball must be good to hold the fans and to pay expenses for those long jaunts away from home.

Planning Gone Haywire

In theory, a fully planned economy precludes the possibility of monetary difficulties. Such mundane troubles as inflation are not supposed to happen when the totalitarian state has complete and absolute control over money, banks, productions, incomes and prices.

Thus, advocates of economic planning the world over get the shock of their lives when the Soviet Council of Ministers resorted to a currency revaluation that was far more drastic than rumours sifting through the "iron curtain" indicated. It is evident now that here was a major case of planning gone completely haywire. Much more money than the Russian economy could absorb was put into circulation and this resulted in spiralling price increases for all but the bare few products sold under the rationing system.

The Soviet population was asked—and there was no such thing as refusal to such a request!—to exchange its rubles ten for one. This was the equivalent of a 90% devaluation of the Rusa currency. Admittedly, owners of savings accounts and government bonds got a more favourable deal, but certainly a huge portion of the accumulated savings of the Russian people was, to use a good old Soviet expression, "purged."

Under the Soviet system, personal wealth is almost wholly currency, bank deposits and government securities, other wealth being owned by the state and co-operatives. Thus, it is clear that the ruble exchange was the same as a gigantic capital levy upon liquid assets that constituted the major part of personal wealth.

Faulty planning, and faulty planning only, has virtually wiped out the Russian people financially. The Soviet Council's decree compared currency policy in Russia with that of the decadent free enterprise countries. It claimed that on the latter there was a "decrease in real wages of workers and employees" and "an increase in the army of unemployed." Why didn't the authors of this portentous document take the trouble to study the readily available indices of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on wages and employment in Canada before committing such a childish mistake?

Proponents of planned economics would do well to study carefully the Russian devaluation and its implications. One point alone should slow down these advocates of Socialism and that is the fact that the Politbureau has deliberately established a level of prices for goods sold to the farmer much higher than the price of goods sold to city dwellers. This suggested study would certainly create healthy scepticism about the Communist cure-all for mankind's economic ills.—C.M.A.

Penny Wise

Pink, they say, is to be THE color for spring. And so, always keen to be in the swim, and knowing full well I couldn't afford a suit of pink, a dress of pink, nor yet a pink bonnet, I up and bought me a pink blouse.

Penny Wise

I'm hoping it'll do things to my old grey suit and my even older black one, and I've resurrected a two-year-old black hat upon which I'll slap a 69-cent pink feather. Then just watch me strut. Just watch!

If you're tired of your old kitchen table and chairs set, how about giving them (and you) a new lease on life by making slip covers to slide over the back, and thin cushions to match? A gay yellow, a brilliant Chinese red, or maybe a true Paddy green would do the trick. Spring would be indoors then, as well as out.

You can probably all remember when we used to sit and knit our fingers to the wrists, making everything from whole dresses to silk ties for long-suffering husbands. Well, those days seem to be coming back again, and there are few items smarter to have in your wardrobe than something hand-knit. A dress (with the new look, of course), or a tricky tuck-in sweater with an oval neckline, for instance. Who could ask for more? Knit one, knit two, and p.s.s.o. Are you with me?

When you're mashing those old stand-bys, turnips, grate some raw carrot into them. Gives color, and even a modicum of glamor to an otherwise ordinary dish. Makes kiddies more inclined to eat, too, which counts a lot with peckish appetites.

I read the other day that if you can spend a perfectly useless afternoon in a perfectly useless manner, then you have learned how to live. Well, I must have learned, because there is nothing I can do better, or do more of, than ... nothing. In large and copious quantities.

The thing to do is do your "nothing" when the children are at school. If they're not old enough, yet, insist upon them having a nap every afternoon for one hour. Even if they just lie there and think their own little thoughts. You may feel you should be getting dinner ready or something. But don't. Do nothing.

Your husband would think it silly as all get out—if you suggested that he kiss your hand. But wouldn't it be nice

Pioneer Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO
March 15, 1918

An appeal against assessments on his properties is being lodged in County Court by W. C. Kelley, while the Bank of Montreal has given notice of its intention to appeal.

Suggestion that the name of the upper town post office be changed to Summerland, West was made to the board of trade to obviate the disadvantage to which Summerland is placed as regards statistics. Another proposal was that West Summerland be done away with and only the name Summerland be allowed, with the two post offices being combined under one postmaster.

Express shipments of fruit from B.C. is indicative of the increase in the fruit industry. In 1911, some 104,705 packages weighing 2,784,777 pounds were shipped. The 1917 figures were 426,039 packages, weighing 10,526,784 pounds.

S. F. Sharp of Summerland and James Gibb of Vernon have completed their classes in apple packing in Vancouver and a great number of coast women have shown their interest.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
March 18, 1928

More than a million boxes of apples are in prospect for the South Okanagan and Similkameen, with Summerland contributing 305,000 boxes, it is estimated. Peaches here are expected to reach 75,000 crates and apricots 30,000.

For the fourteenth straight year, the Summerland Telephone Co. has declared a dividend, this year being six percent. This company was started in February, 1914. The irrigation department estimates of $6,159 expenditure for this year have been passed by the council.

In a return checkers match West Summerland was victorious with 13 wins and eight draws to Summerland's five wins and eight draws. Players were Young and Dryden, Walden and Barkwill, Ramsay and Hannah, McGill and Scurrah, Beer and Gartrell.

Penticton's Board of Trade, assisted by Kelowna, will endeavor to convert Vernon to the merits of a road along the east side of Okanagan lake. New sawmill machinery is being installed at the box factory this week.

Some 425 names were signed to the visitors' register at the fish hatchery up to last Thursday. The whitefish have all been distributed in the lake and eastern brook trout are being sent to various lakes.

to have some such little courtesy for a change. Men are such creatures for taking women (wives, that is) for granted.

I think Spanish cream is about the nicest dessert imaginable, and so easy to make that your eighth-grade daughter could whip it up for you. You'll more than likely find the recipe in almost any package of gelatin you may pick up.

BOY FAILS TO AVERT COLLISION OF FREIGHT TRAINS

VERNON—A railway collision between two CNR freight trains on Lumby junction trestle, Kalamalka lake, might have been averted on March 8, had trainmen heeded a small boy's futile attempts to signal a danger warning.

The accident, which sent Engineer James Boyce, of Kamloops, to the Vernon Jubilee Hospital shortly after five p.m. suffering a fractured skull and dislocated shoulder, occurred when a Kelowna-bound freight, turned off the main line to allow a passenger train headed for Vernon to pass.

The freight was stopped temporarily on the trestle mid-section. At the same time another freight from Lumby approached the trestle from the opposite side. Trainmen simply waved back in friendly response to the little boy's frantic gestures. They did not realize their position until it was too late, and the Lumby freight smashed head-on into the stationary engine.

Teen Town

By NEBBY

FLASH!! Girls Easter Dance. When? Where? What is it?

On March 20, in the IOOF hall, Teen Town is having another dance for the girls. This is our pre-Easter dance and it is strictly the girls night. They do everything, including asking that favorite male. Come one, come all, as this promises to be a big night with lots of fun, prizes, and the orchestra will be there with some fine music a la muet.

A council meeting was held last week at the home of Alderman Mary Ward, the Mayor Jack Dunham presiding. Aldermen present were Wally Day, Dennis Hack, Joe Elliott, Vev Fleming, Marion Richards, Mary Ward and Don Nesbitt.

The main topic in discussion was membership. Last November Teen Town had a parents social and everyone had a swell time. The council is trying to arrange another parents social but we cannot do this without any members. Come on, Teen Agers, buy a Teen Town card and be a member of the best Teen-age organization of 1948. Membership cards are on sale at all dances.

After the Easter holidays (that's the week when every boy and girl can earn a buck for a Teen Town card) anyone who hasn't a T.T. card will be charged 30c for admittance to dances.

Parents—if any are available. All parents of Teen Town members are very welcome to drop in at any Teen Town dance.

The Boy Scouts Association, Provincial Headquarters, Vancouver, B.C. March 8, 1948.

Editor, The Review:

At our recent annual meeting attended by delegates from throughout the province, a resolution was adopted expressing grateful appreciation to your newspaper for the very fine co-operation you have accorded the Scout movement in British Columbia through your news and editorial columns the past year.

This co-operation was particularly evident during the recent Boy Scout-Girl Guide week. Your splendid publicity contributed very greatly to acquainting the people of your community with the importance and value of Scouting as a youth-building movement.

Please, therefore, accept our very sincere thanks for your kind co-operation.

Yours faithfully,

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

The large number of cars parked in the vicinity of the horticultural building indicated that something special was in progress. When I got inside the building I found the main processing room of the fruit and vegetable products lab filled to overflowing with canners, fruit inspectors, representatives of Tree Fruits Limited and packing house managers. I soon observed that this was one more move in the policy of promoting goodwill and mutual understanding between the various interests serving the B.C. Fruit and Vegetable Industries.

For several years the members of the Okanagan Processors Club have been holding canned product demonstrations at the experimental station. At these demonstrations, cans of fruit and vegetables processed by the members of the club are opened and the contents displayed in white enamel dishes. The members then discuss the strong and weak points of each sample and endeavor to arrive at the causes of the high or low quality of the product, as the case may be. This exchange of information has resulted in a remarkable improvement in the quality of canned products processed in the Okanagan Valley.

This year, Ewart McNaughton, president of the Okanagan Processors Club, conceived the bright idea of inviting packing house managers to the canned product demonstration, with the result that representatives were present from packing houses throughout the Okanagan Valley.

Samples of canned cherries, apricots, peaches, pears, prunes and tomatoes were on display. Of each fruit, there were several dishes representing the fancy, choice and standard grades. After everyone had had an opportunity to examine these samples carefully, an expert canner drew attention to the weaknesses and good points of the fruit in each dish and commented on the factors contributing to the quality and condition of the product.

Special attention was drawn to the difficulty of securing a good canned product when fruit of mixed and uneven maturity is delivered to the canners.

It was also pointed out that excellent fruit can sometimes be spoiled by careless preparation and faulty cooking in the canner.

Packing house managers and field men were invited to express their views and did so quite freely. Remarks made by Ernie Famchon of Summerland and Jim Finch of Oliver were very much to the point, indicating some of the difficulties with which field men and packing house managers are confronted in their endeavor to deliver large quantities of fruit to canneries in the best possible condition.

There were over 100 men present at the meeting and it was generally agreed that the demonstrations and exchange of information benefitted all concerned.

Board of Trade Will Continue Campaign for Government Sub-Agency

Arising out of a recommendation from the executive, the Summerland Board of Trade went on record at its March meeting Thursday night at the IOOF hall that it will continue this community's campaign for the establishment of a government sub-agency.

Need for establishment of such a governmental office has been stressed here at numerous times and was forcibly brought to the attention of all motorists during the issuing of motor vehicle licences this year.

It had been arranged in the past two years that issuing of licences be taken out of the hands of the B.C. Police during the busy months of February and part of March. Lorne G. Perry handled this work in 1947 and 1946. However, the government refused to consider such an appointment this year.

The executive of the board was empowered to proceed with a campaign to obtain for Summerland this government office, for the convenience of the 3,500 persons now resident in this municipality.

Fire District
There were a number of other subjects dealt with at Thursday's meeting, most of which emanated from the executive.

The board decided to study the possibility of enlarging the West Summerland fire district to encompass the whole district. Councillor C. E. Bentley suggested that the board could assist by bringing in one or two sections adjacent to the present district limits but T. B. Young urged that the whole municipality be encompassed.

Mr. Young also urged that equipment be obtained to provide the municipality with adequate protection and Secretary Lorne Perry quoted Reeve Reid Johnston as stating that he anticipated that the purchase of a fire truck would be included in this year's municipal estimates.

It was decided that a committee would be appointed to delve into this subject.

Rental Housing
Rental housing came in for some consideration, with Secretary Lorne Perry stating that his investigations at the municipal office reveal that there is no municipally-owned land available here suitable for a joint housing scheme.

Mr. Perry stated that the only possibility on a housing scheme would be to interest contracting firms to enter the housing field here. The Integrated Housing Plan operates on groups for five or ten houses being constructed at a fixed profit for the contractor, he outlined.

MRS. DOROTHY FUGH, 314 railway yard clerk, and mother of three children, who was recently appointed as mayor of East Carondelet, Illinois, population 600. Her predecessor, George L. Riebling, quit because he said the job was "too much for one man."

VERNON TAXES GO UP 10 PERCENT

VERNON—Faced with mounting costs of every service, the city council glumly struck the 1948 tax rate at 58.5 mills, an increase of 2.5 mills over the 1947 figure and an advance in three years of 14.5 mills. To balance the budget, the proportion of improvements which are now taxable was also boosted from 50 to 60 percent.

To the average taxpayer these figures mean that his bill from the city will be approximately 10 percent higher than a year ago. The exact amount will vary considerably, but that is the average increase, so City Clerk J. W. Wright told the meeting.

which had not been completed last week. He also gave a brief report on the recent Southern Interior Associated Boards of Trade session at Princeton, attended by himself, President Schumann and W. S. Ritchie.

Councillor F. E. Atkinson had been billed as the guest speaker but was called to the coast on the municipal delegation. Films from the Summerland Film Council bank were shown by Councillor C. E. Bentley.

SCOUT NEWS

Friday's meeting showed an improvement in attendance following the 'flu epidemic. There was a turnout of 24 boys, but there should be full patrol turnout this week. Point scores now total: Eagles 213, Beavers 168, Hawks 145, and Buffaloes 86.

Congratulations to P/L Lewis of the Beavers for his good patrol attendance. Patrol leaders have all been supplied with lists of examiners for proficiency badges and boys wishing to pass proficiency badges should see their patrol leaders.

Now that spring is here a number of Scouts should be thinking of passing their naturalists badge. For this badge a nature diary is required which must include the dates and places of (1) First appearance of 12 migrating birds; (2) First flowering of 18 wild flowers; (3) First appearance of 6 butterflies or moths; (4) Make a collection of 18 leaves of common trees.

The requirements for this badge really test a Scout's power of observation.

Notices: Meeting Friday in school gym. Everyone present to discuss hike on Good Friday. Duty patrol, Buffaloes, must bring 6 staves.

SUGGEST OLYMPIC ROWING TRIALS

KELOWNA—Next step in the eventual history of the Kelowna Rowing Club may be playing host to some future Olympic trials.

At the annual meeting last week at the Aquatic Lounge, Charlie Pettman, president of the Kelowna Athletic Round Table, said Okanagan Lake was ideal for rowing and he urged the club to aim at getting Olympic trials held here.

HAMBER RE-ELECTED

Hon. Eric W. Hamber, C.M.G., B.A., LL.D., has been re-elected chancellor of the University of British Columbia by acclamation, Registrar C. B. Wood announces. Nominations for the position and for 15 elective members of Senate closed on March 3.

Summer Courses In Creative Arts Available at UBC

Two courses in creative arts for the 1948 summer session have been announced by the department of university extension at U.B.C.

The regular theatre course, running from July 5 to August 14, brings to Vancouver for the third successive year Mr. Theodore Viehman, M.A., Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Mr. Viehman will be remembered for his outstanding Vancouver productions of "I Remember Mama" and "Skin of Our Teeth". He is director of The Little Theatre of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Other members of the Summer school of the Theatre staff include Dorothy Somerset, director of the school and supervisor of dramatics for the dept. of university extension; Sydney Risk, founder and director of The Everyman Theatre; Robt. F. Corrigan, assistant professor of speech arts and designer-technician at San Diego State college; Jessie Richardson, president of the Vancouver Little Theatre, actress and costume mistress; and Joy Coghill, actress, teacher of speech and director of the players' club of the University of British Columbia, 1947-48.

Courses offered include theatre backgrounds, acting, speech I and II, directing and stagecrafts. Highlighting the conclusion of the school will be the production of a full-length play and a group of one-act plays.

The second course—"Creative Writing", running from July 12 to August 7—is new this year. It will be taught by Philip Freund, M.A. Included in his imposing list of published works are novels, short stories, one-act plays and numerous contributions to the Saturday Evening Post and the New York Times Magazine.

The course in creative writing will consist of lectures, actual writing experience, class criticism and individual consultations with the instructor. It will be divided into two sections; narrative writing, emphasizing the short story, and dramatic writing, emphasizing either playwriting or motion picture script writing, depending upon the preference indicated by the majority of the students. The technique of television writing will be considered if a sufficient number of students so desire.

Complete details of registration, fees and time tables may be obtained from the department of university extension.

SALES TAX—

 ing fund provision in 1946-47 for the first time since 1932. Value of sinking fund now placed at $24,296,472. All installments paid for current year and full provision made for next year.
 Position of revenue surplus account at end of fiscal year 1946-47 was that, out of an accumulation of $41,935,374 there had been appropriated by statute $37,630,000 leaving $4,305,374 subject to appropriation.
 Minister pointed out surpluses were accumulated by deferring essential public works and other undertakings during war until such time as labor and material were available.
 Probable expenditure for current fiscal year will be $65,674,000 or nearly $7,000,000 more than originally estimated. Most of increase due to education, social works and law enforcement.

 Province's fixed income could not keep pace with inflation as well as growth in public service costs, he said. Examination of estimates showed drastic cuts could not be made without impairing public service and curtailing social service and education requirements. Government currently assailed by pleas for expanded services and new services. Some of them would have to be met. Although decision serious one, government compelled to impose 3 percent sales tax to meet grave situation that exists.
 In addition, royalties on timber are being increased. Increased revenue from this service is estimated at $900,000. Including sales tax and increased timber royalties revenue for 1948-49 estimated at $77,616,309;—expenditure for 1948-49 estimated at $77,449,869 leaving surplus of $166,440.
 Estimated expenditures for 1948-49 are $11,800,000 greater than those expected during fiscal year ending March 31 of this calendar year—$9,370,000 would be required for road maintenance alone next year as compared with $4,280,000 spent during 1945-46.
 Costs in Excess
 Whereas revenue from gasoline tax, car licenses and motor carrier act totalled $13,945,000 expenditure on highways, bridges and ferries next year would total $11,090,000, which, together with the $3,770,000 required to carry the service charges on debts for such public works, make an overall total of $14,860,000 or $915,000 more than the revenues referred to.

 Expenditures on capital account for highways and bridges will total $9,900,000, of which $5,000,000 will be from revenue surplus and $4,900,000 from existing loan acts; $2,750,000 will be spent on steel and concrete bridges out of existing loan acts; $1,000,000 will be set aside from a new loan act to purchase further public works equipment.
 Over and above this there will be provided an additional $4,000,000 for roads.
 Additional buildings for the University of B.C. will cost $1,750,000. Provincial buildings will cost $1,300,000. The house will be asked to increase the borrowing powers of the PGE by $5,000,000, capital expenditure by the company next year alone being estimated at $800,000. Borrowing authority of $2,500,000 will be asked to provide a revolving fund for the forestry department's forestry road program, the cost to be repaid by industry.
 B.C. Power Commission expects to spend some $11,000,000 for power development or acquisition of existing plants. Therefore, there will be spent on capital account $28,600,000 of which $5,000,000 will be from revenue surplus account and $23,600,000 from loan acts.
 Hon. Mr. Anscomb dealt with the dominion-provincial tax agreement and stated he felt that the calling of a dominion-provincial conference for the purpose of implementing social security proposals was long past due. Seven of the nine provinces had entered into tax agreements and implementation of the social security measures outlined in the Dominion Green book was essentially part of the undertaking and should be fulfilled. On the matter of education, Mr. Anscomb pointed out that last year it was felt that the government had gone as far as it should go financially.

 Inflation, however, had aggravated the situation. However the Goldenberg report had emphasized that if the recommendations of the report were implemented municipalities would have sufficient financial powers for their needs. As it is now proposed, municipalities will receive from the government a total of $17,988,000 during 1948-49 as compared with $2,965,449 in 1941-42 the year immediately prior to the formation of a coalition government.

Mr. A. Lamcraft, who was rushed to the Summerland hospital last week suffering from pneumonia, has recovered sufficiently to return home on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. W. O. Clark from Kelowna is the guest this week of Mrs. T. A. Walden. While here she was soloist at the Faith Rebekah lodge meeting on Wednesday, March 17, when Mrs. Rita Davidson, assembly president, paid the lodge an official visit.

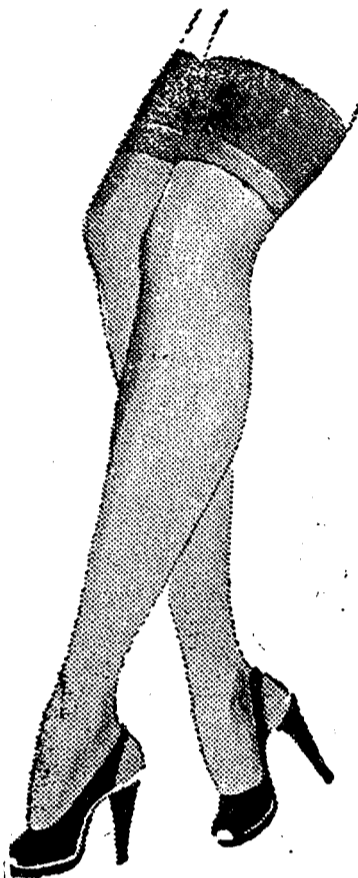

Mr. Robert Cuthbert, accompanied by his son John, returned to Summerland on March 10 after three months in Scotland, where they visited Mr. Cuthbert's mother, Mrs. C. E. Cuthbert, in Pitlochry. Mr. Cuthbert reports conditions in the Old Country better than he had anticipated, with few food shortages in the country places at least. The cost of living is extremely high, as he found when he bought a load of wood for $7—"it was very wet wood, too", commented Mr. Cuthbert, wryly. Leaving Liverpool on the Ascania on February 26, the Cuthberts had an easy, enjoyable crossing, reaching Halifax on March 5.

Good Friday service will be held jointly by the United and Baptist churches at 11 o'clock on that morning, in the Baptist church, West Summerland. Rev. F. W. Haskins and Rev. H. R. Whitmore will be in charge of the service.

Miss Jemima Hughes arrived in Summerland on Monday, March 15. Coming from Scotland for her marriage on March 17 to Mr. W. Laidlaw, Miss Hughes was delayed for several days by weather conditions which postponed the Atlantic flight.

Home For Senior Citizens Is Need Here, Says Rev. F. W. Haskins In Talk To Women's Institute

The regular monthly meeting of Summerland's Women's Institute was held on Friday afternoon, March 12, in the parish hall with the president, Mrs. E. M. Collas, in the chair.

Mrs. Collas congratulated the ladies upon the very successful valentine tea held last month. Discussion of the minutes led to a decision to go ahead with a campaign for cleaner streets in town, to be forwarded with a competition for a money prize to be awarded to the school child presenting the best poster, and slogan idea on that subject. Mrs. S. A. MacDonald was delegated to give the prize money to the school and put the project into operation.

The treasurer's report, read by Mrs. Farnon in her role as that officer, disclosed a bank balance of $102. Mrs. Collas reminded the group that for a number of years they had made a practise of opening a bank account for each new "Institute" baby—children born to Institute members. This custom had been allowed to lapse, and it was Mrs. Collas' suggestion that it be re-instated with the first honoree being Mrs. A. Fenwick's baby boy.

Vancouver Convention

The secretary read an invitation from the Naramata W.I. for the Summerland W.I. to visit them on Wednesday, March 17, when the former group held a St. Patrick's tea.

Mrs. Collas read a letter from Ethel M. Dennis, provincial president, outlining the arrangements made for delegates to the W.I. convention being held at UBC in Vancouver on June 1, 2 and 3. It was duly decided to forward two resolutions to do with the betterment of housing and financial conditions for old age pensioners.

Mrs. Dennis' letter also revealed that there are now 205 W.I.'s in B.C., two having been newly formed within the past month.

A Dominion-wide contest open to all W.I.'s for the Lady Tweedsmuir cups to be awarded next year at the annual convention in Ottawa was outlined by Mrs. Collas. Three classes of entries are admissible, 1, an essay of not more than 1,000 words on "Village History"; 2, an entry of hand hooked rugs; and 3, an essay of not more than 1,000 words on the subject "Women's Institute takes a forward look." It is hoped that Summerland will submit entries in all three classes.

Housing Contest

The contest committee felt pleased with the entries submitted in the housing contest, and felt they had gathered together a well-worth while plan for submission. Along with the Summerland entry they were sending a very cleverly executed to-scale blue-print of an ideal farm home, the work of Mrs. J. J. Blewett. The winning institute will be named on June 3 at the Vancouver convention.

The parcel-to-England last month was sent by Mrs. C. Elsey to Mrs. I. P. Barnes, former resident of Summerland, for her distribution as she saw the need. It was suggested that the next parcel be forwarded to Dr. Allison Ritchie in London, who is remembered as an interesting guest speaker at the September meeting of the Institute last year. Mrs. E. M. Hookham was appointed to make up and forward to Dr. Ritchie the usual 10 pound parcel of assorted food stuffs.

The ladies were reminded of the art show to be held on March 27 under convenorship of Mrs. A. K. Macleod.

At Mrs. Collas' suggestion in the interest of saving time, standing committees for the year were appointed instead of being elected from the floor. Those accepting committee membership were: Mrs. E. C. Bingham and Mrs. E. H. Bennett, agricultural committee; Mrs. W. R. Powell and Mrs. H. B. Mair, citizenship committee; Mrs. G. Inglis and Mrs. J. J. Blewett, handicraft committee; and Mrs. G. Ritchie and Mrs. Roy Angus social welfare and home economics committee.

The president congratulated Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh upon her share in the institution of a Girl Guide movement in Summerland, and suggested that the Institute contribute the sum of $5 as an encouraging gesture to the Guide funds. Mrs. Vanderburgh thanked the meeting and asked that the new movement have their sympathetic as well as financial backing, pointing out that the Girl Guides stand for the furthering of all the democratic principals for which this country waged a recent war, and which are now disappearing in Europe and Asia.

Senior Citizens

Rev. F. W. Haskins, guest speaker, discussed the care and housing of senior citizens. Mr. Haskins explained that he and Miss M. Cammaert had planned to handle the subject as a round table discussion, and that in the absence of Miss Cammaert due to influenza he would ask the ladies to enter into the discussion with questions and ideas. The present old age pension regulations were outlined, and data given of some existing successful homes for these senior citizens.

A lively discussion ensued on the types of accommodation desirable for giving older people the combined comfort and care they need without infringing upon their independence of spirit or placing upon them the stigma of charity. In conclusion Mr. Haskins said a few words of appreciation for the wonderful work being done by the Home for the Friendless in Summerland in taking care of 20

THIRD THEATRE IS PLANNED FOR KELOWNA CITY

KELOWNA—Kelowna may soon have three motion picture theatres if plans of a new company work out satisfactorily. It was officially learned this week that a group of local people recently formed the Kelowna Co-operative Theatre Association, and five provisional directors elected. Shares are now being sold and if present plans materialize, the new movie picture establishment will be constructed on Water street, next to the fire hall. The new company has an option on the property, 60 x 110 feet, and a spokesman for the group said this would be large enough to build a completely modern theatre capable of seating 900 people.

The private company was formed on February 12, and the five provisional directors elected are: president, Bill Dynes; vice-president, J. Englehart; secretary-treasurer, C. Schmok; committee, Ian Collinson and James Graham.

One of the heads of the new company said it would take about $130,000 to complete the theatre. At present the group has $35,000 in sight, but he added the theatre will not be started until the entire amount has been raised, or until the company can see its way clear to go ahead and build. The provisional directors have already started a campaign for selling shares at $1 each.

elder citizens, keeping them happy and comfortable.

Mrs. Collas thanked Mr. Haskins for his interesting contribution to the meeting, and expressed regret that Miss Cammaert had been unable to attend.

The meeting then adjourned for a social tea hour.

Shriners Ceremony Comes To Vernon for Three Days in May

VERNON—For the first time in this city's history, the annual ceremony of the Gizeh Temple of the Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will be held here on May 22 and 23. Approximately 350 Shriners and their wives will attend.

On Saturday, officials from Vancouver were in Vernon to prepare plans for the affair. They were illustrious Potentate Dr. Lachlan Macmillan, High Priest and Prophet Gordon Shafer, and Assistant Director Bert Cottrell.

There will be lots of color and fanfare in the city during the Shriners' convention. They will have their own band and uniformed patrols for parades. Ceremonies will take place in the Vernon Civic Arena on Saturday and a church parade will be held on Sunday.

Delegates from all parts of the province will arrive here by two special trains. They will sleep in the coaches.

Short Courses at UBC This Summer

Short courses are being offered by the University of B.C. this summer, starting from July 7 and continuing through until August 20. Out-of-town students who register early will be able to obtain board and lodging at reasonable rates in one of the university camps.

The courses are: Painting for Pleasure, E. C. Binning, July 7 to August 9; Weaving for Beginners, Mrs. W. S. Ellis and Miss Jessie Stewart, July 12 to 30; The Art of Photography, George Bulhak, July 8 to August-10; Driver Education and Training for Teachers, Professor Amos E. Neyhart, Pennsylvania State College, August 16 to 20.

The teacher was examining the class on the moral law, and asked for a definition of "Sins of Omission."

A bright boy was quick with the answer: "Sins we should have committed and didn't."

Butchereria Wins Merchants Bowling Championship by Taking Both Sections of Winter Play

The Butchereria, by winning both sections of the league play, has automatically captured first place in the Merchants five-pin bowling league, after a hectic season of competition. The play-off between the two section winners is thus rendered unnecessary.

In the second half play, the Butchereria finished three points ahead of the Overwaita team, with Bank of Montreal in third place.

In the combined standings, the Butchereria team was eleven points ahead of its nearest rival, the Bank of Montreal, with Capitol Motors in third place and Overwaita in fourth spot.

The Family Shoe Store, after making a real fight for top spot in the first half of the league play, fell far down the ladder in the second half of the schedule and finished one point behind the Overwaita in the combined total.

June Lamey and Jim Heavysides were the most consistent bowlers of the league, taking the individual high average scores. Nan Thornthwaite and Roy Soderberg captured the high three game totals, while high singles were won by Audrey Grant and Jack Dundson.

A windup banquet and dance is being planned by the Merchants' bowling league, with the tentative date set for April 6.

Second Half Play
Following is the standing of the teams for the second half of the league play:

Butchereria	31
Overwaita	29
Bank of Montreal	28
Elliotts	2
Capitol Motors	2

Individual results for last week's final play were:

High three—Paul Berge, 772;
Nan Thornthwaite, 638.
High single—Ken Heales, 338;
Nan Thornthwaite, 309.

End of Season
Here are the combined total for the whole season's play:

Butchereria	63

J. H. WILSON IS PEACHLAND PREXY

PEACHLAND—J. H. Wilson was elected president of the Peachland Athletic Association at the annual meeting held recently. Mrs. G. R. Topham was chosen secretary, while the executive will be composed of P. C. Gerrie, Mrs. J. H. Wilson, Mrs. V. M. Cousins, O. Knoblauch, G. Berkelund and Garry Topham, the latter representing the students' council.

Oyama Legion Gets Veterans' Licence

OYAMA—The regular meeting of the Canadian Legion Oyama Branch No. 189 was held on Wednesday, March 3. Six new members joined, now bringing the membership to over 50.

Word has been received from the Liquor Control Board in Victoria approving the issuance of a licence.

Occidental Is Likely Location Of Spring Fair

Len Hill chairman of the Board of Trade Spring Fair committee for the second year, told the March monthly meeting in the IOOF hall on Thursday night that the 1948 fair will probably be held in the Occidental Fruit Co. Ltd. building.

Due to extensive alterations which the B.C. Fruit Shippers Ltd. is planning for this spring, that company's building will not be available this year, he announced.

The Occidental is also enlarging its capacity and adding to the building extensively, but Mr. C. H. Elsey, manager, states that a large portion of the cold storage space will probably be available by May, when the fair is planned.

No definite dates have been announced, but it is likely that the Spring Fair will be held on May 21 and 22, with a possibility that it will carry over to May 24, to be combined with a sports day.

The Vernon-Okanagan Exposition is urging the Summerland board to enter a float in its big four-day event early in May and on Thursday this question was turned over to the new Tourist and Publicity committee of the board, headed by Roy Wellwood.

SIGN POLICE CONTRACT

Although council members expressed regret that the government had not implemented its promise to provide a license issuing officer during the rush period, it was decided on Tuesday afternoon that the 1948 agreement with the B.C. Police should be signed. This calls for an expenditure by Summerland of $1,644.20.

Penticton Hospital Discontinues Its Insurance Contract

PENTICTON — The Penticton Hospital Board has decided to end all its hospitalization insurance contracts.

Faced by a financial situation of continuing gravity, but also determined to do everything in their power to wrestle with their problem, the board's members took this significant step on the contracts after lengthy deliberation Tuesday evening.

The hospital will honor all contracts for the terms already paid for. But from this date on there will be no renewals.

"Unless there is participation in any such contract by a complete cross-section of the community, it fails in its purpose," declares T. S. Dalby, chairman of the board's finance committee.

Such a move was considered last year by the Summerland Hospital Society but it was considered that if at all possible the local hospital insurance contract should be continued. Rates were raised in an endeavor to meet the adverse financial position, which indicated that the contract plan operated at a loss of nearly $4,000 last year.

ALEXIS SMITH GETS INVITATION

PENTICTON — Penticton will have a chance to see two famous Hollywood stars if present plans of the Peach Festival committee mature.

Gene Autry, idol of millions, and king of the cowboys, will be the main attraction while feminine charm and glamor will be supplied by Penticton's own lovely star, Alexis Smith.

Says Financial Report Misleading

PENTICTON—"This is not right. It is misleading to the public as it appears in this statement," said W. W. Riddell, acting-chairman at last week's meeting of the District 15 school board.

The trustee was taking exception to amounts published in the annual municipal financial statement, as appearing in the Penticton Herald recently.

"This statement does not show payments on account of interest, sinking fund, or debenture retirement made by the District 15 board," Mr. Riddell continued.

Formal notification of the objection will be made known to the council by letter.

NAMED DIRECTOR

Capt. A. M. Temple, Summerland, a member of the Penticton Riding club, has been named a director of the new valley organization to be known as the Okanagan Light Horse Improvement and Show Association. Miss R. K. Owen, of Penticton, is president.

Soil CONSERVATION

Vitally Needed Today, it May Prove the Survival Factor for B.C. Farms of Tomorrow . . .

Over 10,000 tests in our laboratories reveal that many B.C. producers are subsisting on soils seriously deficient in mineral fertility (including lime, phosphate and potash). If neglected, this condition alone can easily neutralize all other efforts at careful farm management and result in unprofitable operations.

Where soil is lacking in mineral fertility, low yields of poor quality produce are inevitable. Stock consuming such produce is, in turn, poorly nourished and increasingly susceptible to disease.

What is the fertility standing of YOUR soils? If you do not know, write us for soil test forms today. It is the first step in a rational fertilizer programme that will put the needed organic matter in the soil, increase and often multiply yields, extend the life of many crops and improve livestock production generally.

HOT CROSS BUNS

We observe Good Friday to remember that our Savior died for us. It is a day of mourning in the church. The altar and officiating clergy are draped in black and the gospel for the day consists of the history of the Passion as recorded by St. John.

To the younger generation Good Friday means hot cross buns for breakfast — lovely light buns marked with a simple cross to remind them of the sacrifice made for mankind, so many, many years ago.

Just when this custom was first started is not known. The Romans ate bread marked with a cross at public sacrifices, such bread usually being purchased at the doors of the temple and taken with them. The cross bread was eaten by the pagan Saxons in honor of Eostre, their goddess of light.

This pagan custom, almost universal, was adopted by the Church for their own use, giving us the hot-cross bun on Good Friday.

New School District To Be Formed Here With Rural Areas Included

Formation of a new Summerland School District, to embrace the Municipality of Summerland and adjoining rural area west to Mazama and north to Greata Ranch, is in prospect as soon as orders-in-council can be approved by the provincial legislature. The Review learns this week.

Col. F. T. Fahey, deputy minister of education, visited Penticton briefly on Tuesday and conferred with trustees of Penticton School District No. 15 and School Inspector J. N. Burnett. Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Summerland trustee, was present for this conference but Trustee P. G. Dodwell, the other Summerland trustee, was not present as he is on vacation at the coast.

Col. Fahey's visit was for the purpose of determining the boundaries of the proposed new school district, made possible by the education department's decision to divorce Summerland from School District No. 15.

As soon as the orders-in-council are passed, Summerland trustees will no longer hold office, and an official trustee will be appointed to manage school affairs until such time as a new board is appointed, it is understood. Inspector Burnett will likely be appointed this official trustee.

It is proposed that a five-man board would make up the trustees of the new Summerland School District, four being elected by the ratepayers of the municipality and one coming from the rural area affected.

To the south, Summerland's district will take in territory halfway to Penticton, it is expected, thus providing revenue from the Canadian Pacific railway line which is included.

Land Registry Border

Although no official confirmation can be received until orders-in-council are passed at Victoria it is understood here that the western boundary of the new Summerland district will follow the Osoyoos-Kamloops land registry boundary line and will include Mazama, Meadow Valley and Falder.

This is the same boundary now being used for district 15, so there will be no change there.

To the north, the new district will take in Greata Ranch. School children from that area have been attending Peachland school but Greata Ranch has actually been part of district 15, which has allowed compensation in travelling expenses; it is understood.

This same arrangement will probably continue, The Review learns.

By including territory halfway to Penticton, the new Summerland district will be able to receive school tax revenue from the Canadian Pacific Railway line which is included in this portion. There are no habitations south of the experimental station in this section.

Bentley Fights For Electric Pump Rebate

That an allowance should be given for electrical extensions involving installation of electric pumps for sprinkler irrigation was voted in council session on Tuesday evening by Councillor C. E. Bentley, who received support from Councillor Eric M. Tait, but to no avail.

Discussion on this touchy subject arose following an application by R. H. Birch for extension of electrical service to allow him to install a pump for sprinkler irrigation.

Costs in this application were outlined and involved several other users in the neighborhood.

An allowance of the first $110 is allowed ordinary applicants for electric light or power but this has not been the council policy in regard to pump installation, as the council has always stated that sprinkler irrigation should not involve any further charge on the municipality.

Councillor Bentley contended that the principle is wrong, as the municipality is providing allowances for one man and denying allowances to others. "The whole deal is unfair," he contended.

Center on Finances

The financial settlement between the new school district and district 15 will probably take some time but is being left to the trustees and the two municipalities, Penticton and Summerland, to reach final terms, it is understood.

Inspector A. S. Matheson of the Kelowna School District, was present at Tuesday's meeting in Penticton, as was Trustee J. H. Wilson of Peachland but no suggestion was made that Peachland be included in the district to be formed here.

Details of the boundaries of the new district were prepared by Inspector Burnett in Penticton and forwarded by plane to Victoria yesterday so that they could be presented to the legislature at the earliest possible date.

It is stated that the school deal will be retroactive to January 1, 1948. The municipal council has already paid some $11,000 to Penticton School District No. 15 on account of 1948 requirements.

It was comparatively easy for the staunch backers of administration policy to shrug off Mr. Bennett's unprecedented attack as his opening campaign speech.

Potent Argument

It was comparatively easy to accept it as an address directed at the voters of Yale rather than at the legislature.

But to thoughtful members of the House, there were many points in Mr. Bennett's condemnation of the budget that could not be so easily disposed of.

Why, he asked, was it essential to devote $2,700,000 to sinking fund requirements when for 18 years John Hart had not found it necessary?

Why has the budget doubled in the past four years and who was responsible for permitting such inflation?

Why, before imposing a sales tax, had not the government considered an unearned increment tax, which would not touch the poor and would act as a restraint on inflation?

Altogether, it was an effective attack on government policy as the legislature has heard for many years.

The sales tax, said Mr. Bennett, is "an unfair, retrograde" impost. It is an inflationary tax and it will seriously affect British Columbia business because people will buy from mail order houses on the prairies.

Red Cross Is Nearing Its Objective

At the first of the week, some $1,200 had been subscribed for the Canadian Red Cross and there were many indications that the drive would go over the top by the weekend, Jack Dunsdon, local campaign manager, informed The Review.

The local quota is $1,800 although last year's objective was set by provincial headquarters at $3,000 and was reached. It is doubtful if the $3,000 figure will be attained this year, according to reports from canvassers.

Most of the districts have now been covered by the energetic volunteers although the flu epidemic slowed down the canvass in some quarters.

Another drive for funds which was commenced just prior to the Red Cross campaign, the Canadian Appeal for Children, has also been given a splendid response. The total at last enquiry was $743.49, including $41.70 raised by the high school students.

British Columbia's 1948 Red Cross appeal reached $200,000.00, two-thirds of its provincial objective, as the third week of the annual fund drive closed.

"This figure is ahead of the comparative total for the same period last year," states Hon. E. W. Hamber, C.M.G., British Columbia's campaign chairman, "and assures the fact that again this province will go well over its $300,000.00 quota."

"Last year, British Columbia led all Canada in being the first province over the top in the Red Cross appeal and it is hoped that citizens will again bring this honor here," states Mr. Hamber.

Meanest Driver Has Damaged New Ball Park

Meanest or most thoughtless man in town is being sought by irate members of the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee and the local baseball club.

Recently, a jeep or some vehicle of like nature, was driven down to the edge of the new Living Memorial ball park. The machine sank a bit in the soft ground by the infield, and the driver tried to extricate himself.

That wouldn't have been so bad, but instead of backing out, the vehicle was evidently shoved into low (probably four-wheel) and the driver stepped hard on the accelerator and swung in a vicious semi-circle, tearing out a large section of the infield turf which was sown last summer.

They may be able to patch up the damage in time for this season's play but those who have spent so many of their hours, with no thought of any remuneration to themselves, in nursing along this favored project, could literally have sat down and wept when they saw the damage.

GEORGE CLARK IS BEST ON TEAM

George Clark's all-round play was the only saving grace last Saturday at Penticton when that town's senior B squad took a licking from Kamloops in the interior basketball finals, the mainliners taking an 18-point lead into the second game next Saturday night. Penticton juniors defeated Kamloops 60-13 and Penticton Intermediate B's scored a decisive 69-33 victory. These teams play at Kamloops on Saturday. The Kamloops Int. A team had to default through illness and accidents.

Bennett Flays Coalition On Proposed Sales Tax Imposition

W. A. C. Bennett, Coalition MLA for South Okanagan and Progressive-Conservative candidate in the Yale federal by-election, made a slashing attack on the provincial government's proposed sales tax, as announced by Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb in his budget speech. That the finance minister is head of the Progressive-Conservative Assn in B.C. made no difference to Mr. Bennett, as he flogged the sales tax proposal and insisted that an increment tax would have sufficed to raise governmental revenues and would not have interfered with normal business procedure. Following is an account of Mr. Bennett's speech in the legislature last Friday, as outlined by Gordon Root in the Vancouver Province:

By GORDON ROOT

VICTORIA—A Coalition member told the legislature Friday that the current budget had been ill-conceived, that the sales tax is iniquitous, and that things would be different if John Hart were still premier.

W. A. C. Bennett (Coalition, South Okanagan) rose in his place in the House as a man with a purpose.

It was comparatively easy for the staunch backers of administration policy to shrug off Mr. Bennett's unprecedented attack as his opening campaign speech.

New Interior Ball Loop Is Now Definite

Summerland will enter the new interior baseball loop comprising teams from the Okanagan, Similkameen and Kamloops, it was stated at the weekend, when the annual meeting of the South Okanagan-Similkameen league was held in the Nu-Way Annex here, with Keith Elliott, 1947 president in charge.

As a result of last Sunday's deliberations, two leagues will be in operation in this part of the interior, besides the international league which takes in Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver and five American clubs.

Summerland intends to join forces with Kamloops, Vernon, Rutland, Hedley and Princeton to form a new loop.

The South Okanagan-Similkameen league will continue to function and may have a six-or-seven-team lineup. Pat Fraser, of Osoyoos is the new president of this loop and he is busy lining up prospective teams in readiness for another league conference in two weeks time.

Prospective teams in this loop are Osoyoos, second teams from Oliver and Penticton, Peachland, Kelowna Cubs and Winfield. It is also possible that a combined Koromeos-Cawston club may enter this year's play and Copper Mountain is another likely prospect.

Peachland delegates to last Sunday's meeting took umbrage with statements emanating from Summerland ball circles that Peachland would not be fielding a team this year. The Peachland boys are as anxious to play as ever, they stated, and let it be known that they felt they could give Summerland a mighty good argument at any time.

Les Gould, in charge of the new interior league, will be arranging with Secretary Rex McKenzie in Kamloops for a schedule to be drawn up.

Liberals Likely To Favor E. J. Chambers To Contest Yale Riding On Saturday

Liberals from all parts of Yale riding will gather in Penticton this Saturday, March 27, to name a candidate for the forthcoming by-election to contest the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. Grote Stirling.

According to prominent members of the party in the Okanagan three names are likely to be placed before the voting delegates on Saturday. These are E. J. Chambers and J. W. Johnson, Penticton and A. W. Gray, Rutland.

Another feature of Saturday's gathering will be the appearance of two prominent Canadians, Hon. J. L. Isley, minister of justice and Mr. Tom Reid, MP for New Westminster. These two well-known Liberal government members will address the delegates, as they are flying west during the Easter recess of the House of Commons.

Date of the Yale federal by-election is expected to be announced on Saturday.

Chambers Favored

Throughout the Okanagan, the name of E. J. Chambers is recognized as the one most likely to be given the nod by the Yale Liberals. His many years of service to the fruit industry as president of the Associated Growers, plus his five years at Ottawa in charge of fruit and vegetable administration for the WPTB places him in a preferred position.

A. W. Gray, the defeated Liberal candidate in the last election, is also widely known throughout the interior mainly through his efforts on behalf of irrigation and reclamation project extension.

J. W. Johnson has served in municipal politics for twenty years in Penticton, is a retired railway employee and is an executive member of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

It is anticipated that most of the Summerland delegates will be in favor of Mr. Chambers and other districts are known to be plumping strongly for this candidate.

He is a former reeve of Penticton in that municipality's early days, and he also owned a fruit ranch in the Penticton district for years.

Visit of a member of the Mackenzie King cabinet is expected to create considerable interest in the nomination session, as Hon. Mr. Isley is one of the prominent Canadians at today's session. Mr. Reid, the present member for New Westminster is a speaker of great force and is eagerly awaited by Yale Liberals.

These two members of parliament will speak Saturday and continue to Vancouver where they will enter the Vancouver Centre by-election fight before returning east to continue their parliamentary duties following the Easter recess.

Last week, Summerland Liberal association held a session to appoint delegates to the Penticton nominating convention. The seventeen chosen for this duty are: Mr. and Mrs. Colin McKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rempel, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bedford, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Messrs. Gordon Robertson, Will Ritchie, W. D. La'dlaw, Lee McLaughlin, George Stoll, Walter M. Wright, Councillor H. L. Wilson and Reeve R. A. Johnston.

Highest score recorded this season at the National Bowladrome was scored on Sunday following the regular Okanagan league play when Jim Heavysides bowled 402. His first frame counted 12, he had a spare on the second frame and then recorded ten strikes.

The annual meeting of the Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn. will be held next month at a date not set, as soon as the auditors' statement for the past year's operations can be obtained.

Governor-General Will Stop Here Forty Minutes On May 10

Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Alexander will visit Summerland for forty minutes between 10:50 and 11:30 a.m., on Monday, May 10, it was announced at Tuesday's council session in a communication from Major-General H. G. T. Letson, the viscount's aid.

Major-General Letson replied to the municipal council's letter for inclusion of Summerland in the official visit of the vice-regal party, on the grounds that Summerland extended an official invitation to Viscount Alexander when he received his appointment. The viscount's aide recalled Summerland's invitation and has acceded to the request.

The vice-regal party will arrive in Penticton on the evening of May 9 and will make his official visit to the community on the morning of May 10, leaving for a trip north at 10:30 a.m.

Summerland will be reached by 10:50 and a forty-minute stay is indicated here, prior to the drive north to Kelowna being continued.

On the return trip, the party will proceed by boat from Okanagan Mission to Peachland there to be met by the official cars on the party. They will arrive back

Cardiff Co. Takes Over Co-op Plant

Directors of the Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn. have announced the consummation of the sale of their canning plant to the Cardiff Co. Ltd., Safeway subsidiary, on Thursday last, in Vancouver. Mr. George Washington, manager of the co-op, completed the deal on behalf of the local growers.

Sale price was the same as announced some time ago, namely $130,647.75. Mr. F. Crawford, general manager of the Cardiff Co. was a visitor to Summerland on Tuesday, inspecting building renovations which are now underway.

The stock still unshipped from 1947 crop will be taken over by the new company this week and the co-op credited with its sale price. The entire co-op cannery output was sold prior to the cannery deal consummation, it is stated.

Although details of the changes are not known, it is stated by officials of the new company that machinery and equipment to the amount of some $100,000 will be purchased for the local cannery plant.

All of this equipment may not be obtainable this year, but major changes will be made as soon as new machinery can be brought in to the Okanagan.

Authority for the sale of the co-op cannery to the Cardiff Co. was made at a meeting of co-op shareholders in February. The deal has been under negotiation for a year.

The Cardiff Co. Ltd., has been set up in Canada to manage Safeway Stores Ltd., processing plants now being acquired to assure that company a steady and reliable source of canned fruits and vegetables. The vegetable packing plant at Taber, Alta., has also been purchased by the new company.

Meet Local Groups

It will probably ensue that the veterans of the district, with the 8th Army veterans on the "right of the line", Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides and other young people's groups will be drawn up for a cursory inspection.

School children will have a holiday for the balance of the day, it is expected.

No Privileges For Reeve at Nurses' Home

Can the nurses' home be considered a private dwelling or a commercial or institutional residence?

Such was the debate at Tuesday's council session when the cost of the line extension and installation of a 25 kva transformer to the Summerland hospital and nurses' home was under debate.

Then the subject of hot water heaters came into view and the low rate for heaters to domestic users was discussed.

Councillor Wilson stated flatly that the nurses' home could not come under the domestic rate.

Reeve Reid Johnston gently chided the council member and asked him if he shouldn't reconsider his statement.

"Why," declared Mr. Workship, "even I couldn't go down there and get a room."

That ended the discussion.

Recover Ten Horses Stolen From Pound

John Helchart, Prairie Valley poundkeeper, is an expert hunter, especially when on the trail of horses, it has been revealed this week.

Twelve horses, thought to belong to Indians, were impounded last week but before they could be claimed or sold on Saturday, the lock on the pound was broken and the horses freed.

It is not known who perpetrated this act, but as the horses were identified as belonging to members of the nearby reserve, the dusky-skinned original settlers of this country are being held under suspicion.

Poundkeeper Helchart, together with B.C. Police Constable Terence Thorsteinson, trailed the horses and found ten of them. Two more were located but as they were back on the Indian reserve, they could not be touched. The assistance of the RCMP was obtained and the ten are back in the Prairie Valley pound, where they will be sold this Saturday unless claimed in the meantime.

To get the horses back in the pound has cost about $25 and this sum will be added to the cost of releasing the horses, the council was told.

School Divorce

To most citizens of Summerland the news which emanated from Victoria last week that Summerland would be divorced from Penticton School District No. 15 was learned with a feeling of satisfaction. Most people have considered, and rightly so, that Summerland can manage its own affairs without any assistance from neighbors.

The Review has long maintained that the basic principle of school consolidation is a step in the right direction and that eventually Summerland would have reaped the benefit when Penticton, being the larger centre, was equipped with a highly-efficient technical school.

We still maintain that this principle is correct, and that when the full school building program had been implemented the adverse financial situation would have rectified itself.

But there is no gainsaying that the new public schools act, as put in force, left no room for amicable understanding on the troublesome question of assessment. The department of education moved too rapidly in implementing some portions of the Cameron report before paving the way for equitable and fair contributions from all parties concerned.

When two municipalities contend that they are not obtaining a square deal, one with the other, in the matter of monetary payments to the same fund, and cannot get around a table and discuss their mutual differences to a satisfactory conclusion, then there is little hope of ultimate understanding.

Such was the case of Summerland and Penticton. Summerland contended that it was being treated unfairly in that Penticton and the rural area were not assessing fruit trees as improvements. Summerland believed that it was paying a higher proportion of assessments thereby and as school costs are divided on a basis of assessment, then several thousands of dollars have been involved.

On the other hand, Penticton being a larger centre with higher standards of land values in the business district, that municipality claimed it was paying a higher proportion, especially when it raised its assessment values a million dollars in one year and intended to increase a similar amount the following year.

In the face of these contentions, there could be no agreement. The department has made a wise move in separating Summerland from the school district. It is contained in the Cameron report that Summerland, of all the districts in the province, could well be left on its own in the consolidation scheme.

Dr. G. M. Weir, the former minister of education, would have been well advised to follow the Cameron report suggestion. Summerland sent a delegation to Victoria to plead with Dr. Weir to leave this community out of the deal. The minister turned a deaf ear. For two years the argument has continued with neither Summerland nor the rest of the district satisfied with the setup.

It was bound to come to a head sooner or later and the success of the combined delegation which went to Victoria to endeavor to obtain separation has been met with a feeling of relief here.

With separation, Summerland can reform its school board, it can lay its plans for school extension and it can present the much-delayed bylaw for the renovation of the elementary school without any fear that it would be voted down by the larger population in Penticton.

But there will be many headaches before that time comes. The separation will probably involve considerable litigation before a financial settlement can be reached. The local council will find it difficult to prepare its budget for 1948 until it finds the needs of Summerland schools alone.

However, we can view the divorce without any measure of regret, apart from the fact that it was a fine theory and would have probably been successful if the department heads responsible for the school act amendments had taken a little more caution and paved the way for an elimination of inequalities in cost distribution before plunging into the scheme.

Some day when you become really fed up to the teeth with your blouse coming out from under your skirt every time you raise your arm a half-inch, hunt up an old petticoat, snip off the skirt which is usually not badly worn, and sew it to the blouse. Then just watch the darned thing try to get out; just watch.

Know what: The cami is coming back, with a bang. If you're old enough you'll have worn one in your youth; if you're not so old you'll likely know "cami" is short for camisole, and you're in for wearing a pretty piece of frippery if ever I saw one. Some are even stringing ribbons through them . . . miles of ribbon.

VERNON—Value of construction in Vernon for 1948 passed the million dollar mark last week, and surpassed the record total of all 1947, when Commonwealth Construction took out permits for $624,000 for the 100 rental homes in the Silver Star Project. Values so far this year are approximately $1,160,000, compared to $1,131,317 for all last year.

II—The Rattlesnake Episode

In the days of Giants, when the cost of living index stood at zero and income tax hadn't been invented, peace and harmony reigned in the Okanagan except for occasional battles between the Giants and the Ogopegos. But the time came when the rattlesnake of Rattlesnake Mountain raised his arrogant head and disputed the authority of the Giant king.

This snake had grown to enormous size and his self-importance had swelled in proportion until he had dreams of establishing a rival kingdom. The magnitude of this reptile is hard to estimate but it was such that a full-grown horse could be swallowed with ease.

There was an abundance of horses on Wild Horse Mountain nearby, and every morning the snake would glide north, pick off a horse and spend the rest of the day digesting it. However, periodic attacks of indigestion had made him sullen and quarrelsome and he began to resent the sovereignty of the Giant king, even though the laws of the latter were just and kind.

This feeling became more and more bitter until the Rattler forbade any giant to approach his mountain, and he would attack solitary trespassers. The situation became so tense that the Giant of Giant's Head called his council into session and unfolded a plan to rid the district of the noisy reptile.

The stratagem suggested was reminiscent of the horse trick used by the Greeks at Troy. The Giant planned to model a horse of stone and place it on the snake's hunting ground, hoping the rebel would swallow it by mistake with fatal result.

This scheme was followed. A statue of a grazing horse was put behind some low bushes near the trail used by the snake on his morning hunt. The horse was pounced upon and swallowed immediately. The snake soon realized that it was a horse of another color—and weight, for his stomach dragged heavily on the ground as he climbed back to his mountain retreat.

snake's stomach grew more severe, and he knew he had been duped when young giants on nearby hills tops began to neigh in derision. (Boys are boys in all ages.) All the reptile could do was hiss and spit—weak retaliation at best. Soon the snake was rolling in agony.

(Today if one feels sickly, a program like Ma Perkins or Laura Limited can be tuned in, and in the excitement and events of the lives of others, the minor troubles of the listener are instantly forgotten. But the Rattlesnake had no such method of escape for, at that time, kilocycles had not yet been discovered—nor Oxydol either.)

"Oh," wailed the snake, "if I could only be seasick! If I could only take an ocean voyage but how can that be done without an ocean? Besides, this stone I am carrying would sink the ship." Then he thought of the lake. Swimming had always upset his stomach. He would go for a swim and try to dislodge the ton of rock.

So the Rattlesnake slithered and rolled down the hill toward the lake with the young giants following to watch events. The snake plunged into the water but he had forgotten about the Ogopegos, which attacked him in large numbers.

Wounded by his illness and the mass of rock in his abdomen, the Rattlesnake was no match for the water monsters. Although he fought gamely, he was soon torn to pieces.

The Giants, generous in victory, dedicated the snake's mountain home to rattlesnakes for all time and a few small specimens still survive there.

Now, comparative peace spread its protective wings over the realm of the Giant of Giant's Head and the plan to conquer the North Pole could go forward.

Don't quarrel with your neighbors. Be they mean or kind, Or else in your innards, A rock you may find; No—pity your neighbor For, sad but its true, The poor helpless guy Has to live beside you.

The Inside Story

By AGROLOGIST

When I opened the Machine Shop door I got quite a shock. I was confronted by an apparition which looked for all the world like the modern version of a guillotine. As I walked towards this object two panels slid noiselessly to right and left, leaving an inviting doorway. Fascinated, I walked through the doorway whereupon the panels closed behind me. It was then that I observed the magician himself in the person of Jack Embree—on his face there was a "gotchanow" expression.

In due course I learned from Jack that this new gadget is actually an automatic door designed to prevent the loss of refrigeration when fruit is being trucked in and out of cold storage rooms. The sliding panels are activated by an ingenious set of levers operated from a ramp. When a load of apples is trucked onto the ramp, the weight causes the doorway to open. When the weight moves off the ramp on the other side of the door, the panels close again.

This automatic door has created quite a commotion in cold storage circles. During the past week it has been demonstrated at meetings of packing house managers in Penticton and Kelowna. Cold storage operators have been very favorably impressed and it seems likely that this door will become standard equipment in fruit cold storages. It is simple, dependable and comparatively cheap to construct.

Here's wishing Jack Embree every success in his efforts to invent equipment of value to the fruit industry!

R.R.1 Summerland, B.C.
 March 12, 1948.
 Dear Sir:
 The unjustness in the recent amendment to the Public Safety and Financial Responsibility amendment lies in the arbitrary punishment without trial of those not having a provincial certificate. If the penalties were contingent upon financial irresponsibility for damages awarded in a proper court of law, the act would be a just law. The present act authorizes police to act against innocent and guilty alike. In short, it contravenes the principle that under Canadian law, a man is presumed innocent until proven guilty.
 Yours truly,
 A. E. Gardner.

 VERNON—Vernon acquired another metropolitan attribute on Monday when mail delivery service started.

Bank of Canada Not In Favor of Drastic Increase

OTTAWA, Feb. 27—Changes in market prices for Canadian Government bonds during the past few months have brought the yield on the longest-dated issues to slightly less than 3% per annum, the rate of interest at which Canadian Government bonds were issued during the war years. Interest rates on other high-grade securities have also risen, and to a somewhat greater degree. This has occurred during a period of very large capital investment and a correspondingly large demand for money which has been borrowed in this connection. The degree of the change in interest rates does not appear inappropriate in the circumstances. On the other hand, the Bank of Canada does not regard the increase in rates of interest which has taken place as one of the most important factors in combatting a general rise in price levels. The bank is not in favor of a drastic increase in interest rates which would be likely to create a situation that might hamper, and might even prevent, essential forms of capital investment which Canada needs and which it is desirable should be proceeded with.

 KAMLOOPS—The $95,000 Memorial Centre by-law will go before the property owners for decision at a poll to be held in the fire hall on Saturday, April 3.

Impound Car For Lack Of "Pink Slip"

First car to be impounded under the new government insurance regulations involved the auto owned by Mrs. Bessie E. Lewis, of West Summerland, and driven on Saturday night, March 12, by her son, Orville C. Lewis. This vehicle was involved in an accident with an auto driven by Sam Harshenin, of Penticton, which was stopped temporarily on Peach Orchard hill. The Lewis car rounded a corner and could not stop in time because of the slippery road surface. Little damage was done to the Harshenin vehicle, the driver being able to produce the necessary "pink slip," indicating that the car was covered for public liability insurance. Between $25 and $50 damage is estimated on the Lewis auto and no pink slip could be produced. Constable T. Thorsteinson of the B.C. Police impounded the car and notified the inspector of insurance at Victoria. The car will remain padlocked until the necessary insurance is taken out, when authority will be obtained from Victoria for its release. Constable Thorsteinson explains. No charges were laid in connection with the accident, the B. C. Police constable deeming that neither driver was at fault.

 Reforestation of 10,000 acres of logged-off and burned land on Vancouver Island will be undertaken by teams of men totalling 450 operating from nine camps on Vancouver Island. They will plant nearly 11,000,000 Douglas Fir seedlings. Private industry is expected to plant a further 1,750,000 young trees.

SPEEDERS GIVEN FINES IN COURT

Now that the main burden of licence issuing has been completed, B.C. Police Constable T. Thorsteinson has been able to devote more time to his normal police duties. As a result, two drivers were recently brought into court and fined for exceeding the speed limit. On March 16, Robert G. Campbell of Vancouver, was fined $7.50 by Magistrate H. Sharman in Summerland police court for exceeding the speed limit in the 20 mph zone in lower Summerland. In Penticton on the same day, Stipendiary Magistrate G. A. McLelland fined Clifford L. Wilkins of Penticton, $10 and $3.75 costs for exceeding the speed limit in Peachland. These are the first court cases brought by Constable Thorsteinson since January.

INDIANS DEMAND POUND OF FLESH FROM TRUSTEES

DUNCAN—If Indians of the Somenos band have their way they will exact toll from Cowichan School District No. 65 for pupils and teachers going to and from the old elementary school at the south-west boundary of the city. This possibility came as a shock to members of the school board. Each member of the board stiffened in his chair as the import of the letter was realized. It was from Mr. R. H. Moore, Indian agent, who pointed out that the road leading to the school encroached for a short distance on Indian reserve. He went on to state that the Indians considered that they should be paid a rental for this use of their land. "That takes the cake," exclaimed Trustee Mr. W. J. Long, board chairman, when he recovered from his surprise. "Now we have heard everything," muttered Trustee C. R. West. HEADS EXHIBITION ARMSTRONG—Fred J. Murray was re-elected president of the Interior Provincial Exhibition at the annual meeting.

Dies As Result Of Accident Last November

As the result of an accident which occurred last November, Alva Gury Hallam, aged 63, a resident of Summerland district for the past twenty years, died in the Penticton hospital on Tuesday, March 16. Funeral services were held from the Penticton Funeral Chapel on Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating. Born in Nebraska, the late Mr. Hallam came to Canada in 1917 and settled in the Summerland district two decades ago. He was working as road foreman for the Arnett Construction Co. on the Yellow lake road between Kaleden and Keremeos last November when a caterpillar tractor ran over him. He was taken to the Penticton hospital, where he remained until last week, when he passed away from the injuries he received. Besides his wife in Summerland, he leaves two sons, Marvin at Falder and Ormand, of the 15th United States Air Corps ground crew, now stationed in Spokane; and one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Vertz, of Summerland; also surviving are five grandchildren.

APPLE BLOSSOM QUEEN TO VISIT

The royal party of the Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival will make its annual tour of the Okanagan Valley on March 29 and 30. Headed by Queen Lila Lee Hatley, the party will include Princesses Joanne Gahringer and Joyce Potter, as well as members of the Wenatchee Blossom Festival committee. This is an annual "goodwill tour", arranged by the festival committee, in co-operation with the various boards of trade in the Okanagan. The royal party will visit Penticton on March 29, and will continue on to Kelowna and Vernon the following day.

LARRY KWONG IS ON RANGERS TEAM

The long uphill climb from the type of hockey he played in Vernon as a boy to the NHL was completed by Chinese Larry Kwong Saturday, March 13, at Montreal. In the game against the Canadians, New York Rangers used Kwong sparingly, and thus gave the "big" league play its first Chinese. Montreal won the game though, 3-2, and defeated New York again the following night, at New York, 6-3. Kwong has spent the past two seasons playing with New York Rovers, a Rangers' farm team in the minor leagues.

TOURIST TRAVEL
 Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, minister of trade and industry, has revealed startling figures on tourist travel to British Columbia. A total of 7,364 cars entered the province during the month of January this year as compared to 4,956 in January in 1947. This, he stated, is an all-time January record.

BENNETT FLAYS—

 sales tax on all machinery and supplies they buy.
 "If ever a man asked for bread and was given a stone, this is it."
 By Mail Order
 "You can buy a pair of shoes by mail order. You can buy a car by mail order, because this province has no control over inter-provincial trade and they know it."
 He described the sales tax as a brick that will be hung around the government's neck.
 "I challenge any member of the government to stand in his place and justify it."
 Alberta had a sales tax, continued the member for South Okanagan, but threw it out.
 The CCF government in Saskatchewan is attempting to get rid of the tax in that province at the present time.

Wants It Withdrawn

He urged the government to withdraw the budget before it is too late and to reconsider the tax.
 "I believe there would be no sales tax if John Hart were still in office."
 "It seems to me that since Mr. Hart left there has been no heart in the government."
 The budget, he asserted, was the work of a very capable accountant but it was the budget of private industry rather than of the government.
 He criticized the expansion in government expenditures in recent years, charging that much economy that existed in the Coalition administration when it was first formed has vanished.
 Mr. Bennett was not prepared to admit the necessity of devoting funds to meet sinking fund requirements.

Can Carry Debt

"The former premier brought us a sound balance sheet each year without making allowances for the sinking fund, and the present minister of finance admitted himself that the province could carry a $75,000,000 debt without liquidating it."
 The unearned increment tax, he argued, would be much more effective because it would be a tax on inflation itself.

 Such a tax, he contended, would produce as much revenue as the sales tax.
 Mr. Bennett's main attack was directed at the administration but the opposition also felt the sting of his lashing tongue.
 He goaded the members across the floor with a list of unfilled election promises made by the CCF in Saskatchewan, and when he noted that "the opposition benches are pretty silent," Herbert Gargrave (CCF Mackenzie) replied in a small voice, "We've got nothing to say."

Mrs. E. M. Clark, who has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Constable and Mrs. T. Thorsteinson, returned to her Vancouver home on Wed., March 17.

WATER COLOR ART TO BE ON DISPLAY

On Saturday, March 27, at the Oddfellows' hall, Summerland will have an opportunity of again viewing the work of distinguished Canadian artists. The showing this time will be of water colors, and will include a step-by-step analysis of water color technique, prepared by Mr. J. L. Shadbolt. Sponsored by the Women's Institute and under the auspices of the extension department of the University of British Columbia, the paintings will be shown both afternoon and evening.
 Mrs. A. K. Macleod and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, who are convening this admission-free educational showing, have also gathered together a number of rare Chinese vases and tapestries to make a colorful and interesting corner of the exhibit. These are loaned for the occasion by residents of Summerland, and include some beautiful interpretations of rare Chinese art.

Wage Discussions By Packing House Workers This Week

Meetings in Penticton and Kelowna during the past week have been held in connection with the wage increase proposals submitted to the Okanagan Federated Shippers Assn by the packing house workers union.
 Wage increases on a general basis of 25 percent and in some cases as much as one-third are being sought by the packing house workers, it is understood, but the discussions have not reached a final stage, by any means.
 Tuesday's meeting at the Tree Fruits office, discussed many

Shirley Bryden Is Honored at Home of Mrs. William Verrier

Miss Shirley Bryden was the honoree at a shower held at the home of Mrs. Will Verrier, Prairie Valley, when Mrs. Ernie Laue, Mrs. Walter Gould and Mrs. A. Harbicht joined forces with Mrs. Verrier to entertain some 25 friends of Mrs. Louis Wolfe's Easter bride-elect.
 Little Leila Gould and May Laue, costumed as a bride and groom, brought in the well-laden basket of gifts for presentation to the bride-to-be. A musical evening was enjoyed by the guests, with solos sung by Miss Mina Milley and Mrs. Hilda Downes, and a piano duet played by Mildred and Phyllis Verrier. Myrtle and Garvin Harbicht further entertained with a guitar duet, and later Mrs. Florence Holmes played the piano while the whole company joined in a "sing-song."

White and yellow streamers decorated the rooms in appropriate Easter colors, and the table was centred with a bride's cake. The dainty buffet luncheon was served by Misses Phyllis and Mildred Verrier, Myrtle Harbicht and Ceone Eyre.

points in the agreement between packing houses and their employees and did not reach the stage of wage discussion until the final moments, it is understood.

Negotiations will continue, but a meeting of growers in the Vernon district went distinctly against the wage earners, the producers of that area stating that they could not agree to any further increase in wage levels in the light of declining returns.

Mother of Bride Is "Proxy" Guest

A shower with a new "twist" was given on Wednesday evening, March 17, when Mrs. E. M. Pohman entertained for Mrs. A. R. MacPhail, the former Anna Gould. Since Mrs. MacPhail is living in New Westminster, her mother Mrs. E. Gould was "proxy" bride, and received the miscellaneous gifts on behalf of her daughter.

Mrs. Pohman had invited some twenty of the Gould neighbors in Victoria Gardens to be her guests, and they thoroughly enjoyed Mrs. Gould's surprise and anticipated Mrs. MacPhail's pleasure in this evidence of well-wishing from her former neighbors.

Miss Mary Vanderburgh is spending the Easter holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh. She will fly up from Vancouver on Good Friday.

Miss M. Cammaert, Summerland's public health nurse, has been discharged from Summerland hospital after a bad attack of influenza. She will take a few weeks leave to recuperate, visiting her family in Calgary.

Mr. A. K. Elliott left for Vancouver on a business trip on Tuesday night, March 23.

Mr. Gordon Smith is leaving tonight to spend the long weekend in Vancouver, where he will visit former Summerland residents, Mrs. J. O. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Smith.

Misses Sibyl Smith and Dorothy Obernethy left on Saturday, March 20, for Calgary and points north to visit Miss Abernethy's friends and relatives.

The three-day mission held in the R.C. church from Sunday to Tuesday this week, was successfully opened on March 21st with the Rev. A. B. McLean, O.M.I., addressing a capacity congregation.

Mrs. Warren Givins with daughters Anne and Cecily will spend the Easter season in Vancouver.

Rev. F. W. Haskins and Rev. H. R. Whitmore will conduct the Good Friday service to be held tomorrow morning at the Baptist church, with both the St. Andrew's United and the Baptist church congregations combining for that special yearly service.

Mr. C. R. Morgan, accompanied by his daughter Elizabeth and his mother, Mrs. Plunkett, left today by motor to spend Easter weekend in Vancouver.

Mrs. R. E. Wright, accompanied by her son Ellwood and Miss Phyllis Brown, left last weekend with her daughter Mrs. M. Freylinger to visit her over the Easter holiday at her home in New Westminster.

Mr. Frank Pollock, accompanied by Mr. C. J. Bleasdale and Mr. Joe McLachlan left on Sunday for a business trip to Vancouver.

Miss A. Thiringer left recently for Los Angeles, Cal., where she will make her residence for the next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Greer are moving this week from lower Summerland to the home formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Allan Butler.

Among the many influenza patients at the Summerland hospital during the past few weeks are Mr. A. H. Steven, and Mr. F. A. Miller of Crescent Beach. Both are recovering favorably.

Mr. Bud Steuart promises an excellent orchestra of more than twenty pieces to provide the music for Singers and Players' April production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore". The orchestra will be a combination of Summerland and Penticton performers.

... J. A. O'Malley received formal notification on Thursday, March 10, of her appointment to the provincial board of Directors of the Canadian Cancer Society. The Summerland branch of the Canadian Cancer Society will hold its annual meeting at the Parish hall on the evening of Friday, April 2nd, when reports on the year's work will be discussed, and plans laid for the forthcoming year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Simpson left on Sunday for Langley Prairie, where they will visit for a short period.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Barr left last week for Vancouver, where they attended the double funeral of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Roberts. Mr. Roberts passed away on March 18 and his funeral was to have been held on Friday, March 19, but it was postponed due to the death of Mrs. Roberts on that day.

A group of 20 Rotarians and Rotary Annes from Summerland attended the Rotary dinner held in Kelowna on Monday, March 22.

Mrs. Mac Johnston left on Friday, March 19, for a short visit to Brookmere, B.C.

Coming from Vancouver on Saturday, March 20, were Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Challenger, to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Munn. They will remain until after the Easter season.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Warr of Penticton spent the past weekend as guests of Reeve and Mrs. Reid A. Johnston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Nisbet and daughter Marjorie, returned from a short visit to Vancouver on Saturday last.

Mrs. Dorothy Amm is among the travellers going to Vancouver for the Easter season. She left Summerland on March 22.

Hundred Rebekahs Greet Assembly President Here

Wednesday, March 17 was the date for the official visit of the president of the Rebekah Assembly of B.C. to the Summerland Faith Lodge No. 32, when Mrs. Rita Davidson greeted nearly 100 Rebekahs, 40 of them visitors from the Penticton and Oliver lodges.

Accompanying Mrs. Davidson were Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, vice-president of B.C. assembly, Mrs. Ira Betts, treasurer of B.C. assembly, and Mrs. Mona Thompson, district deputy president.

Two new members were initiated during the evening, Mrs. Hilda Eden and Mrs. Lillian Dunsdon. Mrs. Davidson addressed the company on "What it means to be a Rebekah". Mrs. Ruth Clarke, a Summerland member who is presently living in Kelowna came from there to be special guest soloist for the meeting.

A buffet supper was served by the social committee following the meeting.

St. Stephen's W.A. has changed its meeting day from the third to the fourth Tuesday of the month, to suit the convenience of the greater number of members. The ladies, who have been refurbishing the Parish hall, will discuss the question of new draperies for the hall at their meeting this month.

Mrs. J. C. Wilcox's daughter Eileen celebrated her 9th birthday on Saturday, March 20, when six school friends were her guests at the carnival in Penticton. Margaret Marshall, Margaret Mott, Anne Solly, Anne Beggs, Deanna Wileman and Johnny Mott enjoyed with her the rides and whirligigs, returning later to Eileen's home to share an enjoyable birthday supper.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Steuart had as visitors from Okanagan Landing last Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Munro.

The Summerland W.I. executive met at the home of Mrs. Joe McLachlan on Saturday last to discuss plans for the Spring fair.

FOR SPECIAL DAYS

Planning a wedding or birthday party? Why not order a beautiful tiered cake to place in the centre of the table? Simply phone your community bake shop, The Cake Box, and place your order and so eliminate one of the many duties ahead—there's a house to clean, silver to polish, gifts to buy, invitations to mail out and so many little chores involved before the great day arrives. How much easier when you are relieved of the great trouble of baking and hours over a hot stove.

Your neighborhood baker also has a wide and varied assortment of small cakes and cookies which will be a credit to the well appointed table, and you will be a more charming and poised hostess if you have been spared the confusion of too much preparation.

Then of course there is Sunday, the day of rest for most of us, but it can hardly be called such for mother (and mothers for generations) who have spent the day in the kitchen preparing that wonderful Sunday dinner.

Let her have this day too—surprise her with a delicious baked pie from your nearest baker. Remember, although it's a new age we're living in, with laws governing working hours and every imaginable trade—but what of mother? Her work is never done.

Don't forget Hot Cross Buns for Easter Weekend.

Arbitration Act Invoked By Salmon Arm In School Dispute

SALMON ARM—School trustees of Salmon Arm School District No. 20 failed to sign the agreement with the city and district councils consenting to arbitration in the 1948 school estimates.

This surprise information was given to the city council by Mayor H. W. Scales, who stated that the trustees' unexpected reversal of their decision left the city no alternative but to invoke the provisions of the arbitration act.

At the joint conference between the two councils and the school board, it was mutually agreed by all three parties that the estimates would be submitted to an arbitration board. However, while both councils signed the agreement, the signature of the school board was not forthcoming and since it was necessary under the Municipal Act for a decision to be reached on or before March 10, the only step that could be taken to compel arbitration under the Arbitration Act, otherwise the councils would have had to accept the estimates as presented, the mayor said.

In explanation of the action of the school board Trustee E. P. Wright, chairman, states:

"It should be known that the estimates were presented to the councils by the chairman of the board, and although the sums required had reached a new high it was pointed out to the councils that the figures had received endless attention and were now as low as possible. Sympathy was expressed towards the councils in their problems due to the upward swing in school expenses. The estimates were returned to the school board with a demand that they be cut commensurate with 1947 costs.

"Had the council asked at this time for a joint discussion on the estimates and sought the co-operation of the school board in requesting relief from the government, a more amicable relationship would now exist."

All Expenses Must Be Met Locally

Sir Malcolm Campbell, British speedboat king, has stated in a recent letter to W. T. Buss, Kelowna, that "it is no use approaching the necessary authorities over here unless I can tell them that all my expenses upon my arrival in Canada will be met. I therefore await hearing further from you on this subject."

The famous Britisher had planned to take his Bluebird II to Lake Coniston in the north of England for preliminary tests but Mr. Buss is suggesting to him that he carry out his trials on Lake Okanagan. Cost of the preliminary trials would be $5,000, it is estimated.

Rival claims in the Antarctic by Argentina, Chile and the British Empire's Falkland Islands dependencies are portrayed on these postage stamps issued last year. Argentina's claims lie between 25 degrees west and 74 degrees west longitude; Chile claims between 53 degrees west and 90 degrees west longitude; the Falkland Islands dependencies' claim is between 20 degrees west and 80 degrees west longitude. The U.S., while making no claim, does not recognize the claims of other nations. The U.S. Board of Geographical Names calls the area "Palmer Peninsula," in honor of Capt. Nathaniel B. Palmer, who explored the mainland south of Deception Island in 1820.

Many Councils Refuse School District Budget

VERNON—Solution to the school tax problem in the Vernon district will be sought through arbitration. Both the city council and the Coldstream municipal council have notified School District 22 they wish to carry their dispute over the 1948 levy of school taxes through this legal medium.

This action followed the councils' refusal of estimates as submitted by the school board, and the board's subsequent refusal to reduce the estimates.

DUNCAN—Ordinary and extraordinary 1948 estimates of Cowichan School District No. 65 were rejected by Duncan city council at its meeting on Monday evening.

SALMON ARM—By mutual consent of the two councils and the school board, the 1948 estimates of expenditures of Salmon Arm School District No. 20, as they affect the city and municipality, will be submitted to arbitration.

ABBOTSFORD—Sumas and Matsqui municipalities have both rejected the 1948 estimates submitted by District No. 34 School Board, Abbotsford.

This Friday (Good Friday) there will be a hike back of the experimental farm. Scouts, except those from Trout Creek, meet at the Legion Hall at 9:30 a.m. where transportation will be provided as far as the farm. Each boy should bring enough food for lunch and an afternoon snack.

Those who haven't passed their second class cooking test must cook in the open one quarter pound of meat and two potatoes. Each boy must bring something to drink as there may be no water available. Jack-knives will be required and those Scouts who have hatchets should bring them along.

The troop welcomed two new boys on Friday, Bob Ceclich from the Winfield troop and Ron Carson. Patrol standings now are: Eagles 318, Buffaloes 189, Beavers 258 and Hawks 264. We were glad to welcome back P/L Doug Wakefield who earned 10 points for his patrol by throwing a lasso. Notices: Next meeting, Friday, April 2. Duty patrol, Eagles.

GIVEN SOME HOPE VERNON—Mrs. Xel Monsees, of Vernon, has been given a "25 per cent chance" by cancer specialists in Dallas, Texas, it was learned following her flight there from Vancouver.

Peachland Says It Cannot Act Against Voters

KELOWNA—Possibility that the school loan bylaw for School District No. 23 may be held up indefinitely, was indicated by B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs, in a letter received by city council.

Mr. Bracewell stated that the Municipality of Peachland had questioned the right of raising money for school costs, in view of the ratepayers negative vote when the school loan bylaw was submitted to taxpayers earlier in the year.

If any municipality fails to submit a declaration for approval, it would indicate the school loan bylaw for the entire district would be held up. Mr. Bracewell stated. The letter was filed.

Peachland council states that under the Municipal Act it has no power to appropriate municipal funds for school, or any other purpose when their ratepayers had declined to give sanction. The ratepayers of Peachland disapproved of the by-law which had a majority throughout the district.

KELOWNA CITY GETS NINE CENTS

KELOWNA—City council received a cheque for the grand sum of nine cents Monday night.

The cheque was received from B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., as the city's share of "working capital" as the result of the sale of pears grown on the Lloyd-Jones property last year.

Needless to say, the money went into the city treasury.

Naramata Leadership Training School Makes Plans For New Permanent Quarters For Sixty

PENTICTON—"Our plans are achieving success beyond our expectations," stated Rev. Robert McLaren, principal of the Naramata Leadership Training school in announcing the plans for permanently housing the institution in Naramata, which were made public last week.

By decision of the board of governors, Naramata has been selected as the permanent site of the school. At the same time, plans for the erection of quarters to house 60 students, provide classrooms, workshops and similar facilities were disclosed.

Paralleling these plans is the campaign for finances that has been under way for the past few weeks. Under this plan it is hoped to raise sufficient to place the school on a thoroughly sound financial footing.

A quota of $20,000 has been set for Vancouver and vicinity, and $3,000 for this district. The response to the appeal, which has been in progress through private channels for the most part, has been "beyond our fondest hopes", Mr. McLaren said.

Army Building

In speaking of the building plans, Mr. McLaren said that a complete officers' mess and quarters has been purchased from the Vernon military camp, and dismantled for shipment.

This will be trucked to Naramata and erected on the site the school has obtained there. The next step in the plan, the moving of sections, will be under way shortly, with the re-erection to take place soon after.

In its initial term the school has been utilizing the hostel at Naramata, and various "makeshift" quarters for shops, etc. Should enrollment at the school warrant it, in the future, the hostel can be brought into use again.

For the immediate future, as presently planned, this may not be necessary. "We want to avoid 'mushrooming' too quickly," Mr. McLaren said. So doing would, he feels, destroy the comradeship which is such a component part of the school and its teaching at the present time. "We do not want to lose the infusion of enthusiasm which students are now gaining, and become another 'rubber stamp institution,'" he said.

Linked with the plans for the re-housing of the school is an announcement by the extension department of the University of British Columbia concerning handicrafts' classes at the school.

Courses in handicrafts, to include leather-work and glove-making, linoleum block printing, and stenciling, were included in the curriculum of the school from March 15 to 25.

Miss Jean Travis, instructor in the handicrafts division of the UBC extension department, was invited to attend the school and lead the crafts' classes, and reached Naramata last week.

"People have seen the need of this school for the past many years, and that is why they are so willing to help it," said Mr. McLaren.

"Another reason is that people have discovered this school is giving those who have had no opportunity of obtaining training elsewhere, a place where, regardless of degrees, they are able to train.

"Furthermore, it has to do with leadership training, and with youth, which everyone today realizes are of paramount importance.

"The school is giving confidence and a feeling of 'worthwhileness' to individual young people, who might not have had other opportunity to fit in to the scheme of things'. The self-confidence these people acquire is of real value, not only to themselves, but to the communities where they settle, and through this, to the nation as a whole.

"Talents that are dormant, and might in time be snuffed out, are brought into full play.

"To accomplish this, there are courses in public speaking; the young people learn skills with their hands, by means of handicrafts, in itself a vital thing in gaining confidence. During the school, they not only do these things but participate in all phases of community living.

"Thus new doors are opened to them. They are given a broader view of the world, its needs, and the part they can play in satisfying those needs.

Leadership Taught

"They are taught leadership. Many young people who have not had the opportunities this training gives them, would like to assist in youth or community work, but they hang back and are lost to the task, because they feel they do not know how, and therefore cannot be of service.

"Here, at the school, they are instructed in techniques that enable them to handle youth, and especially groups of girls or boys. They are taught basic psychology, and, what is particularly important, how to get along with people.

"Practical instruction in the development and carrying out of youth programs of various types forms a part of their school life, since they participate in hikes, community sing-songs, and other items on a practical basis right in this community.

"In their handicrafts classes they are given full information on how to use, and where to obtain simple tools, such as any tiny community can well afford. They are able, when they return to their homes, or go to small communities, to have fully effective groups, interested in handicrafts in leather, wood, shells, beads and plastics."

While the emphasis is on spiritual and practical leadership, other functions are not overlooked, Mr. McLaren said. The school has a full roster of magazines, and the young people are taught to cull the best from these.

"They gain, not only through reading, but in discussion groups, a world picture of progress, and a full consciousness of what is going on about them," the school head stated.

While the school has been started by the United Church of Canada, and is the only one of its kind in the west, it is not wholly denominational.

"We welcome students of any religious background, and nationality," the principal said. "Already we have had students of four different religious backgrounds, and of two races different from our own.

"No sectarianism is taught. Rather, we endeavor to show them the basic principles of Christian living, common to every denomination.

"The school runs at low cost, and particularly needy students receive some financial help.

"It is because of this the school is helping young people from out-of-the-way places, and in turn, it is because it is doing this, that people seem eager to contribute to it.

"Already we have received gifts from people of many points of view. And any gift, large or small, is welcome, in that it will assist in the furtherance of the task we have undertaken," Mr. McLaren concluded.

CLARIFY ROUGH GRADING

Final reading was given by the council recently to the bylaw amending the building bylaw and providing new regulations which clarify the meaning of rough-grading as it applies to subdivisions.

IMPROVE PRUNE BY PRUNING SAYS STATION EXPERT

(Experimental Farm News)

The Italian prune, at its best, is a blue plum of such quality and sugar content that it may be dried to become the well known prune of commerce. When grown to perfection it is one of Canada's choicest fruits. Once its unique qualities are known it becomes a favorite as fresh dessert fruit and for canning, jam or jelly.

The sweet-acid flavor, rich wine-color of the juice, and the recognized health-giving qualities of the Italian prune, place it among the standard fruits grown in the high, sunny valleys of British Columbia, says J. E. Britton, Dominion experimental station, Summerland, B.C.

For many years the Italian prune did not receive the recognition it deserved. Prune trees had been planted on soil considered unsuitable for other fruits and little attention was given to maturity when marketing. During the past ten years the picture has changed. More prunes are being grown, the importance of proper maturity is recognized, and marketing procedure is greatly improved. The crop has more than doubled and new plantings, on favorable sites, indicate further increase. Attention is also being given to maintaining and further improving high quality.

New plantings should consist of one or other of two new strains known as Greata and DeMaris. These are identical with the regular Italian prune but are about two weeks earlier, thus they often escape the cool weather which slows down maturity and ripening and tends to lower quality.

Pruning is most important in bringing back older trees to the production of well sized, good quality fruit. Enough large wood should be cut out to open the tree to light. Sufficient fertilizer should be applied to ensure new wood terminal growth ranging from 10 to 16 inches. Finally, the old fruit spurs should be reduced in number, by either cutting or breaking off from one-quarter to one-half of them. In this way the crop is thinned and improved in size and quality.

START DAM ON ISLAND

COWICHAN — The Campbell River is running through its new channel at Ladore Falls and it will now be possible for the General Construction Company to get to work on the dam, which will flood the valley in which Forbes Landing is situated. It is not expected now that the dam will be completed before December.

Interim Report On Airstrip Is Given Board

An interim report on the possibility of providing an airstrip for Summerland, combined with some of the major details involved in such a project was provided the Summerland Board of Trade monthly meeting in the IOOF hall on Thursday March 11, by the airport committee chairman, George Washington.

Mr. Washington stated that Mr. Lawson, of the department of transport, visited Summerland recently and accompanied the speaker on a comprehensive tour of the district.

Possible sites at the top of Prairie Valley, in the Paradise Flat area and at Trout Creek were investigated thoroughly.

One interesting comment from Mr. Lawson was that Trout Creek area would have provided a much better airport than the Penticton site and those in control at Vancouver had been desirous of having Trout Creek made the airport for the South Okanagan.

Missed The Boat
However, Summerland "missed the boat", and a "few Penticton men outsmarted Summerland," Mr. Washington declared, also stating that the Penticton airport is not suitable for smaller craft because of the downwinds.

Trout Creek could still be made into an airport, but some drainage work would have to be carried out and some of the fruit lands annexed.

To obtain a registered field, even for a small landing strip, a runway 2,000 feet long would be necessary, with a cleared width of 1,100 feet, of which five hundred feet would have to be sown to grass. Besides this area there would have to be a flightway at either end of the runway proper. This area could be obtained at the top of Prairie Valley, utilizing municipal property, but a large knoll would have to be moved. Still another location is available farther west, but this is a pre-emption and would probably be expensive to purchase.

Wind Tests
Exhaustive tests of prevailing winds would have to be taken for a period of some three months before any site could be said to be suitable, he explained, and all the proposed sites would be extremely expensive to build up into a suitable airstrip.

In answer to a query from T. B. Young, the committee head declared that the golf course was measured carefully and meets all the requirements except for one location where a twist in the canyon of Trout Creek would cause dangerous air currents. However, if more property were added to the golf course this would make an ideal location, he thought.

Whatever site is ever chosen for an airstrip, it will be a costly undertaking to complete, Mr. Washington warned, asking the board to give his committee further opportunity to study the project. The speaker also stated that they had not lost sight of the possibilities of a seaplane base.

MAY RE-ROUTE ROAD
DUNCAN—According to an announcement made by the Hon. E. C. Carson, B.C. minister of public work, further investigation is being made by his department into the re-routing of Island Highway through Duncan and Cowichan.

AWARDED CONTRACT
Interior Contracting Co., Ltd., of Penticton, has been awarded a $58,126.30 contract for construction of irrigation works to serve V.L.A. projects near Chase and seven miles east of Kamloops.

FERTILIZER ORDERS SHOULD BE GIVEN AT EARLY DATE

Canada used about 325,000 tons of fertilizers in 1939 and the estimated requirements for 1948 are 700,000 tons. This striking increase in the use of fertilizers since 1939 has been stimulated by demands for increased food and agricultural supplies from countries suffering from the after-effects of war. Because of shortages of building materials and the difficult labor conditions during this period, the fertilizer industry has not appreciably increased its production capacity to keep pace with this greatly increased demand. Although the production capacity of the plants may be sufficient to handle estimated requirements this year, there are other obstacles which slow up production such as box-car shortages and limited storage space.

High single, women—E. Gagn, Kelowna 2, 396. High triple, men—J. Mildenberger, Kelowna 1, 946. High triple, women—E. Hale, Vernon 2, 812. Team single, men—Kelowna 1, 1374. Team single, women—Penticton 2, 1260. Team triple, men—Kelowna 1, 3703. Team triple, women—Summerland 2, 3243.

With the shortage of box-cars there is not a steady flow of fertilizer material into the plants. This has already held up potash and phosphate deliveries but the situation has improved recently. Since the business is mostly seasonal, being of only a few months' duration, storage is an additional problem.

To offset these difficulties and assure having fertilizers when they are needed, it would be advisable for dealers and farmers to take early deliveries. This would ease storage problems and allow plants to work at full capacity.

B.C. DRAGOONS WANT MEMBERS

The British Columbia Dragoons Assn. is planning a drive for membership this month, Capt. A. M. Temple announces following his attendance at a committee meeting of the directors held in Kelowna recently.

All ex-members of this Okanagan regiment, which is now represented by the 9th Recce Regt., (BCD) are to be contacted and urged to join the association.

Plans for the annual re-union smoker and entertainment to be held in Kelowna next July are going forward and it is hoped by the association that a large membership will be built up before that time.

Need Conciliator
In Wages Dispute

KELOWNA — A conciliator will probably be appointed in the present wage dispute between the city council and members of the Kelowna branch of the Okanagan Valley Local No. 952 Fire Fighters Union, after no agreement was reached at a special meeting last week.

Negotiations for a wage increase for paid employees of the brigade have been going on for some time.

Present rates for paid firemen are first year, $135; second, third and fourth year, $140.

degree. Another anonymous donation raises the home economics loan fund, established in 1947, to a total of $600.

Three new bursaries have been provided by the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire. Admiral Jellicoe Chapter has given two $50 bursaries, one for a man and one for a woman veteran of high scholastic standing and in need of financial assistance.

Triple Entente Chapter has provided two $75 bursaries for veterans, one in third or fourth year applied science and one in teacher training, under similar conditions. A bursary of $100 has been provided by Worthington Memorial Chapter for a proficient and promising veteran student in any year or faculty who is in need of financial aid.

An anonymous donation of $500, forwarded to the university from Ottawa branch of the UBC Alumni Association, has been placed in the university loan fund.

Donations totalling $1,000 in 1948 have been received from the Architectural Institute of B.C. A sum of $800 was provided to equip a model-making and testing division for the department of architecture. In addition, three prizes totalling $200 in value will be given annually for leading students in the three years of architecture.

Other contributions are: Transportation and Customs Bureau, Vancouver Board of Trade, three $75 prizes for reports by commerce students and extension department students of transportation; Dorothy and William Dorbils prize in Canadian History—$50 annually for an essay showing promise in historical research; Automotive Transport Association scholarship—$150 annually to a student leading the class in transportation practices and policies and going on to the course in highway traffic problems; National Paper Box Company bursaries—$200 each to a student in agriculture and a student in commerce; United Distillers Limited—$250 donated to the university for use of needy veterans during the current session; Timber Preservers Limited—three added merit awards of $15 each increasing the amount of the company's prizes to $180 annually; C. D. Houghland prizes—$50 each to two graduating pharmacy students with the best records in pharmacy and dispensing laboratories; Kiwanis Club of Vancouver—a gold medal and $50 to the leading student in the B.Com. degree, and a $150 scholarship to the fourth year commerce student leading his class and proceeding to the final year Law Society of B.C.

S. A. MacDonald Is Returned As Hospital Prexy

S. A. MacDonald was again named president of the Summerland Hospital society when the directors met for their March meeting on Tuesday evening, March 16. Although Mr. MacDonald stated it was time for a change, the directors were unanimous in their selection.

C. J. Huddleston was named first vice-president and Tom Croil second vice-president. J. E. O'Mahony continues as secretary-treasurer.

The house committee will consist of Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon, C. J. Bleasdale, T. Croil, J. R. Butler and C. J. Huddleston. This committee will split its work into two parts, one to handle staff matters and the other to take charge of property management.

The grounds committee consists of Dr. J. C. Wilcox, E. M. Tait and J. E. Jenkinson. Finance committee will have James Muirhead and W. R. Boyd and public relations will be handled by J. R. Armstrong.

It was announced on Tuesday that Miss M. Bennest has agreed to accept the post as acting matron for a six months' period, and this arrangement met with the unanimous approval of the board.

Marriages In 1947 Involved
Many Brothers

Vital statistics are generally dull affairs but a perusal of the marriage column for 1947 reveals some interesting facts concerning nuptials performed by Rev. H. R. Whitmore of Summerland.

Two sets of three brothers were united in marriage by the United church clergyman here, which should establish some sort of record.

Not only was Rev. Whitmore involved in a triple wedding, a rare occasion in Canada, but later in the year he married three brothers on three different dates.

The triple wedding involved the Smith brothers, William Charles, Philip Matthew and Clinton Leroy, all of Summerland, who were united in holy wedlock to Jean Gilmore Jones, Patricia Elizabeth Blacklock and Kathleen Mary Gilmore Jones, respectively. The Jones girls are sisters. This ceremony was performed on June 20, 1947.

Then came the Nesbitt nuptials, Harry Nesbitt being united in marriage to Ruby Mildred James on November 22, 1947.

On December 15, 1947, Victor Orley Nesbitt and Edith Pauline Tellman were united, while on Christmas Eve, December 24, 1947, Earl Fredrick Nesbitt and Irene May Jones took the "fatal" plunge.

The Nesbitt brothers are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nesbitt of Edgewood, B.C.

Getting back to more common statistics, increases in the number of births and marriages and a decrease in the number of deaths featured 1947 over 1946 vital statistics.

There were 31 marriages last year, compared with 25 in 1946; deaths dropped to 29 from 37 the year before; births increased to 91 in 1947, from the 1946 total of 78 new babies.

GIFTS TO UBC FUNDS REACHES
BIG SUM OF 7000

Gifts to funds for scholarships, bursaries and loan resources to the value of more than $7,000 have been announced by the University of British Columbia following recent meetings of the senate and board of governors.

Included are renewals of grants from the B.C. Telephone Company totalling $2,500 for graduate scholarships in mechanical and electrical engineering, engineering physics, mathematics, and physics.

Also renewed is a B.C. Electric Railway Company grant of $1,000 for three scholarships: One in graduate research on mechanical or electrical engineering, and one each in mechanical and electrical engineering for undergraduates entering the final year of those courses.

Two new loan funds for women students are among the new donations. The Mary L. Bollert loan fund, set up by women graduates of UBC, honors the memory of the late dean of women, and provides funds for women students in need of an emergency loan. The Helen Gregory McGill student aid fund, initiated by Phi Delta Delta Legal Sorority, will assist women students in the final year in law or in the degree course in social work.

In the department of home economics, an anonymous donation provides a graduation prize of $50 to the student standing at the head of the class for the BHE

A School is Only as Good
. . . as Its Teachers

"Today more is asked of the teacher than ever before. He is exhorted to fit our youth for the labour of life, to educate boys and girls for citizenship . . . and above all to help build character."—Leonard W. Brockington, K.C., LL.D.

School buildings are necessary, equipment is required, books are indispensable, school boards must make plans, superintendents and inspectors must give leadership, but the teacher is absolutely essential in any school system.

The B.C. Teachers' Federation appeals to municipal councils, to school boards, and to the tax-paying public to keep these simple truths in mind.

Whether the source be provincial, municipal or a combination of both.

EDUCATION

Present salary levels have not yet attracted a sufficient number of fully qualified teachers for our schools.

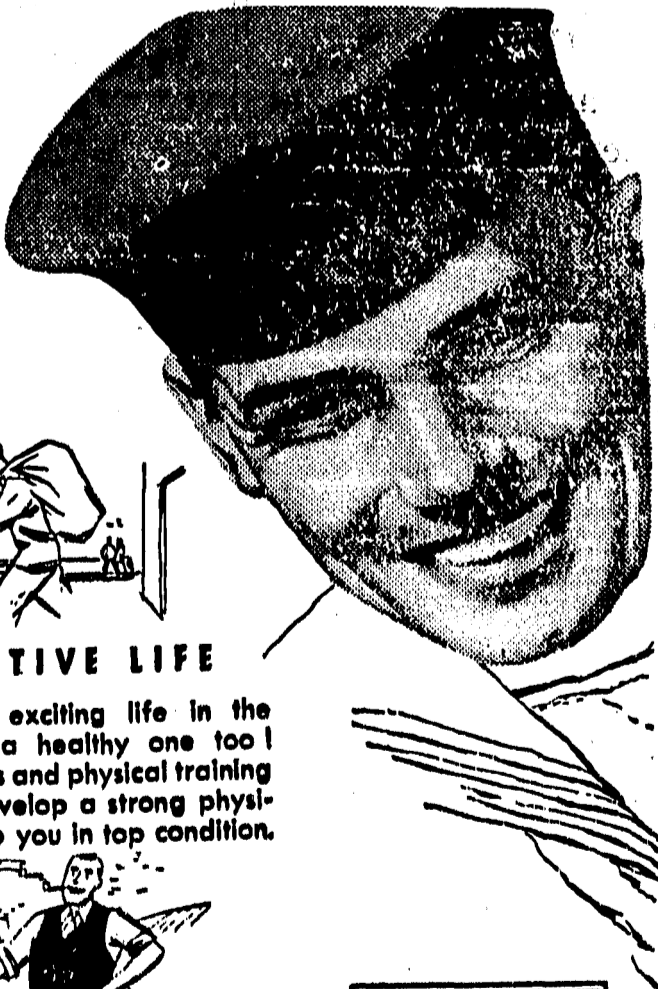

On the average, and over a period of years, the money that is paid to the teachers determines the quality of the schools.

LEE DE FOREST

No series on radio would be complete without some mention of Lee De Forest the inventor of the vacuum tube and one of the greatest inventors in the field of radio.

After receiving a Bachelor of Science and a Doctor of Physics degree from Yale in 1899 he continued his studies in the Armour Institute of Technology and soon became associated with the Western Electric Co., he was employed in the experimental telephone laboratory.

He was the first to use the alternating generator and transmitter which was later universally employed in wireless transmitting sets. Later he designed and installed the first five high power stations for the U.S. Navy, but his greatest invention and work was the audion amplifier or radio tube as we know it.

This made the transmitting of voice over long distances possible. Your radio salesman, the Deluxe Electric, has the same fundamental types of tubes in the store now to help you bring in these programs.

Have your tubes checked regularly—it means better reception.

By end of March, apple stocks in the interior of B.C. will be reduced to under the 700,000 mark. A. K. Loyd, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. president and general manager informed The Review yesterday. Sales in March were excellent up to the past week when cold weather on the prairies caused a slump, he states.

Only 86 cars were shipped last week bringing the season's total to 12,890 cars, compared with 15,898 a year ago and 10,648 in 1946. Winesap and Newtown apples are the only varieties remaining unsold.
