

Satan's Hell Drivers to Thrill Crowd Here Friday

Those who enjoy thrills and spills will get a full complement at the Living Memorial athletic park tomorrow night, Friday, when Satan's Hell Drivers stage their thrill show which has enthralled spectators throughout the interior.

These Hollywood stunt men have been seen on the screen, and have been given publicity in national magazines. They are on a province-wide tour and their show has been acclaimed on every hand. In Summerland their appearance is being sponsored by the Kiwanis club, with the net proceeds being devoted to youth activities.

The automobiles which will be used in the daredevil displays are the same cars driven by ordinary persons on any highway.

One of the feature stunts is the now famous dive bomber crash when a car is driven up a ramp at top speed to leap 75 to 100 feet into space and land into a group of parked car bodies. The Hell Drivers claim they will come out alive.

Freddy "Satan" LaMont, well-known Hollywood stunt man, is the leader of this group of daredevils. One of his stunts is to drop off a speeding automobile and make a slide for life through fifty feet of burning gasoline.

Cars are rolled completely over, hurtled through flaming hoops, and Johnny "McGee" Smith, the "Mountain Goat" will put his motorcycle through a dangerous suicide leap, which involves a five-foot flaming hoop.

The show starts at 7 o'clock tomorrow night and it is anticipated that a huge crowd will be in attendance as the show has been given "top rating" in entertainment value at shows already given at Kamloops, Vernon and during the Kelowna Regatta.

At last Monday's Kiwanis club session, the new service club voted to set aside all the net proceeds towards youth activities, mainly the new Summerland Youth Centre, which is being located in the old "college" gym on the Giant's Head Road.

Members of the visiting troupe of daredevils are: Freddy "Satan" LaMont, Cheston Tarver, "McGee" Smith, Curly Brock, Eddie Ward, and the two clowns, Bobo and "Trudie" Thorsen, Don Curtiss, Stu "Cooked" Haas, Roger Dahl Hobo.

Co-op Advances $33,000 on Cherries

An advance of $33,000 on the 1949 cherry crop will be paid to shipping members of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn. this week, Miss Bertha Bristow, secretary-treasurer, announced this morning. This is the first payment on the 1949 crop to be made by this large co-operative concern.

No Word on Strike Vote Dates Given

Although William Fraser, chief conciliation officer of the labor relations board has been appointed to take a strike vote this week among 2,000-odd members of the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union (TLC), advise from Kelowna this morning is to the effect that no dates have been set for any of the packing houses nor has Mr. Fraser arrived in the Okanagan.

The strike vote was sought last week when the industry negotiating committee, representing the fruit growers, and packinghouses refused the conciliation board ruling on a "modified form of union security".

Wages are not an issue, the only clause in the union's request which the industry has not agreed to being that of the union security.

When the strike vote will be held has not been announced by Mr. Fraser, who was appointed by the labor department in Victoria.

It is probable that the eleven locals of the union will vote next week, possibly concluding about August 11.

If the workers decide on a walk-out, then the industry will be faced with an extremely difficult situation, as the peach harvesting will be underway then, especially in the extreme south.

The industry's stand on this question has been announced in a special advertisement on Page 2 of this issue.

Merchants And Red Sox Battle to 4-All Tie in Local Playoff Series

Daryl Weitzel had a big chance to put his popular Red Sox out in front with a 5-4 win last night in the second game of the local baseball championship series, but he got caught off base and was run out in a hotbox. So the score remained in a 4-all tie at the completion of nine frames and the two teams will do battle again next Wednesday.

Red Sox had lost a good deal of their nervousness last night and presented a more difficult ball club to beat. They outhit their senior brethren 10 to 8 but made more miscues in the field, committing seven baulches to the Merchants' three. Two of those errors by the Red Sox meant runs, but only one could be directly credited to a Red Sox run.

The second frame was the deciding one. The Merchants scored their first run when Amm got the first of his three singles and was safe at second when Kato dropped the ball after having him cold. Day shot a sharp one down at Kato, who failed to hold, Amm coming across. Day was put out at the plate on a sharp play by Sandy Jomori, which relieved the pressure, Thompson striking out to end the rally.

But then the Red Sox exploded all over the lot, four hits in a row and a bad throw by McCargar accounting for three runs. Ernie Jomori was retired at home when Brawner threw perfectly and Crisante struck out. But the bases were filled again before Sandy Jomori flied out to put a finish to the rally.

In the fourth the Red Sox staged another rebellion, Daryl Weitzel scamporing across for the fourth tally, three more hits being registered, Brawner scored the Merchants' second tally when he raced home, dumped Bob Weitzel, who was blocking the plate, with such force the ball was dropped. Thompson was on third when McCargar attempted to sacrifice him home. He popped the ball up in the air for a made-to-order double play.

Jackie Amm scored the Merchants' third and his second run in the sixth when he singled, stole second and third and scored on Coffey's hard-hit grass cutter. Makes Circuit Drive

At the top of the second, Vandenberg covered himself with glory when he slashed a grounder past second base and out into deep, centre field for a circuit drive which tied up the ball game.

Then came the last of the ninth, with Daryl Weitzel doubling to left field the first batter up. He was advanced to third as Dunham retired and it looked like the winning run until he tried to sneak home and was caught out. From the stands it appeared that Daryl thought the bunt play had been called, but Coach Jimmy Heavysides declares that no such signal was given.

Norman (Jimmy) Thompson, well-known Merchants' right-fielder, protested to Umpire "Hilly" Smith so vehemently in the ninth frame that he was thrown out of the game. With a one and one count, Frank Kuroda replaced Thompson.

Thompson's protest concerned a called strike which was admittedly one of the few bad calls made on balls and strikes during the evening by Umpire Smith.

Score, by innings:
Merchants 010 011 100—4 8 3
Red Sox 030 100 000—4 10 7
Coffey and McCargar; Jacobs and B. Weitzel.

Pacific Coast Scientists on Visit Here

Plant pathologists from Washington, Oregon and California visited the department of plant pathology in Summerland this week, arriving Sunday and remaining for Monday and Tuesday. They were especially interested in a virus disease of cherries, known as Lambert Mottle, which was first described by T. B. Lott, of the plant pathology lab here.

The scientists were conducted on a tour of Summerland district by Dr. H. R. McLarty, chief of the laboratory for the Dominion government here.

Those in the party consisted of Dr. John Milbrath, Corvallis, Ore.; Dr. Earl Blodgett, Prosser, Wash.; Mr. E. L. Reeves, Wenatchee, Wash.; Dr. L. C. Cochran, Riverside, Cal.; Dr. George Nyland, University of California, Davis, Cal.; Dr. Reid Brooks, pomologist, University of California; Dr. G. L. Stout, Sacramento, Cal.; Harry O'Reilly, The Dalles, Ore.

RETURNS FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. E. N. Rowley, who was an old-time resident of Summerland, arrived in Kelowna on Tuesday morning from England to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Craig while visiting friends in the Okanagan.

Northern Boards Want Better Ferry Service But Not Ready To Support Westside Road

VERNON—With seven of the 15 member boards represented, the Okanagan and Main Line District Associated Boards of Trade in annual convention went on record as calling for increased ferry service on the Kelowna-Westbank run, but opposing development of the west side road bordering Okanagan Lake as a primary highway.

The first of eight resolutions discussed by the trade boards' representatives, the move was proposed by Armstrong and Westbank boards and opposed by most of the others, with Vernon and Kelowna leading the way.

Three Forged Cheques Are Cashed Here

Provincial police throughout British Columbia were alerted last week to be on the lookout for June Des Jardines, a Vancouver girl who is alleged to have forged three cheques, all in the amount of $140.40, in Summerland and Penticton last week.

She is also believed to have obtained a U-Drive jeep from a Penticton concern and abandoned it at Princeton, by the CPR station depot. Consequently, police believe that she has returned to the coast.

June Des Jardines, aged about 25, has been working in Summerland area for the past three years during the busy season. Last year, she worked the entire season on the orchard of Robert H. Birch, and returned early this season to be employed in a similar manner as an orchard helper.

It is stated that Miss Des Jardines obtained an advance on her wages from Mr. Birch early last week. Shortly afterwards she disappeared.

A trailer, with cookstove and radio, which she brought to Summerland, was left on the Birch property.

Three Cheques Passed

E. C. Police Constable I. G. Thorsteinson reports that three cheques, forged on the account of Robert H. Birch, orchard account, were passed. All three cheques were made out to June Des Jardines in amounts of $140.40.

One of these cheques was cashed at the Butler & Walden hardware store, where Miss Jardines was well known. She obtained the full amount in cash.

On the same day, Tuesday, July 26, she offered a similar cheque to Mary's Cash Grocery. She obtained $20 cash and was informed that she could pick up the balance the next day. She did not return.

From Penticton comes advice that the girl proffered another cheque in the amount of $140.40 to Walter's U-Drive in Penticton. She obtained a U-Drive jeep and a small amount of cash, police report. The jeep was later found at Princeton.

Meanest Man Tears Up Park Turf

Meanest man in town is the driver of a small-type vehicle who deliberately raced his engine and circled viciously on the newly-planted Living Memorial park playground lawn Monday evening and cut up the turf with the tires.

John Graham, park caretaker sadly shook his head Tuesday morning and openly wondered about the sanity of some car drivers.

Marks could be seen where the vehicle drove at a slower speed over the lawn and did no damage. Then the vehicle came back and the driver swung it in an arc, at the same time gunning the engine, and tearing up the turf.

Measurement between the tire marks, center to center, was fifty-five inches, which is a smaller wheelbase than a standard automobile of Canadian or American make.

Saskatchewan Man Appointed Here

Mr. Everett Bates of Saskatchewan has been appointed by Summerland School Board as assistant principal replacing the late Mr. Chas. Kennedy.

Mr. Bates comes highly recommended and is an experienced teacher who also had five years' army service.

Growers Request For Liaison Officer Will be Filled in September

Appointment of William (Bill) Embrey, at one time British Columbia manager for Goodwin-Simons Ltd., prominent fruit importing firm in the United Kingdom, and more recently, assistant sales manager in the fruit business of Simons & French Co. Inc., New York, is returning to the Okanagan to join E.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., as a type of "liaison" officer between the growers, packing houses and the central sales agency.

Such an appointment was first suggested by Summerland growers, who have fostered the plan at the last three conventions.

At the last two BCFGA conventions the selection of such a man has been suggested and on January 19 of this year the growers requested that "a selection be made as soon as possible."

At one time the appointment was termed "production manager", but this term has not been used by Mr. A. K. Loyd, general manager of Tree Fruits Ltd., in commenting upon Mr. Embrey's appointment.

At present, Mr. Embrey is located in Seattle, where he has been acting as representative of the foreign accounts department of the Seattle First National Bank.

He is a well known figure in fruit circles in the Okanagan and was well acquainted in Kelowna, where he took an active interest in junior chamber of commerce work prior to the war.

In 1940 he joined the RCAF and distinguished himself as a pilot, receiving his discharge in 1945, when he took the sales management appointment in New York.

"We are confident that Mr. Embrey can provide the sort of service which the growers are requesting," commented Mr. Loyd.

July Building Continues to Show Increase

Building permits for Summerland municipality continue to show a healthy increase over the same period in 1948. Roy F. Angus, building inspector, reports with his figures for July, just issued.

For the first seven months this year 98 permits at a value of $236,735 were issued, while for the same period in 1948, some 87 permits had gone out valued at $117,715.

In July, four new dwellings were scheduled to start, with a value of $10,400. Four institutional or commercial buildings permits had a value of $9,750, including one permit for alterations at $1,250. Ordinary alterations and additions showed five permits at $4,050.

These three categories bring July's total to 13 permits, at $24,200. In the same month in 1948, sixteen permits were issued, valued at $20,785.

PAMPHLETS BY AIR

Vernon Kinsmen will be given authority of the Summerland council to drop leaflets over Summerland advertising the annual Vernon Days, on August 10 and 11, Tuesday's council session decided.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross McLachlan motored to Kamloops last week-end for a short holiday.

Great Army of Prayer Organizing In Western Canada Says Father Peyton

KELOWNA—Groundwork for a nation-wide crusade was laid here Friday night in St. Joseph's Hall when the famed Irish-born American priest, Rev. Patrick Peyton, addressed a capacity crowd of clergy and laymen representing the whole of the Okanagan territory within the confines of the Nelson Catholic Diocese.

Father Peyton, founder of the well-known weekly Mutual Broadcasting System "Family Theatre" program, and who described himself as a "travelling salesman for prayer," said Friday night's gathering here was the largest he had addressed since he started the crusade a few days ago in Western Canada from his Vancouver headquarters.

"The reason you are here is to be enlisted in a great prayer army," the mild-mannered, quiet-spoken priest said. An army of 40,000 men, he continued in his Irish brogue, will march from home to home from Manitoba to the Pacific Coast and in the Yukon and Alaska from October 9 to 16 to get every Catholic home to pledge family prayer.

The real campaign starts in September, culminating in the week of October 9-16 when the 40,000 men in Western Canada and Alaska go out and bring back the family prayer pledges.

Judgment is Reserved in Hit and Run

Although he had declared once a verdict of guilty, Magistrate H. Sharman reserved judgment in the hit and run charge against Joseph Lawrence of Vernon in Summerland police court on Tuesday morning, August 2. He will bring down his verdict next Tuesday.

C. W. Morrow, MLA for North Okanagan, defended Lawrence in the charge that he sideswiped a car driven by Eugene Campbell of Kamloops on July 10 and failed to stop at the scene of the accident.

The accused was not put on the stand, nor was any statement made. Mr. Morrow made his main contention that the prosecution had not identified Lawrence as the driver of the light delivery truck which other witnesses stated sideswiped the Campbell car on Okanagan Highway No. 5 about six miles north of Summerland.

Followed Truck
Besides Mr. Campbell, evidence was provided by Jack Lawler of Summerland and a passenger in his car, Mrs. Rena Samson of Vancouver, who heard the sound of the impact as the truck and car passed each other on the highway. The Lawler vehicle was following the light delivery but no one could see the driver sufficiently well to identify him.

Magistrate Sharman, in summing up the case, stated that in a hit and run case circumstantial evidence must be considered and it must be implied that the owner was driving his own vehicle.

As Mr. Morrow started to protest this statement, Magistrate Sharman quickly commented: "Of course, you know more about higher courts than I do."

"I should hope so," replied Mr. Morrow. Just as the magistrate was declaring that Lawrence was guilty but before any sentence could be given, Mr. Morrow added: "I'm glad that there is a higher court."

He pointed out that the car was not being charged, but the driver Continued on Page 10

Chilliwack's Problem is Familiar

CHILLIWACK township is facing a situation which is similar to that in which Summerland found itself last year.

In 1948, Summerland municipality decided it would assess as improvements equipment and machinery in places of manufacture and production. It was only because the municipality failed to comply with certain legal regulations that the attempt was hoisted for another year.

It was inferred at the time that the council was determined to follow through in 1949, but no statement has been forthcoming from this year's council to date, and the inequities which would arise have been pointed out by many persons to the municipal fathers.

Now Chilliwack township is considering a similar move and the Chilliwack Progress comments editorially that "institutions or manufacturing plants . . . have real cause for alarm."

The Progress points out that most of these plants are either farmer owned or designed to handle the farmers' product, a situation which is similar to that in effect here, with the exception of the box factory, machine shops, garages, the printing plant and a few other secondary industries.

The Chilliwack editor points out that "many of the plants are designed for seasonal operation only and cannot be compared with year-round manufacturing operations. If a plant operates for three months it will have to pay the proposed tax on the rated value of its equipment in that time. There is no opportunity to spread this cost over a 12-month period."

Another factor which can be applied to both centres is the last point made by the Fraser Valley paper when it says: "The Chilliwack area is in dire need of industries of any kind. We should be encouraging them, for a large investment in equipment requires a large expenditure in employees' wages . . . we should not discourage new industries by discriminatory taxation. A store which, for instance, has no investment in equipment may have a turnover and a gross profit far in excess of that of a manufacturing plant which has a large investment in equipment and manpower."

This latter point is the one which The Review has stressed previously, pointing out its own instance as an example. On one side of The Review is situated the Bank of Montreal, which operates its business on a turnover of the current medium of exchange and has no "equipment" in the accepted meaning of the word. Of course, their "equipment" is most necessary when it comes to paying for taxation.

On the other side of The Review is A. K. Elliott's department store, also with a large yearly turnover, this time of merchantable goods, but also with no equipment.

These two firms would not be subjected to inclusion in this method of taxation, yet The Review, simply because it needs a considerable amount of costly machinery in order to operate each week, would come under this extra taxation.

On the surface, it can readily be seen that such an improvements tax on machinery, as such, would be an unfair procedure. This is especially true since the fruit rancher is no longer taxed on the trees which produce his yearly profit.

The Okanagan's Publicity Stunts

THREE big summer shows tend to bring a great number of visitors to the Okanagan each year and add greatly to the general prosperity of this valley. The tourist industry is second only to the great fruit industry in its importance to most valley centres.

This week we had the gigantic Kelowna Regatta, in its 43rd consecutive year of operation. It is a two-day event which brings fame to the Orchard City and the Okanagan generally as it is recognized as the "tops" in aquatic entertainment. And, incidentally, the added attractions are nearly as big a drawing card now as the actual events on the water.

Next will come the annual Vernon Days, on August 10 and 11. Of more recent origin, Vernon Days are in their 12th year and have made a big success of their yearly event which features rodeo attractions.

Finally, in August, comes the Penticton and District Peach Festival, August 17, 18, 19 and 20. Although only in its second year, this festival looms as the most likely to eclipse in tourist value attraction any of the three major summer entertainments. The publicity gained for Penticton and the Okanagan in sending a special train to Vancouver and appearing at the Capilano Stadium was of immense value in itself.

With these three major cities vying for the spotlight as the best in summer attractions the entire Okanagan is gaining a valuable publicity medium.

And before closing we should mention the final main attraction of the year, the annual Interior Provincial Exhibition at Armstrong.

Fruit Stand for Tourists

PENTICTON has beaten Summerland to the draw with the announcement that a fresh fruit kiosk, for the benefit of tourists and visitors generally will be operated by the United Co-operative Growers' Assn.

Over a year ago Councillor F. E. Atkinson proposed a similar proposition on a slightly larger scale to the Summerland Board of Trade. Some data was collected and much discussion ensued but nothing concrete was ever laid down.

While Summerland pondered the situation, Penticton went into action and has started a kiosk where small packages of fruit will be sold and where orders can be taken for gift shipments in larger quantities.

At the top of Peach Orchard hill there would appear to be an ideal location for a similar fresh fruit stand in this community. Not only could fresh fruit in season be placed prominently but the tourist could be waylaid with soft drinks served ice cold and given information concerning Summerland district.

It would appear that with a 24-hour service station in operation there, some arrangements could be made to combine the operations to the benefit of the operator, the fruit stand operator, the tourists and the community as a whole.

The new industries committee, along with the tourist and publicity committee of the board of trade should get busy and investigate the possibilities now being offered.

Summerland has never made much of an effort to attract tourists, apart from issuing brochures and instituting a few signs in the district. No concerted effort has ever been made to attract more tourist cabin or motel industries to the district, even though there exist miles of beach front which might be made available.

When the full brunt of the Hope-Princeton travel is felt in the South Okanagan we venture to say that more of us will agree with Premier Byron Johnson, when he stated that the accommodation now in readiness is only half sufficient.

Signifying Nothing

By RUSTICUS

Yesterday on Penticton's main street, right among all the new Pontiacs, Mercurys, and Dodges, I saw a Model T Ford. Among those sleek, low land-cruisers it looked as high-waisted and old-fashioned as a girl in an 1890 bustle among a bevy of modern bathing beauties. But the sight of it brought a pang of nostalgia all the same.

Ah, how little anyone has experienced of cars who never knew the old Model T flivver, tin-Lizzie, or whatever worse she might be called. There indeed was a car. No self-starter, no battery, no foot clutch or foot accelerator, no gear shift lever—practically no lights or brakes—no extras at all, in fact, just pure car. As one poet put it,

"There was an old man, who had a peg leg,
He didn't like to work and he hated to beg,
So he got some wire and an old tin can,
He made a Ford and the dang thing ran."

When the road was level, it went like—oops, nearly kept on rhyming. It went fine. Going up hill—well, you had only twenty underrunners horse power in four cylinders, if they were all popping, instead of the modern V8's hundred. When climbing choked the ordinary put-put-put of the engine down to a sputting wheeze, you leaned your foot on the left of three pedals, and it went down into low gear and crawled up groaning. When you went down hill and the speed became alarming—40 m.p.h. was just about Lizzie's best on the level and at that speed she roared and rattled like a threshing machine trying to jitterbug—you pressed on the right hand pedal and the brake went on, if any.

Those three pedals—the middle one was reverse — were all the gears there were. They worked with bands, not with cogwheels, and if you drove in hilly country they wore out fast and unexpectedly. I've sat on the road in the middle of the night and admired the curses of a liveryman as he worked away trying to tighten slipping bands, and I've seen the transmission box red hot from the friction of metal against metal when the band lining was worn. Or was it the lurid language that glowed?

You didn't need any clutch, except to start and stop, because there were only high and low speeds ahead and you pressed the pedal for low and let it out for high. But I never did learn to stop a flivver without killing the engine, and sometimes I had to stand on all three foot pedals to get one to stop at all.

Starting, too, always challenged my ingenuity. The hand lever and foot pedal had to be set just right to get the gears in neutral; otherwise, just when you were busy cranking the engine with one hand and pulling the choke wire out past the radiator with the other, Lizzie would start suddenly and charge you with a roar.

If, however, it didn't advance but merely roared and shuddered, you dashed round to the driver's seat and tried to get it rolling. This involved handling the gas lever with one hand, letting the clutch lever ahead with another, and steering as best you could, at the same time pressing your foot on low or reverse. It was a real thrill to me when everything worked and Lizzie duly got under way.

Night driving was thrilling, too. At slow speed you had to get in front of the car to see if the lights were on, and while they got brighter as you drove faster, they never quite caught up; you always seemed to be on the verge of driving right past them.

The most I could ever see in the Model T was a slight improvement over the horse, unless you had a good horse; but apparently that was enough. Henry sold millions of them. Probably the fact that it was the lowest priced car on the market had a lot to do with it. Certainly it should have been, for its style remained the same, outlandish though it was, for year after year, it charged extra for accessories that other makers included as standard equipment, and the only color the customer could get was black.

Finally competition forced Henry to put lights and starter on it, and bring its looks more up-to-date; when that wasn't enough, he came out with the Model A and jumped to the head of the low-priced class.

But the Model A was a more or less standard type of car, gear-shift, lights, starter, and all. The Model T was unique, and it's too bad some U-Drive doesn't keep one just as a novelty for its customers. A ride in it would be an experience which none of them would ever forget.

Recent reports indicate that the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions are considering the taking of a strike vote among the Employees of those Packing-houses in which they are the Certified Bargaining Authority.

The only item in dispute between the Unions and ourselves at this time is the matter of a "modified form of Union Shop" under which a number of our more experienced workers would be forced to join the Union, after a specified time, or lose their jobs.

We feel it should be the right of every man to earn a living without surrendering his right to join or not to join a Union, as he sees fit. If the Union serves the workers well, it should not be difficult to enlist membership. It should not be the duty of the employer to coerce his employees into Union membership.

The fruit packing industry of the Okanagan has been extremely fair with their employees and the Union, and this contention is confirmed by the following statement issued by the Union just prior to 1948 negotiations:

"Since 1940 the Fruit and Vegetable Workers Unions have been making gains in wages of 113% for men and 103% for women, as well as grievance procedure clauses, safety and health clauses, holiday with pay clauses, recess clauses and hours of work clauses (reducing the hours of work from a seventy-four hour week to a fifty-four hour week in the busy season and a forty-four hour week in the off season), time-and-a-half for all Sundays and Statutory holidays, and a 5% premium for all night workers on night shift. Our officers and membership have plenty to be proud of during the past six years of progress. All these gains every year have been brought about without one hour being lost to the workers due to strikes."

The fruit packing industry of the Okanagan is the only industry of its kind in Canada that is unionized. We pay by far the highest wage rates, have the shortest hours of work, the greatest vacation allowance and more favorable working conditions than granted by our competitors in any other fresh fruit section of Canada.

It is well known that the most serious tie-ups and jurisdictional disputes in the fresh fruit industry of United States during the past year, have been in those few areas where Union Shops and Closed Shops have made their appearance, namely Salinas and Watsonville, California, and the cities of New York, Philadelphia and Washington.

Our Unions already have a greater measure of Union security than applicable in many of the more specialized industries. In fact, when the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions were reorganized in 1946, this industry extended such co-operation and security in the form of the Rand Award that the Unions were referred to as "Company Unions" by a competing Union, and the Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association was publicly attacked for nearly a year on the grounds that it "gave its full support and good-will to, and encouraged workers to join the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Unions."

The following is a brief list of the benefits gained by the employees, either by Agreement or by Government action, during the past ten years:

(a) Men's basic wage rates increased from .88c per hour to .82c per hour.
(b) Women's basic rate increased from .80c per hour to .66c per hour.
(c) Men and women in key positions receive from .05c to .12c per hour higher than the above rates.
(d) Time and one-half for work done on Sundays and Statutory holidays, as compared with straight time in 1939.
(e) Time and a half for work over 9 hours, and double time for work over 11 hours, (during the busy season) as compared with straight time in 1939.
(f) Time and a half for work over 8 hours per day, or 44 hours per week (during the off season).
(g) Annual vacations with pay for hourly workers.
(h) Exemption from Workmen's Compensation Board assessments. (These now paid entirely by employer).
(i) Unemployment Insurance, (Approximately 50% of Premiums paid by employer).
(j) Maintenance of membership. (Union Security).
(k) Rand Award with compulsory checkoff. (Union Security).
(l) 5% Premium for night-shift work.
(m) 5c per hour Premium for working in cold storage.
(n) Improvement in working conditions, such as heated grader rooms.
(o) We have recently indicated our acceptance of the recommendation of the Conciliation Board to grant two weeks' vacation with pay to permanent employees with five years or more service.

A tie-up of this highly-perishable-commodities industry at this time could be of serious consequence to the economy of the whole Valley. We hope that no-one is prepared to accept the responsibility for such a loss.

Teen Town
Please don't murder me in cold blood or tear me limb from limb but I am afraid I am unable to report on one of Teen Town's most outstanding events, namely their part in the parade at the Carnival. Circumstances beyond my control (or in other words, we worked late) prevented me from doing it.
One disappointment I did hear of was the lack of girls in the parade but I am sure everyone will agree that Robin Fisher and Ron Ritchie did an excellent job as two members of the fair sex.
This is terribly unofficial so you had better let it pass in one ear and out the other, but I am nearly sure Teen Town will be having a beach party next Saturday night. The reason I never know any official news is that this column is in on Monday but we have our meetings on Tuesday.
So I am afraid that is all the information I can give you, so keep your eyes open for signs around town. In case you are wondering where all these signs are (they are pretty small, we admit) they are usually found on the windows of Mac's Cafe, the Cake Box, the Nu-Way, Rumball's and the Lakeside Inn.
A serious question that is being discussed by everyone now: "Is our Teen Town clique?" I am not going to say anything on the subject right now because not enough people have voiced their opinions.
But if you think it is and have any suggestions how to overcome it, please let the council know.
This is all for now. I really am sorry about my failure concerning the parade but I told you kids you should have gotten rid of me

Stormy Yale Liberal Meeting
Amid Shouts of "Collaborator"

VERNON—Durig the recent political campaigns, opinions were expressed that Canadians took their politics much more quietly and soberly than did their American "cousins."
If those people who expressed such opinions could have been in the Vernon Scout Hall on Monday, July 25, they certainly would have changed their minds, but quickly. A general meeting of the Yale Liberal Association was three-quarters of an hour late getting started, but once things got underway the fireworks burst in an explosion that made election campaign speeches seem like a pink tea reception.
Howard J. Thornton, of Vernon, whose resignation of the presidency later came before the Liberals, took the chair. During his opening remarks Mr. Thornton was interrupted by Oscar Matson, of Penticton, president of the Similkameen Liberal Association.
The ensuing "battle" culminated in Mr. Matson and Wallace Mutch, also of Penticton, leaving the hall before the business was completed. The prelude to the business discussion was one of the stormiest periods seen at a meeting in Vernon for years.
As Mr. Matson took the floor, youthful Vic Wilson, of Naramata, hurled shouts of "Collaborator," which were taken up on all sides of the hall. "Tell them whom you voted for" were other shouts flung at Mr. Matson by the seemingly outraged delegates.
At last getting reasonable order Mr. Matson put forth his protest that the notice calling the meeting was not received by him in enough time to call a district meeting and choose delegates.
Mr. Matson said the notice he received had been written on July 12, was postmarked at Vernon, July 19, and was received at Penticton on July 20. He spoke of the riding being scattered from Grand Forks to Copper Mountain and said "it was impossible to call a meeting and get a representative gathering."
Continued the Similkameen president: "You may shout all you like but there was not enough time to call a meeting."
Frequent shouts and boos were heard all the time Mr. Matson was trying to explain his viewpoint. He said he believed a certain number of days' notice was necessary.
Shouts rose to a screaming crescendo as Mr. Matson cried: "I'm as good as anyone in this hall." Derisive laughter greeted the remark.
"Who Tore It Down?"
Shouted Mr. Matson: "If you think you can build up the Liberal strength like it used to be..."

Interruptions: "Go ahead and tell us who tore it down..."
Cried Mr. Matson: "If you carry on, you carry on from Kelowna north."
During further discussion, Mr. Matson moved to the side of the hall where he and Mr. Wilson exchanged comment. He went to the back of the hall and someone in the midst of other shouts, asked where he was going.
Curtly answered Mr. Matson: "I'm going to pick up my stuff and go out." The delegates cheered.
Wallace Mutch, also of Penticton, spoke. Said he: "I have been to a good many meetings but I have never seen one conducted like this has started out. Kelowna and Vernon think they can run the riding... perhaps they can, but..."
Loud guffaws greeted Mr. Mutch's contention that C. J. McDowell, of Vernon, Yale Liberal candidate during his campaign, had left the Penticton Liberals no alternative than the action they took. He didn't want our support. He didn't give us a chance to get an organization going."
Commented Mr. Thornton from the chair: "There are certain people who taint an organization..."
Interrupted Mr. Mutch: "... And you are one of them."
With this rejoinder and to further cries of "collaborators," Mr. Matson and Mr. Mutch left the hall.
The meeting got down to business.
When Mr. Thornton's letter of resignation came before the meeting, Mr. Wilson thanked Mr. Thornton, referring to the "rotten job and rotten deal" the resigning president had to put up with. He referred to his feelings at being "called a traitor while walking the streets of Penticton for not voting Conservative."
He concluded: "We have cleaned our house tonight."
At this moment, as a car drove past the Scout Hall and a car horn was sounded loud and long, same of the delegates chuckled: "There goes Matson."
Two names were put forward for president of the Yale Liberal Association—Mr. McDowell and A. W. Gray, of Rutland.
Mr. McDowell was elected 71 votes to 59, and will carry on until fall, when the annual general meeting will be called by the executive in Penticton.

Thirteen Children Are Entertained

Mrs. S. A. MacDonald had a tea-party on Thursday afternoon, July 28, for thirteen small children. Most of the youngsters were cousins who thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon together; the children of Mr. and Mrs. A. Sladen, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cousins, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. E. Beech, Mr. and Mrs. J. Beech of Prince George, Mr. and Mrs. A. Beech, Vancouver. Present, too, were Mrs. David MacDonald and Daphne of Kaleden and Miss Maxine Stump of Peachland.

Mrs. Anton Holler, Newest Austrian War Bride, Speaks to Rotary Club of Summerland

An insight into the daily life, thoughts and history of an occupied European country, her native Austria, was given members of the Rotary Club of Summerland Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex when Mrs. Anton Holler, who arrived in Canada recently as a bride of the well-known Summerland fruit rancher, proved an interesting guest speaker.

Mrs. Holler speaks excellent English with an accent but her command of English phrases is astonishing for one who has come to this country so recently.

Mrs. Holler explained that Austria is an occupied land, cut up in a similar manner to Germany, with occupied zones. Vienna, the capital, is situated in a similar manner to Berlin and is in the Russian zone.

When the Americans arrived in Salsburg, it had been declared a Red Cross city, as there were so many wounded—17,000—in the environs, with 7,000 houses damaged from 23 air raids prior to the occupation.

Divided Authority
Two months after the occupation, when the military government was set up the citizens were beginning to accept the occupation forces and the latter were beginning to understand better the Austrians, Mrs. Holler explained. Then the Austrian government was set up again but the authority is divided and that has caused trouble and confusion.

Russia controls Vienna and the important oil fields, which are the richest part of the country. The Russians have ruined the economy of Austria because they take away the oil, she explained. Americans are trying to make up for this through the Marshall plan.

From spring onwards conditions improved noticeably, she continued, but everything pumped in the west goes out on the east, in comparison, and without American help "we couldn't go on."

Some insight into conditions in her country in the early stages was given when she made brief mention to the rape and robberies committed by the Russians. Now, however, with British, American and French soldiers in Vienna, as well, those offenses are not so flagrant.

A great number of Austrians want to emigrate to America but only a few can get out of the country. Mrs. Holler was the second native Austrian to be allowed to come to Canada. Besides their own citizens some 750,000 D.P.'s are still in the country, taking refuge. They are mostly Hungarians, although there are many Czechoslovakians, as well.

Impressions of Canada
Mrs. Holler paused at this moment to give some impressions of her new country of adoption. The first thing which struck her so forcibly was the length of distance travelled and still the same language predominated.

She has been delighted with wages and food conditions here and explained that if one was able to get a full month's work in Austria, then that would only compensate for a room and enough staple food that you would not go hungry.

Before the war, Mrs. Holler explained, all governments, although elected in a democratic manner, acted in a totalitarian manner and endeavored to eliminate the other parties. There are parties which resemble the Liberals, Progressive Conservative and CCF and there is also the communist-minded minority, who have four members in the parliament of 160.

Austria had to import her own food and to pay for these she exported precision tools and machinery, mainly to Germany. Prior to the 1938 annexation by Hitler's Germany, the latter country cut off all imports from Austria, with the result that there were two million unemployed out of six million working population.

Germany's Plan Worked
As a result, Austrians could see next door a working, contented, well-fed people while they were unable to buy food because of unemployment, although there was plenty of food in the shops.

At that time Austria lacked leadership and was easily swayed towards Germany without realizing that by cutting off the purchasing of Austria's chief manu-

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

New books which arrived in the Summerland branches of the Okanagan Union Library last week include the following fiction stories: The Girl on Via Flaminio, Hayes; The Moving Target, MacDonald; The Inner Voice, Putnam; Elephant Walk, Standish; Family Roundabout, Crompton. Non-fiction books are: Why are you Single?, Holland; Siam Doctor, May; Death of a Salesman, Miller; To Tell my Story, Vanburgh; Your Coughs, Colds and Wheezes, Wassersug.

Long Distance Circuits Are Now Restored

All regular long distance circuits between Vancouver and the Okanagan Valley have now been fully restored. Last winter, all services through the Coquihalla pass were completely disrupted by snow slides, whose continual movement prevented any attempt in repair work until very late in the spring. More than 20 circuits between Vancouver and Eastern Canada were completely wiped out including the six Vancouver-Okanagan Valley channels.

Okanagan Telephone Company officials today stated that the Vancouver-Okanagan circuits have been increased from six to ten channels and complete service on a 24-hour basis is now available. Additional circuits between Vancouver and the Okanagan have been made available by use of special carrier equipment which provides more than one channel from an ordinary pair of long distance wires.

facture Germany had created the major difficulties.

Mrs. Holler declared that this decision on the part of her country is now held against Austria but she feels that the people could not be blamed for the decision they made.

Before closing, Mrs. Holler answered several questions and talked shortly on the educational system which requires schooling up to 14 years of age, and provided parents can afford it, provides a high standard of high school education combined with trades training.

She also declared that many Russian soldiers are deserting their zone and disguising themselves as D.P.'s in order to try and emigrate to the western land.

Fun For All At Carnival On Granville

There was fun for all on Granville street Saturday evening as the Legion annual street carnival attracted a bumper crowd which packed the sidewalks on both sides from Pender to Hastings and overflowed at the ends.

Main attraction was the parade, featuring pets and comic costumes. This was delayed an hour because of the non-appearance of the bands but the crowd did not seem to mind and was rewarded by the appearance of the tiny tots with their pets and the bigger tots with their fancy costumes.

Dogs, cats, chickens, goats, and many other animals could be observed in the pet parade which had 27 entries. The bridal pair of Linda Scott and Keith Skinner won first prize while Wayne McCargar, the prospector with the covered wagon was second. Caroline Sladen, dressed as a bunny, with Bozo on a leash, won third prize.

Winners of Prizes

Most of the dress parade contained Teen Town entries, Basil Thornthwaite with his "hula" skirt taking the prize for best comic boy and Carol Ann Short taking the same prize for the girls. She was dressed as a negro mammy.

Best original boy prize went to Ron MacRae, who represented a butler, complete with tray and drinks while the most original

Twenty-five Cubs In Camp at Vernon

Representatives of the AOTS and their wives who drove the Cubs to Camp Hurlbut at Vernon on Monday included Mr. and Mrs. A. McLachlan, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Butler, Mr. Ernie Bennett, Mr. J. Sheeley, and Mr. Alan Calvert.

The camp is at Cameron's Point which is about eight miles south of Okanagan Landing on the east side of the lake. The Cubs will be in camp for a week, and about 25 are attending from the Summerland pack.

Gerald Washington of the 1st Summerland scout troop is in charge of the local pack at Vernon.

girl was Bonnie Wilson, who wore girl's clothes in front and boys' clothes behind and carried a placard asking: "Which way am I going?"

C. J. Huddleston, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh and Mrs. W. H. B. Munn were the judges for the parade.

Two Bands in March
Prior to the parade starting, the Summerland Band and the Canadian Legion pipe band from Pentiction marched in review, along with strong contingents of Girl Guides, Scouts and Brownies. They made an impressive display and received an ovation from the audience.

Later the bands gave short concerts on the street.

The usual carnival games ran steadily until nearly midnight while the Legion W.A. also had booths for the sale of home produce.

Tom Charity was in charge of the carnival committee.

Sunday Evening Service To Be Held At Park Playground

The usefulness of the Living Memorial parks is being demonstrated gradually as different organizations and groups realize that they are available and attractive. Sunday evening a group of young people, representatives from the local clergy, and others, will innovate a Sunday evening outdoor service in the Living Memorial park playground.

Beginning at about 9 p.m. there will be community singing and other music with the hymns illustrated on a screen. This will be followed by moving pictures with a musical background, and a suitable Sunday evening theme.

The project is being called the Summerland Sunday Evening Twilight Hour, and Rev. Robert Birch is one of those primarily interested in this special service.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beer left on Monday for the coast where they will visit for a week before starting for California.

VISITING ABROAD

Mrs. J. R. Armstrong left on Sunday morning's train for Christina Lake where she will spend a short holiday at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. White, of Penicton.

Mrs. M. Kersey is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Skermer at Lumby, B.C.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Palmer made a trip to Vancouver driving out and back during the weekend.

BRIDE-ELECT OF NEXT WEEK IS SHOWER HONOREE

To fete a bride-elect of August, Miss Eileen Inkils, her sister-in-law Mrs. Earle Inglis arranged a miscellaneous shower which was held on Tuesday evening, July 26, at the home of Miss Inglis' sister, Mrs. Fred Schumann.

The very surprised guest of honor heard the music of Here Comes The Bride played on the piano by her niece Joyce Schumann and found the living room full of well-wishing friends.

She was taken to a gayly decorated chair where she sat during the evening, and another niece Georgina Inglis presented her with a miniature locomotive reminiscent of the occupation of her husband-to-be who works for the CPR in Saskatchewan. It contained many miscellaneous gifts.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by their daughters, four of the nieces of the honored guest, Marjorie and Loretta Inglis, and Shirley and Joyce Schumann.

Those present were Mrs. Geo. Inglis, Mrs. Louis Wolffer, Mrs. Channon Snow, Mrs. Chas. Smith, Mrs. Frank Jacobs, Mrs. Brandstrup, Mrs. Tellmann, Mrs. H. Pohlmann, Mrs. Sheldrake, Mrs. Nilson, Mrs. J. St. Denis, Miss Mildred Clark, Miss Ellen Brandstrup. Unable to be present but sending gifts were Mrs. R. A. Kennedy, Mrs. Max McKechnie and Mrs. E. Brennan.

Two Fines Arise From Accidents in District

Two fines were levied by Magistrate H. Sharman in Summerland police court Friday morning against persons accused of infractions of the motor vehicle act. Mrs. Isabel O. Spiller of Kelowna, was fined $15 and $3 costs when she pleaded guilty to failing to allow half the highway. On a dangerous driving count, Orville L. MacDonald was found guilty and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Mrs. Spiller pleaded guilty Friday morning when she was accused of failing to allow half the highway when her car and an auto driven by Cornelius Martens of R.R.1 Matsqui collided nearly head on six miles north of Summerland on Highway No. 5, on a "blind" corner.

The accused Kelowna woman explained to the court that when she applied her brakes on approaching the corner the car swung suddenly to the left and although she made an effort to swing back to her side of the road she was unable to avoid crashing into the southbound car driven by Mr. Martens.

She produced a statement from the Ladd Garage in Kelowna to the effect that her brakes were faulty. She was on the last lap of a 400-mile auto trip when the accident happened and she had had no previous trouble, she explained to the court.

Constable I. G. Thorsteinson, who prosecuted, told the court that the highway blackout is 17 feet six inches wide at this corner, with another two feet of gravel on the outside edge leading to a sharp drop. At the point of impact the Spiller car's left front wheel was 5 feet 8 inches from the inside bank.

Mr. Martens, an impressive figure with his flowing grey-white beard, stated that he observed Mrs. Spiller endeavoring to wrench the car back onto the proper side of the road. When Magistrate Sharman announced the fine Mr. Martens thanked him for not being too severe on Mrs. Spiller as he considered that the accident had been an unfortunate one.

Mrs. Martens, who suffered two broken ankles in the crash, developed pneumonia afterwards but is recovering satisfactorily. Mr. Martens told the court. Other passengers escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Orville Macdonald pleaded not guilty to the dangerous driving count, which arose from an accident on the Giant's Head road on Saturday afternoon, July 23, about 3:15 o'clock. He was riding a motorcycle which exploded into flames and was completely destroyed by fire.

According to witnesses George Pennington and Pete Trofimenkoff and the prosecutor, Constable Thorsteinson, MacDonald rounded a curve and swerved to avoid Pennington's jeep which was preparing to come onto the roadway from a private driveway.

The motorcycle appeared to go out of control, zig-zagged and weaved down the road 150 feet until it struck the left rear fender of Trofimenkoff's car, which had just been parked to allow a passenger to alight on the opposite side of the road. The bike fell onto its side and careened another 88 feet before it came to a stop and exploded into flames.

In his own defence, MacDonald claimed that he had swerved to avoid Pennington's Jeep, which KAMLOOPS—At a joint dinner meeting of the Kamloops, Merritt and Princeton boards of trade, it was decided to bring to the attention of the provincial public works department the importance of having the Kamloops-Merritt, Princeton road in the best state of repair possible at the time of opening of the Hope-Princeton highway.

The resolution was unanimously endorsed and it will be brought to the attention of the appropriate authorities by Dr. J. J. Gillis, MLA-elect for Merritt.

CANNOT BUILD NEW ROAD UNTIL FALL SEASON

Mrs. Stella McKay sought council action last week towards building a new road alongside the cement flume past her property. The present roadway being used tends to injure her fruit trees, she reported. D. M. Wright reported that no roadway can be built until the irrigation season is concluded, as there would be a possibility of damaging the flume during the building process. Reeve Johnston instructed that Mrs. McKay be informed that the road will be built as soon as possible.

CBC OFFICIAL HERE THIS WEEK

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's coverage of the South Okanagan is the subject of an informal investigation by Kenneth Caple, regional representative of the corporation, who is visiting the Okanagan next week.

The senior official of the CBC spent Monday, August 1, in the Oliver-Osoyoos area, and Tuesday, August 2, in the Penticton-Summerland area. He talked with individual citizens and representatives of service organizations in an attempt to determine the effectiveness of the present CBC program coverage in this area and the extent of improvements in the service which might be required.

was only ten feet away when he first observed it. Tall grass on the corner prevented him seeing the Pennington vehicle before that time, he claimed.

Magistrate Sharman found him guilty of the charge and assessed a fine of $10 and $3 costs.

Aphis Showing More Noticeably In Okanagan

The horticultural news letter, issued from Kelowna last week-end and reporting for the Summerland, Peachland and Westbank area, as of July 20, declares that the first picking of Moorpark apricots is just beginning. Picking of Transcendent apples is concluded and Duchess is starting.

"The pest situation is quite good for this time of year. The recent hot weather brought on scattered infestations of red mite, but there is nothing like the general infestation experienced in 1947.

"Parathion sprays and dry weather have held pear psylla to a minimum, so far. Aphis are very prevalent this season. Black cherry aphid, green aphid, and mealy plum have all shown up in quantity. Woolly aphid is now becoming noticeable in many apple orchards.

"Fire blight is continually being reported in new areas. The rains to aggravate the situation," the report for this district concludes.

Penticton area reports that size on all fruits is good for this time of year and also declares that mites are building up rapidly.

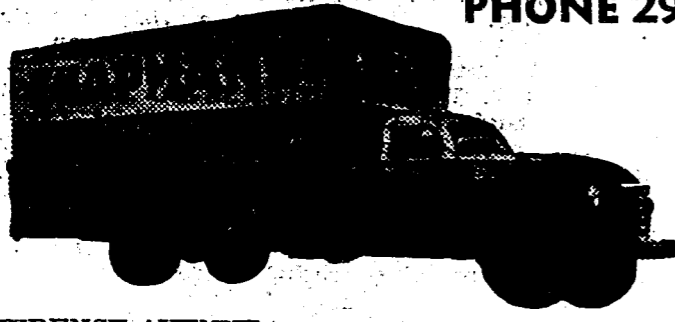

Farther south, Oliver-Osoyoos also reports aphis and mites building up fast and growers are now applying sprays to combat them, as well as the second brood-codling moth.

"At the moment, the 1949 crop is two weeks ahead of 1948. The peak of picking apricots has been reached this week-end. The crop ripened very quickly during the hot spell but did not size as expected. Cooking apples are almost all off. Peach plums are moving to market and pears should be ripe around August 1."

In Kelowna district, and farther north in Vernon area, the same reports regarding woolly and green aphis are being made.

Despite unsettled conditions of world trade British Columbia's export trade is continuing to grow. Hon. L. H. Eyres reports that exports through B.C. custom ports in May totalled $38,941,638, compared with $36,980,946 for the same month last year.

Hope-Princeton Highway Opening Postponed Until October Says E. C. Carson

Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, announced last week that the Hope-Princeton highway will be opened in October for through traffic, provided the elements do not interfere too drastically.

In any event, the official opening is now postponed from Labor Day until some time in the fall, presumably late in October.

The public works minister went over the entire route last week and ordered all possible machinery and manpower put to work to complete the road without any further delay.

Eric Ramsden, provincial editor of the Vancouver Province, writing for the Pentiction Herald from Hope when the party reached there last week had the following to say about the road:

There remains for construction under construction; Mile 38 to 51, a nine-mile gap.

Fifty-three miles are paved. The remainder of the 80-mile Hope-Princeton road is ready for paving.

The western section, the Emil Anderson Co. contract, is complete and this company has taken on an additional four miles on the eastern section involving the W. C. Arnett Co. contract from Allison Pass to Princeton.

Paving machines are laying half a mile of black top a day at each end.

More than three million dollars' worth of road building equipment is being used to push the road through.

This is the status of the vital highway job today from Hope eastward to Princeton.

Hope to Mile 20, complete with paving; down Mile 20 to 29, ready for paving; Mile 29 to Mile 38, un-ready for paving; Mile 51 to 83, Princeton, completed.

It's a magnificent highway we drove over yesterday, alternately over fine smooth 24-foot wide black-top, over gravel surface that would have been called a good road a few years ago, over truck trails that jolted us from one side of a truck to another, to gravelled road end, then to broad smooth black-top again.

Unsurpassed Beauty

Public Works Minister Carson led us through the rolling hills of the Princeton district to the mountain forest beauty of Manning Park, then over the mountain gouging nine-mile section that is still under construction; over more gravelled roads on the western slope leading through the forested hills toward Hope.

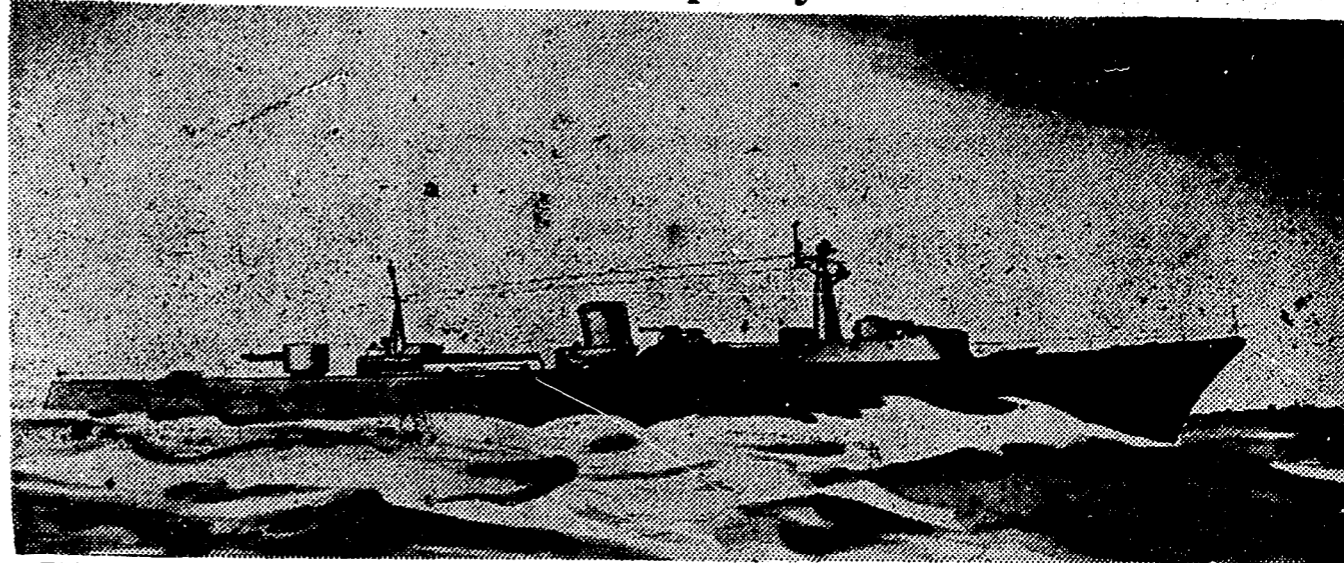

It was an experience this reporter will never forget.

After 23 years of reporting board of trade resolutions urging completion of the road I have seen it and its an accomplishment that will forever make British Columbia's name known for vision, for persistent accomplishment in the face of odds, and for one of the finest road-building jobs on the North American continent.

The beauty of it is something that will inspire poets.

Forested green hills reaching sky-wards, the magnificence of wild phlox and lupin splashing purple and blue against the green forest, the sunshine yellow of a

Canadian Vessel to Combat Speedy Submarines

This is an artist's conception of the anti-submarine escort vessel which is to be built in Canadian shipyards for the Royal Canadian Navy. Work has begun on the preparation of detailed working drawings of the hull structure for the first of three ships and it is hoped the first keels will be laid down late this year or early in 1950. The vessel has been designed primarily to combat the modern fast submarine and will be the first of its kind to be built anywhere.

daisy-like wild flower and the sturdy thrust of white wild rhubarb, all these beat time to a symphony of rich color. There's tragedy in the naked trees of the area whipped by a forest fire four years ago and beauty again in the 700-foot cliff view of river and mountain at Skagit Bluffs.

Great Gains to be Made
B.C. has a lot to learn from this road and a lot to gain for it will put Pentiction just six hours' easy drive from Vancouver with other Okanagan points equally close.

Over it will flow the product of farm and field, ripened on tree or vine, in the glorious Okanagan and delivered for Vancouver's breakfast table.

To the Okanagan will flow thousands of British Columbians who know nothing as yet of the great riches and greater promise of the interior and thousands of tourists seeking to know this grand corner of North America.

It is a magnificent road in a magnificent section of a magnificent province. It dominates everything that British Columbians can offer.

OPENS NEW INVESTMENT OFFICE IN PENTICTON
 Friends in Summerland of Mr. H. G. Nares will be interested to learn that he is no longer manager of the Penticton branch of Okanagan Investments Ltd., but will open a new office in the board of trade building, Penticton, known as Nares Investments. The new office will be opened on Monday, August 8, he states.

Reeve Johnston to Open New King-Pin Bowladrome Next Wednesday, Aug. 10

All ready for the active bowling season which will get into its full stride in another month is the renovated King-Pin Bowladrome, complete with its new, shiny face on Granville street in West Summerland district.

Under the management of the new owner, Mr. Abe Salloum, formerly of Kelowna, this sports centre has had a complete renovation and many new facilities for the benefit of customers are being installed.

Opening night is next Wednesday, August 10, when His Worship Reeve R. A. Johnston will roll the first bowl down the alley in the general direction of the five pins. His Worship did not want to be quoted but he is quite confident he will make a strike.

The front portion of the building has been re-arranged entirely and the old fixtures are all removed.

In their place, there is a new coffee bar, at which ice cream and soft drinks will be sold along with other counter confectionaries. New lockers have been installed, with enough room in each one for two pairs of shoes.

Tile is being laid over the entire entrance portion up to the alley approaches themselves.

Although the coffee bar is an addition, the front portion is so planned that there will actually be more room for the patrons to watch the games.

The toilet facilities have been moved to the west side where a narrow addition has been built.

Clean Up Powell Beach Bi-Weekly

Councillor Eric Tait reported to last week's council session that he has made arrangements with a Trout Creek resident to clean up Powell beach after the Wednesday and Sunday holidays. He expects that the beach will be much tidier now.

Mr. Frank Tilbe has consented to continue as caretaker of Peach Orchard park, where a number of trailer occupants have been camping this season.

Reeve R. A. Johnston declared that he had drawn the attention of B.C. Police Constable Thorsteinson to the damage which had been reported at Powell beach and closer supervision will be given this area.

This addition also contains a stairway leading to the upstairs portion of the building and the furnace and air conditioning unit which will keep the building at a suitable temperature.

Mr. Salloum intends to renovate the second storey into an apartment but will not make any move in this direction until the bowling alley itself has been completely renovated.

Outside, the red brick facing has been concealed with a facing of stucco and the former windows have been enclosed and a new doorway provided towards the east side.

When next Wednesday rolls around the King-Pin Bowladrome will be ready for an active season this fall and winter, Mr. Salloum declares.

Special Prizes
 For the opening week he is offering special prizes to men and women bowlers, high men's score to be a Ronson lighter and the women's prize to be a credit certificate for $15 worth of merchandise at the Linnea Style Shop.

Many local industries were engaged in the renovation of this building, the Graham Electric having charge of the electric wiring installation, and the Summerland Sheet Metal & Plumbing Works the installation of the furnace and air-conditioning unit, plus the moving of toilet facilities.

Most of the lumber and building requirements were purchased from the Tom Manning lumber yard.

Kirk Snyder of Kelowna was the contractor for the stucco and plastering work.

Red Sox Play Penticton Pirates in Finals Sunday

Summerland Red Sox advanced into the finals of the southern junior league playoffs this Sunday after two straight wins over Osoyoos in the league semi-final playoffs. They will face Penticton Pirates in the first of the two out of three series at the Living Memorial athletic park next Sunday.

Winner of this final series will meet the northern division winners for the interior junior championship.

Penticton Pirates proved the upset of the season when they trimmed Skaha Lake Chiefs, league division pennant holders, in two straight games. The first contest went to the Pirates by a 9-3 count and Pirates' hurler, Campbell, won his own ball game last Thursday evening when he smacked out a triple with the bases loaded to win the second game 7-4.

The Chiefs were considered a shoo-in but the Pirates, now under the coaching of Clare Baker, proved otherwise.

Last Sunday, with the thermometer hovering around 105 and no shade at Osoyoos, the Red Sox were out in front 17-4 at the end of the sixth frame. The game was called because of the heat and the one-sided score.

The Red Sox shoved across seven runs in the initial frame just to convince everybody they weren't fooling. With the count standing at 12-0, Osoyoos got to the Sox for three runs in the fourth and added another in the sixth when the game was called.

Eleven errors by Osoyoos players left them no chance to compete against the Sox, Kellerman going three innings and then giving way to Kelly.

Ernie Jomori went four innings and then was replaced by Alan Gould, who finished the contest, Mike Maier replacing Bob Weitzel behind the bat at the same time. Daryl Weitzel, Norman Holmes and Sandy Jomori were the big guns with the hickory, the former snaffling a double and a triple.

The Red Sox picked up ten bingles in the six innings while Osoyoos was limited to five hits.

Score by innings:

Red Sox	7	14	401-17

Profit on Capilano Training Visit $209

PENTICTON—The local parks board is $209.39 closer to having King's Park equipped with lights for night baseball as a result of the four-game exhibition series here in April which starred the Vancouver Capilanos baseball team.

Sponsored by the Branch No. 40, Canadian Legion, the series resulted in a profit of that amount, figures released by Secretary-Manager M. E. D. "Pete" Adams revealed.

"LOCAL" HAIL STORM AFFECTS NARAMATA AREA

PENTICTON—First hail storm of the season struck the Naramata district on July 23, affecting some 200 to 300 acres. It was purely a local storm and 150 acres were severely hit. Damage is computed as up to 15 percent of the apricot crop and some damage to apples, pears and peaches.

Merchants Take Allenby 15-2 Despite Heat

For three innings last Sunday Allenby put up a good ball game, but from then on the Summerland Merchants took over and when the last ball was thrown in the exhibition tilt at the athletic park under a blistering sun, they were out in front by a 15-2 count.

Coffey hurled for the first six frames, when he was relieved by Jackie Walsh who set down the visitors without a hit. Allenby collected five hits off Coffey and scored two runs but that was the end of their threat.

The Merchants were without the services of firstsacker John Vanderburgh and utility man Jackie Amm, but they weren't really needed as Day covered the initial sack and Sam Imayoshi played at short.

With the count 2-1 against them, the Merchants took command in the fourth when Taylor singled and was scored by Day's triple to the scoreboard. Brawner was safe at first on Paul's miscue, scoring Day and then Imayoshi collected another triple into left field to score Brawner and put the Merchants ahead 4-2.

Five runs in each of the fifth and sixth frames put the game on ice. A. Sidonia was the starting Allenby hurler but he was relieved in the fifth by C. Harman, who lasted until the start of the sixth when Tonks finished the game.

A meagre crowd braved the excessive heat to watch the contest and mainly stayed to the end to watch Jackie Walsh perform on the mound.

A. Moyls Captures Gold Button For July as Rifle Club Preps for Big Shoot

Arrangements are just about concluded for the annual interior rifle shoot, with the B.C. Dragons Challenge shield as the major prize, at the Garnet Valley range of the Summerland Rifle Club next Sunday, August 7.

This annual event brings crack shots from all parts of the interior, and teams are expected from Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton and many other centres. Visitors are being welcomed by the local club, as well as competitors.

Adrian Moyls copped the gold button for June rifle competition at the local range, his score of 100 on July 17 not being equalled by any other marksman. George Dunsdon won the silver button with 99 and Len Shannon too.

Mr. Moyls' score of a century out of a possible 105 is the highest mark made at Garnet Valley this season.

Len Shannon scored his bronze button mark last Sunday, July 31, in the weekly competition, when scores generally were in the high brackets. Doug Price and Herb Simpson both scored 96's and other scores were as follows:

Art Dunsdon 95, George Dunsdon, Fred Dunsdon and A. Moyls, 94, George Pennington and Jack Dunsdon 93, Phil Dunsdon 92, Ted Dunsdon 91, J. M. McArthur 87, D. Taylor and C. Lackey 86, C. V. Nesbitt 85, Mel Riha 84, Joe McLachlan 83, Pop Dunsdon 79, Bob French 72, W. C. W. Fosbery 71.

Swim Classes For Adults to Start Sunday

Don Johnston and Cece Wade, two of the leaders in the board of trade free swim classes, are offering their services to the general public to conduct adult swim classes on Wednesday evenings and Sunday mornings, if sufficient interest is forthcoming.

These classes will be open to any adults, over 16 years of age, who wish to learn to swim or better their present swimming ability. Those who are accomplished swimmers are not expected to take part in these classes.

The swim class heads feel that there are a number of persons who wish to learn more about water safety and, as they have qualified as competent instructors, are placing their knowledge and ability at the service of the general public.

The Family Shoe Store is taking registrations and the first class will be held next Sunday morning at 10.30 o'clock, according to an advertisement published in another column.

Post Office Gets Tough At Vernon

VERNON — Postal authorities are clamping down on the Vernon Elks lodge, which organization will only receive and be able to send mail if no more lottery tickets are sent through the mails.

Last week, Tom Jenner, chairman of the Elks Flag Day celebration on July 1 received notice from the post office department that the ban, imposed in June, has been lifted.

From early in June, Mr. Jenner had been denied use of the post office facilities. Vernon firms sending bills to the lodge had them returned undelivered. Some reached the dead letter office and were then mailed to the sender.

Personal mail also was banned to Mr. Jenner.

Climb Snow Mt. On Foot Sunday

A party consisting of Miss Valerie Tingley, Miss Marcia Harvey, Miss Mary Stewart, Miss Mildred Clark, Mr. Earle Wilson, and Mr. Wm. Snow made the trip to the summit of Snow Mountain on foot on Sunday. Leaving in the morning they stopped part way up to have lunch, and found that coming down took almost exactly half as much time as the upward trek.

Mr. Gardiner has about five hundred head on the range at present. Of these about one hundred and fifty are purebred registered Herefords.

MORE ABOUT JUDGMENT

Continued from Page 1 and in his opinion it was a case of two cars barely touching. He asked Mr. Sharman to reconsider his decision and reserve judgment until such time as other legal opinion on the evidence produced could be obtained by the local magistrate.

The damage to the Campbell car amounted to $101, while it was estimated that the cost of repairing a damaged fender on the Lawrence vehicle would be between $15 and $20.

Staff-Sergeant Halcrow, B.C. Police, Penticton, was the prosecutor and declared that "we are not blood thirsty but wish a conviction to protect the public".

The accused man is an Indian from the Vernon reserve, where he operates a commercial vegetable garden. He has five children, all under seven years of age, the court was informed.

"All Over The Road"

It had been stated by Mr. Lawler and Mrs. Samson that the light delivery truck they were following was "all over the road" and on several occasions oncoming traffic had to take to the gravel to avoid an accident. After they heard the striking of metal as the Campbell car passed the light delivery, it took three miles for Mr. Lawler to overtake and pass the truck.

It had no rear licence plate but the front plant was identified as No. C1-062.

Constable Thorsteinson intimated after the court session that another charge of failing to report an accident will be brought against Lawrence.

School Board Chairman Explains Standard Percentage Contract With Architect in Planning New School

Formal approval was given by the Summerland council at a special session Friday evening to the estimated expenditure, for bylaw purposes, of the proposed new junior-senior high school in Summerland.

As announced last week, the estimated expenditure will be $406,400 of which the provincial government will guarantee fifty per cent, with the school district raising the other half.

It was stated that considerable discussion had arisen over the architect's fee of $20,400. This is based on six per cent of the cost of construction of the building itself, namely $340,000.

Standard Contract
School Board Chairman C. J. Bleasdale told the council that this amount of six per cent is fixed by the architects' association and is approved by the department of education, which has produced a standard contract between architects and school boards.

This contract specifies that the architect will receive 1.5 per cent for original sketch plans prior to the passage of the bylaws which guarantee the raising of the necessary monies.

If, by chance, the bylaw fails to pass then the architect collects only one and a half per cent instead of the full amount of six per cent.

However, when the bylaws ratifying the issuance of the necessary debentures are approved, then the architect must proceed to prepare detailed plans and specifications and will guarantee to provide a minute inspection of the building progress on behalf of the school board.

Under this plan, there is no necessity for the board to hire a clerk of works or make any further expenditure towards supervising the actual construction.

Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith is starting to prepare the necessary bylaw for submission to the ratepayers, probably late in August.

Debentures will have a twenty-year life but the rate of interest has not been set as both the council and school board wish to obtain more information as to the rate which will probably raise closest to the full amount of principal required.

School Board Chairman Bleasdale assured the council that Architect W. K. Noppe has given a great deal of consideration to the estimates on this school building and believes that the actual contract price will not go over the figures prepared for bylaw purposes, and will probably be lower.

Car Turns Over South of Peachland

When the front wheel of his south-bound auto struck a rock by the side of the road, Alfred Kelm of Oliver lost control of his vehicle, with the result that it turned over on the highway and came to rest on its top, 1 1/2 miles south of Peachland about 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, August 3.

In the car were J. H. Mattes and A. E. Bauder, both of Oliver. None of the passengers was injured.

The car was towed in to Summerland by the B & B Body Shop wrecker. Minor adjustments were made and the trio proceeded on to their Oliver home. Most of the damage was done to the body of the car, the engine escaping any serious damage.

Post Office Office Turns Down Board of Trade Recent Requests

"The operation of two post offices with the same name would not be practicable," writes W. E. McLean, assistant district post office inspector, Vancouver, in reply to the Summerland Board of Trade request that the name of the West Summerland post office be changed to Summerland, and henceforth both offices operate under the same name.

Recently, the board of trade called a special meeting to discuss an executive recommendation to the postal authorities that the coast mail be dropped at the West Summerland station instead of being carried on to Pentiction, that both post offices here be named Summerland and that all incoming mail be sent to one post office for sorting purposes.

It is the board's contention that having two postal addresses in one municipality causes confusion and suggests two separate districts, whereas only one community is actually in existence.

This suggestion to the post office department in Vancouver was given approval by the municipal council.

Although Mr. McLean has stated that it would not be "practicable" to operate the two post offices under one name he continues: "If, however, it is the wish of the patrons of one of the offices that the name of their office be changed to avoid the present similarity, this would possibly be given consideration by the department.

"In such a case it would be necessary to establish beyond question that such a change was the desire of a large majority of the patrons. This majority of opinion could be indicated by a petition or other similar means."

It was not the board's desire merely to change one of the names, but to consolidate the workings of the two post offices so that delays now occurring when mail is addressed "Summerland" instead of "West Summerland" and vice versa would be eliminated.

In answer to the request that "all mail be sorted by one office and the necessary items be forwarded to the other office for delivery," Mr. McLean has the following to say:

"This would have the effect of slowing mail service to all patrons of one office in order that a number of wrongly addressed items might be intercepted. It would appear that such a change would not be in the best interest of the majority of patrons concerned."

Additional Expense
The third point taken up by the trade board asked that mail from Vancouver be dropped at the West Summerland railway station as a means of speeding service.

"At the present time," reminds Mr. McLean, "mail for Summerland and West Summerland is unloaded from the train at Pentiction and is delivered by mail stage to the two offices in question. This mail is received at the Summerland post office at 5:50 a.m. and at West Summerland at 6:00 a.m."

"The mail is, therefore, available for delivery at the two post offices as soon as they are opened to the public. An earlier receipt of mail would involve cost of extra mail service arrangements and could not possibly permit an earlier delivery to mail patrons of the office. No advantage can, therefore be seen in the change as suggested."

Finally, Mr. McLean gives the trade board another body blow when he declines to consider an earlier request for speedier service between the two post offices by providing additional courier service for items which have been wrongly addressed.

It had been pointed out by the trade board that a 24-hour delay occurs now when a letter is addressed to a person care of Summerland and should have been sent to the West Summerland post office.

"It is not thought that additional courier service between Summerland and West Summerland would be warranted for the purpose of preventing delay in incorrectly addressed items," Mr. McLean concludes. "It will be realized that it would be difficult to justify the expense of such additional mail service in view of the circumstances."

Lawrence is Fined $100; Hit and Run

After reserving judgment for a week, Magistrate H. Sharman announced in Summerland police court on Tuesday morning that he had found Joseph Lawrence, Vernon Indian, guilty of hit and run driving, having been involved in a scrape with a car driven by Eugene Campbell of Kamloops on Okanagan Highway No. 5 about six miles north of Summerland on July 10.

The accused man was fined $100 and $3 costs or in default one month in jail.

C. W. Morrow, K.C. of Vernon, who defended Lawrence, intimated in court last week that if the decision was guilty he was prepared to appeal the sentence.

E.C. Police Constable Thorsteinson states that a further charge of failing to report an accident will now be lodged against Lawrence.

It was stated in police court that a light delivery truck owned by Lawrence sideswiped the Campbell car and did not stop. The Campbell car was damaged to the extent of about $100 while subsequent examination of the Lawrence light delivery showed dents which would cost about $15 to repair.

Reeve Fails To Get Strike

Reeve R. A. Johnston tossed the first bowl at the renovated King-Pin Bowladrome last night and although he was certainly trying for a strike he took out the kingpin instead.

His Worship congratulated the new owner, Mr. Abe Salloum on his foresight in making the additions and alterations to the building and providing a coffee counter for soft drinks and ice cream, as well.

He also declared that if Mr. Salloum was prepared to give the bowling fraternity of Summerland good service then he would find that the patrons in turn would be co-operative with him.

There was a good-sized crowd in attendance throughout the evening and plans are now being made to institute league bowling early in the fall, probably next month.

Hard Surfacing Work Continues; Corners to Come off Garnet Valley

All the gravel for the Sandhill road hard surfacing is now in place and it is anticipated that if weather conditions are right most of the work of completing this portion of the municipal highway system will be completed this weekend.

All the roads in the West Summerland business district have been hard surfaced now. Although no report was given to the council on Tuesday, it is known that a mistake was made in the amount of oil used in the mix on the two easterly blocks on Granville street.

The indicator on the oil tank is said to have been faulty and before it could be checked the pre-mix for these two blocks had been prepared and put in place.

As a consequence, the centre portion was ripped up and more gravel mixed in and relaid. From an appearance standpoint this provides a "patchy" job but is considered to be substantial and will withstand the strain of traffic.

Laying of Granville street hard surfacing has been completed and the municipal road crew has been busily engaged in preparing the Sandhill and the road from the E.C. Shippers Ltd. corner to the highway north of West Summerland for hard surfacing.

On Tuesday the council agreed to the ripping up of the surfacing on the Station road from Darke's corner at Prairie Valley intersection to the Nesbitt Motors corner on Granville.

When this surface was laid two years ago it was in the nature of an experiment and only a thin layer of material was used over previous hardtop. It has not lasted and a complete new job will be undertaken. Cost of this portion of the road system is estimated at $1200.

Council gave Roads Supervisor D. M. Wright the go ahead signal on Tuesday for the cutting off of the corners on the Garnet Valley road. This work cannot be commenced until the irrigation water is shut off, about September 15, but Mr. Wright will make arrangements with the Interior Contracting Co. Ltd. for this job to be started as soon as possible.

Mr. Wright also explained details of three breakdowns which occurred on the oil laying truck transmission, just when the truck was needed most. An Interior Contracting oil spreader was rented for the time being.

The municipal oil truck is back on the job now, Mr. Wright declared, obviously crossing his fingers.

It was suggested that if further trouble is experienced with the seven-speed transmission that it should be scrapped for an ordinary truck four-speed transmission.

Float and Princess For Festival

Under the auspices of the Summerland Board of Trade, a float featuring E. H. Bennett's famous gladioli will be entered in the monster Pentiction and District Peach Festival parade on the first morning of the four-day festival, August 17, 18, 19 and 20.

Last year, the Summerland float won first prize for community floats and was awarded the shield donated by Okanagan Investments Ltd.

Also, in the procession and taking part in later festivities will be the Summerland board's Spring Fair Queen, Merle Heavysides, who will be Miss Summerland for the Peach Festival.

Under the guidance of Tom Manning and his tourist and publicity committee, the float is being prepared, ably assisted by Mr. Bennett and Miss Joan Bennett.

Princess Merle will be driven in the parade in a decorated car and will accompany the Summerland float.

The parade will start lining up at the corner of Fairview road and Main street in Pentiction at 8:30 o'clock next Wednesday morning, August 17. Judging will take place from 9 to 11 o'clock and then the mile-long affair will get underway.

Bumper to bumper the parade is expected to cover a mile in length and is being billed as one of the largest parades ever held in B.C. Nell McKerracher, festival manager, states.

Crowning of Queen
When the parade arrives at the festival grounds, the second annual Peach Queen, the festival's Queen Val-Vedette the Second, will be crowned, attended by her two

Will Prepare New Assessment Notices

Assessing of property in the municipality was the subject of a discussion between the municipal council and Municipal Assessor J. P. Sheeley on Thursday evening, August 4. As a result of this conference, it has been decided to revise the assessment notices to conform with the new exemptions of trees and buildings other than the main dwelling or fruit farms. This revision will tend to eliminate the confusion which arose over assessment notices last year, it is expected.

James Lake as Industrial Area Being Considered by Council; New Firm Wants Land

Possibility that the James lake area will be set aside as an industrial zone has been voiced by the municipal council. As soon as zoning regulations can be introduced it is expected that they will contain provision for this purpose.

Although this plan has been considered for some time, it is being precipitated by an inquiry from the Okanagan Equipment Co., Pentiction, which wishes to purchase a half acre or more in that area for the purpose of establishing an industry to manufacture sprinkler irrigation equipment and sprayers.

Industrial sites in this area are becoming quite scarce, the council indicated on Tuesday. However, the James lake area is quite suitable for the purpose and is in an Shown above is WACŁAW KOLTAN who gave his life last week in a third level explosion at the East Sullivan Mine at Val d'Or, Que., to save six fellow workers from a blast of 12 pounds of dynamite. After a fall of loose rock, he ran with the explosive some 16 feet but the detonation core his body to shreds. Koltan was one of the several hundred displaced persons who came to Canada recently. At the funeral services scores of his countrymen and co-workers from Poland were in attendance.

Busy Day for Merle Next Wednesday

Merle Heavysides, who was crowned queen of the 1949 Spring Fair on May 23, will be a busy girl next Wednesday, when she will represent Summerland as a princess in the Pentiction and District Peach Festival.

When the huge parade arrives at the festival grounds, she will be conducted to the crowning stand, where she will be introduced to the big crowd, expected to run into the thousands.

After the crowning of Queen Val-Vedette II, Princess Summerland will be one of the royal party guests at a luncheon, following which she will return to the grounds to witness the rodeo.

In the evening, she will be a guest at the two-hour grandstand show and then will attend the Queen's Ball. The princesses will form a guard of honor and act as ladies-in-waiting to the newly-crowned queen during the grand march and opening introductions.

Local Man in Greyhound Crash

Mr. H. J. Mott of Summerland was a passenger on the Greyhound bus which turned over three miles from Canoe yesterday afternoon.

The Greyhound bus swerved to avoid a car, hit a soft shoulder and toppled over the bank, dropping a distance of thirty feet. There were fourteen passengers and three are still in hospital suffering from cuts and bruises.

Mr. Mott received cuts about the head which required several stitches.

He was taken to the Salmon Arm hospital for treatment, but is expected to continue his journey to his home here today.

Cars Sideswipe On Prairie Valley

Cars driven by Jacob Geres and Lawrence Hookham sideswiped on the Prairie Valley road last night about 10:15 o'clock. Geres stated he was forced to pull out to miss some horses which were coming out of a sideroad. Considerable damage was done to the autos but none of the passengers was injured.

Geres did not carry liability insurance and his car was impounded by B.C. Police Constable I. G. Thorsteinson.

New 60,000 Power Line From South Expected to Be Connected Next Week

Early next week 60,000 kva power will be running along the new West Kootenay Power & Light Co. new lines from Pentiction to Summerland and will be cut down at the new substation in West Summerland for consumption throughout the municipality.

Mr. Doug McMynn, Pentiction manager for the power company, declared yesterday afternoon to The Review that he was not certain of the exact day when the new connections, would be made but he expected it would be early in the week.

Apart from the possibility of a short shutdown Sunday morning Mr. McMynn does not anticipate any further interruptions to electrical service in the municipality.

Having started at the Summerland end, all wire will be strung back to Pentiction by Friday, Mr. McMynn reports. There is only one large gully to cross before connecting at the Pentiction end, he states.

Tuesday morning saw the last of the regular interruptions of service. For two weeks the West Kootenay crews have been disconnecting the power setup at first light and then returning the power connections between 7 and 8 o'clock.

This has caused some inconvenience but was the best arrangement to disturb the least number of persons it was possible to make, it has been pointed out.

The past two Sundays the power was to have been off from early morning until 12 noon, but last Sunday it remained off until 3 o'clock with the result that many refrigeration units had extreme difficulty in saving the contents of their freezers after the eight-hour stretch was exceeded.

Crew of 42 at Work
However, with a crew of 42 gathered from Pentiction, Hedley, Oliver and Kelowna, the West Kootenay strung 42,000 feet of wire over a distance of 14,000 feet, which is considered an excellent accomplishment in that length of time.

The new substation on Giant's Head road nearly opposite the Fred Nixon residence, will be ready in a few days and will then be connected to receive the load over the new lines and distribute it in turn to the municipal electrical lines.

Three lines are needed to conduct the 60,000 kva service from Pentiction to Summerland, while under that there will be three more 4600 lines stretching from the West Summerland substation back to the experimental station and also as far south as the new plant pathology lab disease research station halfway to Pentiction.

The Dominion Experimental Station is served directly from this line, which belongs to the West Kootenay.

Also on this 4600 level are three municipal lines, taking service along Giant's Head road and down the Sandhill to feed the Trout Creek area. The ordinary 220 volt lines complete the picture of the mass of wires strung along the Giant's Head road.

With the introduction of 60,000 kva power right into the centre of the district the West Kootenay believes that it will be able to provide a more stable supply of power and will be able to cope with increasing power needs as the district grows.

This is only one part of a big expansion scheme which the West Kootenay has undertaken. Next

Prepare New School Bylaws By Next Week

As soon as a decision on the interest rate to be allowed on the proposed school debentures to raise $203,000 from School District No. 77 (Summerland) is reached both the municipal council and the school board will proceed at once with the presentation of the necessary bylaws to the inspector of municipalities and then the rate-payers of the district.

School District No. 15 is endeavoring to obtain advice on the probable rate which will result in the board being able to raise the full amount of the principal for the rural area, namely approximately $12,500.

Such advice is expected to be on hand for the next school board session on Monday, August 15.

The municipal council is planning a special meeting on Tuesday, August 16, to consider the municipality's bylaw covering its share of the expense in connection with the erection of the proposed junior-senior high school at a cost of about $406,000.

The provincial government's share will be fifty percent or $203,000, while the school district raises the balance by bylaw on the approval of the taxpayers.

Interest Rate

Most municipalities are allowing an interest rate of 3 1/2 percent on debenture issues of twenty years, the municipal council was informed by the inspector of municipalities, B. C. Bracewell. An investment firm at Vancouver has declared that some municipalities are offering 3 1/2 percent on the first ten years and 3 1/4 percent for the final ten years, in order to receive par or better bids for the bonds.

Whatever the rate structure decided upon, the municipality and the school board are prepared to pass the first readings of the by-law next week and submit them to Victoria. As soon as they receive governmental approval they can be reviewed and presented to the taxpayers.

step will be to build a 60,000 line south from Pentiction to Oliver. This work will commence as soon as the Summerland unit is operating satisfactorily, Mr. McMynn states.

Huge Kiwanis International Conference Detailed to Local Club

An insight into the operations of the huge Kiwanis International convention at Atlantic City, was given members of the Kiwanis Club of Summerland on Monday evening at the Nu-Way Annex by Mr. William Cooper, of Pentiction who was a delegate from the Pacific Northwest district.

A party of fifty attended this mammoth convention from this Kiwanis district, special coaches being assigned the party from Portland to Chicago, where they joined a complete Kiwanis train to complete the journey.

The convention was held in the largest convention hall in the world, the main assembly chamber being capable of seating 41,000. The entire building can house 70,000 and was built at a cost of $15 millions. It also contains the world's largest pipe organ, Mr. Cooper explained.

Attending the convention were 8,003 registered delegates while the total registration numbered 10,000.

"Aggressive leadership—our individual responsibility" was main convention theme, typifying the Kiwanis spirit while it was also stressed by speakers that "Kiwanis is a journey, not a destination," Mr. Cooper declared. A feature of the convention was the dramatization of the six main

Kiwanis objectives which were drawn up a quarter century ago and still remain as the principal stones in the Kiwanis cornerstone. Leaders from all parts of the United States formed the chief speakers at the convention, Mr. Cooper being particularly impressed with Dr. Fry, head of the Lutheran church of America, who spoke on "America's Inner Resources."

Among the resolutions was one which will ask the U.S. Congress to set aside one day per year as a Children's Day. Mr. Cooper believed that if this move is adopted a similar request will go before the Canadian Parliament.

Hugh Jackson, a professor of accounting at Stamford University, was chosen president of Kiwanis International, Mr. Cooper praising this leader highly as one of the best choices the convention could have made.

Mr. Garnett Peters, who knew Mr. Cooper for many years in Kamloops, introduced the speaker, who was thanked by the chairman, Vice-president Bill White. Among the Kiwanis club members planning on attending the district convention in Portland next month are J. E. Jenkinson, Rev. A. M. Meulenbergh, Mel Cousins and Jack Lawlor.

Choosing Cabinet Ministers

LOOKING over newspapers from various parts of the hinterland it would appear that there is a trend toward criticism of the Coalition government...

the district from which they come. We cannot agree with the oft-repeated contentions that any particular districts should be represented on the cabinet, just because there is a vast area which has not been recognized.

Origin of Dog Days Dates Back To Romans

When are dog days? The name was applied by ancient Greeks and Romans to the period between July 3 and August 11 when Sirius, the Dog Star, rises with the sun...

has come several times over the radio recently. To the effect that displaced persons, married couples either childless or whose children are old enough to go to school...

work is still extensive; and it's the hardest place of all to get modern hired help to go. Probably, what with high wages, compulsory education, the spread of electricity, and other evils, the households you read about where there is a cook, a butler, a gardener or two, and scads of valets, maids and footmen, have become a thing of the past.

Guests Leave Autograph In Plants and Shrubs

Our garden is the place where our visitors often leave their autograph. One has written in a long flowing script in the iris which he transplanted the August that he visited us, for in spring there is the colorful flowering, and throughout the summer the winding green border.

chair, and howls of laughter from the rest of the party. Of course there are plenty of other impressions throughout the house left by visitors. A friendly dog belonging to a great friend scratched at the back door every morning for ten days; not hungry, he just wanted the bits of toast that were his morning treat.

Pioneer Days

THIRTY YEARS AGO July 25, 1919

Fruit production in the Summerland district has long outgrown the storage facilities which have been provided. Directors of the Fruit Union are making application to the municipality for the purchase of several small lots between its building at the CPR wharf and the post office, and plan to build on them.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO July 24, 1924

As the western apple crop is below last year but the eastern crop is larger, sales of B.C. apples will depend largely on quality of production, especially to meet eastern competition on the Manitoba market.

Restoration of the freight rates as provided in the Crows' Nest agreement is having the effect of greatly increasing the handicap borne by B.C. fruit as compared with the product of eastern orchards.

Teen Town

Well, I told you not to believe last week's column about the beach party. So from now on I am going to play it safe and say that there will be a dance in the IOOF hall every week till the end of summer.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

This year's Scout camp, although attended by a small number of boys, proved very successful judging by various accounts. Owing to fourteen of the senior boys attending the Canadian Jamboree, only 12 of the younger boys went to Fish Lake.
It was impossible to camp as regular patrols and hence two acting patrol leaders were selected, Richard Blewett, and Bob Nelson, and the boys divided among these two patrols.
Throughout the camp competition was keen for patrol points for various activities with the result Bob Nelson's "Rats" won the Fat Nisbet trophy by a very small margin over Richard Blewett's "Skunks". Both patrol leaders and their patrols did an exceedingly good job of camping.
Physical facilities of the camp were much improved this year by the re-roofing of the cook-house cabin and the addition of a good cook stove and lunch table. The patrols cooked their own supper each day with the other two meals prepared in the cookhouse. The last three days we had "professional" cooking by Earl Inglis.
The weather man was much kinder to the Scouts this year than last, with rain confined only to three evenings and the first day of camp. Particularly fine weather was enjoyed on visitors' day when we had about 20 parents and friends, including District Commissioner Hatfield, to look over the campsite.
One of the highlights of the camp was the all day hike to Deer Lake.

Jug Collection Is Interesting
Mrs. Kenneth Hobson, sister of Mr. Tom Charity who, with her husband and daughter have been visiting at the Charity home for about a year from Sawyer Bridge, Yorkshire, brought an interesting and valuable collection of jugs with her.
Two of them are constructed to play tunes when they are wound, and the music stops when they are set down. One with Gracie Fields picture on the side, has a lamp post handle, and plays Sally In Our Alley. Another, which now belongs to Mr. Charity shows a hunting scene, has a handle resembling a fox and plays John Peel in lively way.
Another large jug depicts the Village Blacksmith, and there is Uncle Tom Cobbley in Royal Doulton pottery.
Unusual in shape in the Spode jug in pale blue design on white. The large tea cups with Yorkshire dialect printed on them are amusing and should do for the thirteenth day. It takes a Canadian awhile to decipher them, but at least "Nowt in thisin", was understandable.
Howard Clark's Jeep trail was followed, a return distance of 12.2 miles over some fairly steep country. At 5400 feet the mountain flowers were about at their best.
During the camp, Scouts Coggan and Jack Pohlman completed their second class badge tests. Scouts Klix, Coggan, Blewett, Higgs and Nelson also won their athletes badges. Most of the other boys who tried for this badge could complete requirements by some practicing of running and standing broad jump. Kim's Game and axmanship tests were also passed.
Most days a period of two hours was given over to boating and fishing on Fish Lake. However, only one fish was caught during the camp. Three camp fires were held with some particularly good skits presented on the final evening. The boys participated in a "Scouts own" church service on Sunday.
The thanks of the troop are extended to Mr. L. A. Smith and Mr. B. A. Sladen who supplied groceries and meat at wholesale Also to Mr. Joe McLachlan who supplied tomatoes and cucumbers and to all others who helped in various ways. —D. V. Fisher.

CATERING TO THE TOURISTS
West Summerland, B.C.
Aug. 8, 1949
Editor, The Review:
You mentioned in your paper last week, that "Penticton had beaten Summerland to the draw" by erecting a fresh fruit stand. We might say we have tried selling fresh fruit but as it is so perishable a person can lose more than he sells. Apart from this stand, however, I do not think Penticton can touch Summerland for attracting tourists.
You also say "Summerland has never made much of an effort to attract tourists." We would like to say "if everyone had made as much of an effort to help tourists as we have done they would not say this."
We stay open until 11 o'clock at night to service their cars and serve them light lunches. We have also been called out of bed at night and early in the morning to help them out. We have had rest rooms put in for their benefit. We sell quite a number of souvenirs and pennants so the name of Summerland is carried north, south, east and west.
A great many tourists have Chevron credit cards. We might add that we have had quite a number of distinguished visitors such as Claudette Colbert, movie actress; Skid Martin, Britain's International stunt motorist; Joe Kirkwood, known as Joe Palooka, famous golfer. They all say "what a lovely place this is"—and they will certainly be back.
Today tourists and travellers know they can always come to us and get gas, etc. on holidays, Sundays and evenings, the times when there are more people on the roads and fewer stations open to service them. We have directed these people to Fish Lake and local tourists camps and shown them around.
We feel quite proud of the fact that our name is so well known to travellers and tourists from Vancouver to the Kootenays and across the line. We have had letters of thanks and appreciation from California, Arizona and Washington.
We feel sure that the board of trade would not permit—should the time ever come—a local by-law to be put through to stop our earnest effort to attract and serve these people.
As we told the council this spring, when the early closing of gas stations was mentioned, that if it ever happened we would ask for 24-hour service. This was done so as to retain our good reputation with the public and tourists.
In ending I would like to add, our Editor is right when he says we need more tourist cabins and hotel facilities.
Thanking you for your valuable space and time.
Yours sincerely,
L. A. SMITH.

RECEIVED STOLEN GOODS IS FINED
KELOWNA—Arthur Schramm, Glenmore grocer, was sentenced to one day's imprisonment and fined $200 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving goods stolen from the Summerland Groceria last August.
Sentence was passed Friday, July 29, in city police court by Acting Police Magistrate G. A. McKay.
Police said goods valued at more than $100 were sold to Schramm by members of the six-man gang who recently were sentenced to various jail terms for the Summerland break-in.

Penticton princesses and eight district princesses, including Princess Summerland, Miss Merle Heavy-Sides.

At 2 o'clock each day the rodeo will commence featuring Herman Linder, world famous rodeo man. Prize money totals $4,360, plus entrance fees, which will swell the total to nearly $6,000. Stock being used is the famous Joe Kelsey stock from Tonasket, Wash., including Brahma bulls.

Each evening, there is a two-hour grandstand show featuring top-ranking entertainers from all over North America. There will be the Rolling Triangles with their roller skating act; the Great Romero, standing on his head on a swaying pole 90 feet above the ground; the three D's doing a bar act which would make monkeys hide in shame, according to advance publicity.

Two shows of stunt flying will be staged on the afternoons of August 18 and 19 by the Chilliwack Flying Club. Tree-ripened peaches will be given away throughout the show.

Mrs. Charles Hill Dies at Coast

The death of Mrs. Chas. Hill of West Vancouver occurred suddenly during the night of August 7.

Her daughter Miss Phyllis Hill flew to Vancouver on the Monday afternoon plane from Penticton. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jack Hill who had been visiting Miss Hill returned by train Monday evening.

About twenty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hill were employed at the Summerland hospital for several years. Following that, Mr. Hill was engineer at the Summerland Box Co. About six years ago the Hills moved to the coast to make their home.

The late Mrs. Hill is survived by her husband, her daughter, Phyllis of the Okanagan Telephone Co. staff, and one son, Jack.

and an opportunity to express peaches prepaid to friends will be given.

In the Legion hall, the Okanagan Stamp club is staging a huge stamp display featuring $40,000 worth of stamps. Crescent Shows will be in attendance.

As the slogan says: "Peach of a Time in '49'."

Council Sends 4 to Victoria

Reeve R. A. Johnston and Councillors F. E. Atkinson, C. E. Bentley and H. L. Wilson will form the Summerland delegation to the annual Union of B.C. Municipalities convention at the Empress hotel, Victoria, on September 7, 8 and 9.

The local group will travel by CPR train from Summerland the night of Sept. 6, flying across from Vancouver to Victoria in time to attend the opening afternoon sessions.

Councillors C. E. Bentley and H. L. Wilson will be Summerland delegates to the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Municipal Assn. to be held in Kelowna on Wednesday, August 24. Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith will likely take in this conference, as well.

Wants Concession At Powell Beach

Ernest Yahnke, RR Summerland, requested a concession from the council on Tuesday for a hot dog and soft drink stand at Powell Beach. He also suggested that the beach should be served with domestic water and a proper ball park installed. The council decided that at this late date in the season no concession should be granted, but referred the request to Councillor E. M. Tait, parks chairman.

Takes Exception to Request that Front Of Dam be Ditched

Crescent dam will be opened later this month as there will not be sufficient water in Thirst dam to carry on for the balance of the irrigation season, Water Foreman E. Kercher reported to the council on Tuesday.

On July 31, the level was at the 45-foot mark and was dropping six inches daily.

Canyon creek dam is not quite empty but will probably run out about August 20. The gate is only open four inches.

Mr. Kercher accompanied a water rights branch engineer, Mr. Kerr to Trout Creek headwaters on July 28 to investigate the four municipal dams. Mr. Kerr's recommendations, written on their return, called for cleaning out and digging a ditch in front of No. 3 dam to release seepage water there.

To this suggestion, Mr. Kercher took emphatic exception.

"I'll never do it," he declared, pointing out that digging in front of a dam is dangerous and tends to weaken the structure considerably. He could see no reason for draining off the seepage water and the council agreed with him.

The engineer's suggestion that the freeboard on No. 2 dam be raised from 1½ feet to the minimum of 2 feet will probably be undertaken this fall, although Mr. Kercher pointed out that No. 2 dam is one of the oldest in the system and this is the first time

Mrs. Charles Harvey Is Honored Guest

A pleasant afternoon was spent on Thursday, July 28, at the home of Mrs. Geo. Woitte, when members of the Lakeside W.M.S., neighbors and friends gathered for a tea to honor Mrs. Chas. Harvey who, with her husband, expects to leave Summerland at the end of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are moving to Baraboo, Wis., where they intend to make their future home.

There were eighteen ladies present and Mrs. J. C. Robson made a speech of appreciation of Mrs. Harvey's help in the society, presenting her with a photograph done by Mr. T. P. Thornber. It represented a scene showing the wharf, one which is very familiar to the recipient and will serve as a pleasant remembrance of Summerland and her friends here.

Mrs. Harvey expressed her gratitude for this thoughtful gift and a delicious tea was served.

GOES TO BEAUTY CONTEST

VERNON—Miss Florence Shannon will represent the North Okanagan in the PNE beauty contest in Vancouver, August 24 to 29.

that any exception has been taken to the freeboard.

Legion Wants New Building

President Ross McLachlan was authorized last night at the monthly meeting of the Summerland branch, Canadian Legion, to appoint a committee which will investigate all phases of a building program.

It is felt by many members that facilities at present provided in the Legion hall are not sufficient and there have been many who have advocated a new building entirely.

This committee, when appointed, will look into all aspects of the new building, bringing in recommendations as to the probable size which would meet Legion needs and also probable methods of financing the project.

Legion members also voted in favor of a provincial command resolution urging the retention of rental controls as a safeguard to veterans who are still without adequate housing. They also endorsed an executive suggestion that the small Legion library be donated to the Okanagan Union Library.

Beautiful Roses in Profusion At Morphy-Inglis Wedding

Although June is the traditional month of roses the August wedding of Miss Eileen Sadie Inglis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Inglis of Summerland, and Mr. Orville Andrew Morphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morphy, Saltcoats, Sask., had beautiful roses from the gardens of Mrs. H. G. Fisher and that of Mr and Mrs Lee-Grayson. They were used to decorate the Lakeside United church for the ceremony on Monday afternoon, August 8, at two o'clock when Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiated, and at the reception at five o'clock in the Oddfellows' hall.

Guest pews were marked with white bows and roses, and pink roses, gladioli and fern in quantities outlined the altar.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and her filmy embroidered organza wedding dress had a net yoke and long sleeves. She wore a floor-length net veil which had been worn by her aunt, Mrs. A. J. Vickers at her wedding, and which was held in place by a net headdress trimmed with pearls and small sprays of orange blossoms.

For "something old and something blue" she wore blue embroidered garters worn by her grandmother on her wedding-day.

"Something new" was the four-strand pearl necklace and matching bracelet with diamond clasps, gift of the groom.

Attending as bridesmaid was Miss Norma Inglis of Vancouver, cousin of the bride, gowned in a floor-length moire taffeta gown in a lovely shade of pink with pink petal headdress and shoulder veil. She carried pink and white carnations.

The small fair-haired flower girl, Georgina Inglis, niece of the bride, was very sweet in her long valley blue organza frock, matching shoulder veil encircled with tiny blue flowers.

The groom was attended by Mr. Earl Inglis, brother of the bride, and Mr. H. Pohlman, Summerland, and Mr. Garnet Paton, Penticton, cousin of the groom were ushers.

The bridesmaid was given gold ear-rings, the best man a wallet, the flower girl a locket, the vocalists necklaces and the ushers gold tie-clips.

Mr. T. P. Thornber was organist playing traditional wedding music. While the register was being signed Misses Shirley and Joyce Schumann, nieces of the bride sang "I Love You Truly" as a duet.

A reception for the seventy guests followed in the Oddfellows' hall, West Summerland, where Mr. and Mrs. Inglis and the bridal party were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Morphy, mother of the groom. Mrs. Inglis was gowned in floral jersey with black hat with flowers, black accessories and cor in the Oddfellows' hall.

chase jersey, also, flowered in shades of wine and mauve, black off-the-face hat, and corsage of rosebuds.

Pink and white streamers festooned the bride's table and were caught up with clusters of pink roses. The three-tier wedding cake was embedded in pink roses, and the guest tables were decorated with low bowls of roses and maiden hair fern.

The cake was cut by the bride and groom with a naval officer's dress dagger, brought from Germany during World War II, by the groom.

Dr. F. W. Andrew proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded. The toast to the bridesmaid was given by Mr. F. W. Schumann and a reply by the best man. Mrs. F. W. Andrew gave a toast to the bride's mother, to which Mr. G. H. Inglis replied.

Wires of congratulations were read by Mr. H. Pohlmann from Mr. J. S. Morphy, Mr. A. J. Vickers, Mr. Gordon Morphy, and Miss A. Lielhauser, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Morphy and Miss Merle Partridge, all of Saltcoats, Sask.; Mr. H. C. Barber, Sutherland, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Henry, Edmonton, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schimpf, Leader, Sask.

A recording of the ceremony made by Mr. E. J. Matthon was played.

Mr. and Mrs. Morphy left by bus for Kelowna to enroute for Edmonton and Saltcoats, Sask., for their honeymoon. For travelling the bride wore a becoming suit of rock beige gabardine, topcoat and accessories of forest green, and corsage of roses. They will make their home at Sutherland, Sask.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. S. Morphy, mother of the groom, Mrs. A. J. Vickers, Saltcoats, Sask.; Mrs. H. C. Barber and daughter, Donna and Miss Donna Paton, Sutherland, Sask.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Inglis, Miss Norma Inglis, Vancouver.

VISITING ABROAD

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bedford left on Monday to spend a holiday at Banff.

Miss Jill Sanborn accompanied her cousins Miss Rhona Crossley and Miss Louise Haar when they returned to their homes at the coast and will visit them in Vancouver.

Mrs. D. Weiss was a weekend visitor at Vancouver.

Mr. Charlie Rennie is spending his vacation on Vancouver Island leaving last Saturday by train.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Perry are in Vancouver for a short holiday.

Mrs. J. F. O'Leary is holidaying at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Halquist flew to Toronto and back last week on a business trip.

Leaving by car on Saturday morning for a ten-day motor trip to Calgary, Edmonton and Jasper were Mrs. Dale, Mrs. B. A. Tingley and Miss Ruth Dale. At Revelstoke they were joined by Miss May Bateman of Vancouver who is accompanying them on the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McKenzie, who have been holidaying for two weeks at Pitt Meadows, are expected home on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Braddick are visiting friends in Revelstoke this week and are expected home today.

Mr. and Mrs. James Muirhead left last weekend for the coast where they will spend most of their summer holidays.

Twilight Hour at Park to Continue

The first Sunday Evening Twilight Hour held in the Living Memorial park-playground on August 7 was considered very successful.

The grass was quite wet, and the weather had been unsettled all afternoon, but there were about 130 in attendance.

It is intended to continue the services every Sunday evening during the summer.

Three Hostesses Arrange Shower

Three hostesses combined to arrange a large miscellaneous shower for Miss Eileen Inglis last Friday evening, Aug. 5. They were Mrs. J. Van Gameron, Mrs. Fred Gale and Mrs. J. Sowerbutt.

The affair was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Inglis, and was a complete surprise to the bride-elect who came home to find the many joy upon of poiquesse spon's happiness in her marriage.

A pastel-colored fan-shaped arrangement of crepe paper was made on the wall behind a decorated chair in which the guest of honor sat to open the large array of beautiful and useful gifts, presented to her by little Deanna Barbor, of Saltcoats, Sask., cousin of the groom.

When all the parcels were opened delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Miss Louise Gale.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Jack Morphy, mother of the groom, Mrs. A. J. Vickers, the bride's aunt, both of Saltcoats, Sask.; Mrs. Frank Barbor, aunt of the groom and her daughter, Deanna, Sutherland, Sask.; Mrs. Wm. Inglis and Miss Norma Inglis, aunt and cousin of the bride, Vancouver.

HOME AGAIN

Mr. W. C. W. Fosbery has received word that his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Fry and their small daughter, Joan, arrived at their home in Kamloops Tuesday evening after a six weeks' trip to England by air.

Home again is Mrs. Ella Pohlmann, who flew in from Regina last Friday, to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Edith E. Garratt, who is suffering a broken hip. While here she is staying at her daughter's, Mrs. Allan McCargar.

VISITING HERE

Mrs. Thomas Jupp, wife of Rev. Thomas Jupp, rector at Churchdown, Gloucester, is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Birch until Friday of this week. Mrs. Jupp was a former Anglican missionary to the west coast Indians.

Miss Iris Hird of Vancouver was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Elsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheer and their three children of Vancouver visited Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fredrickson last week.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Brawner enjoyed a visit last week from Mrs. Brawner's niece, her husband and son, Mr. and Mrs. Gramm and Jerry who motored north from Hollywood.

Winnipeg visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rutherford last week were Mrs. Ferguson and her daughter, Mrs. Ashton and small son who were on their way to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Rippin and their children of Vernon are spending a two weeks' holiday in the Dodwell cottage at Crescent Beach.

Tom Graham and his friend Hugh Barton of Salmon Arm spent part of last week camping at Crescent Beach and visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Russel and other friends. They left by bus on Monday morning for Kelowna and bicycled home from that point.

Miss Joyce Elsey who has been attending summer school at Victoria is spending the remainder of the holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Elsey before returning to teach at the McLeese school in the Cariboo.

Miss Tomi Kubokawa had a visit last week from two girls travelling from Toronto to Victoria on holiday, Miss Finx Shimizu and Miss Betty Hasegawa. Miss Shimizu and Miss Kubokawa had corresponded for twelve years but had not met before. They were delighted to have the Pen Pal friendship develop into a real meeting which was greatly enjoyed by both of them.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Clark and her daughters, Shirley and Joanne of Salem, Oregon, came on Saturday and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harvey until the end of this week. Mrs. Clark is a sister of Mrs. Harvey.

Mrs. Jack Hill who has been the guest of her sister-in-law, Miss Phyllis Hill, returned to the coast on Monday night's train.

Mr. Percy Sims of Cranbrook whose marriage to Miss Marion Harvey took place on Wednesday, arrived by plane at Penticton on Saturday, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Bob Cameron of Kimberley. They were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harvey.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Duncan of Vancouver are spending a week holidaying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Evans after motoring for part of their vacation on Vancouver Island and making a stop at Qualicum Beach.

Miss Eileen Jacques of Edmonton has come to live here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wells, and is employed at the local telephone exchange.

Mr. John Bernhardt of London, Ont., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernhardt and his brother, Charles Bernhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Calder motored here from their home in Vancouver by way of Seattle, to stay about a week at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. K. McIntosh.

Recently visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Inaba who are now residents of Penticton, were Mrs. Massy Nitta with her sons, Gary and Kenneth of Toronto, who for the past one month have been visiting her mother and family in Kelowna. They intend to stay till the end of the month.

Miss Mary Peters Is Shower Hostess

Miss Mary Peters was hostess at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Peters at a shower given in honor of Miss Marion Harvey whose marriage to Mr. Percy Sims took place this week.

Guests of honor were Mrs. Sinclair and Mrs. Clark of Oregon, aunts of the bride-elect.

Gifts were wheeled into the room in a miniature ore car, symbolic of the occupation of the groom, who is employed at Kimberley mine. Games were played during the evening at the close of which, dainty refreshments were served.

Those present included Mrs. C. F. Harvey, Misses Eunice and Shirley Harvey, Misses Shirley and Joanne Clark, Miss Joan Bennett, Miss Yuriko Jomori, Miss Joyce Elsey, Miss Marcia Harvey and Miss Valerie Tingley.

New Pentecostal Church Ready Soon

The work of building the new Summerland Pentecostal church in the Schindel subdivision is progressing well, and as soon as the basement is completed services will be held there.

The pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Preston have moved into a small house next to the new church site.

The congregation is steadily increasing and had about 75 in attendance on Sunday in the Oddfellows' hall.

CBC Belongs to People of Canada Declares Ken Caple

PENTICTON—"It's your organization—it belongs to the people of Canada."

Such was the description of the CBC given to a Rotary luncheon audience by Kenneth Caple, of Vancouver, regional director for western Canada, and formerly principal of the Summerland high school.

"It is not governmentally owned or controlled, and it is not a government organization," the speaker emphasized, "but it is responsible to parliament and therefore to you all."

Mr. Caple traced the background of the CBC. He pointed out that the necessity for some control is obvious. There are only so many air channels available and without a system of organization the result would be chaos and the ruin of all listening.

Canada, he continued, had tried to devise a system that was flexible, permitting private interests catering to local needs, and yet also providing for the complex desires of "a country 4,000 in length and yet only a strip about 300 miles wide."

Commercial interests would not be expected to cater to out-of-the-way settlements, it was suggested. The CBC does this. It aims at greater variety of programs than could arise from the mass-appeal of purely advertising-supported programs. The CBC strives for the creation of unity throughout the Dominion, making each part of the nation aware of the others. And it does a great deal to resist the pressure from United States stations.

But radio in Canada "is definitely not controlled by the government of the day." It is directed by a board that is a free and independent body, reporting at least once a year to parliament itself. There is no straight grant from the government. The only revenue is from the fees of the radio owners, and from commercial programs.

Mr. Caple discussed private stations affiliated with the CBC, explaining that if they wanted to come in, they were obliged to carry certain programs. But line charges, met by the CBC, are heavy, and there cannot be as widespread programs as everyone might wish.

The speaker showed enthusiasm, however, for "Canadian programs". Canadian talent, he stressed, had won its way "to the very top" in continent-wide competition, "and has definitely proven itself." The CBC, he suggested, had had the fundamental part in aiding this development.

He predicted that, in the reasonably near future, station CBR at Vancouver would be increased in strength so as to bring more listeners within its scope.

Japanese Girl On Way To Hollywood

KAMLOOPS—Frances Kato, who won the B.C. Round-Up queen title, left recently for her four-day holiday in Hollywood. The trip is the prize for winning the contest. In addition Miss Kato was also outfitted by the Round-Up committee, receiving four complete ensembles.

Accompanying Miss Kato as chaperone is Miss Gloria Weixl who was second in the contest. Miss Weixl's trip was made possible when the Japanese Canadian Citizenship Association, sponsors of Miss Kato in the contest, asked that Miss Weixl accompany the winner. They felt that Miss Weixl also deserved the trip and offered to pay one-third of her expenses. The balance of Miss Weixl's expenses are being paid by the Round-Up committee.

2070 Miles of Material Used

More than 2070 miles of material were made into garments by Red Cross sewers in British Columbia from October, 1939 to December, 1949. This and other interesting figures were revealed recently by the manager of the Red Cross warehouse at provincial headquarters in Vancouver.

Of the 2070 miles of material, 466 miles were flannel and 461 miles gauze. Other materials were: 388,068 spools of thread, 18 1/2 tons of absorbent and non-absorbent cotton, for dressings and quilts; 7 tons of cotton warp were

Hell Drivers Attract 1,000 To See Thrills and Spills

Nearly one thousand district residents thrilled to the daring and split-second driving of Satan's Hell Drivers of Hollywood, Cal., who staged a two-hour show at the Living Memorial athletic park, sponsored by the newly-formed Kiwanis Club of Summerland.

Cars of standard make, such as are driven on the highways every day and motorcycles were used by the daring drivers and driven through a series of stunts which called for precision and a complete lack of nerves.

One of the highlights was the performance of Chuck "Turdle" Thorsen who drove his car up a ramp at high speed and deliberately tipped it over the end to make it roll end over end and land on its wheels again.

This was the first occasion that Chuck Thorsen had performed this trick before an audience and he was given a big hand.

Cheston Tarver opened the show with his "slide for life", through fifty feet of burning gasoline, plunging with a roaring automobile.

An excellent performance of precision motor driving, one-handed was given by the boss of the show, Freddy "Satan" LaMont and then came Johnny "McGee" Smith, daring motorcycle rider who leaped his motorbike from ramp to ramp over a twenty-five foot gap and then proceeded to repeat the stunt, only he was blinded by a hoop of flame.

Chuck Thorsen came back to set himself on the bonnet of a speeding car which crashed through a plank wall saturated with gasoline and blazing merrily.

"Iron Man" stunt, which consisted of a car being driven over his chest was performed by "Curly" Brock, who also drove his car through two tons of solid ice placed conveniently in his way. Hurling Fifty Feet

Final number was the sensational dive-bomber crash in which Cheston Tarver drove his speeding auto off the end of a ramp to hurl itself fifty feet into two old car bodies, which cushioned the shock. It probably didn't need as much precision as some of the other stunts, but all agreed that it required plenty of nerve.

Another feature which captured the imagination of the big crowd brought "McGee" Smith and his motorcycle into play again. From one end he sped his motorbike toknitted into garments of all kinds; 1 1/2 tons of glazed twine were used for minesweeper mitts; 2 1/2 million labels were used in shipping the material and the finished garments.

wards one ramp and two parallel cars roared towards the opposite ramp. The cars were rocked on the edge of the ramp and Smith went sailing through between.

Roger Dahl was the announcer for the show and made a capable job of keeping the audience acquainted with all the facts of the performances.

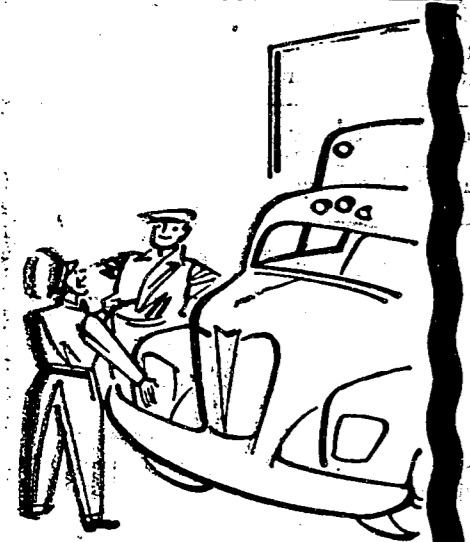

Hobo and Bobo were the two clowns, complete with a model T car fitted with every possible gadget. They kept the stands amused with their antics between acts.

Announcer Dahl did not "spare the horses" when he mocked the people who gathered in orchards and trees surrounding the park and gazed down on the show without having to pay any admission price.

The Kiwanis club share of the proceeds will go towards youth development work in the community.

New Blemish, "Inkspot", Showing On Moorparks Here This Season

As of August 3, the latest horticultural news letter from the provincial agricultural department reports for the Summerland, Peachland and Westbank area that apricot picking peak has been reached.

"Quality of Moorparks had been spoiled to some extent by rain cracks," the report continues, "and a good deal of 'Inkspot'. The cause of this blemish which appears on Moorparks this year is not definitely known and the matter is under investigation by the staff of the plant pathology laboratory.

"This blemish is not the coryneum blight so prevalent last season, of which there seems to be relatively little this year.

"Early peaches are maturing but it will be a week or more before Rochesters are ready in quantity. Bartlett pears are sizing rapidly and should start rolling within ten days.

"The crop prospects for this variety have improved considerably. The apple crop continues to size exceptionally well. Growers have reported satisfaction with chemical thinning sprays applied to apples.

"Pests and diseases are not too troublesome at the moment. However, woolly apple aphid is becoming more serious in many orchards.

The Jonathan variety is particularly badly affected. Fire blight, which was more prevalent than for many years, has finally checked its pace and appears to be drying up in most orchards."

More Pacific Mite
Bartlett pears are starting to roll from Keremeos district, while picking of that variety in the Pentiction district is starting now. Pentiction area is also reporting a general increase in Pacific mite, with European red mite tailing off.

From the Oliver-Osoyoos area, come reports of winter injury to apricots, Elberta peaches and, to a lesser extent, the V peaches. A considerable drop has occurred on these varieties. That area is well into Rochester picking. The first picking showed good sizing but later pickings have been smaller.

Pear picking in the extreme south is in full swing and some V peaches have started to roll.

From the north, Kelowna reports that orchards, on the whole, appear to be in excellent condition, particularly the apple crop.

Kelowna Captures BCD Shield As Fifty Marksmen Compete For Rifle Club Honors Here

Under adverse weather conditions, 50 marksmen from Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna and Summerland gathered at the local Garnet Valley rifle range on Sunday, August 7, to compete for the B.C. Dragons shield and other prizes.

Kelowna No. 1 team captured the shield, which Summerland has held for the past three years, with a total of 471 points.

Summerland No. 1 was not far behind with a total of 460 points. Shooting ceased for more than an hour due to heavy rain but continued under a drizzle to complete the match.

very good on the 200 and 500 yard ranges but took a bad drop on the 600 yard range due to poor visibility.

W. Franko of Kelowna captured the high aggregate for the day with a score of 98, earning him the new Dunsdon challenge shield donated by veteran H. "Pop" Dunsdon and boys. R. Weeks was second with 97, G. M. Dunsdon third with 97, and W. W. Ryan fourth with 96.

At 200 yards, J. Khalembach had the best 34 out of 35 to take the honors. Others with 34 were G. Hill, Kelowna, second, Ed Gould, third, and A. R. Dunsdon, Summerland, fourth.

At 500 yards W. W. Ryan of Vernon, P. S. Dunsdon and F. W. Dunsdon were tied with 34 for top honors, which necessitated a shoot off. F. S. Dunsdon emerged the winner, with W. W. Ryan second and F. W. Dunsdon third. Doug Price of Summerland was fourth, also scoring a 34.

At 600 yards, it was a different story, as shooting was very difficult especially for the first two squads and scores took a drop. However, when it was all over W. Franko of Kelowna came out on top with a 33 with R. Weeks of Kelowna second, P. S. Dunsdon third and S. Peters of Vernon, fourth.

Youngest competitor for the day was 14-year-old J. Marcy of Kamloops who made a very creditable showing considering he was using battle sights on his rifle.

During the day, the wives of the local club members supplied hot coffee, sandwiches and pie which were greatly appreciated by visitors and locals alike. A hearty vote of thanks to the ladies was given by visiting shooters for the excellent hospitality.

On August 28, the local members go to Kelowna to take part in the Gibbey-Spey trophy match and are quite confident they can bring back this trophy to Summerland.

Among the visitors last Sunday were six interested Penticton spectators who evinced keen interest in the shoot and announced they are endeavoring to start a rifle club in that city.

Princeton One Game Up on Kamloops CYO

Kamloops CYO, northern division champs of the Interior Baseball league were beaten 3-0 by Princeton, southern division titleholders, at Princeton last Sunday. Princeton plays the second game at Kamloops this Sunday.

Kamloops CYO won the northern division championship of the Interior Baseball league when they whipped the Revelstoke Spikes 5-3 in a sudden-death fixture at the northern railroad city. Kamloops now plays Princeton for the Interior league title.

Kamloops obtained 10 hits, including three doubles off Pratico and Fleming while Prehaha for Kamloops held the Spikes to six hits. Three double plays by Kamloops killed the Revelstoke chances, just the same as Princeton downed Summerland Merchants' hopes in their sudden-death fixture.

The Kamloops CYO-Princeton series will be two out of three games.

In the junior northern division, Kamloops CYO juniors blasted Leland Athletic club, also of Kamloops, 20-4 in the first game of the playoffs.

They went on to win the second game and the series 3-1 and will now play the Summerland Red Sox-Penticton Pirates series winner.

Kamloops CYO Juniors claim they are 1948 B.C. junior champs and are making arrangements to play in the western Canada championships at Winnipeg later this month.

NO REBATE ALLOWED

Mrs. O. E. James' application for a rebate on a portion of the domestic water charge for the three months ending June 30, because of poor service during the "hot weather" was turned down by municipal council recently. The council considering that there had not been sufficient hot weather to create any serious problem.

Red Sox Five Run Rally In Seventh Wins Initial Game of Junior Finals

Penticton Pirates threw away the first game of their final playoff series for the South Okanagan junior championship last Sunday afternoon at the Living Memorial athletic park when they handed the Red Sox five runs in the seventh frame and went down to defeat by an 8-6 count.

Second in this series will be played at Penticton's King's park next Sunday and it is anticipated that half the crowd will probably be rabid Summerland fans of the popular Red Sox.

Hero of Sunday's ball game was young Daryl Weitzel who poled out a triple with two on board to start the rally in the seventh which meant the Red Sox victory. But the Pirates catcher and first-sacker were as much responsible for the Sox triumph, through their errors.

It was a game replete with thrills but it also was sloppy ball, due to showers which interrupted play on two occasions and caused the ball to be almost unmanageable at times.

This wet weather also was responsible for Campbell's lack of control, the Penticton hurler weakening badly towards the latter stages. Passed balls were the order of the day and, when mixed with wild pitches, caused a lot of unearned runs.

The Red Sox took an early lead when Jack Dunham drew a walk and was scored on Fred Kato's Texas leaguer over second base. Kato ran Bob Weitzel off the sacks, however, and the rally was concluded.

Daryl Weitzel received a pass to first when Pitcher Campbell threw wildly and scored later on a passed ball, to put the Red Sox out in front 2-0.

Kato's Circuit Drive

Back came the Red Sox when Fred Kato got his second straight hit, this one being a home run sizzler which went behind the cars in centrefield.

The sixth was a sad one for the Sox as they booted the ball and Ernie Jomori, who had been pitching good ball, gave up the ghost in favor of Gil Jacobs. With two away Johnston was scored by Fraser. Maisonneuve was safe on Jomori's second error, Johnson scoring. Eshelman was hit by a wild pitch and Young connected for a solid smash to right field, bringing the count to 5-3 in the visitors' favor.

Jacobs went in to strike out the last batter but in the seventh he was touched by Jeffreys for a double and threw a wild pitch which scored the runner, giving Penticton a 6-3 lead.

Then came the terrific seventh and as soon as Campbell showed signs of weakening the fans came to life and assisted the Sox considerably to keep the Pirates up in the air.

Jacobs started things when he struck out, but the ball was dropped and he was safe at first when Berdine dropped a poor throw from Fraser, the catcher. Ernie Jomori walked and Weitzel smacked out his triple. Dunham drew his third walk but Sunday Jomori struck out for the first down. Bob Weitzel's grounder was just inside the first base line for a perfect out but Berdine booted the ball and Daryl Weitzel was across for the tying run.

Two Unearned Runs Kato filed out but Francis Gould drew a walk and then Fraser let a pitch go through him to the screen both Dunham and Weitzel scoring on the play to give the Sox an 8-6 advantage.

Affairs didn't look so good from

Former Summerland Woman One of Party Landing Huge Marlin

Miss Joyce Hutchinson, RN, who is well-known to many Summerland residents, was a member of a fishing party last month which captured the largest blue marlin ever brought into Bermuda. Durham Stephens, a member of the party, landed a blue marlin weighing 870 pounds after battling it for an hour and three-quarters.

The party was aboard the motor cruiser Wally II, owned by Roy Taylor, considered one of the most conscientious fishermen and guides in the Bermuda waters.

The giant fish measured eleven feet four inches and seven men were required to haul it aboard the cruiser. Three hundred yards of 24-thread line was run out in the tussle. At one stage an eight-foot shark joined in the chase of the marlin but a couple of bursts from a German submarine gun—a trophy of World War II—dissuaded the shark from spoiling the fishermen's fun.

THIRD GAME IN LOCAL BASEBALL PLAYOFFS OFF

Third game in the Red Sox versus Merchants baseball duel has been postponed indefinitely by the Red Sox, due to the playoff series they are engaging in with Penticton Pirates.

The Merchants won the first game 8-1 and drew the second 4-1 for the local ball championship. When the final game or games of the series will be held has not been announced.

Box score of the game played on Wednesday, August 3, follows:

"I Remember Mama" Comes to Rialto

Of more than usual interest to patrons of the Rialto theatre is the showing next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the famous picture, "I Remember Mama," starring Irene Dunn as Mama.

This play, which was a Broadway two-year stage hit, was reproduced by the Summerland Singers' and Players' club, players' section last winter and was received with acclaim by audiences in Summerland, Peachland and Penticton.

Mrs. Ivy Mason was "Mama" in the local production, which was directed by Mr. Lacey Fisher. So outstanding was Mrs. Mason's performance that it is anticipated many persons who observed the play will see the picture to compare her acting with the famous screen star, Irene Dunn.

Youth Centre Repairs Start

Plans for improving the "college gym" which is to be known as Summerland Youth Centre are moving along well.

Workers have been let for shingling the roof with asphalt shingles, and for painting the exterior with two coats of ivory paint. Attention is being given to the wiring as well.

All the old machinery has been taken out, and the Scouts have swept the floor, greatly improving the interior appearance.

It is planned to start the drive for funds the first two weeks in November.

HAIL DAMAGES KELOWNA CROP

Growers in the Okanagan Mission and East Kelowna areas suffered serious losses to their fruit crops last Saturday night as a storm cut a swathe three-quarters of a mile wide shortly after nine o'clock.

Heavy rain was precipitated here but no reports of any hail damage have been heard.

Reports of losses amounting to 70 and 80 percent in some orchards have been given to B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. Peaches and apricots took the brunt of the damage.

NEW DEAL FOR METRE READER

George W. Pennington, new municipal light metre reader, has been given a new deal by the Summerland council which will pay him seven cents per metre.

Last month Mr. Pennington inspected 1220 metres in the equivalent of seven 8-hour days at five cents per metre. He told the council on Tuesday that over the year the five-cent rate which he had offered himself as a trial basis would not be sufficient.

Council members agreed that it was a low figure and consented to Mr. Pennington's new offer of seven cents, provided the new metre reader would agree to continue for some months, at least through the winter.

Unlicensed Dog Owners to be Listed Locally

Only 200 canines in Summerland municipality have received a dog tag for 1949, council members were informed on Tuesday. This total indicates that nearly one hundred dogs have not been licensed.

As a result Poundkeeper J. Heichert is being employed to compile a list of unlicensed dogs and turn it into the municipal office. The office staff will then notify the owners that they are delinquent and will be prosecuted if the licence fee is not paid forthwith.

Mr. Heichert will receive 75 cents out of each $2 licence for his share in the work.

It was proposed at first by Mr. Heichert that he would pick up stray dogs and destroy them, if not claimed, for a sum of 75 cents. If a dog not carrying a tag was picked up and it was subsequently found that a licence had been issued, then the cost to the owner would be fifty cents.

However, impounding of dogs is not covered by the pound bylaw and no such action can be authorized until the bylaw is amended, council decided.

The regulations concerning licensing of dogs within the municipal limits were written by the municipal council in 1912.

Student Pilot is Killed at Kelowna

KELOWNA—Roy Barlee, 19, was instantly killed at Kelowna's new airfield, Ellison Field, shortly before 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon when his plane nosed into the ground seconds after an attempted takeoff. He was a student pilot. The pilot had been flying for an hour and a half and witnesses to the coroner's enquiry stated he was short of gasoline, claiming this to be the major cause of the crash.

Merchants Beaten 11-4 at Penticton

Summerland Merchants were defeated at Penticton last night 11-4 by that city's entrant in the Okanagan International baseball league. These two teams tangle again at the Living Memorial Athletic park here next Wednesday night, and the local boys are determined to give the southern team a better run for its money.

Summerland Red Sox play their second game of the junior finals in Penticton against the Pirates next Monday evening instead of Sunday as previously announced, it was stated at noon today.

HOW TO CASH WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

B of M Can Save You Time and Trouble

Cashing War Savings Certificates yourself involves sorting your Certificates every month, endorsing and posting each one to Ottawa when it matures, and then cashing or depositing the cheque for it. Why not cash them the easy way?

You can skip this monthly bother by simply bringing all your Certificates to the Bank of Montreal. As each one falls due, the B of M will cash and credit it to your account. Cost of the service is trifling. Many people find this B of M service helpful in saving toward better things, points out James Muirhead, manager at West Summerland. They're less inclined to spend the money, because it goes straight into their savings accounts without passing through their hands first.

Put your Certificates into B of M safekeeping tomorrow, and arrange for their credit upon maturity to an account in your name. You'll be cutting out a chore and at the same time looking after funds that will speed the day when you can buy those things you want most.—Advt.

Valley Looks to At Kelowna Today Hoping To Avert Strike Threat

Latest move in the tense strike-threat situation in the Okanagan is the announcement that the Labor Relations Board, operating under authority of the provincial department of labor, has called a meeting for this afternoon in an endeavor to arrange a settlement of the dispute between the fruit and vegetable industry and the fruit and vegetable workers' union.

The Okanagan Federated Shippers Assn. announced on Wednesday that it has been invited to participate in this session.

Yesterday afternoon, the industry labor negotiation committee met to arrange the delegation to today's all-important meeting.

It was also announced that there will be a conciliation board hearing between the Osoyoos Growers' Association and the other workers' union in the Okanagan, the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO).

Summerland Band Plays At Hospital

Summerland Band, now well into its second year of organization, will entertain patients at the Summerland General Hospital on Sunday evening next, August 21, at 7 o'clock.

The band, under Conductor Herb Pohmann, will give a concert for patients, staff members and any number of the general public who wish to attend. Mr. J. E. O'Mahony, hospital secretary, announces.

Services of these musicians for this concert are being given gratis as a public service.

The Summerland Band was invited to participate in the Penticon and District Peach Festival monster parade on Wednesday morning but the day before these arrangements were cancelled by Penticon officials.

It is understood that the parade marshal declared that as the band does not boast uniforms that it would be unwise to include the local aggregation in the march down Penticon's Main street.

The band is making preparations to purchase caps as the first step in providing uniforms for the members.

It is likely that the band will also be present at the baseball game at the Living Memorial athletic park on Sunday, August 28, when Kamloops CYO juniors play the Summerland Red Sox for the Interior, junior baseball championship.

New Challenge Rose Bowl for Show

At the Flower Show next Wednesday, Aug. 24, sponsored by the horticultural society, there will be a new challenge cup which is to be contested annually.

It will take the form of a beautiful silver rose bowl which will be useful to the winner throughout the year that it is held. This has been given by Mr. Magnus Tait and Miss Doreen Tait in memory of the late Mrs. Magnus Tait who was very interested in the work of the horticultural society.

The trophy will be given for the best arranged bowl for table decoration in the show.

Community interest in the flower show is always keen and entries often come from as far afield as Naramata and Keremeos.

Fruit Industry and Many Friends Mourn Passing of "Jock" Stirling

The entire Okanagan and many other agricultural districts in B.C. and throughout Canada mourns the passing of one of B.C.'s outstanding agricultural leaders, James Richard John (Jock) Stirling, aged 58.

Mr. Stirling, president of the BCFGA, the B. C. tree fruit growers' parliament, president of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture and a director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, passed away near Golden at 6:15 o'clock Tuesday evening, August 16, while on a holiday trip with his family.

His passing came as a great shock to the entire industry as he was a man known for his executive ability and his fervent endeavors to forward the industry and work for its advancement at all times.

He was re-elected for his third term as BCFGA president in May. Ivor J. Newman, Glenmore grower, is vice-president.

He was born in Enford, Wiltshire County, England, nearly 57 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Stirling, he was educated at Uppingham, and came to Kelowna district as a young lad in 1910, and cleared and planted an orchard in Southeast Kelowna, where he had resided ever since.

In 1919 he married Kathleen, daughter of Mrs. Greene and the late Archdeacon Greene, of Kelowna. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Peter and John and a daughter, Moyra, all at home in Kelowna. Two sisters also survive him in England.

Always known for his great enthusiasm in any undertaking, he threw himself wholeheartedly into the promotion of his orchard, his garden and the fruit industry.

Besides the posts already outlined, he was a trustee of the S.E. Kelowna Irrigation District and was a member of the District 23 School Board. A keen sportsman, he had been a member for years of the Kelowna and District Rod and Gun Club.

A press time, no announcement had been made regarding funeral arrangements. The remains are being sent to Kelowna for burial.

Farm Beach is Objective For Service Group

At its June meeting, the Summerland AOTS club went on record as favoring the development of the "Farm Beach" as a permanent camping grounds for youth organizations during the summer holidays.

Before last year's flood caused serious damage to the accommodations at this beach, the South Okanagan Religious Educational Council used this popular spot for weekly camps throughout the summer.

This year, Cubs, Girl Guides, and other youth organizations were forced to travel to Peachland and Camp Hurlburt, Vernon for their camping activities.

Mr. E. H. Bennett was appointed head of an AOTS committee to delve into the subject of improvement to the Farm Beach. He stated this week that due to pressure of other work he had not made much progress towards such organization but he is starting this weekend to raise funds for the purpose.

Commencing this Saturday and continuing for the next four weekends, Mr. Bennett will have on sale in the West Summerland business district a large quantity of his famous Glads. Entire proceeds from this sale will be devoted to improving the Farm Beach and making it even better than when it was known as Camp Soree.

It has also been suggested that other service organizations could be persuaded to lend a hand in providing proper camping facilities for this beach, while other neighboring communities might also be interested in lending some financial support.

Honor H. H. Evans On His Retirement

VERNON—H. H. Evans, provincial horticulturist here for the past 32 years, was honored by the members of the Vernon and Coldstream local, made reference to weiner roast and corn boil held at the Kinsmen Beach last week.

Approximately 130 growers and their wives attended the social gathering.

A watch was presented to Mr. Evans in appreciation of the service he has given to the growers of the Vernon and Coldstream locals.

In presenting the watch, W. A. Middleton, president of the Coldstream local, made reference to the excellent work of Mr. Evans during the years he has served as district horticulturist in this area. Mr. Evans will retire officially from his post at the end of the month.

School Inspector J. N. Burnett Leaves District For Coast Post

Tenders for the Meadow Valley bus run were opened at the meeting of the school board held on Monday evening, Aug. 15. The two bidders were Philip Munro, Meadow Valley, at a price of $8.50 per school day and Wally's Taxi at $7. Following the policy of the department of education in accepting the lowest tender, the contract was awarded to Mr. Munro.

A letter from the superintendent of education gave notice to the board of the transfer of School Inspector J. N. Burnett to the coast and that of Mr. A. Turnbull formerly of the Chilliwack area to this district. Acknowledgment of the detailed and continuous help of Col. Burnett was mentioned at the meeting, and a letter of appreciation of his services will be forwarded to the department.

A letter from A. K. Macleod, high school principal, was read in reply to a letter from the board regarding the teaching of Latin in the school. Mr. Macleod stated that this subject is no longer a pre-requisite for students in law, medicine, or pharmacy, and that in recent years there had been very little demand for it. No teacher had been qualified to teach Latin, and the matter had not been given consideration, partially due to lack of time and space.

It is the policy of the Summerland school board to have students taking a correspondence course pay the fee, which is refunded if the pupil passes the course, and this will continue.

Messrs. J. and G. Long of Greata Ranch made a request for the transportation of three pupils from Greata either to the Westbank or Summerland schools. The matter will be taken up with the department of education. Greata Ranch is included in Summerland school district No. 77 and Greyhound bus service is unsatisfactory for conveyance of Greata pupils.

Rural debenture tenders were opened. Subject to the passing of the by-law for the new junior-senior high school, award was given to the firm of McMahon and Burns, Vancouver, the bond house offering the bid with the lowest interest rate.

A great deal of annoyance had been caused by continual breakage of windows in the school gymnasium, and the board authorized having the windows boarded over outside completely.

St. Stephen's W.A. purchased the fluorescent lights which had been installed in the parish hall when it was used as a school classroom. The price received was $60.

Rural representative, Aubrey King reported that the Meadow Valley ratepayers were willing to have the former Meadow Valley schoolhouse moved to the ski hill provided the building could be used for the annual or semi-annual water meetings. Permission will be sought from the department of education to approve this move.

Sanborn's Garage has bought the small building on the school grounds used as an office by the contracting firm of Bonnett and White while the elementary school was being renovated and enlarged.

"Ham Fest" Held Near Osoyoos

An international gathering of radio "Hams" was held at the international border, near Osoyoos last Saturday evening and Sunday. Amateur radio operators from Vernon, Kelowna, Summerland, Oliver, Penticon, Oroville and Wonahtona were present.

Among the Summerland citizens in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shannon, Lorne Logie, Don Allison, Ralph Milos and Doug Price and two daughters.

Next year's Ham Fest will be held in Kelowna.

Reeve R. A. Johnston addressed the Rotary Club of Summerland briefly on Friday, Aug. 4, at the Nu-Way Annex, giving a few highlights of his recent trip to Florida, where he attended an international railroad telegraphers convention.

Thousands Acclaim Float From Summerland in Peach Festival Parade

Nearly ten thousand persons who lined Penticon's Main street and the approach to Queen's Park, greeted with loud acclaim the splendid Summerland float which headed the monster Penticon and District Peach Festival parade on Wednesday morning.

A huge crowd lined every available inch of the street as the parade, a mile long, inched its way down the main thoroughfare marking the opening of Penticon's second annual Peach Festival, August 17 to 20. It will wind up on Saturday night.

Summerland's lovely gladioli float was given the place of honor at the front of the community floats and immediately behind the color party and members of the Royal party.

Immediately preceding the float was Princess Summerland, Miss Merle Heavysides, who was chosen Queen of the 1949 Spring Fair of the Summerland Board of Trade.

The entry of Princess Summerland and of the gladioli float was sponsored by the Summerland Board of Trade.

Fifteen hundred lovely gladioli blooms from the E. H. Bennett gladioli farm were fastened painstakingly on the Summerland float, which was propelled by a jeep, owned and driven by "Woody" Gillespie.

A gladioli rainbow, depicting all the colors of the rainbow in fresh blooms, arced across the top of the float and descended into a pot of gold, also made up of golden glads.

On either side of the float, blue glads spelled the word "Summerland" on a background of white glads, with pastel shades of the same flowers forming the outline.

Preceding the float Miss Summerland rode atop the sports roadster, driven by Lorne Perry, board of trade secretary. She was charming in her white princess robes and carried a bouquet of pastel gladioli.

Although the Summerland float did not win a prize this year in the community float competition, Summerland obtained high praise for the work which went into the creation of its entry and for the freshness and beauty of the flowers.

Seventy Floats in Parade

The Penticon Playground float was awarded top prize, while the entry from Kaledon was placed second. Other Okanagan communities in the vicinity of Penticon entered community floats, including Osoyoos, Oliver, Okanagan Falls, Naramata and Peachland.

There were seventy floats in the parade which took almost an hour to pass a given spot.

Another float which attracted interest was that of the Temperance Union, which was entered by Summerland and Penticon members of the WCTU.

Many decorated cars were also on display, while Capt. A. M. Temple was to be observed riding his horse in the Penticon Riding Club group.

Six bands participated, including the Penticon band, the combined Canadian Legion pipe bands of Penticon and Kelowna, Vancouver Junior band, the McIntosh Girls' pipe band from Vernon, the Trail Legion band and the Kelowna city band.

The Peach Festival is continuing until Saturday with rodeo performances each afternoon and vaudeville and other attractions each evening, apart from the dances.

When the parade arrived at Queen's park yesterday, Queen Val Vedette II was crowned with all due pomp and ceremony. Her escort included princesses from neighboring communities, including Princess Merle Heavysides of Summerland.

The new queen is Miss Joyce Warrington, the Penticon Canadian Legion candidate in the Peach Festival queen contest.

Princess Summerland was also an attendant to the new queen at the Royal Ball held in the Legion hall last evening. Miss Joan Bennett, who was the key figure in preparing the Summerland float, was a guest of the Summerland Board of Trade.

Forty-five Percent of Peach Crop Will Roll to Markets by Weekend

By this week-end, 45 percent of the estimated peach crop will have been packed and shipped either to the fresh fruit markets of Canada or to the busy cannery plants of this valley.

Demand for Okanagan peaches remains at a high level and prices levels have been maintained, the central sales agency states. In the Oliver-Osoyoos area peach picking is entirely confined to the three V's, but lakeside orchards are still picking Rochester's with a fairly heavy tonnage of V's rolling, as well.

So far there have not been sufficient quantities of Bartlett pears to supply the demand but it is anticipated this weekend will see the supply sufficient to take care of immediate demands. Market for this variety is brisk and Plomish

Three Youths Escape When Car Rolls Over

Three coast youths are now minus an old car, of 1928 vintage and the driver and owner is minus five dollars and three dollars costs as the result of an accident on the hilly highway above The Antlers camp near Peachland.

However, the lads are lucky to be alive as when the steering gear on their 1928 coupe became defective the old buggy rolled down the hillside about fifty feet. The boys escaped with bruises and a shaking up.

This accident occurred at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and on Saturday morning Robert H. McKone, who gave his address as White Rock, B.C., was fined $5 and costs for failing to produce a driver's licence.

Other car occupants were Allan Bunker of Vancouver and Arthur Oullet, who came from St. Paul, Alta., but had joined the party at the coast. The three young men will continue their wanderings on foot as their car will not be seen on the highway again... at least, not in one piece.

Baptist Boys and Girls Go to Camp

Boys and girls from Baptist churches throughout the Okanagan were gathered at Camp Hurlburt near Vernon last week for a week's outing from August 9 to 16. The leader was Miss Vera Cross of Penticon while two assistant leaders were Willma Huva and Gerda Arndt of Summerland.

Rev. D. O. Knipf of the Summerland Baptist church is also at the camp assisting in the arrangements.

As soon as this combined camp closed another week's outing for Baptist young people was started.

One feature at Camp Hurlburt last week was that clocks were set back two hours so that when bedtime arrives it was dark.

From Summerland in camp were Janie Smith, Norma and Eileen Arndt, Nella Huva, Richard McDougald, Gale Sargeant, George Stoll Jr., Jimmy Seigrist of Peachland is also at camp and a nephew and niece of Rev. Mr. Knipf, Byron and Judy Armstrong of Winnipeg are also in attendance.

DIRECTIONAL AND WARNING SIGNS ON HOPE-PRINCETON HIGHWAY

The placing of new directional and warning signs along the Hope-Princeton highway will be started shortly, following completion of similar work on the Island highway. It is announced by Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works.

Beauty pears are just starting to roll to the consumer.

A few prunes are moving now but the demand for apples has slackened, due mainly to the heat wave on the prairies.

Crabapples have a much lower estimated yield this year than last and they will be in short supply. Ordinarily, they are a drug on the market and the sales agency gets desperate trying to sell them. This year, the demand is exceeding the supply, and the market is clamoring for more crabs. If yields will start about August 25.

Last week, 538 tons of produce rolled from the Okanagan and other interior points covered by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. This brought our shipments for the year to 1874, a big increase over last year's 1145 cars at the same time.

Tense Discussion in Kelowna Today

WE can take a small amount of hope from the announcement made yesterday that the Labor Relations Board has called together representatives of the industry and the Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union in an endeavor to fend off the threatened strike in the fruit industry.

Seventy-nine percent of the workers in the Okanagan decided last week that they favored a strike on the basis of a ballot which read: "Are you willing to strike unless your union, as a bargaining agency, can conclude an agreement that will protect your wages and working conditions?"

This ballot does not seem to us to give a true picture of the situation as it has been explained. There is no question of dispute of wages at this time. The only question is the matter of "union security" and that does not seem to come under the heading of "working conditions."

The union workers would be disloyal to their organization if they had voted otherwise on the question asked them. But, in our opinion, the ballot question was not a true representation of the existing grievance between the industry and the workers.

Here in Summerland there are no union members in any of the packing houses and it would appear that the strike would not affect this particular district.

However, the union executives have declared their intention of obtaining support from the railway workers to the extent that, should a strike develop, no fruit from any district in the Okanagan would move from the Okanagan.

If such a decision was reached, it would place Summerland in a very unfair position. This district is not directly concerned with the strike, yet the union is asking the railroads to shut off transportation of any produce from Summerland.

Whatever the outcome of this dispute, if the union workers imperil the whole of the soft fruit crop in the Okanagan for the sake of a "measure of union security," they will lose face with the general public and will lose a reputation for good, clean bargaining which they had won since their inception.

The union has an "out," of course, in that the conciliation board allowed them their point of "union security," but the government labor men have been inclined for some time to lean towards the laboring class in all arbitrations.

We can only hope that today's discussion in Kelowna will find both sides ready to reach a compromise in order to save the perishable products of the Okanagan now rolling to the markets of Canada. The continued wealth and prosperity of all businesses in the Okanagan depends on the outcome of today's discussions.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Repairs on sidewalks are imperative, a report from Foreman H. Tomlin stated to the council this week. He was authorized to do this work immediately and will require 1,000 feet of lumber for Shaughnessy avenue and 900 feet for Granville.

When his horse became frightened by passing automobiles, W. Carter was thrown from his carriage on the gulch road and is in hospital suffering from a compound fracture of a leg, and other injuries. His nephew, Will White, also in the carriage, escaped with some bruises and a general shaking up.

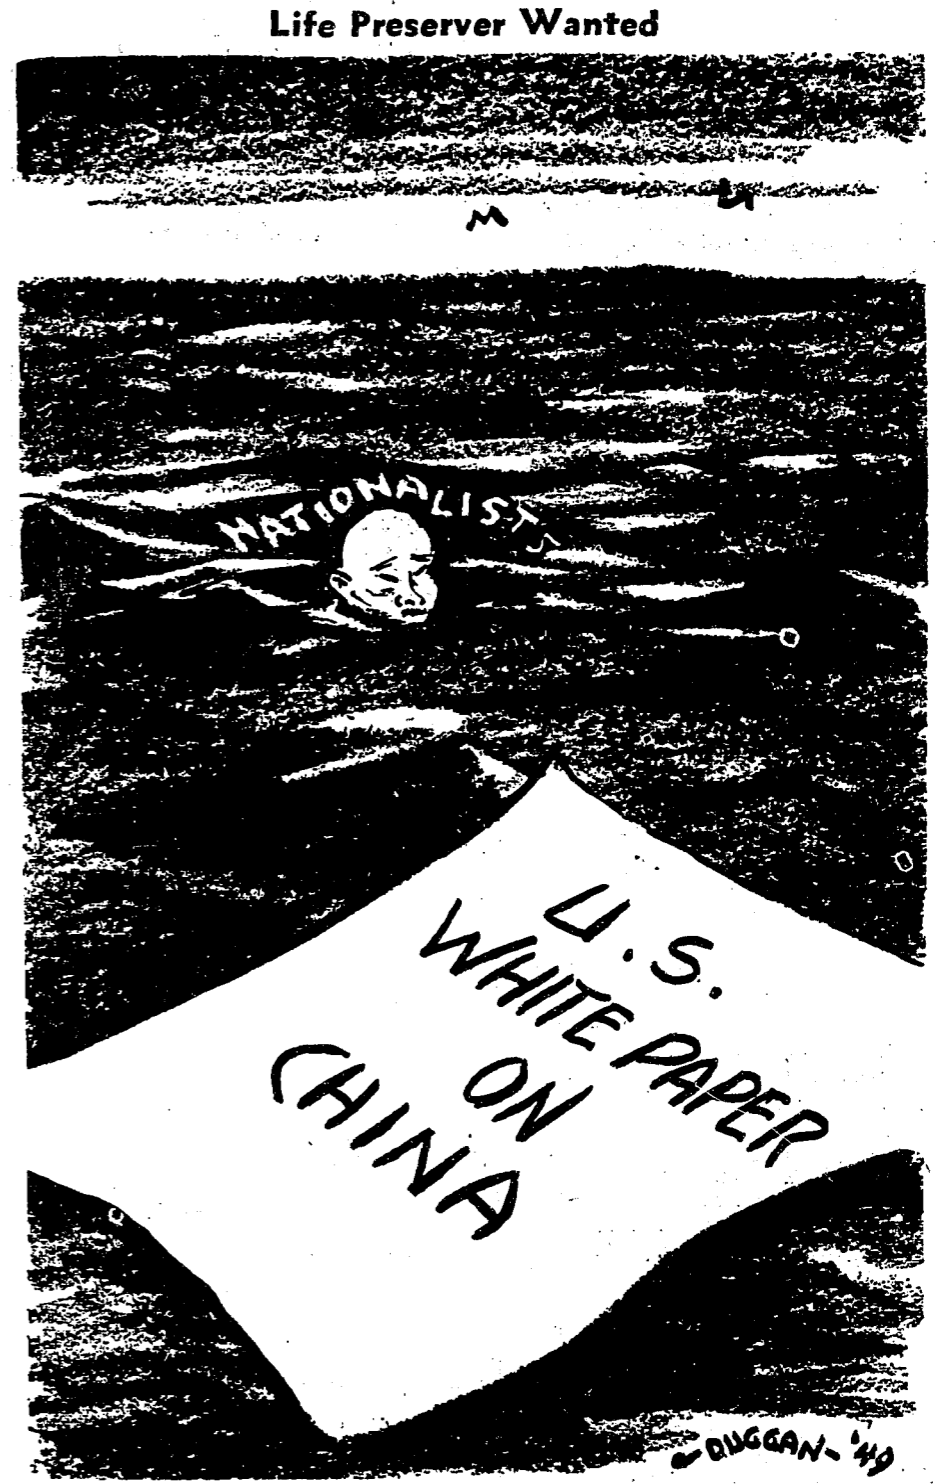

An important business deal is now being completed whereby the Summerland Supply Co. Ltd. will dispose of its dry goods and grocery section of its upper town store. A new company, in which J. C. Freeman and W. C. Kelley are principal stockholders, is being formed.

Serious consideration is being given by the school board to the suggestion that a fourth year be added to the high school course. A third teacher would be employed by the school staff.

Plans are now completed for the organization of the Farmers' Union of B.C. which will be an organization of 10,000 members embracing the Farmers' Institute and the United Farmers of B.C.

R. V. Agur is receiving congratulations on his work as BCFGA director for Summerland district as this area still has a long lead over any other area. Summerland has 124 members, including 22 life members. Total for the province is 308, with Penticton in second position with 89; Peachland has 21.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Miller of Castor, Alta., have decided to make their home in Summerland.

fruit shipments out of Niagara peninsula. The results of these tests are being watched by local fruit authorities.

The main irrigation canal is half full and present service, one day per week instead of two, will be maintained until the end of the week, at least.

Bob Gibson, a young lad of Coronation, Alta., pleaded guilty to shooting T. P. Thornber's collie dog, which was on a leash in front of the Thornber home. He must compensate the owner in the sum of $25 and was fined $10 and costs.

Donald McIntyre, a local citizen, and Miss Elaine Griffiths of Dewdney have been appointed to fill vacancies on the school staff.

Claims aggregating nearly $5,000 have been made by several American railway companies against the Okanagan United Growers, in bankruptcy. M. G. Wilson, trustee, has disallowed the claims and an appeal has been made by the Illinois Central Railway Company. The claims are against shipments made

Southern Transprovincial Goes Ahead

WHILE the rest of the province frets about the location of the Trans-Canada Highway, and a caravan from Edmonton tours the Yellowhead pass in order to gain public favor for that route, the provincial public works department goes right ahead with its major task of improving the southern transprovincial highway.

We had an opportunity to view some of the developments in the West Kootenay country last week-end and the sight of major construction camps, big machinery and equipment and the result of their labors was encouraging.

Although there is not much development yet on the western slope of Anarchist Mountain, there is a great deal of progress being made on straightening and widening the route into Bridesville and Rock Creek.

From that latter point, a four-lane highway, blacktopped, stretches most of the way into Greenwood. Another fifteen-mile stretch of beautifully-surfaced highway extends down the steep mountainside into Grand Forks.

The public works department and its contracting companies are gradually overcoming the obstacles of equipment lack and labor of good quality is also becoming more plentiful. The result is a speedup of permanent road construction right along this important link between the Pacific Coast and the southern plains of Alberta.

The task is a tremendous one but, little by little, it is being conquered. It is a pity that there was not enough equipment and trained personnel available to proceed with the southern transprovincial route and the small amount of Okanagan highway needed to be completed, as well.

We can only hope that the public works department will not tarry too long in bringing the Okanagan highway to a successful conclusion. The biggest portion of the task has been completed and a little more effort would see the whole valley paved in modern style.

One of the narrowest stretches in the entire Okanagan extends from Penticton to Peachland. Promise of completion of this twenty-five mile piece has been made for 1951 but it still seems a pity that it could not be finished before that time to present one continuous strip of wide, hard-surfaced highway from the border at Osoyoos to Vernon and Armstrong.

However, the public works department is still doing a splendid job and we agree heartily that it should not deviate from its planned program.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
July 31, 1924

Peachland is experiencing a real gold rush, following reports of a gold discovery northwest of that community. Approximately 115 claims have been staked over a stretch of four miles along the creek bed on the upper waters of Trepanier, many of them by residents of the Westbank Indian reserve.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Along about this time of year, when I was a kid, I used to wake some morning with a horrible sinking feeling at the realization that summer was going fast, and the precious holidays would soon be over. Soon we'd be back to school—how loathsome! A black pall of gloom would envelop me; then through it would come one ray of sunshine—at least there would be no more weeds to pull.

For it sometimes seemed to my brother and me that we did nothing all summer but pull weeds. Back of the house was a patch of cultivated land, too small and awkward to get at to be made into a grain field; and every spring, full of enthusiasm, Father would seize on it for a garden. It was far too big for any family's needs, but he'd have it plowed, and work away sowing it to potatoes, and corn, and turnips. Then he'd go back to his flower beds and the small kitchen vegetable plot, and forget all about the big one until July.

We always prayed fervently that he would keep on forgetting about it, but sure as sunrise, about the third or fourth day after school closed, Father would come along with that hearty voice and smile that father always use when something has to be done by somebody, and say:

"Well, let's get started at the big garden, shall we?"

That's the kind of question to which there is only one possible answer and we'd follow him with dragging feet out back of the house. By then the big garden was just a jungle of green weeds, a wild riotous growth of lamb's quarters, pig weed, and other botanical enemies, two feet or more high. Father always talked in the spring about keeping the weeds from getting started by hoeing, or planting the rows far enough apart to use the horse squalter, but he never did, and there was only one way to get rid of them by the time we started—hand pulling.

So we'd take a compass bearing and plunge in, a row apiece—after we found where the rows were. You'd never believe so many weeds could crowd into a square foot and root so solidly; a whole day's work for the three of us was only a few yards advance along our three rows. And the potatoes and corn and turnips that we unvelled were so spindly and puny that my brother and I felt sure that the only decent thing to do was to leave the rest of them strictly alone.

Not so Father; he kept us at it for several hours every day, regular as clock work. It seemed to take weeks to finish three full rows, they were so long; and by the time we had got back on the next three, the weeds were triumphantly re-established where we had started from. We never did get half the patch finished in a summer; and after the first year's failure, we always directed a stream of propaganda at Father through maternal channels as to the uselessness of the whole operation; but he never paid any attention to it. I've often wondered which of us was really right, Father with his persistence in a hopeless task, or we who recognized what a waste of time it was.

Of course, it was doubtless good discipline for us to have regular work to do, however futile; just as it is for the convicts, to whom we often compared ourselves. But any good effects this may have had were totally ruined the summer Mother and Father went to Vancouver Island for three weeks' holiday.

Father left strict orders that my brother and I were to spend one hour weeding the garden every morning, and one hour every afternoon. That year the weeds were not as bad as usual, and we were impressed with our responsibility for that two hours' work a day; we started in working as hard as we could go, and really made a showing the first day; we were quite proud of it.

The second day we were wading into it the same way when the hired man came over to the fence and said:

"Say, you kids is crazy to work that hard when you don't have to. All you need to do is put in your time; I wouldn't hurt myself if I was you."

Our efforts ceased right there; from then on we talked and fooled and watched the clock and complained about the heat and went for drinks of water—in fact, did everything but work. And we did the same thing every day until our parents came back.

But we weren't proud of it; and the time dragged far more slowly than it had when we were trying to see how much we could do. Maybe the work was futile, probably the hired man spoke out of kindness toward us; but, he is certainly no benefactor who first introduces a child to the crime of killing time.

Teen Town
Honestly, this is getting beyond a joke! I am just going to give up writing what is going to happen the next week at Teen Town.
I say there is going to be a lawn dance or a beach party and what happens? That's right—a dance at the IOOF hall. So I finally get smart and say there will be a dance at the IOOF every Saturday for the remainder of the summer. Of course next Saturday there is no dance. From now on anything you read in this column should be taken with a grain of salt.
But seriously there were a lot of disappointed Teeners last Saturday night. If you kids don't come out and support Teen Town better things are just going to fizzle out.
I will admit that last Saturday was an exception, because there was a big party which took up quite a few people. But how about the dance before? Was it as good as the first or the second dance of the summer? No!
And unless we pick up there just won't be any Teen Town at all.
No one wants this to happen, I know, so come on everyone because the dances are really fun, no fooling.
About next week. This plan is more or less in the embryo stage but something new and different is being arranged. Does a hay-ride out to Faulder or thereabouts sound like fun? I hope it does because that's what we have in mind for next Friday nite. Friday, because the players on the baseball team may be in Kamloops over the weekend, they hope. None of this is definite so keep your ears open for news that will be spread around.
Many, many thanks to all you good kids who turned out to the old gym last Thursday night to tear down things. The next thing lined up for Teen Town is painting the window frames, so prepare to come armed with a paint brush when the word is given.

But Says Land is Too High in Price
PRINCE GEORGE — Back from a two weeks' trip down the Okanagan and to the Grand Coulee dam, Rev. Cyril Silva-White is enchanted with the Okanagan countryside but thinks the price of two lots of land he saw on the Okanagan Lake — $17,000—rather high.
The miles of good roads, the prosperous farms and abundant flora impressed him. Of Penticton he said: "The main street is good but they have still a lot of building up to do behind the main street."
"They take great care of their parks and the new modern town hall makes a good impression."
Prince George has just as favorable surroundings as any town in the Okanagan he thinks and could be made, like some of those towns, into a city of great beauty.

Odd Angle As Bride Retains Name
SALMON ARM—For the second time in two generations, there has been a marriage in a well known Salmon Arm family in which the bride retained her family name.
Nearly 40 years ago, Thomas Prescott, retired principal of Salmon Arm elementary school was married in Leigh, Lancashire, England. His bride was Miss Mary Prescott.

About two weeks ago, Miss Anne Prescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Prescott, was married at Victoria. Her groom's surname was Prescott, too!
There is also another coincidence in the two marriages of the four persons bearing the same surname. The parents of the groom in the Victoria ceremony, came from Eccles, also in Lancashire, near where the wedding of his bride's parents had taken place about 40 years previously, but neither family was previously acquainted with the other.

TAKE OKAPOGO FOR A WALK
R.R., Summerland,
Aug. 12, 1949.
Editor, The Review:
Some two or three million years ago there lived in Canada creatures such as the Ichthyosaurus, Dinotherium, Okapogo and which are more or less, extinct, but one of them, rather more long lived than the others, appears to have existed in the Okanagan Lake for some three million years. Quite a record, or has he a wife and does he raise a baby Okapogo once every thousand years? Perhaps we shall hear one of these days, on good authority, that a baby has been seen.
I am going to make the Okapogo a spare foot and take him for a walk on the lake shore some evening. The public will no doubt be interested to see his footprints.

Boy Scouts Who Made Ottawa Trip Tell Rotarians of Their Experiences at First Jamboree

Scoutmaster Dr. D. V. Fisher and the fourteen Boy Scouts who attended the Canadian Jamboree of Boy Scouts at Ottawa recounted impressions of their trip at the weekly supper meeting of the Rotary club on Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex.

A tour was made of the parliament buildings and of the Ottawa experimental station and the city generally.

Patrol Leader Richard Lewis gave a thoughtful and good picture of the arena display given by the B.C. contingent. It was called "A Cavalcade of B.C." and in pageant form showed the progress from the days of the explorers, and the arrival of Capt. Vancouver, with the dancing and singing to welcome him, until the driving of the last spike in the CPR railway.

This was the first Canadian jamboree ever held, 4500 boys being in attendance. They came from Cuba, every state in the U.S. and from several South American countries, exemplifying the "good neighbor" policy.

Troop Leader Graham Munn introduced the twelve boys present, Lorne Carston, Gerald Washington, Gordon, Leslie and Glen Younghusband, Victor Smith, Robbie Towgood, Donnie Blacklock, Leslie Bingham, George Pohlman and Richard Lewis. Walter Thompson and Vernon Campbell made up the party of fourteen from this town, but they were unable to attend the supper.

Donnie Blacklock spoke of the trip to Ottawa with emphasis on "soot, soot and soot"—in the eye, in the pudding, and in the coffee. He apologized to Reeve R. A. Johnston, the genial West Summerland CPR station agent, at the same time mentioning "spuds with skins and sprouts".

Went On Conducted Tours Victor Smith talked of the first few days in Ottawa, recalling the camp site 13 miles from the capital in an old army camp opposite the Connaught rifle ranges. Water for the showers was pumped from the river. A tour was made of the parliament buildings and of the Ottawa experimental station and the city generally.

Troop Leader Graham Munn recounted the trip home, the interest in the prairies, though "a bit tedious". He told of the Connaught spiral tunnels, and pleasure in a swim at Sicamous.

To the Rotarians he expressed thanks from all the boys for the supper and for the support in making the trip possible.

Dr. Fisher explained that each province arranged a display, and also that the trip to Ottawa meant very cheap transportation as the $75 paid by each boy included the round trip and the camp fee.

In the question period that followed Dr. R. C. Palmer enquired about the Scouts from other areas, and Lorne Carston replying said that there was a friendly interchange at campfire time. One Cuban boy was delighted to barter a first class canteen for a hat with a cougar tail at the back, and which he wore on all possible occasions. Carston detailed the interest by Saskatchewan leaders in B.C. 3 1/2 to 4 foot logs, and as souvenirs had slices cut to take home.

Richard Lewis gave a fine explanation of the meaning of the cords and badges worn by a King's Scout.

Sing Jamboree Song Dr. H. R. McLarty thanked the guests for their various speeches and suggested that they sing the Jamboree Song which they did with considerable gusto.

The cream of the crop of our country's youth,

And brotherhood is our quest. Gathered together in friendship's name.— Playing a part in the great Scout game.— From mountain and valley, from lake and sea, We are camping at the Jamboree." Adding further thanks for the song Dr. McLarty stated that the assets and attributes gained by Scouting are fitting them for the Canadian way of living and it was his belief that no other organization did this in a better way.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gilbert are leaving tomorrow to make their new home in Salmon Arm. Mr. Gilbert has been employed in a Salmon Arm sheet metal concern as foreman for the past four months and returned this week to take his family north.

Masses of Gladioli Form Lovely Setting For Sims-Harvey Nuptials

Masses of pastel colored gladioli and fern were banked across the front of the Lakeside United church for the marriage of Marian Bert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harvey to Mr. Percy Sims, son of Mrs. Tom Hughes of Kimberley on Wednesday afternoon, August 10, at two o'clock. Each guest pew was marked with a white fan-shaped paper doily and single pink-fringed gladioli blossom. The ceremony was performed by the minister, Rev. H. R. Whitmore.

The petite bride wore a wedding gown of white organdy with lace insertion over white taffeta. The sleeves were short and puffed, and from the tiny waist the bouffant tiered skirt fell prettily into a train. A waist length veil sprinkled with orange blossoms floated out from a coronet of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a Colonial one of red roses, white carnations and maidenhair fern.

The three sisters of the bride were her attendants, Mrs. Robert Stewart of Kelowna, as matron of honor, and Miss Shirley and Miss Eunice Harvey as bridesmaids.

Their charming costumes were fashioned in the same way as that of the bride; Mrs. Stewart's of pale pink, Miss Shirley Harvey in jonquil yellow and Miss Eunice Harvey in sea green, all of organdy over taffeta. Each wore a cluster of carnations at one side of her head, and they carried small Colonial bouquets in pastel colors containing rosebuds, anterrinum, carnations and fern.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and ushering were Mr. Basil Thornthwaite Summerland, and Mr. Doug Crow, Penticton.

Mr. T. P. Thorner presided at the organ. At the reception which followed on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Harvey receiving, assisted by the bridal party, wore a smart two-piece dressmaker frock of white print on navy. Her hat was of pearl gray straw with orchid trimming and she carried a navy purse. Her corsage was an orchid gladioli, orchid sweet peas and carnations. About seventy guests were entertained.

The bride's table was covered with a dainty lace cloth, centred with a three-tiered wedding-cake, and decorated with pink gladioli and baby's breath.

Mrs. E. H. Bennett and Miss Joan Bennett arranged all the flowers which came from the Bennett farm.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Harry (Doc) Dundon, and to this the groom responded.

Mr. Basil Thornthwaite read two congratulatory wires, one from Miss Jessie Ramsay of Trail and one from Mr. and Mrs. C. Nelson of Canal Flats, uncle and aunt of the groom.

The honeymoon will be spent motoring through the valley with Kimberley as the destination and future home of the bride and groom. For the trip the bride changed to a dressmaker suit of lime green with open crowned picture-hat and gloves to match. She carried a top coat of cinnamon colored gabardine. A corsage of red roses and white sweet peas contrasted nicely with the green costume.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. M. Lynds, Mrs. C. Poirin, Mrs. F. Paterson, Mrs. W. Manning, Mrs. C. Brock, Mr. and Mrs. D. Crow, all of Penticton; Mrs. D. Elliott, Kelowna; Mr. and Mrs. G. Learno, Westbank; Mrs. A. Holmboe, Kamloops; Mrs. J. Swales, Kaledon.

Sybil Munro Is Bride of Alberta Man

At the United church manse on Wednesday afternoon, August 10, at three o'clock, the marriage of Sybil Violet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Munro, Meadow Valley, Summerland, to John William, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brown, Hillcrest Mines, Alta., was solemnized by Rev. H. R. Whitmore.

Wearing a beautiful wedding gown of traditional white satin, slightly en train with lace sleeves and yoke, and bustle effect at the back, the bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr. Phillip Munro. On her head a coronet of orange blossoms held in place her long flowing veil of embroidered net. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Attending as matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Linnis Hale of Penticton, who was charmingly frocked in pale yellow taffeta, the bodice tightly fitted, and the skirt full. Flowers and veiling which matched the yellow and red roses in her bouquet fashioned her pretty headdress.

The groom was supported by Mr. John W. Miller.

A reception for about forty guests was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Meadow Valley, where Mrs. Munro received in an ensemble consisting of a black and white floral print gown with white accessories.

Gladioli and snapdragons were used to decorate the rooms, and on the tea-table were beautiful pastel-colored gladioli and a three-tiered wedding cake.

Mr. Stuart Jackson, of Penticton proposed the toast to the bride, and to this the groom responded, Mr. John Brown toasted the matron of honor, and Mr. John Miller replied.

For the honeymoon to Hillcrest Mines, Calgary and Edmonton, a beige gabardine suit in dressmaker style was worn by the bride. White accessories were chosen for this costume, and a corsage of yellow roses was added.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Owen Ellis of Comox, B.C., sister of the bride; Mr. R. Munro, Vancouver, uncle of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Jackson and their children, William and Sally of Penticton.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home in North Vancouver.

Church Manse Scene of Quiet Nuptials Aug. 6

The United church manse was the locale for the marriage of Lela Marvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lewis and Ronald Smith Akerley, son of Mrs. Thelma Akerley, Lanceville, B.C., on Saturday evening, August 6 at six o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. R. Whitmore

Attired in a white floor-length brocade satin wedding gown with tight bodice, full skirt, short sleeves and long white gloves, the dark-haired bride carried a bouquet of deep red roses, and her three-quarter length veil was gathered to her head and fell softly from a cluster of the same red roses.

Mr. Wm. Lewis gave his daughter in marriage, and her bridesmaid was her sister, Marie, Mrs. John Wiese. Floor-length, too, was the attendant's frock, fashioned of pink taffeta. She wore long white gloves, and on her head was a circlet of pale blue and white flowers.

Mr. John Wiese, the bride's brother-in-law, supported the groom.

A reception and buffet supper for about thirty relatives and close family friends was held just after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiese, where Mrs. Lewis received wearing a black afternoon dress trimmed with silver sequins, small flower hat, and green shoes.

In the evening the entire party went to Penticton to dance at the Incola hotel.

The honeymoon will be spent in Vancouver, and for travelling the bride wore a dark green suit, and grey shoes. She carried a grey purse, and in the pleasant, modern style was hatless.

The bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Gibbs and their small son motored from Barrhead, Alta., for the event and were accompanied by the bride's two brothers, Mr. Orville and Mr. Billie Lewis and a friend of the family, Miss Jean Dargowell.

The young couple will make their home at Ft. Assiniboine.

Kamloops Girl Wastes No Time

Gloria Weixl was a contestant in the B.C. Round-up Queen contest held at Kamloops in connection with the July First celebrations. She did not win but was second to Miss Frances Kato, Japanese girl, who was awarded a four-day trip to Hollywood.

The Japanese Canadian Assn. requested that Miss Weixl be given the opportunity to accompany Miss Kato on the trip, and offered to pay half the expenses.

Away went the two girls and now Miss Weixl has returned from Hollywood, but under a new name. She was married at Fresno on August 6 to movie actor Paul Ferrara, whom she met while he was a member of the BCAC.

Miss Kato was given a special invitation to take part in the Japanese celebration staged in Hollywood.

Historic Cairn at Westbank To be Unveiled Wednesday

Unveiling of the Westbank Cairn, erected by the Historic Sites & Monuments Board, Ottawa, to commemorate the Okanagan Brigade Trail is a pleasing ceremony which will take place at Westbank on Okanagan Highway No. 5 directly north of the townsite at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday, Aug. 24.

Dr. F. W. Andrew, whose work in connection with historic records of the Okanagan has been prominent, will be among the interested spectators at this important function.

Dr. W. N. Sage, UBC, has been working with the Women's Institute of Westbank on plans for this unveiling ceremony and will open the ceremony on Wednesday with a five-minute talk on the work of the Historic Sites & Monuments Board.

Another speaker of more than passing interest to the Okanagan is Dr. Margaret Ormsby, editor of the annual publication of the Okanagan Historical Society. She is also from the University of B.C. staff.

Mr. Frank Buckland, Kelowna, one of the pioneers in Okanagan Historical Society work will deal with the reasons for choosing the particular site on which the cairn has been erected.

Unveiling of the cairn will be undertaken by Mrs. Dorothy Cellatly, prominent Westbank journalist, whose active work on behalf of the Women's Institute there is known throughout the province. In the ceremony she will dwell shortly on Westbank and privilege accorded the W.I. in being chosen by the historic sites board to care for the cairn.

J. B. Knowles, Kelowna, president of the Okanagan Historical Society and W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South Okanagan will be two other speakers, while L. M. Riley, president of the Westbank Board of Trade will be chairman for the occasion.

Arrangements for a garden party following the ceremony are being made by the Westbank W.I. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Reece.

Pageant is Planned

It is also planned to have a small pageant, depicting fur trade days, as a feature of the unveiling ceremony. A. H. Davidson, whose family came to Westbank in 1893, is in charge of this pageant.

Another Westbank resident, Mickey Derickson, whose ancestors came from the Sandwich Islands to the Okanagan with the first fur traders, will have a part in this pageant.

Inscription on the cairn, marking the Okanagan Brigade Trail, is as follows:

"A link in the fur-trading route from New Caledonia (North Central British Columbia) to the Columbia River.

"First explored by the Astorians in 1811, the trail was used by the Northwest Company and from 1821 by the Hudson's Bay Company. The fur brigades from New Caledonia journeyed overland by this route from Kamloops to Fort Okanagan until 1848.

"The gold seekers of 1858, coming through the Okanagan Valley, followed the old trail, which also in the early 1860's became a second route to the Cariboo."

Mel Monro Must Pay for Connection To New Water Line

Mel Monro made a formal request to the council on August 9 for the right to connect with the new domestic water pipeline which is being installed in the Paradise Flat area.

In his application he pointed out that his service has been unsatisfactory for years, and has paid frontage tax for years; also that he allowed J. Holler to tap onto his line while the latter collected a line and save the municipality connection charge.

It was pointed out that other prospective users of the new line are paying $125 each towards its installation and if Mr. Monro wishes to improve his service by taking the closer connection then he should contribute a like amount.

Water Foreman E. Kercher also stated that, in connection with the Holler hookup, the municipality paid for the pipe and shutoff, while Mr. Holler did the entrenching work. Thus he claimed Mr. Monro's statement that the municipality had not been involved financially was not the case.

ICE QUEEN! — Termed the "best holiday in years" skater Barbara Ann Scott relaxes at beautiful Katy's Cove near St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N.E. Canada's ice queen will shortly start another heavy training program for her big Canadian show starting in September.

Police Cars to Have F.M. Radio

KELOWNA—Latest crime-busting aids soon will make it hotter than ever for criminals in the Okanagan.

Installation of frequency modulation radio receivers and transmitters in B.C. Provincial Police offices in Penticton and Kelowna already has been completed and work now is in progress setting up similar equipment in Vernon.

In a short time every police car in the valley will be equipped with f.m. radio. When this is completed, valley police patrol will be on a par with those at Vancouver Island and Lower Mainland.

Station to station, station to car, car to car communications will be possible with the modern radio equipment. This latest development is all part of the master plan to equip the entire provincial police force with radio.

CHURCH GROUNDS EXEMPT

A bylaw exempting thirty per cent of the Catholic church property on Rosedale avenue from the tax rolls was given first two readings at last week's council session.

Charter Night For Jaycees September 6

Charter Night for the newly-formed, Summerland Junior, Chamber of Commerce has been tentatively set for Tuesday evening, September 6, Mr. Leslie Rumball, charter president, informed the monthly meeting at the Nu-Way Annex Tuesday evening, Aug. 9.

It is expected that Jaycees from Penticton, Kelowna and other Okanagan centres will be present for this important function.

Tentative plans for the charter night will be laid by the executive next week and a special meeting of the local Jaycees will be called later in August to ratify the proceedings.

On Saturday evening, August 20, the Jaycees and their wives will gather at President Rumball's new summer camp at Trout Creek for a beach party and corn roast.

First Polio Case Reported

KELOWNA—First case of poliomyelitis in the Okanagan Valley was reported Thursday morning, when a 22-year-old married woman was rushed to hospital.

Mother of two children, the woman lived outside the city limits in the vicinity of Rutland.

Dr. Helen Zeman, director of South Okanagan Valley Health Unit, stated the woman is a "definite suspect", and added every precaution should be taken by adults and children. The health unit extends from Winfield to the U.S. border.

Dr. Zeman said the case is "definitely a mild one". It marked B.C.'s eighty-second polio case. Greatest outbreak is in coastal regions. There were a total of 49 polio patients in Vancouver hospital, none acutely ill.

The Kelowna woman has been confined to the isolation section of the hospital, and is under close supervision.

COUNCIL TURNS DOWN DR. ANDREW CLAIM

Dr. F. W. Andrew presented the council last week with a domestic water pipe repair bill for $2.12, claiming that he had asked the water department to shut off the water before last winter, but that the pipe had cracked. Foreman E. Kercher explained that the water had been shut off at the municipal shutoff, but the house owned by Dr. Andrew had no stop and waste on its side of the system as required by municipal regulations. Therefore, it was concluded the municipality could take no responsibility for any cracked pipes in the house.

Celebrates 100th Birthday, Aug. 22

ARMSTRONG — Mr. Joseph St. Laurent, of Falkland, will celebrate his 100th birthday on August 22, and the good people of Falkland, in honor of this grand old man of their town, are going to join in a celebration, in the Community hall, on Saturday evening, August 20. All old timers in their immediate district and elsewhere are invited to attend this function.

Mr. St. Laurent is a second cousin of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, who last year, when minister of justice in the Mackenzie King cabinet, sent his relation in Falkland a telegram of congratulation.

New High School Construction Starts

PENTICTON—Dalrymple Construction Co., a local firm, has been awarded the contract on the proposed new Penticton high school unit.

The new structure will replace the high school lost by fire last January.

It is hoped that completion will be possible by January 31, 1950.

Dalrymple's bid of $164,758 was considerably lower than that of the only other bidding contractor, Bennett and White Construction Co. of Vancouver, who bid $180,944.

Merchants Fall To Penticton By 11-4 Count

For four innings Summerland Merchants held Penticton at bay last Wednesday evening at King's park in the southern town, but weakened noticeably in the final frames to lose 11-4 to the entry in the Okanagan International loop.

Return match was played at the Living Memorial park last night.

Coffey was the starting Merchants hurler but he was relieved by Walsh in the fifth when the southern team had established a 7-3 lead. Coffey had left work and gone straight to Penticton without benefit of any meal and was not strong enough to withstand the opposition powerhouse.

Walsh took over and allowed four more runs before the game was called after the first half of the eighth because of darkness.

Wally Day at short had a bad evening and made a number of miscues which cost runs.

George Taylor was the local hero when he plastered the horsehide deep into right field for a home run with two on the bags in the first inning. Day scored the Merchants' fourth tally in the sixth when he singled and was driven around by Brawner and Thompson.

Nick Drossos was the starting

Channon Snow Sets Record

Chanon Snow set a new record at the Summerland Trap club grounds last Sunday when he shot fifty straight without a miss.

In two relays of 25 each, Snow took every bird without a miss, a feat which hasn't been equalled since the local club was started.

Earlier in the season Tom Nelson shot two perfect 25's on two consecutive shoots but did not equal Snow's record for 50 straight on one day's shooting.

HERSHEY TO VISIT HERE

Dr. J. M. Hershey, chief of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service, will be in Summerland on Tuesday afternoon, August 23, and will meet the board of directors of the Summerland General hospital to discuss problems of mutual concern.

Penticton hurler, being replaced in the seventh by Gaten, the former Ashcroft lad who came south last spring to try out with the Capitanos.

Score by innings:
Merchants 300 001 00
Penticton 004 041 2x
Coffey, Walsh and McCargar; Drossos, Gaten and Carolei.

REXALL CUP ON BLOCK SUNDAY

The Rexall cup, emblematic of South Okanagan girls' fastball supremacy will be at stake here next Sunday when Osoyoos meets Summerland.

At present, Osoyoos, Oliver and Summerland are mixed into a round robin series for this championship cup.

Summerland and Oliver girls each have four points, while Osoyoos is trailing with two points. If Summerland defeats Osoyoos, then the local girls will be on top of the heap, otherwise all three teams will be knotted at four points each.

Penticton softball girls, present holders of the cup, are not entered in this competition this year as they are competing for the B.C. softball championship, and are billed to play Victoria, having defeated the best in the interior for the hinterland crown.

Trap Shooters Change Name Of Association

The Okanagan Valley Trap and Skeet Assn. has changed its name to the Interior Trap Shooting Association, President Dr. L. A. Day of Summerland has announced following a recent meeting in Kelowna.

This new association, like its predecessor, is affiliated with the B.C. Rifle Assn. The former officers are carrying on until another general meeting is called. G. A. Laidlaw, Summerland, is the association secretary.

Big interior association shoot of the 1949 season will be held at Kelowna this year on Labor Day, September 5. A large contingent of local trap shooters will go to the Orchard City for this event.

If the various towns can provide the necessary facilities, dates for the annual interior championships shoots during the next few years have been tentatively set. These are as follows:

1950, Vernon; 1951, Lumby; 1952, Peachland; 1953, Summerland; 1954, Revelstoke; 1955, Penticton; 1956, Kamloops.

Fred Turner Wins Seattle Mile Race

Fred Turner, ace Kelowna miller, crossed the finish line ahead of the field at Seattle last Saturday to establish himself as one of the leading millers in the Pacific northwest.

The previous Saturday he won the mile race at the Caledonian Games in Vancouver in 4:37. At Seattle he won in slower time, 4 minutes, 45 seconds. His best time clocked in competition is 4:25.

Red Sox Capture South Okanagan Junior Ball Playoffs Two Straight

Red Sox Travel To Kamloops Sunday

Summerland Red Sox travel to the main line this weekend to play the Kamloops CYO for the Interior junior baseball championship.

Return game is expected to be played here on the following Sunday, August 28. The series will be the best two out of three games.

There is a possibility that if the two teams split the series the August 28 fixture here will be turned into a double-header to offset any further travelling.

Kamloops and Red Sox have two of the strongest junior squads turned out in the interior for years and fans in both towns are anticipating a keen series. Gil Jacobs, star left-handed hurler for the Red Sox, will face the most determined squad of his junior career in this set.

George Dunsdon Shoots Century

George Dunsdon was high man with an even century at the Summerland Rifle Club shoot last Sunday in Garnet Valley. Other scores follow: Art Dunsdon 98, Les Shannon 96, J. Khalembach 95, B. T. Washington 94, Ed Gould 94, J. M. McArthur 93, M. Riha 92, Phil Dunsdon 91, H. Simpson 90, A. Moyle 89, D. Taylor 89, J. Dunsdon 85, C. Lackey 82, Pop Dunsdon 77.

Summerland Red Sox made it two straight last Sunday at King's park in Penticton to capture the South Okanagan junior baseball championship and the John Norwood memorial trophy for the second straight year. It was a 12-6 victory for the Red Sox over Penticton KP Pirates last Sunday, the Red Sox having eked out an 8-6 decision at home the previous weekend.

Arrangements are now being made for the Red Sox to meet the Kamloops CYO juniors, North Okanagan-Mainline junior titlists in a two out of three series for the Interior junior crown.

Arguments galore featured last Sunday's contest, which did not commence until nearly five o'clock because of the Penticton-Crand Coulee ball fest earlier in the afternoon.

Errors by the Penticton infield proved the balance of power in last Sunday's championship affray, as nine miscues were chalked down to the losers. The Red Sox committed three bumbles but played a superior game in the field.

The Red Sox hitting power had an edge on their victims, as well, as they outhit the Pirates 14 to 11. Gil Jacobs went the route for the winners, striking out a half dozen victims. Campbell, although he struck out nine, was in trouble for the final three innings and was relieved by Evans with two down in the ninth.

For the first five innings it was a tight ball game, both teams playing headsup ball. After that, the slump commenced and the play became ragged.

Summerland's young champs took an early lead in the first frame when leadoff man Daryl Weitzel singled and advanced around on errors by Johnston and Eshelman.

The Pirates knotted the count in the last of the second when Maisonneuve drew a walk, stole second and came home on Johnston's mighty triple.

Again the Red Sox went out in front in the fifth when Bob Weitzel singled and came home on clouts by Sandy Jomori and Francis Gould.

The Red Sox really went to town in the sixth when Daryl Weitzel opened proceedings with another triple. Brother Bob was safe and Daryl scored when Johnston made another miscue at short. Eshelman juggled Kato's grounder and two more runs scampered across as Sandy Jomori singled and Gould drove out a double.

Jacobs slipped a bit in the bottom half of the sixth when Baker singled and came across on Fraser's two-bagger. The latter scored on Gould's bad throw to the plate.

That left the count 5-3 for the Sox but the Pirates really went to town in the seventh to take the lead 6-5, for the last time.

A walk and three straight hits, one of them a double by Baker, gave the Pirates their edge as Jacobs weakened for that frame.

The eighth and ninth saw the Red Sox dig in and really go to town on Pitcher Campbell and his Pirates. Bob Weitzel started the affair by drawing a walk, going to second on an error, advancing to third on a steal and scoring the tying run on a passed ball.

Kato had got on board on a fielder's choice, Gould walked and

EMPLOYMENT INCREASE
 For the second consecutive month employment in British Columbia is running ahead of 1948. The May and June figures for 1949 (1925-100) were 196.9 and 204.0, with the corresponding months of 1948 showing 196.1 and 202.0 respectively. Employment for the first 6 months of 1949 is down slightly from the similar 1948 figures, the two indexes being 190.5 for 1949, and 193.6 for 1948.

Hilborn Lake is Causing Concern
 One drawback of the power cut-offs which have been experienced in Summerland the last two weeks has been the inability of the Hilborn lake pump to keep ahead of the water seeping into the basin. Not only has the pump not been operated sufficiently to cope with the water, but the pump itself required repairs which held up its operation.
 As a result the water is crowding onto the roadway a distance of five feet in places, Councillor F. E. Atkinson reported to the council last week. He also complained of a "terrific smell" emanating from the lake on Sunday, July 31, while the pump was closed down for repairs.

Up at Early Hour
 A great deal of hard work went into the designing and preparing of the Summerland gladioli float. The trade board's publicity and tourist traffic committee, headed by Tom Manning, had charge of the float, but to Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bennett and their daughter, Joan Bennett, Summerland's first scholarship winner, fell most of the work.
 Mr. Bennett's famous glads were used throughout. The framework and the blooms were taken to Pentiction Tuesday evening, those who worked on this portion of the exhibit including George Williams, W. A. Henderson, George Stoll, Don Blacklock, Miss Beverley Cousins, Mrs. George Washington, Miss Elizabeth Davies and the Bennetts. Trucks from Smith & Henry and

 About 3:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, ardent workers started to arise and by five o'clock in Pentiction a big work gang was assembled at the new Pollock Sales & Service Ltd. station in Pentiction, where the assembling took place.
 Those who worked for four hours on this part of the float preparation, again apart from the Bennetts were Mrs. Mae Mitchell, Roy Wellwood, Miss Irma Arndt, Art Sladen, Bill Sherwood, Alex Watt, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Armstrong, Tom Manning, Miss Dorothy Blacklock, Kutch, Jean and Michiko Imayoshi, Miss Melva Stevenson, Miss Ruth Klix, Miss Shirley Nichol and Edmund Hardukiewicz. From Kelowna were Miss Nita Bennett and Miss Florence Boyer, houseguests of Miss Bennett.

Strike Threatened By "Happy Compromise"; Agree to 4-Year Formula

Provincial Librarian
Victoria, B.C. Apr 50

At the eleventh hour a "happy compromise" in the tangled relations between the fruit and vegetable industry and the Federation of Fruit and Vegetable Workers Union (AFL) was effected last week in Vancouver when representatives of both sides were called together by the labor relations board.

The Review was informed last week that this meeting was to be held in Kelowna, but the venue was changed to Vancouver.

Under the new settlement, the threatened strike which would have paralyzed the entire industry, was averted. A four-year agreement has been decided upon, and the formula can only be changed under extraordinary circumstances.

It is understood that agreements are being prepared immediately for signature by the unions and the 28 certified packinghouses from Osoyoos to Vernon.

Both sides appear quite satisfied over the finalizing of the agreement and averting the strike. "A happy compromise" is the term used by W. H. Sands, chief of the union in the valley. Leaders of the industry have commented that "it would appear the industry will have four years of peace."

According to a release from L. R. Stephens, one of the leading figures in industry negotiations, the settlement reached includes a clause providing for union preference in the matter of hiring and laying off employees in the fruit industry.

"It is understood that this clause would, in practice, work out somewhat as follows," declares Mr. Stephens:

"When a packinghouse is employing its packing crew for the season, full recognition would first be given its seniority list for each category, that is for sorters, packers, checkers, stampers and ladders. Having fully complied with the seniority list, further additions to the crew would give preference to union members."

This compromise deals with the main point in contention by the union and over which the union was prepared to strike . . . that of giving some measure of union security.

"Exemptions from the general seniority list is provided for key personnel of the warehouse staff, although within this particular group seniority will be recognized on a fair and practical basis," Mr. Stephens continued.

"The new agreement is for a four-year term and may be changed only under extraordinary circumstances. The wage schedule, however, is subject to change on May 1 of each year to whatever extent is determined by the application of the wage formula.

Ties in Basic Wage Rate

"A committee will be set up between now and March 1, 1950, to compile the data necessary for the operation of the formula. The formula ties the basic warehouse wage rates to the ability of the producer or the product itself to pay. This ability is based entirely on returns for and cost of production of a box of apples."

This committee is to meet at least once every three months to discuss general problems of the industry and it is hoped this mutual exchange of viewpoints will result in closer harmony between the industry and the workmen.

It is believed that there is no record of any other perishable industry having worked out a formula of this type whereby the wages paid are to be linked to the cost of production and the ability of the producer to pay the scale of wages.

"Its usefulness and practicability remain to be seen," warns Mr. Stephens. "It has been accepted by both parties in the interests of its stability and it is believed that both parties will make every effort to see that the formula does work."

In the meantime, another disturbing element has entered the picture with a dispute between the United Packinghouse Workers of America, Local 344, Osoyoos and the Osoyoos Co-operative Fruit and Vegetable Growers.

A conciliation board, appointed by the labor relations board, will sit in Penticton on Saturday, August 27 to consider the matters in dispute, namely wages, hours of work, holiday pay, overtime rates, vacation allowances and checkoff.

The board consists of Percy Gomersy, Vancouver, chairman, Herbert Gargrave of the Canadian Congress of Labor as union nominee and E. J. Chambers, Penticton, employers' nominee.

Unveiled Cairn Marking Fur Brigade Trail

On Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 24 at two-thirty, an historic ceremony was performed at Westbank when the cairn to mark the old trail of the storied Fur Brigade was unveiled by Mrs. Dorothy Gellatly of Westbank. This is the first such marker to be erected in the Okanagan, and indicates a noted spot on the overland route from the mouth of the Columbia river to the Fraser river.

Taking part in the ceremony were: M. L. Riley, chairman of Westbank Board of Trade; J. B. Knowles and Rev. J. C. Goodfellow, president and secretary, Okanagan Historical Society; Dr. W. N. Sage, UBC, chairman Historic Sites and Monuments Board; Dr. Margaret Ormsby, president B.C. Historical Society; Frank Buckland, authority on Okanagan history; W. A. C. Bennett, MLA; and Mr. Mickey Derrickson whose ancestors came into the valley 130 years ago, and whose grandfather was a packer for Father Pandosy, early priest at Okanagan Mission.

A crowd of over two hundred people gathered to see the unveiling included many old-timers from various centres in the valley, and members of the historical societies.

A garden-party followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Reece at which Mrs. A. C. Hoskins and Mrs. W. H. H. Moffat poured tea. Dr. F. W. Andrew, Summerland's historian, attended with Mrs. Andrew.

The Westbank Women's Institute have been entrusted with the care of the cairn.

Freshness and Color Combine to Make 24th Flower Show Outstanding

Summerland's 24th annual gladiolus and flower show was held in Ellison hall on Wednesday, August 24 in the afternoon and evening. It was very colorful and outstanding for excellence and freshness of specimens shown.

If something to represent the whole of late midsummer with just a hint of fall could be gathered into one container, the basket of flowers with which Mrs. E. H. Bennett won first prize in that class would, perhaps, most nearly epitomize the season.

It held the "Manchu" gladiolus, grown from bulbs developed by Miss Beatrice Palmer of Cowichan, sister of Dr. R. C. Palmer, yellow blooms with red in the centre; "Orange Gold" glads, deep yellow calendula, garnet-shaded antirrhinum and gypsophila; lavish in color and in the flowers exhibited.

The name of Wm. Snow appeared very often on prize winning cards, and Mr. Snow took first over many feminine competitors for his arranged bowl for table centre, and will be awarded the Mrs. Magnus Tait Memorial rose bowl.

Winning the horticultural society's new book prize in second place was Mrs. E. C. Bingham's delicate, sweet pea arrangement. Mrs. Gordon Ritchie's bowl of clear yellow antirrhinum and mauve scabiosa was greatly admired.

There was a many-petaled large pure white dahlia "Dorsey Sanburg" and Mrs. E. C. Bingham's riot of beautiful nasturtiums rated a first. Petunias, asters and pom-pon dahlias with their honey-combed effect were shown, and for salpiglossis Mrs. J. Dunn won a first prize.

Mass Flower Display

The display of flowers from the experimental station was permeated with the sweetness of stocks, and an arrangement of striking tuberous begonias attracted attention. "Cut-and-come-again" was the optimistic name of a zinnia.

At the east end of the hall were the gladioli from the Bennett farm. "Susannah" a pink frilly-edged beauty was reminiscent of a dainty southern belle, and an intriguing combination of light and dark colors as well as names was that of "Black Magic" and "Leading Lady."

Mr. Kenneth McKay, Naramata, won first for his garden display and Mrs. M. E. Collas, president of the society was second in this class. Unusual specimens of montbretia, spheculum lilies, and a fine red pentstemon added interest.

Judges were Mr. Wm. Todd, and Mr. John Smith, district horticulturist, both of Kelowna.

There was a good attendance in the afternoon, and a large crowd in the evening when Mrs. M. E. Collas, president of the society gave out the prizes which were announced by Mrs. E. H. Bennett. The prize list will be published in full next week.

Hundreds of Gladioli Blooms—

Government Will Provide Third Of Cost But Community Must Assist Hospital—Hershey

That the provincial government will assist by allowing one-third of the cost of new equipment additions to the Summerland hospital but doubts the necessity of a nurses' home addition was the information given directors of the Summerland General hospital on Tuesday afternoon in a communication from the provincial department of health and welfare.

These equipment additions amount to slightly more than $3,000 out of a total list of improvements and additions outlined by the hospital directors, totalling $9,289.

Directors were called together Tuesday afternoon to meet Dr. J. M. Hershey, commissioner of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service and Mr. R. Englebert, executive assistant to the commissioner and head of the public relations branch of the service.

Dr. Hershey stressed throughout the discussions that the hospital insurance service was set up to take care of operating costs only and could not concern itself with capital outlays needed by hospitals. Provision is made that hospitals must set aside a depreciation account so that a fund can be built up, in time, to meet necessary major additions and expansions.

Regarding new construction and capital costs the provincial government is still providing a generous contribution, generally about one-third, as it has done in the past. This is a better contribution to hospital expansion than any other provincial government provides, he pointed out.

The community has a responsibility to maintain its hospital just as much as before the insurance service was commenced, Dr. Hershey pointed out. Since the insurance service was instituted on January 1 many persons have considered that the government has taken over the entire management of the hospitals, but such is not the case, he insisted.

The insurance service only provides the hospitals with the cost of operation, on a businesslike basis, and does not make any provision for hospital expansion or extraordinary expenditures. "One in five are getting value of hospital service each year in B.C.," Dr. Hershey pointed out, and these persons are really appreciative of the savings which accrue. Sooner or later every person contributing to the scheme will reap the benefit.

Two-Thirds Locally
It was made clear that if the hospital directors wish to continue their plan to provide better facilities for the hospital then they must be prepared to put up two-thirds

Change Deadline For Classified

Commencing next week, the deadline for Classified Advertising in The Summerland Review will be twelve o'clock noon each Wednesday. The Classified columns are being moved to an inside position and will be put through our presses on an earlier run than formerly. Classified advertisements which are received after noon on Wednesday will be inserted in a Too Late to Classify column.

Will Extend Boundaries of Municipality

First reading of a bylaw which will extend the boundaries of the municipality six hundred feet into Okanagan lake from the present shoreline was given at Tuesday's council meeting. This move has been projected for some time but the legal phraseology of the bylaw has only just been received from Boyle, Atkins & Emerson, who received the advice of the provincial government before submitting the necessary draft. The southern boundary of the municipality is the north side of Trout Creek and the municipal limits extend beyond Crescent Beach. R. F. Brown recently made a re-survey of the northern boundaries of the municipality and Tuesday's council meeting approved passage of his account for $174 towards cost of this work.

Inspection of All Meat Offered For Sale Sought By Municipal Session and mainline gathered in Kelowna yesterday for a quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Municipal Assn. and decided to seek authority for municipalities to impound parked cars, seek stricter inspection of meats and further government aid for public libraries, including the Okanagan Union Library.

Vernon was the instigator of a move to impound parked cars, stating that some vehicles have been parked for months at a time on city streets.

Approval was given to a resolution passed by the South Okanagan Health Unit whereby provincial legislation will be sought so that all meat offered for sale should be passed for inspection first. It was stated that 25 percent of the meat sold today in the Okanagan is not inspected.

The meeting considered resolutions which will come before the UBCM convention next month at Victoria which call for removal of the seventy cents per day hospital charge to municipalities and a changed deal for municipal councils in relation to school assessment levies.

One of the highlights yesterday was the acceptance by George H. Dunn, pioneer Kelowna City clerk of a life membership in the Okanagan Municipal Assn. This move was proposed by Mayor T. R. B. Adams, of Vernon. "In respect of the great number of years he has worked, not only for the City of Kelowna but for all of us in central B.C."

"Mayors and aldermen come and go," remarked Mayor Adams, "but it is the city clerks, assessors and engineers who form the backbone of the municipalities."

In accepting the honor, Mr. Dunn called upon the municipal delegates to have confidence in their civic employees.

George Meckling, Kelowna city engineer, presented the gathering with an interesting paper on sewage disposal plants and following the session a number of delegates visited the Kelowna sewage plant and observed its operations.

Next session of the association will be held in Kamloops, probably in November. The executive was instructed to try and arrange a bus to conduct municipal delegates to the mainline city. Mayor Moffat of Kamloops tendered the invitation.

Motor Licence Fees
Kelowna presented a resolution asking for a more equitable distribution of motor vehicle licence fees but this subject will be studied further by a committee which will report back to another meeting.

Mayor W. E. Hughes-Games, Kelowna, suggested that the municipalities share should be based on registrations but Councillor C. E. Bentley pointed out that this would work a hardship on communities such as Summerland, where facilities for issuance of licences are not of the best and many persons travel to Penticton for their car licences or send to Victoria.

Ald. J. W. Johnson of Penticton did not favor the resolution calling for an inspection of all meat sold to the public as he considered it would raise the costs to the consumer. However, the municipal officials decided that such legislation would be well worthwhile and also voted down a Mayor Lyon of Penticton amendment calling for controlled abattoirs.

Another Kelowna move, to prevent excessive use of land for "farm" purposes within a city limits where 90 percent or more of the property is used for residential purposes, was withdrawn for further study. It was felt by some Kelowna al-

Game Regulations For 1949 Season Are Now Issued

Game regulations for the 1949 season have now been issued by the B.C. Game Commission and the ministry of mines and resources, Ottawa, which controls migratory game birds.

According to a digest compiled by the Summerland Fish and Game Assn. secretary, W. A. (Bud) Stouart, the duck season will be from October 8 to December 6, there being no split season as advocated by interior sportsmen.

Daily bag limit for ducks and geese, the latter having the same season dates, is 8 ducks and 5 geese, with possession being two days' limit. Hours of shooting are from sunrise to one hour after sunset.

This season and bag limits apply to South Okanagan electoral district, and all dates are inclusive. October 1 to 15 are the inclusive dates of grouse shooting, blue, willow and franklin being allowed. The daily bag limit is four of one species or eight of all species.

After the closed season on pheasants last year, South Okanagan sportsmen can shoot pheasants in South Okanagan from October 15 to November 13, these being the same dates as the open season at the coast.

A daily bag limit of 2 with a season limit of 10 is allowed. Hours of shooting are from 8 a.m. to 3:30

Hard Surfacing Of Sandhill Nearly Over

This weekend should see the completion of the hard surfacing of the Sandhill road to Trout Creek, Reeve Reid Johnston informed the council on Tuesday, dealing with a report given him by Roads Supervisor D. M. Wright.

It was the council comment that the pre-mix surfacing had been laid in a more uniform manner than the mixing of gravel and oil on the roadway. It was explained that this was partly due to the use of the Interior Contracting Co. oil truck, which was new to the municipal workmen.

The Gulch road has been treated with calcium chloride from the end of the blacktop to its connection with the two main roads in the lower town.

Next main job confronting the roads department is the finishing of the hospital hill from the hospital to lower town, following which Mr. Wright intends to tackle sidewalk construction in lower town.

It wasn't stated on Tuesday, but the council intends to proceed with the Garnet Valley corners as soon as irrigation season ends, about September 15.

PENTICTON WINS FROM MERCHANTS

At the local ball park last night, Penticton trimmed Summerland Merchants 7-2 in a listless baseball contest which lacked much spark. Heavier hitting by the visitors, plus two misjudged fly balls in the outfield accounted for the difference between the teams.

dermen that such "farm land" within city limits only pays assessment of $350 per acre or less and the city is prevented from deriving higher taxation benefits. Such farm lots should be divided for residential purposes, it was contended.

p.m. with the exception of the first three days, when hunting of pheasants cannot start until 12 o'clock noon.

The same season and hours apply to quail, but the bag limits vary, being four daily and 24 for the season.

First hunting which is allowed will be for buck deer, over one year of age, the season commencing on September 15 and concluding November 30.

There is a big change this year in that only one buck per hunter is allowed in the season. Last year, two buck deer could be shot.

New Regulations
It is specifically laid down in the game regulations that migratory game birds, pheasants, or quail cannot be hunted with a rifle and the definition of such a weapon includes a .22 rifle.

The hunting or shooting of deer by the use of a shotgun, the use of any rifle loaded with rim-fire shells or the use of full steel metal-cased bullets is also prohibited. All licence holders must be in possession of the required tag while hunting deer, moose or elk. A revision of laws this year provides that the magazine of a pump gun may hold two shells, a departure from previous years when only one shell was allowed in the magazine.

Industry Loses Dynamic Leader

OUR first recollection of the late president of the BCFGA dates back quite a few years, when "Jock" Stirling would arise in a growers' meeting in Kelowna, generally clothed in a green turtle-necked sweater, which was his favorite garb.

He was not an orator then, nor did he exhibit much tolerance in matters which caused differences of opinion. Few persons, in those days, would have ever believed that the man who spoke haltingly and with no apparent gift for organization, would rise in a few years to the high post of "premier" of the "growers' parliament".

The late Jock Stirling was a man of definite ideas, but he also possessed a driving force which, when it was diverted towards the betterment of his fellow grower proved a great boon to this important fruit business.

Jock Stirling never sought public office . . . it was thrust upon him. He never wanted to be in the limelight, yet when he was forced under the full glare of the public eye, he was big enough to rise to the occasion.

Jock was an impatient man. Yet in a surprisingly short space of time he learned to curb his impetuosity and to look carefully at the other fellows viewpoint before casting his decision. With hardly any knowledge of the proper conducting of meetings, he learned quickly and efficiently just how far he should allow speakers to go and still keep control of his gathering.

Jock was a sergeant-major at BCFGA meetings, yet he developed a polish which the ordinary martinet lacks. His inherent sense of humor always stood him in good stead.

The fruit industry has lost a valuable man, at a time when it can ill afford to have any of its leaders missing. It is safe to say that the constant working towards the betterment of the industry, the constant driving to do a job faithfully and well drove Jock to an early and untimely end. Summerland growers, who were beginning to know him well, will joint with the rest of the Okanagan in mourning the loss of a big man, a leader.

Following the largely-attended funeral on Saturday, one close observer of grower activities was heard to observe: "I don't think Jock had an enemy. For a man in his position, that might not be considered a compliment. But for a man of Jock's makeup I think it is a high tribute."

More Than One Type of Road Hog

WHEN we hear the expression "road hog", we immediately think of a fat, pompous individual, a cigar stuck defiantly from the side of his mouth, hurtling his huge black car down the middle of the highway with no regard to oncoming traffic or minor obstacles which are in his path.

That is one conception of a "road hog", but we have in mind another species which causes a great deal of anguish on the highways and in many cases causes serious accidents and deaths.

He is the driver who refuses to dim his lights at night. And he isn't alone. He has hundreds of companions who tear through the dark, their headlights beaming straight into the eyes of the oncoming motorists and never giving them a chance to avoid any obstacle, or sometimes even to see the side of the road.

It only takes a small action by the foot to flick the light onto dim and another flick to have them bright again, but there are many motorists who just cannot be bothered even to accomplish that simple little action.

And while on the subject of highways, we cannot stop before we add two more categories to our list of persons who just shouldn't exist. We refer to pedestrians who insist on walking on the right hand side of the road, and cyclists who pedal along without lights or reflectors.

There should be a law . . . well, there is, but the law cannot catch everyone.

Calgary Herald Termed Traitor

THERE is great consternation among main line cities, especially Revelstoke, concerning the Trans-Canada highway and the Calgary Herald comments thereon. The Calgary daily has been termed a "traitor to the cause" and has heaped on itself the criticism of the Revelstoke Board of Trade and other citizens on the route from Calgary and Banff to Kamloops.

Coming on top of the determined but, we think, completely ineffectual caravan from Edmonton to Kamloops and then Vancouver using the Yellowhead route and publicizing that road as the logical Trans-Canada route, the Calgary thoughts are especially interesting.

There is grave concern shown in the northern part of B.C., where the population is scattered and there are great gaps between any human habitation along the roadways. These sections realize that their voice must be heard with extra emphasis ever to convince authorities that they have the best routes for this highway, and this is especially true when the main population of the province hinterland is centred along the southern transprovincial route.

But we will let the Calgary Herald give you its version which has brought the charge of "traitor" upon its unbowed head:

"The word from Ottawa is that work on the Trans-Canada highway will begin early next spring, provided the provinces can agree on a route. This is good news; and we only hope that Robert Winters, the Minister of Reconstruction, who made this announcement, is not being over-optimistic.

"Our correspondent, Reginald Hardy, reports a general feeling in Ottawa that the Kicking Horse route through Calgary and Banff will be adopted through the Rocky Mountains. That, of course, depends on a number of factors, among them the question whether the fervid and not very enlightened advocacy of the Yellowhead route, which has been going on at high pressure in Edmonton, can be headed off.

"Our own view is that neither route is the best available, and that the most sensible way through the Rockies is the Crows' Nest Pass. It is closest to the United States border; it would be much easier to maintain during the winter months than either of the other two; a good pilot road already exists over much of the distance and there are several towns along the route.

"On a short-sighted basis, the Kicking Horse route might appear to be the most advantageous for Calgary and Banff; indeed, some people have taken this so much for granted that they have quite wrongly accused this newspaper of plugging for that route. We have done no such thing; on the contrary, we believe that the Crows' Nest route, in the long run, would be better for all concerned.

"It would give American tourists an easily-accessible all-Canadian route through the mountains without the necessity of going a long way north of the border. We believe that the attractions of the country around Banff are such that if people want to visit them they will do so, regardless of whether the Trans-Canada Highway runs that way or not. There is already a hard-surfaced highway to Calgary and Banff which would connect with the Trans-Canada highway if the Crows' Nest route were taken.

"For the Yellowhead route, it seems to us, there is nothing to be said whatever. It is much too far from the border to be of any value at all in attracting tourist traffic, and it would carry cross-Canada road traffic 150 miles or more away from the centres of population in southern Saskatchewan and Alberta.

"The Yellowhead route has certain superficial advantages over the Kicking Horse, the chief of which is that, as the construction of the CNR proved, the Yellowhead is an easier pass to negotiate. But this is far more than offset by its inconvenient location, and only the blindest of Edmonton boosters could fail to see this. We trust that their misguided agitation will be firmly dealt with by the provincial and federal governments.

Signifying Nothing

By RUSTICUS

That Summerland's Boy Scouts made such a good showing at the jamboree in Ottawa this summer and have such a flourishing troop is a great credit to both themselves and their Scoutmasters, not only Don Fisher, but his predecessors, Gordon Blowett, Bill Boyd, and others, right back to John Tait who started Scouting in Summerland some forty years ago.

Constructive and instructive work with young people is one of the greatest contributions any man or woman can make to community or country, and those who give up their time to helping with such activities as Cubs, Scouts, Guides, CGIT, and the basketball, hockey and baseball teams are pretty valuable citizens.

Maybe most credit of all, on the large scale, for the Boy Scouts organization should still go back, though, to the man who founded it 41 years ago.

Not many, now, remember that Lord Baden Powell first won fame by his 215-day defense of Mafeking in the Boer War, and that when it was relieved on May 18, 1900, there were such delirious celebrations in London that the word 'mafficking' came into the language as a synonym for riotous exultation.

Probably it was because his experiences in the Boer War and previous African campaigns taught him that British soldiers brought up in cities or restricted farms were too poor at scouting and woodcraft to be any match for natives or Boers in open country fighting that he first started the organization. Or it may be that he enjoyed camping out on these campaigns so much that he wanted to share his experiences with others, and camp-craft has always played a big part in Boy Scout activities.

Other men come into it too. Kipling would hardly seem to fit; the short-sighted little poet and story teller was hardly an outdoor-type. Yet no one has written more movingly of the pleasures of outdoor life than Kipling, in such pieces as "The Poet of the Young Men". And much of the ritual of the Cubs is lifted bodily from Kip-

Whaddya Mean 'Cold War'?

REPORTING ON THE UNIVERSITY

This Business of a University Education

This is for those of you who are on an educational razor's edge these days—for the high school graduate contemplating a university education; for the parent pondering the advisability of sending a son or daughter to university.

There are many questions passing through your minds as the fateful day of enrollment approaches. A university education represents a sizeable investment; what can you expect in the way of a return? What can the university do to prepare you for a career? Is it possible that you will put in four long years of study only to find your chosen field overcrowded when you graduate? Should a student plan to specialize in a given field rather than to take general courses in the same field? How can one make certain that he is taking the right courses, that he is working toward the right career? These are only a few of the questions that must be in your mind if you are considering a university education.

There is no definitive answer to many of these questions. Some of them can only be answered by the individual himself. Determination to succeed, a high degree of initiative, and a fairly accurate idea of your own aptitudes will carry you far in your training for a career.

In general it may be said that the university student today is confronted with a greater degree of competition than in the past. Enrollment in all the Canadian universities is up. More students are graduating every year in every vocational field. However, this fact alone should not deter a person from taking a university education, since competition must become a very real part of your life sooner or later.

Your main concern should be to equip yourself to meet the demands of the society in which you live, and it is in this objective that the university can assist you. In part it does this by providing practical standards; by encouraging you to think as an individual; to assemble your thoughts methodically, and to present them in a way that everyone will understand.

For the fortunate person who has decided what his life work will be the university offers specific instruction. It is equipped to teach technical skills and all the theory and techniques that lead to a thorough training in any field.

A word of caution should be inserted here, however. Many individuals think they know what their chosen field will be. Actual experience has shown that fifty percent of them have made an unwise choice. The University of British Columbia has taken steps to prevent an unfortunate choice of vocation by setting up the university counselling and placement bureau. All new students are encouraged to take a set of basic aptitude tests before selecting their courses of study. In this way they can launch themselves safely in a general field for the first two years, and then on the basis of this narrow their field when they have had a chance to examine the various courses of study.

The problem of getting a job after graduation is one that cannot be ignored. Mr. John F. McLean, director of the counselling and placement bureau, offers an encouraging word. "Seventy-five percent of our recent graduates are working in fields related to their interests." Overcrowding in any profession is a direct result of economic conditions; and it is quite possible that graduates in the future will find certain employment avenues temporarily blocked.

"The cause is never lost," emphasizes Mr. McLean. "Graduates with initiative and imagination will direct their abilities and their training into some other work. With the experience they gain it becomes easier for them to enter their chosen field through a 'side door' later on.

Dean Walter H. Gage has advised many students in his years as an educationalist. He regards the university as more than a training ground for a career. "It is important to earn a living," he states, "but it is equally important to learn how to live."

Students have a natural tendency to concentrate on the economic advantages of a university training. Dean Gage reminds us that there are broader, equally important aspects to consider. "Some subjects such as history, philosophy, and literature do not lend directly to a vocation but they do assist one to live a full and happy life." Life at university is different. In

THIRTY YEARS AGO
August 8, 1919

A. R. Lord, former Kelowna school principal, has been appointed school inspector for this district.

Shortage of sugar on the prairies is interfering with the sale of soft fruit. Eastern refiners are shipping to export markets instead of supplying the needs of the west.

C. W. Lees, formerly principal of the Summerland public schools has been appointed principal of the public school at Kelowna.

Appointment of Professor W. T. Broad to the post of magistrate is being sought by the municipal council as there is no magistrate or police court here at present.

"With approximately 150 motor cars, it is time that Summerland had an automobile association." Rev. H. A. Solly and R. E. White have been named provisional chairman and secretary, respectively, along with a committee of Messrs Lawler, Lees, Tait and Solly.

Summerland will have a display of fruit at the Vancouver Exhibition Sept. 8 to 13 and the Summerland Board of Trade is arranging details under a committee of Messrs. Kelley, Zimmerman, Tait, Helmer and Agur.

F. A. Miller at Bathfield has been supplied with a rain gage by the weather department of the provincial government. Later, he expects to be supplied with a thermometer, and be set up as a meteorological station.

Lieut. C. Edmund Bentley arrived home Thursday night looking in fine form and none the worse for his war experiences.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
August 7, 1924

Through the efforts of H. H. Thompson, Peachland will soon become the sweet potato centre for B.C. His sweet potatoes are finding ready sale on the prairies.

Who owns the land on which the new municipal bathing house and other nearby buildings between the road and water now stand? The council is debating this point.

One of the first accomplishments of the Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Assn., is the issuance of a new map showing the trail from Wenatchee to Barkerville.

Summerland had the honor of entertaining last Thursday afternoon the King's representative in Canada, Lord Byng of Vimy and Lady Byng. The party arrived here by CPR boat shortly after 3:30 o'clock and was escorted to Peach Orchard, where a large number of citizens had gathered to greet them, including ex-service men in uniform. Reeve Campbell tendered the official welcome. Summerland Girl Guides, under their leaders Mrs. H. Pares and Miss Rene Harris, presented Lady Byng with a bouquet. They visited the Log Cabin, where Lady Byng showed great interest in the displays of pottery and other local handicraft and the co-op packing house and fruit ranches, including those of S. W. J. Feltham, R. S. Jackson and R. H. Atkinson. Mr. K. S. Hogg conducted the governor-general around the district while Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Koop and Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Solly conducted the rest of the party.

A mudslide on the highway just north of Crescent Beach nearly engulfed a car driven by Mrs. Appleton of Penticton, who was accompanied by her son and small daughter. Mrs. Appleton and the boy left the car to remove some debris from the road when the slide came down, nearly covering the car which still contained the little girl. The car was extricated and the party returned to Peachland where the machine and occupants transferred to the lake boat.

J. W. Jones, MLA for South Okanagan and R. H. Pooley, MLA for Esquimalt have been mentioned as possible leaders of the opposition in the provincial legislature.

Mrs. Rowley of the Government telegraph office here and her friend, Miss McMillan of the Penticton office, were rescued from drowning in Skaha lake by Vic Pryce, of Penticton.

The Occidental Fruit Co. is now located in its new packing house just east of the high school.

every respect it is a vital, stimulating experience. The student discovers that his freedoms are many and varied, and with these new freedoms comes a new set of responsibilities. He must depend on his own initiative as he never did before.

If he is wise he will regard extra-curricular activities as an important part of his education, and he will take part in club activities on the campus, as well as attending worthwhile events in the nearby city. The amount of time spent on extra-curricular activities depends on the student's ability to keep up with his studies, and most students are able to strike a wise balance between studies and recreational activities.

Teen Town
Hope you all enjoyed yourself at the hayride Friday night. For once, something I said was going to happen actually came off. Seeing that it was so successful we will be having one next year (that's pretty safe to say as you will all have forgotten about it by then, I hope).
Next Saturday or possibly Friday (because of the ball team) there will just be an ordinary dance. For many of the out of town kids this will be their last dance in Summerland. So let's have a good turnout and really show them a good time.
Thanks again go to all the people who turned out to work on the old college gym. Projects for the night were painting window frames, putting windows and ripping out boards on the inside and outside. One thing I noticed was the disappointing lack of Summerland girls there—only two. Surely there are more girls who live around town and have a spare evening. So next work party which will more than likely (but don't quote me) be next Thursday night let's see a better turnout of girls.

Two Cabinet Ministers Are Popular Men

Mr. Harry Bowman, newly elected member for the Fort George riding in the Provincial Legislature, and Captain John Henry Cates, member for North Vancouver, have been appointed ministers of the crown by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor upon the recommendation of Premier Byron I. Johnson.

The two new ministers took their oaths of office at government house at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 21, when Mr. Bowman became minister of agriculture and Captain Cates, minister of labor.

Mr. Cates, in assuming the labor portfolio, brings to fruition a policy enunciated by the government at the last session of the legislature when it was generally agreed that the attorney-general was carrying too heavy a load when he incorporated with his work the manifold responsibilities of the labor department.

"The appointment of Mr. Cates as minister of labor will enable more attention to be devoted to matters of labor relations. For the first time the labor department will be administered by a minister of the crown whose responsibilities will not be divided," Premier Johnson points out.

Mr. Cates is president and managing-director of C. H. Cates and Sons Limited, which operates a towboat business.

Mr. Bowman, Premier Johnson indicated, was a natural choice for the agriculture portfolio.

Born and raised on an Ontario farm, Mr. Bowman is an agriculture graduate of the University of Saskatchewan, a breeder and exhibitor of livestock. He achieved singular success with his stock at the international livestock show in Chicago.

Mr. Bowman has acquired a first-class knowledge of the province as he has officiated as judge at many fairs and frequently has been used in a consultative capacity by both provincial and federal agricultural authorities.

Box 13, Summerland,
August 20, 1949

Editor, The Review:
My friends and I were disappointed that no mention was made in your last issue, of the Indian Reserve float in the Peach Festival parade at Penticton.

It was artistic with its realistic setting, the tepee, campfire and family group. Over the cap the little Indian boy with his bow and arrow stood like a small statue in bronze making a wonderful figure-head.

Our congratulations to the Indian community for their enterprise and reminder of B.C.'s historic past.
Sincerely yours,
MURIEL E. CREESE.

(Ed's Note: We agree heartily that the Indian Reserve float was one of the best in the Peach Festival parade, but we lacked the space last week to mention all the floats. We would like to mention one error, however, in that we stated the Temperance Union float was exhibited by Penticton and Summerland, whereas the Trout Creek and West Summerland groups of the Women's Christian Temperance Union were the exhibitors and had gone to a great deal of time and effort to make this float one of the worthwhile entries. We are sorry that we were misinformed regarding the origin of the Temperance float.)

Try Again to Improve Creek

Reeve R. A. Johnston, at his own suggestion, will make another endeavor to bring property owners bordering Eneas creek together for the co-operative purpose of improving the creek to prevent flooding in the winter and spring seasons.

The flow through Eneas creek will be cut down to a minimum when Garnet Valley dam is shut down on September 15 and any work to be undertaken could be started by October 1, it was felt.

Water Foreman E. Kercher advocates that proper levels of the creek be taken as far back as the Chadburn property in Garnet Valley and suggested that Roads Supervisor D. M. Wright could do this work more efficiently than himself. He promised to lend all necessary assistance to Mr. Wright in this work.

Miss Elsie Hack, daughter of Mrs. E. Hack, is in Kelowna General hospital where she underwent an eye operation, and is progressing favorably.

Rotary Looks to Every Member To Serve His Community, Says Roscoe Shelley, New Governor

"Rotary is a tremendous, far-flung organization, operating through assemblies to develop the individual Rotarian into a man who will live the way he should and see things to do in his community... not say, 'Why don't they do it?'... and see that those things get done."

District Governor Roscoe Shelley, of Sunnyside, Ore., made this statement to the Rotary Club of Summerland on Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex on the occasion of his first official visit to the local club.

Governor Shelley has been visiting Rotary clubs throughout the Okanagan and brought to Summerland a message of hope for the continued improvement of international friendship, based on the fellowship shown at such gatherings as international assemblies of Rotary governors.

"Once you have a Rotarian made he comes to Rotary club

Pathos and Humor Are Twin Sisters Kiwanians Told

"The ancient Greeks discovered that pathos and humor are twin sisters; that they walk hand in hand," declared J. H. Lee-Grayson in a scholarly discourse on humor to the Kiwanis Club of Summerland at its weekly supper meeting in the Nu-Way Hotel Monday evening.

"Humor is as old as the spoken word," the speaker declared, pointing out by means of story and anecdote the various types of humor which are typical of the nations themselves.

To illustrate the relation of pathos and humor, he pointed to the comic supplements where some persons, such as the Katzenjammer Kids or Little Iodine are continually playing jokes on their parents and others which are painful to the recipient but riotously funny to the perpetrators.

He called upon his own wide experiences in various lands to illustrate more clearly the close relationship which exists and has existed through the ages.

because he would rather be there than anywhere else," he explained.

Rotary, at the top, consists of a president and fourteen directors, five of whom come from the United States. At Lake Placid this year some 700 international officers and district governors representing many countries gathered for the international assembly.

From all over the world these Rotarians, each interested in the others problems at home, assembled in one building, where no money was exchanged for any purpose until the end of the session.

At first, the differences in color and dress were quite apparent but as the delegates mingled and came to know each other the differences disappeared and the delegates came to a better understanding of each others problems, he declared.

Results in Years Ahead

Pervading the entire conference was the hope that with leadership such as was gathered there, that world peace can be accomplished.

"Maybe we will never see the results in our lifetime," warned Governor Shelley, but he insisted that with men of many nations thinking and working for world peace that international misunderstandings can eventually be eliminated.

Monetary differences, he believed, are the main causes of world problems and he instanced the difficulties which confront visitors from foreign lands in dealing with the rates of exchange.

"We have to clear up all these irritating problems of monetary differences before we can get international understanding," he emphasized.

Briefly, Governor Shelley outlined the four objects of Rotary. The first, to encourage and foster the ideal of service, he dealt with at some length and gave as his interpretation of "service," "thoughtfulness of others" and "helpfulness to others."

High ethical standards of personal life and business practices are just part of the Golden Rule, and he added that the businessman who gives the best service generally has the most profitable business. He emphasized dignity in every business concern.

The fourth object of Rotary is the advancement of international understanding and Governor Shelley insisted, in conclusion, that "we must have that before we can get friendship and peace."

Governor Roscoe Shelley was accompanied from his meeting with the Kelowna Rotary club by Rotarians Harry Chapin and H. A. Truswell, of that city.

Bride-Elect of October Honored

On Tuesday evening Miss Gweneth Atkinson entertained at a miscellaneous shower in her home in honor of Miss Nan Nixon whose marriage to Mr. Alec Watt is a coming event of early October.

The guest of honor was taken completely by surprise when upon arrival she was led into the living room where twenty friends were gathered, and was seated in an archway from which pink and white streamers were hung centered by a large bell.

Honoring her fiancé's position as District Agriculturist the beautifully wrapped gifts were presented in a large pink and green apple. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Audrey Long and Miss Marion Campbell.

The bride elect's table was covered by a lace cloth upon which the shower cake was flanked by mauve and white stocks in silver vases.

Invited guests included Mrs. Gordon, Nixon of Ottawa, Mrs. G. Atkinson, Mrs. E. Tait, Mrs. D. Spalding, Mrs. E. Skinner, Mrs. R. Wellwood, Mrs. D. Tait, Mrs. K. Sayers, Mrs. C. Haddrell, Mrs. H. J. Barkwill and Mrs. W. Hampson, and the Misses Audrey and Catherine Long of Groat's Ranch, Maell White, Doreen Tait, Gwen Lamcraft, Marion Campbell, Audrey McLean, Mildred Clark and E. Verity.

Attend Christening At West Vancouver

Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Andrew, and Mrs. Andrew's sister, Mrs. Dixon of Dunnville, Ont., who is visiting her for the summer, left by car this morning to drive to Vancouver.

In the coast city they will attend the christening on Saturday afternoon in the Anglican church, West Vancouver of their grandson and nephew, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Andrew. The baby is being given the names William John, is called "John", and he will wear his father's christening robe which has been in his paternal grandmother's family for over seventy-five years.

The Andrews will be away about two weeks.

CHILDREN NEED FOSTER HOMES

Miss E. Adams, social welfare worker of Penticton, has a great many children needing foster homes. Many of these girls and boys are wards of the social service department and are not for adoption but need home care and affection very badly while adjustments are made in their immediate family relations. Board is paid for these children.

Infants and babies that are for adoption need foster homes, too, during the time when they are held by the social service department until necessary legal and other procedures are carried out prior to formal adoption.

People in this district interested in keeping one or more of these children as an act of kindness and social help may get in touch with Miss Joan Appleton, PHN.

Vancouver Nuptials Of Interest Here

A quiet wedding took place in Vancouver on Saturday, August 13, when Miss Bernice Eleanor Clarke, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clarke was united in marriage with Mr. Orville Lee MacDonald, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacDonald, Cowichan Lake, B.C.

The young couple have been spending a week visiting at the home of the groom's parents, and will make their home in Vancouver.

Penticton Japanese Have Many Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Inaba of Penticton had a pleasant surprise the weekend of August 16 when friends from far and near came to visit them unexpectedly. From Fort William, Ont., came Mr. Tim Yoshida, and from Lethbridge, Alta., Mrs. Shigi Furukawa, while others were Mr. and Mrs. Nami Kawaguchi and Mr. Pinky Kawaguchi from Vernon and Mrs. Yuki Takai and Miss Mae Inaba of Summerland.

It was a coincidence that Messrs. Kawaguchi and Yoshida and Mrs. Furukawa formerly lived at Cumberland, B.C.

PARTY HELD IN "DOG PATCH" STYLE

In honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Turnbull of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuhar entertained at a "Dog Patch" costume party at their home on Saturday evening, Aug. 20.

About thirty friends arrived in hill-billy costumes. Mr. Wm. Laidlaw as Mammy Yokum created an authentic touch, and Mrs. Wm. Laidlaw coming along as Daisy Mae added further to the comic strip picture. Mr. Turnbull was Lonesome Pole Cat, and Mr. Kenneth Boothe represented L'il Abner. Marryin' Sam was there in the person of Mr. Wm. Nelson, and Mr. Tom Nelson was another good characterization.

Dancing "this-a-way" and that-a-way" to the music of hill-billy records added to the fun, and the supper of hot baked beans and biscuits gave a suitable, delicious finish to the original party.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham

Do you think you're too old to achieve success? Have you resigned yourself to a life of mediocre achievement?

Henry Ford was more than forty before he became established on the road to fame and fortune. Yet he was but one of a host of great leaders in all fields who did not make their mark until they reached middle age.

This is not surprising. For there is plenty of evidence to prove that, in almost every kind of work, peak efficiency is only attained after many years of experience. An efficiency test of factory workers showed that top producers averaged forty-seven years of age!

"Ah," says someone, "but you can't teach an old dog new tricks!"

Nonsense! Modern psychology has exploded this idea sky high. The middle-aged can learn just as well as youth—if they want to. So if you feel that lack of education or technical knowledge is holding you back, don't just hemoan the fact. Start a planned program of study. It's worth the effort!

Practical men of middle-age make definite preparations for their retirement. Millions of people have saved for their old age through life insurance and enjoy basic comforts — and often such "extras" as new homes or travel — which bring happiness in "sunset years".

Pentecostal Church, Oliver Wedding Scene

It was in the Pentecostal church at Oliver that the wedding of Audrey Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Joy, Trout Creek, Summerland, to Wesley Goodyear Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Charles, Osoyoos, took place on Tuesday evening, August 16, at 7:30 p.m.

The service was conducted by Rev. L. Ketchum of the Foursquare church, Pentiction, assisted by Rev. F. C. Howell of the Pentecostal church, Oliver.

Gladioli decorated the church for the ceremony and the platform background was an arch covered with mauve and yellow flowers.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was charmingly gowned in a floor-length wedding dress of white nylon with sweetheart neckline and eyelet panels at the front and back.

Suspended from her belt was a crocheted handkerchief sachet which had been worn by her mother on her wedding day.

Her embroidered net veil was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore short white-lace gloves, and carried a Colonial bouquet of rose-colored asters. A three-strand pearl necklace, gift of the groom, completed her costume.

Attending as her sister's bridesmaid was Miss Annie Joy whose frock was floor-length pink facemore crepe. She wore matching gloves and her shoulder-length veil was caught to her head by a floral wreath. Mauve asters were in her Colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Walter George of Pentiction played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Marretta Embree, Summerland, cousin of the bride.

LEGION ZONE MEETINGS HELD

On Thursday evening Mr. A. Calvert, zone commander of the Canadian Legion paid his official visit to the branch of the Legion at Copper Mountain. Mr. Harry Howis accompanied him.

Mr. Calvert, and Mr. Ross McLachlan, president of the local branch of the Legion attended the zone council meeting held in Peachland on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. McCutcheon, president of the W.A. to the Canadian Legion represented Summerland at the ladies' meeting the same afternoon at Peachland.

Delicious refreshments were served to the delegates by the Peachland W.A. following the business sessions.

Williams and Mr. Cliff Ketchum, both of Pentiction.

A reception for 190 guests was held in the Masonic hall, Oliver, following the ceremony. Mrs. Joy, mother of the bride, chose a pretty gown of navy sheer with navy and white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Charles, had chosen beige figured silk with which brown accessories were contrasted.

Summer flowers decorated the hall and on the bride's table, with a three-tier wedding-cake made by the bride's mother, as the focal point, there were white candles in silver holders, and small bouquets of sweet peas and carnations.

Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. John Manning, Mrs. Wesley Davis, and Mrs. Bernard Embree, all of Summerland, while ladies of the Oliver Tabernacle assisted in serving.

An address was given by Rev. F. C. Howell to which the groom responded. There was a duet by Rev. Bernard Embree, cousin of the bride, and his wife, and solos by Mr. Lawrence Howell and Mr. R. Roylance of Pentiction, and by Mrs. Wesley Davis, Summerland.

For the honeymoon motor trip to Edmonton the bride wore a beige gabardine suit with nigger brown accessories. The young couple will make their home in Oliver.

Guests were present from Summerland, Pentiction and Victoria. The bride was formerly a member of the teaching staff at Oliver.

Fish and Game Men Find Experiment in Raising Pheasants is Successful

"We have found out that it is both cheap and practical for a club such as ours to raise enough pheasants to stock a district the size of Summerland."

This is the finding of the Summerland Fish and Game Assn. at the conclusion of one of the most interesting experiments in pheasant raising ever tried in the province of B.C.

As a result of this experiment, the rapidly-dwindling pheasant population in this area has been enlarged by more than three hundred young pheasants, besides another hundred which have been taken by the B.C. Game Commission to further experimental work being undertaken by Mr. Benson at Kelowna, an investigator sent to the South Okanagan this summer by the commission in an endeavor to ascertain the main reasons for the decrease in pheasant population.

Chief credit for the success of this experiment goes to Alf Johnston, Joe McLachlan and Bill Snow, with the ever-willing assistance of the energetic club president, George Stoll.

"We wanted to find out if it was possible to raise the pheasant population in our district and if it could be done at a reasonable cost," explains Mr. Bill Snow, immediate past president of the fish and game group, in a prepared statement on behalf of the sponsoring club.

Pheasant Raising Statistics Are Released

Some of the main statistics in connection with the Summerland Fish and Game Assn., experiment in raising pheasants to re-stock this district are as follows:

Eggs collected from pheasant hens, 1,325.

Chicks hatched by hens (out of 796 eggs), 476.

Eggs sent to incubator for hatching, 529.

Chicks hatched out at incubator, 276. (Still in a brooder, 72).

Number sent to game commission, 101.

to hatch and then the hen and chicks were kept together for another ten days. After that time, the pen was raised enough to allow the chicks to run free.

When the pheasant chicks were about six weeks old they left the old hen, who was then taken back to her owner and the pen used somewhere else, Mr. Snow explains. Five pounds of turkey starter were given with each setting, to get the chicks away to a good start.

By the end of May it was difficult to get the eggs distributed and by the middle of June 529 eggs were on hand and the hens were still laying at the same rate.

At this stage, Oliver sportsmen took over the breeding stock and the 500-odd eggs were taken to a commercial chicken raiser for hatching in an incubator. The day old chicks were raised by Putnam-type brooders.

From these incubator chicks, Mr. Benson of the game commission was given 75 specimens, and later another twenty-six were sold at fifty cents per bird, for the same experiments at Kelowna.

Cost Just Over $100

Thus, for little more than $100, the local sportsmen's club was able to obtain more than a thousand pheasant eggs from its experiment and still has as assets its breeding stock and coops.

The breeding stock cost $38, lumber and wire $35, feed $22, chick starter $11 and incubator costs $25; total $131. From the sale of 26 chicks, $13 was realized, leaving the net cost to the club at $118.

"Of course, we had some disappointments," Mr. Snow reports.

Princeton Bops CYO 15-6 For Senior Title

It was a rough day for Kamloops CYO last Sunday at Riverside park as not only did their juniors get walloped 4-1 by Summerland Red Sox in the junior playoff tilt but the seniors were beaten 15-6 by a heavy-hitting Princeton squad, who won the Chalmers cup, emblematic of the Interior senior baseball league.

A nine run rally in the third frame spelled ruin for Kamloops CYO as they last Paul Prehara, their ace chucker, who had no control left. McArthur replaced him and after that explosion died down held Princeton until the ninth, when three more tallies scamped across.

After the game, Bob Chalmers presented his trophy to Liberatore, the youthful Princeton catcher, on behalf of the Princeton Royals.

Princeton defeated Summerland 5-4 in a sudden-death exciting tilt to win the southern half of the Interior league play and then went on to defeat Kamloops CYO, northern winners, 3-0 and 15-6 to cop the main championship.

INDUCT EX-PEACHLAND MINISTER

REVELSTOKE—Services were held on August 4 to induct Rev. Harry S. McDonald, formerly in charge of the Peachland United church, into the pastoral charge of Revelstoke United church. Rev. C. G. McKenzie of Enderby represented the Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery and had charge of the service.

"We lost settings by hens leaving their nests. Some were destroyed by dogs and predator. In two cases the old hen killed the chicks as they were hatched.

"We found that it is better to use hens than an incubator. Bantams are the best hens to use if one can get enough of them. The less attention given the setting hen, also to the chicks when they are hatched, the better.

"It did not take very much attention to make the chicks quite tame, especially after they were a few weeks old. At the odd place, the young pheasants are still hanging around where they were hatched and still wanting to be fed."

At the outset, 21 hens and a cock, all adult birds, were purchased near the end of October, 1948. Later, four more hens and two cock pheasants were received from the game commission, as a gift. These birds were kept by Mr. Alf Johnston, who was the chief instigator of the plan.

The original cock could not get along with the two received from the game commission and had to be removed. That left 24 hens and two cocks for breeding stock.

These hens started laying the last week in March and in a few days all the hens were laying. Each day from then until the middle of June between 18 and 22 eggs were collected and the club was swamped by that time.

At this stage the hens were loaned to the Oliver Fish and Game club to hatch what eggs were laid after that time.

Built 35 Coops

The club purchased lumber and wire for 35 coops, each one being five feet long and 2½ feet wide and fourteen inches high. They were covered with one-inch mesh wire but had no bottoms.

Every Wednesday and Saturday Alf Johnston collected the eggs and delivered them to Joe McLachlan and Bill Snow, who were responsible for the distribution.

Chicken raisers in the district were appealed to and forty-two hens and four bantams were set. Eighteen eggs were given to each broody hen and nine to a bantam.

Settings of eggs were distributed to any one who had the proper facilities, Mr. Snow explains. To get the settings distributed was a big job. In the evening, the required number of broody hens was collected, along with the coops and the eggs, and taken to the place or places where the set would be made.

There the coop was set up, and the hen placed in the coop under a box. If the hen settled down then the eggs were placed under her the following evening, but sometimes the moving of the hens broke them of being broody.

There was a time lapse of from 24 to 26 days for the eggs

Junior Crown On Block Here Next Sunday

Every baseball fan in the countryside will be headed for the Living Memorial athletic park next Sunday afternoon to witness the double-header between Kamloops CYO juniors and the Summerland Red Sox, northern and southern interior junior champs, respectively.

The Red Sox won the first game last Sunday at Kamloops by a 4-1 count and if they win the first game next Sunday, commencing at 1:30 o'clock, then they will be acclaimed interior champions.

If, however, Kamloops wins the first game, then the second half of the double-header, starting at 5:30 o'clock, will be the clincher.

In any case, these two teams will play a double-header even if the championship is not at stake for the second game.

Interest in baseball is being kept at a high point this summer and the senior aggregation is not through yet, even though league competition has been concluded for some time.

On Sunday, Summerland Merchants entered officially in the big ball tournament at Oliver on Labor Day, first prize being $500, it is stated.

For this occasion, Summerland Merchants' famous battery of Pitcher Bill Evans and Catcher George Clark is planning to come out of retirement. They will be meeting strenuous opposition in South Okanagan Junior Ball Champs for Second Year

Champions of the South Okanagan and with one game in the Interior finals tucked away, the above Summerland Red Sox are hot favorites to make it two straight against the Kamloops CYO next Sunday, when the mainliners come here for a double-header, commencing at 1:30. Pictured above, are the Red Sox players, who have won the South Okanagan title for two years running: Front row, Daryl Weitzel rf, Ernie Jomori 3b and p, Don Cristante cf, Bob Weitzel catcher and captain, Gil Jacobs p, Sandy Jomori ss, Back row, Joe Sheeley manager, Fred Kato 2b, Don Nesbitt cf, Jack Dunham lf and 3b, Murray "Joe" Elliott outfielder, Dave Wright scorer, Norman "Pete" Holmes outfielder, Denny Hack outfielder, Francis Gould 1b, Jim Heavysides, coach.

that tourney as several big Washington clubs will be present.

Also on the cards for September is another home and home series with Princeton Royals, newly crowned champions of the Interior league. Princeton and Summerland have played more games that were decided by one run than any other two teams in the interior and with the Evans-Clark battery at the disposal of the Merchants' club the local lads feel they can avenge earlier defeats.

Summerland Girls Softball Team Beats Osoyoos to Win Rexall Cup

Summerland softball girls captured the Rexall cup and the South Okanagan championship last Sunday on the school grounds when they defeated Osoyoos by a 17-12 count which was won by the locals with an eight-run spurge in the eighth frame.

This was the final game of a round-robin series which found Summerland on top with six points, Penticton second with four and Osoyoos trailing with two points.

Penticton entered in the B.C. softball championship playoffs and did not compete for the Rexall cup this year.

Eileen Birtles started for the Summerland team but was relieved in the third by Kay Smith, who came in from left field to finish the contest.

Osoyoos was leading 12-9 going into the sixth when the Summerland girls exploded all over the lot and won the ball game.

LOCKER PLANT DONATED SHIRTS NOT ALL THE UNIFORMS

It was erroneously stated in the West Summerland Frozen Food Lockers advertisement last week that this firm had donated uniforms to the Summerland Red Sox. The locker plant donated the baseball shirts, but the rest of the uniforms were provided by the sponsoring service club, the AOTS, it was pointed out to The Review last week by team manager Joe Sheeley.

Red Sox Take Pitchers' Battle From Kamloops CYO In First of Interior Finals

Gil Jacobs and the Summerland Red Sox took a long step, Sunday afternoon at the Riverside park, Kamloops, towards their goal of annexing the junior ball championship of the interior when they won a pitchers' duel 4-1 over the Kamloops CYO, winners of the northern title.

It was sparkling baseball with the Red Sox shining from the start. Gil Jacobs and Johnny Brikitch, of Kamloops, two port-side heavies, staged a pitchers' battle which put the senior fixture preceding in the shade.

The youthful ball clubs played a brand of ball seldom excelled in senior circles in the hinterland and drew rounds of applause from the big audience.

Jacobs was pitching a shut-out until the ninth frame when Catcher Garey picked out a fat one and placed it well over the right-field wall for a home run, the only Kamloops score of the game.

Although Brikitch outshone Jacobs in the shutout department, whiffing thirteen Red Sox to nine of the CYO batters who waved forlornly at the ozone, the Red Sox proved superior with the hickory, collecting nine bingles off Kamloops while the mainliners were only able to gather in five hits.

No bases on balls were allowed by either pitcher, while the only wild heave was executed by Brikitch when he hit Sandy Jomori with a pitched ball.

The visiting Red Sox got away to a flying start in the first frame when Jack Dunham singled and went to third on Bob Weitzel's one-baser. Weitzel endeavored to steal second but Catcher Garey heaved to Fowles for the putout. In the meantime, however, Dunham romped home for the initial score.

Cristante's Home Run
In the third frame, Don Cristante waited until the third strike to plaster the horsehide against the right field fence for an automatic home run. He did not understand the ground rules, however, and as the ball was thrown back into the infield he slid into third base where his forearm was spiked by Sakolofski in a mad scramble.

Cristante was later waved on home by the umpire but he had to retire to the hospital for treatment to a badly bruised arm, being replaced by Norman "Pete" Holmes.

Final Red Sox runs came across in the fourth when Kato singled and went to third while Francis Gould was connecting solidly, only to be put out at second on Sandy Jomori's bouncer. Gil Jacobs connected with a solid smash to centerfield, scoring Kato and Sandy raced home when the Kamloops third-sacker missed the throwin from the centre garden.

Kamloops CYO juniors threatened in the first, second and fifth frames when six men were in scoring position, but they lacked the punch to shove them across. They were retired in order in the fourth, sixth, seventh and eighth, and Jacobs was robbed of a shut-out by Garey's mighty clout.

The Red Sox loaded the bases in the seventh but Dunham's long fly to centre was easily gathered in by Lee.

Fred Kato, after making two fumbles of ground balls, pulled off the catch sensation of the day when, at a fast gallop into short centerfield he leaped high to pull down a Texas leaguer by Sakolofski.

Although the Red Sox committed four miscues to Kamloops' one they were never at a serious moment in the play.

George Dunsdon Gold Medalist With 100 Score

For the month of August, George Dunsdon was the winner of the gold medal, having scored 100 out of 105 for the highest score made by any member of the Summerland Rifle club at the Garnet Valley range.

Art Dunsdon was the winner of the silver medal, but he was forced to shoot off with Herb Simpson and A. Moyls before taking this prize. All three marksmen had 98 originally.

Herb Simpson then took the bronze button by besting A. Moyls in the shootoff. Herb Simpson was winner of the gold medal earlier in the season.

This Sunday, the local marksmen congregated in Kelowna for the annual Gilbey Spay Royal team shoot which will attract sportsmen from all parts of the interior.

Following are the weekly scores for last Sunday: H. Simpson, A. Dunsdon, G. Dunsdon, A. Moyls 98; Len Shannon 96, J. Khalambach 95, D. Taylor and D. Price 94, M. Rina and Ed Gould 93, George Forster and Jack Dunsdon 91, Pop Dunsdon 82, J. M. McArthur 78, R. Proudlock 71, W. C. W. Fosbery 65

Fire in Bicycle Carrier Put Out

On Monday afternoon, a fire which broke out in a bicycle rack, near the Post Office, was quickly extinguished by Alf McLachlan, a passerby.

The blaze, of peculiar origin, was started by the sun rays being reflected through a bottle of vinegar onto a haversack. Both articles were in the bicycle carrier, which was parked beside the post office.

Mr. McLachlan did not wait until the bike owner returned, after managing to extinguish the blaze before any real damage occurred.

OKANAGAN HORTICULTURAL DISTRICT — 1949
(Apples, Crabapples, Pears — Boxes; Grapes — Pounds)

Revised estimates of the Okanagan apple and pear crop, issued by the provincial department of agriculture at the weekend revealed an increase in the apple crop of 327,350 boxes, mainly due to good sizing on the part of the crop.

Pears in most districts are up, Summerland-Peachland-Westbank being raised 34,500 while Penticton is the only area to show a decrease, being down from an estimated 96,000 to 80,000 boxes.

Summerland is the second largest pear producing area in the Okanagan this year, only being topped by Kelowna. The Orchard City district is expected to produce 135,000 boxes while Summerland's crop is rated at 125,000. Oliver is in third position with 100,000 while Penticton has slipped to fourth spot.

A big increase in apple production is shown in the revised estimates, Summerland going ahead by 47,500 boxes, Peachland increasing 13,000 boxes and Westbank 23,500.

In the overall picture, the apple production in the Okanagan has increased 327,500 boxes over the original estimate. Pear crop is up 32,500 over all areas.

This sum can be raised through contributions from assisting organizations or can come through the municipal council, it was suggested.

When it was explained to Dr. Hershey that the present nurses' home cannot provide accommodation for two staff members now and that the hospital board had considered it would be good business to plan a four-room addition now to take care of future expansion, the insurance service commissioner declared that he would be willing to recommend government assistance along this line.

It had been the feeling of the provincial health and welfare department that Summerland intended to add four more nurses at once to the staff, which was not considered necessary in the light of existing facilities and bed occupancy.

Raise in Salaries
The hospital insurance scheme has recently come to an agreement with the registered nurses' association whereby the basic nurses salary is being raised to $175 per month, with a five-year increment, provided the hospital board considers that the nurse is carrying out her duties in such a manner as to warrant such yearly raises. This rise in salary schedule will be correlated with a raise in the charges made for occupancy of the nurses' home and board privileges, he pointed out, to keep pace with rising living costs.

Dr. Hershey believed that with this boost in salary schedule, the hospitals should be able to demand a high standard of nursing service from the profession.

Considerable discussion arose as to the necessity of assuming the cost of appraising hospital buildings and equipment but he promised to delve further into this subject on returning to the coast.

Included in the $3,000-odd list of equipment repairs and replacements which the local hospital is seeking are the following items: Diathermy machine, x-ray grid, ceiling for laundry, new kitchen stove, new double sink for kitchen, oxygen tank truck, new screens for maternity wing and nurses' home, pantry linoleum, cinder box, woodshed, roothouse, sewage disposal system, hotwater tank and water heater, electric hoist for elevator and two bed pan hoppers.

A new roof for the old part of the hospital building is considered

DO YOU WORRY ABOUT YOUR VALUABLES? PROPER PROTECTION MEANS LESS COST IN LONG RUN

With the numerous burglaries we read of these days, do you find yourself worrying about the safety of the valuables you keep at home? If so, you can ease your mind in an inexpensive way as thousands of Canadians have already done.

Simply transfer your precious belongings to the Bank of Montreal for safekeeping. You can store documents like wills, bonds, birth certificates and insurance policies, and articles of value such as jewels, silverware, and heirlooms. The B of M's vaults can guard them all.

If you want maximum protection for your valuables at minimum cost—just a cent or two a day—drop in and talk to James Mulrhead, local branch manager, next time you pass the B of M—Adv.
