

MRS. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT receives from WAYNE C. GROVER, archivist of the United States, the first box of the indexed letters of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library, Hyde Park, N.Y. The letters, copies of almost every letter he wrote and almost every letter he received after he began his public career, became public property in the brief ceremony in the library. It took almost two and one-half years to index the more than five million letters.

Clearing Land for New School Project Started; Subcontracts Awarded

Clearing of trees and excavation on the site of the new Summerland junior-senior high school commenced on the former Kelley lot Granville and Rosedale, West Summerland, Monday morning under the supervision of Kenyon & Co. Ltd., Penticton contracting firm which submitted the lowest of four tenders for this project.

Work is going ahead rapidly on the $400,000 structure. Actual construction tender was $330,040 but with equipment and sundry other additions the entire cost goes over the $400,000 mark.

Approximately one hundred men have asked for work on the new structure but according to Mr. H. S. Kenyon only a small percentage of these applicants are carpenters. Most of the men wishing employment were just plain laborers and there is not a great deal of call for such work on this project.

Half the fruit trees have been removed from the lot and a bulldozer has changed the contour of the lot considerably already. Temporary shacks for office work are being constructed while the trees come down.

In a week's time first of the forms for the foundation will be constructed.

Besides Mr. Kenyon on the job he will have his son Al as "boss of the works". Al is well-known to basketball fans, having appeared here on several Penticton teams in the past decade.

The Penticton firm has served notice that this job will be pushed ahead with all possible speed. Local labor will be employed as far as possible but skilled carpenters are required more than most other classifications, it was stated.

Employ Forty Men
Of the more than one hundred men making application for work the Penticton firm has listed about eighty.

However, it is unlikely that more than forty men will be employed at one time on this job, they state.

Subcontracts have been let with the exception of the electrical work, which is believed going to a Vancouver firm if okayed by the architect, Mr. William Noppe.

Bjollo and Harris, Penticton, have the contract for bulldozing the site and that type of work will take about three weeks at the start.

Another Penticton man, John Lawson, submitted the lowest tender to Kenyon for the plumbing and heating subcontract. H. B. Munro, also of Penticton, has the painting contract.

Roofing and sheet metal work goes to the Pacific Pipe & Flume Ltd., Penticton, while a small amount of blacktopping will be undertaken by the Interior Contracting Co. Ltd., Penticton.

Other firms who will enter the deal will be Western Bridge & Steel Ltd., structural steel; Westeel Products, toilet and shower stalls; The O'Neil Co., ceramic tile.

Growers Get $2,000,000

Kiwanis Club Undertaking Cancer Drive

Under the chairmanship of Mr. J. E. O'Mahony, the Kiwanis Club of Summerland is undertaking the raising of $500 in Summerland district for the Conquer Cancer campaign.

Mr. O'Mahony, who is also a prominent official of the Cancer society in Summerland, is the official chairman of the campaign in this district. The provincial objective is $100,000.

Next week it is expected members of the Kiwanis club will visit homes and places of business throughout Summerland to raise the local objective of $500.

This is the first occasion a district-wide drive to raise funds for the cancer society has been held. Since the Red Cross campaign for $3,000 is rapidly drawing to a close, it is hoped that the much-smaller cancer objective will be reached before the end of April.

Central Group For Welfare is Being Formed

The newly-formed Central Welfare Committee will meet in St. Andrew's church hall on Wednesday, April 26, for its first fully-constituted session, it is stated by Rev. H. R. Whitmore, temporary chairman.

This committee came into being at a recent meeting when a provisional executive of five was chosen to start organization. Besides Rev. Mr. Whitmore the committee consisted of Mrs. A. K. Macleod, Mrs. A. G. Bissett, Roy E. Angus and Fred W. Schumann.

Representatives of various organizations are being selected and they will be the permanent delegates to the central committee for the coming year.

Reeve C. E. Bentley is representing the municipal council which is granting $100 for the first year's operation of the welfare group.

IRRIGATION COURT TO SIT

Tuesday, April 18, is the date set for the municipal court of revision on the irrigation roll. It is not anticipated that many applications will be received for review.

Telephone Building Will be Studio

Sale of the Summerland Telephone Co. office on Granville Street to Louis Schindell has been confirmed this week.

The familiar cottage-style office building has housed the telephone company switchboard for many years until the changeover to automatic equipment which is located in a new building at the rear of the lot.

Miss Mabel Henderson of the Maywood Photo Studio announces that she is leasing this building for her photo studio. The studio portion is ready for occupancy now and Miss Henderson can accommodate large groups for portraits there but she will not be moving from her Hastings street store premises for some time until dark-room and other facilities are in readiness in her new stand.

Straw Vote on Ellison Hall

A referendum, to determine if the ratepayers of Summerland are desirous of spending $2,500 this year on Ellison hall will be taken at the same time the north Crescent Beach domestic water by-law is voted upon.

This was the decision of local council on Friday evening last. This sum would provide for the installation of a heating plant, would provide insulation and necessary roof repairs.

In its entirety, complete renovation of Ellison hall would cost more than $7,000, it has been estimated, but half this amount is all that would be required this year to make the hall more presentable and suitable for a continuation of entertainments there, it is felt.

This straw vote will be taken on April 22, at the same time ratepayers decide on the proposed extension of domestic water to the north beach area and Crescent Beach at a cost of $27,000.

Turn Down Dental Director Scheme

Councillor F. E. Atkinson reported to the council last Monday that, as council representative on the South Okanagan Health Unit, he has opposed the appointment of a dental director for the present time. It would cost Summerland $500 for preventive dentistry work for pre-school and Grade 1 pupils this year, and he was not prepared to propose such an expenditure at this time. The council agreed with Councillor Atkinson's contention while the school board has already vetoed the suggestion.

Subsidy from Ottawa in Lieu of Gift Apples to Britain Saves "Red Ink"

Two million dollars' subsidy to the fruit growers of Interior British Columbia was allotted in the House of Commons, Ottawa, on Monday with the announcement from the parliamentary assistant to Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture.

Although it has not been specified in the announcement, it is universally understood that this subsidy is a type of payment to the growers for their gift of 1,152,000 boxes to the United Kingdom, a market which had welcomed Okanagan apples prior to the dollar shortage.

Of the two millions from Ottawa, about $300,000 has already been expended in freight costs from the Okanagan to seaboard, leaving $1,700,000 to be distributed to Okanagan growers for payment of packing and orchard costs.

It is the firm conviction of the fruit trade as a whole that these apples would never have been sold this season on the markets available and it was considered good business to give them to a market which had always been friendly to the Okanagan rather than incur further cold storage charges and dump them in June.

Although it does not give a clear picture to take an average over all varieties, on the basis of $1,700,000 the "gift" apples would average a return of $1.47.

Packing charges are said to run about 90 cents per box, which would leave only 57 cents for the grower.

This figure is not enough to bring the grower cost of production but it does assist in bringing up the pool level.

It is known that the sales agency was hoping for an Ottawa subsidy of $3,000,000 which have brought the grower a small profit over cost of production.

However, the red ink with which the grower was faced for his 1949 apple crop has now been pretty well eliminated by this $2,000,000 subsidy. Although returns from the 1949 apple crop will be far below the 1948 level, it will still return the grower at least the cost of production in most cases, it is believed.

Below Half Million

This week saw the balance of the 1949 apple crop drop below the half million mark to 490,000 boxes, made up of Winesaps and Newtowns mainly with just a sprinkling of odd varieties. All McIntosh and Delicious have been sold.

The western market has continued to show steady sales but Quebec has not reacted favorably yet to the Okanagan product. Reports from the United States show that market to be firming more each day.

Negotiations for a subsidy on the '49 apple crop were instituted last fall by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. officials, with the assistance of BCFGA head officers.

In January the decision to send over a million boxes of apples to Great Britain was made. Immediately after the annual BCFGA convention, Hon. James Gardiner, minister of agriculture, intimated that as the Okanagan growers had indicated that they were willing to help themselves in a difficult situation Ottawa would be inclined to consider a subsidy.

Although Mr. McGubbin, parliamentary assistant to Mr. Gardiner, intimated on Monday that there might be some further assistance forthcoming through the agricultural products support act, A. K. Loyd, B.C. Tree Fruits general Continued on page 4

Safe Stolen Last Xmas is Found by Boys

Two young 'teen-aged boys, George Brake and Wally Littau, climbing the hillsides north of Summerland, discovered last Sunday afternoon the safe belonging to the Summerland Sheet Metal & Plumbing Works which was stolen from the company's premises last December 23 or 24.

Bottom of the safe had been torn apart by a sharp chisel but practically all the records and papers in the safe had been left intact.

As there was no money in the safe the thieves who lifted it from the Pender street office of the plumbing company had no benefit from the burglary.

The safe had been hurled down a deep ravine just off the Okanagan highway between three and four miles north of West Summerland. It was about 200 feet down from the highway.

The robbery was discovered on December 24 morning last year after a thief or thieves broke into the Summerland Sheet Metal and Plumbing Works on Pender street and carried off the small safe. No cash was kept in the safe but all the company records were there.

Because of the difficulty of ascertaining accounts, the company offered a substantial reward for discovery of the whereabouts of the safe at that time.

An official of the company declares that most of the accounts in the safe have been verified at considerable expense already but that the company will pay the finders a small reward.

POSTPONE MONTHLY MEETING

Due to the tragic death of one of their new members, the late Norman Holmes, Jr., the monthly Jaycee meeting was postponed from Tuesday until next Tuesday, April 11 at the Nu-Way Annex.

Japanese Party Says Little Trace Of Atom Bomb Left at Hiroshima

After six months spent visiting friends and relatives in Japan, Mrs. George Tada, Miss Miwa Tada and Mr. and Mrs. Kew Kita have returned to their homes in Summerland.

After an absence of twenty-five years, the visitors found the country quite different, they report. The people are still struggling hard to recover from the ravages of war. Inflation, food shortage, and the housing problem are common in Japan.

"On the other hand, people have taken to democracy wholeheartedly and enjoy more freedom than before", the travellers state.

Mr. and Mrs. Kita visited their former home on the southern part of Kyushu Island, but could not recognize any part of the city. Most of the buildings were demolished during the war and temporary huts are now set up.

Plans are being made for wide streets and modern buildings in all bombed cities, although it may take ten to twenty years to rebuild.

Among some of their friends they came across Mr. Frank Agono and Mr. Harry Kiyano, both former residents of Summerland.

Few Bomb Traces

On their return trip they toured Hiroshima, which was devastated by the atom bomb. Much to their surprise, there were little or no traces of the effects of the bomb; all rubbish was removed and buildings erected, with the exception that their barrack-like houses are only temporary shelters.

They came across several of the victims of this atomic explosion who still show effects from burns.

Most historical sites and monuments as well as the scenic beauty of cities such as Kobe, Osaka, Tokyo and Yokohama were untouched, therefore they were able to take souvenir shots with their movie cameras, the Kitas report.

After leaving Japan, the party's next stop was in Hawaii, where they spent about ten hours "deavouring" the plantations of pine-apple, sugar-cane, palm trees and colorful landscapes.

When they reached San Francisco, Chew Tada and Min Kita, who drove by car from Summerland, were there to meet them.

The group then drove south through the orange and lemon groves and alfalfa to Los Angeles and after a glimpse of high spots in Hollywood and Long Beach decided to turn back north on the coast route.

Mrs. Tada and Miwa came home by train from San Francisco while the Kita family and Chew Tada proceeded by car by way of the Golden Gate bridge, through the Redwood forest, the Oregon Caves at Portland, where they met Ed Kita a student in college there.

Come to Church this Easter Sunday

Easter comes again with its age-old promise of renewal of life, when Christians throughout the world sing psalms of thankfulness, praise, and joy, and nature jubilantly triumphs in clearing skies, running water, and blossoming trees.

At the end of Lent and approaching Easter Day St. Stephen's Church will hold the Passion Service at 11 a.m. on Good Friday, and in the evening at St. Andrew's church the sacred service will be told in song and story by the choir.

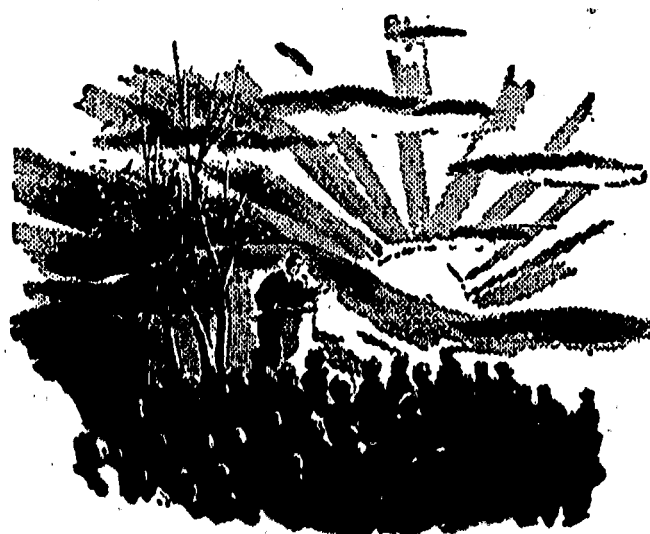

Easter Sunday Holy Communion services will be held at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the Anglican church. Canon F. V. Harrison, the rector, will preside at all the services.

At St. Andrew's on Easter Sunday morning the choir will sing The Lord is My Strength by Henry Sweet, with Mrs. H. R. Whitmore directing and Mr. T. McKay at the organ. Other music will be the concluding section of the Good Friday cantata with soloists Mrs. H. V. Stont, Mrs. H. R. Whitmore and Mr. Alex Smith.

The minister, Rev. H. R. Whitmore will conduct the service.

At the Baptist church there will be a baptismal service on Sunday morning, followed by communion service and the reception of new members. There will be special music by the choir with Miss Ruth Dale at the piano and Mr. Paul Birch playing the organ. In charge will be Rev. D. O. Knipfel, pastor of the church.

At the Free Methodist church the Young People's Chorus will sing and the sermon topic taken by Rev. W. S. Angell, the pastor, will be Our Risen Lord.

At the Pentecostal church, the pastor Rev. C. E. Proston, will speak on the Resurrection theme at both morning and evening services, and there will be special Easter singing in duets and special instrumental music.

In the evening at the Lakeside United church Rev. H. R. Whitmore will speak to this section of the Summerland charge, while Mr. H. Fehlmann will lead the choir in singing Now Christ is Risen.

At the Church of God, Trout Creek, where Rev. W. Rabel is pastor, the regular morning service will be held while at seven in the evening, the young people of the congregation will present the life of Christ in scripture and song. Choir numbers, solos, duets, quartettes, and congregational singing will specially mark the great occasion.

In the Lutheran churches, too, outstanding messages and singing for this solemn day in the church year will be suitable to the occasion.

On Easter Monday the Lord Bishop of the Diocese of Kootenay will be the celebrant at Holy Communion at 9:30 a.m. at St. George's, Westbank, and at 11 a.m. at St. Margaret's, Peachland.

Sunrise Service On Giant's Head Easter Sunday

The Easter Sunrise Service will be held on the morning of Easter Day at seven o'clock on the hill in front of the Mountain View Home, Giant's Head.

This joyful early morning service will be led by Rev. Robert Birch, and the speaker will be Rev. W. S. Angell, minister of the Free Methodist church.

All the recordings for accompaniments were made on Mr. Blake Milne's tape recorder last Monday evening, and will be used for congregation hymn singing and for the special music of a double quartette.

The quartette is composed of eight Summerland young people: Miss Melva Stevenson, Miss Dennis Johnston, Miss Janet Finnison and Miss Norma Arndt. Preston Mott, Mynard Embree, Harold Smith and Paul Birch.

Another musical treat to herald the triumph day will be trumpet music by Rev. D. O. Knipfel.

Optimism for Easter

BUSINESSMEN generally, including of course the district's fruit growers who represent the main business of Summerland, should be able to chase the gloom which has settled around them for the past few months.

Report from Ottawa that two million dollars will come to interior of B.C. fruit growers in lieu of the gift of apples to Great Britain will mean that the 1949 apple crop will return a fair cost of production.

The new school building will offset, at least in part, the loss of payroll which will result from the big drop in soft fruit tonnage due to the severe winter weather.

Those two factors alone this week should bring relief to a harassed group of district businessmen who were believing that this area faced a local depression of serious proportions.

Government recognition of the Okanagan gift of apples to Great Britain is significant of the need of a well-organized central sales effort to co-ordinate the activities of 3,500 growers.

Without a well-organized central group such as the sales agency and the parent body, the BCFGA such a "gift" deal could never have been arranged. And without a united voice Ottawa would never have bowed to the justness of the growers' claims.

Of course, last January it was a gamble. The sales agency was faced with the prospect of a surplus of about 1,150,000 boxes at the end of the season. Should they keep them for a dump at the end of the season, with the very slight hope of selling some portion of the surplus? That would have been wishful thinking of a high order.

Grower officials took the bolder course. They gambled that a gift of apples to their former market in Great Britain would strengthen the ties between the Old Country market and the Okanagan apple producers and that the federal authorities in Ottawa would recognize that these growers in the far west were not coming just with hat in hand but had the courage to fend for themselves to the best of their ability.

It was only a partial gamble, as there was so much logic to the move that it was almost bound to appeal, even to the hard-bitten government officials in the federal capital.

And in the light of falling prices in agricultural commodities, mainly due to an abundance of supplies for North American consumption, the apple growers may be able to bolster the 1949 price level through the agricultural products support act.

Combined with the prospect of employment for many otherwise unemployed men on the new school project here, we can face Easter with a brighter mien.

Criticism at Victoria

REPORTS from Victoria intimate that Premier Johnson and his cabinet have shown outward manifestations of concern over the "revolt" of a number of Coalition members.

These private members have seen fit to criticize their own cabinet members and to go so far, in some cases, as to vote against their own group when they decided that the motion was not in the best interests of the constituency they represent.

This lack of apparent "loyalty" is said to be causing Premier Johnson some concern and he feels that such action is showing a lack of confidence in his regime.

Such is far from the case, we feel, and on the other hand our good premier should consider that this a healthy atmosphere which will, in the end, guarantee good government.

The official opposition, CCF, is too weak in numbers at Victoria to form a worthwhile opposition. That the private members of the government should see fit to present an able opposition and indicate that there will be a lessening of bureaucracy is really a healthy sign.

This was especially true when the cabinet endeavored to push through bureaucratic powers for the operation of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service. Private members fought their own colleagues "tooth and nail" until Premier Johnson made his declaration pegging the premiums at $36 per year.

Once private members were satisfied that the cabinet was intending to limit somewhat the wide discretionary powers proposed, they jumped back into line and were among the first to congratulate the premier on the conclusion of a well-fought debate.

As long as we have government members with enough courage to offset attempts to govern by order-in-council then we are in no danger of losing our democratic system.

Increasing costs in everything pertaining to public schools from the salary list down to the smallest item in school supplies is fast developing a crisis. In every part of the province school taxes have mounted to such a rate that taxpayers everywhere feel that some radical change must be made in the financing of our schools. The provincial government is paying no more toward the salaries of the teachers than was paid when salaries were half what they are now. Estimated cost of operation here this year is $20,811, of which $9,940 is the salary schedule.

Officers of the Summerland Fruit Union are: E. R. Simpson, president; W. H. Hayes, vice-president; T. G. Beavis, secretary-treasurer; G. Thornber, board secretary; F. W. Rolt, S. M. Young, C. Elsey, P. G. Dodwell.

Dean F. M. Clement, UBC faculty of agriculture, told the Western Canada Fruit Jobbers' convention the average cost to produce, pick, pack, market and ship a box of apples in B.C. is $1.54 1/2.

Government surveyors will start next month on a survey of a route for a road between Naramata and Kelowna.

Mr. C. E. Bell of Scott, Sask., is a recent arrival here and intends to settle.

A. McGown has purchased the Douglas-Hamilton property near the KVR bridge.

Extensive work in the development of vegetables especially adapted to this district is planned by the experimental station here. W. M. Fleming has come here from Duncan, V.I., to take charge of this extension work. Tomatoes and cantaloupes will receive special attention.

New officers of the Summerland branch, B.C. Art League are: President, J. W. S. Logie; vice-presidents, Mrs. G. L. Salter, Carrol C. Alkins; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. Stark; Mrs. H. Pares, Mrs. Eckersley, Miss Cartwright, Miss Doris Cordy, Mrs. Collas, Mrs. Alexander, Howard Finley and Mrs. W. J. Robinson, Naramata representative.

Under the direction of Foreman Tomlin the municipality now has several gangs of men at work rebuilding the irrigation system in Garnet Valley.

Summerland Poultry Produce Association's egg station will occupy the store in the Kelley block being vacated at the end of this month by Mrs. T. J. Garnett, Mr. W. J. Sanderson has announced.

Signifying Nothing

By RUSTICUS

A job I'd hate to have is that of a minister this Easter Sunday. Any day, for that matter; but especially Easter Sunday.

It's one of the two Sundays in the year when a preacher can expect a full congregation, and it puts him on the horns of a terrific dilemma. Which shall he do; preach a nice sermon calculated to lure these potential customers back again before next Christmas, or give them a dose of real Christianity?

The day demands the Christianity, for it is the most important in the Christian year. Yet if the minister really tried to drive home the teaching of Christ; "Go sell your fine houses and cars and clothes and give the proceeds to the poor; forget about yourself and help your neighbors; actually practice the Golden Rule"—how shocked we'd be.

If any minister urged us, on Easter Sunday, to make such sacrifices we never would come back to church; in fact, we'd probably agitate to have the preacher confined as a dangerous lunatic, or at least relieved of his position. Yet those are the teachings of Christ; and He wasn't afraid of sacrifice, at Easter time.

Let's imagine—just pretending, of course—what would happen if the Christian nations of the world really tried Christianity. Suppose we started out, this Easter, and asked for lower prices for farm produce, for manufactured articles, for labor, instead of always demanding higher. Much lower prices, in fact; enough to make us poor people, instead of enough to make us rich.

It's a horrible thought to us followers of a Christ who had nowhere to lay His head; but let's carry the notion further. If Canadian apples, eggs, meat and grain sold for half their present prices, or less—what would happen?

Obviously, a lot more people would be able to buy them; our surpluses that are causing so much worry now would melt away. Peoples of Europe and Asia who are on the verge of starvation—10 to 15 million famine deaths they expect in China this year?—would be able to afford food. Millions of lives would be saved there. Millions here too, for that matter; for as long as the western democracies insist on a standard of living much higher than the rest of the world, they will be hated and envied by the rest of the world, and further wars will be inevitable.

But if we acted according to the Christianity we profess and shared our wealth with the less fortunate, they would bless instead of curse us; Communism would have no chance against us, and our hell-bombs would never need to be used.

Why, the prospect of peace alone would make Christianity worth trying, no matter what sacrifices it cost. And probably the sacrifices of the luxuries and material comforts we prize so highly would turn out to be not sacrifices at all. For the more your possessions, the more are your worries; and the less you own, the more you can enjoy life.

You think that's nonsense—that we simply have to worry about old age and security and a home and all sorts of things? Probably; though Jesus said, "Take no thought for the morrow, what ye shall eat or what ye shall wear." And in a Christian society you wouldn't need to; for if you were thinking about your neighbors first, they would be doing the same; and all of us would always be taken care of.

Our farms and factories wouldn't be idle; they'd be humming as never before, for low prices would ensure extensive markets. We'd be happier than ever before, because we would all be experiencing often that glow which now comes only occasionally, around Christmas, of really trying hard to do something for somebody else.

We'd probably find ourselves leading much fuller, richer lives than we had thought possible, if we only dared make the initial, financial sacrifices. But we won't, of course. We prefer our miserable, grubbing, fear-beset way; prefer to provoke hate and starvation, strikes and unemployment, and the holocaust of war every few years.

So our minister dare not talk to us of real sacrifice, this Easter Sunday. The Man on the Cross and what He preached must not be brought home to us too strongly, or all the minister's usefulness would be at an end. So he must curb his enthusiasm and do what he can in little, slow, patient ways over the years, until perhaps Christian fire dims a little too.

I'd hate to be a minister, on Easter Sunday. Much more comfortable to sit in the congregation and enjoy the novelty of being there, and feel embarrassedly proud of one's new Easter suit and hat, and wonder if the chicken will be cooked on time for dinner.

It is the Law:

No motor vehicles shall be driven or operated upon any highway that is outside the limits of a city, town or village at a greater rate of speed than FIFTY MILES PER HOUR.

Ladies' Night at Rotary Sees Films Of Rose Parade

Annual Ladies' Night banquet was held by the Rotary Club of Summerland on Wednesday, March 29 at the Nu-Way when Rotarians played hosts to the Rotary Annex and other guests. President Joe McLaughlin welcomed the visitors. Following the banquet, the party adjourned to St. Andrew's church hall where the colored pictures taken by the Blake and Howard Milne families on their last two trips to California were shown by Blake Milne.

Foremost in the pictures were the latest scenes of the great rose parade at Pasadena last New Year's day. The huge group of some sixty persons was enthusiastic over these pictures.

COAST TO COAST

THE NORTH BENCH DOMESTIC Water Extension Loan By-law 1950

THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF SUMMERLAND BY-LAW NO. 698

A BY-LAW of The Corporation of the District of Summerland (hereinafter called "the Corporation") to enable the Corporation to raise by way of loan the sum of Twenty-seven Thousand Dollars ($27,000.00) for the purpose of extending the domestic water system to the North Bench area and the Crescent Beach subdivision of the Municipality.

WHEREAS it has been deemed expedient to extend the existing domestic water system to the North Bench area and the Crescent Beach subdivision within the District of Summerland:

AND WHEREAS the estimated cost thereof is Twenty-seven Thousand Dollars ($27,000.00):

AND WHEREAS it is necessary for the purpose aforesaid to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the Corporation the sum of Twenty-seven Thousand Dollars ($27,000.00) which sum is the amount of the debt intended to be created by this By-law and the principal of such loan when raised is to be applied for the purposes aforesaid:

AND WHEREAS the amount of the assessed value of the taxable land and improvements within the Municipality according to the last revised assessment roll being the assessment roll for the year 1950 is Three Million, Six Hundred and Ninety-one Thousand, Three Hundred and Fifty-five Dollars ($3,691,355.00):

AND WHEREAS the total amount of the existing debenture debt of the said Corporation exclusive of Local Improvements is Five Hundred and Forty Thousand, Eight Hundred and Thirty-three Dollars and Sixty-four Cents ($540,833.64):

AND WHEREAS the said Corporation has under the "Health Act" of the Province of British Columbia applied for and duly received the approval from the Provincial Board of Health of said Province to the proposed extension of said mains of the domestic water system of said Corporation dated December 29th, 1949:

NOW THEREFORE the Municipal Council of The Corporation of the District of Summerland in open meeting assembled, enacts as follows:

1. That the said Municipal Council be and is hereby authorized to extend the domestic water system of the said Corporation to the North Bench area and Crescent Beach subdivision as detailed on a plan prepared by R. A. Barton, Civil Engineer, dated December, 1949, and approved on December 29th, 1949 by the Provincial Board of Health and to expend upon the said domestic water extension the sum of Twenty-seven Thousand Dollars ($27,000.00).

2. That for the purpose aforesaid there shall be borrowed upon the credit of the Corporation the sum of $27,000.00 and Debentures shall be issued therefor in sums of not less than $100.00 each.

3. That the said Debentures shall have attached coupons for the payment of interest at the rate of Three and one-half (3½) per centum per annum payable half-yearly on the First days of May and November in each year during the currency of the said Debentures, and both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of Canada at the Bank of Montreal, West Summerland, British Columbia.

4. Each of the said Debentures and coupons attached thereto shall be signed by the Reeve and countersigned by the Treasurer of the Corporation and the Debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the Corporation. Teen Town

This week's column isn't going to be very long, because of the Easter exams!

This Saturday there will be an Okanagan Valley Teen Town conference, at Pentiction. Starting at 9 a.m. it will continue throughout the day, and will be followed by a banquet. A dance will conclude the evening, which will be open to all Teen Town members. Ken's Men will be the orchestra, so let's see all you kids there, eh?

At the council meeting Thursday night it will be decided who will go to the Teen Town conference at Vancouver with the mayor.

CGIT NOTES

Summerland CGIT honored one of their leaders last week at their regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon, March 29, when they presented Miss Marian Nickol with a lovely cake plate in recognition of her approaching marriage.

The meeting was ended with a party when the presentation took place.

The usual business was carried through, though in the absence of the secretary there were no minutes.

Kelowna CGIT have invited the local group to send delegates to a conference to be held in the Orchard City on April 22. These will be appointed at a later date.

Muriel Weitzel, Helen Price and Arlene Raincock were named to serve at the candy stall at the spring bazaar to be held by the Women's Federation of the church.

Five Dwellings Add $26,000 to March Building

Five dwelling permits for a total of $26,000 highlighted March building activity and indicated the continuance of interest in new residences here, the March building report of Inspector Roy F. Angus revealed this week.

Along with these new dwellings, two permits for alterations to commercial buildings had a value of $550 and seven other alterations and additions came to $9,850.

These figures made a total of $26,400 for the month just passed and $43,200 for the year to date. Nineteen permits had been issued in three months.

This total is just below the same period in 1949, as 24 permits were issued in the first three months last year totalling $44,945.

Starting of the new school this month will bring the total for 1950 ahead of the entire year of 1949, it is expected.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOW HAS PARKING LOT

Last week the men of the parish of The Church of the Holy Child cleaned out the lot behind the church and the rectory to make a suitable parking lot for the cars and eliminate any obstruction on the highway which runs past the front of the church.

Local Youth Activities

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Those boys attending the bronze arrowhead course in Pentiction will meet Easter Monday morning at 8:15 a.m. at the Youth Centre. Uniforms will be worn, except shorts. For lunch bring some fresh meat and potatoes and other food as required, along with mess tins or other utensils to cook with. Since the course continues until 9 in the evening you will need to bring sandwiches for your supper and be prepared to eat in town. Transportation both ways is provided.

The last patrol competition was re-won by the Beavers, but indications are that from now on the Eagles intend to win it. Patrol scores for this week are as follows: Eagles 39, Beavers 37, Buffaloes 29, Cougars 25 and Hawks 23.

The new Summerland Troop song sheet has been mimeographed and a practice sing-song was held for the concert. Mr. Miltimore also did some coaching and selection of boxers.

Patrol instruction covered signalling followed by a signalling game won by the Beavers.

Coming Events
The two softball teams are practicing to play Kelowna troop on Saturday, April 22.

The annual Scout-Guide church parade will be held on Sunday, April 16 at St. Stephen's Anglican church. A full turn-out in full uniform is requested in order to get a troop photograph. The troop will meet at the Youth Centre at 10:15 a.m.

April 16 has been selected as the church parade Sunday for the entire district association.

There will be no troop meeting on Tuesday, April 11 and the next meeting will be on Tuesday, April 18 with Beavers duty patrol.—D. V. Fisher.

GUIDE NEWS

The second of the three lectures on the emergency helpers' badge took place on Friday, March 31, at the weekly Guide meeting, Mrs. R. Fredrickson giving theoretical and practical instruction on two more subjects. These were bathing a patient in bed, and Schafer's method of artificial respiration.

After campfire PL Patsy Dunham and Guides Pat Daniels and Anne Beggs were recipients of Service Stars while Anne Solly was awarded her second-class badge and Evelyn Washington her toy-maker's badge.

Since the Guide company was formed on April 1, 1948, 41 second-class badges have been earned as well as 5 gardeners', 10 swimmers', 4 knitters', 5 minstrels', 2 skaters', and 27 child nurses' badges, which speaks highly of the co-operation between Guides, Guiders and the local association.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, April 14, when each Guide is asked to bring in her own original ideas for a placecard to be used at the Mother and Daughter banquet. Points will be awarded for the best entry.

This meeting will be the last for acceptance of orders for Cookie Week so, Guides, get as many more orders as you can.

Response by ex-Guides to the appeal for colors and emblems has been a bit discouraging and it would be greatly appreciated if they would make an effort to return these to the company.

Church parade will be held at St. Stephens Anglican church on April 16. Details to be given at the next meeting.

Alberta oil has changed his future

The boy doesn't know it yet. Many a grown-up doesn't realize it—but the new oil fields of Alberta brighten Canada's future.

Western oil is saving 100 million scarce U.S. dollars this year, dollars we don't have to pay out for oil imports. This means money to buy other imports we need—things that cannot be grown or made in Canada. Next year Alberta oil should save 145 million U.S. dollars!

Then, too, the search for oil is making a big new market in Alberta for things the rest of Canada has to sell. The oil industry is spending $3 millions a week in the west. Across the nation this money is fostering new industries, expanding plants, creating jobs, paying wages, building homes.

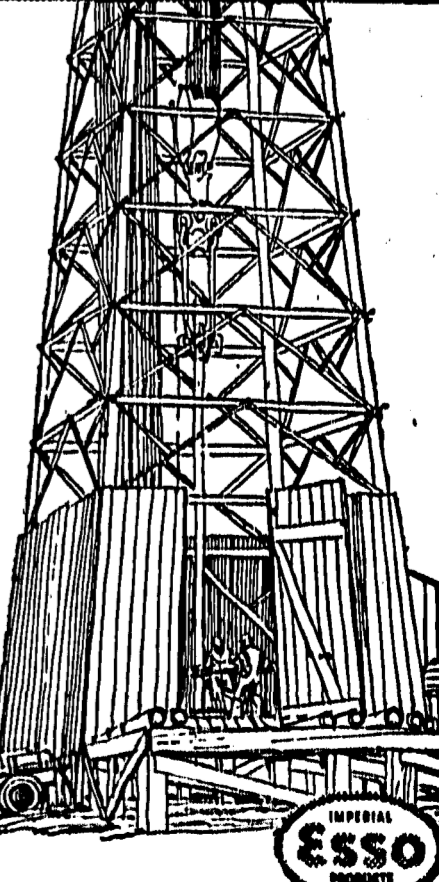

And in the prairies petroleum product prices are lower than they would have been if oil had not been found. Prairie consumers saved more than $30 millions last year. Anything that helps prairie prosperity helps all Canada.

Oil is important to us all. More oil means a higher standard of living.

The search for oil is unending, a costly business, often disappointing. But the job is pressing forward. And new-found oil is changing our future... promising a better, brighter future for Canadians—man and boy alike!

Bringing you oil is a big job... and a costly one

Mrs. D. L. Milne Heads Local WCTU

At the annual meeting of the WCTU held last Friday, March 31, at the home of Mrs. John Mott, Hospital hill, Mrs. Neve took the service of worship.

Papers were read showing the growing public awareness of the dangers of alcohol, and steps being taken towards its elimination. Attention was drawn to educational programs being carried out in Ontario.

Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. D. L. Milne; vice-president, Mrs. Howard Milne; recording secretary, Mrs. R. O. Moore; treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Mott; flower fund, Mrs. J. E. Smith; evangelism, Mrs. Miller, Giant's Head; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold Smith.

Red Cross Short Of $3,000 Goal

From present indications the Red Cross campaign in this district will fall short of its 1950 objective by about $500. To date, $2,300 has been banked and campaign manager Jack Dunsdon believes that $2,500 will be collected when all the canvassers' returns are made. Objective for Summerland the past three years has been $3,000.

The campaign was to close officially on March 31 but has been carried on to April to allow some districts held up by wintery conditions to complete their canvass.

Gay Spirit at Service Club Party With Unusual Games

Unusual and original games were just part of the large amount of planning evidenced in the spring entertainment of St. Andrew's Service club held in the church hall on the evening of March 30. It was attended by a large, co-operative and enthusiastic crowd.

Committee in charge of the program were Mrs. E. Bates, Mrs. A. Crawford, Mrs. C. Morgan, Mrs. Walter Powell, Miss Dorothy Boots and Miss Dorothy MacDonald.

First name of each member of this committee is Dorothy and this interesting fact was brought out in their introductory song, "When The Service Club Gives a Party". The number was well received and set the mood for gaiety which continued throughout the evening.

A game of Bingo using the names of people present rather than numbers followed and was won by Mr. Wm. Jenkinson.

Another hilarious item was the radio quiz contest in which contestants chosen by lot from the audience sought to answer questions on subjects picked by themselves from a blackboard list. This game, with Miss Joan Appleton perfectly cast as quizmaster, brought many unexpected and mirth-provoking answers. Prizes were Easter eggs in various sizes with an Easter basket as grand prize for correctly answering the jackpot question. Mr. F. Maddocks qualified to receive the basket.

Several of the men present were called by number to compete in a balloon-breaking contest where in the contestants were not allowed to use hands or feet. Winner of this feat was Mr. J. H. Holman.

A spelling match in which each person held and represented one letter caused great merriment and frantic scrambling for places. A pillowcase relay by the men climaxed the entertainment.

The guests were treated to a bounteous and delightfully arranged supper, convened by Mrs. J. H. Holman, assisted by Mrs. James Marshall, Mrs. W. F. Ward, Mrs. A. J. McKenzie, Mrs. G. E. Wooliams, Mrs. B. Underwood and Miss Bertha Bristow.

Films Shown at Large Baby Clinic

A particularly large clinic was held on Tuesday afternoon in the IOOF hall with Miss Joan Appleton, PHN, in charge.

Dr. H. Zeman, health unit director, vaccinated for smallpox, and inoculations were given as well.

Mrs. Ted Weeks assisted, and educational films on cancer and nutrition were shown.

The projector was handled in an able manner by Melvin Gillespie, a grade 8 pupil.

Tea was served by Guides Freda Daniels, Margaret Marshall, Patsy Menu, Pat Daniels, Yvonne Polesello, Anne Beggs, Carol Ann Short, Isabel Reinertson and Carol Ann Cornish.

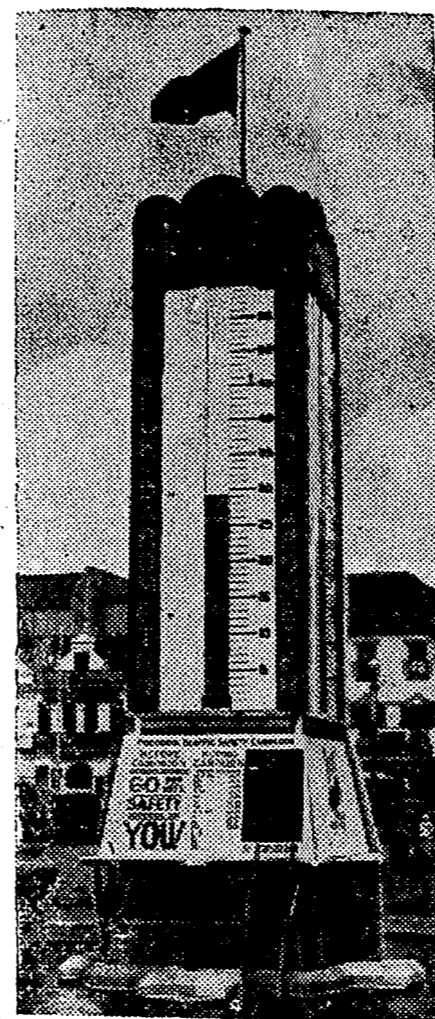

Orange Lodges Play Cards and Dance

The LOL and LOBA joined on Friday evening, March 31 to hold a party in the IOOF hall and spent a jolly evening playing "500" and later dancing.

When all the scores were counted Mrs. Phil Davis held the highest number for the ladies and Mr. Dave Taylor, Sr., had the corresponding honor for the men.

Low scorer in the LOBA section was Mrs. E. G. Gillespie, while Mr. Loyle Campbell won consolation prize among the men.

Refreshments ended the pleasant get-together.

This accident barometer helped to reduce mishaps in Pretoria, South Africa. Mr. F. Marincowitz, a South African, who is visiting Montreal, thinks that a similar barometer would help to reduce accidents in many Canadian cities.

Breakwater Here Is Sought Again By Trade Board

Summerland Board of Trade executive has requested once more that the federal government provide in its estimates a sum sufficient to provide a breakwater here.

Last estimated cost put this structure at $28,000 and it is understood a similar breakwater would also be constructed at Peachland.

In the past few years interest in small boats here has waned considerably as the district has lacked a proper storage shelter for this craft. The proposed breakwater would alleviate this condition and provide an impetus to local residents to own small pleasure boats on Okanagan lake, it is suggested.

Support of the Canadian Legion, Junior Chamber of Commerce and local fish and game club has been given the trade board in its submissions to Ottawa.

Golden Jubilee Of Armstrong Fair

From Armstrong comes the announcement that the Golden Jubilee of the Interior Provincial Exhibition (Armstrong Fair) will be held at Armstrong this year on September 12, 13 and 14.

Officials of this fair are rather proud of the fact that such an outstanding promotional venture to better agricultural and horticultural conditions should have continued throughout a half century.

Preparations for these gala three days are now well advanced and local agriculturists are being urged to plan entries for the big fair, while citizens generally are urged to ring these days on their calendar in preparation for their attendance.

NO RELIEF SCHEME IN SIGHT—OTTAWA

Queried a short time ago concerning any likely fund for employables who might be in need of temporary assistance but could not draw on unemployment insurance benefits, the municipal council has been informed by the department of health and welfare, Ottawa, that no relief scheme is in sight as far as the federal authorities are concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. E. Beech and Stewart left this week for a holiday motor tour to California.

Raeve C. E. Bentley and Councilor Eric Tait are in Kelowna today attending a meeting of the BCFGA hall insurance committee, of which they are members. It is expected the tentative outline of the proposed mutual hall insurance company will be decided upon at today's session.

SUBSIDY

manager stated this morning that he does not anticipate anything further on the 1949 crop.

This $2,000,000 payment, although not emanating from that particular support act, will probably be the only assistance B.C. apple growers will get from Ottawa this year, Mr. Loyd intimated.

However, since Ottawa is continuing the agricultural support act, it is within the bounds of good reasoning that the apple industry might expect some measure of support in the future, he declared.

It would be necessary for the tree fruit industry to work out some formula whereby Ottawa could plan a form of subsidy should the industry hit another year such as the past one.

It is felt that if some agreed floor level could be determined then the apple industry would be in a better position to seek assistance from this agricultural products support act.

But this is not likely to affect returns from the 1949 crop, Kelowna officials state.

Nova Scotia apple growers received a subsidy of $500,000 at the same time the announcement regarding B.C.'s two millions was made.

HELLO FOLKS

This is THE PETER PAN TOGGERY coming to you over the entire REVIEW system. Today we want to talk about clothes... ladies' clothes and children's clothes... we sell them. Do you know that nine out of ten Hollywood screen stars wear clothes. Yes, it's true... part of the time... they are too far away to wear ours or they would be doing it all the time... But the ladies in Summerland wear them... and not one single woman (or married either) has ever been arrested for wearing them.

Now take our slips (but please pay for them). They are really white. All except the tea rose, blue and black ones. Not a sign of tattle-tale grey in one of them. We let you put it in if you want it.

Baby's Wear is really something special with us. Every little dress and coat has two armholes. Every little pair of socks has two feet regardless of size. And the new plastic panties are guaranteed not to leak high in a plane, so they are safe at lap level.

Remember, The Peter Pan Toggery sells everything from Babies' to Ladies' clothing on Hastings Road in Summerland. No other firm in all the world can make that statement.

Remember, whether you wear clothes or not its a mark of distinction to have Peter Pan Clothes in your home.

NEW ARRIVALS

A second daughter was born on Sunday, April 2, to Mr. and Mrs. A. (Sandy) Caldwell at Summerland General Hospital.

A daughter was born to Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Preston of Summerland at the Pentecost hospital on Tuesday, April 4.

At the Summerland General hospital on Wednesday, April 5, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hockley.

FIVE BEDS FOR CANCER PATIENTS CAN BE LOANED

Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, who has recently attended the provincial council meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society, of which she is an executive member, reports new work started in which the society will buy five gatch beds for use of patients who are not in hospital, and which will be administered through the Red Cross loan cupboards.

Money was set aside, also, for comforts for patients requiring extras who are not able to buy them. This will be distributed on the advice of the public health nurse. Mrs. O'Mahony visited the new nursing home of fourteen beds now operated by the provincial division of the cancer society and reports that it is very comfortable and efficient.

Peachland patients will come under the care of Summerland branch of the cancer society, and will be helped in this way. This new area will be served, also, on the advice of the public health personnel.

Sunday Evening Club Hears Lacey Fisher

Speaker at the Sunday Evening club April 2nd meeting at the home of Miss Rae Armour was Mr. Lacey Fisher, who spoke on the value of drama to the community and to Canada as a whole, and who read engrossing bits to his audience.

Following Mr. Fisher's talk there was a question and answer type of discussion provocative of mutual enthusiasm and help along dramatic lines.

Devotional service was led by Mr. Charlie Bernhardt and refreshments were served by Miss Marion Shannon and Mr. Abe Salloum.

HOME AGAIN

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Powell returned last week from a motor trip which took them to many parts of California and other states in the union.

Miss Gwen Lamcraft has returned from her holiday visit to the coast.

Mrs. David Turnbull returned last night from a three weeks' trip which took her to Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg. On the trip east she accompanied Miss Nan Brennan as far as Winnipeg, the latter continuing her journey to the Old Country.

Easter VISITORS

HERE...

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dodwell and their son Peter are Easter guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Dodwell.

Mr. R. Advocaat of Milner, B.C., visited his mother, Mrs. Advocaat, and his sister, Mrs. Harry Pilkington last Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Ruth Nesbitt and Miss Marion Richards who are attending Sprout-Shaw business school at Vancouver are expected home tomorrow for an Easter vacation.

Mr. Leon Martin and his daughter, Miss Leona Martin, left on Monday for the Peace River district after visiting since November at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Martin, Peach Orchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Keeley and their son Kenneth of Pentecost, Mrs. Isabel March and Mr. Carl Pohlmann of Kelowna will be Easter guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. McCargar.

Miss Laura Mott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mott and Miss Pearl Bolton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bolton, who are attending Normal school at Vancouver will spend the Easter holidays at their home here, arriving tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Robert S. Skinner of Kamloops left on Monday following a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. E. Gardner. Mr. Skinner came down from Kamloops over the previous weekend for a short visit.

Miss Barbara Munn, who is in training at St. Paul's School of Nursing, Vancouver, and her room-mate, will visit for a few days at Eastertide at the home of Miss Munn's parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. B. Munn.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Mattern, parents of Mrs. Blair Underwood, arrived on April 4 for a visit. They left their home at Wauseon, Ohio, the middle of March motoring through south west United States and coming up through California.

Mr. Claude Garratt and his son Gordon, of Saskatchewan, who have spent the winter months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. McCargar, left today to return to the prairie province. Mrs. Ello Pohlmann will accompany them and will stay in Saskatchewan for the summer.

Guests of Miss Marion Shannon, RN of the Summerland hospital nursing staff next Wednesday and Thursday, and who will stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Birch while in Summerland will be her two friends, also in the nursing profession, Miss Irene Harris of Langley Prairie and Miss Kay Wilson of Kelowna.

Mrs. Madge Hadlington and her two children Cheryl and Kenneth of Foremost, Alta., left on Monday morning by train after visiting for ten days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Henderson, Hospital Hill, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sergeant, Trout Creek.

Paying a surprise call at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Andrew last week was Mr. A. B. Moore of Houston, Texas. Mr. Moore is a son of the late Professor Moore who at one time taught music at Okanagan College. The Moore home was the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. James Wells, and Mr. Moore drove up to see where he used to live, and refresh his memory about other Summerland points, noting many changes. The visitor stayed overnight at Cedarbrooke Cabins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Cristante are expecting their daughter, Miss Doris Cristante and her friend, Miss Lois Rose, to arrive from Victoria on Saturday morning for the Easter holidays. The girls are attending Normal school in the capital city, and following the holidays will stay for three weeks to do their practice teaching in Summerland elementary school. Miss Cristante will teach in Mrs. Allison's room, while Miss Rose will be in Mrs. MacRae's classroom.

AND THERE...

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Weeks are spending a short holiday in Vancouver during the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Heales and their son, Kenny, will be Easter visitors at the coast.

Mrs. W. W. Borton will drive to the coast this week and will attend the Kean-Nickol wedding at Chilliwack during the Easter holidays.

Mr. Alan Calvert will spend Easter in Vancouver at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lougheed.

Mr. Earl Edge of the experimental station staff will spend part of the Easter holidays at his home in Oliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Hallquist and their son Bruce are expecting to spend an Easter holiday at Vancouver.

Mr. John Ruck of the experimental station staff is spending the Easter weekend in Vancouver, leaving today by car.

Miss Velva Wright of the office staff of the experimental station will spend Easter at her home in Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Bedford are leaving on Sunday to spend Easter week at Vancouver. They plan to return here the following weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilkin and their two daughters are holidaying at the home of their parents at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dunsdon and Mr. and Mrs. W. Wotten are among those who are motoring to Vancouver for the Easter weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bulloch and their family and Mr. and Mrs. Nat May are among those who drove to Vancouver to spend the Easter holidays in the coast city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Sandy) Munn are visitors to Vancouver Island for an Easter vacation. They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McLeod on a fishing cruise.

Flying to Ft. St. John and going on to her home in Grande Prairie for the Easter vacation will be Miss Ann Semak of the high school teaching staff.

Miss Joan Appleton, PHN, will go to Victoria for the weekend and attend meetings of the Public Health Institute which are being held in the Empress hotel next week.

Miss Macil White and Miss Gweneth Atkinson left on Wednesday to motor to the coast where they are planning to spend a week's holiday in Vancouver, guests at the Ritz hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White, Mrs. Frank Doumont and Mrs. Alfred Johnston and her daughter Jeanie are planning to drive to the coast on Tuesday to spend a short holiday in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doumont and their son David are motoring to Armstrong this weekend. David will spend next week visiting at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Johnston and their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robertson and their daughter Miss Beryl Robertson, who is on Easter holidays from business college in Kelowna, will motor to the coast this week-end for short vacation.

Mr. Al Soderberg, who has been on a business trip on the prairies, returned to Summerland this week. He left again yesterday for Vancouver, accompanied by Mr. B. A. Sladen.

Mrs. F. A. Miller and her son, Mr. J. H. Miller, drove to Princeton last weekend to visit Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller and while there enjoyed a drive on the new highway as far as Copper Creek. Mrs. Miller's grandson, Mr. Tom Miller was away at Sun Valley Idaho, acting as coach for two Princeton boys at the ski tournament being held there.

Easter Bunny Holds Gifts at Shower

The Easter bunny arrived early to honor Miss Marian Nickol, bride-elect of next week, at the home of Mrs. A. Lamcraft, on Monday evening, April 3.

Co-hostesses were Miss Peggy Pringle and Miss Gwen Lamcraft.

The bride-to-be was asked to find and turn off strategically-placed alarm clocks throughout the house. At the end of each hunt she was rewarded by a corsage, a souvenir scrap book, and finally with an Easter bunny filled with gifts.

The Easter theme was carried out further by the bride's cake, which was decorated and surrounded by small rabbits and nests of eggs.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses and guests were Mrs. A. Lamcraft, Mrs. B. Tingley, Mrs. MacRae, Mrs. A. Dickinson, Mrs. J. Walsh, Mrs. Bob Ramsay, Mrs. Allison, Miss Ruth Dale, Miss Rae Armour, Miss Helen Fahlman, Miss Evelyn Bowell, Miss Elizabeth Theed, Miss Joan Appleton, Miss Muriel Banks and Miss Anne Carney.

Card Party, Films Good Combination

Thursday evening, March 30, another card party was held by the CWL in the church hall. Whist and bridge were played. Winners in the whist hands were: Top scorers, Mrs. R. M. H. Turner and Mr. August Bonthoux. Consolation prizes were kept in the Fred Thompson family when Mr. and Mrs. Thompson each held the lowest count.

At bridge the winners were Mrs. Pat Smith and Mr. W. Rothwell.

Following the card games Father Meulenbergh showed a film of Australian animal and bird life and beautiful scenery of the country "down under".

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the league.

JUDY NICHOLSON INVITES FRIENDS FOR BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Archie Nicholson entertained four little girls at supper at her home on Tuesday evening, April 3, the occasion of the sixth birthday of her small daughter, Judy. Guests for Judy's birthday included Marilyn and June Milne, Dawn Knipfel and Linda Wilkin.

High Standing of Musical Festival Entries Praised

"In most of the rural areas across Canada the standard of work in musical festivals has been noticeably high, and the Okanagan is no exception."

This is a statement made by Dr. Lang, adjudicator, in his opening remarks at the first evening concert of the Festival held in Vernon last week, March 28-31.

This is the 24th consecutive year of activity for the Okanagan Valley Musical Festival and it was exceptionally well run this year, with performances given before good audiences both mornings and afternoons, and sell-out concerts every evening.

Dr. Lang judged the piano, vocal and violin classes, and Gweneth Lloyd of Winnipeg was adjudicator for the dancing.

Both were favorites, though it was thought that Dr. Lang marked in lower numbers than is usual. The happy enthusiasm noticeable at the first concert seemed to intensify throughout the week with Friday bringing it to a successful climax.

Due to an oversight in the syllabus' arrangements some of the outlying areas were not informed of a partial list of requirements printed in several valley papers last November, with the result that some teachers had no information regarding the required music until late in January, when the syllabus appeared.

This, combined with music deliveries considerably delayed in the bad weather, made it impossible for the usual number of students to enter from these areas, of which Summerland was one.

Results of standings obtained by local contestants are as follows, showing two first, two seconds, and creditable performances generally:

Marilyn McKay and Barbara Fudge, piano duet under 10, 3rd; Summerland dancers, English country dance, under 14, Ellen Hardy trophy; Summerland All-Girl choir, 2nd; Shiela Daniels, Elizabeth Barbour, girls' vocal under 15, 4th and 5th respectively; Shirley Schumann, folk song under 16, 5th; Joyce Schumann and Evelyn Washington, piano duet under 14, 1st; Paul Birch, sight reading under 16, 1st; Lynne Booth and Linda Betuzzi, piano solo, under 8, 3rd and 5th respectively; Linda Beman and Marmy Bleasdale, piano duet under 12, 2nd.

All musical contestants were pupils of Miss Kay Hamilton, and the dancing entry was by pupils of Mrs. R. M. Johnston.

The dancing entry selected number was "Jenny Pluk Pears" and won praise from the adjudicator. Miss Ruth Dale was the accompanist.

The girls filled the cup with popcorn and emptied it in short order. Those in the class were Margaret Lott, Ann Solly, Jill Sanborn, Diane Durick, Johan Bergstrom, Barbara Baker, Donna Eden and Carol Reinertson.

Pulp and Paper 15,000; E. H. Kellner, 30,000; B. I. Nesbitt, 179,000; E. Davies 15,000; E. J. Ryan and S. S. Griffiths, 29,490.

NOTES from PARLIAMENT HILL

(By O. L. JONES, MP for Yale)

There were no surprises in the budget report, as this being a year unaffected by a general election it was felt that the government would not grant any concessions or offer any bait to capture votes. The general expectation was, therefore, confirmed because this budget is just a continuing budget, following last year's policy.

There are no changes in personal income tax, neither on the duties of liquor, tobacco or cosmetics or succession duties. The 8 percent sales tax on ice cream has been dropped as well as other dairy drinks. This becomes effective immediately.

One concession that will meet with general approval is the dropping of the 8 percent sales tax on purchases by orphanages and institutions of the aged or infirm, effective July 1.

Some criticism of this is to the effect that concessions of this nature should be given to all the aged and infirm, whether in an institution or out of one. This could be done to a certain extent by the abolition of the means test.

The estimated revenue for the coming year is $2,430,000,000 compared with 2,438,000,000 expenditures. There were one or two other small changes not involving a great deal of money which are effective immediately.

The minister made it quite clear that capital gains are still exempt from income tax unless, of course, a series of capital gains such as the selling of three or four houses in the one year can be construed as business for the selling of homes. In that case the seller may find himself or herself required to pay income tax on the profits derived from such sales.

Several bills are before the House this week and will be passed before the Easter recess, two that particularly affect our district. One is the agricultural products act and the other is the agricultural products support act.

The first Act, which has not been renewed for one year, enables the government to enter into contracts with countries outside of Canada. At the present time it operates contracts for the sale of cheese, eggs, pork products.

The provisions would allow the government to enter into contract for the sale of fruit, canned salmon and other commodities.

It is suggested that the government set up an import and export board similar to the one now operating in New Zealand to take care of all exports and imports, with a staff qualified to search the world for new markets, particularly for markets for Canadian surplus products. However, the bill was passed for the one year.

Several speakers pointed out that Canada with its surplus has a moral obligation to see that those surpluses reach the "have not" nations of the world. Others expressed the attitude that it was not up to Canada to feed the rest of the world at the expense of Canadian farmers.

During the lengthy discussion it was again suggested that barter deals for our commodities would help to solve the problem. This year the very suggestion of barter was received respectfully, while a year ago no one would have paid any heed to the suggestion but the

If Trees Dormant Fire Blight May Still be Cut Says Watt

March is usually the last month for removing and burning Fire Blight in this district, states Alec Watt, district agriculturist, but this year, due to the lateness of the season this operation may be extended into April provided the trees are still dormant.

Once the buds have started to swell noticeably it is no longer safe to cut Fire Blight without disinfecting pruning tools and fresh wounds after each cut.

The grower can tell when this stage has been reached by examining the buds of pear trees and when the brown outer scales of these buds have separated sufficiently to show the creamy white under-scales beneath them it is no longer safe to cut without disinfecting.

Blechlride of Mercury (Corrosive Sublimate) is recommended for disinfecting tools and pruning wounds. As its name implies this material is extremely corrosive and should be kept in glass or earthenware containers. When disinfectant is in use the grower might profitably use an old pair of shears and avoid corrodng regular pruning tools. Blechlride of Mercury is also extremely poisonous to humans and should be kept in a marked container out of reach of children, cats and dogs, etc.

The horticultural branch throughout the Okanagan Valley is conducting a search for any trees still

Drivers' Licences Issued Here Number 666 Since Feb. 15

Since licences were first issued from the local provincial police office on February 15, some 666 drivers' licences have gone out to local residents. Bulk of the licences were issued the last few days of February when B.C. Police Constable I. G. Thorsteinson was swamped with this clerical work.

Only assistance which be obtained was from the B.C. Police office in Penticton, another constable being devoted to licencing issuance for several days.

Although an appeal was made to the provincial government office in Penticton and also direct to officials in Victoria, no other relief for the police constable was forthcoming.

As a consequence, police work was at a standstill for a greater part of February and March, the local constable having practically no time to devote to work other than licences.

There have been 446 car licences and 166 truck licences issued from the local office so far in the new year.

These figures do not include the licences issued to Summerland residents from the government office at Penticton or direct from headquarters at Victoria by mail.

harboring Fire Blight infection. Growers can assist in this work by phoning Alec Watt at 4756 when they have completed removal of Fire Blight from their orchards. A re-check of the trees can be made and doubtful points cleared up.

W. D. BUCHANAN

H. C. JAMES

Two important moves in the CPR passenger department are the appointment of H. C. James, Montreal, as general passenger agent for the Pacific region to succeed W. D. Buchanan who becomes general passenger agent at eastern region headquarters in Toronto.

Mr. James, who moves to Vancouver, is a native of Moncton, N.B., whose traffic experience includes 14 years in the U.S.A. He has held his present position at Montreal since 1943.

Mr. Buchanan, also born at Moncton, has been at Vancouver for the past ten years, becoming general passenger agent three years ago. Previously he was city ticket agent at Los Angeles.

Council Cautious On Drainage Scheme

Last year, the council was willing to go fifty-fifty with property owners to assist in installing proper conveyer of water for the most northerly drainage ditch on Trout creek, as it would help in draining municipal land including Powell Beach.

But this year times have changed somewhat, and the council is more cautious. Dr. M. F. Welsh found when he appeared last week before the 1950 council stating that the property owners are prepared to go ahead with last year's scheme.

Council decided it would take no action until all 1950 estimates are considered.

WOULD INSPECT MILK SUPPLIERS

Raw milk is being supplied to some Summerland stores without the dealers having a milk licence or without their premises being checked, municipal council was informed last week by the South Okanagan Health Unit.

It was declared that there is no wish to curtail proper distribution or put obstacles in the way of these persons. "We only want to check commonsense sanitary precautions," observed Councillor Atkinson.

Sellers of milk in the municipality are required by bylaw to take out a milk licence, which would be issued only after an inspection, it was stated.

Scholarship Fund Dance to be Held

The Summerland Scholarship Fund is still short of being self sustaining, so the Summerland branch of the UBC Alumni Assn. meeting held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Woolliams, Trout Creek, made plans for the annual Scholarship Dance this spring. Following the meeting, Mrs. N. O. Solly showed pictures of her trip up the Alaskan highway last summer and refreshments were served at their conclusion. The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Clarke Wilkin was chosen for the next meeting of the branch in April.

Rockets for Hail Clouds Investigated

While the B.C. legislature gives authority to the BCFGA to set up a mutual hail insurance company, as requested by last January's growers' convention in Penticton, investigations of rocket experiments are going ahead.

Assisted actively by H. C. MacNeill of Peachland, the BCFGA executive is seeking all possible information on the use of rockets to prevent hailstorms by breaking up the clouds.

Tests have been conducted in several countries but the results have been inconclusive so far, it is reported.

George A. Lundy of Oliver heads the committee which is to set up the mutual company once the legislature passes finally the private bill authorizing such a move.

Frost Warnings
D. M. McMullen of Vancouver has set up the frost and wind warning service supplied each year by the federal meteorological service and it is operating now on behalf of growers in the Okanagan and other fruit producing areas of the interior.

It is anticipated by the BCFGA executive that many growers will be able to take advantage of the new income tax regulations which allows an averaging of farmers' incomes over the past four years.

When Director Lowery of the income tax division comes to Kelowna on April 15 to address the chartered accountants' association, the BCFGA income tax committee will arrange a conference. J. Y. Towgood is a member of the latter committee which is headed by G. A. Barrat, Kelowna.

The BCFGA executive is endeavoring to have the Aluminum Company of Canada send samples of aluminum ladders to the Okanagan in order that growers might have an opportunity to test their feasibility for orchard use.

"I think Hospital Insurance is invaluable to any man with a family. We have certainly appreciated the large bill for $654.20 paid under the plan."

Hospital Insurance pays the bill!

The Lundbergs of Burnaby, B.C. are among the many families to benefit from Hospital Insurance. Besides baby Linda's arrival, which would have been an expected expense, Mrs. Lundberg had several other stays in hospital. The total bill for $654.20—enough to cripple a family budget—was taken care of by the

Rink Group Obtains Option On Lot and Starts Canvass

An option on a portion of the W. A. "Bud" Stuart property next to the badminton hall has been obtained by the Summerland Rink Assn., President George Stoll reports following a recent meeting of the executive.

This property was chosen after the council agreed that the playground site would not be granted on a lease basis to the rink association.

A canvass of the district for funds to raise the proposed $30,000 for this building is being started at once and is scheduled to conclude the end of May. If an appreciable portion of the money has not been pledged by that time, the project will be dropped at least for the time being, it is understood.

Several thousand dollars have been subscribed already, it is understood. If the scheme is finalized, then those who have pledged sums will take out debentures bearing three percent interest, it has been decided.

BASEBALL CLUB STAGES BINGO AND DANCE PARTY

The baseball club held a bingo party and dance in the IOOF hall on Saturday evening, April 1. People dropped in and out for a few games of bingo or had a dance or two before leaving for home, and refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served. About $25 was added to the star-of-the-season fund as a result of the club's efforts.

Professional Baseball Clubs Draw Big Crowds at Penticton

Wenatchee Chiefs showed a clean pair of heels to Vancouver Capilanos before capacity crowds at Oliver on Saturday and Penticton on Sunday when these two professional baseball teams spring training in those two South Okanagan centres came together for the first time last weekend.

Better hitting power and more hustle impressed the crowds that the Wenatchee Chiefs would be a major factor in this year's Western International league which operates as a professional loop in the Pacific Northwest.

But the Penticton crowd, at least, is pulling hard for the Capilanos as that team has endeared itself to the fans and citizens in general of Penticton for the second straight season. Well Mannered Players

The well-mannered conduct of the players and strict discipline enforced by the club officials has convinced Penticton friends that the Caps are a ball club well worth supporting.

This was quite evident Friday evening at the Incola hotel when the Vancouver Capilanos played hosts at a reception and banquet and speaker after speaker related the friendly feeling which now is well entrenched between the players and citizenry.

Mr. N. C. K. Willis, Capilanos president, was banquet chairman and introduced a large group of head table guests. Managing director Bob Brown, "Mr. Baseball" to countless of ardent fans in the Pacific Northwest, and Manager Bill Brenner were interesting guest speakers, the latter introducing the team personnel.

Three games with Wenatchee Chiefs have already been played by the Capilanos and three more exhibition games with the Chiefs and the Victoria Athletics, who are training at Kamloops, are on tap for this weekend.

Next dates are Sunday, Monday and Wednesday, April 9, 10 and 12 at King's Park in Penticton.

Try To Entice Victoria Team Here for Game

Manager Ben Trafford of the Summerland Baseball club revealed Monday night that he has been endeavoring to have the Victoria Athletics professional baseball team come to Summerland for an exhibition game before spring training concludes.

However, the Victoria ball tossers wanted a $200 guarantee to double back from their last engagement against the Wenatchee Chiefs at Oliver.

As the local ball club has no funds with which to gamble on probable gate receipts, at present, the proposition was turned down. Mr. Trafford announced, although he would have appreciated an opportunity for the local players to come up against such strong opposition.

It is hoped that the Victoria Athletics' management can be persuaded to visit Summerland and see the facilities available to them at the Living Memorial athletic park. If the Athletics could be brought to Summerland for spring training it would eliminate costly travelling for the clubs training at Penticton and Oliver, it is pointed out.

Interior Ball Loop Starts Play April 30

Princeton, champions of the Interior Baseball league last season, will be attempting to retain the pennant when April 30 sees the first games of the new season played, according to the annual meeting held recently in Vernon.

But there will be quite a different setup of teams this year as Summerland has gone over to the International league and Kamloops Elks (formerly the Legion) and Kelowna are coming in to the Interior loop.

There will be eight teams in the 1950 schedule including Revelstoke Spikes, Vernon, Kamloops Elks, Kamloops CYO, North Kamloops, Rutland Adanacs, Kelowna and Princeton.

Art Gray, Rutland Adanacs manager, is league president with Dr. Cameron of Kamloops vice-president and W. L. (Laurie) Scott of Kelowna as secretary-treasurer.

Each team has one voting delegate, J. McGraw representing Princeton and the other teams having the following: Kelowna, W. L. Scott; Rutland, Andy Kitch; Vernon, Jim Moebes; Revelstoke, J. Pradolini; Kamloops CYO, M. Hornsby; Kamloops Elks, R. Roberts; North Kamloops, H. Galtier.

An executive meeting will be held in Vernon on April 16 when the 1950 schedule will be presented for approval by the president and secretary. First scheduled game will be on April 30.

Form of the playoffs will also be decided at this April 16 executive session.

A playoff with the champion of the Okanagan Internationals league will also be investigated.

KAMLOOPS WALLOPS CALGARY IN FIRST GAME

Kamloops Elks, champions of B.C., amazed the western sports world Tuesday night by walloping the highly touted Calgary Stampers 6-1 in the first game of the B.C.-Alberta playdown, on the Allen Cup trail. Second game tonight is being broadcast.

Conciliation On Electrical Dispute Sought

Dispute between the International Union of Electrical Workers and the Okanagan Municipal Assn. committee representing Revelstoke, Kelowna, Summerland and Penticton over a 1950 agreement will likely go to conciliation.

This was the report to Summerland council last Friday evening by Councillor F. E. Atkinson, local representative on the municipal committee.

Two meetings of the Okanagan municipal committee have been held to draw up a uniform contract for these four communities and present it to Mr. Ross, representing the union. It is understood that Mr. Ross has turned down the suggested agreement.

Each municipality has been served with copy of a new agreement for 1950 and in each case the electrical workers' union is seeking a different working arrangement.

The four communities involved wish to consolidate the agreements into one deal which will apply to all four areas. In Summerland's case, the union is seeking approximately 10 cents per hour increase across the board, Mr. Atkinson reported.

Other details which are in disagreement concern hours of work. The union wishes the working time set from 8 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m., for each working day.

The municipal committee contends that in the summertime it makes no difference to the workmen if they are employed eight hours from 4 o'clock in the morning, provided the proper amount of time off is allowed for meals.

The union also seeks double time for Sunday work and the committee seeks to cut this to time and a half, as the West Kootenay agreement with its employees only calls for that amount of payment.

As most major extensions have been completed and only minor work facing the crew for this year, the services of Stewart Sanborn on the municipal electric light crew here will be dispensed with on April 15. Mr. Atkinson reported to the council. This is an economy measure, he stipulated, as cold storage operation and consequent use of electrical power is expected to be curtailed this season.

SPRING WORK IN GARDEN STARTING

It is now time to tidy up the flower garden. Any dead stems of perennials in the borders should be cut off at the base and dead annual plants pulled up by the roots. A light raking of the bed may be made, but go carefully so that tips of bulbs just below the surface of the soil are not damaged. As the weather becomes warmer, a more thorough raking or light digging between plants may be done.

In the rose garden some of the outer covering on the bushes should be moved as soon as the weather gets warm, and the remainder of the mulch at intervals of a few days. It is a mistake to uncover the bushes too early as the stems may be injured by drying winds before the roots become active. Pruning the bushes can be delayed until the leaf buds show signs of growth. All damaged wood should be cut out and stems pruned to a good strong bud.

Community is Saddened by Tragic Death

St. Andrew's United church, West Summerland, could not hold all the family friends who wished to attend the funeral of the late Norman Holmes, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Holmes, Nu-Way Hotel proprietors, who died in Summerland General hospital last Thursday afternoon as the result of a motorcycle accident the previous night.

A large group gathered outside the church to wait with bowed heads for the conclusion of the funeral service conducted by Rev. H. R. Whitmore on Tuesday afternoon, April 4, at 2 o'clock.

Most business houses in West Summerland closed their doors for an hour on Tuesday afternoon while the service was in progress. The high school was also closed for the afternoon.

The young lad, who was a popular member of the "teen-aged group" and had a host of friends in the district, was riding a motorcycle along Giant's Head road late Wednesday evening when his machine hit a large pothole in the hard surface.

The bike went out of control and is believed to have gone end over end, taking the rider with it. He suffered severe skull fractures and died shortly after noon the next day in Summerland hospital.

Coroner Dr. F. W. Andrew conducted a short enquiry late Thursday and pronounced accidental death.

Played Many Games.

Norman Holmes Jr., was a well-mannered, quiet-spoken young man who had endeared himself to a wide number of persons, old and young. He took a keen interest in athletics, being a valuable member of the senior hockey team, played basketball and baseball. He was a member of Teen Town and the school cadet corps, just recently graduating from the latter to become a member of C. Squadron, B.C. Dragoons, 9th Recce Rgt. Besides his parents, well-known proprietors of the Nu-Way Hotel and Cafe, he leaves one sister, Mrs. Norman Thompson, Summerland.

Among near relatives who came to Summerland for the largely-attended funeral service on Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Holmes and Albert Holmes of Cranbrook, Miss Edith Bradley and Mrs. Alex Paynton of Paynton, Sask.

High school students, school cadets, and members of the B.C. Dragoons, carried the large number of floral tributes from the church.

Pallbearers were students and young friends, being Murray Elliott, Leighton Nesbitt, Mel Monroe, Lorne Logie, Jack Dunham and Dave Wright.

Interment was in Peach Orchard cemetery with the Summerland Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Teach New Members Fundamentals of Kiwanis Says Young

Stressing the need of assimilating new members into the organization by inculcating the aims and objects, plus the yearly objectives of Kiwanis, J. T. Young, of Penticton, past lieutenant-governor, proved an interesting speaker to the weekly Kiwanis Club of Summerland dinner meeting held this week at the Parish hall of the Church of the Holy Child, Rosedale avenue.

Mr. Young is district chairman of Kiwanis education and was introduced by local education committee chairman, Lacey Fisher.

The speaker urged the local club to make certain that new members understand the fundamentals of Kiwanis, which include the enduring friendship made and the building of a better community. "You belong to the finest club in the world; such a large organization must have something to give its members," he emphasized.

Give Some Extra Attention to Lawns

A little extra attention to the garden lawn in the early spring will often improve its appearance throughout the year. As soon as it is reasonably dry from winter snow, it should be well raked with a bamboo or flexible steel grass rake. A garden rake should be avoided as it is too drastic a treatment and tends to tear up the roots. Delay the raking if the ground is found to be so soft that footmarks are noticeable; high heels in particular will leave depressions which may remain all summer.

Rolling is not as essential as many people think, and is necessary only in those regions where heavy results from the action of frost. Although rolling is not usually harmful on light soils, it causes heavier soils to compact, a condition detrimental to the growth of grass. A more effective and desirable method of smoothing small depressions in the lawn is top-dressing.

Early spring is a good time to fertilize. The most common cause of poor lawns is low soil fertility. Since grass is constantly growing and producing new leaves, a suitable fertilizer is one high in nitrogen. It is important that the fertilizer be spread evenly. It is a good plan to divide it into equal parts and to spread each half uniformly over the entire lawn, in opposite directions. The lawn should be dry at the time of application and the fertilizer should be thoroughly watered in immediately after to avoid burning the foliage.

Flood Potential Exists If Cool Days Persist Survey Bulletin Warns

If the present cool weather persists into late spring, with a sudden change to higher temperatures the Okanagan could see some disastrous spring floods, it has been estimated in many quarters following a review of water content in the snowcovered hills at April 1.

There is one redeeming feature to the picture, however, in that Okanagan lake is at its lowest level in years.

Water content in the Okanagan is registered at the first of the month as 104 percent of the same date last year, 123 percent of April 1, 1948 and 133 percent of normal.

The picture throughout most of the province, with the exception of the coastal area is about the same, the Okanagan net having a much above average water content as the East Kootenay, Similkameen or North Thompson areas.

"This indicates an above-average summer runoff for these basins, providing normal temperatures and precipitation prevail until, and during, the runoff period," states the latest report of the B.C. Snow Survey Bulletin of the water rights branch of the lands and forests department.

"If the weather during April and early May continues cloudy, cool, and with even normal precipitation a definite flood potential will exist."

Later in the report, the predicted inflow to Okanagan Lake, for the period April to July inclusive was placed at 400,000 acre feet.

"The measured flow for the same period last year, 1948 and for the average 1939-48 was 391,000 acre feet, 612,000 acre feet and 326,000 acre feet respectively.

"The valley precipitation for the period November to March inclusive as reported from McCulloch and Osprey Lake has been well above normal.

Deep Snow Blanket
"It will be seen that, in general the snowfields in the areas under consideration are covered with deep snow, in fact in many cases the deepest over the period of record. This snow is at a low density which indicates that the snow has not yet begun its various stages of melting.

"If the present unseasonable weather with cool nights, cloudy days and above normal precipitation continues until April and early May a definite flood potential will exist."

"However, if the snowfields melt gradually throughout April, May and June the flood potential will not exist."

Snow depth at the 4,700-foot level of Trout Creek was 38 inches at March 29 with a water content of 10.2 inches compared to 9 inches at the same time last year and 7.5 inches in 1948. Average for 14 years is 6.6 inches.

Drivers' Tests Being Given Until Tomorrow From Local High School

In the first two days more than 100 Summerland persons were tested for their driving ability by the Motor Vehicle branch examiners operating from the Summerland high school this week.

William Moore and Gordon Rankin are the examiners who commenced the drivers' examinations this week. Appointments were made by mail, starting at the top of the alphabet.

The classes will continue until Friday afternoon but when the examining officials will return here has not been determined. It is a matter of a suitable hall, the ex-

Jaycees Say Side Roads Junk Yards

"It's a junk yard half way to Fish Lake."

This was the rather startling statement emanating from R. H. Bleasdale at the Nu-Way Annex Tuesday evening when Summerland Junior Chamber of Commerce discussed at its monthly meeting the coming Cleanup, Paintup, Beautify campaign which the Jaycees will sponsor.

There followed a frank discussion on the dumping of tin cans and other refuse indiscriminately throughout the district, with many comments being made on the inadequacy of the one-day opening of the municipal refuse ground, especially in winter months.

It was stated by several Jaycees that many citizens cannot take their garbage to the dump on Wednesdays, the only day it is open. Consequently, they sneak along side roads and leave the refuse onto the roadside wherever there is a lonely spot.

A delegation is planning to meet the council on April 25 to discuss this subject of refuse dumping in the municipality and along roads adjacent to the municipality.

In the meantime, Director John Bennett informed the Jaycees that May 13 to 27 are the official dates for Cleanup Weeks in Canada and in Summerland T. S. Manning is the Jaycee in charge of the campaign.

Summerland reservoir, two days before, registered 39.3 inches of snowdepth with 11.7 inches of water content against 10.6 inches in 1949 and 7.5 inches in 1948. Fourteen-year average at the reservoir is 8.2 inches.

Precipitation from November 1 to April 1 at Osprey Lake was 13.49 inches, which is 3.61 above the 10-year average. Last year for the same period precipitation was 11.42 inches.

aminers state.
As the high school is vacant this week for the Easter holidays accommodation for the examiners was provided there at a rental charge of $4 per day to cover janitor and other expenses.

Drivers are not subjected to any written test this year but everyone is given a road test and also is examined for vision, reaction and knowledge of road signs.

Each person must supply a vehicle for the test and should be prompt in answering the mailed summons, otherwise delay in obtaining a clearance may result, the examiners state.

Conciliation Hearing Set For Kelowna

A conciliation board hearing to try and reach a solution to the dispute between the international union of electrical workers and four interior municipalities, will be held in Kelowna on April 18, Councillor F. E. Atkinson informed local council on Tuesday.

Although all four municipalities, Revelstoke, Kelowna, Summerland and Penticton are disputing agreements sought by the electrical workers, City of Kelowna has been chosen as a representative case for conciliation hearing.

All four municipalities will make presentations in the Kelowna conciliation hearing, Councillor Atkinson reported as Summerland member of the municipal committee endeavoring to reach an agreement with the electricians.

Ald. J. H. Horn is the municipal representative on the conciliation board hearing but local council had not been informed of other members at the Tuesday afternoon meeting in the municipal hall.

New Post Office Opened Today

Yesterday afternoon the Summerland Post Office moved to the brand new premises built by Gordon Ritchie farther south on Shaughnessy avenue.

Today, Postmaster Charles Clark is getting straightened around and becoming accustomed to his spacious quarters. The new post office building is a credit to the lower town area and will provide ample facilities for present and future needs for some time, it is stated.

Hastings Street Property Owners File Protest on Paying Cost of Changeover

Legal firm of O'Brian & Christian, representing practically all property owners on Hastings street, has filed a formal petition of protest before Summerland municipal council regarding the latter's decision that the cost of changing over electrical service from front to rear of their premises should be borne by the property owners and not the municipality.

Municipal council is turning over the petition to municipal solicitors, Boyle, Aikins & Emerson.

Last year, the municipal electrical department completed installation of new electric light standards and a new power line along the lane south of Granville and thence north along the lane west of Hastings to connect with the B.C. Fruit Shippers Ltd.

This installation cost about $6,000 and it was the electrical department's plan that once the power line had been installed down the lane the unsightly poles along Hastings street would be removed.

But before they could be removed property owners would have to alter their connections from front to rear of their premises and therein lay the subject of a dispute.

Property owners claimed they were not consulted and therefore should not be made to pay for all this cost. A meeting was held between council and these owners at which the press was asked to absent itself. It was reported by some of those attending that the meeting became heated at times. Cost would total $500.

Now, O'Brian & Christian state that the cost involved to changeover the service for their clients would be $482.90.

The legal firm doubted if the municipality has the legal right to force property owners to make the changeover at their expense, in whole or in part, and expressed the thought that the expense should be borne by ratepayers as a whole.

"Unjust" and "iniquitable" were among other words used by the legal firm in the petition of protest to object to the municipality's stand.

Those who have placed their case in the hands of this legal firm are Summerland Grocereria, per L. W. Rumball, H. M. Kersey & J. B. Duxbury, V. M. Lockwood, Matthew Harrison, Mrs. Jennie M. S. McDonald, Mrs. Nettie Helen Shannon, N. F. Schwass, T. B. Young, Mrs. Margaret T. Laidlaw, Mrs. Minnie Fetterer and Olive A. Lockwood.

Members of the council shook their heads sadly as they heard this protest petition, but decided not to make any further reference to the subject until legal opinion is obtained.

However, it was stated that this would probably serve as an object lesson to the council in future.

NO COURT CASES HERE IN MARCH

Summerland was an extremely quiet community as far as police activity was concerned in March, the B.C. Police report scanned by Reeve C. E. Bentley on Tuesday indicated. Although all police activities were not revealed by the council session it was stated that there had been no police court cases during the month.

BCHIS Ward Rate Boosted

Summerland General hospital has been informed that the new B.C. Hospital Insurance Service public ward rate commencing April 1 will be $8 per day instead of the previous rate of $6.75.

This change was authorized by the BCHIS after a perusal of the 1950 budget in relation to the operating expenses incurred in 1949.

Increased allowances in lieu of salaries and wages, as authorized by the BCHIS and which did not come into effect until part way through 1949, are believed to be the main causes of the increased operating budget for this year.

Jaycees Plan to Attend Conferences

Three meetings in Kelowna, Vernon and Vancouver are to be attended by delegates from Summerland and Junior Chamber of Commerce monthly meeting was informed on Tuesday at the Nu-Way Annex.

First is a district meeting at Kelowna on Sunday, May 7, to prepare for the B.C. Junior Chamber of Commerce at Vernon on May 22 and 23.

Third and most important on the list is the Canadian Junior Chamber convention in Vancouver June 19 to 21. It is hoped that at least ten local Jaycees will be able to go to the coast at this time.

Jones Flat Scheme Meets Legal Tangle

Proposal to link Jones Flat growers under one sprinkler irrigation scheme which would cost approximately $65,000 and would eliminate gradual replacements of the system over the next ten years has hit a rough and rocky road Summerland municipal fathers admitted in open council session on Tuesday.

It had been planned that two bylaws would be submitted to the ratepayers, one giving consent to borrow money for the municipality's share of its normal replacement program in the next ten years and the other dealing with the amount which Jones Flat growers themselves would have to subscribe towards their new proposed system.

This seemed like a fairly straightforward scheme to the municipal council and the Jones Flat growers were acquainted with the details.

But when municipal solicitor John Aikins of Penticton got through with the proposal the council found it was entirely beyond its scope in making such suggestions.

And now, Deputy Minister of Municipalities B. C. Bracewell has agreed emphatically with Lawyer Aikins' viewpoint.

Instead of the original scheme, the council has only two main alternatives. One is that the cost of the Jones Flat sprinkler scheme be spread over the entire municipality; second is that the Jones Flat growers assume the entire cost.

"You'll have to think up another scheme" was Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith's summing up and that is what the council is endeavoring to do.

Councillor Francis Stewart snorted a bit at this statement, intimating that he has been burning quite a bit of midnight oil trying to come up with the right answer to the legal entanglement but without much success yet.

Hard Surfacing Local Roads Discontinued for 1950 Tait Tells Council

There will be no hard surfacing program undertaken by Summerland municipal council in 1950.

Such was the announcement by Councillor Eric Tait, chairman of the municipal roads department to Tuesday's council session. It was not stated if this decision had been reached by the entire council or if it was merely a department report.

However, Councillor F. E. Atkinson urged that the road department give consideration to a seal coat for hard surfacing already laid. After some discussion, Councillor Tait agreed to consider this suggestion when municipal estimates are being finalized.

"For the benefit of the press we wish to announce that there will be no blacktopping this year", Mr. Tait declared when called upon by Reeve C. E. Bentley to report on committee activity.

He explained that the rock crusher should be moved and this will be the major capital outlay of the year. When the rock crushing plant is established in its new location ten years' supply of "good gravel" will be forthcoming, he indicated.

"When we get that done we will be in a better position to carry on a limited extension of the hard surfacing program", he added.

Asked by Mr. Atkinson regarding seal coating present blacktopping, Mr. Tait replied this would mean bringing in an entire car of asphalt. He had been advised that seal coating could be held over for another year and quoted 1949 Roads Supervisor Don Wright in this respect.

Material Coming Out

Councillor Atkinson, however, was not entirely satisfied and pointed out that Giant's Head road from St. Stephen's church to the J. H. Wells' home is rough and the material is coming out between the rocks in the mix.

"I believe in an economical program but I also feel that such curtailment is false economy," countered Mr. Atkinson.

"The seal coat will have to wait for the estimates", was Mr. Tait's final word on the subject.

He also stated that a continuation of the shaling program this week has been held up due to damage to the radiator of the dragline engine.

Cleanup of the main streets has not been completed yet, Mr. Tait observed.

The new truck for the road department will be ready for delivery this week, Pollock Motors Ltd. informed the council. The truck box has been installed by Sanborn's Machine Shop.

In further discussion on municipal roads, it was suggested that more attention should be given to outlying sections, Councillor Tait agreeing that such would be possible to a greater degree this year with no hard surfacing program.

Mr. Wright has been consulted regarding the relocation of the crushing equipment and is assisting the department, while an expert of the National Machinery Co. is expected to come here to give further advice.

Hamilton Report on Hospital Future Only Guide Says Pearson

Municipal Council, along with many other organizations here, have received formal acknowledgments of the briefs sent to governmental officials on the findings of the James A. Hamilton hospital survey.

Summerland organizations joined together in protesting the findings which advocate elimination of the general hospital here in favor of bed space in the Penticton hospital by 1971.

Mr. George S. Pearson, minister of health and welfare points out in his reply that "it must be remembered that this report is an expression of opinion by Hamilton and Associates, who are recognized hospital experts, of the most desirable overall plan for British Columbia hospital construction looking forward to 1971."

"There is, of course, nothing binding about the plan suggested. It is intended to be a guide to the hospital insurance service in planning and making grants for hospital construction," Reeve C. E. Bentley was grati-

Bluebirds Reach Trail Cage Semis

Summerland Bluebirds, high school basketball team, plays Trail today for the right to meet Calgary tonight in the finals of the Kootenay Easter basketball tournament.

The Bluebirds, sparked by Wally Day, have been one of the stand-out teams in the tournament, and have lost only one game, to undefeated Calgary.

In preliminary rounds, Wally Day scored 30 points to lead his Bluebirds to a 54-37 victory over Grand Forks; the Summerland boys then beat Rossland 45-29 in the second round, Day with 16 and Tomori with 13 being top scorers.

Next, the Bluebirds played Calgary and lost 49-41 after tying the score with two minutes to go. Calgary remains undefeated while Summerland and Trail have each lost one game.

"We have been very much in the running", Coach Lacey Fisher wired The Review this morning in giving a description of the tourney to date.

Endorse Suggestion Of Breakwater Here

Summerland Junior Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the local board of trade request to the department of public works, Ottawa, that the breakwater proposed by the board for the past three years be implemented this year.

Jaycees also endorsed the brief compiled by the Summerland Hospital Society on Summerland's views on the James A. Hamilton survey on the hospital future of the province which calls for the scrapping of the local general hospital by 1971.

The hospital brief has vigorously opposed the Hamilton survey finding and Jaycees will notify Premier Byron Johnson, Health and Welfare Minister George S. Pearson and W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South Okanagan that they agree with the brief.

Council Continues Its Economy Plan

Municipal council is continuing to look with a certain amount of disfavor on any requests for monetary assistance and is referring most items to the estimates with the announced intention of paring down expenditures there. This week even the annual grant of $25 for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind goes to estimates where it will probably be cut, along with other grants and such like expenditures.

ified that Mr. Pearson added this note:

"In view of the fact that hospital construction is undertaken only upon the initiative of the community affected no effort will be made to implement any of the suggestions without discussion with and agreement by the hospital board of the community affected."

Replies were also received by the council from Premier Byron Johnson, Hon. E. C. Carson, Hon. John Cates, Hon. E. T. Kenney, Hon. L. H. Eyres and Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer.

W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South Okanagan, advised council he is protesting strongly the proposed changes in hospital administration as set out in the Hamilton report.

"I strongly feel that the Summerland hospital should be not only continued but expanded to meet the growing demands of the district," declared Mr. Bennett.

C. W. Morrow, MLA for North Okanagan, and Okanagan Municipal Assn. also replied, while Summerland's brief was also endorsed by the Penticton city council.

Vote for Future Expansion

NEXT week ratepayers of this district will have an opportunity to endorse the extension of a vital service to one of the few sections of the municipality not being provided with such facility.

Water is one of the most vital needs for any district. Without water, humans and most animals cannot survive.

It is difficult to imagine any large section of a municipality in the Okanagan not being supplied with pure domestic water. Yet this is the case here in the North Bench-Crescent Beach area. This area, comprising many hundreds of acres of rich soil and dozens of fine building sites, has never been opened up because of the lack of water.

In days gone by there was little call for such a service and the population in that district was such that the expense would have been too great for a small municipality to undertake.

Today, the picture has changed. Crescent Beach is building up, in fact the number of year-round residents is increasing annually. The number will increase rapidly once domestic water service is provided.

In the North Bench area, more and more property owners wish to erect modern homes on their orchards. There are probably others who wish to subdivide portions of their holdings where fine building sites are available.

But such an expansion will not commence when there is no drinking water available. Without such a public utility much valuable land will remain in its primitive state. The progress of the municipality will be retarded.

Those who own property in this wide area have guaranteed to take a certain number of services, to provide about one-third of the annual cost to retire the 20-year debenture issue necessary for this domestic water extension. The balance can be taken out of the annual profit which the domestic water department usually shows on the municipal financial statement.

Thus, the extension can be paid for in twenty years without the ordinary landowner being required to make any additional payment.

Actually, it is more the business of the area involved to decide this issue except for the fact that the debenture money will be raised on the premise that the municipality as a whole will guarantee repayment. This brings in all the taxpayers in the municipality to decide an issue which concerns, mainly, one portion of the municipality.

But the fact that with this domestic water extension will come more and more residential buildings providing an expansion of the municipality in an area which has laid dormant for many years should be sufficient incentive for the voters to register in the affirmative on Saturday, April 22.

An affirmative vote will mean an expansion of the municipality in the right direction.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

For many years I too followed the cult of admiring Men who Do Things. The busy business executive, the skilled surgeon, the lawyer, the engineer, the influential editor, the all-powerful banker—any of those whose achievements and success measure big, especially in financial terms.

Likewise I snorted contempt upon anyone who never achieved such tangible tributes as a good job, a modern home or a shiny new car. "A mere good-for-nothing," I'd sniff. And add, if any excuse offered, "Nothing but a dreamer!"

There was old Bill, for an example. Lived in a hotel, never did own a car, always looked shabby. Took agencies for Rawleigh, Watkins and similar travelling jobs, which never lasted long because he had to hire his transportation. Did spells of clerking in stores, or odd jobs around the town, was often unemployed for months.

Yet it never seemed to worry him. Always he was on the verge of making a fortune—"I'm dickering for that Excelsior agency now, fact is I'm pretty sure of getting it, and when I do—boy, on boy! Practically sells itself, easily make thirty-fourty dollars a day." He had definite plans for a magnificent home which he was always going to start—"in a year or two." And whenever there was a discussion of cars, he spoke up as loudly as anybody, nor did he stoop to the ordinary Fords and Chevys that the rest of us would have been delighted to get new. "No sir, there's nothing like a

Buick; that's what I'm waiting for

And after he'd gone we'd all shake our heads pityingly and agree that if old Bill would just stop dreaming and buckle down to work, he'd be a lot better off. Now, after twenty years of buckling down to work and trying to Do Things, I'm beginning to wonder if the Dreamers of the world shouldn't be pitying the rest of us.

For few of us really accomplish the Big Things we set out to do. Boggled down with detail, with uncounted obstacles and unexpected expenses cropping up everywhere, most of us fall disappointingly short of our big objectives. If we do work up from an ordinary subordinate job to even, a minor executive position, we find that the responsibility brings a burden of worry and care that never lifts.

If we build a new home, not only do its costs exceed all our estimates, but grounds, upkeep, taxation and repairs keep gnawing at our earnings all the time.

If we buy a new car, we find its glossy finish much more worrisome than the frank paintlessness of the old one, its newness demanding still further outlay for costly accessories and care. Everything we spend money on, in fact, to prove that we have become a Success, demands a lot more money than we had ever figured to keep it up.

So we who set out to Do instead of Dream are often frustrated and disappointed, always beset by cares and worries. Success, which seemed once like a beautiful goddess offering us leisure, comfort, and happiness with lavish hands, turns out to be a sneering old hag with a trident, prodding us always to rush faster and scramble harder for more and more money to keep up the outward show.

The ones who really achieve leisure, comfort and happiness are I begin to suspect, those once-despised Dreamers. Leisure, because they just won't be rushed into too giddy a whirl of work. Comfort, because they have spare time enough to sit back and take it easy while we, with our 'much more comfortable homes' never have time enough to relax and enjoy 'em.

Happiness, because that is a state of mind, and brother, they've got it. They're content; we're not. They have the anticipation which is traditionally better than realization. They don't suffer disappointment and disillusionment; their dream homes and cars are much better than ours.

Sure, our homes and cars are real; but so, alas, are our payments, our innumerable bills, for gas and oil and repairs and taxes and you know the rest.

Of course, the old Bills of the world don't really amount to anything. And it is far, far better to have tried to be a Success, and failed, than never to have tried at all, and all that. Yet there are times, as I dash about Doing Things as fast as possible in my own little corner, when I'd like to just stretch out in the sun and be a Dreamer instead—even for a single day.

For large users of electric light the municipal council has fixed a new rate of nine cents gross over 200 kwh. Old rate was 11 cents. Summerland has escaped serious tree damage from the sudden drop in temperature last December 15. Some districts were affected seriously but only the occasional tree here has suffered.

Instead of closing the hospital at the end of March it will be continued with a reduced staff.

R. S. Monro, E. H. Bennett and S. G. Davies have laid a formal request before the council that a section of the main flume serving their properties should be enlarged and replaced on a better grade.

C. P. Evans has sold his 80-acre Trout Creek property to J. Landry of Seattle.

Arthritis Mobile Clinic at Kelowna

KELOWNA—The "Blue Bird of Happiness" has arrived in the Orchard City, thanks to the generosity of its residents. A mobile unit from headquarters of the B.C. division, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, containing portable heat lamps and other equipment which will bring relief from pain to sufferers of arthritic disease arrived here last week. Clinics will be held Mondays and Thursdays, commencing today.

With bluebirds, symbol of the society, emblazoned on its sides, the little car will carry an expert physiotherapist to bed-ridden patients who can attend neither the clinic in town nor their own physician.

Miss Elise Floyd, in charge of the unit, came from South Africa to take the job with CA & RS. She has completed a special course in the latest method of treating rheumatic disease at Vancouver headquarters.

She is accompanied by Miss Jeanne M. Weaver, director of mobile unit service in B.C., who will remain until the operation is rolling smoothly.

Part of the Duncan report on the Nash-Mutual combine indicates that the anti-dumping act was nullified by a system of rebates paid to importers by the shippers.

WHAT'S THE GREATEST STANDING OFFER EVER MADE ?

It is this — reward for EXTRA effort.

It is a basic fact of human nature that people will work amazingly hard if they get something extra for doing it.

Through the years it has stimulated men to invent new and better machines—to invest in new enterprises—to create the world's great industrial plants—to compete in free markets.

By increased use of machine power on our mass production lines, we have been able to lower costs—to produce more for every hour we work than any country outside this hemisphere.

Our productive efficiency has resulted in constantly higher wages and shorter hours. Our labor has the right to choose jobs, to organize and to bargain collectively.

Let's produce more goods than ever. Let's create new industries and expand old ones—make more new jobs for more people.

Here's a big reward for extra effort —one we ALL can share.

The club night which was cancelled on April 1 will be held next Saturday, April 15, at 8 p.m. in the Youth Centre. The only proposed change in the program is that we hope to fill the first hour with films instead of dancing.

The dance down at Penticton last weekend was well attended by Summerland Teen Town members.

High School COMMENTS

Students are recuperating after last week's siege of Easter examinations. It is the hope of each and everyone of the 151 students that drastic measures will be taken in the near future to exterminate such folly.

Students have found various ways to spend their holidays. Majority of the students may be found working in the orchards or in stores. Luck struck several of the students such as Helen Kean, who will be going to Haney for her brother's wedding; Richard Lewis, Graham Munn and Don Blacklock, who attended a Scout rally in Kelowna; Shirley Wilson and Doreen Steuart who are attending a Teen Town conference in Vancouver, and the senior basketball team which is in Trail.

The basketball team, now known as the "Summerland Eulebirds", is composed of Wally Day, Don Cristante, Sandy Jomori, Fred Kato, Ron MacRae, Daryl Weitzel, Jim Logie and Graham Munn. Coach is Mr. Lacey Fisher.

High school students entering the AOTS request program tonight are Shirley Schumann, Elette Green, Ellen Brandstrup, Merle Heavy-sides, Mary Marshall, Preston Mott, Kit Muirhead, Jack Smith, Paul Birch and Sherril Smith.

The first assembly since Christmas, was held in the elementary school on March 31. During the meeting Ron MacRae was given $25 to pay for the skis which were stolen from him while attending a high school ski meet in Rossland. Olive Mason gave a report on her visit to UBC.

NOTES from PARLIAMENT HILL

April 5, 1950

The first part of the present session is over and most members have left for their Easter holidays. We can now sit back and briefly review the events of the last 2½ months. On the whole the session has been very dull, highlighted occasionally by a fiery speech on the conduct of the government particularly during discussions on the Pipeline Bills.

The last week of the session was highlighted, as far as the British Columbia Members were concerned, by the announcement regarding assistance to be given to our fruit growers. Mr. McCubbin, Parliamentary assistant to the minister of agriculture announced the decision of the government to assist the apple industry by quoting a letter that had been sent to Mr. A. K. Loyd, president of the British Columbia Tree Fruits Limited. I will now quote the letter as placed in Hanaard:

I have placed before my colleagues in the cabinet your request for assistance for the apple growers of British Columbia to supplement returns received for their 1949 apple crop. I am pleased to inform you that the government, after a full and thorough investigation into the marketing of the current apple crop, has approved a contribution of $2 million for the benefit of the growers represented by the British Columbia Tree Fruits Limited.

The very large special grants that have been paid by the government during the war and post-war years to the apple industry of British Columbia and Nova Scotia have been in recognition of the difficulties which the war produced for the apple export trade.

The government has decided, therefore, that, after this grant of $2 million, no further assistance can be provided on account of the special difficulties of the industry in the United Kingdom market.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) JAMES G. GARDINER

The latter part of this letter mentions that no further assistance can be provided on account of the special difficulties of the industry in the United Kingdom market.

Later, Mr. McCubbin answered a question to the effect: "Does the $2 million mentioned as being assistance to the fruit industry of British Columbia also include assistance contemplated in respect to the million boxes of apples donated to Great Britain?"

Mr. McCubbin answered, "No, I do not think so." Mr. McCubbin again confirmed that statement.

While the two statements appear contradictory, I feel that should the fruit industry still find itself in financial difficulties owing to the poor markets, consideration of the minister, the door has been left open for a new approach. It is indeed very gratifying to all of

Cantata on Good Friday Music Treat

A great treat for music lovers was the cantata presented by the choir of St. Andrew's church on the evening of Good Friday in St. Andrew's church.

The choir of thirty-four members presented in song and story the message of Easter.

Mrs. H. R. Whitmore conducted and Rev. H. R. Whitmore read passages to maintain the continuity of the theme.

Particularly appropriate was the anthem entitled "All on an April Evening", with its altogether delightful words and music.

A splendid balance was upheld in the number "Hark, Hark My Soul", with obligato taken by Mrs. H. V. Stent.

The cantata itself was by J. H. Maunder and called "Penitence, Pardon and Peace." Of considerable interest was the changing tempo moving steadily along into the lilting rhythm of the last part, "Therefore Now Let Us Rejoice", in which all the triumph of Eastertime is expressed.

Soloists included Mrs. Stent, Mrs. Whitmore, Mrs. K. Boothe, Mrs. Millay, Mr. T. W. Boothe and Mr. Alex Smith.

At the organ Mr. T. McKay presided, and for some parts of the program Mrs. Delmar Dunham accompanied on the piano in unison with the organ.

The church was well filled with an appreciative audience who joined in congregational singing here and there throughout the evening. A collection was taken to augment choir funds.

Remember?

When you ask for a loan at the B of M... you do not ask a FAVOUR*

WHEN the housewife calls at the grocery store and orders a supply of provisions, she is not asking a favour... she is buying goods for which she will pay on delivery... purely a matter of business.

So with your bank. It is a business proposition just as much as the grocery store. The grocer deals in groceries... the banker deals in credit. And as the making of loans is, one of the principal ways by which his bank derives its revenue, he is as anxious to sell his credit as the grocer is to sell his groceries. And like the grocer, the banker naturally wants to know that he is going to be paid for his goods... that his loans will be met when they fall due. That, too, is only good business.

When you have occasion to ask for a loan, look at it this way. Come to the Bank, not feeling that you have to ask a favour, but to offer the manager a sound business proposition which will be of profit both to you and to his institution.

HEADQUARTERS

Summerland Red Cross had a request from provincial headquarters for quilts due to the stock-room supply at Vancouver being depleted following the big fire at Ocean Falls.

The circle in Victoria Gardens of which Mrs. Edgar Gould is convener responded by making two quilts which are being finished this week and will be sent at once to the coast.

The local Red Cross has material for the front of a third quilt, but not enough for the back. It is planned to make this one at a future date to add to emergency stores at provincial headquarters.

Mrs. K. Taylor, who spent most of the winter months at the coast, returned to her Pender street home on Monday.

Women's Institute
Sponsors New Craft

Next week the Women's Institute is sponsoring the Linda Lee needle-weaving, a new type of craft which has aroused considerable interest in B.C. and growing attention throughout Canada.

It was invented by Mrs. Rorke of Vancouver who was ordered by her doctor to give up petit-point embroidery which was ruining her eyesight, and it is now ousting the ancient craft of knitting in many homes in this province.

Mrs. Rorke named her invention after her five-year-old daughter, Linda Lee.

Ordinary knitting wool is woven into a background of firm curtain net with a blunt tapestry needle. The net is square-holed of six, eight or ten squares to the inch. Round-meshed net does not hold its shape. After the newly woven material has been blocked by wetting, it will not ravel and can be cut like cloth.

It may be made on a plastic base, too, and with this a darned needle is used. The plastic foundation used is that sold in hardware stores as a glass substitute for glazing chicken houses, and may be used in place of curtain net.

Needle-weaving takes only half as much wool as knitting and a garment may be made in a third of the time taken to knit the same thing.

"Iolanthe" to
On May 4th

For many weeks past members of the Singers' & Players' Club have been strenuously rehearsing for their forthcoming musical production of Gilbert & Sullivan's "Iolanthe" and arrangements have been made for performances at Penticton on May 2, at Ellison Hall on May 4 and at Oliver on May 6.

The company is a strong one and besides the old favorites there are several newcomers.

As usual the invaluable help of several senior members of the Penticton Orchestral Society will be available.

Stan Gladwell has been entrusted with the task of production (which must have caused him many sleepless hours to bring it to its present state of excellence) and W. A. (Bud) Steuart is musical director.

All members of the company are most enthusiastic in acclaiming "Iolanthe" as one of the best of the Gilbert & Sullivan productions which, after seventy years, are still gaining in favor particularly on the North American continent.

As a matter of record it was last given in Summerland in 1929 and a few of the veteran members recollect that it had a wonderful reception both here and at Penticton.

Malcolm Henry Stanley, B.A.

Malcolm Henry Stanley, B.A., a Montrealee, is the winner of the Lord Beaverbrook Overseas Scholarship. This scholarship, made available for 1950-51 through the generosity of the Rt. Hon. Lord Beaverbrook, is tenable for one year at the various colleges and educational institutions under the University of London.

Young Dancers in Floor Show at Rotary Easter Ball

The fourth annual dance of Summerland Rotary Club was held as usual on the evening of Easter Monday.

This year the party was in the Youth Centre with Ken's Men supplying the music.

The hall was decorated with flags and colored streamers, and those present enjoyed the pleasant evening in the hall which has been made so comfortable.

Guests were delighted with the floor show put on by members of Mrs. R. M. Johnston's dancing class, who did the dances which won the cup at the recent musical festival held at Vernon, and several other numbers.

Youngest member of the group was Judy Johnston who came out on the floor all by herself to dance the Highland Fling in an authentic Scotch costume in a pretty bright plaid. She was enthusiastically received.

A delicious supper was served from a table centred with daffodils.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tupper were visitors to Trail over the Easter weekend.

Okanagan Baptist
Young People Hold
Rally Easter Monday

Monday afternoon the Baptist Young People of the Okanagan Valley held a rally at the Baptist church, West Summerland.

There were about thirty visitors from Vernon and Penticton. Unfortunately no representation could come from Kelowna.

In the afternoon, starting at three o'clock there were games, a quiz and other entertainment, and later a box supper. Slides giving the message of Easter were shown at this time.

An evening service was attended by members of the congregation as well as the young people's groups and the speaker was Rev. Robert Birch, who gave a splendid, fluent address.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ross Grant motored to the coast last weekend for a short holiday.

Linda Beeman Has 9th Birthday Party

To celebrate the ninth birthday of her daughter, Linda, Mrs. H. Beeman entertained at a party at her home, Peachland road, on Thursday afternoon, April 6, although the actual birthday was Easter Sunday, April 9.

Linda had invited ten of her friends who played the piano, skipped and enjoyed other games until tea-time when equal enjoyment was evidenced in disappearance of the hot cross buns in keeping with the season, and of the birthday cake decorated prettily in pink and green.

Marshmallow bunnies marked the place of each little girl, and everyone was looking forward happily to the holidays ahead.

Guests were Diane Hannah, Marion and Dorothy Dunsdon, Marilyn and Arlene Embree, Barbara Fudge, Edna Glaser, Marny Bleasdale and Penny and Barbara Mallett.

GOLF CLUB TO OPEN SUNDAY

This Sunday will see the official opening of the Summerland Golf club, with all players and prospective club members being invited to participate. A hidden hole competition will offer prizes to the players.

The course is in better condition now than all last season, due to the work of the golf club executive and other interested members, players state.

It is expected that there will be increased interest in the game this year and it would appear that golf is gradually coming back into public favor after many years in the doldrums.

CAFE EMPLOYEES ENJOYED FILMS

Visual education films for restaurant employees showing proper methods to be used in handling food were greeted with enthusiasm here a short time ago when they were shown by the South Okanagan Health Unit, Councillor F. E. Atkinson reported to Tuesday's council session.

The monthly report from this unit indicated that all water tests showed negative in March but that there is a variation in chlorine content in the water which should be watched more closely as the runoff of spring water becomes more pronounced.

TWO HUNDRED ATTEND EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE
The Sunrise Service held Easter Sunday morning on Giant's Head near the Mountain View Home was attended by about 200 people. The sun came out during the service brightening the early morning, and the singing could be heard in many parts of Summerland at quite surprising distances.

NEW RESIDENTS TO ARRIVE
Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Calder who are coming from Vancouver to make their home at West Summerland are expected to arrive on Friday. Their new home on Quin-pole St. is almost completed, and is next door to that of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McIntosh.

OBTAIN QUOTATIONS ON DOMESTIC WATER PIPE
Subject to the passage of the North Beach-Crescent Beach domestic water extension bylaw on April 22, local council is obtaining quotations on water pipe for this project so that orders can be placed the last week in April if the $27,000 bylaw is successful.

Easter Bunny Pays Official Visit To Hospital

The Easter Bunny visited the Summerland General hospital, this year and every patient got a chocolate-coated Easter egg.

Little Judy Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnston, was suitably attired in Easter Bunny costume and carried a basket of eggs to each ward early Easter Sunday afternoon.

This official visit of the Easter Bunny was made possible by a committee of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary convened by Mrs. W. F. Evans. All patients were delighted with the visit and were extremely appreciative of the thoughtfulness of the auxiliary members.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. M. E. Collas returned last weekend from a vacation spent in Vancouver. Accompanying her were Mr. Jim Bury of Vancouver and his mother, Mrs. Jane Bury. Mr. Bury was a delegate to the CCF convention held at Penticton last week. Mrs. Bury was a weekend guest of Mrs. Collas and both ladies attended the CCF convention.

Beautiful Materials Are Now Available At the Wheelhouse

The new sign at The Wheelhouse, 525 Main St. Penticton, indicates a place where advice may be obtained in interior decorating and furnishing.

Mrs. Plummer has established a studio there, stocking beautiful materials, including Sanderson-imported English linen in the most lovely color blendings.

Here, too, are all sorts of samples of glazed chintz, kitchen draperies, upholstery materials, etc.

Mrs. Plummer returned recently from a buying trip at the coast and plans to stock Oriental china and linen, and in time hopes to have Swedish glass and other lines of famous importations.

Prices conform to normal cost of these materials in stores not actually specializing in this sort of thing, and when consultative services are given so willingly and graciously by Mrs. Plummer it is a pleasant place to find house furnishings.

Special arrangements have been made with craftsmen of various sorts, so that you may take an idea there—say for a lamp, or a bookshelf you would like—and it will be made up for you.—Adv.

Auction Sale

TIMBER SALE X40414 ADVERTISEMENT

There will be offered for sale at Public Auction, at 11 a.m., on Friday, April 28th, 1950, in the office of the Forest Ranger at Penticton, B.C., the Licence X40414, to cut 3,170,000 f.b.m. of standing and docketed Fir, Yellow Pine, Spruce, Lodgepole pine and Aspen, on an area at Trout Creek, near Kirton, Osoyoos Division of Yale Land District.

Three (3) years will be allowed for removal of timber.

"Provided anyone unable to attend the auction in person may submit tender to be opened at the hour of auction and treated as one bid."

Further particulars may be obtained from the Deputy Minister of Forests, Victoria, B.C., or the District Forester, Kamloops, B.C. 18-4-c

His Worship is Busy Man but May Operate Beauty Contest for BCFGA

Reeve C. E. Bentley, who is also president of the Summerland BCFGA local, may also be operator of a beauty contest if the Penticton and District Peach Festival committee has its way.

Tomorrow night, when growers here gather for the annual B.C. Fruit Board session to appoint a delegate to the annual May meeting of the board, growers will be asked if they wish to appoint a young lady to represent Summerland growers in a contest to decide who will represent the South Okanagan growers as Miss BCFGA in the 1950 Peach Festival beauty contest.

Seek Manager For Growers Hail Company

Formation of a B.C. Fruit Growers Mutual Hail Insurance Company to operate as a grower-owned company in a manner similar to other grower-controlled operations in the Okanagan came a step nearer to fruition last Thursday when members of the committee considered a new constitution for some 12 hours.

This constitution is being adopted and an application for a licence has been made to the inspector of insurance at Victoria.

George A. Lundy, Oliver, who has spearheaded the campaign for such a grower company, is chairman of the board of directors of the new company and will later take on the post of president, it was decided last week at Kelowna.

Capt E. A. Titchmarsh, Penticton, is vice-chairman and C. A. Hayden, secretary of the BCFGA, will be secretary-treasurer of the company in its initial stages, at least.

Applications are now being broadcast for a man capable of filling the post of manager of the new company.

Reeve C. E. Bentley and Councillor Eric M. Tait are members of the hail insurance committee and were present at last week's deliberations.

His Worship has admitted that tomorrow night's meeting will be asked to consider this weighty problem and it is expected that the local growers will probably evince as much interest in this phase of the meeting as to the more ponderous discussions regarding prices of the 1949 crop.

Ivor J. Newman, BCFGA president, will be one of the principal speakers at tomorrow night's grower-gathering while a representative of the central sales agency will also be present.

It is the Peach Festival plan to have each fruit-growing district around Penticton select a young lady for this contest. Then the bevy of beauties will be gathered together and judges will select the one to represent the fruit industry in the annual contest which also has entries from the Penticton Canadian Legion and Teen Town.

Colin McKenzie has agreed to act as BCFGA local secretary since A. E. Gardner left the district to take an appointment in the east for this year.

Need Additional Hurling Staff for Merchants Squad

With opening of the Okanagan International Baseball league only two weeks away, Manager Ben Trafford of the Summerland Merchants' entry in that fast-moving company is still searching for more talent to bolster his senior aggregation.

Latest acquisition to local ball club ranks is Frank Metcalfe, formerly of Penticton, who is expected to take over catching duties. He has a powerful arm which right now is inclined to be wild, but when tamed with practice should prove a decided asset to the club.

On the mound, Summerland is still no stronger than last season although local scouts are still on the prowl for more pitching strength.

Al Coffey is turning out regularly and rounding into shape but another regular on the hurling staff will be needed in this faster company, it is expected.

Walsh in Hospital
Jackie Walsh was looming as a good pitching prospect for this season, due to some early grooming, but he went into hospital for an appendectomy operation this week and will be off the diamond paths for some weeks.

In the meantime, Trafford is casting longing eyes on Fred Kato of the championship junior Red Sox to fill the second base position, while he also would like a junior for the right field spot, possibly Daryl Weitzel or Jack Dunham.

In left and centre garden spots, reliable Frank (Babe) Kuroda and George Taylor will be as indispensable as ever, it is expected. John Vanderburgh is back at first, while the other infield positions are still doubtful.

Wally Day is available for third or shortstop, while Wendell Schwab is also a peppery infielder who can fill in most places.

After college is out, Chuck Brawner and Jack Amm will probably be back home and will be turning out to add strength to the local squad.

But that still leaves the hurling staff woefully weak and every effort is being made to find a good hurling prospect who would like to spend his summer months, at least, in Summerland.

It is conceded that the Merchants cannot expect to put up a strong fight in the fast-moving international league without more pitching help for Coffey and Walsh when the latter gets back into shape.

Longing eyes have been cast in the direction of the professional teams who have been training in this vicinity but the hurlers who have been dropped from the Caps, for instance, have other professional loops of lesser stature in which to do their hurling and are not interested in remaining in the Okanagan, it is learned.

Manager Trafford has his problems these days so if any reader knows of a good pitching prospect trot him out to the baseball diamond in a hurry.

Jaycees Propose Bowling Tourney

Possibility that the Summerland Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage a bowling tournament in Summerland was mooted at Tuesday's monthly meeting of the Summerland Jaycees in the Nu-Way Annex Tuesday night.

Harley Ewing made the proposal to stage a three-day tournament and invite entries from all Jaycee units in the Okanagan besides others who are ardent bowlers.

It was proposed that Mr. Ewing head a committee, along with Jaycees Abe Salloum, Fumi Inaba and Bill Grant to consider all angles of the project and proceed to arrange it if found feasible.

Another Medal For Jersey at Local Station

Winning medals is an old story for the Jersey herd at the Summerland experimental station. For many years this herd has been in charge of the outstanding herdsman Jimmy Aitken, and many outstanding awards have been won by the Jersey cows under Mr. Aitken's care.

The latest achievement is the qualifying of their herd sire, Summerland New Year's Star—110760—as a Silver Medal sire on his three tested daughters. This is an outstanding achievement in itself, and only two or three times in Canadian Jersey history has a bull qualified on his first three daughters.

These medal winners are: Summerland's Star's Anemone—182162—that as a junior 2-year-old produced 8,727 lbs. of milk and 536 lbs. of fat in 305 days. Summerland Star's Arabella as a junior 2-year-old in 305 days produced 8,597 lbs. of milk and 495 lbs. of fat. Summerland Star's Arabis—182162—as a senior yearling in 305 days produced 7,640 lbs. of milk and 427 lbs. of fat.

Summerland New Year's Star is the 108th Jersey bull to qualify for a Silver Medal certificate in Canada.

PENTICTON VETS ENTER FINALS

Penticton Vets, who triumphed over Summerland Merchants in the first round of the Interior basketball senior B championships, won the B.C. semi-finals at Nanaimo last weekend by an 82-79 count in two games.

The Vets will now play host to Prince Rupert in two games for the provincial championship.

In the first contest, the Vets defeated Nanaimo 34-25 to take a nine-point lead. However, Nanaimo came back strongly in Saturday night's game to win 54-48 but not enough to overcome the Okanagan lads' early lead.

Kelly was the big point-getter in Saturday night's contest for Penticton Vets, while Val Eshelman and Bud Russell were the leaders on Friday.

Roy Angus' Mother Passes in Victoria

Mr Roy F. Angus was called to Victoria last week following the death on Tuesday, April 5, at the Royal Jubilee hospital of his mother, Mary Louisa Angus, widow of A. Forrest Angus.

Born at Brockville, Ont., 87 years ago, she is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Hansen at the family residence, 2273 Harlow Dr., Oak Bay, B.C.; two sons, Kenneth A. of Victoria and Roy F. of Summerland; and a granddaughter.

Funeral service was held in Hayward's Funeral Chapel, Victoria, on April 8, Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Maxwell and two children, Mrs. H. W. Brown and two sons left last weekend for Calgary where they will visit this week.

COULD ABANDON 7,000 FEET FLUME

Elmer Johnston's application for sprinkler irrigation privilege brought before the municipal council on Tuesday precipitated the statement from Water Foreman E. Kercher that if the property owners in that district would get together on a common scheme 7,000 feet of municipal flume could be abandoned.

Most orchardists there have either installed or intend to install sprinklers, yet they have not joined in a common scheme and the municipal flume must be maintained, it was stated.

Councillor Francis Steuart was asked by Reeve Bentley to accompany Mr. Kercher and visit growers in that area with a plan to bring about a consolidation of effort.

MORE ABOUT

us who have a small part in pressing for this assistance that the announcement was made before the Easter recess.

The suggestion has emanated from the senate that senators and judges should be subject to compulsory retirement at the age of 75. Although the suggestion was not an official one, it has had effect of many members thinking aloud about the matter.

I do feel that the average Canadian around 70 and 75 should take life a little easier and retire from such responsible positions as judges and members of the senate. I am not going to suggest that they retire on the $40 month as the old-age pensioners and be subject to the means test. These people usually retire with a very substantial pension.

However, the question of the unbalanced state of the senate is causing considerable comment by the general members of parliament. Practically all the present senators are Liberals with the exception of a dozen or so Conservatives, so that the topic of senate reform that is now in the air may eventually reach the floor of the house of commons.

The railway committee of the house has been meeting for the last two weeks of the session. Each party has representatives on this body, the CCF being entitled to two only.

The Canadian National Railway, its finances, its rolling stock, its lands and its air routes have all been under discussion and members of this committee in general pay high tribute to the remarkable qualities of leadership displayed by the new president, Donald Gordon.

During discussions of the operating accounts of the railway information was given that the Canadian National last year actually had an operating profit of approximately $4 million but at the same time we find that it shows a deficit of $42 million. This was made up by interest payment on the debt issued to the public to a total of $24,302,000 in addition there is a sum of $21,793,000 of annual interest due to the government on loans advanced by the government to the railway over a period of 15-1-c

The total of these two comes roughly to $46 million. That is the reason why the profit of $4 million on the operating of the railway does not meet the cost of interest payable annually.

Mr. Gordon gave the committee to understand that the royal commission on transport is considering the question of the capital structure of the CNR so that there will be a fair chance to bring down the overall interest charges to a point that the railway can meet.

These heavy charges remain as the result of the original purchase by the government of the Grand Trunk and other small railways that were eventually nationalized into the Canadian National Railway so that I feel no president of this railway can show good results until the capital structure has been changed in such a way that the annual interest charges will be substantially reduced.

In conclusion I briefly mention that the committee on old-age security was appointed and it is now a functioning committee. While specific direction to deal with the means test was not given to this committee, the hope still remains that some recognition will emanate from their deliberation along these lines.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wade were visitors to Vancouver over the Easter weekend.

Clarence E. Prescott Passes After Years Of Failing Health

After many years of failing health there passed away in Summerland General hospital on Wednesday, April 5, Clarence Edgar Prescott, aged 73, a resident of Summerland for the past six years.

Born in Union, Oregon, the late Mr. Prescott moved to Saskatchewan in 1908, locating at White Mud River, south of Swift Current. It was in 1916 that he married Laura Kyle and to that union three daughters were born.

For the past twelve years the deceased man had been in failing health and he and Mrs. Prescott moved to Summerland six years ago to be with their daughter, Mrs. Harry Hartley.

Besides his wife, he leaves three daughters, Mrs. Harry Hartley, Summerland; Mrs. Lloyd Tytlandsvik, Wild Horse, Alta.; and Miss Algean Prescott, Medicine Hat, Alta.; three grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. N. P. Gale, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Pearl Rogers of Tule Lake, California.

Funeral service was held from Lakeside United church, Summerland, at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, April 8, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating. Interment was in Lakeview cemetery, Penticton.

Palbearers were Summerland residents, namely Messrs. J. Gowans, Roy Kennedy, Rae Huff, J. Raincock, Robert Hutton and Charles Letts.

This Saturday most of the citizens of Summerland who are being asked to go to the polls and record their vote on the domestic water extension bylaw will have no direct personal interest in the project planned. Indirectly, however, they have a large interest in the proposal.

Briefly, the vote on Saturday asks permission to borrow $27,000 against the credit of the municipality to extend the domestic water system to the north bench area and Crescent Beach. The debentures to be issued will be redeemed in 20 years.

There are enough prospective users in this section right now to redeem about one-third of the annual interest and principal payment requirements. The other two-thirds can be taken from the anticipated annual profit of the domestic water system.

But here is the prospect which appears brightest. Once this domestic water system is installed more and more buildings will be planned and additional services will be required in this area until, it is expected, the area affected will be returning sufficient payments for water service each year to handle the entire annual levy.

Here, then, is where the average citizen living in some other portion of the municipality has an indirect interest in this bylaw. Any advancement in another section enhances the growth and progress of the municipality as a whole, and makes it a more desirable place in which to reside.

In the name of "progress" alone, the bylaw is worth supporting. It is to be hoped that before long a similar service can be provided to every section of the municipality not now served with a modern municipal connection.

Even though you are not directly affected, as a good citizen you should support the needs of your neighbor this Saturday.

Most of Apple Crop is Sold Says George Brown; Price Advances 25¢ Box

End of the 1949 apple crop marketing season is in sight, George E. Brown told a growers' meeting in Summerland IOOF hall Friday evening. The B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. secretary stated that of the 700,000 boxes left unshipped only 300,000 boxes remained unsold. He did not anticipate any trouble cleaning up the remainder, as all markets have strengthened and the price of B.C. apples has gone up 25 cents per box for the rest of the crop.

Asked when growers would know returns of the 1949 apple crop Mr. Brown replied that within a week to ten days shippers would be supplied enough information to give growers a good idea of 1949 apple returns.

Also, he stated that as soon as the $2,000,000 subsidy arrives from Ottawa a payment to growers of 25 cents per box will be made.

Okanagan in Darkness with Violent Storm

One of the most violent windstorms to hit the Okanagan for a quarter century struck here late Sunday afternoon and continued throughout most of the evening.

Trees were hurled to the ground by the force of the wind, cutting telephone and electric light lines. Seventy miles per hour was the unofficial wind velocity.

In Summerland proper some damage was reported to the extensive greenhouse holdings of Joe McLachlan, while some roofs were weakened when the force of the wind ripped off loose shingles.

A large tree fell partly across Peach Orchard road near the park and disrupted traffic for a time. However, traffic was able to use the sideroad near the cemetery and got around the obstacle.

A large tree across Okanagan highway about three miles north of Penticton cut telephone communications with that point while between Summerland and Peachland eight trees fell across telephone wires. Okanagan telephone service was partly resorted by midnight.

For three and a half hours Summerland was in darkness, due to a break in West Kootenay lines on the Indian reserve near Penticton. Penticton, Naramata and Kelowna also suffered a blackout because of this break.

Although no extensive damage was reported here, severe loss occurred in other parts of the Okanagan where barns were blown over or collapsed and roofs were carried away in the driving wind and rain.

Mr. Harold Short drove to Chilliwack Saturday night and returned on Sunday accompanied by Mrs. Short and their children, who had been spending the Easter vacation in the Fraser Valley.

SRO Sign Hung on Youth Centre for Popular AOTS Request Concert

Talent scouts for the AOTS annual request program produced many lively contributors who kept the standing-room-only audience interested and amused throughout the long program at the Youth Centre on Thursday evening, April 13.

Young artists who attended Vernon Musical Festival were part of the program as well as members of Mrs. R. M. Johnston's dancing class who brought a cup home as a result of their outstanding efforts in folk dancing.

Several voices not heard often enough were included on the program; Mr. Clive Atkinson singing in a male quartette evidenced a beautiful tenor voice, and Mr. C. Rennie's solo was enjoyed as he sang "On Linden Lea."

An original and mirth-provoking radio broadcast by Mr. Everett Bates kept the audience waiting to see whose name would be mentioned next!

Mr. K. Sayers and his guitar were favorably received as he sang hill-billy songs.

Mr. H. V. Stent recited Dr. Drummond's famous Leetle Baillate, reciting familiar, pleasant lines.

Miss Mary Marshall played Debussy's Clair de Lune with sympathy, and Mrs. Fudge and Mr. Howie singing a duet from Gilbert and Sullivan were warmly applauded.

Acrobatics by girls of Mr. Schwab's class were full of agility and grace.

The Summerland Band was generous in its playing and the majorettes in white uniforms came as a surprise to many who had not seen them perform before.

Rev. H. R. Whitmore was chairman, and during intermission the Service Club sold candy.

George A. Barrat, B.C. Fruit Board chairman started the meeting before Reeve C. E. Bentley was chosen chairman, with Colin McKenzie as secretary.

In the vote for the delegate to the annual B.C. Fruit Board meetings in Kelowna next May, J. Y. Towgood defeated Mr. Bentley as delegate.

Other visitors to the meeting were I. J. Newman, BCFGA president; William Embrey, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. liaison officer; A. G. DesBrisay, B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd. president and member of the B.C. Fruit Board.

Last year, it was stated, B.C. Tree Fruits payment on the average was $2.17 per box for apples, but Mr. Brown would give the meeting no inkling as to prospects for settling the 1949 crop.

Mr. Embrey spoke of the coming year and declared that government estimates place the apple crop at 5½ to 6 million boxes despite the severe winter. However, apricots and peaches will be practically nil while cherries will only be a 30 percent crop.

Yakima and Wenatchee districts are not as optimistic now regarding their apple crop prospects and believe they will be down appreciably due to the winter weather. Georgia peaches are also said to be hard hit, as will be California stocks.

In Wenatchee, Mr. Embrey was informed only Winesaps and Red Delicious were expected to bring growers more than cost of production from the 1949 apple crop.

Asked about the reaction of Washington growers to importations of Canadian apples, Mr. Embrey replied that the southern producers are doing everything possible to cut down on such Canadian imports.

Apple districts are carrying on a lobby at Washington which is costing about $50,000 and Senator Magnuson is endeavoring to persuade President Truman to place importations on a quota basis. Mr. Embrey did not anticipate this effort would be accepted at the U.S. capital.

Huge Apple Tonnage
There was more discussion on processing than other particular subject, President A. G. DesBrisay.

Arthritis Drive Opens On May First

Mr. Joe McLachlan, president of the Rotary Club of Summerland, has been named captain of a drive in Summerland for funds to assist in promoting the formation of Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society clinic in the South Okanagan.

This announcement was made Tuesday by H. K. Whimster, who has been appointed campaign manager for the area Summerland-Naramata south to Osoyoos and west to Keremeos-Cawson.

Mr. Whimster interviewed Mr. McLachlan and outlined the society's aims and the latter agreed to head the campaign in Summerland. Whether the Rotary club will form the nucleus of the campaign committee has not yet been decided.

It is the CA&RS objective to raise at least $3,100 in the centres named. Penticton has the top objective of a minimum of $1,600 while Summerland and Oliver are set at $450 each.

Mr. Whimster stresses that these are minimum objectives.

If the campaign, which commences May 1, is successful then two rooms in the Penticton hospital will be set aside for the clinical staff. Special treatment can be given there and can also be brought to the homes of those unable to travel, Mr. Whimster points out.

Special courses in dietary and physiotherapy will be available under the direction of the clinic's staff.

Last week in Kelowna a similar clinic commenced operation as the Orchard City had its campaign last February.

COMING HERE—

Dr. C. Oscar Johnson

President of the Baptist World Alliance and one of the outstanding speakers in Baptist church work on this continent, is coming to Summerland to speak at a rally of the Baptist churches in the Okanagan on May 1. The public is being invited to hear this distinguished leader. Dr. W. C. Smalley, secretary of the Baptist Union of Western Canada will accompany Dr. Johnson on his tour of western Canada.

YALE LIBERALS PLAN PICNIC HERE

Yale Liberal Association is making tentative plans for a Liberal picnic to be held at the experimental station, Summerland, the latter part of July. A Liberal from the Johnson-Ansomb provincial cabinet is likely to be present to address the picnic rally, A. W. Gray, Rutland, Yale Grit prexy, states.

Local Trade Board Suggests Revival of "Farm" Picnic Which Was So Popular in '30's

That the executive of the Summerland Board of Trade has been toying with the idea of reviving the Experimental Farm Picnic which was so popular ten to fifteen years ago on each King's Birthday was revealed at last Thursday's board monthly meeting in the IOOF hall.

Unfortunately, the clash of dates between the board's regular meeting and the AOTS request concert meant a small attendance of only thirty members for the trade board session.

Lorne Perry, board secretary, informed the gathering that an interview will be arranged with Dr. R. C. Palmer, experimental station superintendent with the idea of reviving this annual outing which offered so many persons in the Okanagan an opportunity to see the research plant at its best.

President J. E. O'Mahony called upon delegates to report on the last Associated Boards of Trade of the Southern Interior convention at Keremeos. It was stated that Summerland's resolution calling for support of a bridge across Okanagan lake at Kelowna was endorsed without a single dissenting vote.

Penticton and Naramata delegates were present at that session but it is now learned that boards of trade of both those centres have now repudiated the Keremeos decision and have gone overboard in support of the east-side road.

Also arising out of that Keremeos conference came the plan of consolidating the advertising and publicity efforts of all Okanagan boards into one joint scheme.

The local tourist and publicity committee, headed by W. Gillard, will work with this plan in mind, it was stated.

Many subjects have been handled by the trade board executive in the past two months, one being a continued plea to the postal department in Vancouver for improved service on coast mail arriving here and an attempt to have the mail delivered at the West Summerland station instead of being carried through to Penticton when KVR trains cannot go through the Coquihalla Pass. Courier Told to Wait

The postal department had replied that with the resumption of semi-normal train travel via Spences Bridge the northbound mail courier had been instructed to wait in Penticton for the arrival of the coast train and then bring the mail for lake points.

This practice is being followed now "unless the train is delayed for an undue length of time," the post office department stated. Secretary Perry declared a check is being kept of the number of times mail service is delayed, for future board reference.

Summerland board also protested closing of the KVR West Summerland office from Saturday afternoon until Sunday evening, as passengers have no access to a telephone to get car transportation.

Not Enough Business
Mr. L. R. Smith, CPR superintendent at Penticton, has replied that the amount of business handled.

BCFGA President Tells Local Growers of Fruit Research Plans for 1950

"Your experimental station in Summerland is the second largest in Canada and is the only one where the growers actually put up any money on their own behalf," declared Ivor J. Newman, BCFGA president to the annual growers' meeting at the IOOF hall Friday night, in detailing special experiments which have been agreed upon between Dr. R. C. Palmer, station superintendent and the BCFGA executive from the annual $5,000 growers' grant.

Dr. Palmer, accompanied by Dr. J. C. Wilcox and Dr. D. V. Fisher, met the BCFGA executive last week and reached decisions on the 1950 program.

Winter damage to trees and what is to be done about it will take up part of the research grant, Mr. Newman prophesied. Many of the experiments which have been carried on for the past few years will be concluded this year.

Dr. Fisher is continuing studies on cold air distribution in cold storage plants. Rates at which apples cooled in cold storage were being checked closely. Breakdown in Jonathans will be reviewed again.

Dr. C. C. Strachan has been working on the uses of B.C.'s tree fruits for the last two years and these researches will touch on the diet values of these fruits, a report to be issued this year.

Dr. J. C. Wilcox continues to investigate the use of water for trees with cover crops; how much water each irrigation district requires, including figures on the quantity needed for sprinkling irrigation; how dry the soil be permitted to get between irrigations.

Soil analysis and the value of compost in soil fertility are two more subjects which may come under Dr. Wilcox's scope although assistance of the provincial government on soil analysis may be requested if the federal authorities will not take a more active stand on the subject.

Mr. Newman declared that Dr. Palmer is continuing research to determine more economical methods of processing the natural apple juice and it is hoped that something of real value to the industry would result.

Merchandising School
The BCFGA prexy also mentioned the merchandising school which was witnessed in the east last winter. Fourteen retail salesmen were trained in the art of selling fruits and vegetables and displaying them properly, Mr. Newman stated.

Proper display counter with refrigeration units and mirrors were installed and the salesmen taught how to buy, how to prepare fruits for displays and how to display. Primarily, these displays catered to eye appeal and "impulse buying."

It is hoped that this type of school will be extended to all the large cities of Canada, and if so it will be "the best step forward since we have been in the merchandising deal," stated Mr. Newman.

The speaker spoke shortly of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and its efforts to obtain price support for Canadian agriculture. Such assistance is needed for two more years, at least, as agricultural production which was geared to a high point in the war cannot be slowed down overnight even when markets disappear, he pointed out.

Farmers are new on the scene at Ottawa as a pressure group but their voice will continue to be heard there, he prophesied.

Before concluding, Mr. Newman spoke in high praise of the new sales manager for B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., Babe Lander. "He is a salesman of the first order and he certainly knows his way around the country," he emphasized.

"We are very fortunate in having a man like Babe as our sales manager."

Many Friends Congratulate Couple On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Because of Mrs. E. J. Minshull's illness which forces her to live very quietly Mr. and Mrs. Minshull were unable to keep "Open House" on their golden wedding day which was last Sunday, April 16.

However, they had many callers both on Saturday and Sunday when friends came to wish them well, and a large number of congratulatory cards renewed friendships for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Minshull were married in Stratford, Ontario, fifty years ago, April 16, and lived for a time at Harrison, Ontario. They moved to Manitoba in 1903, and came to Summerland to make their home in 1920.

Their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Minshull and their four children came from Keremeos

Promise Action On Advertising Canned Goods

Ivor J. Newman, BCFGA president, promised Summerland growers that their resolution passed in January advocating a co-operative advertising scheme for canned goods and the pinning of a "Made in B.C." label on all canned goods produced in this province would be pushed forward without delay. This statement emanated from last Friday's growers' meeting in the IOOF hall, when Mr. Newman stated that Ken Johnson, advertising manager for Tree Fruits, has promised a conference between the sales agency and the canners on this very subject.

However, a note of warning was sounded by George E. Brown, Tree Fruits secretary, who doubted the advisability of such a move in the light of so much imported canned goods.

Advising persons to buy more canned goods would mean the promotion of sales of imported canned products, he feared. Placing of the Made in B.C. labels would be difficult for canners as they use a great deal of imported raw product as well as locally-grown fruits and vegetables, he pointed out.

Powell Rebuttal
Such an attitude brought W. R. Powell quickly to his feet and he scorned Mr. Brown's excuses declaring these are obstacles which can be overcome. He stressed that by advertising "Look for the B.C. Label" that housewives would soon become acquainted with this particular branding of canned goods and provided the quality is right will continue to buy the B.C. product.

He turned to last year's "calamitous prune deal" which he believed was caused by canners having too many cans of the 1948 pack on their shelves.

"It is time we woke up," he emphasized. "It would have been better to throw all the 1948 canned pack into the lake."

California and Oregon are carrying out exactly the same propaganda program for canned goods as is being advocated here, he declared.

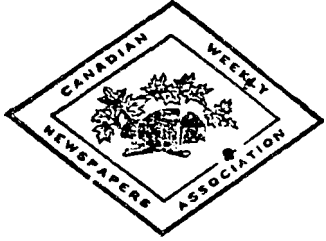

Mission Creek Flood Control Continues

Another $13,000 has been earmarked by the public works department for continuation of the flood control work on Mission Creek, Kelowna. This work was carried on last year in conjunction with a similar effort on Trout Creek. To protect the work done last year this money has been allocated, W. A. C. Bennett announced in Kelowna Monday. No word of any further work on Trout Creek has been received here. It is considered that between the two bridges the protection work has been ample but some further strengthening of the creek between the highway bridge and the creek outlet might be considered, some Trout Creek residents have declared.

for the special occasion. A son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Paget of Kelowna and their two boys were here, too. Another son, Ray, died a few years ago at Vancouver. Their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ray Minshull and her little girl came for the weekend.

Beautiful flowers and lovely gifts were sent as a token of the day. Mr. and Mrs. Minshull are planning to go about the first of May to live in Kelowna. They will reside in an apartment adjoining their daughter's house.

St. Andrew's church, of which Mr. and Mrs. Minshull are members, took this day to present them with an elderdown prior to their leaving for the Orchard City. Rev. H. R. Whitmore made the presentation.

tions that to be healthy is to be uncomfortable. If anybody tries to cool off a room where I am comfortable, under the guise of freshening the air, I'm going to yell facts, figures and insults at him until he's glad to close them in a hurry.

Let him breathe through his mouth if the staleness of the air bothers his nose; if it doesn't bother mine, that's good enough for me. Let him take off his coat and tie, vest and shirt, if he's hot and get a fan if he wants the air in motion. I've learned that being comfortable can also be healthy; and comfortable I'm going to be.

Signifying Nothing

By RUSTICUS

Several of us were talking about ventilation in public buildings, and one remarked that fresh air really saves fuel. "Fresh air is easier to heat than stale air," he added. To my delighted amazement another man—no ignorant nonentity like me, but a highly-educated and respected citizen—at once turned on him with a hearty "I don't believe it." Then he proceeded to give him the works on the fresh air business.

What a treat that was to me! Throughout my childhood and youth I suffered countless draughts, chills and discomforts from that fanatic belief in fresh air that some people have. In this case it was my father, who was not only 'warm-blooded', but always encased himself in the thickest under-wear he could buy in the early fall and did not remove it—except for washing, of course!—until late in the spring. His outer clothes were proportionately warm.

So he would come breezing into the living room in fall, winter or chilly spring like this, sniff, start back, and gasp: "How can you stand such filthy stale air? Not enough oxygen in here for a mouse."

Up would go windows, maybe the door would be swung open too, letting in a flood of Arctic air, and not until the room was distinctly cold would he permit them to be closed again.

"In other words," said my unexpected champion, "you fresh-air fiends feel invigorated by the lower temperature air you've let in, and confuse that change of temperature with freshness. And it is so noticeable when that cold air gets warmed up again by your heating plant that you decide it must be easier to warm fresh air than stale air. Actually, science has proven that it takes just as many units of heat to raise the temperature of fresh air a given amount as to raise that of stale air."

"What's more," he went on relentlessly, "these terms fresh air and stale air are bunk anyway. Air isn't stale if it doesn't affect you that way. The main thing is oxygen content, and you people who think that windows and doors must be open in a house several times each day are crazy. You could seal every door and window in the average house and there would still be enough oxygen in it at any one time to supply an ordinary family for two or three weeks."

"But wouldn't the air feel stale long before that?"

"Sure; because it would be still. But start an electric fan going, and it will take the staleness off right away. You try it, sometime. If people opened windows less and used electric fans more in cold weather, they really would use less fuel and be more comfortable and just as healthy."

"Enough air leaks in around doors and windows and comes in when doors are opened normally to keep the air in any house actually quite 'fresh' enough. And a few fans in a hall will ventilate it much more cheaply than window openings."

He went on to give details of how much oxygen the ordinary person actually uses; half a cubic foot per hour, which means 2½ cubic feet of air, per hour, or 60 cubic feet per day. You multiply the length, width, and ceiling height of your house or hall in feet to get its cubic contents, then divide to find out how long its oxygen content will supply how many people; and usually you get a surprise.

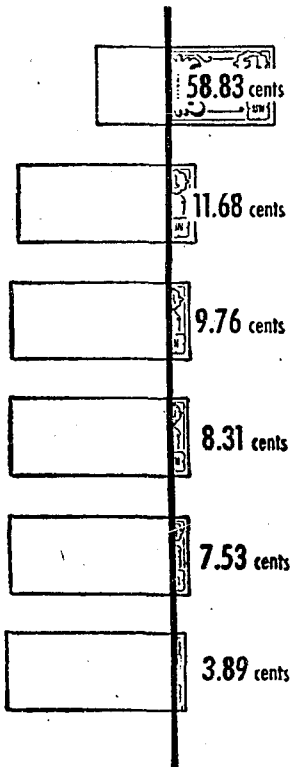

To me it was like a kind of release from jail. My creed has always been to have house or hall at a comfortable temperature, which for me is at least 70, and unless the temperature gets up to around 80, or the air smells foul to me, I don't want any cold outside air let in to make me uncomfortable. Of course, my sense of foulness of air may not be as keen as some peoples.

On the other hand, my father would snort about foul air in a room just after we had had one of our rare spells of window opening, if he didn't happen to know about it, and happened to feel like making us uncomfortable. And I'm convinced that a lot of our window-openers complain of stale air more to assert their importance or exercise their imaginations than anything else.

Hereafter they can go outside and freeze alone. No longer will I be a martyr to anybody's no-

Where does the money go?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bankbook, and wondered: "Where does the money go?"

You may have wondered, too, where does our money go — the money we receive for gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants and other products we sell. Well, last year each dollar we received went this way:

CRUDE OIL and other raw materials took more than half of each dollar.

MANUFACTURING AND PACKAGING took more than 11 cents. Costly equipment and skilled workers were needed to make the 640 products we supplied for thousands of uses.

TRANSPORTATION took the next big bite of the dollar. Products moved over wide areas to serve every community in Canada. During 1949 we paid more than $34 millions for railway freight alone.

MARKETING was next. Marketing brought you the products you needed when and where you needed them... power, heat and lubricants for factory, home and farm. Marketing supplied your neighborhood dealer, that independent businessman, so that he could serve you conveniently and dependably.

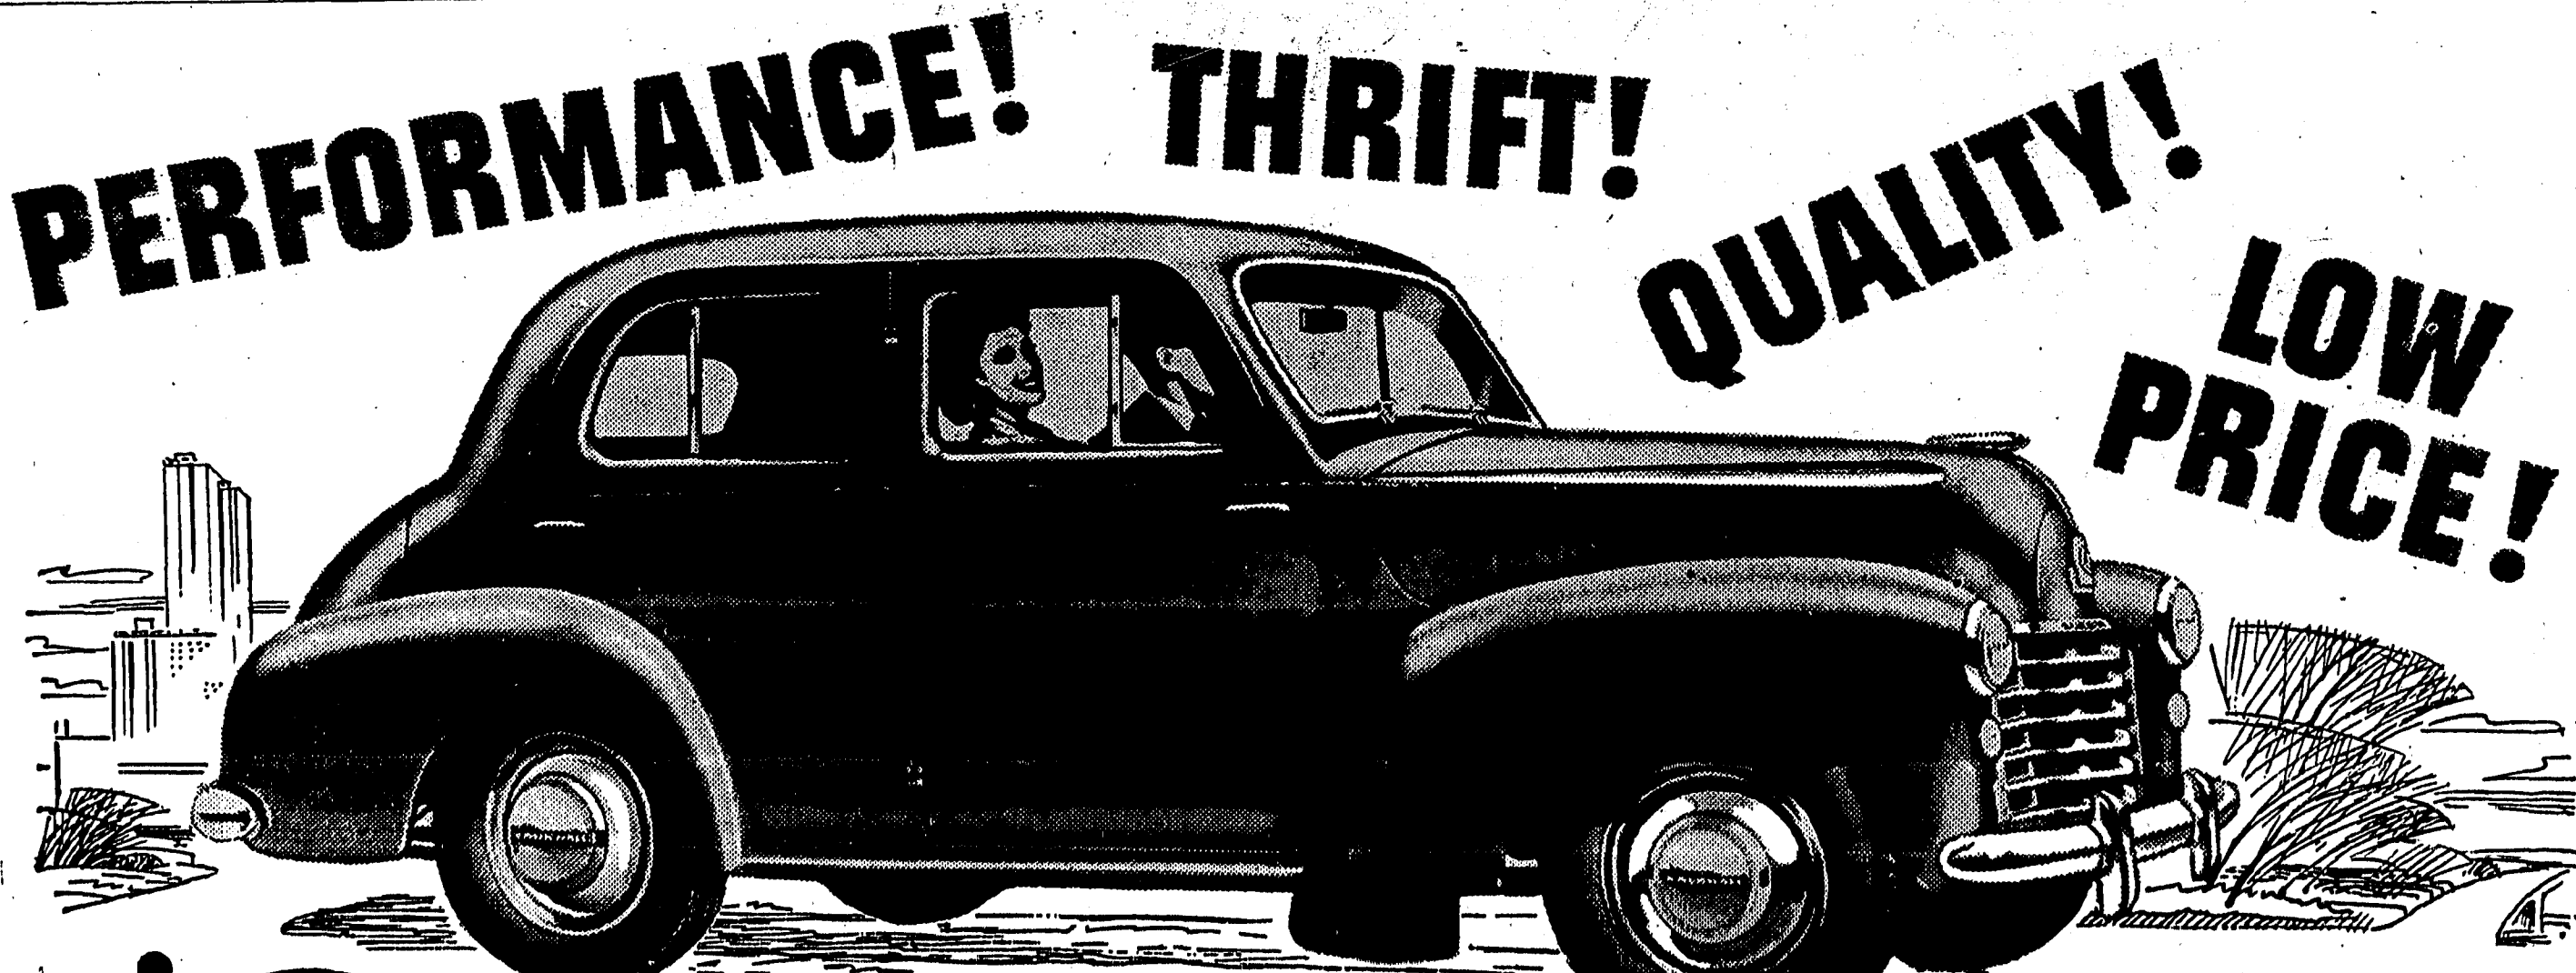

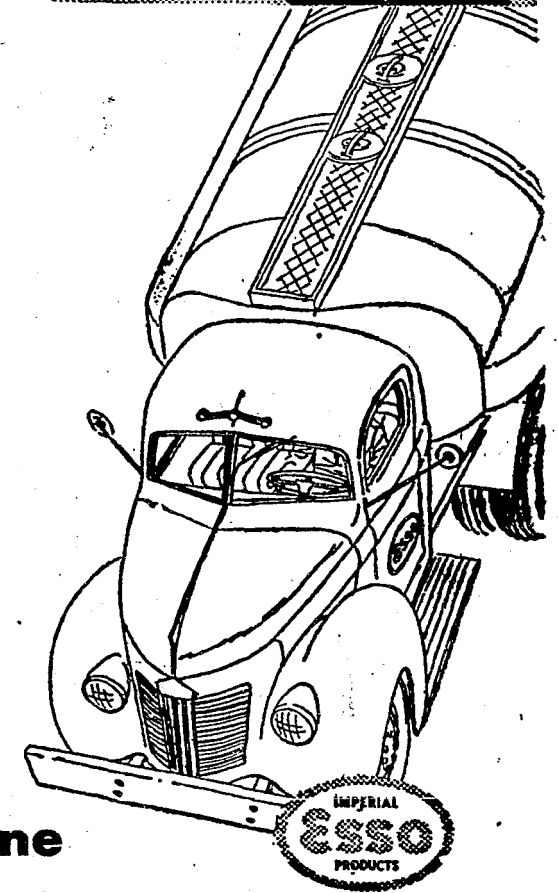

TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 7.53 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax, which—depending on where you live—took from 21 to 33 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

PROFIT was 3.89 cents out of each sales dollar. Of this 2.25 cents went to shareholders as dividends. The rest—along with money we borrowed and obtained by sales of investments—was put back into the business to replace worn out equipment, to provide new equipment and make sure that we can continue to supply your needs in the future.

Teen Town

The club night last Saturday was a great success and, we assure you, there will be more just like it in the future. During the general meeting a vote was taken to decide upon the color and style of the sweaters. The result was a grey cardigan with maroon stripes. Mr. Les Gould talked several minutes on the importance of buying membership cards, also. The Teen Town decorations were finally taken down Monday night. Thanks to all those who turned out to help. This Saturday night there will be a dance at the Youth Centre, starting at 8 p.m. The admission is only 25c if you have your membership card, but it is doubled if you haven't got one. The ping pong table will be set up for those who don't enjoy dancing. The refreshments will be pop, gum and chocolate bars.

GUIDE NEWS

The weekly meeting of the Guide company was devoted to a variety of subjects last Friday evening. Guides with parts in the forty-minute play The Greedy Wish spent an hour rehearsing their lines. This play is to be part of the Guide concert to be held in May to raise money for summer camp. Other Guides were busy practicing semaphore, first aid, knots, and nature study under second class Guides.

The second part of the meeting was spent around the campfire planning the Guide and Brownie Mother and Daughter banquet which takes place tomorrow evening. Guides are reminded to be at the Youth Centre by 6:15 with their contributions for the banquet which commences at 6:30 sharp. After the supper Bluebirds and Canaries will clear the tables prior to the entertainment portion of the evening put on by the Guides and Brownies for their mothers.

A large number of Guides and Brownies turned out on Sunday morning, April 16, for church parade. Scouts and Guides paraded to the Anglican church, and Cubs and Brownies to the Baptist church for the morning service. Canon F. V. Harrison gave an interesting sermon on Three Gardens with a moral for the younger members of the congregation. Rev. D. O. Knipfel spoke on the life of Samuel and the importance of linking ones life with God.

Jane Woolliams, company leader and Doreen Fleming, patrol leader, were representatives at a meeting called by Dr. D. V. Fisher, Scoutmaster, to plan decorating of the Youth Centre basement. Brown Owl Mrs. R. Lawley and Nona Lewis was enrolled as Guides Sunday morning before church pa-

Doreen Steuart Reports on B.C. Conference

Doreen Steuart local Teen Town mayor, attended the provincial Teen Town conference in the new community centre at Marpole on April 13 and 14, with 200 representing every Teen Town in British Columbia present.

"First there was the banquet on Thursday for the official delegates where several presentations were made," Miss Steuart reports, "Marpole Teen Town received a pennant for the top Teen Town of the year, while Golden received one for contributing the most money to the March of Dimes.

"After the banquet we were divided into three groups, namely Leadership, Recreation and Community Public Relations. Jack 'Hutch' Hutchings, Teen Town director was speaker for the leadership group.

"After the discussion groups there was a Judo exhibition and semi-finals for a pie-eating contest. Voting started for the Teen Queen who was chosen from the girl delegates. Dancing followed until 11:30.

"Bright and early at 9:30 Friday morning we again went into our respective groups where we disussed more resolutions. "At noon there was a civic luncheon at Stanley Park for all the delegates. The guest speaker was Mr. Gordon Brandreth, manager Pacific National Exhibition, who spoke on the 1950 PNE.

"After luncheon the unofficial delegates paid a visit to the Children's hospital and official delegates resumed their business meeting.

"Hutch" gave a report on the B.C. Teen Town bureau and the hoodlum situation in Vancouver. "Friday night, of course, there was the Teeners' Ball at the Marpole Community Centre gym. It was a terrific dance with about 800 Teen Agers present.

"Amy Young of the Chinese Y was crowned Teen Queen of the 5th annual conference. All in all it was a very successful and educating conference."

CYO Deanery Held At Holy Child Church

The first annual meeting of the Catholic Youth Organization deanery was held in Summerland on Sunday, April 16, at the Catholic Church of the Holy Child.

There were thirty executives attending from Kelowna, Penticton, Keremeos and Summerland. The meeting occupied the afternoon followed by a supper prepared by Mrs. V. Polesello, Mrs. G. E. Logie and Mrs. J. Cristante and served by Terry and Joan Daniels, Irene Menu and Yvonne Polesello.

Guest speakers of the evening were Rev. Father Meulenburgh of Summerland and Rev. Father O'Reilly of Keremeos.

After supper, everyone went to Benediction, later returning to the hall for a social evening, greatly enjoyed by everyone.

"Friday night, of course, there was the Teeners' Ball at the Marpole Community Centre gym. It was a terrific dance with about 800 Teen Agers present.

"Amy Young of the Chinese Y was crowned Teen Queen of the 5th annual conference. All in all it was a very successful and educating conference."

High School COMMENTS

Students are back to school after a ten-day holiday, and are looking forward to receiving their reports and marks from the Easter exams.

A number of passersby in front of the high school were shocked last Tuesday when they glanced up to the high school roof and saw half a dozen boys walking along the roof-top. For any shocked spectators the Cadets have announced that it was part of their plan to lay a telephone line from the school to the library.

The volleyball team consisting of Jim Towgood, Bud Green, Don Cruickshank, Leighton Nesbitt, Jim Birtles, Dave Wright and Johnny Huva are hoping to attend the volleyball tournament in Haney on May 24. Complete plans have not yet been drawn up.

The students' council met Tuesday to discuss plans on improving the track so sports-minded students may start practices at once for track meets that will be held soon. For students who prefer softball to track, a dozen new softballs have been ordered.

Preparations for the graduation are in full-swing. Plans for the graduation services and the decoration of the church are being done by the grade twelve girls.

SCOUT NEWS

During the Easter holidays 10 boys attended the one-day bronze arrowhead course in Penticton and Richard Lewis, Victor Smith and George Pohlmann attended the silver arrowhead course at Boulder Flats, back of Kelowna.

Thirty-three senior Scouts from all over the valley attended the silver course which proved a great success as to program, weather and good camping. The boys who have taken the bronze course are eligible to take the silver course next year.

Summerland troop also provided the three service Scouts for the silver camp, namely Lori Kilx, Geoff. Solly and Jack Pohlmann.

The annual district church parade was held last Sunday with Scouts and Guides parading to the Church of England and Brownies and Cubs to the Baptist church. Prior to the parade a troop photograph was taken by Mr. J. E. Britton to whom the thanks of the troop are extended. Five by seven inch prints will be available at next week's meeting for 10c each.

This Saturday 1st Kelowna troop is visiting us to play softball—two games, one for 12 and 13-year-old boys and the other for 14 and over. Let's have the whole troop at the school grounds at 2:30 p.m. Refreshments after at the Youth Centre, for which Summerland Scouts are asked to pay fifteen cents each.

At Tuesday's meeting an excellent sound film was shown on winter camping. This was of interest to Scouts, but also would be of interest to anyone who is "roughing it" in the winter. The film was ordered for February but has been in such demand we only received it now.

The point scores are now as follows: Cougars 120, Beaver 101, Eagles 89, Hawks 86 and Buffaloes 81. The Cougars received 50 points for their patrol box.

Two recruits were invested, namely Bob and Arnold Walker, and we hope they soon will be second-class Scouts.

Notice: Meeting, Tuesday, April 25, Youth Centre 7 p.m. Duty patrol, Cougars. Shorts and stockings will be worn from now on.—D. V. Fisher.

say declaring that the cleanup of the 1949 deal last week saw 24,000 tons of apples processed. Of this 17,000 tons were culls and 7,000 tons "commercial" fruit.
Packout of apple juice amounted to nearly 490,000 cases, besides dehydrated apples, nearly 40,000 gallons of concentrate and a similar amount of vinegar.
Apple juice is now one of the most important items on the shelves of the juice retailer and has come to be big business in Vancouver, Mr. DesBrisay stated.

The processing industry now owns buildings and equipment valued at $546,000 while the turnover in cash and shares has amounted to about $600,000, "all from culls", he continued, pointing with pride to the processing industry's importance in the valley economy.
"We used to sell our culls to Tommy Young," interjected Mr. Findlow.
"You may have but not the rest of the valley," snapped back Mr. DesBrisay, who evidently remembered the move here two years ago to re-establish a processing plant in Summerland to replace the payroll wiped out in the Young evaporating plant fire.
Mr. DesBrisay pointed out that to dump culls alone would cost the industry $50,000, whereas a small profit is now made through processing. "You will never make much money from cull apples," he warned.

Balance Fresh Market

W. R. Powell, Summerland, governor of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and a director of the processing company said it had always been his hope that processing would be used as a balance for the fresh fruit market.

Real value of processing to the industry is in the ability to remove a certain portion of the crop undesirable on the fresh fruit market and save it from an outright dump, he thought.

He made a plea to the growers to help the processing industry by taking away the heavy burden of financing so that the manager of the concern would be able to show a reasonable profit on the year's operations.

Too much money is paid out on money borrowed to finance the year's operation to ever bring a real return on operation, he said.

"This terrific load of interest is like a man working for a spendthrift wife," he emphasized.

Capt. A. M. Temple suggested that apple juice and processed apples are becoming competitors on the fresh fruit market. Mr. DesBrisay and Mr. Barrat countered that salesmen say apple juice is not a competitor and if the B.C. industry does not manufacture dehydrated apples then some other concern will.

Harking back to war years, George Brown said the Canadian army would not buy fresh apples but the U.S. did and the Okanagan sold apples to the U.S. army, when the supply officer in Ottawa would not accept any orders.
Also asked regarding an increased sale price for apple juice, the meeting was told that one eastern firm is already quoting 30 cents per case cheaper than the B.C. Processors' product.

R. P. Walrod, manager of the Kelowna plants, is going to the Institute of Technology in Massachusetts to study freezing of juices besides continuing his study of the health value of apples.

Eric Tait asked if it was compulsory to send apples to the processing plant if the packing house considered it would be cheaper to dump them. He was informed that B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd. would object to such a move as to keep the cost of the finished product down depends entirely on tonnage.

Canadian Navy in New York

KENNETH A. GREENE (left), Canadian consul general in New York, greets COMMODORE K. F. ADAMS, of the Canadian Aircraft carrier Magnificent at Pier 26 in New York, after the carrier and two other Canadian naval vessels arrived from manoeuvres in the Caribbean. The arrival of the vessels marked the first formal courtesy visit of a Canadian naval group to any United States port.

Labor Office Opens June 1

Operation of the Farm Labor office in Summerland as well as other centres in the Okanagan has been assured by William McGillivray, director of agricultural extension of the provincial department of agriculture.

Due to the loss of soft fruit predicted due to the severe winter it was thought in some quarters that the farm labor office would not be needed this year but officials of the fruit industry have shown the government department that such is not the case.

As there will be little demand for thinners for peaches and apricots this year, however, opening of the offices will be postponed until June 1, Mr. McGillivray has informed W. J. Beattie, local office manager.

Returning to Home In Australia

Mr. John Fowler, who has been on a world tour and who has been working under Dr. J. C. Wilcox at the experimental station, leaves on Tuesday for his home in Australia.

Mr. Fowler will sail from Vancouver on the Aorangi on April 27, and will probably engage in farming on his return to his native country where his home is just outside Melbourne.

While here he addressed the elementary school pupils on two occasions telling of conditions in Australia and other interesting things about his island home.

Overseas Parcel Interests Legion WA

It is always exciting at the meetings of the Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion to see who will win the chance to send the overseas parcel for the month.

Last Thursday, when the WA had its regular meeting in the Legion hall, Mrs. H. Howard was the lucky one of the twenty-eight members present.

Arrangements for the May bazaar are being planned with considerable secrecy, and it is hoped to have several really novel things as a surprise. Blankets will be prizes for some of the draws.

A $30 donation was made to Shaughnessy Military hospital to provide veterans' comforts.

The president, Mrs. W. McCutcheon and the standard bearer, Mrs. A. McCargar were appointed to go as delegates to the convention to be held at Trail in June.

Intricacies of Optometry Are Topic at Rotary

Giving his audience an insight into the profession of optometry, H. A. Nicholson, R.O., who recently established an office in the King-Pin Bowladrome building proved an interesting speaker to the Rotary Club of Summerland Friday evening. At the end of his short talk he was bombarded with questions, indicating that his listeners were interested in the subject.

Dealing with the eye there are four groupings, he explained, two medical and two non-medical and three professional and one non-professional.

The optometrist is a non-medical but professional man who deals mainly with the examining of the eyes and prescribing glasses; who is specializing more and more in the training of persons to rid themselves of eye defects, he declared.

Optometry has taken great strides forward in the past 25 years and in the United States a degree of doctor of optometry can be obtained in five to six years.

In Canada, the University of Montreal graduates optometrists of French-speaking origin only, while a college of optometry has been established at the University of Toronto. This college is not actually part of the university and has had a number of offers from other universities of late years to make the change from Toronto, he declared.

Asked to Specialize

This college course is an extremely heavy one lasting for three years and is endeavoring to raise the standard of the profession so that more optometrists will specialize within the field of optometry.

He instanced that through wider knowledge gained in the past few years it is possible to correct squints in youngsters by means of strengthening the eye, thus doing away with surgery except in extreme cases.

In prescribing for eye correction, it is the main object of optometrists now to give the patient comfort as well as correct vision, he emphasized. It is possible not only to prescribe correctly to give proper vision, but to vary the prescription so that greater comfort can be provided the wearer. This is where the greater skill of optometry comes into the picture.

Mr. Nicholson continued with an explanation of the eye action, how the light entering the eye forms a chemical change and reacts on the nervous system.

"What you see and what I see is probably entirely different," he continued. "Take that color at the end of the room, I know it's red because it's what I've been taught is red."

Mr. Nicholson explained more of the intricacies of the eye and then branched into further explanation of the work of optometrists, who sell nothing but services, glasses being part of their tools.

"Our work really lies in giving maximum comfort and care," he declared, stating that there is a great field for his profession, but that optometrists themselves need to do a little house cleaning.

Younger men with fuller training in optometry are gradually replacing older men in the field and establishing the profession on the basis it should maintain, he explained. Recognition of dioptrics in the eye is becoming part of the optometrist's work.

The speaker then answered a number of questions on various technical aspects of his profession.

LOCAL GROWERS REFUSE TO ENTER QUEEN CANDIDATE

Summerland local BCFGA turned down, on Friday night, the opportunity to place a candidate representing Summerland in the contest to decide what pretty, young girl from the South Okanagan would be Miss BCFGA in the Penticton and District Peach Festival queen contest.

Reeve C. E. Bentley, chairman of the BCFGA local, turned Friday's growers' meeting into a BCFGA session once officials from Kelowna left on their return journey and asked for guidance in the request to name a queen candidate.

It was immediately moved that such action be taken but when Mr. Bentley declared he would have no time to devote to the contest and when none of his executive members indicated they would attempt to help, the motion was withdrawn.

"Due to lack of interest shown by this meeting we decide there will be no entry," was the wording of the resolution which finally passed, four growers' registering their disapproval.

Seventh Birthday Calls for Party

For the seventh birthday of her daughter, Judy, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell of Crescent Beach, entertained at a tea on Thursday afternoon, April 13.

Small guests arrived about half-past four and enjoyed playing games together. Tea featured a birthday cake with candles and a large seven prominent in the centre of it. Small baskets containing candy were on the table, too, and the children did full justice to all of the special treats.

Those present were Judy's brother Jamie, Sally and Jo Wilson, Judy and Charles Johnston, Billy and Bruz Heunichon, Michael, Fredrickson, and Barbara and Bonnie Tait.

Mr. Leonard Mountford was among those travelling to Vancouver for the weekend having left last Saturday.

Mr. D. L. Cruickshank was a visitor to Vancouver last weekend.

Kean-Nickols Nuptials Hold Wide Interest

Of interest in this community and at the coast was the marriage on Tuesday, April 11, in St. Andrew's United church, Haney, B.C., of Miss Marion May Nickols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Nickols, Haney, B.C., and Mr. James Alexander Kean, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kean, West Summerland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. J. W. Melvin.

In her lovely wedding gown of white triple sheer over moire taffeta and carrying a beautiful bouquet of red carnations and lily of the valley, the bride was given in marriage by her father. A head-dress of a spray of white flowers and white heather held her fingertip veil in place.

Mrs. Jack Kirkham of North Vancouver was matron of honor and was gowned in pink net over pink taffeta, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white tulips.

Miss Helen Kean of West Summerland, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Charming frocked in pale blue sheer over blue taffeta she carried a bouquet of blue iris and white tulips.

LAC David Kean of Centralia, Ontario, came west to be his brother's best man, and ushers were Mr. Ed Nickols, brother of the bride, and Mr. Michael Hall of North Vancouver.

While the register was being signed Mr. Ed Nickols played violin selections.

Four grandparents of the bride were present, Mr. and Mrs. A. Nickols and Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Lee, all of Vancouver. At the reception the grandmothers poured from a table where the traditional bridal cake and white candles were used as a dainty centerpiece.

For going-away the bride wore a navy blue suit topped by a grey shortie coat, and with these navy accessories were worn.

The honeymoon was spent at Victoria and Island points. The couple will make their home at West Summerland.

Mr. F. J. Nixon and his daughter, Mrs. Alex Watt, were passengers to Vancouver, on last Friday evening's train.

Visitor from Ohio Talks on Open Doors To Service Club

Forty-eight members were present at St. Andrew's Service Club regular meeting on Monday evening, April 17, to join in singing the opening hymn My Faith Looks Up to Thee.

Mrs. A. J. McKenzie, president, introduced Mrs. Mettern of Wau-scon Ohio, who with Mr. Mettern is visiting at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Underwood.

Mrs. Mettern led the devotional period and gave the gathering a new insight into the beginnings and expansion of the Christian church in her discussion of Open Doors, which doors she pointed out were never more open than now.

Thanking Mrs. Mettern for her address, Mrs. McKenzie followed by welcoming Mrs. C. Schwass and Mrs. A. McLachlan, visitors from the Women's Federation.

Mrs. L. Fudge reported sending a parcel to a girl who was a student of St. Andrew's Sunday school, the former Miss Suma Kuroda, who now is married and living in Japan. The parcel was made up chiefly of foods that are scarce in that country. Mrs. Fudge remarked that she had included a quantity of cotton print because she had been informed reliably that this is almost unobtainable in Japan.

The special kitchen committee reported that the new stove and plumbing are ready for use.

The central welfare committee was discussed. Since Rev. Mr. Whitmore is St. Andrew's permanent delegate to this committee, the meeting authorized him to pledge a sum of money and certain services on its behalf.

Following adjournment delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Jack Dunsdon, Mrs. A. K. Elliott, Mrs. A. Crawford, Mrs. M. Cousins and Miss Thelma Cork

Van Allen Wing at Hospital Has Been Fully Re-Decorated

The Hospital Auxiliary continues to work quietly for the maintenance and general good house-keeping so noticeable at the Summerland hospital and has completed a full re-decorating project in the Van Allen wing.

The walls have been painted and so has all the woodwork. Pretty new plastic curtains have been hung at the windows. These are of a special non-inflammable material and are understood to be stain proof, and add much to the bright, clean surroundings.

Great plans are being made for the annual Fashion Show which will be held on National Hospital Day, May 11. It will be in the evening this year and varied entertainment will alternate with the appearance of the models.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson will be commentator for the show and Miss Mary Marshall will play soft music as a pleasing accompaniment. Mrs. S. Gladwell is preparing the stage setting.

Macil's Ladies' Wear and the Linnea Style Shop are co-operating with the auxiliary in putting on the show.

Mrs. Howard Shannon is convener of the knitting committee and an extra attraction will be a knitting display of baby quilts and charming little garments for infants which the auxiliary will. This will be arranged by Mrs. M. Kersey.

Light refreshments will be served at the end of the ambitious show.

Anniversary of Eastern Star Order Noted

On Wednesday evening, April 5, Summerland Chapter No. 63, Order of the Eastern Star, celebrated its third anniversary.

A playlet entitled "The Origin of Our Order" was presented in which the following members participated: Mrs. H. V. Stent, director; Messrs. T. Marsh, E. Wilson; Messdames A. K. Elliott, J. Mitchell, E. Clements, G. Long, J. Dunsdon and Miss D. Butler.

Mrs. A. K. Elliott was presented with a bouquet in appreciation of her generous gesture in holding the cancer dressing meetings at her home during the winter months.

Mrs. N. O. Solly then delighted the members with her presentation of colored moving pictures dealing with a recent trip to the Yukon. Mrs. H. Brown moved a vote of thanks and presented Mrs. Solly with a bouquet for her very interesting and entertaining travelogue.

Decorations on the banquet table were carried out in the Easter theme. The vases which held the bouquets of daffodils were surrounded by unique coverings depicting Easter themes. Gay baskets of Easter eggs and candies adorned the table and added a colorful touch.

The refreshment committee included Messdames J. Mitchell, convener; W. H. B. Munn, R. Oxley, J. Marshall, J. Young and E. Fanchon

Evening Branch is Preparing for Bazaar

Members of the Evening Branch of St. Stephen's WA have been divided into three groups, one for sewing, another for knitting, and the third for making novelties, in preparation for the annual bazaar.

Reports from each group were heard in the parish hall on Monday evening, April 17, at the regular meeting.

The annual meeting of the Kootenay diocesan board is to be held at Vernon, May 3 and 4. Mrs. D. Turnbull and Mrs. Ted Weeks were appointed delegates from Summerland branch.

President Mrs. E. C. Bingham reminded members that prior to the May meeting Canon Harrison will hold a service of admission for new members to the branch. All members were asked to attend.

After the meeting adjourned delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. C. Adams and Mrs. Bingham.

CWL Holds Final Party for Season

"Last for the season" was the card party of the CWL held Wednesday evening, April 12. Master of ceremonies was Mr. A. Menu, and prizes for whist were won by Mrs. J. Biollo who had high score and Mrs. A. Bonthoux who held the lowest count for the ladies. Mr. L. J. Wignall was top man, and Mrs. A. Menu who played as a man for the evening, was low.

At bridge Mrs. W. Rothwell was top and Mrs. H. Thornthwaite won the consolation.

Father Meulenbergh showed another group of lovely films on Australia and another on Ukrainian Christmas celebrations, which were enjoyed by all.

Members of the CWL served refreshments.

Conducts Classes In Fabric Printing

A group of people at Trout Creek who are interested in arts and crafts and who last year formed themselves into a home-decorating study group is sponsoring the visit of Jean Traviss of UBC extension department, who is conducting classes in fabric printing this week from Monday until Friday.

Lectures and demonstrations are being held at the home of Mr. S. Gladwell, Trout Creek, in the studio on the top floor of his home, and arrangements have been made with Mrs. James Mason as convener.

SQUARE DANCE MUSIC ALBUMS ARE PRESENTED

Last Saturday night friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bulloch presented them with two albums of square dance music in appreciation of the fortnightly dancing parties held at the experimental station boarding house during the winter, and prior to their departure to live at Pemberton Meadows, B.C.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. W. Tullett returned on Tuesday after a three month's visit to the Old Country. She was met at Kelowna by her daughter, Mrs. A. J. McKenzie.

Annual Luncheon of Baptist Mission Circles Hears Talk on India

The annual luncheon of the ladies of the Baptist church mission circles was held on Thursday afternoon, April 13 at one o'clock.

Mrs. Tasker of Penticton who served for forty-one years in the mission field in India was the guest speaker. Mrs. Tasker returned from India in 1946, and spoke of the recent mass revivals in that vast country. She talked of her many visits in zenanas and illustrated her points with humorous and interesting personal experiences. She was able, too, to tell of happy and desirable results of her work.

Guests were welcomed by the president of the WMS, Mrs. D. O. Knipfel, and the gathering was opened by prayer by Mrs. Robert Birch.

As part of the program Mrs. H. Wouters sang the 121st psalm in Dutch. She was accompanied by Mrs. Birch at the piano. A duet "The Saviour For Me" was sung by Mrs. Birch and Mrs. Howard Milne, and for this number Miss Ruth Dale was the accompanist.

An interesting display of White Cross sewing was arranged by the White Cross secretary, Mrs. J. Bernhardt. This sewing is done by the ladies of the church for use in hospitals in India.

Luncheon was served in the ladies' parlor, part of the bright new addition to the church, to which room a rug has been donated recently, adding much to the furnishing. The tables were prettily arranged with daffodils, pussy-willows and violets.

The luncheon committee was convened by Miss Barbara Braun, assisted by Mrs. N. Buddingh, Mrs. Elson Buddingh and Mrs. C. H. Eisey.

CRIBBAGE AND WHIST PARTY AT LEGION

When the Canadian Legion WA held a card party in the Legion hall on Tuesday evening, April 11, there were nine tables of cribbage and one of whist.

Winners at crib were Mrs. J. A. Read and Mr. Bob Smith, while Mrs. Bob Smith and Mrs. Frank Young won the whist games.

Tasty refreshments were served with Mrs. Bob Smith as convener.

VISITING ABROAD

Miss Diane Kersey has returned after spending the Easter holidays at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Skermer, Lumby, B.C.

Miss Marion Campbell has returned from an Easter vacation spent in Vancouver.

Mrs. James Mason is back at her home in Trout Creek having arrived last Thursday after visiting her husband for two weeks at Pullman, Washington where he is attending university.

Joan and Terry Daniels were visitors during the Easter holidays at the home of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Clement, Vancouver. Mrs. Clement is the former Miss Peggy Daniels.

Mrs. Bertha Bjarnason left on Tuesday night's train for a visit with relatives in Vancouver.

Miss Irma Arndt returned to Vancouver on Monday after spending the Easter vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Arndt.

Mr. W. H. Durick of the high school teaching staff was in Saskatoon over the weekend to take his oral examinations at the University of Saskatchewan for his master's degree.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott will accompany their daughter Miss Bernice Elliott to Vancouver next Sunday when she returns for her graduation exercises at St. Paul's hospital. Mr. Murray Elliott will go with them also to attend his sister's graduation.

Mr. Lacey Fisher will go to Kimberley this weekend to act as adjudicator for the B.C. department of drama at the spring drama festival to be held there on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Davis and their daughter, Miss Audrey Davis, were visitors to Princeton last Friday.

Miss Dorothy Dawes who spent last week at Vancouver has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Dawes, Prairie Valley.

Angle Parking For Greyhound Is Suggested

Despite Reeve Bentley's assertion that the council is unlikely to accept such a suggestion, Summerland Board of Trade monthly meeting Thursday night in the IOOF hall went on record as favoring allowing the Greyhound bus one parking space for angle parking on Granville street.

This has been a contentious point here for some time, as storekeepers along the 75-foot stretch of parallel parking space are objecting to so much of their customers' parking allowance being taken up by the Greyhound.

It was recommended by the board executive that the Greyhound be allowed to angle park in front of Mac's Cafe as it was feared if such a privilege is denied then the Greyhound would not come into West Summerland business area at all.

Bentley is Opposed
Reeve Bentley explained to the board Thursday night that angle parking had been stopped for the Greyhound on Granville because no other vehicles could pass if a truck happened to be parked across the street.

"Personally I'm not in favor of the Greyhound on Granville," stated His Worship, explaining that with parallel parking nearly 75 feet of space would be allotted, and the Greyhound pays no rates or taxes to the municipality at all.

"The Greyhound company won't spend a nickel in providing a depot," he added.

Mr. Bentley also doubted if the council would agree to angle parking because of the traffic hazard.

Walter M. Wright countered with the statement that a great many persons want this Greyhound service into West Summerland business district continued because of its convenience. He thought trucks could be restricted from parking across the street.

John Dunn warned that if the Greyhound is not allowed to park on Granville then the company will only go to the top of Peach Orchard.

Bill Snow argued that most persons using the Greyhound have no means of personal transportation and it would be inconvenient for them to have to walk the extra distance to the top of Peach Orchard.

With those arguments the trade board passed the resolution suggesting angle parking, with two dissenting votes.

Two Delegates Plan Walla Walla Trip

President Joe McLachlan and President-elect Francis Steuart will represent Rotary Club of Summerland at the annual district Rotary convention which will be held this year at Walla Walla, Wash., on May 14 to 16, it was announced recently. There may be other Rotarians in attendance but at present these two officials are the only delegates who have definitely signified their intention of being in attendance.

Increase Number Of Water Charges

Where one family occupies both a place of business and a residence in one building or adjoining so that one domestic water service can serve both premises then only one water rate is charged, it was explained to municipal council last week.

However, when two different groups occupy these premises then two domestic water charges are

TEACHERS ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Albert E. Dickinson was a tea-hostess to the elementary school teaching staff on Tuesday afternoon, April 4, at her home in Garnet Valley.

Changes in several locations have been made this month, including the block owned by F. Daniels on Shaughnessy avenue. Pollock Motors Ltd. business block and adjoining residence, Soderberg's Capitol Motors garage, apartment upstairs and adjoining house, and the Frozen Food Lockers and apartment upstairs. Separate charges are now being made to tenants in all these cases the council was informed.

Mrs. E. R. Hookham was hostess last week to several delegates to the CCF convention held at Peniticon. Among them was Mr. Hal Rugge, a former resident, who now lives at White Rock, B.C.

Use Amusement Tax To Finance Hospital

New legislation, providing for a reduction in the amusement tax from 25% to 17½% was passed by the legislature just prior to prorogation.

Other legislation, closely connected with the amusement tax reduction, was introduced, providing for a $12,500,000 hospital building loan financed by the amusement tax receipts.

The amusement tax now brings in $2,200,000 in revenue. Of this amount, $1,700,000 will go to the hospital building fund, and the remainder to general revenue. The reduction of 7½% will be taken from the hospital building fund's share, leaving $1,000,000 to be used to finance the $12,500,000 building loan.

The yearly income from the amusement tax is insufficient for immediate needs for new hospitals and hence the loan bill to capitalize this revenue. Earlier in the session, a similar step was taken when the government earmarked the 3c gasoline tax to meet an $86,000,000 loan for highways, bridges, ferries and other public works.

Okanagan and Similkameen Valleys Have 30,000 Arable Acres Still to be Developed

In addition to 48,000 acres of irrigated land in the tree fruits area of the Okanagan and Similkameen, another 30,000 arable acres may be possible for future development, the regional advisory committee for the Okanagan, Kettle and Similkameen valleys heard last week on Wednesday and Thursday in Kelowna.

This committee consists of 25 senior civil servants, heads of various services in the area who meet from time to time to discuss problems relating to the present and future development of the region.

It operates through the regional development division of the department of trade and industry and is known as Region 3 of the ten regions in the province.

Mr. Ben Hoy, supervising horticulturist for the interior, Kelowna, is chairman of the regional committee, with C. C. Kelley as secretary. At last week's session L. E. Willis, district engineer at Kelowna and N. Matick, Kelowna rural building inspector, were added as committee members, along with Dr. Helen Zeman, medical director of the South Okanagan Health Unit.

Submits New Brief

Mr. A. F. Paget, district engineer of the water rights branch, who heads the irrigation land survey subcommittee, submitted a draft brief dealing with facts about "Irrigation and Irrigated Lands in the Tree Fruits Area of the Ok-nagan and Similkameen Valleys". This brief will be published at an early date supplying data on irrigation costs and acreage for the 25 irrigation districts, 19 water users' communities and some 340-odd private projects.

The brief remarks on the fact that the water potential of the Okanagan drainage area is not fully recorded, but suggests that sources still available will prove expensive.

There has been a marked increase in sprinkler irrigation in the last year, over 10,000 acres in the area now being irrigated by that method.

Another matter dealt with at some length was the recommendation covering public playgrounds for the interior, under which it is proposed to recommend sites to authorities and suggest a policy of parks development.

Playgrounds Committee

A standing committee on public playgrounds was set up, composed of T. S. Dalby, government agent at Peniticon, as chairman; with L. E. Willis, district engineer, Kelowna; A. F. Paget, district engineer, water rights branch; H. K. Hume, inspector of motor carriers branch; and G. Y. L. Crossley, field representative, regional development division. This committee will make recommendations for future development of land reserved for the use of the public.

Much information has been supplied by boards of trade, community committees and individuals. Some areas, however, have not replied to a request for suggestions, it was stated.

The committee was of the opinion that roadside campsites should be established and recommends that barbecue-type fireplaces and comfort stations should be installed where possible. It was of the opinion, however, that campsites should not be opened to the public without such facilities.

Recommendations were made to the effect that the names of rivers should be shown where highways cross them and that mountains or mountain ranges, lakes and other geographical features should be indicated on the highways.

Indian pictographs occur frequently in several cases close to roadways. These are passed by because their presence is unknown. It is recommended that these be located and signs erected directing the public to them.

The grading of eating establishments in the province was discussed.

Mr. J. T. Gawthrop, director of the regional development division, Victoria, attended the meeting and thanked the members for their continued interest in this inter-departmental effort.

He stressed the importance of acquiring and co-ordinating facts in connection with the development of the province, particularly this region, and gave preliminary notice of a comprehensive industrial and commercial survey which was to take place shortly to dovetail into one pattern the natural and industrial resources of the district and markets for each.

Mr. Gawthrop informed the meeting that the Industrial Index, 1949 edition, had just come off the press. This index comprises vital information dealing with population, facilities, payrolls, natural resources, power development, municipal taxes and other information of importance to boards of trade and to industrial interests considering development in the province.

Mr. C. C. Kelley, committee secretary and director of soil surveys in the province, told the meeting of progress toward a soil conservation act.

He also reported on the state of the proposal for the irrigation of Grandview Flats.

February Tourist Traffic Increases

Tourist traffic for the month of February showed a substantial increase over the same month of last year, it is announced by Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, minister of trade and industry.

February 1950 showed a substantial increase over the same month of last year, it is announced by Hon. Leslie H. Eyres, minister of trade and industry.

Vehicles entering British Columbia on traveller's vehicle permits during February numbered 6,551, as against 4,970 in the same period of 1949, showing an increase of 34%. The two-month over-all total this year was 8,885 as compared to 9,207 in 1949. Indications are, that in all probability, this year's tourist figures will at least equal or surpass last year's totals.

Horticultural Society Hears About Right Types of Annuals, Use of Fertilizer, Seed Growing

Interest in gardening runs high in Summerland and there are no other meetings where valuable information along these lines may be obtained so readily as at those of the Horticultural Society. The April 14 meeting in the parish hall was well attended.

Colored pictures of beautiful gardens across Canada, including Victoria and Kelowna were projected by Mr. Clive Atkinson. Many of the flowering plants and trees were pointed out and named by Mr. N. May. These gardens could be an aim towards which any amateur gardener might work, he said.

Mr. N. May and his brother, Mr. Wm. May were speakers. The former took as his subject the definition and successful growing of annuals which he classed as hardy, half hardy and tender. He stated also that annuals are limited in their groupings by climatic conditions. An annual in England might not be an annual in Canada, for example.

Names of some annuals suitable for growing in sunny place in Summerland are alyssum, mignonette, heavenly blue morning glory, zinnia and godeta.

In shady places Schizanthus, and nemesia may be grown without trouble though the latter should be started inside.

Mr. Wm. May gave a warning against using too much water with fertilizer and washing away the ingredients most needed. With Dr. Marshall showing films through the epidioscope Mr. May told of tests made at the experimental station in the process of growing registered seed.

He praised the Signet tomato as almost acid free and containing valuable vitamins.

Miss Rogers gave a vote of thanks to the speakers.

Of much interest were the colored pictures of tropical flowers shown by Mr. Clive Atkinson which were taken in Bermuda by Mrs. Howard Mitchell, the former Miss Joyce Hutchinson. There was a remarkable black calla lily shown, and hedges of oleander and poinsettia, as well as bougainvillea, passion flowers and hibiscus, all of which grow in profusion on that island.

Miss Doreen Tait, president, asked for introductions of names and places of residence of those present for the mutual help of those who usually attend and for the several newcomers. These were quite entertaining and informal.

Mr. Wm. Snow and Mr. Clive Atkinson were appointed representatives on the film council as well.

It was mentioned that Mrs. E. R. Hookham's garden is beautiful at present with daffodils and primroses making bright ribbons of color along the ridges above the creek.

Western World is Living More to Christian Ideals

"The Spirit of Easter epitomizes the concept that 'Might isn't Right' . . . that in the long run Right will win," declared Dr. D. V. Fisher who spoke to the Rotary Club of Summerland on Good Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex.

The speaker gave a short discourse on the modern and fundamental schools of thought on the Bible and declared that to the modern trend the moral behind Bible teachings is the most important lesson of Christianity.

As a scientist, Dr. Fisher pointed out that he has been trained to approach a subject with an open mind, and not to say that anything is impossible simply because it is beyond understanding according to present-day concepts.

"Just because you cannot measure things of the spirit does not mean that they do not exist," he emphasized.

He believes that the reason the Christian church has survived is because of its very democracy. It is not static like some other forms of religion and its interpretations can range to suit temperaments.

Even though there are no more in attendance at church services, Dr. Fisher is convinced that the teachings of Christianity are being followed to a greater degree now than ever before in the western world.

However, he expressed the thought that the world is still full of followers when the crying need is for a lot more leaders.

Reeve Cautions on Property Transfer

First three readings of a bylaw to provide School District No. 77 (Summerland) with title to the school property now held in the name of the municipality passed council last week.

Reeve C. E. Bentley, however, showed some reluctance to proceed with the deal, pointing out that there was no debt against this school property when the larger school district was formed and the municipality is actually making a present of this school property to the unorganized district.

West Station Road Flood Condition

Although no official complaint had been received, municipal council discussed shortly on Tuesday the flooded condition which exists over a large section of the area west of the Station road.

One council member thought that a resident whose basement was flooded would be present to interview the council.

It was stated that in several previous years similar flood conditions have prevailed in that area so that the present condition cannot be blamed in entirety onto the break in the municipal drain which created a temporary flood condition some weeks ago.

Scotland is producing 1,000,000 gallons of whisky a month. Longest river in Canada is the Mackenzie—2,514 miles.

Wally Day Voted Most Valuable Player in Kootenay Tourney

By a single point, Summerland Bluebirds missed entering the finals of the Kootenay invitational high school basketball tournament at Trail last week. However, they were great in defeat and proved to be the most popular team in the tourney.

Wally Day, standout of the Bluebirds, was named Most Valuable Player of the tournament and was the sole Summerland cager to go on the all-star team.

Six boys' teams were entered in this tournament, Summerland being the Okanagan representative. Other teams were Grand Forks, Rossland, Nelson, Trail and Calgary Tech.

In preliminary games, the Bluebirds walloped Grand Forks 54-37, defeated Rossland 45-29 and took Nelson into camp 44-24. Then they lost to Calgary 49-41 after having the game tied up with two minutes to go.

This left the Bluebirds with only one loss and tied with Trail for second place in the tournament semi-finals. Calgary did not sustain a loss in the tourney.

The semi-final with Trail was a hectic one as both teams were evenly matched. With twenty-seconds left to play and the score knotted, Wally Day went in for a layup but he missed, three Trail players being draped around him.

Don Cristante then committed a foul but Trail missed and in the consequent scramble under the basket another penalty went to Cristante. This time, Trail player sank the free throw and won the game with two seconds left to play. The ball was heaved to Day at centre floor and he heaved a long one, hitting the rim, and the game was over.

Trail had spent its strength against Summerland and failed to give Calgary Tech a run for their money in the final Thursday evening, the Albertans walking off with the contest. The Techs were a year older than the other players in the tourney, on the average, taking in two years beyond the regular high school classes.

In the girls' tournament, Trail defeated Pentiction in the finals.

Summerland Bluebirds consisted of Wally Day, Don Cristante, Fred Kato, Ernie Jomori, Ron MacRae, Daryl Weitzel, Graham Munn, Norman Richards, and Jim Logie. Lacey Fisher, coach and Keith McLean, referee, accompanied the team.

The Summerland team was high in its praise for the efficiency of the tournament management and the friendly spirit of the Trail people. They were billeted in Trail-Tadanac homes and were given a royal reception.

Tommy Ivan, above, coach of the Detroit Red Wings who won the N.H.L. championship, nosed out the Toronto Leafs in the semi-finals, and are now favored to win the Stanley Cup in the current series with the New York Rangers.

Bleasdale Hot As Golfers Open 1950 Season

Despite the high wind, C. J. (Chuck) Bleasdale was plenty hot on the local golf links on Sunday when he toured the second nine in one-over-par 38, after an opening round of 47.

This performance, plus announcement of the hidden hole winners proved highlights of the opening day of the Summerland golf club which attracted about fifty persons despite inclement weather.

Lady members of the club served tea. The course was reported by players to be as good now as at any time in pre-war years and certainly a big improvement over last season.

Bill Strachan and Fred Schwarz tied for low men's hidden hole score, Bill winning the toss. Tom Fisher and Don Strachan were tied for high score on the same hole with Mr. Strachan the winner.

Ladies' low hidden hole went to Miss Marjorie Fenwick and Mrs. Dave McInnis had the high score.

Pentiction Goes Wet By Big Majority

PENTICTON—Out of a total possible vote of 6,021 Pentiction voters registered 2592 Yes votes in favor of allowing beer to the glass to be sold in licenced premises. Some 1290 No votes were recorded, thus giving the affirmative a 66 percent majority. The needed majority was 55 percent.

Pentiction expects that three hotels, Incola, Three Gables and B.C. will be issued licenced premises permits, while a fourth hotel is projected. Sale of the Incola hotel by three Pentiction owners to Vancouver interests is also hinted.

PENTICTON VETS ARE B.C. CHAMPS

Taking the two games by a margin of 24 points, Pentiction Vets won the senior B basketball championship of British Columbia Monday and Tuesday nights at the Pentiction gym, defeating Prince Rupert.

First game went to Pentiction by nine points, 69-60 while the second contest was Pentiction's all the way although the visitors were pressing throughout. Chuck Raitt and Kelly were the standouts for Pentiction, the former being as strong defensively as on the offensive.

Pentiction Vets, who defeated Summerland Merchants in the first round of the interior playoff, were coached by a former Summerland man, Bill Bennest, son of Mrs. C. G. Bennest, Summerland.

High Hail Mortality In This District Growers Informed

Summerland district has a higher hail mortality than any other fruit producing district. C. E. Bentley and E. M. Tait, members of the newly-formed mutual hail insurance company, told the Friday evening growers' meeting here.

Although no definite stand has been taken, it is likely that Summerland will have to pay a higher insurance rate because of this factor, it was stated.

Details concerning initial stages in forming this company were outlined by these two prominent local grower officials. They stated that $15,000 will be borrowed from the B.C. Fruit Board to start the company.

As reported last week, George A. Lundy of Oliver is chairman of the board of directors of this company.

CRASH THAT KILLED STEINHARDT, 4 OTHERS

Steinhardt, U.S. Ambassador to Canada, and four others. One man survived. This photo was taken minutes after the tragic accident.

Payroll Deductions Will be Delayed

Lloyd F. Detwiler, BCHIS commissioner, has pointed out that while the government now has power to authorize compulsory payroll deductions for hospital insurance premiums, it will take some considerable time to expand the machinery which will be necessary in order that all companies located within the province will come under this plan.

Meanwhile, he said, employers now operating payroll deductions should make no change in their methods of collection and remittance. Similarly, firms who do not deduct hospital insurance premiums from their employees' wages should not do so until specifically requested by the service to make them.

Mr. Detwiler stated that in mid-April, billing notices for those persons paying their premiums through district offices will be mailed throughout the province. Payment must be made by May 31 in order to receive coverage for the balance of 1950.

MORE ABOUT BOARD

Continued from page 1 led by the West Summerland office does not warrant opening on Sunday. However, he announced that arrangements are being made for the station lobby to be kept open and a telephone installed.

The local trade board has continued to press for a break-water here and has been informed by the Dominion public works department that its representations will be borne in mind.

Support of the Jaycees, the Fish and Game Assn. and the local branch Canadian Legion was sought on this subject. The first two organizations have endorsed the proposal but the Legion turned down the trade board plan on the premise that the expense would not be warranted.

Recommendation of the executive that the B.C. Products Bureau be requested to bring its big display and show to Summerland in 1951 was endorsed by Thursday's meeting.

E. R. Butler, chairman of the board's ways and means committee declared that owing to decreased membership and the fact that no spring fair will be held this year the board should curtail all donations, to charitable or other organizations. The meeting agreed and this policy will be continued for 1950.

Get Out the Vote W. S. Ritchie has agreed to continue as civic affairs committee chairman and will head a drive to get out the vote for the domestic water extension bylaw this Saturday.

President O'Mahony urged members to get behind the Jaycees in their effort to push a road up Giant's Head. This plan can be of great publicity value to Summerland. Mr. O'Mahony declared.

Mr. W. Gillard declared he had forwarded Summerland publicity pamphlets to CNR agents in many prairie points. He also suggested that the Summerland float design this year be altered from the gladioli effect of the past two years and asked for suggestions from the meeting.

The business meeting was a short one, followed by a showing of pictures brought specially from the coast for the purpose by A. K. Macleod, new chairman of the board's program committee. Reeve C. E. Bentley handled the projector.

Ferry Schedule Speeded with Second Craft

One week after the terrific traffic tieup at the ferry crossing, the second ferry, M.S. Lequime, went back into service after its check-over following winter runs.

Coincidence with the two ferries back in operation comes the announcement from the department of public works that a speedier ferry service has commenced.

The new schedule calls for trips every twenty and twenty-five minutes during the greater part of the day and trips every hour and a half in the early morning hours.

Over the Easter weekend, lineups totalling as high as 200 cars piled up on both sides of the lake. There was only one ferry in operation, as the craft which had been bucking ice all winter had been removed for an overhaul just a week before the holiday weekend.

Indignation ran high especially when there was no supervision of the lineups and some cars cut into the lineup and got ahead of drivers who had been waiting for hours.

Never before in Okanagan history has the need for a bridge across Okanagan lake been more in evidence than over Easter weekend, many Kelowna and Westbank residents have observed.

Details of the complete new ferry schedule may be found in the advertising columns on Page 9 of this issue.

New Government Resort to Open On Manning Pass

A new dining room and cafe in the heart of Manning Park on the Hope-Princeton highway will be opened to the public June 1, Lands Minister E. T. Kenney announced last week.

Parks division is calling tenders shortly for operating a concession at the place, known as Pinewoods. It is exactly at the half-way mark between Hope and Princeton, 41 miles from each end, located at the junction of the Little Muddy and Similkameen rivers.

Construction of the Pinewoods resort is the first step in a long range program of development for Manning Park.

Brian Atkinson Granted FRGS

Mrs. G. Atkinson, Sand Hill Road has received word from her son, Brian, who is now in London that he has been made a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society.

During his travels as a member of an exporting and importing firm when he went by sampan to many places in the interior of eastern Borneo, Mr. Atkinson saw many little known places along the riverways of Borneo.

He visited mahogany forests and cocconut groves in the interest of his firm and enjoyed the sights unusual to Canadian eyes. Crocodiles basked in the hot, sunlit waters and mosquitoes were a continual nuisance.

Mr. Atkinson, a member of the British Council of Culture was elected as an FRGS by a professor of geography at London University, and his citation read: "For work in little known places of Eastern Borneo".

During his journeyings in 1948, Mr. Atkinson was at Sarawak at the home of Agnes Newton Keith, famous author of the book Three

Stockmen Honor Years of Service

Twenty years' service to the Meadow Valley Stock Assn. as secretary was rewarded on Friday evening at the IOOF hall when William J. Beattie was presented with a sum of money by the cattlemen's president, Phil Munro.

It was the annual meeting of the Meadow Valley group that saw this presentation as a tribute to Mr. Beattie's lengthy service as secretary for the association.

This association has a membership of 32 and nearly every member turned out for the annual meeting and presentation. These cattlemen represent about 700 head of cattle on the rangeland west of Summerland.

Good range conditions this spring were reported by the members who have turned out most of their stock from winter quarters.

It was stated that the government will assist to the extent of $275 plans for additional cattle-guards and range improvements. A new guard in Garnet Valley to replace the temporary structure in place opposite the last orchard has been approved.

Phil Munro was re-elected president of the Meadow Valley Stock Assn., with Chester Reinertson vice-president and Bill Beattie continuing as secretary-treasurer. Other executive members are E. E. Campbell, Emil Bonthoux and Frank Maddocks.

Speakers' Club Annual Banquet

Over forty attended the 15th annual banquet of the Summerland Speakers' Club Tuesday night. In this unique society started by Dr. R. C. Palmer, superintendent of the experimental station, it is attempted yearly to make the inarticulate articulate.

New members are taught and heckled in a friendly way into speaking before the club and end the season by taking part in the program of the annual supper.

Mr. James Muirhead is president this year. In the absence of Mr. Ryan Lawley his toast to the ladies was read by Mr. Alex Watt. To this Mrs. A. Higgs replied, pointing out that making a speech is a serious matter to members of the club.

Mr. Earl Edge toasted the alumni, with reply by Mr. Carl Nesbitt who said that he enjoyed the club so much that he tried not to graduate. Mr. James Miltimore admirably handled the toast "to the amendment to the amendment". Mr. Harry Brown gave an original interpretation of this theme in replying.

Mr. Jim Mayne greeted Jaycee Gavel club representative, Mr. Ted Weeks, who answered suitably.

Dr. R. C. Palmer told a visionary story of what things might be like in Summerland in 1975, when 1950 would be recorded as the year of the great frost.

Rink Pledges Total $6,000 Says Stoll

George Stoll is in Vancouver today but before he left for the coast the energetic president of the Summerland Rink Association announced that he has obtained signed pledges for nearly $6,000 in just two days of canvassing.

"I'm very satisfied," declared Mr. Stoll whose enthusiasm knows no bounds when he starts talking about plans for an arena in Summerland.

It has definitely been decided by the rink association executive that unless $20,000 minimum can be pledged there will be no start on the arena this year.

General canvass of the district starts next week, with two canvassers from each club represented in the rink association to be selected to cover the Summerland district.

Each canvasser will be armed with a receipt book in which the subscriber can indicate in what manner he or she wishes to pledge a subscription to Summerland's proposed arena.

Letters to wholesalers and other coast firms doing business in this district are being forwarded and Mr. Stoll also intends to contact a number of these firms while in Vancouver.

Ten-Pinners, Defeat Tournament Team

Penticton's championship ten-pin team which intends to compete in an American Bowling Congress tournament in Spokane shortly was defeated by a narrow margin of 50 pins at the Kingpin Bowldrome last night.

The Summerland team of Walt Bakos, George Taylor, "Tiny" Hankins, Harley Ewing, Abe Salloum, Allen Eisey and Min Kita trundled the big balls for a total of 2589 points. Penticton's total was 2539.

Scores by games were: Summerland, 83-947, 825; Penticton, 804-845, 828.

Abe Salloum was high bowler with 226 in his second game, closely followed by Harley Ewing's 212.

Pro Cons Hear of Attempts Made Last Year to Convince Grits Not to Run Candidate

P. D. O'Brien, president of the Yale Progressive Conservative Association, assured the annual Pro Con convention in Penticton last Thursday evening that "we did everything possible to try and see that Mayor T. R. B. Adams, our candidate, would be the only one to oppose Mr. Jones."

He was referring to the attempted coalition of the free enterprise parties which failed to materialize when C. J. McDowell, Vernon, insisted on carrying on as Yale Liberal standard-bearer.

Both Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Dolph Browne, Vernon, Pro Con vice-president reviewed the action taken by the Yale executive to effect the coalition and claimed they were given a "double cross" by North Okanagan Liberals.

Delegates believed that Mr. O'Brien and his executive had done "the right thing" as they returned him as president, with Nigel Pooley of Kelowna as vice-president and Mrs. George Kingsley, Penticton, continuing as secretary-treasurer.

Due to pressure of fruit business Mr. Dolph Browne refused to accept the vice-presidency again.

In his annual report, Mr. O'Brien declared that "we had explicit assurance from the Liberal association of B.C. that no Liberal candidate would be forthcoming in Yale."

"Their wishes were over-ruled by a small group, mostly in North Okanagan. They alone were responsible. The Liberals in Penticton and the southern part of the valley hued to the line and supported, both privately and publicly, Mr. Adams."

Says Promise Broken
Mr. Browne added to this that "on the strength of McDowell's promise (not to be a candidate) we (the Pro Cons) supported Mr. Morrow in the North Okanagan. Mr. Morrow was the successful Coalition candidate last year in North Okanagan provincial election."

"That promise was not kept... his hand was probably forced... but he didn't come back to tell me he couldn't go through with his promise," declared Mr. Browne.

Mr. O'Brien, after re-election, stated that this would close the chapter of past incidents and the party could look forward to the future.

Oliver trotted out three resolutions, the first one asking for speakers to be brought into every district association requesting them; secondly, requesting federal

Clocks Go Ahead One Hour on Sunday

This Sunday, April 30, British Columbians shove their clocks ahead for summer fast time. Until Sunday, September 24, that hour will be lost.

Every province in Canada will operate on fast time with the exception of Alberta, which has local option.

No set time has been given for the changeover to fast time but it is expected that clocks will shoot ahead midnight Saturday for those who are still awake at that time.

If you propose to go to sleep before midnight Saturday then it would be wise to set watches and clocks ahead at bedtime rather than wake up Sunday morning, forget about the change and be out of step with the rest of the province.

Whitmore Heads Welfare Group

Rev. H. R. Whitmore was named chairman of the newly-organized Summerland Welfare Committee which had its second organizational meeting yesterday afternoon in St. Andrew's church hall.

An executive of five was set up including the new president and Mrs. D. Weis, vice-chairman, Mrs. A. G. Bissett, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. E. Famchon and R. F. Angus.

The welfare committee is being organized to care for emergency cases where assistance is needed but is not meant to be a continuing relief organization, it was pointed out.

The executive is empowered to set up committees as the need arises. Mrs. E. Famchon heads the clothing committee and Capt. J. E. Jenkinson and Dan Weis were appointed as a committee to find a room for storing clothing.

SEARCHLIGHT INSTALLED

A new searchlight for the local fire truck has arrived and is being installed. Reeve C. E. Bentley informed the council on Tuesday. Two fires occurred in Summerland district in March the monthly fire brigade report revealed.

Ellison Hall Fate Still In Doubt After Voters Defeat $3,500 Referendum

Summerland council echoed, at its Tuesday afternoon meeting, the question which is prevalent throughout this district since last Saturday's referendum on Ellison hall was rejected by a majority of 46 ratepayers.

Answering the question: "Are you in favor of spending approximately $3,500 to repair the roof and install an adequate heating plant in Ellison hall?" local ratepayers voted 247 in the negative and 201 in the affirmative, with 8 rejected ballots, for a total of 456 votes.

One of the last discussions at Tuesday's council session concerned possible council action in the face of the negative vote on the question.

It was Councillor Tait's contention that the vote does not give a clearcut decision but Reeve C. E. Bentley considered that something should be done with the building or it should be closed entirely.

Councillors Francis Steuart and Norman Holmes indicated that if nothing is to be done to renovate the hall then the council should take steps to get rid of the structure.

Reeve Bentley wished to know if the council cared to advertise for someone to tear down the building and haul it away, for a price. The council shied away from such a drastic decision for the present, at least.

His Worship also explained that the fire marshal has ruled the new small box-type furnace installed on the dance floor will have to be removed, the chimney rebuilt and the furnace placed in the basement.

Councillor Tait explained the attitude of a large number of voters when he said that "a lot of people couldn't see spending that much money for an expensive heating plant but they are in favor of fixing the roof, insulating and making it a seasonal hall."

He also declared that the referendum result is not clear enough to warrant council selling the building.

There the subject was left for the time being but it is likely council action towards the building which has served as a community hall for more than thirty years will be forthcoming soon.

The north part of the roof needs renovation to prevent water leaking through and deteriorating the floor still further, Councillor Atkinson was informed when he queried that aspect. The south half of the roof was reconstructed two years ago and it had been proposed to do the north side last year but the necessary expenditure was never voted.

LEGION OFFICIAL TO ADDRESS VETS HERE NEXT WEEK

R. T. Davidson, assistant to the executive secretary of provincial command, Canadian Legion, is coming to Summerland next Tuesday, May 2, to address a meeting of all veterans in Summerland district.

Mr. Davidson is not coming to give the veterans any set talk but his main purpose is to answer any and all queries regarding veterans' affairs in this district.

It is expected that he will deal mainly with operation of Legion branches and the policies laid down by provincial and Dominion commands, but he will also talk to veterans whether or not they have any affiliation with the Legion, on their particular or general problems.

Mr. Alan Calvert, local Legion secretary and zone commander, states that Mr. Davidson will probably be here most of the day next Tuesday so that veterans who wish private interviews may be accommodated.

Rotarians who visited the Oliver Rotary club on Monday evening included President J. McLachlan, Mr. James Muirhead, Mr. Francis Steuart, Mr. Harvey Wilson, Mr. Alan Cross and Mr. Reid Johnston.

Hon. Harry Bowman to Address W. I. South Okanagan Rally

Conference of South Okanagan Women's Institutes is to be held in the IOOF hall at West Summerland on Thursday, May 4, from 9:30 in the morning.

A number of distinguished guests are expected and will speak during the sessions.

Hon. Harry Bowman, minister of agriculture, under whose department the WI functions, will be present, as well as Mrs. J. H. East, provincial president of Women's Institutes, Mrs. A. Shaw, a director on the WI provincial board, will accompany Mrs. East, as well

Beautification Campaign Plan Set for May

Summerland council members on Tuesday enthused over the project planned by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce for the latter part of May when a Beautify Summerland campaign is to be waged.

Jaycee President Leslie Rumball waited on the council to explain details of the cleanup campaign and to enlist council support.

Two days in May, probably May 17 and 25, will be set aside for a garbage pickup everywhere in the municipality, Mr. Rumball proposed and he obtained the use of a municipal truck for two days for this purpose. Jaycees hope to have eight trucks and many members on the job, as well.

He reiterated the thought expressed at the last Jaycee meeting that the road to Fish Lake is a disgrace from the refuse dumped along the side.

He also suggested that if the council would co-operate Jaycees would probably cleanup the refuse dumped along Prairie Valley road en route to the refuse ground. "This is a creditable effort and we should help you," declared Reeve C. E. Bentley.

Mr. Rumball did not find complete agreement to his suggestion that the refuse ground should be kept open on Sundays. Jaycees had expressed themselves strongly on this subject, stating that a great many residents cannot take their garbage to the dump on Wednesdays and when they find the grounds closed on the weekend they just dump the refuse anywhere handy.

"Which is better?" queried Mr. Rumball "having the garbage spread around the town or paying a man for a time on Sundays?"

Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith interposed that present council policy of keeping the refuse ground open only on Wednesdays when dumping is supervised has meant that the nuisance ground is in better condition now than it has ever been... "because it is supervised".

Mr. Smith also intimated that council could not afford to pay for a man's services on a Sunday holiday.

"I appreciate those points but the people I've talked to say that Wednesday is not enough," replied Mr. Rumball.

However, the Jaycee president did not press this point but asked that some thought be given to opening the nuisance ground on Sundays during the May cleanup campaign, at least.

RED CROSS DRIVE STILL SHORT $400

Summerland Red Cross campaign has fallen short of its objective by about $400, Campaign Chairman Jack Dunsdon revealed today. To date, the campaign has raised $2,600 of the $3,000 objective, the first time that Summerland has fallen behind in the Red Cross drive.

If any person has not been canvassed by the volunteers who were assigned to the various districts they may leave their contributions with Mr. Dunsdon at the A. K. Elliott department store.

Council Meeting Tonight To Implement Vote on Domestic Water Bylaw

Summerland ratepayers gave an overwhelming vote in favor of the North Bench-Crescent Beach $27,000 domestic water extension bylaw at the polls last Saturday. Affirmative votes numbered 364, negative 87, with two rejected for a total of 453 votes.

This is considered an excellent turnout of possible voters for a money bylaw.

Council is meeting tonight to give consideration to the project, whether it will be undertaken by day labor under supervision of Water Foreman E. Kercher or let by contract. Majority of council favors day labor, it was indicated at Tuesday's council session.

W.A.C. Bennett Will Report on B.C. Legislature

W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South Okanagan, will report on the recently concluded session of the provincial legislature to the Summerland Board of Trade monthly meeting at the IOOF hall on Thursday, May 11, it was announced this week.

This meeting will be declared an "open" session to allow the general public an opportunity to hear Mr. Bennett give his report on the legislature. This has been done at the request of Mr. Bennett himself.

In Kelowna, a Coalition meeting was called last week to hear Mr. Bennett's report and he had intended to take similar action here but changed his mind when an official invitation from the Summerland Board of Trade was mailed to him.

Mr. Bennett was the "bad boy" of Coalition ranks in the legislature sessions just concluded. He provided more opposition to his own government than did the official opposition, the CCF, at times and it is generally understood that Mr. Bennett is not looked upon with any great amount of favor by Premier Byron Johnson, who has taken his criticism to heart at times.

It is believed the board of trade will hold its usual dinner meeting, conclude board business, and then throw the session open to the general public.

Rotary Undertakes Arthritis Drive In This District Starting Next Week

Summerland is being organized for the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society nation-wide drive for funds by the Rotary Club of Summerland with President Joe McLachlan as the official team captain for this district, it was agreed at last Friday's Rotary Club meeting.

Commencing May 1 the Canada-wide drive starts for the first time to raise funds to help control the two most terribly crippling diseases existing.

In the South Okanagan, H. K. Whitmore of Penticton is campaign chairman and has outlined the quotas for the various centres, as follows: Penticton $1,600, Naramata $75, Summerland $450, Kelowna and Okanagan Falls $135, Oliver $450, Osoyoos $180, Keremeos and Cawston $150; total, $3,010.

Practically all this money will be utilized right in the district to provide equipment and service for those in need.

"The most modern therapy and equipment is capable of educating the patient so that he can pretty well, in his own home, arrest the progress of either arthritis or rheumatism and remain fairly comfortable for work," observes Mr. Whitmore.

"The curms when they come hold our promise of more than that

GROWERS RECEIVE $19,000 FROM CO-OP

Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn. has issued cheques totalling nearly $19,000 to the grower members this week. Miss Bertha Bristol, co-op secretary, declined to state what the payment represented other than it was a "further distribution" to the co-op members. Actual amount of the cheques issued was $18,728.64.

Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith will attend the municipal officers' association annual conference in Victoria on June 1 and 2, Tuesday's council session decided.

with regard to certain types of the disease at present, but are not yet under control, and the cost is astronomical.

Campaign Objectives

"But, if each of the South Okanagan communities do their share the result in this area by early summer of this year will be as follows:

"Two rooms in the Penticton hospital will be furnished with the best modern equipment for treatment, as diagnosed by your doctor.

"A completely equipped mobile unit will be on hand to treat bed-ridden cases throughout the area.

"Both of these will be in charge of a trained physiotherapist.

"These services will be refused to no deserving person on account of lack of ability to pay, but you will realize that unless everyone who can pay the bill charged funds will quickly disappear, and the services must then cease.

"That is the clearest way in which we can put the financial side of the picture. There are the minimum quotas which could result in successful operation and they have been set for the communities with as near to complete fairness as we could devise, and with fairly full knowledge of present conditions in the whole area.

Ellison Hall Fate Still in Doubt

ALTHOUGH ratepayers turned down an expenditure of $3,500 on Ellison hall in last Saturday's referendum the ultimate fate of this community-owned hall has not been decided. It was unfortunate that Reeve Bentley and his council decided to ask the question they did last Saturday as the ultimate wishes of the citizens were not ascertained.

Last Saturday's negative vote only decided one thing: That the ratepayers, in this year of local financial stress, are not inclined to spend $3,500 of their money on improving this hall.

They were asked specifically if they wished to spend a certain sum of money out of this year's tax allotment. They said No and in their decision they echoed the program of economy which Reeve Bentley himself set for the municipality at the start of this year.

How much better would the referendum have been if it had been worded somewhat along this line: "Are you in favor of a program of improvement for Ellison hall, to protect the investment you already have in the building, and to provide in a few years a hall which will be worthy of the community and will be suitable for all public functions?"

If a referendum had been worded in this fashion and was approved, then the municipal council could have judged for itself how much of the taxpayers' money could be set aside for hall improvements this year without raising the tax rate and acted accordingly.

If such a referendum was turned down, then the council would have known that the public generally does not think spending any further money on the hall is justified.

Now, all the council knows is that the taxpayers do not want to spend $3,500 this year on Ellison hall.

Confidence in the Future

IT WAS refreshing to hear the result last Saturday of the money bylaw vote for the domestic water system extension to North Beach-Crescent Beach Districts.

It was stimulating to know that Mr. Taxpayer, who was delivered a body blow by the winter chills which wiped out his revenue from most soft fruits, has confidence in the future of the district and is prepared to finance needed improvements.

And there should be no doubt about the continued progress and prosperity of Summerland and the Okanagan Valley. Through loss of markets and a temporary setback due to the severe winter the Okanagan will face a mild, local depression.

For some the situation this year will be serious. For others it means a curtailment in the usual standard of living. For some others there will be no great difference in the "take home" pay.

But what we should bear in mind most of all is that the condition in the Okanagan is a temporary one and is local as far as the rest of Canada is concerned.

We quote the words of a man who should be in a position to judge the future better than most—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent—who said last week: Canada stands at the "beginning of another era of expansion and development."

As Canada progresses so will the Okanagan. We will have minor and local recessions but the Okanagan and Canada will continue to march ahead. We hope that our civic bodies will keep this point well fixed in their minds and look to the future rather than be content to mark time because of temporary conditions.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Spring must be in the air; I feel horribly lazy. According to the dictionary, that means 'slothful, indolent, disinclined to exertion,' a description which, my acquaintances claim, fits me to a T.

Or does it? It isn't that I really want to do nothing; it's just that I'd rather be outside "mucking about"—that delightfully apt English expression—in the garden than tapping the light fantastic on these tripewriter keys.

Isn't that the case with most people whom we call "lazy"? Actually, wanting to do nothing is not humanly normal; it's a symptom of something wrong. Either the person is undernourished, or he is tired from previous exertions, or he has some disease. Didn't scientists find that the so-called "lazy" poor whites of the southern states were actually undernourished and afflicted with—well, shall we say in need of a vermifuge?

Most "lazy" people don't want to do nothing, they just want to do something different from what you think they should.

Remember how often as a youngster you were branded with laziness when you were really just bustling with energy for interesting things like playing ball or making mud-pies or rambling for hours across country? All sound, healthy, muscle-building, lung-developing activities, too. Only your parents or older brethren and sisters wanted you to do something else for which you had no enthusiasm, so they called you lazy. Do you grown-ups who remember that make the same mistake with your own children?

It's been done for centuries. Probably every inventor of a new way of doing things was called "lazy" because he didn't want to do the same work that his ancestors and companions did. The first cave-man who worked out that great early invention of a bark or wooden vessel to carry water was probably bawled out by the other hairy-chested boys for being too lazy to walk down to the river every time he wanted to drink.

And his pal who fiddled around rubbing sticks together to see how hot they'd get was undoubtedly held up to scorn because he tried to duck out of the chores of watching the fire at night or hiking a few hundred miles to the nearest volcano for a new supply.

neighbors, he had harvested greater crops with less expense than any of them.

And I've known "lazy parents", who made their children look after themselves in place of wearing their heads to the bone caring for their every want, to produce a much more capable and self-reliant family of citizens than the hard-working mothers and fathers who called them names.

Am I defending laziness? Well, I'm not too sure, but I think so. For even doing absolutely nothing can be defended pretty solidly when you realize that a person who doesn't want to do anything is probably either so tired or so unwell that he needs rest. And by my definition laziness isn't doing nothing; it's doing what you want to do, even if it is unconventional.

If your wants are vicious or criminal, that is of course indefensible. But if all you want to do is take a day off from the kind of work that all your neighbors are busy at and go fishing, or let some committee meeting get along without you and spend an evening pottering about your rosebushes and chrysanthemums, I'm all for it.

You'll probably be so refreshed by that little bit of "laziness" that you'll end up getting even more work done than if you had stayed dutifully at it. And if you give your mind a holiday instead of driving it at full speed all the time, you can never tell when it will pop up with the inspiration for some new invention, some jet-propelled atomic mouse exterminator, perhaps, that will astonish the world.

APPRECIATES SUPPORT

Editor, The Review:

I think that I can safely say that I am writing you on behalf of the ratepayers on the North Beach and at Crescent Beach.

We appreciate the splendid two recent editorials recommending the passing of the North Beach-Crescent Beach Domestic Water By-law, which the Ratepayers passed on Saturday last, by a large majority.

Your paper has always taken a keen part in any advancement of our community and same, I am sure, is appreciated by the citizens of this Municipality.

Yours very truly,
REID A. JOHNSTON.

Fruit Industry to Process Cherries

Equipment for brining, pitting and grading of cherries has been purchased at the request of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. for installation in B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd. plant at Kelowna, the BCFGA executive session heard last week.

A. K. Loyd, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. manager, stated this equipment is necessary if the cherry growers are to be assured of a processing market. While there may not be a normal crop of cherries this year, an allocation will be made to the processors who now require that the cherries be pitted and graded.

(Pitting and grading of cherries prior to finishing them is carried on by Sunoka Fruit Products Ltd. plant here in Summerland.)

If pitted and graded cherries were not provided, processors might seek supplies in other quarters, it was stated to the BCFGA executive.

Great Capacity of Baptist Leader Shown by Publisher

Dr. Oscar Johnson, president of the Baptist World Alliance, hails from St. Louis, Mo., and is credited as one of the finest speakers in Baptist church work on this continent. He speaks to a public meeting here on May 10. In the Baptist Student of April this year, Dr. Frank H. Leavell, publisher, had this to say about Dr. Johnson:

"To get an immediate impression of the capacity and versatility of the man, consider some of the positions he holds at present. He is pastor of the great Third Baptist church in St. Louis, Mo., with over 6,000 members; a trustee of the Missouri Baptist Hospital; a member of the board of governors for the Kiwanis Club of his city; a trustee of the Good-Will Industries in St. Louis, of the Anti-Saloon league, and of three colleges. He serves on the executive board of the Metropolitan Council of Churches in St. Louis, is president of the St. Louis board of education and of the Baptist World Alliance.

"In recent years he has served as president of the Northern Baptist convention, and vice-president of the Southern Baptist convention. As a money-raiser, he was chairman of the Northern Baptist committee which raised $16,000,000 for world needs, and is now chairman of a committee to raise quarter of a million dollars for a Mission school in Chicago; also chairman of a committee to raise funds to complete the chapel at the Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville. But the rest of his time he spends as he pleases!

"Dr. Johnson was born at a small town called Cole Creek in east Tennessee, the present site of the great Norris Dam. His wife is also a native of Tennessee; one son is pastor of the First Baptist church, Sacramento, California, and the other is a practising physician in Missouri. Their one daughter, Ruth, lives at home and works in the Third Baptist church.

"When Dr. Johnson was elected president of the Baptist World Alliance, every member of the Executive Committee felt a surge of fresh hopefulness as soon as he took the chair. His first suggestion was immediately adopted, although it was a radical change from the old order of things. Dr. Johnson suggested that, due to the world's great need, instead of waiting five years to hold the next Congress, it be held in 1950, only three years ahead. It was done!

"Dr. Townley Lord, gifted leader of British Baptist and Editor of The Baptist Times, wrote thus: 'What a master of assemblies he is! He has a great fund of stories which always, when the laughter has subsided, leave a serious thought in the mind. . . . He had been travelling across war-scarred Europe, and his experiences had brought tears to his eyes and strength to his mind. "I know," he declared, and his powerful voice carried his conviction to the hearts of all, "I know the devastation of many lands. But I know the grace of God and the power of the Gospel which alone can bring to those lands the peace and happiness for which they yearn."

"Asked about his conception of the Baptist World Alliance, Dr. Johnson replied: 'It is a spiritual clearing-house for the Baptists of the world. . . . It is our greatest impact upon the peoples and religions of the world. . . . In the pre-

A sterling silver, gold plated mace, British Columbia's token to Newfoundland in commemoration of her entry into confederation, was presented to the Newfoundland legislature in St. Johns on Wednesday, April 5, by Hon. Herbert Anson, minister of finance and acting premier.

Accompanying the presentation was an illuminated formal address which was delivered by Mr. Anson on the floor of the legislature. This address will be kept in the Newfoundland archives and a copy of it in the British Columbia archives.

The mace is made of British Columbia precious metals and designed and fashioned by British Columbia craftsmen of Henry Birks & Co. of Vancouver.

In the accompanying picture, Premier Byron Johnson and Mr. Anson are shown viewing the mace in the legislative rotunda just before it was expressed to St. Johns for presentation.

High School COMMENTS

If all goes as planned the "Summerland Bluebirds" volleyball team will leave today for Haney to take part in the B.C. invitation tournament. One team of six plus Mr. W. H. Durick, the boys' coach will make the trip. One of the boys of the original team, David Wright, will be unable to make the journey. John Huva will replace him. Good luck boys.

Speaking of luck—we had two winners in contests in our school last week. Johnny Palmer won a speaker's contest sponsored by the Knights of Pythias. Eight speakers took part in this contest at Penticton last Wednesday night. Word also reached us that Margaret Myers received a small cash prize for her essay in the cancer essay contest for B.C.

The staff of our school paper, the CHAFF, have announced that the spring edition will be out tomorrow. Price is 20c per copy. Boys are warming up for baseball. Wally Day warmed up too much, with results, one swollen and cut lip.

Fun was had by all at the dance on Saturday night. We would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott for attending. By the way, adults are welcome at any Teen Town event. The ping pong table proved to be a great success, and we hope to have another one in the near future. Before we know it we'll be turning out professional players.

There will be a club night this Saturday from 8:00 to 11:00 p.m., at the Youth Centre. There will be films (for sure) for the first hour, followed by dancing and games, which will conclude the evening. For refreshments there will be gum, chocolate bars and pop. The admission is 10c if you have your membership card and 25c if you haven't.

Guide-Brownie Mother and Daughter Banquet Greeted Enthusiastically

The inauguration of the annual Brownie and Guide mother and daughter banquet took place on Friday, April 21, at the Youth Centre.

About 200 Brownies and Guides with their guests sat down to prettily-decorated tables with miniature Brownies and Guides dressed in crepe paper uniforms placed at intervals as centrepieces. The headtable was especially attractive with a low rectangular vase partially filled with buttercups and an ornamental toadstool symbolic of the Brownie Fairy Ring. Low vases of buttercups and lily bells which the Guides had gathered for the occasion were scattered along the other tables.

Mrs. F. V. Harrison who resigned as division commissioner last September was official hostess for the local association who arranged the banquet, with Mrs. E. A. Titchmarsh, Penticton, division commissioner and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, district commissioner assisting.

Other Guiders present were Capt. Mrs. K. McIntosh and Guiders Miss Gwen Atkinson, Mrs. D. Blagborne, Mrs. B. T. Blagborne and Mrs. R. Huva, and Brown Owls Mrs. L. Mallett and Mrs. R. Lawley. Other members of the Guide movement present included Miss Phyllis Hill, Miss Elizabeth Theed, Mrs. L. Perry and Mrs. K. M. Steuart.

In her opening speech, Mrs. Harrison expressed gratitude to the many people who had helped the Guides and Brownies; to the Odd-fellows' lodge for the piano donated to the Youth Centre; to Mrs. H. Pares and Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, Guide leaders of former years; and to Mrs. Hugh Sharman, a patroness of local Guides.

Appreciation was given as well to Mrs. Lorne Perry for her work with the 1st Summerland Brownie pack and to Miss Phyllis Hill for her help with the Summerland Guide company, who hopes to continue this work with a Penticton company where she resides now.

Thanks were extended to the Guiders now active with the two Brownie packs and the Guide company, and to the mothers of the girls without whose co-operation the banquet would not have been possible.

The toast to the Guide mothers was given by Company Leader Jane Woolliams, with the reply made by Mrs. Frank Daniels who has no less than three Guides in the company.

The toast to Brownie mothers was given by little Eileen Wilcox who was one of the first two Brownies to be awarded the Golden Hand badge. This toast was responded to by Mrs. W. Durick.

Mrs. Sharman proposed a toast to HRH Princess Elizabeth, patroness of the Guide movement in Great Britain, upon whose birthday the banquet took place.

Division Commissioner Mrs. E. A. Titchmarsh was introduced then and after complimenting Summerland on its spacious Youth Centre gave the younger members of those present an impromptu talk.

Mrs. Titchmarsh mentioned that the South Okanagan district now boasted a total of 221 companies and packs in comparison with six only five years ago.

History of B.C. Guiding dates back to 1908, she said, when seven girls in Vancouver upon hearing of formation of Guides in Great Britain banded together with the parents of one of the girls as Guiders. The girl whose parents acted as leaders is now Mrs. Don Munday who is so well known in B.C. Guiding circles.

"There is something in the movement that satisfies the needs of every Guide and Brownie and holds us when we are no longer able to participate in Guide work," said Mrs. Titchmarsh. Two slogans were then suggested to the Guides and Brownies to bear in mind, Guiding Strives High, and one that Mrs. Titchmarsh heard at the provincial council meeting held recently at Vancouver, "Forty Years in Review—Tomorrow is up to you".

Mrs. Harrison then introduced Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, newly appointed district commissioner, and thanked her for her work as first president of the local association, which is made up of a hard-working group of ladies who do so much to help the Guides and Brownies in their activities and who were responsible for the banquet itself.

Mrs. Vanderburgh gave an appreciation of Mrs. Harrison's work in increasing the activity of Guiding in the South Okanagan, and in organizing the South Okanagan division. She likened Mrs. Harrison's hobby of gardening to that of her Guide work in which she sowed seeds throughout the Okanagan, the fruits of which are being borne now.

The latter part of the enjoyable evening was devoted to displays of work and play put on by Guides and Brownies.

Prior to this the two Brown Owls and the Guide Captain gave splendid resumes on the progress of their respective groups during the past two years and then introduced the entertainment.

The Brownies gave an exhibition of First Aid and looked very small but official in their Red Cross caps and aprons. A second party sent a message in semaphore reading "Are We Brownies? We Are Brownies."

A patrol of the Guide company did an amusing skit, and six other Guides did some tumbling taught them by Mr. W. Schwab.

The supper was planned under the local association whose capable president is Mrs. Dewey Sanborn. Conveners for the supper were Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon and Mrs. Leslie Rumball, with Mrs. F. E. Atkinson responsible for the outstanding table decorations.

The Singing Heart To be Heard Here

Carl Westphal, author and musician, will be featured at the Christian Youth Rally to be held at Ellison hall on Tuesday, May 2.

A musician, Mr. Westphal plays a unique collection of instruments. One of the most interesting of these is called The Singing Heart. It is a large instrument encased in a golden heart. It has no reeds, pipes, keys, nor strings and is played without being touched, it is claimed. It has been played in Carnegie Hall by its inventor Dr. Leon Theremin, and was once his personal instrument.

Mr. Westphal, a buck private in World War I was an army chaplain in the last war. While in Europe he collected the so-called Waterloo Battle Bells. These he gathered from the battlefield of old Waterloo and ground into accurate tones. He will play these bells, too.

The visitor is a favorite with children and young people and has played his instruments in nearly every state in America. This is his first trip to British Columbia.

Occupancy of the hospital has slumped recently and on one occasion only twelve beds were occupied.

Summerland Man Exchanges Vows At St. Theresa's Church, Rutland

KELOWNA—A charming early spring wedding of wide interest in the South Okanagan took place on Wednesday afternoon, April 12, in St. Theresa's Church, Rutland, when Rev. A. L. DeLestre united in marriage Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Dihaniss, Hollywood district, and Ignace, son of Mr. George Szing and the late Mrs. Szing of West Summerland.

Daffodils and fresh spring blooms formed a scented backdrop for the charming early afternoon ceremony at which the bride was given away by her father.

Attendants included Miss Elizabeth Kantz as maid-of-honor, and Ann Dihanits, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. Tiny godchild of the bride Marlene Malen, was flower girl.

Supporting the groom as best man was Frank Kantz, while Andy Stefanik ushered the guests. Miss B. Bachman was soloist.

A reception for over 200 guests was held at the Rutland Community hall following the ceremony, at which Mrs. Dihanits and Mrs. Szing, stepmother of the groom, assisted the young couple in receiving the guests. Mrs. Dihanits was gowned in blue crepe also accented by pink accessories for the occasion.

Father DeLestre toasted the bride.

Centre of attention at the gala occasion was the bride's table which was decorated with pink and white streamers centred by a three-tiered wedding cake.

For their honeymoon trip motoring to points in the United States, the bride donned a green gaudine suit topped by a fawn grey coat. Her ensemble was highlighted by her going-away corsage of pink carnations and lily-of-the-valley.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Ignace Szing will take up residence in the Hollywood district.

Travelling from many points in the province to witness the lovely early spring ceremony, out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Gludovits, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lipkovits, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fritz, and Mr. Steve Zakall, all of Oliver; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Cochlich, Mr. and Mrs. F. Lauer, and Mr. J. Dawes, of West Summerland; Mr. and Mrs. Wittner and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Youngblut, of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. S. Butula, of Myra; and Mr. and Mrs. M. Malen, of Vernon. Another out-of-town guest included Mr. M. E. Boby.

Men Fashion Boxes And Contents for Lutheran Box Social

Something different in the way of box socials was featured at the one held Friday evening, April 21, in the basement of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kopp, and sponsored by the Christ Lutheran Ladies' Aid.

This time the men made the boxes and filled them, and they were bought by the ladies. Many of the boxes were made of wood in all sorts of original and unique designs, such as houses, a cradle, tool box, hat box, crib, frigidaire, and even a bird cage. Whether the contents measured up to the exterior was decided by the ladies who bought the boxes.

There were eighty-five present, thirty-one of whom drove up from Oliver for the occasion. The Oliver visitors brought boxes, too, decorated with flowers though not so elaborate as the local ones.

Mr. Elmer Harbicht, Mr. Fred Schmidt and Mr. J. Heichert arranged games and refreshments were conveyed by Mr. W. Kopp and Mr. J. Felker with a little help from a few sympathetic ladies.

Rev. Mr. Vorath attended from Kelowna, and Rev. Mr. Lang was present from Oliver.

Money realized from the social will be used to buy books for the newly-formed choir.

Celebrate Thirtieth Wedding Anniversary

Celebrating their thirtieth wedding anniversary on Monday evening, April 24, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith entertained a number of people who had formerly lived at Flin Flon.

A happy social evening was spent, and a prettily decorated cake was a feature of the refreshments. Mrs. Smith was assisted in serving by her daughter, Bernice.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Croft, Mr. and Mrs. Colin Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eyre, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wade, Mr. Colin Mann, Mr. Dave McLean, and Mr. John Croft.

United Moderator Federation Speaker

An unexpected pleasure for the members of the Women's Federation, St. Andrew's United church, was the visit and talk given by Right Rev. W. Brewing, B.D., D.D., moderator of all the United churches of Canada, when he addressed the meeting on Wednesday afternoon, April 19, Dr. Brewing told the society that he is a life member of the Women's Missionary Society.

The eminent minister has been on a tour of Canada from his home in the Maritimes and the day before was an honored guest at the closing exercises of the Naramata Leadership Training School.

NINE FAMILY MEMBERS MEET IN VANCOUVER

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McNutt and Mrs. Jack Smith and her son Sherrill, drove to Vancouver last weekend.

The McNutts went to Vancouver to attend a re-union of Mr. McNutt's brothers and sisters, some of whom he had not seen for many years. A sister came from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and four brothers flew up from California with the celebration taking place at the home of another sister, Mrs. J. K. Melvin, 2090 Nelson St., Burnaby.

There were nine of the family present. The other sister lives in New Zealand.

THE GREATEST BONUS SYSTEM EVER DEVELOPED

In 1910, forty years ago, Monday morning meant the beginning of a 58-hour work week for every working man.

But over the years—as workers, business and manufacturing methods became more efficient it took less and less working time to produce goods of all kinds.

The result is that today the average work week has been cut to 40 hours in B.C. The saving—18 hours, or better than two working days, has been passed on to the man himself to use for leisure time.

But that's not the whole story. Back in 1910 the average household earned about $950 (in 1950 dollars) for its year's work. Today, for a lot less work, it earns $2,100. That's just the same as being paid to stay away from work for over 2 days per week.

THAT'S OUR ECONOMIC SYSTEM AT WORK. This system has some faults—such as ups and downs in prices and jobs. And everybody in this country, except a small group of would-be reformers, is working to correct them.

But just remember this: If we want to earn still more money—if we want to work still shorter hours—the only way to do it is to make this system, which has already proved itself, work even BETTER. And that means that every man, every business, every machine has got to produce more and more for every hour they work—just as they have been doing since 1910. And if they do, the gains can be shared by everyone.

All of us in this country WANT the system to work better. And if all of us work together—you can be sure it will.

THE BETTER WE PRODUCE THE BETTER WE LIVE.

Federation Goes On Imaginary World Cruise

Perhaps the members of the Women's Federation were never on a world cruise before. Certainly the one which they enjoyed while attending their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon, April 20, was different from any other.

Mrs. S. A. MacDonald and the CGIT girls took them on The Good Ship Federation in imagination visiting eleven of the United church missionary centres. The girls acted as stewards.

In preparation for the journey, Mrs. Duguid read from the gospel of St. Luke. As soon as the passengers were aboard everyone sang "Will Your Anchor Hold?" with Mrs. L. Fudge as soloist of the first verse.

Then the tickets were collected by Muriel Weitzel and Muriel Coty, with the thank-offering envelopes making excellent tickets.

The chief steward, Arlene Raincock, announced each port of call, the first of which was the islands of the New Hebrides.

Joan Hong told the meeting how the first missionaries there destroyed cannibalism.

Helen Price discussed the mission station at Chang Chow, China, which trains girls from two to twelve years for high school and on to university.

In Bombay there is a fine mission hospital and in central India many Canadian leaders are doing medical work. Louise Gale told of these fields as well as Mrs. MacDonald, who gave some detail at each supposed port.

An imaginary storm arose and while waiting for calmer seas a quartette composed of Mrs. W. Boothe, Mrs. A. Walden, Mrs. Mair and Mrs. H. V. Stent sang "Master The Tempest Is Raging", with Mrs. H. R. Whitmore singing solo parts.

The next sailing took the members to Angola, Africa, and the commentary was of the silly superstitions of burning good pasture lands. Here missionaries are teaching soil conservation.

Mitchiko Kawasaki spoke next of home mission work at Montreal. The ship was homeward bound through Melody Bay near Vancouver where Mrs. Jean Armour and Mrs. Fred Downes sang "Drifting", as a duet.

Before the ship docked Mrs. A. McKenzie led in prayer to the Master of the Waves, and to end the unusual voyage all on board sang "In Christ There Is No East Nor West".

A short business meeting preceded the trip when the capable president, Mrs. W. Boothe thanked all those who helped to make the Easter bazaar a success.

Tea consisted of sea food sandwiches and life-preservers (doughnuts).

VISITING HERE—

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walton of Mission, B.C., were in Summerland this week to attend the funeral of the former's grandmother, the late Mrs. E. Walton.

Mr. C. Ellergodt of Kamloops, electric meter inspector for the Okanagan, was a visitor last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Brawner. He is inspecting meters this week in Penticton.

Miss E. Nordlund, of Victoria, hospital consultant for the B.C. hospital insurance service, and assistant inspector of hospitals, visited Summerland hospital last Friday afternoon. Miss Nordlund was formerly the matron of Salmon Arm hospital, and was at Williams Lake. It was at the latter place that she knew Mr. and Mrs. James Muirhead-whom she called upon while in Summerland and whom she has visited on several previous inspection trips.

Miss Phyllis Hill, former manager of the Okanagan Telephone Company's office at West Summerland, and who is now in Penticton at the telephone office there, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White, and attended the mother and daughter banquet held by the local Guide association on Friday evening.

VISITING ABROAD

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rumball, with Mrs. Rumball's mother, Mrs. E. Mann were on a motor trip to Vancouver and enjoyed their newest granddaughter, the small child of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rumball.

Mr. James Aitken, experimental station, spent last weekend at Vancouver on a short holiday visiting his daughters.

Mr. A. Lamacraft went out to Vancouver on Sunday evening's train to be a patient in Shaughnessy Military hospital.

Mr. A. J. Mann spent several days at the beginning of this week in and around Vernon where he was examining fruit trees regarding possible frost damage to trees and blossom.

Miss Thelma Cork, RN, will go to Vancouver for a visit on Friday evening.

Lieut. J. Butterfield Married at Kingston

The marriage of Lieut. James Butterfield, RCN, and Miss Sybil Elizabeth Agnew, daughter of Brig. and Mrs. D. R. Agnew took place at St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, Ontario, on Saturday afternoon, April 15, with a reception following at the Royal Military College, Kingston.

Mr. Butterfield will be remembered in Summerland as the eldest son of the late "Jim" Butterfield and his wife Mrs. Virginia Butterfield who made their home at Summerland some years ago.

CATER TO SPEAKERS' CLUB

Members of the LOBA catered for the delicious supper served to the annual meeting of the Speakers' Club on Tuesday, April 18, in the IOOF hall. Tables were brightly decorated with geranium flowers in gayly colored containers, and dinner featured turkey, and for dessert special home-made cakes.

Business Can be Competitive but on Friendly Basis Says Roy Wellwood

Competitor Relations proved an interesting subject propounded to the Rotary Club of Summerland at the Nu-Way Annex last Friday evening by Roy Wellwood, president of the Summerland Retail Merchants' Association.

Mr. Wellwood stressed the need for a high ethical standard in business, that in business friends must be made but a businessman should never use friendship as a means of promoting business.

Service to humanity is the basis of every business, he pointed out, as although there is a monetary return the business must give service to get rewards for the labor expended.

"As a businessman you must get to know your competitor; you must make friends with him, but not to the point of price fixing," he warned.

He advocated exchanging ideas so that businesses can provide a greater service to the community. Competition fosters freedom and practical returns, he emphasized, but the competition should be of a high standard.

Mr. Wellwood then stressed a number of weaknesses in business practices, some of which have been observed in local business dealings.

He took a poor view of the merchant who takes a product belonging to another dealer and uses it as a calling card or loss leader, thus "cutting his competitor's throat".

The businessman who, to get extra business, poses as a retailer most of the time but also deals as a wholesaler came under Mr. Wellwood's list of the businessmen a community can do without.

Honest Advertising Misleading advertising came in for much consideration, as Mr. Wellwood considered advertising can be a great boon to educate the consumer intelligently but it can also be used to wage war on competitors and to imitate brand names.

"Advertising, to be most effective, must be honest and give a service to the public," he insisted.

Loss leaders, as such, only mean that the manufacturer and the laborer lose in the long run, he thought, while many businesses which use loss leaders boost prices on other articles to compensate.

"There is no reason why every business shouldn't have as high a standard of business ethics as the medical profession," he considered.

Before closing he spoke in favor of the Summerland Retail Merchants' Association which, he felt, had solved a number of mutual problems for the retailers and had been of service to the community.

Summerland defeated Peachland 17-11 in checkers the former team being composed of T. B. Young, McMillan, Beattie, Harding, Atkins, S. B. Snider, William Ritchie, McCutcheon, Beer.

Summerland's hospital is to have a memorial wing known as the Marsden Van Allen Memorial. For the erection of this wing Mrs. Van Allen, mother of Summerland's late citizen, Lieut. Van Allen who was killed with the Royal Air Force in Belgium, is donating the handsome sum of $10,000. Rate-payers will be asked to provide $15,000 toward the building and furnishing of the balance of the new hospital building. A grant of $5,000 is expected from the province.

Several new buildings are being erected at the experimental station, the largest being the boarding-house. The foreman's house, a herdsman's cottage, an assistant superintendent's house are also being erected. Plans call for a new superintendent's home, an eight-sided building with kitchen facilities for the public's use, a large horse stable and other small buildings.

E. R. Simpson has written the board of trade seeking discussion on taxing improvements or assessing trees for taxation purposes in order to increase municipal revenue through taxation without raising the mill rate too high.

J. C. Arkell has been appointed municipal constable and sanitary inspector.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rumball have returned from spending the winter at Bowden, Alta, and are moving into the Walton house on Jones Flat.

H. W. Seeley, formerly of Victoria, has taken charge of the gardens at the experimental station.

"As far as western Canada is concerned the day of the Ontario apple in competition with the product of B.C. is just about finished," is the statement of Dudley Dingle, head of a large western wholesale fruit firm.

NOTES from PARLIAMENT HILL

(By O. L. JONES, MP for Yale)

Many members took advantage of the Easter recess to visit their constituencies. Others like myself took advantage of the occasion to visit the eastern part of our Dominion and the United States, Mr. Alastair Stewart, M.P., and myself visiting New York.

We attended a session at Lake Success (U.N.) during our presence there. The question of appointing a referee to solve the outstanding problem between Pakistan and India and particular supervision of the plebiscite was discussed. The meeting was a most interesting one, ably conducted by the Egyptian chairman. We listened to speeches by the U.S., Yugoslavia, Norwegian and other delegates on the point at issue. The appointment was made with only two nations abstaining from voting.

The assembly hall in which the meetings were held was filled with students and their teachers and I regret that the distance to Lake Success from B.C. is so great that it does not allow for our students to have the same privilege as those who are in the vicinity of New York and eastern Canada.

I have received several telegrams and letters from Legion branches requesting my support to a resolution placed on the order paper by Mr. Goode. It has to do with an increase of the basic pension for veterans as well as extending the benefits of the pension to widows of Imperial veterans who now live in Canada.

I am in full sympathy with this resolution but it being a private member's resolution it may or may not be brought before the house, depending entirely on the policy of the government in allowing sufficient time for private members bills, in the present session.

However, it does have one good effect, that publicity is directed towards the plight of these veterans and widows.

This week a resolution passed the House merely asking the government to consider a distinctive national flag for Canada. There was very little discussion and practically unanimous support for the idea. The only difficulty seems to be in deciding the design of such a proposed flag but the need for a distinctive Canadian flag was generally accepted.

The controversial pipeline bills eventually passed second reading and will now be submitted to the parliamentary committee for consideration.

A private motion dealing with medals and decorations was carried. This motion will allow the government to give certain medals for distinguished service in Canada and also to bestow medals on people of a foreign race who have contributed to the welfare of the world in general. It would place Canada in the same position as other foreign nations that have bestowed honors upon Canadians for work done on behalf of their nationals.

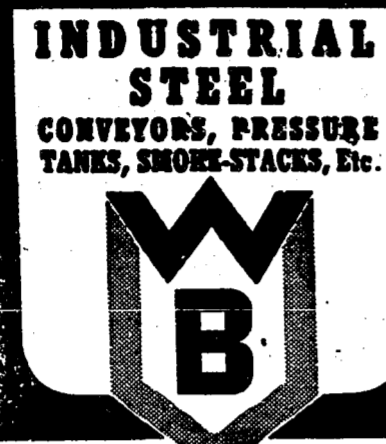

Angus McInnis, Vancouver East, moved a resolution to the following effect:

That in the opinion of this house, the government should consider the advisability of seeking the co-operation of the provinces for the purpose of formulating a program of social security that will be national in scope, adequate in its provisions, and that will cover all the people of Canada in every circumstance where the individual or the family is, for reasons beyond their control, deprived of earning a living.

Mr. Martin, minister of national health and welfare could not see his way clear to allow this resolution to pass as he felt that Canada already has the finest social security system in the world. Mr. Coldwell brought up the question of price control and spoke along the lines that controls should be reimposed where the cost to the consumer of a given product has gone completely out of line with the general cost of living, in the incidence of such things as coffee, pepper, etc., and ended up by moving an amendment:

"This house regrets the failure of the government to implement the promise of the Liberal party which was given to the people of Canada in August, 1938, to reimpose selective price control for the protection of the consumer in any field where prices prove to be unreasonable."

Immediately following Mr. Coldwell was Mr. James Sinclair, parliamentary assistance to the minister of finance, who very ably placed the government's point of view before the house giving the official reasons why the government is anxious to abolish all controls and get back to the status quo of free enterprise.

May I express my pleasure at the splendid teamwork that prevailed between members of all the apple growers of the interior of British Columbia. This teamwork fighting in the interests of work has worked very well in the interest of the grower and every representative has in his way done his best to reach satisfactory conclusion to our presentation on be-

WILL BE ON EXECUTIVE OF B.C. TEACHERS

As president of the Okanagan teachers' association, a group which takes in schools from Revelstoke south to Osoyoos and west to Princeton, W. Clarke Wilkin of the Summerland high school will take his place on the B.C. Teachers' Federation executive following the annual convention in Vancouver during the Easter holidays.

ified that it was this teamwork, combined with the excellent record borne by the British Columbia Tree Fruits Limited that brought the result that you already know of.

Tight Contest For Position In Rotary Club

Reid Johnston was named vice-president of the Rotary Club of Summerland at last Friday's annual club election held in the Nu-Way Annex but the decision was not reached until two tie votes had been recorded and a coin flipped twice.

On the first ballot Harvey Wilson was eliminated but Mr. Johnston and S. A. MacDonald were tied for the lead. On the second count, these two contestants were tied again. It was decided to settle the contest by tossing a coin. In a two-out-of-three toss Reid Johnston was lucky on the first two spins.

His defeated contestant was named, along with James Muirhead and C. J. Blesdale as club directors. Ken Boothe was selected as sergeant-at-arms.

Offices of president and secretary-treasurer went by acclamation, Francis Steuart being the president-elect for 1950-51 and Mr. Roy Angus continuing as secretary in the post he has held for the past two years.

Fruit Shippers Plan Annual Tournament

Representatives of packinghouses throughout the Okanagan, along with many persons from business houses in the province who deal directly with the fruit industry will gather in Penticton on May 15 and 16 for the 20th annual fruit shippers' golf tournament.

A committee from the Penticton packinghouses is busy working on details of the tournament and those intending to be present are asked to make early hotel reservations.

This committee consists of Clem Batty, Geoff Carlinge, Alex Grant and Frank McDonald. J. R. Jordan is receiving entry forms and J. W. (Pete) Watson is handling reservations.

tary-treasurer went by acclamation, Francis Steuart being the president-elect for 1950-51 and Mr. Roy Angus continuing as secretary in the post he has held for the past two years.

"Iolanthe" to be Presented to Three Sell-out Audiences Next Week

After months of preparation, the Summerland Singers & Players club, Gilbert and Sullivan spring presentation "Iolanthe" is in readiness, to be presented to packed audiences in Penticton. Summerland and Oliver next week.

This comic opera first appears at Penticton on Tuesday, May 2 and next at Ellison hall, Summerland, on Thursday, May 4. The Oliver showing is on Saturday, May 6.

First produced at the Savoy in 1882, Iolanthe was accepted as the outstanding example of the wit of Gilbert and the wonderful music of Sullivan.

Iolanthe was the life and soul of Fairyland but had married a mortal and had a son Strephon who was fairly down to the waist but whose legs were mortal. Strephon plans to marry the beautiful Phyllis, a ward in chancery but the Lord Chancellor is actually in love with his ward and he holds court, forbidding the marriage. And so goes the story, but with a happy ending.

Macleod in Lead Role

A. K. Macleod's interpretation of the amorous old Lord Chancellor is reported to be "screamingly funny". Strephon is played by Tom Moore, who gives every indication of being a valuable addition to musical circles here.

Two others new to Summerland audiences will be Jack Rorke and Ronald Hodgson. The veteran singers' section soloist H. C. Howls is in good voice again as Private Willis of the Grenadier Guards.

The chorus of peers is a strong one and includes the majority of better-known local singers, gorgeously clad and very much at home with this beautiful music.

Again one of the outstanding performers is Ethel McNeill, who takes the part of Phyllis, for which her well-trained voice and charming stage presence fit her admirably. Another member borrowed from Penticton is Patricia Hanlon, a commanding Queen of the Fairies, who also has an excellent voice.

Says Business Manager Jack Barkwill: "No Gilbert & Sullivan here would, of course, be complete without Alma Fudge and in the name part of Iolanthe she is at her best."

Other principals are Flore Bergstrom, Margaret Millward and Joan McKenzie. The chorus of fairies is better than usual, all very charming, graceful and well-trained.

Another important part of the production is the orchestra, with local musicians supplemented by the Penticton Orchestral Society, under the able direction of W. A. (Bud) Steuart with Isabel Dunham, ATOM, as pianist.

The whole production is a personal triumph for Stan Gladwell who, in addition to carrying out the exacting duties of stage manager has also designed and erected the beautiful stage scenery.

It had been hoped to give two performances here but this was found impossible. Advance ticket sales at Green's Drug Store indicate a capacity audience and it is expected the SRO sign will be hung on Ellison hall next Thursday evening.

Bill Evans Bolsters Merchants For Opening of Ball Season

Return of Bill Evans to the baseball fold has brightened prospects of Summerland Merchants' baseball club considerably as the opening contest against Oliver in the Okanagan International Baseball league is due to swing into action next Sunday at the cantaloupe centre.

Al Coffey and Evans will handle pitching duties while later in the season Jackie Walsh is expected to return following his recent appendectomy. Jack Amm was expected home in time for next Sunday's game but latest word is he cannot make the opener but will be available for the second game which sees Brewster showing here.

In the outer garden, Babe Kuroda is back in his favorite spot in left field while old reliable George Taylor will be scampering around the centre plot. Right field is still wide open.

Yesterday morning Manager Ben Trafford intimated he will probably try Don Nesbitt in that spot, with Wendel Schwab ready to take over if Nesbitt fails to fill the bill. Schwab is a useful utility man. Frank Metcalfe, flaming red-haired catcher, is expected to provide plenty of pep as the new backstop. A former Salmon Arm district man, he is now working in Summerland and is eager to get the feel of the horsehide.

The infield on Sunday will comprise one of the youngest group of players in the league. John Vanderburgh will be holding down first base again, while Fred Kato is a newcomer to second base. Wally Day will be at short while Jack Dunham is expected to be filling out third base. Juniors Advance

Kato and Dunham are two stand-out Red Sox players who can play three senior league games as a try-out without jeopardizing their chances of continuing play in the junior league if they cannot make the grade. These lads are eager to play and the Merchants this year are fielding one of the keenest teams in years. They started to get the muscles in shape by workouts in the gym while the snow still lay on the ground and have had more intensive practices than most teams in the Okanagan.

However, Ben Trafford would heave a big sigh if another good, strong pitching prospect hove in to sight right about now. Return of Evans is going to be a big help but having been out of ball for a year it will take some time for him to get into shape and the competition in this international league will be much stronger than Evans has faced in the past. Return of Jack Amm next week and Chuck Brawner by mid-May will bolster the team considerably.

Art Dunsdon New Prexy of Rifle Club

Another spring and summer-sports group has organized for the 1950 season and is looking forward to an active year with increased interest and membership.

Art Dunsdon was chosen president of the Summerland Rifle club when the annual meeting was held in the Parish hall on Tuesday, April 18, succeeding Phil Dunsdon, who dropped down to the vice-presidency for this year.

Harry (Pop) Dunsdon continues as honorary president while Bert Simpson is secretary-treasurer. An executive of Jack Dunsdon, Dave Taylor and Len Shannon was appointed. Continuing a pleasant practice, two honorary life memberships were presented at the annual meeting to two faithful followers of the club, Findlay Munro and George Loomer.

First work party of the season will be held at the Garnet Valley range on Sunday, April 30.

President Pruden "On the Spot" in Important Match

Will President Howard Pruden be able to defeat Vice-President Miss Marjorie Fenwick?

That is a question which is creating a good deal of interest in local golf club circles as the pairings have been announced in the annual president versus vice-president team play.

The draw, match play only, must be concluded by May 7 and the losing team pays for the supper. Either nine or eighteen holes may be played by agreement between the two persons involved.

Another interesting tussle is expected to ensue between Chuck Bleasdale and George Henry. The question in this match is whether Bleasdale will be able to repeat his one-over-par performance on the opening day of the season.

It is reported in reliable circles that Miss Fenwick is showing remarkable skill on the course and golfers are wagering on the side as to the possibility of the vice-president beating the male president.

Big Brown Bear Wonders About Golfers

Local golfers have been getting some added thrills and wild life mixed into their favorite pastime.

On Sunday afternoon, as several of the forty-odd players who toured the course were approaching the sixth tee, a large brown bear was observed across Trout Creek. The animal came right into the open and stood watching those "funny" humans with their sticks chasing the little white balls.

The two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mitchell scrambled down the steep canyon side and scouted the bear, eventually putting it up a tree.

More sedate and cautious oldsters, however, were quite content to see Mr. Bruin from their side of the canyon and were quite glad that the canyon is as steep as it is at that point.

Trap Club Men At Oliver Shoot

A number of Summerland Trap club members and their wives went to Oliver last Sunday to participate in that club's ham shoot which opened the season in the South Okanagan. Among those who went from Summerland were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. (Sandy) Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw, Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Day, Mr. and Mrs. George Stoll and Mr. Bill Nelson.

ATTENDS FISH AND GAME CONVENTION AT COAST

George Stoll, past president of the Summerland Fish & Game Assn., left yesterday for Vancouver where he is attending the annual convention of the B.C. zone council of fish and game clubs. This is a three-day meet which will conclude tomorrow and is being held at UBC instead of Harrison Hot Springs as in former years.

Kiwanis Will Sponsor Junior Ball Tourney

As a community sports project, Summerland Kiwanis club has decided to sponsor a junior baseball tournament here on the King's Birthday, Monday, June 5.

Junior ball clubs in Kamloops, Penticton and Okauch, Wash., have been invited to participate against Summerland Red Sox, interior champions, on that holiday.

No official confirmation had been received by the Kiwanis sports committee chairman, Ed (Hilly) Smith from these clubs up to presstime.

Resident Here 32 Years Passes Away In Seventieth Year

Mrs. E. Walton, who had made her home in Summerland for thirty-two years, passed away at her home here on Sunday, April 23, in her seventieth year.

The late Mrs. Walton was born in Ontario, and is survived by her husband, one son Harvey, and one daughter, Edith, both of Summerland. There are six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from St. Andrew's United church, West Summerland, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating on Tuesday afternoon, April 25.

Pall bearers were H. Tomlin, T. Whitfield, J. Blewett, A. McLean, E. Sanborn and W. S. Ritchie. Interment was in Peach Orchard cemetery.

MORE ABOUT

PRO CONS

Continued from Page 1 headquarters to supply more notes on party topics to the press of the riding; and thirdly, that the plight of Okanagan growers after the severe winter of 1949-50 be brought to the attention of Pro Con Leader George Drew with the request that he seek assistance at Ottawa.

Mr. George Mabee of Oliver spoke feelingly on this third resolution and reviewed past history of the Conservative party and the protection it has gained for the fruit growers of the Okanagan.

Mr. Phil Howes, provincial organizer, spoke on the need for organization along party lines and work from the "roots up". "There is a greater interest in the Conservative party in B.C. right now than I have seen for many years," he stated.

Okanagan, declared that many W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South newcomers to the Okanagan never realized the importance to this valley of the Conservative party stand on protection in past years.

He urged the delegates to teach the policy of protection advocated by the Progressive Conservative party to the newcomers to the valley, as the future of the Okanagan depends on the continuation of this policy.

Mr. Bennett praised the campaign last year of Mayor Adams and expressed the hope he would offer his name for the candidature again. He urged that a convention be held a year from now and a candidate chosen so that he will have an opportunity to campaign well in advance of the next federal election.

FATHER DIES AT OLIVER

Mr. F. W. Schumann, well-known local resident, was called to Oliver last Friday on the death of his father, a pioneer resident of the South Okanagan, who had been in ill health for some time.

John Palmer is Winner in Zone Speaking Trial

John W. A. Palmer, 18-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Palmer, Summerland experimental station, will compete in the Okanagan zone finals of the Knights of Pythias international public speaking contest.

The zone finals will be held next Wednesday, May 3, at the KP hall in Penticton, and the winner will represent the Okanagan at the B.C. finals to be held in the Scout hall, Penticton, on Thursday, May 18.

Last week, John Palmer defeated all comers in the South Okanagan zone public speaking contest in the KP hall, Penticton.

Second to John was Joan Ferguson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ferguson of Osoyoos and a student of South Okanagan high school, Oliver. In third place was D. C. Davenport, son of Mrs. M. Davenport, Penticton high school.

Subject undertaken by the speakers was "Fifty Years Hence" and this same topic will carry on to the other final rounds.

One point which impressed judges in favor of John Palmer was that he carried through his talk without reference to notes at any time.

Dr. Palmer, superintendent of the experimental station, is well known as a speaker who holds his audience at all times. He was named Summerland Good Citizen at the annual board of trade banquet.

SHALING PROGRAM IS CONTINUING

Continuation of the municipal roads department shaling program was reported to Tuesday's council session by Councillor Eric Tait. The back Prairie Valley road is in need of "building up" and has been given a heavy application of shale with another coating expected in the fall.

Because of the dryness of the roads (up to last night's heavy rainfall) grading had been curtailed for the past two weeks, he reported.

Mr. Tait explained to the council that his report at the previous week's meeting had not been meant as a complete report on the roads program for the year but only as an indication of general policy for the department.

He had been greatly interested in the reaction to his report as given in a recent issue of The Review and was pleased that the public generally is showing an interest in his department.

Steal Chickens From Ritchie Home

On the night of April 14-15, 27 prize chickens were stolen from the orchard property of Mr. Gordon Ritchie. Total weight of the chickens stolen is estimated at 100 pounds. Thieves were "good enough" to leave eight behind them. It is believed that a vehicle was parked on the roadway near the scene of the crime. As there was a high wind that night the Ritchie family was not disturbed by any unusual sounds.

Two live chickens believed to be part of the Ritchie flock have since been found near the CPR station. Nearby four chicken heads were also located.

FIFTH BIRTHDAY IS CAUSE FOR PARTY

Monday afternoon, April 25, was the fifth birthday of little Anthea Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. G. Morgan, Trout Creek, and with six of her small friends she had a party playing games, enjoying balloons, and a birthday cake with candles.

The children present were Darlene Miller, Ronnie Embree, Freddie and Trudy Gartrell, and Iris and Eddie Willis.
