

Problem of High School Housing 'Till Building Ready Worries Trustees

Accommodation for the fall classes, until the new junior-senior high school is ready for occupancy, is proving a major headache for trustees of School Board No. 77 (Summerland).

It is possible the industrial arts and home economics rooms in the new school may be ready early in the fall but the rest of the school will not be ready for occupancy until November, at the earliest.

Church halls are being sought but from discussion at Monday evening's school board meeting the likelihood of obtaining any additional accommodation of this nature is not too bright.

Principal A. K. Macleod informed school trustees that 13 rooms would be needed for the junior-senior high school course in September. With all available space utilized in the school system at present, 11 rooms can be accounted for.

"We have to start the program as if we had the new school so that when the new building is ready we can move in without interruption to the schedule," Mr. Macleod explained.

High school periods will be fifty-five minutes' duration and a full seven-day week will be scheduled.

If the week starts on Monday the week's schedule would conclude on Tuesday of the following week and Wednesday would be the start of a new week, he explained.

It is anticipated that the primary enrollment this fall will be 80. The high school graduating class was 28, about 35 left the district from the peak of enrollment last October, which means that the anticipated increase this fall will be about 17 pupils.

This figure does not take into account newcomers to the district whose children would be entering grades other than primary.

Need Extra Space

The old gymnasium may be pressed into service for a month or two but there is still a need for another hall for classroom purposes.

All church halls will be investigated with a view to obtaining at least one for schoolroom purposes, the meeting decided.

Trustees have not been able to fill the vacancy here for a commercial teacher and one suggestion was made that an agricultural course be substituted for the commercial classes as agricultural instructors are fairly plentiful.

However, Chairman C. J. Bleasdale declared that further efforts would be made to obtain the services of a commercial class instructor. There is also a vacancy for another lady teacher on the high school staff while in the elementary school the resignation of Mrs. J. Walsh, accepted with regret by the board on Monday, has created another vacancy.

Award Contracts

Transportation Committee Chairman Dr. W. H. B. Munn reported that tenders for the Meadow Valley and Greata Ranch bus routes had been opened. To Greata Ranch the tender of Hemingway's Taxi, submitted by new owner Tom Scott at 13½ cents per mile was accepted. Wally's Taxi tendered 14 cents.

J. Maddocks, a resident of Meadow Valley and Wally's Taxi each submitted a tender of 15c per mile for the Meadow Valley run. Mr. Maddocks was awarded the contract. Dr. Munn stated, subject to the approval of the education department and the motor vehicle branch.

BASKET PICNIC SUPPER

Next Monday's Kiwanis Club of Summerland weekly meeting will take the form of a basket picnic at the experimental station with wives and families joining the members.

Slow Progress On School Project Here

Architect W. J. Noppe is pleased with the quality of work going into the new school construction but does not think the structure is proceeding at a fast enough pace, he was quoted at Monday's school board session.

However, various reasons were forthcoming for delays and the board is now reluctantly satisfied that the main occupancy of the new school will not take place before Christmas.

The home economics and industrial arts wing is being finished first and then the two-storey classroom section will be next in line, it was stated.

A large bulldozer employed for backfilling purposes pushed over a small wall by mistake last week and this will necessitate a small rebuilding job, trustees were informed.

The new type of glass block which is to be installed in Summerland's high school will be the first of its type in the Pacific Northwest trustees have been told. Recently, a sixty percent improvement in the prism construction has been initiated so that more light can be thrown into the room when the sun's rays are at a wide angle, it was explained.

Color toning of the rooms inside the glass blocks is an important part of the structural scheme.

Insulation of the industrial arts wing is proceeding now along with erection of the plasterboard.

Classify Giant's Head Road as Secondary Route

Giant's Head road has been recommended by the provincial highway board to the minister of public works as a secondary highway in the provincial system, Chief Engineer McCallum informed the council by letter on Tuesday.

There is one reservation, however, that the road may be reclassified once the location of the Okanagan highway in this section has been settled and the highway constructed, Mr. McCallum cautioned.

Under this new classification the municipality will receive 25 percent of the cost of annual upkeep, provided any major work is approved by the public works department in advance.

This stipulation will involve the municipality making a speedy estimate and submitting it to Victoria before the seal coat is laid on the Giant's Head road from the top of Peach Orchard to a point opposite the H. J. Wells' home this being the first permanent road work to be instituted in the post-war years.

Kiwanis International Prexy To Address District Convention

Don H. Murdoch, president of Kiwanis International, and a prominent Winnipeg business leader will deliver the principal address during the three-day Kiwanis Pacific Northwest district convention at Spokane, Wash., from August 20 to 22, it was announced this week by local Kiwanis president, J. Y. Towgood.

President Towgood will lead a delegation of approximately nine Summerland club members, plus a number of members' wives.

Among those who are planning to attend are Father A. M. Moultonberg, secretary, 2nd Vice-President J. E. O'Mahony, Jack Lawlor, C. H. Flay, Verne Manarey, Frank MacDonald, N. O. Solly and W. (Scotty) Ritchie.

Delegates from 100 clubs in the district, comprising a membership of almost 11,000 business and professional leaders, are expected to attend the various sessions. The presiding officer will be Gilman O. Rolstad, Tacoma, Wash., business college principal, and governor of the Pacific-Northwest Kiwanis district. Committee conferences, panel discussions, and election of officers will be convention highlights.

President Murdoch, a member of the board of trustees of Kiwanis International since 1946, is expected to discuss national and international affairs and to stress continued cooperation between the United States and Canada on problems of mutual defense and welfare.

A director of the board of trade of Winnipeg and of the Canadian Research Institute of Launderers and Cleaners, Mr. Murdoch also is chairman of the Association of Launderers, Cleaners and Allied Trades of Manitoba. He served overseas in World War I.

Building Nears $500,000 Mark At July 31st

In seven months, building permits in Summerland municipality have amounted to $439,985, by far the largest amount ever recorded in one year in this community's history.

Last year, at the end of July, permits for $162,725 had been issued.

Last month three dwelling permits valued at $10,300 were issued along with five minor alteration and addition permits amounting to $8550. These permits totalled $11,350 for July.

This sum was quite a bit lower than the July, 1949, issuance when permits were valued at $24,300.

To date, 67 permits have been issued whereas 98 had been given out by Building Inspector Roy Angus at the same time in 1949.

Street Carnival Report Heard By Kiwanians

In order to raise funds for the Kiwanis Bandshell project in the Living Memorial park playground, this service club has decided to stage a street carnival on Granville street on Saturday, August 12.

F. W. Schumann reported to Monday's Kiwanis meeting that subchairs have been named and are busy arranging the day. Frank MacDonald heads the pet parade committee, N. O. Solly is in charge of Bingo, C. V. Nesbitt has control of other games, C. H. Elsey heads the guessing competitions and Verne Manarey has refreshments under his charge.

All Kiwanians are being asked to appear in some type of comic costume that evening.

Another committee report came from Bill Laidlaw who told Kiwanians of the Hole-in-One competition Wednesday and Saturday evenings at the park playground. Prizes are awarded each evening and a grand prize will be handed out at the finale. A prize of $25 is given to each person scoring a hole-in-one.

Takes Wind Out of Scientists Who Would Get Up on Pedestal

Dr. James Marshall, noted ontologist, took time out from his studies of tree fruit pests to point a scornful finger at those in the scientific world who would place themselves on a pedestal and attempt to amaze readers or listeners with their verbiage.

He was guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club of Summerland weekly dinner meeting Monday at the Nu-Way Annex.

"Scientific flapdoodle" was the quaint title of his remarks which were partly based along the lines of the recently-published best seller, "Science is a Sacred Cow."

Scientists, so called, are being turned out in great numbers from universities across the land, he pointed out. In fact, so great is the number of scientists that few will ever rise above mediocrity, he believed. He felt that the pendulum is swinging back towards a more concise and clear description of scientific terms and definitions and he wished the swing could be hurried a little more.

Now isn't that too coy for words! Using two china ducks and a real egg, Leslie C. Mallett of Summerland, won top prize in Class "C" of the Vancouver Province amateur photography competition. This particular competition is for scenes and still life. Besides winning this particular competition, Mr. Mallett's picture will be entered in a nation-wide contest for amateur photographers. Engraving courtesy Vancouver Province.

Fishing Reports

(by Bert Berry)

Okanagan Lake—Seems to be coming on again. Biggest fish caught, 10½ pounder off Peachland. Most of the regular fishermen are getting 1 to 1½ pounds quite regularly. These off Summerland and above Crescent Beach. Les Rumball got a 2½-pounder between Trout Creek and Summerland. Fly-fishing off rocks with grasshoppers or shiners is producing good fishing.

Garnet Valley Dam—Road good no boats available; same as last week. The holes are, still giving up good fish.

Shannon Lake—Road good; boats rented. Perch and bass fishing okay, especially in evenings.

Silver Lake—Road very rough; no boats. Fishing still good.

Headwaters Fishing Camp—Road rough but work has been done in last week. Fishing still good but nothing over 1½ pounds caught last week.

Fish Lake Chain—Road good; Fish Lake only fair; upper lakes, Munro, Eneas, Deer and Island producing very good fish.

Trout Creek—From Trout Creek irrigation dam up the pools give some very good fishing but 9 out of 10 are not legal limit of eight inches.

Dies Suddenly in Hospital After Only Short Illness

Her many friends in Summerland were shocked to hear of the sudden passing on Thursday, July 27, of Mrs. Mary M. McNutt, 52, wife of Mr. A. R. McNutt, in the Summerland hospital. Her illness was of a few hours' duration only.

Coming here with her family from Calgary, Alta., six years ago, the deceased woman had made a wide circle of friends especially in the Trout Creek area where she resided. She was active in WCTU work at Trout Creek and was an active Sunday school worker in the Bethel Tabernacle, Pentiction.

Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Rev. D. L. McNutt of Kimberley and Gordon at home; three daughters, Mrs. Ray Wood, Calgary; Mrs. C. E. Preston, Summerland; and Ethel in Kamloops; also five grandchildren and three brothers.

The funeral was held on Saturday, July 29, from Bethel Tabernacle, Pentiction, Rev. C. E. Lynn, assisted by Rev. W. J. Freisen, officiating. Interment was in the Lakeview cemetery, Pentiction.

Kamloops Team Wins Dragoon Shield while Vancouver Men Take Individual Aggregates

Good weather conditions brought forth keen competition at the Garnet Valley rifle range of the Summerland Rifle club last Sunday when 52 competitors from Kamloops, Armstrong, Kelowna, Pentiction, Vancouver and Summerland met to shoot off for the valued silverware.

Kamloops won the B.C. Dragoons shield for the team shoot while F. English of the Vancouver Rifle Assn. captured the valued Dunsdon trophy for high aggregate and high score prize, the George Rose shield, for 600 yards.

Local competitors and officials are agreed that this was one of the best shoots held in the interior. The visit of the Vancouver team added a great deal of interest as it is the first time for many years that coast marksmen have invaded an interior shoot.

Under the chairmanship of Club President Art Dunsdon, with Fred Dunsdon as range officer, the shoot was run off without a hitch.

Oldest marksman of the day was Fred Anderson of Pentiction who will be 88 next week, while the youngest member was 12-year-old Billy Verchere, a member of the Vancouver team.

Helen Price of Summerland had the honor of being the only female to enter the competition. She won a great deal of praise from other contestants.

Wives of the local club members provided excellent refreshments, the visitors being especially appreciative of this service.

Tribute to Pop Dunsdon

Reeve C. E. Bentley presented the prizes at the conclusion of the shoot, also welcoming the visitors to this district. His Worship gave a short outline of the life of the local Rifle club, paying tribute to H. (Pop) Dunsdon, to whose interest and energy the local club practically owes its existence. He started shooting over the range in 1907.

Words of thanks and congratulations to the local club for the excellent manner in which the shoot was conducted were expressed by

Valley Rotary Picnic Comes to Summerland

Rotarians from Vernon, Kelowna, Pentiction and Oliver joined Rotary Club of Summerland at a joint basket picnic at the experimental station here on Wednesday evening, July 26, nearly 150 being in attendance.

Besides Valley Rotarians, members from Edmonton, Winnipeg, Vancouver and other Canadian clubs, who happened to be vacationing in the Okanagan, were present.

One Rotarian brought his family to see the famous experimental station gardens and was delighted to find a Rotary picnic in full swing. He was made welcome at once.

Kelowna sent the largest contingent of members, some 49 Rotarians and Rotary Anns being in attendance.

One of the pleasing features of the get-together was the presence of the Summerland Band, which provided a splendid concert.

Golf on the putting greens was enjoyed by many. There was no program, being planned as a friendly get together to enjoy the beauties of the Dominion Experimental

Experimental Station Seeking To Develop Hardier Apple

Development of an apple variety even hardier than the comparatively new Spartan and Jubilee will be one of the main objectives of the Dominion Experimental Station at Summerland.

VLA farmers learned this fact Friday at the second of two field days held on the station last week for veterans established under the Veterans Land Act in the Okanagan Valley. Over 180 ex-servicemen and their wives from Grinrod to Osoyoos attended as guests of Dr. R. C. Palmer, station superintendent.

Friday's rain prevented a planned tour of the experimental orchards, but earlier, veterans visited the ornamental grounds, vegetable gardens and prize Jersey herd on the station's 176 irrigated acres. Arthur Mann, fruit experiments supervisor, discussed new varieties which have been successfully developed, stating that whereas years ago over 120 varieties of apples were grown in the Okanagan, today only about six are raised commercially. New types include Reliable apricots, Star and Van cherries, Spotlight and Solo peaches and Spartan and Jubilee apples.

Dr. J. C. Wilcox, assistant farm supervisor, explained tree spacing, soil fertility and sprinkler-type irrigation. He said that one experiment slated to be undertaken this year would be to determine whether or not fertilizer could be successfully applied through the irrigation system.

Dr. Palmer illustrated to VLA small holders at their field day on Wednesday the various types of flowers, shrubs and vegetables best suited for landscaping and home garden use.

Pioneer Days

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
August 7, 1925

Sir Henry Thornton, Canadian National president, speaking at Vernon stated that the railway will not be satisfied with merely constructing its branch line to Kelowna but will also provide an adequate boat service on Okanagan Lake.

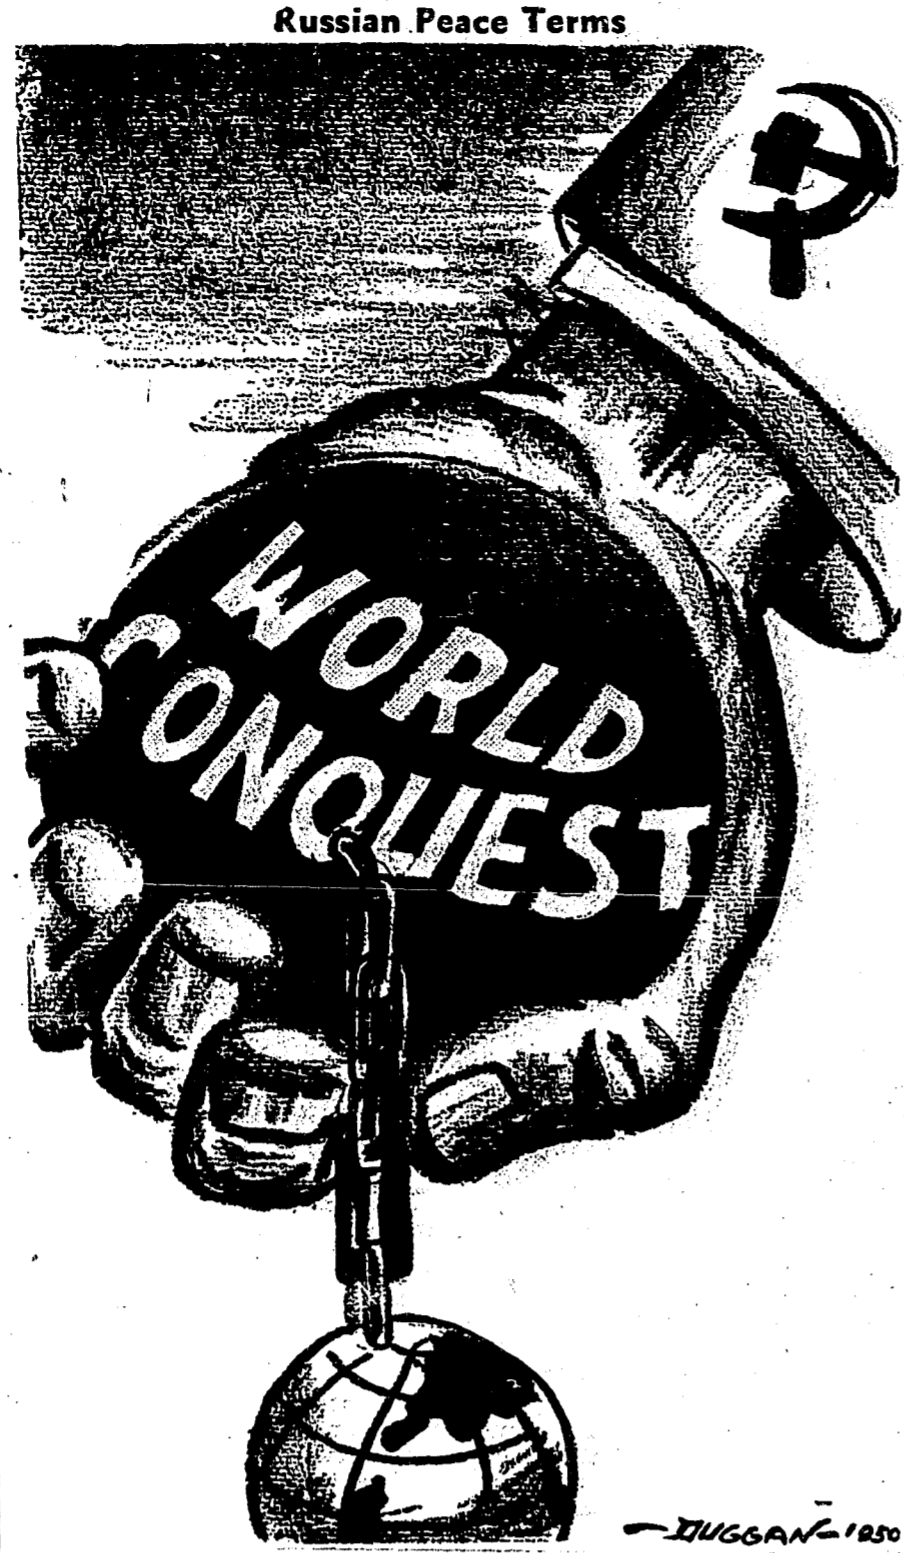

G. D. Marshall gave a lecture on the history and culture of the chrysanthemum to the first meeting of the Summerland Horticultural Society held in the beautiful garden of Mr. H. W. Harvey.

H. H. Thompson, who shares with an Oliver grower the distinction of being the only commercial grower of sweet potatoes in B.C. has started shipping from his five-acre production.

Women's Institute transformed Ellison hall into a bower of beauty when it staged the annual flower show, opened by J. W. Jones, M.L.A. Grand prize winner was S. Sharpe who receives the special prize of five pounds of butter. Besides flowers and fruits there were exhibits of fanciwork, home cooking, and dairy products, besides a school children's exhibit.

Western Canada Irrigation Assn. holding a three-day convention in Kelowna, approved a resolution which urged the B.C. government to aid Okanagan fruit growers in their irrigation costs. Speaking at Nelson on this resolution, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, declared: "Knowing what I know of the whole question, having given it careful study for years, being the minister under whom the present policy has been followed, I look upon the suggestion to shunt a part of the burden upon the province at large as positively unmoral."

GUESTS OF SUPERINTENDENT
An informal supper is being tendered the British Agricultural Mission party at the experimental station tomorrow evening by Dr. R. C. Palmer, station superintendent and Mrs. Palmer. The British party goes from Summerland to Kelowna to visit on Saturday.

The Okanagan and Its Publicity

THIS is the month of celebrations, which do much to attract tourists and visitors to the famed Okanagan.

Tuesday and yesterday Kelowna's 44th international regatta was again an unqualified success. Contestants from as far south as Los Angeles were present and the added attractions such as the beautiful evening aquacade and the dramatized Lady of the Lake contest brought admiring gasps from the thousands who crowded the stands.

This regatta is a wonderful publicity attraction for the Okanagan as a whole. Of course, Kelowna is in the limelight but the rest of the Okanagan can bask in the glory which is bestowed on the Orchard City for those two days early in August.

And the same can be said of the other two major attractions which this valley boasts in August. Vernon Days provide an entirely different atmosphere to attract thousands to the north end of the valley and right on the heels of this show comes the South Okanagan's main feature, the Penticton and District Peach Festival.

Smaller communities such as Summerland, Oliver, Osoyoos, Peachland, Westbank cannot hope to compete with such grandiose affairs. And they should not even think along the same lines, but they can do their share towards making them a success and in their own small way can swing the spotlight onto their own communities.

This was amply shown on Tuesday evening when the enthusiastic Westbank Board of Trade entered its "Missing Link" float in the Regatta parade. The Westbank float depicted the missing link in the Okanagan highway system and took the form of an elaborate bridge across Okanagan Lake with Ogopogo casting a blinking gaze upwards from the cool waters.

Such a float typified the thinking of those along the westside of Okanagan Lake and to judge from the applause which greeted it along the crowded thoroughfares the idea was just as popular to the majority of Kelowna residents and the visitors who probably had to come across the lake in the ferry system.

Last year and in 1948 Summerland was equally proud of its gladioli float. This lovely floating floral display not only told thousands of persons that beautiful flowers can be grown here besides the well-known tree fruits, but it also pointed out the community spirit and enthusiasm of Summerland district as a whole.

The larger centres may obtain the lion's share of the publicity in these grand affairs but the smaller adjoining communities can get their share if they wish to co-operate.

Summerland Band's appearance at the Kelowna Regatta parade, smartly attired in their neat uniforms, proved the point still further. Hundreds of persons were to be heard remarking on the fine turnout of the Summerland Band, most of them never realizing that such a splendid musical aggregation could be brought together in an adjoining neighborhood.

Such praise for your community gives you a thrill and a feeling of satisfaction, especially if you have taken a small part in helping in the organization.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Is a wife justified in the all-too-common complaint that her husband spends too much money on his car?

Maybe the old man does sink into a new car, or gadgets for the old one, money which his other half hoped to siphon off into a new fur coat or chesterfield suite. It may even be provable that these are worthy ends in themselves as possessions, investments, or adornments, whereas a car is merely a means of transportation, and so costly a luxury at best that one should make do with the cheapest vehicle that will run reliably.

But this, dear ladies, is a very narrow point of view. Man is a competitive animal, whereas woman is just an animal—pardon me, is a possessive animal. She likes to own things just to look at them, or make others look at them; often has closets full of dresses she rarely wears, cupboards full of china she wouldn't dream of using. When a new car sneaks into the family circle, she is apt to be more interested in having it kept polished than in driving it.

Men are different. Deeprooted in their dear little heads is the urge to compete with their fellow-men—and beat them, if at all possible. For ages men have tried to prove individual superiority by battling each other, in war and duels; by competing for feminine conquests; by going on long big-game hunts in search of record heads, or trying to scale mountain peaks that no one else had conquered.

Do you want your husband to do any of these, my lady? Of course not. You want him to stay comfortably close to home and keep on earning cheques to supply food and conveniences and fur coats and chesterfield suites. Then don't you begrudge him a share of those cheques to spend on his car, for that is ordinary civilized man's substitute for all these more romantic types of competition.

By buying a new car before he needs it, he can get a jump ahead of all his friends and neighbors, and crow over them for weeks. If, on the other hand, he can't stretch his credit to that, he can still win a feeling of superiority by installing sun-visor, chrome ventilating fins, etc., on his old jalopy and telling everybody how much better the 1942 models were than the current ones. Other men with 1950 issues don't believe a word of it, and everybody is happy.

Just to be driving a car—even an old one, and even without any special destination—does things for a man that few women understand. Your husband may be, as you have doubtless often told him, timid as a hare and stupid as a small speechless as a giraffe or homely as an African wart-hog—but let him get behind the wheel of a moving car and, lady, he is transformed.

The mildest larva of a man, once he gets in control of that steel cocoon, feels his meek spirit unfold to wings of power and glory. Everybody from wife to employer may be able to pick on him with impunity at other times, but with two tons of steel-and-chromium chariot responsive to his bidding, he can become at will a dauntless speed demon, a daring violator of road rules, or a courtly helper of hitch-hikers and pedestrians—usually feminine—in distress.

There are so many ways, with a car, of putting himself ahead of the other fellow. By passing him in a burst of speed if his car is new and fast, by setting a better example of following all traffic rules if it is old or slow, and thus giving himself the glorious right to yell raucously "Hey, you, whaddya think yer doing anyway?" to any other driver who makes a slip. And many more—each one a soul-nourishing recompense for all the little inadequacies and frustrations of the day.

We all need outlets like this for the repressions which civilized life forces on us. You, dear ladies, get your outlets by possessing things, winning at canasta, gossiping, bawling out the kids, telling your husband in detail, when he is supposed to be driving the car, just what he ought to do and where he ought to go.

All that preserves him from telling you where to go, or from even more serious outbreaks against the restrictive monotony of his daily life, may be the relief he gets from driving—and boasting about—his car. So tread softly, o wives, upon your man's love for that metallic monster which so often interferences with your own plans. Who knows what substitutes he might be driven to find for it if it were taken away from him?

Facts About Advertising

Everyone is interested in doing things economically. In spending our incomes, we all desire to get as much as possible for our money. Our shopping ability is one important factor in determining how much we can get for what we spend, but there is a second factor even more important. It is the ability of people who make and sell things to place them on the market at a price which we can afford.

Many of us can now enjoy the ownership of an automobile, a refrigerator, a radio, and many other articles because we can buy them for less money than the amount it cost the manufacturer only a few years ago to make these articles when they were not nearly so good. Competition being what it is, it helps us all when manufacturing costs are lowered. In other words, everyone benefits from economies in industry and trade.

While it is easy to see the advantage which comes to consumers through savings in costs of production, many do not realize that savings in the costs of selling benefit us just as much. Every time you buy an article, you must pay for the cost of making it and also for the cost of selling it. Otherwise the manufacturer could not stay in business. Anything that lowers the cost of selling helps the consumer just as much as savings in the purchase of raw materials.

Whenever you see a printed advertisement or hear an advertising message over the radio, you are witnessing a step in the process of selling goods. Advertisers use this means of presentation because it is economical. They have found by experience that it costs less to sell goods with the aid of advertising than without it. They do not advertise merely because they take pride in having their names before the public.

Advertising is not a miracle method or a hokus-pokus for business success. Goods can be sold without it but it costs more to do so. When the salesman in the store or at your back door tells you about an article you may wish to buy, his task is much easier if you have heard or seen his product advertised. You already know something about it and your opinion is partially formed. Because advertising has done part of the work of selling, the salesman can serve more customers and so accomplish more effectively his part in the necessary process of distributing goods to the people who want them. He is able to earn more money for himself and at the same time, the total cost of placing goods in your hands is lower.

Through modern advertising, the dealer and the manufacturer are able to speak to thousands and even millions of customers at comparatively small expense. You listen and you read and you half make up your mind whether you will or will not buy. In the comfort of your home or while riding in the country, you may make your decision without personal oratory to disturb your thoughts.

This sensible way of presenting the products of industry to consumers has been found to be economical. As a result, you can buy many things more cheaply than would otherwise be possible. Advertising, our lowest paid salesman, has helped us all to get more for the money which we have to spend.

A Day at Guide Camp

(By Marie Gronlund, Angel Patrol)

"Ho, hum, there goes the last whistle, I guess its time to get up". That's one of the remarks made by the twenty-one Canadian Girl Guides who spent part of their vacation at the KAT Ranch from July 22 to 29.

It was about 7:30 in the morning and the "cook patrol," awakened fifteen minutes before, was just leaving to prepare breakfast. At eight o'clock the whistle is blown and the Guides come running from their tents.

Flag-raising ceremony over, the Guides are dismissed for breakfast. After a nourishing meal of fruit, cereal and toast each patrol goes ahead with its duty for the day, either dishwashing, cooking, getting wood and water or sanitary.

Finishing this, the Guides roll up their beds and clean up their tents for inspection. The Guide inspects the tents at ten o'clock. After inspection comes the ever-welcome swim. Half an hour of swimming is allowed and fifteen minutes to dress before handicraft is held.

In handicraft, the Guides may knit, work on the totem pole, make dolls out of wool or make stuffed animals while the instructor in handicraft reads stories aloud to the Guides.

After an hour of handicraft, games are played. These last until dinner-time. Dinner is served by the cook patrol and consists of different kinds of vegetables, roast or other meat, and dessert. Either milk, tomato juice, or apple juice is served with the dinner.

After dinner, the Guides have an hour for rest period. Rest period is spent in sleeping, reading or writing, immediately followed by another swimming period. Then comes a thorough wash in the lake and then another hour of handicraft.

But, if a hike has been planned, the swimming period is usually late so the second handicraft period is missed out. Following supper comes recreation period, spent in reading, resting, preparing beds for the night, washing clothes or anything like that.

Campfire is last and all the girls gather around the fire to sing songs or feature skits. Cocoa and sandwiches are served by the cook patrol and after "taps" have been sung, the guides wash, brush their teeth and clamber into bed. At 9:30 the whistle is blown for "lights out".

By the way, four ghostly figures have been seen walking down to

Teen Town

The big news for this week is the "turnabout barn" dance, Saturday night, so come on gals, bring your fella's and have the time of your lives.

Olive Mason, our Teen Town candidate for Miss PNE had her picture in the Vancouver papers. Summerland was the first town in B.C. to successfully complete its part in the PNE contest.

There will be by-elections in the near future to fill three vacancies in the council.

Don't forget Saturday night. We'll see you there.

the lake. These figures appeared clothed in bathtowels. If they were ghosts they sure were noisy ones. They acted human-like and sounded human-like too. Oh, well, maybe they were humans after all. Guiders, what do you know about this?

Camp closed five days sooner than we had expected because of bad weather. On the last night prizes were given to the best all-round Guide, which went to Frances Atkinson, second being Marilyn Wade.

The first prize went to Jill Sanborn for being the best helper around camp and second prize went to Pat Morrow. The prize for the neat and tidy tent went to the Barnyard Patrol.

Distinguished Group of U.K. Agriculturists Coming

On Friday, August 11, a distinguished group of British agriculturists will come to Summerland and inspect the local orchards as well as the Dominion Experiment-tal Station in the course of a Canada-wide tour.

They go on to Kelowna from here to spend Saturday, August 12. Sir William Ogg, director of the Rothamsted Experimental Station, heads the party, his chief interest being soils, crops, research work and practical farming.

Others on the party and their interests are:

Major Buckley Tells Of Salvation Army

Major Buckley, public relations officer for the Salvation Army, paid a call to the municipal council meeting Tuesday afternoon to acquaint members with the additional work being carried out by the Army and seek a return to the former annual grant of $50 from Summerland.

In the past few years the Army has been receiving $25 annually, a decrease of fifty per cent.

It cost the Salvation Army $581,000 in 1949 compared with operating costs of under $200,000 a few years ago, Major Buckley pointed out.

Reeve C. E. Bentley expressed sympathy with the Army's work, but pointed out that the budget had already been passed and any additional grant would have to be left until near the year end when the financial picture is a little clearer municipally.

Red Cross Campaign In B.C. Now Closed

Hon. E. W. Hamber, B.C. chairman of the Red Cross campaign for funds, has announced the conclusion of the 1950 drive. Returns total $511,673.85. Provincial quota was $500,000.

In making this announcement Mr. Hamber, on behalf of the Provincial Campaign Committee, thanked all those persons who had taken part in the drive, either as volunteer canvassers, or as contributors.

"Without the generosity of these people, the success of the campaign would not have been possible," he said. "I would particularly like to commend the wonderful work of the door-to-door canvassers in the towns and cities of B.C. that conducted one," he continued. "Their efforts were clearly indicated by the outstanding results achieved."

Mr. Hamber also thanked the press and radio for their generous support.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

Quiz No. 5

How much per bottle does it cost to advertise Canada's leading soft drinks? Is it 1c? 2c? 3c? a bottle?

Answer:

It costs less than 1/60c per bottle to advertise Canada's big-name soft drinks.

That's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:

Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.

So advertising saves you many times that 1/60¢ per bottle.

A FARM IMPROVEMENT LOAN FOR THE KITCHEN STOVE?

There's more to Farm Improvement loans than tractors or combines, points out Mr. Solly, manager of the Bank of Montreal at West Summerland. They're designed to help the farmer—and his wife—make the best out of their home as well as their land. For you can get a Farm Improvement Loan to cover the installation of water and electric systems, to improve your plumbing and put in stoves, washing machines and heating or lighting appliances.

Even the building of tourist cabins and summer cottages which provide a farm family with valuable extra revenue during the vacation season, may be financed through an FILL.

If you feel that a low-cost Farm Improvement Loan would benefit your farm, or better your living conditions, make a point of calling on Mr. Solly next time you're in town. Talk over your plans with him, in confidence, so that you can work out together how the B of M can best help you with financing your farm improvement.—Adv.

Pro-Rec Assists Board of Trade Swim Classes with Grant of $100

Through arrangements with the provincial recreational department of the department of education, $100 will be forthcoming to the Summerland Board of Trade this year to assist in operation of the free swim classes.

Each child taking these classes will be registered with Pro-Rec and the results of the instruction will be detailed in each case. Mr. Cecil Wade, in charge of the swim classes, informed the board's executive meeting last week.

In all, $400 has been allotted for the Summerland area by the Pro-Rec people, Jim Pantou, Okanagan organizer has informed Mr. Wade.

The remaining $300 may be distributed to those groups which can prove to the Pro-Rec officials that their work amongst juniors warrants financial assistance. The ski club may be able to obtain a small grant this winter in lieu of its help to junior skiers.

Board of Trade members are planning a small program for Powell Beach on Wednesday, August 23, the last day of swim class instruction before the tests. The annual hot dog feed for the swim class members will be a feature of the day and refreshments for adults will also be provided, it is planned.

The board of trade swim class group is anxious that as many parents as possible go to Powell Beach that afternoon to see the work being done in teaching water safety to their youngsters. It will also be, in part, a board of trade outing, as well.

Gould's Bat Beats Chelan By 6-3 Count

With Ernie Jomori getting over his early inning jitters and proceeding to pitch mighty fine ball, Summerland Red Sox defeated Chelan quite handily at the Living Memorial athletic park last Saturday night. The 6-3 count was quite enough to avenge the Red Sox for their 9-8 defeat at Chelan earlier in July.

Peck was the Chelan hurler who got himself into plenty of scrapes but actually was only nicked for five bingles. Ernie gave up four and his teammates only made half as many miscues, which decided the contest.

Red Sox opened strongly in the initial canto, with a brace of markers due to an error and two timely hits by Gould and Bob Weitzel.

But Chelan came right back in the second with three runs to take the lead for the first and only time.

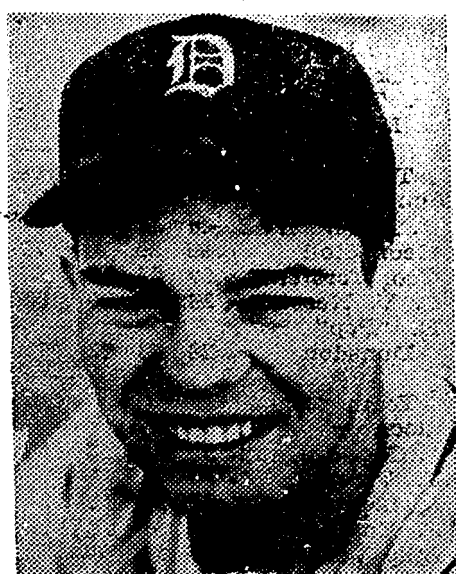

From then on Jomori had the Chelan boys eating out of his mitt, although he weakened a bit in the sixth. In the meantime, Red Sox grabbed the lead again in the third with Gould's double, Kato's walk and Cristante's single. Gould hit a two-run triple in the fourth to finish the scoring. Gould was the big noise with the hickory while Pitcher Peck was the only visitor to gain two bingles off Jomori.

The crisis in Korea threatens to call some of the major league's young stars to service in the United States armed forces. Red Sox Trim Princeton Aces 10-0 in First Playoff Game

Summerland Red Sox go into the second game of their playoff series at Living Memorial athletic park next Sunday decided favorites to take the series two straight following their 10-0 victory at Princeton last weekend.

Gil Jacobs had the Princeton Aces handcuffed throughout while his teammates were helping themselves to as many hits as they had runs. Not a Princeton runner succeeded in getting past second base.

Three runs in the initial frame when Sandy Jomori's hit and two errors paved the way for a starting rally got the Red Sox off to a flying start. Jomori added another clout and a run in the second frame while Ken Brawner contributed the fifth score in the fourth.

Two hits and a walk brought in two more in the sixth and the Red Sox wound up their scoring spree with three for good measure in the eighth.

Charlie Harman was the losing pitcher, allowing four walks besides the ten hits. He struck out seven but could not come up to Jacobs' standard of ten strikeouts. Passed balls by Richardson proved a distinct handicap for the Similkamcen lads.

OCCIDENTAL PICNIC
The permanent staff of the Occidental Fruit Co. Summerland branch were guests of the Kelowna staff at Wilson's Landing on Sunday when they were entertained at a picnic supper. Driving up for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eisey, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bleasdale, Mr. and Mrs. Don Chapman, and Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Clark.

Merchants Mop up Tonasket 5-2 for Third Win in League

The Merchants finally did it. With Jack Walsh mowing them down at the plate and his teammates contributing an even dozen bingles, Summerland Merchants came through with a clear-cut, well-deserved victory over second-place Tonasket last Sunday at Living Memorial athletic park.

When the final ball was thrown, Merchants had a comfortable 5-2 lead and looked every bit as good as the win. Apart from a slight miscue by Kuroda in the first frame the Merchants went errorless, Walsh getting himself out of some nasty predicaments on several occasions.

Tonasket was wobbly in the field but dangerous with the hickory so that there was tension throughout. However, after the fifth inning the game was all in Walsh's hands and he showed complete mastery.

After a shaky first frame when batters reached third and second with only one away, Walsh tightened up to strike out the clean-up hitter and force the third out on a ground ball.

Merchants jumped into an early lead when Kuroda was safe at second on Roy Visser's miscue and was scored on George Taylor's Texas leaguer to short left field.

In the third, Walsh allowed three straight hits to fill the bags with none away. He struck out the next two men and H. Visser fled to Nesbitt in centerfield, Kuroda almost interfering with the putout.

Tonasket went ahead for the only time in the fifth when Costello singled, and was scored on Roy Visser's triple, his third hit of the day, clear out to the left field, foul post. Visser was sacrificed across by Robinson to give the visitors a 2-1 lead.

Count Tied Again
But that was short-lived when Kuroda singled, went to third on Walsh's smart double and came across on a squeeze play which worked splendidly when Ray Visser threw a wild pitch, as he saw what was being attempted.

Winning run was scored by Brawner in the sixth when he singled, advanced to second on Nesbitt's second clout, to third on a passed ball and home when Catcher Harenburgh threw wildly to third in an attempt to catch him off base.

Walsh added a little insurance in the seventh when he singled, stole second and came home on hits by Vanderburgh and Metcalfe. Final tally was in the eighth when Nesbitt kept his average intact with his third hit and scored on Day's first hit.

Tension was relieved in the eighth when a likely Tonasket rally was nipped with a smart doubleplay, Day to Taylor to Vanderburgh.

The latter player again distinguished himself at first, picking up two dirt balls which had error labelled all over them.

Nesbitt, Kuroda and Walsh were the offensive heroes of the game while Walsh was the centre of the Merchants' defensive game. The infield sparkled with eight assists without a miscue.

Roy Visser was the most dangerous Tonasket hitter, while Kronschnabel and Costello were right along with him, Tonasket's starting pitcher, Ray Visser, was taken out in favor of Rounds in the seventh.

A. Goodson and F. Verchere of Vancouver, E. Work and W. Louie of Kamloops, H. Page-Brown of Armstrong, D. Hill of Kelowna and T. Daly of Penticton.

Kamloops' team scored 461 to nose out the Summerland No. 1 team by seven points. If the Vancouver squad had had another member other than little Bill Verchere they would probably have annexed the BCD shield.

At 200 yards A. Goodson scored the only possible of the day. F. English, also of Vancouver, had the best 33 to win second prize over Ari Dunsdon of Summerland and H. C. Ely of Kamloops.

merland and H. C. Ely of Kamloops.

Fred Dunsdon had the best 34 at 500 yards to edge out E. Work of Kamloops, closely followed by W. Cousins of Penticton and W. Louie of Kamloops, who each had 33 scores.

At 600 yards, there was a tight race with F. English, Dave Taylor and H. C. Ely each scoring 33. In the shootoff the Vancouver man won the George Rose trophy.

F. English scored 96 to annex the grand aggregate prize, the Dunsdon shield, followed by E. Work, F. W. Dunsdon and A. Goodson respectively, each with 95.

In tyro competition, for those who have just started shooting this year, R. L. Trowsdale of Kelowna was high with 89, with Steve Dunsdon of Summerland second with 87 and Joe Maddison, also of Summerland, third with 82.

New Land Cleared, Building Expected Started Without Delay

Most of the preliminary obstacles having been cleared away, Summerland Rink Association is prepared to proceed with the building of Summerland's new hockey-curling rink on the Stuart Orchards' property directly west of the badminton and tennis courts.

No signatures have been affixed to the final blueprint yet, but W. A. (Bud) Steuart, on behalf of the Stuart Estate; George Stoll, president of the rink group; Loyce Campbell, who owns the adjoining subdivision and the municipal council, owners of the Living Memorial park playground property reached a decision on the subdivision of the properties on Tuesday afternoon.

This new subdivision calls for a forty-foot road along the west and south sides of the Stuart orchard. Twenty feet of this road would be provided by Steuart and a similar amount by the park playground property on the west and by Loyce Campbell on the south.

The Summerland Athletic Assn., operators of the tennis and badminton property, would be asked to provide 20 feet on the extreme eastern end of the proposed plan to give a continuation to the Campbell subdivision and allow for an exit at the end.

Stolen Car Located Here On Highway

A 1949 Studebaker sedan, stolen from Lake Louise, was discovered abandoned on Okanagan Highway No. 5 two miles north of West Summerland on August 4.

Owned by Ctto Schenk of Chicago, Ill., the car was stolen on the night of August 1-2. When found it was in a badly damaged condition, the wheels, tires and tubes being ruined, the car having evidently been driven over rocks.

It is being repaired in Summerland for delivery back to Lake Louise.

In the meantime, a man said to be a United States resident, has been arrested in Vancouver charged with theft of a suitcase and other property from this car. He is being taken to Lake Louise to stand trial for theft of the car.

One unconfirmed report states that he is an escaped convict from a United States penal institute.

May Get New Light Contract

R. W. Anderson, general manager of the West Kootenay Power & Light Co., headed a company delegation which met the municipal council recently to discuss a new electrical contract with the Municipality of Summerland.

This was revealed when brief minutes of a special committee meeting of the municipal council were read on Tuesday.

No details of the West Kootenay proposal would be released by Reeve C. E. Bentley when questioned by The Review yesterday. His Worship stated a firm contract had not been presented by the electrical supply company but is expected shortly.

FIRE STARTS IN BACK OF TRUCK

On Wednesday, August 2, the fire brigade was called to extinguish a fire of rather unusual origin.

Shannon's Transfer truck, driven by Frank Arnusch was proceeding along Prairie Valley road with a load of refuse for the municipal dump when G. G. Peters noticed that the load was on fire.

Mr. Peters jumped into his car and overtook the truck before the fire spread too far. The load was dumped onto the roadway where the fire department proceeded to extinguish the blaze.

W.M. Mott, M.P. Supports Proposed Task Force at Yale Liberal Rally

Support for Prime Minister St. Laurent's proposed United Nations task force of brigade strength was given by W. M. Mott, MP for New Westminster, before a picnic rally of the Yale Liberal Assn. at the experimental station, Summerland, yesterday afternoon.

Liberals from Enderby south to Osoyoos gathered some 75 strong to hear Mr. Mott, C. W. Morrow, MLA for North Okanagan and M. P. Finnerty, MLA for Similkameen. A. W. Gray, Yale Liberal Assn. president, was chairman.

"I do not believe Korea is our main trouble," declared Mr. Mott, chief speaker at the rally. "That is only a fever of UN strength and the rest of the democratic world."

"I feel that the federal cabinet has the situation well in hand and knows where it is going."

Mr. Mott, who grew up in a Conservative household, was a strong labor supporter before he decided finally that Liberalism was on the right road and was the right party to follow.

Conservatism he felt means to stand still and watch before you leap. Liberalism is dynamic and means progress, he said. The CCF

George Stoll states that a contract with E. E. Tory has been signed whereby the rink group will pay $5,450 for the building of the foundations, the building, raising and tying together of the trusses.

On Thursday evening, an agreement was signed between W. A. (Bud) Steuart and George Stoll on behalf of the Summerland Rink Association whereby Mr. Steuart has agreed to sell a portion of his property which faces on Granville street east for the new rink building.

Selling price is $1,840 and involves a subdivision of some 150 by 315 feet. This particular portion of the Stuart orchard is located directly west of the badminton and tennis courts.

Bulldozing work commenced on Saturday morning, the trees have now been removed, and the site is ready for construction.

Mr. Stoll reports that nearly $15,000 was collected last week from the pledge support promised by local and district residents and business firms.

The energetic rink president has been in touch with Mr. E. E. Tory, the construction expert who has agreed to undertake the work of erecting the trusses and providing the first step towards Summerland's new hockey-curling arena.

Mr. Tory is prepared to come to Summerland this month with his basic construction crew and start work on the project. If a start can be made in this manner the arena will be available for hockey and curling this winter, Mr. Stoll states.

Cost $15,000 to Start
The main portion of the building, minus the inside finishings, can be erected for about $15,000, it is anticipated.

To complete the building will cost a similar amount. A good deal of volunteer labor will likely go into the project as the canvassing committee obtained pledges of many hours of work while combing the district for funds.

Many business houses in Penticton subscribed to the fund, as well as the local merchants, Mr. Stoll has revealed, while some coast firms have also agreed to purchase debentures.

The debentures issued by the rink association bear interest at 3 percent and are callable in twenty years or at an earlier date if the rink association can raise sufficient funds to start repaying principal.

Sparring for Position
But Tuesday's council session did not reach a decision on the proposed subdivision without a great deal of study, delay and sparring for the proper openings.

George Stoll, Loyce Campbell and W. A. (Bud) Steuart appeared and a tentative plan of subdivision had already been submitted to council by R. P. Brown, Penticton surveyor, which they had not seen but had been drawn up on the basis of their discussions, it was inferred.

Mr. Stoll commenced discussion with a plea to council to assist Mr. Steuart in lieu of all the land

Municipal Hall East of Box Company Office is Projected by Civic Heads

Move to purchase a site and prepare plans for a new municipal hall proved a surprise move at Tuesday's council session.

A tentative offer to purchase 80 feet of the Steuart property east of the Summerland Box Co office for a price of $1770 was made to Mr. Steuart.

Tied in with the offer was a request that Mr. Steuart donate a 20-foot strip on the northwest corner of the Steuart orchard property so that the proposed new 40-foot road, along the east side of the Living Memorial park playground can be put straight through.

Also in the deal is the dedication of the property east of the bowling alley to the Steuart lotline as a road allowance and its eventual hard surfacing for a park entrance and a parking lot.

First notification that the council was reconsidering plans for a new municipal hall to replace the dilapidated old building now serving that purpose came on Tuesday with the reading of the minutes of a closed committee meeting recently.

Councillor Norman Holmes, in later conversation, admitted that he had pushed for the hall to be placed on municipal property fronting the park playground.

Changed His Mind
But on a closer scrutiny of the ground he found that he erred and he announced his willingness to purchase property from Mr. Steuart for the hall site and leave the present municipal property as a parking square.

In fact, he was so sold on the plan that he insisted that the council go on record then and there as being willing to dedicate the municipal property as a road allowance and lay plans for its hard surfacing. Rest of council agreed.

Evidently referring to previous arguments on the subject, Mr. Holmes wanted to know if a previous council had promised to keep that Granville street space as a parking lot. He had been told by several persons, that previous councils had committed themselves to this course.

Reeve Bentley stated nothing had been put down in writing but several propositions had been aired.

After Mr. Steuart and the rink association proxy had finished their debate on the subdivision of the Steuart orchard property Reeve C. E. Bentley asked Mr. Steuart if the council agreed to blacktop the forty feet of surface and hold it as a parking lot would Mr. Steuart throw in the 20-foot strip which would otherwise cause a jog in the road.

It had been stated that Mr. Steuart was not anxious for the municipality to build a municipal hall on the west side of the box company office as it would shut out the light and view of the windows.

But Mr. Steuart was not prepared to answer council right then. "I'll let you know," he replied.

"But when?" queried Reeve Bentley.

"Not this week," was the reply. "But we want to know; it's been going on a long time," came back Reeve Bentley.

"I want to have another look at the property; haven't looked it over for a long time. Why won't you buy it for a road?" he queried.

Make Tentative Offer
It was then that the council decided to play its last ace in the hole and make a tentative offer to purchase land for a municipal hall on the other side of the box factory office.

At 8:06 p.m. Mr. Steuart declared he leaned in favor of allowing the 20-foot strip to go to council but he would have to consult the other members of his company before reaching any decision.

And the council then allowed him to depart.

Yesterday, Reeve Bentley informed The Review that when the lot is decided upon new plans for a municipal hall would be drawn up and it is probable a bylaw would be submitted before the year-end.

Beyond that His Worship would not give up any information.

NEED CLEANUP IN LANES
That business, areas could take more care in cleaning up the rear of their premises was one of the main features of E. E. Gould's report to the council as assistant fire marshal, on Tuesday.

Flood Control Project in Okanagan Gets Green Light

To be completed within three years from April 1 last, final authorization for a flood control project for the Okanagan valley has been given by federal and provincial governments. The Review was informed yesterday in a special despatch from Premier Byron I. Johnson in Victoria.

Authorization has been given by order-in-council for the provincial government to enter into an agreement with the Government of Canada to undertake this flood control project at a cost of $2,417,259.

Draft of the agreement already has been approved by the federal authorities and upon the signing of the agreement by Hon. E. C. Carson the work will be proceeded with, the premier advises.

It is to be completed within three years from April 1 last.

Decision to proceed with this project follows submission and approval of plans and specifications recommended by a joint board of engineers which studied the project.

Personnel of this board was made up of three provincial and three dominion representatives.

Cost will be borne by these two governments on a 50-50 basis. It was originally intended that the preliminary costs of securing right-of-way, preparation of the contract plans and specifications should be borne 80 percent divided equally between the dominion and provincial governments and 20 percent distributed over the municipalities in the Okanagan Valley directly affected.

Leave out Local Share
However, as the interests of the municipalities in the project vary greatly it has been considered impracticable to have the municipalities participate in the division of the costs, Victoria advises. Hence the costs will be absorbed by the two senior governments on a 50-50 basis.

The project consists mainly of the construction of a flood-way to permit the increased flow from Okanagan Lake without damage to adjacent lands and roads, and construction of necessary dams to control the flow as well as other related works.

The work will be made up of three sections as follows: Section A, 4.2 miles from Okanagan Lake to Okanagan Falls; section B, 6.8 miles from Okanagan Falls to a point two miles north of Oliver; section C, 7.1 miles from a point two miles north of Oliver to Osoyoos Lake.

The work will be undertaken under the supervision of the provincial government but all contracts let in connection therewith will be subject to the approval of the federal minister of public works, Premier Johnson concluded.

Rotary Governor Coming Here

Harry D. Harrison, of Nelson, governor of Rotary District No. 5 will pay an official visit to the Rotary Club of Summerland on Wednesday evening, August 16, it was announced by President Francis Steuart on Friday.

That week's meeting of Rotary will be switched from Friday to Wednesday to accommodate the distinguished service club official.

W. F. Ward Offers Portion of Property

W. F. Ward has made an offer to the municipal council of a portion of his property on Giant's Head road so that a rounded corner near Milne's cannery can be made possible.

Mr. Ward's offer includes about 35 to 40 feet each way from the corner and by providing this land a gradual curve can be evolved. One cherry tree will have to be removed.

"That is a very generous offer," declared Reeve C. E. Bentley as council lost no time in accepting.

Pioneer to be Laid to Rest On Saturday

One of the Okanagan's really early pioneers who came to the valley before the turn of the century, Mrs. Elsie May Gartrell, 70-year-old wife of George Gartrell, passed away in the Summerland General hospital on Monday, August 7, after a short illness.

Born in England, one of nine in the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. French, she came to Canada 68 years ago. The French family first settled on the prairies before arriving in Vernon to make their home in 1889.

In 1905, Elsie May French became the bride of George N. Gartrell and came south to Summerland to reside. The Gartrell home at the bottom of Peach Orchard hill has been known far and wide for its hospitality through the years.

In early Summerland days the late Mrs. Gartrell was renowned for her lovely voice and she was called upon time and again to entertain at concerts. She was an active church worker and was a strong member of the Women's Institute.

Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Arthur of Vancouver and James of Edmonton; three brothers, George French, Oliver, Frank, Hedley and Sam in England, and one sister, Mrs. J. Crawshaw of Vancouver.

Two sons and one daughter predeceased her.

Funeral service will be held from St. Stephen's Anglican church West Summerland, on Saturday afternoon, August 12, at 2 o'clock with Rev. Canon F. V. Harrison officiating. Interment will be in Peach Orchard cemetery.

Pallbearers will be nephews of the deceased, as follows: Lloyd Gartrell, Donald Orr and Bob French, Summerland; Bill Gartrell Penticton; Everett French, Allenby, and Clarence French, Hedley.

Good Progress On Waterworks

Accounts totalling $27,911.58 were passed for payment at Tuesday's council session. This amount included considerable payment for the domestic water extension project to the North Bench-Crescent Beach area.

Good progress has been reported on this work and Water Foreman E. Kercher, in charge of the installation, beamed when asked how the way has been progressing.

For the past few days installation of pipe along Okanagan highway has been progressing.

Merchants Wallop Red Sox 9-5

Summerland Merchants walloped two Red Sox pitchers for a 9-5 victory at athletic park last night for the second straight victory over the junior squad. Jack Walsh went the distance for the winners. Jacobs started but was relieved by Bernie Jomori when the Merchants started to pound the left-hander.

Parks Board May be Elected Here At Municipal Voting Next December

Councillor Norman Holmes gave notice to municipal council on Tuesday that by the next council session he would be ready to submit a report on a proposal to set up a parks board for Summerland.

This news was elicited following Councillor Eric Tait's suggestion that machinery be set in motion so that a parks board can be elected at next December's general elections.

"The time has come when it is absolutely necessary to set up such a board," Councillor Tait emphasized.

"We have done a lot of work on the subject and I will have a report for the next meeting," promised Councillor Holmes.

Such a parks board, to co-ordinate work in all parks and the cemetery in Summerland area has been sought for some time by various individuals and groups. Evidently the council is planning the necessary machinery for an elective body to supervise parks board work.

Fail to Convict On Theft Charge

John Spurrell, one of a party of four who left Walter Wolfe's employ at the same time as two worthless cheques were cashed and a quantity of clothing and personal belongings disappeared, was acquitted in police court here last Friday, August 4, on a charge of theft of clothing.

Spurrell and James Reid were charged jointly with this theft, the latter also being accused of issuing worthless cheques in the amount of $140. Reid is still at large while Spurrell was apprehended in Vancouver and returned to Summerland.

Magistrate H. Sharman deemed there was insufficient evidence produced to convict.

partly has some fine fellows but their platform is always shaky and they have no stability. Organization Needed
Shortly he discussed the need for organization within the Liberal party and he praised the support and work of the Young Liberals and the women's organizations. Young Liberals are organizing strongly at the coast, in eastern Canada and in universities, he said. He declared that Yale with a working member of the government as its representative would be in a better position.

Mr. Mott reviewed the strong points of the prime minister and the cabinet ministers whose departments are outstanding. He mentioned specially Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner "who has done a wonderful job for the farmers."

Thanks of the gathering were expressed by C. J. McDowell, Vernon, defeated Liberal candidate in the last election.

C. W. Morrow, MLA, declared Yale Liberals' keynote should be: "A house divided against itself cannot stand," a quotation from the late W. L. Mackenzie King.

Get Behind the New Arena

MAINLY through the super-salesmanship of its president, George Stoll, the Summerland Rink Association has collected through sales of debentures approximately $15,000 towards the erection of a new hockey-curling rink in Summerland.

There were many of us who were dubious about the proposal. The Review commented editorially that a better proposition would be to finance the arena out of funds raised on the credit of the municipality through a money bylaw.

We still feel that that would have been fairer to all concerned. But that course was not decided upon and we have arrived at the point where the arena can be a definite structure within a few weeks. There may have been some in the district who did not subscribe because they did not believe the project would go through. There may have been others whose purchase of bonds was only a token gesture for the same reason.

But today George Stoll has reached the point where he can laugh at the scoffers for his goal is within sight. It would not take many of those who did not come through with bond purchases to the extent they might have done to put this project solidly over the top.

In the face of lukewarm support, to say the least, one man's spirit and blunt determination has succeeded. It is up to the citizens of Summerland to dig a little deeper now and make certain the project is completed in proper style.

Voluntary Task Force Not the Answer

ON Monday evening Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent announced to the world that if the citizens of his country volunteered Canada would raise a task force which would be available for the Korean conflict—if that war lasts that long—or for other policing duties.

It is a noble gesture in its way but it definitely is limited in its scope.

Such a move should have been instituted many months ago so that Canada could stand behind its oath to the United Nations that she would lend assistance in time of threatened aggression.

Canada cannot undo that lack of foresight but she can start to prepare against any major aggression from the Russian front.

It will take months to recruit a task force of 5,000 all ranks. It will take months for such a force to be trained to handle modern weapons and to handle itself in such a manner that loss of life is not too great.

We would humbly suggest that the Korean conflict should be settled one way or another before such Canadian troops are ready to be given their battle inoculation.

Also, the fact that the Prime Minister has followed in the footsteps of the late William Lyon

Mackenzie King and called for volunteers is another indication that Canadians as a whole are not prepared to share their sacrifices equally.

Mr. St. Laurent calls upon veterans of World War II to rush to the colors again to form the nucleus of this volunteer task force. He is asking those men who, by their voluntary action in 1939-45, helped to hurl back the Nazi horde to come forward and offer themselves once more.

We were hopeful that after the mistakes of World War II, when Canadian units were in precarious positions because of lack of reinforcements, that the government of Canada would measure up to its responsibility. We were hopeful that when the call came to stand against enemy aggression in the name of a free nation that the burden would be apportioned equally.

But the bugbear of conscription and its reaction in Quebec is evidently still too strong.

Instead of compulsory training for all young men physically fit in their late teens and early twenties, so that if the need arises an army of partially-trained men can be mustered without undue loss of time, we are still calling only on those who have the call of their country closest to their hearts.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

The belief that a person can do any mortal thing he sets his mind to is an invigorating one, but apt to be rather hard on other people who happen to be in the way. I once knew a young chap who for several years built up a dazzling career on little more than a boundless belief in his own ability, but most of us thought him insufferably conceited, even downright annoying, and we were all secretly pleased when his theory collapsed.

Its disintegration began without warning when Algy was in Vancouver, hunting up advertising for the newspaper whose editor just then had the honor of helping him along his upward way. Algy plunged into the job thoroughly, as he always did, but soon his feet were sore from pavement pounding. Street-cars seemed very ordinary and taxis very expensive, so he hit upon the bright idea of hiring a U-drive.

"You used to driving in the city?"

"Sure," lied Algy loftily.

"Got your driver's license?"

It wasn't safe to lie about that one, but Algy convinced the attendant that it was a mere freak that found him, even early in the spring, without his usual driver's license. As a matter of fact his only driving had been of his father's old Chev on country roads years before, since press passes are cheaper to travel on than your own gasoline; but his confidence was so overwhelming that the attendant said,

"Well, drive over to the police station and I'll phone them to see if they'll give you a test right away. Here's the car."

The new Mercury was very different from the ancient Chev he remembered, but after some trouble with the steering-wheel gear shift Algy got over to the police station, picked up a pleasant, red-faced constable, and sailed majestically out into downtown Vancouver traffic.

At the first intersection he stepped hard, as of old custom, on the brakes and nearly snapped the policeman's head off.

"What are you stopping at a green light for?" demanded the officer.

Only then did Algy remember a defect which he had tried for years to forget, since all defects are unbecoming to great men—that he couldn't tell the slightest difference between red and green.

He was still determined, however, that a man could do anything he set his mind to, so he let out the clutch abruptly, snapping the policeman's head the opposite direction by way of compensation and seeing the same apparent color of light facing him at the next intersection, stormed across it.

Halfway he realized his mistake and jammed on his brakes just in time. Horns hopped, drivers cursed, cars streamed at and around him, while the policeman drew on a practised vocabulary and Algy could feel sweat and self-confidence oozing out of his every pore.

After that jam, he watched the cars on either side very carefully to get a clue to the traffic lights; with the result that he did not pay enough attention to what was ahead of him, had several near collisions, over-ran another red light, and another time stopped so abruptly in the wrong place that a car crashed into him from behind.

"For Heaven's sake get me back to the station," roared the police officer, several shades paler. Algy immediately tried to turn left in the face of a red light, and by the time they got out of that jam the policeman was not red-faced at all, and even the power of speech seemed to have failed him.

He managed, however, to make it very clear that Algy would not get his driver's license, so the young man had to take the Mercury back with the best excuse he could think up, and by the time he got back to his foot-slog ging rounds he was a pretty deflated young egoist. Poor Algy! He never did regain his old confidence in his own power and importance, and his brilliant career did not amount to anything extraordinary after all.

But he has been a lot pleasanter person to know since that disaster foray into city traffic, as maybe his color-blindness was not a total disaster after all.

thunder and lightning storm of the season was in full force. A bolt of lightning struck the smoke stack, leaving a streak where the paint had been burned off. The boat narrowly escaped being set on fire.

Believed to have been forced down to lower levels by forest fires, a large black bear and a lynx were sighted at Brent's Lake by Leslie Gould and Tom Washington.

Formation of a labor college for British Columbia workers, in Summerland, may result from the third annual session of the Summerland School of Social Science which will open here on August 10, at the Log Cabin. The school is under the management of Jack Legie.

Philip Scurren, who left on Wednesday for his former home in the Old Country, was presented by the local IOOF lodge with a handsome ebony toilet set when he was guest of honor at a special meeting of lodge members.

A washout at the pumping station near Trout Creek Point is proving more difficult to cope with than any previous occurrence of this nature for years. Time and again workmen have opened the Summerland-Pentlton road to traffic only to have it blocked again by more slides. A temporary bridge over the water flow was covered by a landslide this morning.

Editorial comment—Summerland residents should realize the fact that this town could be made in to a summer resort second to none in the interior. As years go by the population of B.C. is certain to become greater. Vancouver is hoping to double its population within a few years. City residents should be impressed with the Okanagan and particularly Summerland, as ideal for vacation purposes.

The Ring of Fire

Facts About Advertising

Almost everyone has heard the assertion that advertising has helped greatly in raising our standard of living, although some may doubt that this is true.

There really is no need for any doubt about the matter, if we can agree on what we mean by standards of living. Most of us believe that the standard of living is measured in terms of ordinary comforts and luxuries. In these terms, advertising has done much toward improving our lot.

When we stop to consider, it truly is miraculous how speedily any useful new invention becomes popular nowadays. Only forty years ago, it was a comparatively slow process to introduce a new product, no matter how desirable. One hundred years ago it was almost impossible to market a new article rapidly. Living standards advanced much more slowly in those days.

The development of modern advertising has been largely responsible for this change. Of course, there have been many other improvements in business besides the development of advertising but none of them are as important as advertising in promoting new ideas and creating new demands.

Nothing can be sold unless there is a demand for it, Human beings are born with only the most primitive demands and the modern consumer buys only that which he had learned to want. Today, much of our learning to want new things comes from advertising. While we may be interested by ordinary news about the invention of some clever household convenience, we are not inspired to do anything about buying it until advertising has translated the idea into terms of our own personal use.

During the present century we have adopted many new things, which add to our enjoyment of life. Almost none of them could have been introduced to general use quickly without the aid of advertising to stimulate our interest and desire.

Take radios for example. When radios were first put on the market, they swept the country. On the other hand, when phonographs were first introduced, it took a long time to popularize them. Yet the first radio sets were certainly no better than the first phonographs. The important difference was that more and better advertising was used in selling the radio sets. When phonographs were first placed on sale advertising was still in its swaddling clothes.

When washing machines were introduced to housewives, they were advertised only in a limited way as compared with vacuum sweepers, which came much later. As a result, washing machines came into use much more slowly than the more highly advertised vacuum sweepers, although both are now indispensable.

In merchandising food products, the evolution from the crackerbox and molasses barrel to the sanitary, attractive packaging of today is largely due to the influence of advertising.

B.C. FINANCIAL TIMES ASKS:

"What is a Catastrophe?"

One opinion on the assistance which Okanagan fruit growers have sought from the government has been voiced in editorial comment in a recent issue of The B.C. Financial Times. As it gives a business view of the plight of an agricultural industry it should be of interest to this district:

"Manufacturers Take Heavy Losses—Appeal to Government for Aid." Many people of the nation would laugh right out loud if they saw such a headline in the paper, but it is about time that they began to think seriously about its possibility, for the day may not be far distant when something very similar might occur.

The reason is simple enough. This spring there has been a series of disasters when fire, flood and frost hit this nation, and in every case the group that suffered any loss cried aloud for help from the Dominion government.

The latest of these is in our own Okanagan, where the fruit farmers suffered severe damage from frost so that there is to be some loss. Of course, they put in their plea for help to the newspapers which immediately burgeoned forth with the following or similar headlines, "Hard-hit Okanagan Fruit Growers Seek Immediate Government Relief," and so on.

Now this is an industry (and make no mistake about it) which has been making very heavy profits with top prices being obtained. Yet, despite this, it would appear that no attempt has been made to cover itself through insurance from what are commonly called "acts of God."

Now this writer does not object to paying as high as 32 cents a pound for Bing Cherries, but he also thinks that when he does have to pay that much, with the growers making huge profits, they should consider themselves in the same bracket as other speculative business and should not, immediately something occurs which gives them a temporary setback, cry to the government (which, in effect, means the taxpayer) for still more government aid.

It is about time that the people began to ask, as the Prime Minister already has, "What did you do to help yourself, and, if you didn't do it why?"

The cold hard facts are that there are ways to take care of and cushion the effects of disasters commonly called "acts of God". In the case of floods and fire, for example, a little planning plus an efficient fire and dyke insurance is what is needed, and these should be considered as part of the cost of construction.

What, for example, would the ordinary person think of a manufacturer who did not take all possible precaution against fire and then insure himself against it besides? Why even the prairie wheat farmer insures against such things as hail.

That is why the Times thinks it is about time that the people began to realize there must be a definition as to what is a catastrophe so that a line shall be clearly drawn between necessary help to the unfortunate and the spend-thrift help to groups which should know how to take care of themselves. This does not mean that some form of assistance on a loan basis should not be proffered if found necessary to some at least of the Okanagan growers, but it should be a loan and not an outright grant, for that is something else again.

Teen Town

Well, Teen Towners, your council is going to try once more to get you supporting Teen Town.

On Saturday night there will be a hay ride. This is guaranteed fun. The ride will leave from the B.C. A big public meeting to discuss thoroughly irrigation problems has been called by the board of trade in St. Andrew's hall. Growers will be given an opportunity to voice their opinion upon what should be done to improve the irrigation system. Heavy expenditures to improve the system are being urged in some quarters.

With school opening soon, there is still no principal for the high school.

C.C.F. Group Hears Report On Convention

Mr. Jack Snowsell of Kelowna, Yale riding delegate to the CCF national convention at Vancouver in July attended the Summerland CCF club meeting, held at Mr. T. J. Garnett's house on Monday evening, to report on the convention.

He gave highlights of speeches by M. J. Coldwell, MP, and Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan and excerpts from the speeches of Grant McNeill, CCF provincial chairman and Frank Scott, national chairman.

Mr. Snowsell then dealt with several of the resolutions approved, chiefly those dealing with agriculture, marketing, old age pensions and housing.

The chief topic of discussion after the report was the CCF stand on the Korean situation. Mr. Snowsell quoted important paragraphs from papers on CCF policy issued by the National Council, one as follows.

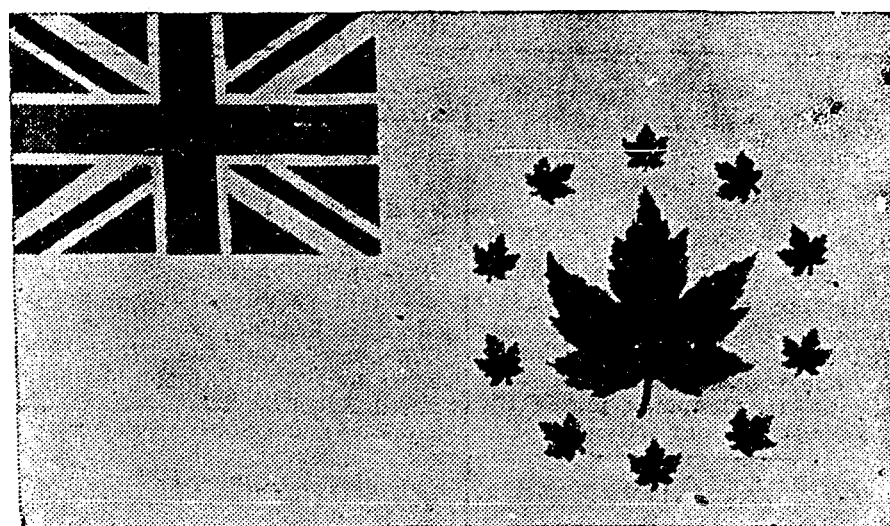

"The goal in Korea must not only be the defeat of aggression; the responsibility of the United Nations is to promote the emergence of Korea as a free, democratic and united nation with the means of raising the living standards of its people."

A. J. Beer visiting from California, in addressing the meeting, said he felt that the national CCF leaders should have expressed severe condemnation of the capitalist system and its persistent "doping" of the people by radio, press, etc.

He was told that the convention audience was comprised of socialists fully aware of "capitalistic methods of hysteria propaganda" and that the purpose of the speakers was to suggest constructive democratic methods of dealing with these evils, "by reason and logic."

Mr. Snowsell read, quoting Mr. Coldwell:

"Those who have analyzed the capitalist system and have pointed out that there is a division of society in which we live have contributed a useful service to our movement; but where anyone promotes something of the nature of hatred of class for class and group for group they are doing a disservice to the socialist movement."

This for Canada's national flag has been adopted by No. 118 Branch, (6th Hussars) Canadian Legion, and will be submitted for approval at the biennial Dominion convention in Winnipeg this September. Drawn by George J. McMurdo, 640 Brault avenue Verdun, Que., it shows a Union Jack in the first quarter (upper left colored maple leaf, the whole on a white background).

Apple Crop Continues to Size Well in Westside District

"The apple crop is continuing to size remarkably well," states the Summerland, Westbank, Peachland report included in the fortnightly issue of the horticultural news letter of the horticultural branch of the provincial department of agriculture.

"Most of the Yellow Transparent have now been picked and thinning of late variety apples is about completed. A few growers have started to spray for second brood codling moth but spraying for this pest is by no means general as yet.

"A number of growers have had to spray prunes this year in order to control various species of mites and leaf hoppers prevalent on this variety. During the past week mites have been seen on pears in increasing numbers and along with pear psylla have been a problem for some pear growers.

"Fire blight is bad in some orchards but is not as widespread as in 1949." Penticton-Naramata section states that green apple aphid is still the major orchard pest and "this is the first time in the memory of the oldest growers that this aphid has been so general on mature trees."

Penticton also reports that a new mite known as Willamette was picked up in the residential portion of the city last week. This is an entirely new mite in the South Okanagan. Never Looked Better

"In general, the orchards never looked better, all varieties of fruit are now sizing well with moisture conditions adequate," Penticton report concludes.

Oliver-Osoyoos area expects to start picking Rochester peaches by the end of next week.

Kelowna states that apples of the McIntosh variety and earlier and some blocks of Delicious are sizing well. Italian prunes, where trees were injured last winter, are small while the light crop of pears is shaping up well.

The North Okanagan states that "the apple crop is sizing satisfactorily with the exception of those trees injured due to winter conditions. Estimates on some of the later varieties may possibly be reduced owing to fruit not sizing, as a considerable number of trees are still dying and drying up.

Masters English Language in Year After Arrival from Native Holland

Just a year ago Hendrik Wouters arrived in Summerland with his wife and family from his native Netherlands.

Then, he could speak only half a dozen words of English, such as "How are you?", "Goodbye", and "I love you."

Last Friday, Hendrik Wouters, a new Canadian proud of his adopted country, was guest speaker at the Rotary Club of Summerland weekly dinner meeting in the Nu-Way Annex.

Impresses Rotarians

With hardly a trace of nervousness he discussed his native land, traced its early history and told of its struggles during World War II and the post-war period. Although his accent was not quite right on some words his mastery of the English language in such a short time was impressive to his attentive audience.

Holland has struggled for years against the sea, as most of its land is below sea level. But the Netherlands has conquered the sea, has pushed the land forward in many cases, and has a wonderful system of dykes and canals, the latter forming the main highways. The main problem for most of the drainage schemes was not to push back the sea but to keep it from returning, he stated.

Mr. Wouters described the "Golden Age" of Holland after the Prince of Orange gave the country her independence.

In the last war the Netherlands went through five years of Nazi hate and domination.

Thousands of men were taken to Germany for war factories and lived on rations less than the Germans. Many of these workers lost their lives in the Allied bombing raids of Germany.

But with the cessation of hostilities, troubles did not cease as export markets had gone and the machinery for manufacture of goods had also disappeared in many cases. The Marshall Plan brought the needed assistance, he said, and enabled the country to

VLA Small Holding Judging Underway

Final judging of B.C. small holdings in the second annual Veterans' Land Act development competition began August 1 and will be completed within three weeks by a three-man team of judges now touring the province. Prizes totalling $1200 will be awarded those veterans whose VLA properties show the most landscaping and agricultural progress.

Victor C. Booth, 4, of 607 Schoolhouse Rd., Coquitlam, who is head gardener for the provincial government in the New Westminster area; W. H. Ozard, VLA district development supervisor; and the VLA regional supervisor in the area concerned constitute the judging team.

"Mr. Booth, a veteran of the Royal Canadian Engineers, has given up his holidays to do this job for us gratis," states VLA district superintendent D'Arcy Baldwin.

Examination of Fraser Valley and Delta small holdings were completed by August 4. The team went to the Kootenays, is doubling back through the Okanagan this week, and proceeds up the Cariboo to Prince George. The week of August 14 will be spent judging finalists on Vancouver Island and the gulf coast.

W. M. Mott

the poll captain system, as Yale is so diversified it needs decentralization.
He pointed out that North Okanagan and Similkameen have returned Liberals to Coalition government and "South Okanagan is only Conservative because of the setup in the provincial field."

Maurice Finnerty, MLA, believed that the great leadership enjoyed by the Liberals over the past quarter century has been the main reason for the party's success.

"We are fortunate to have a Liberal leader in this province whom we can marvel at his personal integrity, whose one ideal is for the good" of the province.

"Having sold Coalition to this province we should continue Coalition for the duration of this government, at least," he added.

Strength in Leadership
"As long as we have such men as Mackenzie King, St. Laurent Smallwood and Byron Johnson we need have no fear for the Liberal party in Canada," he concluded.

At the outset, the rally voted in favor of the formation of an advisory body, one from each local, to meet when called in as central a place as possible.

It was also thought advisable that the Yale member on the B.C. Liberal advisory council should automatically be a member of the Yale Liberal Assn. executive.

Entertainment features were provided by George Yochim of Kelowna and Keith Sayers of Summerland.

LEGION BASKET PICNIC ENJOYED BY 90 MEMBERS

Wednesday afternoon, August 2, about 90 Legionnaires, wives and children, gathered at Powell Beach for a basket supper picnic. The weather was not as pleasant as had been hoped but in spite of the wind swimming and races were enjoyed. Although the supper tables had been set up on the beach it was so windy that they were moved into the sheltered parking space.

A ball game between the women and the men was great fun and, of course, the so-called weaker sex proved that they could win a ball game!

Winners of the races were: Girls 3 yrs and under, Shirley Kopp; boys, 3 yrs and under, Robbie Canning; girls, 6 yrs and under, Ann McLachlan; boys, 6 yrs and under, Dick Dunsdon; girls, 8 yrs and under, ball throwing with the left hand, Phyllis Young; boys, 8 yrs and under, ball throw, Clifford Shannon; girls, 10 yrs and under, straw and bean race, Diane Durick; ladies' straw and bean race 1st, Mrs. Durick, 2nd, Mrs. Rositch; ladies' wheelbarrow race, Mrs. Durick and Mrs. S. Canning.

Tea and swimming were part of the afternoon's entertainment.

Bride-Elect's Mother Honored in Same House 30 Years Ago

On Thursday afternoon, August 3, the lawn in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Miller was the scene of a bridal shower for the second time this summer.

Mrs. B. P. Davis, her daughter, Miss Audrey Davis and Mrs. Miller were co-hostesses for this occasion, honoring Miss Mareta Embree.

Thirty years ago Miss Embree's mother, Mrs. John J. Embree was feted in a similar way in the same house, which was then the Robert Johnston home. Six of last week's guests were present at the shower of thirty years ago.

Accepting the invitation to the home of a friend farther down the road, the honoree was arrested on her way by familiar chords of a wedding march and the suggestion of this friend to join the group of over thirty friends gathered on the shady lawn of the Miller home. Here she was taken to a chair under an arch of pink and white and from the bell suspended from it confetti was falling soon.

Flowers and crepe paper decorated attractively the huge box filled with beautiful and useful gifts which was wheeled in on a cart by three little girls, Anthea Morgan, Darlene Miller and Patricia McCutcheon.

After opening and display of each much-appreciated present tea was served on the lawn where lace-covered tables centred by vases of sweet peas were arranged. An appropriately iced bride's cake decorated the table while at another Mrs. G. A. Fisher and Mrs. C. Morgan poured tea.

Invited guests were Mrs. J. J. Embree and Arlene, Mrs. F. S. Miller, Mrs. G. Morgan, Mrs. J. Y. Towgood, Mrs. G. A. Fisher, Mrs. C. Morgan, Mrs. F. Davis, Mrs. T. Joy, Mrs. M. Embree, Mrs. E. Tait, Mrs. Oliver Smith, Mrs. P. Willis, Mrs. S. Canning, Mrs. Wm. McCutcheon, Mrs. N. Laidlaw, Mrs. L. Shannon, Mrs. Wm. Woodbridge, Mrs. Wm. May, Mrs. W. King, Mrs. E. Deringer, Mrs. L. A. Miller, Mrs. G. Lewis, Mrs. W. Davis, Mrs. E. Stevenson, Mrs. Theresa McDougald, Mrs. Eva Steuart, Mrs. E. Parrott, Mrs. P. Miller, Mrs. W. Charles, Miss Edith Verity, Miss Harriet Joy, Miss Annie Joy and Miss Doreen Tait.

Brown Owl Honored On Eve of Departure

The local Association to the Girl Guides of which Mrs. Dewey Sarnborn is president, were guests of Mrs. Harrison in the Rectory Gardens on Monday afternoon when members arranged a tea to honor Mrs. Leslie Mallett, Brown Owl of the 1st Summerland Brownie Pack.

Mrs. Mallett and her family are leaving Summerland this week to make their home at Vancouver and members of the Guide movement in Summerland greatly regret her departure.

Presentation of a purse was made to Mrs. Mallett by Mrs. F. V. Harrison who told of the excellent work done by the recipient in training brownies.

Municipal Clerk Is Gift Recipient

Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith who leaves this week for his forthcoming marriage to Miss Ellen Torrance at E'rose, Sask., was the recipient of a trillight lamp at Tuesday afternoon's council session.

Reeve C. E. Bentley, on behalf of himself and his four councillors, made the presentation, expressing the council's appreciation for Mr. Smith's work and the harmony which has existed between the municipal office staff and the council.

A delightful tea was served in the beautiful outdoor setting with most of the members, including Guiders present.

"Maybe I am a rugged individualist!"

"No reporters ever interview me. But just the same I figure every man should have his own opinions about politics, foreign affairs, business, or what have you.

"Take all this talk nowadays about old-age benefits, for instance. That's something everybody wants. And each man has a different idea of how much security he wants and how he'll get it.

"I know there are a lot of old folks in this country that really need help. But while I'm young and earning good money, I figure the big part of my own security-building job is up to me.

"So, I'm hanging on to all my life insurance and adding to it whenever I can. It gives me and my family protection now — and a better income for the future. And it's all planned the way I want it.

"What's more, by relying on life insurance for my future security, I know exactly where I stand. My life policies are gilt-edged in any weather. I know just how much they're going to pay off — and when.

"That's the way I like it.

"Maybe that makes me a rugged individualist. But if it does, there are millions of others like me. Because most Canadians like to do things on their own!"

SAVE WHAT YOU CAN AFFORD TO SAVE REGULARLY

The best way to save is to plan for it. Decide how much you can afford to put aside regularly—every pay day, for example—and then stick to your plan.

Whatever your reason for saving, this is the sure method to build up a worthwhile sum in your account. Save regularly and you'll have cash when you need it—for your vacation or for Christmas expenses, for the down-payment on your own home, the sudden emergency or the opportunity that's too good to miss.

Why not work out your savings plan today, to fit into the family budget? Or, if you like, come and have a chat with Ted Beech, accountant at the local branch of the bank of Montreal, about it. Canadians keep over a billion dollars in savings in the B of M—more than in any other bank. Open your account at "My Bunk", and your savings will grow well in such good company.—Adv't.

Ten Hours of Sunshine Daily During July

Despite the many long, sunny days in July nearly 2½ inches of rain fell during the 31 days but it was mainly concentrated in one period July 27 to 29, when 1.78 inches were recorded at the government weather station at the Dominion Experimental station. That particular rainstorm started Thursday night, lasted all day Friday and did not conclude until Saturday morning. The temperature dropped from a high of 95 on July 25 to a high of 67 and a low of 48 degrees on the day of the main rainfall.

However, the average for the month was 84 maximum and 56 minimum, which indicated plenty of hot weather. The daily average sunshine was around 10 hours even with no sun at all on July 28.

Following is a complete record for the month.

Another Contract for PGE Work is Let

Contract for the construction of the superstructure of the Cottonwood River bridge between Quesnel and Prince George has been awarded to the Dominion Bridge Company, announces Premier Byron I. Johnson.

The superstructure will cost in the neighborhood of approximately $560,000. This contract is the last one to be let in connection with this particular project, the firm of Dawson and Hall Ltd., having been awarded the contract sometime ago for the substructure.

Cottonwood Canyon has for years presented an engineering problem and it will be recalled that a new crossing was discovered a little more than a year ago which has given a much shorter span at far less cost than otherwise could have been secured.

"Eugene Bruck" Faces Worthless Cheque Charges In North

Edwin Marlin, alias Eugene Bruck, is in Salmon Arm jail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and by lotteries. He was arrested in Winnipeg and returned to this province by B.C. Police escort.

Bruck is accused of having obtained $250 by means of worthless cheques cashed in Kamloops and also obtained amounts from two Salmon Arm merchants. He is also said to have been instrumental in operating lotteries in the Okanagan.

Marlin spent about two weeks in Summerland under the name of Bruck before proceeding north. No cheques of a similar nature were cashed here, as far as can be ascertained

Armstrong Calls For Westside Road Project

Armstrong Board of Trade has been pressing recently for the building of a westside road from Westbank to O'Keefe's on that side of Okanagan Lake. In replying to a communication to the public works department, E. S. Jones, deputy minister, had this to say:

"I have been directed to acknowledge receipt of your letter of June 28th addressed to the Honourable E. C. Carson in regard to the Westside Road on Okanagan Lake.

"Upon completion of our present program, consideration will be given to improvement to the Westside road."

REVIEW CLASSIFIED ADS BRING RESULTS

Thanks From Manitoba Winnipeg, Man. July 7, 1950.

Editor, The Review:

On May 26th, we wired to you seeking your co-operation in connection with the Manitoba Flood Relief Fund. At that time the Red River flood was at its height and many thousands of the Red River Valley area had been driven from their homes.

The flood waters have now receded and business life of the community is back to normal. As a result of the generous help given by the weekly newspapers of Canada in support of the Fund along with the assistance given by the press and radio of Canada, and some thousands of local committees which have been giving their energetic help to the Fund, we now have received contributions of more than $6,500,000 in cash, and goods to the value of several hundreds of thousands of dollars, which goods have been directed to the Red Cross and Salvation Army for distribution to flood victims.

The generous contributions made to the Fund will enable us to carry out our objective of fully compensating flood victims for loss of furniture, home furnishings and personal belongings destroyed or damaged by the flood waters. Approximately 1,000,000 persons have contributed to the Fund. These contributions have ranged from 25 cents up to $360,000 received from the Line Elevator Companies and the grain trade.

The Manitoba Flood Relief Committee has decided to bring the campaign to a close on July 15th. In ending the campaign the committee and the flood victims whose homes will be restored by the Fund, wish to express to The Summerland Review deep appreciation for all that you have done in enabling the Fund to reach its objective. They also ask that through your columns they be permitted to convey their heartfelt thanks to the citizens of your district who have contributed so generously and to those who have worked so diligently in local efforts on behalf of the Fund.

We feel that the contributors to the Fund will be interested in knowing that the raising of the Fund was accomplished entirely with voluntary help. As a result of all connected with the Fund having contributed their time and efforts, the cost of raising this large sum of money will be less than 1-2 of one per cent of the amount collected. We believe that this constitutes a low cost record in the raising of such a large Fund.

We would appreciate it if, through your columns you request that any local committees operating on behalf of the Fund forward any contributions on hand as soon as possible after the closing date of the campaign.

Again thanking you for your generous help.

Sincerely yours, Cecil Lamont.

Honorary National Organizer, Manitoba Flood Relief Fund.

DOMINION ROYAL TIRES

50 Academy Road, Westmount, Quebec. June 13, 1950.

Mr. Murray Byrens, Mid-Town Motor Sales Limited, 1395 Dorchester Street West, Montreal, Quebec.

*Dear Mr. Byrens,

You said we would be satisfied with the Vauxhall's performance. You understate, sir! Not only are we satisfied—we're astonished.

The Vauxhall's maneuverability in Montreal's helter-skelter traffic turned out to be excellent, as you assured us it would be. But we were wondering how it would manage those roads up above Labelle and in the back country around Nominique. Well, it managed everything from that early September construction mud to a one-deer cross-country track...

Our first long trip was an emergency flight to Detroit and back on an unseasonably hot late October weekend. We had changed to antifreeze for the trips up north, but that didn't faze that Vauxhall. It was a matter of some 1250 miles in about thirty hours driving time. Satisfactory, say we—considering the weekend traffic and the woolly fog we pushed through this side of Toronto one night. The Vauxhall's trunk took most of our luggage and there was room for the rest of it, and the four of us, inside.

I drove another make of car down to Albany a few weeks ago and got fooled three times by the pick-up. I had become used to the snap of the Vauxhall's acceleration when we turned out to pass. I found that the other car needed much more time and open road ahead. Three close calls driving me back into line were necessary before I caught on.

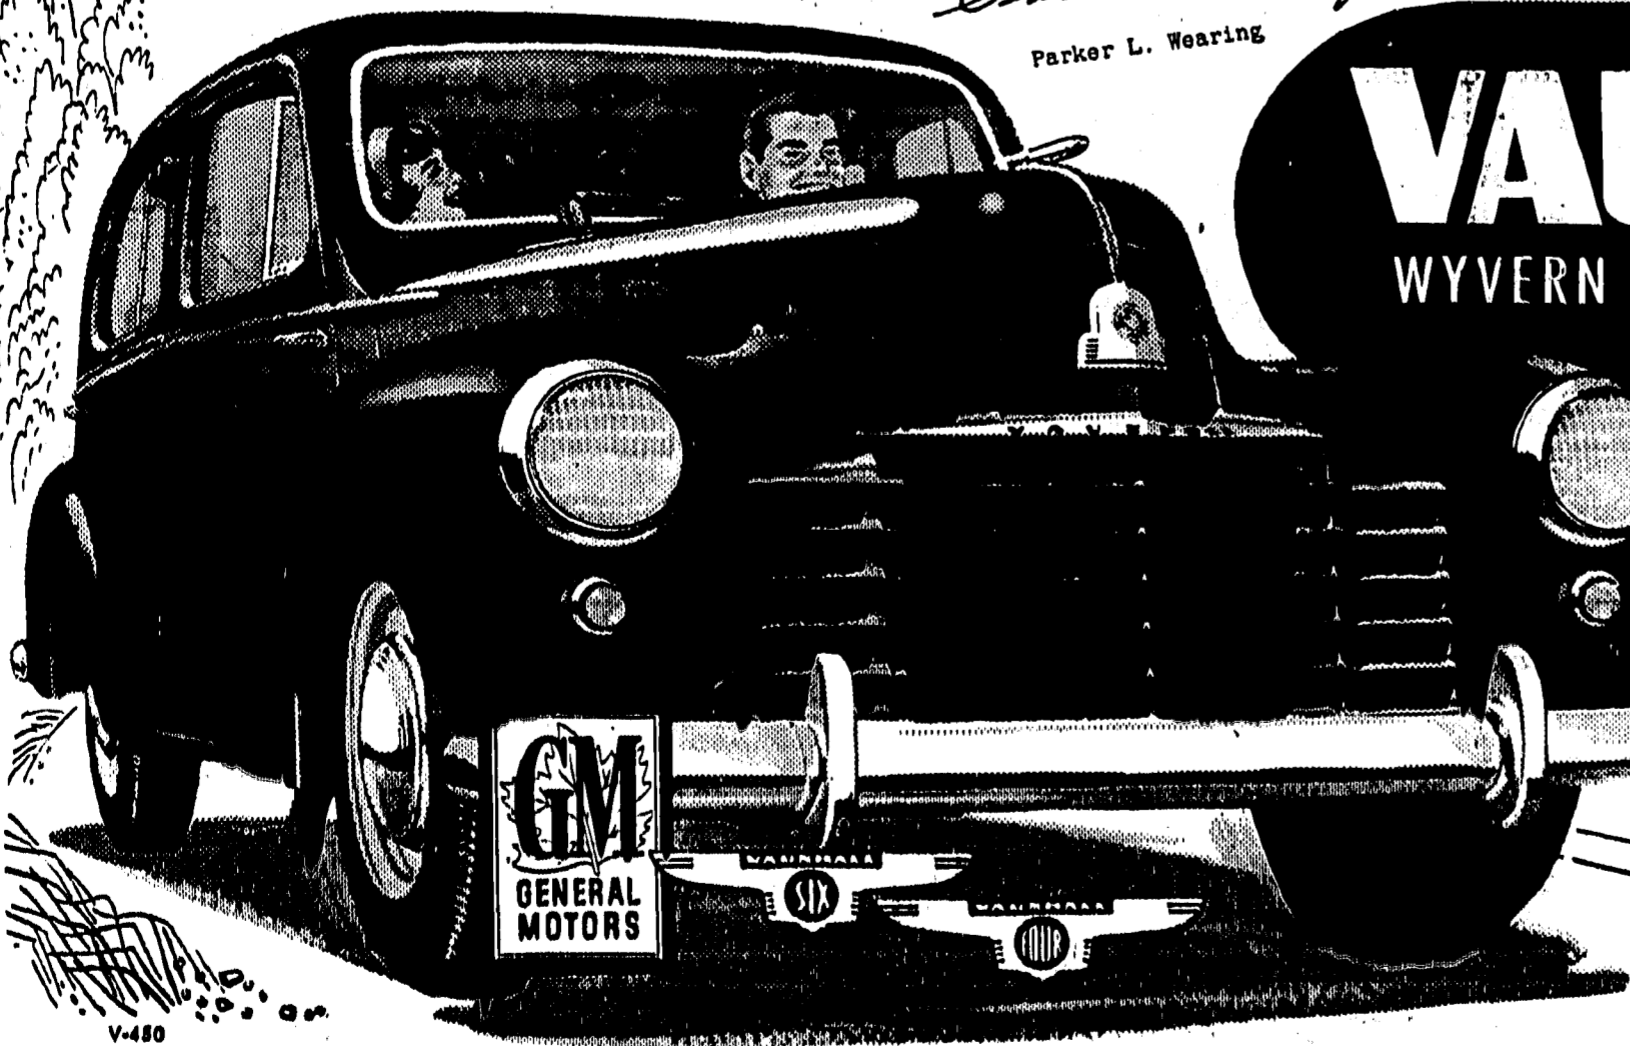

Driving a Vauxhall in winter we get a kick out of watching other cars at an intersection switch their tails around like angry lions trying to get started on ice. We just wait for them to slither over to the side while we go on our way. We're keeping the tires at 27 and they're gripping everything so far.

And there are a lot of little things we like about the Vauxhall: from the leather seats, the side signal lights, the heater, the footroom, to the way you can snap the windows shut on a second's notice with a flick of the wrist. But the main things are Vauxhall's ease of parking and the fact that we can afford to buy the gas—32 miles per is all right with us—and, well, we're just glad we didn't wait for that car we thought we wanted!

Yours sincerely,

Parker L. Wearing

Jones Confident Some Export Of Apples to Great Britain Will be Allowed This Year

KELOWNA. — Possibility that Great Britain may once again open its doors to the purchasing of Canadian apples, was seen by O. L. Jones, M.P. (Yale) who returned to Kelowna following the prorogation of parliament. Before leaving Ottawa, Mr. Jones conferred with Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of trade and commerce, and he has been assured that every avenue is being explored with a view of marketing apples in Britain.

Touching on representation made by growers for government assistance due to the loss of trees caused by the severe winter, Mr. Jones said he had been assured by federal authorities that as soon as the provincial government reviews the situation and assesses the damage, the federal government will cooperate to the fullest degree.

He has been in close touch with the situation and conferred with heads of various government departments who expressed anxiety to assist the fruit industry in any way possible within the scope of their authority, Mr. Jones said.

Dealing with other matters pertaining to the Okanagan, Mr. Jones said there has been a delay in the construction of new customs houses at Osoyoos, due to technicalities but these have now been ironed out, and building should get under way within the near future.

A modern customs house, designed to clear tourists with the minimum of delay, will be constructed. Rest room facilities and ample space for bus travellers will be included in the new structure.

Mr. Jones said he is endeavoring to get the government to once again open the municipal improvements' assistance act, to aid municipalities.

He pointed out $30,000,000 is lying idle in the fund, but that it has been closed for the past nine years. Mr. Jones said the government is willing to change the act, which would increase municipal borrowing limits at a low interest rate, but declared it is up to the municipalities to make representations to the provincial government requesting the fund be reopened. He thought it is a matter which could be taken up at the forthcoming dominion-provincial conference to be held in October.

Direct Request

If provincial governments make a direct request to the federal authorities for re-opening of the act, then the matter would be discussed, Mr. Jones said. He pointed out that every municipality that had borrowed in the past, had repaid the loan in full, plus interest.

Mr. Jones said he is working through the Okanagan Society for Revival of Indian Arts and Crafts with a view of requesting the government to amend the Indian act.

In conclusion the local M.P. said he found everyone in Ottawa "very co-operative."

Text of Letter

Following is the text of a letter sent by Mr. Jones to C. A. Hayden, secretary of the B.C.F.G.A. dealing with the emergency in the tree fruit area:

Messrs Fulton, Herridge and myself have just concluded a long interview with various heads of different departments of agriculture; included among them was the director of marketing service, the chairman of the price support improvement loan act, the port board, the director of the chairman of the Canadian farm property in good shape will not be pressed for interest on principal during the immediate period of their distress.

Mr. Shaw, speaking for his department, pointed out the difficulty there is, the lack of tangible property to deal with, and he pointed out that he does not come into the picture unless an emergency has been proved. He offered these following suggestions: that you must gather together evidence that the disaster was widespread and then it would not be difficult in his opinion to get relief, but he definitely pointed out that the onus is on the provincial government (of course, at the request of the farmers, in this case the B.C.F.G.A.) to secure the evidence of emergency and, then the provincial government should approach the dominion government with a proper case plus the information of what part they are prepared to take in the relief of the distress. He was very emphatic on this, that you should get the provincial government to secure the evidence. He reminded us of a statement made by the prime minister that no direct relief would be given but they were willing to share with the province to meet the distress.

Tree Removal

One of the people present gave the information in answer to a question that the Nova Scotia tree removal plan was not very satisfactory. That was the plan under which growers received $4 per tree to remove unwanted trees and he expressed the opinion that the scheme will not be repeated but it was pointed out that the provincial government should sponsor the plan then seek dominion government assistance.

Mr. McRae of the farm improvement loan act said that his department will deal with individual cases and he foresaw no difficulty in granting some assistance and that most applicants who are not too heavily involved, financially, can be taken care of. Of course, as you know, under this act, the maximum loan is $3,000 and the maximum period for any loan 10 years, with low rate of interest and repayment plan. These loans could be made for the purchase of trees and planting, etc. Mr. McRae said his department would be only too pleased to be of assistance to anyone making application under this particular act.

Ready to Help

The over-all picture as I see it, is that the dominion government is willing to give substantial assistance if and when requested to do by the provincial government. It seems they have been following this policy with flood and other relief cases for some time but have now made it a basic principle in their negotiations.

As Mr. Fulton and Mr. Herridge are both writing to you, separately we came to the conclusion that this was the best way, so that you would have the impression made on the three of us to gather from them the information that you seek.

First of all, the Canadian farm loan board are very concerned about the situation but being a crown corporation it is limited to the extent of the act and the policy of the board that all loans must be based on sound economic and customary mortgage basis. That is, roughly they borrow the money from investors at 3% and loan it at 4½%. The whole operation of the department functions on the small margin of profit (1½%) but they will increase any loans that are now held by any farmer who suffered loss to the full extent of any securities that he has left. They would purchase mortgages from others (private interests), if necessary, to increase the loan to the full value of the security. All farmers who keep their farms and loan board, and Colonel Wheeler of the wheat and vegetable board. They gave us a very fine interview, all expressing their anxiety to assist the fruit industry in any way possible within the scope of their authorities.

Telephone Workers Get New Agreement

A new working agreement between the traffic division of the Federation of Telephone Workers of British Columbia and the Okanagan Telephone Company, was signed by representatives of these bodies in Vancouver on July 26.

This working agreement is in effect from June 1, 1950, to December 31, 1952, with the provision that salary negotiations may be opened by either parties after due notice in December 1951.

This agreement will increase telephone operators' salaries in the Okanagan System by approximately 5% from June last, and starting January 1, 1951, provision has been made for telephone operators to change from the present 6-day 7-hour week to a 5-day 7½-hour week in the majority of the Okanagan Telephone Company's exchanges.

The negotiations between the federation's representatives and those of the Okanagan Telephone Company's, were carried out in Vernon early in July, and a feeling of harmony between the parties concerned was clearly in evidence.

Miss M. Crowe of Winnipeg has been spending a week here, guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie.

Merchants Wind Up In Cellar

Summerland Merchants went down to defeat 9-6 to land squarely in the cellar of the Okanagan International baseball league as the final contests were played on Sunday. Mansfield, who had occupied the bottom position with the Merchants, proved victors in last Sunday's final game and shoved the local lads firmly down into the last spot.

Jack Walsh proved ineffective on the mound for the Merchants and in three frames gave up seven runs on five hits, two walks and three hit batters.

Wally Day relieved him and held Mansfield to two lone tallies for the rest of the game, striking out seven batters and really taking control of the situation.

Merchants fought back but did not have enough power to overcome the first half handicap.

Mansfield opened the contest with a triple by Collins with one on board. Pitcher Bowers made it 2-0 when he singled Kinzel across in the second.

Five Runs in Third

That wasn't too bad, but then came the horrible third frame. Glessner walked, Collins singled Matthesen was hit by a pitched ball and Tupling leaped into a Walsh offering for a three-bagger to score three runs. Tupling was scored on Kinzel's single, the latter stealing home from third to put Mansfield out in front 7-0.

Three hits in a row off Day in the fifth scored the other two Mansfield tallies.

Merchants had a big chance in the fourth when George Taylor started things with a triple, but he died there as Dunham and Daryl Weitzel struck out and Day grounded out.

Two infield errors and Walsh's second hit of the day scored the first two Merchants' tallies in the fifth. In the seventh, Kuroda scored his second run when he doubled and was scored, along with Walsh on Vanderburgh's mighty triple. Final rally came in the ninth when Walsh singled and Taylor finished a great day with the hickory by pounding out a circuit smash.

Bob Weitzel was pressed into service as catcher when Metcalfe could not make the trip and he handled himself well.

Apart from exhibition games and a series with the Red Sox the Merchants have had it for this season.

Homeruns decided the recent all star game played at Chicago's ball park as the National League topped the American League 4-3. Ralph Kiner, pictured above, the Pirates' home run king, belted a four bagger in the 9th inning to tie up the ball game and Red Schoendienst, Card's second baseman, repeated with a 360 ft. clout in the 14th. This is the first time the Nationals have won since 1944 and the fifth since the series began in 1933.

First Winners in Hole-in-One Play

The Kiwanis Hole-in-One competition which is played on Wednesday and Saturday evenings in the Living Memorial park playground has brought out quite a few golf enthusiasts. It will continue with final play-offs among each evening's winners.

On the first Wednesday evening Mrs. Alex Smith won the prize for the putt nearest the hole, and on Saturday evening the prize went to Mr. Ronald McKay who was within eight and a half inches of sinking his putt.

A forty-foot range has been established, too, and there will be prize for this distance as well.

Hockey Loop Opens On September 29

Opening game of the mainline Okanagan hockey league will be played on Friday, September 29 when the championship Kamloops Elks team travels to Kerrisdale. Present plans call for two trips to the coast and to the Kootenays for each team. Nanaimo and Kerrisdale will journey twice to the interior and once to the Kootenays. Each of the Okanagan teams will play Saturday and Sunday games at Spokane and will play single games at Trail, Nelson and Kimberley.

Fishing Reports

(by Bert Berry)

Okanagan Lake—The lake is giving up lots of fish, but none is big; up to 1 1/2 pounds. The best fishing grounds here are from Summerland to Powell Beach close to shore; and from Crescent Beach north, also fairly close in.

Garnet Valley Dam—Same as last week; giving up good catches from the deep holes.

Whitehead—Pack in from Chapman's; Dr. Munn and party in this week and report all kinds of fish, averaging one pound.

Bear Lake—Road good, boats available; last week fishing very good. Corky Haddrell got one 2 1/2 pounds and reports lots of good fish caught.

Agur Lake—Road good, no boats; fishing fair, down deep.

Glen Lake—Road rough, boats for hire; still good fishing here for the ones who can get in.

Silver Lake—Road poor, no boats; good fishing.

Shannon Lake—Road good, boats for hire; some real catches of perch and a few bass. Frank Jacobs and party brought out over 50 perch and five bass last week.

Fish Lake Chain—Road good, boats available; Fish lake just fair; all upper lakes very good.

Headwaters Fishing Camp—Road fair, boats available; lots of fish but no really big ones caught in past week.

Trout Creek—Lots of fish but take a ruler to measure. Lots of fun.

Nickel Plate Lake—Boy Scouts camp boys had lots of fun catching good fish up to 1 1/2 pounds. Report of one catch just prior to Scout camp weighing 5 1/2 pounds.

Job Study Essay Results Announced

Eight thousand essays on job studies of vocal opportunities in a selected industry were submitted from all portions of the province in a competition sponsored jointly by the Vancouver Board of Trade and the B.C. Products Bureau.

Bursaries in each district amounted to $50 first, $15 second and $10 third, totalling $1,425.

In zone 11, Kelowna and Pentiction inspectoral districts, following were the winners: 1, Aina Dsirlank, Southern Okanagan Junior-Senior high school, "Forestry"; 2, Marie Ishikawa, Pentiction junior-senior high school, "Accountancy"; 3, George Douglas, Copper Mountain high school, "Mining"; honorable mentions, Joan McKee, Pentiction, "Radio Technician"; and Margie McKinnon, Copper Mountain, "Safety Engineering".

Improve Road to Silver Star Peak

Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works and C. W. Morrow MLA for North Okanagan reached an agreement with City of Vernon last week whereby government and city road equipment could be used to widen and level the road to Silver Star and make it passable for traffic. Development of Silver Star peak as a recreation area has been boosted by Vernon for some time.

Red Sox in Playoff Finals When Princeton Defaults Game

Manager Joe Sheeley and his Red Sox got themselves into the South Okanagan junior league finals the easy way last Sunday when Princeton defaulted the return contest in the best of three series, but Manager Joe takes a dim view of such a procedure from a box office standpoint.

Princeton did not notify the Red Sox management until 8:30 Sunday morning that lack of transportation would find them unable to keep their engagement.

The $5 forfeit fee which the league demands will hardly cover advertising costs, Mr. Sheeley points out.

Naramata bowed to Pentiction 16-3 in the other playoff series and Pentiction will play the second game next Sunday, although the outcome is not in doubt, at all.

Therefore, Pentiction is expected to open the final playoff series against Summerland Red Sox at the Living Memorial athletic park on the following Sunday, August 20. In the meantime, Mr. Sheeley has gone to Vancouver to endeavor to arrange some type of a championship playoff for his Red Sox proteges against the coast champions. The Vancouver Jaycees handle negotiations for the coast city juniors but do not believe they can handle a guarantee sufficient to offset the Red Sox expenses.

In all probability the Red Sox will invite the coast champs to appear here for a B.C. championship event. It is expected Mr. Sheeley will be able to announce these plans in more definite form next week.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

Quiz No. 6

How much does it cost to advertise a 10c box of Canada's biggest-selling crackers? Is it 1c? 2c? 3c?

Answer: It costs less than 1/10¢. And that's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:

Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.

So advertising saves you many times that 1/10¢ per box.

NEW LAND

he was proposing to give up in roads and alleys.

Council immediately retorted that any person wanting a subdivision planned to make sufficient on the sale of the property to offset that given up for roads.

"We have passed a lot of subdivision plans and never before have we given land away in lieu of roads and lanes," emphasized Councillor Tai.

Mr. Stoll had mentioned some tentative deal of a few years back that concerned some James Lake property which Mr. Steuart had been anxious to obtain. He inferred that Mr. Steuart would be amenable to the proposed subdivision if he could obtain this land. However, this was Mr. Stoll's proposal and was not submitted by Mr. Steuart.

Steuart Decides to Go

Once the council had scored its point that it was not interested in any "horse-trading", there came a lull. It had been pointed out that Mr. Steuart was the one who had to make up his mind if he wished to proceed with the subdivision.

"We aren't getting anywhere; I might as well go," declared Mr. Steuart at this juncture.

But George Stoll was not to be pushed aside so lightly. He had Mr. Steuart's signed tentative agreement for sale in his pocket but could not proceed with any building unless the proposed subdivision was ratified.

"We've got to know about those roads and we don't intend to wait two or three weeks," came back Mr. Stoll. "There's no use in you leaving now."

So Mr. Steuart stayed and the next obstacle which met Mr. Stoll in his anxiety to proceed with the arena project was Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith's interjection that subdivision roads have to be rough-graded before plans can be approved.

"That is council policy," stated Mr. Smith.

At various stages Mr. Smith stopped Mr. Stoll cold in his tracks when the latter interjected comments as to how the project and subdivision would proceed.

"Council will tell you what you can do, not what you think," interjected Mr. Smith at one stage as Mr. Stoll became a trifle over-enthusiastic.

Mr. Stoll hastily and laughingly agreed that council had final say so and he was only trying to suggest not dictate.

Guarantee Road Clearing

Shortly after this exchange it was agreed that the rink association and Mr. Campbell would guarantee that the roads would be rough-graded. On the other hand council accepted this agreement and decided the trees on road allowance would not have to be pulled until the harvest is concluded.

Finally, Mr. Steuart capitulated and it was agreed that proper blue-prints would be drawn and would be signed by four parties, Mr. Steuart, the park playground group through the municipal council, Mr. Campbell and the athletic associa-

Fruit Industry May Send Delegation to Victoria On "State of Emergency"

Monday, September 11 is the date set by the working committee operating on command of the State of Emergency meeting in Kelowna last June 15 to meet with the BCFGA executive to decide whether a delegation should be sent to Victoria for the purpose of making an up-to-date submission on behalf of the fruit industry to Premier Johnson and his cabinet.

This important meeting will be held in Kelowna and it will be decided if the need for a moratorium, long-term loans at low interest rates, and tree removal with a fair assessment on the value of the tree taken out, should be stressed to Victoria.

Results of the survey being taken throughout the fruit industry should be known then.

Kiwanis Holds Big Carnival On Granville

Approximately a thousand persons gathered along Granville street Saturday night to witness and participate in the first street-carnival ever staged by the Kiwanis Club of Summerland.

So successful was the affair that the Kiwanis Bandshell fund will be boosted by approximately $400, committee chairman Fred Schumann intimated to the Kiwanis club at its Monday evening dinner in the Nu-Way Annex.

The pet parade was the starter and although the number of entries was not large the quality of the pets was above reproach.

Summerland Band was in attendance and proved as popular as ever in the early part of the evening.

Kiwanians in all manner of "fancy" dress added color and amusement to the evening as they went about their various tasks of running games of chance and skill, selling refreshments and conducting guessing games.

Old-Time Dancing

Outstanding feature of the evening was the old-time dancing in the street to Marcel Bonthoux's orchestra. On two occasions the old-time dancing drew nearly every person on the street to their section to hear the well-known calls by Jack Morrow, and witness the skill of the dancers.

Pet parade winner was Brian Kopp, who had his Shetland pony in the parade. Second prize went to Paddy Tyacke with two dogs in a doll buggy, while third prize was awarded to Louise Shannon, who had her two kittens on her tricycle.

Pet parade judges were Reeve C. E. Bentley, Mrs. J. Y. Towgood and W. W. Hemingway.

Winner of the grand draw, a choice of a Millward fishing rod or a Sunbeam mixmaster was Mrs. Hermiston.

American Purchases Beef Cattle Here

Howard Evans, a cattle buyer from Okanagan, Wash., was a recent visitor to the Summerland area where he acquired 32 head of yearlings and mature beef from district cattlemen. "Good" prices were received for these cattle, according to the sellers.

British Agricultural Mission Marvels At Experimental Station Setting

"It is truly a magnificent setting," remarked Professor Ewen McEwen, professor of agricultural engineering of the University of Durham as he rose to thank Dr. R. C. Palmer, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station in Summerland, and Mrs. Palmer for their hospitality last Friday evening on behalf of the touring British Agricultural Mission.

These top notch agriculturists from the British Isles spent two days in the South Okanagan before proceeding east on Sunday via KVR to Lethbridge.

The Brits were enthusiastic about the local experimental station and Professor McEwen expressed their gratitude to Dr. and Mrs. Palmer for the splendid dinner served on the spacious lawn flanking the superintendent's home.

Besides the visiting party, guests at the Palmer home included Dr. James Marshall, head of the entomological laboratory here; D. McIntosh, plant pathology lab; Reeve C. E. Bentley, J. E. O'Mahony board of trade president; J. Y. Towgood, Kiwanis president; J. R. Armstrong, The Review publisher; W. R. Powell, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. governor.

"We feel more at home in B.C. than elsewhere in Canada because of the number of British cars," declared Professor McEwen, pointing out that the more British products are bought in Canada the more likelihood that British people can purchase Canadian fruit.

Head of the British Agricultural Mission is Sir William Ogg, director of the Rothamstead experimental station. Others on the party are Dr. D. P. Cuthbertson, Aberdeen; Professor W. Ellison, University College of Wales, Aberystwyth; Mr. J. H. Anderson, Cambridge; Mr. W. H. Senior, department of agriculture, Scotland; Dr. W. F. Darke, agricultural secretary to the UK high commissioner in Canada.

Others in the party were Dr. Robert Glen, Dominion entomologist, and Mr. H. G. Crawford, associate chief director of entomology both of Ottawa.

Spent Busy Afternoon

The party was first invited to the Incola hotel, Pentiction, where the experimental station here played host. A visit to the entomological laboratory to inspect concentrate sprayers was the first part of the Summerland stay.

Later the party moved up to the experimental station where short discourses on virus diseases, fruit brooding and hardy stocks, and soil moisture and irrigation were given by Dr. M. F. Welsh, A. J. Mann and Dr. J. C. Wilcox respectively.

At the horticultural building fruit harvesting and storage was explained by Dr. D. V. Fisher while fruit and vegetable products provided the subjects of F. E. Atkinson and Dr. C. C. Strachan.

Dr. C. A. Hornby talked on vegetable brooding and J. E. Millmore discussed dairy cattle and pastures at the conclusion of the afternoon.

Driven to Kelowna

Following dinner, the party toured the gardens of the station and returned to Pentiction for the evening. On Saturday the visitors were driven to Kelowna where they were entertained to luncheon and were guests at the orchard of G. D. Fitzgerald, BCFGA vice-president.

On Sunday morning they boarded the KVR eastbound train for Lethbridge.

The party arrived in Canada on June 26 and will leave for home from the east on August 26.

West Summerland, B.C., Thursday, August 17, 1950

This is an important week for Olive Mason, Miss Summerland 1950, who was chosen from a group of four Teen Town aspirants for this title in a recent competition staged by the Summerland Board of Trade.

Not only did Miss Mason grace the board of trade float in the Peach Festival parade this morning but she was in attendance at the queen crowning ceremony at the Peach Festival and will be an honored guest at the Queen's Ball this evening.

On Saturday, Summerland Teen Town is wishing Miss Mason every success in the forthcoming Miss PNE 1950 contest which is part of the great Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver, commencing August 28. Miss Mason represents Summerland in this important contest. The winner will be given a transcontinental plane trip among other distinctions.

Summerland Teen Town is planning a float and parade through Summerland business district this Saturday evening to acquaint local residents with Miss Summerland and her court. Miss Mason is leaving on Monday to take part in the PNE contest.

The above picture was taken when Miss Merle Heavysides, 1949 Miss Summerland, placed her crown on her successor's head.

Complacency Can be Greater Threat to Democracy Than Communism Says Rotarian

"Communism is not the greatest threat we have in our democracy; it is complacency," declared Harry D. Harrison, governor of Rotary District 153, to the Rotary Club of Summerland at the Nu-Way Annex last night on the occasions of his first official visit to this district.

He has visited officially Rotary clubs in Pentiction, Oliver and Princeton on this occasion.

"Communism is a great threat to our democracy but the greater threat is complacency," he declared, urging Rotarians to turn out to their weekly meetings but above all to pay attention to the privilege of voting.

He instanced many votes which were shovelled through on minority counts and urged Rotarians here to co-operate with other organizations in Get out the Vote campaigns.

This is one type of community service which can be of great benefit to district, he pointed out, while youth development is another Rotary aim.

"There are many people in Canada who would like to see this complacency continue so they could gather control," he emphasized, pointing to Germany and Italy where Rotary was driven underground.

Other services which Rotary develops are vocational, international and club service.

The Summerland club is above average for this district in club attendance, he pointed out, but he urged members to better their attendance as "the privileges there are in Rotary are worth much more than the hour or so each week that Rotary demands."

Answer Four Questions

In advocating that "honesty is the best policy" Governor Harrison declared that vocational service can fall under the following four questions:

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

If a Rotarian can answer those four questions in the affirmative in the conduct of his business or personal affairs then he is guiding himself along the right lines, the speaker thought.

As the prime example of international service, Governor Harrison spoke in glowing terms of the Rotary Foundation Fellowship Fund which this year is sending 85 young people to colleges throughout the world.

Another example which can be developed at home is to make certain that all merchants are respecting the foreign exchange rates. Showing respect to people of other countries is not only assisting international goodwill but is simply following the "Golden Rule," he concluded.

He looked ahead to the time when Rotary would be established in every country in the world and drew his audience's attention to the great advances already made in less than half a century. President Francis Stewart welcomed the distinguished Rotarian while a vote of thanks was tendered by C. J. Bleasdale, a past president.

Summerland Band and Board of Trade Float Applauded in Parade

All roads lead to Pentiction today as the mammoth Pentiction and District Peach Festival got underway with thousands lining the route of the fifty-float parade at Queen's Park, Pentiction, and the festival will continue until Saturday evening.

Thousands of persons have gathered in Pentiction for this third annual event. Every hotel, tourist camp and other commercial accommodation is packed to the limit and most private homes are bulging with guests and visitors.

The parade was a colorful start to a colorful festival and although they were not as numerous as other years there were still peaches to be seen on the floats. There were even some peaches thrown to the spectators.

Summerland's participation in this third Peach Festival at Pentiction involved two major entries in the parade.

Summerland's Band, in their smart uniforms, proved a decided hit as they marched smartly playing martial airs. The musicians were preceded by the three drum majorettes.

The Summerland aggregation of musicians proved equal in marching and playing ability to other bands in the parade which included the HMCS Naden band, Pentiction Band, Vernon McIntosh Girls' pipe band and the combined Canadian Legion pipe band from Kelowna and Pentiction.

Summerland Board of Trade entered a replica of Giant's Head in the community float section of the parade.

Although it was not awarded a prize, it created a favorable impression and drew many comments from the huge crowd.

Made entirely of old newsprint soaked in paste and plastered on a wire screen frame, the float took many hours of painstaking effort. The background was then painted to resemble rock and dirt, with trees and shrubs dotting the hillside.

Summerland's Queen

Seated below the Giant's Head in a reclining position was Summerland's own queen, Olive Mason, who is being honored as one of the princesses in the queen crowning ceremony today. She will also participate in the Queen's ball tonight.

The board of trade float was designed and supervised by Stan Gladwell while the committee was headed by trade board prexy J. E. O'Mahony.

It was a novel float but did not have the beauty of the gladiolus floats entered by the board of trade for the past two years.

Along the side was printed: "Giant's Head. Viewpoint of the Okanagan, Summerland."

When the float was being taken to Pentiction this morning a large portion of the Giant's nose and forehead fell off on the highway and a minor operation had to be executed at the last moment to reshape the head. However, the necessary repairs were made in time for the parade start, which was at 10 o'clock.

It took nearly three-quarters of an hour for the parade to pass a given point.

Mrs. C. H. Elsey Hospitalized In Accident

Mrs. C. H. Elsey is a patient in the Summerland General hospital suffering what are hoped to be only minor injuries, the result of an automobile accident at the bottom of the Sandhill about 9:11 o'clock this morning.

The injured woman was a passenger in a car driven by her son Aileen and was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Joyce Elsey and Miss Marcia Harvey.

As the car was almost into the long curve at the bottom of the Sandhill, the righthand tires hit some loose sand and caused it to swerve. The car turned sideways on the road and then shot straight down the small embankment on the left-hand side.

Once over the bank the car toppled over. All passengers were bruised and shaken but Mrs. Elsey was the only one requiring hospital admission.

The car is nearly a total wreck, the damage being roughly estimated at $800.

Two Groups of Associated Boards of Trade Gather Here on Sunday

The experimental station grounds, Summerland, will be the scene this Sunday, August 20, of a picnic gathering of representatives of boards of trade throughout the interior from Revelstoke south to the border and from Princeton east to Greenwood.

At the suggestion of the Summerland Board of Trade, a joint meeting of members of the Southern Interior associated boards of trade and the Okanagan-Mainline associated boards of trade has been called for this date. Basket picnic suppers will be brought by the trade board mem-

Ogopogo is Seen Going to Peach Festival

Ogopogo must have heard about Pentiction and District Peach Festival for on Saturday he was observed about two miles from that tourist attraction city by a carload of Pentiction and Summerland residents.

Lois Sharpe has informed The Review that she and her mother, accompanied by their guest Mrs. Dick Parkinson of Calgary and three Pentiction persons, Lee Coe, Mrs. E. Jackson and Mrs. Florence Redekopp observed the sea serpent in the waters of Okanagan lake about 300 to 350 yards from shore.

It was about 7 o'clock Saturday evening that the party first observed waves on an otherwise calm water surface. Looking out into the lake they saw three coils fairly close together and another coil about 100 feet behind.

Through binoculars the passengers saw what appeared to be the head, shaped like that of a horse, with a horn or fin in the middle.

The head and coils were observed for about two minutes before the object or objects submerged and were lost to view.

C.C.F. Stand on Korea Given By O. L. Jones

O. L. Jones, MP for Yale, gave an explanation of the CCF stand on Korea to the South Okanagan CCF clubs' basket picnic at Powell Beach, Summerland, on Sunday afternoon, August 13. Members of North Okanagan and Similkameen clubs were also present.

Mr. Jones' hour-long talk was listened to with great interest and afterwards many questions were answered by the speaker.

Jack Snowsall, delegate from Yale riding to the national CCF convention in Vancouver last month gave an excellent report.

Mr. Jon Bibby of Naramata, in introducing the member for Yale told his audience that Mr. Jones was the only member of the House of Commons at Ottawa who had been at his post at every sitting of parliament. He considered Yale electors should be very proud of a member who had such an excellent record.

On Friday, August 11, delegates and visitors from South Okanagan clubs attended the monthly meeting of the South Okanagan CCF district executive at Bruce Woodsworth's home at Westbank the left-hand side. Once over the bank the car toppled over. All passengers were bruised and shaken but Mrs. Elsey was the only one requiring hospital admission.

The car is nearly a total wreck, the damage being roughly estimated at $800.

Second Cub Pack to Start Next Month

A second Cub pack has been started in Summerland under the guidance of the Legion Scout committee. Jack Bowen is Cubmaster and the pack will meet at 8:30 o'clock each Monday. The nucleus of the pack has been organized and it is expected that when meetings are held starting in September that a good turnout of boys will be on hand.

We Need a New Municipal Hall

BEFORE the year-end a money bylaw for a new municipal hall will likely be placed before the taxpayers of Summerland municipality. It is too soon to hazard any opinion on the extent of the financial commitment, but we can be guided by past expressions of opinion on the part of the 1950 council that expenditures will be kept to a minimum.

It is pleasing to hear the municipality's elected representatives decide at long last that action must be taken to provide Summerland with a municipal office which will be a credit to the community.

For the past few years various councils debated possible avenues and one council even obtained sketch plans but found them too elaborate for present needs.

And while these councils dallied, the community continued to grow, the press of work in the crowded, ill-equipped office mounted and new staff had to be huddled into corners already overcrowded.

The present municipal office is a disgrace to Summerland. It is ready to be condemned from a building standpoint. It is too small for the staff to operate efficiently and give the ratepayers the service they require. In fact, it is not fair to ask the municipal clerk and his staff to operate under such conditions.

With these factors confronting us, it is indeed cheering to hear that the 1950 council really intends to take action after some years of dodging a vital issue.

Parks Board Report is Welcomed

NEWs emanating from last week's council meeting that some action will be taken towards providing this community with a parks board to administer parks, beaches and cemetery is welcome.

Councillor Norman Holmes declared that by next council session a full report on the steps which will be necessary to provide an elected body for this important duty will be forthcoming.

No details of the councillor's plan of action have been divulged but it is none too soon for action towards setting the necessary machinery in motion so that the ratepayers may have the opportunity to elect a parks group in December at the usual municipal elections.

These columns have expressed the hope on previous occasions that such an elected parks board will automatically have a member of the municipal council to act as liaison between the two elected groups.

If it is a five-man board, then four should be elected by the ratepayers and the fifth be the parks department head of the municipal council.

With such an elective body operating, a planned program of parks maintenance and improvement over the years can be laid down with every possibility of success of operation. There will be a continuity provided which today's hit and miss method of parks and beaches operation finds lacking.

Already there has been voiced the opinion that the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee will have to disband its forces next year as its funds are coming to an end. With two more parks added to those which already come under the direct supervision of the council, one department head without any working staff under him cannot be expected to cope with the needs of the district.

Summerland has a big investment in its parks and beaches. Peach Orchard park has not received proper care and supervision for years. Some of our beaches do not provide the recreation of which they are capable. If the present system is allowed to continue, the Living Memorial parks would soon fall into disrepair.

This is not written as any criticism of present or past councils. The machinery was not set up for proper parks' supervision and past councillors struggled along as best they could with inadequate funds and lack of any planned programs.

With a new parks board setup, elected in a manner similar to the municipal council, most of present-day difficulties could be eliminated.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

When I was a kid I used to be tremendously impressed with the enormous wisdom and poise of the adults around me.

They were never afraid of darkness or big dogs. They never acted shy in the presence of strangers. They always knew the right manners, at the table or any other occasion, or the right pronunciation for every word. They could always forecast the weather from the color of a sunset or the ring around the moon.

If anything went wrong with the old touring car, they always knew what it was. "It's the sparkplugs", they'd say, or "I've been expecting that fan belt to short circuit the oil-pan," and we children would be able to wait contentedly while they went for a garageman to come and make the circuit long again. If as an occasion, the adult-in-charge would mutter angrily "I might have guessed you'd quit on us right in the middle of this muddy stretch," we would realize it was just deliberate malice on the part of laziness, and when nobody was looking, we sometimes gave her metal ribs a surreptitious kick to teach her not to be so nasty.

Since I have joined the ranks of the grown-ups, however, it has been a terrible disillusionment to find what a false front they—I mean we—put on before children.

Maybe adults are no longer scared of the dark or of dogs, though I had some bad minutes myself with a fierce police dog in a corn-patch one dark night long after I had left child's estate. But it seems we are, alas, still scared of an awful lot of things.

If a familiar room no longer seems familiar to us after nightfall, we still get very nervous when we have to go into a roomfull of strange people. We may try to hide our shyness by talking very loudly and smoking many cigarettes, or drug it with a few drinks, but it is still there. Many of us shake like a leaf at the thought of getting up on a public platform to make a speech. And I've seen many a strong man and stately woman utterly unable to summon up courage to rebel against the code of his or her crowd, regarding cosmetics, cocktails, or canasta.

As for manners and pronunciations, it's a shock to find, after years of grown-upness, how much there is to learn. I still have to repress an inclination to drink out of a finger bowl, and never know how to pronounce hors-d'oeuvres much less eat them. Even some pronunciations which I have used all my life—ever since I was taught them as a child—turn out to be quite different from anything accepted by the dictionary.

When I grow too old to admit fear of the dark, but was still young, to be afraid of being alone in the night away from the house, I used to whistle or sing to hide my nervousness. Eventually I outgrew that or almost did. And it was startling to discover that adults—including me—are just as scared of admitting ignorance of anything as children are of physical dark, and so the less we know about a thing the more assuredly we talk about it. The more infallible weather prognosticators, whether they depend on old proverbs or the twinges of rheumatism, are just as often wrong as if they took a blind guess, and sometimes official forecasters don't seem to do much better with all their scientific machinery. And the more confidently a garage mechanic assures me that he can repair—or has repaired—my car trouble, the more suspicious I am that he doesn't know what he is talking about either.

When adults caught us kids kicking the car or our bicycles in a rage when they refused to do what we demanded, they always gave us a long lecture about the importance of self control. It is appalling now to realize that the severity of those lectures—in fact, a lot of the discipline we received—was just the adult manifestation of a similar lack of control. I'm still not sure that it wasn't better to kick the car, which at least could retaliate by making our toes sting.

Not that I would venture to suggest that the conventional parental pretense of being all-wise and all-powerful is a bad thing; are we not ourselves the product of it? But I sometimes wonder whether a more frequent confession of how much we don't know and can't do wouldn't make for a friendlier understanding, not only between adults and children, but even among the sacred caste of adults themselves.

Facts About Advertising

The one thing about advertising which is perhaps most frequently misunderstood is the question of who in the end really pays for it. It is plain that actual money is used to pay for advertising and that the advertiser gets his money back when he sells the advertised goods. So it may be natural that many people should see only the fact that the consumer provides the money for advertising when he makes his purchases.

There is really nothing wrong with this idea, for certainly all the expenses of any business are paid by its customers. But if we stop here, we get the impression that we have to pay a sort of bonus for the privilege of using advertised merchandise. That, in fact, is not true. By reasoning a little farther it may be seen that we can actually buy goods for less money because of the fact that they are advertised.

This is the way it works: A manufacturer of baked beans spends one cent per can for selling expense and another half cent for advertising. The housewife who buys a can of these beans pays one and one-half cents for the combined cost of selling and advertising in addition to the actual cost of production.

This same manufacturer has found that if he does not advertise, his sales department has to work harder and he is obliged to spend two cents per can for selling expense. Then the housewife has to pay two cents for the selling costs when the beans are not advertised instead of only one—and one-half cents for selling and advertising combined. She saves half a cent on the price of a can of beans when the manufacturer knows how to advertise effectively.

This simple illustration shows how advertising is used to bring all kinds of merchandise to you more cheaply than would be possible under old-fashioned methods. In reducing selling expense

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
August 21, 1925

"A strange creature, which may or may not be the fabled sea-serpent, has been seen in the waters of Okanagan lake off Summerland on two occasions this week. A week ago, James Mitchell while out in his boat saw the partially submerged body of some long creature wiggling its body on the top of the water. 'It wasn't a sturgeon', says Mr. Mitchell.

"The strange creature was again seen Tuesday afternoon when four boys, William Andrew, Allen Butler, Bob Butler and Ken Boothe, on a raft, noticed a peculiar animal stretched out to the length of six feet, which they thought was a log until they saw it move and wiggle around. The lake was smooth as glass but despite this there was a noticeable swell."

Summerland ratepayers have expressed approval of the Trout Creek main irrigation repair by-law, only three negative votes being recorded. The council may expend $4,400 for the purpose.

That the growers of Summerland are determined to get to the bottom of the irrigation question was shown at the enthusiastic meeting in the gymnasium when a resolution was passed amid applause calling upon the municipal council to prepare and present a considered report as to the storage system capacity and distribution system, with recommendation, to a public meeting to be called at the earliest possible moment.

Based on school attendance, the municipal proportion of the semi-annual liquor profits grant amounted to $1,709.36. Two-sevenths will be used for school purposes and the remainder for general revenue.

The Summerland stock-judging team of Lillian Hunt, Bessie Caldwell and Tom Harris placed fifth in the competition at the Vancouver Exhibition.

It was announced today that a new principal, Mr. D. L. Milne, of New Westminster has been appointed the new high school principal.

For the first time in history a whole carload of cantaloupes from Oliver have been consigned to Winnipeg.

Mr. J. C. Melvin and family have moved to the coast to make their future home.

Little Donny Johnston met with a bad accident Thursday morning when the car door swung open and he fell out, breaking his leg.

Transportation Tenders for School Get Victoria Sanction

At the regular meeting of the Summerland School Board, district 77, held on Monday evening, department approval was received of transportation tenders awarded to Frank Maddocks and Tom Scott of Vet's Taxi for the routes to Meadow Valley and Greata Ranch respectively.

It was announced, also, that the firm of B. L. Johnston, Walton Co. Vancouver, had been appointed insurance brokers for the school district and would handle school board insurance in future.

Fulton Says Conscription is Only Fair Basis of Enlistment

Davie Fulton, MP for Kamloops, and one of the leading debaters for the Progressive Conservative party did not mince words when he heard of Prime Minister St. Laurent's pronouncements regarding a Canadian brigade task force for United Nations' duty.

Mr. Fulton, who was a major with the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada during the Sicilian and Italian campaigns, came out forcefully for conscription as the only fair and equitable basis of dealing with possible aggression.

He even went so far as to suggest to veterans of World War II that they be hesitant about joining the new brigade.

Complete text of Mr. Fulton's statement, as contained in the Kamloops Sentinel, follows:

"The desperate shortage of troops at the front in the last war and the vivid memories of the unfairness it imposed on the men who were there, argues conclusively that no policy of voluntary enlistment should be followed this time. If Canada is in it then all Canadians should be in it on an equal basis, and this can only be the case if we have compulsory service.

"Never again should Canadians be placed in a position where one man is driven by a sense of duty to volunteer and leave his family and loved ones, while others not so situated remain behind. I feel very strongly that the only fair way for this or any other nation to discharge its military obligations and send men into combat or call them up in preparation for it, is on a basis of absolute equality for all—in the same way that the United States does it. All manpower is classified, each individual is the equal of his neighbour, and as he is needed his number is called.

"In my view, this method should certainly be followed in raising the special brigade announced by the prime minister on Monday. I am unalterably opposed to the raising and reinforcing of this or any other force for combat service, in Korea or anywhere else, by voluntary enlistment. I am particularly shocked by the disregard for duty already preformed which would allow the prime minister to state on Monday that for this new brigade the army wants... particularly, just as many veterans of the Second World War as possible, and National Defence Headquarters to announce 'preference will be given to combat veterans'... of the Second World War' and preference will also be given to battle-experienced veteran officers with first class records and of combat age."

"Why should one group be singled out and asked to volunteer twice within 10 years? When are we going to adopt the principle, in discharging our national obligations, of fairness and equality for all? The opposite principle of asking men to volunteer to go into combat is utterly unfair; besides which experience in the last war showed it is not only unfair but unworkable and unsafe, and there were occasions when the men at the front were badly let down by it.

"In common with the vast majority of Canadians—all but a few Communists—I am relieved and proud that we have now decided to take a share in this more difficult phase of restraining aggression. But I believe all Canadians are opposed to the principle of inequality of sacrifice. It is to be hoped that in order to drive home this point, every veteran, and every other person as well, will refrain from enlisting until equality of service for all is introduced. If such a united stand were taken now, before any troops are committed, and therefore before any harm could result to our national safety and honor, the government would be forced to realize, as they should, that while we are in favor of resisting aggression, we wish this thing done sensibly. We could thus bring about the adoption of the principle of compulsory selective service for combat duty, and put the thing on the basis of fairness and decency as it is done in practically every other country."

Buy Supplies for New School Now to Beat Rising Costs

Chairman C. J. Bleasdale of Summerland School District 77 at Monday evening's board meeting reported the visit of Col. Strong inspector of industrial arts departments, who recommended putting in immediate orders for necessary tools for the new junior-senior high. It was mentioned that already these supplies had risen in price ten percent and all supplies are subject to American priority in steel so the secretary was instructed to order at once. Further equipment for the new

Boy Scouts Greeted With Two Inches of Snow at Summer Camp

(By D. V. Fisher, Scoutmaster) This year the Summerland Boy Scouts troop went farther afield than usual for its annual camp up to Clearwater (Nickel Plate) Lake.

The lake is northeast of Hedley and is reached by a winding steep road approximately 16 miles from the turn-off on the Hope-Princeton highway. From various turn offs on the way up to the Nickel Plate mine there is a unique view of the Similkameen Valley and the winding path of ascent.

The troop arrived at camp at 1 p.m. on Thursday, July 27, and set to work to set up camp since the weather looked ominous, and anything in the weather line is liable to happen at 6100 feet elevation, even in July.

Rain came late in the afternoon, followed by a clear cool evening around 40 degrees F, and the next day gave rain followed by wet heavy snow and near freezing temperatures from noon on.

The weight of the snow on the cookhouse fly tent broke the ridge pole and down came the 20 x 24 foot tent at 2 p.m. Valiant efforts in a heavy sleet and snow storm to hoist it up with a new ridge pole were abandoned after an hour since the weight of wet snow on the tent made it impossible to get it up in place.

Everyone piled in the rod and gun club cabin and tried to dry shoes socks and trousers. The cabin leaked too!

However, the cabin proved a great asset since three meals were cooked on its stove, although the boys slept in their tents outside.

Despite the rather dim outlook the troop morale was excellent and not a single complaint was heard: there were too many fishermen in the gang to whom weather was a mere incidental.

By Saturday morning there were 2 inches of wet snow on the ground and a pelting rain, but by noon the rain and snow had almost gone and from Saturday noon the weather was excellent for the rest of the camp. About two days of training were lost in one sense by the weather, but in another sense it was two days of valuable camping experience gained.

and will certainly be recalled with amusement at future camps.

Altogether 24 attended the camp the Hawk, Eagle and Loon patrols of seven each, and Scoutmaster D. V. Fisher and Assistant Scoutmaster Al McCargar and 8-year-old son Wayne. Wayne was about the liveliest young bird in camp and attached himself to the Hawk patrol as mascot.

Each patrol had its own tent the leaders a tent, and in addition there was the kitchen fly and small supply tent. Central cooking, with the aid of the duty patrol of the day was done at the cookhouse for breakfast and noon, and the patrols cooked their own suppers.

Next year the leaders have succeeded in lining up the services of two alternative cooks which will simplify operations greatly.

The area is excellent for camping with a heavy stand of lodge pole pine, alpine fire and spruce. The ground is gently sloping and drainage good. The campsites constructed by each patrol consisted of altar fireplaces with cranes for cooking, rustic tables and chairs for eating, firewood shelters, food coolers and various racks for storing equipment.

In patrol competition, points were awarded for the utility and tidiness of the campsite and for construction of gadgets as such. Every patrol did a very good job of camping and evidenced by the favorable comments by Sunday visitors.

The Hawk patrol won the Pat Nisbet Memorial cup by a very narrow margin over the other patrols, chiefly because of the excellence of their organization at the start.

In woodsmanship and signalling the Eagles made a very good showing, and the composite Loon patrol under acting P/L Jack Pohlmann did an outstanding job of camping for a temporary patrol.

Through the kindness of the Nickel Plate Rod and Gun club six rowboats were available to the camp on mornings and at other times of the day when not in use by club members. Because of the popularity of boating and excellent fishing, the boys were permitted to spend most mornings on the lake. The result was two fish suppers.

On Sunday the troop held a Scouts Own service in the morning and was host to over twenty visitors in the afternoon. The weather was obliging and showed the country off to best advantage. On Monday the troop received a visit from the assistant forest ranger Mr. Painter of Penticton, who discussed with the boys the organization of the provincial forest services and explained methods and demonstrated tools for putting out forest fires.

Highlight of the camp was perhaps the hike up Apex Mountain on Tuesday. Apex Mountain, elevation 7,372 feet, is the highest of the peaks in the Gold range, about 150 feet higher than Brent (Snow) mountain. The distance is 7 1/2 miles each way from Clearwater in a south-easterly direction, and a rough road leads to within about a mile of the top.

The road was constructed years ago for mining operations near the summit, but now is used principally

Teen Town

Well, Teen Towners, another week has gone by with no excitement but this Saturday night there's bound to be enough for Olive if no one else. Teen Town is preparing a float to wish Olive "Good Luck" at the PNE at Vancouver this month so anyone who has time to spare please come and help decorate it at the Youth Centre Saturday morning.

At the parade the Summerland band will be in attendance and also a line of decorated cars will follow the float. The candidates who did not succeed in the competition for "Miss Summerland" will also be seen on the float with Olive. There will not be a dance after the parade because of the Peach Festival.

Congratulations and best of luck to Mel and Barb from all the council.

ly by sightseers, cattle and sheep men. A large flock of sheep was grazing quite close to the summit.

The hike took just over three hours each way. There were patches of snow near the summit where the boys had lunch, but instead of being cool and windy, it was warm and still with a temperature well over 70 degrees F. The mountain flowers were at their peak except the heather which was getting over. Penstemon which blooms in Summerland about May 20 was just in full bloom.

One afternoon instruction in woodsmanship was given with patrol competitions in construction of brush shelters. The patrols were allocated certain areas and told that in 15 minutes a 100-mile-an-hour hurricane and rain would reach them and that they had to prepare protection to shelter the patrol in that space of time. There were two axes per patrol. At the end of the time the shelters of each patrol were examined and suggestions made as to how the problem might have been better approached and executed. The Eagle patrol made an excellent shelter, making full use of available facilities.

At the close of camp everyone felt that we should have stayed much longer. The apparent shortness of the camp was no doubt due to two days lost by bad weather. Next year it is planned to hold at least an eight-day camp possibly at Osprey Lake.

The troop wishes particularly to thank the Nickel Plate Rod and Gun club for use of boats; Mr. Louis A. Smith and Harry Braddock for supplying groceries and meat at wholesale; Mr. Joe McLachlan for tomatoes and cucumbers and Interior Contracting Company for the loan of a fly tent. A cheque from Mr. R. H. Barkwill for help in camp expenses was much appreciated and used for purchase of a cook stove.

D.L. Milne, 74, Was Principal 25 Years Ago

Almost 25 years ago to the day since he accepted the position as principal of the Summerland high school, David Livingstone Milne aged 74, passed quietly and quickly away at his home on the Giant's Head road in West Summerland last Thursday afternoon, August 10.

Of late years he has been associated with his wife and two sons in the operation of The Milne Cannery but prior to that time he had a varied and interesting career.

Born in Ontario, he was a graduate of Queen's University and after graduation became a high school teacher. Florida, Cleveland, Swift Current, Vancouver and New Westminster were among the many cities in which Mr. Milne was employed as a high school instructor.

Came Here in 1925

In 1925 he accepted the vacancy on the Summerland high school staff and came here as principal. Two years later he retired and later became associated with his sons in the operation of the Milne cannery which is widely known throughout western Canada.

During his lifetime he invented many useful implements, probably the best known being the Milne protractor which is still being used by most schools in Canada and the United States.

For most of his 25 years in Summerland he was a deacon of the Summerland Baptist church and a leader of the senior Bible class. He was an ardent church worker and made many friends throughout the district.

Valley Families Are United by Wedding Here

On Monday, Aug. 7 the marriage of Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fahman of Rutland and James Schaeffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaeffer, West Summerland, took place in the Church of the Holy Child. Fr. A. M. Meulenber officiated at the wedding ceremony and offered the nuptial mass.

A charming picture in her wedding dress of white embossed organza, the bride was given in marriage by her father. On her head a Juliet cap with seed pearl trimming held the flowing filmy floor-length embroidered veil in place and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white and pink roses.

The bride's nieces, Marian, and Diane Weisbeck of Kelowna were flower girls adding delightfully to the wedding scene, each carrying white posies.

Miss Wilhelmina Fahman was her sister's bridesmaid and was prettily costumed in blue while the matron of honor, Mrs. A. Jurassovitz of Rutland complemented the color with her pink gown. Both carried summer flowers.

The best man was the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. John Weisbeck. The choir of the church sang several times during the service and Mrs. Henry Schaeffer, mother of the groom, was the organist.

A reception in the Orchard City hall, Kelowna, followed the wedding when the principals' parents and the bridal party received the guests who were relatives and friends from Kelowna and district and from Summerland.

On their return from their honeymoon the happy couple will live in their new home on the Hospital hill.

Cups and Saucers For Bride-Elect

Miss Audrey Davis was a very much surprised girl when she dropped in on her sister-in-law Mrs. Frank Davis, to help with dressmaking problem, and found several ladies waiting to give her a cup and saucer shower.

The exciting party was on Thursday, August 10, and the unsuspecting guest was soon seated in a chair decorated with pink crepe paper and presented with a large cup and saucer made of blue crepe paper, decorated with roses and filled with gifts.

Guests invited were Mrs. Lloyd Gartrell, Mrs. Mark Embree, Mrs. Eric Tait, Mrs. A. E. Parrott, Mrs. Norris Laidlaw, Mrs. W. McCutcheon, Mrs. J. Lamey, Mrs. Cecil Morgan and Miss Doreen Tait.

Gifts were received from Mrs. Ian McQuaig and Miss Mary Stewart, guests who were unable to attend.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, including a lovely chocolate cake which had a prominent place on the table and was tastefully decorated with the names of the bride and groom and which was flanked by pink tapers.

Pastel Glads Form Background For Lovely Wardle-Davis Nuptials

A quiet event of Monday, Aug. 14, was the marriage of Audrey Joyce, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Davis, Trout Creek, and Mr. George Ashworth Wardle of Salmo, B.C., son of Mrs. Ira Williams of Salmo and the late G. E. Wardle of Princeton.

The ceremony was at 10:30 in the morning in Lakeside United church, and was performed by Rev. Mr. Harris of Naramata.

The church was tastefully decorated with gladioli in pastel shades, and the wedding party stood before an archway of pink and white crepe paper. Baskets of other beautiful gladioli added further beauty.

Charming in a grey tulle, pink hat, white accessories, and carrying pale pink rosebuds, the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For something old the bride wore a gold and amethyst brooch belonging to her grandmother and the groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket and chain.

Her only attendant, Mrs. Maylon Williams, of Vancouver, wore a becoming green tulle with white accessories, and carried a bouquet of deep pink rosebuds.

Mr. Maylon Williams supported the groom, and Mrs. S. Canning provided the nuptial music.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Davis received gowned in navy with navy and white collar and cuffs, with navy hat trimmed with pink rosebuds and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother Mrs. Williams chose a pretty russet gown with which a black hat was worn, and a corsage of yellow roses.

Lovely gladioli were arranged throughout the house and on the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake. Gold dillies were a decorative touch as well as dainty vases of sweet peas.

A toast to the bridal couple was given by the bride's brother, Mr. Frank Davis, to which the groom ably responded.

For motoring to Vancouver where the honeymoon will be spent the bride changed to a navy and white frock and navy top coat. On their return they will make their home in Salmo.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. I. Williams, Salmo; Mr. and Mrs. M. Williams, and their two children, Vancouver; and Mrs. V. Long and son, Squamish.

Practical Hints on Budget Conservation

They're alike in many ways — budgets and rivers. Sometimes they're full and run smoothly; at other times they just dry up. Very often — as with rivers — it's a seasonal problem.

Many Bank of Montreal customers have come across it. Some have found that Christmas expenses make January a "thin month". Others have experienced a shortage of ready cash after paying insurance premiums or mortgage interest. And they've worked out a solution along conservation lines.

This is the way they dam the river. They open a "special purposes" account. Each pay day they deposit a fixed percentage of their major commitments, and then, when the time for heavy payments comes round, they can make them without undue strain.

If this idea appeals to you, why not come in and talk it over with Mr. Beech, the accountant at your local branch of the B of M? He'll be glad to help you open your own "special purposes" account. —Adv.

advertising works like a machine which lowers the cost of production. When you buy a pair of shoes, you have to pay a part of the cost of the expensive machines by which they are made. However, each machine makes many pairs of shoes and in the end each pair costs less than if made entirely by hand.

Just as the purchase of a ten-thousand-dollar machine enables the manufacturer to turn out a pair of shoes at a lower price, so the expenditure for advertising enables him to reduce his selling costs. The result is the same — the final price is lowered.

This seems very simple but many people have not thought about advertising in just this way. When they see an expensive advertisement or hear a sponsored radio program they think only of the cost. They should also think of the useful work which the advertising performs. There should be no more questioning about the cost of advertising than about the cost of machines used in production.

It is clear that money spent for advertising does not represent an actual expense to you as a buyer of advertised merchandise. In the end no one really has to pay for it because advertising actually saves money while performing its useful work.

Lettering for School Name Now in Place

Following the announcement of Summerland school board, district 77, made public at the closing of school in June, the name, MacDonald School, has been placed over the main entrance of the elementary school.

The lettering is in clear characters in a dark brown color which matches the trimming on the cream stucco building. As well as honoring the principal, Mr. S. A. MacDonald, who has been in charge there for over thirty years, the name adds to the general fine appearance of the school.

Fishing Reports

(by Bert Berry)

Okanagan Lake — No big fish caught this week; biggest I have heard was a 2-pounder caught by Mr. George Inglis while trolling and a three-pounder caught by Dewey Saborn's party drifting with a dead minnow. Lots of smaller fish caught off Summerland east side above Naramata and north of Crescent Beach.

Silver Lake—Road rough, no boats; fishing has been fairly good, especially in the evenings. One party got 10 nice fish Sunday.

Glen Lake—Road good now boats available; lots of people here last weekend and fair catches reported by some. Trolling worms seem to have given best results. Fish Lake Chain—Road good boats and accommodation; Fish lake only fair, all upper lakes very good.

Salmon Arm district lakes—One party reports fishing poor up there on all lakes, even the Shuswap.

Mara Lake—Fishing is poor from reports given me.

Garnet Valley Dam—Road good fishing fair.

Trout and Eneas creeks—Small fish but biting well.

Penticton Votes On Several Money Bylaws

Yesterday Penticton ratepayers were asked to approve the borrowing of $315,000 and the diversion of additional funds amounting to $25,000 in four money by-laws.

The equipment loan bylaw for $50,000 would provide earth-moving and fire-fighting equipment.

The $165,000 domestic water by-law would finance partial reconstruction of the domestic water-works system, including a pumping installation from Okanagan Lake.

The $100,000 sewer construction bylaw would finance the construction of No. 1 sewer section.

The fourth bylaw provides for the diversion of $25,000 of the 1948 electrical bylaw funds for work on the new Huth avenue substation and for increasing the capacity of the present substation.

In the near future, the long-awaited hospital building bylaw is expected to be placed before Penticton ratepayers. The hospital board has completed arrangements with its bankers to borrow $37,500 against the credit of the present hospital buildings.

The money bylaw for the new hospital would be for $257,500 which with the borrowed money, would bring the city's contribution to $315,000. Total cost of the hospital has been placed at $940,000. Dominion government contribution would be $119,000 or $1,000 per bed

Premier Johnson Replies to Victoria Contention on SS & MA Tax Rebates

Recently, Summerland council sided with Victoria's Mayor Percy George who circularized all municipalities with a resolution on SS and MA tax rebates which will be placed before the UBCM convention in Nelson September 19 to 21.

Mayor George contended that the B.C. Government should not stipulate that the one-third municipal share of the 3 percent sales tax be used by the municipalities only to decrease educational costs.

Last week Premier Byron Johnson replied to Mayor George's contentions with a letter which was read to the municipal council. It was heard and filed without comment, the local councillors evidently having not changed their viewpoint in this matter.

Johnson's Letter

Highlights of Premier's Johnson's letter follow:

"I would draw your attention to the first paragraph of your (the Victoria) brief, which reads as follows:

"At the convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in 1947 a resolution was passed requesting the legislature to impose a sales tax of two per centum on retail purchases for the purpose of providing funds for the use of the municipalities to help meet the ever-increasing cost of education, social services and hospitals. This resolution was presented by the municipalities to the municipal committee of the house but was not implemented in that form. Instead, the legislature passed the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax Act, which provided for the levy of three per centum on retail purchases, of which one-third was earmarked for municipal aid and the rest for provincial purposes.

Still Same Understanding

"When the delegation from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities met the executive council early in the year in 1948 financial assistance was again sought with respect to the services. It was on that distinct understanding that the government allocated one-third of the tax to municipalities and it is still on that understanding that the government annually grants to the various municipalities one-third of the total revenue less the cost of administration.

"In view of these circumstances there should be no doubt in the minds of municipal representatives as to why municipal areas are in receipt of this revenue.

"With respect to the earmarking of this revenue, the government as yet has made no decision, but it should be definitely understood that so far as the government is concerned, the reason for the granting of one third of the municipal aid tax to municipal areas was and still is on the basis of assisting municipalities to meet the cost of education and social services".

Experimental Station Staff Honors Newly Married Couple

Many people think that the Okanagan is at its best during the long summer evenings when the lake-shore and beach fires may be fully enjoyed. On Friday, August 4, at the KAT ranch members of the Summerland experimental station staff held a delightful beach supper under these conditions.

The party was arranged to honor Mr. and Mrs. M. Davis, the latter formerly Miss Charlotte Corbett, who were married recently at Penticton. Mrs. Davis is a member of the station staff.

Following supper Mr. F. E. Atkinson, for those present, congratulated the young couple wishing them happiness in their married life, and presented them with a "Toastmaster".

Community singing and other entertainment around the beach fire pleasurably concluded the affair.

Two Thousand Acres Land are Cleared In B.C. This Year

Including 1,100 acres in the West-bank VLA and North Okanagan areas, more than 2,000 acres of land have been cleared under the B.C. Government's land clearing scheme to encourage agricultural pursuits, announces Hon. H. R. Bowman, minister of agriculture.

Prince George has seen 570 acres cleared, Pemberton unit had 170 acres and Qualicum-Courtenay 230 acres.

Since inception of the scheme 20,000 acres have been cleared and brought into production, the cost being approximately $550,000.

Mr. Bowman points out that it has been most beneficial to farmers and those desirous of taking up farming since it has substantially reduced the cost of clearing land and has facilitated the expansion of agricultural production which might otherwise have been retarded.

TO CANADIAN RAILROADERS AND THE CANADIAN PUBLIC

It is important that you understand clearly why the managements of Canada's railways believe a railway strike is absolutely unnecessary.

Our reason for this conviction is that we have made the employees involved in the present dispute a fair offer of wage increases and improvements in working conditions which, if applied to all employees, will cost us $37,000,000 a year.

We have further acknowledged a moral obligation to implement the 40-hour week at the appropriate time, and we have explained why, in fairness to Canadian industry and all other employers of labour, we cannot put it into effect now.

To do otherwise would be to perform a disservice to industry in general and to all employers and employees alike.

The railways, after making two previous offers which the union leaders rejected, have now made a third and final offer which gives the employees the choice of either:

an increase in wages averaging 8½ cents per hour, or a reduction in the basic work week from 48 to 44 hours, with an increase in wage rates of 9.1% so as to maintain or in some cases improve present "take home" pay.

The labour leaders have made no concessions at all and have refused to budge from their original demands for a 5-day 40-hour week with maintenance of present "take home" pay, and in addition increases of 7 cents and 10 cents an hour.

The railways are thoroughly conscious of, and sympathetic to, the problems of their employees resulting from higher costs of living.

Drastic, unwarranted reductions in hours of work instead of decreasing these problems will inevitably increase them.

Not only is a railway strike unnecessary now, but furthermore, because of the tense international situation, it would endanger the entire Dominion. As the presidents of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways said in a joint statement to the representatives of the unions last Thursday:

"The present situation... imposes a nerve strain on all concerned at a time when we badly need to devote all our energies and thoughts to the grave threat of war and a national emergency... It leaves the railway employee in a most uncertain and unhappy frame of mind because we are morally certain he does not wish to walk out on his job at a time like this, no matter what issues are involved... this opinion seems diametrically opposed to the strike ballot which has been reported by the unions, but railway management retains too high an opinion of the loyalty, steadfastness and sense of responsibility of their employees to believe a strike would not mean a heart-breaking situation for them. That is not to say they will not carry out their undertaking to strike if union leaders decide to call upon them to do so but as already stated, it will cause great unhappiness and self-reproach."

The importance of the railways in Canada's economy cannot be exaggerated. Never was that importance more apparent than in World War II. And without the loyalty and intense effort of all railway employees, Canada's magnificent war effort would have been impossible. The same holds true today. As the presidents further stated:

"... the general public is inconvenienced and business arrangements are made uncertain so long as the likelihood of a strike persists. Moreover, a railway strike would so cripple our economy that it would weaken for a long time our ability to take a strong line in international affairs and thus give great comfort to the enemy. Therefore, railway management feels strongly that the issues must be faced resolutely so that all interests, the worker, the public, and the Government, as well as the unions and railway management, will know precisely what is facing them. The time has come to remove this uncertainty which hangs as a blight over our day-to-day life."

WITH THESE CONSIDERATIONS IN MIND, THE RAILWAYS HAVE MADE THIS OFFER AS THE ULTIMATE THAT COULD POSSIBLY BE EXPECTED OF THEM, AND IT GIVES A SETTLEMENT WHICH WILL LEAVE RAILWAY WORKERS IN AN EXTREMELY FAVOURABLE POSITION COMPARED TO OTHER INDUSTRIAL WORKERS.

HERE IS OUR OFFER

The final offer which excludes hotel and water transport employees is as follows:

- (1) Recognition by railway management of a moral obligation to implement the 40-hour week at the appropriate time.
- (2) Recognition by the unions in principle, subject to negotiation in detail, of minor amendments to existing contracts covering working rules to bring about more efficient operation.
- (3) EITHER
 - (A) A 44-hour basic work week with a 9.1% increase in hourly rates

so as to maintain "take home" pay. In regard to monthly rated clerical employees there will be an understanding that a 5-day actual work week may be granted by local arrangement in selected cases where the hours now actually worked are less than 44, on condition that the requirements of the service are protected up to 44 hours per week.

OR (B) A graduated increase in basic wage rates approximately equivalent in expense to that involved under Plan A. When applied to all employees, this would cost the railways $37,000,000 per year, and would average 8½ cents per hour.

Loyd to Meet Minister on Prices Support

Although Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, told Davie Fulton, MP for Kamloops, that there would be no further assistance for growers on the 1949 crop, A. K. Loyd, who is in the east this week, will make a further submission to the department chieftan concerning tree fruits prices support.

The BCFGA executive has had continuing contacts with A. M. Shaw, chairman of the agricultural prices support board, Ottawa and President H. H. Hannam of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture on this subject.

Mr. Loyd has been attending the International Apple Conference in Washington, along with Sales Manager Babe Lander, as well as meetings of the Canadian apple committee in Ottawa.

The sales agency general manager has been asked to prepare a report on the present marketing situation on his return.

At a recent BCFGA executive session, D. G. Macdonald, secretary of the Fishermen's Co-operative Assn., conferred on the subject of the proposed research and planning committee it is proposed to set up by the Credit Union of Canada and the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

It is hoped that new avenues of trade can be developed and the BCFGA executive expressed sufficient interest to request progress reports.

Want Tax Exemption
The B.C. Federation of Agriculture plans to make a submission to the E.C. Government requesting a revision of the SS & MA tax to the end that certain essential items in agricultural primary production be placed on the exempt list.

BCFGA executive is recommending that when the tax collectors are in doubt that an affidavit from a farmer or grower be accepted. This affidavit will attest that the equipment under review is to be used solely for agricultural primary production.

The four-year plan of the income tax division is not being used to any extent by growers, the executive was informed and it is recommended to all growers who may be interested that they check on the advantage of using this formula.

Another Accident At Top of Sandhill

Included in the new traffic by-law is provision for a warning sign at the top of the Sandhill, council stated last week, but there was still no move towards passing first readings of this bylaw although it has been in legal hands for some weeks for final drafting.

Sunday morning, Aug. 6, about 2 o'clock, John Croft's car skidded and smashed into the electric light pole at this corner.

This is the third accident, at least, on this corner in the past few weeks.

Croft reported to E.C. Police that it was raining at the time, the road was slippery and the car went into a skid. No one was injured, he reported.

Four vehicles have hit the fence at the bottom of the Sandhill it was reported at last week's council session.

"Nelson's Monument" Entered in PNE

One of the most interesting entries in the AOTS hobby show this year was the fretwork model of Nelson's monument, which was the painstaking work of Gavin P. Paterson of the experimental station. This prize exhibit has been entered in the international hobby show of the Pacific National Exhibition which opens at Vancouver on August 22.

Playing golf only three times a year, Capt. F. W. Grist, master of the Watts Watts freighter Woodford, manages to shoot in the low 80's. With only his cargo holds as a practice ground, a golf ball attached to a string, and a tarpaulin for a backdrop he practices his hobby. He has played on some of the toughest courses in the world including the famous Carnoustie in Scotland, many times chosen for the British Open championship.

Drivers' Tests May Be Continued Soon

Last week the motor vehicle branch drivers' tests were continued, the high school being the centre of activity. It has not been determined what alphabetical order was used to summons car drivers as there was no seeming continuity from the first series of tests conducted during the Easter holidays.

It is expected that another week will be set aside for a continuation of tests, here before summer holidays conclude.

Advise Given on Preparation of 'Cot, Peach, Prune Nectars

Very attractive and flavorful beverages can be prepared from well colored, ripe apricots, peaches and fresh prunes. Sound fruit which is too ripe to make a good canned or frozen product may still be made into a delicious drink, states a recent release from Ottawa.

First the fruit is heated just to boiling and pulped with only sufficient water added at the start to prevent burning. It is then pureed by passing through an extractor, sieve, screen, or colander to remove pits, fibre and skins.

The puree is mixed with sugar, usually about 4 parts of puree to 1 part of sugar to make a concentrated fruit nectar. Diluted with equal parts of water, an excellent drink results.

If preferred, instead of adding sugar to the puree and diluting later, the puree may be blended directly with an equal volume of a light syrup (15 to 20 per cent sugar) to make the fruit nectar drink.

Some people find these nectars not sufficiently sharp or astringent, particularly at breakfast. Peach nectars are improved by the addition of about 1 1/2 level teaspoonsful of powdered citric acid per quart of concentrated nectar or half that amount per quart of the diluted or syrup blended nectar. A little less acid may be used for prune or apricot.

But the addition of grapefruit juice is perhaps the best way of improving the tang of these nectars. Depending on personal preference, apricot and peach nectars may beneficially contain 10 to 40 per cent grapefruit juice, and prune nectar 5 to 20 percent. Grapefruit juice markedly enhances the peach flavor in peach nectar and improves apricot and being because of the great danger that virus diseases, new to B.C., would be imported.

The BCFGA executive recently requested Arthur J. Mann of the experimental station in Summerland and H. F. Olds, inspecting division, plants products branch, Vancouver to investigate the possibility.

Some reports of peach stock of poor varieties being planted in the Okanagan have reached the BCFGA executive. Consequently, grower officials are approaching W. H. Robertson, provincial horticulturist and Ben Hoy, supervising horticulturist for the Okanagan experimental station here and B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. for advice and information to growers.

When received, this information will be passed on to growers so that only the best possible stock will be used in replanting.

Double-Header Baseball for This Sunday

This Sunday baseball fans will be treated to a double-header as part of the windup series in the South Okanagan junior league playoffs.

Naramata completely surprised Penticton in one bracket of the playoffs by winning last Sunday's encounter 8-5 and evening the series with one win each.

As a consequence, Naramata and Penticton will play here next Sunday afternoon at one o'clock and the winner will meet the Red Sox at 3:30 in the first game of the best of three final series.

If the Red Sox come out champions of the South Okanagan playoffs a series against the winners of the senior B league will likely take place, Joe Sheeley, Red Sox manager, announces.

At present, Penticton's entry in the senior B loop is out on top as pennant winners but will have to last out the playoff race.

There is also a possibility that a playoff between the Red Sox and the champions of the Vancouver and district junior baseball league will be set up for Summerland's Living Memorial athletic park early in September.

Mr. Sheeley has been in touch with the Vancouver Jaycees concerning this possibility and will continue negotiations as soon as a coast champion has been declared.

Possible at 500 Still Not Enough For First Place

In the regular weekly shoot at the rifle range on Sunday morning Fred Dunston and Len Shannon tied for first place with a score of 96, with Art Dunston and Dewey Sanborn in second place with 95. Art Dunston scored a possible at 500 yards.

Other scores were as follows: Ed Gould and H. Simpson 93, Phil Dunston 92, A. Moys 90, D. Taylor 88 and D. Price 88; George Dunston 85, S. Dunston 84, J. Maddison 81, "Pop" Dunston 75, J. McLachlan 70, Helen Price 54.

Ed Gould's high score of 99 was best for July and he has been Gould and H. Simpson 93, Phil Dunston and D. L. Sanborn. In the shoot-off last Sunday, August 13, Doug Price won the silver button and Len Shannon the bronze award.

Sets Record Golf Pace

BABE DIDRIKSON ZAHARIAS scored a record-breaking six-under-par 36-34-70 in the recent opening round in the Tam O'Shanter women's golf tournament at Chicago. She broke her own record of 71 set in the 1948 All-American and earned herself $500.

Merchants Bunch Hits to Beat Princeton Royals 5-3

Bunching their hits at the same time as the visitors' defence cracked slightly, Summerland Merchants won a 5-3 decision over Princeton Royals in an exhibition contest last Sunday at Living Memorial athletic park. This win offset in some measure the one-sided Princeton win over Merchants in the finals of the Princeton Dominion Day ball tournament.

Gil Jacobs wasn't coveting for the Red Sox on Sunday and he turned out on the mound for Merchants to strike out six batters and after a shaky start to keep the visitors under control.

He was hit freely but the visitors only obtained one long clout off his offerings. Opposing him was Otto Gerein who had a similar strikeout record but only gave up seven clouts.

Three singles in the third frame brought in the first Princeton tally, the visitors making it 2-0 when Walsh booted one at shortstop on Gee's easy roller.

But the Princeton lead was short-lived as the Merchants came to life in the fourth. John Vanderburgh started things with a single, scoring on George Taylor's smashing double into left field. Taylor evened the count when he scored on a passed ball while Metcalfe, who had drawn a walk and stole second came across when Nesbitt's grounder was rifled by Currie at short. Jacobs sewed up the ball game with a sharp single to centre, Nesbitt romping home for the fourth count.

Merchants stretched the lead in the fifth when Walsh smashed out a triple and Taylor socked the horseshoe deep into centrefield for an easy triple. He tried to stretch it into a home run but proved an easy out.

Princeton's final tally came in the sixth when Currie's fly to left field was fumbled and he scored or Aune's long clout to deep centre.

Dunham, who had already stopped one Princeton rally with a running catch of a line drive, finished the game with a lovely peg to home plate for the final putout and nipping a Princeton run.

Two Baseball Leagues Enter Playoff Series

Two interior baseball leagues the Okanogan International and the Interior loop have now squared away for the final rounds to decide champions in their respective divisions.

In the OIB loop, Penticton finished on top with Oliver second. But in fourth spot were four teams. These four played last Sunday with the result that Coulee dam eliminated Tonasket 7-1 and Omak put Brewster out of further play 8-4.

As Omak scored more runs than Coulee Dam, it has landed in third spot and will meet the league pennant winners, Penticton Canucks while Oliver and Coulee Dam tangle in the other semi-final.

In the Interior league, three Kamloops teams and Kelowna Elks are in the playoff spots. Kamloops CYO finished the league in top spot but two extra games were needed to break deadlocks in other league standings.

On Sunday Kamloops Elks downed Revelstoke Spikes 10-3 to cinch fourth place. In the other fixture North Kamloops defeated Kelowna Red Sox 14-1 to take over second place in the final league standing, with Kelowna in third spot.

In the Interior league playoffs Kamloops CYO will now meet Kamloops Elks while North Kamloops meets Kelowna Red Sox.

Blue Bombers Will Come to Penticton

Of special interest to at least one local resident is the announcement from Penticton that the famous Vancouver Blue Bombers, junior Canadian football team will appear in that city on September 9 to play opposite the newly-organized Penticton squad, Melvin Wells, of The Review mechanical staff, a former well known junior football player in Edmonton, is appearing for the Penticton team. First practice was held last weekend.

Entertains for Three Eastern Star Members

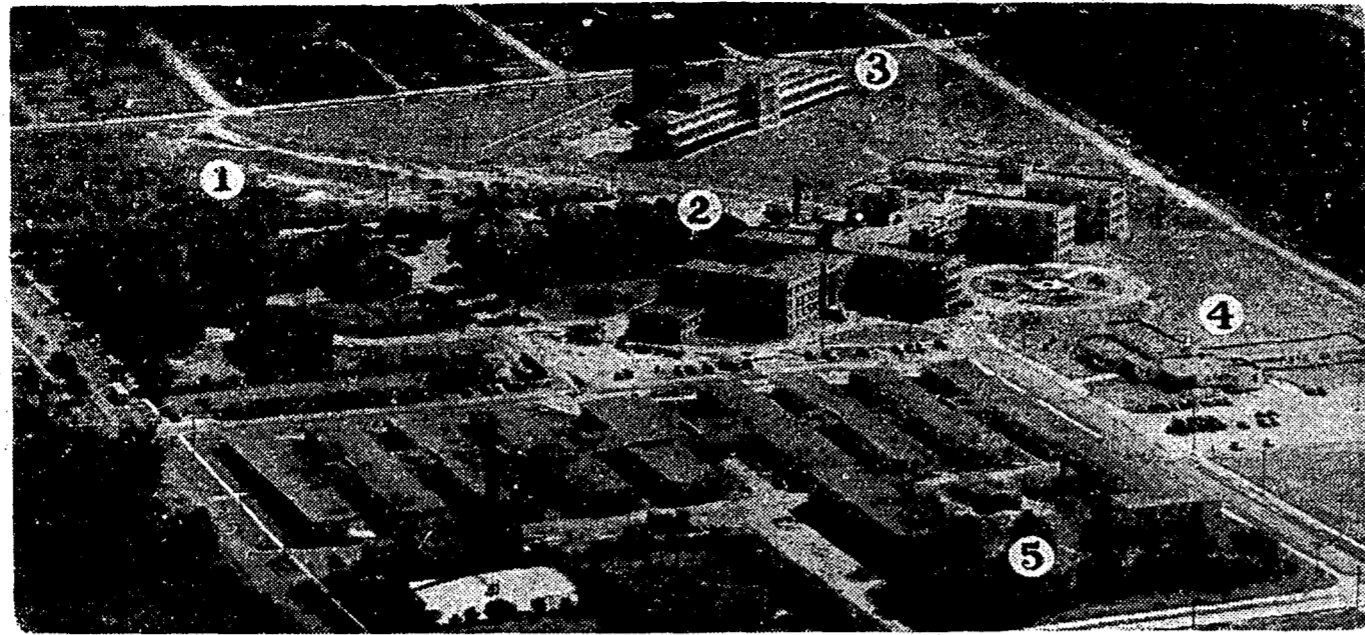

Mrs. Harvey Wilson was hostess to about forty-five members of the Order of the Eastern Star last Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 9. The tea party was held on the lawn to honor three of the members who are leaving town.

As a remembrance of happy associations in Summerland, Mrs. S. Feltham on behalf of the OES here presented Mrs. C. Hornby with a cup and saucer; Miss Dorothy Butler with a pen and pencil set; and Miss Beverley Cousins with a silver butter dish.

Mrs. Hornby with her husband and family is leaving soon for Vancouver where Dr. Hornby will be a professor at UBC; Miss Butler has gone to Victoria, and Miss Cousins will live in the Kootenays following her marriage, an event of this month.

The tea table was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centred with a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas for the lovely summer tea.

Mrs. A. K. Elliott and Mrs. A. D. Wilson poured and assisted the hostess with refreshments were Mrs. Earle Wilson, Mrs. C. J. Bleasdale, Mrs. W. H. B. Munn, and Mrs. Florence Stark.

tremely unlikely that a province in putting forward a case for overall financial arrangement, would include an emergency such as is distort the picture of financial relationships between the dominion and the provinces.

The question of assistance under the Prices Support Act for the 1949 fruit year was also brought before the federal minister by Mr. Fulton. Mr. Gardiner stated immediately that this matter was closed and that the settlement made earlier this year, when the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association received $2,000,000 was final. Mr. Gardiner felt that the Association was well satisfied with the settlement and that in fact it brought about the position that the overall returns for the 1949 crop were in excess of those for preceding crops.

Mr. Fulton pointed out to Mr. Gardiner that the above result could not have been definitely forecast or ascertained until the final returns were in at the end of June. These final returns, said Mr. Fulton, are considerably below those for earlier years, even taking into account the settlement

Rotary Governor is Manager of Automobile Firm in Nelson

The Rotary Club of Summerland yesterday was host to Harry D. Harrison, governor of the 153rd district of Rotary International who is making his annual official visit to each of the 39 Rotary Clubs in this international district, comprising Eastern British Columbia, Eastern Washington and Western Idaho.

Mr. Harrison is manager of Peebles Motors Ltd., a large automobile distributing firm in Nelson and is a member of the Rotary Club of Nelson. He is one of the 201 Rotary district governors who are supervising the activities of some 7,100 Rotary clubs which have a membership of $42,000 business and professional executives in 83 countries and geographical regions throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary Clubs are located, their activities are similar to those of the Rotary Club of Summerland because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community-betterment undertakings, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will understanding and peace among the peoples of the world.

Each year, this world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength. During the last fiscal year, for example, 293 new Rotary Clubs were organized in 36 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Islands of the Pacific.

Harry D. Harrison has been general manager of Peebles Motors Ltd. in Nelson, since 1946. Before joining the automobile and automotive parts firm in 1936, he was on the staff of the communications branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway, working in many British Columbia points of his district. He was born in Fernie, B.C.

Mr. Harrison has been a member of the Rotary Club of Nelson since 1942 and has served as president, vice-president, and a member of the board of directors of the club.

In Nelson, Mr. Harrison has been active on the committees of the board of trade and now is chairman of the entertainment committee, has served as president of the Retail Merchants' Association and the Socratic Society, a public speaking group. In 1944 he was the organizer and general chairman of the first tuberculosis X-ray survey to be made in the community.

Regains Half Lost Money from Reservoir

J. H. Gould is haunting the municipal reservoir these days in search of money. Ordinarily, the reservoir is the last place in the world Mr. Gould would haunt on the lookout for greenbacks, but it seems that he lost his purse, containing $46, down the spillway a few days ago.

Since then he has managed to recover all but $22 of his lost money, along with part of two cheques and his driver's and fishing licences.

Although he is still out a good deal of money he feels fairly satisfied to have recovered that much from the swift running waters of the Summerland water system.

Two Cemetery Work Parties Successful

Two work parties were held recently at Peach Orchard cemetery and a good deal of excellent landscaping accomplished. Other work parties will be called in the near future.

Mr. E. H. Bennett, cemetery committee chairman, states that good progress was made but there is still plenty to be done.

He also praises the initiative of the Orange lodge and the IOOF and Rebekah lodges for their interest in Peach Orchard cemetery and their endeavors to improve the surroundings there.

PLACEMENT OFFICERS CONFER IN PENTICTON

All placement officers in the farm labor service in the Okanagan are meeting today with Col. J. E. Wood in Penticton for an important conference on the labor situation with regards to the apple crop. Mr. W. J. Beattie, local placement officer, is in attendance.

Final teacher appointments which fill all the vacancies on the staff of Summerland schools are Miss Mary McFarlane of Vancouver who will teach commercial subjects in the junior-senior high school; Miss Esme Richards of Vancouver, general subjects in the junior high, and Miss Rita Backmeyer of Penticton, appointed to grade 3 in the MacDonald School.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

Quiz No. 7
How much does it cost to advertise a package of Canada's nationally known breakfast foods? Is it 2c? 3c? a package?

Answer: It costs less than 3/10¢ a package to advertise Canada's leading cereals.
That's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways. Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.
So advertising saves you many times that 3/10¢ a package.

Constable is Sworn in to RCMP Force

For a week Police Constable I. G. Thorsteinson carried on his police duties without actually being a properly sworn police officer.

On Tuesday, August 15, the British Columbia Police force passed out of existence after 92 years of service to this province. It was the oldest police force still in existence on the continent.

On the same day, the RCMP took charge of policing duties in the province but of course all constables could not be sworn in right away.

It was not until Tuesday, August 22 that Constable Thorsteinson, in a ceremony at Penticton along with other detachment members received his official designation as a police constable with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

So far as is known, there will be no change in administration here in Summerland this year.

Sub Inspector J. H. McClinton, in charge of Penticton detachment is one of the new officers created by the RCMP.

For Constable Thorsteinson it is not a new experience to become a member of the RCMP. His first service was with that force but when he decided to change his bachelor existence he resigned and joined the B.C. Police.

Now he is back with his first love and will regain the benefit of his RCMP years of service.

Publicizing the famous feature which dominates Summerland district, the Board of Trade entered a float depicting Giant's Head in the third annual Penticton and District Peach Festival parade on Thursday, August 17. Reclining gracefully at the foot of the "Viewpoint of the Okanagan" was Miss Olive Mason, chosen as Miss Summerland by the board of trade. The background of the mountain was composed of thousands of tiny pieces of paper, soaked in water and then in paste and plastered onto a wire screen fastened onto a wooden frame. Photo by Maywood

Valley Fruit Industry Faced with Distribution Problem by Rail Strike

The Okanagan fruit industry, with the rest of Canada, is battling to the best of its ability the nation-wide transportation tieup caused by the walkout on Tuesday morning across Canada of the operating trades of the Canadian railways. With the layoff on strike of these railroads all Canadian railways, steamship lines and railway hotels have ceased to operate.

This is the worst economic tieup Canada has ever experienced. Negotiations between union leaders and railway heads broke off at 5:45 o'clock Tuesday morning in Montreal. At 6 o'clock standard time in each time zone that morning the railroads ceased to operate.

Parliament has been summoned to meet in emergency session on Tuesday, August 29. As far as the Government of Canada is concerned there will be no settlement before that time.

The Okanagan's main industry tree fruits, is now faced with three alternatives in moving its perishable produce to markets.

Permission was granted B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. yesterday to truck via Big Bend and the national parks to reach prairie points, but there is insufficient number of refrigerated trucks to handle any great volume of produce.

Trucks are being employed in limited number to transport produce to the U.S. border at Oroville for trans-shipment via U.S. railway to customs points on the prairies where trucks pickup the load again. This is a cumbersome procedure.

Third outlet for Okanagan fruit and vegetables is the Vancouver district market which can be reached by truck direct from the Okanagan and now forms the main distributing point.

Even with such a curtailed peach crop, the Okanagan should be shipping 30 to 35 carloads daily. About

Hams are Ready For Emergency

In the rail tieup, British Columbia amateur radio operators are strictly neutral but are available to handle emergency messages of a non-commercial type, Doug Price, leader of the Summerland "Hams" has informed The Review.

"Anyone in need of our services can contact me at 2897, or any of the local 'Hams', or better still, they can reach us through the Red Cross," states Mr. Price. "We can handle any third-party, non-commercial messages."

WILL HOLD TAG DAY

Permission to hold a tag day on Saturday, August 16, in aid of the hospital oxygen tent, was granted the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary by the municipal council on Tuesday.

Domestic Water Project Nears Completion

With the exception of two short distances, the domestic water extension project to the North Bench and Crescent Beach areas is now completed, council learned on Tuesday.

The final work at Crescent Beach was delayed until gardens were finished.

The large retaining tank leading to Crescent Beach has been completed at a cost slightly more than original estimate. However, the rest of the project was installed at a figure considerably below estimate and there will be money remaining in the bylaw account when the job is finished.

Councillor Atkinson complimented Water Foreman E. Kercher on the manner in which he conducted the laying of pipe along Okanagan Highway No. 5, as traffic was seldom held up despite the work being undertaken along the roadside.

Refuse to Replace Broken Light Globes

Recently, four globes were placed in the Gulch road street lights. In two weeks they were broken again. On Tuesday, municipal council decided that section would remain in darkness for a time more as the municipality cannot afford to be replacing such light bulbs continuously. Various tales of vandalism were heard in this connection from council members.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dunsdon and children who motored to the Cariboo in company with the Francis Stewart family have returned from their holiday trip.

New Agreement with West Kootenay to Mean Lower Summerland Power Rate

Commencing September 1, a new agreement between the West Kootenay Power & Light Co. of Trail, and the Municipality of Summerland will come into force. It is estimated roughly that the saving to the municipality will be roughly 30 percent over payments made under the present agreement.

Only a disagreement by the inspector of municipalities would stop the contract being put into force and this is considered extremely unlikely.

At present, the municipality pays 2 cents for the first 100,000 kwh purchased and 1 cent for all over that amount. The new contract is on a new basis and corresponds with the agreement already in force at Penticton and Kelowna.

This contract, which is the first which has been presented since the old contract lapsed in 1947, is for five years, six months' notice of termination being necessary.

Provided in this contract is a clause which obligates the consumer (the municipality) to pass on to its customers a "reasonable proportion of reduction in rates."

Acting Reeve F. E. Atkinson, chairman of the electric light department, informed council on Tuesday that a reasonable proportion should be passed on to the consumers and felt that power consumers should have first consideration.

Last spring George Washington co-op manager, on behalf of local packinghouses, protested the power charge for cold storage operation here and showed that it is out of line with payments made by other packinghouses in the valley.

At that time it was shown by the council that Summerland customers pay a lot less than other Okanagan persons for ordinary domestic electric light consumption.

Mr. Atkinson also pointed out that the council had not pressed for this agreement but that the West Kootenay company had offered the reductions in electrical energy charge after a thorough survey of rates and setups in the Pacific northwest.

When the voltage regulator is completed and operating completely at Oliver the West Kootenay will be able to provide electrical current to the municipality at its West Summerland substation with a variation of only 5 percent plus or minus, the agreement reads.

This portion of the contract will eliminate the West Kootenay's responsibility regarding voltage fluctuations within the municipality.

Mr. Atkinson pointed out. The council should arrange to keep the voltage regulators operating on the municipal system at present, he felt.

The contract points out that the West Kootenay's full responsibility ends at point of delivery, the substation.

The municipality is responsible for the installation of a metre as well as the supply company.

There is also provision for an arbitrator or if one person is not satisfactory then a board of three arbitrators can be appointed.

Besides the power rate reduction, Mr. Atkinson agreed with Councillor Francis Stewart's contention that a reduction should be passed on to users of pumps for sprinkler irrigation.

Roughly, on 1949 figures the municipality paid the West Kootenay 1.38 cents per kwh. On the basis of the new contract that figure would have been reduced to 9 cents in the same period and with the same amount of consumption.

If the load can be balanced more over 24 hours instead of having high peaks at various intervals such as 11:30 to 1 p.m., then a further saving will result under the new contract, it was pointed out.

The West Kootenay cannot set current directly to any other customer in the Municipality of Summerland.

Council Approves Contract

Approval of the council was officially recorded and the new contract will be in force from September 1.

Car Thief Gets Year In Oakalla

The wild ride down Peach Orchard hill which ended in the speedily-driven car landing at the edge of Okanagan Lake sixty feet from the highway, had its culmination in Kelowna Police court on Friday when a 15½-year-old Vancouver lad was charged with theft.

Walter George Daykim stole the car from Kelowna Motors Ltd. and wrecked it when he failed to make the sharp turn at the bottom of Peach Orchard hill about midnight Wednesday, August 16.

Neighbors heard the crash and after investigating they notified Police Constable I. G. Thorsteinson, who came out of his home farther down the beach in time to arrest Daykim, who was heading for Penticton and a get-away.

Daykim had been involved in a futile attempt to rob a store in Westbank two weeks previously and had been allowed free on suspended sentence for one year. He had then given his age as 21 and had been tried in adult court.

For theft of the car he was sentenced to a year in Oakalla.

Two Readings Traffic Bylaw

Although some changes may have to be made yet, two readings of Summerland's new traffic bylaw were given at Tuesday's council session. The third and final reading may be given at next session, provided the legal entanglements which were not entirely cleared away on Tuesday are finalized.

Reeve C. E. Bentley, who was not present at Tuesday's meeting, had had an opportunity to review the bylaw in its present form after being received this week from Boyle, Atkins & Emerson.

New Policy for Light Extension

Municipal council has established a new policy regarding extension of electric light lines to private property.

Previously, council refused to extend highlines over private property but with the demand for more electrical energy to operate appliances in homes long secondary lines to homes situated a distance away from main thoroughfares are not proving satisfactory.

Consequently, council has agreed that high tension lines may be installed over private property, the lot owner to pay cost of line construction and the municipality to pay half of the transformer cost up to a maximum of $60.

Rock Crushing Plant Works Satisfactorily

The recently completed crushing plant is operating smoothly and Councillor Eric Tait, chairman of the roads department, expressed complete satisfaction with results when the topic was introduced at Tuesday's council session.

"It appears to be just what we've been trying for years to obtain," declared Mr. Tait.

Most of the credit for the plan of the crushing plant was given to Mr. D. M. Wright although the actual construction was entirely undertaken by the municipal road department crew, it was explained.

In the past week Kelowna's city engineer made a trip to Summerland to inspect the new plant.

Mixing and placing of material for the hard surfacing program at the bottom of the Gulch road has been started and when this work is completed the seal coat on Giant's Head road will be placed.

Tuesday night's rain will call a halt to this project for the time being but it will be continued as soon as hot weather returns.

Council agreed that the municipal maintainer should be operated for the Summerland Rink Assn at the same rate as applied for the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee.

Parks Board Report not Ready Yet

Disappointment was expressed by council on Tuesday when Councillor Norman Holmes was forced to state that his report on the operation of a parks board for Summerland has not been completed.

Failure of several parties to reply in time to his enquiries has forced postponement of his report he stated.

However, he felt certain that he would be ready to give a complete accounting as to the necessary steps to be taken in forming a parks board at the first council session in September.

Keen interest was shown by other council members in the subject

Go to Salmon Arm Next Thursday

Reeve C. E. Bentley will be accompanied by Councillors Norman Holmes and Francis Stewart to the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Assn which will be held in Salmon Arm on Thursday, August 31.

This is expected to be an important session as it will be the last before the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in Nelson next month.

Bumper Apple Crop Predicted

Although the British Columbia apple crop is down nearly one and a half million boxes from the 1949 production figure, Summerland expects to enjoy one of the biggest apple crops in its history.

Figures released by the provincial department of agriculture this week show Summerland's apple crop estimated at 612,000 boxes, an increase of 50,000 over last year. And some growers believe this is a conservative estimate of increase over 1949 despite the rigors of the winter weather.

In 1948 the crop totalled 611,000 while in 1944, the bumper year of the Okanagan, Summerland's apple yield totalled 698,000.

Every district from Westbank north has suffered a severe drop in apple crop this year compared to last year's tonnage but Peachland, Summerland, Penticton, Naramata, Oliver-Osoyoos and Keremeos-Cawston are all on the increase.

From Peachland south the only district which doesn't show an increase over 1949 is Kaleden.

Crabapples throughout the valley are up over 1949 but pears have shown a decided drop. Summerland's pear production will be only half that of 1949, Naramata and Oliver-Osoyoos being the only major pear districts to show any increase.

Associated Boards of Trade to Form Joint Committee for Mutual Problems

The two major associated boards of trade operating in the Okanagan, mainline, Similkameen and West Kootenays will be asked at their next quarterly meetings to appoint four-man committees which will meet in joint sessions before each meeting of the British Columbia council of associated boards of trade, so that a unanimous stand can be given from this district.

It was with the idea of providing one voice for this section that delegates attending a joint session of these two boards gathered at the experimental station, Summerland, last Sunday afternoon.

Delegates from Revelstoke, Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton, Osoyoos and Hodley attended, the Vernon representatives not arriving until the proceedings had been concluded. J. R. Armstrong, vice president of the Summerland board, was chairman.

Southern Interior Associated Board of Trade will meet in September and will be asked to appoint a four-man committee. The Mainline - Okanagan Associated Board of Trade group meets at Kamloops in October and will be asked to take a similar step.

This eighteen committee will then be summoned to one central point to consider any resolutions which are of joint consideration and are voicing the opinions of this portion of B.C.'s hinterland.

Reeve C. E. Bentley welcomed the small gathering to Summerland and pointed out the need for a more unanimous voice in presenting resolutions from the interior to the governments.

Col. C. G. Beaton advocated the joining of the two associated boards groups but as this had already been turned down by the Southern Interior group a compromise of a joint committee was considered more practical.

That board of trade work would be strengthened with more use made of the B.C. Council of Associated Boards was stressed by W. H. Whitmer, Naramata, secretary of the Southern Interior group.

Railways Say Halt Must be Called

CANADA has been plunged this week into one of the worst economic tieups in its history. The cessation of railway communications, both rail and telegraph, steamship and railway hotel accommodation has created a situation so cumbersome that the ordinary man on the street will have only a slight understanding of the resultant repercussions.

Most Canadians hoped right to the last moment that a conciliation would be forthcoming and that the non-operating unions would find a common ground with their employers. They hoped that the tremendous harm which will be done the country would persuade both sides to give way to the point where a compromise would save a strike.

Federal mediator is quoted as stating following total collapse of the negotiations that neither side seemed to realize the grave situation in which Canada would be placed by a rail strike.

Here in the Okanagan a bumper two million box peach crop would have been in sight in a normal season. Without rail transportation to prairie points at least fifty percent of the crop would have rotted on the trees or in packinghouses.

As it is, with last winter's severe weather having curtailed production to an almost negligible point, it is hoped that the loss to the Okanagan grower of perishable products will not be great. However, the disposal of the Bartlett pear crop in the next few weeks is likely to be a major problem due to the rail strike, while apples are coming on apace.

One of the most serious angles to this situation is the fact that a strike was called in the face of a majority report of a conciliation board. This majority report rejected union demands as being dangerous to the economy of Canada and also as being unjustified.

However, the union leaders would not abide by this conciliation board, but called a strike vote and have now gone out on strike. This action was taken despite further offers of compromise on the part of the railroads.

Throughout Canada, plants and mines are being shut down, men are being thrown out of work, payrolls and buying power are being suspended, all because the major means of transportation has been cut off.

The railroads have declared that they cannot afford to meet the demands of these striking unionists. If they were to allow the unionists the full benefit of their demands rail, freight and express rates would have to be raised in consequence and the entire public would pay the shot.

Such an action would continue the spiral of inflation; other unions would take up the cry and the vicious circle would continue its rotation.

For some time the public has been calling a halt for union demands of increased wages. The man in the street feels that a stop must be made before we price ourselves out of all proportion to the rest of the world. Evidently railway heads feel the same, as they have refused to go the whole way and meet all union demands.

The penalty is the present strike and we will feel its repercussions in Canada for many a month, even if parliament can find a quick solution when it meets next week.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Enjoying poetry is somewhat like swimming; most people make a stab at it, but there are a great many different degrees of proficiency.

Me, I'm in about the dog-paddle stage. I'm quite happy splashing around in the shallows of limericks and simple rhymes. For years my two chief ambitions in the realm of poetry have been, first, to compose a limerick beginning with "There was a young lady from Spuzzum," which is very difficult to rhyme, and secondly, to get the other verses of a poem beginning,

"The crow, in a decent suit of black
With invisible hands behind his back,
Walks over my shaven bit of grass
On his way to teach his Sunday School class."

That is the kind of poetry I like; obvious rhymes, easy to understand, yet with a neat turn of thought to it too, and a really marvelous picture of the way a crow walks.

At times I strike out bravely in deeper water, but never so deep but what I can touch bottom if I get out of breath or understanding.

Poems like Robert Service's "Cremation of Sam McGee," Kipling's "If" and "Mandalay," the simple homeliness of Edgar Guest the school-familiar cadences of Tennyson and Browning and Wordsworth. And I've had some grand times with the rollicking poetic adventure stories of Alfred Noyes.

But when the lines don't rhyme I always feel a bit bewildered and out of my depth. Things like:

If I should pass the tomb of Jonak
I would stop there and sit for awhile;
Because I was swallowed one time deep in the dark
And came out alive after all.

That's too deep for me to be comfortable. Then there are other poems which are not so deep which may even rhyme; yet have something ominous about them. Gloomy, morbid poetry about death like a swift-flowing current and misery, such as many modern poets seem to relish; I'll never be a literary critic, for I much prefer gay ballads and narrative adventures, like Kipling's "East is East and West is West," which is obvious and straight-forward and cheering.

Once I picked up A. E. Housman's "The Shropshire Lad," thinking by the title it might be something about a gay shepherd boy, but I caught a crab. It was full of dreariness and despair, and to me the best thing in it was the four lines which said:

"Terence, this is stupid stuff;
You eat your victuals fast enough;
But, oh, good Lord, the verse you make,

It gives a chap the belly-ache.
However, there are just as many different ways of enjoying poetry as of swimming. Some people just love the risks and difficulties and plough through rhymeless uneven lines and pessimistic philosophy, with a confident six-beat poetic crawl that takes everything in its stride.

Some months ago there was an intriguing article in Time magazine on the poet T. S. Elliot, and was pleased to get a chance recently to read some of the work of such a great writer just as one would be at the offer to try a luxurious private swimming pool. When I opened the book, it was like diving into dark deep water in an underground cave.

"If the lost word is lost, if the spent word is spent
If the unheard, unspoken
Word is unspoken, unheard;
Still is the unspoken word, the word unheard."

Some people say that is great poetry, I know. But then, some people try to swim the English channel. Me, I much prefer to dog-paddle in the warm, safe shallows where you are never too far from solid ground.

Facts About Advertising

Our national sense of humor permits us to poke fun at anything even at our most highly regarded institutions. We love wisecracks at the expense of our best friends. We laugh out loud when George Bernard Shaw tells us that we are boobs. We get a kick out of reading humorous magazines which make fun of certain types of advertising, although we know that advertising performs an indispensable service. It is all good-natured.

But it is different when critics get serious. We object to accusations based on ignorance or prejudice. Most of us would resent being told that we are silly for being influenced by advertising, for we know that this same influence has led us to the enjoyment of many things which make life better.

One objection often made by such critics is that advertising makes people buy things they don't need. As if advertising could possibly force anyone to buy! Anyway, who is competent to judge what people need? Perhaps an occasional high-pressure salesman has wheedled you into buying something you don't want, but advertising simply cannot use high-pressure methods. All it can possibly do is to lay before you information about a product. You can take it or leave it. There is no comeback. Advertising is the perfect low-pressure salesman.

Advertising is sometimes condemned because a dishonest vendor occasionally misuses it. It would be just as logical to condemn all grocery stores because a grocer on some side street once sold you a bad egg. By its very nature, advertising is always open to inspection. One of the best reasons why it is usually kept clean is that it must be approved by the public in order to be profitable. If you should run across some advertisement which does not seem to be in good taste, it is up to you to discourage that sort of thing by refusing to buy that particular advertised product. Just watch how quickly the advertiser changes his tactics the moment he learns that the public does not like his advertising.

Another charge which has been leveled at advertising is that it is wasteful because it is competitive. Of course it is competitive; nearly all business is. We have learned that competition in business is responsible for most improvements in products and service. Practically all selling is competitive, and advertising is the cheapest form of competition in selling. It costs much less for an automobile manufacturer to tell you about his car through advertising than to have a salesman call at your home.

As a matter of fact, advertising is not an extra expense at all. It is part of a complete selling plan and the company which does no advertising must substitute some other form of selling, usually more costly. Properly used, advertising reduces the cost of distributing goods and makes possible a lower selling price to the consumer.

Retail Merchants Gather for Picnic

Approximately 80 persons, members of the Summerland Retail Merchants' Assn. and their families, gathered at Powell Beach last Wednesday afternoon, August 10, for an organized picnic followed later in the evening by a corn and Weiner roast.

Two softball games, first between wives of employees against wives of employers and the second the employees versus the employers, proved to have plenty of excitement with many a laugh.

It is not certain yet which team proved victorious but it didn't really matter in the long run. Following these games, the corn and Weiner roast was held. Entertainment was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Sayers and Jack Knippleberg and was enjoyed by the large gathering.

Pioneer Days

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
August 23, 1925

R. W. Purves, a young Bank of Commerce official at Vancouver and formerly of Summerland figured in a sensational hold-up affair at the coast city today when, with another employee, he was locked in a vault with the bank bandit. Presence of mind of A. E. Wilson, manager of the branch at 1897 Powell St. resulted in the capture of a bandit who attempted to hold up the bank at 9:30 this morning. While imprisoned the bandit fired nine shots at the lock but when police swung back the vault door he came out extending two guns butts first. Officials of the fisheries department in Vancouver have scoffed at the reports of a "sea serpent" in Okanagan Lake and have declared it is probably a big sturgeon. However, James Mitchell of Summerland still insists it isn't just a big fish and he is supported by others who have seen the strange creature. A few days ago Mr. and Mrs. O. Atkins and son Reg report having watched its progress for some time.

Parties, games and sports of various kinds during critical pre-examination periods were some of the causes leading up to the rather poor showing made at the matriculation examinations by Summerland students according to J. C. Steeves, former principal, in a letter to The Review.

Revised apple crop estimate for the Okanagan shows a yield of 1,972,300 boxes, about 90 percent of the 1924 crop. Pears are only 14 percent of last year, crabapples will yield 80 percent and plums and prunes 34 percent.

H. B. Morley, managing director, has concluded the transaction.

BILL SNOW TAKES MAJOR PRIZES AT KELOWNA SHOW

Bill Snow captured all but one first prize in the gladioli section of the Kelowna and District flower show held in the Orchard City on Saturday, the first show of its kind to be held there since prior to World War II.

When judging was finished it was found that he had captured ten first and five second prizes, featuring gladioli, dahlias and asters.

Ken McKay of Naramata vied with Mr. Snow for top honors in the show and between them these two southern flower growers made nearly a clean sweep.

Mr. E. H. Bennett of Summerland entered a commercial gladioli display in the Kelowna show which brought many expressions of wonder at its beauty.

Municipal Clerk Takes Bride at Lovely Saskatchewan Nuptials

A wedding of great interest here and on the prairies was that of Miss Ellen Anna Torrance, daughter of Mrs. Anna Torrance and the late Mr. Reuben Torrance of Elrose, Sask., and Mr. Gordon David Smith, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith, West Summerland, which took place in the United church at Elrose on Wednesday, Aug. 16, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

Baskets of gladioli, fern and garden flowers were the lovely setting for the ceremony which was performed by Rev. R. R. Smith. Guest pews were marked with sprigs of heather.

Entering the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Milford Torrance, who gave her in marriage, the dark-haired bride wore French lace over satin which was fashioned on princess lines. A Juliet cap held the three-quarter length veil and mitts of the same lace as the wedding dress were worn. American Beauty roses and Stephanotis were in the beautiful bridal bouquet.

Miss Evelyn Edwards of Vancouver was the bridesmaid and her charming frock was of ice blue nylon marquisette. She, too, wore a Juliet cap to hold a shoulder-length veil in place, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of coral gladioli and roses.

The bride's niece, little Steve McKellar, was the flower girl, making a sweet picture in her hoop-skirted dress of yellow nylon sheer and nosegay of white carnations and blue daisies.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Edward Smith of West Summerland. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Mr. Harold and Mr. Max Torrance.

Mrs. W. T. Ellis was pianist for the service and during the signing of the register Dr. R. L. Hall sang "O Promise Me".

A reception for over forty guests was held in the church hall where decorations were pink and white streamers, ferns, gladioli and garden flowers.

The bride's mother received in an attractive navy blue sheer with corsage of pink carnations and heather and wearing navy and white accessories. Mrs. Smith, mother of the groom, wore a most becoming navy petit point triple sheer gown with pink carnations and heather in her corsage and navy accessories.

The bride's table carried out the summer motif with garden flowers part of the special August day and the three-tiered wedding cake embedded in pink tulle.

Rev. R. R. Smith proposed the toast to the bride and to this the groom made able response. Telegrams and cables of congratulations were read at the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. Edward Smith, West Summerland, were out-of-town guests and others attended from Harris, and Stewart Valley, Sask.

For travelling the bride chose a navy sheer dress with navy gabardine top coat and navy and beige accessories.

Following their honeymoon the couple will make their home in West Summerland where the groom is municipal clerk, and where the bride was a member of the Summerland General hospital nursing staff.

Teen Town

Well, our "Miss Summerland" is probably in Vancouver by now and we all hope she wins at the PNE. Teen Town presented her with a gift before leaving on the train Monday night.

The work done by several Teen Towners on Friday night and Saturday was deeply appreciated by the council. "Thanks a lot kids!" Our many thanks are also being extended to Mr. Bennett for donating the gladioli which helped make the float so beautiful.

I'm speaking of Olive, too, when I mention the float being so beautiful.

This Saturday night Teen Town is having a selection dance. That is, a variety of dances so that everyone will be enjoying themselves. Believe me, kids, your council is really trying to get your support by coming to these Teen Town events and we are also trying to make the events a success. But how can we, without your cooperation? So come on out and really have fun at this dance. The admission is 25c for members or 40c a couple and 50c for non-members. The dance starts at 8:30 p.m., so let's see everyone there eh?

Cycles Miles Then Takes Train to Enter Race

After bicycling from Edmonton south to Spokane, across to Vancouver and Mission and east to Summerland, Don Bycroft, 16-year-old Edmonton lad, left by train from Kelowna last week to hurry home so that he could enter a 75-mile bike race which was held on Monday.

The young prairie lad was the youngest entry in an Edmonton to Red Deer 100-mile bike race last year.

He is a nephew of Gordon Young and after visiting Mr. Young's brother in Mission, B.C., he came on to Summerland and spent a few days.

If it hadn't been for his anxiety to get home in time for the 75-mile race he probably would have cycled all the way home instead of shipping via CNR.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mitchell and children have returned from a camping trip to Mara and Shuswap lakes and Mt. Revelstoke. At the lakes they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leinor.

"Don't expect too many miracles in this Push-button Age!"

"EVERY year science is creating more 'miracles' to make living easier in countless ways. And what we see today is only the beginning of an amazing new era of comfort and convenience.

"But it seems to me that some people are expecting too many miracles. For instance, they believe that, by some kind of magic, old-age benefits will provide all the money they're ever going to need when they retire.

"I believe in security for everyone, but I want mine planned to suit my own individual needs. That's why I have my own life insurance.

It'll take all the insurance I've got now, and maybe more, to help provide the kind of retirement income I want and when I want it!

"My life insurance is flexible, too. I had my choice of dozens of different kinds of policies. And my life underwriter helped me arrange a balanced programme that gives my family protection now, while it builds a better income for my old age.

"Come what may, I'm still relying on my own life insurance. Like millions of other Canadians, I've found it the sure road to security!"

For the occasion the house was prettily decorated with lovely gladioli and asters, and for her wedding dress the bride chose a charming blue crepe gown and carried a bridal bouquet of deep red roses.

Her sister, Miss Esther Metters attended as bridesmaid, and was gowned in yellow silk. Her flowers were sweet peas.

The groom was supported by Mr. Lorne Logie and Mrs. Tom Racicot played the wedding music.

A reception for about thirty-five guests was held immediately following the ceremony when Mrs. M. K. Monro and Mrs. R. C. Metters received.

Boyhood Pal Finds Phil Davis After 31 Years Apart

A reunion after thirty-one years took place on Sunday, August 13 at the home of Phil Davis when his boyhood pal, Wesley McKay and his wife of Leith, Ont., on Georgian Bay finally located him after contacting many Davises in the province.

Mr. McKay even had radio messages sent out from New Westminster which were not heard here, unfortunately.

Most of the visit here was spent reminiscing on the old days and the years between although time was found to visit points of interest such as the experimental station, packing houses, fish hatchery and Powell Beach. The latter Mr. McKay considered to be one of the finest he had seen in his travels across Canada.

He was pleasantly surprised by the beautiful parade of floats at the Penticton Peach Festival.

Mr. and Mrs. McKay left last Thursday but the two pals hope they can continue their stories at a date not too far in the future.

Former Local Girl Married in South

KELOWNA — Oakland, Cal., is the new home of Miss Joan Eileen Pearson, daughter of Mrs. Barbara Pearson, of Kelowna and the late Rev. Humphrey Pearson, former residents of Summerland, following her marriage to Mr. Fred Tracy Fox, manager of the West Oakland branch of the Bank of America.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Harris and three of their children, Michael Brian and Gerald, were guests last week at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh.

Mrs. Harris who writes and broadcasts under the name of Christie Harris has just completed a series of school history scripts to be put over the provincial network this fall.

The week preceding her visit to Summerland she was heard on the air each day on the Ellen Harris program during the latter's vacation. Mrs. Harris' subjects were different Fraser Valley activities of interest to women such as A Day in a Berry Patch; Saturday Night in a Small Town, etc.

At present she is preparing a group of adaptations of ancient Irish legends which will be on CK in the autumn.

Often heard on the fifteen-minute period called Miscellany which is just after the evening news at 10:15, Mrs. Harris' fictitious episodes of her original characters Giles and Dolly, have been amusing throughout the winter months.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. Elmer Johnston has returned from the coast where she visited her sister-in-law, Mrs. Roantree.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

Quiz No. 8

How much does it cost to advertise a loaf of bread? Are they spending 2¢? 3¢? 5¢? Or more?

Answer: It costs less than the wrapper to advertise the big-name brands of bread.

That's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:

Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.

So advertising saves you many times the cost of that wrapper.

Founder of Valley Weeklies Dies Here

William James Clement, 78-year-old mixed farm rancher from Okpey Lake, passed away in Summerland General Hospital on Friday, August 18, after a short illness. He was born in 1872 in Mount Brydges, Ont. Founder of the Kelowna Clarion and the Penticton Press, which later became the Penticton Herald, Mr. Clement was well-known in the early days of the Okanagan. For the past quarter century however, he had forsaken the newspaper world in favor of a mixed farming career. His wife predeceased him and he had lived the life of a recluse for many years. Funeral service was held on Monday, August 21, from St. Andrew's United Church, West Summerland, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating. Interment was in the Peach Orchard cemetery, Roselawn Funeral Home in charge.

Honor Stirling's Memory at Fair September 12-14

Jock Stirling's memory will be honored by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, of which he was president at the time of his sudden death a year ago, through the medium of "The J. R. J. Stirling Memorial Trophy" which will be the first prize in an entirely new class at the B.C. Interior Provincial Exhibition at Armstrong, September 12 - 14. BCFGA Secretary C. A. Hayden announced this week.

This class will be confined to growers' sons and daughters who have not reached their nineteenth birthdays. Competitors will show three plates of tree fruits, either of apples, pears or stone fruits, or a combination made up from these three kinds but no two plates may be of the same variety.

An engraved silver tray, presented by the BCFGA as instructed by the 1950 annual convention, will go to the winner, along with a case of Red Label vitaminized apple juice donated by B.C. Fruit Processors Limited. Cash prizes of $10 for second, $6 for third and $4 for fourth will be given.

The BCFGA committee, under Chairman W. T. Cameron, of Vernon, has made especial efforts to build the 1950 fruit division into the best that has been organized in the fourteen years during which the association has sponsored this section.

Cash prizes amount to $486 and again an outstanding feature will be "The Better Fruit Competition" with a massive silver tray, presented by Buckerfield's Limited as the permanent property of the winner.

This Trophy which has been organized annually for the last five years by Arthur Laing, M.P., was won by the late Percy E. French of Vernon, in 1946, by P. D. Smithers of Oliver, in 1947, by the late J. R. J. Stirling of East Kelowna in 1948 and by Adam Keller, of Oliver, in 1949.

The main purpose of this class is the development of the highest possible quality of tree fruits. Cash prizes in this event include $15 for second, $10 for third, $5 for fourth, $3 for fifth and $2 for sixth. Another feature competition is

Class 63 for five packed boxes of apples with cash prize of $20, 50c lbs. of fertilizer and the Western Canada Fad and Drum Co. trophy and case of canned goods from Canadian Cannery (Western) Limited to the winner; $15, 400 lbs. of fertilizer and case of canned goods from Bulman's Limited to second place and 200 lbs. of fertilizer to third place.

Altogether there are 68 classes with the last three, No. 66, 67 and 68, devoted to the packing houses' competitions in Wealthy, McIntosh and Delicious classes.

Two tons of fertilizers, two cases of canned goods, five cases of vitaminized apple juice and three percolators are included among the special prizes.

Entries close September 4. Entry forms are available from The Review office. W. F. Ward is the Summerland member of the committee in charge.

Red Sox Well on Way to Third League Title After 17-1 Win

Summerland Red Sox slaughtered Pentiction Pirates 17-1 in the first game of the final playoff series for the South-Okanagan junior baseball championship at the Living Memorial athletic park last Sunday afternoon.

Second and what should be the last game of the series will be held at King's Park, Pentiction, next Sunday.

Red Sox have captured the junior league championship, for the past two years and are well on their way to making it three in a row.

There was a double-header at the ball park here last Sunday as Pentiction first tussled with Naramata and won that game 10-4. This was the last of the semi-final series and found Campbell and Evans providing the pitching stuff for Pentiction and Luxton and Salting were the losing pitchers.

The Red Sox main battery of Gil Jacobs and Bob Weitzel proved too strong for the Pirates in the main game. Jacobs was nicked for eight bingles but was seldom in trouble and his team gave him excellent support.

Red Sox only collected ten hits but stolen bases, passed balls and four errors gave up a total of 17 runs, bunched mainly into three frames.

Evans, after completing the last three innings of the first game, went the route for the Pirates against Red Sox.

Five Runs in Second

Francis Gould started things in the first frame when he singled and went around on two miscues by Catcher O'Connell. The Pirates had their backs to the wall from the second inning on, as in that frame five more tallies came across, triples by Cristante and Francis Gould taking the hearts out of the visitors.

Weitzel scored a single run in the fourth, while four more in the sixth and five in the seventh and a final one in the eighth weren't really needed.

Pirates' lone run was in the fourth when half of the Pirates singles were counted. Despite this barrage of hits only one run came across, robbing Jacobs of a shut out.

Merchants Blow 5 Run Lead To Rutland

After establishing a lead of 5-0 Summerland Merchants were held scoreless for the balance of the game and saw Rutland Adanacs overcome the handicap and go on to win 8-5 at Rutland last Sunday afternoon in an exhibition contest.

Five errors, three by the outfield were big contributions to the Rutland win, as Wally Day held the Adanacs to seven hits and struck out ten batters.

Stewart was replaced on the Rutland mound, after the disastrous third frame, by Lesmeister who had the Merchants handcuffed for the rest of the battle.

Adanacs were lucky to get out of the first frame with a loss of only one run as the first three men walked and Taylor was hit by a pitched ball. However, an attempted squeeze play from third found Dunham being put out at home plate. Walsh was brought across for the first Merchants tally.

In the third, two doubles by Daryl Weitzel and Schwab and two Rutland errors scored four runs and put the Merchants on top 5-0.

Adanacs got two of these back in the same frame when Day yielded two passes to first and Mit Koga brought them across with a single to right field which Dunham allowed to go through.

Lesmeister scored another Rutland run in the fourth when he singled, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Campbell's grounder.

Rutland Goes Ahead

In the sixth, a single to left field where Nesbitt booted the horsehide scored two runs and knotted the count. Ellergot scoring on Walsh's miscue at short to put the northerners out in front.

Dunham gathered in Gillard's short fly to right field and threw to Schwab at home in time to cut off Stewart who had previously made a nice triple. In the 8th, Adanacs added some insurance with two more bingles on two hits and Daryl Weitzel's error in the outfield.

Vanderburgh tripled in the ninth but couldn't get any farther.

Dr. L. A. Day Trophy Won by K. Blagborne

A special shoot was held at the Summerland trap club last Sunday afternoon, a number of out-of-town guests participating with local sportsmen in several novelty events.

After the shoot, a delightful turkey dinner was enjoyed by all present.

Dr. L. A. Day presented the Day trophy to Ken Blagborne, who scored 144 out of 150 on six declared shoots during the season. He was leader in this special event which keeps interest at a high point throughout the year.

Bill Nelson was the champion of Sunday's shooting when he swamped his opponents in the "miss and out" event to win the $25 Summerland Rink Assn bond offered as first prize.

Proceeds from the shoot, in the amount of $23, forms a donation from the Summerland Trap club to the Summerland Fish and Game Association.

Taylor Leads Merchants In Hitting by Wide Margin

George Taylor figures most prominently of all players on the Merchants' baseball team according to averages compiled by The Review this week from all league and exhibition games box scores which have been handed in to this office this season.

For the most part the batting averages are woefully weak and are an indication of the reason why the Merchants found themselves in the league cellar. Taylor, was the only batter to stay in the .300 class, showing his batting skill with only four strikeouts in 96 times at bat. But Taylor also led in another capacity, that of errors, having committed nearly three times as many as Walsh or Day, next in line in this department.

Following are the complete averages for the season to date:

Aged 84, the elderly woman was born in Nottingham, Eng., coming to Canada and making her home in the Hamiota district about 67 years ago. After her son established his jewellery business here at the conclusion of the war the late Mrs. Milne came to Summerland to reside.

About a month ago she returned to Manitoba for a visit and passed away yesterday. She had been in poor health for some time.

tract is being sent back to the West Kootenay officials for their signatures. When it returns it will be submitted to the department of municipal affairs and if no change is needed then it will be signed by the municipality.

Local council is anxious to have the contract commence September 1 but the benefits will not be passed on all at once, it was intimated. The electrical department will have to watch the situation closely for a few weeks to verify expected loads and other factors.

The new contract calls for the municipality to pay the following:

1. A service charge of $1 per month per kilovolt ampere which if 250,000 kwh are used, based on 800 kva, would mean $800.
2. Plus an energy charge of 1 cent per kwh for first 100 kwh for each kilovolt ampere of "billing" demand. On the same basis this would mean another $800.

and 0.7 cents per kwh for the next 30,000 kwh per month, another $210.

and 0.3 cents per kwh for all additional kwh of monthly consumption; that is, if 140,000 the cost would be $420.

This brings the total cost to $2,230 on the basis of this amount of usage.

In explanation of "billing demand", the agreement states:

- (a) The maximum kilovolt ampere demand recorded for the current month by means of suitable maximum kilovolt ampere demand meters . . . integrating over a 32-minute period, or
- (b) 75 percent of the maximum kilovolt ampere demand recorded during the preceding eleven months, or if the contract has not been in effect for 11 months, then 75 percent of the maximum kilovolt ampere demand recorded since the commencement of the agreement.

Whichever is the greater.

50 percent of this tonnage is leaving the Okanagan since the strike began.

Six cars of peaches were shipped to the prairies by railway express last Saturday. Freight deliveries could not be handled at that late date.

Bartlett pears and apples are being moved into cold storage to await cessation of the strike but if the walkout continues into September available space cannot be used in this manner forever.

At the moment the railway strike is more of an inconvenience than a disaster but it will soon loom as a disaster to the fruit industry if it lasts any length of time, fruit officials declare.

Delivery of Mail
Since the weekend only first class mail has been handled by post offices throughout Canada.

Mail is arriving daily from the coast to Penticton airport by CPA each morning. It is sorted in Penticton post office and the north-bound mail truck arrives at the Summerland and West Summerland post offices between 12:30 and 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

This truck proceeds on to Kelowna where it picks up valley mail and returns in the late afternoon, picking up mail for Penticton, coast and eastern points for delivery to the plane service out of Penticton to Vancouver.

Mr. Ross McLachlan, West Summerland postmaster, states that closing hour for mail destined to Okanagan points north and to Kamloops district is 12 o'clock noon. For Penticton, coast and eastern points, closing time is 1 o'clock.

Vancouver daily papers are starting to arrive by truck to the post offices, although delivery has not been constant.

FOR THE GO-AHEAD FARMER— THERE'S MONEY AT "MY BANK"

There are times when the farmer finds that the efficient running of his farm calls for more ready cash than he can immediately lay hands on. He may want the money for the purchase of seed, or feed and fertilizer. He may need some new machinery, for which he will get better terms if he pays cash. He may wish to make improvements to the farmhouse and farm-buildings.

If you have a financing problem of this sort, pay a call on Mr. Solly, manager of the Bank of Montreal at West Summerland. B of M loans to farmers carry on agreeably low rate of interest, and are repayable on terms especially suited to the seasonal nature of farm income.

Get the best out of your farm by using a B of M Farm Loan to provide needed equipment and supplies.—Adv't.

Shipments of Fruit to Prairies Start at Once; Railway Strike Over

Last night the nation-wide railway strike was called off by the striking non-operating railway workers following the passage by parliament of legislation requiring them to start operations within 48 hours. Royal assent to the bill was given late yesterday afternoon.

At 7:15 o'clock PDT last night Frank Hal' and Bert Mosher, heads of the unions involved, spoke over the CBC Trans-Canada network informing all striking railway workers to get back on the job.

At five o'clock this morning a CPR freight train pulled out for Vancouver from Penticton yards.

Local railway offices were re-opened here today both at the West Summerland CPR station and the CPR and CNR wharf offices in lower town.

Arrangements are being made to ship quantities of the valley's fruit and vegetables by rail to prairie points as quickly as cars are made available.

It is anticipated that passenger trains will roll out of Vancouver and Penticton over Kettle Valley division lines tonight. This will mean the resumption of normal mail runs for the first time since the strike went into effect on Tuesday, August 22, nine days ago.

Shortage of Labor for Apple Crop

Summerland district and the Okanagan generally will be faced with an acute labor shortage at the height of the apple picking season if labor is not made available for September and October.

This was the opinion of placement officers in the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor Service who gathered recently at Penticton to discuss with Wm. MacGillivray the main harvesting season which is due to commence in the Okanagan next week.

W. J. Beattie, local placement officer, states that a number of the regular employees who generally come in to the Okanagan for seasonal work in the orchards early in July are prepared to come here now.

He has quite a stack of correspondence from such persons who have understood the peculiar circumstances surrounding the fruit situation this year and are still prepared to come here and lend a hand.

Labor placement officers two weeks ago placed the number of additional workers required to harvest and pack the crop at 1,500 persons.

This would appear to be the most difficult labor situation in the valley since 1943.

The farm labor service is working diligently to solve the valley's requirements and labor is being recruited from the coast and prairies to meet the situation, Mr. Beattie declares.

Growers who will need assistance are being urged to contact Mr. Beattie at once so that he can provide a proper picture of requirements here to his coast authorities.

Another Accident On Sandhill Road

On the Sandhill road, opposite N. O. Solly's orchard, Richard Coe of Penticton ran his car into a telephone pole and caused some $800 damage to the vehicle, on Monday evening, August 23, about 8:30 o'clock.

Coe informed police that he was blinded by lights from an approaching car, struck a soft shoulder which threw the car out of control. The auto turned over after snapping off the telephone pole but none of the occupants was injured.

Americans More Keenly Aware of War Crisis, Kiwanis Delegates Find

"Americans, more than ourselves, feel themselves to be in the midst of a crisis, the beginnings of a third world war," declared Lacey Fisher, vice-president of Kiwanis Club of Summerland, in relating features of the district convention held in Spokane last week to members of the local club on Monday evening.

Mr. Fisher was one of three delegates who told local Kiwanians many details of the convention. It fell upon Mr. Fisher to discuss the main speakers and it was in reference to their remarks that he made the above observation.

Kiwanis International President Murdoch of Winnipeg pleaded for a deeper faith in the things Kiwanis stands for, which are the same as those civilization stands for, Mr. Fisher continued.

The part of the small club in Kiwanis International was also stressed by Mr. Murdoch, who urged that all members be liberal and democratic in their thinking.

He quoted another chief speaker as suggesting that America has lost some of her spiritual depth with the state becoming too much the master of the man. President J. Y. Towgood, who led the "strongest Canadian delegation" from Summerland to Spokane for the three-day convention was particularly pleased with the fellowship exhibited by delegates and other members who, with their wives, numbered 1100 persons.

The value of an international understanding in the Pacific Northwest district of Kiwanis which embraces Canadian and American clubs, was brought forcibly home to Mr. Towgood at this convention.

Privilege of citizenship and the responsibility of safeguarding it was a keynote of the convention, he thought.

Father A. M. Moultenburgh, Kiwanis club secretary, dealt with panel discussions and other small or group sessions which he was privileged to attend.

He expressed amazement at the insight into the various clubs workings high officials of Kiwanis district and international had attained.

Those who attended from Summerland included Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Towgood, Mrs. and Mrs. Lacey Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Solly, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ritchie and Father A. M. Moultenburgh.

Red Sox Champions of South Okanagan for Third Year in Row

Over Thirty Pass Exams at Swim Classes

Out of forty who attempted the exams, 31 were passed by examiner John Kitson of Kelowna at the final day of the Summerland Board of Trade sponsored swim classes at Powell Beach yesterday.

These swimming and water safety classes have been held during the summer holiday months under the supervision of Don Johnston. The trade board committee in charge is headed by Cecil Wade and Walter Toevs and has Mel Ducommun as registrar.

On Wednesday, August 23, the classes were treated to hot dogs by the trade board committee and a number of parents and others interested were in attendance to watch the instruction.

Each pupil who passed received an official card, designating the exam undertaken under the direction of the water safety rules of the Canadian Red Cross. If any pupil failed to receive a card then it can be obtained from Cece Wade at Holmes & Wade Ltd.

Badges will be forthcoming from Red Cross headquarters in Vancouver and crests for senior and intermediate swimmers will also be handed out at a later date.

Mr. Kitson expressed satisfaction with the results obtained at these summer classes and with progress made by those who undertook the examinations.

Nearly 200 youngsters received instruction in water safety this summer.

Following is the list of the successful candidates:

- Senior—Irene Carey, Joan Dickson.
- Intermediate—Joan Adams, Carlton Sheeley, Brian Armstrong, Freida Daniels, June Willis.

Go to Salmon Arm For Conference

Municipal delegates from all parts of the Okanagan are gathering a Salmon Arm today for the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Municipal Assn., the final one before the annual UBCM convention at Nelson in mid-September. Reeve C. E. Bontje heads the Summerland delegation which will also include Councillors Norman Holmes and Francis Stewart.

New High School Setup Starts Next Week Under Unfavorable Conditions

Next Tuesday, September 5, students for the Summerland district school system will troop back for the start of the fall term. It is expected that a record 765 enrollment will materialize next week, with 450 in the MacDonald elementary school and 315 in the new junior-senior high school setup.

This will be the first time in Summerland's history that a junior-senior high school curriculum has been attempted.

Elementary school pupils, from grades 1 to 6 inclusive will be housed comfortably in the main classrooms. Only one new teacher will be enrolled, while the primary grade will have about 30 pupils according to the estimate of Principal S. A. MacDonald.

But it will be a different story on accommodation for the new junior-senior high school group.

Five rooms in the old high school building, four basement rooms in the MacDonald school, one room in the library building and two in the primary grades' playshed will probably greet the high school students as their temporary accommodation next week.

School board endeavored to obtain additional accommodation for two rooms in the church halls but without result, although the United church agreed to house one primary grade in St. Andrew's hall. This splitting of primary grades was not considered feasible.

This week it has been suggested that the playsheds in the MacDonald school addition could be used for temporary classroom space in September.

It is hoped that the industrial arts and drafting rooms in the new junior-senior high school will be completed—apart from the mastic floor—by the end of September and can thus be utilized, freeing the playshed for the youngsters.

Glass brick was applied last week to the industrial arts-home economic section of the new building and work on that portion is being hurried along as rapidly as possible.

Some of the glassbrick on the main classroom section has also been applied. Trusses for the gymnasium are in place and this week will see the

Start to Lay Rink Foundation

Forms for the concrete abutments for the new hockey-curling rink have been started at the new site which has been acquired on the Stewart orchard property directly west of the badminton and tennis courts.

This ground has been levelled and Mr. E. E. Tory, construction expert from Vancouver has been given a contract to install foundations and erect trusses ready for the outside finishing.

Mr. Tory and crew has been on the job for a week and some volunteers have been assisting in their spare time.

Every weeknight, except Saturday and Sunday, workers to assist in the erection of this new Summerland arena are being welcomed at the site.

COAL PRODUCTION UP

Coal production for the month of July was 120,530 tons compared with an output of 112,290 tons in July, 1946. The Vancouver Island district was the second largest producer with an output of 34,800 tons. The largest producer was the East Kootenay district where production reached 84,000 tons.

Optimistic Of Export to U.K. Markets

"We are hopeful that we will be able to get onto the United Kingdom market," declared A. K. Loyd, president of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. the grower sales agency to The Review last week.

The grower sales head was careful not to make his statement too promising but it would appear that there is a better outlook now for exporting to the UK than for many seasons past.

Mr. Loyd was in the east until ten days ago conferring with the International Apple Assn. and other groups in eastern Canada and the United States.

The American apple growers were informed that Canada expects to export about two million boxes of apples into the United States this year, the same as the previous two years. However, that figure may not be equalled if conditions remain as optimistic as at present in this country, it is stated in some quarters.

Good Market Prospect

The prospect of getting rid of B.C.'s apple crop of six and a half million boxes is away ahead of the prospect at this time a year ago.

Besides the probability of reaching the UK market, there will be less competition from eastern Canada apple producers and the crop in the United States will not reach the proportions of last year's bumper yield.

According to U.S. government figures, the U.S. crop will be 119 million bushels, down about 20 million bushels from last year. The International Apple Assn. believes this figure to be optimistic by about six million bushels, having placed the 1950 estimated yield at 113,000,000 bushels.

In Washington State, however, despite gloomy predictions a few months ago, the picture has now changed and that big apple producing state now anticipates harvesting 3,000 cars or 2,400,000 boxes more apples than in 1949.

Fortunately for all concerned, production in other parts of the States does not equal this picture.

In Ontario, the crop is expected to be 70 to 80 percent of the 1949 figure. Quebec will only be about 50 to 60 percent of last year and Nova Scotia will be down considerably, as well.

First packing of Okanagan McIntosh will start about the first of next week in Oliver-Osoyoos and first picking dates will range from then until September 21 in the Salmon Arm area.

First picking of McIntosh in Summerland district will probably start in the September 12 to 15 period with general Mac picking by September 20.

New Districts for RCMP Detachments

With the changeover to RCMP in the province several alterations in districts and detachments have now been completed.

Summerland remains in Penticton detachment but Penticton will no longer be a headquarters. A former system whereby Nelson is headquarters for Penticton detachment is now in force.

Kelowna and north ones under Kamloops district and Sub Inspector J. H. McClinton, formerly of Penticton will be in charge at Kamloops. Sub Inspector R. S. Nelson is in charge of the Nelson district.

Swim Classes Should be Held Three Times Weekly Says Red Cross Head

At Thiosson, director of swimming and water safety for the B.C. branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, conferred with Don Johnston, in charge of local trade board swim classes on Wednesday morning.

He was unable to remain for the final swim classes at Powell Beach yesterday afternoon but visited there at noon before continuing on to Penticton and Princeton on route back to Vancouver which point he said he must reach by last night.

Mr. Thiosson expressed the thought that one swim class per week is not sufficient to give pupils as thorough knowledge of swimming and water safety as they should receive during the summer.

Classes three times per week for a period of 8 to 10 weeks are advocated by this provincial director.

Transportation to the beach is one of the main reasons why classes are not held more often, it was explained to Mr. Thiosson, who immediately declared that a pool in the West Summerland area would be the answer.

A pool such as the community of Armstrong instituted would be ideal for Summerland, he considered, and should be within the means of the district.

However, if the transportation difficulty could be overcome, forming pools for tiny tots and for older classes at Powell Beach would be the ideal solution, he admitted in further conversation.

Mr. Thiosson has been through the Kootenays conducting examinations in swimming and water safety technique and concluded classes at Kelowna and Penticton yesterday.

The swim class exams here were undertaken by Mr. Thiosson's interior assistant instructor, Mr. J. Kitson of Kelowna.

Was St. Laurent too Cautious?

At this writing, Parliament is endeavoring to rush through a bill which will put a stop to the rail strike and allow the railways to operate once more, after ten days' of complete stoppage.

In the United States, railways would have stopped operating by now if President Harry Truman had not stepped in and, through power vested in him by the country's legislation, declared that the government was taking over the railways and there would be no general shutdown.

The Government of Canada has acted strictly according to constitution, and so has the United States powers. But on the one hand, Canada never prepared herself for such a general economic tieup and the United States, from previous experience, had made proper provision.

Throughout Canada the St. Laurent government is being spanked for ever allowing the strike to be finalized. With such an overwhelming majority in Parliament the government should not have feared taking the law into its own hands and preventing the rail strike, say the critics.

But time may prove that the government, having been soundly berated for its illegal action in 1948 when an economic crisis through shortage of U.S. dollars loomed, decided against putting itself in the same precarious position a second time.

We are too closely affected by the strike at present to weigh the ultimate result. Should the government have disregarded present laws and stopped the strike or should it have taken its present course, called parliament and proceeded in a proper manner? At present, we like the quick action in preventing a nation-wide economic tieup but time may prove the government did the proper thing.

It is difficult to agree with a government action when you witness ground crops rotting on the ground because of lack of transportation; when you see producers who have been severely hit by a terrible winter suffer further financial loss because of the railway employees' strike; when you see thousands of needy wage earners laid off work as an indirect result of the strike.

But those who condemned the government most harshly in 1948 for its illegal action are its severest critics now for not repeating and saving the country once again.

According to the strictest sense of democratic rule, St. Laurent was perfectly correct. But in times like these, is it always wise to be "correct"? Governments sometimes find that they are more popular if they make quick decisions and substantiate them afterwards than to delay and procrastinate.

Certainly St. Laurent has followed the old Mackenzie King tradition of not stepping from the middle course to an extreme extent in this particular case.

Labor is reported to have stated that present stop-strike legislation will cost the St. Laurent government the next election. We think the general public has been more aroused by the lack of quick action than it will be because Parliament saw fit to ratify new legislation which will tend to put the railways back into operation by Friday at the earliest.

No Okanagan Fruit on Display

Last week we read some of the results of the fruit exhibition at British Columbia's greatest show of the year, the Pacific National Exhibition.

During the past week upwards of 45,000 persons a day have paid admission charges to go through the fair. But not one person will see Okanagan fruit on display or in competition with fruit from the Fraser Valley and Vancouver Island.

Granted it is too early for the best apple display from the Okanagan and this valley was badly hit last winter in peaches and other soft fruits, yet some attempt should have been made to publicize the Okanagan at this premier display in western Canada.

The Okanagan fruit industry plays a big part in the economy of this province. We are proud of this part we play, yet we are oftentimes loathe to expend the effort and money to acquaint others with such facts.

We maintain that B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., the growers' sales agency, the BCFGA, the growers' parliament, and other grower officials should pay more attention to the PNE from a strictly sales standpoint.

If individual growers cannot be persuaded to enter competitive displays from the Okanagan in the PNE then the sales agency should make the effort and display the world-renowned fruits of this valley for the edification of thousands and thousands of prospective buyers who go through the turnstiles annually at this monster exhibition.

Drive Carefully Next Week

Next Tuesday schools all across this province will open. Youngsters from six years and up will be trudging over the roads and sidewalks, all headed in one direction each morning.

It is best that the motorists of this province and, of course, we refer more especially to those in the Summerland area, be just a little more careful from Tuesday on.

Although most children have a good sense of traffic regulations and safety precautions, there are always some who dart out from the sidewalk or side of the road into the main travelled portion.

It is those children who must be watched carefully by drivers. That is the type of accident which calls for quick action on the part of the motorist to prevent crippling or loss of life.

We urge the motor vehicle drivers of this area to be just a little more cautious from next week on so that some child will not be maimed for life. It really only takes a few moments more to reach a destination at a slower speed.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Last spring my lupins and I waged a long battle against cutworms, which finally ended with most of the lupins still proudly erect and enemy corpses strewn across the field. Now another enemy has attacked those battleweary plants, so insidiously that I fear my assistance comes late.

A fifth column of green aphids sneaked up the plant-stems in the night, deployed under the leaves and there, with their color adding camouflage to their concealment were sucking the very life-blood out of my poor lupins for days before I guessed the cause of their slow withering. As I have always been very strict with my flowers never permitting them to attack an aphid or even go off the place it is a clear case of unprovoked aggression.

going or what they're going to do when they get there. Still, they have some smart tricks, and keeping aphids-cattle is one of them. They're much better cattle than the kind we humans keep. A good dairy aphid will, I'm told, produce two to seven drops of liquid per day from the two little tubes in her back. For the size of the creature, that's an enormous amount; the equivalent of two hundred painful per day from a cow! One wonders if the best milking strains of aphids are the result of long experiments in selective breeding by their ant herdsman; ants may have Better Dairy Aphid Societies which could teach our Jersey breeders quite a lot.

Of course, the ant dairymen have advantages. When we get hold of an exceptionally good Holstein or Guernsey, it takes a long time to build up a herd from her progeny with only one calf born every year and only half of those, roughly, being females. With aphids, on the other hand, there are many generations in a single season, and I don't know how many to each generation—probably hundreds. What's more, the first several generations each year are all females. Not until late summer or early fall do males appear in the aphid family; and only then, too, do the females lay eggs like insects, having horns them alive all spring, like cows. But the point is that with so many generations and so many females an ant herdsman could do a lot of selecting and still have a large herd at the end of the year.

Some people don't like to compare aphids to cows, but rather to bees. They point out that the liquid which they secrete is called "honey-dew"—though not to be confused either with honey, or with the liquid of the same name sold in some cafes. Also the white woolly substance produced by some aphids, which orchardists know only too well, is claimed to be very similar in substance to beeswax.

But all these facts about aphids no longer intrigue me, and what I compare them to as I look at my drooping lupins is neither cows nor bees. I am terrified by the announcement of a Cornell University student that a single female aphid, weighing less than one hundred-thousandths of a pound, could in a single year, under ideal conditions, produce enough descendants to weigh eight hundred million tons.

There is no room in my flower beds for that many aphids. I'm going after them right now with a spray gun before they have to be shovelled off in truckloads.

Fishing Reports

(by Bert Berry)

Okanagan Lake—No big fish caught but fishing for the small ones has been good. Eddie Lloyd and party had fair luck up to 2 pounds fishing from the rocks with grasshoppers above Peachland. Best trolling waters around town here seems to remain the same, off Summerland towards Powell Beach and above Crescent Beach; also from Chute Creek to Agate Eay on the east side.

Teepee Lakes — Boats and accommodation; Arnold Cowan, Pete Lenzi and party up over the weekend and had real good fishing; up to 2 pounds and lots of fish trolling and fly.

Silver Lake — No accommodation or boats, road rough; not many reports on this lake but the evening fishing has been good.

Glen Lake — Boats, no accommodation, road good; pretty fair fishing here if you know the spots.

Peachland Dam — Road poor, no boats or accommodation; Billy Hall, Bill Hack and party had real fishing there last week. The biggest was over three pounds caught on the fly.

Headwaters Fishing Camp—Road fair, all accommodation; there has been good fishing here but the average size has been small.

Fish Lake Chain—All accommodation, road good; Fish Lake poor but all upper lakes giving good catches.

Agur Lake—Road fair, no boats; we all know there are big ones there and they can be caught. Al McIntosh and party got some big ones and reports they are not muddy.

Northern lakes above Kelowna—Have talked to two parties who spent some time up north trying to get fish without very good results. They say the lakes are off in the district.

Paradise Lake (via Merritt) — Boats and accommodation; talked with Gordon Mountford who says that Paradise is giving lots of fish but one little lake to the south is giving up two and three-pounders.

Summerland, B.C., August 28, 1950

Editor, The Review:
This letter is written in regards to your fine editorial in one of your late issues, headlined "Get Behind the New Arena". On behalf of the members of the Rink Assn. as well as myself, I want to thank you for your splendid support.

I would like to take this opportunity to clear up some of the points mentioned. We sold or say got promises for debentures to the amount of well over $20,000.00. Seventy-five percent of this amount has been or is at the present time being collected. The balance we are certain will also be at our disposal before the rink is completed.

The reason we financed this project the way we did, was arrived at after careful consideration of what happened to the by-law for the proposed Community Hall. We did not want one or two prominent men of the community to be the downfall of our project. This is a free country and nobody is obligated to buy our debentures or come out and work for nothing.

The next point I do not quite agree with is your contention that it was me that did it all. I have on my executive as well as in the association a good many men who have worked hard to get to the point where we are. Without their help there would be no arena going up today.

One of the great factors that made me work as I did, is the fact that hardly a day passes without some boy or youngster asking me: "Are we really going to get an arena? Boy, that will be swell!"

Talk about encouragement — Charlie Pollock and Mac Johnston took their logging truck out of the bush, went to Vancouver and brought back 15 tons of steel. No charge. Or take Lloyd Miller, who has, up to now, hauled over 20,000 B.M. of lumber from Kelowna for nothing. Then there is Victor Park or who has cleared and levelled the land for us, for the pleasure of it. There also are the fellows who supplied tractors and drivers for nothing. The Jaycees also have done some good work already and are prepared to do a lot more.

Some time ago Mr. "Pop" Duns-

Summerland is becoming a real fruit district. On Monday 2½ carloads of fruit left this community including one car of peaches for exhibition in the T. Eaton store windows in Winnipeg. Over 200 tons of fruit left here in August exceeding in one month any previous year's shipment.

Negotiations between Thornber and Taylor and the municipality for the two men to lease the electric light plant have fallen through because of legal difficulties.

At the Kamloops rifle shoot, six members of the Summerland club won four silver cups and a challenge shield, besides money prizes. They were J. Dunsdon, H. Dunsdon, G. Gartrell, F. Munro, W. Nelson and O. Smith.

The shore road from Peach Orchard to Crescent Beach is now an accomplished fact.

In a short time interior lakes will be well stocked with Atlantic salmon, this work being undertaken by George Gartrell, of the fisheries department. A few years ago a lake near Kamloops was stocked with Atlantic salmon and now Mr. Gartrell is capturing fry there and transferring them to the fish hatchery here. When they are ready they are transferred to other lakes. Mr. Gartrell drives the fry from Kamloops to Vernon by night, arriving at the latter point at about 1:30 a.m. The next morning the trip to Kelowna is undertaken and by special arrangements with the ferry the last stage of the journey to Summerland is concluded that night. Travel in the hot daytime would be fatal to the fry.

Capt. and Mrs. H. V. Acland arrived from Ireland this week to live on their ranch property in Meadow Valley.

A very reasonable solution of the mystery of Lake Okanagan's demonfish is made by Colin W. Lees-Ba, of Kelowna, who suggests that the "sea serpent" is the "American Manati", an animal which might very possibly be found in this country. The manati is a combination of big fish and animal.

A. B. Elliott was elected president of the Summerland Conservative Assn. along with R. Johnson and Mrs. F. W. Andrew, vice-presidents; P. E. Knowles secretary and Dewey Sanborn, assistant secretary.

Grouse cannot be shot in the lower Okanagan this year because of the scarcity of the birds.

An unfavorable report was submitted to a special council meeting by those councillors who visited Altamont and Kirton last week to ascertain the possibilities for water storage there. Expenses would be too great to build a dam there they thought.

Donald McIntyre has left for Kaslo where he will be high school principal.

Many motorists prefer to go to Pentiction by way of Shingle Creek road rather than attempt the detour around the slide on the lakeshore road.

don said to me: "By golly, George. I haven't any money, but I am going to come down and give you a hand for a day or two. I sure would like to see a rink go up."

Monday night Joe Sheeley with his youngest ball team came out equipped with shovels instead of ball bats and did a fine piece of work. The oldest of the kids was 15 years old.

I am certain, with the co-operation of the good people of Summerland we will finish the job.

Facts About Advertising

"It pays to advertise" is a sort of maxim which seems to have found its way into everyday language. One trouble with this statement is that it doesn't mean anything; it is too indefinite. One might as well say, "It pays to write." That would not mean anything either.

Although the phrase itself has no precise meaning, this slogan about advertising does seem to create the feeling that the only one who benefits from advertising is the advertiser himself. It is true that good advertising of a good product pays profits to the advertiser, but that is only because such advertising is a service to the consumer.

While most advertising has a simple business objective, it is nevertheless a powerful social force which affects us all. It has an influence in shaping the course of civilization itself. In many ways advertising has helped to accelerate progress in living conditions and to promote general enlightenment. It has helped to banish much of the old provincialism and superstitious prejudice. In business it has served to make competition more open and constructive. As the practice of advertising itself has improved during the last few decades, its influence has increased greatly in value.

The scale of our living necessarily depends on our purchasing power, which in turn is directly tied up with the prosperity of the entire nation. Industry prospers only as its products are rapidly sold to consumers, and advertising is the best sales stimulator known.

One of the valuable by-products of advertising is a measure of fluence in shaping the course of practical culture for the masses. Low priced newspapers and magazines are a most important cultural influence for those people who read nothing else. Advertising alone has made them hear good music and high-class entertainment. Advertising furnishes a broad medium through which artists speak to the masses. Many painters, musicians, and writers are supported by advertising and express themselves through its channels.

Advertising efficiently performs its primary job in the distribution of goods, and so helps to create the economic wealth which is a necessary foundation for every advance in civilization. Besides this business service, advertising directly promotes higher standards of living and wider acceptance of culture. It has earned recognition as one of the most effective civilizers at work.

Consideration Of Road Work To be Given

Giant's Head road, as far as the chief engineer of the public works department is concerned, is a secondary highway in the provincial highway system.

The municipality has not been informed that the road has received official designation from Hon. E. C. Carson, but from correspondence with the chief engineer, Mr. McCallum, other public works officials consider the deal closed.

Ordinarily, any program of improvement or maintenance to secondary roads must be submitted by February each year but as this particular stretch wasn't considered for designation until last month the provincial department will give Summerland's seal coating program consideration now, the council has been informed.

Cost of this operation will be submitted to the department on completion of the work it was arranged.

Mock Wedding is Feature of Shower For Macil White

All the guests had great fun at the shower which Mrs. L. Skinner and Miss Irma Arndt held on Thursday evening, Aug. 17 at the home of the latter for Miss Macil White, bride-elect of September when a mock wedding was enacted.

Bouquets throughout the house were carrot tops and flowers and the participants in the mock wedding had the same greenery in their bouquets.

The shower was a cup and saucer one and the lovely bits of china were placed inside a large size cardboard wedding-cake decorated in pink and white with a miniature decorative bride and groom on the top.

The bride-to-be was seated in a specially decorated chair and a prettily iced shower cake was a feature of the refreshments which followed later in the evening.

Those present were Mrs. E. O. White, Mrs. Arndt, Mrs. A. K. El-Hott, Mrs. W. Huva, Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. Ruppel, Mrs. H. Mohr, Mrs. C. A. Gayton, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. J. Halquist, Mrs. Paul Roberge, Mrs. J. Bernhardt, Miss Ruth Dale, Miss Gerda Arndt, Miss Wilma Huva, Miss M. Henderson, Miss Ann Glazer, Miss Beverly Gayton, Miss Leona Tisdale, Miss Dorothy Blacklock, Miss Joan Howard, Miss Norma Arndt and Janie and Eileen Smith. Mrs. B. Singer was unable to be present but sent her gift.

Lovely Trout Creek Bride to Reside at Coast Following Double Ring Nuptial Ceremony

Penticton Foursquare church was the scene of a lovely wedding on Wednesday evening, Aug. 23, at eight o'clock when Miss Maretta Lois Embree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Embree, Trout Creek, was united in marriage with Mr. Clifford Warren Ketchum, son of Mrs. L. B. Ketchum, 348 Van Horne St., Penticton.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Lloyd Ketchum, brother of the groom in front of a beautiful screen covered with white drapes on which a lattice work of pink, green, and mauve crepe paper, and sweet peas was arranged. Vases of gladioli, phlox and sweet peas were added floral decoration. Guest pews were marked by white paper holders containing antirrhinum and heather.

Entering the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride wore traditional white slipper satin, which she made herself, with fitted bodice, featuring a softly rippling pleatum, having long sleeves and the skirt slightly en train. Trimming was of flowers and leaves from shoulder to shoulder in front and across the front of the neck line, the latter featuring a tiny V at the throat.

Her veil of fingertip-length was caught by a headdress of orange blossoms. The bride carried a white Bible with a charming floral arrangement of white gladioli stocks, and pink rosebuds.

Miss Annie Joy attended as bridesmaid, becomingly gowned in floor-length pink Faconne crepe with a pretty headdress of flowers and nylon net. Her elbow-length gloves were of nylon net and she carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of pink gladioli.

Miss Arlene Embree, younger sister of the bride was unable to attend as junior bridesmaid because of illness, but her frock was of white taffeta made in the same style as that of the bride with headdress and gloves similar to the senior bridesmaid, and it was planned that she carry a crescent bouquet of mauve gladioli.

Ruth and Beth Ketchum, daughters of the minister, and nieces of the groom were the sweet little flower girls in dresses and bonnets of pale blue dotted organdy trimmed with pink ribbon bows. Each carried pink crocheted baskets filled with sweet peas in pastel shades.

Mr. Creston Ketchum supported his brother as groomsmen.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Walter George of Penticton, and while the register was signed Mr. Maynard Embree sang "Together Life's Pathway We Tread".

A reception for 130 guests was held in the Alexander Room of the Legion hall, Penticton, following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Embree and Mrs. Ketchum, mother of the groom, received. Mrs. Embree was attired in a two-piece costume of a soft shade of grey with which her navy and pink accessories and corsage of pink carnations made a lovely contrast. Mrs. Ketchum's gown was a brown floral silk and her accessories were chosen to match her corsage of cream carnations.

Streamers and garden flowers decorated the hall and a large white bell was placed over a window near the bride's chair.

The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and beautifully decorated with a three-tiered wedding cake in the centre and a row of large mauve and yellow dahlias on either side, with six tapers in silver holders.

Three tables were used to display the many lovely wedding gifts. In place of a toast, an address to the bride and groom was given by Mr. G. Thornber of Kelowna, and to this the groom made a response.

A program of entertainment was given with Mr. Percy Miller as master of ceremonies. Miss Marjorie, Miss Laura and Mr. Preston Mott sang "Marriage Prayer" as a trio; Mrs. Dorothy Davis rendered "Wedding Prayer" as a vocal solo; Rev. Lloyd Ketchum played "Golden Bells" on his trumpet; Rev. and Mrs. F. Howell, duet "Roses in December"; Laura Mott, two violin numbers, "O Perfect Love" and "Down From His Glory"; Maynard Embree and Melva Stevenson, duet, "A Marriage Hymn"; Mr. "Pop" Elliott, recitation, "A Message to the Bride and Groom"; Ruth and Beth Ketchum, song "I'll Do It All for Jesus"; Lloyd, Creston, and Pete Ketchum, trumpet trio, "Every Day and Every Hour" and "O Worship the King".

After the program dainty refreshments were served. Pouring tea were Mrs. G. Halvorson and Mrs. W. Charles of Oliver. Miss Marjorie Mott and Miss Irene Cass served the bride's table and other serveuses were Miss Dorothy Plastaw, Miss Viola Hanson, Miss Jean Wright, Miss Ruth Starrett, Miss Melva Stevenson, Miss Lillian Rankle, Miss Jean Rankle and Miss Laura Mott.

For their honeymoon trip by auto and boat to their new home in Tahsis, B.C., with a few days stop-over in Vancouver the bride donned a navy suit with short navy coat and pink accessories. The suit and hat were tailored by the bride.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Gaugh, Cherris and Jo Ann relatives of the groom, and Mr. Wilbur Ketchum, Vancouver; Mr. Creston Ketchum, Powell River; Mr. W. E. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. G. Thornber, Mrs. E. Christenson, Kelowna; Mr. and Mrs. L. Hale, Merritt; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Teen Town

We noticed at the dance last Saturday night that you Teen Towners have just about lost complete interest in Teen Town, so your council has decided to close up for a while or, at least, until some interest rouses after school starts.

Oliver arrived back home on Sunday evening after a week of adventure and experience. We were very sorry to hear that she didn't win but, however, she had the thrill of a lifetime just going to the exhibition, meeting so many people and seeing so many interesting things.

She really had a wonderful time and was treated very nicely. She brought back with her several small gifts which were given to her at the exhibition and I'm sure she will always treasure them and remember the PNE of 1950.

Old Copy of Toronto Daily Shows Fear of Russia

"Russia Getting Ready for War".

That could be a headline in any present-day newspaper, but in this case it is being quoted from an edition of the Toronto Daily Mail and Empire of Saturday, October 8, 1898.

This copy was unearthed recently by Garnett Peters, who passed it on to The Review.

Under the dateline of London, England, the despatch intimates that whereas the Czar is declaring himself in favor of disarmament, a story from St. Petersburg has the opposite import.

"This despatch asserts that a new large credit for military purposes is to be proposed immediately; yet no one seems to take the idea seriously."

The London article also quotes Edward Dicey, a shrewd student of affairs who points out the "ominous resemblance which the present aspect of relations between Russia and Great Britain bears to that which preceded the Crimean war."

ATTENDS TEACHERS' WORKSHOP SESSIONS

Mr. W. C. Wilkin, president of the Okanagan Valley teachers' association has been attending the B.C. Teachers' Workshop being held at Qualicum College, Qualicum, V.I. for a week. This is the first time such a workshop has been held in B.C. and Mr. Wilkin is the delegate from this valley.

"Just Like a Dream" Says Miss Summerland of Her Entry of Miss PNE Contest

"Everything seems like a dream" was the comment of Miss Olive Mason, Summerland Teen Town representative at the PNE queen contest who returned at the beginning of the week after five days of being always "on her toes" and dashing about Vancouver from one scheduled engagement to another.

Because of the strike of non-operative railroad workers, billets at the Hotel Vancouver were unobtainable. Fortunately all the girls were accommodated at the Georgia Hotel with three in a room. Miss Summerland, as Olive was called during her existing trip, was with Miss Pentiction and Miss Port Moody.

Tuesday evening, the first day of the contest, a dinner was held at the Georgia when each girl gave a two to three minute impromptu speech about her ambitions, hobbies, school status or occupation, age, and something about the community which she represented.

All official appearances were made in sports' attire and the affair was sponsored with money provided by the PNE committee, Teen Town, and Jantzen's Knitting Mills. The latter firm supplied shorts and T-shirts to the contestants.

Wednesday morning there was a parade and Teen Town float on which Miss Summerland and others rode. It was made to represent the gates of the PNE.

Every day the girls appeared at the Forum Show at the PNE both afternoon and evening.

At times they were in gingham frocks as a background for Wilf Carter, the western singer, and on other occasions they wore their shorts and T-shirts and were introduced to the audience by Ruth Davis, the western comedian.

All these activities were interspersed with amusements such as watching or taking part in square dancing, seeing the Gayway at the exhibition, a coke party with the directors of the PNE, etc., and added up to a strenuous five days.

A tour of UBC buildings had been planned for Thursday and the visitors were introduced to Sir Philip Morris, on tour from London University, the dean and other members of UBC faculty. The same day they were guests of the board of park commissioners and were shown around Stanley Park.

That afternoon wives of the directors of the PNE entertained them at tea following the races.

High-light of Thursday, however, was a Teen Town party in Chinatown where a full-course Chinese dinner at Ming's was delightful. Souvenir chopsticks were given and it was an event to be remembered for a long time.

Friday morning Mayor Thompson received the girls at the City Hall and they signed the guest book there where the signatures of the King and Queen were indicated to them when they visited Vancouver in 1939.

An informal coffee party in the garden of the Point Grey home of Mrs. Don Brown, the park commissioner, was a social event of that morning. Movies were taken here and that afternoon a relaxing swim and supper was given at Mr. Pattison's home on the north shore.

Youth Day luncheon with directors and Teen Town mayors in the PNE dining-room in the clubhouse was Saturday's event when "Hutch" of the Vancouver Sun named Teen Town prize winners for the year.

Although Miss Summerland was not chosen Miss PNE 1950, she made a decided impression on all who met her and through her entry in the contest the community was given desirable publicity.

Jaycees to Decide Upon Installation

First session of the new year for the Summerland Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held next Tuesday, Sept. 5, an executive meeting held on Monday night decided.

At the first meeting, retiring chairman Les Rumball will share responsibilities with incoming chairman John Bennest who will not take office officially until the installation ceremonies.

It is planned that installation of new officers should take place September 26. Final agreement on the date and the manner of installation will be left with next Tuesday's general meeting.

There has been a decided change in Jaycee personnel with a number of members moving to other communities. It is expected that a number of newcomers will be invited to accept membership next week.

Volunteer work on the new rink has been carried out by a number of Jaycees while the fall apple picking bee is expected to start soon.

Last year, Jaycees managed to bolster financial resources considerably through apple picking ventures at the weekend.

IT'S NEVER TOO SOON TO SAVE

YOU CAN OPEN YOUR YOUNGSTERS SAVINGS ACCOUNT WITH ONE DOLLAR

Like some grain crops, the earlier you plant the savings habit, the better its yield. And it's certainly a habit worth planting, for countless success stories show how saving builds happy homes and successful careers.

More and more Canadian parents are getting their youngsters off to a good start by helping them to open their own savings accounts at the Bank of Montreal. The first deposit need be only a dollar—not a lot for the ownership of a savings account and a new 13 of M pass-book.

Having his own account will be powerful encouragement to your youngster to go on saving out of his pocket money for the things he really wants. He'll learn to persevere.

Mr. Solly, manager of the Bank of Montreal branch at West Summerland, or any member of his staff, will be pleased to help your youngsters open their accounts, and show them how the B of M looks after the savings of its million and more depositors.—Adv.

WAC Bennett Being Pressed To Oppose Herbert Anscomb

KELOWNA—W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A. (South Okanagan) is being pressed to contest the leadership of the B.C. Progressive Conservative Party.

Although there have been various reports that Davie Fulton, M.P. (Kamloops) and Howard Green, M.P. (Vancouver Quadra) would oppose Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb at the annual convention being held October 6 and 7, political observers think in all probability Mr. Bennett will be the contestant.

Mr. Bennett declined to comment on the report, but said a statement would be made at a later date. He admitted, however, that pressure is being exerted on him from interested parties in the City of Vancouver, Vancouver Island and interior points.

"I haven't given the matter any consideration," he declared. The South Okanagan M.L.A. was one of the most severe critics of the government at the last session of the legislature. Mr. Bennett was opposed to the way the hospital insurance scheme had been handled the imposition of the three percent sales tax, especially on meals and children's clothing, and charged the government with not establishing a proper formula on school taxation.

Commenting on Vancouver reports that many Conservative associations want to rebuild the party on a more progressive basis so that a proper appeal can be made to the electorate on the transferrable ballot, Mr. Bennett admitted the party had come to the crossroads.

"A crisis is rapidly approaching, and we must devise a platform that will broaden the base of public support," he declared.

While emphasizing the fact he supports the present government, he has been alarmed by the danger of a one-party regime, and it was due to his efforts that the transferrable vote is now being considered as a more democratic method of allowing electors broader choice of candidates.

He is a firm believer in free enterprise and prior to accepting the nomination at the last provincial election, issued the following statement:

"I will support the Coalition government on all matters which I consider in the best interests of the constituency and the province as a whole but will reserve the right which is the basic right of all members of parliament, in a democratic country, to criticize any measure which I consider not in the best interests of South Okanagan and the province of British Columbia.

"I believe in a free enterprise system but hold that both private and public monopolies should be controlled.

"I believe every support possible should be given to small businessmen, farmers and workers. I believe in social reform but am opposed to state socialism."

Attends Wedding of Her Granddaughter

Edith Angove, granddaughter of Mrs. S. Angove of Summerland was the principal in a wedding at Invermere, B.C., where she became the bride of Donald Howard Levey, of Kamloops. The bride has been a member of the Penticton teaching staff but will continue her teaching duties at Invermere.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Archibald was the wedding scene and Mrs. S. Angove was in the receiving line for the reception for fifty guests on the lovely lawn. Later Mr. Angove and the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. Archibald, poured.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. T. Angove and the late Mr. Angove, former resident of Summerland and in latter years until his death a resident of Kimberley.

Refreshment Stand For Powell Beach Suggestion for 1951

Municipal council may operate a refreshment stand at Powell Beach next year. Actually, the suggestion came from the Summerland Board of Trade, who wanted to ascertain council reaction to a plan that the board be granted the concession in lieu of the swim classes being operated. Council would be loathe to allow operation of any such stand on a public beach to pass out of its control but considered the suggestion a good one and if proper terms can be worked out then the board might be deputized by the council to institute the refreshment stand. It was thought that this question could well be handled in future by a park board if such a body can be established.

TWO CARS COLLIDE ON CRESCENT BEACH ROAD

At 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, August 16, George Fudge was driving out of his yard onto the Crescent Beach road. At the same time Arthur Morgan was driving along the road. Neither driver saw the other, approaching and a collision occurred. Damage was slight, it was reported to the police office here.

Co-operatives in Canada Now in Big Business Class

Cooperative business in Canada is getting bigger with the years along with an increasing membership in cooperative organizations. Total business last year exceeded a record one billion dollars, an increase of $200,000,000 over 1948. Membership in cooperatives was up 60,668.

These are the highlights of the 13th annual summary of cooperative organizations in Canada, a study made each year by the economics division, department of agriculture, Ottawa.

J. E. O'Meara, who supervises the work, points out that although only 65 percent of all known Canadian cooperatives reported their 1949 operations; the chief organizations were all included, and it is estimated that 90 percent of total business was reported.

Cooperative sales of farm products made up $783.3 million of the total; sales of merchandise chiefly farm machinery, clothing and home furnishings, foods, coal and wood, amounted to $191.8 million; sales of fish and fish products amounted to $14 million; and sales of fishermen's supplies and merchandise totalled $2.7 million. Miscellaneous items made up the remainder of this one billion dollar business.

It is calculated that during the twelve months to July 31, 1949, co-operatives marketed 32.9 percent of the main farm products which were sold commercially. Of individual products, cooperatives sold 89.9 percent of the tobacco; 79.5 percent of the wool; 55.1 percent of the grains; 27.5 percent of the fruits and vegetables; 26.8 percent of the maple products; 25.5 percent of the dairy products; 18.4 percent of the poultry and eggs, and 12.1 percent of the honey.

Each province reported an increase in cooperative sales of farm products. By volume of sales Saskatchewan was first, Ontario second and Alberta third, but by percentage increase over 1948, New Brunswick took first place, with Manitoba second and Alberta third. Merchandising cooperatives reported an increase of $33.4 million over their sales in 1948. The increases were mainly in sales of farm machinery, clothing and house furnishings, food, coal and wood. But sales of feed and fertilizers, two farm supplies handled extensively by this kind of co-operative, were up 16 percent from 1948 for a total of $77 million.

The greatest number of fishermen's cooperatives is in the Maritimes and Quebec, but of the hundred reporting, the greatest volume of business was done by seven co-operative organizations in British Columbia which in 1949 marketed fish valued at $9 million.

S.S. Quebec's Skipper

Three persons perished in the blaze which recently completely gutted the C.S.L. cruise ship Quebec. The remains of an adult woman and a child have been found and are believed to be that of Mrs. Shapiro, of Montreal, and her son Leonard. The body of Mr. Shapiro has not been recovered. The fire came 11 months after the holocaust at a Toronto war which destroyed the C.S.L. lake cruise ship Noronic in which 119 persons lost their lives. Shown above is Capt. Cyril H. Burch, master of the S.S. Quebec, whose actions in bringing his stricken vessel into dock and safely evacuating personnel on board, were praised by passengers.

Two Killed when Car Hits Truck With Local Load

Two persons, a Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie of Langley Prairie, were killed on the Vancouver-Penticton highway two miles east of Langley Prairie about midnight, Tuesday, August 15, in a collision which involved a truckload of scrap rails destined for the new Summerland rink.

Nick Marino of Vancouver was driving a truck, owned by Pollock & Johnston of Summerland when Mr. C. W. Pollock, who was following in a car noticed that the clearance lights on the truck had failed.

Mr. Pollock drove ahead, notified the driver, but unfortunately the truck stalled at this time and could not be moved.

George Stoll, who was also proceeding west with another truckload of lumber for the rink, was flagged down and pulled ahead of the parked truck after another car had passed safely by, it is stated.

Mr. Pollock and Driver Marino are said to have been armed with flashlights and were waving them at the rear of the parked truck.

However, a car containing Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie crashed into the left rear portion of the truck and a westbound car caught the car and furthered its demolition. Driver of the westbound auto escaped with only a slight scratch.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie died following the accident.

An inquest was held on August 29 at Langley Prairie.

Bet You Don't Know This About Advertising

Quiz No. 9

What does it cost to advertise a gallon of gasoline? Is it 2¢ a gallon? 5¢? 7¢?

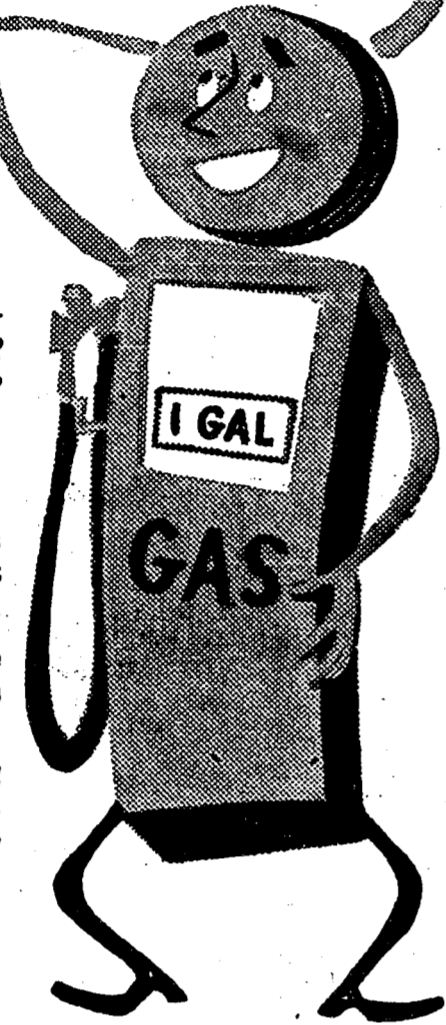

Answer:

It costs less than 1/5¢ a gallon to advertise the most famous brands of gasoline.

That's only half the story. Advertising lowers your cost two ways:

Cuts the selling costs. And by helping make mass production possible, lowers the production costs, too.

So advertising saves you many times the cost of that 1/5¢ per gallon.

DIDN'T ALLOW HALF OF HIGHWAY

Arising out of an accident in lower town, Peter Makar of Vancouver was charged in police court here on August 15 with failing to allow half the highway. He was fined $5 and $2.50 costs.

The charge arose from an accident between Makar's car and an auto driven by Jack Walsh about 2 o'clock on the morning of August 13. About $100 damage resulted to each vehicle.

Impound Car After Accident on Corner

Meeting on a blind corner on the South Prairie Valley road about 11:30 p.m. on July 16, cars driven by John Donesky and Alex Mayerl collided head on, damage amounting to more than $200. No one was injured.

Donesky's car was impounded after the accident as he failed to produce a "pink slip".

Civil Defence Plan for B.C. Urged Here

Urging the government to adopt a policy of civil defence for this province without delay, Summerland Branch No. 22, Canadian Legion, went on record at its monthly meeting Wednesday, August 9. This was a recommendation from the branch's executive which had been formulated prior to the announcement from the coast that an organization has already been set up.

Premier Johnson's office revealed early this month that a provincial civil defense committee had been named. It met for the first time on August 15.

Respective responsibilities for municipal governments, police and fire departments in case of disaster will be charted and a survey will be made to prepare inventories of the equipment and services which would be required in the event of atomic bombing or other such disasters.

R. A. Pennington, deputy provincial secretary, called the organizational meeting, his committee consisting of Dr. G. F. Amyot, deputy minister of health; Evan Jones deputy minister of public works; and Percy Richards, executive assistant to the premier.

Claims $60 Damages Because Water Caused Washout

At a recent council meeting, a claim for $60 damage as the result of an abundance of irrigation water causing loss through washouts was faced by the municipal council. Mrs. Mona Laidlaw was the claimant.

Reeve C. E. Bentley was asked to discuss the situation further with the claimant as to honor such a claim would mean that the amount of irrigation water supplied to the property would be cut considerably, it was explained.

When asked for his opinion, Water Foreman E. Kercher declared that if the council allowed this claim then the property would have to be cut down to exactly the amount of water being paid for, which is 2 1/2 acre feet.

"I would walk out of this council meeting if you didn't back me up on that policy," declared Mr. Kercher.

Most council members considered that the situation was not clear to the claimant and it was left with Reeve Bentley to discuss the subject further.

Start Work On New Rink

In order to provide domestic water for the new rink building and for lots in the Campbell subdivision, it is proposed to lay a line from the main at Harry Brown's property east along the proposed 40-foot road between Campbell and Stuart properties.

Cost will be between $500 and $600, which would be covered by four applications as the municipality allows $144 installation cost for each domestic water connection.

George Stoll for the rink group and Loyle Campbell visited the council on August 22, Mr. Campbell promising that the other three domestic water applications would be forthcoming shortly.

E. E. Tory, who has a contract to build, erect and tie the trusses for the new rink as well as lay the foundation, has arrived and work is now started on this portion of the new rink project.

TO KOREA — Two former Canadian government freighters—the Fort Colville and the Fort Wayne — shown above in Montreal, will go into the Korean battle as supply ships soon. The Fort Colville left Montreal recently to load at a US port en route to the west coast for service which may take her to Korea. The Fort Wayne, purchased from the government by a private firm — as was the Fort Colville — will move into drydock for a 30-day period and is then slated for Korean services.

Legion May get New Building

Rough sketch plans for an addition to the Canadian Legion property on Rosedale avenue were submitted to a recent Summerland branch general meeting by a committee comprising "Sandy" Caldwell, George Clark and Hugh McCutcheon.

These plans are going before the Legion branch executive for further study before any decision is made by the general membership.

The suggestion calls for a 40 by 40 foot two-storey addition immediately east of the present hall, the canteen being downstairs and the main auditorium above. Cost is estimated in the neighborhood of $12,000.

Dr. D. V. Fisher Discusses Maturity Of McIntosh Apples

OTTAWA—The discovery of the original McIntosh apple tree over one hundred years ago was a happy accident for northern apple growing areas. This variety is hardy, productive, early bearing early maturing and of unexcelled quality in its season, states the information service of the agricultural department.

Because many orchards are planted very heavily to this one variety and because losses from windfalls are often serious, there is a tendency to begin harvesting the fruit before it is mature, with resultant impairment in quality.

Immaturely-picked McIntosh are low in color, poor in quality and susceptible to shrivelling, core browning and scald in storage. Because of heavy production of McIntosh in certain areas and limitations of time and labor at harvest it is impossible to pick all the crop at optimum maturity.

The aim must be to pick as much of the crop as possible, when it is closest to ideal maturity, says Dr. V. Fisher of the Summerland experimental station.

Various criteria are used for judging correct maturity for this variety. None of these is infallible, but they serve as useful guides.

One of these tests is the number of days elapsing from bloom to harvest, which in the Okanagan Valley should be at least 135 for McIntosh. Another very useful test, which seldom proves far wrong, is to defer picking until the color of most of the seeds has changed from white to brown.

A test recommended by the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa concerns changes in the greenish skin color on the unblushed side of the apple as measured by a McIntosh color picking chart.

These three tests are satisfactory practical means of arriving at proper harvest maturity for McIntosh.

25th Annual Flower Show Satisfies from All Angles

Satisfaction from many points of view was expressed by all concerned with the 25th annual Flower Show held Wednesday afternoon and evening, Aug. 23, by the Horticultural Society in Ellison hall.

First, from a purely horticultural standpoint—one hundred and eighty-one entries; forty-one exhibitors; and twenty prize winners—Twenty prize winners from the large number of entries indicates how difficult judging must have been, and what fine discrimination of specimens must have been necessary.

Experimental Station Exhibit
Added to this there were the non-competitive exhibits such as the colorful display from the experimental station set up by Mr. Nat May, where the tuberous begonias caught everyone's eyes, and an exquisite double white petunia, Sonata, was admired.

Then from an ordinary "dirt farmer's" look-see there were all sorts of exciting possibilities and endless varieties to be considered. Mrs. W. F. Ward's prize-winning five-foot display of numerous things was quite an inspiration and the speciosum lily a lovely sight.

For a beginner in gardening there were many challenging potentialities where flowers of ancient origin which have been grown in various climates and countries for many years were shown.

A housewife at the show would be more than satisfied by the ideas on exhibit for arranging flowers.

Bowls and baskets for daily decor had been planned as well as exceedingly beautiful and original arrangements for formal or other occasions.

In the arranged bowl class, Mr. Wm. Snow won first prize with a beautiful bouquet of roses, sweet peas and glads, in shades of pale rose and pink, suitable for a bride's table; Mrs. Gordon Ritchie won a special second with her large pale green boat-shaped pottery bowl holding deep apricot glads contrasted against brown burshes and their green ribbon leaves.

Mrs. Doney Wilson's charming contribution to this class, of a white container with gaillardia and "Japanese lanterns" was effective.

Glads Predominant
On the whole there was not the profusion of gladioli usually shown, although this striking flowers still dominated the show. It was thought the season affected the display. The dahlias were specially good.

In the former class Mrs. E. H. Bennett won a first for a basket of golden glads called Sundance and Mr. Wm. Snow obtained first prize for a basket of mauve and white spikes, Elizabeth, The Queer and Leading Lady.

In the latter group Mrs. J. Mason showed a large mauve head which won a first and Mr. J. S. Mott's plump pom-poms were winners, too.

Salpiglossis, those harlequin flowers, in all the shades most favored by moderns were interesting. Zinnias, too, rivaled them in sprightly tones. Mrs. F. V. Harrison's yellow exhibit won the blue ticket here.

At 8:30, Mr. E. H. Bennett, indefatigable worker for the society announced the prize winners.

Mr. Wm. Snow won 16 prizes including the Mrs. Magnus Tait memorial bowl and the best collection of annuals. Mr. K. McKay, Naramata, won 16 prizes, too, including the Jones' cup for glads.

Mrs. Wm. May won the Noca cup for asters, and Mr. J. S. Mott the Malkin cup for dahlias.

Members of the Horticultural Society expressed satisfaction with their good year's work when such a splendid display and turn-out of interested people made their annual show a success.

Looking into the future the society was satisfied, too, that there will be gardeners here for many years for the children's entries were well planned and diverse in character.

Complains Land Not Worthy of Irrigation

Mrs. Margaret Kelly wrote municipal council in rather sarcastic vein last week regarding the irrigation charge of $8 on her Giant's Head property but there will be no change in council procedure because of her rather withering remarks.

She pointed out that the land contains nothing but sand and pine trees and it would be a waste of water to run it on such property.

After discussion with Water Foreman Kercher, council decided that the land could be put into shape for planting and as soon as such a step is made then irrigation water would be demanded.

Many other properties not as "rough" as Mrs. Kelly's lot have been turned into producing areas it was pointed out.

VERN BICKFORD of the Boston Braves who pitched the first major-league no-hit game since Sept. 9, 1948. He collared the Brooklyn Dodgers at Braves Field. Righthander Bickford walked four hitters, the only Dodgers to get on base as the Braves won 7-0.

Summerland Marksmen Second to Vernon in Gilbey Spey Royal Shoot

Summerland placed second to Vernon in the annual Kelowna Rifle Club shoot at the Orchard City ranges last Sunday and it took a mighty hot group of marksmen to come out ahead of the local riflemen.

As a consequence, Vernon took home the Gilbey Spey Royal shield for the highest team score of 471. Chief reason for Vernon's success was R. W. Ryan who clicked an even 100 score to capture high aggregate.

Summerland's No. 1 team to F. W. Dunsdon, Len Shannon, George Dunsdon, Dewey Sanborn and A.

R. Dunsdon was next to the winners with 463, while Summerland's No. 2 squad was third with 460. The latter comprised Ed Gould, John Khalembach, A. Moys, Bert Simpson and Phil Dunsdon.

Two Summerland men shared second spot in the individual honors, Fred Dunsdon and John Khalembach, both scoring 97.

Fred Dunsdon scored a possible at 200 yards and brought home the Princeton Brewing Co. cup.

High tyro score was recorded by Steve Dunsdon, whose 94 in his first year of shooting was right among the champs.

There were 67 marksmen competing at Kelowna, a record for any interior shoot. Kamloops, Kelowna and Vancouver men took part, as well as Vernon and Summerland.

Had to Borrow Rifles
Kamloops team had just returned from the Dominion shoot at Ottawa and all their equipment was stranded at Edmonton by the strike. Consequently, the Kamloops men had to borrow rifles and equipment.

Included in the marksmen from the "Hub City" was George Farquharson, who will go to Bisleigh next year as a member of Canada's team. With a borrowed rifle he did not succeed in getting into the money class at Kelowna last Sunday.

Final shoot of the season at the Summerland Rifle club will be held on Sunday, Sept. 10.

Red Sox Champs for Third Year in Row; Beat Pirates by 21-3 Count

It was just a matter of how high the count would go last Sunday at King's Park, Penticton, when Summerland Red Sox annexed the South Okanagan junior baseball championship for the third year in a row. Penticton Pirates were the hapless victims of the Red Sox, bowing out by a 21-3 count in the second and final playoff contest.

Royals Clout Walsh and Day For 13-3 Win

Pounding Pitchers Walsh and Day all over the lot, Princeton Royals thrilled their home town fans on Sunday by powdering Summerland Merchants 13-3 in an exhibition game. Out of three contests this season, the Royals now have a one-game edge over the Merchants.

Princeton had a comfortable 8-3 margin on Walsh's pitching up to the eighth frame, Wally Day was substituted but did no better, giving up five more tallies in the final frame.

Gray went the route for the victors, striking out 8 Merchants and limiting them to 7 hits. Princeton picked off 14 hits, nine off Walsh and 5 from Day's deliveries.

Taylor and Vanderburgh were hitting the horsehide but none of the other players showed much brilliance with the hickory.

It was Vanderburgh's single in the second which sent Taylor scampering across for the initial run after the latter had placed a nice double.

That edge was short-lived when Paul hit a triple and came across on Anderson's double to knot the count in the bottom half of the second.

Royals went ahead 3-1 in the fourth on a miscue by Metcalfe and singles by Anderson and Aune. In the fifth two errors by Day at short and a single by Mullen scored two more Royals' runs.

Merchants crept back slightly in the sixth when P. Harman made his third mistake in the centre garden on Taylor's fly ball. Vanderburgh doubled him home and scored on singles by Daryl Weitzel and Day.

But the Royals sewed up the game with Aune's triple with the sacks loaded in the seventh. Five more runs off Day in the eighth were only unnecessary insurance.

It was a slaughter from the opening frame and one which left no doubt as to the superiority of Red Sox.

Evans went four innings and was relieved by Campbell, but both pitchers were wild. Jacobs had his odd weak moments but was backed by a stronger team.

In the stolen base department Red Sox proved themselves real thieves, Bob Weitzel breaking all records with five bases stolen. In all, 14 stolen bases were recorded.

Only time the Pirates came close to making the Red Sox nervous was in the fifth when Jacobs walked two and Berdine picked off a beauty to slam it for a home run. O'Connell followed suit with a triple but Jacobs settled down to strike out the next two and force a popout for the third out.

By that time the Red Sox had rolled up 14 runs and it wasn't really very worrisome.

Fred Kato was leading hitter for the Red Sox with four for seven, including a home run as leadoff in the sixth frame. In all, Red Sox garnered 15 clouts off the two, Pirate choppers.

With the bases loaded with Red Sox in the sixth, a bunt was ordered but the ball was popped up to the pitcher who threw to third for a triple play. Pitcher Campbell could have executed the triple by himself, as the runners were on the move and could not be stopped in time.

DIDN'T COLLECT TAX FROM DANCE ORCHESTRA

Recently, an orchestra staged a dance at Ellison hall and left without paying amusement tax. Responsibility for collecting this tax falls upon the hall owners, in this case the Municipality of Summerland, council was informed on Aug. 8. As no one knows where the orchestra can be located and there is no accounting of the number of persons who attended the affair, only a tentative payment can be made to the provincial government. It was determined.

Every day progress on the school building can be noticed by passers-by. The rail strike has caused some inconvenience but has not impeded progress to any great extent.

School Inspector A. Turnbull attended the school board meeting on Monday evening for the last time as in a reshuffle of districts Inspector A. S. Matheson of Kelowna will now supervise the Summerland school district.

Mr. Turnbull objected to placing of classes in the new school until the building is nearer final completion. However, as the classes can be kept out of other corridors and would not interfere with workmen the local board has almost decided to utilize this wing of the new school by the month end if the contractors can get it in readiness by then.

New Superintendent For Shaughnessy to Take Post Sept. 15

Dr. T. D. Bain, well-known in B.C. medical circles before the war, returns from Ottawa September 15 to become superintendent of Shaughnessy hospital in Vancouver, the post he held prior to going east in 1940. DVA district administrator W. G. H. Roaf has announced.

"Dr. Bain comes back to a vastly different Shaughnessy than the one he left ten years ago," Mr. Roaf commented. "Then it was a 250-bed unit housed in a former school at 27th and Willow (slated for demolition this fall). Today it is Canada's second largest DVA hospital and its modern facilities occupy close to 40 acres. Thousands of ex-servicemen from all parts of B.C. have been treated there and its accommodation of close to 1000 beds is still occupied to capacity."

Expansion plans were already underway when Dr. Bain was posted to superintend DVA's Christie Street hospital in Toronto. In June, 1941, the late Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King officially opened the new building at Shaughnessy. Two years later Vancouver Military hospital was erected on a site adjoining, and in 1946 this 250-bed temporary structure was incorporated in the Shaughnessy facilities. Also in 1946 the Colonel Beull wing was added to the main building, and a few weeks later the Red Cross lodge was opened for the pleasure and relaxation of Shaughnessy patients and their relatives.

In September of that year the Jean Matheson memorial pavilion was dedicated as Shaughnessy's diagnostic and treatment centre for chest diseases. In February 1949, one of the continent's most up-to-date operating theatres was completed at Shaughnessy and earlier this year a special medical research unit was established, with the study of cortisone and ACTH as its primary objective.

In returning to Shaughnessy as superintendent, Dr. Bain also assumes the post of DVA Senior Treatment Medical Officer for B.C. For the past several years he has Viscount Alexander and the old veteran talked over wartime experiences for several minutes.

Glacial Action Years Ago Resulted In Clay Banks of Summerland

Summerland clay banks, or "Summerland Silts", are the result of glacial action over many thousands of years. Don Johnston explained to last Friday's Rotary Club of Summerland meeting at the Nu-Way Annex.

The speaker reviewed briefly some of the events in geological history leading up to the last ice age and he commented on the peculiar formations which are prevalent in this district.

As geologists recognize it, time began on the earth at least 1 1/2 billion years ago and that figure might be stretched to two billion years. Some type of life has existed since Cambrian time, 600 million years ago.

After a brief mention of this earlier era, Mr. Johnston discussed the period of the ice age, which began its final retreat 25,000 years ago and continued until about 9,000 years ago.

In Canada, the glacial period covered the whole country with a blanket of ice thousands of feet thick and extending southwards to the 49th parallel and in some places to lower latitudes, he said.

He covered B. C. in slightly more detail and a brief history of the geology of the province included mention of the province as a large basin with mountains on either side, and of the formation and subsequent erosion of the various mountain systems up to the present formations.

In the last ice age, the province was covered to depths of five to eight thousand feet, giving the appearance of a vast level plateau of ice.

This mass of ice scoured out valleys and gave rise to the predominance of the present north-south valleys of the province, including the Okanagan.

In this valley the present clay cliffs were formed in an unusual manner, he explained. As the ice retreated it left some of the larger valleys, such as the Okanagan filled with remnants of stagnant glacial ice, and from the surrounding higher land surface the silt deposits were washed down onto the ice surface.

This gave rise to the bench-like appearance of the cliffs which resulted from the sudden collapse of the glacial ice underneath and the settling of the silts in their present positions. It only then remained for the action of water to produce the prominent cliff-like appearance, he concluded.

been director of medical services for the department in Ottawa.

Tennis Players Defend Titles

George Fudge, veteran Summerland tennis player, will defend his Okanagan men's singles tennis championship at Vernon this weekend when the valley titles will be placed on the block.

Along with Nick Solly, Mr. Fudge will also contest the men's double crown which they annexed last year.

Other Summerland club players who will be present at Vernon will include Mr. and Mrs. Don Wright, Miss Edith Bristow and Mr. Dave McIntosh.

Many Trees Are Showing Good Recovery Now

"The pitifully small apricot crop, probably not more than one percent of normal volume, has now been picked," the Summerland, Peachland and Westbank report in the Horticultural News Letter issued fortnightly and dated August 16 revealed last week.

"Growing conditions have continued, very favorably for all fruit and most apple varieties show promise of bumper crops, with the exception of Staymans, which sustained some winter injury and lacks sufficient foliage to carry a well-sized crop."

Cherries Show Decline
"Many peaches and apricots have now made excellent recovery from the severe winter damage but many cherry trees are deteriorating every day."

"The pest and disease situation remains relatively good. However there are occasional outbreaks of green apple aphid and mites. Willemite mite, a newcomer to the scene last year has made further appearance in at least half a dozen Summerland orchards. Pear psylla has been held well in control by Parathion sprays."

Reports from other areas indicate that disease and pests are at a low point this year. Kelowna states that "although some trees have made a remarkable recovery from the effects of winter injury the damage to others is just showing up. This is specially true of the Delicious apple trees."

In the North Okanagan sizing of apples is quite spotty with some blocks running heavily to small sizes. Salmon Arm also reports apples not sizing well. The prune crop in the Oliver-Osoyoos district has been cut considerably by a gummosis, followed by dropping due to winter injury.
