

Retention of Hospital Here Strongly Urged Society Annual Meeting

By unanimous vote, the annual general meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society in the Parish hall Thursday afternoon went on record as protesting strongly the changes proposed in the James A. Hamilton hospital survey affecting Summerland General hospital.

Main opposition centered on the Hamilton report section which calls for elimination of a general hospital here by 1971.

It was agreed that the present non fire-resistant building would have to be replaced by a modern hospital structure in that period, but the meeting was unanimous that with the prospect of 1,000 patients a year needing attention in Summerland, district a general hospital will be a necessity.

Wrecks Car Hours After Its Purchase

W. E. Gaskell is to be charged with failing to give half the road allowance, B.C. Police Constable Thorsteinson states.

Just a few hours after he had purchased a second-hand car at Kelowna, Walter E. Gaskell and his wife were admitted to Summerland hospital victims of an accident on Okanagan highway about one mile south of the Antlers which was completely wrecked their car.

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Gaskell were driving north on Okanagan highway towards home after trying out their car. On a slippery road surface and at the top of a short rise their car met in a head-on collision with a car driven by Mayor W. A. Rathbun of Penticton.

His Worship and a party representing Penticton city were returning from the Okanagan Municipal Assn. convention at Vernon.

Mrs. Gaskell is believed to have been shoved partly through the windshield by the force of the impact and was still in Summerland hospital at press-time. Mr. Gaskell received some nasty cuts and bruises but was released the next morning.

Mayor Rathbun and City Clerk H. G. Andrew escaped with minor bruises, but Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh was hospitalized for head-cuts and other injuries and was not released until Saturday.

Alderman Joe Harris received a headcut but was able to continue home to Penticton later Thursday evening.

The cars were towed to Summerland, and the Rathbun car was later taken on to Penticton. Gargemen state it is unlikely that the Gaskell car will be repaired as the damage is too great.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaskell operate a service station near Westbank.

Sanction Lights On Station Road

Station road is to have street lighting this year but Trout Creek and Peach Orchard areas will be delayed, council decided on Tuesday. Cost of placing street lights on Station road on a multiple circuit is estimated at $574.18.

Cost of extending the street lighting system to the three areas would be $2,014.29, Electrical Foreman T. P. Thornber has advised.

Council has decided this is too big an expenditure for 1950 and only the Station road from the junction with Prairie Valley to Lenz's home will be considered.

However, if the system proves feasible in that location then the electrical department will consider the other two areas next year, it was considered.

FORMER RESIDENT PASSES

The death was reported from Kelowna this morning of Mrs. Christine McKenzie, Okanagan Mission resident and formerly of Summerland when she was Christine Roy. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Reynolds, reside at Courtenay.

Marked Progress in Juvenile Musical Circles Shown at Youth Centre Concert

"A rare treat", was the opinion expressed by many following the musical recital given by pupils of Miss Kay Hamilton Tuesday evening in the Youth Centre.

The hall was filled for this outstanding event. Carried through with dignity, charm and courtesy this program of talent showed marked progress in juvenile musical performance and promised well for musical circles of the future.

All through there was a happy relationship between teacher, pupils and the responsive audience. Delighted appreciation was given the young soloist, Miss Shirley Schumann, who interpreted, and might easily have been representing, "The Lass With the Delicate Air". Miss Mary Marshall and Mr. Paul Birch as accompanists received praise.

Growth of hospital use in the past decade was brought out forcibly by President S. A. MacDonald and Secretary J. E. O'Mahony in their annual reports.

In 1938 only 280 patients were admitted to Summerland hospital, and in 1942 and '43 this number dropped to 235. By 1945, 404 patients were admitted and the number has gone up steadily until last year a new record 693 patients were handled.

Dr. F. W. Andrew remarked that within a short time more than 1,000 patients will be receiving treatment at the local hospital, if present rate continues.

In 1942 hospital records showed 2,472 patient days' treatment. This figure bounced up to 4,713 in 1946, 5,089 in 1948 and 7,190 in 1949.

Expenditures have likewise skyrocketed, Secretary O'Mahony pointed out. In 1941 hospital costs were $10,913.32, while last year the expenditure was $52,760.73.

Salaries and wages form the main basis of this increase, having only been $4,730 in 1941. Last year the wage account showed a total of $26,737.94, approximately half of the hospital operating cost.

In the past year, a profit of $1,381.73 was shown by the hospital, but the cash situation has not improved to any great degree. It was pointed out that one outstanding account for $1,200 involving a motor car accident victim has not yet been paid by the insurance company.

The hospital is required to set aside, in cash, a reserve for depreciation. The balance sheet showed that $1,216.16 had been placed to that account but that $2,540.85 is still owing that account from last year's operations.

This is caused mainly by the need for a surplus each month to finance expenditures and keep borrowing down to a minimum. The hospital went into the first year under the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service with a deficit in cash due to accounts outstanding and has never reached the position where it can operate on strictly cash basis, it was pointed out.

From the BCHIS, the hospital received $42,131.75 last year, and from other sources from patients, $3,626.85.

Outpatients contributed $1,564.15 and special services brought in another $84.50, making up most of the revenues.

Playoff for Merchants Five-Pin Loop Title

Shannon's Transfer and the Meatesteria are finalists in the Merchants' Bowling league, following conclusion of regular league play last week. Meatesteria won the first half, while the Transferites held a slim margin for second half victory.

Second place teams in the two sections were Overwaitea Ltd. and the Sports Centre.

These two teams will playoff for first and second spots sometime in the next week but the exact dates

"HERE COMES MR. JORDAN" PLAYERS' VEHICLE

The three-act play, Heaven on Earth, is the choice of the players' section of the Singers' and Players' Club, for the spring production. The play will be directed by Mr. Lacey Fisher, and opening commenced on Tuesday evening.

Heaven on Earth was shown as a movie under the title, Here Comes Mr. Jordan.

It is thought that one act of the play will be entered in the South Okanagan zone drama festival to be held in Oliver in May.

Marked Progress in Juvenile Musical Circles Shown at Youth Centre Concert

This was a choir and piano concert by senior pupils. Juniors were represented by little Linda Betuzzi who ably opened the program. Eileen Wilcox and Laurel Youngusband were musicians from the intermediate group.

The addition of a bass section singing with the girls' choir forms the Glee club and was well received.

The program was opened by Mr. F. E. Atkinson, chairman of the Youth Centre Association. A thoughtful number was "Bless This House" sung by the Glee Club as a song of dedication to the Youth Centre.

The surprising amount of work done at the Youth Centre spoke for itself and many who had not been in the building for years were greatly pleased with the renovations.

Peach-Cot Crop Wiped Out Here

Alex Watt, horticulturist for the Summerland-Peachland-Westbank area, with headquarters here, confirmed the report emanating from Penticton last week that there will be no peach or apricot crop here this year.

Buds on these two varieties have been damaged sufficiently by the extreme subzero weather that there will be no crop.

"As far as can be told at present there is practically no peach or apricot crop to speak of," was Mr. Watt's statement.

However, he believes that the trees have stood the winter better than was expected and "tree loss from winter injury should be slight," so that there should be little permanent damage.

Along with these two varieties, the cherry trees have been hit quite severely and the percentage of live buds remaining varies quite a bit, he states. However, he predicts a partial cherry crop.

"In pears, a nearly normal crop seems likely," Mr. Watt continued. "One-year wood in Bartlett's is damaged, but this should not affect seriously either the crop or the trees."

"Italian prunes appear to have suffered little damage to either buds or wood. However, many prune trees bore so heavily last year that they may set a lighter crop this season."

"Winter temperatures did not influence apples very much in this area," he concluded, adding that mouse damage to fruit trees generally has been extremely heavy this winter.

Municipal Delegates Will Go To Victoria to Demand Relief From Ever Rising School Costs

There is mutiny among most Okanagan municipal councils and threats of mass resignations if school costs on land in municipalities do not stop rising were heard at the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Municipal Assn. at Sutherland Arms, Okanagan Landing, last Thursday.

Mayor T. R. B. Adams, Vernon, is the new president and Reeve C. E. Bentley is the new vice-president of the group. Executive members are Mayor W. J. Moffat of Kamloops and Mayor W. A. Rathbun of Penticton.

Summerland, Enderby and Armstrong municipal councils are the only ones in the Okanagan to accept 1950 school budgets.

Last Thursday, it was decided to send a delegation to Victoria to ask that school taxation costs to municipalities be pegged at eight mills as has been done in rural areas.

Kamloops was the mover in asking that a maximum mill rate be set in municipalities as has been done for the rural areas.

Salmon Arm asked an immediate review of education within B.C. with the aim of removing the liability of education costs from the land. This group also thought federal aid for education should be sought.

It was J. G. Campbell of Salmon Arm who put forth the suggestion that municipal councils should resign before accepting school budgets.

Kamloops said school costs there would exceed general expenses of operating the city. At Salmon Arm school taxation took 37 percent of the revenue last year and is increasing eight mills this year.

Mayor T. R. B. Adams traced Vernon's reasons for refusing to accept its school district's budget. Arbitration "Useless"

Acting Mayor J. J. Ladd of Kelowna thought arbitration should be sought by all municipalities, but the general opinion expressed on Thursday was that arbitration would serve no useful purpose other than conforming to legal requirements.

Most delegates intimated that regardless of arbitration outcomes the budgets will be refused because of the cities' inability to pay.

H. G. Andrew, Penticton city clerk, reasoned that as the government salary grants are based on a 1945 level, Okanagan municipalities should seek relief by a revised government grant basis.

Councillor Eric Tait of Summerland was one who contended that a resolution at this time will not be sufficient to meet the crisis, but that a delegation should be sent to Victoria.

Municipal Heads To Gather Here

Summerland's invitation to the Okanagan Municipal Assn. meeting last Thursday at Okanagan Landing to hold the next session here was accepted by the delegates following Reeve C. E. Bentley's offer. This will be held in about three months' time.

Robert W. Ley New resident-director of the Okanagan Telephone Co., whose promotion is announced this week coincident with the story of new dial phones in Summerland.

B. A. Sladen Heads Local Scout Group

B. A. Sladen was elected Monday evening as the 1950 chairman of the Summerland Boy Scout local group, with S. W. J. Feltham as secretary-treasurer. This group is sponsored by the local Canadian Legion branch.

Other members of the committee are Dr. H. R. McLarty, vice-president of the South Okanagan district group; W. R. Boyd, an executive member of the South Okanagan; E. (Hilly) Smith, Dr. Cyril Woodbridge and A. D. Coggan.

Commence Changeover to Dial Telephone System Next Tuesday March 7

By next Thursday morning, March 9, the cutover of the Okanagan Telephone Co. system in Summerland to the dial, automatic exchange will be completed and another milestone in the progress of communications in this district will have been passed.

Robert Ley, superintendent of the Okanagan Telephone Co. in Vernon, informed The Review this week that the cutover will commence on Tuesday, March 7 and will be concluded in two days "if we have to work all night."

This changeover to modern telephone equipment next week culminates a lengthy re-construction period which commenced last fall here and has involved thousands of dollars expenditure.

Approximately 800 telephones in the Summerland district will be converted to the dial system in those two days, the company announces.

This particular cutover is no simple matter of "throwing a switch", Mr. Ley points out and even with a large staff of employees on the job some 48 hours will be required to complete conversion of all telephones.

Some fifteen employees will start out in a group next Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock and will go from one district to another in this area removing old telephones and testing the dial phones for correct rings, etc. Each visit will require the use of the line for test to the central switchboard.

In those two days, more than 750 calls to subscribers' residences will be made by these crews.

This waiting period will not be necessary in the business area, where conversion will automatically take place Tuesday morning.

Next week, up-to-date directories containing the new telephone numbers will be mailed to every subscriber. Each directory will contain instructions to subscribers on the use of dial phones, as well as information as to other parties on the same line.

Change in Party Lines With the dial automatic phones, the number of parties on each line will be reduced considerably, but the harmonic system will be discarded and each ring on the party line will be heard by all subscribers on the line.

No operator will be employed in Summerland, as the equipment which has been installed here is connected directly to the Penticton exchange.

However, Mr. Joe Biollo remains here as the chief trouble shooter for the Summerland district.

Since late last summer construction crews and installation personnel of the company have been engaged in constructing pole lines, stringing wire and cable necessary to provide this up-to-date telephone service.

A special staff has been setting up the component parts of the intricate equipment housed in the new building constructed to the rear of the telephone exchange building on Granville street.

This intricate machinery furnishes the mechanical means of supplying central office operation, it is explained.

Indicating the growth of this district, telephone company officials announce that 150 new telephones will be installed when the

Rink Association Executive Meets

First meeting of the Summerland Rink Assn. was held at the Occidental Fruit Co. Ltd. office on Tuesday evening. Discussion as to methods of raising the money necessary to go ahead with the proposed project and other details such as the possible site ensued.

George Stoll, president of the association, presided and will call further meetings in the near future, it is reported.

Council Promises to Consider Grant For Hospital in 1950 Estimates

"We will give your request every consideration."

This was Reeve C. E. Bentley's reply to a delegation of President S. A. MacDonald and James Multhead who represented the Summerland Hospital Society at Tuesday's council session and requested $1,400 to $1,500 grant from the municipality towards capital expenditure.

These two men pointed out that under the BCHIS system only operating costs are allowed. If capital expenditure is to be made then two-thirds must be raised locally and one-third will come from the government.

This particular capital expenditure is for a new stove, new sink, hot water tank and other kitchen alterations and improvements. The stove now being used has been in the hospital twenty years, it was stated.

"We are cooking twice as many meals now as in former years," remarked Mr. Multhead. Reeve Bentley was concerned over the Hamilton report which recommends elimination of the hospital here by 1971 in favor of a community clinic.

Robert W. Ley Is Promoted by Telephone Co.

(Special to The Review)

VERNON—Robert W. Ley, widely known Vernon citizen, this week becomes the first Interior resident-director of the Okanagan Telephone Co., as the result of changes and promotions in the operating management announced in Vernon by Ross Peers, president.

Succeeding Mr. Ley as superintendent is another Vernon man, Martin J. Conroy. Mr. Peers, who was in the city Monday and Tuesday with William Fitch, secretary-treasurer, Vancouver, also said that other extensive changes in the executive personnel are being made consequent upon the promotions of Messrs Ley and Conroy.

In about a month's time the company will have located in Vernon the first resident engineer yet to be employed. He is A. C. Wormull, of Winnipeg, whose engineering background and training was secured with some of the largest English telephone and electrical manufacturing firms. To come to the Okanagan, Mr. Wormull resigns as superintendent of installation for Siemens Brothers of (Canada) Ltd. Head office operations in this city will be further departmentalized, Mr. Peers told the Vernon News, with existing staff given additional responsibilities.

A contract was recently let for an extensive building program to provide additional space for offices and for automatic equipment consequent upon future installation of dial phones. Value of the construction will be about $60,000.

Add Two Areas To Health Unit

School Districts 16 and 17, Keremeos and Princeton areas will be parts of the South Okanagan Health Unit, it was learned at the meeting of the unit held last week at West Summerland.

Dr. Zeman, director, announced that Dr. Phillips of Princeton would do school medical examinations under health unit specifications, and Dr. Gallagher, Keremeos, would act in the same way, subject to the approval of the chairman and directorate of the health unit.

This was passed unanimously and it was voted to ask for one representative from each school board affected, and the government agent at Princeton, to be on the health unit board.

It was pointed out, however, that such a move would not be made for many years and the stove replacement is needed now.

"What would happen if the stove broke down completely and we would not advance our share of the money?" was one question asked.

"It would hasten the closing of the hospital here," was the quick reply from the hospital delegation.

President MacDonald pointed out that the hospital is leased as a non fire resistant building and as such could hardly be converted into an old people's home if it was condemned as a hospital. This makes the ultimate fate of the building a puzzling one.

"It does leave us in the soup", replied Reeve Bentley.

The council promised to consider the hospital request at the same time as other estimates are under advisement.

East Side Dreams Again

THOSE screams of anguish which could be heard emanating from the east-side last week were evidently not from the Ogoogo having caught his tail in the ice but from a suddenly-awakened Naramata population who have now become aware that majority of thinking does not favor an expensive Naramata-Kelowna highway but a bridge across Okanagan lake.

According to our eminent contemporary, the Penticton Herald, J. V. H. Wilson led the Naramata screams with the statement that: "This (the bridge) is a nice dream, to be paid for by the taxpayers of B.C. It's a nice dream but not for the present."

Mr. Wilson, we contend, is the dreamer. On the one hand he and some 150 other Naramata citizens wish to see the Naramata road from Penticton extended north to Kelowna. He wants an expenditure of some $4 millions as a starter and an annual maintenance cost to keep that road free from snow, and in a shape which will satisfy the motoring public of today.

He is advocating an expenditure which will run into millions through the years and be a duplicate of the existing highway across on this side of the lake, except that it will serve no population or commercial enterprises between Naramata and Kelowna.

And, he and his Naramata cohorts are going to Victoria with this proposition in the face of the sound financial proposition of a bridge across Okanagan lake.

Granted the bridge will cost more as a starter. But there will be little maintenance cost on the bridge and the charges of the ferry service will be eliminated as another money-saver.

Then, again, the bridge can be paid for by the motorists over the years by means of a toll. We can hardly feature the public paying a toll to provide for the capital and maintenance costs of a duplicating highway on the east side of Okanagan lake, but they would gladly pay a toll to save the tedious wait at the ferry slips.

According to last week's press reports from Naramata it would appear that the hysterical thinking of that community's 150 good citizens stemmed from Mr. Wilson, the ring-leader in the plot.

We have heard Mr. Wilson expound theories before and as an orator he can sway a goodly portion of an audience. But those who weigh the situation from the broad view of the most good for the Okanagan valley as a whole will surely agree that the bridge is the answer to the elimination of the valley's traffic snarls.

It would be nice to have a highway on both sides of Okanagan lake. There are many other expensive luxuries which the people of this province would enjoy. But as far as highways are concerned we must keep to the practical necessities and look upon expenditures such as the east-side duplicating road as a luxury for the future.

Signifying Nothing

By
RUSTICUS

Remember old Ponce de Leon, who spear-headed the popular search for a fountain of youth four hundred-odd years ago? He thought he had found it, too, somewhere in Florida, which he named — is that why "Florida Water" was a popular eau-de-cologne years ago? — but alas, old age and death came to him too.

Modern scientists have done better; they are now in a position to give young people considerable assurance that they never will see old age. According to many distinguished scientists, the H-bomb is quite capable of killing all life on this planet with a single searing blast. And in a year or two it should be quite ready to do its work; if the first one isn't quite this destructive, bigger and better ones are sure to be built, for this is modern progress.

So today's young people may well never grow old. Or would it be more correct to say they can never be really young? For to expect death within two or three years is really a mark of old age; and the grave-shaped shadow of the H-bomb lies over us all. Babies and boys and girls, adolescents and young adults starting out in life, middle-aged people building up for their retirement and older people already enjoying it—we are all at the edge of the same pit.

All that is necessary is for some harassed politician to lose patience and give in to the insistent demand of militarists to 'beat Them to the first blow' and the human race will have 'had it.' We'll be cooked to a crisp on both sides and there'll be no side dishes of green vegetables to make our appearance more appetizing.

Worst of it is that very few, either of Us or of Them, even know what the war would be about, let alone want it. We are pumped full of tales of the misdeeds of Them—but told practically nothing of the misdeeds of Us, or Their good points. Just try analyzing the war scare stories in your newspaper and magazines; for yourself, if you think this isn't so. In the same way, They are undoubtedly pumped full of propaganda against Us.

All our misfortunes are blamed on Them—exactly like a little child unwilling to admit his own responsibility for anything. I even saw where our late cold winter war blamed on Their exploding one atomic bomb—thousands of miles away—though We had touched off several right here on this continent.

Our two countries are not rivals in trade. We are on opposite sides of the world. One is a land power, the other a sea-and-air power. We assert loudly and repeatedly that We are peaceful people, with no desire whatever for war. They have just been ravaged by war to an extent We on this continent can hardly imagine, so They are hardly likely to want war any more than We say We do.

Yet we are steadily being pinched into a state of sufficient irritation against Them to make a war seem justifiable.

Why? By whom? It cannot be any more bewildering to you than it is to me, that without any outstanding cause for rivalry, for no apparent reason more than that They want some things done Their way whereas We want them done Our way. We are getting ready to burn to death not only all the two billion people living now on this planet, but all the untold generations yet unborn.

Surely we ought to do something about it. Surely the common people of North America ought to demand, by letters to newspapers, magazines and politicians, by public meetings, petitions, and every means in their power, that our statesmen will not risk destroying the whole world just because they have worked themselves into a state of mind that believes They might attack Us. Surely we ought to be studying Them, by every means in our power, to try to find out how they live and think and what Their problems are, and how We can help Them to peace and contentment.

This idea of proudly rearing up and saying "We've done too much offering to be friends; if They persist in being enemies, We'll go ahead and be enemies" may have been all right in field days when a war meant only a few millions killed, and was a sort of game played by generals and politicians.

But now, when humane existence itself hangs in the balance can any effort, any sacrifice—even giving up some of our treasured high standard of living to help others less fortunate — be termed 'too much'?

Steady improvement in B.C.'s tourist economy during the past year is illustrated in figures released by Hon. L. H. Eyres, minister of trade and industry.

The total of traveller's vehicle permits issued at the various border crossing points in B.C. reached an all-time high of 214,731 an increase of 12.1 percent over 1948. It is estimated that BC was host to some 1,250,000 visitors last year who spent approximately $58,000,000 while in the province.

I am sorry about last week's column not being in, but I honestly had it written. It happened that on deadline day it was in another coat.

If things don't perk up fast this council is going to be in till dooms day. However, we couldn't have had the elections while Rossland was at the dance. We will be having a dance this Saturday and the elections will be held, come crash or flood.

Vernon has invited our Teen Town to a big dance on March 17. A bus is too expensive to hire so we are trying to get private cars. If you would like to go to the dance please tell Ruth Fleming soon.

Evie Heichert and Ruth Fleming were guests at the Kiwanis banquet last Monday night. The purpose of their visit was to tell the Kiwanis how Teen Town is run and the various difficulties Teen Town is having.

The new floor over at the Youth Centre is pretty nice, isn't it? In a year's time that hall is going to be the best place in the valley for Teen Town dances. So try and not be too rowdy or rough or come with spiked boots to the dances cause we want our grandchildren to get the benefit of it too.

Daryl and David Wright have dropped out of the mayoralty race, leaving Ruth and Doreen.

That's about all except come to the dance and vote—not for your friend but for the person whom you think would do the best job!

GUIDE NEWS

On Friday night we invited the Scouts to a party at the Youth Centre. Everyone seemed to have a good time, and, although the finishing touches haven't been given to the new floor yet, we had a preview of what a wonderful one it will be when we played games and danced to music generously made possible by Mr. Howard Shannon.

Yesterday Mr. Feltham kindly gave us a talk on map reading, on which we took notes.

On Friday evening, March 3, the ladies of the Orange Lodge are catering to a banquet in the IOOF hall at six o'clock and the following Guides have been asked to serve in full dress uniform: E. Washington, J. Schumann, M. Wade, J. Peck, M. Inglis and L. Walton.

On March 7 there is a Baby Clinic and Guides A. Solly, J. Woolliams, P. Bradford, A. Blayney, C. Short and P. Morrow are asked to help.

Guides who are in the play are asked to study their parts as practices will be only at meetings for a few weeks.

Next meeting—Friday, March 3 at 7 p.m. Duty Patrol—Thrush.

BRYDEN'S FARMERS TAKE FINALS IN OPEN BOWLING

By 362 pins, Bert Bryden's Farmers captured the Open Bowling league championship last week from Jim Heavysides' Five Pins in a two-match series. The Farmers held a slim 94-pin advantage the

High School COMMENTS

Last Sunday, Summerland played host to visitors from four towns, Kelowna, Rutland, Princeton and Rossland. The occasion marked the annual Summerland high school invitation ski-meet. The skiers were all able to prove their abilities in spite of the wet and heavy snow.

Many committees were selected to help run the events smoothly. Record keepers Dorothy Blacklock and Jacquie Trafford were under the supervision of Miss Dorothy MacDonald. Parking committee was composed of Jim Towgood, Bud Green and Don Cristante. Refreshments were handled by Miss Semak, Merle Heavysides, Arlene Raincock and Marguerite Menu. All funds collected from this booth and the collection which Sandy Jomori obtained from the spectators will be used to improve the ski hill.

A first-aid tent was erected by Mr. Walter Charles, Mr. Jim Brown, Mr. Klix and Mr. Doney Wilson. Summerland suffered the only casualties. Shirley Wilson twisted her knee and Ruth Klix her ankle.

A walkie-talkie system run by Lorne Logie, Leighton Nesbitt, Mel Monro, Jim Birtles and Don Cruickshank proved a great asset. A PA system installed for the occasion failed to work, so Jack Dunham took over the announcing of the coming events participants.

Wally Day, one of our top-notch skiers, was unable to enter the competitions, because of his injured ankle. He was very active during the day, though, acting as one of the four time-keepers. The other three time-keepers were Mr. Bill Snow, Mr. Joe McLachlan and Mr. A. K. Klix.

Louise Washington and Ruth Fleming earned their merits by distributing and collecting the numbers that each contestant wore.

Wally Day and Shirley Wilson arranged the billeting of our out-of-town visitors.

Following the actual tournament was a banquet prepared by Doreen Steuart, Olive Mason and Beverly Fleming. It was held at the school. The menu consisted of ham, mashed potatoes, beans and corn, coffee and apple pie. All food was donated by the students.

The Summerland girls suffered a great loss when Mary Ward was unable to attend the meet. Mary has captured several titles this year and it was hoped that she would be able to snare a few more. It so happened that Mary contracted a second dose of mumps the day before the meet, and was therefore unable to attend.

Arlene Raincock, Esther Metters, Rose Harrison, Marguerite Menu, Katy Antifeau, June Hong, and Joan Hong did very well on their first target practice held at Ellison hall snooting range.

first game but came through with a 268 win in the second contest.

Jim Heavysides was the outstanding bowler of the final game, all his scores being in the 200 class, for a total of 718, but even at that his Five Pins weren't good enough.

Farmers amassed 2,607 in the last game to the Five Pins' 2,339. Captain Bert Bryden was next in line to Heavysides, also with 200 bowling, for an impressive total of 886.

Members of the winning team are Bert Bryden, Connie Bryden, Pat Smith, Ronnie Ackles, Thelma Ackles, Pat Smith, Ken Smith and Earle Bryden.

Five Pins consisted of Thelma Cork, Verda Bernard, Charles Had-drell, Jim Heavysides, Doris Stent and Kay Jessup.

The Open league executive is meeting tomorrow night to decide details of its banquet and trophies.

IT IS NOT MONEY ALONE

More than a million and a half people deal with the Bank of Montreal, and they know that it is not money alone they deal in when they come to us. It goes beyond that. These people have confidence in the Bank; they know that their money is safe with us, and that they will be fairly treated in their business dealings.

We try to keep constantly in mind that the Bank is not primarily an impressive row of figures or an imposing building. We think rather of the Bank as the local manager and his staff, on whom our customers can always call for friendly counsel and service. Our branch-banking system is founded upon this relationship.

A man's relationship with his bank manager is, and should be, a highly personal one. Yet in each of our 549 branches, behind this confidential relationship, there stand the resources and stability of a nation-wide, century-old institution. Thus the strength of the institution is linked with human understanding in the service of the individual.

I believe sincerely that this is the spirit guiding our relations with the public today. Without such a spirit, the Bank could not maintain or justify its place in the economy of this country, nor would we be able to give our best to Canada in the years of great promise which lie ahead.

Trout Creek WCTU Presents Gift to Departing Kirk Family

For two reasons the Frances Willard Union of the WCTU, Trout Creek, held a special meeting on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kirk. All members and their families were invited for the Frances Willard program which is a feature of every February meeting, and to present a parting gift to Mr. and Mrs. Kirk, who are leaving Summerland. Mrs. Kirk, who has been devotional superintendent, gave a talk based on, "Go Ye Forth". Little Darlene Miller sang a solo and Mrs. Wilfred King conducted a quiz program founded on Ontario alcoholic statistics.

A vase was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Kirk by Mrs. Edson Miller as a remembrance from Summerland friends, after which refreshments were served.

W.J. Booklet Gives Resume for Year

Mrs. Lydia Johnston, spending the winter months visiting friends and relatives in Ontario, has sent home an interesting little booklet which is the Haldimand Women's Institute program for the year July 1949 - June 1950. The book outlines the monthly programs for the year's activities, and is an interesting resume of the work done by Institute members in that county. Mrs. Johnston enjoyed attending meetings of the Institute in Ontario.

Would Base Subsidy Request On Average of Three Crop Years

Some fifty growers of the Summerland local BCFGA, gathered in the Parish hall Friday evening to give impetus to the industry's request for a subsidy on the 1949 apple crop.

This resolution originated at a combined Coldstream-Vernon growers' meeting and called for a subsidy based on the cost of production for 1949.

However, at the request of Ivor Newman, BCFGA president, this resolution has been amended to base the subsidy on the average returns for the past three years.

Mr. Newman returned last week from Ottawa, where he was member of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture delegation which met Prime Minister St. Laurent and his cabinet, following the federation convention where Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, was given the Canadian farmers' outlook on the subsidy situation in no uncertain terms.

Text of Resolution
The resolution passed at last Friday's Summerland local meeting is as follows:

"Whereas in 1949 due to a large crop and adverse marketing conditions the fruit from the B.C. tree fruits area is being disposed of at a sacrifice price, and

"Whereas the recent announcement by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., that it had made a deal with Great Britain to take a considerable quantity of B.C. apples without charge, and

"Whereas this deal will place a very heavy burden on the growers—who cannot afford to carry this load without substantial financial assistance from the Dominion Government,

"Therefore, we urge that the Dominion Government subsidize the growers on the total crop of the B.C. tree fruits area to an amount equal to the average price of the last three years' prices."

It is understood that grower officials at Kelowna are working strenuously to arrive at the required figures within the next two weeks.

Following formal discussion on the resolution, Mr. A. W. Watt, district horticulturist, gave an interesting discourse on bridge-grafting trees, and showed the tools which may be used to advantage in this endeavor.

MORE ABOUT COMMENCE

cutover is effected, bringing the total number of phones in use here, to 875.

Giving an idea of the huge amount of materials which went into this new system, the company has stated that 235 new poles were set, 750 new telephones installed, 2 miles of twisted pair telephone wire and 170 miles of iron wire for subscribers circuits installed.

Besides those installations, 65 miles of copper wire for additional long distance lines were strung. The copper wire contained in the various sizes of cable from 25 pair of wires to 200 pairs would aggregate 1,087 miles if strung in one continuous line, Mr. Ley emphasizes.

Too Busy to Talk
Mr. Ley stresses that the employees who are calling from house to house to make certain the new phones are in working order will be extremely busy.

"We hope that subscribers will not consider our employees in any way impolite if they do not take time to answer all the questions which may be put to them about the method of operation," pleads Mr. Ley.

"Their endeavor will be to complete their work in order to bring satisfactory service to all subscribers as quickly as possible."

Mr. Ley also asks that subscribers hold off calls on the local lines as much as possible during next Tuesday and Wednesday to allow the change over to be made with the least possible delays.

By next Thursday, all calls can be made as usual but in the two preceding days only emergency calls should be made.

Persons who will not be in their homes either of those days should make arrangements so that the visiting crew has access to the telephones, Mr. Ley also observes.

"Faith for Our Time" Is World's Day Of Prayer Theme

Mrs. E. Hack was leader this year as the World's Day of Prayer was observed in Summerland at St. Stephen's church on Friday afternoon, Feb. 24, with a good attendance.

Major parts of this international program were prepared by Miss Michi Kawai, founder of Keisen girls' school, Japan. The theme was "Faith for our Time".

The address was given by Mrs. S. A. MacDonald who took as her subject, "What Your Money Does," referring to the collection taken each year at this service and which has been used for twenty years to support a bed in the hospital of the zenana mission at Lucknow.

This bed has been maintained by Summerland for forty years altogether, and the cost has constantly risen so that the annual upkeep is now seventy-five dollars.

The various churches of Summerland were represented by ladies who participated in the program compiled by the women's inter-church council of Canada. Those taking part were Mrs. D. O. Knipfel, Baptist; Mrs. E. C. Bingham, Anglican; Mrs. Reinertson, United; Mrs. Smith, Free Methodist; Mrs. E. C. Deringer, Church of God, Trout Creek; Mrs. Neve, Pentecostal.

Mrs. H. R. Whitmore sang delightfully, "Leave It To Him", with Mrs. Lionel Fudge as accompanist.

HOLD SOCIAL IN RENOVATED LEGION HALL

The first social to be held in the newly decorated Legion hall following the recent interior fire was a pleasant one held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21.

Cribbage was the game of the evening and six tables were set up. Winners on the ladies' side were, Mrs. Milligan, first and Mrs. Phil Davis consolation prize.

Men's first prize went to Mr. Frank Daniels, and the booby prize to Mr. J. Hutton.

Fifty-eight years of exceptional growth and progress are reflected in the Annual Statement for 1949. Miss Phyllis Hill, who has been manager here, is being transferred to Penticton, Miss Christine Mair will go to Kelowna, and Miss Myrtle Dunham is being moved to Vernon.

Twenty Students Take Advantage of Art Classes Here

Over twenty students, men and women, greatly appreciated the art classes conducted by Mr. Cliff Robinson of UBC extension department in afternoon and evening ment last week at the high school. All were well satisfied and joined in praise of the quiet, skilful teaching of Mr. Robinson. It is quite possible that this service will be continued at a later date and even lengthened in time.

Part of the teaching here was showing slides and film strips on the elements of composition, and analyses from famous paintings. Greatly enlarged examples of fine draughtsmanship were used to illustrate points. Reproductions of famous masters, ancient and modern, were studied and each person made an analysis of a painting not seen before.

The chief project was a still life group consisting of two elaborate old Italian masks, a basket-enclosed bottle, and a cube shape, from which the students made a preliminary study in conte crayon, finally transferring it to paper with water colors or canvas with oil according to individual preference. Mr. Robinson gave demonstrations in oil and water color technique and suggestions for individual help.

HOME AGAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milne and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Milne returned last Saturday evening from a motor trip to California. Reports are that Mr. Blake Milne's movies of the Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena on New Year's Day are even better than the reels which were taken by him the previous year.

Mrs. E. F. McClement has returned to her Summerland home after spending the winter in Minneapolis, Great Falls, Mont., and California.

Mr. C. H. Elsey returned on Tuesday from two weeks' visit to Vancouver.

Mrs. R. A. Johnston has returned from the coast, but Mr. Johnston is still there on business.

VISITING HERE

Mr. A. E. Traylor was in from Vancouver over the weekend and for part of the week, returning to the coast today.

Mrs. Ernie Laue and her daughters of Penticton spent several days last week visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. C. Waters, Prairie Valley.

Mr. E. A. Reid of Oliver was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Fisher last week, attending a committee meeting of the South Okanagan drama zone on Friday evening as representative from the Oliver-Osoyoos district.

May 12 is Date For Zone Drama Festival at Oliver

Executive of the South Okanagan drama zone met at West Summerland on Friday for the purpose of planning and organizing for a permanent set-up.

Present were Chairman Lacey Fisher, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. N. O. Solly, both of West Summerland; Mr. Bruce Emerson, Penticton, replacing Dr. LaCroix, and Mr. E. A. Reid, Oliver.

The group made arrangements to contact interested people in the Similkameen area, since there was no representative from this district at the organizational meeting held in Kelowna on Feb. 19.

Tentative date for a zone festival was set for May 12, two weeks after the Oliver district festival. Adjudicated entries from the Oliver-Osoyoos festival would be used in the zone festival with additional entries from Summerland and Penticton. It was thought that the Similkameen would probably not be ready to make entries this year.

The permanent frame-work as outlined at the meeting would consist of the three areas of Similkameen, Oliver-Osoyoos and Penticton, with all adjoining communities entering in their nearest centre.

The three areas would have district festivals annually, rotating the place of the festival with, eventually, high school and adult play-offs; the finalists competing in the zone festivals.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. W. McCutcheon, Mrs. H. Howard, Mrs. A. McCargar, Mrs. F. Walker, Mrs. H. McCutcheon and Mrs. Phil Davis.

A delicious tea was served by the hostess.

Trustees and Council Are Friendly Here

Tracing the possible steps and routine necessary to form a municipality, Reeve C. E. Bentley proved an interesting speaker to Rotary Club on Friday at Nu-Way Annex when he talked on Municipal Government.

Summerland municipality was formed in 1908 when a charter was applied for and granted following the holding of a plebiscite. Then it was decided to form a council comprising a reeve and councillors, he outlined.

First decision of the new municipal council was how the municipality should be operated and how money could be raised for its operation, His Worship explained.

Agreement had to be reached on a basis for the assessment roll of all land and improvements and a mill rate struck to decide how much each lot would pay towards the operation of the municipality. Public Utilities

Then the operation of public utilities had to be decided upon, these including domestic and irrigation water and electric light. In Summerland the policy has been that these utilities should be made to pay their way, but unlike Penticton the profit, from electric light has not been used to keep down general expenditures from a taxation standpoint.

Taxes and government grants are the two methods open to a municipality to obtain revenue, Mr. Bentley explained, although for certain purposes bylaws may be decided upon to borrow money on the credit of the land in the municipality.

"You cannot use borrowed money for any other purpose but the specified one stated in the bylaw," His Worship emphasized.

Besides taxation for general expenditures, taxation is required to raise funds to pay back specified interest and principal on borrowed money and forms the second portion of the tax rate structure.

Third portion of the mill rate is that for school costs and Mr. Bentley outlined some of the details of last week's Okanagan Municipal Assn. conference which indicated that most of the Okanagan municipalities intend to refuse to meet rising school costs from land taxation.

Only Budget Accepted Summerland is the only municipality in the Okanagan which has accepted its school district 1950 budget, Reeve Bentley declared.

"We have been particularly lucky in our school boards," His Worship continued, noting that relations between the school boards and councils have always been of a friendly nature.

"Many councils and school boards never get together at all," he noted.

In conclusion, Mr. Bentley gave a great deal of credit for the able management of municipal affairs here to the municipal office which for years was managed by Municipal Clerk Fred J. Nixon and now is under the control of Gordon Smith.

"Fred Nixon saved the municipality thousands of dollars," he observed.

Finally, the need of a new municipal hall was stressed once more and it was mentioned that cost would run to $35,000 at least.

Rossland and Princeton Ski Teams Vie for Top Honors at Big School Tournament Here

Although Summerland's Ron MacRae captured the senior boys' downhill race, Rossland and Princeton school skiers dominated the second annual SHS invitational ski meet at the Meadow Valley hill last Sunday afternoon.

Despite wet, sticky snow the slalom and downhill events provided keen competition and attracted some 150 persons as spectators. Jumping by Pentiction and Princeton skiers provided a highlight in the day's exhibition events.

School busloads of young skiers came here from Princeton and Rossland, while four from Rutland and five from Kelowna competed against Summerland skiers.

It was a highly successful meet although slightly marred by the thaw experienced over the weekend.

By a slight margin Rossland school team captured the meet, scoring 264.60 points in the combined downhill and slalom events for senior boys and girls. Princeton was second with 248.48 points.

No other town had enough entries present to constitute a full team to compete against these visitors.

The combined totals were as follows: Rossland—senior boys, 134.60; senior girls, 130; total 264.60. Princeton—senior boys, 136.08; senior girls, 112.40; total 248.48.

Results by competition follows:

DOWNHILL

Senior Boys: 1, Rossland, 80; 2, Princeton, 76.08; 3, Summerland, 66.63.

Junior Boys: 1, Princeton, 70; 2, Kelowna, 69.73; 3, Summerland, 59.68.

Senior Girls: 1, Rossland, 70; 2, Princeton, 60.88.

SLALOM

Senior Boys—1, Princeton, 60; 2, Rossland, 54.60; 3, Summerland, 51.08.

Junior Boys—1, Kelowna, 60; 2, Princeton, 51.62.

Senior Girls—1, Rossland, 60; 2, Princeton, 51.52.

Only one entry was received for the junior girls slalom and downhill races, Alice dePfyffer of Kelowna annexing both.

Individual results found Dudley Paul of Princeton winner of the combined downhill and slalom events for senior boys, totalling 74.96 and 60 points respectively for 134.96.

Ron Shearer of Rossland placed second to Paul with 80 and 44.95 for 124.95. Ron MacRae of Summerland scored 80 and 44.65 for a close third of 124.65. John Boucher of Rossland had 78.24 and 45.80 for 124.04, and fourth place. Steve Kassa of Princeton scored 76.32 and 45.90 for 122.22.

June McKenzie of Rossland ruled the senior girls combined results

Bill Snow Returns to Helm of Local Fish and Game Club

Bill Snow, who was president in the 1947-48 period, went back to the helm of the Summerland Fish and Game Assn. at the annual meeting held in the IOOF hall Thursday night. He replaces George Stoll who refused to continue in office because of pressure of work for the Summerland Rink Assn.

An active year was climaxed by last week's meeting and the sportsmen's club is looking forward to another season of increased activity, with the first major factor being attendance at the B.C. Interior Fish, Game and Forest Protective Assn. convention in Pentiction later this month.

Joe McLachlan continues as vice-president of the local club, and W. A. "Bud" Steuart goes back again as secretary. His position has been split, however, and Joe Sheeley was named as treasurer. An executive of Channon Snow, Harry Parker, Bert Berry, Alf Johnston, Harvey Wilson and Fred Dunsdon was selected.

Honorary presidents are Game Commissioners Frank Butler and J. G. Cunningham.

At the suggestion of Harvey Wilson, the sportsmen extended to the retiring executive, especially President Stoll, a hearty vote of thanks for the past season's efforts.

Attended All Meetings
In his annual report, Mr. Stoll mentioned that he attended both the Interior and the B.C. zone council conventions last year, as well as three South Okanagan zone meetings.

"At all times I have tried to safeguard the interests of the sportsmen", he declared.

Biggest single event in the club's past season was the pheasant-raising experiment, he reported, giving major credit to Alf Johnston, Joe McLachlan and Bill Snow for this work.

"Summerland club can be proud of this feature as no other club has had better success in raising pheasants", declared Mr. Stoll.

Secretary Steuart reminded the gathering that the cost had been $133 for this experiment.

"It was money well spent", declared Mr. Stoll.

Another feature was the second annual Field Day, in June, which Mr. Stoll suggested could be enlarged and made a bigger event. He referred especially to the retriever trials.

One accomplishment not completed by the sportsmen was the fixing up of clubrooms at the fish hatchery, a project for which the sportsmen have set aside $200. Mr. Stoll also suggested a coyote hunt could be a project the club might consider in 1950.

Some discussion ensued regarding a proposal to close lakes and streams containing Eastern Brook trout from October 1 to May 1. Local sportsmen were opposed to this move because it would close Fish Lake at that period, but it was pointed out that most of the clubs in the southern zone favored the move and Summerland should side in with the majority.

Local delegates to the interior convention will submit for discussion the subject of conservation stamps sale, as some local sportsmen believe that a more pretentious type of stamp would find a reader sale and be the means of raising more money for conservation purposes.

At the request of the B.C. Sportsmen's Council, the Summerland meeting was unanimous in agreement to send a wire to Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., urging that all revenues derived from fish and wild life in B.C. be set aside in a special fund for the sole use of the B.C. Game Commission.

President MacDonald spoke of the criticism levelled at the BCHIS but asked his audience to consider that without the insurance scheme there would be no hospital operating here at all.

"We would have been absolutely bankrupt", he declared, if the trend of 1948 had continued.

If those who were covered by BCHIS premiums and were admitted to hospital last year had had to pay the full amount charged for hospital treatment, it would have cost them over $40,000, he stated.

"These people should be strong supporters of the BCHIS," he pointed out.

tary O'Mahony and many other speakers gave glowing accounts of the efficient management of the hospital under the matron, Miss M. Bennest.

"We have an excellent matron and staff, all we could ask for," he declared, praising also the hospital ladies' auxiliary, whose "services are more needed than ever before."

Mr. MacDonald declared his directors find just as much as ever to do, as there are still many problems. He gave high praise to the efficient work of Secretary O'Mahony who has a difficult task.

Greatest increase in work in 1949 was shown in X-rays, which amounted to 474 against 281 in 1948. Matron Miss Bennest reported. Staff at the hospital now includes eight nurses and two aides. She was specially appreciative of the co-operation and efforts of the sub-staff in having to work with "outmoded and inadequate equipment."

Need Strong Society

Miss Bennest also added words of praise for the assistance given her by the hospital auxiliary.

"A strong and vigorous society is essential at this time," stressed Secretary O'Mahony, in view of the James A. Hamilton survey report.

Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon, Mrs. T. B. Lott and Mrs. J. Dunsdon Jr., gave the hospital auxiliary reports indicating a year of great activity. The auxiliary had 50 members in the year, and catered to banquets, teas, dances and many other functions. Baby clothes were sold at the hospital and one Bingo night held, besides entering a queen candidate in the spring fair.

A large amount of canned goods was processed at Barkwill's Ltd., where staff members assisted the auxiliary members in preparation of the fruit. Tomato juice was prepared at the experimental station.

In the election of directors, President S. A. MacDonald and Vice-president C. J. Huddleston were returned to office and Harvey L. Wilson was selected to replace W. R. Boyd for three-year terms each. Rutherford, Bazett & Co. was re-appointed auditor on the stipulation that the statement is ready by February 15, 1951.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS
by Don Graham

The old advice to "keep your fences mended" should be applied to your relationships with others.

Suppose, for instance, that someone opposes you in some matter. Probably you will resent his attitude. You may even ridicule his views or "fly off the handle"—even though you realize that in doing so you are only making matters worse.

Whenever this happens, don't just let matters rest. Try to make amends. Admit that perhaps you were a little hasty in what you said. Admit, too, that the other fellow may have had a case.

If you win a dispute or an attempt to get your own way with someone, don't rub it in. Try to regain his goodwill and do what you can to help him "save face".

But if you should be the loser, don't hold a grudge.

Similarly "fence-mending" is equally necessary when we wrong others or they wrong us. In such cases we should try, by expressing our regrets — or "letting bygones be bygones", to keep all contacts friendly.

Actually, few matters are important enough to warrant letting them impair your relationships with others in any way.

Your life insurance plans, too, may need mending from time to time. Additions to the family, the needs of growing children, increased living costs — these and other changes suggest bringing your life insurance plans up-to-date with today's needs.

Premier Johnson Quick to Reply to Criticism From South Okanagan M.L.A.

W. A. C. Bennett, M.L.A. for South Okanagan, rapped his own Coalition government last week on several leading issues and recommended changes in a ninety-minute address which was enjoyed by the official opposition but not by members of the cabinet, according to press reports in Vancouver dailies.

Mr. Bennett continued his opposition to the sales tax and said that hospital insurance should be considered a tax and be collected by the finance department.

He spoke in favor of the single transferable vote and a reduction in the provincial voting age from 21 to 18.

Average Prices Submitted for Subsidy Basis

Okanagan fruit industry has submitted to Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, Ottawa, estimates of the average prices received from sales of the last three years' apple crops.

This was the basis agreed upon by industry representatives (Ivor J. Newman, B.C. president and A. K. Loyd, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. president, when conferring with the agricultural minister last month in the east.

It had been proposed that the cost of production be the basis but as it was known Mr. Gardiner objected to the production cost estimate as being too vague a figure, the average returns basis was agreed upon.

The average figures have gone to Ottawa and it is likely that before the month is over an announcement regarding a possible subsidy for Okanagan apple growers on the 1949 crop will be forthcoming.

Okanagan growers are asking for this subsidy on the grounds that they had to give away more than a million boxes of the 1949 crop in order to prevent them being dumped at the end of the marketing season.

Local Labor Should Get Preference on School Building Trustees Believe

As much local labor as possible will be employed by the successful contractor who receives the contract for the new junior-senior high school here, trustees were informed at last week's meeting.

This is practically insured as, if a coast contractor gets the contract and brings in employees he would have to pay $4 per day living allowance.

One subcontractor is being estimated locally for one possible tenderer, it was stated.

Specifications call for the following priority in ordering supplies, provided the price is the same: Summerland, British Columbia, Canada, British and foreign.

School Board Chairman C. J. Bleasdale reported on meeting the department of education officials and going over plans and specifications of the proposed building. He was accompanied by an assistant of Architect William K. Noppe, who has been laid up by a broken leg.

Planned with Plans "Generally speaking, the department officials were very pleased with the plans we presented," declared Mr. Bleasdale. They were called "sound, economical plans,"

Mr. Bleasdale quoted, declaring that Mr. Noppe's work and the general economy as set as a standard by the local board met with approval.

Only eleven minor changes were made by the department officials. Trustees learned that Olive Mason has been chosen school representative to attend a province-wide conference of senior high students at UBC March 17 and 18.

W. H. Durick was asked to represent the schools on the Summerland Rink Assn.

Permission was granted the senior baseball club to use the school gym for practices on the same times as formerly occupied by the basketball club.

It was reported that the boy who had been refusing to attend school had only missed one day in the past six. A letter from the boy's mother upbraided the school board for allowing publication of the incident.

School Inspector A. Turnbull took the stand that the matter should have been dealt with privately and not come before a public meeting, but at least one school board member considered it was

Million Boxes Still for Sale From '49 Crop

With practically all the Old Country "gift" apples shipped from the interior to their coast export ports, there remains on hand just over one million boxes of apples to sell on the Canadian and United States markets, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. informed The Review this week.

Shipped into the United States so far this season have been about 1 1/2 million boxes and it is anticipated that another half million boxes may find their way south of the border.

United States markets continue to fluctuate and last week they showed a weaker trend.

Western Canada markets remain steady while the eastern Canada local supplies are diminishing and the Okanagan is able to move more apples into those markets than previously.

Old Country shipments have amounted to 1,160,000 boxes of the deal entered into by the sales agency whereby the United Kingdom agreed to take approximately one million boxes at Pacific seaboard and pay for the ocean trip costs.

North Bench Water Extension By-law Goes to Victoria

Proposed extension of domestic water to the North Bench-Crescent Beach area moved a step closer to reality last week when the bylaw authorizing the borrowing of $27,000 for the project passed its first reading.

Bylaw will now go to Victoria to obtain approval from the department of municipal affairs.

Presentation date for taxpayers' approval has not been announced by the council.

This domestic water extension by-law, although needing approval by the ratepayers as a whole, will be refunded by the district affected over the 20 years of the bylaw life, it is estimated.

Interest rate on the debentures to be issued once the bylaw is approved will be 3 1/2 percent.

Award Good Citizen Cnp At Annual Board of Trade Banquet Tonight at Ellison

This evening at Ellison hall some citizen of Summerland district will be awarded the Good Citizen cup. This citizen will have been picked out by the 1949 directors and executive of the Summerland Board of Trade as one who, in their opinion, deserves this high public recognition.

Reid Johnston, ex-reeve, and a past president of the Summerland Board of Trade, will make the presentation of this cup at the board's annual banquet.

Two honorary life memberships will also be presented to Summerland citizens, as another feature of the banquet. The guest list will include a number of representative citizens from Penticton, as well as Summerland.

Honor awards are also listed for presentation to Miss Louise Atkinson from the St. John Ambulance Assn. and to Myles Gillard, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gillard for an act of bravery.

Special guests will be officials of the Okanagan Telephone Co. from Vernon, headed by the new resident-director, R. W. Ley.

Telephone operators who have given local subscribers such good service over the years will be honored guests at the banquet, headed by Chief Operator Miss Phyllis Hill who will be leaving Summerland for her new Penticton home now that the dial system has been adopted here.

Guest speaker is Rev. D. K. Faris, of the Naramata Youth Leadership Training school, who is renowned for his speaking ability. Mr. Faris spent some time in China and being well acquainted with the Orient is expected to be an interesting and thought-provoking speaker.

Change to Dial Telephones Alters Fire Alarm System; New Fire Alarm No. is 2000

In Case of Fire — Dial 2000

That is the new number, effective today, of the Summerland fire hall, to be used only when summoning the fire brigade.

For a short time, the dialing of this number will ring telephones at the fire hall and in each of seven fire brigade members' homes.

Soon, the dialing of this number will also sound the fire siren, as soon as a Dunco relay, ordered about a month ago, reaches here and can be installed.

Once the entire system is set up, the siren and eight telephones will be sounded automatically through the local station when 2000 is dialed on any telephone in the local system.

To shut off the siren, a push button will be installed at the fire hall and connected with the relay system. A member of the fire brigade will be empowered to stop the siren when its alarm is no longer needed.

There is one point however, that must be noted by every person with a telephone.

When the person calling the fire brigade rings 2000, he or she must stay on the line until an answer is received from the fire brigade telephones and the position of the fire is made clearly known to the brigade members who respond.

There is no telephone operator at the local switchboard any more. Therefore, there is no person available to relay calls to the fire brigade.

If a person needs the brigade to put out a fire then it is that person's responsibility to give the brigade all the information necessary so that the quickest response can be given by brigade members.

Two Bylaws Needed to Authorize Jones Flat $64,000 Sprinkler Scheme

Complete details of the proposed Jones Flat sprinkler irrigation scheme which would involve the expenditure of $64,000 were given a meeting of fifty interested ratepayers at the IOOF hall on Thursday evening.

This plan to bring water piped under pressure to 470 acres would require two bylaws in order to obtain complete approval, it was explained by Reeve C. E. Bentley and Councillor Francis Steuart, chairman of the water department.

Main point of the discussion was that a big portion of this proposed expenditure would be necessary in the next few years as the Jones Flat will need almost complete renewal over a ten-year period.

Sixty percent of the cost, stated Reeve Bentley, could be charged to necessary maintenance and paid for by the irrigation district as a whole. The balance, or 40 percent, could be considered as special services and would be paid for by Jones Flat growers alone.

This latter group of orchardists would have their irrigation rates increased by $69.30 per year for the average 10-acre orchard, over the next ten years, it was estimated.

Although only the irrigation ratepayers are concerned financially in this deal, all the taxpayers in the municipality would be required to vote on the money bylaws as the credit of the municipality as a whole is involved.

Councillor Steuart emphasized that for an amount of $6.93 per acre, on the average, Jones Flat growers could get piped water under pressure right to or through their lots, eliminating the need for storage tanks, electric pumps and other equipment. Annual expense of pumping alone amounts to more than $70 for a ten-acre lot in most instances, he pointed out.

Mr. Steuart used a screen projector to show the audience the exact scheme planned for Jones Flat area.

Lower Maintenance Cost Other councillors emphasized that while this scheme would benefit Jones Flat growers especially it had been worked out so that the other growers would not have to pay any more towards it than they would for maintaining the system in the ordinary way.

In fact, over the years, the entire irrigation system would benefit as a lower maintenance cost would result from a pressure pipe system feeding this 470-acre area.

"You Jones Flat growers must all be missionaries to explain to other ratepayers that they will gain and not lose by this installation," commented Councillor Norman Holmes.

It will not be possible to prepare and submit the bylaws and install the new system for 1950 but if the bylaws pass it can be in operation for the 1951 season, councillors pointed out.

Reeve Bentley commented on the great deal of work put into this scheme by the council, the growers and Water Foreman E. Kercher. During the question period, it was emphasized that no individual grower would be forced to install sprinkler irrigation system because of this proposed change-over.

Electric light department has been checking voltage in many parts of the municipality lately. On Tuesday, Feb. 28, Councillor Atkinson produced charts of voltage fluctuation in many localities, the only really good chart being that taken at Councillor Eric Tait's home at Trout Creek. These tests are being continued.

New building to accommodate the many travellers crossing the line at the Okanagan point has been advocated for some time by the Associated Boards of Trade of the Southern Interior.

Also included in these estimates is an amount of $45,000 for additions and alterations to the post office in Penticton.

Trustees believed the basis of estimating rural population was away out of line and the assessment has now been brought down to $72.

"Quite a come down" was the trustees' reaction.

Table Estimates for Custom Building In estimates tabled in the House of Commons last week by the federal public works department the sum of $200,000 for a new customs and immigration building at the international boundary line near Osoyoos was included.

Jim Hoavysides was appointed AOTS representative to the Summerland Rink Assn., and Les Gould to the Youth Centre Assn.

Considerable discussion followed on the matter of the travelling gavel which Summerland is going to start on its way to other AOTS clubs. At first the members wanted to take it to Kamloops, but that was amended to Naramata, and a set of regulations was tentatively drawn up to go with the gavel.

Best report of the evening was that of Blair Underwood, head of the committee for visiting sick members, who announced that "business has been very poor for which we are very thankful!"

The meeting voted the sum of $30 to buy meat for the Cubs' Father-and-Son banquet, and arranged for a radio warning broadcast about the danger of venturing out on Okanagan Lake with the ice so soft.

An interesting moving picture on South America projected by Everett Bates concluded the meeting.

Plans for Promoting Camp Sorec Move Ahead Under AOTS Auspices

At the AOTS monthly meeting on February 23 in St. Andrew's church hall, 40 members enjoyed the excellent meal provided by the Federation and the evening of lively, often humorous discussion which followed.

The club's newest project, sponsoring and supervising the boys' and girls' summer camps at Camp Sorec on the experimental station beach at Trout Creek, was reported on by E. H. Bennett, who announced that camps have already been organized for all the summer months.

The Religious Educational Council has taken over the lease of the camp, and the AOTS will work with them taking care of it. Clean-up work will be organized as soon as conditions permit, and much appreciation was expressed for the way Superintendent R. C. Palmer has co-operated to help the project along.

Joe Sheoley reported that the hockey season is over, but was very successful. He stressed the help given in looking after the games by club members, especially Frank Kuroda and Sam Iwayoshi. Jim Hoavysides was appointed AOTS representative to the Summerland Rink Assn., and Les Gould to the Youth Centre Assn.

"Give From the Heart"

IF ALL the appeals which are made during the year there are few which strike the response of the Canadian Red Cross Society. This month, as in previous years, the Red Cross is campaigning for its annual funds. Five million dollars are needed this year. Summerland's share of this amount has been set at $3,000.

"Give from the Heart" is the 1950 slogan chosen by the Red Cross. It is a timely slogan, and one which bears meditation.

We know that this district may suffer from a type of "local depression" this year due to the exigencies of the winter just concluded. Some of us may have to curtail our spending somewhat and scrutinize the budget more closely.

But if we pause and meditate over the Red Cross slogan we will realize that this is one appeal which cannot be overlooked. The relief of suffering throughout the nation and beyond to other less fortunate countries, the saving of lives, the bringing of cheer and comfort to those less fortunate than ourselves—these are the major tasks of the Red Cross.

We may not have quite as much as we had last year, but we have a great deal more than most persons, here in our happy, prosperous Okanagan Valley. Therefore, this 1950 Red Cross appeal cannot be passed by. Even though we give up one or two small luxuries for a time, we should continue to give as much to the Red Cross as before.

In this and future years the need to reach the objective will become more and more apparent. Give and give willingly . . . from the Heart.

Tolls Would Not be Eliminated

IT JUST seems inevitable. With the rest of the Okanagan, except Naramata, gradually coming around to the belief that a bridge across Okanagan Lake would be the logical solution to the Okanagan's highway traffic "bottleneck", Penticton municipal council decides that an east-side road from Naramata to Kelowna should be built.

The Penticton council was faced with two sets of resolutions, one from Kelowna seeking the east-side road and the other from Summerland, advocating the highway bridge.

On the false assumption that tolls would be eliminated, the Penticton council has decided to back the Naramata road move.

Penticton, sitting in its preferred position, forgets entirely that the west-side road between that city and westside ferry dock will still have to be maintained as a modern highway; that the ferries will have to be continued to service the west-side traffic; that the elimination of part of the traffic in favor of travel over the east-side road would cut down on ferry revenues with resultant increase to the taxpayers of the province to maintain this cross-lake service.

Kelowna has now drawn in its horns sufficiently to admit that a bridge across the lake might be a better solution to the problem, but Penticton council has barged ahead on its stand to the utter disregard of the trend throughout the Okanagan.

This is a young province and it is still far from being populated to the extent that it can afford luxuries such as the duplicating Naramata-Kelowna road.

Likewise, the people of this province have to pay for their transportation facilities in one way or the other. To build a bridge, and pay for it through tolls raised from the people actually using it instead of the great rank and file of the people, seems to us good common business practice.

And do not forget that thousands of U.S. tourists would help us pay for the bridge over the years.

Unanimity of Thinking is Needed

THE argument which is being carried on in the Okanagan over a lake bridge versus an east-side road has a parallel in the Fraser Valley, where residents on one side of the river have been seeking the Haig-Agassiz road and those on the other side have been contending that a bridge is the thing.

This lengthy debate has just been settled by the announcement from Harrison Hot Springs management that it is prepared to erect a toll bridge and solve the traffic problem.

Before this announcement, the subject of a duplicate road from Haig to Agassiz brought forth some ridicule in the editorial columns of the Chilliwack Progress. The Progress contended that the Fraser Valley Record in Mission founded its arguments for a duplicate road on the "beautiful assumption: it is better to have two highways blocked by snow than one."

After the announcement, the Progress admitted that "the two campaigns, one running counter to another, failed to achieve their objectives . . . the hard fact is that both sides of the bridge-highway controversy imperilled their own projects as well as that of the opposition by failing to make a working arrangement."

We are much afraid that such will be the case of the Okanagan Valley if some agreement is not reached soon. If enough controversy is aroused over Naramata road vs lake bridge proposals the government will wash its hands of the whole affair until the Okanagan can make up its collective mind.

The need to solve the Okanagan traffic bottleneck is the paramount issue. We believe the bridge is the logical solution and we have contended this on many occasions lately. However, if it can be shown that a road would be a better solution in the long run let's get together and put our facts before the government.

The southern interior boards of trade have already gone on record as favoring a bridge. Now the Penticton council has established itself in favor of a Naramata road. Kelowna wants either or both. The west-side definitely wants a bridge. Naramata and Okanagan Mission naturally are all for an east-side road.

With so many sections offering divergent views it is no wonder government officials many times throw up their hands and refuse to consider any further improvements until that particular section decides for itself what will be best.

After all, government officials are only human even though the average demanding citizen seldom acts as if he realizes that fact.

Signifying Nothing

By RUSTICUS

The announcement that the cold winter has practically destroyed all prospects of a peach and apricot crop this year, on top of the depredations of the mice which few orchardists now mention without blasphemy, is making for a good deal of worry in many Okanagan homes this spring.

The financial outlook is far from bright, and several weeks ago a meeting of Vernon-Colstream farmers produced a resolution demanding that the government subsidize fruit growers to the extent of their 1949 cost of production. The mover of this resolution announced that this was the worst year he'd seen in the Okanagan since he came in 1948. (Wonder what he'd have thought of the hungry 'thirties and the red-ink 'twenties!)

BCFGA President Ivor Newman has suggested this resolution be changed to base the subsidy on the 1946-49 average price, and it is in this form of the resolution which the Summerland local of the BCFGGA has favored.

From three assorted local citizens I got three highly assorted views about this subsidy business and the outlook for 1950 generally.

Let's call those citizens, seeing they had better remain incognito, A.B. CD, and FE and see what they had to say.

"Of course we farmers need a subsidy," said Abee. "All through the last war the Canadian farmers endured controlled prices when they could have got a lot more in a free market. Now some of us are facing a complete crop failure, and lower incomes for everybody are certain. I'd like to see a dollar a crate for peaches and a hundred dollars a ton for 'cots, based on last year's crop, or the average of the last three years, paid to the farmers, and a floor of, say, two dollars for apples and pears."

When I told Ceedee this viewpoint, he grunted vigorous disapproval.

"Sometimes these farmers give me a pain," he growled. "Even when they're making good money they never admit it, and as soon as high prices start to go down, they squawk like stuck pigs. 'Enduring controlled prices in the war,' indeed. Why, the war years brought farmers the highest prices they ever got. Lots of farmers, here and in other parts of Canada, made eight and ten thousand dollars a year, even more, for year after year. Too damned many didn't pay any income tax, either.

"Why should they howl for help now, as soon as things start to look unfavorable? Any farmer ought to know that he must expect ups and downs; you have to take the lean with the fat. If a farmer didn't have some enough during the fat years to put himself in shape to weather at least one bad year, he doesn't deserve any government help."

Both these opinions were laid before Effee, who after due consideration delivered himself at some length.

"Don't see why the farmer should be expected to save up for a rainy day, any more than other folk," he opined. "Mighty few salaried people could last a year, I'll bet, if their income dropped dead suddenly."

"All the same, there was a lot to be said for the old idea that a farmer was an independent, self-sufficient unit. In hard years he raised his own food, patched his ragged clothes, and suffered in si-

Waiting Period Of One Month In BCHIS Plan

Beginning March 1st there will be a "waiting period" of one month for those who are behind in payment of their hospital insurance premiums Hon. George S. Pearson, minister of health and welfare announced recently.

The hospital insurance plan operates on the prepayment principle. There are two hospital insurance periods. May 31 is the final date for payment of the second half-yearly instalment for coverage from July 1 to December 31, while the first half-annual instalment has to be paid by November 20 to cover persons from January 1 to June 30.

Payment by these two due dates insures continuous coverage throughout the year. However, if late payment is made there will be a gap of one month in protection after the premium has been paid.

This new regulation means that after March 1 persons who have not paid their first half-annual premium which was due November 30 last will not be eligible for benefits until a month after the overdue payment has been made.

Persons who are exempt from the payment of hospital insurance premiums and who subsequently apply for cancellation of their exemption, or whose exemption is terminated, are also affected by the waiting period. If their application is made within 30 days of the date that they were previously covered, benefits will be available and premiums collectable from the first of the month following the date that they were no longer exempt.

If, however, the registrant wishes to have immediate coverage, this may be obtained by payment of premiums from the first of the month in which the exemption ended. Persons who do not make application for coverage within 30 days of the expiry date of their exemption will not receive benefits until one month after the date on which they registered and made payment.

In giving the reason for this new regulation, Mr. Pearson said that it was being introduced to prevent persons from paying their premium one day and going to hospital the next. There have been instances of this kind, the minister pointed out, and this practise, obviously, is unfair to the great majority who have been meeting their responsibilities whether they go to hospital or not.

Local Youth Activities

High School COMMENTS

The high school ski meet held two weeks ago is still the principal topic of conversation. It has been discovered that the "hill captain," Daryl Weitzel, was the main promoter of this event, and contributed a great deal to its success.

His duties as "hill captain" included: Gathering of groups for snow packing, and clearing up any of the problems which may arise on the hill. Mr. Macleod, as supervisor, Mr. Walter Powell, who set the slalom course, Mr. Don Agur, who cleared parking space and Mr. Bob Barkwill and Jacqueline Trafford, as business managers, all gave invaluable aid.

The high school wishes to extend thanks to the Summerland Ski club for its help, and Don Cristante who looked after visitors transportation to and from their lodgings.

The volley ball tournament, held at the George Pringle high school, on February 15, has been receiving little comment, because of our team's low scores. Many students believe the failures were caused by lack of team support, and insufficient practices.

The boys' basket ball team has announced that there is a possibility that they might play in Trail, in the near future.

A group of John Palmer's friends spent a very enjoyable evening, last Saturday, when John gave a dinner party at his home. Another party was held on the same evening, at the home of Ruth and Beverly Fleming, in honor of Don Cristante's eighteenth birthday.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Last week saw the annual meeting of the Summerland Legion Scout group committee. The troop has had a most successful year, thanks in no small measure to the excellent support of many local citizens who have served as instructors.

During the year troop receipts were $78 and expenses $88 due to extra heavy costs of procuring badges and money tied up in inventory.

One of the main objectives of Scouting is to teach boys to be useful to other people and to acquire various types of knowledge that will enable them to be in a position to render public service. This is emphasized in the Scout motto "Be Prepared", in the pathfinders, public health man's, fireman's and ambulance man's badges.

Scout troops have on occasion rendered distinguished public service such as during the "Blitz" in London, helping fight grass fires on the prairies, and aiding in various national used material collection campaigns. Under such circumstances the troop's mobility is important—in other words how fast could the troop be brought together in an emergency.

At the last P.L.'s court of honor meeting, plans were laid for mobilizing the troop some Friday evening at around 6:30 with no previous warning as to exact date, and using only 6 telephones to contact key boys in different areas.

The object is to have the troop at the Youth Centre within one half to three quarters of an hour of the call being sent out. Bicycles may be used.

Tuesday's meeting was the largest and one of the best of the season. Attendance was 43, two short of perfect. Absolutely no more boys can be accepted into the troop for some time; however, boys wishing to join may place their names on the waiting list by filling out an application form which can be obtained from the secretary. The troop has welcomed two new boys, Ken Hustler from the 1st Canoe Troop and Stanley Sedlar.

Patrol instruction featured the Union Jack, its composition, history, folding and flying it. Signalling instruction was given by the first class, and King's Scouts to tenderfoot Scouts. Second class Scouts received instruction in first aid and recruits studied tenderfoot tests.

Next week's patrol instruction and competition will be on tenderfoot knots.

At the investiture ceremony, Tenderfoot Malcolm Lonsdowne of the Eagle patrol was received into the troop. In presenting the troop colors, ASM McCargar pointed out the honor of being a member of this, one of the oldest troops in B.C., started in 1910.

The Eagle patrol has completed an outstanding patrol box for which they received 50 points. Victor Smith's Hawk patrol completed an excellent stove rack. Victor Smith himself received the award of the evening for being the best turned out Scout.

Patrol competition standings are: Eagles 252; Hawks 183, Beavers 257; Buffaloes 198, and Cougars 166.

Notices: Next meeting, Tuesday, March 14 at Youth Centre 7 p.m. Duty patrol: Beavers. — D. V. Fisher, S.M.

GUIDE NEWS

We had a well-attended meeting last week, with the girls who served at the banquet coming over afterward.

Mr. Feltham gave all the 2nd class Guides a very interesting talk on map reading. He will give another talk later on, and those girls wishing to get their pathfinder's badge will be tested on these lectures.

While Mr. Feltham was giving his talk guides studying for their 2nd class were instructed in knots by the leaders, and this will be continued next week.

Mrs. R. Fredrickson has kindly consented to give instruction on the Emergency Nurse badge and those taking this are reminded about their notebooks and pencils.

Three girls passed their tenderfoot tests last week, and will be enrolled by the district commissioner on Friday.

Next meeting: Youth Centre, March 10 at 7 p.m. Duty patrol: Canaries.

CGIT NOTES

NOTES from PARLIAMENT HILL

(By O. L. JONES, MP for Yale)

Parliament opened at Ottawa on Feb. 16 and this week's mail brought the first of a new series of Notes from Parliament Hill written by Mr. O. L. Jones, MP for Yale.

First reference made by Mr. Jones is to the Dominion-Provincial conference, and he urges that "the municipalities take immediate steps to place their point of view regarding education, unemployment and other matters affecting them to the provincial government in order that the latter in turn can take care of the interests of the municipalities."

"Otherwise the municipalities have no part in the Dominion-Provincial setup," he observes, in reference to future conferences which will be called.

Mr. Jones also referred to the national health program, as mentioned in the Speech from the Throne.

"Again I feel that municipalities should write to the minister of health supporting your member in demanding that the federal contribution towards new hospitals be increased."

Present contribution is $1,000 per bed, being matched by the provincial government with the balance paid for the municipality concerned.

"I do feel that in view of the high cost of hospital building which runs as high as $10,500 per bed in some instances a higher federal grant should be given to meet this increased cost of building."

Old Age Pensions

Mr. Jones notes that a committee is to be set up to investigate changes in the old age pension act. He states he has been inundated with requests to press for abolition of the means test.

"I understand it would cost $223,000,000 to abolish the means test," reports Mr. Jones. "Some of this cost would be recoverable by taxation but immediately such a sum is mentioned the general reaction is 'Where are we going to get the money?'"

"I think the best answer was given by the member who said: 'If we can spend $400,000,000 for armaments, as we are now doing, we should be able to find half the sum for the abolition of the means test.'"

Temporary Nature

"In view of the general disturbed condition of employment it was rather startling to read in His Excellency's address 'Employment and prosperity remains at a high level in Canada'. Government speakers dealing with present unemployment state it is of a temporary nature and mentioned particularly that the climate in British Columbia during the last few months was a partial cause of unemployment.

"There have been several complaints reaching me from individuals who failed to qualify for unemployment relief. May I point out that the last year statistics disclosed about 7,000 people in British Columbia who applied for and failed to qualify owing to lack of employment during the qualifying period.

"This has often been brought to the attention of the government, accompanied by the request that coverage should be given to all workers and it is evident that we are to be asked to give consideration to a bill to widen the scope and extend the benefits of unemployment insurance. By this measure, I hope that several of the present complaints will be rectified."

Mr. Jones quoted further:

"Circumstances outside Canada have been responsible for some downward adjustment in the price of farm products. Measures have already been taken to reduce the impact of these adjustments. In order to provide authority for continuing price support to that end for the primary products of our farms and fisheries, we will be asked to amend the agricultural products, the agricultural prices support act and the fisheries prices support act."

Revised His Thinking

"This indicates that the minister of agriculture has completely revised the position he took two or three months ago when he made a public statement that he hoped to have all subsidies removed by August of this year. Naturally, we who are in the farming districts were very pleased about the change of attitude because we feel that in the levelling off process that is now taking place we need some stability through price support to prevent the complete collapse of the market for our primary products.

"There is one thing further that I would like to mention. I am grateful to those Legion branches who have written to me regarding the setting up of a veterans affairs committee during this session. All these petitions have been made known to the department of veterans' affairs.

"Setting up of such a commit-

Don Graham

Is fear of failure preventing you from realizing some ambition or launching some new project?

That was Howard T.'s trouble. As a mechanic in a garage, he had hopes that someday he would own his own auto repair business. He had the necessary experience and promise of financial backing. But certain obstacles that he would have to overcome always discouraged him. So to this day he has never put his plan into action.

The world is full of Howards — people who never give themselves a fair chance at success because obstacles, which could be overcome by determined effort, held them back.

This is not to say that obstacles should be ignored; it's only common sense to take them into account. But too often we overrate them.

Frequently, too, we exaggerate the probable consequences of failure. Yet Cyrus Field failed three times before he succeeded in spanning the Atlantic with the first cable!

So next time you shrink from tackling some project, step up your "will to win"!

Fear can also serve useful purposes — as, for example, when it prompts us to prepare for old age and emergencies by taking out life insurance. This common-sense step has been taken by more than 4 1/2 million Canadians.

Teen Town

Next Saturday night there will be an election dance at the Youth Centre. Running for mayor are Ruth Fleming, Doreen Steuart and Evie Heichert. Election of council members will also be held.

Charles Nesbitt and Lloyd Shannon were at the Teen Town council meeting on Monday night. The Kiwanians have kindly offered to help Teen Town in every way they can. They had many helpful suggestions to improve the dances.

This will probably be the last column I will be writing. Don't everyone yell hurrah at once. So come to the dance and vote in a new council. If you don't I might have to write another column and that would be pretty grim.

Two Drama Groups Formed in District Kamloops to Border

"A fertile field for drama", said Mr. H. S. Hurn, director of school and community drama for the department of education, when speaking of the Okanagan to a meeting of representatives from Kamloops to the border held in Kelowna on February 19 in the B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. board room.

High in his praise of the interest and development of community drama in this Valley, Mr. Hurn said that the purpose of the weekend meeting was to make the centres of this area an integral and participating part of the B.C. Drama Assn.

The dramatic director continued to tell his interested audience of the changing face of the Canadian Drama Festival which is now accepting full-length plays and moving from the amateur to professional. This is a natural growth, he thought, indicating progress from recreational type of drama to more aesthetic performance which would be more nearly national in character.

Mr. Hurn stated that the community drama move is spreading; more centres are interested; there is a greater public response.

The speaker continued to say he believed that the Royal Commission on Arts and Science was an outstanding event in this country, as it is the first time that the government of Canada had shown interest in fine arts.

Drama groups can feel now that the government is behind them; the professional theatre is encouraged and dramatics given accommodation and direction. From this survey definite results are expected in theatre development, he said.

Mr. Lacey Fisher, Summerland, was appointed chairman for the meeting and Miss Doreen Dick, Kamloops, secretary.

Divide Valley in Two

After some discussion it was decided to divide the valley into two zones which would be independent provincial zones, each holding district festivals. There would be competition between the zones and the best play from each zone would be entitled to enter in B.C. Drama Festivals.

Local festivals would be timed for convenience and economy. It was decided that the southern zone would encompass all groups and centres desirous of entering which are situated on the west side of the lake and including points in the Similkameen. The northern zone would embrace points from Kelowna to Kamloops, with Westbank being invited to join whichever group preferred.

Committees were set up for each area. Mr. Lacey Fisher, West. Summerland is chairman for the southern zone, with Mrs. N. O. Solly, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. LaCroix, Penticton, was appointed Penticton representative on the committee, with Mr. E. A. Read to represent Oliver.

In the northern group Mr. F. H. Aldred, Oyama, is chairman, Miss Dagmar Herry, Vernon, secretary, with Mrs. Doris Anderson Kelowna and Miss Doreen Dick, Kamloops, committee members.

Mr. Lacey Fisher will act as co-ordinator for the two zones.

At the suggestion of Mr. Smithers of Oliver, Mr. Hurn was asked to set up a basic constitution for both groups which could be adapted to local needs if necessary.

Ten Percent Set Aside
Ten percent of the gross or box office receipts from the Oliver festival were set aside towards some such valley-wide organization. This was divided between the southern and the northern zones and it was decided that in further zone festivals ten percent would be given for administrative purposes within the zones.

These two groups went on record as being in favor of drama groups paying 25c per capita to the B.C. drama association.

Accumulation of possible profits from zone finals could pay net loss should one occur, or establish scholarships whereby members could be sent to the summer school of drama.

School drama was on the agenda. In larger centres it has been possible to separate adult and school festivals, and this Mr. Hurn favored. At the present time with many school districts engaged in large building programs it was not considered a good idea to pursue fully, but one to keep in mind for the future.

Advocating and adjudicators were another topic. All adjudicators have passed basic exams and are familiar with technical and interpretive angles, though they may not always be popular.

Fifteen plays is the absolute maximum for a festival with a platform commentary not longer than seven minutes per play.

At Mr. Fisher's suggestion the secretaries of both zones were asked to write to write to Hon. W. T. Straith, minister of education and to Col. F. T. Fairley, deputy minister, telling them of the work which has been accomplished and in appreciation of the offices of Mr. Hurn.

Guests from Summerland included Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Fisher, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh and Mrs. N. O. Solly.

F. L. Fitzpatrick, Rutland, who has been president of the Canadian Horticultural Council for the past two years, has been named honorary president. Ivor J. Newman, BCFGA president, is a director of the CHC and A. K. Loyd, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. president, is chairman of the committee of trade and tariffs; Col. E. Poole is chairman of the marketing committee.

Mrs. V. Polesello Is CWL President

Mrs. V. Polesello was chosen to succeed Mrs. A. Menu as president of the CWL at the monthly meeting held on Wednesday, March 1. Mrs. Menu is retiring at the end of a two-year period from the position which she has filled ably.

Twenty-five members attended and other officers elected were first vice-president, Mrs. H. Shannon; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Schwab; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. S. E. E. Beech; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ted Logie. Appointed to visit the sick were Mrs. R. G. Russel and Mrs. C. P. Pearson. Care of the church committee consists of Mrs. H. Schaeffer and Mrs. C. Ongaro. Mrs. Phil Pelletier was welcomed as a new member of the league.

Discussion centred around the advisability of social circles within the CWL and resulted in several groups being organized.

could be effected, he was quoted. Mr. Bennett also went to bat for Dr. J. M. Hershey, the former B.C. HIS commissioner.

"The way the government forced the collection of premiums on him broke the poor man's heart. It shouldn't have been allowed to happen."

When he contended construction of the PGE into Vancouver wouldn't add one pound of freight, Premier Johnson interrupted with: "I am taking my advice from experts who know the problems of the PGE."

"The government sometimes listens too much to experts and not enough to practical ideas," countered Mr. Bennett. "I am 100 percent opposed to throwing money down the drain for a line into North Vancouver before the extension to Peace River is constructed."

Welfare Group Will be Formed

Reeve C. E. Bentley has called a meeting of representatives of public bodies in the municipality for Wednesday, March 15, to consider formation of a central welfare group to co-ordinate the handing out of welfare relief to needy families in this district.

Miss Ruth Adams, district welfare officer and Miss Joan Appleton, district health nurse sought His Worship's assistance in getting these organizations to send representatives.

This severe winter saw a number of families in this area in distress. In these instances they were not covered by municipal or provincial funds and several local groups have been called upon to assist.

It will be part of this central body's responsibility to prevent duplication of welfare assistance, it is stated.

Hospital Brief Ready for Presentation

Preparation of a brief which will present this community's opinion of the James A. Hamilton survey of South Okanagan area hospitals is now well advanced, committees representing the Summerland Hospital Society and the Summerland Board of Trade having combined efforts.

This brief will present reasons why the Summerland General hospital should not be discarded as proposed in the 20-year survey report of the Hamilton company.

It is likely that a copy of this brief will be sent to such groups as the Summerland council, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, Canadian Legion and Women's Institute for endorsement or for amendment and forwarding as a separate brief.

Municipal council is believed ready to present a separate brief pushing some factors not fully covered in the hospital society presentation.

Value of Blood Transfusion Service Stressed at Annual Red Cross Meeting

Much later than usual, due to unfavorable weather conditions, the annual meeting of the Red Cross, Summerland branch, was held on Thursday evening, March 2 in the parish hall.

While in 1949 the branch did not have the activities of the busy year years the president, Mrs. A. K. Elliott, told of the successful campaign for funds held last year and of the blood donor clinic when 196 persons responded to the appeal for donations of blood.

Emergency first aid kits are kept at the rink, the school and the ski hill, the president said, and in the summer one is at the beach where the swimming classes are held.

Mrs. R. C. Palmer, treasurer, reported that $3,264.63 had been collected in membership fees and donations.

Tribute was paid by the president to the memory of the late Mrs. Geo. Perry, a quiet, faithful worker, who died recently.

Mr. J. Y. Towgood, chairman of the blood donor clinic, outlined work done at the clinic, thanking Mrs. Wm. White for convening the nursing service; Mrs. Palmer and Miss Cartwright, who headed the refreshment committee, and Mrs. R. G. Russel, who was receptionist. Used Local Donors

Mr. Towgood stated that at times there had been a shortage of blood available locally, but this has been rectified in that permission has been obtained to use the blood donor list, and twice suitable donors have been found locally for necessary transfusions when there was no blood in the bank at Penitction.

There will probably be a house-to-house canvas for donors this year, as this was thought to be the most satisfactory way to get out donors, and one which was used to advantage at Kamloops recently when 1000 went through the clinic.

Mr. Jack Dunsdon, chairman of the campaign committee and delegate to the provincial council meeting in Vancouver was the interesting speaker for the evening, telling of the inspiring conference which he attended.

Mr. Dunsdon said that he had learned a great deal about the work of the Red Cross at the council meeting, and that he thought more of the general public should attend just to find out what the Red Cross is doing continually. He sketched a word picture of the various departments of the society.

He believed that the blood transfusion service is one of the most important activities of the Red Cross at present and one which should be fully supported. He was taken on a conducted tour of the blood laboratories at Shaughnessy hospital, and was impressed with the magnitude of the work of this part of Red Cross.

B.C. collects one third of all the blood collected in Canada, and through this service the people of this province were saved over $1 million in the last four years taking $25 per pint as the value of blood, said the delegate.

A film Miracle Fluid showing the blood donor service in action was shown by Mr. C. V. Nesbitt.

All the officers were re-elected unanimously and follow: Honorary president, Dr. F. W. Andrew; honorary vice-president, Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh; president, Mrs. A. K. Elliott; 1st vice-president, J. Y. Towgood; 2nd vice-president, Miss M. Cartwright; 3rd vice-president, Jack Dunsdon; secretary, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh; treasurer, Mrs. R. C. Palmer, convener of home nursing, Mrs. W. White; convener of Junior Red Cross, Mrs. B. Tingley; chairman of blood donor clinic, J. Y. Towgood; chairman of campaign, Jack Dunsdon; officer in charge of active reserve, Mrs. R. G. Russel; executive member, Mrs. F. Stark.

The clinic was a large one, and Dr. Zeman did smallpox vaccinations, inoculations, and physical examinations.

Mr. T. Moore showed a film on dental care, and tea was served by Miss Phyllis Adams and Guides A. Solly, J. Wooliams, P. Bradford, A. Blayney, C. Short and P. Morrow.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING AT COAST

Next Tuesday, March 14, will mark the golden wedding anniversary of two old-time members of this community, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Smith. However, the elderly couple will not be here to celebrate their anniversary but will be in Vancouver at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Pritchard, 3257 East 46th St.

There, open house will be from 7 to 10 o'clock on Tuesday evening, to mark the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be especially pleased if any Summerland friends in Vancouver at that time will pay them a visit that evening.

VISITING HERE—

Mrs. G. Cooke of Toronto, Ont. is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Main.

Mrs. A. F. Calder of Vancouver is the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McIntosh.

E. H. Bennett's Surprised on Anniversary

Twenty-five years ago on March 2 the marriage of Miss Florence Eleham and Mr. E. H. Bennett was performed at the home of the bride's mother by Rev. Mr. Alexander, former minister of St. Andrew's church.

The anniversary of the happy occasion was reason for a jolly surprise party when neighbors and friends who had been organized into a group by Mrs. Harvey Mitchell went to the Bennett home to enjoy the evening with them.

First to go to the door was little Trudy Mitchell wearing a long pink taffeta dress and ready to present Mrs. Bennett with a beautiful bouquet of daffodils and narcissi.

Mr. S. A. MacDonald proposed a toast to the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago, and just as the toast was in progress their daughter, Miss Joan Bennett, who is attending UBC, telephoned good wishes with unpremeditated timeliness.

Contests were played during the evening, and Mrs. A. Fenwick assisted Mrs. Mitchell in preparing and serving refreshments.

NEW ARRIVALS

On Thursday, March 2, a baby son was born to Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Wright at Summerland General hospital.

A baby girl was born to Dr. and Mrs. J. M. McArthur at Summerland General hospital on Sunday, March 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross McLachlan have a second little daughter who arrived at Summerland General hospital on Sunday, March 5.

Bingo and Cards At CWL Party

Thursday evening, March 2, was chosen for the semi-monthly card party held by the Catholic Women's league in the parish hall of the church.

These evenings have proved to be enjoyable throughout the season with whist and bridge both being played. As a special feature last week bingo was played by the patrons following the card games.

Top winners at whist were Mrs. Armstrong, Peach Orchard, and Mr. A. J. Bonthoux, with Mrs. F. Bonthoux and Mr. John Menu winning the consolation prizes.

At the bridge tables Mr. Rothwell was high scorer, and Mr. J. W. Schwab was awarded the book prize for the lowest count.

Milne Films Have Professional Touch

Consensus of opinion was that the Milne films of the California Rose parade and pictures of Vancouver Island were "almost professional" when they were shown in West Summerland Saturday evening at the Baptist church.

There was such a large crowd filling the church that the overflow were seated in the newly dedicated church hall.

As well as the pictures of the famous annual rose parade, a short film "Jack Frost" was shown and another, "God's Wonders in your own Backyard".

A longer reel did not come in time for Saturday evening, but came later, and was shown to the Peachland congregation of the Baptist church on Sunday afternoon.

Harry Dunsdon Gives Picture

One of the earliest Summerland pioneers still resident in this district, Harry Dunsdon, made a presentation to the Summerland municipal council on Tuesday, Feb. 28, of a colored picture, suitably framed, of the West Summerland area as it was in 1894.

Mr. Dunsdon took this picture with a small box camera from Rattlesnake Mt. and covered a distance of about three-quarters of a mile.

"A link with the past", declared Reeve C. E. Bentley, himself an old-timer here, in accepting the picture and expressing the grateful thanks of the council for the presentation.

Mr. Dunsdon remarked that it will soon be sixty years since he walked south from Sicamous and finally ended his journey at Summerland. He had come from England to make his new home in the then far west.

Biggest Increase in History of Great-West Life Company Shown

A record year with $228,000,000 new business placed was reported recently by The Great-West Life Assurance Company in its 58th annual report published by Lorne Perry, who represents the company in West Summerland.

Total business in force of $1,503,000,000 represented an increase of $157,000,000 during 1949. The increase was the largest in the company's history and 33% above the average of the previous five years. The total business in force at the end of the year included $1,262,000,000 insurances and $241,000,000 deferred annuities.

Last year, group insurance provided more protection, paid out more benefits and was owned by more people than ever before. New group business written in 1949 reached the record value of $54,000,000 which was 69% more than in the previous year. Total group business in force was doubled in four years and aggregated $263,000,000 at the end of 1949.

Total assets were increased to $357,600,000 at the year end. With the increase of $26,300,000 in 1949 the growth in assets in four years was over $110,000,000. These assets are the savings of the thousands of policyholders held by the company for future payment under the terms of their insurance policies.

Payments to policyholders and beneficiaries amounted to $24,900,000 in 1949. This sum was the largest in the Company's history and raised the total distribution by the Company since the first of the century to $367,000,000.

Sherman Fin-niss and David Stocks of Penticton won the boys' doubles title.

SENIOR BASEBALL PLAYERS START TO WARMUP IN GYM

Baseball warmup practices have commenced, although the snow hasn't completely left the ground. Senior horsehide heavies have been warming up in the school gym, taking over the practice hours formerly occupied by the basketballers.

At a recent meeting, players and fans spoke earnestly of plans to make Summerland as baseball conscious as possible.

A large billboard may be erected near Smith & Henry property advertising all games and giving other data regarding the baseball teams, it was suggested.

Four main committees were appointed to assist the main officers of the senior baseball club, President Allen Holmes, Manager Ben Trafford and Secretary Nan Thorn-thwaite. These committees are:

Finance—Allen Holmes, Jack Walsh, Bill Sherwood, Charles Den-ike and Miss Nan Thornthwaite.
Advertising—Abe Salloum, Frank Kuroda and Wendell Schwab.
Transportation—Bob Bleasdale, George Taylor and Jack Walsh.
Refreshments—Percy Thompson, Bob Bruce, Bill Sherwood.

Professional Ball Club May Play Here

It is likely that attempts will be made to have at least two of the three professional baseball clubs training in the interior this spring play exhibition games in Summerland. The board of trade at a recent executive meeting passed on the suggestion to the Summerland Baseball club that Wenatchee and Vancouver Caps should be brought here for an exhibition game.

There is also a probability that Victoria, now planning to train in Kamloops, may be persuaded to appear here while touring Penticton and Oliver to meet the Caps and Chiefs.

Jim Heavysides Dominates Play In 5-Pin Loop

Jim Heavysides' Meateria five-pin bowling team scored a decisive victory over Shannon's Transfer in the finals of the Merchants' Bowling league played off last Sunday afternoon at the King-Pin Bowladrome.

The meat gang piled up a total of 3041 points while the truckers were only able to amass 2725.

Second place teams in the two sections of the league schedule, Overwaitea and Sports Centre, also met on Sunday afternoon to decide second place. Playing four aside, Overwaitea conquered the sportsmen 2213 to 2143.

Members of the championship Meateria team consisted of Rhoda Ritchie, Esther Grover, June Lam-ey, Joe Sheeley, Reuben Huva, Dot Sheeley and Jim Heavysides.

Champion individual bowler of the year was the same Jim Heavysides whose single game 365 and three game 871 went undefeated.

The Meateria also produced the champion lady bowler, Rhoda Rit-chie, who scored a high single game of 323.

However, Muriel Walker's 698 for three games was untouched in the Merchants' league.

High average for the men also went to Jim Heavysides with 230 and Muriel Walker's 187 was ad-judged the best lady's score.

Windup of the Merchants' loop season will take the place of a dance at the IOOF hall on March 21.

Summerland and Kelowna Bowling Teams All Square

Kelowna five-pin and ten-pin bowling teams visited Summerland on Sunday, Feb. 26, for friendly inter-town matches with the result that when the total points were counted both towns were all square.

In the men's five-pin match, Summerland annexed three points to the visitors' one, Chew Tada leading the locals with 651, closely followed by Jim Heavysides with 632. Ed Iberabi of Kelowna had a brilliant 729, while Stan Matsuba had 646.

The result was reversed in the men's ten-pin exhibition, Kelowna annexing three points to Summerland's one-game win. Iberabi again led the Kelowna team, with 499, while Harley Ewing rolled the ten-pins down for a high of 489.

Final game saw mixed five-pin teams from the two towns battle to a draw, Summerland winning two games and Kelowna one and total points.

Summerland players included: Chew Tada, Harley Ewing, Fumi Inaba, Ken Heales, Jim Heavysides, George Williams, Harold Stein, Ernie Harrison, Walter Bakos, Nan Thornthwaite, Muriel Walker, Sue Webber and Ernie Adams.

Keremeos Dashes Hopes of School Senior Hoopsters

Hopes of the Summerland high school senior boys' basketball team of finishing the league schedule on top went glimmering last Friday when they were defeated at Keremeos 47-40.

However, the team is still tied with Kelowna and will meet that city's hoopsters here on Friday to decide which club will occupy second place in the league standing.

Don Cristante and Ron MacRae had a good evening last Friday but despite their efforts Keremeos outscored Summerland in the last quarter to clinch the game. Summerland led 26-23 at the halfway point.

Only victory for Summerland was scored by the girls' squad which was away out in front for a convincing 27-12 win, Helen Kean having a very large evening with 15 markers.

Junior boys' game ended in a draw as both Keremeos and Summerland lads had amassed 23 points at full time. Ken Brawnner and Glen Youngusband were top men for the Summerland lads.

Keremeos Junior: Rockhold 5, E. Forner 6, Wilkins 5, Clarke, Kempf, Reichert, H. Forner 2, Munden 5—23.

Summerland Juniors: K. Brawn-er 9, Gordon Youngusband 4, Glen Youngusband 8, Thompson 2, Smith, Raham Arndt—23.

Keremeos Girls: Tanto 6, Boul-t, McGunigle 4, Wiles, Vansanten 2, Tweedle, Shiels—12.

Summerland Girls: Trafford 4, Kean 15, Metters, Ward 6, Mason, Eyre 2, Jomori—27.

Keremeos Seniors: Clifton 10, Shields 3, B. Butler 10, Peach 8, Rockhold, Smitheram, J. Butler 14, Maisoneuve 2—47.

lence till it was over. In good years, he made a killing; and if he built big barns, bought big cars, or bolstered his bank account with his winnings, that was nobody's business but his own.

"Compared to that old idea, the modern notion that instead of putting up with hardships we should immediately demand help from the government is something like grown-up running back to his mother's lap. When we get parental help we must endure parental control; and if the government is going to look after us in our hard years, you can be sure they'll restrict us and tax us in our good years, too. There's bound to be two sides to it.

"Crutches are handy when the walking is tough; but only cripples carry them all the time. Sometimes I wonder if we're becoming a nation—ever—a world—of frightened cripples always seeking something to lean on instead of having confidence in our own strength. If we are, is it the fault of ourselves, or the world we live in—and the way we've made it?"

It might be worth a passing thought.

Red Sox May Barnstorm to Coast Points

A trip into Washington and west to the Vancouver district is in prospect for the Summerland Red Sox possibly around the end of June or early in July.

This proposal highlighted the annual meeting last week when Sandy Jomori was elected president of the Red Sox junior baseball club and Miss Jackie Trafford was named secretary-treasurer.

Les Gould was selected as club manager, Joe Sheeley is to be coach and business manager and Harry Braddick will be coach.

George Witte was named honorary president of the club.

Although some thought had been given to the club going into senior B ball this year it was the meeting decision to stay in junior baseball, under '21, class.

Last year the juniors considered a trip into Washington but plans could not be finalized. However, preliminary negotiations are already underway for this project as part of the 1950 season's play.

Red Sox intend to enter the junior baseball interior league again this season and defend the interior championship won from Kam-loops when that club walked off the field here last year.

Building Still Up for 1949

February building continues to show an improvement over 1949, as did January. Building Inspector Roy F. Angus reports.

Last month, three permits were issued for a value of $5,900, including one new dwelling at $5,000 and two alterations and additions at $900.

In February, 1949, four permits were issued for a value of $2,650.

This brings the total to the end of February to 5 permits valued at $6,800, while at the same time in 1949, six permits had a value of only $3,080.

Sixty Cubs Lead Fathers To Banquet

Sixty Wolf Cubs of Summerland's two AOTS-sponsored packs proudly led their fathers to places at five long tables in St. Andrew's United church hall Friday, February 24, for their big annual Father and Son banquet.

Both did full justice to a splendid turkey dinner prepared and served by mothers of the Cubs, with Mrs. Lemke, Mrs. Huff and Mrs. Greer acting as heads of the catering committee.

These 8 to 12-year-old Boy Scouts-to-be proposed toast after toast in clear young voices and with a terse grace of wording which kept the fathers who replied hustling to equal.

Dwaine Greer proposed the toast to the Scout Association, which was replied to by J. R. Butler. The toast to the honored guests was proposed by Gordon Underwood, replied to by Rev. W. S. Angell. Toast to the Dads was given by Ron Wilson, and answered by Harry Brown.

John Cuthbert proposed the toast to the honored guests, which was replied to by J. R. Butler to by Rev. W. S. Angell. Toast to the Dads was given by Ron Wilson, and answered by Harry Brown.

Finally, Eric Tait proposed the toast to the Cubs, to which Barry Lawley replied. Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. S. W. J. Feltham, who gave an interesting review of how scouting and its founder got their start, and recalled Mafeking night and how at first the Boy Scouts were more laughed at than admired.

"They have proven their worth", the speaker said, and exhorted the Cubs to hold true to the high ideals of their association.

Others at the head table were, Cubmasters H. R. Whitmore and Walter Bleasdale, and their assistants F. Doumont and Allan Butler, Senior Sixers William Lewis and Dwaine Greer, the AOTS group committee, consisting of J. R. Butler, Les Gould and Bert Stent, Gordon Beggs, Commissioner Hatfield and S. A. MacDonald. Bert Stent acted as toastmaster.

in the public interest for such truancy to be known.

Dr. James Marshall asked that further steps be taken to ascertain if Ottawa intends to provide a tuition fee for those youngsters who live on experimental station property and attend Summerland schools.

If no fees are forthcoming from Ottawa then a fee from each family involved should be sought, he considered, to be fair with property owners inside the municipal limits.

The board will seek further enlightenment on this subject from O. L. Jones, MP for Yale.

May Establish Credit Bureau

Summerland Retail Merchants' Assn., after hearing details of the credit bureau established in Penicton by Mr. Van Winkler, has appointed a committee of its own to investigate the possibility of establishing a sub bureau of the Penicton organization.

Messrs. Ken Boothe, Mel Ducommun and Lawrence Rumbal are members of this committee.

It was agreed that a credit bureau might be of value in the future relations between retailers and customers and on this basis the committee is to interview many lines of business not represented at last week's March meeting of the association.

IT TAKES MORE THAN FARMING TO MAKE A FARM SUCCESSFUL

As a farmer, you may have seen one man steadily improve his farm while a neighbor, though starting in much the same circumstances, can never afford it. In many cases, the difference lies more in financing than farming.

Many successful farmers follow one simple rule to finance improvements. They know that keeping too much cash around leads to easy spending. So, as soon as they receive payment for produce, they set part of it aside in a special savings account at the Bank of Montreal. Then they just "forget" they have this money until they need it to finance bigger and better crops, or labor-saving equipment.

You, too, can boost your profits by saving regularly at the B of M. James Muirhead, branch manager at West Summerland, invites you to drop in now and open your special account for farm-progress financing. While you are in, ask for a copy of our Farm Account Book. It will help you in your finances.—Adv.

What Has the Board of Trade Done?

WE HEARD a citizen say the other night: "The board of trade doesn't advertise itself enough. I tried to convince a resident who has been here a number of years to join the board and his reply was: 'What has the board of trade done for Summerland?'"

It may be true that the board of trade hides its light under a bushel too often but a reader of this newspaper should be aware of most of the board's undertakings over the past few years.

To our way of thinking, an active board of trade is one of the most important civic bodies in a community, next in importance only to the elected municipal council and school board.

A board of trade mirrors the average thinking of the populace as it contains a cross-section of the community and includes business men and their employees, representatives of and workers in industrial plants, and farmers, besides some retired business men.

It is true, however, that interest in the board of trade here is waning. Membership has dropped off considerably in the past two years and it may be that the board is not giving itself enough prominence.

A balance sheet of the board's operations in 1949 has come to light and gives an indication of the amount of work which has been undertaken in the past year. In donations alone, the trade board helped other organizations to the extent of $555. The Summerland Band obtained $150 grant, Youth Centre $300, Summerland Film Council $50, hockey received $25 and other smaller donations made up the balance.

These donations were made without any call on municipal funds. They came from funds raised by means of paid memberships and from projects conducted by the trade board.

Chief project was the Spring Fair which netted the board just under $900 after fairly heavy expenditures.

The trade board provided swim classes for youngsters and expended nearly $200 on this project. Committees produced pamphlets advertising Summerland to tourists and prospective land owners here, staged Get out the Vote campaigns for elections, conducted safety campaigns including the education of children, provided a treat for the youngsters at Christmas and did sundry other deeds for the benefit of the community as a whole.

If any person thinks back over the past year of achievement on the part of the trade board and still can say: "What has the board of trade done for Summerland?" then he is not an interested citizen of the community.

Schools Have Important Role

LAST week throughout Canada Education Week was celebrated. Here in Summerland visitors were asked to inspect the local halls of learning.

We wonder if those visitors stopped to realize that without ideals and standards the world would soon become a sorry place in which to live. A full and satisfying life involves the pursuit of more than just material gain. The school shares with parents the task of awakening youngsters to the importance of all that is highest and finest in life.

Our children are under the care of schools and teachers throughout most of their waking hours. The teacher has, therefore, a large share of the task of teaching spiritual values. No higher duty exists for Canada's schools and teachers than to help translate these abstract principles into real living habits and practices for each one of their pupils.

The brotherhood of all men, charity and the Golden Rule, justice and fairness to all men alike, self respect and respect for the rights of others and the dignity of the human individual are among the concepts which teachers must impart.

We hope that you stopped to consider the school's role in our everyday life during Education Week which has just been concluded as an organized function throughout Canada but which must actually continue throughout every day of the year to be really effective.

Faith in our Community

LAST week we underwent a distinct change in Summerland. We felt the full weight of advanced science in the operation of our communications system.

With the installation of the dial system, our telephone exchange is an automatic robot. Gone are the friendly voices of the exchange operators. In their place are myriads of copper coils and other paraphernalia so complicated that only a trained technician can understand their full implication.

But despite our loss of the human touch in the telephone system, we have many compensations.

We have a fully automatic, modern telephone system which can be expanded with the district. There will be no need now for persons to be denied the services of the telephone providing their residence is within reasonable distance of existing lines. And a telephone, despite the fact that we curse them on occasions, is as necessary in our present-day mode of living as electric light.

The Okanagan Telephone Co. has expended a great deal of money to bring a modern system to Summerland. In fact, the company expended a great deal more than was originally estimated. That seems to be the fate of all planned expansions these days.

But the public utilities company has shown a faith in our future by its action. In effect, they have said: "Summerland is a progressive community. It has expanded greatly in the past four to five years. Such expansion is warranted and the residents deserve better facilities. We believe in the future of the community and therefore we intend to gamble our money in providing modern telephone service. We think we have a good chance of getting our money back in future years."

Such faith in the continued prosperity of the district by more persons at this time would be welcome.

Pioneer Days

March 5, 1920

Work will be resumed on the municipal irrigation system within a few days as a result of the sale at Vancouver of $61,400 worth of the debenture issue of $75,000. Average price was slightly more than 87. Councillor R. E. White and Clerk F. J. Nixon went to the coast to negotiate this sale.

As a precautionary measure against the spread of 'flu the schools have been closed.

A dividend of 6 percent on the paid-up shares of the Summerland Telephone Co. was voted at the annual meeting. H. C. Mellor was re-elected president and Dr. F. W. Andrew vice-president, while I. Blair and S. M. Young were re-elected directors.

A. S. Peck and Roy Darkis are preparing to open an up-to-date ice cream parlor and soda fountain in the west half of the Campbell block.

Officers of the Summerland Agricultural Assn. are: President, A. McLachlan; vice-president, H. Eristow; directors, R. H. Helmer, C. Craig, A. Moyes, R. V. Agur and J. J. Blewett.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Kean on Wednesday when Miss Helen Cockburn Kiel of Scotland was united in marriage to Mr. James Kean.

John McDougald of Peachland is in town arranging to make his home here.

Provisional directors of the national co-operative brokerage company which the marketing conference of the Canadian Horticultural Council proposes to set up with headquarters in Vernon are David McNair, E. J. Chambers, L. E. Taylor, J. T. Mutrie, all of Vernon and H. P. Simpson of Vancouver.

At a meeting of co-operative fruit growers' associations' representatives in Ottawa Lewis Duncan, who investigated the alleged combine of fruit and vegetable jobbers in the west, strongly recommended a Dominion-wide selling agency, treating the whole country as a unit, and thus avoid, among other things, competition between districts and overlapping of supplies. Lead poisoning was the cause of the death of six out of 14 trumpeter swans which wintered on the lake here, says Fred Anderson, migratory bird officer.

Short term pools on summer and fall apples are being recommended by representatives of a number of co-op locals to the Associated Growers following a meeting in Kelowna.

Smith & Henry have been given permission to operate a wood and coal yard north of St. Andrew's church.

Through the activities of the Women's Institute a movement has been launched for the erection of a suitable war memorial.

Among recent changes in properties are the following: O. G. Smith has purchased the Carwick lot on Giant's Head; A. J. MacGregor's property on Siwash Flat has been sold to Mrs. J. L. Secord; Ezra Kercher has purchased the Garnet Valley property which he sold to R. Phillipon several years ago; R. Barkwill has bought the lot on the opposite side of the road to his home property.

Jack Morrow has been awarded the position of municipal truck driver. There were three other applicants.

NOTES from PARLIAMENT HILL

(By O. L. JONES, MP for Yale)

The British election has been the most important topic of discussion. With the growing ties that exist between Canada and the United Kingdom it was natural that this great interest was displayed during the past week.

The British policy towards Canadian trade will remain more or less the same as it was during the past three or four years which means that it will be governed largely by the amount of Canadian dollars that may become available through the sale of British goods to Canada. The more British goods that we import the greater will be our export market. Particularly will this be the case with fruit.

The British market was thoroughly discussed on the last day of February by the opposition members. Several sound suggestions were made to the government how this market could be re-captured and developed.

While no positive action was promised as the result of these discussions, it is well known that members of the Cabinet pay strict attention to what is said by the opposition and very often they will adopt some of these suggestions as their own policy at a later date.

One remarkable fact stood out very clearly and that was the desire of every party in the House to co-operate to the end that our products could be made more easily available to the Old Country consumers.

However, the government did not feel that the Progressive-Conservative amendment which called for the setting up of a Commonwealth trade convention would be of any value, Mr. Abbott pointing out that any information that such a convention could gather is now available. So, on division, the amendment was lost.

The anxiety of our veterans as expressed in resolutions regarding the formation of a veterans' affairs committee of the House was placed before the government. On a direct question being asked the minister, if he intended to set up this committee the answer was a blunt refusal.

It seems rather strange because this committee functioned for many years and could again deal with several outstanding problems affecting veterans. I would urge organizations and Legion branches to continue their pressure on the minister of veterans' affairs.

The unemployment insurance bill was finally passed. The bill is a step forward in covering added industry, particularly lumbering and logging and from a statement made by the minister it would appear that 75,000 more people will be covered immediately.

There was naturally a great deal of disappointment when the final bill reached the House because it contained no provision to deal with the immediate unemployment situation. Naturally, most members spoke on the matter of unemployment as affecting their particular district. Our district of British Columbia was possibly harder hit than any other in Canada, at least that is the information gained from figures issued by the minister of labor.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Over the radio has come an announcement that a reliable observer has not only seen a 'flying saucer', but watched it for several minutes, called in other witnesses to substantiate it, and even got army jet planes to pursue it, although not before it was rapidly rising out of their reach.

This pretty well proves that the U.S. Army was talking through its official helmet, when it announced that their investigation had proved that flying saucers were all nonsense. Also that the people who called them merely mass hysteria were wrong—though probably right about 80% of the cases. And TRUE magazine has lived up to its name.

For TRUE published an article two months ago claiming that one, out of these strange objects have been seen to make their reality unquestionable, that they come from another planet or star, and are driven by a type of power which we do not yet possess—probably atomic energy or something akin to it. There are two types of saucers, says TRUE; small ones which presumably contain recording instruments, and others large enough to contain people, all capable of speeds far ahead of our fastest planes and all, apparently, visiting us to find out what sort of creatures we are and take back reports to wherever they come from. The news is startling; but how much less it stirs us now than it would have twenty years ago, or even around 1938 when Orson Wells' dramatic radio broadcast of a 'Martian invasion' caused so much excitement. Since then, like Macbeth, we have 'supp'd full with horrors.' We have progressed so far ourselves toward destroying the world we live in that threats from another world mean little now. 'Direness . . . cannot once start us.'

Almond, the strange news gives cause for hope. If some other planet has developed atomic energy and adapted it to useful ends without blowing themselves all to you know where, maybe we can yet do the same. Maybe some day our weird visitors will get into communication with us and give us a few tips about the better management of our sadly disordered world. Or step in as an umpire with super-mundane power and bench the foul players in some neutral planet.

There may even be a touch of religion in it too. The idea that the vast universe was created merely as a setting for such creatures as us, on one small earth, is ridiculous to many people; but if other planets, other stars, have life on them, there would seem to be more of a wise, all-embracing purpose behind the whole. And who knows how much farther advanced in understanding such things the beings who send those flying saucers may be?

And what will they look like? Handsome men and shapely beautiful women, like Flash Gordon and his girl friends, or Buck Rogers? Or will they be more like Superman?

I doubt it. Superman, and similar creations, run so much more to muscle and bone than to brain space that I doubt if they'd actually have intelligence enough to run a bicycle, let alone a space ship.

Surely if human beings are to continue to develop as thinking creatures instead of as muscular beasts, their heads will get larger and their bodies weaker and smaller as they invent more and more devices to replace muscular effort. It is quite believable that if the wreckage in Mexico was a flying saucer and did contain a human being—human-ish, anyway—he was only 28 inches high. Mostly head or head-top, probably; arms and legs will become mere appendages to the thinking machine, and the digestive system proportionately smaller.

Sounds horrible, now, but when everybody gets that way, we will

Buyer is Focal Point in Business Of Present Day

With more goods coming on the market, attention is being focused on the buyer, rather than the producer as the final arbiter of the level of business activity, says the latest business review of the Bank of Montreal.

"Under these circumstances the general trend of prices takes on added significance as an indicator of fundamental changes in the over-all relationship of supply and demand."

The review brings into relief the notable stability of the wholesale price picture during the past 18 months, suggesting that price readjustment may now be expected.

Wholesale prices are approximately double those of 1930, but wage rates in manufacturing are up about 2 1/2 times and per capita disposable income, after direct taxes, is more than 2 1/2 times the 1930 level.

Existing active money . . . can no longer be considered a potent underlying influence working in the direction of further widespread price advances," the report states.

A contrast with behavior of Canadian and U.S. prices is also reviewed. The general index of U.S. wholesale prices, while advancing further than the Canadian figure up to the summer of 1948, also declined more rapidly.

By December, 1949, the Canadian wholesale price index, in terms of the 1935-39 base, was 8 1/2 percent higher than that of the

March 13, 1950.

Editor, The Review:

At a regular meeting of the AOTS Club the members expressed a very hearty vote of appreciation for the courteous and friendly manner in which the local police officer has discharged his duties, in the matter of issuing motor vehicle and drivers' licences, under very trying circumstances.

We believe there are approximately 800 licences and at least as many drivers' licences issued to car and truck owners in the Summerland district. This represents about $80,000. All this business to be done in 38 hours from February 15 to 28, and subject to emergency police calls which necessarily close up the office and reduce the number of hours available.

One would think that surely for such a large volume of business the B.C. Govt. could afford to allow an extra man to help out for a short time, and relieve the strain on both the police officer, and the buying public.

Yours respectfully,

Hail to our new Teen Town mayor, Doreen Steuart! Doreen won out over Evie Heichert, Bud Green and Ruth Fleming.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Dave Wright for the swell job he did as mayor. It is a thankless job but Dave carried out the job so well that he should be a model for all future mayors.

A council was elected at the dance which, by the way, was very well attended, and included: Shirley Wilson, Mel Monro, Barb Metters, Graham Munn, Rose Harrison, Gerald Washington, Joe Thompson, Mary Marshall, Francis Gould, Earl Bryden and Evie Heichert. Looks like a very promising crowd, doesn't it?

Gerald, Earl, Doreen and Evie are the only ones that were on the old council. They will be able to help get established. Under the guidance of Doreen the dances promise to have lots of zip and pep.

Well, this is it. In parting I would like to thank all of those who contributed little newsy items for the column, all two of them.

Seriously though, Good Luck Doreen and councillors. It's quite a job.

High School COMMENTS

The senior boys' basketball team appeared in new basketball strips last Monday night in the Penticton gym. The boys looked very smart in their navy trunks and white tops with red and blue trim. Individual players contributed to the cost of the uniforms and the major portion was paid from a fund raised through the efforts of the students.

Four pretty girls, Terry Daniels, Marguerite Menu, Ann Brlekovich and Arlene Raincock, did their best to cheer our teams to victory. The cheer leaders were dressed in white shorts and light blue sweaters. The girls will welcome any new cheer.

The players of the volley ball teams had better luck last Saturday when they entered the tournament in Rutland. The boys were heroes of the day, when they won all six games in which they played. This team will be playing in the B.C. tournament, if they continue to play in the same fashion. They lined up Don Cruickshank, Norm Holmes, Bud Green, Jim Towgood, Leighton Nesbitt and Johnny Huva (spare).

The girls team also made a fine showing when they won four out of six games. The line-up was Ruth Klix, Phyllis Bradford, Melva Stevenson, Shirley Smith, Dot Blacklock, Phyllis Adams, Catherine Trofimenkoff, Mary Marshall and Dennis Johnson.

Friday noon hour, the girls challenged the high school teaching staff to a rousing game of volleyball. Three games were played and the teachers won them all. The girls' basketball team is reported to be playing the teachers in the near future.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

The King Scout badge is one of the highest awards in Scouting. It is given in recognition of a first-class Scout having earned four public service badges of which the ambulance man's and pathfinders are obligatory, and the other two may be chosen from fireman's, public health man's, cyclists, horsemen, rescuer, signaller, interpreter or pilot.

These badges must be repassed each year in order that a Scout retain his King Scout's badge.

Mr. Foltham is now examining Scouts on the pathfinders badge and Dr. Andrew has started instruction on public health man's badge. Later there will be instruction on fireman's and ambulance man's badges. Under the new Scout regulations a King's Scout is awarded a diploma signed personally by the Governor General of Canada. This diploma should be the objective of every Canadian Scout.

In the patrol competition, standings are as follows: Cougars 198, Hawks 225, Buffaloes 227, Eagles 302 and Beavers 331. The Buffaloes will each pick up 505 points when they get their patrol boxes in. How about next week? Remember the all day hike, Saturday, March 25 to Clearwater Lake. Notices: Next meeting Tuesday, Mar. 21, Youth Centre. Duty patrol—Cougars.

Jaycees Fail To Register Bridge Vote

Regional conference of the Junior Chambers of Commerce from Kelowna south to the border at Osoyoos on Sunday, March 5, failed to reach an agreement on supporting the bridge proposal across Okanagan lake but it was shelved mainly because delegates present had no authority to speak on behalf of their chambers.

Les Wilson of Kelowna, supported by Les Rumball of Summerland urged strongly that the Jaycees go all out to obtain a bridge across Okanagan lake but the other delegates had not been given the necessary authority to proceed.

As a consequence, no regional support can be forthcoming until the next conference which will take the form of an entire Okanagan regional meet in Vernon on May 20 and 21.

Regarding the Jaycees' plan to have the name Yale changed to Okanagan, word has been received from Ottawa that no consideration could be given such a plan until after the 1951 census.

In the meantime, consensus of opinion from such areas as Grand Forks-Greenwood and portions of the Similkameen will be sought. A "Visit the Okanagan" signboard has been proposed by the regional Jaycees, to be erected near Wenatchee at a cost not exceeding $100. Clare Way of Penticton is seeking more information regarding the possibility of obtaining a site near the junction of Wenatchee-Spokane-Okanagan Valley highways.

Union Seeking New Agreement

First official notification that the municipal electrical workers will seek a new agreement with the municipality was received this week in a letter read at Tuesday's council meeting from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

This letter declared that the brotherhood wishes to open negotiations for a new agreement this year.

Other municipalities affected received a similar notification some time ago.

All municipalities in the Okanagan Municipal Assn. which have Earnings of the average Canadian will buy more sugar today than 10 years ago. Butter and meat costs have risen greatly but sugar costs have not jumped as much as average wages have.

agreements with this union are combining their negotiations under one committee. Councillor F. E. Atkinson is the Summerland representative on this committee.

No indication as to what portions of the agreement are to be negotiated was contained in the letter. Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith has already written for more information but had received no reply on Tuesday.

Word was received from the municipal committee secretary, however, that attempts to ascertain the exact basis of negotiation are being made.

Two English Lads Leave Here for Canoe Trip South By River to Gulf of Mexico

Two years ago, two young men set out from Devon, England to see as much of the world as they could.

They have succeeded admirably to date as they have come right across Canada, been over a good deal of the Alaskan highway.

On Tuesday, they set out from Summerland for Castlegar, where they intend to start a canoe trip over five major rivers which will take them through the United States to the Gulf of Mexico.

They had hoped to start from Summerland and go down Okanagan river, but the ice blocked this idea so they shipped their canoe by Kettle Valley Railway to Castlegar and followed the next day to start on the first leg of their momentous journey.

These two young English lads, both graduate and qualified surveyors, are Roy Kerswill and Monty Alford.

When they landed in New York two years ago from their native Devon they didn't have much money. But they got as far as New York and with their remaining capital they purchased a station wagon.

They travelled to Peterborough where they were so broke that they worked as laborers for a month. On to Winnipeg they went and there they obtained three months' employment as surveyors.

Calgary was the next stop and then the Yukon and Alaska beckoned. In the north country these two Englishmen surveyed the Atlin road with a bulldozer only a day behind them all the way.

This latest employment has enabled them to amass sufficient funds to purchase a canoe from Peterborough, outfit them with sufficient supplies for the trip—and that includes plenty of photographic equipment—and send them on the next portion of their continent-wide adventure.

Down the Columbia they will go to Pasco, and down the Snake to Pocatello where their first major portage will be made to the Green river. They will sail the Green to the Colorado and then 200 miles down that river to San Juan, where they will portage to the Rio Grande.

There are only two main portages but there are dozens of smaller ones, they informed us wistfully, not the least of which is a portage around the Grand Coulee dam.

It is their hope that they can travel from the Gulf of Mexico around to the Mississippi and then north up this great river for the return trip to Canada.

They are taking a wealth of photographic material and plan on taking pictures galore both in color and black and white. A contact has been made with the National Geographic Society and it is likely their trip will appear in that eminent publication.

Since leaving Devon Roy Kerswill has sported a heavy black beard. His bow to civilization on coming out of the Yukon was to shave off his appendage for a visa picture before entering the United States. His black beard is coming back again rapidly.

Roy is fairly tall while Monty is short but both men are slim and wiry. They aren't packing any excess weight.

But their entire weight, including themselves and complete kit, loaded into the graceful canoe will be 800 pounds.

When they were in Alaska and the Yukon they met many friends of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Solly. So, when they came down from the north they came on to Summerland and made their final preparations for the momentous trip from the Solly home here.

Mr. Solly saw them off on the east-bound KVR train Tuesday morning and as he would rather travel than eat most anytime he had a wistful look as he thought of the eventful trip before them.

number of poor people, they fell in line. People who were not friendly to the Communist party two years ago agreed that graft had been eliminated, and I am no Communist," he avowed.

"Our trouble," he continued, "was that we went to China to give what we believed they needed and what we thought was good for them. The Communists have given what the Chinese thought was the main need. It is time we re-thought our policies".

"The Communist party in China has grown out of environment. Its 'grass roots' are in China. They are not going to come under the domination of other countries. It is a strong sturdy nationalism there, and the Chinese Communists would not turn over their country to any other nation on the face of the earth. They have thrown off the yoke of decades of oppression", he maintained, "and their leaders are not ready to bow to Russia."

"We helped the Nationalists and armed the Communists, because the things sent from America and Canada were sold to the Communists by the Nationalists. Is this new party likely to love us?" he questioned.

Nowhere Else to Go
"We backed the Communists up against Russia. In 1948 many cities in North China were taken and advisors came from Russia to assist, but the new Communist flag in China, while a red flag, has five stars: a large one for the Communist party, and four for the integral parts of the country—the proletariat, the agrarian, the petite bourgeois, and the national capitalists."

Currency means little in China today with rapid and tremendous inflation, and equally rapid and devastating deflation. The Communists today are basing money on commodity value.

In the educational field, academic freedom is as great as it ever has been, and the Christian colleges in China have been commended by the new regime for their economy and practical value.

There are greatly improved agricultural conditions, the speaker said. An extension policy is moving along in a way which the nationalists could never get working, and knowledge is going to the farmer with a major emphasis unknown before in China.

Many sinister aspects as well as useful ones are seen, too, said he.

"China is fluid. Young men and young women who have contacted outside ideas by studying abroad have become Christians and are bringing these ideas back to their homeland. They look towards the Communists but they favor a middle road. Today the tide swings this way and that. There are strong forces in a strong conflict, but there is so much that is not clear and defined."

"We should measure our strength against their strength," he challenged. "Every Communist is a missionary in his cause. Are we in a democracy in the service of

Surface Garnet Valley Road

Shaling of Garnet Valley road has already commenced and will take approximately $1,000 of this year's road program expenditure Councillor Eric Tait reported to the council on Tuesday.

He did not elaborate on the rest of the roads program but stated it was ready to be considered with other municipal estimates.

About one mile of this road will be shaled, which is all that can be treated out of this year's funds, he declared. Gordon Beggs' loader and four trucks, three of them hired, are doing the shaling job at a cost of $153 per day.

"It makes a good start", remarked Reeve C. E. Bentley.

Councillor Tait stated that the hard surfaced roads are in good shape, although the frost is not out yet.

world brotherhood?
"We could save the world by principles in this dangerous age in which we live, but we must not put it off until tomorrow for peril of our lives," he warned.

So Goes Asia
"As China goes, so Asia goes," he declared. "The needs of humanity in China are our needs. We have the skills and cultures to make us friends of revolutionary China."

Again quoting Fairbank, he asked: "Have we the will to use them, and not neglect it?"

"Maybe it is a gamble to step in and assist, but one well worth while. The Communist motto is that the people are reasonable. They have treated them so, and see in them a possibility for something better."

Before midsummer 3 to 10 million people will have starved to death. Let us stretch out the hand of brotherhood to them, giving them technical knowledge and skills that they may start on the long road whereby they may in time get enough to eat, was the plea.

"Fellowship alone can save the world from the H bombs and the hell which would come to us because of them," powerfully asserted Dr. Faris in conclusion.

Growing Membership Sign of Progress For Legion W.A.

Growing membership is the healthy condition of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion. Thirty-one were in attendance at the monthly meeting last Thursday in the parish hall with the president, Mrs. W. McCutcheon presiding.

A party of five members of the Pentiction WA were present, including Mrs. G. Kincaid, zone president, who was guest speaker for the meeting.

Mrs. Kincaid was asked to install three new members, Mrs. Bob Ramsay, Mrs. T. Fisher and Mrs. Wm. Strachan, which she did welcoming the young women to the auxiliary.

Mrs. Knight, president of the Pentiction WA was among the guests and Mrs. Everett Gordon, wife of the president of the Canadian Legion, Pentiction.

The overseas parcel was won this month by Mrs. J. Broderick.

The society voted $15 to the Red Cross and $10 to the Salvation Army.

Arrangements were made for the spring bazaar and many of the members took needlework home to make up for the sale.

Tea was convened by Mrs. R. Smith and Mrs. Keith Sayres and after this enjoyable interlude Mrs. Kincaid and her party were taken to see the Legion hall and said that they were impressed with the improvements made since the fire.

Grade 3 Pupils Inspect The Review

Last Friday afternoon The Review was visited by the pupils of Miss Pringle's Grade 3 class. Since there were so many in the group the girls came in first, and when they had been shown various machines, and how a paper is printed, they left and the boys were taken over the plant.

Mrs. Macleod president of the such an insight into the departments of the department of health and social welfare and the varied life of a social worker.

St. Patricks Tea In Baptist Hall

In the pretty new church hall of the Baptist church a St. Patrick's tea was held on Tuesday afternoon by the members of the Evening circle.

Green candles and shaded lamps made a soft glow as one entered from the grey day outside, and green touches here and there indicated the season of the year.

Mrs. D. O. Knipfel and Mrs. R. Birch welcomed guests and pouring tea from a lace-covered table were Mrs. H. R. McLarty and Mrs. W. M. Wright, who were relieved by Mrs. Arnold Gayton and Mrs. H. Brown. Tea committee consisted of Mrs. C. H. Elsey, Mrs. W. Sherwood, Mrs. Keith Sayres, Mrs. C. Sargent and Mrs. W. C. Wilkin.

WOMEN PREFER LARGER SIZED TINS W.I. TOLD

Further discussion of the comparative value of the 20-oz. vs 15-oz. tin ensued at the March meeting of the Women's Institute on Friday afternoon, March 10, in the parish hall. Government surveys show that 75 percent of women prefer the larger size, considering it more economical and better value.

It was found that there had not been enough of the 20-oz. size to fill wants, and members were urged to tell local merchants so that they can inform company representatives.

This objection to smaller tins will be put in the form of a resolution to be presented to the district board meeting to be held at West Summerland about May 4. Mrs. R. C. Palmer was elected official delegate to the rally.

The Linda Lee weaving demonstration will be sponsored here and probably be on Tuesday, April 18. This is an interesting new needlework method which UBC intends to include in its handicraft section, the meeting was told. The weaving demonstration will be open to the public.

Mrs. Angus asked for helpers for the sewing classes which resumed on Tuesday and the last of the series of classes in leatherwork taught by Mrs. A. Fenwick on Wednesday.

Mrs. Orr asked for ideas for a rug design, the rug to be entered in the annual Tweedsmuir competition for hooked rugs.

Mrs. A. C. Bingham read extracts from the February bulletin issued by the department of health and welfare commending the work of W.I.s.

A man drawing unemployment insurance, baby bonuses on ten children, and housing parents who receive old age pensions, can make a nice living off the taxpayers without working.

Communicable Diseases Can Be Serious

The recent outbreak of mumps in this area has shown how communicable diseases are no respecter of persons. All are liable to contract these diseases however well and strong they may think they are and whatever standard of living they maintain, so we may be thankful that for the more serious diseases medical science has discovered a way that we may be protected, states Miss Joan Appleton, public health nurse.

Immunization is now available free against smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus (lock-jaw), and many other killing diseases.

This immunization has proved effective over many years as the following figures show. In 1924 Canada had 9093 cases of diphtheria and 1281 deaths and in 1948, though the population had increased by over 4 million there were only 898 cases and 85 deaths.

"Think what each of these 85 mothers must have felt when she knew her child could have been saved if she had only had it protected," Miss Appleton points out. Whooping cough cases have been reduced from 19,082 in 1943 to 7,084 in 1948 and smallpox vaccination has been so successful one is apt to forget those days in the past when whole towns were wiped out by this dread disease. Through vaccination there has not been one death in Canada from smallpox since 1943.

So now the weather is improving and summer lies ahead make sure that your child is not one whose mother "forgot" all about having him or her protected" or is waiting until he or she goes to school, the PHN stresses.

Six precious and dangerous years are in between birth and school-age and it is then that all children have a right to this protection.

Clinics are held every week in West Summerland, also once a month in Lower Town and Trout Creek, so do not delay, she urges. Further information may be had from the family doctor or ring Miss

Suggest Gradual Improvement of Front Bench Water System

According to the official minutes of a committee meeting held by the municipal council on Monday, Feb. 20 and read at last week's council session, H. L. Wilson and neighboring fruit growers met the municipal fathers on that evening to discuss bringing irrigation water to that portion of the front bench.

It was stated by Water Foreman E. Kercher that the cost would be $14,920 to serve 60 acres in that area.

Enlargement of the Prairie Creek flume, the siphon and other expenditures were included in that figure.

According to these minutes, a plan of gradual enlargement of the water system in that district over a three to five-year period would be the answer to the problem and at the end of that time the properties in question could be taken off the domestic line and served with irrigation water.

No further comment was made at the regularly-constituted council session attended by the press.

Grouse Flies Through Window and Lives

Mr. and Wilfred King, who are living in Mrs. H. A. Solly's house at Trout Creek had an unexpected guest early last week, when a grouse flew through one of the large-pane windows.

Strangely enough, the bird was uninjured only losing a few feathers from its back, though it was probably as surprised as the Kings, and for such a small bird created a great commotion of flying glass, fluttering calendars and swaying pictures.

Mr. King says he released the bird and did not save it for Sunday dinner.

YOUTH TRAINING CONCERT ENJOYED BY LARGE CROWD

A large crowd welcomed thirty one members of Naramata Youth Training School on Friday evening, March 3, when they presented a varied and enjoyable concert in St. Andrew's church.

Eleanor Cardiff, president of the students' council was MC for the program, which commenced with the choral selection, "I Will Extol Thee O God, My King".

Dorothy Atcheson directed all the musical numbers which were very good on the whole.

"The Lord Is My Shepherd", chosen by Jackie Moore of Medicine Hat and Phyllis Thatcher of Trail for their duet was considered by many to be the best number on the program.

Walter Denholm and Don Faris, two former violinists of the Vancouver Junior Symphony, were accompanied at the piano by Barbara Redwood, presenting the largo, adagio, and allegro movements of the Golden Sonata.

Lilly Chin, a Chinese member, spoke about the fellowship and friendship enjoyed at the school, and outlined its various aims and activities.

Bob Morris, from Brantford, Ontario, stated that at the institution there was a total of 52 students, ranging in a wide variety of occupations, home background, opportunities, talents and aptitudes. They have come from Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and from within this province.

Other items on the program were choir numbers, "Steal Away", and the final one, "God is a Spirit, and should be Worshipped in Spirit and Truth"; a pantomime, Martin The Cobbler; and a male quartette, "Battle Hymn of the Republic".

Rev. D. Favis, dean of boys and former missionary to China, was the guest speaker, his subject was Communist Challenge to Christian-

Submits Bill for Frozen Water Pipes

Frank Cermak and his neighbor, Mr. Drobenka, had trouble with frozen pipes in the past winter, but they didn't prove to Water Foreman E. Kercher that it was the municipal line which was frozen. They didn't produce their shutoff.

Water Foreman E. Kercher worked in China. A speaker of merit, Mr. Faris' talk was thought-evoking. Refreshments were served to the visitors at the end of the concert.

ed on the line but when Cermak didn't produce a shutoff he discontinued the work, telling Cermak he could continue if he wanted to, Mr. Kercher informed council last week.

Cermak and Drobenka did continue and now they have sent their bill for five hours each at 70 cents per hour, plus $10 thawing expense, to the municipal council.

Municipal fathers, on the advice to Mr. Kercher, refused to honor the account.

Limit Loads On Local Roads

Limiting of loads and speed limits on Okanagan highways and municipal roads was ordered in special announcements from the public works department and the municipal council recently.

In the municipality, limit of loads is placed at 50 percent of carrying capacity, while speed limit is 25 miles per hour.

Provincial government limit is 75 percent of carrying capacity, 25 miles per hour for trucks and 30 miles per hour for buses and other vehicles.

These limits will be enforced until the spring thaws have ceased and the danger to the roads ceases to exist.

In the municipality, penalty for noncompliance ranges from $50 to $300 in fines.

Oddfellows Honor Founder's Birthday With Social Evening

Oddfellows at Summerland commemorated the birthday of the founder of Oddfellowship in America, Thomas Wilkey, by holding a banquet in the IOOF hall, West Summerland, on Friday evening, March 3.

There were over 100 present at the supper with Mr. C. V. Nesbitt as master of ceremonies.

A toast to Oddfellowship was given by Mr. H. Tomlin, past grand, who joined the Summerland lodge in 1908. Response to this was given by Mr. Wes Manning of Penticon, grand patriarch of the grand encampment of B.C.

The ladies were toasted by Mr. Charles Nesbitt, and Mrs. Lloyd Shannon gave response.

Short addresses were given by Mrs. C. V. Nesbitt, district deputy president of Rebekah assembly; Mrs. J. Brown, noble grand of Faith Rebekahs; and Mr. Dennis Nield, noble grand of Okanagan lodge, No. 58.

Mr. Alan Everett of Penticon, guest speaker, was unable to attend because of illness, and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson filled the vacancy on the program by giving a splendid address on her travels though B.C. last year in the capacity of president of the provincial Rebekah assembly.

Musical numbers included a solo by Mrs. B. Bergstrom and a trumpet selection by Mr. J. Brown. Mr. T. McKay accompanied both items.

Catering for the delicious supper was done by members of the LOBA who were assisted in serving by some of the Girl Guides.

Dancing was enjoyed later in the evening until about one o'clock to the sprightly music supplied by Mr. W. Maler, C. F. Gale, T. Moore and I. K. Sayers.

Former Summerland Woman Dies on Chartered Plane

KELOWNA—Mrs. Christine MacKenzie, well-known Okanagan Mission photographer, died suddenly Tuesday, Feb. 28, while being flown home in a chartered airplane from California.

Mother of two children, she had motored to an Indio, Calif., resort recently with friends. She became ill and her condition grew worse.

Her father, H. G. Reynolds, flew from Vancouver to Los Angeles and chartered a plane to fly her home. The party took off from Indio enroute to Los Angeles and Vancouver. Her condition became critical and she died before the plane could land at Los Angeles.

Thirty-three years of age, Mrs. MacKenzie became widely known for her photographic work since she opened a studio at Okanagan Mission.

She was a former well-known resident of Summerland and also lived in Victoria and Calgary.

Pravda Reports on Weather: "Our Great Stalin" Changed Course of Japanese Current

The bitter cold of January and part of February is now fast receding in the minds of Okanagan residents and signs of an approaching spring are on every hand but the weather is still an important subject of conversation.

Even in Russia the weather in North America is the subject of discussion.

A Southern California newspaper recently quoted a despatch which has been credited to Pravda, the mouthpiece of Communist Russia from Moscow. It is interesting.

"The snow storm," says Pravda, "which has so affected the pot-bellied American capitalists of California is explained by Professor Sonavichski of Moscow's University of Smog Control."

"Stalin has diverted the Japanese current from the coast of California thereby changing the climate of California to that of Alaska, a territory which was stolen from our glorious Soviet by the masters of the downtrodden labor slaves of America.

"This climatic change in the California desert was made possible by our glorious Stalin's magnificent conquest of Japan—through which we obtained control of the Japanese current," reports Professor Sonavichski.

However, Prof. Smellatov of the University of Stalingrad diverts somewhat from Professor Sonavichski's report:

"The reason," says Prof. Smellatov, "for the change of the climate in California was partially brought about by our glorious Stalin's diversion of the Japanese current following his conquest of Japan, but also is due to capitalistic stupidity in exploding atom bombs, invented by Russia, in the waters near a place called Bikini. These explosions, which amuse our heroic captors of Berlin, unquestionably result in atomic clouds which are so changing the climate of America that its starving proletariat will soon beg our great Stalin to become their commissar and give them the salubrious climate of Moscow."

Can that be the reason for the "unseasonable" weather experienced in the "Evergreen Playground"?

Count Jacques de Bernonville the verdict . . . go

Count Jacques de Bernonville, the dapper French count who faces death in his own country for alleged collaboration with the Nazis, recently heard a three-man immigration board order him deported. He immediately appealed the verdict.

The announcement of the board's verdict was made to de Bernonville following an Ottawa statement earlier that the count must return to his homeland. The special board which reached its decision passed its verdict on to the Department of Immigration and Citizenship for approval.

The 52-year-old French nobleman made no comment when advised of the verdict.

WANT GRANT TO CARRY ON LIVING MEMORIAL PARKS

A delegation from the Summerland Memorial Parks committee seeking a municipal grant to carry out necessary maintenance expenditures this year, was assured by the municipal council recently that its request will be considered in the estimates.

E. R. Butler and E. H. Bennett informed the council that the parks committee has $1,156 on hand, will receive about $300 from hockey clubs for 1950 maintenance of the rink and there are still bills outstanding of some $250.

Although some time ago the committee intended to erect a bandstand on the park-playground property for a sum up to $1,000, these plans have been altered considerably and only $250 will be expended for this purpose.

Wages will require at least $1,000 the delegation considered, while various other improvements and small additions will require at least $500 for the year.

It was considered that the committee will need a grant of at least $500 this year.

Reeve Bentley pointed out that a definite amount must be known now, as the sum will have to be fixed in estimates.

Some discussion ensued between delegation and the council regarding previous commitments of the parks committee, Reeve Bentley declaring that the parks committee had promised to maintain the memorial parks for five years and the delegation pointing out that that period was only stated if the original estimate of $25,000 was collected.

The memorial parks committee obtained a grant of $500 towards maintenance costs from the council last year.

FULTON PLEADS FOR B.C. GROWERS

E. Davie Fulton, MP for Kamloops in the House of Commons recently pleaded for government assistance to the fruit grower, stating that B.C.'s apple growers are faced with complete loss of their UK market.

Mr. Fulton said that Agriculture Minister Gardiner was mistaken when he said that cheese is the only Canadian product in surplus. The federal government is buying up surplus cheese.

The Kamloops member said that apple growers in B.C. have surplus apples and could only get rid of their 1949 apple crop by giving one million boxes to the United Kingdom.

He also said the B.C. apple industry is geared to supply the UK market, which had taken few apples in the last two years. The industry is not the type which can be changed overnight, he declared.

Floor prices for apples are necessary in the present emergency, he thought.

VICTORIA REPLIES
Premier Byron Johnson informed Summerland council by letter last week that its representations regarding an Okanagan Lake bridge will be given every consideration.

Guide and Brownie Association Want Mothers to Help

For some time it has been felt that more mothers of Guides and Brownies would be a great asset if they would join the local association, and an effort is to be made to try to get a larger number to attend the meetings in the future.

When the local association to the Girl Guides met on Thursday evening, Feb. 23, instead of the afternoon, it was noted with pleasure that a number of women were present who cannot attend in the afternoon. Whether the meetings should continue to be held in the daytime or change to evenings will be discussed further at the annual meeting next month.

Members were pleased that Mrs. F. V. Harrison, former division commissioner for the southern Okanagan, and the one who was responsible in reviving Guide interest locally, was able to return to her home here, after some weeks spent in hospital.

Mrs. Clarence Adams will convene Cookie Week, April 22-28. Guides and Brownies will take orders for the cookies, and it is hoped that there will be plenty to supply all orders this year, and enough for each Guide and Brownie to have some to sell.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson was welcomed as a liaison member from the Rebekah lodge following an invitation to women's organizations to send a representative to the local association meetings for mutual help.

Mrs. Gwen Atkinson, acting Guide captain, told of plans being made for a concert this spring.

The association hopes to sponsor a mother and daughter Guide and Brownie banquet some time during the spring and tentative plans were made for this affair.

Mrs. R. Lawley, Brown Owl of the second Brownie pack was greeted, too, and congratulated on the success of the pack.

Mrs. Mallett, Brown Owl of the first pack, with Mrs. Lawley, are planning to hold a Brownie tea as a fund-raising event, on March 1, and Mrs. E. Hack, Mrs. Fred Clark, Mrs. C. Adams and Mrs. Dewey Sanborn volunteered to assist.

Kamloops Hospital Reports Big Deficit

Despite operating at 78.3 per cent of capacity, the Royal Inland hospital at Kamloops had a deficit of $10,468 on 1949 operations, the annual meeting was told.

Board Chairman Brennan said that the hospital lost 41 cents per day on every BCHIS subscriber it treated last year. The rate was adjusted upwards late last year, but directors will continue to press for further revision.

GREATEST HALF CENTURY IN MINING

THE beginning of the second half of the Twentieth Century is the beginning of the third half century of mining in British Columbia. The first period, ending with 1899, was a pioneer period, not only in mining but in the development of the Province. Gold, mostly placer, silver, lead, copper, coal, building stone, brick, etc., were produced to the value of $135,773,000.

In 1900 7,400 miners produced coal, lode-gold, lead, silver, copper and other materials to the value of $16,344,000.

In 1949 16,500 miners produced lead, zinc, copper, coal, gold, structural materials and miscellaneous metals and materials to a value of $130,800,000.

Mine production for the first fifty years of this century had a value of $2,430,000,000, nearly twenty times that of the previous fifty years.

With ever increasing uses for metals, minerals and mineral products the last fifty years of this century should prove to be the greatest fifty years in mining in British Columbia.

Ball Tourney Here May 24; Attend School

Prospects for a major baseball tournament in Summerland on May 24 loom with the organization already underway under the chairmanship of Jack Walsh of the Summerland Baseball Club.

Prize money has not been decided upon but the club hopes to have two out of three picked teams, Rutland Adanacs, Princeton or Kelowna Red Sox here for the tournament to play against the local senior club and the junior Summerland Red Sox.

It is also hoped that two of the professional teams which are coming to the interior for spring training can be brought to Summerland for at least one exhibition game.

An invitation has been extended by Wenatchee Chiefs to the local baseballers to attend a baseball school at Oliver on March 22 and 23. As many of the Red Sox as can get away for those two days will go to Oliver for the school.

Penticton High School Remains Undefeated With Win From Locals

Minus the services of Ron MacRae but with Wally Day back in action after several weeks' absence because of a foot injury, Summerland high school's senior boys' hoop team bowed to Penticton on the latter's floor Monday evening by a 76-52 count.

This win left Penticton undefeated this season and certain champions of the South Okanagan high schools, including Kelowna, Oliver, Summerland and Keremeos.

It wasn't a bright evening for Summerland school teams as the junior boys were snowed under an 80-25 count and the Penticton girls triumphed 41-19.

In the senior boys' contest, Summerland held its own with Penticton for the first quarter and only trailed by one point, 16-15. However, the southerners started to draw away in the second quarter and led 33-23 at the halfway mark.

From then on, Summerland tried desperately but couldn't match the fast-scoring Penticton crew led by Boulding, Berdine, Ball, Campbell and Johnston. Day, Weitzel and Jomori were top shooters for the losers.

Friend led Penticton juniors with 22 points while O'Connell amassed 17, more than enough to defeat Summerland juniors, whose chief scorers were Ken Brawner and Glen Younghusband.

A third quarter which saw Penticton scoring 16 points without a single free from Summerland made all the difference in the girls' contest.

Penticton Girls: McKee 20, Leir 11, McInnis, Riddel 6, Raptis 4, Thom, Peterson, Hyndman, Phipps, Borisenko—41.

Summerland Girls: Trafford 4, Ward 7, Mason 2, Kean 2, Metters 4, Jomori, Eyre, Wilson—19.

Penticton Jrs: Ball 6, Pritchard, MacDonald 4, Rainbow, Marshall 10, O'Connell 17, Jordan 8, Friend 22, Bowsfield 9, Ishakaw 4—80.

Summerland Jrs: Brawner 7, Glen Younghusband 9, Gordon Younghusband 3, Maler 2, Thompson 2, Arndt, Smith 2, Raham—27.

Penticton Srs: Kenyon 6, Ball 12, Berdine 14, Boulding 16, Boulding, Campbell 10, Betts 8, Gull beault, Johnston 10—76.

Summerland Srs: Cristante 9, Kato 3, Day 12, Weitzel 12, Jomori 11, Richards 2, Logie 2, Munn 2—53.

School Volleyball Team Fails to Catch Rutland

Playing at Kelowna last week-end, Summerland bowlers took a trimming from the Orchard City kegglers at the Gayway alleys.

In five-pins, Summerland's No. 1 men's team led by Fumi Inaba with 756 points won three out of four points but the second team lost all four points, Paul Roberge's 629 being the best Summerland score.

Mixed five-pin team from Summerland was defeated, only gaining one point in seven, but the men's ten-pinner did better with a draw at two points each. High ten-pin score was countered by Abe Salloum with 195.

Local Bowlers Lose To Kelowna Teams

Although they won all six games, Summerland high school boys' volleyball team could not quite catch up to Rutland in the final matches of the South Okanagan schools volleyball tournament held at Rutland last Saturday.

First matches were held at Westbank and as a result of the two series Rutland boys led with 192, Summerland was second with 183, Westbank had 149 and Kelowna trailed with 139.

Summerland scored 99 points to Rutland's 90 on last Saturday's display.

"There are two dozen rinks in B.C. and all the land is owned by the municipality concerned," countered Mr. Stoll, who thought that with municipally-owned land the shareholders could be certain their investment would not fall into the hands of a few.
"Our legal advice is against having the rink on municipal land," reported Clerk Gordon Smith.
Councillor Holmes then asked what it would cost to put up a rink without any extras, but sufficient to have hockey games. He was told that sum would be $30,000.
"Then, if the rink association can show us it can raise $30,000 I would be prepared to give you the property," declared Councillor Holmes.
"Can you give us a guarantee that the present rink won't operate if a community rink building is erected?" queried Mr. Nesbitt.
The answer generally was in the negative as nobody has the power to answer that question at present.
Before the session concluded, Mr. Stoll declared that his committee will now go out and endeavor to raise $30,000 by pledged amounts on a debenture-issuance basis.
He also indicated that if it soon became evident that the committee cannot come close to its objective then the entire project will be dropped.
"It's much easier to go fishing than to build a rink," remarked Mr. Stoll with some indication that his great enthusiasm is dwindling.
"I admire your enthusiasm," commented Reeve Bentley.

Council Decides On New Truck

At a recent meeting municipal council authorized the purchase of two trucks, one for the roads department and the other for the electric light department.
Tender of Pollock Motors Ltd. to supply a General Motors truck and hoist was accepted.
On Tuesday, the bid of $596 submitted by Sanborn's Machine Shop for construction of the dump body was accepted by the council, despite the fact that the Pentiction Engineering Works' bid was lower at $575.

It was considered that the work being done locally was sufficient reason to accept the higher bid.
This truck will replace the International truck of the roads department, which is being sold to Smith & Henry on a bid of $600, that being $100 higher than the trade-in allowance offered by Pollock Motors.

A Doubtful Privilege

THIS is the time of the year, as we approach April 1, when one regulation in particular of the many and varied government regulations causes us to "see red".

Our reference is to the national revenue department, excise division, regulation concerning eight percent sales tax.

As a manufacturer of job printing our office is required to make application yearly, under section 95 of the special war revenue act, for a licence which costs $2 and is only acceptable if it is sworn to before a commissioner for taking affidavits, which generally costs another fifty cents.

In other words, we are required to pay to this federal government department $2, plus commissioner's fee, in order that we may have the very doubtful privilege of collecting eight percent from our customers and handing it on to the government.

Even the provincial government has the decency to offer us three percent for collection expenses in relation to the SS & MA tax. But this particular federal department penalizes us $2, plus costs, so that we can be its collection agency.

And, to add coals to the fire, before each payment cheque can be mailed, it must be certified at the bank.

This is the type of governmental red tape which makes the ordinary man in the street rebel, and look with scorn upon these bureaucrats on Parliament Hill.

Trans-Canada Route Settled

OFFICIAL announcement that the Trans-Canada highway route has been settled and that it will follow the Big Bend to Revelstoke, down to Kamloops and over the famous Fraser Canyon section to the Fraser Valley will be acclaimed by all citizens of the province who haven't a distinct axe to grind.

It has been conjectured for some time that despite the supporters of the Yellowhead Pass and southern transprovincial routes, the central course would be chosen.

There is a lot of merit to the chosen route as it taps the main centre of population in Alberta before swinging through central B.C. Of course, it doesn't tap the main centres of population in this province's hinterland, but it will give the travelling public a fine scenic trip.

In the meantime, work on reconstructing the southern transprovincial highway proceeds apace and nearly as soon as the Trans-Canada is surfaced and ready for the travelling public so will the southern route which is nearer the great source of tourist dollars from the country to the south.

In the Okanagan, we are in a preferred geographical situation. The Sunshine Route through the Okanagan can be fed from the southern transprovincial or it can be fed from the Trans-Canada.

Once the tourist knows he can reach the coast as speedily by swinging off the Trans-Canada and travelling down the Okanagan and over the Hope-Princeton to reach the coast then this valley will see an influx of tourist travel that it never dreamed existed.

But, it's still nice to know that the Trans-Canada route is settled and the outcries from other competitive routes will be stilled.

No Okanagan Re-Construction

WHILE on the subject of the Sunshine Route, it behooves us to study for a moment the road reconstruction program announced by Hon. E. C. Carson last week in the B.C. Legislature.

There is no mention of any highway reconstruction in the immediate future for Okanagan Highway No. 5 from Vernon south to the international border.

Last year, when Mr. Carson announced his three-year plan to spend $30 million, the unfinished portion between Penticton and Peachland was due to start in 1949 and be completed by 1951.

No work was accomplished in 1949, there is no indication that any provision has been made for work to start in 1950 and, although we have not the complete text of his remarks yet, Mr. Carson has not stated if work will even commence in 1951.

It is well known that the public works department lacks sufficient engineers and survey crews. That has been given as the reason why the resurvey of the road through Summerland has not been accomplished.

Resignation of Harry Anderson, popular chief engineer, to go into private business, would bear out the minister's contention that he has extreme difficulty maintaining a department sufficiently well staffed on the meagre salaries allowed by the provincial government.

But, this switch in the planned and promised program is serious for this portion of the Okanagan. The Peachland-Penticton stretch is the only major portion of the Okanagan highway left untouched in the broad scheme of reconstruction. And, according to present day traffic standards, it is becoming a dangerous highway.

There is no reason to cry wolf until we are hurt, but our public bodies should consider the situation seriously. This apparent deviation from a planned program of reconstruction is almost like a broken promise. And it is a deviation which can injure the economy of this community considerably.

We were promised a modern highway to conform with the rest of the Okanagan and we must insist that this promise is not broken. The full story has not yet been revealed to the general public, but we should insist on its being heard soon.

Signifying Nothing

By
RUSTICUS

'An eccentric wonder who ran the steel from peak to peak and precipice to precipice'... 'Matches came packed in tin containers the size of four-gallon cans'... 'They scraped away the earth, examined the (two) bodies, took the blanket in which each was wrapped and removed the scalps'... also... the red beard which one of the men wore'...

No, those are not excerpts from the lurid fiction magazines. They're history—the sober, authenticated history of our own Okanagan Valley. Each is a fragment which struck my eye when I opened at random, three successive times, the 200-page, red-paper-bound volume which is the 1949 Report of the Okanagan Historical Society. And the whole book makes just as fascinating reading as these selections promise.

The bit about the body snatchers is from a piece by Hester White telling how the Okanagan Indians, in revenge for the wanton murder of one of their number by a party of miners who strayed through here in 1858, attacked their camp, shot two with arrows, drove off the rest, and returned in the morning to attend to the details quoted. Other articles mention Indian place names and tell where to find Indian pictographs on the rocks in the southern Okanagan.

The 'eccentric wonder' is Andrew McCulloch, and the 'eccentricity' applied to him in a Sateve post article, is indignantly denied by his daughter in a long article in the Report. But the 'wonder' part seems well deserved. I had often heard the name 'McCulloch', but never realized before that this one man located the whole Kettle Valley railway from Midway through here and Princeton to Hope, superintended the construction, and after it was finished in 1915 became operating head of it until he retired in 1933. Incidentally, in those years the passenger trains went through the Coquihalla in daylight; McCulloch knew and appreciated its scenic beauties so well that he wanted others to have a chance to enjoy them too.

The bit about the matches is just one of many interesting little details in two articles about the life of that famous pioneer couple, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cawston, who came to the Okanagan on their wedding trip in 1885. Another great Okanagan pioneer, James Schubert, youngest member of the well-known Overland party which came to British Columbia in 1862, is also written up; I learned he built the first road from Penticton to Trout Creek. There are several other articles of pioneer reminiscences; one of them mentions that wages in Vernon in 1892 were 16c an hour!

So many things that I've wondered about since coming to the Okanagan are explained in this book for the first time. Names of early mines like Fairview and Camp McKinney are often heard here, but nobody seems to know many details; in the Report there are several good articles on them. McKinney especially.

Though I've often heard of Kathleen Mountain north of Thrisk, only this Report revealed that it was named by J. M. Robinson. Apparently when that great real-estate promoter and father of Summerland first came out here, he was interested in an early mining venture known as Camp Hewitt, west of Peachland; and he named the mountain after his wife and daughter.

It was early mines like Camp Hewitt which caused the road from Peachland to Princeton, and our own Bald Range road which meets it at Thrisk, to be built. Several articles in the Report deal with these early roads, including a full treatment of the famous Hudson's Bay Brigade trail, over which 300 horses in a single pack-train, sometimes travelled, passing the site of West Summerland just west of Cartwright Mountain. There are over thirty articles in the report, including one on Okanagan birds by Eric Tait, another on Okanagan Baptist College—more familiar to us perhaps as the Home for the Friendless—by Frank Haakins, and many others.

Altogether, a wealth of information interestingly told is assembled in this little book, and any Summerlandian interested in the background of this country will enjoy reading it.

Indeed, when one sees how much good work is being done by the Okanagan Historical Society, one wonders if it would not be a good idea to have a branch of it in Summerland. We have as much history around here as most places, and a good many people interested in it, including the first vice-president of the Okanagan Historical Society, Dr. F. W. Andrew. Might there be enough to make a local branch worth forming?

Pioneer Days

March 12, 1920

Summerland's tax rate has been fixed at 45 mills, made up of 13 mills general, 17 mills school and 15 mills debenture. This is an increase of 13 mills over last year, schools alone going up 9 mills. Irrigation rates are increased sharply from $3 per acre for seven acres or more to the new rate of $32 for six acres. The general water rate or frontage tax has been raised $1. Domestic water monthly rate is increased 30 cents per month. A by-law seeking a raise in electric light rates has been sent to the public utilities commission.

Several institutions have offered to furnish wards in the new hospital it is proposed to build to replace the hospital destroyed by fire.

The Kettle Valley Railway has been granted a charter to construct a branchline from Penticton to the international border at Osoyoos.

Officers of the Summerland Storage Co. Ltd. are: President, W. H. Hayes; vice-president, E. E. Hutton; secretary-treasurer, T. G. Beavis; board secretary, G. Thornber. Six deaths from influenza have resulted in Penticton since the epidemic commenced. It is now believed on the wane.

J. A. Morrison has come here as CPR station agent, relieving A. E. Sharpe, who has been transferred to Mission City. Mr. Sharpe sold his property to W. L. McPherson, who purchased it for Mr. Hugh Mair and family, due to arrive here shortly.

Mr. George H. Inglis has opened a barber shop in Hotel Summerland.

Mrs. J. M. Harrison has sold her orchard and house to Mr. H. K. Lott, who will take possession about April 1.

E. H. Bennett, who arrived here recently from Ottawa, has bought the Roy Black orchard and W. C. Kelley lot below it in the Paradise Flat district. S. G. Davies has bought two neighboring lots.

A. J. F. Anderson has bought the orchard property formerly owned by the Atkins brothers and situated near G. J. C. White's home property. W. Atkinson has purchased a lot in Victoria Gardens.

Mrs. Parsons, matron of the Summerland hospital, has resigned to join her husband in Buffalo, N.Y. As some of the nearby residents did not favor such a project there, C. A. Walter has abandoned his plan to build a fruit byproducts plant in Peach Orchard.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
March 12, 1925

Summerland Board of Trade has gone on record as favoring abandonment of the lakeshore road and re-location on the upper benchland between Summerland and Peachland.

Establishment of a deer sanctuary on Rattlesnake and Wild Horse mountains is proposed by the local fish and game association. W. Johnston was re-elected president and Reeve R. Johnston vice-president. J. R. Graham is secretary and other executives C. H. Eisey, W. Nelson, D. Rutherford, W. Snow, H. H. Creese and George Forster.

Representatives of various local public organizations have agreed that Summerland's war memorial should be a simple monument erected on the school grounds. An objective of $1,500 has been set for this fund.

DONORS THANKED

Penticton, B.C.,
March 13, 1950

Editor, The Review:

May I, on behalf of my committee, take this opportunity to express deepest appreciation to all residents of Summerland and District for their generous support of our Christmas Seal Campaign.

To all who supported our recent drive by purchasing seals, and to those who not only bought their share of seals but gave generously and freely of their time to assist in our work as well, we extend our sincere thanks.

We are all looking forward to the time when our community will be able to proclaim a victory over tuberculosis, and the menace of this health destroyer will be forever ended.

The British Columbia Tuberculosis Society through the close cooperation of the Diamond Jubilee Chapter, IODE Penticton, would like to express thanks to every one who in any way assisted with this campaign.

Yours sincerely,

Naramata, B.C.
March 13, 1950

Editor, The Review:

Your delightful editorial of 2 Mar. deserves a reply from the anguished ringleader. No previous efforts of mine have ever drawn such rave notices from any press. For such colorful coverage my heartiest thanks.

If I may be permitted one more hysterical scream: I would just add that it is the sincere hope of all East-side road boosters that at no time could our attitude ever be labelled as "Dog-in-the-manger". We are just asking for a fair opportunity to share the wealth of this great valley—we do NOT wish to hog it all.

Yours truly,
J. V. H. (plot) WILSON

Ed's Note: At no stage in the editorial in question was the Naramata attitude labelled as "Dog-in-the-Manger", nor was it inferred that Naramata wanted to "Hog it all".

Students Hear And See What UBC Has to Offer

Olive Mason, a grade twelve student, was chosen to represent Summerland at the UBC high school conference, held on March 17 and 18. The conference was planned to acquaint and explain the courses and services that UBC has to offer. A student from every school in the province was invited to attend. Each student at the conference was asked to relay the information gathered to their own schools.

Olive has been kept busy since her return, relating her experiences. She explained how the whole assembly consisting of one hundred and five students was divided into four groups. The group that Olive was in made a tour of the city. During an entertainment period, she visited the CBC and watched the broadcasting of the radio show, "Murder Walks In" by Frank Vivian.

ST. PATRICK IS THEME OF TALK

J. E. O'Mahony, president of the board of trade and second vice-president of the Kiwanis Club, proved to be an interesting guest speaker at the Kiwanis weekly meeting at the Nu-Way Annex Monday evening.

Mr. O'Mahony told of St. Patrick and his mission in Ireland, he took his listeners to the Blarney stone and the River Shannon and also explained the origin of the Shamrock in its relation to the Ireland of old.

At various times she heard addresses by the Dean of Women, Dean Maudsley, Dean W. H. Gage, Mr. Bennett, B.C. school inspector, Mr. R. J. Boroughs, director of the extension bureau, and Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie, president of the university.

The last evening of her visit, Olive enjoyed a banquet and dance at Brock hall.

Teen Town

The first meeting of the newly-elected council was concerned chiefly with the election and appointing of officers to fill various positions. The results are as follows: Deputy mayor, Mel Monro; secretary, Evelyn Heichert; treasurer, Barbara Metters; city engineer, Gerald Washington; social, Shirley Wilson; musical committee, Doreen Steuart and Mel Monro; chief of police, Jim Birtles; projects, David Wright and Sandy Jomori; advertising, Mary Marshall; finance and membership, Barbara Metters; constitution (which is only temporary), Rose Harrison, Gerald Washington, Earl Bryden and Joe Thompson.

The new membership cards will be out shortly and will be selling for $1.00.

The council is exceptionally lucky to have Mr. Les Gould as their adult advisor.

One important point the council would like to stress, is that they are not elected to do all the work, but to make sure it gets done, by you, the other members. So when asked to give your assistance, please be willing to co-operate. With the council and all the other members working together as one, Teen Town will be a huge success.

GUIDE NEWS

Good grooming was the theme used at our meeting on Friday night. A very interesting and helpful talk was given by Mrs. Clarke Wilkin. Mrs. Wilkin spoke and gave demonstrations on the care of the hair, skin, nails and the use of make-up with special emphasis on neatness which is a part of every Guide uniform. This talk was climaxed by the choosing of Anne Beggs as the best turned-out Guide for the night, and ten points were awarded her patrol, the Bantams.

There is to be a Court of Honor some night this week. Patrol leaders will be advised as to which night.

Guides taking part in the play are urged to know their parts thoroughly by next week as time is getting short and there is still a good deal of staging and costuming, etc., to be done.

Mrs. Fredrickson is coming this week to give a talk and demonstration on the Emergency Help-

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Plans are now laid for the troop concert to be held toward the end of May. The purpose of the concert is to earn funds to help defray costs of a more expensive than usual camping trip this summer to Clearwater Lake back of Hedley.

This camp promises to be one of the best we have held, and will be particularly suitable since it is well off the beaten track and has not been used before by this troop. Every effort will be made to put on a real concert.

At Tuesday's meeting Dr. Andrew continued his instruction on public health man's badge and will examine those taking the badge the following weeks. Mr. Gordon Beggs examined boys taking first class first aid and Mr. Feltham examined for pathfinder's badge. The troop plans to continue its outstanding record in badge awards by concentrating on such badges as fireman's, entertainers, marksman, master-at-arms, handyman, carpenter. These badges will be awarded at the concert.

This coming Saturday, March 25, will be the date of the spring hike, this year to Clearwater Lake back of Cartwright's mountain. Boys wishing to pass second class cooking are reminded of the requirement of one quarter pound of meat and two potatoes.

Boys working on first class cooking should consult their manual. The troop will leave the Youth Centre at 9:30 a.m. sharp, returning around 5:00 p.m. Warm clothing and leather boots are recommended.

CGIT NOTES

Summerland CGIT at their weekly meeting, March 15, decided to hold a mother and daughter banquet some time this year.

The purpose was repeated, a service of worship held, and discussion of the CGIT council.

Handicraft was talked over and work done on the candy baskets.

er badge. This is a very important badge as it includes first aid, the use of stretchers, administration of medicine, bed-making, etc., so it is hoped that all Guides will make special efforts to win this badge.

High School COMMENTS

Plans and preparations for the high school Easter dance are in full swing. Saturday night at eight has been chosen.

Doreen Steuart, Mary Ward, David Wright and Fred Kato, social committee, are doing everything in their power to make this dance a success. They have plans from which to build, but it is up to every student able to attend to help complete the building. Admission for the dance is one ten-cent candy Easter egg.

"Min's Men", alias Min Kita, will supply music for the evening. Students who prefer a good game of domino to dancing, will find their wish included in the evening agenda. Fruit punch and do-nuts will be served during the evening. The girls would like to remind the boys that this is a free dance!

Several before-party gatherings are being planned. The largest is a supper party to be held at the home of Mary Ward, for sixteen friends.

Basketball teams have been playing a tough schedule during the past week.

Next Wednesday, a hot dog sale will be held to raise funds for various school activities.

Teachers have been giving gentle reminders to students about the Easter exams beginning on April 3 and continuing for the rest of the week.

A few optimistic skiers are predicting for at least two more weeks of skiing.

Several high school students made their appearance on the Summerland Show over CKOK, last Sunday night. Students from our school were found mostly in the Glee Club. They were Merle Hoavysides, Shirley Schumann, Jack Smith, Sherrel Smith, Kit Multhead and Preston Mott. Shirley Schumann, who is well known for her lovely voice sang a solo entitled, "O Lord Most Holy".

Mary Marshall, who accompanied the Glee Club also played a piano solo, "Clair de Lune"; Kit Multhead gave his interpretation of "Prelude in D Flat"; Eugene Bates and Miss Kay Hamilton played the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers".

Olive Mason who was chosen to represent Summerland high at the UBC high school conference, left last Thursday night and returned Monday morning. Although there was a perpetual drizzle during her visit, Olive said she had a very interesting and enjoyable time.

JUDGE

early years of World War II. He was proud of the fact that none of his judgments was ever reversed by a higher court.

Following the first World War, Judge Kelley took a keen interest in veterans' affairs and assisted the Canadian Legion and its members on many occasions.

Only near relative surviving is the Hon. Russell T. Kelley, minister of education for Ontario, who recently suffered a severe illness. A nephew, H. P. Kelley, of Burlington, Ont., flew from the east to attend the funeral yesterday.

John S. Mott of Summerland is a nephew of the late Mrs. Kelley, who was Laura Mott prior to her marriage.

Three Officiate

Funeral service was conducted from First Baptist Church, Summerland at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon with the pastor Rev. D. O. Knipfel being assisted by Dr. W. C. Smalley, president of the Baptist Union of Western Canada and Rev. F. W. Haskins, Edmonton, former local pastor and now in charge of Baptist church education in Western Canada.

Interment was in Peach Orchard cemetery with the following as pallbearers: W. Clarke Wilkin, John McDougald, Howard Milne, Tom Manning, Roy Wellwood and C. V. Nesbitt.

Spring Blooms Are Welcomed, WMS Tea

Selling aprons, handkerchiefs and home cooking and serving tea to the many who came was a happy and successful occasion in the year of the Lakeside WMS last Saturday afternoon, March 18.

From the blustery March day outside to the welcome signs of spring in the pussy-willows, daffodils, and forsythia used on the tables a pleasant time was spent at the tea hour.

Other decorations in keeping with the season were shown in the green associated with St. Patrick. Mrs. E. R. Butler, Mrs. T. J. Garnett and Mrs. J. Duguid were in charge of the home cooking stall, while Mrs. S. Angove and Mrs. Vernon Charles sold the aprons and hankies.

Tea was convoked by Mrs. George Woitte and Mrs. James Clarke. Serviteurs were Mrs. Grace McIntyre, Mrs. J. Sheldrake, Mrs. A. D. Glenn and Miss Mary Scott.

Better Mail Delivery with Train Changes

This Saturday, March 25, the Kettle Valley Railway will resume a portion of its normal operating timetable after the winter's upsets, but passenger trains will still be routed via Spences Bridge for some weeks yet.

Trains No. 12 and 46 will commence operating out of Vancouver Saturday evening. No. 12 will leave at 5:50 p.m. and No. 46, the local to Penticton, at 8:20 p.m.

No. 12 will arrive here the next morning at 7:43 o'clock and No. 46 at 9:34 o'clock, if on time.

There will be no change in time for Train No. 11, which goes through West Summerland station at 1:04 o'clock each morning, but Train No. 45 will leave Penticton each evening at 8:30 o'clock commencing Sunday, March 26.

No. 11 reaches Vancouver at 2:55 p.m. the next day and No. 45 at 11:15 a.m.

These changes in schedule will mean that the KVR will carry the coast mail for Summerland. It will go through to Penticton and be picked up there each morning by the northbound mail truck, which will deliver local sacks to Summerland and West Summerland post offices.

In the past few weeks, with the single passenger train from Vancouver not arriving until late morning daily the northbound mail truck did not wait for its arrival. As a consequence, the coast mail which went through Summerland before noon each day, remained in Penticton post office, a scant ten miles away, until the next morning when it commenced its northward journey.

Via Main Line
This was the situation until the post office department commenced switching mail for delivery to the South Okanagan via mainline. It came down the valley from Sicamous, arriving here in the late afternoon.

This type of service aroused the indignation of the Summerland Board of Trade executive last week and a letter of protest was forwarded to the postal department. It is understood that Postmaster R. McLachlan also received so many complaints regarding poor mail delivery service that he wrote to his Vancouver office, as well.

The board of trade requested that during the months, from December to May, approximately, when the Coquihalla Pass is out of commission, that Summerland and West Summerland mail be dropped at the West Summerland station and brought to the post office by courier instead of being kept on the train to Penticton and then doubled back by truck.

OLD - TIMERS DUE TO BOUNCE ON BASKETBALL FLOOR

Next Wednesday night something of an exhibition is to be staged in the school gym, Jackie Walsh announced this morning. He is planning a super basketball game between the 1950 senior team and a group of the "old-timers" who used to cavort merrily on the hardwood floors of the Okanagan.

Although he can't be exactly called an "old-timer", George Clark is going over to the side of the "has-beens" to make the game more even. Among those who are being asked to turn out for approximately a minute each are Doney Wilson, Bob Scriver, Don Tait, Jimmy Thompson, Joe Sheeley, Lucey Fisher, Tim Armstrong and Earle Wilson.

Proceeds are in aid of the senior baseball club in order to get that organization started on the right foot this season.

Jack Walsh states there will be a preliminary game at eight and the "main" contest at nine o'clock.

sive trip by ambulance and unnecessary discomfort to the patients and also the doctors (the patients' own doctors) would have to make continuous long trips to visit the hospital.

"The patients could hardly be expected to bear these costs. In addition, relatives and friends would have to cover long mileage to visit the patients. The psychological effect on the patients through taking them so far from their homes must not be overlooked."

Again reviewing the Hamilton report's own statistics, the municipal brief continues:

"It is apparently presupposed that Summerland will be asked to assist in financing the $560,000 hospital that it is proposed to build in Penticton, probably on a per capita or assessment basis.

"Summerland taxpayers who have already paid their share of the present Summerland hospital costs of over $153,000 will hardly look with much favor at the suggestion that they discard entirely their hospital and then help to build a new one in Penticton; and in addition build the proposed clinic without beds in Summerland at a cost of $20,000 in 1961.

"The income of Summerland depends almost entirely on fruit growing and has few other industries, and any other source of income to the district must be jealously guarded. This applies to the hospital payroll of nearly $27,000 a year. This, in addition to hospital purchases in Summerland means employment for many of our citizens, and these are the people who have financed the hospital to bring it to the position it is in today."

Cameron Report Comparison
Concluding remarks centre upon the similarity of the Hamilton proposal and that of the Cameron report on education.

"It must also be pointed out that under the findings of the Cameron report on education that Summerland was grouped with the Penticton school district in an enlarged school district and, in less than two years, it was found that the consolidation was not workable in practice; and as a consequence the department of education separated the school district and formed a separate district of Summerland No. 77. It is our opinion that the proposed hospital amalgamation is parallel to the school setup and will also prove unsatisfactory.

"The Hamilton report was prepared by a group who, to our knowledge, did not visit the district, the hospital nor the municipal council and therefore could not have knowledge of local conditions or geography.

"Therefore the Summerland municipal council very strongly goes on record as being opposed to the suggestion as put forward in the Hamilton report; and we would consider the closing of our hospital a very arbitrary act.

"Nowhere in the Hamilton report can we find any suggestion as to what should be the use of the present hospital and nurses' home buildings in the future.

"These were designed for special hospital use and would have very little value for any other purpose. This means that they would be a dead loss to the Summerland ratepayers.

"Nor can we find any suggestions as to how the hospital is to be maintained in capital expenses during the period between the present and the date on which the hospital would be abandoned.

"Right at this date we are facing considerable expense in overhauling the kitchen and other necessary items of capital expense, that must be done to keep the hospital up to date. Is it fair to the municipal council to have to assist financing these when the Hamilton report says that this expense will have no further value in 1961?"

This municipal brief followed the hospital society committee findings but takes in a wider scope and deals more fully with each argument.

TWO HUNDRED VISIT SCHOOLS

Gratifying to the principal, teaching staff and the members of Summerland school board was the large number who registered and visited the elementary school on Wednesday afternoon during education week when visitors were invited.

Over two hundred names were on the visitors' book at the end of the afternoon in the elementary school.

ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT ATOM SIZE

Rotarian W. Clarke Wilkin took his fellow members through a maze of theories and results in an attempt to give them some small idea of the size of the atom and the steps which led up to the realization of the existence of the atom, as chief speaker on Friday evening program at the Nu-Way Annex.

"Size of the atom is beyond most people's comprehension and when we are told that most of the atom is really empty space with only a tiny bit of matter it really staggers us," he pointed out.

Green Predominant At Brownie Tea

Brownies and their leaders, Brown Owls Mrs. L. Mallett and Mrs. R. Lawley, assisted by members of the local association held a most successful tea in the parish hall last Saturday afternoon.

In spite of the blowy, dull day the hall was crowded, and not a spill was noticed as the Brownies in their uniforms over which bright green shamrock aprons were worn, darted here and there through the crowd to serve tea.

All the decorations took their color from traditional St. Patrick's Day symbols, and the little girls made their own aprons for the occasion.

Of special interest was the presentation to Mrs. Mallett of her warrant as Brown Owl, and to Margaret Lott and Eileen Wilcox of their Golden Hand badges, the first two girls to have won this badge in Summerland.

A white elephant stall of small articles was a busy place and Mrs. L. Derosier won the lucky number prize. Candy and home-cooking were sold at another counter.

Tea was convoked by Mrs. C. A. Adams and assisting her were Mrs. Fred Clarke, Mrs. Dewey Sanborn, and Mrs. W. Birtles. Each plate of cake had small cup cakes decorated in green and white.

With the numerous burglaries we read of these days, do you find yourself worrying about the safety of the valuables you keep at home? If so, you can ease your mind in an inexpensive way as thousands of Canadians have already done.

Simply transfer your precious belongings to the Bank of Montreal for safekeeping. You can store documents like wills, bonds, birth certificates and insurance policies, and articles of value such as jewels, silverware, and heirlooms. The B of M's vaults can guard them all.

If you want maximum protection for your valuables at minimum cost—just a cent or two a day—drop in and talk to James Mulrhead, local branch manager, next time you pass the B of M. Advt.

There has been a decrease in the inventories of canned applesauce in Canada. Result of a heavy election campaign?

Union Library Should be Placed on Firmer Ground Stormy Meeting Finds

That all districts should be put on an equitable basis regarding rental costs was one of chief subjects under concentrated scrutiny at a special meeting of Okanagan Union Library board held at Kelowna on Monday afternoon, March 20.

Delegates from Summerland, Councillor Eric Tait and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, rural representative from Summerland school board, led off the discussion maintaining that larger centres were being favored at the expense of smaller ones, and stating that Summerland school board, backed by Summerland council were adamant in their request for a rental of $15 per month for use of the school building as a library for which light and janitor service is supplied by the school.

This touched off a smoldering flame of similar contentions in other districts and it was suggested that a complete going-over of present vague library policies should be undertaken.

Mayor Rathbun of Penticton stated he did not believe the library should be forced to operate "under the margin", and that relationships would never be happy until the library operated in an independent way as are other provincial services.

Consensus of opinion was that if rates were increased some districts would vote themselves out of the library, and this was definite in the case of Enderby.

Another point of controversy was the proposal by Penticton members to take advantage of a new library space being offered at a monthly rental of $150 per month, on a ten year lease. The meeting was not in favor as present rental is $75 per month.

Dr. H. B. McGregor offered to increase size of his proposed medical clinic to house the library.

During the afternoon, while talk spun round and round between inequalities, elasticity of policy, lack of definite rules, and the Penticton proposal, various resolutions were made and some rescinded, with Dr. McGregor finally declaring that he did not know that he cared to make any offer to a board so indefinitely constituted.

With Summerland remaining in its original position and declaring that its request was in Kelowna for the annual meeting, it was finally moved that the requested $15 rental be paid for this year.

The matter of the Penticton proposal was not put to a vote, and outcome of the meeting was that members go back to the councils and school boards which they represent with a suggestion that operational expenses of headquarters, which is at Kelowna, and distributing centres (since one may be established at Penticton for southern Okanagan) be paid out of the per capita service, and that provisions for supplying quarters and maintenance of branch libraries be the responsibility of the area served.

A charter member of the library board was heard to say that this was the stormiest meeting ever held by the library board.

HALF MILLION IN SALES OF LIQUOR

Penticton liquor store showed sales of $577,229 for the year ended March 31, 1949, latest report from W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the liquor control board states.

Gross profit was $196,363 and operating costs, lowest of the three main Okanagan centres, was $16,836, leaving a net profit of $179,526.

Vernon's sales were $759,898 and Kelowna sales amounted to $719,365.79.

It is unofficially suggested that Summerland residents purchase about one-quarter of the Penticton store purchases, which would mean that local consumers of liquor and beer contributed about $144,000 in purchases from Penticton store during the period under review.

Maintainer Wipes Out Fruit Tree

R. Gibbard is a new municipal employee being taught to operate the municipal maintainer. Council received a report from Road Foreman Les Gould last week that the new employee was making good progress despite another report that he had failed to control the machine on turning a corner and crashed into a tree on the J. Kean orchard.

Damage to the machine was not great but the tree won't recover.

House Isn't Home Until Grounds Are Planted Nat May Tell Kiwanians

"It isn't a home until its planted." This was the quotation with which Mr. Nat May, chief gardener of the experimental station here, opened his talk on Homes and Gardens when he addressed a recent Kiwanis club weekly dinner meeting.

"A house is like a diamond in the rough when it hasn't been planted," he continued. "In fact, it's only a house and not a home."

First Step is Lawn
First step in creating outside atmosphere is to plant a lawn, which if properly prepared with eight inches of topsoil above the ordinary sand and gravel should last a lifetime.

Such a soil preparation means that one watering a week will suffice, he explained. Mr. May further advocated that three types of grass seed be sown. 20 percent Chewings Fescue, 40 percent Kentucky Blue and 20 percent Dog Tail.

The latter is a coarse grass and fades out of picture in the second year but protects the new shoots from the severe rays of the sun.

White clover grows too fast and the lawn looks as if it needs cutting every two days whereas the main grass hasn't really started to shoot up again.

Mr. May is not an advocate of bargains in dealing with gardens. He told Kiwanians never to buy a cheap lawnmower or garden hose as really good utensils will outlast by years the cheaper ones.

He cautioned that fertilizer should not be applied to either lawn or shrubs when they are in a wilted condition. More harm than good will be done if the plants are in need of water.

Put It on Paper

Mr. May also urged garden planners to put down on paper the plan of their estates and first to think of types of shrubs which are rugged, such as many types of junipers. Low junipers can cover the cement foundations if they protrude above the ground.

Never put tall shrubs on the inside of curbs or near the gate, he cautioned.

There is no need to plant a double row of hedge, he warned, urging that care be taken to prune hedges in a conical shape to prevent all the growth spreading to the top and allowing the bottom to die away.

Inside the hedge plant the perennial border, which is really the backbone of the garden. He has a love for the old types of roses which may not have such well formed blooms but have more perfume and stamina than most of the newer varieties.

He urged those planning to plant annuals to join the horticultural society and obtain valuable information on the types to plant.

In a short question period, Mr. May was asked about lawns which have been tunneled by mice. "They will probably grow back

John MacRae Gets Boost to Ontario

John MacRae, superintendent of the Bank of Montreal in B.C., and a man who has visited this district on several occasions, has been appointed assistant general manager of the B of M's Ontario division.

He will move shortly to make his new headquarters at Toronto. His successor is W. H. Raikes, again," was his quick reply, indicating that he refuses to be panicked by the inroads of the rodent family.

Iris and peonies are better planted in the fall and not too deep, he cautioned, while he also said it is feasible to transplant evergreens especially in early spring before growth starts again.

Okanagan Growers Thanked for Gift

Britain's food minister, Maurice Webb, told the British House of Commons last week that the Commonwealth Gift Centre would distribute as many of the Okanagan's million gift boxes of apples as it could safely handle.

Mr. Webb thanked the Okanagan growers for their gift of apples and was quoted by Reuters News Agency as stating: "We have incurred heavy freight charges from Vancouver and the remainder of the apples will be sold at current prices. The donors have agreed."

who was manager of the Trall branch from 1939 to 1943 and since then has held important posts in B of M service in Regina, New York and Montreal.

TALK ON DAHLIA INTERESTING TO HORTICULTURISTS

Garden enthusiasts were out in force for the horticultural society's March meeting on Friday evening, March 10 in the parish hall. Two films were shown, one of life in the Arctic and the other on birds.

Mr. J. S. Mott gave an interesting and informative talk on the history, varieties, culture and winter storage of dahlias.

The dahlia, Mr. Mott thought, is essentially a man's flower. It grew originally in Mexico and was named after a famous Swedish botanist, Dr. Andrew Dahl.

By the use of an epidioscope the speaker illustrated the many and varied forms which today make the dahlia one of the most interesting flowers to grow.

Mr. Mott was sure that growers would derive a great deal of satisfaction and pleasure by the introduction of new varieties into their gardens and the exchange of ideas on dahlia culture.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. C. McKenzie.

Jaycees Wield Paint Brushes

The diet kitchen at the Summerland General hospital is shiny and bright this week, due mostly to the efforts of six energetic Jaycees who turned themselves into volunteer painters for the purpose.

On two evenings, Tuesday and Thursday, last week, these six Jaycees, headed by Director John Bennet, applied paint diligently to the diet kitchen. The two coats took 1½ gallons and about two hours were spent each evening.

Besides Mr. Bennet, Jaycees on the job were John St. Denis, Tony Fetterer, Ron Ackles, Bob Bruce and Gerry Hallquist.

High school basketball came to an end last week when Summerland senior boys definitely established themselves in second place in the South Okanagan league standing with a decisive 42-30 victory over Kelowna's best.

Wally Day was the big noise on Summerland's offensive as the lanky local star swished the netting for 17 markers, Jomori had a big evening, as well, with an even dozen, while Cristante's four field baskets didn't hurt at all.

Summerland went through the season with only three defeats, two by Penticton, Okanagan champions and one by Keremeos, which was a bit of a surprise as the local lads were off color that evening.

May Go to Trail
Penticton is representing the Okanagan at the invitational high school basketball tournament which will decide the provincial school champs at New Westminster.

Summerland is expected to travel to the Kootenays at Easter to represent the Okanagan in an invitational school tournament at Trail.

It was close for the first half last week against Kelowna with half-time score reading 16-14 for the locals. But a big third quarter when they trounced the invaders 14-4 spelled the difference.

Summerland senior school girls dropped a close one to Kelowna 14-13 but the local junior girls walloped Kelowna 17-9. Fourth game saw Kelowna junior boys defeat Summerland 14-11 in another low-scoring effort.

So, on the evening, the two towns divided honors with a brace of wins each, but it was the senior boys' victory that the locals wanted most of all.

Summerland Junior Boys: K. Brawner 3, Thompson 3, Smith 2, Maier 1, Gordon Youngusband, Glen Youngusband 2, Raham, Arndt—11.

Golfers Choose Howard Pruden As President

Plans for an early start, a bigger membership, and an improved course were laid by a small but enthusiastic annual meeting of the Summerland Golf club last week.

Howard Pruden is the new president of the golfers, with Marjorie Fenwick as vice-president and Mrs. Bert Berry as secretary-treasurer. An executive of T. Fisher, Bert Berry, Sandy Fenwick, J. A. Read and F. W. Schumann was also appointed.

Work parties will commence work soon on the course, in order to get it in good shape for the season's play. New sandboxes and benches will grace every tee, it was planned, and a general clean-up of the course is anticipated.

Fred Schumann has agreed to head a membership drive which has 85 names on the list for a starter.

President Pruden expressed the hope that more regular competitions would be possible this year in order to increase interest among the members.

Playing both at Oliver and here, Summerland badminton players were defeated by the southern club in a recent series of matches.

Rev. F. W. Haskins Returns to View Baptist Hall

As a special mark of the importance of opening the new wing to the Baptist church a congregational supper was held on Monday evening, March 20. About 150 were served a delicious hot turkey supper. Children were seated in the parlor and adults in the main hall.

Rev. F. W. Haskins, former minister of the church, now of Edmonton and in charge of Christian education in the Baptist churches of the four western provinces was present for the occasion. Mr. Haskins is assisted in his work by Miss Mary Block.

He has originated a workshop through which instruction and demonstration of methods of teaching various age groups in a church are given.

Included in teaching material are films, model meetings and literature for all ages, including family magazines. A great many stimulating ideas are given.

Part of the workshop program was carried on Monday afternoon, with the mission band, and was continued on Tuesday with other departments of the church.

Following supper Dr. McLarty thanked the ladies who had prepared the fine repast, Mr. W. C. Wilkin expressed gratitude to the building committee, and those who had made the building possible, and the Summerland trio sang.

After this Mr. Haskins and Miss Block spoke briefly and films were shown. An interesting picture was that taken of the Summerland Jack and Jill kindergarten showing the teachers and children at work. Mr. Haskins uses this film

Two Hostesses Plan Kitchen Shower for Easter Week Bride

First to fete Miss Marian Nickols prior to her marriage to Mr. Alec Kean which takes place Easter week in Chilliwack were Mrs. Fred Downes and Mrs. W. W. Borton who entertained in her honor at the home of the latter on Wednesday evening, March 15.

Throughout the rooms pretty St. Patrick's Day decorations added a bright touch, and unlike the usual routine of opening her teacher's desk, when Miss Nickols looked into the one which had been prepared for her she found it full of miscellaneous kitchen gifts.

Mrs. B. Bergstrom dressed as a little girl had a big red simulated "apple for the teacher", too.

Mrs. B. Hankins and Mrs. D. Kean were winners of prizes for contests.

Guests included Mrs. J. Kean, Mrs. D. Kean, Mrs. W. Milne, Mrs. D. L. Cruickshank, Mrs. W. T. Boothe, Mrs. D. Wilson, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. W. Baldwin, Mrs. W. Sherwood, Mrs. B. Bergstrom, Mrs. T. McDonald, Mrs. Ross Grant, Mrs. V. Polesello, Mrs. H. B. Mair, Mrs. B. Mayne, Mrs. D. Chapman, Mrs. B. Hankins, Mrs. T. Fisher, Miss Macil White, Miss Christie Mair and Miss Audrey Grant. Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. R. Tingley, Mrs. J. McKenzie, Mrs. W. H. B. Munn, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh and Miss Elizabeth Theed.

As part of his workshop equipment. On Wednesday Mr. Haskins and Miss Block and friends from Summerland went to Peachland to present aspects of the work of Christian education to the Peachland Baptist church.

Mr. Haskins is a guest at the home of Rev. D. O. Knipfel and Miss Block has been entertained by Mrs. H. R. McLarty.

Another important subject, which is said to be going through the legislature, provides for the control of aircraft used for sport fishing and hunting and will insist that operators of such aircraft report their exact destinations at all times.

Among the speakers who added greatly to the interest of the convention and provided many of the answers to knotty problems were: Dr. Peter Larkin, fisheries biologist; Dr. James Hatter, provincial game biologist; Mr. Muir, predatory control; James G. Cunningham, game commissioner; Harold Denton, editor of Northwest Sportsman and secretary of the B.C. Fish and Game Council; G. L. Pop, B.C. sportsman.

It was reported that the B.C. Conservation Fund is only $2,500 short of its $10,000 objective and that if another $1,500 is raised a wealthy California sportsman has offered to provide the final $1000.

Penticton was given first prize, a valuable platinum mink coat, for its efforts in raising money for the conservation fund. Kelowna took second prize.

ST. PATRICK'S CARD PARTY BY CWL IS HUGE SUCCESS

A record for attendance and overall success at CWL socials was the St. Patrick's Day affair held last Friday evening. About 150 joined in the fun of the event and a canvass of the hall disclosed that about ten percent of those present were Irish. Irish decorations were everywhere in evidence.

Alphonse Menu was in his usual good voice as master of ceremonies and calling the numbers for Bingo.

A program followed the Bingo with little Linda Betuzzi, John and Charlie Betuzzi, Lionel Guidi, Jack Dunham and T. Moore taking part in the musical section, and Shirley Burnell, Yvonne Polesello, and W. J. Schwab putting on an entertaining gymnastic display.

One of the highlights of the evening came when Mrs. L. Wurst was asked to come to the stage. As she complied the band struck up Happy Birthday To You, and everyone joined in wishing many more happy returns to Mrs. Wurst. Marcel Bonthoux' band, McNamara's Band for the evening, played for dancing interspersing Irish songs which were taken up and sung by the crowd.

Mr. Menu collected fines from those who did not join in the singing.

A cake decorated with shamrocks by Mrs. Wurst was raffled and won by the good Irishman, Mr. W. C. W. Fosbery.

Delicious refreshments were served by the CWL, with double servings if desired. Father Meulenbergh, Ted Logie, Mrs. L. Wurst, W. J. Schwab and Jim Schaeffer gave valuable help.

A party for children was held in the afternoon, when they played games and were given hot chocolate and cookies.

Parathion is Topic at Meet

The 49th annual meeting of the B.C. Entomological Society was held at the Incola hotel at Penticton last Saturday, March 18.

This was the first time in its long and important history that the society has held a meeting in the southern Okanagan, and the members who came from various points throughout B.C. expressed themselves as delighted with the country and pleased with the Hope-Princeton highway with its easy access to the interior.

Present at the meeting was Dr. James Marshall, Summerland, in charge of the Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Trout Creek.

Two members of the laboratory staff, C. V. G. Morgan and R. S. Downing presented a joint paper on "The Use of Parathion in B.C." which was heard with a great deal of interest by the assembled group.

HARRY BRADDICK LOCKER DIRECTOR

Harry Braddick re-elected a director of the B.C. Frozen Food Locker Assn. at the annual convention held in Hotel Vancouver last week, which attracted operators from all parts of the province.

Annual banquet speaker was Hon. Harry Bowman, minister of agriculture, who told the convention that the provincial government intends to tighten up regulations governing the construction and operation of locker plants.

Delegates learned that about $3 million is now invested in the 75 locker plants in B.C.

Penticton Firm Lowest Bidder on New School; May Start This Week

C. J. Bleasdale, school board chairman, telephoned Victoria this morning and received tentative approval for Kenyon and Co. to proceed with the new school construction. Mr. Kenyon told Mr. Bleasdale he would probably start work before the end of this week.

Tender of Kenyon & Company Ltd., Penticton contracting firm, for $330,040, was the lowest of four bids for the Summerland junior-senior high school which is to be erected on Granville street this year.

This tender will most likely be accepted by School District No. 77 (Summerland) and the department of education although official confirmation has not been received yet from Victoria.

School trustees have expressed extreme gratification over the result of the tenders as the lowest was $10,000 below the estimate of the board and its architect, William K. Noppe, of Penticton and Vancouver.

Band Uniform Fund Boosted By Concert

Biggest crowd to be gathered together in one hall for nearly a year attended the special Summerland Band concert in the Youth Centre last Friday evening.

Standing room only was the rule shortly after the program commenced.

As a result of the ticket-selling campaign in connection with the concert, the band uniform fund reached a total of $900, only $300 short of the objective. Band officials have expressed their delight at the success of this drive and hope to raise the balance in time to outfit the band completely by summertime.

Goes to Penticton

The Frigidaire electrical refrigerator, grand prize for the evening was won by Gordon K. Harris, 59 1/2 Haywood street, Penticton, with ticket No. 372. Winning ticket was drawn by little Mary Brlekovich.

George Washington proved an able master of ceremonies for the evening, introducing each number played by the band, which was conducted by Herb Pohlmann.

At two intermissions, Councillor F. E. Atkinson, chairman of the Youth Centre Assn. and Reeve C. E. Bentley spoke shortly to the large gathering.

Baton twirlers or drum major-ettes, trained by W. J. Schwab, added to the enjoyment of march numbers played by the band.

Growers Get Payment for '49 Pear Crop

In the mail today are cheques totalling $41,628.73, being the final payment for the 1949 pear crop. Miss Bertha Bristow, secretary-treasurer of the Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn. announced this morning.

Other packinghouses have either made a similar payment or will mail cheques to their growers this week, it is stated.

By April 1, the Summerland co-op also makes its annual interest payments to grower-members. This year the amount will be $5,522.78. On the same day, local certificates to the amount of $7,530 will be redeemed.

All told, between the pear payments and these extra payments, growers in the Summerland district will have received about $75,000 by the first of the month, it is estimated.

SETTLE DAMAGE CLAIM

Reeve C. E. Bentley reported to the council on Tuesday that James Kean had settled for $10 the claim for damages to his apple tree

Council Provides $1,500 for Kitchen Remodelling at Summerland Hospital

Without waiting for more accurate figuring, the Summerland municipal council on Tuesday decided that it would include $1,500 in its 1950 estimates to provide a remodelled kitchen at the Summerland General Hospital.

Summerland Hospital Society recently requested council assistance to provide two-thirds of the cost of remodeling the hospital kitchen to provide a larger sink, a new electric kitchen range, hot water heater, suction fan and improved cupboard facilities.

Cost of this proposed renovation and alteration program was estimated at $5,000.

The provincial government is believed agreeable to paying one-third of the cost of this capital outlay.

Councillor Francis Stewart, who represents the council on the hospital board, reported on Tuesday that the hospital directors would appreciate an answer soon to their request for municipal assistance in this matter.

When the hospital delegation of President S. A. MacDonald and J. Multhead had approached the Only four tenders were received by the school board when the trustees gathered in the municipal hall last Thursday evening. Besides the Kenyon tender all other bids were from Vancouver firms.

First was from Marwell Construction Co. Ltd., $342,838; next was from Baynes, Manning Ltd., $336,260 and the third from Bennett & White Construction Co. Ltd., $332,680.

The Bennett & White firm was employed to reconstruct and add to the elementary school here.

Before the contract can be signed between the school board and the successful tenderer, copies of all tenders must be submitted to the department at Victoria. As only one copy of each tender was available for last week's meeting some delay resulted in submitting copies to Victoria.

It is the policy of the department to accept the lowest tender and as soon as Kenyon & Co. obtain proper signatures on a bond it is likely the contract will proceed.

Board Recommendation

The local school board is recommending that the Penticton firm be awarded the contract.

"It is very gratifying to us that the tenders are within our estimates," remarked C. J. Bleasdale, board chairman. "It is also commendable that the architect's estimate is so close to the actual tender. In the past there has been some wide discrepancy, but certainly not in this case."

Architect Noppe, who was present for the meeting, and who had read over the tenders also expressed his thanks to the contractors for their co-operation. They are all reliable firms and provided keen competition, he remarked.

Mr. Noppe has sold his Vancouver home and is moving to Penticton where he has already established an Okanagan office. For the summer he will reside at Nar-amata.

It is understood that no local firm has received a subcontract from the Kenyon company.

Penticton firms are said to have tendered lower figures on plumbing, heating and painting. The electric sub contract is still in doubt, it is said.

School Board Chairman Bleasdale quoted Mr. Kenyon on the subject of general employment, however, that Summerland men will get the preference for ordinary labor.

Look for Employment

Mr. Kenyon expects to open an office in Summerland within the next few days and will receive applications for employment on the new school then.

There will probably be plenty of applications for employment on the school building as Water Foreman E. Kercher has received approximately one hundred applications for work on municipal projects this spring.

It is hoped that the added employment offered through this new school project will offset the drop in employment in the fruit industry caused by the effect of winter on soft fruit buds.

caused when the municipal maintainer hit it while negotiating a corner.

council previously the reply had been that the request would be considered in estimates and an answer given by the end of March.

Fear Loss of Staff

Mr. Stewart pointed out that the month was nearly over and the hospital directors would appreciate an answer, especially as two sub-staff members had walked off the premises recently and it was feared that more personnel would not be willing to carry on during the heat of summer months unless kitchen facilities are improved.

Reeve C. E. Bentley expressed his sympathy with the hospital position and asked the council for its guidance in dealing with the request.

Councillor F. E. Atkinson declared that there would not be any portion of the estimated municipal expenditure more deserving of assistance than this hospital request and made the motion that $1,500 be set aside this year for hospital kitchen expenditure.

Councillor Norman Holmes was quick to second the motion and discussion ended.

Motorcycle Rider Dies After Spill

The Review was informed at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon that Norman Holmes, Jr., had died in hospital.

Norman (Pete) Holmes, 18, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Holmes of the Nu-Way Cafe and Hotel, is fighting for his life in Summerland General hospital this morning as the result of a serious head injury suffered in a motorcycle accident on Giant's Head road last night shortly after 10 o'clock.

Holmes' motorbike hit a hole in the hard surface which threw the bike out of control. Bike and rider went about sixty feet along the highway before coming to a stop, it is reported.

Bill Vanderberg, assistant to Reid Johnston at the CPR West Summerland station was following Holmes on another motorcycle and saw the accident, which occurred opposite the Bob Scriver home on Giant's Head.

Holmes was rushed to the Summerland hospital but up to press-time he had not regained consciousness.

The accident victim is a popular member of the Teen Town set and of the Summerland high school. He has been prominent in athletics as a basketball and hockey player, having earned a berth on the local senior puck squad.

SEEK TITLE TO SCHOOL PROPERTY

Permission has been granted by the municipal council to School District No. 77 (Summerland) to proceed to apply for title to the property containing the two school buildings. Since the establishment of the school district here the school property held by the municipality has never been transferred. The school district board already has title to the Keesee property where the new junior-senior high school will be erected.

Long Delayed Domestic Water Extension Bylaw to Go Before Voters on Saturday April 22

After three years' delay mainly because of lack of pipe the long-anticipated bylaw to authorize the extension of domestic water service to the north bench and Crescent Beach will be placed before the ratepayers of this community on Saturday, April 22.

Such was the decision of the council Tuesday afternoon when it was reported that the bylaw calling for the issuance of debentures valued at $27,000 had been approved by Victoria.

Voting will take place at the municipal hall, West Summerland and the Lakeshore United church basement, Summerland, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on April 22, with W. C. W. Fosbery as returning officer.

This particular area is one of the last two main sections of the municipality not served by the municipal domestic water system.

It is expected that a great deal of development will be prompted if this system can be extended. A number of prospective new homes has been held back awaiting the outcome of the bylaw.

At the start the new system will not be expected to pay its way but this will still not mean any increase in domestic water rates. At the present time the domestic water system makes sufficient profit to take care of the interest and principal repayment on the debenture issue over 20 years.

Revenue Would Increase

It is estimated the retirement of the debenture issue will run to approximately $1,800 per year. Estimated revenue from the extended system will be $600 to $700 per annum at the start and will increase as more properties tap the service.

Three years ago, property owners signed applications for water service which would return more than $800 per year to the system, at a minimum charge of $21 per service.

Municipal council feels that with the extension of this essential service to this section that it will not be long before the area is nearly paying its way.

Councillors in the past three years have all expressed their hope that this extension could be made and expressed regret that the essential pipe could not be purchased because of demands from other centres.

Pipe shortage is now a thing of the past and a complete survey of the area has been made by R. A. Barton, Penticton civil engineer, who estimated the cost to be around $28,600. With bylaw expenses, the sum required to complete the deal is $27,000.

Dancing Class Brings Cup Here

Summerland entries in the Okanagan Music Festival being held in Vernon this week have scored several outstanding successes, although Kay Hamilton's girls' choir had to be content with second place in the under 19 girls' choir competition.

Mrs. R. M. Johnston's dancing girls brought back to Summerland the Ellen Hardy trophy for English Country dance class for girls under 14 years.

This trophy was last held by Summerland when Mrs. Johnston, then an elementary school staff member, entered a group from her school pupils.

Barbara Fudge and Marilyn McKay were third in the piano duet class for under 10 youngsters but received a certificate for having marks over 80.

Complete results of the festival winners as far as Summerland entries are concerned will be given next week.

RADIO OFFICE NOW IN KELOWNA

Persons who have complaints regarding radio interference should write to the new office now established in Kelowna, the Municipal council was informed by an official of the department of transport in a recent communication. Council members suggested that the more letters going in to the Kelowna office the better chance there would be of obtaining assistance here in combating radio interference. Radio reception has been hampered considerably here in the past month or two by interference, council members suggested.

Late Judge W. C. Kelley who died at Summerland General hospital on March 18. He was 76 and had lived here for forty years.

Revise Property Holdings at Crescent

A new deal for Crescent Beach property owners has been evolved which will give them extra depth to their lots, taken from the property in the centre of Crescent Beach oval owned by a syndicate of which Noel Higgin is a trustee.

At a recent council meeting Mr. Higgin, accompanied by J. W. Mitchell, produced a sketch plan showing the revised road allowance and the extra depth of Crescent Beach lots. This sketch was approved by the council.

It is understood the entire deal will be settled for approximately the cost of the survey, each property owner being assessed about $15. The extra depth amounts to nearly 50 feet on each lot, it is stated.

Apple Subsidy Decision May Come Today as Year Ends Friday at Ottawa

Although it was anticipated that the federal government would hand down a decision on the granting of a subsidy to Okanagan apple growers on their 1949 crop before the end of March no word has emanated from Ottawa, Mr. A. K. Loyd, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., announced late yesterday afternoon.

It has been the hope of some quarters high in the fruit industry that a subsidy of $2 per box might be granted by Ottawa or at least a floor placed under the crop to that extent.

It is usual for the cabinet to meet Thursday afternoons and there is a possibility that Rt. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, might have an announcement on the subject following today's session.

Most persons connected with the requested subsidy to Ottawa have voiced the opinion that Mr. Gardiner is anxious to include the subsidy, provided one is granted, in the 1949-50 government business.

If this is to be done action must be taken by tomorrow night as the fiscal year of the federal government ends, then, March 31.

Main point argued by Okanagan growers in favor of a subsidy being granted is that they were faced with a surplus which was disposed of in gift form to the United Kingdom in order to keep that market favorably inclined towards Okanagan apples.

It is no fault of local growers that their market, built up over the years, has been wiped out due to world economic dollar crisis, they argue.

In the meantime, there are about 600,000 boxes left of the 1949 crop. The sales agency has re-introduced red apples onto the western Canada market with the result that sales have bucked up. Eastern Canada reaction is fair while the United States is gradually firming as off variety stocks are being eliminated.

Approval by the Summerland municipal council has been given to the suggestion that a change in union library procedure, be made so that all centres take care of providing facilities with the exception of the distributing centres.

This proposal arose from the stormy meeting of the Okanagan Union Library board last week when Penticton sought approval of rental agreement for a new library building at $150 per month and Summerland wished to charge $15 rental for the first time.

Summerland's request for rental payment was based on the charge that inequality existed in payment for library facilities throughout the area served. Most delegates to last week's meeting agreed that such inequality existed.

Inequality Charged

It was also pointed out that the inequality came about when Penticton came into the library union and charged $75 per month for its library premises in the municipal building.

Councillor Tait reported on Tuesday to the council regarding last week's meeting and declared that most delegates supported Summerland in its contention that it should charge a rental if Penticton and some other centres insisted on high rental charges.

If Penticton insisted on a library rental charge in a new building of $150 per month it would force all other centres to charge rentals and would force the smaller places right out of the library scheme, it was suggested.

Councillor Tait expressed approval of the plan which would provide headquarters expenses at Kelowna plus provision for part of Penticton's expenses as a sub-distributing centre for the library scheme.

All other centres would provide their own library quarters and facilities for operation.

Council agreed that such a plan would be fair and equitable.

When Reeve Bentley expressed gratification that Mr. Tait had proved such an able representative of the community on the library board, the latter stated that Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, for the school board, had played an equally prominent role in putting Summerland's position before the board.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Baker have returned from an extended visit to California.

Uses Sheets For Rope to Escape Smoke

Awakened between midnight and one o'clock Tuesday morning by smoke emanating from his kitchen, C. E. Gidlow found the fumes so dense that he could not get down his stairs. He was forced to make a rope of bedsheets and thus reached the ground.

When he opened a downstairs door the draft cleared the smoke sufficiently to allow his family to descend the stairs to safety.

However, the smoke in the kitchen, where the fire had started in a woodbox, was still so dense he could not see to dial 2000, the fire hall. He dialed the operator, however, and the alarm was sounded.

Fire was confined to the woodbox near the stove and a portion of the floor under the box. Main damage was caused by smoke to the freshly-decorated kitchen.

Members of the fire brigade responded promptly to the alarm and extinguished the fire quickly.

New Power Line Causes Delay in Important Granville Street Sale

W. A. (Bud) Stewart, owner of the Stewart orchard opposite the site of the new junior-senior high school, informed municipal council Tuesday afternoon that he has an opportunity to sell a large block of this land at the corner of Granville and Rosedale streets.

Mr. Stewart would not inform council the person or firm intending to make the purchase or what type of building would be erected there.

However, he did state that the block desired by the prospective purchaser would be about 160 feet wide on Granville with a depth of about 230 feet.

The building would be one-story height and would be set back from both roads a considerable piece. From his gestures, Mr. Stewart intimated the building would occupy the central portion of the block of land.

However, there is a "nigger" in the woodpile in connection with this sale. And that "nigger" involves the new high-tension power line recently installed across Mr. Stewart's property.

Pole Line Across Lot

This series of poles takes both municipal power and Okanagan Telephone Co. lines and follows a right-of-way which Mr. Stewart approved in a letter to the council.

The entire Stewart orchard was planned into a big sub-division last year but the sketch plan was never approved finally by Mr. Stewart, "because the auditor found a legal technicality which held it up."

The plan called for business lots with 100 foot depth along Granville road and the pole line running along the north side of the lane to the rear of these lots. The pole line has followed that sketch plan. But if the northeast corner is to be cut off into one block, then the existing pole line would pass right over the intended building, it was pointed out.

Such a plan would never meet with approval, declared Building Inspector R. F. Angus.

Therefore, if the council is to approve the subdivision, at least a portion of the new electrical line will have to be moved. Rough estimates of such a cost on Tuesday were given as $1,000.

Either the pole line would have to be moved farther south and two changes in direction made or wires would go underground in one cable. Councillor Atkinson was asked to obtain estimates of the cost; and also confer with the Okanagan Telephone Co.

Until the council decides who will pay for such pole moving and obtains a definite estimate, no action can be taken on the sale of the property.

Council adjourned on Tuesday afternoon until Friday when this subject may be discussed further.

Good News Mr. Ratepayer!

There are two implications which can be derived from the opening of the tenders last week for the new Summerland junior-senior high school.

All four tenders were quite close, only about $12,000 separating the highest and the lowest bid. This indicated that competition is becoming quite keen in the building trade. But what was more significant was that the lowest tender showed a figure about $10,000 below the architect's estimate of the building.

Since the war years, with an inflationary economy and wages and materials skyrocketing, it has been difficult to estimate the probable cost of materials and labor in the months ahead. Most times, estimates were found to be too meagre by the time tenders could be called.

It would appear, therefore, that the building trade does not anticipate any serious increase in costs within the next year. It would also indicate that the school board and the architect planned carefully and well to produce plans and specifications well within the original estimated cost.

To the taxpayer, faced with a rising cost of living in so many quarters, it is good news when a public body can show a probable saving of about $10,000 even on such a large amount as $340,000.

Do You Understand Advertising?

There have been rumors circulating in some quarters lately concerning advertising, rumors which are baseless and which should be quashed, quickly before they give the man on the street a false impression.

It may be interesting to you to know that the first advertising of which we have record was about 400 B.C. when the Babylonians had barkers advertising wares on the street.

On the ruins of Pompeii can still be seen this inscription: "Traveller, are you going from here to the 12th tower? There, Sarinus keeps a tavern. This is a request for you to enter."

That was the start of advertising and today we have many actual proofs of the value of advertising. You would naturally be interested in spending 45 cents to save $15. There is a certain make of camera on the market today which sold ten years ago for $30. Due to increased sales through advertising providing larger production that camera is now selling for $15. The advertising cost in each camera is 45 cents. The saving to each customer is $15.

Everybody should know that advertising costs money and that it is used to help sell goods. Less known is the fact that good advertising sells goods so well that it is the cheapest way of selling them.

This is one of the reasons that it is possible to sell well-advertised goods at a lower price than if they were not advertised.

As advertising builds the sales volume of a company faster and greater than any other method it makes large-scale manufacturing possible and that reduces the cost of making each article.

When you see thousands of dollars spent for large newspaper advertisements, it is only natural to assume that you have to pay for it when you buy the advertised article. But few people realize how little this cost really is spread over the large number of units sold through the advertisement and how large a saving this makes in the total cost.

On one of the most widely advertised soft drinks the advertising cost is less than one-fiftieth of a cent per glass.

Lumping together all the advertising in the country the total expenditures amount to less than two percent of the value of all goods sold.

If no money was spent for advertising, the cost of selling and distributing would be far higher than it is now and prices would have to be higher. More important still, a smaller volume of goods would be sold and produced, and there would be less employment, and a smaller share of the world's goods for each of us.

The Giant of Giant's Head

By E. A. T. THE GREAT FAMINE.

A famine came to Giantland
When Sol was shut from view;
It took a charge of TNT
To make it shine anew.

The histories of the nations of ancient times usually record a famine and the story of the giants is no exception.

The famine in the land of the Giant of Giant's Head was a time of want and suffering but it was unique in its cause. Most famines are caused by flood, drought or insect pests but the one about to be related was due to none of the usual reasons.

In the years of abundant harvests the magician had warned the Giant of the bitter days to come in these words:

"A year of famine, grim and bleak;
Be warned! I know whereof I speak."

The Giant had heeded the warning. He had stored vast quantities of oats and smoked meat in preparation for the time of trial. But he had expected at the worst a light crop whereas the crisis his nation had to face was unprecedented back to the time when Adam had eaten the McIntosh Red. And it should be remembered that though lack of food is bad for humans, it is worse for giants for their appetites are in keeping with their stature.

One spring, just as seeding was completed, a strange planet was seen in the heavens. Soon it drifted across the face of the sun, and remained there. At first the earth was only partly darkened but as day followed day it became so bad that a pale twilight at midday was the brightest part of the day.

The oats came up but the shoots were a sickly yellow and, at the end of a month, they were only an inch high and beginning to wither. All foliage assumed a sallow hue, even that of evergreens.

Biologists tell us that plant life obtains a great part of its nourishment from the sun while we, in our ignorance, often think that only the soil and water are important. The fact that vegetation would not grow without sunlight was so strongly impressed upon the Giant that he considered writing a book on the subject but hunger drove the thought from his mind.

The populace of Giantland had to live almost entirely upon stored food for the fish and game became sickly and uneatable. The country was searched for edible bulbs, roots and bark and it was at this time that cascara was discovered which has proved such a boon to mankind.

By the end of the year the giants were on quarter rations and both they and their food supply were shrinking fast.

The situation was so desperate that the Giant called his magician and said, "You predicted us into this condition, now predict us out of it—and soon. Find some way to remove that barrier between the sun and us."

"I will try to conjure up a vision tonight, sire, but on my present food ration I get nothing but nightmares."

So the magician was given a special dinner and sent to bed early to give him plenty of time for dreaming.

In the morning he had a message for his master. "You must make an explosive mixture to blow a path to the sun. Combine toads, nylon and tires, grind into a powder and pour over it a gallon of Kennedy's Underproof. We will call it TNT for short. When you have amassed a large quantity, place it on a mountain and set fire to it. Soon an explosion will take place and we can only hope."

The Giant was willing to try anything. He and his subjects after months of labor had a vast pile of TNT on the summit of Giant's Head.

Finally all was in readiness. A fire was lighted under the TNT and the giants fled to their caves. Shortly an explosion took place such as can only be likened to Hiroshima ages later.

Great clouds of smoke, cinder and vapour filled the air for days and the world was even darker than before. Had the experiment failed?

On the morning of the fifth day—wonder of wonders! The sun rose with dazzling brilliance and not the least trace of the strange planet was seen in the sky. The giants thought they had never seen the world so beautiful before. They basked in the sunshine all day long and became so full of Vitamin D that the sick became well and the old renewed their youth.

The grass began to grow, the trees burst into leaf and the flowers bloomed again and all was happiness in the realm of the Giant.

In all the succeeding years of giant rule in the Okanagan, the fifth of April was celebrated as Return of the Sun Festival.

Signifying Nothing

By RUSTICUS

"What they oughta do about these juvenile gangs in Vancouver," said the little man fiercely, "is to let the respectable citizens carry guns. Yes, sir, if any man that came along was apt to have a six-shooter, and a few of those zoot-suiters were given some lead-ventilation, why, they'd fade away like snow in a summer sun."

I made agreeable slurping noises—after all, he was paying for the coffee—and he went on still more truculently.

"Like the vigilantes in the old West. When outlaws and desperadoes got too bad, the honest citizens started carrying guns too, and using them—and the lawbreaker came to time in short order. I'd happen in Vancouver, too, believe you me."

I did, at the time. In fact, I walked out with a bow-legged swagger, and the first rustle in the roadside bushes brought my hands sweeping to my hips for the notched ivory handles of a pair of Colt .45s. But they weren't there, and the rustle was only a robin. And the chill March air cooled my thinking, too.

Would arming honest citizens really be an act of wisdom? Or was it just the wishful thinking of one who was, at heart, much like the little boy who loves to point his fingers and stutter, "Brrr-rrrr-rrrr-rrrr—got ya!" to his playmates?

When I asked a local arms expert what would happen if ordinary citizens were encouraged to carry pistols, and if it really worked well in the days of the old West, he grinned.

"Well, I don't see anything wrong with letting reliable people carry pistols," he drawled. "At present the law forbids this entirely, but that's just an easy way to escape judging who is qualified to carry one and who isn't."

"But as to what would happen if ordinary citizens started shooting—well, did you ever try to shoot a pistol? It's so hard to hit anything with one that almost anyone would miss a man across a room, time after time, unless he spends hours and dollars' worth of expensive ammunition in persistent practise."

"Most people wouldn't do that. So just imagine what would happen if ordinary folks started potting at zoot-suiters in the crowded, built-up streets of Vancouver. They'd hit the wrong people, break windows, or damage buildings, a lot more than they'd hit who they aimed at. It might frighten the hoodlums, but it would make life a lot more dangerous for innocent citizens than it is now."

"As for the vigilantes in the days of the old West—your friend has probably been reading too many of those heah Western story books and magazines. . . . Most of those stories are dreamed up by professional writers who never shot a gun or forked a hoase—and they haven't much regard for the truth."

"Pistols were just as hard to shoot in 1880 as they are now; and how many cowboys could afford the hundreds of dollars worth of ammunition, and the hours of steady practice, that make a crack pistol shot? Actually, they carried pistols mainly to finish off a broken-legged hoase or sick steer and they had to put the pistol right up against its head to hit it."

"In real life, most men had to be that close to a man, too, in order to be sure of hitting him, so that men used rifles or shotguns when they seriously set out to exterminate somebody—and it was a lot more common to shoot him in the back, or at least when he was unarmed, than to try any of this fair-draw stuff you read so much about."

"If Vancouverites declared an open season on zoot-suiters, they'd have to hold a pistol within a foot or so of one to bring him to bag. Might as well use a club, at that range—and if the honest citizens took to carrying baseball bats, or lengths of rubber hose, and swinging 'em, they'd probably do more good."

Rubber hose! Baseball bats! Clubbing people sounds so brutal compared to a nice clean bullet wound in the shoulder—which is where they always hit 'em in the stories. With a shudder my bowed legs straightened, my trigger-fingers uncocked, and reluctantly the little man's dream disappeared.

As Hon. J. D. McLean seems to lean to the belief that there is no need for a hospital here, when hospital accommodation can be obtained in other valley centres, a committee of F. A. C. Mr. McLean stated only $35,000 had been appropriated for hospitals throughout the province.

High School COMMENTS

After a great deal of argument and discussion, during a meeting of the sports' teams of the school, the name "Bluebirds" was chosen to be voted on. From henceforth our teams will be known as the Summerland Bluebirds. Up to this time our school teams were known as the Summerland basketball team, the Summerland soccer team, etc., but now we will have a definite name, which will be a great asset to team morale. The name was supported by 90 percent of the voters.

Students are receiving their spring tonics in the form of Easter exams, next week. Results will not be known till after the Easter holidays.

The high school Easter dance was a big success last Saturday night. Leighton Nesitt and David Wright acted as Master of Ceremonies, and a grand job they made of it, too. Doreen Stewart and Fred Kato received a great deal of credit for their fine music selections. The "Ping Pong" tables proved almost as popular as the dance floor. The Easter Eggs collected at the door for admission, were distributed to the students during the evening. Doughnuts and "pop punch" were sold as refreshments. Elsie Hack and Arnold Smith were the winners of the Lemon Dance throw. The prize—one lemon. Betty Green and Graham Munn won the elimination dance. Marguerite Menu and Dale Monro were winners of the spot light dance. Over eighty students were in attendance.

Cherry Black, a grade nine student held a party at her home, for a number of her Trout Creek friends, last Saturday night.

Teen Town

The main topic under discussion is the Club Night, which is to be held at the Youth Centre, Saturday, April 8, at 8:00 p.m. Admission is free. The purpose of this Club Night is to let the rest of the members of Teen Town (including the prospective ones) know just what the council is doing, and to let them express their opinions.

There will be dancing for an hour, followed by a general meeting, which will include reports from the secretary-treasurer and committees, and new business. The evening will be concluded with more dancing and games.

Membership cards have been on sale for over a week now. All those who haven't got theirs yet, please remember that without one your fee to enter any Teen Town event is doubled.

We were all sorry to hear that Jim Birtles has resigned as Chief of Police. Francis Gould has been appointed to take his place, and we are all confident that he will follow in Jim's footsteps.

GUIDE NEWS

The Canary patrol, with Doreen Fleming as patrol leader, proved to be the smartest one during "Inspection" at the opening of last Friday's Guide meeting. Mrs. W. C. Wilkin's talk on "Good Grooming" the previous week evidently bore fruit as nails, especially in the "Canaries", looked very well cared for.

Mrs. R. Fredrickson gave the first lecture on the emergency helpers badge. Two subjects were covered, "Reading and Care of a Clinical Thermometer" and "Making of a hospital bed". Guides are reminded to keep a scribbler for notes on this badge.

The meeting closed at 8:30 to enable the Guides, patrol leaders and senior patrol to attend a brief court of honor.

Ideas for the forthcoming summer camp, are being looked for, so Guides, give any suggestions on a possible camp site, which month would be most suitable and any other "brain-waves" to you patrol leaders, who in turn, will bring them up at the next court of honor.

The local association is going ahead with plans for the Brownie and Guide "Mother and Daughter" banquet to be held on April 21 at the Youth Centre. Where there happens to be more than one Guide in a family, a temporary mother may be invited so that each Guide will be hostess to an adult for the evening. Admission for each mother will be 50c.

It would be appreciated if ex-Guides of our company would return any emblems or colors they may have in their possession, as the company's supply is running very low.

Volleyball Team Invited to Haney

Summerland's boys' volleyball team, playing in Kelowna on Friday evening, March 24, absorbed a two-game trimming from the Orchard City lads in an exhibition series. Kelowna won the two games 15-9, 15-8.

The local volleyballers have been invited to participate in an invitational high school tournament at Haney, B.C., in April.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

The patrol competition ends next week with the awarding of the Sharman cup for two months to the highest scoring patrol. Patrol standing now is Beavers 431, Eagles 370, Buffaloes 359, Hawks 297 and Cougars 260. Patrol boxes are now all completed but the Cougars. How about it, Cougars?

Easter Monday is the date for the District bronze arrowhead course in Penticton. About 14 Summerland boys plan to attend. This is a junior P/L course for PL's, seconds and other boys 14 years and over with 2nd class standing.

The silver arrowhead course will be given in Kelowna in Easter week, April 10 to 15 inclusive, with Scouts from all over the valley. This is the senior P/L course and is open only to those who already have their bronze.

Another silver will be offered this summer for those taking the bronze this spring. Three or four Summerland Scouts are taking the silver course.

At Tuesday's meeting preliminary arrangements were made for a number of concert items. Mr. Schwab of the school staff picked a number of boys for try-outs for our tumbling display. Names were taken also for the play, Don Blacklock is going to do the preliminary work in casting.

Dr. Andrew came to the meeting and examined a number of Scouts on their public health man's badge. Thanks Dr. Andrew. Boys who haven't yet got their pathfinders maps into Mr. Feltham are asked to do so as soon as possible.

Last week Arthur Draper was invested into the troop, and the two most recent awards for best turned out Scouts went to Bill Austin and Bob McDonald.

Notices: Next meeting, Tuesday, April 4. Duty patrol, Eagles.

CGIT NOTES

We played games at the weekly meeting of the Summerland CGIT held on March 22. The meeting was opened with the purpose and was followed by the Worship service. We had the treasurer's report, and discussed old business. In the new business we discussed the Women's Federation meeting, to which five girls will be going on April 20. We worked on some more baskets and closed the meeting with "Taps".

The CGIT conference, which was to be held in Penticton on March 18 and 19, was not held because it was decided that it would be too close to the one in Kelowna in April.

CLEAR REFUSE GROUND

A bulldozer will be hired to clear the refuse grounds and prepare it for the coming season. There is no room for trucks to manoeuvre now. Caretaker John Heichert was quoted at Tuesday's council session.

Protest Space for Buses on Granville

Parking of Greyhound buses on Granville street came before the municipal council again on Tuesday afternoon when a delegation of A. K. Elliott, Mel Cousins and Howard Shannon informed the municipal fathers they wished to protest the cutting off of their premises by bus parallel parking.

Mr. Elliott understood that 75 feet is being set aside for bus parking, which would eliminate space in front of half his store and cut out ordinary parking entirely in front of the DeLuxe Electric and Coucin's paint store.

Inconvenience to the store owners and irritation of customers was charged by the delegation especially in view of the fact that the Greyhound contributes nothing towards municipal taxes.

Reeve C. E. Bentley assured the delegation its views would be considered when the traffic bylaw comes before council for adoption.

Cage Pioneers Nip Seniors in Benefit Game

Pass the liniment and save the wise-cracks.

That was the word last night after a dozen aging and decrepit former basketball "players" struggled home following a tussle with the senior cage crew as a benefit for the Summerland Baseball Club.

With the loan of George Clark from the current senior cagers, the old-timers presented a right sry game and had the young fellers stepping high, wide and handsome.

In fact, the old-timers were given just double the proper score for every basket potted and managed to give the young 'uns a 66-48 trouncing. But they are doubting this morning if it was worth it.

Incidentally the baseball coffers have been enriched by about $70 as a result of this benefit.

Prizes for the biggest paunches went to Hilly Smith and Tim Armstrong, Lacey Fisher and Earle Wilson vied for honors as to longevity, Joe Sheeley won hands down as the maulingest player while Bob Scriver convinced the audience more than ever that he "looks as big as a house".

Doney Wilson cast off the years and pranced about as spry as the young fry, while Don Tait and Norman "Jimmy" Thompson showed flashes of the speed which won them acclaim only a few years back. Wendel Schwab was his usual energetic self.

Everyone claims the most surprised person in the gym last night was Tim Armstrong when he potted a long one for the final score of the night... and incidentally his lone basket.

It might be said that the younger players were hampered more than somewhat by having to laugh so heartily at the clumsy antics of their older brethren. But even the younger players showed effects of the strenuous session and tired towards the end.

George Clark was high man for the night with four field baskets but he missed seven free shots.

Chuck Bleasdale brought his whistle out of mothballs to handle the game, assisted by Don Cristante.

As preliminary features, a number of Wendel Schwab's gymnastic class staged a pleasing display, followed by a volleyball game between two high school teams.

Biggest crowd of the season watched the evening's entertainment.

ELECTRICAL TRUCK TO COST $4,700

An outside figure of $1,500 has been set for construction of the special body to be built for the new electric light department truck. Pentiction Engineering Works has been given the contract for this work with the top amount specified but exact details not finalized.

A winch will cost about another $500, making the entire cost of the new electrical truck and fittings about $4,700.

Tuesday Night Fire Practice Ends in Street Cleaning

Tuesday night was Fire Practice Night for the Summerland volunteer fire brigade but instead of practicing against simulated fires the members were turned into a street-washing brigade.

It had been decided Tuesday afternoon that the best way to remove accumulated sand spread on business streets during slippery weather would be to wash the excess material to the sides, where it could be picked up and carted away.

That evening, hoses played on Granville and Hastings streets and the refuse is to be swept into piles and carted away. It is hoped this action will eliminate a lot of the dust nuisance.

Easter Seal Campaign to Raise $100,000

Every B.C. householder is being invited to contribute to the Lions' annual Easter Seal campaign to raise funds to assist physically handicapped children in the province.

Provincial objective is $100,000. Al Neuert is the provincial chairman and Lions clubs throughout B.C. are sponsoring the campaign.

In the past 12 months the funds raised from the 1949 campaign have been used for maintenance and building needs of the five organizations in which the Lions are interested and to assist directly various children requiring treatment or other aid.

Organizations assisted were Children's hospital $15,000; Queen Alexander Solarium $4,000; St. Christopher's School $3,000; Vancouver Preventorium $2,000 and Spastic Society $300. Miscellaneous expenditures direct to patients brought the total spent to over $32,000.

Lion's clubs at points outside Vancouver, assist with transportation of local cases of handicapped children so they may reach treatment centres.

In asking for $100,000 Provincial Chairman Al Neuert states that the Easter Seal Fund officials are definitely committed to sponsor the Children's Hospital travelling clinic this year.

Part proceeds from previous campaigns bought and equipped the car which goes to the Fraser Valley, Okanagan and other interior points.

"We are endeavoring each year to extend this travelling clinic service," said Mr. Neuert. "The clinic not only diagnoses new cases, but follows up with post-hospital treatments. In many cases the expense of bringing a handicapped child to medical centres is eliminated by the travelling clinic service."

BUY FORGE AND ANVIL

Municipal council has approved the purchase of a second hand forge and anvil for the municipal works shed at a cost of between $40 and $50.

Bright Colors For Spring

Never was there such an Easter for color, and seldom has it been so welcome here as now, at the end of a winter that made history for length and dullness and the Okanagan sun keeping itself hidden behind the wintry snow clouds.

All along the main streets at West Summerland the shops are lavishly bursting out in colorful things. Bolt of bright, crisp materials are here to invite spring sewing with the promise of warmer days ahead as an added incentive.

The prints look like gardens sprinkled with flowers. In one window a bare branch sprouts blossoms "as never was" in every imaginable hue, while perky tulips in a variegated row are in another.

And the Easter hats are full of flowers; different shades of veiling are available to brighten up last year's Easter bonnet, too. There are ribbons in plaids and stripes; gloves, bags, and shoes in all sorts of odd and unusual colors, so that the Easter parade promises to be like a technicolor display.

Of course it is in the hardware and paint shops that one's imagination may go rioting. Rainbows are for the asking in every paint bulletin, and one may change a room so completely with glowing kalsomine or its equivalent that cold and dullness is forgotten.

There are so many different ways of decorating! Originality is in favor and there are no set rules for interior painting now. Several people have papered one wall of a room, perhaps with a bold figured pattern, or maybe paper with large splashes of exotic flowers, and then had the other three walls colored in a harmonizing shade according to the painters, and they claim that the effect is stimulating and pretty.

Others have concentrated color accent in the ceiling with the walls in paler tints.

Stimulate Reading In Grade 5 Club

For the second year pupils of Grade 5 have a reading club which is called The Rosy Rangers' Reading Club. Next week prizes will be given out to the students who have read the most books during the period from January until Easter holidays. First prize is $3 to the one with the greatest number of books on his or her library card, with $2 and $1 given to the next two on the list respectively. To qualify books read must be from the library in Grade 5 or from Okanagan Union Library, and each book read must be certified by a parent of the child. Comment on books read is written by the children on the library cards which are made in their room as an art project for this purpose. This club is organized each year to stimulate interest in good reading.

The supper table was beautifully appointed with daffodils on a lace cloth and white candles in sparkling crystal candelabra. Invited guests included Mrs. Nickols, Haney, B.C., mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Dennis Kean, Miss Helen Kean, Mrs. D. B. Clark, Mrs. Ewing, Mrs. Bob Ramsay, Mrs. M. Kersey Mrs. W. J. ### WIDE RANGE OF ACTIVITIES SHOWN BY SERVICE CLUB

Helping to hold the church family together in its spiritual and secular activities, St. Andrew's Service Club is busy with many and far-reaching activities as shown in the March report of the society. Housekeeping of the church was given thought, too, in the seasonal arrangements made to have a pre-Easter window cleaning bee at the hall on Tuesday, March 28. With fifty-two members and nearly a dozen visitors present, the meeting was a spirited one on Monday, March 20 in the church hall. In welcoming the guests Mrs. A. J. McKenzie expressed the pleasure of the club in seeing several Federation members present. The latter included Mrs. T. W. Boothe, Mrs. T. A. Walden, Mrs. E. McClements and Mrs. B. Mowatt. The hymn "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" was chosen by Mrs. David Munn for the gathering to sing as an introduction to her meditation on Faith. She concluded the devotional period by reading Angela Morgan's lovely poem, "The Dwelling-place". Following reading of the minutes, treasurer's report, and correspondence, there was discussion of the shower gift to be sent to Union College in Vancouver. It was decided to ask the AOTS for permission to sell candy at their request concert in April, and use the proceeds to purchase pillow cases and towels for the college. A donation of money for the Red Cross was authorized. Mrs. Walter Powell reported on plans for the proposed spring entertainment. The date was set for March 30, the congregation to be invited as well as Service Club members and their friends. Mrs. A. Scott stated the activities of the committee investigating suitable stoves and plumbing for the hall. Acting upon the committee's recommendation the meeting authorized the purchase and installation of these furnishings. It was thought that the present stove might be useful and welcome at Camp Sorec. Mrs. T. A. Walden, speaking for the Women's Federation, cordially invited all Service Club members to attend their thank-offering meeting on April 20. In a letter from Miss M. Cartwright the members were told of the amount yet to be subscribed for this year's upkeep of the zenana mission bed, and the share apportioned to the club, which was authorized paid. Convenors of the committees for the bazaar on November 18 were named, each member volunteering to work on the committee she preferred. Following the Mizpah benediction refreshments were served by Mrs. S. R. Canning, Mrs. C. Campbell, Mrs. M. Cousins, Mrs. A. J. Berry, Mrs. H. Allison, Mrs. Armour and Miss Joan Appleton.

VISITING ABROAD

Mr. John McNutt went out to Vancouver last Friday where he will visit his parents, Dr. and Mrs. McNutt, and other friends. * * * Mrs. Jack Smith returned last Friday from Vancouver where she visited for ten days. Mr. Smith, who has been a patient in St. Paul's hospital is now well enough to leave that institution. * * * Planning to attend the marriage of their son Mr. Alex Kean to Miss Marian Nickols, which takes place in Chilliwack during Easter week are Mr. and Mrs. James Kean. Mr. David Kean who is in the RCAF stationed at Centralia arrives this weekend and will accompany his parents to attend the marriage. Miss Helen Kean will go also as bridesmaid.

Evening Circle Hears Of Mission Work

It was at the home of Miss Muriel and Miss Violet Banks that the Evening Circle of the Baptist church met on Monday evening, March 27. There was a large attendance, and speaker for the evening was Miss Ruth Dale who told of Baptist mission work in Bolivia. She specially mentioned Rev. and Mrs. Dave Phillips who left Vancouver a week ago to go to the Bolivian field where Mr. Phillips is to fill the vacancy caused by the sad death of Rev. Norman Dabbs, killed during a native insurrection. His widow, Mrs. Dabbs and her three children are living in Toronto and she taught Mr. Phillips Spanish in preparation for his life in South America. Mrs. N. Buddingh was responsible for the devotional period while refreshments were served by the hostesses. TWENTY-QUESTION QUIZ AT SUNDAY EVENING CLUB. Mr. Ted Weeks was in charge of the Sunday Evening Club when it met on March 19 at the nurses' residence. He conducted a twenty-question quiz which everyone enjoyed and Mr. Alex Kean was responsible for the devotional period. Refreshments were served by Miss Jean Wright and Dr. M. F. Welsh.

Mrs. D. L. Sanborn New President of Guide Association

Mrs. Dewey Sanborn was elected president of the local association to the Girl Guides at the annual meeting held on Thursday afternoon, March 23 in the parish hall. Mrs. Clarence Adams is vice-president; Mrs. James Marshall was re-elected secretary; and Mrs. E. Hack was chosen treasurer. A special events' committee which will look after arrangements for the various activities which make up the association's year consists of Mrs. A. R. Gibbard, Mrs. Fred Schumann, Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Mrs. Reinertson, Mrs. Leslie Rumball, Mrs. T. Washington and Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon. Mrs. Earle Wilson will act as badge secretary this year. This office entails finding suitable testers for the various badges which are won by Guides. It was decided to hold a mother and daughter banquet on April 21 in the Youth Centre. It was announced that the south Okanagan divisional meeting will be held at West Summerland on Saturday, May 13, when it is expected delegates from all southern Okanagan points will attend, as well as division commissioner, Mrs. E. A. Titchmarsh-Penticton, who replaced Mrs. F. V. Harrison, after she was forced to resign for health reasons. It was noted that a number of new faces were seen, and welcomed as new members.

New Vegetables Adaptable for Dry Belt Are Named by Dr. C. A. Hornby

(Experimental Farm News)

Plant breeding is developing many new vegetable varieties each year, but a very limited number of these are adapted to the B.C. dry belt requirements. The annual trials at the Dominion Experimental Station at Summerland, says C. A. Hornby, evaluate these newer introductions to ascertain whether any are suitable for this region.

If a variety is superior to those commonly grown, then such a variety may replace older ones; or if a variety has some attractive qualities, then that variety may be used to increase the range of desirable vegetables grown in this area.

Recommendations for commercial planting are not made on the basis of a one-season trial, but promising varieties are noted for further observation. Such varieties are worthy of trial on a small scale by commercial truck crop growers and home gardeners.

Special Attention. In 1949 the following varieties merited special attention. The Puregold wax bean produced a very heavy yield. The long, round pods were stringless, brittle and tender, but a little later maturing than Round Pod Kidney Wax. In the green beans, Rival continued to be outstanding for general quality.

The Nancy carrot attracted attention for excellence of quality. At the bunching and mature root stages, the flesh was deep, reddish-orange with a small core of the same color. Being intermediate between Nantes and Chantenay, the variety holds promise for commercial production in this re-

Among the many sweet corn varieties tested, some hybrids were very fine. Early Hybrid M13 was fairly early and produced slender ears of very sweet corn. Wisconsin Golden 800 was a little later than the Early Hybrid, and Flagship was a late season crop, but both produced excellent quality ears, and Flagship gave a very heavy yield. An unnamed Ottawa hybrid, identified as CH-1, looks like a promising high quality early corn, suitable for fresh or frozen use.

In the cucumber trials, none of the newer introductions showed up as well as Marketer which has taken a firm place in local production. Marketer's large field of good quality cucumbers suitable for shipping appears to outweigh the disadvantage of being a little later than Straight Eight.

Lettuce Varieties Pennlake and Premier Great Lakes lettuce varieties were both improvements over standard Great Lakes. Pennlake was early heading, very uniform, free from the prominent ribbing characteristic of Great Lakes, and did not tipburn until after the marketable stage had passed. Premier Great Lakes was more refined than Great Lakes and did not tipburn until the heads would have been harvested commercially.

Harris Model parsnip was outstanding for its intermediate size root which had an even taper and smooth, clean surface. The flesh was very white with an exceptionally small core.

Among the pea varieties evaluated, Cody was extremely early. Rondo gave a very high yield of large sweet peas; and an unnamed Ottawa variety, designated as PE-1, should be useful in the home garden as it is a persistent yielder over an extended period, and shells out a heavy weight of fresh peas.

In the new vine crops, Caserta and Dixie Hybrid deserve attention for use as summer squash. Both are prolific and are excellent in quality when used before they are past six inches in length. In the winter squash class, Butternut gives a new flavor attractive to many people, and Rainbow gives a heavy yield of squash which appear to be excellent for winter storage.

With the exception of Marketer cucumber, which has performed very well for the last three years, the other varieties require further trials, and they should be interesting trials for any grower.

Rebate on Sales Tax to Increase Delegation Finds

No direct aid will come from the provincial government but any relief from school costs which is made will be in the form of large increases in municipalities' share of the three percent SS & MA tax, Premier Eyron Johnson indicated to the Okanagan municipal delegation which met the cabinet in Victoria.

Mayor T. R. B. Adams, of Vernon, president of the Okanagan Municipal Assn., headed the delegation and was accompanied by Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games of Kelowna, Mayor W. A. Rathbun of Penticton and Reeve J. B. Kidston of Coldstream.

The Vernon mayor reports that

the government expects a large increase in returns from the sales tax. Thus, the municipalities' one-third share would be substantially increased and would be available to offset the higher levies for education, the Vernon News reports.

This delegation met the cabinet for 45 minutes on Wednesday morning, March 15. The discussion is described as "heated" at times but quite informal.

Mayor Adams also reported that the cabinet is engaged in working out principles of a long-range plan with respect of education costs but details are not yet available.

Attention will be paid to the Okanagan brief that there should be a fixed charge to municipalities but this will apply to operating expenses only and will be exclusive of debt charges on capital plant, it is said.

There is no indication from reports of the meeting with the cabinet that the government intends to implement the Goldenberg report, which suggested that a higher basic grant for teachers' salaries would be in order along with increased wage demands.

NOTES from PARLIAMENT HILL

(By O. L. JONES, MP for Yale)

William Mott, MP for New Westminster and myself took up the question of making available 2 percent loans to the municipalities. My impression is that pressure should be made by the municipalities concerned to the provincial government who, in turn, could request that the municipal improvements assistance act could be re-enacted.

While this fund has been technically closed for the last 8 or 9 years, Quebec has been able to borrow right up to recent dates, moneys that were not available to the other provinces.

An appeal was also made to the department of health and welfare for an increase in the per bed grant for erection of new hospitals, Mr. Jones declaring that costs have soared from $3,000 to $4,000 per bed to $7,000 or $8,000 and that the government had based its $1,000 per bed grant on the first figure.

The member for Yale, writing on March 15, tells of the "political and economic bombshell" tossed into the House of Commons by Hon. Mr. Mayhew. "A bold approach to Canada's mounting trade difficulties in non-dollar markets of the world which would lead to a revision and redirection of the dominion's traditional policies."

"Mr. Mayhew called for the establishment of a national export-import corporation through which Canadian manufacturers, whole-salers and the federal government would provide both the management and the finance to operate bi-lateral deals and to overcome the lack of facilities that face any single corporation.

"In other words, he was advocating barter deals on an international basis."

"All through his speech the prime minister and Trade Minister C. D. Howe were seated nearby and listened very attentively and, as far as appearance went, evinced no surprise. Whether Mr. Mayhew was speaking for himself or expressing the thoughts of others in the cabinet is a matter of speculation."

Mr. Jones expressed delight that the old age pension means test is awakening so much interest in the house that it was a lively issue for an entire day.

For an hour on Tuesday, March 14, Mr. Jones shared with Howard Green, PC member for Quadra, the hour set aside to speak on the pipeline charter being sought by the Alberta Natural Gas company.

Mr. Jones quoted Ross Thatcher, MP for Moose Jaw, who claimed that only 540 out of 155,000 farmers in Quebec paid income tax and that the total was only $79,000 in 1949.

"I happen to know six fruit growers in the Okanagan whose combined income tax is equal to the total paid by the province of Quebec, if Mr. Thatcher's statement is correct," states Mr. Jones.

Ship New Ferry To Kelowna from Coast in Sections

KELOWNA—Construction of a third ferry is now underway in Victoria and will be shipped to the Okanagan for completion about mid-July. Yarrows Ltd., Victoria shipbuilders have now been instructed to rush the job.

This new ferry will be similar in design to the two ferries now in operation although the control tower will not be as large. The ferry will be slightly wider and longer than the Pendozi or Legume but it will fit into present ferry wharves. It is reported the tower will be built to one side of the vessel to allow more space.

Capacity is said to be 36 cars and it will be designed to take the largest truck now operating in the valley.

The ferry will be shipped to the government slipway in Kelowna in four sections and will be welded there. Sections will be 42 feet long 11 feet wide and 9 feet deep.

After the first two sections are fitted together the engines will be installed. This is the first time in B.C. that a ferry has ever been constructed in this manner.

When the third boat is in operation schedule will be speeded to a fifteen-minute service instead of the 20-minute schedule when the present two ferries are operating at capacity.

At present, only one ferry is in operation. The Legume will be taken off the run immediately for repairs and will be replaced by the Pendozi, which has not been in service for some months.

Review Proposal To Abandon T.B. Travelling Clinics

Recently, at the suggestion of Rotarian Mel Ducommun, the Rotary Club of Summerland commenced investigation of the proposal by the provincial and federal governments to set up T.B. X-ray equipment in 34 hospitals throughout the province.

This step, in itself, would not be alarming, the service clubbers thought but, unfortunately, to set up permanent stations means the elimination of the familiar mobile X-ray travelling clinics which used to visit all centres in the province about once every two years.

Acting Health Minister Kenney, plagued by private members of the legislature, has promised to review the proposed clinics.

It had been proposed to eliminate the travelling clinics on April 1.

Federal government assistance in financing the T.B. clinics had been promised if they were set up on a permanent basis, it is understood.

Main argument against the new setup is that isolated communities will not bother going to a larger centre for X-rays on a regular basis and a great number of persons will be missed who otherwise might have been checked of the dread disease in time.

Seven crews totalling 42 men are employed when those two ferries are operating on a 24-hour basis. With the third ferry the number of men employed will be boosted to sixty, three more crews being added.

AOTS Club Annual Meeting Hears Report From David Wright

Members of Summerland AOTS club were proud of another of their projects on Thursday night, March 23, when forty-five of them heard a report on the Boys' Parliament from David Wright.

For three years the AOTS club has sponsored the sending of a Summerland boy to the provincial boys' parliament held annually at Vancouver and Victoria between Christmas and Easter. Each time David Wright has been the delegate chosen, and his experience brought him this year the honor of being a member of the cabinet as minister for youth training.

David told the club that members from large centres were much impressed when he told them of the local Youth Centre, and wished that they had a similar hall for youth activities. Another impression he brought back was the general feeling that there should be a bit of Christian study or Bible reading incorporated in the program of every youth movement and meeting.

Another prominent project of the AOTS at this time of year is the annual request concert, to be held April 13 in the Youth Centre. The head of the committee responsible, T. Wallace Boothe, said that they had had a week to get it rolling, but his committee hadn't a jellyfish in the bunch and as a result of their determination the concert was well under way.

Tickets were given out to members to sell by Bill Jenkinson. Requests are being recorded by Gerry Laidlaw at the store, and the committee is hoping for more to come in.

A visit to Naramata AOTS club on April 6 was planned, to start on its way the travelling gavel which has been a new project of President Les Gould this year, and he appealed for as many members as possible to attend. The annual financial report by Treasurer Walter Bleasdale showed a balance of $103.56, and new memberships were due and being paid as of March, so the meeting felt rich enough to vote $20 for supplies to Joe Sheeley's Pee-wee ball teams—"must be a hundred of them want to play"—and $30 to the central welfare committee.

It was emphasized that the AOTS is not a money-raising organization, and that they were prepared to give more donations in the form of services. The sum of $5 was voted to the Red Cross.

Tadmage McDonald appealed for a little help with the church grounds, and Ernie Bennett warned there would be another clean-up day soon at Peach Orchard cemetery, where they hoped to add to the present 300 feet of concrete curbing.

Jim Heavysides spoke in favor of the projected Summerland Rink, and said that George Stoll had already sold over two thousand dollars worth of shares.

Walter Charles suggested that the AOTS might take up a reforestation project, and was requested to get information on the matter.

As March is the annual meeting of the AOTS, elections were held, resulting as follows: President, Bert Stent; vice-president, Everett Bates; secretary, Herb Pohlmann; treasurer, Walter Bleasdale.

The new officers were duly installed by retiring president Les Gould, and he and his executive received a hearty vote of thanks from the club for their hard work during the past year.

The hour being late and most business attended to, the new president made one appointment, asking Don Tait to represent the AOTS on the central welfare committee, and the meeting adjourned.

What's a Bargain?

... FREQUENTLY, it can be the reward of split second judgment exercised by the experienced breeder of cattle, or the connoisseur of antiques or fine paintings, on the basis of his special knowledge of these very special fields.

... BUT this principle goes to pot when it is good values for your money in terms of everyday living, that you seek. Good clothes for the family, furniture for the home, are hardly items you would expect to choose wisely under any system of pressure buying.

... YET something comparable enters the picture when you take time out to go afield in search of bargains. When time is limited, the opportunity to pick and choose is limited. When dealing with strangers are you sure complaints will be made good? When paying for merchandise bought out of town, do you add what it cost you to travel?

... THE best bargains in every day living will be found right here at home in stores managed by neighbors you have known for long, who depend for their livelihood on serving you well; in stores right here at home stocked with the best and most famous goods our country produces, displayed conveniently for you to choose from at leisure, and offered at prices you can't beat anywhere.

Without a moment's hesitation, directors of the Summerland Hospital Society re-elected S. A. MacDonald for another term as their president when they met at the hospital on Tuesday, March 21, for the first meeting following the annual session.

All directors were present and President MacDonald welcomed Harvey L. Wilson back to the board as the newly-elected director replacing W. R. Boyd.

C. J. Huddleston and Tom Croil were returned as vice-presidents of the hospital society, also by acclamation.

President MacDonald then appointed committees for the year, and there were few changes in this setup.

Mr. Croil is the new head of the house committee and will be assisted by J. R. Butler, C. J. Huddleston, Francis Stuart, Mrs. J. C. Wilcox and Mrs. T. E. Lott.

Grounds will be supervised by J. E. Jenkinson, assisted by Dr. J. C. Wilcox. James Muirhead continues as finance chairman, assisted by Harvey Wilson. J. R. Armstrong continues as public relations chairman.

 On the recommendation of the finance committee insurance on the hospital building and equipment will be reduced to $68,600 from $84,000. The government has recently advised that insurance covering 50 percent of the buildings and one-third of the equipment will be assumed by Victoria.

Directors also agreed to accept 75 percent of the claim against George Newcombe of Kelowna who was hospitalized here as the result of an accident. An insurance adjuster is recommending that 75 percent of the claim be paid by the insurance company involved.

Secretary J. E. O'Mahony and Director J. C. Wilcox attended an executive meeting of the B.C. Hospital Assn. last Monday at the coast, the former in his capacity as vice-president of the provincial body.

Star Cherry Matures Just Before Bing

(Experimental Farms News)
 Star is one of the most promising new varieties which have resulted from a cherry breeding experiment begun at the Summerland experimental station in 1936. It was named and introduced in January 1949 and at that time a full description of its characteristics was published.

Briefly, says F. W. L. Keane. Star is a black cherry possessing in high degree the characteristics of size, firmness and quality which have made Bing so popular on the market. Moreover, Star matures about a week earlier than Bing and was introduced primarily because of this earliness.

It is hoped that a grower producing both Star and Bing will be able to spread somewhat the risk of cracking by rain, and to increase the length of his picking season with consequent easing of the labor problem.

It is furthermore expected that the market will be receptive to a cherry of Bing type which will be ready at an earlier date than has hitherto been possible.

During the 1949 season Star has shown another favorable characteristic. Canning tests with Bing, Lambert, Star and Van, as well as several promising numbered seedlings, were conducted at the Summerland station. In these tests Star was outstandingly superior to the other varieties, being very large, firm and of high quality when canned.

Unfortunately, Star is susceptible to rain cracking, being about equal to Bing in this respect. Moreover, it is not a pollinizer for Bing or Lambert, and in plantings of Star combined with either or both of these varieties, sufficient Van trees should be included to provide adequate pollination.

Jones Urges Subsidy for Valley Apple Growers Of $2 per Box at Least

In a lengthy discourse before the House of Commons at Ottawa earlier this month, O. L. Jones, MP for Yale, went on record as asking the department of agriculture to consider a subsidy basis for the Okanagan apple grower of at least $2 per box. Added to this figure should be some measure of profit for the grower, he considered.

Mr. Jones' speech, as it related to this subject, follows, starting with a history of the Okanagan's early organizational battle:

Thirty years ago there was no organization and the fruit was sold where it could be sold at any price at all. Various firms, unorganized in many cases, would get the fruit on consignment and then proceed to dump it on any market at any price that would give them any profit.

Such was the condition in the early days that the fruit growers became so desperate that they organized one of the finest organizations in Canada, the Tree-Fruit Board. (B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.)

At the present time all our fruit is properly handled, packed and graded for shipment all over the world. We are proud of the Tree Fruit Board. We had difficulties to overcome because, taking just one item, we were 4,000 miles farther away from Great Britain than Nova Scotia.

Improved Quality

In order to overcome this handicap the quality of the product was improved, as well as the quality of the pack. The result is that today the Tree Fruit Board handles roughly $25 million worth of fruit products grown in the interior of British Columbia.

It should be noted that a good deal of our fruit is sold to the United States which brings United States dollars to Canada. A current review of agricultural conditions in Canada states that during 1947-48 and 1948-49 the United States purchased 1,500,000 bushels and 2,150,000 bushels respectively of Canadian apples, and in both years over 90 per cent came from British Columbia.

In 1948 the apple crop in the United States was smaller than normal and there was a strong demand from manufacturers in that country. I merely point that out to indicate how the exportation of fruit to the United States has brought several millions of dollars to this dominion.

The people engaged in the growing of fruit are very cosmopolitan. Practically every race on earth is engaged in fruit growing. I often think that it would be beneficial if the United Nations could come into our valley to see how these people live so happily together. Even the odd Russian fruit grower gets along quite well with his Japanese and Anglo-Saxon friends. They all have something in common, the welfare of the industry in which they are engaged.

Damage from Frost

Mr. Jones then spoke of this past winter and said the damage may be quite considerable from frost. It is expected that many of the young trees will have been killed, and considerable damage is expected to have been done to our peach and apricot trees. It is a little early to know the exact damage, but definitely a good deal of damage will be done.

The difficulties faced by these people are numerous. One difficulty is obtaining of a staple market when you have crop variations. As is known, a tree grows a good crop one year and a poor crop the next, and so on. Scientific efforts have been made to overcome this through controlled deblossoming.

We have had to overcome practically every pest known to the orthodox fruit grower, but one of the worst, the codling moth, has been practically eliminated by the use of DDT and other sprays.

Hail has taken its toll of our crops because that is one thing that cannot be controlled. This year the growers have organized their own insurance company to take care of hail damage. Each grower will be assessed to build up a fund to take care of the odd orchard that is hailed out. Then we also have high winds which sometimes occur when the fruit has matured. If the fruit is not picked up in a matter of days, it is lost.

Grew Fruit for U.K.

Another difficulty is that our crop seasons coincide with those of Washington and other states. I have tried to outline briefly some of the difficulties the fruit growing industry is faced with.

In order to overcome some of these difficulties the industry was encouraged by the present government to try to capture the British market. In order to do that they had to grow a different type of apple from the one sold on the Canadian market. The trees had to be pruned in a different way in order to produce the type of apple wanted in the old country.

The industry was geared up to produce roughly three to four million boxes of that type of apple. Now that that market has gone it is found that some of the apples being produced are not suitable for the Canadian or United States market.

The normal shipment of that type of apple to Great Britain was from 2,500,000 to 3,500,000 per year. This year all we have sold to Great Britain is 434,000 boxes. Those were purchased by the British food ministry, the Canadian government paying half the cost.

We could not market our production this year and at least a million and a half boxes would be wasted. The growers took the bull by the horns and decided they were not going to have that waste. Without waiting for any arrangement to be made by the government or by any other body they decided hastily—the product is perishable and must be taken care of quickly—to send 1,150,000 boxes to Great Britain as a gift. The alternative was waste and, later on, dumping.

In addition we sell 500,000 boxes to the fruit juice processors a anything from $7 to $9 per ton, on an average of $8. Incidentally this price does not cover the cost of production.

Cost of Production

The cost of production is made up quite simply. First there is the cost of packing. Most of those apples were already packed and had borne the packing costs. The cost of handling, packing and storing a box of apples runs from 90 cents to $1; and that charge is usually against the apples in storage.

The cost of growing apples varies according to the size of the operation, the type of land, the location of land—whether it faces north, south, east or west—and the size and quality of the crop; but roughly speaking the cost varies from 75 cents to $1.25, or an average of $1. I am referring now to bare costs; I am not including any profit or anything else.

This year we had to handle over eight million boxes; and it has been a problem. Naturally the farmers are reluctant to seek assistance from the government. I feel that they are being a little modest, however, because during the war they accepted ceiling prices on apples, but for which they would have made much greater profits and been able to build up reserves to take care of a situation such as that with which they are faced this year.

Then there is the high taxation on fruit land, especially for provincial purposes; irrigation is costly, and there are many other expenses.

I realize that the minister of agriculture (Mr. Gardiner) is fully aware of these conditions; and though we have heard a good deal of criticism of his actions in other matters, I will say that he has given considerable assistance to the fruit growers of the Okanagan valley and British Columbia generally.

Dominion Marketing Act

One of the greatest things to happen was the culmination of our fight, which extended over a period of thirteen years, for a marketing act. As hon. members know, last year that marketing act was passed and is now in operation.

But these things in themselves are not sufficient to overcome the difficulties now facing the growers. We have conditions that are beyond their control, especially the dollar shortage and the loss of the United Kingdom market. I need not go into the history of that, because hon. members know it as well as I do.

It is principally because of the loss of this market, and the fact that in order to avoid waste we had to send a gift of 1,150,000 boxes of apples overseas, that I appeal to the government to consider the emergency that has arisen this year.

The government has wisely set aside the $200 million placed at the disposal of the board for the support of agricultural prices. That legislation states that it is intended to secure a fair relationship between the returns from agriculture and those from other occupations.

Kills Cougar in His Own Kitchen

SALMON ARM—Glory Temple, big game guide and outfitter who lives in a cabin at Murdoch Point, Sicamous, established something of a record this month when he shot and killed a cougar in his own kitchen.

Mr. and Mrs. Temple were minding their own business in their cabin when a cougar and their mongrel cocker spaniel, George Heinz, started a scrap in the backyard. The two animals tumbled into the kitchen and the door slammed shut.

Mr. Temple hastily grabbed his .22 rifle and shot the predator through the head. The dog was mauled severely but it gave the cat bite for bite in the tussle.

The game guide took the "cat" outside and while he was skinning

MORE ABOUT JONES

Speaker, that under no circumstances can the fruit growers, with the present market, having in mind the deficiencies I have mentioned, obtain enough revenue to give them a fair return; so now the time has come when they require this assistance. I know the difficulty, and I fully believe it is temporary. On that basis I am making my appeal.

Base Subsidy on $2

Any assistance given should be at least to the extent of the cost of production and the cost of handling already incurred by the growers. I have given that figure roughly as $2. I should like also to see the grower given a reasonable profit, to enable him to maintain a decent standard of living.

I am not asking this for a bunch of people who are doing nothing to help themselves. The fruit growers have done a great deal. They have increased production; they have improved their grading and packing; they have done everything possible through cold storage to extend their season. They have set aside a large sum of money for advertising, and are now working on the theory that the Canadian market itself can be improved. I believe it can. In 1948 the per capita consumption of apples in Canada was 33 pounds. In 1949 it fell to 27 pounds.

I believe we can not only recapture lost ground abroad but also improve Canadian consumption, because after all 27 pounds of apples per person per year is not a large quantity.

They have also tried to improve the quality of their apples by assistance from the dominion experimental farm at Summerland. This year they are making a grant of $5,000 to that farm for special work on pests and other problems with which they are still faced.

So I believe these producers have done everything possible to retain their export market; but, as I pointed out, matters of international trade and world conditions are definitely beyond their control. Fruit is unlike any other crop. As the hon. member for Kootenay East (Mr. Byrne) pointed out, trees are at their prime for from twelve to thirty years. During that period of productivity many changes may take place; wars, depressions, loss of markets and so on.

Down or shrubs when they are in a position to sustain the weight of fruit, as Etevenson, Shirley Smith, Do-

The fruit grower is stuck; he must take the ups and downs of our economic system in his stride. The grower must be assisted to carry on, because he becomes either a permanent asset or a permanent liability; and an asset is far better than a liability. In prosperous years he is a heavy taxpayer. He pays high taxes on his land, high income taxes, and high irrigation taxes. He is an employer of labor on a large scale; and he maintains himself and his family on a fairly high standard of living. During the odd year like this he needs help to tide him over until once more he has access to his old markets.

I refer once more to the legislation under which I am making this appeal. It states that the board is to endeavor to insure adequate and stable returns for agricultural products. That statement covers my request.

Some $200 million has been set aside annually, and the unexpended portion goes back into the general revenue. They have the power; they have the money; but I believe any action must be taken before the end of this month. I appeal on behalf of the fruit growers because, being three thousand miles away, they may not have the opportunity to come before the house, at least not en masse. So I ask that assistance be given at least to the extent of the cost of production.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES BULLOCH HONORED AT FAREWELL

Mr. and Mrs. James Bulloch who have been managing the experimental station boarding house were honored by about forty of their friends at a farewell party on Saturday evening, prior to their leaving some time in the near future to make their home at Penitence.

The party was arranged by Mrs. Mason and Mr. S. Gladwell, Trout Creek, and old-time and modern dancing was the evening's program. Square dancing proved to be a great deal of fun.

Growth of Community Drama Means Development of True Canadian Theatre Says Fisher

"The theatre is an art and in modern times it is an art which has done great and significant things," declared Lacey Fisher, leader of the drama movement in the South Okanagan and a member of the Summerland high school teaching staff to the Rotary Club of Summerland Friday evening.

Mr. Fisher left the teaching profession for the professional theatre for a time and told his audience that the theatre can become the consuming passion in a person's life.

To illustrate the greatness of the theatre in modern times Mr. Fisher held his audience enthralled as he read excerpts from Elmer Rice's Street Scene and other modern dramas.

"You cannot walk out of a theatre without having your mind broadened; you laugh with the actors and are saddened with them," he declared.

"The art of the theatre is a great and tremendous thing. The movies don't do it, although at times they approach it. Unfortunately, when moving pictures attempt great things they change them and spoil them... the box office is the main force... (there is) a lack of artistic integrity."

"Do you want our civilization to be fed 'tripe' to escape from the realities?" he queried. The theatre when it is good has done great things. It gives you flashes of understanding, a bit of the meaning of life. That is the real reason for the theatre." No Great Production Mr. Fisher cautioned that he realized the theatre has turned out Continued on page 12

Baseball Fever Hits Okanagan With Spring Training, Schools

Most of the Summerland Red Sox baseball team journeyed to Oliver on Wednesday and Thursday last week to join young players from other sections of the South Okanagan and Okanagan, Wash., valley for a two-day short course on baseball.

The school was well attended and the Red Sox considered the information gleaned was well worthwhile.

It was operated by the Wenatchee Chiefs and from the school five prospective professionals were picked to continue training with the Chiefs at Oliver. All five prospects were from south of the border.

The Chiefs moved into Oliver to start their training last weekend, while Vancouver Capitanos arrived en bloc in Penticton on Sunday, the advance guard having been there for several days then.

Managing director Bob Brown and Manager Bill Brenner have the Caps working out strenuously at King's Park in Penticton and a series of five exhibition games against Wenatchee Chiefs and Victoria has been arranged, the first to be played this Sunday at Penticton, and the final one on April 12.

Victoria has moved into Kamloops for spring training. It is understood the local baseball moguls are considering bringing the Caps and either Wenatchee or Victoria here for an exhibition game.

Bob Barkwill to Guide Ski Club as President for 1950-51

At the annual meeting of the Summerland Ski Club on Thursday, March 23, Bob Barkwill was chosen president for the 1950-51 season, with Don Agur as his vice-president.

Miss Dorothy MacDonald was returned as secretary and Bill Laidlaw as treasurer. Walter Powell is chairman of the sports committee, Daryl Weitzel was named hill captain and Shirley Wilson and Ruth Klux are the house committee.

During the past season George Pennington donated silver spoons for juniors under 15 years who were the winners of the weekly races held at the Meadow Valley ski hill. These silver spoons were presented last week to Ken Pennington, Robert Mountford, Ronald Wilson, Donald Skinner, Larry Lemke, Jack Pohlmann, Gary Blagborne, Verne Higgs, Geoffrey Solly and Lori Klux.

Goggles were donated by William Milne, jeweller, as second prize for junior races.

Although most persons were looking towards their gardens last weekend, at the ski hill snow conditions were still good, a large number of enthusiasts report.

The past winter has been one of the longest skiing seasons on record enjoyed by members of the Summerland Ski club.

Now, spring work parties are being planned to improve facilities at the hill, the annual meeting decided.

Playoff Fever Bites Interior Sports Teams

Playoffs in both basketball and hockey have been of great interest to local sports fans but none of the games concerns local teams.

In Penticton last Friday and Saturday Andy Bennie's Interior championship Intermediate A team played UBC Braves for the B.C. title. Teams were tied at 44-all on Friday night and with a couple of seconds to go Penticton knotted the count at 52-all Saturday night after being down a dozen points with less than five minutes to play.

Three overtime periods were needed before Varsity won 65-63.

At Trail over the weekend, Penticton Vets tied the first game in the Interior vs Kootenay senior B playoff and then went on to win handily Saturday. Penticton Vets now play Nanaimo for the B.C. senior B championship.

Kamloops Leads Trail
In hockey, Kamloops Elks were leading the highly-touted Trail Smoke Eaters in the B.C. play-downs for the right to start on the Allen cup quest. Defeated in the first game 7-4, Kamloops came back to take games Saturday and Monday nights to lead the series 2-1.

At Kelowna, Trail senior B puckhoosers, winners of the Coy cup, defeated Lethbridge the first two games and then lost on Monday and Tuesday nights to knot the series. Final game is being played tonight.

It is understood that if Trail wins from Lethbridge the western Canada senior B series final will be staged at Kelowna against Melville Millionaires, champions of the Manitoba-Saskatchewan series.

Garnet Valley Road Surfacing Now Completed

Cost of surfacing Garnet Valley road amounted to $1,200, about $200 over estimates, but included 600 yards of shale topping besides the 1,948 yards of fill Councillor Eric Tait for the roads department stated at Tuesday's council session.

More of the road surface was treated than Road Foreman Les Gould had expected, Mr. Tait reported. He believed that there was a big improvement in the road.

But that had not been the opinion of "one of our employees", who had objected to the road condition when rain fell over one weekend. The council in general and Councillor Tait in particular had been taken to task for this "mess of a road", Councillor Tait stated.

Absorb Cost
Council decided to absorb the entire cost of levelling in front of the Youth Centre as road allowance improvement and also decided to continue widening and clearing the road allowance as far as the Milne cannery.

Cost of the work done to date was given as $106. The earth carted away was dumped along Granville street as a fill on the school property until the edge of the roadway gave way under the weight and this fill had to be abandoned.

When clearing the side of the road is continued, part of a lawn built beyond the property line in front of Mrs. Elsey's home will probably be destroyed, the council observed. However, the hedge which is also beyond the property line will be left intact, it was decided.

Councillor Tait also reported that some of the roads are being graded, but some are still too wet. There is still a lot of frost to come out of the ground.

GROWTH OF

Continued from Page 10 - some disappointing and third-rate vehicles at times but "every nation which has ever amounted to anything has had a theatre and a culture of the theatre."

Canada has not produced a great work of art yet, as she is a young country, new and raw, he pointed out. Canada is also in great danger of being absorbed by American culture.

That is one reason, Mr. Fisher insisted, Canada must seek the development of her own theatre.

He told of the start of the Everyman Theatre which was a professional theatre group started by three theatrically-minded persons, one of which was Mr. Fisher himself. Support from the department of education was promised, but later was withdrawn, with the result that this attempt proved an economic failure and had to be abandoned.

"Maybe we were premature; maybe the amateur theatre must be developed first," he continued. Community Drama

"Now, I think the true Canadian theatre will result from the building up of the community drama," Mr. Fisher stated and explained steps which have already been taken in this province to bring about a better realization of the importance of amateur theatrical work in the community.

Bringing in of professional directors to communities would be a step in the right direction, he thought.

He expressed his disappointment in the lack of interest shown this year in amateur dramatics as connected with the players' section of the Singers' and Players' club. However, he realized that a permanent dramatic group must be built up first before continuity can be achieved.

In closing he stressed again that Canada must be awakened to the need to produce a truly Canadian drama.

Fisher Warns Bees Should be Fed This Month

Now that spring is here and brood rearing has commenced it is good practice for every beekeeper to feed his bees, states Dr. D. V. Fisher, vice-president of the Central Okanagan Honey Producers' Assn.

"In fact, on account of the long cold winter, some colonies have already starved out and others may be dangerously near the end of their stores. Because the weather is cool hives should not be opened up yet to determine amount of stores and hence it is good practice to feed syrup to every colony."

"A beekeeper cannot lose by feeding his bees: if the bees need the feed they use it for rearing young bees and if they don't need the feed they store it."

"If bees run out of food between now and April 20 they will die."

"Feed for bees should be made up at the rate of 5 pounds of white sugar to 1 imperial quart of water. The syrup must be heated to around 140 degrees F., so that the sugar is completely dissolved before it is put in feed cans. If not completely dissolved it will recrystallize and plug the openings in the feed can."

"Each colony should have received a gallon of syrup by now and another gallon about April 1. As a preventative for foul brood, sulphathiazole should be added to the syrup at the rate of one 7 grain tablet per gallon."

"Sulphathiazole tablets for beekeepers may be procured from Mr. Alex Watt at the district agricultural office in Summerland."

"Friction lid cans of various sizes may be used for feeding bees, although the gallon size is to be preferred since it saves the labor of several refillings. Twenty or so nail holes are punched in the lid of the can with a shingle nail for the bees to feed from."

"The full can of warm syrup (cooled to about 100 degrees F.) is inverted over the hole in the inner cover and an empty super placed around the can so as to protect it from the outside cold air. A strong colony will empty the can in 36 hours. Spring feeding of bees will ensure a populous hive at fruit bloom and a good crop of honey later in the summer."

Obtain Two-Thirds Red Cross Objective

With the Red Cross campaign rapidly drawing to a close, about two-thirds of Summerland's $3,000 objective has been turned in to Jack Dundon, campaign manager. The drive was to have ended on March 31 but has been continued into April to allow canvassers to complete their districts.

Want Retriever Trials Feature of Field Day

Possibility that retriever trials may become a big part of the Summerland Fish and Game Assn. annual Field Day was discussed at length by the monthly sportsmen's meeting held in the Nu-Way Annex Monday evening.

Many angles of such trials were discussed and the executive was empowered to investigate all possibilities. Lack of knowledge in operating such an event by local sportsmen is bothering the club's executive.

Twenty-three members attended Monday's meeting and heard a lengthy and comprehensive report from President Bill Snow on the annual B.C. Interior Fish, Game and Forest Protective Assn. convention in Penticton on March 10 and 20.

The evening concluded with the showing of two films, one being Bushland Fantasy, depicting bird, animal and plant life in Australia and the second being the pictorial account of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Solly's trip to the Yukon and Alaska last year.
