Groceteria Burgled Once More

Ninth burglary in seven years and the fourth in the last three years occurred at the Summerland Groceteria some time Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Theft on this occasion involved twelve cartons of cigarettes and about $45 in cash.

Entry was discovered on Wednesday morning by Les Rumball, son of Proprietor Lawrence Rumball and Mrs. Rumball, when he inspected the premises the morning of the stores' midweek holiday.

Leslie Rumball found the back door to the main portion of the building open and on further investigation discovered a broken window pane on the north rear side.

Entry was gained by the window after an unsuccessful attempt to break in through the barred rear door. On leaving, the thief or thieves unbarred the door and walked out.

Three Tills Opened

Three tills, one belonging to Jimmy's Meateteria, another in the main portion of the grocery store and another in the office were opened, as well as a cash box which contained $17 in money which belonged to the Summerland Rink Association.

Jimmy's Meateteria lost only one roll of coppers, worth 50 cents, plus a few stamps.

Balance of the money was Groceteria property, as were the 12 cartons of cigarettes.

RCMP were summonsed by Mr. Rumball and they have been investigating.

Mr. Rumball Sr. has been confined to his home for the past three days, having injured his back while lifting a stack of feed on Monday afternoon.

Chautauqua Comes Here on February 19

Growers' Chautauqua meetings will be held throughout the valley from February 11 to 22 with Tuesday, Feb. 19 being the date set for Peachland and Summerland meetings, a release from BCFGA headquarters, this week announces.

In each local, the meetings commence at 2 and 7:30 p.m., with Soils and Soil Testing, and Irrigation and Erosion being the topics in the first session and Explanation of New Spray Calendar, Including Spray for Fire Blight, Blossom Thinning, Marketing, and Landscaping being the topics for the evening.

From Kamloops to Kelowna, there are two topics, Livestock on Small Farms, and Vegetable Insects, which will not be discussed in the southern section. These will be replaced by Control of Tree Fruit and Other Insects, and Mineral Deficiencies, from Westbank south to Oliver-Osoyoos.

Meetings are convened by the BCFGA locals in each section, while provincial and federal departments of agriculture officials are in charge of the lectures.

School Debaters Meet Penticton In Second Round

By the narrow margin of four points, Summerland's debating team captured the first round of the Leonard P. Wade trophy debating championship on Monday by vanquishing two Rutland teams.

The Summerland high students won the affirmative argument 150 points to 134 at Summerland, but lost the negative argument at Rutland 140 to 141, thus winning by four points on the round.

Tomorrow, Penticton and Summerland teams meet here and at Penticton in the second round to decide the holders of the cup donated last year by Kelowna and won in its first year of competition by Summerland.

Judges in Summerland were R. S. O'Leary, Walter M. Wright, and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson.

The affirmative team consists of Ken Brauner and Roger Smith while the negatives are Shirley Schumann and Don Blacklock.

Subject of the debate is: Resolved that price controls should be instituted in Canada immediately.

King George VI Dies in His Sleep Queen Elizabeth II New Sovereign

King George VI, King of Great Britain and Ireland and the Dominions in the British Commonwealth of Nations, is dead.

Queen Elizabeth II, has been proclaimed Queen of England and has flown home to her native land today from Mombasa, Africa, where her six-months' tour of Africa, Australia and New Zealand was interrupted by the sad news.

The entire world awaited sadly the arrival of the young queen to learn the date to be chosen by the queen and her family for the state funeral.

A period of mourning has been declared with the funeral to be held on Friday, Feb. 15.

Here in Summerland, all organizations were awaiting this word in order to plan their meetings.

Canon F. V. Harrison, rector of St. Stephen's Anglican church, has laid plans for a church service the day of the funeral and hopes the Canadian Legion will be in attendance.

This Sunday, St. Stephen's will hold regular holy communion at 8 o'clock but whether a commemoration service will be held at 11 o'clock depends upon arrangements to be made on Friday when Bishop Clarke arrives here from the Kootenays.

At Peachland at 8 o'clock Sunday afternoon memorial services will be held at St. Margaret's Anglican church with Rev. Canon Harrison officiating.

Reeve C. E. Bentley, when contacted this morning, declared no definite steps had been made to hold any community service in memory of the late King George.

He is awaiting suggestions from Ottawa as to what the Canadian government wishes each community across the country to do to honor the memory of their beloved king.

Dr. C. G. Woodbridge, Canadian Legion president, states that if a public service is held the Legion will probably be in attendance, otherwise, a Legion parade to St. Stephen's will be called.

The Legion is planning to hold its regular monthly meeting on Wednesday evening.

This Saturday, St. Stephen's WA has postponed its annual Valentine tea but other functions are proceeding on schedule until more definite plans are made known.

All Summerland was saddened yesterday with the news of the King's death but no public service was held.

Schools closed all day, the children being sent home soon after their arrival. Flags were at half mast.

Summerland Sends Message to Her Majesty

This morning, Reeve C. E. Bentley, on behalf of the Municipality of Summerland, despatched the following message to Her Majesty the Queen, expressing the deep regret of the people of Summerland at the passing of her father and expressing the hope that her reign will be a happy one. The complete text of the cable follows:

Your Majesty: May I, as the Reeve of the Municipality of Summerland express to you our very deep sympathy on the loss of your Father.

We all mourn his loss and remember him as the finest example to everyone as a wonderful citizen. We will always have fond memories of the visit of the King and Queen to British Columbia and of that of you and your husband.

We send you our sincere wish that your reign may be a happy one and that the world will clear itself from the clouds of turmoil.

God Save the Queen,
C. EDMUND BENTLEY,
Reeve.

Schools will not be closed on Feb. 15, but special memorial services will be held in all B.C. schools, Hon. W. T. Strath, minister of education, announced this morning. The King, 56, died peacefully in his sleep at Sandringham, England, at 2:45 o'clock Wednesday morning, PST.

He had been in apparent improving health and had spent a quiet evening with his family and had been in apparent good spirits when he retired.

The King's physicians announced today that death was caused by coronary thrombosis (a blood clot). He had undergone a serious operation for lung resection last fall but to outward appearances had made a successful recovery.

Last week, he came to London with Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret to wave goodbye to his daughter, then Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh who had played away on the first lap of their six months' goodwill tour of Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

Pictures of the King walking back from the plane, which were distributed throughout the world, showed a face drawn and lined from his months of suffering. It was a shock to his loyal subjects to see the change in the man who had been their patient ruler since 1936 when his brother, now the Duke of Windsor abdicated.

Princess Elizabeth burst into tears at Mombasa, East Africa, when she was told the news by her husband, the charming Duke of Edinburgh. She quickly recovered her composure, however, and made plans for an immediate return to England.

Yesterday, the Privy Council in London, constitutional advisers to British monarchs, formally accepted Elizabeth II, as Queen. The Canadian cabinet had already proclaimed the accession of Queen Elizabeth as Queen of Canada.

One of the Queen's constitutional duties will be to call an accession meeting of the Privy Council, at which she will swear to fulfill her duties and be a good ruler.

George VI. was born in 1895, the second son of the late King George V. and Queen Mary, at York Cottage, Sandringham, where he passed away.

Going through Osborne and the Royal Naval College at Dartmouth he was prevented, through ill-health, to take an active part at first in World War I. He served as a sublieutenant in the battle of Jutland and was then attached to the naval branch of the RAF. In October, 1918, he was on the western front, qualified as a pilot.

As a youth he was known as Prince Albert and in June, 1920, he was created Duke of York. On April 26, 1923, he married to Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, youngest daughter of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore and Kinghorne.

It was in June, 1925, that he was appointed to the Privy Council. With his wife he visited Ulster in July, 1924, and toured Kenya, Uganda and the Sudan in 1924-25 and in 1927 visited Australia and New Zealand.

He had always shown a special interest in industrial questions and was president of the Society for Industrial Welfare, besides establishing a regular annual holiday camp for 200 young workers and 200 public schoolboys.

The Duke of York never expected to become King, as on the death of his father on January 20, 1933, his older brother, Edward VIII, ascended the throne.

But, on December 11, 1936, Edward abdicated, was made Duke of Windsor and the Duke of York

Kiwanis Soap Box Derby to Be Sponsored

The Kiwanis Club of Summerland will sponsor a Soap Box Derby this summer, in conjunction with the Vancouver-sponsored provincial derby which is held in Mission City annually and sends a contender to the grand finals in Akron, Ohio.

This was the decision of Kiwanis directors on Monday after some months of planning.

Frank McDonald heads the Kiwanis committee which will undertake this project and he will be assisted by fellow-clubbers Jack Dundon, Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh and Lloyd Shannon.

It is hoped that Soap Box Derby contests will be held in Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver, Osoyoos and Princeton, with the possibility of a southern interior runoff prior to the big derby finals in Mission.

Right now, Mr. McDonald's committee is anxious to find out how many lads between the ages of 11 and 15 are interested in building soap box cars to certain specifications and enter them in this contest.

Jaycees Hear Of Credit Union Organization

Walter Bleasdale, manager of the Summerland and District Credit Union, gave members of the Summerland Junior Chamber of Commerce an insight into the history and operations of credit unions throughout the world.

Although the credit union movement originated in Europe, the first union in North America was established in Quebec and quickly spread to the United States and throughout the rest of Canada, he stated.

Today there are more than 4,000 unions in Canada with a working capital in excess of $1 billion.

Jaycees decided at their regular meeting in the Nu-Way Annex on Tuesday to start a fund designed to send two or three members to the annual convention of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce which this June is being held in Banff.

Vandals Break All Panes of Glass in Red Cross Shack

Vandalism of the worst order was reported to The Review on Tuesday evening by John Dunn. Mr. Dunn owns a small shack at the northeast corner of his property bordering the Living Memorial park playground. It has been used by the Red Cross branch in Summerland for storing disaster supplies.

Some miscreants tore off the screening on the east-side window and, using a stick, broke every pane in the four-section window.

Not content with that, they used a stick to poke holes in a tarpaper structure adjoining the shack which served as a covering for some articles belonging to Charley Wharton who had moved his belongings from the building to make room for the Red Cross articles.

Bennett's Colored Slides Go East

Mr. E. H. Bennett's colored slides, "Summerland: The Flower of the Okanagan", are doing quite a bit of travel, and are spreading the beauties of this place and its flowers across the continent.

On Monday they were sent off to Montreal to be shown to the Quebec Gladiol Society.

They have already been displayed in Winnipeg, Regina and Lethbridge, and when they are returned from the east, will go to Moose Jaw and Edmonton.

Building Hits New Low in January

Lowest value in building permits ever reported to Building Inspector Roy F. Angus was recorded in the January - just concluded. Only two permits for alterations and additions to a value of $850 were taken out last month.

In 1951 three permits were taken out in January for a value of $8,515.

PIANO FUND DONATIONS
Three more contributions to the school piano fund have been received recently from Helen Kean and Colin McKensie of Summerland and ABQRS D. Turnbull, HMCS Athabasca, c/o FMO, Esquimalt.

Queen Elizabeth II and Her Prince Consort

We Mourn the Death of a Noble, Gentle King

WE, the Canadian people, in company with other members of the great British Commonwealth of Nations and our friends in many parts of the globe, are saddened today with the loss of our reigning monarch, George VI, king of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the seas.

Gone is our reigning monarch who stepped into a breach in Commonwealth relations caused by the abdication from the throne of his brother, the Duke of Windsor, and in a short period of time won the affection of the great majority of his subjects.

Of kindly heart and nature, the late King George VI was conscientious to a fault and in World War II drove himself to exhaustion in an endeavor to show leadership in a time when his country was imperilled.

We believe historians will lay the blame for his early death to the exhausting years of World War II.

Our fondest recollection of the late King George will be the one occasion we were privileged to see him at close quarters—at the formal reception at Kamloops in May of 1939 when King George and Queen Elizabeth toured Canada just prior to the start of the great world conflict and did so much to cement Commonwealth relationships as well as those with the United States.

Of sombre mien, King George carried himself with a quiet dignity which was impressive. His impediment in speech was a cross which he bore his entire life.

We can see him now in our mind's eye, standing with his lovely wife on the rear platform of the CPR train at Kamloops, waving a solemn goodbye as thousands cheered and thought: "There is a good man."

All his life, King George VI was handicapped by ill health. In the early days of World War I, although he had passed through Royal Naval College, he was prevented from active service because of his health.

But, nothing daunted, he was not content until he could serve on one of His Majesty's ships in wartime and as a sublieutenant he took part in the battle of Jutland. Before the war's end, he qualified as a pilot with the naval branch of the RAF.

Determination to accomplish what was expected of him, despite his physical handicaps, was the driving force of this man who became king of this great Commonwealth at a time when he was unprepared for the task.

Last fall, when his lovely daughter and her husband were preparing to come to Canada, the King underwent a serious operation. The eyes of the world were turned on England, where the King struggled for his life. As in so many other serious crises in his life, the King struggled through and appeared to have conquered the dread disease which threatened his existence.

But in this case, although his determination and will to survive were great, the grim reaper took his toll.

Today, we have, for the first time since the early days of this century, a queen as ruler of Great Britain, Ireland, Canada and the other component parts of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

She is a true daughter of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. The new Queen Elizabeth has been prepared for this day which has come all too quickly. She has her parents' sturdy resolve, much of her mother's ready grace, and her father's solemn devotion to duty.

Canadians took the princess to their collective hearts last fall, little realizing that the day would come so suddenly when she would be ruler of the land. But she has endeared herself to all who fell within the radiance of her charm, and one and all are proud to welcome such a queenly sovereign.

It is a sad day and we mourn the loss of a man who understood our problems and was humble in his endeavors to sympathize and ease the burdens of his people.

We can rejoice, however, in the knowledge that he has given us a daughter who will be an able successor and who will be as loved and respected as her father.

THIRTY YEARS AGO February 10, 1922

At a special meeting of the municipal council expenditure resolutions were passed reducing the indemnities of the reeve and council by $50 per annum, and the salaries of the staff, foremen, and truck driver by $20 per month. The rate of day labor was also reduced to 35c an hour for a nine-hour day.

President Freeman appointed the following standing committees at the board of trade meeting on Tuesday: Civic improvement, Morkill, Riley and Cowans; immigration and advertising, Crossley and Kelloy; transportation, Roe and A. Walden; conventions, Andrew and Solly; exhibitions, Helmer, Lawler, Angrove, Huddleston, McLachlan and J. Tait.

The trade board was unanimous on the retention of the anti-dumping clause which the Vancouver Board of Trade favored removing.

Establishment of a tourist camping park and alterations and improvements to Ellison hall were advocated by Dr. Andrew at the board of trade meeting. As advocated by The Review many times, Summerland greatly needs a tourist camping site, and Peach Orchard is admirably suited for the purpose.

Officers named in St. Andrew's YPS are: President, George Harding; 1st vice-pres. Ernie Adams; 2nd vice-pres. Miss Marie Arkoll; secretary, Moe Marshall; treasurer, Miss Sue Whitford. Conveners of Committees: Devotional, G. Mitchell; missionary, Miss E. Johnston; literary, Dewey Sanborn; social, Miss M. Arkoll; music, Miss Alma Lott; sick visiting, Howard Findlay; lookout, Miss Phyllis Freeman.

C. H. Elsey has sold his house to A. C. Turner of Toronto, who will take possession in March. Diplomas for manual training have been awarded by the department of education at Victoria to Arthur Gartrell and William Ritchie.

Nora Clements, who was operated on for appendicitis a few days ago is making very satisfactory progress in the Summerland General Hospital.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO February 11, 1927

Another phase of musical endeavor was organized this week under the auspices of the Summerland branch, Canadian Legion when officers were appointed for a male voice choir. Frank Mossop was made conductor, with J. R. Campbell, president, P. Knowles, secretary and Messrs. Boothe and Beavis, the committee. It is the intention to compete in the musical festival next spring.

Fire alarms were discussed by council and were scarcely finished when the church bell called West Summerland to a fire at Mr. West's house next to the packing house, used as a storage building. The fire had a good start before it was noticed, and it was destroyed.

R. Mitchell reports that 200 tons of ice were out and hauled from the reservoir this year. Some of it came to West Summerland on sleighs but a good deal of it came by trucks and wheels. There was

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

If you are dreading the imminent approach of middle or old age, influenced by the silly modern superstition that a person is doddering at 50 and dare not exert himself in any vigorous exercise after 40, read "How to Catch an Eagle," on page 22 of the February 1 issue of Maclean's. It tells how Charles Broloy, over 70, takes in his stride a sport so daring and strenuous that it put a fit young ex-paratrooper out cold.

Good to note that the Summerland Ski Club was given the honor of playing host to the interior ski jumping clinic. The local ski club deserves a lot of credit for what they have achieved, and the way no harvesting of ice in 1924 nor in 1926, both those years being very mild. This year four cold nights resulted in a good clear out of about ten inches. As the cold spell lasted only a few days, only the alert got ice.

The co-operative finished its peak this week, somewhat earlier than last year. Most of the fruit is on order and being shipped rapidly. The fruit stood up much better in storage than might have been expected.

Arnold Grayton had an operation for mastoid at the coast and is progressing favorably.

Everyone is looking forward to the Ice Gymkhana when there will be novelty races, broom ball, and a skating feast.

they're developing the youngsters; and they don't seem to think that non-skiers have a sacred duty to help support them.

Have you tried bleach on your tires for better grip on slippery roads? Many swear by it, and it certainly seemed to help on the one occasion I used it. You can spray it on or rub it on with your bare hands, but it'll leave a white spot on any clothing it touches. Heard of a lady who put it on the sole of her overshoes, though, for slippery walking. Saved her putting on chains.

Seems too bad that Charlie Wharton's rink had to close. All good things come to an end sometime, of course. But Charlie has done too much for Summerland to deserve such an ignominious petering-out. He was especially thoughtful of the younger children, and hundreds of Summerlandians learned to skate under his watchful eye. As one citizen put it: "His skating times were set to suit the kids, and parents never had to worry about their children when they were skating at Charlie's."

An old-timer told me recently that the current strenuous winter can't hold a candle to that of 1906. 07. Just as much snow, more wind, and temperatures dropped, not to one or two degrees below zero, but to twenty-two below.

He lived in a tent that winter too; floored and filed, but just canvas, all the same. With a stove inside and the stovepipe running the length of the tent, it was comfortably warm, and the fresh air of the cloth house seemed to keep his family healthier than they were within wooden walls. Only time it was unpleasant was on Christmas Day, when a sudden gale blew the stovepipe down. There was some lively scrambling inside that tent for a few minutes, he relates, and a lot more cleaning-up to do afterward than is expected on Christmas Day.

I'll bet he didn't have trouble, though with ice forming on the edge of his roof and causing water to back up and leak through the shingles and spoil the walls below. This seems to be a record winter for that trouble, and I've never seen so many people cleaning roofs. How are we going to avoid a repetition of the same trouble another winter? Some suggest more insulation on the ceiling, plus attic ventilators, others the use of electric heating cable laid along the eaves. Another chap is convinced that, if it was not contrary to custom and therefore frowned on, a house roof of smooth shiny sheet aluminum would slide the snow off in winter and reflect the heat in summer and be far superior to the shingles we now use.

But the cheapest solution might be to spend next winter in a tent.

Clive Atkinson Horticultural Society Prexy

Mr. Clive Atkinson was elected president of the Summerland Horticultural Society at a meeting of the directors on Friday evening, Feb. 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ward, when officers for 1952 were chosen from among their numbers.
 The 1st vice-president is Mr. Alec Watt and the 2nd vice-president, Mr. K. McKay of Naramata. Mr. A. F. Calder will be the new secretary and Mr. Ward will continue as treasurer. Mr. Watt will convene program and films, with Miss Doreen Tait, tea convener, and Mrs. M. E. Collas, press representative.
 The meeting voiced its thanks and appreciation to Dr. James Marshall, the retiring president, specially mentioning his work in helping to inaugurate the Valley Flower Shows.
 Many new and interesting ideas for programs for the ensuing year were suggested. It is hoped that the society will benefit the flower lovers of Summerland in building and landscaping more beautiful gardens in this, "The Garden of the Okanagan".
 Coffee and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ward.

Turnbull Explains "Benefits Restricted" Policy of BCHIS

Hon. A. D. Turnbull, minister of health and welfare, announces that the people who took advantage of the new seven days of grace, in making their hospital insurance payments, during the last premium payment period, received receipts stamped "benefits restricted".
 In order to clarify this phrase, Mr. Turnbull points out that the seven days of grace means that if a person pays his premium in this period of grace, he does not incur the penalty of the fourteen days' waiting period for late payment. However, the person is not covered by BCHIS from the date his premium was due and the date he makes his payment. Hence the stamp, "benefits restricted".
 For example, the last premium was due on December 31. The seven days' grace period applied until January 7. If a person made his payment on January 4, he did not incur any penalty. However, he was not covered by BCHIS from January 1 to January 4. Similarly, if he had made his payment on January 7, he would not have been covered from the 1st to the 7th.
 In effect, the seven days of grace means that the person becomes in benefit as soon as he makes his payment and is not subject to the penalty waiting period. However, he is not covered from the date his premium was due and the date within the grace period on which he makes his payment. In all cases of mailed remittances, BCHIS now accepts the post date as being the date of payment.

Old-Age Assistance Cheques to Go Into Mails in Few Days

The first old-age assistance cheques will be going into the mails shortly, states Hon. A. D. Turnbull, minister of health and welfare.
 In view of the number of applications, it is expected that not all persons who have applied will receive their cheques immediately as processing requires time and it may be a matter of several weeks before all the present applications are approved.
 Applicants will not suffer any financial loss in this regard. All approved applications will be paid on a retroactive basis, if no other form of assistance has been given, so that the first cheque will cover the time from January 1, 1952.
 If a person made application after January 1, then his first cheque will be retroactive to the date of his application.
 Likewise, the health services will be retroactive for those who are eligible for old-age assistance.

Surprise the family with this special Valentine's dessert—Heart's Delight! It's a tender, heart-shaped meringue, filled with a smooth and luscious lemon mixture, and decorated with red-tinted coconut. Served on a lace paper doily, it will be the best Valentine of all.

MERINGUE
 Four egg-whites, 1 cup of sugar, 1 tsp. cream of tartar.
 Beat egg-whites and cream of tartar until stiff, then gradually fold in the sifted sugar. Line cookie sheet with waxed or brown paper. Trace a heart shape on the paper, then pour meringue on the heart—a very easy task as the meringue is stiff and handles well. Bake at 275 degrees F. for 60 to 80 minutes, cool, slide onto plate covered with paper doily and fill with lemon filling.

LEMON FILLING
 Four egg-yolks, 5 tbsp. lemon juice, 1 tbsp. grated lemon peel, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup whipping cream.
 Beat egg-yolks slightly, add lemon juice, peel and sugar. Cook in double boiler until very stiff; cool. Whip cream and mix in lemon filling and spread on the meringue. Decorate edges with coconut, tinted with red food coloring and garnish with lemon slices. Store in refrigerator from 12 to 24 hours.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

1st Summerland Troop
 This week's Scout meeting showed a perfect attendance—all but one patrol leader! Next week let's make it perfect.
 The troop was fortunate in having a visit from District Scoutmaster Gordon Blewett, who gave a most instructive 20-minute talk on his personal tracking experiences. Gordon also directed 20 minutes of tumbling exercises which proved not only strenuous but, in some instances, amusing.
 Assistant Scoutmaster McCargar passed the following boys for their second-class first aid: Glen Manning, Bob Brintan, Larry Lemke, John Guthbert and Don Skinner.

 Next week there will be an opportunity to pass more second class first aid, signalling and fireman's badges.
 The Scout-Guide party on Saturday night proved most successful with an attendance of 60. Our thanks to P/L Victor Smith for his share of the arrangements.
 The Father and Son banquet for Cubs and Scouts will take place on Tuesday, March 4. Every Scout is expected to pass at least one badge for presentation on this occasion. How about those missing items of uniforms? Full uniform will be needed for the banquet.
 The troop welcomed Senior Sixer Lawley from the 2nd Summerland Cub pack. He is posted to the Eufaloes.
 Notices: Next meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 12 at 7 p.m. Duty patrol, Eufaloes. Found: One Scout hat.—D. V. Fisher.

High School COMMENTS

Probably receiving the most attention right now is—Has spring arrived? The sudden change in weather has put a stop to activity at the arena and left curling enthusiasts with nothing to do on Saturday mornings.
 Friday night a busload (a very large busload) of basketball players and spectators journeyed to Westbank where Summerland teams really put Westbank on the run, winning all four games by wide margins. Scores were junior girls 20-5, junior boys 28-16, senior girls 26-12, and senior boys 27-11.
 Monday afternoon Summerland High's debating team out-talked Rutland to win by 4 points in a first round debate. Full story may 65 and 69?

Are You Between

Starting January 1, 1952, the Provincial Government will join with the Government of Canada in paying an allowance of $40 a month, called Old-age Assistance, to persons between the ages of 65 and 69 who indicate need by passing an eligibility test.

Keen Interest Shown by Members of Sewing Classes

In the pleasant setting of the home economics room in the junior-senior high school, night sewing classes are held on Thursday evenings.

Mrs. Vernon Charles is the competent and popular instructress, and seventeen are taking the course. The average attendance is thirteen. Not one masculine application was received.

All sorts of things are under way in this class. Some of those enrolled had never sewn before and patterns and dressmaking were more intricate to them than any jig-saw puzzle. As for putting a zipper in place—it seemed ridiculously difficult for such a little—and so necessary part of a garment.

Some have brought old material on which to practice. Others are making children's clothes out of strong parts of used clothing.

Those who have had experience are taking the course to learn how to finish properly, and for some of the finer points which they have not had an opportunity to know before.

Each pupil is taught to thread a sewing-machine; how to use it, and the mysteries of the attachments are explained and put to work.

Skirts seem to be a popular experiment, though the smart results take them out of the experimental category. Certainly they are a practical choice.

Children's clothing, underwear, pyjamas, a pleated skirt, and a boy's shirt, are some of the garments being made, and gratifying it is to see the article evolve and develop into something useful and needed.

One of the novices has advanced to making a woolen dress, and doing a very good job, too. Another, who has done sewing before, has made a pretty silk suit. Blouses, from the tailored variety, to a lace evening one, are being undertaken, and everyone in the group is finding the evening refreshing and diverting.

The whole atmosphere is agreeable and congenial with many working in twos in the big, airy room. Tables are convenient for cutting and the light good. Right at hand are pressing facilities, and a long mirror for effects.

Through the room, Mrs. Charles moves from one to another quietly demonstrating with sure hands the right way to do this or that. She has been sewing since she was eleven years old, and through practical experience long before she was married, and after, has learned the art. During World War II she did a great deal of sewing for the Red Cross with the Peach Orchard group, and she often helps with local welfare sewing projects. The course is a five months' one, with records of attendance kept and turned into Summerland school board at the end of the allotted time.

This type of night school work was advocated by Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education, when he addressed those gathered for the opening of the school last fall, and has been followed up by the local school board in co-operation with the principal, Mr. A. K. Macleod.

Most women find some sort of handicraft restful and a pleasurable change from the daily round of housework. So these evenings are refreshing and the products so satisfactory.

Those taking advantage of the instruction are Mrs. L. Burnell, Mrs. D. Orr, Mrs. J. Rewakowski, Mrs. J. Schaeffer, Mrs. J. Heavysides, Mrs. E. Amos, Mrs. J. Yarshanke, Mrs. Frank Woodward, Mrs. J. M. McArthur, Mrs. F. E. Britton, Mrs. K. Hickson, Mrs. L. W. Rumball, Mrs. Leslie Rumball, Mrs. V. Higgs, Mrs. Alex Kean, Mrs. Dennis Kean, and Miss Rita Backmeyer.

VISITING HERE

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Coulson of Elkhorn, Man., are visiting for two weeks at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. K. Boothe. Mrs. Coulson's sister, Mrs. Myrtle Scott, who is employed at Summerland General hospital, is enjoying their visit, too. The couple will go on to Vancouver and are planning another stay here on the way back to their home.

Mrs. Adele Guidi of Kelowna visited last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. Guidi and another guest was the latter's sister, Miss Orsolina Rossi, who arrived in Kelowna a short time ago from Pontecosi-de-Garfagnana, Italy. The sisters had not seen one another for thirty-eight years. Miss Rossi intends to stay in Canada, and for the present will make her home in Kelowna.

Gordon Nixon, son of Mr. Fred J. Nixon, retired municipal clerk, flew from Ottawa last week to spend a short time with his father, who is making a splendid recovery in Penticton hospital following a fall in which he broke his hip. For the first time since his accident, Mr. Nixon was able to get out of bed for a short time last week. Gordon Nixon is assistant controller of communications with the department of transport in Ottawa.

Forest Branch Has Two Divisions Now

Establishment of technical services and administrative services branch of the forest branch is announced by Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests. F. S. McKinnon, forester in charge of the management division, assumes charge of technical services, and E. W. Bassett, district forester of Vancouver district, heads the administrative services. The new divisions are necessary to meet demands of present-day expansion in forest problems and forest industries.

Flood Control Project Will Proceed in Spring States Hon. R. W. Mayhew

Welcome news, that has been awaited for three years was received in the Okanagan last Friday with receipt of a telegram from Hon. R. W. Mayhew, minister of fisheries and B.C.'s only cabinet minister, that all obstacles in the way of starting Okanagan flood control's long-awaited projects have been cleared away.

It is anticipated that work will be started this spring towards straightening, deepening and widening the Okanagan river channel from Penticton south to the border, and the installation of two new control dams at the river mouth and at Okanagan Falls, where Skaha Lake empties again into the river.

Two million dollars is the sum voted by federal and provincial governments for this scheme, but this sum will now have to be raised, it is anticipated, because of higher costs since estimates were obtained and the added expense of building fish ladders in accordance with demands of United States authorities.

It was the latter part of the project which caused the most recent delay, and which threatened to hold up control of flood waters in the Okanagan for a considerable time.

Engineers' planning report was tabled at Ottawa five years ago, but in the past year to eighteen months the American and Canadian authorities have argued over the necessity of installing fish ladders, as demanded by the Americans.

As Okanagan river is under the international waterways agreement, Canada was powerless to proceed until a settlement in this project could be reached, it is stated.

On Friday, Hon. Mr. Mayhew wired to Art Gray, Rutland, president of the Yale Liberal Assn. and to Mayor W. A. Rathbun of Penticton that he did not anticipate further delay in getting flood control work underway.

When Mr. Mayhew was in the Okanagan during the BCFGA convention he was given an insight into the urgency of this project by Mr. Gray, Mayor Rathbun and Maurice Finnerty, MLA for Similkameen.

All Difficulties Removed
In his reply, the B.C. minister did not declare if the fish ladders are to be included in the project but did state that all difficulties have been cleared away and the departments of public works of the two governments can now proceed with the project.

Mayor J. J. Ladd in Kelowna last weekend declared a meeting of the Okanagan Valley Flood Control committee will be called in the near future to determine what other steps are essential in the general program of preventing flooding of lakeshore property.

It was known last week that a meeting of the international joint waterways commission was being held to try and find a solution to the fishways. Mr. Mayhew's investigation of the situation coincided with this session and he was able to report favorably to the Okanagan as a consequence.

The control project is drawn up in three stages, one being the installation of a dam at the river mouth at Penticton and the dredging of a new river channel south to Skaha Lake, the second is construction of a dam above Okanagan Falls and work to Vaseaux Lake; the third being the construction of a proper river channel south through Oliver to Lake Osoyoos.

Bridges and highways tie in with this project as it is anticipated a new bridge will be built to provide a northern entrance to Penticton, while railways and highway bridges at several other points farther south will have to be relocated.

Not only is the project designed to provide control of Okanagan Lake levels to prevent spring flooding, but it also hopes to alleviate the flooding of low-lying land near the river at Penticton and in the Oliver-Osoyoos areas.

New Low Level of 98.5
Under present agreement, the level for Okanagan Lake is 98.5 feet, with a maximum of 102.5. When the flood control plan is completed the minimum level will be 98.5, with an emergency low of 97.5, it is stated.

Roove C. E. Bentley was conferring with Mayor Rathbun in Penticton on Friday when the latter received Mr. Mayhew's welcome telegram. Both municipal officials have expressed their gratification that, after so many years of waiting, the prevention of flooding in the Okanagan is to be undertaken.

There are many who fear that with such a heavy snowfall this winter that threats of floods will occur again this spring and early summer.

Mrs. David Kean arrived on Monday from MacDonal Airport, Portage La Prairie, to visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Grant.

St. Stephen's Reports Show Good Standing

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 30, the annual general meeting of St. Stephen's Anglican church was held in the parish hall. Between fifty and sixty members of the church listened to excellent reports regarding the past year's work, which included that of the Women's Auxiliaries and Sunday school.

Canon F. V. Harrison gave a detailed account of the activities of the parish, and mentioned that the bishop has asked him to take over the position of rural dean which meant an increase in his duties.

He expressed the thanks and appreciation of himself and Mrs. Harrison to the ladies, officers, and members for their help and kindness during the past year.

The financial report presented by Mr. Alec Watt showed finances in good condition and reflected great credit on the treasurer and financial committee.

The following officers were elected for 1952: Lay delegates to the synod, C. J. Huddleston, A. F. Calder; substitutes, C. J. Clark, Dr. D. V. Fisher; rector's warden, C. J. Clark; people's warden, C. J. Huddleston; secretary, W. C. W. Fosbery; treasurer, A. W. Watt; envelope secretary, A. F. Calder; church committee, Mrs. D. L. Sanborn, Miss M. Cartwright, F. E. Atkinson, Dr. D. V. Fisher, H. C. Howis, H. R. Hodgson, Ivor Solly, J. Y. Towgood, W. C. Baker, E. C. Bingham, H. Findlow, K. E. Thomson and Capt. J. E. Jenkinson; auditor, Ivor Solly.

Delicious coffee and refreshments were enjoyed after the meeting.

Guides Raise Funds for Summer Camp at Ottawa

Already Summerland's contribution of $80 has been forwarded to the divisional Guide headquarters for the divisional project of raising funds to send Guides from the South Okanagan division to the Guide camp at Ottawa this summer.

The sum is to be raised by Guides, Brownies and the Guide Association and was announced at the monthly meeting of the Guide Association held at the Youth Centre, Jan. 31. There was a great deal of essential business to discuss and it was regretted that more members were not present.

The annual meeting is to be on Feb. 28, when it is hoped that mothers of Guides and Brownies, and many others interested in this work, will attend, and hear a report of the year's activities.

Mrs. G. Lewis was welcomed as representative of the Legion LA, which organization has made a grant of $25 to the Guides in appreciation of their help on Poppy Day.

Work of the badge secretary, Mrs. W. H. Durick, received commendation as was the work of all those people who have been instructing and examining Guides for proficiency badges. Mr. S. J. Feltham is preparing a class for handy-woman and pathfinder badges. Mrs. P. C. Greer held a popular dancing class, and Mrs. Alec Watt is instructing Guides in singing.

Thinking Day is on February 22. Guides and Brownies will parade to St. Stephen's church on February 24. On this occasion the Guide choir, trained by Mrs. Watt, will take part.

There still remains an urgent need for Guide and Brownie leaders; and it is hoped the Guide Association will acquire new members to help carry out its increased responsibilities.

A forthcoming event will be a Mother and Daughter banquet to be held early in April. This will mark the anniversary of the re-organization of the Summerland Guides.

Progress Shown In Reports from Lakeside Church

Elected to the board of stewards of Lakeside United church for 1952 were George Witte, V. Charles, M. McKechnie, L. McLaughlin, Walter Bleasdale, Mrs. E. R. Butler, Mrs. W. Greer, Mrs. J. Raincock, Mrs. A. R. Morgan and Miss Mary Scott.

The election took place on Wednesday evening, Jan. 30, when forty-three were present for the pot-luck supper followed by the annual meeting.

As indicated in the term "pot-luck" no one knew quite what to expect for supper, but by the time all the ladies had brought casseroles, salads, or some of their best cooking of one sort or another, a delightful meal had been assembled, and its informality made it all the more delightful.

When supper was finished church business was transacted and reports were heard, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore acting as chairman.

Mrs. J. Van Gameron spoke for the Cradle Roll; Mrs. Walter Bleasdale, Sunday school; Mrs. A. R. Morgan, Women's Auxiliary; Mrs. Vernon Charles, Women's Missionary Society; Mrs. H. Pohlmann, choir, a report which was amplified by Mr. Whitmore; and Mr. V. Charles, board of stewards.

Through these it was shown that progress had been made in all departments during 1951.

The congregation expressed thanks to the kind person or persons who anonymously had the church auditorium thoroughly cleaned and decorated during the past summer.

Senior First Aid Course is Offered Now

Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony was elected chairman of the St. John Ambulance Association at the annual meeting held in the Medical Clinic on Thursday evening, Jan. 31.

Mrs. O'Mahony replaces G. J. Beggs who has been the chairman since 1948 but felt that he was too often out of town on business to continue another year. He will act as vice-chairman. Miss Louise Atkinson will remain as secretary-treasurer.

It was decided that a course in senior first aid would be held immediately if sufficient persons are interested to form a class. It is hoped that members of the local fire brigade will take this course.

A junior first aid class will be started at the school under the direction of D. M. Sanford, it is expected.

First aid under the civil defence scheme was discussed but it was decided that this should be left until after the next meeting of the local civil defence committee and a specialized training be given the members of the civil defence organization.

Miss Amy Yamabe Heads Temperance Council for Youth

Officers for the Youth Temperance Council which has been formed in Trout Creek are Miss Amy Yamabe, president; Miss Lona Deringer, vice-president; Miss Joyce Willis, secretary; and Miss June Williams, treasurer. There are eleven members.

The newly formed council has had three meetings, one in December, one in January, and at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, at the home of Mrs. E. C. Deringer.

Mrs. Percy Miller is the superintendent of the YTC, and has been assisted by Mrs. E. Deringer.

At Sunday's meeting each member was told to bring a guest, and there were nine visitors. A question box was a feature of the program, and it was decided to have a debate at the next meeting.

At five o'clock the hostess served a delicious buffet supper.

Sending Money Away?

This Way is Safe and Simple Too

If you are sending money away for any purpose, you want to be quite sure that it will reach its destination. Well, here's as safe a way of sending money as you can find, and one that's both simple and inexpensive.

Drop into your local branch of the Bank of Montreal, and purchase a B of M Money Order. Such money orders are payable without charge anywhere in Canada (except in the Yukon). Slip the money order into an envelope, mail it, and you can rest happy in the knowledge that you've assured the best protection at really low cost. And you know, too, that the person at the other end won't have to be bothered with any exchange charge; he'll get the full face value of the money order.

If you have to send money anywhere more rapidly than by post, have a word with Charles Guernsey, the accountant at the B of M branch in West Summerland. He'll make sure that your funds are rushed to their destination by the B of M's special telegraphic and cable system.

Ex-Victoria Mayor New Chairman of Public Utilities

Percy E. George, former mayor of Victoria, has been appointed chairman of the public utilities commission to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. W. A. Carrothers, Premier Byron I. Johnson, stated last week.

Mr. George was Coalition candidate in the recent Esquimalt by-election and was defeated.

Since the death of Dr. Carrothers D. K. Penfold has been acting-chairman. The appointment to the board of Mr. George completes its maximum personnel. In making the announcement, the premier stated that the government felt particularly fortunate in having as the new chairman a man who had had such wide experience in public affairs, and one who is completely cognizant of the requirements for a position calling for adjudicating ability.

Mr. George has been in public life for a quarter of a century serving as a school trustee, chairman of the school board, alderman and mayor. He served on library and police commissions, gave freely of his time to both the junior and senior chambers of commerce. He has been president of the B.C. School Trustees Association, president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities and president of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Reeves.

In addition to being named chairman of the public utilities commission, Mr. George also was appointed sole member of the coal and petroleum control board.

Cars driven by a United States and a prairie visitor collided on Monday, Jan. 28 near the Antlers at a narrow spot on Okanagan Highway No. 97, it was reported to RCMP in Summerland. Both cars were badly damaged but the occupants escaped unhurt.

Balded-Headed Eagles, Becoming Rare Birds, Seen on Lakeshore

Two bald-headed eagles were seen at close range on Saturday, Jan. 26 on the ice near the lakeshore between the homes of the Fudges and Sheldrakes.

They have been seen several times since then.

At first sight one of them seemed as if it might be a small, dark-haired dog, but at closer range was seen to be a magnificent specimen of the majestic eagle that symbolizes the United States and appears on that country's Great Seal, on coins, on dollar bills, and on many state seals.

The American Mercury in a recent issue regrets that, by a tragic irony, that is the only place where most Americans see their national emblem, because this eagle is now almost extinct.

It is estimated, the article continues, that there are only about 350 pairs in Florida and perhaps 150 through Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia. In most states there are none, and in others a few pairs.

"Years ago it was thought that eagles were inexhaustible, and it was considered fine sport to kill them. By 1940, when a protective federal law was passed, there was only a remnant left.

"These white headed eagles are superb birds. They have been called "bald" because of the pure whiteness of the head feathers. The upper tail coverts and the tail are the same pure white. The rest is feathered white and gray. The handsome beak and talons are clear yellow. The eyes sweeping the horizon glitter like gold. There is dignity in the bird.

"They nest for life, building a real home in the top of a high tree, using it year after year, repairing it and adding to it. It may weigh an unbelievable amount. Eaglets are in the nest for two months and when they start to fly may make a first flight of a full mile.

"Many false tales have been told about the eagle. They have been supposed to seize children. It is known that they cannot lift more than fifteen pounds, and they rarely prey on smaller birds. Their diet consists mainly of fish, most of which the eagle finds dead. So it is valuable as a scavenger.

"The 1940 law was not applied to Alaska where many birds might have been saved. In fact, there has been a $2 bounty which has resulted in killing more than 100,000 eagles.

"It has been proven that they are not marauders in Alaska's salmon

Penticton Delegation Presents Brief to Commerce Minister

PENTICTON—Mayor W. A. Rathbun, accompanied by Alderman Frank Christian and Harold W. McInnes, K.C., obtained an extended interview with Hon. C. D. Howe, Canada's minister of trade and commerce when he was in Vancouver recently, and presented a brief with relevant maps.

This delegation's brief stressed Penticton's advantages as a centre for certain industrial production, in relation to Canada's preparedness campaign.

"Mr. Howe was very much interested and gave us an excellent reception," Mayor Rathbun declared on his return. "I'm convinced that the points we brought before him could be of great advantage to Penticton in the immediate future."

or fur-farming industries. It is hoped that the American Congress will take steps to protect them in Alaska, too," the article concludes.

Reid A. Johnston, well-known West Summerland CPR agent and a former reeve of this municipality, has been named vice-chairman of the legislative committee which serves all branches of railroad operation in this province. Mr. Johnston was at the coast recently in connection with recommendations which the railroaders are making to the provincial legislature relative to changes in the ICA and Workmen's Compensation acts, as well as the BCHIS.

Tree Fruits Marketing Setup is Model for All North America

KELOWNA—B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. is looked upon as the model marketing agency on the North American continent, according to H. C. Kiger, agricultural economist in the U.S. department of agriculture.

Mr. Kiger, who makes his headquarters in Washington, D.C. arrived here last week during the course of a dominion wide survey of marketing organizations, with a view of solving the Florida citrus growers' plight who today are suffering from over-production and diminishing returns.

The citrus growers requested the U.S. department of agriculture to make a study of the more widely-known and better marketing agencies on the continent. Mr. Kiger recently visited California and Washington before coming to the Okanagan.

He admitted that during his brief stay in the city, the set-up of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., seemed the most impressive of all points he has visited to date. He will visit Toronto before returning to the American capital.

"I am also interested in the type of legislation which permitted the setting up of this organization," Mr. Kiger stated, adding that the marketing legislation in the U.S. is not comparable to the B.C. act under which growers market their produce.

While the survey pertains mainly to citrus fruits, it could very well apply to other commodities, he said. The plight of the U.S. grower is very similar to the Okanagan apple producer, he added.

During the war, the U.S. government encouraged the farmer to increase production, and during these years, he received fairly good returns for his produce. In recent years, however, the government has found it necessary to assist primary producers.

The development of frozen citrus fruit concentrate has temporarily assisted growers, he said, but many groves planted about five years ago are now coming into production. Mr. Kiger saw a worse glut on the market in years to come.

Capable Leadership While an organization known as the Florida Citrus Mutual has attempted several times to embark on a campaign to improve marketing conditions, it has not proven successful, Mr. Kiger continued.

He admitted that before a growers' selling agency could handle the marketing of citrus fruits, necessary government legislation would have to be enacted, but the prime requisite would be engaging men of capable management and leadership.

Small Holdings Project on West Bench to Start

PENTICTON—The West Bench small holdings development project will become a reality soon and the arid acreage will be transformed into 90 lots of 1.6 acres each, with irrigation water and domestic services.

N. M. McCallum, provincial engineer, told M. P. Finnerty, MLA, that the present flood control project, which entails a change in the course of Okanagan river, will present no problems for the project.

The pumping station for water supplies will be erected on the present river channel and it will be moved when the new course is cut, Mr. Finnerty was told. The old road which joins the highway just north of the city will be used until road and flood control plans are completed and the river can be bridged.

Engineering surveys have been completed and the actual work of dividing the land and building roads will be commenced at the earliest possible date.

CBU Heard on Summerland Radios

Reports from widely-separated points in B.C. have been received by the CBC in Vancouver regarding reception from their new transmitter, Station CBU. In the daytime, the Okanagan and Cariboo are considered "fringe" areas.

From Summerland came the following report:

"Congratulations on your new wave length and power. We are receiving a very strong signal. Your old transmitter did not reach us."

Ladino Clover Recommended for Use in Stone Fruit Orchards

During the past 20 years, a large number of orchard cover crops have been tested at the Summerland experimental station and at the substation at Kelowna, says Dr. J. C. Wilcox. One purpose of these tests has been to find cover crops that will assist in controlling soil erosion, that will maintain a reasonable amount of organic matter in the soil, and that will not render ordinary orchard operations inconvenient.

In these tests special attention has been given to ladino clover. This is a giant type of white clover, growing to a height of about one foot. Early tests showed that it was not generally suitable under furrow irrigation, chiefly because it spreads rapidly with runners and thus tends to plug up the furrows. Under sprinkler irrigation, however, this characteristic has not been a handicap.

Ladino clover has proved to be an excellent cover crop in certain respects. It is low growing, and therefore interferes little, if at all, with orchard operations. When the cover crop is not mown, ladino clover competes poorly with tall weeds and grasses; but when they are mown two or three times during the summer, ladino competes with them very well indeed—even with such weeds as couch grass and Canada thistle. It provides reasonable amounts of both nitrogen and organic matter.

Dr. Wilcox finds this cover crop also has some weakness. It does not provide as much nitrogen or humus as alfalfa or sweet clover, nor as much humus as strong-growing grasses like brome. It is shallow rooted, and so suffers from drought in sandy soils when irrigation water is not applied frequently enough. Because of its shallow roots, it is not as suitable as alfalfa for opening up heavy, tight soils. At the present time the seed is quite expensive.

But Ladino clover has proved to be especially useful in stone fruit orchards that are irrigated by the sprinkler method, and has been recommended by the station for that purpose. Largely because of its convenience in the orchard and of its ability to compete with noxious weeds, it is proving quite popular with orchardists in B.C.

Present recommendations are to sow at the rate of three pounds per acre; or two pounds per acre together with five pounds per acre of Kentucky blue grass. This mixture has also given excellent results in apple and pear orchards.

January Cold Dull and Snowy Report Shows

With eighteen inches of snow, only 38.8 hours of sunshine, an average high of 27 and an average minimum of 14, January was a cold, snowy, dull month, the weather report issued from the experimental station indicates.

Not until the last few days of the month did the weather moderate so that the mercury could climb above freezing during the day, while three nights at the start of the new year it went down below the zero level.

On several other evenings it was nearly down to zero, providing a glittering ice surface at the arena but piling up the fuel bills for all householders.

Junior Pack is Praised by CFD

KELOWNA—Canadian Fruit Distributors Ltd. branch managers consider the junior apple pack is meeting with general approval insofar as consumers are concerned.

This was their decision announced during their four-day meeting with sales agency heads in Kelowna last week.

They also expressed the thought that the junior box would make a good container for pears.

Chief topic of discussion was the marketing of various commodities and how to increase distribution. It was stated that, generally speaking, the commodities delivered last year met with the general approval of retailers.

Apples met with tough competition, in that both Michigan and Ontario produce has been delivered to Manitoba cities during the past few years. This has been due to low prices prevailing in those shipping areas.

Howard Faulkner Heads Kelowna Board

KELOWNA—Need of a natural gas pipeline from Alberta through the Okanagan to provide cheaper fuel and stimulate manufacturing; improved hotel accommodation and the want of new industries listed by C. G. Beeston as three essentials for this city when he presented his address as retiring president of the Kelowna Board of Trade.

Howard Faulkner was elected president, with G. D. Imrie, vice-president, Tom Hill, secretary, and an executive of F. F. Baines, J. D. Bews, D. A. Chapman, R. D. Horton, Bert Johnston, H. R. Long, Tom Moryson and N. J. Waddington.

Summerland Merchants Join Six-Team Valley League for Summer Ball

Summerland senior baseball fans will follow their favorite nine in an all-Canadian circuit this year after acceptance of the Summerland Merchants into the Okanagan-Mainline baseball league at the annual meeting in Kelowna last Thursday afternoon.

Decision to switch from the Okanagan International league, in which Merchants have operated for the past two years, was made following a visit here by Frank Bowsfield, O-M league president, who made the offer to the Merchants. Merchants' delegates to the league meeting last week were Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh and Elmer Johnstone, accompanied by Bob Bleasdale.

All other league members, Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton and Oliver welcomed the new entrants and urged on Summerland the benefits to be derived from fencing their ball park.

Night Ball at Penticton

Penticton is the most enthusiastic baseball town on the circuit right now and is expecting to have lights erected for night baseball before the season gets well into summer.

Penticton wanted the league to operate on a three away and three home basis, so that more mid-week games under lights could be arranged for the Penticton park, but Kamloops and Oliver clubs, having the most travelling to undertake, were against this proposal.

As a consequence, two away and two at home series with each team will be scheduled with play to commence on Sunday, April 20.

Full details of the league schedule will be announced later.

The schedule will probably follow the pattern drawn up last year except that there will be no byes as the full slate of six teams gives every squad a chance to play each Sunday.

It is likely that some of the closest teams, such as Oliver, Penticton, Summerland and Kelowna may arrange some mid-week games in the schedule.

Bowsfield Re-elected

Frank Bowsfield was re-elected president of the O-M league and he will choose his own secretary. Les Gould was named Summerland representative on the league directorate.

The schedule will terminate before Labor Day and playoffs will then be arranged involving the top four teams.

Local ball enthusiasts expect that Gil Jacobs will be available for summer play again, provided a suitable type of employment between university terms can be arranged. Work on a survey crew is the most desirable type of employment for the big left-hander, in accordance with his university studies.

There is also a possibility that Wally Day may be back in Summerland this summer. An offer of a permanent job is believed to have been made to Wally who is well known here for his athletic prowess.

Last summer, Wally was a member of the pitching staff of the North Stars in the Kingsway loop in Vancouver. He has been employed at Trail the last few months but his future is a bit uncertain right now.

With these two young hurlers on the club roster, Summerland could meet any of the league teams as they lined up last year and give them a run for their money, local ball fans believe.

Round Robin Series To Decide Champion In Commercial Loop

After February 24, when regular league schedule winds up, the playoffs in the Penticton commercial league will commence, it was decided last week at a league executive meeting attended by Summerland Manager George Stoll.

Summerland is well out in front of the league right now, but due to the vagaries of the league executive in session last week that won't mean a thing when it comes to the playoffs.

A round robin series, with each team playing every other team two games has been decided upon for the playoffs. Winner will be the league champion.

Thus, all the regular season scheduled games will have no relation to the eventual champion declared after the round robin series.

Double headers on Sundays and once during the week will be arranged in order to conclude this round robin in a month, Mr. Stoll states.

In the meantime, Summerland will be entering Coy Cup playoff hockey and will probably meet Kelowna Chevrons in the first round.

Third Volleyball Tournney Comes Here On Saturday Feb. 8

A central zone volleyball tournament is to be held at Summerland on Saturday, February 8 with Rutland, George Fringle (Westbank) Kelowna and Summerland participating in both girls and boys events.

This is the third tournament of the volleyball season, the first two being held at Rutland and Westbank.

Two points are awarded for a win and one for a tie game.

The present team standing is: Girls: George Fringle 11, Kelowna 17, Summerland 4, Rutland 4. Boys: George Fringle 0, Kelowna 20, Summerland 6, Rutland 10.

Kelowna teams last year won the provincial volleyball championship.

JOINS WD OF RCAF

Mrs. Fred Walker has received word from Vancouver that her niece, Miss Gwen Lamacraft, has joined the RCAF, and will be leaving for Manning Depot at St. John, Quebec, early in March.

DICKIE MOORE, one of the Montreal Canadiens rookies, continues to gather points in the current N.H.L. race. Dickie came to the Habs from the Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, a farm club of the Canadiens.

Senior Pucksters Will Enter Coy Cup Playoffs This Year

Summerland will enter a team in the Coy Cup playoffs, only entry south of Kelowna, it was learned from hockey manager George Stoll this week.

Prince George appears to be the hottest picture on the Coy Cup scene, having walloped a strong Kamloops squad in two exhibition games recently, despite the fact that the Kamloops Coy Cuppers were packed with ex-Kamloops Elks players.

Penticton has decided against entering any team despite the fact that four teams are now competing in a commercial league the equivalent of Coy Cup calibre play.

Kelowna Chevrons, who haven't lost a game in Kelowna commercial league play, will probably represent that city in the Coy Cup playoffs.

Summerland's lineup will include Steininger, Taylor, Roberge, Carston, Frisby, Kato, Eyre, Hooker, Campbell, Les Howard and Cluett in goal.

Johnny Croft is unlikely to be signed as he intends to leave shortly for the coast, Mr. Stoll has been informed.

Jack Biechel, who was Summerland's goalie last year and who has now moved to Penticton, will be signed as a spare goaltender.

He has not been playing in the Penticton commercial league.

Three or four Rutland players will be added to the Summerland roster, as provided for in Coy Cup playoff regulations. No Penticton commercial league players will be added to Summerland strength, Mr. Stoll declares.

Playoffs in the Okanagan-Mainline area are to be concluded by March 15, it is stated.

Joe McLachlan, president of the Summerland Fish and Game club and Bill Snow were among the Summerland delegates to the meeting. No session of the local fish and game club had been called prior to the zone meeting.

Francis Gould Captures Senior Men's Combined at Valley Tournament

Francis Gould, president of the Summerland ski club, captured the men's senior slalom, placed third in the senior downhill and captured the senior men's combined trophy at the Okanagan ski championships in Kelowna last weekend.

He was the chief competitor from Summerland to win honors, although Shirley Wilson placed second in the senior ladies' downhill and was third in the senior slalom.

David Doumont of Summerland was first in the juvenile slalom, with Larry Lemke second and Ron Wilson sixth. In the downhill, Doumont placed fifth, Lemke seventh and Wilson ninth.

Didn't Clock Klix
Lori Klix had tough luck in the junior boys' downhill, as he made a very fast run only to find the timekeepers hadn't synchronized on his start. Officials claimed there wasn't time for a re-run and just guessed at his time.

Daryl Weitzel, who is generally prominent in any ski tourney, injured his ankle again and finished fourth in the downhill. He was out of the running in the slalom.

Locals Double Count, 8-4, on Puck Packers

It was a free-scoring contest at Penticton arena on Sunday when Summerland took the measure of the OK Packers by an 8-4 count.

Scoring was evenly divided, with Eyre, Klasoff and Steininger bulging the twine for two goals each. After Summerland took a 3-1 edge in the first stanza, Packers came roaring back to knot the count before Steininger put Summerland ahead for once and all. Summerland outscored Packers 4-1 in the final period.

Not a penalty was handed out in the first two periods, but referees tightened down in the third period and sent five players to the sidelines for slashing and roughing.

1st Period: 1, S. Eyre (Kato) 4:10; 2, S. Klasoff (Campbell) 10:35; 3, S. Howard (Kato) 15:10; 4, P. Elman (Swift) 16:16.

Sportsmen Want Two Weeks More Grouse Shooting

A recent meeting of fish and game clubs from Kelowna south to the border was held in Penticton to outline requests from sportsmen for the 1952 season. These recommendations will be considered by the B.C. Interior Assn. meeting in Kelowna on March 16 and 17.

The sportsmen from South Okanagan advocated an open season for pheasants Hungarian partridge and quail similar to last year.

However, they want two weeks more on blue, willow and Franklin grouse, while shooting of ducks and geese is requested for 65 days starting October 15 rather than October 1 as in the past.

No change in the deer, elk or moose seasons was sought by South Okanagan sportsmen.

Joe McLachlan, president of the Summerland Fish and Game club and Bill Snow were among the Summerland delegates to the meeting. No session of the local fish and game club had been called prior to the zone meeting.

MORE ABOUT—

became George VI. Their Majesties were crowned on May 12, 1937.

All Canadians remember with a thrill of pride the triumphant tour made by King George VI. and his Queen Elizabeth across Canada in May and June of 1939, cementing relations between this Dominion and the Commonwealth and also visiting the United States for four days as guests of the late President Roosevelt.

This tour preceded World War II. and during those bitter years the King and members of his family were indefatigable. Their frequent visits to hundreds of military establishments and munitions factories encouraged those engaged in the war effort despite the bomb damage.

In October, 1939, the King visited troops in France and in June, 1943, he spent some time with the victorious Allied forces in North Africa, also visiting the beleaguered fortress of Malta.

On the first and successive wartime Christmas days he revived his father's practice of broadcasting a message to the Commonwealth.

An impediment in his speech which he fought constantly to overcome sometimes hindered his annual message but his natural determination won over his physical handicap and the entire world listened with wrapt attention to the monarch's annual broadcast.

Last Christmas, it was thought that he would discontinue his broadcast because of the lung operation, but he talked to his people as usual although his speech was quite halting and the tone strained.

Persons throughout the British Commonwealth of Nations and many in the United States, France and other free countries feel that the loss of King George VI. is their own personal grief and loss.

Many Changes in Residence with Switch in Garage Ownership

Several new residents have been added to those who call Summerland their home in the past month, while a number of others, some with many years' residence here have gone to Kelowna to reside as a result of the changeover in Pollock Motors Ltd. setup here.

Mr. V. B. Durnin, who took over the General Motors franchise here and has been operating since late last fall as Durnin Motors, now has his staff fairly complete.

Mr. Walter Caryk, formerly assistant foreman at Vernon Motor Products Ltd., is in charge of Durnin Motors back shop as foreman, and he has with him as mechanic George McFarlane, formerly of Pentiction and two apprentice mechanics, Walter Degner of Kelowna and David Hickson, of Pentiction and formerly a Summerland boy.

Mr. Caryk comes here with years of experience in handling General Motors products while Mr. McFarlane has had 30 years' experience in the trade. He was in Pentiction for the past two years.

Keith King, who had four years' experience handling General Motors parts on Vancouver Island and at Vancouver has come from the latter city to take charge of Durnin Motors parts room.

Miss Mildred Verrier has returned to Summerland to assume the role of accountant-stenographer in the new business.

This week, Durnin Motors is opening a body repair and paint shop in the Hastings street premises vacated by Pollock Motors Ltd.

Mr. Albert Armstrong, who also had eight years' experience in the body repair shop of Vernon Motor Products Ltd. at Vernon, takes charge of this important phase of the garage service.

Although Pollock Motors Ltd. has moved to Kelowna, the handling of GM Diesel and Allis-Chalmers bulldozers and farm machinery, along with some other allied lines, in the southern interior remains with headquarters in Summerland.

This portion of the sales and service setup of Pollock Motors will be known as Interior Diesel Ltd. and will be operated for Mr. Pollock by Mr. Dave McInnis from the Hastings street centre. Continuing to be associated with Mr. McInnis are Eric Bullock and M. Gillis, specialists in the servicing of Allis-Chalmers and GM diesels.

When Mr. Frank Pollock opened his Pollock Motors Ltd. setup in Kelowna last week, he took with him his brother, Bert Pollock and others of his mechanical staff, including Percy Cooper, Willard Cokell, Murray Dracas, Bob Nelson and Joe Steward, who handles his body and paint repair shop.

Pollock Motors Ltd. has the Pontiac-Buick-GMC truck franchise in Kelowna district.

Miss Tomi Kubokawa, his efficient secretary, accompanied Mr. Pollock to the Kelowna office.

Mr. Ron Mackay, Mr. Pollock's accountant, has accepted a position as secretary-accountant with the Pyramid Co-operative Growers' Assn. in Pentiction and is commencing his duties there this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollock will continue to occupy their Summerland home until the end of the school term, the former commuting to his Kelowna business.

W. G. Snow, who was selected for a second term as chairman of the board of parks commissioners, informed The Review yesterday that parks board estimates for 1952 will follow closely on the lines of last year.

It is expected that estimates will be submitted, along with the projected work program to municipal council at the next regular session on Tuesday, Feb. 12.

One of the main projects to be undertaken is the completion, as far as possible, of the projected work at Peach Orchard cemetery. This includes completion of all curbing, planting of shrubbery and the staking of some paths to prevent growth of weeds.

Continued Beach Fill Continuation of the fill at Powell Beach is another major project and the parks board believes it will be able to provide an anchor for a dragline there to continue with filling of the slough.

If the Jones Flat sprinkler irrigation scheme is finalized this summer, the parks board hopes to participate in order that an adequate water supply for the Living Memorial athletic park will be assured, Mr. Snow declares.

Building of a small bathers' wharf at Peach Orchard beach is another project for this year. Permanent pillars are to be laid and a walk provided so that bathers can proceed out past the rocky section which hampers bathing close to the shoreline.

These projects are planned, and will be subject to acceptance of the overall financial picture by the municipal council, Mr. Snow emphasizes.

He also declared that the parks commissioners have some plans for Peach Orchard park but will not disclose them until they confer further with the municipal council.

A horseshoe pitch and a checker board is planned for the Living Memorial park playground.

E. H. Bennett will continue as secretary to the parks board, Mr. Snow stated this week.

Taxpayers Required to Meet $101,000 Estimate for '52 Bill

Summerland district taxpayers will be required to raise by means of taxation $101,593.20 for school purposes in 1952, the estimates prepared by School District No. 77 (Summerland), approved by the department of education and now in the hands of the municipal council waiting its approval indicate.

Summerland municipal taxpayers are required to meet 94.25 percent of the taxation total, or $95,751.59.

Rural taxpayers share 5.75 percent of the total, or $5,841.61. This means an increase of $8,720 over the amount required to be raised by taxation last year. In estimates in 1951, the municipal portion was $87,440.08 and the rural area $5,432.27.

Municipal taxpayers are therefore required to provide an additional $8,310 this year and rural taxpayers another $400.

Total estimated expenditures for the school system for 1952 are placed at $175,285.50, made up of the following major expenditures: Administration and operation, $125,628; debt services, $18,957.50; conveyance, $13,995; capital account, $16,705.

In administration and operation, school costs have increased $12,600 over last year estimates. Teachers' salaries go up from $80,975 to $92,112 while janitors' salaries are expected to increase another $1,800 to a new high of $10,896.

There is little difference in other amounts over last year's estimates with debt services up slightly.

A major saving is made in conveyance costs, being placed at $13,995 over last year's estimates of $16,598 and the actual cost of $15,000.22.

From the total of costs comes government grants of $41,000. Night school grants are estimated at $150, tuition fees $1,150; rentals, $200 and estimated fruit sales $600. The rebate from the municipality for about half the health services payment, provides another $532, making a grand total of revenue from operation of $43,632. This reduces operating costs from a local taxation standpoint to $81,996.

The government will pay $8,387 of conveyance costs, leaving $5,628 to be raised locally by taxation.

Of the $16,705 capital account expenses, only $150 will be required from local sources as government grants and remaining bylaw funds cover the rest of the expenditure. Had $5,000 Surplus

The total to be raised by taxation after revenues are deducted is actually $106,731.50, but the school board had a surplus from 1951 expenditures of $5,138.30, leaving $101,593.20 to come from tax payments.

In submitting the estimates to the government and the municipal council, the school board has observed in "special comments": "Increase over last year almost entirely due to higher salaries."

These estimates were finalized in a committee session earlier in the month, were approved by the department of education comptroller, Mr. Espley on Friday, Feb. 7, who passed the budget without alteration, Secretary E. A. Tingley, told last Monday's school board meeting.

Municipal council on Tuesday was informed that the school estimates had been submitted in time for the February 15 deadline. However, there was no time on Tuesday for council to consider these estimates and has left until a later date a combined meeting between itself and representatives of the school board.

It is not anticipated that council will make any changes in the budget, as it conforms closely to proposed expenditures of the past two years and the main increases in salaries cannot be altered now.

All Summerland Invited to Attend Memorial Service to Late King George In Auditorium Tomorrow Afternoon

One of the last pictures taken of King George VI prior to his sudden passing in his sleep early Wednesday morning, Feb. 6, shows a much different expression than was familiar to the millions who knew and loved him well. His years of poor health, his struggle to maintain his position and do his duty as King in the face of increasing debility, left their mark on The Good King as he will be known in history.

Summerland, in company with all Canada, will observe tomorrow, Friday, February 15, as a day of mourning in respect for the late King George VI, ruler of Great Britain and the realms of the British Commonwealth.

His Majesty will be laid to rest in Windsor Castle on Friday and all freedom-loving peoples throughout the western world and other portions of the free world will mourn the late King George VI who has come to be known as The Good King.

All places of business except those which provide essential services will be closed tomorrow in Summerland and throughout the province, as the provincial cabinet has decreed a Day of Mourning on the same day the late King is buried.

A Memorial Service is being held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the new high school auditorium by order of His Worship Reeve C. E. Bentley. Every loyal subject of the late King and the new Queen Elizabeth II. is being urged to attend this service.

At 1:40 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, a number of organizations will gather in the main corridors of the high school preparatory to filing into the auditorium for this memorial service.

Members of the Canadian Legion and all ex-service veterans, Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides have been asked to participate in this parade, complete with color parties.

Arrangements for the Memorial Service were made by Reeve C. E. Bentley who called a representative meeting in the school board office Monday morning.

A massed choir will be present tomorrow afternoon to lead the singing. On the platform with Reeve C. E. Bentley will be School Board Chairman C. J. Bleasdale, Principals A. K. Macleod and S. A. MacDonald, and representative ministers from various churches in Summerland district.

Ministers who will take part in the service will be Rev. Canon F. V. Harrison, Rev. H. R. Whitmore and Rev. W. H. Ellis.

The Sailor's hymn, "Eternal Father Strong to Save" and the late King's favorite hymn, "Abide with Me", have been chosen for the service.

Reeve C. E. Bentley will deliver a short address paying tribute to The Good King.

Attempts were made to have an organ available for this service, but this proved impossible.

Singers & Players' Club has been asked to arrange for the massed choir which will consist not only of members of the club but of various church choirs in the community.

Church Services to be Held in Morning

St. Stephen's Anglican church is holding Holy Communion services in memory of the late King tomorrow morning at 8 and 11 o'clock, while the Church of the Holy Child will sing Requiem High Mass at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

No other churches have announced any services for the official day of mourning, as they held memorial services last Sunday during the first week of mourning since the King's death.

Canon F. V. Harrison spoke of the Sailor King coming to "his haven", as in "and so they came to the Haven where they would be". The King had taken God by the hand in the beginning of his reign and in the end God reached forth to take the King's hand while the monarch slept, Canon Harrison explained.

Nearly all the churches sang "Abide with Me", which was the King's favorite.

Immediately following the doxology, the Baptist church congregation Sunday morning sang God Save the Queen.

Rev. W. H. Ellis, Baptist interim pastor, spoke of the grief felt by so many in the loss of a beloved monarch who, in himself, his daily life and through all his many duties, exemplified all that is good and worthwhile.

He recited the late King's Christmas message which said: "Put your hand in the hand of Christ and it shall be better than a crown."

W. T. Boothe was soloist at St. Andrew's United church Sunday morning memorial service, singing "Only Remembered". The choir rendered Bach's "Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring."

Rev. H. R. Whitmore combined three texts, "The Prince and Ruler hath fallen this day in Israel; He fought the fight, he finished the course, he kept the faith; and He whom God crowns let no man dis-crown."

In elaborating on these texts, Rev. Mr. Whitmore stressed the late King's integrity, his love of home and his faith in God.

School Children Hold Services

This afternoon before school is closed, pupils will gather for their memorial service, as schools are closed all day on Friday.

In the MacDonald elementary school, the last period will be turned into a memorial service but as the auditorium will be in full use by the high school, the service will be "piped" to the classrooms through the PA system.

O'Canada and God Save the Queen will be played over the public address system and the pupils will join in singing the anthems. The Lord's Prayer and the 23rd Psalm will be read, while Principal S. A. MacDonald will pay the main tribute to His Majesty.

At the same time, the high school gathers in the new auditorium for its memorial service which opens with O Canada and "Abide with Me". The reading of the 23rd Psalm will precede the tribute to His Majesty given by Principal A. K. Macleod.

Students will observe a minute's silence before singing "Nearer my God to Thee". The Benediction and God Save the Queen will conclude the service.

Numerous organizations in Summerland have marked the death of the King with short ceremonies.

Probably the first adult group in Summerland to stand for a minute's silence and then sing God Save the Queen was the Women's Institute on Friday afternoon.

On Thursday evening, the P-T-A observed a minute's silence, while on Friday and on Monday the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs joined in singing God Save the Queen for the first time.

Hugh Sharman Magistrate, Fruit Grower, Passes Away

Summerland district this week lost a well loved and respected citizen when Hugh Sharman, magistrate and fruit grower, died in Summerland General Hospital on Wednesday morning, Feb. 13, after an illness of some months' duration.

Funeral service is being conducted from St. Stephen's Anglican church on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 16, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Canon F. V. Harrison officiating. Interment will be in the Anglican cemetery.

Born at Bedford, England, in 1874, the late Mr. Sharman received his education at Bedford public school and was a schoolmate of C. J. Huddleston, another pioneer resident of Summerland and C. C. Sworder, of Naramata.

Proficient in sports, he was a great athlete, both on the English rugby field and in cross country races. He received his "Blue" for rugby prowess, as a member of the championship school team.

Graduating as an electrical engineer, he became a member of the Institute of Electrical Engineers and went to Brazil for three years. Alaska and California saw the young Englishman before he arrived in Canada in 1911 to take up farming in Saskatchewan. Shortly afterwards, he returned to England and married Florence Mable Smith, bringing his bride to the Canadian prairie province.

Desides farming, the late Mr. Sharman operated a machinery business in Saskatchewan before deciding to move farther west. It was in 1921 that he and his family came to Summerland to take up fruit ranching.

Throughout the more than a quarter century of life in the Okanagan, Hugh Sharman took a keen interest in the affairs of the fruit industry, with special emphasis on the operation of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn.

His keen, scholarly mind and a natural ability to delve to the core of any subject served him well in contributing to the debates and discussions which centered about the operation of the main industry of the Okanagan—fruit growing and marketing.

It was in 1933 that Hugh Sharman was appointed magistrate of Summerland court and judge of the juvenile court. He held this appointment to his death. He tendered his resignation last month because of ill health but it had not been officially accepted at the time of his death.

For many years Magistrate Sharman was Summerland representative on the Okanagan Union Library board of directors. He was a member of the Anglican church and those who knew him best looked upon him as a keen sportsman and an excellent bridge player.

Besides his wife, who resides in Summerland, he leaves one daughter, Jean, Mrs. R. J. Freeman, of Vancouver and three grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Norah Roth, San Francisco and Mrs. Maude Morris, Wokingham, England, and two brothers, Arthur in California and Leonard in Wokingham, England.

No Change in Store Closing Hours Merchants Decide

There will be no change in the hours of closing of stores in the Summerland Retail Merchants' Assn., the annual meeting in the Nu-Way Annex decided on Thursday evening last.

Although some discussion ensued regarding the possibility of remaining open until 8 o'clock Tuesday nights in the busy packing and canning season, the meeting decided against such a move at the present time.

There was a strong feeling, however, that the tendency is towards a Sunday and Monday combined closing instead of the mid-week all-day Wednesday closing in effect now.

Such a change will not come about this year, members decided.

In weeks when another holiday is being held, stores will remain open until noon on Wednesdays, as has been the case in the past year, it was decided after some debate.

Regular meeting will be held every other month by the association, it was agreed, with an extra meeting in November to plan for Christmas store hours.

Retiring President Cecil Wade declared that the idea of combining with the board of trade in a Christmas activity canvass instead of having two separate financial requests had worked to the benefit of both organizations.

Treasurer T. S. Manning reported a small balance in the association treasury.

Choose Nesbitt President
C. R. Nesbitt was the unanimous choice of the meeting to succeed Mr. Wade as president. Gordon Young is the new vice-president while Howard Pruden continues as secretary and T. S. Manning as treasurer. The executive committee will consist of Mel Ducommun, Gerry Hallquist and Ken Boothe, along with Past President Wade.

Before adjournment a short discussion on the board of trade spring fair took place with President Nesbitt declaring that it might be possible for the association to work more closely with the trade board in this endeavor. A committee will probably be appointed to discuss the spring fair with the trade board.

Rotary to Sponsor UBC Players May 9

Summerland Rotary Club decided at its meeting at the Nu-Way Annex last Friday evening to sponsor the UBC Players' Club annual spring presentation here on May 9. This year the UBC Players have chosen a Shakespearean vehicle, "Much Ado About Nothing."

Rotary has also agreed to the date of its annual ball, which will be held on Friday, April 19 instead of Easter Monday as has been the case in the past.

FRED THOMPSON RESIGNS AS SCHOOL JANITOR

At the meeting of the Summerland school board on Monday, Feb. 11, the resignation of Mr. Fred Thompson, one of the janitors in the junior-senior high school was accepted with regret. The thought was expressed that Mr. Thompson will be missed at games where he has been the popular janitor for a number of years.

Snowshoes, Skis Used in Local Orchards

Maybe there's nothing new under the sun, but Okanagan skiers are seeing something different these days.

Mr. E. Brighton was out in his orchard on the Peachland highway on snowshoes to take the snow away from the young trees where it was as high as the top of the main trunk. He found them satisfactory and when he started to prune the snowshoe tracks had hardened and gave him a good footing.

In Prairie Valley Mr. Walter B. Powell has been wearing his skis to go out on the deep snow to prune.

The snowfall this winter was over three feet and even after two weeks of mild weather there is still plenty of snow in the orchards.

Local High School Debaters Score One-Sided Win Over Penticton High

Summerland high school debaters advanced another round in their quest to retain the Leonard Wade trophy emblematic of the Okanagan high school debating championship, when they knocked over two Penticton teams last Friday afternoon.

Local debaters now meet Oliver in the finals of the southern section of this knock-out series and the winners meet the winners of the northern section.

In the north, Enderby defaulted to Revelstoke. Vernon who defeated Armstrong, and Kelowna are competing for the right to meet Revelstoke in the northern final.

Here in the southern section, Summerland defeated Rutland and Penticton while Oliver triumphed over Princeton.

E. H. Bates of the Summerland high school staff, assisted by Lacey Fisher and Miss M. Reid, also members of the local teaching staff, are in charge of this competition in the valley.

Subject for all rounds of debates up to the finals has been: "Resolved that price controls should be instituted in Canada immediately."

Another subject will be chosen for the Okanagan finals.

Last Friday, Ken Brawner and Roger Smith upheld the affirmative here in Summerland and won from Penticton 136 points to 125, an edge of 11 points. At Penticton, Summerland's negative team of Shirley Schumann and Don Blacklock won 143 to 135, a difference of 8 points.

On the round, Summerland had a 19 point lead over the two Penticton teams to advance to the southern zone finals.

Local debaters were to have met Oliver tomorrow but due to the official day of mourning having been declared a postponement to next week has been ordered.

Judges at Summerland last Friday were Mrs. J. C. Wilcox, Mrs. N. O. Solly and Rev. H. R. Whitmore.

Rehabilitation of the Blind

THE theme of White Cane week, 1952, is Rehabilitation of the Blind. Although financial support is of great importance, rehabilitation means infinitely more than material aid. The extra measure is exemplified in the giving of personal services, and in that field, not one individual is too poor to contribute. Your contribution may be a friendly greeting, a moment taken for a chat, an arm offered across a thoroughfare, any act which will include your sightless friend in home and social activities. The average blind person has lost only one faculty.

Other human ambitions and desires remain. Do not think of yourself as giver only—you may be the recipient of an experience deeper than just the satisfaction of doing a kindness. "It is better to light a candle than to curse the darkness." Men and women who have been denied physical vision have oft times lighted their candles, and brought light into an otherwise spiritually darkened world. Blind and deaf, Helen Keller says, "There is no lovelier way to thank God for your sight than by giving a helping hand to someone in the dark."

Lost in the Shuffle

(The Kelowna Courier)

ONE of the results of the political manoeuvring which took place in Victoria recently will be sincerely regretted by most people of this province: the disappearance of Hon. E. C. Carson as Minister of Public Works. Mr. Carson was one of the four Conservative members of the Cabinet and when the Conservative leader, Mr. Anscomb, was personally asked for his resignation by Premier Johnson, the other Conservative ministers, including Mr. Carson, also resigned. Politically, we suppose that Mr. Carson could do nothing else, but it was with sincere regret that we saw him leave the public works portfolio.

During Mr. Carson's tenure of office, this province saw a vast improvement in its highways. It was he who inaugurated the policy of building as good roads as could be built rather than the light, patchwork system in vogue before. It is to him credit must go for the major portion of our new construction and it was under him that the public works department was given adequate equipment with which to carry out its maintenance work.

Mr. Carson had a broad viewpoint and an eye to the future. He made no promises he did not expect to keep and he did not hesitate to answer localized pressure groups with a definite "No". He was an able administrator and had those other qualities necessary to make him a "good minister".

His was no easy task for when he assumed office this province was almost without a modern highway and in desperate need of thousands of miles of it, to say nothing of many more thousands of miles of adequate secondary roads. Mr. Carson set his sights for a network of main highways reaching into all the widely separated areas of the province, knowing that as good highways were made available, traffic would increase and further revenue for highway work would be available. While he did not remain in office to see his highway network entirely completed, as he drives over the province in future years he can take real personal pride in the results of his efforts which may be seen on every hand.

It would be no misnomer to call him the "founder of our modern highway system" and some recognition of his service might well be given through the naming of some highway for him. Whether this be done or not, however, it will be many years before the name of E. C. Carson is disassociated from our system of good roads. It is regrettable that our system of government has removed from office such an excellent minister before his task was completed.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Once upon a time I had a friend who was a cultured and well-educated man. From him I learned a great deal, and his opinions on any subject were always well worth listening to. But there were two pet notions of his with which I could never quite agree.

One of these was his frequently-expressed wish to get a little cabin in the wilderness somewhere miles from anybody and spend a year at least in complete seclusion. No jangling telephone, no blaring radio, no frightening newspapers, no whizzing cars, no vapid meetings compelled to sit hours on end to accomplish nothing, no annoying people—and I suspect he included his wife and children under the latter category, for he certainly meant to live alone. And he would wax lyrical over the joys of studying worth-while books and communing with unspoiled nature under such conditions.

Undoubtedly his theory had its good points, but I used to disagree with it on two counts. For one, I don't believe it is possible to "get away from it all" just by changing one's physical environment. The worries that beset us really come from within our minds, as a result of our individual way of looking at things. If we want to change our way of life, we must start with ourselves, not with our surroundings.

Somewhere the Bible says: "The kingdom of Heaven is within you." Somewhere else it says that God felt "It was not good that the man should be alone."

And that's my second objection to my friend's plan. Most men do not do well living alone. They get too slack when there is nobody to keep up appearances for, neglecting not only themselves and their homes, but also regular times for working and eating. They spend hours puttering about with trivial chores, days worrying their minds over inconsequential trifles. Their cabins become filthy as pig-sties—haven't you seen these bachelor boar's-nests?—their days drift by with nothing worth while done. Often they become so depressed from lack of company that countless hours that could have been devoted to study of nature and books are wasted in moping and glooming.

Some go completely nuts and wander through the bush on all fours digging for carrips, or hide within their cabins with matted beards and glaring eyes, from wholly imaginary enemies without. (My particular horror, when batching alone, was grey-and-brown larder beetles crawling with contemptuous slowness out of food they'd fouled, with almost visible leaps on their insectine faces. I was on the verge of shooting them one by one through my pantry shelves with a .45 automatic when the relief expedition broke through.)

Mind you, some men actually thrive on living alone. Thoreau wrote a famous classic out of his seclusion at Walden Pond. Thompson-Seton was probably cast in similar mould. And I'm reading now a book from the Okanagan Union Library called "Cache Creek Country" whose author, John J. Rowlands, deliberately retired to a cabin in the wilderness and enjoyed every day of his stay there.

But these men were all naturalists, who took a keen continual interest in every living thing and found friends in birds and mammals, trees and flowers, insects and even stars. A man has to do this to live in the wilderness successfully; it seems to me. He has to be a handy man with his hands, too, to look after himself; and have an interest in cooking, as well for I've endured some horrible bachelor repasts.

My friend had none of these qualifications. City-bred, he took no special interest in wild life or any outdoor things. He was neither handy man nor bent toward cookery; I cannot imagine his making himself a hemlock broom or a birch-bark kettle, or even baking edible bannock.

Actually he wasn't going TO the wilderness, but AWAY from civilization. And if nature is often kindly and generous to those who love her, she can be pretty harsh and uncompromising to those who have never learned her ways.

I'm sure wilderness life would have killed my friend just as inevitably as the tensions of civilization did. And I'm glad his life ended among family friends in a modern hospital instead of in lonely misery in some forgotten cabin in the woods.

High School COMMENTS

Since last week, a great many things have happened around SHS. There were basketball games, a volleyball tournament, and a debate but I shall try to deal with them one at a time.

On Friday afternoon, the debating team met Pentiction in the second round for the Leonard Wade trophy. Both negative and affirmative teams won by a wide margin. A more complete story may be found on another page.

Friday evening, senior boys and senior girls basketball teams met Kelowna on the home floor.

The girls' game, although a low-scoring contest, proved very exciting as Summerland knotted the score in the fourth quarter 17-17. At full time, the score remained tied 20-20. After 3 minutes of overtime, the score was 21-21, both teams having sunk a free-throw. The game was called at this point, the final score being 21-21.

The senior boys went down to a severe defeat at the hands of the northern lads, the final score being 44-14. During the first quarter, Dave Weins of the Kelowna squad, put his knee out of joint and left the game. Later, Daryl Weitzel injured his ankle and also left the game.

On Saturday afternoon, a volleyball tournament was held in the gym with teams from Rutland, Kelowna, Westbank and Summerland

Chicken and carrots, with a fluffy potato topping, is a hearty dish that goes well with a salad and a light dessert.

Chicken Potato Casserole

Two cups diced cooked chicken, 1 cup cooked carrots, 1 cup cooked peas, 2 1/4 cups chicken broth, 1 1/4 tsp. flour, salt and pepper.

Heat the broth; thicken, stirring constantly. Arrange the hot cooked chicken, carrots, and peas in layers in a well-buttered casserole. If leftovers are used, reheat all food. Pour the thickened broth over the meat and vegetables. Arrange the potato topping and brown in a moderate (325 to 375 degrees F.) oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until delicately browned.

Potato Topping

Four to six potatoes, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/4 tsp. white pepper, 1 egg, 2 tbsp. butter.

Peel the potatoes, cook in boiling salted water until soft. Drain, mash thoroughly, and add butter, pepper, egg, and mix thoroughly. Arrange with a spoon or fork as topping.

Former News Agency Correspondent Tells Kiwanians of Indonesia

A rich country burdened with poverty was the description given Summerland Kiwanians at a recent meeting in the Nu-Way Annex by Mr. H. Scholten, a local resident who resided for a decade in the Malay archipelago and was a prisoner-of-war for a time during World War II.

In latter years, Mr. Scholten represented a Dutch news agency and was able to observe at first-hand the fanaticism of the Indonesians in their first years of independent nationalism.

For 350 years Indonesia was ruled by the Dutch from the time the East Indian Company was founded in 1602 and tapped the rich resources of spices, rubber and coffee.

By using slave labor, Holland became extremely prosperous through the riches gained from its colony, but from 1880 on the Dutch attempted to better the lives of Indonesians and abolished slavery, Mr. Scholten explained.

Indonesia is fully Asiatic now and forms a bridge between Asia and Australia. The Hindus first invaded the country, but Mohamedans superimposed their culture. Only in Bali has the original culture of the natives remained through the centuries.

There are 70 million Indonesians but at the end of the war only two and a half million were baptized Christians, Mr. Scholten stated.

Independence in 1945
It was in 1945 that the Dutch declared the independence of Indonesia, and he gave Kiwanians a few descriptions of the brutality of the Indonesian Moslems in treating Christian Indonesians. They were thrown into prisons covered with their own blood from wounds received from the spears and swords of their captors.

The Dutch started some schools but there wasn't enough opportunity for educating the masses, Mr. Scholten explained. Dutch medical men did rid the country of much disease, however.

Before the war 44 percent of the world's rubber was produced in this country of many islands, but exports have dropped considerably. Likewise 2 1/2 million tons of sugar competing. Kelowna boys took the honors with the other three boys' teams, tying for second place. In the girls' games, Kelowna and Westbank tied for first place, Summerland was second and Rutland last.

After the tournament, a fine banquet was served for the players and a very successful mixer was held for all students. Many thanks go to the social committee for this fine bit of work.

were exported prior to the war and now only 12 tons were exported last year.

Huge tobacco plantations flourished under the Dutch rule but now they are shutting down and unemployment is rampant. Taxes are high but production for export has dropped to a low level, he explained.

The police force is corrupt and Europeans dare not travel singly in any part of the land or they will be held up, robbed and probably beaten.

The speaker spoke of Dr. Sukano, president of Indonesia, who had been a fanatical nationalist with the slogan: "The British we will crush and the Americans we will iron out." But now, he has changed his tune and has become pals with the Americans as he needs their backing.

Before concluding, Mr. Scholten declared that practically all wholesale and retail trade in Indonesia is conducted by Chinese, whose population numbers about 2 1/2 million. These Chinese fear Chinese Communism but they buy their interests in Communism and the latter have the biggest embassy of any country represented in Indonesia.

The Dutch, through operation of one hundred ships in the KPM Company still hold great control as without this means of transportation there would be little inter-island trade, he explained.

Gordon Blewett Chosen Chief of Big Scout Camp

District Scoutmaster Gordon Blewett of Summerland has been chosen chief of the International Scout camporee which this year will be held near Pentiction on May 16, 17 and 18.

As a new idea for this sixth annual Scout jamboree, which will attract some 450 Scouts from both sides of the international border, each troop present will present, as a group, some Scouting skill, for the instruction of others.

All leaders will be invited to a supper meeting in Oliver on April 13 when final instructions for this annual event will be presented.

2nd Summerland Scouts

Last week our meeting was opened with inspection followed by an instruction period. Next we played a game outside. When we came back into the hall, one minute's silence was held in remembrance of the late King George VI. This was followed by a prayer by Scoutmaster Whitmore. All invested Scouts repeated the promise to the Queen which was followed by exercises and dismissal.

The points for inter-patrol competition now stand at Hawks 143, Beavers 85, Cougars 67, and Lions 46. Duty patrol next week will be the Cougars.

The week before last four boys were invested into the troop. These were Douglas Dunsdon and Eldon Siegrist of the Hawks; Robert Mountford of the Cougars and Denis Martin of the Beavers.

Carpenters to Seek Sixty-Cent Boost

Carpenters throughout the interior are advising contractors that they will expect an increase of 60 cents an hour, which means $2.50 per hour, when their present agreement expires on March 31.

On February 1, according to the agreement made after settlement of the carpenters' strike last year, the scale was $1.90. Previous to that it was $1.85 per hour.

A standard wage throughout B.C. is being sought by the carpenters' union. It is understood the carpenters have formed a B.C. Provincial Council of Carpenters to act for all locals.

Okanagan contractors have called a special meeting for Pentiction this week.

Started for Florida Didn't Get as Far As Penticton City

Johnny Betuzzi and Ed Matchett are home again going about their usual routines but feeling they are lucky to be alive.

On Tuesday, January 29, they were on their way to Vancouver as the first part of a trip which Ed Matchett had planned would take him to California and then Florida. Johnny Betuzzi was to accompany him as far as the coast city.

Seven miles from home, just north of Penticton, their car and a large truck owned by a soft drink company came together when the vehicles skidded on the icy surface.

Mr. Matchett received severe lacerations while Betuzzi went to hospital with a severe concussion. Both men were hospitalized and several days elapsed before they were able to return to their homes.

A third occupant of the car, a nephew of Mr. Matchett's from Vancouver, who was in the back seat, escaped without any injury. The car damage runs to several hundred dollars.

WILL SAIL THIS MONTH

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright who left in December for a trip to England via the Panama have been visiting in Paris, and in Surrey and Yorkshire. They expect to sail for Canada on Feb. 27.

Station Jerseys Hold High Records For Production

In December, fifteen Jersey cows completed records in the Okanagan led by Clarmont Sparkling Gold Pansey, 162426, bred by F. C. Brown of Kelowna and owned and tested by Stanley Noble, Armstrong. At six years Pansey produced in 361 days, 9,985 pounds of milk and 605 lbs. of fat.

A silver medal certificate went to the experimental station in Summerland, on the record completed by Summerland Pandora Barnadette, 192892. This cow went on test as a senior two-year-old and in 325 days produced 9,588 lbs of milk and 570 lbs of fat. She was also awarded a silver medal certificate for her 305-day production of 560 lbs of fat.

Summerland Star's Arabis, 182163, in the experimental station herd as a senior three-year-old in 313 days produced 8,911 lbs of milk and 487 lbs of fat.

Empty Buildings to Be Up for Tender

Summerland school board received a request for a price on the removal of the old high school, the gymnasium, and the library, collectively and singly, at the board meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 11.

A number of interested people in town have been making informal inquiries from individual members of the board about the removal of these buildings.

The matter was discussed at some length and it was decided that when other plans have been completed the buildings will be put up for tender.

"Billy" Miller Passes Away At Peachland

Many friends in Summerland were saddened last weekend to hear of the passing of a well-known old-timer, William Dugald Miller, who died at his home in Peachland on Saturday, Feb. 9, aged 71.

Born in Rapid City, Manitoba, the elderly man came to Peachland with his parents in 1898. In the early days, "Billy" Miller cleared land for orchards and was employed by the gold mining company which sought ore in the hills back of Peachland.

In 1915 he married Annie Seaton, daughter of another pioneer family who had settled in Peachland the same year as the Miller family.

"Billy" Miller was best known as chief of the public works department in this section of the riding. He was on both maintenance and construction and was government road foreman in this district besides Kamloops and Keremeos. He retired three years ago, one of his last jobs with the department being the supervision of flood control work in Trout Creek basin.

Surviving are his wife and two sons, Archie in Peachland and William Donald of Kelowna; two daughters, Mrs. O. Williamson (Jean), of Edmonton and Mrs. W. Sanderson (Dorothy) of Peachland; and six grandchildren.

A sister, Mrs. B. M. White lives in Vernon, another sister, Mrs. A. V. Crisp in North Hollywood, Cal., and a brother, Harold, in Kelowna. Funeral was held from Peach-

The Very Rev. Dr. Hugh Watt, immediate past moderator of the Church of Scotland and dean of the Divinity school at Edinburgh, Scotland, presented an inspiring address at this service.

Less Snow at T.C. High Levels Than Last Year

Snow depth and water content at Trout Creek headwaters is considerably below the level of the past two years although it is above the fourteen-year average, the B.C. snow survey bulletin issued at Feb. 1 by the water rights branch of the department of lands and forests states.

The Okanagan and Similkameen, considered as a whole, have a water content 91 percent of last year at the same time and 107 percent of normal. But the east side area has by far the heavier snow pack.

Postill Lake and McCulloch in the Kelowna area report water contents of 109 and 145 percent of normal.

"Moving west, however, the water content of the snow pack diminishes and Brookmere and Copper Mountain snow courses reports below-normal water contents," the report states.

"Valley precipitation as reported at McCulloch and Osprey Lake is above normal.

"If the trend of precipitation continues the eastern portion of the Okanagan can expect above-normal runoff whereas the western portion and Similkameen can expect a runoff somewhat below normal."

Snow depth on Trout Creek at the 4700 ft. elevation on Jan. 31 was 26.9 inches with a water content of 6.03 inches. In 1951 water content was 7.8 inches, in 1950 it was 7.2 inches and in 1948 5 inches.

Valley precipitation registered at Osprey Lake from Nov. 1 to Feb. 1 was 10.09 inches, 2.89 inches above normal. For the same period the year before precipitation was 10.29 inches, 2.44 inches above normal.

Women's Institute Observes Minute's Silence as Tribute To Memory of Late King George

The February meeting of the Women's Institute on Friday, Feb. 8, in the parish hall, opened with a one-minute silence in tribute to the memory of the late King, George VI, followed by singing God Save The Queen.

The provincial superintendent, Mrs. Stella Gummow, had written to congratulate the Institute on its initiative in having Hasty Notes made, and requesting some for herself. It was reported that they were being printed and would be ready soon. The original issue was all sold before Christmas.

Mrs. R. C. Palmer, president, reported on attending a municipal council meeting where the matter of a public rest room in the proposed new municipal hall was discussed.

Mrs. Palmer said that she had asked to have the reeve or a council member to come to an Institute meeting to give a five minute talk regarding the hall, and this request would be granted gladly when there is more to tell than at present.

Mrs. Creese agreed to head a collection of dimes for the Solarium, and to take steps to put collection boxes in stores in town.

Resolutions for the spring conference were talked over. It was decided to send in a resolution regarding garment sizing. As this has come up at other conferences to no apparent avail, the secretary was asked to send protests to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the local member, and to WI headquarters at Victoria.

Mrs. H. C. Whitaker made an announcement about the biennial Tweedsmuir competition. Instead of a hooked rug, this time, the handicraft part of the contest will be a hand made quilt, which is to be the combined effort of a number, if not all, the members. The design is to be an original one.

Mrs. V. Charles asked if Miss Cross of UBC extension is coming

P-TA Approve Extension of School Grounds

Summerland P-TA, crowding the high school library on Thursday evening, Feb. 7, heard a welcome read from the provincial president, and P-TA purpose, The Best For Every Child Everywhere, reiterated.

Mr. P. C. Greer spoke on playground space and requirements of the B.C. department of education for this purpose. He displayed a diagram of a possible way of laying out the school grounds to accommodate all the different age groups and various types of games. This plan is contingent on the closing of the road between the present schools and the old high school, and he asked the support of the meeting for the plan.

A vote was taken regarding the matter and the majority went on record as favoring the idea, and decided to work with the school board in furthering an extended playground movement.

Mr. H. G. Draper was appointed chairman to head a new committee called the school education committee, part of the national school education committee of P-TA.

Reports of the pre-school reading group were given by Mrs. Blyden and Mrs. F. Plunkett. Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, president, announced that another such group was being formed in Peach Orchard.

Mrs. E. E. Bates, chairman of the program committee, told of plans for Education Week which comes in March, and Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, head of social, reported finances of her committee in a healthy condition.

Mr. Jack Morrow was appointed a delegate to attend the provincial P-TA conference to be held at Kelowna April 10-12-13. This is the first time the provincial meeting has been held in the interior, and is somewhat indicative of the growth throughout the province.

A request has been received to sponsor a piano recital by Miss Marlon Barnum of Nelson who might be touring the valley, and who has recently completed six years of study at the Juillard School of Music in New York. The association did not think it could afford sums given Miss Barnum in some other places, but offered fifty per cent of the net proceeds, and agreed to sponsor her concert here if this offer is accepted.

Refreshments were served in the teachers' rooms after the meeting.

to Summerland this spring to give a course in tailoring. A letter is to be sent to Vancouver making a request to have Miss Cross here. It is thought there are enough interested to have a class in Trout Creek, and one at West Summerland.

Mrs. Palmer announced that F. C. Christian of Penticton would be the speaker at the March meeting, taking The Status of Women Under B.C. Law as his subject.

Since it was the Valentine month, the annual tea-party was held with a table prettily covered with a lace cloth, centered with a pot of red tulips, and red candles in tall silver holders carrying out the Valentine colors.

Prior to tea, Mrs. D. Turnbull sang pleasingly, There Is A Land, a song suitable to the time, when the thought of England was uppermost in the minds of those present. Miss Jean Iwayoshi played piano solos, and a contest along Valentine lines was won by Mrs. E. L. Farnchon and her partner, Mrs. I. C. Williams. Mrs. J. Y. Towgood and Miss M. Cartwright arranged the program.

Tea was poured by Mrs. Palmer, the president, Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, the immediate past president, and was served by other directors, Mrs. D. L. Cruikshank, Mrs. E. M. Hookham, Mrs. R. F. Angus and Mrs. R. Blayney, as is the yearly custom in February.

Lakeside WA to Provide Curtains For Front of Church

About thirty ladies were present at the home of Mrs. H. Pohlmann in Peach Orchard when the Lakeside WA met for a very enjoyable evening, on Monday, Feb. 11. The president, Mrs. C. R. Morgan presided and three visitors, Mrs. Drake, Mrs. E. Pohlmann and Mrs. Gordon Pohlmann were welcomed.

There were many subjects under discussion, and it was decided to hold a tea shortly before Mother's Day.

Members chose print and plain material which will be made up into attractive articles for the sewing table at the sale.

Mrs. J. Raincock and Mrs. Ann Clifford were asked to purchase new curtaining for the front of the church.

It was agreed to divide the membership into four groups, each to convene a supper or tea during the year. Mrs. Raincock's group was chosen to serve supper to the AOTS in the church basement on Feb. 28.

At the close of the meeting a dainty lunch was prepared and served by Mrs. Whitmore, Mrs. Bisset and Mrs. Percy Wilson.

The WA will meet again on March 10 at Mrs. Bisset's home in lower town. New members will be welcomed.

White Cane Week Adopts Theme of "Rehabilitation of the Blind"

The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind are sponsoring their seventh White Cane Week February 10th to 16th. The theme this year is the Rehabilitation of the Blind.

"In these days, when Canadians are thinking more and more about the rehabilitation of handicapped citizens, it is fitting," said Mrs. Sadie Bending, president of The Canadian Council of the Blind, "that they should give one week to consideration of the problems of those handicapped by the loss of physical vision."

"Rehabilitation, according to dictionary definition, means 'to restore to former status'. This definition may needlessly confuse the average reader," Mrs. Bending went on. "For example, if a bus driver loses his sight, it is obvious that he cannot be restored to his former status—as a bus driver. But, in the broader sense of the term, he can be restored to his former status as a citizen, and as an individual personality."

"A few years ago, a request to learn to read Braille came to the C.N.I.B. from a gentleman aged seventy-seven. Once during a lesson, he remarked, 'I had my sight for over seventy years. And if I am to spend the few remaining years of my life without physical vision, I am not going to be unhappy or resentful about it.' When our friend the bus driver reaches this point in his thinking, he will be well along the road to rehabilitation," Mrs. Bending explained.

"Everybody can help in the rehabilitation of our friend the bus driver,—C.N.I.B., the C.C.B., and you who reads these words. The C.N.I.B. home teacher, who visits our friend in his home gives him his first instruction and helps in solving the difficult problems he must face. She may teach him Braille, if he is fond of reading. She will teach him handicrafts so that he will discover just how much can be done with a capable pair of hands. Gradually he will discover that his capable hands can be kept busy in his home, or maybe in his garden. Reconstruction or rehabilitation of the individual is well begun."

"The friendly visiting convener from the C.C.B. Club will visit our former bus driver and finally persuade him to attend one of their meetings. Here his chief discovery is that he is not alone in his blindness. When he realizes this, he has passed another milestone in his rehabilitation. The next door neighbour who arranges to take him on his next fishing trip may be the greatest help of all—for his friendship strengthens his confidence and makes him feel that he is a part of the community around him," Mrs. Bending stated.

"Rehabilitation may involve the making of a living, but in its broadest, deepest sense," Mrs. Bending emphasized, "it involves the making, or remaking, of a life and a soul so that after the detour involved, the individual travels on to victorious living. This is our goal as we seek rehabilitation for our 18,000 sightless Canadians." Mrs. Bending concluded.

Here in Summerland the local branch of CNIB is distributing posters and joining in the general publicity campaign aimed at acquainting those who have vision with some of the ways in which they can help those less fortunate than themselves.

Bennett Critical Of Appointing Percy George

KELOWNA—Despite the breakup in Coalition, W. A. C. Bennett, MLA for South Okanagan, will continue to sit as an independent member and will vote as he sees fit in the best interests of his constituents and the province as a whole.

After a three-week eastern Canadian trip, Mr. Bennett said the Social Credit movement is making rapid progress in every corner of the province, and more people are becoming interested in the organization.

Mr. Bennett criticized the appointment of Percy George as chairman of the public utilities commission after being defeated as government candidate in Esquimalt.

"I thought B.C. had outgrown such political tactics and surely the people of B.C. must view with alarm a return to political patronage," he said.

While the B.C. government goes through the present transitional period, no such political appointment should have been made.

At the same time, Mr. Bennett said the government has no other alternative but to go ahead with amendments to the B.C. hospital Insurance Act, the ICA and the Workman's Compensation Act during the coming session. "The personal fight between Johnson and Anscomb is no reason why people's business should not be proceeded with in an orderly manner."

Political Maneuvers The local MLA said the coming session will be an important one, and that he will strongly oppose any political maneuvering.

"Despite the break-up in Coalition, I will continue to represent South Okanagan to the best of my ability, and will not become involved in any feud between Johnson and Anscomb forces," he continued.

"I will vote for any and all measures that are in the public interest and will not hesitate to oppose any matters that are not in the best interests of South Okanagan and B.C. as a whole."

"During my visit east, I stopped off at Edmonton and was struck with the support which the Social Credit government received from people of all economic groups. This is very remarkable since the Social Credit has been in office for 17 years and seem to be more popular with the general public now than at any time in history.

"The Social Credit organization is progressing satisfactorily in every part of B.C. and many who had previously supported Liberal, Conservative and CCF parties are now joining the Social movement as the one hope of securing a sound, stable government in B.C.—a government based on economy and efficiency—a government similar to one which has operated so successfully in Alberta for 17 years."

Background is Often Reason For Delinquency

Growing Youth in a Groaning World was subject for the address of Rev. W. H. Ellis, speaking to the Parent-Teacher Association regular meeting on Thursday evening, Feb. 7, in the library of the high school. An interested audience of nearly eighty heard Mr. Ellis.

For twenty-five years, the speaker was JJC and magistrate in Saakatchewan, and his observations were that juvenile delinquency is a world-wide problem, dating back to Old Testament times. It has no definition, nor formula, he declared, and it is not fair to a child to be labelled as a criminal.

The juvenile delinquency act which is part of the criminal code of Canada, states that a juvenile delinquent is one who violates the law, and the act brings this down to the level of a municipality, he continued.

Mr. Ellis preferred to think of such an offender as "A child who has lost his way," for one reason or another. Probably this child

O. L. Jones Wants to Know More About Flood Control Deal

KELOWNA—O. L. Jones, MP for Yale, is asking Hon. R. W. Mayhew, minister of fisheries and B.C.'s lone cabinet minister, some pertinent questions regarding Okanagan flood control, following receipt of Mr. Mayhew's telegram concerning all obstacles having now been removed.

He has asked Mr. Mayhew if fish ladders are included in the project and if so who is going to pay for them.

He has also questioned when tenders will be called and if the three phases of the $2 million project can be started at once in order to get the work completed within the next twelve months.

was forced into doing wrong by surroundings or lack of parental control.

In the greening world to-day he related the great problems facing so many people and the heart searching questions found by every child. It was his experience that if each offence were pushed back far enough, the background of the child was nearly always responsible for his act.

It was his belief that two wars had lowered the spiritual and moral sights of many people, with home life suffering as a result. Amplified, social conditions in communities, and nationally, were also responsible.

When he was judge of the juvenile court he did not find it necessary to send more than one child a year, on an average, away from its home, he said, and challenged the thinking of parents and teachers along these lines.

The speaker was introduced by W. C. Wilkin and thanked by W. H. Durick.

Campbell Banished for Game As Merchants Triumph 3-2

Summerland senior pucksters bowed before second-place Pentiction Merchants 3-2 in an exciting, rough contest at the Pentiction arena last Sunday afternoon, the first defeat since the initial game of the season which the league leaders have suffered in commercial hockey league play.

With both teams short a man, McLean sank the winner for the Pentiction Merchants at the 7 minute mark of the third period.

Just prior to that Rosie Campbell was given two minutes for tripping and a game misconduct penalty for assaulting the referee, Curly Cox, who has drawn the ire of Summerland players and fans for his arbitrating all season.

Play-Had Gone By
The play had swept on for some seconds before Cox suddenly blew his whistle and whirled to point at Campbell and order him off for two minutes for tripping. The puck was being carried to the other end of the ice and Campbell was nowhere near the scene of activity when the penalty was awarded.

In the resultant discord, Campbell heaved the puck at Cox hitting him and later went after him with his fists.

For this display of temper, Campbell received a match misconduct and was probably lucky to get by with that, fans observed.

Defensive play throughout the game was on a higher plane than most commercial league games and scoring was kept down a minimum.

This Sunday, Summerland pucksters have a holiday from league play while on February 24 they meet the Pentiction Contractors in the final game of the schedule. Playoffs commence after that time.

1st Period: 1, Pentiction, Reeder, 14:00.
2nd Period: 2, Summerland, Roberge, 19:00.
Penalty: Hooker.

3rd Period: 3, Summerland, Eyre, (Kato) 3:03; 4, Pentiction, Ferguson 4:52; 5, Pentiction, McLean (Reeder) 7:00.
Penalties: Campbell, Dolneck.

Senior C's Get Revenge On Pentiction

Revenge was sweet at the local school gym last Thursday evening when Summerland Senior C's took the measure of Pentiction Int. A's 28-26. The visitors had administered a sound smacking to their older brothers from farther north the week before in Pentiction.

Chuck Alkin and Leighton Nesbitt were the standouts for the winners, sinking eight points apiece, all but two of Alkin's points being garnered from the free shot zone.

Foley-Bennett was the only Pentiction lad who could hit the hoop with any regularity. He garnered 16 points.

At the halfway mark, Summerland led by a narrow 12-11 margin and managed to better that by two points before the final gong sounded, mainly due to a last-quarter spurge by Nesbitt.

In the preliminary, Chuck Alkin's pre-juniors gave the high school juniors a terrific scare before bowing out 17-16. Lawley, Klix and Parker were main scorers for these two teams.

High School: Lawley 6, Gilbert 2, Higgs 2, Draper 4, Ward, Austin, Pohlmann 3-17.
Pre-juniors: Cornish 2, Uegama, Doumont, Parker 6, Klix 8, Brake, Ask, Hackman, Scott, Bonthoux -16.

Pentiction Int. A: Essler 4, Tidball, Jeffery, Berdine 4, Foley-Bennett 16, Garnett, White 2, Phillips -28.
Summerland Senior C: Alkin 8, McLean 2, Jomori 6, D. Nesbitt 4, L. Nesbitt 8, Guidi 1, Clark -20.

Grizzly Hunt in Yukon Pictured In Movie Reel

A complete pictorial record of a grizzly bear hunt made by a party of three Americans, from the time they winged their way north from Toledo, Ohio, until they returned from Marsh Lake, Yukon Territory, was provided Kiwanis Club of Summerland weekly dinner meeting in the Nu-Way Annex Monday night.

This special treat was provided by Mike Nolan, who operates Marsh Lake Lodge, one of the best operated hunting and fishing lodges in the northern country.

The hunting party shot three silver-tip grizzlies and three mountain sheep which are different from the Rocky Mountain big game and are known as the Ovis Canadensis Fannini.

Colored movies gave a splendid story of the hunt the party using saddle and pack horses to reach the high areas which these animals are known to haunt.

Mr. Nolan added his own descriptive phraseology to provide added interest to the pictorial record.

Badminton Aces Beat Rutland, Lose at Kelowna

The Summerland Badminton Club continued its series of friendly matches against other valley clubs when the B team played host to the Rutland Badminton club on Friday, February 8.

The Summerland team of Jean Eddie, Ev Bernhardt, Rae Armour, Ada Beeman, Jim Miltimore, Maurice Welsh, Maury Moyle and John Ruck were winners by a score of 12-4 taking the four men's doubles, three out of four women's doubles and five out of eight mixed doubles.

On Monday, February 11, both A and B teams journeyed to Kelowna. Here the Kelowna Badminton club more than revenged its loss at Summerland a few weeks ago by winning a shut-out from the B team and taking the A matches with a score of 7-5, Kelowna capturing 3 of the 4 men's doubles, and dividing the women's doubles and mixed doubles, two games apiece.

Marg Kish, Pearl Lackey, Jean Eddie, Eileen Miltimore, Jim Miltimore, Clarence Lackey, Reg Smith and Harry Beeman made up the B team to play against Joan Twiddle, Fenella Lockett, Mary Blakeborough, Ev. Larsen, D. McDougall, J. Capozzi, Art Smith and Aidan Spiller of Kelowna.

The A team from Summerland reinforced with four players from the Pentiction club were Anne Carney, Dorothy MacLeod, Betty Biggs, Pat Grey, Cecil Morgan, Dave Waddell, Ted Cardinal and Tom Hill. While Kelowna bolstered their team with some Rutland players, the victors were Gwen Armstrong, Mary Stubbs, Helga Watrin, Peg Stevens, C. Larsen, R. Robinson, D. Pettigrew and F. Stevens.

Topping's Rink Makes Strong Curling Bid

One of the strongest bids for provincial recognition ever made by an Okanagan curling rink was registered at Kimberley last week by Dick Topping of Oliver, whose rink included Bill Croft of Summerland as No. 3 man.

The Topping rink placed third in the grand aggregate of the big Kimberley bonspiel only losing to the two best rinks of the 'spiel, the British Consols winner who will represent B.C. for the third time in the MacDonald Brier Dominion championships, Reg. Stone of Trail, and his clubmate, Frenchy D'Amour.

Topping's foursome lost the first two games to these two championship rinks and then won 13 straight matches in open events to reach the finals of the Kimberley and Nelson events and the fours in the Cammel Laird event.

The Nelson event was captured by Topping's rink and second money in the Kimberley event.

The Grand Challenge trophy was taken by the Frenchy D'Amour rink of Trail who was the only skip to inflict a loss on Reg Stone's foursome.

On the Topping rink, besides the skip and Bill Croft, there were Bill Hopkins of Oliver and Al Mathers of Pentiction.

Valley High School Skiers to Come Here For Major Tourney

On February 24 at the Summerland ski hill the Summerland high school will hold the fourth annual inter high ski meet. There will be skiers there from all parts of the valley including Kelowna, Pentiction, Oliver, Princton and Summerland and it is also hoped that Vernon will be able to attend the meet, as well.

At the present date the hill and snow conditions are in very good shape and, if things hold the way they are now the meet will be the biggest and the best that has yet been staged at the ski hill. From all indications the entry from the out of town schools will be larger than it has ever been in the past.

WRESTLING FAN GETS LITTLE TOO EXCITED

PRINCTON—A belligerent on-looker took offense at Mel Peters' badman act in a wrestling show at Copper Mountain, climbed into the ring, "told off" the Portland wrestler and then took a swing. That was too much—the two were quickly separated but not before the intruder had received a good going-over.

Socreds Choose Shantz in Vernon

One of the first candidates in the province to be chosen for the new provincial election is L. Hugh Shantz, of Vernon, who was named Social Credit candidate for North Okanagan. He is second vice-president of the B.C. Social Credit League and has appeared on Social Credit platforms in Summerland. He was defeated by C. W. Morrow, QC, at the last provincial election.

FISH POISONING PROGRAM AT PRINCTON WAS "LOSS"

PRINCTON—The game commission has written off the poisoning program carried out in One Mile Lakes as a loss. S. B. Smith, the commissioner's fishery manager told the Princton game club. High water in 1949, which allowed coarse fish to get back into the poisoned lakes spoiled the work done, he said.

Three Cross Country, Jumping Valley Titles Brought Here

Summerland skiers dominated the Okanagan championships held at Pentiction last Sunday in cross country and jumping to an even greater extent than they did at Kelowna the previous week-end when the slalom and downhill Okanagan titles were at stake.

Present from Princton for the day were Dudley Paul and Steve Kassa who made exhibition jumps up to 115 feet to the delight of the crowd which was on hand at the Elk Horn ski bowl for this annual event.

Herb Woods, of Summerland, sped over the difficult cross country course in 14 minutes to capture the senior men's title. He was ahead of Ed Cormier, second and John Leir, third, both Pentiction skiers.

Harold Biollo Leads Junior High Scorers

Summerland junior high hockey team played a close one at Pentiction last Saturday morning and managed to eke out a narrow 4-3 win over Pentiction's Grade 9 boys.

Another first in the men's senior competition went to Harry Hansen of Summerland in the jumping contests. Harry had two leaps of 95 and 92 feet each to defeat Howard Duncan, Pentiction's top plank jump artist.

The local lads drew their forward lines from Grades 7 and 8 and their defencemen from Grades 9 and 10, and were coached by Wendell Schwab.

Third victory on Sunday was registered by Lori Klix, who had two big leaps of 82 feet and 75 feet in the junior jumping class. He was the best in his class.

Harold Biollo tallied the first and winning goals of the game, both beingon assists from Joe Brikovich and Jim Eyre. Richard Blewett sank the second goal and Clifford Ask downed the third one on a setup from Meade Siegrist.

Sure you do!
And do you remember how you got the money for it? The dimes and quarters you saved out of your allowance weren't enough. So you earned extra change doing chores. Slowly, so slowly, the total grew. Then, one great day, the bike was yours!
You learned then about the necessity for saving to get some of the things you want most. But has time dimmed your memory of the lesson you learned so long ago?
If so, remember—nothing has changed your needs for money in the future. Nor has any magic substitute been found for thrift.
Today, millions of Canadians are practising their good habit of thrift by keeping up their life insurance payments to protect their families, while saving for the future. They've discovered that, to reach their goals, they must put money aside regularly.

Protest 5-Game Suspension On Campbell

Penticton commercial hockey league has handed Rosie Campbell, star Summerland defenceman, a five-game suspension for his part in the brawl on Sunday afternoon at the Penticton arena when the puckster attacked curly Cox, Penticton referee.

The league executive handed down a guilty verdict on Campbell after the game and League President Pat Mulligan decided he should be given a five-game suspension, for "unsportsmanlike behaviour."

Last night, Summerland team held a general meeting and decided to remain in the Penticton commercial league.

However, the league executive is being handed a protest on the five-game decision by the president. Manager Stoll points out that Mulligan is not only the league president but is captain of the Merchants' team which was playing Summerland last Sunday when the fracas occurred.

The Summerland hockey club has protested the idea of a team captain deciding how many games' suspension should be given in his role as league president, Mr. Stoll states.

Playoffs commence after February 24, when the final league schedule games are played. The playoffs are on a round robin basis with each team playing every other team twice. Four games will be played each week.

WANTS COSTS ON REST ROOMS

Board of parks commissioners has been asked to submit to council estimates on the construction of rest rooms at the northwest corner of the Living Memorial park playground.

Architect Says Adjustments to School Needed

W. K. Noppe, the architect who designed the Summerland junior-senior high school was here last Saturday and went over the building with an eye to finding any defects or needed corrections before the final adjustments between the contractor and the school board which will be made by the end of June this year.

Due to shrinkage in some of the timbers, it is his opinion that the entire underneath part of the building should be thoroughly gone over, and hardwood shims put in wherever any warping is shown, it was reported at the school board meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 11.

It was his advice to the school board that electric cable should be installed in the eavestroughing to keep it from freezing. This type of cable keeps a channel open through the troughs and prevents them from freezing with the consequent building up of ice.

The board decided to obtain an estimate on this installation as a winterizing measure and safeguard against water and ice damage.

T. S. Manning, chairman of the building committee reported that on a recent inspection tour of the building he had found that the air vents in the south wing of the building nearest Granville St. had inadvertently been closed when the soil was built up around the school. He recommended that these be opened at once and in this the board concurred.

A request from the Kiwanis club to use the stage for practices of their forthcoming play was granted under the same policy that allows the Singers' and Players' club a similar privilege.

As a result of several inquiries it was decided that the library would be open for rental so long as this did not interfere with school activities.

Mr. Aubrey King, chairman of the rural area, suggested that several holes on the Meadow Valley road be repaired, possibly with a culvert underneath and gravel to fill them.

municipal council stand for a minute's silent tribute to His Late Majesty.

Last night, the monthly Canadian Legion meeting observed a minute's silence in tribute to their late comrade and endorsed a resolution of condolence to the royal family.

In the past week, a new Queen has ascended the throne and the second Elizabethan period in British history has commenced.

At noon on Thursday the Canadian ensign rose from half mast and a 21-gun salute barked out at Ottawa to mark the accession of Elizabeth to the throne as Queen of Canada.

The ensign remained up until sundown and on Friday again went to half staff at which position it remains until after the funeral service tomorrow and after memorial services are held throughout the country.

The pageantry which proclaimed Elizabeth II, by the Grace of God, Britain's young Queen, on Friday, Feb. 8 in London, dates back 100 years.

Queen Elizabeth told privy councillors: "I pray that God will help me to discharge worthily this heavy task that has been laid upon me so early in my life."

Clad in black mourning clothes she stood before the councillors to read the solemn declaration of accession to the throne.

Meanwhile, in the little country church at Sandringham, the royal estate where the late King was born, the body of The Good King remained until Monday. The coffin was draped with the King's standard which had flown over Sandringham House where now the Queen's flag flies.

The King's gamekeepers kept a silent watch over the coffin as humble villagers paid their last homage to their beloved King.

Three queens, the King's mother, wife and daughter, saw the late monarch's body come back to London for the last time on Monday to be carried reverently to ancient Westminster Hall where the nation has paid homage for three days.

The body was carried on a gun carriage three miles from King's Cross station to Westminster in a downpour of rain.

More than 40,000 Britons filed through Westminster Hall on Tuesday while another 20,000 lined the Thames hoping to gain admittance. On Wednesday, the line of mourners waiting for admittance to Westminster Hall was six abreast and two miles long.

Tomorrow the state funeral procession leaves Westminster Hall at 9:30 a.m. (1:30 a.m. PST). At 1:35

Billie Shakes Hands with Hop-a-Long

Billie Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wilson, is a thrilled youngster and is the envy of his playmates. Reason: He shook hands with Hop-a-Long Cassidy.

Billie was with his parents as observers of the huge Pasadena Tournament of Roses in California on New Year's Day when he suddenly darted forward with a number of other youngsters to meet the idol of all young boys.

Hop-a-Long stopped his horse and solemnly shook hands with the boys, including Billie.

Naturally, Billie now owns a Hop-a-Long Cassidy cowboy suit, his father told fellow Rotarians on Friday at the Nu-Way Annex as he described his month-long holiday in the south.

Mr. Wilson told of the fabulously rich Long Beach area since oil was discovered below the ocean level and under most of the city site.

He also declared that it was very cold watching the rose show on New Year's Day while before they departed from the "sunny south" they nearly had to evacuate their tourist accommodation because of

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Early Election Forecast By Premier Johnson in Opening of

Ratification of the federal provincial... it, vot- ing of supply to maintain public services, implementa- tion of the workmen's compensation act report, early dis- solution of the legislature to be followed quickly by a general election to clarify the present political situation, assurances of an early fall session, if returned, to deal with major legislation which otherwise would be subjected to bargaining and the importunities of pressure groups, and assurances that a plebiscite will be held on the liquor question were highlights of the policy speech delivered by Premier Byron I. Johnson, in the B.C. legislature yesterday afternoon.

Oliver Topples Summerland In School Debate

Summerland high school debating team, holders for the first year of the Leonard Perry Wade trophy emblematic of the Okanagan debating championship, lost to Oliver yesterday afternoon in the finals of the southern section. Oliver now meets the winner of the Kelowna-Revelstoke debate for the trophy. Summerland received a severe defeat at Oliver yesterday afternoon as the southern negative team won by 150 points to 136. The Summerland affirmatives were Roger Smith and Ken Brawner. At home, the Summerland negative team of Don Blacklock and Shirley Schumann was edged by Oliver's duo by a single point, 147 to 146. On the round, Oliver won by 15 points, 297 to 282 points. Judges in Summerland were Ivor Solly, C. J. Huddleston and Mrs. J. Mason.

Experiment with Rats Showing Value of Diet

The nutrition experiment with white rats being conducted in both the elementary and junior high schools here is in its final week, as the differences between those on a good diet and those on a poor diet is sufficient to warrant placing both groups on a good diet at the beginning of next week. The poorly-fed rats have gained little in weight and have suffered in appearance with their unkempt, yellowish fur, heavy eyelids, tails and, above all, their irritable nature. The well-fed rats, on the other hand, are lively and much more attractive in appearance. These rats were brought to the local schools to give pupils an opportunity to see for themselves what a well-balanced diet will do towards providing good health. These rats will be on display at Butler and Waiden's store on Saturday, Feb. 23. The pupils who have fed and kept the animals clean and have charted the weights, will be in charge of the display.

Gas Theft Found When Car Ignites

Two Summerland boys were taken before Judge of the Juvenile Court G. A. McClelland in Penticton recently, charged with theft of gasoline from Nesbitt Motors. They were placed on probation for six months. The arrest followed the turning out of the fire brigade when the boys' car caught on fire after they had stolen the gasoline from the rear of Nesbitt Motors. Unable to extinguish the blaze themselves, the boys turned in an alarm and thus caused their own capture. The blaze was brought under control before any damage was done to surrounding property. If left unattended the fire could have endangered the entire garage.

Meeting Told of Some Attempts to Find Cause of Cancer

A number from Summerland attended the annual meeting of the Penticton unit of the Canadian Cancer Society which took the form of a dinner meeting in the Legion building in Penticton on Tuesday evening, Feb. 19. Following dinner Dr. Margaret Hardy of Vancouver Cancer Institute, recently returned from a tour of clinics in England and Scandinavian countries, told of research being conducted in the attempt to find the cause of cancer. She spoke of clinical observations of some of the contributing causes of breast cancer. The speaker related an experiment being conducted with the cooperation of student nurses at Vancouver General hospital of which close records are being kept. This consists of examination of the girls on entrance to the hospital and regular periodic examinations during training and follow-up checks three years later. Through this, it is hoped to compile valuable data. Those attending from Summerland were Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, regional representative on the provincial board, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Miss Irene Stewart, P.F.N., Mrs. E. R. Knokhem, Mrs. M. E. Cress, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Inch, and Miss Hilary Hudson.

The premier departed somewhat from tradition by moving the vote of thanks in reply to the speech from the throne. He adopted this procedure, for which there was ample precedence, for the sole purpose of advising the house as quickly as possible of the government's policy so that members could be guided during the course of the time-honored debate. In dealing with the rough policy governing the session the premier, in part stated: "I feel that the Coalition government of this province, as it is now constituted, has no mandate from the people to carry on since the main partnership has been broken. I feel that this government has no right to jeopardize the interests and welfare of the people by submitting itself to those who would take advantage of the situation through pressure groups and the usual bargaining in order to maintain a government in power or in the hope of driving the government to dissolution. Madam speaker, it is my intention, as leader of the government to ask for dissolution of parliament as soon as supply has been granted to maintain essential public services and as soon as essential and necessary legislation for the public's need has been passed. Cannot Question Honesty "I may say that insofar as the government is concerned it is our intention that parliament shall be dissolved in such a manner that the honesty of this government Continued on Page 10.

Famed Coquihalla Pass to be Viewed in Daylight from Train

Travellers between Vancouver and the Okanagan will be able to glimpse, for the first time in twenty years, the famous Coquihalla Pass as they cling to their seats in the passenger coaches of the Kettle Valley Railway. An announcement that the KVR run through the famous Coquihalla section will be instituted was made to a small group of local businessmen here on Tuesday morning by D. C. Hartley, KVR division superintendent, Penticton, and Ralph D. Matthews, passenger traffic representative of the CPR, Vancouver. According to the revised schedule, starting April 27, when fast time will likely come into being for B.C., the eastbound train, No. 12, will leave Vancouver at 8 o'clock each morning instead of the evening. A faster run to the Okanagan, by about two hours, will be instituted, No. 12 arriving here at 4:15 o'clock that same afternoon. The speedup in time continues throughout the entire run east to Medicine Hat, as the train will arrive the next morning at 4:45 o'clock in Nelson and at 10 p.m. that night in Medicine Hat. Between 6 and 7 hours will be out of the run from Vancouver to Medicine Hat, the CPR officials announce. This train will now provide a linkup with transcontinental trains Nos. 4 and 8 at Medicine Hat and passengers can retain the same sleeper right through to Regina. No. 11, westbound, will leave Medicine Hat at 4:30 a.m., arrive in Nelson that night at 7:30 p.m., be in West Summerland the next morning at 7:25 o'clock and in Vancouver that afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. Two Locals Also Operate. Besides these two trains, Nos. 45 and 46, the locals between Vancouver and Penticton, will be maintained on a seven-day-a-week basis, instead of the six-a-week as at present. No definite announcement about arrival or departure times of these two trains has been made, although it is believed No. 46 out of Vancouver will be leaving sometime in the period 6:45 to 8:45 p.m. each evening. Mail for the South Okanagan and other parts of the Okanagan will be carried on both Trains No. 12 and 46, Mr. Matthews stated, so that there will be no change in present deliveries. Mr. Ross McLachlan, West Summerland postmaster, states he has had no word of any impending change in postal service due to this change in times. It is possible that there may be a slight delay in the northbound mail service as the mail truck will probably wait for mail off No. 11 westbound when it arrives in Penticton between 6 and 7 o'clock each morning. Unless more than one mail truck was put on the run, the Vancouver mail arriving in Penticton about 4:45 o'clock each evening would not reach West Summerland until the next morning. If it was taken off at West Summerland station at 4:15 p.m., however, it could be distributed in the West Summerland and Summerland post offices before closing time of 6 o'clock. However, the postal department has refused for some time to take off local mail at the West Summerland station, preferring to take it on to Penticton and then north by mail truck. Changed 30 Years Ago. It was in the early 1930's, about twenty years ago, that the Kettle Valley abandoned its daylight run through the Coquihalla in favor of an overnight run. Although never substantiated, it was always the popular rumor that the daylight run was abandoned because visitors became frightened when they looked out the KVR train windows and saw nothing but steep precipices. However, railway officials scoff at this interpretation and declare that the switch-over was made as a convenience for travellers wishing to make the overnight run from and to Vancouver and not waste daylight hours in travelling. Mr. Hartley and Mr. Matthews met a group called together by the board of trade including Reeve C. E. Bentley, Board President, Walter M. Wright, Ken Boothe representing the Retail Merchants, J. R. Armstrong and Ivor Solly,

McArthur to Lead Credit Union in 1952

J. M. McArthur, chemist at the entomological laboratory in Summerland, was named president of Summerland and District Credit Union by the board of directors last night following the holding of a highly successful annual meeting and banquet attended by more than 150 of the 500 membership. Mr. McArthur and R. E. Smith were elected for three-year terms and George Lewis for the uncompleted two-year term of Dr. James Marshall, who resigned because of ill health, when last night's meeting chose the new directors. These three men will serve along with Directors Mark Embree, Gordon Eggs, J. R. Butler and John Caldwell, retiring president, Mark Embree will be vice-president for 1952. Other posts filled last night saw Alan Butler and Ken Williams being chosen for the supervisory committee for three years and Harry Hackman being chosen for the credit committee, for the same period. Owing to lack of space in this issue, further details of the Credit Union's successful banquet and annual meeting have to be held over until next week.

G. A. McWilliams Funeral Saturday

A pioneer of the Okanagan Valley, who lived in Summerland from 1904 to 1915 died in Kelowna yesterday when George Anderson McWilliams passed away at the age of 83. Born in Williamsburg, Ont., the late Mr. McWilliams moved west to Manitoba at the age of 21. He was married in Manitoba and with his bride came to the Pacific Coast province, settling in Summerland in 1904. Most of his life since leaving Summerland had been spent in Vernon but a year ago he moved to Kelowna to live with his son, T. F. McWilliams, well-known Kelowna lawyer and former magistrate. It was in Kelowna that he passed away. Funeral services will be held from St. Andrew's United church in West Summerland on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Rev. H. R. Whitmore officiating. Interment will be in the family plot in Peach Orchard cemetery where his wife was laid to her rest in 1912.

ROADS DEPARTMENT PLANS 1952 BUDGET

Councillor Francis Stuart told council last week his roads department has mainly been employed in hauling shale to fill up holes in gravelled roads, results of the winter's travel. He planned to have a tentative outline of roads department budget ready for council this week.

IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL SERVICE

Auditorium Crowded to Capacity as Residents Mourn Late King George

More than 750 persons crammed the new high school auditorium Friday afternoon to bow their heads reverently in honor of their late monarch, King George VI., and participate in the community's memorial service in his memory. A short, solemn service was held in the auditorium and was followed by a parade to the Cenotaph in the Living Memorial Park Playground where Dr. C. G. Woodbridge, president of the Canadian Legion placed a wreath in memory of the veterans' Comrade, the late King George. Reeve C. E. Bentley read the main address at the memorial service, talking of George the Man, rather than George the King. Summerland's memorial service was kept as simple as possible with, out departing from the dignity of the occasion. After O Canada, Rev. W. H. Ellis gave the invocation and the audience joined in singing the sailor's hymn, "Eternal Father, Strong to Save." Rev. H. R. Walter Wright New Prexy of Trade Board

Walter M. Wright, one of the pioneer businessmen of Summerland, was the unanimous choice of the Summerland Board of Trade annual meeting in the IOOF Hall Thursday evening as president for 1952. All posts in the trade board went by acclamation, Ivor Solly being selected as vice-president, L. G. Perry being returned as secretary and E. R. Butler as treasurer. The executive council will consist of Walter Toavs, W. S. Ritchie, Bob Barkwill, Ken Boothe, Don Tait, A. K. Macleod, Frank McDonald and Cecil Wade. Prior to the annual meeting, the trade board agreed to recommend to the postal authorities the granting of an airmail delivery contract to Mickey's Taxi in Kelowna. At present, a passenger and express service is being conducted between Kelowna and the airport at Penticton and if an air mail contract can be added then the Okanagan towns can get some benefit out of airmail service in and out of the Okanagan, it was thought. The retiring president reminded members of the annual board of trade banquet which will be held on March 13. It was also agreed that a letter should be sent to Hon. E. T. Kenney, new minister of public works, reminding the department of the necessity of including the Penticton-Peachland portion of Okanagan highway in its 1952 modernization program.

PARADE TO CHURCH TO HONOR FOUNDER

Guides and Brownies will parade to St. Stephen's Anglican church on Sunday morning, February 24, to honor the memory of Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Scout and Guide movements. Scouts and Cubs will not be parading this Sunday, but will arrange a church parade later in the spring to commemorate their leader's memory.

CARS SIDESWIPE ON PEACH ORCHARD HILL

Cars driven by Mrs. A. K. Macleod and Mr. Persson of Penticton sideswiped near the top of Peach Orchard hill, on a "blind" portion of the highway on Saturday afternoon with some damage resulting to the vehicles, it was reported to the RCMP. No one was injured.

DISEASED ANIMAL WAS SOLD

The condemned carcass was viewed by the local board of health, and the unit acquainted with the matter at Wednesday's meeting. Various ideas of coping with the lack of meat inspection were brought forward and discussed with thorough understanding of the difficulty of the problem, and especially as related to smaller centres. Approved slaughter houses with inspection at these points was considered one solution. Another idea was to pass local by-laws to insist that only inspected meat be sold by butchers. This was thought to have merit in that meat producers on the local level, if unable to sell their product at home, might be induced to see that it was approved. An educational program to sell the idea of meat inspection to consumers and those in the business was also thought to be valuable. Upshot was that a resolution Continued on Page 10

Need for Meat Inspection At Local Level is Stressed

Mr. A. Jackson, Kelowna alderman was elected chairman of the South Okanagan health unit at a meeting held in the library of Summerland junior-senior high school on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20. H. A. Truswell, Kelowna, was elected vice-chairman, and the director of the unit, Dr. D. A. Clark is automatically the secretary. The urgent need for meat inspection in the Okanagan Valley was dramatically brought to the attention of the board as during the first week in January a diseased carcass of lamb sold by a valley butcher found its way into a large institution. Riddled With Disease. The carcass was riddled with pus pockets, alive with dangerous diptheroid organisms. Only the vigilance of the institution staff raised the alarm, which resulted in the destruction of the carcass by the sanitarian, following the advice of two veterinarians.

Penticton Wants to Turn Old Hospital Into Home for Aged

Penticton hospital directors are seeking support for their plan to turn the old hospital into a home for aged and chronic cases when the new Penticton hospital is occupied. If sufficient support can be gained from southern interior centres, the Penticton board will petition the government in this respect. Summerland General hospital board, meeting for the last time on Tuesday prior to the annual meeting next Thursday afternoon, at the Parish hall, expressed appreciation of the need for the establishment of such an institution in this part of the interior. If it is feasible to turn the old Penticton building into such an institution then Summerland hospital directors will favor the scheme, it was thought. After considerable discussion, it was agreed that J. E. O'Mahony, hospital secretary, should be chief executive of the hospital. This has been provided for in hospital bylaws for some time but has never been carried out in actual practice. Regulations enlarging on the present bylaws were passed by the directors subject to review from time to time. For insurance purposes, the value of the insurable portion of the hospital buildings has been valued at $134,462, a raise of 15 percent in three years since a general appraisal was made of the hospital holdings. Fire insurance premiums on this amount of coverage amounts to nearly $1,000, the board was informed. January was an extremely busy month for the hospital, 608 patient days being registered and 48 patients admitted. Earnings for the month exceeded by $1,500 the expenditures.

Editorial

Linked With 83 Countries

THIS Saturday, February 23, Rotary International marks its 47th anniversary. Here in Summerland, local Rotarians will devote their regular Friday evening meeting to a review of Rotary, its aims and objectives, and members will be asked to re-dedicate themselves to the ideals of this great organization.

Through its international aspect, Rotarians in Summerland are linked with more than 7,400 other cities and towns in 83 countries throughout the world. This in itself is an important aspect but Rotary ideals are really more important.

Rotary's Ideal of Service provides for the "advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men."

Again, we quote from Rotary's own outline: "In Rotary, thoughtfulness of others is regarded as the basis of service, and helpfulness to others as its expression."

These are high ideals and worthy ones for any organization. It is because of these high standards of membership that the world will pause for a moment to consider an organization which is striving to promote more international understanding. And if ever the world was in need of more tolerance and spirit of goodwill towards one's fellow men, it is at this present tense moment.

Support Your Board of Trade

IN Board of Trade circles this week we find a rather unusual procedure. The new president of the Summerland Board of Trade is not only one of its most enthusiastic supporters and workers over forty years of business here, but he has also been rewarded previously by an honorary life membership in the organization.

Not often do you find a man who has advanced in years to the stage where he is given a life membership in an organization still willing to carry on heavy executive duties in the role of president.

The Summerland Board of Trade has fulfilled its purpose in the past year and must continue in an active role if it is to serve Summerland in the manner in which it can give sufficient encouragement from its members.

Many persons give scant credence to the importance of an active board of trade in the community. They do not realize that governments look first to the trade board movement to obtain a cross-section of business and public opinion on subjects which may be contentious.

In publicity work for the community, it is up to a board of trade to lead. And is there a community anywhere which does not derive benefit from well-planned publicity?

But these endeavors require money and unless the trade board promotes some money-raising scheme on its own, the only main source of revenue is from membership or a grant from the municipal council.

There are many classes of business in an agricultural community. There are prominent fruit growers, retail merchants, professional men, factory operators and key men besides owners in many businesses who should be taking an active interest as members of the trade board.

Without such an organization as a trade board, Summerland might not be so well represented at widely-publicized affairs such as the Peach Festival, the PNE Miss 1952 contest, and other publicity ventures.

We believe it is a duty of every person who has the interest of his community welfare at heart, and who comes within the categories already outlined, to belong to the Summerland Board of Trade.

The King

In London, the poet laureate, John Masefield, published a poem in commemoration of the King on the day of the King's funeral. It is entitled: "At the Passing of a Beloved Monarch, Our Sovereign Lord King George the Sixth of Blessed Memory", and follows:

"The everlasting wisdom has ordained
That this rare soul, his earthly service done,
Shall leave the peoples over whom he reigned
For other service at a higher throne,
Where life's rewarders sing at triumph won
In nobleness attempted and attained
Through years more terrible than any known.
What is a nation's love? No little thing:
A vast dumb tenderness beyond all price;
Surely a power of prayer upon a wing;
The living anguish of a hope to heal
Offered by all hearts here in sacrifice.
To spirits bowed in sorrow for the King
That it may touch, to comfort or anneal.
May this devotion help them in their grief,
May the devotion kindle to resolve
To make this stricken country green with leaf
Glad with another hope to be again
A sun about which singing orbs revolve,
A kingdom grown so worthy of her chief
That millions yet unborn shall bless her reign."

The Queen

Immediately on hearing the sad news of the death of King George VI, Rev. W. H. Ellis, interim pastor of the Baptist church in Summerland was inspired to compose the following verse on Wednesday, February 6.

THE KING IS DEAD!
God bless Elizabeth the Queen!
A mighty monarch passes to well-earned rest.
Scarce had carillon requiem died away,
When from full throated empire choirs
Rang out this Commonwealth refrain
Throughout the vastest Empire
This world has ever known,
Or ever Princess, called upon to reign.
A Princess, descendant of a Royal sire,
Is now proclaimed to rule instead.
With one accord, the nations on the earth acclaim:
This noble princess to be our sovereign head.
Who holds a regal title to the British throne,
Not through traditional decree,
alone,
But the love her loyal subjects share
With her, a princess, beautiful, a friend
To baron, vassal, commoner alike
Who now in true allegiance, acknowledge her,
To be our Sovereign, Lady
Queen

A Queen to reign, not as a feudal lord,
With haughty mien and gaudy
regal dress;
A Queen is she, a truly native
Queen,
Heir to traditions of a mighty
British race,
Now she herself must breast,
alone
A storm vexed, weary, war torn world
Which sorely needs the innate wisdom of a QUEEN
To help men know, that they yet may brothers be Despite the avicious waste of life and love.
Thus, like her illustrious father,
she will come
To wear the Royal Crown, not by decree or law alone,
But by a Diviner right. A loyal peoples love.

Another Step Forward

A statement prepared by the Unemployment Insurance Commission detailing the reason for appointment of a representative national committee on rehabilitation of disabled persons.

More and more as the industrial strength of Canada increases, the importance of manpower becomes apparent. Half a century ago, many public speakers would tell applauding audiences that Canada was a country of "vast natural resources". Having made this declaration in stentorian tones, they let it go at that, conscious of the fact that it could not be denied.

Times and conditions have changed. Two world wars, and a marked industrial expansion, due, in part, to these colossal struggles, have taught us that we must have something more than vast natural resources if this country is to fulfill its great destiny. We must develop these resources. We must utilize them, make the most of them.

Canada's growing importance as a world power demands not only that she be strong but that she use wisely and well, the tremendous latent strength with which nature has so richly endowed her.

Here is where the manpower problem comes in. In order to develop industrially we must have men and women who can, and will work. Mines, mills and factories cannot operate without them. Modern machinery can do a great deal provided that the human element is present, but not otherwise.

Recently governments, federal and provincial have become increasingly aware of the fact that in Canada there is an appreciable number of Canadians who are not working but willing and anxious to work, and capable of doing so, provided they are given a certain amount of intelligent assistance and direction.

Such people are referred to as the physically handicapped. It is estimated that those of working age number approximately 100,000. It has been found that these handicapped persons, when given work which they can do, prove equal or even superior, in many cases, to workers who are normal in every way. Their employment does not involve any sacrifice on the part of the employer. He profits from it.

This growing awareness of the genuine value of the handicapped as a great asset, is now bearing fruit. Recently the federal minister of labor, Hon. Milton P. Gregg, V.C. announced the appointment of a 35-member national advisory committee on the rehabilitation of disabled persons.

The announcement described the action taken as "the first step in a joint federal-provincial long-range project designed to prepare, preserve and restore the ability of the handicapped individual to work for pay and thus make himself self-supporting."

It pointed out that the creation of the committee did not mean any interference by the federal authority with work already being done in this field by voluntary agencies. This work now in progress was essential. The function of the committee would be rather one of co-ordination, of encouragement, and of promoting interchange of information so as to produce maximum results for the handicapped.

A moment's consideration of the great field which must be covered in any co-ordinated plan of rehabilitation, brings to mind the constitutional problems which exist. Obviously there are constitutional barriers in the way of direct participation by the federal authority in such a scheme. The field is indeed largely one of provincial jurisdiction.

Without invading this field, however, the federal authority can give appreciable assistance along the lines indicated, those of co-ordination, planning, the elimination of duplication and waste, and necessary steps to make present efforts more effective. Also it can make known to all interested agencies just what is being done, as a step toward finding out what remains to do.

The new advisory committee is thoroughly representative. The federal government, the provinces, health and welfare voluntary agencies, the medical profession, organized employers, organized workers, universities, and others interested in rehabilitation, are all represented. A glance at the list of names given out by the minister indicates that the committee will be a strong, active force. Its advice to governments will probably be of major value.

From every viewpoint the job to be done by such a committee is important. Obviously it is of major importance to the thousands of handicapped who may benefit from its activities. Equally obviously it is important to governments who must contribute to the cost of caring for many of these Canadians who are only too anxious to become wage-earners and provide for themselves.

Finally it is essential that this great and growing country utilize to the full all her willing workers to the end that they, and Canada, may derive benefit from their labor. May the committee meet with the support and success its fine objectives merit.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Although my favorite reading is the book or magazine story of outdoor adventure, it causes me many a twinge of inferiority and envy. The heroes of these stories are such wonderful chaps; so lithe and strong, so handsome, so brave, so coolly competent, so widely traveled and experienced.

Even though I know the stories are often written by bespectacled professors and asthmatic store-keepers who have never been out of sight or sound of city traffic, they still make ordinary people and ordinary life seem horribly hum-drum and full of trivia.

For there have been men who broke loose from conventional ruts and made adventure stories come true in real life. They sailed the south seas in little boats, hitch-hiked across wildest Africa, hunted emeralds in South America. And imagination naturally endows them with all the glamor that the story writers lay on so thick.

It is with vicious and un-Christian glee, therefore, that I read a story called "The Strange Chronicle of the Argosy" in the February issue of Argosy magazine.

For my feeling of the prosaic futility of ordinary life was strongly roused by an article I read in that same magazine, about a year ago, which told of real people starting out on just the sort of heroic adventure that is found in fiction. A glamorous, red-bearded Scotsman named Orsborne who had been everywhere and everything—captain in the Royal Navy, dope-smuggler, pearl-hunter, tiger-hunter, commando-raider—was gathering a small crew of choice spirits and re-fitting a 75-foot ketch to sail out of New York and south and west around the world in an unhurried search for pure adventure. Argosy magazine was helping finance him, which proved the genuine-ness of the expedition, and the color photograph of Orsborne on its cover was enough to make even a sensitive-stomached land-lubber like me wistful about such an expedition. In short, it sounded wonderful.

They were supposed to be sailing around the first of 1951, and although I knew it would probably be a month or so before they had any exciting experiences, and take several months to get these mailed and published, I watched eagerly all summer and fall for Argosy to print, as they had promised, the first instalment of the adventures of Orsborne and his crew.

Now it has come, and it's quite a story. As soon as the adventurous odyssey began—some six months later than scheduled starting date—all sorts of weaknesses began to show up in the ship. The sails were rotten, the rigging defective, the engine temperamental.

Weaknesses showed up in the captain, too. Equipment he had bought or built, and guaranteed with all the weight of his skill and experience, turned out to be faulty, time after time. Any work he did on the ship was almost invariably botched by ship-shod haste and sheer clumsiness. Yet he could not bear criticism, and was so jealous of more capable men that he fomented ill-will among the entire crew. Many of his stories turned out to be entirely false, just as his red beard turned out to be dyed.

By the time they got as far as the West Indies, the ship was leaking badly, both its main engines and electric power plant had quit, and Orsborne had got so bad-tempered that as soon as they reached port, the crew quit too. One man tried to stay on a little longer, but when Orsborne showed him the story he had written of the expedition so far, full of praise for himself and slander for the crew, this last man left in disgust.

Three unexplained months later, Orsborne was arrested in Trinidad on a charge of gun-running, and his ship seized. The charge seems to be a petty one; but there the renowned adventurer remains, waiting for his trial to be completed. To those who had to live with him, he is not a hero, not even an ordinary good fellow, just an entertaining wind-bag with a moody temper, a very dangerous child.

Somehow, my ordinary life and the ordinary people I know, and even my ordinary self, seem quite satisfactory after I finished reading that story.

THIRTY YEARS AGO February 24, 1922

Alan Butler, seven year old child of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Butler, fell beneath the wheels of the school van on Thursday. Ice near the head of the Gulch Road made travelling difficult and the driver, W. E. Rines, asked a number of the children to get out until the truck climbed over a little patch in the road. Young Butler, in attempting to get on the bus while it was in motion, slipped on the ice, the rear wheels passing over his thighs.

SCOUT FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN

Many Local Residents Interest Themselves in Scout Promotion

Summerland Scout committees are again requesting support of local citizens in the annual Boy Scout financial campaign which ends February 29.

Scouting has a long-established tradition in Summerland and many residents have faithfully contributed to the movement for over a quarter of a century.

Growth of Scouting has kept pace with the rapid development of this district and Summerland now boasts two Scout Groups.

The older group, consisting of the 1st Summerland Scout Troop and 1st Summerland Cub Pack is sponsored by the Canadian Legion through a committee headed by Mr. Steve Cannings.

The second group is sponsored by the AOTS and includes the 2nd Summerland Scout Troop and two Cub Packs.

Dr. H. R. McLarty, long associated with Scout work in Summerland is now president of the Okanagan South Boy Scouts Local Association, which coordinates Scouting in Summerland, Naramata, Penticton, Kelowna, Cawston and Keremeos.

The commissioner for this district is Mr. J. D. Southworth, of Penticton. Mr. Gordon Blewett who is now district Scoutmaster has come up through the ranks of Summerland Scouts and this year will be in charge of the International Camporee to be held near Penticton in May.

The local people who are contributing most to Scouting in Summerland are the "Scouters", the Scoutmaster and Cubmasters and their assistants who devote so much of their time for the youth of the community.

The 1st Summerland Scout Troop is led by Dr. D. V. Fisher. His assistant Scoutmasters are Mr. Alan McCargar and Mr. David Munn. Mrs. Alan McCargar is "Akela" for the 1st Summerland Cub Pack and is ably assisted by Mrs. Frank Davis and Miss Beverly Fleming and Scouts Victor Smith and Geoffrey Solly.

2nd Summerland Scout Troop is guided by Scoutmaster Rev. H. R. Whitmore and Assistant Scoutmaster Harry van Driel. Cubmasters of the two AOTS-sponsored Packs are Mr. Walter Charles and Mr. Alan Butler, assisted by Mr. Frank Doumont, Mr. Gerry Laird, law, Mr. Don Tait and Mr. Blair Underwood. Any Summerland residents wishing to contribute may leave their donations with Mr. Ed. Smith at the Smith & Henry office in West Summerland.

Ladies' Night at AOTS Meeting Sees Milne Films

A delightful innovation at the AOTS meeting held last month was to have each member bring his wife or girl friend.

Having welcomed the lady visitors in a humorous speech, President Everett Bates proceeded to carry on the business of the meeting in the same humorous, informal vein, and for the sake of the visitors condensed it so neatly that the whole business meeting was painlessly concluded in less than half an hour.

The members and their fair guests were entertained by several films shown by Mr. and Mrs. Blake Milne. First they showed the film of the historic trip of the Mounted Police schooner St. Roch through the North-West Passage.

Frost and wind warnings will be provided to tree fruit and other growers of the interior by the meteorological division of the department of transport starting March 10 with D. N. McMullen of the Vancouver weather office in charge with headquarters at the airport at Penticton.

Frost Warning Service Starts On March 10

This service was renewed by Andrew Thomson, chief of the meteorological division, under authority of Hon. Lionel Chevrier, minister of transport, to whom the BCFGA had submitted an application some months ago.

Information for this service is gathered from many quarters of the globe, some at great distances and is organized into forecasts by Mr. McMullen to be broadcast every evening at 8 o'clock through the courtesy and co-operation of Radio Stations CKOV, Kelowna; CKOK Penticton, CFJC at Kamloops and CJIB at Vernon.

Mr. McMullen also has the assistance of more than a dozen weather correspondents situated at strategic points, many in the mountains, throughout the interior of the province.

This service has been found valuable to all types of agriculturists and the BCFGA executive at its meeting February 18 passed a resolution commending Hon. Mr. Chevrier, Mr. Thomson and Mr. McMullen for their practical co-operation.

Plans are being made throughout the Okanagan for participation in the 26th annual Okanagan Valley Musical Festival to be held in Penticton April 21 to 26.

Music Festival Entries Made

Music will be adjudicated by Geoffrey Tankard of London, England; dancing by Miss Mary Isdale, of Vancouver; and vorse speaking by Miss Kathleen Elliott, also of Vancouver.

Closing date for entries in March 1 and from Summerland it is expected that fourteen or fifteen of Miss Kay Hamilton's piano pupils will be entrants in the festival.

High School COMMENTS

With more cold weather, curling enthusiasts may be able to have another chance to show their skill with the rocks and broom.

Saturday night, three basketball games were played in the gym. All three were contests between the winners of the southern and central zones.

In the junior boys' game, the Summerland team was defeated by a team from Penticton. Kelowna and Princeton senior girls met in a hotly-contested battle matching baskets until the final whistle.

High school athletes obtained more equipment this week with the arrival of ten sweat suits purchased by the students' council. These suits should prove of great value to many teams.

Kincaid Installs Legion Branch Officers Here

Graham Kincaid, commander of the South Okanagan-Similkameen Legion zone, officiated on Wednesday evening, Feb. 13 at the installation of President Dr. C. G. Woodbridge and other officers of Summerland Branch No. 22.

Mr. Kincaid expressed admiration for the manner in which the local Legion branch is operated, and stressed the need to visit sick members and veterans at all times.

He talked shortly on war veterans' allowances and the attempts now being made to raise them in view of the increased cost of living. Mr. Kincaid also stressed the children's program of the Legion and the assistance which Legion members have been to those boys who lost their fathers in world wars.

H. C. Howis reported on the recent zone meeting in Penticton which discussed the apparent delays in forming civil defence and militia ranger units. Reeve C. E. Bentley, present at the meeting, declared a civil defence meeting will be called early in March.

During education week, Legion Vice-Presidents A. M. Temple and H. C. Howis will represent the branch at the schools.

It was also reported that 750 pocketbooks for despatch to Canadian troops in Europe and Korea had been gathered here but the campaign is being continued until the month end to endeavor to obtain more of these books.

R. S. Oxley is continuing as secretary of the local branch.

Daryl Weitzel Will Attempt to Break Record

This weekend, Daryl Weitzel of Summerland will attempt to break the downhill record set by Wally Day three years ago.

This will be one of the features of the annual invitational Okanagan high school ski tournament to be held at Meadow Valley ski hill under the auspices of Summerland High School students' council.

Ralph and Alice dePfyffer, also outstanding in valley junior ski tournaments, will lead a contingent of Kelowna High skiers, while Penticton and Oliver entries are also here for Sunday's big meet.

Local school officials are still waiting for word from Vernon as to its competitors, while Princeton is still somewhat doubtful as a jumping tournament is in progress there this weekend.

The road to Meadow Valley is in good shape and the parking area is well levelled off, it is stated.

ROTARIANS SEE SLIDES OF TRIP INTO ROCKIES

Mrs. A. J. Mann was guest of the Rotary Club of Summerland on Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex where she displayed her colored slides depicting her trip into the Rockies. Shovel Pass, near Jasper, was the locale of most of her pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Ross of Vernon are visiting at the home of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Nolan spent several days visiting Mrs. Nolan's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Solly last week, leaving on Thursday for their home at Marsh Lake Lodge, Y.T. Before their departure, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollock entertained on Wednesday evening in their honor, films of a grizzly bear hunt in the Yukon being shown.

Local Growers Are Named by BCFGA to Lead Investigations

Two Summerland growers have been named to special investigating committees of the BCFGA, a report from the directors' meeting in Kelowna last week reveals.

C. J. McKenzie, president of the Summerland BCFGA local, has been named to an investigating committee which will follow up the Summerland resolution passed at the 1952 convention urging the setting up of some form of central purchasing co-operative as a benefit to growers generally.

Along with Mr. McKenzie will be Wilson June of Naramata and S. D. Price of South and East Kelowna. President A. R. Garrish will attend the first meeting of this committee and outline its duties which will be mainly to obtain information and report findings to the central executive.

Also in consequence of a convention request, the BCFGA executive has set up a cold storage utilization committee composed of Sam Pearson, Glenmore; Eric Tait, Summerland; E. Sammet, Naramata; Tim Robbins, Oliver; C. P. Gallagher, Oyama; K. W. Kinnard and Phil Sterling, Vernon.

V.O.N. A native of Winnipeg, Miss Hayward served at Deer Lodge Military Hospital, Winnipeg, King Edward Memorial Hospital, Hamilton, Bermuda, and Reddy Memorial Hospital, Montreal, before joining the Greater Montreal Branch of the V.O.N. in 1951.

Parks Board Would Spend $500 on Permanent Additions Besides Ordinary Maintenance

Summerland's board of parks commissioners presented a statement of expenditures made in 1951 and also presented a tentative budget for 1952 at the Tuesday, Feb. 12 meeting of the municipal council.

For maintenance of parks, beaches and cemetery, the parks board has submitted an estimated expenditure of $3,915 with a return of $200 expected from baseball at the Living Memorial athletic park.

Apart from these estimates, however, the parks board wishes to expend $500 on permanent improvements in 1952, it was stated. What the nature of these improvements are was not disclosed at council session.

Expenditures of 1951

W. G. Snow, parks board chairman and the board secretary, E. H. Bennett, presented the commissioners' reports, giving an expenditure in 1951 of $3,593 with baseball revenue of $213.84, leaving a net cost of $3,379.16. These expenditures were divided as follows: General $98.23, Powell Beach $626.51, Peach Orchard Park $146.03, Cemetery $280.90, Park Playground $125.97, Athletic Park $365.81, Peach Orchard Beach $15.26, office supplies $19.25, wages $2,015.04.

For 1952, following is the estimated expenditure required:

Wages $2,500, Powell Beach $300, Peach Orchard Beach $100, Peach Orchard Park $100, Cemetery $165, Athletic Park $200, Park Playground $150. General, including public liability insurance $200, fire insurance $200, total $3,915.

Both Councillors H. J. R. Richards and F. E. Atkinson complimented the parks board on its report, their sentiments being echoed by Reeve C. E. Bentley who also warned that the budget would have to wait until all estimates for 1952 were considered by the council.

Details of discussion between the lawn bowling club and the parks board were given municipal council.

The parks board had offered a portion of the Living Memorial park playground, along with use of the former hockey dressing room, for a yearly rental of $100, it was stated.

This $100 rental could be paid for through permanent improvements to the park and its facilities, including the lawn bowling premises, the parks board explained. However, this deal was not acceptable to bowling club executive, it was stated.

Council asked the parks board representatives for their reaction to a plan for rest rooms at the northwest corner of the Living Memorial park playground, instead of including such facilities in the municipal hall as proposed by the Women's Institute.

The latter body offered to pay for the cost of rest room facilities in the municipal hall project, over a term of years.

Planned for Bandshell

Council was told by parks board that originally it had been hoped rest rooms would be provided in the Kiwanis bandshell which was started two years ago. No further work was done on the bandshell last year, and the band did not use it to as great a degree as the parks board had hoped, the parks board members stated.

It was felt, however, that rest room facilities would be nearer the centre of the business section if they were placed near the park entrance from the northwest rather than farther back in the park where the bandshell is located.

Parks Board Chairman Bill Snow agreed that his group would consider the proposal and obtain estimates.

In the original plans of the Summerland Memorial Parks Committee, rest rooms at this location were included, at a cost of about $2,200 but when the municipal council suggested that they be incorporated in a municipal hall project, the parks committee dropped the rest rooms from their estimates in favor of other projects.

Valentine Motif At St. Stephen's WA Evening Branch Tea

In an attractive setting of daffodils, pussy-willows, and the bright red of the Valentine motif, the Evening Branch of St. Stephen's WA were hostesses at a very successful tea, sale of home cooking, delicious candy, and sewing in the parish hall on Saturday, Feb. 16.

The event was postponed from the previous Saturday because of the death of the King.

Mrs. E. F. Weeks, the president, graciously welcomed the guests.

Daffodils, flanked by tall red tapers were the lovely centre for the lace-covered tea table where Mrs. F. V. Harrison and Mrs. E. C. Bingham, past president of the WA presided. Small tables where guests chatted over their tea cups were centred with unusual and original gilded apples ingeniously used to hold bouquets of pussy-willows or red gumdrop hearts.

The affair was convened by Mrs. Alex. Finch and during the afternoon Mrs. D. Turnbull sang two solos. One of her songs, 'There's A Land, which had been given on a previous occasion, was sung as a request number. The second was 'Down Here. Mrs. Lloyd was her accompanist and also played a number of delightful piano selections throughout the tea hour.

Mrs. George W. Malton read tea cups and those attending the sales tables were: home cooking and candy, Mrs. R. A. Fredrickson, Mrs. Bob Barkwill and Mrs. Axworthy; novelties and candy, Mrs. Ryan Lawley and Mrs. Alec Watt.

The busy kitchen staff were Mrs. B. T. Washington, Mrs. D. L. Sanborn, Mrs. Clarence Adams, and Mrs. T. E. Lott, while Mrs. M. C. Pobjinson, Mrs. R. Kersey, Mrs. I. Tavender, Mrs. D. Turnbull, and Mrs. J. Lamney served.

Electrical Workers Seek Big Increase

Electrical workers in the employ of the Municipality of Summerland have amalgamated with Local 213, Vancouver, and are requesting a new wage agreement with the municipality, Summerland council was informed last week.

Both Penticton and Summerland municipal electrical employees are now with the Vancouver union, whose basic scale for linemen is $225 per month. The union is seeking an 18 percent increase which would bring wages to approximately $265 per month.

If such an agreement was forced on Summerland municipality it would throw wages for other municipal employees away out of line, it was pointed out by council.

Mrs. R. C. Palmer To Attend Red Cross Meeting

Mrs. R. C. Palmer was elected a delegate to attend the provincial council meeting of the Canadian Red Cross Society in Vancouver on Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 26-27, at an executive meeting held on Wednesday, Feb. 13.

Mr. J. Y. Towgood, vice-president, took the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. K. Elliott.

Discussion as to whether the $3,000 campaign quota was too high or not was one of the items on the agenda. The quota has been the same for the past three years, although the provincial quota this year is higher.

Mr. Towgood expressed appreciation of the excellent job done by the Jaycees in getting blood donors for the clinic when 299 gave blood and a vote of thanks was moved to that organization.

Whether semi-annual blood donor clinics would be advisable here was a thought brought up at the meeting. At the Westbank conference mention was made of the possibility of a second mobile unit for the southern part of the interior to be established at Penticton. If this became a reality the meeting agreed that clinics twice a year might be quite successful.

The fact that the Jaycees undertook the campaign canvass last year and after a great deal of hard work and concentrated effort, fell just a little below the quota, was thought to be an indication that the sum set was in excess of what it should be for Summerland.

Mrs. Palmer, as the delegate, was asked to take this up with provincial headquarters when in Vancouver at the conference.

The fact that Red Cross is stressing organization for disaster relief was talked over at some length. As it is known that this municipality has been organized for the same purpose following a meeting called by the reeve, C. E. Bentley, it was suggested that Mrs. Palmer get in touch with municipal authorities as to this before going to the coast, and while there discuss the situation with the Red Cross disaster relief chairman, Col. Stein, as to utility of overlapping, etc.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting following the delegate's return, and at that time to appoint a disaster relief chairman, since the president has asked to be released from this committee.

The secretary reported that a letter of sympathy had been sent to Mr. Wm. Armstrong following the death of Mrs. Armstrong, who was an interested and faithful Red Cross worker.

It was reported, also, that the Littau family, whose home was burned, was most appreciative of relief in the form of clothing and bedding given them through Red Cross.

At the request of the treasurer a letter of appreciation was sent to Rutherford, Bazett & Co., who audit the local Red Cross books free of charge annually, and to the Summerland branch of the Bank of Montreal for courteous and friendly service during the past year.

Legion LA Officers are Installed

Thirty-five women were present at the annual meeting of the Legion LA on St. Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, in the parish hall.

A short memorial service for the late King George VI. was held, when the twenty-third psalm was read, and two minutes' silence observed. Immediately after this God Save The Queen was sung.

Mrs. N. G. Kincaid, zone commander and zone president, came from Penticton to install the officers for 1952. Mrs. Frank Young was returned as president with Mrs. J. A. Read, 1st vice-president, and Mrs. H. Short, 2nd vice-president. Other officers are: Secretary, Mrs. T. Fisher; treasurer, Mrs. J. Mitchell; standard bearer, Mrs. H. Dracas; sergeant at arms, Mrs. W. Kopp.

Appointed to act with the officers as the executive committee were Mrs. H. Howard, Mrs. Annie Johnston, Mrs. W. Milne, and the past president, Mrs. W. McCutcheon. Mrs. W. Kopp was made the press secretary.

The sick committee is headed by Mrs. Annie Johnston and the social committee by Mrs. A. McCargar. Mrs. F. Downes is the pianist.

During the business session $30 was voted to go to Shaughnessy Military hospital.

It was decided to hold the annual children's party on St. Patrick's Day since it was postponed from St. Valentine's day until a later date.

Bazaar work was given out and a donation committee consisting of Mrs. H. Short, Mrs. J. Mitchell and Mrs. W. Kopp chosen, to interest more people in assisting with the bazaar.

Members were asked to continue saving coupons for the Girl Guide Local Association to obtain flat silver for use at Guide functions, and were asked, also, to bring in old Christmas cards which will be forwarded where they can be used.

Mrs. J. A. Read gave an interesting report of the zone meeting at Penticton recently.

The raffle was won by Mrs. D. McLachlan, and a delightful tea was served by Mrs. L. Johnston, Mrs. Elmer Johnstone and Mrs. J. Broderick.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Marked by Mr. and Mrs. W. Turigan

The golden wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. William Turigan, Victoria Gardens, was marked specially for them by the ladies of St. John's Lutheran church and other friends. Thirty-seven met at their home on the evening of Feb. 12, the anniversary of their marriage which took place in 1902 in Romania.

The minister of St. John's Lutheran came from Penticton to conduct a short service during which he spoke on the twenty-third psalm, and all sang hymns.

After this, on behalf of those present, Mr. Gabert presented the couple with a lovely white china tea set decorated with gold, and Mrs. Albert Glaser, besides presenting a pair of bedroom slippers gave a recitation in their honor.

A program had been arranged to follow the service when Mr. and Mrs. Turigan's daughter, Mrs. G. Schreiber, and their granddaughter, Miss Fern Turigan, sang. Their grandson, Donnie Turigan, recited, and their son-in-law, Mr. G. Schreiber gave an interesting and original reading of an account of the honored pair from their courting days until the present time.

Games were part of the evening's entertainment, and delicious refreshments, which included a beautiful wedding cake, brought the long-to-be-remembered evening to an end.

Mr. and Mrs. Turigan came to Canada in 1911 settling at Castor, Alta. They moved to Summerland five years ago.

There were six sons and six daughters in their family, three of whom have died. One daughter Mrs. G. Schreiber and her husband live here, and one son, Andrew, and his wife and family, are Summerland residents.

Others are Chris, Carl, Paul, Mrs. Ernest Burzloff and Mrs. Alvin Burzloff, all living at Galahad, Alta. Another daughter, Mrs. Fred Roth, is at Forestburg, Alta. and another, Mrs. Ferdinand Blumhagen at Bulwark, Alberta.

Bridal Gowns from 1899 to 1951 Are Modelled Before Service Club Meeting

The regular meeting of St. Andrew's Service club was held on Monday, February 18, at 8 o'clock in the church hall, with over 80 present. In the absence of the president, the first vice-president, Mrs. David Munn, took the meeting. Mrs. Francis Stewart was in charge of the devotional.

Satisfactory reports on the recent AOTS and congregational suppers were given and Mrs. Wilcox volunteered to take charge of the junior congregation.

Owing to the fact that this marked the 8th birthday of the Service Club, the Lakeside United church ladies were invited and a social program provided. This took the form of a procession and display of bridal gowns dating from 1899 to 1951, modeled by daughters, friends or the original owners of the gowns.

In charge of this part of the program was Mrs. E. E. Bates who gave the varied and lovely brides away dressed appropriately in her grandfather's wedding suit. Mrs. J. Mayne made a delightful and interesting comment.

Suitable wedding music was provided by the singers, Mrs. K. Boothe, Mrs. Gordon Smith and Miss Nanoy Fleming with Mrs. L. Fudge accompanying at the piano, all dressed in Victorian costumes.

Those modeling wedding gowns were: Mrs. Walter Charles, wearing her mother's, the late Mrs. A. G. Munn; while Mrs. R. H. Bleasdale wore as the mother's costume, one of 70 years ago; Miss Chris Mair wore her mother's, Mrs. H. B. Mair; Miss Beatrice Davis modeled Mrs. T. W. Boothe's gown; Mrs. R. S. Oxley wore Mrs. Adam Stark's; Mrs. Don Chapman wore her mother's, Mrs. E. E. Campbell; Mrs. S. Blazenko wore her aunt's, Mrs. W. J. Baker, accompanied by Mrs. Francis Stewart and Mrs. M. Ducommun dressed in short bridesmaids gowns of that time with Miss Phyllis Hoath, similarly dressed as the mother of the bride, and Mrs. Allan McKenzie as mother of the groom; Miss Frances Atkinson wore her mother's gown, Mrs. F.

E. Atkinson; Miss Jane Woolliams, her mother's, Mrs. Ewart Woolliams.

Next, Mrs. J. Holman modeled Mrs. Blair Underwood's wedding gown, followed by Mrs. Whitmore, who modeled her own. Mrs. J. Sheeley wore her own gown as did Mrs. Paul Charles. Miss Mary Marshall wore Mrs. J. Mayne's; Mrs. C. Fujita wore her own gown as also did Mrs. F. Kuroda.

When all the colorful and beautiful costumes were finally assembled on the platform, Mrs. H. Whitmore sang "Till Walk Beside You" and the bridal chorus sang their finale.

Mrs. H. A. McCargar moved a vote of thanks to the program committee and all who took part.

Delicious refreshments followed, including a birthday cake with 8 candles and served by the following group, convened by Mrs. Allan McKenzie, Mrs. J. McLachlan, Mrs. Ross McLachlan, Mrs. Frank Pollock, Miss Joanne Ritchie, Mrs. M. D. Proverbs, Mrs. W. B. Powell, Mrs. R. S. Oxley and Mrs. C. W. Reinertson.

Summerland women will observe the day in the Pentecostal church at three o'clock that afternoon. The theme chosen for the 1952 day is Christ, Our Hope, from 1st Timothy.

As has been the custom for a great many years the collection taken at the service goes towards the upkeep of the Summerland Zenana Bed in the hospital at Lucknow, India.

A FARM IMPROVEMENT LOAN FOR THE KITCHEN STOVE?

There's more to Farm Improvement loans than tractors or combines, points out Mr. Solly, manager of the Bank of Montreal at West Summerland. They're designed to help the farmer — and his wife — make the best out of their home as well as their land. For you can get a Farm Improvement Loan to cover the installation of water and electric systems, to improve your plumbing and put in stoves, washing machines and heating or lighting appliances.

Even the building of tourist cabins and summer cottages, which provide a farm family with valuable extra revenue during the vacation season, may be financed through an F.I.L.

If you feel that a low-cost Farm Improvement Loan would benefit your farm, or better your living conditions, make a point of calling on Mr. Solly next time you're in town. Talk over your plans with him, in confidence, so that you can work out together how the B of M can best help you with financing your farm improvement. Advt.

New Tax Rental Deal Means More For B.C. Treasury

Discussions between the federal and British Columbia governments in connection with renewal of the tax rental agreement on modified terms have now been completed by Hon. Douglas Abbott, federal minister of finance and Premier Byron I. Johnson.

Assisting in the discussions have been Hon. R. W. Mayhew, B.C.'s minister in the federal government and H. Carl Goldenberg, Q.C. special counsel and economic advisor to the B.C. government.

The modified terms were agreed upon at a special meeting of the B.C. cabinet on Thursday, February 7, following telephone and telegraphic exchanges between the cabinet in Victoria and Premier Johnson in Ottawa. The terms will now be recommended to the B.C. legislature by the government.

Under the new terms, B.C. will receive the first quarterly installment of the annual payment on June 30 instead of September 30 as was the case under the expiring agreement. The premier explained that any province is to have the option to accept this form of payment or continue with the arrangement under the expiring agreement. On his recommendation, the cabinet agreed that the government should recommend to the legislature adoption of the proposal that payments under the new agreement commence on June 30.

The cabinet also agreed to recommend to the legislature that the rental payments to the province be calculated on the basis of the ratio of change in gross national product and provincial population in the single year preceding the year of payment in relation to 1948, instead of the calculation on the basis of a two-year average as was proposed at the dominion-provincial conference in December, 1950.

Irrigation, Root Stock Research Continue Under $5,000 Grant

Dr. R. C. Palmer, superintendent of the experimental station, Summerland, has informed the BCFGA executive that through the grant of $5,000 voted by the 1952 convention, two departments of research will be continued, namely irrigation investigation by D. C. Stevenson in collaboration with Dr. J. C. Wilcox, and root stock investigation, for the ultimate purpose of establishing identification and thus permitting certification, by K. Laps, who is an expert in this department and who has been working on this for the BCFGA for the last year.

Stemmos thinning investigation will be conducted by Mr. Stevenson as a special effort. Convention delegates thought this would be a very desirable project, and the BCFGA executive has agreed with the program.

Provision also has been made for the province to reenter, if it so desires, the personal income and corporation tax field at the expiration of the new five-year agreement.

The premier, in making the announcement, said that "Needless to say I am very gratified with the outcome of the discussions which will be beneficial to B.C. I shall have no hesitation in placing the cabinet's recommendation before the legislature."

"Details of the legislation to be presented to the house will be worked out between officials of the federal treasury and H. Carl Goldenberg, Q.C. who has so ably assisted in our negotiations," the premier concluded.

Under the new agreement B.C. will receive roughly $10 million more per annum than previously.

Elimination of Service Club Work With More Stress on Board of Trade Activities was Major Move in 1951 States Retiring President

A lengthy resume of the past year's activities of the Summerland Board of Trade, was given the annual meeting at the IOOF hall Thursday evening by the retiring president, J. R. Armstrong. The report, as presented, follows:

In presenting the annual presidential report to this yearly meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade, I do so with the feeling that the year just concluded has been one of fulfillment, of much accomplishment in the name of progress in the annals of Summerland.

Summerland Board of Trade has had more prosperous years, it has had more successful years, but still, 1951 was a year of accomplishment, in my humble opinion.

Several departures from precedent were noted during the past year, notably the distinct trend away from service club work and the stress laid on work which falls more closely in the realm of actual board of trade endeavors.

There are now several well-established organizations committed to carry on service club operations in Summerland. Let us leave such endeavors to them and concentrate on projects which fall more directly in the sphere of the board of trade and chamber of commerce.

Objects of Trade Board
At this point, may I quote the objects of this board of trade as outlined in our constitution:

"To undertake or support any projects or programs, that are deemed to be for the betterment of the community,

"To co-operate with other boards of trade or chambers of commerce in furtherance of any projects or programs deemed to be for the betterment of the province or dominion.

"To keep a watching brief on existing or proposed legislation and to support or oppose it as deemed advisable.

"To encourage and support the programs of other organizations engaged in charitable or social service work."

If it is within the financial and physical possibility of this board to support charitable and social service projects then by all means let us do so. But do not carry on such work to the detriment of the projects which fall more closely within our scope.

Monthly dinner meetings were abandoned last year in favor of quarterly dinner meetings, with a resultant drastic cut in operating loss in connection with our meetings.

As you have already noted from the financial statement, a considerable sum had to be expended in rentals which had not been brought to our notice from the previous year and which cut into our budget considerably.

We had guest speakers for most of our meetings, including J. E. Lander, sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.; Ald. Frank Christian, of Penticton; Norman Trout, West Kootenay Power & Light Co., Penticton; Dr. J. C. Goodfellow, noted historian from Princeton; Lash F. Haggman, manager of the Unemployment Insurance Commission office in Penticton; and two of our own members, Councillor F. E. Atkinson and Dr. J. C. Wilcox.

Our meetings were designed, in the main, to provide topics of interest to the membership in relation to current trends. One of the most interesting debates centered about the single transferable vote, with the membership endorsing this new policy of voting after a paper of "experts" had given it a comprehensive outline.

Not so well fated was the subject of resale price maintenance which the board would not vote on because of lack of previous explanation and study.

The board also went on record against insurance being instituted as part of the B.C.H.S. levy. Despite this negative vote, the government instituted coinsurance anyway.

No Action on Zoning

Although the board urged on the municipal council the importance of introducing zoning regulations without further delay, I am sorry to have to report that this important bylaw has not reached the council table yet.

On the other hand, one of the board's "hardy annuals" came home to roost in the past year. Motor vehicle licences are now being issued to local district owners through the municipal offices, a service patterned on the request of this board for several years.

Although the board did not take an active part in the setting up of the actual issuing office here, yet it was through the consistent efforts of the board, the municipal council and other similar bodies throughout the province that the government was at last convinced it should provide this essential service to the motorists in such centres as Summerland.

It has been said many times that a board of trade is only as strong as its committees. In this we were fortunate in having a number of excellent standing and temporary committees to handle our projects.

The standing committees which did such excellent work and from whom you will hear individual reports tonight, include: Civic affairs, Scotty Ritchie; new industries, F. M. Atkinson; swim classes, Cecil Wade; attendance and membership, Walter M. Wright; program, E. E. Bates; agriculture, Alec Watt; traffic safety, N. O. Solly.

Unfortunately, we were never able to get the tourist and publicity committee operating on a satisfactory basis.

Spring Fair Revival

Major project of the year was the revival of the Spring Fair. Walter Toews was chairman of this big undertaking which resulted in the board's treasury being enhanced by nearly $500. Despite opposition from some quarters, including many retailers, the Spring Fair was a decided success from an attendance and financial standpoint.

I would like to recommend, however, that before another Spring Fair is held that a more earnest endeavor to obtain the active support of the retail merchants' association be made, as only through the co-operation of local businessmen can the booth portion of the Fair be made sufficiently attractive to hold the interest of the patrons.

With Tom McKay as chairman, the best collection yet recorded for the March of Dimes resulted from board activity. It has been recommended, however, that this project be handed to a service organization as it does not come within board of trade scope.

This is a subject which should be discussed at once by your incoming executive.

The annual Christmas treat for the kiddies found Santa Claus arriving in a sleigh pulled by a single horsepower, an innovation which was possible because of the depth of snow on Christmas Eve. Bob Barkwell and his committee did an excellent job and found that by combining the collection with the Christmas activities of the retail merchants a duplication of effort was saved, with a more favorable reaction from the businessmen involved.

The outdoor lighting contest at Christmas is becoming more popular as each year rolls by and householders are able to add to their strings of lights. Summerland presents a friendly, pleasing atmosphere during the Christmas holiday season from the outdoor lighting around the homes.

Highway Modernization

One of the main projects of the board of trade has been the endeavor to have the Penticton to Deep Creek section of Okanagan Highway No. 97 included in the department of public works modernization program.

It was understood last spring that the Penticton-Trout Creek section was to be undertaken in 1951, but when the cabinet demanded a curtailment in public works expenditures because of deficits in hospital operation and other social service costs, the department had to eliminate this portion of highway from its appropriation.

During the summer, the Summerland Board was instrumental in obtaining the support of the Kelowna and Penticton boards in presenting a joint brief to Hon. E. C. Carson, then the minister of public works, relative to the need of completing this important section of Okanagan highway.

Your president and Mr. C. G. Beaton, Kelowna board president, presented the brief to Mr. Carson and it met with a very favorable reception. We were assured that the public works department is just as anxious as we are to have this section modernized.

We have the assurance of M. R. Finnerty, M.L.A. for Similkameen, that the Penticton-Trout Creek section has a high priority in the public works department estimates which are expected to come before the legislature in the next few weeks.

It would be well for the board to keep a close check on this subject in view of the changes in cabinet ministers in the provincial government.

Your board also kept in touch with the public works department relative to maintenance of the highway last spring and I think most board members were in agreement that the public works crews did a better-than-average job of bringing the highway back into a state suitable to take most traffic after the old road surface had heaved so badly when frosts left the ground last spring.

The Summerland Board of Trade was well represented at most meetings in connection with chamber of commerce work in this province. Representatives were present at Vancouver for one of the final meetings of the B.C. Council of Associated Boards of Trade and at the charter meetings of its successor, the B.C. Chamber of Commerce. The local board entertained the annual meeting of the Southern Interior Associated Boards of Trade and Summerland board was represented at a number of trade fairs in Kelowna and Penticton.

Peach Festival Parade

We were all proud of the wonderful float which our board entered in the Penticton and District Peach Festival Parade and which won the Community section shield. Stan Gladwell and the staffs of MacKay's Ladies' Wear and West Summerland Building Supplies Ltd. were instrumental in designing and fashioning this prize-winning float.

Miss Summerland, Marguerite Menu, was the royal figure from this district officially representing us at the Peach Festival functions. She made a stately princess and carried out her official duties with aplomb. She was also an honored guest at the Kaleden Community Hall Peach ball just prior to the Peach Festival.

Last June we worked with the Baptist church in promotion of the first provincial convention ever held away from coast cities; also distributed a number of Women's Institute calendars as a publicity gesture; while a hard-working committee headed by Ken Boothe assisted in billeting the delegates. These visitors were also driven around the district and given an insight into the beauties of this fruit-growing centre.

After due consideration, this board recommended to the board of parks commissioners the establishment of a children's playground in lower town.

The new industries committee, as you will learn from its report, was instrumental in promoting one properly designed and operated fruit stand, and helped in the establishment of a custom cannery.

Control of fruit stands is a subject which has worried board members and is still under consideration.

Other projects in the offing are the following: Investigation of the possibility of a breakwater at Powell Beach; issuance of a new set of publicity folders; calling of a public meeting to discuss the municipal hall subject.

The board also was represented on the civil defence organization which held one meeting last year.

In conclusion, gentlemen, may I urge you to do everything in your power to promote the board of trade movement in Summerland. Summerland needs a properly-organized board of trade to watch over its needs, to promote its future progress, to act as a watchdog in the provincial capital, to serve as the sounding board of business interests and when I mention business interests I am not thinking of the storekeeper alone, but of the cannery operator, the packinghouse operator and the man in the fruit orchard who represents the biggest single industry in the district.

Each and every one of those businessmen needs a progressive board of trade. Please see to it that they have one.

SIR GEORGE BELLEW, left, Garter King of Arms, reads the proclamation at St. James's Palace. Standing with him on the balcony are LORD HALIFAX, centre, High Steward of Westminster, and the DUKE OF NORFOLK, hereditary Marshal of England. Chlorination System Still Under Study

Subject of water chlorination came before council last week, when Councillor H. J. Richards admitted that further tests were being made to have the chlorinator function in a proper manner.

"I think eventually it will be made to work properly," Mr. Richards declared.

Councillor Stuart considered the company which installed the apparatus should be informed of difficulties which have arisen and be asked to send a representative. The company will be so informed, council decided.

Councillor Richards noted, however, that the medical health officer who had reported on the inadequacy of the protection provided Summerland from its chlorination plant had admitted that a positive test had never been obtained while the chlorinator was in operation.

RCMP Deal Seeks Better Quarters Here

Summerland municipal council last week authorized the signing of a contract for 1952 with the RCMP, which involves providing more suitable quarters for the police within two months.

In submitting the new contract, the RCMP pointed out the "unsatisfactory condition of the quarters", which are not "in keeping with the usual accommodation."

Office furniture and equipment is old and dilapidated and a new typewriter is also needed, the police pointed out.

Only difference in the contract is an increase in the car allowance charged the municipality from $420 to $485. This represents a proportion of the total car mileage shown by the RCMP here, as they patrol as far north as Bear Creek in unorganized territory.

Council considered that the car mileage allotted to the municipality by the RCMP for January was out of proportion and if it continued on the same basis would effect the municipality's share of expenses in the 1953 contract.

Mileage figures for the last three months of 1951 were 499 in October, 374 in November and 554 in December. January's mileage figure for the municipality jumped to over 800 miles, averaging 25 miles per day.

Reeve C. E. Bentley declared he would discuss this increase with RCMP Constable I. G. Thorsteinson.

WILL NOT REPLACE FIRE TELEPHONE YET

One fire brigade member has resigned and his fire telephone has been removed, council learned last week. For the time being, it will not be replaced, and it will be determined if the brigade can function by using six special phones for fire calls instead of the original seven.

NEW FRONTIERS

There have been many changes in the economic life of Canada in these post-war years, as her change from an agricultural to an industrial economy has become a reality. None of these have been so startling as the opening of new frontiers of industry in this far Western Province.

With its great natural wealth, British Columbia has always been a fruitful field for capital investment, but it is only in the past few years that these natural resources have become the basis for further and more intensive industrial development. British Columbia has always held a paramount place in forestry, mining and fisheries production, and in these later years, we have seen and gained the benefit of further expansion in these fields. Now, added to them, are huge hydro-electric developments with industrial production in aluminum, cellulose and other products related to basic resources, either actually under way, or in advanced stages of development.

All of us in British Columbia have a stake directly or indirectly in these developments. They are the basis of the highest average wage, and the most advanced social conditions of any Province of this Dominion. All this is a credit not only to nature herself, but to the political sagacity which has encouraged the investment capital, foreign and domestic, on this unprecedented scale. This has been accomplished not only by the provision of sound government, but by active encouragement, through efficient road and rail transport, by the development of abundant electric power, and by related means.

We have much in the past of which to be proud. More, we can look forward with confidence to the brightest economic and social future the world has to offer.

Rev. H. R. Whitmore Chosen for General Council by Presbytery

The Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery of the United Church convened in Penticton on Tuesday, Feb. 12 with Very Rev. Hugh Watt of Edinburgh, former moderator of the Church of Scotland being introduced by the chairman, Rev. H. R. Whitmore of Summerland.

Dr. Watt has been delivering a series of lectures in Union College Vancouver.

Corresponding privileges were granted to Rev. W. P. Bunt, DD superintendent of missions, and to Rev. R. H. Dobson, who is en route to Korea as a chaplain to the paratroop battalion of the Canadian Brigade.

Many Pastoral Changes

Pastoral changes in the Presbytery include the retirement of Rev. Robert Morrison of Kamloops after 43 years in the ministry and 15 in Kamloops; Rev. R. C. S. Crysdale who has been called to Colborne St. Church Brantford, Ont.; and Rev. G. W. Payne of Vernon. Rev. H. R. McGill of Peachland-Westbank and Rev. W. E. Sieber of Golden. All these changes take place in June.

The evening meeting on Tuesday was featured by a very fine worship conducted by the Naramata Christian Leadership Training School.

Very Rev. Dr. Hugh Watt gave an inspiring address on "The Word of God" illustrated by scenes from Church history.

The committee on salaries, Mr. Fred Cox convener, reported that all charges had met their minimum obligations but in two instances the mileage rates had been overlooked.

The illness of Rev. Robert Christie, the new secretary of Evangelism prevented his planned visit to the Okanagan. The devotional addresses he was to have contributed were taken by Revs. Dr. H. Watt, E. Rands, R. S. Leitich and G. W. Payne, at the opening of each session.

The missionary and maintenance report was given by Rev. H. S. McDonald of Revelstoke and showed $18,000 contributed, an increase of 8.8% over 1950. Mr. McDonald stressed the need for stewardship on the part of church members if the church is to do its share in missionary service.

Eleven New Candidates

Rev. G. G. Harris of Naramata reported eleven candidates for the ministry in this presbytery including Bryson Boyle of Penticton who is to be ordained this year. Allan Crowe formerly of Kelowna, T. W. Bulman and Allan Dawe of Vernon, H. F. Venables of Oliver, R. Tennant and R. H. Wallace of Kamloops are among those preparing for the ministry.

The report on the Naramata Training school was given by Mr. J. B. Feeney, of Penticton. There are 60 enrolled and 42 in residence. There are buildings estimated at $150,000 and a well-organized program of work and study. A young student, Len Fowles, recently enrolled from England gave a very fine description of his own interest in the school and his reasons for attending. Ray Mitchell and Jim Henning were also present observing the sessions of Presbytery.

The home missions committee, whose indefatigable convener is Rev. Gerald Payne of Vernon, gave a picture of the great amount of mission work done in the presbytery. Over $7,000 is spent by the United Church headquarters to assist charges in this valley. Dr. Percy Bunt was present representing the mission board and he outlined the policy of the church regarding grants-in-aid to congregations not strong enough to meet their obligations in full. Twelve ministers are needed in B.C. this year and so far only 8 or 4 are likely to be available.

A resolution was presented by Rev. R. C. S. Crysdale regarding the retirement this year of Rev. Robert Morrison of Kamloops.

On Wednesday evening the Presbytery was entertained at supper by the W.A. of Penticton Church. Mayor W. A. Rathbun greeted the delegates on behalf of the city of Penticton. Greetings were also conveyed by Rev. Mr. Eagles of St. Saviour's Anglican Church and Mr. H. D. Kyle of the Penticton church board.

Rev. F. E. Runnals president of the United Church conference brought a word from the conference and Rev. R.R. Morrison a former pastor spoke of his happy relations with the Penticton congregation in days past.

The committee on evangelism and social service conducted a forum on Wednesday evening. Rev. Stewart Crysdale presided and gave a sketch of the problems confronting the church in these days under the heading of: The survival of the Christian Fellowship, the reasons for evangelism, and Christ's command to seek those outside the fold. A spirited debate followed in which many took part.

Regarding the liquor plebiscite to be taken probably in June it was pointed out that more outlets for the distribution of intoxicants will result in an increase of the abuse of liquor as it has done in Ontario. A plea was made by the convener for voluntary total abstinence on the part of church people as a help to those who might become victims of over-indulgence.

As the general council meets this autumn in Ottawa a vote was taken to select nominations for commissioners to the council. This resulted in Rev. H. R. Whitmore being nominated along with Miss Ruth Simpson of Penticton as the lay representative. Alternates are Rev. H. S. McDonald, and Mrs. T. F. McWilliams of Kelowna.

Elections for chairman at the presbytery resulted in Rev. Ernest Rands being chosen for the 1952-53 term, assuming office after June 30. Mr. E. Anhorn of Vernon president of the lay association announced a planned observance by all churches of Layman's Sunday on Feb. 29.

The property committee convener Rev. D. M. Perley, Kelowna announced the sale of property at Salmon Arm and Armstrong and new buildings to be erected.

Fire Brigade Submits Estimate with Chief's Stipend Raised to $1500

Submission of fire brigade estimates for 1952 to last week's council session precipitated another discussion on the monthly wage paid Fire Chief Ed Gould.

The brigade submitted estimates amounting to $3,227.50, including the fire chief's remuneration at $1500 for the year.

Last year, Mr. Gould received $1,220, including $120 for transportation allowance. No mention was made of remuneration for transportation in brigade estimates for this year.

"The fire chief does a good job, but it's just a matter of how much we can afford to pay," was Rovee C. E. Bentley's comment. When the fire chief was employed three years ago it was not considered that it would be anything but part-time employment, but Mr. Gould declares he is unable to take on other work because of the demands on his time made by his position as fire chief and assistant fire marshal.

The fire committee of Rovee Bentley and Councillor Francis Stewart was asked to make a recommendation on the subject of fire chief's remuneration to next week's

Council Satisfied With Information on Forest Management

An outline of the protection for the future of forest management licencing plan of the provincial forestry branch was provided council last week after the latter body had requested information in lieu of the application of Trautman & Garraway, Peachland, for a forest management licence for timber limits including most of the municipal watershed.

Well-planned roads are insisted upon when a management licence is issued, and fire protection is enhanced, the forest service pointed out.

Council expressed satisfaction with the answer, from the forest service officials.

School Insurance Likely to Advance

Johnson, Walton & Co., insurance brokers, have informed Summerland school board that they estimate there will be a raise in insurance rates in 1952, the school board meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 11 heard.

In correspondence from this firm of insurance brokers, it was pointed out that during the five-year period through 1945-49 there were 122 losses of school properties through fire. The lowest number in any one year was 19, and the highest 34.

It was stated that for every dollar received by insurance companies in premiums the cost to these firms had been $1.16.

There was a large loss in school properties in the interior, at Grand Forks, Penticton and Kelowna districts, and it is for all these reasons that it is expected that the rates on schools will be increased.

Freight Boost Does Not Apply to Fruit

KELOWNA—The 4 1/2 percent railway freight rate boost which went into effect on Monday will not apply to B.C. lumber, apples and pears moving east.

B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. officials were jubilant over this news and said it will mean the saving of thousands of dollars for the valley.

Estimated cost of this 4 1/2 percent boost is believed to be an extra $20 millions to the nations' freight charges.

meeting of the council. One hundred feet of new hose at a cost of $275 is being sought by the fire brigade.

Last year, the fire brigade expended $3,845, which was $200 over estimates, council was informed.

Any idea of charging home owners for chimney fires when it can be proved that negligence in cleaning the chimney was responsible for the outbreak, has been discarded by municipal council.

Kelowna and Penticton make no charge and it was thought that a home owner might delay too long in putting in an alarm if a charge was pending in case of a chimney not cleaned properly. Greater loss by fire might ensue if there was any hesitancy in connection with calling the brigade, it is thought. Fire Chief Gould reported to council that the brigade responded to two fires and one practice in January. Most public buildings had been checked along with all body shops and garages, he reported.

Accounts passed for payment at last week's council session totalled $14,948.29.

Big Drop in Production for 1950 Season Shown in Report

Highlight of the committee reports at the Summerland Board of Trade annual meeting in the IOOF hall last Thursday evening came from Mr. A. W. Watt's agricultural committee which produced figures on Summerland fruit production during 1949 and 1950.

Mr. Watt's report was in the nature of an interim statement, as he has not been able to complete the monetary returns which these two crop years returned to the district.

"It is hoped that we will soon be able to complete our financial figures, at which time we will present the final report at one of the monthly meetings," Mr. Watt declared, also expressing appreciation for the "wholehearted co-operation received from the majority of firms" contacted by his committee.

Not Entirely Normal

Mr. Watt pointed out that the fiscal years 1949 and 1950 were not entirely normal ones as 1949 was a year of price depression for apples while 1950 was a year of low soft fruit output with continued price depression in apples.

"Nevertheless, if this report is to give a true picture of economic conditions through which we are now passing, it would not be accurate to take figures from earlier years," he pointed out. "The year 1951 has not been included since production figures for this year are not yet available."

Production figures released by Mr. Watt include all fresh fruit, processed fruit and culls reaching warehouses and are taken from statistics of the horticultural branch of the B.C. agricultural department.

These production figures, in pack-

Traffic Committee Reports

Another committee which was quite active in 1951 was the traffic safety committee, headed by N. O. Solly. Mr. Solly reported that six meetings were held last year and his members interviewed the municipal council and local police before making recommendations.

Mr. Solly listed his work under four main headings:

1. Implementing the enforcement of the traffic and safety bylaws now in force in the municipality.
2. Making recommendations to the board of trade for further action regarding traffic hazards and dangers which came to our notice during the year.
3. Actively supporting the school board in its plans for enlarging the school playground to department of education standards, also working out the subsequent problems of road closures and safety precaution necessary in such a program. 4. Being instrumental in encouraging a safety education program within the schools; this entailed lectures by the police on the "Ten Commandments" of traffic safety and also the showing of appropriate films.

This committee recommended continued co-operation with the school board and municipality regarding traffic and safety precautions necessary with future plans regarding school playground improvements.

Mr. Solly's group also wished to encourage enforcement of the municipal traffic bylaws pertaining to traffic and safety and to endeavor to create a community spirit in regards to preventing accidents by full observance of the existing laws pertaining to traffic and safety.

Suggest Another Prize

W. S. Ritchie's report for the civic affairs committee included a recommendation that the popular outdoor Christmas lighting project be enlarged next season by inclusion of another prize for the best window display, "as that seems to be the most popular type of display."

Mr. Walter M. Wright reported for the membership and attendance committee detailing the efforts which had been made to have members turn out for regular monthly meetings.

The treasurer's report, submitted by Mr. E. R. Butler, showed the board retained a small cash balance apart from the $400 bond which had been set aside as a reserve. Expenditures for the year amounted to $1,368.75, including $445 for promotion and publicity work on behalf of Summerland.

HUDDLESTON PRAISES SNOW REMOVAL JOB

Appreciation for the prompt removal of snow from roads by the municipal roads department was expressed to municipal council last week in a communication from C. J. Huddleston.

4. Being instrumental in encouraging a safety education program within the schools; this entailed lectures by the police on the "Ten Commandments" of traffic safety and also the showing of appropriate films.

This committee recommended continued co-operation with the school board and municipality regarding traffic and safety precautions necessary with future plans regarding school playground improvements.

Mr. Solly's group also wished to encourage enforcement of the municipal traffic bylaws pertaining to traffic and safety and to endeavor to create a community spirit in regards to preventing accidents by full observance of the existing laws pertaining to traffic and safety.

Curlers Contemplate Scheme for Artificial Ice Installation Here

Summerland curlers are moving at a steady pace towards the goal of artificial ice for their curling rink in the new Summerland arena. This was made known last week following a meeting at the Nu-Way Annex called by some of the most enthusiastic curlers to present an informal plan which would result in artificial ice being made available to provide curling for this district on a four-to-five-month basis.

Although no official plan has been forthcoming, it is understood that the main basis has been worked out and most of the curling club executive have expressed agreement.

In all likelihood, a full-scale plan of financing artificial ice for the curling section alone will be presented to the annual general meeting of the Summerland Curling club which will be held immediately after the season is concluded.

When drawing up the plan, the curlers have had to bear in mind that their action cannot jeopardize the overall rink plan, inasmuch as there is still some financing to be done to clean up present indebtedness on the rink, while eventually seating accommodation and other essentials will be necessary to complete the big structure.

Would Offer Contract

It is understood that the curlers would be willing to offer a contract to the Summerland Rink Association which would guarantee the latter body a yearly rental of $700, while another $100 would be forthcoming for the privilege of operating the concession at the rink.

This sum of $800 guaranteed by the curlers would pay for the annual interest on the rink association bonds, so that the overall maintenance of the rink would be the only major expense each year, once all the capital expenditures have been made and financed.

Cost of installing artificial ice on the three curling sheets has been estimated at $20,000.

It is the curlers' tentative plan to seek a new membership fee of $100 from each member in order to finance this installation.

Balance between the amount raised by this membership fee and the total cost of installing artificial ice and providing proper clubroom facilities in the curlers' section could be financed over a period of years with the company which would install the system, it is understood.

Those members who paid their $100 membership fee would be given an opportunity to curl for $20 per year instead of $25 as the general levy would be set for a guaranteed four-to-five month curling season. This in effect would mean that they were earning five percent on their $100 investment, it is pointed out.

With the colder weather of the past week, curling has again been going forward steadily, although some enthusiasts are travelling to Pechland and Kelowna for games arranged well ahead of time because of the uncertainty of the ice surface at this time of year.

Local curlers believe that a number of Penticton enthusiasts would be interested in joining the Summerland club and paying their $100 apiece, provided a lengthy season of curling could be arranged.

Eight-ender is Scored at Vernon

VERNON—John Langstaffe's rink realized a lifetime dream of all curlers last week with a perfect eight-ender on the seventh end of a match against Bill Rogan's rink. They were 7 behind up to that time but still failed to win as Rogan's foursome went on a victory 15-13.

Members of the Canadian Olympic figure skating team go through a practice session at Bislett Stadium, Oslo, Norway, in preparation for the forthcoming Winter Olympic Games. Senior C's in High-Scoring Cage Win over Oliver 54-48

One of the highest scoring games of the season was observed by a small crowd at the high school gymnasium Tuesday evening when Summerland Senior C's took the measure of the highly-touted Oliver quintette 54-48.

Chuck Aikin and Sandy Jomori led the hometowners' scoring spree with 15 and 12 points apiece, while Don Nesbitt contributed a valuable 9, and Jack Dunham celebrated his return to the basketball wars with another 8 markers.

MacLeod was the top scorer for the visitors with an even dozen, closely followed by Street with ten.

It was a closely-fought contest throughout, with Oliver taking a slight first quarter advantage 16-13, only to see Summerland splurge ahead by two points, 26-24, at the halfway mark.

In the third quarter, Summerland established a seven-point lead 43-36, and hung on grimly in the final stanza to hold off the Oliver bid for supremacy.

In the preliminary Penticton juniors were defeated by Summerland youngsters, 28-19. Doumont and Parker were the leaders for Summerland, although scoring was fairly evenly divided. Andrews and Connolly were the main point-getters for the visitors.

Penticton: Lougheed, Drakos, Clue, Grant, Gettling, Andrews, S. Lye, E. Andrews, Wade 3, McCallum, Corron, McAstocker, Connolly 8-19.

Summerland: R. Parker 6, Brake 2, Bonthoux 2, Ask 2, Scott, Cornish, Kliz 4, Uegama, Doumont 7, Hackman 3, Penticton player 2-28.

Oliver: MacLeod 12, Gibson 8, Schorn 2, Eisenhut 8, Carter 4, Street 10, Longmore 2, Kels 2, DeMerchant-48.

Summerland: D. Nesbitt 9, S. Jomori 12, Aikin 15, L. Guidi 6, W. Clark, MacLean 4, Dunham 8-54.

Vernon High School Represents B.C. at Bonspiel in Maritimes

To the tune of Scottish music, played by the Macintosh Girls' pipe band, the Vernon high school curlers stepped onto the train at Vernon last week en route to Moncton, N.B., and the Canadian high school curling championships.

The Vernon boys, who won the B.C. championship at Nelson a short time ago, comprise the first Okanagan rink ever to capture such an honor.

Murray Green is skip of the Vernon team, while Malcolm McCulloch is third, Don Nolan second and Ron Weir lead. They were smartly clad in their new Board of Trade blazers when they stepped on the train.

Up to yesterday morning they had won two and lost two at Moncton.

Kelowna Wins Twice from Vernon Six

Playoff hockey is in the air, in practically all leagues throughout the interior.

In the Okanagan senior league, Kelowna Packers have surprised even their most ardent fans by taking the first two games of the semi-finals from Vernon Canadians 2-0 in Vernon Monday night and 7-3 in Kelowna Tuesday.

Third game in this best of five series for the right to meet first-place Kamloops Elks is being played in Vernon tonight.

Willie Schmidt, idol of the Penticton V's, was awarded the most valuable player trophy as the V's wound up in last spot in the league standing.

In the Penticton commercial league, Summerland plays its final scheduled game next Sunday against Penticton Contractors. After next Sunday a round robin series, with four games each week, is being played to decide the champion of the commercial loop.

If Summerland wins next Sunday's game, then they clinch the pennant as the best that second-place Merchants can then do is to come within one point of the league leaders.

Coy Cup Additions
Manager George Stoll announces that the registration cards for his Coy Cup contenders have been returned and are in order.

Besides Summerland players, Mr. Stoll has signed five Penticton pucksters as the Rutland players he hoped to obtain were unable to obtain their releases in time.

These Penticton players are Tom Bella, Paul Gryco, Joe Dolyuk, Roth and Harris.

Summerland has lost John Croft, who intends to go north to seek employment, but otherwise the team's main stalwarts of the past season are available.

Mrs. Croft's Rink Reaches Finals At Peachland

Mrs. W. Croft's rink from Summerland fought its way through to the finals of the grand challenge trophy in the annual Peachland CC women's bonspiel last week only to lose to Mrs. Fell's Kelowna rink in the final round.

Two other rinks from Summerland competed but did not get in the silverware.

It was a highly successful bonspiel, with a large number of rinks from other valley centres, including Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon competing.

Along with Mrs. Croft were Mrs. C. Wade, Mrs. W. Toews and Mrs. Norman Holmes.

Other finks from Summerland consisted of Mrs. H. Eden, skip, Mrs. H. Lemke, Mrs. A. R. Dunson and Mrs. E. Wilson; Mrs. A. McCargar, skip, Mrs. W. Eyre, Mrs. G. E. Kennedy and Mrs. E. H. Hannah.

Box Lacrosse is Mooted for Summer

Talk of introducing box lacrosse to Summerland is circulating the town this week.

It is stated that the rink association plans to mix clay with its present dirt surface to provide a more compact "floor" on which to play Canada's national game.

An intermediate club, composed of lads in their late teens, would probably be organized, provided some support can be obtained.

Frank McDonald, at the request of Arena President George Stoll, has written to the coast in an endeavor to obtain some sticks and other equipment to start the young club off on the right foot.

Mrs. W. Eyre Skips Winning 'Spiel Rink'

It was ladies' day throughout at the Summerland CC on Tuesday and it stayed that way until after midnight as the "weaker sex" competed in the first ladies' bonspiel ever held here.

Mrs. W. Eyre's rink was winner of the grand championship round, defeating Mrs. Pohlmann's rink in the final, 10-5 to wind up the 'spiel.

Play started at noon and continued throughout the afternoon and evening in both championship and consolation rounds.

In the first round, Mrs. Eden's rink defeated that of Mrs. C. Wade.

Second round saw Mrs. Pohlmann defeating Mrs. Eden, Mrs. W. Croft defeating Mrs. G. E. Kennedy, Mrs. W. Eyre winning from Mrs. H. Hackman and Mrs. A. R. Dunson defeating Mrs. N. Holmes.

Semi-finals were won by Mrs. Pohlmann's rink over Mrs. W. Croft's foursome and Mrs. W. Eyre advancing to the finals with a win over Mrs. A. R. Dunson's rink.

In the consolation Mrs. Harvey Eden triumphed over Mrs. C. Wade in the finals. In preliminary games in the consolation, Mrs. Kennedy defeated Mrs. Holmes; Mrs. Eden defeated Mrs. Hackman and Mrs. Wade defeated Mrs. Holmes.

In Mrs. Eyre's rink there were Mrs. H. Lemke, Mrs. C. Campbell and Miss Mildred Verrier. Mrs. Pohlmann's rink consisted of Mrs. Les Rumball, Mrs. Bob Goertzen and Mrs. Ivor Solly.

Mrs. Eden had Mrs. E. H. Hannah, Mrs. C. F. Smith and Mrs. J. W. Broderick, while Mrs. Wade had Mrs. H. Greenlees, Mrs. W. Pattie and Mrs. W. Radomske.

Guidi Leads C's to Win Over Keremeos

Playing at Keremeos last Thursday evening, the fast-improving Summerland Senior C hoop club defeated the Similkameen lads 39-24 in a fast-moving contest. Lionel Guidi was high scorer for the winners with 11 points. Only a part of the game, from a Summerland standpoint, was that Leighton Nesbitt sprained an ankle and will be out of competition a couple of weeks.

Roughest Game of Year Sees Kelowna Beat Seniors 9-5

Roughest game seen here all season was played at Summerland arena on Sunday night when Kelowna juniors took the measure of Summerland's senior pucksters 9-5.

Two major fights marred the third period while Kelowna players "mixed it" with spectators as well as players.

The Kelowna squad, although younger than the Summerland group, has plenty of hockey ability as this is their third season together. They are fast, but their play was marred by deliberately dirty play.

Local fans who have followed the game closely here this season declare they never witnessed so much tripping in any previous contest.

Temper were kept in leash until the final stanza when open warfare broke loose. Steininger and Collen tangled for the first melee, each player getting five-minute penalties for fighting.

Next fight was between Les Howard and Williams, the latter bringing his stick down on Howard when the puck was nowhere in the vicinity. Williams got the nod for provoking the fight, although Howard also was waved away for two minutes.

In the meantime, however, a Kelowna player became so annoyed at the caustic comments of spectator Allen Campbell that he heaved the puck squarely at him, just missing Campbell's head. The Kelowna player also came after him with his stick, but Campbell wrenched the timber from his hand and broke it neatly before the scrap could really develop. Other spectators nearly became involved, as they became vociferous in their heckling.

Both teams found the nets for three goals each in the first stanza but the visitors outscored Summerland 4 to 1 in the second period to take a commanding lead.

1st Period: 1, Summerland, Bella (Steininger, Taylor), 0:40; 2, Summerland, Taylor (Steininger) 1:22; 3, Kelowna, Brydon (Klingball) (Scheaffer) 6:03; 4, Kelowna, Scheaffer (Miller) 7:23; 5, Summerland, Frisby (Eyre) 10:22; 6, Kelowna, Williams, 11:45.

2nd Period: 7, Kelowna, Scheaffer (Bebb) 1:12; 8, Kelowna, Murray (Wasylenko) 5:46; 9, Kelowna, Williams (Klingball) 9:58; 10, Kelowna, Williams (Wasylenko) 15:20; 11, Summerland, Bella, (Taylor) 19:55.

Penalties: Brydon, Campbell, Kato, Scheaffer.

3rd Period: 12, Kelowna, Williams, 3:10; 13, Kelowna, Scheaffer (Klingball) 4:40; 14, Summerland, Taylor (Roberge) 8:40.

Penalties: Scheaffer, Bebb, Steininger, Collen, Howard, Williams, Campbell, Taylor.

the and noble man, who has, in the wisdom of Divine Providence, been taken from us," declared Reeve Bentley in his address.

His Worship spoke of the King being the symbolic link which unites the British Commonwealth, but he reigns and the people govern themselves.

Beloved by All People

The King was beloved by all his people numbering over 500 million or a quarter of the world's population, he added.

Reeve Bentley then traced much of the early history of the late King George, telling of his being in charge of a gun turret during the Battle of Jutland and being recommended for conspicuous bravery in the face of the enemy.

"If he could have had his own choice, after his naval service he would have settled down on his family estate with his family, as he was devoted to his family and once said: 'My chief claim to fame seems to be that I am the father of Elizabeth', Mr. Bentley continued, telling of the King's intense interest in young people and how he established camps for them and spent many of his holidays working for them in the camps.

When he was forced to ascend the throne, he declared: "It will be my constant endeavor, with God's help, supported as I shall be by my dear wife, to uphold the honor of the realm and to promote the happiness of my people."

"He surely lived up to that promise," declared Reeve Bentley.

During the last war, the King decided he and his family should stay with his own people and share their risks and burdens. His home was bombed nine times and they had many narrow escapes.

"The King's devotion to his arduous duties took their heavy toll and brought on his illnesses," the speaker explained. "Everyone hoped and prayed he would make a speedy recovery, but in the wisdom of Divine Providence, he was taken from us, to be carried today to his last resting place at Windsor Castle."

"His beloved daughter, Elizabeth, is now called upon to assume the tremendous duties as our queen. Our deepest sympathies go out to her and her family. We all wish for her every happiness and a long reign."

"The King is dead, Long Live the Queen," he concluded.

cannot be questioned. "The government does not propose to deal with the three major reports that have been submitted, with the exception of those clauses in the Workmen's Compensation Act which affect widows' pensions, children's allowances, establishment of the wage ceiling upon which claims are based and the percentage rate of recoverable wage-loss.

"These four recommendations come entirely within the scope of urgent public needs. "I don't think one member in the house would want to deny the workmen or their dependents of these benefits," or even delay receipt of them by "making later legislation retroactive," he declared.

"I feel that these are not controversial questions and are matters that may well be considered of urgent public need.

"It is therefore proposed to submit legislation raising the widows' pension from a maximum of $50 a month to $75 a month; to raise children's allowances from $12.50 to $20 a month; and to raise allowances for orphans from $20 to $30 a month. Other dependents' allowances would be increased from $50 to $75 a month.

Raise Recoverable Wage-Loss

"The legislation likewise would raise the percentage rate of recoverable wage-loss from 66 2/3 per cent to 70 per cent. And the wage ceiling upon which claims are based from $2500 to $3600, as well as raising the minimum compensation pay to $15 a week.

"In making this announcement we do not seek political advantage but merely strive to carry out what we feel is a vital public need.

"In fact, we do not seek to make political capital out of any of these efforts," he insisted.

"The government proposes, Madam Speaker, to recommend to the house ratification of the federal-provincial tax agreement, because it is a matter of essential public welfare, from which we cannot escape. It proposes that supply be granted to Her Majesty because in doing so we fulfill our obligations to the people in seeing that public service is maintained during that period when we seek to clarify the political situation in the province.

"Certain measures will be placed before you because it is felt that they are essential to the public need and cannot be avoided. Beyond these things which we cannot avoid and which we feel we are obligated to carry out in the immediate and urgent interests of the people we do not propose to go.

"I would like to say, Madam Speaker, that I regret very much the circumstances which compel us to take this action for it would normally have been my wish to carry on the affairs of the people under happier circumstances.

"I had hoped last session when we appointed a committee to enquire into labor that we would be in a position to implement wise and sound measures for the improvement of labor with due regard to the public interests. I had hoped, likewise, that we would have been in a position to implement all these recommendations of the Workmen's Compensation Board report that we deemed acceptable and in the public's interest.

"The same might be said of the hospital insurance inquiry. However, the events that have transpired since then have changed the complexion of the political situation of this province so that there is not one group in this house that has the right to proceed with matters of such major importance."

Details of Agreement

Other highlights of the premier's speech included the details of the federal-provincial tax rental agreement.

Under the new agreement the guaranteed minimum payment below which the rental fee of the succession duty corporations and personal income tax fields would not fall has been fixed at $29,546,310.

Calculation of the rental fee will be based on the gross nation product and population in the year immediately prior to payment of the rental fee. The other option is a two-year average of GNP and population.

The government chose the one-year basis because it would give British Columbia in the first year $8 million more revenue than the two-year average.

Under the new agreement, rental payments will commence on June 30 instead of September 30. This means that during the financial year of the agreement British Columbia will receive five payments, one being the final payment of the expiring agreement and amounting to approximately $8 million and under the new agreement amounting in all to approximately $41,500,000. This the premier explained is very close to the amount British Columbia asked for, with the additional advantage of recovering the hold-back payment.

The premier stated that among appropriations to be recommended to the legislature were funds for the construction of the Squamish to Vancouver highway, improvements to the North Trans-Provincial highway, new hospitals and other public buildings, he also indicated that he was hopeful of completing arrangements for the es-

Thirty Rheumatic Fever Cases

The report of the director, Dr. Clark, showed a relatively high incidence of rheumatic fever in Kelowna and Penticton in the last six months involving all age groups and thirty known cases. Rheumatic fever is very low on the communicable disease list, the director stated, but is sometimes thought to follow scarlet fever or streptococcus throat infection. As a consequence, the two latter types of cases are being watched closely and given penicillin treatment at the present time.

Some indication of foot trouble had been observed in school children throughout the unit and the director advocated proper footwear for athletes as well as students.

Dr. Hall, the unit dentist, asked for re-allocation of the money formerly used for the village of Princeton, to the outlying school district, since Princeton village has a community dental service operating satisfactorily. This was passed by the board.

H. R. J. Richards represented Summerland council, and Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Summerland school board. Others present as well as the director and Dr. Hall, were Miss Irene Stewart, PHN, Summerland, who acted as secretary; Mrs. J. C. Clark, Keremeos; A. Jackson and H. A. Truswell, Kelowna; E. G. Gaertner, Osoyoos; H. Boone, Oliver; and Councillor Haddleton, Penticton.

Tea was served by three girls of the home economics' class, Marguerite Menu, Arlene Raincock and Rose Harrison, under the direction of the home economics' teacher, Miss Hoath.

Council Read Give Outlying Homes For $200 Outlay Each

Summerland municipal council moved a step nearer solving its troublesome electrical distribution problem to outlying districts on Tuesday when a tentative deal to extend electrical service to residents in the North Bench area and on Paradise Flat section was agreed upon.

In so doing, the council tentatively agreed to a policy of the consumer not paying more than $200 as his personal contribution towards the line reaching his property.

Cost of extending to the North Bench has been estimated roughly at $3,700, but the council is prepared to proceed with the project provided all the home owners not being served with electricity now are agreeable to paying $200 each towards the cost.

Trout Creek Wants Hall at Powell Beach

One section of Trout Creek Point is considering the establishment of a small community hall to serve the needs of the nearly one hundred families and 500 persons resident in that section of this community.

This was announced to the municipal council on Tuesday afternoon by Dr. C. G. Woodbridge, spokesman for the Trout Creek committee, and by W. G. Snow, parks board chairman.

Dr. Woodbridge appeared at Tuesday's council meeting to explain that he represented a group of people living at Trout Creek who are interested in a community hall.

He considered there is a need for such a building to serve this portion of the populace, in winter when roads become difficult and it is troublesome to drive to West Summerland, and in summer when further facilities are needed at Powell Beach.

The plan calls for erection of the hall on Powell Beach, thus becoming municipal property, but operation being allowed on a long-term lease basis.

It is also hoped that the community hall committee would be able to operate a concession stand at Powell Beach in order to help finance the project.

The Trout Creek committee would be opposed to public dances there, and would limit use of the hall to Trout Creek gatherings. In summer, however, the hall could be used to extend bathing facilities at Powell Beach, it was thought.

Tentative blessing of the council was given the plan in broad principle, it being pointed out that the municipal council has no actual authority over the parks property now as it has been ceded to the parks board.

Chairman W. G. Snow of the parks board had already indicated to council that his group would have no objection to the hall being erected at Powell Beach provided the board had the final say on the exact location.

Senior C's to Meet Vernon In Playoffs

Summerland Senior C's enter the first round of the interior playoffs against the strong Vernon team, Andy Bennie, president of the Interior Basketball Assn. informed Jack Dunham, local team manager this week.

In the other bracket, Oliver and Keremeos play off in a two-game total-point series.

Winners of the series will meet in the interior finals, which must be played by March 30.

Arrangements are underway with Vernon now for suitable dates for the home and home series.

Last night, Summerland travelled to Oliver and both juniors and Senior C's won their games, the youngsters by a 28-10 count and the seniors 55-44.

It was a ragged first half but Summerland gradually found its stride and dominated play in the final stanza especially.

First Signs of Spring

Pussywillows are showing their soft grey fur along the roadsides and pale green points of bulbs are thrusting through the ground in sheltered corners of many gardens, and the Forsythia buds are swelling visibly, readying for the full spring festival of yellow flowering.

Just so that Trout Creek can't claim all the "firsts" for spring, Mrs. D. Turnbull arrived in The Review office this week to say she actually saw pansies peeping out in Mrs. Alan Butler's garden on Groundhog Day and that was way back last Feb. 2.

Curlers Reach Agreement on Arena Rental

Definite agreement between the Summerland Rink Association and the Summerland Curling Club was reached at a meeting held last Friday afternoon at the arena, on a deal whereby the curlers plan to install artificial ice for their three sheets.

The rink executive agreed to a proposal whereby the space required by the curlers for three sheets of ice and clubroom facilities will be leased for twenty years at a minimum of $700 per year.

Also, the curlers will lease concession rights in the arena for the same period for a minimum of $100 per year, it was agreed.

Spokesmen for the curlers pointed out that this rental would cover amply the amount needed to pay interest on the rink debentures each year. This would mean that the rink association would only have to meet maintenance and operating cost on the rest of the arena.

George Stoll, president of the rink group, emphasized at the same time the need for continued co-operation on the part of all ice enthusiasts to make certain that all rink debts are met, and that the arena is completed with bleacher accommodation and other minor essentials.

Curlers are now preparing a list of members who will be willing to meet the artificial ice curling membership of $100 each. Approximately 70 members have signed already and it is anticipated that there will be little difficulty in obtaining at least 100 signatures.

Woitte Disqualified as Parks Board Member; Didn't File Declaration

George Woitte, only candidate for the one-year vacancy on the board of parks commissioners, for 1952, replacing Norman Holmes, who resigned because of ill health, has been disqualified.

This startling news was learned by municipal council on Tuesday afternoon when Parks Board Chairman W. G. Snow declared that Mr. Woitte had failed to fill out the necessary declaration paper within thirty days.

Mr. Woitte was the only candidate forthcoming when nominations were sought in January for the vacancy on the parks board.

But before taking office, he must sign the necessary declarations before a justice of the peace, or the municipal clerk.

These declarations were taken to the municipal office on February 19, just thirty days exactly from the time an election would have taken place if Mr. Woitte had been opposed. However, it was thirty-nine days from the time of his nomination by acclamation and the municipal office could not accept the declarations.

None of the details of the reasons behind Mr. Woitte's failure to file his declaration was given council in open session, but Chairman Snow told council in committee that it was in the nature of an accident that they were not filed in time.

Mr. Woitte left last weekend for southern Alberta and will not be in Summerland again for another week to ten days.

It is understood, however, that he will be willing to allow his name to stand once more for this office.

Nomination day has been set for Thursday, March 20, and if a vote is necessary it will take place on March 29, with W. C. W. Fosbery returning officer.

Valley Municipal Meeting Thursday

Next Thursday, the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Assn. is being held in Armstrong, with vice-president, Reeve C. E. Bentley of Summerland officiating as chairman.

Mr. Bentley is one of the few officers of the association remaining in office after last December's elections.

Summerland will prepare a resolution on most inspection based on the move made by the South Okanagan Health Unit which met here last week and will submit it to the valley municipal association for adoption.

All members of the council will make an effort to attend, although Councillor Barkwill is not certain he will be back from the coast in time.

Co-Op Pays Further $55,000 This Week

Cheques are going out this week, probably tomorrow, to shipping members of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn. totalling $55,000. It was announced this morning. This amount includes finance on pears and advances on apples on which no previous payments had been made.

Gets 29-Hand in Three-Handed Game

A 29-crib hand of more than usual interest was reported last night by the Lawley family.

Playing three-handed cribbage, in which it is much more difficult to obtain a high-scoring hand, Mrs. Ruth Lawley held three fives and a jack of spades. Her husband, Ryan, cut the cards and up came the five of spades to make the perfect hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawley's son Ronnie, was the third member of the game and a neighbor was also there to witness the accomplishment. Mr. Lawley assured The Review this morning.

Open Schools On Wednesday, Education Week

Education Week is to be observed in Summerland next Wednesday, March 5, when from two in the afternoon the MacDonald School and the junior-senior high will be open to visitors.

It is hoped that all parents of children in either school, as well as those interested in school operations and educational facilities will visit both schools that afternoon. During this Open House period members of the Parent-Teacher Association will serve tea in the high school.

As a help to parents who have small children and might not be able to tour the schools because of them, the P-TA is arranging a creche in the high school where these little ones will be taken care of to enable their mothers and fathers to take time to see classes in action, and the whole layout of the MacDonald and high schools.

The Parent-Teacher Association have planned the tea and nursery in conjunction with Mr. A. K. Macleod, principal of the junior-senior high school and Mr. S. A. MacDonald, principal of the MacDonald School.

Herb Lemke Wins Main 'Spiel Cup

Herb Lemke never lost a game as he piloted his Summerland rink to victory in the A event of the Peachland Curling club bonspiel last weekend. In the first game it took Lemke's last rock to decide the winner but after that the margin of victory was much greater.

In the finals, Lemke's rink, composed of Harry Braddock, Arnold Cowan and John Dunn, all members of the Peachland CC, defeated Neil Witt's rink by a wide margin.

Council Cuts Increase Sought By Fire Chief

On the recommendation of the council fire brigade committee, consisting of Reeve C. E. Bentley and Councillor Francis Steuart, the fire brigade estimates are being cut in connection with the salary sought for Fire Chief Ed Gould.

Brigade estimates had included a sum of $1,500 for the fire chief. Council decided that it will cut this estimate to $1,200 plus $10 per month car allowance.

In 1951, Fire Chief Gould was paid $1,100 plus $100 per month car allowance.

It was pointed out that the position was never meant to be full-time employment and if it reached a much higher figure than a full-time fire chief might just as well be employed.

The brigade will be notified of council decision.

PLAY IN PENTICTON

First game of the Pentiction commercial league round robin playoffs will commence next Sunday at Pentiction arena with Summerland, pennant winners, meeting the Pentiction Contractors.

No Spring Fair to be Planned For Summerland This Spring

There will be no Spring Fair this year.

This was the decision of an executive meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade on Monday evening after a consultation with the executive of the Summerland Retail Merchants' Assn.

It had been hoped by the trade board to regain the interest of the retailers in this fair, but the merchants' executive was firm in its stand on Monday that it was not interested in such a type of promotion.

Last year, the retail merchants' association voted against participation in the trade board's Spring Fair but it was held anyway, with and fees have consequently gone up in proportion. Summerland will now be required to pay $180 annually to the UBCM instead of $75.

of the trade board agreed it could not afford to proceed in the face of merchants' opposition and regretfully decided to seek a general meeting's approval to drop the entire scheme.

With this curtailment of revenue, the board of trade will have to drop some of its projects or find some other means of raising money, it was stated.

A further executive meeting to discuss this situation is being called by the trade board next Monday evening.

Spokesmen for the retailers explained that they did not feel results from the Spring Fair warranted the time and money expended individually by their members. They were anxious to assist the trade board in other endeavors but not in the promotion of the Spring Fair.

Invite Winch For Convention

South Okanagan district executive of the CCF met at the home of Mrs. E. M. Hookham in Summerland last Thursday evening, but did not arrive at any decision relative to the forthcoming nominating convention.

It is hoped that Harold Winch, provincial CCF leader, will be present at the nominating rally, which will be shoved ahead of the original tentative date in April, it is expected.

Reeve Attends UBCM Sessions at Coast

Reeve C. E. Bentley returned last weekend from Vancouver where he attended sessions of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, called to discuss the Bobb's report on municipal-provincial financing. As a result of the deliberations, a delegation was sent to Victoria to interview the provincial cabinet and place before the ministers details of the recommendations.

At a recent council meeting, it was noted that cost of operating the UBCM has doubled recently and fees have consequently gone up in proportion. Summerland will now be required to pay $180 annually to the UBCM instead of $75.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

No, I didn't attend the local memorial service for the late King George VI. Some of my friends were quite disgusted with me for it.

"You should show more loyalty to the crown," they chided.

But it's easy to put so much emphasis on the "show" that you forget about the "loyalty" at any public meeting like this. You know, you are so busy getting done what must be done beforehand, and then getting ready, that you have no time to think about the real meaning of the service. You arrive there all dressed up, and excited about that, and meeting people, and getting a good seat.

Once you're seated, you just must look around and see who's there and with whom and wearing what, so the service is partly over before you pay much attention to it. Then you have your own critical thoughts about the speakers, and the singers, and your mind runs off at all sorts of tangents because you feel relaxed and righteous and a bit excited, and first thing you know it's ending and you have to face in a proper expression for the occasion, and think of the proper things to say to the people you hope to meet.

You say them when you meet them, speaking in a suitably-hushed voice as long as you are in the auditorium, and then when you get out in the open air its briskness is refreshing, and you feel relieved and rather pleased with yourself and a bit holidayish. And you invite some people in for the evening, and hurry home to get ready for them, and have a happy time talking the whole thing over and exchanging the latest gossip about the people you saw at the service, and the selfish ones who did not attend.

Isn't it the truth? Such meetings are indeed satisfying for those who go; human beings are herd animals, and feel better in company with their kind in any time of tension. We like to be with the crowd. On happy occasions concerned with royalty — weddings, births, coronations, jubilees — even crusty Rusticus agrees that public services are splendid things.

But as a sign of mourning, or showing respect to the dead — well it seems to me that if his request for two minutes' silence as the sole service that day had been adhered to all over the Commonwealth, there would have been a lot more thought given the dead King. Yes, I know the silence was served at the public service. But what did you think about during that silence?

Had we observed two minutes' silence, not dressed up in a crowd, but at our familiar tasks with familiar company, there would have been far less distractions. And there might have been a lot more thought for the dead, in the aggregate, than there was at the public service.

More thought for the shy, stammering man who took on one of the world's toughest jobs, knowing probably even then that it would shorten as well as spoil his quiet life, because it seemed his duty. Would any of his subjects have surrendered with such silent bravery all the things they wanted to do for a life for which they were untrained, unsuited, and must have felt only loathing?

Edward VIII was much better prepared for it; but he refused to face the ordeal, and his brother gave him $70,000 a year out of his own fortune — the kings of England inherit money like the Morgans and the Rockefellers of America, though not nearly as much — because Eddie wouldn't have been able to make a living for himself and the woman he loved, and George VI was too fine a man to let even a quitter down.

More thought, too, for the young queen who is taking over. Will the load ruin her life, as it did her father's? She is trained to it, as he was not; but it must be harder for a woman than for a man.

Maybe in two minutes' thinking alone, we might have thought out ways in which the burden could be lightened. It is the constant demand for public appearance and show which robs royalty of privacy and keeps them under such a strain. And we Canadians laid it on pretty heavily when Elizabeth visited us last fall as Princess.

Is there any way the burden can be lessened now that she is our Queen? Or will we show our "loyalty" to her by wearing here to her grave with public appearances, and then hold still another public function called a memorial service, when she dies?

THIRTY YEARS AGO

March 3, 1922.
Money by-laws totalling more than $100,000 are to be put before the voters since capital is required for extension and improvements to utilities and for the new school building. The break-down of this proposed expenditure to be submitted to the ratepayers for approval is: irrigation, $55,000; domestic water, $15,000; electric light, $12,000; and schools, $28,000, making a total of $108,000.

On Sunday the SS Okanagan cruised between Trout Creek Point and Penticton to break up the ice which had formed and which has interfered with navigation. A tug was used for the same purpose at Kelowna.

The Summerland Merchantile Co. has closed its doors and negotiations are in progress to sell it to a Vancouver buyer for re-opening.

Fearing that Crescent Beach sports ground would be sold to a private party and so be closed to the general public for all purposes, a number of citizens have organized the Summerland Amateur Athletic Association to take over the property. The provisional board of directors is composed of Dr. F. W. Andrew, O. F. Zimmerman, A. B. Elliott, F. J. Nixon, and C. Edmund Bentley. These men have taken an option of the property and are ready to receive applications for shares. They have applied for charter of incorporation, the share capital is fixed at $10,000, divided into shares of $10 each.

Two memorial tablets have arrived to be erected at the Marsden Van Allen wing of the Summerland Hospital in memory of the young aviator of that name who was killed in the Great War.

E. D. Kellman, manager of the West Summerland branch of the Dominion Bank has been transferred to Vancouver. H. P. Scott has been put in charge as his successor. E. Inaba has leased the Salter orchard for two years.

Summerland Lumber Co. is establishing a lumber yard on the corner property south of the Mutual Fruit Co. packinghouse. A Richardson has arrived to take charge.

Players from the Caledonian Society created much amusement with the presentation of the play Where Singleness is Bliss. Those taking leading parts were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Steven, G. Marshall, Mrs. J. Wood, Tom Ramsey, Mrs. T. B. Young, and D. Thompson. Mrs. Mossop and Cyril gave some fine piano duets between acts, and the Misses Banks with violin and piano very acceptably filled some of the intermissions.

Members of the mechanics' class at night school made a presentation to the instructor, Ned Bentley. George Sinclair, on behalf of the class, gave him a silver cigarette case, saying that the twenty-two members really appreciated the attention and time he had given to them.

February report of the entrance class in order of merit is as follows: George Mossop, Agnes Handley, Audrey Reynolds, James May, Wesley Tavender, Jean Fisher, Donald McLachlan, Norris Laidlaw, Bob Butler, Freeman Reid.

CONVENTION APPRECIATION

Vernon, B.C.
Feb. 22, 1952.

Editor, The Review

The B.C.F.G.A.'s 63rd annual convention in Penticton unanimously passed a resolution submitted by the central executive expressing the industry's sincere thanks and appreciation to your paper for the consistent, friendly and constructive handling in the news and editorial way of matters pertaining to tree fruits production and marketing.

The executive is well aware of the value of the newspapers' interest in the tree fruit industry, and its members have felt that there should be public recognition of your service when opportunity offered, as at the annual convention.

May I add my own personal appreciation to that of the executive and that of the convention delegates and of the industry as a whole.

With best wishes,
Sincerely yours,
C. A. Hayden

Little Change in Assessments Here

Only eight appeals were heard by the court of appeal on the assessment roll when it sat on Friday, February 8. In only one case was the assessed value of property changed to any degree.

Hans Stoll received a reduction from $2,800 to $1,650 on the assessed value of one property, while Dr. D. V. Fisher's four lots were re-assessed at $200 apiece when three had been valued at $250 and one at $150.

Other adjustments were of a minor nature only.

This year's assessment roll varies little from last year except for minor adjustments to equalize values in districts, and some increases in improvements. There was no general increase in assessments in any section of the municipality.

Mr. Jim Minahull is over from Koromoc for a few weeks, living in his house on the Sinclair property.

Guides Brownies Parade to Church On Thinking Day

1st and 2nd companies of Summerland Girl Guides, and 1st and 2nd packs of Summerland Brownies gathered at 10:45 Sunday morning, Feb. 24, at the Youth Centre and paraded to service in St. Stephen's church.
 Parade was called for the observance of Thinking Day, a world-wide event falling on Feb. 22, the birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell, the founders of the Boy Scout and Girl Guide movement.
 On this day Guides and Brownies are asked to think specially of their Guide work and promises, and of other Guides throughout the world.
 Canon F. V. Harrison's sermon was one suitable to the occasion, and the Guide choir, which was trained by Mrs. Alec Watt, sang two hymns.
 Guide Capt. Gweneth Atkinson was the officer in charge of the parade, assisted by Mrs. K. H. McIntosh and Mrs. Colin McKenzie. Brown Owl, Mrs. Ryan Lawley, and Brown Owl, Mrs. W. A. Laidlaw led their Brownie packs.
 The parade was smaller than usual because of the prevalence of measles in the district.

Macaroni Ring—Cheese Sauce
 One and one-half tbsp. butter, 1 1/2 cups milk, hot buttered vegetables, 2 cups cooked elbow macaroni, 1/2 lb. Canadian cheese, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 2 eggs, 1/3 cup milk.
 Prepare cream sauce with butter, flour, seasonings and 1 1/2 cups milk. Add to the slightly beaten eggs. Add well-drained macaroni.
 Pour into a well-greased 6 1/2-inch mold. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F. for 40 minutes or until firm.
 Melt the cheese in the top of a double boiler. Add the one-third cup of milk gradually, stirring constantly until the sauce is smooth. Unmold the macaroni ring on a chop plate and pour the hot cheese over it. Surround the ring and fill the centre with hot buttered vegetables.

High School COMMENTS

The most important undertaking last week was the annual high school ski meet held at the Meadow Valley hill. This meet, under the direction of Ross Tingley, proved very successful and I think we should all say "thanks" to Ross for the fine job he did.
 A meet of this kind is only successful when everyone co-operates and we should be proud that we have people who are able to put on such a show.
 After the meet, a fine banquet was served in the auditorium. When everyone had eaten their fill, the trophies were presented Summerland taking the school trophy for the first time since it has been up for competition. Complete results of the meet may be found on Page 7.
 Saturday night, the senior boys basketball team played the Pentiction Senior B team in a preliminary game before the California All-Stars—Pentiction Lakers game. The Pentiction boys took the measure of the Summerland cagers by a 26-19 count. The final score in the second game was 105-53 for the California team.
 Oliver and Kelowna debating teams will debate during Education Week for possession of the Leonard Wade Trophy. Kelowna defeated the Revelstoke team by a very narrow margin to win in the northern zone and gain the right to enter the final for the trophy.

Eric Tait Named Director Of B.C. Co-op Union at Vernon

"In England, Scotland and Sweden it is taken for granted that the co-op is here to stay and is not something with a 'Will it work?' label attached," A. V. Hill, director of member relations for the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation, told the opening session of the eighth annual conference of the Co-operative Union of British Columbia.
 Over 50 delegates and guests assembled February 14th in Hotel Allison, Vernon, to review current issues in the co-operative movement and elect the officers of the B.C. Co-op Union for the coming year.
 Mr. Hill pointed out that the co-operative system of economic life has been found workable and acceptable within all of the present-day societies, capitalist, welfare state and communist. Always, the lukewarm member is a problem. His patronage is necessary to make the volume which is essential for economic success. Without economic success, the philosophy of co-operation is empty.
Reports on National
 Mr. D. G. Macdonald, B.C. director of the Co-operative Union of Canada, reported on activities of the national body. Briefly covering its fifty years of activities in co-operative insurance, accounting and taxation problems.
 The afternoon session heard a paper by Mr. R. D. Horton of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange, "Financial Analysis and Control," and an address by Geoffrey Kiddle of the University Students' Co-operative Association, describing plans for better accommodation for students on the University campus.
 Election of officers resulted in the following directors being returned to office: David Hunter, Surrey Co-operative Assn; T. J. Robertson, Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association; Roy Noble, Armstrong Cheese Co-operative Association; L. H. Garstir, Kimberley Co-operative Association; Waldemar Kienzle, Prince George Co-operative Assn; new directors elected were E. M. Tait, Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn; A. Crossley, Rossland Consumers' Co-operative Society; George Dolsen, B.C. Co-operative Wholesale Society.
 The following delegates were appointed to attend the annual congress of the Co-operative Union of Canada to be held in the Chateau

Band Needs More Instruments and Equipment Annual Meeting Told

Harry Hackman was elected president of the Summerland Band at the annual general meeting attended by some 19 members in the IOOF hall on Thursday, Feb. 21.
 C. R. Nesbit, was returned as secretary-treasurer, while Mr. Tom Washington and Mr. H. Schaeffer were named first and second vice-presidents, the former being the retiring president.
 Henry Schaeffer also continues as band manager while an executive committee of Art Simpson, Charlie Betuzzi, Ernie Doherty and Ken Steuart was named.
Herb Pohlmann Band Manager
 Herb Pohlmann will continue as band master, with Ken Steuart as assistant band master. Delmar Dunham and Ken Brawner are music librarians.
 In discussing the year's finances, it was revealed that the band showed a credit balance of $23.69 for the year but will need the assistance of the municipal council's annual grant to operate in 1952. Expenditure for 1952 amounted to approximately $600, the municipal $150 grant and two bottle drives being the main source of revenue, apart from donations from the IOOF Lodge, Anglican church, AOTS club, Singers' and Players' club and the Spring Fair of the Board of Trade.
 "We are ready and willing at all times to assist any club, organization or other body in Summerland where our music might be of assistance and look forward to being asked to help in this way," President Hackman stated.
 "We hold weekly practices at the school and welcome any new bands, men who might like to come and practice with us. We are considering ways and means of raising money for new uniforms for our majorettes and are considering adding to their number, as we consider them a great asset to our band."
 New instruments and equipment are also needed so that the band anticipates being in financial straits again early this year.

SCOUT NEWS

1st Summerland Troop
 This week, Mr. Feltham continued his instruction period on the pathfinders badge. There will be one further instruction period before the test. This is an important King's Scout badge which requires that a Scout have a detailed knowledge of the geography, history and institutions of his community.
 Work was continued on second class badge tests and a considerable number of Scouts expect to complete their second class before the Father and Son banquet, which will be held on March 25. Every boy in the troop is working to receive at least one badge or award.
 All boys who do not have complete uniforms are reminded to try and obtain one before the banquet.
 Plans were laid at the meeting

Seek Another Dentist for South Okanagan

Kelowna School Board, No. 23, has sent in a request to the department of health for consideration to be given to the appointment of another dentist to the South Okanagan health unit.

Inspector A. S. Matheson, at the Summerland school board meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 25, advised the board to send in such a request. Mr. Matheson pointed out that Kelowna and Summerland school districts were the first unit to apply for a dentist, and had been promised the first one available.

The southern health board, however, realized that places without any type of dental care should have first chance, and the one dentist appointed to the area, Dr. Hall, is working in places where the need is greatest.

Dr. Hall has stated that condition of the teeth of the children around Osoyoos has been found to be so poor as to slow down the dental project, and there is little chance of his being able to work in Kelowna-Summerland area.

As a result the Summerland board has decided to send such a petition to Dr. G. F. Amyot, head of the department of health at Victoria.

Another reason for urging this was that the department has announced a policy of supplying a dentist to each of the eighteen health units in the province before giving a second man to any one health area. This was announced in spite of the fact that the health units in the province vary greatly in size and population, and the southern Okanagan is one of the largest health units in the province.

THE TWO IDENTICAL TWINS shown in the above photo this week became Canada's first twin stewardesses when they graduated from a class of 27 at the T.C.A. stewardesses school at Montreal Airport. Born in London, Ont., 22 years ago the only distinguishing feature that can help to tell them apart is a tiny scar on the forehead of Marion which was the result of a sisterly brawl some 17 years ago. Blond, slim and blue-eyed, the girls were bitten with the urge to fly when brother John returned from duty with the RCAF and talked about making High School outside London and as nurses from St. Joseph Hospital in London they entered the stewardesses school. Now they are on their way to Vancouver where they will set up housekeeping together and prepare to fly TCA western routes from that point.

Pride and Prejudice, Players' Club Spring Vehicle, Will be Amusing

The Singers' and Players' Club spring production of Pride and Prejudice which is to be presented in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, March 7, is being keenly anticipated and promises a couple of hours of good entertainment.

Pride and Prejudice has been dramatized by Helen Jerome from the famous novel of Jane Austen, and is the story of the Bennett family about the year 1805, the period of the Napoleonic Wars. Mr. Bennett, the country gentleman of somewhat irascible disposition but with a decided sense of humor is being played by Alan Butler. Mrs. Bennett, his feather-brained match-making wife, is portrayed by Mrs. Frank O'Leary.

As Jane, the eldest daughter, Mrs. Alan Butler, displays gentleness and sweetness. The part of Elizabeth, who has wit, charm and decision of character, is taken by Mrs. Lorne Perry, who has pleased Summerland audiences on a previous occasion. Lydia, the flighty daughter, is cast by Mrs. A. D. Gattley.

The Bennetts' neighbor, Lady Lucas, and her daughter, Charlotte, are portrayed by Mrs. R. G. Russel and Mary Read, respectively.

The pompous Mr. Collins is a cousin on whom Mr. Bennett's estate is entailed and is taken by Blair Underwood.

Two wealthy young men appear on the Bennett horizon, Mr. Bingley and Mr. Darcy, taken by Dave McIntosh and Clark Wilkin, respectively.

Mr. Wickham, an officer in the militia is introduced to the family, also, with H. V. Stent cast here. Lady Catherine De Erough, Mr. Darcy's overbearing aunt, is Marian Cartwright. Mrs. Gardiner, the Bennett girls' sympathetic aunt, and Maggie, her Irish maid, are Mrs. G. E. Woolliams and Mrs. Molly Lloyd.

Alan McKenzie is in the part of Col. Fitz-Williams, Darcy's cousin, and Frank Plunkett will be seen as Hill, the Bennetts' butler. Miss Dorothy MacLeod finds herself acting as Mrs. Lake, the family housekeeper.

Two other young ladies, friends of the Bennetts, are Amelia, Jane Woolliams, and Belinda, Dorothy Blacklock.

The tale unfolds in 3 acts and 7 scenes as a delightful comedy, concentrating on Mrs. Bennett's determination to get her daughters married. Jane, Elizabeth, and Lydia, are likely girls in an unlikely period when a woman's one possible career is matrimony.

The play is a duel about Elizabeth and her Pride and Prejudice and his Pride and Prejudice and is directed by Mrs. A. K. MacLeod.

Greatly Increased Interest in Credit Union Shown in 1951

At the end of 1951, 533 members had joined the Summerland and District Credit Union, and this growing organization, having achieved its first objective has already commenced to look ahead to the time when the thousand-member mark will be reached.

This was disclosed by President John Caldwell to the 8th annual banquet and business meeting of the local credit union held in the Youth Centre on Wednesday evening, Feb. 20.

Likened to Umbrella
"Your credit union is your umbrella to protect you from a rainy day; come in out of the rain and help hold up that umbrella," he urged his fellow members in his report for the board of directors.

He considered that by supporting their credit union members would be supporting Summerland and making it a better place in which to live.

His report showed that the credit union office is now open full time and members are showing an increasing demand for more services.

Peachland is showing an interest in the movement, he added.

The local credit union employs a full-time secretary-manager, and has instituted negotiable cheques to facilitate business methods, the first union in the interior to provide this service, he stated.

Mr. Caldwell also praised the interest taken in the junior savings club operating in grades 4, 5 and 6 in the local elementary school.

Secretary-manager Walter Bleasdale reported that demand for loans by members exceeded local funds and B.C. Central Credit Union was called upon for additional money. At September 30, the amount owed to B.C. Central was $17,500 but this has since been repaid.

Growth in all phases of operation was reported by Mr. Bleasdale, who pointed to a membership increase of 45 percent, bringing the total to 533.

Share capital increased 75.9 per cent to $87,749.68, "showing that the community realizes the benefits of the Credit Union and is supporting its growth, thus gaining greater the same time helping their neighbors to improve their position," he commented.

A complete chequing service, arranged with Central and with the co-operation of the Bank of Montreal, has been instituted, 72 members using this account, with a turnover of $49,000 in the year.

Endowment loans showed an increase of only 20 percent with three agreements being cancelled, but latterly a renewed interest in systematic savings has been shown.

Total loans increased over 50 percent, "showing that we have all our money working," he commented.

Interest on money loaned has paid office expenses and the insurance of savings, the balance being paid to the members each year in dividends and interest rebates.

"The junior savings club has shown remarkable growth to 106 pupils now being enrolled, and these children have saved over $800 during the year.

"There has been a great deal of interest shown all over the province in junior savings clubs and the subject is to be discussed at the Easter convention of the P-TA in the province. Summerland can be proud of the part it has played in pioneering the development of junior savings clubs," he commented.

Quoted Fishermen's Yrexy.
In closing, Mr. Bleasdale quoted D. G. MacDonald, secretary of the Fishermen's Federation who considered that a credit union or co-operative society is the democratic state in miniature form.

"As it grows beyond local interest to national and finally international relationships, it includes all the basic essentials of world-wide democracy."

Sinking of self-interest in the greater good of the fellow members of an organization is one of the principles of the credit union and democratic way of life, he felt urging members to take an active interest in their organization here.

This theme was also emphasized upon by Roy E. Smith, who was the main speaker for the annual banquet.

In a credit union, members can display mutual loyalty to one another to achieve higher liberty and a better life.

The credit union, through its principle of open membership provides a system of people voting to control their dollars instead of dollars controlling their voting, he considered.

Mr. Smith considered the credit union the "basic co-operative of them all," and its expansion, brought about the B.C. Credit Union League, which is merely an expansion of the original basic idea.

A dividend of 3 percent on share capital was approved by the meeting.

Wayne 500th Member
One of the pleasing portions of the banquet was the presentation to Wayne McCutcheon of a Credit Union bank in token of his being the 500th member to join the union.

Guests at the banquet included Eric Pearson, chairman of the South Okanagan CU chapter and Charles Richards both of Penticton.

A. E. Smith, one of the originators of the credit union movement here and one of the oldest members, spoke shortly.

Reports of committee were given by J. M. McArthur, supervisory committee; Herb Lemke, for the directors re dividends; F. R. Ganzeveld, credit committee; and Roy Smith, educational committee.

Entertainment was provided by Mr. and Mrs. George Ryman, bell ringing; and by the Mountain Rascals, who also provided music for dancing.

Dr. D. V. Fisher Gets Further Reduction

At the final meeting of the municipal court of revision on the assessment roll, held on Tuesday, Feb. 26, just prior to regular council meeting, Dr. D. V. Fisher was successful in getting a further decrease in his property assessment in lower town.

The four lots had been assessed at $250 each for three and $175 for the fourth. Court had agreed to $200 for all four, but Dr. Fisher thought they should all be brought down to the $175 level. He eventually won his argument.

Classes for First Aid Need More Room This Year

Summerland school board received a request from the St. John Ambulance Association for the use of the library in the junior-senior high for this year's lectures in first aid at the regular meeting Monday evening, Feb. 25.

It is understood that the class is so large this year as to need more room than is available in the medical clinic where it has been taught for a number of years.

The department of education is asking as many teachers as possible to take the course, stated Inspector A. S. Matheson, due to the present day world situation.

Mr. Matheson said, also, that twenty-five periods in first aid are to be given high school pupils as part of the Effective Living lectures before the end of June, though this comes directly under the teaching staff and is not a St. John Ambulance project.

It was decided to allow the association the use of the library without charge, and consideration was given to the possibility of school pupils using St. John practice bandages when taking their course, and this will be referred to the association.

Ice Carnival in Prospect Saturday If Weather Holds

If the ice holds, an ice carnival is being planned for Saturday night at the Summerland arena. Besides races for kiddies, broomball will be a feature with Rotary and Kiwanis meeting each other in deadly combat and the Jaycees challenging the winner.

These two service club teams evidently haven't seen beyond the Jaycees' strategy that the latter believe the winners will be so tired from the first game they will be easy victims in the finals.

George Stoll, arena manager, is arranging for prizes for skaters after the broomball games. He hopes that skaters will don fancy costumes and make a gala evening of the affair.

Harry Parker of Summerland, with Mrs. Parker and their little son Jimmie were the only members of the Parker family able to attend the golden wedding anniversary in Westbank early this month of Mr. Parker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Parker.

The elderly couple were at home during the afternoon and evening to accept congratulations from over sixty friends and neighbors who called. Pink and white carnations from friends in Summerland and a bouquet of lovely spring flowers from the Reece family of Westbank formed a charming backdrop for the traditional three-tiered wedding cake made by Mrs. Rex Hardwicke.

Mr. Thomas L. Parker and the former Miss Emma Walters were married in Knoxville, Tennessee, Rev. Mr. Duncan of the Baptist church performing the ceremony in the church manse. In 1907 the couple left the States for Alberta, coming to the Okanagan in 1935.

Mrs. A. Smyth of Needles and Mrs. Bert Juniper of Vancouver are two daughters of the Parker marriage, while two daughters died some time ago. They have three sons, Thomas of Boston, Bob of Red Deer and Harry in Summerland. There are also 11 grandchildren.

Horticulturists May Plant Tree In King's Memory

Clive Atkinson, new president of the Summerland Horticultural Society saw a large turnout of members for the first meeting since his election, Friday evening, Feb. 22, in the parish hall. The new secretary, A. F. Calder, was also in his place.

A short business meeting included discussion on donating a tree to the Garden of Remembrance in memory of the late King George VI.

Plans for future meetings included a garden visit for April if spring weather is normal, and obtaining a film on roses and ornamental shrubs for the March meeting.

Nat May's Timely Topics concerned the care of nursery trees on arrival. If they come in a dry state they should lie in a tub of water for 24 hours, then torn or bruised roots should be cut off and the plant put in a large hole with good earth or compost sprinkled into the roots.

After nearly filling the hole it should be well soaked with water, left for some hours, then tramped down, and the tree or shrub, staked.

Balled shrubs can be lowered into their holes, but the ball should be cracked if consisting of clay, to let in the water.

Mr. May recommended some new varieties of annuals to try this year. Tango petunia is better than Fire Chief, he said, as it retains its color better. Sonata, he cited as a good double white, and Nocturne a fine dark blue. He discussed starting seeds indoors, as did Wm. May, who gave good advice on vegetable seeds, saying that Signet is the best tomato, he believes, and Early Diana a non-splitting cabbage.

Alec Watt read to the members a beautifully written short article by Willwood, telling of the musk plant, which in the last thirty years has lost its scent all over the world, in wild or civilized state.

Birds Have Three Main Needs Tait Tells Society

"Three Ways to Attract Song Birds to Your Garden" was the subject of an entertaining talk given by Eric Tait to the horticultural society on Friday evening, Feb. 22, in the parish hall.

In part he said, "Birds are very valuable in controlling insects and weed seeds as well as for the pleasure they give with their songs, and the interest found in watching them. The three necessities for birds are food and water, protection from hawks and domestic cats, and nesting facilities.

"Berried shrubs such as bush honeysuckle, sumac, mountain ash, roses, Russian olives, berberries of various sorts, provide them with natural food, in addition to suet, crumbs, or grains, and that which may be provided in winter on a feeding sheet or table. If such accommodation is given it should be in the open where cats cannot creep up unobserved. Grit and sand are as necessary as food in winter, and water, too, if at all possible. "Seed for the seed-eaters can be had by growing hollyhocks and sunflowers. The small flowered Russian sunflower is good for this purpose.

"Any low growing shrubs and evergreens such as juniper give the essential protection necessary for winter sleeping quarters and wind protection. Trees and tall shrubs are the natural nesting places for many birds. If string, or other similar material in short lengths is hung somewhere near, it will be seized upon with delight.

"Nesting boxes, of course, are essential for tree swallows and bluebirds as they can seldom find the dead trees with holes which are their natural habitat.

"Care must be taken to see that the boxes are not taken by house sparrows or English sparrows before the bluebirds and swallows arrive. The best way to prevent this is to take the boxes down for the winter, keeping them down until the desired birds arrive and start looking for homes. Otherwise the sparrows who winter here, get early possession."

Mr. Tait showed colored slides which he had taken. Some were of the Alpine meadows on Snow Mountain, and others were lovely ones of orchard and lake scenes. The audience was delighted with all these pictures, so beautifully taken, and of a special one of a kingbird in a dive which received the admiration and praise of all present. Many felt it would win a prize in any competition as a marvelous life-study.

The evening closed with refreshments served by Miss Doreen Tait assisted by Miss Rogers and Miss Craig.

Planning Now for Citizenship Day

Plans are being made for a fitting observance of the annual Citizenship Day, May 23. Ceremonies for this important event were inaugurated last year by the Summerland Women's Institute and are being undertaken again by the citizenship committee of the same organization headed by Mrs. A. K. Macleod.

The high school auditorium and newly-fitted kitchen have been engaged for that evening, and Canadians of various racial origins are being asked to participate in the affair.

It is planned that those born in Canada who have reached the age of twenty-one and wish to obtain their citizenship papers, as well as those who have come from other countries and are now eligible for citizenship, will be presented with their papers that evening.

As well as an interesting program, it is expected that an outstanding speaker will come from the coast to address the gathering.

"Brotherhood" Theme Taken by Federation For February Meet

A thought-provoking talk, "We Believe in Brotherhood", was the theme of the devotional period led by Mrs. McQuarrie at the meeting of St. Andrew's Federation in St. Andrew's hall on the afternoon of Feb. 19. Developing her subject by Bible readings, hymns, and excerpts from Christian writings, the speaker proved it to be a traditional Christian belief.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. W. T. Boothe, the 1st vice-president, Mrs. A. K. Elliott, and the 2nd vice-president, Mrs. A. C. Fleming, presided.

Plans were made for the Easter tea and the AOTS supper, and lengthy discussions of various commitments took place.

Mrs. S. A. MacDonald presented the new study book, "From Lakes to Northern Lights", by Malcolm MacDonald, assistant secretary of Home Missions of the United Church in Canada. This book was written with a view to giving a comprehensive statement on the diversified and widespread work of the church in home missions in Canada. The members look forward to interesting study periods with this volume.

The meeting closed with a pleasant social hour. Tea hostesses were Mrs. W. D. Laidlaw and Mrs. T. B. Lott.

Young German DP Creates Interest by Pencil Sketches

Leonard Weldemann, aged 23, is a young German lad, a carpenter by trade, who came to Canada last spring as a D.P. and found his way to Summerland to work for a year on the Adam Felker fruit ranch.

But Mr. Weldemann's main hobby is pencil sketching and a fine example of his work is on display in the W. Milne jewelry store this week. Although he has had no training, the young man shows a deft touch in his shading and has produced a pleasing sketch. He came to Summerland from Heilbron, Wurtemberg, Germany.

Kitchen Shower for Vallee Lewis, Bride Elect This Week

On Wednesday, Feb 20, at the residence of Mrs. Wm. McLure, a kitchen shower was given for Miss Valentine (Vallee) Lewis, bride-elect of this week.

Mrs. W. Lewis, mother of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. McLure were co-hostesses.

The bride's chair was beautifully decorated with pink and white flowers and streamers en tone, and the daintily-wrapped gifts were placed on a picturesque table representing a farm house.

A quiz program was arranged and many were the answers given producing much laughter and too much prompting. Three prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. Prior, first; Mrs. Killick, second; and Mrs. W. Wyles, third.

When the quiz was concluded, the table of gifts was presented to the honoree, who thanked everyone for the lovely, useful things.

Dainty refreshments were served, when the guest of honor was recipient of a three-tiered bride's cake, decorated in pink and white.

Reliable Apricot Has Emerged as Best of Seedlings

Varieties of apricot grown commercially in southern B.C. have various weaknesses and none of them is sufficiently hardy to withstand such winters as 1935-36 and 1949-50 without killing fruit buds and seriously injuring the trees.

The Summerland experimental station obtains and tests promising apricot varieties from foreign sources. In addition, an extensive breeding project has been undertaken and a constant watch is maintained for promising chance seedlings that occur in commercial orchards.

The desirable features which are kept in mind in selecting a new variety are vigor, hardiness and productivity of tree; and size, quality, attractiveness, firmness and freedom of pit in the fruit.

At present, says A. J. Mann, the station has under trial 2,966 seedling apricots and 49 named or numbered varieties. The fruit of each of these trees is evaluated, selections made and undesirable seedlings and varieties discarded as rapidly as possible.

Hired Labor Major Expense In Orchards

The economics division, Canada Department of Agriculture has recently released the report of an apple production study conducted in 1949 in Okanagan Valley orchard districts.

The objectives of the survey were (1) to study the organization and financial returns of commercial orchards during the year 1948-49, (2) to determine some of the factors responsible for the variation in operator income and (3) to secure information on apple production in the Okanagan Valley as part of a general study of Canada's apple industry.

For purpose of analysis the 165 records obtained were divided into three groups according to origin—Northern Okanagan, Southern Okanagan and Salmon Arm.

In the respective districts the average investment per farm was $25,815, $28,880 and $29,475; average cash receipts were $8,718, $7,249 and $6,700, receipts from the sale of apples making up 77 per cent, 56 per cent and 85 per cent of the total. In all three districts hired labor was the major expense.

The average labor earning after allowing interest at four per cent on the total investment and adding the value of perquisites was $2,405, $1,896 and $1,564 in the respective districts.

On 62 of the orchards in the 1949 survey, records had also been taken in a similar survey conducted in 1940. The average labor earnings of these farms were $897 in 1939 and $2,035 in 1948.

Yield, percentage of culls, size of farm business and labor efficiency were the most important factors affecting labor earnings.

THEFT OF GASOLINE NOT FROM GARAGE

It has been drawn to The Review's attention that its news story last week relative to two juveniles being charged with theft of gasoline was in error in that this theft did not occur at Nesbitt Motors but the gasoline had been taken from a truck some distance away. It was a coincidence that the car being driven by the juveniles stalled at Nesbitt Motors and caught on fire, thus endangering the garage. The Review has been informed.

DEVELOPS MEASLES

Mr. Howard Milne, developed measles while in Vancouver attending the Cannery Convention, and is in the Georgia Hotel there. His wife went out to Vancouver on Friday to be with him until he is well enough to return home with her.

From the earlier years of these tests, the variety Reliable has emerged as a promising selection. Trees of Reliable are now available from commercial nurseries. Descriptive sheets indicating characteristics of the Reliable apricot are available from this station and from district horticulturists of the B.C. department of agriculture.

C. J. Huddleston Tells Rotary of Service Ideals

To commemorate Rotary's 47th birthday on Saturday, Feb. 23, C. J. Huddleston reminded the Rotary Club of Summerland on Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex of some of the pertinent facts about this world-wide service organization.

He stressed that Rotary's program is designed to encourage and foster the "Ideal of Service" as a basis of worthy enterprise.

In carrying out its program, Rotary provides for the development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service, and encourages high ethical standards in business and professions, Mr. Huddleston stated.

The dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society was another point noted by the speaker.

Advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the Ideal of Service, is another of Rotary's chief aims.

Founded in 1905, Rotary was designed as a practical means of enlarging one's friendship, participating in community-betterment undertakings, promoting high standards in business and professional life, and advancing international understanding, and has spread to six continents, he stressed.

President Reid Johnston stressed to his fellow club members that in the last twelve months, nearly 300 new Rotary clubs have been organized in 35 countries of Europe, Africa, Asia, the Americas and Islands of the Pacific.

Summerland Rotary is now in its eighth year of service to this community, it was also noted.

Commercial League Puck Pennant Comes Here as Seniors Beat Contractors

Summerland's senior hockey club goes into the Pentiction commercial league round robin playoffs holders of the pennant in the first season's play at the new Pentiction arena, one point up on Pentiction Merchants.

As long as Summerland won last Sunday's game against the Contractors, Merchants had no chance of copying first place. And that was exactly what happened, as Summerland defeated Contractors 5-2 to cinch the top spot with eight wins and two ties in the regular season's play.

Although full details of the round robin playoffs are not known here yet, it is understood they get underway next Sunday at Pentiction arena with Summerland meeting Contractors again in the first game.

It was a close contest last Sunday, but a third period rally which saw Hooker, Carston and Steininger bulge the net without a reply from the Contractors spelled ruin for the Pentiction sextette.

Only four penalties were handed out during the game as the boys settled down and put on a good, fast game of hockey and forgot their feuding tactics.

Carston was the hero of the game, pulling off a hat trick to practically win the game single-handed.

1st Period: 1, Summerland, Carston (Kato) 15:00.

Penalties: Steininger, Collins.

2nd Period: 2, Contractors, Brooks (Evans) 2:15; 3, Summerland, Carston (Taylor, Kato) 10:30; 4, Pentiction, Brooks (Kay) 12:15.

Penalty: Taylor.

3rd Period: 5, Summerland, Hooker (Kato) 5:36; 6, Summerland, Carston, 9:02; 7, Summerland, Steininger (Taylor) 14:22.

Taylor, Kato High Up in Loop Scoring

George Taylor and Fred Kato were high up in the individual scoring race of the Pentiction commercial hockey-league which wound up its scheduled league play on Sunday afternoon with Summerland on top of the heap, pennant winners.

George Morrish of the second-place Merchants was individual scoring champion, followed by Taylor, Grycan and Kato in that order. Also well up in the scoring column were Carston, Hooker in his first year of senior company, Croft, Steininger and Eyre.

Rosie Campbell, who is sitting out a five-game suspension for attempting to hit referee Curly Cox was the league bad man with 26 minutes of penalties, including the match misconduct.

Lawson of the GaGamemans wasn't far behind, with 21 minutes, also including a major penalty.

Following are the individual statistics released by the league this week:

Hockey Jamboree Plenty of Fun Not Much Crowd

George Stoll, manager of the Summerland arena, threw plenty of hockey at not too many patrons at the Summerland arena last Friday evening as the first attempt at staging a minor hockey jamboree failed to attract the crowd it deserved.

Opening with a juvenile game in which a large number of the elementary school youngsters who are learning the rudiments of the game showed their skill, the finale was a laugh-a-minute contest between the "Old-Timers" and the high school sextette.

The Old-Timers trotted out the liniment along with such veterans of better days as Grandpappy Al Holmes, Jim Green, Les Rumball, Bob Bleasdale, Art and Jack Dunsdon, Butch White, Jerry Hallquist, Johnny Keys, Wendell Schwab, Jack Dickson, Al Campbell, Al McCargar, Sam Kato, Bob Goertz, Bert Berry, Jake Knipplberg, Dennis Niell and Bill Wertz.

Highlight of the game came when regular referee Wendell Schwab was waved to the sin bin by George Stoll for holding or some such thing. Schwab started to protest vociferously, thought better of it and skated sadly off, much to the merriment of the crowd whose main theme generally is that a referee's plight is "not a happy one."

In the opening game black sweaters triumphed over the white sweaters 4-2, with Jim Huva scoring a hat trick to lead the way for the winners, along with Lemke's single goal. Scorers for white sweaters were Seigrist and Brandman.

High school scorers against the Old-Timers were Brake, who counted twice, Harold Biollo, Hooker, Stoll, Jr., and Hackman. Old-Timers who, incidentally, won the game 7-6 has as scorers Butch White, Gerry Hallquist, Dennis Niell, Les Rumball, Art Dunsdon, Bob Bleasdale and Al Holmes.

All rifle clubs affiliated in the interior were represented, and combined to extend congratulations to Summerland for the orderly and efficient manner in which the BCIRA annual shoot was held in Summerland last year.

As a result of this successful shoot, the BCIRA treasury has $208.10 profit from 1951, best year on record.

Mr. Sanborn replaces William Louie of Kamloops as president, while John F. Khalambach of Summerland was named secretary-treasurer.

Big 5-0 First Period Means Loss for Black Bombers of Kelowna

Playing Kelowna Black Bombers on Wednesday night, Feb. 20 at the arena, the local senior pucksters ran up a big 5-0 lead in the first stanza to defeat the visitors 10 to 6 in a wild-scoring melee.

Campbell and Lipsett vied for sin bin honors, each being waved off for two-minute penalties, three times. Feist, however, was the real bad boy when he was given a 10-minute misconduct penalty after a particularly bad melee.

1st Period: 1, S. Roberge (Hooker, Eyre) 2:47; 2, S. Taylor (Carston) 3:35; 3, S. Carston (Steininger) 12:06; 4, S. Campbell, 13:11; 5, S. Taylor (Roberge) 15:11.

Daryl Weitzel Sweeps Senior Boys' Events in Valley High Schools Ski Tournament

Daryl Weitzel, brilliant young Summerland skier, dominated the third annual Okanagan high school ski tournament sponsored by Summerland high school at the Meadow Valley ski hill last Sunday. Conditions were icy on Sunday, with fast times being recorded.

In the senior boys' downhill, Daryl careened down the hill in a near record time of 1:30, just one second short of the record time set by Wally Day at the first valley school ski tournament. Only the addition of the control gates kept him from besting the record.

A double triumph was scored by Weitzel when he won the senior boys' slalom with four seconds to spare.

He thus annexed the senior boys' combined trophy and was mainly responsible for Summerland high winning the aggregate cup for the first time in four years.

In both these events, Ralph dePfyffer of Kelowna was second, giving the Summerland skier a good run for his money.

In the downhill, third place went to Lori Klux of Summerland, while George Grundig of Pentiction was third in the slalom.

Only one entry was received for the senior girls' competition, Alice dePfyffer of Kelowna being supreme in this department in both downhill and slalom races.

Junior Boys' Events. Bill Gaddes of Kelowna captured the junior boys' downhill, closely followed by D. Atkinson of Pentiction and Ken Pennington of Summerland.

Variety of Subjects Heard By Growers at Chautauqua Meeting in Summerland

Attendance at the annual growers' Chautauqua was not as large as most other years, but those present for the afternoon and evening sessions last Tuesday at the IOOF hall indicated a keen interest in the addresses by various representatives of provincial and federal agricultural departments.

First speaker was Dr. C. G. Woodbridge, who commented on mineral deficiencies in Okanagan soils used for orchard production.

Jack Mason, of the plant nutrition section of the experimental station, spoke on irrigation and erosion, emphasizing the need of taking every precaution against soil erosion by implementation of organic matter in the soil. He referred to furrow irrigation as the main cause of gully erosion.

All Claims Were Paid George Northan, manager of the BCFG Hail Insurance group, explained the progress of the mutual hail insurance company, stressing that all claims were paid last year.

At the evening meeting, Don Allen, district horticulturist of Oliver, discussed the 1952 spray calendar, referring to the more compact style of calendar this year and the fact that concentrate spray formulae are listed in a column alongside dilute spray formulae. Growers should make sure which column applied to them and then outline it in red pencil to avoid possible costly mistakes, he thought.

In referring to concentrate sprayers, Mr. Allen urged growers to check size of nozzles as this is very important in obtaining proper coverage. He referred to the new superhard Tungsten-carbide discs which are now available. Speed of travel should be checked carefully and sprayers turned off while making turns at ends of rows.

He also pointed out that recommended control for aphid is dormant dinitro and oil with a summer follow up of nicotine sulphate and washing soda. Washing soda is being recommended this year in place of soap. This is necessary since there is too much confusion of true soaps with detergent materials.

Mr. Allen also touched briefly on the control of woolly aphid, codling moth, peach twig borer and mites.

In dealing with the question of diseases Mr. Allen pointed out that the best method of controlling fire blight is a good dormant clean up of all diseased wood. At least three inspections of the orchard are necessary before all the diseased material can be detected.

Follow up inspections every 2 days for 2 or 3 weeks after the blossom period are also necessary if blight has been bad the previous year. Large wood and even very small twigs may harbor the disease so that every bit of infected material must be found and burned.

Mr. Allen said that work had been done in spraying for fire blight over the past 3 years and some of the tests had proved successful, others had not. For the most part, a weak solution of Bordeaux had been used and from three to seven sprays applied to cover all of the blossom as it comes out.

Terrific Pear Tonnage Mr. George Brown, secretary-treasurer of BCTF Ltd., spoke briefly on certain breakdown conditions in some of the past season's crops. He also reviewed the pear deal of last year mentioning that there are now 247,000 Bartlett pear trees in Okanagan plantings.

This, he thought, could mean 2,470,000 Bartlett packs in ten years' time, all factors being favorable. Bartlett, Anjou and Flemish, he thought, could still be grown but he felt that no further plantings of Anjou or Flemish should be made. He referred also to a long list of sundry pear varieties which are now becoming very difficult to market. He said that these sundry varieties coupled with small sizes had caused the delay in closing the pear pool this year.

In touching on apples Mr. Brown said that there are still some Newtowns, Staymans and Romes left with the balance of the crop being Winesaps. It has been a satisfactory apple year to date and no trouble is expected in disposing of the balance of the crop, according to Mr. Brown.

M. P. D. Trumppour, district horticulturist at Pentiction stressed the increasing interest in chemical thinning and stated that conditions of the past two years had not been too favorable for this work because of the severe winter injury and the late spring frost last year. He enumerated some of the advantages gained by chemical thinning as:

- (1) Cost of thinning labor reduced 80-75%.
- (2) More time allowed for other orchard work.
- (3) Trees are enabled to carry 10% to 20% more fruits.
- (4) Biennial tendencies are reduced.

Mr. Trumppour stated that chemical thinning was more subject to unpredictable results because it was affected by many variable factors.

One of the most important factors is weather. Cool weather at blossom time reduced insects flight and pollination is poor. This may give overthinning. Thinning chemicals are often more active under to set up a policy that if anybody pays $200 to us, then we must supply them with electricity." Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith pointed out.

It was Councillor H. R. J. Richards who suggested the $200 dividing line and council tentatively adopted that level and will contact the prospective users to ascertain their reaction to the plan.

Councillor H. J. Barkwill considered "it will pay us in the long run."

Extension of street lighting concerned council the last two meetings, and as a result of the previous council session on Feb. 12, an expenditure of nearly $600 was ordered for 13 luminaire-type street lights and brackets to be installed in the town area, the old lights and brackets to be installed in other new sections.

It was the electric light department's plan, according to Councillor Atkinson, to replace present street lights with the better class luminaire style lamps, and extending lighting service with older style lamps and brackets on streets farther from the town's centre.

Could Continue Each Year

If this policy is continued year after year, the entire community will eventually have a proper system of street lighting, it was contended.

The new luminaire-style lamps and brackets are being installed as follows: Two on Granville, four on Pender, six in the Parkdale district including a portion of the Station road up to Darke's corner and one replacement at the B.C. Fruit Shippers corner.

Old lights would go to Quinpoole Sergeant subdivision and an additional light on the Prairie Valley road, it was stated.

A sketch of a series connecting Peach Orchard section and the Hospital Hill road was approved by council on Tuesday. Cost of Peach Orchard street lighting extension had already been set at approximately $700.

Must Raise Wires

Still another expense faces the electric light department but because of offered assistance from the West Kootenay office in Pentiction it will not be too serious, council felt.

This concerns the necessity of raising the 4,700 volt line along the Giant's Head road, as the provincial electrical inspector has ruled that it is strung too low.

The West Kootenay has offered the services of its crew, if the council will supply its two electrical workers and 64 6-pair cross-arms. The West Kootenay line to the experimental station would be strung on one side and the municipal line on the other side of the poles. Cost of the crossarms would probably be $500.

This work must be completed by April 15 as the experimental station calls for extra power for pumping purposes on that date, it was stated.

Exact details of the changeover will have to worked out, but a shutdown for part of three Sundays is expected.

"I think it's a good offer," was Councillor Atkinson's comment, and Reeve Bentley agreed, pointing out that this work is a "must" in any case.

WEST SUMMERLAND

Consider Purchase Of Municipal Loader For Two Departments

Summerland municipal council is considering the purchase of a loader-bulldozer but has made no plans for its financing.

Councillor F. M. Steuart, chairman of the roads department, presented council on Tuesday with details of a TD6 International second-hand loader which can be purchased here for $5,000.

He understood a new machine of this type would cost about $11,000. A demonstration was carried out this week and witnessed by some council members, Reeve Bentley being unable to be present. Mr. Steuart understood that the water department could find as much use for such a type of small machine as the road department, and it can be transported easily on municipal trucks.

Various questions were asked Councillor Steuart, about the feasibility of such an expenditure. Are there sufficient roads in the municipality for its operation and would be feasible to purchase a second-hand machine instead of a new model. It was decided that estimates on several types of loaders should be obtained before any decision to purchase is made.
