Bing Cherry Loss from Rain Split Fruit is Estimated at 50 Percent

Summerland growers lost fifty percent of their Bing cherries, a bigger percentage of Royal Annes and between 5 and 10 percent of their Lamberts due to the heavy downpours which fell from Friday to Sunday and which amounted to nearly two inches of rain in four days.

In the extreme south of the valley the loss is said to be heavier, but north of Summerland the cherries were not as far advanced, the rain was not as heavy and the loss less severe.

The first really large cherry crop since 1949 has been sadly depleted by this excessive moisture but the loss is extremely variable and is difficult to estimate. Coupled with the loss of fruit will be the extra cost of picking, sorting and packing split cherries and segregating them from the whole grade.

Plane Wreckage Picked up in Local Waters

Pieces of wreckage from a private plane which crashed into Okanagan Lake about a mile from Penticton late Saturday afternoon have been picked up from the beach and in the water off Summerland between lower town, and Evans Point.

The plane was piloted by Alex Anthony, president of A. Anthony Ltd., electrical contracting firm of Vancouver, whose body has not been recovered although dragging operations have continued since the crash.

Mr. Anthony had come from the coast by plane, landed at Penticton airport and had taken off for the north. About an hour later he was attempting to return to Penticton airport when he was forced down in a driving rain which reduced visibility to zero.

Mr. Anthony was known to many in Summerland area as he lived here as a small lad when his father was a sawyer at the local mill. Two years ago he was awarded the electrical contract for the new Summerland junior-senior high school and visited here on many occasions.

He is survived by his wife Norma and two children.

Bill Clark and Don Nesbitt out fishing in Okanagan Lake off Evans Point on Sunday, picked up several pieces of the wreckage, while Mrs. M. McKecknie is reported to have found a part of the plane on the beachfront near her Peach Orchard home.

Biggest Cheque From Tax Refund Will Come Here

Summerland municipality is receiving this week its biggest cheque yet from the provincial government as its share of the SS & MA tax rebate to municipalities. According to advice from Victoria, the Summerland cheque totals $25,238.62 which, coupled with the interim payment in December last of $17,741.75 makes a total figure of $42,980.37 for the government fiscal year ending March 31, 1952.

For the same period in 1951, Summerland received $37,767.19 and in 1950 the total was $32,487.31.

For the fiscal year of 1952, municipal council budgeted for $39,600 from SS & MA tax refund, which is about $3,000 below what will probably be the total for the year.

To compile this figure, the final payment for 1951-52 is taken along with the interim December payment for the 1952-53 year, in order to coincide with the municipal fiscal year.

One reason for the increase in refund this year is the redistribution caused by the DBS 1951 census. Summerland's share had been computed on a basis of 3,500 population, whereas the census figure actually showed a population of 3,567.

Some cities which exaggerated their population figures before have had a drastic cut in refunds and have had to do some drastic economizing as a result.

Other payments being made this week to Okanagan communities include: Armstrong, $7,208; Enderby, $5,919; Kamloops, $52,459; Kelowna, $47,508; Penticton, $73,163; Salmon Arm, $8,765; Vernon, $38,119; Glenmore, $8,840; Peachland, $4,385; Salmon Arm District, $17,582; Spallumcheen, $11,842; North Kamloops, $15,872; Oliver, $5,838; Osoyoos, $6,897.

Wilcox Investigates Irrigation at S.A.

Dr. J. C. Wilcox, who has charge of plant nutrition, soils and irrigation studies at the experimental station, is supervising a series of irrigation tests at Salmon Arm, with the PPRA and Salmon Arm municipal council co-operating. This will supplement tests carried out last year.

Main purpose is to find out how much water will be needed for irrigation provided a system is installed in that area.

W. Glen Archibald, a UBC graduate has been employed to carry out the actual research work under Dr. Wilcox's guidance.

The Summerland Co-operative Growers' Assn. announced this week that building certificates dated 1945 were called for redemption on July 1, the amount involved being $22,154.

A No. 3 grade for horseshoe splits around the stem has been provided but this will not mean much to local growers as most of the splitting was on the nose and side of the cherries, growers and packing-house men state.

There is also a jam pack for dried split cherries, provided they are left on the trees sufficiently long to dry thoroughly.

However, growers in the Oliver-Osoyoos district failed to heed warnings and picked in the rain and right afterwards, with the result that severe claims are expected from shipment of cherries to damp and liable to mildew.

Cherries which have been subjected to rain should be left on the trees 48 hours before picking commences, packing-house managers here warn and most growers have adhered to this ruling.

The result will be a better pack of cherries with less liability of claim from the receiving end.

Light crop Bing trees are hardly worth picking, it is learned from local sources. However, heavy crop Bing trees are reasonably good, while Lamberts were not far enough advanced to suffer more than 5 to 10 percent loss in most cases.

But it is difficult to judge the exact percentage losses the splitting varies from orchard to orchard and also depends a great deal on the nature of the soil and the maturity of the fruit.

Bing harvesting will be into full swing by the first of the week, which is quite late due to the heavy rains and lack of sunshine last week.

Heavy Friday Rainfall

Last Thursday .06 inch of rain fell, but on Friday the skies darkened and two heavy deluges descended on the district. Just before 5 o'clock Friday afternoon the heaviest rainfall came with such ferocity that gutters on the business streets could not cope with the amount of water.

In a matter of minutes the area around Mac's Barber Shop was a sea of water which did not drain away for several hours.

On Friday, 1.04 inches of rain fell, while on Saturday the recording was .40 and on Sunday .29 inch.

These recordings were made at the experimental station. In one light soil orchard on the front bench the rain penetrated to a depth of seven feet, it was discovered.

Some light hail came down Trout Creek canyon and touched apples on orchards south of Giant's Head and in a few cases on Jones Flat.

It will not be sufficiently bad to cull the apples but will bring them down in grade, it is reported.

Since Sunday, the weather has been becoming more normal and yesterday and today have been quite sunny.

Crushed Rock Champions Win In Debate on Road Surfacing

Last week, Councillor F. M. Stuart reported to council that a supply of crushed rock had been stored by the roads department.

This eventually led to another in a series of discussions on the use of crushed rock on roads as a means of keeping down dust as well as providing a better surface.

Also included in the discussion was a letter from Mrs. J. E. Millimore, secretary of the Trout Creek Point Community Assn., who complained of dust nuisance on Trout Creek roads, especially those leading to Powell Beach.

In her letter, Mrs. Millimore pointed out that non-residents of Trout Creek provide most of the traffic on these roads and create the dust nuisance, to the detriment of residents there. She wanted to know what action council will take. Need Wet Surface

Councillor Stuart replied that crushed rock is not the answer, having conferred with Foreman Les Gould on the subject. Such material has to be packed in when the surface is wet, otherwise it is not much better than shale, he had been informed.

But both Reeve C. E. Bentley and Councillor H. J. Barkwill stoutly defended their theory that crushed rock would cut down on the dust nuisance, especially, in the view of the former, if the sand is screened out first.

For a time, council seemed prepared to tell the Trout Creek people that members sympathized with them but other parts of the municipality had just as much dust and were just as heavily travelled by

One of These Girls Will be Chosen Miss Summerland of 1952

Betty Green

Olga Libicz

Luella Polesello

Jacquie Trafford

On Saturday, July 12, the Summerland Board of Trade is staging a queen selection and crowning ceremony in the Living Memorial park playground. The girl, who must be between the ages of 17 and 21, chosen Miss Summerland will represent this community at all functions in the Penticton and District Peach Festival and at any other similar ceremony where an official representative is desired. The trade board asked various local groups to choose a candidate for the honor and the above four love-lies have consented to enter the contest. Betty Green was Rotary's choice, Kiwanis chose Jacquie Trafford, the Legion picked Luella Polesello and AOTS selected Olga Libicz.

200 Attend Rotary Picnic

Two hundred Rotarians from many parts of Washington, Idaho and B.C. gathered at the experimental station in Summerland Sunday afternoon for the annual Rotary international picnic sponsored and arranged by the Rotary Club of Summerland.

Unfortunately, the program was partly wiped out by the heavy rain which fell Sunday afternoon, and the generally inclement weather kept away many more Rotarians and their families who expected to be present.

Following a basket lunch, with local Rotarians supplying tea, coffee and ice cream, a short program was enjoyed with the Summerland Band playing several numbers. The drum majorettes made a favorable impression on the visitors.

Vice-president S. A. MacDonald welcomed the Rotarians to Summerland while Governor Syd Woodcock of Couer d'Alene, Idaho, and Governor-Elect Edwin Smith of Wenatchee addressed the gathering, the former detailing the year just past and stressing the importance of the Rotary Foundation Fellowship.

Nearly 3,000 Rotary clubs have given 100 percent support to this fellowship fund with each member contributing $10, Mr. Woodcock noted.

An interesting resume of the experimental station history and growth along with a description of some of the main research activities being carried on was given by Rotarian Dr. R. C. Palmer, superintendent of the station.

The rest of the program, which included a golf putting tournament, had to be cancelled because of the deluge.

START COUNTING BALLOTS TODAY

Counting of ballots registered for South Okanagan riding in the recent provincial election started this morning at 10 o'clock in the government office at Vernon under the supervision of Harvey L. Wilson, Summerland, returning officer. Absentee ballots will be inspected and counted and then the first count given a final tabulation. It is expected this work will not be completed until 6 or 7 o'clock this evening. In other ridings where other choices have to be counted the result will not be known before Saturday at the earliest.

Fruit Stands Pay Licence

Fruit stands selling produce which does not come off the owner's property are required to pay a trade licence of $7.50 every six months, council decided at last week's session.

This means that if a fruit stand operates from mid-June on, two trade licences must be obtained, for a total of $15 as the municipal act calls for trade licence terms to run from January 15 to July 15 in each year.

This is a hardship on the fruit stand operators but there is nothing the council can do about it, the Tuesday, June 24 meeting decided.

Also council has decided that no fruit stands will be allowed to encroach on the road allowances. They must be built on private property and that will include temporary apple box stands.

Senior Band to Help New School Group

Summerland Band members are pleased to know that interest is being shown in forming a school band next fall. C. J. Bloasdale, chairman, told members of school board 77, at the regular meeting on Monday evening.

It is thought that band instruments may be stored in the school and possibly may be used by pupils as well as the senior band players when Mr. J. Tamblin, the new music teacher, comes to take up his duties next fall. Storage space for such was provided when the junior-senior high school was constructed.

Talks to Kiwanians On Alaska Highway

On the eve of the opening of the great Hart Highway, linking B.C.'s hinterland with the Peace River block and the Alaska highway, N. O. Solly gave Kiwanians an insight into his recent trip to the Yukon, when he addressed the local club at the Nu-Way Annex Monday night.

Supreme Court Upholds Marketing Act Validity

Of prime importance to the fruit and vegetable industry of this province was the decision in Ottawa of the Supreme Court of Canada on Monday, June 30, that the 1949 federal marketing legislation authorizing provinces to direct marketing of their farm products beyond provincial borders is intra vires.

This decision reverses the judgment of the Supreme Court of Prince Edward Island which held that the agricultural products marketing act as set up under federal statute in 1949 was unconstitutional.

There can be no appeal from the Supreme Court of Canada decision as the case was started after parliament abolished appeals to the privy council.

The Supreme Court was unanimous in upholding the validity of the federal marketing act and its powers which gives provincial governments the authority to set up enabling legislative schemes on which marketing boards are set up.

However, the majority finding of the Supreme Court ruled against two features of the Prince Edward Island potato marketing board scheme upon which the PEI Supreme Court based its decision that the act itself was ultra vires.

This majority finding ruled that the board could not, as it purported to do, name representatives to act jointly with boards in the other Atlantic provinces to regulate and co-ordinate the marketing of potatoes.

Secondly, it ruled that a proposed levy on PEI producers of one cent per 100 pounds on potatoes they marketed was invalid.

The PEI court ruled that the legislation contravened the principle that federal powers cannot be delegated to a provincial government agency, but the Supreme Court ruled otherwise.

The B.C. government joined with provincial governments in PEI, New Brunswick and Saskatchewan in fighting the PEI court ruling.

B.C. led the dominion in introducing marketing legislation and the B.C. Fruit Board was set up and operated for 14 years under provincial legislation before the federal government provided the enabling powers necessary to provide full authority.

G. A. Barrat, B.C. Fruit Board chairman, Kelowna, who has had the widest knowledge of the marketing act setup of any single person in the province, has been quoted by Canadian Press as believing that the new judgment may have an effect on a previous privy council decision regarding imposing of service fees.

B.C. marketing boards impose licences to collect the revenue for their operations, which is a differentiation from a levy as the PEI potato marketing board was attempting to impose when the court ruled it invalid.

To celebrate Bob Wetzol's twenty-first birthday about twenty-five friends gathered at his home on Saturday evening, June 28, while he was visiting here from Trail.

Seek Tenders on Municipal Office By July 21st

Plans and specifications for the new municipal hall have been finalized by McCarter & Narne and council is preparing to call for tenders, to be opened probably on or about July 22.

Tenders are being received by the council up to 4 o'clock Monday afternoon July 21, and will probably be opened at the regular council session on Tuesday afternoon.

Council representatives have expressed their certainty that the building, despite the additions of magistrate's office and RCMP headquarters in the basement, can be held below the $45,000 figure quoted previously.

Have to Reduce Drainage Area

A reduction in area for the proposed drainage scheme in the general Station Road-Prairie Valley district will have to be made, a meeting of the committee came to a decision last night at the municipal hall.

Under the chairmanship of Magistrate R. S. Oxley, the committee met R. A. Barton, Penticton engineer, who presented details of the scheme as proposed in 1921 and the revised estimates thereon.

This committee decided that it should reduce the area from the original petition and not include any of the pasture land in that general area. Those who will be asked to come into the drainage scheme will be, generally, those properties which front on the Station Road and the roadways immediately to the west, and the south side of Prairie Valley road.

Reeve C. E. Bentley and Water Foreman E. Kercher were present at last night's discussion.

TO TEACH AT VANCOUVER

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson have received word that their son Frank has graduated from Normal school and will be accepting a position in one of the Vancouver schools this fall. In the meantime he is attending UBC summer school.

Should be Okanagan Riding

HERE hasn't been much said in the Okanagan concerning the division of Yale riding into two sections and renaming it Okanagan-Revelstoke and Okanagan-Boundary. This is rather surprising as the Okanagan, as such, will no longer have one voice proclaiming its needs in Ottawa.

According to the proposed redistribution bill, which at the time of writing was still being debated in Ottawa, Yale would be cut in half, the division being just north of Kelowna.

The southern section, to be known as Okanagan-Boundary will include most of South Okanagan and all of Similkameen and Grand Forks-Greenwood provincial ridings as they are constituted at present.

In the northern half, to be called Okanagan-Revelstoke, the present Yale riding which extends north to Grinrod, will be enlarged to take in Revelstoke.

Little has been known until the past few weeks regarding the possibilities being considered in Ottawa, as far as Yale is concerned. And that is unfortunate for this constituency.

A committee of B.C. members who failed to agree to such an extent that a new chairman kept appearing at unstated intervals was the group which decided this and other momentous changes in British Columbia representation at Ottawa.

If any redistribution was to be considered for this section of the interior, the tree fruit growing section of the Okanagan should have been left as a single unit to speak as one united voice in the nation's capital.

Revelstoke has practically nothing in common with the Okanagan any more. Its economic trend is towards the country where it will be linked with the Arrow, Slokan and Kootenay lakes in forest development. Several Revelstoke groups voiced the opinion that it should be linked with that area in any redistribution, but they were ignored.

In a similar manner, the western portion of the Similkameen riding bears little resemblance to the Okanagan country and has problems which in no way agree with those of the strictly agricultural section in this valley. Grand Forks-Greenwood is coming a little closer to the Okanagan now that the southern transprovincial highway is being completed on a wider scale, while Grand Forks does have similar problems from an agricultural standpoint.

Thus, the two new ridings will each have such a diversification of interests that the two members will have a difficult time in presenting a proper picture of their needs to Ottawa.

If the Valley from Armstrong or Vernon south to Osoyoos had been included in one new riding and known as the Okanagan, then the problems of the fruit and vegetable industry could have been voiced by one representative who knew he was speaking for all growers and all persons who derive their main incomes from the one basic industry.

British Columbia members who proposed the changes in B.C.'s ridings should be severely censured for their failure to acquaint the people with their proposals well in advance of their presentation to Ottawa.

Here in the Okanagan, our member is far from the ear of government, and as a member of one of his weight felt at Ottawa, no matter how strenuous his weight felt at Ottawa, no matter how strenuous his efforts.

Proper Blanching is Of Prime Importance To Freeze Vegetables

Proper blanching is of great importance when freezing vegetables, says A. W. Moyle, fruit and vegetable products laboratory, experimental station, Summerland. The prime objective is to arrest the action of enzymes which are largely responsible for the development of toughness, poor color, musty odor, loss of flavor and deterioration in nutritive value in unblanched vegetables during extended periods of frozen storage.

Blanching also reduces markedly the micro-biological population. For example, a steam blanch of three minutes has been shown to reduce the bacterial content of spinach by 99 per cent.

Added gains achieved by blanching include the enhancement of the desirable green color of products such as peas; the wilting of products such as spinach and the softening of vegetables such as asparagus and snap beans, thus enabling the packaging of these products in a minimum of space. Blanching also removes undesirable flavors in certain raw vegetables such as bitterness in asparagus.

Blanching may be carried out by heating the vegetables either, in hot water or steam. Water blanching is usually carried out in boiling water for some products lower temperatures can be used. Time and temperature will vary with the vegetable concerned and care should be taken to avoid overblanching, which results in leaching of nutritive elements and deterioration of texture, color and flavor.

Warm vegetables lose flavor, vitamins and color very rapidly. Thus, it is essential that they be cooled in cold running water immediately after blanching, prior to packaging and freezing.

Make The Punishment Fit The Crime

An Okanagan Beauty Spot

WITH all the hub bub so prevalent after the election, it was refreshing to spend a few hours in an atmosphere completely devoid of political flavour (at least it appeared so outwardly in the surroundings of one of the Okanagan's outstanding beauty spots. We refer to the visit of members of British Columbia's rural fourth estate to Summerland Experimental Station.

The realization that here was one of Canada's leading scientific establishments devoted in its entirety to bettering the agricultural pursuits of our country, and achieving noteworthy results without flamboyant fanfare made the brief visit all the more stimulating.

Situated high on the bench lands above Okanagan Lake this twelve hundred acre area has been transformed from barren and unproductive space into a veritable "Garden of Eden". And the welcome sign is warmly displayed and extended by officials in charge.

To the vast majority of Interior residents Summerland Experimental Station is nothing more than a name. This is truly unfortunate, for within easy access of all is one of the most interesting and educational institutions to be found in Canada.

We sincerely urge everyone to visit this unique spot some time during the summer months when its beauty is at its height. We venture to say that Summerland Experimental Station will be your hosts more than once after you have become enthralled with the surroundings and knowledge gained.—Armstrong Advertiser.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

It's a long time since this column turned its attention to international affairs, which may explain why they are going so badly. However, if they do not clear up immediately upon publication of this issue, I disclaim any responsibility whatever; the powers that mould the world will just have to stew in the juices of their own mistakes until they become wise enough to give me a seat at their council tables, or a chance to listen at the keyhole along with Beverly Baxter.

The re-armament of western Germany causes me some concern, though. There's a horrible similarity to the situation in the early 1930's, when Hitler began his rise to power. After all, the Germans are the most warlike nation of Europe, have started five separate wars in the past 88 years, and a Canadian veteran of the last war told me of a German officer saying grimly at its end:

"Well, that's twice we lost, but we came close; the third time Germany shall not fall."

And here we are giving them their start on that third time, with Russia sure to aid and abet any German efforts along that line. Have we forgotten so soon the Nazis and their taking ways, the Jew-baiting, the concentration camp, Belsen, Dachau, Lidice?

One Canadian has not; yet when Dr. Keenleyside refused to shake the hand of an ex-Nazi leader last spring, we were shocked at his lack of manners. Were there manners in the submarine sinkings, the bombing raids, the gas chambers? What a tragic joke on us if in our blind obsession with Russia we helped Germany get started on their third attempt to conquer Europe—the attempt which shall not fail!

Another mistake which, it seems to me, is being made—all through lack of asking my advice, you see—is being too obsessed with Russia to fight Communism. For they are not altogether one and the same thing. Communism is not contained within the Russian borders; it is already spread all over the world. And it thrives on injustice, race prejudice, profiteering, anything that can cause a cleavage between classes of society.

We're goofy to try to fight it by restrictions, mass trials, and McCarthy smear tactics. For the Communists will seize on all the injustices in these as flaws in democracy; just as they seize on high prices, excessive profits, injustice to negroes, millionaires, and Heaven knows what. What we need to do against Communism, besides keeping ourselves vigilant and strong against physical invasion, is to keep ourselves vigilant and strong likewise to preserve freedom, justice, and fairness to all, to give the mental invasion of Communism no foothold either.

Finally, in this round-up of world affairs, there is the matter of the germ warfare charges of Dr. Endicott. To me it was a great disappointment when our government refused to prosecute Endicott, to make him prove his charges.

Officials say very decidedly that his charges are entirely false; but then politicians develop a habit of branding anything that is criticism of themselves as false. It's a sort of protective army in the election battles. And if they do not try to prove that it's false, one gets an uneasy suspicion that this germ warfare charge may be true.

However, even if it is, does it matter so much? It's a ghastly method of making war to us now; but then, the mass destruction of the atomic bomb seemed ghastly too, until we got used to it.

If we are to emerge victorious from the present struggle, what does it matter how many enemies we kill or how we kill them? If our cause is right, do we not deserve to be victorious? And is our cause not right?

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

July 8, 1927

The Diamond Jubilee of Confederation was well and truly celebrated here. From early morning until the last sky rocket at night events moved with precision and promptness. Mr. George Drewett announcing in a satisfactory manner. The pageant, main part of the day's festivities, pictured Canada, province by province, and over one hundred took part.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Leslie are parents of a Jubilee baby born at the Summerland General hospital on July 1.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McPherson welcomed a son at Summerland hospital on Thursday. He is named William Stanley.

On and after July 1, the stamp tax in Canada on cheques, bills of exchange, and promissory notes, will be reduced to two cents, irrespective of the amount, on any item exceeding $10. There will be no tax on items of $10 or less.

Miss Marie Clingsell and Mr. Lloyd Miller were married at Anderson, Ill., where they were attending the Bible school. Mr. Miller has just completed his course of training there and is to take a pastorate.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
July 7, 1922

Promoted to high school on the recommendation of Principal S. E. MacDonald were Edith Cunliffe, Beasie Tomlin, Willie Thornber, Ross Bradsley, Jessie Rutherford, Jim Smith, Nellie Thompson, Alice Traylor, Joan Moffatt, Joan Blewett, Arthur Dunsdon, Evan Pirie, Emily Wallock, Leslie Gould, Florence Clark and Richard Miller.

Mr. G. A. Lundie, M.A., recently of Revelstoke, has been appointed principal of Summerland high school.

Rain is sorely needed in many fruit districts and the district horticulturist has made the prediction that the apple crop will be less than last year, but that stone fruits will be heavier.

Monday night was one of the hottest experienced in Summerland. The temperature did not drop below 60 throughout the day as recorded at the experimental station, and during the previous day maximum temperature registered was 88.

The Battle of the Boyne will be celebrated locally when Orangemen hold a picnic at Crescent Beach.

The marriage of Miss Hatty Isabelle Sangster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Sangster of Smithers to Charles Roy Elsay, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Elsay of this place took place at Smithers on Wednesday, June 28.

Through a home-made device, with a one-phase amplifier, Fred Manohosier and his nephew are hearing very clearly concerts broadcast from Seattle. He is very pleased with results and expects to be picking up radio waves from other centres soon.

ERIC JOHNSON TALKS ON FAR EAST

Invasion of Malaya Stopped By UN Intervention in Korea

Eric Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, of this community, is chief buyer for a large engineering firm in Singapore and Malaya. On Friday, he was listened to with keen interest by the Rotary Club of Summerland as he described the economic and other features of the Far East area. In answering many questions, Mr. Johnson declared that it is the opinion of many in Singapore that if the United Nations had not checked Communist aggression in Korea, a Chinese Red invasion of Malaya would have been a certainty.

In order that readers of The Review will have a complete picture of Mr. Johnson's topic his own review is reproduced herewith:

Geographically, the island of Singapore and the mainland of Malaya are considered as one, and are known as the Malayan Peninsula. Politically however, they are two countries, the Crown Colony of Singapore and the Federation of Malaya.

The city of Singapore is situated on the island of that name, and therein reside most of the inhabitants. The two are separated by the Strait of Johore, but this strait has long been bridged by the Causeway, so often mentioned in despatches during World War II.

What is now the city of Singapore, known in the east as the "Lion City", was a prosperous commercial centre in the 13th and 14th centuries, but was destroyed by the Javanese about the year 1377.

The modern growth of the island, and particularly the city, dated from 1819, when Sir Stamford Raffles obtained permission from the Sultan of Johore (Johore State then including Singapore Island) to establish a trading post for the East India Company. The island remained a dependency of India until 1867, when the Crown Colony of the Straits Settlements came into being. This title, Straits Settlements, is still erroneously used by many people. In 1945, on the formation of the Malayan Union (which later became the Federation of Malaya) Singapore Island, together with Christmas and Cocos Islands, became the Crown Colony of Singapore.

The island has an area of about 217 square miles, and the 1949 population was 890,000, of which about 770,000 was within the city limits. The southern tip of the island, where lies the city, is just over one degree north of the equator. The average maximum temperature is 87 degrees F; the average minimum is 74 degrees. Humidity is usually 90 to 100 percent (compared to about 80 in the South Okanagan) and rainfall about 80 inches per year (compared to 10 inches total precipitation in the Okanagan).

The population is very mixed, with the Chinese predominating (about 60%), followed by the Indians, the Malays and the Europeans. The term "European" in Singapore, is used to describe any person with a "white" skin. It takes a little while for a Canadian to become accustomed to be called a European! The Europeans on the island number between nine and ten thousand.

The government on Singapore Island is headed by the governor who is chosen by, and is directly responsible to, the British government. He has of course a complete staff, is in close touch with the heads of the armed forces, and presides at the meetings of the city council. Some of the members of this council are chosen by the governor, the balance is elected by popular vote.

Singapore is very proud of its harbor, and due to the number of ships that call there is often known as the Crossroads of the East. The port can roughly be divided into three sections—the Inner and Outer Roads and the Wharves. The Inner Roads are used by small sailing and motor vessels engaged in the tremendous entrepot trade; the Outer Roads are used by larger ships awaiting a berth at the wharves or loading or discharging into lighters. In 1950 the total freight discharged in Singapore was nearly four million tons, and the total loaded over two million.

Although trade is the main business of Singapore there are also large fishing fleets there, several rubber factories, plywood manufacturers, engineering firms, etc. Christmas Island is mainly known for its export of phosphate of lime.

The "emergency", which name has been given to the Communist activities in Malaya, has not taken such a toll of lives and property here as on the mainland. Several shootings have occurred and there have been several attempts, some successful, at arson.

Singapore's biggest "incident" was in December 1950, when the entire city was paralysed for several days by riots. The riots were actually of religious origin and no definite proof of Communist assistance has ever been published.

Life in Singapore is very different from that in Canada. The greatest difference arises naturally from the climatic conditions. There are no seasons, and there is therefore no need of the usual Canadian preparations for the winter. This immediately cuts out all thought of furnaces, heavy clothing, anti-freeze, skid-chains, etc. Pre-war the houses were built in as open a manner as possible, with huge window openings closed only in case of rain by means of wooden shutters, doors only on the bedroom and bathroom openings, open lattice-work on the upper part of the walls and over the door openings, tile floors, etc.

Additional cooling was provided by overhead electric fans, with blade spans of five or six feet. Today, with air-conditioning coming to the fore, the houses are more on the California bungalow style, with glassed windows and with doors to all rooms.

The average European lady of the house usually has at least one servant, either Chinese, Malay or Indian, to assist in the housework, look after the children, do the cooking, etc. This is essential as the high temperature and extreme humidity do not allow for the bustle around of a housewife as in a more temperate zone.

A sign of the times is that hats are no longer worn, by either sex, as it was when prisoners of the Japanese that Europeans could work for long hours in the sun without any head covering. The tendency is also for less men's formal dress during the evening, this being replaced by soft shirts and lounge suits.

The Commissioner-General for Southeast Asia, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, has taken the lead in these matters, one of the most sensible changes the Far East has known for many a day. Federation of Malaya.

The Federation of Malaya is a British Protectorate, and as such enjoys a little more freedom from Whitehall than Singapore. The head of the government is known as the high commissioner who, previous to the "emergency", was responsible in the main for only the political side of the government. Recently, however, this responsibility, after the murder of Sir Henry Gurney by the Communists, was increased to include authority over all the armed forces.

The position is now held by General Sir Gerald Templer, Malaya's "strong man", who is supported by an assistant high commissioner and the usual staff, and who presides at the meetings of the federation legislature which meets in the capital, Kuala Lumpur.

The Federation of Malaya comprises nine native states—Johore, Pahang, Negri Sembilan, Selangor, Perak, Kedah, Kelantan, Perlis and Trengganu—and two settlements, Penang and Malacca. The total population is about five and a half million, of which about 1500 is European.

The federation is roughly the area of England (without Wales). As in Singapore, the Chinese make up the main part of the business communities, and are also to be found operating tin mines and rubber estates. The Malays and the Chinese are about equal in number, with the Indians coming next.

Malaya's main sources of revenue are the tin mines and the rubber estates. These, during the Japanese occupation, were allowed to deteriorate and it is only recently that they have been brought back into full production.

The agricultural research station, operated by the department of agriculture, has greatly assisted in the replanting of estates, and the rubber research institute at Kuala Lumpur has, through experiments on rubber tree stocks, enabled the growers to take advantage of the bud-grafting method for the establishment of high-yielding trees by making suitable budwood available to them.

Large quantities of money have been poured back into the tin mines, particularly those owned by companies in England. The local government, and various engineering firms, have lent their aid, and but for the "emergency" tin production would today be back to normal.

Both the above industries, however, have been hampered considerably by the Communists, who take great delight in burning down buildings of both mines and estates, in wrecking machinery, slashing rubber trees, and in murdering all those engaged in production.

Cordons of police are now a regular part of the equipment of mines and estates, and they are often supplemented by personnel of the army, who maintain roving patrols, all connected by wireless, and who often stand guard on particularly vulnerable estates and mines.

The planters in particular are in constant danger and usually have their buildings, including their own homes, protected by guards, barbed wire fences, floodlights, guns, and all the paraphernalia of war. Visits to various parts of the estates are usually made in a civilian car, which has been armored with steel plate, and pistols and Bren or Sten guns are always carried.

G.M. Passes On Cut In Cost of Living; Wages Remain Same

A reduction in the retail prices of all its car lines, effective Monday, June 23, was announced by General Motors of Canada this week. The cut in retail prices will amount to $10 across the board for Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, Chevrolet trucks and GMC trucks.

Wm. A. Wecker, general manager, explained that the recently announced decline in cost of living index directly affected costs of the Canadian product. A cost of living allowance for GM employees is adjusted quarterly up or down if the index fluctuates sufficiently.

The index for May 1, announced as 186.7 called for a downward revision of the cost of living allowance amounting to 3 cents an hour (from 20c an hour to 17c an hour) for the hourly-rate employees for the quarterly period which commences today. A corresponding adjustment was made for eligible salaried employees. The price adjustments were formulated "to pass along to the consumers the savings resulting from the downward adjustment of wage and salary payments".

At the same time, in accordance with its wage adjustment formula, GM announced that it had granted its hourly-rate employees a 3-cents per hour increase in their straight time rates, effective June 12. This increase represents the annual "improvement factor" referred to in a clause of the agreement between the company and the union; the clause which is based on the recognition that a continuing improvement in the standard of living of employees depends upon technological progress, better tools, methods, processes and equipment, and a co-operative attitude on the part of all employees in such progress.

This increase becomes part of the employees' straight time rate and will not fluctuate with the quarterly cost of living adjustments. A corresponding increase also was granted eligible salaried employees.

TWO BANDS IN GAME AND CONCERT

Summerland and Penticton bands are co-operating tomorrow night, Friday, at 7 o'clock to provide two forms of entertainment. There will be a softball game between band members and those not playing on the diamond will provide musical selections. The games and entertainment will take place on the school grounds.

MacDonald School Pupils Save $900

In the past year, youngsters in four classes of the MacDonald elementary school have amassed nearly $900 in savings through the junior savings club operated in connection with the Summerland and District Credit Union.

Mr. Tom Moore's Grade 5 youngsters are the "savings kids" in town, as they headed the list with $380.63, more than a third of the total of $893.24. They call themselves the Steamliners, and on the average have saved $10.57 per pupil in the year.

In order of savings, other rooms are as follows: Ted Weeks, Grade 6, $144.97; Mrs. B. A. Tingley, Grade 5, $124.70; Mrs. Alf Johnston, Grade 4, $102.35; Mrs. M. K. MacRae, Grade 4, $82.22; H. V. Stent, Grade 6, $58.37.

Sixty-Seven Boys at First Session of Popular Camp Sorec

When the junior boys' camp opened on July 2 at Camp Sorec, to run until July 8, there were 67 boys there, with Rev. H. R. Whitmore in charge, assisted by Dwayne Greer.

Eight tent leaders are Ken Bissett, Harold Biollo, Jack Ganzfeld, Jack Gould, Robert Mountford, Neil Woolliams, Gordon Underwood and Walter Uegama. Dr. J. C. Coodfellow of Princeton is in charge of devotions.

The camp cook is Mrs. Stewart of Penticton, who manages the school's cafeteria there, and who will competently handle the menu and meals during July.

Besides those mentioned there may be other helpers.

NOTES FROM PARLIAMENT HILL

Yale Cut In Half North Of Kelowna in New Bill

By O. L. Jones, MP for Yale

The re-distribution committee has finally agreed on the new boundaries for the two new ridings that are to be carved out of Yale.

The southern half will have the same boundaries east and west as it had previously, but the northern boundary is a line drawn from the centre of the lake above Kelowna and along the southern boundary of townships 23 and 24, thence directly east to the old Yale boundary. The line will continue south down Okanagan Lake to a point above Peachland and thence west to Missoula Lake along the old boundary.

The northern half will include the remainder of Yale with the addition of the Revelstoke district up to Glacier. This will be an approximately equal division of the total population of the area involved. The northern half will be called Okanagan-Revelstoke, and the southern half Okanagan Boundary unless there is a last minute change in this name.

A bill to extend the tax agreements between the dominion government and the various provinces was again extended for a five-year period and they are substantially the same as those that have been in effect for the past five years. The new bill has a higher guaranteed minimum which will be paid to our province than the old one. Under the new agreement, British Columbia will be guaranteed $29,647,487, whereas under the old agreement, our guaranteed minimum was $18,120,124.

While this sum is a minimum, Mr. Abbott pointed out that certain adjustments would be made, based on the national income which would increase the sum payable to British Columbia by roughly-nearly $12 million.

The war veterans allowance act has passed the House, but it has not given to the veterans what the Canadian Legion had asked for on their behalf! Nevertheless, there will be fair increases for war veterans and their dependants, and I have no doubt the government will again be called upon to raise this figure to at least the one suggested in the Canadian Legion brief.

The Boundary Pipeline Corporation had another rough trip last week. Mr. Drew, taking part in the debate for the first time, spoke in opposition to granting a charter to this company. He claimed that the committee dealing with this bill had suppressed evidence that should have been heard, especially one witness who was giving reasons why he thought it was not sound economically and worthwhile to proceed with this particular pipeline.

A resolution by a Liberal member of the committee prevented this man from giving any further evidence. Mr. Drew based his argument on such procedure being unfair and said that no bill should be passed without all the evidence being heard for and against proposals.

Mr. Howe joined in the discussion, claiming that it was right and proper to grant this company its charter. Several speakers joined in the discussion and talked the bill out.

A short time ago, I interviewed officials of the public works department and later officials of the treasury board to find out why the Okanagan flood control scheme has not been developed. The answer explains the situation.

Originally, the scheme was to cost $2½ million, based on engineers' reports. Both the dominion and provincial governments had reached an agreement whereby this sum would be shared and actually in both cases the money had been voted. But when the plans were finally prepared and ready for tenders to be called, it was found that the cost of the scheme would be approximately $3½ million.

The increased cost was accepted by the provincial government and by the department of public works here in Ottawa, but when the treasury board found that the scheme was to cost an extra million dollars, it demanded further proof and reasons for the extra expenditure before it would pass this for payment.

Naturally, the scheme cannot go ahead without the sanction of the treasury board; but I have been assured by the minister in the House of Commons this week that the work will definitely be started soon.

I expect to be in the Okanagan soon for the summer recess and I shall be very pleased to meet any groups or individuals who have any federal matter they would like to discuss with me.

DEPUTY TREASURER

Miss J. R. Ritchie has been named deputy treasurer of the municipality and will have permanent signing power in the absence of Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith.

OPPORTUNITY

"The B.C. Fruit Growers' Association holds an option on certain land adjoining the Hope-Princeton-Kaleden crossroads. The Association has felt that it might be advisable and of value to the industry if fruit and fruit products were made available to the travelling public at this Junction.

For that purpose the Association would be prepared to sublet to a suitable applicant the site for the operation of a properly equipped and adequately constructed fruit stand, subject to final satisfactory arrangement with the Government. The experiment would be tentative for one year — the specifications of the building and the type of commodities sold to be subject to the supervision of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited.

Any one interested may apply to the Secretary of the Association, Mr. J. MacLennan, 1473 Water St., Kelowna, for further information."

What boosts a man's stock with people like these?

HIS AGENT
Invariably, employers like the kind of man who readily accepts responsibility. And they know that a man's ownership of life insurance, so life insurance can be a "plus" to a man in any line of work.

HIS BANKER
Because bankers and others who lend money render such useful service, their opinion of a man is important. To them, ownership of adequate life insurance is often an important factor in establishing satisfactory credit.

HIS WIFE
Many a man is rated "the best husband in the world" by his wife. But if he owns life insurance, which provides his family with financial security—he enjoys extra laurels because of his concern for their future.

HIS FRIENDS AND NEIGHBOURS
When they know that a man owns life insurance, they know he's trying to achieve financial independence for his family and, perhaps, for his own later years. And because he's doing his share in this way, they regard him with respect.

Today, millions of Canadians are providing security for themselves and their families—and enjoying greater prestige—through owning life insurance!

AT YOUR SERVICE! More than 50 Canadian, British and United States life insurance companies compete actively to offer you the best possible life insurance service. A trained life underwriter from any of these companies will gladly help you choose the kind and amount of life insurance that will best fit your needs.

Two New Teachers Receive Appointments

Summerland school board has received with regret the resignation of Mr. Thomas Moore who will go to Salmon Arm to teach in the fall.
Mrs. Kean will move to grade 3 next term. Mr. W. R. Chalmers of Penticton has been appointed to the high school staff to replace D. M. Sanford, and Miss Mary East of Surrey Centre to the MacDonald school. Teachers are still required for boys' physical education and other subjects, girls' physical education and other subjects, the commerce course in the high school and for grade 5 and grade 2 in the elementary.

Mrs. MacDonald's Lovely Garden is Scene of Meeting

In a beautiful setting of green lawns, shady trees, and a profusion of flowers, the ladies of the Federation of St. Andrew's United church held their final meeting of summer in the garden at the home of Mrs. S. A. MacDonald, Hospital Hill.
About fifty were present and after singing a most appropriate hymn, "Unto the hills around do I lift up my longing eyes", Mrs. Welsh led in devotions with a moving prayer.
In the absence of Mrs. H. K. Lott, Mrs. A. McLachlan read the minutes and Mrs. W. D. Laidlaw gave the treasurer's report.
Mrs. W. R. Powell, supply secretary, gave a good report of a large parcel of men's clothing sent to the Indian Hospital at Clo-oose and told, too, of a successful quilting party and pot-luck dinner held by members at which three quilts were finished, the materials being donated by Mrs. C. A. Clark.
Mrs. H. Whitmore, whose brother-in-law is a chaplain in Korea, read excerpts from letters and spoke of the extreme scarcity of necessities, especially in regard to orphans and waifs. The members are planning to send a parcel.
Mrs. Whitmore thanked the Federation for a donation made to the choir, and Mrs. T. A. Walden thanked the ladies for a life membership presented to her at the time of her golden wedding, June 3.
Miss A. Cochran then took charge of the meeting, asking Mrs. W. T. Boothe to give the Indian version of the 23rd psalm, and then gave a most interesting talk on Marine Missions starting from their earliest beginnings in mission work on the coast of B.C.
This was illustrated with maps and pictures, and she told of the hardship and courage of such pioneer missionaries as Rev. Mr. Crosby, who had only a canoe and two Indian guides to help him in calling on isolated Queen Charlotte Island points.
Mrs. W. F. Ward read the life story of Peter Kelly, well known as the Haida Indian minister, and for his unusual work in helping his own people.
While guests relaxed and enjoyed the lovely view of the lake the hostesses for the afternoon, Mrs. Basil Stewart, Mrs. Jackette and Mrs. F. B. Bedford, served a delicious tea.

Pioneer of Similkameen Known Here

Death came Friday, June 27 to Edwin Barr Hall, 80-year-old pioneer of Princeton who spent the past 16 summers at his summer camp at Trout Creek. During his 54 years in Princeton he drilled the first bore holes for coal, supervised the construction and operation of the first waterworks, and established the first electric light system.
Funeral services were held on Monday, June 30 from St. Cuthbert's Anglican church with Rev. Grant E. Dale officiating. Cremation followed in Vancouver.
Born November 14, 1871 in Kenley, England, Mr. Hall grew up in Croydon. He was trained as a mechanical engineer at the Crystal Palace School of Engineering and in 1892 came out to California to take part in a short-lived land settlement scheme.
From California he came to British Columbia around 1894, spending some years in Rossland before settling in Princeton in 1896 in charge of gold hydraulic operations on the Similkameen River for the Vermilion Forks Mining and Development Company.
In 1905 he directed the drilling of bore holes which established the coal-mining industry in the Similkameen. In 1912, in company with the late Ernest Waterman, he formed the Princeton Light and Power Company to supply the town with electricity from the Princeton Coal and Land Company's steam plant.
Mr. Hall continued his interest in the light company until his death although he had relinquished active participation in recent years.
Despite his years Mr. Hall was a familiar figure around Princeton until only recent months.
He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Madeline A. Hall of Princeton, three daughters, Mrs. L. Backler of Vernon, Mrs. J. Miller of Pullman, Wash., and Mrs. G. Wride of Ottawa, and one son, Perry, of Vancouver.
Pallbearers were R. Miller, E. Barr, John Ewart, S. A. Wilson, Mark Gregory and W. N. Maywood.

Jack Wood Honored By Co-op Staff; Retires After 29 Years' Duty
Twenty-four employees of the Summerland Co-operative gathered in the main office on Thursday afternoon, June 26, to honor Mr. Jack Wood, who is retiring after being employed there for twenty-nine years, ever since the Co-op was started in 1923.
A bouquet of Scotch thistles centred the tea table which was aptly decorated with plaid ribbon and the guest of honor was given a boutonniere of Scotch thistles tied with a plaid bow.
On behalf of those present Mr. George Washington presented Mr. Wood with two chrome beach chairs, and tea was served to conclude the noteworthy event.

dump now", retorted Mr. Barkwill, "but what about the rest of the municipality?"
He described a string of cans marking the roadway all the way to Fish Lake, cans along Peach Orchard and in the Chinaman's Gulch besides various other partly isolated sections.
But council was not to be turned from its set course and the refuse ground gate will remain locked except on Wednesdays when everybody is asked to bring excess material there for disposal.
It was also reported that garbage is being dumped indiscriminately in the swamp at the foot of Peach Orchard, and efforts will be made to stop this practice.

Cadets Bivouack at 4,000-Foot Level on Camp McKinney Road

Male members of the SHS cadet corps held their annual overnight outing under the direction of their Cadet Captain, A. K. Macleod, on Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21, on the road leading to historic old Camp McKinney.
Using army transport, the cadets were transported to Oliver and then to near the 4,000-foot level on the road to Camp McKinney where they bivouacked for the night.
Pickets were posted and the lads guarded their camp in true army style. Groundsheets and blankets formed their bedding under the stars.
Saturday morning the party proceeded to Camp McKinney for lunch, spending the afternoon in fieldcraft "manoeuvres". The return trip was taken via Rock Creek and Bridesville, the cadets being able to get a glimpse of the new highway bridge over Rock Creek canyon.

Councillor Fails To Alter Policy On Refuse Dump

Councillor H. J. (Bill) Barkwill argued in vain but couldn't persuade the rest of the municipal council that the municipal refuse grounds regulations should be changed.
At last week's meeting, Mr. Barkwill suggested that the refuse grounds should be opened at all times, but that trucking firms be persuaded to make their rounds only on Wednesdays as at present.
For the past three years the refuse ground has been open only on Wednesdays when the caretaker is present and can direct the dumping in a proper manner.
There have been various abuses and Mr. Barkwill complained of people dumping indiscriminately around the refuse ground gate and in the general area on days other than Wednesdays.
Sanitarian Alcock of the South Okanagan Health Unit was present and was inclined to agree with Mr. Barkwill's contentions.
It was pointed out to Mr. Barkwill that the refuse ground is in better shape now than it ever was when persons were allowed to dump refuse there at any time.

Amm.

Professor Tankard in Concert at Penticton

Music lovers will be interested to know that Professor Geoffrey Tankard is to appear in Penticton on July 8, giving a lecture in the afternoon on piano technique and piano literature, with a recital on the evening of the same day in the new school auditorium.

Professor Tankard is being sponsored by the Registered Music Teachers' Association and the lecture and recital will be open to the public.

Professor Tankard graduated from the Royal College of Music at the early age of 15, and is now an examiner of that same school and has been travelling through Canada this summer in this capacity.

After his recital in Penticton Geoffrey Tankard will go to Banff to give the season's opening recital at the Advanced School of Fine Arts.

Two Teachers Go to Europe For Summer

Teachers from Summerland halls of learning have now scattered to many points, but the pair who probably will be looked upon with more envy than any others are Miss Margaret Barraud and Miss Mary Reid, who are going to the continent.

They plan to travel by train and boat to visit the British Isles, France and Switzerland before returning early in September.

Miss Barraud will return to SHS but Miss Reid will return to UBC where she will complete her teacher's training course. Miss Stella Creese will also be taking her teacher's training at UBC this fall.

Mr. Lacey Fisher has gone to the west coast where he will participate in the salmon fishing industry for the second year in a row. He is being joined by his son Robin who has been attending West Vancouver high.

E. E. Bates, with his wife and family, left on Friday for Saskatoon and other Saskatchewan points, planning to return by mid-July to spend the rest of the vacation here in Summerland.

Summer school at UBC will be attended by two other SHS staff members, W. J. Schwab and Miss Phyllis Hoath.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Greer will spend the summer at the coast before returning to the Okanagan. Mr. Greer, however, will be on the staff of the Vernon high school next term.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Sanford have also said goodbye to Summerland district, as they will be in Courtenay, V.I. next fall. They will spend the summer in Vancouver, as well.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Durick and family are remaining in Summerland at their home for most of the summer holidays, as will Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilkin and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Gately.

Most of the teachers of the MacDonald School are planning to stay in Summerland during the holidays with short forays here and there to vary vacation days. Those who have not planned any special trips are Mr. MacDonald, Mrs. M. R. MacRae, Mrs. B. A. Tingley, Mrs. Air Johnston, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Kean, Miss M. Banks, Miss R. Dale, Mr. H. V. Stent and Mr. E. F. Weeks.

Mrs. L. Mino will be leaving shortly with her husband and family to return to Ontario where Mr. Mino will resume his ministerial duties, and she will not be on the staff next fall. Miss Backmever is leaving Summerland, too, and will attend summer school at Victoria.

Mr. T. Moore is to be a supervisor at a boys' camp at Nelson for two weeks and left the beginning of the week, but will return to spend the summer at his home here.

MR. TED GORE DIES SUDDENLY AT COAST

Mrs. F. N. Bennison and her brother, Mr. Lester Arkell, returned on Tuesday from Vancouver where they were called upon the sudden death of their brother-in-law, Mr. Ted Gore, last Friday. Mrs. Gore is the former Jessie Arkell of Summerland, and her late husband was known to a wide circle of friends in this district.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. Phil Davis returned to Trout Creek last week after a visit at the coast.

Miss Jean McPherson has returned to Calgary following two weeks' holiday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McPherson.

Mr. R. A. Johnston returned on Monday driving a new car home from Ontario after attending a conference of railroad telegraphers at St. Louis, Missouri. He has been away a month.

Miss Mary Wolfer has returned after spending a couple of weeks at Langley Prairie where she tried picking strawberries as a rather new experience. She states that picking in the rain is just as customary as in the sunshine there.

Reeve C. E. Bentley drove to Vancouver last week returning on Sunday evening accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Pares who has been visiting their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heuchendorff at their home in Burnaby for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wells returned on Sunday from Banff where Mr. Wells attended the Canadian Jaycee convention as the delegate from Summerland Jaycees. During their time away they motored to Edmonton to visit Mr. Wells' parents and other relatives for a few days.

Mr. Wm. Stein arrived home on Monday night from a trip to Fairbanks, Alaska, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Hart. Mrs. Stein motored from Edmonton to Fairbanks, a journey which took five days. Returning, she flew in a Pan American non-stop plane taking just eight hours from the Alaska city to Seattle. While in the north she saw the midnight sun and could read a magazine at that time. She reports that it was never dark and by one o'clock daylight had come again. She enjoyed seeing the huskies, and thinks that air travel is delightful.

VISITING ABROAD

Mr. Jim Green was a recent visitor to Vancouver.

Miss Irene Stewart, PHN, leaves this week for a month's holiday, part of which she will spend at her home at Penhold, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Wilson have left for a motor trip planning to go as far as Edmonton where they will visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. Ann Clifford with her little daughters Maureen and Carol left on Sunday for a month's vacation at Vancouver and Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young and their two daughters motored to the coast to spend the long weekend in Vancouver.

Dr. H. R. McLarty is away for about a month, having gone to Ottawa to attend the annual meeting of the Agricultural Institute of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Heavysides with Merle and Glen left on Tuesday morning on a motor vacation trip to Edmonton and other prairie points.

Mrs. F. Stark was a recent visitor at Vancouver and the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Larama at Ellensburg, Wash., returning home when the latter came for a visit in the Okanagan a couple of weeks ago.

Mrs. Heunichon with her two grandsons Billy and Jay Heunichon left on Sunday for Vancouver to fly from there to Anchorage, Alaska, where they will visit Mr. Heunichon and Mr. Harry Heunichon. They plan to return by way of the Peace River visiting friends and relatives along the way.

Japanese Picnic is Upset by Weather

On Sunday, June 29, the annual picnic of the Japanese people of Summerland was held at Okanagan Falls, when about sixty odd persons motored down in time for lunch.

After the midday meal was enjoyed sports formed the program for the afternoon. It had been planned to have supper at The Falls, too, but rain upset the schedule and all returned to Summerland where supper with ice cream added was eaten in the Japanese hall.

After supper games were played with all joining in the annual entertainment with pleasure.

NEW ARRIVALS

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Haddrell at Summerland General hospital on Friday, June 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Nicholson are the parents of a baby girl who arrived at Summerland General hospital on Saturday, June 28.

On Tuesday, June 24, a baby girl was born at Nelson hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Wardle, Salmo, B.C. Mrs. Wardle is the former Miss Audrey Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Davis, Trout Creek.

LOVELY RED ROSES
Mr. C. P. Evans' roses are a radiant picture to those driving into or from Summerland and in their lovely brilliant coloring against the blue background of Okanagan Lake are a summer sight to be remembered.

The Mail Bag

SUGGESTS EVERY ONE SHOULD PITCH IN Summerland, B.C., June 28, 1952

Editor, The Review,

In order to make their columns interesting to readers, many newspaper columnists adopt the practice of stating their views in an extremely one-sided manner. More one-sided, in fact, than they usually feel themselves. I strongly suspect that our friend Rusticus sometimes indulges in over-emphasis of this type, and for this purpose.

In the June 26th issue of the Review, Rusticus has expressed great displeasure at the many demands made on him to help out in good causes. He appears to regret the time he has spent on such causes.

I would like to assure our anonymous columnist that the time he has spent on good causes has been well spent. Perhaps he has canvassed for the Red Cross or the Cancer Society or the Crippled Children's fund or the Arthritis. If so, he has done his bit to help relieve pain and suffering. Perhaps he has done some work for his church. This, in my opinion, is time well spent. Perhaps he has helped with the Scouts or the A.O.T.S. If so, he has done a great deal to help the boys of Summerland along in their sports, hobbies and general development; he has done a great deal to help prevent juvenile delinquency.

There are many good causes here in Summerland. I don't know which ones Rusticus has been called on to give his time and energy and money to; but whatever he has done to help, I am sure he can be proud of it.

My only regret is that everyone does not offer spontaneously to assist in the work that needs doing. If they did, it would take from the shoulders of the few the heavy burden that they bear. If each one of us could give some of our time and energy to some good cause, to help others along the road of life, it would be well worth while. Even just one good cause!

We should still have time to fit in an occasional fishing trip, Mr. Rusticus.

Yours truly,
J. C. WILCOX

GIVES REASON FOR BCHIS BOOST

From Victoria last week, J. E. O'Mahony, administrator of Summerland General Hospital, received the following letter from W. J. Lyle, hospital finance manager for BCHIS. The Review believed that the information contained in the report on the increase in BCHIS rates here was reliable and at the time was not informed that the extra 10 cents increase had been made to bring ward rates up to the level of the 1952 budget, as explained by Mr. Lyle.

Mr. Lyle's letter follows: "A press report in the Summerland Review of May 29th, states that in a surprise move at the first of May, the ward rate was raised by the BCHIS from $9.50 to $9.60 and goes on to indicate that this 10c raise was made to place your patients in a different co-insurance bracket in order to effect a savings of 40c per patient day to BCHIS.

The interpretation placed on this rate change is completely misleading and we feel reflects to the disadvantage of the hospital and the Service in its relations with the public.

"We realize that a change in rate to $9.60 could not have been a surprise to the hospital since the budget submitted for 1952 called for a rate above the temporary rate of $9.50. See Schedule 50XK. The hospital's rate was increased because, according to their estimates, the cost of providing care was increased and not because the increase would require the additional payment of co-insurance for the last eight months of the year. We are certain you will appreciate the fact that, as advised in our letter of December 29th, 1951, the rate of $9.50 was an interim one which could have been adjusted upward

Doug Nagle Hurls Kamloops Okonots To Tourney Win; Macs Lose to Oliver

Oliver outhit Summerland Macs 11-7 and defeated them 10-3 at Pentiction on Dominion Day in the $500 ball tournament.

Feature of the big day was the performance of Doug Nagle, of Vancouver, who pitched 18 innings for Kamloops Okonots and won two games and the tournament. Pentiction Athletics fell before Okonots 3-1 in the afternoon and Oliver Elks 4-2 in the evening.

Nagle appeared here in 1950 as the chief hurler for Acme Machinery, who failed to wrest the B.C. junior ball crown from Summerland Red Sox. Nagle held Red Sox to one hit in the first of the two-game series but still lost 5-4. A four-run splurge in the fourth spelled the difference on Tuesday between Oliver and the Macs, the former team having imported Mathers from Grand Forks to keep the Macs in check.

Wally Day was the losing hurler, voluntarily giving way to Jacobs in the 8th with the game hopelessly lost at 10-1. Jomori was the bad boy of the game, booting two at crucial moments.

Coulter started the Macs' downfall in the 4th when he opened with a double to left field. Bray singled and both runners advanced on an error by Day and a wild pitch. Coy drew a walk but Martino struck out. Fleming hit to Jomori, who fumbled, allowing Bray to score the second run of the inning. Sibson singled to score two more before the fire was put out.

Both teams had previously countered single runs in the second, Gould drawing a walk and scoring on a wild pitch; Bray countering for Oliver when he was safe on Aikin's miscue, scoring on Coy's single.

With two away and two on in the 6th, Day served up a fat one to Thompson who plastered it out to left centre fence for two more Oliver tallies.

In the fatal 8th, again with two away and two on, Jomori booted another and Kuroda proceeded to throw wildly to first. These two errors, plus another double by Fritz sent Day to the showers and Jacobs took over to allow but one more hit in one and a third in the 9th.

Just to show they weren't downhearted, Macs staged an uprising in the last of the ninth when Kato led off with a single, the third of the game. Metcalf laced one to left field to score Kato. Gould singled to centre but Metcalf was caught at home plate by a wide margin.

Aikin got the general idea and plastered out another hit, while Hooker, who had replaced Jomori at short, got hold of a Mathers delivery and socked it into left field to bring Gould across. Jacobs went down swinging and the game was over.

Short score: R H E
Oliver 010 402 030—10 11 0
Macs 010 000 002—3 7 5
Mathers and Coulter: Day, Jacobs and Metcalf.

Summary: Two-base hits, Fritz, Coulter, Thompson, Gould; stolen base, Kuroda; hit by pitcher, Sibson (2) by Day; sacrifice, Rucks; wild pitch, Mathers, Day; hits, off Mathers 7, off Day 10, off Jacobs 1; struck out, by Mathers 7, by Day 4; bases on balls, off Mathers 4, off Day 3; double play, Bray to Sibson to Fleming; left on bases, Oliver 7, Macs 5.

Chief of R.A.F.

AIR CHIEF MARSHAL SIR WILLIAM F. DICKSON has been appointed to succeed Sir John Slessor as chief of air staff for the Royal Air Force. Sir William at present is air member for supply and organization. He will assume his new post Jan. 1

HAVE TO POST BOND TO MOVE BUILDING

Wes Tavender wishes to move a small house from Peach Valley to the Front Bench area, but council on Tuesday was dubious that the move could be made without damage to the municipal roads. He will be required to post a bond of $100 before making such a move.

Macs Will Try For League Win Against Vernon

All games were rained out in the South Okanagan junior league last weekend, Vernon Canucks trailing 2-1 to Summerland Red Sox at the end of the third when the deluge sent everybody to cover and broke up the game for good.

Tonight, Naramata plays at the Living Memorial athletics park in an exhibition game while on Sunday Summerland Red Sox travel to Osoyoos for a league fixture.

Also here on Sunday Summerland Macs are going to strive to get back in the win column in the Okanagan Mainline loop when they entertain Vernon Canadians. The latter have won but two games in league play this year and will be striving for a playoff berth along with the Macs, who are just below contention for playoff honors right now.

In the past week, Macs dropped two games to Oliver, the first being last Wednesday here in an exhibition tilt, 7-6 and on Tuesday at Pentiction's Dominion Day ball tourney when the southerners walloped them 10-3.

Last Thursday, however, Macs went to Kelowna and triumphed over the Orchard City 10-7. Chuck Aikin, Fred Kato and Jack Dunham distinguished themselves with homers, while Junior Al Hooker, playing his first game in senior company, plastered out two doubles, one just missing being a circuit drive.

Fishing News . . .

(By Bert Berry)

Okanagan Lake: Hasn't been kind to most fishermen the last week. Was a report of an 11-pounder caught Sunday off Greata Ranch. Most others not so lucky.

Fish Lake Camp: Good reports, up to 1½ pounds being caught; this of course, on the upper lakes as Fish Lake itself is only fair.

Headwaters Camp: Lots of fish and road okay.

Glen Lake: Not bad reports but not many big catches.

Silver Lake: Good catches still coming out here.

Shannon Lake: Still good bass and perch fishing.

L. Fudge and W. Jenkinson had good fishing in Wilson Lake.

G. Haddrell and G. Black with their wives went to Sicamous over the weekend and really brought some beauties home.

NEED TO SELL BONDS FOR GENERAL FINANCING

In order to finance without an over draft until the SS & MA tax funds rebate is received, council authorized the municipal clerk to sell $5,000 government bonds to Bylaw 698 account and place the money in general account. The bonds can be transferred back at a later date, if deemed necessary.

Herb Simpson Tops With Third Possible Of Season at Range

For the third time this season, Herb Simpson scored a possible, at the 500-yard range last Sunday at the Garnet Valley rifle range. This perfect score helped him to tie with George Dunsdon for a high of 99 each.

Another highlight was Pop Dunsdon's 34 on the difficult 600-yard range, which was top score of the day at that range.

Oliver Ekes Out Narrow 7-6 Win Over Macs Here

Hitting in the clutches, Oliver Elks piled up an early lead against Gil Jacobs at the athletic park here on Wednesday, June 25, and eked out a narrow 7-6 win. Junior hurler Martino was weakening fast at the last but was able to stave off the Macs' bid for a win.

Oliver has defeated the Macs every time this season and the local players believe they have some kind of a jinx signal on them.

Actually, Oliver outhit the Macs but the latter would have beaten them but for two errors by Wally Day who replaced Aikin at third in the seventh frame.

Coulter's triple in the first frame scored Oliver's first two runs, while Sibson plastered a homer in the third to make it 4-0 for the visitors. Macs crept closer in the fourth when Kato and Rucks singled and Taylor made a clean sweep with a mighty homer.

Day's first error in the 7th scored Graham for Oliver's fifth count while the latter player hit to left field for two runs in the 8th when Rucks lost the ball in the sun and it went over his head.

Another uprising came in the 8th when Taylor drove in Kato and Metcalf's single to centre brought Rucks and Taylor across. Jomori and Dunham went down via the strikeout route and the rally ended, leaving Oliver ahead 7-6.

Short score: R H E
Oliver 202 000 120—7 10 2
Macs 000 300 030—6 6 3
Martino and Coulter; Jacobs and Metcalf.

Summary: Struckout, by Martino 8, by Jacobs 3; bases on balls off Martino 2, off Jacobs 3; double play, Aikin to Jomori to Gould; three-base hits, Goulter, Graham; home runs, Taylor, Sibson; stolen base, Jackson.

- GMC can take it!

KNOW why, more and more, GMC's are becoming first choice of so many cost-watching truck operators in every type of hauling?

One of the big reasons, they will tell you, is they can always get a GMC that's exactly "engined" for their particular kind of work.

There is no need for a GMC owner to strain away with an underpowered truck—or lose profit to a gas eater unsuited to its job.

That's because GMC builds the widest range of truck engines in the industry—GMC famed valve-in-head gasoline engines from 92 to 200 H.P.—GMC exclusive 2-cycle Diesels from 110 to 225 H.P.

And it's the kind of power you don't have to pamper!

Each GMC engine is specially lubricated against wear, specially ventilated against acid-forming fumes—specially designed for truck duty!

Why not let us recommend the GMC truck, tractor or six-wheeler perfectly powered for your job? It will be a real truck all the way—exactly the right combination of engine, axle, transmission and frame. Take your trucking problem—today—to your nearest GMC dealer.

Water Powers "Unlimited" Says Victoria

Water Comptroller E. H. Tedcroft at Victoria considers the municipality has almost unlimited powers in connection with collecting taxes and rates for water supplied to properties even if the municipality does not service direct to the lot line.

But Municipal Solicitor J. S. Aikins is not so certain about the Victoria commitment and wishes to investigate further before the municipality launches itself on any extensive new water bylaw to conform with new practices brought about by the implementation of sprinkler irrigation.

This was the information supplied council last week by Councillor H. R. J. Richards who had planned to go to Victoria and interview the comptroller before this decision arrived.

In effect, the Victoria official declared that Summerland has full power to collect taxes and rates even if the supply of water comes from communal pipes or mains and can also require such private pipes or mains be kept in shape at all times.

One of the main "sticklers" to Mr. Aikins giving an opinion right now is the extent to which such communal water projects can be registered against the land. It is not certain if any registered agreement of this kind can be made binding on a new owner, provided the property in question is sold.

The Victoria decision is a wide divergence from the original concept of water rates which called for the water district or municipality to deliver water to each property line.

Headwaters Supply Has Reached Peak; Use Storage Water

Headwaters reports tabled in council session on June 24 by Water Foreman E. Kercher showed that on June 11 Canyon dam was at the 23-foot level and on June 18 it had reached the 23 feet 4 inch level with practically all the seepage cleared away in the surrounding area.

At this level Canyon dam is at about one-third of its capacity.

Thirsk dam on June 22 showed very little water over the spillways and the small creeks nearby nearly dry.

As there appeared to be more water in Trout Creek than would suffice for Trout Creek Point area's requirements, Thirsk dam was shut down for a week last Wednesday in order to conserve supply.

Last Friday's cloudburst would make quite a difference to the volume of water required for irrigation for a few days and would put off calling on storage water supply for a short time.

Early last week it appeared that storage supply would be tapped earlier than any period since Thirsk dam was installed.

Clear Mud From Road To Crescent Beach

Tons of clay slid into a ravine above the George Fudge property on the Crescent Beach road last week, creating a lake where overflow irrigation water came down the gorge.

The slide occurred on the Huva lot, below the Tom Croll property but did not disrupt any orchard property.

On Saturday the lake which had formed behind the slide started to drain through and as a result Crescent Beach road was partially blocked throughout the day as the municipal road crew endeavored to clear the mud from the road and channel the water through to the lake.

It is estimated the slide was 250 feet long and had blocked the ravine to a depth of fifty feet in places.

Council had decided last week not to tamper with the lake which was forming and instructed ditchmen not to release any more waste water than was absolutely necessary in that area, but the accumulation proved too much and worked its way through the clay mass.

Road Foreman Les Gould believes the main trouble, as far as the roadway is concerned, is now over.

Civil Defence to Organize Tonight

Capt. A. M. Temple is calling together a few interested citizens this evening at the municipal office to form the consultative committee which will guide him in his role as civil defense coordinator. Some main heads of committees will be selected and the main details of the organization which must be set up before the fall months discussed at some length.

SELL PROPERTY FOR CEMETERY EXTENSION

A price of $75 was set by council last week for a narrow strip of municipal property once set aside for a roadway but never so designated. This property adjoins the Anglican cemetery and will be purchased by that congregation in order to extend cemetery facilities.

MORE ABOUT INVASION

This sort of equipment is also used by visiting engineers, or government personnel, who have to go on machinery inspection tours, or to install new equipment after the original has been destroyed by "enemy action". The women on these estates often make their periodical trips to town under escort of the police, and in an armored vehicle. One can easily understand why these trips are kept to a minimum.

Besides rubber and tin, Malaya also produces a large quantity of pineapple, which is canned and exported, rice, palm oil, fish products, spices, etc., and small amounts of minerals such as gold, wolfram and bauxite. Most of these products, if they are exported, are shipped out through the two main ports of the federation, Penang and Port Swettenham, the balance going through the port of Singapore.

The official language of Malaya is Malay, but most business is done in English, except at the lower levels. All official forms are published in Malay, English, Chinese and Tamil. A large percentage of the Chinese speak Malay and English, besides their own language, many Indians and Malays speak

Favors More Sidewalks Being Built in 1952

Councillor F. E. Atkinson told council last week that he favored consideration being given to side walks being laid down on Victoria road from the B.C. Fruit Shippers Ltd. north to Quinpoole Road, and on the Station road from the H. W. Brown corner south to the Prairie Valley road junction.

Council had set aside some funds for sidewalk construction this year and members were quick to point out that two walks in lower town have been promised for this year and have priority.

However, estimates on cost will be obtained but some councillors favored surfacing the walk through the park rather than a sidewalk along the Station road section, in order to take as much pedestrian traffic as possible off the hill past the Baptist church.

English, and most Europeans have at least a smattering of Malay.

Malaya and Singapore each have their own stamps, but the coinage is the same in both countries. The smallest coin is the one cent piece and, as in Canada, there are 100 cents to a dollar. The Malayan dollar is at present worth 33 cents in Canadian money, being tied to sterling.

This tie with sterling, of course, prevents the import of many non-sterling commodities, such as cars, refrigerators, canned food, machinery, etc. The government will, however, allow the import of any material or product if it is needed by the industry of the country and—if an equivalent cannot be obtained in a sterling area in a reasonable length of time.

Canadian cars are also allowed in, as English cars in the same price class are not heavy or powerful enough to be armored. Articles known as luxuries are banned in general, but many appear on the local markets, having been smuggled in by the wily Chinese.

Shutdowns on Jones Flat are Finished

Electric light crew has completed its program of stubbing between 20 and 30 electric light poles in Garnet Valley, Councillor F. E. Atkinson told council last week.

The two shutdowns on Jones Flat which occurred last week were considered sufficient to complete the extension of the third wire to that section, along Rosedale avenue and along the highway to the George Stoll corner.

It was also reported that 150 metres have been collected for testing and a similar number would be tested in October.

Apples were then off the market and because someone had persuaded the local foreign exchange chappie that apples were not a luxury!

Bennett May Lead Soered Minority Government in B.C. With Or Seat Margin

Although final results are not certain today that British Columbia government in operation this fall. With some Vancouver ridings still to be counted, it appears almost certain that the Social Credit will obtain a majority government. At last night's standing, CCF and Social Credit were tied with 16 each, but Social Credit was leading in 3 and CCF in 2 and there was little indication that this ratio would be altered in the final counting.

George Brown CFD Manager

George E. Brown, well-known secretary-treasurer of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., the growers' sales agency, has relinquished his post to assume the management of the Canadian Fruit Distributors Ltd. Vancouver office, replacing the late J. B. Dickey.

This announcement was made yesterday afternoon in Kelowna by Mr. A. K. Loyd, general manager of the sales agency. William Darroch, a faithful second-in-command to Mr. Brown for many years and the man who has been mainly responsible for the operation of the pooling system, will take Mr. Brown's place as secretary-treasurer.

In making his announcement, Mr. Loyd paid tribute to the late Mr. Dickey who was with the CFD organization for so many years and who was so well known in the coast fruit trade. "Mr. Brown will become manager of our CFD branch in Vancouver while associated with him and managing the vegetable operation for A. Harvey Ltd., will be Mr. C. H. (Stub) Rowcliffe," Mr. Loyd announced.

Mr. Rowcliffe has been acting in this capacity for the past two to three years. "Both these gentlemen, we believe, are well and favorably known to the Vancouver trade and the appointments have been made with the intention of enlarging and improving our service to our clients in Vancouver and other coastal cities and towns," Mr. Loyd continued.

Summer Camps Being Arranged in District

At Camp Soered, senior boys went into camp on Wednesday some 38 in number, under Rev. E. Rands. Seniors are 11 to 14 years of age, and come from Summerland, Penitcton, Koremeos, Oliver and Princeton. The junior boys wound up their successful camp under the direction of Rev. H. R. Whitmore on Tuesday. 1st Summerland Cub troop goes into camp on Trout Creek near the Kelly mine July 16 to 20, while the 1st Summerland Scout troop goes to Chute Lake from July 22 to 30. Scouts are on the lookout for another adult who will assist as a leader in the Chute Lake camp.

Variety of Entertainment Planned For Second Annual Regatta July 23

Twenty swim events, war canoe races between Penitcton and Kelowna teams, water skiers, diving and novelty events are included on the program for the second annual Summerland Regatta which will commence at 8 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, July 23 under the sponsorship of the Summerland Youth Centre Assn. John Kitson is manager of this big water show, for the second year, and he has obtained the promise of a number of star aquatic performers in Kelowna and Penitcton that they will show at this big event. Many Swim Entries Teams from Kelowna and Penitcton are definitely assured, while invitations have been sent out to Naramata, Oliver and Osoyoos swimmers and divers to come here for the many events scheduled in the two-hour splash program. Events range from 10 and under to open events. Penitcton and Kelowna war canoe teams are expected for the regatta and Kitson has hopes of putting in a local canoeist if extra paddles can be obtained.

Bings Showing Better Quality

Bings were at their peak yesterday and today and by the end of the week the bulk of this popular cherry will be picked and through the packinghouses. Packing of Bings, however, will continue well into next week. Lamberts started to trickle in to the packinghouses yesterday and will be rolling in good volume by the weekend, it is expected. Apricots may start about July 25, one packinghouse notes. The hot, dry weather since Sunday has done the cherry crop a great deal of good and, apart from the early arrivals, splits are fast disappearing and the task of sorting the fruit is much easier.

Tree Fruits was quoted at the weekend as stating that the cherry crop was under-estimated to an extent that the loss from splits would only amount to six percent of the original estimate. Local packinghouses do not agree entirely with this statement, although one manager admits that the Bing crop will run from 60 to 65 percent of estimate instead of 30 to 40 percent as was thought at the start of Bing picking when loss from splits was quite heavy. Lambert loss from splitting will run between 5 and 10 percent, it is stated.

Jill Sanborn off to Ottawa for First National Guide Camp. Jill Sanborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Sanborn, is one of eight Girl Guides from the South Okanagan who leave today for the National Guide Camp at Ottawa. Leader of the 1st Company of Girl Guides, Miss Sanborn has taken an active interest in the movement for the past four years and has been one of the most progressive Girl Guides.

A 1st Class Guide, she is also a Brownie Packie, who helps the Brownie leaders in their work. This is the first National Guide Camp ever held in Canada and was inspired by a visit of the chief commissioner for Canada to an international Girl Guide gathering in the United States. Ever since then the Girl Guides of Canada have been thinking and planning for a large camp of their own to bring girls together from all over Canada.

While camping is part of the object of the National Camp, to be held at the Connaught Ranges, Ottawa, from July 14-25, it will be conducted as a true Guide Camp, the main emphasis and theme of which will be "Our Canadian Heritage". Learn as Canadians Learning of citizenship is one of the chief tenets of Guiding but this summer the girls will learn about Citizenship as Canadians, not as Newfoundlanders or British Columbians. They will learn to know each other. Every day there will be a Home Town Gossip Forum when they will talk about life in their own towns. Every Guide will be taken on an all day sight-seeing tour of Ottawa and will also have one day in town to explore the Capital for herself.

Three Tie With 99 At Rifle Range; Perfect Score for Khalebach

Competition was keen at the Garret Valley range of the Summerland Rifle club last Sunday when three marksmen, Len Shannon, George Dunsdon and John Khalebach, topped the day with scores of 99 each. John Khalebach scored his first possible on the 500 yard range to lead the day's shooting. Close behind the leaders were Phil Dunsdon, 98, Steve Dunsdon 97, Ted Dunsdon 95, Fred Dunsdon 94, Ed Gould 93, Art Dunsdon 91, Herb Simpson 90, Pop Dunsdon and Dave Taylor 89, Jack Dunsdon 87, Ken Blagborne and George Stoll 86. Preparations are being made for the local invitational shoot to be held on Sunday, July 27. Competition is expected to be really keen as several interior marksmen who will compete here made a name for themselves at the BCRA shoot in Vancouver last week.

Tom Capozzi and a group of water skiers will be on hand from Kelowna, as well as skiers from Penitcton, he says.

Margaret Hutton, one of the best swim stars on the continent, is again in Kelowna preparing for the big international regatta there and Mr. Kitson has plans for her specially trained girls to stage a demonstration of rhythmic swimming. He hopes to have details of this part of the program finalized by next week. Last year's treasure hunt will be enlarged, with tokens of various values buried on the beach. Blair Underwood has charge of this item. President F. E. Atkinson and Secretary E. R. Butler are handling advertising and publicity. Joe Sheeley and Les Gould will act as beach policeman, while a large committee under Mrs. Art Crawford and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson has charge of the booths. Assisting will be Eric Tait, Art Crawford, Jim Heavysides and Mrs. H. H. Dunsdon.

New Rotary Officers Take Over Tomorrow

President-elect S. A. MacDonald will be officially handed the gavel of his office tomorrow evening when 1952-53 officers of the Rotary Club of Summerland take their official posts. No special ceremony has been planned this year, the old officers stepping down at a regular meeting of the club. Mr. MacDonald succeeds Reid Johnston as the new Rotary president, the latter having just returned from attending railway union meetings in Florida.

In uniform and carrying Summerland souvenirs to swap with other girls in National Guide Camp, Jill Sanborn boards the train at Penitcton at 6:25 tonight for Ottawa. During the trip the girls will wear navy skirts and open blouses, donning their uniform to leave the train. They will all have title tabs designating the province they represent. Mrs. H. Hyson, a captain from Oliver, will entrain with the other seven Guides from South Okanagan who are Pat Darters, Naramata; Barbara Worth, Okanagan Falls; Lorraine Cox, Penitcton; Margaret Briscoil, Oliver; Elizabeth Buokshaw, Osoyoos; Ann La Froth, Hedley, and Ann Cloak, Altonby. Miss Darters of Naramata is a niece of Mrs. C. F. M. Guernsey of Summerland.

To Crown New Queen at Park on Saturday Night

Summerland's Living Memorial park playground will take on a gala, festive atmosphere this Saturday evening as the queen judging and crowning ceremonies planned by the Summerland Board of Trade swing into action with plenty of entertainment added. Four young ladies between the ages of 17 and 21 are competing for the title of Miss Summerland 1952, and the girl chosen by the three judges will be crowned later Saturday evening. Summerland Band will provide music starting at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening and will be a feature of the evening's entertainment. The band will be on the eye of its entry into the massed bands competition in connection with Vernon's Diamond Jubilee show next Sunday, when bands from Penitcton, Summerland, Kelowna, Vernon and Kamloops are expected to stage a show. At 8 o'clock, the judging of the four candidates will commence. Ivor, Solly, Summerland Board of Trade vice-president, will welcome the gathering to this gala spectacle in the absence of President Walter M. Wright. Reid Johnson will be master of ceremonies for the evening. The four girls, chosen by the Rotary, AOTS, Legion and Kiwanis clubs are Betty Green, Olga Libicz, Luella Polesello and Jacquie Trafford. They will be judged for their charm and personality, deportment and bearing, beauty of face and figure, ability to speak in public and general intelligence and special abilities. Crowning at 9:30 O'clock At 9:30 o'clock, the winning contestant will be formally introduced and the crown will be placed on her head by the 1951 Queen, Marguerite Menu. A fitting ceremony is being planned for this occasion. The new Miss Summerland will be the royal representative at the Penitcton and District Peach Festival and other functions in the valley. Saturday night, the carnival atmosphere will be provided by refreshments booths and games. The crowning ceremony has been kept until 9:30 o'clock to allow storekeepers and clerks to be present. F. W. Schumann is in charge of the entire affair, and has a large number of committees working with him.

Civil Defense Going Ahead

Civil defense organization is quietly being organized in this district under the co-ordinator, Capt. A. M. Temple. Last week, a meeting to organize a central consulting committee was held, and tentative details for the organization of a reception centre and an emergency hospital setup were worked out. Arrangements have also been made to organize an auxiliary fire crew to supplement the work of the local fire brigade and to register all vehicles and drivers who might be of assistance in an emergency. Formation of the auxiliary fire brigade is being attempted by Fire Chief Ed Gould who is anxious to obtain the services of about 15 volunteers who would be willing to be trained for such a supplementary group. It is possible that such an auxiliary could form a waiting list to replace any vacancies which might occur on the regular fire brigade, it is suggested. Fire Chief Gould is anxious to obtain names of such volunteers in the near future. Harry Thornthwaite heads the transport committee of civil defense, with Ed (Hilly) Smith as his second-in-command. Both these men are registering those who have vehicles which could be pressed into service to aid civil defence in an emergency.

CANNERS HOLD PICNIC

The canners of the South Okanagan held their annual picnic at the KAT Ranch on the lakeshore north of Summerland on Sunday, July 6.

Mac's Take Tight 3-2 Decision from Kelowna to Tie for Fourth Spot

Vernon Canadians handed Penitcton Athletics their third league defeat of the season at Penitcton last night, pounding three hits off Relief Pitcher Ted Bowsfield to score two runs and win the game 7-5 in the tenth frame. Edwards hurled nine frames for the losers and Dave White was winning chucker for Vernon. Summerland Macs held tightly onto the lead given them with a third-inning surge last night at the Living Memorial park playground and eked out a narrow 3-2 victory over Kelowna Orioles to put them into a fourth-place tie with the Orchard City in the Okanagan-Mainline baseball league. It was a tight, tense ball game with the decision in doubt right to the end. Wally Day was on the mound for the victors and got into trouble most innings, but managed to stave off the visitors nearly every time. He struck out 11 batters and had the visitors swinging when it was most needed. Jomori in Smart Display Fred Kato and Sandy Jomori led the offensive tactics for the Macs, the latter redeeming himself in no uncertain manner for his wobbly performance on Sunday. Chuck Alkin was the weak spot on the infield last night and, although he is improving with the hickory, still shows need for plenty more coaching and confidence at the hot corner. Metoalf picked off two attempted steals early in the game to relieve the tension a lot. Wally Loamester was the Orioles' hurrier, starting in a shaky style but improving as the night wore on. He received poor support from his infield at the outset and that cost him the game. Kelowna took a 1-0 lead in the second when Tosteneson walked, stole second and scored on Favell's hit. Macs went into a 3-1 lead in the third when Gould was safe on an error and Alkin clouted one to the right garden. The fielder made a dive for the ball, missed it and the pill rolled right on by, Alkin being credited for a triple and coming home when Murray threw wildly to third base on the same play. Kato and Taylor were retired but Metoalf hit a scratch single, got to second on a passed ball and scored on Rucks' clout to centerfield. The score remained the same, despite several onslaughts by Kelowna, until the 7th when Loamester opened the frame with a smart single. Ken Amundrud did likewise to left field but the next two flied out. Lingor hit down to Gould at first who should have retired the side with a short run, but he slipped and Day didn't get over to the bag in time for the putout, Loamester scoring the Orioles' second tally. In the 8th, things looked black for the Macs when Ken Amundrud opened with a triple to right field which should have gone for a complete circuit clout as the ball was not returned smartly. Daski, however, popped up to short left, where Rucks made a nice run to gather in the horsehide and hold the runner. Kaiser

Will Your Manners Pass the Test?

On this page we are commencing a series of hints to motorists which we intend to continue throughout the summer months. They are timely hints as there are more automobiles on the roads and more strangers to the district occupying the highways in the two summer months than at any other time of the year.

Added to this is the extra tourist traffic which is on the move in B.C. this year, expected to reach record proportions before the season is over and you have a state of congestion which menaces the lives of many who are not observing common rules of the road.

In most instances, the rules of proper driving are just common sense. If you keep your wits about you and a watchful eye on the road at all times you should avoid trouble. There is always the "other fellow" to consider and you must be alert when behind the wheel of an automobile.

So far this season we have been quite free of serious accidents in our portion of the Okanagan. We hope that this trend continues and we can enjoy a summer unmarred by loss of life or limb.

In the meantime, however, we commend these motoring hints which have been copied from a little booklet entitled: "Checked Your Driving Manners Lately?" That is a query which is well worthwhile.

Alex Steven Does a Good Job

Most of the time we should not be looking backwards except to observe our mistakes so that we will be wiser in steering a course in the future.

There are times, however, when it is pleasant to look back over the years and observe the progress made in certain lines of endeavor and to think back if we can, to the part we played in the chain of events.

Mr. Alex Steven is a respected and well-known old-time resident of Summerland district who came here shortly after the turn of the century. He has seen great changes during two world wars, a depression and prosperous times in between.

In a manner which is bound to captivate the imagination besides providing historical facts which should be registered for posterity, Mr. Steven has provided a history of the congregations of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches in Summerland which joined into the United Church. In so doing he gives some of the history of other congregations in the community.

This is valuable as all too soon dates and details of events fade from memory and unless a proper recording is made future generations distort their importance and there are generally conflicting ideas as to times and exact procedure followed.

In this and two succeeding issues, The Review is pleased to bring to its readers Mr. Steven's history of the United Church in Summerland, as we feel certain that it will be well received. Mr. Steven has done an outstanding work in this regard.

Water Safety Knowledge

Water Safety knowledge is a Must in practically any part of Canada even for those who have not intention of going into or on the water in the near future. One can never tell when a fellow traveller will get into difficulties in the water and need assistance.

That is the reason why the swim classes, this year sponsored by the Rotary Club of Summerland, are so important in the lives of hundreds of young people in this community.

If they are provided with the basic knowledge of how to handle themselves in the water they can not only save themselves from becoming drowning casualties but they can possibly save others from a similar fate in a time of emergency.

Canada has countless bodies of water which lure the pleasure seekers on hot, summer days. There are few places in this great country where water is not available in some form. Those who are ignorant of water safety practices not only stand a good chance of getting into difficulties but are a hazard to others in their vicinity.

It is a grave thought that nearly half the persons who met accidental or violent deaths over the recent July 1st weekend were victims of drowning accidents.

The Rotary Club is planning a tag day this Saturday to provide funds for the 1952 swim classes. More than 200 youngsters are receiving expert instruction in water safety from these classes. It behooves us to be generous this Saturday and see that the Rotarians are provided with the necessary funds to promote their worthwhile cause.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

All my life people have bombarded me with praises of the advantages of getting up early in the morning.

"Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise," my father used to intone sentimentally whenever I complained of being routed out of bed too early. I could only agree that anybody who would attempt such a thing would need to be made wise.

Father spoke largely from hearsay, being no great hand to get up early himself; but I have been afflicted with numerous exponents of early rising who actually practiced it. I've worked for farmers who insisted on my rising well before five o'clock, and I'd see the sun rise as I tramped over the hill for the milk cows—horrible sight.

Not a few other farmers thought five o'clock rising was luxurious sluggishness, and boasted of getting up regularly at four a.m. or even earlier. It was a sort of private competition for many of them; and the story is told of the farmer who got up at 3 a.m. and hustled over to his neighbor's, ostensibly to borrow a wagon but gleefully confident of catching him still abed, only to be met with said neighbor's wife, who casually remarked,

"You looking for George? He was around early in the morning, but I don't know where he'd be working now . . ."

All of which leaves me cold. I never try to race anybody to see how early we can get up. If anybody would like to challenge me to see which can sleep in the latest, that would be a different matter, but nothing short of physical force or indignation will get me up any earlier than is necessary to grab a bite of breakfast, and rush off to work.

"But you feel so much better when you get up earlier," people tell me.

Nuts. When getting up early is unavoidable, I lie in bed hating it beforehand, postpone it as long as possible, then flop heavily out, thick-headed and drowsy-eyed. Can't find the right clothes to put on, then put them on backwards. Spend minutes looking for a shoe that is already on my foot, then try to put the other one over it.

I stagger into a door on my way to the bathroom, clean my false teeth, and then put them in the holder and try to fit the toothbrush to my gums. I'm cranky, crabby, half-awake and not only does this horrible state last until breakfast, at least, but I have a dopey, half-alive feeling all morning, and am lucky if it clears up in the afternoon. Feel better—fiddlesticks.

"But you get so much more done," people urge. Now I ask you, is that any argument for early rising? Who wants to have to do still more work? I can understand getting up early on a holiday in order to have a long day's rest, but to get up early in order to do more work—phooey on that. All the more reason to stay comfortably in bed.

Sleep late enough in the morning so that one awakes relaxed and refreshed, a late start on the day so that one doesn't have to work too much, and a nice late evening with no worries about having to get to bed early in order to get up early the next morning—that's the life for me.

I can't live it as much as I'd like to, for it takes money to live these days, and one part of father's axiom certainly seems to be true— one doesn't get wealthy rising late and working short hours. But as for the rest of the old saying, my version would be more like this:

"Late to bed and late to rise, May seem lazy, but my, it's awful nice." Ho-hum.

United Congregation Looks Backward On Nearly Fifty Years of Church Work

(By Mr. Alex Steven)

It frequently happens that the solitary wayfarer journeying onward along the highway of life finds himself at last standing by a milestone and looking backward along the road he has come. Peradventure he may take occasion while so resting to remark on some object or event associated with all the other intervening milestones that he has passed that it becomes for the moment a part of the tapestry of his imagination. For the sake of a more revealing interpretation, we simply call it introspection.

And so as in the daily life of our wayfaring friend, so surely it must be in the life of a church, since it is only in the light of introspection that we can properly establish a true appraisal of success or failure. I am sure that you will agree with me that this reflective moment can be a most illuminating experience—whose yesterdays look backward with a smile. Let us just for the fleeting period of the moment take a further step backward and see if we can capture the igniting impulse that fired the spiritual progress that swept across the vast Western Land in so brief a period that can be measured by history.

After all it is not very long as the years count—in fact at this moment my thoughts are arrested by the significant passage of a poem written by a Winnipeg divine on the occasion of an anniversary or other in connection with the Red River settlement in Winnipeg. I quote it from memory. You may tread those foot-paths lightly

Of this ever sacred sod,
Where a little band of Crofters
Claimed the great New West for God.

Some of you may reasonably ask what such an incident as the Selkirk Settlement in Manitoba has to do with the establishment of church work here. Perhaps more than for the moment you can well imagine, since both were the outcome of a living faith in the hearts of ordinary men and women. At the time of the establishment of church work in the Old Parish of Kildonan, all of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia was one vast No Man's Land, knowing little of spiritual influence. Those early settlers with the burning faith of their native land lit the torch in the shadow of Fort Garry that was to maintain and shed a light into the dark places, even down to the very shores of the Pacific. And so it came that after the beginning of the present century, we of this country caught the inspiration of Kildonan and followed its gleam.

During the early stages of construction under the direction of the Summerland Development Co. Ltd. church services were conducted in the Empire Hall over the store of the Summerland Supply Co. in the lower town alternately by the Rev. T. N. Ritchie, of the Baptist faith, and the Rev. Mr. Whyte, a Presbyterian, both of Peachland. The arrangement was all right for the beginning, but it was a difficult task for these visiting clergymen since the journey between the two places had to be made on horseback. It was then that the mission board of the Methodist church sent in a man by the name of Mr. Balderstone, who for a time served the needs of this rapidly growing community. It is difficult for one at this late stage to visualize just what success attended his efforts, and perhaps it is but natural that the lighter touches of work show up in our careless perspective.

His means of travel was almost entirely horseback and frequently he went out as far as Meadow Valley, where at that early stage a sawmill was in operation. He used to contact some of the mill workers during the lunch hour and would convey their mail in to the Summerland post office for the purpose of mailing. On one such occasion he arrived at the post-office with a number of letters, and while extricating them from his pocket to be handed to the waiting postmaster, he happened to pull out along with them the greater part of a deck of cards which one of the sawmill workers had adroitly slipped into his pockets while having lunch with the boys. His discomfiture can be better imagined than described.

At this time religious partisanship began to make its presence felt. Rev. R. J. McIntyre was sent in by the Methodist denomination, while the Presbyterians extended a call to Rev. James Hood of Cypress River, Man. Both those ministers labored in the community at the same time. It was during the tenure of Mr. McIntyre's incumbency that the Methodists built their church and hall a short distance to the rear of the then extant hotel.

On the completion of this new church both denominations conducted services therein alternately. Perhaps it was the best arrangement that could be made at the time, but it fast became apparent that the bulk of the people had their homes and interests on the bench land and adjacent valleys rather than along the lake level. Even during that remote period there was always that division of opinion as to the most logical spot on which to build a church to meet the reasonable demands of every one.

All three denominations faced the same dilemma. The Baptist congregation built its first church at the south end of Summerland's main street while the bulk of its members were on the higher lands.

The Presbyterians were involved in the same see-saw struggle. The late Senator Kirchoffer of Brandon had granted them a free site on his property, now known as the McClure orchard. It was believed that this would solve the difficulty between the "uppies" and the "downies", but still the hill-men held out.

About this time the Indian Reservation property had come into the possession of Mr. James Ritchie, who proceeded to subdivide a new townsite of West Summerland, and granted a free building site to the Presbyterian church, while the late J. J. Mitchell acquired the adjoining lot and held it in trust for the church for many years.

It had now become increasingly apparent that the Baptist church and the Methodist body could not maintain two churches in the lower town against the growing demands of their people at West Summerland, so that some kind of mutual agreement or compromise had to be worked out. Eventually this resulted in the Methodist body acquiring the Baptist church and the Baptist people taking over the church and hall belonging to the Methodists, which they proceeded to demolish, conveying the material to West Summerland to be used in the construction of the present Baptist church. This general adjustment seemed to work out for the good of all concerned.

Watch This Hole-in-One

Figures don't lie, and they show that the largest percentage of bad accidents occur on straight open highways when one or both parties involved are "HOGGING" the road or "opening up" to pass a car in front which, in all probability, is touring at a reasonable and legal speed.

Your traffic rules insist that you keep to the right side of the road and, in particular, to the right of any dividing line.

Moreover, if you yourself are warned that another car is overtaking you, you are to draw over to the right and allow him to pass. Too many accidents occur through refusal by one driver to yield to another his right to overtake. When you overtake another vehicle, do so only when you are absolutely certain there is no oncoming traffic that can force everyone concerned into a squeeze play that may mean death to the loser. If you can't be certain—DON'T OVERTAKE.

Ed's Note: This is the first in a series on Hints to Motorists which should be timely at this time of the year when there is a greater percentage of vehicles on the highways than at any other time of the year. They are being compiled from the All Canadian Insurance Federation booklet entitled "Checked Your Driving Manners Lately?"

Irrigation Helped Pasture Yields

In tests at two locations in the Salmon Arm area, sprinkler irrigation and the application of fertilizer in the fall gave best pasture yields. Pasture plots receiving 200 pounds of ammonium phosphate (18-20-0) per acre in the spring yielded 13 per cent more dry matter than unfertilized check plots.

Pastures that were sprinkler irrigated and received spring applications of 200 pounds of ammonium phosphate per acre yielded 71 per cent more dry matter than the unfertilized unirrigated check plots. Pastures that received the same treatment but were fertilized in the fall produced 82 per cent more dry matter.

Fruit salads, pretty as a picture, take the limelight as summer party fare or Sunday dessert. This Fruit Salad Platter is made up of pineapple chunks moulded in lemon jelly, surrounded by fresh or canned peaches and pears, and decorated with cream cheese and nuts.

Fruit Salad Platter

One can pineapple chunks, 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin, salad greens, pear halves, cream cheese, chopped nuts, peach halves, green pepper rings.
Drain pineapple chunks. Add enough water to pineapple syrup to make 1 1/2 cups. Heat; add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened. Add pineapple chunks and pour into a 1-qt. mold.

Chill until firm. Cover a large plate with crisp salad greens. Unmold pineapple salad and place in centre. Arrange pear halves in a half circle around mold, filling the centres with cheese and nut balls. (Roll cream cheese into balls and toss in finely chopped nuts.) Complete the circle of fruit by overlapping peach halves, separating each with a green pepper ring. Serve with your favorite salad dressing.

More Rain Than Usual in June Report Shows

June, usually a clear, sunny month, only had 184 hours of sunshine this year, and beat most years with 2.23 inches of rain spread over 13 days.

Average high for the month was 73, with the hottest day being mid-month, June 19 when the thermometer went up to 85. Coldest night was on June 13, when 35 degrees was registered. Average was 49 degrees.

In 1935, 1.32 inches of rain fell over the July 1st weekend, heaviest being recorded on Sunday, June 30, when .61 inches fell. It rained without a letup from Saturday evening to early Monday morning, July 1 that year. The rainfall was as follows: June 28, .23 inch; 29, .23 inch; 30, .61 inch; July 1, .20 inch.

Nearly 20,000 Cancer Dressings Made by OES in Three Years

The making of cancer dressings and help in cancer research is one of the important projects of the Order of The Eastern Star, and a local cancer station was started three years ago. This station has been open weekly on Thursday afternoons from 2 to 4 o'clock and busy fingers have made thousands of needed supplies.

Through these cancer dressing stations free dressings are supplied to all cancer patients regardless of race, religion, finances, etc., and the greater part of the OES funds goes to help pay for dressing supplies and for research work.

In the province of B.C. there are 42 OES cancer dressing stations. The Summerland station has supplied dressings for eight patients in Summerland and one in Peachland, and since 1949 has made 19,128 dressings.

If there is a surplus here the supplies are sent to Vancouver OES cancer station for distribution. A room has been provided for the OES in the new cancer clinic in Vancouver where dressings are made and sent out.

Mrs. S. J. Feltham is the convener of the local group and Mrs. C. J. Bleasdale is the secretary-treasurer.

WON'T SELL LOT

Reports on Provincial and District Conferences of Great Interest to W.I.

Final meeting of the Women's Institute before the summer recess was preceded by a delightful picnic luncheon on the grounds of the experimental station on Friday, June 20.

Mrs. Gordon Ritchie summarized the Naramata conference held in May at which she gave the Summerland report in the place of Mrs. Eric Tait who was unable to attend.

Of great interest and concern to the forty members present was the fact stated by Mrs. Gummow, provincial superintendent, that the importation of canned fruit salad from the United States had gone up 120 percent recently, Mrs. Ritchie quoted in her report.

She mentioned, too, that the fisheries department has an excellent recipe book for fish dishes which may be obtained by sending a request to that department.

At the conference the delegate said that citizenship work was stressed with the idea of suiting the specific needs of individual communities along these lines, as well as that of international sisterhood.

Officers for the South Okanagan-Similkameen for 1952-53 are: President, Mrs. Muford, Rutland; vice-president, Mrs. C. G. Bennett, Penticton; secretary, Mrs. C. J. Knox, Kelowna; directors, Mrs. E. H. Fletcher, Oliver and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, Summerland.

Among resolutions passed were one that pensioners and their dependents should not have to pay hospital premiums and one against "horror comics".

Mrs. Palmer, local president, reported on the 11th biennial convention of provincial W.I.s which she attended at UBC as the delegate from Summerland on June 4-5-6.

Some of the provocative discussions heard there were on Buy B.C. products and boost B.C. payrolls; the B.C. family, a basic institution; soils and foods; 4H clubs with their headings, hands, head, heart and health. One symposium was led by Mrs. C. C. Strachan, Summerland.

Mrs. Palmer stated that there are 20 new branches of the Institute in B.C. since the previous convention, and also that the first graduate winner of the WI scholarship, Miss Laura Stowell of Oliver, addressed the gathering.

Members were amused to witness a recording in Brock hall of the Farm Broadcast, the delegate said.

Various resolutions were dealt with, among them one concerning brands and standards; one approving fortified flour; another against drunken driving; one relating to the licensing of doctors and dentists, as well as approval of that from the Naramata conference that pensioners and their dependents should not have to pay hospital premiums.

The resolution asking that postage rates on food parcels to England be lowered was not passed as it had been learned that rates had been kept up at the request of the British government.

Mrs. Palmer remarked on the splendid inspiring address given by Mrs. Raymond Sayre, president of the Associated Country Women of the World, and reported on various provincial Institute activities.

Mrs. A. A. Shaw, Vancouver, was elected president replacing Mrs. J. East, Keremeos, who has been president for several years.

The president told of the efforts being made to try to control the drug traffic in this province, and thought that this one project in itself was worth a great deal, as well as the other many facts of WI work.

During the business part of the meeting it was decided not to sponsor a Summerland Queen as requested by the board of trade as this was considered to be outside the scope of the WI.

A letter was received from Mrs. W. G. Gillard thanking the members for gifts sent following the fire which burnt their home.

Mrs. Q. Eaton was elected a director to finish the term of Mrs. Blayney, former director, who has gone to live at Vancouver.

Various standing committee reports were heard and plans made for the fall variety sale which is to be on Saturday, Sept. 20.

Mrs. H. C. Whitaker asked that PNE entries be sent to her in good time, and said that July 31 is the "deadline".

Mrs. E. L. Famchon told of baby layettes and clothing given out following several requests for help.

Mrs. T. B. Lott, representing the Guide Association, asked for Institute support with overhead expenses, stating that 106 girls were doing Guide and Brownie work. A number of ladies spoke of the value of Guide work and strongly supported the appeal, $25 being voted to the association to assist in auxiliary efforts.

Mrs. A. K. Macleod spoke about the success of Citizenship Day ceremonies and of the splendid rallying-round of all members and participants which made it such a fine co-operative evening.

It was decided to purchase dishes for use at WI functions and the executive was empowered to obtain five dozen cups and saucers. As well as this a shower of plates, etc., will be a feature of the September meeting. Mrs. C. Orr offered a box in which dishes may be kept and transported if necessary.

Miss Nancy Vlasto, former Guide Lieut. in England, on a visit here, gave a short skit of a Cockney Guide as she acts when first coming to Guides, and of the same girl after having been a Guide for a year or more, by which time the improvement in her attitude and manner is marked.

A delicious tea was served with Mrs. S. A. MacDonald convener, and after a talk on present day flower trends, Mr. Nat May conducted members on a tour of the gardens.

SPLIT COST OF OFFICE
Summerland's share of the Okanagan civil defence headquarters office in Kelowna for the past few months was $15.92, council was informed recently. Cost has been split on a population basis throughout the "reception" area of the Okanagan.

Notice To Growers And Retailers

Complaints based on poor quality of fruit delivered to tourists and others by road-side fruit stands and retailers have been so numerous in recent seasons that it has been deemed necessary by the Board to issue the following regulation:

"The Sale by retailers or at road-side or orchard stands of tree fruits not equal in quality to grades established under the Fruit, Vegetables and Honey Act is prohibited."

Road-side stands and retail stores will be inspected from time to time during the coming season in order to see that this regulation is complied with.

It is hoped that all dealers will co-operate in the effort to see that better quality fruit is offered as this is a matter of great importance to all growers and to the reputation of British Columbia fruit.

James Aitken, on Station Staff for 26 Years, Feted by Fellow Members

When all the government farm services get together there is a large crowd and about one hundred and ninety including children took a picnic supper to the Farm-Beach on Monday evening, July 7, to honor Mr. and Mrs. James Aitken who are leaving on Friday to live near White Rock, B.C.

Mr. Aitken has been a member of the staff for 26 years and has done valuable work with the Jersey herd at the station. Just in case he might feel a bit lonely for one of the famous animals he is taking a cow with him, one that he has seen grow up! And so that

Hospital Auxiliary Says Goodbye to Mrs. James Aitken

Members of the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary gathered at the experimental station on Wednesday evening, July 2, for a delightful supper as a windup for the summer months.

Inspiring and enlightening was the entertainment provided when the members compiled a newspaper, complete in every detail, directed by Mrs. A. Crawford and Mrs. Mel Ducommun.

During the evening Mrs. J. C. Wilcox, auxiliary president, presented Mrs. James Aitken, a faithful member, with a lovely cup and saucer with best wishes from the members, as Mr. and Mrs. Aitken are leaving Summerland shortly to go to a new home in the Surrey district of B.C.

How much Mrs. Aitken will be missed, was the thought expressed by the Auxiliary, as well as all the delightful things that she knitted for the baby case in the hospital.

Since Mrs. Wilcox is leaving this week for a trip to England, Mrs. Cyril Woodbridge presented her with a neat travelling umbrella with the good wishes from the members for a happy holiday and a safe journey home.

Plans for the supper were convened by Mrs. T. B. Lott and Mrs. James Marshall.

he might be comfortable as he milked, Mr. Jack Embree made, and presented him with a metal milking stool as part of Monday evening's proceedings.

Another gift from all his associates was a tool chest containing a set of carpenter's tools. This presentation was made by Dr. R. C. Palmer, superintendent of the station, who expressed regret for all that Mr. and Mrs. Aitken are leaving.

Mrs. Aitken was the recipient of a lovely bouquet of roses. Some swam; there was a softball game; several times tug o' war was tried; and there were races for the children.

Supplementing the supper which each family brought, was ice cream, tea and coffee, supplied by the technical staff of the farm.

Mr. J. Miltimore was the capable convener of the affair.

Q How Can I Start An Investment Programme?

A By Planned Savings Through Life Insurance.

The basis of an investment plan in most cases should be life insurance. It meets in a sound and regular way the real objectives of investment — savings for the future, a retirement income and money for your family should anything happen to you. What is more, life insurance achieves these ends economically and without worry or risk. Discuss with a Mutual Life of Canada representative a life insurance investment plan for your future.

Bill Amm Takes Island Girl as Bride at Coast

Of great interest here and of concern throughout the province was the wedding of William Stevenson Amm, elder son of Mrs. C. J. Amm, West Summerland and the late Mr. Amm, to Grace Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dunison of Nanaimo, which took place in Canadian Memorial Chapel, Vancouver, on Monday, July 7, Rev. James G. Gorwill officiating.

Champagne-colored was the lovely gown of Chantilly lace with moulded bodice and bouffant skirt worn by the bride with matching jacket and gloves. Her only ornament was a cameo pin and she held a cascade of Talisman roses. To complete the attractive costume was a bitter sweet French flowered bonnet.

Miss Grace Patton as maid of honor was in a bouffant gown of mauve taffeta shantung with portrait neckline and matching coronet. Her bouquet of summer blossoms was styled somewhat the same as the bride's flowers.

Mr. Jack Amm was his brother's best man and Mr. Pat Tod ushered.

Following a reception held at the home of the groom's aunt, Mrs. H. W. Brighton, the newlywed couple left for a honeymoon trip by way of Seattle to Glacier National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Amm will make their home at Michel.

The groom graduated from University of British Columbia in civil engineering and is affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Mrs. C. J. Amm drove out to the coast with her son last week to be present at his wedding.

Trains to Abandon Side Trip to G.F.

Once the board of transport commissioners has given approval, the CPR trains which operate through the Okanagan and Boundary country will no longer contact the downtown section of Grand Forks.

A ten-year contract between the City of Grand Forks and the CPR was terminated on June 10 but the service will be continued until September, at which time the commissioners are expected to approve discontinuance.

Grand Forks city will save $3,000 yearly and train service on the run from Penticton to Nelson will probably be shortened by the time it takes now to service the downtown Grand Forks area.

WHAT IS THE COST OF A B OF M LOAN AT SIX PER CENT A YEAR?
Well, the answer's pretty surprising. If you borrow $100 from the Bank of Montreal, and repay it in twelve monthly instalments, the interest comes to just 27 cents a month. You pay interest only on what you still owe.
From time to time an occasion may arise when it's wise to borrow—so long as you can make fair terms. You may have some major purchase you wish to make, which will be much more economical if you pay cash. Or you may have doctor's and hospital bills to clear off. Or you may be offered a business opportunity that calls for a down payment. If you need money for a good purpose, and are in a position to repay out of income, you'll find helpful assistance at the B of M. avor Solly, the local manager, will be happy to talk over your needs with you—in complete confidence, of course. Lending money is his business, and he deals with all comers according to the bank's guiding principle: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M, you do not ask a favour." Adv.

Dumb Base-Running Loses Ball Game for Local Macs

It was just a question of which team played the worst baseball last Sunday at the athletic park as Vernon Canadians pulled themselves together a little sooner than Summerland Macs and won 9-7 in 11 innings which saw just about everything but smart ball.

Macs had no more right to lose last Sunday's ball game than they have any right to meet the New York Yankees. They hit Ike Jackson, Canadians starting pitcher all over the lot, and then went "hog-wild" on the paths to blot out scoring chance after scoring chance.

Although Macs were only debited with one error by a lenient score-keeper, yet other plays were billed as errors in the opinion of the fans. Two passed balls with men on third allowed two runs, while the winning score in the eleventh came across when Janicki's long fly ball went over Wally Day's head in left field. It was a long clout but most players with any outfield experience would have gathered it in easily.

Jomori and Alkin, however, were the main scapegoats of the game the latter pulling two "boners" on the paths which were inexcusable and the former getting picked off the bags twice when he wasn't quick enough to scuttle back to safety.

All in all, it was a poor show of baseball for the class of ball the O-M league is supposed to offer.

Macs started out in whirlwind fashion in the first frame when Taylor scored Gould and came across on Metcalf's blooper to left field. Vernon got one back in the second when Farynyuk scored from third on a passed ball, and tied up the game in the third when Jackson tallied on Janicki's hit.

Macs again took the lead in the third when Kato lined out a terrific triple, being scored as Metcalf's grounder was booted.

Ernie Rucks left the mound in the fifth when Vernon took a 5-3 lead. Jackson singled and stole second, while Munk drew a walk. Both runners scored on Janicki's well placed double and that was all for Rucks, Gil Jacobs going on the mound. Janicki completed the scoring on Metcalf's second passed ball.

Macs crept back in the fifth with Taylor scoring on Alkin's double. But the rally was nipped in the bud when Alkin put his head down and charged around second for third, never watching that Metcalf had been waved back to the same sack by Coach Bob Bleasdale.

The ball came in just in time to nip both runners off the sack and it was a double play.

The lid came off with a vengeance in the sixth, however, and Vernon's Ike Jackson was plastered all over the lot for his final appearance. At that, the Macs didn't really take advantage of the situation.

Jacobs started the affray with a double, Jomori singled to the infield as did Rucks and the bases were loaded. Day was sent in as a pinch-hitter and grounded to short, who made a perfect throw to the plate away ahead of Jacobs coming home. Brummet, however, was in too much of a hurry for a double play and dropped the ball.

Gould's grounder wasn't strong enough to escape Jomori being tapped at home. Kato dubbed one which was miscued at second, Rucks scoring and the bases were still loaded. Day came across as Kato was retired at second on Taylor's grounder and the rally ended with Metcalf flying out.

Dave White replaced Jackson on the mound and held Macs scoreless for the next five frames.

Vernon caught up in the seventh when Brummet's triple scored Munk and Janicki.

Only bright spot of the game came in the 9th when Janicki reached third with one away and the mighty Brummet coming to bat. Alkin pulled the hidden ball trick on the veteran hockey-baseball player and he walked off third talking to himself.

In the 11th, Munk, a right hand hitter, poled one deep along the right field line for two bases. Janicki pulled one to deep left field over Day's head for another double, scoring the winning run, Brummet lined another to deep left, far enough so that Janicki could score after the catch and that finished the game as the Macs failed to get any runners across, although they had two on board with one away in the last of the 11th.

R. McIndoe Handicap Trap Champion of BC

Rod McIndoe of Nelson, who appears at every important trap shoot held by the Summerland trap club, was winner of the provincial trap handicap championship at Victoria last Saturday, when he knocked over 49 clays in a 50-bird shoot.

He nosed out Tom Garner of Duncan who had won the high aggregate with an overall score of 188 out of 200. In turn, Garner defeated Vancouver's Jim Robertson who had 182x200, the latter having been crowned B.C. singles trap champion with a 98x100 score.

JOE MAXIM, successful defender of his light heavyweight title, exchanges punches with Sugar Ray Robinson in the seventh round of their recent battle in New York's Yankee Stadium. Although Robinson was ahead on both judges and the referee's scorecard he was unable to continue after the 13th, due to the terrific heat, giving Maxim a 14th round TKO.

Red Sox Alone in Top Spot As Osoyoos Swamped 29-6

Summerland Red Sox had a real field day at Osoyoos last Sunday as they tightened their hold on first place as Penticton was taking its second defeat of the season while playing at Vernon. Red Sox hammered out 24 hits and scored 29 runs while the Osoyoos Ball Hawks gathered in six tallies.

Bill Eyre batted 6 for 7 at Osoyoos to lead the offensive while Anderson pounded out a neat 500 spree with a double and a triple. Cristante rounded off the game in the 9th with a three-run homer as the Red Sox added insult to injury with an 8-run spurge.

Keiss was the starting Osoyoos hurler but was relieved in the third in favor of Engelsby. Keiss was put back in in the 8th after Red Sox had obtained five in the 6th and six in the 8th frame.

Cristante was the winning hurler, striking out 11 batters. He was wild, however, as he walked 10 Osoyoos batters. Runners went wild on the bases, as the Red Sox stole 12 and Osoyoos 11. Twelve Osoyoos errors were chalked down, while Red Sox only committed two miscues.

This win places Red Sox out in front as Penticton lost to Vernon last Sunday. The local lads are favored to repeat against Oliver next Sunday at the cantaloupe centre, while Osoyoos plays at Naramata and Kelowna travels to Penticton.

Two Hundred Register for Swim Classes

With the Rotary swim classes past their second instructional day, and more than 200 persons registered, residents of this district will have an opportunity to support this worthy cause this Saturday when the Rotary Swim Class Tag Day is being conducted.

Rotary took on this project with-out any opportunity to raise community funds for its continuance and is thus seeking support so that the young people of the district can be taught the rudimentary lessons of water safety.

More than 200 youngsters are registered now and instruction classes are being conducted each Wednesday afternoon throughout the summer months.

John Kitson and Ruth Klux are the chief instructors, and are being assisted by Shirley and Joyce Schumann, Bev and Doreen Fleming, Carol and Arlene Raincock, Marguerite and Irene Menu, Evelyn Washington, Mary Brlekovich, Joan Macdonald and Joan Dickson.

Miss Macdonald and Miss Dickson, along with Ruth Klux, took advantage of the instructors' course at Kelowna last week, conducted by the provincial water safety committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

It concluded last weekend and these three girls were available yesterday for the second class at Powell Beach.

This Saturday, youngsters in the swim classes will go throughout the district tagging citizens in order to provide funds for this project while other taggers will be on the

Vaults 12 Feet to New Valley Record

KELOWNA—Nurmi Hansen, who left his native Denmark a year ago to the day, celebrated this anniversary by toppling the Okanagan pole vault mark at 12 feet at the third annual KART track meet on Saturday, June 28. This is the first time any vaulter has bested the 12-foot mark in competition in the valley.

RAINIER'S SWEEP SERIES

Rainier Hi-Stars, touring high school baseball team from Seattle made a clean sweep of games last weekend. They defeated Penticton Athletics 7-6, and Kamloops Okonots 4-2, 6-3 and 5-0. Terry Brewer and Becroft pitched for Kamloops while Bowsfield lost for Penticton.

Fishing News ...

(By Bert Berry)

Okanagan Lake: Hasn't been too good for most fishermen; however, Charley Wharton did get 18 pounds of fish, the biggest one about 5 1/4 pounds, the other day.

Fish Lake Camp: Good reports on the upper lakes, Eddy Lloyd did well at Munro and some good catches reported at Deer Lake. Little Enns seems to only have small fish but Island is coming back with some 14 to 15 inches. Big Enns hasn't been producing at all. Fish Lake has been fair with same parties getting Kamloops on the flatfish.

Headwaters Camp: Some good fishing, especially at Croseent.

Glen Lake: A good late evening rise, but few being caught in the daytime.

Silver Lake: Still producing good catches, but it is an "off and on" lake; you have to take a chance when you go there.

Garnet Valley Dam: Not too hot here but some 9 and 10 inches in the creek.

Biggest news from local fishermen is from the north arm of Shuswap Lake where George Haddrell and Lou Lewis had very good luck; they warn that really strong tackle is needed.

George Pennington was up to Oyama Lake and brought back his limit of 1 1/2 to 2-pounders. It really must have been good.

MEN AND TREES

John Miller at twenty has already been logging for four years. Born in Port Alberni in the centre of the logging industry on the west coast of Vancouver Island, John works as a chaser, unhooking the choker when the turn on the logs reaches the spar tree. John's livelihood depends on a perpetual supply of trees. In British Columbia everyone is dependent, directly or indirectly, on the forest resource.

OPPORTUNITY

"The B.C. Fruit Growers' Association holds an option on certain land adjoining the Hope-Princeton-Kaleden crossroads. The Association has felt that it might be advisable and of value to the industry if fruit and fruit products were made available to the travelling public at this Junction.

For that purpose the Association would be prepared to sublet to a suitable applicant the site for the operation of a properly equipped and adequately constructed fruit stand, subject to final satisfactory arrangement with the Government. The experiment would be tentative for one year — the specifications of the building and the type of commodities sold to be subject to the supervision of B.C. Tree Fruits Limited.

Any one interested may apply to the Secretary of the Association, Mr. J. MacLennan, 1473 Water St., Kelowna, for further information."

Watches Ogopogo Splash About For About Hour and Half

Ogopogo, that elusive Okanagan sea serpent, has been seen again. Last Friday afternoon, shortly after one o'clock, Mrs. D. S. Skidmore was attracted by a peculiar object which she noticed about halfway across Okanagan Lake. Using a small telescope, she was able to watch Ogy in the water, splashing about and heading for the east shore. He was also proceeding in a general northerly direction, but was taking his time about it. For an hour and a half she was able to see the object splashing about but her telescope wasn't powerful enough to make out any details. As she was tending her baby she wasn't able to watch continually. Mrs. Skidmore lives near the hospital and has a commanding view of the lake. Ogopogo was about opposite the co-op packing-house when she observed him. "I couldn't make out any definite features, but I knew it wasn't a boat or a log", Mrs. Skidmore told The Review. She said Ogy was dark in color but couldn't distinguish coils. She believed the object she saw represented his head.

the alternative voting system for an increase in the number of rejected ballots, yet in the two plebiscites where a simple cross was all that was needed the number of rejected ballots was greater than in the alternative voting. Main delay at the coast in final counting has come about through the absentee system and not the alternative voting system, observers claim. In one riding, a complete recount of first choice ballots had to be made and then the absentee ballots counted. In checking absentees, all candidates' agents have an opportunity to see the signature of the voter checked against his original signature on his registration card, and this takes a great deal of time. Complete counting will not be concluded until next week, it is feared, while in one or two ridings a recount may be demanded. In Similkameen where the result favored Social Credit Pentecostal minister Rev. Harry Francis by a small margin, it is likely a recount will be considered. One of the main points at issue is the use of pen and ink on ballots instead of the pencils provided in the polling booths. There is no provision in the elections act which allows the use of other than lead pencils for marking of ballots, it is stated. A large number of ballots throughout the province were marked with ink.

Discussion at Ottawa on Export of Apples Told To Growers by Garrish

Little likelihood that there will be any export of apples allowed to the United Kingdom this year, was voiced Tuesday evening at Penticton by BCFGA President A. R. Garrish when he gave the southern district council an insight into the recent visit of top industry officials to Ottawa.

Mr. Garrish was accompanied by A. K. Loyd, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. general manager. In the east they obtained an interview with four top cabinet ministers, Mayhew, Howe, Gardiner and Winters, presenting the case of the apple growers of Canada.

This presentation followed a session with representatives of apple producers in Nova Scotia, Ontario and Quebec, and a meeting with directors of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Fred Nixon Municipal Clerk, Dies

Tomorrow, a man who has done as much if not more than any one individual towards the development of this municipality on sound, financial and economic lines, is being laid to rest in the Anglican cemetery.

Frederick James Nixon, passed away in Penticton hospital on Tuesday, July 15, after 77 years, most of which were spent in Summerland as municipal clerk.

Summerland's Good Citizen of 1948, the late Mr. Nixon was considered one of the most authoritative municipal clerks in the province and his opinion on municipal matters was highly regarded.

Born in Gateshead-on-Tyne, England, March 30, 1875, the late Mr. Nixon came to Canada in 1906, settling in the Summerland district shortly afterwards.

He entered the municipal office service in 1910 but joined the Canadian Army and went overseas in World War I. Returning to the Okanagan in 1919 he rejoined the municipal office staff as municipal clerk, a position he retained until June 1, 1949, when his resignation became effective.

It was on June 9, 1948, that the late Mr. Nixon left the municipal office on leave of absence, and he entered the hospital shortly afterwards. In January his leg was removed, as it was found that he suffered from an ailment similar

Everything Set for Gala Regatta At Powell Beach Next Wednesday

Besides 20 swim events, there will be novelty stunts and attraction galore at the second annual Summerland Regatta at Powell Beach early next Wednesday evening, July 23, John Kitson, in charge of the show, has promised.

Margaret Hutton, North American rhythmic swim champion, is coming here from Kelowna with a small group of her rhythmic swim class and expects to put on a pleasing demonstration.

War canoes are coming from Kelowna and Penticton to compete with a girls' crew which has started to train in Summerland, the first time for several years that this community has entered this spectacular race.

A war canoe was borrowed from Penticton and the girls have started to train.

Entries are rolling in for most events especially in the classes for 12 and under. There are not so many older boys and girls willing to compete, as yet, John Kitson reports.

Kelowna and Penticton are sending swim crews, while it is hoped to have competitors from Oliver, Osoyoos and Naramata, as well.

One of the novelty features will be a comic life saving stunt involving Ruth and Lori Klitz, along with Regatta Manager John Kitson.

Treasure Hunt Popular
The treasure hunt was a popular stunt last year and is being enlarged upon this year. The entire beach will be honeycombed with treasure with tokens in a wide

Six Bands at Vernon Concert

Six bands, with more than a hundred musicians, joined in a massed bands concert at Polson Park in Vernon last Sunday afternoon.

It was sweltering hot but a large crowd was on hand to enjoy this feature of the Vernon Diamond Jubilee celebration, with a two-hour show from 3 to 5 p.m.

Summerland, Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon, Enderby and Salmon Arm bands were on hand and each of the six conductors, including Summerland's Herb Pohlmann, took their turns in conducting the musicians.

Due to other activities, including the rush of cherry picking in the orchards, only 17 bandsmen from Summerland were able to make the trip.

range of values being hidden. In all, $15 will be given away and each token will be worth at least an ice cream cone.

John Kitson

Refreshment booths and other specialties have been arranged, while the Summerland Band will be staging a concert on the beach, commencing at 8 o'clock, directly after the water events.

Last year the regatta was staged in the afternoon but this year the two-hour program will commence at 8 o'clock to allow more adults an opportunity of witnessing the events.

Priests are Rescued in Plane Crash

Two Catholic priests from Detroit, Pilot J. LaVoy and his passenger, Vincent Myrick, are resting in Penticton hospital thankful to be alive after a plane crash near Shingle Creek road west of Summerland on Monday afternoon.

Their plane, heading west out of Penticton airport, was caught in a downdraft ten minutes after takeoff and crashed in a draw between one and two miles west of Brent's Lake.

Myrick, although suffering from shock, was otherwise uninjured. He took a northwest bearing and headed out on foot, reaching the experimental station yesterday afternoon.

There he met a visiting couple who rushed him to the Penticton airport. There he joined an RCAF rescue plane and guided it to the area where their plane had crashed.

A rescue party was organized by RCMP in Penticton and set out about 5 o'clock last night. The party was guided by the plane which circled the crash spot, dipping its wings, until the rescue was effected.

Pilot J. LaVoy has a broken ankle and a cut on his forehead, the only results of the crash.

The plane has been wrecked completely.

Late yesterday afternoon, RCMP Constable R. W. Green was ordered to organize a rescue party and he alerted several persons with a good knowledge of the country west of Summerland. The police decided it would be quicker to go in from the southern side and cancelled the Summerland plan.

Governors Choose Officers for Sales Agency

Arthur R. Garrish was re-elected chairman of the board and Arthur K. Loyd was re-elected president and general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. at the annual meeting of Tree Fruits board of governors last week.

It was announced that W. Darroch will be secretary-treasurer of the company, replacing George E. Brown, now manager of the CFD office in Vancouver. C. A. Hayden is again secretary of the board of governors.

Mr. Garrish will remain as chairman until the beginning of 1953 when the planning committee's recommendations that the board of governors appoint a chairman from among their own numbers goes into effect.

W. R. Powell of Summerland and Albert Millar of Oliver have been governors since the plan was introduced in 1932. Other governors this year are L. G. Butler, East Kelowna; Reg Duncan, Penticton; Tom Hill, Coldstream; John S. Hall, Jr., Creston; Tom Towgood, Osoyoos; James Snowsall, Glenmore; Lt-Col. J. Ellis Wood, Salmon Arm; and George A. Barrat, Kelowna, named by the B.C. Fruit Board.

Mr. Powell is named vice-president and heads the governors' executive, which will also consist of Messrs. Millar, Hill and Butler.

William McElheron is Secretary-treasurer Of Summerland Co-op

William McElheron of Penticton has been named secretary-treasurer of the Summerland Co-operative Growers Assn., President Eric Tait announced this week following a directors' meeting.

He will take over his new duties on August 1 from the present incumbent, Miss Bertha Bristow, who has been with the Summerland Co-op since it commenced operations.

Miss Bristow will remain as a member of the office staff.

The new Co-op official was formerly employed as accountant with Clarkson Ltd., Vancouver, a division of the CGIE, but has latterly been associated with LeRoy Appliance Co. Ltd. in Penticton. More recently, he accepted a post as manager of the SS Steamour for the Gyro Club of Penticton, of which group he is an active member.

Mr. McElheron is no stranger to local circles as he has been a member of the Summerland Band for the past few seasons. He is also a member of the Esquires orchestra in Penticton.

TABULATE HEATING COST
Electric heating is to be installed in the new municipal office on a separate metre, council was informed last week. The exact cost of heating the office can then be tabulated.

Okanagan's First Premier

W. A. C. Bennett, Social Credit MLA for South Okanagan, the first candidate in the B.C. election on June 12 to be elected on the first count, is today the premier-elect of British Columbia. On Tuesday he was chosen by the 18 other Social Credit members elected to be their leader in the legislative assembly at Victoria. It is understood that Premier Johnson will ask the Lieutenant-Governor to call on Mr. Bennett to form the new government. The compulsion will be taken out of the hospital insurance, Mr. Bennett has indicated, while it is expected the present system of co-insurance will be substituted by a $1 per day rate similar to that in vogue in Ontario. The present premium rates for hospital insurance will likely be reduced, the difference to be made up from general revenue of the province.

Mr. Bennett received the nod from his fellow members on the first count when four other members allowed their names to stand for the leadership. They were Peer V. Paynter, Revelstoke; J. Allen Reid, Salmon Arm; P. R. Gagliardi, Kamloops; and T. J. Irwin, Delta.

It is unlikely that a session will be called before late fall, so that new cabinet ministers will be given a chance to get some acquaintance with their new posts. Likely to become minister of health and welfare and provincial secretary is Mrs. Tilly Rolston, who polled more votes than any other Social Credit candidate. Mrs. Rolston joined W. A. C. Bennett in crossing the floor of the legislature in the spring of 1951 when they refused to continue as Coalitionists.

Mr. Bennett has intimated at the coast that the post of attorney-general will be filled by an independent lawyer, well-qualified, who has no party affiliations at all.

Final standings, apart from two recounts in Similkameen and Saanich, were as follows: Social Credit 19, CCF 18, Liberals 6, Progressive Conservatives 4, Labor 1.

More Than Half Million Boxes of Apples Estimated for This Area; Seven Million for BC

British Columbia's apple crop will approximate seven million boxes, and in the Summerland district McIntosh and Newtons are expected to run as high as they did in the record yield year of 1950, the horticultural branch of the B.C. Department of Agriculture has announced this week.

Nearly 125,000 boxes of apples more than 1951 are expected in Summerland, as the estimate for this year is 565,000 boxes, while in 1943 the crop ran to 443,843 boxes. In the Okanagan alone, the 1952 apple crop will be 6,353,635 boxes, compared with last year's 4,717,052. Over all B.C., this year's crop will be 6,979,885 boxes compared with 5,100,373 last year.

After last year's bumper crop, the B.C. pear yield is reduced somewhat, but Summerland is expected to yield one of the biggest crops of the entire Okanagan, equalled only by Penticton area. Kelowna and Oliver-Osoyoos will have a pear yield of 100,000 boxes each, while Summerland and Penticton are expected to produce 125,000 boxes each.

Last season the pear crop in Summerland was 133,776 and in Penticton it was 157,379 boxes.

The Okanagan's total pear crop will be 626,500 boxes compared with last year's bumper crop 672,901 boxes. Crabapples will show a decided increase over last year, being reckoned at 127,950 boxes compared with 79,145 in 1951.

The horticultural news letter reveals that some light hail fell in the rainstorms at the end of June, especially in Summerland.

"There was little serious damage done but some apples may be cradled down as a result. The Westbank district suffered a somewhat more severe storm on July 5, covering some of the upper benches in the northwest part of the district.

"Peaches, apples and pears are continuing to size very well."

Yellow Transparent and Red June apples started in Koromocoo last week. Size of apples in Penticton area, especially McIntosh, is exceptional for this time of the year and many are showing considerable color.

Oliver reports a "very high percentage" of splits in Bing cherries which were at their peak when the rains came. Lamberts were not "too badly split" by the rain.

In Kelowna, Lambert cherries are in good condition and prospects are for a satisfactory crop of good quality. Apples continue to size extremely well except winter-injured trees; winter injury, presumably from the 1949-50 winter, is still manifesting itself.

Hail fell in the northern part of the Vernon district July 5 causing some damage to approximately 800 acres of tree fruits, as well as to the tomato crop in the Bella Vista area.

Hail also fell in Armstrong district, damaging about 80 acres of orchard crops more severely than in the Vernon area.

After the hail, temperatures fell to the freezing point in low-lying areas of the northern part of the Okanagan.

Late Delivery Penalty Plan Is Suggested

Responsibility for "condition claims" on McIntosh, Delicious and Jonathans will be assessed to the grower, this season, if the apples in question are not delivered to the packinghouse within the recommended period of time.

This is one of the recommendations of the better-fruit committee, appointed jointly by the Okanagan Federated Shippers' Assn. and the BCFGA, to ensure that B.C. apples are delivered to the trade in prime condition.

This "recommended period" will be set by the inspection branch and the district horticulturist, in cooperation with B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., it is announced. For the present, the recommendation is confined to McIntosh, Delicious and Jonathan apples only.

Enforcement of a 72-hour hauling program for McIntosh and Delicious is also urged by the better fruit committee. It is planned that the grower would accept all responsibility for any claims on fruit not delivered within 72 hours after picking and by requesting packinghouses to produce records of deliveries on any lot in question.

These recommendations have been discussed with the BCFGA central executive and the shippers' executive.

Protest Increase In Phone Rates

Following a committee meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Assn. in Kelowna yesterday, the president, Reeve C. E. Bentley, of Summerland, announced that a submission will be made to the hearing of the Public Utilities Commission on the application of the Okanagan Telephone Co. for an increase in rates.

This submission is a protest of the application and an endeavor to keep the rates at the same level before the PUC granted a temporary 15 percent increase.

A. D. C. Washington of Penticton compiled the brief, after Campbell, Imrie & Shankland, accountancy firm, provided statistics. Mr. Washington will present the case for the municipalities of the Okanagan.

ON ADVISORY BOARD
T. S. Manning, as a member of Summerland school board, has accepted an appointment as a member of the Civil Defense advisory board.

Community Get-Together

Such affairs bring the people together, they have a chance to meet their neighbors and friends, discuss their common problems and become better acquainted. We should have more of them each year.

This was the statement of a businessman to The Review this week in discussing the excellent evening's entertainment staged by the Summerland Board of Trade last Saturday in connection with the choosing and crowning of Miss Summerland, 1952.

Miss Jacquie Trafford, Summerland's 1951 scholarship winner, and a young lady with poise and dignity along with natural charm and figure, was selected Miss Summerland for 1952 and was crowned in a simple yet impressive and colorful ceremony which attracted a large crowd of local residents.

The new queen can now represent the district at functions such as the Penticton and District Peach Festival.

Next week, there is another community endeavor which will provide an equal opportunity for people to get together, exchange viewpoints, and partake of some excellent entertainment.

We refer to the second annual regatta which is being staged at Powell Beach next Wednesday in the early evening. A gala program of water sports featuring some of the big events which will be seen at the international Kelowna regatta later in the summer has been arranged.

John Kitson and his crew working for the Youth Centre, regatta sponsors, have arranged entertainment which will please all members of the family. Proceeds go to a worthy cause, so a bumper attendance will be greatly appreciated.

Agriculture Must Have Help

There is a great deal of speculation throughout many parts of Canada and in many stratas of life as to the possibility of Canada embarking on some program whereby she can restore the export markets which were such a lucrative part of her economy prior to World War II.

This is especially important to the Okanagan apple industry, as in normal years a large proportion of small-sized apples can find no other ready market but in the United Kingdom.

The fish industry, cheese producers and many other agricultural industries in Canada are feeling the pinch of restricted markets. Most of these industries find themselves solely confined to the North American continent and some cannot ship beyond the borders of this country.

For a time it was mainly the B.C. apple industry which was hammering at Ottawa's doors, with little result, but now that many other agricultural industries find themselves in the same boat, the weight of their combined voices cannot long be ignored by Ottawa.

There are three main possibilities being talked about. Latest is the possibility that Britain may free the pound and, if so, will ask the US and Canada for a substantial drawing account.

But this theory is only being hinted, and there is little ground for belief that Britain intends to take this course of action. If she did then Canada could make certain that surplus agricultural products found their way to Britain's tables as part of the drawing account dollar loan.

There is little likelihood that anything will come of the CCF suggestion that Canada waive the $26 million interest and capital repayment which Britain will make in December on its $1,200 million loan. The British have started their repayments and intend to continue them in the same spirit of British determination which has carried them over many another rough spot.

There is an alternative, however, which Ottawa should consider and take some action soon. That is, to rebate some of the interest payment to the UK in order that surplus Canadian agricultural goods may be purchased by that country.

It's actually using our own money to purchase our own goods, in a sense, but there seems little alternative when all other markets are blocked by dollar currency deficiency and farmers in this country have their back to the wall and are desperate to obtain markets for their surplus production.

With Okanagan apples sizing rapidly, there won't be a great number of export-sized apples available from the 1952 crop, but Nova Scotia has a bumper crop, with no place to ship them now that the Old Country market is closed, as the rest of Canada doesn't want the small Nova Scotia apples.

But next year and the years after, the Okanagan will probably have a large proportion of exportable apples and if we are to have any stability in this industry, a long-range program must be laid down.

Until such time that our former buyers are able to purchase on world markets without restrictions on dollars or pound sterling, then Ottawa must find a solution for the exportable surplus of agricultural products which will exist each year in this country.

We do not favor government purchases of commodities to keep up price levels as a normal practice, but until world conditions become normal then conditions in our agricultural sections of this country will not return to normal, either.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

The first sight of a lake, particularly a new lake, always thrills me.

When I was a kid it was the greatest event of the summer holidays to get away from the hot, dusty, open farming country back into the wooded hills, and through their cool shade to the lake resort where we always spent a fortnight. To see its blue water shimmering through the tree trunks was a promise of so many joys to come—boating, fishing, swimming, or just sitting in the shade eating store biscuits and guzzling raspberry vinegar—that it was always too exciting for silence. We used to make the welkin—whatever it was—ring with happy shouts as we unloaded in front of our cottage, and the hills around echoed the shouts again.

Since then I've made quite a collection of lakes, and all have been delightful in their own way. Except one—and may I be forgiven for saying that exception is around Summerland?

Not far from that lake where we used to go as children was another, somewhat larger—it would be over a mile across—and several long—called Fish Lake. The fishing was very good there, too; in both these lakes we used to catch pike-perch and pike of such size that a twelve-inch one would be rated small.

When first we came to the Okanagan and heard of Fish Lake here, we naturally connected it with the other Fish Lake we had known, both as to size of lake and size of fish caught there. So when we actually visited it for the first time . . . . .

But many others were wholly satisfactory. The famous fishing lakes of the Qu'Appelle Valley, which we reached after a hot, hard hiking trip in the middle of summer, looked wonderful when we first saw them. So did Lake Ontario when the old Cayuga with us on board cruised out of the Niagara River and on its broad surfaces bound for our first sight of Toronto the Good with all its possibilities.

So did the little lake beneath the limestone cliffs on Vancouver Island's Forbidden Plateau, which we came upon after so long and steep a climb that we immediately downed packs and plunged in for a refreshing swim. It was refreshing all right; the water was like ice, though it was July and warm, and we shivered all through the ensuing evening, and well on into the night, before the chill left us.

Many other lakes in British Columbia—Okanagan, Arrow, Kootenay, Shuswap, Vaseaux, Christine, Big and Little Eneas, Headwaters, Whitehead and countless others of unknown name beside the roads to Merritt and Kamloops and Revelstoke, have all given me that old thrill. Now that I have become adjusted to it, I even enjoy coming out on Fish Lake each time I visit it.

So many lakes. Waskesiu with the sunset turning its water mauve and gold as the truckload of fire-fighters groaned down the slope to its shore. And afterwards, when the lake was just a silver blur in the twilight through the screen-door of the cabin and a mouse climbed in zig-zag pattern back and forth across that screen.

Candle Lake from the air, with the prop-wash of the old-fashioned, pusher-type Vickers flying boat fanning my helmet, and the foamy furrow cut in its surface as we swished down to a landing, just

THIRTY YEARS AGO

July 21, 1922. Summerland suffered $70,000 loss when the Summerland Fruit Union warehouse building, icehouse, merchandise, boxes, box paper, packing house and office equipment burned last week as well as the CPR wharf, car slip, Dominion Express building and stock yard. The pre-cooling plant, the property of the provincial government is a total loss, also. The theory is that the fire may have been started by short circuiting of electric light wires near the fan motor under the pre-cooling plant. When the vault of the Fruit Union building was opened after the fire the contents were found to be in excellent condition, not even the pine shelving being charred.

Blackberries preserved more than 32 years ago were opened recently by Mr. and Mrs. O. Atkins and were found to be in as good state of preservation as if bottled last year. The fruit had been put up by Mr. Atkins' mother.

T. B. Young has left for his Alberta ranch where he went to attend the registration of about 20 head of purebred Hereford cattle. Mr. Young also has about 60 head of grade cattle.

A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday when Miss Clara Antoinette Blothen was quietly united in marriage with Mr. Sherwood Gordon Davis, both of Summerland. Rev. W. A. Alexander officiating at the home of the bride, Miss Florence Blothen was bridesmaid, and Miss Emma Davies, maid of honor. The groom was supported by Mr. Ernest Bennett. Charles Wharton has his sister and her husband visiting him from their home in Long Island, N.Y.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

July 22, 1927. George Craig, foreman of the fruit packing warehouse for the Fruit Union and Co-operative Growers for the past fifteen years, has been appointed to take charge of one of the Kelowna packing houses. "With his long training and experience there is no doubt that progress awaits him in our neighboring town."

Lurid flames lighting up the sky to the south gave Summerland the fear that part of Penticton must be burning up Thursday night. In reality the fire was a forest blaze which caught up the Indian reserve east of Main street along the banks of Ellis Creek.

Mrs. Wm. Johnston and Mrs. George Doherty motored to Vernon, then took the train to Calgary to motor back to Summerland with Mrs. Johnston's brother, Mr. H. A. Lindsay, and report a magnificent trip home over scenic roads.

United Congregation Looks Backward On Nearly Fifty Years of Church Work

(By Alex Steven) (Chapter 2—Continued From Last Week)

Meanwhile the Presbyterians were busy consolidating their position under the aggressive leadership of Alex and John Steuart, who lost little time in having the late W. R. E. (Billy) Nelson draw plans of a proposed church. Indeed it only recently came to light that such plans had been the work of this skilled artisan.

The first sod in the construction of the present St. Andrew's church was turned in the fall of 1909. The movement was practically voluntary, save that of the supervising contractor, Mr. Harry Tomlin. He maintained at the time, and has never been known to change that opinion, that voluntary labor was never satisfactory, since such volunteering souls always appeared to get in the way of his fellows, and were seldom on the job at the time they were needed the most.

Indeed, according to our contracting friend, there was one outstanding exception who proved himself the value of any other two on the job, and his name was McKenzie. Doesn't it strike you as strange that this very name should continue to loom up in the spiritual welfare of the church?

It was not until the following year, 1910, that the construction work actually reached that stage where it could be used for public worship. Even in its final details when a completed temple presenting a complete realization of hopes long deferred had at last become an actuality, still it had to have its growing pains. Dissension had been growing in the ranks, the result that more than one family had left the church, some of whom never returned. All this was due to the tactless attitude of the minister, Rev. James Hood, who eventually gave up the work and accepted a call to a small church near Victoria.

Mr. Hood was succeeded in 1912 by the Rev. Charles H. Daly of Almont, Ont., a man of entirely different temperament and zeal, who throughout his four years' pastorate left an abiding impression on the minds of his people. Of a truth it might be stated that he had all the qualities of Enoch, inasmuch as he continually walked with his God, and never at any time allowed his right hand to know what his left hand did.

His energy was amazing. During the period of his incumbency construction of the new railway line was in progress, and camps were established every six or seven miles apart where men of various nations were housed and fed.

Mr. Daly would conduct his morning service in St. Andrew's church, have his lunch, and then set out on foot for the main camp at Faulder, conduct a service in the cook-house while the bulk of the men maintained a card game at the other end of the room. Then, having delivered his benediction, he would retrace his steps homeward, have his dinner and once more set out on foot to conduct his evening service in the lower town, and all this done Sunday after Sunday without the use of a horse, a bicycle or a car, while many times the roadways were ankle deep in dust.

There is really no necessity on my part to enlarge on this, since the man has left our planet to enjoy a rich reward. He was wont to maintain that the work involved was not enough, and he felt the urge for greater service, and left our midst to pursue the Master's service along the construction of the Canadian National Railways.

In later years he made one or two return visits to the district and delivered a heart-warming sermon and expressed the pleasure that was his in being amongst us. Of such rare occasions I have visions, of the man descending from the pulpit not for the purpose of exchanging pleasantries with old friends, but taking a quiet stand under each one of the memorial plaques, communing as it were with the dead, those crusading hero friends of his who a year or so previously had gone forth from St. Andrew's church to lay with their lives the last full ounce of devotion upon the altar of liberty.

After Mr. Daly's departure, the church for a time had no duly ordained minister.

In 1918 there was obtained an interim supply in the presence of one Rev. W. H. Bates who was trying to recuperate from a lengthy illness. The work, however, proved too much for him and eventually he had to abandon the task and seek a lower altitude.

He was succeeded in 1921 by the Rev. W. A. Alexander from a field in Manitoba, while a war-torn nation was trying hard to heal its war wounds and recapture lost spiritual values.

At this time church union was fast becoming a live issue in spiritual circles. At the outset of this fragmentary narrative I had hoped that I would have been able to dovetail much of the church work maintained in the lower town under the number of ministers that had come and gone since St. Andrew's church had come into existence, but there were so many of them such as Hardy, Armitage, Henderson, Livingstone, Wilson, and others, that I found I could not do justice to them, and confined my thoughts to men under whom I had worshipped, so if any of you feel that my effort shows a bias, you will surely pardon and understand the cause.

Hail Research First by Any Government Starts in Valley

First hail control research by any government in the world is being undertaken in the Okanagan Valley this summer. C. A. Hayden, BCFGA public relations officer, has announced from Vernon.

Those undertaking this research will be the Dominion meteorological service, the National Research Council, the BCFGA, the BCFG Mutual Hail Insurance company and the provincial forestry service. R. H. Douglas, of the meteorological service, recently conferred with BCFGA executive members, including Colin McKenzie of Summerland, and explained that there is no precedent for actual data upon which action can be designed, and that the first requisite will be observations during the hail storm season in the Okanagan.

These observations will record the nature of hail storms, their direction and, if possible, their area of origin, together with the cloud formations and changes, the temperatures before the storms and various other observations that will enable the meteorological division to arrive at some forms of conclusions which can be probed later for accuracy and reliability.

Mr. Douglas agreed to draft a simple form on which the observations could be recorded. Mr. Northan helped in this drafting.

The BCFGA will approach Dr. C. D. Orchard, deputy minister of forests, Victoria, and will invite the co-operation of his division through its look-out and other observers, in gathering this information in an area extending from Kamloops, Salmon Arm and Revelstoke south to Princeton and Keremeos on the west and through the Okanagan to Osoyoos on the east.

Potential Prevention Projects When asked what might be done in a concrete way to prevent hail clouds from projecting their damaging missiles into the orchards and other crop areas, Mr. Douglas offered two possible prevention methods.

One involved the use of a powerful airplane that would penetrate the hail cloud and discharge chemicals that would dissolve the hail into rain. This has not been established, but is a possibility. It is also expensive and would require a 24-hour crew in readiness.

The other method is a ground generator, including a propane or other gas container and a chemicals container, including silver iodide.

This ground generator service would be simple and not costly. The generator would cost probably around $25 and the operation would cost about $4 an hour. It would be a handy combination and there could be many of these, against one airplane.

But again, there has been no practical test and the efficiency of the device has to be tested.

Mr. Douglas said that if anyone wanted to try out this ground device, he would be glad to co-operate.

"We have to investigate the clouds, and particularly what falls out of them," Mr. Douglas said. "I am here to find out all I can regarding the problem, see if anything can be done now and whether, possibly, anything can be done later. Where the borderline is, we do not know. That's what we won't find out. We are looking for the breeding grounds. Control involves dumping moisture out of the cloud in the form of rain, not hail, before the cloud reaches the orchard area."

The BCFGA will seek the co-operation of its members in obtaining observations. The forms will be distributed to the association's locals and it is expected that there will be a useful response. One reason for this optimism is that many growers make weather observations of their own, as is the habit of the three executive members and the two hail insurance company officers who attended the conference with Mr. Douglas.

Mr. Douglas was assigned to visit the Okanagan under authority of Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transport, Ottawa, to whom the BCFGA had applied for research into hail control.

Jake's Taxi Awarded School Bus Contracts

Jake's Taxi has been awarded school bus runs to Meadow Valley and Greta Ranch, having submitted the lowest tenders for both projects.
Commencing with the new school term in September, this local concern will undertake the two trips daily before and after school to Meadow Valley, a distance of 19 miles, for 12 cents a mile or $2.28.
F. Maddocks, who had the contract for this run in 1951-52, quoted 14 cents per mile.
The single run to Greta Ranch before school was quoted by the successful tenderer at 11 cents per mile, or $1.78 per trip.
Unsuccessful tenderer was Vet's Taxi which quoted 12½ cents per mile.
These tenders were received before the deadline of 12 o'clock noon on Monday, July 14.
Another tender was received while the school board meeting was in progress that evening. It was declared to be higher than the other quotations and was not received in time, in any case.
The name of this tenderer was withheld from the press.

Rotary Seats Officers, Heads Of Committee

S. A. MacDonald received the gavel of office of the Rotary Club of Summerland as the incoming president last Friday evening at the Nu-Way Annex when C. J. Huddleston briefly installed the new officers for 1952-53.
He takes over from Reid Johnston who reviewed briefly some of the accomplishments of the year which included bringing the Trail Choir and the UBC Players to Summerland.
Attendance was one of the chief interests of the retiring president and during his tenure of office, the local Rotary club led the district on several occasions.

Associated with Mr. MacDonald in handling Rotary club affairs will be Vice-president Mel Ducommun, who is in charge of club service.
Directors are Ken Boothe, in charge of vocational service; Ivor Solly, community service; and Alan Cross, international service.
Secretary is Ryan Lawley, and the continuing secretary-treasurer is Roy F. Angus.
President MacDonald presented members with their particular duties for the year, following being a complete listing:
Attendance, Harry Brown; classifications, Gordon Smith; club bulletin, George Perry; fellowship, Don Fisher; Lorne Perry; magazine, Clarke Wilkin; membership, Harvey Wilson; program, Mel Ducommun; public information, Dr. R. C. Palmer; Rotary information, Walter M. Wright; buyer-seller relations, Ross McLachlan; competitor relations, Fred Bedford; employer-employee relations, Vern Charles; trade associations, J. W. Mitchell, crippled children, Harold Smith; swim classes, Ivor Solly, T. B. Young, George Perry; student loan, C. J. Bleasdale; traffic safe-

Attractions of Short Route to North Told to Kiwanis Club by N. O. Solly

One of the first parties of local travellers to witness the preparations for a temporary bridge across the Parsnip river to hook up the John Hart highway with the new route to Dawson City was made up of Mr. and Mrs. N. O. Solly, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollock of Kelowna, and formerly of Summerland, to Marsh Lake, Yukon Territory, on a grizzly bear hunt last month.
Mr. Solly, in a descriptive talk on his long jaunt into the northern country, gave Kiwanians an insight into the country and its prospects when he addressed the local club on the eve of the highway opening.
This wasn't the first occasion Mr. Solly has visited the north country, as he has been to Whitehorse and other parts of the Yukon on three previous occasions.
In 1947, on his last previous trip, the name Leduc was just being bandied about as the possible site of a new oil discovery.
The Alaska highway Mr. Solly described as a superb road for the first 250 miles. "It's hard to realize it's not paved", he declared. The scenery as far north as Fort Nelson, the first 300 miles, is typical of the low hill country east of the Rockies and is not impressive, but improves farther north, as the road enters the McKenzie drainage system.
He described a hot springs, with the water at 110 degrees F., just a short distance off the main highway, but as it isn't publicized few persons know of its whereabouts.
Whitehorse is a "boom town" today, he declared, with the military providing most of the revenue, supplemented by the tourists and mining. In 1930 when he first visited that city, its population was 300. Now it boasts 3000 population.

On the grizzly hunt, Frank Pollock shot two grizzlies, and Mr. Solly declared he never saw so much game in such a short space of time in any other place.
Describing the great advantage to B.C. of the new road via the temporary Parsnip river bridge, Mr. Solly declared: "You will see Alaskan cars in their hundreds coming out this fall."
From Summerland to Dawson Creek via Edmonton the distance is 1,400 miles. Via Prince George and the John Hart highway the distance is only about 750 miles, he pointed out. The Okanagan highway is now part of the main route to Alaska.
He paid tribute to the boards of trade, and the Okanagan-Cariboo Alaska Trail Assn. for their persistence in maintaining the necessity for this shorter route.
"I wouldn't like to live there but I certainly like to be a tourist", was Mr. Solly's summation of the North country. The remoteness, the distance from civilization and the long daylight all summer he felt are some of the lure to the north.
If a person is cold and hungry a door is always open as the north doesn't have any use for keys, he added.
Mr. Solly also reminded Kiwanians that Whitehorse is closer to Russia than it is to Vancouver, which is another reason why the importance of the shorter route has been stressed. He urged his fellow members to investigate the attractions of this new route to the north as soon as possible.

Ontario Tourist Asks If This is Vancouver

Maybe it was the heat, or maybe the tourist was pulling somebody's leg.
Be that as it may be, a tourist from Ontario, heading south, stopped at Durnin Motors on Tuesday afternoon and inquired from one of the staff members:
"Is this Vancouver?"
The only explanation from the Ontario visitor was that he knew Vancouver was near the water.
What price fame?

Notice To Growers And Retailers

Complaints based on poor quality of fruit delivered to tourists and others by road-side fruit stands and retailers have been so numerous in recent seasons that it has been deemed necessary by the Board to issue the following regulation:

"The Sale by retailers or at road-side or orchard stands of tree fruits not equal in quality to grades established under the Fruit, Vegetables and Honey Act is prohibited."

Road-side stands and retail stores will be inspected from time to time during the coming season in order to see that this regulation is complied with.

It is hoped that all dealers will co-operate in the effort to see that better quality fruit is offered as this is a matter of great importance to all growers and to the reputation of British-Columbia fruit.

Wind Drives Beach Party Inside House

The annual beach party of the Lakeside Women's Auxiliary was held on Monday evening, July 15, at the home of Mrs. Don Tait. It was complete with "hot dogs" as is the custom, but although a bonfire was all ready for heating them, the wind drove the members inside.

During the evening Mrs. J. St. Dennis told the meeting that she will be leaving to make her home in Westbank and Mrs. Lawrence Charles accepted her position as secretary.

Sixteen members and three guests were present, and a short business session preceded the social evening.

Grandparents Await News of Lost Boy Meet Old-Time Friend

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dulmage of Medicine Hat were sitting in the Three Gables hotel at Penticton last weekend anxiously awaiting news of their sixteen year old grandson who had left his home without saying that he was going. His mother had come as far as Kelowna without finding him, so the grandparents had set out on a search.

It was a comforting coincidence when a friend of almost lifetime standing, Rev. H. W. Ellis, came into the lounge, and great relief when the message arrived that the boy was safely back at his Alberta home.

Mr. Ellis, who had been taking the service at the Baptist church in Penticton, brought the Dulmages to Summerland to spend the weekend at his home here, and they left for the prairies at the beginning of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. M. Guernsey and their two sons have returned from a week spent at Little River.

WEEKLY NEWSPAPER EDITOR FROM CALIFORNIA VISITS

Dave and Florence McInnes have as visitors this week their relatives from California, Mr. and Mrs. Moton Holt of Riverdale. Mrs. Holt and Mrs. McInnes are sisters. They had not seen each other for many years till last winter when they visited the Holts in Riverdale and got their promise to make a return visit this summer.

Moton and Violet Holt are editors and publishers of three small weekly newspapers in California. They have edited the Riverdale Free Press since 1934. Moton Holt is no stranger to British Columbia as he was here in 1927 when he married Violet Stephenson of Armstrong.

Legion Auxiliary Plans July Picnic

Regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion had a small attendance on Thursday evening, July 10, probably due to the busy season or to the fact that it was the first of the meetings to be held in the evening as is the summer custom.

Plans were made for the picnic to be held on July 27 and refreshments were served before dispersal.

Senior Girls Now At Camp Sorec

Thirty-six senior girls from Princeton, Hedley, Keremeos, Cawston, Oliver, Penticton, Naramata and Summerland entered Camp Sorec for summer camp under the guidance of Miss Jean Spiller, girls' work secretary for the United church conference, on Tuesday. Assistants to Miss Spiller are Mrs. R. H. Dobson of Penticton, Miss Knowles of Hedley and Miss Joan Macdonald of Summerland.

Name Jacquie Trafford Miss Summerland of 1952 at Park Ceremony

Amidst all due pomp and ceremony and before a large crowd of interested spectators, Miss Jacquie Trafford, Summerland Scholarship award winner of 1951, was named and crowned Miss Summerland of 1952, at the Summerland Board of Trade ceremony at the bandshell in the Living Memorial park-playground on Saturday evening.

Named by the Kiwanis Club of Summerland, Miss Trafford was the winner chosen on a number of points by three independent judges. She will represent Summerland at the Peach Festival next month while her attendants on the Summerland float will be the three unsuccessful contestants, Miss Betty Green, Miss Olga Libicz and Miss Luella Polesello, chosen by the Rotary Club, AOTS and Canadian Legion, respectively.

Dressed in simple sports clothes, the four contestants appeared in turn on the band shell to meet Master of Ceremonies Reid Johnston who interviewed them, and finally asked them to give a short talk on any subject they desired.

Points were awarded by the three judges, Mrs. E. R. Butler, V. M. Lockwood and Lashley Haggman, for charm and personality, deportment and bearing, beauty of face and figure, ability to speak in public and general intelligence and special abilities.

It was a difficult decision to make and the judges considered their awarded marks some time before deciding in favor of Miss Trafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Trafford, who has just completed her first year at UBC.

Profusion of Daisies

An hour later, the crowning ceremony commenced. For this momentous occasion, the bandshell was decorated with a large Union Jack and garlands of daisies. The queen's chair, graced by stately Marguerite Menu, had a background of baby's breath interspersed with red roses, which was quite effective.

The royal procession, led by Queen-elect Jacquie, with her two page boys, Kenny Smith and Roger Blagborne, and her three attendants was joined by daisy chains and made an attractive picture.

The floral designs had been arranged that afternoon by Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh and a group of ladies, the flowers being mainly obtained from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Miller.

When the procession had taken its place on the bandshell, 1951 Queen Marguerite thanked her Loyal Subjects for their co-operation during the past year and then placed her crown on the head of her successor. In her turn, Queen Jacquie wished her subjects a year of health and happiness during her reign.

In the opening ceremonies, Ivor Solly, Summerland Board of Trade vice-president, the organization responsible for the ceremony, welcomed the people of Summerland to the park-playground in the absence of Vancouver of President Walter M. Wright.

Reeve C. E. Bentley brought greetings from the municipality and later extended congratulations to the new queen, J. E. Jenkinson, Kiwanis Club president, also extended congratulations from his club to the selected queen.

At booths nearby on the spacious lawn, refreshments were provided by a capable committee headed by Roy Wellwood, while on the other side of the bandshell Bingo was a popular pastime, the committee in charge being headed by Alec Watt.

Frank McDonald was in charge of ticket sales, the winner of the mixmaster being A. W. Nisbet.

The entire show was organized by Fred W. Schumann, who received praise from Vice-president Solly for his capable enterprise. In charge of the crowning ceremony arrangements was Mrs. J. R. Armstrong.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nicholls, Hospital Hill, were Mrs. Nicholls' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey MacLean of Leacholl, B.C. and Mr. Nicholls' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Witter of Seattle. At present guests at the Nicholls' home are Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Montgomery of Vancouver.

Beauties of Rectory Grounds Enthuse Garden Party Visitors

St. Stephen's Church rectory gardens were en fete last night for the annual garden party held by the Evening Branch W.A.

A wealth of color glowed from the flower beds in the early evening light with columns of pure white and deep blue delphiniums sturdily holding together glints of feathery pink heuchera, cerise agrostemma, and golden rudbeckia, as the summer wind caroled through the scene sending everyone looking for wraps which were forgotten during the recent heat wave.

Crowds filled most of the space as little children enjoyed horse-back rides and grownups visited together over the refreshment tables where delicious raspberry shortcake, piled high, with whipped cream, was the July specialty. Novelty, home cooking and handicraft stalls did a roaring trade.

The Summerland Band played for the enactment of one of the pleasanter events of midsummer in Summerland with Canon and Mrs. F. V. Harrison graciously greeting guests.

Vacation Bible School Hums With Activity

A busy hum comes through the door if one goes in during the handicraft period at the Daily Vacation Bible School being held July 11-22 daily from 9 to 11:15 a.m. in the Baptist church. There, about eighty children representing five Sunday Schools are being instructed in a number of things with emphasis on learning to know the Bible.

Mr. Ken Knight, new Baptist minister, is in charge with Mrs. Howard Milne assistant director. The primary department is directed by Mrs. W. C. Wilkin, who has as group leaders Mrs. B. Bergstrom, Miss Norma Arndt and Miss Esther Huva. Assistants in this section are Miss Joyce Martin and Miss Gwen Bloomfield.

Leaders in the junior and intermediate classes are Mrs. V. B. Durbin, Mrs. H. W. Ellis, and Mrs. R. Jaster, with Miss Marion Turigan, assistant.

This school is interdenominational and among other things the children are taught the names of the Bible with competition in quickly finding places in various chapters so that each one may become familiar with the Bible as a book to be used.

Drivers bring the pupils in from different parts of the municipality.

The program has been augmented with story telling by Mrs. D. L. Milne, Mrs. Blake, Milne and Miss Irma Arndt.

Beginnings of missionary work are instilled in the primary department where the theme is "Jesus Loves The Little Children of the World".

Missionary stories as well as Bible stories are told to the girls and boys; there is memory work, choruses are taught, games are played and races enjoyed.

The primary department has a rhythm band, and equipment from the Jack and Jill kindergarten, including band instruments, has been lent to the school.

Handiwork is suited to the age of the child and includes framed posters, oilcloth bags which would be useful to hold little things when going to camp; baskets made from Christmas cards; weaving of bright articles such as small baskets, tea pot stands and other things.

On the final day there will be a special closing with a program and refreshments when prizes will be distributed for attendance, memory work, and handiwork.

Tuesday evening, July 22, is parents' night when they may see examples of what the children have been taught in this midsummer school where all the instruction is so eager and voluntary.

Mrs. W. G. Gillard Noble Grand of Faith Rebekah

At a joint installation of Redlands Rebekah Lodge No. 12 of Pentiction and Faith No. 32 of West Summerland held at Pentiction on July 8 the following officers of Faith were installed by Mrs. F. Erout, district deputy president for the two lodges.

Mrs. W. G. Gillard, noble grand; Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, vice grand; Mrs. Harvey Eden, recording secretary; Mrs. F. Downes, financial secretary; Mrs. Walter Tovee, treasurer; Mrs. W. M. Fell, warden; Mrs. F. Bennison, conductor; Mrs. E. G. Gillespie, chaplain; Mrs. Hil da Allison, pianist; Mrs. Harvey Mitchell, right supporter noble grand; Mrs. C. Denike, left supporter noble grand; Mrs. K. Blagborne, right supporter vice grand; Mrs. H. Flske, left supporter vice grand; Mrs. C. Letta, inside guardian; Mrs. J. Raincock, outside guardian; Mrs. Walter Bleasdale, junior past grand; Mrs. Reg Kersey, flag bearer.

At the regular meeting of Faith lodge the following evening, July 9, Mrs. A. Walden graciously presented Mrs. J. Raincock with her past noble grand's jewel expressing the wish of all the members that she would enjoy wearing it for many years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bennett left last weekend for Vancouver where Miss Joan Bennett joined them in flying to Ottawa where they have gone because of the illness of Mr. Bennett's father.

AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE

Mrs. D. Turnbull who went to Victoria to welcome her son, David, when the Athabaskan docked last week, enjoyed attending a garden party at Government House the same afternoon.

Beautiful Roses At James Marshall's Shown to Society

It is always a treat for garden lovers to visit one another's places and on Wednesday evening, June 25, members of the Horticultural Society were delighted with the beautiful roses at Rose Neuk, the home of Dr. and Mrs. James Marshall, Trout Creek.

The lovely garden in its setting of trees and shrubs approached through a leafy shady driveway was appreciated, and the flowers of many varieties as well as roses were admired. The clematis was especially pretty that evening.

Later the group went on to the experimental station for a meeting viewing the borders there and the experiment being carried on in covering the unplanted areas with sawdust.

A trip to see Naramata gardens is being planned for this Friday as well as the annual big flower show in August.

The log cabin at the station was almost filled for the meeting and the refreshments capably conveyed by Miss Doreen Tait.

Rains Caused Extra Work for Road Crew

Heavy rains which fell just prior to July 1st, played havoc with some of the municipal roads, council was informed last week. Some of the new fill on the Gulch road was washed out, along with three lengths of culvert. Since then, this gap has been filled in with heavy rock. In discussing this washout, Reeve C. E. Bentley suggested that the roads department should have a definite schedule for clearing out culverts all over the municipality. Several other roads were washed out when the culverts could not take the heavy flow of rain water, it was stated. The slide near the George Fudge property on the road to Crescent Beach will cause trouble all summer, Councillor F. M. Stewart considered. The lake which formed when a large body of the clay cliff slid into the ravine above the Fudge property was nearly to the top of the slide before it broke through and started to flow down to the lake, council was informed. The road to Crescent Beach was closed on July 1 because of the slide, it was stated, while the previous Saturday the road crew worked nearly all day to clear the mud oozing down from the slide.

Bluestone Not Used In Quantity to Harm Cattle Says Kercher

Algy was forming on the screens at the reservoir last week and had been oozing tenaciously to the sides of municipal flumes, with the result that in some sections bluestone was used in small quantities to clear the water of this fungus, Water Foreman E. Kercher reported to council on Tuesday, July 8. He denied an allegation passed on by H. Vanderburgh through Reeve C. E. Bentley that the bluestone was of sufficient strength to harm cattle. Something in the water was of sufficient strength to make the cattle sick and to kill the worms in the hay meadow, Mr. Vanderburgh was quoted. Foreman Kercher declared that at no time had bluestone been used in sufficient quantity to harm either humans or cattle and, at any rate, it had only been applied in the north main that day.

PASS GRANTS' PAYMENT Grants to the Summerland Youth Centre Assn. and the Summerland Band, as passed in this year's estimates, were ordered paid by last week's council meeting.

New Trap Trophy in Memory of Late Bill Nelson is Presented

Summerland Trap Club has purchased a beautiful new trophy for the Interior trap championships which are held each year on Labor Day, and will be conducted this year on September 1 at the Summerland range. This trophy is the William Nelson Memorial, presented by the club in memory of their most faithful worker and ardent supporter, the late W. R. E. (Bill) Nelson, who passed away early this year. Each club in the interior will have an opportunity of capturing this trophy as it will be on a handicap basis with three high scores from any interior club being named the winner.

Vernon Ball Player On School Staff Here

Two appointments were confirmed for the MacDonald school at Monday's school board meeting, which will be welcomed by two local circles. Irma Arndt, a graduate of Summerland high school, who completed her Normal training this spring, is remaining in Summerland to teach Grade 2. Her many friends are congratulating her on her appointment. Summerland Macs baseball club is jubilant as Vernon's main third-baseman, Henry Farynuk, will come here in September to teach Grade 5 pupils. He will also be able to take a hand in elementary school athletics, it is expected.

G. Dunsdon Scores Possible, Leads with 99

Scoring a possible on the 200-yard range, George Dunsdon led the field at the Garnet Valley range on Sunday with a total count of 99. Close behind in second spot were Herb Simpson and Jack Dunsdon, each with 97. Other scores showed Fred Dunsdon with 96 Len Shannon 95, Phil Dunsdon 94, Ed Gould 93, Art Dunsdon 92, D. Taylor 89, Roy Desjais and Pop Dunsdon 80, George Stoll 79.

CAN BE ELIMINATED

Fire Chief Ed Gould in his report for June declared to council that the lower town fire hydrants showed very little evidence of sand. He felt that by keeping them open once a month the sand nuisance can be eliminated to a great extent.

Yet lakes seen first from the air are less thrilling, it seems to me, than those approached by other means. You come on them so easily and effortlessly; it seems most things are appreciated in proportion to the effort or money, they cost us. And in that Canadian Shield country there are so many lakes that if you are up any height at all, there are dozens of them in view at any one time, curved patches and strips of blue in the green spruce forests. What matters one among so many?

If you want the most thrill from a lake, hike to it, preferably with a heavy pack on your back and up a steep mountain trail. You'll really appreciate your arrival.

Macs Move up Ladder to Third Spot With Big Win Over Vernon

Ernie Rucks had a big day for the Summerland Macs on Sunday at Vernon when he drove in four runs, including a two-run homer in the first frame to lead his team to a decisive 10-3 victory over the cellar-position Canadians.

Wally Day hurled six-hit ball for the seven-inning contest and was in command of the situation most of the way, striking out six batters and yielding only three passes to first.

It was a rough day for the Vernon Canadians who were supposed to win as part of the big Diamond Jubilee celebrations.

Vernon registered its intention of protesting a decision of Base Umps Al McCargar, at second base in the sixth, claiming that Sandy Jomori dropped the ball when Farynyuk was called out on a close play initiated by Catcher Metcalf.

It is unlikely that the protest will go through, as an umpire's decision which does not involve the rule book interpretation cannot be protested successfully in organized baseball.

Busy At Second Base

Rucks played second base when Kato failed to appear from a fishing trip. He and Jomori were kept plenty busy as between them fourteen chances had to be accepted. Rucks had difficulty playing the position but only made two miscues, while Jomori covered himself with glory with a perfect day for seven chances.

Byrtus was the starting Vernon pitcher. He was rapped for 7 hits and 6 runs before White took over, yielding another couple of hits and double that number of runs in the seventh frame.

Kuroda started the first frame with a single to left and Rucks made himself the Man of the Hour with a circuit clout to the same outer garden. Gould drew a walk, Metcalf singled to left and Jomori bunted to score Gould. Metcalf scored the fourth run of the first frame when Pitcher Byrtus threw wildly to third base.

Vernon got one of those back in the second when Lucchini singled, went to second on Rucks' error and scored on Byrtus' single to right field.

In the fourth, Aikin opened the frame with a smart double to left field, Weitzel retired and Day was safe when Munk bobbed his fly ball to left field. Both runs came across when Rucks faced another to left field.

With two away in the fifth Munk singled, Janicki walked and Graff doubled them home for Vernon's final score.

The Macs added plenty of insurance in the 7th when, with one away, Kuroda drew a walk, Rucks singled and Lefty Gould scored them both with a double. Gould scored on a passed ball and double steal involving himself and Taylor who had got on for the first time with a walk. Taylor finished the scoring when he scored on a wild throw from Lucchini at short.

Fishing News

(By Bert Berry)

Okanagan Lake: Not too good in past week. The hot weather seems to have made the fish stop biting. The Mayfly hatches are on heavy now and this could be causing the fish to be slow at biting. Once it cools down, fishing will be better.

Headwaters Camp: Reports are okay from here, especially Crescent.

Glen Lake: Slowing down but still okay on the late evening rise.

Fish Lake: Not bad, with a few Kamloops being caught. All the upper lakes are okay except Little Eneas and Big Eneas lakes. Good catches coming out of Monro, Dear and Island lakes.

Shannon Lake: Still producing lots of perch and a good amount of bass.

Several parties back from the Shuswap report fishing off. However, Ed Matohett and Harvey Farrow returned Tuesday and had good luck.

Red Sox Come Apart at Seams Lose 19 to 5

Three Summerland hurlers failed to stem the tide at Oliver last Sunday as the Red Sox took the most terrific beating of their existence, 19-5.

The entire club fell apart to commit an even dozen errors, while the southerners were garnering ten hits. Desilets started for the losers, was replaced by Marchuk in the third, while Thompson finished the contest.

On the other hand, Martino struck out 10 Red Sox as Oliver's successful hurler, although he yielded as many hits as the three Red Sox chukkers combined. Oliver got by with five miscues.

Al Hooker was thrown out of the game in the eighth when he argued too vociferously with the Oliver umpire.

Bryden opened the game when he was safe on an error, coming home on a passed ball. Anderson doubled to centre but Eyre was put out at home, the former scoring on an error by Radies, Oliver catcher.

But the 2-run lead was short-lived as Oliver got three singles off Desilets in the bottom of the fourth, scoring four runs. Errors by Hooker and Desilets, plus a walk accounted for the tallies.

Oliver scored single runs in the next three innings, before Red Sox asked another tally across in the 5th, Eyre getting a single and scoring on errors and a wild pitch.

In that same frame Oliver got further insurance with another three tallies off Marchuk and then really opened up in the 7th to plaster Thompson for six more.

The three Oliver runs in the 8th were just extras which weren't really needed as they were so far out in front.

Siegrist doubled in the 9th to score Eyre and Anderson for the final counts.

Summary: Sacrifice hit, Topping; stolen bases, Oliver 12, Red Sox 3; two-base hits, Anderson, Siegrist, left on bases, Red Sox 10, Oliver 8; struck out by Desilets 1, Marchuk 7, Martino 10; bases on balls, off Desilets 3, off Marchuk 4, off Thompson 3, off Martino 2; hit by pitcher, Hooker, M. Weeks; double plays, Hooker to Thompson to Siegrist; Martino to Radies to D. Weeks; umpires, Schumann and Wright.

Macs Need to Beat Oliver to Keep in Playoffs

OKANAGAN-MAINLINE BASEBALL LEAGUE

Team	P	W	L	Pct
Penticton	15	12	3	.800
Kamloops	13	7	6	.538
Oliver	14	7	7	.500

Last Sunday's Results:

Penticton 11, Oliver 0.
Summerland Macs 10, Vernon 3.
Kelowna and Kamloops postponed.

Oliver comes to Summerland next Sunday for a crucial game in the Okanagan-Mainline ball loop. These two teams have met four times this season and the canteloupers have won out every time.

Summerland Macs have five games left to play before the regular playing schedule is over. They will have to win most of these games to stay in the playoffs and next Sunday's win over Oliver would be just the place to start their backers state.

Summerland also plays at Kelowna next Wednesday, July 23, then entertains Kamloops on Sunday, July 27 and Penticton the following Sunday, August 3, the final day of the season schedule.

However, there is a postponed trip to Kamloops which the Macs are to make, probably on August 10, if no weekly schedule can be arranged.

Last Sunday saw Penticton and Oliver tangle with their fists more than anything else. Oliver third sacker Graham and Penticton's young catcher O'Connell tangled and before the fracas was over umpires, spectators and players were exchanging blows in a regular donnybrook.

Penticton hit Harold Cousins all over the lot to win 11-0. Kelowna and Kamloops was postponed as the Orioles participated in the tournament at Nelson last week, winning second money.

Kelowna plays at Vernon and Penticton travels to Kamloops for the other league games this Sunday.

Withhold Final School Payment For Last Repairs

Local school board is still waiting the arrival of Kenyon & Co. workmen to complete minor renovations to the junior-senior high school as the closing part of their contract.

On Monday evening, Trustee T. S. Manning, as building chairman, declared that a number of small details have not been completed, despite several telephone conversations with the contracting firm.

Final payment by the school board to Kenyon & Co. is being withheld until these repairs are completed.

W. K. Noppe, architect, will be in the district soon to collaborate on tentative plans for enlarging the industrial arts and home economics sections of the new school and will be acquainted with the fact that these repairs have not been undertaken.

Painting is being undertaken in MacDonald school this summer, while a program of sidewalk extension at this school is also planned. No extension of hardsurfaced driveways will be considered as not sufficient money is available, trustees decided.

Sunoka Starts Season With Ten Employees

Sunoka Fruit Products Ltd. commenced processing operations on cherries yesterday morning with a crew of ten employed.

Herb Pohlmann, manager, states he hopes to keep the operation underway until Christmas, at least, and he will prepare apricots, cantaloupe and zuccons for glacing, as well as the cherries.

To Surface Walk Through Park

After sidewalks in lower town are installed, work will be done towards blacktopping the walk through the Living Memorial park-playground, municipal council decided last week after reviewing estimates supplied for several sidewalk jobs.

The distance involved in the park walk is nearer the amount set aside in estimates for this year. Council had agreed on $200 for maintenance, and replacement and $500 for new sidewalks.

It was council opinion that the walk through the park and up the hill to the H. W. Brown corner would take a good deal of pedestrian traffic off the hill road below the Baptist church.

Leaving a three-foot stretch of hardtop between the curbs, it was estimated that cost of wooden curbs and hardtopping would be $1 a foot and if cement curbs were substituted the cost would be $1.40 per foot.

Distance through the park is 525 feet, from the H. W. Brown lot to Darke's corner at the junction of the Station and Prairie Valley roads is 700 feet and from the B. C. Fruit Shippers Ltd. Corner to Quinpoole Road along Victoria Road is 660 feet.

Public Works to Consult Council Before Changing Highway

Before any decision is made by the provincial department of public works on the new location of Highway No. 97 through the Municipality of Summerland the municipal council will be acquainted with the proposed program.

This was the announcement made by Chief Engineer N. M. McCallum of the public works department in a letter to council last week. "Before any final decision is made regarding the proposed route, I would be glad to discuss the whole matter on the ground," Mr. McCallum declared.

"You may rest assured that we do not wish to disrupt any existing orchards but are endeavoring to find a better route than exists at present," he concluded.

Councillor H. J. (Bill) Barkwill remarked that the highway down the Peach Orchard and through lower town is "pretty grim," but council did not take any action.

MORE ABOUT

NIXON

He tendered his resignation about that time but it was not accepted until June 1, 1949, when he had completed 30 years as municipal clerk and 40 years in the municipal office staff.

In that time, he had seen the office force grow from two to its present force of six, and municipal work expand in proportion to the increasing population of the district.

In 1949, he was awarded the Reid Johnston Good Citizen cup at the board of trade annual banquet. Last month, he was honored by his fellows in the Municipal Officers' Association of B.C. with an honorary life membership.

In memory of the former municipal clerk, the Summerland Municipal Office will be closed all Friday afternoon.

A member of the Rotary Club of Summerland, Fred Nixon was made an honorary member each year since his illness prevented his attendance.

Fred Nixon was an active member of the Great War Veterans Assn. after his return from overseas and in the early stages of the Canadian Legion he was secretary and took a leading part for years in the activities of the branch here.

His wife, the former Christine Tait, whom he married in Summerland in 1910, predeceased him in 1928 and he leaves one son, Gordon, of Ottawa and one daughter, Mrs. Alec Watt of Summerland, and three grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nixon and one daughter arrived from the east on Saturday, called when it became apparent that the elderly man was falling in health.

Funeral service is being conducted from St. Stephen's Anglican church on Friday afternoon, July 18, at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Canon F. V. Harrison officiating. Interment is in the family plot in the Anglican cemetery, Pentiction Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

BREAK INTO BOOTHE'S, STEAL CIGARETTES

Some person or persons cut a hole in the back door of Boothe's Grocery sometime Saturday night or Sunday morning, removed a large bar holding the door and escaped with about sixty packets of cigarettes.

As far as is known, no other articles were stolen. RCMP are investigating. The theft was discovered Sunday morning by the store proprietor, Ken Boothe.

Amend Electric Light Bylaw for "Isolated Users"

Reiteration for the second time in the minutes of the municipal council, by Municipal Clerk Gordon Smith, that the council is not conforming to the municipal electrical bylaw in granting certain concessions to persons in outlying districts brought action from council on Tuesday afternoon, July 8.

As a result, at the urging of Reeve C. E. Bentley, an amendment to Bylaw 604, electric light rates and extension bylaw, will be drawn up and submitted to Victoria for approval.

Such a bylaw will endeavor to make provision for "isolated users" as council is already committed for such users as Aderno Blagioni. The Stant-Golnick-Gulek extension has now been properly drawn up, all applications made, and the line extension is proceeding, council was informed.

After that hookup, the extension to Blagioni can take place, and possibly still another extension to the J. M. McDougald property at some future date.

Line extension to A. Glaser and R. J. Banrma are being considered by council now, along with an extension to W. Hepperle and another to A. Fenwick. There are all "isolated users, in comparison with other extensions in the municipality.

Gordon Blewett has been granted two weeks' leave with pay and a further two weeks without pay in order that he may visit Ottawa this summer.

Macs Humble Pentiction in Ten Innings

It may have been a preview of play off time last night when Macs bowled over the league-leading Pentiction Athletics at the southern park in an exhibition tilt which went 10 innings before the visitors eked out a 3-2 victory.

Gil Jacobs was full value for the win, but he got excellent support in keeping the Pentiction big guns within reason. It wasn't until the sixth frame that any Pentiction runner got past first base, and only two had got that far in the first five frames.

It was Lefty Gould's double in the 9th that scored Rucks from second base and tied up the game at 2-all. Rocky Richardson, who took Metcalf's place behind the plate, scored the winning run in the 10th when Rucks hit to the outer garden and Pentiction Catcher Powell fumbled momentarily the throw to the plate.

Macs Score First

Macs started well, getting the first run in the initial frame when Richardson drew a walk and came across on Taylor's grounder to second.

Pentiction evened it in the sixth when Rowell singled, went to second on Gould's miscue and scored on Russell's long fly to left. The southeners went one ahead in the eighth when Snider singled and was doubled home by Russel.

On three occasions Macs had the bases loaded with one away and couldn't get runs across, Jomori popping up a fly when he tried to squeeze Taylor home from third in the fifth for a double-play.

Apolzer was the Pentiction pitcher who was wild on occasions but bore down in the pinches. He was relieved in the 10th by Manager Les Edwards after the game was lost.

Jacobs in Form

Jacobs whiffed seven batters three in a row in the second, while Apolzer struck out 3. Bases on balls, however were the order of the night, Jacobs allowing four and Apolzer nine.

Weitzel started in left field, gave way to Kuroda in the sixth and the latter yielded to Junior Al Hooker in the eighth. Richardson was catcher, the only other change from the normal lineup.

George Taylor got back into his hitting stride, picking off two doubles in his four trips, while Gould got a single and double in five trips.

Jacobs and Richardson; Apolzer, Edwards and Powell.

MORE ABOUT—DISCUSSION

her any further progress has been made in increasing Canadian purchases from the UK as a means of giving them greater purchasing power, "with which to buy from us, and in particular, has it been found possible to increase purchases of defence materials from the United Kingdom.

Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe replied and, speaking for the trade and commerce department, declared "every encouragement has been given to provide purchasers in the UK with dollars. The sterling trade committee has been active in promoting purchases in the UK, and I think some success is following their efforts.

"... orders were placed in the UK last year, 1951-52, to the order of about $45 million and the results of the last three months indicate that the orders placed in the UK will be considerably higher in the fiscal year 1952-53.

"I might point out, however, that purchasing in the UK depends a great deal upon availability and to date we have found it rather difficult to obtain there the materials, equipment and machinery that we need for defense production."

Thereupon, M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, asked if "any consideration has been given to a proposal of this description, that payments on the $1,200 million loan be deferred, with out interest, and the amount due Canada this year, we will say—last year I think it was $26 million—made available to the British to purchase in Canada such things as agricultural products, fish and so on."

This suggestion was given publicity in The Summerland Review on Thursday, June 19, some days prior to this discussion in the House of Commons (June 28).

Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, replied to Mr. Coldwell that the "matter has not been considered. The next payment on the UK-Canada loan will fall due in December and there are certain provisions in the loan agreement, similar to the provisions in the United States loan, which provide for a waiver of the interest payment under certain conditions."

Arbitration Board Says Industry Agreement Should Continue in 1952

Although it found that the wage formula of 1949 had virtually been discarded in April of last year due to changes agreed upon by both parties, the arbitration board appointed by the Federation of Vegetable Workers Unions and the Okanagan Federated Shippers Assn. Inc., on a majority decision, decided last week that "extraordinary conditions" did not exist sufficiently to warrant the re-opening of the agreement which exists between the unions and the packinghouse industry.

Percy Gomery of Vancouver was chairman and J. M. Kosty, Vernon, BCFGA executive member represented the packinghouses, both agreeing to the report of the arbitration board. Third member was Bryan Cooney, Okanagan Centre, unions' representative, who dissented.

Fire Destroys Home When Owners Away

Fire of unknown origin completely destroyed the one and a half story house of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maddocks in Meadow Valley on Sunday morning. The owners were absent in Kamloops on a short visit and have no idea how the blaze commenced.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddocks and their four children left for Kamloops about 10 o'clock Saturday morning, returning at 11 o'clock Sunday night to find only a glowing heap of embers as mute evidence of the loss of their home.

The unfortunate family has been given temporary shelter in a cabin owned by E. E. Campbell on nearby ranch property.

It was about 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning that Frank Johnson, who owns the adjoining property, noticed the flames while mowing with a team of horses. He galloped the steeds as fast as possible to the scene but the flames had too great a start and nothing could be saved.

E. E. Campbell arrived about fifteen minutes later and the two neighbors did what they could to prevent the flames from spreading to the nearby haystack. They were successful in this attempt.

The house was a five-room building, including many personal belongings of little monetary value but treasured nevertheless.

Park Entrance Plan Proceeds; Extend Lighting

In preparation for the time when the municipal hall is completed and the entrance to the Living Memorial park playground is black-topped and a parking area provided, municipal council on Tuesday agreed that the underground cable servicing the Granville street lamp standards should be extended across the front of the parking area to the Summerland Box Co. Ltd. corner.

When the light standard system can be extended to service the new municipal hall, then the conduit will be in place, it was pointed out, and the blacktopping will not have to be disturbed.

The hardtop surface has been laid on the flat through the park on the west side but the hill section will wait until the road surfacing has been completed, it was stated on Tuesday.

Work of levelling the parking area at the entrance to the park playground has been commenced, and the area divided by a cement walk which will serve as a curb against which vehicles may be parked.

Another curb along the bowling alley side wall will also be installed.

It is probable that parking lanes will be established on the hard surfaced area once the laying job has been concluded.

Credit Union Shows Steady Progress With Membership at New High of 644

Summerland and District Credit Union has a membership of 644, with increased interest being shown in all branches of the service provided, some fifty members attending the semi-annual meeting in the IOOF hall last Friday evening were informed.

Mr. Dick Manruft, managing director of the B.C. Credit Union League, Vancouver, was guest speaker.

J. M. McArthur, Credit Union president, submitted an interim report from the directors which showed all committees working hard and the big increase in membership.

There are 144 members using the deposit account in the Credit Union, he declared, and this year claims have been collected from CUNA on the insurance of two members.

Over Hundred New Members

W. T. Bleasdale's treasurer's report showed a 50 percent increase in total assets and 111 new members within the last six months. About 100 members are now using the chequing service, he reported, while members have increased their shares by 35 percent since January and eight new endowment accounts have been taken out in the same period.

Mr. Bleasdale's report told of the junior savings club in the MacDonald elementary school, which was previously reported as having accumulated $409.82 since January.

This club, one of four successfully-operated groups in B.C., received honorable mention at the recent CU convention in Nanaimo.

Since its inception eight years ago the Credit Union has loaned half a million dollars to members, Mr. Bleasdale stressed, indicating that the interest on this money has been expended in the community.

Supervisory and credit committee reports were read by Mr. McArthur and F. R. Ganzoveld, respectively, and indicated much hard work by the members involved.

The guest speaker, Mr. Manruft, dwelt on credit unions generally and their problems, and, in conjunction with Mr. McArthur and Mr. Bleasdale, answered many questions from the members present.

Marquard Fails to Steal any Lumber From Local Yard

Owner F. B. Bedford and Charles Nesbitt at the West Summerland Building Supplies Ltd., are still shaking their heads wondering how an uninvited visitor gained access to the lumber yard and office on Monday evening or early Tuesday morning.

It is believed that access was obtained through a rear door, but how the big bar across the door was removed is not known. The door window leading into the office was broken and a cursory attempt made to open the safe by turning the dial and handle.

Exit was through one of the main doors leading into the company's driveway, but nothing was taken as far as could be ascertained.

Pay Silent Tribute To Late Fred Nixon

Reeve C. E. Bentley called upon members of the municipal council present at Tuesday's regular meeting to stand in silent tribute to the late Fred J. Nixon, former municipal clerk, who passed away on July 15, aged 77.

Funeral service was conducted from St. Stephen's Anglican church on Friday afternoon, July 18, at 2 o'clock. Rev. Canon F. V. Harleone officiating. Committal was in the Anglican cemetery.

Penticton Firm Has Low Bid

No contract for the building of a new municipal hall has been awarded yet, but the Penticton firm of Olsson, Pollock & Taylor submitted the lowest tender of $45,969 when bids were opened at the old municipal office on Tuesday afternoon.

All tenders were over the anticipated figure, as the municipality has $45,000 for the entire cost.

Consequently, McCarter & Nairne, architectural firm of Vancouver is reviewing its plans and specifications with a view to eliminating some "extras" and lopping between $3,000 and $4,000 off the contractor's price.

If the revised specifications are agreeable to the Penticton firm submitting the lowest tender, then Olsson, Pollock & Taylor will be awarded the contract.

A special meeting of municipal council will probably be called early next week to make this decision.

Tenders varied from a low of $45,969 to a high $59,697 over the seven bids proffered.

Extras for Basement

John S. Porter, representing McCarter & Nairne, was present on Tuesday and pointed out that when the probable figure of $45,000 was determined no provision for separate rooms in the basement for magistrate and RCMP had been considered.

It is believed possible to save the required amount by only roughly finishing the main part of the basement rooms, with the exception of the RCMP and magistrate's quarters.

Architect's fees would be six percent of the successful tender or Continued on page 8

C. B. (CHUCK) EWART IS LEAVING PENTICTON

C. B. (Chuck) Ewart of Penticton, well-known to a wide circle of friends in Summerland, leaves this week with his family for Prince George where he will undertake the management of one of that city's impressive hotels.

WANT HIM FIRED — The "Red" Dean of Canterbury's findings on germ warfare recently brought an angry demand in the British Parliament for his immediate dismissal. Nine Conservatives asked the house to petition the Queen to dismiss the 78-year old dean, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, who returned from a tour of communist China.

Inspect Water System Here

D. McLean, engineer from the provincial water rights branch has inspected Thirsk dam and the dams at headwaters the past two days, in accordance with a promise made by the branch last winter.

Although Mr. McLean expressed his satisfaction with the style of construction used in the dams, he told Councillor H. R. J. Richards and Water Foreman E. Kercher that he would send in his recommendations in writing after his return to Victoria.

It was last fall that the water rights branch told municipal council it must drain its earthen dams each winter. Council has opposed this move strongly and provincial authorities postponed any action until a further investigation of the local system could be made.

Competition From USA Limits Returns to Growers of Apricots

Apricot growers cannot expect to receive returns for their bumper crop this year that were obtained in 1951, as competition from Washington and California at dump levels has to be met, the southern district council of the BCFGA heard at its monthly session in Penticton last week.

At that time, the price for canner's lots had not been set but it is understood that the price level has been struck at $95 for No. 1 canner's lots, which is considerably above the Washington level of $85 to $75 per ton.

Opening price on apricots in 15-pound boxes was $1.25 for No. 1 apricots to western Canada and $1.30 for eastern Canada consumption, it was stated.

U.S. apricots were still on the fresh fruit market at $1 per box, it was stated, and while there is competition of this nature, then the Okanagan salesmen have to meet it.

California produced a "very big crop" of apricots this year while the Washington crop proved larger than was anticipated.

One Osoyoos grower declared that his fellow producers are not happy about the opening prices on apricots, and wonder why there was such delay in establishing a price on canner's apricots.

After two years of low apricots, growers are wondering why the canners are not anxious to handle our apricots now," he emphasized.

To this, H. J. (Bill) Barkwill of Summerland, president of the B.C. Canned Foods Assn., replied that B.C. canners paid the highest prices on the North American continent for products canned here last year and have been hard pressed to dispose of them, as a result.

It is well known that there is a big carryover of canned goods in B.C. from the 1951 pack of most commodities.

One reason given for the delay in naming the canner's price this year was the instability of the canner's deal across the line. The growers' sales agency and the canners were holding off a definite decision until the picture was clarified to a greater extent, it was intimated.

Gordon DesBrisay, Penticton, pointed out another factor which is working against the Okanagan grower this year in meeting competition from low-priced American products. He referred to the difference in exchange rates, Canadian producers having lost 14 percent. (Continued on Page 8)

Canners, Industry May Evolve Joint Plan to Sell Canned Products

For several years, Tree Fruits Governor W. R. Powell of Summerland has been advocating closer co-operation between the canners of Okanagan products and the producers, as represented by their sales agency.

Today, it appears that the two factions are closer together in an attempt to formulate an advertising and publicity project which will help sell Okanagan products put up in cans than ever before in the industry's history.

Last week, when the BCFGA southern district council deliberated, Governor Powell and H. J. (Bill) Barkwill, president of the B.C. Canned Foods Assn. described efforts which have been made to formulate a joint policy.

A committee of canners met B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. recently, it was explained, and talked over a joint advertising and promotion scheme for the finished product in the can.

It has been suggested, and talks have continued with the can manufacturers, that a design to indicate that the product was grown in B.C. should be incorporated on the lids of canned products emanating from this province.

It was also agreed that some deal, on a 50-50 basis, between the canners and the fruit industry, should be evolved.

The board of governors has instructed its new executive, headed by Vice-president W. R. Powell, to meet once again with the canners' representatives and endeavor to make a firm deal.

"I see the necessity of close co-operation with the canner who is at least, interested in 30 percent of the commodities we produce," declared Mr. Powell. "Without him things will be very funny, indeed."

Mr. Barkwill told growers that opinions among the canners vary, but not all answers have been received. Participation by the canned foods people would have to be on a strictly voluntary basis, he explained, as the association has no way of compelling members to enter into such a scheme.

"I think the majority of canners favor such a scheme," said Mr. Barkwill.

Chautauqua Sessions In Late January

Directly after next January's annual convention, the Chautauqua classes arranged by the BCFGA will be held in the southern part of the Okanagan, A. R. Garrish, BCFGA president, told last week's southern district council session.

It was suggested that lists of questions be prepared so that growers could have problems answered by numbered queries, in a similar manner to that adopted by the Washington State horticultural conference.

Growers will be asked to send in questions, while others will also be compiled for their assistance.

Among the speakers who will be invited to address the southern growers and answer their questions, will be Dr. James Marshall, Dr. C. G. Woodbridge, Dr. J. C. Wilcox, Dr. D. V. Fisher, Dr. H. R. McLarty, A. J. Mann and Glen Gary.

JAMES MUIRHEAD GOES TO CHILLIWACK BRANCH

James Muirhead, former manager of the Bank of Montreal here, has been transferred from Kimberley to Chilliwack. His place at Kimberley has been taken by E. F. Barnes, transferred from Rossland.

Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Day paid a visit recently to Rossland to see their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes before they left for their East Kootenay home.

Improvements of Highway 97 is Chief Aim of Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Assn.

The Okanagan Cariboo Trail Association wound up a two-day convocation in Yakima last Friday with eight resolutions under its belt, a new slate of officers and plans for development and promotion of international Highway 97, the shortest route to Alaska.

R. P. MacLean, publisher of the Kelowna Courier, was elected president of the international body, succeeding Irwin Jones of Wenatchee. O. H. Erikson of Yakima was named first vice-president, Alex Bowls, Prince George, second vice-president and J. Bews, Kelowna, executive secretary.

Fifty representatives from 30 communities in Oregon, Washington and B.C. were present at the meeting. Top government officials of the highway and tourist promotion departments of the two states and B.C. were in attendance.

The opening of the John Hart Highway from Prince George to Dawson Creek on July 1st last has focussed attention on Highway 97 as the fastest and shortest route to Alaska from communities west

Municipality Is Richer by Five Thousand

Summerland municipality is to receive $8,913.68 as its one-third share of the motor vehicle provincial tax, nearly $2,000 more than was budgeted for this spring.

Premier Byron Johnson's office announced last weekend that municipalities would receive $2,280,397.89 as one-third of the motor vehicle tax.

In its estimates this spring, municipal council only allowed $7,000 as the probable amount to be received from the government from this source.

The municipality also was light in its estimates on the SS & MA tax refund, and between these two sources, municipal coffers will probably be enriched by an additional $5,000 this year.

Earlier this month it was announced that the mid-year payment of the SS & MA tax refund to Summerland would amount to $25,238.62, the biggest cheque ever received. If the December payment on this tax refund is about the same as in the same month of 1951, namely $17,741.75, then Summerland will exceed its budgeted revenue by $2,000, as the estimates only called for an anticipated $39,600 this year.

For the fiscal government year of 1951-52, ending March 31, 1952, Summerland received in SS & MA tax and motor vehicle tax distribution $51,894.05, being made up of $42,980.37 and $8,913.68 respectively.

Distribution is based on population in both cases, the premier's office advises.

Lightning Strikes Aerial Pole But House is Unharmed

Lightning struck a radio aerial pole alongside the home of Mrs. C. J. Amm last Friday afternoon but the near disaster was not identified until Wednesday as Mrs. Amm has been residing at Crescent Beach for the past week.

The lightning travelled down the aerial pole and dislodged a large piece of cement from the base, jumping to a water pipe in the ground about 18 inches away and travelling across the lawn a few feet.

It was fortunate that no damage was done to the house as the pole adjoins one corner.

Joe Biollo, Okanagan Telephone Co. manager, discovered the strike when he was called to Mrs. Amm's home after receiving a complaint that her telephone was out of order.

RETURN FROM ISLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Ackles have returned to Summerland from Lake Cowichan, V.I., and intend to reside here for several months.

Regatta Postponed Through Wet Weather

Due to the wet, cool weather of the past few days, the second annual Summerland Regatta, due to be run off last night at Powell Beach, was postponed yesterday morning until Wednesday, August 6. It is hoped that summer weather will resume then.

Cub Calls

1st Summerland Pack

Twenty boys attended our summer camp which was situated on Trout Creek near Kelly's mine. A good time was had by all. Sunday night we held Open House which comprised a bonfire and skits put on by the boys, after which we roasted weiners and marshmallows.

We would like to say thank you to all who helped us set up camp and again in breaking up camp and those who helped in general.

There were numerous articles of clothing left and some exchanges to be made. For information about these please telephone Mrs. McCargar, 2628.

See you all in September, boys.—Akela.

SCOUTS AT CAMP

Twenty-two boys of the 1st Summerland Scout Troop with Dr. D. V. Fisher in charge left on Wednesday to camp at Chute Lake from July 23 to 30 inclusive.

Finish Legion Building in Fall

Ralph Blewett has commenced construction on the addition to the Canadian Legion building, to provide a new hall 20 feet by 40 feet on the rear of the present premises.

It is expected that the new wing will be finished in time for occupancy September 15.

Although for a time it was planned to extend the new addition east and south, last monthly meeting objected to the closing of the driveway on the south side of the present building. As a result, a change of plans brought the addition directly to the east of the present hall.

As well as this addition, the section on the southwest corner, used as a cardroom, is being rebuilt and another ten feet will be added to the Legion canteen storehouse on the north side of the building.

Kilback, Clifton Killick, Donna Laidlaw, Bruce Maddocks, Lorraine Milne, Judy Mino, Anthea Morgan, Jimmie Munn, Carol Newton, Betty Nilson, Ursula Nurnberg, Garry Rabel, Lawrie Reinertson, Linda Rumball, Karen Sagmoen, Roselyn Sedlar, Darlene Shannon, Lois Smith, Philip Taylor, Gloria Tilbe, Russell Walton, Shirley Wendel, Carole Williams, Edward Willis, Donald Woods.

Eating outdoors calls for hearty meals, for everyone develops enormous appetites on a picnic! Spaghetti with a good meat sauce, a platter of cold cuts garnished with spicy crabapples and served with rolls, or big juicy tomatoes stuffed with ham salad, are delicious, filling meals.

- Ham Salad
 Two cups diced ham, 1 cup finely diced celery, french dressing, 2 tsp. sweet pickle relish, 2 hard-cooked eggs, mayonnaise.
 Combine ham and celery, moisten with French dressing. Add relish, chopped eggs, and enough mayonnaise to moisten. Season with salt and pepper and stuff medium-sized tomatoes with the mixture. (Will fill 4).
Spaghetti Meat Sauce
 One lb. ground beef, 3 tbsp. fat, 1 medium onion, 1 clove garlic, 1 large can tomatoes (3 1/2 cups), 1 can tomato paste, salt, pepper, sugar, 1/2 tsp. chili powder, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce.
 Heat fat in heavy skillet and cook chopped onions until a light brown, then push to one side and add beef, and sear thoroughly. Add minced garlic, tomatoes, tomato-paste, seasonings. Cover and cook over low heat for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add chili powder and Worcestershire sauce and cook fifteen minutes longer.

Building Down Fifty Thousand For Six Months

Building in Summerland district lags behind the 1951 figure by $50,000, Building Inspector Roy F. Angus has revealed in his resume of the first six months of 1952.

In that period, 47 permits have been issued for a total of $73,845 while in the first six months of 1951 48 permits were valued at $123,720.

In June two new dwellings were projected at $7,500 while four commercial and institutional permits for minor projects have a value of $1,350. Three permits for $600 were taken out for alterations and additions, making a total of 9 permits for $9,400.

June, 1951 permits totalled 8 for $10,200.

Comparative figures from interior cities, as issued by the Journal of Commerce, Vancouver, for the first four months follow:

Kelowna	$226,581	$732,149
Penticton	190,822	545,635
Kamloops	183,595	1,028,155
Nelson	78,274	103,718
Chilliwack	154,910	215,525
Nanaimo	284,655	44,850
Port Alberni	234,000	448,000
Prince George	439,350	448,225
Prince Rupert	232,835	81,825
Trail	202,590	175,545

ROUND-THE-WORLD AIR PASSENGERS VISIT HERE

Miss Nora Walker of Vancouver, accompanied by her aunt Miss Fell, with her niece from England visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Boothe for a short period last week. The English visitors left their native land last January and are on the last laps of a round-the-world trip by air. They motored through the Kootenays and the Okanagan before returning to the coast to continue their air passage across Canada.

Mrs. Flewelling of Vancouver is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Powell, Prairie Valley.

MORE ABOUT— Arbitration

purpose discarded in April 1951. "Extraordinary conditions" had arisen which led the parties, in their judgment, so to conclude. "At that time (April 1951), it was mutually agreed that a new wage schedule was the only practical solution.

"In our view then, we have had to consider whether or not 'extraordinary conditions' have arisen during the past year which would warrant the re-opening of the agreement, at this time.

"While, in our view, the employers would have had certain grounds for pleading that 'extraordinary conditions' might have been claimed on their side, they, however have not exercised their prerogative to re-open the agreement on such grounds. Therefore, it is not the office of this board to deal with the question as though the employers had decided to plead 'extraordinary conditions'.

"From the conditions which surround the agreement today, we have not found that 'extraordinary conditions' have arisen to the extent of justifying the union in its insistence that the agreement be re-opened.

"Our decision, therefore, is that the agreement be not re-opened and that it should be considered as in force (as amended last year) until its expiry.

"While a mere statement of our decision would doubtless have been adequate, the signers of this report, being conscious of the fullness of the unions' evidence to the contrary, plus a very apparent show of good faith in presenting such evidence, has promoted us to state reasons for our decision."

This report is signed only by the chairman, Mr. Gomery and Mr. Kosty as member.

No reaction from the United Packinghouse Workers' Union (CIO), the rival union in some Okanagan plants, could be obtained up to presstime.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hackman and family have returned from a motor trip which took them across the prairies as far east as Winnipeg.

Georgi Zaborin
Soviet Ambassador GEORGI ZARUBIN, who was transferred from Ottawa when the Soviet espionage ring was uncovered, has been recalled permanently to Moscow. Zarubin, the last Soviet ambassador to Canada, has been ambassador to London for five years. The embassy said he probably will leave "in a matter of days."

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Baynes and family of Vancouver are in residence at their new cottage at Trout Creek, with the former going to Vancouver during the week and returning for weekends. Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Cannon of Abbotsford who have also built a new cottage next to the Baynes are expected before long with their children to spend a vacation.

Jugoslavians Who Escaped to Sea Warn Kiwanis of Communist Yoke

Three new immigrants in Canada, who escaped the Communist yoke by pushing off to sea in a small boat from their homeland of Yugoslavia, were guests of the Kiwanis Club of Summerland at a regular dinner meeting in the Nu-Way Annex recently.

A fourth member who had been with them on their arrival in Summerland to work on the E. H. Doherty orchard, has gone to the coast, it is understood. He had made three previous attempts to escape from his native country before being successful.

Three University Students
Only one of the trio can speak English fluently enough to be understood. Lovoarko Reljic, or Lorie for short, gave Kiwanians a description of life in Yugoslavia under Communistic domination and spared no pains to instill in his listeners the idea that there is nothing good about such a regime.

His companions at the meeting were Luka Bujenovich and Tuelich Vujadin.

They are university students, graduates as civil engineers, but they are content to work as orchard helpers until they become acquainted with the mannerisms of their adopted country.

"I escaped from my own country," Lorie explained to Kiwanians, telling them that they don't know about freedom until they find they have lost it.

Hundreds of thousands of European eans, behind the Iron Curtain, try to get through the borders. Many do not get beyond nor do they get back, as he had two friends killed at the border trying to escape.

"Why do we escape? Why do we take chances of getting killed? Why do we leave relatives and friends and come here to start all over again? It is a different world," he replied to his own queries, "a different way of thinking. You would find the answer if you lived there for only a few weeks."

Ignorant of Abuses
"Many people believe in Communism but not when they come in touch with it," the speaker continued. They only believe because of their ignorance of the abuses. Communism can be prevented if enough people get acquainted with it, he believed.

"What you read in the magazines and papers (about Communism) is true and you must believe in them... There are as many parties fighting Communism in Yugoslavia as there are religions in America."

The speaker gave a short resume of Yugoslavian politics, told of the forces which fought for Mikhallovitch during World War II and how he had shunned Tito's advances because he knew about Communism and wanted to fight for the western democracies.

Those patriots kept on fighting against Nazism and Communism at the same time.

Communism he described as a mixture of promises and terrorism. Communists are good psychologists and told stories of killings perpetrated by Communists in such a manner that hatred of neighboring peoples and countries would be engendered.

High school youths who are "crazy about secret organizations," fall easy prey to Communist teachings, as the Communists make "them feel like men." Mutual distrust and fear are part of the Communist scheme, playing father against son and son against father, so that nobody is secure and everybody watches everybody else.

Mr. Reljic described living conditions in Yugoslavia, saying that weekly pay is between $2 and $3. The weekly ration card can be consumed in two or three days, and for the rest of the week food must be obtained from the black market, at prices 20 to 30 times normal.

Taxes are so high that farmers cannot afford to cultivate more land than is just sufficient for their own needs. All industry is controlled by the government as are most retail outlets. Only 5 to 7 percent of the people in Yugoslavia are really Communists, he felt.

Macs Still in Third Spot but Margin Is Slight as Kelowna Wins 12-4

The race for third and fourth positions in the Okanagan-Mail-line baseball league tightened considerably last night when Summerland Macs dropped a 12-4 decision to Kelowna Orioles.

Macs are still clinging to third spot, behind Penticton and Kamloops but Oliver and Kelowna are tied in the next slot and are breathing down the Macs' neck.

Standing of these three teams is:

	P	W	L	Pct
Macs	17	8	9	.470
Oliver	15	7	8	.466
Kelowna	15	7	8	.466

Oliver was to have played at Penticton last night but the game was washed out.

Macs and Kelowna could only get in seven innings last night, two four-run innings proving disastrous for the Macs as Wally Lesmeister proved the winning pitcher.

Kato Has Bad Night
Fred Kato was the bad boy of the Macs, committing three miscues in the fifth frame to account for most of the four runs which scampered across.

Wally Day couldn't locate the Gould committed an error in the third which allowed another Kelowna score.

Wally Day scored in the fifth when he singled and was driven home by Gould. Taylor got the final runs for the Macs when he opened the sixth with a double, scoring when Jomori was safe on Daske's miscue at first.

The game was sewed up in the fifth when Kato committed his three crimes.

Metcalf Is Injured

Frank Metcalf received a severe crack on the elbow from Kaiser's bat when Day, off the mound, threw home to catch Lesmeister stealing and Kaiser interfered by taking a swing at the ball.

X-ray of the elbow revealed last night that it was severely bruised but not cracked.

Daske was the big noise for Kelowna, driving in five runs with a triple and two singles.

The game didn't start until seven o'clock and should not have been played as a league contest.

Elderly Resident Passes After 45 Years in District

Another link with early days in Summerland was severed on Friday, July 18, when Mrs. Frances Tingley passed away in her 92nd year.

Born in Sackville, N.B., in 1860, she came west to Summerland in 1807 with her husband and family, and settled on a fruit ranch in this fast-growing community.

Predeceased by her husband in 1913 she leaves three daughters, Mrs. Amy Payne, Massachusetts; Mrs. Marjorie Collinson, Crofton V.I.; and Mrs. Gordon Robertson, Summerland; and two sons, Roger A. and Bedford A., both of Summerland; and six grandchildren.

Funeral service was conducted from Summerland Baptist church on Monday, July 21, at 2:30 o'clock, with Mr. Kenneth Knight officiating. Interment was in Peach Orchard cemetery with Roselawn Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were E. Kercher, Tom McDonald, Dan Rutherford, Arnold Gayton, George Henry and Vern Charles.

Mino Family Leaves For Ontario Home

Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Mino and their two little girls, Judy and Lois, who have spent a couple of years in the west have left to make their home in Ontario. Mr. Mino has been at college in the States, and Mrs. Mino and the children were at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. James.

They are to visit at the home of Mr. Mino's parents at Newmarket, Ont., later going to a camp meeting at Thamesford where there will be a conference at which he will be appointed as a minister to a Free Methodist church in the eastern province.

Fifty Horticulturists Go to Naramata to View Lovely Gardens

About fifty members of Summerland Horticultural Society increased the happy feeling of reciprocity which exists between Summerland and Naramata gardeners when they drove over to the latter lovely spot on Friday evening, July 18, to visit the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Sammet, and Mona's Isle, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gawne.

The Sammets are members of Summerland Horticultural group and often exhibit specimens from their garden at flower shows here. Last Friday their roses were remarkably beautiful and the lawns and view from both places were delightful.

Begonias which are intriguing to many Okanagan gardeners with their brilliant waxy color were featured at the Gawnes, and it was there that the ladies of the United Church served a delicious supper for those attending.

Kelowna Regatta Gathers Stars From Northwest

Western Canada's biggest water spectacle is scheduled to get underway for the 46th year next Thursday, July 31, when the annual international Kelowna Regatta swings into action for three days.

Commodore, Col. W. G. Swan of Vancouver, will officially open the big show on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and right afterwards the first swim events will take place.

There will be swim races, war canoe and sculling races, motorboat and other types of boat races, with many novelty stunts sandwiched in between. Competitors from all parts of the Pacific Northwest are expected.

Bands are always a big part of the regatta program and this year the HMCS Naden band is one of the top entertainment features. Other bands include the Vernon McIntosh girls pipe band, Canadian Legion pipe band, Kelowna junior band and B.C. Dragons' band, and the Vernon cadets band.

The regatta parade is one of the first events, going down Bernard avenue at 1:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon. That evening, the Lady of the Lake pageant will be a big feature, which the next two evenings pageants around the Aquatic Rhythms of '52 are being prepared. Some of the other attractions are fireworks, an arts and crafts exhibition Friday afternoon at the arena, the Marpole Majorettes and dances every evening.

UIC Increases Rates Of Benefit, Reduces Period of Waiting

Two of the recent amendments to the unemployment insurance act, those increasing rates of benefit and reducing the waiting period, came into force, by proclamation, on July 14.

The top rate of benefit paid to a person entitled to the dependency rate will now be $4 a day and, for a single person $2.85 a day. These were $3.50 and $2.70 respectively.

The increased rates and the reduction in waiting days will apply only to days of unemployment that occur on or after July 14.

Another amendment extends until April 15 of each year the period during which supplementary benefits will be paid. Of interest also is an amendment providing that there will be no discrimination in the selection of applicants for placement because of racial origin, color, religious belief, or political affiliation. The commission, through its rational chain of employment offices, has been following the practice legalized in this amendment. The principle now is given statutory recognition in the amendment.

Before the amending bill was passed the maximum benefit which could be paid to a person with a dependent was $21 a week. This is increased to $24. On a daily basis, the increase is from $3.50 to $4. The other classes of benefit, except the two lower classes, show comparable increases. It was felt that in the case of the two lower classes benefit was as high as possible without resulting in the danger of over-insurance.

The waiting period follows an application for benefit and occurs at the beginning of each benefit year. It has, in the past, consisted of eight days during which no benefit was paid. Also, at the beginning of each period of unemployment, there is what is known as "one non-compensable day". This made a total of nine days. The result of the amendment will be that no benefits are payable for the first week after a person files a claim rather than for the first nine days as at present.

PRINCETON WINS PENNANT

Princeton Royals wound up their first season's schedule in the Upper Fraser Valley baseball league by capturing the pennant hands down. The Royals won 13 games and lost but three to outdistance the rest of the league by a wide margin. Other teams were Chilliwack, Army, Agassiz and Abbotsford.

GEORGE MABEE LOSES FOOT IN ACCIDENT

George Mabee, of Oliver, prominent figure in BCFGA circles for many years, and also packing house manager, suffered the loss of a foot by amputation following an orchard accident. The BCFGA executive has sent Mr. Mabee a letter of sympathy and good wishes.

AIC Fellowship Goes to A. E. Palmer

Among nine fellowship awards presented at the 32nd annual meeting of the Agriculture Institute of Canada, one recipient known to many here was A. E. Palmer, Lethbridge experimental station, who is best known for his work in soil drifting control and conservation.

Although A. E. Palmer is no relation to the superintendent of the local experimental station, he makes the third Palmer to receive such a fellowship.

Dr. E. F. Palmer, in charge of Vineland experimental station, and his brother, Summerland's own Dr. R. C. Palmer, both have received fellowships in the past few years.

A record number of 753 persons registered for this convention at Ottawa, among them being Dr. H. R. McLarty, chief of the plant pathology laboratory in Summerland.

SAVE WHAT YOU CAN AFFORD TO SAVE REGULARLY

The best way to save is to plan for it. Decide how much you can afford to put aside regularly—every two weeks, for example—and then stick to your plan.

Whatever your reason for saving, this is the sure method to build up a worthwhile sum in your account. Save regularly and you'll have cash when you need it—for your vacation or for Christmas expenses, for the down-payment on your own home, the sudden emergency or the opportunity that's too good to miss.

Why not work out your savings plan today, to fit into the family budget? Or, if you like, come and have a chat with Charles Guernsey, accountant at the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, about it. Canadians keep over a billion dollars in savings in the B of M—more than in any other bank. Open your account at "My Bank", and your savings will grow well in such good company. Adv.

Macs Come From Behind to Beat Oliver in Ninth, Breaking Jinx

It took the Summerland Macs right up to the last moment but they finally broke the jinx last Sunday at the Living Memorial athletic park and defeated Oliver Elks by a 6-5 count, Lefty Gould crossing over for the winning counter assisted by three Oliver errors.

Oliver led all the way through until the eighth frame when Macs knotted the count with a two-run uprising and then went on to win the game in the 9th.

Gil Jacobs was the starting pitcher, but was relieved in the fifth by Wally Day who was credited with the win. Jacobs yielded four runs and Day one. Steffens gave up five runs and then yielded to Harold Cousins who came in in the 9th to be dubbed the losing pitcher.

It was a bad day for the south-erners on the field, as they committed ten miscues. Macs weren't playing errorless ball, by any means, as they had five miscues tagged against them.

There was plenty of action in the field as only six strikeouts were recorded for the entire game.

Oliver went into an early lead, getting one run in the first frame and three more in the second.

Sibson led off with a hit and stole second. Fritz was safe when Kato made the first of his two errors. Coy fouled deep into left and Kuroda gathered it in, Sibson scoring after the catch.

Sibson accounted for two runs in the second when, with two away, he tripled, Eisenhut having got on bases on Gould's error and Steffen following with a single. Fritz' grounder to Alkin was muffed and Sibson scored to give Oliver a 4-0 lead.

Final Oliver tally came in the fifth when Fritz and Coy singled and Jacobs gave way to Day. Fleming walked and Fritz came across as Day failed to find the plate and walked Cousins with the bases loaded.

Day Takes Control
From then on, however, Day regained control and after a narrow squeak in the sixth retired Oliver batters in order for the last three frames.

Macs started to come back in the fifth when Vanderburgh miscued Jomori's grounder. The latter stole second and came home on a wild pitch. Day walked, was advanced when Catcher Martino interfered with Kuroda, coming home on an error by Martino.

The local boys drew nearer in the sixth when Taylor drew a walk and was scored by Richardson's single to right field. The latter caught in place of Metcalf.

In the 8th, the tying runs scamp-ered across when Taylor again started the uprising with a single, again being brought across by Richardson. The latter knotted the count when Fritz threw wildly.

Gould was the hero in the 9th when he singled, got to second on an error and scored as two more infield miscues were debited against Oliver. Alkin was responsible for the score as his hard driven ball was party knocked down by Cousins and Eisenhut failed to hold it.

Keen Contests At Rifle Range Next Sunday

Teams from Kamloops, Vernon, and Pentiction, plus at least one squad from the coast are expected to converge on Summerland this Sunday for the annual invitation shoot of the Summerland Rifle club.

Some of the best rifle shooting in the province will be exhibited here Sunday when five trophies go on the block. Chief of the trophies is the Summerland shield, which is awarded to the winning five-man team competing in the team competition.

Individual trophies include the Dunsdon shield for high aggregate, the Summerland cup for the best score at 200 yards, the Sports Centre trophy for the best score at 500 yards and the George C. Rose cup for 600 yards high score.

Instructors Pass Swim Safety Tests

With Dick Mitchell, Red Cross director, supervising, 25 swimmers passed the Canadian Red Cross swimming and water safety test for instructors given earlier this month at the Aquatic club in Kelowna, it has been announced.

Renewal instructor who passed her test was Ruth Klux of Summerland while among the provisional instructors listed is Joan Dixon, also of Summerland.

Taylor Still Top Man for Macs Batting at .310 Clip in League

Summerland Macs' batting averages for games in the Okanagan-Mainline baseball league have improved over listings in the earlier part of the season, with George Taylor showing the way with a merry .310 clip.

Ernie Rucks isn't far behind with an even .300, while Rocky Richardson has .272 and Lefty Gould .241.

In all games played this season, with the exception of last Sunday's which has not been included in the averages, Taylor is even better with .342, Rucks has .290, Richardson .233 and Gould .223. Metcalf comes in ahead of Gould with .230 for the season.

Following is the tabulation of what the Summerland Macs have been doing this season in league play:

Brawner Top Rifle Shot

Chuck Brawner, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Brawner, Garnet Valley, has received word from the Canadian Civilian Association of Marksmen, Inc., Montreal, that he led his team from the University of Manitoba in the inter-university sporting rifle match.

Not only did the two U of M teams place first and second in Canada in this competition, but Brawner was the leading marksman of the winning team.

Dog Finds Boat His Master Fished From

Mr. Frank Jacob's dog slept in a boat at Garnet Valley dam not long ago; Maybe he didn't like it too well, but there he felt he had some connection with his master.

Mr. Jacobs and Gil had been fishing at the dam. Each had taken his dog along leaving them on shore while they fished. When they were ready to go home Gil's animal was there, but the other dog could not be found, so they left without him.

The next day returning to look for him he was found lying in the boat in which they had been on the water, and they believe that he had spent the night there.

Desilets Hurls Red Sox to Win

Playing an exhibition tilt at Naramata last Thursday evening, Red Sox triumphed 12-6 as Desilets hurled steady ball to hold the Nomads in check.

Cristante had a large evening with three for five, while Siegrist and Anderson hit .500 each, both getting triples. Karrer was the losing pitcher, giving way to H. Luxton in the eighth. Desilets whiffed 13 and walked four while Karrer struck out 6 and issued two free passes.

Luxton yielded two of the Red Sox runs in the last two frames, and gave up three hits, Karrer having been socked for nine in the previous seven stanzas.

Red Sox took a commanding lead 4-1 in the first frame, but it was a disastrous 8th inning which made the difference, the Sox showing over six runs.

Kamloops in Crucial Game Here Sunday

One of the crucial baseball games of the season is scheduled for athletic park this Sunday as Kamloops Elks, complete with newly-acquired Pitcher Baz Nagle, come to Summerland to meet the third-place Macs.

Macs tumbled Oliver out of third spot with the narrow 9th-inning 6-5 victory last Sunday and can nudge the far northerners for second place if they beat them here.

Nagle has established himself as the man to beat in this league, having taken Pentiction and youthful Ted Bowsfield apart on two previous occasions. He also pitched for Kelowna Orioles at Nelson and helped them win $750 second place money in the big tournament there in connection with the hockey and curling bonspiel earlier in July.

Incidentally, Kelowna Orioles had such a dispute over the splitup of this prize money that Coach Larry Schlosser and First Baseman Hank Tostenson resigned. Rudy Kitsch has taken over the managerial reins. Schlosser and Tostenson felt that the money should go into club funds while the players wanted to split the booty.

Wally Day has regained a lot of his confidence and when he settled down for three innings last Sunday he whirled the horsehide in with convincing speed.

Gil Jacobs has beaten Pentiction twice but has been having difficulty with his control at other times. He is showing signs of getting back into his old stride, however, so that whoever Manager Lloyd Day gives the nod to start next Sunday's contest should show Kamloops plenty of stuff.

Rocky Richardson has been holding down the catching job the last two games, as regular backstop Frank Metcalf has been out with an injury. Metcalf should be back in harness soon.

Macs have three games left before the league schedule is concluded. They entertain Kamloops here Sunday, and Pentiction the following Sunday, August 3, with the postponed game at Kamloops still to be decided.

In Washington the meeting called for improvement of the section from Ellensburg north across Blewett Pass; continued work on 97 south from the Canadian border to Wenatchee; and designation of the highway between Ellensburg and Wenatchee via Vantage and Quincy as Alternate 97.

In Oregon, the association wants a realignment of the Terrebonne-Crooked River section and improvement of the LePine-Bend section.
It was also recommended that the designation of B.C. 97 be extended north through Kamloops and Prince George to Dawson Creek to keep the highway's identity uniform. It was further suggested that Highway 97 be extended south into southern California.

Because most travellers follow highway designations by number rather than by names, a study was recommended as to the use of a suitable publicity name for the association, such as International Highway 97 or the like, which incorporates the number. This would

The Canadian tariff protection has been cut in half, at least, was the contention of A. R. Garrish, Oliver, BCFGA president.
Possibility of shipping Okanagan apricots to eastern Canada is being investigated by Tree Fruits' Governor Reg Duncan of Penticton informed Walter Toevs, who had queried if the sales agency was planning shipments east.

Speakers during the meeting included Evan Jones, deputy minister of the department of public works, Victoria; E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister, department of trade and industry, Victoria; W. A. Thirsk Dam at 49-Foot Level

Two reports, five days apart, were heard by municipal council on Tuesday on the water storage situation at Thirsk dam.

Foreman E. Kercher reported that on July 12 Thirsk dam was at the 49 foot 10 inch level. He opened the gate another 1 1/4 inches to an opening of six inches.

On July 19 he again visited Thirsk dam, opened the gate another inch to provide a seven-inch opening. The water then was at the 49-foot level and going down at the rate of three inches every 24 hours.

Fruit Cocktail Discussed
The million cases of fruit cocktail imported in the past year from the United States was discussed by the meeting as one of the causes of canned fruit backing up so much in canners' warehouses in the past year.

President A. R. Garrish told the district council session this subject had been widely discussed by the Canadian Horticultural Council, but it was found that canned peaches from California had been imported in increasing numbers from the U.S.A. in the same proportion as the fruit cocktail increase.

In the east, government cabinet ministers had stated they will not embark on any changes in the Geneva trade agreement, and the duty of one cent a pound on fruit cocktail will remain even though the tariff protection on most of its component parts is 2 1/2 cents per pound.
The agreement which concerns this fruit cocktail will not be up for revision for a year, at least, it was stated.

The agreement which concerns why Canadian canners had not started to process a similar fruit cocktail, the answer being made by eastern canners that they had not seen their way clear to purchasing such expensive machinery for the process.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
July 28, 1922.

Council has been finding it difficult to obtain permission to lay a pipe line at the irrigation intake on Trout Creek since the owner, Mrs. Foster Knox, wishes an additional $50 added to the $200 offered, and also has asked that the municipality pay its own legal expenses.

Councillor Kirk tendered his resignation as chairman of the water committee since certain recommendations made by him had not been taken into consideration. As well, measuring boxes which he pronounced unsuitable had been put in without his knowledge. When pressed by members of the board and several compromises made, Councillor Kirk agreed to withdraw his resignation.
Directors of the Summerland Storage Co. have been re-elected and include W. H. Hayes, Major E. E. Hutton, R. H. Helmer, O. F. Zimmerman, G. Thornber, E. R. Simpson and P. G. Dodwell.

Councillor Kirk has complained that too much council work is being carried on in camera and that approximately $2,760. Mr. Porter advised, however, that if the municipality wishes to supervise the construction, architect's fees will be only 3.5 percent, or a saving of $1,100.

If the basement is not finished completely, as required now in the specifications, then a saving could be made in eliminating complete heating for the entire basement, it was stated.

The council had decided to use electricity as the means of heating the building.

Tenders were received as follows: Olsson, Pollock & Taylor, Penticton, $45,969; M. J. Busch & Son, Kelowna, $46,450; Dominion Construction Co. Two Possibles at Range on Sunday

Two possibles on the 500 yard range were recorded at Garnet Valley rifle butts last Sunday, Ed Gould gaining his to tie George Dunsdon for top score with 100 each, while Len Shannon was enabled to tie Fred Dunsdon in second place spot with 98 each.

Other scores were: Ted Dunsdon 95, Art Dunsdon, Bert Simpson and Phil Dunsdon, 93 each, Jack Dunsdon, 92 E. Gillespie 91, D. Taylor 90, Steve Dunsdon 87, Pop Dunsdon, 84.

Q
At what age do most women retire?

Ten years earlier than men... usually at 55.

They also live longer. Business women, therefore, require retirement income for a much longer period of time than men. Many women find Mutual Life of Canada policies, with their absolute safety, their steady increase in values and their long record of generous dividend payments, the best possible way of providing adequate income for the future. Discuss your problem today with a Mutual Life of Canada representative.

The Summerland Review

Vol. 7, No. 31

West Summerland, B.C., Thursday, July 31, 1952

THIS SPECIAL FOUR-CENT STAMP was issued to commemorate the 18th International Red Cross Conference being held in Toronto from July 23 to August 9. The stamp is printed in blue and red—the third time that two-colored stamps have been issued in Canada. In 1898 the Imperial penny postage "map stamp" was printed in red and blue, and in 1939 another two-color stamp commemorated the visit of the late King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. This is the first time that Canada has been selected for an International Red Cross Conference.

Terrific Scores Recorded Here at Biggest Rifle Shoot in Interior History

Biggest entry list ever recorded at an interior rifle shoot competed last Sunday for the coveted trophies and prizes indicating championships of the Summerland Rifle club's annual invitational shoot. Seventy-eight marksmen from most interior points and the coast competed, with the crack five-man team from Kamloops posting the incredible score of 498 out of a possible 525 to capture the B.C. Dragons shield, emblematic of team honors.

Weather Right For Regatta On Wednesday

Sweltering in the heat of a mid-summer sun this week, promoters of the second annual Summerland Regatta are wondering just how the weather could have let them down last week.

Last Wednesday, July 23, it was too cold and the rain threat was too prevalent to permit the operation of the Summerland Regatta at Powell Beach. Since then, it has grown steadily hotter, until today is recorded as one of the warmest days of the summer.

Kelowna Gets British Empire Games Rowing?

On the eve of the big 48th annual Kelowna International Regatta which gets underway today and lasts until Saturday, comes the surprise news from Vancouver that the 1954 British Empire Games rowing events may be held on Okanagan Lake opposite the Orchard City.

All Varieties Show Increase

Top Union Post Goes To Johnston

Summerland is soon to lose one of its prominent citizens, Reid A. Johnston, who received word yesterday that he has been appointed general chairman of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, (CPR lines) for the territory Fort William west.

This is an elective position which he will hold for four years and will be stationed at Winnipeg. If he chooses he can stand for re-election at the end of the period.

Besides CPR telegraphers, Mr. Johnston will represent union men on the E & N Railway on Vancouver Island and the Northern Alberta Railway operating from Edmonton to Pouce Coupe.

Mr. Johnston has been granted an indefinite leave of absence from his post as agent for the CPR station in West Summerland, a post he has held since 1927. He also is well known in Merritt where he started work for the KVR in 1917. He was in the Nicola valley until 1924, and then spent three years at Coalmont and Beaverdale. His railroad career commenced at Nakusp in 1909.

Mr. Johnston has taken an active interest in civic affairs in Summerland during his residence here. He was reeve for two years in the post-war period, and was a member of the municipal council a few years back.

Always prominent in the Summerland Board of Trade, he was president for two years and donated the Reid Johnston Good Citizen cup which is one of the most coveted awards presented in the community. He has just completed a term as president of the Rotary Club of Summerland.

It was in 1918 that he was first made chairman of the KVR division of the telegraphers' union, a post he has held without a break ever since. For the past ten years he has been schedule representative for the telegraphers of B.C.

Blacktop to Be Started By Weekend

Yesterday finishing touches were put on the cement curbing installed on the new parking area being constructed at the entrance to the Living Memorial park playground.

This area is now ready for oiling in preparation for the final hard surfacing layer.

Besides the cement curbing dividing the area into two, the municipal roads department has installed a cement curbing and a gutter for rain removal along the west side of the parking area next to the bowling alley building.

Laying of the preliminary oil surface on Park lane, which parallels Granville on the south side, on the short strip of Pender street south, up the Baptist church hill and along Jubilee road from the B.C. Fruit Shippers west was completed on Monday.

Les Gould, road foreman, states the hard surfacing program will be commenced before the end of the week. It would have been started before the crew was engaged in the laying of the cement curbs.

Open Tenders for New Bridges, Flood Control on August 14

Not only has the public works department of the B.C. Government called for tenders for Okanagan flood control but bids for the construction of bridges over Okanagan river at Eckhardt avenue, Fairview road and Skaha Lake to tie in with the flood control project and the new Okanagan highway have been called.

Thursday, August 14, is the date selected for opening the tenders for the bridges and for Section A of the flood control project, which comprises channel construction from Skaha to Okanagan lakes and the reconstruction of the control dam at Okanagan Lake.

After two years' delay, this work is about to commence and is expected to provide employment throughout most of the winter months.

It was in 1948, after the high-water which did so much damage to property along Okanagan Lake and river south to the border that the Okanagan Flood Control committee was set up, with W. B. Hughes-Games of Kelowna as chairman.

By 1950, it was thought that the federal and provincial governments had reached an understanding and that the work would proceed immediately, as the money was voted.

International complications arose, however, when American interests sought protection for blue back salmon which sometimes use Okanagan river to spawn. It took almost two years to reach an agreement on that score through the international joint waterways commission.

The Eckhardt avenue bridge, as listed in the most recent tender notice, will serve as the main approach to Penticton on the reconstructed Penticton-Trout Creek section of Highway No. 97. It is understood.

When the dam is reconstructed at the foot of Okanagan Lake, the present bridge will be eliminated and the highway extended farther south to connect with the new Eckhardt avenue bridge. This will take the highway off lakeshore in Penticton.

In the meantime, work on reconstructing the Penticton-Trout Creek section is proceeding rapidly and a large number of machines and men are employed in making a new highway along the lakefront.

Would Change Name Of Union Library

Notice of motion was given yesterday afternoon in Kelowna to change the name of the Okanagan Union Library to the Okanagan Regional Library. Voting on this change will take place at the annual meeting.

Oliver Walloped by Red Sox, 17 to 1

In a 7-inning exhibition game at Living Memorial athletic park last night, Summerland Red Sox walloped Oliver Juniors 17-1 in a loosely-played contest which gave the hometowners ample revenge for a recent drubbing they received in the southern town.

Quality of Apricots is Improving as Harvest Starts in Earnest Here

Summerland apricots, now arriving in local packinghouses in ever-increasing numbers with the rush of summer heat this week, are improving in quality and are starting to show more size local packing-houses indicate.

All houses now have a full shift of soft fruit workers employed, although not as many as will find employment during the height of the apple packing season.

Riland apricots are about cleaning up now, and Moorparkers are rolling in increasing numbers. This variety will tend to peak towards the end of the week.

However, apricot packing will be the centre of interest for another ten days, at least until the end of next week as the apricot crop generally has been slow to size and must be delayed until better quality is obtained.

Early arrivals suffered considerably from sun scald and cracking but most of this trouble has now cleaned up and the quality of apricots is improving daily.

There has been little trouble disposing of the crop to date but the trade was disappointed in some of the early varieties, it was stated. There is little trouble expected from deliveries of apricots arriving from now on, it is anticipated.

Peach plums have been rolling this week and the first of the early cookers, Transparents and Astrachans have been cleaned up. Some early Duchess have been released and are coming to the fore as green cookers.

Some early peaches are expected next week in local houses but it will be only a dribble and no tonnage of peaches is expected until nearly mid-month, although this is great maturing weather for peaches.

Canneries Are Starting

Canneries are starting to show signs of life. Cornwall had a run on cherries and will can a few cots on Friday. Full canning deal on the latter fruit will not be commenced until the middle of next week, which is about ten days later than usual.

Barkwill's Ltd. started its season's operations yesterday and expects to be building up its staff until next week when the rush on canning apricots will be underway in earnest.

Garnet Valley cannery is due to start work tomorrow at noon and will get into the main pack next week. The Milne cannery had an eight-day run on cherries and is due to start apricots on Monday or Tuesday.

Sunoka Fruit Processors Ltd. has been operating for about two weeks on glacing cherries.

Penticton Cinches League Pennant

Penticton Athletics, who will appear here next Sunday, virtually cinched the Okanagan-Mainline league pennant last night when they drubbed Oliver Elks 15-4.

In the other league contest, Kamloops Elks forfeited to Vernon when the Elks could not field sufficient players for a team.

League standings prior to last night's victories are on Page 9.

"Jack" Logie, First Druggist in Summerland Passes at Victoria

A man who had much to do with the early development of Summerland died suddenly in Victoria on Monday evening. He was John William Stalker Logie, son of pioneers in this district, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Logie.

Born at Gladstone, Man. in 1881, he took his early education there, then attended business college in Winnipeg where his teacher was Arthur Meighan. Later he graduated from the School of Pharmacy in Winnipeg in 1900, where he was the youngest of his class and the gold medalist. A class mate was the late J. J. Green of Summerland, father of Jim Green, proprietor of Green's Drug Store.

In 1901 he came to Summerland and batched on the hill where the Logie home was later built. His companion was Ken Hogg who became his brother-in-law some years afterward. The Logie family moved here a little later.

In 1902 "Jack" Logie started the first drug store in Summerland. This was at the lower town and just after the town lots were surveyed.

In 1906 he opened the first drug store in Penticton on the site of the present McKee's Drug Store. This he operated for a few years, coming back to run the Summerland Drug Co. first at the lower town, and then in the upper town until 1928.

He spent some time in California returning to Canada in 1936, and was in the public works' account-

Joint Plan With Cannery Is Postponed

It is understood that the prospective deal between B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. and the B.C. cannery industry to evolve a joint plan for advertising their product has been shelved for the time being.

Last week, The Review carried a front page story that proposals along a 50-50 basis of joint advertising had met with favor on the part of many cannery but a definite decision had not been reached.

At the weekend, it was revealed, by W. R. Powell, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. governor, that the cannery had declared there was a great deal of merit in the suggestion brought forward by the tree fruit industry but they were not yet prepared to proceed with the plan.

Suggest New Lid

Included in the joint advertising scheme was the introduction of a new can lid which would emphasize the fact that the contents of the can had been produced in British Columbia.

Costs involved in this new procedure and other plans for a joint advertising scheme which would mean that both the producers and the processors would endeavor to move a greater portion of the canned fruit packed in the province were to have been split on a 50-50 basis, according to the original plan.

Mr. Powell, although expressing his regret that the cannery had not seen fit to proceed with such a joint proposal at this time, declared that the fact some of the cannery agreed the scheme had merit, is a step in the right direction.

The Summerland governor has long been a proponent of closer co-operation between the growers' sales agency and the cannery in order that the producers' goods which go into the can find a ready sale and do not back up on the manufacturer's shelves. This recent negotiation was the closest that the proponents of the scheme have ever come to a joint deal.

Tourist Traffic Nears Hundred Thousand

Nearly 100,000 American cars have crossed border points to holiday in British Columbia in the first six months of this year, it is reported by Hon. A. D. Turnbull, minister of trade and industry.

ing department at Victoria for fifteen years.

After a year in Mexico and Victoria again, he bought the Haultain Pharmacy in the capital city of which he was owner and proprietor at the time of his death.

These things tell only part of the life of Jack Logie, though. He had an illness when he was a year old, and from that time used a crutch. If he thought it a disability no one knew it, as he rode a horse and a bicycle, and he swam and skated.

His brilliant mind was always seeking new fields, and it was he who in 1922 started a branch of the B.C. Arts and Crafts League here and built the log cabin in Peach Orchard for an attempted revival of native arts and crafts—pottery making, basketry, leather work.

He established summer schools bringing in outside speakers. He was a lover of nature and beautiful things.

He was a good friend, a champion of the underdog, and one who knew the Indians and spoke their language so that he could converse with them. Until the last he was in touch with local Indians who wrote to him for advice.

He is survived by his wife in Victoria, two sisters, Mrs. Masonville, at present in Pittsburg; and Mrs. H. C. Whitaker who went to Victoria on Tuesday evening; and a brother, G. E. "Ted" of Summerland.

Cremation will take place at Victoria.

Lack of Tolerance Shown

Last week, a scathing attack on a utilities concern which has done a good job in serving the interests of the Okanagan was made by a public body which had no right to use such tactics.

We refer to the brief compiled in the name of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association by A. D. C. Washington, a Penticton lawyer whose zeal evidently carried the group of municipal fathers beyond the realm of tolerance in making their presentation.

That the OVMA had every right to present a strong case against the telephone company's application for an increase in rates is taken for granted. In this the OVMA did the right thing, but the manner of the presentation has left a good many thinking people in the Okanagan puzzled by the depth of feeling which was allowed to come to the surface.

The simple facts of the case are that the telephone company, in the face of rising costs, asked for a 20 percent increase in rates. This is no more than many unions have done in the past few years, and many business concerns have been forced to follow suit.

The OVMA, on behalf of the subscribers in the Okanagan Telephone Company system, chose to protest the application, after obtaining the services of a firm of chartered accountants to compile figures in an effort to show that such a protest could be justified.

All that was necessary from that point onward was to present the figures and show that the increase was not justified in the light of operating and maintenance costs as estimated by the public utilities company.

But the OVMA brief, which was drafted entirely by the Penticton law firm, we are told, went out of its way to heap coals of fire on the telephone company, berating the firm for service "disgracefully inadequate and inefficient".

We realize that the telephone service provided by the company is not of the best throughout the system. But we also realize that the system is spread over a large, and in places thinly-populated area, and that equipment of this nature has been in short supply because of increased demand for many years.

When the war was concluded, the Okanagan Telephone Company laid its plans for an expansion of the system. This fall, the second major step will be concluded with the installation in Penticton of the dial system. In 1953, the final major exchange in the valley, Vernon, will have automatic equipment.

We are not sufficiently well acquainted with supply and demand to know if this modernization program could have been speeded up at any time but we are quite willing to take the word of the company executives that they have moved as fast as possible. Once these major exchanges are installed next year the telephone company will be as modern, if not more so, than any similar service on the continent.

The OVMA brief shows lack of understanding and a reasonable amount of tolerance. We feel that the OVMA went out of its way to attack unfairly a utility company which has been doing a fair job under severe handicaps.

And the OVMA went completely out of its orbit when it allowed its counsel to suggest that the company should become a government monopoly or a co-operative if it cannot continue without a 20 percent increase in rates.

We have an example of the B.C. Power Commission, a government monopoly in the North Okanagan-Mainline area, whose rates are away and beyond what the South Okanagan pays from a private company, the West Kootenay Power & Light Co. Ltd.

The OVMA should have contented itself with a straight presentation of facts and not allowed its legal counsel to ascend into such clouds of oratory which included such ill-advised scathing comments and suggestions.

We May be Skipped Another Year

It was refreshing to read news reports emanating from Yakima recently that the public works department intends to live up to its promise of continuing to improve Okanagan highway "from Vernon south and Summerland north."

Evan Jones, deputy minister of public works was quoted in Vancouver papers as re-iterating this statement which he made earlier in the year as the general program for 1953.

By the end of this year, most of the major reconstruction on the Penticton-Trout Creek section of Highway No. 97, which is on the new short international route to Alaska from California and all points west of the Rocky Mountains. Next year it is probable that the new road section can be hard surfaced.

So next year the public works department can start improving the road north of Trout Creek. But here is the "catch". It is reported that the public works department still hasn't decided how to get through the municipality of Summerland. As local observers well know, surveys up the Sandhill and along Giant's Head have been made, as well as surveys along the lakefront.

So, until the provincial department makes a definite decision, it is planned to skip Summerland municipality in 1953 and improve the highway from north of Summerland to Deep Creek.

This is alright, as far as it goes, but it doesn't solve the problem which has irked local residents ever since the public works department first mooted a modernization program from Penticton to Peachland in 1947. We need to know where the highway is going to be relocated. It is necessary to our economy and our future planning that the department stop its hedging tactics and come to a decision as to the logical route which should be taken through this municipality.

We need to have the location of the highway clarified so that persons who have property either on the present site or on the future site, wherever it may be, will be able to plan their future operations.

Our member, W. A. C. Bennett, has been critical for the past three years of the public works department for not instituting before this a modernization program on Highway 97 through this part of the South Okanagan riding. Once Mr. Bennett has decided upon his cabinet ministers and has chosen his minister of public works and the cabinet has decided upon an overall road policy, then Mr. Bennett should see to it that no further delay is allowed in coming to an agreement on this section of the highway.

In fairness to the existing officials of the public works department, it is doubtful if they can plan any major project at the present time until a new cabinet minister is appointed and becomes acquainted with general policy.

What may appear to be sensible policy to the paid officials of the department may not coincide with the thinking of the new minister and the new cabinet.

We are paying the price right now for the upset in our political machinery. Let us hope that it will not be too long before some policies can be formulated. As an overall policy, E. C. Carson had one of the best programs ever devised for this province's road system. Let us hope that the Social Credit party carries it on without too many variations.

Signifying Nothing By RUSTICUS

Several times in my life I've run my car tank dry of gasoline, with minor embarrassments; but the last time was a dinger.

We were staying at Banff—not in the 600-room Banff Springs Hotel at $12 per day, but at the public campground at $1.00 for two weeks. It too has 600 rooms—tents, with 25 kitchens to serve them. And if the service isn't as good as in the hotel, there's a lot less formality, you get a wonderful view of Cascade mountain and are apt to see bears wandering around at anytime of the day or night—which is a privilege not available at the hotel.

From here we had motored up to the Columbia icefields, and on our way back, a filling-station loomed up beside the road. Now I knew there were sixty miles of that Banff-Jasper highway to cover before we came to any kind of settlement, and I wasn't at all sure that there were any filling-stations along it; but my gas-tank indicated enough to make it, ordinary driving. You know how you hate to bring yourself to stop, once you get going in a car? That feeling was there too, and so, though I well knew that it's better to be using the top half of a gasoline tank, we drove on.

Unfortunately, that road was not ordinary driving; it was a succession of hills. There seemed to be more going back than there had been coming out. That meant gear-work, with two or three times as much gasoline used up as when we could roll along in high. I watched my gas gauge anxiously delighted to see how slowly it moved, forgot about it for a while—and when I looked again it marked Empty.

That was a shock. We were still at least thirty miles from the end of the road and I had an uneasy feeling that there would be no more gas stations till we got there. What was worse, evening was chilling the air, and car traffic had almost disappeared, though I didn't know how I could get gasoline out of another car if I did stop one. It looked very much as though we'd be left gasless on the road there at night among the mountains.

We had all our camping-gear with us; but the thought of camping alone out there didn't appeal to us much. Park bears haven't the fear of man that they possess in hunted areas, and we had just seen a couple of big, glossy black ones; what if they came to investigate our tent during the night? What about wolves, cougars, or blundering bull moose?

We drove on. Fast, so as to keep in high gear as much as possible, sweating every time we had to change, listening constantly for the sputter of dying fuel supply. There had seemed to be public campgrounds along side the road, when we drove up, every few miles, and now our great hope was to reach one of these for the night, but none appeared. The time ticked by, the shadows deepened, and we wondered mightily how far one can go on a gas tank that registers Empty.

We passed a sign that said "Num-Ti-Jah Lodge,—miles" and thought of turning in there, despite our rough clothes and thin purses; surely they wouldn't charge $9.00 a night to camp in the back yard? But maybe they would be too high class to allow a tent around at all. We drove on.

Came a long down-grade, which we loved and hoped would last forever; we could coast there even if the gas did fall. Then it ended swung upward again; the engine took hold, purring steadily, but it couldn't last much longer.

And then we saw the campground. It was only a small one beside the road, with one other car in it, a kitchen, and a few open spaces under the trees; but to us it was more welcome than the Chateau Lake Louise with all its staff on the steps to greet us. We turned in, set up our tent and sleeping-bag, settled down for the night. Other campers told us it was twenty miles still to the nearest filling-station, but that was a problem which could be faced much better at the beginning of the next day.

And the next day, after a chilly night during which the dog barked every few minutes, it seemed, at bears and porcupines, we bought half a gallon of stove gas from another camper, added what we had left of the same, and finished our drive.

I've never let our gas tank get more than half-empty since.

OBSERVE TRAFFIC SIGNALS
Court records are apparently sometimes more illuminating than traffic lights. They show that a large percentage of urban accidents are due solely to failure to heed "Stop" signs and traffic lights.

The Law Says:
You must come to a FULL STOP at all "Stop-Signs" and that does NOT mean merely slowing down, shifting into low gear and then proceeding with gay abandon!

When you are driving in more congested traffic than there is in Summerland, OBEY YOUR TRAF-

FIC LIGHTS and that includes the YELLOW one. It is a "cautionary", and is not placed there to add to the local color of the town. It means "stop" at the crosswalk and isn't a "come-on" for a sneak run through the line.

Only when you are in the intersection or where stopping would cause an accident are you permitted to continue in the face of it. Otherwise, yellow indicates it is time to STOP, not start.

With Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton having stop lights now, this advise is handed on to drivers as a precautionary note.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

August 4, 1922
Community flying machines in fruit growing districts may soon become a fact, judging from the following report from London: A farmer in Kent, with a 50-acre orchard, has solved in a new way the problem of ridding his fruit trees of a plague of caterpillars. He engaged a flying machine and loaded it with one-half a ton of insecticide. The machine flew to and fro over the trees at a height of 15 to 30 yds scattering the poisonous powder. In half an hour the job was done, and it proved quicker and cheaper and much more effective than spraying the trees from the ground.

That the fruit growers of this district are not thinning as they should and as a result are losing heavily was the opinion expressed by some fruit growers of the Omak district visiting here. They were disappointed, too, in the lack of alfalfa mulch in the orchards, and blamed these two things for the unevenness of the apple crop.

Keith Elliott is on route to the prairies, and is expected to bring back a bride with him.

The Beta Pi fraternity of Rover Scouts were hosts at a most enjoyable dance in the parish hall, when Mr. Peck presided at the piano assisted by Miss Ida Shields and Miss Bertha Johnston.
A runaway took place when Ralph Harwood's horse took fright at Harvey and Eley's lumber yard, and incidentally made a little work for the harness maker and blacksmith.

and J. Victor Wilson was also high on the list. Those passing on recommendation were Agnes Handley, James May, Audrey Reynolds, Billy Andrew, Wesley Tavender, Donald McLachlan, Margaret Caldwell, Gladys Darke, Donald Orr, Freemap Reid, Janie Simpson, Charles Bleasdale, Edward Joy, Norris Laidlaw, Jean Fisher, Bob Butler, Sadie Purves and Marino Biagioli.

Two delegations met municipal council to discuss plans for a community hall, and to ask for financial assistance in getting out a folder to advertise this district as a desirable location for business investors, those seeking homes, or agricultural advantages.

Summerland for the second baseball season has brought home the Spalding Cup with a good margin to their credit in the scoring, having defeated Oliver in Penticton 14 runs to 6 in the final game.

People in the Peach Orchard are tendering thanks to Gordon Blewett for having built a small wharf there.

Local pupils passing their music exams from the Toronto Conservatory were Billy Andrew, Violet Atkins, primary class; Walter Powell and Edith Atkins, elementary; and Margaret Steven and Mary Young in the introductory with Margaret Tavender winning honors in this group.

The Kelowna stage has put on a new bus between that city and Penticton, seating eleven passengers in considerably more comfort than the former accommodation. Although it is a closed car it does not weigh any more than the one formerly used on the route.

Kelowna bowlers have sent down four entries for the J. W. Jones Cup, and local enthusiasts are anticipating an interesting time.

An Appreciation

On Friday, July 18, we silently congregated to pay our last respects to the memory of one of our exemplary citizens — Frederick James Nixon.

Judged in the light of unremitting and consistent service, he stood as one apart.

Coming into the district as a young man during the early stages of community development, he quietly took his turn of the variety of tasks offering the newcomer of that day. A trait then clearly noticeable was the striking versatility of the man.

When the district was incorporated as a municipality, he entered its service in a clerical capacity, and as a result of consistent sobriety, study and industry became the municipal clerk, and from then onward his very name became synonymous with efficiency and sound municipal government principles.

Of a truth it can be said that with loyal heart and purest hands he faithfully discharged all public trusts; knew his duty, and hewed to the line without fear or favor, and without a shadow of ostentatious display.

Taking him all in all, we scarcely expect to look upon his like again.—Contributed.

RUSSEL ON SAC

R.R. 1, Summerland, B.C.
June 25, 1952.

Editor, The Review.

I feel it necessary to draw the attention of the badminton club members to the very serious position they are in personally. Owing to the very confused accounts that are being kept, they do not really know what is happening. As one instance for the 1950-51 season the tennis players actually contributed more to the badminton than the badminton players themselves.

I walked out of the general meeting of the SAC of April 1951 after protest, because there were so many things out of order that it was a farce and sent in a written protest the next day.

During last summer I begged the president and treasurer again and again to have a meeting with a lawyer. I wrote a long letter to the Treasurer explaining his duties and phoned him almost monthly.

During a meeting with the president and their lawyer about January I managed to bring up this question and their own lawyer confirmed my contention that the said meeting was out of order.

Therefore since April 1951, there has been no legal committee of the SAC.

In March I got a firm of lawyers to give it very full consideration and they pointed out that since Oct. 1950 the badminton club has completely dissociated itself from the SAC. That the people now occupying the premises are only common tenants and liable as such for a rent of 10% plus on the value of the property. This being a body of people, not incorporated, each member is liable for 2 years rent, say $1500 or more.

They advised the proper thing to do is to get the court to appoint a receiver but this would add another $600 or more to these people's costs.

I am still hoping to get the club on the rails again by internal arrangement. There are still some of us who are members of good standing as of April 1951 and could form a legal committee to re-organize the club, but before doing so I must have a written resignation from the present occupiers. Other wise these people can go on as they are with an ever increasing liability of $700 or more a year and subject any moment to a receivership. They must be exceedingly careful not to commit the SAC in any way as this would be fraudulent, and of no effect as far as the club is concerned, and bring the persons concerned under criminal law. I omit a great many further details.

As I wish to avoid court action if possible, I arranged with my lawyers that I was free to take These will be familiar pictures in your kitchen during the next few weeks! Whether you make jams, jellies or marmalades, use the best fruits, the best equipment and the best methods, and you will be able to serve these colorful "touches of summer" with pride.

Most people have their own favorite recipes, but in case you haven't, here are a few that might help you out, plus a few hints for the inexperienced in jam and jelly making.

First wash, rinse and sterilize your jars by inverting them in 1 to 2 inches of hot water, bring to boil and boil 15 minutes. Leave in hot water until you need them.

The fruit, which is prepared according to the individual recipes, should be measured accurately, and it's best not to use more than three quarts for one lot of jam.

Black Currant Jam

Wash, top and tail 6 cups black currants. Add 5 cups water and bring to boil and pre-cook 15 minutes uncovered. Add 6 1/2 cups sugar, bring to boil, and boil uncovered 5 to 7 minutes or until it reaches jam stage. Yields about 7 1/2 cups.

Gooseberry Jam

Wash, top and tail 12 cups gooseberries. Add 3 cups water, bring to boil, and pre-cook 15 minutes, uncovered. Add 7 1/2 cups sugar. Bring to boil, and boil, uncovered, 5 to 7 minutes or until it reaches jam stage. Yields about 8 cups.

Jewel Jam

Six cups unpitted cherries (4 cups pitted), 4 cups gooseberries, 4 cups red currants, 4 cups raspberries, 3 cups sugar.

Wash fruit. Pit cherries, top and tail gooseberries, stem currants. Combine fruits, crush slightly, bring to boil and boil uncovered, 15 minutes. Add sugar, bring to boil and boil uncovered until it reaches jam stage, 10 to 12 minutes. Pour into hot sterilized jars. Cool slightly and seal. Yields about 10 cups.

Dr. McLarty Returns From AIC Meetings

Dr. H. R. McLarty returned on Sunday after a month in eastern Canada where he attended the annual meeting of the Agricultural Institute of Canada. This institute is a professional organization for agriculturalists having several thousand members throughout the dominion.

While in the east Dr. McLarty visited at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. Sargent, who are moving to Toronto, and on the way home he visited his son and daughter-in-law, 2nd Lt. Hugh and Mrs. McLarty at Shilo, Man.

In Manitoba, too, Dr. McLarty went to the experimental farm just south of Winnipeg at Morden where he investigated virus conditions which are affecting the sand cherry, a species of prunus, which the station there is trying to develop as a successful prairie fruit.

Swimmer's Itch Being Probed By Health Unit

The problem of "Swimmer's Itch" or "Bathers' Itch" technically known as Schistosomae Dermatitis has finally been considered by the authorities as sufficiently important to warrant a survey of its prevalence in the Okanagan Valley, states the South Okanagan Health Unit MHO, Dr. D. A. Clarke.

Throughout this summer season, a survey is being made of this phenomenon, extending from as far north as Mabel Lake, to Osoyoos Lake near the border, covering all the important bathing beaches between these two points. The survey is under the auspices of the department of health and welfare, and is being carried out by Marjorie Dupont, of Metchosin, Vancouver Island, and Don Edwards, of Kelowna.

Miss Dupont is attending medical school at the University of B.C., during the winter session, while Mr. Edwards is doing post-graduate work in zoology.

The survey is making use of all the facilities of the South Okanagan Health Unit, and the analysis of specimens and water is carried out at the health unit headquarters office in Kelowna.

The phenomenon known as swimmer's itch is frequently contracted in many localities throughout the Okanagan, says Dr. Clarke. It is characterized by an intense itching sensation felt as water dries on the skin, immediately after bathing. At this time, too, small red macules, similar to freckles appear on the area affected, and these may develop into small papules of short duration.

It should be stated that this "disease" is not caused by a bacterium or virus, but by a very small parasitic organism, which burrows into the skin and dies, setting up an irritation. This minute parasite lives within the body of snails. Snails are found in considerable numbers in these interior lakes of B.C.

During the hot months of the summer, this parasite escapes the body of the snail from under the shell and seeks the soft skin of

BLACKTOPPING ONLY GOES TO PROPERTY LINE

It has been pointed out to The Review that an erroneous impression had been gained from a recent municipal council report that the municipality will share on a 50-50 basis hardtopping the driveway to the W. J. Beattie home.

This does not include the Beattie private driveway, but only that portion between the present blacktop and the property line. The council is prepared to enter into similar schemes with owners, as long as the municipal portion of the cost is not more than $25.

water fowl, where it enters the blood stream, and again lives parasitically on its new "host". If however, the parasite comes in contact with the human skin instead of that of a water fowl, it will burrow into the skin and die.

The itching sensation felt immediately after swimming in an area in which these parasites are prevalent, is caused by the penetration of the parasitic organisms, and the red macular development is the result of this penetration.

Swimmer's Itch is not dangerous from an infectious standpoint, and is important in that it is a great source of irritation. However, it can become secondarily infected by scratching. Since it is a sensitization phenomenon, one becomes more susceptible to it with each case.

The trouble produced by this tiny parasite can be considerably reduced by drying the skin vigorously with a towel immediately after bathing. This removes many of the small organisms before they have had a chance to enter the skin. Oils of any kind do not aid in prevention, but actually facilitate the penetration of the organisms.

It would be appreciated if cases of bather's itch occurring shortly after a swim, were reported to the South Okanagan Health Unit in Kelowna, or to their local physician, concluded Dr. Clarke.

HEPP Meets at Puyallup, Wash.

Last week Dr. R. R. McLarty, Dr. C. G. Woodbridge, Dr. James Marshall and Dr. R. C. Palmer attended a meeting of the horticulturists, entomologists and plant pathologists, known as the HEPP society, held at Puyallup, Wash.

A joint technical paper written by Dr. Woodbridge and Dr. McLarty was presented by the former, the subject of which was "Manganese Deficiency in British Columbia."

Dr. Marshall spoke in an amusing manner on the Entomological Society of B.C. giving a light touch throughout in an entertaining way. Dr. Palmer's address, which was beautifully illustrated with colored slides of his own taking, showing plants and flowers that grow hereabouts, was presented in his droll, diverting way, and had a subject of universal appeal, "The Most Garden For The Least Work."

any action even to meeting any lawyer these people engage in order to explain every detail involved.

Yours truly
R. G. RUSSEL.

New Investment Opportunity in OKANAGAN TELEPHONE COMPANY

One of B.C.'s most productive areas, the Okanagan Valley is enjoying a record period of population growth and development. The Okanagan Telephone Company has consistently increased its operations to keep pace with this expansion, and today serves the Valley with one of Canada's most modern and efficient telephone systems, which will be 88% automatic by the Spring of 1953.

Jill Sanborn Relates Thrills Of First Canadian Guide Camp

Over a thousand girls from places as far apart as Curacao in the Dutch West Indies and Yellowknife, N.W.T., Newfoundland and Jamaica, England and Bermuda, South Africa and the United States, attended the first international Girl Guide Camp held at Ottawa recently from which Jill Sanborn, one of the eight Guides representing South Okanagan-Similkameen returned on Tuesday.

It was a top experience for all the girls, some of whom flew there, most of whom had long train journeys, and many who had hardly been any distance from home before.

Maybe the first night in camp was tinged with homesickness, but with fourteen girls in a group and lots of things to do from early morning until dark, that soon passed. All the girls prepared their own food over trench fires, and Jill says, "It was good, and the hamburgers were wonderful!" Just imagine, every time those girls had hamburgers, it took the equivalent of half a cow, and forty-three pounds of porridge were used at every breakfast.

One highlight, not on the schedule, was a big storm, with terrific wind, rain, and thunder, when a number of tents blew down, and everyone had great fun running around collected things that were blowing away, and holding up tent poles.

a song and dance or both that would typify activities in that province. The B.C. pageant centered round a thunderbird arch, with groups, fishing, ranching, fruit farming, lumbering, and so on in pantomime while suitable songs were sung. Some of the girls did an Indian dance, too. Another song was "Romance and Grandeur Go Hand in Hand," written by E.C. provincial commissioner Mrs. Quinnell.

There was Gossip Town for an exchange of talk about one's own home town, and handicrafts were leatherwork, feltcraft, candle making, gadget making, and construction of puppets.

On visitors' day there were competitions for tent pitching, fire lighting, semaphore, obstacle race, Be Prepared race, and gadget making.

The last night an impressive candlelighting ceremony took place led by Dominion Commissioner Mrs. Wishart of Toronto.

MORE ABOUT—

TOP UNION

Continued from Page 1 and for six years he has worked for telegraphers in all railway lines in the province as legislative representative for B.C.

Mr. Johnston has attended several national and international conferences, having just returned at the first of July from the Order of Railway Telegraphers' grand division convention at St. Louis, Mo.

Last year, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston completed construction of a lovely new home at Crescent Beach. Mrs. Johnston will continue to reside there for a time until more definite arrangements can be made for suitable living accommodation in Winnipeg.

"I'm certainly going to miss Summerland," the genial CPR official told The Review yesterday. He said the move had come too quickly for them to make definite plans for the future.

Voting among Western Canada CPR telegraphers for this post was completed Tuesday evening and Mr. Johnston was notified of his success by wire yesterday morning.

Wife of Former B.C. Cabinet Minister Dies

Funeral services were held yesterday, July 30, at Victoria for Mrs. Addie Mareta Jones, wife of J. W. Jones, a former resident of Kelowna when he was MLA for South Okanagan and minister of finance in the Tolmie government of 1928-32.

A native of Foxboro, Ont., the late Mrs. Jones moved with her family from Kelowna to Victoria in 1930. She is survived by her husband and three daughters.

Among those who have been staying at Cedarbrooke Auto Court are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Scott and family of Aldergrove, and Miss A. M. Scott, Detroit, Mich. who visited Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Boothe while here; Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Moynihan and family; Mr. and Mrs. G. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Monday and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and their daughter Gail, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. J. Mennington, Victoria; and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schrata, Kitchener, Ont.

Guest at Sharpe's Auto Camp during the past week included Mr. and Mrs. J. Stirling, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Michel, Lakeview, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Cournoyer and family, Trail; Mr. and Mrs. Joe De Jong, Lynden, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Granberg, Seattle, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Adams, New Westminster; Mrs. Huff, Miss Huff, Miss Carder, Cloverdale; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Story, Mr. and Mrs. A. McKenzie and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bronn and family, Mrs. Dalton, E. S. Banford, all of Vancouver.

T. H. Joy Family of 57 Enjoys Dinner

A T. H. Joy family reunion took place at Powell Beach on Monday, July 14, when fifty-seven sat down to supper.

Mrs. F. S. Miller, Mrs. Joy's mother, who will be ninety-one the latter part of this month, enjoyed the outing and supper.

Included in the group of relatives were Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Joy, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Joy and three sons of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Joy and two sons, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. W. Charles, Oliver; Miss Harriet Joy; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Embree, with three of their children; Mrs. C. Ketchum, Maynard and Arlene, Port Alberni; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hanson and family; Mr. and Mrs. W. Miller and family, Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller and family, Castor, Alta.; and Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Taggart, who were staying at Cedarbrooke Auto Court; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Miller and family; Mr. and Mrs. G. Halvorson and son; and Mr. W. Hamilton of Shelbourne, N.S.

The delightful supper ended with a generous serving of choice Okanagan raspberries and ice cream, and was a pleasure from start to finish.

Co-Hostesses for Bridal Shower

Mrs. D. V. Fisher and her mother Mrs. S. A. MacDonald were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the home of the former on Thursday evening, July 24, in honor the approaching marriage of Miss Jean McPherson of Calgary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McPherson, whose wedding was an event of Saturday, July 26.

A contest of finding the names of house plants started guests thinking along those lines, and won for Miss Elsie Hack an award of a pot of ivy.

The guest of honor then found that she had won a tremendous flower pot decked with brown and green crepe paper, and apparently filled with daisies. With it came a large watering can in red crepe paper. On closer examination these were found to contain many lovely gifts.

Guests included Mrs. W. L. McPherson, Mrs. H. B. Mair, Mrs. Wm. Jenkinson, Mrs. E. Hack, Mrs. M. Milton, Mrs. H. K. Lott, Mrs. L. Fudge, Mrs. J. Sheeley, Mrs. W. S. McPherson, and Mrs. D. F. H. Millward, Penticton, Mrs. A. D. MacDonald, Kaleden, Miss Christina Mair, and Miss Elsie Hack.

Delicious refreshments were served to conclude a happy evening.

Communists' Prisoner Preaches at Naramata

Dr. Stewart Allen, who was recently interned by the Communists in China, is coming to the Naramata Leadership Training school this week and plans to address a public meeting on the beach at Naramata next Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock. A number of Summerland persons intend to go to Naramata to hear Dr. Allen.

The speaker is a brother of Rev. Harold Allen of Haney who, with Mrs. Allen, has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Boothe while he took the United church pulpit in the absence on vacation of Rev. H. R. Whitmore.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Joy recently were their oldest son, Arthur, and his wife and their three sons, who motored here from Edmonton, Alta. While they were here, the Joy's other son Edward, with his wife and two boys motored in from Vancouver, and their daughter, Mrs. Wesley Charles, and her husband, came from Oliver. Since their daughter, Miss Harriet Joy lives at home, this made their family complete except for their youngest daughter, Mrs. Gerald Hamilton, who lives at Prince George. Also as their guest is Mrs. Hamilton's father-in-law, Mr. W. Hamilton of Shelbourne.

Jean McPherson Exchanges Vows With Calgary Man at Pretty Nuptials

Beautiful white nylon lace and net over taffeta was the choice for her wedding gown of Jean Fraser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McPherson, West Summerland, when she exchanged vows at a quiet ceremony performed in St. Anne's Church, Penticton, on Saturday morning, July 26, with William Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Dickie of Calgary.

The lovely dress featured a lace bodice with long sleeves, and a deep lace peplum in redingote effect was posed over a hooped net skirt in bouffant style. The fingertip length veil fell from a Mary Queen of Scots headdress, and her flowers were white carnations centred with white gladioli, to make an all white picture.

As bridesmaid, Miss Margaret McPhedran of Calgary was in watermelon pink organdy, also in bouffant style, with which a matching picture hat and organdy mitts were worn. White daisies were formed into a horseshoe shaped bouquet for her to carry.

Mr. Ernest McCullough of Calgary was the groom's attendant.

A luncheon reception, followed at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. McPherson received in a dainty pink silk print gown with accessories en tone, and corsage of pale pink rosebuds.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Dickie, was in an attractive honey beige dressmaker suit with shell pink accessories and a corsage of cream rosebuds.

Guests numbering about twenty-five sat at a long table centered with the beautifully-decorated wedding cake which was topped with pink roses, and had as further adornment four bouquets of sweet peas, two on either side of the cake. Summer flowers were used in quantities to enhance the wedding scene.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. S. A. MacDonald, and to the bridesmaid by Mr. Ernest McCullough, who also read wires of congratulation.

The bride's going-away outfit was a charming pink linen suit with matching hat, navy accessories, and corsage of white carnations.

Following a honeymoon trip to the States, the couple will make their home in Calgary.

Out-of-town guests included the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Dickie, Miss Catherine Dickie, Mrs. Antoo de Lew, Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Newcombe, and Miss Gladys Cummins, all of Calgary; Miss Viva Kyle, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McPherson and Mr. and Mrs. D. F. H. Millward, Penticton.

Legion LA Summer Picnic Sees "Weaker Sex" Win Ball Game

The annual picnic of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary held at Powell Beach on Sunday afternoon, July 27, was attended by about seventy people. Some went down in the bus which was supplied for the occasion and others took their cars.

There was plenty of ice cream and cold drinks for everyone, and they were specially earned by those who participated in the yearly ball game which is played by the women against the men, with the exception of the pitcher, where an exchange takes place.

Mrs. Frank Young was throwing the balls for the masculine element with Mr. Jim Strachan as pitcher for the feminine lineup. The game ended with a 15-14 score in favor of the ladies.

In the racing contests for boys and girls under three years, Colin Davis was first with Maureen McLachlan second; for girls and boys of four and five years, Anne McLachlan came first, and Donna Strachan next, with Kenneth Selinger ahead for the boys and Wayne Shannon second.

The next age group of six and seven was won by Brian Kopp, and in the eight and nine year olds, Phyllis Young placed tops, and Robin Moss next.

The youngsters who were ten to twelve had a two-legged race won by Doug Mitchell and Mayne McCutcheon, with Gary Short and Tommy Milne a little behind in second position.

In the balloon races for teen agers, first came Bobby McDonald and second, Doug Mitchell.

Thread and needle races for men and women saw the husband and wife team of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis finishing first and Mr. and Mrs. Mernickle, second.

Mrs. Duxbury won the race for women, and Mrs. G. Ryman was runner up.

Mr. Jim Strachan was winner of the bottle race, and Mr. Mernickle came next in this contest.

Members of the auxiliary were busy helping with the races, and serving ice cream and cold drinks to make the picnic such a successful and jolly one.

Observations on Hail Clouds Being Sent to BCFGA Secretary

Hail cloud observations, never before gathered in British Columbia's tree fruit area, are being sent promptly by growers to Jack MacLennan, BCFGA secretary, Kelowna, as the first step in the campaign to see whether hail storms can be controlled before they reach orchard and other crop areas.

Information provided in these returns, is unique, but the growers were quick to realize the potentialities of the quest for on-the-spot observations. First filled-in form, received by Secretary MacLennan, came from George Turner, BX, Vernon BCFGA Local. His report, summed up, recorded that the hail cloud was first observed at 2:15, on July 5, moving in from west, north west. The fall covered a considerable part of the BX area and was accompanied by lightning and thunder. The first rain hit at 2:45 and the first hail at 2:48, with second rain at 2:52 and hail at 2:55. The rain was light but the hail heavy.

At Knob Hill, Armstrong, grower who did not sign the form, reports that the hail cloud on July 5, was first noted at 2:30 p.m., coming from the south east, with first rain and hail falling at 3:25.

Some of the hail stones were as large as peas and were mixed with sharp pieces of ice. Hail lasted ten minutes with rain continuing for 20 minutes longer.

All filled-in observation forms will be forwarded to R. H. Douglas, meteorological service representative on the National Research Council committee which authorized the hail control investigation.

When Mr. Douglas has assembled sufficient information from these reports, he will make recommendations regarding the next measure to be taken in the investigation.

Growers, interested in the effort to secure observations, are invited to write to Secretary MacLennan for forms. Mr. MacLennan requests those sending in forms to be sure to write in the date, their names and addresses.

More Insurance in Force Than Ever

Life Insurance in British Columbia completed the first year of the second half of the 20th century with more residents of the province owning more and larger policies than ever before.

According to final figures for 1951 just released by Stanley W. Taylor, superintendent of insurance for British Columbia, the total stood at $1,303,260,746 at the end of the year. The year's purchases of new life policies were $173,751,072, this being 13.46 percent over the corresponding amount of new insurance effected in 1950.

Of the total amount of protection now in force, 75.40 percent was in 26 Canadian companies and 24.50 percent in 16 United States and five British companies.

Leadership is Prime Need of Jaycee Group

Leadership is the biggest objective of the Jaycees and it is in leadership that our Jaycee organization has fallen down, declared Melvin Wells, to a poorly-attended meeting of the Summerland Junior Chamber of Commerce earlier this month.

Mr. Wells was delegate to the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce convention at Banff in June, and he reported at length on the highly-successful national conference which was attended by more than four hundred from all parts of Canada.

On speaking of leadership, Mr. Wells pointed out that this means the training of young men today to be better men tomorrow, and he felt that this type of leadership had been lacking in local Jaycee endeavors lately.

He pointed out that there was always a lack of chairmen when projects were suggested for the Jaycees to undertake.

"So many of the older members say: 'Let the younger ones take it on, we've done it for four years'; while the younger members say to themselves: 'I'm not taking it on, I've had no training in these things,'" Mr. Wells described. "No leadership has ensued."

He gave excerpts from talks of many famous speakers at Banff, including the retiring president, Phil J. Farmer, Don Fisher, CBC commentator and Mayor Don McKay of Calgary.

The latter he instanced as a former president of Calgary Jaycees who rose to be regional and then national president. Later, he aspired to the highest post in Calgary, that of mayor.

"All of us cannot rise to such heights but we can all be trained to be leaders in our community, with proper training," Mr. Wells stressed.

He urged his listeners to help in re-organizing the Jaycee movement here in Summerland, as it nearly went under when attempts were made in June to obtain officers for the 1952-53 season, which should commence in September.

Effective speaking, good civic government and community betterment have been the Jaycees' three-point program throughout Canada and will continue to be the main objectives for the coming year.

Resident of B.C. for 40 Years Dies at Home Of Her Daughter Here

St. Saviour's Anglican church in Penticton was the scene of the funeral service conducted on Monday, July 21, for the late Mrs. Constance Charlotte Acres, aged 63, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter B. Powell, Summerland, on Thursday, July 17.

Dudley Ritchie officiated, with Summerland Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were all Penticton residents, Clarence Burtch, O. M. MacInnis, R. Campbell, W. McCulloch, J. Young and F. Kay. Committal was in Lakeview cemetery, Penticton.

Born in Holland, Manitoba, Mrs. Acres had lived in B.C. for 40 years. She resided in Penticton until the death of her husband, a veterinary surgeon, in 1941.

For the past 11 years she had been residing with her second daughter, Mrs. C. M. Spencer, in Trail. At the time of her death she was visiting her older daughter, Mrs. Powell, in Summerland.

Besides her daughters, Mrs. Acres leaves three sons, Jack in Grand Forks, Harry in Penticton and Frank in Kelowna, as well as thirteen grandchildren.

Bill Beattie Takes Great Pride in His Bed of Bright Begonias

William J. Beattie has a garden which could well be envied by any amateur gardener and by most professionals, as well. And joy are his begonias, which decorate the north side of his home just off Victoria road, and which he cultivates with the tender care which a mother would bestow on her precious infant.

Begonias are just about as tender as a young baby, too, and to bring them on to the state of perfection which they exhibit, a combination of leaf mould, peat moss and fish meal has been used by the placement officer for the farm labor office here in Summerland.

One need only see Bill Beattie down on his hands and knees carefully running his fingers through the soil and giving it the cultivation which begonias love to know how fond he is of nature's beautiful flowers.

Most of his best begonias were imported from Capitola, California, recognized as the begonia capital of the North American continent. Several other begonia lovers in the district have imported precious plants from the same source and begonias are bidding fair to be one of the most popular flowers of the area.

Bill Beattie has a natural love for cultivating flowers as he was an apprentice gardener in the Old

Anglican Camp Takes Short Rest; Resume August 4

One of the most successful Anglican camps on record came to a halt for a short "breather" on Tuesday with the conclusion of the first section of the junior boys' camp at Wilson's Landing.

On August 4, the Okanagan Anglican camp will resume with senior boys and on August 15 to 22 the second section of the junior boys' camp will be held.

Adults and young people occupied the camp for the first week, June 25 to July 4, when the senior girls' commenced. On July 15 the junior girls' camp was held, running until July 22, when the junior boys took over.

From July 4 to 22 Mrs. N. O. Solly of Summerland was camp director, with Mrs. L. A. C. Smith of Vernon as camp mother. Miss Norma Hill of Kelowna was camp nurse for the first period with Miss Reta Woodrow and Miss Jane Zimyk, both of Summerland, as camp nurses for the junior girls.

Anne Beggs, Jean Johnston and Anne Solly attended the senior girls' camp from Summerland and the two Annes stayed on to be assistants for the junior girls' and boys' camp.

Junior girls from Summerland who were in camp were Nan Solly,

Health Unit Advises Black Widow Spider Has Retiring Nature

The Black Widow, often called North America's most poisonous spider, is not, as commonly believed, an aggressive creature, but is very retiring in nature and reluctant to bite unless its privacy is disturbed, the South Okanagan Health Unit has advised.

There is no cause for alarm at the recent appearance of the Black Widow in Central Vancouver Island, the director of the provincial museum states. Dr. Clifford Carl adds that these spiders are by no means new to British Columbia but have been reported in many areas of the province for several years. However, certain precautions should be taken, especially where there are children.

Usually found in relatively dry areas, the Black Widow spider is best identified by its shiny blackness. The female, which accounts for most of the bites, may have on its under side a scarlet mark shaped in the form of an hour-glass. However, this characteristic is not always present. Since dark corners are most desirable, outdoor toilets and pump-houses, underneath stone piles, and the base of fences, walls and tree stumps are all places favorable to the Black Widow. Except for crusting, there is no completely satisfactory method of killing these spiders since the effective poisons are extremely poisonous to animals and humans.

SOUTH MAIN WORK CREW IS PRAISED

"I'm very pleased with the crew working on the south main, they're doing a very good job," commented Councillor H. R. J. Richards to council last week. Only three men are employed on this extension of the irrigation system but it is surprising the progress they are making, he stated. Work is being done east of the high trestle.

Creosote is an effective repellent and may be sprayed on the under side of outdoor toilet seats, and at the base of walls, fences and stumps after eroded cement and rotten wood have been repaired.

Care should be taken that no spiders are present at the time of spraying, otherwise they become irritated by the creosote and tend to bite anything or anybody they happen to encounter.

Death from the bite of a Black Widow spider is rare. But should a person be bitten, he is advised to see a doctor as soon as possible.

Leaves PUC Hearing on 'Phone Rates in Protest Of Ruling by Chairman

KELOWNA—D. K. Penfold, a member of the public utilities commission which was conducting a public hearing on the application of the Okanagan Telephone Company for an increase in rates, walked out of the hearing on Thursday afternoon in protest against a ruling that the company must make public the salaries of its executives.

Result of the commission's findings will not be known for about a month, after the many reports and statistics have been digested by the commission.

It is expected that the remaining two members, Chairman Percy George and Commissioner Russell Potter, will have to bring down the findings as Mr. Penfold states he has dissociated himself from the case.

Commissioner George had made the ruling that salaries of the executive must be made public, at the insistence of A. D. C. Washington, Penticton lawyer, who represented the Okanagan Valley Municipal Assn. and presented a brief protesting the 20 percent increased rates application on behalf of the valley municipalities.

Brigadier Sherwood Letts, QC, protested the ruling, as chief counsel for the Okanagan Telephone Company.

Mr. Penfold declared the ruling to be irregular, stressing that the commission had the information which showed the salaries were not excessive and that the company had agreed to provide protesting municipalities with salary figures.

He maintained that the ruling was unfair to the company and not in the public interest and that it would create an unwelcome precedent in the commission's procedure.

Mr. Penfold thought the information could be given privately but when his representations were turned aside by Chairman George he left the room and did not return.

In its application, the telephone company sought an increase of 20 percent in its rates structure and was granted an interim 15 percent raise by the commission pending the result of the hearing on Wednesday and Thursday last week in Kelowna.

Auditor Not Present

The lengthy brief presented by the OVMA through its counsel Mr. Washington contained statistics compiled by Fred Campbell, Kelowna auditor. When Mr. Campbell was called away because of the death of his brother, G. D. Imrie, of the same firm, took his place.

The commission ruled, however, that there could be no debate on the statistics which were filed with the brief as Mr. Campbell was not present to substantiate them.

M. J. Conroy, the telephone company's superintendent was the first witness called last week. He reviewed the 1950-51 expansion program involving the switchover from manual to automatic telephones. Nine exchanges were converted to dial and 1,071 more telephones installed.

Rising costs since 1950 had caused the company concern, Mr. Conroy stated. Wages in 1952 showed an increase of $47,757 and by January, 1953, this will total $57,632. Although the company did not deem it advisable at present, Mr. Conroy intimated that if wages and cost of materials increase, the company may be obliged to seek an increase in long distance tolls at a later date.

As an example of increased costs, Mr. Conroy cited Sicamous as a case in point. Original estimate for revamping the exchange system was $10,000, but actual cost was $13,365. In Penticton, the estimate for changing the system from manual to dial was $199,000, but when completed it will be $209,000.

Protest Overruled

When the former stated that he felt the company was giving the public "a modern system," Mr. Washington registered a protest but was overruled.

According to superintendent Conroy, 85.3 percent of telephone users will have dial service. He stated this was considerably higher than in most localities.

Maintenance costs also compare favorably with other places, he said. When asked to give comparisons, names of companies and localities, Mr. Conroy regretted that he was unable to do so but the facts were there.

As an example of how maintenance costs increase with automatic equipment, due to higher voltage, Mr. Conroy stated that in 1950 maintenance costs were 5.87 per cent; 1952, 7.81; 1953 estimate 8.92.

He agreed that increase concerned main revenue-producing stations only, dependent upon value of service to the subscriber. This would be a twenty percent increase across the board.

With reference to the complaint registered by the Canadian Legion, Penticton, where 70 percent of the 725 members are telephone subscribers, Mr. Conroy felt that the complaint was actually against the high cost of living as a whole.

Insofar as the Winfield Farmers' Institute complaint was concerned, Mr. Conroy stated there are only two 8-party lines out of a total of 34. The striff permits the telephone company to have eight parties on the 34 lines if it so desired.

Replying to the Salmon Arm district Chamber of Commerce complaint, Mr. Conroy stated a new switchboard had been installed twelve years ago but this is now inadequate. More operators are required to give good service.

Discontinue Service

The Sicamous and district Board of Trade protest was also replied to when the superintendent said that the exchange was twenty-four miles out in the bush, that the company "had offered reasonable terms and can't give them service for $1.95 forever."

The Glenmore district complaints had been investigated personally said Mr. Conroy, and he had found only three who were not getting service. Glenmore protested the increase for economic reasons stating that some farmers might have to discontinue telephone service should rate increases be granted. Reference was also made to "excessive rates for indifferent service."

Mr. Conroy said that the best way to improve service on multi-party lines was to avoid making non-essential calls at lunch time, and at other periods curtail conversation so that it didn't last for half an hour, or even fifteen minutes.

In cross-examining Mr. Conroy during the afternoon session, Mr. Washington asked if material costs had risen since 1950 and what allowances were made. He also queried the superintendent about the number of employees now with the company and how many would be on future payrolls.

More Efficient

When questioned about the advisability of changing from manual to automatic dial phones, Mr. Conroy replied that the former was no longer adequate or efficient, and that it costs more money.

"There is room for improvement and that's why we're doing the job."

Second witness called was Archibald E. Brown, chief accountant of the Okanagan Telephone Company who answered questions pertaining to operating revenue, operating expenses, net operating income, and net profit. According to the figure submitted, the company showed a surplus of $710 after giving effect to interim rates from June 16, 1952 and proposed rates from August 1, 1952.

The voluminous brief of 24 typewritten pages, presented by Mr. Washington on behalf of the OVMA, and other groups, attacked the telephone company's request for an increase of 20 percent on a broad front, with the major argument centering upon the fact that the company in its application had not, in the opinion of the protesting association, submitted evidence sufficient to satisfy beyond a doubt that what the company is asking is fair and reasonable under all circumstances.

Mr. Washington reserved his most scathing comment for the last, when he declared, "the bodies whom I represent, and indeed the subscribers generally, are most strongly opposed to the company's request for an increase in rates and are also most strongly opposed to the interim increase of 15 percent granted by this commission without any hearing at all."

Continued the counsel, "The service given to the public in the past, and in some places still, has been and is now disgracefully inadequate and inefficient. This may not be entirely the company's fault, but the company must admit the past, and present, inefficiencies and cannot be allowed in any way to escape a large measure of the blame. Why then should it be assumed that such inadequacy and inefficiency will suddenly disappear? Should not the company be made to improve its efficiency before getting consideration from this commission for increased rates? To do otherwise would be putting the cart before the horse."

"There is not the slightest doubt that the company in making this application has made the strongest case it considers possible to be made in its own favor. It is submitted that the company is now asking for the maximum increase it feels it can possibly get."

"But the Public Utilities Commission must consider the subscribers. A telephone today is no longer a luxury—it is a necessity. But, if the company's request is granted then a telephone in this area will be placed in the luxury price class, well beyond the means of many present and potential subscribers who need the service; and the company will then have failed to perform its functions and will no longer deserve to retain its monopolistic hold over the citizens of this area, which it will cease to have properly served."

"If you gentlemen feel that the company cannot operate and stay in business without this 20% increase, then I submit, with all the force at my command, that the company should not be allowed to remain in business at the expense of the subscribers; and that the most serious consideration be given to the immediate acquisition of this company by the provincial government; or its immediate change to a co-operative system.

Mr. Washington declared that the company's estimates of added expenditures, upon which it based its application, are "unscientific." That the company was more concerned with dividends and maintaining its stature in the money market than with the welfare of its subscribers was reiterated throughout the brief and Mr. Washington dwelt at length on the fact that the B.C. Telephone Company rates are less than those charged by the applicant company and that the proposed rates in many instances

Aphis, Mites Are Causing Growers Concern Now

Written a week ago, the Horticultural News Letter report for the Summerland-Peachland-Westbank section declared that apricot picking had just started and that a recurrence of hot weather gave concern to many growers that it might ripen the 'cots before adequate size has been reached.

Apple and pear thinning is virtually completed, with the crop showing good size for this time of year.

"Aphis continues to be the most serious pest this year. Mealy plum, woolly apple and green apple aphis are all quite common at present. All the common types of mites have been seen this year but there have been few serious outbreaks so far.

"Fire blight is uncommonly absent from pear orchards this year. It seems to be the easiest year since 1947 as far as fire blight is concerned," the report concludes.

In Penticton, apricots were reported not sizing too well but most varieties of apples, peaches and prunes are continuing to size and may necessitate a slight upward revision in estimates. Pears, on the other hand, are sizing very unevenly.

The pest and disease situation in the Penticton area became more severe in the past two weeks and fire blight, which is not as prevalent as a year ago has been "advancing quite steadily for the past ten days."

Oliver-Osoyoos report states that on July 9 a high temperature of 108 was recorded at Osoyoos. Early 'cots had to be culled heavily because of lack of size. Aphis has increased noticeably in that area, as well.

"Tree fruit crops generally are

Survey Lines Out 30 Feet on Front Bench

Engineer R. A. Barton of Penticton spent an entire day attempting to survey the front bench road in the vicinity of the O'Mahony property but could not justify his lines within thirty feet, it was stated to council on Tuesday, July 22.

Unless the municipality is prepared to make a large expenditure then the proper road allowance cannot be verified in this and a number of similar roads, it was stated.

Some widening of the existing road can be undertaken without endangering any existing orchard property, it was considered, but no definite plan was decided upon.

Dog Pound Bylaw is Solution to Request

Vernon and District Fish, Game and Forest Protective Assn. wrote council last week seeking support for its request that municipalities employ a pensioner or some other suitable person to keep track of dogs and to destroy all unlicensed dogs as a protection for birds and game.

The Vernon group is also urging similar action by the government in unorganized territory.

Councillor H. J. (Bill) Barkwill pointed out that provision for covering action will be made when the new dog pound bylaw has been drafted and is ready for enforcement.

progressing favorably", states Kelowna, where apple scab is more prevalent than for many years and aphis are numerous.

The North Okanagan area expects that Duchess will be ready this week and tree fruits are sizing satisfactorily. Mites are causing some concern and green aphis are showing up. Grasshoppers are also causing damage in orchards.

Call out the Reserves with a touch of your toe!

A good part of the time they're running errands, taking children to school, taking women to stores, taking men to work, taking family and friends to clubs and social functions.

It doesn't call for a very great output of horsepower for duties like these.

But there are times when you want a car that can do vastly more, and these are the times when you'll want what this year's ROADMASTER has to offer.

Beneath its proud hood, there's a Fireball 8 Engine—a valve-in-head that can let loose 170 lively horsepower when needed.

And—alongside this engine—there's also an Airpower carburetor which thriftily feeds fuel and air through two smaller-than-usual barrels for normal driving—which means that you now use less gas at 40 than you'd formerly use at 30.

But there are two barrels in reserve—waiting for you to call them into action—and they let loose a soaring rush of power that sinks your shoulders back into the seat cushion, swoops you past a truck—out of a tight spot—up a hill—sets your speedometer needle to registering added miles more than twice as fast as your watch can tick off the seconds.

This is an experience you certainly should know firsthand.

You should also know how Buick's Power Steering* provides a helping hand in slow-motion manoeuvres—lets you keep the "feel" of the car in straightaway driving.

And—just for good measure—this 1952 ROADMASTER also has the biggest brakes on any postwar Buick—the greatest trunk space since spare tires moved off the front fenders—a warning light that glows when the parking brake is set—and to top it all the smartest interior fabrics that Buick has ever offered.

When are you coming in to look this distinguished performer over? We urge you to make it soon.

KAMLOOPS BEATS MACS 5-1

"Baz" Nagle Shows Local Fans Why Browns Paid Him Bonus

Doug "Baz" Nagle, Kamloops' Bonus Boy-hurler, made his final appearance of the 1952 season in Summerland as an amateur ball player last Sunday at Living Memorial athletic park when he limited Summerland Macs to three hits while Kamloops Elks were piling up a 5-1 victory.

It was a good, tight ball game from the fifth inning on, as Wally Day demonstrated good pitching ability, as well, when he relieved Gil Jacobs, who was being pounded hard.

Although Nagle had difficulty finding the plate at times, and walked seven batters, the fair-sized crowd was given ample opportunity to see why Tony Robello, St. Louis Browns' scout, labelled him an even better prospect than Vancouver's Arne Hallgren.

Nagle was superior. It wasn't the same kind of a duel that Nagle and Jacobs fought two years ago when they vied for provincial junior ball honors. Nagle has advanced a lot farther than Jacobs, who beat him that time.

Actually, although Jacobs was being hit hard, errors by Lefty Gould were responsible for the first two Kamloops runs in the third when, with one away, he dropped a bad throw, allowing Nagle a safety at first.

Marriott singled and a passed ball allowed both runners to advance into scoring position. Kaminski sent out a long fly to centre, Nagle scoring easily on the throw-in and Maralia socked another to the outfield to score Marriott.

In the fourth, Aikin failed to hold Gaber's grounder and the first man up was at first. Singles by Candido, Nagle and Marriott convinced Jacobs that he wasn't in form that day and he retired in favor of Wally Day. Kaminski dubbed one to Aikin who didn't have a chance to make a play at home but threw the runner out at first, and Maralia grounded out to end the rally.

From then on, Day had the situation well in hand, although a lucky hit in the sixth placed runners on second and third, Kamloops failed to score when Kaminski struck out.

After that, Day retired the visitors in order each inning. Taylor lined a solid smash to centrefield in the fifth for the Macs' first hit, and when Kato walked both runners pulled off a double steal. Aikin couldn't touch Nagle, however, and the rally ended.

In the sixth, Macs staged another mild uprising when Metcalf drew a walk and Taylor was hit by a pitched ball. Kato walked to fill the bags with one away and the stands were in an uproar. Aikin redeemed his previous effort by snaking a smart one through the infield to score Metcalf. Jomori and Rucks struck out, the latter on three straight strike balls, and again Nagle showed his superiority.

A moment of glamor was captured in the 9th when Coach Bob Bleasdale started the Macs by replacing Sandy Jomori as pinch-hitter. He poled out a Texas Leaguer, went to second on a passed ball and then took too big a lead and was caught trying to steal third.

Neither Jacobs nor Day allowed any walks, while the latter had five strikeouts to his credit. Nagle was creditable with 12 whiffs. Jacobs was debited with all five Kamloops runs.

George Taylor in centrefield was the individual fielding hero, covering a lot of territory and pulling down some mighty long hits.

Red Sox Bow To Pentiction By 2-1 Score

Jordan of Pentiction and Don Cristante of Red Sox staged a heads-up pitching duel at Pentiction's King's Park last Sunday afternoon with the southern lad getting the nod 2-1 in an exciting South Okanagan league contest.

With this victory, Pentiction forged ahead to the league top spot once more, having a game in hand over the Red Sox.

Burgart's home run to the left field fence in the fourth frame broke a 1-1 tie and was the deciding counter, as neither team could shove any more runs across.

Jordan struck out 11 Red Sox while Cristante whiffed nine Pentiction batters, both hurlers allowing two passes apiece to first base. Red Sox got one more clout off Jordan but couldn't make it count for a run.

Two double plays helped the Red Sox considerably. In the sixth after Siegrist had committed an error to help load the bases, the big first-baseman pulled off an unassisted double play on Mori's line drive to retire the side.

Again in the seventh, McCallum drove into a double-play which Cristante initiated to Tarashuk and Siegrist.

Red Sox took the initiative in the first frame when Eyre singled and was driven home by Hooker's smashing double to centrefield. Pentiction knotted the count in the second when Hooker muffed Moog's grounder, the latter scoring on a close play to the plate on Garnett's grounder.

PASSED EXAMINATION

The Red Cross publicity department last week failed to include the name of Joan Macdonald of Summerland in the list of renewal instructors who passed their tests at the school conducted in Kelowna at the first of the month.

Fudge-Cardinal Win Hankey Cup

George Fudge of Summerland and Ted Cardinal of Pentiction captured the Hankey doubles cup at the annual tennis get-together at Vernon Country Club last weekend.

Twelve couples were entered, with each team playing every other couple on Saturday and Sunday.

When the finals approached, Fudge and Cardinal and the Kelowna pair of Ernie Winter and Buss Taggart were the only undefeated duos. Fudge and Cardinal triumphed in the final match 6-4, 6-4.

Float for Peach Festival Being Planned by Board

Council members of the Summerland Board of Trade meet tonight in President W. M. Wright's office to finalize plans for the entering of a float in the Penticton and District Peach Festival and for this locality's official representation by Miss Summerland of 1952, Queen Jacque Trafford, at Peach Festival functions.

Mr. Wright has stated that the designing of the float is under the charge of Stan Gladwell and E. O. White. A new motif has been agreed upon and not only Queen Jacque but her three attendants, Princesses Betty Green, Olga Libicz and Luella Polesello will represent the Summerland district on this float.

Miss Summerland has also been invited to the Peach Ball at Kaleden on the Friday previous to the Peach Festival at Penticton stances seek to widen the present gap.

To support a suggestion that the Okanagan Telephone Company appears to be determined to keep up what Mr. Washington described as "its high standard of living" the counsel for the OVMA contended that the same, or comparable services, could be provided for less, as demonstrated by the old and new B.C. Telephone Company rates.

"The applicant company," the commission was told, "is selling service at a higher rate than the B.C. Telephone Company. It follows that one or two things must be true," Mr. Washington said. "It costs this company more to do business, (and this is inefficient from the subscribers point of view)."

"The company is making more profit than the B.C. Telephone Company and should not be allowed to do so. Added counsel, "in other words if the Okanagan Telephone Company for any reason is unable to provide service as cheaply as another company could, or would do, then there is no justification for the Okanagan Telephone company remaining in business at the expense of the subscribers."

Attention of the Public Utilities Commission was drawn to the fact that the company proposed no increase in toll rates and, said Mr. Washington, is quite frank in admitting that these must remain competitive with telegraph and airmail. "The company has a healthy respect for competition, where it exists, and scales its rates accordingly. But there is no competition for subscribers, so," charged counsel, "the company doesn't worry about the rates they must pay."

Dwelling at length on the income tax question, Mr. Washington pointed to the company's own estimates indicating that it expected to pay almost $250,000 in income tax in 1952 and 1953.

The spokesman for the OVMA suggested that as 1953 will be an election year a cut in income tax is to be expected and the company's income tax would be greatly lessened. If this happened the company will fall heir to a fat surplus at the expense of the subscriber," Mr. Washington declared.

"The company will pay to the federal government in taxes $52,000 out of every $100,000 it earns. And so the subscriber is asked to pay this higher tax in higher rates."

The Public Utilities Commission was left to mull over a suggestion that subscribers would prefer to pay their income tax as such, rather than as telephone bills.

Exemption from income tax could be obtained, Mr. Washington pointed out, by provincial ownership of at least 90 percent of the shares of the company or under another section of the income tax act, through which the company could conceivably operate as a co-operative, if the ownership of its shares were in the hands of its subscribers.

Gamblers Shouldn't Drive

... And a gambler is any man who drives a car without adequate insurance—and RISKS ALL of his worldly possessions. Remember this. If you can't afford insurance, you can't afford to drive an automobile!
