

Political Rally Campaign Opening Hears

The largest political gathering in the history of this district turned out Monday night to cheer Premier W. A. C. Bennett on his nomination as Social Credit candidate for this riding and to hear details of a 49-point program upon which the Social Credit party will seek re-election.

The premier spoke off the cuff for an hour before turning to his prepared speech and disclosed a plan to substitute a government-conducted strike vote for the contentious government-conducted strike vote. The government-conducted strike vote has been one of the most violently opposed provisions of the IC & A Act.

The premier gave only the briefest hint on what changes can be expected in BCHIS on May 15 when he stated a new system for payroll deductions will be introduced and all arrears have been cancelled. He said there will be no reduction in premiums.

Election Race Growing Hotter

South Okanagan political activities this week gained considerable momentum with the number of candidates nominated upped to three and only the Progressive Conservatives left to hold their nomination convention. This is scheduled for tomorrow evening in Kelowna.

Party workers are now busily organizing campaigns and drawing battle lines for what promises to be a hotly-contested election.

Public meetings already have brought out larger than usual attendance and indications are that voters are taking a keener interest in political activities.

Voters lists are now nearing completion and it is expected there will be a drop of about 1,500 in the number registered in South Okanagan. In the elections last year, there were close to 17,000 on the list. A drop in the number was expected for this election because of the system followed in preparing the lists but some polling divisions have shown a small increase.

CCF on Saturday night will have their party leader, Arnold Webster, on the platform with their candidate, Tom Wilkinson, at the IOOF Hall in West Summerland.

Liberal Candidate Vic Wilson left for Vancouver Monday night after his nomination and has not yet returned to Kelowna to campaign or the names of any prominent speakers that will visit the riding in his support.

Candidate who will probably be least in evidence in the riding during the campaign is Social Credit Premier W. A. C. Bennett who will be touring the province to visit all ridings during the next few weeks. It is expected Education Minister Tilly Rolston and Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi will be speaking in South Okanagan during the campaign.

Permits Increase But Total Down

Although number of building permits issued in Summerland during the first four months of the year is up over the same period of last year, total value of construction has dropped nearly $18,000. This year to the end of April, 30 permits have been issued for construction totalling $38,435 while during the same four months of 1952, 25 permits were issued for a total of $54,150.

During the past month, two permits were approved for construction of two new dwellings for a combined total of $8,000; one for construction of commercial premises valued at $4,500 and seven for alterations and additions to the value of $4,485.

The month showed a drop in both number of permits and total value in comparison to April, 1952. The total for the month this year being 10 permits for $14,985, compared to last year's total of 12 permits for $22,375.

"Know Your Hospital"

Record Number of Visitors Expected For Hospital 'Open House' Wednesday

Members of the community next Wednesday afternoon will have an opportunity to look behind the scenes of their hospital and learn of the facilities available at the Summerland institution, how various equipment is operated and its purposes.

The open house event has become an annual feature and marks National Hospital Day which is being observed here on Wednesday to give more people an opportunity to visit the hospital. It is part of a general "know your hospital" program.

An increasingly large number has been in attendance for this event each year and a record number of visitors is expected for this year.

Of particular interest is the new baby incubator recently donated to the hospital. This is the most modern type to be found anywhere.

The Open House will be from 2:30 until 4:30 p.m. and members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the hospital will serve tea in the Nurses Residence.

said Mr. Bennett. "We won't put through a reduction just before an election". He said the changes proposed would have been made months ago but it was necessary to carry out the necessary organization procedure before making the changes and, he added, "We would not put hospital insurance service into chaos for political advantage."

Speaking further on BCHIS the premier stated there is now in the fund $7 million and the service was never in healthier condition.

Mr. Bennett was officially nominated as candidate for the riding by party delegates just prior to the public meeting in the Youth Centre. Chairman of the rally was Lloyd Miller, resident of the South Okanagan Social Credit Association.

Mr. Bennett's 49-point program contained nothing new but covered legislation already passed or introduced at the legislature. He indicated that if his party is re-elected, there will be another session this year when he stated that all legislation introduced and not passed at the recent session will again be brought in "at the fall session."

The meeting was extremely orderly and a repeated request by the chairman for questions at the close of the program failed to elicit a single question.

Referring to the Rolston Formula, Mr. Bennett said the opposition parties had made a mistake in choosing that as an election issue and predicted "They'll soon be running away from it".

Reviewing events of the last session of the legislature, he said the opposition "stooped to the lowest kind of politics" and were using the session only as a sounding board, to prepare for this election. They started their attacks as soon as the government was sworn in and have ever since kept up "carping criticism".

He summarized principles of Social Credit "To maintain a constant and uncompromising stand for a free democratic way of life in which the rights and responsibilities of each individual citizen are recognized and respected. The aim of the Social Credit government is to enlist united support of British Columbians who believe in a free way of life, and we will oppose equally as strongly the forces of monopolies and forces of socialism."

He mentioned legislation which he said had been "vetoed" by the opposition in defeating the government and included sales tax exemption on low cost meals, new liquor law, lower automobile licenses and new taxes on forestry and mining.

Regarding the new liquor law, he said it was the intention of the government to follow closely the recommendations of the Stevens Commission "with strict enforcement". He leveled sharp criticism at the Coalition government for secret orders-in-council and said that on taking over the government he found 1,057 of these secret orders. "You've heard of the mess in Washington," he said, "well you should have seen the mess at Victoria."

Apple Demand Still Good

Heavy Blossom Set Gives Indication Of Bumper 1953 Soft Fruit Crop

If blossom prospects are any criterion, the Okanagan Valley can expect the soft fruit crop to equal, if not surpass, last year's production.

This was indicated last week following one of the heaviest sets of blossoms on apricots, peaches, pears and cherries. But officials of B.C. Tree Fruits emphasize that blossoms can be very misleading, and while it is too early to make any prediction on 1953 production, the yield is expected to equal last year's figure at least. At the present time, the cherry crop is expected to exceed last year's figure by 10 per cent. Pears indicate a bumper crop, while peach production will also be up. There is only one exception—cannery apricots, although the yield is expected to equal the 1952 figure. Commenting on market conditions, A. K. Loyd, president of B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd., stated the apple shipping deal is nearly completed, and by last Saturday night total holdings would not exceed 35,000 boxes. Apple pool is expected to close between May 15 and 30. Demand for apples continues at retail level and is fair to good.

First shipment of asparagus was made last week, and with normal weather, volume movement is expected around the middle of May. Mr. Loyd said California reports indicate the first cherries started moving from that state around May 1, and apricots should start about May 23.

Frost damage in the apple producing areas of U.S. has been almost negligible with the exception of slight damage to Delicious in the lower Yakama Valley, Mr. Loyd said. Good apple crops are expected in both the eastern and western U.S.

Tree Fruits will continue to experiment with new types of containers. The tray pack is pretty well established as an acceptable container in most markets.

The Summerland Review

Following his nomination Monday evening, Premier W. A. C. Bennett received congratulations from Lloyd Miller, president of the South Okanagan Social Credit Association.

Change Effective May 1

Fruit Shippers Win Long Fight For Freight Rate Equalization

Canadian railways will reduce freight rates on all soft fruits from the Okanagan Valley to the prairie provinces to a comparative level with rates prevailing from shipping points in Washington State to the same Canadian stations.

Sorry Folks, No Prizes!

This week a number of callers at The Review office wanted to know if prizes were being offered for persons able to unscramble the story of the CCF nomination meeting and the accompanying statement by Candidate Tom Wilkinson.

Nope! No prizes. As close as we can come to figuring out what happened is that the printer who handled the story is suspected of being an old time lake boat gambler in the days when paddle-wheelers plied the waters of Okanagan Lake and unconsciously kept riffling the type as he wondered how he was going to fit it into the page.

He's being sent to the crying room just as soon as it is vacated by the reporter who wrote in the same issue that six miles of hard surface is to be laid in the municipality, when there's only going to be four.

This encouraging news was received by B.C. Tree Fruits last Thursday. The new rates went into effect on May 1 and cover shipments of cherries, apricots and peaches. Full effect of the new tariffs will not be determined until the rates are received, but Tree Fruits has been assured they will be on the same basis as those in effect from Wenatchee.

This marks the culmination of a long-standing fight on the part of the sales agency to obtain comparable freight rates with those enjoyed by U.S. growers. American peaches and apricots under-sold Okanagan produce on the prairie and eastern fresh fruit markets last year due to lower shipping costs.

While the new rate does not affect soft fruits being shipped to Eastern Canada, Okanagan growers will now be able to compete with American and Ontario produce being shipped to Western Canada.

When Tree Fruits once again pressed its case to the Canadian railways last fall, it was pointed out that American apricots and peaches reach Eastern Canada via Canadian railways at a rate of $2.17 per hundred pounds, while Okanagan apricots and peaches paid a rate of $2.66. It was also pointed out there was a spread of 54 cents per hundred pounds between the Okanagan and Ontario. Peaches from Ontario to Winnipeg took a rate of $2.12 per hundred pounds, while from the Okanagan the rate was $2.66. Mileage between the two points was just about equal, it was pointed out.

A. K. Loyd, president of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., expected a list of the new tariffs within the next few days.

Teacher - Soldier - Rancher

Victor Wilson Nominated Liberal Standard Bearer

Hat of a Naramata rancher went into the South Okanagan election ring on Monday night when a Liberal convention in Kelowna unanimously chose Victor Wilson as their candidate in the June 9 election.

A life-long resident of the Okanagan Valley, the Liberal nominee is well known in Summerland, having obtained a part of his early education in schools here.

Speaking to the convention delegates, Mr. Wilson opened his campaign with Social Credit Premier W. A. C. Bennett as his target and stated one of the reasons he was accepting the nomination was "I cannot feel confidence in Mr. Bennett. I do not find him sincere, or his party, which does not offer the best government for our province."

His second reason for accepting, Mr. Wilson stated, was that he was "inspired by the actions of our new Liberal leader Arthur Laing, who has given up much to take on an almost insurmountable task. If he can, I most certainly must," he added.

Immediately after the meeting, Mr. Wilson, with his campaign manager R. M. Hayman left by car for Vancouver to be present at 9 a.m. the following morning at the "candidates school" being conducted for Liberal candidates by Leader Arthur Laing.

About 80 delegates were present for the convention which was under the chairmanship of the association president, R. D. Knox.

The Liberal candidate has had a varied career as a teacher, soldier and rancher and has been prominent in athletic circles in this district.

From 1933 to 1938, Mr. Wilson taught school at Okanagan Mission and from there moved to his ranch at Naramata. He spent five years in the army during the war and as a captain in Italy was decorated with the Military Cross for bravery. He is the officer in charge of "C" Squadron of the B.C. Dragons in Penticton.

He gained considerable renown at numerous regattas in Kelowna as an outstanding distance swimmer.

He told delegates that during the weeks before the election he will go into every district "and take the campaign to the people and give them a sincere feeling that they will be represented by a man who knows their problems."

Marketing Control

New Regulations Will Require Licenses For Roadside Stands

Growers who operate roadside fruit stands, or display signs of a selling licence for the 1953 season.

This decision has been reached by the B.C. Fruit Board after studying the recommendations of a special committee appointed by the BCFGA. This committee, whose members were drawn from all sections of the industry, and from many areas of the Okanagan and Kootenays, made a careful review of the special problems of direct producer-consumer marketing.

The committee was formed on instructions of a resolution adopted at the association's last annual convention. The resolution originated with the Creston delegates, some of whom regarded the B.C. Fruit Board regulations as outmoded by new trends in marketing which had come with the increase of travel on the highways.

The licence, when issued, will not cancel the provisions of any contract between a grower and a shipper covering the delivery of fruit.

Fruit offered for sale must be equal in quality to grades established under the fruit, vegetables & honey act. If it is in good edible condition it may be sold even if it has been culled because it is over-mature for shipment to distant markets.

Containers, other than paper bags, in which fruit is offered for sale must be marked with the name and address of the grower or seller.

Signifying Nothing

BY RUSTICUS

Age makes a difference, even to spring. Time was when the greening of the grass and the lifting of the birds and the wily warming of the air made me want to caper along the horizon singing "The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la," or its popular jazz equivalent. Or sit for long hours dreaming vague, mysterious, happy dreams.

I still love to sit for hours, but the capering no longer tempts me, and the thoughts are of a different sort. How can I pay those winter fuel bills? Will the old lawn mower last another year? Will my back ache as badly as ever from digging the garden, and will the cutworms ruin it afterward? How much will it cost to get the old car put into shape for the summer, and would it be as cheap to plunge into the agony of trying to pay for a newer one? Will the weather warm up enough to encourage the bees or should we pollenate the cherries with a shotgun wedding? How horribly prosaic!

And yet—spring makes a difference, even to age. The varicose veins and sclerosed arteries feel the blood pump through them just a little faster when the flower buds swell and blossom, and the geese honk overhead.

Especially in this lovely corner of the earth, when spring means acres of beautiful blossoming trees, and one cannot help thinking of Bliss Carman's lines "Through leagues of bloom I went with spring . . ."

For all my senility, I still get the poetics in spring. And I'm still inclined to think that the best of 'er—spring! You perfectly priceless old thing!

I'm frightfully bucked at the signs that one sees; The jolly old sap in the topping old trees . . . and so on.

Or that beautiful ballad from Brooklyn, 'Spring is sprung, the grass is riz, I wunner where the boidies is, The boidis is on the wing? Ah nuts, the wings is on the boid.'

You've heard those too often? Well, how about this?

In Just—
spring when the world is mudluscious the little lame balloonman whistles far and wee and Eddie and Bill come running from marbles and piracies and it's spring when the world is puddle-wonderful the queer old balloonman whistles far and wee and Betty and Isobel come dancing from hopscotch and jump-rope and it's spring.

Or if you laugh at poetry, and spring to you means overhauling fishing-gear and getting out on the lakes and streams at every opportunity, maybe your wife would appreciate that piece you didn't show her from the March issue of 'Hunting and Fishing in Canada':

Who's the stranger, Mother, dear?
Look, he knows us. Ain't he queer?
Hush, my son, don't talk so wild.
He's your father, dearest child.
'He's my father? No such thing!
Father died way back last spring.
Father didn't die, you dub.
Father joined a fishing club.
'But now the season's closed, so he has no place left to go, you see.
No place left in fields to roam,
That is why he's come back home.
'Kiss him—he won't bite you, child.
All those fishing nuts look wild!
Spring—ain't it wonderful!

Pioneer Days

From Early Files of The Review

Thirty Years Ago — May 10, 1923

Jimmy Marshall won the Governor General's medal for the highest standing in the first two years of his course at the Ontario Agricultural College. In addition he won $10 for the best all-round man and another scholarship of $30 in the English department for which a special essay was required.

Apple trees were in full bloom, approximately 20 days earlier than 1922.

Mrs. Bleasdale and family arrived here from Cumberland, England, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith.

Charles N. Broad was one of two B.C. students in the faculties of arts and sciences to receive a B.A. degree at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont.

The Summerland-Naramata ferry was running on summer schedule making three round trips per day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Mossop and family arrived here from Calgary, having made the trip by motor car. They purchased the Trowse place. They were accompanied by Mrs. Mossop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson who planned on returning to Calgary.

Twenty-Five Years Ago — May 11, 1928

A new long distance telephone line was to be built by way of Hope through the Okanagan.

Summerland welcomed Governor-General and Lady Willingdon during the week when the visitors arrived from Vernon. The party motored from Vernon and were met at Peach Orchard Road by Ned Bentley, president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion. Mrs. Kate Bentley for the Ladies' Auxillary of the Legion presented Lady Willingdon with a bouquet, Veterans, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, the reeve and council were assembled. Major Tweedy gave a short address.

St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Moyes, to tender felicitations to them on attaining their 25th wedding anniversary.

J. H. Bowering left to attend the convocation and alumni banquet at Brandon College where Ewart and Ella Bowering were graduating.

Mrs. J. R. Sutherland received word that her young cousin, Russell Dickson of Winnipeg had been selected by Lowell Thomas, world famous lecturer and explorer, as his secretary. He left May 1 to accompany him on an expedition to the South Sea Island and later to the heart of Central Africa.

Five Years Ago — May 13, 1948

The mill rate remained the same as in 1947 at 30 mills, but the municipal income was up 12 per cent.

Municipal council gave an order for a chlorination plant delivery of which was expected in about 90 days.

The district paid homage to the famous soldier, Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Alexander, when they paid a brief visit to Summerland. Reeve Reid A. Johnston and Mrs. Johnston met the distinguished visitors at the corner of the high school grounds and escorted them to the Conotaph. General salute was sounded by Trumpeters John and Charles Butuzzi.

Mrs. Fred Schumann was elected chairman for the Okanagan association of the Rebekah Assembly. Miss Eleanor Marie Stein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stein, became the bride of Doan Manley Hart on Saturday, May 8, at a charming home wedding performed by Rev. F. Haskins.

Healthy Sign . . . give the candidates a hearing

THE sight of a full hall at a political rally in Summerland last week is indication of a healthy condition developing among the people of this province. For voters to take a keener interest in seeing and hearing their candidates for public office and then support their choice at the polls, the result will be good government.

It is not in the best interests of the welfare of our country for people to completely ignore public administration and on voting day either fail to show up at the polls or else attend and cast a ballot on the basis of whatever advice is received from his neighbor.

With a keener interest in government affairs, people will come closer to their administration and soon will start to realize that government is not some nebulous "they" but actually a body of which each person is an integral part.

Most people regard governments—whether municipal, provincial or federal—as a gigantic pork barrel and it is fair game for everyone to gouge out of the barrel just as much as he can—by fair means or foul. Too few seem to realize that there is nothing more in the barrel than is put in there by the people themselves and the more that comes out, the more will have to go in.

An Editor Rebels . . . favors aren't appreciated

EVERYONE has problems peculiar to their own job but editors are in the fortunate position of being able to cry on more shoulders when the going gets too rough. Probably it doesn't do any good but at least they can get it out of their system. Recently the load got too heavy for Editor Les Rimes of the Powell River News so he let down his hair on a problem which plagues newsmen everywhere.

This is what Editor Rimes had to say: The editor of the Brighton, Ont. "Ensign" recently wrote an editorial which said:

"Recently we've been running into difficulty again with local organizations and citizens expecting us to announce their plans in advance and without charge. The reason this cannot be done, and is never done in progressive, profitable publications is so obvious that it should not even be necessary to mention it. News is an account of something that has already happened and advertising is announcements of things that are to take place. News is free and advertising is paid for. . . from now on, please do not request us to announce anything in advance free, no matter whether it is a hockey match, wedding anniversary, community project, campaign or social event."

That paragraph, above, is from the Brighton "Ensign."

I betcha, Mr. Editor (of the "Ensign") that that hard and fast ruling makes it a heck of a lot easier for you. I betcha you'll have less grey hairs on account of it, and less squawks, in the long run from the readers.

Now, take me, for instance. A couple of weeks back we had two concerts coming up the same week. We gave each of the concerts some free "advertising" but we put one story on the front page and the other one on page seven.

Now, I tell you, Mr. Editor, that was a bad bad thing.

The chairman of the page seven concert phoned up and asked my why the other concert got page one coverage and they got page seven. Talk about looking a gift horse in the mouth! Here I thought I was doing them a favor!

And after all, what's the matter with page seven? If you put all your news on the front page, then why even bother printing page seven? No, we want to get some good stuff in page seven, page five, page eleven and all the rest of 'em. Otherwise, you might as well just read the front page and then light the fire with it.

But there was more to it than that!

The chairman of the page seven concert had phoned up one evening at 8:30 when I was still sitting at my desk. He said: "We have a concert coming up next week. If you phone Joe Sphifit he'll give you some of the details, then you can phone Mrs. Blomff and get the names of the committee, and then phone Elmer Jelphit and he'll give you some stuff on it, and then you can write it up and give us a good story."

So I says to him: "How's about if you phone all these good people and then you write it, and I'll edit it for you, and we'll get it in the paper."

"Naw," says he. "I already worked 9 to 5 to-

Mid-Week Message

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. (John 11:25.) Read John 11:18-27.

Central to Easter is the Resurrection. We have no gospel unless we recognize the Resurrection as a reality. It is not a fable or a myth but an event of momentous importance that actually took place. Paul declares that our preaching is all in vain if Christ did not rise from the dead. A dead Christ could never revive a dead world. We could admire—as many do—a Christ who lived a good life and taught many good things, but we could not worship a Christ who does not live.

It is also of far-reaching meaning that He not only lives but that He may live in us. In a Hyde Park crowd a dirty-faced cynic shouted, "Christianity has been here in the world for 2,000 years, and look at the state of the world." Whereupon someone replied without hesitation, "Yes, and water has been here for two million years, and look at the state of your face."

If we avail ourselves of the living Christ, He lifts us from sin into righteousness, from weakness into strength, from doubt to faith, from despair to hope.

PRAYER

Our Father, Jesus said, "I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." Help us to believe in the Christ of the Resurrection. For His sake, Amen.

Ottawa Report

BY O. L. JONES, MP for Yale

Among those travelling with the Prime Minister, on his visit to the Okanagan, last summer, was Mr. J. W. Pickersgill, clerk of the privy council, who previously had been the Prime Minister's private secretary. Many people wondered at the time, why it was necessary for this important official to take a semi-political tour with the prime minister. When the house returned to session, questions were asked as to the cost to Canada, for this jaunt of Mr. Pickersgill, but a return made, showed that it had cost less than $100 for the whole. However, this week Mr. Howard Green said it was not right for the Prime Minister to take this gentleman on a political tour. The Prime Minister denied that this trip was a political campaign, and said that it was purely a visit to parts of the country with which he was not so well acquainted. The Prime Minister claimed that the object of his visit was to attend the Canadian Bar Association and the opening of the Law School building in the university of B.C. and there had been no thought of a political campaign. Mr. Pickersgill, who had to visit his sick mother in Calgary accompanied the Prime Minister from there to the coast and presumably back to Ottawa. The debate collapsed very quickly after the prime minister's explanation, but it is doubtful if he will again take the clerk of the privy council with him on a jaunt through the country.

The new international wheat agreement received solid support and approval by all parties in the house, after a five hour debate, although concern was expressed about the future of the U.K. wheat market. The government was urged to confer once again with the British government and do all it can to press for Britain's entry into the agreement. However, Trade Minister Howe, said he doubted whether Britain will change her mind. He felt the British government had been ill advised in withdrawing from the pact and said "Britain can seek no wheat, cheaper than under the pact, but we in Canada could not interfere with Britain's decision." The only reason Mr. Howe thought, why Britain did not sign, was that she might believe world wheat prices would drop below the pact's floor price of $1.35 a bushel. He agreed there was a great surplus of wheat in the world at the present time but all these surpluses were in the control of governments and these governments in their own interests would make certain that this wheat would not be dumped on world markets at "fire sale" prices. Mr. Howe ended by saying "agreement or no agreement" Canada would compete for the British market and will be in as favorable a position to get a good share of that market as any other exporter.

Most of the work under review this week, has been of a routine nature. Merely passing the estimates of various departments; many of them unchanged from year to year, as the work has more or less become standard. However, the policy of some departments has been challenged, particularly the Department of Immigration, which came in for a full discussion of its present selective policy of allowing immigrants into this country. The minister of immigration gave an outline of his policy, which appeared rather vague and indefinite. At one point he said that the policy is to admit to Canada, in numbers not exceeding the absorptive capacity of our country, and without altering the fundamental character of our people, such persons as are likely to contribute to our national life. Mr. Stewart challenged the Minister to express the governments views as to the absorptive capacity of the country. Several speakers criticised the government for the method of admitting new immigrants into Canada, especially those admitted and sponsored by farmers to carry on farm labor. Many complaints have been made to the government that this type of person has used farm work as an excuse to get into the country and promptly deserted the farm for work in urban centres.

Mr. Angus McGinnis pointed out the injustice imposed on East Indians living in this country who wished to bring out relatives. He said that such discrimination does not bring contentment to the colored people of the world but rather a strong resentment which is gradually boiling over in some of the world's sore spots, where colored people are in the majority. The Minister stated that certain small changes have been made to simplify the bringing of immigrants into this country.

Other Editors Say:

COURAGEOUS DISSENT

We share George Chandler's angry bewilderment at the sudden apparent abandonment of the fight against government radio and television monopoly by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters.

As operator of CJOR and a former CAB director, Mr. Chandler has always shown sincere concern for the freedom of radio as a medium of public expression.

He finds he cannot "in all conscience join the CAB in either congratulating or commending the government upon its present television policy."

He implies operators seeking licenses are fearful of being denied licenses if they remain fighters against continued TV monopoly and that they are selling out their anti-monopoly principles to ensure themselves licenses.

If this is so, it's the most damning proof yet of the menace to any free expression in Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

A private operator who swallows his criticism to avoid displeasing the CBC and the government to get a TV license is even more likely to refrain from irritating them in using the license.

Just as newspapers operated under government licenses couldn't be expected to remain impartial critics of government policy, so TV station operators would watch their step.

The greater the need to tell truths unfavorable to the government, the less inclined they'd be to risk their existence.

As Mr. Chandler bitterly points out, the present plan of licensing only one private station in each TV area and none where the CBC plans to operate does nothing to end the TV monopoly. It still won't give Canadian televiewer's optional Canadian TV stations.

Mr. Chandler further accuses the government of deliberately manipulating TV channel allotments far beyond technical requirements "to keep at a minimum the number of TV stations that can be licensed."

"The government policy remains monopolistic, has caused long delays, and refused Canadians a choice of programs," he says. "It hurts business by restricting the number of stations, deliberately lowers the efficiency possible in the use of available TV channels and in many border areas it has driven Canadians to rely on American TV service."

If the government is trying to prevent Canadians from having any worthwhile TV at all, it's certainly using the right blueprint.—Vancouver Sun

Local Members Present at Sessions At Pentiction of Interior Gideons

In March, 1952, a camp of the Gideon movement was inaugurated in Summerland with a number of businessmen becoming members, and their wives forming a women's auxiliary. During last week-end a convention for B.C. Interior Gideons and their wives was held at Pentiction with a special luncheon and dinner at the Prince Charles hotel. On Sunday morning Gideon Jack McGowan of Trail addressed the congregation of the Baptist church here, telling of the work of the Gideons in distributing Bibles in dren on consent of the parents, to nurses, and to the armed services. Twenty-five per cent of the money needed for these Bibles is donated by Gideons themselves. On Sunday afternoon there was a dedicatory service at Pentiction hospital when 60 Bibles were given to the new institution. Among those members from Summerland who attended during the convention, at the luncheon, or banquet, were Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Durnin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wellwood, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Milne, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Milne, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schindel, and Mr. and Mrs. Edson Miller.

CUB CALLS

1st Summerland Pack
On Monday night we held our meeting in the park. After our regular opening we had a paper chase, which took up most of the evening. Next week we will be back at our regular stamping grounds. There is to be an all day ramble on Saturday, May 16, let's see a full turn out. Would any fathers able to supply transportation please phone 2628. I still have two pie plates without names left from our banquet. Remember parents the Governor General will be here on May 15 and the boys are expected to turn out in full uniform. More about that next week. Next meeting Monday, May 11 at 6:15 p.m. sharp at Youth Centre. Duty Six—Red Six. — Akela.

More Contributions From Former Pupils

A. K. Macleod, principal, Summerland junior-senior high school, has announced the still further contributions of former pupils to the high school piano fund. Donors include Mrs. Frank Doumont, West Summerland; Mrs. Eric Tait, Summerland; Miss Carol Graham, Pentiction; Mrs. Lloyd W. Hooper, Lorna Curtis; Kelowna; Miss Valerie Tingley, John Vanderburgh, Oliver; Mrs. C. G. Randall (Veronica Solly), Trail; Jean M. Watson (Jean Blewett), S. G. Watson, Kinnaird, B.C.; Mrs. Gerry Hackney (Betty Duncan) Winnipeg; Mrs. C. Larama (Florence Starle), Ellensburg, Wash.; Melvin H. Mitchell, Victoria; George Powell, Hollyburn, B.C.; Mrs. George Oliver, Jean Moffatt (Jean Grant) California; R. A. Ivor Harris, J. Allen Harris, Mrs. Norman Gatenby, Jean A. Wright, Elsie Hack, Mrs. D. H. Bridger (Joan Steven), Vancouver.

Brownie Chatter

1st and 2nd Summerland Packs
All Summerland Brownies are planning to meet at the Youth Centre at 10 a.m. this Saturday, May 9, for a hike. Please be sure to bring your lunch and a drink and be in your play togs. We hope all Brownies can come as we shall have lots of fun as well as learning something new. Cookie week was a great success and the Brownies worked very hard and sold about sixteen cartons of cookies. Many thanks to all those who co-operated so well and bought cookies. A part of the Brownie packs' share from the sale of these cookies is being donated to our commissioner's project which is the "polio fund". So you see Brownies, your efforts will go to help out some other children who aren't as fortunate as you are. Last Friday, two golden bar badges were presented at the regular meeting of the 2nd pack. Those who received them were Diane Gillard and Linda Wilkin. The 1st pack would like to extend belated thanks to Mr. Stent who tested four Brownies for their collector's badge. Gay Greer, Phyllis Young, Linda Betuzzi and Louise Shannon passed the test. — Brown Owls.

Plan Four Concerts

Community Concert Association Membership Campaign Set for May

The South Okanagan Community Concerts Association has announced its campaign for subscribers will be held during the week May 25 to May 30 inclusive. Memberships will be sold during the campaign week only, the fees for the series being $6 for adults and $3 for students, plus tax. The association plans to hold four concerts in Pentiction during the 1953-54 season. Top-ranking performers will be engaged through Columbia Artists, an organization which handles the bookings of such well-known musicians as Lily Pons, Yehudi Menuhin and Oscar Levant. While many of the names listed by Columbia Artists may not be as familiar as the above, they are all concert artists who have been acclaimed by North America's most discriminating critics, and who are well-advanced in their professional musical careers. A full subscription to the series seems indicated, and four concerts of the highest musical and entertainment value are assured for next season. The number of memberships for sale is limited to the seating capacity of the Pentiction High School auditorium. An attempt will be made to arrange concert dates that will not conflict with hockey nights or poor road conditions. Campaign kits have been received by the local executive of the association and will be issued to all canvassers at a dinner to be held the opening night of the campaign. A pre-campaign meeting of all committee chairmen and canvassers is to be held May 12 at 8 p.m. in St. Saviour's Anglican Parish hall, Pentiction. The purpose of this meeting is to vote on proposed by-laws for the association, and to consolidate plans for the campaign. The Summerland representatives of the association, from whom memberships may be purchased, are: Miss Kay Hamilton, Mr. A. K. Macleod, Mrs. A. Vanderburgh, Mrs. A. J. Mann, Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

1st Summerland Troop
This Tuesday's meeting was a tree planting outing. Scouts from both troops and leaders and group committee members turned out and we planted 500 Douglas fir seedlings on the Giant's Head. Last week we planted nearly 500 yellow pine. Let's hope we get some rain to help along our project. Sorry to say that last week's write-up didn't reach the paper in time so I will repeat my thanks to leaders and group committee members—Acting S. M. Walter Charles and Bill Fell of the second troop and S.M. David Munn and Alex Watt of our troop and Steve Cannings. This week we had S.M. Whitmore, and C.M. Walter Charles of the second and S.M. Munn and Chairman Dave McIntosh and Alan McKenzie and Steve Cannings. To swell our numbers and hasten the planting. We want a record turn out next Tuesday, May 12 to receive final instructions on a Scout parade at the park on Friday, May 15 in honor of our Chief Scout, the Governor-General of Canada. Full uniform is a must so beg or borrow one for the occasion. Bring your uniform to school and change there. Apple day was a great success and the money received will help a lot towards a successful summer camp. Doug Holmes was the proud winner of a hatchet while Len Burdon was runner-up both of the Hawk patrol.—D.M.M.

Fete Recent Bride At Pretty Shower

The Garnet Valley neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. R. Gardiner gathered on Tuesday, April 27, at the Gardiner home to honor their daughter, Shirley, whose marriage to Alfred Letts took place on Easter Monday at Omak, Wash.

The surprised bride was presented with a corsage of red carnations and white Esther Reid daisies.

A miniature car, complete with bride and groom, suitably decorated with streamers and old shoes, held the many lovely gifts.

Everyone enjoyed games and delicious refreshments.

Others who attended were Mrs. C. Letts, Mrs. R. Smith, Mrs. M. Henker, Mrs. G. Chadburn, Mrs. E. Mayne, Mrs. J. Mayne, Mrs. A. McKenzie, Mrs. C. McKenzie, Mrs. D. Kean, Mrs. E. Underwood, Mrs. H. Rennie, Mrs. S. Myers, Mrs. E. Skinner, Mrs. R. Tingley, Mrs. J. Dickson, Miss Helen Kean, Miss Joan Dickson.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. S. Blazieko, Mrs. J. McKenzie and Mrs. E. Brighton.

HEADS REFRIGERATOR ENGINEERS

Arnusch-Bonthoux Rites . . .

Will Make Home in Summerland Following Penticton Nuptials

Ettie Marie Cecile Bonthoux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bonthoux, Trout Creek, became the bride of Frank John Arnusch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Arnusch, West Summerland, on Saturday afternoon, May 2, at four o'clock in St. Ann's church, Penticton, Rev. Patrick Bergin officiating.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride had chosen a lovely wedding gown of Chantilly lace and net. A jacket of lace, buttoned to the waist, with Peter Pan collar and lily point sleeves, was worn over the strapless floor-length gown of net over taffeta. The skirt was very full, and fashioned of two tiers of the net, with the top tier having a lace plume inserted into the net. Her head-dress was a bridal crown of scalloped pink net with waxy white flowers, seed pearls and rhinestones. This held in place a waist length veil of shell pink net. Her bridal bouquet was a shower of white carnations and she wore a three-strand pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Harry Burgart of Brookmeete was matron of honor, and was gowned in a bolero frock of chartreuse nylon net over taffeta, with full skirt and strapless bodice of net trimmed with taffeta and taffeta jacket. Elbow-length gloves were of nylon net and her headdress was of pink flowers, with a crescent-shaped bouquet of pink carnations carried. Identical rings were exchanged by the bride and groom, the bride's in shell pink.

Allen Morgan was best man and the ushers were Edward Bonthoux and Harry Burgart.

Mrs. Cecilia Kloster was organist for the service and the soloist was Mrs. Helen Townsend.

A reception was held at the home of the bride following the ceremony with buffet refreshments served.

Mrs. Bonthoux, the bride's mother, wore a pretty nylon afternoon dress printed in mauve and white with white accessories and yellow corsage. The groom's mother, Mrs. Arnusch, was in a grey suit with matching accessories, and fuschia colored roses in her corsage.

The bride's table was lovely with a lace cloth, three-tiered cake topped by an ornament of doves embedded in pink and white tulle, and tall pink tapers and low bowls of snapdragon and daffodils.

Marcel Bonthoux proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

For motoring in the States on a honeymoon trip, the bride donned a grey linen suit, red calf shoes, silver white hat trimmed with rhinestones and small nose veil, and white corsage and gloves. She carried a red bag and a pyramid coat in grey fleece.

On their return the couple will live in West Summerland.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Martin Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burgart, of Brookmeete; Mr. and Mrs. Felix Menu, Westbank; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roset, Robert Roset, Fay Roset and Mrs. Emelie Cecillion of Chilliwack.

Gardens Donning Bright Summer Hues

A pageant of spring is shown in the array of color in the lovely rockery of Mr. and Mrs. E. Kercher.

Driving towards Jones' Flat on Victoria Road the effect of the garden is breath-taking with yellow alyssum and purple aubretia tumbling here and there among the rocks and many other flowering plants vieing with one another in beauty. The rockery extends along the northwest hill beside the Kercher home, in front of it, and behind it.

As well as the rock garden display the borders surrounding the lawn are beautiful, too.

Another charming garden on Victoria Road is that of Mrs. C. J. Amm which yearly has a continuous showing of blooms of one sort or another, and where masses of daffodils have been holding their golden trumpets in close formation for several weeks.

Predict Birth Decline

Analysis of Census Statistics Shows Continued Swing to the City

Canada is in the midst of "a boom in children and a depression in teen-agers and young adults," with both factors exerting a decided effect on the present and future economy of the country, the Bank of Montreal comments in its monthly Business Review entitled "On Counting Canadian Heads".

The bank has devoted this month's review to an analysis of some of the highlights of Canada's present-day population figures and their business connotations. It notes that much of the information recorded by the 1951 census is still being sorted and that "because the results have been appearing piecemeal, their implications may not have been fully appreciated."

"The course of business is affected by many and varied influences," the review remarks. The weather, "the climate of public opinion" and developments beyond our own borders, all have their effect upon the country's economic scene. "But beneath all these transient and fortuitous movements there is the ground swell of the changing size and composition of the population—a ground swell that gradually and subtly, but none the less inevitably and profoundly, alters demand and supply. For in the last analysis consumers and producers are people."

A special supplement accompanying the bank's analysis carries tables showing the growth of Canada's population from 1871 to 1951, and population increases of the provinces and metropolitan areas over the ten-year period from 1941 to 1951. Other tables give further breakdowns of population figures. An interesting fact the supplement reveals is that, despite the heavy immigration during recent years, 85 per cent of the country's population in 1951 was native born, a higher proportion than at any time since the turn of the century.

Population Shifts from Farm to City

"The past decade has seen a resumption in the tendency for the population, as it grows, to shift from the farm to the city—a long-term tendency which had been interrupted during the '30's". The country's urban population grew by 33 per cent. "Even more dramatic than this urbanization," the bank states, "was the 'suburbanization' movement within the metropolitan areas." For metropolitan centers "this phenomenon will no doubt continue to give rise to problems of taxation, transportation, municipal services and school facilities for years to come."

Turning to the age composition of the population, the review notes that the size of the 10-24 age group has increased only slightly in recent years, in contrast to sharp increases in the size of other age groups. This is attributed to the low marriage rate and low birth rate of the depression years and, the B of M observes, its impact will be most keenly felt during the present decade.

"It signifies a tightening of an already tight labor situation for it is from this age group that new entrants into the labor market must come," comments the review. "It is readily apparent that without substantial immigration there will be no significant easing of the stringency until the 1960's. For employers at large, the keen competition for new recruits may bring about certain changes in employment policy and a reconsideration of the role and retirement age of older workers."

Drop in High Birth Rate Foreseen

As the present relatively small teen-age and young people's group grows older, the analysis foresees a potential decline in the marriage rate and a subsequent drop in the birth rate. It adds that "in consequence, the demand for new dwellings, house furnishings and children's needs may not continue to rise as rapidly as in recent years."

"The extraordinary rise in births during and since World War II has been such that Canada has had one of the highest birth rates in the world. As these children grow up, the implications for the clothing trades and for a wide variety of other consumer goods, ranging from sporting equipment to chewing gum, are obvious."

The B of M review predicts that the pressure for expansion of educational facilities will mount. Coupled with the small number of new entrants into the labor market, this could mean that in years immediately ahead "the relative shortage of new teachers may be particularly acute."

"In general," the B of M summarizes, "the census figures present a picture of a population growing, moving, from place to place and changing its composition at a pace that is imperceptible in a short period but pervasive over the longer run, and in ways that are sometimes predictable and sometimes not."

"There are, however, some basic features inherent in the population structure as it now exists which can be expected to exert ascertainable economic pressures in the years ahead." The relatively few Canadians born in the mid-30's and now coming of age will inevitably be followed by the larger number born in the late '40's and early '50's. "And just as labor stringency and less buoyant demands of young people and new-weds, in so far as they stem from numbers of persons, can safely be forecast for the immediate future, so also a reversal of these trends can be looked for with confidence in a later period."

Says Better Program Of Advertising Ahead

BCFGA Governor W. R. Powell Saturday gave assurance to members of the Southern District Council that better advertising and public relations can be expected in the future.

The matter of advertising Okanagan Fruit Products was raised when one of the members of the council stated he had been advised the FNE each year had offered space free for a display of Okanagan fruit but the association had never taken advantage of the offer. Mr. Powell said other expenses involved in such a display ran fairly high and the one at the Toronto fair cost about $4,000. However, he said the board "is conscious of weaknesses in the past and have great hope for the future." He said the matter of a FNE display was now in hand.

Guest at the meeting was John Kosty, Vernon, member of the executive, who told of the sessions of Canadian Federation of Agriculture in Victoria and also of a recent tour of the Cariboo country.

of the Okanagan, remarking on the lovely hills, the trees, the birds, and especially admiring the garden at the station.

Canadians are the world's greatest telephone talkers, 378 telephone conversations per person in 1951.

Report

The department currently before the house is that of agriculture. So far we have only received the broad statement of the minister of agriculture, who claims that agriculture is one of the healthiest and most profitable activities of the Canadian people.

On Monday the house adjourned for half an hour in order to join the Prime Minister and the Hon. Milton Gregg, VC, and others in welcoming the men of the First Battalion Royal Canadian Regiment and presenting them with their colors, on their return from Korea. Large crowds gathered on the lawn before the house and saw a very smart regiment on parade. Both men and officers were very fit and displayed great efficiency and training in their movements. It was a moving reception and must have filled everyone there with pride.

There are several of the house committees still carrying on, but it is doubtful if all of them will be able to complete their work before the deadline of May 8 set by the government; particularly the one on criminal law, which is very controversial. The CBC committee, on the other hand, has reached the point where it is ready to receive delegations from the private broadcasting stations and to listen to their points of view, criticisms and suggestions. After that this committee will wind up its affairs.

Present High Quality Entertainment At School Annual Variety Concert

Considerable talent, thought of administrative detail, general sense of good entertainment was provided, with numbers moving rapidly, at the high school variety concert on Friday evening.

This was the second annual concert to be produced by the graduating class of the year to provide funds for graduation exercises, and was a decided success with the auditorium filled to capacity by an appreciative audience.

Preston Mott, president of the students' council, was chairman, alternately with Ross Axworthy, each filling in odd moments between acts. Preston took part in a skit as well, and his tenor voice was well received in a duet and quartet in what was to many people his first appearance as a singer. In the former he sang with Evelyn Schindel and in the latter with Esther Huva, Evelyn Schindel and Eugene Bates. To most of those present it was Eugene's first public singing performance, too, and it was hoped that the boys will be heard more often.

Dwaine Greer gave an amusing recitation with universal application. Good musical numbers were contributed by Sharon Dowds, violinist; a band ensemble; Richard McDougald, piano solo. piano duet, Lona Derringer and Eugene Bates; trumpet solo, Lori Klix.

Two skits, Travelling Southern Style and the apt Hockey Jamboree were amusing.

The comedy act by Lori Klix, Barry Agur and Jim Peter, was given rousing applause and Peter with his western vocals added good fun to the program in his naive way.

Last item was the play, A Marriage Proposal, with Rob Towgood, Merle Heavysides and Brian Berg, in the cast. It was well done, maintaining a quick pace throughout.

Water Supply Better After Half-Inch Rain

Condition of water supply for the district this summer was considerably brightened last week with a half-inch of rainfall early in the week, bringing the total for April up to nearly one inch.

Municipal Council last Tuesday afternoon heard a report from E. Kercher, water department foreman that while the supply of water is not dangerously short, still caution will have to be exercised during the summer to make sure of enough to last through the season.

Two orchardists on the council, Councillors Stuart and Barkwill both stated they have reduced the amount of water they are using in sprinkling and are getting better results. Both expressed the opinion orchardists are using far more water than necessary.

RESCUE SQUADS work feverishly around the derailed Atlantic Coast Line Streamliner "Champion" as the telescoped cars lie across the tracks and spill into the surrounding fields near Dillon, S.C. monogrammed stationery may also be used for formal letters. In this case, the monogram or initials should be either centered at the top or in the upper left corner.

Printed stationery is surprisingly reasonable in price, and adds that touch of exclusiveness to the paper. Shops like The Review printing department have a large selection of various type-faces to choose from, and practically any color paper or any color ink may be chosen for further exclusiveness.

Plain or deckle-edged paper may be used for most correspondence. While a young girl may use pale pink or other pastel writing paper for personal letters, such colors are not sufficiently conservative for the more mature woman . . . nor should they be used for formal letters, even by a very young girl.

While a pale green paper and green ink or lavender paper and purple ink may make your letters distinctive, such shades are for your family and most intimate friends only. Nothing looks sillier than a letter of complaint to a

Some Thought to Personal Stationery Adds Distinction to Correspondence

Since correspondence is important in our social life, the matter of proper signature, correct form of address and the right stationery is worth a bit of thought.

A widow or married woman should not use her title in signing her name. Letters to friends are simply signed "Jane Smith," but where there might be a doubt as to whether it's "Miss" or "Mrs." Smith, it is proper to put "Mrs. John Smith" in parenthesis beneath.

Contrary to a fairly prevalent opinion, there is no distinction made in addressing mail to a married woman or a widow. Both are correctly "Mrs. John Smith."

In selecting stationery, the sensible thing is to decide which type of letter predominates in your correspondence and choose accordingly. For informal or semi-business mail, single or double sheets of white, gray or palest blue are correct. These may have the full name and address engraved or printed across or centered on the top of the page. For either a married woman or widow this would be "Mrs. John Smith," followed by the address.

CHOOSE WHITE, GRAY OR PALE BLUE

For more formal correspondence, double paper with the address alone is correct. If preferred, a

Win or Lose

By Jack Dunham.

Every ball club at one time or another, goes as far down as it can go. Our own Macs are currently in that position due to a string of defeats from—not too bad to... well, read about the game else where on this page for yourself.

One consolation about getting that low is that there is only one direction to go, and that is up. The worst part of it is that the boys were beaten by a team that is capable of doing just that; but never to the tune of 16-3.

The northern boys are not leading the league for nothing. They are packed with stars, young and old. Although not to such an extent the local team also has its share of top performers. Where then, we ask ourselves, is the weakness? Well, in my opinion, one team does not get 16 runs on the other teams weak hitting. Last year, the Macs blasted the same Kamloops pitcher for nine runs; this year they garnered three. A lot of difference you say? I agree—but three runs is still enough to win a ball game. Therefore, although the hitting is weak, it is still not too weak, and so the trouble must lie in the field.

Let's walk around the infield first and look at each player individually:

Metcalf, catcher; steady as a rock behind that plate and a real steady influence over the whole team. Had some trouble Sunday though.

Gould, 1b; Usually plays heads-up ball and is more or less taken for granted with his calm style at first. However "Lefty" seems to have been in the same boat as Metcalf was and came up with a couple of costly errors in Sunday's contest.

Kato, 2b; Although not a colorful player, he is nevertheless a keen one and can be counted on for a hustling game at all times.

Farynuk, 3b; A new boy in the organization and on Sunday found himself facing some hard smashes that were really coming. He hooted several rollers that should have been easy outs. Hank definitely had himself a bad day and that's all there is to it.

Hooker, ss; A comer if there ever was one. With a little smoothing out could develop into a top notch ball player. A real asset to the club.

Taylor, cf; Playing coach and the top player on the team whose big bat and exceptional play in the outer gardens have made him the star of the team for many a year. A real smart cookie, the kind of a ball player the fellows look up to.

Alkin, rf; Something new for Chuck, as he played at third base last year, and first base in junior ball. A smoothie with the hickory but needs more experience in the outfield.

Weitzel, lf; Always plays his best and can be counted on to get anything within his reach. A little slow afoot but makes up for it by usually getting the jump on the ball.

Borton, outfield; Making a comeback in baseball but will take time to get back into the groove. Provides a certain amount of bench strength for the Macs.

Christante, pitcher; Pitched junior ball last year and is inclined to be wild at times. Needs a lot of coaching before he pitches the kind of ball of which I'm certain he is capable.

Coffey, pitcher; A veteran who has returned to the team after a couple of years lay-off. Has shown spurts of fine hurling but his soft stuff must be working for him to be effective. It was not working very well Sunday.

Eyre, pitcher; Has pitched the steadiest ball of all when given the chance but still needs plenty of seasoning. Bill pitched, caught and played second base for the juniors last year and is a handy man to have around.

Bonthoux; Up from junior and played a stint in the outfield Sunday. Another little hustler.

All in all it appears to be the mound staff that is the weak link in the team. What is needed is a steady, reliable starter who can be counted on to give any team a battle for every hit they get. Ernie Rucks, when he gets home, may be just the man we need. Until then the club had better concentrate on what they have now.

It is rumored that Frank Metcalf will be forced to hang up his spikes for some time. The Macs will have to find another catcher and George Taylor may have to fill in for awhile. Taylor by the way, injured his leg in the game Sunday while sliding into home on a close play but will probably be in action this week-end. Hank Farynuk is also on the injured list with a sore arm.

Tough as things may seem, the boys are still giving it everything they've got. The Macs have got that bad game out of their systems, and it should be interesting to see how the same two teams do this Sunday against each other.

Kamloops vs Summerland—game time 2:30 p.m.

Girls Top Boys At Track Meet

Summerland girls outshone the boys in the 7th annual Kinsmen International track meet in Penticton last Saturday and came away with six seconds and four thirds against two seconds and two thirds for the boys.

Girls who copped seconds in the various events were: Shirley Burnell, intermediate girls discus; Sheila Bennison, junior girls 80 yards; Marion Alkin, senior girls 75 yards; Yvonne Polesello, senior girls broad jump; Pearl Hooker, intermediate girls 75 yards; Alkin, Burnell, Polesello and Hooker, senior girls 440 yards relay.

Barry Higgs scored the two seconds for the boys in the intermediate boys broad jump and the intermediate boys pole vault.

Taking third place honors for girls were Donna Lewis, junior girls high jump; Lorraine Johnson, junior girls broad jump; Shirley Burnell, intermediate girls high jump; Pearl Wakefield, Carol Cornish, Joan Beggs, Sheila Bennison, junior girls 300 yard relay.

Boys placing third were Bob Metters, junior boys high jump; Bob Metters, Pat Anderson, Harold Biollo, Don Skinner, junior boys 300 yard relay.

Real Sharp Shooting Featured at Garnet Valley Range Sunday

G. M. Dunsdon with a 101, and John Khalembak with 100 topped the week-end group of marksmen of the Summerland Rifle Club last Sunday. These two were followed closely by Len Shannon and Phil Dunsdon, each with 99, the latter getting the only possible of the day, that being on the 200-yard range.

Mrs. F. Cousins and daughter Miss Y. Cousins were visiting shooters from Penticton.

Other scores were: Bill Young 96, Art Dunsdon 94, Jill Sanborn 93, D. Taylor 93, H. Simpson 92, B. T. Washington 91, Jack Dunsdon 90, Pop Dunsdon 89, C. Mann 87, Geo. Stoll 84, Y. Cousins (Pent.) 83, F. Cousins (Pent.) 90.

Kamloops Tilt

Pitching Staff Weakness Draws Macs 14-3 Defeat

Summerland Sunday afternoon suffered a crushing defeat when they faced Kamloops in the third match of the present season and the 16-3 walkover ran losses for the locals to three.

The Summerland nine raft through their full stable of hurlers in the hope of getting the measure of the Kamloops squad and Eyre going to the mound in the sixth did the best job and held the mainliners to a single run in the last three innings.

The Okonots collected a total of 12 bases on balls and 14 hits while their chucker Gatin gave up only eight hits and a single free base ticket.

Kamloops started their scoring in the first frame when Buchanan with two out hit into right field and then made the circuit when Beecroft followed him at the plate with a three-bagger. Beecroft was left on third when Evenson hit Go shortstop and was caught out at first.

Kamloops come through strong in the second by scoring four runs. With two out, Anderson got down to first by virtue of an error by Catcher Metcalf, then Gatin and Kaminishi walked and then Fowles belted out a single to bring Anderson and Gatin home and touch off the scoring parade for the inning. Kaminishi and Fowles walked home when free rides were handed out to Beecroft and Evenson. The side retired when Fowles was caught out by Taylor.

Neither side registered in the third but in the fourth, the north-erners were back in business to pick up three counters with the help of a brace of errors and three stolen bases. Buchanan got down to first on an error by First Sacker Gould and then stole second. Beecroft next was caught out on a throw from third to first and Evenson made first on an error off Farynuk and Buchanan got home. Evenson stole second and next was Lennox who took first when hit by a pitched ball and then stole second. An error by Farynuk put Anderson on first and Gould erred next which permitted Gatin to make first sack. While Evenson went down to third and then stole home before Kaminishi hit to Alkin to end the inning.

Big inning for Kamloops was the fifth when six of their runners crossed the home plate. Scorers were Len Fowles, Beecroft, Evenson, Jack Fowles, Lennox and Gatin.

Summerland came to life in the sixth when Hooker, first man up, went to first when hit by a pitched ball. Metcalf and Taylor both singled and brought Hooker home. Gould singled next and Metcalf reached home on an error by First Sacker Buchanan. Taylor was tagged out trying to reach home but a single by Alkin sent Gould across the plate.

*Only man to score for Kamloops in the sixth was Buchanan who was first up and belted out a circuit hit. The seventh inning was scoreless and in the eighth Evenson singled and then came home on a two-base hit of Jack Fowles.

New Regulations

The regulations requiring growers and others to obtain permits before making gift shipments of fruit, has been a contentious one, particularly in the Creston area. It now has been cancelled but may be re-imposed if the volume of such shipments reaches harmful proportions.
Inspection stations are located on roads leading out of the fruit growing areas. Per family, five standard packages of fruit, of which not more than two may be cherries, will be allowed to pass these stations.
A card giving details in connection with the necessary regulations of the Board, for the information of tourists and other purchasers, will be displayed at all fruit stands.

Firemen were forced to run for their lives when the vessel took on a sudden list, snapped her supporting lines and rolled over on her side. The hull of the stricken ship strikes a similar pose to that of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada which was destroyed by fire while at her berth in Liverpool, England, Jan. 25.

Vice-Regal Visit Schedule Planned

Schedule has now been prepared for a whirlwind two and one-half hour tour that will include stops at Westbank, Peachland and Summerland for Governor-General Vincent Massey on May 15.
His Excellency is due to arrive at the Memorial Playground in Summerland at 2:30 where civic and school officials and their wives will be presented. He will then inspect members of the Canadian Legion, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies.
Reeve C. E. Bentley will then deliver an informal address of welcome to which the governor-general will reply. He will then place a wreath at the Cenotaph and the remainder of his time in Summerland, until 3:30 o'clock, he will mingle in the crowd to meet and chat with people.

His Excellency will be driven from Kelowna to Summerland by Reeve Bentley, leaving Kelowna at 1 o'clock. He will stop at Westbank for 10 minutes to meet school children and will stop at Peachland for 15 minutes, during which time he will place a wreath at the Cenotaph. He will be met there by Peachland Reeve G. W. Hawksley.
He will motor on to Penticton when he leaves Summerland.

large firm if it is on colored paper with colored ink . . . and possibly a faint scent to complete the picture. Yet the same paper and ink would be welcomed by your distant friends as a distinct touch of the familiar and dear.

We select our attire for the occasion. Is it too much to expect that writing paper be equally appropriate? Whether married or single, the woman who wants paper to use for club, store, dentist or such impersonal contacts, should realize that her full name or none at all should be placed on the paper.

A single girl does not have "Helen Green" or "Janice" across the top of the paper on which she writes to a department store. If a name is used, it is "Miss Helen Green" or "Mrs. John Smith" . . . and bear in mind that nicknames are not properly used in engraving or printing stationery.

NEEDS DICTATE SIZE OF PAPER
The size of the paper selected should depend upon the use to which it is to be put and your handwriting. An "informal" might be used for an informal invitation or reply. A standard size double paper should be used for the reply to a wedding invitation. A single sheet would be correct for a semi-business note.

Business, semi-business and personal letters may be typed. A reply to a formal third-person invitation should be hand-written.

Despite the convenience of the telephone, there are times when a letter is a must and for such times it is expedient that we have the paper and know just what to write.

Calls Repudiation Of 'Super-Pork Barrel'

A scathing criticism of Social Credit policies was unleashed Saturday night by CCF Leader Arnold Webster in the IOOF hall when he described the Secord government as "Boy Scouts in reverse—performing a bad deed every day" and accused them of "super-pork barrel politics".

The CCF leader was addressing a meeting in support of South Okanagan CCF candidate Tom Wilkinson, who preceded him on the platform. The reference to "super-pork barrel politics" followed reading of excerpts from a radio speech of provincial Secord league president, John Perdue, in which he described the method of presenting requests to the government as being to first make representations to the Social Credit group in the district, who would pass the information on to the riding executive of the league, who would in turn pass it on to the central committee who would present the request to the cabinet minister concerned.

"Even the Liberals and Conservatives at their worst didn't operate this way," the speaker observed and went on to term the ample of party manoeuvring and party domination I've ever heard of." He described it as "extremely dangerous" and called upon the premier "for explanation and repudiation."

Candidate Tom Wilkinson confined most of his remarks to subjects which affect fruit growers and looked to the future with a jaundiced eye, offering the prediction, "I've been negotiating with canners for 20 years and have never known the outlook to be as bad as it is this year."

The candidate said only by co-operation, not by competition, could the position of the growers and canners be improved and said the CCF party if elected will add to the cabinet a minister of co-operatives.

The grower, said Mr. Wilkinson, has gone as far as he can in marketing his produce and stated the only solution now is government support and protection from "dumping" of fruit from the U.S. British Columbia, he charged, is becoming a "dumping ground" for fruit both from Eastern Canada and the U.S.

Mr. Wilkinson said that as president of the Canadian Horticultural Council he had noticed representations of eastern growers to Ottawa were always backed by strong support from their provincial governments but had never seen any action from the B.C. government. He expressed the belief that the provincial government should take the initiative in the matter of support and pledged himself to this policy if elected.

He pledged also that the CCF government before writing any new farm legislation would first consult with organized farm groups and heed their advice before framing new laws.

Mr. Webster hinted the local candidate has already been tagged for the appointment as minister of the proposed department of co-operatives. "I hope," said Mr. Webster, "that when the time comes to fill the post of minister of co-operatives that we have at Victoria, a man with the experience and knowledge of Mr. Wilkinson."

The party leader expressed the view that no party will obtain a clear majority on first count of June 9 ballots and said that the CCF party if elected would always be mindful of the fact their election was with the support of other groups.

Principal of Magee High school in Vancouver, Mr. Webster is carrying on his school duties at the same time as waging a campaign battle. During the week he confines his appearances to areas adjacent to Vancouver and reaches the distant points of the province on week-ends.

He called upon Premier Bennett to make a statement on the charges of J. A. Reid against teachers and said Mr. Reid has recently "bragged" that Mr. Bennett is right behind him and has complimented him on his stand.

He said the "statesman-like job of the CCF in the opposition" has been a point on which all parties have agreed and promised the same thing if the CCF is chosen as the government.

On education costs, he favored a return to the system of grants as recommended in the Cameron report "which takes into consideration the number of teachers, their qualifications and the number of pupils in the school."

In reference to automobile insurance, he said the CCF can supply cheaper insurance than is now obtainable in B.C. He pointed to the coverage in Saskatchewan that is obtainable for $20—"more than I'm getting for $75," he added. He made no predictions on what the cost would be in B.C., except that it would probably be more than it is in Saskatchewan—but a lot less than it is here now.

He promised a reduction of sales tax and elimination of it from meals, children's clothing, drugs and other essentials.

Final Month 'Smooth' Ready to Close Apple Pool With Last of Crop Now Sold

Last box of apples at present in cold storage, will roll from the valley within the next few days, A. K. Loyd, president of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., said stocks on hand the first of last week consisted of 32,000 boxes of Newtowns and Winesaps, and wholesalers have already placed orders for shipment either last week or this week. Apple pool will close between May 15-30.

Mr. Loyd pointed out that well over 35 per cent of the Newtown crop moved to U.S. markets, with about nine per cent going to off-shore markets, and 56 per cent to Canadian markets. Biggest domestic market was Montreal. Of interest to growers, he said the Montreal market did not want 198's or 216's but preferred 163's.

Apple market continued quite active in Washington last week where around 800 cars were shipped. Even Newtowns, which had been difficult to sell, are now being taken up by the trade. As of April 25, storage holdings were down 2,900 cars and shippers remarked that the apple deal had apparently straightened out for a smooth run into the final month of the season after having been sluggish for several weeks.

Mr. Loyd reported that warmer weather last week has brought asparagus along quickly and volume shipments have been reached. Demand has been good so far. Lethbridge and Winnipeg got into production on the week-end.

UBC Scholarship Memorial To Late Dr. Dick Palmer

A province-wide committee has been formed to establish a scholarship fund at UBC in memory of the late Dr. R. C. "Dick" Palmer, former superintendent at the Summerland Experimental Station, who died on March 25.

An objective of $10,000 has been set, the interest from which will provide, in perpetuity, an annual scholarship for some worthy student.

Dr. Palmer, an eminent horticulturist and one of UBC's outstanding graduates, made manifold contributions to agriculture, and it is felt by the committee that has been established that the scholarship will be a most fitting memorial to him.

Polling Lists Drop About 1,800

South Okanagan voters' list is shaved by about 1,800 with the new completed list showing a total of 14,773 voters qualified to go to the polls on June 9. Last year there were 16,586 on the rolls.

In Summerland the number of voters has dropped from 582 to 529, and in West Summerland from 1927 to 1713.

Most of the polling divisions in the riding showed a decrease from last year but three—Peachland, Okanagan Centre and Joe Rich Valley showed slight increases.

Following is a breakdown of distribution of voters in South Okanagan as compared to last year. Figures in brackets are last year's totals.

Bear Creek 36 (36); Benvoulin 788 (930); East Kelowna 394 (410); Ellison 173 (176); Glenmore 550 (602); Kelowna 6,437 (7,307); Naramata 405 (490); Okanagan Centre 140 (139).

Peachland 402 (379); Rutland 1,562 (1,771); South Kelowna 497 (573); Summerland 529 (582); Westbank 493 (567); West Summerland 1,713 (1,927); Winfield 628 (673); Joe Rich Valley 26 (24). Totals—14,773 (16,586).

VICTOR WILSON
Well-known Naramata farmer, Vic Wilson, is the Liberal candidate for South Okanagan riding. Formerly a resident of Summerland, he received much of his education here and has a distinguished war record and as well has been an outstanding athlete.

Rotary Sponsors UBC Player Stage Production Big Hit With Audience Here

An appreciative Summerland audience, on Friday night, were treated to a high quality stage production of the Paul Vincent Carrott play "Shadow and Substance" presented by the UBC players under sponsorship of Summerland Rotary Club.

The play is set in a parochial house in Ardmore, one of the small villages lying at the foot of the Mourne Hills in County Louth, Ireland.

The story deals with the despotism of the canon over the populace and curates, although he held a certain amount of affection for his servant, Bridget. Bridget, however, arouses his ire when she talks of visions of the saint for whom she was named.

Doris Chilcott gave an outstanding performance in the role of Bridget, while the canon was ably portrayed by Gerry Webb.

Others in the cast of the excellent production of the well-known Irish drama were Bob Woodward, Eve Grantham, Don Withrow, Tom Shorthouse, Rosemary Forsander, Scot Farncombe, John Whittaker and Eve Newitt. Director was John Thorne.

Louise DeVick, production manager of "Shadow and Substance" was one of the members of the cast of "Tobacco Road" during its contentious run in Vancouver.

Members of the cast were guests at the homes of members of Rotary Club during their stay in Summerland.

Holiday Monday Dogs Destroy Seven Sheep

For the first time, Victoria Day will be celebrated on a day other than May 24. The holiday is now marked on the Monday preceding that date so next Monday, May 18, will be a national holiday with all stores and businesses closed.

Two marauding dogs struck at the Walton and Harris farm in the early morning hours last week and left in their wake seven sheep so badly mauled they had to be destroyed and two more not-quite-seriously mauled. All were ewes due to lamb this month.

Municipal council Tuesday afternoon reviewed a claim from owners for half the amount of the valuation of the sheep—$157.50. They were valued at $45 each. The claim stated Miss Harris had followed the two dogs after she discovered them in the sheep pen and was able to track one of them to the owner who agreed to pay half the damage.

The dogs, she said, were a Labrador and a police dog. It was the owner of the Labrador she was able to locate.

The council reserved decision on the claim while an effort is being made to locate the owner of the second dog involved.

School Band Concert Set for Next Week

First annual Summerland High School band concert will be held in the High School auditorium on Thursday and Friday, May 28 and 29.

The program is to consist of band numbers from the 70-piece school band and various instrumental ensembles and Miss Kay Hamilton's choir.

Pro-Cons Appoint 'Draft' Committee To Bring Back Election Candidate

South Okanagan Progressive Conservatives last Friday night postponed decision on nomination for another week and tomorrow will announce their intention regarding the June 9 election.

At the present time a three-man nominating committee with extensive "draft" powers is charged with bringing the name of one or more individuals back to the convention when it reconvenes next Friday.

The committee, which includes W. H. Moffat of Westbank, J. W. MacFarlane of Glenmore and N. J. Waddington of Rutland, has one particular person in mind. Some of the delegates to the convention said they had hoped the candidate in mind could have been nominated then, but he had declined to stand.

While the name of the prospective candidate was withheld, Len Gadder, of Westbank, was positive "he would make an excellent showing."

Previously the chairman, C. G. Beeston, president of the South Okanagan Progressive Conservative Association, had asked on two separate occasions for nominations.

On the first none was forthcoming and after various spokesmen exhorted a nomination, the meeting adjourned briefly for "round table discussions".

Upon reconvening, the meeting heard two nominations, but both nominees declined. There were no others.

AOTS Annual Meet, Saturday

Third annual AOTS track meet has been set for Saturday at the Memorial Athletic park starting at 10:30 a.m. and the annual children's sports day will be held at the Athletic park Monday starting at the same hour.

About 200 entries have been received for the track meet and will represent Vernon, Armatong, Kelowna, Rutland, Summerland, Penitot, Similkameen and Trail.

The event last year was a marked success and the meet is rapidly developing into one of the most popular in the valley.

Jim Pantone will be announcer and director with Jim Logie of Kelowna as referee. A. K. Macleod will be head starter.

The children's sports on Monday will be for ages 3 to 13 and following the schedule of events, there will be a senior ball game between Summerland Macs and Princeton Royals.

Hospital Tagging Brings In $237

With every member assisting in tagging Saturday, the Hospital Auxiliary National Hospital tag day netted $237 for work of the organization at the Summerland General hospital.

Committee members expressed gratification at the results of the effort. Funds raised from the campaign will be used to provide additional linen at the hospital to bring the supply up to meet requirements.

Tagging was carried on from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. under direction of a committee including Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, Mrs. T. E. Lott and Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon.

Anglicans to Hold Service of Witness

Today, May 14, is Ascension Day and the congregation of St. Stephen's church will hold Service of Witness this evening at 8 p.m.

All the Anglican churches of the South Okanagan Rural Deanery, which extends from Oyama to the American border, will take part.

The preacher at the service will be the Venerable Archdeacon D. S. Catwells, DD, of Kelowna.

The choir of St. Saviour's church, Penitot, will be present and sing an Ascension Day anthem.

After the service there will be a social period in the parish hall.

Massey Welcome At Playground

Summerland Memorial Playground will be the scene of the welcome tomorrow for Governor-General Vincent Massey when the school children will be out in a body to greet the queen's Canadian representative. Also present in a body will be members of Canadian Legion.

The governor-general will have only one hour in Summerland and will be driven from Kelowna by Reeve C. E. Bentley. On his arrival at 2:30 he will inspect the Canadian Legion members and the school children and school and municipal officials and their wives will be presented.

Next he will place a wreath at the Cenotaph and this will be followed by an address of welcome by the reeve, to which he will reply briefly. The remainder of his time here will be spent informally meeting people.

Nancy Hodges to Speak Liberals Set to Launch Campaign With Leader Visiting Here Today

Liberals this week will shift their Summerland campaign into high gear with a visit today by party leader Arthur Laing to meet party members and map campaign strategy in this area, and next week a public meeting will be held in the Oddfellows' Hall on Wednesday night when ex-speaker of the legislature, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, will take the platform to speak on behalf of Liberal candidate, Vic Wilson.

Mrs. Hodges' verbal exchanges with Education Minister Tilly Roston during the last session were among the highlights of the session. She was one of the six Liberals returned in the last election and is again a candidate this year. She achieved prominence as the first woman speaker of any government in the British Empire.

On the platform with her will be Liberal Candidate Vic Wilson.

Mr. Wilson will be in Summerland next Tuesday and Wednesday to meet voters in this district. He will be spending similar brief periods in each part of the riding to obtain a close view of problems in the various sections.

This afternoon, Mr. Laing's meeting will be with members of the local association and it is expected he may return to Summerland before the election to assist in the campaign here.

P-TA Meeting

Importance of Reading to Complete Education Stressed by Librarian

Following a busy day of "book-talking" to the 13 classes of MacDonald School on Thursday, May 7, Miss Eva Webb, children's librarian of the Okanagan Regional Library, headquarters Kelowna, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the P-TA.

With enthusiasm Miss Webb addressed the gathering on her work, which she outlined as vital, and about which she said, "too little is known."

"In those days when the world is shrinking," she said, "and jet travel brings us all closer together, we should know of the places outside where we live. This is in the interests of national safety and intelligence and of personal safety."

"We in this beautiful valley are fortunate, and though we may not be able to go far, our ideas do not need to be restricted to our immediate surroundings. Books broaden horizons."

"Our education is tending to produce a semi-literate population, that can read and write, but not much more. Consequently some people are exposed to every propaganda. We should try to create taste, discrimination, and judgment. The library is better equipped for

BY RUSTICUS

We say a man—or woman—is 'nonchalant'—especially when smoking a well-known brand of cigarette. We say his—or her—dress is 'impeccable' or manner 'imperturbable.' We get the opposite idea when we speak of a person as 'uncouth.' Right?

Why don't we ever use the opposites of such words? Clothes that aren't 'unfashionable' are fashionable; why aren't clothes which are not 'impeccable' 'peccable'? If a manner is not 'uncouth,' why not simply call it 'couth'? I long for the day when some bold writer will dash off such a sentence as: "Though his manner was suavely couth, his perturbable face and chalang gestures matched his peccable attire."

It's a queer language, this English, when you think of it; and what it must seem to one who has to learn it, after having brought up in another mother tongue, Webster only knows.

We chop a tree down and then cut it up. We call a car fast when it is travelling at high speed and a boat fast when it is stuck or tied motionless. Helpful people guiding a motorist out of a tight spot will nonchalantly advise, "Go ahead and back up." It's considered perfectly couth English.

Yet this logicless, unreasonable, unwieldy, incomprehensible language of ours keeps rolling along, expanding, growing, adapting itself to a changing world with amazing elasticity. Think how many new words have been brought into everyday vocabularies by the use of jet planes and atomic bombs. Not so long ago 'jet' was very black and 'atomize' reminded most people of one of those glass squirt guns for spraying nose and throat; now . . .

One of the most fascinating things about any language is the way it grows. What started my interest in this first was the childish wonder as to why we called pig 'pork' and cow 'beef' when they became butcher's meat; and it was intriguing to learn that it came from the old days of the Norman conquest of Saxon England, when the poor conquered Saxons saw the animals alive and had no chance to eat them, whereas the Normans never bothered with them except when their cooked meat appeared on the table; and their French words for 'pig' and 'cow' came to mean only the tablemeats.

Then through chance roaming over a dictionary I discovered that the word 'gopher'—and where I was brought up there were thousands of the little ground squirrels that were called by that name—came from the French word for honeycomb. The way their holes honeycombed the ground made the early French Explorers give them that name.

Still another French immigrant into our language is the word 'love,' as used for a score of zero in tennis and similar games. Just learned the other day that the French call a zero score 'a goose egg,' just as we do; but the French word is 'l'oeuf' and tennis being a French game, their name for 'no score' came with it into English.

Spanish has contributed all sorts of words to the English that cowboys use; 'lariat,' for instance, is the Spanish 'la reata.' 'Boss' comes from the Dutch 'Baas,' and the common Canadianism 'stoop' for a porch is from the Dutch too. 'Porch' is merely French, 'verandah' is Portuguese. (Look 'em up in your dictionary, like I'm doing.)

But English probably spreads into other languages faster than it absorbs from them. In Puerto Rico, for instance, when the Spanish-language comics show a crook holding up somebody with a pistol, the caution is 'Estiquemop'.

But the oddest bit of wordology I've come across lately—odder even than our making 'tip' for a waiter's fee from the initials of 'To Insure Promptness'—is a bit of German which became French.

Back in 1870, when the Germans invaded France for the first of three times so far—they were intrigued by fanlight windows the fashionable French were installing over their doors. 'Was ist das?' they would say, the German for 'What is that?' The French, who had been wondering what to call them, were delighted to hear this phrase; and to this day, I understand, the French people call a fanlight 'un wasistdas.'

Thirty Years Ago, May 17, 1923

It was the intention of the Kettle Valley Railway to replace the trestle at the Cross property in Prairie Valley by a culvert and fill.

R. H. Helmer, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm here had resigned and was leaving to take a position as manager of the Major Goldman estate in the Nicola Valley.

G. R. Hookham came in from Vancouver for the meeting of the White Lake Collieries.

Vernon was chosen as the permanent headquarters of the Associated Growers of British Columbia. That city had been the headquarters of the co-operative fruit marketing organizations of the interior since the growers were organized. Kelowna, Penticton, and Kamloops were all aspirants for the honors.

Summerland Art League received its first order for pottery. This was for ink wells of rustic design to be used by the CPR mountain hotels.

The King's birthday, which was to be celebrated this year on June 4, was to be observed with a full sports program to be held at Crescent Beach.

Joe Graham came home from Toronto where he had just graduated from the Royal Dental College.

Miss Margaret Anderson of the hospital staff was away on holidays.

W. J. Robinson and a party of friends were opening a prospecting camp on the Tulameen.

Twenty-Five Years Ago, May 18, 1928.

W. R. Boyd heard his car honking and looking out was startled to see the car on fire. He was helped by others living near in extinguishing the flames which had started from his smudge blower used in hiving bee swarms, which he thought was out. The wind had found a spark and fanned the fire. The hood, seat and cushions were destroyed, but the engine was unharmed.

Fish were biting well at Chute Lake.

Over one hundred visited the hospital on Hospital Day, and the membership added $500. to the treasury, with the churches contributing another $100.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Verrier welcomed a daughter at the hospital on May 14. They called her Irene Elsie.

On May 18, a daughter was born at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Davis.

Mr. Landry had brought in three fine purebred Jerseys to add to his splendid herd.

Mrs. George Dewar was visiting her mother, Mrs. Chew.

Five Years Ago, May 20, 1948

W. A. C. Bennett, Kelowna, representative of south Okanagan for the past seven years resigned his seat to allow his nomination as Progressive-Conservative candidate in the Yale by-election.

The newly-formed Summerland Brass Band was to be heard for the first time at the Spring Fair in the Occidental building and on the business streets, and at the opening of the Living Memorial Athletic Park.

Mrs. Frances Sanders, garden editor of Canadian Homes and Gardens, spoke to the Horticultural Society.

Dorothy Blacklock, Coono Eyre, Elleen Birtles, Mary Lou Rempel, Shirley Wilson, and Ellen Brandstrup were Guides nominated for Patrol Leaders.

THURSDAY, MAY FOURTEENTH NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE

Keep Dogs Home . . . the alternative can be costly

THE problem of marauding dogs is one that is becoming more and more serious in this community. At almost every meeting of the municipal council recently, the agenda has included a claim for chickens, sheep or goats which have been killed or severely mauled by dogs.

The most recent case was on Tuesday when a claim for $157 was received by the council.

If this destruction by dogs continues at the same rate, the cost to the taxpayers is going to mount to a sum all out of proportion to what this item should be expected to cost.

Whether this damage is being done by the same few dogs or whether different ones are responsible in each case is unknown but certainly it is the responsibility of every dog owner to keep close tabs on his pet and make sure it is not one of the killers.

Much of the trouble comes from leaving dogs free to roam all night and most of the damage has been done during the early hours of the morning. Owners should make sure their dogs are secured during the night, either indoors or chained. This should be done not only in the interests of saving the municipality money, but also in their own interests because if the identity of the dog causing the damage is known, the owner is liable for the costs. The claim for $157 studied Tuesday by the council represented only one-half of the total damage done. Two dogs were involved and the owner of one is being required to pay a like amount.

Dogs are unpredictable and an owner can easily find himself faced with an uncomfortably large bill if he fails to ignore precautions for keeping his dog out of trouble.

Any person who has enough affection for a dog to keep and care for him should also do him the kindness of keeping him as much as possible away from temptation—and also respect others property.

Fly Your Flags . . . let's make it a royal welcome

FRIDAY afternoon Summerland will have the honor of welcoming the Governor-General of Canada who is visiting the Okanagan in his official capacity as representative of the Queen in Canada. While his stay here will be brief and he will have an opportunity to meet only a few of the members of this community, the people of this district will have an opportunity to re-affirm their faith in Canada and her ancient ties by turning out to give a rousing welcome to our first citizen.

The Governor-General is the personal representative in Canada of the Queen and as such should receive the same high honors that would be accorded Her Majesty if she were making the visit personally.

All flags should be flown to mark the visit and it is hoped that premises in the central part of the municipality will be suitably decorated to help make Summerland's welcome a truly royal one.

Mostly Attitude . . . safety is everybody's business

IT is because the problem of safety has such far-reaching consequences in our daily lives that it is gratifying to learn of the first nation-wide May Safety Month campaign which is being sponsored by the Canadian automobile industry, in conjunction with various service clubs, chambers of commerce and safety groups across the country. Safety has become big business.

Experts in the field say that safety is mostly attitude. Wake up early in the morning with a smile, they point out, and your chances of reaching the office in the same condition you were when you left home are infinitely better than they would have been if you had awakened on the wrong side of the bed.

But attitude is too nebulous a quality to measure; too nebulous a quality on which to depend. Safety then, is a problem of public education—a painstaking proposition of instilling in people, the truth of the old maxim that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." And everyone—from educator to engine driver—knows that this cannot be accomplished overnight.

To safety men, who rightly believe that being conscious of other people's welfare as well as your own is an indispensable part of good citizenship, the problem is indeed vexatious. Much of their work—carefully planned, long term programs entailing a great deal of money—goes unheeded.

For this reason it is heartening that such great strides are being taken in the accident-prevention field in Canada. In this highly mechanized civilization it is not enough any more to warn children to stop and look both ways before crossing a street. Nor is it enough just to say about old Bill Jones who demolished his car the night before, "Too bad. He should have been more careful."

The problem of safety is a community problem. In many cities throughout Canada last year, property damage caused by automobile accidents exceeded by far the total police force budgets. Safety is everybody's business.

May is designated as Safety Month across the nation. Approximately 92 per cent of traffic accidents are caused by errors of driver and the remaining 8 per cent by faulty automobile mechanisms.

Therefore if only a fraction of the three million odd motor vehicles in Canada are driven with additional care during May, there is bound to be a progressive reduction of preventable accidents—a substantial advance towards a safety-conscious Canadian public and more holidays without death.

SLAVES TO CONVENTION
What happened to the fashion predictions of seven and eight years ago?

Remember? — men were through suffering in the summer heat. They were going to cast off their conventional business clothes and emerge in cool, knee length shorts and light shirts, open at the neck.

The fashion experts were sure this was going to be the case because they believed men returning from the services were prepared to rebel against heavy clothing in the hot months. Also the ex-servicemen at that time were accustomed to summer issue uniforms designed for comfort in hot weather.

But those who predict fashion trends failed to reckon with the conservative being that is the Canadian male. He displayed courage in battle but it takes a different brand of courage to stroll down Main Street attired in trousers that expose bony knees and hairy legs.

A leader failed to arise in the school of featherweight clothing and the Canadian business man continues to be miserable in his conventional business suit, complete with necktie.

True, a few business men wear tropical suits and light shirts but the majority still swelter daily in the same garb worn in winter weather.

The Canadian woman knows summer comfort in cotton and linen with a weight of mere ounces while her husband perspires in pounds of wool wrapped about him.

Wise in the ways of heat control, Miss and Mrs. Canada wear the light, loose clothing prescribed for summer months by fashion experts and medical men. There's no doubt heavy clothing is a poor way to avoid exhaustion.

Another factor in favor of Canadian women's comfort is their readiness to adopt a style or custom from another country if it suits their idea of fashion.

But the male continues in his conventional clothes and probably will for years to come.—Castle News.

PEACE — MORE MARKETS
In all this speculation of what may follow the sudden ending of the present cold war, one very important point is being overlooked by those who seem unable to lift their eyes from the ticker tape. That is a revival of oriental trade.

Across the Pacific there are hundreds of millions of people who could provide a market for every pound of surplus goods this continent might produce. Peace—real peace—could open that market, not overnight of course, but in a relatively short time. Without peace, however, there isn't a chance of getting in at all.

Because it is closest, it is the Pacific coast regions of Canada and the USA, with their minerals, timber, fish and manufactured goods that would gain first and foremost in any revival of trade with Asia. And it is this region, too, that is in most need of world markets today.—The Financial Post.

The Lighter Side

SURPRISE
A young man had been calling on a girl for a couple of years. One day her father cornered him.

"Now, look here, young man," he said, "you've been a-courtin' my daughter for a long time—what are your intentions?" "Honorable or otherwise?" "The young man's face lit up: "You mean I got a choice?"

The Alliance (Alta.) Enterprise recently reprinted this motto of a weekly paper from a 50-year-old edition of the Warton (Ont.) Echo:

"Lie, Steal, Drink and Swear!"
The editor explained the motto: "When you lie, let it be down to pleasant dreams; when you steal, let it be away from immoral companions; when you drink, let it be pure water; when you swear, let it be that you will support your home town paper, pay your subscriptions, and have your printing done locally. To all of which we add a loud 'Amen!'"

Ottawa Report

BY O. L. JONES, MP for Yale

This letter naturally, is written a few days in advance of its publication and as I write this particular weekly report, things in Parliament appear to be in the usual turmoil that occurs at the end of a session; with committees trying to close their work and report, and members cleaning up unfinished business relative to their constituents' problems. At the moment it appears that this will be the last letter of this series. If so I would like to thank my readers, especially those who have taken the trouble to drop me a line, and all the newspapers who have co-operated in placing this report before the public. The minister of labor has met a long standing complaint made by both labor—who were covered by the insurance unions—and members of Parliament generally, by introducing a bill that will provide for the payment of unemployment benefit to insured persons who, while otherwise unemployed, and entitled to benefit become incapacitated for work by reason of illness or injury. This type of bill received the whole hearted support of the house and will bring comfort to those people who have suffered the handicap of illness under this particular condition. Many of them have written to me about their plight.

Another session has drawn to a close without the long promised National Health Insurance plan being implemented. The present government has promised an over all health insurance plan for Canadians for many years. Many sessions of parliament and many an election, has had, and possibly the forthcoming election will have, the same promise dangled before the electorate. But so far the minister of Health has side tracked these promises, which is unfortunate, as the cost of ill health today has become a major part of the average individuals budget and will continue to grow until the government produces an over all health plan for the protection of every Canadian.

The fight over the bankruptcy of the Lunam Contracting Company and the responsibility for the default goes merrily on. At the moment Mr. Lunam has charged that the government itself is mainly to blame for the financial situation by tying him up for months through delays in delivering equipment for an Indian hospital, which he was building in Saskatchewan.

Mr. Fournier claimed that until Mr. Lunam was injured, his department never had received from anyone a claim against the contractor, but today documents were filed at the request of Mr. Dieffenbaker covering correspondence between Mr. Fournier's department and this particular contracting firm. The correspondence disclosed that complaints had reached the department weeks before the time claimed by Mr. Fournier. The complaints came from building supply people, saying that no payments had been made for their work, which ran into thousands of dollars and asking the government to withhold payments to those amounts from Mr. Lunam. The total of these claims appear to be $239,000. Mr. Lunam claimed that his men had been tied up for weeks waiting for equipment to turn up for the hospital; which he blamed the government for delaying. This matter will again be discussed in the final moments of this session, but it would seem that the issue will be a hot political potato in that area of Saskatchewan where the company carried on its operation.

The Conservatives moved a resolution to the effect that the natural resources of Canada should be developed by free enterprise rather than by government direction. This suggestion came under criticism by both the CCF and the Liberal parties. The CCF claiming that proper development of natural resources should be through a combination of government control, co-operative development and some private enterprise and that the combination would work to the advantage of the whole country. Mr. Drew, on the other hand, claimed that only free enterprise—which term is very vague—could properly develop our resources.

The Social Credit group spoke in favor of free enterprise, but strangely enough voted for a CCF sub-amendment which sought to withdraw the words free enterprise from the resolution. This promptly brought George Cruickshank to his feet, charging that Social Crediters had talked one way and voted another. He claimed that they had shown that they were against free enterprise.

Mr. Noseworthy suggested that Social Crediters were trying to appeal to capital on the one hand and on the other to the people who had the majority of the votes. It was an interesting debate

Mid-Week Message

The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus. (Philippians 4:7.) Read I Corinthians 15:19-22.

Our bus was delayed for 45 minutes due to a punctured tire. I reached the hospital to find my wife had passed away half an hour before my arrival. Her death was unexpected. Our happy married life had lasted only three and one-half years! My heart was crushed and full of anguish. I almost grumbled against God, for my two-year-old daughter and I were left sorrowing.

After some time, my heart became filled with a strange peace. The weight of my sorrow was lifted. It was then that I experienced the meaning of "the peace of God, which passeth all understanding."

Each Bible passage read at the funeral service became most vividly living to me. My heart was filled to overflowing with the certainty that the tomb will not remain sealed forever. Death will not have the final victory.

PRAYER

Loving Father, we pray that Thou wilt open our hearts to realize that Thy peace, like Thy grace, is ever sufficient for all our needs in all our circumstances—in individual as well as in group life. In the name of Him whom Thou didst raise from the dead to be victor over death and Lord of life, Amen.

Tomato Swiss Steak

One thick slice round or chuck steak, flour, fat, salt, pepper, 2 onions, 1/2 tsp. ground cloves, 2 cans tomato sauce.

Found several tablespoons of flour into the steak with a meat pounder on the edge of a heavy saucer. Brown steak on both sides in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven in a few tablespoons of hot fat.

Sprinkle each side, as browned, with salt and pepper. Slice onions over steak. Add cloves to tomato sauce and pour over steak. Cover tightly and cook slowly until tender, about 1 1/2 to 2 hours, depending on thickness of the meat. Add water, as needed, during cooking to keep the meat moist. Remove meat to serving platter and make gravy from liquid in skillet.

GUIDE NEWS

Our program for this meeting was quite a full one. Patrol corner subject this month was Quebec. The displays, covering the products, industry, and life of this province were so good that it was hard for the judges to choose between them. However, patrols chosen for displaying the most ingenuity in covering their subject, were: first,

Hepaticas; second, Forget-me-nots; third, Pansies.

Next on the agenda was nature study and trail laying. Guides proving that they could do this well.

Then cookie money was collected.

Campfire was held outside. Lily Patrol were responsible for the fire and also for the cleaning up. By the way, Guides, you didn't do a very good clean up job. Weiners and marshmallows were toasted over glowing embers and many burnt offerings were enjoyed.

Discussion and sing-song followed. Guides learning a new song "sunny smile".

Coronation emblems were given to Guides, working on their coronation tribute.

Guides are reminded that Friday, May 15, the governor general will be in Summerland and we would like as many Guides as possible to turn out. Be sure to have clean uniforms, ties and shoes and badges well polished.

Mother and daughter banquet is May 20. Food is being provided by Guide mothers with an additional 50c admission charge to defray expenses.

Guides turned in 2300 box tops to the Kiwanis. Lily of the Valley patrol winning first prize and Buttercups second.

Sorry Guides that I didn't get the names of the Guides receiving their proficiency badges, but they:

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Tuesday night's meeting started off with the usual ceremony with the Eagles as duty patrol.

District Scout Master Gordon Blewett visited us and gave us final instructions on the parade set for 2:15 on Friday, May 15 at the Memorial Park.

All boys must wear either their Scout uniform or Cub uniform. Take your uniform to school and change at noon, boys. Be sure it is cleaned and pressed. Those boys who haven't a uniform try and borrow one from boys who are in the band or who have left Scouts. Every Scout is urged to attend fully dressed. Those Scouts who are in the band will not parade. Check with your PL's for further information.

An overnight camp is being planned for the week end of May 23-24. Plans are not definite yet but we hope to leave Saturday morning and return Sunday afternoon, so boys, check your fishing rods and sleeping bags and cooking gear.

Duty patrol, Tuesday, May 19: Hawks.—D.M.M.

1st Summerland Pack

Very good turnout Monday night, just one short of perfect. We sure hope that everyone will turn out on Friday in full uniform with ox-fords for the governor-general's visit. It is a great honor to have the Chief Scout of Canada pay us a visit.

On Saturday, May 16, there is an all day ramble, meeting at the B.C. Shippers' at 9 a.m. Take dinner to cook; wear your Cub neckerchief and cap; and dress to suit the weather. Let's see everyone out as this is the second to last ramble before the holidays.

There will be no meeting next week due to the holiday.

Next meeting, Monday, May 25, at 6:30 p.m., sharp.—Akela.

TEEN TOWN

There will be a big Track Dance this Saturday night after the AOTS track meet. This dance will take place in the Youth Centre at 9 o'clock. Admission 25c. Refreshments will be sold.

A good time is in store for everyone. Do let's see all Teen Agera out to this dance.

NOW! MAKE THE SUPREME TEST

Up to 80% of today's cars require the high octane of Chevron Supreme Gasoline to prevent knocking and get maximum performance. You'll find Chevron Supreme is truly supreme.

The real test of a gasoline comes on the open highway. Standard of B.C. technicians have engineered a gasoline that will give supreme performance under all driving conditions, anywhere in the province.

It's the balance of all eight qualities that makes a great gasoline. That's where Chevron Supreme excels—that's why more drivers are switching to Chevron Supreme.

get the gasoline with all 8 high performance qualities

IT'S THE TOTAL OF ALL EIGHT THAT MAKES CHEVRON SUPREME

Mileage	Power	Anti-Knock quality	Vapor-lock prevention	Quick Starting	Fast warm-up	Acceleration	Aire Blending
NOT ONE	NOT TWO	NOT ONE	NOT TWO	NOT ONE	NOT TWO	NOT ONE	NOT TWO

Here's big news, great news for car owners. Standard of B.C. technicians have developed a gasoline with not one, not two, but ALL EIGHT high performance qualities. Yes, you'll feel the difference when you get behind the wheel of a car powered with Chevron Supreme. MAKE TEST NUMBER TWO, the test for ANTI-KNOCK. Here's where the truth about Octane Ratings really comes out. NOW! Make the Supreme Test for anti-knock. Over the whole range of driving conditions you'll find Chevron Supreme truly unsurpassed.

Make your own Supreme test! Drive in to any Standard Station or Chevron Gas Station and ask for your FREE copy of the Gasoline Mileage Record. Fill up with Chevron Supreme. You'll be amazed at the mileage you get.

Entertains Auxiliary At Monthly Meeting

Mrs. A. B. Caldwell was hostess for the regular meeting of the Lakeside Women's Auxiliary meeting on Monday evening, May 11, when 15 members were present. Following the business meeting dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. F. W. Schumann, Mrs. Jack Wilson, Mrs. H. K. Whitmore, and Miss Mary Scott.

VISITING ABROAD

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nield are visiting in Vancouver where they have gone for a holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Britton returned on Friday after spending a week in Vancouver.

Miss Dorothy Britton left Vancouver today for New York, travelling by way of Seattle and Chicago, to sail on the Queen Elizabeth on May 20 for the coronation. She will spend some time in England and will visit Scotland and France.

NEW ARRIVALS

A second son, George Howard, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barkwill, Jr., at Summerland General hospital, on Sunday, May 10.

On May 11, at Summerland General hospital a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernhardt.

Friends of the former Miss Joyce East, formerly on the teaching staff of the elementary school here, now Mrs. Kitchen, wife of Lieut. T. Wes Kitchen, 27th Brigade, Hameelin, Germany, will be interested to hear of the birth of their son, Michael Wesley, weighing 7 pounds, 7 ounce, at Diaconessenhuis, Hilversum, Holland, on May 2.

Patricia Dorothy Fleming Repeats Vows In Nuptial Rites In Victoria

Blush satin fashioned the bridal gown worn by Patricia Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fleming, Summerland, when she exchanged marriage vows with Gordon Ewart Nickells, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Nickells, 1857 Beach Drive, Victoria, at a ceremony on Saturday afternoon, May 2.

Dr. W. W. McPherson officiated in Oak Bay United church, which was decorated with baskets of white and blue iris and pink tulips.

The bride's gown featured a circular net yoke embroidered with pearls, lily-point sleeves, and a full skirt falling into a brief train. Her full-length veil of silk net bordered with Chantilly lace was held in place by a tiara of pearl-embroidered satin. Her lovely shower bouquet was made up of pink Rapture roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Nancy Fleming was her sister's maid of honor, Mrs. R. G. Nickells was bridesmatron, and Miss Marijane Cahill, bridesmaid.

All three attendants wore gowns of cornflower blue nylon net over taffeta, with strapless bodices, bouffant skirts and matching stoles, headdresses, and long mitts. They carried colonial bouquets of pink and blue carnations.

Organ music was played by Mrs. Vera Barclay, and R. G. Nickells was best man for his brother.

Ushers were W. B. Smith, Eric Dowell, Peter Townshend and R. Moore.

The reception was held at Royal

Victoria Yacht Club where the couple cut a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a silver sailboat. The table, covered with an Italian cut-work linen cloth, was decorated with white iris, pink carnations, and lily of the valley.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length turquoise crepe and lace gown with matching hat, gold accessories, and Talisman rose corsage, while the groom's mother chose amber net and lace over gold taffeta with matching gloves and straw hat, and a corsage of flame-colored carnations.

A toast to the bride was proposed by A. McKinnon with response by the groom. Mr. McKinnon also proposed a toast to Dr. and Mrs. W. W. McPherson, whose wedding anniversary was that day. The toast to the bride's attendants was given by R. G. Nickells.

For a honeymoon motor trip through the United States and the Okanagan Valley, the bride donned a cocoa brown worsted flannel suit with matching summer straw hat, winter white topcoat and accessories, and corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickells will make their home at 1857 Beach Drive, Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Monro have returned from Seattle bringing with them their daughter, Mrs. Harley Hall, the former Marjorie Monro, and her three little daughters who will visit here for a month.

Mrs. N. O. Solly has returned from Vancouver where she attended a camp administrators' conference.

Recent Bride Feted Prior to Nuptials

Miss Gertrude Glaser was honored on Friday evening, May 8, prior to her marriage on Saturday to Mr. Leonard Peeters of Burnaby, when a shower was held for her at the home of Mrs. Jack Geres, Prairie Valley.

The party was a surprise for the bride-to-be, who received many lovely gifts which were hidden under a large wedding cake.

After the gifts had been opened and admired by the recipient and all those present, games were enjoyed.

Delicious refreshments were served to conclude the happy evening.

Guests included Mrs. J. Glaser, Mrs. H. Glaser, Mrs. A. Glaser, Mrs. M. Geres, Mrs. G. Geres, Mrs. J. Littau, Mrs. Wm. Stein, Mrs. G. Boehm, Mrs. Hong, Mrs. G. Turigan, Mrs. N. Dickinson, Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. E. Krause, Mrs. A. Arndt, Mrs. G. Vogel, Mrs. D. Steininger, Mrs. G. Mayert, Miss Fern Turigan, Miss Inez Manette, Miss Mildred and Miss Phyllis Verrier.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. J. Schram, Mrs. W. Huva and Mrs. R. Klix.

Rites In Peachland For Mrs. J. T. Long

The funeral of Mrs. Blanche Amelia Long, widow of John Thomas Long, the pioneer who established Greata Ranch in the Peachland district, took place from St. Margaret's Anglican church, Peachland, on Thursday afternoon, May 7, with Canon F. V. Harrison officiating.

The late Mrs. Long, who was eighty-six years of age, passed away in Summerland General hospital on May 4.

She is survived by two sons, George Edward and John Percy of Peachland, and one daughter, Mrs. A. Ruffie, Peachland.

PAYING BILLS BY CHEQUE IS SAFE, MODERN METHOD

"There are good reasons why the use of cheques is now so popular," comments Ivor Solly, manager of the Bank of Montreal's West Summerland branch. "It allows our customers to pay bills without being obliged to carry large sums of cash in their pockets. And it enables them to use the mail instead of trailing around in person to their creditors. Cheques really save you time, money and shoe leather."

Mr. Solly points out that a cancelled cheque is valuable also as a permanent receipt. Furthermore, many people rely on their cheque stubs and monthly bank statements to keep them up to date on the state of their finances.

"Over a million Canadians pay bills with B of M cheques," Mr. Solly continues. "Most of these cheques are for only a few dollars. Others, of course, are for many thousands of dollars, covering important business transactions."

You can open a chequing account without formality at the B of M, and any member of the staff will be glad to take care of your needs.

Can Eliminate Couchgrass Through Application of Chemical Sprays

No chemical has yet been discovered which offers a practical method for the field-scale control of couchgrass, but it is feasible to eradicate patches of this with chemicals, says A. C. Carder, Beaverlodge Experimental Station, Alta. TCA (trichloroacetic acid) under most conditions will effectively eliminate couch if applied to undisturbed sod at 100 pounds per acre. The chemical is best applied as a water spray using upwards of 80 gallons per acre. Should there be a heavy growth of couch it may be best to remove this prior to application. Late summer or early autumn applications are best. Dosage may be reduced to 50-70 pounds per acre and still produce effective kills by ploughing or one-waying the couch sod before applying the chemical.

Careful check should be made for at least two years following TCA treatment since seeds and small root sections that retain life pose a threat to re-infestation. Since the effect of TCA may last well into the season following treatment, particularly if made in the late summer or autumn, it is recommended that treated areas be followed the year following application to permit disappearance of the residual effect and to allow for a close check of surviving or seeding couch. Soil tilth does not seem to be impaired by TCA.

For very small patches or for limited infestations on non-crop land, sodium chlorate, or Atlascide, may be used at four pounds per square rod. Sodium chlorate is a soil sterilant and its effect may carry over several years, and it will break down structure and impair the physical nature of the soil. It is convenient because it can be applied dry or as a water spray. Since it prevents, or sickens plant life for some years following application, it will leave bare spots which can be readily checked for possible re-establishment of couch grass.

The chemical CMU may also be used for eradicating couch. Early spring or late autumn applications seem most effective. Virtual kills are obtained by 30 to 50 pounds per acre. Unlike TCA, cultivation does not seem to enhance the killing action of CMU. Because of its long-lasting residual effect CMU must only be used on on-crop land or for spot application.

COMING!

A major new industry for B.C.

- .. more jobs
- .. more wages
- .. more money in circulation

WHY?

You've seen that sort of announcement in the papers often in the past few years.

Out of it come more security and opportunity for the people who live here . . . for young people growing up . . . for new citizens coming to make a living in B.C.

What lies back of every news item of that kind?

CONFIDENCE!

It's as simple as that. Someone had to make the decision to go ahead. Someone who trusted the people of British Columbia. Someone who backed his judgment with investors' savings.

Without such continued confidence, there could be no further progress in British Columbia. No more big new construction jobs of the kind today making B.C. hum. No new pipelines, refineries, pulp mills, mines, plywood plants, factories, power plants.

Worst enemy of confidence in this field is fear of Socialism . . . mistrust that people who believe the Government should own and control nearly everything and everyone's affairs will have a chance to experiment with their theories in B.C.

B.C. can go on forging ahead . . . or B.C. can stagnate. It's up to us who live and work in B.C. to decide.

How many Canadians keep warm with oil?

More than 4 millions. Oil is used in the furnaces or heaters of more than a million Canadian homes—better than one in four.

Oil plays a large and growing part in our everyday living. How many of these questions about it can you answer?

- How does Canada rank among the nations in known oil reserves—
8th? 17th? 21st? ▶ Far down the list a few years ago, Canada now ranks eighth. Except for a group of Middle East countries—Iraq, Kuwait and Saudi Arabia—only the U.S., Venezuela and Russia have larger reserves.
- How many barrels of oil (35 gallons to a barrel) do you think Canadians use in a year—
8 millions? 165 millions? 300 millions? ▶ Last year 165 million barrels—about one gallon for every man, woman and child. Canada uses twice as much oil as she did six years ago.
- In the past 10 years, the average wholesale prices of all commodities have risen 85 per cent. Have prices of Esso gasolines risen—more? less? about the same? ▶ Much less. The average wholesale price of Esso gasolines across Canada is up about one-third as much as the average for all commodities.
- Energy produced at Niagara Falls each day is equal to that in 9,000 barrels of crude oil. Prairie oil fields now produce energy equal to how many "Niagaras"— 27 117 187 ▶ The energy of the oil produced in the western oil fields each day is about 18 times that generated at Niagara.
- Taxes take a big part of a company's income. How would you say Imperial's 1952 tax bill compared with its dividends? Was it—greater? less? about the same? ▶ Taxes were $55 millions, about 2 1/2 times dividends to shareholders. For each dollar of income, Imperial paid 10¢ in taxes and 4¢ in dividends. Tax figures do not include gasoline sales tax paid at the pump.

and served to delay the work of the house for a full day.

The defence committee have tabled their final report; actually two reports were made. The first, a majority report, expressed confidence that the defence program has gone as well as circumstances have permitted and that the public has received full value for the money expended. The Conservative party produced an amendment to the final report, but it was defeated in committee. Actually it served as a minority report, although parliament does not accept such, officially. The majority report expressed complete satisfaction with what has been done in the army, following the recommendations of the Currie report, but the Conservatives claimed that the criticism of waste and extravagance still stands and that the committee had received evidence which disclosed gross inefficiency and an extensive lack of a sense of responsibility in the expenditure of public funds. Without dealing further with this report, may I point out that our group has persistently advocated a complete enquiry into the matter of defence expenditures. It would appear that the tabling of this report closes the whole incident of the Currie report, nevertheless the evidence disclosed will be used extensively during the coming election.

Canadian forest industry scientists have developed a new process for making chemical pulps that will reduce wood consumption up to as much as 50 per cent.

NICHOLAS MONSARRAT, author of the best-selling novel of World War II, "The Cruel Sea", and his wife, PHILIPPA, reached Montreal recently aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland. Mr. Monsarrat will go to Ottawa as director of the United Kingdom Information Office, a post similar to the one he held in South Africa before coming to Canada.

Concert Association President Outlines Organization Plans

During the final week of May, the newly formed Okanagan Community Concerts Association will launch its membership drive.

Explaining the objectives of the organization, Dr. John Gibson, president of the association says:

"With a minimum adult membership, that is, 500 subscriptions, we will be able to bring to Penticton four first-rate artists during the fall and winter of next year. We can't promise the really top-flight men and women like Helfetz, Lily Pons or Nelson Eddy, because a community of this size can't afford their prices. What we can promise is a chance to hear the rising younger artists, known in the trade as "comers". You might call them the Pons and the Eddys of tomorrow."

Asked if Columbia Artists handled only singers and instrumentalists, he said "Dancers are also included. Omak, which has had a very successful association for the past 10 years, recently booked two well-known Spanish dancers for their final concert. Some of our people went down to it and reported very favorably on the quality of the performance. I might mention," he added, "that one very pleasant feature of this organization is that subscriptions are recognized in any community where there is a similar association, organized under the auspices of Columbia Artists. For example, our members can travel to Omak to hear any or all of their concerts, and their members will be admitted to our series."

A question was then asked regarding the cost of subscriptions, and whether it would be possible to buy tickets for the individual performances.

"A subscription to the series of four concerts is six dollars, plus tax, for adults; three dollars plus tax, for students. No tickets for single concerts will be sold." Dr.

Gibson went on to explain the reason for this restriction. "We have to guarantee 500 memberships to Columbia Artists, before we can become a member association under their auspices, with the right to book artists through their agency. You can understand, then, that we must get our members on the dotted line. That is the reason for the campaign week at the end of the month. No subscriptions will be sold after May 31. When you consider the cost of the subscriptions," he continued, "I think everyone will realize that we are getting a very good thing—four concerts a year for about one dollar and a half for each concert. Normally you would pay three to four dollars to hear these artists."

Regarding the dates of the concerts, "I can't give any details on that just yet," Dr. Gibson replied. "We will have the lists of artists with their available dates very shortly, and a committee will then make the selection, and the concert dates will be announced as soon as possible after the membership campaign. I promise, he added, "that we'll do our best not to conflict with hockey nights. The committee members and I are pretty rabid fans, ourselves. Seriously," he continued, "I think our drive for memberships will go well. Communities of this size can support a venture like this, and I think a great many people are interested judging by the questions we have all been asked. An association of this sort is the answer to the old problem of how the smaller towns and cities may enjoy the pleasure of hearing and seeing outstanding musicians; entertainment that is otherwise limited to the larger cities, for obvious financial reasons."

Win or Lose

By Jack Dunham.

Even though the Summerland Macs baseball team is riding the bottom rung of the OMBL there are a couple of bright spots about the team. Two young lads, who donned senior uniforms this year, are providing a spark that we hope will ignite a few other boys on the team. Al Hooker and Bill Eyre are making themselves conspicuous on the diamond these days. Al has been pounding the day-lights out of that pill at every game so far this season and he is currently up in second place in league batting. Hooker's hits have been good solid drives and he seems to be the only consistent slugger on the team.

The other lad who is showing up well is Bill Eyre. Bill had trouble getting started Sunday but settled down from the third inning on and the Northerners only managed three hits after the disastrous second stanza. Bill has not done too much pitching before this year and if he keeps improving the way he has been he may start winning some games very soon. One reason why the Macs have not been winning games is their weakness at the plate. To justify this here are the batting averages up to and including last Sunday's game:

Player	AB	H	Ave.
Hooker	14	6	.429
Borton	7	2	.286
Gould	15	3	.200
Taylor	16	3	.187
Metcalfe	14	2	.143
Kato	14	2	.143
Eyre	8	1	.125
Aikin	10	1	.100
Weitzel	11	1	.087
Farynuk	11	0	.000
Cristante	6	0	.000
Coffey	6	0	.000
Bonthoux	0	0	.000
Pitchers
Cristante	0	1
Eyre	0	1

So there you have it, only one man hitting over .300, and believe me, we won't win many games with such meagre power with the bat.

Junior Ball in Peachland

It certainly makes you wonder when you hear about Peachland having a junior baseball team. Here we are with a population about four or five times that of Peachland and we can't muster up enough young ball players to make up a junior ball team. I guess a young man's fancy in Summerland turns to more than baseball in the spring, eh? This year anyway. Someone over in Princeton got their wires crossed last week. It stated in that city's newspaper, The Similkameen Spotlight, that Summerland had entered a team of ex-juniors in the Interior league. This league is comprised of teams from Princeton, Rutland, Revelstoke, Kamloops, North Kamloops and a team of ex-juniors from Kelowna, not Summerland.

Down Penticton way the A's seem to have found their batting eye and with Bowsfield getting hotter all the time they will be hard to beat from here on. The Athletics had a tough break last week when big Gordy May broke his ankle at a practice and will be sidelined for a couple of months. Last year it was Tidball who wound up on crutches.

A.O.T.S. Track Meet - Saturday

The AOTS track meet on Saturday should be a dandy with Kootenay teams joining with valley teams on the cinder track. One young lad that is worth watching is a Kelowna entry in the discus event. His name is Johnston and he can really heave that thing. He made a toss of 148 ft. 9 inches in Penticton at the Kin meet. This beats the long-standing Valley high school mark by about 20 feet. Could be Olympic material, that boy. This was about the only really outstanding showing by any single athlete as times in the sprints were not especially fast. However the Kootenays, if they send a team, may have some stars worth watching at the meet here this weekend. The local school has come up with one of the best teams in years and could be a very definite contender for the "B" school cup in the valley meet in Vernon May 23. See you all at the track meet Saturday.

Lose to Kamloops 6-3

Macs Still Unable To Break Consistent Record of Losses

Kamloop's Len Gatin became the winningest pitcher in the Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League in Summerland on Sunday when he fashioned a neat five-hitter to pace the Okonots to a 6-3 win over the Macs. It was the fourth straight victory in as many starts for the northern team while for the Macs it was their fourth loss in as many games.

The Macs made it tougher for the Okonots than it was the previous week when the latter steam-rolled the local boys in a 16-3 tilt, but the local boys just couldn't do anything with Gatin's slants. The Okonot moundsman struck out 12 Mac batters and walked only two. Kamloops got hot in the first two innings of the tussle and scored all six of their runs, two in the first frame and four in the second. Okonot first baseman, Buck Buchanan, cracked out a towering home run in the opening inning to score Len Fowles and move the Kamloops squad ahead 2-0.

Off to Fast Start
Summerland also got off to a fast start with two runs in the first inning to tie up the ball game. Jack Fowles led off for Okonots in the second frame and smashed out the second home run of the day. The Kamloops batsmen took the hint and proceeded to nick Summerland's chucker, Bill Eyre, for four singles to score Bob Saklofsky, Len Fowles and Len Gatin.

With a 6-2 lead in his hip pocket Gatin handcuffed Macs until the fifth inning when they singled in one run but from there to the end of the game both sides went scoreless.

Jack Fowles came up with a torrid day at the plate, batting out three hits, including his homer, for four times at bat.

Weather Blamed for Low Scores at Range

A combination of changing light and mirage had a lot to do with the under-par scores at the weekly shoot of the Summerland Rifle Club, on Sunday at the Garnet Valley rifle range.

Three men were tied with 95: Phil Dunsdon, Art Dunsdon and Fred Dunsdon being the top marksmen. The 600 yard range seemed to be the culprit as only six of the 20 shooters present got 30 or over at this distance. Up to this time 15 of the shooters had totaled 60 or more points on the two preceding ranges combined.

However, one bright spot was Steve Dunsdon's possible on the 200 yard, the only one of the day.

Next week, the local riflemen, along with others from up and down the valley as well as the coast, will converge on Penticton for the annual BCRIA shoot in that city. Most of the local lads will be attending the big weekend meet and a full report will be carried in this paper next week.

Other scores on Sunday are as follows: D. Taylor; L. R. Shannon, Steve Dunsdon, 94; H. Simpson, 93; Les Gould, G. M. Dunsdon, Colin Mann, 91; J. F. Khalembach, Bill Young, 90; Ed Gould, 89; George Stoll, 88; B. T. Washington, Jill Sanborn, 85; Jack Dunsdon, H. Dunsdon, 83; Roy Desilets, 80; E. Desilets, 74.

Button winners for April were: G. M. Dunsdon, gold; Bill Young, silver; H. Simpson, bronze.

Fishing News

Fishing hasn't been too good this last week and here are the observations on the different spots.

Okanagan Lake very spotty but fish up to 20" have been caught. One party reported nine fish caught up to 4 lbs.

Garnet Valley—lots of fish but mostly small. If you can find the holes you can get a good catch.

Fish Lake—there have been fair catches here but there are lots of small ones. A few Kamloops being caught as well. Howard Clark hopes to have Munro Lake open for this week-end.

Glen Lake—road o.k. and fair catches being made.

Silver Lake—fair catches and road just passable for passenger cars.

Headwaters Camp—reports show this camp is still closed but a jeep can get in fairly close.

Shannon Lake—Too cold for bass and perch yet but may be coming on o.k. soon.

Woods Lake—reports show pretty fair fishing here.

Most of the lakes around Kamloops are open and reports show excellent fishing. Shuswap Lake and Little River just coming on.

No reports on Agur Lake but it had, fry planted last year.

Chancellor 'Trial Balloon' Administration by Socreds

"Government by trial balloon" was the description of Social Credit administration offered last night by former legislature speaker Mrs. Nancy Hodges when she addressed a public meeting in the Oddfellows Hall in support of Liberal Candidate Victor Wilson.

Mrs. Hodges devoted much of her talk to criticism of statements made by Premier W. A. C. Bennett and admitted at the outset she was helping with the campaign in this riding "because I would do anything I could that would jeopardize Mr. Bennett's chances of re-election." She went on, "I feel he is not the man for premiership of this province."

She made no attempt to conceal her disapproval of the Socred leader and commented "If Father Divine had come along at that time with a party that suited Mr. Bennett's personal aims, he would have been a follower of Father Divine."

Also on the platform was South Okanagan candidate Victor Wilson who said he had entered the campaign because he believed the knowledge and experience of a practical farmer were necessary to the interests of this riding and to him, he said, the need was so great that he was prepared to leave his farm at Naramata to offer his services to the government.

Mr. Wilson made reference to Socred plans for lifting controls on milk and described this "a dangerous precedent to set" and added, "You can't tell where these people will jump next since they follow no consistent pattern."

On the subject of hospital insurance, Mrs. Hodges read from a Socred pamphlet distributed prior to the election a year ago in which hospital insurance was described as an "iniquitous fiasco" and it was stated "no amount of revision will make it work". Yet, said Mrs. Hodges, "we now hear the Socreds claiming the hospital insurance scheme was never in a sounder position financially. It is," she said, "but only because it was left in a sound position and with a surplus by the previous government. The Social Credit government did nothing to improve health insurance financial position."

She accused the Socreds of "political double-talk" in their statements that they have made hospital insurance voluntary. "Only for certain classes," she stated. "For those on payroll deductions it is compulsory but for the rest it is voluntary. That means the people on payroll deductions must pay premiums for those who drop out until they are advised by a doctor they will require an operation."

Retires From 'Pentown'

Crew Members Honor Dave Turnbull On Completion of 34 Years Service

Dave Turnbull retired Friday after 34 years of service with the CNR, having started in 1919 as engineer on the first Kelowna-Westbank ferry, skippered by Len Hayman.

Friday, on his last day as chief engineer of the "Pentown", he was feted by his crewmates at a dinner aboard the ship, skippered by Alfred Lucking, who proposed a toast of "health, happiness and prosperity always" to the man who had befriended everyone with whom he had ever worked.

"It's a difficult thing to part with a group of men like you", Mr. Turnbull replied, "and it's a pleasure to drink to your health and shake your hands."

He was presented with a scroll, a leather club bag and a leather wallet, containing $50. Mrs. Turnbull, who was beside her husband, "as she always has been in years past", was presented with a bouquet of flowers.

Mr. Turnbull came to Kelowna from Scotland in 1909, making the trip in the record time of 10 days. He went back overseas in the first World War.

Mr. Turnbull likes to remember that when the "Pentown" was launched in July, 1926, he was the first to lay his hand on her side after she hit the water. The "Pentown" was also the first ship here to be launched sideways. During the hungry 30's, he worked within a few months, and then they rush right in and pay their premiums with no penalty attached. What I am wondering is what is going to happen when employers start refusing to go through all the trouble of making payroll deductions when other people are permitted a free choice."

On Socred statements regarding debt reduction and highway construction this year, she stated the last government had been able to reduce the provincial debt only because money had been left in sinking fund for that purpose and roads could be built without borrowing because no money was spent on roads last year by the Coalition government and the money was available for this purpose when the Socreds went into power.

She criticized the "Rolson Formula" and described it as "another manifestation of the Alberta principle of the provincial treasury waxing fat at the expense of municipalities less this year, she said, costs to them in future years would spiral upwards. She took Victoria as an example and said in three or four years it would cost the taxpayers about seven mills more for education."

She paid a high personal tribute to CCF leader Harold Winch for his service to the province as a member of the legislature and as leader of the opposition and also to former Liberal leader E. I. Kenney. "For their 20 years of public service", she said, "it behooves the premier to make the charge these men resigned because they were afraid to face the electorate."

Referring to Mr. Bennett's statement that on the collection of hospital insurance premiums "We would rather use the carrot than the whip" Mrs. Hodges said, "I'm afraid he chose an unfortunate allegory. We used to use either a carrot or a whip on donkeys and mules so presumably the implication is that Mr. Bennett regards the public as donkeys."

Mrs. Hodges spoke with confidence on success of the Liberal party in this election and said "Sometimes a beating does a team good, and it's done a lot of good to the Liberal party this time."

Chairs of the meeting were occupied by Robert S. Oxley.

Orchard Labor Prospects Good

The outlook for an adequate supply of labor for work in Okanagan orchards is, at present, more encouraging than in previous recent years. This is due to a recession in some other industries and the situation may alter considerably by the time the picking season is on. Only local help really can be counted on in such emergencies as the McIntosh harvest.

This is the orchard labor picture as presented by Wm. MacGillivray, director of extension and development in the provincial department of agriculture, Victoria, and W. L. Forrester, federal regional supervisor, national employment service, Vancouver. These officials toured the Okanagan recently and held meetings with growers in Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon.

It is expected that the national employment service ultimately will take over full direction of the federal-provincial farm labor service. The provincial department of agriculture, with its experience in setting up and operating what was originally a wartime emergency scheme, will continue to serve in an advisory capacity.

In Kelowna this season the procurement and placement of farm labor will be handled by the local office of the national employment service with D. M. Disney in charge.

The appointment of assistant placement officers in certain areas last year proved so beneficial it will be repeated this year.

BOARD MEMBERS GET PATIENTS-EYE VIEW

Hospital board at their meeting Tuesday evening heard first hand reports on the patient's point of view.

Hospital administrator J. E. O'Mahony last week changed his role at the institution to move in as a patient, Board Member Les Rumball occupied a bed for a couple of days last week and Board Member Mrs. T. B. Lott served a turn as a patient a few weeks ago.

Consensus of the trio: The accommodation and attention is the finest but every board member should take a turn as a patient to really learn hospital problems.

Wins Many Hearts . . .

Given Popular Welcome On First Official Visit

A slight, almost frail, man of great dignity but with a twinkling eye and homesy sense of humor won his way into the hearts of the people of Summerland in a matter of minutes last Friday afternoon when Governor-General Vincent Massey paid a brief visit to the district. To the school children he claimed a special place in their hearts when he used his prerogative as the Queen's personal representative to request a special holiday "in the name of the Queen".

His consideration for the comfort of others was clearly evident with his first words after being introduced by Reeve C. E. Bentley at the Memorial Playground. Apologizing to the committee for interfering with their plans, he requested the school children who had been standing for some time to make themselves comfortable on the grass—and then with a twinkle in his eye, he said, "I'm not going to make a long speech, it may be boring, but it won't be long". It was neither.

Also winning popularity during the brief visit were his son Lionel, who acts as his secretary, and his daughter-in-law who acts as his official hostess.

Speaking of his tour through the Okanagan, the governor-general used the terms fascinating and enchanting to describe his impressions of the district and spoke of the happy memories he would take with him of the drive along the shores of Okanagan Lake and the receptions he received along the route.

In 28,000 miles of travelling in Canada, he said, he had discovered widely varied customs and ways of life but on one point, he said, he found the people in complete unison — their loyalty to Canada. He delighted his listeners with the way in which he introduced the request to the school board for a "Queen's Holiday" by expressing fears that the request might not find favor with the pupils "because schools have become such enjoyable institutions". He had visions, he said, of the request being granted, "of children sobbing on the steps of the schools because their school would be no classes on that day." School pupils had their holiday week-end stretched another day. Continued on Page 5

Nominations Closed

Pro-Cons Name Mrs. E. C. Weddell To Make Four-Way Election Fight

A pert sailor straw arched into the political ring as a last-minute entry in the South Okanagan contest June 9 and with the Pro-Con nomination of Mrs. E. C. Weddell, the fight will be between a merchant, two farmers and a housewife.

The newest candidate in the field is the wife of a prominent Kelowna lawyer and has lived in Kelowna since 1921. Previously she had lived in Ottawa.

Mrs. Weddell has been active in the Conservative party for many years and is vice-president of the women's Conservative Association in Kelowna. She has taken part in other women's groups and is active on the Kelowna Council of Women.

When nominations closed yesterday, entries were Socred Premier W. A. C. Bennett, CCF Tom Wilkinson, Liberal Vic Wilson and Pro-Con Mrs. Weddell.

Mrs. Weddell will open her campaign. Continued on Page 12

MRS. E. C. WEDDELL

No Local Custom; Just Self-Defence

As governor-general, Vincent Massey has grown to expect displays of native and local customs during stops in various parts of Canada.

In Summerland, however, he was momentarily nonplussed when local public officials and their wives were being presented. The wife of one of the councillors proffered her hand then suddenly, as he was about to take it, jerked it back and waved it in front of her face.

While this routine was repeated several times, "His Ex" was no doubt wondering if he should respond with the hand, heart and hand sign, but then, realizing what was going on, he joined Mrs. Francis Stewart in chasing off a bee that was nosing into proceedings.

Show Marked Progress . . .

School Band To Stage First Concert In Auditorium Next Week

When the Governor-General visited Summerland last week he expressed appreciation of the music supplied by the Summerland High School Band and said that he thought their progress was remarkable. He complimented, too, their leader, John Tamblin.

Next week, this band which has drawn so many favorable comments for their work and progress in the few months it has been in existence, will present their first annual concert in the high school auditorium. The concert is to be staged Thursday and Friday nights at 8 p.m. and on Wednesday evening there will be a special performance for students.

The band has been holding extra practices and has a repertoire ranging from hymns through popular melodies to stirring marches.

The central part of the program will be made up of various instrumental groups and Miss Kay Hamilton's choir.

Finale will be combined choir and band in honor of the coronation.

The tickets are now on sale by members of the high school and some lucky ticket seller will be presented with a radio. Each student who sells five tickets is given an opportunity to win a portable.

This is the one money raising event for the school band, said Mr. Tamblin and it is hoped it will be well supported by the community. It is essential for the continued progress of the youngsters that they feel their work is appreciated by the citizens.

J. H. Lee-Grayson Honored . . .

Governor-General Makes Extra Stop To Meet Noted Local Illustrator

His Excellency, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, long a patron of arts and letters, has known of the work of J. H. Lee-Grayson for many years.

Only last winter while addressing a dinner in Regina, Mr. Massey said that the artistic development of Saskatchewan was due in large part to the work of three men, and named one of these as Mr. Lee-Grayson.

When Mr. Massey was commissioner for Canada in London part of his duty was to present awards, many of which were accompanied by illuminated addresses or citations, and many of these were the beautiful work of this distinguished artist.

Since Mr. Lee-Grayson, because of ill-health, could not join the veterans who paraded on the occasion of the governor-general's visit, his excellency graciously stopped at the Lee-Grayson home, there he, and his entire party, got out of their cars to be introduced to and chat with Mr. and Mrs. Lee-Grayson, when Mr. Massey said, "I have known of your work for many years, and I am more than pleased to meet you in person."

J. H. LEE-GRAYSON

Being honored on his retirement after 34 years as chief engineer aboard the Pentown, Dave Turnbull received from Capt. A. Lucking a travelling bag and wallet containing $50—gifts of the crew members—while Mrs. Turnbull was presented with a bouquet of flowers.

One of the things I don't want to become is a 'Runner-Downer'. You know the sort of person. 'I didn't bother going to see the Governor-General he's just a Canadian'. 'I didn't bother going to the local play, this place isn't big enough to produce anything worth while.' 'If I were sick I'd never go to Summerland hospital; me for Kamloops—or Vancouver—or Pentecost.'

Everybody does a bit of it, of course. But some are chronic Runner-Downers; you can't talk to them for half-an-hour without hearing something derogatory about local clubs or stores or library or climate; or about Canadian magazines or prices or culture. Things we really have good grounds to be mighty proud of.

"Ah, they're just too blamed important for their britches," snorts one friend of mine when he hears such Runner-Downers sounding off.

Maybe he's right, but my suspicion is that such people don't really feel superior; just the opposite. It's because they feel inferior that they have to run things down, just to make themselves feel better by contrast. The ideal attitude, I believe, is to feel that you are as good as the next fellow, and that he is as good as you are; then nobody needs to be run down or puffed up.

In extreme cases, the chronic Runner-Downer becomes that horrible creature, a Cynic. You remember the Brooklyn boy's definition of philosophers: 'A Sôic is a boid what brings babies, and a Cynic is what you pour de wash water into?' Well, having wash-water poured into him is about all a Cynic is good for.

Whereas a Runner-Downer usually has praise for something, in contrast to what he is running down, the Cynic is disillusioned about everything. 'All dames is hopeless,' he says. Or, 'All politicians are crooked'. 'Everybody is dishonest whenever he gets a chance'. 'There's no such thing as gratitude—or unselfishness—or lasting love—or what have you.'

At first the Cynic probably gets a queer kind of satisfaction out of despising and distrusting everybody; the very violence of his views puts him on a sort of pedestal apart. But he can hardly help turning pretty sour and bitter as the acid of his attitude eats in.

Me, I'm hardly a blind optimist. I suspect there are more than a few people in the world who would be crooked as a snake's ice any time it would seem to their advantage, no matter how helpless or innocent their victim. I think a great many apparently-unselfish acts are performed from pure selfishness, with at least one eye aimed at the grandstand, earthly or heavenly. Sure, there's a definite nasty side to most human natures, including mine.

But there's also a fine and kindly side to almost everybody; in fact, I've strong suspicions you could leave that 'almost' out. Undoubtedly there are evil things, both large and small, being done in the world all the time; but there's a tremendous amount of good being done too.

And the Cynics are missing an awful lot when they ignore the good and narrow their gaze to the nastiness alone. They are not only just as wrong as the optimists who see nothing but good, they are much more foolish, for they are cutting themselves out of a lot of happiness. It's too bad that some of our popular novelists with all their influence, have allowed themselves to drift over the bitter border of the Cynic state.

For you need only look for it to find so much kindness in people all around you, so many fine things to admire, that if the seamy side shows sometimes you won't find it disturbing at all. People aren't perfect; but they're honest enough and fine enough that anybody ought to be ashamed to be a Cynic — a Runner-Downer.

Especially in Canada—in Summerland—in the spring.

From Early Files of The Review

Thirty Years Ago — May 31, 1923

Fifty acres of orchard land along the road running east from the school properties was to be taken off the pipeline service and put under the irrigation system. Estimated cost was $3,195.19, money remaining from the last irrigation bylaw loan.

Mrs. W. D. Todd of Victoria conducted a model institute meeting for the local branch of the W.I. Roll call was answered by statements bearing on Buy B.C. Products.

Four Summerland students were successful at the provincial Normal School at Victoria. They were Merle Smith, Divessa Cowan, Marian Beavis and Edgar Hobbs.

Capt. and Mrs. C. Hatfield, Kaleden, B.C. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Elliott attended with their family, Mrs. Elliott being a niece of Capt. and Mrs. Hatfield. Also present were Mrs. Mina McLaughlin, a sister of Capt. Hatfield, and Miss Maud McLaughlin, of Summerland.

C. E. McCutcheon, G. H. Inglis, Dan Rutherford, and Channon Snow returned from a fishing trip to the headwaters of Aeneas Creek, bringing with them 175 pounds of trout, 100 of the 110 fish caught by the party.

T. C. Orr had left for Owen Sound, Ont., where he had accepted a position as manager in a factory.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Soames, Kelowna, well-known in theatrical circles were leaving for England.

Dr. D. Stalker, DD, of Calumet, Mich., was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Logie.

Twenty-Five Years Ago — May 25, 1928

Flood menace south of here had aroused Okanagan citizens to action and reduction of the low water level of the lake was urged.

Trout Creek was very high and blasting had taken place to prevent serious trouble.

Marian L. Smith, dominion government archæologist, was to examine photographs of the Okanagan this summer. Major K. C. Talbour of Tropanor had recently made examinations of those on the east side of the lake at the entrance to a deep canyon.

The tulip show was highly successful with prizes won by Miss Spencer, Mrs. Higgin, Miss Sinclair, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. Collins.

Miss Pool and Mrs. Dugdale were here from England visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Nelson.

Mr. Alf McLaughlin was shipping greenhouse tomatoes and had been supplying local stores for some time.

For the opening of the baseball season V. M. Lockwood had specially secured a film of Babe Ruth to be shown at the Rialto Theatre.

Chautauqua was opening with a sparkling comedy called The Bubble.

Orchards had received the moth sprays, and the next important one on the spray calendar was the calyx spray.

Five Years Ago — May 20, 1948

Eileen Birtles, Queen of the Spring Fair for 1948, was to open that event. Her Princesses were Shirley Schumann, Arlene Raincock, with Coolly Givins, the crown-bearer.

Summerland council agreed to hold the old Simpson property for airstrip purposes.

THURSDAY, MAY FOURTEENTH NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE

Salute to Future . . . symbol of nation's dedication

IMAGINATION of people everywhere is captured by the impending coronation ceremonies to take place in Westminster Abbey on June 2. In a workaday world the crowing of Elizabeth II appeals to the heart as great poetry appeals, and solemn music, and the happy splendors of the fairy tale.

It is a reminder that government is an "art" and may borrow the traditional symbols, the glittering metaphors, the color and movement and shapeliness of the arts that enoble and delight. But as with all great art, there is more in it than meets the eye.

The man who has no poetry in him may feel impatient with all that seems to him without a practical, functional, economic purpose, with all that is not good bread-and-butter, prose. But the line is not drawn so easily. The institutionalized poetry of the British monarchy serves an intensely practical purpose. Even the Coronation will be an economic asset, not an economic loss, to a Britain barely out of the shadow of austerity.

Much more important, the symbol links together a commonwealth still far-flung, relates the present to a glowing past, lifts the spirits of a solely tried people to new enthusiasm, and crowns with supreme dignity the simple virtues and graces Britons have enthroned in their affections.

It is the conjunction of the fresh human qualities of the youthful Queen with the functional uses of the ancient monarchy that gives the coming occasion its special warmth. All the world must wish Elizabeth well in her role of wife and mother and Queen. Even those who most value their republican traditions can recognize in her solemn dedication to her people the symbol of a whole nation's dedication to its highest ideals.

And when the trumpets finally ring out in Westminster Abbey, let no one forget that they salute the future even more than the past.

Taxes and Welfare . . . national economy at stake

DEFENCE Minister Claxton observed not long ago that "A danger we have to face is growth of the feeling that anyone is entitled to a free ride. In these times some people look to government for social security and welfare payments from the cradle to the grave, for relief and assistance if there is too much or too little sunshine or rain, for higher handouts and lower taxes — all on a platter and all at once".

The Senate Finance Committee not long after restated the problem in these terms: "The increasing tendency of people to demand that the Government do something about all kinds of problems which the community or the individual should solve for itself or himself is, we believe, accountable for much mounting public expenditure and, if not checked, bids fair to undermine our present system of government."

Now the Prime Minister himself, echoes the words both of Mr. Claxton and the Senate Finance Committee. Out of total Federal expenditures of $4,500 million, Mr. St. Laurent points out, more than $1,000 million goes for social security payments. Yet, warns the Prime Minister, taxation cannot be increased without grave danger to the national economy.

Collection Plate . . . churches are hard hit too

ANYONE guilty of robbing the collection plate at church is deservedly labelled the meanest type of thief. Yet inflation in the postwar years has done just that to the resources of many an ecclesiastical body, university and other endowed institution. In Canada, too.

Increasing pauperization of its affiliates due to long-term currency depreciation is the reason given by the Church of England in the United Kingdom for its decision to switch its government bonds into industrial shares. More than 25 per cent of its holdings in bonds may shortly be disposed of and the proceeds invested in common stocks.

The paradox of the situation is that the inflationary policies of the government in the implementation of welfare state policies should be the very circumstance which has led to the impoverishment of these organizations.

FOREST FIRES COME OUT OF YOUR POCKET

That's right, you pay plenty for forest fires. Just the labor of extinguishing forest fires cost you and other British Columbians one-quarter million dollars each year.

Add to that the tremendous loss of timber, the damage to watersheds, the loss of beautiful recreational areas and wildlife, and the price you pay is staggering.

And here's the ironical part: Out of your pocket also come the very things—the matches and smokes—that cause forest fires. There can be no arguing with facts—and the facts show that nine out of ten forest fires are caused by people—people like you and I.

The prevention of forest fires rests in your hands. You must be careful—exceedingly careful—with matches, smokes, campfires. This year be sure that every flame, every spark is dead out. Help stop British Columbia's most shameful waste.—Revelstoke Review.

NOW MAKE IT WORK

Overwhelming approval of the principle of marketing control for the vegetable industry has been recorded by lower mainland and Vancouver Island growers. In the recently conducted plebiscite 606 voted in favor of the plan, 68 against and 69 ballots were rejected.

Hon. Ken Kiernan called the vote following a series of complaints against marketing board operations, particularly on the mainland. Opponents of the principle of regulated marketing were noisy in the opposition to it, and certainly some of the actions of those in positions of responsibility in recent years have been an open invitation to public criticism.

Grower vote should be considered an important affirmation, on the part of British Columbia's primary producers, that they favor marketing control in principle as a means of bringing some stability to their operations.

It is not unreasonable to say that the vote was a summary rejection of the theory, apparently held by some in positions of authority, that the farmer looks upon regulation of this marketing operation as an unwelcome and bureaucratic interference with his personal liberty.

It would be equally wrong to assume, however, that growers will hold their ire forever if the conduct of marketing operations is not improved.

The sooner those who are entrusted with the responsibility of making the vegetable marketing scheme work realize this fact the better.

What is needed is a capable executive officer appointed to manage the scheme, and he should not be a member of the board's directorate. When a policy has been set, the manager should administer it promptly, efficiently, and without any of the obvious fumbling and alleged favoritism characteristic of board operations in recent years.

The department of agriculture has been told bluntly by growers that they still believe in the principle of orderly marketing. Reading between the lines, the department should realize that the growers have also said they expect more results and less confusion about marketing board activities in future.

The department will be well advised to take energetic steps to carry out the mandate primary producers have given it.

Importance of the Vancouver metropolitan market, both actually and potentially, demands that both government and growers give it their best attention.—Abbotsford News.

The Lighter Side

SURPRISE! SURPRISE!

An avid hunter was telling a group of his pals of his experiences in the northern woods.

One of the chaps asked: "Say, Jim, what was the most difficult shot you ever attempted?"

"Well, Bill," he replied, "about three years ago I was up north of Dog Creek and I had been out for about two solid weeks when I ran across a huge grizzly. I cornered him in a box-like canyon. There was only a small trail behind me and so I knew I had him! But after hunting for two weeks I had only one bullet left in my rifle.

"Also there was another catch to it—in the northeast corner was a large tree and wise old Mr. Grizzly took shelter behind it and refused to budge.

"I knew the only way to get him would be to use an extremely difficult ricochet shot. In a flash I surveyed the situation—on the east wall there was a flat depression in the rock about four inches wide cutting in at about a 60 degree angle. On the west wall near the north end was another flat face rock facing the bear at a 35 degree angle, and on the north end just above and facing the back of the bear's head, was a smooth stone about six inches wide.

"As impossible as it seemed there was only one shot to be made! I would bounce the bullet off the rock on the wall, hitting the depression of stone on the west wall, ricochet it off the stone at the back of the bear's head and hit him right at the base of the skull.

"I slid the butt of my powerful rifle against my shoulder, knowing that with only one bullet left it would take ever bit of skill I had acquired in 20 years of hunting—I set the sights at 75 yards, faced the east wall and pin-pointed my aim at the rock only four inches wide—and fired!"

"Gee," said Bill, "what happened?"

"I missed the wall!"

TIT FOR TAT—

A woman insisted on imposing her own standard of morality on a small town and raised a number of indictments against her neighbors.

Once she accused a doctor of drunkenness because he left his car parked outside a saloon. The doctor presented no defence, but that night he parked his car in front of the woman's house and left it there all night.

Mid-Week Message

You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you; and you shall be my witnesses. (Acts 1:8, R.S.V.) Read Acts 1:1-8.

Among the final words of Jesus to His disciples is this charge to be witnesses unto Him. To add power to the world of testimony, Christ promises the gift of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is not a vague religious sentiment or shallow emotional experience. He is a witness to one's personal relation to Christ.

What is most impressive in the experience of the disciples, and all saints down the ages, is their vivid conception of Christ. In each case Christ dominates the mind and heart. He reproduces His life in them.

Only as we also steadfastly look to Jesus and sincerely try to live as He lived can our characters gradually be transformed into His likeness. The first disciples went everywhere preaching the word and witnessing to Christ. No less is required of us. As we ourselves grow in knowledge of Christ, we are to witness to our fellowship with Him.

PRAYER

Our Father, Giver of every good and perfect gift, we thank Thee for Christ. Help us that we may know Him as our personal Saviour and faithfully follow in His way. In the name of Him who said, "Ye shall be witnesses unto me." Amen.

By PETER GABLE

The nation's 21st Parliament has ended and its record is in the hands of the voters and historians.

On the home front and abroad, the 21st Parliament had a record exceeded by none. It presided over the most prosperous four years in Canadian history, at the same time underwriting the most costly peacetime defence and social security programs ever attempted.

Barely a year after its election, the 21st faced the grave challenge of Soviet aggression in Korea, and voted a $5,000,000,000 national defence outlay to build up the nation's armed forces. It backed up the government's decision to send thousands of Canadian troops to join United Nations forces in the Far East and to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe; to send an air division of the latest Sabre jet fighters to France and Germany and an air transport squadron to Japan; and to provide a naval force for patrols in the Pacific.

At home, it launched the world's most comprehensive program of social security for the aged. One of its first acts was to provide universal old age pensions of $40 a month to persons over 70 without means test, and to extend pensions to needy persons in the 65-69-year age group. Equitable financing of the new pension was provided by a two-per-cent levy on personal and corporation incomes and on sales.

The 21st parliament poured millions of dollars into a national health plan, inaugurated by the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King in the 20th parliament in 1948. The plan, most of which has been carried out in the past four years, increased the nation's hospital accommodation by one-third, trained thousands of new health workers and provided hospitals and clinics with costly new technical equipment for the battle against sickness and disease. It helped lay the groundwork for what Mr. King predicted would ultimately become a national program of public health insurance. The plan's immediate benefits began to show up in a sharply reduced death-rate among infants and tuberculosis victims.

In business, the 21st ordered a sharp crack-down on combines and restrictive trade practice, re-vamping and tightening its legislation against companies which violated the concepts of free enterprise and competition. Companies caught forming price compacts at heavy cost to consumers were called into court, fined and ordered to desist. New machinery for maintaining vigilance over repeated offenders was provided, and additional protection was given to companies against premature publicity during investigation.

The 21st parliament faced one of its greatest domestic challenges with the outbreak of the dreaded foot-and-mouth disease on a Saskatchewan cattle ranch early in 1952. The rich United States livestock market, for a long time Canada's best, was closed to Canadian cattle and a recession threatened to spread through the industry. Parliament authorized expenditures of more than $30,000,000 to eliminate the disease and bolster domestic prices through the crisis. Before it finished its business, it was rewarded by the re-opening of the American market and assurances that the industry was well on the road to economic recovery.

Abroad, Canadian business had one of the greatest international trade booms the world has ever known. Month after month for nearly four years, Canadian export figures grew larger and larger as this country's products found their way into all corners of the earth. Canadian food, manufactured goods and raw materials turned up in dozens of countries where they had never appeared before, opening up a wide variety of previously untapped markets for the future.

The 21st parliament and the government which led it could not take full credit for this prosperity. But they had a strong claim on a big share of it. Conditions like these could not be experienced in a Canada that was over-taxed, badly governed or spendthrift.

The immediate verdict on this record will be in the hands of the voters sometime in the next few months. The long-run verdict—the historians'—will be written in the years to come.

There is a strength of quiet endurance as significant of courage as the most daring feats of prowess.—Tuckerman.

Genius, that power which dazzles mortal eyes, is oft but perseverance in disguise. —Henry Willard Austin.

Alberta Man Claims Apples Not Like in 'The Good Old Days'

By Arthur Menken, Calgary, Alta. You don't have to be very long in the tooth to remember the good McIntosh apples we used to get from B.C. I am thinking of the kind that started late in the fall; the Kiwanis Club timed their "Apple Day" in the cities to get the first shipment of choice grade "Mac's". They were still a little tart, but prime for eating nevertheless, not like the sour green ones they usually have to start with now.

B.C. packers knew how to store apples 15 years ago. They knew the best stage for picking and when to put each variety on the market. The "Mac's" were choice; eating from late fall till well after Christmas, with delicious apples overlapping the last half of their period. Then we could get good, crisp, natural flavored Winesaps till way on in the spring, with other kinds still good for cooking.

Still Green
This year we paid over $5.00 per box for "Mac's" that were poor eating at best; and the box of fancy grade we got just after Christmas were still green except for an unnatural looking deep red patch on one side. These apples were green under the skin, too, and starting to soften around the core. They were the "best" apples on the market here in January.

Now isn't it time to debunk some of the current chatter about modern "technology" and "know how" and the wonderful things they are doing to safeguard and improve our fruit products? We should get down to a little old-fashioned common sense in this fruit handling business before the B.C. industry completely kills the prairie market with high prices and poor handling.

With packing and distribution costs taking a $4.50 bite out of a $5.00 box of apples, it is no time to put out a half size or "junior" box! Lumber is scarce out here and the uses of apple boxes are many and wonderful to behold; but we don't want our lumber in the form of extra apple boxes at 50c each.

Away back in pre-war days there was a common expression—"The customer is always right". Many a business man kept repeating that slogan while he pulled himself out of the depression and back on his feet. Many of us hoped to see that old saying make a comeback. Now the customer has been wrong for so long that he has quit trying; he stands it as long as he can and then he quietly quits buying. But prairie customers want B.C. apples if they can get them fit to eat at a price they can afford; so let's start a "suggestion box", a half-size apple box will do, and no better use could be made of one. Let's direct our suggestions to the growers, packers, transporters, and retailers who wish to keep on selling B.C. fruit to the prairies.

Color and Taste

To start with here are a few ideas which might help to keep B.C. apples in our cellars: Cut out the chemical sprays for artificial coloring. They may fool the eye, but they disappoint the palate. If the present craze for technology was followed to its logical end, you would develop an artificial flavoring process to match the artificial color. That would be the finishing touch.

Don't spend time and money fooling around with chemicals which will stop molds and fermentation in storage. Use your efforts in getting back to better storage, like you must have had 15 years ago. Molds and rots are your customers' best protection against poor handling. Furthermore our foods are so sterile now that we have to see the doctor about once a year to be treated with $7.00 worth of mold in the form of Penicillin.

Depend on good storage instead

CUB CALLS

1st Summerland Pack
Fourteen boys turned out for the Ramble on Saturday. Everyone agreed it was the best yet. We had a full turnout to meet the Governor-General, which was something we will always remember. Next meeting May 25, at 6:15 p.m. sharp. Duty Six—Yellow Six—Akela.

Left: This Meat Loaf is well-seasoned, juicy and tender, yet it's easy to slice! For a moist meat loaf, bake in a loaf pan; for a crustier, browner loaf, shape meat in loaf form and bake in a shallow pan.

Favourite Meat Loaf

One and a half lbs ground beef, 1/2 lb ground pork, 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, 2 tsp salt, 1/4 tsp pepper, 1/4 tsp sage, 1/4 tsp poultry seasoning, 1 tsp Worcestershire sauce, 2 eggs, 1 cup tomato juice, 4 slices bread.

Combine meat with onions and seasonings. Beat eggs and add to tomato juice. Cube bread and soak in the liquid mixture. Beat well. Add to meat and mix lightly. Pack into a 5 x 9 inch meat loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees F for 1 1/2 hours. Let loaf stand for 10 minutes, then drain off liquid and turn out of pan. Spread with catsup or hot tomato sauce. (If desired, the loaf may be spread with 1/2 cup catsup before baking. This adds moisture and interesting flavor.)

At a brief court of honor of patrol leaders at the beginning of the weekly meeting of the Guide company, voting took place to choose a new company leader upon the retirement of Jill Sanborn to the Ranger group. Dianne Durick was elected with Darlene Bonthoux taking over leadership of the Pansy patrol and Ruby Gronlund, the Orchids. Patrol seconds were appointed as follows, Gail Henker, Orchids and Bonnie Wilson, Lily-of-the-Valley. A patrol leader and second has to hold a second class badge. The PL is responsible for all matter relating to work, play and administration in her patrol. She is also the channel of communication between the captain and her Guides.

Mrs. A. Inch, lieutenant, took a variation of Kim's games, various articles being passed behind Guides' backs and the girls using their sense of touch to recognize and memorize the articles. Badges were awarded to Guides at a campfire ceremony recently:

Skaters—Ruby Gronlund, Marjorie Campbell, Nan Solly, Dianne Rumball, Wendy Wright, Dianne Durick.
Athlete—Marie Gronlund, Eileen Wilcox, Carol Ann Short, Ruby Gronlund, Dianne Rumball.
Emergency Helpers—Ruby Gronlund, Nan Solly, Wendy Wright.

Keep Fit—Wendy Wright, Dianne Rumball, Nan Solly.

The Summerland community was complimented on its good representation by the Governor-General of Canada when he inspected it as part of the guard of honor which welcomed him to this community. All members were present except six who played in the school band.

Fourteen Guides descended upon the Library on Saturday morning last to clean windows and wash and polish items of furniture as part of their Coronation tribute to Queen Elizabeth II. A few things still remain to be done and the curtains being made by the Ranger group should be hung in a week or so.

BROWNIE CHATTER

Excitement has been running high in the Brownie packs lately. Saturday, May 9 about 37 jean-clad little folk started climbing Giant's Head. It was a grand day for hiking and before we knew it we had reached the top, where we all enjoyed our lunch in the bright sunshine. Then we sang and played a game. After one last look at the magnificent view, we began our homeward journey. On reaching the Youth Centre we disbanded, a tired, but very happy group.

This Tuesday, the 1st Brownie pack was visited by our Divisional Commissioner, Mrs. A. E. Titchmarsh accompanied by Mrs. Brown, captain. Mrs. Wm. Durick our fairy godmother, along with several of the mothers, Mrs. C. J. Bleasdale, Mrs. K. Boothe, Mrs. M. Bonthoux, Mrs. C. Ongaro, Mrs. J. Betuzzi, Mrs. F. Young and Mrs. H. Mitchell (Tawny Owl) were also present.

Following the usual opening ceremony, each Six in turn enacted a nursery rhyme. Guessing the names of these proved quite amusing.

Our commissioner then presented golden bars to Brownies who trod the "golden path" i.e. Trudy Mitchell, Jo-ann Ongaro, Linda Betuzzi, Laurane Bonthoux and Lorna Kampe. The Brownies who were escorted around a large star pattern received their service stars: Trudy Mitchell and Laurane Bonthoux, their first year stars and Gay Greer her third year star.

A number of proficiency badges were awarded to Brownies, each one being warmly congratulated by the commissioner. Linda Betuzzi, collector's badge; Gay Greer, collector's and minstrel badges; Louise Shannon, collector's, minstrel and dancer's badges; Lynn Bleasdale, minstrel badge; Phyllis Young, minstrel and collector's badges; Lynne Boothe, dancer's and minstrel badges.

Following the presentation of awards, each visitor was brought forth into the fairy ring by a Brownie and welcomed by the commissioner and Brown Owl. Then we

Peeters - Glaser Rites

Couple to Make Home in Burnaby Following Nuptials in St. Andrew's

At four o'clock in the afternoon on Saturday, May 16, in St. Andrew's United church Gertrude Glaser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Glaser was united in marriage with Leonard Joseph Peeters, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Peeters of South Burnaby.

In a delightful spring theme, the church was decorated with lilacs, tulips, narcissi, and irises. Guest pews were marked with fan-shaped doilies holding lily-of-the-valley.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. A. Gabert of Pentiction, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

White nylon net over satin with lace inserts was chosen as the lovely bridal gown which featured lily point sleeves and a lace bolero which buttoned with tiny buttons to the waistline. The nylon net veil was trimmed with lace, and the headdress was of seed pearls in coronation crown effect. The wedding bouquet was of dark red carnations interspersed with sprays of lily-of-the-valley.

As her sister's maid of honor, Miss Anne Glaser of Chilliwack, wore a charmingly bouffant frock, the skirt fashioned of six layers of pale blue nylon net with matching bolero. Matching net gloves were worn and a headdress in crown effect, with pale pink flowers on the head-band and lily-of-the-valley twined to make the crown. She carried a horseshoe-shaped bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Rosalie Lethbridge of Burnaby was the bridesmaid and wore a frock of bright yellow net and lace with matching bolero and gloves. Her flowers shaped into a horseshoe were of mauve carnations and her headdress was similar to that worn by maid of honor but with mauve flowers in the band.

Miss Doreen Glaser of Summerland was the flower girl, and wore a dainty gown of layers of pink net over pink taffeta, with puffed sleeves and matching headdress with blue and pink rosebuds. She carried a nosegay of lily-of-the-valley with rosebuds showering from it.

The groom was attended by Donald Lethbridge of Burnaby and Walter Glaser, and ushers were Rudolf Vogel and Oscar Straffel.

The reception was in St. Andrew's hall where Mr. and Mrs. Glaser and Mr. and Mrs. Peeters received.

For the occasion Mrs. Glaser was in a becoming navy crepe gown with pink trimming, pink straw hat with flowers and corsage of pink carnations.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Peeters wore a suit in a soft grey shade with white straw hat trimmed with flowers, navy accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

The hall was prettily decorated with pink, yellow, lime green, and white streamers, and with spring flowers on the tables.

The bride's table was round and covered with a draped lace cloth tied with blue and white ribbon.

Mr. Gabert gave several selections on the piano; Lori Klux played several numbers on his trumpet; and after the bride unwrapped many lovely gifts, games were played.

For motoring to points north, the bride changed to a light blue knitted suit with white accessories, and corsage of red carnations. Over her arm she carried a light blue topcoat. The couple will make their home in Burnaby.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Peeters, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lethbridge, Miss Rosalie Lethbridge, South Burnaby; Mr. and Mrs. A. Metzken, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nutch and daughter, Rosalie, Mr. and Mrs. Gunther, Mrs. A. R. McCallum, Vancouver; Mrs. E. Lawa, Pentiction; Miss Kay Schervagh, Chilliwack.

Evolution of Rose Described

Horticultural Society Lays Plans, Annual Rose Show In June

"The Story of A Rose" as related by Dr. James Marshall was the fascinating tale unfolded by word, chart and colored slides to the large gathering of members and friends of the Summerland Horticultural Society at the regular meeting, Friday evening, May 16, in the parish hall.

He traced the evolution of modern roses from seven species of rose known to exist in the 18th century.

Dr. Marshall, who is himself an authority on roses, bases a good deal of his lecture on the findings of Hirst, who outlined the family history of the rose after many years of research.

The slides of the many types of present day roses showed the distinct and varied characteristics of their individual ancestors, such as the Damasks, China, Musk, Canina and others.

During the short business period members were advised to watch the local papers for notices of the annual Rose Show which will be held when roses are at their best, possibly late in June.

E. H. Bennett and Clive Atkinson, president of the society, were chosen to attend the next school board meeting to represent the Horticultural Society in regard to the upkeep or removal of various trees and shrubs on the school grounds.

Members were given a chance to buy several kinds of bedding plants produced by N. May, which were eagerly bought, before two films were shown.

The films on seed culture were sent from California by W. Calder, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Calder.

One called "Background for Beauty", showed many ways to group flowers for mass color effects in various types of gardens. The other, "Better Gardens for Better Living", traced the life of an average citizen's fine vegetable garden when carefully tested and inspected seeds had been planted.

The films showed, also, methods used to get seeds true to type and

Activities Reported To Guide Association

Nineteen were present at the regular meeting of the local association to the Girl Guides on Thursday, May 14, in the Youth Centre. Mrs. T. B. Lott was in the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon.

Mrs. W. Durick gave an interesting report of the divisional meeting which was held at Allentby when it was announced that a new district had been formed at Greenwood.

It was reported that the Guides had sent a donation of money to Guides at Ipswich in England, one of the flooded areas, which was Mrs. Blagborne's former company before she came to live in Canada. This money was used to repair the Ranger Training Ship there.

It was announced that Camp Fire Girls from Wenatchee would be at the rally which is to take place at Pentiction on June 6, when the deputy chief commissioner will be present.

Mrs. A. Inch was welcomed as a new lieutenant to Mrs. Blagborne, and Mrs. N. Reid and Mrs. Toevs, Brown Owls, reported for the Brownies.

The coronation project of the Guides was mentioned by which they are brightening the library and the success of Cookie Week was commented upon.

Reviews Discussions Of P-TA Convention

Nominating committee for the annual meeting to be held in June was named at the regular P-TA session in the high school library on Thursday evening, May 7. The committee are Mrs. J. H. Dunsdon, Mrs. T. B. Lott and Ewart Woolliams. W. C. Wilkin was named as auditor.

Suggestions were made as to disposition of funds which are hoped to result from the presentation of a dancing display which the P-TA is sponsoring. It was decided to give any such money to help the school band.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson, president, in speaking of Teen Town which is sponsored by P-TA, asked that the full P-TA Teen Town committee attend the next Teen Town meeting and spoke in promotion of reciprocal good-will and understanding.

Mrs. J. R. Martin, president of Pentiction P-TA, who lives in Summerland, gave a resume of the provincial P-TA convention which she attended recently in North Vancouver and at which there was no Summerland delegate. There were 700 delegates at the convention.

Mrs. Martin condensed the three-day convention into a half-hour talk, saying that the theme of one of the sessions was Live Effectively, and of the importance of cooperation in small groups.

She quoted Dr. Black of UBC who asked that every member there encourage new Canadians and where possible use their arts and crafts as part of P-TA programs.

Mrs. Martin presented a questionnaire which is being submitted to all P-TA's, which when compiled will give some statistics as to what is thought among parents about the school curricula, report cards, and pre-school efforts, and dealt briefly with other highlights of the convention.

VISITING ABROAD

B.C. Canners To Submit Problems In Brief To Federal Government

B.C. Canned Foods Association with the assistance of the fruit and vegetable industry plans to take its market troubles to the federal government. Plagued by a huge importation of canned goods from United States, a comprehensive brief will be submitted to Ottawa outlining difficulties faced by the industry.

According to one official of the Okanagan Federated Shippers Association, the trouble is partially caused by reduction in tariffs under the Geneva Trade Agreement, which in most cases amount to 25 to 35 per cent and in some instances 65 per cent. Also blamed for the situation is the lower transportation cost in the States. It is claimed that goods can be transported from California to Winnipeg cheaper than goods from B.C. to Winnipeg.

Huge inventories of certain lines of goods in California and Canada have resulted in heavy price cuts in order to move the surplus.

A price war in California is blamed also for having a direct effect of lower priced canned goods coming into B.C.

It is pointed out that California canners pay less for cans, cartons and raw products, and with labor-saving machinery, can produce at considerably lower cost.

CORRECTION

Through error, the price quoted for the Moffat electric range described in the advertisement of YOUNG'S ELECTRIC last week was incorrect.

The same range is illustrated and described in their advertisement in this week's paper and the correct price is $385.75.

GIVEN

On his arrival at Summerland, members of the municipal council, school officials and their wives were presented to his excellency and he then reviewed members of the Canadian Legion branch Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies, after which he placed a wreath at the base of the cenotaph.

From the band stand, he was introduced by Reeve C. E. Bentley and after his brief remarks reviewed the school children. With some time to spare after his visit here, he stopped briefly to visit J. H. Lee-Grayson and then made a quick tour of the experimental farm.

Appearing for the first time in public, the High School band under direction of John Tamblin gave a very creditable performance during the visit and drew compliments for their efforts from the governor-general.

Nancy Fleming Chosen President At Singers and Players Annual

Miss Nancy Fleming was elected president of Summerland Singers' and Players' Club at the annual meeting held on Tuesday evening, May 19, in the parish hall at eight o'clock.

Stan Gladwell declined nomination for re-election as president of the club, and A. K. Macleod moved a hearty vote of thanks to the retiring president for his able and devoted service during his terms of office. The motion was enthusiastically supported by all the members. Mr. Gladwell will continue to act as director of productions.

Other officers elected for the coming season are: Vice-president, George Washington; secretary, Mrs. F. O'Leary; treasurer, Charles, Renie; singers' representative, Mrs. Alex Watt; players' representative, Mrs. A. Gately.

Mr. Gladwell reported a successful year with three performances of The Gilbert and Sullivan opera, Princess Ida. He expressed special satisfaction with the costume and scenery departments, headed by Mrs. K. Sayers and George Washington, respectively. Gratitude was given to the costume committee, Mrs. Sayers, Mrs. W. Sherwood, Mrs. Doney Wilson and Miss Miwa Tada, as well as to Fred McNeill of Penticton who made three suits of metal armour and to Mrs. L. Wright who made the mortar boards for the girl graduates in "Ida".

Others whose work was mentioned with thanks were the scenery painters, Miss Doreen Tait, Mrs. L. Wright and Miss Nancy Fleming; George Washington, whose invaluable assistance with the stage work was much appreciated in his capacity as stage manager and head of stage construction; Mrs. A. K. Macleod for make-up; Miss Chris Mair as retiring singers' representative; Mrs. O'Leary, retiring players' representative; Blair Underwood as business manager; Mrs. D. Dunham and Miss M. Barraud, accompanists; Mrs. J. Sheeley and Mrs. A. Gately, refreshment committee.

Mrs. Dunham was presented with a copy of the score of Princess Ida, signed by members in token of appreciation for her constant support as accompanist.

Mr. Gladwell expressed regret at the impending departure of one of the most active members, Mrs. H. R. Whitmore, who is leaving Summerland in June, and this was endorsed by all present.

The success of the joint Singers' and Players' Christmas concert was told by Mr. Gladwell. This concert was put on for the benefit of the community.

It was reported that the players' section of the club has postponed its proposed three-act play for production in the fall.

Mrs. Whitmore moved a vote of thanks to W. A. (Bud) Stewart, for his inspiring leadership as musical director, and this received unanimous support.

Miss Miwa Tada showed moving pictures of Princess Ida and of last year's performance of the Mikado, and Bert Hughes showed colored slides of Princess Ida. All of those were greatly enjoyed by the members.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sheeley and Mrs. Watt.

Elks Trounce Macs 9-4; Fifth Straight Loss

Summerland Macs' record of losses remained unbroken last Wednesday night when they squared off against Oliver Elks at the Memorial Park and came off on the wrong end of a 9-4 score.

After a scoreless first inning, the visitors took over a two run lead in the second and their position was never challenged through the remainder of the tilt.

In the fourth stanza the Elks added two more runs and then three more in the fifth when the locals broke the ice with a single tally. Oliver notched two more in the sixth to end their scoring for the game while Summerland went on to rack up one in the seventh and two in the eighth.

The Elks added their sixth inning brace of runs when Martino belted out a circuit hit with Snider on base. Martino was the batting power house for Oliver and in five times at the plate collected in addition to the home run a double and a single and went to base when he was hit by a pitched ball.

Summerland pulled off a double play in the ninth to take out Martino and Fritz with a play from Hooker at shortstop to Kato on second to Gould at first.

Peach Marketing Scheme Collapses

Last February a strong delegation of officials of the Ontario peach industry conferred with the Hon. F. S. Thomas, minister of agriculture, in the Ontario legislature, on plans for a vote on a fresh peach marketing scheme. The delegation stressed the desire for a vote during the month of March, in good time to have the scheme in operation for this season.

The scheme was recommended by the marketing committee of the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers' Association and the Essex County Associated Growers. It proposed that daily minimum fresh peach prices be set during the season by a negotiating committee of growers and dealers; that the quality of peaches coming to market be regulated through variety and size elimination, particularly in large crop years, and that the minimum price structure be supported by an assessment of 10 per cent of the daily negotiated price on all peaches sold for market stabilization purposes.

Recently the Ontario farm products marketing board announced it had decided against holding a vote in view of administrative and legal difficulties.

Under the Ontario farm products marketing act, all sales by growers of any regulated product direct to consumers, to independent retail stores and to certain classes of chain stores, are exempt from the provisions of any marketing scheme.

These exemptions would conflict with the proposed new regulations. There would be two sets of laws for the one class of business. It would be an attempt to combine free-for-all selling with stabilized marketing and would create impossible legal and administrative problems.

The government's decision not to hold a vote has been a distinct shock to the many Ontario growers who were hoping the scheme would be approved as a first step in an attempt at orderly marketing.

Dropped for 1953 it is probable that, with certain revisions, the peach marketing scheme will be proposed for next year.

Service Club Hears Outline of UN Work

Members of St. Andrew's Service Club had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. H. R. McLarty speak on the theme United Nations at the regular meeting, May 11, in St. Andrew's hall.

Mrs. McLarty told of the organization of the United Nations and the important work done by the committees. It was particularly interesting to hear of the good work done by Canada through the United Nations.

Mrs. R. J. Gardiner welcomed members, and club president, Mrs. George Washington, was in the chair. Devotional period was given by Mrs. L. Shannon.

Committee reports showed that the club has had a busy month with two parcels sent to Korea and work being done on articles for sale at the fall bazaar. There is to be a bazaar shower for the club on May 21 at St. Andrew's hall.

Mrs. S. Blazenko and Mrs. R. J. Gardiner were appointed to convene the refreshment booth at the AOTS hobby fair in June.

Mrs. W. H. Durick, delegate to the presbytery rally held recently in Vernon gave a splendid report about the rally. Mrs. Durick brought back many interesting and worthwhile ideas for furthering the work of the Service Club.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. W. F. Ward, Mrs. H. R. Whitmore, Mrs. G. E. Woolliams, Mrs. D. Wilson, Mrs. Gordon Smith and Mrs. Ken Williams.

What is ALTERNATIVE VOTING and how does it work?

Alternative voting, which will be used in the coming Provincial Election, permits the individual voter to continue to participate in the selection of candidates of his or her choice, until one candidate on the ballot is elected by an absolute majority vote, even should their favourite candidate be eliminated in prior counting.

To vote this way is simplicity itself . . . it is just a case of using the common numerals 1 - 2 - 3 - 4, or as far as you want to go up to the number of candidates listed on your ballot.

Beside the name of your first choice you mark the number 1 . . . then beside the name of your second choice mark 2 . . . beside the name of your third choice mark 3 . . . and so on.

If you "plump," which means, if you mark your ballot for only one candidate, your plumping does not give your favorite candidate one bit of advantage more than if you mark a choice for each of the others . . . there is nothing gained, but you do deprive yourself, should your first choice be eliminated, of your privilege to further express your wishes in the continued counting, which may be necessary in order to establish which candidate enjoys an absolute majority vote.

UNDER THE OLD FORM OF VOTING

There may have been two candidates who each ranked high in the choice of the voters in your riding.

At the same time there may have been a third candidate who was not desired by so many, but who received a goodly number of votes.

When the majority of voters divided their votes between the two most desired candidates, it frequently resulted in the election of the candidate who the majority of voters voted AGAINST . . . one who was desired by a minority of the voters.

U

UNDER ALTERNATIVE VOTING

You can vote for your favorite candidate . . . and then go beyond that . . . you can still have another choice . . . and even another, to the number of candidates on your ballot.

You can say to yourself . . . "If my first choice doesn't make it, then I want to vote for my second choice" . . . so that's just what you do . . . you vote 2 . . . and if that one doesn't make it, then your third choice enjoys your support . . . and so on.

The alternate ballot makes certain that no one is elected who is not supported by more voters than all of his competitors added together.

Machine Posting Speeds Banking

Customers of the Bank of Montreal's West Summerland Branch will soon be receiving speedier and more convenient service. This will be made possible by the installation of a new ledger-keeping system, which will revolve around what is known as a combination posting machine.

This complex mechanism will automatically record all withdrawals, deposits, balances, dates and other pertinent data.

Current-account customers will not require passbooks, and thus be free from delays while passbooks are being made up, as at present. Instead they will regularly receive complete statements, with debits, credits and balances concisely set out for quick reference. These statements will always be instantly available. The machine will also take care of the savings department, and all withdrawals and deposits will be mechanically entered in the bank's records. Savings passbooks, however, will still be hand written.

Thus, when the new system goes into operation, the ancient and honorable—but laborious—practice of keeping ledgers up to date by

When it is your own poundage, you can have too much of a good thing. The overweight person is not as healthy as the one less luxuriously upholstered and he is far more susceptible to a variety of ailments. But, if the abundance of flesh is there, it is not advisable to start in on a reducing program that relies upon malnutrition for its effects. By going without necessary food, the weight will certainly decrease—but so will the person's stamina and ability to resist disease. The safe way is to consult the doctor and then follow the program he prescribes—faithfully, with

THOSE WHO BELIEVE that Canadians are adverse to blowing their own horn can smugly claim to be right today as the first of half-a-hundred imported bandmen, scheduled to play in Canadian Army bands because of a shortage of Canadian recruits, settled down in Montreal. The first group, made up of 14 young men from The Netherlands, have signed up with Canadian Army bands for periods ranging from three to six years. They were recruited by the military attache in the Canadian Embassy in Holland. Lieut. G. B. C. Quick, acting-inspector of bands at Army headquarters, Ottawa, says the Dutch bandmen are tops. He hopes they can be persuaded to remain in Canada's permanent forces. Lieut. ### Announce Betrothal For Victoria Rites Interesting news here is the engagement which has been announced in Victoria of Miss Doris Joan Humberstone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Humberstone, Victoria, to George William Allen, Victoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, Summerland.

The wedding is to take place in Centennial United church, Victoria on May 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Miss Shirley Allen, Miss Sheila Allen, and Mrs. E. E. Farnham, are planning to attend the wedding, at which Miss Shirley Allen will be a bridesmaid, and Miss Sheila Allen, a junior bridesmaid.

Varsity Students Receive Degrees

Four Summerland students and one from Peachland were included in the list of graduates announced last Thursday by UBC.

Miss Ruth Hisae Nakamura received the degree of bachelor of home economics, Richard Maso Palmer and Gilbert Francis Jacobs received degrees of bachelor of applied science, the former in chemical engineering and the latter in civil engineering, and to Arthur William Towgood, the same degree in mechanical engineering.

Peachland student is John Williamson Long who receives his degree of bachelor of commerce.

Would Improve Dental Health

Urges Abolition of Fluorine To Community Water Supply

One of the interesting subjects talked over at the quarterly meeting of the South Okanagan Health Unit held in the Municipal hall here, Wednesday, May 13, at 2:30 p.m., was the fluoridation of water, as set forth by Dr. Hall, the unit dentist.

In his report Dr. Hall stated the fluoridation of public water supplies has been proved to be the most effective method of preventing dental caries which is the most widespread disease of civilized man.

He said too, fluoridation is reducing the incidence of dental caries by approximately 60 per cent in those communities which have had it installed. In the advised amounts it produces no adverse effects. It is advocated by all the leading recognized health professional associations.

Dr. Hall explained further that fluoridation is a procedure whereby a specified amount of the element fluorine is added to the community water supply. It is usually added by metering devices at the pumping stations in the established waterworks facilities. Estimation of costs of this procedure vary with different communities and their water distribution methods. It is only practicable on a community basis.

He concluded his report saying the advantages to be gained by the future citizens strongly warrant the implementation of fluoridation in the community water supplies of the South Okanagan Health Unit area. The main advantage will be the greatly improved dental health of the future citizens, with the reduced cost of the remaining dental care, thereby giving an overall economic saving and a legacy of fewer children requiring treatment for dental caries.

Continuing representations have been made to the health unit for the extension of preventive dental services to Summerland School District, No. 77, and the meeting was assured that the basic policy of the branch regarding treatment services is under review and it was considered advisable for the union board to reiterate its request for the extension, which was done.

Those attending the meeting were Dr. D. M. Black, medical director; Miss Beattie, nursing director; Fred Alcock, sanitarian; Alderman Jackson, chairman, all of Kelowna. Mr. Wendolen, Osoyoos; Mrs. L. Väder, Okanagan Falls; Dr. Hall unit dentist; Alderman H. Geddes; T. S. Dalby, government agent, Penticton; Mrs. J. C. Clarke, Keremeqos; Mrs. L. Ayres, Peachland; Councillor F. E. Atkinson, Miss Irene Stewart, P.H.N., T. S. Manning, Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh, Summerland.

Tea prepared by Miss Phyllis Hoath, home economics' teacher, and girls of the home economics' class, was served in the home economics' room where the meeting continued until 5:30 p.m.

Elephant Collection Interesting Hobby

Hobbies give a great deal of pleasure and interest which often diverge in many directions, and such is the case with Mrs. George Lewis who has been collecting elephants of various types (except those which are alive) for some little time.

Adequate stabling at the moment is in a corner cupboard where they are displayed to advantage, but at the rate the collection is growing, other space will have to be found for them.

There are elephants of wood, ivory, metal, china, plastic and other materials. Some have been made to hold flowers, others are ornamental in themselves. One is on a lovely filigree pendant of ivory, and another is a replica of Walt Disney's Dumbo.

It seems that elephant collecting is quite popular and Mrs. Lewis has already had an offer of exchanging with another collector.

Quite awhile ago there were 150 in the Trout Creek accumulation and now there are upwards of 200 at least. They haven't been counted lately.

In the Lewis living-room are exchanging with another collector, with this insignia.

The admonition, "Go wash an elephant" holds no qualms for Mrs. Lewis. She likes them.

The Defence Research Board is developing a new type of synthetic rubber which will retain its flexibility at temperatures as low as 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

How long does an oil well last?

The average well goes dry in 20 to 30 years. To keep your car rolling and your home warm, a new well must be found to take its place. That's why the search for oil never ends; why Imperial, for instance, spent almost $500 millions to find and develop new oil in western Canada last year.

Oil has become one of Canada's important industries. How many of these questions about it can you answer?

- Which of the following contain petroleum lipstick? binder twine? printing ink? insect spray?
  - Oil is a part of all the products named and of hundreds of others which contribute to our everyday living.
- In 1946 Canada produced less than 10% of the oil she used. How much of her needs does she produce now?
  - 18%? 40%? 55%?
  - About 40%—and we use twice as much as in 1946. Today's production would meet 80% of the demand at that time.
- How many service stations would you say Imperial operates across Canada?
  - 19,500? 10,000? 0?
  - None. Approximately 10,000 stations carry the Imperial Esso sign, but they are operated by independent dealers, each in business for himself.
- In oil field language, a "roughneck" is one of the crew of a drilling rig. What is a "tool-pusher"?
  - tool salesman? motor mechanic? drilling foreman?
  - Drilling foreman. Oil field slang is colorful. A "Christmas tree," for instance, is a combination of pipes and valves to regulate the flow of oil from a well.
- Opinion surveys show that most Canadians believe a business is entitled to a profit of 15¢ on a dollar of revenue. Last year Imperial earned?
  - 73¢? 11¢? 19¢?
  - In 1952 Imperial earned a profit of 73¢ of each dollar received. Of this, 4¢ was paid to shareholders; the remaining 33¢ was used to replace worn-out equipment and to make sure we can supply your future oil needs.

Concert Series
Drive Next Week

Final details for the membership campaign of the South Okanagan Community Concerts, to be held the week beginning Monday, May 25, are completed, according to Dr. John Gibson, president of the association.

The drive starts with a dinner meeting on board the S.S. "Sicamous" in Penticton Monday at 6:45 p.m., at which all canvassers will receive their campaign kits and a review of all information about the series.

Mrs. Inga Williams, northwestern field secretary of Community Concerts, Inc., will address the dinner meeting, and a short subject film of interest to all music lovers will be shown.

The membership drive will close Saturday, May 30, after which no more subscriptions can be taken. The artist committee will meet immediately after the final results have been listed and choose the series of concerts from a list including the most celebrated names in the music world. The membership fee will be $6.00 plus tax for adults, and $3.00 plus tax for students. One membership entitles holder to attend every one of the concerts.

The Summerland representative is Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge, from whom subscriptions may be purchased.

Mr. Ross Tingley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Tingley, is among the students home from UBC for the summer vacation.

Win or Lose

By Jack Dunham.

The Summerland AOTS Club certainly must be commended on the fine job they did at the Memorial Athletic Park last Saturday.

The big local track meet is one of the highlights for track and field teams throughout the interior. This year a Kootenay contingent from Trail turned up at the meet and made a fine showing.

Kelowna's long reign over track meets came to an abrupt end and the Vernon high lads and lassies were crowned champs for '53. Quite a few of the Vernon points were piled up by a boy called Yakamovich who can really move. He literally flew over 100 yards of cinders in the amazing time of 10.4 seconds. The really amazing part is that he's only 16 years old.

Announcer Jim Pantone had things under control all afternoon with athletes knowing in plenty of time when their events were due to be run. Jim kept up a running commentary most of the time, informing spectators what was going on where, so that their attention could be directed to that event. After Mr. Pantone had the results of a certain event he would give Canadian records and world records in comparison which of course would add considerably to the interest of the meet.

Having the proper equipment is one of the major assets of any track meet. In this case everything was tops with the exception of the discs and shot-put circle. On the front quarter of this circle there is a curved block which helps keep the athlete from stepping out of the ring. A boy familiar with this event gets used to the block being there, and when he suddenly finds it missing, as was the case last week, he seems to lose confidence. It took most of the lads the three full throws to get used to the circle. The favorite, Johnston of Kelowna, lived up to his reputation as was expected, but even he could not seem to really let go. This was the only thing in the whole show that was a little out of line and Gordon Beggs, an old track star from a few years back, and Johnny Betuzzi handled the weight events very well regardless of the missing block.

A. K. Macleod, head starter, had a real job on his hands all afternoon. The tough part of the starter's job lies in trying to watch a half dozen or so youngsters tensed up like coil springs ready to go at the first impulse. He must be sure that everyone leaves at precisely the same moment. Sometimes someone breaks before the gun and the starter must be right on his toes to catch him. The unusual part was that there were comparatively few false starts last Saturday and this in itself helped speed up proceedings considerably.

A sporting event of this kind is especially colorful, probably more than any other high school activity. Anyone who did not see the big show really missed a fine afternoon's entertainment and again I say "well done" AOTS.

Top Marksmen Compete . . .

Record Entry at B.C.I.R.A. Shoot at Kaleden Range

Over 70 of Western Canada's top marksmen competed in the seventh annual B.C. Inland Rifle leden rifle range in Penticton, over the holiday week-end.

Top shots from all over the interior, a large contingent from coastal points and even one carload of marksmen from Alberta congregated here for what was enthusiastically described by one of the competitors as the best meet ever held in the interior.

Two coast marksmen took home the meet's major trophies, with Jack Cramer, of Vancouver, coping the grand aggregate award with the top total in the first six matches of the meet.

Jim Lightburn, of Mission, won all comers aggregate trophy with the best total score in matches four, five and six. Lightburn also placed second to Cramer for the grand aggregate award.

In the individual trophies matches Earl Jamieson, of Vancouver, captured the Price Ellison cup, in the 200 yard match.

Kamloops Man Wins
An interior marksman, A. H. Gibson of Kamloops, took top honors in the senior division of the 300 yard match, while Cramer won the Cominco cup in the 600 yard event.

The Fish Lake and Summerland cup in the 200 yard match on the second day of the competition was won by Frank Sullivan, of Vancouver, and Lightburn took home the Osborne McPherson Memorial cup in the senior 500 yards event.

The City of Kamloops cup for the senior 600 yard event on the second day was won by a New Westminster marksman, W. R. Chandler, with a 34 score out of a possible 35.

Coast Team Tops
In the coast versus inland team match, the coast team of Chandler, Sergeant Scott, Lightburn, Cramer, F. Verchere and Jamieson won the City of Kamloops Challenge cup when they defeated the inland team of G. M. Dunsdon, George Farquharson, Walt Cousins, E. W. Work, W. Louie and C. Henderson by a score of 200 to 190.

In other team matches the Kamloops number one team won the Sweet Caporal Shield, while the Seaforths team took home both the Summerland Shield and the William Louie trophy.

The W. W. Ryan cup for the longest string of bulls eyes was won by A. H. Gibson, of Kamloops, with a string of 18 consecutive bulls eyes.

The successful meet, which went smoothly except for one interruption on Monday when the strong wind blew over several targets, was arranged by the inland section of the B.C. Military Rifle Association, of which Penticton's Walt Cousins is president.

Colin Mann, of Summerland, came home with most of the prizes in the tyro class and his scores along with the others will be carried in next weeks Review.

I suppose everyone knows by now that the Macs have finally come up with a win. However, in my opinion, the boys are still not up to their best. George Taylor is improving behind the plate and with no help in sight for that department he may be there for awhile yet. Good luck George m'boy. Kato had a lot of tough luck Monday, he hit some hard drives but in the wrong spots. Hooker's still tearing the hide off the ball which is good to see. Al seems to like the lead-off spot better than clean-up Alkin is back on third but seemed a wee bit rusty, Chuck made up for it in the hitting though with two singles. A toast to Cristante on his bunt that drove in Taylor with the winner.

How about Kelowna on Sunday fellas, another win?

Finally Break Jinx . . .

Macs Draw First Blood In Exhibition Game Tilt

In an exhibition match Monday afternoon, Summerland Macs finally broke the jinx that has plagued them so far in league play and topped the Princeton Royals 9-8 for their first win this year. The game went into an extra inning to break an 8-8 tie and to Gordie Taylor went the honor of crossing the plate with the winning run. Cristante's single brought home the tie-breaker.

At the outset it looked like Summerland's day to howl and five tallies were registered on the board for the locals in the first session at bat, while the visitors remained scoreless.

The Royals came to life in the third inning and three of their batters completed the circuit. The fourth inning was a saw-off with each team adding a counter to their tally.

In the fifth the Royals picked up two more to tie up the ball game and the sixth saw both teams add a brace of digits to their scores to hold the tie at 8-8. Seventh, eighth and ninth were scoreless innings.

Byre did mound duty for six innings for the Macs with Gil Jacobs taking over in the seventh. Gerein started on the mound for the Royals but was pulled in the first after five runs had come in and was replaced by Whitehouse.

Fishing News

Okanagan Lake has started to come in and quite a few nice catches have been made. Largest caught here was six pounder.

Fish Lake Camp. Fish Lake has been good this last week and good catches were made by most people that visited there. Howard Clark reports Munro Lake is now open and anyone interested can go there this coming week end. Should be very good. The rest of upper lakes of this camp still closed.

Garnet Valley Dam has been slower this week with no exceptional catches here.

Glen Lake open and good fishing but fly fishermen report that they are not taking a fly with any enthusiasm.

Silver Lake road pretty tough but passable. Fishing is good but not too many larger fish caught, most from 1/2 to 3/4 lbs.

Have had quite a number of reports from the northern spots. Several parties were at the Shuswap Lake and report very nice fishing. Reports show that most of the lakes around Kamloops are good, also Woods Lake has been producing nice fishing.

Mrs Eden Re-elected Head of Lady Curlers

The ladies' section of the curling club met on April 28, when officers for next season were named.

Mrs. H. Eden was re-elected president, with Mrs. Earle Wilson, the vice-president.

The secretary is Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon and the treasurer, Mrs. W. Croft.

Executive consists of Mrs. Edna Hannah, Mrs. T. McKay and Mrs. Leslie Rumball.

The draw committee is the president, Mrs. Eden, assisted by Mrs. Harry Hackman.

A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Fred Schumann for her help in the club during the past winter, and regret was expressed that she is leaving Summerland.

During the past season the ladies had a membership of about 50, with 12 rinks playing.

Vernon School Cops Review Trophy At Third Annual AOTS Track Meet

Vernon School on Saturday left the rest of the field far behind in the AOTS annual track meet and racked up an impressive 154 points to take home with them the Summerland Review trophy. Nearest was Penticton with a total of 94 points.

Highest individual score in the meet was tallied in the senior class by B. Tennant of Penticton who received a total of 17 1/2 points. Similkameen representatives went home with two trophies, capturing the senior section with 51.35 points and the junior with 27.14.

Scores in the aggregate were: Vernon 154, Penticton 94, Kelowna 90; Similkameen 78; Trail 58; Summerland 52 1/2; Armstrong 46, and Rutland 44 1/2.

In the individual scoring M. Schuster of Vernon captured junior girls honors with 14 points; P. Schmunk of Trail led intermediate girls with 19 1/2 points and S. Tjader of Trail and N. Haluschuck of Vernon split honors for senior girls with 12 points apiece.

Among the junior boys, D. Brooker of Vernon led with 14 points; in the intermediates, L. Yakimovitch of Vernon topped with 14 points and in the seniors, B. Tennant of Penticton was leading with 17 1/2. Complete results on page 12.

More Growers Using Stick Method For Apricot Blossom Thinning

Apricot thinning is now starting. The stick method of thinning apricots is becoming more general each year. In this method the thinner uses a stick about three feet long having a rubber tip made out of a four-inch length of garden hose. The rubber tip is tapered to allow manipulation in the clusters of fruit. The operator strikes the limbs and clusters of fruit with the stick using his free hand to clean out particularly thick clusters which are difficult to get at with the stick. Much greater speed is possible and the method allows smaller crews to get over the ground and clean up the thinning early.

Bartlett pears had a particularly heavy blossom this year and many blocks are now showing a scattered delayed bloom. These late blooms are very susceptible to fire blight infection and with the amount of showery weather we have been having it is reasonable to expect blight to start showing up any time now. A careful watch should be kept on all pear blocks for the next few weeks. New infections may be spotted and cut out using bichloride of mercury to disinfect shears. A little attention to the blight problem now may save a general outbreak later on.

Once again a great deal of chemical thinning is being done on apples. This year the rain came before most people had started to put on blossom sprays and the weather during the spray period was mostly dry and warm. As a result, the blossom thinning sprays appear to have had less effect than last year and more follow up hand-thinning may be needed if a natural drop does not occur.

Powdery mildew continues to give some concern on Newtowns, Macs and Jonathans.

Codling moth traps have been put out and although no captures have been made in Summerland, Penticton, Oliver and Vernon have reported moths flying already.

Fourteen tons of steel suspended from the stern of the 10,000-ton Canadian Pacific freighter "Maplecove," is the new rudder which will guide the vessel in her trans-Pacific Orient service which she will resume May 25. The Maplecove lost her rudder and part of her stern-frame in mid-Pacific in December last year, and for nine days, with no steering control, battled heavy Pacific storms before reaching port of Vancouver on December 27. Above, the ship is shown at Burrard Dry Dock, North Vancouver, where the new rudder and stern frame were installed.

ALBERTA MAN

Continued from Page 3 of picking apples green as grass. We will never learn to like that sawdust tang that gets more noticeable each year.

Introduce an "Orchard Pack" or "Family Pack" where we can find, in one box, a mixture of a few fancy quality apples to pick out for display when company comes, some good, plain eating apples and a lot of good cooking apples. Funny as it may seem, that is the way we use them, and the fancy pack is far too expensive.

If you must have two sizes of boxes get out a "Jumbo box" and use it two ways. Use it for graded apples so the storekeeper can break bulk for apartment dwellers; and use it for a real family size order of the "Orchard Pack"—one that is worth lugging down to the cellar.

Throw out the half-size box as an extravagance in packing—a merchandising frill that will help kill your trade in the long run. Salvage one and send it to the Farm and Ranch Review for our suggestions. We might save the prairie market for your apples in spite of everything; but seriously, B.C., you have slipped a lot in the last 15 years.

Coronation Celebration To be Memorial Occasion

Plans for Summerland's coronation were finalized Monday night at a committee meeting and indications are the program will prove to be an outstanding one in the history of this community. Arrangements have been going ahead rapidly for the Elizabethan pageant to be presented at the Memorial Park to highlight the afternoon program there and an outstanding performance can be expected.

Water Storage Close to Normal

Summerland's water supply is almost up to normal and if the runoff continues until July 1, storage will have reached average. However, present indications are the run-off period may be as much as two weeks shorter this year.

This was the substance of a report given Tuesday afternoon to the municipal council by foreman of water department E. Kercher who said water at Thirsk dam is now running about two inches over the spillway and at Canyon dam the water is at the 18-foot level. He said it is the intention to store as much as possible at Canyon dam to keep the creek flow up as long as possible and it will be necessary to start using storage water probably about the middle of June.

Called To Coast By Mother's Death

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Macleod were called to the coast yesterday on a sad mission with word of the sudden passing of Mr. Macleod's mother, Mrs. A. Minty.

Mrs. Minty died while enroute to hospital after suffering heart seizure. She was a frequent visitor to Summerland and had a number of friends here.

Brother Prisoner Of Commie Forces

Word was received in Summerland last night by Mrs. Harry Faasse that her brother, Cal McKnight, serving with the U.S. army is a prisoner of war in Korea.

Mrs. Faasse received no details of his capture. He has been in Korea since last November. He has visited here a number of times and is well known in the district.

Dangerous Practise

Council Ups Reward to End Interference With Irrigation

Three shutdowns of the irrigation system last week in order to remove waste and foreign objects from flumes were reported Tuesday to the municipal council by foreman of the water department, E. Kercher, who stated the situation is growing serious and considerable danger exists if people continue to throw objects in the irrigation ditches.

Chance for Good Turn And Boost Community

Any traveler to the coast Friday morning with space in the car can do a good turn for a couple of promising Summerland school athletes. Two girls, Shirley Burnell and Pearl Hooker, who turned in top performances at the Vernon meet last week, could probably do an able job of representing the community at the Victoria Track meet Saturday—but they've got to get to Vancouver in time to catch the boat Friday night.

Anyone interested in helping get the girls to the coast in time to enter the meet will have a grateful listener if they phone the school physical education teacher, Miss Janet Crafter at 2821 or at the school.

Rink Association To Meet Council

A request from the Summerland Rink Association for a committee meeting with the municipal council was read Tuesday at the council session and Thursday, June 4, was set as date for the meeting.

Hope To End Concert Association Campaign With Full Membership

Indications of a full membership for the South Okanagan Community Concert Association were seen Monday evening at a dinner rally of canvassers aboard the Steamers and more than 800 memberships were reported with the campaign running until the end of this week. More than 60 memberships were reported from Summerland and it is expected the number of local members will exceed 75 by the time the drive ends.

The association is out to enrol a total of 500 members before the end of this week and it is expected this will provide enough money for four concerts during the next season. Memberships are accepted only during the campaign week.

Present at the meeting was Concert Association Organizer Mrs. Inga Williams of Okan, Wash., who gave some of the history of the association and advised the meeting of what artists would be available for Okanagan performances next season. Although she warned some would be out of the price range available to this association, the list included many big name performers as Helen Traubel, Vivian Della Chiesa, Gladys Swarthout, Igor Gorin, Mischa El-

Climax to the celebration will be the fireworks display from behind the school at 9:30 and at the same time from the top of Giant's Head a signal fire will shoot up, to forge a link in a chain of signals that will brighten the sky all over the British commonwealth of nations. The beacon fire will be built by local Scouts under direction of district Scoutmaster Gordon Blewett and it is expected it will be visible for a radius of 25 miles.

The ceremonies at the Memorial Park will open at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon with a march past of school children, Scouts, Cubs, Guides, Brownies and Legion, and coupled with this part of the program will be flag raising and the national anthem.

After a brief address by Reeve C. E. Bentley, the Summerland Band will be heard and then will be the Elizabethan Pageant which will feature a cavalcade, Maypole dancing, singing, woodwind ensemble, Morris dancing and St. George and the Dragon.

Following the hour-long pageant, the school band will be heard and then will come the presentation of certificates to new citizens. A choral group from the Singers and Players will give a short recital and then high school students will give a dancing performance. The program will conclude with selections by the Summerland Band and O Canada.

The afternoon program will run from 2:30 to 5 p.m. and a junior softball game will follow.

FINED FOR PEDDLING

Pleading guilty to a charge of peddling in Summerland without a proper license, a peddler last week appeared before Magistrate R. S. Oxley and was assessed a fine of $10.

"There seems to be an epidemic of it lately," Mr. Kercher said, and the offenders are not children but adults who should know better. Some of the things removed lately, he said, included a large bus tire, boulders and heavy timbers.

Council approved an increase to $50 for a reward to anyone reporting information leading to conviction of any person for damage to municipal property and appealed to parents to impress on children the dangers involved in throwing material in the ditches.

Mr. Kercher warned of the damage that could result from heavy objects being carried along by the heavy rush of water in the ditches and entering the flumes, can dislodge the supporting straps across the top of metal flumes. Said Mr. Kercher, "At some places, a flume going out could cause $10,000 damage in 10 minutes—and it could very easily cost lives, too. If it went out at night when everyone is asleep, there's no telling how much damage it would cause."

He said most of the objects thrown in the water lately had gone in the ditches where they pass through Prairie Valley.

man, Yehudi Menuhin and Eugene List and covered a complete range of vocalists, instrumentalists and ensembles.

Chairman of the meeting was Dr. John Gibson, president of the South Okanagan Association.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Williams presented films which featured the work of a number of artists familiar on the community concert circuit.

Summerland representatives at the meeting were Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge, Mrs. C. V. G. Morgan, Mrs. G. E. Woodlams, Mrs. A. J. Mann, Mrs. A. C. Fleming and Mrs. F. Downes.

Other communities represented were Penticton, Okanagan Falls, Naramata, and Kaledon.

By-Election June 20

Property Sale Disqualifies Richards as Council Member

Through a legal technicality, Councillor H. R. J. Richards last week found himself disqualified from holding municipal office and his resignation from the council was accepted Tuesday afternoon with a general feeling of regret at losing his services being voiced by members of the council.

Date of a by-election to fill the vacancy created by Councillor Richards' resignation was set for June 20 with nomination day set for June 11. The replacement chosen will serve until December when Mr. Richards' term would have expired.

WCTU Mobile Unit To Visit in Fall

Mrs. G. Schnell read an interesting clipping concerning alcoholics at the regular meeting of Summerland WCTU held at the home of Mrs. Howard Milne on Friday afternoon, May 22.

Mrs. D. L. Milne and Mrs. John Smith led in prayers, and the roll call was answered by scripture verses read by members. Several prospective members have been contacted and will be received at the next meeting.

The president gave a resume of the provincial convention held recently in Vancouver and explained plans for a possible mobile unit being arranged for a fall tour.

Several members are planning to attend the World's Convention of the WCTU scheduled for June 3-8 at the University of British Columbia. Two thousand delegates are expected from 82 countries.

A card was signed by all members present to be given to Mrs. A. J. McKenzie, president of the Peachland Union, who is a patient in Summerland General hospital, and flowers were to be taken to her.

Kiwgnians Attend Spring Convention

A number of Kiwgnians from Summerland with their wives attended the Kiwgnian International Spring convention held on Saturday and Sunday in Penticton.

There was a dance on the Steamers on Saturday evening, and on Sunday a luncheon was given at the Prince Charles' hotel. Visitors were taken on drives and to see the new hospital and other places of interest. Ladies were entertained at tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Boulthec.

Among the speakers was J. Y. Towgood, immediate past lieutenant governor of this area.

orchard in Summerland and when the transfer was registered he found himself not a property owner in the municipality and therefore disqualified. The act states a councillor must be the registered owner of property valued at not less than $200.

The council Tuesday appointed W. C. W. Fosbery as returning officer for the by-election.

Mr. Richards expressed keen disappointment at the circumstances that necessitated his resignation. His duties as chairman of the water committee are temporarily being handled by the council as a whole.

Spray Might Help But None Invented

While fruit growers have been able to meet onslaught of various types of pests with spray and insecticides, no one yet has ever devised any eradicator for the little people who inhabit newspaper plants and do strange things with type to confuse the reading public and give editors ulcers on their ulcers.

Last week a head was written on a story to the effect that South Okanagan Health Unit Dentist Dr. Hall was pressing for the addition of fluorine in the drinking water. When the paper came out the heading read that he wanted to abolish fluorine in the drinking water.

To set the record straight: There is no fluorine in the drinking water; Dr. Hall is strongly in favor of having it added; if it is added, he will be strongly in favor of having its use continued.

So unless the gremlins get their hands on this little item, this should put us back in the good graces of the dental profession.

Start Cannery Work On Asparagus Pack

The Milne Cannery is busy these days canning asparagus, which has been obtained from Armstrong and from Winfield.

There are 20 workers employed and the daily output is about 4,000 tins.

A carload is expected to leave shortly for the Calgary market, and orders are being received from Vancouver and many other places where Okanagan asparagus is known for its fine flavor.

Institute Bringing Exhibit of Cartoons

Something amusing and different is being brought here by the Women's Institute who have obtained the loan of 100 original Len Norris cartoons from the Vancouver Sun.

Those who have seen the work of Norris in this field have been highly entertained by it, and many are looking forward to seeing these originals on June 18 in the IOOF hall where they will be on exhibit afternoon and evening.

Mrs. E. C. Weddell Speaks

Says Government Chaos Unparalleled in History

Late starting Progressive Conservative campaign got underway in Summerland last Friday night and the newly-chosen candidate, Mrs. E. C. Weddell took the platform at Nu-Way Annex to sound a rallying call to Conservatives to form solidly behind their party "to restore sane government for B.C." Said Mrs. Weddell, "There has been criticism of the old-line parties, but never in the history of the old-line parties was there such chaotic government as at present."

Speaking in support of Mrs. Weddell were members of her campaign team, H. S. Harrison Smith, her campaign manager, and C. G. Beeston, her official agent and president of the South Okanagan Pro-Con Association.

Mr. Beeston told the rally Mrs. Weddell's entry in the election ring was "no sacrifice hit" but that indications throughout the riding were that there was an excellent chance of her election. "Watch the second votes," he predicted. He recalled the outcome of the last election and pointed out that the election of Premier W. A. C. Bennett came on the first ballot only by a very slim majority and claimed that his first-count election was only a result of "votes transferred temporarily" in a sense of protest and with these returned to their own parties, a first-count election will not be possible this time and the second votes will turn the tide. Mrs. Weddell's chances will be strong, he predicted, because a lot of people will give her their second votes.

Mr. Beeston criticized the action of the Social Credit party during the last session and stated there would have been no necessity of having this present election if the government had been satisfied to bring in "only good legislation" and stated that under parliamentary procedure it was not necessary to have made the Rolston formula vote a vote of confidence. Some of his sharpest criticism was directed at the government for failure to consider the industrial conciliation and arbitration act, workmen's compensation act, liquor act and the position of the civil servant while the house was in session.

Mr. Beeston charged the government with "dishonesty and evasion" in their handling of changes in the liquor act. "The legislation has been drawn up," he said, "why haven't we been told what the government is going to do if re-elected? They don't do it," he went on, "because it would be poor politics to do so and concealment of their intention is an evasion of public responsibility."

The speaker termed the association of the premier with the Social Credit party "a shotgun wedding" and then went on to mix his metaphors "The Social Credit party had no leader, Mr. Bennett had no party. Said Mr. Bennett, 'This looks like a good horse to ride' and the Scredas said, 'We need a rider and so their union came about'."

Mrs. Weddell outlined the Pro-Con platform to her listeners and went on to give her personal reasons for accepting the candidacy and stated in her belief the versatility required of a mother and wife gave a woman all the necessary experience for public service and described herself, "I'm not a politician, just a practical housewife who wants stable, sane and economical government."

Auto Court Involved In Property Sale

Mr. and Mrs. A. Bergen and their three children have come from Vancouver to live in Summerland having bought Sharpe's Auto Court at the foot of the Peach Orchard Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Sharpe have gone to Vancouver where they expect to make their home.

No Full-Scale Alert

Civil Defense Organization to Join In Pacific Coast Exercise June 20

Plans for Summerland participation in a civil defense alert that will cover the Pacific northwest on June 20 were discussed at a meeting last night of local civil defense organizers and decision was reached to carry out shadow alert in Summerland with just heads of local civil defense services being notified. The public will not be asked to participate on this occasion.

First warning of the alert will come at 7:30 a.m. and the actual alert will go on from 8:30 to 8:45. On notification, heads of service will review their position and ability of their committees to provide the various needs expected of them.

Capt. A. M. Temple, Summerland civil defense co-ordinator urged that all citizens should take this opportunity to give serious consideration to their own personal needs and protection in the event a real need should arise.

Reeve C. E. Bentley assured the meeting of full council support on whatever plan was agreed upon. In the event of hostilities the Okanagan valley has been designated as a mobile support and re-

Will Sponsor Festival Entry

Summerland this year will again have its own queen to grace the community float in the Penticton Peach Festival according to plans laid at the last meeting of the Board of Trade.

Although plans for the queen-choosing are set only tentatively, it is planned to follow the same pattern as last year and selection will be made on a basis of talent, and personality as well as appearance.

The board will again sponsor a carnival at the Memorial Playground in conjunction with the queen crowning and mid-July will be the time for the event.

Frank MacDonald who last year supervised the construction of Summerland's float which took top honors for community floats in the Penticton parade has again been named chairman of the committee to arrange for decorating the float.

Mrs. J. C. Robson Passes In Hospital

Shortly after midnight on Friday morning, May 22, death occurred in Summerland General hospital of Elizabeth Robson, widow of J. C. Robson. She was in her 90th year.

The late Mrs. Robson had been in remarkably good health until after the New Year but latterly had been in hospital for about three months. Her bright, kindly ways endeared her to all who knew her, and she was constantly busy thinking of and doing things for others. Born in Bryanston, Ont., near London in 1864, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nicholson, and was educated in London, Ont.

She married J. C. Robson, a school teacher, and they lived in London, Ont. coming to B.C. in 1900 where Mr. Robson taught at Kamloops. Later he held teaching positions in Vernon, Summerland, Revelstoke and Rossland. In Rossland he taught for 15 years, until his retirement when he and Mrs. Robson came to make their home in the Lower Town. Mr. Robson died in 1941, and Mrs. Robson continued to live in Summerland.

She was a member of the Lakeside United church, and of all the church organizations, and had been an interested member of the WMS for many years.

She is survived by her only child, Mrs. E. R. Butler, three grandchildren, Bob and Alan Butler, and Mrs. Tom Furness of New Westminster, and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon, at half-past two in the Lakeside United church by Rev. H. R. Whitmore, with interment in the family plot in Peach Orchard cemetery.

pallbearers were J. W. Clark, Alex Steven, A. McLachlan, A. D. Glen, V. Charles and S. A. MacDonald.

The Ashnola Lumber Co. has started shipments again after signing on a new crew from West-option area. With this in mind it was decided to limit local participation in the forthcoming scheme to the activities of the welfare service which includes the St. John's Ambulance. A reception and registration center will be set up and local school children will act as evacuees.

Although local activities are necessarily curtailed through lack of public interest in civil defense, it is hoped that the exercise contemplated will help to arouse public interest to the necessity of being prepared for possible enemy action, and that greater public interest will make possible other larger operations of this nature contemplated for the future.

Many columnists keep chickens. When the columnist feels he is in danger of laying an egg—how soon slang becomes outdated!—he can fall back on his hens for material. I've waded through thousands of words about Whoozit's Leghorns and Thingumbob's sick Sussex.

Though we have raised New Hampshires for years, I've always tried to fence them out of my column, hoping to confine egg-laying to the henhouse. Since hearing someone comment that any gossip old hen could do a better column than Rusticus, I've decided that it's no use being too fussy, and hereby throw all barriers down.

It's risky, though. This is a decent family newspaper, and chickens nearly always provoke me to violent thoughts and language.

They are so darned ornery. We keep laying hens in one half of our henhouse, young chickens which we raise for meat in the other half, and naturally we entrench different feeds in the two parts of the building. Invariably, however, the old hens gobble up their ration of whole wheat as soon as they can and sneak into the chickens' section to chase the young fry out and wade into their cracked wheat and crumbles.

If we slip out soon after feeding, there we find the wretches, crops swollen, beaks stuffed so full they are glassy-eyed and gagging. No matter how often we chase them out, repentant their squawks and cacklings may sound, fifteen minutes later they are in again, red-faced and gorging.

Unless, that is, they head for the garden instead. Somehow they seem to know by instinct just where seeds have been planted, or when our first radishes and lettuce are just bulging the surface, and we go out for a hopeful survey of our little plot to find all six of our hens scratching away in the very thickest part of the best rows.

We chase them, of course, hurling hats and sticks and rakes and garden tractors at them, but hens have a great advantage running over an orchard full of grass and irrigation ditches. We usually end sprawling full length, while the hens flutter away cackling with laughter. When we urge the dog to help us, he gets so excited — a reflection of our own apologetic calm, perhaps? — that he runs barking at us instead, and once chased me right into the henhouse. In fact, he was so convincing that he had me climbing up on the roost before I realized who I really was.

Chickens are like that in everything. The hungrier they are the more they will peck at the hand that feeds them. The thirstier they are the more frantically they try to upset their water dish as soon as you have filled it; particularly if you are wearing low slippers or dress shoes and there is any way of spilling the water over them.

And did you ever have your chickens locked out of the henhouse accidentally, and try to herd them in at night? You never saw such frenzied runs into the darkness completely away from the building, while you chasing them crash full speed into trees, and step heavily into irrigation ditches full of water. Words fail me to do justice to the situation.

It's almost a pleasure when the day comes for execution; but even in its dying moments a chicken does not fail to be provoking. Rare is the bird that does not move its head just when the axe is swinging down, thus making a messy job of its decapitation; or spatter you with gore after its head is off; or cling tightest to its feathers when you have the least time to get it plucked and ready for the locker before closing time.

No, I'm afraid I can never love chickens. There's nothing warm or affectionate about birds, as there is about mammals: cats, dogs, horses, cows, even pigs, are much friendlier. Chickens are cold, calculating, perverse, unpredictable, greedy, sneaky, annoying.

Live chickens, that is. But dead chicken! Roasted till the skin is a rich brown and the tender meat ready to fall off the bones, with plenty of stuffing and good brown gravy—ah! And what is morning bacon without eggs?

Guess we'll keep on raising chickens.

Pioneer Days

From Early Files of The Review

Vernon News, May 1903

More than 250 took in the excursion to Summerland on the Str. Aberdeen on May 25. The trip was voted a great success, and was arranged by the fire brigade.

Thirty Years Ago — June 7, 1923

Editor Walker of the Okanagan Commoner, Enderby, was full of confidence in the fruit industry of the Okanagan, basing much of his favorable opinion and optimism on statements of Manager A. M. Pratt of the Associated Growers. He suggested that a quarter of a century hence the population would be three times that of the day which was then at 30,000 approximately.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. White had left to attend the annual meeting of the B.C. and Yukon Press Association, members of which were meeting with the Alberta Press Association at Jasper Park. They were all to be the guests of the Alberta Association and the Canadian National Railway.

Officers of the WCTU at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. James Ritchie were as follows: President, Mrs. Charles Mitchell; vice-presidents, Mrs. Chisholm, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Ritchie; secretary, Mrs. Whiteford; treasurer, Miss McCurdy; librarian, Mrs. Rand; lookout committee, Mrs. Campbell. Alan Agur sold his entire herd, 11 head, of pure bred Holsteins to the Tranquille Sanatorium, Tranquille, B.C.

Miss May Harrison entertained at a delightful surprise party in honor of Miss Betty Barnes who was home on vacation from Vancouver General hospital where she was a nurse-in-training.

Twenty-Five Years Ago — June 1, 1928

A. W. Miller of Peachland passed away. He was one of the earliest pioneers having lived there since the start of the town.

A surprise party was given to Mrs. C. A. Walters at her home in Peach Orchard on the occasion of her seventieth birthday.

E. S. Archibald, director of dominion experimental stations visited the experimental station here.

Summerland poultrymen were pleased to learn that the department of agriculture had announced that the term ROP, meaning Record of Performance, had been copyrighted by the dominion live stock branch from which office the policy was administered. The purpose was to prevent the fraudulent use of the term in advertising.

A black hawk was shot here which had a wing spread of five and a half feet.

High winds washed under the piles at the CPR wharf and gouged out several holes in the road that approaches the structure. Water was within a foot of the surface of the planking. The floor was lifted off the piles at the CNR wharf and the freight shed given a severe twisting.

The annual Guide rally was held in the Summerland tourist camp and attended by Guides from Naramata, Summerland and Penticton. Mrs. Midgley, divisional commissioner took the salute. Margaret Nuttall of Naramata gave an exhibition of club swinging.

Dangerous Pranks . . . consequences can be serious

THIS week the municipal council heard reports of vandals throwing objects into the irrigation ditches and flumes. This is a very serious matter—probably much more serious than it would appear on the surface because of the possible consequences of such acts.

Some of the objects mentioned as having been removed from flumes in recent weeks were heavy timbers and boulders. The weight of these objects being carried along in a flume by the force of water can easily rip off the reinforcing straps across the top of a flume and the structure can stand the loss of only a few of these supports before it collapses. If a flume should give at night at a time when no one was aware of the accident, damage to property could run to a pretty high figure — not to mention the danger to life.

It was estimated by the water department superintendent for a flume to go out at some places in the district, the damage would amount to $10,000 in about 10 minutes. That makes throwing for-

New Era Opening . . . may history repeat itself

NEXT Tuesday eyes of the world will focus on London and proud England whose favors in recent years have been all-favored will know one of its finest hours.

Here in Canada we are happy to be sharing in the pride which is being felt throughout the still vast British commonwealth of nations because Elizabeth II is being crowned Queen of Canada. She is Canada's queen just as she is England's queen.

In a period when monarchies have been rapidly disappearing, the world interest in the coronation next week and the pride of the British people bear testimony to the fact that the position of our own royal family grows stronger.

Worthwhile Effort . . . co-operative for culture

WITH co-operatives becoming more and more a part of business lives, it is only natural that people should turn to the principle of co-operatives to help satisfy their cultural tastes. That is essentially what is being done by the group active in the formation of the South Okanagan Community Concert Association. The concert association basically is a co-operative in the fullest sense of the word.

In an area such as this, few promoters are prepared to take the chances involved in bringing in outstanding artists and when they do, the cost is necessarily high because of the risk involved. By overcoming the element of risk, the concert association greatly reduces the cost of admissions and can present regular performances.

The association operates by first enrolling paid-up membership before engaging any performers and then goes ahead and arranges for artists within the budget they have available.

Community Concert Associations have been operating across Canada for more than a quarter of a century and members, particularly of groups in districts such as this have had the pleasure of hearing and seeing many outstanding artists which otherwise they have been able to hear without travelling great distance to a metropolitan center.

Another factor in cutting costs is the fact that the performers accept bookings with community concert associations at a figure lower than that charged for regular performances.

Any group that helps raise the cultural standards of a community is performing an important task and we wish the South Okanagan concert

Mid-Week Message

Others, mocking said, These men are full of new wine. But Peter . . . said unto them . . . But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel (Acts 2:13, 14, 16.) Read Acts 2:36-42.

More causes have been defeated by satire and laughter than by serious argument. Their use on the day of Pentecost might have succeeded had not one man had the courage to take his stand for Jesus. Peter, who a few weeks before had denied his Lord—no, not the same Peter, but one who had met his forgiving Lord—had avowed his love for the risen Christ and received "power to become."

The president of a Japanese university was ordered to discontinue religious instruction and chapel in the university. He did. Then word came that all mention of Christianity was to be omitted. In all good conscience the president could not obey this demand. He prayed about it, put his affairs in order, said farewell to his family, and went to Tokyo expecting death or imprisonment. But his witness so impressed those in authority that he was released. God honors in astonishing ways those who take their stand for the Christ.

PRAYER

Almighty Father, we thank Thee that when in the course of the day we meet situations which are beyond our strength, Thou art our strength. Sustain us in our stand for Christ that our witness may win others for our Lord. In His name. Amen.

Alternative Voting

"Despite some uninformed criticism of the alternative voting system, the one-two-three transferable ballot," says Ralph Pybus, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, "provides the best means of ensuring that the will of the people, riding by riding, is best translated into election results."

In an informative pamphlet of questions and answers distributed as a public service, the board discusses some of the controversial points most commonly raised by people on the new voting system.

These are some of the questions most frequently asked and the board's answers:

Q. The Voting System in Federal Elections works fine, why change it here?

A. Does it work fine? Today in the Federal House, there are 121 members—that is to say 45%—who were elected in 1949 with less than 50% of the votes cast. This was, of course, the result of having two or more opponents in these ridings. We may be represented by a large number of men who do not have a real mandate from the people. To carry this system through to logical absurdity, take the example if ten candidates were running for office. Suppose that the candidate who got the largest number of votes obtained 15% of the total. Under the old system he would be elected. There might be 85% of the voting public in that riding opposed to his election. There might be a compromise candidate among the other candidates eminently acceptable to the large majority of voters. Under the old voting system of divide and conquer there is no flexibility.

Q. Wasn't the Alternative Vote introduced as a trick to prevent the CCF from rightfully gaining power?

A. The alternative or transferable voting system is designed to increase the chance for majority wishes to prevail within any given constituency, when more than two parties are in the field. It is, therefore, not a "trick" but a wholly fair and logical method of serving the objectives of Democracy. There is no doubt that the CCF would have formed the Government in B.C. in 1952 had the old voting system been in force. Would you say 30% of the votes cast is a majority? That's what the CCF had, 70% of the voters chose Free Enterprise candidates—and over 60% of the seats were won by free enterprise members as a result.

Q. But this is a complicated system. Isn't there another way of curing the problem of a minority candidate winning power?

A. Well, you could hold another election if no one obtains more than 50% of the votes, eliminating the least popular candidate. If there are more than three candidates, re-elections might have to take place several times. This would be costly and a nuisance to the voter. Besides, there is no guarantee that any time would be saved. This re-election system has been tried in about sixteen countries at one time or another but has been abandoned by almost all. The alternative voting system can hardly be called complicated. Contrary to general opinion prior to the election, only a small number—some 5%—of votes were spoiled. One might wonder, of what value is a man's vote if he can't mark 1-2-3?

Q. Why wasn't so important a measure as a change in the voting system submitted to the people for approval?

A. Undoubtedly, less important issues have been referred to the people for an opinion as in the case of the sale of liquor by the glass and daylight saving time. What is generally not recognized is that these referenda are merely opinion polls and the government is not obligated to carry out the majority wishes so expressed. It remains the task of the legislators, within their constitutional powers to determine in their own minds what is best. If the voting public believes that a mistake has been made by its representatives, it has the power to rectify the situation at the voting polls. In this regard, it is significant that the only party which opposed the Alternative Vote dropped from 35% of the popular vote in 1945 to 30% in the first count in 1952. That is to say under the same counting as would have been in force had the old "X" system been used. Although a Liberal Government adopted it, the Secreds have always favored the Alternative Vote. In no way could the defeat of the old line parties be construed as rejection by the majority of voters of the Alternative Voting System.

Q. Won't my voting for second and third choices hurt the chances of my favorite candidate or party?

A. No, it is absolutely and mathematically impossible for your alternative choices to hurt your favor-

GRANVILLE ST. WEST SUMMERLAND

Sprays of dogwood and lilac made an attractive setting for the annual mother and daughter banquet and indeed presented a pleasing picture on the evening of Wednesday last, May 20. The tables were tastefully decorated with vases of tulips, bridal wreath and lily of the valley.

Opening with the Doxology and following the banquet itself the chairman, Mrs. A. Dunsdon, called upon Guide Nan Solly, who proposed a toast to mothers and this was replied to by Mrs. H. Dunsdon. Mrs. J. Raincock made an interesting toast to Guiding and Brownie Louise Shannon responded.

The divisional commissioner, Mrs. Titchmarsh was then introduced and gave an illuminating talk on loyalty and reliability. Mr. Jack Dunsdon of the Kiwanis who sponsored Guiding, presented Barbara Baker, Patrol Leader of the Lily of the Valley Patrol with a cheque. This gift will enable each Guide of this patrol to receive the Canadian Girl Guide magazine each month for one year. The Lily of the Valley patrol received this prize for collecting the highest number of All Sweet margarine box ends.

Guests at the head table were then introduced including Reeve

Bentley, Mrs. J. E. O'Mahoney, Mrs. H. Sharran, Mrs. F. V. Harrison, Mrs. C. Elsey, president Women's Institute, Mrs. J. Dunsdon, president Rebekahs, Mrs. A. Johnson, president Legion Ladies, Mrs. K. McIntosh, Mrs. M. D. Proverbs and Guiders of the Ranger, Brownie and Guide organization.

During the evening Reeve Bentley delivered a personal message from the governor general, complimenting Rangers, Guides and Brownies on their outstanding representation at the parade held on the Memorial Park Playground. Entertainment for the evening was supplied by the Brownie Packs, Guide Company and Ranger Company, which appeared to be enjoyed by everyone.

The banquet was convened by Mrs. Les Rumball and Mrs. C. Campbell and table decoration was carried out by Mrs. F. E. Atkinson and Mrs. W. Durick. Mrs. W. Powell, Mrs. M. Henker and Mrs. B. I. Cornish were on the special committee assisting the convenors, and Mrs. C. Adams and Mrs. W. Birtles were in charge of making the salads for approximately 215 guests.

Warmest thanks are extended to the Legion Ladies, who ably carried out their duties of serviteurs,

Plan of Co-operation

Government Car Insurance Program Would Follow Election of CCF Party

The CCF is grateful to the Summerland Review for the opportunity of placing a resume of its program before the voters of the South Okanagan.

The formation of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation arose out of the economic necessity in the '30s. Groups of people already working in several co-operative organizations, saw a vision of co-operation on a wider level and banded together to organize what is now commonly called the CCF.

The CCF program is simply a plan of co-operation based on the Christian principle of the Brotherhood of man. Its program is so shaped as to afford a democratic and practical application of that principle. The electors support of this program on June 9 will be the first step towards the election of a government which will administer our province for the greatest good to the greatest number.

The CCF in the South Okanagan has no intention of spending time telling you what is wrong with some other party. We are placing our platform before you and asking that you study that platform. Compare the CCF platform with that of others and then vote on June 9 in such a way that you can honestly say to yourself you have discharged your duty as a citizen in a democratic country, by voting for a government which will place the welfare and dignity of human beings above the selfish interests of private gains.

There is little need to reiterate the program of the CCF for it has been consistently the same, election after election. Perhaps a brief resume of some of the first legislation which a CCF government will introduce, would be interesting.

We believe in the inherent right of every child to have the opportunity for a basic standard of education to the limit of his ability and desire. If the Rolston formula had been adopted, there would have been as many different standards of education in the province as there are school districts, depending upon the economic conditions of the district. The CCF maintains that a system which permits such inequalities is not what the people of British Columbia want for their children.

The CCF educational policy includes the following specific principles: (a) Reduction of the burden of school tax on your land. (b) Increased government grants to school districts. (c) Guarantee the highest possible standard of education for your children.

Other necessary educational activities such as pre-school training, correspondence courses, Pro-Rec, etc., will be expanded.

The CCF believes the health of the people to be just as important as education. They insist that the hospital insurance plan must be transformed into a genuine service for the people. A CCF government will reduce hospital premiums to $21 for a single person and $33 for a family. They will abolish $1-a day co-insurance and exempt low income groups from premiums.

A prosperous farming industry is absolutely necessary if we are to have a sound economy. The aim of the CCF agriculture program is to protect the farmer against insecurity; fluctuations in income and low returns, and to provide an ample supply of good quality foods for society at reasonable prices. A CCF government will consult with B.C. Federation of Agriculture, Farmers' Institutes and other commodity groups to assist them with their special problems in agriculture. A minister of co-operatives will be appointed to assist and encourage the formation of producer and consumer co-operatives in order that the farmer may produce, purchase and market co-operatively.

A CCF government will institute a car insurance plan which will provide coverage at cost. The plan will provide compensation to motorists; to passengers and pedestrians; to all dependents of those injured or killed; and to those whose vehicles are damaged in accidents. Victims of car accidents will be compensated regardless of the factor of responsibility. Labor:

The CCF policy on labor is to have the fullest consultation and co-operation with organized labor, with the objective of insuring the workers the best possible working conditions and living standards. To this end, a CCF government will revise the I.C.A. Act, bring the Workmen's Compensation Act up to date, and establish the forty-hour week with two-weeks' annual holiday and all statutory holidays with pay.

A CCF government will remove sales tax from all meals, children's clothing; drugs; and supplies for use in hospitals and provincial institutions.

This is, very briefly, the CCF first term program for British Columbia. The voters of the South Okanagan are invited to attend our meetings or visit our committee rooms and ask questions on the CCF program planned, within the financial and jurisdictional ability of a province, to provide opportunity and security for the people of British Columbia.

Will Ask Increase To Assist Hospital

Members of Summerland Hospital board Tuesday night toured the grounds and building to examine repair work and alterations required and estimated a total of close to $4,000 needed to cover the immediate needs.

Some of the work projected for the building will provide more efficient quarters for the office staff by having offices near the entrance, would add an additional bed to the capacity and provide a dressing room for the medical staff.

Authority was granted for the provision of added lavatory facilities immediately.

The board will ask for a meeting with the municipal council to discuss the possibility of a quarter-mill being added to the tax rate to provide the hospital with an annual grant of about $700 which could be used for capital expenditures. On capital expenditures, only one-third need be provided by the community, the remaining two-thirds being made up with provincial and federal grants.

More Contributions For Students' Fund

Further donations to the Summerland junior-senior high school piano fund which is being sponsored by the student's council, have been received and are as follows:

Mrs. S. Blazeko, Ken Boothe, Mrs. John Fryer (nee Nellie Temple), England; H. R. Daniels, Trail; Allan Elsey, Bella Coola; Jim Birtles, Wimbome, Alta.; Carroll Brawner, Winnipeg, Man.; Mrs. Frank Turner, Kamloops; Ruth Nakamura, Vancouver; Anne Glazer, Chilliwack; Anna L. Grant, San Jose, Calif.; Marjorie Mott, Ladner.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

1st Summerland Troop

From all reports we had a grand over-night camp last week-end on the west side of Garnet Valley dam. Very few fish were caught but all 17 boys tried their best.

Many thanks to Mr. Alex Watt, of our group committee who attended camp with us. Our thanks also go out to Mr. Bob Barkwill who supplied transportation to camp and the parents who came into camp to fetch the boys home.

Don't forget the Scout parade on June 2, Coronation day at 2:15 at the Memorial Park. All boys will parade in uniform similar to the last parade. Be sure to be on time, which means early.

There will be no regular meeting next week on account of the parade.—D.M.M.

Orange Lodge Juniors Hold Successful Tea

The Junior Girls of the Orange Lodge held a successful tea in the IOOF hall on Saturday afternoon, May 16. This was the first time the girls have held a tea, and they planned and carried out a great deal of the work themselves, as well as making things for the sale of fancy work, home cooking, and candy, which was part of the afternoon. Donations of various items were received with gratitude from the senior lodge. The president of the organization is Miss Louise Walton, and the treasurer, who was at the door to collect the tea money, is Miss Joyce Harbicht.

Burn's Lake Pastor On Brief Visit Here

Rev. and Mrs. Roy Moffatt and their two children visited at the home of Mrs. Moffatt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bloomfield during last week-end. They are leaving for Burns' Lake shortly where Mr. Moffatt will open up work for the Pentecostal Assembly. While here the Moffatts visited Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Bloomfield as well as other old friends.

VISITING HERE

Mrs. I. Ready left for her home in Victoria today after a two-week visit at the home of Mrs. J. Mel-lor.
Mrs. Margaret Eady and Miss Elizabeth Heeney, of Edmonton, have been visiting for ten days at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. E. M. Hookham.
Mrs. E. Cafferkey, and her three children of Vancouver are visiting for about two weeks at the home of Mrs. Cafferkey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Henry.
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Winter of Victoria, B.C., who have spent the past six months in Hazelton visited for a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mair. Other guests recently at the Mair home were Miss Mary Grierson of Vancouver who was accompanied by Miss Catherwood of Mission.
Mr. and Mrs. Philip Robinson of Nelson, B.C., visited recently with Mrs. C. M. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Walden.

NEW ARRIVALS

At Summerland General hospital on Monday, May 25, a son was born to Lieut. and Mrs. R. F. Penny.

Tells of Vernon Presbytery Meet

When the Women's Federation of St. Andrew's church met at their regular meeting on Thursday afternoon, May 21, in St. Andrew's hall, Mrs. E. MacClement was leader of the devotional period, with her topic "United Nations and Christian Missions".
Mrs. J. W. Clark led in prayer, and the president, Mrs. R. S. Chapman was in the chair.
Mrs. H. R. Whitmore sang a delightful solo, "Thanks Be To God".
Mrs. Bancroft and Mrs. Chapman, delegates to the WA presby-terial meeting held recently in Ver-non, gave interesting reports of the meetings there.
A stimulating quiz was conducted by Mrs. S. A. MacDonald and Mrs. W. F. Ward, and Mrs. W. W. Hemingway presented a beautifully decorated cake to Mrs. Whitmore, who is leaving Summerland at the end of June to live at Port Alberni where Mr. Whitmore will be in charge of the United church.

VISITING ABROAD

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Dodwell motored to the coast this week for a holiday there.
Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge left yesterday morning for Pullman, Wash., to attend the wedding of her brother.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Angus were among those who were at the coast during the Queen's birthday week-end.
Mrs. W. L. McPherson left this week for Calgary to visit at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dickie.
Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Powell have been visiting at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnston at Mission, B.C.
Mrs. Harold Short and Mrs. A. Johnston left on Friday to attend the Legion Auxiliary convention at Harrison Hot Springs, and returned yesterday evening.

HOME AGAIN

Mrs. R. A. Johnston who arrived from Winnipeg last week is being welcomed home where she plans to stay until the end of September. Mr. Johnston will come for his holidays during the summer.

At the meeting the Federation entertained members of the Service Club and during the afternoon, Mrs. Chapman presented shower parcels to the Service Club. This is an annual custom when materials are given for making up into articles to be sold at the fall bazaar.
Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. W. Clark, Mrs. W. F. Grant, and Mrs. A. C. Fleming.

Junior WA Entry Makes Fine Showing

The Junior WA of St. Stephen's church attended the South Okanagan Festival of Junior WA's held at Penticton in St. Saviour's church and parish hall on Saturday afternoon, May 23, and did well in the various entries.
The Summerland girls tied with Kelowna in total points, coming first in drama, first in scrapbook, second in singing, and second with their quilt.
Mrs. F. E. Weeks is leader of the group and is assisted by Miss Anne Solly.
Mrs. J. Y. Towgood directed the drama entry with a play which she, herself, wrote.
Mrs. Alex Watt trained the girls in singing.
Members are Sheila Allen, Vicki Cuthbert, Dorothy and Marion Dunsdon, Lorna Kampe, Ann Macleod, Nan and Jane Solly, Anne and Wendy Wright, Eileen Marsh, Barbara Beaven, and Rosalie and Louella Young.

Local Members Attend Vernon LOBA Meet

Tuesday morning, May 19, six members of the Summerland LOBA left to attend the 31st annual provincial grand lodge session held in Vernon, May 18-21.
Mrs. F. Carston, worthy mistress was delegate; Mrs. W. C. McCutcheon, soloist; Mrs. W. J. Broderick, guardian of the local JOA, and Mrs. G. Kennedy, Mrs. W. Dodman and Mrs. R. Gibbard as escorts for the grand lodge officers. Mrs. Carston and Mrs. Broderick also assisted as escorts.
During the session an LOBA lodge was instituted at Vernon, with the Kamloops' ladies exemplifying the Orange degree and grand lodge officers conferring the scarlet.
One of the prizes of the raffle came to Mrs. Frank Dickinson, who attended on Thursday.

Heritage of Achievement...

Believes Political Field Natural Outlet for Talents of Homemaker

By Mrs. E. C. Weddell
 Progressive Conservative Candidate

It would seem appropriate at this time for me to explain briefly, why I consider it an honor and privilege to have been asked to run as the Progressive Conservative candidate, for this constituency in support of Mr. Deane Finlayson.

In the first place I think it is high time women made politics their first and foremost extra-curricular activity. Mrs. Asquith levelled a broadside at us en masse a few weeks ago, and few of our sex relished the picture she painted. I don't agree with her that women are dumber than ever before, but how tragic that we have given that impression to even one person.

In my opinion women today are more able to take their place in public affairs than ever before in history. We have a keener appreciation of social legislation than men I think, because our whole lives, as wives and mothers train us along those lines instinctively. Also as women are 52 per cent of the voting power in Canada, I believe it is the duty of women to accept public responsibility when and if they are needed.

All wives and mothers know only too well what a hard and arduous task it is to bring up a family, and what versatility it takes. Also what practical experience one gains day after day in economics, psychology, education, nursing and management because without all these, women couldn't run a home. We have to become adaptable and to learn to use every minute to advantage. Then after all the years of training we find ourselves with more time on our hands than ever before and life stretching out ahead of us. At this stage one takes stock, and we either sit back and live on memories or we plan a new life of continued duty and service. That is why I think older women especially, should accept their responsibility, and take their place in public life and in politics when needed. Women fit well into this picture too, especially economically, because after all who is it that is custodian of the credit, and the pay envelope, in the average home. It is the wife. The husband has to work desperately hard to make that pay cheque, but the wife has to work just as hard, to make one dollar go as far as two, and we usually succeed. If we can learn to do this in our own homes, then we most certainly can and will learn to handle public affairs with the same meticulous care.

Secondly I am proud indeed of the fact, that I have the honor of representing the Progressive Conservative party. After the last Provincial election, and I had recovered my breath from the blow of the returns, I began to think more seriously than ever before, about being a Conservative. In fact I wondered if perhaps I voted that way from pig headedness and not conviction, so I decided to examine the party, its platform, also its place in British Columbia and the affairs of Canadians old and new. What I learned made me prouder than I have ever been, to vote Conservative.

At a later date and in detail I hope to have the opportunity of laying all this before you and I miss my guess, if it doesn't stir you to your roots.

We have a great heritage of achievement in the Conservative party in British Columbia, which we all too casually take for granted. Yet it is a romance and an epic laid out before us, the characters of which, lived with such diligence and courage, and died so bravely that we might inherit it all. We dare not and must not lose this heritage. In these few words, I hope I have been able to give you some idea of why I come before you, asking your support in sending a Progressive Conservative member, to represent South Okanagan once again in Victoria.

YOUR CHEQUE IS A DOUBLE-CHECK

Every time you pay a bill through a Bank of Montreal chequing account, you begin an "automatic" double-check on the expenditure. Many B of M customers, finding the cost of living too high for comfort, think this assistance in spotting financial leaks is the best feature of paying by cheque.

The first check-up is a "before". Each transaction comes up for a last-minute review, as a matter of course, when you are making out the cheque for it. The second check-up is an "after". The filled-in stubs in your cheque-book, as well as the statements which the B of M provides you with once a month, also help you to re-examine your spending.

Paying bills by cheque is safer and more convenient than doing it by cash. Every cheque you send off comes back to you with proof positive that payment has not only been made but accepted. And the postman makes the round of your creditors for you when you mail your cheques.

Ivor Holly, manager of the B of M's West Summerland branch, invites you to open your own chequing account. Drop into the branch tomorrow. You'll find, as tens of thousands of B of M customers have found, that a chequing account is a time-saver, a foot-saver, and—through its "automatic" double-check—a money-saver, too. —Adv.

Offers Only One Election Promise -- 'We Will Give You Good Government'

Statement by Premier W. A. C. Bennett Social Credit Candidate

Thank you for the opportunity of allowing me to make a statement in your newspaper, because I feel as your premier that there are some things which should be said at this time.

In this election four parties are seeking support and I do not deny that in all the parties, there are many good men and women. It is clear that the 229 candidates cannot all be elected as there are only 48 vacancies. If all the parties elected some of their members then no one party would have a working majority, a majority that is so necessary if your system of responsible government is to work properly.

One year ago the electors of B.C. elected more Social Credit members than any other party and on Aug. 1 the Lieutenant-Governor called on me, the leader of the Social Credit movement to form a government. I accepted the difficult task with only 19 members out of a total 48, and this is the first time a minority government has operated in our province. Your Social Credit government has carried out many reforms such as—abolish the patronage—waste and extravagance—secret orders-in-council—and saved the people of the province many millions of dollars and at the same time is carrying out the largest highway and public works' program in the history of the province without borrowing.

We have now reduced the net debt by a total of over $33 million whereas the old government stated, just one year ago, that they would have borrowed $28 million for this year.

It has, therefore, been proved that the Social Credit government has the best interests of the people at heart and has the men and women in their organization well-qualified to give you good government.

The last session of the legislature proved the Social Credit government needed a working majority if it is to continue to carry out its constructive program, because without a working majority the combined opposition could talk weeks, and in fact they talked for eight weeks at the last session in the legislature and only allowed one bill to pass before they combined to defeat your minority government.

It is clear that it is in the best interests of all the people in our province that we elect a party with an overall majority.

In the Maclean's magazine of the current issue, June 1, a recognized outstanding political writer states as follows: "Social Credit has one clear advantage—the average broker's desire is a stable government—no one, not even the Liberals and Conservatives, themselves will go so far as to predict a Liberal or Conservative majority."

Therefore, the only non-socialist government with any hope of majority is the present Social Credit government.

Many large, and several small industries are awaiting the outcome of this election.

If the Social Credit government has a good working majority new industries will be commenced with increased payrolls and benefit to all.

It is clear that only the Social Credit has a chance to secure a majority government and that this is the time for clear thinking. British Columbia is at the crossroads—a majority government is vital, only Social Credit can elect a majority government.

This is a time when everyone should rise above party politics—the issue is clear—it is the Social Credit or chaos. I make you only one promise—if you vote "Social Credit" we will give you a good government.

MORE ABOUT PIONEER DAYS

Five Years Ago — May 27, 1948
The annual spring fair held in the Occidental Fruit Co. building was a great success as 3000 thronged to see exhibits at the two-day event.

Municipal council decided to buy an Allis-Chalmers AD3 road maintainer at a net price of $10,050. Cost of the new grader was $14,550, fob, Vancouver, offset by an offer of $4,500 as trade-in on the old grader.

Trout Creek was rising rapidly, and water was touching the underparts of the bridge across the highway, and starting to threaten to engulf the bridge to the experimental station. All available assistance was requested to keep the temporary dykes intact.

Miss Edith Joyce Pohlmann became the bride of Ronald Leslie Keeley in St. Andrew's church on Friday, May 21.

The agricultural committee of the board of trade headed by A. W. Watt, district horticulturalist, reported that the committee felt that the location and soil type of Paradise Flat was not suitable for general tree fruit culture, and in view of its past history and unsuitability no further action be taken on the matter.

For 60 days trial Greyhound buses were to be allowed to park parallel on Granville St., and a section of the roadway 75 feet in length was set aside for the purpose.

REVIEW CLASSIFIED ADS BRING RESULTS

Final Rites Here For Former Resident

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday afternoon, May 19, at 1:30 o'clock in St. Stephen's church, by Canon F. V. Harrison, for Mrs. Harold Smith, who died in hospital in Victoria following an illness of some length.

The late Mrs. Smith, who lived here for many years, until the retirement of Mr. Smith from his position at the Experimental Station in December of last year, was well-known in Summerland, where she had many friends.

She is survived by her husband, and one daughter, Mrs. Fred Bleasdale of Victoria.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Fred Bleasdale were here from Victoria and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Smith from Revelstoke.

Pal-bearers were W. May, N. May, George Ryman, Dr. J. C. Wilcox, D. Strachan and A. van Driel, and interment was in the Anglican cemetery, Giant's Head Road.

The book closes on a 41-year flying career and Londoners held their collective breaths as 61-year-old Christopher Draper, the "Mad Major" of Britain's World War I aerial fleet, zoomed his light plane under most of London bridges. In a spectacular farewell gesture to flight, he zoomed under 15 Thames spans, sped dangerously low between old buildings in the heart of London and brought residents tumbling in awe from their homes to watch his 90-minute bid to "get off the dole." Above, reporters surround the major for the inevitable interview after his "swan song" flight.

Crowning of Queen on June 2 Ancient, Colorful Ceremony

On Coronation Day, June 2, in London, the heart of the Commonwealth and Empire, our beautiful, likeable Queen, escorted by a glittering cavalcade, will drive in the famous gold-painted state coach from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey, where, amidst scenes of dazzling splendor, she will be crowned Queen of Britain, Canada, and her other realms the world over.

London's streets will be gaily decorated with banners, canopies, and gilt crowns, the "crack" horse and foot guards with their resplendent uniforms will add additional color to the magnificent scene, and at least two million people of many races will line both sides of the processional route.

Moreover, many American and other overseas visitors who have paid "fat" prices for grandstand seats (almost a storey high) in picturesque spots between fashionable houses and other buildings, plus hundreds of people from heavily-rented upstairs' windows, will also witness the gorgeous time-honored pageantry.

On reaching the Abbey, wearing the crimson Robes of State, the Queen will be received by the Dean of Westminster (Dr. Don), the Archbishop of Canterbury (Dr. Fisher) and other dignitaries. She will be escorted to the center of the Abbey behind the altar of which is the Chapel of St. Edward, the revered founder of the ancient church.

Her Majesty will then sit on the Recognition Chair while the primate asks, in turn, all sections of the vast congregation (which virtually "surround" the sanctuary) if they acknowledged Elizabeth as their true Queen and ruler. All loudly do so in the customary words.

Afterwards, Elizabeth proceeds to St. Edward's Chapel where she changes into a gown of linen trimmed with lace over which she puts the cloth-of-gold Coronation robe, the super tunic. This action occurs at the end of the first and simpler part of the ceremony when she takes the oath, makes the declaration, and signs the same.

In the former, she solemnly promises to observe the laws and customs of the realm or rather realms, while in the latter she undertakes to be a faithful "Protestant" who will uphold the Established Church of England.

For the second part of the Coronation Service, the Queen, dressed as stated, and bareheaded, takes her place at St. Edward's Chair (containing the formerly-stolen Stone of Scone) where she is invested and crowned.

Her Majesty will kneel for the anointing of herself by the Archbishop of Canterbury with consecrated olive oil poured from the beak of the "Golden Eagle" into the heavily-gilded silver anointing spoon. Her Majesty's head, hands and (possibly) breast will be anointed. (As in the case of the youthful Queen Victoria the breast may be omitted from motives of delicacy.) After the anointing, when the Queen resumes her seat, the golden spurs and jeweled sword—emblems of knightly honor—are brought to her after which she is invested with the two remaining Coronation vestments by the Dean of Westminster.

These garments are the Armilla, a stole of embroidered cloth of gold, and the heavy Coronation robe of stiff cloth of gold, embroidered always with eagles, as laid down in the famous book of rules of 1350, with the fleur de lys for the lost kingdom of France and crowns and stylised in roses, thistles and shamrocks for England, Scotland, and Ireland.

When it is buckled across the throat by the Lord Great Chamberlain the Queen's investment in robes is complete. Now follows the intricate ritual of receiving the insignia, namely, the orb, the "wedding ring of England," the glove for the right hand, the sceptre with the cross, and a second, slim sceptre topped with a white enamel dove with wings outstretched.

Then follows the great moment of the Coronation service—the crowning.

The Archbishop lifts the crown high, places it upon the Queen's head, and declares, "At the sight whereof the people, with loud and repeated shouts, shall cry, 'God save the Queen'; the Peers and the Kings of Arms shall put on their coronets; the trumpets shall sound, and by a signal given, the great guns at the Tower shall be shot off.

With St. Edward's crown which weighs five pounds on her head, the Queen moves to the throne chair where she receives homage.

The first to kneel before her to kiss her hand, then her cheek and touch her crown will be her husband followed by the Archbishop of Canterbury and other distinguished people. After the homage, which may take up to an hour, the Queen celebrates Holy Communion at the altar, kneeling, and there, incidentally she removes the St. Edward's crown which she will never wear again. She also makes her offering (previously described) to the church.

Finally crowned with the silver Imperial Crown, weighing three pounds, she returns to the throne chair for a blessing and there the Coronation ceremony really ends. The entire service, which includes an address, usually by the Primate, lasts about three hours.

After the Benediction, Her Majesty goes to St. Edward's chapel where she changes into her purple velvet Imperial robes with the Imperial crown on her head, the sceptre with the cross in her right hand, and the orb in her left.

In such gorgeous array, accompanied by a brilliant train, the Queen leaves the Abbey, enters the historic coach, and drives home, by a longer route, to the sound of band music, the pealing of bells, and the deafening cheers of her loyal subjects.

He's changing the nation's landscape

You may see the result of what he is doing in the city's changing skyline—or out where the corn grows tall... in the mushrooming suburbs—or in the new look of Main Street in a mellow old town.

Where many a vacant lot once stood, he helps fill it with a fine new school. Where you used to see a building that was an eyesore you may now see a new apartment house, store or post office that he played a role in providing.

Thanks in part to him, many houses rise here and there, or row on row, in community after community. New black ribbons of asphalt tie town to town. Somewhere, a new bridge is built.

New industrial plants, too, are sometimes the by-products of his helping hand. Perhaps one of them has provided you with a job. Who is he?

He represents all the millions of life insurance policyholders in Canada. And it's money from their premiums, which life insurance companies invest for them, that makes possible such improvements as these throughout the nation.

HOW EASTERN CANADA REJECTED THE SOCIALISTS

... and forged ahead industrially

There are 11,000,000 out of Canada's 15,000,000 people living in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes.

These Canadians elected only two Socialists to the Federal Parliament at the last election. Two seats out of a total of 190.

In Provincial Legislatures of the East there are 329 seats. Socialists today hold 4 of them.

Thus of 319 legislative seats, Federal and Provincial, the C.C.F. holds only 6.

GOING UP!

The Free Enterprise
Vote in B.C. Provincial Elections

In the last Provincial elections in Ontario, NOT A SINGLE SOCIALIST WAS ELECTED TO THE LEGISLATURE FROM THE HIGHLY INDUSTRIALIZED CITIES OF TORONTO, HAMILTON AND WINDSOR.

For British Columbia. It is worth noting that the East is experiencing the greatest boom in its history—it is getting the kind of investment capital that spells progress.

vote's signature on it. Only then can the votes be counted and added to the totals of other votes. A three week period is considered necessary owing to the long distances to be covered and sometimes primitive transportation in out-of-the-way polls.

Normally, such absentee votes amount to about 3%, but they have gone as high as 14%. Therefore they can make a difference in a close race. And more particularly, it might make the difference with the alternative voting system between declaring a man elected with over 50% of the votes cast on first count, or going on to eliminate the low man, counting of second and third choices, etc.

On top of this delay, there were some recounts and recounts of recounts.

Certainly, the time element could be shortened considerably, but it won't happen this year. The same Act applies, and the government has not the power to alter the provisions.

Apart from abolishing the absentee vote altogether, the simplest way would be to allow the absentee voter to vote in the advance polls which are held some weeks beforehand. Advance polls, under present legislation, may only be used by persons who are going to be out of the Province on election day. With such an amendment, there is no real reason why the results could not be made known within a matter of days, at the outside.

The single alternative vote provides the best means of ensuring that the will of the people, riding by riding, is best translated into election results.

ALTERNATIVE VOTING

ite candidate's chances. This is not a system where first place gets so many points, second place so many and so on. Only first place choices are counted at the outset. If your candidate is at the bottom of the poll on that first count and no one has more than 50% of the votes cast, your candidate is eliminated. Then your alternative choice comes into the picture. Therefore, by only marking one choice you waste your ballot should your candidate be low man. Because after he is eliminated, your ballot is discarded. You may have a strong preference among the remaining candidates, but you have thrown away your chance of helping him.

Q. How possibly can a man in conscience vote for more than one candidate or party?

A. What you are suggesting, in effect, is that you are completely indifferent to what man or party gets in should your pet man fail to make the grade in popular support. This is not a reasonable argument. There is no compromise with conscience in voting for more than one party or candidate, you are merely saying, by your vote: "If my cherished beliefs or personal respect for one party or person cannot be realized, I am interested enough in public affairs to know that all is not black or white. There are other candidates, other parties, and among them there are gradations of ability and honesty. I am entitled to express my preferences amongst all of the candidates. That is the only way that the will of the majority can prevail in a vote where four or five parties are in contest."

Q. Why should we change the tried and true British tradition of voting?

A. A British Royal Commission on systems of election, after studying many types, favored the alternative voting system. To quote the 1910 report "When all due weight has been given to the objections, the alternative vote remains the best method of removing the most serious defect which a single member system can possess—the return of minority candidates, and accordingly, we recommend its adoption in single-member constituencies."

As the two party dominance in Great Britain has been a continuing one, there has been little need to bring in this system of voting.

Q. If the alternative vote is an improvement, why was it never introduced in the federal field?

A. The answer to this is that it has been introduced. A special committee of the House of Commons reported in 1921—"It must be apparent to all that the present system of election in single member ridings meets fully the purpose intended only when not more than two candidates are nominated."

In 1923, a resolution was passed by the federal house favoring the adoption of the alternative voting system, but a bill was not brought in until May 26, 1925. The late

Hon. Ernest Lapointe introduced a bill to make it law in federal elections, but it was not proceeded with. The more important constitutional crisis of Prime Minister Mackenzie King vs Governor General Byng made this electoral reform question fade into the background.

Q. Is it used anywhere else in the world?

A. Yes, Australia and New Zealand have it.

Q. Why should we be the first in Canada to experiment with it?

A. We are not the first. Alberta and Manitoba have used it for years in single member constituencies. Majority opinion in those provinces favors its continued use.

Q. If the alternative vote is so good, why did we have all the mess we did in B.C. last year?

A. It depends where you happen to be standing to obtain the view you get. If, for instance, you voted Liberal or Conservative, you could be disappointed not to have had your candidate returned to power. The fact is that from 61% of the popular vote, which old line parties together obtained in 1949, they dropped to 40% on the first count (same as old "X" system). The alternative vote cannot be blamed for such a loss of popular support. If you are a CCF-er and maintain you are democratic you have no complaint. On the first count you got 30% of the popular vote, not enough to justify control of the House. True, the Social Credit obtained less percentage, but they were strong in rural areas where the peculiarity of smaller numbers of voters gave them a slight edge in the seats. The distribution of second and third choices altered the picture only to ensure that riding by riding, where no candidate obtained 50% on the first count, the people were able to exercise their will and provide themselves with a preferred compromise candidate. The alternative vote could not be blamed for the minority government. We would have had one under the old system representing only 30% of the votes.

Q. We were all fed up with the delay in election results. Why did we have to wait so long for the results in 1952?

A. Even under the old Act, there was a three week period following the election, to allow time for absentee ballots to come in and be checked. We have a provision not found in other provinces where the alternative ballot is used. A voter who will be away from his home riding on election day but somewhere in B.C., may vote at any voting poll he happens to be near. A ballot with the names of his home riding candidates is used, and then sealed in an envelope, the outside cover of which carries the voter's signature. These envelopes are to be sent to be checked against the registration form which has the

Is British Columbia's Third Industry

You can ensure a fair profit for the farmer... better quality and lower prices for the consumer

YOUR VOTE FOR A LIBERAL GOVERNMENT ON ELECTION DAY, JUNE 9 WILL:

- Remove existing inequities in education costs on farm and ranch lands.
- Establish a vocational agricultural school.
- Establish a Veterinary College at U.B.C
- Institute adequate uniform grading for fruits and vegetables.

It is because the city and farm dwellers are so dependent upon each other that Agriculture holds such a prominent place in the Liberal Platform.

Win or Lose

By Jack Dunham.

It certainly looks as though softball is here to stay, for this year anyway.

The first test as to the local senior men's strength will be seen tonight at the Memorial Park Playground. Pentiction's B.C. Hotel team will provide the opposition. The southerners are known to have quite a powerhouse of a squad and should put on quite a show.

The backbone of every softball team is its pitcher. Without the services of a decent flinger a team is liable to find itself snowed under by eight or ten runs before the game is half over. It is for this reason that we hope manager Joe Bullock has a chucker lined up who has some hope of holding down a team like Pentiction.

It will be good to see the game making a comeback in Summerland. It has been many years since fastball has been witnessed in this community and seeing it again will certainly bring back memories.

During the war years the game was as organized as baseball is now, and it was in those days that Pentiction and Summerland were such deadly rivals. How many remember the days when Colin McKenzie and Bill Kennedy were the towns prize pitchers; when Rocky Biagioli and Russ "Butch" White cavorted around the infield along with Jack Beech out in centre field; when Keith Elliott shouted himself hoarse at fellows like Bill Benway and Curly Cox of Pentiction.

The remainder of the players on those teams are only a haze in this writer's mind as I was only a squirt in the "good old days" of fastball. If memory serves me correct, however, the other half of the team was usually made up of "young fellows" like George Taylor, Jack Amm, Don Rand, John Vanderburgh, and so on.

A twilight softball league was the vogue, back when, with about four teams in action: High School, Box Factory, Merchants and... ah well, it's a long time ago anyway.

Returning to 1953 once more, manager Bullock has released a tentative line-up for tonight's game. The positions are not being disclosed and to find out where each lad plays you will have to see the game.

Lineup follows: J. Bullock, Furuya, Anderson, Parrot, Schwab, B. Higgs, V. Higgs, S. Imayoshi, La Salle, Parker, P. Roberge, G. Faasse, R. Blewett. Game time 7:00 p.m., Memorial Park Playground, right next to the bandshell.

Macs Show Hitting Power

The Summerland Macs lost another one Sunday but in the process showed more power at the plate than all season. One particularly bright spot was Don Cristante's slugging. Don pounded out three hits in five times at the plate and we certainly hope he keeps it up.

The local lads managed five runs and in some games this would have been plenty. The Orioles from Kelowna didn't co-operate, however, and pushed around exactly twice as many tallies.

This home-and-home bout with Pentiction should be quite a series. When you read this, one game will have been played with the other on tap this Sunday. Les Edward's boys are not the team they were last year and the Macs could give the Peach city boys a big surprise.

No one feels as bad about losing games as the players themselves and no one will be happier than those same boys if they can start their winning ways with a victory over Pentiction.

Manager Joe Sheeley announced last week that some outside help was due in that of Roy Wakabayashi of Kelowna. Roy is a pitcher and should prove to be a tremendous asset to the teams mound staff, sadly in need of a top starter.

Although Frank Selke, Forum General Manager, left and Jean Beiveau didn't get down to talking hockey contracts in their recent meeting in Montreal, Frank subtly let "Gros Bill" have a look at the paper he would like to have him ink. The fellow who is considered the best piece of hockey talent outside the NHL fold, said he is interested in becoming a Canadian "if the terms are right".

Locals Still Winless

Sixth Inning Rally Gives Orioles 10-5 Victory Over Summerland Macs

A sixth-inning five-run spree by the Kelowna Orioles Sunday afternoon was largely responsible for keeping Summerland's record winless and for the sixth time found themselves on the low end of the tally. Final score was 10-5.

In the beginning it looked as though the Macs had at last shaken the jinx and they opened up with a pair of runs by Gould and Kato in the first frame. Les Coffey on the mound for the locals appeared to have things pretty well under control but in the third Morio Koga, Mits Koga and Favell toured the bases to push Kelowna into the lead.

In the sixth, Eyre moved in to replace Coffey and try to break up a rally which saw Lingor, Solloway and Welder cross the plate but before Eyre could settle down to work, Mits Koga and Favell had put notches on the board.

To add a final clincher, Tostenson and Campbell added another brace of runs in the eighth. The ninth saw Summerland open up again and Hooker and Gould, first two men up, made the circuit and then Taylor added one but the rally ended there.

Local Entrants Set New Records

Although finishing in last place among "B" class schools at the Okanagan Valley Track and Field meet in Vernon Saturday, Summerland entries showed marked improvement over last year and their total of 24½ points was their best effort to date. Some excellent juniors will move up to the local team and indications are the local entry will be able to give a very satisfactory account of itself when the next meet rolls around.

Shirley Burnell in the girls' discus—a new event—placed first in the intermediate division with a throw of 84' 11" and came second in the senior class with a throw 94' 8". She now holds the intermediate record. Her throw in the senior division was within eight inches of the winner.

In the 75-yard girls' dash, Pearl Hooker tied the record and won another first. She placed third in the 75 yard dash for girls 16 and under.

The Summerland entry in the girls' intermediate 300-yard relay placed third.

In the intermediate boys' pole vault, Barry Higgs placed second and in the broad jump came in fourth place. With no class for intermediate discus, Art Draper was entered in the senior event where the competition was too much for him. He took first place in the intermediate event at the AOTS track meet.

Summerland Entries Successful at Meet

In the South Okanagan elementary Track meet held in Oliver on May 9, local students gave a creditable account of themselves, taking seven firsts, four seconds and five thirds and set new records in three of the events.

The three new records by local students were all in broad jumping events. Roger Solly set a new distance of 14' 5" for boys 10 and under; Emille Bonthoux set the record for 11 year old girls at 13' 8" and Tillie Schramm set a record distance for 13 year old girls at 12' 8".

Other first place winners were Marilyn Embree in the 11 year old girls 50 yard dash; Jo Wilson in the 12 year old girls' dash; Vicki Cuthbert in the high jump for girls 10 and under and Emille Bonthoux in the 11 year old girls' high jump.

Taking seconds were the Summerland girls' team in the under 12 relay; Roger Solly in the high jump for boys under 10; Harold Derosier in high jump for 12 year old boys and Tillie Schramm in high jump for 13 year old girls.

Third place winners were Vicki Cuthbert in 10 year old girls' dash, Roger Solly for 10 year old boys' dash, Rosalie Hoffman for 13 year old girls' dash, Donna Butler in broad jump for girls under 10; and Dick Lelak in high jump for 13 year old boys.

Schools participating in the meet were Summerland, Oliver, Osoyoos, Carmi Road, Jermyn Avenue, Kermeos, Cawston, Hadley, Okanagan Falls and Kaledon.

Large Turnout at Weekly Rifle Shoot

The largest turnout at a weekly shoot in two years was on hand at the Garnet Valley range Sunday even though conditions were not exactly the best.

Results of last week's shoot are as follows:
J. Khalemback, Bill Young, 98; George Dunsdon, 97; H. Simpson, 96; Phil Dunsdon, Jill Sanborn, 95; Art Dunsdon, 94; Ted Dunsdon, Steve Dunsdon, 93; Fred Dunsdon, 92; Len Shannon, D. Taylor, Colin Mann, 91; Jim Burns (Pent.), 90; Ron Taylor (Pent.), 89; E. Desilets, George Stoll, A. Moyls, 87; Jack Dunsdon 83, Roy Desilets, 78; Doris Taylor (Pent.), 76; Pop Dunsdon, 74; George Stoll, Jr., 70.

It is interesting to note that exactly two years ago the same large number of marksmen were at the range. At that time Phil Lunsdon shot a 99, and visitors were also in evidence at that time. W. Louie, Ian Grant and W. Teeper were down for the weekly shoot.

Democracy or Dictatorship?

Only two of the party platforms being placed before the voters at this election were drawn up by party conventions . . . the Liberal and CCF.

At the B.C. Liberal Convention held last April at Vancouver (over 800 delegates paid their own way to the largest political convention ever held in B.C.) a committee of 50 delegates drew up a suggested party platform which was amended and adopted from the Convention floor.

The CCF platform was drawn up beforehand, and presented to their small convention of 200 delegates.

Neither the Social Credit nor Progressive Conservative parties even bothered to call conventions. Their platforms were drawn up by the party leaders, and never were presented for approval to ordinary party members — and Social Credit claims to be the "People's Movement", and to be "controlled from the grass roots up not the top down". The record shows who controls the Social Credit in B.C.—ONE MAN!

Premier Bennett wouldn't let even the elected Social members have their say in the Legislature. He wouldn't allow them to do what we the people elected them to do . . . to tell the Legislature of the important problems in the different ridings.

It is clear which party now is most democratic . . . The NEW LIBERAL PARTY under Arthur Laing. Be logical! Go Liberal! Restore responsibility and respect to Government in B.C. Vote Victor Wilson on June 9.

Orderly Marketing Necessary . . .

Stand Opposed to Proposed Taxes; Fears Undermining of School System

By Victor Wilson

Liberal Candidate

I am standing in this election because:

As a farmer, I believe in orderly marketing. The Social Credit Government appears opposed to our present form of marketing which has contributed so much to the prosperity of the Valley.

As a family man, I do not wish to see any tampering with Hospital Insurance or undermining of the school system.

As a farmer, I know that the whole community cannot prosper unless there is fair play to all sections, so I believe in keeping the politicians hands off the Labor Relations Boards.

My neighbors and I all feel that farming is too heavily taxed already so I am strongly opposed to the Rolston School Tax Formula, Bill 45 and the new Social Credit taxes on mining and forestry.

If elected, I will do my best to speak for the whole constituency. Above all, I will listen to you.
