

Record Fruit Shipments in District Last Week

Kids' Day Matinee Successful; 350 Tins Collected

Nearly 350 tins of canned food were collected by the local Kiwanis club at the National Kids' Day matinee held last Saturday in the Rialto Theatre in aid of the needy in this district.

Former Resident Dies in Dundee Scotland

Word has been received from Dundee, Scotland, of the recent death of Miss Anna Craig, a former resident of Summerland.

High Winds Take Heavy Orchard Toll

Heavy winds Sunday night and Monday took a toll on orchards with drop described as "fairly heavy" by a number of orchardists in the district.

Traffic Delayed By Slide on Road

A slide on the new road from Summerland to Penticton nearly blocked the road about two and a half miles from Penticton Friday morning when tons of earth tumbled down from the embankment and poured out across the road.

Plant Breeding Topic of Dr. Anstey At Horticultural Society Meeting

Critics of B.C. Tree Fruits operations had an answer from B.C. FGA Southern District Council Saturday afternoon when the council at the regular monthly meeting endorsed unanimously a resolution of the Northern Council expressing full confidence in the marketing agency.

Growers' Body Backs Resolution Of Confidence in Tree Fruits

The council heard a review of this year's shipments from Tree Fruits governor Albert Millar of Oliver and also heard a report on central committee activities from BCFGA president Arthur Garrish. The resolution supporting the B.C. Tree Fruits operations read:

Ask Freedomite Intervention...

The resolution pointed out the precarious position of the Okanagan with a single link to the coast south of Hope and that constantly in danger of being cut off by slides. Suspension of traffic on the present highway could be a serious problem to the Okanagan at certain times of the year if shipments of fruit had to be delayed by routing through the U.S.

Associated Boards Urge Construction Of Alternate Highway Route to Coast

Another resolution passed dealt with the Sons of Freedom problem and urged the federal government to assume a share of responsibility in the effort to reach a solution. It was pointed out the Freedomites were brought to the country by the federal government and the problem created by them were the responsibility of that body.

New Paper to Serve Westbank-Peachland

Another member joined the family of weekly newspapers in the Okanagan Valley this week with publication of the first issue of a paper to serve the Westbank-Peachland district.

Still unnamed, the newspaper is offering a cash prize to the reader who can supply a name which judges find most suitable.

Sponsors of the newspaper are a group of Westbank businessmen who feel the communities have grown large enough to justify having a paper of their own to record the district activities and to provide an advertising medium for merchants.

More than 30 advertisers patronized the initial edition.

Addresses by Mrs. T. J. Ralston, minister of education and Harold L. Campbell, deputy minister, will be included in the convention program.

Thirty-Five Years Ago

Central school was overcrowded, especially in the first two divisions, Principal Lees informed the Summerland school board. Fifty pupils and two classes were handled in one room. The school van with 32 pupils was also overcrowded and tools in the manual training class were inadequate, he reported. Corporal H. A. Walton of Summerland, who was convalescing at Epsom camp in England, was among 200 Canadian soldiers who visited Windsor Castle and met Princess Mary. Under the direction of J. J. Mitchell, work was started on the strengthening and raising of the dam which formed the reservoir on Eneas Creek. The Summerland Drug Company took over the management of the drug and stationery business of G. L. McWilliams. The store was to be under the management of K. S. Hogg. The electric light plant was to be kept in operation all night starting October 1. During the irrigation season it was closed at 1 a.m.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Reeve Johnson attended the Good Roads and UBCM convention held at Trail. A new truck was purchased by the municipality from a Kelowna firm. Mrs. Rowley was to be appointed superintendent of the local post office as successor to W. H. Haynes who, after many years of service as postmaster, was expected to retire. George Fudge, with Miss B. Stevenson, a visitor, as partner, won the American tennis tournament held at the local courts. Air mail stamps were available for the first time at the local post office. Dr. J. Willard Litch spoke to the congregation of the Baptist Church on the Baptist World conference which was held in Toronto, Ontario. At a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary and the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, Mrs. William Angove was presented with a life membership in the WMS and Mrs. William Shields was presented with a case of stainless steel dinner knives on the eve of her departure for Vancouver where she planned to take up residence. Mac apples were very light in the extra fancy and fancy grades as the crop was not coloring satisfactorily. The weather was good at the end of the picking season. Okanagan peaches were pronounced the "finest" at the fruit market in Calgary, Alberta. Playing at the Rialto Theatre was "Old San Francisco" starring Dolores Costello. W. M. Cooper addressed a meeting in Penticton of the BCFGA, speaking on the subject of vending Okanagan apples on the streets of the principal cities of Canada for the price of five cents each. Weekend specials at the Groceries were soap-flakes at 13 cents a pound and two pounds of butter for 95 cents.

Five Years Ago

Possibility that the famous Gilbert and Sullivan opera, The Mikado, would be presented during the season by the Summerland Singers and Players' club was a highlight of the annual general meeting held in the high school. Delmar Dunham was chosen president at the meeting to succeed Roy F. Angus. Other officers elected were Mrs. Lorne Perry, vice-president and J. C. Barkwill, secretary-treasurer. That the council should proceed with the final touches on the partially-completed pathway through the Living Memorial park playground was the contention of E. H. Bennett who appeared before the municipal council. One of the newest members of the Summerland teaching staff, Wendall J. Schwab, placed before the school board an offer to conduct free gymnasium classes one night weekly in the interest of constructively employing young people from ages 12 to 20 during their free and sometimes aimless hours. Word was received from Kelowna that R. D. Browne-Clayton of Okanagan Mission allowed his name to stand as the Coalition candidate for the by-election in the South Okanagan provincial riding. If a 500-gallons-per-minute pump with power takeoff and 1,000 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose were provided along with the other planned equipment the B.C. Fire Underwriters would give complete approval to the plans for the new Summerland fire truck. "Rotary is a power force for world peace," Al Carlson of Spokane, Washington, governor of Rotary District No. 103, stressed to the Rotary Club of Summerland when he addressed the Rotarians and Rotary Annes at a joint Ladies' Night dinner meeting. "The Romance of Rosy Ridge" starring Van Johnson, Janet Leigh and Thomas Mitchell was playing at the Rialto Theatre. Lionel Fudge captured the first four-point buck to be shot in the South Okanagan.

Where Are We Heading?

Are we in for credit restrictions? Credit has expanded so fast since the removal of government restrictions in May, 1952, that it appears something will have to be done to curb further credit expansion. Leading financial journals in their comments upon this subject are much concerned over what has happened — one financial service having stated: "Emboldened by a rising level of purchasing power and lured by an increasing flow of domestic and imported products, Canadian housewives and their husbands have been on a prolonged buying spree since the federal government lifted restrictions on credit buying in May, 1952. And in doing so they have been using their credit as never before. "The main increase has taken place in the business of the finance companies which buy the dealers' instalment paper at a discount, and in turn sell it to a bank. This class of credit is six times as great as it was in March, 1949. "In contrast, consumer credit through other channels has only doubled. These channels are store charge accounts, instalment receivables outstanding, and cash personal loans by banks, credit unions, small loan companies and licensed money lenders. "What then should be done. If we resort to strictly cash buying then our whole economy will be upset. If we keep an expanding credit as we have done since May, 1952, then we are heading for a financial collapse. To us there is an in-between policy. Buy only what you actually need and what you can see your way clear to pay for. Do not buy anything just for the sake of buying, either by cash or credit, and be able to make a substantial down payment. We feel that if people will just restrain themselves in credit buying all will be well. Otherwise it is difficult to forecast what might happen other than government control.—Creston Review.

Standard Of Living

An interesting and significant index of the rising standard of living in Canada is to be found in figures recently released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa. In the decade from 1941 to 1951 annual retail sales have increased in Canada by 210 per cent, from less than $3 1/2 billion to more than $10 1/2 billion. During the same period the population increased some 22 per cent. Thus the average Canadian spent $760.81 in retail stores in 1951, as compared with $208.08 in 1941. No matter what standard you use for the value of the dollar, Canadians bought far more of the things they wanted in 1951 than they did in 1941.

Annual CNIB Drive . . . everyone's support needed

ON Saturday volunteer taggers will appear on the streets of Summerland in their annual campaign to help raise funds on behalf of the local branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The work of the CNIB needs little telling. Their deeds on behalf of the sightless in Canada speak for themselves in stentorian tone. Their work to assist in rehabilitating those who have lost the most precious sense and to provide amenities to those who live in perpetual darkness is a great humanitarian effort. And another phase of their work, not so well known, of providing preventive services to those with failing sight has saved many from "the long night". There are in Canada nearly 20,000 afflicted by blindness. Of this number, the CNIB last year provided assistance in some form to more than 19,000. There are few who do not have occasion to turn to the CNIB for the many services it provides to help them overcome their handicap or to make life more pleasant. Instruction provided by the CNIB has been of invaluable assistance to finding rehabilitation with such crafts as typing, knitting weaving, basket making. Others have been placed in industry through the placement service of the institute whose job it is to ferret out jobs which lack of sight places on the worker no handicap. More than 12,000 received benefits last year from the operation of concessions. The cost of Braille editions and "talking books" would be out of reach of practically all were it not for the circulating libraries maintained by the CNIB. In the field of blindness prevention, the CNIB, last year provided service to 3,046 cases, including transportation, eye examination, glasses, operations, hospitalization and other care. The CNIB needs financial support in order to carry on this very valuable work. The need is great and every person can be sure their contribution is backing an outstanding effort when they give to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Summerland residents will have their chance to contribute Saturday when approached by a volunteer tagger.

'Too Much Welfare' . . . spending appetite still grows

DECLINING profits in British industries are causing grave concern in government circles in the United Kingdom. The reason? Business taxes last year accounted for more than a third of the Churchill Government's $5.2 billion income tax take, and were one of the biggest items in the total $11.9 billion tax revenue. Gross earnings reported by 1,693 British industrial concerns for the first half of 1953 totalled only $2,750 million, compared with $2,800 million for the same period last year. Lower profits mean less tax revenue, and less money to finance the voracious appetite for spending which is characteristic of the modern Welfare State. Raising taxes won't solve the British Government's problem, for to do so would be to curb incentives and to further jeopardize profitability. Running a bigger fiscal deficit won't help either, for it will handicap the export drive by inflating production costs in British industry. This leaves the British Government with no other solution than to cut its own spending, especially in the social security field, to fit the cloth of diminishing revenues. For the British can no more afford the cost of the Welfare State than a man on a $5,000 a year income can afford a $1 million life insurance policy.

New Revolution . . . coming events cast shadows

COMING events cast their umbers before them. The vermilion and gold tide has not yet flooded in from the north; the clear lemon yellows, the rich ochers, the deep plum colors have not yet burst through the chlorophyll curtain. But a quiet infiltration is taking place: the green is rusting, the sumac is touched with scarlet, the goldenrod hints at the glory to come. Let us face the facts. The old order is disintegrating before our eyes. This raggedness of summer's green world, this swallowing up of hot and golden noons by the lengthening shadows and chilly mists of early evenings, this helter-skelter air of bluster and blowness and overripe abundance—what can it mean but that the red flags of autumn are just beyond the horizon? Here is one cataclysm we accept philosophically, even eagerly. Sound the trumpets. Hoist the banners. Let the trees of the field clap their hands. The October revolution is on the way.

As Quoted

Wisdom allows nothing to be good that will not be so forever; no man to be happy but he that needs no other happiness than what he has within himself; no man to be great or powerful that is not master of himself.—Seneca. There is no friend like industry: cultivate it, and you will never fail.—Bhartrihari. Working and praying with true motives, your Father will open the way.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Mid-Week Message

None of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself. (Romans 14:7.) Read Revelation 3:19-22. Never have I forgotten the few lines of a song I once heard early one morning. "Where can I meet Thee, unless in this my home made Thine?" These were the words I heard in the midst of the din of the crowd that had collected for a festival. We become holy temples of God only as the Holy Spirit dwells in us. We need to have as our one increasing purpose the desire to magnify Christ in our lives. Yet hard as we may strive to create spiritual riches within ourselves, we shall always fail in our own strength, for the supply of these riches is outside ourselves. They are the gift of God to all those who believe. God is the highest ideal. It is our duty to strive to become true, ever to seek to become like Him. Only those who in faith accept Christ, our Saviour and Friend, and the salvation He offers, through His love and sacrifice on Calvary, shall inherit the Kingdom of God. PRAYER O Lord, most gracious Father, teach us that we may be made wholly Thine. Give us pure hearts. Clothe us with the robe of righteousness. Enable us to know Thy purpose for our lives. Make our hearts and our home Thy dwelling place. In His name, Amen.

Way back of beyond, in the hills of Vancouver Island, new forests are growing! They can't be seen from the main highways, these magnificent splashes of green, small trees now, but a tremendous hope of the future. It's only when you travel miles along logging roads that you suddenly come upon new trees—and then you travel through acres and acres of them. It's a wonderful sight—and when you see those lush new trees you know that acres that were logged or burned are no longer left nude and ugly. New timber is being grown, covering the scars—and, much more important than that, it's timber that will be ready for cutting 80 to 100 years from now. Thus, this generation is looking after the interests and the well-being of generations yet unborn. Government and industry are now doing their best to see that B.C.'s rich forest resources are preserved for all time, so that this province will never lose its very backbone, its blood and its sinew. Without the forest industry, B.C. would amount to very little.

A few days ago I saw new forests springing up in the country that was laid bare by the great Campbell River fire of 1938. I was astonished, and comforted. I stood on hilltops and looked down on those new forests, and wished that all the people could know they're growing. James Sheasgreen, manager of Canadian Western Lumber, and his chief forester, Fred Mulholland were standing on the hilltops too, and fairly bursting with pride. These two, like most forestry men, eat and sleep and talk trees, all the time, any time. A forest tree, to them, is what a prize azalea is to a nurseryman. Messrs. Sheasgreen and Mulholland supplied many of the statistics in this article.

From 1943 to 1948, Canadian Western Lumber, for instance, planted 3,028,000 trees on 3,650 acres of denuded land, mostly on the site of the Campbell River fire. Total planting throughout the province, since 1930, now amounts to 91,517,450 trees, on 110,647 acres. Industry has planted 15,587,100 trees on 19,235 acres, while the government's forest service has planted 75,930,350 trees on 91,412 acres.

UBC forestry dean George S. Allen was standing on those hilltops looking down at new forests, and he said: "The forest will renew itself quickly if given half a chance. The menace of fire, however, is always present. If we continue to have fires such as that which swept the Campbell River area in 1938, and the Mount Benson fire in 1951, then we shall have to plant in a big way. "If we can only solve the unintentional incendiarism of our people while fishing and hunting, travelling and berry-picking, nature will grow forests here continuously for all time to come. Even with the tremendous fire menace, the industry and the Forest Service are doing a pretty good job—but a lot of their effort can, and will go up in smoke over the next 50 years."

Planting of new trees is done by regular logging crews when deep snow at higher levels makes logging impossible. They are assisted from time to time by school boys. The men, most of them local loggers, take a keen interest in the planting and do a much better job than casual labor ever would; this is an important factor, as the care with which the seedlings are handled determines, to a large degree, the survival rate. At present, survival is about 85 per cent, which is very high. Frost heave, and other factors, such as animals eating the small trees, often bring it down.

Here are some surprising figures supplied by Messrs. Sheasgreen and Mulholland: a good planter, working favorable country, can plant from 750 to 1,000 trees a day—enough to reforest a little more than an acre. The government's forest service furnishes all seedlings, with the exception of exotics being planted experimentally. The seedlings are supplied by the government free of charge from Forest Service nurseries at Duncan, Campbell River and Green Timbers. Foresters are learning more about planting each year, and they have found that seeds do best right on the spot where they were grown. Slope, shade, elevation, water supply, soil conditions and other facts all affect the growth rate and vigor of the young trees. At least 90 per cent of all cut-over lands on the coast will re-stock voluntarily if given a chance. "The only "fail spots" found so far on lands of Canadian

Summer And Winter Squashes Make Delicious New Vegetable Dishes

Everywhere about this time of year there is a family reunion on vegetable markets. It is quite a big family, too, when they get together. Some botanists call certain members of this family pumpkins, but generally they go by the name of squash. The family is divided into two branches, summer and winter squash.

You have probably already used summer squash such as vegetable marrow, etc., for summer squash ripens early in July and August, but the winter varieties do not ripen until later in the Fall.

Among the winter squash are the Acorn squash or Table Queen as they are often called. As the name implies, it is shaped very much like an acorn and is small, and deeply ribbed. The Acorn squash weighs about one and one-half pounds to two pounds and is around six inches in length. It is usually the first type of winter squash to appear on the market.

Then there is the Buttercup squash, sometimes called the Turban squash because of its shape. It has a thick orange flesh and a nutty flavor.

Probably the most popular type of winter squash is the Hubbard. It is a large, heavy squash with a warty skin. The skin may be a variety of colors, dark green, bluish green or even bright orange.

Consumers often overlook squash when shopping, in spite of the bright colors that beckon them. Homemakers should become acquainted with squash and when they go to pick one out, they should look for squash that is heavy for its size and that has a hard shell and firm flesh which is free from bruises and blemishes. Hubbard squash will keep well during the winter, provided that it is kept in a cool, dry place, preferably at a temperature of about 50 degrees.

Squash may be cooked by any of the standard methods for cooking vegetables, but baking is the easiest and most popular method. To bake squash, simply cut the squash in serving-size pieces and remove stringy portions and seeds. Place the pieces of squash cut-side down on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate 375 degree F. oven until tender, about 45 minutes. When nearly done, turn cut-side up, sprinkle with brown sugar, salt and pepper, dot with butter and finish baking.

Another way to cook squash is to steam or boil it until it is tender. To boil it takes around 35 minutes, to steam squash, it takes longer, about one hour.

There are many other ways of serving squash. For instance, it is awfully good if the pieces of squash are filled with creamed ham and served as a luncheon dish.

If you like steamed or boiled squash, here is a good way to serve it; put the cooked squash through a sieve or ricer, season with salt and pepper and place in a greased casserole. Cover the squash with strips of bacon and bake in a hot oven until the squash is thoroughly heated through. If you prefer squash to have a slightly sweet flavor, sprinkle a little brown sugar on top before you place the bacon on the squash.

Squash and Pepper Casserole
3 cups peeled sliced squash, 1 cup sliced green pepper (about 2 peppers), 1/4 cup sliced onion, 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons butter.

Arrange vegetables in layers in a greased casserole, sprinkle each layer with salt, pepper. Top with bread crumbs, dot with butter, cover and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F, about 35 minutes. Remove cover and continue baking about 10 minutes longer or until crumbs are brown and vegetables tender.

Squash Fricassee
Peel squash and cut into 1/2" cubes, let dry for a few hours (2-10 hours) depending on the moisture content or degree of ripeness. 3 tablespoons fat, 1/2 cup diced onion, 1/4 cup diced celery, 3 cups squash, 1 cup fresh or canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Brown onion lightly in hot fat. Add celery and cook until transparent. Add squash, tomatoes, and salt; cover and cook slowly until vegetables are tender. Since some sauce must be left when the "fricassee" is cooked, extra tomatoes may be needed during the cooking. Serve hot, garnished with chopped fresh or dry parsley. Yield: six servings.

Chicken-Squash Bake
3 cups diced yellow squash, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 10-oz. can cream of chicken soup, 1/2 cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons diced green pepper, 1/2 cup buttered crumbs.

In a greased 6-cup casserole arrange alternate layers of squash, pieces of butter, soup, celery and green pepper. Top with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F, 50 minutes or until squash is done.

The first meeting of the new season was held when Mrs. Alex Inch called together a council of Honor of Girl Guides.

At the meeting, the Council of Honor chose the patrol leaders while the other Guides played games. Patrol corners were held for the purpose of discussing activities for the year, followed by games for points.

At campfire the Guides sang the songs they learned at summer camp.

PROTECT INFANTS FROM COLDS

Small infants are more seriously affected by colds than older children or adults and should be protected from contact with those suffering from any of the respiratory diseases. When it is necessary to employ someone to take care of a baby, care should be taken to see that the babysitter is not suffering from a cold or cough. The mother or other person caring for an infant should, if they have a cold, wear a gauze while in contact.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

At Tuesday night's meeting, 13 boys turned out in full uniform! Nice to see you all in earnest about having a smart troop, boys.

Four patrols were organized with Gary Hackman as patrol leader of the Hawks, Neil Woolliams as P.L. of the Eagles, William Lewis as P.L. of the Buffaloes and John Cuthbert as P.L. of the Beavers.

Mr. F. E. Brinton gave instruction on second class badge work.

Mr. T. S. Manning will be present at the next meeting to give a short talk on Fire Prevention Week. I hope to see a full turnout as information on fire prevention is important to every Scout.

There will also be instructions on lashings and bicycles next week, so come prepared.

Duty patrol next week, Oct. 6: Buffaloes—D.M.M.

Service Club Thanksgiving Dinner Will Have Autumn Decorative Theme

An autumn theme will be used in the decoration for the Thanksgiving dinner being planned by the ladies of St. Andrew's Service club for Monday evening, October 12, in the United Church hall.

The brilliant hues of fall leaves and baskets of fruits will grace the tables for the annual repast and gayly colored fall flowers will complete the decoration scheme in the hall.

On the menu will be turkey with "all the trimmings" as well as a variety of vegetables, dessert of apple or pumpkin pie and tea or coffee.

General convenors of the dinner are Mrs. Jack Wilcox, Mrs. Steve Cannings and Mrs. James Marshall. It was decided that tickets will not be sold in advance this year. The charge for the dinner will be taken at the door.

The delicious meal and friendly atmosphere of the Thanksgiving celebration was enjoyed by over 400 guests last year and a capacity attendance is expected again this year.

The meal will be in two sittings at 5:30 p.m. and 8:15 p.m. with L. F. Haggman, church organist, providing excellent entertainment between sittings and prior to the meal.

Local Pair Guests Of Premier Bennett At House Session

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Mahoney, who spent last week on business at the coast, were guests on Friday afternoon of Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

Mr. Bennett procured passes for Mr. and Mrs. O'Mahoney who were privileged to sit on the floor of the house of parliament while it was in session in Victoria.

They heard the reply to the Speech from the Throne which was given by the Liberal party, and also an address by the Victoria representative in the house.

Following the meeting of parliament, they were guests of Mr. Bennett at an afternoon tea in the coast city.

During his stay in Vancouver Mr. O'Mahoney was on business for the Summerland Hospital Board and Mrs. O'Mahoney attended a meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society and also a meeting of the Canadian Cancer Foundation.

VISITING ABROAD

Weekend visitors to the coast were Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Day.

Mrs. C. W. Reinertson is in Alert Bay this week where she is attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. L. Lansdowne.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Garnett are visiting with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Riley at Celista.

Pioneer Residents of Summerland Reach 50th Wedding Anniversary

Pioneer residents of Summerland, Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson Campbell, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday when a number of their friends and neighbors called to express their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell were married on September 30, 1903, in Lennoxville, Quebec, and came to British Columbia in 1906, settling in Summerland.

During their residence in Summerland, both Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have been active in community affairs.

Mrs. Campbell, until her recent illness, was a most energetic worker with the WCTU, and Mr. Campbell has served on the local school board, the Board of Trade and the hospital board. He was a member of the municipal council for over 20 years, and was also a member of the St. Andrew's United Church choir for many years.

They have one daughter, Mrs. W. S. Ritchie who, with her family, called on her parents to extend best wishes.

Beggs-Armour Rites Solemnized In Penticton United Church Manse

The United Church manse in Penticton was the scene on Friday, September 25, of the quiet wedding vows of Anne Rae Armour and Montgomery Arthur Beggs. Rev. Ernest Rands officiated at the early evening rites.

For her marriage, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armour of West Summerland chose an attractive pink Princess line suit with navy shoes and purse, white feathered hat and white gloves. Her colonial bouquet of white carnations was centered with a beautiful orchid.

Mrs. James Shaw of Penticton was the bride's only attendant. She wore a beige dressmaker suit with mauve accessories and a corsage of pale mauve gladioli.

Bestman for the groom, son of Mrs. S. J. Beggs of West Summerland and the late Mr. Beggs, was James Shaw of Penticton.

Following a wedding supper in the Tartan Room of the Hotel Prince Charles in Penticton, the happy couple left on a brief honeymoon trip to Spokane, Washington. Upon their return they are residing in Summerland.

For travelling the bride donned a charming navy blue knitted wool suit with red accessories and a corsage of orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The groom is a fruit rancher in the Summerland district and the bride is a member of the staff of the Bank of Montreal in West Summerland.

VISITING HERE

Bob Weitzel of Trail was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Snow, over the week-end.

Visiting this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Towgood are Mr. Towgood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Towgood of Oyama.

Houseguest for a few days this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bleasdale was Mrs. Hillary Brown of Hornby Island.

Houseguest for a few weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wilkin is Mr. Wilkin's mother, Mrs. R. M. Wilkin of Vancouver.

Tommy Braidwood and his friend, Ed Bernskey, both UBC students in Vancouver, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. Braidwood's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lott.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wells and family of Edmonton, Alberta, will arrive tomorrow to spend a holiday at the home of Mr. Wells' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mev Wells, Front Bench.

Among those who were in Summerland for the funeral on Tuesday of A. L. Blanchett were his brother, Guy Blanchett of Victoria; a nephew, Eric Blanchett of Vancouver, and his sisters-in-law, Mrs. J. Gillis of Merritt, Miss Maude Chambers of Victoria and Mrs. A. Townley of Vancouver.

In Summerland this week are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McPherson who are visiting at the home of Mr. McPherson's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McPherson and at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Malr.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Monro, Jr., and two children of Seattle, Washington, are visiting in Summerland at the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Monro and Mr. and Mrs. R. Metters. Mr. Monro Jr., is employed in the engineering department at Bowings in Seattle.

HOME AGAIN

Home again are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jenkinson who holidayed recently for a week on a fishing trip at Blind Bay on Shuswap Lake.

Mrs. C. C. Pipe of Ayr, Ontario, returned home recently following a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Boothe.

Mrs. T. McKay has returned home after a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Kemp, Sr., in Blairmore, Alberta.

Mrs. Jessie Monro of Peach Valley is home again after a month's holiday in Vancouver and Seattle where she visited with her daughters, Mrs. Norman Gatenby and Mrs. D. Rosso.

Mrs. Eisey Convenes WI Sponsored Autumn Tea, Variety Booths

Highlight of the fall activities of the Summerland Women's Institute will be the tea and variety sale which will be held on Saturday afternoon, October 10, in the IOOF hall.

General convenor of the autumn event is the president of the WI, Mrs. C. H. Eisey, who will also act in the capacity of hostess.

On the agenda for the afternoon will be numerous interesting and varied booths among which will be an arts and crafts booth under the management of Mrs. H. Whitaker, a table of good used clothing supervised by Mrs. E. L. Farnchon and an agricultural booth of both canned and fresh fruits and vegetables convened by Mrs. J. E. Sheldrake.

There will also be a sale of delicious home-cooking under the direction of Mrs. Eric M. Tait as well as a superfluity booth which will be managed by Mrs. A. K. Macleod and Miss Marion Cartwright and a sale of W.I. hasti-notes.

During the afternoon, Mrs. T. J. Enstone will pour tea.

Recent week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lott were Mrs. Lott's father, John Espin of Vancouver and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Espin and children of Kelowna.

MORE ABOUT

GROWERS'

generally improved. The 3's, he said, were better than previous years, due largely to growers harvesting at a better maturity and shippers handling them better.

Improvement in all soft fruits, said Mr. Millar, was due largely to the efforts of the maturity committee and he spoke highly of the work done by it, and urged its continuation.

Apricots have gained a lot of lost ground and trade this year was very satisfied with the product, only complaint being the short supply.

Peaches in early and mid-season gave every satisfaction he stated. They were much larger, no bruising and "created quite a stir on the market and were able to keep out imports." The first flight of Elbertas were a success, he said, but then they started to deteriorate and went down hill steadily.

Claims on the later shipments of Elbertas will be very heavy, Mr. Millar said, running as high as 50 per cent bruise on some shipments. The reason for the excessive bruise is not known for sure but the speaker opined the grower was not at fault but the fruit had some weakness that it would not stand up to normal handling.

On Bartlett pears he said the fruit was good with prices better this year. He said they had noted a weakening of the U.S. market in this fruit. About 50 per cent of the sale of Flemish pears is expected to be in the U.S., he said.

Mr. Millar said heavy claims against prunes because of the high incidence of shrivel can be expected but during discussion on this subject, another governor, Gordon Wight stated claims so far have been light. Suggestion of orchard sorting of prunes was made but opinions on the success of this operation were conflicting.

Chairman of the session was Walter Toews of Summerland.

Resident of One Year Dies Today

Funeral services will be held on Saturday, Oct. 3, at 10:30 a.m. for Frederick Harold Babcock, aged 63, who died in the Summerland General Hospital this morning.

Mr. Babcock was a resident of one year in the municipality, coming from Sunningdale, Saskatchewan.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret; three sisters, Mrs. Evelyn Salmond of Cloyne, Ontario; Mrs. May Dilneff of Wadesa, Ontario, and Mrs. Myrtle Snyder of Haroldsville, Ontario, and two brothers, Stanley Babcock of Coldbrook, Ontario, and Archie Babcock of Seely Bay, Ontario.

Rev. C. O. Richmond will conduct the services from the Penticton Funeral Chapel. Committal will be in Lakeview Cemetery, the Penticton Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Highway Association To Meet in Kamloops

Improvement in highway conditions from Klamath Falls, Oregon, to Dawson Creek, B.C., and the encouragement of tourists to continue northward along the interior route are the two primary objectives of the Okanagan-Cariboo Trail Association which will hold its annual meeting in Kamloops, B.C., on October 2 and 3.

Representatives of the two score towns and cities along the 1,500 miles of highway covered by the group will attend and highway and tourist promotion officials from the governments of British Columbia, Washington and Oregon will take part in the discussions.

Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of public works for British Columbia, will be the principal speaker at the banquet on Saturday night while Premier W. A. C. Bennett, of British Columbia, will open a reconstructed stretch of the Trans-Canada Highway west of Kamloops on Friday afternoon.

The entertainment features of the program include a buffet dinner by the General Construction company, highway builders; a breakfast by the Kamloops Lions Club; luncheon by the Kamloops Board of Trade and the association's banquet.

Not a Play-School

Educational Kindergarten Starts Next Week For 24 Pre-Schoolers

A varied and interesting program is being planned for the 24 youngsters who were enrolled in the Jack and Jill Kindergarten at the meeting in the United Church hall last Wednesday evening of the mothers of the youngsters.

"The kindergarten is not just a play-school," said Mrs. Francis Steuart who, with Mrs. Howard Milne, will instruct the children three mornings a week from 9:30 to 11:30 from October 5 to the end of May in the church hall.

About 20 mothers of pre-school youngsters attended the meeting when Mrs. Howard Pruden was appointed chairman of the kindergarten as successor to Mrs. Ken Boothe. Mrs. David McInnis is taking the place of secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mel Ducommun.

Mrs. Colin McKenzie will be the teacher's helper and other mothers will assist if they are able. Each morning at 10:30 one of the mothers will provide a snack for the kindergarten youngsters and will stay and assist if possible.

The classes, Monday, Wednesday and Friday each week, will include games, story-telling, dramatization of stories, singing, a rhythm band, handiwork and listening to educational records.

Solves Congested School Bus Problem

The problem of congestion on the Garnet Valley-Jones' Flat school bus was considered at Monday's meeting of the Summerland School Board.

As it is not possible to put another bus on this route, the Board has informed parents that children not living more than one and a half miles from the schools must not use the bus.

This was considered a fair and lenient solution as in many districts no conveyance to school is provided within a two-mile limit.

Memorial Silence For W. C. Fosbery C. J. Huddleston

A moment of silence was held in memory of the late C. J. Huddleston and the late W. C. W. Fosbery, secretary for over 51 years, at the congregational meeting of St. Stephen's Anglican Church held in the Parish hall last Thursday evening.

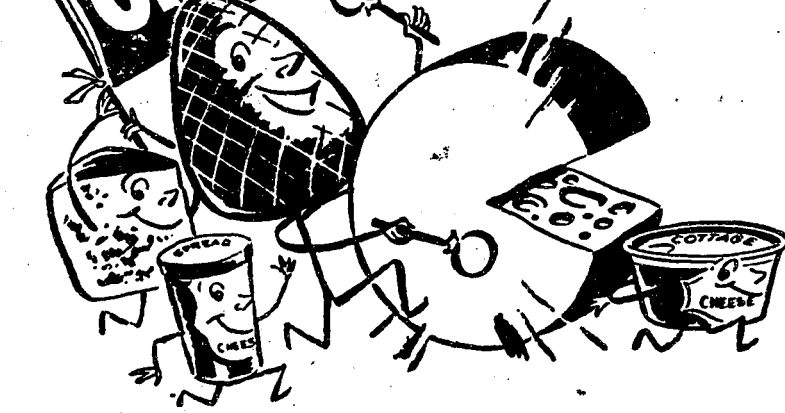

The rector, Canon F. V. Harrison, was chairman of the largely attended meeting which was called for the purpose of electing a peoples' warden and a secretary of the church committee.

In the election which followed, D. V. Fisher was nominated for the office of peoples' warden and A. F. Calder was elected secretary of the church.

Mrs. Bessie McKnight left for her home in Winnipeg, Manitoba, today following an extended visit of four months at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Milne.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mullan of Winnipeg, Manitoba, were guests for a few days last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Milne.

Stocking Trout In Okanagan Lake Opposed By B.C. Game Commission

A long debate over the proposed introduction of grey (lake) trout by the game department in Okanagan Lake resulted in the following resolution at a recent meeting in Kelowna of the B.C. Interior Fish and Game Association:

"In view of the different opinions of the representatives of the clubs adjacent to Okanagan Lake and the waters tributary thereto, we request that no steps be taken to introduce grey trout into these waters until a further investigation has been conducted into the matter of the relationship between rainbow trout and the grey trout and, further, that the biologists find out by correspondence if any experiment of this kind has been tried out in the lakes in the United States immediately south of British Columbia.

"We further suggest that as the stocking program of Okanagan Lake from the Summerland Hatchery with rainbow trout gives promise of great success, that nothing be done that would interfere with this work."

Biologists feel that such an introduction of grey trout would have no great affect upon the Kamloops trout already in the lake.

The meeting, attended by representatives from Summerland, Penticton, Oliver, Princeton, Copper Mountain, Kelowna, Vernon, Salmon Arm, Kamloops and Revelstoke, favored controlled fishing. Delegates were disturbed by a reported move by some fish biologists to have no closed fishing season, no size limits and no bag limits.

A revolutionary moose season was promised by James Cunningham, Game Commissioner. Mr. Cunningham said there would be a new season on moose in some areas south of the CPR mainline in the Kamloops area. It would extend from two weeks to a month.

Once such a season becomes effective it will be, according to sportsmen, the first time since game laws that moose have been legal targets so far south. The dates and areas are to be announced later, Mr. Cunningham said.

Pat Martin of Kamloops, resident interior game biologist, reported that the Willow grouse population is down, especially in the Caribou district. He also claimed that Blub Grouse reports are contradictory but he opined that nimrods will have to work harder for their Blues this season.

The meeting approved a motion that the association support in principle a charter system among fish and game clubs in the province. The idea is to try and knit the clubs more closely with the B.C. Fish and Game Council.

VALUABLE VICTUALS.

No diet can be considered well balanced without vegetables. Green and yellow varieties supply vitamins A and C, as well as niacin, riboflavin and thiamin. In addition, they provide iron, calcium and carbohydrates which offer a combination of nutrients necessary in a balanced diet. It is always a good idea to serve one vegetable raw.

SPORTS

Jean Beliveau looks a little puzzled over the Canadian sweater. Beliveau has been the most talked about player in amateur hockey for some time now and the Montreal Canadiens have been trying to land him in a center ice position for the last two years. This season, although he still hasn't signed his name to a contract, the Canadiens feel that Le Gros, as he was referred to by Quebec City fans and rightfully so—Jean stands 6 foot 4 inches and weighs 225 pounds—will be included in the line-up in time for the "All-Star Game" on October 3.

Western Lumber are areas which suffered fires after the regeneration had become established, but before the trees were old enough to throw seed. This eliminated the seed source, and automatically necessitated planting.

I came away from the beautiful new forests convinced that as long as government and industry are determined to grow trees—either by encouraging Nature, or by planting—the people of this province have nothing to worry about.

However, the public also has its responsibility, and that is to help cut down the fire hazard, and to keep its elected representatives alive to the importance of our forests.

BERT BERRY'S Hunting and Fishing News

Fishing on the Okanagan has been good in fact very good. Catches up to 4 lbs. have been made. Off the rocks has been good also.

Fish Lake Camp—Fish Lake itself was closed on Sept. 30 to allow the Eastern Brooks to spawn, but the upper lakes are good.

Headwaters Camp—All accommodation closed here as owner is away. However the lakes are still open if you want to fish.

Glen Lake—Good reports from here this week.

Silver Lake—Has been good. Reports from Enderby, Vernon and Kelowna lakes show very good fishing.

Salmon run is on now at Chase and several persons will be trying for them at Enderby.

Hunting

Grouse shooting has been a little spotty this season. Some hunters are running into good bunches and getting their share but on the more frequently hunted spots they are getting thinned out. However back off the beaten tracks they are in better numbers.

Deer have been better this year. I think that there will be a better kill this season as all reports of the men in the back country show that there are more deer this year than last.

Few reports from the big game hunters so far, however, a few geese and ducks are coming down, but so far no moose or elk. We will know better in a week or two how the chances are there.

A reminder to the white fishermen that it won't be too long before they start to run. Better get your maggots ready.

TEEN TOWN

Teen Town is opening its winter season with a huge dance to be held in the Youth Centre on Saturday, Oct. 3.

This dance is literally a do or die affair; either we do have good turnouts and some support from the teen-agers or we don't have Teen Town.

The Teen Town council has planned this dance for your enjoyment, kids, and the only way it can fail to be a success is through the lack of support from you, the teen-agers of Summerland. Come out and have fun!

We would like to see more of you younger teen-agers turn out from now on than there has been in the past. The only way Teen Town can carry on is through the enthusiasm of the younger set as well as the older members.

The dance will start at 9 o'clock with good music and delicious refreshments to be enjoyed by all. During intermission a small program has been arranged. There will be prizes and a special door prize to the person with the lucky ticket.

One way you can show your support of Teen Town is to turn out and help decorate the Youth Centre for this dance on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The last meeting of the council was held at the home of Yvonne Polesello on Monday evening. There we received the resignation of our mayor, Esther Metters. We were very sorry to receive Esther's resignation but we wish her the best of luck for the future. Yvonne Polesello is the new mayor of Teen Town.

Bye for now, kids. See you all on Saturday at 9 p.m.

SOCIAL EVENING

The first meeting of the new season of the Summerland Badminton Club will open tonight with a gay social evening. An entertaining program is planned and delicious refreshments will be served to both members and non-members.

How Socialism Has Fared in Five Federal Election Campaigns in B. C.

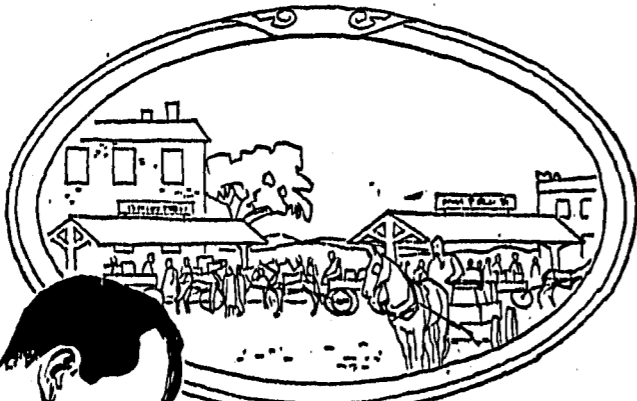

- Since 1935 there have been five Federal elections.
- In these, the fortunes of the Socialist Party, formed at Regina in the midst of the depression, has fluctuated.
- In terms of popular support in British Columbia, the accompanying graph shows what percentage of the total vote the Socialist candidates won in Federal elections:

It is significant that this year's voting saw Socialist support at an all-time low. Nevertheless, with redistribution and a multiplicity of parties in the field, Socialist candidates won three more seats.

As elsewhere in Canada, the citizens of British Columbia appear to be less and less willing to support the great Socialist plan of Government-run-everything.

Religious Festival . . .

Thanksgiving Celebration Dates Back to Early American Ancestors

It is a happy custom at Thanksgiving to gather with our friends to give thanks for the bountiful gifts of the harvest and for the gift of life in Canada. Actually, the Festival, which is primarily a religious one dates back to our early ancestors.

Just as Easter and Christmas have their age old customs, so there are traditions to Thanksgiving. We adorn our churches with fruits and vegetables and we gather around the family table for a dinner of roast turkey and pumpkin pie.

In August, the convention of the Associated Country Women of the World was held in Toronto. There were a thousand women delegates at this meeting and they represented five and a half million rural women from all parts of the world. Many of the delegates came from countries where there was very little food and they were absolutely astonished at the abundance of everything we had in Canada. Sometimes you would see these women sitting, with tears in their eyes, unable to eat, thinking of their homes where so many people had no food at all. This contact with women who knew of want for food and who had experience with starving families should impress on you that we should give special thanks for the abundance we have in Canada.

Speaking of the traditional Thanksgiving meal of turkey and pumpkin pie, this year, homemakers will be able to buy small turkeys, medium, size ones, or big 25 to 30 pound toms. It does not matter whether you buy a large turkey or a small one so long as you look for the signs of good quality, that is a plump bird with a broad breast and thick-meated thighs.

A bird which has clear yellow skin, free from pin feathers, cuts and bruises. Of course when you buy a Grade A bird, it should have all these qualities. A Grade B bird will not be quite so well-fleshed and will not have quite so good an appearance as Grade A, but both grades are good eating and are fine for the table.

Perhaps you will want to have turkey for Thanksgiving this year, but a big turkey is too large for the size of your family, a half turkey is the solution to your problem. Most butcher shops today sell half turkeys that weigh from 10 to 15 pounds. They are cooked the same way that you cook a whole turkey but the preparation for roasting is slightly different.

After the turkey is washed, sprinkle the inside of the body cavity with salt and then tie the leg to the tail and skewer the wing flat against the breast. Next fasten the dressing on his paper so that it fits into the cavity of the bird. Place the half turkey on top of the dressing and roast the turkey in the same manner as you would roast a whole turkey.

GUIDE NEWS

The third meeting of the fall season for the Girl Guides was held on Wednesday night at the Youth Centre. We welcomed Rose Lee Young as a new Guide.

We opened our meeting with an inspection and collection of dues. After a discussion in our patrol corners, all the girls took part in an "intelligence" game in which the Forget-Me-Nots won.

Some of the Brownies flew up to Guides last night, Wednesday, Oct. 7.

Campfire opened with a number of songs followed by a skit by the Orchids. The meeting closed with taps.

Patrol points are as follows: Buttercups, 60; Pimpernels, 46; Lily of Valley, 40; Hepaticas, 37; Pansys, 36; Forget-Me-Nots, 32, and Orchids, 29.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

1st Summerland Troop

This week being Fire Prevention Week, we were honored by a visit from Mr. Joe McLachlan, a member of the local volunteer fire brigade. He gave us a very interesting talk on preventing fires around the home.

We had a short "steam off" game after which Mr. F. E. Brinton took a number of the boys for instructions on their bicycles.

We are pleased to welcome Bobby Nicholson as a new recruit. He has joined the Eagle patrol and we hope he will enjoy Scouting with the First Summerland Troop.

Don't forget, boys, to dig up all scrap metal and have it handy as we want to make one big drive this fall—as soon as the orchard work is over.

Soft-soled shoes are a necessity if you want to play games on the floor.

Duty patrol next week, Oct. 13: Beavers.—D.M.M.

Cub Calls

1st Summerland Cub Pack

At the last meeting proficiency badges were presented to David Woolliams and Bruce Rennie. The First Star was presented to Howard Oxley.

All Cubs received a new catalogue so parents please see that your boy has a complete uniform.

We wish to thank Mr. Tom Manning for giving such an excellent talk on Fire Prevention.

There will be no meeting next week as it is Thanksgiving.—Golden Quill.

Resident of Four Years Dies Sept. 30

A resident of Summerland for four years, Robert William Maule died at his home last Wednesday, Sept. 30, following a lingering illness.

Mr. Maule, aged 67, moved to Summerland in 1949 from Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, where he was a retired farmer.

He is survived by his wife, Grace, and one daughter, Mrs. J. N. Stevenson of North Battleford, Saskatchewan.

Funeral services will be held from Saskatoon, Saskatchewan.

tors were A. M. Temple, C. G. Woodbridge, W. W. Borton, G. E. Logie and T. Inaba.

The group took a course in Basic Part one and two of Civil Defense Training and received their certificates.

Mrs. J. E. O'Mahoney Entertains At Tea on Wedding Anniversary

A number of friends gathered for tea on Sunday afternoon at the Front Bench home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Mahoney on the occasion of their 33rd wedding anniversary. Congratulations and best wishes were extended to the happy couple who were in excellent spirits for their momentous occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Mahoney were married in South Hampton, England, on Oct. 4, 1920. They lived in England for a year then moved to Canada, living in Calgary for two years. In 1923 they settled in Summerland and have been residents of this district for 30 years.

Mrs. O'Mahoney (nee Eva Louise "Joy" dePlock) was born in Louis, England. Her father was with the Indian Civil Service. She went to a girls' school in London during her early life and was a graduate of the London General Hospital. During her many years in Summerland, Mrs. O'Mahoney has been a constant member of St. Stephen's Church; she is a charter member of the Canadian Red Cross Society; was in charge of home nursing and first aid during World War II; has assisted with Girl Guide work; has been an instructor and helper for the St. John Ambulance Association and is the regional director of the Canadian Cancer Society as well as one of the directors of the Canadian Cancer Foundation.

John Edmund O'Mahoney was born in Cork, Ireland, but moved to England where he lived until his embarkment for Canada.

He is an active member of the Summerland Hospital board, an executive member of the B.C. Hospitals Association, secretary of the Kiwanis Club, a former president of the local board of trade and he also served a term as councillor for the municipality.

Harvest Fruit, Fall Colors For Hospital LA Tea, Cooking Sale

Rich, autumn colors and the bountiful fruits of the harvest will provide the decorative theme for many social activities this season, among which will be a tea and sale of home cooking on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 17, sponsored by the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary.

General convener of the occasion which will be held in the IOOF hall, is Mrs. K. Williams who will be assisted by several able members of the LA. Convening the home cooking sale are Mrs. James Marshall and Mrs. F. E. Brinton.

During the afternoon tickets will be drawn for two lovely door prizes made by Mrs. R. I. Cornish. One is a dainty little girl's dress, two-year-old size, in white yvelle, beautifully made and smoked and the other is a little boy's outfit, also two-year-old size and similarly styled. These prizes are on display in the window of Lorne Perry's office.

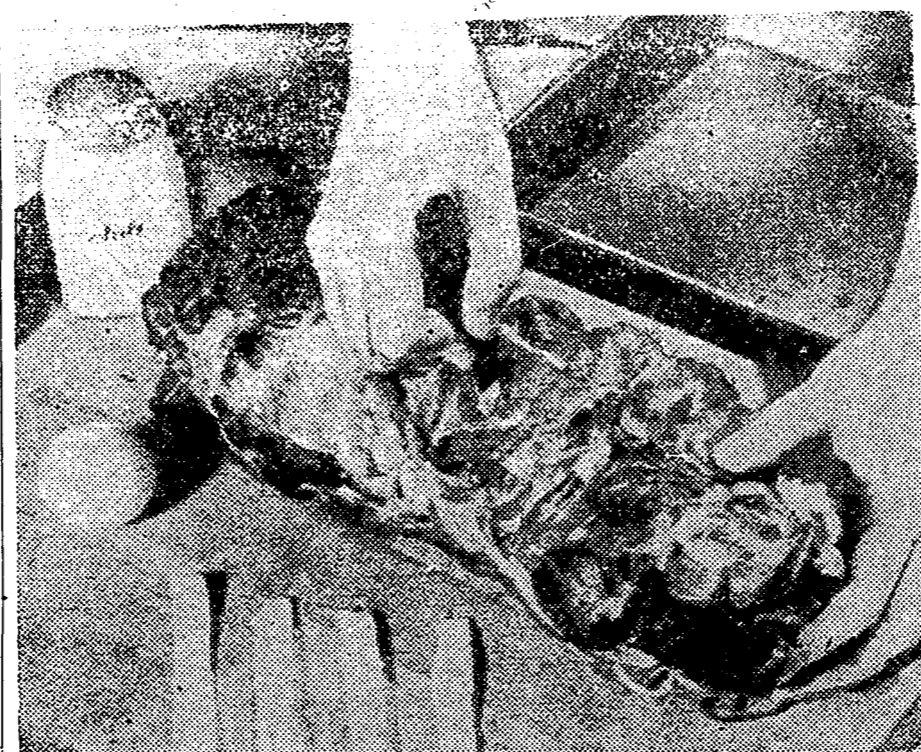

Tea will be poured during the afternoon of the tea by Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge.

ATHLETIC CLUB MEETING

The first meeting of the new 1953-54 season of the Summerland Athletic Club will be held in the badminton hall tonight at 7:30. Purpose of the meeting is for the election of officers and re-organization of the club.

Socially Speaking

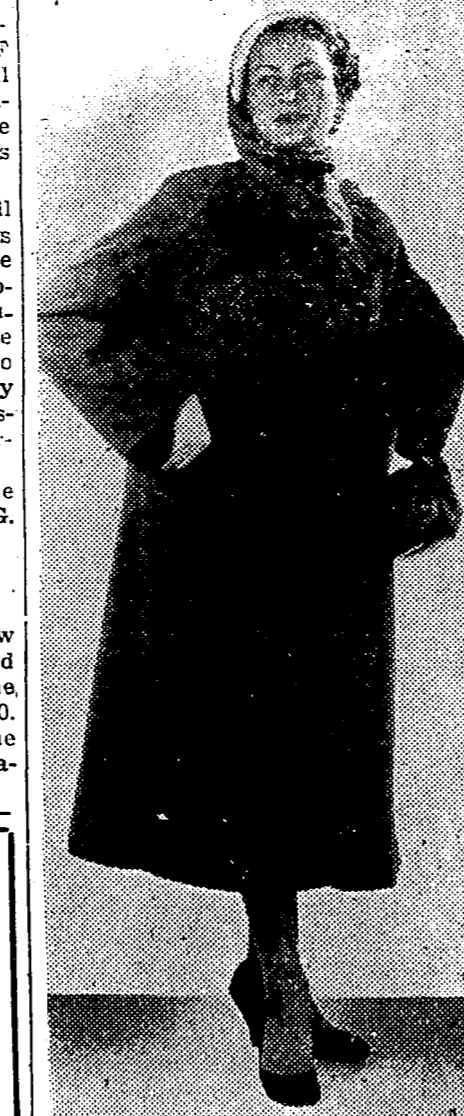

Society Editor — Phone 5406 — Joanne Vaughan

To make a meal that will satisfy your sportsman, make sure the venison roast is well-larded, delicately seasoned and carefully cooked.

VENISON—In preparing venison, remember to remove all the fat, as it is unpalatable. However, the meat will be dry unless you add lard or butter when cooking. Venison steaks or cutlets, a little less than an inch thick, should be brushed with olive oil and broiled close to the flame. You can pot roast venison without soaking it by inserting a clove of garlic and a bay leaf in a small slit of the roast, adding plenty of fat, and cooking it on the top of the stove for several hours at low heat. After it has roasted for 2 hours, add 1 cup water and continue cooking and adding water until tender.

For a super-supper dish, take a saddle or haunch of venison and cover with a marinade of 2/3 cheap red cooking wine and 1/3 water with mustard seed, a crushed clove of garlic, and salt added. Let stand in this for about two days turning the meat from time to time. Remove and lard generously with salt pork. Sear in a hot oven, then reduce heat to 325 degrees F. and baste frequently. Cook about 25 minutes to the pound. If you want a superb gravy, add a small glass of red wine to the roast pan and boil until it is reduced one third. Add a glass of currant jelly and when it is melted, stir in 1 cup sour cream. Strain and serve separately. Food for a king!

The importance of soft elegance is stressed with fashions that can be created by the home sewer. This imported cashmere wool coating handled deftly in the "Flour de Lis" silhouette has emphasis on the wide sleeves, and Italian inspired stand-away neckline. It is buttoned to just above the knee.

Badminton Social Evening Successful

The Badminton club opening night and social evening held last Thursday evening in the Badminton hall, was deemed most successful by club officials.

Approximately 35 people, both new members and old, turned out for the opening of the new season. They enjoyed several games of badminton, followed by the serving of delicious refreshments.

The election of officers for the Badminton club will take place at next week's meeting.

Golden Anniversary Celebrations Held

On the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, friends and neighbors called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred David Powrie to extend their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Powrie were married on Sept. 23, 1903 in Stratford, Ontario. They lived in Toronto for three years before moving to Saskatchewan where they farmed for 37 years. When Mr. Powrie retired in 1946 the couple moved to Summerland.

Mr. Powrie was born in Ayleth, Scotland, and Mrs. Powrie was born in Henderson, North Carolina, USA.

The happy couple have one son, George Powrie in Hickson, B.C.

Gay Stag Party Held For Murray Elliott

Honored guest at a stag party last Saturday evening in the Japanese hall was Murray R. Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott.

Murray, whose marriage will take place tonight to Miss Reta Woodrow, RN, a member of the nursing staff of the Summerland General Hospital, was feted to an evening of fun and festivities. The gay affair was arranged by Mev Wells and David Wright.

Murray's grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Elliott, were pioneers of the Summerland district where his grandfather originated Elliott's department store and his father, A. K. Elliott, still carries on the business.

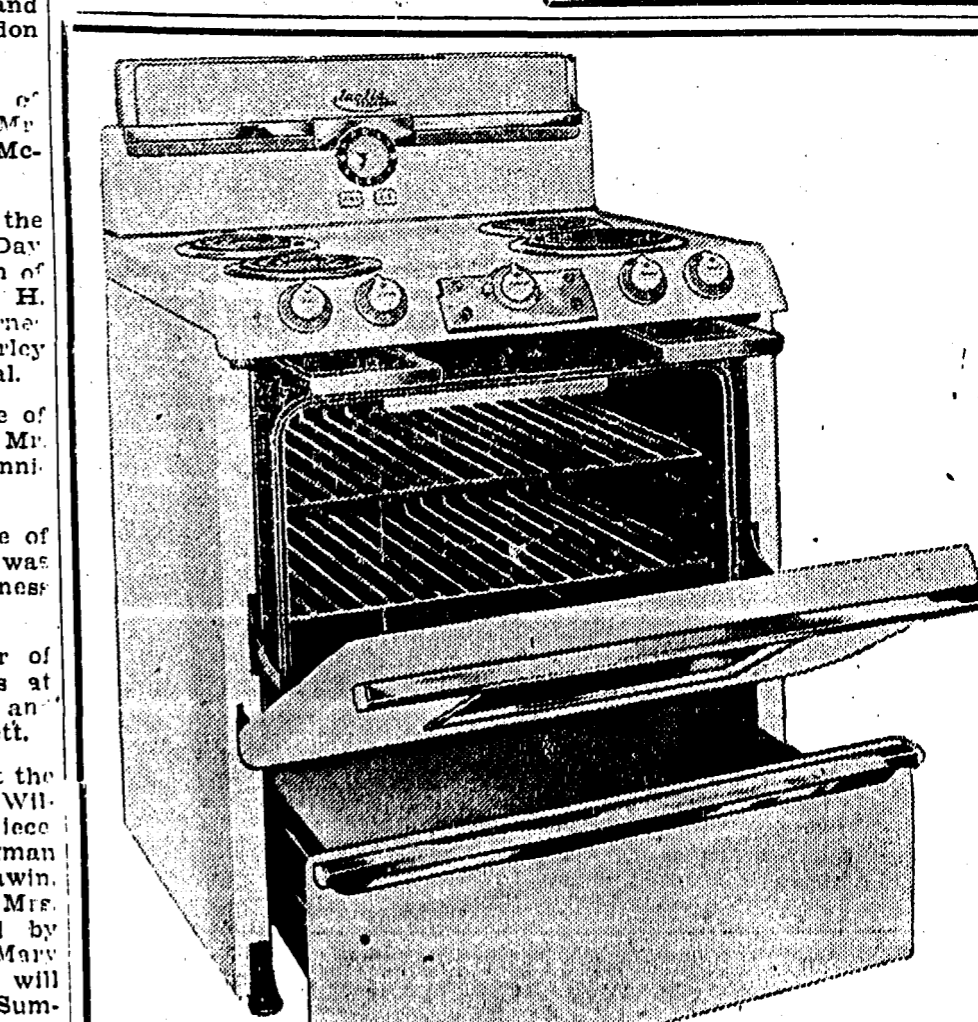

VISITING ABROAD

Miss Gweneth Atkinson, secretary of the Summerland Box Factory, is spending her holidays visiting at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hack and Frankie were visitors to Beaverdell over the weekend.

Among those who attended the South Okanagan Guiders' training meeting held in Cawston on Saturday afternoon were Mrs. Kenneth McIntosh, district commissioner; Mrs. Alex Inch, Guide captain; Mrs. Walter Toevs, Brown Owl; Miss Marg Barraud, Ranger captain, and Mrs. Bruce Blagborne, divisional trainer.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Kercher left today for a month's holiday in Ontario where they will renew acquaintances with friends and neighbors.

Over 600 Teachers to Convene
In City of Kelowna Next Week

Over 600 teachers from an area extending from Revelstoke to Princeton will start arriving next Thursday night in the city of Kelowna for the 32nd annual convention of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association which will continue through Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17.

It is anticipated that this will be the largest teachers' convention in the history of the Valley owing to the fact that the number of teachers in the Okanagan has increased considerably in recent years and that Kelowna enjoys the most central location in the OVTA territory.

The members of the staff of the Summerland High School and elementary school be among those who will enjoy the excellent and varied program of the convention which was planned by Walter Ratzlaff and his many assistants.

Numerous special speakers and consultants will be in attendance. All phases of the teachers' professional duties will be studied in the many sectional meetings which are planned for Friday and Saturday.

On Friday night, Oct. 16, the general public will have an opportunity to share the convention's chief speaker, Dr. Norman MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia, when he addresses the teachers and all interested Valley citizens in the auditorium of the Kelowna Senior High School commencing at 8 p.m.

Many Valley residents are vitally interested in the growth of our university, so this meeting will give everyone a chance to hear the speaker who, to a great extent, is responsible for the recent tremendous development of UBC.

Dr. MacKenzie is one of Canada's leaders in the field of education and he is also an excellent speaker who is always in great demand.

Try Beef Stew . . .

Canadians Eat Five Times More
Beef Than Other Kinds of Meat

Now is a good time to talk about beef, for there is plenty available and it is very reasonable in price. Last year there were 35,000,000 pounds of beef inspected for grade in Canada by officials of the Canada Department of Agriculture. About one-third of this amount was graded into the two top grades, Grade A or Red brand and Grade B or Blue brand. The remainder fell into the C and D Grades.

Canadians love good beef and last year each person in Canada ate about 45 pounds of beef alone. As compared to 7 pounds of veal and 2 pounds of lamb.

In most homes more roast beef is purchased than any other beef cut. That seems natural enough because after all a good slice of roast beef would appeal to anyone at any time.

Generally, the cuts of meat which are most suitable for oven roasting, broiling or pan frying, in other words those most suited to dry heat cookery are the most expensive. This is because they are in the greatest demand and there are fewer of these cuts than those which have to be cooked by moist heat.

However, less tender cuts which are usually less expensive are just as delicious and just as nutritious provided they are cooked slowly in moist heat. There is no material difference in the nutritive value of the different cuts of beef. The main difference is that less tender cuts take more cooking time, tender cuts take more money. It is up to you to decide which you have the most of.

Are you wondering what to have for dinner today? What could be better than a good hot stew with plenty of vegetables? When served with a bowl of crisp green salad it makes a delicious low cost meal.

Beef continues to be a good buy and what is better for stew than beef. The beef usually sold as stew meat comes from the flank, the neck, the brisket or the shank of the animal. Always unwrap meat as soon as you get it home from the butcher and plan to use it quickly for cut meat deteriorates rapidly.

The secret of making a good stew is to cook the meat to fork tenderness with not overcooked vegetables with a rich gravy which is smooth and seasoned to perfection. This, of course, means long slow simmering of the meat with the vegetables put in just long enough before the meat is done to cook them. That point is most important. Put the vegetables in just long enough before the meat is done to cook them.

Use different combinations of vegetables in stew, for instance, carrots with lima beans and small onions, or celery with peas and carrots or green beans with onions and potatoes. To enhance the flavor of stew add a bay leaf or perhaps a garlic clove or a little meat sauce.

Thickened stews are usually more popular than those which are not thickened and a special favorite is a thickened stew topped with a fluffy mashed potato crust which has been slipped under the broiler to heat through and to delicately brown.

For another variation why not serve dumplings or rice instead of potatoes with stew.

There are certain seasons for certain foods and right now lamb is in season and will be for several weeks. People usually talk about "spring lamb" thinking it is a product of the spring, but actually lamb does not appear on our markets until late summer or early winter. It takes several months after the lambs are born in the spring before they are actually big enough to make good eating.

Speaking of good eating what has more distinctive flavor and sweetness than lamb. Some of our sister dominions are great lamb eaters, but in Canada we do not eat much lamb, as a matter of fact last year each person in Canada ate only about two pounds of lamb. That certainly was not much and the home economists wonder why, because lamb is so delicious, if it is of good quality and has been properly cooked.

If the family loves lamb, why not make a lamb stew? The meat commonly sold as lamb stew meat comes from the flank, the shank or the neck.

The original lamb stew which we know as "Irish stew" served with dumplings was always made with light meat, in other words the lamb was not browned in fat. Today we prefer to brown the meat for our stews.

Lake Trout Introduction Favored by Local Club

Members of Summerland Fish and Game Club Monday night went on record as strongly favoring the proposal to stock Okanagan Lake with lake trout. The members before taking the stand to favor the plan heard reviews of reports by fish biologists that the introduction of these fish into the Okanagan would not interfere with the sport fish which now inhabit the lake.

Plans of the game department to introduce the big grey trout here received a set-back at the recent meeting of the B.C. Interior Fish and Game Association in Kelowna when a divergence of opinion on whether the experiment would be successful led to a resolution asking that no steps be taken to stock the lake with grey trout until further investigation has been carried out to determine if the lake trout and rainbow trout can live in the same waters.

Fears were expressed at the meeting the bigger lake trout would devour the rainbows. At Monday night's meeting, however, reports of fish biologists were presented which stated that tests so far conducted have been sufficient to indicate clearly there is no danger in this respect. It was pointed out the two species live at different water levels and would not interfere with each other. One experiment was quoted in which 1,000 rainbow trout from Okanagan Lake were examined and the stomach contents of only seven per cent disclosed they were living off other fish. This means, it was pointed out, there is a considerable feeding potential in the lake which is not being used. Grey trout have been known to grow to 60 pounds and more and local enthusiasts believe the introduction of these fish would provide extra months of good fishing in the lake and would increase tourist interest here.

David Hurn, manager of the Summerland Fish Hatchery, was present at the meeting and gave the members an outline of the reasons behind recommendations for uncontrolled fishing in certain lakes which have become overpopulated. Fish in some waters, he said, have become so numerous there is insufficient food and, as a result the fish are not developing in size. Best answer to this problem has been to lift all restrictions on season, size and limit in these lakes so that fishermen can more quickly reduce the number to a point where they can properly develop, he said. A minor problem of this nature exists in Trout Creek and at Garnet Valley Dam, he said, and it has been met by reducing the minimum legal size from eight to six inches.

Also under discussion at the meeting was a proposal to urge the federal department of transport to construct a breakwater to create a small boat harbor at Summerland. The club intends to pursue this matter further and will seek support of other local organizations in an effort to obtain this protection for small boats.

Local Curlers In BEG Bonspiel

Curling season for one Summerland quartet got underway last night with the first draw of the mammoth bonspiel being staged in Vancouver in aid of the British Empire Games. More than 125 rinks are entered in the big six-day spiel which is being run off at two Vancouver rinks and Summerland is ably represented with the local rink being skipped by Bill Croft whose rink last year copped top honors in all Valley bonspiels and came within a hair's breadth of being the B.C. entry in the MacDonald Brier bonspiel.

With Skip Croft in the coast event are Herb Lemke, Dick Topping and Ernie Coughlan. The latter two, from Oliver, are members of the Summerland Club. Last year the Croft rink won out in the Penticton, Peachland and Summerland bonspiels, copped grand aggregate at Kamloops and were edged out in the final end as the MacDonald Brier entry.

BERT BERRY'S Hunting and Fishing News

Okanagan Lake has been good again this week. Biggest fish so far has been 2½ pounds, but most seem to have good catches every time out. The lake has been rough, though and this has cut down the fishing around the east side of the lake around the island and Squally Point. The landlock salmon are now ready to spawn in the creeks so I think a switch to plugs is going to be better for catching larger fish.

Silver Lake fishing has been good.

Glenn Lake has good fishing.

Headwaters: No reports from here this week.

Fish Lake Camp: Good fishing on the upper lakes.

The fishing has really improved.

G. Pennington reports Hidden Lake by Enderby is very good. He caught a 7½ pound, a 5½ pound and a 4½ pound here last weekend.

Final Entry Date Set For Bowling Teams

Final date for entering teams in the King Pin Bowling League was set at Oct. 10 following a recent meeting of the association held at the bowling alleys.

The decision is to give time to prepare and publish the schedule before the league opens for the 1953-54 bowling season on Oct. 19.

Survey is being conducted among the teams who bowled last year to ascertain how many will be in this year's league.

To overcome an excessive number of defaults when players or team spares are unable to attend, a new system will be tried out this year by which instead of each team having its own spares, there will be a pool of spares from which all teams will draw.

Set up of the league in division will be determined after entries have been received and it is known how many teams will be competing.

Curling Club Plans New Accommodation

Curling club executive Monday night laid plans for opening of the season on Nov. 13 and studied plans for new construction to be carried out at the rink. The opening event at the rink will be the Rotary Bonspiel.

The new construction will provide upstairs accommodation to include a glassed-in spectator section across the end of the rink, committee rooms and club rooms. Work on the new accommodation will be started in the very near future. General meeting of the club membership will be on Nov. 4.

Good Deeds you may have done unknowingly

1. Here's a new home you may have helped provide for one of your neighbours — if you are a life insurance policyholder. For part of your premium money is invested by your life insurance company in ways that provide funds for building not only houses, but schools, roads, power plants, other developments.

2. Perhaps, too, you can take a small part of the credit for Tommy's recovery from a serious illness. Medical science is always learning more, through research, about how to combat disease. And you may be providing some of the funds that life insurance companies contribute to such vital research projects.

3. Ever help a man get a job? You may have — unknowingly. For life insurance money, invested in ways that enable an industry to expand, has played an important part in providing new jobs for many workers — including, perhaps, yourself.

4. As a life insurance policyholder, you do all your fellow-citizens a service. For the financial security you've provided for your family reduces the chance of their ever becoming a burden to others. The more protection you own, the more that chance is reduced.

In all these ways, millions of life insurance policyholders are building security for their future — and helping to make Canada a better land to live in!

CPR Had First Domes

A long forgotten genius in the Canadian Pacific Railway's motive power and rolling stock department came up with an idea at the turn of the 20th century that blossomed into additional passenger revenues for rail lines throughout the continent.

It was the first "dome" car to be used on railway lines and was designed to give passengers a bird's eye view of Canada's spectacular Rocky Mountain scenery.

Today the idea has spread throughout the world, particularly in the United States where railway dome cars are a feature of several lines.

In a recent $38,000,000 order for 155 new stainless steel cars, the CPR included 36 scenic-dome cars, such as the one shown above, in top picture, which will give travellers an unmatched view of this country's scenery from coast to coast. The cars will be placed in service on transcontinental trains next year.

Although the designer of the dome car prototype, shown in bottom picture, above, remains unknown, he gave Canada's first transcontinental rail line a head start in railway design. In July, 1902, the world's first dome car rolled out of the shops and into service.

In it, railway passengers could sit in revolving parlor car chairs or reversible seats and have a clear view of Canada's scenery.

TEEN TOWN

According to all reports, the Teen Town dance held on Saturday evening in the Youth Centre was a most successful affair. A large number of teen-agers turned out to support the dance and for a change everyone seemed to mix instead of sitting on the sidelines and just watching.

The hall was gaily decorated with colorful streamers for the occasion and the teen-agers danced the evening away to the excellent music of the high school's modern dance band.

The boys were in their best form and continued playing with hardly a break as the public address system was out of order and records couldn't be heard in the large hall.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation by master of ceremonies Jack Smith. On behalf of the Teen Towners he presented Yvonne Polosello with a beautiful compact for representing Teen Town in the Miss Summerland contest. Yvonne very nicely expressed her appreciation to the group.

Winner of the ticket draw was Leila Lewis who won a lovely box of chocolates and winners of the elimination squat dance were Lorna Alexander and Don Gilbert who were presented with a comical space gun each.

During the evening delicious refreshments were served by Teen Town members and then dancing was resumed until midnight.

The P-TA has kindly consented to sponsor Teen Town and we must back the Association up and co-operate to our fullest extent or we will lose our sponsor. If the P-TA does not sponsor us, we cannot have the Youth Centre and if we do not have the hall we cannot have Teen Town so everyone come out to the meetings and parties and help keep Teen Town alive.

Those who so kindly chaperoned the Saturday night dance were Mr. and Mrs. A. Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. H. Dunsdon.

Summerland Delegates Attend Fall Presbyterian Rally in Penticton

Visitors from Summerland, West Summerland, Peachland, Kelowna, Cawston, Hedley, Okanagan Falls, Oliver, Osoyoos and Rutland gathered in Penticton recently for the fall rally of the Women's Missionary Society for Kamloops-Okanagan Presbyterian of the United Church. Guest speaker of the rally was Mrs. A. A. Scott who said "Denominationalism is unknown in India; our work covers church, school, medicine and agriculture," in speaking of the Christian Missions in India.

The speaker, who is the wife of Rt. Rev. A. A. Scott, moderator of the United Church in Canada, and who has lived in India for over 40 years, gave a review of her work within the missions there. She told of the first to be established in 1906 and the outstanding service the mission personnel contribute to various projects.

Continuing with her address, the speaker said, "The importance of the church in India is increasing and our missionaries work under the Indian church."

In charge of the Presbyterian rally held in conjunction with the Pictorial Exposition was Mrs. E. W. Unwin of Penticton, president of the Presbyterian. Mrs. J. H. Myers, president of the Women's Federation of the Penticton United Church, welcomed the many visitors.

Speakers during the morning sessions were Mrs. H. W. King, with a devotional on the subject of "Growth in grace and in knowledge of Christ;" Mrs. Unwin spoke on the WMS study book for the year; Mrs. Myers and Mrs. Fred Kay gave a book review; Mrs. T. F. Williams of Kelowna spoke briefly on the study books for the year and also on the importance of the local work of the Christian Leadership Training School in Nanaimo.

During the serving of afternoon tea and refreshments, Mrs. J. E. King, WMS worker from Montreal, gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on her 40 years in that work.

Eating Meat Helps Prevent Tooth Decay

Tooth decay is most likely to flourish where diets do not include reasonably substantial amounts of meat foods, according to evidence pointed out by the Council of Canadian Beef Producers (Western Section).

It has been observed many times that the meat-eating Eskimos suffered only slightly from tooth decay until they adopted the white man's food habits with higher intake of carbohydrates and lower protein. In the case of certain meat-eating tribes of Africa, a similar state of soundness in teeth has been indicated as long as the traditional diets were followed. In susceptibility to tooth decay, hereditary and racial differences are known to exist; Negroes for example have a lower incidence of tooth decay than do the white races. But the nature of food supplies is still considered as the most important single factor in causing or preventing dental caries.

Recent studies reported by Gerald J. Cox, professor of dental research at the School of Dentistry, University of Pittsburgh, have justified the conclusion that "either high meat diets or miscellaneous diets with water providing the right amount of fluorine lead to the formation of decay-resisting enamel." The workers admit that they are not certain how tooth health benefits from the greater consumption of proteins in the meats. It may actually build resistance to decay; it may inhibit the decay processes when they start or it may do both.

In any case, a caries-resistant enamel in teeth seems to be related to the quality of dietary protein. It is recognized by nutrition specialists that beef possesses protein of the highest quality.

From 1939 to 1952 total wages and salaries earned by Canadians climbed from less than $3 billion to more than $10 billion; in terms of constant dollars the total of wages and salaries more than doubled in those years.

Chinese Pastor To Speak Here

Miss Jessie Wong, the only ordained Chinese woman minister outside of China, will be the guest speaker at the Pentecostal Church this Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Miss Wong, who has worked among her own people for 23 years, left China in 1950 for Vancouver, B.C. Enroute she spent considerable time conducting meetings in the USA. Rev. Wong has pastored churches and missions in China and Canada. She founded the Cantonese Gospel Mission in Shanghai. She will speak on her persecutions in China. Forty three years ago, as a small child, Miss Wong refused to bow to her family idols. Since that time she has been instrumental in leading scores of Chinese to the peace of Christianity.

Her mission station in Shanghai was bombed by the Japanese in 1937 and for four and one half years she did not dare utter a word of English except for her prayers behind locked doors. Her food supply was drastically reduced and finally her health broke.

Miss Wong will have many thrilling experiences to relate of how God brought her through it all.

Trout Creek District Has Kindergarten; First In Its History

A playschool modelled after kindergarten classes, was opened to the pre-school children of Trout Creek for the first time last Tuesday in the basement of the Trout Creek Church of God.

Rev. A. F. Irving, pastor of the church, welcomed the 16 children who registered, with an interesting talk. Teacher for the children, between the ages of four and five, will be Mrs. N. H. Charlton, assisted by Mrs. E. Wright and Miss Ione Embree.

The classes will be on Tuesday and Thursday morning of each week from 9 to 11 a.m. with a light snack for the youngsters at 10 a.m. Included in the program will be singing, games, handicrafts, paper work and other kindergarten subjects.

The playschool was organized by mothers who were interested in seeing their children go to kindergarten. Officers of the mothers group are as follows: Mrs. J. Miltimore, president; Mrs. C. V. G. Morgan, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. R. H. Smith, phoner; Mrs. A. F. Irving, liaison officer, and Mrs. S. Porritt, social convenor.

If any mothers would like to send their children to the playschool they should contact one of the above officers.

BROWNIE CHATTER

The 2nd Summerland Brownie pack commenced its fall meetings on September 18 and as Brown Owl is absent for the time being, Tawney Owl is leading the pack.

We have six brand new Tweenies: Dianne Haggman, Rene Kennedy, Agnes Bangma, Darlene Campbell, Maureen Clifford and Sharon Geres. We still have room for two more girls of eight years of age.

On Wednesday, October 7, the Brownies of the first and second packs met with the Guides at the Youth Centre and all took part in the "Flying Up" ceremony when nine Brownies flew up to Guides. These girls were all Golden Hand Brownies which they accomplished before their eleventh birthday.

We are very proud of you girls: Carolyn Reid, Eleanor Raincock, Nancy Graham, Vickie Cuthbert and Dianne Hannah of the second Summerland pack and Louise Shannon, Phyllis Young, Gay Greer and Lynn Bleasdale of the first Summerland pack.

Swimmers' badges were presented at the meeting to the following girls: Nancy Young, Eleanor Raincock, Dianne Gillard, Carolyn Reid, Barbara Tait and Elspeth Tavender.

Our new sixes are, Elves: Pat Kennedy, Dianne Gillard; Fairies: Sheila Allen, Helen Farrell; Pixies: Judy Mitchell, Nancy Young; Sprites: Elspeth Tavender, Sandra Gibbard.

First member of our group committee to visit us was George Lewis who gave us a hand at our meeting Tuesday night. We had a Kims game on observation which many boys passed. Next week we will continue the 2nd class test on sound and smell.

A number of boys worked on their knots, lashings and signalling.

All boys who are working on their tenderfoot test will have a chance to pass what they know next week. Next week we are having an inspector so be sure your uniform is complete and clean. Personal cleanliness will also be checked so make sure the lobe of your left ear is spotless to say nothing of the white of your eyes.

We were very pleased to welcome Myles Gillard into the troop as a member of the Hawks patrol. We still have room for a few more boys who are really interested in our work.

TEEN TOWN NEWS

A big, successful dance was held on October 3. This dance was either a Do or Die affair, to see whether Teen Town would fold up or continue.

We had a wonderful crowd of nearly 100 ambitious teen-agers who enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent, dancing to the music of the Play Boys and enjoying good refreshments. The lucky ticket for the door prize of a box of chocolates was held by Lella Lewis. A good time was had by all and Teen Town will carry on if the enthusiasm continues to grow in both the younger and older teen-agers.

A meeting was called by the P-TA for all Teen-agers in the Youth Centre on Friday night, Oct. 9. Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh announced that the P-TA would like to know more about Teen Town and just how it is run. She stressed that they would assist with Teen Town in any every possible way.

Mrs. F. E. Atkinson went over with us the importance and rules of the Teen Town constitution. She read us a letter from the Okanagan Main Line Teen Town Association inviting us to send two of our members to represent Summerland at the conference being held in Armstrong on Oct. 25.

Of Canada's larger cities, Edmonton, Alta., had the greatest percentage increase in population from 1941 to 1951.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1953

We were asked by the Youth Centre Association to take over the program to be held in the Youth Centre on Halloween night. Teen Towners agreed and we are now working on the fireworks, children's entertainment and a teen-agers barn dance for later in the evening.

We would greatly appreciate it if all you teen-agers would take part in the planning of this night. Give your names to one of the council members or the mayor and they will assign you to a job.

Decorating for the barn dance will get under way right after school the night before the dance which is on Oct. 30. All teen-agers are asked to come out and give their help.

It was decided to have a meeting of this kind once a month where all teen-agers can bring up suggestions and new ideas. The date of the next meeting has not yet been decided upon but will be given at a later date.

Well, I guess that winds up the news for this week, kids, but we hope that we will be hearing from and seeing you all soon.

Thanks for your wonderful support.

What could you do with a thousand....?

Yes, we mean a thousand, crisp Canadian bucks! Count 'em . . . !

Your heart would go pit-a-pat, and you couldn't get home fast enough to spill the good news.

At first thought, having a thousand may sound like a pipe dream. But is it?

Most everyone . . . if he puts his mind to it . . . can pile up a thousand dollars, or a sizable sum . . . the Canada Savings

Bonds way . . . because . . . you can get your bond, dollar by dollar, month by month, in amounts you'll never feel.

If you had started tucking away 56¢ a day with the first series Canada Savings Bonds—and had kept at it—you'd have your thousand dollars today . . . and more.

Many, many Canadians have done just this, and will continue to do so.

The new 8th Series of Canada Savings Bonds will help to put you on the thousand dollar road.

You can get them for cash—or in instalments, to suit your convenience.

Through your bank, investment dealer, or your own Company's Payroll Savings Plan.

St. Andrew's Thanksgiving Dinner Recorded as Extremely Successful

The annual Thanksgiving dinner, sponsored by the ladies of St. Andrew's Service Club and held on Monday evening in the United Church Hall, went on record as being one of the most successful holiday dinners ever held here. The brilliant hues of fall leaves and baskets of harvest fruits graced the tables for the Thanksgiving repast and gayly colored autumn flowers completed the decorative theme in the hall.

Over 400 people were served the delicious meal of turkey with "all the trimmings" as well as a wide variety of vegetables, dessert of apple or pumpkin pie and tea or coffee.

The friendly atmosphere of the holiday celebration was enjoyed by all who attended and excellent music was provided between sittings and prior to the meal by Eugene Bates, organist, accompanied by Mrs. Lionel Fudge, pianist.

Convenors of the affair were Mrs. Jack Wilcox, Mrs. Steve Cannings and Mrs. James Marshall.

Serviteurs were members of St. Andrew's Service Club, the United Church and other local women's organizations.

Vows by Candlelight . . .

Elliott-Woodrow Nuptial Rites Against Setting Of Flowers

Soft radiance of candlelight enhanced the beautiful picture as Reta Louise Woodrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Woodrow of Lacombe, Alberta, was given in marriage by her father to Murray Rhodes Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott in St. Andrew's United Church last Thursday evening. Rev. C. O. Richmond officiated at the nuptial vows at half past seven.

Before the altar banked with baskets of pastel colored gladioli, the pretty fair-haired bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and lace over satin. The fitted bodice, buttoned down the back, featured a scalloped sweetheart neckline, long lily-point sleeves and the scallops were repeated in the full skirt where the lace was attached to the tulle. A half-crown of lace and seed pearls held in place her fingertip veil of filmy illusion net and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and stephanotis. A single strand of pearls was the bride's only jewelry.

Attending the bride were the groom's sister, Mrs. W. E. Kennedy of Vancouver and Mrs. Howard Duncan of Pentiction whose charming gowns added to the lovely picture made by the bridal party.

Mrs. Kennedy wore a deep rose taffeta gown with a fitted bodice and net yoke and a matching head-dress and she carried a colonial bouquet of bronze colored chrysanthemums. Mrs. Duncan's gown was of pretty blue net tiered over taffeta with a net yoke and a small headdress to match. Her colonial style bouquet was of deep yellow chrysanthemums.

Bestman for the groom was Jack Dunham of Grand Forks and ushering were the bride's brother, Bryce Woodrow of Lacombe, Alberta; David Wright and Jack Dunsdon of Summerland.

Organist was Mrs. M. Zimmerman and Mrs. Kenneth Boothe sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Following the wedding rites, a reception was held in the United Church hall where the parents of the bride and groom assisted in receiving the one hundred and fifty guests.

Mrs. Woodrow wore a charming gown of Wedgewood blue crepe, the skirt featuring deep tucks from waist to hemline. She wore black accessories and a corsage of chrysanthemums. A black ensemble was worn by Mrs. Elliott, with a grey squirrel neckpiece, matching accessories and a corsage of bronze mums.

Dark red gladioli and mums decorated the reception hall and the beautifully appointed bride's table was arranged with white gladioli, white tapers in silver holders and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in white tulle on which pink rosebuds were scattered.

Master of ceremonies was Jack Dunham and Gordon Smith proposed the toast to the bride with the groom responding in the traditional manner.

Mrs. K. Boothe sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the reception.

Presiding over the tea and coffee were Mrs. Frank McDonald, Mrs. K. Taylor, Mrs. I. Allardice and Mrs. J. R. Butler. Assisting in serving were nurse friends of the bride, including Miss Beverley Fleming, Miss Millie Hudson, Miss Enid Maynard, Miss Mary Vevers, Miss Thelma Buffam and Miss Ellen Holley.

For her honeymoon trip to Christina and home via the USA and Vancouver, the bride donned an attractive blue-grey boucle knitted dress, topped by a navy and grey coat with navy accessories and accented with a corsage of scarlet carnations.

Upon their return the happy, young couple will reside in West Summerland.

The bride, who is a graduate of the University of Alberta School of Nursing, Edmonton, has been a member of the staff of the Summerland General Hospital. The groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Elliott, were pioneer residents of the Summerland district.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included the bride's parents and her brother of Lacombe, Alberta, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Burrows of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. B. Pollock of Kelowna, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Sutherland of Pentiction and P. McLaughlin of Armstrong.

Quiet Autumn Wedding Solemnized In Pentiction United Church Manse

A quiet, informal wedding was solemnized in the Pentiction United Church manse on October 10 when Mrs. E. Pohlmann, formerly of West Summerland and O. M. Love of Armstrong exchanged vows before Rev. Ernest Rands.

The bride wore an attractive gaudine suit of medium grey with wine accessories and a corsage of blush pink roses for her afternoon marriage. She was attended by her youngest daughter, Mrs. R. Keeley of Pentiction and her eldest granddaughter, Miss Cheryl Ann McCargar of Summerland.

Mrs. Keeley was gowned in a Glen check suit with pink accessories and a corsage of red roses. Miss McCargar wore a taffeta dress of Dress Beatrice Tartan and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and yellow mums with a matching headdress.

R. Keeley of Pentiction, the bride's son-in-law, was bestman for the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's son-in-law and eldest daughter,

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCargar of West Summerland.

Mrs. McCargar, wearing an afternoon dress of navy blue sheer over taffeta with navy accessories and a corsage of wine mums and shasta daisies, assisted the bride and groom in receiving the guests who attended from Pentiction and Summerland.

Chrysanthemums in many shades decorated the home for the reception and the beautifully appointed wedding table was centered with a wedding cake flanked by lovely red roses sent by the bride's two sons, George Pohlmann and Gordon Pohlmann who are serving in Korea.

Following the reception, the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip by car to Creston returning via the USA to Armstrong where they will take up residence.

Out of town guests at the ceremony were an uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Garratt of Milnestone, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Pohlmann Guest At Kitchen Shower

Mrs. E. Pohlmann was guest of honor at a kitchen shower held on Wednesday, October 7, at the home of Mrs. Edgar Gould. Mrs. Pohlmann was married on October 10 to O. M. Love of Armstrong.

Gay contests and games were played followed by delicious refreshments served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. A. McCargar.

In attendance at the party were Mrs. H. B. Blair, Mrs. T. W. Boothe, Mrs. W. W. Hemingway, Mrs. H. F. Vanderburg, Mrs. Eileen Allison and Mrs. L. Baneroff. Those unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. W. Atkinson, Mrs. Ena Stewart, Mrs. W. Hack, Mrs. B. Nesbitt and Mrs. P. Dunsdon.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

Several friends and neighbors gathered last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilburn of Jones Flat for the 88th birthday celebrations of Mrs. Wilburn's mother, Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Davis, whose home is in Nipawin, Saskatchewan, is spending the winter months here with her son-in-law and daughter and family.

English "bobby jacket" and dress of red chiffon wool broadcloth with matching red satin collar and girdle. Neckline is a baby "V".

D. Waddell Honored By Gift Presentation

Dave Waddell, past president of both the Badminton and Athletic clubs and who is leaving shortly for Winnipeg, was presented with a beautiful wrist watch by the members of the clubs at a party last Saturday evening in the Badminton hall.

Presentation of the gift was made by Jim Miltimore and nearly 50 members were in attendance for the evening.

Hawaiian movies were shown and following a few games of badminton, the evening concluded with dancing and the serving of delicious refreshments.

Thanksgiving week-end guests with Mrs. J. A. Darke were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Tedder and daughters Marilyn and Marjorie, of Kamloops. Mrs. Arnold Gayton accompanied them on their return to Kamloops where she will holiday for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. (nee Jean Asay) Ray Simmons of Colonsay, Sask., and John Asay of Hawarden, Sask., were visitors for a few days last week at the homes of their sister, Mrs. E. E. Bates and mother, Mrs. A. Asay.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has placed an order with the Budd Company for 155 new lightweight, all-stainless-steel streamlined passenger cars which will radically improve transcontinental travel in Canada, it has been announced, by N. R. Crump, vice-president of the company. Designed primarily for travel between Montreal-Toronto and Vancouver, the cars, which will cost $38,000,000, will start to be delivered in early 1954. The order includes 18 observation cars of the "Vista-Dome" type shown above, 18 "Vista-Dome" type coaches, 30 day coaches, 71 sleeping cars and 18 diners. The equipment on order is the equivalent of 15 complete trains.

The HI LIFE

By JILL SANBORN

Well, kids, here we are back at the old grind. Things are pretty well normal again, I think. For awhile no one knew if they were coming or going, least of all the teachers, but everything is straightened out now so we are down to good old school work at last.

Our social life so far has been very limited—so limited, in fact that there just hasn't been any. Oh, well, things should start livening up pretty soon with some good old hen parties. We have such wonderful hen parties!

At our dances the girls hold up one wall and the boys hold up the other, but who knows? Maybe this year it will be different. By the way, our new social committee consists of Leila Lewis, Irene Menu, Glen Heavysides, Barry Agur and Jack Pohlmann.

We have played six soccer games this season. Kelowna and Rutland senior boys, senior girls and junior boys. Rutland came out victorious trouncing the senior boys 4-0, senior girls 1-0 and junior boys 1-0. Kelowna junior and senior boys came out on top, too, but our senior girls managed to hold the Kelowna girls to a one-all tie. Come on, teams, let's beat both Kelowna and Rutland from now on.

An assembly, the first this year, was held early in September with Bill Krause, students' council president in the chair. We had a good discussion about whether the grade nine classes should be allowed to vote in the senior elections. A motion was made to the effect that they should be allowed to take part. It was voted upon but didn't carry. However, the motion will have to be voted on in three assemblies and must have a two-thirds majority before the constitution can be changed or the motion thrown out.

Last week was Fire Prevention.

Week and on Thursday afternoon the four winners of the Fire Prevention Week essay contest, sponsored by the Summerland Rotary Club, were given the thrill of a lifetime—a ride on the fire truck. The lucky ones were Arlene Embree, Bruce Brown, Ross Norstrom and Barbara Baker. Congratulations, kids!

I guess that's about all for now but in closing I'd like to say a big "HI" and extend a warm welcome to all the new students. Bye for now, kids. See you next week.

Wedding Party of Mrs. Murray Elliott Entertained at Tea

Last Wednesday afternoon the nurses on the staff of the Summerland General Hospital were entertained at tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott.

An ecor outwork cloth centered the tastefully appointed table which was arranged with bronze and cream chrysanthemums and white tapers in silver holders. Assisting in pouring were Mrs. Elliott, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Murray R. Elliott (nee Reta Woodrow, RN) and daughter, Mrs. E. Pollock of Kelowna.

In the evening the members of the wedding party of Mr. and Mrs. Murray R. Elliott gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Elliott for an informal party.

Tea and refreshments were served, and the members were presented with small tokens of appreciation by the bride and groom.

Choir Members Honor Mrs. Murray Elliott

A gay social evening was held by the members of St. Andrew's United Church choir on Oct. 2, following the regular choir practice.

During the evening Mrs. Murray R. Elliott (nee Reta Woodrow, RN) was presented with a wedding gift of a beautiful lamp by the choir members.

The serving of dainty refreshments concluded the enjoyable evening.

VISITING ABROAD

Travelling to Kamloops for the holiday week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Inaba and family.

Mrs. G. G. Young left yesterday for Creston, where she will spend sometime with her mother, Mrs. Tompkins and visiting friends and acquaintances.

While production per worker varies greatly from mill to mill, the Canadian steelworker's productivity is probably from one half to one third less than that of his U.S. counterpart.

Station Staff Honors Departure of Member

David B. Waddell was guest of honor at an informal gathering in the boarding house of the Experimental Station last Tuesday evening.

He demonstrated the use of a beautiful silver cocktail set consisting of shaker, glasses and tray, which were presented to him at noon of the same day by the employees of the farm.

Mr. Waddell, who has been on the staff of the farm since 1937 with a slight absence during the war, is leaving the entomology laboratory where he is largely employed with the development and assessment of concentrate sprayers. He is being transferred to Winnipeg, Manitoba and will work there for a short time before going to Ottawa.

Mr. Waddell has been an active member and executive of the Summerland Athletic Club and Badminton Club.

Fall Wedding Planned By Esther M. Metters

A late autumn wedding is being planned by Miss Esther Mildred Metters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Metters, whose engagement to James H. Logie, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Logie, was recently announced.

Father A. M. Meulenburgh will officiate at the early evening nuptial ceremony in the Church of the Holy Child on November 14.

Topping Rink Undeatable In BEG Curling Bonspiel

A quartet of Summerland curlers showed the way to Western Canada's top curlers in Vancouver this week when the Dick Topping rink went through 12 games without a defeat and took high honors in the British Empire Games special events bonspiel.

On the victorious rink were Bill Croft as third who alternated with Topping as skip, Ernie Coughlan as second and Herb Lemke as lead. The local club representatives won out over more than 100 rinks to win the grand aggregate, the Lumberman's and the Transportation events.

Their win gives them expensive-paid entrance in the world series of curling which will be staged in Vancouver four days prior to the British Empire Games next year. In this bonspiel they will be matched against curlers from all parts of the world.

Last year the Topping rink staged a notable list of victories in Okanagan bonspiels and were edged by the Reg Stone rink for right to play in the MacDonald Brier bonspiel by only one point.

During the BEG 'spiel, the local curlers were never in difficulty in any of their matches and showed a definite superiority throughout the play. Stiffest competition they met was in the Lumberman's final when the Frank Law rink skipped by Fred Tingling managed to keep abreast of them for six ends but couldn't hold the pace and dropped back to give Topping an 11-8 victory.

As prizes, the local curlers each received a contour chair for their victory in the Lumberman's event and movie cameras for their Transportation win. In addition, they each received individual trophies.

The events were staged at the Kerrisdale Arena and the Vancouver Curling Clubs and rinks from as far east as Winnipeg were entered in the competition.

The local quartet were up against a stiff schedule on the final day and curled four 12-end games. Croft skipped the rink for the Lumberman's event while Topping took over as mentor in the Transportation games.

Curling Season To Open Nov. 13 For Lady Curlers

As the opening of the 1953-54 curling season, November 13, draws nearer, most lady curlers are eagerly looking forward to another successful year.

The ladies curl twice a week, on Tuesday and Friday with two draws each day. The first draw is at one p.m. and the second at three p.m. This year it is hoped that Wednesday evening from 6 to 8 p.m. will be set aside for those ladies who are unable to curl in the afternoon.

The season's curling fees for ladies are $10 and any lady who is at all interested in curling is urged to attend the curling meeting in the Nu-Way annex on Oct. 20.

New curlers will be instructed in the fine points of the game. All ladies who wish to curl this year are asked to hand their names in to the secretary, Mrs. Arthur Dunsdon, phone 2716, before the meeting.

Athletic Club Elects Officers For 1953-54

At a meeting last on Oct. 8 in the badminton hall, the new executive for the 1953-54 season of the Athletic club was elected.

New president, succeeding Dave Waddell, is Morris Welsh. Vice-president is Ted Piers, treasurer is John Ruck and Miss Dorothy McLeod, secretary. Executive member of the club is Jim Miltmore.

Hunting and Fishing News

Okanagan Lake has been on. A large fish has been caught. C. Wharton caught a 16 pounder. Besides this lots of smaller fish have been caught. I think that plug fishing will pay off from now on and that fishing will improve. This shows us that all the big fish are not gone and when the conditions are O.K. you can get some big ones.

All the upper lakes are O.K. some off days but that is to be expected. On the whole, the fishing is good on the upper lakes.

Grouse hunting still spotty. Some of the boys going away back are having good luck but the rest of the easily hunted areas are shot out. Blue season still open until the end of the month. Pheasants start Oct. 24 and last till Nov. 22. Ducks start here on Oct. 24 as well and go on till Jan. 11, 1954.

Moose have been coming in again. A couple more have come in this last week.

Deer are a little slower this week. The weather isn't just good enough yet; and as soon as a cool spell and snow comes we should have a lot of deer in Summerland.

Zoning Commission To Get Consideration

Municipal council Tuesday gave consideration to the Board of Trade suggestion for the establishment of a town planning commission and will meet as a committee in November to give preliminary consideration to a by-law providing for zoning regulations and the establishment of a zoning commission to act in an advisory capacity to the council.

The commission proposed will be made up of the reeve, chairman of the parks board, chairman of the school board and three members appointed by the municipal council.

Creation of a zoning by-law is a fairly complicated process and will be preceded by hearings at which protests against features of the proposed zoning will be heard.

Need for a definite plan for future construction has become clearly evident in the fast growth of the community and the purpose of the by-law will be to prevent construction of a density in any area that will lead eventually to costly services and to prevent construction that will seriously impair property values in the area.

Rev. Jessie Wong, the only ordained Chinese woman minister outside of China, who will be guest speaker this Sunday at the local Pentecostal Church, will relate her many experiences and persecutions during her life in China and Japan.

SALARY INCREASE

Following a short discussion at Tuesday's council meeting, council members voted to boost salaries of all municipal workers by five per cent, retroactive to October 1.

About 200 Employed ...

Boys Training Camps Held This Year Under Forestry Supervision

Again this year some two hundred young men, sixteen to eighteen years of age, were employed on various projects in the forests and parks of British Columbia.

The program known as Boys' Training Camps was initiated three years ago and since that time has produced good dividends in the form of additional access roads into plantations and areas to be reforested, assistance on research projects, and the clearing and development of parks, picnic grounds, and roadside campsites. If the need arises they are used for primary suppression action on forest fires, being withdrawn and replaced by regular fire crews if the blaze is long-continued.

The crewmen are acquired in the main from high school students who make application for this type of employment in the early months of each year. Generally speaking, applicants are accepted in the order in which their applications are received, consideration being given to their home addresses in reference to the location of the projects. Thus, although an application from the Prince George district might be received later than one from Vancouver, preference would be given to the former if the project is in the vicinity of Prince George, thereby avoiding higher travel costs.

A number of the boys who start with the Forest Service in these crews continue with the service after they reach the age of eighteen in the various fire suppression crews located throughout the province; later they may enter the ranks of permanent employees as look-outmen, patrolmen, or assistant rangers. Still others become interested in forestry as a profession and proceed to the faculty of forestry at the university of British Columbia to secure their degree.

Camps range in size from eight to twenty boys depending on the type and extent of the project on which they are engaged. In addition there is a foreman to administer the camp and direct the work, and a cook.

The boys work a five-day week between Monday morning and Saturday noon. Generally, Wednesday afternoon is devoted to organized recreation but, depending on camp location and recreational facilities, the Wednesday afternoon may be spent at work replaced by Saturday morning. Recreation includes trips to logging operation mills, team games amongst themselves or against teams from nearby communities.

The camp is provided by the forest service with a small collection of books and magazines on nature, wildlife, and similar subjects and some foremen have arranged for a circulation service from public libraries.

Competent Teachers. Instruction is given by competent teachers on the proper use of the tools the boys use—axes, saws, and so forth—and the boys are rotated in the various jobs, even to a stretch in the kitchen as "cooks", where they prepare vegetables, wash dishes, and wait on table.

Supervision is close but not onerous. There is a ten o'clock curfew by which time all boys must be in camp, unless special permission to be absent is granted by the project foreman. The latter are frequently teachers who spend their summer vacation on this work, and these have proven particularly satisfactory owing to their understanding of teenagers and their sympathy with the boys' problems and interests.

The boys receive $3 per day and meals with transportation to the job. Return transportation is paid if they remain throughout the entire season. It costs approximately $500 to maintain a boy on the job for the season, this sum covering wages, board, supervision, necessary tools, and auxiliary machinery and equipment, and administration expenses. If a boy returns to the work a second year, the daily wage is increased to $3.25.

The 250 boys employed this year are distributed in 22 different camps scattered throughout the southern portion of the province from Prince Rupert and Prince George to the United States border. One of the 22 camps is recruited solely from young offenders from Okalla, and this camp is staffed and supervised by the Attorney-General's department. The funds, however, are provided under the Forest Service vote.

600 Will Participate ...

Local Teachers Attend Opening Tonight of 32 Annual Convention

Tonight the members of the staff of the Summerland high and public schools will join with approximately 600 teachers from an area extending from Revelstoke to Princeton in Kelowna for the 32nd annual convention of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association. This two-day gathering will include over 80 separate sectional meetings, a number of important addresses by prominent speakers, social events and the annual OVTA business meeting.

At one time the chief purpose of a teachers' convention was to give an opportunity to all members of the local teachers' associations to meet annually to discuss professional business matters, to set policy for the coming year and to elect new association officers. This part of the convention is still important, but it no longer holds the chief role in convention activities.

Sectional study groups now take most of the time of the teachers. In these study groups nearly every aspect of a teachers' professional work is studied and discussed. These sectional meetings cover such teaching fields as: Science, Social Studies, English, Foreign Languages, Art, Dramatics, Commercial studies, primary work, Home Economics, Industrial Arts and many more.

In some meetings speakers who are especially trained in certain fields are brought in; in others, discussion periods or panels are held; some include model lessons; others may include field trips to visit industry or business in action. From these various methods teachers have an opportunity of exchanging professional ideas, of gaining an inspirational lift from gifted speakers and are given a chance to form educational policy by debating and presenting educational resolutions to higher authorities.

The fact that many teachers gain new teaching techniques and are generally given a revitalized enthusiasm for their daily work makes these conventions extremely worthwhile.

Another important part of a teachers' convention is the display material. Classroom displays along many lines give many a teacher a hint to improved teaching. Commercial displays of the latest books, visual aids, teaching aids, commercial equipment etc., all help to keep the teacher informed on the latest advancement in educational equipment.

Some changes have been made in the convention timetable for this year. The usual opening night public meeting has been moved to Friday evening, October 16, in order that teachers from the more distant parts of the OVTA territory will have an opportunity of hearing Dr. Norman MacKenzie, President of the University of British Columbia, give his public address. The general public are encouraged to attend this important meeting. Commencement time will be 8 p.m.

For Saturday, the convention program committee has attempted to supply a fitting climax to the convention by planning two inspirational addresses by two distinguished speakers: Dr. N. MacKenzie and Mr. F. C. Boyes, principal of Vancouver Normal School. Dr. MacKenzie will speak to the high school teachers in the senior high auditorium, while Mr. Boyes will address the elementary sections in the auditorium of the junior high.

The convention planners feel quite confident that these two gentlemen will send the teachers home with a renewed vigor for their teaching duties and an even greater feeling of responsibility for their part in the advancement of Canadian youth.

Following are some of the key sectional meeting speakers and consultants: Dr. L. Lewis Robinson, head of the geography department at UBC; Dr. B. P. Sutherland, administrative assistant to the executive vice-president, western region of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada, Trail.

Alan Ross of the Forestry Division, S. M. Simpson Sawmill, Kelowna; Don Ellis, game warden in Kelowna; Bert Wales, vice-principal and counsellor at the Kitsilano Junior-Senior High School, Vancouver; Miss Grace d'Aoust of the French department of the Penitence High School; Norris Harwood, of the commercial department of the Victoria Normal School.

R. Potter, musical director of the Trail High School; Mr. Savory, occupational therapist at the Boys' Industrial School; John Lidstone, supervisor of arts and crafts in the Vancouver school system; Col. C. J. Stone, inspector of technical

Power
500,000Distribution Passes
2000 kwh For Month

Steady growth in the Summerland district was reflected in power consumption during September when for the first time electrical energy distributed by the municipality exceeded the 500,000 kilowatt-hour mark. This power distribution went out to approximately 1,300 services in the municipality.

Credit Union Day Celebrations Here Most Successful

Credit Union Day celebrations in Summerland last Thursday evening in the IOOF hall were spoken of as "most enjoyable" by the approximately 50 people who attended the affair.

The 105th anniversary of the origin of Credit Unions coincided with the local passing of the million dollar mark in loans to members and the membership was closely edging 1,000.

President of the local Credit Union, started in 1944, is John Caldwell and Walter Bleasdale is the secretary-treasurer. The first Credit Union established in Canada was in 1900.

The occasion was marked here with a showing of films by Bert Draper to start the evening off. They were entitled "Prelude to Kitimat" in color and "Boomtown" about the growing city of Toronto and also a short. These were followed by dancing to the excellent music of Freeman Reid and his saxophone, Bill Reid at the piano and Chuck Aikin and his guitar.

During the evening letters of congratulations were read from Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and from G. A. Ball, president of the Bank of Montreal. Guest in attendance was Alex Nicol, inspector of Credit Unions from the federal government.

The serving of coffee and donuts by Credit Union members concluded the successful evening.

Special Service For AOTS Group

Fourth annual AOTS National Men's Sunday will be marked this week in United Churches throughout Canada and in Summerland members of the organization will parade to St. Andrew's United Church for morning service where a special message to commemorate the occasion will be delivered by Rev. Charles O. Richmond.

Members have been requested to gather in the church hall at 10:50 a.m. so they may enter the church in a body.

AOTS—As One That Serves—is an organization of lay men using the mechanics of service clubs and practicing the ideals and purpose of Christian service within the environment of the church and community.

It was first organized at Ryeson United Church in Vancouver in 1923 and the movement has since expanded to some 200 clubs with more than 7,000 members throughout Canada and extends from coast to coast.

A special effort will be made to present the story of AOTS and the work which the members are doing to those not familiar with the movement.

Singers and Players To Give Presentation Probably in January

Gilbert and Sullivan's "Chiltern's Hundred", being produced by the Summerland Singers and Players' Club will probably be presented to the public early in the new year.

Plans are not definite as yet as the cast is not entirely complete. The executive of the club is looking for new members, especially young people who are needed for the present production.

The Summerland Volunteer Fire Department reports there have been no fires in the district this past week.

Summerland Resolutions . . .

Okanagan Teachers Ask Explanation For 'Abnormal Numbers of Failures'

Two resolutions which brought out liveliest discussion at the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association convention in Kelowna last week were those presented to the session by Summerland teacher Lacey Fisher and both received endorsement of the convention.

The chief complaint registered by the convention was over what the association termed "the abnormal number of failures in the social studies 30 examinations of June and August, this year."

The convention asked, in addition, an explanation from the education department an investigation of the course and if it is found too long, that it be reorganized to better fit into the school year.

The other resolution presented by Mr. Fisher was to ask for more specific suggestions in the bulletins from the department and that the bulletins be revised, because "the administrative bulletins in English have had a tone of pious advice objectionable to the experienced

The power demand has been steadily climbing almost month by month since the municipality started buying power from West Kootenay Power and Light in 1921 and additional services, use of more electrical equipment in homes and heavy commercial use has accounted for the steady boost in consumption.

The power distribution system in Summerland has come a long way since first electric lights were turned on here in 1906 with power supplied from a plant located on the site of the fish hatchery. This generator was driven by a Pelton wheel with water piped from a dam located where St. Stephen's Church now stands.

In the beginning service was supplied only from dusk until midnight with the plant being operated by the Summerland Development Company. This was taken over by the municipality in 1910 at a cost of $17,500 and they continued the service until 1921 when it was realized that the growth of the community warranted something better in the way of power than a few hours service each evening.

At that time the council was undecided on whether to construct a larger station or buy power wholesale from West Kootenay Power and Light. Since water used to drive the Pelton wheel detracted from the supply available for irrigation, it was decided the purchase of power in bulk was the more desirable solution.

That the decision was sound has been borne out by the fact that Summerland has one of the lowest power rates of any place in the province.

First electrician on the old system was George Gray and he was soon joined by Percy Thornber who later took over the job of electrical superintendent and remained in that position until early this year.

Oldtimers recall with affection many of the difficulties encountered prior to 1921—one being that the belt from the Pelton wheel to the generator had a propensity for slipping off which plunged everything into darkness until it could be restored. Another was the practice of carrying lanterns to dances to hang up after the power went off at midnight. The alternative to this was to try and bribe Percy Thornber to keep the plant operating a few extra hours.

The fact that the old system was overloaded and some new provision for power supply became pretty obvious in 1921 according to Reeve C. E. Bentley who recalls when power was turned on about 6 o'clock that a light bulb emitted little more than a dull red glow. "You had to light a match to see if the lights were turned on," the Reeve claims.

School Traffic To Be Protected

New protection to pedestrians will be given when the sidewalk from the east side of Kelley street from the IOOF hall to the path leading into the school grounds has been completed.

There has been some difficulty with students on the road and traffic conditions in this area and members of the school board, district 77, at a meeting recently, noted with pleasure that the municipal council plans to improve this condition.

A letter was received from the Penticton law firm of Boyle and Aikins stating that legal procedure was completed in connection with consolidating of all the school property and it is expected that the part of Jubilee road intersecting school property will soon be closed.

Rough grading of the road at the north end of the school grounds has been done but the road is not yet ready for traffic.

Quarter-Century Button Presented

Summerland Legion members at their meeting last week honored J. E. O'Mahoney with presentation of a 25-year Legion button to mark a quarter century of membership in the organization.

Report of the Poppy Day committee revealed sale of wreaths is progressing very well and plans are being advanced for the sale of poppies on Nov. 7.

Members approved a resolution for presentation to the zone meeting urging the department of veterans affairs to consider adopted children of veterans on the same basis as natural children whose pensions, educational grants and other benefits are concerned.

This resolution was considered and approved at the zone meeting at Copper Mountain last Sunday night. In attendance at the zone meeting from this branch were H. C. Howie, Nathaniel May, C. E. Bentley and R. E. Oxley.

Also approved by the Copper Mountain meeting was a new set of by-laws for the zone.

Pretty Good Hand For Cribbage Amateur

The one department in which Bill Laidlaw has always been master in his own home was cribbage. With unfailing regularity he has been able to beat Mrs. L. hands down.

But the old order changed. Playing a few nights ago, Mrs. L. watched Bill smugly pegging his score to a comfortable lead but she was holding what she figured was a pretty good count and was feeling just a bit smug, too.

Then she laid down the cribbage-player's dream, three fives and a Jack with the fourth five—same breed as her Jack—starting up from the top of the deck. Bill watched grimly as she pegged out her 29 points and looked even more grim as she went on to skunk him in the game.

Urge Compulsory Premiums . . .

Hospital Board Backs Resolutions Calling For 'Realistic' Financing

Three resolutions urging BCHIS to adopt a more realistic attitude toward hospital financing received support of Summerland Hospital Board Tuesday evening and delegate J. E. O'Mahoney was instructed to support the resolutions when they are presented later this month to the annual meeting of the B.C. Hospital Association in Vancouver.

The three resolutions will be presented by the Okanagan and District Regional Council quarterly meeting in Penticton.

One resolution dealt with compulsory payment of BCHIS premiums, another that policy should be established that would make provision for hospitals to operate with a surplus to give incentive and one that the government be asked to establish a "realistic" per diem rate.

Board members in discussing these resolutions pointed out that two of them could be met by the hospital insurance service only by an increase in premium rate and doubt was expressed that the government would entertain any rate increase. However, it was felt that while they would receive no sympathetic consideration from the government, still they should be reminded at every possible opportunity that hospital financing by BCHIS is incomplete.

The first resolution read: ". . . that the Okanagan and District Regional Council request the B.C. Hospital Association to urge in the most strenuous terms, the adoption by the government of this province of a policy designed to implement the full intent of the Hospital Insurance Act and to ensure the payment of hospital insurance premiums by all persons liable therefore under the terms of the act."

The resolution regarding surplus operation reads: ". . . that this group request from the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service a change in their basic policy, so as to operate with a surplus incentive. Such surplus to be supervised by the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service and to be used only by each hospital board for the replacement of own physical assets."

The per diem rate resolution reads: ". . . that the Okanagan and District Regional Council recommend to the B.C. Hospital Association . . . that the association press the government for a realistic per diem rate for 1954 reflecting actual costs."

300,000 Cases Culled . . .

Committee Institutes Study For Cause of Prune Shivel

During the next few months, selected batches of prunes will be subjected to every conceivable test by a team of horticulturalists from both provincial and federal departments to try and find the cause of shrivelling which this year knocked out 40 per cent of the prune crop—representing about 300,000 cases.

The committee to study the problem has been set up under the Okanagan Agricultural Club.

Difficulty in producing prunes of sufficient size and sugar content has been experienced for many years but recently the tendency of prunes to shrivel just before harvest has become more noticeable. It has been estimated that 40 per cent of the Okanagan prune crop was lost this year as a result of either small size or shrivelling. This would amount to around 300,000 cases.

The new committee met recently to draw up plans for attacking the problem of prune quality in general and shrivel in particular. Meteorological records are to be examined to see if any particular weather pattern could have been responsible for prune shrivel occurring throughout the Okanagan in 1948, 1950 and 1953.

The possibility of imperfect fertilization (pollination) of the blossoms having an effect on the development of the fruit is to be studied. For this purpose 100 normal and 100 shrivelled prunes from each of the Salmon Arm, Vernon, Kelowna, Summerland, Penticton, Oliver and Keremeos areas will be tested both by examination and germination of the weeds within the pits.

In addition, general observations are being made in the orchards whenever there is an opportunity. The possibility of the trouble being due to a plant disease such as a virus, fungus or bacteria is considered very unlikely though plant pathologists have not ruled this out altogether. It should be noted that viruses and bacteria which cause plant diseases are not the same as those causing human diseases or that even if this prune trouble were caused by a plant organism it would still have no possible connection with any human disorders.

Cultural conditions, i.e. irrigating, fertilizing and pruning do not appear to influence the amount of shrivel either favorably or otherwise. Although good pruning and fertilizing practices and general good management are always beneficial in increasing the size of the fruit, and reducing the total number of culls.

Frank Turner Speaks . . .

Local Alumni Association Members Hear Urges For Student Subsidies

At a special meeting of the Summerland Alumni Association, called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Woolliams on Sunday afternoon to hear Frank Turner of Vancouver, secretary of the UBC Alumni Association, highlight was the urging for subsidies for out of town students.

These subsidies would be for the out-of-town students, to help equalize the opportunities for university education for those not living near the university.

A committee on the question of equal opportunities will be set up to study the matter which, it is hoped, will become a definite project for the Alumni Association. Additional bursaries and scholarships were suggested as a part solution to the problem.

"Community projects," said Mr. Turner, "not necessarily connected with UBC, could be undertaken by local groups." He used the Alumni Association in Powell River as an example.

Among other matters discussed at the meeting was the Palmer Memorial scholarship for Dr. R. C. Palmer. The objective of this scholarship is set at approximately $10,000 with the present standing at $3,474. Additions to the fund were urged as a 1954 project. Dr. Jack Wilcox of the Dominion Experimental Station in Summerland is one of the most active members promoting this scholarship.

Also under discussion was the present state of the Summerland scholarship fund. Class donations to the UBC Alumni fund were discussed, considered and Mr. Turner discussed the organizing and financing of the Alumni Association. Nominations were considered for the senate, the governing body of UBC.

Executive of the local association are as follows: Dr. David McIntosh, president; Ewart Woolliams, vice-president and Mrs. A. K. Macdonald, secretary.

'Subsidy Cheaper' Dr. McKenzie Says At Alumni Meet

Dr. Norman McKenzie, president, in speaking to a joint meeting of the Summerland and Penticton branches of the UBC Alumni Association in Penticton last week, stated that it would be cheaper to subsidize interior students so they could attend University of British Columbia than to build junior colleges at interior points.

Board payments and travelling expenses in addition to regular fees were some of the problems posed by university attendance, he said, but these were recognized by university officials.

"A university depends on its graduates and the reputation they achieve in various fields, also on its Alumni for support in connection with revenue and interest," said the speaker.

Sympathy was expressed for Okanagan students faced with heavy costs but he believes junior colleges would cost a great deal of money which would have to come from the same source as the subsidies, which would probably be cheaper in the long run.

There is no objection to organizing junior colleges and vocational schools throughout the province provided it is the wise thing to do. But they should not be established because the community thinks it would be nice, unless the people are willing to pay for it. He does not think it a wise measure to leave a half-finished institution.

Outlining the university's position on the British Empire Games, Dr. McKenzie said UBC was asked to support Vancouver in getting the Games, one of the principal arguments being the facilities at the University. UBC agreed as part of its service to the community to provide these facilities at cost.

The Alumni Association elected its executive at the meeting, Peter Van der Hoop, president; Don Kerr vice-president; Mrs. Mary Morely, secretary-treasurer and executive members, Mrs. Mary Teeple, William Gilmour and William Hall-crow.

The meeting also decided to sponsor the Royal Winnipeg Ballet next May.

Back to Summerland To Renew Memories

After an absence of nearly 30 years, former resident Noel Wright last week spent two days in Summerland revisiting boyhood scenes and renewing acquaintances in the district.

Now living in Montreal, Mr. Wright left here in 1924 to study electrical engineering at UBC and had not returned.

He had expected to find changes in Summerland, he said, but was amazed at the development of the community in the past three decades. Granville Road he recalled as a few stores on the west side of the street and a row of poplars on the east side. The sight of an almost unbroken row of stores lining both sides of the street left him somewhat amazed.

The Wright family lived in Garnet Valley from 1910 to 1914 and Mr. Wright recalled the long journey by horse and carriage from the Government wharf in Lower-town to Garnet Valley when they arrived to take up residence here.

He is now sales manager of the electrical firm of Brown Boveri in Montreal and reports his visit to Summerland has given him a yearning to return here to live before too long.

Municipal council plans to build a sidewalk this fall from the top of the hill near town on the KVR road as far as the creek.

The HI LIFE

With another week of school gone by, still no world-shaking events have taken place in Summerland High.

The Westbank senior boys and senior girls came down on Wednesday afternoon for a vigorous game of soccer. The Summerland boys fought hard but Westbank emerged the victor with a score of 2-1. The girls, however, did much better and managed to hold the Westbank team to a scoreless tie. Much can be said for the good sportsmanship and keen playing of the teams in our school and we certainly are proud of them. Next soccer game is Summerland versus Pentiction. Let's show them what we can do when we really try, eh Team?

Clubs at SHS are in full swing now with nine clubs in action. The newest and most novel club is the boys' Home Economics club. Miss Hoath, sponsor of the club, reports there is a full class of 24 boys. So far they have proved to be excellent cooks and every Wednesday delicious odors penetrate the halls from the Home Economics laboratory. The boys have made cookies and muffins and there have been no casualties reported as yet.

Another new club under way is the girls' Industrial Arts club. Much banging and sawing is heard from this end of the school and if the noise is any indication, wonder-

Cub Calls

1st Summerland Pack:
 Very good turnout on Monday evening, boys. We welcomed a new cub, Barry Piers. Richard and Tommy Milne received their four-year stars and their Guide badges. This badge gives them all 12 of their badges. Good work boys. Dennis Hackey, Donnie Wood and Billy Wellwood received their Mougli neckerchiefs.

We felt very honored to have Constable Ted Piers speak to us at the meeting on the highway safety rules and highway code. At about 7:30 we went outside for a real campfire; songs were enjoyed and a story by Raksha was told, closing with the grand howl. Many thanks are extended to Constable Piers and Robert S. Oxley who came out to lend a hand.

Remember your Allsweet carton ends. Both ends are good. Our aim is 800. Next meeting is on Monday, October 26 at 6:30 p.m. sharp.

 Publication club is already going strong this year with Vern Higgs as editor of the Campus Chaff. Vern expects to have the first Chaff of the new year out early in November.

Other clubs in the school are Band, with a very good attendance, Camera Club, Handicrafts, Library and Girl Cadets. A speaker club was founded this year and although it has only a small membership, seems to be doing very well.

The Social committee has been doing an excellent job of feeding the visiting soccer teams. So far this year they have had to feed a total of 15 teams and delicious sandwiches, cakes, and other refreshments have kept the team members satisfied.

The annual teacher's convention was held on Friday and Saturday of last week giving an enjoyable holiday to all overworked school students. Since Monday was Thanksgiving, there were only three school days last week. Oh happy day!

Well, this seems to be all for this week but we'll be back again next week with more news from Summerland High.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

1st Summerland Troop:
 Seventeen boys turned out on Tuesday evening—only two boys were absent. The inspection was very good but there is still room for improvement.

We had a very interesting evening in our Kims game. Mr. Alex Watt of our group committee was present as sound affects man, bringing along the necessary articles to produce sound for the boys to identify. Mr. Brinton produced many samples of everyday materials for the boys to identify by smell alone. Everyone did well on both parts of the test.

Next week the duty patrol will be the Hawks, so remember, Hawks you are to have two games ready for the evening.

Patrol leader William Lewis received his gardeners badge and patrol leader Neil Woolliams received his long-awaited rescuers badge.—D.M.M.

Ranger News

Our Ranger Meeting was opened with the Guide Prayer and the minutes were read and approved. The treasurer reported that we have $7.50 on hand and that there are no outstanding bills.

We had our party on Thursday, October 8th. The girls brought 35c each to cover expenses. We had dancing and games from 8:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Refreshments were served at about 10:00. We would like to thank Mrs. Lott for chaperoning for us.

Youth Centre Family Night is coming up on November 13th and we hope to get up a skit for our part in it.

We are looking for community projects, so if anyone knows of anything we can do, we would be glad if you would contact us.

Carol Cornish and Marie Gronlund were appointed to visit the Mountain View Home on Saturday. They will also go to the Guide Association meeting on Thursday af-

LOBA Members Enjoy Supper Of Pot Luck

Following the regular meeting on October 6 of Hope Lodge of the Ladies Orange Benevolent Association, the members sat down to a delicious pot luck supper.

In attendance at the enjoyable affair were Grand Mistress Sister I. Beaton and her mother, Sister Carson, of Mizpah Lodge, Vancouver. Also a guest during the evening was a former member, Sister Clare Gould, now of Salmon Arm.

Gifts of beautiful corsages were bestowed upon the visitors showing the appreciation of the members for their visit to Summerland LOBA.

The Division Good Deed this year is going to be to buy camping equipment for a proposed divisional camp site.

We have decided to buy scarlet ties to complete our uniforms, which now consists of a navy skirt and cardigan, white blouse, navy beret, a Guide belt, lanyard, and pin, and a red tie.

GUIDE NEWS

At our last meeting Mrs. B. Blagborne took Mrs. Alex Inch's place as captain. We played two games, one a stalking game and the other a memory game, to start the evening.

During instruction period, the Guides who are taking their first class test talked about the woodcraft emblem and other badges to put on a progress chart while the rest of the company learned their tenderfoot and passed some tests for their second class. The Pimpernels entertained the group at campfire with a story of Little Black Sambo. Some of the Guides who ordered lanyards and whistles received them.

The patrol points stand as follows: Buttercups 71, Hepaticas 64, Lily-of-the-Valley 57, Forget-Me-Not 53, Orchids 52, Pansies 64 and Pimpernels 62.—Buttercups.

TEEN TOWN

A big, Teen Town dance will be held in the Youth Centre this Saturday evening commencing at 8 o'clock with dancing to the latest records and the serving of delicious refreshments. Don't forget to keep up the good spirit and support this dance. It promises to be a lot of fun!

A meeting was held at the home of Jack Smith last Monday evening, October 19, where entertainment for Hallowe'en night was discussed. There will be a meeting in the Youth Centre on Thursday evening, October 22 at 7:30 for the committees and conveners of the Hallowe'en celebrations. Let's have everyone out. Anyone interested in making posters for this night may leave their names with Leila Lewis.

Pearl Hooker and Marilyn Wade will represent the Summerland Teen Town at the Teen Town conference to be held in Armstrong this weekend.

The Youth Centre Association is sponsoring a family night in November and Teen Town was asked to take part in the program by putting on ten minutes of entertainment. Any ideas or suggestions for this would be greatly appreciated.

Well, I guess this is about all the news for this week, but don't forget the wonderful dance on Saturday night, October 24!

Mrs. E. Woolliams Gives Welcome Address To Service Club Members

Mrs. E. Woolliams welcomed the ladies of St. Andrew's Service Club to the October meeting of the group which was held on Monday, October 19, in the Church Hall. The devotional service was ably given by Mrs. J. Sheeley who chose "Stewardship" as her theme and a delightful solo by Mrs. M. Milley was enjoyed by all. Reports from committee members were heard and discussed during the afternoon. Members are busy preparing for the autumn bazaar to be held in November.

Mrs. J. Wilcox reported the Thanksgiving supper was very successful. The response to the appeal for clothing to be sent to Korea was excellent and ten nice parcels were shipped overseas this month.

Rev. C. O. Richmond was introduced to the members by Mrs. George Washington, president of the club and he gave a very enjoyable talk to the interested group.

Possibility of starting a CGIT group for teen-age girls was discussed. It is hoped that a CGIT or Young People's group may be started for the teenagers of St. Andrew's Church.

Nominated to attend the United Church presbytery which will be held this month in Kamloops was Mrs. George Washington. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Frank Dumont, Mrs. A. Crawford, Mrs. Mel Cousins, Mrs. K. Denike and Mrs. H. Chadburn.

Home again are Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Butler who spent the past weekend holidaying in Spokane, Washington.

Wardlaw - Ford . . .

Vocation School Assistant Weds In Toronto Baptist Church Rites

Of interest to many residents in the Summerland district was the beautiful double ring wedding ceremony of Norene Ford of Toronto, Ontario and Harold Wardlaw of Kleinburg, Ontario. The nuptial vows were solemnized before Rev. Jack Scott in the Forward Baptist Church in Toronto on October 17.

For the wedding the church was decorated in bronze and yellow 'mums when the bride, daughter of Mrs. J. Ford and the late John Ford, was given in marriage by her brother, Roy Ford. She was lovely in a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin featuring a very full skirt. A coronet of pearl beads held in place her flowing finger-tip veil of illusion net and her bouquet of red roses and white button 'mums was designed in cascade style.

Attending the bride were Miss Cathie Macauley and Miss Evelyn Goodwin, bridesmaids; Mrs. Roy Ford and Mrs. Yvonne Hurtubise, her sisters-in-law, matrons of honor; Miss Sharon Ford, niece of the bride, flower girl and John Butler, nephew of the bride, ring bearer.

The bridal attendants wore identical gowns of floor-length taffeta featuring sleeveless bodices with high, pleated collars over the shoulders and peplums at the waists. The bridesmaids wore pretty frocks of mauve, the matrons of honor wore purple and the flower girl was dainty in yellow. The headresses were matching taffeta hats of nylon net decorated with sequins and they carried yellow roses and orchid-colored button 'mums on taffeta muffs. The little flower girl carried a gold basket of rose petals which she scattered in the bride's path.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Wardlaw of Kleinburg, Ontario, was attended by his brother, Keith Wardlaw and ushering were Yvon Hurtubise, Ross Humphries and Andrew Stewart.

The wedding music was played by a sister of the bride, Mrs. Harry Butler and soloist was the bride's brother-in-law, Rev. Harry Butler.

Following the wedding vows, a reception was held at the Toronto Bible College where the bride's mother and brother and the groom's parents assisted in receiving the many guests.

The bride's mother was charming in floor-length gown of sandalwood rose crepe with a hand-painted organza stole. She wore turquoise accessories and a matching corsage. The mother of the groom was attractively gowned in a wine taffeta gown, floor-length style and she wore a corsage of token roses.

Bronze and yellow 'mums decorated the reception hall and a four-tiered wedding cake centered the beautifully appointed bridal table which was decorated with red roses and white tapers in silver holders.

The toast to the bride was given by Robert Goodwin with the groom responding in the traditional manner and Keith Wardlaw gave the toast to the bridal attendants.

Many wires of congratulations were received by the happy couple from many points in both the east and west.

During the evening, entertainment was provided with vocal duets by Rev. and Mrs. John Scott and Rev. and Mrs. Harry Butler, with vocal solos by Miss Evelyn Goodwin and Miss Cathie Macauley, a violin solo by W. Shepherd and a piano solo by Mrs. Henry Henderson.

Following the reception, the bride donned a grey French flannel suit with a light mauve stripe. The mauve tone was also featured in her blouse, hat and gloves and her purse and shoes were of a neutral shade of leather. She wore a corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Upon their return from a honeymoon motor trip to Miami, Florida, the young couple will reside in Kleinburg, Ontario.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Ida Davis of Spokane, Washington; Rev. and Mrs. Yvon Hurtubise of Malartic, Quebec; Rev. and Mrs. Harry Butler of London, Ontario; Miss Cathie Macauley of Vancouver; Keith Wardlaw of Enderby; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ford of Campbellford, Ontario and many other friends and relatives from all parts of Ontario.

The bride spent a number of years in the interior of B.C. working with the Faith Mission throughout the rural districts and was an assistant in the vacation Bible School of the Summerland Baptist Church during the summer months.

Social Evening Held By Evening Branch WA

The October meeting of the Evening Branch of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary was held on Monday evening in the Parish hall when approximately 40 members enjoyed a social evening and showing of films.

A short business session with the president, Mrs. E. F. Weeks in the chair was held during which various committee reports were given and plans were laid for the annual bazaar to be held on November 28.

Mrs. N. O. Solly then set up her projector and the remainder of the evening was spent in viewing most interesting documentary films.

One film, entitled "No Man is an Island," was in color and depicted the interior of the Trail-Tadanac smelter and the various steps ore goes through during processing. Home life on miners in the Kimberley and Trail districts was also shown, making an interesting as well as informative film.

Another film, "Neighbors in Enterprise," was of life in a Quebec settlement where Ayer's wool blankets are produced. Probably the most beautiful film was one in color entitled "Canadian Mountains in Summer."

At the close of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Ralph Blewett, Mrs. A. J. Berry, Miss M. Clarke, Mrs. Alvin D. Gately, Mrs. C. F. M. Guernsey and Mrs. A. J. Heavysides.

NEW ARRIVALS

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Khalembak on October 20 in the Summerland General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kawley (nee Kay Lewis) are the parents of a baby girl, Vilida Lorraine, born on October 12 in the General Hospital at Burns Lake.

Appropriate for Fall is this capeskin jacket with covered buttons, in cognac shade. The beret and gloves are also in capeskin but have been made in a darker tone to contrast with jacket.

Hospital LA Tea Proves Successful

The Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary tea and home cooking sale, held in the I.O.O.F. hall last Saturday afternoon, was recorded as one of the most successful events of the season.

The hall was tastefully decorated with flaunting colors of fall flowers for the occasion when tea was poured by Mrs. S. A. MacDonald and Mrs. Francis Steuart. In charge of the afternoon's program were Mrs. Louise Williams, general convener and Mrs. James Marshall and Mrs. F. E. Brinton convenors of the home-cooking stall.

Highlight of the affair came when the drawing was made for the lucky tickets. Winner of the little girl's outfit was Ken Boothe and Mrs. W. Gordon Crockett drew the boy's outfit. Both articles were beautifully made by Mrs. R. I. Cornish. They were in two-year-old size, identically styled and similarly smoked.

Walter M. Wright is leaving for Vancouver today to return with Mrs. Wright who has been under doctor's care in the coast city. They will return home on Monday. Mr. Wright will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. Duguid and Mrs. Flora Bergstrom.

Mrs. C. V. Nesbitt was a recent visitor to the coast for a week's holiday.

Mrs. James Ritchie will spend a month or more in Vancouver guest at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Maxwell.

Rev. Richmond Addresses Large St. Andrew's Federation Meeting

The members of Lakeside Women's Missionary Society were invited to attend the autumn thank-offering meeting of St. Andrew's Federation held on Thursday afternoon, October 13 in the church hall. Mrs. Rex Chapman, president of the Federation, presided over the well-attended meeting.

OES Annual Tea, Sale To Have Decorations Of Autumn Flowers

Autumn flowers will be used to decorate the IOOF hall on Saturday afternoon, October 31, when the Order of the Eastern Star holds its annual tea and sale of home cooking.

Members of the Order are planning delicious refreshments and a table laden with wonderful goodies designed to tempt even the most conscientious of dieters.

The big project of the OES is cancer treatment and research brought about through the raising of funds by hard work. Free cancer dressings for every cancer patient in B.C. are provided through the diligent work of the Order. They not only contribute money, but also meet each week to make up the dressings which are used locally when needed or are sent to Vancouver where most cancer patients are treated.

Proceeds from their tea and baking sale will be used for this and other worthy causes. Everyone is invited to attend for a most enjoyable afternoon.

Quiet Celebrations Mark 56 Anniversary

The 56 wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nield was quietly celebrated at home on Thursday, October 15, with members of the family calling to express their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Nield were born in England where they were married. They came to Canada over 30 years ago, settling in the Summerland district. Mr. Nield operated a meat business here prior to his retirement several years ago.

75 Birthday Party Held for H. J. Mott

A family gathering was held last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross McLachlan to celebrate the event of the 75th birthday of Mrs. McLachlan's father, H. J. Mott. Mr. Mott has been a resident of Summerland for the past seven years.

Also present at the celebrations were Mr. Mott's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Knowles and his daughter, Mrs. Wilma Hutton and son, all of Kamloops.

Guest speaker during the afternoon was Rev. C. O. Richmond who was introduced by Mrs. W. Boothe. Rev. Richmond spoke to the group on its function within the church, its work and possibilities for the extension of Christianity at home and abroad.

Miss Ada Cochrane and Mrs. R. Pollock, secretaries, conducted a novel roll call which was designed to assist the new minister in becoming better acquainted with the federation members.

Mrs. W. R. Powell, supply secretary, gave an interesting review of the Korean gift parcels. It was decided to continue this work. A lovely wool afghan, knitted by Mrs. Edgar Gould, was sold and the money will be used to send more food parcels to Korea.

W. A. delegate to the Presbytery in North Kamloops today is Mrs. A. Walden, chosen by the members to represent them at the convention.

Many new books were added to the library including the new study book, "Where's the Sun" by Samuel Moffett, the group librarian, Mrs. F. Shepherd, reported.

The devotional part of the afternoon's program was presented by Mrs. Vern Charles and Mrs. E. R. Butler and Mrs. Bates' junior choir charmed the attentive audience with two beautifully sung sacred hymns accompanied by Mrs. Lionel Fudge.

A social hour concluded the meeting with tea and refreshments being served by Mrs. O. J. Lazenby, Mrs. W. R. Powell, Mrs. A. Rutherford and Mrs. Alf. McLachlan.

BROWNIE CHATTER

1st Summerland Pack: Activity has been humming ever since our first meeting late last month. The pack was pleased to welcome six new members who are working very hard so that they may be enrolled soon. These include Anthea Morgan, Carole Williams, Judy Betuzzi, Linda Rumball, Mary Bleasdale and Teresa Keys.

At our second meeting on October 6, badges were presented to quite a number of our Brownies. Jo-ann Ongaro and Trudy Mitchell won their collector's badge; Lynn Bleasdale won her writer's badge, and Louise Shannon, Gay Greer, Lynn Bleasdale and Phyllis Young received their swimmer's badge.

On the following evening, October 7, the pack bade farewell to the four Brownies last mentioned above, at a joint "fly-up ceremony" held at the opening of the regular Guide meeting.

Last week our Brownies welcomed our new pack leader, Margaret Lott, who has offered to help us work and play at our weekly meetings—this week we particularly enjoyed a new game which Margaret taught us, called "Two Deep".

The pack is taking a keen interest in new attendance charts being kept during October. This week we had perfect attendance, and Pixies, Fairies and Sprites shared top honors.

Our pack is full now, enrollment standing at 18 Brownies and six Tweenies. If anyone has a good complete Brownie uniform for sale, please phone 3441.—Brown Owl.

Summerland hospital in September admitted a total of 30 patients and administered 432 days treatment for adults—26 days less than the monthly average in 1952 of 458.

Included in the number of new admissions during the month were three non-BCHIS patients and three new-born.

September expenditures exceeded estimate—based on 1952 monthly average—by $9004.

The hospital board meeting Tuesday evening approved accounts totalling $5,555.77.

Wait, Lady — It will go faster if you do these three things...

- 1. ADDRESS YOUR MAIL CORRECTLY—Write clearly and give COMPLETE address; include Postal Zone Number in Quebec, Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver. 2. ADVISE YOUR FRIENDS of your correct address (and zone number if applicable)—especially if you have moved to a new address. Get the habit of including your return address on top left corner of envelopes or parcels. 3. WRAP PARCELS SECURELY—tie with strong cord—and put on sufficient postage. When in doubt have your Post Office weigh parcels and letters and avoid double postage due.

Keep the following information readily available for reference when you mail

LETTER MAIL

1st Class requires: Local delivery, 3¢ for the first ounce, 1¢ for each additional ounce; out-of-town (Canada, U.S., and all other countries of North and South America, British Commonwealth, France, Spain) delivery, 4¢ for first ounce, 2¢ for each additional ounce. Air Mail (domestic), 7¢ for first ounce, 5¢ for each additional ounce. (Inquire at Post Office for airmail rates to other countries.)

PRINTED MATTER

Cards, circulars, etc., entirely printed—when addressed to individuals by name—2¢ for the first 2 ounces, 1¢ for each additional 2 ounces. When such mail is addressed "To Householder" (not by name) it requires 1½¢ for the first 2 ounces, and 1¢ for each additional 2 ounces.

NEWSPAPERS or PERIODICALS

Mailed by individuals to places in Canada, U.S., or Mexico require 2¢ for the first 4 ounces and 1¢ for each additional 4 ounces. CANADIAN newspapers and periodicals may also be mailed at same rate to other places in the Commonwealth, North and South America, France and Spain.

PARCELS

Play safe! Have your nearest Post Office weigh them. You can now send Air Parcel Post up to 25 pounds in weight. Ask about this fast air delivery service!

DON'T WAVE GOOD-BYE TO THIS GOOD-BUY!

"Opportunity is knocking at our doors again," says Ivor Solly, manager of the Bank of Montreal's West Summerland Branch. "This time it's golden—an opportunity no one will want to miss. I'm speaking of the opportunity provided by Canada to make the buy of the year—Canada Savings Bonds," Mr. Solly continued. "The new issue of these bonds has just gone on sale and, this year, they are better than ever.

"Take for example the new, high rate of interest. This year it stands at 8% per cent per annum. Further, the bonds are redeemable anytime, at full face value, plus interest to the end of the previous calendar month.

"The most appealing feature of these bonds," said Mr. Solly, "is that they can be purchased on the instalment plan. The down-payment is only 5 per cent—$2.50 for a $50-bond, $5 for a $100-bond—with the balance paid over a year in easy monthly instalments."

"The purchase of your Canada Savings Bonds is a simple matter. You can arrange it easily and quickly at the Bank of Montreal, whether you buy for cash, or on the instalment plan. You should drop in at the B of M without delay and see Mr. Solly about your share in Canada's best investment.—Advt.

First Game Sunday . . .

'Help Wanted' Sign Out By Local Hockey Squad

Summerland hopes in the Penticton and District Commercial Hockey League looked dim this week with their first game scheduled for Sunday and indications are the local squad will be seriously undermanned. Manager George Stoll this week said there is every likelihood they will have to look beyond the borders of Summerland in order to fill out the local entry.

Jim Miltimore Elected President Of Badminton Club

At a well-attended meeting of the Summerland Badminton Club on October 15, Jim Miltimore was unanimously elected president for the coming season. Other officers elected were: David Fern, vice-president; Miss Jean Eddie, secretary-treasurer; Miss Dorothy Britton, refreshment convener; Reg Smith, tournament chairman and Miss Dorothy MacLeod, representative to the South Okanagan Badminton Association.

The club is again welcoming junior members at a reduced fee and George Fudge is looking into the possibilities of forming a junior Badminton Club. As in the past, coaching will be given to anyone interested.

More inter-club matches are planned for this season, along with a large number of home tournaments. Last year the members concentrated their efforts on improving the facilities of the club and as a result, the lounge has been enlarged, new washroom facilities have been added and table tennis equipment installed.

As usual, money raising efforts are the chief concern of the club and along this line it is planned to hold monthly dances in the Badminton Hall for members and non-members, the first of these to take place this coming Saturday, October 24. It is hoped there will be a good turn-out at these dances.

Plans are also being made for a progressive bridge tournament and a table tennis club.

At the beginning of the season hopes were high the team would have all the players that last year skated the locals to the league championship along with several newcomers but so far these hopes have not been borne out.

Although the popular kid line of Hooker, Eyre and Kato are expected to be on the ice Sunday, Manager Stoll said there is a strong possibility Hooker and Eyre may be leaving the district which will cut the team down to the single line of Stieninger, Taylor and Richardson.

Chuck Brawner will be between the posts on Sunday and for defence Coach Rocky Richardson will choose from Barney Furuya, Sam Imayoshi, Joe Bullock and maybe Rosie Campbell.

Team officials are still hopeful they may be able to bring the team up to strength before the season gets too far advanced but at this stage those hopes look thin.

At least four Summerland curlers will be taking it easy during off hours from curling this winter with the contour chair they brought home from the BEG Special Events Curling Bonspiel in Vancouver. Skip Dick Topping lost no time in giving his a workout while rink members Bill Croft, who alternated as skip, Ernie Coughlan and Herb Lemke waited for a turn to see what they also had in their future. The local rink went through 12 matches undefeated to clean up honors at the Bonspiel which brought out the top rinks from Winnipeg west. Movie cameras were also included in the loot they brought home. —Photo courtesy Vancouver Province.

Bowling League Openers Establish Team Handicaps

King-Pin Bowling League kicked off Monday night with "A" Section teams bowling first games of the schedule. "B" Section schedule got underway last night.

No points were scored on opening nights with bowlers rolling for averages only. Jake Lichtenwald produced the high three strings for the night with a 730 total while high three among the ladies was rolled by May Rogers who tallied 494. Overwaitea took team honors with a 2892 total, their spark plug, Ken Heales rolling 324 for high single. Norma Lichtenwald topped the ladies for single strings with a 216.

Badminton Tourney Successful; Beeman, Hoath Are Winners

A successful round robin badminton tournament was held on Tuesday evening in the badminton hall with 14 couples entered.

In the finals, Phyllis Hoath and Harry Beeman, winners of A section, defeated Ada Beeman and Geoff Solly, winners of B section. Organizer of the tournament was Reg Smith and Dorothy Britton was in charge of refreshments.

In 1867 there were 2,087 miles of railway in Canada; today there are 44,084 miles and only Soviet Russia and the United States have a greater total mileage of the

RCMP Report Only One Small Accident

Only one accident last week was brought to the attention of the local RCMP officers.
 Walter E. Bendixsen of Crescent Beach skidded off the road on his motorcycle about 12:30 Sunday afternoon, bending the front wheel forks on his vehicle, but otherwise doing no other harm.
 There were no court cases brought before Magistrate Robert S. Oxley and RCMP report a very quiet week.

Mrs. H. B. Mair, who spent last week visiting in Penticton at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. H. Millward, has returned to her home in Jones Flat.

Chrysanthemum Show, Discussion Held By Horticultural Society

Viewing a colorful show of chrysanthemums and hearing a special talk on the fall flower beauties were enjoyed by the members and friends of the Summerland Horticultural Society which met for its October session in the IOOF hall last Friday evening.

J. Cameron of Peachland, who entered a lovely display of disbudded blooms, congratulated the members on the fine display of chrysanthemums from Summerland, Penticton and Naramata which were arranged on tables three sides of the hall. Mr. Cameron stated it was evident there was a vast improvement over the display of last year.
 Mr. Cameron spoke briefly on 'mums, answering many questions asked by members. He also pointed out how easy it is to have three or four beautiful blooms on one plant or a profusion of smaller blooms on the same kind of plant, depending upon the nature of treatment earlier in the season, disbudding producing the larger blooms.
 Highlight of the meeting was the showing of colored films taken by Mrs. W. R. Foley-Bennett of Penticton. These pictures of chrysanthemums and other flowers and lovely garden scenes showed the keen ability of the photographer.
 Mrs. A. J. Mann, in introducing Mrs. Foley-Bennett, spoke of her as a fine gardener and painter of landscapes and whose hobby was color photography. Thanks were extended to the guest by Mrs. M. E. Collas who stated the only regret was she wished there were more of the interesting films.
 On display at the meeting was the Dr. R. C. Palmer Memorial trophy. This prize, donated by the employees of the Summerland Experimental Station for the most points in crated fruit exhibits at the Interior Provincial Exhibition held at Armstrong, was awarded to W. F. Ward of Summerland at the 1953 fair.

Principal Tells Of Job Problems

Kiwanians this week heard the life of a school principal is not always a "bed of roses" when speaker at their weekly dinner meeting was S. A. MacDonald, principal of MacDonald School, who described some of the duties and noted six different groups which demand attention of the principal.
 In the six categories are the pupils, parents, general public, school board, department of education and staff.
 Relations with the parents are maintained through P-T-A and visitors' day at the school, the latter event, Mr. MacDonald said, is one which the school are anxious to encourage because it gives a clear first-hand picture of what is being done in the field of education.
 Regarding relations with the general public, he pointed out the importance of keeping people well-informed on the value of school work since that is the source of money with which schools are operated.
 The principal, he said, must act as the link between the school and school board and the department of education. The latter link is with the school inspector whose job it is to enforce policies of the department.
 Harmonious relations between pupils and staff are important, to the efficient function of a school and with the principal rests the problem of ensuring such relations exist.
 Mr. MacDonald cites several examples of problems which from time to time confront a school principal, the amicable solution of which calls for all the diplomacy expected of a UN delegate.

Speed Renovation For Liquor Store

Work of renovation accommodation for Summerland's new liquor store is being speeded toward completion with a view to having the store ready for occupancy by next Monday.
 When F. F. Brown, Victoria, supervisor of liquor stores, was in Summerland last week, he stated Monday, Oct. 26, would be opening date for the store, but no confirmation of that date has yet been received.
 F. J. Mallett of Vancouver is being transferred from a store there to assume management of the Summerland store.
 Last week the opening of a liquor store in Osoyoos was marked by civic officials opening ceremonies but no similar ceremonies have been mooted for Summerland.

School Board Guests Of Teachers at Tea

A delightful tea was held in the home economics rooms of the Summerland high school last week when the teachers, members of the high school staff, entertained the members of the school board.
 Aim of the pleasant early fall get-together was to introduce the new teachers. Among the guests was Miss Shirley Mayne, PHN.

Mrs. George Campbell, who has been a houseguest at the home of Mrs. T. J. Enstone, returned yesterday to her home in Calgary Alta.

Mrs. W. R. Grant left recently for Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, where she will spend the winter months with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Kenn.

BERT BERRY'S Hunting and Fishing News

Okanagan Lake has been a little slow here this last week in comparison with the week before. However good catches have been made. Plug fishing is getting oost results. White fish are due to start running very soon.
 The colder weather and rain has slowed up the mountain lakes lately but most lakes have ben good to those that have tried them out. Reports are that the next run of salmon have passed Merritt so they should be around Enderby and points north very soon.

Hunting
 We have till the 31st of Oct to shoot grouse. On the whole it has been slower this season and you have to get back to see birds in any quantity. Pheasants open on the 24th of October, so you can have the chance to try for a rooster soon. Ducks and geese also open on Oct 24th so the shotgun shooters have quite a variety to choose from.
 Deer haven't been too easy to get this last week. Only a couple here as far as I know in this district. The rut should be starting and bucks will be down in good numbers soon.
 Moose hunters coming back have not had too much luck, however some districts report good numbers of bulls. Two new districts are open, by order-in-council around Kamloops, one is open till Oct. 26 the other Nov. 15.

APPLICATION TO PRACTICE
 Hospital board Tuesday night received an application from Dr. P. A. Huitema of Westbank for permission to practice in the Summerland Hospital. The application was approved subject to the proper certificate of his qualifications being received from the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Let's Take The Mystery Out Of Insurance

(4th of a Series) LOSSES
 It sure costs money to run a car these days. You pay as much for a Ford as you used to pay for a Cadillac.

And if you have to take the family jalopy into a garage—"Oh brother".
 If you crumple a front fender on that Ford, Chev. or any of the popular makes, it will cost you about $49.00 to replace it today. In 1940 your bill would have been about $27.00. Or if someone whacks your back fender, prepare for a jolt. The bill for a new one will be $113.00 for the job. You could have got it in 1940 for $20.00.
 You will pay $4.00 an hour for the time put in on your car while it is in for repair as compared with $2.00 an hour in 1940.

And some wonder why they pay more for insurance. A $25.00 accident in 1940 would be more than a $50.00 accident today.
 If someone steals your car today, or if it burns up, it costs the insurance company twice as much to replace it as it would have cost in 1940.

And if you injure someone and send them to the hospital? Well, we all know how much hospital rates and doctor's fees have gone up, with insurance companies footing the bill.
 Or the injured person is so badly hurt that he can't earn a living from then on. Judges and juries are not apt to be niggardly about deciding how much the incapacitated man could have earned in the next 10 years or so. Many a motorist has been more than glad that he can fall back on the insurance company when faced with a court judgement.

With all this doubling of what your insurance company is called upon to pay out, it has far less than doubled its charges for protection. In 1940 it would have cost you $25.60 to obtain the minimum coverage such as is now required under the "Pink Slip Law". Today it would cost you only $29.64. These are coverages based on all classes of motorists in B.C.

And for this slight increase in cost, the insurance companies are giving you more protection than they did in 1940. Today, the Standard Auto Policy protects you automatically when you are driving other cars. It also provides similar protection for your wife.
 Inflation has become a familiar word. In effect it means that the dollar today will buy about half as much of most things as it did a few years ago. One of the few exceptions is insurance where your dollar joins those of a lot of other people in a mutual company such as the Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Company to buy you a real dollar's worth of peace of mind.—Adv't.

Maybe you should cut this ribbon!

Of course, when a new bridge or highway is completed, it's traditional for some prominent citizen or government official to cut the ribbon in the opening ceremony.

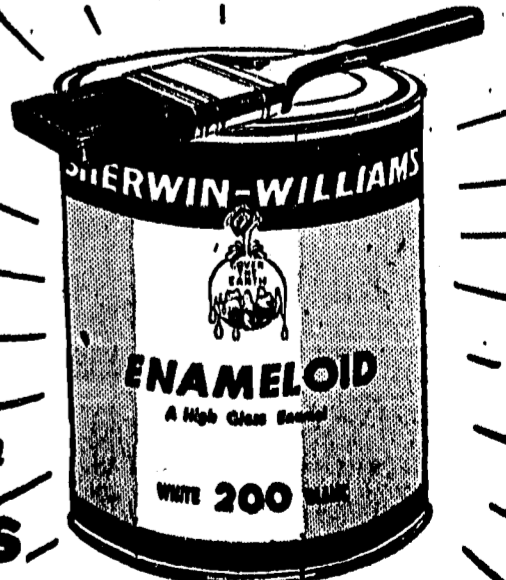

Often this honour might be awarded with good reason to any one of the nation's life insurance policyholders.

Because it is their premium money, part of which is invested for them by life insurance companies, which makes it possible to build many useful public works. Not only roads and bridges, but electrical power stations, water works, homes, office buildings, and industrial plants are built with the help of life insurance.

So here's to the life insurance policyholders who they provide financial security for their families and themselves, they like to live in Canada's better land.

Summerland juveniles this year enjoyed the annual Halloween safely and with a lot of fun as they gathered in the Youth Center the directorship of Teen Town on October 31 for an evening with good times.

N. O. Solly New Prexy Of Kiwanis

Kiwanians at their annual election of officers Monday night chose N. O. Solly as their new president to succeed Edward F. Smith. Other officers elected were Frank McDonald as vice-president, C. F. M. Guernsey as treasurer and J. M. Betuzzi, Douglas Campbell, G. Hallquist, J. Y. Towgood, K. Heales, W. A. Laidlaw and H. L. Sinclair as executive members. New officers will be installed in January. Annual reports of the club will be heard at a December meeting.

Solicit Apples For Shaughnessy Gift Shipment

Plans for making up a shipment of apples to Shaughnessy Hospital as a Christmas gift were discussed by Canadian Legion members at their meeting last night and an appeal is going out for donations of boxes of apples. A. E. Caldwell is in charge of the collection and any person wishing to contribute to the hospital gift should contact him or Walter Charles. Boxes and lids will be supplied for donations and arrangements have been made for free transportation of the apples to Vancouver. Last year, 20 boxes were sent as a Christmas gift. Report was heard at the meeting on Legion-sponsored Boy Scout activities and the usual donation for this effort was approved. Plans for Remembrance Day service at the Cenotaph were finalized and the report of the Poppy Day committee showed a successful sale of wreaths in the district. Under discussion at the request of Provincial Command was new liquor legislation as it will affect branches holding beer on liquor licenses. Report was also heard from the Poppy relief fund committee.

An Achilles Heel Exposed At Last

Brake failure Friday afternoon was the cause of a minor accident when a car being parked in front of the Bank of Montreal jumped the curb and crashed through the lattice fence at the side of the bank. Occupants of the car, the driver and her infant son, escaped injury. Name of the driver is not being revealed. The Review normally is incorruptible and scrupulously impartial in the manner in which incidents of this sort are reported but the lady involved has found its Achilles heel. She is the wife of one of the printers at The Review and threatened to leave town and take her husband with her if her name appeared in the paper in connection with the accident. There are only two printers at The Review, Mev Wells and Tom McKay, and printers are not easy to get these days so her insistence that her name not appear in the paper must be met. Mrs. McKay does not drive a car.

Currently holidaying on Vancouver Island are Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Barkwill.

'Wear a Poppy'

Annual Campaign For Poppy Fund To Be Conducted Here Saturday

Appeal for funds to be used for the welfare of veterans and their families will be held in Summerland this Saturday with the annual Poppy Day drive to include house-to-house canvass as well as street sales. Funds raised through the sale of poppies are administered by a committee of the Legion Branch and used solely for welfare purposes in assisting local veterans or families of veterans who are in needy circumstances. Demands on the fund grow increasingly heavier each year with veterans advancing in age and facing the problems that develop with age. To meet the increasing demands, Poppy Day committee members are hopeful of a generous response to the appeal which will be able to adequately alleviate distress which will arise during the coming year. General chairman for the campaign is C. G. Woodbridge and participating in the drive will be members of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, who will undertake the street sale of poppies, and Boy Scouts who will conduct the house-to-house canvass. Sale of wreaths this year has been reported as very successful with the number sold greatly exceeding sales of any previous year. The same generous increase in individual donations on Saturday is the hope of the committee.

Top Quality Performance

Male Choir Tremendous Hit With Audiences in Summerland

A group of 30 amateur singers Monday night sang their way into the hearts of a Summerland audience and the Trail Male Chorus left here the following day with the highest possible tribute—the request of all those who had the opportunity of talking with members of the choral group to "please come back soon".

To listeners, it was difficult to believe that singing was only a hobby and not a full-time profession with the members. The excellence of their choral work reflected long hours of training and was a tribute to their conductor, Hans Fogh-Dohmsmidt. That a choir of such high calibre can be developed in a center the size of Trail should serve to allay fears that Canada is retarded in its cultural development.

With the choir was soloist Kathleen Rose-Sinclair, also of Trail, who ranks with Canada's top lyric sopranos. She has appeared with Singing Stars of Tomorrow, on the CBC and with Vancouver's Theatre Under the Stars. One other member of the staff side travelling with the choir is their accomplished accompanist, Gwendolen Kay, who was at the piano for the entire program. On Tuesday morning before their departure, the group gave a brief concert for the high school students and doubt was raised as to whether the performers or audience drew the most enjoyment from the performance. The youthful listeners proved to be an excellent audience and they were rewarded with a program which lasted much longer than was planned.

Probably one of the most delightful features of the performance was general feeling exuded by members of the choir that they were singing just for the sheer enjoyment of singing and the obvious pleasure they derived from performing had an infectious quality which made itself felt by the audience.

Members of the choir were billeted with Rotarians—who sponsored the performance—during their brief stay here and they left behind them a host of new-found friends in Summerland.

Baritone soloist Lewis Freeman after three selections returned to meet the demand for an encore and his choice, Sailormen, which he dedicated to the junior members of the audience, further endeared him with adult audience as well. A pair of Italian tenors, Michel Cavasin and Paula Vacca, who left Italy to make their home in Canada within the last couple of years, also found favor with the audience and the shyness inspired by the rousing applause added a refreshing note to their performance.

During intermission, Conductor Fogh-Dohmsmidt was swamped with requests to repeat selections which the choir had presented when here two years ago and they responded after the regular program with "Dry Bones", "I Saw Sammy", "Down to Jordan" and closed with the choir humming Brahms' Lullaby.

The conductor has had a distinguished career in music both on this continent and in Europe but his work with the Trail group must certainly be one of the high spots of his career.

The members of the Summerland Volunteer Fire Department were called to extinguish a dangerous chimney fire about 11:20 this morning at the home of Arthur Guidi on Giant's Head Road. Some smoke and soot damage was done to the home.

Mrs. Olive Wilson backed out of a parking space near the post office on November 4 only to be hit by the vehicle of John E. Howard. About $300 aggregate damage was done the vehicles but no one was injured.

Local RCMP officials report a very quiet Halloween here with only one case of a broken window reported to them. On October 20 on the Penticton-Summerland highway two cars were involved in a hit and run accident. A Summerland man was fined $50 and costs for failing to remain at the scene of this accident. Two Indians were fined $15 and costs each on October 30 under the government liquor act for being intoxicated and on November 2 another Summerland man was sentenced to time spent in custody, also for being intoxicated. On November 1 John L. Krogan of Kelowna, blinded by the glare of the headlights of an oncoming car, ran into the south shoulder on the new portion of the Summerland-Peachland highway and rolled over the embankment. Mr. Krogan, his wife and child were taken to the Penticton Hospital for observation. Considerable damage was done to their vehicle. Mrs. Olive Wilson backed out of a parking space near the post office on November 4 only to be hit by the vehicle of John E. Howard. About $300 aggregate damage was done the vehicles but no one was injured.

Air Shipment Proposed

Ask Color Requirements be Eased On Elberta Peaches Next Season

Problem of heavy claims against late Elberta peaches received a thorough airing by grower's representatives at BCFGA Southern District Council meeting Saturday and the maturity committee will be "strongly urged" to reduce the color requirements for this variety next year.

The meeting heard from H. Corbushley of Oliver a proposal that with two airlines likely to be soliciting freight business in the near future, that serious thought should be given to the possibility of moving early fruit to the Eastern Canadian markets by air. While the suggestion is being taken under consideration, little hope is held that air movement of early fruit to out delay in reaching distant markets would be economically feasible. James English spoke from experience in the airline business and said that cost would probably be about 35 cents a pound and to get that rate they would probably have to find return cargo. BCFGA President Arthur Garrish said they had a few years ago inquired into the cost of air freighting some apples to England and found it would cost about $30 a box. John Ure of Kaledon spoke to the meeting on the subject of fertilizer costs and urged the BCFGA to investigate the possibilities of establishing their own plant to reduce the cost of this commodity. He quoted prices to show the cost of top grade fertilizer has climbed 45 per cent from $30 a ton in 1940 to $116 this year. He read from a report that a government plant in New Zealand is producing fertilizer at a cost to the farmers of $25 a ton.

Mr. Ure stated that sulphur is available in Alberta and could be processed in B.C. at a cost far below what is now being paid. Reporting for the central committee, Colin McKenzie, Summerland, stated plans were now developing for the convention slated for Penticton in January and reminded delegates that annual meetings of locals must be concluded before Dec. 1 to give time for the handling of resolutions to come before the association annual.

The council gave support to a resolution of the Northern District Council proposing the employment of Charles Hayden in an advisory capacity to the BCFGA and various speakers paid warm tribute to the work done by Mr. Hayden in the development of the association. Tree Fruits Governor Gordon Wright reported the McIntosh movement as being "normal" but away down from last year, although shipments to the prairies are higher. Slow movement, he said, was not a matter of concern because we're sitting on a rising market. He said warm weather in Eastern Canada and the central states has accounted for the drop in shipments to date. The lack of cold storage facilities in the east has forced the entire eastern crop on the market and has blocked movement from the west. He pointed out that Delicious opened at $4.25 and are now selling at $5 so no concern is being felt over the temporary lull.

Large Attendance For Opening Meeting

Summerland Speakers' Club Tuesday evening enjoyed one of its most successful opening nights when 30 prospective members for the 1953-54 season were on hand to elect Arthur Higgs as new president of the group.

Chosen as vice-president was B. A. Tingloy. The group will meet each Tuesday evening until the end of March with the exception of Christmas week.

Guilty Conscience Probably at Work

Les Rumball probably remembers the Halloween activities of his youth better than his neighbors.

Along Quinpoole Road, his was the only name sign that was taken in for safe keeping over Halloween, the rest of the residents of that district had greater faith in the youngsters and left their tempting signs swinging from their posts.

The faith of the majority was justified and not one sign was disturbed.

"Things ain't what they used to be", Les must have thought as he replaced his sign Sunday morning.

W. Toevs Elected As Curling Head

Walter Toevs was elected president of the Summerland Curling Club at the annual general meeting held last night in the high school library.

Other officers elected were Lloyd Day, first vice-president; C. Wade second vice-president; C. J. Bleasdale, secretary; Norman Holmes, treasurer; Herb Lemke and R. A. Fredrickson, directors for three years and W. H. B. Munn, director for one year.

The business of the meeting included the decision to start the curling season off with a mixed bonspiel during the week of November 15.

Ladies will curl every Wednesday from 6 to 8 p.m. for the fee of $10 for the season. All curling fees are to be paid by December 15.

Remembrance Day . . .

District To Honor War Dead At Cenotaph Service Wednesday

Residents of Summerland Wednesday morning will gather at the Cenotaph in the annual observance of Remembrance Day to pay tribute to her own sons and all Canadians who sacrificed their lives in the defence of their country.

All members of local clergy will participate in the service of Remembrance which will start at 10:45 a.m. Veterans, members of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary, Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies will fall in at MacDonald School at 10:20 a.m. to parade to the Cenotaph.

Route of the parade which will be led by the Summerland Band will be from the school by way of Rosedale and Granville to the Cenotaph.

Veterans have been requested to wear medals on the occasion and Legion members will wear Legion caps. Other groups in the parade will be in regular uniform.

The memorial service will open with a prayer and then O Canada, followed by scripture reading. The assembly will join in singing the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past". A prayer will follow and then names on the Roll of Honor will be read with the Legion members responding.

Last Post will be sounded and after the Minute of Silence, Reveille. Wreaths will then be laid, followed by the benediction and the service will close with the national anthem.

Resident for 50 Years . . .

Henry Bristow, Popular Pioneer Passes; Funeral Service Held

Henry Bristow, a popular, well-known pioneer resident of Summerland for the past nearly fifty years, died in the Summerland Hospital on October 20 at the age of 84.

Mr. Bristow was born in Listowel, Ontario and at the age of eleven years moved with his parents to Manitoba by covered wagon, settling in Balmoral. In 1903 he and his wife, the former Mary Jane Smith, moved to the Okanagan, living first in Peachland and later moving to Summerland where he established a permanent residence.

He came to Summerland as manager of the J. M. Robinson properties and later operated the X. L. Ranch for his brother-in-law, the late T. J. Smith of Vancouver, having charge of his orchard and race and show horses. In 1907 and 1908, he had a contract with the Dominion Government to ship Okanagan fruit for display purposes to all exhibitions from Toronto west.

He established the first canning factory in Summerland on the old T. J. Smith wharf near the site of the present Fish Hatchery.

For seven years he served as a member of the Summerland Council in the period from 1921 to 1931. As a pioneer sportsman, he played on the first football and basketball teams and belonged to the crew of the first war canoe. He was also a member of the Summerland Rifle Association at its inception and in later years was an ardent lawn bowler.

Former Resident Injured in Blast

A former Summerland man, Lloyd Johnstone, suffered severe facial and eye injuries in an explosion accident at Ymir last Friday and his partner was killed in the blast.

The injured man is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmor Johnstone of Peach Valley and resided here up until he left three years ago to work at the Yankee Dundee Mine in Ymir.

Johnstone is in hospital in Nelson and was visited there by his father earlier this week. He was described as suffering from severe lacerations to his face, arms, neck and scalp and it is feared he may lose the sight of one eye.

His mother is at present a patient in the Summerland Hospital and was admitted there because of illness just a few hours before first radio report of the accident was heard in Summerland.

The two men were drilling in rock when the blast occurred. Investigation following the accident revealed that powder used in a previous blast had been forced into a fissure instead of exploding and when the diamond drill struck the unexploded powder in a later drilling it ignited and blew out the rock against the two men.

Inquest into the death of his partner, George Beaulieu, 43, of Ymir, will be delayed until Johnstone, the only eye witness to the tragedy, is well enough to testify.

Government inspectors, however, have cleared the mining company of any blame in the accident.

Resident Of 40 Years Here Dies

A resident of Summerland for the past 40 years, Frank Yohachi Saito, aged 76 years, died in the Summerland General Hospital on October 29 following a lingering illness.

Mr. Saito was born near Tokyo in Japan and moved to Canada in 1908. In 1913 he moved to Summerland where he established a permanent residence and an orchard. Funeral services were held from the St. Andrew's United Church on Friday with Rev. C. O. Richmond officiating assisted by Rev. Kabayama of the Japanese United Church in Kelowna.

Mr. Saito had no relatives in Canada but he is survived by a son and a daughter, two granddaughters and one great granddaughter, all in Japan.

Interment was made in Peach Orchard Cemetery, the Roselawn Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were Y. Aoki, G. Furuya, S. Jomori, T. Kato, R. Nakamura and A. Matsu.

merland Rifle Association at its inception and in later years was an ardent lawn bowler.

Mr. Bristow owned, at one time, an interesting collection of Indian relics the last of which were recently disposed of to R. N. Atkinson of Penticton. Some of them were given to the Vancouver Museum and others were loaned to the Summerland Log Cabin Exhibit.

His wife predeceased him in 1947. He is survived by three daughters, Edith in Morritt, Bertha in Summerland, Mrs. J. G. Strother in Vernon and four grandsons; one sister, Mrs. Charles McPherson of Toulon, Manitoba and one brother, Roy Bristow of Balmoral, Manitoba.

Funeral services for Mr. Bristow were held from St. Andrew's United Church on Monday afternoon with Rev. Charles O. Richmond officiating. Interment was made in Peach Orchard Cemetery.

Pallbearers were C. E. McCutcheon, George Henry, Alex Smith, J. W. Clark, T. C. Wilson and J. D. Wood. The Roselawn Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Thirty-Five Years Ago

The quota set for Summerland was $80,000 in the Victory Loan campaign for 1918 with $50,000 still to go in the last week of the drive if Summerland was to receive its honor flag.

Figures made public by General Manager McDowell of the Okanagan United Growers showed an increase of 132,000 packages in one year in soft fruit volume business.

At a meeting of the Summerland Hospital Board it was decided to take the Gainer cottage and fix it up as an emergency hospital to harbor influenza victims. Nurse Gordon of Naramata was to be in charge and Misses Kathleen Babbitt, Faith Walker and Jean Crossen volunteered as nurses.

To celebrate the unexpected signing of the Armistice, F. A. C. Wright and William Ritchie proposed a huge bonfire on top of Giant's Head and other bonfires all over the district. Volunteers for building of the big pile on the mountain top were asked to meet at the office of Mr. Ritchie.

No less than seven Dunsdons appeared in the school reports for top grades in Division VI. Dorothy, Arthur, James, Ted, Harry, Jack and Fred all placed first, second or third in the four classes.

The house and acre on the east side of Giant's Head, known as the Page property, was purchased by S. M. Young. The Daubney lot on Paradise Flat was purchased by A. Moyes. The Bogue lot, just north of T. J. Garnett's homestead, was bought by R. Pollock and H. M. Lumsden purchased the five-acre lot at the foot of Garnet Valley held for some years by R. Ely. J. T. Washington bought the Rainie lot of five acres between the Batho and Blair lots.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

John Tait constructed several bait traps for use in the orchards for the purpose of exterminating mice. Field mice seemed to have a very strong liking for Delicious apples and in several piles of picked fruit standing in the orchards, they caused damage estimated by Mr. Tait to run up to about 1,000 boxes.

Walters Limited still had 5,000 boxes in the orchards and all packers were making frenzied attempts to get the picked fruit under cover before frost harmed them. At the Co-Operative fruit was moving out steadily but their storage space was filled to capacity. At the Occidental they were packing three nights a week. Mr. Impett said they expected to finish by November 15 with the biggest pack they had ever had in Summerland.

Summerland school board was holding night classes in commercial courses including typewriting, bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic and in woodworking and motor mechanics at a fee of $5 a term.

Lee McLaughlin still had his fine dahlias in bloom, free from frost.

Two sawmills were to add their output to the business of Summerland with Alf Richardson establishing a mill in Shingle Creek and that of James Ritchie established in Garnet Valley.

The junior high soccer squad downed their Penticton opponents 4-0, undaunted by rain and a slippery field.

Adam Stark was the winner of a new Graham-Paige sedan, holding the lucky ticket for the car given away by the Penticton Legion at the opening of its new hall.

Playing at the Rialto Theatre was "The Valley of the Giants" starring Milton Sills and also a comedy, "He Who Gets Crowned."

Five Years Ago

Miss Joan Appleton, local public health nurse for the Okanagan Valley Health Unit, reported that a mild case of scarlet fever had occurred in this district. All the usual health precautions had been taken and there was no cause for alarm, she stated.

Halloween in Summerland was comparatively quiet, although some small reports of rowdiness were received. B.C. Police Constable T. Thornsteinson stated that one report of any damage was received at his office, a car having been overturned outside the Nesbitt Motors garage.

Dominion government workmen were busy dismantling the old wharf in lower town. The work was undertaken by the public works department of the Dominion government following representations made by the Summerland board of trade that the wharf presented a menace to the public generally as it was in a rotten condition.

For the benefit of lower town residents, the new union library quarters at the Lakeside United Church were opened by Miss M. Ffoulkes chief librarian for the Okanagan Union Library.

Gordon Ritchie informed the board of trade the post office in West Summerland was to be modernized and generally improved greatly.

"You have been playing with fire here as the compressor capacity of your cold storage will not take out the field heat fast enough in any large amounts of soft fruits," warned Dave McNair, sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd., in a short address to grower-members of the Summerland Co-Operative Growers' Association.

Proposals to expend nearly $200,000 to renovate the cold storage and packinghouse plant and to build an entirely new packing plant on a fill in Okanagan Lake east of the Co-op buildings were laid before nearly nine hundred members of the Summerland Co-Operative Growers' Association at a general meeting by their president, Eric M. Tait, and their manager, George Washington.

Faced with rising costs and a sinking bank account, Summerland Hospital Society decided to raise its ward rates by one dollar.

The students of Summerland High School held a successful barn dance to celebrate Halloween.

At the annual Thankoffering meeting of the St. Andrew's Women's Federation, guest speaker was Rev. Geoffrey Smith, a missionary in West China.

Mrs. J. C. Wilcox was elected president at the annual convention held here of the Kamloops-Okanagan Presbytery Women's Association of the United Church.

Biggest trap shoot in the interior climaxed the Summerland Trap Club 1948 activities with the best shots from nine interior B.C. points and Tonsasket, Washington, competing for the prizes of turkeys and hams.

By a 2-0 count Rutland won the Okanagan High School soccer championship at Kelowna defeating Summerland, winners of the South Okanagan title.

Joe Maddison bagged an unexpected trophy when he shot and killed a female lynx, a rare animal to be found in the foothills of the Okanagan Valley.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER FIVE, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE

We Will Remember . . . our legacy a sacred trust

"They will not grow old as we who are left grow old; Time shall not weary nor the years condemn;

Four times since the turn of the century war has taken its grim toll on the flower of Canadian manhood and next Wednesday people of the nation will pause to pay tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice that we who live on may enjoy the freedom we hold so dear.

But it is not enough that we should just use that occasion to reflect on the memory of some friend or relative who failed to return from battle. Rather it is a time when we should rededicate ourselves to the proposition which so many have defended unto death.

The bulk of Remembrance Day messages which will be delivered across the country on Wednesday will be words of tribute to our war dead. But it is not for us to glorify them. They have, by their very act of unselfish sacrifice, glorified themselves far beyond our powers to add or detract. It is for us, then, to reaffirm the principles for which they gave their lives that they have not died in vain.

History has taught us there will always be tyrants and ruthless men with a lust for power. There are few who honestly believe there lies ahead any formula which will for all time completely eradicate the threat of global conflict. We in Canada cling to the belief that every person has a right to guide his own destiny and the only way in which we as a nation can continue to live by that philosophy is by preparedness so that we can, if necessary, defend our right by might—and the willingness to pay the same price as the many whose memory we honor on Wednesday.

To meet the day with any lesser proposition is to fail in the charge that has been given Canadians in the blood of her valiant men.

And so on Wednesday, November 11, may each in his heart as he pauses in tribute give real meaning to the occasion by preparing to meet with the same unselfishness any challenge to the liberty which they died to defend.

At the going down of the sun, and in the morning, We will remember them."

The Living, too . . . support the poppy day campaign

Miss Moina Michael, an American working in a YMCA canteen in New York in 1918, is credited with the idea of wearing a poppy as an insignia of remembrance to those who died in Flanders' fields

Other Opinions

Other Editors Say:

WHY SHOULDN'T THEY?

A short time ago the Canadian Bar Association met in Quebec City, and during their discussions it was stated that medical doctors are "becoming reluctant to testify in court" because it was wasted time on their part and they find themselves caught between "warring factions" and are rarely allowed to express an independent opinion.

This country prides itself in its courts and the administration of justice. That being so, and rightly so, why should any doctor consider his time "wasted" when the question of justice, and possibly a person's life, is at stake? Does not justice transcend a person's time? And what about businessmen appearing on juries? Are their business interests not equally as important to them as the doctor's is to him.

Now, as to be caught between factions, do doctors consider themselves by virtue of their profession, not subject to cross-examination just the same as other witnesses? This is what The Calgary Herald has to say in this connection:

"We are astonished, in the first place, that any collection of lawyers having any knowledge of the principles on which our jurisprudence is founded, could have accepted the doctors' view. The basis of the jury system is that the facts of a case are laid before a panel of laymen, in terms that the laymen can understand, and that the jury then decides, purely on a basis of ordinary reason, what its verdict should be. British law has always shied away from any suggestion that litigation should be decided by experts. Expert witnesses in many fields—the medical perhaps more frequently than any other—are often called; but the essential discipline to which their expert views are subjected is the necessity to explain what they are talking about in laymen's terms so that everybody in court, and especially the jury, can understand.

"It is also essential to our system that witnesses should be subject to cross-examination, a device which in the hands of a great lawyer can be quite merciless but which has no known substitute as a method of arriving at the truth. We are not surprised to learn that some doctors object to being cross-examined; so does any other witness, and we see no reason whatever why doctors should be exempted from a process which ordinary, non-medical mortals cannot hope to escape."

To our way of thinking when it comes to a question of justice, nothing should be left undone to see that it is properly administered, and just decisions arrived at.

No person should consider himself beyond giving evidence, in fact, it is their duty so to do.—Creston Review.

BY WAY OF REFERENCE

As consistent as the politicians' habit of promising welfare measures is their habit of underestimating the cost of those measures. An example of under-estimated cost is found in the operation of provincial health insurance plans.

British Columbia's difficulties have been discussed before. In Saskatchewan, where there has been health insurance for some time, Health Minister Bentley has recently announced new charges on taxpayer and subscriber alike.

When the Saskatchewan plan was initiated, cost per subscriber was $5. Then it was raised to $10 and is now $15. Maximum cost per family was set at $30. It is now $40. Additionally, the hospital tax has been increased.

Reason for those increases is that the plan, originally estimated to cost $5 million, now costs $15 million. Despite the increased charges, it is expected there will still be a deficit, to be made up from general revenues.

If a provincial health insurance plan—a small unit and therefore easier to manage—shows that much increase in cost, how much more would a national plan cost?

A close look at Saskatchewan's experiences is recommended those delegates to recent labor conventions who supported resolutions for national health insurance, and in some cases demanded they be implemented immediately, perhaps in the belief the cost would come out of someone else's pocket. Saskatchewan's experience should also show the latter that it is all the same pocket.—Ottawa Sentinel.

The Lighter Side

Reason Enough—

The judge granted her a divorce when she told him:

"I left my husband for a week without saying anything to him. He went over to the insane asylum and asked if any male inmates were missing, because he thought someone had run away with his wife!"

By AMBROSE HILLS

I heard three ladies talking in a restaurant. They were a funny trio. They dressed well, looked wealthy, and judging from their conversations, they had husbands who had risen pretty high in the world. But they weren't happy.

When they had finished talking over the Kinsey Report, they started on their allergies. They each tried to out-do the other; and I think they all succeeded. They seemed to be allergic to almost everything on the menu.

Listening to them, I recalled that J. A. Hadfield, of Kings College, London, used to say that the shepherd's wife may find full expression for all her instincts in the cottage, with her husband, home, and children, and therefore may live an infinitely full and happy life. On the other hand, a lady surrounded with luxury may have all that life has to offer, except an incentive to live.

It seems to me that some business men make a grave mistake by giving their wives too much security. Women are happier when they have work to do and responsibilities to share. The three women in the restaurant would have been happier if they'd had some real problems to discuss instead of chewing over the Kinsey Report and assorted tom-fool allergies.

Governments these days seem to think they can make us all happy by offering us security. This is foolish on two counts. First—they can't do it. Second, they would deprive us of incentive if we honestly believed them. Happiness often comes from useful goals earnestly strived for. It seldom can be had without the expenditure of effort which makes use of all our instincts and abilities. Happiness comes from being good—and no government can bestow that blessing upon us. It is a goal each man must seek for himself.

ANOTHER UNIVERSE "SIGHTED"

One of Britain's foremost physicists suggests that there may be two universes—one visible and one invisible to human eyes—existing side by side.

Sir Edward Appleton, a pioneer of radar, held out this possibility Sept. 2 in discussing the discovery of "dark stars", which give no light but are detectable through the emission of radio waves.

He was delivering his presidential address at the opening of the week-long meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science here. More than 4,000 "scientists", ranging from top British researchers to schoolboys and business leaders interested in the practical application of natural science's findings to the everyday world, are attending the annual forum.

Dark Star?

Sir Edawrd said that the "radiotelescope", an adaptation of radar, had found two important sources of radio waves from outer space—one in the constellation of Cygnus and a more powerful one in the constellation of Cassiopeia. Existing star charts show no visible objects to correspond with these sources, he said.

"Could it be that a radio star is always a dark star and so a new type of object in the universe?" he asked.

"If so, could it be that there is a duplicate universe only to be seen with a radiotelescope as distinct from a visual telescope?"

Sir Edward Appleton, discoverer 30 years ago of the high-level atmosphere layer that bounces back radio waves and makes world-wide short-wave radio possible, turning from his own particular field to more general principles, declared that natural science has restored to the world "that quality of inexhaustible richness and unexpectedness and wonder which at one time it seemed to have taken away."

Heating Problem of 4453

He cited the example of the natural scientist, "be he amateur or professional, who is impelled solely by a passionate desire to explore and understand," as illustration of his topic, "Science for Its Own Sake."

"Perhaps the most striking fact about modern science, in its explorations ranging from the heart of the atom to the frontiers of the universe, is that like poetry, like philosophy, it reveals depths and mysteries beyond and quite different from the ordinary matter-of-fact world we are used to," he said.

Sir Edward declared that most of the great scientific findings were "the adventures and intuition of a single mind."

GRANVILLE ST. WEST SUMMERLAND

Mid-Week Message

Fret not thyself because of evildoers . . . Rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him. (Psalm 37:1, 7.) Read Psalm 37: 1 - 9 or Galatians 6:1 - 10.

Recently a young woman said to me: "You imply that in the Bible there is treatment for our troubles. My trouble is not worry, fear, resentment, or impurity. I am a good girl, a Christian girl, but there are people in the office where I work who annoy me. I don't like to be near them. I'd rather quit."

This was my answer: "You have told me that you are a good girl, without worry, fear, or resentment. But I noticed your facial expression when you spoke of those people. They are right down inside you. They annoy you."

At such times we can call upon God to instill His love, peace, and quietness within us. As a result, it is possible to live with Christlike love and compassion upon those who otherwise would annoy us.

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, we bring our tense, fretful selves to Thee. We pray that Thou wilt remove from us all worry and fear. Help us to rest in Thee so that we may live on that high level where we do not fret ourselves. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control, these three alone lead life to sovereign power.—Tennyson.

The world turns aside to let a man pass, who knows where he is going.—David Starr Jordan.

Well, here we are again with Halloween in the past and only 51 days left until the Christmas holidays. Oh, what a happy thought! Soccer is nearly over for the season and the SHS team senior girls have done fairly well. The junior girls also did very well, especially as this was their first year. The senior boys didn't do as well as the school had hoped but there is always another year in which to do better.

A hearty vote of thanks goes to the social committee for feeding the visiting soccer teams with delicious sandwiches, cake and coffee. Well done, gang.

Basketball practices have started in earnest with senior boys and senior girls practicing almost every night for their first game which will probably be tomorrow night at Keremeas. Good luck, teams. Let's get in there and fight and show the Keremeas opponents some of the good old SHS spirit.

Social activities around the school have been practically nil this past week, although the magazine sales are still going strongly. Last Friday Tom Paul was presented with a box of chocolates for selling the most subscriptions for the week. Congratulations, Tom.

On Tuesday morning we had the wonderful experience of hearing the excellent Trail Male Chorus. The Chorus, which gave a performance on Monday evening for the general public, very kindly consent to sing a few selections for the students, much to the delight of the whole school.

Plans are still going ahead for the huge SHS dance to be held on November 13. Let's all try and attend to make this monster dance the most successful we have ever had and to show the hard-working social committee our appreciation for their efforts.

The senior band had a hot dog sale on Tuesday to raise funds for instruments, etc. The sale turned out to be a success with every delicious hot dog sold. Everyone who patronized the sale enjoyed the appetizers.

That just about winds up the news for this week. By next week we will know who won the big magazine contest. So long for now and we'll see you next week.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Twelve boys turned out at last Tuesday's meeting. Come on, fellows, let's have a full turnout next week.

Eight boys have volunteered to assemble at the Legion Hall on Saturday to sell poppies for our sponsors, the Canadian Legion. Hats, neckerchiefs and shirts are necessary.

Four boys passed their second class signalling and one his compass this week. Next week we will do more signalling for those who need it and also second class first aid, so come prepared to pass your tests.

A Court of Honor has been arranged for Wednesday, November 10 at Mr. Munn's home from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. A full turnout of P.L.'s and seconds is requested.

Duty patrol next week, November 9: Eagles.—D.M.M.

Cub Calls

1st Summerland Pack

On Monday we had our Halloween party and it was a huge success. Everyone came dressed as girls and the judging for most like girls was a real job. Many thanks to Mr. Bob Barkwill and Mr. George Washington for their excellent jobs. The prizes being won by Eddie Toevs, Roger Ezeard, Roger Solly and Richard Toevs.

Mr. Jack Scriviner our field commissioner showed us some wonderful slides, taken at the 1953 Scout Canadian Jamboree, and others taken around here. Ice cream and cookies were then served.

We are still wearing full uniform including short pants. Boys selling poppies on Nov. 7 to be in full uniform and meet at the Legion hall at 9 a.m. sharp please.

Remember Family Night on Nov. 13. Let's see everyone out next week. Duty six: Red Six, Nov. 9 in Youth Centre at 6:30 p.m.—Akela.

Ranger News

The October 29 Ranger meeting was opened with the Guide prayer. The minutes were read and adopted.

The Rangers have definitely decided to enact a skit entitled "Child Psychology" for Youth Centre Family Night on November 13.

The idea of entering a team in the bowling league came up. This has not been decided upon as yet, though.

Margaret Marshal and Anne Solly will go to the Mountain View Home on Saturday.

Margaret Marshall moved and Carole Allison seconded that the Ranger Company drop anyone from the group who misses two consecutive meetings without a good reason.

The Rangers will probably sell poppies on the Saturday before Remembrance Day.

The business meeting was adjourned and the girls settled down to the practicing of the skit for the rest of the evening.

Guide News

At the Girl Guide Halloween party, they welcomed the Pentecostion Girl Guides with a ghost walk around the hall in the dark.

As you went around you came to rocks, cut up paper, girls dressed in fur coats, wet sheets and potato sacks filled with straw.

When everyone arrived at the end of the walk, the lights were put on and best costumes were picked. We unmasked and then had free time in which fortunes were told and many bobbed for apples. Then we gathered around campfire and all seven patrols put on skits which were greatly enjoyed by everyone.

We had refreshments and a peanut scramble following the awarding of prizes for the best costumes. First went to Diane Durick (tin man) and Diane Rumball (skeleton); seconds to Marjorie Campbell (black cat) and Marney Bleasdale (Indian); third to Peggy Hutton (Hawaiian dancer) and best captain's costume award was won by Mrs. Alex Inch.

The evening was exceptionally well planned and everyone had a very gay time.—Orchid.

Beautiful Decorations...

Birthday, Wedding Anniversary Celebrated by Family, Friends

The Japanese Hall in West Summerland was the scene of the 50th wedding anniversary celebrations on October 19 of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Geres. The occasion was also the 71st birthday of Mrs. Geres. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with gladioli and with colorful streamers held in place by golden bells. A two-tiered wedding cake centered the beautifully appointed bridal table which was decorated with yellow and orange gladioli and white tapers.

All the children of Mr. and Mrs. Geres, who were married in Russia, were present with the exception of one daughter, Mary of Nordegg, Alberta, for the happy celebrations. In her place she sent a lovely bouquet of yellow roses.

Many beautiful gifts were presented to the happy couple who have been residents here for nearly 50 years. Among them was a la-z-boy chair made by their sons, Frank and Henry.

During the evening, a short and interesting sermon was delivered by Rev. L. A. Gabert who also conducted the singing of a few hymns. Entertainment included games and dancing and the serving of a delicious luncheon.

Those present were: the congregation of the Lutheran Church, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Geres, Mr. and Mrs. George Geres of Summerland.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geres of Coppen, Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Geres of Glen Rain, Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gattinger of Moosejaw, Saskatchewan, Mrs. Katie Rithaler of Oakshela, Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Geres and Mrs. William Rotheisler of Bateman, Saskatchewan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rithaler of Cloverdale, and Mr. and Mrs. John Rotheisler, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seidler, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Loney Huntz and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kellower of Oliver.

OES Tea, Sale of Home Cooking Is Well Attended, Huge Success

Mrs. Earle B. Wilson welcomed at the door the many guests who patronized the tea and sale of home cooking sponsored by the local Order of the Eastern Star in the IOOF hall on Saturday afternoon last. The affair was recognized by all as a huge success.

Attractive decorations of autumn flowers and white tapers decorated the dainty tea tables. Hostess for the afternoon was Mrs. David Munn who was assisted by Mrs. A. F. Calder, Mrs. Pollock, Mrs. Acey and Mrs. F. B. Bedford who poured tea.

A door prize of a large hamper of groceries was awarded under the direction of Mrs. George Washington to Mrs. William Wilson of Peachland, holder of the lucky ticket.

Conveners were Mrs. Keith Elliott, kitchen; Mrs. D. V. Fisher, serving of refreshments; Mrs. Harry Brown, refreshments; Mrs. Harvey Wilson, decorations; and Mrs. G. C. Harper, cooking sale.

Proceeds of the affair are to be used for the OES project of augmenting cancer treatment and research funds. The Order not only contributes money to this worthy cause but the members meet each week to make up dressings which are used locally when needed or are sent to Vancouver where most cancer patients are treated.

In Summerland to attend the funeral on Monday afternoon of the late Henry Bristow were Miss Edith Bristow of Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Strother of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Strother and Arthur Strother of Vancouver, and R. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. James Stephens of Merritt.

CWL Sponsors Whist Party; Successful

The Catholic Women's League of Summerland sponsored a most successful whist party in the Catholic Church hall last Friday evening.

The many whist and bridge enthusiasts who attended were treated to a very enjoyable evening concluding with the serving of excellent refreshments by Mrs. Ted Logie and Mrs. S. Martin.

Winners of the prizes were: women's, Mrs. Fred Thompson, high, and Mrs. J. D. Wood, low; men's, Ted Logie, high, and J. Menu, low. Convenor of the affair was Mrs. S. Fabbi, president of the CWL.

Mr. and Mrs. Masao Aoki are the parents of a baby boy born on November 3 in the Summerland Hospital.

What many buildings are really made of...

When you look at any building in which life insurance dollars have been invested, you may see only bricks and mortar. But these buildings are really fashioned out of many different people's dreams.

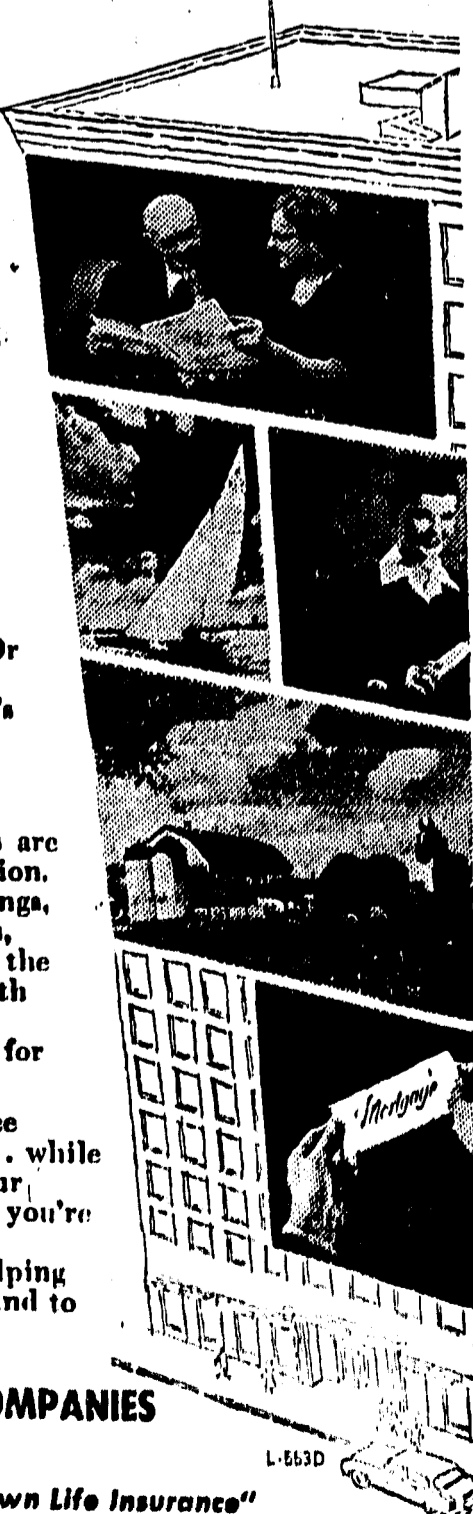

What dreams? Perhaps a father's hope of sending his boy to college some day. Or a school teacher's goal of a trip to Europe. Or someone's plan to pay off a mortgage, buy a farm, or retire at 65.

Out of such dreams many different kinds of buildings are constructed all over the nation. Schools, stores, office buildings, homes, hotels, power plants, factories—these are some of the useful structures created with the aid of money which life insurance companies invest for their policyholders.

So, if you are a life insurance policyholder, remember... while you're working to make your dreams come true... while you're providing for your family's security... you're also helping to make Canada a better land to live in!

"It is Good Citizenship to own Life Insurance"

To raise funds for future activities, the Athletic Club of Summerland is holding another dance in the badminton hall on Saturday evening, November 14. Good music, excellent entertainment and delicious refreshments are promised for all who patronize the affair and everyone is welcome to attend.

The original embroidered pictures of Mrs. K. Krahnstoeber of Summerland were featured in the Vernon Art Association exhibition on Friday and Saturday in the Legion Hall in Vernon along with the showing of drawings and paintings by Mrs. A. S. Grigsby (Marion Morham) of Oyama.

Mrs. Krahnstoeber's unique work was seen in over 30 pictures covering a variety of subjects entertaining in New York, San Francisco, abroad, local Indians, cats, fish and flowers. They ranged from exquisite small ones done in jewel-like colors in silk to large tapestries in wool.

The panel, "Tobacco Growers in Italy", in traditional tapestry style was greatly admired.

A number of abstract needle paintings in the modern manner were spirited in color and design and all were remarkable examples of this art.

Mrs. Krahnstoeber has had exhibitions in Europe from time to time but has not shown such a complete group of her pictures in the Okanagan before.

VISITING HERE

Miss Bertha Rogers of Victoria, home economics inspector, visited the Summerland High School on Friday in her official capacity.

Overnight guest on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. M. V. Dale was her cousin, Mrs. Kathleen Rose Sinclair, guest artist with the Trail Male Chorus.

Mrs. R. Beggs (nee Rae Armour) was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower recently in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Beggs.

The many attractively wrapped gifts were presented to the pretty bride in a box gayly decorated with red and white streamers.

Following a social hour, the guests in attendance were served delicious refreshments by Mrs. C. M. Robinson, Mrs. I. H. Solly and Miss Dorothy Blacklock.

Others present were: Mrs. R. Armour, Mrs. J. Beggs, Mrs. G. Beggs, Mrs. R. Barkwill, Mrs. C. F. M. Guernsey, Mrs. W. S. Ritchie, Mrs. F. G. Walker, Mrs. F. O'Leary, Mrs. C. Pearson, Mrs. T. Wilson, Mrs. H. J. Barkwill, Miss Rose Harrison, Miss Shirley McAdam and Miss Gweneth Atkinson.

Let's Take The Mystery Out Of Insurance

(5th of a Series)
SAFETY PROMOTION

Insurance companies are working continuously at the job of trying to cut down the number of accidents. You might wonder why, when they are in the business of car insurance because there are accidents. No accidents, no insurance companies.

But did you ever stop to think that you, as a policyholder, have a share in paying for every accident.

An insurance company has learned to estimate the number of accidents they may be called upon to pay for in each year. They try to budget for an income sufficient to take care of the claims plus a small profit. In a mutual company such as the Wawanesa, most of the "profit" goes into building up a pool to take care of emergencies in a year when there may be no money left after claims are paid.

The companies always have to guess ahead. They base their this year's rates on the number of accidents last year and sometimes their calculations do not work out. Last year, the number of accidents soared in B.C. You are paying more for insurance this year as a result, so you have a stake in every accident.

The insurance companies are fighting to hold down the rates they must charge you for you insurance and so it stands to reason that they are also battling to keep down the accident rate.

When insurance rates go up, it becomes more difficult to sell insurance in the same way apples or anything else are harder to sell at high prices.

The insurance company campaigns to prevent accidents takes many forms and they all benefit the driving public. The companies are going a good job for everyone.

The Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Company, for example, has one of its senior staff men as a member of the Traffic and Safety Council in Vancouver and he devotes a great deal of time to the work. It also assists the Council financially.

The Company also supports Driver Training Programs. It gives consideration, in its premium charges, to new policyholders who have passed the required course as an accredited Driver Training School or have passed the course in Driver Training available in the High Schools.

The companies, as a group, are actively interested in good legislation for highway safety and the sound enforcement of such laws. Many provinces have developed their highway enactments along lines suggested by the insurance companies.

The companies also distribute pamphlets, movies and other forms of public education material in addition to financing accident prevention advertisements.

As individual companies, they compete strongly for your business, but they work together on safety and accident prevention.—Advt.

How much will you keep of your first $100,000?

Believe it or not, you'll likely earn more than that during your working years.

So the big question is: How much of this will still be yours when you retire?

You owe it to yourself to make sure you keep enough.

On Sept. 3 members of the British Association mulled over the power and heating problems of man 2,500 years from now.

A top engineering expert said that by the year 4453, natural scientists might have to probe the furnace in the center of the earth to find the power and heat necessary to keep civilization going.

Lord Dudley Gordon said that even the raw material for atomic power might run out in the next 2,500 years. He pointed out that volcanic eruptions show the tremendous power available in the center of the earth. This might be tapped "by some form of excessively deep bore holes and controlled by some means not yet thought of," he said.

CHILDREN'S EDUCATION GUARANTEED BY SAVING GOVERNMENT ALLOWANCES

Family Allowance Cheques Can "Roost" for Future Use At The Bank of Montreal

While your Family Allowance Cheques are intended, first and foremost, to help you pay for your youngsters' day-to-day expenses, they can also be used to give them a good start in agricultural or other college courses, later in life.

If you deposit every Family Allowance cheque for one child in a B of M savings account, there will be over $1,800, including interest, in it by the time the age of 16 is reached, points out Ivor Solly, West Summerland's Bank of Montreal manager. And, through the years, this nest-egg will always be immediately available, should emergency or opportunity arise.

By this means you can do much to make sure that your youngsters will have every chance to earn a good living when they start their own career or when your orchard is passed on to them. If you can't manage to set aside the whole cheque, try to bank at least a part of it regularly. You'll find the practice will pay off in the future.

So, next time you receive your Family Allowance cheque, why not drop into the B of M and open a savings account in your youngster's name. When you do that, you'll be building security and opportunity into his or her future—and that gives any parent a wonderful feeling!—Adv.

BERT BERRY'S
Hunting and Fishing News

Reports show that the odd white fish have been caught so the run will be on soon.

Grouse hunting is over now and though it wasn't a good season there were a few got but we hope that the next year will bring them back better.

Pheasants have been better than last year. A dog is good, and with one a hunter can get good shooting.

Duck and Geese—A few local ducks and geese around but no northerners in yet. A few have been bagged.

Quail—A lot of these little fellows around.

Deer seem to be around in fair numbers up on Bald Range, Baldy and Glen Lake areas. Deer seen on Acklin and in the Pigaries. Should be a good season as there seem to be more deer than last season.

No moose in that I heard of this last week, but it is getting closer to good time to go for the later shooting. One report from the Kootenays show the weather to good and game a long way back.

I would like to add that we can't be too careful when we handle guns and ammunition. Unloaded guns seem to kill people and when on the move the safety should be on because a fall can send it off and you or a friend could have a funeral. Have fun, but be careful.

School Fitba Teams In Tournament Play

Junior Students' Council Saturday was host to visiting junior boys' soccer clubs from South Okanagan schools and in the tournament staged at the Athletic Park, Summerland team copped second position.

Schools represented in the tournament were Oliver, Pentiction, Kelowna and Summerland.

The Junior Council undertook the job of providing meals for the visitors and the committee operated under the direction of Miss Phyllis Hoath. Supervising the soccer tournament was Wendell Schwab.

Junior girls' soccer club travelled to Rutland for their tournament while the senior girls played in Kelowna. The latter finished in a tie for first place.

The senior boys were also playing in Kelowna and they garnered second place position and later took honors in an exhibition game against a senior all-star team from Kelowna.

Canadiens' Eddie Mazur, who scored the lone goal in a recent shut-out victory against Detroit at the Montreal Forum, netted the puck in the above play on goaler Terry Sawchuk. But the referee ruled it didn't count as Eddie was in the goal crease. That's Rocket Richard, foreground, lending a helping hand. The Canadiens took over sole possession of first place in the NHL standings by turning back the motor city crew.

5-3 Loss For Locals . . .

Beaten in Comeback Effort By Outbreak of Penalties

Summerland Sunday afternoon broke out some hard-skating action-packed hockey to try and overcome a three-goal deficit in the final period of the match against the Pentiction Merchants but penalties robbed them of any chance to move out in front and final whistle saw them on the wrong end of a 5-3 tally.

After scoring two counters in the third stanza, Summerland hopes of closing the gap went by the boards when three of their players were thumbed to the penalty box within 30 seconds. The Pentiction icemen however, were unable to score even against the severely weakened Summerland squad.

Missing from the line-up Sunday was Chuck Brawner whose stellar net minding in the game the previous week was one of the highlights of the Summerland performance.

The locals fell behind at an early point in the game when Moore blinked the light behind the Summerland net at the two-and-a-half minute mark. He was back in business again at 8:10 when he was credited with an assist on the goal scored by Corrigan.

It was Moore again in the second frame who shoved the Pentiction lead to three goals before Steininger with an assist from Taylor put Summerland on the board. Almost from the face-off, White unassisted put Pentiction back to a three goal lead.

Taylor accounted for two tallies in the opening half of the third period, the first one with an assist by Steininger and the second from Imayoshi. A minute later Corrigan took the puck from White to register the final count for the game.

At the 11-minute mark in the third, Taylor was shooed off the ice for interfering and 30 seconds later Steininger was waved off for charging and Furuya drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty. Earlier in the period, Richardson was tagged for charging.

With two games of the schedule behind them, Summerland now has to its credit one win and one loss.

Summary
1st Period—
Pentiction, Moore 2:30; Corrigan (Moore) 8:10.
Penalties: Baker (P).
2nd Period—
Pentiction, Moore 9:30, White 15:30; Summerland, Steininger (Taylor) 15:00.
Penalties: Ehman (P).
3rd Period—
Pentiction, Corrigan (White) 11:00; Summerland, Taylor (Steininger) 1:40; Taylor (Imayoshi) 9:00.
Penalties: Richardson (S), Taylor (S), Steininger (S), Furuya (S), Corrigan (P).

Disaster AT WINNIPEG

When the mighty Red River burst its banks, it forced 100,000 people from their homes and caused damage estimated at $100,000,000.

In a disaster of this magnitude, Insurance companies went beyond the letter of their contracts to play their part in offsetting the staggering financial loss. Claims were settled swiftly, so that a city and its people could be set on the road to recovery.

Spring Presentations Planned by Singers' Players' Club Here

George Washington, vice-president, presided over the first general meeting of the Singers' and Players' club which was held on Tuesday evening in the high school. During the business of the meeting, it was definitely decided that the Singers would present Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "Yeomen of the Guard", probably early in March. Bud Steuart will be musical director of the presentation. The Players are going ahead with their plans to produce "Children's Hundreds" which is written by W. D. Home and will be directed by Mrs. A. K. Macleod. This play will probably be presented for public approval sometime in January.

day afternoon the staff held an ice cream and cake party in her honor in the horticultural building. Expressions of regret at her leaving were voiced and she was presented with the remembrance gift.

Free Methodists To Observe Men, Missions Sunday

Free Methodist church at West Summerland joins with other Protestant denominations in observing Men and Missions Sunday, Nov. 8. Special services will be conducted on the general theme of "Alerting Men for World Missions," according to the pastor, the Rev. J. H. James.

To promote missionary interest among laymen and to inspire more adequate missionary giving to missions summarizes the purpose of the day. This marks the 23rd year that the Layman's Missionary movement has sponsored Men and Missions.

General Missionary board of the Free Methodist church, which promotes the day in that denomination, reports 38 missionary sailings this year and advance on each of its 22 mission fields. A total of 250 thousand treatments were given in the denomination's hospitals and dispensaries on foreign fields during the past year.

Dr. Byron S. Lamson, general missionary secretary, states that India has shown marked progress. That mission experienced a net gain in membership equal to its total membership at the end of 63 years of missionary activity—or 125 per cent increase since 1951.

Even with gains in many countries, the non-Christian world still remains ten times the population of the United States. And there is one missionary for 75,000 non-Christians. The church in America devotes less than one-tenth of her offerings to world evangelism. The local Free Methodist church invites its friends of the community to attend the mission-emphasis services on Nov. 8. Morning worship begins at 11 a.m., while the evening service is set for 7:30.

Labor Party Gives Up On State Ownership

By TOM OCHILTREE
By Associated Press

MARGATE, England — The Labor Party has abandoned its traditional Socialist belief that state ownership of all industry would bring on a workers' paradise. Instead, the dissension-ridden party has decided at a conference here to work for a welfare state.

Everyone agreed that the cautious attitude of the unions constituted "treason to the spirit of socialism." But the big union leaders and the humble members of the union delegations had an answer for that. A bent little coal miner named Harry Ellison told the left-wingers: "A boss is a boss, no matter whether he gets the job from the state or private owners. Sometimes the bosses of private industry are more reasonable to deal with."

A postal worker said: "It's no use thinking everything is perfect in the garden once the state takes over. That just isn't so."

Britain tried Socialist state ownership—and the labor movement has turned thumbs down on nationalization of more industries.

Organized labor of the polls in Canada has rejected Socialism again and again. On the basis of British decision today, Canadian labor was right.

Symphonette Captivates Audience At Concert Series Performance

Longines Symphonettes Tuesday night captivated an audience of Summerland and Pentiction Community Concert members and in turn the warmth of reception given the visitors left them with a special spot in their hearts for this section of the Okanagan.

The Pentiction High School auditorium was filled to capacity for the opening concert of the Okanagan's first Community Concert group and the choice of the Longines Symphonettes as the first attraction proved to be a fortunate selection although future artists will be hard pressed to match the excellence of performance.

The program provided wide variations in selections and the presentation by only 27 musicians would have done credit to a full symphony orchestra.

Highly popular with the audience was the Symphony No. 5 1/2 by the modern composer Don Gillis who wrote it "for fun" between his fifth and sixth symphonies, which accounts for the fraction in the title.

In the third movement of the Symphony No. 5 1/2 "Scherzofrenia", Maestro Piastro was at his finest as he led the orchestra through a labyrinth of changing moods and tempos, seemingly by sheer magnetism of his personality.

From Early Files of The Review

Thirty-Five Years Ago

Late irrigation water supply was on for the last time during the season on the south main. Ted Buse reported that plans for the two-day Okanagan apple festival at Kelowna were rapidly taking shape and that Percy Williams, "world's fastest human," would probably be on hand. Survey of the upper road to Peachland was completed.

The Associated Growers closed their soft fruit pools and, together with a payment on apples, Summerland growers were receiving $35,266.95.

The Nelson firm of Rawlings and Perry Leake which obtained a contract for building the new co-ed that the project would be completed in approximately three months.

Packers were working until ten o'clock every night and the packinghouses were filled to capacity. Growers were urged to put surplus apples in storage anywhere they could find it to prevent the fruit being damaged by frost.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Good progress was being made by J. J. Mitchell and his crew towards the completion of the Garnet Valley dam. It was expected the cost of the structure would cost about $4,000.

Fire which broke out in the Kelley block occupied by J. Rowley, jeweler, burned the interior of the store, the stock on the shelves and in the window and show cases being totally destroyed. The blaze was checked just as it threatened to engulf the next store, occupied by G. Noble.

The Summerland Fall Fair, in its ninth year, displayed apples, vegetables and livestock and was voted as very successful. The show was held at the Ellison hall and attracted entries from Westbank, Peachland, Naramata, Penticton and Keremeos. J. W. Jones, MLA for South Okanagan, officiated at the opening.

Two known cases of influenza were reported here by Dr. F. W. Andrew, medical health officer. The usual Fall Fair dance was cancelled. The theatre was closed but the churches continued to function on Sundays.

The local Japanese association voted to subscribe $3,000 in Victory loan bonds.

John Tait reported that mice were doing a great deal of harm in local orchards, both to the picked fruit and the trees. Estimate of loss from this cause ran to about 1,600 boxes of apples and the trouble seemed to be very general throughout the valley as there was a wonderful growth of cover crops during the season. Traps were laid in the orchards for the pests.

Question before the local council was whether wood pipe was the best piping to use on the irrigation and domestic water lines. The council was considering the proposed repair work and replacing of the eight-inch main in Prairie Valley and decided that wood pipe would be best.

Believing that the only feasible way to give long-distance telephone service to many of the outlying parts of British Columbia was by means of radiotelephony, George H. Halse, chairman of the board of the B.C. Telephone Company, announced that plans were under way for the formation of a separate company to enter the radio-telephone field.

The local branch of the WCTU staged a very successful musical and elocutionary medal contest in St. Andrew's Church hall before a large and appreciative audience. Mrs. T. McAlpine presiding over the affair. The medal for singing was awarded to Marjory Bernard and in elocution to Margaret Steven.

Playing at the Rialto Theatre was "The Life of Riley" starring Charlie Murray and George Sidney.

Five Years Ago

"Plans have been prepared for the relocation of the Trout Creek bridge but there is nothing further to report from headquarters," was the message to the Summerland council from A. R. Colby, assistant public works engineer, Penticton. Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works, was planning a visit to the Okanagan and upon his arrival would be asked when action would be taken on the new bridge structure.

Possibility that a new cannery would be established in Summerland was voiced at a meeting of the municipal council when it was stated that W. C. Rempel, former manager of the Cornwall cannery, was looking for an industrial site.

The new Summerland Brass Band, which was proving a decided acquisition to the cultural life of the community, staged its first concert of the year in the Rialto Theatre and more concerts were planned for the winter months if the public received them well.

Both the Summerland council and the school board were planning on writing to the dental association seeking a change in the dental act so that female dental hygienists could be employed for inspection and minor care of children's teeth in Okanagan schools.

Rev. F. W. Haskins was leaving his pastorage at the Summerland Baptist Church for a new post as director of Christian education of the Baptist Union of Western Canada in Edmonton, Alberta.

The third annual meeting of the W.A. of the Okanagan-Kamloops Presbytery of the United Church was held in Lakeside United Church with the Summerland W.A. as hostesses to the delegates from various centers in the district.

Dave McNair, sales manager of B.C. Tree Fruits, Ltd., addressed a general meeting of the Summerland Co-operative Growers' Association. Plans, formulated by the directors and manager George Washington, were discussed. These plans regarded enlargement of the cold storage and packing facilities at the Co-op plant on the lakefront.

Gymnastic classes at the high school gym were making great progress. W. J. Schwab, director of gymnastics, informed The Review. There was a class of 50 junior girls, 50 junior boys and a small group of seniors.

Weekend specials at the Groceries were four-pound tins of strawberry jam for 84 cents and assorted jelly powders at six packages for 47 cents.

Showing at the Rialto Theatre was "Treasure of Sierra Madre" starring Humphrey Bogart, Walter Huston and Tim Holt.

T-bone steaks were only 60 cents a pound and sirloin steaks were 65 cents a pound at the Summerland Meateria.

Punishment

Shortly before the invasion, a general and his staff were watching a troop-carrying glider go by. From it came a carrier pigeon. Powerful field glasses followed the bird to a nearby field. A colonel raced over, got the bird, took the message from his leg and read back to the general, who read it, cursed and threw it on the ground.

The colonel waited a minute, picked up the message. It read: "I have been sent down for being naughty in my cage."

THURSDAY, OCTOBER TWENTY-NINE, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-THREE

Hallowe'en Again . . . teen town is doing its part

GHOSTS, goblins and weird characters of all sorts will come out of a year's retirement Saturday night to play their pranks on an all-too-suspecting, but tolerant, public.

Psychologists no doubt are among the strongest supporters of Hallowe'en on the theory that it gives people a chance to get rid of a lot of inhibitions by dressing in comic garb and, hopefully free of recognition, carry out all the mischievous pranks that have appealed to them all year.

As long as Hallowe'en activities are limited to pranks, everyone is happy. Anybody who objects to answering the door a few times for "the little man who wasn't there", or cleaning some soap off their window on the morning of Nov. 1, is a churl, a curmudgeon and a downright poor sport and they'll get no sympathy from us unless they can prove they were never young themselves.

But malicious damage is another thing entirely. Whether it occurs on Hallowe'en or any other night of the year it is still vandalism and should be treated by the courts as such. Wanton destruction can never be justified on any excuse.

This year, Teen Town earns themselves a hearty vote of congratulations by taking on sponsorship of a large-scale Hallowe'en party for the junior members of the community. For too long adults have been classifying "teen-agers" as a major community problem and projects of this sort serve to vindicate the teen-agers as a whole and prove to parents that they have reached a responsible age and are making a definite contribution to community life.

Last year Hallowe'en in Summerland was marked by widespread depredations and the juvenile set as a whole suffered from the actions of a few. If Teen Town can avoid it, there will be no repetition of last year's escapades. They are doing their part and if they get the assistance of a few well-chosen reminders by parents to their own youngsters, Hallowe'en can be a lot of fun with no vandalism to mar it.

Our one other hope for Hallowe'en is that next week we will be carrying no news story of personal injury or property damage from fireworks. And this is NOT a problem of the youngsters. A little parental guidance and supervision in the handling of fireworks is the answer here.

Ungrounded Fears . . . sound business comes first

SOME proponents of a 2,000-mile pipe line to deliver natural gas from Alberta to Eastern Canada argue that the east would be better off with costly Alberta gas than with cheaper U.S. gas because the United States might—out of pique, prejudice or necessity—cut off the supply after it had become necessary to Ontario.

But, for generations, under every sort of condition, the United States has been supplying Canada with coal. Though necessity has over those years demanded a sharp restriction on America's own coal consumption, there has never been a case where Canada has failed to secure its needed supplies. That evidence goes back over years when relationships were less friendly and mutual interests less pronounced than they are today.

There is no sentimental reason behind this fact. Canadians have received their supply when the amount could have been readily used at home for the sound business reason that, had the fuel not been forthcoming without interruption, Canada would have had to find other supplies or substitutes, and when U.S. coal became plentiful again Canada would not have been a market.

And in the matter of natural gas there is another guarantee of supply. Western Canada can export its surplus to the market of the northwestern States, and eastern Canada can buy from the pipe lines that already run all through the eastern United States.

Should such an unforeseeable thing happen as a refusal to implement Ontario's contracts of purchase, it would always be possible for Canada to retort by refusing to export to the western States. The one argument would be as forcible at the other.

Other Opinions

Other Editors Say:

Monstrous Intrusion

The time has come for the federal government to enforce a rigid embargo on imported monsters. The home-grown Canadian variety is being stifled by foreign competition.

Time was when such native horrors as Oogopogo and Cadborosaurus reigned with a quiet dignity, occasionally lifting a fearsome head or lashing a scaly tail for the benefit or nearby residents and visiting tourists.

But an appearance by Oogopogo in his Okanagan haunts or by Caddy in his Vancouver Island playground barely rates a second glance today. Their thunder has been stolen by new freaks from abroad.

Fishermen off both our coasts are showing up with elephant-skinned tropical finfish and unappetizing mud sharks, said to be visitors from southern water. Even the little Nita River of New Hamburg, Ont., is getting into the act with a local monstrosity, said to dine on rat tails and portions of human swimmers and tentatively identified as an escaped baby alligator that grew up.

Apart from their alien status, all these newcomers are guilty of violating the basic regulations of the monsters' union. No self-respecting Canadian monster would ever assault a swimmer for fear of frightening away the tourist trade. And—above all—no authentic monster ever allows himself to be caught, or even scientifically identified.

Canada always has extended the welcome mat for distinguished foreigners of good reputation. If Scotland's Loch Ness monster ever wished to pay us a visit, arrangement could be made for its reception under suitable conditions in some not-too-remote section of the Canadian wilds where its admirers could pay adequate homage.

But Canada's position should be made clear. Visiting monsters which don't know how to play football and have no other satisfactory credentials, should be stopped at the border.—Kimberley News.

But Not Too Much

A hobby should not become obsessive, either of thought or of time. It should be challenging enough to keep one interested, but not so difficult that one can't achieve something in it; it should not demand so much work that it becomes merely another job.

Some questions designed to help us select suitable hobbies are suggested by Dr. William C. Menninger in his booklet called Enjoying Leisure Time. If you can answer "yes" to most of them, says Dr. Menninger, you'll know that you are on the right track.

Here are the questions: Will this activity give me fun and enjoyment? Is it within my capabilities? Can I make the time for it? Will it meet my social needs? Can I make the space for it? Can I afford it? Can it be continued indefinitely, even after my retirement?

It should be such a hobby that, instead of dreading our tomorrows we will look forward to them. The choice is as wide as life itself.

It is never too late to start, but on the other hand there are virtues in starting early. One group of older men wanted to get advice about what they should do to occupy their years after retirement. The group found, by questioning others who had developed active and fascinating hobbies, that they had started early in life. It is not wise to arrive at the first morning of retirement with the idea of starting something then.—Royal Bank Letter.

The Lighter Side

Serious Young Man: Do you enjoy Kipling?
Giddy Gal: I don't know—how do you kipple?

Susie: "So he says I don't know how to dress, huh? Well, tonight I'll wear my low-cut evening gown, and show him a thing or two!"

A Russian wolf-hound came over to this country and met an American dog.

"How are things in Russia?" asked the U.S. pooch.

"Oh, fine, fine," replied the Soviet dog. "We have fine dog houses and all the red meat we can eat."

"Then what are you doing over here?"

"Hell," said the Red dog, "a fellow likes to bark once in a while!"

When the young stenographer met her roommate at the lunch counter, she was brimming over with joy. "I think," she triumphantly announced, "that the Boss has decided to keep me!"

"Has he said anything?" her friend wanted to know.

"No," replied the happy girl, "but this morning he bought me a dictionary!"

If wives knew what stenographers think of their husbands, they wouldn't worry.

"Couldn't you think of anything better than coming home in this drunken condition?" asked the outraged wife.

"Yeah, m'dear," answered the inebriated husband, "but she was out of town."

The oldtimer watched the trombonist play for quite a long time . . . and said finally: "There's a trick to it—that feller ain't really swallowing it."

The sweet young thing had broken her glasses. She took the remains to the young optometrist.

"Will I have to be examined all over again?" she asked.

"No," sighed the eye doctor, "just your eyes."

Mid-Week Message

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? (Psalm 27:1.) Read Luke 12:1-7.

Having disobeyed his parents and broken a promise he had made them, a ten-year-old boy knew he should be punished. He was given a choice of a spanking or of remaining at home for two weeks—no visits to friends, no trips to the store. He chose to stay home.

Like this boy, many of us are afraid of physical pain. We are afraid of war, of torture, of insecurity, of people, of death, of fear itself. Yet thousands of people today have lived through these experiences victoriously.

Another child broke one of her mother's treasures which had been used without permission. She brought the pieces to her mother with great fear. Her mother said the never-forgotten words: "Never mind, dear, just so you don't break my heart."

In like manner, we come with fear to God. We find Him the forgiving Father. His perfect love casts out our fear. With the psalmist we then say, "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?"

PRAYER

O God, Thou art perfect Love. Help us to live so close to Thee that we have no need ever to fear Thee. Teach us to love Thee more and more every day, and to see evidences of Thy loving-kindness all about us. In Christ's name. Amen.

A LETTER FROM KIM SHIN TOK
The Parish Magazine is an old institution in England, and I believe it was the mother of the host of magazines of all kinds that have issued from the press in the last sixty or more years. My earliest recollections of the use of the word magazine were associated with gunpowder which was then the most potent explosive used in warfare. The first use of the word in literature which I have been able to trace is in a quotation from George Herbert, written over 300 years ago. He referred to the Holy Scriptures as "the storehouse and magazine of life and comfort." So that the parish magazine has a prior right to the use of the word as a storehouse of religious life and comfort.

All of which is merely an introduction to and an excuse for quoting a letter which appeared in the August issue of the Parish Magazine of the Church of St. Mary at Harrow-on-the-Hill in England. This church has had associations with many famous Englishmen, and Sir Winston Churchill probably attended it when he was a schoolboy at Harrow. The letter, however, is very much up-to-date and was written by a Korean to Father Fawcett of the Korean Anglican Mission in May last. It struck me as an interesting human document worthy of wider publicity, and I am quoting it in full:

"Dear Sir, Grace and Peace to you. This is a Korean deacon, named Kim Shin Tok, who lived with and engaged in the church work in Korea with the late Fr. Hewlett for 18 years, and is going to be ordained priest on the 31st of May, 1953. Now with several days ahead before Ordination I cannot but remind the late Fr. Hewlett, who used to take care of me and try to make me a Christ's minister. I retrospect those days when I lived with Fr. Hewlett and engaged in the evangelical work in this land and shared with him in joy, sorrow and pain. The retrospect calls tears. The Korean Church was founded upon blood, sweat and tears of missionaries from England, Europe and America. And the blood and sweat and tears became the seed, which grew and is now bearing fruit before God. Fr. Hewlett who dedicated his life for the Korean Church, also took a part of the life work upon himself.

"When the world war II finished, I expected that Fr. Hewlett would come back to Korea. But he was removed into the world of rest by God on 22nd November, 1946, and where I will meet him again in holy love some day in the future.

"Now I, Kim Shin Tok, who was led, educated by him, is going to succeed the work of the late Fr. Hewlett in this corner-land of the world. This land has been torn and devastated by this war. May Christ, our King of Peace, grant us peace and blessing! And may the Gospel of Christ echo throughout the land!

"Dear Sir, I am starting to work and I need your prayer badly. Hearing that a sister of Fr. Hewlett is still alive in England I feel affectionate and am writing this letter. I am now 44 years old and have six children (one daughter and five sons, and one of them is a soldier in the R.O.K. army and is fighting).

"Dear Sir, you would have heard about Bishop Cooper who was taken a prisoner once and recently released and backed England. The Church in Korea is praying that his health will recover completely and return to Korea. Several years ago I used to work in Sangju Church, but now I am working in Taegu Church. I am living in Taegu now. Dear Sir, I suppose that you are old now and I am going to close this letter with the sincerest prayer that the love and peace of God will abide with you all the time. Yours sincerely, From Kim-hin Tok."

Apart from its quaint phrasing, this letter is interesting as an insight into the effect of Christian missionary work among the Korean people. Kim Shin Tok is one of the "early Christians" in that country, of which there must be many in the Far East who will carry on the work in spite of the spread of Godless Communism.

"We had a bad explosion at our house last night. Somebody told Dad the new maid was dynamite; so he decided to investigate. As soon as he touched her she exploded. Mother went through the roof, Grandma hit the ceiling, and Dad went all to pieces.

A cowboy came into a hotel to get a room. He stepped up to the clerk and asked to register. The clerk asked, "Do you want a room with running water?"

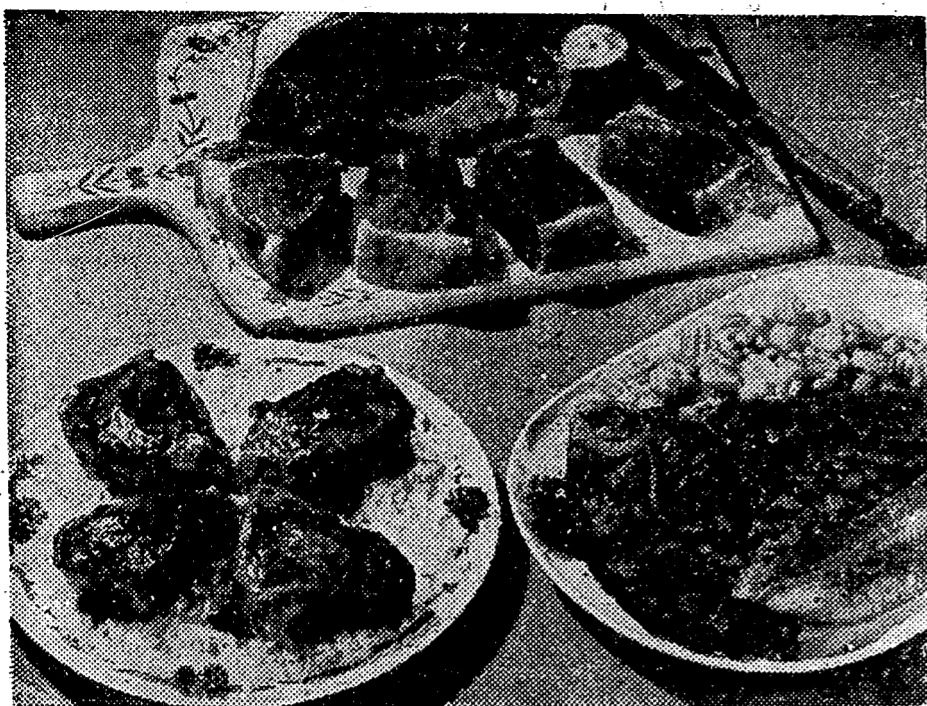

"No," replied the cowboy, "What do you think I am—a trout?"

GRANVILLE ST. WEST SUMMERLAND

Make two meals from one large piece of round steak! Cut a thick steak in half, use the bone-in piece for a Swiss steak and cut the remaining piece into servings for Barbecued Round Steak.

Savory Swiss Steak

Round steak, cut 1 1/2 inches thick, flour, salt, pepper, 2 tbsps. fat 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 medium onions, 1 tsp. dry mustard, 1/2 tsp. chilli powder, 1 small bay leaf, 2 tps. Worcestershire sauce, 1 tsp. sugar.

Combine 2 tbsps. flour, 1 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. pepper; pound into the meat, using a meat pounder of the edge of a heavy saucer. Heat fat in a heavy skillet or Dutch oven and brown meat well on both sides. Top steak with sliced onions. Combine rest of ingredients with tomatoes and pour over and around steak. Cover and cook slowly over low heat until tender, 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Add more tomatoes or a little water, if needed, during cooking. Skim off excess fat and serve steak topped with sauce.

The second half of the round steak cut into four individual servings, may be prepared this tasty way.

Barbecued Round Steak

Four individual servings round steak, salt, pepper, flour, 3 tbsps. fat, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1/2 clove garlic, minced, 3 tbsps. brown sugar, 2 tbsps. prepared mustard, 2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce, 1 tps. vinegar, 1 can tomato soup. Sprinkle steak with salt and pepper and with flour; pound thoroughly. Melt fat in a Dutch oven or large, heavy skillet. Lightly brown onion, celery and garlic; push to one side and brown steak. Combine remaining ingredients and add. Cover and cook over low heat or in a 325 degrees F. oven for 2 hours or until tender. 4 servings.

Another thrifty, easy-to-prepare main dish is this Beef Vegetable Casserole. It's a one-dish meal of layered ground beef, potatoes, celery, tomatoes and green pepper.

Pumpkin Favorite During Autumn For Entertainment Also Food Uses

At this time of the year it is a case of going, going, gone for peaches, tomatoes and cherries are all a thing of the past. At present, however, plenty of rich, orange pumpkins are waiting for homemakers all across Canada to make use of them.

Pumpkins are native to our country and their history dates back to the Indians who inhabited our vast land. Botanically, there is no established basis for distinguishing squash and pumpkin, but the term pumpkin is used in the proper sense as meaning the big orange colored fruit which is used for pies, Hallowe'en lanterns and for canning.

Pumpkins are a favorite at this time of year for it is now that children delight in scaring adults with grotesque looking faces. However, besides this important service of entertainment, the pumpkin has many uses as a food.

In general, there are two classes of pumpkins grown in Canada, those used for stock feed and those used for pie making. The "Small Sugar" pumpkin, the "Winter Luxury" and the "Large Cheese", are the best varieties for eating.

Always choose those that are heavy for their size and that are bright in color. When you get them home, store the pumpkins in a cool, dry place.

Pumpkin pie is a superlative dessert and one that everyone loves. Here are a couple of ideas for dressing up pumpkin pie that sound very good. Add a little ginger to the whipped cream used for topping the pie. It gives a different flavor to the cream which is most delightful. Another good idea is to sprinkle chopped peanut brittle over the cooked pie.

Did you know that pumpkin is one fruit that is used in different ways in different countries? In Canada we add spices and perhaps a little molasses to cooked pumpkin and we have a fragrant pie.

In South America they use pumpkin to make soups and stews or in that country, you may find pumpkin combined with egg and formed into delicate little cakes that are fried in deep fat.

In Mexico, they like to eat pumpkin seeds. They roast them and eat them as we would eat roasted peanuts. Sometimes they use the seeds to make pumpkin meal.

Now that many homemakers have home freezers or frozen food lockers, they preserve their winter food supply by freezing rather than by canning. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture have just published a new bulletin entitled "Freezing Foods". The bulletin tells how to freeze fruits and vegetables, meat, poultry, eggs and baked foods. It is available free of charge, from the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Write now for a copy of this excellent bulletin.

The instructions for freezing pumpkin as given in the new bulletin are as follows: Select well-matured pumpkins with dry pulp. Cut or break the pumpkin apart, remove the seeds and pit by portions. Cut the pumpkin into small pieces and steam, boil or bake until tender. Cool quickly and remove rind. Mash or sieve the pulp and pack dry in freezer cartons. When you are ready to use this frozen pumpkin it should be thawed and used just as you would use canned or fresh cooked pumpkin.

Homemakers who do not have a frozen food locker, can still store pumpkin for use later on by keep-

Report at Guide Association Meet Heard by Group

Mrs. Alex Inch, captain of the 1st Summerland Troop of Girl Guides, gave a report to the regular meeting of the Girl Guide Association in the Youth Centre last evening, on the troop, showing considerable activity during the summer months.

Ex-Guides with outgrown uniforms were requested to contact Mrs. Inch. She reported that a large number of new recruits had joined the troop and also gave a resume of the summer camp at Okanagan Landing which she and ten Summerland Guides attended.

Accompanied by the patrol leaders, Mrs. Inch will attend the Patrol Leaders' conference in Princeton on November 13 to 15.

Other reports at the meeting were heard, including those on the Guide and Brownie hike to Garnet Valley intake on Saturday which was necessary for badge work; the Division meeting in Penitence last Wednesday attended by Mrs. Marvin Henker and a report on the Brownie pack of Summerland.

Mrs. Toews reported she has a full pack of Brownies whose Coronation Year project was the presentation of children's books to the Summerland General Hospital. The Girl Guide Association expressed the hope that more mothers of Guides and Brownies would visit the Association meetings to hear reports and receive some idea of the scope of the activities of both the Association and the Guide and Brownie movement.

The number of Guides and Brownies passing tests in their work is keeping Mrs. W. H. Durick, the badge secretary, busy buying badges. The Association expressed appreciation to all those who assist in teaching and testing the Guides and Brownies for badges and also to those who help to provide transportation for different occasions. Badges, transportation and travelling expenses of the District Commissioner are the responsibility of the Association.

Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon, president, presided over the meeting and Mrs. Les Rumball read the minutes of the previous meeting in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. James Marshall.

Free Methodists See Motion Film

A congregation which filled to capacity the Free Methodist Church saw an outstanding motion picture, "That They May Hear", portraying the power of the Bible and the need for its message throughout the world. The film was shown by Rev. J. A. Raymond Tingley, Vancouver, secretary for British Columbia of the British and Foreign Bible Society on Friday night at a rally under the auspices of the local branch of the Bible Society.

Telling of the world wide work of the society, Mr. Tingley stated that in its 150 years of history the Bible Society had published 605 million copies of the Scriptures in 818 languages for the people of 80 countries of the world, which is an average of 10,000 copies every day throughout those years.

He said that the Society is at the center of the missionary work of every Christian Communion, making available the Scriptures for all missionaries as well as distributing them through the cooperator and Bible Women of the Society. The officers of the Summerland branch of the Society were re-elected, president, A. C. Johnson, secretary, John Graham and treasurer, J. S. Mott. The rally was conducted by the minister of the church, Rev. J. James, assisted by Rev. Charles Richmond and Rev. Kenneth Knight.

Bible Society Sunday, it was announced would be held in the various churches and contributions received for the work, which is of such urgency in the world today, the work of translating, publishing and distributing the Scriptures.

The HI LIFE

Time certainly flies. It seems that just as soon as one column is written, another one is waiting to be done. Oh well, such are the joys of being a reporter.

This week has been a particularly full one with two soccer games played and an assembly held.

Well, SHS has finally won a soccer game; in fact, the senior girls and junior girls have each won a game. Oh happy day! Last Wednesday the Penitence teams of senior girls and junior girls played the Summerland teams only to emerge the losers. Our scores were senior girls 5-0 and junior girls 1-0, evidence of the determination and ability of the teams.

However, our good luck seemed to conclude at Rutland on Saturday when the Summerland teams were severely beaten by the Rutland teams; the senior boys by 2-0, senior girls by 2-0 and junior boys by 1-0.

The second assembly of the new school year was held last Friday with a combined group of juniors and seniors who met for the purpose of discussing the selling of magazine subscriptions. This year the sales will be done on the Curtis plan although for the past two years the students have used the Maclean-Hunter plan. The Curtis plan was chosen because it offers more leading magazines than does Maclean-Hunter.

Also under discussion at the assembly was the changing of the school teams' name. The present name of "Bluebirds" is considered unsuitable by many students. The names "Rockets" for the boys' team and "Rockets" for the girls' team were suggested. The motion to change the name, which has to have a two-thirds majority in three assemblies, passed unanimously with the first vote.

The junior students of SHS have had their first party, an old-time dance, and from all reports it was a huge success. There were well over a hundred students in attendance and they all seemed to have a wonderful time.

We can only hope that the first senior dance this semester, which will be held on the luckiest day the Social Committee could find—Friday, November 13, will prove to be as successful. There will probably be a few black cats in attendance and all superstitious dancers are warned to come armed with such good luck tokens as rabbits' feet, horseshoes, etc. Let's all turn out and join in the fun and frolic to make this dance the best SHS has ever had.

Guess that is about all for this week but there will be more next week so we'll see you then.

We missed our Scouter, David Munn, at the meeting and hope that his knee improves allowing him to become active once again.

Ketter, Oxley and Holmes practice that signalling, we want to see you as second class Scouts for "Family Night".

Patrol leaders, don't forget to arrange for a Court of Honor and think up something lively to show the parents on Family Night.

Thanks to Alan McKenzie for an interesting talk on the care and propagation of Christmas trees.

Saturday, November 7 will be a good opportunity for boys to help our sponsors sell poppies as usual for Remembrance Day. Be prepared to turn out and do your duty.

Local WCTU Protests New Liquor Store

At a recent meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held at the home of the president, Mrs. Howard Milne, the members decided to send letters to Premier W. A. C. Bennett protesting the government's policy of placing liquor stores in every town that has a bank, particularly West Summerland.

The National Temperance lessons were sent for by Mrs. V. B. Durnin and are being taught in four Sunday Schools, the Free Methodist Church, the Pentecostal Assembly, the United Church and the First Baptist Church. Study papers were given to each child.

Guest speaker at the next meeting of the WCTU which will be held on October 30 tomorrow evening, will be Miss Margaret Hall of Lucknow, India, who will talk on India's program of national prohibition.

Pretty Morning Rites Solemnized In Prince Edward Island Chapel

A wedding of interest on both the east and west coasts was solemnized recently in the RCAF Station Chapel at Summerside, Prince Edward Island when Rev. Father J. P. E. O'Hanley united in marriage Edna Viola Bradford of West Summerland, and Raymond-Louie Roy Broeska of Winnipeg, Manitoba.

For her mid-morning marriage, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradford of West Summerland wore an enchanting floor-length gown of satin featuring a Bertha collar above a net yoke and a full overskirt of lace with net panels and a border of matching net. Her waist-length veil of illusion net was held in place by a sparkling crown of silver beads and pearls and her only jewellery were pearl earrings and necklace. She carried a bouquet of beautiful deep pink roses.

Attending the bride, who was given in marriage by LAC William Hetherington, were Mrs. Margerite Hetherington as matron of honor, and Miss Denise Laiselle as bridesmaid.

Mrs. Hetherington wore a charming afternoon gown of pale blue lace with matching blue accessories and a picture hat. She carried blush pink roses.

Miss Laiselle was attractive in an afternoon frock of organdy in shades of pink, blue and white with pink and white accessories, and she carried a bouquet of salmon pink roses.

Bestman for the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Broeska of Winnipeg, Manitoba, was LAC Louis E. Butler.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Irene Peters and during the signing of the register Miss Donna Peters gave a vocal solo.

Following the nuptial vows, the wedding party proceeded to the Clifton Hotel in Summerside, P.E.I., for the reception. The room was decorated in gay

Lovely Coast Bride Wears Blue Satin Gown for Autumn Nuptials

A shimmering gown of ice-blue satin, ballerina length, the bodice trimmed with sparkling sequins and rhinestones with a silver flower extending over part of the bodice and skirt and a nylon and lace bolero featuring a high neck with a floral hat to match was worn by Shirley Adelle Smith, formerly of West Summerland, when she became the lovely bride of LAC Leslie Coombs of Vancouver.

The nuptial vows were solemnized in St. Andrew's Wesley United Church in Vancouver on October 17 before Rev. A. E. Whitehorse.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith of Garnet Valley, who was given in marriage by her brother, W. M. Smith, carried a charming bouquet of red roses accented with fern and her only jewellery was a pearl necklace.

Attending the bride was Mrs. W. M. Smith as matron of honor in a pink ensemble of nylon net over taffeta with a corsage of matching carnations.

Bestman for the groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Coombs of Taber, Alberta, was LAC Dueck of Vancouver.

Telephone Co. Completes Changes To Speed Handling of Distance Calls

The Okanagan Telephone Company has now completed one of the final phases of its three-year, $3 million dollar expansion and modernization program, first started in May, 1950, with the completed installation and testing of its operator toll dialling equipment.

The conversion of its long distance service to this faster, direct calling means of communication marks another 'first' for the company as it is the first installation of its type anywhere in British Columbia. The modernization of its toll system, including the purchase and installation of automatic switching and toll carrier equipment and toll circuit changes was carried out by the company at a cost of close to $100,000.

Work leading up to this final stage was carried out over the past six months with installations of the 2 V.F. (Voice Frequency) automatic switching equipment being made in the Penticton, Kelowna, Vernon and Salmon Arm exchange offices in that order. As installation work was completed in each of these cities inter-exchange long distance lines were cut-over to the new service, thus the modernization to operator toll dialling was carried out in progressive stages. The equipment was supplied and installed by Siemens Bros. (Canada) Ltd. This firm had previously converted the company's three major exchanges at Kelowna, Penticton and Vernon to dial telephone service.

Operator toll dialling follows closely on the conversion of local telephone service in most of the company's exchanges to automatic operation and makes this latest advancement in long distance service available to all telephone subscribers throughout the company's system, making faster, direct-calling service available on all out-of-town calls.

The 2 V.F. automatic switching equipment located in the four exchanges now handles the routing and switching of all long distance calls and where, in many cases, as many as four operators were required to set up and complete a call, one operator, at the originating exchange can now complete this call with a considerable saving in time, thus faster calling results. In addition, the operators previously required to assist in setting up and routing calls are now free to give attention to calls originating in their own exchange—thus a greater volume of calls can now be completed daily.

The long distance operator now dials the number requested at the called exchange and to further speed the placing of such a call,

'impulse sender' keyboards have been installed on all switchboards—the called number is punched out rather than dialled with a resulting saving in time of 5 to 6 seconds per call. The new system also gives the operator more positive supervision over all calls as signal lamps on the switchboard, controlled by the called party telephone, indicate the completion of any call together with an accurate calculation of the elapsed time of the actual conversation.

As an example, a called placed from Penticton to Vernon 4856, the Penticton operator would plug into circuit to Kelowna, dial two prefix digits '00' indicating to the switching equipment at Kelowna that the call is to be extended to Vernon. The Penticton operator then dials the digits 4856 so causing the dial equipment in Vernon to make connection to the wanted telephone.

If the call was to an exchange outside of the Okanagan Telephone system, say to 4856 at Kamloops, B.C. after the call had been switched to Vernon a further two digits will be dialled by the Penticton operator that will cause the call to be subsequently switched in Vernon to Kamloops. The Kamloops operator answers and connects the call to the wanted telephone 4856. The elapsed time to complete this call is 10 seconds. Tone signals, heard by the operator indicate if the called phone is busy or free.

Intricate automatic switching equipment on the receipt of the first two digit impulses, searches for selects, and connects to the correct toll circuit to the called exchange, the final four digits selects and rings the called telephone at the distant point. A subscriber placing a long distance call costing 29c actually uses equipment valued at $65,000 to complete his call.

Although the telephone company has made the first installation of this kind in B.C., it is so designed that it will tie into future installation made by other telephone companies and form a part of the nation-wide toll dialling plan that will ultimately see the telephone subscriber able to dial to any phone in North America directly from his own home.

First Appearance For New Orchestra

High School dance orchestra will make its first appearance under the name of "The Playboys" next week when they play for a dance being sponsored by the Summerland Band on Friday night, Nov. 6.

The dance is to be staged in the IOOF hall and band members are looking forward to boosting their funds needed for music, instrument repair and other band expenses.

Dancing will be from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. and the orchestra group chosen from members of the High School Band are reported to have developed an exceptionally fine dance combination.

HOME AGAIN

C. W. Reinertson has returned home from Peachland where he was on a camping trip for several days.

VISITING ABROAD

Dr. J. C. Wilcox of the Experimental Station recently attended a field day on soil conservation held on the Bostock Farm in the area between Bridesville and Rock Creek sponsored by the provincial department of agriculture.

Badminton Dance Reported Successful

The first in a series of fund-raising dances was held by the members of the Badminton Club on Saturday evening in the badminton hall with most successful results.

The president and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Welsh, were general convenors of the affair which was decorated in a Hallowe'en theme. Mrs. Ted Piers was head of the decoration committee.

Delicious refreshments were provided by the committee headed by Miss Dorothy Britton. The club reports the funds have been augmented considerably for future social events and other plans.

Too Much Sodium So No Hydraulic Lift

Because there is a high sodium content in the Summerland water, Summerland hospital kitchen staff will have to work just a bit harder.

When the electrically-driven elevator which carried food trays from the basement kitchen to the upper floor went out of commission recently, decision was reached by the house committee to install a hydraulic lift. In the meantime, a temporary manual lift was installed.

Report from Vancouver engineers, however, is that because of the high sodium content in the water, such a lift is not practical unless costly stainless steel pipes and equipment is used because excessive pitting will otherwise develop to interfere with the operation.

Until a further study is made, the manual equipment will continue in use.

BERT BERRY'S

Hunting and Fishing News

Fishing has been pretty good this last week. The general tendency is for the fish to take the plugs in preference to worms and spinners. The Kokanee are running and the large fish are taking them. It is cold and the weather is kind of unpredictable, however it is worth while to give it a try. Upper lakes are open yet but it is cold and miserable, however, well worth it if you want to take the cold.

Hunting

The grouse are coming to a close now. Will be closed for the season on the 31st of October. They have not been too plentiful and seem to be on the down grade, however maybe next year will be better.

Duck, pheasant and quail are open now and fair results have been had on all three. Ducks are still the locals and no northerns in yet. More pheasants seen and shot this year than last and it seems that the population has levelled out and they are adapting themselves to the district better. I don't think they ever will come back in large quantities but we will always have enough to have shooting. A dog is an essential thing in this as it not only gives better hunting but there are no wounded birds left on the fields. Quail are here in large numbers, and if you like these it is good sport and good conservation to shoot a good number of these this year.

Geese are open also, but very few of these around this district right now. The odd flock will be here later.

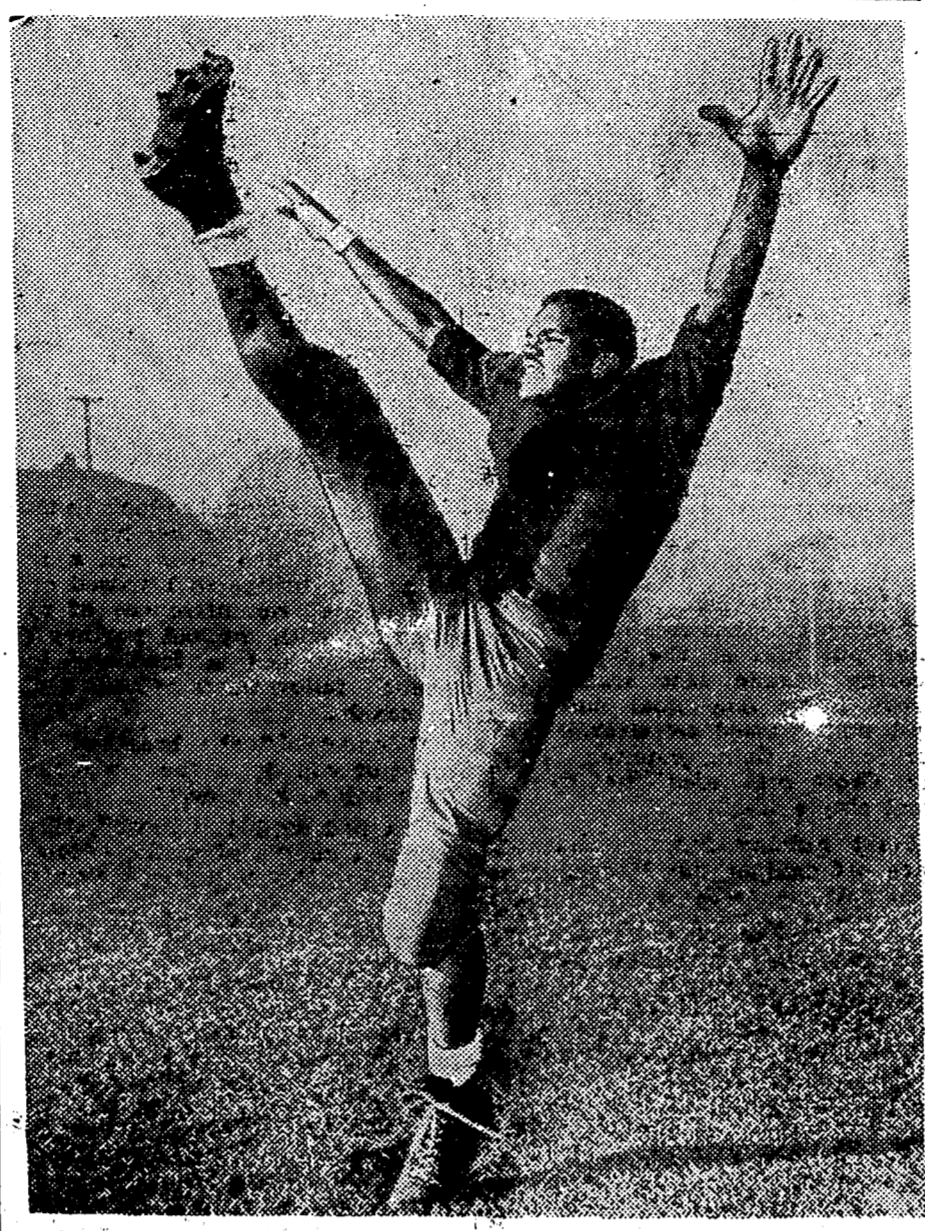

Deer hunting has been slow, two or three more have been bagged over the week. Reports show quite a few around though and when rough weather brings the main herds down we should find a lot of shooting.

Reports back from the Caribou seems to indicate that this is the in-between season. Too late for the local moose and too early for the main bunches. Reports say that another three weeks should be about right unless they get extreme weather sooner.

Dave Taylor New Rifle Club Head

New president for the 1954 rifle shooting season of the Summerland Rifle Club is Dave Taylor, elected at the annual business meeting of the association last Wednesday evening. Other officers elected were E. Gillespie, vice-president; John Khalamback, secretary-treasurer and Art Dunsdon, Steve Dunsdon and Len Shannon, executive members. Also under discussion at the meeting were plans for the coming rifle season when the club members plan to erect a club house.

Story-Book Finish ...

Summerland Puck Squad Victorious In Commercial Hockey League Opener

Manager George Stoll's fears that shortage of players would hamper success of his Commercial League team proved to be without foundation in last Sunday afternoon's league opener when the locals slugged it out toe-to-toe with Pentiction's Garagemen and snatched a 5-4 victory in the dying seconds of the game.

The Summerland pucksters trailed their opponents right through the game but wrapped it up with a story book finish by driving home three fast goals—the last one with less than a minute left to play—in the tag end of the final period.

In the second game of the afternoon Pentiction Merchants took a 4-2 win from the Contractors.

Richardson then went on to prove he still has lots of the stuff that put him at the top of the scoring parade last season and drove home one goal unassisted and next passed to Geordie Taylor for the tying counter.

Next Sunday Summerland will face off against the Merchants at 2:45 p.m.

Legion LA Sponsors Of Remembrance Day Annual Dinner, Dance

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion are again sponsoring a Remembrance Day banquet and dance on November 11.

Mrs. H. A. McCargar is general convener of the affair, assisted by members of the LA.

Guest speaker at the banquet will be Dr. T. H. Anstey, superintendent of the Experimental Station but other plans are not yet finalized.

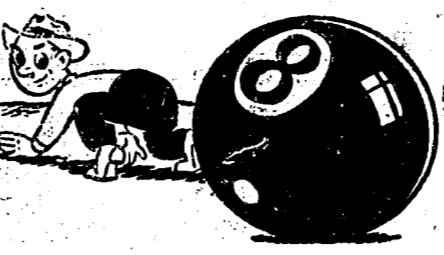

Veterans and their partners, auxiliary members and their partners and members of their family over 21 years of age will be welcomed to the annual Remembrance Day event.

Tickets will be on sale at Milne's Jewellery, Fisher's Shoe Store, Verrier's Meat Market, Howard Shannon's, the Legion canteen and Daniel's Grocery in Summerland.

Pretty Phyllis Avery stepped from the Broadway stage to films to radio to portray the patient but capable wife of "Professor" Ray Milland, as the girls' school teacher of CBS Radio's riddling comedy series "Meet Mr. McNulty".

Average weekly wage in manufacturing in Canada has risen from $20 to $56 since 1939; in the same period average of hours worked per week has decreased from 47.2 to 41.4.

Behind the 8-Ball

By Gord Crockett

Before going any farther, I want to point out that this column is being written as 'nothing' but sheer unadulterated propaganda but the good readers who trust the editor of this Great Family Journal to bring to them an objective presentation of the day-to-day happenings will perhaps forgive this intrusion of propaganda when I get through explaining that it is necessary to my moral, physical and mental well-being.

My trouble started, as most of my troubles do, when an attractive young lady breezed into the office and turned on a full-powered smile. From there on I was putty. "Do you play bridge?" she wants to know.

I could see from the look in those big eyes that I was her hero and I couldn't let her down on a little thing like bridge so I tossed off a few casual reminiscences of tournaments with my old partner Ely Culbertson and a few anecdotes about a fellow name of Lenz I used to coach.

"Wonderful," she breathed, "we can put you down for the Athletic Club bridge tourney."

Trapped again! Oh well, thinks I, it's a couple of weeks before it starts and that will give me time to brush up on the game a bit, study up a few of the conventions and find myself a good capable partner.

At dinner that night I mentioned to my War Department that she should clear a space on the trophy shelf because I was going to enter a bridge tournament. "That's great," says she, "I think I'll really enjoy that."

Only a man who has known real soul-searing tragedy will know the terror that struck at my heart when she uttered those words. I hastily tried to dredge up a story that there was a tournament rule that prohibited man and wife from entering as a team but she just compressed her lips in a straight line and said "The rules will be changed". I could see I'd have to work out a different angle.

The one thing I was sure of was that in the interests of maintaining sanity I could never face up to six rubbers of bridge with my WD as partner.

Only once since embarking on the sea of matrimony have we ever engaged in a game of bridge. On that occasion some friends were visiting insisted we should play a few hands to while away an hour or two and were deaf to my pleas that my wife had never played the game.

"She'll pick it up quickly," they insisted, "we can explain things as we go along."

For a few hands everybody remained friendly but before long I could sense the inward battle going on with our opponents as they fought to control themselves from demanding penalties as I carefully explained the meaning of my bids and plays.

For a time I desisted but then came my way a hand that contained everything I could ask for—everything that is except one ace. By the time the bidding got to me, my demand bid put my War Department in a position that she would have to make a bid of five to give me the information I wanted. I was taking no chances on her letting me down so I explained in detail that the purpose of my bid was to try and elicit information about any aces she might hold and that she should bid from an ace even though it be the only card of that suit she was holding and under no circumstances was she to pass.

She passed. Then as she laid down her hand, she confessed: "I fibbed", and went on to lay down a singleton ace.

I spent that night at a hotel and she went home to her mother for a week and a half. Our erstwhile friends haven't spoken to us since.

and their only communication was a curt note asking me to replace the deck of cards I tore up after playing the hand through and taking every trick.

The recollection of that incident this week was all too poignant. I had no alternative but to go back to my friend of the big eyes and flashing smile and plead for a release from my promise to enter the tournament.

Her price for letting me off the hook was that I write a column on the subject of bridge because they want a lot of entries to make their tournament a success.

For the stronghearted, it's bound to be a lot of fun.

Badminton Players To Sponsor Dance

As part of the concerted fund raising effort being staged this fall, the Badminton Club will sponsor a dance Nov. 14 in the badminton hall.

Funds are required to meet club operating expenses and for the dance, good music and refreshments have been included for the program.
