Hail Insurance Stands Acid Test

BCFGA's Mutual Hail Insurance Company met the acid test last year and came through with colors flying, according to reports presented to the company annual meeting in Kelowna. The heavy hail damage during the year proved the operation of the company to be actually sound.

A. E. Titchmarsh, president of the company and chairman of the board, was re-elected to these posts and Summerland directors re-elected were C. E. Bentley and E. M. Tait.

Delegates at the session favored continuing a policy of providing improved protection at lesser net cost with the safe operation of the company at all times being uppermost in the minds of directors.

Previous board was re-elected with the exception of J. A. English of Penticton who retired because of pressure of other duties. He was replaced by D. P. Fraser of Osoyoos. Other members of the board are N. R. C. Pooley, Kelowna, vice-chairman; C. M. Nettleton, Naramata; George Turner, Vernon; J. M. B. Clarke, Keremeos.

Winter Camping For Rover Scouts

George Brake of Summerland was among the group of five Rover Scouts who visited Trail's giant smelter during a week-end camping journey on Jan. 22 to 24. The other four members of the expedition were from Penticton.

En route to Trail by car the Rovers camped the night of January 22 at Cascade, where they pitched a tent after clearing the ground of deep snow. Warm sleeping bags and a good layering of ground sheets below them ensured a warm, comfortable night outdoors in sub-freezing weather and intermittent snowing.

At Trail the Rovers were guests of the Trail-Rossland District Scout Association and attended a luncheon tendered by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company to the High School Curlers of B.C. Their guide through the smelter was C. E. Charlton, commissioner of the Trail-Rossland district who is also an official of the CM & S.

This journey, one of a series during the past year, provided experience in camping under adverse weather conditions, lighting fires using frozen wood and sleeping in comfort on frozen, snow covered ground. Ultimate purpose of these adventure journeys is to train the boys in emergency rescue work in difficult, hilly terrain.

Boys over 16 interested in adventurous hiking and camping, with a view to community service are eligible to join this crew. Previous association with Boy Scouts, while desirable is not essential. Interested enquiries should be directed to "Skipper" H. R. Hatfield, Penticton.

Herman Godes to Play

Gifted Latvian Pianist To Appear In Third of Community Concert Series

Herman Godes, the brilliant young pianist from Latvia who will appear on Feb. 22 at the Penticton High School auditorium, is making a new life for himself in North America and a new name for himself on the North American concert stage.

Godes was a complete unknown on this continent until he made his first North American tour during the 1951-52 season. The refreshing delicacy and sensitivity of his playing quickly struck a responsive chord in his audiences. Wherever he played he won not only the accolades of the critics, but the hearts of his listeners. In addition to rave reviews on the music page, several newspapers in different parts of the country accorded him the rare tribute of editorials on the editorial page. This is indicative of the impact that this modest but intense young man from abroad has had on his hearers on this side of the Atlantic.

Herman Godes was born in Riga and made his first professional debut as a concert pianist in that city at the age of 13. At 17 he graduated cum laude from the Latvian State Conservatory of Music. A brilliant start on a concert career was cut short by the outbreak of World War II, during which Godes spent four years in German concentration camps. Since his liberation by the Allies in 1945 he has remained west of the iron curtain, rather than return to his Russian-occupied homeland, and in 1950 he was brought to the United States. At that time, Walter Gleasokins, with whom Godes had been studying intensively for two years, wrote: "Godes is an accomplished pianist, exceptionally gifted both musically and technically. I feel sure that the American public will soon recognize and appreciate a pianist of such exceptional qualities." The concert by Mr. Godes will be the third in the 1953-54 subscription series sponsored by the South Okanagan Community Concerts Association.

To Honor Memory With Memorial

Memory of two men who between them gave a total of 90 years service to St. Stephen's Church will be commemorated by a plaque which will be erected in the church.

The two are W. C. W. Fosbery and C. J. Huddleston whose deaths occurred during the past year. Mr. Fosbery was for 50 years secretary of the church and Mr. Huddleston was active on various boards and committees of the church for 40 years.

Contributions toward the plaque to be erected in memory of these two outstanding citizens are being received by I. H. Solly.

Fourth Event Added Expect 40 Rinks May Compete In Four-Day Bonspiel Here

Following the success of their initial bonspiel last year, and with indications of a big increase in the number of entries, Summerland Curling Club this year has added another event to make it a four-event bonspiel and have stretched it out to four days play from February 18 to 21.

Indications are there may be as many as 40 rinks competing in the tourney with 20 or more coming from outside points. Last year 32 rinks were entered from various points in the Okanagan but already one entry from Vancouver has been received for this year's competition. Twenty rinks have been entered to date.

Trophy for the new "D" event has been presented by Holmes & Wade. Other trophies up for competition will be the Occidental Fruit Trophy for "A" event; B.C. Shippers Trophy for "B" event and Walter's Ltd. Trophy for "C" event. In addition to the rink trophies, 16 sets of individual prizes will be awarded the four top rinks in each event.

Entries received so far are from Oliver, Penticton, Summerland, Princeton and Vancouver. Club members are in hopes that

'Venture Into Faith' Showing Wednesday

The world's first Bible deliverance film, "Venture Into Faith", which is built around the evangelistic ministry of Rev. Oral Roberts, will be shown in the Pentecostal Church, Wednesday, February 10, 8 p.m.

The film features Oral Roberts and tells an absorbing story of the power of faith in God. Centering around the nation-wide Roberts' campaigns, this sound-color religious picture includes soul-stirring scenes from Oral Roberts meetings under the huge "tent cathedral", which seats 12,500.

The story is built around Jim and Ruth Collins who are faced with the tragic certainty of the nearing death of their young son, Dave, who is bedfast with tuberculosis. Jim is embittered, worried, rejects religion in any form. Ruth has faith, but can't get her husband to face its power. A close friend tells them of the work of Oral Roberts and his great faith in the power of God. What happens to the Collins family after they have attended two of the Roberts' meetings furnishes the action for this gripping story, which will be understood by everyone who has ever been faced with tragedy and found help and salvation through faith in God.

"Venture Into Faith" is a pioneer attempt to strengthen the viewers' faith in God. The sincerity and genuine faith in God exemplified throughout the film make it one of the greatest religious pictures ever produced.

Frances Atkinson Wins Speaking Competition

Frances Atkinson will be the Summerland representative in the competition among others from South Okanagan for a chance to make an expense-paid month's tour of the United Nations headquarters in New York. Miss Atkinson won the honor in competition with Ron Lawley when the two were required to give a talk on "Why I want to go on the United Nations tour". She is the daughter of Reeve and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson.

Judges were Mr. Ryndman of Penticton and A. B. Matheson of Kelowna. The Summerland entry will compete with other winners from the valley in Penticton the end of this month when the winner will be decided.

Two Penticton Youths Pay Fines On Charge of 'Jack-Lighting' Deer

A wave of night deer slaying in Garnet Valley and Paradise Valley was brought to an abrupt halt Friday night with the arrest of a trio of Penticton youths who have been charged with killing deer out of season.

Complaints have been heard from various parts of the district of deer being jack-lighted and shot and in some cases very close to homes. Police reported considerable time and effort in tracking down the culprits.

Tuesday morning, two of the youths, one 19 and the other 20, appeared before Magistrate R. S. Oxley and were fined $25 each. The third is scheduled to appear in Summerland court on Friday morning. The pair who were arraigned earlier this week both pleaded guilty to the offence.

Police are of the opinion this group has been responsible for probably all the night shooting incidents reported during the past week or two.

ONLY Dogs Allowed In Canine Pound

Jack Heicher, thought everyone knew only lost dogs were held at the dog pound so he didn't consider it necessary to specify when he advertised last week he was holding a "small dark brown female".

By Friday morning he lost count of the number of local wits who phoned to ask "A small dark brown female what?" "If it's going to keep people happy, from now on we'll say it's a dog each time," says Jack.

Tells of Life In S.A. Republic

Life in the mountainous South American republic of Bolivia was colorfully portrayed for an audience in the Summerland Baptist Church last night by missionary, Rev. David Phillips, who is in Canada on furlough from service in the Latin American country. Mr. Phillips described his work there and illustrated his talk with color movies and slides taken in Bolivia.

The speaker, whose home is in Vancouver, was back on familiar ground in visiting the Okanagan. He was pastor of the Penticton Baptist Church 12 years ago.

In Bolivia he has been director of the Canadian Baptist Mission at Le Paz, capital of Bolivia. The station is on the air eight hours a day with gospel programs, news, classical and organ music.

Life in Bolivia is sometimes violent and during the history of the country there have been 180 revolutions. There have been three during the three years Mr. Phillips has been in the country. In August, 1949, a missionary along with seven native Christians was stoned to death.

Le Paz is 13,400 feet above sea level and its location in the heart of South America makes it a particularly strategic location for a radio station.

CHIMNEY FIRE

Summerland's volunteer fire fighters were called out at 7:45 Wednesday morning to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of Bill Turnbull, Beach Avenue. No damage resulted.

Annual Meeting St. Stephen's Church Congregation Hears Church Now Free of Debt

Appearing for the last time at a congregational meeting before his retirement in April, Canon F. V. Harrison last Wednesday evening heard the welcome news that he will be leaving St. Stephen's Anglican Church with it entirely free of debt.

This information was contained in the report of treasurer A. W. Watt, who stated that the church was not only now free of debt but had a fairly substantial bank balance.

On his retirement this spring, Canon Harrison will have completed 45 years service to the Anglican church—the last nine as rector of St. Stephen's. In his report to the congregation, he expressed thanks for the many kindnesses shown him and Mrs. Harrison and also to the church committee for leadership and assistance in the continuing progress that has been made. He said they will continue to reside in Summerland because they feel it has become their home.

Canon Harrison also made reference to the severe loss suffered by the church during the past year by the death of W. C. W. Fosbery and C. J. Huddleston, two men who gave outstanding service to the church throughout their entire lives. A. F. Calder, envelope secretary, reported splendid progress being made in popularizing this form of contributing to church funds. All branches of the women's aux-

Council Approves Proposed Bridge

Summerland municipal council is in favor of construction of the proposed bridge across Lake Okanagan from Westside to Kelowna. At the meeting last week, councillors approved a resolution urging the provincial government to give consideration to the building of this span under the toll bridge authority.

Phone Company Passes Milestone

Okanagan Telephone Company marked the continued growth of its telephone service with the installation of its 17,000th telephone last Thursday afternoon.

The Kelowna exchange and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fortney and family of 691 Okanagan Blvd. can now lay claim to having telephone number 17,000 installed and in service. Present at the Fortney home for the occasion were M. J. Conroy, company superintendent, Percy Maundrell, local manager for the company, and Bill Greenaway, company installer who installed and tested for service this 17,000th telephone.

The event marked another 'first' for the Kelowna exchange, the company's largest in terms of telephones in service. Kelowna was the company's first major dial telephone conversion, which took place in April, 1952. In July of that year this exchange was the first to go over the 4,000 telephones in service mark. With the installation of the company's 17,000th phone on Thursday, the Kelowna total now stands at over 4,500. Penticton and Vernon rank next with 3,900 and 3,400 telephones in service.

Of the 17,000 telephones that the telephone company now has in service 14,500 or 85%, are on fully automatic service. At the start of its major modernization program in May, 1950, the company had 13,335 telephones in service 1,600 of which were on dial service. Over the past three years, during its expansion program, the telephone company averaged a gain of just over 980 telephones a year, with 1952 marking the high year with a gain of 1,062 telephones.

The installation of the company's 17,000th telephone gives a good indication of the tremendous post-war growth in telephone service throughout the valley, as a comparison with figures for the 1945 year-end show 7,674 telephones in service at that time—a gain to date of just under 10,000 telephones.

Few Objections Filed For Court of Revision

Court of revision on municipal assessments will be held Monday at 10 a.m. in the municipal hall. Most of the appeals on the agenda are of a routine nature with very few objections to the amount of assessment.

Tells of Course In Civil Defence

Outline of a course in civil defence at Victoria recently was given last Wednesday night before a group of interested civil defence workers by Mrs. H. R. McLarty.

At the Victoria sessions, Mrs. McLarty received instruction in all phases of reception and evacuation and she reported finding the course interesting and informative. She stressed the need for preparedness with frequent practices by units of all branches of the civil defence team so that all are well versed in what will be expected of them should the need arise, pointing out that it is too late to organize after a disaster has occurred.

Civil defence authorities are in hopes all organizations will take advantage of the information Mrs. McLarty has to offer following the Victoria training and that the need for importance of being prepared to meet any eventually will be fully appreciated.

Teachers Will Act

Summerland Teachers' Association meeting Tuesday afternoon agreed to a request of civil defence co-ordinator Capt. A. M. Temple to have local teachers act as recorders of refugees and casualties in the event of an emergency. William Durlok was appointed to take charge of this operation. Plans for Education Week, March 7 to 13 were discussed and it was agreed to co-operate with any program developed by the P.T.A.

C. E. Barnes of Wallachin was re-elected president of the BCFGA at the convention in Penticton, the first to be held at an interior point. F. M. Clement, Vancouver, was secretary-treasurer. Eradication of codling moth was one of the major problems considered by the convention. President Barnes called for organization by B.C. fruit growers in the reconstruction period just as labor had one so effectively during wartime.

F. R. Gartrell was elected school board chairman and J. W. Bowering was re-appointed secretary. At a largely-attended public meeting with W. C. Kelley acting as chairman, decision was reached to erect in Summerland a suitable memorial to the men of this district who sacrificed their lives during the war. No decision was reached as to the nature of the memorial.

Clarence Adams, Gordon McDougald, D. C. Thompson, Arnold Gayton and S. Bartholomew returned home from active duty in the army.

Officers of the Summerland Purebred Stock Assn. were R. V. Agur, president, T. Dale, vice-president; H. Bristol, secretary; R. C. Lipsett, P. G. Dodwell and G. Doherty, directors.

30 YEARS AGO

William Ritchie was named school board chairman with C. P. Nelson as secretary, replacing J. P. Bowering.

S. W. J. Feltham was appointed manual training instructor.

First contract price for box shooks was made at Salmon Arm, the price being 19 cents.

Mums and snapdragons were picked during the week by S. Angrove.

Jack McCallum was transferred to the Duncan branch of the Bank of Montreal.

FIVE YEARS AGO

In a close-fought race, Mayor T. R. B. Adams of Vernon ousted former Conservative standard bearer, W. A. C. Bennett, to win the Tory candidacy in Yale riding. The nominating convention decided to ask the Liberal party not to nominate a candidate but to back the Conservative entry in the hope of unseating CCF member O. L. Jones.

After opposing construction of a community hall on the site of the Living Memorial Park, Councilor C. E. Bentley proposed the council should obtain estimates on renovating Ellison Hall and give consideration to fixing up the building.

Using 10 trucks, the job of hauling 12,000 yards of fill to the lakeshore for foundations of Summerland Co-Op Growers and Cornwall Canning new construction was completed in 16 days.

Above-average run-off was anticipated for the coming season with snowfall at the end of January reported to be 26 per cent above normal.

Preliminary survey of Trout Creek watercourse to determine a channel which would prevent flood water from menacing adjacent property was completed. From the study, it was hoped to work out a plan for joint action by the provincial government the municipality and the residents of Trout Creek.

Residents were puzzled by a mysterious tremor which was felt by nearly everyone in Summerland and to a lesser degree in Penticton and Naramata. It was accompanied by a loud explosion. The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Victoria stated there were no recorded earthquakes in the vicinity and no answer could be found locally for the disturbance.

Due to legal entanglements, assessing of machinery as improvements for municipal taxation purposes was discarded by the court of revision of the assessment roll. As a result of the decision, $203,965 worth of improvements assessments were struck off the roll which meant a loss in taxes to the community of $3,500.

First step in the installation of the new West Kootenay substation in West Summerland was made when J. D. McMyrn, Penticton manager of the company, completed arrangements to purchase part of the F. J. Nixon property immediately south of the Summerland municipal sub-station.

Rev. Donald O. Knipfel, who was just completing studies at Wesley College in Winnipeg, accepted a call to the Summerland Baptist Church.

Temperature hovered around the zero mark for a week and 10 inches of snowfall kept municipal roads crew busy keeping roads in the district open.

Dr. L. A. Day was re-elected president of the Summerland Trap Club. Frank Pollock was vice-president and Bill Laidlaw secretary-treasurer.

Young Summerland skier Wally Day made a clean sweep of both downhill and slalom events at the Okanagan ski zone championships at the Meadow Valley ski hill of the Summerland club and established himself as the chief male competitor of the meet, even though he was competing as a junior. He set a new Okanagan record in the downhill run with a time of 29 4/5 seconds. Sharing honors with Day were Bob Weitzel and Ruth Kliz.

Curling interest in the district reached a high point and an organization meeting was planned to discuss the possibility of building in Summerland a curling club with artificial ice. Spark-plugging the idea were Herb Lemke, Cecil Wade, Norman Holmes and J. W. Mitchell.

Other Opinions

Other Editors Say:

CANADA'S NEW MAIL RATES AMONG HIGHEST IN WORLD

The government of Canada appears determined to proceed with the proposed increase in first class rate of postage as from April 1. By percentages, these increases are of large proportions. Local service will be increased from three to four cents and outside service from four to five cents, thus giving Canada one of the highest charges in the world.

A reading of the debates of the House provides some interesting figures on operations of the postal service. There should exist quite wide general agreement with the statement of the Postmaster General that the "department is a service department (of government) and should, within reason, pay its way." To have the department's operations subsidized from the general revenues rather than have those using the service pay all charges is quite unsound.

The position would seem to be that expenditures in the next fiscal year will be increased by $13,500,000 for the implementation of the five-day, forty-hour week for employees and for a general increase in salaries and improvements for mail couriers.

Those are facts which cannot be ignored and certainly improvements in the lot of postal workers are overdue. But the Postmaster General is on much less solid ground when he tries to show that the abolition of the stamp tax on cheques has nothing to do with the contemplated boosts. Loss of revenue due to the elimination of postage for the payment of the tax on cheques and remittances amounted to $7,500,000. The 1952-53 postal surplus—before removal of the tax—was $6,500,000 so that the deficit by April will be at least $1,000,000. The position is that had the tax been retained, the post office would have had to find only half the total $13,500,000 revenue now needed for salaries and other expenses.—Vernon News.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY FOURTH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY FOUR

Not Too Sporting . . . a pretty shortsighted policy

RIGHTLY or wrongly, Penticton sporting groups seem to have picked up a reputation as being pretty poor sports. Certainly the Commercial Hockey League executive last week did their share to help enhance that reputation. Their refusal to give Summerland a break and have home games while they were able to make ice at the Summerland arena leaves a bad taste in the mouths of local backers of the commercial loop.

The cheesy part of the whole deal is that Penticton could probably have allowed the games to be played in Summerland with no loss of gate receipts to the Penticton Arena. At the present time, the Commercial League schedule calls for two games each Sunday afternoon at the Penticton rink. To have permitted the Summerland game to be played here, the league could easily have filled in the other half of the double-header with an intermediate or junior game.

The Summerland rink management is fighting a tough proposition in trying to establish a first class rink here while depending on whims of the weather to make ice. In the spirit of good sportsmanship, the least the Penticton league executive could have done would have been to give a boost to the work here when they had a chance—particularly when it wasn't going to cost them anything.

There is no reason why Summerland should be treated, or feel, like a poor relations where commercial hockey is concerned. The local team has helped give the fans a top-notch brand of hockey and have consistently held the lead in the league. Without this team the league would be hard put to fill the gap. And Summerland attendance at the games has been an important item to the league, too.

If league officials had only been smart enough to take a slightly longer range view, they perhaps might have seen the possibility that a few games in Summerland might whet increased interest in commercial hockey among local fans and increased Summerland attendance at Penticton games during the rest of the season would result.

One member of the executive had the patronizing suggestion that if Summerland would install artificial ice, games of the league would be scheduled right through the season. It would be nice if people of Summerland could see their way clear to take him up on that suggestion.

White Cane Week . . . be thoughtful for your sight

OF all the specially designated weeks during the year, there is probably none which is designed for a more humanitarian purpose than "White Cane Week" which will be observed Feb. 7 to 13.

This year, the theme of White Cane Week is "friendliness" but its purpose is more than to just encourage people to become more conscious of the distinctive walking stick carried by the sightless to indicate their handicap. Its purpose is to also help people become more eye conscious. It you can read this, be thankful for your sight.

With doctors claiming that half the blindness in Canada is preventable, and a C.N.I.B. registry of more than 20,000, prevention of blindness is of prime importance. Prevention is really everybody's business and no one realizes it more than those who have already lost their sight. The majority of the blind are friendly people who would like to impress upon their sighted neighbours the value of eye care.

Many have lost their sight through accidents, and accidents are usually caused by carelessness. You can lose your vision in a matter of seconds. Parents should teach their children the correct use of knives, scissors and other sharp objects, and they should not let children play carelessly with them. A knife or even a pencil should always be carried with the pointed end held down. At the first sign of eye trouble consult an eye specialist. An early diagnosis may lead to an easy remedy, and it is better to be safe than sorry.

As part of our White Cane Week program, posters are placed in the schools, motorists and pedestrians are reminded about common sense safety precautions, and everything possible done to make Canada eye conscious. Yet every year the number of the blind increases. It is not an alarming increase, but just the same, prompt attention to trouble, the careful handling of sharp instruments, and common sense care of the eyes will conserve the precious gift of sight.

The blind are a cross-section of the community, and, as they go about the streets in White Cane Week and throughout the year, lend a cheerful hand in unobtrusive guidance, and remember to take care of your own eyes.

Time For Courtesy . . . no jekyll-hyde act, please

A NY motorist who is looking for a good chance to practice courtesy will never find a better opportunity than right now. With streets and roads heavily blanketed with snow, pedestrians can look forward to a few weeks or more of slush underfoot. That in itself is bad enough but it becomes infinitely worse if it is necessary to try and dodge out of range every time a car passes sending up a heavy spray of watery snow and mud.

The average driver afoot is a well-mannered citizen who observes all the social graces expected of a well bred courteous individual but for some unaccountable reason, he, or she, goes through some strange metamorphosis once he gets behind the wheel of a car and becomes instead a complete boor who drives with callous disregard for the comfort or well-being of any one else.

While we know of no instance off hand where a motorist was charged in court for inconsiderately splashing pedestrians, it would seem very likely that the section of the motor vehicle act which requires driving "with due care and consideration for others" could be applied in such a case and a person guilty of the offence could be penalized with a fine. In any event, it should not be necessary to legislate common courtesy. Civilization has reached a very low point if we can be courteous only because we are under threat of a penalty if we act otherwise.

The time it takes to slow down when passing pedestrians is negligible and is more than compensated by the feeling of appreciation—even if unspoken—felt by the person walking.

And that goes too for all the little acts of courtesy within the power of a driver to extend to others.

The Lighter Side

A newspaper got a call from a woman who wanted to put her spouse's name in the obituary column.

"What was the cause of his demise?" asked the editor.

"I caught him kissing his secretary."

"How long has he been dead?"

"He starts tomorrow."

A man bought a canary from a pet shop.

"You're sure this bird can sing?" he said, suspiciously.

"He's a grand singer."

The customer left. A week later he reappeared.

"Say! This confounded bird you sold me the other day is lame!"

"Well, what do you want—a singer or a dancer?"

The newly-rich woman was trying to make an impression. "I clean my diamonds with ammonia," she said, "my rubies with Bordeaux wine, my emeralds with Napoleon brandy and my sapphires with fresh milk."

"I don't clean mine," said the quiet woman sitting next to her. "When they get dirty I just throw them away."

Hoping to inspire his workers with promptness and energy, an executive hung a number of signs reading "DO IT NOW" around his factory and of fice. When he was asked some weeks later how his staff had reacted, he shook his head sadly. "I don't even like to talk about it," he said. "The cashier skipped with $4,000, the head bookkeeper eloped with the best secretary I ever had, three typists asked for an increase, the factory workers voted to go on strike, and the office boy joined the Navy."

A country clergyman was examining a class at the village school. "Now, John," he said, "can you tell me what we must do before we can expect forgiveness of sin?"

"Yes sir," replied the boy, "we must sin."

A frustrated motorist had been trying to pass a huge truck for many miles. Every time he tried to go around, the truck driver increased his speed or swerved slightly toward the middle of the road. Finally, at a stop sign, the motorist pulled alongside the truck driver's window.

"Well," growled the truck driver, glaring at the motorist.

"Nothing important," was the reply. "I know what you are—I want to see what one looks like."

An American, on being introduced to an Irishman, was asked by the latter: "From what country do you come?"

"From the greatest in the world," replied the American with a smile.

"Poor fellow," sighed Patrick, "you have lost your Irish accent!"

Mid-Week Message

If a man love me, he will keep my words; and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him. (John 14:23.) Read Acts 1:1-8.

Some years ago I heard an evangelist tell this story: One day two men were riding in an automobile. The passenger turned to the driver and said, "See that large house over there? That's my house." The next day the driver went by the same house, but he had another passenger who said exactly the same thing: "See that large house over there? That's my house." Again, the third day, from still another passenger he heard the same remark.

All three men were right. The first man had built the house. The second man had bought it. The third man had rented it and was living in it.

The evangelist then went on to say that that is one way to explain the work of the Trinity: God made me, Jesus bought me, and the Holy Spirit dwells in me.

Is it not wonderful the way God cares for us? All He asks of us is our love and our faithfulness.

PRAYER
Our Father, we thank Thee for Christ, our Redeemer, and for the Holy Spirit, our Comforter. We honor and praise Thee for the salvation Thou dost offer us and for the Holy Spirit who gives us power to witness for Thee to others. In the name of Christ, who teaches us to call Thee "Father," Amen.

Notes From Parliament Hill

By O. L. JONES

The Prime Minister introduced a Bill to increase the indemnity of members, senators and cabinet ministers which met with a mixed reception from members of the opposition groups, the Liberals, Social Credit and four CCF members supporting the bill on its first appearance in the house. The Conservatives and 13 members of the CCF group voted against the bill—again for various reasons. The Conservatives were not opposed to the increase but to the method of increase. Mr. Drew said that the members should receive adequate pay but that a royal commission should decide the amount and definitely the proposed increase to Senators should be reviewed by the same commission. It was on this basis that the Progressive Conservatives opposed the Bill. The 13 CCF members including myself, who opposed the bill did so on grounds varying from no increase whatsoever to a compromise increase to $8,000.00. There will be a heated debate at the next stage of this bill when particularly the clause dealing with the senate will be subject to review. If and when the increase is granted, there should definitely be an attempt made to prevent absenteeism which, as one writer said, "has become chronic". Many Ontario and Quebec members spent a long week-end at home sometimes leaving on Thursday or Friday and many failed to turn up again until the Tuesday. Whilst such absences are subject to a penalty, methods of checking absenteeism leaves much to be desired.

In view of the numerous letters that I have received regarding allowances for totally and permanently disabled people, it is gratifying to know that the Federal-Provincial conference on this matter, held this week, has given general approval to the Federal government's declared intention to introduce enabling legislation providing for assistance to this unfortunate group of people. While there has been no public statement, it has been rumored that the proposals will be $40.00 a month to those qualified, with the Federal and Provincial governments splitting the payments evenly. There are, roughly 25,000 to 35,000 people who would benefit under this proposed Act, the number depending on what age limit is decided upon for those who will receive the benefits.

The new housing act is making progress over a pretty rough road in parliament. It has been attacked as inadequate and not providing home units for those mostly in need of this accommodation. However, it will be an improvement on the last Act. The main feature in the new one is that banks will enter the house mortgage scheme for the first time. While this has been the custom in the United States, it is something new in Canada. Actually, the banks are taking no risks because the interest rate will be 5 1/2% and the bank loan is insured under the Act so that they can not possibly lose. In other words, the banks have found a good investment outlet with insurance protection for their participation. The high interest rate came in for severe criticism many feeling that the scheme was more concerned with assisting lending institutions to find outlets for their investments rather than a scheme to provide homes but, at the same time, suggesting that money loaned directly by the Bank of Canada should be available at not more than 2%. The bill, in spite of all the objections, will go through without any changes.

The increase in postal rates will become law on April 1st. This bill is unpopular with most members and I, personally, feel the government did not prove its case when arguments were produced and evidence supplied that many improvements could be made in the postal system that would appreciably reduce the cost of operation. This, with the fact that the stamps on cheques should have been continued, would have eliminated the need for an increase. The government was charged with eliminating the stamp tax on cheques just prior to last election for political purposes and new they find themselves without this revenue and are placing it on the ordinary postal customer whereas it was contended in debate that the cheque stamp tax was mostly paid by large industrial concerns who could well afford to do so. Coinciding with the increase will be a faster mail service as it is the government's intention

Guide Membership Exceeds 100-Mark Reports Disclose At Annual Meeting

Mrs. A. Dunsdon was re-elected president of the Summerland Girl Guide Association at the annual meeting which followed the regular monthly session in the Parish Hall Thursday afternoon. Other officers elected were Mrs. M. Henker, 1st vice-president; Mrs. C. Adams, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. J. Marshall, secretary; Mrs. F. Beaven, treasurer and Mrs. W. H. Durick, badge secretary.

In the absence of Mrs. Dunsdon, vice-president Mrs. T. Lott took the chair for the monthly meeting and welcomed visitors and new members. Mrs. M. W. Toews and Mrs. N. Reid reported for their respective Brownie packs. Margaret Marshall and Ann Beggs attended the meeting to give report for the Rangers. Mrs. Durick reported many badges earned, and her report showed that over $22 was spent by the association for badges earned by Guides and Brownies.

It was decided to insert a card in the Summerland Review as an expression of appreciation for the work done by many instructors and badge testers. The total enrollment of Rangers, Guides and Brownies at present stands at 101.

Mrs. Dunsdon took the chair to conduct the annual meeting and indicated a busy program was planned for the coming year. Annual reports from the Guide leaders were read, and appreciation was expressed for the excellent work done.

The next meeting of the Girl Guide Association will take place at 8 p.m. Feb. 11, and it is hoped this change of time will prove more convenient.

A very welcome cup of tea was served at the close of the meeting.

Clever Cooking ...

Not many of us would speak of an onion as "the rose among roots, the poetic soul of the salad bowl", but Robert Louis Stevenson did and he was by no means the first to mention onions in a poem. Onions were considered a great delicacy and were much enjoyed in Ancient Egypt. But for some reason, they are not as generally used today. This is an especially good winter to use onions, for there is an abundant supply of onions of good quality, and they are low in price.

While we use onions as seasoning and in salads and sandwiches, we sometimes forget that they are vegetables and that they can be used in many ways. They may be served either alone or combination with another vegetable—tomatoes and onions are very good together, and so are onions and string beans. Most families would like onions in a cheese sauce with crispy bits of bacon sprinkled on top. And who doesn't like onions baked to golden brownness around a roast of beef, lamb or pork—they are just as good cooked that way with poultry, too.

But before you cook the onions, you have to buy them. There are three main types of Canadian grown onions, sold in the stores—the Yellow Globe (or more commonly called Yellow Cooking Onion) the large Spanish-type onion and the Red Cooking Onion. There are more of the yellow than of the others, but they are all worth trying. When shopping for onions look for those that are hard and that have a bright, clean skin. Do not buy onions that are moist or soggy and that have sprouts. Onions can be stored in a cold, dry well ventilated cupboard. If a part of an onion is left over, it can be kept in the refrigerator if it is well wrapped in foil or waxed paper. When it comes to cooking onions, they should be cooked only until tender, not soft, for overcooking causes an unpleasant odor and an undesirable colour.

If you haven't served stuffed onions at your house recently, that would be a good suggestion for lunch or dinner very soon. To make stuffed onions, you first cook the onions, fairly large ones, (one for each serving) in boiling salted water, covered of course. Boil for 20 minutes or until the onions are tender, but not soft. Or, cook in the pressure cooker. Then remove and chop a part of the center, leaving the outside rings as a shell. Add the chopped onion to the stuffing and fill the shells. Put the onions in a shallow baking pan and bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 deg. F., for 30 minutes. Home economists have some very good suggestions for the stuffing too. They say that it may be a savoury bread one or it may be a mixture of other vegetables and bread crumbs. A mixture of kernel corn with the bread crumbs; and bread crumbs, canned tomatoes and any kind of chopped meat make a very tasty filling. Left-overs can very easily be used as a stuffing for onions, too. Baked beans seasoned with chili sauce go well in baked onions. Your family will never know they are getting left-over macaroni and cheese if you use it as a stuffing for onions.

Since onions and potatoes are plentiful and very low in price this year, here are some suggestions for using them together. Potato and Onion Puff made from an equal quantity of potatoes and onions is an excellent topping for meat pies or casseroles. You make the Puff by cooking the potatoes and onions together, then mashing them. Season with salt and pepper and beat until fluffy. Pile lightly on the meat pie or casserole and bake in a moderately hot oven, of 375 deg. F., until it is golden brown. For extra flavour, sprinkle the puff with grated cheese or paprika. A good potato scallop with a generous amount of onions is very good during cold weather. The home economists also suggest Potato and Onion Pancakes.

Potato And Onion Pancakes

tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper.

Combine the potatoes, onions, and eggs. Blend well together. Sift the flour, baking powder, salt and pepper together and add to the potato and onion mixture. Again, blend well together. Drop by spoonful to a hot griddle or lightly greased frying pan. Cook until brown on one side (about four minutes). Turn and cook until brown on the other side. The recipe makes 24 medium pancakes which would serve six as a main dish, for lunch or supper.

These pancakes are such a nice golden brown that they do not need a sauce. Serve them with sausage and a crispy salad.

A Note of Appreciation

The Summerland Girl Guide Association wishes to express appreciation to the many Instructors and Badge Testers who have so willingly and ably given their time to this worthwhile work.

The '54 BUICK's got it— The Big Change you've been hoping for!

The instant you see these 1954 Buicks, you'll know that something sensational has happened in automobile styling.

Here is vastly more than the usual model changeover. Here is vastly more than could be done just by warming over what Buick had before. Here is something accomplished by going far beyond artful face-lifting.

Here is that rarity of rarities—a completely new line of automobiles.

But Buick didn't stop with the bolder, fresher, swifter-lined beauty you see in raised and lengthened fender sweep—in the huge and back-swept expanse of windshield—in the lowered roofline—in the host of extra glamor features of exterior modernity.

They upped all horsepower to the highest in Buick history. They engineered a new V8 for the low-priced SPECIAL, so that now the entire Buick line has Buick's famous V8 engine—and in the process came up with new Power-Head Pistons that boost gasoline mileage in every engine.

They brought to market a sparkling newcomer with a famous name, the Buick CENTURY—a car with phenomenal horsepower for its weight and price—a car with more pure thrill per dollar than any Buick ever built.

And they did all this without change of the price structure which, for years, has made Buick the most popular car at its price in the world.

We invite you to come in and inspect these great beauties, these great performers, these great buys. Then you'll see why previewers are already saying, "Buick's the beautiful buy!"

Furnishing Room For Hospital Staff

Decorating and furnishing of a sitting room for members of the hospital sub-staff is just about completed. This was the report of the committee in charge of this project to the regular meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary Monday night in the Parish hall.

Members of the committee responsible for this work are Mrs. Robt. Cuthbert, Mrs. C. F. M. Guernsey and Mrs. A. Crawford.

Appreciation was expressed by the meeting to the many contributors of furniture, lamps and decorations to assist in the project.

In the chair for the meeting was the president, Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge.

NEW ARRIVALS

Hawaiian Theme Adds Color To Popular Eastern Star Event

Order of the Eastern Star seventh annual dance Friday night drew one of the largest crowds of dancers in recent years in Summerland and the event proved to be an outstanding social event of the winter season.

A Hawaiian theme was carried out in the decorations and arrangements and this motif gave an added interesting touch to the affair.

Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Earle B. Wilson, worthy patron and worthy matron of the order, and ladies were presented with Hawaiian leis by attractive grass-skirted attendants.

General convener for the event was Mrs. Jack Dunsdon.

For the occasion, the Youth Centre was a fairland of colored lights, streamers and balloons with palm trees and hula girls posed against a setting of the South Seas. A mural encircled the room depicting tropical island scenes with palms, tropical moon and flying fish as well as humorous cartoons which added to the enjoyment of the dancers.

Decorating was carried out by a committee under the direction of Mrs. George Washington while in charge of the committee which provided delightful refreshments for midnight supper was Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw. Mrs. Ken Heales convened the committee handling invitations while Mrs. George Fors- ter was in charge of tickets.

"Hawaiian" dancers who helped welcome guests and distributed leis were Anne Beggs, Connie Gibbard, Margaret Marshall and Lois Maddocks.

Prizes in spot dances were won by Miss Joan MacDonald, Mrs. Charles Bleasdale, Al Lewis and Frank Doumont.

Brownies Contribute For Polio Victim

Gail, a little girl of six, a victim of poliomyelitis, who has spent many months of her short life in an iron lung, and who still requires much medical attention will receive a gift of $132 earned by the Girls' Guides and the Brownies of the South Okanagan and Boundary divisions for their "Polio Fund".

The young recipient of the fund is a resident of the South Okanagan and is making steady progress now that she is able to be out of the "lung" but will require years of special medical attention to make her well again.

Following consultations between the public health department of this district and division commissioners, Mrs. E. A. Titchmarsh, of Penticton, and Mrs. A. E. Bennett, of Oliver, it was decided to donate the "earned" fund to be used in medical treatments for the small girl.

The 1953 "Polio Fund" was realized through numerous projects sponsored by the girls' groups of the two divisions.

A plaque is to be erected in St. Stephen's Anglican Church to commemorate the memory of two of Summerland's outstanding citizens—W. C. W. Fosbery and C. J. Huddleston.

Anyone wishing to participate in the fund-raising for this memorial may send contributions to I. H. Solly, West Summerland.

Active Year Reported . . .

Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony Re-Elected Head Of Local St. John Ambulance Group

A successful year which saw a class of 44 trained in basic and advanced first aid and attendants provided for numerous public gatherings was reported by Chairman Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony at the annual meeting of the Summerland centre of St. John Ambulance Association held Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon J. Beggs. Mrs. O'Mahony was re-elected to the office of chairman.

Deep regret was expressed by the meeting at the retirement of Miss Louise Atkinson from the post of secretary—an office she has held for 11 years—and a vote of thanks was extended her for the faithful service she has given to the organization.

Other officers were re-elected for another term. They are Mr. Beggs, vice-chairman and Mrs. L. Wither- spoon, honorary secretary. Mr. Beggs was also chosen as representative on the executive of the local branch of the Cancer Society.

It was decided a course in civil defence first aid will be conducted during the coming year if there are sufficient interested candidates and a series of films will be shown at these classes.

In her annual report, Mrs. O'Mahony noted events at which the association had been called upon to supply attendants and these included the school sports day, baseball and AOTS sports day, coronation day celebration, ski tournament and Summerland Regatta. At the latter event, the first aiders were ready with the inhalator in the event of a water accident and Mrs. O'Mahony noted two members prior to this event received special training at the Summerland Hospital in the use of this equipment.

During the civil defence alert, members of the local branch manned the casualty clearing centre complete with ambulances and stretcher crews.

Provincial secretary, G. G. Ed- wardson, visited Summerland during the year and his visit proved helpful and instructive.

Lectures to Rangers and Girl Guides were conducted by Mrs. L. Wither- spoon and the chairman, who later examined them, reports finding the girls quite proficient.

The first aid station during the year was under the direction of Mrs. T. Campbell.

START NURSE'S TRAINING

Miss Marguerite Menu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Menu and Miss Merle Heavysides, daughter and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Heavysides, left on Sunday, January 31 for Vancouver. The girls, who are 1953 graduates of Summerland High School, will go into training at Saint Paul's School of Nursing in Vancouver.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Convalescing in Summerland General Hospital after a major operation on Tuesday, February 2, is Mrs. Anton Holler of West Summerland.

INTO NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Johnston and family who, for the past several years have been residing on the Sand Hill, moved into their new home in Parkdale on January 23, 1954.

Weather Puts Halt To Construction Work

Snow and cold weather combined to keep construction practically at a standstill in Summerland during January and Building Inspector Roy F. Angus reports only two building permits issued during the month. Both were for alterations and estimated work on the two jobs totalled only $180.

This gives the year a poor start in comparison with the first month of last year when four permits were issued for a total of $4,400.

The promotion of the last speaker of the house, Mr. Ross MacDonald, was generally approved but his appointment as senate leader was not so popular among the Liberal senators who, naturally, felt that their power to choose their own leader had been taken away by the government or possibly the cabinet. Further discontent has appeared in the Liberal ranks owing to Mr. MacDonald's appointment as Solicitor General, thus overlooking many worthy members of the Commons who had, presumably, hoped to receive this post. Freely mentioned in this connection are Mr. George McIlraith who has been a member since 1935 and has done excellent parliamentary work as assistant to Mr. Howe, and Colonel David Croll who has also been overlooked. Both these men are prominent solicitors. I understand the reasons given were that Ontario already had five ministers in the cabinet. It was, therefore, a shock to these people to find that, in spite of that answer, Senator MacDonald, also an Ontario member, was promoted making six cabinet ministers from Ontario.

The Kurt Meyer case was briefly discussed when Mr. Drew asked for the production of papers and correspondence in connection with this case. It appears that General Kurt Meyer who had been charged with being responsible for the death of several Canadians in the last war and had been tried and proven guilty, received what many thought was a very light sentence for such a crime. This light sentence was spent in Canada but, a little over a year ago, for some strange reason General Kurt Meyer was returned to Europe to complete his jail sentence. Now the sentence has been reduced drastically as a result of a court of enquiry into the case. Mr. Brooke Claxton informed the house that, in all probability, Kurt Meyer would be freed during the course of the current year. The Government rejected Mr. Drew's request and no information beyond the bare facts have been made available to the Members of the House leaving us to surmise that the release of Kurt Meyer has a great deal to do with the resurrection of the old German Army. Naturally, one has misgivings as to the part that this man will play in the proposed new German Army—whether we are again asking for a repetition of the old German menace that has been a nightmare for the last two or three generations.

Reports Reflect Successful Year At St. Andrew's Church Annual

The annual meeting followed a supper served by members of the Service Club.

Also resigning was Bert Stent and he was replaced for the balance of his term by David M. Munn.

By careful planning and saving, this young couple built the house of their dreams with the help of Canada's largest home-lending institution, the Sun Life of Canada. Furthermore, at small additional cost, they wisely protected their investment with a Sun Life Mortgage Protection policy which, should the husband die before the home is paid for, instantly clears all remaining mortgage indebtedness.

Rockettes Trounce Princeton 32-8

Summerland's senior high school Rockettes are still proving their ability to meet and beat all hoopsters in the South Okanagan. At present they have five wins and two losses. They lost their first game this year to Similkameen, and lost one to Pentiction's senior town team.

Last Friday night the local girls trounced the Princeton lassies, to the tune of 32-8. High scorers for Summerland were Doreen Fleming with 10 and Irene Menu with 8. The Princeton crew led once in the game when they scored the first basket. From then on it was the locals game all the way. Summerland led 7-2, 14-3, 27-5 and outscored Princeton 5-3 in the quarters.

It was a good workout for the second string of the Rockettes as Coach Daryl Weitzel played them consistently after building up a good lead. Summerland bulged the twine on six tries of the nine they had for free shots while the visitors only noticed two in seven tries.

Enthusiasm High With Ice Still Good

Summerland has had another week of natural ice in the arena. Enthusiasm is still high. The schools have had over a thousand pupil-hours of recreational skating during their regular physical education periods, as well as 150 pupil-hours of hockey practices.

More than 550 people turned out to watch the two senior hockey games and about 400 people took in two hours of skating.

Down Contractors 13-2

Steininger Leads Way In Puck Scoring Spree

Back in Commercial League circles again Sunday after playing hockey the previous week, Summerland pucksters lost no time in catching up on their school work by belting home 13 goals to overpower the Contractors who were able to ring up only two counters during Summerland's free-wheeling scoring exhibition.

The second match of the day gave Summerland an even firmer grip on the league leadership when second place Merchants lost out 3-2 to the Garagemen to put Summerland two points out in front.

Scoring laurels went to Dick Steininger who accounted for five of the Summerland tallies while right behind him in the scoring parade was Geordie Taylor who was responsible for four. Three of Taylor's goals were scored unassisted while Steininger accounted for one of his without help.

Kato sent home two of the remaining goals while Croft and Carston handled the other two. Protti and Tomlin were score getters for the Contractors.

Summary:
1st Period:
Summerland—Steininger (Carston) 3:20; Steininger 11:15; Taylor 16:10.
Pentiction—Protti 5:30.
Penalties—Eyre, Campbell, Steininger.

2nd Period:
Summerland—Kato (Campbell) 2:50; Taylor 6:00; Kato (Siegrist) 9:30; Taylor 18:30; Steininger (Campbell) 19:50.
Pentiction—Tomlin (Birch) 4:45.
3rd Period:
Summerland—Croft :30; Steininger (Siegrist) 3:10; Carston 4:10; Taylor (Steininger) 8:00; Steininger (Carston) 14:50.
Penalties—Holowatt, Campbell, Siegrist, Birch.

SKI HEIL

One of the largest turnouts of skiers ever witnessed were on hand at the Meadow Valley ski hill last Sunday. There were skiers in attendance from Oliver and Pentiction as well as the local enthusiasts. Snow conditions were excellent.

Ski instruction was held for those wishing so and there will be instruction again this Sunday afternoon.

An executive meeting was held at the home of Walter Powwell last Wednesday. Main topic was of the forthcoming tournament. It was decided to have an invitational meet to be held on February 28.

An Okanagan Valley tournament will be held at the Kelowna Ski Bowl on February 14. It is hoped that some local skiers will be in attendance.

The roads have been plowed and are in excellent condition. Those driving cars to the hill are advised to carry chains.

There will be skiing on Saturday and Sunday. Transportation for Sunday will leave Mac's Cafe at 9:30 sharp.

TAX CORNER

Where Do I Go From Here?

DEPRECIATION ON BUSINESS ASSET
Q I am in business. I was engaged in this business during the whole of 1953. I purchased a new truck on December 1st and understand I may claim depreciation on this for the month it was in use. Is this correct?
A No. You may claim depreciation or capital cost allowance as it is termed in the Income Tax Act for the entire year in as much as you were in business for the whole year. This regulation does not apply, however, if you are in the business of farming or fishing.

BUILDINGS ACQUIRED FOR LOGGING OPERATION
Q I am told that the depreciation rate on frame buildings is 10% per year. Camp buildings for my logging operation will not be in use for more than 5 or 6 years. How can I recover my costs?
A While 10% is the maximum rate on frame buildings generally an exception is made in a case like this where the property will have no further value after the timber is removed. The regulations permit a write-off at 80% per year or a write-off in direct proportion to the removal of the timber.

More Like This One Would Soon Bring Ice

Summerland would not be without artificial ice for very long if everyone in Summerland felt like one patron who showed up Saturday night for some skating with his youngster.

"How much?" he asked. "Forty cents for you and 10 for the youngster," he was told. The customer shelled out three dollars, "Keep it," he said, "if it's only going to cost each of us two or three dollars a year to give the kids artificial ice, I want to be in on the ground floor."

Local Net Players In Valley Tourney

A contingent from Summerland will be among those competing Saturday and Sunday in the South Okanagan Badminton tourney in the Pentiction high school gymnasium.

Defending titles picked up in the tournament last year will be Miss Dorothy McLeod and George Fudge. Other local players will be Jean Eddie, Dorothy Britton, John Ruck, Morris Welsh, Cecil Morgan and Geoff Solly. Spectators are welcome to attend the matches.

In the January-September period of 1953 as compared to the same period of 1952, the value of goods imported into Canada increased by $394,500,000 while the value of exported goods decreased by $82,200,000.

The Summerland Review THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1954

Seven Teams . . .

H. Maralia New President of Okanagan Mainline Baseball League; Princeton Application Accepted

"The largest and best meeting of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League ever held." This was the thought of the twenty-five odd representatives of 10 clubs in attendance at the annual session last Sunday, January 31, in Kelowna.

Elected as president of the OMBL for the 1954 season is Harry Maralia of Kamloops. Mr. Maralia is well known in the Okanagan as a baseball enthusiast and was the popular choice for this position. The new vice-president is Rudy Kitch of Kelowna. A secretary for the forthcoming year will be appointed by Mr. Maralia.

The big issue at the meeting was the applications of four teams for entry into this league. Kelowna Chiefs, Rutland Adanacs, Revelstoke Spikes and the Princeton Elks. The four teams were in the old Twilight League. Both Kelowna and Rutland were turned down for undisclosed reasons, while Revelstoke was not admitted as they would only come in if the league was split into a north and south section. Their reason for this being the great distance they would have to travel for games if the league was not split.

The Princeton application was accepted, the league now comprising seven teams: Kamloops, Elks, Vernon Canadians, Kelowna Orioles, Summerland Maes, Pentiction Athletics, Oliver Elks and the Princeton Elks.

Many local fans will remember the Princeton team from the old Okanagan-International league which operated in the southern Okanagan and the northern section of Washington a few years ago.

Each team will play 24 games this year, as compared to the 20 game schedule last year. The starting date for league play will be April 25. It is possible that it may be earlier.

Only three teams ended up in the black last year, Summerland, Oliver and Kamloops.

Pentiction's reason for a deficit last season was the high cost of lighting at evening ball games. This reason also brought forth the announcement that there will not be any night ball games in Pentiction until after July.

The OMBL executive is to meet shortly to draw up a new constitution, necessitated by the additional team being in the league. Any changes of any importance will be carried in this paper when announced.

Another point brought up, which was tabled for the time being, was that the home club supply both umpires. This would help the visiting nine save on expenses by not having to pay the transportation of a base umpire on away from home games.

Table Tennis Club To Play Weekly

For the last two years the Summerland Athletic Club has held table tennis tournaments, the last year starting the first Okanagan table tennis tournament.

On Monday, Feb. 1, a Table Tennis Club was formed with many enthusiastic players out for an evening of play and an organization meeting at the badminton hall.

Johnny Selinger, Marg Burreau and Mrs. B. Trafford are officers of the club. It was decided to set Mondays as the night of play and if necessary add other nights later.

Anyone interested in playing table tennis or learning the game is welcome to come to the badminton hall any Monday night at 8 o'clock.

The HI LIFE

Well, I wonder if the groundhog saw his shadow. Judging from the mild weather we have been having, he didn't. Let's hope not anyway.

Last Friday the senior boys' and girls' and the junior girls' basketball teams were hosts to the Princeton teams. The junior girls played the first game and although they played very well the Princeton girls held the edge all through the game. The SHS senior girls however, were really tops and walked all over the Princeton seniors to the tune of 32-8 score. The SHS senior boys lost their game.

On February 20 there will be a Volleyball tournament at SHS and the visiting teams will be George Pringle (Westbank), Kelowna, and Rutland. There will be a banquet and possibly a dance after the tournament.

House badminton playoffs are to be held on Friday between the teams which were not eliminated in the previous games.

We are very sorry to hear that Mr. Tamblyn's small son has been very ill for the past week and we are hoping that he will soon be better. During his son's illness Mr. Tamblyn has been at home and the big job of looking after the band has been taken on by the executive. Eugene Bates, Larry Crawford and Jack Pohlman have done a wonderful job of conducting the band practices.

On Friday, January 5, a school dance will be held in the high school auditorium. The Playboys' orchestra is supplying the music and it should be a swell dance so let's all turn out and make it a big success.

A Band hot dog sale was held on Tuesday and were the hot dogs ever good! Let's have a hot dog sale a little more often because they are a real treat and everyone enjoys them very much.

That's 30 for this week so I'll be seeing you at the dance.

HE'S not just one person but a symbol of many people in the past and in the present. He is Mr. Manufacturers Life — the sum of all the men who have represented the Company since it was organized in 1887. He is the man who for more than 66 years has shown his fellow citizens how Manufacturers Life policies can provide a sure way to protect their families and to save for the future. He is the man who helped arrange Life Insurance contracts that since 1887 have paid benefits of over $500,000,000.

The Manufacturers Life's 67th Annual Report reveals that during 1953 alone the benefits paid to policyholders and the families of those who died reached a record total of $30,179,781. Assets of the Company also passed the 1/2 billion figure during the year and now total $540,282,970. A record volume of $245,143,512 of new insurance was purchased by over 39,000 clients in 1953. Total Insurance and retirement protection in force is $1,744,984,094.

Bank Review

Canadian Dollar Achieves Record With Sustained Premium Position

Consideration of the forces affecting the Canadian dollar since it became a premium currency two years ago features the January issue of the Bank of Montreal's Business Review. Going back to March, 1952, when parity between the Canadian and U.S. dollars was reached and passed, the review gives a detailed and up-to-date appraisal of these forces, and includes a chart which shows that at no other time since the beginning of World War I, has the Canadian dollar been higher than the U.S. dollar for two successive years.

For the Canadian dollar to sell at a premium over U.S. funds, however, is not an unheard of occurrence, the review points out. What is rare is the recent persistence of a premium rate which has ranged from a high of 4.3 per cent in August, 1952, to a low of .2 per cent in May, 1953. In only four other years since the beginning of World War I—1914, 1926, 1934 and 1937—was the annual average above par, and in none of these years was the premium as high as the average 2.2 per cent of 1952.

The supply of, and demand for, Canadian dollars arises from many international transactions throughout the year, and the review notes that some of these, such as the summer spending of U.S. tourists in Canada, and the year-end transmission of profits by subsidiaries of foreign companies, are seasonal in nature.

"As often as not, however," the review continues, "such seasonal peaks in particular items may offset one another, or may be lost in the changing trends of trade and investment, or may be overwhelmed by sudden and unforeseen flows of funds brought on by events abroad."

In order of size, payments involving imports and exports between Canada and the rest of the world are the most important, while the net balance of payments on commodity account is one of the main determining factors in the exchange rate of the Canadian dollar.

"Indeed," says the review, "the most spectacular movement in the exchange rate in recent years was associated with the changing balance of commodity trade." After analyzing in detail the movement in the exchange rate in recent years, and its association with the changing balance of commodity trade, the review turns to capital movement since 1949, a prominent feature of which has been "the steady inward flow of funds from foreign companies for direct investment in productive facilities. . . . Running at more than $300 millions a year, such direct investment in Canada has far exceeded the corresponding investment by Canadian companies abroad."

The review says that, since the decision of the Canadian government in 1950 to abandon the fixed exchange rate in favor of a free rate, the Canadian dollar has behaved in a remarkably strong manner, although there was no assurance at the time that it would do so.

Concluding, the review says: "Indeed, there have been a number of factors contributing to this strength that could not have been foreseen by anybody. The almost fortuitous nature of events in the past three years points up the fact that the popular pastime of predicting the rate is not a game that can be entered into with any degree of confidence as to the outcome, and in this area of speculation, as in many others, 'forecasts' may be merely a synonym for 'guess'."

Extra Cubicles Needed

Must Build Extension To Power Sub-Station

Further indication of Summerland services bulging at the seams was revealed at the Council meeting Tuesday when Reeve F. E. Atkinson announced that an extension to the power station is now necessary to permit accommodation of two additional cubicles. There are now nine and Reeve Atkinson proposed that in building the extension, enough room be added to accommodate three more cubicles, even though only two are installed now.

Councillors Wary Of Tree Cutting

Summerland councillors can spot a hot brick from a long way off and they're like a Scotchman reaching for the dinner check when it comes to picking one up.

At the meeting Tuesday, Clerk Gordon Smith read a letter from Lorne Perry proposing the removal of four trees on Granville street in front of his new office location and the Medical Clinic.

The silence was deafening. Reeve Atkinson finally tossed out a provocative "Well?"

The councillors were busily studying fingernails or following similar pursuits requiring undivided attention.

Councillor Richards broke the silence. "I think that would come under real estate," he suggested. Chairman of the real estate committee, Councillor Barkwill had his answer ready: "Sounds more like roads committee to me."

That passed the ball to Councillor Stewart: "My shoulders are broad," he observed with an ill-concealed note of resignation in his voice, "I'll look into it and interview the property owners."

The reeve hastily called for the next item on the agenda.

Mr. Perry in his letter listed five reasons for proposing removal of the trees: Because they interfere with his outdoor advertising; the roots are causing damage to the building foundation; roots are damaging the street surface; low-hanging branches are dangerous to cars and their removal would improve the appearance of the street.

All the Signs Here, But Where's Spring

Spring is sprung. Last Thursday, snowdrops were an added note of color to the coat lapel of Mrs. Ollie Ringstad. She picked the first of this season's crop of bloom reported from her garden in the Solly Subdivision.

The birds are in the act, too. The G. H. Pollock family spotted a flock of about 100 robins from their trailer home beside the Doherty orchard on Jones Flat.

That snow and ice is just a mirage.

Homes Without Light When No One Calls

Eight homes on Glan's Head road were without power all Saturday afternoon because all assumed it to be a general power failure and no one bothered to notify the municipal office.

The transformer serving the eight homes went off at about 11:20 a.m. and it was not until about 4:30 that one of the residents discovered the failure was local and started telephoning for a lineman. Electricians on duty were out on jobs so it was another half hour before they turned up to restore lights to the darkened homes.

W. A. Laidlaw Elected

Retail Merchants Decline Proposal For Integration With Trade Board

Retail Merchants' Association last Thursday night at their annual meeting heard a proposal of Board of Trade President Ivor Solly that the merchant's body be absorbed into the trade board to make a stronger single operation but after lengthy discussion merchants decided a definite need exists for the continuance of the organization and rejected the plan.

They did, however, express the importance of a strong Board of Trade in the community and urged individual retailers to become members of the board and support its activities by attendance and participation.

Elected president of the association for the coming year was W. A. Laidlaw with N. Holmes as vice-president, H. O. Pruden as secretary and T. S. Manning as treasurer. Executive members are James Heavysides, Ken Bootho and Mel Ducommun.

The association decided because of the limited amount of business required to contract during the year that meetings would in future be quarterly instead of bi-monthly and that they would be either dinner or breakfast meetings.

Commenting on the activities of the past year, retiring president Howard Pruden pointed to the establishment of a liquor store in Summerland as the foremost accomplishment of the association and stated that while considerable time and effort was put into the framing of a closing by-law that the association had not been able to find one whose provisions were satisfactory to all.

Mr. Solly in addressing the meeting proposed that integration of the association into the Board of Trade would give a broader view-

The electrical energy committee will get estimates on cost of extending the building and submit a proposal to the council. The cubicles, said Reeve Atkinson, will cost about $2,000 each.

The cubicle in which the present overload "has occurred is the one which serves the business district of West Summerland and also Prairie Valley, Garnet Valley, Jones Flat and Crescent Beach. The additional cubicles will permit a better distribution of the service and the West Summerland business district will not be linked with the outlying areas. At the present time, a power break in any of the other areas cuts out the power in the business district.

Reeve Atkinson said the temporary overloading could be overcome by mixing power and domestic services but trying to economize in this way would only develop a very complicated service which would build up for a major headache in the future.

Cost of this work, he said, could probably be covered by the $5,800 surplus in the electrical account.

He proposed the new line to separate Prairie Valley and business district services should be run out now while the Box factory is not in operation and the operation would be simpler with that line dead.

No Extra Time For Buying Tags

Although Feb. 28 is the last day on which 1953 license tags may be used, deadline for purchasing new tags at Summerland municipal office will be 12:30 the previous day. The last day of the month falls on Sunday.

A letter from the motor vehicle branch was read at this week's council session suggesting the office be kept open all day on Feb. 27 for the issuance of licenses but Clerk Gordon Smith advised the council the office would be closed at the usual time. "People can go to Peniticon for them in the afternoon if they can't get them earlier," he commented.

(Since then, Peniticon office has announced it will be closed all day Saturday, Feb. 27.)

Game Commissioner Passes Suddenly

Local sportsmen were saddened this week by the sudden passing of Game Commissioner James C. Cunningham who died at his home in Vancouver Monday evening.

He was popular throughout the province and greatly in demand as a speaker at gatherings of sportsmen. He was well known as a visitor throughout this district. He was 37 years with the game department and would have retired next year. He was 64 years of age.

Mr. Cunningham has been ill for several months and was due to enter hospital for a check-up on the day following his death.

BAND GRANT REQUESTED

Request of the Summerland Band for a grant of $300 was received Tuesday by the council and referred to the estimates.

point to board proposals and at the same time lend to them additional weight. The proposal was that the merchants' group would continue to operate as a committee of the trade board.

Retailers feared that under such a set-up some proposals important to merchants might fall to get support of the board as a whole since interests sometimes were not compatible and they would lose their present ability to represent the opinions of their own group. It was pointed out there was a similar set-up to that proposed before the organization of the merchants' association in 1945 and it had not proved satisfactory. Since the formation of their own association they have been able to iron out problems in a harmonious way and work with a measure of co-operation.

It was also feared that amalgamation of the two would not accomplish the desired end of increasing attendance at trade board meetings since the retail association was faced with an identical problem.

Study Park Sites On Lake Front

Councillor Richards reported to the council Tuesday he made a tour of the Lowertown area last week with members of the parks board to view possible park and beach sites in that section of the municipality.

He proposed the lot adjacent to Daniels Grocery be hardsurfaced and the parks board grant be increased by 100 to cover cost of installing benches, swings and teeters on this lot.

At the same time, a letter from M. E. Daniels was read in which he offered to purchase a portion of this lot if the price of $75 quoted him several months ago still applied.

"If the parks board can make good use of it, I think we should keep it," Councillor Barkwill suggested. The council agreed.

Councillor Richards said they had also viewed possible beach spots in Lowertown and suggested the council investigate the possibility of purchasing about 30 or 40 feet at the southwest corner of the Evans property. If the entrance from the new road to the Lowertown road doesn't spoil it, he said, this could make an ideal swimming beach.

Even though the council does not wish to proceed with the work now, he suggested that if the property is available, it should be purchased with an eye to the future.

Information on whether the property in question can be purchased will be obtained.

APPROVE ACCOUNTS

Municipal councillors Tuesday passed accounts for January totalling $15,781.92.

Will Spend $27,000

No Referendum Needed For Jones Flat Project

Proposed irrigation project for Jones Flat received unexpected impetus this week when municipal councillor J. S. Alkins advised the council it will not be necessary to first obtain approval of ratepayers to use for this project unexpended funds from previous irrigation by-laws.

The council acted immediately on the information and had first reading of the Jones Flat Irrigation by-law Tuesday afternoon and made plans for its speedy passage so that work can be started just as soon as weather permits.

The by-law calls for expenditure of $27,098 to install the new irrigation system.

Money available from two old by-laws totals $13,194 and balance of the cost will be from general revenue surplus.

The by-laws from which the surplus money is available are the one in 1927 to build Canyon Dam and one in 1933 to help pay for installation of a pumping station at the Experimental Farm to remove it from the Summerland system.

In this latter project, after it was started the provincial government agreed to share the cost with the federal government and the money levied for the municipal portion was not used for this purpose.

In the opinion provided by Mr. Alkins, he stated the council not only were not required to first obtain permission of the ratepayers before transferring the funds from the old by-laws but there was no provision for them to do so if they wanted to. The council would have preferred to have first had the stamp of approval by the ratepayers.

Mr. Alkins summed up the council position with the succinct observation: "Even though the nettle is prickly, you are expected to grasp it firmly."

Prickly or not, the council lost no time in grasping the nettle firmly.

Improved slightly but still confined to his bedroom is Pope Plus XII who has been suffering from constant hiccupping, fatigue and nervous strain. This recent picture of the peace loving man and a pair of doves symbolizes peace and tranquility in a troubled world.

Concretionary Nodules In Bumper Supply

Summerland may have no meteoritic rocks but when it comes to concretionary nodules of terrestrial rock, we're loaded.

And there's the work of Lincoln LaPaz, director of the Institute of Meteoritics at University of New Mexico, to back it up.

About a month ago, Walter M. Wright read the university department was interested in samples of rocks believed to be of meteoritic formation and he sent along some he had gathered around Giant's Head and Rattlesnake Mountain. Meteorophile LaPaz replied this week: "... regret to inform you that these are not meteoritic in nature, but rather are concretionary nodules of terrestrial rock."

Although Professor LaPaz doesn't mention it, the home-grown product serves as efficiently as door stops as any outerplanetary importations.

Offers to Purchase Municipal Property

Municipal council this week received an offer of $200 from A. A. Fenwick for about three and three-quarters acres adjacent to his property at Trout Creek Canyon. He wishes to use the land, he said, to plant orchard.

The offer was referred to the real estate for consideration.

Amount of the offer was questioned by Reeve Atkinson who suggested the land might be very suitable for sub-division into building lots.

Annual Meeting

Credit Union Marks Creditable Achievements In Year's Operation

Passed the $1 million mark in loans since incorporation Enrolled the 1,000th active member
Passed the 1/2 million mark in share dividends paid
Won the B.C. Credit Union League Achievement Trophy
Won the South Okanagan Chapter Cup

These were some of the accomplishments of Summerland's Credit Union during the past year which were reported to close to 150 members at the annual meeting held Tuesday night in the Youth Centre.

Election of officers saw Harvey Mitchell and Dave McInnis chosen for three years on the board of directors and retiring president Gordon J. Beggs for two years.

Mrs. Wm. C. Gallop and Robert Weitzel were chosen as members of the supervisory committee and F. R. Ganzeveld was re-elected to the credit committee.

The session started off with the annual banquet and was followed by showing of an interesting Credit Union film "King's X".

Guest speaker at the meeting which followed was Dick Monruffet, managing director of the B.C. Credit Union League. The league officer offered congratulations to the Summerland chapter for the activities during the past year which brought them the achievement trophy. He spoke of Credit Union growth in the province with 240 unions now operating in B.C. with a total membership of 90,000, and savings total of $32 million. Since 1938, he said, B.C. Credit Unions have made loans totalling $70 million.

Example of the growth in co-operative movements, he said, was CUNA Mutual Insurance which was started in 1934 on $30,000 capital. It was then, he said 484th in size among 484 insurance companies. It is now 34th and has insurance coverage of $2 billion.

Approved by the meeting were recommendations by the board that from undivided surplus, three per cent dividend be paid on shares, that borrowers receive a five per cent interest rebate and that $300 be placed in the educational fund.

Treasurer Walter Bleasdale reported that $70,000 a month turnover is now being done each month in chequing accounts—an increase of more than 75 per cent over last year. Membership increased 28 per cent during the year. Income, he said, increased 68 per cent during the year.

And a Costly One, Too, He'll Learn

To keep track of uses to which loans are put, Credit Union committee groups them into a dozen or so general classifications.

Harry Hackmann reporting at the annual meeting said the committee was momentarily stuck when one young man gave as reason for his need: "To get married."

Credit committee members are all married men so they weren't stuck for long. They classed it as "Education".

"And," added Harry, "we aren't worrying about the principle as long as he keeps up his interest."

Discuss Selection Of 'Good Citizen'

Board of Trade executive Monday night discussed selection of 1953's Good Citizen who will be honored on March 11 at the board annual banquet.

Selection of the citizen to be so honored will be done by the board executive at their next meeting.

C. E. Bentley Speaker

Kiwanis Hear Historical Anecdotes From Early Days in Summerland

Kiwanians Monday night following their dinner meeting were transported back nearly 50 years to days when Summerland was in its infancy when Guest speaker and Summerland old-timer Ned Bentley entertained the session with a collection of incidents in the romantic pioneer days in this district.

Long-time-Reeve Bentley's descriptions of life in the community of the early residents gave listeners a clear picture of conditions and activities here shortly after the turn of the century and he lifted the veil of memory for several who were only youngsters here during the period he discussed.

Mr. Bentley recalled the time when only communication with the "outside" world was by boat and told of the first car to be brought to the district—a high-wheeled International Harvester, owned by Charlie Stevens of the Lakeshore Telephone Co., which started every horse for miles around as it went through the district propelled by a series of thunderous explosions.

Fearful of the future should any more of these abominable horridous arraigns be brought into the community, the municipal council made an effort to enact a by-law prohibiting them.

Tent shacks were the vogue when Mr. Bentley came to Summerland in 1908 and the entire settlement of the community was on the lake front around Chinaman's Gulch. Only building in what is now the business section of West Summerland was the Summerland Supply Co. store, now occupied by Laidlaw & Co.

One-room schools were located at Garnet Valley, Prairie Valley, Trout Creek and Lowertown. One interesting feature mentioned by the speaker was how the location of the first Anglican Church was determined. There were at the time only two houses here, the Gartrells and Barlays. They paced off the distance and located the church half-way between the two.

Many humorous incidents of life here at the time were recalled by the speaker and regret that the end of his reminiscence ended too soon was unanimous with his listeners.

Cancer Society Elects Officers

Summerland branch of the Cancer Society Monday re-elected as president J. C. Wilcox and returned also to office Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh as honorary president; E. R. Butler, treasurer and Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony as secretary and H. O. Pruden, vice-president.

As director are Reeve F. E. Atkinson, C. E. Bentley, Miss Shirley Mayne, A. Dunsdon, W. A. Laidlaw and representing various organizations are Gordon Beggs, Credit Union; Mrs. E. M. Hookham, Women's Institute; Mrs. Frank Young, Legion Auxiliary and Ken Heales, Kiwanis.

Again this year, annual campaign of the society will be under direction of the Kiwanis Club. Last year the drive netted a record subscription for this district. It will be directed by Mr. Heales.

Kiwanis Club has undertaken to make pyjamas and hospital shoes for the society.

During the past year, it was reported, two Summerland and one Peachland resident received assistance in the form of fare and to Vancouver and board at the coast to receive examination and treatment at the cancer clinic.

Will Stop Dumping On Municipal Lane

Councillors Tuesday heard an eloquent protest from William Beattie that neighbors were using the lane adjacent to his home for dumping and burning trash and that also it was obstructed by a pile of wood. The smoke from trash burning filled his home at times, he said, and the burning is a distinct fire hazard.

Councillors Richards and Stewart stated they had visited the location and agreed Mr. Beattie's complaint was well justified.

The council will write the offending parties and instruct them to remove trash and woodpile immediately and to stop burning trash there.

Four Chimney Calls During January

Monthly report of Fire Chief Ed Gould revealed four calls answered during January by members of the volunteer fire department. All were chimney fires and no damage resulted.

During 1953, fire damage, Chief Gould stated, was less than $2,000.

He stated he had visited the Summerland Arena during skating hours to make an inspection and found all exits wide open.

Estimates submitted by fire department for 1954 totalled $4,103, a slight increase over cost of operating the department last year.

RENEW POLICE CONTRACT

Council Tuesday approved renewal of the RCMP contract until Dec. 31, 1954. Cost to the municipality, $2,000, will be the same as last year.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Municipal Clerk J. L. Logie tendered his resignation which was accepted by the council. Fifty-five applications were received for the post of municipal superintendent.

Summerland had the largest BCFGA membership with 135 growers registered.

John P. G. MacLeod, a former Summerland boy and son of Rev. A. W. MacLeod, was awarded the distinguished service order. He had been recommended for the Victoria Cross.

Dr. F. W. Andrew was re-appointed president of the Summerland Board of Trade at the annual meeting with Rev. H. A. Solly returned as vice-president. The council consisted of Messrs. Snider, Zimmerman, Kelley, J. Tait, R. V. Agur and W. Ritchie.

Summerland collected a total of $1,000 as its contribution to the Red Cross annual drive.

New officers elected to the Summerland Hospital Auxiliary were Mrs. H. A. Solly, president; Mrs. W. J. Robinson, vice-president; Mrs. K. Bentley, secretary and Mrs. R. E. White, treasurer.

Roy White returned to Summerland after two years in France with an artillery regiment.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Plans for a public library were discussed with a committee composed of Mrs. H. Pares, Mrs. A. C. Turner, S. A. MacDonald, J. W. S. Logie and P. E. Knowles investigating.

J. Shepherd submitted a report on the annual meeting of the BCFGA held in Chilliwack. Growers were of the opinion they had seen the worst and "... if we all pull together, good times will again come to us."

P. G. Dodwell, F. A. Miller and E. R. Faulder were Summerland entries in the Okanagan badminton championships played in Vernon. Mr. Dodwell won the valley singles title, paired with Guy Reed of Kelowna to take the men's doubles crown and with Mrs. Lyell of Kelowna for the mixed doubles championship.

Rev. J. H. Armitage, pastor of the Summerland Methodist Church was requested to remain here for another year.

New owners of the box factory, Pacific Box Company, announced they would be using 10 million feet of lumber during the next year.

New officers of the Summerland Band were J. L. Logie, president; J. O. Steeves, conductor; J. W. S. Logie, manager; Delmar Dunham, secretary, and T. Charity, band sergeant.

Basil Stewart of Summerland and William Dryden of Peachland were named directors to the central office of the Associated Growers for the Summerland, Peachland and Westbank area.

Provincial architect completed plans for a new provincial government building in Penticton.

Motorists complained the main highway north of Summerland was virtually impassable.

FIVE YEARS AGO

J. E. O'Mahony was chosen president of the Summerland Board of Trade to succeed Fred W. Schumann. J. R. Armstrong was elected vice-president and returned to their posts of secretary and treasurer were Lorne Perry and E. R. Butler. Executive members chosen were George Henry, F. W. Schumann, W. T. Bleasdale, Fred Dunsdon, Francis Stewart, James Muirhead, George Perry and Cecil Wade.

Objective for the Red Cross drive in Summerland was set at $3,000 and campaign committee was under chairmanship of A. Jack Dunsdon.

March of Dimes campaign in the district raised a total of $42,110—twice the amount raised in the first drive the year previous.

Louis Burnell was chosen president of a new local of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union formed in Summerland. George Chadburn was vice-president, C. E. Hankins recording secretary and E. W. Brennan, secretary-treasurer.

A Summerland delegation meeting with the Westbank Board of Trade explored possibilities of easing the Okanagan Lake traffic bottleneck by pressing either for the construction of a bridge from Westside to Kelowna or for extension of the highway up the west side of the lake. Fears were expressed that with the opening of the Hope-Princeton highway that two ferries would be unable to handle the traffic load.

Following the pattern set in Penticton, Summerland school board awarded teachers a 20 per cent across-the-board increase in salaries.

Higher teachers' salaries, extra bonded indebtedness for renovations and high transportation costs combined to boost budget of Summerland School District $18,630. Teachers' salaries, which were up $2,000 over the previous year, represented $49,000 in the budget.

A Kelowna veteran, S. A. Bredin, applied to the council for a 20-year franchise to operate a bus line in Summerland.

A new bathing beach in lowertown at the site of the former CNR wharf was proposed as a project to be undertaken by the Board of Trade.

Editor, Summerland Review:

Decision of the two senior Labor groups, the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor, to dismiss their differences and undertake a joint campaign to combat unemployment is a move that deserves public commendation. Unemployment is said by the unionists to have reached the 500,000 mark and to be still climbing. Previous post-war peak was in the late winter of 1950 when 812,000 Canadians were out of work.

There is no single cause of our present high unemployment but one factor which the trade union group can directly influence is the cost of producing goods. There have been repeated warnings that Canada could price its goods out of the market. Our rising imports and falling exports indicate not only that high prices of our products are limiting their sale abroad, but that many of our goods can't even be sold here in Canada in competition with foreign imports. At Nov. 1, 1953, the average wage in manufacturing industries in Canada was $1.37 an hour. At the close of the recent war this average wage was less than half that amount, 67 cents an hour.

There are many other factors influencing unemployment in Canada but there is general agreement that high industrial wages are a principal factor. If the TLC and CCL leaders would undertake to urge their million members to study selling conditions before demanding further wage increases their campaign to stem unemployment could be made effective.

"If that woman yawned once while I was talking to her," she said, "she yawned 11 times."

"Perhaps she wasn't yawning, dear," the husband said, "maybe she wanted to say something."

Write Your Member . . . results may be surprising

HAVE you written your federal or provincial member lately? Canadian people are prodigious letter writers but for some reason or other, when it comes to sitting down and expressing an opinion to an elected representative, the Canadian pen is usually dry.

It may be that people feel their member is too busy to be interested in a single personal opinion, but nothing could be farther from the truth. It would not be possible for a parliamentary representative to meet and talk to every person in his riding so the only way he can be aware of the various problems that exist in the area he represents is if his constituents put him on their correspondence list.

Another deterrent factor may be that people are of the opinion that one small voice would not carry any weight. Again, this is wide of the mark. Federal member O. L. Jones in his Ottawa report this week tells of receiving a letter protesting the colors used in the latest issue of stamps. When he discussed this with the postmaster-general, he was told the colors would be changed. Now we're not suggesting that the change came as the result of one letter from an Okanagan Boundary constituent. No doubt there were many similar protests which prompted the postal department to take this action. But if every person who disagreed with the postal department's choice of color scheme had left it to someone else to say something about it, nothing would have been done. The letter from this riding was just as important as any other in influencing the final decision.

In another town a few years ago, a serious tie-up developed in one of the government services. It became the principle topic of conversation in the community. One taxpayer known to the writer decided to join the general protest and wrote to the member for the district.

Within two weeks, an investigating team and the member arrived in the district and the bottleneck was very quickly straightened out. The amazing part was that the member stated he had received exactly one letter of protest and it was on the strength of it the investigation was carried out. A pretty effective bit of letter writing.

This is not an isolated case by any means. Problems of government service are very often treated like the weather with everybody talking about them but nobody doing anything about them. Very often the remedy lies in just one person dashing off a short note and the speed with which action is taken is very often surprising.

So don't grouse to your neighbor about what the government is doing. Lay the facts where it will do some good.

Tell him when you think he's doing a good job, too. He's human.

B.C. To Lose Out . . . and the east gets the gravy

THE Vancouver Province asks editorially "Will We Be Euchered Out of Gas Pipeline?" The "gas" of course, is natural gas and the "we" is the whole province of B.C.

Nub of the Province's warning is that if the proposed Edmonton-Toronto-Ottawa-Montreal pipeline goes through—a line that would be so costly that government subsidies would likely be necessary for its completion—no pipeline down through B.C. to the northwestern states would be possible.

Says the Province: "If we allow the Trans-

Canada project to go through, and if this stymies our own pipeline, we will be in the position of helping to subsidize the further development of an area in eastern Canada that many think—from the point of view of security—is over-developed now. This will at the same time retard development here in B.C."

As the Vancouver paper points out eastern Canada should get its natural gas supply from existing, nearby U.S. gas pipelines—not from Alberta. And the west's natural gas should be kept in the west.

Bluebird Campaign . . . a lot of dollars needed

MORE than 5,500 men, women and children who have been attacked by arthritis and rheumatism, have been given a new lease on life as a result of the rehabilitation program of the B.C. Division, Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

This is reported by Society President Brenton S. Brown, in pointing up but one CARS effort into which the dollars of donors to the 1954 campaign for funds, now underway, will be channelled.

Dependent upon public donation for more than half the money required to continue its province-wide treatment and research battle against the cripples, CARS campaign objective this year is $150,000.

Hospitals accept arthritis patients only during the most acute phases of the disease, therefore, CARS has been forced to provide living-in convalescent accommodation for patients who have a chance of rehabilitation through concentrated care for a period from three to six months.

This board and room is provided through CARS at the Vancouver centre of the Western Society for Rehabilitation, regardless of whether the patient is able to assume his share of the cost.

To cope with the steadily increasing need for specialized care of this type, for both in-patients and out-patients, CARS has just expended its facilities in the new wing of the Rehabilitation Centre.

Vital phases of the CARS rehabilitation program are hydrotherapy in the centre's tank and pool, exercise therapy and occupational therapy in special treatment rooms, injections, splint applications, and medical-social case work service.

To ensure a continuance of efforts such as these to relieve the suffering, and curb crippling and deformity of arthritis and rheumatism victims, the public is asked to send donations to: Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, 1093 W. Broadway, Vancouver 9, B.C.; to any CARS branch office; or Care of the Postmaster.

Mid-Week Message

I heard a voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I; send me. (Isaiah 6:8) Read Acts 8:20-38.

Until recently, settlers in the inland areas of Australia suffered greatly from loneliness and lack of medical facilities. Pioneering a magnificent service, "Flynn of the Inland" has brought, in the name of Christ, friendship and medical treatment to many of those lonely families. His courage, his friendliness, his thoughtfulness for those cut off from civilization have gradually won support. Now a great network of radio communication, "podal" radio, has been established. By this means emergencies can be met by "flying doctors." The plan is the result of the vision of a Christian missionary.

Every man anywhere who pioneers new ground for Christ is a missionary. There is someone to be helped, some evil to be fought, some new cause calling for our positive, Christlike efforts.

It is our privilege and challenge to know that avenues of missionary service are open to us. Shall we accept the opportunities that this day brings to be missionaries for God wherever we live?

PRAYER
Open our eyes this day, O Lord, that we may see opportunities to glorify Thee by helping others. Help us to reveal Thee to someone who needs Thy love and ours. So may this day bring to a child of Thine new happiness, and to us the thrill of missionary success. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

OPEN TO QUESTION

Further details have now come to light, on the unsavory series of incidents centering in a school principal and teacher of the neighboring school district to the south. In another column of this issue appears a letter from an Oyama resident, a former trustee of the district who was in office during the whole of the period of the trouble at Westbank school.

The actions of the teacher in question are strongly upheld by the writer of the letter, Mr. P. K. Wynne, who also sheds the first real light on the affair, in a coherent statement of fact.

The communication is commended as being required reading for every parent of a school aged child and, indeed, for everyone interested in the wide field of education.

The actions of the B.C. Department of Education cannot be condoned. The leader of the official opposition at Victoria has promised to raise the whole matter on the floor of the Legislature at the session opening shortly. Here is ammunition for a thorough-going and well merited blast at the department whose tactics are open to the most serious questioning.—Vernon News.

Notes From

Parliament Hill

By O. L. JONES

Radio reception in the two Okanagan ridings has created a problem for sometime and it is still a problem in some of the rural areas. Yesterday, during one of my periodical discussions with the CBC Headquarters here in Ottawa, I was informed by the engineer that booster stations at Oliver and Osoyoos should be in operation within two months. This particular area had difficulties with reception, particularly of Canadian programmes, for some time but the engineers feel that with the booster stations good programmes will be readily available.

As the result of receiving a letter from one of my constituents which was forwarded to the postmaster general in which the design and colour of the last issue of stamps was criticized, the postmaster general admits that the criticism was justified but that the current issue of small denomination stamps portraying Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II will be replaced with a new series that will display a more satisfactory likeness and more prominent denominations. Elderly people particularly find it difficult to distinguish the difference in stamp values at the present time. The new issue will be on sale in the not-too-distant future.

The Commons, by a vote of 155 to 45, approved in principle the bill increasing the indemnities of members of parliament and senators. This bill was sponsored by the prime minister and supported solidly by the liberal and social credit members of parliament and by 7 CCF Members. 15 CCF Members joined the Conservatives in voting against the bill. The Conservative opposition was mainly on the ground of the method adopted to increase the pay but not in opposition to the actual increase itself. This was made clear by several of their speakers. Many of the CCF members who opposed the bill, including myself, felt that it was unfair to give such a substantial raise to members and senators while refusing to increase veterans' allowances, old age pensions, etc. Particularly all the speakers objected to the inclusion of members of the senate in the bill. It was felt that their duties are very limited while here in Ottawa and do not exist at all when the senate is not in session. They have no responsibility to give their services to any electoral district nor any particular province. Their usefulness, if any, is confined to the few sittings they have here in Ottawa. The prime minister did suggest that the senators themselves may consider reducing the amount of their compensation when the bill is before the house. The pension payable to member of parliament will not be increased as the result of increased pay.

R. R. Knight of Saskatoon drew to the attention of the minister of resources and development allegations made in a book called "People of the Deer". This book charged the government has shown culpable apathy about the plight of a tribe of Eskimos who had been lured away from their traditional way of life and were finally abandoned to face starvation. Mr. Lesage, the minister, denied the allegations but Mr. Knight maintained that they were correct. The minister was calling to have mimeographed a monograph written by Dr. A. E. Forslid who has been employed by the government in the Northwest Territories and which refutes the charges made in this book. On a suggestion by a member, Mr. Lesage agreed to have this letter distributed. Mr. Knight then declared that in all fairness the same publicity should be accorded Mr. Mowat, the author of the book concerned. Mr. Lesage promptly adopted the attitude that the controversy should end and announced that nothing would be mimeographed. The charges against the government are quite serious and yet the minister concerned was only agreeable to having the favourable testimony published. More will be heard of this case later on.

The action of the United States senate in passing the bill authorizing American co-operation in the construction of the St. Lawrence waterway was hailed with pleasure in Ottawa. It is well to point out that it has yet to receive the approval of the house of representatives. I understand the opposition in this house has been stronger and more obstinate than in the senate. It has been very difficult to find out whether Canada has been bluffing or not by the constant statements made by the minister of transport that we were prepared to build

Clever Cooking . . .

Next time you are shopping for groceries, look at what others are buying and you may be surprised to see that almost everyone has some hamburger in her cart or is asking the butcher for some. It is not so long ago that one spoke of the "lowly hamburger", but that is certainly no longer true. Today, hamburger is leaner, the quality is very much better and in many families, it is a favourite way of serving beef. When you buy hamburger or minced beef as it is often called, you should buy just the amount that you can conveniently use. It is more perishable than other meats and for that reason, you do not want to keep it too long, unless of course, you freeze it.

Fresh hamburger has a good flavour of its own, but it can be very easily seasoned to make many tempting dishes. Savoury seems to go especially well with hamburger. Almost any of the ready-to-eat cereals as well as bread are good stretchers for hamburger. Kernel corn and mushrooms are favorite additions and green peppers, when they are plentiful and reasonable in price are very good too. And if you have not yet tried adding ginger, allspice, cloves, sage or horseradish, do experiment with them. You will enjoy trying different combinations and your family will like the results.

Hamburger can be used in entertaining too — chili con carne or burgers and beans are ideal for serving as an after skating refreshment or when a group drops in after a hockey game. When your teen-agers are entertaining their friends, let them cook their own hamburgers. They could be made up ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator until refreshment time. Then you would put them out with rolls and relish and hot spicy tomato juice—that is a party snack that is bound to be popular.

Meat patties are certainly one of the most popular ways to serve hamburger. They are quick and easy to make and when well seasoned, they are as flavourful a main course as many a more expensive meat. Make the patties, pour a sauce made from cream of mushroom or tomato soup over them and serve on a bed of spaghetti, noodles, rice or macaroni.

Tomatoes and hamburger are a good combination and since canned tomatoes are both plentiful and inexpensive, you would be making a big mistake not to use them as often as possible. A sauce made from canned tomatoes, sliced onion and grated cheese would go well with your meat patties and so would your favorite barbecue sauce.

A good variation for meat patties is to put two very thin patties together, sandwich style, with a well-seasoned bread dressing as a filling. Press the edges together and either broil or pan fry them. Meat patties can be used in a number of ways to make really interesting sandwiches. Serve them on top of toasted squares of Johnny cake or split round rolls in two, toast them, pour tiny meat balls in barbecue sauce over half the roll and top with the other half. You will have to eat both these sandwiches with a fork, and the family would like them for lunch, supper or evening snacks. If you want a hearty sandwich for a cold day, you can put a really large but very thin meat patty on a slice of bread and broil it. Then pour over it either a hot tomato sauce or chili sauce and it is completely ready to serve in a matter of a very few minutes.

4-H Club

The 4-H Club movement in Canada is a nation wide program designed for rural boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 years. The individual 4-H club is composed of young people participating in farming, home-making and community activities. Guidance is given by extension workers from the departments of agriculture with assistance from sponsoring organizations and voluntary leaders.

Objectives of the 4-H Club
Basically the purpose and objectives of 4-H club work are the same as those of extension work for adults. Both are concerned with making rural life more attractive and influencing farm people to adopt improved practices.

4-H Club work helps rural youth:
1 To develop pride in ownership.
2 To accept and discharge responsibility.
3 To develop a scientific attitude towards the farm and home.
4 To develop talents for greater usefulness.

5 To reach their fullest development as Canadian citizens.
6 To create better homes for better living and to unite parents and young people in a common interest.

The principle of 4-H club work is to "Learn to Do by Doing". As a member of a 4-H club each boy and girl is personally responsible for a project. This is located on the home farm. Also, each group elects its own officers and plans and conducts programs based on the needs and interests of the members. Regular meetings with training in parliamentary procedure and supervision are held.

Hamburger Meat Loaf
4—½ inch slices white bread, ¾ cup milk, 2 pounds hamburger, 2 tablespoons chopped onions, 2 eggs, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ teaspoon pepper; 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup chili sauce.

Soak bread slices in milk and break up with a fork. Combine remaining ingredients. Add bread and mix well. Pack into a lightly greased loaf pan 8" X 5" X 2½". Bake in a moderate oven 350 deg. F. for 1½ hours. Yield: six to eight servings.

NOTE: In place of combining chili sauce with the meat mixture it may be reserved and spread on top of the loaf just before placing it in the oven. The home economist suggests that you might also use meat stock or bouillon, tomato juice or diluted canned soup instead of the milk.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES
1st Summerland Troop
Last Tuesday's meeting was postponed due to the Credit Union Banquet occupying the hall.

Next week we want all Scouts in full uniform as a dress rehearsal for Church parade on Sunday, Feb. 21. This Church parade is worldwide and is held to commemorate the birthday of our founder of Scout movement, Lord Baden Powell. The high ideals and principles found in the Scout law and promise should be uppermost in our minds when we attend church. Every Scout should go over his Scout law and promise and ask himself if he is honestly living up to it.

We would like to thank Dr. Fisher for his time and effort in taking five boys on an all day hike. Teddy Hannah, Harold Oxley, John Williams and Stanley Krause passed their fire lighting and cooking. Also Harold Oxley and Teddy Hannah passed their trees and shrubs. Let's have every Scout earn a badge for the Father and Son banquet which will be held in March so let's clean up our tenderfoot and second class test. Those who have completed second class tests should work on proficiency badges.

Plan For Education Week

P-TA Hears Quartet Speakers
On Parents Role In Education

A panel of four speakers last Thursday night took hold of the subject "What is expected of the home to prepare the child for community living" and expressed opinions from four points of view for more than 50 members of the Summerland P-TA at their regular monthly meeting in the high school library.

Speakers were Miss Ruth Adams, provincial government social worker, George Gay, high school senior boy's counsellor, Rev. S. McGladdery, rector of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and Lashley Haggman. The first three are all from Penticton.

Miss Adams discussed the earlier period in a child's life and his entrance to school while Mr. Gay spoke of the home participation and training during the school years. Mr. McGladdery spoke on the spiritual development of the child and Mr. Haggman, pinch-hitting for RCMP Constable Butler, who was unable to attend, spoke of the child in relation to the law.

All agreed that where a child is brought up in an atmosphere of love and mutual respect with guidance from both parents, there will be little or no trouble in his relations while at school or in community life. Audience asked questions following the discussion.

Mrs. J. C. Wilcox, program convenor, planned the interesting evening, and Mrs. C. Reinertson, vice-president, was in the chair in Mr. H. H. Dunsdon's absence.

Mrs. J. Martin in her position as director will attend the provincial council meeting in Burnaby in April, and it is hoped to send a delegate as well.

A. D. Gatley, chairman of P-TA education committee, told of plans for Education Week when the committee in charge will sponsor an essay contest in several grades and P-TA will provide prizes.

Above: Simmer chicken and vegetables in a tantalizing sauce of bouillon, canned tomato soup and herbs! Build the menu to suit the chicken dish... buttered, fluffy rice, a crisp, simple salad, and little hot biscuits.

PARTY CHICKEN: One quarter lb. salt pork, cut in 1-inch cubes, 2 lbs. frying chicken cut in pieces, flour, 4 carrots, cut in 1-inch lengths, 2 stalks celery, cut in 1-inch lengths, 10 small white onions, 1/4 cup blanched almonds or chestnuts, 1/2 cup (4-ounce can) mushrooms, 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed bouillon, 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed tomato soup, 1 tsp. minced parsley, 2 whole cloves, 1 bay leaf, 1/4 tsp. dry thyme.

Fry salt pork in heavy kettle until crisp. Remove pork. Flour chicken and brown in pork drippings. Add carrots, celery, onions, nuts and mushrooms; brown slightly. Pour in soups, and remaining ingredients. Simmer covered 1 hour or until chicken is tender. Serves 4.

For an all-family favorite with a flair of the unusual, stir up a spick tomato-soup cake. Make it gay with a topping of whipped cream and pineapple chunks.

NEW ARRIVALS

Parents of a son born in Penticton General hospital on Thursday, Feb. 3, are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dickenson of Garnet Valley.

No sport is as all-Canadian as ice-skating and so sometime or other an outfit just had to be included in 'Canadian Fashion'. The velveteen skirt has a screened pattern and the figured blouse is made with balloon sleeves.

Lakeside WA Plans Valentine Tea, Sale

Plans for a Valentine tea and home cooking sale to be held Saturday afternoon were laid at the regular meeting of the Lakeside WA held Monday night at the home of Mrs. H. W. Pohlmann. The tea will be held in the Lakeside Sunday school rooms starting at 3 o'clock.

Sixteen members were present for the meeting which opened with reading of the devotional in unison.

An invitation from St. Andrew's Service Club was read inviting members to the birthday meeting on Feb. 15 at 8 o'clock in the St. Andrew's Church hall.

Following the business session, lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Percy Wilson and Mrs. Don Tait.

Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herb Lemke on March 8 at 8 o'clock.

Protests Second Charge For Water

Protests of J. G. Littau against paying two water rates on his property was considered by the municipal council Tuesday but his request that he be levied only a single rate was rejected.

Basis of the second rate is an outdoor service which runs to what was described as a picker's shack on his property. Councillor Richards said he had visited the house and found the smaller dwelling to be permanently tenanted.

Mr. Littau in his letter stated he would cut off the water to the second building if he was forced to pay the second rate but after lengthy discussion, Councillor Richards moved the second rate be sustained and the council approved.

APPROVE LIGHT SERVICE

Application of Peter Lenzi for electric light service to the McClure subdivision was approved Tuesday by the municipal council. Cost of the installation, it was estimated, will be $193.06 with the municipality bearing $110 of this amount.

Summerland Circulation Third

Propose Library Tax Be Increased To Help in Building New Center

New Kelowna headquarters for Okanagan Regional Library at a cost of $50,000 was approved last week by delegates attending the annual meeting in Kelowna.

The territory covered by the regional library extends from Salmon Arm to Osoyoos and reports showed Summerland Library to have the third largest circulation in the area. Delegate from this district to the annual meeting was Mrs. A. W. Vanderburgh who was elected to the executive of the body.

In the regional library jurisdiction there are 55 libraries outside of schools and they have a total of 21,900 members. Circulation last year was 302,497 books, an increase of 10,000 over the previous year.

The board is asking for an increase of 10 cents in the per capita tax levied for library purposes which will mean an increase to Summerland municipality of about $350.

Volumes valued at more than 50,000 are housed in the present Kelowna quarters which have been rated as unfit for further occupancy by the library.

Sun Life Ups Policyholder Dividends to $241-2 Million

Continues to sell more life insurance than any other Canadian company—$576 million new business written in '53

A higher dividend scale which for the fifth consecutive year will again reduce the cost of life insurance for the holders of two million Sun Life of Canada policies, is announced by George W. Bourke, President, in his Annual Review of the Company's business for 1953. Dividends to policyholders during 1954 will benefit by this increase, with the largest payments being distributed in respect of policies longest in force. New life insurance issued during the year amounted to $576,846,000, an increase of $81 million over 1952, and the largest amount for the year of any Canadian life company. New Group insurance included in the above figure amounts to $170 million, an increase of more than $5 million over the previous year. This rising volume of business was spread over world-wide territory in the nearly 80 countries covered by Sun Life service.

In his survey of the figures for the year, Mr. Bourke comments on the manner in which life insurance meets the responsibilities of its purpose. The Sun Life of Canada, he said, has paid $2,729,000,000 in benefits since the first policy was issued in 1871, and during 1953 no less than half a million dollars was paid out by the Company each working day. Total amount paid during the twelve month period was $125,057,000.

GROUP BUSINESS UP 17%
New annuity contracts during the year included individual annuities and group pensions guaranteeing payments of more than $4 million per annum. Total annuity payments to be made by the Company either immediately or in the future, through group pension plans and individual contracts, increased to $120 million per annum. Total Sun Life insurance in force at the end of 1953 amounted to $5,678,000,000. Group insurance included in this figure is $1,781,000,000, an increase of 17%. The growth of Group insurance and pension plans reflects the business and industrial expansion of recent years during which time the Company, a pioneer in this form of insurance, has retained a leading position, protecting many hundreds of thousands of employees of business and industrial organizations throughout North America.

The total amount of life insurance and annuities in force in the various countries in which the Sun Life operates is now: Canada, $3,334,035,000 or 45% of the total; United States, $2,628,581,000 (36%); Great Britain and other Commonwealth Countries, $1,169,339,000 (16%); elsewhere throughout the world, $215,015,000 (3%).

Total assets of the Company reached $1,829,790,000 at the year end, being an increase of $87 million during the twelve-month period. These assets, carefully invested and well diversified, are made up of: Divs — Government, Provincial and Municipal, 28.7%; Bonds — Public Utility, Industrial, etc., 41.6%; Preferred and Common Stocks, 6.0%; Mortgages, 14.4%; Cash and Miscellaneous, 9.3%. The interest rate earned on the Company's funds during 1953 was 3.90% as compared with 3.84% in the previous year, an increase for the fifth consecutive year.

LIFE INSURANCE AIDS HOME BUILDING

During 1953, the Sun Life bond investment was increased by more than $62 million, mainly in the industrial and public utility fields. The amount of mortgage loans expanded by almost $30 million making a total mortgage investment of $262,960,000. Of this amount, $176 million is invested in 41,700 home mortgages. During the last eight years, the Sun Life has loaned $335 million on mortgages.

Discussing the function of life insurance as reflected in the continued progress of the Sun Life, Mr. Bourke mentioned that life insurance ownership today is more widespread, and on a larger scale, than ever before. Canadians now own more than $20 billions of life insurance, more than double the amount at the end of World War II. However, the amount per capita is not yet sufficient to give fully adequate and necessary protection, and there is still great need for the average family to own a larger amount of life insurance. "Time has proven that it is only through life insurance that the majority of individuals can meet the problems which death and old age create in loss of income," summed up Mr. Bourke. "There is no substitute for life insurance."

A copy of Sun Life's complete 1953 Annual Report to Policyholders, including the President's review of the year, is being sent to each policyholder, or may be obtained from S. R. Davis, Kelowna, or R. E. S. Milne, Rutland, district representatives.

Fruit Growers Hear Expert Advice At Annual Chautauqua Sessions

Growers' annual Chautauqua last Thursday afternoon and evening brought large numbers of growers to the IOOF hall to hear a panel of four speakers talk on various phases of orchard work. Speakers were Dr. D. V. Fisher, Summerland experimental station; Ian Carne, district horticulturist, Salmon Arm; John Smith, supervising horticulturist for the Okanagan and Ralph Downing of the Summerland entomological laboratory.

Dr. Fisher dealt with fruit thinning techniques. Reviewing spray thinning recommendations for apples, he noted that results will always vary from year to year and from orchard to orchard, but in the main the procedure has saved the industry money. The main change over last year is that hormones should be applied only with gun sprayers and they should not be applied to varieties earlier than McIntosh or to Delicious or Stayman.

There is no quick method developed, as yet, for pears. There has been no experience with cherries but this might be possible by using about one-half pint Elgerol per 100 gallons.

For apricots, peaches and prunes there is no firm recommendation but any grower interested might try chemical sprays on a few trees. Suggested materials and rates may be obtained from local district horticulturist offices.

In addition to chemicals, Dr. Fisher showed alternate manual methods including rubber-tipped clubs for apricots, and water sprays, wire claws or faggots of prunings for apricots and peaches.

Mr. Smith talked on insect and disease control. He noted the situation has changed completely from pre-war days in regard to method of application, type of spray materials and prevalence of respective insects and diseases. Prior to 1948, codling moth was the fruit grower's number one enemy.

With the introduction of DDT a miracle happened and codling moth was all but eliminated. Lately, there has been a slight buildup of this pest because many growers are not adhering strictly to the spray calendar recommendations.

Using descriptive slides, Mr. Carne touched on various phases that should be considered in orchard management. 1. Pruning young trees—build a strong framework of limbs and avoid weak crotches. 2. Fertilizers—in most Okanagan soils nitrogen is the only element usually necessary. In the majority of our soils the most satisfactory type to use is ammonium nitrate. 3. Mineral supplements—these are a must. Include boron, zinc, manganese and magnesium applied as sprays to tree foliage. Some doubt exists as to whether these elements should be combined with insecticidal materials and until this situation is clarified apply mineral supplements alone or with DDT only. 4. Mulching young trees with shavings—a good practice where shavings can be applied at reasonable cost. It provides more uniform soil temperature and moisture conditions, and reduces annual weed growth. 5. Mouse control—no one single method, but rather a combination of methods is usually necessary to prevent mouse damage to trees.

Other phases dealt with included irrigation, erosion effects, overcrowding of trees and cover crops. In addition, Mr. Carne showed examples of root troubles occasionally encountered in young trees such as crown gall, hairy root and woolly aphid damage.

Mr. Smith advocated pink spray of malathion for mite control. Malathion is preferable to parathion, he said, because it is safer to handle and gets a greater variety of insects. Earwigs are becoming troublesome, especially on apricots and Mr. Smith pointed out new bait

Legion To Assist Young Pucksters

Members of Summerland Branch Canadian Legion last night heard a request from C. H. Elsey, president of the Summerland Rink Association, for assistance in developing junior hockey and approved purchase of hockey equipment for the youthful players.

Present for the meeting was Zone Commander N. G. Kinkade of Penticton who installed officers elected at the annual meeting in January.

Retiring from office last night was R. S. Oxley who for three years served as secretary to the branch. He was accorded a vote of appreciation by the meeting. Replacing him in the office is Ivan E. Phillips.

The branch noted the excessive cost to the Parks Board in replacing letters which had been removed from names on the cenotaph and proposed the posts and chains which were around the monument at its former location should be replaced. The parks board will be approached with a request to have this done and the branch will bear any expense of having the work done.

Zone Commander Kinkade speaking briefly told of the work done during the past year by the dominion and provincial commands, making particular reference to the role of the dominion command which works in close co-operation with the department of veterans affairs in interpretation of veterans legislation.

The meeting approved application of the Whizzbangs Association

Will Trap Beavers To End Nuisance

Beavers continue to give trouble at the headwaters of lakes providing Summerland's water supply and municipal council heard this week from game commissioner F. R. Butler that arrangements were made last fall with Rex Chapman to trap them out but a succession of delays has interfered with the project.

At present, he said, there is four feet of snow in the area and all lakes are frozen over but he said he has received assurance from Mr. Chapman that he will start trapping the offending animals at the earliest possible date.

TO KAMLOOPS SESSIONS
Annual meeting of the Okanagan Municipal Association will be held in Kamloops on Feb. 24 and Okanagan Assessors will gather in that city at the same time. Attending from Summerland will be Councillor Francis Steuart and Assessor Joe Sheeley.

for use of the Legion Hall for the annual meeting on June 6.

Next zone meeting will be in Keremeos on next Sunday.

Members were invited by the IOOF lodge to attend finals in the speaking competition for South Okanagan candidates to the annual youth pilgrimage sponsored by the lodge. Finals will be held in the Penticton High School on Feb. 25 and Summerland contestant will be Frances Atkinson. Winner will be awarded a trip to the United National Headquarters in New York.

4-H Club

port of community activities are important features of their programs. Like Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, 4-H Club work is a large international movement and now embraces rural youth in some 18 countries.

The official emblem in Canada, as in a number of other countries is the green 4-leaf clover with the letter "H" on each leaf to symbolize equal training of the 4-H's, which stand for Head, Heart, Hand and Health. The 4-H pledge is:

"I pledge—
My Head to clearer thinking,
My Heart to greater loyalty,
My Hands to larger service,
My Health to better living;
for my club, my community and my country.

The National 4-H Council
The Canadian council on 4-H clubs, incorporated in 1933, is the national organization through which the entire 4-H club program in Canada is co-ordinated. The council's membership includes the various departments of agriculture and a large number of prominent business and agriculture organizations.

In addition to leadership and assistance rendered in developing the 4-H movement across Canada, the council provides annually a national 4-H Club Week. During this event, which is the climax of each year's program, proficiency winners representing each province in Canada compete in national competition.

The trip to National 4-H Club Week is the highest award a member can achieve. It provides an "adventure in citizenship" for carefully selected club members and as a result is building a closer relationship and better understanding among Canadian farm youth.

For additional information about 4-H Club work see the local representative of your provincial department of agriculture.

Report on 4-H
In Summerland we started our club in March, 1953, and we ordered our Light Sussex chickens right away. We received them on March 18, 1953. From there on it was up to the members of the club to look after their chicks carefully. They had to keep accurate records of how much feed they used and how much it cost. They also had to look for any particular changes that were made.

During 1953 we had a picnic at the Experimental Station and then we went around to all the 4-H members homes and looked at all the different chickens to get an idea on what different people were feeding them, and so on. Before the Armstrong fair was held we all assembled at Mr. Stent's house to get a few pointers on the proper ways to hold a chicken, etc., as some of these members planned on taking chickens to the Fair. We also tried washing a chicken and then putting it in a pan of bluing to see if it would take out the yellowish coloring than most of the chickens had. This year we are planning to get quite a few new members.

READY CASH ADVANCED BY B OF M FOR ESSENTIAL HOME IMPROVEMENTS

"A stitch in time saves nine" holds particularly true about improvements and repairs to your home. It is false economy to postpone them even if you are short of ready cash. A low-cost Bank of Montreal loan, made now, may well save you the extra costs which often come from long-neglected repairs.

Whether you need money to paint your home, plaster the ceiling or replace the furnace, it will pay you to have a chat with Ivor Solly, manager of the West Summerland B of M.

Personal Loans at the B of M cost only six per cent a year and are repayable in easy instalments. And you pay interest only on the amount still owing. Thus, if you borrow $100 and repay monthly over a year, the cost is only 27 cents a month. You can borrow more or less, for shorter or longer periods, at proportionately the same cost.

If you need money for home improvements, don't hesitate to call on Mr. Solly. "Lending money is my business," he says. "When you ask for a B of M loan, you do not ask a favor."

Your stake in the search for Better Health

Everyone has a vital interest in science's efforts to help us live longer. But life insurance policyholders have a special stake in this work.

You see, certain important medical research projects are supported wholly or in part by funds from all the life insurance companies in Canada with their millions of policyholders. As a result, skilled scientists in many Canadian medical research centres can carry on their task of attacking some of mankind's deadliest enemies. Their names: cancer, heart ailments, tuberculosis and poliomyelitis.

Other vital studies are supported in a similar way. These focus on processes of ageing, cellular growth, dental hygiene, pregnancy complications, thyroid hormones, blood clotting and asthma; to mention but a few.

Will all these efforts help you and your family to live longer, healthier lives?

Receives World Acclaim

Four Years In Concentration Camp Preceded Pianist's Rise To Fame

On the evening of Feb. 22nd, a young man of great artistic gifts and unusual fortitude of character will give a piano recital in the Pentiction High School auditorium to an audience composed of members of the South Okanagan Community Concerts Association.

As a child in Latvia, Herman Godes received his first musical instruction and inspiration from his mother, a prominent music teacher in Riga. At the early age of 13 he made his concert debut and a few years later graduated with honors from the Latvia Music Conservatory.

Having won a state scholarship, Godes next studied in Vienna under the Russian master Isserlis, and later in Paris with Robert Casadesu. The latter has written: "Herman Godes is one of the most gifted young pianists I have had the opportunity to hear. This artist possesses a very fine technique and musicality of high standing. He is also a poet at the piano. I am convinced that Mr. Godes will make a great career."

Herman Godes was just nicely embarked on the brilliant career forecasted for him on the European concert stage when World War II broke out. His concert activities were interrupted first by two years of military service in the Latvian army, and then his subsequent capture by the Germans. He spent four years in concentration camps before his liberation from Buchenwald by United States troops in 1945.

After his liberation Godes settled as a displaced person in Western Germany. He was accepted as a master pupil by the great German pianist Walter Gieseking, and immediately resumed his career with even greater success than before. German audiences were astounded by his "true musicianship and immense power of interpretation". Godes was regularly presented as soloist with leading symphony orchestras, such as those of Hamburg, Munich, Cologne and Frankfurt. Critics hailed him as "a pianist of first rank," "a master of musical expression"; they eulogized the magnificent versatility and "arresting elegance" of his performances.

He was also heard frequently over the radio, both in recital and as soloist with the various radio orchestras. Schmidt-Isserstedt, conductor of the Northwest German Radio Orchestra, paid him the following tribute: "Having conducted Herman Godes several times I am convinced that he is one of the very first young, truly modern pianists."

Such a record of artistic achievement so soon after a long period of physical and mental oppression, from which many of the surviving victims still have not fully recovered, testifies to the great strength and determination of Herman Godes' character. Further testimony to his tremendous capacity for work is the fact that during the single season of 1948-49, Herman Godes played no less than twelve different piano concertos in solo appearances with orchestras. Their partial listing indicates the wide range of the artist's musicianship—from the romantics Beethoven and Brahms down through Tchaikovsky and Richard Strauss, to the moderns, Gershwin, Rachmaninoff and Bartok. Probably only a fellow concert pianist could fully appreciate what an amazing feat of repertorial accomplishment this was. Similarly, his repertory of works for recital programs embraces all schools—and periods of composition.

Through the offices of the I.R.O. Herman Godes came to the United States in 1950. In that country he was busy with concert and radio work in the eastern states until his North American tour in 1951-52 gave him an enthusiastic continent-wide audience. Members of the local Community Concerts Association feel fortunate that Mr. Godes' present tour allowed him a date on which to give a recital in Pentiction.

A spokesman of the Association asks members to remember that concert time is 8:15 p.m., and that no latecomers will be permitted entry to the auditorium until the end of the first program group.

No Substitute For Advertising In Weeklies Says A. W. Bruce

"More and more large Canadian companies are discovering that it pays to advertise in Canada's weekly newspapers.

"And Household Finance is no exception," states vice-president A. W. Bruce in announcing that his company will use regular advertising space this year in the Summerland Review.

"I grew up in the Ontario town of Beaverton," Mr. Bruce explained, "and I know personally the important part which the weekly paper there played and still plays in the life of the entire community.

"Weekly newspapers are not only thoroughly read but the character and calibre of their editorial and news coverage makes their advertising columns effective beyond what might be normally expected from a comparable circulation in a large city daily or magazine," Mr. Bruce added.

"The Summerland Review is this year one of about 200 weeklies in which we will carry a series of advertisements on 'Builders of Canada.'

"While our company," he continued, "has not yet established offices in each of the markets served by these newspapers, the use of consumer credit has now become an integral part of the lives of most Canadians. Small sum installment loan services, regulated by the government, are used to-day by literally hundreds of thousands of families and have made a major contribution to the continued healthy growth of our Canadian economy.

"We therefore feel that we have a responsibility, as the largest of the Canadian consumer loan companies, to tell our story not only in the large metropolitan centres but in communities served by Canada's leading weekly newspapers.

"This advertising association with weekly newspapers started nearly two years ago," Mr. Bruce concluded. "It has been growing steadily and we hope that it will be mutually profitable. There is no substitute for weekly newspaper advertising in reaching the five million Canadians who live outside the big cities."

the seaway alone. Now the minister says that we should give the United States reasonable time to make up its mind about co-operation. The American government has played around with this idea of an international water-way for over 30 years. In the meantime, labour unions and other interested parties have been writing the members of parliament urging an immediate start on the construction of this seaway as a means of combating the present and alarming unemployment situation, particularly in the industrial towns of southern Ontario.

Squadrons of Royal Canadian Air Force Sabre Jets such as the one pictured here, piloted by young Canadians, form one of Canada's most important military contributions to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. These RCAF squadrons are "on guard" in France and Germany now, to strengthen the defence of the Western World.

From time to time, there has been a desire expressed by the agricultural people of British Columbia to have the services of the PFRA extended to operate in this province of ours. Actually, this act has been operative in special cases even in British Columbia. To satisfy myself that a request had been made for the PFRA to operate in British Columbia, I asked a question on the order paper and received the following answer: "The prairie farm rehabilitation act was passed in 1935 to provide for the rehabilitation of the drought and soil drifting areas in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta only. It enabled the undertaking, over a five-year period, of methods of farm practice and water development to minimize the very serious problems of drought and soil drifting that existed there at the time, in the area commonly referred to as the Palliser Triangle.

Representations have been made on a number of occasions to have PFRA extended to all prairie provinces as well as to British Columbia. The last request from British Columbia was made by letter on Feb. 23, 1953, by the Hon. R. E.

Sommers. In a letter dated Feb. 6, 1953, the minister of agriculture stated that the government has had this matter under consideration for some time and that, until a decision has been reached, specific problems in that province would be dealt with by special parliamentary appropriations, as in the past.

In British Columbia, in response to representations over a number of years, a total of $1,163,811 was expended for flood control, $1,574,715 for the development of irrigation projects for the rehabilitation of veterans and 2,797 acres on seven projects have been developed for irrigation, providing locations for 304 veterans of World War II."

Here's the feature you've been waiting for. The 9300 and 9400 series now have a new Hydra-Matic transmission which eliminates clutch and gear shifting. It also selects the right gear for any load and any condition.

Now you can carry sand or grain loose in the pick-up box with no leakage. And the boxes are deeper this year, giving a lower loading height. Even the tailgate is stronger with new safety catch that eliminates rattles.

You get a wide choice of GMC engines. And all are of the valve-in-head design which has won fame over the years. The Thriftmaster and Leadmaster engines have been increased from 108 to 112 horsepower.

With this amazing optional feature, the driver floats over bumps with no harsh jouncing. And for extra comfort, the seat is fully adjustable so the driver can select the best driving position.

An executive meeting was held at Rita Hermiston's home last Wednesday. Plans are being finalized for the invitational ski tournament on February 28.

There will be skiing again this week-end. Roads are good, cars are advised to carry chains. Transportation will leave Mac's Cafe at 9:30 a.m. sharp.

If you plan on going to the Okanagan Valley tournament at Kelowna this Sunday, you can obtain entry forms from Rita Hermiston.

By HAMISH MacFROIT

Well the big news on the local curling scene is the forthcoming 2nd annual bonspiel on Feb. 18, 19, 20 and 21. So far a total of 27 rinks have been entered. Out of town entries include Oliver, Penticton, Peachland, Vernon and Vancouver. More are expected from other valley towns before closing day.

President Walt Toevs states that the club rooms, etc., upstairs are nearing completion and will be ready for the bonspiel. The women's section of the curling club will be serving meals.

The Shirreff Trophy was brought home by Mrs. Harvey Eden's rink from Peachland on January 27 and has changed hands many times lately. Mrs. Vel Croft's rink, composed of Mrs. Croft, skip, Mrs. Margaret Wilson 3rd, Mrs. Lil Barwick 2nd and Mrs. Mary Charles lead, won it from Mrs. Eden and have lost it to Mrs. A. Dunsdon's rink.

Players on this rink are Mrs. Annie Dunsdon skip, Mrs. Louise Lemke 3rd, Mrs. Nettie Stoll 2nd and Mrs. Laura Bleasdale lead. Mrs. Ollie Hackman's rink challenged Mrs. Dunsdon's last night and at this writing no score is available.

Two men's rinks didn't fair so well on Sunday in their effort to win the Anderson challenge cup in Kelowna. The rinks, composed of Bill Croft skip, Herb Lemke, Chuck Bleasdale and Walt Toevs, playing in that order made up one rink and the other with Dave McInnis skip, Norm Holmes, Lloyd Day and Walt Caryk positioned that way, lost on a combined score of 24-19. The rinks with the highest total, winning.

"One-Shot" Wins
Summerland Kiwanians engaged in an annual Kiwanis 'spiel in Vernon on Sunday, fared well. A rink skipped by "One-Shot" Hallquist and having on his team Hilly-Smith 3rd, Jack Dunsdon 2nd and Pres. Nick Solly lead, brought home the Kiwanis cup. This trophy is played for annually by Okanagan Kiwanians.

The unsuccessful rink was made up of Jack Towgood, Bill Laidlaw, Lloyd Shannon and Frank McDonald. "One-Shot" won 10-6 from a rink of Kelowna Kiwanians for the cup.

The final round of local curling is underway now with some changes taking way. Rinks moving up were Bleasdale, Mather and Fredrickson from B section to A. The rinks of McInnis, Young and Towgood stepped up from C to B section.

The foursomes moved down were Hallquist, Hackman and Wells from A to B and Adolph, Day and Wilkinson from B to C sections.

A few local rinks are practicing up for the coming 'spiel in Peachland and Kelowna. Work hard boys and bring home the bacon.

Miss MacLeod also reached the finals in both ladies' singles and ladies' doubles. In the former, she was defeated by Eleanor Rutherglen and then teamed with her singles adversary for ladies' doubles to lose out in the final match to Joan Motowyo and Val Van-Ackeren of Kelowna.

Men's singles were won by Gene Homer-Dixon of Vernon. John Ruck teamed with Gordon Jones was winner of the consolation men's handicap.

Summerland and Merchants left their Commerce league position unchanged when the two top teams battled to a 2-2 draw Sunday afternoon. Summerland still holds a two-point lead over the Penticton squad. At the other end of the standings, Garagemen finally climbed out of the cellar when they topped Contractors to give them third place with a two-point advantage.

In the Summerland-Merchants match, the latter took an early lead at the 3:45 mark in the first period when Corrigan bent the twine unassisted. Just a minute later, Carston equalled the score with some help from Croft and Furryya. The tally remained unchanged during the second stanza but the third was only half-a-minute old when Bert Seeley pushed the Merchants into the lead again. They held it for less than eight minutes when Steininger rammed home the equalizer which blotted out Merchants hope of pulling up even with the league leaders.

Where Do I Go From Here?

DISPERSAL SALE BY FARMER

Q I have farmed in this district for over 20 years and have filed my tax returns each year on the basis of my cash receipts and disbursements. I want now to sell out but am told that I will be taxed on the proceeds from the sale of my livestock which have been built up over the years and are now worth $15,000. Are not the proceeds from such a sale capital?

A No. The sale of the livestock is subject to income tax as you have been allowed all the expenses and costs incurred in building up the herd over the years. Before you sell however you should file an application for a Basic Herd which can establish a part or even all the herd as capital. All farmers and ranchers raising livestock should take advantage of the benefits afforded by the Basic Herd regulations.

DEPENDENT'S EARNINGS

Q My son earned $550.00 during the summer holidays but he is still attending school and I support him. Can I claim him as a dependent for tax purposes?

A Yes. Exemption can now be claimed for a dependent whose income for the year is less than $750.00.

Hockey Jamboree This Week-End

Toughest job in town last week was that of George Stoll who had to turn away enthusiastic youngsters who turned up at the rink for skating but mild weather had cheated them of what has been during the past few weeks their favorite sport.

This week-end will see a hockey jamboree for youngsters with two bantam teams in one match and Penticton and Summerland all-star midget team meeting in another.

Last night Summerland topped the Penticton Coy Cup team 3-1 at the Summerland arena and Sunday evening split a match 7-7 with Kelowna.

Playing twice each Sunday has proven too tough on the local players so in future games will be played in Summerland on Monday evening instead of Sunday.

Shoplifting Wave Felt By Stores

Police state the arrest of the boy climaxed several weeks of investigation and more prosecutions are expected to follow.

Merchants complain that most of the thefts have been occurring during noon hour and steps have been taken at the elementary school to limit the number of children travelling through the stores at that time by restricting pupils from leaving the school at noon except with special permission.

Police state they are determined to stamp out the shoplifting wave and are carrying on intense investigation.

Hospital Society To Meet Wednesday

Summerland Hospital Society will not be able to consider new by-laws at the annual meeting next Wednesday afternoon. A new set were prepared recently by a committee under chairmanship of J. C. Wilcox and it was intention of the board to present these to the annual meeting for approval Wednesday. A telegram from BCHIS was read to the board meeting Tuesday night advising there will have to be several major changes in the proposed by-laws and time will not permit these being readied for Wednesday's meeting.

The board discussed proposed building changes in the hospital and it was decided before going further, information would be sought as to the cost of having an architect prepare plans for the alterations and lay down specifications.

Brought to the board's attention was a recent incident when an ambulance was urgently needed in Summerland and a call was put through to Pentiction to obtain the services of one. It was pointed out that stretchers are located at strategic points about the municipality and that a number of owners of panel trucks are registered as willing to provide ambulance service. It was decided to ask the St. John Ambulance Association to circulate information as to the location of stretchers and where ambulance service may be obtained in the event of emergency.

The administrator reported a fairly busy month at the hospital with a total of 52 patients receiving treatment for 615 patient days. Accounts totalling $5,789 were approved for payment.

Noted Medical Missionary to India To Outline Work at Meeting Here

In Summerland next Thursday evening to address a public meeting will be Dr. R. Benjamin Gullison who will be heard in the Summerland Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Gullison, a member of the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board, is also an accomplished photographer and will have with him three sets of color slides on India and also a set of slides on the Holy Land which was taken during a recent visit there.

Dr. Gullison is a member of the convention of Baptist Churches of the Northern Circars in India and his work will be the subject of his address. He has always used healing as a successful medium of evangelism and during his first furlough from India he took special course in the treatment of leprosy. In his latest seven-year term of service in India, he has been in charge of hospitals and leper clinics on the Sompet and Pithapuram fields. During his last year there, the recently-built Arogyavaram Hospital at Sompet cared for 1,240 in-patients and 7,500 out-patients.

He was born in Port Maitland, N.S., but raised by missionary parents in India. After he graduated in arts from Acadia University, in medicine from Edinburgh, Scotland, and in theology at Gordon Bible College, Boston, Dr. Gullison returned to India in 1938.

His hobby has produced such expert photography that the Indian government asked him to take pictures of significant historic sites. Some of his photographs have been exhibited in the Toronto Exhibition and other were reproduced in the National Geographic magazine.

Days! Daze! Schmaze! It's Still 'Effective'

Volume used by High School teacher Marciel Desjardins for the much-discussed book-on-head punishment of pupil John Baillie was the Effective Living textbook entitled "Your High School Days".

Baillie, who claimed in court he was stunned by the blow, will probably always remember it as "My High School Daze".

Still In Hospital After Accident

A Pentiction man injured in a car accident on Giant's Head road Saturday afternoon is still a patient in the Summerland General Hospital but his condition is reported to be much improved.

Injured was W. J. Schramm. He was driving in the direction of Summerland when his car went out of control, crossed the road and went up an embankment. The driver, alone in the car at the time, was thrown out and the car rolled back over him. There were no witnesses to the accident.

The accident happened about 2 o'clock and passing a few minutes later was Mrs. J. E. O'Mahony, president of St. John Ambulance, who administered first aid at the roadside.

The accident victim lost a large amount of blood from a head wound. A stretcher was obtained from the medical clinic and he was taken to the Summerland General Hospital in a passing panel delivery truck before the ambulance called from Pentiction, arrived.

Evidence of Spring Growing Conclusive

'Active Year . . .

A. K. Macleod Chosen President At Board of Trade Annual Election

New president of the Summerland Board of Trade is A. K. Macleod who was elected to this office at the annual meeting in the IOOF Hall last Thursday night. He takes over the office from I. H. Solly. Mr. Macleod last year was vice-president of the board and elected to this post last week was L. L. Trippe.

Re-elected to the office of secretary was Lorne Perry and again treasurer is E. R. Butler.

New executive consists of: Robt. Barkwill, C. E. Bentley, J. Biollo, Ken Boothe, Marvin Henker, T. S. Manning, N. O. Solly and George Washington.

Annual reports showed an active year by the board, although membership dropped to a low figure. A drive for members being currently conducted is expected to boost interest in the board. Plans were laid out at the meeting for the annual Board of Trade banquet to be held March 11 in the High School auditorium. At this dinner, presentation will be made to the executive's selection of Summerland's 1953 "Good Citizen". Selection of the individual to receive the award will be made by the executive at a meeting Monday night.

The board noted a request to the municipal council asking that the four trees on the west side of Granville Road be removed and on motion of Walter M. Wright, approved a resolution asking the council to not remove the trees. In making the motion, Mr. Wright stated that the board had been instrumental in having the row of trees planted and he said several years ago the board considered legal action against a man who cut down one of them.

The new president and vice-president were installed in office by Reeve F. E. Atkinson.

To Produce Popular English Comedy In School Auditorium Friday Night

Stage manager is Alan Butler and properties are being handled by Mrs. Alan McKenzie and Mrs. Alan Butler. In charge of lighting will be Tom Paul and Richard Blowett. Mrs. C. F. M. ## One Way or Another, He's Bound to Win

Last week Summerland municipal council considered a letter signed by Lorne Perry asking that four trees be removed from in front of his place of business.

At their meeting this week the council will consider a letter signed by Lorne Perry asking that the four trees in front of his place of business be left standing.

No schizophrenic, Mr. Perry is nonetheless suffering from a split personality.

Insurance man Perry still wants to see the trees come down but as secretary of the Board of Trade it was his job to convey to the council a resolution by the board that the trees not be disturbed.

Court Exonerates Teacher In Pupil Assault Charge

Right of a teacher to discipline a pupil by administering physical punishment was upheld Saturday morning by Magistrate G. A. McLelland in Pentiction police court when he dismissed a charge of common assault against Summerland High School Teacher Marciel Desjardins.

Charge against the grade nine teacher was filed by Experimental Station Bookkeeper John F. Baillie who stated that during class on Feb. 5 the instructor had struck his (Baillie's) 16 year-old son John over the head with a book.

The defendant readily admitted striking the youth and defended his action on the grounds that in so doing had acted in accordance with his training as a teacher to administer punishment "as would a wise and judicious parent".

The Baillie youth testified he had suffered no after-effects from the blow and on being ordered from the classroom immediately after the incident had also left the school and spent the rest of the day with a friend. Argument by the crown that the blow had hurt and frightened the boy found little sympathy with the magistrate. "It is in the nature of punishment that it should hurt," he commented in his opinion, "I would like to think that it hurt and that he was frightened. Otherwise it would not be punishment."

Two classmates of the Baillie boy appeared as witnesses for their chum to describe the classroom incident. They were Alan Perrson and Melvin Wallbank. The three boys in turn each found themselves target for a sharp reprimand from the magistrate for their casual use of slang.

First victim was Baillie who described the events in the classroom and went on "and then he kicked me out". The magistrate's head jerked up, "You mean he actually kicked you?"

"Oh no, he just told me to get out," the boy replied.

"Well don't try to tell me that he kicked you then," retorted the magistrate angrily. The RCMP corporal attempted to interject an explanation that the boy was just using a slang term but he was cut short by Magistrate McLelland who had some sharp words on the subject of the careless use of slang.

Perrson, who was not in the courtroom when Baillie gave evidence ran into identical trouble by using the same term to describe the dismissal of Baillie from the classroom. The magistrate reddened, "Why do you come into this court and try to exaggerate?" he asked. "When you say the teacher kicked Baillie, it means he used his boot and kicked him and we know that didn't happen." Again the corporal tried to intervene but he got no further than he did on the previous attempt. "It's a crime," snorted his honor, "the way these boys are murdering the Queen's English."

Unaware of what had happened to his two pals, Wallbank described the situation . . . and then he chased him out of the room." There was an explosive quality to the magistrate's question "Do you mean he actually ran after him and chased him out of the room?" When the witness explained he had only meant the teacher had ordered the boy from the room, he was more than startled by the stern lecture his use of teen-age idiom touched off.

At the outset of the hearing, father of the punished boy took the witness stand and started to read a lengthy prepared speech. He did not progress beyond the first few paragraphs before he was interrupted by defence counsel A. D. C. Washington. The magistrate explained to Baillie he would have to confine his remarks to a description of what he knew about the incident of his own knowledge. "Do you mean a father can't plead on behalf of his own son?" he asked dramatically. "Your son isn't on trial," snapped the magistrate, and the would be witness with no evidence to give returned to his seat. The three prosecution witnesses

Reported Assault May Bring Action

A court room may be the scene of a further chapter arising out of the school punishment incident which resulted in an irate father, who believed his son wronged, laying a charge of assault against the teacher.

Although school officials decline to comment, reliable sources state John Baillie, father of the pupil punished, went to Principal A. K. Macleod to complain of the punishment meted out to his son. During the course of conversation, the teacher, Marciel Desjardins, entered the principal's office. Mr. Macleod introduced the two, whereupon Baillie, it is reported, seized a book and struck the teacher over the head and asked "How do YOU like it?"

It is understood that in order to protect teachers from assault by irate parents of pupils who have received punishment at school, that court action against Mr. Baillie is being contemplated. What type of action, if any, has not been stated.

and the teacher agreed in substance when they described the events which led up to the punishment of the pupil.

According to the evidence, the teacher was about to begin the period in Effective Living and told Baillie, who was turned in his seat talking to the boy behind him, to face the front of the room. Baillie turned part way around in what the

ICE AGE OF EDUCATION

Universities have been frequently criticized by outsiders, but the latest criticism has come from within, and from no less an authority than Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, who in his annual report says: "Universities should be increasing the nation's spiritual endowment. In this area of life it does appear that the modern university is failing to play a significant role in modern society". He said that students could graduate from many colleges "in complete ignorance of theology, incapable of explaining or defending their own beliefs, and with notions about religious traditions other than their own that are ridiculous and naive". He pointed out that to the student who knows nothing of theology, much history is meaningless, much philosophy is distorted, and much literature unintelligible. Even politics and the development of democracy had a religious background, and Dr. Smith asked: "How can students be expected to grasp such ideas if they are religious illiterates?"

Dr. Smith did not apportion the blame for that condition, nor did he offer any specific suggestions for remedying it, so far as the curriculum or methods of teaching are concerned. He suggested that more opportunities should be provided for contacts with church colleges. That, of course, is where all higher education originated, and the chief trouble with our universities is that they have become purely secular institutions, concerned only with this present world or things not spiritual or sacred. A secularist is one who believes that education and other matters should be conducted without the introduction of the religious element. It seems we have entered the Ice Age of Education, the secular refrigeration of the earth. It is not so much the things that are taught, but rather the prevailing atmosphere that refrigerates.

The popular idea of a professor is that he is a superior person who lives in a remote ivory tower and who, when he descends or condescends, looks down his nose with pity or disdain upon the uncultured. That is not generally true, for I have known some modest and warm-hearted professors, but I have met too many of them who were dripping with titles. The most frigid person I ever encountered was a university president, and he was the son of a popular English preacher. It seems that something happens even to ordained ministers of the gospel once they join the staff of a university. They either become lolly secular or jocularly irreverent toward religion; I used to think that John Bunyan, the tinker, had such in mind when he described one of his characters in Pilgrim's Progress as a "shameless professor and damnable apostate."

When Matthew Arnold was offered a professorship at Oxford he turned up his nose and said: "Is there not a Professor Pepper?" He was referring to a popular stage magician who invented "Pepper's Ghost". That professor, at least, did remind his audiences of things spiritual. Arnold, beside being a fine poet, was a great educationist and the apostle of culture. He divided society into three great classes: Barbarians, Philistines, and Populace. The Barbarians were the young Englishmen of the upper class, the Philistines were the middle class, and the Populace were the "vast residuum", the working class. He advocated state schools and colleges for all classes, but no one acquainted with Arnold's poetry and prose writings could imagine him being a cold secularist in education. For him a university would be universal in its interests and teaching. "The men of culture," he said, "are the true apostles of equality." He claimed that there was "one English book and one only, where perfect plainness of speech is allied with perfect nobleness; and that book is the Bible." Getting back to that book might be one way of fulfilling Dr. Smith's desire for universities "increasing the nation's spiritual endowment."

Names Mean a Lot . . . from now on it's 'Lakeside'

At the Board of Trade meeting last week, one of the members raised an objection to the use of the name "Lowertown" to describe that portion of Summerland along the lakeshore. While the subject was raised and treated with a note of humor, nonetheless the point is well taken and The Review henceforth will do everything possible to discourage the use of the term.

In a community of this size it is necessary to have names for the various districts and after discussion with several residents of that area it was decided the description "Summerland Lakeside", to differentiate from "West Summerland", would be much more acceptable. We agree and from now on that will be the way in which it will be described in The Review.

There's a lot in a name. We don't blame Lakeside residents from objecting to name "Lowertown".

Welcome Curlers . . . with every wish for success

SUMMERLAND'S second bonspiel will take place this week-end at the curling club rink. Testimony to the brand of hospitality extended visitors by the local curlers is to be found in the fact that this year's 'spiel is bigger and better than the first held a year ago.

The event will bring about a hundred visitors to Summerland this week-end and to them we extend a hearty welcome with the hope they will enjoy their visit here and soon return.

That part of the public which has never taken any interest in this game must be nonplussed at all the fuss and excitement about it. Disregard it though they might, they cannot fail to observe the extent of its popularity. Next month when national curling championship time rolls around, attention of all Canadians will focus on Edmonton during that week and Canadian interest in those matches is rapidly approaching that shown in the world baseball series.

Curling has become a national movement in the Members' Pay Hike . . . why pay senators more?

THE move by members of parliament to boost their own salaries has proven pretty unpopular with Canadians generally and editors all over the country have been having a field day abusing the parliament for reaching out for a bigger share for its members.

Sorry, but we can't agree.

Running the business known as Canada is a big job and the pay offered to those we expect to do it should be generous enough to attract men with qualifications for doing the job. This is not intended to imply that we have not had capable men in the past. We have been very fortunate in having been able to find capable men who could afford to take on the job but sooner or later our luck was bound to run out.

An annual salary of $10,000 for the type of men who are wanted at the helm of the country is not an over-generous amount—particularly when you consider that the member besides maintaining a home for his family in his constituency must also bear the high cost of living in Ottawa about nine months of the year.

Then too is the precariousness of his tenure of office. Probably the worst thing that can happen to a man is to be re-elected a second or third time and then be rejected. After a break of 10 or 15 years

Letters to the Editor

FAVORS TREE REMOVAL

Editor Summerland Review:
Would you be good enough to print this letter for me.

Congratulations to the forward looking make up of the present Summerland Council with its strong representation by sons of our pioneers and augers well for this municipality. A set up envied by other towns in the interior.

The intention of this letter was primarily to suggest that the still existing trees on the main street should be removed. Originally they numbered about 30, but as stores were erected they have nearly vanished, being Maples they are bound to lift the asphalt. But of more importance still, when in leaf they hinder both pedestrian and motorist, especially from the west, at a very tricky crossing.

I tended the trees for a Horticultural Society for a number of years and they were always a headache.

Thanking you in anticipation,
CHARLES C. WHARTON,
West Summerland, B.C.

NO WOODPILES

Editor Summerland Review:
With reference to your news report, regarding my interview with the Municipal Council, permit me to point out that, at no time was wood piles mentioned.

I trust you will see fit to make the above correction.
Thanking you,
Sincerely yours,
Wm. J. BEATTIE

West Summerland, B.C.
(Ed: Reference to woodpiles was made by councillors after Mr. Beattie left the meeting.)

The Lighter Side

After sitting for some time on a park seat, an old gentleman rose to find his trousers smothered in green paint.

Angrily he rushed up to the painter and cried out: "Why don't you put 'Wet Paint' on the seats?" "Well, that's what I am doin', ain't it?" retorted the man.

I met my wife at a travel bureau. She was looking for a vacation, and I was the last resort.

Although it might, topographically, be a reasonably accurate description, the connotation is not flattering to the district. A name like that always carries an other-side-of-the-tracks implication and certainly is most unfair that a district as delightful as Summerland Lakeside should suffer from a name which does not do it justice.

Names given to communities in this area were all carefully chosen for their implication and there is no reason why we should have one ugly duckling among them. Names like Peach Valley and Happy Valley help paint an attractive mental picture of the place so named and even if we don't have perpetual summer here, the name Summerland is in itself enough to bring a gleam of envy into the eye of any person hearing it for the first time.

The name Lakeside has a precedent since the United Church there bears that name and it carries with it a pleasant connotation. We're all for it!

realm of seasonal entertainment. As a social force it brings together thousands upon thousands of our citizens. Further by its reliance on team competition, it fosters the team spirit in society, thus keeping alive enterprise and rivalry. Thousands play golf as a form of individual relaxation. The growing thousands who curl do so competitively. We are witnessing the latest social fever.

To the resourceful Scots, whose game it is, the country gets deeper and deeper into debt. To the color of the tartan, the unique appeal of the kilt, even to the bagpipes and to the game of golf itself is now added the art of curling.

Those who have never curled may find it of interest to attend some of this week's sessions at the rink. We congratulate the Summerland Club on its enterprise and assured success.

May future bonspiels continue to be bigger and better.

from his business contacts, getting re-established is not always easy and the years he has served his country were those important to a man in his development financially.

There is however, one point on which we are very critical. In the past, members have been docked for unexcused absences from parliament in excess of 15 days during the session. This permissible absence is now being increased to 21 days.

Since we are now going to be paying a legitimate salary for the job of being member of parliament, we should now be able to expect a full job of work. It is shocking to read house of commons debates and find votes being taken with 100 or more members absent. The allowance of 21 days absence without excuse seems to be pretty liberal—it is to be hoped that permission for further absence will be granted only for good and just cause.

The matter of raising senate salaries is another question altogether. At a time when we should be trying to decide whether, in the face of other necessary expenses, we can afford to continue the luxury of a senate, it seems faintly ridiculous that the members should be granted an increase.

The senate is a traditional part of Canada's parliamentary system and tradition is a nice thing to follow, except when the expense becomes too great a burden. The only good that can possibly come from the increase to senators is that they will draw a little more attention to themselves and very soon find they have priced themselves right out of the market.

Mid-Week Message

One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one. (Isaiah 30:17.) Read John 6:5-14.

The power of one person for good or ill is one of the most challenging things in life. Too often we discount the power of one person. Standing by Niagara Falls, one person seems weak compared to that mighty force. Then one day an engineer sets Niagara to work producing electricity. In a great crowd one person seems unimportant; but if he can speak well enough, the crowd will stop its murmuring and listen.

Faced with a great moral wrong, the English slave trade, one person alone seemed powerless. But William Wilberforce matched himself against it and won. The Red Cross is the lengthened shadow of Henri Dunant; the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Frances E. Willard.

You and I, as individual persons, can raise the moral tone of a community, of a church, of a school. How? By seeking nothing for ourselves, by doing what is right, by following our conscience instead of following the crowd.

PRAYER
Father, though I am only one, I thank Thee that I can be a power for good if I so live that I am worthy to ask and to receive Thy help. Give me wisdom, faith, and patience that I may be a power for good in the place where Thou hast put me. In the Saviour's name. Amen.

Protest Removal Of Shade Trees

The Summerland Horticultural Society held its annual meeting on Friday, February 12 at 8 p.m. in the Parish hall.

The new constitution was read by Mr. E. H. Bennett and after considerable discussion and slight alterations, it was approved and adopted by the meeting.

It was brought to the attention of the meeting that shade trees on Ganville Road were in danger of being removed. As these trees were planted by the Horticultural Society it was decided to send a letter to the council requesting that the trees be referred to the Parks Board and put under their jurisdiction. The Society went on record as opposing the removal of the said trees.

Notices were to be sent to winners of cups at the local flower shows requesting them to turn cups in at Alec Watt's office so they may be engraved.

Reports of the year's activities were given, and thanks to members and executive for all the work they had done for the society during the past active year with a vote of thanks also given to the Flower-Show committee.

Election of officers took place with Mrs. M. E. Collas in the chair; President, Mr. A. Watt; vice-president, Miss D. Tait; honorary president, Mrs. H. G. Fisher; secretary, Mr. A. E. Calder; treasurer, Mr. W. F. Ward; auditor, Mr. F. R. Ganzevid. Directors: Mrs. J. Marshall, Mrs. A. Inch, Mr. Richmond, Dr. D. McIntosh and Mr. Gallop.

Entertainment for the evening was the showing of a B.C. Forest Service film of beautiful Garibaldi Park, by Alec Watt.

Refreshments were served by Miss D. Tait and her committee.

and the following badges were presented: Artists, Judy Smith; laundress, Bonnie Wilson; cooks, Carol Reinertson; readers, Diane Durick and Wendy Wright.

We sang a few songs, and Mr. Briton gave us a very interesting account of her trip to the Coronation. A prayer and taps closed the meeting.—Forget-me-nots.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

There were 14 boys out on Tuesday, all eager to pass their tenderfoot and second class tests. Every boy knows what they have to do to complete their tests so come prepared to do it next week.

All Scouts are to be at the Youth Centre before 10:30 a.m. next Sunday, Feb. 21. Every Scout must be in full uniform, shorts included. Those tenderfoots who are not yet entitled to wear their uniform, should wear their Cub uniform or their Sunday best clothes. The parade will fall in at the Youth Centre and march to the St. Stephen's Anglican church for the service and return to the Youth Centre following the service. Let's have a full turn out and show everyone how well you can march.

Anyone who wishes to pass their second class bicycle test, bring your bicycle, tools, oil, and rags and be prepared to overhaul it.

Clever Cooking . . .

When you are planning your meals this month, you are likely to find that you will have to depend on canned or frozen vegetables and the roots (turnips, parsnips, beets and carrots) for most of your vegetables. There are no shortages of good quality root vegetables this winter. And two other vegetables, potatoes and onions, which are frequently called roots, are plentiful and inexpensive, so you will want to use them as often as you can.

When you are buying root vegetables, you should choose those of a medium size. Overlarge turnips, carrots and parsnips are often coarse in texture and have woody cores. The best carrots and parsnips are firm, smooth and straight. Flabby or shrivelled parsnips and carrots are usually fibrous and pithy. Turnips should have a firm, smooth, yellow skin. They should be globular in shape with a few indentations as possible in the root area. There is just one grade of turnips, Canada No. 1, and they may have either a deep bronze, or a purple mantle depending on the variety. The turnips you can buy now are of a much better quality than those grandmother used to buy. She would buy just one at a time and if it was sweet, she would hurry back to buy another from the same shipment. It is so much easier for us, for modern research has given us a turnip that is always sweet.

The turnips we buy now are so sweet and good flavored that if they are well cooked and nicely seasoned, they can become family favorites. Here are some ideas for using turnips. Add a tablespoon or two of butter and a tablespoon of brown sugar to mashed turnips, then to sprinkle the mashed turnips with two tablespoons of grated cheese and to reheat until the cheese melts. Perhaps you have not thought of using apples and turnips together, but here is a recipe for glazed turnips and apples.
 6 slices turnips (approximately ¼ inch thick and 3 inches in diameter), 2 medium cooking apples, ¼ cup butter, ¼ cup brown sugar.
 Peel turnips slices. Cook in boiling salted water until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain. Slice unpeeled apples in wedges about ¼ inch thick. Melt butter in a heavy frying pan, add brown sugar. When the butter-sugar mixture is dark brown add the apple slices and glaze until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Arrange the turnips and apple slices in a large pie plate. Pour the remaining liquid from the pan over apples. Bake for 10 minutes in a moderately slow oven, 325 deg. F., or until apples are tender, basting occasionally.
 Cooking may be completed in the frying pan instead of the oven by adding turnips to the pan after browning and removing apples. Cook until turnip is well glazed—about 3 minutes. Yield: six servings. This would be good served with ham or veal.

Too often parsnips are served once or twice when they are plentiful and then forgotten until the next year. If this happens at your house, you are missing out on some very tasty combinations, for parsnips, although they have a definite flavor of their own, mix extremely well with other vegetables. Cutting the parsnips in wedges, cooking them just until tender and serving them with a tart sauce made from canned tomatoes. Another idea is "Parsnip Patties". To make them, cook the parsnips, mash them, season with salt and pepper, add a beaten egg and drop by spoonful to a well buttered frying pan. Then fry them to golden brownness on both sides. The patties are also delicious browned with the fat from a roast of beef. Carrots and parsnips go very well together. You will like them cooked until tender and served with a generous amount of butter, or served together in a rich cream sauce. The following recipe for Cheese Coated Parsnips is from the home economists.

8 small parsnips (4 cups cubed), 1½ cups grated Canadian Cheddar cheese (medium or old).
 Peel parsnips, cut into cubes and cook in a small amount of boiling salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain and roll in grated cheese. Place in a greased shallow baking dish and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 deg. F., until golden brown, about 15 minutes. Yield: six servings (3 cups).

Cub Calls

1st Summerland Pack Church parade will be held on Sunday, February 21, at 10:45 a.m. sharp at St. Andrew's United Church. Boys who attend the Church of the Holy Child will meet there at 10:45 a.m. Full uniform must be worn—this means short pants.

All Cubs have tickets to sell for the concert and if more are needed they may be obtained at McCargars or McArthurs.

It would be appreciated if all mothers providing costumes would phone either 4011 or 2239 when they are completed. Dancers sashes to be handed in and payment for same made as soon as possible.

The boys were treated to Valentine cookies at the close of the meeting.

Duty six—Red Six. Next meeting February 22 8:30 p.m. — Golden Quill.

Richard Palmer Wed In Toronto

A wedding of interest to many Summerland friends, took place on Monday, February 8, at 4:30 p.m. in Kingsway-Lambton United church, Toronto, in a ceremony conducted by Rev. W. C. Lockhart, when Richard Mason Palmer, son of Mrs. Palmer, Okanagan Mission, and the late Dr. R. C. Palmer, former superintendent Summerland Experimental Station, was married to Margaret Anne Challenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Challenger, of Merivale Farm, Sardis.

Both principals are graduates of UBC, the bride in home economics and Mr. Palmer in chemical engineering.

For the ceremony a suit of dark blue silk faille was chosen by the bride having three-quarter length sleeves and velvet trimmings. A touch of spring was shown in her white straw hat with navy trim and navy accessories and corsage of gardenias and hyacinths.

The bride's cousin, Miss Mary Martin, was junior bridesmaid wearing a crinolined white organ-die frock and straw bandeau with pink and white forget-me-nots. She carried pink and white flowers. James Gordon, Toronto, cousin of the groom, was best man.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Martin where the former proposed the bridal toast.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer are spending their honeymoon in New York, after which they will be at home at Apt. 6, 1863 St. Marc, Shawinigan Falls.

The groom's mother and the bride's parents attended the wedding.

Plan Food Parcel To Assist Needy

Monthly meeting of the Evening Branch of St. Stephen's WA was held Monday evening with Mrs. R. A. Fredrickson in the chair and opening prayer read by Mrs. W. Baker.

Mrs. R. Cuthbert reported on the vestry meeting and expressed appreciation to the members for their contributions of muffins which were greatly appreciated.

Mrs. N. O. Solly received warm commendation for her efficient and imaginative convening of the Valentine Tea.

Members were reminded of the World Day of Prayer to be held in the Free Methodist Church on March 5.

Members received an invitation to attend the final elimination of the IOOF youth pilgrimage contest.

It was decided a food parcel would be sent to an English clergyman for his disposal among ill and needy parishioners. Mrs. Fredrickson proposed a letter be sent to CARE to determine whether they could provide a suitable parcel.

Mrs. E. Skinner was appointed head of the sewing committee. Mrs. W. Baker to convene knitting and embroidery and Mrs. W. Gillard to head the novelties committee.

At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Fredrickson and Mrs. W. F. Evans.

St. Andrew's Service Club

Great Lovers of History Depicted In Valentine Theme of Anniversary

St. Andrew's Service Club members were hostesses Monday evening to the W.A. and Missionary Society of the Lakeside Church and the Federation of St. Andrew's Church when close to 100 ladies were present at the anniversary meeting.

Guests were welcomed by the president, Mrs. George Washington and vice-president, Mrs. Colin Campbell. The business meeting, conducted by the president, opened with the hymn, "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life" and Mrs. Ewart Woolliams took the devotional period with her message, "Christian Fellowship". Miss Shirley Schumann then delighted the audience with her rendition of "The Lost Chord" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Delmar Dunham.

Business was kept to a minimum, reports being given on the congregational and AOTS suppers convened by the club, and on a meeting attended by the president to arrange for the World Day of Prayer which will be held this year in the Free Methodist Church on March 5. An invitation was received from the federation to attend their meeting on Thursday when pictures of the Naramata School will be shown. A letter was also received from Mr. Les Gould of the IOOF lodge. This was an invitation to the elimination contest for the South Okanagan representative who will be chosen to attend the Youth pilgrimage of the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

Following the Mizpah benediction the entertainment committee took charge of the meeting and presented their first item, "The Mighty Midgets" in which Mrs. G. A. Laidlaw and Mrs. Ross McLachlan were loudly applauded as the midgets, being assisted by the invisible efforts of Mrs. Les Rumball and Mrs. Jack Dunsdon. "The Highland Fling" and "My Blue Heaven" were the items presented.

Reversing the usual procedure to the consternation of the players, the curtain came down literally at the beginning of the next number, revealing a huge valentine setting in which were framed a series of pictures representing valentines—romantic, tragic and comic—supposedly received by the commentator, Mrs. Jim Mayne, who was assisted by Mrs. Lionel Fudge at the piano. Those taking part were Mrs. Fred Mallett and Mrs. Joe McLachlan as Anthony and Cleopatra, Mrs. J. H. Holman and Mrs. J. P. Sheeley as Romeo and Juliet, Mrs. M. Henker and Mrs. W. H. Durick as The Ghost of Anne Boleyn, Mrs. Jack Dunsdon and Mrs. H. Braddick as Priscilla and John Alden, Mrs. Francis Steuart and Mrs. Les Rumball as Hiawatha and Minnehaha, Mrs. Ken Boothe and Mrs. Bob Chalmers as Lady Hamilton and Lord Nelson and Mrs. Art Crawford and Mrs. Mel Ducommun as Maggie and Jiggs.

Miss Yvonne Polesello then presented seven majorettes whose interesting performance was a credit to their years. The young ladies taking part were Lynne Boothe, Louise Shannon, Mitzi Jomori, Linda Beeman, Carol Barwick, Phyllis Young and Elsie Karlstrom.

The final number was announced by a display card bearing the very appropriate title, "The Flora Laura Girls", the performance being staged by Mrs. Flora Bergstrom and Mrs. Laura Boothe. Dressed in old fashioned costumes complete with parasols their lovely voices blended beautifully in "Every Little Movement", while the dance completing the evening's entertainment was one of grace and beauty.

Refreshments were then served by 12 members of the club under the convensorship of Mrs. C. D. Meadows.

NEW ARRIVALS

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Nield are parents of a son born at the Summerland General Hospital on Tuesday, Feb. 16.

A daughter, Marilynn Yvonne, was born Saturday, Feb. 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Munro at the Penitentiary General Hospital. The mother is the former Luella Polesello.

VISITING HERE

Mrs. C. S. Crossley of Montreal was a recent visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nield.

Large Crowd Enjoys Hard-Times Dance

The Summerland Scandinavian Society scored another hit with their Hard-Time Dance held in the IOOF Hall on Friday, Feb. 12. The Knoblauch family from Peachland supplied the music for the dancing with the trend being to old-time variety. Mr. Morrow kept things lively as floor manager and calling the square-dances.

The door prize, a lovely lamp, was won by Elmer Keller. The judging of costumes was very hard because of so many really good ones.

The Ladies prize was won by Mrs. Schjodt with Mr. Nilson winning the gents and Marjorie Brake, the prize given for the students costume.

The spot-dance was won by Mr. Schjodt and Mrs. Tubber. It was decided, in response to many requests, that another dance would be held on Friday, March 12, with the same orchestra supplying the music.

A lovely lunch was served by members of the club.

Traces Development Of Women's Institute Since Foundation

Mrs. S. A. MacDonald gave an interesting talk to Summerland WI on Friday afternoon tracing the development of Institutes from the beginning in Ontario when rural women discontented with rural conditions organized under the wing of the department of agriculture to improve them. She continued to briefly tell of expansion until there are now 87,000 members in Canada bound together in friendship in the international organization, Associated Countrywomen of the World.

Mrs. J. Enstone was in the chair in the absence of Mrs. C. H. Elsey, the president, who is at the coast.

Mrs. E. L. Fanchon, convener of health and welfare committee, asked for volunteers for clerical workers for the TB clinic which is to be here in March, when members will do registration, and keep records.

Mrs. H. C. Whitaker, chairman, arts and crafts committee, reported two prizes to be given for the P-TA essay contest during Educational Week, and told of the stuffed toy contest. Toys which are entered will be shown at the provincial convention and later given to the solarium.

Miss Eileen Cross of UBC extension may be here this spring. Mrs. Eric Tait, convener of home economics' committee, announced to the meeting.

A donation was given towards a sewing machine, a provincial institute project, to be sent to the ACWW delegate from India who was in Canada last year.

A phoning committee consisting of Mrs. George Inglis, Mrs. George Sheldrake, Mrs. E. Fanchon, Mrs. A. A. Fenwick and Mrs. J. Enstone, was chosen.

Mrs. Colin McKenzie's baby will be given $5 to start a bank account as is the custom with babies of WI members.

It was reported that Legion members are doing a canvas of the entire district to get opinions regarding the proposed Old People's Home.

Two games, a Valentine bingo, and a poster guessing contest, arranged by Mrs. MacDonald, were enjoyed, with Mrs. D. L. Cruickshank winning the prize for the first one, and Mrs. Myrtle Scott for the second.

The executive served a delicious tea as is the yearly habit with the table having a dainty bouquet of spring flowers and red tapers and hearts in the St. Valentine's Day tradition.

Varied Program To Be Presented By Herman Godes

When the brilliant young European pianist, Herman Godes, is heard in recital next Monday, at the Penticton High School Auditorium, members of the South Okanagan Community Concerts Association, the group sponsoring the concert, will be treated to a program of great interest to lovers of piano music.

His first group will consist of the mighty and impressive Bach-Busoni Organ prelude and Fugue and in D Major, followed by one of Beethoven's earlier works, the charming Sonata quasi una Fantasia in E flat major.

The second and third groups consist entirely of compositions by Chopin—the Fantaisie in F minor, Etude No. 5 in E minor and Etude No. 12, in C minor; The Nocturne in C minor; and the Polonaise in A flat major.

The fourth group consists of selections from more modern composers—three works by Bela Bartok, the Allegro barbaro, Bagatelle and Valse, Debussy's Danse-Tarantelle, Ravel's Ondine and a Capriccio by Dohnanyi.

Concert time is 8:15 p.m., and members are requested to make every effort to be in their seats by that time. After the concert has commenced, no one will be allowed to enter the auditorium until the end of the first group.

James Fairly Named to Office By Liberal Assn.

Annual meeting of South Okanagan Liberal Association in Kelowna Friday night chose James Fairly of Summerland, as vice-president of the constituency organization. Mr. Fairly was Liberal candidate for Similkameen in the last election.

A. W. Gray of Kelowna was elected president.

Speaker at the session was provincial leader Arthur Laing who charged B.C. Social Credit government is retreating from much of the "ill-considered" legislation passed hurriedly at the first session of the legislature.

Present at the meeting from Summerland were L. L. Trippe, Harvey Wilson, Mr. Fairly and Walter M. Wright.

Mr. Laing cited as instances of the Sacred retreat the ten per cent tax on liquor; the sometimes voluntary, sometimes compulsory payment of BCHIS premiums and the ten per cent tax on the mining industry which he believed would be dropped this session.

The Liberal leader stated when the liquor tax act was first produced, his party proposed three amendments—that the ten per cent tax be deleted; alternatively that it be reduced to five per cent, and that the Canadian Legions be exempted from payments of the tax. The three amendments were all defeated, he said.

"Apparently in the face of public opposition and on an ultimatum from the Canadian Legion, Mr. Bennett is now prepared to admit the validity of the Liberal amendments by reconsidering the whole tax with promises perhaps to throw out the tax and very likely exempt the Canadian Legion entirely," he said.

He mentioned in "passing the great annoyance felt at statements relative to road contracts issued by previous governments." Mr. Laing said he had asked for particulars of the contract questioned by Mr. Bennett and three Vancouver newspapers have demanded an enquiry as has the Liberal membership in the house. Mr. Bennett has not indicated whether he will grant this enquiry, he said.

"It is the duty of all members of the house to see that the integrity of previous members of the house or previous governments are not questioned unless proof and conclusive proof was produced," he said.

He criticized the Sacred government's intention of completing the PGE into Vancouver, and said increased truck competition will result in the PGE going into the "red".

He thought a truck road to Squamish is more in the interests of the public than the railway extension at this time.

The speaker thought the Equalization of Assessment Act is a bad piece of legislation, as it bore no relation to the earning ability of the payer.

Ivor Solly Reports Active Year For Summerland Board of Trade

Reporting to the annual meeting last Thursday night, retiring president I. H. Solly told of a variety of activities engaged in last year by Summerland Board of Trade and noted that even though membership had dropped, the board has played an important role in community life.

A membership drive is at present in progress to try and boost the number of board members to make it a still more effective organization to boost Summerland.

Text of the president's report follows:

The year just completed has been active in nearly all departments, and the board has endeavored to carry out its work in furthering the interest of Summerland and in promoting and encouragement of anything it considered to be to the benefit of the community.

The location of Highway No. 97 through Summerland was kept continually in mind and resolutions pressing for commencement of this work were sent to the department of public works and the premier urging an early start in order that businesses and others affected by its location could make any necessary plans. We are told that this contract is to be let this year.

The matter of placing the two post offices under one name was pressed for and meeting with post office authorities to discuss this problem is expected.

A queen contest was held in July at the Memorial Park to which several hundred persons turned out to see Miss Yvonne Polesello selected and crowned queen of the year. A float was again entered in the Penticton Peach Festival in August on which the queen and her party rode. Our float took second prize this year losing out only to the $5,000 entry from Wenatchee. It is felt that this is an effective method of bringing publicity to Summerland and our thanks go to Mr. Stan Gladwell, Mr. E. H. Bennett and all members of the committees and others who worked on these two projects.

In December, due to the more than usual interest in the municipal elections, the board arranged a public meeting in the Youth Centre at which the candidates for Reeve and the council spoke, giving their respective platforms. This was followed by a question period. Over 300 attended this meeting and a lively interest was exhibited and it is thought that obtaining the views of various candidates was of great benefit to the voters.

On Christmas Eve we held the usual Christmas treat for the children, and Santa Claus distributed some 600 bags of candy to the youngsters at both Summerland and West Summerland. He also visited the hospital and Mountain View Home.

A Christmas Home lighting contest was also held.

Other undertakings were: Urged the municipal council to establish a zoning commission in Summerland.

Urged the municipal council to increase sidewalk facilities.

Urged the parks board to provide a playground for children in Summerland.

Assisted the Coronation committee with the Coronation celebration.

MAKING THE BEST OF Living

By careful planning and saving, this young couple built the house of their dreams with the help of Canada's largest home-loaning institution, the Sun Life of Canada. Furthermore, at small additional cost, they wisely protected their investment with Sun Life Mortgage Protection policy which, should the husband die before the home is paid for, instantly clears all remaining mortgage indebtedness.

Play Underway Last Night With 39 Rinks In 'Spiel

With 39 rinks entered in the second annual Summerland Bonspiel first draw got underway last evening with nine matches run off so that play can be completed by Sunday night.

Dave Waddell Still In Top Net Form

Of interest to Summerlanders is the following from the Leader-Post of Regina, February 8, 1954:

"Winnipeg shuttle stars emerged head and shoulders over a talented field in the final matches of the Saskatchewan badminton championships played Saturday night at the Wascana Winter club.

Winnipeg's versatile Tom Matthews, defending single's champion, staged an impressive performance in retaining his crown against Dave Waddell, also of Winnipeg.

Prolonged full-court rallies were featured when Matthews and Waddell clashed with Barry Ursell and Jack England of Wascana in the final of the men's open doubles. The Winnipeggers prevailed by virtue of superior overhead smashes and deceptive cross-court drops to nab the title 15-3, 15-9.

"Waddell joined Millie Mills of Winnipeg to defeat Stu Barnard and Carol Engel of Regina 15-4, 15-11 for the mixed doubles crown."

Dave Waddell was formerly with the Summerland Experimental Station and moved to Winnipeg just a short time ago.

Summerland Seniors Top Okanagan Valley Ski Championship Tourney

Local skiers cleaned up in the senior division and placed well in junior divisions at the Okanagan Valley Championships held at the Kelowna Ski Bowl on Sunday, Feb. 14.

In the senior men's slalom, Ralph dePuyffer of Kelowna, placed first, his times being 32.9 and 34.2 seconds for a total of 67.1. He was 9 seconds ahead of Daryl Weitzel of Summerland who had two runs of 34.0, for a 68.0 to come second. Third place went to E. Dugvovaardt of Vernon with a total of 68.2 seconds for his two runs, Bob Weitzel of Summerland was fourth with 69.1 for his two runs and Dudley Paul of Vernon was fifth with his two run total of 72.0.

Summerland Ski club president Bob Weitzel was the victor in the senior men's downhill with a run of 38.3 seconds. Close behind was brother Daryl with a time of 39.5 seconds for his schuss. Others placing were G. Webster of Vernon, 40.0; E. Dugvovaardt, Vernon, 42.5, and G. Shannon of Kamloops 43.1.

Bob Weitzel was the winner of the senior men's combined trophy just edging brother Daryl by .1 seconds for this cup. The combined times were 107.4 seconds for Bob and 107.5 for Daryl.

Jane Corbett, skiing under Summerland colors, and Dorothy Nelson of Vernon were the only entrants in senior ladies' competition. Miss Corbett placed first in the slalom and second in the downhill. Her combined times were enough to win over Miss Nelson for the combination trophy. Miss Nelson was first in the downhill race and second in the slalom.

Only local junior to place was David Doumont who brought home two second ribbons from the downhill and slalom.

Winner of the junior events, was Bill Goddes of Kelowna with Mori Van Roehoult of Vernon third.

In the juniors under 14 years of age Chubby Down, a former Summerland resident, now of Vernon, was first. Doug Holmes of Summerland was second and D. Brian of Vernon, third.

Most of these ski enthusiasts will be in attendance at the invitational tourney to be held here on Sunday, Feb. 28.

About 30 local and Penticton skiers enjoyed the day at the local hill last Sunday and report that everything is in top condition for the coming tournament.

In "A" league this week two men, George Williams and Nick

Solly reached the six strike class and won a dollar each for their skill. Nick had a very nice high single game of 314 while teammate George reached above the highest, single for the year to a terrific game of 348. Unfortunately

George fouled in the last frame and while he actually scored 363 he lost 15 pins on the foul. George's two other games were 219 and 257 making a new high three for everyone to shoot at of 824, a new high three for the year.

With Penticton deciding not to enter a team in the Coy Cup play-downs, Summerland will be bolstered by three Penticton players

when they take the ice Tuesday night in Vernon for the first in a two-out-of-three series for the right to meet Kamloops.

Dates for second and, if necessary, third, game of the series have not been set.

Monday night Summerland and

Vernon met in an exhibition match which saw the locals, with the aid of a quintet of Penticton players, pick up a 4-2 victory.

Summerland lady curlers did very well last weekend at the annual Peachland ladies' bonspiel, with three of the six local rinks entered bringing home prizes.

In the Challenge or "A" event the rink of Mrs. Hilda Eden, Mrs. Annie Dunsdon, Mrs. Louise Lemke and Mrs. Margaret Wilson placed second. Winner of this event was the rink of Mrs. E. Cmolik of Kelowna. The final game in this event was a thriller and went into an extra end before a winner was decided. The Summerland quartet was up 8-6 at the end of the eight ends. In 9th end, the Kelowna ladies got 3 to go 1 up coming home. With the crowd on their feet, Mrs. Eden, with a beautiful draw shot, drew into the button about 1/2-inch closer to centre than Mrs. Cmolik's rock to tie it up at 9 all. The tenth end was another thriller for the first to last rock with the Kelowna ladies getting one point to win 10-9. Mrs. M. Ferguson's rink of Peachland was third and Mrs. P. Renenberg of Peachland 4th.

Mrs. H. Greenlees' Summerland rink, which was nearly a family rink with two daughters playing, won the Citizens "B" event. Playing with "Ma" Greenlees were daughters, Mrs. Helen Tilbe and Mrs. Gloria Greer, along with Mrs. Mary Dunsdon.

Others placing in the "B" event were rinks of Mrs. H. Spackman of Peachland, second, Mrs. P. Whinton of Peachland, third, and the Summerland rink of Miss Marion Hullah, Miss Phyllis Hoath, Miss Marg. Barraud and Mrs. Phyllis Acey placing fourth.

In the "C" event the winners were Mrs. J. Garroway's Peachland rink the victor. Other rinks placing in order of mention were Mrs. D. Flintoff of Peachland, Mrs. C. Topham of Peachland and Mrs. M. Flo Holmes, Mrs. Flo McInnis, Mrs. Maureen Toews and Mrs. Marg.

Wade; Mrs. Ollie Hackmann, Mrs. Bobbie Hannah, Miss Millie Clark and Mrs. Ethel Bleasdale; Mrs. Margaret Milne, Mrs. Louise Kennedy, Mrs. Ceonae Faasse and Mrs. Phil Rumball.

In this column, all rinks are listed in the positions they played: skip, third, second and lead.

Shirref Trophy
Mrs. Ollie Hackmann and her rink were unsuccessful in winning this challenge cup from Mrs. Annie Dunsdon's quartet last Wednesday. To this writing and due mainly to the many 'spiels these days, Mrs. Dunsdon has not received any more challenges for the cup.

The second annual Summerland bonspiel is now in progress with 39 rinks entered. There are 22 local rinks and out-of-towners in for this 'spiel are from, with the number after the name representing the rinks entered. Oliver 3, Penticton 5, Peachland 5, Kelowna 2, Vernon 1, Revelstoke 1 and Vancouver 1.

The hard-working prize committee have a large list of prizes, that every curler will be trying hard to win. These are on display at Laidlaw & Co. and will probably be there until Saturday.

The clubrooms and waiting rooms upstairs are completed and a terrific view is afforded from behind the large windows. Ever notice how fast the rocks seem to be moving from up above?

In closing this week I wish the best of luck to all the 'Besom and Stane' lovers in this 'spiel.

For the first time since the opening of the Commercial Hockey League this season, league leaders have been able to stretch their lead to better than a one game advantage and Sunday afternoon, Summerland pushed four points out in front when they downed Contractors 8-3 while Garagemen pulled up even with the second place Merchants when they took a 6-3 win from the latter.

The four-point lead gives Summerland undisputed league championship with only one match left on the schedule. Out of 17 matches played so far in the schedule, Summerland won nine, lost four, defaulted one and tied three. Game Sunday was a soft touch for the locals. Dick Steininger in usual good form manufactured a hat trick and accounted for an assist as well. Hooker and Carston each accounted for a pair and Campbell registered one. Summerland racked home three in the first stanza with the Contractors registering only a single. Three more were added to Summerland score in the second while the builders garnered two and in the final frame locals collected their final pair while the losers were unable to get into the act at all.

Growers

during the summer season and would be empty during the winter. These are unsatisfactory conditions for this type of pipe, he said, and added that trouble had been experienced in other parts of the province under similar conditions.

Reeve Atkinson said they had considered using other types of pipe but with welded steel pipe the life is a matter of conjecture and there is a possibility that it might have to be replaced in about six years. Some wood stave pipe in the district has been in use between 30 and 40 years, he said. This is the pipe which has been recommended by water foreman E. Kercher and also Engineer R. A. Barton, the reeve stated.

Reeve Atkinson visualized the day when the entire district will be served by a pressure irrigation system and with growers supplying laterals it will greatly speed the installation throughout the municipality. Asked if this would lower irrigation rates since maintenance will be considerably less, the reeve answered that savings will be used to extend the pressure system as quickly as possible but, he predicted, "There is a Utopian day in the future when the rate will be reduced."

He outlined the method of paying for the projects using unexpended money from two old by-laws and making up the balance from surplus revenue. The council would have preferred, he said, to have put the question of transferring money from the old by-laws up to the ratepayers for a decision but their investigations had revealed there is no provision in the municipal act for a by-law to transfer unexpended funds and so the council was forced to take the decision on itself. The fact of not having to put the question to the ratepayers first, however, has eliminated eight weeks delay and will permit a much earlier start on the work.

MORE ABOUT

Court

teacher described as "an insolent manner." The teacher closed the book, leaving his finger in it to mark his place and walked over to the boy, raised the book to "about shoulder height" and gave him "a sharp rap on the head with the flat of the book," and called him "a stupid lamebrain".

The hearing was liberally sprinkled with incidents containing a flavor of humor, such as when the magistrate asked Baillie if the blow had left a mark on the top of his head. "I don't know," replied Baillie. "I didn't look".

When asked why he called the boy a "lamebrain", the teacher stated "Because it was apropos", and when asked to enlarge on this answer, he continued, "It was particularly fitting to the individual so addressed." He admitted, however, that he could have been wiser in his selection of words.

Both Perrson and Wallbank told the court their chum was frequently in trouble at school and Baillie acknowledged under cross examination by Mr. Washington that his conduct in school left much to be desired. When questioned as to why he had left the school when he was dismissed from the classroom, he said he was aware that he was supposed to remain in the hall outside "but my parents told me if I had any trouble with teachers I had their permission to go home."

Mr. Washington in his summation quoted from the criminal code that "It is permissible for a parent or school master to use force if such force is reasonable under the circumstances." He cited a judicial opinion that punishment which causes inconvenience or bruises which do not last more than two days is not regarded as excessive.

Mr. McClelland in his opinion stated, "I consider myself well qualified to judge this case. I was myself a bad boy when I attended school — at least I didn't sprout any wings—and I afterward grew up and became a school teacher." He recalled his own school days, "When I went to school the teacher used anything handy—usually a ruler and I can remember getting a good many whacks across the knuckles with a ruler." He went on, "If you don't give a teacher the right to discipline, then he is of no use in the school."

In dismissing the action, he described it as "a very unfortunate charge" added it was probably laid "from the mistaken point of view that only a strap can be used in giving punishment."

Sees Seeds of Genius In Era of Despair

Summerland Kiwanians Monday night were addressed by Rev. C. O. Richmond, pastor of St. Andrew's United Church. His talk was based on Elton Trueblood's book, Sign of Hope in a Century of Despair.

The mid-20th century, he said, though a time of despair to common man, shows signs of the seeds of genius and a ferment of the mind which may make it potentially a time of glory. The most encouraging signs, he believed, are to be found in the field of religion.

Doug Campbell, chairman of the Kiwanis Youth Committee reported on the club's sponsorship of Girl Guides and Brownies by assisting in the purchase of uniforms and payment of hall rent.

Teacher Brings Damage Action Charging Assault

Provincial Librarian
VICTORIA
Su has become followed by Teacher M. On ers solicited alleged ass teacher ov patented counter-suit this week developed, in what -publicized school punishment incident which was d assault by father of the pupil, John F. Baillie, on jardins. i supreme court action was launched by the teach- Washington, seeking damages from Baillie for the grade 9 teacher. It is reported Baillie struck the i with a book.

Apparently not satisfied with the police court magistrate's decision in dismissing an assault charge against the teacher for striking 15-year-old John Baillie, the father, through his lawyer, Edgar Dewdney, wrote Mr. Desjardins demanding damages for assaulting the youth and threatening civil court action unless arrangements were made for payment of damages within a specified time. It is understood the deadline has now elapsed.

Questioned yesterday about any action contemplated by his client, Mr. Dewdney's reply was "No comment".

'Sold Down River' Reeve Protests

Reeve F. E. Atkinson voiced justified indignation and levelled charges "We've been sold down the river" when informed at Okanagan Health Unit meeting in Penticton last week that dental services will not be extended to Summerland schools.

Indignation of the reeve was based on the fact that Summerland was one of the first districts to ask for school dental treatment and was promised priority when school dental services were inaugurated.

Summerland waived priority in favor of Princeton-Copper Mountain district and Osoyoos because at that time there was no dentist practicing in that area while there was one located here.

Penticton at that time was not included in the service but was later quietly brought within the scope of the dental director. Summerland representatives were not aware of this latter move until it was in operation.

Dr. W. G. Hall, the dental director, informed Reeve Atkinson that the amount of work to be done in School Districts 14, 15, 16 and 17 precludes any possibility of extension of the service to district No. 77. He gave as his reason an insufficient number of dentists available to carry out the program blueprinted by the department of health.

APPROVE STREET LIGHT

Councillor Butler Friday reported he had received complaints regarding the lack of light along the new road behind the school grounds and council authorized installation of a street light on one of the existing poles.

Hospital Report Discloses First Operating Surplus in Five Years

For the first time since 1949, Summerland General Hospital showed a surplus for their year's operations and finished up 1953 with statement showing $197 in the black. This information was presented yesterday afternoon at the annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society which saw re-elected as board directors I. H. Solly, John Butzuzi and Dr. J. C. Wilcox.

At a brief board meeting following the annual session, directors chose as new board chairman, Mr. Solly.

Salaries during the year were up $6,000 over the previous year and in reporting to the society, administrator J. E. O'Mahony looked with a baleful eye to the future: "The principle of a 40-hour week has been generally accepted for hospital employees in B.C. and this will become effective in the Okanagan region on July 1. This will mean increased staff to take care care of this large increase in expenditure is anyone's guess—most certainly not from BCHHS premiums!"

Number of patients admitted during 1953 was up to 583 against 553 in the previous year and new-born, totalled 57 compared to 54 in 1952.

An interesting note contained in a comparative chart distributed by Mr. O'Mahony showing comparative figures on the last five years operations showed salaries increased from $26,738 in 1949 to $44,955 last year.

Hospital revenue last year was $67,187 while expenses were $66,990. Total number of days treatment supplied during the year was 6,152.

Report of the Hospital Auxiliary showed a total of $1,200 worth of supplies and equipment presented to the hospital during the year. Auxiliary reports were presented by President Mrs. C. G. Woodbridge, secretary, Mrs. Les Rumball and the Dorcas report was given by Mrs. Robt. Cuthbert.

Other officers elected at the board meeting were Harvey Wilson 1st vice-president and Les Rumball, 2nd vice-president.

Medical point of view on the year's operations was expressed by Dr. A. W. Vanderburgh and Dr. W. H. E. Munn who both expressed satisfaction at the manner in which the hospital had progressed during the year and the co-operation received from members of the staff.

Salary Costs Climb

School Estimates Show $11,000 Jump In School Operating Costs for Year

Cost of operating schools in District No. 77 this year is expected to exceed last year's costs by nearly $11,000 and school board last Friday presented to the municipal council a budget which calls for outlay of $181,851 during 1954. Of this amount, Summerland share will be $112,080 which represents about four mills.

Largest slice of the budget pie goes to teachers whose salaries for the year will take $100,000 as compared to $100,337 last year. Increased salary rates do not account for the jump along. One additional teacher will be added this fall and one who was added mid-term last year will be included on the payroll.

The budget was presented to the council by J. Y. Towgood, chairman of the board, Ross McLachlan, chairman of the finance committee and J. A. Tingley, board secretary. The report disclosed school costs last year were kept within the estimates of $172,587 with actual costs being $170,670.

The increase in the estimates is practically all accounted for in the higher salary costs. Transportation however, will cost an extra $1,000 this year which will boost that figure to $14,000.

Ask For Higher Levy For Library

Following receipt of the 1954 levy for Okanagan Union Library, Summerland Council Friday afternoon approved a resolution for presentation to the Okanagan Municipal Association meeting this week proposing the limit of assessment for library purposes be raised from two to three dollars.

The assessment for Summerland this year is $2,675.25 which is established on a 75 cent per capita basis. Clerk Gordon Smith explained to the council that the amount is raised at present by a flat two dollar levy on all ratepayers and the balance is made up from general revenue. Two dollars is the maximum that can be levied at the present time and an increase in this maximum will mean the full amount of the assessment can be raised by separate levy.

Give Final Approval For Irrigation Work

Way was cleared by council Friday afternoon for the start on installation of the Jones Flat pressurized irrigation system with the final reading and approval of the by-law which permits transfer of funds to finance the project.

Approval of the inspector of municipalities to the by-law was also received at the meeting.

Municipal Statement

Annual Statement Shows All Operations Profitable

Surpluses in all phases of municipal operations were disclosed this week in the annual financial statement issued from the municipal office. Largest surplus appears in the irrigation operations which during the year showed a profit of $6,764. Surplus from supply of electrical energy amounted to $5,853 while domestic water system was in the clear by $3,387. General revenue surplus amounted to $2,075.

Details of the statement appear on pages 8 and 9 of The Review this week.

General revenue amounted to $196,307, while expenditures amounted to $194,232.

Collected in the operation of the irrigation system was $46,297 while cost of distributing water to growers amounted to $39,532.

Revenue from domestic water service was $28,089 while expenditures amounted to $24,702.

From electrical energy rates, the corporation received $83,716 while cost of purchasing and distributing power came to $77,865.

Many Donations Shown In Report

Report presented to the annual meeting of the Summerland Hospital Society Wednesday afternoon disclosed a particularly busy year for the Dorcas committee of the hospital Ladies' Auxiliary.

Report of the committee was presented by Mrs. Robt. Cuthbert who enumerated close to $1,200 worth of equipment and supplies supplied to the hospital by the auxiliary during the year.

Included in the items mentioned in her report were:

Linen—Four and a half doz. sheets, 55 bedspreads, two doz. men's pyjamas, two doz. girls' pyjamas, one doz. patients' gowns.

Two doz. draw sheets, two doz. pillow slips, table cloth, four doz. terry towels, bolt tea toweling, rubber sheeting.

Mattress pads, two doz. draw sheets, two doz. baby blankets, one doz. dish cloths, two doz. hand towels.

Two doz. bath towels, 3 yards plastic, 17 flour sacks.

Dishes—Half doz. salt and pepper, two doz. side plates, three doz. plates, six pitchers, two doz. forks, two doz. dessert spoons.

Two doz. knives, two doz. teaspoons, two doz. teapots, two doz. coffee pots, steel teapot.

Two doz. cups and saucers, four doz. bowls, mixing bowls, half doz. trays (plastic).

Furnishings—Resuscitation Unit, arm chair, bedside locker, oxygen regulator.

APPROVE RENTALS

Council Friday approved renewal of rental of municipal property by Walton and Harris and D. Klasseff and also passed an application by W. G. Gillard for rental of a slope adjacent to his property.

School Board Outlines Position Regarding Punishment of Pupils

School punishment is a subject suddenly brought to the fore by the recent Desjardins-Baillie incident and a flood of letters to the board of school trustees resulted this week in a forthright statement of school board policy set forth in a letter to The Review.

Following is text of the letter from school board chairman J. Y. Towgood.

West Summerland, B.C. February 25, 1954. Editor, Summerland Review, West Summerland, B.C. Dear Sir:

The recent incidents in our School culminating in an assault charge being laid against one of our teachers in Police Court and of the teacher being allegedly assaulted by the parent of the child involved in the assault charge has caused this Board deep and serious concern.

There have been so many communications to the Board as a result of these incidents that we feel it essential for the future guidance of parents and pupils alike to make our position clear.

(a) The Board maintains the right of the teacher at all times during classes to maintain order in his or her classroom and to administer such disciplinary action as may be reasonably necessary to effect this purpose.

(b) Any parent dissatisfied with the treatment accorded his or her

Gaglardi Says Good News Ahead On Road Project

Summerland can expect good news regarding the relocation of Highway 97 when the budget is presented to the legislature within the next week or two.

Replying to a letter from the Summerland Board of Trade asking that work on the new highway be expedited, Public Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi stated "I am unable to make an announcement at this stage of the game", but went on to say that the budget will be presented in probably about 10 days "and at that time I am sure that the knowledge forthcoming will be gratifying to yourself and others. I am hoping for the best."

Protests Refusal To Sell Property

Appearing before council Friday afternoon was Frank Daniels to protest the decision of the council not to sell him the lot adjoining his store.

The lot which Mr. Daniels expressed desire to purchase was one of three which the council at their last meeting decided would be placed under control of the parks board for the installation of benches and play equipment.

Mr. Daniels stated the lot he requested offered the only feasible means of extending his business since to build on the north side of his store would cut off access to his house.

Reeve Atkinson pointed out to Mr. Daniels that he had been one of the main exponents for the establishment of a park site at Lakeside. "We have acceded to your wishes in that respect," he said, "and now you want to buy a section of it." The reeve went on to state that a large birch tree was located on that lot which would provide very suitable shade for benches.

Mr. Daniels countered that upon examination of the tree, the parks board will find that its roots are badly rotted and that its presence there constitutes a very serious hazard.

The reeve expressed the opinion that in such cases the parks board might be persuaded to permit sale of the lot but in any event, he said, the property is now under their jurisdiction and the council is unable to act except upon its recommendation.

Mr. Daniels left to discuss the matter with the parks board.

Reports Mess in Lane Partly Cleaned Up

Acting on a complaint lodged at a council meeting two weeks ago by William Beattie, that garbage was being dumped and burned in a lane adjacent to his home and causing a nuisance, council instructed offending neighbors to desist in the practice and to clean up any mess that has been caused.

Councillor Steuart reported Friday he had visited the lane just before the meeting and found the bulk of the mess, garbage burner and woodpile had been removed, "... but it could still stand some more cleaning", he added.

SUBDIVISION PASSED

Application of J. E. Miltimore to subdivide property received approval of municipal council Friday afternoon.

child should take the matter up with the principal and failing satisfaction, with the Board who will promptly investigate the matter.

(c) Under no circumstances can the Board permit or tolerate the parent dealing directly with the teacher involved as such action almost inevitably leads to disruption of order and discipline in the School.

(d) Inasmuch as the matter of the alleged assault by a parent upon one of our teachers is now before the Courts it is not competent or proper for this Board to further comment upon that matter.

(e) We cannot admit the right of any parent in matters pertaining to the School to take the law into his own hands.

Yours truly,
JOHN Y. TOWGOOD,
Chairman of the Board,
School District No. 77
(Summerland)

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Because of limited powers for self-government, Reeve Simpson raised objection to the provisions in the new municipal act which was scheduled to go before the legislature.

Under the direction of the Summerland Branch, a sub-office of the Bank of Montreal was opened in Naramata.

Resignation of school principal C. W. Lees was accepted by the school board.

Board of railway commissioners, sitting at Vernon, heard that proposed increase in express charges, and the cancelling of the commodity tariff on fruit would have a most disastrous effect on the fruit growing industry. The case for BCFGA was presented by C. R. M. Winslow.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Summerland General Hospital was faced with a deficit of $3,448 on their 1923 operations. Patients' accounts, after a considerable portion had been written off as uncollectable, amounted to $2,491.

H. H. Creese resigned as hospital secretary. Board of directors consisted of H. C. Mellor, Rev. H. A. Solly, A. E. Rose, Mrs. K. Bentley, R. C. Lipsett, C. R. Winter, P. S. Roe, John Gowans, S. E. Snider, W. Ritchie, and G. J. C. White.

Summerland's first school in basketry concluded, the two-weeks course having been conducted by Mrs. Lloyd Armstrong of Keremeos.

Special office and receiving station was opened by the Summerland Poultry Association and L. W. Rumball was grading and marketing the eggs.

W. Haddrell was brought to Summerland by the KVR train and taken to the hospital following an accident in which he suffered a broken right leg.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Summerland was enveloped in the worst fog in its history when sunny skies combined with icy surface of the lake to place a blanket over the district for three days. The fog was caused of the CPR tug MV Okanagan grounding on a sand bar off Agur's Point at Crescent Beach and for the collision of two lake tugs, the Naramata and CN No. 6 about six miles below Kelowna.

Plans were shaping up for the annual Board of Trade spring fair under the direction of J. R. Armstrong. C. H. Elsey granted permission for the fair to be held in the Occidental Fruit building.

Report of Mrs. A. R. Dunsdon, president of the Summerland Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary, showed more than $1,000 had been spent on hospital supplies and patient comforts during the year.

Annual meeting of the Summerland Credit Union showed a steady growth in five years to a share investment of nearly $50,000.

Players' section of Summerland Singers and Players were preparing for presentation of the comedy-drama, "I Remember Mama".

Lloyd Shannon was chosen noble grand of Okanagan Lodge, IOOF, and John Khalembak as vice-grand.

Before starting on plans for a new junior-senior high school, three members of the school board planned to make a tour of northern Washington and coast areas to visit schools to view the newest developments in school design. Planning on making the tour were Chairman C. J. Bleasdale, Dr. W. H. B. Munn and Dr. James Marshall.

The Lighter Side

Growing Old Fast—

The car was crowded and the conductor was irritable.

"Where is the fare for the boy?" he snapped, as the father handed him one fare.

"The boy is only three years old."

"Three years! Why, look at him. He's seven if he's a day."

The father leaned over and gazed earnestly at the boy's face. Then he turned to the conductor.

"Can I help it if he worries?" he asked.

"Well, nurse, how is the patient today?"

"I gave him the figs you ordered, Doctor, but he keeps asking for figs."

In This Corner

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

When I read Trevor-Roper's "The Last Days of Hitler", the thing that most impressed me was the German dictator's belief in astrology. From the beginning he believed he was a Man of Destiny, and when he attained power he consulted astrologers before taking any major action. Even when he was driven by the defeat of his armies into the Bunker, 50 feet beneath the shattered Reich Chancellery, he was constantly in touch with his favorite fortune-teller who fed him with hopeful forecasts from the stars. The fanatical superstition that Hitler bore a charmed life seems to have been shared by the hard-headed and brutal Himmler, and especially by the cold-blooded and intellectual Goebbels and other officers who remained with him to the end.

General Koller, speaking to von Greim on the telephone to the Bunker, "was astonished to hear hilarious promises of inevitable victory. 'Just wait,' replied the voice of the field-marshal. 'Don't despair; Everything will be well! The presence of the Fuehrer and his confidence have completely inspired me. This place is as good as a fountain of youth to me!' Koller could not believe his ears. 'The whole place is a lunatic asylum' he protested to himself. 'I simply don't understand it. . . perhaps they have a sixth sense and can see things to which we ordinary mortals are blind. One begins to doubt one's own sanity!'"

The whole story of Hitler's last days, as told by Trevor-Roper, reads like a piece of fantastic fiction; but it is entirely factual, based on personal investigation, interviews, diaries and official documents. We see Hitler isolated from the realities of the battlefronts and surrounded by a court of toadies, quack doctors and astrologers, while the Nazi leaders were intriguing against one another for power and the generals were aghast at the maniacal orders issued by the Fuehrer.

While I was reading the story my mind reverted to the early part of the war when the German armies smashed their way triumphantly through France. At that time the newspapers reproduced a photograph of Hitler, holding in his hand the surrender document signed by the French commander, and doing a step dance of delight at having, as he said, cancelled the Treaty of Versailles. He was then on top of the world, the great conqueror, the invincible in the heaven of his delight. Look at that picture, and look on this of his last days in the hell of his defeat.

Napoleon also believed he was a "Man of Destiny" and he too consulted the stars when he got into a jam, in the hope that they would help him out. In the days of ancient Greece and Rome the power-oreny rulers consulted astrologers and oracles in the hope of averting the doom of all tyrants, which they inwardly knew awaited them. The story of Hitler's last days in that Bunker stands as a terrible example and a warning to all present and future despots. It is a tale of the self-torture of the doomed.

Do A Good Turn . . . support the boy scout appeal

THIS week, members of the local Scout committee launch their annual appeal on behalf of the Scout movement in this community.

This is an appeal which should be very close to the hearts of just about everyone. There are few men who have not been helped in their efforts to attain success by lessons learned during their youth as a member of a Scout troop. Many memories of boyhood are enriched by that association.

Also there are few families who have not profited by having a son or daughter associated with Scouts or Guides.

To this movement we all owe a great debt of gratitude for in it, growing generations are learning the lessons of good citizenship and unselfish living.

Scout leaders are doing a magnificent job in the guidance they are giving junior citizens and it is only fair they should receive the full support from the members of the community who profit from the work there leaders are doing. It would be unfair, indeed, if their efforts were hampered by a lack of funds necessary to carry on their work to the fullest extent.

A contribution to the Scouts should not be regarded as a donation but rather an investment—an investment in the future of this community; an investment which will earn satisfying dividends as each year new graduates from the ranks of Scouts step up, qualified to take their places as full-fledged members of the community.

Do your part in helping this movement to grow and continue in its important effort by sending in your contribution to the Scout campaign.

'Thinking Week' . . . a good time for reflection

TO mark the birthday of Founder Lord Baden-Powell, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides this week observe what they call "Thinking Week" and give special reflection on their obligations as members of the organization and what it means to them in their daily living.

It would not be amiss for parents and others of the community to also observe "Thinking Week" and give thought to what it means to have these groups active in the district.

Work of Scouts is pretty generally known but Guides perhaps have not received the same widespread publicity.

Guides are organized on the same general lines as Scouts and their objective—designed to develop the finest of human qualities—are the same.

There are three divisions in the Guide movement—Brownies for ages 8 - 11, Guides for the 11 - 16 age group and Rangers for girls over 15.

The first Girl Guide troop was formed in 1909 in England and since then has spread all over the world. In 1928 a world organization was formed to link together the many national organizations.

Basically, the movement is a citizenship training program which offers to girls from eight years of age to their late teens an opportunity for wholesome recreation and friendships outdoor activities, after-school hobbies and interests that will be of lasting value to every member.

Its aim is to develop initiative, self-reliance and latent aptitude for leadership. It stresses obedience, co-operation and all those qualities required to play an active part in the service of the community. It is an ideal means of establishing organized youth activities for girls.

The movement is non-political, non-denominational and without class distinction. It supplements the teachings of home, church and school and co-operates with educational and other bodies working toward the same goal.

That's a pretty important program to have operating for youth in the community and since this is "Thinking Week" it's a good time for adults to give some thought to what they can do to assist the movement. After all, the Girl Guide movement is doing its share to assist the community.

WHAT WILL HISTORY SAY?

Canada's wealthiest year has just past into history. The New Year, and the whole future of this challenging land, will be bigger still. But is being "big" enough? asks the Financial Post. Let's not confuse bigness with greatness—or worthwhileness. By itself, "greatness" in size has no value in the saga of history or of human affairs. In the welter of big figures what have we done about the important things?

We Canadians go all over the world everybody envies us and most people like us. Nobody is mad at us. But the short pants of colonialism or smallism no longer fit or become us. What affirmative and thoughtful thing should we do?

We can enliven our sense of being Canadian. Enlarging and enhancing our own sense of nationality is one thing we can do—and the Western World will commend us for so doing.

We can stop being second-rate Canadians—or second-rate Americans—by being ourselves. Canada is much better for itself and for its friends as it is, than by becoming a sickly sibling of a 49th state.

Our Commonwealth is the world's most successful international institution alive and useful. That is one thing we can help keep alive.

We Canadians are fairly good in mechanics, in chemistry and in physics. We have opened up a big land. We have good people in mining, forests, farming, atomic energy and medicine.

How good are we in other fields? It is time we concerned ourselves also with those other things of the spirit. Up to now, history has very little to say for us.—Cranbrook Courier.

CUT TAXES ON LEARNING

Headed by the United Kingdom—but not including Canada—16 nations joined recently in applying an international agreement which abolishes import duties on a wide range of educational, scientific and cultural materials. The action will make it easier and cheaper for individuals and institutions of various kinds to import many essential items. It marks the latest stage in Britain's century-old program to end taxes on newspapers, books, printing paper and other articles of information.

One hundred years ago, after a vigorous campaign by writers, publishers and political leaders, parliament repealed the onerous duty on newspaper advertisements and thus made it possible for many daily newspapers to be established. Up to that time, only a few organizations could afford to publish daily papers.

Leaders in the campaign for the free flow of ideas included Charles Dickens, Benjamin Disraeli, William Gladstone and Richard Cobden.

Their present-day successors in British publishing and commerce have played an active part in obtaining the United Kingdom's adherence to the treaty, sponsored by the United Nations. This agreement abolishes import on books, newspapers, magazines, works of art, music scores and articles for the blind. In addition, governments grant import licenses and foreign exchange for publications needed by public libraries.

The other nations operating the agreement are Cambodia, Ceylon, Cuba, Egypt, France, Israel, Laos, Monaco, Pakistan, Philippines, El Salvador, Sweden, Switzerland Thailand Vietnam and Yugoslavia.

Canada, as we have said, is not on that list. It may have signed, but it has yet to ratify a treaty that would really mean something in the matter of world enlightenment.—Kamloops Sentinel.

Notes From Parliament Hill

By O. L. JONES

Some time ago, the merchants of British Columbia were up in arms against the unfair competition offered by certain stores through loss-leader practices. This practice has been studied by the director of the combines investigation act. Mr. Carson informed the house that this study is now advanced and when the report reaches him he will then decide whether legislation is necessary or not to curb the loss-leader practice.

Figures were given last week indicating that from Jan. 1 to Nov. 30, 1953, imports from the United States of canned peaches and apricots came to 8,499,929 pounds while we imported from the United States canned fruits other than peaches and apricots to a total of 30,359,492. I mention these facts because I feel that, with proper publicity and the necessary advertising, a lot of this market could be recaptured for our own canning industry which has been experiencing difficulties in disposing of the very product that we are importing in such large quantities from the United States plus other quantities from Australia, South Africa, Italy and other countries which I have not mentioned.

The minister of veterans' affairs has moved that a special committee consisting of 31 members be formed to deal specifically with the bill to amend the war service grants act and the bill respecting benefits for members of the Canadian forces and such other legislation relating to veterans' affairs as may be referred, from time to time, to the said committee. While the above motion does not specifically mention war veterans' allowance recipients and war veterans' widows, it is generally agreed that, once the committee starts functioning, these matters will inevitably be introduced to the committee. In any case, we veteran members of the house are very pleased that the government has decided to set up this committee. It also meets with the approval of veterans throughout the dominion, both organized and unorganized.

The question of unemployment was dealt with at length as the result of figures indicating that we have approximately 580,000 people unemployed throughout the dominion. Added to this would be another large number who are commonly known as unemployable and for that reason are not registered as unemployed but, nevertheless, their numbers add substantially to the number who are unable to work. Mr. Howard Green sought to have a select committee appointed immediately to examine and report upon the actual unemployment situation throughout Canada and to make recommendations to parliament. Hon. Milton Gregg, minister of labor, more or less confirmed a figure of 524,000 being unemployed on Jan. 21 of this year which is an increase of 140,000 over the same period last year. But, he pointed out that a large number of these people are part-time or seasonal employees. However, he did admit that other factors enter the situation such as the substitution of oil for coal in domestic and industrial use, the mechanization of some of Canada's coal mines and also that the lumber industry, particularly in the East, is operating considerably below normal levels. Mr. Gregg claimed that very few skilled workers are without work today. Most of the unemployed are unskilled. He pointed out that, wherever worker are willing to enter other fields of employment, the department of labor, in co-operation with the provincial governments, is prepared to help them acquire greater skills under the Canadian vocational training program.

Clarey Gillis said that the government had received plenty of warning that unemployment would be with us this year and yet they had not done a thing to protect the workers. He quoted several sources for this assumption admitting that the minister of labor had done his best as far as he was able but, under the economic beliefs of the party in power, no permanent solution can be found. Mr. Poulior, contributed his observations to the debate by placing the blame on organized labor and their demands for higher pay. Other speakers reasoned that both labor and management were jointly to blame for past labor troubles.

The debate disclosed clearly that Canada has become very dependent on world markets as a whole for her prosperity. Evidence was produced to show that the same world market is gradually shrinking, as far as Canada is concerned, owing to keen competition.

PRECIOUS HERITAGE

Half a lifetime of residence in one locality engenders in one's mind and heart, a possessive, feeling concerning the dignity and well-being of his home town.

Fore-runners of the present population coming from beyond the eastern mountain range, described the beauties of our unique Okanagan Valley, and decided that beside our lake of inestimable beauty, they would build a home, not only for themselves, but also for succeeding generations to add to and improve.

This land of eternal summer bore naturally its own name. Citizens having a burning sense of loyalty for a beloved homeland deeply resent a caricaturing of the descriptive appellation—Summerland.

Beauty needs no adornment; yet, as a Queen's diadem, Madame's Pearls, or a maiden's engagement diamond, enhance the wearer's charm. Will our completed city, placed farwise in scintillating grandeur on our incomparable shores, add that intangible 'Aura' to existing glory?

Eulogies to worthy pioneers lack sincerity when integrity of purpose no longer dominates the thoughts and actions of succeeding generations. Those men of long ago put "Summerland" on the map. It should be our aim to keep it there.

Other cities dwell beside the "Lake". These may be described as "Pretty", "Utilitarian", "Large" or "Small". But none have inherited the dream of future greatness.

Let us remember the prophecy—Kelowna was, Penticton is, but Summerland will be, the greatest city of the three—and keep the name intact. "AUNT BEE"

Mid-Week Message

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near. (Isaiah 55:6) Read Isaiah 55:6-11 or II Corinthians 6:1-10.

In this year of world-wide evangelism, it is encouraging to review some experiences in the beginnings of the Christian movement in other lands. About sixty years ago Korea was deeply humiliated by being made a pawn following a terrible war.

In the crisis people turned from their old gods to Christ. Early missionaries were overwhelmed by the responsibilities which they faced. They met for prayer and Bible study for eight days. In response to their appeal, hundreds of Korean Christians covanted to pray an hour daily for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

A few weeks later the power of God was manifest in the Korean Revival in a way seldom seen in Christendom. Christians were witnessing with power. Bible classes increased, churches sprang up faster than they could be cared for, and a new hunger for education brought the establishment of day schools. The Good News was published throughout the land!

PRAYER

We thank Thee, Father, for the leadership given by valiant missionaries of Thy Church. We praise Thee for souls saved through belief in Christ. Make us worthy to share in the fruits of their labors. To Thee be all honor and praise; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

TEEN TOWN

Teen Town is really starting to roll again kids, so do your part and keep it this way. You can show your enthusiasm a little by coming to the big Barn Dance on Saturday Feb. 27, at the Youth Centre. Just wear your old jeans, plaid shirt and swing your partner right over to the Youth Centre.

Remember kids its not up to your council to make this dance a success, it's up to you the teen-agers.

At the time Teen Town is undertaking a very big project—the producing of a play (Safety-First), comedy, under the keen directorship of Mrs. Greer.

Teen Town may also enter a square dance team in the festival at Armstrong if enough teen-agers Live up luncheons with this Tuna Fish Rarebit. A sauce made with evaporated milk enfolds chunks of tuna fish and grated cheese, then is spooned over crisp slices of toast. With fruit for dessert and milk for a beverage, this makes a tasty hurry-up meal.

Tuna Fish Rarebit—One (7 ounce) can tuna fish, flaked; 4 tbsps flour; 4 tbsps butter; 1 cup evaporated milk; 1 cup water; 1 cup grated Canadian cheddar cheese; ½ tsp. pepper; ½ tsp. salt; 6 tsp. Worcestershire sauce; 6 broiled mushrooms (optional); 6 slices toast.

Blend flour with melted butter in top of double boiler. When bubbly add evaporated milk and water. Stir constantly until sauce is thickened and smooth. Add cheese and seasonings and cook over low heat until cheese melts. Add tuna fish and heat over hot water while making the toast. Heap the hot mixture on slices of toast and garnish with a whole broiled mushroom, a slice of tomato or a sprinkling of paprika. Makes 6 servings.

Clever Cooking . . .

The other day, a home economist was asked to speak to a group of young men and women who were interested in science. They asked her to speak for 30 minutes on the topic, "Food Through Science". After considering the topic, she realized that it was too broad a subject to cover in the time allotted, so she decided to discuss one phase of "Food Through Science" and that was the "Preservation of Food by Freezing".

Actually, science enters into so many phases of food production—through science it has been discovered that special chemicals added to the soil will increase the quantity and quality of food production; special food rations given to animals and poultry will improve their stature and certain chemicals will destroy the insects which attack all forms of food life. Undeniably, years ago the greatest single advance as far as food was concerned was the preservation of food by canning, but to the present generation, the advent of the preservation of food by freezing stands out as just as great an advance. Of course, the freezing of food is not actually new for we know that in early times, meat and poultry were kept during the winter by freezing them out-of-doors. But the freezing of food on a commercial basis is a development of fairly recent years.

The first attempts at commercial freezing were not entirely successful, but thanks to much experimentation by food scientists, a large number of frozen foods now appear in Canadian shops. And of that large number, probably the most popular frozen food is frozen peas. Because it is important that you read and understand the labels on the frozen food you buy, imagine that you have a package of frozen peas in your hand. You would notice that the label gives the name "Frozen Peas" and below, the name of the grade "Fancy" Quality or perhaps "Choice" Quality. That means that the peas have been graded according to the standards stated in the processed fruit and vegetable regulations. The standards state that fancy quality peas must be very young and tender, and practically free of loose skins or peas which have splits. They must be uniform in color and they should not be shrivelled. In other words, they must be frozen at just the right stage of maturity and they must be carefully processed and packed. Choice quality peas must be up to the same standard except that they are 90 per cent free from loose skins and splits and 80 per cent uniform in color and maturity. If they are graded for size, they are marked as No. 1s, which are the small peas, No. 2s, or No. 3s.

Next time you are near a frozen food counter and you pick up a package of frozen peas or for that matter, any frozen fruit or vegetable, read the label carefully.

Health Insurance Widely Accepted

It is truly a remarkable story of progress which the Joint Committee on Health Insurance tells in its just-off-the-press booklet "Financing Health Services in Canada".

Five and one-half million Canadians have insured themselves against the burden of hospital costs. Nearly four million have purchased surgical expense insurance. About three million have paid for the newest form of protection—medical expense insurance.

In the six provinces where no government hospital plan is in operation, one out of two persons has voluntarily selected his own plan of hospital expense protection.

Another striking fact is that nearly all of the growth in these forms of coverage has taken place since the early 1940's. Moreover, the phenomenal expansion is continuing and each year there is a significant increase in the number of Canadians with some form of health insurance.

Insurance companies, Blue Cross plans, and medical care plans sponsored by the medical profession have been the leaders in providing Canadians with protection against the financial hazards of accident and sickness.

In addition to the freedom from worry and sense of security enjoyed by Canadians who have purchased this protection for themselves and their families, there has been no change in their traditional relationships with their doctors and hospitals.

A CCF SOCIALIST SPEAKS . . .

Communism, Socialism, Same-Young

"There is no difference between theoretical Communism and Socialism," CCF party member Rod Young told UBC students Wednesday.
Sponsored by the campus CCF club, Young spoke to an audience of more than 75 on "The Difference between Communism and the CCF."
Young said that "the problem is not to show that the CCF is different from the Communists, but that it is different from Liberalism."
But the Vancouver lawyer didn't fail to score the Communists. "Communists in this country represent the most ignorant and backward sections of the working class," he said. "They are without principles and without their own government."

If you are one of many British Columbians who think there's no real similarity between Socialism and Communism this frank statement by a Vancouver Socialist (CCF) former member of Parliament will warrant your thoughtful attention.

British Columbians consistently have turned thumbs down on both Socialist and Communist efforts to take over the running of this province. A deep public instinct for freedom, a fear of government-run-everything, undoubtedly is the greatest obstacle the Marxists have to overcome in their bid for power in B.C.

Entertains Family To Mark Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Broderick entertained at a family party on Feb. 14 to honor Mr. Broderick's father, George Broderick of Penticton, on the occasion of his 91st birthday. Members of the family came from as far as Vancouver Island to join in the happy celebration and 21 were seated for dinner. Among those present were three of four children, 10 of his 12 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Surprise Party Honors Couple On 25th Wedding Anniversary

A surprise party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Verrier on their Silver Wedding Anniversary was given by their daughters, Mildred and Phyllis Verrier, in the IOOF hall on Feb. 20.

The honored couple were greeted at the door by shouts of "surprise" mingling with the strains of the wedding march.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by many friends and relatives from here and out of town who were on hand to help this well-known couple celebrate this happy occasion.

Mr. Verrier who had been in Canada for nine years previous to his marriage, went to England, returning with his bride the same year. They were married in Bath Somerset, England, by Rev. Warren on Feb. 20, 1929.

The first part of the evening was spent in dancing to the delightful music of Freeman Reed's orchestra. During intermission the happy couple opened their many lovely gifts which were placed on a table around a beautifully decorated three-tier cake. F. Morrow, acting as toastmaster, proposed a toast to which Mr. Verrier responded. A lovely lunch was served, followed by a sing song with Kay Agur at the piano. Dancing was then resumed.

Of the 85 guests attending those from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Mitchell and Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bradbury from Peachland, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Verrier and Norman, Miss Shirley Rozander, Mr. and Mrs. McLellan, Johnny and Peggy, Mr. and Mrs. Fucco, Mr. Harvey Dunne of Penticton; Elmer Keller of Oliver, and Pat Morris of New Westminster.

Mr. Morrow acted as floor manager as well as toastmaster.

Those assisting were Shirley McAdam, Rose Harrison, Myrtle Harbicht, Doreen Kilback, Pat Morris and Elmer Keller.

Rev. A. F. Irving Speaker . . .

Local Temperance Groups Combine To Hear Reports on Activities

A joint meeting of the Frances Willard Union of Trout Creek and the Summerland WCTU was held at the home of Mrs. H. Milne with 26 members present. Rev. A. F. Irving of the Church of God brought a devotional message.

Basing his message on Paul's defense before Agrippa Mr. Irving spoke of the secrets of Paul's successful Christian life and stated that our desire for such could be brought about by prayer, faith, vision and obedience. He said that the early women of the WCTU had vision and so the work grew and pressed on in spite of the difficulties. Through prayer, faith and vision the work he said will continue to grow. Mrs. W. Davies and Mrs. W. King of Trout Creek sang a duet "In the Garden" accompanied by Mrs. V. B. Durnin.

Mrs. E. Deringer of Trout Creek read a letter stressing the desirability of greater co-operation between church missionary societies and the WCTU. Almost every member of the WCTU is a member of a missionary society of some church. The aim should be, she said, to have every member of the missionary societies a member of the WCTU.

Mrs. Blake Milne gave a report of a meeting sponsored by the alcohol research and educational council at which Mr. Cowley the provincial secretary spoke. He reported on the work he is doing in the high schools and that he is giving a course of several weeks in some schools on alcohol education.

Mrs. Deringer brought some very interesting facts about the early years of the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and their trials and triumphs were cleverly depicted in a poem. She stated that Francis Willard started the quarterly temperance lessons which still continue in the international Sunday school lessons.

Mrs. Percy Miller brought highlights of the history of the WCTU in B.C. Miss Willard, 70 years ago, was the first woman allowed in a pulpit in B.C. She initiated the noontide prayer time and Mrs. Miller reminded the ladies to continue this practice.

Mrs. W. King then led in the reading of a clip sheet which also dealt with the early days of the WCTU and gave many interesting events and achievements.

Refreshments were served by ladies of the Summerland union.

Community Concert Group Enrollment To Be Held in May

Following an executive meeting of the South Okanagan Community Concerts Association last Friday evening, it was announced that the 1954-55 membership campaign will be held the week of May 17 to 22 inclusive.

Present members will be able to renew their subscriptions at that time, and new subscribers will be accepted up to a full membership total not exceeding the seating capacity of the Penticton High School Auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Milne are in Vancouver this week where Mr. Milne will attend the cannery conference. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Don Clark and two children.

Among those attending the cannery conference in Vancouver this week are R. J. Barkwill, Robert Barkwill, Howard Milne and Ryan Lawley.

Among the speakers at the conference will be Dr. H. R. McLarty.

Complains Culvert Flooding Property

Indignant letter from Mrs. Frank Brake regarding condition of a culvert near her home was read Friday to council meeting. Mrs. Brake stated she has asked several times by telephone and letter that the culvert be cleaned out because water floods over her property but no action has been taken.

Unless something is done, the writer threatened to divert the water down the main street of Summerland Lakeside and suggested speedy action would result in the merchants in that area were all flooded.

Roads Committee Chairman Councillor Stuart was instructed to have the road crew clean out the culvert and a possible permanent solution to the problem.

Speaking Finals Tomorrow Night

Miss Frances Atkinson tomorrow night, will appear in the cafeteria of the Penticton High School representing Summerland in the finals of the speaking competition being sponsored by Oddfellows. She will vie with three other teenagers from southern valley points for the right to represent this district on a youth pilgrimage to New York and the United Nations Headquarters.

Topic on which the contestants will speak will be "What I Hope to Gain from Attending the Youth Pilgrimage to the United Nations in New York."

A large number of Summerland residents is expected to be on hand to support their youthful representative. Frances is the daughter of Reeve and Mrs. F. E. Atkinson.

Also appearing on the program from Summerland will be the high school orchestra with 30 pieces under direction of John Tamblin.

Oliver, Penticton and Princeton will be represented by the other three contestants and three adjudicators from centres in the northern part of the valley will make the final selection.

The tour to New York will last for one month and eight candidates will represent British Columbia.

Warm Personality of Artist Adds To Enjoyment of Concert Program

Herman Godes is an outstanding piano virtuoso and coupled with that ability he has a warmth of personality which makes him popular with an audience before he even strikes a note of music. His informal commentaries on his program selections and why they were chosen for his concert gave listeners a sense of intimacy with the artist and added immeasurably to the enjoyment of his program.

The Latvian pianist whose popularity has been rapidly spreading since he came to America a few years ago appeared Monday night in Pentiction High School in the third of the Community Concert Series.

The three part program was followed by a group of four encores and for these selections he chose "pops" which served to give even better balance to a program which seemed up until that time to have achieved perfection in balance.

He opened with Bach's Organ Prelude and Fugue in D major, explaining that while many critics were opposed to Bach's organ composition being arranged for piano on the grounds that he has written ample music for piano, the modern piano did not exist at that time and the reason many of his works were written for organ were that scope of the piano was too limited.

Next came four parts of Beethoven's Sonata quasi una Fantasia, which he described as the "step-sister" of the Moonlight Sonata because it has been so neglected.

He expressed belief it would be just as well liked and he was right. In the second part of the concert he grouped Chopin works Fantaisie in F minor, two Etudes from Opus 25, Nocturne in C minor and Polonaise in A flat major.

The third portion contained Allegro barbaro, Bagatelle and Valse by Bartok; Danse-Tarantelle by Debussy, Ondine by Ravel and Capriccio by Dohnanyi.

His encores were Debussy's Clair de Lune, the Golliwog's Cakewalk, Chopin Minute Waltz and a Shostakovich polka.

Attending Resources Meeting at Coast

In Victoria this week to attend the Natural Resources Conference are Dr. T. H. Anstey, Dr. J. C. Wilcox and A. J. Mann. One of the interesting features of the program will be a panel of six speakers outlining development of the Oliver-Osoyos area as an agricultural area. Dr. Wilcox and Mr. Mann will both be speakers on this panel.

While in Victoria, Dr. Wilcox will also confer with BCHIS officials on Summerland Hospital affairs.

The greatest known collection of dinosaur skeletons in the world have been found in the 1,800-acre Alberta provincial park, Bad Lands Reserve.

DR. R. J. GULLISON

Here tonight in the Summerland Baptist Church will be Dr. Ben Gullison, noted medical missionary to India who will talk on his work in that field. Dr. Gullison has specialized in the treatment of leprosy and his talk will be illustrated by colored slides. Among other accomplishments, he is also a photographer of exceptional ability.

Players to Repeat Popular Comedy

One more success was added to the laurel crown of Summerland Singers and Players last Friday night with an exceptionally fine production of the delightful English comedy "The Chiltern Hundreds".

Although attendance was not up to par, fault lay in too many other affairs competing for attendance that night and not with the drawing power of the players. In response to demand of many who were unable to attend last Friday, the club has consented to give a repeat performance of the show on Wednesday evening, March 10.

Job of casting reflected credit on director Mrs. A. K. Macleod and performers slipped easily into their appointed roles.

Probably the most delightful characterization of all was that of Mrs. Lorne Perry who in one of the lesser parts as the maid turned in an outstanding performance.

Allan McKenzie and Mrs. R. Russell filled the roles as the Count and Countess of Lister while son Lord Pym who ran into difficulties in two attempts at the polls was handled by Charles Rennie. In the part of the butler-turned-politician-turned-butler was Clarke Wilkin. Role of an American visitor was handled by Doreen Kilback while Mrs. J. F. O'Leary took the part of Lady Caroline Smith and Frank Plunkett as Laborite Cleghorn.

An excellent job on make-up was performed by Mrs. C. F. M. Guernsey and Mrs. I. H. Solly. Creation of scenery was under direction of Stan Gladwell. Stage manager was Alan Butler and lighting was handled by Tom Paul and Richard Blewett. In charge of business arrangements were Charles Rennie and Mrs. Alvin D. Gatley.

Town Planner Advises Cost For Services

In reply to a request for information regarding cost of professional advice on town planning was received by council Friday from Peter Oberlander, town planning expert on the staff of UBC.

Mr. Oberlander stated his fee would be $85 per day plus traveling and living expenses.

Councillor Barkwill is in Vancouver this week and will meet with the planning adviser and discuss with him Summerland problems.

Study International Trade Relations

Lack of clarification of the United States' farm policy and especially of the means that will be employed by that country in the disposal of its agricultural surpluses, are today matters of grave concern to the agricultural nations of the world, particularly the North American neighbors of the United States.

Feeling that this matter is not the responsibility of governments alone, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture took the initiative in asking the International Federation of Agricultural Producers to call a regional meeting of farm leaders of the United States, Canada and Mexico, and their request culminated in the meeting under the sponsorship of IFAP in Washington, DC, this week.

British Columbia was represented at this meeting by Charles E. S. Walls, secretary-manager of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture.

Questions discussed included the disposal of surpluses in a manner which will not interfere with the normal flow of trade in these commodities, yet keeping in mind responsibility to the hungry peoples of the world, and an attempt was made to obtain a better understanding within the farm family itself of the import quotas and tariffs which are being utilized and considered to an increasing extent by various groups in the United States at the present time.

Mr. Walls attended this meeting after taking part in the annual presentation of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to the Federal cabinet at Ottawa last Friday.

The Summerland Review THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1954

Will Offer Protection To Outside Points

Federal government installations adjacent to the municipality of Summerland will be able to have protection of the local volunteer fire brigade if the government is willing to pay a yearly fee.

Councillor Francis Stuart told the council meeting Friday he had discussed a proposal with members of the brigade which they had agreed would be acceptable. Proposal is that the Experimental station pay $300 a year and the pathological laboratory and entomological laboratory each $150 and the volunteers will be willing to answer calls to fires at any of those locations.

The plan will now be presented to the three government agencies to see if they are willing to pay the assessment for fire protection.

If it is accepted, it will be on the understanding that if a fire should occur within the municipality at the same time the brigade will have to leave to attend the other fire.

A FADING MENACE

Tuberculosis used to be the deadly killer that, once it had struck, left little hope of recovery. Today tuberculosis can nearly always be cured, particularly if it is discovered in an early stage. The time to detect TB is before outward symptoms are visible. The way to do this is by chest x-ray. Have one today.

Will Ask for Tenders On Municipal Land

Following a report by Councillor Barkwill, municipal council Friday withheld action on an offer by A. A. Fenwick to purchase a three and three-quarter acres of municipal land adjoining his property in Trout Creek Canyon. Mr. Fenwick's offer for the property was $200.

Councillor Barkwill, chairman of the real estate committee, said the property could be sub-divided into some very fine building lots and expressed doubt if the offer represented a fair price for the land.

The council decided to advertise for bids for the property.

?? ? TAX CORNER

Where Do I Go From Here?

BAD DEBTS

Q The greater part of the Sales in my Country General Store are credit sales and my records are kept on an accrual basis. What allowance may I claim for bad debts in preparing my Income Tax Returns?

A The Income Tax Act provides for a deduction for credit losses in two ways:

- (a) A direct deduction for debts which have become bad in that year. Debts previously written off and now recovered must be included as income.
- (b) A reasonable reserve for doubtful Accounts. Such reserve must be re-appraised each year and the resultant adjustment reflected in your taxable income for that year.

EXEMPTION FOR SUPPORT OF MOTHER

Q I am single with no dependents other than my mother who resides in Ontario. I am her sole source of support and forward her funds regularly. The $400.00 exemption for support of a dependent is inadequate. Can I not claim married status?

A Yes, you are entitled to an exemption of $2,000.00 providing you maintain your mother in what the Income Tax Act terms a "self contained domestic establishment," i.e., a dwelling house or apartment in which a person sleeps and eats.

If you have a personal Tax problem you are invited to contact

A B of M Farm Loan May Help Buy Both Even the best orchardist can sometimes find himself short of ready cash to finance improvements needed to increase the yield of his land, or to modernize his home. When this happens a Bank of Montreal Farm Loan is usually the sound answer.

B of M Farm Loans are available for many purposes. These include the purchase and installation of Sprinkler Systems; purchase of Tractors, Sprayers and other Orchard Machinery; and for the Home, purchase of Refrigerators, Freezers, Electric Ranges and Bathroom Fixtures. The low interest charges are usually covered by savings made through paying cash for goods. Repayment can be arranged for the time when crop payments are greatest.

If you can profit from a Farm Loan, call in for a confidential chat with Ivor Solly, manager of the West Summerland Bank of Montreal. He'll gladly help you in every way he can. And remember, when you ask for a B of M Farm Loan, you are not asking a favor—it's a business deal for both of you.

Late winter vacations are becoming "a must" with many Canadians who wish to escape the bitter cold of late winter or the slushy snows of early spring. A direct service is being operated by CP Airlines from Vancouver to Mexico City puts that charming latin land within 10 hours of Canada. Equally quick flights by giant new DC-6B aircraft also put the alluring Hawaiian Islands within easy reach. Special tours in Mexico have been arranged including visits to famed Acapulco (upper right), America's own Riviera, where native divers defy death daily (see circle) plunging from towering heights into the broiling waters of the Pacific. At Mexico City visits to the new University, library of which is shown here (lower left), and to the famed "floating gardens" are musts for vacationists. Sunbathed Hawaii offers, among many other attractions, Diamond Head and one of the world's best-known beaches, Waikiki (lower right).

High Lime Content In Okanagan Soil

By J. L. Mason
Plant Nutrition Department
Experimental Station, Summerland
The soils of the southern interior of B.C. are different from many of the world's soils because they were formed under very low rainfall. Most soils lose their lime by leaching during thousands of years of heavy rainfall. The interior soils however, have had very little rain, and so have retained their natural lime. The rainfall has not been heavy enough to move the lime down more than a foot or two in heavy soils, and in many soils a lime-layer can be seen in the road-cuts.

Since the interior was developed for agriculture around the end of the century, many of these soils have been irrigated. Strange as it may seem, the irrigation water carries substantial quantities of lime in solution. According to analyses made by the Summerland Experimental Station, Okanagan Valley irrigation waters contain from 40 to 350 pounds of lime in each acre-foot. The average is 150 pounds per acre-foot. A farmer using three feet of water per year actually applies from 120 to 1050 pounds of lime per acre in the water.

These amounts of lime applied in the irrigation water satisfy all normal lime requirements of interior soils. It is unnecessary for farmers to apply lime to soils of the southern interior of B.C., except in a very few special cases on some coarse sandy and gravelly soils.

Farmers who feel that their soil needs lime can have their soil tested at the Soils section, B.C. Department of Agriculture, Kelowna, B.C. A test can frequently save money spent on unneeded lime. A phone call to your local District Horticulturist or District Agriculturist will bring you information on how to take a soils sample.

Lime content per acre foot of water at several locations, taken in 1947, showed:

petition being offered by the lower standard of some of the competitive countries such as Japan, Italy, and Germany. On the other hand, there are signs that we are approaching an understanding with our old and valuable market in the United Kingdom when, this week, it has been announced that they are purchasing $5 million worth of our canned salmon and talks are proceeding between the United Kingdom and Canada regarding further sales of Canadian commodities which, I hope, will include fruit.

The commons paid a well-deserved tribute to the memory of Agnes Macphail who passed away last week. Miss Macphail had the distinction of being the first woman member of the federal parliament as well as in the Ontario provincial government. Tributes were paid by Mrs. Ellen Fairclough for the Conservatives, the Hon. W. E. Harris for the Liberals, and M. J. Caldwell for the CCF.

When she first entered the house in 1921, Miss Macphail represented the United Farmers of Ontario, and, later on, when the CCF became a national party she joined them and represented them in parliament making a distinguished contribution to the welfare of Canada.

Former Resident Wed In Vancouver

Wedding of much interest to life-long friends in Summerland took place at Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, on Saturday when former resident Marcia Carol Harvey repeated vows with Ross Gordon Marks.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. H. W. Harvey of South Burnaby and the late Mr. Harvey who for many years prior to his death was engaged in the lumber business in Summerland.

The bride was given in marriage by C. H. Elsey of Summerland, former business partner of her father.

Bridesmaid was Miss Valerie Tingley of Summerland.

The justweds will make their home at 100-Mile House following a wedding trip in Colorado and Eastern Canada.

The bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin in the Florentine mode with portrait neckline draped softly at the shoulders. From a tight fitted bodice the skirt fell gracefully to reveal flounces of ruffled lace at the back. Her veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a pearl tiara.

Rapture roses and white freesia formed the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Frank Parker attended her sister as matron of honor, wearing a ballerina-length dress of blue net with pointed lace overskirt and lace bolero.

She wore a headdress of pale yellow carnations and carried daffodils.

The bridesmaid wore a yellow dress of nylon net with long-sleeved bolero and skirt top of lace. Her bouquet and headdress were similar to those of the matron-of-honor.

David Oshaneck was best man and H. C. Cowley was usher.

Miss Yvonne Oshaneck was soloist and T. Jenkins was organist.

At the reception Lord Martin Cecil gave the bridal toast.

Elect John Caldwell Credit Union President

Meeting for the first time since the election of new members at the annual meeting, board of directors of the Summerland Credit Union last Thursday night chose John Caldwell as their new president.

Retiring president Gordon Beggs was chosen to act as vice-president.

Fourteen persons lost their lives in one of the Province of Quebec's worst highway disasters when this bus travelling to Three Rivers crashed into a trailer-truck at Yamachiche and immediately burst into flames. The mishap occurred late the night of Jan. 30 when most of the passengers were either asleep or dozing and had no advance warning of the tragedy. Both drivers and eight of the 23 passengers escaped death. The above photo shows the damage suffered by the bus after it was towed to Three Rivers.

BALANCED POWER Pontiac engines... both the 6 and 8... are famous throughout the automotive industry for the right balance of powerful performance and unsurpassed dependability. And this year, with the introduction of new engineering advancements into Pontiac's time-proven engines, these brilliant power plants combine surging power with new economy.

QUIET PERFORMANCE Quietness is a true test of quality in automobiles. Drive a Pontiac yourself and hear how its flashing power is delivered in a low purr. And the insulation of Pontiac's Body by Fisher helps to keep the interior quiet by muffling outside noises. As a result you enjoy the quiet ride which distinguishes a truly fine car.

COMPLETE DEPENDABILITY Building dependability into a car is a matter of exhaustive tests and experience. But a car earns its reputation for dependability through the praise of satisfied owners. And Pontiac is synonymous with trouble-free operation. No other low-priced car has merited the same degree of confidence among owners.

LUXURIOUS COMFORT From the first glance, you will know that Pontiac is the car to satisfy your taste for luxury and comfort. In breathtaking colors, fine appointments and sparkling richness—Pontiac rivals the opulence of cars in the high-priced field. Never before has such outright luxurious automotive comfort been so economical.

BIG CAR PRESTIGE Pontiac is the low-priced car with the highest social acceptance. Costing no more than competitive makes, Pontiac has gained the reputation of being far superior from every viewpoint. And never has Pontiac earned its reputation as a "prestige car" so fully, as in this year's 31 brilliant models in six great series.

Girls Tied For First Summerland Hoopsters Win Two Games From Keremeos Senior Teams

Summerland's Rockettes and Rockets high school senior teams won close decisions last Friday, Feb. 18 in Keremeos. The win for the Rockettes moved them into a first place tie with the Similkameen lassies.

The girls' contest was close most of the way, with the local girls scoring 13 points in the third quarter to give them a big enough edge to put the game on ice. They won 28-24. In the other quarters, Keremeos outscored the locals 7-5, 5-4 and 8-5.

Fouls were plentiful, Rockettes having 16 to Keremeos' 11. Summerland scored 8 of their shots via the free shot route, with the Keremeos girls getting only 2. The weakness of the opposition, in the scoring of free shots, was their downfall, especially in the final quarter when the Rockettes had 5 personal fouls called against them. The close checking game saw Irene Menu net 8 points to lead the local girls.

M. Van Santen with 11 and P. Shmunk with 10 were major scorers for Keremeos.

Special mention is due to Irene Menu for her snagging of rebounds and to Doreen Fleming and Pearl Hooker for their close checking.

The local girls enter playoffs this week-end in either Penticton or Keremeos.

Individual scoring:
 Summerland—V. Higgs 2, L. Youngusband 9, R. Parker 2, J. Fohlmann, R. Lawley, A. Davis 15, F. Lauer, A. Cornish 3, D. Gilbert 3—34.
 Keremeos: D. Schmunk 13, T. McLaren 8, H. Beale 5, B. Pleroy 1, E. Bradley 2, J. Dore 2, J. Code 2, G. Clark, G. Townsend—33.

G'men Take 6-1 Win...

Commercial Hockey Loop Playoffs Slated to Open Sunday Afternoon

With the league leadership securely in their grasp, Summerland last Sunday coasted through the final game of the Commercial League series and gave Garagemen a 6-1 win to put the latter into second place for the season play.

Garagemen clung to cellar position throughout the schedule and a few weeks ago started their unrelenting climb in the standings. Last week they were tied with Merchants for second place but gained clear title to the position when Merchants Sunday were thrown for a 5-4 loss by the Contractors.

All four teams of the league will participate in the playoffs which will get under way on Sunday. Summerland will meet Contractors in the first round with Garagemen matched against Merchants. Semi-finals will be best-of-three while finals will be best-of-five.

For a long time Sunday it looked as though the mechanics might register a shut-out over the locals and racked up their six tallies before Dick Steinger broke away at the halfway mark in the final frame to drive home Summerland's lone counter.

Garagemen nalled one goal in the first, two in the second and three more in the first half of the third.

An unidentified boxer dog, rallied to the aid of Golden Gloves boxer Jimmy Hager, 17, who was taking a mandatory eight-count at a Lexington, Ky., show. The dog jumped from the audience and tried to scramble under the ropes when Hager was knocked down. Referee Varney stopped the dog and an unidentified fan scooped him from the ring and left.

Win First Tilt In Coy Cup Series

Summerland Coy Cup hopefuls moved out in front in their Okanagan series with Vernon when they took their first game in Vernon last night 4-1.

The locals have their line-up bolstered by three Pentiction players, goal tender Don Moog, and defencemen Lloyd Gilmore and Roy Mascotto.

First period ended with Vernon holding a 1-0 lead on the strength of a tally by Sammartino. Summerland squad came to life during the next two frames and Fred Kato, Geordie Taylor, Billy Eyre and Rocky Richardson all managed to bend the twine while holding the northern players from drawing any more blood.

Second tilt in the series will be Tuesday night at Pentiction.

Okanagan Players In Canadian Matches

This week in Vancouver, the Canadian badminton championships are being held at the Vancouver Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club.

The Canadian Junior Championships are being held at the same time and are for singles events only. Three of B.C.'s eight representatives are from the Okanagan, Joan Van Ackeren, Joan Motowilo and Aiden Spiller. Okanagan badminton players will look with interest at the results of this year's Canadian championships, to see how these young Kelowna players make out.
