Clever Cooking . . .

Best time to make pickles is from mid August to early September. So here are some pickle pointers on what you need to buy for them.

Granted, pickles may not add much to our meals as far as food value is concerned but they do add new interest and flavor, and certainly the small amount of effort used in making them is well worth the satisfaction we gain from eating them. So now is the time for us to check our pickle-making supplies.

The first subject is spices. If you have some left over from last year make sure they have a good strong aroma because spices lose their aroma and strength very easily and only fresh pungent spices can do a really good job. Any combination of spices may be used but caution is necessary because too much pice may give a bitter flavor or a dark color. A homemaker can develop her own special recipes by selecting and blending spices which suit her own individual taste and using them in a basic recipe. But here again—she should be sure that they are fresh.

And now a bit about vinegar—for most pickles blended vinegar is recommended. It is a combination of two kinds of vinegar, usually cider and white, and the blended flavors are very pleasing. Many stores sell blended vinegar at pickling time, but if it is not available at your grocer's it can easily be made by mixing equal parts of the white and cider. Of course white vinegar is preferred when making light colored pickles such as onions and cauliflower.

Sugar is used in nearly all pickles—if too much is added or if too much is added too quickly, the pickles will shrivel—so here again caution is necessary. As for salt, it used to be that when making pickles we had to be sure to use pure coarse salt rather than iodized salt. Ever since it became law in Canada that all free running or regular table salt must be iodized a great deal of research on the use of iodized and non-iodized salt in pickles has been done. This work on the use of salt in pickles is now completed and the results show that either iodized or non-iodized salt may be used with equal success in pickles.

Homemade pickles add much to eating satisfaction but actually there is more to pickle making than that. It is a lot of fun making pickles. You can also get a great personal satisfaction out of making your own pickles and having them right on the shelf ready to serve with certain foods. And think of how proud you can be of rows of jars of colorful pickles. By the way a jar of pickles makes a welcome gift at any time.

People often inquire during pickling season whether you can make pickles in aluminum saucepans, certainly aluminum can be used and enamel or stainless steel are also good. But since vinegar and salt react with iron, copper or brass to cause discoloration they should not be used. The Consumer section has a booklet "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables" it has a lot of very good pickle recipes in it so if you do not have a copy write now to the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa and ask for a free copy. But as well as the excellent recipes in the booklet the home economists have a small folder with additional pickle recipes entitled "Conserves, Pickles and Relishes". A free copy of this leaflet can be obtained by writing to the same address, the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Now to get back to the pickle pointers—some pickles must be sealed air-tight for instance tomato chili sauce, and sweet relishes. With these pickles they must be packed hot in sterilized jars and then completely sealed. Other pickles may be kept in clean crocks or jars. If kept in crocks the pickles should be well covered with a vinegar solution and a plate or board should be placed on top of the pickles as a weight to keep them under the solution.

The last point about pickle making has to do with the raw ingredients—the vegetables and fruits you use. The finished product can be only as good as the raw product from which it is made so choose firm, fresh vegetables and fruits for pickling. Be sure that they are not bruised. Choose vegetables and fruits that are well shaped, if you plan to make whole pickles. Be sure that they are not over mature.

Precision flying in formation is being demonstrated by a jet cavalcade now touring Western Canada. Fifteen jets, including CF-100's Sabres and T-33's, are in the demonstration, which will be seen by an estimated 2,500,000 persons across Canada. Pilots of the planes, most of them married men with families, say they have a safe job and the only time their wives worry about them is when they are driving a car on a crowded highway. Five of the pilot group shown here are: F-L. D. Payne; S-L. L. Hill; F-L. A. Bowman; F-O. J. Seaman, and F-L. R. Scott.

Legion Zone Meeting Here In November

Several delegates from the Summerland Branch were in attendance at the South Okanagan and Similkameen zone meeting of the Canadian Legion held August 29 at Princeton.

Heard by the meeting was a complete report of the dominion convention given by zone delegate J. Young.

Topics under discussion were a graduated scale of widow's pensions for those not at present qualified; war veterans' allowance; medical benefits for veterans' wives; land benefits and allowances for veterans and educational benefits.

Next meeting of the zone will be in Summerland on Nov. 28.

Back Here to Live After 40 Years

A 40 year hankering to return to Summerland became a reality for Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dinning this past month when they purchased the home of Rolph Pretty at Trout Creek and took up residence.

Mr. Dinning first came to Summerland in 1911 when he opened the Eastern Townships Bank here. This bank shortly after that amalgamated with the Bank of Commerce and Mr. Dinning continued with the latter until his retirement in 1946.

He was stationed at Summerland for about three years and since then has been posted to various places in B.C. and western Canada and was in Winnipeg when he retired. Mr. and Mrs. Dinning moved to Vancouver and have been living there since until last month when they finally satisfied their desire to return to Summerland.

New Missionaries Start on Travels

Travels which later this year will take them to India where they will be engaged in missionary work started yesterday for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knight.

The popular Summerland Baptist Church pastor just completed two years in this charge when he accepted the call to enter the missionary field.

For the next few months he will be on a speaking tour on Vancouver Island and in Vancouver and expects to pay a brief final visit to Summerland when he travels to the Okanagan for engagements in Kelowna and Penticton.

Mr. Knight came to Summerland on graduation from McMaster University and about a year ago was married and brought his wife to Summerland.

They will sail for India on Nov. 15.

Grand slam queen of Canada's feminine golfers, Marlene Stewart now eyes the U.S. amateur crown which will be at stake at Pittsburgh, starting Sept. 13. The Pontiac, Ont., girl recently blasted her way to the Canadian women's open golf title at Dartmouth, N.S., where she also won for the fourth straight close title the week before. It was Marlene's second sweep of the Canadian titles in her career.

Horticultural News Letter

Unfavorable Weather May Result
In Reduced Apple, Pear TonnageSummerland, Westbank and Peachland:

As reported August 24th: Since the issue of our last News Letter the weather has deteriorated and during the past week rain has fallen almost every day. Temperatures have been below normal for this time of year.

The weather picture is most unfavourable for the development of tree fruits and particularly for stone fruit varieties. Most of the Moorpark apricots were picked before the onset of rain but picking of Blenheim and Tilton apricots and Rochester peaches has been seriously hindered. In addition, the main crop of V peaches is ripening very slowly. The cool, cloudy weather seems to have slowed the sizing of pears and may ultimately reduce the tonnage of both pears and apples. European Red Mite has been decreasing in most orchards but Two-spotted Spider Mite, Yellow Mite and Rust Mite are still quite active. Fire Blight and Apple Scab have been given a new impetus by the rainy weather so that an increase in these diseases may be expected in the next few weeks.

Some picking of mature green tomatoes is now in progress at Westbank, but the tomato crop is seriously delayed. A long open fall will be needed if growers are to realize anything from this crop. Penticton, Naramata, Kaleden, Keremeos-Cawston:

As reported August 25th: Unseasonably cold wet weather has prevailed for the past week.

Some Rochester peaches are still coming in, thus extending the Rochester season into the V season which is getting under way. Warmer weather is needed to improve the quality of the peaches and to allow them to move in volume. In addition, the percentage of split stones is much higher this year than normal. Bartlett pears are all so under way this week although maturity is not uniform and sizes are running small in many orchards. Apples appear to have stopped sizing but reasonable sizes, especially of McIntosh and Yellow Newtowns have already been attained for this time of year. McIntosh are taking on colour. Prunes are also taking on colour but a slow constant drop is occurring.

New apple scab infections are becoming increasingly evident, more on foliage than on fruit so far. Outbreaks of fire-blight, while not serious, are more numerous than at any previous time this year. Rust mites are now attacking apple foliage while the green apple aphid is still causing concern and woolly apple aphid infestations are increasing. Grasshoppers and earwigs are fairly general but do not appear to have built up to serious proportions.

Oliver and Osoyoos:
As reported August 20th: Since the last news letter the weather has been mild and cloudy. A little over on half inch of rain has fallen, most of it in the past two days.

The insect problem has eased considerably since the last report. Mites are now causing little serious concern and green apple aphid appears to be subsiding on mature apple trees although they are still active on the young stock. Yellow necked caterpillar is appearing in some areas, particularly on trees where no sprays of DDT have been applied lately, such as cherry and pear. Apple scab has become evident on the last few inches of terminal growth, which has grown since the last spray was applied. The older foliage and the fruit remain clean at the moment. Fire blight has become more noticeable during the past few days, particularly on the sucker growth.

V peach harvest commenced a few days ago with the peak season probably next week. Bartlett harvest started a few days ago with also with the peak of picking this week-end. A few early prunes have been picked, although the bulk of the early crop is yet a few days off.

Kelowna:
As reported August 25th: The weather since the last report has become much cooler with a prolonged showery period occurring from August 18th to 24th. It appears at time of writing that the weather has finally broken and we will get some much needed sunshine.

Bartlett pear harvest will commence late this week. Size is poor on a number of orchards. Boussock pears are now being harvested. Apples of all varieties are sizing well. Apple scab continues to increase in orchards where early season control was not obtained. The grape crop will be very late, probably two to three weeks later than normal.

Onion harvest has started but drier weather is needed for field curing. Celery is moving in volume and the second crop of cauliflower is being harvested. The volume of field tomatoes is increasing. No tomatoes are being canned yet. The cannerly bean crop has been out to 50% by yellow bean mosaic.

Types of Sugar Vary
But They're All Sweet

Right now homemakers are as busy as little squirrels hoarding away our wonderful Canadian fruits for winter. Many kitchen counters are filled with cans or jars of fruit ready for the fruit cellar and those fortunate people who own home freezers have freezers that are almost at the point of overflowing. During the season when everyone is busy with all this canning and freezing, one commodity that we have to be sure to have plenty of, is sugar. Certainly fruit and sugar "go steady" in summer time.

When you stop to think of it do you know much about the sugar industry? Do you know that in Canada we grow enough sugar beets to supply one-fifth of all the sugar we use? The other four-fifths is refined in Canada from imported raw cane.

The refining of sugar did not begin in the world until around the fourteenth century and at the time the refined product was very expensive, so much so, that sugar was only found on the tables of the wealthy. But as the supply of sugar became more plentiful the price declined and now sugar is one of the most commonly used foods. The first refined sugar was made from cane but early in the sixteen hundreds, a Frenchman named Olivier de Serres, made some experiments with beets and wrote "the beet root when boiled yields a juice similar to the syrup of sugar." So the beet sugar industry began and it struggled along in its infant stage until about the time of the Napoleonic Wars. At that time when the British fleet threatened the ports of France, Napoleon ordered that large quantities of sugar beets be produced. The beet sugar industry then started to develop on a large scale. In our country the industry started in the late eighteen hundreds and our first success in the refining of beet sugar began in 1902 at Wallaceburg, Ontario. Naturally other beet sugar factories soon were established and now we have four beet sugar refining companies in Canada—one in Quebec, one in Ontario which has two plants, one in Alberta and the fourth in Manitoba.

There is not much resemblance between the sugar beet and the red beet that we grow in our gardens for the sugar beet is like a giant parsnip weighing from 1½ to 2 pounds. It is planted in the spring or early summer and harvested after the first frost, usually in October.

Scientists tell us that there is no difference in the sweetening power of cane sugar and beet sugar, that both are about 99.9% pure sucrose. Both cane and beet sugar refineries produce granulated sugar, on the sweetening power of an equal amount, say a cup, of the two sugars.

Granulated sugar is what we commonly refer to as just "sugar". It is made of crystals and is produced in three types of crystals which the grocery trade commonly refer to as "coarse", "medium", and "fine" grade sugars. Today most of the sugar produced for consumers is "fine" sugar that is, it has small crystals. According to the sugar companies that is the type consumers want. Naturally the same amount of fine sugar weighs a little more than the coarse grade but this difference is so small that it would have little or no bearing

Have you ever had a cloudiness in the syrup of your canned fruit? This cloudiness is due to air absorption on the surface of the sugar crystals. It can usually be corrected by bringing the syrup to the boiling point. However, there is the odd time when the cloudiness is due to some impurities which have been left in the sugar due to faulty refining. These impurities however, are completely harmless.

Icing sugar is made by pulverizing the crystals of the granulated sugar.

Eagle expert Charles Lavello Broley of Gorrie, Ont., says that the famed birds are dying out in Southern Canada. The trouble is, he says, that during nesting season, the eagle is too often frightened away from the nest and the unhatched eggs perish from cold. Broley is 78, but still climbs 80-foot trees to band young eagles, as shown above, on Whiskey Island, near Brookville, Ont. He has many scars to show of his battles with bald eagles, who when raising their young are tough birds to tackle.

Macs Take Two Matches From Visiting Champs

A stellar Marpole nine, pennant-winners in their coast league, ran into difficulties in Summerland last week-end when the Macs put on two of their brightest performances of the year and smothered the visitors 10-3 on Saturday then took them for 6-3 Sunday afternoon.

On the mound for Macs Saturday afternoon, Alan Hooker allowed only two hits during the seven-innings while his own team registered nine. In the first match, the visitors were playing pretty ragged ball and chalked up seven errors but next day they came back with an almost flawless game containing only a single error.

In the Saturday game, Macs got in their most telling blow in the fifth frame when they rolled up an impressive eight runs off six hits—three of them for extra bases. After Taylor opened the inning with a triple and Kato followed with a double, Bonner was pulled off the Marpole mound and replaced with Smith. The latter fared no better with the local batters getting his measure right from the beginning and tagging him for five more hits in the inning.

In the first frame, Earline, Marpole's lead-off man took a walk and stretched it into a run. Borton balanced the ledger in the second and the third saw scoring honors split with Chicola scoring for the visitors and Eyre tying it up again for Macs.

In the fifth inning rally by the locals, Taylor scored first time up and then accounted for another on the second run through the batting line-up. Other scores were by Kato, Borton, Daryl Weitzel, Seigrist, Bob Weitzel and Billy Eyre.

A final effort was made by Marpole in the sixth when Cooper scored.

BERT BERRY'S Fishing News

Okanagan Lake has been better this last week for all types of fishermen. Trollers are doing OK. Flugs are catching the most fish now. Casting off the rocks is better but no large fish or big catches are being made.

Fish Lake Camp: Fish lake had some nice catches last week of easters on minnows. Upper lakes of this chain all producing well with some nice catches being made.

Headwaters Camp: Nice reports still coming out of here. All types of fishing was successful. Crescent still the best bet here.

Glen Lake: Nice fishing here

'Sportsmen' Pay $1,100 In Fines

Breaches of the game and fish regulations cost seventy-five so-called sportsmen $1,128 in fines and court costs during the month of June, the British Columbia Game Commission reports.

Most of the convictions were obtained against people carrying loaded firearms in vehicles or for being in possession of firearms or fishing tackle without the required licence.

Among the more serious offenders were people who disregarded the guiding regulations and those who evaded payment of the non-resident trophy fees. Trapping beavers out of season and on a trapline not his own brought one offender a sentence of a $100 fine or three months in jail. He chose the prison sentence.

Five juveniles were apprehended while performing illegal acts, four of them for shooting a horse with a .22 rifle. There were eleven confiscations which included furs, firearms and fishing tackle.

One case of a resident keeping a cub bear in captivity brought censure from the game commission. Officials pointed out that the practice of picking up cub bears, fawn deer and other forms of wildlife which are believed lost is far too prevalent.

"People who molest young wildlife are almost always well-meaning people, but if they only knew if they are doing a disservice to the young wild creatures," a spokesman said. It was pointed out that no person may hold any wild creature in captivity without a permit. Such permits are seldom issued because the game commission believes that it is not in the best interests of wildlife if they are taken from natural surroundings.

LABOUR DAY GREETINGS

FROM

THE MINISTER OF LABOUR

On this occasion which honours Labour, I take the opportunity of bringing to you a personal greeting on behalf of your Provincial Government.

Labour Day is one day of the year which has been set aside to honour the people themselves. It is not a day to honour heroes, statesmen or rulers—but it is a day that has been chosen to represent all those who labour, whether they be artisan, tradesman, labourer, production worker or office employee. To all working people, and to all those who help in making the labour force truly great and democratic, are sent greetings and felicitations.

As your Government commences its third year of office in British Columbia we look back over the past and it is with a certain degree of satisfaction and pride that we note the many changes that we have made to assist in bringing industrial peace and harmony to our Province. We fully appreciate the great role that is being played by the workers today in the industrial development of this province. To them, Labour Day is dedicated. To them, this Government offers its congratulations.

Over the past two years changes have been made within the Department of Labour to facilitate the administration of Labour Statutes. These changes have resulted in a more efficient service being offered to the public and a greater degree of competency being obtained in this administration. A most thorough study was made of the statutes and regulations administered by the Department and changes were made to produce legislation which will give to both Labour and Management the help and assistance it requires from time to time in the field of industrial relations.

British Columbia is at present on the verge of a field of undreamed-of expansion. Every day we hear of new developments being planned that will aid this Province to become an area of industrial magnitude. This new future requires and must have every assistance to bring about its realization. Man's ability and perseverance will be taxed to the utmost and no obstacle must be placed in his path. To bring about this realm of prosperity and industrial development adequate legislation designed to assist in the continuous operation of industry and enterprise is essential.

On this Labour Day of 1954 let each of us resolve that he shall do his utmost to aid in this period of industrial development. If this resolution is observed and renewed on each succeeding Labour Day then we shall have within this Province the industrial peace and harmony that we all desire.

Billy Eyre Sunday gave up eight hits to the Marpole batters but sent nine back to the bench swinging. Macs took nine hits off Weir's slants. Each team picked up a run in the first frame with Wood scoring for Marpole and Bob Weitzel for the locals.

In the third the Macs pushed into the lead with another run by Bob Weitzel but Brucker scored for the visitors in the fourth to tie it up again. In the fifth Macs took over the lead when Weeks scored and this time they held it for the rest of the game. Another run was added by Seigrist in the sixth when Beck picked up the third and final run for Marpole in the seventh. In the bottom of the seventh, Taylor pushed Macs into a two run lead and Daryl Weitzel capped it with another in the eighth.

when the fish are in the mood. A fly fishing lake with lots of big ones if you can persuade them. Should improve with cold weather.

Silver Lake: A couple of good reports from here this week. Largest fish landed 17 inches.

Shannon Lake: Nice bass and perch fishing here.

Bear Lake: Fishing has improved here in last week from reports. Up to 2 lbs being landed.

Boleen Lake Camp: Nice reports in from here trolling and fly both successful. Arthur and Spa were best last week.

Reports from the Shuswap Lake indicate it is coming back on now so most of the Kamloops area lakes should be good from now on.

The Summerland Fish and Game Club are asking anyone who is free on Sunday Sept. 12, if they would come up to Shannon Lake and live catch 200 or 300 bass and perch, under D. Hurn of the Fish Hatchery.

These are to be planted at Jowis Lake for additional fishing for children of this district. Anyone who wants to please let me know.

Fewer Bounties Being Claimed

A successful war has been waged by the British Columbia game branch against wolves and coyotes in the past few years according to figures on applications made for the bounties on these animals. A bounty payment of four dollars has been in effect coyote pelt presented at government offices, while a bounty of $25 of $40 has been paid on wolves, the difference in payment varying by districts.

In 1949, bounty was paid on 1,180 wolves. In 1953 this number was reduced to 544 and a saving of $18,000 was effected.

There were 6,847 coyote pelts submitted for bounty in 1949, but in 1953 this number was 4,425 with $10,000 less money being paid out.

The drastic reduction in bounty payments on wolves and coyotes is credited by game branch officials to the use of the poison sodium fluoroacetate, popularly known as 1080 which is highly effective against members of the dog family, while having little effect up on other animals unless taken in extremely large doses.

This poison was used for the first time in British Columbia during the winter of 1950-51 when 100 poison stations were operated. During the winter of 1953-54 almost 2,000 similar stations were used, some of the baits being dropped into inaccessible areas from aircraft.

Extreme precautions are taken in the handling of 1080. Every poison bait is carefully mapped and recorded while government hunters are required to visit all bait sites each spring and destroy by fire all remaining portions of the poisoned meat. The substance is only handled by government officials and is not available to the public. Baits dropped by plane are only placed on large lakes in areas where there are known bands of wolves and coyotes. Lakes chosen are large enough to absorb the poison in the spring thaw.

Game Branch officials confess themselves puzzled at the big jump in coyotes bountied in 1950 (9,822 as compared with an average of about 6,000) and can supply no reason for their apparent abundance during that year.

Dynamite crews blast away thousands of more tons of rock from the face of Niagara Falls as a safety measure. Various sections of the falls' Prospect Point were considered dangerously loosened by the recent collapse of another section of the giant waterfall. This ground level view was made during blasting of Prospect Point. Half of the 2,700-ton chunk or rock rose momentarily and then crashed down to the Niagara river gorge.

A total of 1224 voters turned out for the plebiscite, 61.2 per cent of the 2,001 qualified to cast ballots. The turnout was larger than anticipated with voting taking place on a day when most businesses in the district are closed and in the middle of the picking season.

Needed for approval of any of the four types of licenses was 55 per cent of the valid votes cast on that particular question. This means on the beer parlour question, "Yes" votes needed were 646-72 more than approved this type of licensing.

Even after ballot counting was completed last night, decision of the vote was vague for a time until information was obtained on Summerland Hotels Ltd. promoter Mel Monro today stated that he believed the indication is that the vote would have been favorable if the vote had been held on a day more convenient to a greater number of voters and he will seek another plebiscite at the earliest possible time the act will permit.

New Review Location Later This Month

Opening of Roy's Men's Wear new store in the former post office building last week added another bright note to the fast-changing business district of West Summerland, the facade of the new store being an extension of the new post office front.

Another move scheduled for later this month will be a shift of The Review office and print shop to the quarters recently vacated by Roy's Men's Wear on Hastings Road. It is hoped it will be possible to move The Review printing equipment without interrupting publication schedule.

Owner of the building presently housing The Review, Harry Bradrick states he is undecided on the future of the building and states he may demolish it to make way for a modern building.

Franklyn Young, Toronto aviator, has been awarded the McKee Trans-Canada trophy for 1953, the highest aviation honor in this country. He began flying when he was 17 and now, at 45, is a TCA executive. The award was given for his chairmanship of the National Air Show.

One of Districts' Earliest Settlers Claimed by Death in Kelowna at 93

Death last week covered a link with Summerland's earliest days when Ephraim Arthur Day, who was among the first arrivals here about 1826, passed away in Kelowna. He was 93 years of age.

History of the opening of the Canadian west is the story of Mr. Day's life and he variously engaged in fishing, prospecting, ranching and lumbering.

He came to Summerland from Salt Lake City, Utah, where his father had migrated as one of the original band of Mormons under Brigham Young. He passed through here enroute to the Klondike in search of gold and returned to start ranching on a large section of the area now known as Trout Creek.

About the turn of the century he moved to Kelowna and has lived there since. During his later active business years he was a member of the firm of Kelowna Sawmills. In a period before coming to

Miss F. Howden Chosen President Of National Body

A Summerland resident, Miss Florence Howden, has been chosen president of the Canadian Home Economist Association at the biennial convention just completed at Toronto.

Miss Howden, formerly was a home economics teacher in Penikese and Vancouver, and spends each summer at her cottage at Trout Creek.

About 450 members of the association were in attendance at the convention which was held at the Royal York Hotel.

Miss Howden will hold office until the next convention in Vancouver in 1956. Chosen as vice president was Miss Isabelle Elliott of Vancouver and treasurer is Miss Winnifred Bracher of the school of home economics at UBC.

The association number more than 1,000 members across Canada.

Former Summerland Man To Participate In Science Conference

Dr. G. Boner Sutherland, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sutherland, for many years resident in Summerland, is to be a leading participant in the fifth Alaskan Science Conference to be held in Anchorage this week.

Dr. Sutherland is a chemistry research fellow at California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, and will study the physiological effects of cold, in a program sponsored by the US Air Force.

Dr. Sutherland received his early education in Summerland schools and was graduated from UBC. He is a nephew of Mrs. D. L. Sutherland, Twin Lakes.

Dr. Cyril Woodbridge Accepts Post On Teaching Staff of Washington U

Dr. C. G. Woodbridge, senior chemist at the plant pathology laboratory, Summerland, has accepted the position of associate professor at Washington State College, Pullman, Washington. His resignation, effective Sept. 30, will terminate service with the Canadian department of agriculture at Summerland extending from 1935 to the present, except for five years' military service during World War II.

Since the war Dr. Woodbridge has been in charge of research on physiological disorders of tree fruits and in this field has made important discoveries and developed control measures that have been of great economic value to fruit growers in this area.

His work has been particularly concerned with the disorders that are caused by a deficiency of one or more of the so-called minor elements. One of these disorders, which caused a peculiar color pattern on leaves, he discovered was due to a lack of manganese. He proved that the leaf blotch condition on apples which is so widespread throughout this area was due to a deficiency of magnesium. He demonstrated that a certain tree condition characterized by small yellow leaves and a dying back of twigs was due to a lack of zinc.

He greatly enlarged knowledge on what happens to trees when they lack, or receive an excess of the minor element boron. For each of these he has developed effective control measures.

Being firmly convinced that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure he has developed a formula containing a mixture of very active in the social life of the community. He, with a few colleagues, was instrumental in establishing the Trout Creek Point Community Association, and he served as its first president. He has been most active in veterans' affairs and served for two years as president of the Summerland branch of the Canadian Legion.

Mrs. Woodbridge has also taken an active part in community affairs and is this year president of the Summerland Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary. She will be missed also from musical circles.

This main street of Morrisburg, Ont., will be entirely engulfed when the St. Lawrence power project is completed. Plans submitted to towns that will be submerged have caused a wave of protest. Planners of the St. Lawrence rehabilitation program say they have designed model towns, but the present inhabitants of the areas concerned do not agree.

No Details Yet . . .

U.K. Market for Apples Definitely Open This Year

Long-awaited announcement that the British government will make available dollar exchange for the purchase of Canadian fresh fruit has finally been received, but details regarding the quantity of B.C. apples which will be going to the U.K. market is still in doubt.

B.C. Tree Fruits sales manager J. E. Lander said this morning he is in touch with Ottawa but the Canadian government has not yet received any information beyond the announcement that there will be a market.

Mr. Lander said packing schedules are being prepared in anticipation of a "fairly sizeable order", and added that he is pressing Ottawa officials for some definite information so that packing will not be disrupted.

The announcement from the British government gave no details of the plan, stating "Details concerning the quantities and methods of licensing will be announced later."

Word of the British announcement was contained in a release from Ottawa which read:

The British government has announced that it will make dollar exchange available for the purchase of a limited quantity of fresh apples, information to this effect having been received by the department of trade and commerce from the Canadian Trade Commissioner in London. Details concerning the quantities and the methods of licensing will be announced later.

The United Kingdom market has long been of great importance to Canadian producers and shippers of apples. During the 10 year period prior to World War II, Canada exported an average of over five million bushels of apples to the United Kingdom, or over 40 per cent of Canada's commercial production. Nova Scotia, British Columbia and Ontario were the principal suppliers.

With the exception of special allocations, the United Kingdom market has been virtually closed since 1939. Canadian producers and exporters, particularly in Nova Scotia and British Columbia, will welcome this announcement, as it will assist them in disposing of a crop, the prospects for which are good. It will also enable them to place their product once more on a market of such traditional importance.

New Paper Money In Circulation

Tellers at the Bank of Montreal branch in Summerland are receiving suspicious looks from customers this week as they started handing out the new issue of Canadian paper currency.

The new bills—which so far are available here in a limited quantity in denominations up to $10 are in colors similar to the old notes but are much brighter.

One different feature of the new bills is that the picture of the queen is on the right side of the note so the portrait will not be subject to creasing as formerly when it was located in the centre of the note.

The new design is considerably simpler which aids in recognition.

Another feature of the new notes is that forgeries will be more readily identifiable as such.

Rev. Lyle Kennedy New Baptist Pastor

New pastor of Summerland Baptist Church will be Rev. Lyle Kennedy who at present is minister of Vancouver Heights Baptist Church. He will take the pulpit left vacant by Rev. Kenneth Knight who with Mrs. Knight left last week for missionary service in India.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will arrive in Summerland on Oct. 1 to take up the charge here.

In the service of Vancouver Heights Church, Mr. Kennedy did an outstanding job in building the church up from a mission.

School Portals Swing Wide Tuesday To Admit Record Student Enrollment

Summerland school doors swung wide Tuesday morning to admit a record 878 enrollment in the Junior-Senior High and the MacDonald Elementary. New classrooms along with extra teachers were ready in both schools to handle the influx of pupils for whom summer holidays is now only a pleasant memory.

Registration at MacDonald school totalled 515 while at the junior-senior high school registrants numbered 363.

At MacDonald school, 80 pupils took classroom seats in grade one for the first time while 21 new students were admitted for other grades. Enrollment at the high school is about 30 more than last year.

Five new teachers will be on the high school, teaching staff. They are Miss Jane Wiekenden of Saulteau who will teach art; Miss

Truck Over Bank When Brakes Fail

Jack Smith of Penticton narrowly escaped serious injury Monday morning when the heavy Royal Dairy truck he was driving went crashing over the embankment at the Sand Hill and came to a halt on its side in deep sand almost on the brink of a 60-foot drop. Smith jumped as the truck went off the road and received serious facial cuts, bruises as well as shock. An ear injury required 30 stitches.

The truck jumped the road at the curve near the top of the hill when brakes failed and snapped off a telephone pole before coming to a halt.

Smith was on his regular run from Vernon when the accident occurred.

The truck carried a full load at the time.

Local Construction Remains Active

Building in Summerland during August continued at a high level of activity with permits being issued for construction totalling $23,410.

Eleven permits were issued during the month, four for new dwellings to a total of $18,500; one for commercial alteration of $1,500 and six for alterations to homes to a value of $3,410.

This brings the total for the first eight months of the year to $175,535—nearly $60,000 higher than the same period a year ago. Total to the end of August last year was $119,825.

Building during August in 1953 was $19,000, about $4,000 below this year's figure.

To Discuss Breakwater At Meeting Tonight

First meeting of the Summerland Board of Trade for the fall season will be held tonight with proposed breakwater for Summerland being the main item of business on the agenda.

A committee formed at a public meeting called by the Summerland Fish and Game Association has compiled a record of boats valued in excess of $40,000 in the district and this committee is now requesting the trade board to take over the work it has completed and petition the federal department of works for construction of a breakwater to provide shelter for small boats.

January Dates Set For Growers Sessions

January 18-19-20 are dates set for the 66th annual convention of BCFGA which is to be held in Kelowna.

It is the first time in several years the BCFGA has held a party in Kelowna, due largely to lack of hotel accommodation.

The association has been assured there will be ample accommodation for the delegates. Acting mayor Dick Parkinson stated the BCFGA will receive the "utmost cooperation" from council, Board of Trade, and the tourist association. Special committee will be set up to look after details, he said.

Clever Cooking . . .

Right now there is such a wonderful array of fruits and vegetables available that it is hard to know which to choose. But that is not too serious because we should eat our fill when we can. One of the best fruits on the market right now is cantaloupe and it is a popular fruit too because it is a perfect fruit to start a meal or to end it.

Unlike the tomato, which is botanically a fruit, yet eaten as a vegetable, melons are vegetables which are eaten as fruit. They belong to the gourd family which is a large family and it includes cucumbers, pumpkin, squash and so on. The musk-melon is a native of South Asia where in many parts it grows wild. However, in many other parts of the world where the climate is warm and temperate, muskmelons, cantaloupe and Casaba melons are cultivated on a commercial scale. Actually the name cantaloupe is from the castle of "Cantaloupe" in Italy where melons were first cultivated in Europe.

In the courts of Persia where melons were considered a great delicacy—one of the chief functionaries of the court was an official whose title roughly translates as "Chief Melon Sniffer." This position was an important one because it required constant watching of their royal melon patch. When a melon had reached the peak of ripeness, beyond which the flavor could not improve, it was his duty, night or day, to pluck the melon and bear it to his royal master.

Now of course is the time to freeze cantaloupe for it is in excellent condition, the quality is good and the price is reasonable. Could there be better reasons for freezing it?

Cantaloupe is very good if frozen properly and the method recommended is this—a dry sugar pack of eight pounds of fruit to one pound of sugar. The cantaloupe should be cut into attractive sizes cubes or balls, probably about half inch cubes would be best. The sugar can be sprinkled over the fruit in layers or mixed with the fruit in a pan. It is advisable to have the fruit quite firm, that is, on the slightly under-mature side.

One important thing the home-maker must know about cantaloupe is how to pick out good ones when she buys them. By the way cantaloupe may vary in size from quite small ones to large ones. For a cantaloupe to be just right with that perfect flavor it must be picked fully ripe, not too green and not too ripe. And you can tell by looking at the cantaloupe whether or not it is in top condition for the table. If it has been picked at just the right time there will be a clean scar at the stem end. If it has been picked too green it will have some of the stem still attached to it or it will have a rough deep scar where it has been pulled out. When you hold the melon in your hands and find that it is firm and well netted it should be right for eating. The blossom end, opposite the stem end, will be firm, showing no paleness and actually a slight golden color will be seen through the netting which covers the melon. If there are little droplets of sugar around the stem scar you can be pretty sure that the melon is ripe and sweet.

Cantaloupe which is too green to eat usually has quite a green surface color, and the flesh is usually hard and tough. Mrs. Home-maker must watch too that she does not pick out any bruised melons or any that are flabby or shrivelled. Some homemakers think that if the fruit is soft at the blossom end it is ripe. True, this is very likely so, but it is wise to remember that repeated pressure on the end will naturally make it soft.

The Summerland Review

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1934

In this picture 'just recently released for publication, sunny-faced Prince Charles is seen playing with his favorite corgi dog, "Sugar" on the grounds of the Royal Lodge at Windsor, Eng. Photos of young heir to the British throne and his sister, Princess Anne, at play on the royal estate will be published in book form.

so you cannot rely completely on the pressure test. That is another reason why consumers should watch how they handle fruits and vegetables in retail shops.

When cantaloupe is served in halves, the centre hole is just right for berries, fruit salad, ice cream or sherbet. Cantaloupe balls or cubes are most attractive in a fruit salad or fruit dessert and, icy cold half cantaloupe makes an excellent breakfast food and a welcome change.

Maybe you deserve a key to the city

Many people—probably including you too—deserve to be honoured for rendering certain important services to their communities.

Very few of these people are celebrities, public heroes or leading dignitaries. Mostly, they're "just plain folks". But together they help create much-needed new public works, homes, building and industrial developments. All of which promote progress and provide thousands of jobs.

How do these people play a part in such big projects? Simply by owning life insurance. For it is money from their premiums, which life insurance companies invest for them, that makes it possible for many of these projects to be completed.

Thanks to these same people, life insurance companies are able to contribute funds to medical research work in a wide range of vital fields. As a result, Canadians may look forward to living longer, healthier lives.

What's more, every life insurance policyholder tries to save his family from ever having to depend on others for their support. This, too, is a service to his community. That's why, if you own life insurance, you deserve "a key to the city!"

P.S. from your life insurance man

"Invested life insurance dollars earn interest that makes it possible for you and your family to enjoy the benefits of life insurance at such low cost. If you have any questions about how to make life insurance fit your own special needs, give me a call. I'll be glad to help you!"

Mrs. B. Nesbitt left for Fruitvale to take up a teaching position there.

NEW ARRIVALS

Parents of a son born Saturday, Sept. 4 at Summerland General Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Inglis.

Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Furness of New Westminster are parents of a daughter born Monday, Sept. 6 at the Royal Columbian Hospital. Mrs. Furness is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Butler.

To the delight of CNE crowds, the Duchess of Kent and her daughter discarded formality and toured the Toronto fair grounds in this miniature scooter train. And, as so many do when they visit the annual Exhibition they were "taken for a ride" in the midway. The royal visitors, who officiated at the opening of the "Ex" as well as attending many civic functions, are managing to mix fun with formality throughout their visit to Canada.

Gladioli Bedeck Pentiction Church
For Kitson-Hembling Nuptial Rites

Of interest in Summerland was the wedding rites performed in Pentiction United Church at 3 o'clock Wednesday, Sept. 1, when John Aidan McCreery Kitson of Summerland took as his bride, Miss Ilo Orisa Doreen Hembling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hembling of Pentiction. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kitson, Kelowna, is a member of the staff of the fruit products laboratory at the Summerland Experimental Station.

Officiating was Rev. Earnest Rands.

Multi-colored gladioli predominated in the floral arrangements which decorated the church for the occasion and guest pews were marked with Victorian nosegays.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle which featured a deep round neckline, lily point sleeves and a hooped bouffant skirt. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a Queen Anne cap styled of lace over satin and trimmed with tear drop and seed pearls. She wore a pearl pendant belonging to her mother and carried a Victorian bouquet of red rosebuds.

Brides attendants were Miss Patricia Danby of Vancouver as maid of honor and Miss Pearl Bolton of Summerland as bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in Nile green shantung with pointed bodice, sweetheart neckline and bouffant skirt with matching Juliette cap and gloves.

Groomsmen were Earl Edge of Summerland and ushers were John A. Ruck and Lincoln C. Goberdhan.

Soloist was sister of the bride, Miss Sydney Barbara Hembling, of Hollywood, who sang "Through the Years", "Where's You Walk", and "Because". She was accompanied by David Hodges. Organist for the professional and recessional was Mrs. M. C. Fisher.

About 100 were present for the reception which followed at the Masonic Hall. To assist in receiving the guests, mother of the bride wore a two-piece dress of mauve corded crepe with matching hat and gloves. Groom's mother chose navy dress with matching accessories.

During the reception, Miss Hembling, who has been studying voice in Los Angeles, was heard in several selections.

For travelling by car to Jasper, the bride changed to a custom dressmaker suit of hand woven Irish tweed in grey with a rose cast and trimmed with burgundy velvet, matching cloche and gloves and shrimp pink shoes and bag. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Out of town guests at the wedding were the groom's parents from Kelowna; the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Spackman, Ninette, Manitoba; her aunt, Mr. Ed Kerr, Lumsden, Saskatchewan; her sister, Miss Sydney Barbara Hembling, Hollywood; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hembling, Oyama; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thom, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Hembling and family, Vernon; Miss Patsy Danby, Miss Beatrice Wilson, Mrs. R. Yeasting, of Vancouver; Art Danby, Oliver; Lincoln C. Goberdhan and Frank Seemungal, Trinidad, B.W.I.; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Stevenson, Doreen and Gail, Winfield; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hookoff and Mrs. O. C. Higgs and Marilyn, Nelson; Harry Green, Trail; Miss Jean Mitchell, Coquitlam; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Harvie, Kelowna, and Miss Sheila Hicks, Victoria.

Two-Piecers, such as this orlon sweater and flanned skirt constitute the backbone of the career or college girl's wardrobe and permit her to be nicely dressed and have a variety of wearable clothes on a budget. The sweater blouse has ribbed collar and cuffs and easy dolman sleeves and is in a delicate apricot that goes well with the dark grey flannel of the skirt. Flapped patch pockets give a pert and different look to the skirt which is gored and pleated, the pockets placed within the inverted pleats. It is front-buttoned and has a black calf belt.

Foaming water rushes from the tailrace of the first three generating unit in operation at the 1,328,000 horsepower Sir Adam Beck-Niagara Generating Station No. 2 at Queenston, Ont., which was officially opened August 30 by Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Kent, now on a 23-day tour of Canada. When completed in its 12-unit phase in 1956, the development together with the pumped storage scheme will have an installed capacity of 1,428,000 horsepower units in its 1,150-foot length. Each of the penstocks is 492 feet long and 19 feet in diameter. The smaller building on the right is the control structure for operating the two Sir Adam Beck station under unified control. The whole project stretches from the intake structures two miles above the Falls at Chippawa eight miles across country almost to Queenston. It includes mammoth intakes, twin 5 1/2-mile tunnels diving as deep as 330 feet under this city, 2 1/4-mile open-cut canal, a large forebay, the pump storage works and the power-house. Little wonder that engineering men from around the world have come to Queenston is the last four years to marvel at what they have described as a monument to Canadian engineering skill and initiative.

Popular Local Couple Exchange Vows In Evening Service at St Andrew's

A popular Summerland couple were joined in nuptial vows at St. Andrew's United Church on Saturday, Sept. 4, when Shirley Marguerite Schumann became the bride of Noel William Green. The bride is the daughter of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Schumann, now making their home in Dartmouth, N.S., and the groom is son of Mrs. Leone Witherspoon of Summerland and N. Green of Vancouver. Rev. Charles O. Richmond officiated at the evening rites.

Backdrop for the wedding party was formed by pink and white gaily arranged in fan shape and lighted by tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a floor-length sleeveless lace wedding gown, a pleated net panel inset in front and topped with matching lace bolero with Peter Pan collar, lily-point sleeves and tiny buttons to the waist. Her full floor-length veil was trimmed with lace and fell from a headdress of pleated net trimmed with seed pearls and artificial lily of the valley. She carried a bouquet of white orchid and pink carnations.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister Miss Joyce Schumann and as bridesmaid, sister of the groom, Miss Betty Green. Miss Schumann was dressed in pale blue strapless gown with lace jackets and mitts, lace inserts over satin in the full skirt. Miss Green wore pale pink strapless gown with net jacket and mitts and the full skirt of net poplin was trimmed with white flowers.

Attending the groom was Stan Pattie of Cowichan Lake as best man and Larry Hunter of Summerland and Bill Mattice of New Westminster as ushers.

Organist was Mrs. D. Dunham with Mrs. D. Carey of Penticton as soloist.

About 175 guests were present at the reception which followed at the IOOF Hall. Toastmaster was Fred Wayne and toast to the bride was proposed by J. A. Broadbent of Vancouver with H. Polhman of Summerland proposing the toast to the bridesmaids.

Mother of the bride was dressed in beige lace over copper with beige accessories while mother of the groom wore grey two-piece dress with pink and navy accessories.

For a wedding trip to Vancouver Island by car, the bride changed to pale blue suit with navy accessories and white shortie coat. On their return they will make their home in Summerland.

Assisting in serving at the reception were Mrs. Dale Monro, Mrs. Al Perrault, Misses Marg Inglis, Loretta Inglis, Arlene Raincock, Carol Raincock, Joan Macdonald, Elsie Hack, Jean Imayoshi and Doreen Kilback.

Others present from out of town were the bride's aunt, Mrs. O. Morphy, Sutherland, Sask.; her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. Mattice, Oliver; S. Pattie, Lake Cowichan; Mr. and Mrs. J. Broadbent, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hunt, Miss Elsie Hack, I. Barrett, Vancouver; Miss Marg McGifford, Courtenay; Mr. and Mrs. H. Guest, Kelowna; Miss Margaret Palmberg, Bill Mattice, New Westminster; Mr. and Mrs. J. Glycne, Salmon Arm; Miss Maureen Peterson, New Denver; Mr. and Mrs. G. Ritchies, Mr. and Mrs. W. Macs Nosed Out Twice In Week-End Ball Games

Summerland came out the wrong end of two games in a baseball tournament over the Labor Day week-end when they were edged out 3-2 Sunday by Penticton and then Monday saw Collingwood nine from Vancouver outscore them 10-8 in a match which saw a total of 28 hits—17 by the coast players and 11 by Macs.

Sunday's game saw the Macs push into a one-run lead in the seventh inning on a homer by Daryl Weitzel, only to have the lead and game snatched away from them in the bottom half of the frame when Raptis belted a circuit clout into left field with Jones on base.

Don Cristane and Billy Eyre shared pitching duties for the Macs while Jordan went the distance for A's. Cristane allowed three hits while Eyre gave up two and Jordan held the locals to four in the game.

Burgart picked up the A's first marker in the first frame when he started off with a single on the first pitch across the plate.

Score remained unchanged until the sixth when Weeks belted out a triple to right field and came home with the even on Bob Weitzel's fielders choice. Daryl Weitzel led off in the seventh and pushed Macs out into the lead with a homer but then saw the briefly held lead disappear with Raptis' two-run homer.

Princeton's Jack Markin Leads Sluggers With .396 in OMLBL Stats

Final statistics for the Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League, released by League Secretary Harry Francis, revealed that Jack Markin made a great bid to oust Jack Markin, hearty Princeton slugger, from the top batting position he had held almost from the first few games of the season.

Jack finished up only .002 behind Markin and was the best of four Okonots who made the top ten.

A surprise entry towards the end was Tostenson of Kelowna who fattened his average rapidly as the league season drew to a close.

Kamloops batters led in the runs, hits, singles and triples columns, and came in second in runs batted-in, doubles and home runs department.

The following are the final league batting statistics for the 1954 season:

Fishing News

Ukanagan Lake is coming on again now and in about a month will be the best of the season. A couple of nice ones caught this last week a seven pounder was caught off Paradise ranch slide on the east side on a No. 5 Knobby Wobber by Steve Sakal our local barber. Several smaller fish caught up to 3 1/2 lbs. Wobblers and plugs are best and biggest fish are caught deep. Fish Lake Camp continued good fishing here on the upper lakes, most fishermen bringing out limit catches, not big but averaging up to 1 lb. Headwaters Camp was on over Saturday and Sunday with some nice catches made. A three pounder was landed in No. 1 and a couple of two pounders up at Crescent. Not bad fishing. Most fishermen catching lots of fish.

Glen Lake: Nice fishing here over the week-end for fly, not too easy to catch but worth working for. A four pounder was caught over last week-end.

Silver Lake is still OK nice ones up to 17 inches being caught.

Shannon Lake: Good perch and bass fishing.

Bear Lake: Some of the best reports of the district from here. Two pounders are quite common and up to 3 1/2 pounders being landed.

Fishing on the whole has been good on all lakes and this will improve from now on. One report from Wood Lake, south of Kamloops of 6 to 8 pounders being caught.

Would like to hear from anyone interested in live catching bass and perch to be caught at Shannon Lake and planted in Howis Lake in town for children fishing. We will need lots of fishermen as we want to get 200 or 300 fish for this job.

Canada's richest golf tournament, the $26,500 Labett open, ran some of the world's leading amateur and pro golfers to Toronto's Scarborough course for golfing jamboree. Highlight of the event, which ran for a week, was the best ball match, in which Peter Thomson and Babe Zaharias defeated Sammy Snead and Betsy Rawls by two stroke. Thomson, the youthful Australian who won the British Open a few weeks ago, and Snead, the veteran golfer from White Sulphur Springs, Va., each shot two-under-par 69's. The Babe carded a 72 and Miss Rawls 76. Betsy Rawls is driving as the Babe and Sammy follow with the ball. The $5,000 first-prize money in the second Labett Open was won by an unknown pro from Santa Monica, Calif., Bud Holscher, 23, who shot a 269 for 72-hole total.

17 Minutes Work Per Gallon

Gasoline Now Works 50% Harder-- And Costs Less Despite Extra Taxes

A gallon of gasoline costs the motorist less today than it did in 1920, an article in the current issue of the Imperial Oil Review shows. This is true even though today's price includes provincial taxes, ranging from nine to 15 cents a gallon, which didn't exist three decades ago. What's more, says the Review, the gasoline you buy today is so much better it does half as much work again as the gasoline of 1920.

The oil company receives just a little more than half—54.5 cents—of the average motorist's dollar, the Review says. Of the remainder, 28 cents is taken up in provincial taxes and 17.5 cents goes to the service station dealer.

Gasoline has gone up much less than the earnings of the average

Canadian worker. Where in 1939 it took the average Canadian wage earner about 33 minutes to earn enough to pay for a gallon of gasoline it took 29 minutes in 1946 and takes him only 17 minutes today.

The Review says that competition is the reason gasoline has been able to hold the price line in an era of rising prices. Competition between companies starts before the drilling bits grind into the rock in search of oil, and ends only when your local service station attendant fills your car's tank with gasoline. "Although," says the Review, "the service station dealer—as an independent business man—is the man who sets the ultimate price, thousands of people have exerted influences that govern that price—the producers of the crude; the governments and individuals who collect royalties on the crude produced; federal and provincial governments who levy taxes against gasoline; the people who operate the various forms of oil transportation; the refiners; the marketers and finally the customers."

CANADA'S NEW BANK NOTES

CANADA'S NEW BANK NOTES will begin to replace the present issue this month. The new notes will be put into circulation from time to time as worn and soiled notes of the old issue are withdrawn. It will thus be some time before the new notes have completely replaced the old. Banks will have a limited quantity for distribution in the introductory period.

As you come into possession of the new notes you will be aware of a number of new features.

In general the new design is less ornate and this simplicity contributes to easier recognition of the various denominations. It also makes it easier to distinguish a genuine note from an attempt at forgery.

Other changes include the placing of the portrait of Queen Elizabeth at the right hand side of the note. In this position the engraving of the portrait will not be subject to the wear from the constant folding of notes through the center.

The allegorical figures which appear on the back panels of the present issue are now replaced by engravings from photographs of various types of Canadian countryside.

The notes are printed by new processes which give them a distinctive "feel". The colours of the various denominations are approximately the same as at present but close examination will show that the colour on the face of each note results from the combination of two colours printed one over the other.

These and other changes have been made to improve the appearance of Canada's currency, to lessen the risk of counterfeiting, and to reduce the cost of production.

Many people ask "Is there not some special means of distinguishing genuine bank notes from counterfeits?" The answer is that there are a great many means—singly and in combination—so many that a full description could be confusing and would only help those who might attempt to counterfeit.

The best means of distinguishing genuine bank notes from suspected notes is the simplest, namely—compare a suspected note side-by-side with one known to be genuine. Even small variations—no one of which might be noticeable by itself—will usually combine to produce an easily distinguishable difference in general appearance. Good notes look "good" because of the skilled craftsmanship behind them.

As you come into possession of the new bank notes, study them to become familiar with their general appearance. This will help safeguard one of Canada's most important facilities—your currency.

Clever Cooking . . .

Cream has been known and liked by Canadians since the first settlers arrived in Canada with Champlain. These early settlers milked the cows by hand and the milk that was not used right away was put into flat pans. After 24 to 36 hours the cream that had risen to the top was skimmed off and allowed to sour. Then it was put in a simple wooden churn where it was tossed until butter appeared. The skim milk which remained after the cream was taken off was fed to pigs and chickens, while the butter-milk, which remained in the churn after the butter was made, was used in baking and as a refreshing drink.

Though whipped cream was not mentioned in the records, one can be reasonably sure that it did not take too long for someone to discover it, and certainly that lucky someone would serve a dessert which would be the envy of the whole settlement.

While there is no particular season for whipped cream, this is the time when the fruits which go so well with whipped cream are in season. And since eggs are both plentiful and reasonable just now, then what more luscious dessert could you serve than sponge cake, fresh fruit and lots of whipped cream. That is a combination that bears repeating as each fruit comes along!

Cream sold as "Whipping Cream" will have between 30 and 35 per cent butterfat. Such a cream will whip quickly and stiffly and will stay stiff on standing. If you chill the whipping cream and the bowl and the beater thoroughly, then the cream will whip perfectly. You could whip it several hours before using it too, and it would keep its stiffness.

Here is another point—when you are using cream in a recipe be sure to notice whether it calls for whipping cream or whipped cream. Whipping cream will give about twice the volume of whipped cream. That is, it will take only one cup of whipping cream to give two cups of whipped cream. And, since one half pint of whipping cream measured 1½ cups then that half pint would give 2½ cups of whipped cream.

Cream cheese is perhaps the most misunderstood of all cheeses. Often, the term "cream cheese" is used when one means process cheese. The two are alike only in that they are both soft cheeses. Cream cheese is that almost snow-white cheese with a soft smooth texture and delicate flavor. It is an unripened cheese, that is, it is sold just as soon as it is made. In making it the milk is enriched by adding freshly pasteurized cream. Then it is pasteurized in large vats. After pasteurization it is cooled and a "starter" is added to help uniform curdling, which gives the smooth texture that cream cheese is noted for. This cheese is almost as perishable as the milk and cream from which it is made and it must be kept refrigerated.

Although there are a large number of cheeses made in Canada, most of them have been adapted from European ones, but cream cheese is distinctly a North American development. It has been made on this continent since 1885 and has become one of the most popular of the soft cheeses. It is mild and rich and has countless uses. Its soft creamy texture, makes it so easy to roll into balls, and to use as a spread for sandwiches. Because it passes easily through a pastry tube and takes color readily, it has many uses in decorating. It combines very well with chopped nuts and fruit.

The expression "There is nothing new under the sun" does not seem to hold true these days, at least as far as foods are concerned, for actually there are many new foods. Perhaps, more correctly one should say old foods sold in many new ways. Cheese spreads are an example. The name itself tells something—that it is "cheese" and that it can be easily "spread" on bread or toast. If you look at the containers in which these spreads are sold, they are usually glass, you will see either the word "process" or "cream" before the words "cheese spread". All these words are not in as large print as the special name which the manufacturer has given his particular spread, but they are always there. And, these extra words are there for definite purpose, to tell consumers about these new cheese products.

If it is marked as "process cheese spread", then that spread has been made from "process" cheese and according to Canadian government standard has the same amount of moisture and fat in it, as there is in "process" cheese. The moisture allowed in "process" cheese can be as much, but not more than 43 per cent. If it is marked "cream cheese spread" then that spread is made from a "cream" cheese base. It could have up to 55 per cent moisture, if it is a plain spread or 60 per cent moisture if there are relishes or condiments in it. The amount of fat also corresponds to what is allowed in "process" and "cream" cheese.

You may be surprised to hear this because these spreads seem to be quite different to "process" cheese or "cream" cheese, but they are not as different as they look.

Bank Review

Production Employment Dislocations Seen as Early Temporary Difficulty

While revolutionary developments in industrial techniques may well give rise to short-run dislocations in the pattern of production and employment, the record is also unanswerably to the effect that longer-run gains in economic benefits far outweigh the temporary difficulties involved. This is the conclusion reached by the Bank of Montreal in its Business Review for August, published today. In this issue, the bank takes a perspective look at the many factors that have contributed to Canada's industrial evolution during the past century.

"By applying capital and ideas to the productive process," the review states, man has "both freed himself of a number of physically arduous tasks and increased the variety and volume of his output—his on-the-job productivity." What may not be so readily appreciated, however, is that "the gains in productivity have not occurred in uninterrupted progression, but rather in leaps and bounds, with intervening years of little or no improvement." The current review, therefore, makes an attempt to evaluate productivity in Canada for the country as a whole, "to see how it has changed over a period of years and how Canada compares in this respect with its neighbor to the south."

In its treatment of this subject, the B of M points out that in the last quarter of the 19th century there was a pronounced increase in Canadian productivity arising from improvements in transportation and the expansion of industry in the central provinces. From 1900 to 1920, however, despite the stimulus to industry during the First World War, the rise in productivity appears to have been quite modest. During the '20's, and again in the late '30's and early '40's, productivity rose rapidly. Since 1950, also, the rate of increase has been sharp—by better than four percent a year. Although these periods were offset to some extent by years in which productivity changed very little, or even declined, the long-term trend has been unmistakably upward. Since 1926 the increase in real output per man-hour has been well above 80 per cent in total.

A number of benefits have flowed from this near-doubling in productivity, the review points out. For the most part, it has been reflected in an increased standard of living. The volume of goods and services consumed annually per capita has increased by 60 per cent. "Moreover, a significant part has been taken in the form of increased leisure, the length of the average industrial working week having fallen by 17 per cent." There has also been a large amount of the increased national output "ploughed back" into the building of new productive facilities, thus providing a base for further growth in human efficiency in the future.

Comparing Canada with the United States, the B of M says that, judged by available evidence, the U.S. steadily outdistanced Canada in productivity gains from the beginning of the century till the start of the Second World War. Since then, however, the American lead has been reduced, and in the last three years the differential has averaged around 20 per cent as against 30 per cent before the war. The B of M feels that this recent trend should continue. "The impact of further industrialization and the productive advantages to be gained from an expanding population should be felt more in Canada than in the United States."

However, the B of M notes, it is not only in these directions that further increases of productivity are to be looked for. "Rather," it concludes, "for Canada as for other industrial nations, the biggest gains are likely to come from the widespread application of new techniques," and two fields which at the moment appear to hold great promise are electronics and atomic energy, both of which are still in a developmental stage.

A Bank is useful in so many ways . . .

At a bank, you can keep important papers and other valuables in a private safety deposit box.

Travellers Cheques and Letters of Credit provide a safe, handy source of funds when you travel.

A bank helps you do business at a distance; sells exchange, transfers funds, makes collections.

A bank is much more than just a place to cash a cheque or deposit your savings. The many services it provides are designed to help you handle money matters more simply, safely, easily. You will find bank people courteous and efficient in handling routine banking matters and helpful, too, when unusual problems arise. Don't hesitate to "see the bank about it."

THE BANKS SERVING YOUR COMMUNITY

Socially Speaking

Who said Canadian girls were short and dumpy? It was, of course, a statistician who has no eye for figures outside of those on a chart. But model expert John Roberts Powers just pays no attention to statistics. "The Canadian girl," he says, with confident authority, "is long stemmed." And to prove it, he has models Mae Genno and Beldie Allinson, who were in the Powers' contest for the "long-stemmed Canadian beauty" in Toronto.

Three Firsts Won...

Entries From Women's Institute Win Nine Prizes in PNE Judging

Summerland Women's Institute came home with nine prizes out of 11 entries at the Pacific National Exhibition, where they were competing with Women's Institutes from all over B.C. Of the nine prizes there were three firsts, one second, two thirds and three fourths.

First prizes were won by the following entries, Miss Elizabeth Thead, smocked dress; Mrs. G. Inglis, crocheted articles and Mrs. Vern Charles, thrift sewing class.

Mrs. C. Orr took second prize for her rug on burlap. Mrs. W. R. Powell won a third for her rug on canvas and Mrs. Gordon Ritchie a third for handweaving.

Fourth prizes were won by Mrs. G. Inglis, crocheted baby set; Mrs. George Woitte, tatting; and Mrs. F. Stark, crocheted table cloth.

Only Small Percentage of Shrivelled Detected in Prune Crops to Date

Summerland, Westbank and Peachland:

As reported September 7th: Since the issue of our last News Letter the weather has been cloudy with occasional showery periods. There have been several warm days but cool nights have prevailed throughout the period.

Bartlett pear harvesting was completed by September 4th but the picking of V peaches is still continuing and may not be finished till the end of this week. Fortunately there have been sufficient warm periods to give a fairly good finish to the peaches despite the lateness of the crop. There has been a very heavy cullage from split stone peaches this year. Some growers have reported as high as 50% loss due to split pits with 20%-30% about the average for most blocks. The early strains of Italian Prune are now about ready for picking. These are being watched closely for shrivel but so far only a small percentage of this disorder has shown up. Flemish Beauty pears are now maturing with first pickings due about the end of this week. McIntosh apples are now taking on color. There are some very fine crops of McIntosh in the Peachland and Westbank areas. Later apples are sizing very slowly now and so far have not taken on much color. To date there is very little Codling moth damage in apples. Mite activity has decreased. There has been a little more Apple Scab showing up in the last ten days, but the increase has not been as great as might be expected following the heavy rains which occurred at the end of August.

Harvesting of tomatoes is under way at Westbank. Onions are being pulled for curing. Sweet corn cucumbers and peppers are now maturing.

Penticton, Naramata, Kaledon, Keremeos-Cawston:

As reported September 7th: Weather conditions improved somewhat since the last News Letter but have not been as good as normally expected for this time of the year. Considerable cloudiness with intermittent showers have persisted.

V peaches are almost over and a few Elbertas and J. H. Hales have just been picked. Elbertas are expected to be down about 85% from last year's crop. The Bartlett pear harvest is expected to be completed before the week is over while some Glemish Beauties are just about ready. Early strain prunes are being picked while standard Italian prunes are taking on color rapidly. Some shrivel on prunes has been detected. McIntosh apples are taking on good color and have sized well in some orchards but it is unlikely that picking will be general before September 20th. Stop-drop sprays are being applied to McIntosh this week.

Diseases and insects appear to be under reasonable control, although Green Apple Aphids persist in a few orchards. Apple Scab, unless weather conditions deteriorate too much is not expected to cause any serious overall loss.

Oliver and Osoyoos:

As reported September 8th: The weather remains cool and cloudy. Slightly over inch of rain has fallen since the last news letter.

Insect and disease problems appears to be well in hand at the moment. During the past two weeks a number of growers applied a light application of ferbam for scab control due to the weather being so favorable for this disease. The apple crop is coloring up. Delicious, which is a very light crop will run to the larger sizes. Most other varieties of apples should peak in the medium sizes according to present indications. The peak of prune picking was passed over the Labor-Day weekend. A small amount of shrivelled fruit has been found in some of the fruit during the last day of two. Harvest of McIntosh apples commenced this week. The peak of Elberta peach harvest should be during this week.

Kelowna:

As reported September 10th: With the exception of the showery period Sept. 2-3 the weather has been generally clear, with cool nights. The McIntosh apple crop is sizing well and color is developing rapidly. The crop estimate is down slightly from last year. Picking dates for McIntosh have not yet been set but it is estimated that picking will be in full swing by September 20th. Hormone 'stop-drop' sprays have been applied in most McIntosh blocks as insurance against a pre-harvest drop. Other apple varieties are developing well. The Delicious crop will be down about 15% or more from last year. The Bartlett harvest is over and the small crop of Flemish is coming off now. The Anjou crop looks good and if normal fruit size develops the estimates will have to be revised upwards. Early Italian prune harvest is now general. Quality is good. Although there are a few rubbery prunes, no general shrivel has yet developed.

Fall planted onions have been harvested and spring planted onions are now being pulled. Warm weather is needed for the field curing of this crop. Tomatoes are poor; most fields show a high incidence of disease. Demand for matures exceeds the supply. Other crops such as late cabbage, celery, and cucumbers are moving in volume. Beans are finished except for the rare patch that wasn't hit by yellow bean mosaic. A few Netted Gem potatoes are being dug. The grape crop is very late with bunches only recently taking on color.

Armstrong, Vernon, Oyama, Winfield and Okanagan Centre:

As reported September 7th: Since our last report the weather has been mostly cloudy, cool and showery with the odd sunny spell, with temperatures lower than average.

Tree fruits are sizing quite well at present, and with cool nights apples are now taking on color. Delicious look as though they will run to fairly large sizes in some orchards. Picking of Wealthies is now general and should be over by this week-end. Wealthies are running below estimates in many cases. Transcendent crabapples are over and Hyslops should be ready this week-end. First picking of Bartlett pears has been completed and the crop should be all in by the end of this week. Flemish Beauty pears will be ready in a few days. Early prunes are about over, but the main prune crop will not be ready for a week or ten days. The peach harvest is over the peak at present. Hales are being picked now and Elbertas will be ready in about a week or ten days. Stop drop sprays are now being applied to McIntosh orchards throughout the district.

Vegetables of all kinds are in plentiful supply and harvesting of the onion crop is going on when weather permits. At present movement of celery and lettuce from the Armstrong district is almost at a standstill, and much of the fall lettuce has been ruined by weather conditions. Carlot shipments of late lettuce should be ready in about a week.

Largest individual tobacco plantation in Ontario is the result of a $50,000 gamble by Thomas Murphy, right who came out of retirement to make a 90-acre farm near Barrie, Ont. His crop, worth $35,000, is second to none in quality, according to John Hicks, left, a tobacco grower of North Carolina. Murphy developed his farm on land untested for tobacco growing, planted a hardy strain, built new kilns, barns and greenhouses. The total is equal to anything in the U.S. in efficiency, according to Mr. Hicks.

$1,300 Buys A Lot Of Education

Putting your youngster through high school and college is a costly business. And, if you're like most people, you will have to prepare for that expense well in advance. An easy way to do it, should you not need the Family Allowance Cheques for their primary purpose of paying for the youngster's day-to-day expenses, is to earmark all of them for his later education. The cheques for one child, saved in a B of M account until the age of 18, as reached, total more than $1,300, including interest. It's a handy start toward a higher education. And it means you have ready money in the bank available for any unexpected opportunity or emergency.

Start while your youngster is still tiny, and you'll have a sum which will really count when the first college bills arrive. Why not drop into the B of M next time you are passing, and open your child's "Fund for the Future." Ivor Solly, manager of the West Summerland branch, says any member of his staff will gladly welcome the opportunity of assisting you in putting this good idea into practice. Advt.

G. Fudge Shares Two Net Crowns

George Fudge Sunday emerged from the Okanagan Valley tennis championships in Penticton sharing two valley tennis crowns—mixed doubles and men's doubles.

In the mixed doubles he teamed with Mickey Bell of Penticton to defeat the Kelowna team of Joan Van Ackeren and Geoff Day in two sets, 6-3 and 6-2.

For men's doubles, the local net star had as partner Ted Cardinal of Penticton and turned back Kelowna's Ernie Winter and Chester Larsen 6-3 and 6-3.

Eight applications for power were approved Tuesday by the municipal council. They were those of Mrs. E. Kercher, Mrs. Rose Tullet, George Dolder, J. R. Jenkinson, Mrs. B. O. Stevenson, Mrs. Lillian James, P. F. Law Construction and R. J. G. Barkwill. Another application of Mrs. E. M. Hookham was left with the electrical committee for further study, and with power to approve.

WATER APPLICATIONS PASS
The council Tuesday approved domestic water applications of R. J. C. Barkwill, Mrs. M. E. Hookham and Mrs. M. A. Russel.

Wildcats' reputation for ferocity is verified by the story of Robert McCanniss, 14, of Rosseau, Ont. Robert and his Labrador retriever, left, were walking through a woods on their way fishing when the lynx attacked by jumping on the dog's back. After sending the dog howling in pain, the lynx attacked Robert, tearing and scratching his hands, arms, trousers and shirt. Picking up a strong stick, Robert managed to discourage the lynx into retreat with one well-aimed whack. The lynx, above, looks like a quiet tabby—but he is not to be trifled with.

Bible School Prexy Here Friday Night

Coming to West Summerland for only one day, Rev. Cyril Hutchinson of the Berean Bible College in Calgary, Alberta, will address a specially arranged rally to be held at the Free Methodist Church, on Friday, Sept. 17 at 8 p.m.

With a background of 19 years in bible school administration and teaching, Mr. Hutchinson will present something of the importance and challenge of bible school training for Christian young people.

Berean Bible College, of which Mr. Hutchinson is principal, had 150 registered students last term half of whom were resident at the college. With its interdenominational outlook, the student body last winter represented 14 denominations.

Having been associated for 20 years with the bible ministry of the late William Aberhart, Rev. Cyril Hutchinson is an able exponent of bible prophecy. The topic chosen for Friday night's meeting is: "The Devil's Bid". Kodachrome slides will also be shown.

Rev. C. W. Lynn Heads Delegation At Conference

Rev. Carmar Lynn of West Summerland, who is superintendent of the British Columbia district conference of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada, is heading the B.C. delegation attending the 19th biennial general conference of the church to be held in Winnipeg starting today and continuing until next Wednesday.

Presiding over the deliberations of the conference, will be Rev. Walter E. McAllister, of Toronto, general superintendent of the Canadian Pentecostal denomination, which consists of some 680 affiliated and associated churches in all 10 provinces of Canada, numbering a membership of 95,000. It is expected that approximately 300 ministerial and lay delegates will attend the national meet in Winnipeg.

A considerable portion of the conference agenda will be devoted to meeting the challenge of the new literacy that exists in "mission" countries, together with the aggressive nationalism, and the need to apply principles of indigenous national church life.

A highlight of the general conference that will be made available to the entire nation through the co-operation of the national religious advisory council of the CBC will be the origination from Calgary Temple in Winnipeg, of the "Religious Period" on the conference Sunday, Sept. 19th over the national Trans-Canada network of the CBC, which will be heard from 11:30 a.m. to 12 noon. The broadcast will be conducted by the Rev. H. H. Barber, pastor of Calvary Temple, host church of the conference. The Calvary Temple choir will furnish the music for the broadcast service.

Following the network broadcast, a "World Vision" missionary service will be held in Calvary Temple with several nationals from overseas field participating, and the results of missionary offerings taken that Sunday in Pentecostal Churches all across Canada will be telegraphed or telephoned to the service, where the grand total of this nation-wide missionary effort will be announced. Rev. G. R. Upton, of Toronto, national missionary secretary who has just returned from the Argentine, where evangelistic meetings were recently attended by audiences as high as 100,000 persons, will have charge of the missionary demonstration.

A service of evangelistic witness will be held the conference Sunday evening in Winnipeg's largest auditorium, the Civic Auditorium when the speaker will be Dr. Howard P. Courtney, of Los Angeles president of the North American Pentecostal Fellowship, a Pentecostal ecumenical organization representing 10,000 churches and 1,000,000 Pentecostals in North America.

Mr. Lynn will be serving on the plenary executive and missionary committee of the general meet.

Major Problems Face Trustees At Annual Meet

Curriculum, educational finance and teacher recruitment—the big three problems in education in British Columbia today—will be the key topics when the British Columbia School Trustees' Association holds its golden jubilee convention at Penticton Sept. 29-Oct. 1.

Austin I. Curtis of Victoria, BCSTA representative on the government-trustee-teacher committee which has dealt with curriculum for many years, will be chairman when the wide-open question of today's school subjects comes up. It is a live subject with all B.C. school boards and may produce lively criticism and defences of the present curriculum and its objectives.

A. D. Rundle of Chilliwack, chairman of the trustees' educational finance committee, will direct the discussion on this subject, another major problem for trustees, their councils and the department of education.

Problem of meeting the shortage of teachers will be emphasized in the "teacher recruitment" session over which BCSTA Vice-President R. H. Reeve of Victoria will preside. Mr. Reeve has been working with the B.C. Teachers' Federation in seeking means of attracting more students to the teaching profession.

Thirty-two resolutions will be presented to the convention. Expansion of the branch setup within the B.C. Association will be another major subject for delegates and several branch meetings are on the convention program.

B.C. School District Administrators' Association will hold its annual convention simultaneously with the Trustees.

MORE ABOUT PROPOSES

by the high commissioners of various countries, in order to keep the MP's informed. He instanced the example of Israel, as showing what could be done with socialism in an arid land starting with absolutely nothing, and now equipped with schools and universities and the envy of the world in economic stability.

In the House of Commons the chief work of the CCF MP's he said is to press for bills and amendments to better conditions and offer more security to workers and farmers. "Our role in capitalist society is to alleviate distress which is due to present methods of operation. The failure of capitalism to bring security to the lives of Canadians causes this distress. Alleviation, he assured the audience, is only the first step. It is socialism.

"The CCF is based firmly on the Regina Manifesto, and these principles were re-affirmed at the Edmonton convention," said Mr. Jones. "Peace and prosperity can only be brought about by socialism. The problem of production has been solved. We can produce anything in abundance, but capitalism can't distribute abundance. Today, people are looking for jobs, and those with small pensions are trying to find a little extra in order to buy some of that abundance."

"No movement is so basically sound," Mr. Jones concluded, "and so truly Christian as the one to which you belong."

H. S. Kenyon, Penticton, presided at the dinner and at the Meeting which followed. Delegates were present from Kelowna, Peachland, Summerland, Penticton, Oliver, Osoyoos, Grand Forks, Greenwood, Bridesville, Princeton and Hedley.

The gathering had the pleasure of songs by the well-known baritone, E. Burnett of Kelowna, accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Herbert.

R. Hagen, MLA for Grand Forks-Greenwood, and Mrs. Hagen, were guests. Delegates being very pleased to see Mr. Hagen again after his recent illness.

Reports from the treasurer and campaign committee and convention delegate followed, and the election of officers returned the chairman, D. P. Fraser, Osoyoos; first vice-chairman, J. Wilkinson, Kelowna; second vice-chairman, A. Tyhurst, Penticton; secretary treasurer, Mrs. E. Mapham, Osoyoos; with two other persons to be appointed by each of the three provincial ridings.

A former Canadian pilot whose exploits against Chinese Communist air forces are legendary in the East has been sent to Canada by the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa to raise at least two squadrons of experienced jet and prop-driven fighter plane pilots. Albert Mah, seen above, is also after other young fliers willing to train for action in a cold war version of Gen. Claire Chennault's famed Flying Tigers. Pilots who flew RCAF Sabre jets have been offered at least $30,000 a year by Chiang Kai-shek, the money to come indirectly from the $100,000,000 to be spent by the U.S. in Formosa next year. Aim of the free lance air force, says Mah, is to fight against Asian Communist aggression "in whatever way we see fit."

Clever Cooking . . .

With the opening of school, to many homemakers comes the extra job of packing school lunches. To help you make a good job of it here are some suggestions.

Nutritionists remind us that it is important to remember that the school lunch is a meal and that it should supply about one-third of the day's requirements. If you include a fruit, a vegetable, a protein food such as meat, cheese or egg and either whole wheat or enriched white bread with butter in the lunches you pack, then you can be quite sure that you are meeting all the requirements.

But apart from meeting the requirements you will want to plan for variety by carrying the sandwich fillings, using different kinds of bread, and introducing different beverages. Try hot tomato juice or a hot beef broth in the thermos one day. Your children will like that.

If you find that you are running out of ideas for sandwiches, the Consumer Section pamphlet "The Art of Making Sandwiches" will be very helpful. It is full of interesting ideas for fillings and you can get it free by writing to the Canada Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Here is something else to remember when you are making sandwiches, cut them in fourths or make them small enough so that they are easy to handle and cut them different ways. An interesting shape makes a sandwich much more appealing. And, do tuck a surprise in the school lunch. It may be just a favorite tart or cookie, but it gives a real lift to come across something you do not expect. If then, you have something hot, something substantial, something chewy and something gay your school children will not tire of their carried lunches.

Sandwiches are the mainstay of the school lunch, but they can certainly become a chore to those who have to make them up every day. If you are lucky enough to have a home freezer then you can have one sandwich session every month or so to make up enough sandwiches to last between sessions.

Here are the directions for freezing sandwiches: The sandwiches you are going to freeze should be made from fresh or day-old bread.

Use very little salad dressing because it may separate and soak into the bread. Most of the common sandwich fillings freeze very well, but you will have to make up sandwiches of egg and vegetable fillings fresh every day.

If you season your sandwiches here is something to remember. Seasoning change in storage so they must be added in slightly different amounts than when the fillings are to be used fresh. Salt loses some of its strength so you would use a little extra and since pepper becomes stronger you would use just a little less of it. It is better to leave the sandwiches whole with the crusts on and to wrap them in freezer wrappings just as soon as you make them. You can package them individually or a number of them can be packed together. It is a good idea to pack enough for one lunch in each package then they can go right from freezer to lunch box. Since it takes one to two hours for a small package of sandwiches to thaw out at room temperature, if they were taken from the freezer in the morning they would be just ready to eat at lunch time.

Milk belongs in every school lunch box—whether it is taken as a beverage for the meal or in a cream soup or custard. Hot cocoa made with milk is another good lunch box suggestion, and so is an eggnog. Here is a recipe for a very nourishing milk drink: It is called "chocolate custard drink" and although it is not like a syrup that can be stored for a long time, this can be kept in the refrigerator for as long as you would keep fresh milk. It would be an especially good drink for an under-weight child, but it is delicious and very nourishing for anyone!

Chocolate Custard Drink
2 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate—oz. squares, 2 eggs, 6 cups milk, few grains salt, 2/3 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Melt chocolate in double boiler. Beat eggs slightly and stir in milk, salt and sugar. Add to the melted chocolate. Cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture coats the spoon. Remove from heat and beat until smooth. Add vanilla. Chill.

Scout Activities

1st Summerland got off to a flying start with an attendance of 28 at the first fall meeting on Tuesday. Welcomed as recruits were Geo. Guernsey, Ken Gronlund, Vern Dunston and Ed Tavender. A number of new games were played and instruction centered around a review of Knots and the flag.

The World Scout Jamboree in July 1955 will be held in Canada at Niagara-on-the-Lake and attendance is open to scouts of age 14 or older who have passed their 1st Class Badge. It is hoped that 1st Summerland will send a good representation. The cost will likely be around $100 per boy so those planning to attend will have to start saving for it.

In the patrol competition the standing is now Eagles 40, Beavers 37, Hawks 32 and Buffaloes 34. Points were lost by several patrols for boys being late and not wearing full uniforms. Twenty three proficiency badges were distributed.

Meeting next week at 7:00 p.m. sharp. Duty Patrol Beavers.—D. V. Fisher, Scoutmaster.

Cub Calls

First Summerland Pack
10 new chums were welcomed into the pack at the first meeting of the season. We will accept four more boys so any interested should acquire an application form from Akola, Mrs. Isabel McCaygar.

Annual Lay Rally Set For Kelowna

Kelowna will be the scene of the annual fall rally of the Lay Association of the United Church of Canada over the Thanksgiving weekend, Saturday and Sunday, October 9 and 10, which will be attended by a number of Summerland members.

The program will centre around a series of conferences for church leaders, men and women, in Kelowna United Church on Saturday afternoon, with registration at 2:00 p.m. when group leaders and speakers will include Mrs. E. J. Love, Len Bushell, provincial vice-president, Eric Kelly, G. Fred Turner, R. M. Miller, Mrs. W. C. Gutteridge and others.

Under the auspices of Kelowna AOTS, a joint banquet will be held on the Saturday evening when the special speaker will be Judge J. H. Archibald of Kamloops, a commissioner to the general council of the United Church now meeting in Sackville, N.B. Premier W. A. C. Bennett, has accepted an invitation to attend the conference and will bring the greetings of the province to the supper meeting.

One of the special features of the conference will be the main rally on Sunday evening in Kelowna United Church. Arrangements are being made with a number of United Churches throughout the Okanagan district to withdraw their evening services and participate in this mass rally of the laity. Guest speaker will be Fred H. Fullerton, provincial president of the lay association and now in Sackville, N.B. at the general council. Other special features are being arranged.

To Attend Dedication Of Vernon Church

Because a large number of the congregation will be travelling to Vernon for the dedication of a new Church of God there, services have been cancelled this Sunday at the Trout Creek Community Church of God.

Rev. W. F. Irving, pastor of the Trout Creek church will be taking part in the dedication service at Vernon.

The new Vernon church will be the second for this denomination in that city. The present church has served a German and English congregation and the new one will serve the English members while all services in the present one will be in German.

Service Club Hears Of U.N. Pilgrimage

Guest speaker at St. Andrew's Service Club on Monday evening was Miss Frances Atkinson who gave a very interesting report of her trip as a member of the United Nations youth pilgrimage sponsored by the grand lodge of IOOF. With the effective use of slides she took her listeners with her to many places of interest across the continent and showed the various rooms of the United Nations Building, explaining the construction and purposes of each. Miss Diane Berg assisted her in showing the slides.

The Devotional period was taken by Mrs. W. H. Durick with her theme, "The Work of our Hands." Arrangements were made for canned fruit for the Burnaby Home to be left at the Family Shoe Store and it is hoped to be able to send apples as well if transportation can be arranged. A shower of baby clothing and other articles required for the home will be held at the October meeting.

Plans for the Thanksgiving Supper were outlined and committees appointed, Mrs. W. H. Durick and Mrs. M. Henker being the general conveners in charge of this annual event. Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. A. F. A. Crawford.

18 orphans have . . .

. . . same "mother"

Learning by seeing and doing is the motto at Notre Dame de Beauregard, a farm near Georgetown, Ont., where 18 orphans are finding a full and satisfying life under the "motherly" eye of Miss Thurese St. Jean. In company with a Roman Catholic priest, Father Beauregard, who is now dead. Miss St. Jean began a farm for orphans near St. Catherines 19 years ago. They moved to Georgetown seven years ago and have since been supported by apple crop. The 17 boys and one girl on the farm pick and pack apples which support the whole enterprise. Since 1936, Miss St. Jean has seen 150 orphans pass through farms.

St. Andrew's Federation Hears Of Naramata School Summer Course

Report on the Naramata Christian Training School summer classes on Sunday school supervision was given St. Andrew's Women's Federation by delegate Mrs. M. Pollock at the first meeting of the season last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Pollock has taken over the duties of superintendent at Lakeside Sunday school and spoke warmly of the benefits derived from attendance at the Naramata course and of the interest and pleasure enjoyed in the company of other Christian workers. She spoke also of the spiritual uplift experienced in the outdoor evening devotional services on the beautiful grounds of the school on the east shore of Lake Okanagan.

Secretary Mrs. M. T. Laidlaw reported $175 had been sent to the presbyterial secretary, being the amount of two quarterly allocations.

A brief report on the world council of churches held recently in Evanston, Ill., was given by Mrs. S. A. MacDonald who made particular mention of improved relations between the secular press and the church and its organizations.

In the chair for the meeting was Mrs. A. C. Fleming who welcomed members and visitors. In charge of devotional period were Mrs. G. C. Harper, Mrs. H. B. Mair and Mrs. W. H. Welch and a new study course, "The Church in India", was introduced.

In the absence of supply secretary, Mrs. W. R. Powell, report of that committee was presented by Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon who stated two 10-pound parcels were shipped to Korea during July and August and some supplies are on hand for the September parcel.

A number of articles were donated for the parcel being prepared for the Burnaby Girls' Home but it was decided to delay sending it until October as it was felt not all donations had been yet received.

Mrs. Edgar Gould reported five quilt tops pieced and three of these ready for quilting.

The meeting agreed with a motion by Mrs. T. A. Walden that the federation assist St. Andrew's Service Club in catering for the Thanksgiving supper by donating pies.

Following the benediction, a social lunch was spent over a delightful lunch with Mrs. Mowatt, Mrs. Mair and Mrs. Harper as hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Buss of Flin Flon, Manitoba, and Mrs. S. Wetland of Erickson, Manitoba, were visitors last week-end at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Granlund and Mr. and Mrs. Art Gronlund.

F. Pergrum of Bremerton, Washington, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Wotton.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hayworth last Saturday were Miss Betty Bell and Miss Doris Andrew, both of Vancouver.

Mrs. J. S. Slater of San Carlos, Cal., was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Wilkin.

Visiting with Mrs. N. Blacklock are her daughter, Mrs. Phil Smith and her two children, Gary and Donna.

Mrs. C. S. McKibbin, Sandra and David, of Prince George, have been visiting with Mrs. McKibbin's mother, Mrs. K. Bernhardt.

John Bernhardt is visiting at the home of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernhardt.

Alan Elsey is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Elsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thompson are visiting at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thompson.

OES Grand Officers On Official Visit

Summerland Lodge, Order of the Eastern Star, last Wednesday night welcomed Mrs. Katherine Argyle of Nelson, worthy grand matron of the order and Sidney Barker, Vancouver, worthy grand patron, on their official visit.

Also present were past worthy grand matron, Mrs. H. Whittaker of Penticton and grand chaplain, Mrs. Lola Ecklin of Oliver along with visitors from Oliver, Princeton and Penticton.

Following the lodge meeting, St. Stephen's, W.A. catered to a late supper for the members and visitors.

Prior to the meeting, the grand lodge officers were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earle B. Wilson.

Small Fry Enrolled For Kindergarten

Already 30 junior-sized students are enrolled for the Jack and Jill Kindergarten when it re-opens Oct. 4 in St. Andrew's United Church hall.

In charge of the school is Mrs. F. M. Stewart with Mrs. H. Braddock as assistant and Mrs. Howard Milne as instructress for the rhythm band.

Sporting pennant-winning grins here are the jubilant members of the Maple Leaf team who brought manager Luke Sewell the International league pennant in his first try, and Toronto its first flag in 11 years. The hard-slugging Leafs, who set the pace for most of the season, clinched the pennant with a dramatic 3-2 win over Rochester Red Wings. They now meet the fourth-place finisher, probably Havana, in playoffs for the Governor's Cup, starting Sept. 14.

S. Dunsdon Tops Shooters To Claim Shatford Cup

Posting a score of 101, Steve Dunsdon topped Summerland marksmen in the final shoot of the year on Sept. 12 and claimed the Shatford Cup, as club champion.

High man among "B" class shooters was Fred Dunsdon but dark horse in the event was Roy Desilets who posted a possible on the 200-yard range and beat out some of the more potent shots in the club.

Weather co-operated most of the day and members enjoyed a pleasant outing with wives and families.

Annual grudge match was the highlight of the day with the Garnet Valley Polecats capturing a win with a slim two-point margin over the Town Rats.

To Joe Elliott went a prize for scoring the most magpies during the day.

Some of family members tried a hand from the 600-yard range and Mrs. A. McCargar posted a 24, Mrs. George Dunsdon 20, Mrs. Fred Dunsdon 20 and Mrs. Phil Dunsdon and Sue Webber, scores not revealed.

Trophy winners were Steve Dunsdon, Shatford cup; Fred Dunsdon, W. Nelson cup; R. Desilets, Summerland cup; J. Khalenback, Munro cup; and E. Gillespie, Adams-Gartrell cup.

Okanagan Hospitals Agree to Hold Present Line on Wages for Next Year

Okanagan division of the B.C. Hospitals Association will endeavor to hold the line on wages in the coming year, but may consider group insurance and other employee benefits in 1955.

This decision, to be forwarded to hospital negotiating committees for their guidance, highlighted the annual meeting of the division in Kelowna last week. Resolutions dealing with appointment to conciliation or arbitration boards, and establishment of hospital improvement districts were also discussed.

Representatives from Kelowna, Penticton, Princeton, Summerland, Kamloops, Revelstoke, Oliver, Salmon Arm, Vernon and Enderby, were present at the meeting which was preceded by a dinner at the Kelowna Hospital.

Unanimously passed was a resolution requesting that, when future appointments are made to conciliation or arbitration boards by the labor relations board, particularly where appointments as chairmen are required under the act, and where boards are held in the interior of the province, that chairmen be appointed from the locality where boards are held, they being conversant with conditions in those areas of the province.

Also discussed and resolved was a resolution to recommend to the negotiating committees of interior hospital boards, that no increase in present wages be granted, but that plans for group insurance and employee welfare be considered. This arose from the points that wages have been increased substantially and benefits extended to hospital employees over the past several years, including institution of the 40-hour week, and that the existing wage scales now in effect in interior hospitals are considered fair and adequate in relation to other wages paid in comparable employment.

A great deal of discussion preceded the resolution concerning hospital improvement districts, with an amendment voted upon and defeated.

The committee which formed the resolution pointed out that many hospitals in the province, while situated in organized areas, whose people contribute through local taxation to the establishment of these hospitals, serve also large numbers of people living in unorganized areas which do not contribute by taxation to the hospitals. They said the present policy of the government does not enable a hospital to acquire funds for the purpose of financing approved building projects, and that the burden of organizing a voluntary hospital improvement district is on the hospital concerned, resulting in a great deal of work and expense to be met by the hospital board, which has no funds for the purpose.

The resolution, as passed, read: ". . . Be it resolved that the British Columbia Hospitals Association petition the government of British Columbia to give serious study to this situation with a view to introdusing legislation or amendments to present legislation that will permit the government to establish hospital improvement districts, where the need can be established, for the purpose only of capital improvements and expansion, or building of hospitals by referendum on money by-laws by the landowners of the established district."

Representatives of private hospitals expressed concern that with the appointment of trustees to hospital boards, the control of the hospital would pass from the hands of the private owners, and that a loophole should be left in the resolution to allow private hospitals to opt out. However the amendment moved, that the words "by the hospitals concerned" should be inserted after the phrase "where the need can be established," was voted down.

In the election of officers, J. I. Monteith, chairman of the board of directors of the Kelowna hospital was elected chairman; S. Fisher of Vernon, vice-chairman, and C. Lavery, administrator of the Kelowna hospital, secretary.

Retiring chairman, J. T. Young, chairman of the Penticton hospital board, later moved that while the executive should continue to be elected at the fall meeting, that it should take over on January 1 and retire December 31, rather than immediately upon election, as in the past. The motion was passed.

'Don't Be The Tail To Any Political Kite!'

Retiring after many years of respected service as president of the Trades & Labor Congress of Canada, Percy R. Bengough gave this, as part of his closing advice to Canadian trades unionists:

"Avoid becoming the tail on ANY political kite . . . and recognize that, if our affiliated members desire any political party, they know enough to vote for it on election day."

Mr. Bengough's advice was in the tradition of Samuel Gompers and William Green, whose leadership of the American Federation of Labor was always against being tied to any one political party. It could apply as well to many organizations formed for non-partisan purposes.

The toast of Canada after her historic conquest of Lake Ontario, Little Marilyn Bell poses in the new English convertible, one of the hundreds of gifts, totalling over $60,000, which have been showered on the plucky 16-year-old. Some 150,000 admirers jammed the CNE waterfront and grandstand at Toronto for a victory celebration the night after her epic swim.

Hospital In Red So Far This Year

At their meeting Tuesday night following a recess of two months, Summerland Hospital directors heard the discouraging report that with total days treatments during the last three months averaging nearly 100 per cent less than the monthly average last year, hospital operation since their last meeting three months ran more than $4,000 in the red.

Only explanation which could be offered for drop in hospital business was that there just hasn't been the need for hospital treatment.

A surplus built up by the hospital during the first six months of the year was wiped out by the summer loss and it is not expected business during the balance of the year will be sufficient to produce a profit for the year.

The meeting approved for payment accounts totalling $16,270 for the three months.

Total of patient days during June, July and August was 1082, compared to a monthly average last year of 458.

Attend Dedication Of Historic Marker

Two Summerland residents, A. K. Macleod and C. E. Bentley, were among those last Sunday who travelled to Midway to attend the dedication of a marker at Entwined Trees by Capt. Charles Cates, of North Vancouver, president of the B.C. Historical Society.

An interesting feature of the event was a short talk—given in Chinook—by 97-year-old Walking Grizzly. His words were interpreted by his wife.

Legend of the entwined trees that attracted the attention of the historical society is that in 1840 a family of Indians was separating—some going south to the United States and the rest remaining in Canada. Before parting they planted two saplings several feet apart and entwined them as a symbol of their unity even though apart.

In the century that has followed, the two trees have prophetically grown into a huge single trunk with wide spreading branches.

Ward Again Winner Of Palmer Memorial

Final tally of points last week at the Armstrong Fair saw the Dr. R. C. Memorial trophy for the second year go to W. F. Ward for most points won in box exhibits. Right on his heels for second place again this year was E. C. Bingham.

Mr. Ward also won the Buckerfield trophy with Mr. Bingham in third place.

In competition for the J. R. J. Stirling Memorial, junior members of the same families were also to the fore with Bill Ward claiming the trophy for the fourth time and Bruce Bingham placing third.

Summerland high school exhibit took first place among schools with their fruit exhibit also being rated for first place.

In the competition for apples and pears—five to a plate—Mr. Ward won six firsts, two seconds and three thirds. Mr. Bingham had three seconds and three thirds. W. May was winner of three firsts and Mayne McCutcheon won one second and three thirds.

Soft fruit competition saw Ward with eight firsts and one second, Bingham with one first and two thirds; May with three seconds.

In boxed fruit, Ward had seven firsts and Bingham had four firsts and seven seconds.

In floral exhibits, May had three firsts and one second and Mrs. E. C. Bingham won two seconds and two thirds. In vegetables, May claimed eight firsts, five seconds and three thirds; Bingham had one first, one second and one third.

Need to Study Peach Maturity

Need for further study on the problem of peach maturity was noted by BCFGA Southern District Council members Saturday afternoon but results of the lengthy discussion on the subject could be summed up in the observation of Frank Laird, Penticton, as the discussion drew to a close: "I am not only confused, I am now completely-confused".

BCFGA President Arthur Garrish described it as "one of the outstanding problems of the industry" and related that he recently read an article on the subject written in 1928 "... and it could well have been written today. The situation hasn't changed."

Various speakers rebelled at any suggestion of picking to any closer maturity than that presently set and one possible solution offered was that peaches designated for "white wrap" be held in the packinghouse until they reached a better maturity before pre-cooling.

No definite action to achieve better peach maturity was proposed but members were advised by Mr. Garrish that they should give careful study to the problem because it is one that must be met very soon.

Flower Growers Plan for Season

Summerland Horticultural Society met in the Parish Hall on Friday Sept. 17 to prepare for the 1954-55 season of activities. President Mr. Alec Watt was in the chair and in the absence of A. Calder, Miss Doreen Tait served as secretary.

Reports were heard concerning both the rose show and the annual flower show from the convenor of this committee E. H. Bennett. Both Shows were reported as successful, with entries equalling previous years both in quantity and quality, despite adverse weather which made it most difficult to bring blooms to show condition.

Nat May gave his Timely Topics, dealing with dahlias and chrysanthemums.

Some discussion was held concerning the possibility of expanding the parlor show for mums this year, and final decision regarding this was left in the hands of the show committee.

Due to technical difficulties, the films on hand could not be shown.

Tea was served following the meeting by Mrs. W. Ward and Miss Doreen Tait.

Mixed Maturity, Splits Taking Toll On This Year's Italian Prune Crop

By A. W. WATT
District Horticulturalist

Early strains of Italian prune were picked about 10 days ago. Although light, the crop was of good quality with only a trace of shrivel showing up.

Standard Italian prunes are now being picked. The rains of Sept. 15-17 split a percentage of the riper fruit in this crop.

The major source of prune cullage this year lies in mixed maturity. Many of the trees are carrying fully mature as well as small red prunes. Unfortunately many of these small red prunes find their way to the packinghouses and in the course of grading are culled out. This is not a new situation but one that has occurred for many years. It is, however, particularly noticeable this year. Paying attention to pruning, and doing some thinning either by chemical means or breaking clusters by hand can do much to correct this condition.

The shrivelled condition which occurred last year is present in some lots but is very much less severe and so far is not a serious factor.

Public Works Men Attend Convention

Attending the convention of B.C. municipal engineers in Kelowna last week from Summerland were L. J. Gould and K. M. Blagborne of the municipal road and irrigation staffs.

Two full days of business sessions featured exchange of information and discussion of common problems in all phases of town planning and public works. Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, minister of public works for B.C., addressed the annual banquet, and stated that by the end of 1954 the province would have 898 miles of paved roads. He paid tribute to the vital role played by the engineering profession in B.C.'s development and drew lengthy applause when he referred with admiration to his predecessor, the late Ernie Carson.

"He was the best public works minister B.C. ever had", Mr. Gagliardi declared.

In explaining his government's policy for "limited access" highways" the minister stated that safety and convenience dictated by-passing cities and towns wherever possible, especially where schools are concerned.

Brilliant Mezzo Soprano to Give First of Community Concert Series

Nan Merriman, distinguished young American mezzo-soprano, who appears in Penticton in recital on October 7 in the Penticton high school auditorium under the auspices of the South Okanagan Community Concerts Association, has just returned to America after a notably successful European tour which included the British premiere of Stravinsky's new opera "The Rake's Progress." Miss Merriman, who has sung more times with Toscanini than any other American mezzo-soprano—12 appearances in the past six years—also appeared at the famous festival at Glyndebourne and at the Mozart Festival at Aix-en-Provence.

Miss Merriman sang in Amsterdam with the celebrated Concertgebouw Orchestra which comes to the United States for the first time next season. She also sang in London, Paris and the Hague.

In the two preceding summers Miss Merriman had included Spain in her concert travels and she has been invited to return there next season. Meantime Miss Merriman's European duties are behind her and she is proceeding with an American tour that will take her from coast to coast with many appearances as soloist with orchestra. One of the most notable will be an appearance with the Chicago Symphony in late November when she will sing Brahms' "Alto Rhapsody" under the direction of Fritz Reiner.

Miss Merriman is a native of Pittsburgh where she had her early music training. When she was 15, her family moved to Los Angeles. There she went to high school and worked as a secretary to raise funds to broaden her music studies. Winning a scholarship to the Cincinnati College of Music. That same year she entered the nationwide competition of the National Federation of Music Clubs, most important contest of its kind. She came out with top prize of $1,000.

Miss Merriman's first important public engagement was as soloist in the Hollywood Easter Bowl Sunrise Service. Within a year's time she had her own radio program on the NBC network and had participated in the first of the important orchestral engagements which were one day to win her the title of "Miss Symphony".

Four Rose Types Require No Care During Winter

Four types of roses have been grown at the Experimental Station, Prince George, namely; shrubby or hardy types which require no winter protection; tender bushes as hybrid perpetuals, hybrid trees, polyanthus and floribundas; climbers and standards.

The hardy or shrubby types as rugosas and Altai require no attention other than cutting out dead or old rough wood and controlling suckers, states F. V. Hutton, superintendent at the station.

Tender bush roses require protection in order to bring the first six inches of grafted wood through the winter. Such protection can be supplied as dry sand, sawdust or like material heaped about the base of the plant after they have ripened off in the fall. A covering by a foot of straw on top of this will also be beneficial if mice are not prevalent. The tops should be cut off to about one foot above the ground before covering.

The only climbing rose which has proven hardy is the New Dawn. This has survived the winter and bloomed freely when protected by laying on the ground and covering with dry material as with bush roses. With this type of rose it is necessary to winter a foot or more of the roses in order to have flowering wood for the following year. It is desirable, therefore, to protect as much of the strong current year's wood as possible.

Standard roses with grafts of polyanthus, floribundas and climbers made an excellent show in 1954 but have not been wintered. They may be wintered by cutting the roots on one side which will allow the plant to be laid flat on the ground and covered as with bush roses. Another method is to dig the plants and bury them in a hole in the ground a couple of feet deep and cover with earth. The hole should be so located that water will drain away.

In the spring none of the roses should be uncovered until severe frost danger is past and growth has started. Covering material can then be scraped away and dead wood removed.

Little summer care will be required other than spraying for insects if they appear and fertilizing early in the spring with bone meal.

Anglican Chapel in Penticton Setting For Nelson-MacKay Nuptial Rites

Chapel of the Anglican Church in Penticton was setting for quiet nuptial rites on September 25 when Maxine Lizzena MacKay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murdock MacKay of Penticton, became the bride of Gerald William Nelson of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Nelson, West Summerland.

Canon A. R. Eagles officiated at the ceremony.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. Helen Williams, while Robert C. Nelson, RCAF, Vancouver, was his brother's groomsmen. The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a cocktail length gown featuring a full skirt of pale blue tulle and white chantilly lace bodice. Her veil was finger-tip length and her flowers were pink and white feather carnations, centered by an orchid.

The matron-of-honor wore champagne lace over taffeta with brown accessories and carried pink and white carnations.

About 90 guests were present at the reception which followed in Alexander Room of the Canadian Legion.

Assisting the justweds in receiving guests, mother of the bride chose a yellow suit with navy accessories while the groom's mother was wearing a gray suit with wine accessories.

A lace cloth covered the bride's table which was centered by a three-tiered cake made by the bride's mother.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Gordon Clark.

For a wedding trip through the U.S. by car, the bride changed to a pink suit with flower hat to match.

Out-of-town guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. R. French; Mr. and Mrs. W. Pollock, Kelowna; D. J. Collins, W. Nicholson, Miss Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watson, Vancouver; Mrs. Lena McDonald, Clover-Frances Mellor, Mrs. Hazel Bakke, Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petrie, Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fairservice, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fairservice, Jr.

For casual living, for lounging around home, for early day wear or off to school or a business day, here's a dress that's ready for all of these activities. It is of gray flannel. The waist is cinched by a black leather belt and white pearl buttons parade down the front. Skirt has one inverted box pleat in back, and two big patch pockets.

VISITING HERE

Holidaying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Allen, Front Bench, are their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Allen, and granddaughter, of Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McGill of Victoria are visiting friends and relatives in Summerland. Mrs. McGill is a delegate to the School Trustees Convention being held in Penticton.

Also attending the convention in Penticton are Mr. and Mrs. A. Bowell of New Westminster, who are visiting here with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernhardt.

Mrs. Gerald Andrews of Kamloops arrived Tuesday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. White.

Mrs. J. Scott and children of Cranbrook are visiting Mrs. Scott's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bernhardt.

Mrs. H. W. Harvey, formerly of Summerland, is spending a week here visiting with old friends. Mrs. Harvey is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Amm of Hope spent the week-end with Mr. Amm's mother, Mrs. C. J. Amm.

Len Hayman of Whiterock was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Turnbull last week.

Mrs. C. S. Crosley who has been staying with her mother, Mrs. W. S. Neild, has left for Vancouver where she will emplane for her home in Montreal.

Every dollar you invest NOW in a Canadian Government Annuity means a Guaranteed Income during your retirement years

An Annuity can be purchased to come due at 50, 60, 65 or other ages. Here's a typical example:

NOW—Supposing you are a man of 28 and wish to secure an Annuity of $100 per month commencing at 65. Your monthly premium would be only $16.44.

AT AGE 65—The Government will begin paying you $100 per month. These payments will continue as long as you live! Furthermore, in the event that you die within 10 years after the age of 65, the monthly payments will continue to your heirs for the balance of that 10 years. In other words, you will have paid $7,299.36 to receive a minimum return of $12,000, which will be even greater if you live past 75!

IF YOU DIE BEFORE AGE 65—The Government will pay your heirs the total sum paid up to the date of your death, plus compound interest.

The example given above is one of many Government Annuity plans available to meet your particular requirements. Any resident of Canada between ages 5 and 65 is eligible to buy a Government Annuity. Consult your DISTRICT ANNUITIES REPRESENTATIVE (who will be pleased to call at a time convenient to you), or mail the coupon below POSTAGE FREE.

Canned apple pie fillings have been on the market, both in Canada and the United States, for a number of years. The popularity of this product with the consumer depends on high quality and this depends on a number of factors, says A. W. Moyles, fruit and vegetable processing laboratory, experimental station.

Condition of the fruit is of prime importance; apples should be firm and in good eating condition. Variety is also important. In this respect Jonathan has consistently scored high. Newtown, Stayman, Winesap, McIntosh and Wealthy produce a satisfactory product. On the other hand, the delicious variety because of its low acid content, makes a relatively poor filling unless acidified or blended with some other fruit.

Quality is further associated with high fruit content and the kind and amount of thickener used. The fruit content should range between 70 and 80 percent. In an apple pie filling a large portion of the sectors should remain whole and firm. The product should remain the natural attractive color and flavor of the apples themselves, which depends to some extent on the variety used. The color will vary from a deep yellow with varieties such as Jonathan and Newtown. In appearance the filling should be bright, with no excessive weeping. Excessive free liquid will make a soggy bottom pie crust. The other extreme a filling that is too stiff, is caused by using too much thickener or thickening agents. A pie made from a filling of this sort will have an objectionable filler or thickener taste.

Some processors add benzoate of soda as a preservative. If an adequate process has been used this should not be necessary. Far too often the use of this preservative results in a masking of the fruit flavor and imparts a benzoate taste to the product.

A basic formula of 80 per cent fruit, 20 per cent cane sugar and 1 to 5 per cent thickener has consistently resulted in an excellent product. Locust bean gum, waxy maize, a modified corn starch, arrowroot starch and Minute tapioca, used singly and in blends are the most efficient stabilizers tested so far. In some instances pie fillers of good consistency have been made without the addition of any thickener. This depends, however, on the condition of the fruit being used.

With regard to the effect of storage temperatures on quality and consistency, tests to date have shown canned apple pie fillings stored at room temperatures—65 to 72 degrees—to be stable for at least nine months.

Ideas about shape and size, which most children grasp in a glance, must be learned by touch by the Pre-school blind child. This little lad is learning about square pegs and round holes, and his parents are consulting from time to time with the Pre-school workers of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Through their constructive aid sightless Pre-schoolers are developing rapidly, and some are able to take their early school grades in the regular class. A donation to the current financial drive of CNIB will ensure a thorough training for Canada's youngest blind.

Clever Cooking . . .

You will want to serve stews often now that autumn days are here because they are perfect for fall and winter dinners. Stew is an economical dish because the meat you use is cut from the less tender and lower priced parts of the animal—that is, from the neck, the flank, the shank or the brisket. Stewing meat, like other less tender cuts, will become very tender if you give it long, slow, moist cooking. This cooking may be done in a heavy covered pot such as a Dutch oven, on top of the stove or in the oven. A stew can also be made very successfully in a pressure cooker.

There are two basic types of stew. If you want a brown stew then you dredge the meat with flour and brown it before covering with liquid. With a light stew the meat is not browned first.

You may choose beef, veal or lamb meat for your stew, for you can make an excellent stew from any of them. Whether the meat has the bone left in or whether it is boneless makes no difference. However, in each case, it is generally advisable to trim some of the fat from the stew meat before you start to cook it, because an excess amount of fat tends to make an undesirable gravy. This trimming is especially important when preparing lamb stew. In fact, when you are making a brown lamb stew it is a good idea to drain the fat from the pan after the meat has been browned.

Potatoes, carrots, and onions are probably the vegetables which are most often used in stews. However, there are other vegetables which you may add for a change. Cubed turnips impart a particularly tempting flavor to stew; or, you might like to try adding some chopped celery. Canned vegetables such as green peas or beans may be added just a few minutes before serving time. Fresh vegetables, when left in fairly large pieces, should be added about an hour before the stew is completely cooked. Care must be taken not to overcook the vegetables since overcooking causes them to lose their natural flavor, color, and shape.

A well-flavored and well-thickened gravy is extremely important in a stew. The type of cooking liquid used in the stew determines the character of the gravy. Water, tomato juice, and sieved canned tomatoes have all been found to be satisfactory cooking liquids. To some, thickening the gravy can be a problem. With brown stew you really start making the gravy when you start making the stew. First of all, the meat is browned on all sides in melted fat which has been trimmed from it. Then the meat is coated with flour and the browning continued. The meat should be turned frequently to prevent sticking and burning. The flour, added in this way, will probably be sufficient to thicken the gravy. However, if the gravy is not thick enough, a few minutes before serving time make a very thin, smooth flour and water paste and add it gradually, stirring constantly. This, incidentally, is the way you make the gravy for light stew too. To make the paste, put the cold water in a jar and sprinkle the flour on top. Then, cover the jar with its closely fitting lid and shake briskly until there are no lumps of flour left. That is all there is to it!

Seasonings are another point to be considered in preparing a stew. Here you can let your imagination take over. Season to your own taste and to your family's taste. You have plenty of scope for there are many herbs and seasonings with which to experiment. For example, try savoury with beef, or thyme with veal and lamb. Add a dash of spicy meat sauce if you want to give the gravy some extra pep.

Throughout the fall and winter months to come, your family, too, can enjoy taste-tempting stews. When you serve stew to your family, you are serving them a delicious economical dish which is both wholesome and satisfying.

After having thrilled capacity crowds in prairie and west coast cities with outstanding displays of individual flying, the RCAF jet show is currently in the East, where they performed to record-breaking crowds at the Canadian National Exhibition. The only two women among the 101 flying and servicing personnel on the tour, Roddie Koehn, left, of Edmonton, and Sue Soucy of Port Arthur, Ont., are technicians on a huge 17½-ton CF-100 Canuck.

Predicts Better Returns in Future For B.C. Intermediate Hockey Clubs

B.C. intermediate hockey is on the upgrade, both in calibre and on the financial side, according to a report submitted to last week-end's BCHA meeting by Frank Becker, B.C. representative on the CAHA's western intermediate committee.

Mr. Becker disclosed that Trail All-Stars, B.C. champions and western finalists last season, received a bonus cheque for $4,000 above expenses as their share in a $16,000 melon carved up from intermediate playoffs by the CAHA.

"In many cases, the bonuses paid to competing intermediate clubs has been greater than those paid in Allan and Memorial Cup play-downs," Becker pointed out. "This alone should encourage the promotion of intermediate hockey throughout our branch."

He also informed the meeting that $2,250 had been voted in grants to participating branches for the promotion of intermediate hockey this season. At the same time, he recommended that "up to" $1,000 be voted to promote truly provincial-wide playoffs which would include northern B.C. and the coast zones, if the latter are able to enter.

To Summerland's intermediate hockey team, which has consistently topped the Penticton and District Commercial loop, word of the BCHA renewed interest in the division comes more as "salt in the wound."

Without artificial ice in their home rink, Summerland has to depend on the good graces of Penticton arena for practice time and not knowing if or when ice will be available at the Summerland arena, they are unable to have any scheduled league games at home. Lack of ice also means there is no adequate supply of players to come out of the ranks of juniors.

However, the club is looking to the day when artificial ice is available and they will then be able to ice a team which will be a real threat in Coy Cup play-downs.

Becker hopes that Prince George and Dawson Creek will have artificial ice this season. "If they get it, you may rest assured that Dawson Creek, with its 5,000 seating capacity, will offer the best returns in the history of Coy Cup competition."

He's keeping in close touch with these northern teams and the possible development of a league there, along with affiliations at Grand Prairie, Hythe and Peace River in northern Alberta and it may be that a thriving loop will result.

He expressed regret that the Coast-Vancouver Island districts were unable to enter Coy Cup play-offs last year, despite the fact that senior competition is no obstacle and these districts operate active commercial leagues loaded with good intermediate players.

Becker appealed to Coast executive members to try and bring them into Coy Cup competition this season.

Scout Activities

Our second troop meeting showed a turn-out of 30 out of a possible 32 boys. At this meeting the troop and the pack had a "going-up" ceremony when Cubs Keith Skinner, David Woolliams and Richard Toews went up to the troop and were welcomed to the Hawk, Buffalo and Beaver patrols respectively. Albert Northrup was also received as a recruit and John Woolliams re-joined the troop. The troop is now up to full strength and any other boys wishing to join will have to put their names on a waiting list.

The patrol instruction period this week centered on patrol signalling. In addition, there was special instruction for recruits on Tenderfoot tests, first aid for Tenderfoot scouts and knots for 2nd Class scouts.

Field Commissioner Scrivener visited the troop and gave an interesting account illustrated by slides of an eight-day horseback trip made by four Kootenay Scouts with their leader up to Hanging Glacier Lake this past August. It was a demanding trip requiring many of the skills they had learned in Scouting.

In the point score competition the standing is: Eagles 81, Hawks 75, Beavers 75, Buffaloes 72.

A few boys are still not wearing full uniform, including shorts, to meetings. Boys who own shorts are reminded they must wear them and parents whose boys do not possess full uniform are asked to help see their sons obtain complete uniforms as soon as possible. This is most necessary for a smart troop. There are lots of opportunities these days for boys to earn money for uniforms!

Duty Patrol next week: Buffaloes.

Hunting and Fishing News

FISHING

Okanagan Lake has been slow this last week, a few of the fishermen have tried their luck but have not had too much luck. With the weather improving some of the bigger ones should be biting soon.

Mountain Lakes are all reported very good this last week when the weather permitted. Some very good reports in from Rikter Lake and Crilcolla lakes, also Wood lake south of Kamloops. Anyone who wants to try fishing this week-end can be pretty sure that any of the good mountain lakes will be on.

HUNTING

Not too much activity in this locality on birds. There are quite a few around but are scattered and scary. Better reports on blues and willows from south and in the Kootenay districts.

Ernie Harrison bagged a brown bear over the week-end, a 2 year-old, down Oliver way. One deer was got behind Fish Lake in the Figgaries and a couple over by Kathleen Mt. Most deer seen were around Thirsk on the Kathleen side of tracks. I think that the deer hunters will have to wait for snow, in the higher elevations before any great number of deer come down. There is always a chance however of deer being seen in any of the usual spots because the local animals are still there and can be got.
